DEATH OF MR. S. G. HODGES.

A DORSET WORTHY.

It was with sincere regret that his many friends in Dorchester and district heard of the passing away of Mr. Sydney George Hodges. This well-known and esteemed Durnovarian for more than 30 years carried on the business of electrical and general engineer, and on his retirement seven years ago, went to live with his son, who has a drapery business at North Cadbury, Somerset. It was here that the deceased breathed his last on May 29th, at the age of 72.

During his residence in Dorchester, Mr. Hodges was a keen and enthusiastic ringer. For some years he was the popular captain of St. Peter's belfry, and in those days change ringing was little practised in the county. Although he had then reached over 50 years nothing daunted him. His ambition was that St. Peter's should be a change-ringing society, and with the advent of Mr. Geo. White (the present Ringing Master of the Dorchester branch of the Salisbury Guild) his ambition was fulfilled, for on February 4th, 1902, the first peal (Grand-sire Triples) rung in the county by a local band was an accomplished fact at St. Peter's, Dorchester. 'Like father like son,' was exemplified on that occasion, for Mr. Hodges and his two sons rang in the peal. Altogether he rang four peals in his beloved tower of St. Peter's, and made several attempts in this and other towers in the county. He also mastered Stedman, Treble and Plain Bob, and was a very fine striker. He was great at raising and falling in peal, and always took the lead. Throughout his long connection, it was a joy to him to be in the tower, either to ring for Sunday service or practice. He attended regularly the quarterly meetings of the Dorchester branch of the Salisbury Guild, and was known as the 'Father' of the branch. He was the means of effecting considerable improvements in the ringing chamber of St. Peter's, which is regarded as being one of the most comfortably arranged in the Diocese. He was the donor of a fine peal board which takes up one side of the chamber, for recording the peals rung in the tower, surmounted by a artistic wrought iron work, and has been commented on by visitors to the belfry, and in 'The Ringing World.' He also gave a peal of handbells and several books and works on campanology. In addition, he made a hand rail of steel piping from the bottom of the tower to the belfry door. This work he was very proud of, for no doubt it was 'well done,' and has proved a great boon to the ringers while ascending and descending the tower.

A lovable man of genial disposition the deceased made a host of friends, by whom much sympathy is extended to his four sons, three of whom are in Canada.

Mr. Hodges took great interest in his lodge of Oddfellows, as well as in bell ringing.

The mortal remains were taken to Dorchester and laid to rest by the side of the late Mrs. Hodges. The St. Peter's ringers paid a last tribute to the memory of their revered comrade by attending the funeral, sending a beautiful wreath, and ringing muffled touches on the bells.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

NORTHERN DIVISION.

A most successful quarterly meeting of the Northern Division of the Yorkshire Association was held at Robin Hood's Bay on Saturday, June 4th. Considering the difficulties of train service the meeting was fairly well attended, Pickering, Helmsley, Thornaby, and Scarborough being the chief towers represented. By the kind permission of the Rev. J. W. E. Walker, Vicar of Robin Hood's Bay, the bells of the Parish Church were available during the afternoon and evening, the visitors making good use of the privilege, several touches in the popular methods being enjoyed by all. In the absence of the Rev. J. W. E. Walker through illness, the Rev. E. Drage, vice-president of the Association, conducted a short service in the church. In his helpful address, the vice-president not only expressed his own appreciation of the ringers' work, but pointed out the great opportunity for good that was given them in the execution of their art.

An excellent tea was provided in the Church Hall by the lady ringers of Robin Hood's Bay, and a business meeting followed.—The Chairman, the Rev. E. Drage, expressed his regret on hearing that Mr. T. W. Robbins, of Helmsley, a member of the District Committee, as well as the General Committee of the Yorkshire Association, was leaving the district. Since the re-organisation of this Northern District, in March, 1920, Mr. Robbins has done much to help the ringers, not only in his own tower, but in the neighbouring parishes as well. Pickering ringers in particular will miss his cheerful and ready help.—Mr. Alexander, of Robin Hood's Bay, was elected to take the place of Mr. Robbins on the General Committee.

The ringers had great pleasure in electing the Rev. C. Hone, Vicar of Whitby, and the Rev. J. W. E. Walker, Vicar of Robin Hood's Bay, as honorary members of the association. Three ringing members were also elected.

In view of a possible amalgamation between the Cleveland and North Yorkshire and the Yorkshire Association, it was decided to leave the fixing of the place and date for the next meeting in the hands of the District Committee.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to all who so kindly helped to make the day a great success.

'GANNY GUNTER' MAJOR.

Once upon a time there was a band of ringers in a beautiful country village. They had been well taught, could ring and strike all the Standard Methods, and were content. Their knowledge did not include Little Bobs, and the now well-known means of eradicating the faults in the methods they rang, yet they were happy.

By some chance an 'Expert' hit upon this spot to spend his well-earned holiday. He announced his coming, and an attempt for a peal of Double Norwich was arranged in his honour.

The eventful day arrived, and the great man asked the conductor to show him the composition, on which the following was produced for his inspection:—

5376	Double Norwich Major.
23456	1 4 8
53624	— — —
36524	— — —
62534	— — —
32465	— — —
24365	— — —
43265	— — —

'It's a six part,' said the conductor, 'and I am calling singles in the third and sixth parts instead of the bob marked with an asterisk: I shall also omit three consecutive bobs at 6, which will make it 5152.'

'Tut, tut,' said the Expert, 'don't you know that the great fault of Double Norwich is that it apparently will not permit of exactly 5,000 changes. If this number counts as a peal, why should we ring more? Now I have discovered the means of getting rid of this blemish, and will give you a practical illustration while we are ringing this peal.'

The local men had heard that this was a great man indeed, and thought these were words of wisdom. So the Expert said he would only speak twice during the ringing, and on each occasion he would say 'Ganny Gunter.' When he said these magic words the treble must immediately make second's place and lead again, the other bells altering their work accordingly. For a few minutes he instructed them in these alterations, such as the bell starting the far places from the front must, after the dodge, go straight behind and do the last work, the bell, instead of making the near places, dodged in 3-4 and made the far places without a dodge, and so on; and then they started for the peal.

The striking was good, and it was like any other peal until the end of the second lead of the third course, when the visitor said 'Ganny Gunter.' The ringers carried out their instructions smoothly, and lo! the course end came up in four changes. Again, at the same place in another part, there was a 'Ganny Gunter,' and the course end came up as before.

Everything was going well, and only the conductor seemed to be troubled. He had already omitted three bobs at 6, and not being good at calculating mentally, was under the impression that too many changes had been cut out. Just as he reached the conclusion that the bells would come round in exactly 5,000 changes, his last single was due. His elation at the result of the 'G.G.'s' caused him to forget the change, and he shouted 'Bob,' and the peal was lost. Possibly the Expert could have saved the situation, but he had contracted only to speak twice, so could do nothing.

Then there was much discussion, not about the conductor's mistake, but on the question of 'Ganny Gunter.' The Expert said little except to remark that 'the variation from the method is so slight as to be negligible,' and on the Treble man saying that he had never made seconds before, he replied, 'The second's place is equivalent to a whole pull behind.'

Meanwhile the conductor had been trying the effect, on paper, of successive 'Ganny Gunter's,' and suddenly shouted out, 'Why, it's a method.' The figures he showed were seven divisions of four changes, the following being the first five rows:—

12345678	Bob to move Treble
21345678

'Yes,' said the Expert, 'it's a dwarf lengthening lead method, and either fourth's or sixth's instead of the whole pull behind would be correct as a bob. To get 5,000 changes the tenors must be parted, if ordinary bobs are used. To make the parting of the tenors unnecessary you must have a bob which changes the hunt bell,' and he marked the figures to show how this could be done. He also promised them the figures of a peal if they wished to ring it in either form; and shortly afterwards he left them.

Happiness and contentment went with him; the ringers in that beautiful spot cannot now agree on many points. Various questions arise, such as does the method remain Double Norwich when a 'Ganny Gunter' is introduced, or is it a peal in two methods? Should 'Ganny Gunter' Major be rung with ordinary bobs, or is it better to move the treble? And these questions are never satisfactorily answered, for Experts don't like to explain too much.

JOSEPH W. PARKER.

STEDMAN.

By GEORGE BAKER.

Is it not time to recognise that Stedman is a symmetrical method and worthy of symmetrical treatment?

The earliest exponents of this interesting method created difficulties for themselves and other people by dividing it into quick and slow sizes which do not exist, the second six rows are the reverse of the first six rows, and the whole forms a complete round block, the 12th row (6432715) being a simple transposition row with the 3rd the homing bell (formerly called pivot bell), characteristics that are found in every properly constructed method, principle, or system, which has rounds for the fundamental row.

Further difficulties were created by starting peals from 2314567, necessitating the use of a scale of course-ends foreign to the round block they were dealing with, a proceeding unheard of in other methods.

THE METHOD.

Plain.	Bobbed.	Singled.
2 1 3 5 4 7 6	2 1 3 5 4 7 6	2 1 3 5 4 7 6
2 4 3 1 6 5 7	2 4 3 1 5 7 6	2 4 3 1 5 6 7

It will be seen that the 3rd is the homing bell in all three round blocks, and that the simple transposition row (5432176) is the same in both bobbed and singled round blocks, consequently the following scale of course-ends hold good for bobs or singles.

Scale of Course-ends.

In addition, unpaired singles can be used at 1st and 10th calling positions without affecting the 7th, and when used in conjunction they produce 132465.

- Single at 2nd position VI. produces 634125
- Single at 9th position V. produces 452361.
- Single at 11th position VI. produces 634125.
- Single at 14th position V. produces 452361.

Following are two first sections of Thurston's four-part, the first from 2314567 as heretofore, the second from rounds which is the proper and correct treatment of the method.

2 3 1 4 5 6	S H L Q	1 2 3 4 5 6	S H L Q
2 4 6 3 5 1	x x	6 2 4 3 5 1	x x
3 4 2 5 1 6	x	2 3 4 5 1 6	x

Apart from the fact that the latter version is the correct way to treat the method, there can be question which of the two versions would be more easily memorised by any young conductor.

Later on, if I can find the time, I hope to publish some original peals of my own composing, and thus make amends for the false peal published some years ago.

A MIDLAND COUNTIES PEAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In your issue of 25th February, 1921, particulars were published of a peal of 5040 Kent Treble Bob Major rung at Long Baton on the 29th January, 1921, but no society was mentioned. Particulars of this peal have now been sent in to me showing it as rung for this association, and I take it, therefore, the omission of the name of the association from the published report was an error.—Yours, etc.,

A. C. WRIGHT, Hon. Sec.
Midland Counties Association.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD. NORTH BUCKS BRANCH.

The annual meeting of North Bucks Branch was held at Shenley, on Saturday, June 11th, when about 70 ringers attended, representing the following towers: Blotchley, Beachampton, Bradwell, Calverton, Chicheley, Fenny Stratford, Great Horwood, Great Brickhill, Linslade, Laughton, Maids Moreton, Newton Longville, Newport Pagnell, North Crawley, Simpson, Stony Stratford, and the local ringers. The fine weather assisted considerably towards making the meeting a complete success. Shenley is the yearly venue of North Bucks Branch for the annual meeting, and is always looked forward to by its members with pleasure, for the president (the Rev. J. R. Vincent) always makes splendid arrangements. On this occasion the meeting was honoured with the presence of the Bishop of Buckingham, who kindly accepted the invitation to address the ringers. The beautiful church was completely filled, and thanks to the Shenley choir, a fully choral service was held. The Bishop took for his text, 'That ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called' (Ephesians iv. 1), and pointed out the essential duties of ringers towards their church.

After service, an adjournment was made to the Rectory grounds, where tea was served on the lawn.—The President proposed that three cheers be given for the Bishop of Buckingham upon his first visit to a North Bucks branch ringers' meeting. Needless to say these were enthusiastically given, and the Bishop suitably responded, and wished the branch every success.

The usual business meeting then took place. The hon. secretary presented the balance sheet, and gave a brief report of the work of the branch, which is stronger now than at any time since its formation, with 211 ringing members, 14 honorary members, and 28 towers in union.

The Rev. J. R. Vincent was again elected president, and Mr. W. Sear, secretary and treasurer. The Master (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) and the Guild secretary (Mr. R. T. Hibbert) were present, and the former expressed his appreciation of the efforts that were being made in the organisation of the North Bucks Branch. This was most gratifying and encouraging.

Mr. R. T. Hibbert gave a brief outline of the financial position of the Oxford Guild Memorial Fund, for which about £15 is still required.

The usual vote of thanks were extended to all those who had assisted in making the meeting such a complete success, and the motion was suitably responded to by all concerned.

The ringing included touches in methods ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor.

HEREFORD GUILD. BREAKING FRESH GROUND.

On Saturday week, the Clifford District of the Hereford Guild held a quarterly meeting at Peterchurch, the first in the village, and there were ringers present from Gilwern, Clifford, Eardisley, Madley, Kingstone and Clebonger, together with the Rev. G. R. M. Ellwood, of Staunton-on-Wye, the Ringing Master (Mr. C. Edwards), the District Secretary, and the local band. The Vicar (the Rev. J. H. T. Kilgour) met the ringers on their arrival, and gave them a kindly welcome. The Guild form was used at the service, at which the Vicar gave a very interesting address on the origin of bells. Mr. S. T. Rackham, of the Gilwern band, very ably presided at the organ. After the service, 23 sat down to tea, at the conclusion of which the business meeting was held, the Vicar, who occupied the chair, giving the Guild a very hearty welcome to Peterchurch. His band were only young as yet, but he hoped they would profit by the visit of so many friends, and put their backs into it, and eventually become good change ringers.

Whitney-on-Wye was chosen for the next meeting, which will mean breaking fresh land again.—The Vicar became an honorary member, and the local band, probationers of the Guild, and the Ringing Master promised to visit them and give them what assistance he could.—The usual votes of thanks terminated the meeting.

Good use was made of the bells during the afternoon and evening, rounds being rung for the learners, who included a lady of the Clebonger band, and Grandsire, Canterbury Pleasure and Stedman Doubles for the rest, the finishing touch being the first 720 of Bob Minor on the bells, by: A. A. Rackham 1, E. R. Jones (first 720) 2, Alec A. Rackham 3, S. T. Rackham 4, J. P. Hyett 5, C. Edwards (conductor) 6. This brought to an end a very successful meeting.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

A meeting of the Gainsborough District was held at Corringham, on Saturday last, ringers being present from Gainsborough, Stow, Scotter, Histon, Lindsey and Bigby, in addition to the local company.

The bells were available during the afternoon and evening, and were kept going to the standard methods.

An excellent tea was provided in the Schoolroom, and the business meeting which followed was presided over by the Rev. J. Barber (Rector of Stow). Apologies for absence were read from the Rev. Canon Hicks and the Rev. A. B. Peirce.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to Mrs. Prescott for so very kindly providing the tea, and also the Rev. J. Barber for presiding, were accorded.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We would like to urge upon correspondents the necessity of sending on their communications to us as early as possible, as the dislocation of posts caused by the curtailment of train services, coupled with the new suspension of any Sunday work in the post office, is causing considerable delay in the delivery of letters.

June 28th is a date which revives sad memories in connection with ringing in Coventry, for it was on that date in 1885 that the famous bells of St. Michael's Church were rung for the last time, on account of the danger to the tower. Shipway, in his 'Art of Ringing,' published in 1816, says: 'Coventry has, at St. Michael's Church, a good peal of ten bells; tenor 31 cwt. in D,' and though Shipway never probably heard them himself he was by no means over lavish in his praise. The bells were one of the glories of the city.

They were cast in 1774 by Pack and Chapman, of Whitechapel, and the tenor was recast by John Briant, of Hertford, in 1805. For eighty years the bells hung in an independent frame carried up from the ground, but when the church was restored in 1885, and the western arch thrown open, the timber cage was ordered to be removed on account of its unsightliness. With the frame, the bells had to come down, and unhappily the proposal to build a detached bell tower for them never came to fruition. Eventually they were hung for chiming only in the octagon.

Records exist of peals rung upon these famous bells, including two in 1807—one of Grandsire Cuters by the St. Martin's Youths, Birmingham, and the other, '6,140 Bobb Major Royal,' by the Society of Coventry Youths. Of those who took part in the final ringing of the bells on Sunday, June 28th, 1885, Mr. James George is the sole survivor.

The authority upon bells appointed by the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association is Mr. G. H. Phillott, M.A., M.S.A., 31, Promenade, Cheltenham, and ringers in the two dioceses whose bells require attention are requested to urge their Vicar and vestry to seek his advice before placing orders or when contemplating improvements or augmentations.

Will Corpl. A. Cullum, who called a peal of Stedman Triples at St. Peter's Church, Caversham, Oxon, on May 2nd, 1921, please communicate with P. Harrison, 14, Sheffield Street, Leicester, if he is the same A. Cullum, late of the R.F.C., Aircraft Park, Lympne, during the year 1917?

SIX BELL METHODS.

We are asked to state that the following 'regular' Minor Methods have been rung at Bucknall, and named:—

No 23.—4th's place Delight, page 19, on May 29th last, and named 'Burslem.'

No. 16.—3rd's place Delight, page 24, on May 31st last, and named 'Bucknall.'

No. 29.—Treble Bob, on June 7th last, and named 'Norton-le-Moors.'

ROYAL CUMBERLAND YOUTHS. THE WAR MEMORIAL.

The Cumberland Youths War Memorial is to take the form of a mural tablet to be fixed in the tower of the Church of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, Trafalgar Square, London. The cost of the tablet, fixing and faculty will be about £30. Towards this sum £15 2s. has been subscribed and promised, and another £15 is, therefore, required. It is strongly desired to put the work in hand as soon as possible, and members, especially country members, are earnestly invited to send their subscriptions at an early date to the hon. secretary of the society, or to the hon. secretary of the fund, Mr. H. J. Bradley, Christ Church Schools, Willesden Lane, N.W.6.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

A good attendance and an ideal day from a ringer's point of view was all that was needed to make a combined practice meeting held at Curdridge on Saturday last, a success. The Church of St. Peter, a noble edifice which stands in the midst of what are now huge stretches of strawberry fields, is the possessor of a grand peal of bells (tenor 26 cwt. in D), which were heard to full advantage. By kind permission of the Vicar, the bells were available during the afternoon and evening, with an hour's interval for tea. The methods rung were: Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise Major. Among those present were: Mr. G. Williams (Master), the Rev. E. Bankes James and his pupils, and members from Curdridge, Maidstone, Portsea, Southampton (St. Mary's), North Stoneham, Upham and Wickham. It is hoped that these summer meetings which up to the present are both pleasant and successful will be frequently held up to the end of the season.

MONKS KIRBY BELLS.

NOBLE ADDITION TO WARWICKSHIRE PEALS.

The old parish church of Monks Kirby, Warwickshire, now possesses a magnificent ring of eight bells, one of the finest peals in the county. For many years the six old bells had hung in the tower in a dangerous condition, and could not be rung with safety owing to the decayed and dilapidated state of the wooden beams and supports, and it was found necessary to remove all the old timber, etc., and to entirely rehang the bells with new fittings in new framework. This work was entrusted to Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and the bells are now a noble peal in their strong and massive iron frames on stout steel supporting girders. The fittings are of the most modern design, and contain all the many improvements that have been introduced by Messrs. Taylor, the most important, perhaps, being the patent ball bearings in which the bells swing, and everything is designed with a view to the strain placed on the structure of the tower by the thrust of the bells being reduced to an absolute minimum.

The six old bells have been tuned whilst at Messrs. Taylor's foundry, and two new trebles have been added to complete the octave. The bells are now a perfect peal, and the musical effect is very marked. The tenor, dating from 1618, note D natural, weighs between 24 and 25 cwt., and the total weight of the bells, fittings, frame, girders, etc., exceeds 15 tons.

The six old bells are very interesting, from an archaeological point of view, the smallest, dated 1640, bearing the following inscription:—

My noble founders they have been so many,
Because not all I will not here name any.

The old 3rd bell, now the 5th of the ring of eight, is the most ancient bell of the peal, and from the marks and inscription it is probable that this bell was cast towards the middle of the 15th century. It may be mentioned, too, that this bell is supposed to have hung originally in the destroyed church of Stretton, and was at some time transferred to Monks Kirby Church.

The tower at Monks Kirby will henceforth undoubtedly prove a source of great attraction to bell ringers from all parts, furnished as it now is with such a magnificent ring of bells, and, most ideally situated in the midst of a charming country, it is likely that the village will become a great centre for campanology.

One of the most successful gatherings in the history of the Warwickshire Guild took place at Monks Kirby on Thursday, June 9th, for the dedication of the bells. The service was conducted by the Bishop of Coventry, and the church was filled. A band had been selected for the opening touch (three leads of Grandsire Triples), and was arranged as far as possible to include all the present and past officers of the Guild. It included A. Roberts (Master), E. H. Adams and J. George (ex-Masters), H. Argyle (Central Council representative), A. Wilkerson (hon. secretary), with T. W. Chapman (Nuneaton), and F. Pervin (Stoke-in-Coventry). Mr. J. Oldham represented Messrs. Taylor and Co., the founders. The band stood as follows:—

Messrs. A. Roberts 1, H. Argyle 2, E. H. Adams 3, J. Oldham 4, T. W. Chapman 5, A. Wilkerson 6, F. E. Pervin 7, J. George 8. Upwards of 50 ringers were present during the afternoon and evening from Allesley, Birmingham, Burton-on-Trent, Coventry, Croft, Exhall, Leicester, Loughborough, Northampton, Nuneaton, Rugby, Sharnford, Stoke-in-Coventry, Wolsey and Warwick. What the number would have been had the opening been on a Saturday is difficult to tell. Everyone present was greatly impressed with the 'tone' and 'go' of the bells, several of the experts dubbing the peal the finest octave in the county, and the founders are to be congratulated on the excellent splices they have made. The selected band of ringers were invited to tea on the vicarage lawn, in company with the large number of inhabitants and others assembled. The methods rung during the afternoon and evening included London, Bristol, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise, Double Norwich, Plain, and Kent Treble Bob, Grandsire and Stedman Triples.

The bells were lowered in peal about 8 p.m., after which Mr. H. Withers, of Birmingham, performed on the chiming apparatus, which has also been installed.

It was a red-letter day for the villagers, and one that will be remembered for many years to come.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting was held at South Weald, on Saturday, June 11th. Many members were present from Brentwood, Barking, Romford, Ingatestone, Shenfield, Maldon, Chelmsford, Writtle, and the local company. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Kirby), assisted by the Rev. Hensman, of Bentley, who gave an excellent address.

Tea was held at the Tower Arms, and was followed by the usual business meeting.

Four new honorary members were elected, and two ringing members and nine probationary members, including four ladies from Brentwood.

It was proposed to hold the next meeting at Great Waltham.—Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, the Rev. Hensman for his most excellent address, and Mr. A. E. Halls for presiding at the organ.

NEW METHODS.

CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Not long ago, I read an account of a gentleman who congratulated Edison on the invention of the electric bulb. The great scientist replied that it was not an invention, but a discovery. 'We knew,' said he, 'exactly what we wanted, which was a carbonised filament that would last for a thousand hours' use in a vacuum, and we set to work and carbonised everything that we could lay our hands upon until we found it.'

Now this is very true, but is no reason why Edison should not be given the credit of his discovery.

The idea put before the Central Council by Mr. Trollope is no new one. The old Greeks used to hold debate on the question: 'Was Hercules in the marble before the sculptor began to cut it?' But even allowing that he was, we must still allow credit to the sculptor for the beauty of the statue when he had removed all the stone that he did not require for his effect.

When Mr. Trollope says that all the methods have been worked out, he is making a very wide statement. I believe that all the Plain methods on eight bells have been produced, and a great many of those with a Treble Bob Hunt, but not all; a much larger number still remains to be investigated, and there is still plenty of work for the artist to find that which is good, and will be for a long time. For it will take the wholesale manufacturer a great many years yet before he has produced them all, good, bad and indifferent.

Take the case of Crofton Surprise as an example. I knew what I wanted before I set to work to discover it: A method in which the work of the bells 1-2 and 7-8, should show the beautiful symmetry that they here display, but I had to work out a great many methods before I found one that would produce a peal.

So much for eight bells, but what shall we say when we turn to ten and twelve? London Surprise Royal was possible from the days of the creation; but it took me nearly thirty years to discover it, and I was by no means the only one who was seeking it. Does Mr. Trollope mean to say that no credit is to be given to the men who spend their time and patient labour on producing methods that are excellent on ten and twelve bells?

The wholesale manufacturer cannot help us here. It takes 37 years to ring all the changes on twelve bells, but it would take more than ten times that time to produce all the methods.

If we are to have the very best possible, we must fall back upon the artists to produce them, and those who do get them are as worthy of receiving credit for their discoveries as were the men who produced the old Standard Methods.

Just one more word with regard to invention. There is still room for it. The man who first produced Oxford Treble Bob was an inventor. Others have discovered new methods that would fit in to the skeleton that he had drawn up. So we can have new skeletons invented, for which new methods may be discovered. No. II. is an example of this.—Yours truly,
E. BANKES JAMES.

SOUTHWELL BICENTENARY.

ABRAHAM RUDHALL AND HIS BELLS.

On Saturday week the bicentenary of the casting of Rudhall's peal of bells in Southwell Cathedral was celebrated by a meeting of the Midland Counties Association. A peal of bells, cast by Thomas Clay, of Leicester, had been hung in the tower in 1712 to replace those lost in the previous year by fire. These bells apparently did not meet with the approval of the inhabitants, and a subscription was raised to have the bells recast. Abraham Rudhall, of Gloucester, was entrusted with the task, and he undertook (so we read in Mr. W. A. James' little history of the Cathedral bells) after the eight old bells were delivered to him at Budley (now spelt Bewdley), to melt them down and make a new peal 'that shall be in the judgment of any three or more understanding and judicious persons in music, as good and tunable and have as sweet and harmonious notes or tones as the bells at Newark,' which were lately cast by the said Abraham Rudhall, the whole to cost £100. In due course the old bells went to Bewdley and thence down the Severn to Gloucester, were recast and returned to Bewdley and eventually put up in the Minster.

On 25th August, 1721, Rudhall wrote the following letter:—
 'To the Revd. Mr. Timothy Cary, Residentiary at Southwell near Newark upon Trent in Nottinghamshire, via London, Gloucester, ye 25 of Aug. 1721.

'Humble Servant,
 'Abr. Rudhall Junr.'

Some 60 ringers were present at the bicentenary celebration, and were welcomed at the tower by the Rector (the Ven. W. J. Conybeare), who himself rang the treble to a touch of Grandsire Triples. Touches of Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich Major followed, and afterwards the Rector presided at tea, being supported by the Rev. C. J. Sturton (Orston), the Rev. F. J. Wilkinson (Mansfield), Mr. Pryce Taylor (of the Loughborough Foundry), Mr. T. H. Kirkby (hon. secretary of the district), Mr. W. E. White (late secretary of M.C.A.), and members from Caythorpe, Cotgrave, Bolsover, Daybrook, Beeston, Nottingham, Long Bennington, Loughborough, Worksop, Swanwick, Mansfield, Retford, Mansfield Woodhouse, Sutton-in-Ashfield, Orston and Radcliffe-on-Trent.

On returning to the tower, the Rector spoke of the occasion upon which they had all met, and mentioned that the Cathedral Library contained the letter (quoted above) sent to the Residentiary in 1721, giving the day that the bells would arrive after being recast. The Rector thanked the members most heartily for their presence, and mentioned that he himself began to ring at nine years of age, but, unfortunately, he was pulled up by a rope and came down on a window ledge. Although severely shaken, he escaped unhurt. It damped his ardour, and he did not ring again for about three years; then he again took up the art as keenly as ever. He also spoke of change ringing being very peculiar to England, although it was extending to the Colonies, as he had had the pleasure of ringing in New South Wales. Bell ringing and the brotherhood of bell ringers wielded a great influence in the Church, a great bond existing amongst the associations or brotherhood working together. The Rector thanked them, too, on behalf of the local ringers who were trying to take their place along with other towers, and he was very grateful to them for keeping the bells going for Sunday services. During the war they rarely heard more than six going, but he (the Rector) was glad when he heard eight again. That told us the war was over, and the ringers coming home. In conclusion, he thanked the hon. secretary (Mr. T. H. Kirkby) for helping to make the arrangements with the members.

Mr. T. H. Kirkby proposed a vote of thanks to the Archdeacon for presiding, and the local band for the tea arrangements.

The Rev. F. J. Wilkinson, of Mansfield, seconded, saying how pleased they were at the invitation extended to them to celebrate the bicentenary of the bells.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.
 STOCKPORT BRANCH.

The Stockport Branch held its third meeting of the year, at Rostherne on Saturday last, when about 30 members and friends attended.

The Vicar (the Rev. T. A. Hanson) conducted the service in the church, and gave an interesting address. Tea was served in the Parish Room, and was followed by the usual business meeting.—Mr. W. Wolstencroft presided, in the absence of the branch chairman, and in opening the meeting, gave a few words of encouragement to the young members of the local band, who were enrolled members of the Guild only at the last meeting, held on May 7th.—The Hon. Secretary (the Rev. A. T. Beeston) endorsed the words of encouragement given by the chairman, and apologised for the absence of the Vicar, who had expressed his pleasure at the visit of the Guild to Rostherne, members being present from the neighbouring branch of Graffenhall, the pleasure which their company afforded was remarked upon. The Hon. Secretary went on to mention his position on the Literature and Press Committee of the Central Council, and asked that all who could, would assist him by bringing to his notice any detrimental report on bells and ringers which appeared in the columns of the Press.

A letter of apology regretting his absence from the branch chairman was read.

Taxal was fixed as the place of the next meeting, to be held either on October 1st or 8th, whichever the hon. secretary may find the more convenient date.

Two new members were elected, one being the twelve-year-old daughter of the chairman of the meeting.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the authorities for permitting the meeting to be held and for the use of the bells, and to all who assisted in making the meeting a pleasant one.

Rostherne is a picturesque and pleasant village, situated in a delightful part of the country, which is now looking its best. It is ornamented by a large and beautiful sheet of water called 'Rostherne Mere,' and on its steep banks stands the venerable pile dedicated to St. Mary, ascertained to have been built previous to the twelfth century. The tower is of stone, erected in 1558. It was rebuilt in 1742, and contains a heavy ring of six bells, tenor 20cwt. These were well requisitioned during the war, the methods rung ranging from Cambridge Surprise down to Doubles. Looking over the Mere from the churchyard a splendid view presents itself, while, as the bells 'stand,' and the last notes die away, the echo across the water is heard, at least a whole pull after, like the notes of an organ dying away.

J. P. F.

STOW & DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the above was held at Hilgay (Norfolk), on Saturday, June 4th. Members were present from Thelford, Fincham, Stow, Wallington, Denver, Gaywood, Terrington St. John, Shouldham, and the local company. Touches of Oxford Treble Bob and Bob Major were rung during the afternoon and evening, and 21 members sat down to tea. The usual business followed, presided over by the Rector. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Gaywood, on Saturday, July 16th.—A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Rector for the use of the bells, also for presiding over the meeting.

BARLEY RINGERS AMONG THE BELLS.

On Saturday, June 11th, the Barley ringers, belonging to the Hertford Association, went for a ringing tour. Starting at 7.30 a.m., with a short touch of Grandsire at their own parish church, they proceeded on cycles to the towers of Great Chishill, Herdon, Elmton, Christball, Wenden's Ambo, Littlebury, Ickleton and Stapleford. Touches of Kent Treble Bob Minor, Plain Bob Minor, Stedman Doubles, Grandsire Doubles, etc., were rung during the day. One of the Barkway band also accompanied them, and a very pleasant day was spent amongst the bells. The Barley ringers wish to thank the clergy for the use of the bells, and also the ringers for the hearty reception given them.

A Page for Sunday Service Ringers.

May we ask those who send us compositions for this page to be kind enough to prove their figures first. Another false touch appeared last week—the 1,280 of Cambridge Major.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.VISIT OF MR. GABRIEL LINDOFF

The quarterly meeting of the Southern District was held at Doncaster on Saturday last, and, considering the restricted travelling facilities, was very well attended, about 40 members being present from Adwick-le-Street, Arksey, Bolsterstone, Sheffield, Rotherham, Rawmarsh, Selby, Tickhill, Treeton, Wortley, and the local band.

The meeting was honoured by a visit from Mr. G. Lindoff, of Dublin, who was spending a short holiday in the neighbourhood, and good practice was obtained in the following methods: Grandire and Stedman Triples, Bob Minor, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Major, and Double Norwich. Owing to only six having sent in their names no tea could be arranged, but all were able to be supplied at the cafes in the town.

The business meeting was held in the ringing chamber, the vice-president (Mr. F. Willey) being in the chair.

Mr. Brearley, of Bolsterstone, gave the association a cordial invitation to visit that place for the next meeting on Saturday, September 17th, and this was accepted.

Six new members were elected to the association, these being Messrs. W. Noble, Rammoor; J. Hewitt, Wragby; L. Beardsmore, Arksey; and J. H. Humphries, W. Ashman, A. Tomlinson, of Eckington. A short service was held in the church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Archdeacon Sandford, M.A.). In a brief and interesting address the Archdeacon, after welcoming the association to his Parish Church, touched upon the work of the new Parochial Councils, and referred to the interesting fact that the organist and ringers were not under the control of that Council, but were under the charge of the Vicar and him alone. The assistant organist, Mr. P. Saville, officiated at the organ, which added to the enjoyment of the service, and at the close he kindly played two selections on this very fine instrument, which is one of the few in England which have five manuals. The brief recital was very much enjoyed by those present.

A hearty vote was accorded to the archdeacon for the use of the bells and for his address, to the organist for his kind services, and to the local company for having everything in readiness. The bells were kept going in the various methods until 9 p.m.

PRESS ATTACKS ON RINGING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I wish to correct at the earliest moment your view of what I said at the C.C. meeting re 'Attacks on ringing in the Press.' What I tried to say was that we had found it best not to reply at all, as replies only brought more complaints. Trusting you will make this correction.—Yours truly,
W. A. CAVE.

WEDDING BELLS.

At the Church of St. George and Mary, Cockington, Devon, on Wednesday, June 1st, a quarter-peal of Grandire Doubles (1,260 changes) was rung in 45 minutes, to celebrate the wedding of Mr. J. Mayne to Miss Horwill; also of Miss Olive Browning, eldest daughter of Mr. G. Browning, captain of the local band, to Mr. C. Buckley, of Witham, Essex. The ringers were: 1. William Dilling, 2. Alfred W. Bowers (conductor) 3. James Olding 4. John Hawes 5. Frederick Plymsol 6. John Blight 6. First quarter-peal for treble, 4th, 5th and 6th.

A RINGERS' OUTING.

The annual outing of the Bonvilston Guild of Ringers took place on Saturday, June 11th. Several friends were invited, and it was a merry party that set out for Porthcawl, despite the gloomy appearance of the weather. The drive down by charabanc being somewhat chilly, the party felt the need of some brisk exercise. This need was met by taking a sharp walk over the golf links, and when the members returned to dinner, a hearty meal was made.

The afternoon was spent in visiting the quaint old Church of Newton Nottage. Touches of Doubles were rung, and then the party adjourned to tea. The remainder of the time was spent in various ways. In the cool of the evening, the return journey was begun. This was done fairly early, as the band wished to visit Bridgend tower, which possesses a fine peal of eight. The ringing here was thoroughly enjoyed, the only regret being that more time could not be spent in the tower. Thanks are due to those who were responsible for obtaining the bells, both at Bridgend and Newton Nottage.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

A meeting of the Warwickshire Guild was held at Wolvey on Saturday, May 21st. The weather was gloriously fine, and enabled most of the members who attended to cycle. Ringers were present from Allesley, Coventry, Croft, Higham, Hinckley, Nuneaton, Sharnford, Stoke Golding, Stoke Coventry, Stoney Stantop, and the local band. The methods rung during the afternoon and evening were Grandire and Stedman Doubles Cambridge Minor, Oxford Treble Bob, Double Court, Double Oxford, Double Bob, Double Stedman, Slow Course and Plain Bob.

The Ringing Master and Hon. Secretary personally thanked the Vicar for his kindness in allowing the use of the bells, and the Vicar said he was pleased to welcome the Guild, and hoped to have the pleasure of seeing them again.

IN MEMORY OF THE DEAD.

On Saturday last, at Ramore Church, Sheffield, a quarter-peal of Double Norwich Major was rung in 47 mins., by: Sam Thomas (conductor) 1, G. M. Thorpe (first in the method) 2, J. Osguthorpe (first in the method) 3, J. E. L. Cockey 4, Francis Ward 5, J. Evinson 6, W. Burgar 7, Charles Hayner 8. This was rung with half-muffled clappers (subsequent to the failure of an attempt for a peal of Grandsire Triples by the same band), previous to the dedication by the Lord Bishop of Sheffield of a memorial cross and tablet, in honoured memory of the 60 men of Rammore, who laid down their lives for their country in the great war. Several well-struck touches of Stedman Triples were also brought round before and after the dedication, in which Messrs. J. Holman, R. W. Collier (T. O'Hara), and A. Hayner also took part.

WHITTLE-LE-WOODS, CHORLEY. — At St. John's Church, on Sunday, May 22nd, on the occasion of the unveiling of a memorial tablet to the memory of the fallen of the parish, who included four ringers, half-muffled touches of 504 Grandsire and 224 Plain Bob were rung for morning service, and for evening service a touch of 1,008 Plain Bob was brought round in 40 mins. The following ringers took part in each touch: E. Coxhead 1, R. Lancaster 2, H. Lucas 3, C. Salisbury 4, G. Bradley 5, V. Blackwell 6, W. Lancaster 7, A. Blackwell 8. This latter touch was the longest rung by ringers of 1, 2, 3 and 4, and also for No. 7 as conductor.

KINGS NORTON, WORCESTERSHIRE.—On April 16th, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples: H. Withers (conductor) 1, H. Williams 2, J. Withers, jun. 3, W. Ball 4, E. Ollaway 5, C. H. Webb 6, J. Withers 7, J. Johnson 8. Rung as a birthday compliment to Mr. Johnson.

BARTON-IN-FABIS.—On Wednesday, April 27th, in 23 min., 720 Bob Minor, also 180 Double Court: E. Chamberlain 1, F. Priestly 2, C. Payne 3, W. Brown 4, J. W. Priestly 5, F. J. Tite (conductor) 6. First 720 by all except the conductor, also first on the bells by a local band.

HERTFORD.—Hertfordshire Association and the Hertford College Youths.—For confirmation service by the Bishop of St. Albans, a quarter peal of Stedman Triples, 1,260 changes, in 46 mins.: A. E. Crensey 1, R. Dore 2, V. Neale 3, G. Gray 4, J. Ladley 5, A. Wright 6, Col. H. Baker (conductor) 7, A. E. Akers 8. First quarter-peal of Stedman by all except the conductor, who is to be congratulated on the progress of the band under his tuition.

BELL REPAIR FUNDS.

The proposal of the Midland Counties Association to establish a Bells Repair Fund is putting into practice a suggestion which the President of the Association had hoped to get the Central Council to recommend to all the affiliated societies. Unfortunately Alderman Chambers was not present at the Council meeting at Whitsun to move his motion, although it could only have been done by permission, in view of the fact that formal notice was given too late for the agenda. While the Council continues to look upon its functions in the light that it at present views them, there is very little which members can propose as a recommendation to the affiliated bodies. There is a great reluctance to pass any resolution which shall have the appearance of interference with the domestic economy of the various associations, but while this may be right on certain subjects, there can be little objection to the Council giving a lead in other matters where they do not interfere with the constitution of the associations. Such a suggestion as that contained in Alderman Chambers' resolution could, we think, do no harm if passed by the Council, even if it did little or no good. Alderman Chambers will be able to move the motion next year if he chooses, for it was never formally before the Council in London, and no real opinion was passed upon it. The fact that it was allowed to lie on the table was as much due to the absence of the proposer as to any settled opinion on the subject held by the Council.

That each Association should have a fund from which it can help in bell restoration work is in itself commendable, and some associations already have such a fund, while others are ready to assist out of the general coffers. In view of the pleasure which ringers obtain from the bells, however, it is not too much to ask them to contribute to the cost of repairing or augmenting a peal, when it is going to facilitate the art which they pursue. The existence of a special repair fund enables individual ringers to contribute directly to this cause, whereas donations from the general fund of an association call for no personal effort on the part of the members. By giving, on the occasion of ringing gatherings, a small contribution to a repair fund, the individual has a direct means of showing his appreciation of the facilities which are offered him in the belfries and which restored or enlarged rings increase. If only for this opportunity of expressing gratitude and encouragement, and helping those who are seeking to improve their bells, ringers should welcome the establishment of a special fund, and perhaps the action by the Midland Counties Association will revive the interest in this subject in societies where up to the present nothing of this kind has been done. We do not know what line of argument Alderman Chambers would have adopted to get the Central Council to move in the matter, but of this we feel sure that any recommendation made by the Council, if sent to the associations, would ensure for this, or any other reasonable proposal, a consideration which it might not otherwise receive. But pious resolutions such as the Council pass are useless. The Council must take steps to ensure its suggestions being formally conveyed to its affiliated organisations, otherwise, as we have pointed out, there is no machinery by which associations, whose representatives do not happen to be present, can be officially acquainted with the doings of the central body.

DONCASTER & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

A meeting of the above was held at Fickhill last Saturday. There was a good attendance of members from Arksey, Bentley, Conisborough, Doncaster, Rotherham, Sheffield, Thorne, Wortley, Treeton, Worksop, Adwick-le-Street, and Harworth. Touches of Plain Bob, Kent, Double Norwich and Little Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples were rung during the afternoon and evening. Tea was partaken of in the Parish Room, and was presided over by the vice-president, Mr. G. Halksworth. Before again ascending the belfry, some well-struck touches of Grandsire Triples and Caters were rung on handbells. The tower bells were lowered in peal at 8.30. The carillon was then set working and entertained the company to 'Home, Sweet Home,' and one wag emphasised the fact that 'There's no place like home when one is tired after a good day's ringing.' Evidently a good many more were of the same opinion, for the company split up and went their several ways; some were 'legging it,' a good many were riding bicycles, and more fortunate members who were unaffected by the strike were riding home by bus.

The next meeting will be held at Bentley.

BARNSELY & DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

The June meeting was held at South Kirby on Saturday, June 11th, when members were present early from Wath, Darfield, Hoystone, Felkirk, Sandal, Crofton, Barnsley, and other towers. The local members were present in full force, and gave a hearty welcome to everyone. Had it not been for the misfortunes of the coal dispute a brighter feeling would have prevailed, but the bells were kept merrily going in many methods, and hopes were expressed for other meetings to be held in the near future. Darton was selected for the next meeting, in July.

BELLS AND BELL RINGING.ENLIGHTENING THE UNINITIATED.

Canon T. L. Papillon, who, perhaps, has done more than anyone else for the Exercise in making its aims and objects known to the uninitiated through the Press of this country has contributed a most valuable article to the June issue of 'The Modern Churchman,' a Broad Church magazine, edited by the Rev. H. D. A. Major, B.D., principal of Ripon Hall, Oxford. As a piece of propaganda work it might well be reprinted and widely disseminated among those who have responsibility for church bells, and whose knowledge is only of a very limited nature, while their interest in bells is practically nil. Canon Papillon, in his article under the title, 'Church Bells and Campanology,' writes:—

What has such a subject as this to do with Modernist or Liberal Churchmen? It is a detail of 'ecclesiology,' a branch of practical Church work for which we are credited with caring nothing in our so-called academic isolation from the realities of Church life—we, the 'sterile party,' barren of useful fruit for religion or for the Church. more intellectuals, destructive rather than constructive reformers. To many, perhaps to the majority, of our fellow Churchmen we are very far from saints. But we have one thing in common with the saints of the Church from apostolic times onward, a plentiful crop of false legends is growing up about us: one of which is that we take no interest in matters ecclesiastical, or in the practical work of the Church.

Now, the use of church bells, and the position of church bell ringers, is a detail of practical church work that may well interest such Modernist Churchmen (let us hope an increasing number) who have or may have charge of a parish in which there is a good ring of bells. Of all the 'goods of the church' for which clergy and churchwardens are responsible, least is known about and least interest taken in the church bells. Far out of sight in windy heights of church towers, inaccessible, through ignorance or carelessness of church architects, to all but active climbers, they hang from year to year unvisited save by bats and jackdaws. The sexton or other official, whose duty it is to see that the bells are kept in order for use, saves himself all the trouble that he can: churchwardens and clergy, if middle-aged or portly, seldom risk the perilous climb to see for themselves that things are right: and so the process of neglect goes on, till some day it is discovered that the bells have become unringable or dangerous. A little ordinary care and a small annual expense would have kept them in order: but things have gone too far, and a large sum of money has to be raised for rehanging and general repair. Even then there is a further risk that ignorance may take refuge in false economy. Bell hanging is a special trade, requiring highly skilled and experienced workmen; and to allow the local ironmonger or blacksmith to undertake repairs is to court disaster. I know a parish where, on its being found necessary to rehang the bells, an estimate was procured from a leading firm of bell hangers, which rather staggered the church authorities. A local man, they found, would do the work 'as well as them Londoners' for less than two-thirds of the cost: so the order was given to him, and the parish rejoiced. Then came the day of re-opening the bells. A band of expert change ringers, invited for the occasion, soon found that nothing could be done; the bells were unringable as a peal. In the end the work had to be done over again by the firm that had first tendered, and much of the expense already incurred had been thrown away.

Closely connected with ignorance and neglect of church bells by church authorities, is their neglect of and indifference to those who ring them, and to the art of change ringing whereby the best use is made of them. It is not the purpose of this article to give any technical account of change ringing. For that I may be permitted to refer to an article, 'Bell,' contributed by me to the 'Encyclopædia Britannica' (11th Edition). I will only say here that it is a fascinating art, easily acquired when the preliminary difficulty of handling and managing a bell has been surmounted, and only requiring patience, perseverance and close attention for its practice in the belfry. In a country parish the belfry may be an admirable school of discipline for qualities in which country folk are specially apt to be deficient—perseverance in work or play, 'give and take' in association with others, steadiness, good temper, and sobriety. Once get a band of ringers up to a certain point of skill in ringing, and inspired with ambition to progress in their art, there is ipso facto a strong antidote to the public-house and the constant tipping which, though it stops short of drunkenness, so often muddles or bonuses the rural brain. No man can hold his own in change ringing if eye or brain are clouded, or hand unsteady by too much beer; and the gradual recognition of this fact, in many a parish where change ringing has been introduced, has put an end to old scandals whereby bell ringers were regarded as parochial black sheep, ringing the church bells, even for Divine service, as anything but church work, and the belfry as an adjunct to the pot-house. When I was a boy, change ringing used to be recorded in 'Bell's Life' and other sporting papers, in company with skittles, rabbit coursing, and a mysterious game called 'knur and spell'; it ranked among low-class amusements. When, at the age of forty-three, I took up change ringing in order to revive the ringing art and reform the belfry in the parish to which I had been appointed vicar, I found that the ringers were—well, not the most respectable members of our community, and I had to begin by refusing to allow new handbells, procured for use in belfry practice, to be taken afterwards to the public-houses. There being, fortunately, no regular payment for the ringers, the older ones soon dropped off in disapproval of the new regime, and left us a clear field for a fresh start. I say fortunately, for sooner or later I should have had to dismiss some of them, at the risk of unpopularity in the parish and consequent hindrance to the work of belfry reform. Enough, however, of personal experience: I only cite it as showing that church bells and their ringers may well engage the interest of any clergyman, who is not a born opponent of change and reform, as a matter of practical parish politics—not merely of 'the parish pump' order. He will find, too, that a flowing tide is with him; that things are moving all along the line, and that the old bad days of neglect and discredit are gone—it may be hoped for ever.

That this can now be said is due largely to a revival of the art of change ringing, which led to the formation of many diocesan or county societies for its encouragement and for the reform of belfries. Where clergy and church authorities have been apathetic, they have been stirred from below by ringers themselves. Cathedral bodies—never very conspicuous in the van of reform—are much less open than formerly to the reproach of bad example to the parish churches of a diocese in respect to their bells; even Westminster Abbey, long a by-word among ringers, having been aroused by national feeling to put its bells in proper order for the celebration of great national events. A 'Central Council of Church Bell Ringers,' composed of delegates from associations all over the country representing, it is estimated, thirty or forty thousand ringers, meets annually in London or at some provincial centre for the discussion of matters concerning the ringers' art, e.g., the dissemination of knowledge in regard to the art itself, the proper care of bells and belfries, or the best means of diminishing without silencing the sound of bells in crowded neighbourhoods, with possible annoyance to invalids or lovers of quiet: on which, as on many other points of campanology, the deepest ignorance prevails, not only among the general public, but among architects and well-meaning enthusiasts for the preservation of ancient buildings. This Central Council has already done great service to 'the Exercise' (a term denoting ringers as a body and the general interests of ringing), and there is much more work ready to its hand.

That church bells should be silenced, few Englishmen would desire. They are too closely identified with English popular life. The 'sound of the church-going bell,' familiar to many from childhood, has in it a suggestion of home, and to those who have lived within sound of a melodious peal, its absence may aggravate the bitterness of exile. Bells, indeed, have from early times in England been associated with the life of the people. We still expect them to ring cheerily at a wedding and toll slowly, or with muffled sound, for a funeral: and the 'passing bell,' no longer as a rule at the time of death, but shortly after it, is in general use.

The curfew survives here and there by force of custom, though its meaning is lost. The 'harvest' or 'gleaning' bells, to call labourers and gleaners into the fields, have not long disappeared from some country parishes. The 'market bell,' originally a signal to begin selling, so as to guard against forestalling, is (or was till recently) rung at noon on market day at Oundle. The 'fire-bell' is still not uncommon, as I can personally testify from experience at Adderbury, in Oxfordshire, where the then vicar, on showing me his belfry, gave me leave to try one of the bells. But after I had pulled it off two or three times, he remembered that this particular bell was the fire bell! The parish had lately started a fire brigade, which only waited for an opportunity to justify its existence, and he was barely in time to stop the men from leaving their work and hurrying to the rendezvous. Other old bell customs have disappeared, e.g., the 'storm' or 'tempest' bell, to ward off lightning—perhaps from the supposed power of bells to drive away evil spirits; the 'oven bell,' to announce that the manor oven, to which 'enants had to bring their bread, was heated; or the 'pancake bell' on Shrove Tuesday as a signal to housewives to use up their grease and dripping before the Lenten fast. In old belfries here and there may be found quaint metrical rules for the ringers, according to most of which fines were levied for swearing, wearing hat or spurs (presumably regarded as objectionable swagger), or for 'over-throwing' a bell, e.g.:-

If you ring in spur or hat,
Sixpence you must pay for that;
And if a bell you overthrow,
Pray pay a groat before you go.'

Strange tales are told of belfry manners and customs within living memory, of carousals in the ringing chamber itself, which no one ever thought of regarding as part of God's House; of a new bell, brought into the church before being hung in the steeple, placed upside down and filled with beer for general consumption; of 'peals' or 'touches' breaking down because one or other of the ringers was too 'far on' to manage his bell, or keep his place in the changes.

But such things are now ancient history, deservedly forgotten, except so far as their evil memory has made the reform of ringers and of ringing slower and more difficult than it need have been. Yet after all, reform has not been very slow. It has come about within the last fifty years; and what makes it surer is that it has been largely the work of ringers themselves, under the inspiration of a comparatively few earnest ringing clergy: one of whom especially deserves remembrance, the late Rev. F. E. Robinson, Vicar of Drayton, near Abingdon, in Oxfordshire. I could name a dozen others, but they would all agree to yield pride of place to him.

In conclusion, Canon Papillon refers briefly to carillons, which, he admits for tune playing, 'far surpass the melancholy attempt at hymn tunes sometimes heard from an English tower,' but such bell music, he adds, will never supersede the music of a well-struck peal from English towers.

ALONG THE VALLEY OF THE EXE. TAUNTON RINGERS' OUTING.

For two or three weeks the genial and thoughtful secretary of St. James' ringers, Taunton, was busy in making arrangement for a day's ringing in Devonshire, through the Exe Valley, which is so well known for its beautiful scenery. On Saturday, June 18th, the day selected, the ringers, with a few friends, turned up at the church at 7.30 a.m., and having first faced the photographers, left Taunton in a charabanc for Culmstock, where the first stop was to be made. The eight bells were raised in peal, and several touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples brought round. Having run the bells down, the ringers were complimented by a local campanologist, who said it was the first time the bells had been raised in peal since the octave had been in the tower. After expressing thanks for the use of the bells, headway was made for Thorverton, the next stopping-place. Under the pilotage of one of Devon's true sons (a well-known ringer, and especially known to the 'Royal Cumberlands'), the visitors arrived punctually at the appointed time to find some of the local band ready for them. The ring of eight was pulled up in peal, and Stedman and Grandsire Triples brought round. It was only possible to make a short stay here, as the principal item in the programme was a visit to Exeter. Arriving at the city at 12.30, the party were guided to the Cathedral belfry by some of the Cathedral ringers, who informed the visitors that steps to the number of 157 had to be climbed, in addition to a walk by the parapet along the whole length of the building. Nothing daunted, the party was soon in spacious belfry. Coats were removed, and the work of raising the four heavy back bells was carried out, the front six being subsequently raised in peal. By way of getting the feel of the bells, a few rounds were rung, and next with ten men at the ropes a touch of Grandsire Caters was brought round, the visitors being well pleased with the way in which they were able to turn such a heavy ring, whose tenor is 72 cwt. 2 qr. 2 lb.

After leaving the Cathedral lunch was partaken of at 'Dellars,' and subsequently the journey was resumed to Withycombe Raleigh. Here the bells were raised in peal, and after a touch of Bob Major a move was made to Exmouth, where an hour was spent by the sea. The homeward journey was begun at six o'clock, and a call made at Ottery St. Mary, which was the last ringing place on the programme. The bells of this, one of the most beautiful of churches, were rung up, a touch of Stedman Triples being brought round. In the middle of the touch of Grandsire which followed, someone appeared and ordered the bells to stop at once. The order was immediately obeyed, but on inquiry as to the reason the ringers discovered that the order to cease came from no other person than the sexton. As he had no authority to interfere with the visitors—permission to ring having been given by the Vicar—the gentleman had to make his exit, and the ringing proceeded. Such conduct as this by a parish sexton is very rare in these enlightened days. After tea, the journey was resumed via Honiton, and Taunton was reached about 10.30, after a thoroughly enjoyable day.

The ringers wish, through the columns of 'The Ringing World,' to tender their grateful thanks to the Dean and Chapter of Exeter Cathedral and incumbents of the other churches who had so kindly given permission for the use of their bells, the various ringers, especially those at Exeter Cathedral, who had everything ready, and all others who assisted in making the outing such a splendid success.

MR. W. C. RUMSEY'S 150 PEALS.

Mr. W. C. Rumsey, who recently completed a total of 150 peals, has conducted peals from treble to tenor at the famous Debenham tower. The following is his list of peals, rung in 20 different towers:-

Double, 1 (conducted 1); Minor, 7 (3); Bob Triples, 2; Grandsire Triples, 4 (3); Stedman Triples, 7; Bob Major, 20 (6); Kent Treble Bob Major, 11 (5); Oxford Treble Bob Major, 30 (11); Double Norwich Major, 41 (15); Double Oxford Major, 2; Superlative Surprise Major, 16 (3); Cambridge, 4; Stedman Caters, 1; Kent Treble Bob Royal, 4; total, 150 (conducted 47).

HINTS FOR BEGINNERS.

THE PLAIN COURSE AND THE BOBS.

In the last article which I wrote I tried to explain for the benefit of those who are just beginning, how a Plain Course of Bob Minor, as it is called, is constructed from the ringing standpoint. Let us briefly review the position. We have seen that, to get a succession of changes on six bells by moving as many bells as possible in each row each time the ropes are pulled, it is necessary to change three pairs and two pairs alternately. This provides us with twelve changes, which make up a plain hunting course, because in this cycle every bell does exactly the same work (although beginning in a different place), and at the end the bells return to the starting-point, which is rounds. Next, in order to extend the number of changes which can be rung it was necessary to let one bell make second's place when the treble was at lead, instead of following the previous plan of letting a bell lie a whole pull behind. This second's place, which does not interfere with the path of the treble, causes all the other bells to pause in their forward movement, and take one step back (called a 'dodge') before pursuing their normal course, and by repeating this operation every time the treble leads (if it were not done, changes which had previously been rung would reappear), the plain course of 60 changes is made up.

If any of my readers followed the advice which I gave them and wrote out for themselves the whole of those 60 changes, they will, if they examine them, find that the various pieces of work which the bells do follow in a regular succession. Each time a bell makes 2nd's place it pushes the rest one step further back, and the dodging follows in a regular sequence, viz., 3-4 down in the lead after making 2nd's place, 5-6 down, 5-6 up, 3-4 up. It might not be quite easy for a beginner to ring the method in this way at the start, and there is another simple method by which the tyro may find his way through the course. The treble, as we have seen, pursues a straight path, without any of the place making or dodging which disturb the rest, and, it is by noting, when hunting up, where a bell passes the treble that the ringer may know where to dodge when the treble leads. In counting the places the ringer should begin with his last blow at lead and call that 'one.' Next he is in 2nd's, then 3rd's, and so on, so that he can call the places as he goes up 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, this last being the first blow of the whole pull behind. In counting his way down again, he begins with his last blow behind and calls it 6th's, so that the next is 5th's and so to 4th's, 3rd's, 2nd's lead; or 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1. It is, however, only the counting in going away from lead that now concerns us, and we have to notice where we 'pass' the treble. If, for instance, we strike in 3rd's place and notice the treble striking over us (i.e., in 4th's), we know that in the next change the positions will be reversed, and the treble will be in 3rd's, and we shall be striking over him in 4th's. That is called passing the treble in 3-4. If the same way if, when leading the back-stroke blow, the treble is observed striking over us in 2nd's, we shall pass the treble in 1-2. Now, the figures will show that if we pass the treble in 1-2, we have to make that whole pull over the treble in 2nd's place and lead again, and following upon this we shall find that we shall not meet the treble again until we get right out behind, that is to say, in 5-6. As we go down we reach 3rd's, and then find another bell stopping to make 2nd's over the treble. This necessitates our dodge in 3-4 down, and delays us a whole pull, with the result that in the next lead we have only reached 5-6 down when the 2nd's place is made, and we accordingly have to dodge in 5-6. Now, if you have learnt how to hunt, and understand what it means to 'pass the treble' and to 'dodge,' the whole of the work of a plain course can be put into the following formula, which you should memorise:—

Pass treble in 5-6, dodge in 3-4 down.
 " " " 4-5, " 5-6 down.
 " " " 3-4, " 5-6 up.
 " " " 2-3, " 3-4 up.
 " " " 1-2 make 2nd's and lead again.

The following shows how symmetrical the work of the plain course is, it being remembered that the order in which the bells go down to lead at the start is 2, 4, 6, 5, 3.

1st lead	3-4 down	5-6 down	5-6 up	3-4 up	2nd's place
2nd lead	5-6 down	5-6 up	3-4 up	2nd's place	3-4 down
3rd lead	5-6 up	3-4 up	2nd's place	3-4 down	5-6 down
4th lead	3-4 up	2nd's place	3-4 down	5-6 down	5-6 up
5th lead	2nd's place	3-4 down	5-6 down	5-6 up	3-4 up

With the knowledge which I have endeavoured to impart, the beginner may make his first efforts in change ringing, but before he can aspire to 'touches,' he must know something about bobs. By means of a bob the coursing order of the bells, that is the order in which they go down to lead, is varied, and the number of changes that can be got without repetition is extended beyond the plain course. A bob in the simple method which we are studying can be made whenever the treble leads. It is effected by a whole pull in fourth's place, instead of a whole pull in second's, and disturbs the work of three of the bells. The bell that 'makes the bob' (i.e., the 4th's place) is the one that, had it been a plain lead, would have dodged in 3-4 up. The making of the 4th's changes the direction of his hunting, just as making 2nd's does, and instead of continuing his path from front to behind he goes down to lead again. The 351624 figures at the side show how the work is carried out. The 315264 bell that would have made 2nd's hunts straight out until it 132546 lies a whole pull behind and the bell that passed the treble in 5-6 and would have dodged in 3-4 down, runs straight 123564 in and leads after the treble. The two bells dodging in 5-6 215346 are unaffected by the bob, and the alterations to the rest may 251436 be stated as follows: If you have passed the treble in 5-6 run straight in and lead, if a bob is called; if you pass the treble in 2-3 make 4th's and lead again; if you pass the treble in 1-2 run straight out and lie a whole pull behind.

For those who are anxious to know what their next dodging place will be, a study of the figures will show that the bell that 'made the bob' was really moved from 3-4 up to 3-4 down, so that the next dodging place after the bob is in 5-6 down. The bells that run 'in' and 'out,' as it is termed, do the same work in the next lead as they would have done in the bob lead had there been no bob called. In other words, after passing the treble in 1-2 and running out, the ringer will find that he will again pass the treble in 1-2, so that the 2nd's place, which he omitted on the first occasion, will be made on the second, unless, of course, another bob be called, when he will once more run out. Similarly with the bell which runs in, by omitting the dodge in 3-4. He will find in the following lead that he again passes the treble in 5-6, and will, therefore, make his dodge in 3-4 down on reaching that position, provided, of course, another bob does not occur.

For the benefit of those bands of beginners struggling along without the assistance of anyone with greater knowledge than themselves, and who, having followed my hints on learning Bob Minor thus far, may feel impatient to put the bobs as well as the plain course into practice, I will just give one 'touch' on which they can make a beginning. If a bob is called at any one lead in the course, for simplicity preferably when the conductor's bell is either going to dodge in 5-6 down or 5-6 up, three bells will be transposed at the course end. Thus, if the bob is called when the 6th dodges in 5-6 down, that is the last lead of the course, the bells, instead of coming round will be, at the course end, 142356. Consequently, to complete a touch a bob must be called at the corresponding place in each of two following courses, and the best moment at which to make the actual call is the moment between the two blows of the whole pull behind. That gives sufficient warning to everybody concerned that they have got to change their work. In some other article I shall deal with conducting, but this brief hint may enable the ambitious to progress, and not be hung up for want of help at a point when they feel they might take a definite stride forward.

I am told I was taken to task by a speaker at the Central Council meeting for missing a great opportunity, when I replied, some weeks ago, to a correspondent, who wanted instruction as to how to ring changes on the eight tubular bells that had been erected at his church. I was chided, I understand, for failing to make an effort to bring him within the fold of the Exercise, but I can hardly think the gentleman who referred to the matter at the Central Council meeting had read my reply aright. Briefly, I told my correspondent to get hold of a few musical changes for chiming, and devote his energies on his tubular bells to tunes; but—and here I think I did exactly what the Central Council speaker inferred I had not done—I also advised him to join a change ringing band in his own neighbourhood, avail himself of the practices there in order first to learn to handle a bell, and afterwards to study the art. Above all, I urged that such an enthusiast as he should not be lost to the Exercise. Now, what more could I have done to bring this ringer into the fold unless I had gone to him personally and dragged him bodily into a beirfy? To have selected a few musical changes for him would not have taught him the art of ringing, and no amount of practice on tubular bells alone will make a man a change ringer. Dear me, some people seem to require a lot of satisfying, but I suppose I ought to feel honoured that I should be even noticed in such an august assembly, albeit it was but to receive verbal chastisement.

I have received a little pamphlet on 'Hints on Dodging in Grandfire Triples,' by D. G. T. It is a most useful collection of 'tips,' and I give the following which are intended for the expert 'to help beginners':—

'Ringers should always LOOK AT THE ROPE they are pulling after on the show down to lead, as if the bell who is coursing you keeps half an eye on you he will see who you are pulling after, and will know the bell he has to pull after next. In fact, you are picking out the bells for him and making his work easier and more sure. Especially look straight at the tenor when leading; he SEES you are leading, and knows he has to lead next handstroke.

This is of far more help to beginners than is generally known. The ringer who keeps his eye on one spot, though he may be an excellent performer himself, is a great trial to a beginner, and even to his fellow expert ringers.

Remember you may know you have to dodge 4-5 down, and the other man may know he has to dodge 4-5 up, but you also require to know that you have to dodge with each other, and not with someone else.

These may seem trifles to expert ringers, but as a novice, I can assure them they are of infinite value to less expert performers.

It is too late to look up after the mistake has been made. Prevention is better than cure in this case, as in most others.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.
LINKS WITH SQUIRE PROCTOR.

The 40 members of the Hertford County Association who attended the meeting of the Eastern District at Bennington thoroughly enjoyed the visit to this picturesque old-world village, with its associations of ringing, and the high standard it set in the early days when Squire Proctor and his band were famous, and London Surprise was rung long before change ringing was nurtured by county associations. Although Bennington is 4 1/2 miles from the railway, visitors during the afternoon and evening came from places as far apart as the Metropolis and the borders of Cambridgeshire, and from the districts between, by means of the cycle, motor-cycle and railway, and 'shank's pony.'

Tea was kindly provided by Canon Mills (Rector), who has given to the association a very warm welcome at all times, and now, much to the regret of all, is laid aside permanently, it is feared. Consequently he was unable to be present in person, but he sent a warm welcome to the ringers, and hoped they would spend a happy time together. This kindly message was conveyed to the gathering by the Rev. A. G. Langdon, as ex-president of the association, of Great Munden, who presided at the business meeting, supported by the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake, of Thundridge.

Ringling was enjoyed by all in the methods, from Grandsire to Superlative Surprise, the three sole survivors of the old Bennington band of fifty years ago taking part. Although now unable to practise the higher methods, these veterans showed that ringing once properly learned is not easily forgotten, and they could ring with the younger generation with great credit.

A vote of thanks was unanimously voted to Canon Mills for his renewed generosity, and welcome, and also one of sympathy with him in the illness which has laid him aside, and which kept his genial presence from the gathering.

The close of the meeting came all too soon, but those who came from both near and far spent a most enjoyable time.

Among the interesting records in Bennington tower is a peal board recording the first peal of Double Norwich Major rung in the county of Herts, upon which appears a free adaptation of the well-known lines of Thomas Moore:—

On Tuesday, November 20th, 1849, a complete peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major was rung in this steeple in 3 hrs. and 1 min. This peal, one of the most difficult in the science of change ringing, and the only peal in this intricate method ever rung in the county of Hertford, was accomplished in a masterly style by the under-mentioned persons, all resident in this parish: James Ploft 1, Thomas Page 2, Leonard Proctor 3, William Collins 4, John Aylott 5, Charles Hollingsworth 6, Joseph Kitchener 7, George Warner 8. The peal, most ably conducted by Mr. J. Kitchener, is the production of Mr. J. Miller, of the Cumberland Youths, London, and contains sixty-five bobs.

Ye Bennington bells, ye Bennington bells,
How many a tale your music tells
Of youth and home and that last time,
When last we heard your merry chime!
Now time will come when we are gone,
Your tuneful peal will still ring on,
While other bands your hempen rope will pull,
And strive our peal to ring, which here we write in full.

And it was not the least interesting part of the Herts meeting that three men should have been present who are links with this band of more than 70 years ago.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Next Thursday, the 7th of July, will be the 170th anniversary of the first performance of Holt's Original—still one of the masterpieces of Grandsire composition, and the summit of every Grandsire conductor's ambition. It was rung at St. Margaret's, Westminster, by Union Scholars, and was called by John Holt himself. Holt did not ring, but sat in the belfry with his manuscript. That is one reason offered for the fact that the peal is not to be found in the Union Scholars' peal book, although the peal board is still to be seen in St. Margaret's tower.

On July 8th, in the previous year at St. Margaret's, one of the first peals of Double Bob Major on record was rung. This was also rung by the Union Scholars, and John Holt took part in the peal.

The announcement in the report of the Midland Counties meeting at Duffield that the elaborate peal books of the association were on view, recalls the fact that it will be forty years on the 23rd June next that the first peal by the association was rung.

The last few weeks have seen a slump in the number of peals rung. Probably this is due partly to the restrictions on travel, partly to the weather, which, at more than 80 in the shade, as it was at the last week-end, makes peal ringing an arduous occupation.

The brothers Bailey, of Leiston, seem to be bent on collecting all the family records that remain to be secured, so far as it is within their power to secure them. The first peal of Stedman Triples by eight brothers has now gone into their 'bag.'

The Saffron Walden ringing society is one of the oldest in the kingdom, for their history, if we may believe tradition, goes back to the early part of the seventeenth century—before there was any change ringing, before there were any College Youths. On Monday they celebrated the 298th anniversary of 'Great Ringing Day.'

The peal in three methods of Doubles at Hoole, Cheshire, by the Chester Diocesan Guild, on May 21st, was the first of Doubles in more than one method by the Guild. The number of six-scores of Stedman was six, and not 16 as printed.

The ringer of the 5th in the peal of Stedman at Drayton, published last week, was Gordon Cauldwell, not Jordan, as published.

Last Saturday's meeting of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch of the Oxford Guild at Beaconsfield was a record one for the branch, there being nearly a 'century' at the service, and about a 'six-score' of members at the tower and tea, which was followed by a short concert, presided over by Lady Burnham. This gathering, following upon the excellent muster in North Bucks the previous week, is an encouraging sign of life at ends of the county, but what about the 'broody' area around Aylesbury?

BUFFERS ON BELL CLAPPERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Having read with great interest the two items on buffers on bell clappers, I would like to say that the idea is an old one, and was gone into by the late Mr. George Day, bell hanger, of Eye, and myself, at the time when four bells were being hung at Intwood, near Norwich, somewhere about forty years ago. Mr. Day was very much in favour of my idea. He promised to put it to a test, and decided to construct a clapper on that plan. I have not been able to learn if he did so or not. Perhaps one of the ringers of that district may know, and would be able to enlighten your readers.—Yours faithfully,
Staines. CHARLES JACKSON.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I should like, through your columns, to thank Mr. A. Hughes (of Mears and Stainbank) for his congratulations regarding the buffers on bell clappers. It was with great pleasure I read he had successfully made use of my suggestion. All ringers who have come to our tower consider it a great improvement to the tone of the bells. I congratulate him, and thank him for adopting and protecting the idea, and hope it will meet with great success in the future.
Dartford. JOHN WHEADON.

'GRANNIE GRUNTER.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Parker's effort is very amusing; but why would not the 'expert' explain about the 'dwarf method'?

The usual plan is to put a fresh bell in to do the 'treble work' every course; and the bell that is doing that work is said to be 'in the slow.'

I am afraid that we cannot call the method 'Grannie Grunter,' as it has already a name, and is very fully set out in most of the elementary text books, where they call it 'Treble Bob.'—Yours truly,
E. BANKES JAMES.

THE OWNERSHIP OF METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—There is very little in Mr. Bankes James' letter that I disagree with. I have no wish either to deprive a man of any credit that is his, or to discourage attempts to find new good methods. Quite the contrary. I said at the Central Council that if a band wants a new method to ring they have a perfect right to work out the figures, proof scale, and peals, and when they have rung it to call it what they please; and the fact that those figures have been or may have been worked out before does not in any way affect that right. There is no such thing as ownership of a method, and the mere fact that a man has written out a certain set of figures does not give him any copyright in a method. I have myself worked out some thousands, each one according to some design or other. I am familiar with many more that have not been written out, but could be if there were need. Does Mr. James mean to say that if anyone publishes or rings one of these that I have a right to claim it as 'mine'? Writing out methods is a very simple thing. What is not simple and what is really worth study is to find out the laws that govern method construction. Mr. James says it took him thirty years to discover London Royal. When once I had found out the construction of London Major it did not take me thirty minutes to extend it, not only to ten bells, but to twelve, fourteen, sixteen, and upwards. Furthermore, I could undertake to supply methods by the score on any number with any possible qualities, or to give correct extension of any method (except the few that will not extend), and to explain to other people how they can go and do the same.—Yours truly,
J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

52, Lammas Park Road, Ealing, W.5.
P.S.—With reference to Mr. Parker's interesting article, may I point out, not for the first time, that every lead of Kent is really a course, the slow bell being the treble? A similar thing happens in many methods (including London Surprise). Hence everybody who has rung a peal of Kent has rung a peal in the 'new' method with bobs, which 'change the hunt bell.'

CENTRAL NORTHANTS ASSOCIATION.

NORTHAMPTON DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Northamptonshire District was held at Old Duston on Saturday, June 11th. Fifty members attended from All Saints', St. Peter's, St. Edmund's and Holy Sepulchre, Northampton, Weston Favell, Ecton, Moulton, Hardingsstone, Pitsford, Guilsborough, Kettering, Flore, Collingtree, and the local band; also the vice-president (the Rev. J. P. Friend, Collingtree), the Rev. J. White, Pitsford; the Rev. Channer, a past president of the association; Mr. Fred Wilford, Mr. Tom Law, Mr. F. Hopper, etc.

The usual service was abandoned on account of the absence of the Vicar (the Rev. W. D. Pearson).

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Vice-president, Rev. J. P. Friend; secretary, Mr. S. J. Lawrence; committee, Messrs. B. O. Soden, T. Law (central), F. Wilford, H. England, W. Faulkner.

Seven new members joined from Pitsford, where they are making great headway in change ringing under the able guidance of Mr. Tom Law, of Weston Favell.

Mr. Hopper gave a very hearty welcome to the Rev. Channer, and reminded the members of the first meeting of the district held at Harlestone on Saturday, Sept. 23rd, 1905, at which the Rev. Channer presided.—In replying, the Rev. Channer said he had quite forgotten that meeting, but was very pleased to be amongst and to see so many old members still taking part in the good work of the association.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rev. W. Pearson for the use of the bells, and further ringing was then indulged in by the members, and brought to a close an enjoyable and profitable meeting.

The next quarterly meeting will be held at Pitsford on October 15th, and a special meeting at Brixworth on Saturday, August 27th.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

BELL REPAIR FUND STARTED.

The quarterly meeting of the Midland Counties Association was held at Duffield on Saturday, June 18th. The name of the place conjures up reminiscences of the days of old when A. Percival Heywood—afterwards 'Sir Arthur,' ruled wisely and well in the famous belfry of Derbyshire. Gone are the glories of the old regime; gone by-the-board, too, are many of the old records when Surprise ringing was confined to two or three companies at most throughout the whole county; but the ten bells sound as sweet over hill and dale, while the knowledge of what has been should inspire those who follow after. If it does, then Ichabod need never be written in Duffield tower.

The restricted train service was responsible for the small gathering, but 30 kindred spirits met and enjoyed the ringing, which ranged from Grandsire to London Surprise. Tea was served in the Parish Room, and, after a most substantial repast, excellently served, the business meeting was proceeded with.—The President (Ald. R. B. Chambers, J.P.) was in the chair, supported by Mrs. Chambers, the Rev. E. R. Browne, M.A., Vicar of Duffield; Messrs. A. C. Wright, hon. secretary; W. Willson, hon. treasurer; Pryce Taylor, A. Knights, Chesterfield, and others. Apologies for absence were read from the Bishop of Derby, Mr. C. C. Thompson (Derby), etc., after which the Chairman expressed the view that the Central Council might at least give a lead to associations in matters concerning their welfare, without being considered 'interfering.'

This was in reference to a resolution of Ald. Chambers, suggesting a Bell Repair Fund, which was not undertaken by the C.C.

Mr. W. Willson gave a short report of the Council's work at Whitsuntide, which was endorsed by Mr. P. Taylor, and the same was heartily approved by the members.

It was agreed to formulate a Bell Repair Fund in the M.C.A., supported by collections at annual meeting church services.

A number of new members were elected, viz., 14 honorary, including the Bishop of Derby, and 13 ringing members.

The President made a strong appeal for support to 'The Ringing World,' which he said was now going well, and would continue to do so if not neglected by members.

Votes of thanks to the branch for providing tea, were passed on the proposition of Mr. O. Draper, seconded by Mr. E. C. Gobey; to the clergy for the use of the bells, and their presence at the meeting by Mr. W. B. White, seconded by Mr. W. Willson; and to Ald. and Mrs. Chambers by Mr. A. Ward, seconded by Mr. A. Purvin.

After the meeting, the elaborate peal books of the association were on view, while other attractions drew many to the tower again. The next gathering will be held in September, at Binkley.

CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE.

As the majority of ringers know, the method which presents the greatest difficulties in composition is Cambridge Surprise Major. For very many years there was only one composition, Middleton's, which runs to 5,600, but can be reduced to 5,056, which is commonly rung, or, in the variation arranged by Johnson to 5,184. The production of any other composition was the subject of much research, and the first peal not based on Middleton's that was rung was the 5,024, composed and conducted by Mr. F. Dench, with the St. Stephen's Society, Westminster, 20 years ago, to be exact, on August 24th, 1901. This composition, curiously enough, was not published when it was rung, and the figures are now given in print for the first time.

WINCHESTER GUILD PRESIDENT DEAD.

It is with deep regret that we record the death of Mr. John Pakenham Stilwell, J.P., of Hilfield, Yateley, Hants, who for many years was President of the Winchester Diocesan Guild. Many of the older ringers will recall with pleasant memories the annual meetings of the Guild during the past 30 years at which the deceased gentleman never failed to preside, generally accompanied by the late Mrs. Stilwell, who also took a great interest in the Guild's working. Meetings in those days were held in different parts of the Diocese, and the writer well remembers the early starts which the Guild's president had to make to reach the southern part of the area for the 10 a.m. committee meeting, preceding service and lunch. His interest in all things for the promotion of change ringing; and, in fact, everything connected with the church work never diminished up to the end.

To his own local band he was most kind and generous, always giving them his best advice, and helping in every possible way. For instance, when, through his efforts in the year 1887 change ringing was started in the village of Yateley, two more bells were required to complete the octave. Mr. Stilwell, who had already given one bell previously, promptly had the other two put in at his own expense.

By his death the ringers and parish have lost a great friend, for he was interested in everything for the welfare of the parishioners. From his life all ringers can take a lesson: 'He never failed in his Sunday duties.'

The interment took place in the family vault at Dorking on Saturday last, the coffin being of English oak made entirely by ringers of Yateley. The funeral arrangements were in the hands of Mr. J. R. Bunch, one of the oldest ringers, and the band was represented by Mr. W. G. Bunch and Mr. S. J. Riddell. With the passing of Mr. Stilwell one more link with the early days of the Guild is gone.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.
SUCCESSFUL WESTERN DIVISION MEETING.

On Saturday, June 18th, a most successful quarterly meeting of the Western Division of the Sussex County Association was held at Kirdford. A record number of members attended, in spite of the restricted train service, some walking several miles, others coming by bicycle and motor vehicles, in order to be present. The towers represented were Brighton, Crawley, Billingshurst, Heene, Horsham, Shoreham, Shipley, Lewes, Pulborough, and the local band. Some very good touches and courses of London, Cambridge and Carlisle Surprise, London Scholars, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Plain Bob, Oxford Bob, etc., were rung. A party of 40 sat down to an excellent tea at the Half Moon Inn, presided over by the Vicar of Kirdford (the Rev. E. A. Birvill). At the business meeting which followed, one new member, Mr. B. Nicholls, of Kirdford, was elected.

It was proposed to hold the next quarterly meeting at Horsham, in September, subject to permission to use the bells being obtained.—A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar and friends of Kirdford for use of the bells and for providing the excellent repast.

Another visit was then paid to the belfry, and after several touches in the methods mentioned above, the members commenced their homeward journeys, all agreeing that it had been a most successful meeting.

There are some old bells at Kirdford, the third in the peal being an interesting relic of supposedly pre-Reformation days, and belonging to a small group, whose founder cannot be stated definitely. The lettering of the inscription, 'Sancta Maria ora pro nobis,' in large Gothic minuscules, corresponds with that on bells in the Sussex villages of Finedon, Bury, Donnington and Tortington. On the Finedon bell are also the letters I.S. This leads Mr. Tyssen, the eminent authority on Sussex bells, to suggest that they may be the initials of John Saunders, of Reading, who commenced as a master founder in 1539, although the bells may have been cast in the reign of Elizabeth, by his successor, William Knight, who used pre-Reformation inscriptions in post-Reformation times. On the other hand, this group of bells may have been cast by Vincent Goroway, or William Welles, who intervened between John Saunders and Joseph Carrier, another successor of the Reading foundry in the troublous times of the middle sixteenth century.

Three other of the bells at Kirdford were cast at the Chertsey Foundry, the 5th by Richard Eldridge in 1607, and the 2nd and tenor by Bryan Eldridge in 1642 and 1649 respectively.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Southern District was held at Hersham on Saturday, June 25th, about 20 ringers being present from Aldershot, Farnborough, Guildford, Hersham, Oatlands Park, Walton and Woking. Touches of Bob Minor and Grandsire Triples were rung before the service, which was conducted by the Rev. Storey. A short business meeting was held after tea, at which Miss I. Woodrow was re-elected a member, and Worplesdon was selected for the meeting, in August. Short touches of Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, Plain Bob, Stedman and Grandsire were rung until 8 o'clock, when the bells were lowered.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Southern District was held on Saturday, June 18th, at Christ Church, Mitcham, and various methods were rung on the peal of six, the 'go' of which was found to be excellent. The visitors were met at the Parish Church by Mr. J. D. Drewett, who, by his kindness in arranging for the visitors, made the afternoon and evening most enjoyable. The service, which was arranged especially for the ringers, was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Chas. Aubrey Finch), and the Rev. S. Miller gave an interesting practical address and a short history of bells from Biblical times to the present day.

Afterwards, tea was partaken of at Mr. C. Bance's. About 20 sat down, including the Vicar and the Rev. S. Miller, the number being smaller than usual at these meetings.

The Vicar gave the London County Association a hearty welcome to Mitcham, and said he would be pleased for them to come on any future occasion.—Mr. H. Burton (the District Master) suitably responded.—Two new members were elected, viz., the Rev. Arnold William Stacey, of Southwark Cathedral, and Thomas Wilfred Taffender (son of the Master).—A vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar of Mitcham and to the Vicar of Christ Church for the use of the bells; also to Mr. J. D. Drewett and Mr. C. Bance. The tower was then revisited, and ringing took place up to 8.30 p.m., after which handbell ringing concluded the evening.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.VISIT TO WATTLINGTON.

A splendid welcome to the members of the Ely Diocesan Association on their second visit to Watlington, Norfolk, was given by the Rector and Mrs. Sunderland, on Saturday, June 18th. Thirty members were present from Cambridge, Newmarket, Fleet, Shouddham, Fincham, Denver, Stow, Tilney All Saints, Terrington St. John, and King's Lynn.—The Rector and churchwarden (Mr. Graham Spratt) greeted the ringers at the church gate. Good ringing on the bells followed, and instruction was given to the young members residing in the parish. An adjournment to the rectory was afterwards made, and an excellent spread awaited the ringers, kindly provided by the Rector and Mrs. Sunderland, who were assisted by the ladies at the rectory. The general business meeting followed, Dr. G. E. Atkins being voted to the chair. Several new members were elected.—Miss V. Shorter, general secretary, was present, and answered several questions put to her.—Dr. Atkins proposed a vote of thanks for the use of the bells and the excellent tea provided, and said Mrs. Sunderland was ever ready to help in any good work connected with the parish.—The vote was carried unanimously, and the Rector, in replying, remarked that it gave him great pleasure to entertain the ringers. He hoped they would soon repeat their visit.—Further ringing ended a most successful meeting.

THE PEAL AT TIPTON.

After the birthday peal of Stedman Triples (recorded elsewhere) was rung on Saturday last, the band, together with friends (including Mesdames Groves, Walker and Horton, and Miss Walker), were very kindly entertained at a neighbouring hotel to a substantial repast by Mr. and Mrs. Ben. Gough. Upon the cloth being removed, Mr. Harry Mason was unanimously elected to occupy the chair. The loyal toast of 'The King' was submitted by the chairman. Songs were rendered by Mr. and Mrs. A. Walker, and Messrs. B. Horton and H. Knight. The toast of 'The Host and Hostess' was drunk with musical honours. Mr. A. Walker presided at the piano. — A letter of apology for non-attendance was received from Mr. Wm. Rock Small, who has gone to spend a few days at Bewdley to recuperate after recent indisposition.

PUBLICATIONS.

LEIGH, LANCS.—On June 10th, by the local band, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), in 43 mins., as a birthday compliment to Mr. S. Hayes, senr.: D. Smith 1, W. Smith 2, H. Hayes 3, S. Hayes, senr., 4, W. Hayes 5, S. Hayes, junr. (first quarter on an inside bell) 6, H. Smith 7, J. Hayes (first quarter-peal) 8.

A Page for Sunday Service Ringers.

The compositions which we have given on this page have been widely welcomed by ringers who are responsible for calling the Sunday Service touches. We have to thank many friends for supplying us with the figures, and if other composers care to send on their compositions of suitable lengths in the more generally practised methods we shall be glad to publish them as opportunity offers.

On Sunday, June 26th, the services held at the old Parish Church at Felkirk St. Peter's were conducted by the Rev. Canon Bell, of York. In the evening he visited the ringers in the ringing chamber, and congratulated them on their ringing and the fine tone of the bells. He referred to the fine art of change ringing, and said it was one of the most important parts of the church service. His presence was very much appreciated by the band.

For those in search of a quarter-peal of Grandsire which is easy to remember, here is the calling of one by Mr. Louis Head: 7th 'Before,' 3 times; 6th, 4 times; 7th, 3 times; 6th, 3 times; 7th, 4 times; 6th, 3 times. It is musical, too, and contains Queens and Tittums.

F. A. HOLDEN'S 250 PEALS.

A short time ago Flt.-Sergt. F. A. Holden reached his 250th peal—a wonderful record in view of the often restricted opportunities which his service duties impose. The peals were rung in 111 towers and 18 counties, and were taken part in with 486 ringers. Among the peals was the first ever rung by a Navy and Army band, and the unique performance of three peals of Stedman Cinques in less than 24 hours. Appended is the list:—

PUBLIC SCHOOLS AS RECRUITING GROUND.

In a letter which we publish elsewhere in this issue a correspondent refers to the possibility of drawing into the ranks of the Exercise more University and Public School men. This is an important part of the wider subject of extending the practice of change ringing which is ever present, and which the Central Council has made an effort to further by appealing directly and specially to the Bishops, Archdeacons, Rural Deans and clergy generally. Our correspondent suggests that if headmasters of Public Schools and Training Colleges could be interested in the subject, many of their students would be induced to take up the art, with the result that their future influence in the matter would be all for the good.

There is much to be said in favour of some such action. In recent years everyone, we think, will admit there has been a general levelling up in the type of man who enters the belfry. As Canon Papillon pointed out in the article from which we quoted last week, there was a time in the life of many now living when the ringers were not infrequently men of the lowest class in the parish, and when the belfry was often considered an adjunct to the pot house. That condition of affairs has, happily, been swept away, largely because the ringers themselves have willed it, and because they have been recruited from more self-respecting circles. The reform has been from within, and the clergy are now rapidly coming in to take their place with the ringers, just as they have interested themselves in the choir. The influence of the Associations has brought this about, and there is no reason why the Associations should not extend their efforts further, as our correspondent suggests, and endeavour to get into the ranks of the Exercise a larger proportion of Public School youths, many of whom will be the clergy of the future.

In this connection it must not be forgotten that the University Guilds of Cambridge and Oxford have done invaluable service, especially the former, which, under the presidency of the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey, has carried on its work without interruption for a considerable number of years. The Oxford University Guild has not had such an unbroken career, but its recent revival leads to the hope that we may see it before long as keen a rival to its sister 'Varsity in ringing as other University organisations are in other directions. To secure as active an interest among members of the Public Schools as is done at these two seats of learning would be a great step forward in bringing in a type of recruit to the Exercise which would not only add to its standing with

BELLS! BELLS! BELLS!

Let the Music of the Bells celebrate Peace.

Messrs. CHARLES CARR, Ltd.

The OLD-ESTABLISHED firm of Bellfounders,

are now prepared to execute orders for all kinds of Bells, singly or in rings. Their foundry is equipped with every modern appliance for the manufacture of Bells of any size, weight or note, all their Bells being moulded and cast on scientific principles; while their knowledge of the 'Chemistry of Metals' enables them to produce that fine quality of Tone so much desired by all lovers of Bell Music.

In their finishing and fitting shops they have installed the most 'up-to-date' Tools and Machinery for the making of Bell Frames and Fittings, so that they are in a position to carry out the complete installation of Peals of Bells for Churches, or Sets of Chimes for Public Clocks, etc.

SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO THE RECASTING AND REHANGING OF EXISTING PEALS.

Orders may be placed now for delivery at a future date to suit the convenience of clients.

ALL MATERIALS CHEMICALLY AND MECHANICALLY TESTED.

the public, but lead to the introduction of the art to men who will be leaders of knowledge in the future.

Such an idea is worth serious consideration. It is not a thing that could be carried out on any widespread plan without mature thought and the hearty co-operation of those already among us who have the necessary influence. But, all the same, the matter is one that should not be shelved. There are Varsity and old Public School men on the Central Council. A committee formed of these could, we think, evolve a plan of campaign, and perhaps between this and the meeting next Whitsun some of them may give the subject serious thought.

The first half of this peal was in the tittums.

ILKESTON VARIATION OF TREBLE BOB.

Another variation of Treble Bob is put forward under the name of Ilkeston, by Mr. E. C. Gobey. It is gob by ringing Kent, with a lead of Oxford in every course when the tenor is going to the slow, cutting out two leads, and keeping the tenors away from the slow work, but Kent bobs only are used at M. W. and H.

The first peal in the variation was rung at Ilkeston, on June 30th, conducted by the composer.

Following are the figures of the peal:—

	23456	M	Ox	W	H

By repeating the first 5 courses four times the peal will ring to 8060.

CROFTON SURPRISE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Following is the proof of first lead of Crofton Surprise, together with seven course-ends that are false against 23456 tenors together.

If a peal in the method is possible with the tenors together, I should like to see the figures. Will the Rev. E. Bankes James oblige?
 —Yours faithfully,
 GEORGE BAKER.

VISIT TO LOUGHBOROUGH FOUNDRY.

The St. Mary's ringers and a few friends, including Mr. R. Richardson, Surfleet, had their annual outing on Thursday, June 30th, when they visited Loughborough. Mr. Richardson kindly placed his car at the disposal of the party, and the remaining accommodation was provided by two other cars requisitioned. A stay was made half-way on the outward journey at Langham, where the fine ring of six were soon going in the various Minor methods, after which lunch was partaken in the Vicarage garden. The Vicar (the Rev. W. A. Mandall), formerly of St. Mary's, kindly provided tea and other suitable refreshments.

Arriving at Loughborough at 2.30, the party were met by Mr. Denison Taylor, who very kindly conducted them over the foundry. Beginning in the moulding shop, the process of bell founding, with all its modern improvements, was explained throughout, which, it need scarcely be said, was followed with the greatest interest, especially by the ringers, most of whom had not visited a bell foundry before. Various rings of bells in process of construction were noticed for different parts of the county, and indeed for other parts of the world. Two peals of ten were specially noticed, one for Bradford Cathedral, and the other, with a tenor of about two tons, for the Luke of Argyll at Inveraray. These peals were tapped round by the workmen for the benefit of the party to contrast to the old Bradford bells, while the visitors were enjoying a pipe in the garden. The carillon was inspected, and attempts made to play upon it by some of the would-be musicians among the visitors, after which Miss Taylor very kindly entertained the company to a sumptuous tea on the lawn.

During the remainder of the evening the foundry peal was made good use of in Bob Major, Treble Bob and Grandsire Triples, while touches were also rung on the handbells. Peterborough was reached somewhere about midnight, after a very enjoyable and happy day.

The party are greatly indebted to the Rev. W. A. Mandall and Mr. D. and Miss Taylor for the kind way in which they were received, and the arrangements made for their comfort.

SUNDERLAND RINGERS IN CLEVELAND.

The ringers of St. Ignatius-the-Martyr, Sunderland, had their annual trip on Wednesday, June 22nd, the district selected being the Cleveland Hills of Yorkshire. The senior curate (the Rev. G. G. Hickman), one of the churchwardens (Mr. H. Dixon), and the ringers' good friend, Mr. Stanley M. Ritson, accompanied them in the motor-bus. The first stop was at Ormesby, where they were met by Mr. T. Metcalf, of North Ormesby, and the fine bells of this beautiful village were soon set going to Stedman and Double Norwich.

Guisborough was reached at noon, and after an excellent dinner at the Buck Hotel, and a ring on the six bells of the old church, the party had a very pleasant stroll in the Priory Gardens, famous for its wonderful chestnut tree and avenue of beeches.

The next place of call was the pretty village of Carlton, in Cleveland, and the car took the excursionists quickly round the base of Rosebery Toppin, the most prominent of the Cleveland Hills, through Stokesley, to their destination. Here a disappointment awaited the party; they had had a very kind invitation from the Vicar to have a ring on the bells, but unfortunately the sexton had gone away with the church key (weighing about one pound), in his waistcoat pocket, and in spite of every assistance from the villagers, who wanted to hear the bells, the door could not be opened. After a walk through the village, tea at the Blackwell Ox, and the taking of a photograph by the Clerical member of the party, they were just getting into the bus when a girl cyclist came up with the precious key, so that they were able to have half an hour's ringing on these splendid bells after all.

It is worthy of remark that both here and at Guisborough the ringing chambers are open to the church, which must make it very difficult to put things right, when ringing for service, and the bells get slightly mixed.

The bus now took the party home via Hutton Rudby, Yarm, and Stockton, where they parted with Mr. Metcalf, Sunderland being reached at about 10 o'clock, after if not quite a 'perfect,' at least a very happy day, which will long be remembered.

YORK RINGERS AT SCARBOROUGH.

On Saturday, June 25th, the ringers and choir of St. Mary's, Bishopthorpe, York, had an enjoyable outing to Scarborough. The party left by charabanc at 7 a.m., and returned about 11 p.m., after a delightful day. The ringers were met at the tower of St. Mary's Church, Scarborough, by Messrs. Barton and Gibson, and after raising the bells in peal, a well-struck quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung by the following: T. F. Earnshaw 1, W. Fountain 2, P. Fifth 3, A. Horner 4, E. Ricket 5, A. C. Fearnley (conductor) 6, H. N. Imeson 7, I. R. Barton 8. The ringers wish to thank Mr. Barton for his kindness in making arrangements for the ringing and making up the band.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

A meeting for combined practice was held on Saturday last at Owslebury, by the kindness of the Vicar. The pretty peal of six were available during the afternoon, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Bob and Kent Treble Bob Minor were brought round. Tea was provided on the cricket ground, at the invitation of the Vicar and Mrs. Briggs, both of whom were present, also the Rev. W. E. Colchester, Mr. G. Williams, and ringers from Curdridge, Southampton, Bishopstoke, North Stoneham, Winchester, Upham, and the local tower.

The Rev. W. E. Colchester moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector and Mrs. Briggs for their kindness for providing tea, and also for the use of the bells.—Mr. G. Williams, in seconding, expressed the hope that the local men would again join the Guild.—The Vicar extended to the members a hearty welcome to Owslebury, and said it was a pleasure to himself and Mrs. Briggs to welcome them.

After tea a move was made to Twyford, where, by the kindness of the Vicar (the Rev. — Morriss), the bells were kept going during the evening to Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob and Kent Treble Bob Major, Mr. T. Spratt, of the local company, being present.

The thanks of the ringers are due to Mr. G. Fullinger for making the arrangements.

A sum of 16s. was collected at the tea, and forwarded to the memorial fund for the new bells for Winchester Cathedral.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Hinckley district was held at Sharnford, on Saturday last, members and friends being in attendance from Croft, Hinckley, Higham-on-Hill, Sapcote, Stoney Stanton, Nuneaton, and Wigston. The methods rung on tower bells included Grandsire, Stedman Doubles, Bob Minor, Double Court, and Kent Treble Bob Minor.

The business meeting was presided over by the vice-president (Mr. C. H. Webb), and it was unanimously decided to hold the next meeting at Stoke Golding.—A vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector for the use of the bells.

Tune ringing and changes on handbells brought a pleasant meeting to a close.

RINGING'S OLDEST FESTIVAL.

SAFFRON WALDEN'S 'GREAT RINGING DAY.'

'Great Ringing Day' at Saffron Walden is probably one of the oldest institutions in the Exercise. For 298 years this event has been celebrated, we believe, without a break, and its origin is due to a bequest of one Thomas Turner, a mercer, of Saffron Walden, who left money, with which an estate was purchased at Henham, Essex, to provide for this festival, and for a memorial sermon to be preached on the anniversary of his funeral (June 27th), the bequest being in gratitude to the bells of Walden for guiding him to safety when lost in the woods at Audley End.

The ringing history of Walden, however, goes back even beyond this remote date, and there is still a record existing which has come down to us from the dim ages of the 15th century. In 1440, when Henry VI. was king, the ringers were paid for ringing on the occasion of a visit of the Queen. 'For rynnaggyr wanne ye quene was her, iijij.' Thus they received the princely sum of fourpence for their services, those who succeeded them were always well abreast of the advances made in the art. One of the first occasions, if not the very first time that Holt's Original was conducted by a ringer taking part in the peal, was at Saffron Walden in 1753—about two years after John Holt had called it from manuscript, at St. Margaret's, Westminster. At this time there were two companies of ringers at Walden, the seniors and the juniors, and apparently there was no love lost between them. The record of the peal exists in a very old newspaper cutting, dated January 2nd, 1754: 'To inform all real Lovers and Professors of the Art of Ringing That the Society of Young Ringers of this town, on Tuesday, the 25th of December last, being Christmas Day, did ring the true Peal of Grandsire Triples composed of 148 Bobs with two Singles, which they effected in three hours and twenty minutes; and on Tuesday following, being New Year's Day, they completed the same in eight minutes less than before (being the only times the same has been rung there since there has been eight bells) to the no small mortification of their antagonists (some of the Old Society) who, instead of instruction, give them all the obstruction in their

but that there was some importance attached to the ringing of the bells on such an auspicious occasion may be judged by the fact that previously the ringers had been fined for not ringing when Queen Margaret of Anjou came to the Abbey. What the bells of those days were, how many their number, or what their weight, no record remains; but that famous old founder Miles Graye was employed upon them in 1629, when he cast the 'Greate Bell' and was paid £15, with more for 'mettall for ye same bell, xvs. vjd.' In 1634 he appears to have again recast the tenor, for there is an entry, 'Payd to Miles Graye for the casting of our great Bell ye 23rd October, now waying but 27ct. xslbs. at 10s. pr. ct. £13 11. 00. There is 1ct. and 15lbs. remaining of mettall, which was left of the old bell,' which shows that the original tenor was a heavier bell. In 1653 the 5th was recast, and the rest rebung by one John Heddon, bell founder.

The eight bells which made Saffron Walden famous in the history of change ringing, were cast by John Briant, of Hertford, in 1798, and the 7th and 6th were recast at the Whitechapel Foundry in 1813 and 1849 respectively. In 1914 the peal was augmented to twelve by Mr. A. Bowell, and the magnificent tower, with a spire rising to 200 feet, now possesses all that the most ardent ringer can desire.

The story of the early days of change ringing at Saffron Walden is as interesting as the history of the bells. The men who rang on the first 'Great Ringing Day' were probably not change ringers, but power. The ringers which rung the same were: Fredk. Sell, Charles Baron (who called the bobs), Richard Whitehard, John Banks, William Barrett, junr., John Bush, junr., John Clark and John Salmon.

These performances seem to have caused some trouble, for there is no trace of another peal being rung until 1771. But after that the ringers of Walden progressed in the art. They rang peals of Bob Major and Treble Bob, and afterwards (in 1817) Double Norwich, the last named being, according to the records accumulated by the late Jaspur Snowdon, only the 6th peal ever rung in the method. After this they mastered Superlative, but their enthusiasm, or their luck, was never sufficient to carry them to the success of a peal, their longest length being 1120. It is interesting, however, to recall that the Saffron Walden company, of whom some are happily still alive, were the first to ring a peal in the method in Essex. Between 1820 and 1865 nothing much but Plain Bob was rung at Walden, but afterwards the company went ahead again, and the older members of the present generation of ringers will recollect the achievements of the band in which the famous Pitstow brothers played a part, while Saffron Walden cannot be mentioned without recalling the memory of one of the greatest and most versatile composers, now gone to his rest—Nathan J. Pitstow.

But through all the ups and downs of the art in the ancient Essex town, 'Great Ringing Day' has never passed without its celebration —more or less fitting as ringing has been in the ascendant or otherwise. Recent years—except during the war-time—has seen the event made the occasion of a gathering of visitors, not only from the towers around, but from distant places as well.

The celebration on Monday in last week brought together ringers from Cambridge (including one lady), Starsted, Great Munden, Croydon, Royston, Brockley, Ickleton, etc., while the local men were, of course, present in force.

Ringling began at 9.30 a.m., and continued with brief intervals until 9.30 p.m., the methods rung during the day ranging up to London Surprise Major and Stedman Cinques.

The customary service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. L. Hughes, who preached a very interesting and appropriate sermon for the occasion, and later presided over a party of about forty at a substantial meat tea. There were votes of thanks to the Vicar, the visitors, the local company, etc., heartily accorded and suitably responded to; and it was generally accepted that a very pleasant and successful 'Great Ringing Day' had marked the 293th anniversary.

A SUFFOLK EXCURSION.

On Monday, June 27th, the Debenham company left that village on pleasure bent, and proceeded by motor-bus to the Churches of Worlingworth, Stradbroke and Fressingfield, ringing touches of Bob Major, Double Norwich and Stedman Triples at these towers. Diss was reached about noon, and here a disappointment awaited the party, for the bells could not be rung owing to a death near the church. The visitors were able, however, to dispose of a dinner provided by the host of the King's Head Hotel, and were joined at that function by Mr. John Souter, one of the local stalwarts, who afterwards accompanied them to the neighbouring village of Palgrave, where some short touches were rung as a kind of solace for the contretemps at Diss. Leaving Mr. Souter at this point, an 18 mile run took the band to Bury St. Edmunds. The Cathedral Church of St. James's, with its fine ring of ten, was visited first, and the three-lead system of Treble Ten had to be adopted to enable all to have a pull before tea, which latter item was provided at the Rose and Crown Inn. Needless to say, full justice was done to this part of the programme, and thus refreshed, the ringers were ready for the fine peal of eight at the Church of St. Mary. Here some good touches of Double Norwich and Stedman Triples were brought round. Bury was left at 7 p.m., and Stowmarket reached at 8.15, where the bells were kept going until 9.30, to the tune of Bob Major, Double Norwich, Superlative and Stedman. This gave everyone a chance to have a pull, and as the party numbered eighteen in all, the time passed very quickly. A ten-mile run landed the company safely home, about 11 o'clock.

The ringers wish to thank the various clergy for the use of the bells, also the local ringers who so kindly met them and helped to make the outing such a success.

NAMED METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In reference to the notice of Minor Methods Tug and named, which appeared in your issue of June 24th, I wish to draw attention to No. 29 Treble Bob on June 7th last, and named Norton-le-Moors; and I point out that the numbers under the head 'Treble Bob' do not go beyond 24.—Yours truly,

CYRIL W. O. JENKYN.

Hon. Librarian, Central Council.

Dear Sir,—In your issue of June 24th, re naming Six Bell Methods, when I consulted my copy of these I find that they only give 24 Treble Bob Methods in the book, but having had some methods which were added to the collection (but I think never published) given to me several years back, I should like to know if the one No. 29 is the same as I have by me.

There have also been some 3rd and 4th's Place Delight Methods added, and as I mentioned before, it would be far the best to give a lead of these methods when naming them in your valuable paper.—
Yours truly,
F. BLOOD.

DEATH OF MR. EDWARD SCHOFIELD.

The death took place on Friday, June 24th, of Mr. Edward Schofield, of Rochdale, who was a very capable and energetic ringer in the Rochdale branch of the Lancashire Association. Mr. Schofield had been ill for about 28 weeks, and his death is a great loss to the association.

The funeral took place on Wednesday, June 23th, at the Rochdale Cemetery, and was attended by ringers from Oldham, Middleton, Heywood, Rochdale and Milnrow. After the last solemn rites had been performed, J. Milton, W. Crabtree, H. Devonport (Todmorden) and D. Renshaw (Middleton) rang a course of Grandsire Triples over the grave.

In the evening, eight of the ringers rang a touch of 1440 of Plain Bob Major, with the bells muffled at the Church of St. James, Milnrow, where the deceased had been a ringer for a great many years: W. Crabtree, Todmorden, 1; Jno. Fitton, Milnrow, 2; G. Staff, Milnrow, 3; F. Fielding, Todmorden, 4; J. C. Bennett, Milnrow, 5; J. Nash, Todmorden, 6; Jno. H. C. Massev, Milnrow, 7; H. Devonport, Todmorden, 8. The bells were also half-muffled on Sunday, both for morning and evening service, as a token of respect.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The new bells to be erected at Winchester Cathedral as a war memorial to the fallen members of the Winchester Guild, and which will increase the ring from ten to the first peal of twelve in the diocese, will be dedicated in the Choir of the Cathedral on Saturday, July 16th.

Congratulations to Mr. Harold J. Poole, of St. Martin's Society, Leicester, who by the peal of Superlative rung at Thurecaston on July 2nd, completes his first year's effort at peal ringing. His successes amount to 18 peals, and consist of 2 Stedman Triples, 3 Stedman Caters, 1 Double Norwich Major, 1 Treble Ten, 5 each of Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Major, 1 Cambridge Surprise Royal. He is still some months short of his 19th birthday, and we imagine that this must be a record for the Midland Counties Association.

We are asked to state that the peal of Minor at Wenhaston, published last week, comprised two 720's each of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, and three 720's of Plain Bob, and not one 720 each of Oxford and Kent and three of Plain, as published.

The spiral staircase is like a whispering gallery, and here is a 'waveless' from the lips of bell ringers that travelled down the old stone newell at Beaconsfield:—

Leicestershire is to be the county patronised by the Essex men (prominent in the Middlesex C.A. Records) for their annual ringing tour.

North Devonshire has been selected as the ground for their annual ringing tour by members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild in mid-September.

The Cambridge Varsity tour takes place a week earlier, and the Editor has been requested to have a supplement ready so that a full report of the process for raising 'blisters' can be published.

A correspondent asks us if we can tell him who is the ringers' patron saint? We can't. There may or may not be one. We have never heard. Perhaps the Central Council will appoint a committee to investigate.

There are two, among others, who should have a good claim to the distinction—St. Dunstan, whose skill as a smith is familiar to students of ecclesiastical archaeology, and who is known to have been instrumental in hanging if not in casting bells, and who, at Canterbury, gave careful directions for their correct use; and St. Ethelwold, Bishop of Winchester, 963-984, who cast bells for Abingdon Abbey.

Perhaps, however, one or other of these holy men, who were canonised after death, could more fittingly be appropriated as the patron saint of the Bell Founders. But we are not well versed in mythical lore, so we give it up.

The bells at Leesfield being unringable, the meeting of the Rochdale Branch of the Lancashire Association, arranged for to-morrow at that tower, will be held instead at Rochdale Parish Church.

A hundred and four years ago to-day—on July 8th, 1817, James Barham, that Kent worthy whose zeal and enthusiasm for ringing has never been surpassed, rang his last peal, a peal of Treble Bob at Leeds, his native place, and the scene of so many of his great performances. He was at the time 91 years old, and we doubt if any ringer has ever taken part in a peal at a more advanced age.

James Barham died in the following January, and was buried in Leeds Churchyard beneath the sound of the bells he loved so well. From 1744 to 1817 he rang 115 peals, and conducted most of them, including the 40,320 of Bob Major in 27 hours at Leeds Church, and in which it is said 13 men took part. This peal was rung on April 7th and 8th, 1761. James Barham's memory is one that should be ever kept green, for his record was a marvellous one for those days.

On July 9th, 1824, John Pennington died. He was the last of a family of founders of that name who carried on their craft at Stoke Climsland in Cornwall, and many of the bells from this foundry were to be found in that county and in the adjoining county of Devon. It originated in an establishment at Exeter, which from 1601 to 1624 was in the hands of Thomas and John Buiridan. At the latter date it passed into the hands of the Penningtons, who set up a branch establishment at Bodmin in 1687.

Later there were branches at Lezant, carried on by FitzAnthony Pennington from 1756 to 1768, and Stoke Climsland, where the bells of the Parish Church were cast by John Pennington in 1771. The last of the line was also John Pennington, and with his death in 1824, the foundry, we believe, came to an end.

TAMWORTH RINGER'S DEATH.

The Tamworth (Staffs) band have lost, by death, a much-respected member, in the person of Mr. F. Preston, and as a last token of respect a half-muffled quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung at St. Edith's Church on Friday last, by: A. Chaplin 1, G. Peers 2, W. Chapman 3, A. Marks 4, H. Chapman 5, R. Brindley (conductor) 6, G. Chaplin 7, C. Pratt, junr. (first quarter), 8.

RINGERS FROM THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

A HOPE FOR THE FUTURE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The effort which is being made to get more clergy to take an active interest in ringing—a desirable point made by the Master of the College Youths at their last dinner—leads me to make a suggestion. I think our only hope lies in the rising generation; therefore, I would suggest that the various Guilds and Associations should arrange to send deputations to the headmasters of the Public Schools and University and Training Colleges in their several areas to point out the excellent training, intellectually and physically, to be obtained by the practice of change ringing with handbells as well as with tower bells, and offer the gratuitous services of qualified instructors for any who desired to enter the art. I believe many of the young fellows would take it up as ardently as they do their field sports, billiards, etc., once their interest was aroused. Already there are University Guilds at Oxford and Cambridge (and why not London and Durham?) but at the University stage many of the men are too much immersed in preparation for their final examinations to give much time to other matters, whereas in the earlier days of their education such training as change ringing gives would be highly beneficial.

As I write this my mind turns to Winchester College, which has in the tower of its chapel a peal of six bells which, I believe, are practically unringable through disuse, and close by there is the beautiful Cathedral peal of ten shortly to be increased to twelve. I feel sure that amongst the large number of students in that College (and also in the training college in the same city), especially those who are destined for service in the church or the teaching profession, there are many who would only be too delighted to receive instruction and become proficient change ringers if the matter were brought to their notice, and encouragement given by their headmasters. The same applies to every other college in the country.—Thanking you in anticipation, yours faithfully,

F. W.

LADY RINGER'S WEDDING.

The marriage took place at the Parish Church, Portishead, on Friday last, of Mr. William Edwards, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Edwards, of Leyton, Essex, and Miss Ellen Elizabeth (Nellie) Gillingham, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gillingham, of Portishead.

The event is of much interest to ringers, for Miss Gillingham has been one of the pioneers among lady ringers. Under the tuition of her father, she, and others, became regular service ringers at Portishead, and made excellent progress with change ringing. In 1912 she took part in the first ladies' peal, which was rung at Christ Church, Cubitt Town, and as the outcome of which the Ladies' Guild was formed. Miss Gillingham was one of the original members of the Guild, and acted as the first secretary of the Western District. In 1918 she was honoured by being elected as the first lady honorary member of the Central Council. She has taken part in several peals, including the first by an entirely local band of ladies, which was rung in her own tower at Portishead, and was almost as memorable a performance as the Cubitt Town peal.

The congratulations and good wishes of the Exercise will go out to the bride and bridegroom.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. W. Jukes, assisted by the Rev. H. S. Briggs. The ringers gathered in full force, and the bells rang out merrily. Eight lady members rang a touch of 168 Grandire Triples: Miss D. Willett 1, Miss Olive Stokes 2, Miss Stokes 3, Miss Crocker 4, Miss Jukes 5, Mrs. Briggs 6, Miss Hole (cond.) 8.

Amongst the numerous presents were an electro-plated tea service and tray from the Portishead ringers; a case of plated tea knives from the Ladies' Guild; and a similar case from the Medical Officer and staff of the Red Cross Hospital, where Miss Gillingham worked throughout the war. Other gifts from the Sunday School scholars and others showed the wide esteem in which she is held.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A district meeting of the Hertford County Association was held at St. Albans on Saturday, June 25th, when a fair number of ringers turned up from various towers. St. Peter's bells were available from 3 to 5 p.m., and the fine ring of ten were kept going during that period. The business meeting was held in the tower before tea, Mr. G. W. Cartmel (general hon. secretary of the association) being voted to the chair.—One new member was elected, and it was decided to hold the next meeting at Hatfield, in August. (Since this decision was come to it has been decided to hold this meeting on Saturday, July 23rd.)

A vote of thanks for the use of the bells and to Mr. Cartmel for acting as chairman was passed.

After tea, the Abbey tower was visited, and ringing was indulged in, methods up to Superlative and Cambridge being rung.

MR. F. DENCH'S PEAL OF CAMBRIDGE.

A FALSE COMPOSITION.

The composition of the peal of Cambridge Major which was rung twenty years ago, and as published for the first time last week, turns out to be false.

Mr. J. W. Parker, of Sunderland, has found this out, and writes:

It is a matter for regret that the 5024 Cambridge Surprise Major, by Mr. F. Dench, which you publish this week, is false, as the figures below show:—

BELL REPAIR FUNDS.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I read your leading article in last week's issue of 'The Ringing World' with great interest, as to forming bell repair funds. You will remember I suggested some months ago that a Sunday should be set apart once in every year in all Protestant churches for collecting funds for such an object, each county or diocese to have its own separate fund.

I think money collected in this way would be much easier got than stumping one's parish for funds for repair of the bells of the church when needed.

I would further suggest that some kind of recognition should be made of ringers for their services during the year. There are several ways in which it could be done without resorting to hard cash, and I think it would encourage better attendance in the belfries, and help to create a better feeling amongst ringers, which does not always exist in some belfries. Unity should be shown as much in the belfry as in the church. I know of churches where as much as £30 a year is paid to the ringers for their services during the year. Some ringers have a long way to go to their belfry to ring, which means expense in these days. There is an old saying that there's no flavour in nothing.—Yours faithfully,

ARTHUR LORKIN.

'GANNY GUNTER.'To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—If the ringers of the village where the Ganny Gunter variation of Double Norwich was attempted, see the opinion of the experts in 'The Ringing World,' they will not be much enlightened. There is not much explanation, and if the villagers do not realise what underlies the statement, 'where they call it Treble Bob,' they may search the elementary text books in vain for a description of Ganny Gunter. When they try to recognise G.G. in a peal of Kent, how they will be puzzled to know why 3rd's and 4th's are made so often, and to find names for the many alterations in the method. Were the expert there he would probably say a lead of Kent consists of six leads of Ganny Gunter and two divisions of Forward. It will be remembered that the conductor 'discovered' it to be a method, and that the expert did explain, making no statement to the effect that it is 'new.'

My own opinion is that the expert knew the laws which govern method construction, and that his explanation was correct. Ganny Gunter is a regular method in which the Treble has a particular 'dwarf' hunt, which is not Treble Bob, and has a bob made at the parting of the leads, which is the only variation from the method necessary for a peal.

It must be remembered that a lead of Bob Major is a course of Original, yet a peal of the former is not also one of Original.—Yours sincerely, Sunderland.

LEEDS & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The usual monthly meeting of the Leeds and District Amalgamated Society was held on Saturday, June 25th, in delightful weather, at the beautiful village of Tong. There was only a meagre attendance, perhaps owing to the counter-attraction at Kirkburton, where the eight-bell contest for the Halifax and District Society was in progress. A few friends from Thornhill were present, accompanied by a former member of the local company, Mr. H. Oddv. The bells were rung to touches of Oxford and Violet Treble Bob in the evening. Members from Armsley rang touches of Stedman Triples on handbells, much to the delight of the members present.

NETTLEHAM, LINCOLN.—At All Saints' Church, on Saturday, 18th, June, in 45 mins., a quarter-peal of Plain Bob Minor (1,260 changes): L. Snell 1, J. S. Betts (conductor) 2, H. Marcon 3, N. Roundturner 4, H. L. Pask 5, H. W. Lloyd 6.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

SPLENDID GATHERING AT BEACONSFIELD.

On Saturday week a most successful gathering of the East Berks and South Bucks Branches of the Oxford Diocesan Guild took place at Beaconsfield, Bucks, and was attended by about 120 ringers, constituting a record for the branch. The bells were set going about three o'clock, and from that time onwards ringers came along in numbers. One strong party from Windsor arrived, with their wives, by motor-car, and made quite a holiday of the event. Four hon. secretaries were amongst the performers, representing the counties of Oxford, Surrey, London, Buckinghamshire and Berkshire.

A short service was held in St. Mary's Parish Church, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. A. S. Commeline), assisted by the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Guild) and the Rev. E. J. Teesdale. The form of service used was from the Manual and Oxford Guild. The hymns used were from the same book, compiled for use at such gatherings, and were sung with great heartiness by the unusually large male congregation. Miss D. M. Jackman officiated at the organ, and her playing was very much enjoyed. The Rev. E. J. Teesdale gave the address, taking for his text, 'He that sounded the trumpet was by me' (Nehemiah iv. 18). In the course of his remarks, the preacher urged those who were engaged in the art of Church bell ringing to consider and realise they were doing work for God in calling people together to worship in His house. It was their duty to take part in the service of the Church. Each individual should recognise his or her responsibility. To accomplish a performance in the art of bell ringing needed united effort, which was good for the development of such qualities as attention, observance, and reverence, and as Churchworkers he appealed to them to continue their good work and to realise in the words of the text, 'He that ringeth the bell was by me.'

A collection was taken on behalf of the Restoration of Bells Fund for Bledlow Church during the singing of the hymn, 'Unchanging God, who liveth.' It is interesting to note that this hymn was composed and set to music by two clergymen who were resident in the county at the time, and that Farnham Royal was its birthplace, the authors being the Revs. Wilder and Matthews.

Lady Burnham presided over the tea, which was kindly provided by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bennett, and served in the Old Rectory, which is a unique 14th century specimen of half-timbered work. The towers represented included Wycombe (2), Marlow, Boyne Hill, Bray, Cookham, Burnham, Taplow, Fulmer, Slough, Stoke Poges, Chalfont, Farnham Royal, Old Windsor, Windsor, St. George's Tower and Parish Church, Missenden, Amersham, Hughenden, Bledlow and Beaconsfield. There were also visiting ringers from Egham, Staines, Camberley, Reading, Caversham, Ealing, Berkhamstead, Hillingdon and Tottenham. Tea over, a short but most enjoyable entertainment was given by Mrs. Halford (recitations and sketches), Miss Young (violin solo), Miss Jackman (pianoforte solo), Miss Young (cello solo). A course of Grandsire Caters on handbells was rung by Messrs. Welling, Mayne, Barker, Hibbert and Jenkyn, and tunes by Mr. Martin and his two boys.

At the close of the programme, the Hon. Secretary (Mr. W. H. Fussell) said he had received messages from Canon Blackie, the Bishop of Buckingham, and Sir William and Lady Carter, of Windsor, regretting their inability to be present, other important duties keeping them away. Their president, he added, had been made Bishop of the county, and their vice-president installed as Archdeacon of Lincoln. The committee were waiting to hear of further raids on the patrons of the branch by the Church at large.

It was then announced that the collection in church amounted to nearly £2, and Viscountess Burnham declared her pleasure, as she was not in church, to add a guinea to the fund.—The Vicar of Bledlow expressed his thanks for the kindness shown in contributing to the fund.

Mr. Bennett, on behalf of the company, thanked Lady Burnham for presiding. Her presence had, he felt sure, given them much pleasure.—The Master of the Guild said they ought not to separate without thanking Mr. and Mrs. Bennett for the entertainment that day.—Mr. Bennett briefly responded.

Further use was then made of the tower bells, touches of London Surprise, Cambridge Surprise, Superlative Surprise, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Stedman, and Grandsire being rung till 9 p.m., thus ending one of the pleasantest gatherings in the annals of the Branch.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

A monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Upavon on June 4th, and was attended by ringers from Melksham, Devizes (St. John's and St. Mary's), Westbury, Warminster, Upavon and Beeching-stoke. An excellent tea was provided in the Parish Room, and during the afternoon and evening some very good touches of Grandsire Triples and Bob Doubles were rung.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

MEETING AT ST. ANDREW'S, HOLBORN.

Upwards of 40 members of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild took advantage of the meeting of the North and East District on Saturday, June 25th, to renew or make acquaintance with the lovely peal of bells hanging in the tower of St. Andrew's, Holborn, which have recently been restored by the Whitechapel Foundry. Soon after the advertised time, the bells were set going to Stedman Triples, and Double Norwich, Cambridge Surprise, Kent Treble Bob, London and Bristol followed in quick succession, the bells being heard to great advantage in a well-struck course in the latter method, which charmed all listeners, both inside and outside the tower.

At the service, the Rector (the Rev. E. C. Bedford) addressed the members, giving the association a hearty welcome. A hymn, composed by the Rector himself, was sung, and immediately following the service there was a short organ recital, the splendid tones of the organ reminding one of the beautiful tones of the bells heard just previously.

After tea, which was served in the Court House adjoining, a short business meeting was held. The Rector presided, and one new member was elected.

The Hon. Secretary was empowered to obtain from the Hon. Librarian of the Central Council a supply of the Council's publications for sale amongst the members.—The Hon. Secretary said he would be glad to hear from members requiring copies.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Rev. E. C. Bedford for his address at the service, for the use of the bells, and for presiding; also to Mr. J. Rayner, the towerkeeper, for the excellent arrangements made; to the organist, whose rendering of two beautiful pieces of music was much appreciated; and to the caretakers for arranging tea.

The Rector very suitably replied, on behalf of himself and all concerned in the vote of thanks, expressing his great pleasure at meeting the association, and stating that the society would always be made welcome at St. Andrew's, Holborn.

Immediately prior to the business meeting, a 'bob' course of Stedman Cinques was rung on handbells, whilst afterwards another visit was made to the tower, until 9 o'clock came all too soon for many who were so busy ringing Stedman, Bristol, etc., that they almost forgot the fight of time.

The hymn written by the Rector, which was sung at the service, was that composed specially for the re-dedication of the bells in April last:—

St. Andrew's Bells once more
Be heard by all around,
Peal out your joyful sound.
Ring out, glad bells and may your voice,
Lift hearts to God and bid rejoice.
When comes the Lord's own day,
And hushed are feet and wheels,
May Christian folk obey
Your voice's loud appeals,
Ring out, sweet bells each Sabbath day,
And call the folk to praise and pray!
If death his summons bring,
And call some soul away,
Then muffled you will ring
And solemn farewell say,
Sound out, ye bells and as ye toll
Call men to pray for passing soul.
When man and woman wed
And here God's blessing seek Upon each joyful head
Your benediction speak
Ring out, glad bells, and fill the air
With blessings on the happy pair!
Our Sovereign's birthday note
And public holiday
Then let each full voiced throat
Give out bright melody
St. Andrew's bells your voices ring
And cry aloud, God save the King!
As move the clock hands slow,
Let hour and quarters chime.
The busy folk below
To warn of passing time,
Sound out, sweet bells, by day and night,
And bid men work or rest aright.

FRODSHAM, CHESHIRE.—On June 17th, 720 Cambridge Surprise Minor: H. Bibby 1, J. E. Bibby 2, J. H. Randles 3, C. Radon 4, F. Bibby 5, W. Bibby (conductor) 6. First 720 in the method of ringers of treble, 3rd and 5th.

A Page for Sunday Service Ringers.

We have been asked if we can ascertain who is the oldest ringer now actively and regularly taking part in Sunday Service ringing. Mr. Ted Horrex, who is ringing twice every Sunday at St. Paul's Cathedral, and now is in his 84th year, is certainly one of the oldest, but in this wonderful art of ours, it would not surprise us to hear of some other 'youth' who can give the St. Paul's veteran years, and a beating.

We put up tablets in our towers to record our peals, why should we not have tablets recording long and faithful service to the church by those who ring on Sundays, with, say, a qualifying period of five or ten years? Such a record would be a recognition of services freely given, an incentive to ringers yet to come, and of interest in the future.

Visitors to St. Paul's Cathedral, by the way, will have noticed with interest that there is a memorial marble in the belfry recording the name and age and the year of the death of each past member of the Cathedral Society. We do not recollect having seen such a record in any other tower.

SOCIETY FOR THE ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

A capital gathering of members and friends assembled at Lichfield on Saturday, June 18th, the occasion being the annual meeting, when the affiliated towers in the Archdeaconry were well represented. Mr. F. Wilford, who had had a non-stop run from Northampton by motor-cycle, was also present.

The bells at the Cathedral (a fine ring of ten), St. Mary's (eight) and St. Michael's (six) were made good use of during the afternoon and evening. Evensong at the Cathedral was well attended. A capital tea was provided at the cafe, after which the general meeting was held. Mr. W. W. Worthington was unanimously voted to the chair. — Apologies for non-attendance were received from Mr. H. Mason, Mr. Wm. Griffin (through bereavement), and Mr. G. Hughes. The report and balance sheet were read and passed. The committee, in their report, stated: 'During the past year 25 new members have been admitted to the society. The quarterly meetings have been well attended. At Tamworth, the Vicar (the Rev. H. Kosher) presented each member present with a card as a memento, on which was a hymn and prayer for bell ringers which he had had printed. The churchwardens very kindly entertained the society to tea. At the Willenhall meeting in January, the society was again most hospitably entertained, this time by the kindness of the local band. The committee were glad to know that the Vicar of Willenhall (the Rev. T. H. P. Hyatt), who was so seriously ill at the time, has been restored to health. The attendance at Sedzley was over 50—quite a good number for a quarterly meeting. During the year, 22 peals have been rung, as follows: Grandsire Doubles, 1; Grandsire Triples, 6; Grandsire Caters, 1; Stedman Triples, 6; Stedman Cinques, 3; Bob Major, 3; Kent Treble Bob Royal, 2; total, 22. In 1919, the annual report was not printed owing to the tremendous cost. Last year we had a report—covering the two years—printed. The result of this was to reduce our balance in hand by more than £12, in spite of the strictest economy in other directions. The committee have very carefully considered the matter, and have come to the conclusion that this year again we ought to do without and save up for a two year's report next year. The rise in the annual subscription to 1s. 6d. did not come into effect till the year beginning to-day, and this will only bring in about £5 extra.

The subscriptions to the Roland Cartwright Memorial Fund came to about £35. We are greatly indebted to Mr. Dawkins, one of his late colleagues in the L. and N.W.R., for the result of his efforts in collecting amongst Mr. Cartwright's many friends on the railway. A Dartmoor granite cross has been ordered from Mr. H. Gough, of Wolverhampton, and we hope it will be erected in Wombourne Churchyard before very long. The Vicar of Wombourne (the Rev. H. L. Langley) has very kindly remitted the fees due to him for its erection.

It was resolved that the report should not be printed on account of the high cost.

The officers were re-elected, with the exception of Mr. E. F. Mitchell, auditor, who resigned, Mr. E. J. Tyler being appointed to the vacancy.

The Hon. Lay Secretary reported having attended the Central Council meeting. Mention having been made of the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn's motion, re 'Authority to give advice on matters concerning Church Bells,' etc., it was thought advisable, at least for the present, not to move in the matter.

The forthcoming meetings were arranged as follows: Brewood, September; Stafford, January; Pelsall, April; and the annual at Lichfield, in June.

Mr. J. Perry asked if the funds would allow assistance being given to defray the cost of repairing the church spire at Brewood. After a little discussion it was agreed that collecting sheets should be sent to all affiliated towers. The chairman kindly offered a guinea to help the project.

A vote of thanks to the chairman for presiding brought the meeting to a close.

BADLY VENTILATED TOWERS.

The tropical weather which we have been experiencing for such an unusually long spell has brought home to ringers in a good many towers the insufficiency of the ventilation of their ringing chambers. Ventilation of the ringing room is, unfortunately, about one of the last things that church architects seem to give their attention to, and yet it is one of the most important, for it is in the belfry that the most vigorous of all church duties have to be performed. In probably two out of every three towers the ventilation is bad, and it is generally due to the fact that the matter was never properly studied when the building was erected. Usually the windows are either too small effectively to let in the fresh air, or are made to open in such a position that except on suffocating days, such as the recent weather has produced, they cannot be opened without creating a draught which may result in a chill for any ringer standing near. Some belfries are even worse, and do not possess any window at all that will open, while some few have not even got a window. In cases like these last, the church authorities could not well complain if the ringers declined to exercise their functions in such ill-arranged chambers, and the least that should be done is to provide proper ventilation for those whose duty it is to ring the bells.

In the majority of cases where ventilation is deficient, it is probable that the church authorities, if properly approached, would listen to any reasonable suggestion, although it must be admitted that there is great reluctance to touch anything that would be considered to interfere with the architectural design of the building. We could name a number of towers where the only means of admitting fresh air to the ringing chamber is by keeping the stairway door open—which usually means a deafening intrusion of the sound of the bells, or by lifting the trap door in the centre of the floor. Both these methods are usually insufficient, but ringers are long-suffering creatures and generally seem content to take anything that is offered to them in the way of inadequate arrangements without protest. Because the past generations of ringers in a tower have uncomplainingly put up with the inconvenience and discomfort of a badly ventilated ringing chamber, it does not follow that the present and future generations need submit to similar conditions, and this is one direction in the way of domestic reform in which ringers can set about improving their belfries where there is need for it. Where windows are a fair height from the floor, it is probably best to have the upper part of the lights to open inwards in hopper form. Where this is not possible, hopper ventilators of, say, a foot square, fixed in at least two opposite walls a few inches below the ceiling, are perhaps the next best thing.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Northern Division of the Essex Association was held at Earls Colne, on Saturday, June 26th. A short service was held in the Parish Church, and the Rev. A. Hammond gave an excellent address. The lesson was read by the Master of the Association (Mr. C. H. Howard). Tea and meeting followed at the Lion Inn.—Mr. E. F. Cooper, District Master, presided, supported by Messrs. B. Redgwell, district secretary; W. H. Dyson (Braintree), A. Symonds (Lavenham), W. Elliott (Kelsvedon), and about 40 members, including the local band.—The Vicar was thanked by the Master for his address, and the choir and organist for their services.—Fearing was chosen as the next place for meeting. Some excellent touches were brought round in the standard methods.

Earls Colne possesses a musical ring of eight in excellent going order, which are regularly rung for matins and evensong every Sunday by the local band, who are accomplished Surprise ringers.

NEW BELLS IN BRECONSHIRE.

MUNIFICENT MEMORIAL GIFT BY NONCONFORMIST'S FAMILY.

The old and historic Parish Church of St. Meugant's, Llanfagan, four miles distant from the county town of Brecon, now possesses a new peal of eight bells, of which any town or city might be justly proud. The whole cost of the bells, as well as the restoration, pointing, and raising by several feet of the tower, has been defrayed by the family of the late Mr. David Morgan, a well-known and respected Cardiff Nonconformist, founder, and until his death, head of the famous firm of drapers, David Morgan, Ltd., of that city, and a native of Llanfagan. The tower formerly possessed only four bells of various dates, which, on inspection, were immediately consigned to the melting-pot. The firm entrusted with the work, Messrs. John Taylor and Co, Loughborough, are to be congratulated on the excellence and quality of their work, in turning out such a magnificent and musical peal, as that which now hangs in the tower, and which will prove a source of great attraction to ringers from all parts. The bells (with a tenor weighing 12cwt. 1qr. 19lb.) are hung in a rigid iron frame, on steel girders, and the fittings are of the very latest pattern throughout, including patent ball bearings—a great improvement on the old plan. A sound-board has also been erected at the top of the tower to reduce the sound of the bells to a minimum, and an up-to-date chiming apparatus installed in the ringers' room. The bells are a splendid acquisition to the district, where there are so many 4, 5 and 6 bell towers. They are also situated in an ideal place for peal ringing, for there are no houses in the immediate vicinity.

The dedication was expected to have taken place in the last week in June, but owing to the outside pointing of the tower not being quite completed, it has been provisionally fixed for the second week in August, when the Bishop of Swansea is expected to officiate, and Brecon St. Mary's ringers to ring the opening touches.

At the request of the Rector, the Rev. T. A. Davies, the Brecon ringers visited the parish on Sunday, June 26th, for a few preliminary touches, to enable himself and his parishioners to hear the bells rung for the first time. The parish is a large, but very scattered one, the church situated about half-way up the side of a hill, with a fine view of the Usk Valley, the hamlet of Pencelly, and a few farms nestling at the foot. Although the Rector had tried to keep the visit 'dark,' the juvenile element of the parish soon noised it about the place, that 'some men had come to ring their bells,' with the result that by the time the visitors had got possession of the tower they found themselves besieged in the ringing room, and, having already walked four miles in a 'broiling sun, found it extremely difficult to ring at all.

The Rector having kindly provided tea, which was thoroughly enjoyed, a fresh start was made, and some good ringing accomplished, consisting of 504 and 420 Stedman Triples, 630 Grandsire Triples, etc., the following taking part: W. Hargest, G. Hardwick, R. Kinsey, E. Matthews, A. Matthews, C. Powell, W. Evans (conductor), S. Brooks. Later some twin and odd Bob touches of Stedman Triples, mostly taken from 'The Ringing World' Sunday Service pages, were rung, with W. Griffiths on the tenor, conducted by A. Matthews and W. Hargest respectively. By the time ringing ceased, visitors had arrived from adjoining parishes, as they said, attracted by the music, and expressive of the great pleasure it gave them to hear the bells rung. The ringers also were delighted with the tone and 'go' of the bells, the quality and workmanship of which reflects great credit on the founders.

The inscriptions of the four old bells have been reproduced on the recast 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th bells, and on the others the inscriptions are in the Welsh language.

Treble.—Gobaith-y-cyflawn fydd llanwenydd.

LANCASHIRE SURPRISE MAJOR.

THE FIRST PEAL.

Last week we recorded the first peal in the new Surprise method, published by Mr. T. Law, of Weston Favell, Northants, on March 3rd, 1916. The peal was rung at Oswaldtwistle, Lancs, and the band named it Lancashire Surprise. It is a method on the Bristol principle, and the Oswaldtwistle band are inclined to think the method is more intricate to ring than London. A study of it will go a long way to support this contention, as it seems to be more tricky than Bristol itself, which is classed almost with London, being given 48 points, compared with London's 50. The Oswaldtwistle band are to be congratulated on scoring the first peal.

With regard to the name of the method, the company would like to ask the Methods Committee if it be advisable to give it the name of Lancashire, as No. 22 in the Council's Collection of Surprise Minor Methods, which is of different construction, is already called 'Lancashire.' For those who may be further interested in the method and who may not have seen it when originally published, we give a lead of it below, and also the peal.

WARNHAM RINGERS' LOSS.

It is with a feeling of deep regret and sorrow that the Warnham (Sussex) ringers announce the death of their Vicar, the Rev. H. Howcott, which took place on Wednesday, June 29th. Beloved and esteemed by his parishioners, the loss will be severely felt, for with a keen enthusiasm he entered into everything conducive to the welfare, happiness and enjoyment of his people. His kindly interest in ringing will be well remembered by many who have had the pleasure of visiting the Warnham tower, where they were always heartily welcome.

The funeral took place on Saturday, July 2nd, when practically the whole population, of all denominations, met together to pay their last tribute of respect.

At the close of the service, a touch was rung with the bells deeply muffled, and on Sunday, for morning and evening service, they were rung half-muffled.

The deceased Vicar had held the incumbency for 39 years, and ringers have lost a true and loyal friend, who always had their interests at heart.

HINTS FOR BEGINNERS.

GRANDSIRE DOUBLES.—'TIPS' ON DOUBLE NORWICH.
THE SINGLE IN STEDMAN DOUBLES.

Up to the present I have been dealing mainly with the Plain Bob method on six bells, in which all the bells are used, one—the treble—having a plain hunting course and the other five sharing in the 'work' of the method, that is, the dodging and place making. I dealt first with this because, broadly, it is the foundation of method ringing. I know that there are some who may argue otherwise, but for practical purposes I think I may claim to be right, at any rate for an even number of bells, for there was little to be gained by beginning on so small a number as four.

I want, however, now to turn to method ringing on an odd number of bells, which enables those beginners who have to confine their efforts to rings of five to make a start, and which has certain advantages even where there are six bells. One of the difficulties which some beginners experience, when they attempt changes in a method in which all the bells take part, is that of 'leading' with precision, because they are not always able to find the last bell to lead from. In Doubles, which is the name given to five-bell ringing—because the rows are mainly two-pair changes—there is, when practised on the front five of a ring of six, the regular beat of the tenor behind, which not only helps to keep the bells in a good compass, but provides the beginner with a fixed bell from which to lead.

The Grandsire method, which is one of the oldest of all methods, is very like Plain Bob in its construction, except that, instead of having one bell (the treble) in the hunt, it has two bells (the treble and one other). This, at every lead end, when the bells would otherwise repeat unless a place were made (as 2nd's in Plain Bob) causes the place to be pushed one step further out and third's is made instead of second's. These two hunt bells also cause the place

12345 to be made, not during the whole pull at lead by the treble,

21354 but at the back-stroke of the treble's lead and the hand-

23145 stroke lead of the other hunt bell, which, in the plain course,

32415 is the 2nd. In Plain Bob we saw that the making of the place

34251 in 2nd's caused all the other bells to dodge in pairs when the 43521 treble led. In Grandsire, the 3rd's place being a half-pull 45312 later, causes the dodging also to come a half-pull later. An-

54132 other point to bear in mind is that the whole pulls behind are

51423 at back stroke and hand stroke, instead of at hand and back,

15243 as in Bob Minor.

12534 I have explained these differences, not to confuse my readers, but in order to assist them in stepping from the even to the odd bell method, because I want to show how nearly they are one and the same thing and not the totally different methods which some ringers believe them to be.

On account of the third's place being a half pull later than the 2nd's in Plain Bob, Grandsire has to begin with the making of the 3rd's place in the first change, and the 3rd, which is, of course, called upon to do this, goes down to lead. This also causes the two other bells to begin their work with a dodge, the 4th going one step into 5th's and coming down to lead after the 3rd, and the 5th stepping down into 4th's before lying the whole pull behind. Thereafter the bells perform the plain hunting course until the treble again comes to lead, when the next bell in the cycle makes 3rd's. As the treble and 2nd are both plain hunt bells, there are only three left to do the 'work' of the course, and consequently the plain course only runs to three leads, or 30 changes. The work may be learnt by means of a table, just as was the case in the Minor method, and it is as follows:—

Pass treble in 3—4 dodge in 4—5 down.

Pass treble in 2—3 dodge in 4—5 up.

Pass treble in 1—2 make 3rd's and lead again.

In making 3rd's it should be observed that the first blow (which is a back stroke) is over the bell 'in the hunt'—as that bell is called which is doing a similar work to the treble—and the second (at hand stroke) is over the treble itself. The bells behind also have a guide, for the last blow in 4—5 down by the bell which is dodging that way is also over the treble.

The 'bob' in Grandsire has the effect of changing the bell 'in the hunt.' This is done by the making of an additional 3rd's place, immediately in front of the one which occurs in the plain course. The figures at the side show how this operates. The bell which 45312 passes the treble in 2—3 immediately makes one more blow in

51423 3rd's and goes back to lead, taking the treble off and becoming 15432 the new bell in the hunt. This extra place causes an extra

14523 dodge behind (the two being termed a 'double-dodge'), so that

41532 the bell which dodges up, has to step back twice into 4th's

45123 before lying the whole pull behind and the bell dodging down steps back twice into 5th's after lying the whole pull and before going to lead. This bell which dodges down is the bell that, before the bob, was the bell in the hunt and in dodging in 4—5 down is said to dodge out of the hunt. As a guide to the dodging the same rule applies—the last blow in 4th's is over the treble. Put into table form we have the 'bob' work as follows:—

Pass treble in 4—5, double-dodge in 4—5 down.

Pass treble in 3—4, double-dodge in 4—5 up.

Pass treble in 2—3, make 3rd's and go into hunt.

Pass treble in 1—2, make 3rd's and lead again.

It will be seen that the work of the bell passing the treble in 1—2 is not affected by the bob, but the other three are; one point to notice being that the bell which would have dodged in 4—5 down had there been no bob, double dodges in 4—5 up, thus cutting out the 4—5 down work altogether.

Here again I would advise my readers to examine the method by figuring it out—it is the best first step to grasping what has got to be done in the tower. Construct the plain course from the lead which I have given and then write out the bob work. If you want to prick out a short touch, make a bob in the first and second leads, and the bells will come round. If you want a longer one put a bob at each alternate lead, and you will get half the possible changes on five bells, viz., 60. In the next article I will show how to obtain the extent of the changes on five, and have something to say on how to call these 120's.

'An Improver'—I rather like that non-de-plume for one who has, in a sense, got out of his ringing apprenticeship, but has not yet become quite a master craftsman—asks me to give a few hints on ringing Double Norwich, as this is a method which he finds some difficulty with. He has learnt the method, he says, according to 'book,' by first, last and full work; but it still gives him some trouble, for he is never quite sure about the place-making, especially after a bob. It is curious how little things like this will sometimes hold up an otherwise quite promising ringer, who, once he gets over the stumbling-block, quickly goes on to greater things. The 'book' method is not to be despised as a groundwork for learning the method but from my own experience I have found the following points useful.

In hunting up or hunting down—in Double Norwich what applies to one applies equally to the other—there are two places to pass the treble that are real guiding points to the place-making.

Pass treble in 1—2 make near places.

Pass treble in 2—3 make far places.

If you don't meet the treble in either 1—2 or 2—3 you are treble-bob bell. If you are hunting down you must remember that it is 1—2 and 2—3 from behind. It is all double dodging in front and behind, unless the treble intervenes or a bob is called. If 'An Improver' will grip this, Double Norwich will present no more difficulties, for if he cannot remember the next piece of work, the treble, or the absence of the treble, will tell him.

Then, when dodging behind at a bob, just keep on dodging until the treble comes up and separates the bells. It is a sure guide that, and an invaluable help to the man that gets worried by a long dodge in case he makes one too many or one too few.

Another important point in Double Norwich is always to look out for your course and after bells and double dodge with them in front and behind unless the treble intervenes.

Where is the right place to make the single in Stedman Doubles, asks another correspondent, 'and can it be done at the parting of the sixes?' To answer the last part of the question first. 'No,' otherwise you turn one bell back into the front work with three blows in 3rd's place. There are three places in the six where the single can be made, but the best form is at the third and fourth changes, where the bell that has come out of the front work makes 4th's place, after having struck one blow behind and then, after one more blow in 5th's returns to the work in front, the other bell in 4—5 of course performing the reverse operation, and stopping behind for another six. The other two places at which the single can be made are at the 2nd and third changes, and at the fourth and 5th changes. If this is done the bell coming up lies a whole pull behind at the single, having, if it is made the 2nd and 3rd changes, a dodge down to complete the six; or, if made at the 4th and 5th changes, a dodge up at the beginning of the six. But whichever form is adopted, both singles must be made alike.

HERTFORD COLLEGE YOUTHS.

This society on the invitation of the Master (Colonel Herbert Baker) had a most enjoyable outing to Knebworth on Saturday, July 2nd. Leaving Hertford, by motor, about 2.30, the party arrived at the picturesque village about 3.15, and were heartily welcomed by the Rector. The handy little peal of eight were soon going to Stedman and Treble Bob, and the visitors were joined by Mr. Barnard Patmore, of Great Munden, and old Mr. Sam Page, of the once-famous Beunington band. High tea was partaken of at the Lytton Arms, when the Master presided, and the Rector occupied the vice-chair. The party was further augmented by Mr. John Dennis, who is well known by all ringing visitors to Knebworth, and is still active, in spite of his 83 years.—At the conclusion of the repast, Mr. H. J. Gray, the hon. secretary of the society, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Master for his generosity in providing the outing, and also to the Rector of Knebworth for his welcome and the use of the bells. The tower was then again visited, and the bells kept going till 8.30, home being reached shortly before 10 o'clock.

AUTHORSHIP OF METHODS.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The question of embarking upon the Exercise of new methods appears to hold the field in these post-war days of renewed ringing activity. In the light of your leading article of the issue dated June 24th last, Mr. Armiger Trollope's letter will hold an added interest for all ringers whose activity in the Exercise extends from the bell rope to pen and paper.

As a body, the Exercise, doubtless, will respect Mr. Armiger Trollope's statement as to his prowess as a wizard with figures; but for those of us who are more than ordinarily interested in the science of mathematics, and who have tried to delve just a little way below the surface in these matters, there can be nothing less than amazement (not to say awe) in our regard for one who in thirty minutes achieved what an expert ringer and an eminent mathematician has succeeded in producing only after 35 years of patient and deductive effort along scientific lines.

As Mr. Bankes James has said, he was not working alone; indeed it may safely be said that nearly everyone of us who has put pen to paper in constructive effort has a variety of London Royal. But we believe Mr. James' variety to be the closest ever produced to what we know from mathematical principles to be the form which the extension of London Major should take.

If Mr. Trollope's argument be pursued to its logical conclusion, the result will demand that he call on the shade of Stedman to give the well-known principle of that name some other title!

We read that, with the great Creator, 'all things are possible,' but to man only those things are possible which are revealed by Him who is the Author of all things; and those, to whom it pleases Him to reveal any of these secrets of science, we may justly call the authors of methods (et cetera) which they produce.

Surely Mr. Trollope will not be prepared to maintain (for example) that in the realm of Physics, because certain phenomena in relation to Volume, Temperature, and Pressure, were first discovered, summarised and announced by Boyle, the famous 'Law' bearing his name should now be known to science under some other title? In a later issue, should space and your courtesy permit, sir, I should like to illustrate further my remarks by means of some few figures in relation to the construction of Principles and Methods.—Very truly yours,

St. Peter's, Brighton.

EARLY RINGING DAYS AT SHIPLAKE.HOW AN OXFORDSHIRE PARISH GOT ITS BELLS.

With the death of Mrs. Emily Jane Climensen, widow of the late Vicar of Shiplake, the Rev. John Climensen, the parish loses a link with one who did a great deal for ringing in this Oxfordshire village. The late Vicar predeceased his wife by just 17 years, and for nearly 40 years he held the incumbency. Soon after his first coming to Shiplake he raised a sum of £10,000 for church restoration, and the belfry claimed a good portion of that sum. At that time there were only five bells and one of them, the present sixth, was cracked. This bell was recast, and the Vicar gave a new bell to make a ring of six. In 1902 he was instrumental in getting the present 4th and 5th recast, and two trebles added in memory of Queen Victoria. The Vicar always took a keen interest in change ringing, and from 1870 to 1872 engaged the late Mr. Henry Haley to visit Shiplake at week-ends, and instruct the local men in the art.

In all the work which her husband undertook in connection with the church, his wife was an ever-ready help. The death of this highly gifted lady has left a void in the parish which will long be felt, and the name of Climensen will remain a cherished memory. The ringers acted as bearers at the funeral, and afterwards rang muffled touches on the bells.

A WAR MEMORIAL.

On the occasion of the laying of the foundation stone of the Gosport War Memorial Hospital by Field-Marshal Earl Haig on Sunday afternoon, July 3rd (the hospital being about half a mile from the church), the bells at Alverstoke, Hants, were half-muffled, and the whole pull and stand was rung for about a quarter of an hour, commencing at 2.30 p.m., the ringers being: C. F. Barron 1, H. Nobes 2, W. Wheeler 3, F. G. Barron 4, H. Reynolds (Holy Trinity, Gosport) 5, A. E. Noble 6, E. Noble 7, G. Gunston 8. A 168 touch of Grand-sire was then rung, with Mr. Uphill as conductor. Whilst the service was in progress, the muffles were removed, and, on the choir being sighted returning to the church, a 364 Grand-sire was rung by: H. Nobes 1, C. F. Barron 2, W. Wheeler 3, H. Reynolds 4, H. Uphill (conductor) 5, A. E. Nobes 6, E. Noble 7, G. Gunston 8. It is of interest to note that these bells are also a part of the parish of Alverstoke memorial, and were put in by Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough, and dedicated on November 11th, 1919.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

When 170 years ago, John Holt sat in the belfry of St. Margaret's, Westminster, and called his great one-part masterpiece for the first time, he could hardly have realised what a comparatively simple task some future ringers would make of conducting this composition. Mr. Alfred Pulling, who has probably called this peal more times than anyone else, celebrated the anniversary of the first peal on Thursday week by conducting it on handbells yet once more. There is one thing about the frequent calling of Holt's Original, it can never get monotonous like the constant calling of the Ten Part.

The two churches at which the Dorchester Branch of the Salisbury Guild are holding a meeting, and visiting, on the 23rd inst., play a prominent part in Thomas Hardy's powerful novels, namely, 'Puddletown, which is the 'Westerbury' of 'Far from the Madding Crowd,' and Bere Regis, the 'King's Bere,' of 'Tess of the D'Urbervilles.'

Mr. F. W. Hopgood writes that the peal of Stedman Triples, published under the name of A. J. Pitman, in our issue of July 1st, was first composed by J. W. Washbrook at least 20 years ago. It can be found in the Oxford Diocesan Guild Peal Book, and has been rung many times by the Oxford Guild.

To enlighten the public of Bath a local newspaper, recording the dedication of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association War Memorial at the Abbey, stated that prior to the service the Abbey company 'rang the Grandsire Caters 377.' The reporter must have imagined the touch to be some kind of tune, numbered 377 in the tune book, we suppose. No wonder the public are mystified over change ringing!

Few incumbents, who were not themselves ringers, have been more sympathetic to ringing than the Rev. R. Bowcott, who has just died, after being Vicar of Warnham, Sussex, for 39 years. During his incumbency the bells have been recast and rehung, as well as many improvements effected in the belfry, and we think we are right in saying that over 200 peals have been rung in the tower—the majority of them within the space of the first 25 years.

Few ringers can boast of calling their first peal at the age of 18 from an inside bell in such a method as Cambridge Surprise. This was successfully accomplished on Saturday last at Stoney Stanton, Leicestershire, by the brilliant young Leicester ringer, whose first year's performances we noted last week, and who undoubtedly has a great future before him. Whilst not claiming any record, it would be interesting to know if this performance has ever been equalled.

PORTISHEAD LADY RINGER'S WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss E. M. Hole, of Brightley, Portishead, to Mr. Walter H. Harvey, of Bristol, took place on July 2nd in the Parish Church, Portishead, the officiating-clergy being the Rev. H. W. Jukes and the Rev. H. S. Briggs. The bride has been a member of the Portishead band of change ringers for several years, and has scored four peals. The first she rang in December, 1910, the last of 5,040 changes Grandsire Triples in August, 1919. This peal was to celebrate 'Peace,' and this she also conducted. She is a member of the Ladies' Guild, and the Bath and Wells Association.

Amongst the many beautiful and useful gifts was a handsome oak clock from the Portishead band, and a case of carvers and fruit knives from the lady clerks of the G.W.R. Goods Department, Bristol.

Miss Hole's wedding took place on the day after that of Miss Gillingham, a member of the same company.

CROFTON SURPRISE.

In response to the request of Mr. George Baker for the production of a peal of Crofton Surprise, with the tenors together, the Rev. E. Bankes James sends the following:—

LINTON, NOTTS.—On June 21st, as a birthday compliment to Mr. S. Wesley, a peal of Stedman Triples (Washbrook's No. 2) was attempted, but lost after 50 minutes' good ringing, too late for another attempt. Afterwards a touch of 1,428 changes was rung, taken from the same peal and coming round at seventeen courses: S. Wesley 1, T. H. Kirkby 2, J. C. Dickens 3, R. A. Hickton 4, W. H. James 5, H. BATH & WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. WAR MEMORIAL AT BATH ABBEY.

The memorial erected to those members of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, who fell in the war was unveiled and dedicated at Bath Abbey on July 2nd on the occasion of the annual meeting of the association. There was a large gathering of ringers, representing the two dioceses, and the clergy present included the Rector of Bath (Preb. S. A. Boyd), the Rev. C. C. Parker (Rector of Corston and Master of the Association), the Archdeacon of Bath (the Ven. L. J. Fish), the Rural Dean of Keynsham (Preb. M. E. Hoets), the Revs. J. T. W. Honeywill (Leigh-on-Mendip), Preb. F. A. Bromley (Weston), H. Wheeler Bush (Bathford), W. Smith (Chaplain, Partis College), and de Ste. Croix (Chairman of the Bridgwater Rural Deanery Branch of the Association), with Major J. M. T. Reilly and Mr. E. J. Vokes (Wardens). A service touch of 377 Grandsire Caters was rung by the Abbey ringers, and the service began with the hymn, 'Lifted high within the steeple.' The sentences were said by the Master (the Rev. C. C. Parker), Psalm 23 was chanted, and Preb. M. E. Hoets read a portion of 1 Thess. iv. The special ringers' collects were said, and after another hymn the Rev. C. C. Parker recited the names of those whose memories were being honoured.

A HANDSOME MEMORIAL.

During the singing of the hymn, 'O Valiant Hearts, who to your glory came,' a procession was formed to the north transept, and at the conclusion of the hymn the Archdeacon of Bath withdrew the Union Jack from before the memorial and dedicated it to the glory of God and in proud and honoured memory of fallen members of the Bath and Wells Change Ringers' Association. The tablet is a very beautiful and effective memorial, designed by Sir Thomas Jackson, R.A. Its predominant feature is a great bell on a copper plaque, and the bell is copper gilded—the work of the Birmingham Arts Guild. The execution of the tablet and the carving, including the names, was carried out by Messrs. Hayward and Wooster. The bell is encircled by the words 'Bath and Wells Diocesan Association of Change Ringers.' The names recorded in gilt letters are: S. Ball, W. Bennett, H. Brook, A. Budd, W. Butler, G. Bye, W. Caple, A. Case, E. Chivers, S. Chivers, A. E. Coles, W. Comer, R. Cox, B. Cullen, I. G. Day, H. Doble, G. Drew, B. F. Dunford, S. Everett, H. Fisher, L. Fisher, H. Ford, G. Fountain, C. V. Fry, W. Fudge, A. Gould, S. B. Ham, A. Harris, J. V. M. Hodges, J. Hodges, C. James, R. Jarvis, J. Loxton, A. O. Major, A. C. Mardon, F. Marsh, F. Norman, J. Odey, V. Partridge, W. Perry, S. Phillips, T. Pope, T. Price, G. Ralph, A. E. Sears, H. Stevens, W. Stiech, W. Stone, T. G. Taylor, W. Tudgay, C. Vowles, S. Waite, T. Ward, W. Weaver, W. B. Webb, A. Webber, H. Webber, P. Wheeldon, E. Whitehead and W. Woollard.

Beneath the names are the words: 'These members of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association of Change Ringers died for their country in the Great War, 1914-1918.'

While the procession was returning, a course of Grandsire Caters was rung on handbells, by: Messrs. J. Hunt 1-2, J. T. Dyke 3-4, G. Condiek, junr., 5-6, J. A. Burford 7-8, W. A. Cave 9-10. The concluding hymn was 'Jesus, Lover of my Soul,' during the singing of which a collection was taken towards the completion of the tablet, and realised £4 18s. 8d.

The Rector of Bath (Preb. S. A. Boyd), in the course of an address, said that those whom they commemorated were young men, full of vigorous life, rejoicing in their strength and prospects, and with the prospect of years of happy companionship. They were men who found pleasure in the difficult, manly and truly British art of change ringing. It was because they loved their English land and the manners and customs of their fathers and the old associations attaching to bell towers that they became ringers, and it was the same love of fatherland, fortified by a spirit of duty, unity and discipline that made them quick to the call of their country, and ready even to lay down their lives. Those remaining were proud of them, and felt that the very least they could do was to raise at any rate such a memorial as they had dedicated that day as a tribute to their noble spirit, as a mark of gratitude, and as a reminder to all who should come after them of what the men of the present generation of ringers did when an exceedingly searching trial came. That was a diocesan memorial. The whole broad county of Somerset was represented and the men whose names were on that tablet of honour were drawn from the towns and villages throughout the county. The memorial was raised almost entirely by the members of the Diocesan Guild. Those brave men never forgot they were ringers, and their fellow-ringers would not forget them. Would it be possible to think of the sacrifices of those men without realising that a solemn burden was cast upon those who remained? What were they that they should remain when so many of the best and finest should be taken? The men who laid down their lives called on those who survived to emulate their noble example and to carry on, never spoiling or undoing their work, recalling that if they who remained were frivolous, or self-seeking, they would be unworthy of the men whose sacrifice was made for the saving of the country. To the bereaved ones they offered their tribute of reverent and heartfelt sympathy, reminding them that those who died had not lived useless lives.

During the day the towers of the Abbey, St. Andrew's, St. Saviour's, St. Mary's and St. Michael's were open for ringing, and were well patronised. After the service at the Abbey, the annual meeting of the association was held in the Abbey Church House, presided over by Prebendary J. L. Fish.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

The Master, in his annual report, said 'We have never had our annual meeting under circumstances of greater importance and solemnity than this year. We often hear of bells rung in memory of some well-known and faithful ringer, whose death is felt to be a serious loss to the Association, but on this occasion we commemorate not one but 60 of our number who have sacrificed their lives on behalf of their country. Ringers are not only loyal Churchmen, but also loyal citizens, and if any proof were needed it is amply supplied by the noble death of these gallant men. It is a great honour and privilege for us all that we are able to show our appreciation of their sacrifice by the erection of this tablet in the glorious Abbey Church of Bath. I am sure we all deeply regret the absence of our Bishop and President to-day, solely due to ill-health, a cause which, I am sorry to say, has led also to his resignation from this diocese, in which he has spent so many years of strenuous and self-sacrificing work. We are most grateful to the Archdeacon for taking the Bishop's place and dedicating the tablet, and we owe more than I can say to Prebendary Boyd, who has extended to us so much kindness, and has helped us with such keen interest to carry out our purpose.'

The report was adopted, as was also the balance sheet, which showed a balance in hand of £87 1s. 7d., compared with £74 7s. 11½d. a year ago.

Preb. S. A. Boyd was added to the list of vice-presidents, Mr. Taylor expressing the warm appreciation of the Association of Preb. Boyd's keen interest in their activities.

The Rev. C. C. Parker was re-elected Master, amid applause, and accepting office once more, said while he felt the time was approaching for him to vacate the office, he desired to see the Association on a financially sound footing before doing so, and believed it to be possible during the ensuing year (applause).

Mr. Coles (Bridgwater) proposed the re-election of Mr. E. Burgess as the Association's secretary and treasurer, and this was unanimously carried.—Mr. D. G. Taylor was re-elected auditor, with thanks for his services, and as representatives to the Central Council, the meeting appointed the Master, Messrs. A. E. Coles, E. Burgess and James Hunt.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Prebendary Boyd and all the incumbents who had placed their bells at the disposal of the Association; also to the Bath members for their assistance, and with this the name of the local secretary, Mr. F. C. Rich, was coupled.

CHANGE RINGING IN SOUTH AFRICA.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In 'The Ringing World' of May 27th, you gave an excellent description of the new peal of ten bells just opened at St. Mary's, Durban, and I am sure we all hope, as the writer of that article suggests, that Durban will now become a stronghold of change ringing.

May I, however, be allowed to correct two of the remarks in the article under review. The writer states, firstly, that St. Mary's, Durban, is the only tower in South Africa with bells that are rung; secondly, that the art of method ringing has been hitherto unknown in South Africa. Both these statements are somewhat inaccurate.

The bells of St. Mary's, Woodstock, Cape Town, which are a peal of eight, tenor 12 cwt., have been rung on and off since 1903, and ringing has been in full swing here for the last fifteen months, good progress being made in Grandsire.

The art of change ringing was known to this country as far back as 1904, as on December 15th of that year a peal of Grandsire Triples (Taylor's 6-part) was rung on the Woodstock bells in 3 hours and 7 minutes by the following gentlemen, Mr. Powell conducting: S. A. Davies 1, J. F. Priest 2, H. C. Cook 3, E. F. Behan 4, L. Green 5, J. Murray 6, E. F. Powell 7, H. Montgomery 8.

This was the first peal on the bells, and the first ever rung in South Africa. I also understand that a peal of Bob Major was contemplated at that time, but it did not materialise, as some of the members of the band left the neighbourhood. Messrs. Green, Powell and Priest are still members of our band, and it is under their able guidance that we are now practising the art.

I think I have now said enough to prove the claims of St. Mary's, Woodstock, to seniority in change ringing in South Africa, and I will close by wishing the Durban ringers the best of luck and success in their ringing.—Yours sincerely,

Cape Town, June 24th.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.ANNUAL MEETING.

This meeting, which had been postponed from Whit-Monday, took place at Winchester on Monday, July 4th. Besides members from the following towers, Bishopstoke, Curdridge, Portsmouth, Portsea, Southampton, Chertsey, Aldershot, Guildford, Wickham, North Stoneham, Christchurch, Basingstoke, Yorktown and Winchester, the Revs. C. D. P. Davies (Overton), E. Bankes James and N. C. Woods were present.

The Central Committee met at 11 a.m., lunch followed at 1, and the annual general meeting at 2, at which the vice-president (the Rev. C. E. Matthews) was in the chair, supported by Canon Braithwaite (representing the Dean and Chapter), the Rev. Sir J. C. Herschel, Bart., hon. secretary; the Rev. E. W. Colchester, hon. treasurer, and Mr. G. Williams, Master.

The election of officers followed the confirmation of the last minutes, all being re-elected with the exception of the hon. secretary, who, with much regret, expressed his inability to carry on owing to the pressure of other work. Sir John Herschel was cordially thanked for his past services, and the Rev. N. C. Woods, Minor Canon and Sacrist of Winchester Cathedral, was elected in his place.

The Hon. Treasurer, who has given much time to the Guild's war memorial, and deserves the sincere thanks of all members, reported that the two new trebles had just been cast by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, and would be dedicated by the Bishop of Winchester on Saturday, July 16th, in the Cathedral. It was the intention to place these bells upon the floor of the choir, under the tower, ready for hoisting, and to solemnly offer them to the glory of God, and in memory of the members of the Guild, who gave their lives during the great war. A design for an oak tablet, containing the names of those who made the supreme sacrifice, was produced, and cordially approved. This would be erected in the Cathedral belfry, when completed by a Winchester firm, at the cost of about £22. The sum of £30 odd was still needed to defray the cost of the bells and oak tablet.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting on a Saturday in June, and Canon Braithwaite kindly consented to preach the sermon on that occasion.

On the recommendation of the committee, one or two slight alterations were made in the rules, and Mr. A. H. Pulling (Guildford) gave notice that he would move that in future the annual meeting should always be held on a Saturday.

The Rev. E. Bankes James referred to the proposed sub-division of the diocese, and voiced the general opinion of the meeting, by expressing the fervent hope that their Guild would not be split up and separate associations formed for the new dioceses of Guildford and Portsmouth. He remembered the division of Bristol from Gloucester diocese, but on that occasion they wisely decided to maintain one society, with admirable results.

A very well struck course of Stedman Caters was rung for the annual service, which was the ordinary evensong at the Cathedral at 4, with some of the Guild's special prayers added to it. The sermon was preached by the Rev. W. E. Colchester, from 2 Samuel vi. 21, in which, taking the three objects of the Guild, the preacher showed that each and all of them aimed at giving glory and honour to God and to His church.

Subsequently tea was served in St. Maurice's Hall, when the Vice-President proposed a sincere vote of thanks to the Dean and Chapter for the use of the bells.—Canon Braithwaite, in responding, said that they always welcomed the diocesan ringers at Winchester, and hoped they would always regard their noble Cathedral as the Mother Church of the Diocese.

THE LADIES' GUILD.AN INCREASING MEMBERSHIP.

The annual general meeting of the Ladies' Guild was held at Erdington, on Saturday, July 2nd. The attendance was poor, owing probably to travelling difficulties. Ringing took place during the afternoon and evening, when Stedman and Grand sire Triples, Double Norwich, Treble Bob and Bob Major were rung with the help of the gentlemen present.

A short service was held in the church, at which the Vicar gave an interesting address.

The members and their friends were entertained to tea by the Erdington ringers at the Church House, at which Miss Pigott (President of the Guild) presided.

At the business meeting which followed, three honorary members were elected.—The Secretary submitted the accounts, which showed a balance in hand of £15 10s. 5d.—The Secretary, in reviewing the year's work, stated that the districts which had been formed were doing very good work, and the membership was gradually increasing.—Mrs. F. I. Haits, of Clapham, was unanimously elected president for the year, and Miss Parker re-elected honorary secretary and treasurer.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting in the Northamptonshire district.

The Secretary reported that she had now received the dinner gong, a silver-plated bell, suitably engraved, and hung in an oak frame, which the members were presenting to Mrs. Salvaneschi (nee Miss Alice White) on her marriage. It was not possible to make a formal presentation, as Mrs. Salvaneschi had left England for some time, and was at present in Canada. The gong was, therefore, being forwarded, with the Guild's best wishes.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for his address at the service, and to the Erdington ringers and their wives for their kind welcome and hospitality.—A vote of thanks was also passed to the secretary for her work during the year.

SHEFFIELD DISTRICT SOCIETY.BIG GATHERING AT HANDSWORTH.

The monthly meeting of the Sheffield district and Old East Derbyshire Amalgamated Society was held at the Church of St. Mary's, Handsworth, on Saturday, July 2nd. Over 100 members were present at the meeting from the following towers: North Wingfield, Bolsover, Staveley, Wortley, Killamarsh, Anston, Norton, Dronfield, Chesterfield, Rotherham, Sheffield Cathedral, Eckington, Ecclesfield, Barnsley, Ranmoor, Treeton, All Saints', Sheffield; Dore, St. Maries', Sheffield, and Rawmarsh, and there were also visitors from New Mills and Huddersfield.

Tea was provided by the local company in the Parish Room, and at the business meeting which followed, the Vicar (the Rev. W. A. Baker) presided, and gave a hearty welcome to the society, saying how pleased he was to have such an opportunity of welcoming the society of church workers at Handsworth to ring on the new memorial peal of bells. He could plainly see that the spirit of the ringers was a good one, and that a genuine freemasonry existed amongst them. He could tell by the singing in the church during service that the members were devotional as well as musical, because they sang with their souls, which made the service into a bright reality instead of dismal formality.

It had been said to him that no sober bell ringers could be found, but he, as well as the society, were able to deny this. The spirit of the ringers had changed; what was done in the past was not done to-day, and they were contented at their meetings with a cup of tea.

Congratulations were extended to the local company, under the able management of Mr. Watkinson, for their speedy progress in ringing in so short a time.

The Rev. A. T. Beeston, of New Mills, proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and wardens for the use of the bells, and for the kind way in which the society had been received by them.

Eleven new members were elected.

Ringing on the handbells took place after the business meeting, and ringing on tower and handbells continued till dusk, while the Rectory gardens were open to the members and their wives during the afternoon.

The next meeting will be held at Bolsterstone in August.

VISIT TO ASHBY FOLVILLE.

On Saturday, July 2nd, St. John-the-Divine Society, Leicester, had their annual outing, when 36 ringers, wives and friends, made a 12-mile journey across country by horse charabanc, to Ashby Folville, a quiet old-world spot, with a light ring of eight bells in an iron frame. An invitation by Lady Smith-Carrington, of Ashby Manor, to the manor grounds was gratefully accepted, and on arrival bowls, skittles, tennis, etc., were soon being indulged in, while others visited the tower and rang various methods, from Grand sire to Cambridge. The Vicar of St. John's (the Rev. Shirley White, M.A.) and Mrs. White, accompanied the party, as did also the doyen of Leicester ringers—Mr. William Cooper, now in his 85th year, and an inmate of Wiggleston Hospital. Tea was served in the orchard of The Carrington Arms (a fully licensed house) by Host Walker, and thoroughly enjoyed. After tea another visit to the manor grounds was made, where sports were on the programme. A four-legged race for men proved the old adage: 'More haste, less speed,' as did also the 'land boat' race, when the craft of the winning team collapsed a few yards from the tape. A clothes-peg race for ladies was well contested, and in the run-off, the winner and second well earned the bottle of scent and box of chocolates. The 'kiddies' race was such a near thing that it was expedient to give each a prize of equal value. Handbells on the lawn and time brought the holiday all too soon to a close, and the party ultimately arrived back in Leicester at 11 p.m. The best thanks are due to Mr. Pyket, verger of Ashby Folville, and the society cannot let the opportunity pass without publicly thanking the hostess of Ashby Manor for her kindness and hospitality. GORSEINON.—At St. Catherine's Church, on June 29th, a quarter-peal of Grand sire Triples (Cox's), in 47 mins.: R. Baird 1, Wal. Dobbins 2, J. T. Williams 3, A. Sluman 4, H. Willis (conductor) 5, W. Dobbins 6, J. Williams 7, W. Webb 8. Rung as a birthday compliment to Mr. W. Dobbins, the captain.

A Page for Sunday Service Ringers.

'Something for the experts to get on with,' is the comment of the correspondent who forwards the quarter-peal of Stedman Triples given below, from the Rev. H. Law James' seven-part. For those who desire to call the complete peal, we would add that it consists of the first 12 courses six times repeated, the first part end being 4536712. The 4th change of the last six of each part is in the cycle of rounds, viz., 3456712 in the first part, 567123 in the second, and so on.

SUNDAY SERVICE TOUCHES.

WATFORD, HERTS.—On Sunday, for evening service, on the occasion of the visit of the Bishop, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 50 mins.: G. Seamon 1, W. E. Oakley 2, R. Picton 3, E. Elliott 4, W. Norris 5, F. Edwards 6, W. Hewitt 7, H. J. Wise (conductor) 8. This quarter-peal was published in 'The Ringing World' of July 1st.

BARNES.—On Sunday, July 10th, at St. Mary's Church, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Oxford Bob Triples (1,260 changes): W. H. Stevens 1, H. Barrett 2, M. Jacobs 3, T. H. Taffender (first quarter in the method) 4, H. Cook 5, R. Mackrill 6, F. Skevington (conductor) 7, C. Hunt 8.

HARBORNE, BIRMINGHAM.—On Sunday, July 10th, for morning service at the Parish Church of St. Peter, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 44 mins.: R. Russell (first quarter away from tenor) 1, H. Grosvenor 2, E. Rose 3, C. Helinkiss (first quarter on tower bells) 4, C. Webb 5, S. Grove 6, W. B. Cartwright (first quarter-peal as conductor) 7, L. Wallbuton (first quarter) 8.

EAST GRINSTEAD, SUSSEX.—At St. Swithin's Parish Church, on Sunday, July 10th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), in 47 mins., for morning service: T. Baker 1, W. Mills 2, G. Hewitt 3, N. E. Hope 4, G. Coomber 5, T. Tullett 6, J. Wren (conductor) 7, S. Chesson 8.

HORNSEY, MIDDLESEX.—On Sunday, July 10th, at St. Mary's Church, for evening service, 720 Bob Minor: H. Blee (first 720) 1, A. Hibble 2, A. Howell 3, F. Fensom 4, M. Fensom 5, C. H. Ross (conductor) 6.

DEPTFORD, KENT.—At the Church of St. John the Evangelist, on Sunday, July 10th, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: R. A. Fosdike 1, E. J. Pannett 2, A. G. Bennington 3, J. Law 4, H. Norgate 5, T. A. Easterby (conductor) 6, W. J. Jeffries 7, Arch. Bennington 8.

STOKE-ON-TERN, SHROPSHIRE.—On Sunday, July 10th, for evening service, 720 Doubles, comprising 4 six-scores of Grandsire and 2 six-scores of Plain Bob: S. France 1, W. Clay 2, E. V. Rodenhurst (conductor) 3, W. Lycett 4, W. Weatherby 5, H. Edwards 6. This in all probability the first 720 on the bells, as there is no record of any other having been rung on them. It is also the first time the bells have been rung for nearly 12 months, as there is no local band there.

HARWELL, BERKS.—On July 3rd, six 6-scores of Grandsire Doubles, each called differently: C. Hitchman 1, W. Hitchman 2, A. E. Smith 3, E. Cox 4, R. G. Rue (conductor) 5, A. E. Gee 6. Longest touch by ringers of 3 and 6.

WOLVERHAMPTON.—On Sunday, July 3rd, for morning service, at St. Luke's Church, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples, in 43 mins.: H. Knight (conductor) 1, T. Smith 2, T. Roden (longest length in the method) 3, H. A. Farlow 4, E. F. Mitchell 5, W. H. Lawley 6, A. Fallon 7, J. Smith 8.—On Sunday, July 10th, at St. Peter's Church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters (1,259 changes), for morning service, in 53 mins.: J. Williams 1, H. Knight (conductor) 2, T. Roden 3, G. Tudor 4, C. Beech 5, H. A. Farlow 6, T. Smith 7, E. F. Mitchell 8, W. H. Lawley 9, R. Thompson 10. Rung also as a birthday compliment to Mrs. Farlow (mother of the 6th ringer) on the 84th anniversary of her birthday.

PULHAM MARKET, NORFOLK.—On Sunday, July 3rd, for evening service, 800 Superlative Surprise Major, by: F. Borrett 1, H. Piercy 2, R. Whiting 3, J. Tann 4, C. Baker 5, J. Boughton 6, A. Smith 7, C. Roope 8.

STAPLEHURST, KENT.—On Sunday morning, July 3rd, at All Saints' Church, 504 Grandsire Triples: F. Pope 1, H. Head 2, G. Smith 3, Miss E. M. Goodship (Reading) 4, J. Smith 5, F. Head 6, E. M. Mitchell (Milton-next-Gravesend), conductor, 7, C. Pope 8.

MANCHESTER.—At St. James', Birch, on Sunday, July 3rd, after evening service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 45 mins.: W. Ryder 1, W. E. Ryder 2, J. Idle 3, E. Burroughes 4, A. Frost 5, F. Stoneley 6, R. Davies (conductor) 7, E. Burroughes, Junr., 8. Rung on the occasion of the visit of the Bishop of Manchester.

HITCHIN, HERTS.—At the Church of St. Mary, on Sunday, July 3rd, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major (1,264 changes), in 48 mins.: E. J. Newell 1, Miss A. M. Durrant 2, E. W. Day 3, J. Hare 4, G. Wolfe 5, G. H. Cross (composer and conductor) 6, L. Fidler 7, G. T. Croft 8. First quarter-peal in the method by all except ringers of 2nd and 6th.

STANTON-ON-HINEHEATH, SALOP.—On Sunday, July 3rd, for morning service, several touches of Grandsire, Plain Bob and Stedman Doubles. For evening service, 900 Doubles (660 Grandsire, 240 Plain Bob), in 30 mins.: S. France (longest in two methods) 1, W. Clay 2, A. White (longest in two methods on a bob bell) 3, W. Lycett 4, E. V. Rodenhurst (conductor) 5, R. Turner (longest touch) 6.

ROBIN HOOD'S BAY, YORKSHIRE.—For evening service, on Sunday, June 25th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes): M. Cooper 1, Miss M. Parnaby 2, G. F. Alexander 3, J. E. Bird 4, A. OUTINGS.

ACROSS THE HILL COUNTRY.

The annual outing of the St. Mary's Society, Penwortham, which was inaugurated in 1921 on the occasion of the bicentenary of the bells, was held on June 11th, when a visit was paid to Settle, Burton-in-Lonsdale, and Kirkby-Lonsdale.

At Settle the visitors were fortunate enough to find a peal of eight, none too common an occurrence in some of the outlying parts of the hill country, which separates Lancashire and Yorkshire, and, in company with one of the local ringers, soon had the bells going to Grandsons Triples and Bob Major.

Owing to the ambitious route set out, however, a long stay could not be made, and, no matter how charming a place might be or how delightful the bells, there always existed a pleasurable anticipation of the next stopping-place. So, taking once more the open road, the party travelled across the exceedingly fine country between Settle and Ingleton, stopping for a few moments to examine and debate upon the causes of the 'ebbing and flowing well.' Owing to the dryness of the weather, however, the well was not seen to much advantage, a fact which called forth a certain amount of cynical chaff amongst the party.

Natural phenomena were soon forgotten when the company reached Burton-in-Lonsdale, for they then commenced important business, and reduced the splendid meal set out for them to a stage to which only the remark 'This is all' was applicable.

After dinner they wandered to the church, which, as the venue of the society's first outing, will always be of special interest, and, raising the bells, pulled off a touch of Bob Minor, in which the junior members took part, handling the bells in a highly creditable manner, in view of the strange conditions. Touches of Treble Bob were then indulged in, and the party moved on towards Kirkby-Lonsdale. Here ringing took place both before and after tea, and, though no 720 was scored, the ringers had reason to be satisfied with their performance.

The homeward journey passed as pleasantly as the rest of the day, and the party reached the starting-point, well pleased with the outing, and wishing it occurred more frequently.

The thanks of the band are extended to all local ringers and clergy, and they hope to meet again in the near future those ringers whose acquaintance they had the pleasure of making.

THE MUDDLE OF NAMES.

The haphazard manner in which methods are named has been equalled in the past only by the remarkable confusion that has grown up in the use of terms relating to the science. Identical terms have been and still are used in ringing to indicate quite different things, as, for instance, 'lead' and 'course,' which each have two or three meanings dependent upon the connection in which they appear. Ringers, by long association with the terms, become, of course, familiar with what is intended by their use, but this loose kind of terminology is a stumbling-block to beginners.

So, too, with the names of methods. Our predecessors just dropped upon the first thing that pleased their fancy, without any regard to its applicability or even its suitability. Some named their favourite methods after flowers, like Tulip, Primrose and Woodbine; others chose topographical names, and all of them gave them a loose classification under 'Bob' or 'Pleasure,' or 'Delight' or 'Surprise,' which later authorities have had to revise, albeit there are still many ringers who do not know what actually constitutes these classes of methods.

The Central Council has done much to bring matters down to something like consistency by laying down definitions, while, at their last meeting, they went a step further in deciding that any methods in their Minor Collection for which names are not claimed within the next six months shall be forthwith given a name. It is high time that this was done, and it is a pity that they cannot do what the peals analysis really requires—sift the names of the old methods so that some of them should not be left with two or three titles.

The eight-bell peal rung the other day and named Lancashire Surprise opens up the question further. The ringers themselves questioned the appropriateness of the name, as there was existent a Minor method called Lancashire Surprise, of which the Major was not the extension. Now it is pointed out there is another Lancashire Surprise Major existing, composed many years ago by Mr. Arthur Craven, but, so far as we are aware, never rung. This method had been entirely overlooked by the Oswaldtwistle Company when they named the new method after their own county, and it is not unlikely they may elect to forego the name and choose another. But the incident serves to emphasise the fact, as the Rev. A. T. Beeston points out in another column, that there is need for a Central Authority from whom it should be possible to ascertain whether any proposed name has already been appropriated. There can be only one body to act as the authority in such a matter, and that is the Central Council.

cil. The information as to the Minor methods will be in the hands of the Librarian, and the record of Major names ought to be in the same keeping. The thing could be done if those interested will find time to compile the records, unless it could be decided that only those modern methods should be named of which peals have been rung. Then the existing Records Committee's researches would, perhaps, answer the double purpose.

A CUMBERLAND TRIP.

Pleasant recollections will remain with all those who, on Saturday, July 9th, took part in an outing undertaken by the St. Mary's ringers, Egremont. The party, numbering 25, included the ringers, wives and friends, and their trip was by motor charabanc. At Keswick, the first stop, the ringers were met by two of their own band, who had walked, by way of the fells, a distance of 27 miles, starting off at 2 a.m., and had promised to join the remainder at 9 a.m. They arrived at 8.55 a.m.—certainly a good performance. Soon the bells of the fine old church of Crosthwaite, were going to the tune of Bob Major, and a 576 was brought round in capital style. As time would not permit further ringing, the bells were lowered in peal, and the ringers joined the rest of the company, who had been shopping, etc. A start was then made for Penrith, which was reached at noon, after passing through some lovely scenery. Dinner was awaiting the visitors, and full justice was done to it. This over, they wended their way to St. Andrew's Church, where hangs in the tower a splendid ring of eight (tenor 20 cwt.), the 'go' being excellent. Kent Major was successfully brought round, everyone being bathed in perspiration at the finish, as the day was scorching. It is to be regretted that change ringing is not practised here, the local captain telling the visitors that no interest seems to be taken in it. The Egremont men tried to induce him to get a band together and become members of the Cumberland Association, which has recently been established.

Permission had been obtained from Lord Lonsdale for the party to view his spacious grounds at Lowther Castle. Here they were met by the head gardener, who piloted them through. It was the 'tit bit' of the day, everyone being almost spellbound at the most lovely sights. Visitors to this district should not miss this treat. After tea, the return journey was commenced. A stop was made at Keswick, where some took advantage of a motor trip up the lake. Egremont was eventually reached at 11 p.m. The weather was perfect throughout. The best thanks of the party are due to the incumbents for the use of the bells, to the local captains for having everything in readiness, to Lord Lonsdale for his kindness, and to the worthy secretary, Mr. W. Norman, for making the necessary arrangements with his usual thoroughness. The outing was one of the most enjoyable this band has undertaken.

DORCHESTER RINGERS AT BOURNEMOUTH.

St. Peter's bell ringers, Dorchester, who, with their wives and friends, made up a party of 44, had an enjoyable outing to the 'Evergreen Valley.' Included in the party were the Rev. G. C. Niven (Rector of St. Peter's and Master of the bell ringers) and Mrs. Niven, Messrs. W. J. Bengier (deputy Master), R. N. Dawes (hon. secretary), W. J. Simons (correspondent), and G. T. White (divisional conductor). Two charabancs had been chartered, and in perfect summer weather the drive was delightfully pleasant. Bournemouth was reached at 10.30, and there was a general dispersal of the party to sample the numerous attractions whereby this popular watering-place caters so admirably for visitors. The ringers made their way to St. Peter's Church, and rang touches, and in this they were assisted by the Rev. C. A. Phillips, a former curate of Dorchester St. Peter's and a keen campanologist. On the homeward journey a halt was made at Wimborne, and here the ringers had a few touches on the Minster bells, while the other members of the party were greatly interested in an inspection of the historic edifice, over which they were courteously conducted by the vergier. 'Home, sweet home,' was reached at ten o'clock, everyone well pleased with the outing.

AMONG BEDFORDSHIRE TOWERS.

LEYTONSTONE COMPANY'S BUSY DAY.

The annual excursion of St. John's Society, Leytonstone, took place on Saturday, June 18th, and a very successful day it proved to be. Meeting outside St. John's Church at 5.30 a.m., the band were supplemented by Messrs. T. Faulkner and A. Hardy from Barking, and E. Wightman from Woodford. They travelled by charabanc to Bedford, where Mr. C. W. Clarke, who had arranged for a busy day, was awaiting them. After breakfast the road was again taken for Bromham, where hangs the heaviest peal of six in the county (tenor 23wt.). A 720 London Surprise was rung in good style, followed by 720 York Surprise and a touch of Treble Bob. The next place was Turvey, the only eight bell tower in the day's programme, and here on the very handy, well-hung ring, 448 Superlative Surprise was brought round in good style. Next came touches of Grandsire and Treble Bob, in which some of the local men were pleased to take part.

At Harrold, the next place of call, a handy ring of six was found, which were set going to the tune of Ipswich Surprise, a good 720 being the result. Touches of Durham and Kent were rung, and then a move was made to the Parish Institute, where Host Norton had a splendid dinner of old English fare waiting for the party. After the exertions of the morning this was greatly appreciated.

At Sharnbrook, the visitors found a poor peal of six, which would be greatly improved by being passed through the melting-pot. However, the 'go' was good, and 720 Lincoln Surprise and 720 Cambridge were rung, and the usual short touch of Treble Bob, to give everybody a pull at each place. Bletsoe, with another nice ring of six, was next reached, and at the third attempt 720 Beverley Surprise was got home; also 720 Cambridge. Then to Milton Ernest, which was the last tower for the day. Here 720 Durham Surprise was rung, Mr. W. Stapleton, of Bedford, calling it, and a touch of Kent Treble Bob finishing up the ringing.

It was intended to ring at Clapham, and so ring on the lightest and heaviest peals of six in the county, Clapham tenor only weighing 5cwt., but time would not allow of this, for which apologies are extended to the band there who turned up to meet the excursionists. The weather throughout was very cold, but fine, and the party arrived home about 11 o'clock, quite satisfied with having spent another perfect day.

To all the local men who welcomed them they tender their best thanks; to the clergy at the various places they are very grateful for so readily granting permission to ring; and last, but not least, to their old friend, Mr. C. W. Clarke, who made all arrangements, and acted as pilot through the day, the cordial thanks of all the visitors are accorded.

The 720's were rung as follow:—

BROMHAM.—At St. Owen's Church, 720 London Surprise: T. Faulkner 1, G. Dawson 2, W. Theobald 3, C. W. Clarke 4, W. Miller (conductor) 5, J. Moule 6. 720 York Surprise: G. Hayden 1, G. L. Joyce 2, A. Prior 3, E. Smith 4, E. Wightman (conductor) 5, A. Hardy 6; and a touch of Treble Bob.

TURVEY.—At All Saints' Church, 448 Superlative Surprise: W. Theobald 1, W. Miller 2, T. Faulkner (conductor) 3, A. Prior 4, J. Moule 5, C. Clarke 6, E. Wightman 7, A. Hardy 8.

HARROLD.—At St. Peter's Church, 720 Ipswich Surprise: W. Riches 1, H. P. Avey 2, T. Faulkner 3, E. Smith 4, W. Miller (conductor) 5, W. Theobald 6; 240 Durham Surprise, 144 Kent Treble Bob.

SHARNBROOK.—At St. Peter's Church, 720 Lincoln Surprise: H. P. Avey 1, W. Theobald 2, A. Prior 3, G. Dawson 4, W. Miller (conductor) 5, J. Moule 6. 720 Cambridge Surprise: E. Wightman 1, T. Faulkner 2, C. Clarke (conductor) 3, E. Smith 4, G. Hayden 5, A. Hardy 6.

BLETSOE.—At St. Mary's Church, 720 Beverley Surprise: W. Riches 1, G. L. Joyce 2, W. Theobald 3, E. Smith 4, A. Prior (conductor) 5, J. Moule 6. 720 Cambridge Surprise: H. P. Avey 1, G. Hayden 2, W. Theobald 3, T. Faulkner 4, G. Dawson (conductor) 5, A. Hardy 6; and a course of London.

MILTON ERNEST.—At All Saints' Church, 720 Durham Surprise: H. P. Avey 1, A. Prior 2, G. L. Joyce 3, W. Miller 4, W. Stapleton (conductor) 5, E. Wightman 6; and a touch of Kent Treble Bob.

VISIT BY NEWCASTLE GUILD TO CRAMLINGTON.

On Saturday, June 25th, the members of the Cathedral Guild Newcastle-on-Tyne, to the number of seven, accompanied by Mr. Stephen W. Stratford, of Whitley Bay, paid a visit to Cramlington by the kind invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Simm. Ringing was the first order of the day, but owing to illness near the church, only short touches could be rung, which was not so much regretted, as the weather was extremely hot. A sumptuous tea at the residence of the host, and some handbell ringing and further refreshment of an American medicinal nature, followed by another visit to the belfry for further short touches, terminated a most enjoyable outing, for which the members tender most sincere thanks to their old and valued friends, Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Simm.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Portsmouth District was held at Sober-ton, on Saturday last, when upwards of 20 members were present from Alverstoke, Curdridge, Fareham, Lee-on-Solent, Portsea, Portsmouth, Swanmore, Wickham, and visitors from Upham and North Stoneham. Prior to the tower bell ringing, the Rector and his wife were entertained to some handbell ringing on the lawn by the Rev. E. Bunkes James and others. After thanking the ringers for this, he said he was sorry he could not attend the tea, as he had a previous engagement to fulfil. Ringing on the church bells began shortly after 3 p.m. and at 5 o'clock the party adjourned to the White Lion Hotel, where a sumptuous tea was served.

The business meeting was then held.—A vote was taken on the place for the next quarterly meeting, and Curdridge was decided on, the date being October 1st next.

After tea, Mr. G. Williams (Master) cycled from Winchester, after attending the service for the dedication of the two trebles at the Cathedral, and further ringing took place. Grandsire and Steadman Triples, Bob and Treble Bob Major were rung, as well as 'rounds' for the probationers.

The Rector is hopeful that something will be done to the bells in the way of rehanging, which is badly needed.

A TRIP ACROSS SUSSEX.

For their annual outing on July 6th, the Southover, Lewes, Guild had a trip across Sussex by motor charabanc. Including friends, the party numbered about 30, and leaving the county town at 1.15 p.m., the first halt was made at Charley Parish Church, where some short touches were brought round on the six bells. The next stopping-place was at Coleman's Hatch, a new ecclesiastical parish formed out of the southern part of Hartfield in the year 1912. The Church of the Holy Trinity was built in 1913, and possesses a lovely-toned peal of eight bells from the Croydon Foundry. Here a stop of an hour was made, and the ringers made full use of their opportunity, including a 504 Grandsire Triples. The church is a brick building with all stone facing, and both outside and inside bear testimony to the devoted care bestowed upon it. The lighting is by petrol-gas, made in a 'works adjoining' the church, a very up-to-date fact in this comparatively little known corner of Sussex. The Vicar (the Rev. H. C. B. Foyster) said a few words of kindly welcome, and expressed the hope that the party would have an enjoyable time. Mr. J. T. Glandfield (a vice-president of the Guild) thanked the reverend gentleman for his welcome, complimented him on his lovely church and bells, and hoped, on behalf of the Guild, that they might be permitted to pay him another visit at no far distant date. The party then proceeded via Hartfield to Withyham, where they sat down to a substantial meat tea at the Dorset Arms, the chair being taken by Mr. J. T. Glandfield. After a short rest a move was made homeward, passing through Crowborough and Five Ash Down to Uckfield. Here some more good ringing was accomplished, the party being joined by Messrs. J. A. Hart and W. Burrell, of the Uckfield band. This was the final stopping-place, and Lewes was safely reached after one of the most successful outings in the records of the Guild.

SUFFOLK RINGERS AMONG NORFOLK TOWERS.

The Thornham Magna, Suffolk, ringers had a fifty miles' tour by motor in Norfolk for their outing. The first ringing was done on the peal of six at Garboldisham. Touches of Oxford and Woodbine Minor were rung, and then the party visited Quidenham, where they met Mr. F. R. Copeman, of Bunwell, who joined them in ringing Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich Major. Going on to Kenninghall, the party sat down to a good dinner, provided by Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham. Afterwards, at the Parish Church, where there is a peal of eight bells, touches were rung of Bob Major, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich, with Mr. J. Cunningham taking part. Mr. Cunningham was thanked for his excellent catering and hearty welcome, and then the excursionists went on to Banham, where, on a peal of six, touches of Oxford and Cambridge Surprise Minor were brought round. The next stop was at New Buckenham, with its peal of six, and touches of Plain Bob, Oxford and Kent Minor were rung, after which tea was enjoyed. Tibenham, with a fine peal of six bells, was the next attraction, and here touches of Cambridge and London Surprise Minor were tapped off. Winfarthing came next in the itinerary, and more touches of Oxford and Cambridge Surprise were brought round. Diss was visited, but too late for ringing, but the party met some of the Diss ringers at the Sun Hotel, where Host J. Souter presides. The homeward journey was then resumed, and Thornham Magna reached, after a most enjoyable day. The ringers wish to thank the various clergy for the use of the bells at the respective churches.

DARLINGTON, DURHAM.—On Wednesday, June 15th, at the Church of the Holy Trinity, 720 Bob Minor: *W. Cooke 1, †W. N. Park 2, G. W. Park 3, W. Phillips 4, F. Cooke 5, *T. Clark (conductor) 6. * First 720. † First 720 on an inside bell. * First 720 as conductor.

CROFTON SURPRISE.

REV. E. B. JAMES' REMARKABLE PEAL.

Dear Sir,—I am obliged to you and to the Rev. E. B. James for the peal of Crofton Surprise Major, which is really a remarkable peal, considering the fact that there are only twenty true plain courses of the method.

An analysis shows that parts of 48 courses are used in the composition, the peal being made possible by the fixed call at B in every course, without which peals, tenors together, would, I believe, be non-existing.

I have long held the opinion that methods which have more false course-ends than those in which the bells in 5-6 are reversed were not worth considering, but Crofton Surprise proves the contrary.

It may be of interest to the Rev. E. B. James and the Exercise generally, to examine and criticise the following method which is one of many that I have discovered in the past twenty-five years. It is in many respects a similar method to Crofton Surprise, and I think most will agree that it is quite equal to the latter.

Except for six changes in front and behind, in each lead, the bells are always in proper coursing order; the tenors are parted for 80 changes only in each course. The proof is different from Crofton Surprise, and there are only four false course ends, viz.:-

- 65432
- 53624
- 32465
- 43265

There are twenty-five true plain courses, and the peal extent, tenors together, is 5,600 changes, as in Cambridge Surprise; in fact, any peal of Cambridge will be true in this method.

LEARNING TO LEAD.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—A writer in your issue of July 1st advises ringers, when leading, to turn conspicuously round and look at the tenor. I teach the opposite. Young ringers should learn from the first to lead correctly by ear, otherwise they will find it very difficult to strike Major really well. Ringers should be taught to depend on themselves and not too much on what others are doing. Never should a young man be taught to hunt merely by following his course bell. If possible it is far better to begin a band on Plain Bob Minor rather than Grandsire Triples.—Yours,
J. A. TROLLOPE.

NAMED METHODS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—A lead of each of five Treble Bob, Nos. 25 to 29; of seven Fourth's-place Delight, Nos. 29 to 35; and of three Third's-place Delight, Nos. 40 to 42, Minor Methods, was published in the 'Bell News' of June 6th, 1914, by the then Analysis Committee, when submitting their report on 'Points for Peals.' All of them were discovered by Mr. E. H. Lewis, after the Council's Collection was published, and are 'regular.' Besides No. 29, numbers 25 and 26 Treble Bob, have been rung and named 'Trowell' and 'Overten'; numbers 34 and 35 Fourth's-place Delight, 'Poynton' and 'Grove'; and number 40, Third's-place Delight, 'Bogadore.'

Some recognised form of procedure in naming methods seems to be necessary. As an instance of this, the fact may be pointed out that a Surprise Major Method, quite distinct from that in which a peal was published in your last issue as 'Lancashire,' appeared in the 'Bellringer,' of January 5th, 1907, under the same name. Could there not be a central authority to whom notice could be given of the intention to give a certain name to a certain method, who should be able to say if the name were already appropriated?—Yours truly,
A. T. BEESTON.
New Mills.

Mr. William Willson also writes calling attention to the previous allocation of the name of Lancashire Surprise to the method published in the first number of 'The Bellringer.' This method is by Mr. Arthur Craven:—

BURSLEM DELIGHT.

On June 28th, a pleasant evening was spent in Burslem tower, when ringers from Bucknall and Norton paid a visit to the local band, and most of the time was devoted to ringing Burslem Delight. This method is No. 23 of the 4th Place Delight methods, published on page 19 of the Central Council Collection, and the first 720 of which is believed to have been rung on May 29th by the Bucknall band, who named it. The Burslem ringers consider their tower has been paid a great compliment to have this method named after it. Before the evening was over the first 720 in the method on the bells was rung by: W. P. Deane 1, W. Wheeldon, jun., 2, W. Wheeldon, sen. (conductor) 3, T. Hilditch 4, T. Hurd 5, W. Bourne 6.

THE KING AT SOUTHEND.

At Prittlewell, Essex, on Thursday, July 14th, on the occasion of the visit of his Majesty the King to the borough, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 Changes) was rung in 47 mins.: W. Bacon 1, G. E. Wilson 2, C. P. Chalk 3, W. Bedwell 4, W. Dudley 5, H. T. Wilson 6, W. H. Judd (conductor) 7, H. Kebby, senr., 8. It had been arranged to attempt a peal of Double Norwich, but, meeting short, the above had to be substituted.

CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE MAJOR.

MR. F. DENCH AND THE MYSTERIES OF THE METHOD.

Sir,—It is very unfortunate that I should have put a peal of Cambridge together false, after I had discovered the possibility of producing a 5024 in the method; also of it being extended to over 12,000 changes. No doubt it was an oversight, as there was plenty of material to work on, and on looking through my proofs it shows itself quite clearly.

I sincerely apologise to the talented band who rang the peal, and very much regret the occurrence.

While I am writing I would advise some of our younger composers to try and fathom some of the mysteries of Cambridge Major; they would find it far more interesting than stringing courses of Bob Major together that have been got years ago. I still believe there is scope for research in the method, and my labours have been rewarded with several peals on different plans. If not all true the foundation is true, which is a contribution to the advancement of the art.—
Yours, etc.,
F. DENCH.

NEW PEAL OF BELLS DEDICATED AT DISEWORTH.

COMPLETION OF A 20-YEAR-OLD SCHEME

On Sunday morning, July 3rd, the Vicar of Diseworth, Leicestershire, Dr. Palmer, dedicated the new ring of six bells which have been placed in the tower by Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough. For very many years the four old bells which hung in the tower had been in a dilapidated and unsafe condition, and although a new 5th bell had been purchased in 1902, it was not possible to hang it, owing to the unsafe condition of the old timber framework. This new bell was, therefore, placed on the ground floor of the church, where it, perforce, had to remain until sufficient funds were forthcoming to make it possible to hang all the bells in a new framework. After a space of nearly 20 years it has now been found possible to carry out the work, and as the old bells contained such grave defects in the matter of tone and tune, it was decided to recast the peal into a musical and pleasing ring, and to add a new smaller bell to complete the peal of six. The effect of the new peal is beautiful, and the sweetness and purity of tone which is the outcome of the true-harmonic system of tuning, introduced by Messrs. Taylor, is most marked, especially when compared with the discordant tones which were formerly produced by the old bells.

The tenor bell of the new peal weighs rather more than the old tenor, viz., 10 cwt. 2 qr. 13 lb., note G. The fittings and framework are, of course, all of that substantial quality and perfect workmanship, for which the Loughborough foundry is so well known, and the bells are in perfect going order.

At the evening service, the bells were skilfully rung by the Kegworth Parish Church ringers, under the able leadership of Mr. Sutton, and the tower will no doubt form a great attraction for six bell ringers all over the county.

A SHRUNKEN TENOR.

On Saturday, July 9th, at Breadsall, Derbyshire, an attempt was made for a seven method peal of Minor, which was lost after ringing 720 Cambridge Surprise and 480 Woodbine. Owing to the hot weather, it was decided not to attempt the peal again on that day: C. J. Baker 1, T. H. Kirkby 2, W. H. James 3, A. Coppock 4, J. E. George 5, E. O. Gobey (conductor) 8. It was the first 720 of Cambridge by all. The band found that the tenor had lost several cwt. since the previous Saturday, when it was 17 cwt. They found that about 14 cwt. is much nearer the weight.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. William Lomas, of Sheffield, writes that the Ilkeston Variation of Treble Bob is really the composition of William Hudson, of Sheffield. 'Hudson's New Light' on Treble Bob Major, with figures of the course and of a peal, were given in our issue of March 18th last, in connection with the discussion on Worcester Treble Bob.

The first peal in Ireland was rung on July 27th, 1872. This was Grandsire Triples at Christ Church Cathedral, Waterford, where, conducted by James Pettit, a distinguished company rang Holt's Original. The names of the ringers are worth recalling: W. Cootor 1, J. Pettit 2, J. R. Haworth 3, G. A. Muskett 4, C. Lee 5, M. A. Wood 6, A. Hayward 7, W. Greenleaf 8.

Mr. R. J. Wilkies, of Bristol, who has for so long been dangerously ill, is now able to sit out of doors for a short time each day.

The Croydon Bell Foundry is always an attraction to ringers, and a party of members of the Yorktown District of the Winchester Guild visited it on Wednesday and spent a most interesting time.

THE OWNERSHIP OF METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—If Mr. York Bramble had heard what I said at the Central Council, instead of the necessarily condensed newspaper report, his letter would not have been written. I answered his objections before they were made. I said that just as in such things as physics you call a law by the name of its discoverer, so you may call a method like Stedman by the name of its discoverer. What I was combating was the idea, held widely by the old school of composers, that the man who first put certain figures together had created something which was his personal property. I gave an instance which I will repeat. I wrote an article explaining the construction of Superlative, and I showed that it was based on a certain round block. This is it—

12463578

Five times repeated.

It appeared that an old friend of mine had published this as a method, and he was very indignant with me because I had used it without acknowledging that it was his. I quite think that many people would believe that he was right.

Mr. Bramble evidently does not believe what I said about London Royal. I can only repeat that it is quite a simple thing to extend a method from eight to ten, twelve or any other number, provided you understand the laws of construction of the Major. It is the understanding of these laws that takes the trouble, and that is worth doing. Trying to copy, by experimenting with figures, leads you nowhere. You can keep at it for years and be no better off. One other point. The 'closest ever produced' is no good. Either you have an extension or you have not; the 'closest' may be very similar, but after all is not the same. One infallible test is this: If your extension to ten is correct, you have also extension to twelve, fourteen or any other number.—Yours truly,

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

GREAT YARMOUTH BELLS.

THE TENOR REHUNG.

There is a very strong idea amongst a great many people who have never been there, that on arriving at Yarmouth the air is full of the smell of bladders and the streets of whelk and oyster stalls; but this is not the case. Sometimes the smell of a roasting 'Yarmouth' bloater reaches you, but what of it? Where can a person enjoy himself more than at Yarmouth, with its many cheap excursions by river, road, rail and air? And to the ringer the good old peal of twelve and its genial conductor, Mr. D. Hayward, are a great attraction.

On arriving there on July 1st, I was surprised at not hearing the clock chime the hour. It was soon explained to me by Mr. Hayward. The tenor had got down on one side, which caused the bell to go badly. Mr. Arthur Webber, one of the local ringers and an engineer, undertook to do a small repair of this kind, but when the bolts were taken out the headstock was found to be in rotten condition. Although he does not pretend to be a bell hanger, Mr. Webber tackled the job of rehanging, which he has done to the entire satisfaction of the ringers. The bell is now hung on an iron stock and ball bearings.

On Tuesday evening, the 12th, the work was completed, and the bells rung. Touches of Bob Major on the back eight, Grandsire Triples and Caters, rounds and changes on the twelve, were rung by the local ringers, and Mr. F. Pitstow, of Saffron Walden, Mr. Hayward conducting. All congratulated Mr. Webber on making such an excellent job. The ringers were afterwards entertained at the Club House by the conductor and Mr. Webber.

WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL BELLS.

THE FIRST PEAL OF TWELVE IN THE DIOCESE.

The two treble bells which are being added to the existing peal of ten at Winchester Cathedral as a memorial to the members of the Winchester Diocesan Guild who fell in the war, were dedicated by the Bishop on Saturday afternoon as they stood in the choir, before being hoisted to their places in the tower above. The bells, which are the product of the Croydon Foundry, will, when in position, complete the first peal of twelve in the diocese, and, while serving as a perpetual reminder of those gallant souls from among the ranks of ringers in the See of Winchester who made the supreme sacrifice for King and country, should prove a great acquisition in forwarding the art in an area which, possessing many enthusiastic ringers, has too long been under compulsory restraint in twelve-bell ringing.

This is not the first gift which the Winchester Guild has made to the mother church of the diocese, dedicated to the Holy Trinity and St. Swithin, for in 1892 they gave one of the bells—the present 2nd—to augment the previous eight to a peal of ten. The ring appears to have originated in a heavy peal of six cast by Richard Phelps, of the Whitechapel Foundry, in 1734. To these, Thomas Lester, his successor, added two trebles in 1742, thus making a peal of eight. At different times the treble, fourth and sixth were recast by Robert and James Wells, of the Aldbourne foundry. In 1891 the tenor, weighing 32 cwt., was cracked and was recast by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who in the following year added two trebles.

The old bells are inscribed:—

Treble: ME CIVES WINTONIENSES VT LAVDES DOMINI CELEBREM DEO ET ECCLESIAE S. SWITHUNI DEDERUNT A.D. 1892 (The citizens of Winchester gave me to God and the Cathedral of St. Swithin that I might sound the praises of the Lord.) MEARS & STAINBANK, FOUNDERS, LONDON.

2nd: AD TE DOMINE LEVABO VOCEM MEAM ME S. SWITHUNO DEDIT PVLATORVM IN DIOCESI WINTON GILDA A.D. 1892. (To Thee, O Lord, will I lift up my voice. The Winchester Diocesan Guild of Ringers gave me to St. Swithin's.) MEARS & STAINBANK, FOUNDERS, LONDON.

3rd: R. WELLS, ALDBOURNE, FECIT, MDCCLXXII.

4th: THEODORE ECCLESTONE, ESQ., 1742. T.L.

5th: MEARS & STAINBANK, FOUNDERS, LONDON. QUINTA DEI RESONO QUAS QUONDAM TERTIA LAUDES CONFLATA CIOCCXXXIV FRACTA, RECOCTAQ CIOCCIOIII. (As fifth I now sound those praises which I formerly did as 3rd. Cast 1734, cracked and recast 1903.)

6th: JAMES WELLS, ALDBOURNE, WILTS. FECIT 1804.

7th: R. PHELPS, LONDINI. FECIT 1734.

8th: JAMES WELLS, ALDBOURNE, WILTS. FECIT 1814.

9th: R. PHELPS, LONDINI. FECIT 1737.

Tenor: MEARS & STAINBANK. LONDINI FECERUNT HORAS AVOLANTES NUMERO MORTUOS PLANGO VIVOS AD PRECES VOVO A.D. 1891. (The fleeting hours I number, I toll for the dead, I call the living to prayers.)

The connection between Theodore Ecclestone and Winchester Cathedral is obscure. Writing upon the subject in 'The Ringing World' in 1912, Mr. J. R. Jerram, of Salisbury, an eminent authority on the subject of bell history, said the appearance of the name on the fourth is somewhat of a mystery. Theodore Ecclestone lived at Crowfield Hall in the parish of Coddendam, Suffolk, and his name appears on several of the peal of eight there, which were cast by Thomas Lester in the same year as the fourth at Winchester. He was also the donor of the peal of ten at Stonham Asphall, Suffolk, the ninth of which bears the following inscription: 'In this tower hung 5 bells, the tenor weighing 10 hun. 2 qrs. 0 lb. In the year 1742 they were taken down and with ye addition of 3 tons 10 hun. of mettle were recast into ten att ye expence of Theodore Ecclestone, Esq., of Crowfield Hall, aged 27 years. He gave also a new frame att ye same time 1742. Thos. Lester made us all.' From this it appears that the two trebles of the original eight at Winchester, the peal of ten for Stonham Asphall and the peal of eight for Coddendam were all in the foundry at Whitechapel at the same time.

Was the inscription on the 4th at Winchester a mistake, or did Thomas Lester send in error one of the bells intended for another tower?

Treble: SOCIIS, QUI MORTI SE PRO SUIS, MCMXIV-VIII. (Weight 5 cwt. 3 qr. 18 lb.)

Second: HAS AMDO MEMOR VOVET GILDA MCMXXI. (Weight 6 cwt.)

On the middle of each bell is the Winchester Guild Badge.

DEVIZES BRANCH MEETING.

A quarterly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at St. John's, Devizes, on July 4th, and was well attended by ringers from the following towers: Bradford-on-Avon, Beechingstoke, Westbury, Warminster, Bishop's Canning, Melksham, Holt, Chippenham, Swindon, Bromham, Trowbridge, Southbroom (St. John's and St. Mary's) and Devizes. Thirty-two sat down to tea, which was followed by the business meeting. The places of the next three meetings were arranged as follows: Seend, August 6th; Edington and Bratton, Sept. 3rd; and Bradford-on-Avon, October 1st.—Mr. F. Lambeth, of Chippenham, was elected a life ringing member of the Guild.

A good deal of discussion took place as to the advisability of sending out printed postcard notices owing to the increased postage. It was decided to advertise all the meetings in 'The Ringing World,' and to ask each tower to take in one or more copies.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the St. John's and St. Mary's bells, also for conducting the usual Guild service, was accorded. This concluded the business, and the ringers then resorted to the different towers, and spent an enjoyable evening.

GATHERING AT KINGTON MAGNA.

In spite of the present difficulties of travelling a good number of ringers assembled at Kington Magna on the Feast of St. Barnabas, when the Diocesan Guild paid its first official visit to Kington. After various parties of ringers had handled the bells, the Guild service was held at 5 p.m. The Rector, who is hon. general secretary of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, officiated, and gave a brief address; the Vicar of Bourton read the lesson. The hymns, Psalms and Canticles, led by a full orchestra, were very heartily sung, the solid mass of male voices imparting a fine rich tone. The choir gave an impressive rendering of the anthem, 'Thine, O Lord, is the greatness.' In the passage rising to a telling climax with the words, 'the victory and majesty,' a grand effect was obtained by a graduated increase in the volume of instrumental accompaniment to the vocal crescendo: first the organ and violins, then the cornets added, then in the last phrase a sonorous roll on the side drum.

After the concluding voluntary, a six-score of Grandsire Doubles was rung, and a move was made to the school, where a party of about fifty sat down to a tea provided by the Rector and churchwardens. The tables had been neatly laid and decorated by girls in the choir, others of whom had been busily engaged in preparing the eatables. The visitors were fortunate in having with them on the occasion Mrs. Edwards, the patron of the living, who shared with Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. W. J. Halletts and the Misses E. M. Read and E. J. Harman, the manipulation of the teapots.

The Branch Secretary, Rev. C. A. Phillips, conducted the official business, made an appreciative reference to the service just held, and had to cycle off fifteen miles to catch the last train at Yeovil.

The Rev. F. R. Scholfield expressed the thanks of the visitors for the hospitality provided, and paid a compliment to the cake from the Kington bakery.—Mr. W. E. Herridge subsequently replied on behalf of the churchwardens.

Hopes were expressed on both sides that the visit of the Guild would be repeated. During the course of the proceedings, handbell selections were played by four choristers—Ivy Hannam, Gwen Hayter, Florence and Linda Raymond—and were received by the audience with enthusiastic applause.

A new record in the church music of Kington calls for mention. At the service there was an army officer as organist, and a naval petty officer as blower!

BRIDGEND. — Llandaff Association.—At St. Iltyd's Church, on Saturday, June 18th, 4,496 changes of Bob Major, in 2 hrs. 50 mins.: E. Stitch 1, J. W. Jones 2, R. Gregory 3, S. Dawe 4, R. Evans 5, C. H. Perry 6, F. Chamberlain 7, A. J. Pitman (conductor) 8. This was an unsuccessful attempt for a peal. Through a shift course the bells ran round five courses from home. Great credit is due to the ringer of the third, who had only previously rung a plain course in the method. It was also the conductor's first attempt to call a peal of Major.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The annual summer festival was held at Turvey, on Saturday, July 9th, and proved one of the most successful and enjoyable ever held. In spite of the intense heat, which was 85 in the shade, members and friends were present from Bedford, Bromham, Harrold, Roxton, Elstow, Husbome Crawley, Woburn, Cranfield, Dunstable, Northampton, Finedon, Kettering, Wellingborough, Olney, Yardley Gobion, Everton, and the local tower. A welcome visitor was Mr. J. H. Shepherd, of Swindon. The bells, a handy ring of eight, were raised at 2.30, and were kept busy until 4.30, when a short service was held, at which a very interesting address was given by the Rector (the Rev. Guy Birch). Tea was afterwards held at the King's Arms, and about 50 sat down.

As usual on this occasion no business meeting was held, but seven new members were elected, including the Rector as an hon. member.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Rector for the use of the bells, and for his kindness in arranging the service; also to the local men for the arrangements they had made.—Mr. Allen suitably replied. Handbells were then brought into use by some of the members, while others made their way back to the tower until 8.30. The methods rung during the day were Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Major. Included in the ringing was 448 Cambridge Surprise Major, by: M. Lane 1, A. E. Sharman 2, D. Harris 3, Miss E. Steel 4, E. J. Hobbs 5, H. L. Harlow 6, W. Rogers 7, C. W. Clarke (conductor) 8.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

CENTRAL DISTRICT.

A successful meeting of the Central District was held at Banstead on Saturday, July 9th. Ringing commenced at three o'clock, and with intervals for a short service and tea, with business meeting, continued until 9 p.m., the methods rung ranging from Grandsire Triples to London Surprise. At the service, the Vicar (the Rev. A. W. Hopkinson) extended a hearty welcome to the association, and gave an instructive address on the fellowship which is, or should be, engendered among all church workers.

The meeting, after tea, was presided over by the Master (Mr. J. D. Drewett), and 24 new members were elected, including the Vicar and Capt. F. E. D. Acland (churchwarden).

The Secretary reported that he had received an invitation from the Vicar of Christ Church, Epsom, to hold a meeting at his church on August 27th, when he would like to provide tea for the members.—This was cordially received, and the secretary was instructed to accept the kind offer and make the necessary arrangements.

It was resolved to hold the October meeting at Mortlake, if possible.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and for his address at the service, and to Mr. F. G. Woodiss for making all arrangements for ringing and tea, was proposed by Mr. O. H. Reading, and carried with acclamation.—Capt. Acland responded, on behalf of the Vicar, and Mr. Woodiss on behalf of those who had contributed, to what was a most enjoyable meeting.

GOSFORTH RINGER'S WEDDING.

At All Saints', Gosforth, Northumberland, on June 20th, the wedding took place of Mr. Adam Deas and Miss Ethel Brown.

Mr. Deas is a very enthusiastic member of the Durham and Newcastle Association, and a peal in honour of the event was attempted in the evening at All Saints' Church, but was unfortunately lost owing to a change course. The band met a week later to again attempt the peal, but were precluded owing to the death of a member of the congregation. Nothing daunted, they made an attempt the following week, but after two and a half hours' excellent ringing the clapper of the 8th flew out. However, on the fourth meeting success was achieved in ringing a fine composition of 5,004 of Stedman Caters, as recorded in another column. The composition, by the late Henry Johnson, is in 69 courses, and has a 7689 and 6789 alternately.

The ringers wish Mr. and Mrs. Deas as few jars in their married life as there were in the peal, and hope it may be many years before they arrive at 'That's all.'

BARNSELY & DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

The July meeting was held at Darton on Saturday, July 9th. Members arrived early, and the bells, although not running well, were kept going merrily in a variety of methods, including Grandsire Doubles and Treble Bob Minor. At a business meeting the Rev. R. E. Sheaf kindly took the chair, and gave a hearty welcome to the association, on behalf of the Vicar, churchwardens and local company. This was gladly received by the meeting, and the hope was expressed that a closer union with everybody connected with the church would be developed by associated ringers. Three new members were elected, and a vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for use of the bells was carried unanimously.—Monk Bretton was selected for the August meeting.

A Page for Sunday Service Ringers.

As we have had no claim from any older ringer, we conclude that Mr. Edwin Horrex, who regularly takes his place twice on a Sunday in the tower of St. Paul's Cathedral, takes the honour of being the oldest regular Sunday Service ringer in the kingdom. He is in his 84th year, and has been a member of the band since the bells were installed some 42 years ago.

The tropical weather and the holiday season has had its effect upon the length of the touches rung for Sunday Services, as well as upon peal ringing, as our Service Ringers' page this week testifies.

In the eighteenth course of the quarter-peal of Stedman Triples given on this page last week an S at 10 was omitted.

The 504 Grandsire Triples, published on June 3rd, was pointed out as false in the following issue. This in reply to a correspondent who has just found out that the touch contained repetition.

SUNDAY SERVICE TOUCHES.

WEST KIRBY, CHESHIRE.—On Sunday, July 17th, for morning service, 336 Grandsire Triples, R. Hazelhurst 1, C. Powell 2, R. Bradley 3, H. Ludkin 4, J. Sherratt 5, J. Wilkinson 6, A. Smith 7, H. V. Lowndes 8.

NORWICH.—At St. Peter Mancroft, on Sunday, July 17th, 300 Stedman Caters, for evening service: Miss F. W. Bill 1, Miss A. M. Durrant 2, Miss G. George 3, D. T. Potter 4, C. E. Borrett 5, F. J. Howchin 6, G. Mayers 7, F. R. Copeman 8, G. H. Cross (conductor) 9, J. E. Burton 10.

CAMBRIDGE.—At the Church of Our Lady and the English Martyr, on Sunday, July 17th, for morning and evening services, touches of Grandsire and Bob Major were rung by members of the Ely Diocesan Association; and Mr. FitzJohn, of Thetford, for the great congress of the 15th centenary celebration of Saint Jerome and the Martyrs, which was held for the first time in Cambridge. There was also ringing on the preceding day.

LONG EATON.—On Sunday, July 17th, for morning service, 720 Bob Minor: Miss L. Geeson 1, E. C. Chasty 2, W. R. Drage 3, H. Green 4, T. Hutchinson 5, C. Geary (conductor) 6. First 720 as conductor.

PUDSEY, YORKSHIRE.—At St. Laurence's Church, for evening service, on Sunday, July 17th, 1,120 Superlative Surprise Major: J. Ambler 1, T. M. Kitchen 2, J. C. Booth 3, S. Ward 4, W. Barton (conductor) 5, F. W. Thorpe 6, E. Procter 7, H. Ward 8.

WINDSOR.—An extra 'flourish' was given upon the bells of the Parish Church of St. John the Baptist on Sunday week by the Oxford Diocesan Guild, as a mark of 'farewell' to the Rev. E. M. Blackie, M.A. (vice-president of the local branch), now Canon of Lincoln, who gave his parting address to a crowded congregation after eight years of office. Grandsire Triples was rung for morning and evening services, in which Messrs. W. W. Cross, G. T. Bedford, P. E. Jones, H. J. Hunt, and C. H. Vowler took part. A quarter-peal (1,260) was performed under tropical conditions of heat and sunshine, in 48 mins. at arentide: J. W. Crofts 1, E. S. Farr 2, T. S. Smith (steepkeeper) 3, W. H. Fussell 4, A. J. Harman 5, Charles Farr 6, W. Henley (conductor) 7, H. J. Cropley 8. The Vicar afterwards visited the belfry, and personally thanked the ringers for their valuable help and co-operation during his charge of the parish. Incidentally, the recent cleaning and improvements of the belfry here should form an object lesson to the Archdeacon in his future visitations.

FULHAM.—At All Saints' Church, on Sunday, July 17th, 1,320 Treble Bob Royal: J. W. Driver (conductor) 1, W. H. Wood 2, B. Belcher 3, A. Cutmore 4, W. S. Smith 5, J. E. Davis 6, G. C. Hes 7, F. Skevington 8, A. Harding 9, H. A. Folkard 10. It's 19 years since H. A. Folkard rang his last quarter-peal of Treble Ten.

WRENTHAM, SUFFOLK.—On Sunday, July 17th, for morning service, 720 Double Court, 336 of Oxford Treble Bob, 216 Kent Treble Bob, by: E. S. Bailey, N. R. Bailey (conductor), E. Bailey, A. E. Austin, A. J. Naunton, F. W. Naunton, A. J. L. Naunton. First 720 Double Court by A. E. Austin and E. S. Bailey. For evening service, 720 Worcester Treble Bob: W. R. Bailey, E. Lincoln, E. Bailey, A. E. Austin, A. J. L. Naunton, F. W. Naunton (conductor). First 720 Worcester by N. R. Bailey, E. Lincoln and A. E. Austin.

STONEV STRATFORD.—At St. Giles' Church, on Sunday, July 17th, for evening service, 720 Islington Treble Bob Minor: A. Clarke 1, H. C. Edwards 2, E. C. Lambert (conductor) 3, W. Bonham 4, T. C. Tomkins 5, E. Yates 6.

LIVERPOOL.—At St. James' Church, West Derby, for morning service, on Sunday, July 17th, 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor: A. Hancock (first in the method) 1, D. Parry 2, A. Taylor 3, W. H. WEDDING OF ANOTHER LADY RINGER.

In our two last issues we have recorded the weddings of two expert lady ringers, both of whom had their homes at Portishead. It is a pleasing duty to record the marriage of yet another lady ringer, the event taking place on July 16th in the Parish Church of St. John at Redhill. The bride was Miss Edith Jones, and the bridegroom Mr. James Walker. The Rev. Herbert Spencer officiated at the ceremony. Miss Jones was one of the band who made the first attempt, which proved unsuccessful, for the ladies' peal at Twyford, Berks, on Easter Monday, 1914; and she is well known in the belfries of the Middlesex County Association around Ealing, at which place she was engaged for some years.

It was at her home in Devizes, Wilts, that she mastered the first stages of change ringing, and she has rung peals at Bishop's Cannings and at Hillingdon. She rings Stedman Caters with confidence, and is a member of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, the Oxford Diocesan Guild, and the Middlesex County Association.

A YORKSHIRE OUTING.

The Headingley St. Michael's ringers held their annual outing on Saturday, July 16th, the venue being Gargrave-in-Craven and Kildwick. A start was made by motor at 1.30 p.m. from St. Michael's Church, the party comprising Messrs. H. Williams, H. Lindsay, W. Wood, R. Thomas, G. W. Slack, J. Bennett, G. Robinson, J. R. Kemp and P. J. Johnson, who were glad indeed to be able once more to include the veteran, Mr. J. Whitaker. A two-hours' run through some of the finest scenery in Wharfedale brought the excursionists to Gargrave, where a warm welcome was extended to them by Messrs. McKell, Birtwistle and Langstroth, of the local band. A move was made for the tower of St. Andrew's Church, where the peal of eight (tenor 16 cwt.) were soon set going to Double Norwich and Stedman. The day was too hot to do much ringing, and after about an hour at the ropes the party left for Kildwick. On arrival at Kildwick a bountiful tea awaited the visitors at the White Lion Hotel. During the meal the party happily escaped a violent thunderstorm.

A visit was afterwards made to the neighbouring Church of St. Andrew, where a beautiful peal of eight by the Loughborough Foundry were made good use of for about an hour and a half, the delightfully cool belfry being much appreciated on such a tropical day. The church at Kildwick is a fine old 15th century building, and was formerly attended for many years by Charlotte Bronte, when she was resident in the neighbourhood. During the homeward journey, the stout man of the party caused a tyre to give way under the strain, but eventually all reached home safely, after a pleasant outing, the glorious scenery and the hearty welcome at Gargrave and Kildwick leaving many pleasant recollections. This opportunity is taken of thanking the respective clergy for kindly granting the use of their bells, and the local ringers for their kind arrangements. Much regret was felt that Mr. S. Maude, of Pudsey, and Mr. J. Cotterell were unable to accept an invitation to join the party, and it was hoped that on some future occasion their company would add to the enjoyment.

A FIELD FOR NEW COMPOSERS.

The advice given to young composers last week by Mr. Fred Dench, to try and fathom some of the mysteries of Cambridge Surprise Major, touches a question which has many times been commented upon, but which still will bear emphasis. Mr. Dench tells us that unravelling Cambridge will be found far more interesting than stringing together courses of Bob Major, and those who have made the attempt to delve in some of the deeper mysteries of peal construction will agree with him. The art of composition does not end, as some people seem to imagine, in putting together sufficient course-ends of a method to make the required number of changes. Touches and peals often reach us which, on the face of them, are false and the faults of which can sometimes even be seen without working out any figures, showing that the authors have made no attempt at proof. It is true that everyone has to make a beginning, but we would emphasise the need for all, who are really anxious to become the authors of peals, to make themselves first acquainted with the foundations of the subject upon which they desire to work.

In the simpler methods, and indeed, in some of the more complex, any new production is extremely difficult to obtain; but investigation in methods which have been well worked by others, should give the really enthusiastic composer a keener zest to explore for himself the less known paths of more complicated methods. There are bound to be some failures, but in this, as in every walk of life, it is the man who profits by his failures who will one day reach success. Despite the work that has already been done, there are still fields in which men can work, and in which success will bring them campanological fame equally with some of the masters who have gone before them. Cambridge Surprise Major, among the older methods, is one which, as Mr. Dench very rightly says, offers an alluring task for those who really desire to investigate ground which has not been so extensively explored as some which offered greater chances of success with smaller effort.

It must not be supposed that the task is a simple one. Great minds in the Exercise have devoted much time to the work, but that is no reason why new effort should not be made to evolve something new in a method which is not only interesting to ring, but fascinating in the baffling problem which its composition presents. As with Cambridge, so with other Surprise methods. More investigation by composers would lead to the creation of wider interest in some of the good methods which are seldom, if ever, practised, and one result would almost certainly be the ringing of a far greater variety of the higher methods on eight bells. In these enlightened days ringers ought not to be satisfied, as the majority of them seem to be, with ringing only the methods which the past generation achieved, and composers, in the same way, ought to strive for something more than their predecessors attained, instead of being content to dig among the accumulated figures of more or less worked out methods, hoping to find some trifle which others have overlooked.

BRAINTREE RINGERS' OUTING.

The St. Michael's Guild of Ringers, Braintree, had their annual outing on Saturday, July 9th. Starting at 8.30 a.m., they journeyed by motor-car to Southend-on-Sea, calling on their way at Great Bad-dow. The ancient parish church, with its famous Jacobean pulpit and sounding board, was inspected. No ringing was attempted, the bells not being in good order. Proceeding to Rettendon, the party were met by Mr. Jay, senr., and touches of Kent and Oxford were brought round on the musical rung of six. The next tower visited was Rayleigh, where the ringers had a tough job, but a short touch of Grandsire Triples was brought round. They were gratified to hear that these bells are shortly to be rehung in a new frame, and funds are being raised to carry out the much-needed restoration. The last tower visited was Prittlewell. Here were Messrs. Judd, Dudley, Wil-son (2) and A. B. Wiffen in the church to meet the visitors. Some excellent touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Double Nor-wich Major were brought round on the back eight of this excellent ring of ten. The Guild lunched and had tea at Aaron's Restaurant, and enjoyed themselves on the pier and other places of amusement for the rest of the day, arriving home at 9.15 p.m. The Guild wish to thank the incumbents for the use of their bells, and the local ringers for all necessary arrangements.

WESTMINSTER RINGERS IN BUCKS.

THE DIARY OF A GLORIOUS WEEK-END.

Row, brothers, row, the stream runs fast,
The rapids are near and the daylight's past.

The Guild of ringers from St. Stephen's Church, Rochester Row, London, visited the county of Bucks for their annual holiday for 1921, on Saturday, July 9th, arriving at Slough at 8.15 a.m. The party numbered fifteen, including the World's bell founder and the microbe photographer, and they breakfasted at Lidstone's Restaurant in High Street, where a sound foundation was laid for the busy day to follow. The programme is here given, to which a few notes have been added by their counsellor, guide and friend, who pointed out local places of historical interest. Needless to say, the round could not have been carried through without the motor-car, and two of these were bespoken with drivers who knew the country.

Slough, 9 to 10 a.m.—The visitors were received by Messrs. Smith, Leader and Fussell, and each one was decorated with roses in his buttonhole. Local industries were pointed out, such as Embrocation (Elliman's), Roses (Turner), Tabloid food (Horlick's), Motor Cars (Slough Trading Company), etc. The engines were started punctually for the first lap, and the monument to the memory of the poet Gray, at Stoke Church, was viewed.

Farnham Royal, 10 to 11 a.m.—Received at the tower by Mr. J. J. Parker, and saw the resting-place of a Buck's ringer, who rang for 51 years on the birthday of the late Queen Victoria; also the tomb of Henry Dodd, who began life in this parish at the plough tail, and amassed a fortune as the London dustman. He restored the church tower. Hot as the weather was, no one patronised the village pump, with its long handle and open house, unrestricted by pussyfoot regulations.

Burnham, 11 to 12.—Met here by Mr. G. Alder, and disturbed a wedding party who had tied the nuptial knot, and were signing the register in the vestry. Made the acquaintance of the Six Bells Inn at strictly twelve o'clock, to find a police-sergeant, lately stationed at Rochester Row, as mine host. Obtained a good view of the mighty Cippenham Dump (600 acres in extent), known in the House of Commons as the White Elephant.

Beaconsfield, 12 to 2 p.m.—On this route, Burnham Beeches was seen in all its summer glory, and men who ring in London for 'Ye Lord Mayor' had the privilege of driving through 'Lord Mayor's Drive,' 20 miles out of town. Hot luncheon at the Saracen's Head was duly appreciated, the figure ends of the courses being Newton and Oxborrow. A 'Peck' of trouble was caused by an inquiry as to why was the Ox burrowing in Bucks? Because he did not wish to go to 'Wiltshire' was the answer.

Messrs. R. Buckland and C. C. Mayne met the company, who saw the resting-places of Waller (poet) and Burke (orator), who made Westminster ring with his wonderful speeches. The local war memorial, of uncommonly beautiful design, was of interest. Standing at the corner of a cross-road, it consists of a tall shaft upon stepped base, with a carved and pierced lantern at the top. It is all in stone, and has electric lights in the head, which are switched on at lighting-up time.

Hughenden, 3 to 4.—This section was made via Penn Church, through the Penn country. Perhaps some day a team from England will go over to Pennsylvania and show our great forefathers in the U.S. how we still ring bells in the old country. It would be a case of 'US' to 'U.S.', so why speak of Anglo-American unity? The party called at a farmhouse which was named 'Terriers'—perhaps Lord Haldane took this name to heart when he destroyed the old Volunteer forces? Here Mrs. Evans and her daughters made up for the absence of one of the 'Johns.'

Hughenden found Messrs. Evans, Janes and Stratford awaiting the party beside the tower. Beaconsfield's tomb and the Manor House, he once occupied, were pointed out, as well as the dying trout in the almost dried up river that should be flowing through the park meadows, now brown and parched.

High Wycombe, 5 to 6 p.m.—Received here by Messrs. R. Coles and F. Boreham, and reinforced by the arrival of the Master of the Oxford Guild (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), the general secretary (Mr. R. T. Hibbert), and Mr. J. B. Williamson. Touches of Stedman Cinques and Treble Twelve-In upon a good ring of bells was a refreshing change to the Major touches in the four standard Surprise Methods hitherto attempted. It may be added that there was no lack of 'Fabian Triples' during the day. Perhaps one of our composers will do honour to an old hand by naming a new method 'Fabian Surprise.'

Tea at 6 o'clock at the White Hart Inn found twenty 'in,' and it was quite a happy time, the Cambridge M.A. acting P.A. at the head of the table. Temperatures were greatly increased by sipping hot tea (at about 84 degrees in the shade). The cooling followed in the courtyard, when double-banded Cinques got going—somewhat shortened by the guide's orders to 'get on, please.'

Marlow, 8 p.m.—This was the final stage, and the visitors were met by Messrs. Green and Coster. Here the well-known graceful suspension bridge, the weir and locks, and the distant woods, will always afford an attraction, and more so to ringers, for the church and the 'Two Brewers' are divided by St. Peter's Street that ends at the riverside, with a landing-place for boating parties. The rafters of this ancient inn have sheltered in its long history many a team of ringers who came by stage coach or river barge. Seldom a year passes nowadays without several such visits. A draught of its fine local brewing (Wethered's) from a deep, cool cellar may be obtained, and may cause envy to those who only read of these things.

The toast of the evening was 'Rochester Row, may they never be recast,' at which the guide exclaimed, 'R.R., please,' to Passmore, and then the handbells resounded. Thanks to the careful arrangements of Host Truss the wibble of the double team of eights were billeted for the night beneath the shadow of the old church spire, chattering like a brood of young jackdaws, and in quite as unintelligible language to most people, except change ringers. Night came (or was it morning?) like a welcome guest to end a happy day of sunshine and Surprise.

Sunday, July 10th.—Ringers may sing with the poet who wrote—

Of all the days that's in the week

I dearly love but one day,

And that's the day that comes between

for is not that the day when the true ringer puts forth his best for the service of the church after years of patient learning and practice in his art? On this Sunday, Marlow people were regaled with unusual Surprise flourishes for the customary services at the church. During the day, Father Thames, an old Westminster friend, took the society upon his broad bosom amidst the beautiful up-river scenery of Berk and Bucks that contrast so much with the stately buildings lower down its course. The holiday ended at Ealing by dispersal, each to his respective home, after having been initiated into the mysteries of an 'Ancient Order of Golding' during the train journey up. It is questionable whether the Rochester rowers would have survived the boating had not Rowbottom been at the helm. It was hoped to have joined in the public reception, proposed at Beaconsfield, to honour the Premier of Australia during his visit on Saturday, but the cares of Empire necessitated the Premier's gathering at Choquers Court, Bucks. Mr. W. M. Hughes, be it known, was formerly of St. Stephen's Schools, and learnt to ring before going abroad, so that our fellow strings 'down under' should forge ahead and let us have news of a peal or two when he comes home.

The secretary of the society desires to thank, on behalf of the R.R., all who contributed to their welfare on this outing, especially the clergy and the good old steeplekeepers at the towers named.

GIFTS TO A DEPTFORD TOWER.

RECORDS UNVEILED AT ST. NICHOLAS' CHURCH.

On Wednesday evening, July 13th, an interesting ceremony took place in the tower of St. Nicholas', Deptford, when the Vicar (the Rev. T. W. Pitman) unveiled two records, performances by the local band. One was a board, given by Mr. C. R. Pope, of Staplehurst, Kent, and recording the muffled peal of Grand sire Triples (Holt's Original), rung as a last token of respect to the late Mr. G. W. Ford, churchwarden at St. Nicholas' for 14 years, and who was interred in Brockley Cemetery on the afternoon previous to the peal. It was also Mr. Pope's first peal, and he gave the board as an appreciation of the fact.

The other record was a drawing by Mr. T. Purkiss, a chorister of the church, recording the peal of Oxford Bob Triples (Dr. Carpenter's One-part), the first in the method by all the band, except the conductor. The framing of this splendid work was the gift of Mr. A. Hodge, an honorary member of the society.

The Vicar (who was accompanied by Mrs. Pitman, and his warden, Mr. G. R. Keays) said it gave him very great pleasure to unveil these two very beautiful records, because they marked much perseverance and advance in the art of change ringing by the society, also because he thought bell ringers, as well as the choir, were co-ministers in the work of God and the Church. It also gave him great pleasure to notice the regular attendance of the ringers at Divine service, not only those who belonged to the choir, but the society generally, who sat in different parts of the church. The Vicar then unveiled the boards, and a short prayer, followed by the Lord's Prayer and the Blessing, was said.

The captain (Mr. Churchwarden G. H. Daynes) expressed thanks and gratitude on behalf of the society, as well as himself, not only to the Vicar, who always seemed pleased to do anything for ringers, but to those whose gifts they much appreciated. He also thanked Mrs. Pitman, who had honoured them by her presence. He sincerely hoped the society would still work together in harmony, so that at no distant date still higher methods might be achieved and records placed in the tower.

A TRIP THROUGH SUSSEX. EASTBOURNE RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, July 9th, an expectant body of ringers assembled within the precincts of St. Saviour's Church, Eastbourne, on the occasion of the annual outing. Traveling by motor charabanc, the party of eighteen were soon being pleasantly whirled along to the first place of call—Mayfield. Here they found Mr. Miles with everything in readiness for enjoyment. The bells, a mixture of 'some are and some ain't,' as someone has quaintly put it, were raised and set going to a merry touch of Stedman Triples. This had not proceeded very far before a disturbing noise was heard among the bells, and upon investigation it was found that the clapper of the seventh had snapped off at the lower bolt hole. Nothing remained but to lower the bells, and to thank the Mayfield friends for the trouble they had taken on the visitors' behalf, and to express deep regret at the unlooked-for mischance of a broken clapper. After a double-handed plain course of Grandsire Caters on the handbells, the party proceeded on their way to Tunbridge Wells, which was reached at 11.45 a.m., St. Peter's being the trusting place. Here in attendance was Mr. Latler, who had kindly prepared for the visitors. The Vicar extended a hearty welcome in the belfry, where subsequently old friends in Messrs. S. M. Green and F. White, joined in the ringing. Grandsire, Stedman, Double Norwich and Kent Treble Bob were tapped off in good style. Luncheon was taken at Carpenter's Restaurant, and, the inner-man being sufficiently refreshed, the party proceeded to Withyham, where the bells were set going to the tune of Stedman and Double Norwich. They then travelled by way of Erigde and Crowborough to Southover, Lewes, for tea at the house of Anne of Cleves, a building dating back to the 15th century. The upper portions of this old structure is in a very dilapidated condition at present, but it is understood that the hand of the restorer is about to take the matter up with a view to renovation. Stedman Caters and Triples were rung on Southover bells, with an old friend, in the person of Mr. Bob Dawe, and this closed the day's proceedings, in so far as ringing was concerned. A visit to Southover is not complete without a visit to 'Ye Olde Kinge's' Head, where a hearty welcome is always extended to ringers by the genial hostess, Mrs. Goldsmith. After about 90 miles' run, the party reached Eastbourne at 9.50 p.m. The journey, through some of the loveliest scenery in Kent and Sussex, was thoroughly enjoyed, and with the exception of the clapper incident at Mayfield, the outing was most successful from every point of view. The Rev. Lawrence Hands (curate) and Col. A. A. Oakden (churchwarden), of St. Saviour's, accompanied the party, whose best thanks are due to those at the various towers visited for having all in readiness, and to the incumbents for placing the bells at the visitors' disposal, which contributed in greatest measure to the pleasure of the trip. The ringers forming the party included Messrs. Akehurst, Baber, Faulkner, A. Gower, E. Gower, B. Hobbs, G. House, Marchant, Pankhurst, Penfold, J. Sharp, senr., J. Sharp, junr., W. D. Smith, Stokes and W. H. Ware (verger).

110 MILES THROUGH SUFFOLK.

On Saturday, July 9th, the members of St. Margaret's Society, Leiston, held their annual outing. West Suffolk was chosen for the route this year, when more fresh towers were added to the list. Leaving Leiston at 6.50, in Mr. W. Powell's charabanc, Stowmarket was the first call, and was reached via Ipswich. Here Superlative and Suffolk Surprise and Stedman Triples were rung. Proceeding to Bury St. Edmunds, St. Mary's was visited before dinner, and Cambridge, Double Norwich and Stedman Triples rung. These bells are a grand peal, with a tenor 27 cwt. After dinner, to which, needless to say, full justice was done, the tower of St. James' Cathedral was the centre of attraction. Here Treble Ten and Stedman Caters were rung on the magnificent peal of ten, with a tenor 30 cwt. Leaving Bury, the party made for what is considered the best peal of eight in the county, viz., Lavenham, which was reached in good time. This grand peal, with Miles Gray's masterpiece tenor, were set going to Bristol, London and Stedman Triples, two of the local company taking part. A look round the church, of which Lavenham people are very proud, brought the time for departure, and in due course Hadleigh was reached. Here another fine peal was found, and Cambridge, Superlative and Stedman tapped off. Several of the local people were interested in the family of ringers, and a touch of Stedman Triples was rung with all the brothers Bailey taking part. Woodbridge should have been the last call, but time would not admit of stopping here, and home was reached at midnight, after a journey of 110 miles. The members of the society wish, through 'The Ringing World,' to thank the incumbents of the various towers for the use of the bells, and all those who helped to make the outing successful.

LEE, LONDON.—At the Church of St. Margaret, on July 20th (St. Margaret's Day), before service and dedication of war memorial, 720 Grandsire Doubles (6 120's different callings): J. Hodges 1, W. G. Pinnigar (conductor) 2, A. Hoile 3, C. Moulton 4, H. Brasher 5, J. Daftus 6, G. Payne 7, H. Heisterman 8 (7, 6, 8 behind).

GRIMSBY RINGERS AT SURFLEET.

A LONG DAY'S OUTING IN LINCOLNSHIRE.

On Thursday, July 7th, the combined societies of St. James' and St. Andrew's, Grimsby, with their wives and friends, to the number of 30, journeyed by motor charabanc to South Lincolnshire for the annual outing. A start was made at 7.30 a.m., Louth being reached an hour later. From here the fine scenery of the Wolds and the undulating country made this part of the drive full of interest, and was much admired. The first stop was made at Horncastle at 9.45, several of the local ringers being at hand to receive the party. Soon the fine ring of six of the Parish Church were going to Stedman Doubles, Treble and Plain Bob Minor, and then, at 10.30, the drive was continued at Boston, where an excellent dinner was in readiness, and fully appreciated. Afterwards, the Parish Church was visited. Ringing here not being on the schedule, little time was lost before a start was made for Kirton, 4 miles on. Here the ringers were met by Mr. Rupert Richardson, of Surfleet, and without delay the fine-toned ring of eight were going to Double Norwich Major, followed by Grandsire and Stedman Triples. Up once more, the party soon covered the last eight miles to Surfleet, the headquarters for the day, and were received by the Rev. H. Law James, who extended a very hearty welcome, while ringing friends from Peterborough, including Miss Phyllis Hare, Mr. Tebbut, Mr. Waldou and Mr. Jutsón, came specially to be with the party. Mr. James took the visitors in hand, first explaining many interesting details in the history and architecture of the old church. The beautiful light ring of ten bells in the belfry were then raised in peal, and the chief ringing of the day now began. Grandsire and Stedman Caters were brought round, some of the party getting their first ringing on ten bells. In due time tea, kindly provided by Mr. Rupert Richardson, was thoroughly enjoyed. Afterwards there was a further visit to the tower, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Bob Royal were brought round, the ladies meanwhile visiting the Vicarage gardens. The start for home was made at 7.30, after hearty cheers for those friends who had done so much to make the outing a big success. The last call of the trip was Sibsey, and once more, at the ropes, Grandsire and Stedman Triples were duly brought round. The party were cordially greeted by the Vicar, who stayed during the ringing, and afterwards explained much interesting matter concerning his bells, some of which are of pre-Reformation date. With a journey still before them of nearly 50 miles, the party began the final stage at 9.30 p.m., Grimsby being reached at 12.45 a.m., bringing to a close a happy and memorable outing. The party take this opportunity of thanking the various incumbents for the use of their bells, Mr. R. Richardson for the arrangements for tea, and to all who contributed to make the day a thoroughly enjoyable one.

SALOP SIX-BELL TOWERS.

On Saturday, July 2nd, six members of the St. Chad's Society paid a visit to the Church of St. John, at Ruyton-Eleven-Towers, and rang 720 changes, consisting of 360 Grandsire Doubles and 360 Plain Bob: J. E. Lilley 1, R. Pole 2, S. Snelson 3, D. J. Boucher 4, C. R. Lilley (conductor) 5, T. Renolds 6; also 240 Canterbury Pleasure. It was intended to start for a peal, but after inspecting the bells, screwing up the frame and splicing ropes, the above was the result. The ringers were congratulated by the Rector (the Rev. W. D. Craven) on the excellent striking. He was surprised the visitors were able to ring the bells in the condition they were in. It afterwards transpired that the Rector was himself an old ringer, and he hopes to get the bells put right at a future date. They were made a peal of six by Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, in the year 1858, and some of them date back to 1592.

On the return journey the ringers called at the Church of All Saints, Baschurch, where permission to ring was readily obtained from the Rev. Druce, but the tower was found to contain only four bells, although there are pits for six. The bells have been recently rebung by Taylor and Co., the Rector hoping to get two trebles shortly. Some Bob Singles were rung, and the 'go' of the bells was found to be excellent. Afterwards a touch of Grandsire on handbells was rung to the delight of the locals.

At Leaton, Salop, on Saturday, June 26th, at Holy Trinity Church, a quarter-peal of Doubles (five and a half 120's of Grandsire, four of Plain Bob and one of Canterbury Pleasure) was rung by: H. Baggley 1, J. E. Lilley 2, S. Snelson 3, R. Pole 4, C. R. Lilley (conductor) 5.

LANCASHIRE SURPRISE.

Too late for insertion in our last issue, we received from the Rev. H. Law James the following communication:—

The method published this week, and called Lancashire Surprise, should not be so called, because that implies that it is the same method as Lancashire Surprise Minor, which it is not. The composition is my peal of London called in Gloucester in 1896.

NEW BELLS AT EARL SHILTON, LEICESTERSHIRE.

A FINE PEAL OF EIGHT.

Earl Shilton Parish Church now has the proud possession of a melodious ring of eight bells. Up to some months ago there hung in the tower five old bells in a dilapidated timber framework, and the fittings, etc., of these bells were quite worn out and unfit to carry the bells with safety. It was decided to send the bells to the famous foundry of Messrs. Taylor and Co., at Loughborough to be refitted and relung, and three new bells added to complete the octave. It was then found, however, that these old bells contained such grave defects, and were so far out of tune and discordant in their harmonic tones, that the only satisfactory course to take would be to recast the whole into a musical and pleasing peal. This work has now been carried out, and the three new bells added, the result being a sweet and pure-toned ring of bells. The effect of this perfectly tuned peal is simply marvellous, when compared with that of the old peal.

The tenor of the peal now weighs nearly 12 cwt., which is $1\frac{1}{2}$ cwt. heavier than the old bell, and the total weight of the eight bells with their fittings is over six tons. The fittings are of modern design, and contain all those improvements which have been effected by Messrs. Taylor in recent years, including patent ball bearings. The framework, which carries the bells, is very strong and massive in construction, being of cast iron on stout steel foundation girders, designed so that the strain placed on the tower by the swinging of the bells is reduced to an absolute minimum. The eight bells bear the following inscription:—

2nd.—Harry Orton, C.C., D.C., P.C. Gave me, 1921.

3rd.—I ring to Glory of God and in the honour of the thousand Shilton men who joined the colours and upheld Britain's honour in the great war, 1914—1918.

4th.—The children cry Hosannah in the Highest. Cast 1875. Recast 1921.

5th.—Tho. Bernard and Tho. Wileman, churchwardens. Tho. Clay made me 1711. Recast 1921.

6th.—Come, Holy ones, hasten to worship the Lord. Cast 1875. Recast 1921.

7th.—Newcombe, of Leicester, made me 1606. Recast 1921.

Tenor.—Cast 1875. Recast 1921. J. Slade Maughan, Vicar. Edwin Harry Gilbert, Abraham Abbot, Churchwardens. Earl Shilton, 1921.

The dedication of the new ring of bells and the institution of the Rev. H. V. Williams as Vicar took place on Friday, July 15th, by the Rt. Rev. Lord Bishop of Peterborough. The ceremony of dedication was first performed, and the bells then rang out for a few minutes, in sounds, the ringers being the Shilton band.

CHURCH BELLS A SYMBOL.

The Bishop of Peterborough, who dedicated the bells and instituted the new Vicar, preached from the words: 'Other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear My voice.' For centuries, his Lordship said, there had been a company of people at Earl Shilton who had heard the voice and responded to the call, who had worshipped Christ and sought to extend His kingdom. The very name 'Earl Shilton' recalled a familiar figure of English history, and took them back to some of the great men of Leicestershire like Earl Simon, John o' Gaunt, and others. In this Britain of ours for over 1,600 years people had heard the voice and tried to respond to the call. Christ was counting on men and women to-day to echo their voice to the world, to sound His call, and draw men into His kingdom. Church bells were a kind of symbol and sacrament of that fact. They pealed forth from the tower so that all men heard the sacrament of the corporate voice of the fellowship they represented. They were a very ancient piece of accompaniment to church worship. Like some other parts of their English churches many were a thousand years old. He once went to see the remains of a famous abbey at Sunderland, where a mighty figure of their church history, the Venerable Bede, lived and worshipped. In 680 the church bells were used for that abbey and called people to worship. Another famous abbey, not far from where he now lived, dated back to the 10th century, and there was a record of a peal of bells, which the old chroniclers stated was as harmonious as any to be found in England.

THE COMRADESHIP OF RINGING.

Bell ringing had always been a peculiar delight of the English people. There was no such thing as change ringing known on the Continent. Change ringing was peculiar to the English people and the English Church alone. Why was it English people developed a sense of change ringing? It was due to that common instinct of sport which made men like to do something together—to pull together and to plan and scheme. It was essentially a comradeship to ring out the voice which called men and women of the district to the worship of God. His Lordship added that it was the first time in his experience that he had taken part in a service in which was combined the dedication of bells, the dedication of a new priest, and the dedication of the people to their work in the advancement of fellowship of the Kingdom of God. If it was for the bells to echo the voice sounded in Galilee long centuries ago, through which the most sinful came as if by irresistible attraction—if it was the function of the bells to echo that voice and call men to His presence, then it was peculiarly so of the priest and pastor of the parish, not to call attention to his own personality or to what he preached or how he worked; not to be the centre of attraction, but to call men and women to the only centre of attraction, the Saviour, the friend, the Master, and the Christ, whose work, curiously enough and naturally enough would be intimately linked with the bells. Their new priest would minister to them with the voice of sympathy. The priest of the parish was not merely the official priest. He was what he ought to be, and could be, their most faithful and intimate friend. He asked people to dedicate themselves afresh to Christ.

After the service, M.C.A. representatives from Burton-on-Trent, Barwell, Croft, Hinckley, Leicester, Kirkby Mallory, Peckleton, Sharnford, Sapeote, Stoney Stanton, Wigston, took part in ringing, and the bell foundry were represented by Mr. J. Oldham. The work has been most ably carried out by Messrs. Taylor to the satisfaction of all. The methods rung at the opening were Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major and Double Norwich Major. The bells were open for ringing on Saturday, the 16th, when members and friends, in addition to those present on Friday, attended from Derby, Kirkby Muxloe, Stoke Golding, and Burbage. Methods rung ranged from Grandsire Doubles to Treble Bob Major.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. E. Lane, the bell-hanger, who can now boast of hanging a peal of eight bells in his native place, which is something to be proud of. The members of the M.C.A. wish to convey, through 'The Ringing World,' their best thanks to the Shilton ringers for their kind invitation to help in opening of the bells, and also to extend their best thanks to the Vicar for giving permission for ringing on Saturday.

Mr. Harry Briggs, of Stoney Stanton, who took part in the ringing, is the one survivor of a band of ringers who opened the peal of five bells at Earl Shilton 46 years ago. Seventy-one years of age, he has been a ringer at Stoney Stanton Church for 55 years.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

EASTERN DISTRICT MEETING.

The third quarterly meeting of the Eastern District was held at Howden, on Saturday, July 16th, and was attended by about 50 members, representing towers at York, Selby, Hull, Goole, Beverley, Market Weighton, Thorne and Hatfield. Despite the hot weather, the visitors availed themselves of the privilege of ringing the bells to various methods throughout the afternoon. The noble Collegiate Church, dedicated to St. Peter, possesses a fine lofty lantern tower, which is observed by travellers for many miles around, and is lighted by tall and handsome windows, of the purest Perpendicular character. In the ringing chamber was noted a beautiful tablet, to the memory of three ringers who had made the great sacrifice in the war, which was dedicated on Easter Monday last.

A short service was held at 4 p.m. in the church, with an address by the Vicar (the Rev. A. Waring), who gave the ringers a very hearty welcome on their first visit during his vicariate. He said that ringers were co-workers with the clergy, and were doing real work for the Church. He also pointed out how bells entered into the common life of the people, by ringing on occasions of joy and sorrow, and also by calling them to the house of prayer. He concluded by asking God's blessing on the work of the association.

A sumptuous tea was afterwards partaken of, to which full justice was done. The business meeting followed, and was held in the Parish Room, presided over by the Vicar, in the absence of the vice-president (Mr. A. E. West), who was unfortunately unable to be present. Eight new members were elected, viz., D. Rimes and S. J. Dawson, St. Mary's, Hull; H. Wiles, All Saints', Hull; H. Crowe and E. Marshall, Hatfield; A. Talbot, Hemingborough; G. Braithwaite and F. Braithwaite, St. Mary's, Beverley.

Two places for the next meeting were put forward—Pocklington and North Cave, and the latter place was decided upon by 15 votes to 7.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, and for his instructive address at the service, and the thanks of the meeting were also given to the local ringers for their very excellent arrangements.—This concluded the business, and the ringers adjourned to the tower for further ringing.

AT SQUIRE PROCTOR'S TOWER. SAFFRON WALDEN RINGERS' EXCURSION.

On Monday, July 18th, the Saffron Walden Society had a motor charabanc excursion, the primary object of which was to visit the world-famed Bennington ringers. In our party we were pleased to have the company of Mr. H. J. Tucker, of Bishop's Stortford. A call was made at Barkway, where there is a pretty ring of eight, the bells being in perfect order, as they have only recently been increased to the octave; and Stedman, Double Norwich and Cambridge were heard to advantage. Then on through leafy lanes and winding roads, through Buntingford, and several other places, to the goal of Bennington; the former home of the Surprises and the grand old Squire Proctor and his illustrious men. Here we had the great pleasure and honour of meeting three of the survivors of that talented band, viz., Messrs. John Kitchener, Leonard Chapman and Samuel Page, whose combined ages, we learned, was 220 years; and in some of the ringings these veterans took part.

The bells were soon sounding out the methods in which, in years gone by, they had made history, viz., Stedman, Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge and London, it being jokingly remarked that if the ringing failed it certainly could not be the fault of the bells, as they were not strangers to any difficult methods!

We were sorry to find that the Rector was unwell and could not be present, but the Rev. C. S. Chapman kindly met us with a hearty welcome, and conducted us to the public hall, where a splendid dinner awaited us, at which he himself presided, and even assisted to secure our comfort. We are also greatly indebted to him for a bountiful tea and to the ladies who so pleasantly looked after our needs. My expressions of our thanks were accorded to all who had troubled to make the visit to Bennington so enjoyable. It was with feelings almost of regret that we were compelled to obey the call of time to continue our journey on to Braughing, another spot hallowed by many associations.

Here, also, ringing was enjoyed, despite the 90 in the shade outside, and perhaps we may hazard an opinion that inside it might represent the temperature in the sunshine.

Next, Bishop's Stortford provided us with an opportunity for Stedman Caters, which we were pleased to avail ourselves of, this being our final effort for the day. We desire to heartily thank the incumbents who so readily gave permission with good wishes for our success, and the several ringers who met us and had everything ready for our enjoyment; and hope to have a return visit from any who may have an opportunity of coming to Saffron Walden, when we will endeavour to provide for them, as far as is in our powers, the same enjoyment and satisfaction which we appreciate so highly from their hands.

BRIDGEND RINGERS' TRIP.

On Wednesday, July 13th, the ringers of Bridgend, Glam., together with their wives and a few friends, visited Chepstow and Monmouth for their annual outing. 'Go' was called at 8 a.m., and after a nice run, the White Lion, Chepstow, was reached at 11.40, and, here, later on, the party sat down to dinner. The next item was a move to the belfry, where they found everything ready, and some of the local men waiting. Unfortunately the party did not get much good ringing here. They found that the ropes run round anti-clockwise, and there is also a very long draught, so different to their own tower. Perhaps it would also be well to put some of the blame on the weather, and a little on the White Lion; but there is no doubt Bridgend bells are a lovely eight, and for 'go' rank among the best in the county. While ringing was in progress, the ladies of the party found plenty to interest them in and around the church, and no doubt they would have made a close inspection of the shops in the town had it not happened to be early closing day. Leaving Chepstow soon after three o'clock, the excursionists had a splendid ride to the old town of Monmouth, through the lovely scenery of the Wye Valley. After having a look round the grand old church, tea was partaken of at the Dorothy Cafe. Here again the course ends rolled up in fine style. A visit was then paid to the tower, where again everything was found in readiness, but as a thermometer near the church was now standing at 87 degrees in the shade, short touches of Stedman and Grandsire were the order. It was originally intended to spend the remainder of the day in Cardiff, but for various reasons this part of the programme was abandoned, and the evening spent in the old town. The return journey was made through Raglan and Usk. This was a four hours' ride, so that it was in the early hours of the 14th when the party arrived once more at Bridgend, everyone having had a most enjoyable day. The ringers take this opportunity of thanking the Vicars of both Chepstow and Monmouth for the use of the bells; also the local ringers for having everything ready, especially Mr. T. H. Jones, of Monmouth, who spent so much time with them.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Oxford, where the Diocesan Guild held its annual festival on Saturday last and dedicated the war memorial to its fallen members, possesses many rings of bells, there being famous peals at some of the colleges. They do not, however, all 'go' as well as ringers would like them to, nor are they often available, for in term time, of course, the ringing of the bells would be too great a distraction for the students.

It is somewhat strange that the tower of Christ Church, associated with Oxford Cathedral, is an unconsecrated building, but so it is. As most ringers know there are here twelve bells, with a tenor of approximately 33 cwt. The foundation of the peal was six ancient bells brought from Osney Abbey, and named respectively 'Hautclere,' 'Clement,' 'Austin,' 'John,' 'Mary' and 'Gabriel.' The present ninth and tenth are probably the old fourth and fifth of this ancient ring.

Just as the Winchester Guild are augmenting their Cathedral peal to twelve by the gift of two trebles, so the Cathedral at Oxford had its twelve made up from the old ten by the gift of two trebles by the Diocesan Guild. This was in 1897 in honour of the Diamond Jubilee of Queen Victoria.

The other bells date back to ancient days, and peals were rung on them nearly two hundred years ago. Hearne, in his diary, mentions a visit to Oxford of a party of London ringers who walked all the way from London, and arrived at Oxford on Whit-Sunday, 1733. On the Wednesday following they attempted a peal at Christ Church, but after ringing for over two hours the gudgeons of the tenor broke!

This same band made two attempts for peals at New College on the following days. On the Thursday they rang three-quarters of an hour, when a broken rope put an end to their efforts, while a similar fate befel the attempt the next day, after two hours. Imagine walking all the way from London to Oxford for this!

The same historian records a peal of 5,040 Grandsire Caters rung by Oxford men at Christ Church on New Year's Day, 1754, and this must be one of the very earliest criticisms of a peal. Hearne says: 'The Oxford ringers made many mistakes, so that 'twas expected they must have given over several times. I did not hear them till they had been at it about three-quarters of an hour, but afterwards I heard them quite out till they had done, and I observed fifty-two faults in the ringing, nine of which were considerable ones. However, take it altogether, 'twas excellent ringing, and they may glory of it. The most considerable fault was occasioned by Dr. Gregory, Regius Professor of Modern History, and Student of Christ Church, who broke in upon the ringers to their great disturbance.'

The bells were removed from the central tower of the Cathedral to the tower near the Dining Hall, in 1872.

There is to be a bell ringing contest at Ecclesfield Parish Church, Yorks (the Minster of the Moors), on Bank Holiday. Fourteen teams have entered, and the first prize is valued at £12. Other prizes valued at £8, £5 and £3, and cash prizes of 50s. and 25s. are also offered! The contest is announced to begin at 8 a.m., and during the day there are to be exhibitions of handbell ringing in the Gatty Memorial Hall.

The test will be 720 changes for each company, and Messrs. Joseph Broadley and Thos. Lambert will be the judges. Ecclesfield is an ideal place to spend a day.

In reply to 'Research,' the weight of the tenor of the lightest peal of twelve in Great Britain is 15½ cwt., this being at the Waterloo Tower, Quex Park, Kent. The lightest tenor of twelve in a church tower rests, we believe, between Cheltenham and Christ Church, West Bromwich, which are each between 22½ and 22¾ cwt.

To William Shipway, born at Bath in 1760, the Exercise owes a great deal, and he will ever remain as one of the pioneers of the art of ringing, and be remembered for all time by his 'Art of Ringing,' published in 1816.

July 29th is the anniversary of his first arrival in London, he finding his way to the Metropolis in the year 1785. He gives as his 'principal motive' for going to London, that 'although Bath had a respectable and able band of ringers, yet the Art did not improve so rapidly as he wished.' In the Metropolis he first joined the Junior Society of Cumberlands.

One of the earliest peals of Grandsire Major was rung on July 30th, 1792, at SS. Peter and Paul's Church, Aston. It was also, probably, the longest in the method at that time, viz., 7552, but it was surpassed about eighteen months later by an 8,000 at St. John's, Deritend, Birmingham.

Mr. Joseph Milner and Mr. Charles H. Leman are requested to send their addresses to Mr. J. D. Matthews, 130, Clonmore Street, S.W.18.

OXFORD GUILD FESTIVAL.

BY ONE WHO WAS PRESENT.

The Festival of the Oxford Diocesan Guild in the fortieth year of its existence will surely be long remembered. The weather was fine, and, though warm enough, was made enjoyable by a strong breeze. The place of meeting was Oxford, the centre of this great Diocese, and, therefore, the Guild was well represented. Bishop Shaw, an honorary and honoured member of the Guild, acted for the Dean and Chapter of Christ Church in giving a welcome to the Guild to use the Cathedral for the service, the Chapter House for the business meeting, and the dining hall for the luncheon. The number present could not have been far short of 200.

CHRIST CHURCH CATHEDRAL, OXFORD.

Where the Diocesan Guild's War Memorial was Unveiled.

But the special feature of this festival was the unveiling and dedicating of the Guild memorial tablet on the walls of the Cathedral cloisters, which followed the festival service at 11 a.m. The sermon was preached by one whom every ringer delights to honour, the Rev. G. F. Coleridge, Hon. Canon of Christ Church, President of the Central Council, and one of the founders of the Diocesan Guild.

He took his text from 1 Maccabees ix. 10, 'God forbid that I should do this thing and flee away from them: if our time be come let us die manfully for our brethren, and let us not stain our honour,' upon which he based a fine exhortation on the duty and glory of living out our faith.

The singing was entirely congregational, and it was a joy to hear and to share in, especially, perhaps, the last hymn, Arkwright's 'The Supreme Sacrifice.' Then came the procession to the cloisters, where Bishop Shaw unveiled and dedicated the memorial tablet. It is executed in a very fine piece of Portland stone, which bears the simple but forceful inscription: 'Remember the men of the Oxford Diocesan Guild of Church Bell Ringers who fought and fell in the great war, 1914-1918.'

At the foot is carved a laurel wreath, and at the top a church bell on its stock, with ropes and sallies representing, surely, not only the badge of their particular service to the Church of God, but the great crossbeam of wood

Representeth the Holy Rood
Upon which like a bell our hopes are hung,
... and the Rope with its twisted cordage three,
Denoteth the Scriptural, Trinity
Of Morals and Symbols and History.'

And as the Bishop proceeded with the ceremony, the book wherein are illuminated the names of the fallen was presented open by the Guild secretary.

After the Blessing, the Last Post was sounded by buglers from Cowley Barracks, the old walls yielding themselves readily to the clear strong notes.

And so we passed on to our business meeting and our social meal, after which all the bells in Oxford—so it seemed—were set ringing.

LONDON SURPRISE ROYAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Bramble is not alone in being unable to believe Mr. Trollope's statements with regard to 'London.' Had he been content to say that he had produced London Royal in thirty minutes I could have been content, but when he goes on to say that he also produced London Maximus that is quite another matter, for I know quite well, and am prepared to prove, that it is impossible to obtain a lead of London on twelve bells.

Consequently I am forced to believe that there is something wrong with Mr. Trollope's system.

I am quite in agreement with Mr. Trollope that 'the closest ever produced' is no use. That is the reason that I kept on until I had produced the real thing, and I am quite prepared to give a clear and satisfactory proof that the figures that I have given are 'London Surprise Royal.'—Yours truly,
E. BANKES JAMES.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

INSCRIPTION FOR THE MEMORIAL BELL.

The postponed festival of the Hereford Diocesan Guild was held at Stokesay on Saturday, July 23rd. After some touches on the peal of six, Divine service was held, when the Guild's special form was used for the first time. The Rev. H. S. T. Richardson (Rector of Hopesay) conducted the service, and also preached an excellent sermon on Rom. xii. 10, 'In honour preferring one another.' He worked out the truth that the characteristics that were necessary to make a good Christian were exactly those that were necessary to make a good bell ringer, namely: 1, Unselfishness—forgetting self and obeying the conductor; 2, Ambition—not being satisfied with present attainments; 3, Perseverance.

Fifty-four sat down to an excellent luncheon in the Old Castle Hall (built before the year 1284), under the presidency of the Master (Mr. J. G. Buchanan). The usual toasts were honoured.

Then followed the business meeting, at which were present twelve more members, bringing the total membership present up to 65. The meeting lasted two hours, and was most satisfactory.

After the election of officers it was agreed that the annual festival in 1922 be held at Hereford on Whit-Monday, June 5th.

The following inscription was approved for the tenor of All Saints', Hereford, which is to be recast in memory of fallen ringers:—

'To the Glory of God, and in memory of ringers of the Diocese who fell in the great war, 1914-1918, this bell was recast by the Hereford Diocesan Guild of Bell Ringers.—Geoffrey W. Turner, hon. sec.'

RINGER'S DEATH IN AUSTRALIA.

MR. MATTHEW ELLSMORE DIES AT SYDNEY.

It is with deep regret that we have to announce the death of Mr. Matthew Ellsmore, at Sydney, Australia, on May 31st. He left England at the beginning of the year, and took with him the addresses of many ringing friends in Australia. Soon after his arrival there, however, he was seized with pneumonia, and passed away. Mr. E. J. Harding, of Portsmouth, received letters from him dispatched from various ports on the way out, and Mr. Ellsmore was anxiously looking forward to having some ringing, although 71 years of age. He rang his last peal of Bob Major at West Meon on September 18th, 1920, in 3 hours 5 minutes. His last pull in England was at St. Mary's, Portsea, on January 24th, when he rang touches in the Standard methods, and a touch of Double Norwich, which was the first in the borough by a local hand—a record of which he was very proud. Mr. Ellsmore was of a very happy disposition, and endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact. He was ever ready to impart his knowledge of ringing to any who desired to learn, and was especially happy to relate his experiences in ringing towers with the late Rev. F. E. Robinson. His ringing friends will be very sorry to hear of his decease.

A WORTHY PERFORMANCE.

The excellent performance of Mr. H. J. Poole, in calling, as his first peal as conductor, a peal of Cambridge Surprise from a working bell, when only 18 years of age, induces Mr. Arthur Edwards, of Boreham, to say that he called a one-part peal of Grandsire Triples (Penning's) at the same age, and three months later Holt's Original, which he conducted again on his 19th birthday. Readers will agree with Mr. Edwards that the calling of one-part peals of Triples is about as big a tax upon a conductor as anything in the calling line can be. Mr. Edwards has made something of a hobby of one-part peals, for with the exception of six-part peal of Oxford Bob—for a special occasion, composed and rung by men of the horticultural profession—all the peals of Triples he has conducted have been one-part peals, including Carter's one-part peal of Stedman, and a one-part peal of Union Triples. Holt's Original has been called from each bell round the tower, and from an inside pair of handbells. Such a record is a very worthy one.

METHOD CONSTRUCTION. THE EXTENSION OF DOUBLE NORWICH. By GEORGE BAKER.

Anyone who knows anything of method construction will quickly recognise that the following leads are the correct extensions of Double Norwich to ten and twelve bells.

The construction of the methods given in Shipway as Double Norwich Royal and Maximus can claim about as much relationship to the Major method as chalk can to cheese.

An examination will prove that every shunt of the Major is reproduced in the Royal, plus a similar shunt for the two extra bells, and again in the Maximus every shunt of the Major and Royal is reproduced, plus an extra shunt for the additional bells. Here we have a concrete example of extension from 8 to 12 bells, but we must by no means think we have round blocks in each instance that will give us methods. The Major and Maximus are perfect methods, but a method of Royal with the lead-head of 1860492735 is an impossibility, we have here simply a three-part touch, which anyone can prove by transposition. I have very little doubt that some of our composers are clever enough to obtain peals of Royal from these three leads, but Double Norwich Royal as a method does not and never did exist.

From the above we can deduce the axiom that all the shunts in a Major method must be reproduced in extending to Royal and Maximus, plus similar shunts if necessary for the additional bells. Another important truth not to be lost sight of is the fact that every method on even numbers of bells must have equal numbers of odd and even changes.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD. GUILDFORD DISTRICT.

A very successful meeting was held at Binsted on Saturday, July 18th, ringers being present from Aldershot, Bentley, Binsted, Blackmoor, Godalming, Guildford (two towers), Shere, Seale and Farnham, and visitors from Farnborough and Swindon. Service was held in the church at 5 p.m., conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. W. G. Thompson), who gave an excellent address. A capital tea was partaken of in the Institute, the Vicar presiding, after which a short business meeting was held, Mr. W. R. Melville being in the chair, the Vicar being unable to stay.—The usual vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar and organist.—Several touches of Minor and Doubles were brought round during the afternoon and evening. The bells at Froyle and Bentley were also rung during the evening.

FEN DITTON OUTING.

St. Mary's Society, Fen Ditton, held their annual outing on June 30th, when 26 ringers and friends spent an enjoyable time. They first visited Chesterton, where 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung by: J. Martin 1, T. Ward 2, L. Mallion 3, E. G. Hibbins (conductor) 4, A. Palmer 5, H. Newman 6. Proceeding to Strettham, 120 each of new Doubles, St. Simon's, Stedman, and Grandsire were brought round. At Wilburton, 720 Oxford Bob was rung: J. Martin 1, T. Ward 2, H. Newman 3, L. Mallion 4, E. G. Hibbins (conductor) 5, H. Wishbeach 6. Next, at Haddenham, short touches of Kent and Plain Bob were rung. The final tower visited was Sutton, where 720 Plain Bob was brought round by: J. Nichols 1, T. Ward 2, H. Newman 3, A. Turner 4, A. Palmer 5, E. G. Hibbins (conductor) 6.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD. GAINSBOROUGH AND LINCOLN DISTRICTS.

A combined meeting of the Gainsborough and Lincoln Districts was held at Stow on Saturday week, a good number of ringers and friends being present from Gainsborough, Misterton, Scothorne, Lincoln and Bigby, in addition to the local company.

The bells, and also those of Willingham Church, were available during the day, and kept going in the standard methods. Service was held at 4 p.m., at which the Rev. J. Barber (Rector of Stow) officiated. The lesson was read by Mr. F. F. Linley (President of the Northern Branch), and a very instructive and helpful address was delivered by the Rev. H. T. Parry (Rector of Bigby).

An excellent tea was provided in the Schoolroom, and was followed by the business meeting, at which Mr. Linley presided, supported by the two clergy mentioned.—Apologies for absence were announced from Canon Hicks, Rev. A. B. Peirce, Messingham, and Mr. G. Chester, Lincoln.

Mrs. J. Barber (Stow) and Mr. E. Dawber (Gainsborough) were duly elected honorary members.

After the routine of business had been disposed of, the Chairman gave a resume of the financial position of the Northern Branch, as compared with pre-war days, and followed with a very interesting account of Stow Church, referring also to the different occasions upon which church bells were rung in the past.

Votes of thanks to the incumbents and churchwardens of Stow and Willingham for the use of the bells, the Rev. H. T. Parry for his very helpful address, Miss Bowen for presiding at the organ, the lady members of the local company, and all others who had helped toward making the meeting such a success, and to the chairman for his most interesting paper, were unanimously passed and duly responded to.

This brought the business meeting to a close, after which the members adjourned to the two towers for further ringing.

SALOP ARCHIDIACONAL GUILD. MEETING AT COALBROOKDALE.

The half-yearly meeting of the Salop Archidiaconal Guild was held at Holy Trinity, Coalbrookdale, on Saturday week. Forty-seven members and friends attended, and the following towers were represented: St. Chad's and St. Mary's, Shrewsbury; Ellesmere, Cardington, Cound, Malinslee, Highfield. The Rev. F. Tennison, hon. secretary (St. Alkmund's, Shrewsbury), the Rev. Preb. C. B. Crowe (Vicar), and Messrs. Herbert Hughes and Frederick Johnson (churchwardens), of Coalbrookdale, were also present. Ringing commenced immediately after the marriage of Mr. Ivan Adamson (eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Adamson, of Wallasey Park, near Liverpool), and Miss Marjorie Doughty (second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Doughty, of Coalbrookdale). The crowd of people in the church and the immediate neighbourhood, together with the firing of fog signals and the bells, all went to prove the very high esteem in which both parties are held. Ringing went on at intervals during the afternoon, short touches being the order of the day. Four ladies took part in the ringing, viz., Mrs. K. C. Buss and the Misses Phyllis and Muriel Harley, of Cardington; also Miss Beatrice Bennett, Coalbrookdale.

Forty-two members and friends sat down to tea at Trinity Hall, after which the business meeting took place, the Vicar being in the chair. He and his wardens referred to the real pleasure it was to welcome the visitors to Coalbrookdale, and they also spoke most highly of their own local ringers.

It was decided to hold the next monthly meeting at the Clive, where there is a peal of six (tenor 25 cwt.). The next quarterly meeting, as arranged at the annual meeting, will be at Ellesmere.

The Hon. Secretary, in moving a vote of thanks to the Vicar and wardens for the kindly way they had received the gathering, referred to the Vicar's recent appointment as prebendary, and said this was a great honour to the Rev. C. B. Crowe and Coalbrookdale.—The Vicar, in replying, said the honour was not of his own seeking. He told the company that he had spent his happiest days during the past 23 years moving amongst his own parishioners.

The meeting over, a return was made to the tower by some, while others took advantage of the beautiful surroundings, and indulged in boating on the River Severn. The bells were kept going till nearly nine o'clock to the tune of Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob.

A BIRTHDAY COMPLIMENT.

On Tuesday, July 12th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung at the Church of St. James, Southbrook, Devizes, as a compliment to Mr. H. Brownlee West, the Master of the tower, who attained his 78th birthday on that day, and who has been acting as tower master for the past 13 years. Mr. West, since his retirement from the hon. secretaryship of the Devizes Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, has been made a vice-president. The quarter-peal was rung in 42 mins. by: S. Sutton 1, S. Hillier (conductor) 2, W. Swift 3, G. W. England 4, C. D. Heginbotham 5, F. Tiley 6.

THREE YEARS' LABOUR ON A METHOD COLLECTION.

On Sunday morning, July 17th, a very interesting little incident took place in the belfry of the Parish Church of Norton-le-Moors, Staffs, when Mr. J. E. Wheelton presented to the tower a large Campanological Method Book, in case, which he has himself written out, containing 117 methods, consisting of Plain Methods, Treble Bob, Third and Fourth Place Delights and Surprised Methods. Mr. Wheelton has been engaged on this book in his spare time for the last three years, and has presented it to commemorate his 21st year as leader of Norton belfry, where, during that period, he has spent so many happy hours in the fascinating art of campanology.

During that period he has served under four Rectors, with whom he has always worked very harmoniously, and has been very fortunate in having a good body of young men in the belfry, who have taken up the art of change ringing with assiduity.

The Rector (the Rev. J. G. Hamlet, B.A.), in accepting the gift on behalf of the church, said it gave him very great pleasure to receive such a useful book, for it would be present in the belfry for future generations to refer to when engaged in either plain or complicated methods, there being methods in the book to suit either the novice or the expert. The time spent on this book by Mr. Wheelton must have been enormous, and he complimented him upon the neatness of execution. He had no doubt of the exactitude of the work. He thanked Mr. Wheelton for his great energy, faithfulness and sincerity as leader of Norton belfry for the last 21 years, and hoped he would be spared for many years to serve them as he had done in the past.

Mr. W. C. Lawrence, on behalf of the ringers, said how grateful they all were for this useful addition to the campanological literature of the belfry and said they would always look upon it with pride, for there had always been friendly relations between the leader and ringers of Norton belfry. He sincerely hoped Mr. Wheelton would be able to be with them for a long time yet to come.

A DORSET, DEVON AND SOMERSET TRIP.
AN EXCURSION IN THREE COUNTIES.

The motor charabanc is now the favourite means of touring the country, especially for a ringers' outing, and by this means the Wyke Regis (Weymouth) band made a circular trip of 140 miles for their annual outing on Saturday, July 16th. The party, numbering 28, including the Rector, curate and churchwardens, and adult members of the choir, made a splendid tour by the best car in the fleet of the Weymouth Motor Company. The venue was Exeter. The party left at 7 a.m., and journeying via Upwey and Martinstown, picked up the old Roman Road at Winterborne Abbas, the Via Iceniana (Icknield Street), from London to Exeter, through Bridport. The country was looking well, and despite the clouds hanging about some of the hills, most delightful stretches of country were for ever bursting into view, with glimpses of silver sea. The ease and comfort of the travelling on the Dorset heights helped to make the journey all the more pleasant. Chidecock Hill—a formidable obstacle to many vehicles of this nature—was successfully negotiated, and then we sped on through country of excellent beauty.

The first stop was made at Axminster. Here we made a dodge into glorious Devon, and rang a touch of Grandsire Triples on the fine old peal (tenor 21 cwt.). By a coincidence we met the ringers from Alphington (Exeter) on their way to Weymouth, and due to ring at Wyke Regis in the afternoon. Journeying on through lovely country, passing through Axminster Vale, a short stay was made at Honiton, and then on to Heavitree, which was reached in scheduled time, viz., 12 noon. A nice touch of Triples on one of the finest rings of eight in Devon (tenor 26 cwt.) was brought round, the ringers being delighted with the 'go' and tone of this lovely peal.

Afterwards we went into the city, where a substantial luncheon awaited us at the White Lion Hotel. Mr. Gardner, of St. David's tower, piloted us to the old Cathedral where we were also met by Mr. Davey (Master of the Cathedral band). Permission having been given by the Dean for us to view any part of the Cathedral, we were most fortunate in having as our guide, the Rev. H. E. Bishop, one of the greatest authorities on the building. The service being at 3, the ten bells were chimed, and those were listened to with great interest. Messrs. Davey and Gardner next piloted us to St. David's, and look part in a touch of Triples. The Vicar of St. David's was formerly Rector of Wyke Regis. Unfortunately the reverend gentleman was away, and thus missed seeing many of his old friends, but he left a kind message of welcome.

The car was waiting for us outside the church at 4 p.m., when we began our homeward journey, which was made via Ottery St. Mary. This church (said to be built to quarter-scale of the Cathedral) is one of the most handsome in Devon, and has a fine peal of eight bells. The party was met here by Mr. Godfrey and some of his ringers. The bells were raised in peal, and a well-struck touch of Triples was brought round. Incidentally, it may be remarked we did not experience the trouble with the sexton, as our Taunton 'brother strings' did a few weeks ago, while on their outing.

Chard was next visited (by dodging into that county of lovely churches, and especially noble towers, the pride of Somerset), and tea was partaken of at the Temperance Hotel. Opportunity was taken of thanking the hon. secretary for organising such a fine trip, and his services were eulogised by the Rector and other members of the party. Having rung on the somewhat heavy peal of eight, the journey was continued to Ilminster, which has a beautiful church and tower in the Decorated style, and a very fine peal of bells (tenor 22½ cwt.). This was the last ringing place, and, with old friends of the local band, some nice touches of Triples were brought round. The conducting throughout the day was principally in the hands of Mr. L. W. Wiffen. The last place visited was Crewkerne, where it was too late to ring, and after a look round and a refresher for the inner-man we started on our 30-mile journey home, in the moonlight, across the Downs, Wyke Regis being eventually reached just before the midnight chimes struck. Everybody had a most happy and enjoyable day that will long be remembered. It is worthy of mention that at midday the next day the full octave of bells was rung.

The ringers wish through 'The Ringing World,' to tender their grateful thanks to all the incumbents who so willingly granted the use of their bells, and to those ringers who gave such kind assistance, particularly Messrs. Davey and Gardner (Exeter), Laver (Heavitree), Godfrey (Ottery), Taylor and Crabb (Ilminster), and last but not least, the general secretary of the Devon Guild (the Rev. E. S. Powell).

ESSEX SECRETARY'S RETIREMENT.

The retirement of the Rev. H. T. W. Eyre from the secretaryship of the Essex Association marks, as it were, the parting of the ways. Thirty years' service in an office of this description is a rare example of devotion and sustained interest, and Mr. Eyre is fully entitled to relief from duties which are no mere sinecure. Since its formation forty years ago, the Essex Association has had only three secretaries, and they have been men whose names will long be remembered in the Exercise, the late Rev. H. A. Cockey and Canon Papillon having been Mr. Eyre's predecessors in office.

In laying down the reins of office the retiring secretary can look back upon work well and truly done, for he has left the Association with not only an almost record membership, and a solid financial position—both of which seriously felt the effects caused by the war—but what is more there is in the ranks of the Association an harmonious feeling which makes more for success than any other factor. In the reconstruction since the war, and in the promotion of the excellent spirit that exists among the Essex towers, Mr. Eyre has had a large share; but there is another who has played an equally important part in the work, namely Mr. C. H. Howard, the Master, whose unanimous re-election again this year must be to him pleasing evidence of the confidence and regard of the members. Both Master and Secretary have for years worked indefatigably in the interests of the Association, and very few district meetings have been held when one or both were not present—and Essex is not altogether an easy county to traverse. It has entailed no inconsiderable sacrifice of time to cover the ground as it has been covered, and the Master and the retiring Hon. Secretary have earned the gratitude of the members.

The resignation of Mr. Eyre leaves, we believe, the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, of the Kent County Association, the doyen among association secretaries, for he has been more than a quarter of a century in office. It seems to be increasingly difficult to find clergy with sufficient leisure to carry on the work of ringing association secretaries, and yet such appointments have their value. As these organisations are intimately associated with the Church, it always seems to us not only an advantage but almost essential that one or other of the executive offices should be held by a clergyman; because, whether we care to admit it or not, in certain matters he carries more weight than the average layman; and the association that has a clerical member who can act officially when occasion arises is therefore in a stronger position in dealing with ecclesiastical or parochial church authorities than any association which has no such officer. It matters not whether the clerical official is Hon. Secretary, or Master or President; the important fact is that there should be someone in each association officially identified with the Church, to act and speak for the ringers when dealing with Church matters. We do not, of course, mean this as any reflection upon the various well-managed associations which have not in their executive a clerical official; but we point it out merely as a matter which should be considered by all associations as a question of policy when appointments are made.

BELLS OF ST. PAUL'S.

AN OMISSION FROM AN INTERESTING BOOK.

(CONTRIBUTED.)

A volume of more than ordinary interest from the pen of Canon Newbold, of St. Paul's, has been recently published, entitled 'Years that are Past.' This charming work, enlivened by fine illustrations and mirth-provoking jocosities, contains a voluminous description of certain parish churches and of the Cathedral to which the author has been called, including the brasses, tablets and other relics of interest. It gives, moreover, a record of the manifold duties of canons, vicars, and other incumbents, a perusal of which will serve effectually to dispel any illusion entertained by the laity that these functionaries enjoy a feather-bed job.

While the book in the elucidation of these items may be said to afford a liberal education, we may be pardoned a sense of disappointment that in the enumeration of the treasures within the walls of the Cathedral, no mention is made of the famous ring of bells in the north-west tower; while there is but casual allusion to the ringers assigned to perform for Sunday service, as well as for occasions of public rejoicing and grief. If the merits and attainments of these 'College Youths,' whose reputation extends to the fraternity throughout England, is but imperfectly recognised, this is due partly to the fact that they are not wont, like other artists, to pose in the limelight. A little more self-assertion would, we think, be helpful. In the composition of their anatomical amalgam, moreover there seems to be a lack of 'brass.' Though unmatched in the manipulation of their trumpet-shaped bells, they modestly refrain from blowing their own trumpets. By those initiated, however, it is appreciated that they are masters of an art so intricate as to be difficult of acquisition, except by the few who possess an inherited talent, or are endowed with that special organisation which responds to the vibration of bells. Thus it is that those unfamiliar with the achievements of these ringers are apt to class them obscurely among the smaller 'guns' of the chapter, though they have to admit that their voice, as propelled through the brazen throats of their harmonious instruments, commands a larger audience, and is transmitted over a wider area than the combined voices of all the 'canons' of the diocese. If, as geologists tell us, there are sermons in stones, may there not be likewise as a corollary 'appeals' from bells? However that may be, we must confess that, while entertaining the greatest respect for the clerical profession, we would rather listen to a metal bell than to a 'wooden' preacher.

If church officials could be persuaded to mount occasionally to their towers they might be made to understand that belfries, as part of the consecrated fabric, are entitled to receive reasonable care; and that bells, as well as souls, are worth saving. And should these dignitaries manifest a disposition to encourage in any way the Exercise, it might be well to delicately hint that their efforts would be more likely to prove efficient if not limited to 'absent treatment.'

The typographical slip in spelling the word 'peal' (p. 278) may be explained by the fact that the compositor had in mind the poetic account of certain desquamated beauties who had come to grief from exposure to the sun's rays while bathing in scant costume at the seashore. The verses are headed:—

THE BELLES ARE PEELING.

If these fragmentary jottings, conceived in no unfriendly spirit, should perchance meet the eye of the worthy canon, it is to be hoped that they will not be considered a casus belli.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

HINCKLEY DISTRICT MEETING.

A monthly meeting of the Hinckley District was to have been held at Stoke Golding on Saturday, July 23rd, but, failing to get the use of the tower bells, the meeting was held instead at Earl Shilton, where the new Vicar (Rev. H. V. Williams) was pleased to place the new ring at the members' disposal. A good number of ringers attended from Barwell, Croft Hinckley, Higham, Kirkby-Mallory, Nuneaton, Pickleton, Sapcote, Stoney Stanton, Thurlaston, Wigston. The methods rung ranged from Grandsire Double to Kent Treble Bob Major.

The business meeting was presided over by the Vice-President (Mr. C. H. Webb). Two new members were elected, viz., Messrs. John D. Wright, of Thurlaston, and Hubert F. Wood, of Pickleton.—Two towers were nominated for the next place of meeting: Burbage and Kirkby-Mallory.—On being put to the vote the latter place was selected.

As this was the first meeting to be held at Earl Shilton since the death of the late Vicar (Rev. J. S. Maughan) sympathetic reference was made to the sad event, and the members stood in silence for a few moments as a mark of respect. Thanks were accorded to the Vicar for use of bells, and to the Earl Shilton ringers for having things in readiness.—Tunes and change ringing on handbells brought a pleasant meeting to a close.

Members are asked to note that future meetings will be advertised in 'The Ringing World.'

THE PRODUCTION OF NEW METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Amongst the devotees to every form of recreation may be found some whose interest is centred chiefly in the theory, and others who confine their attention to the practice of the particular pastime. Among ringers, those of the latter class form the majority, indeed, there is an opinion held by many of them that the theorists here are, for the most part, 'cranks'; and the reason for this is not far to seek. Unfortunately, some of our theorists not infrequently express their views in such a way that the average ringer either fails to grasp the practical significance of the statement, or (what is infinitely worse) entirely misinterprets it.

The consciousness of this fact, emphasised by the statements in Mr. Armiger Trollope's letter published on July 1st, prompted my former letter in defence of the position of authors of new methods; it was not, as Mr. Trollope suggests, because of an ambiguity in the report in 'The Ringing World' of his assertions at the Central Council meeting. The statements themselves were liable to be misinterpreted by some; but they are now being made a little more clear, thanks to the valuable medium of your columns. For example, Mr. Trollope now admits that (while there can be no 'ownership') there can be 'authorship' of methods. Bearing in mind that he has previously said that 'all methods have been worked out, and no one has the slightest chance of getting anything that has not been got before' (i.e., no one can possibly be the author of a method now), this is a most vital admission on his part. But a moment's reflection by Mr. Trollope, before making this statement at the Central Council meeting, would have resulted, doubtless, in his refraining from making it. After all, campanology is a comparatively modern art, and the number of theorists which each successive century has produced might almost be counted on one's fingers. It is obvious, therefore, that during the time represented by the sum of their ages all possible methods could not have been worked out! But even supposing there had been time, then is it not fallacious to assume that the method builders had strained every nerve in an endeavour to produce all possible methods, regardless of quality?

Would Mr. Trollope, in fact, care to accept a challenge to prove that anyone of the first three methods which might be placed in the hands of the Records Committee (C.C.) has been produced previously?

And this brings us to the second of the objects of my former letter—the question of 'extensions.' Mr. Trollope, in his latest letter, asserts that 'providing one understands the "laws of construction" of a method' (by which I take it that he means, if one grasps the essential features of the design of the method), 'it is quite a simple thing to extend the method from eight to ten, twelve or any other number.' May I point out, for the benefit of those members of the Exercise who are inclined to accept that dictum as it stands, that such a statement shows a lamentable ignorance of the properties of numbers, and that by the application of a little mathematical reasoning, it is not difficult to show that many Major methods are frequently incapable of extension, in the true sense, to the Royal version, and almost always to a prime number, such as 13! Yet Mr. Trollope says 'to any number.' There is far too much of the 'mysterious' atmosphere maintained around the theory of our Art and it is high time that the average practical ringer be allowed to realise that certain conventions having been adopted, the growth of a method is a perfectly natural and simple process.

Of course there are extensions and extensions; but we may discount any that—

- (a) Do not conform with the conventions of modern method-construction.
- (b) Have 'irregular' lead ends.
- (c) Depart, to any appreciable extent, from the original design.

Mr. Trollope talks glibly of the 'laws' of method-construction; but in the strict sense there are no laws. There are conventions which have been established, and which have been, in fact, summarised, for the most part, in the Central Council's 'Rules and Decisions'; but variety of design, which is the only thing that might be made subject to law, is almost infinite. Broadly speaking, the extensions of any method should introduce no new features; existing features may be repeated in the newly-situated working positions, or in the additional sections of the working, extra dodging places being inserted wherever the extended working demands them. An extension which conforms with these principles may be accepted (although possibly not perfect), as very 'close' to the original. The perfect extension (although Mr. Trollope would appear to be ready to accept the above) requires the fulfilment of one other condition.

It is a well-known convention (for reasons which cannot be discussed at this juncture) that Plain Bob lead ends (regular), and these only, shall be incorporated in the plain course of any even-bell method having a treble-hunt. Now, if the first lead ends of the Plain Bob method from Minimus (or Singles) to Maximus be compared, it will be noted that each time the method is extended the bells turn up in the same order at the beginning of the lead end change; in fact, the order of the last two bells only is altered in the extended lead end. For example, in Major, the first lead end of the Plain Course is 3527486; and so in Royal we shall expect to find the lead end change commencing in the same way; in fact, only the position of 8 and 6 altered; and this is so, viz.:—352749608. Now it does not follow from this, that in all treble-hunt even-bell methods the first lead of the plain course of the Royal version must be 352749608. Any one of the Plain Bob Royal lead ends may turn up first. For example, the first lead end of Cambridge Royal corresponds to the second of Bob Royal—573920486. So far, Mr. Trollope will not disagree; but it is at this point that the question arises as to whether a method is only closely extended or perfectly extended. Let us refer again to Cambridge Surprise. The Royal version would be accepted in any case, because it fulfils all three conditions (a, b and c) set out above; but it fulfils one other condition, and may, therefore, be said to be perfect (although even without this it would have been accepted). It will be observed that the order of the bells at the first lead end corresponds to the order of the bells at the first lead end of Cambridge Major (commencing 573 in each case). When lead ends in an extension turn up in a parallel arrangement like this, they may be said to be 'Associated'; alternatively they may be termed 'Dissociated'; and extensions may often be found with Dissociated lead ends in the plain course; which, while being quite admissible, are not, obviously, perfect. So Mr. Trollope's argument as to there being no 'very close' extension falls to the ground. On the contrary, we may add to the three conditions quoted above; a fourth, viz.:—

- (d) The extension must have Associated lead ends; i.e., if it is not to be merely 'very close,' but 'perfect.'

Mr. Trollope speaks of experimenting with figures, but surely he will be prepared to credit anyone but the mere novice with more intelligence than to attempt method-construction simply by copying rows of figures?

Personal experience has shown that the construction and extension of methods can be carried out without committing one single figure to paper.

In the light of Mr. Trollope's former letter (published on July 1st), may we ask him to be kind enough to the Exercise generally, to disclose his version of London Royal (which must, apparently, be perfect) and also show us how to extend Bristol to a ten-bell method? (In the latter case, mathematics tells us that an extension to Maximus may be possible.)

In conclusion, I would like to suggest that in order to eliminate, for the future, any risk of overlapping in the naming of methods, or of rival claims to authorship, some such procedure as the following be adopted:—

The author of a (supposedly) new method should forward a copy of a lead, with bob (and single, if any), proof scale, and a peal; together with a proposed title and an alternative, to the secretary of the Records Committee (C.C.). This committee, noting carefully the date of reception, would examine the method, and if it possessed qualities recommending its publication, would check, from existing records, whether it had been previously published. Methods thus 'passed' would have copies sent to the C.C. Librarian for filing; and at given periods, e.g., quarterly, a list of methods 'discovered' during the quarter, together with the registered title and date of discovery, might be published, under the authority of the Central Council, in 'The Ringing World.'—Yours very truly,
A. YORK-BRAMBLE.

THE NAMING OF METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir.—On Thursday, September 11th, 1919, a peal of Minor was rung at St. Nicholas' Church, Worcester, which contained as one of the methods, the amalgam of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, given to the band by the Rev. E. B. James. Now, the band wished to indicate to the Points Committee that one of the series of 720's had been produced in a different way to the others, and that it was a way that had not been used in a peal before, so they exercised the privilege graciously granted to all such companies by a benevolent Methods Committee, and gave it a name, or designation or distinctive appellation, whereby it might be known among its fellows; and if all those who refer to it, especially the methods and points gentlemen, will take the trouble to look it up they will, I think, find that the band did not call it 'Worcester Treble Bob.' They had the temerity to call it a variation of Treble Bob, and did not do that which the Methods Committee gave all ringers the privilege of doing—rename methods which their grandfathers had named. Our ancestors may not have known the difference between a Delight and a Pleasure, but the names they gave their methods should have been allowed to remain undisturbed. The committee said that the band, who was first to ring one of the methods, could call it what they liked, and this they did, in many cases at least, fifty years before the committee were born. Perhaps in another fifty years, when this committee have gone to their rest, we shall have another committee who will again allow the ringing public to rename all the six-bell methods after they had for a decade or so been known by a couple or so delightful or surprising names.—I am, yours, in fear and trembling.

ONCE A BEGINNER (ON SIX BELLS).

EXETER RINGERS IN MID-DEVON.

The annual outing of the members of the St. Sidwell's (Exeter) Society of Ringers took place on Saturday, 16th July, when a trip was made to Buckfast Abbey, Totnes, Paignton, Torquay, Newton Abbot, and Chudleigh. The party, including the churchwardens (Messrs. E. Shepherd and Panter) left Exeter by charabanc just after one o'clock, the Rector (the Rev. F. Jones) giving them a hearty send-off. Buckfast Abbey was reached at half-past three, and, through the kindness of the Lord Abbot, the visitors were shown over the Abbey (which is under restoration) by one of the priests. Particular notice was taken of the excellent architecture and work done by the monks in building their new church and tower, which will not be completed for ten years. The flowerbeds in front of the Abbey are picturesque with the very fine blooms of geraniums. After an inspection of the bells the ringers rang the new peal of 12 (tenor 30 cwt.), and also a touch of Grandsire Caters on the back ten. Later the party drove through the charming valley to Totnes, and on their arrival went to the parish church, where the beautiful toned eight bells were rung. After tea a move was made for Exeter via Paignton and Torquay, when a good view of the Fleet in Torbay was obtained. The arrangements made by Mr. W. Richardson (hon. secretary) and Mr. W. Drake (hon. treasurer) were capital, and the trip was thoroughly enjoyed.

YATELEY RINGERS' NEW PRESIDENT.

The annual meeting of the Yateley band of ringers, Hants, was held at Hilfield, on Wednesday, July 20th. Miss B. Stilwell presided, and after the usual routine business the election of officers took place. In proposing Miss B. Stilwell president of the band, the foreman, Mr. S. Riddell, referred to the great loss the band had recently sustained through the death of Mr. Stilwell, who had been president for many years, and it was still hard to believe that he was gone. It was the wish of the whole band that Miss Stilwell should be asked to fill the position, and it was a great gratification to them that she consented. Miss Stilwell is shortly proceeding to Australia for at least a year, so Mr. H. Tice kindly agreed to act during her absence as vice-president. Ringers will wish her a pleasant time, and trust that she may be able to continue her change ringing 'down under,' where we are sure, a hearty welcome will await her in any tower she may visit.

Mr. S. Riddell was re-elected foreman, and also undertook to carry out the duties of treasurer during Miss Stilwell's absence. After the meeting the band were kindly entertained to supper. At present they are pondering upon how they are to get over the loss of one of the most regular ringers during the next twelve months, as good and regular ringers in country districts are not so easily trained.

BISHOP RYDER'S RINGERS AT KING'S NORTON.

The ringers of Bishop Ryder's Church, Birmingham, had a most enjoyable outing on Saturday, July 9th, to King's Norton. The party numbered 15 ringers and friends, including the Rev. Canon G. Badger, M.A. (Vicar), and the Rev. A. D. Alton (curate), and they were very kindly met at King's Norton Church by Mr. C. Webb, the genial towerkeeper, and several of the local ringers. Some good ringing was done, including Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major for a short time before and after tea, and the promising young band from Bishop Ryder's rang some good rounds and call changes.

The tea was very kindly provided by Alderman J. S. Pritchett, M.A., on the Vicarage lawn, where about 20 sat down, including the Alderman and Mrs. Pritchett, and Mrs. Price, wife of the Rev. Canon H. Price, the Vicar. The day was a beautiful one, the scenery and gardens looking very nice, and everybody appeared to enjoy themselves. One face was very much missed, namely, that of Mr. W. H. Carrod, who recently passed to his long rest.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Alderman for so kindly providing and arranging such a bountiful tea, to Mrs. Pritchett and Mrs. Price for the pleasure of their presence, and to the Rev. Canon Hugh Price, M.A., for the use of his lawn and the bells. The young band at Bishop Ryder's are determined to master the intricacies of change ringing, and are making good progress under the Tower Master, Mr. James George.

THANKS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Will you allow me, through the 'Ringing World,' to express my grateful thanks to the Rochester District secretary of the Kent County Association for getting up the subscription list on my behalf, and to all ringers and friends who subscribed, and to assure them that the sum of £12 3s. which I received came as a very pleasant surprise to me in the time of my incapacity. I greatly value their kindness, and thank one and all most sincerely.—Yours faithfully,

G. A. HAYES.

Eglinton Road, Swancombe, July 25th, 1921.

AN EXCURSION IN CHESHIRE.

On Saturday, July 16th, the St. Peter's company had their annual outing to Peover, situated in a most delightful part of Cheshire. Leaving Ashton-under-Lyne at 1.15 p.m., the party arrived at Knutsford, famous for its gaol, now put to better service in the training of candidates for the ministry of the Church. The visitors were met by their kind friend, Mr. S. Hough, who had things ready for the fair belles of 'Ashton Old Town.' The bells were raised in peal, and set going to the tune of Grandsire and Plain Bob, Mr. Hough, his son, and Mr. Webb joining with the ladies in touches. Many a student has for the first time learned to pull a bell and been initiated into the mysteries of change ringing in this tower. The Knutsford company are doing much spade work, from which the Exercise at large will ultimately reap the benefit. From the top of the church tower an extensive view of the whole of Cheshire is to be obtained. The Derbyshire hills to the east and the Welsh mountains to the south-west make up a wonderful picture. After leaving Knutsford the party passed many prematurely ripened cornfields and meadows that were thirsting for rain. After partaking of tea at Allostock, they made for Peover church, where there is a handy peal of six. This old twelfth-century building bears the marks of Time's ruthless work. The carved oak of the chancel, pulpit, etc., was much admired.

Arrangements for a pull on the bells had here been made. Mr. Hough and the party were pleased to meet the esteemed leader of the Peover company, Mr. Scragg. The bells are rung from the ground, floor, opening out to the churchyard, and whilst the bells were being rung by the belles, a very large crowd gathered to witness what was to most of them a unique spectacle, and dispelled from many a mind the idea that ringing was necessarily a hard and laborious matter, especially when they saw the young daughter of the captain of the company (Mr. W. Wolstencroft) deftly handling a rope. After signing the visitors' book and posing for the camera men, expressions of appreciation were accorded to Messrs. S. Hough, Webb and Scragg, and a start was made on the homeward journey, via Alderley, Wilmslow and Brumhall. At one point on the route, where two roads met, a voice remarked that Mottram was straight ahead. Never will that moonlight drive be forgotten. Perched high up on a hill, and silhouetted against the sky-line, was the ever-famous tower of St. Michael's, Mottram. The ringers longed for a pull, but the peaceful quietude of the place told them that all had 'gone to roost.' So they turned at full speed for Ashton via the deep cutting, which is a reminder of the sad days of the long, dreary cotton panic of the early sixties. Home was reached at 11.30 p.m., after a day never to be forgotten. Every ringer was at his and her post on the Sunday morning, and was glad to welcome Mr. William Jakeman, of U.S.A. (formerly the respected conductor of the Ashton St. Peter's company twenty years ago, and tutor of the present captain), who, with his wife, is on a visit to the homeland.

ROCHESTER CATHEDRAL SOCIETY.

The 16th annual outing of the Rochester Cathedral Society took place on Saturday, July 16th. The route taken was from Chatham via Maidstone, and Ashford to Mersham, this being the first halt for ringing. Short touches of Grandsire and Stedman were brought round on the bells, which, however, need the attention of the bell hanger. It is worthy of note that it was here the Kent Association was brought into being by the late Rev. R. B. Knatchbull-Hugessen, he being the founder and first hon. secretary, while Vicar of the parish. The next stop was Hythe, where, after a stroll by the sea, dinner was partaken of at the Temperance Hotel. It being decided not to ring at Hythe, the party made tracks by the seashore for Folkestone via Sandgate. After inspection of the beautiful decoration of the fine old church, the visitors were met by a good old friend, in Mr. J. Sharman, who joined them for a pull—short and sweet—of Grandsire, Stedman and Treble Bob Major on the fine peal of eight worthy of the grand old church. Later, the party re-embarked for Canterbury, but there was half an hour's delay, caused by a missing member, who, however, was eventually restored to the flock. Canterbury was reached at 5.30. Here tea was a much welcome item, which the party had the pleasure of the company of the hon. secretary of the Kent Association (the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore). Afterward on the fine peal of ten at the Cathedral, short touches of Stedman Caters and Grandsire Caters were brought round. Home was reached at 10 p.m., after a most enjoyable day's outing, and the thanks of the party are extended to Mr. Paine, of Mersham; Mr. Binfield, of Folkestone; and the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, of Canterbury, for their assistance, and to the Dean and clergy for granting permission to ring on their respective bells.

HURST, BERKS.—On Saturday, June 25th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 49 mins.: W. Boyles 1, G. Talbot 2, G. Bull 3, W. J. Brooks 4, H. Lovelock 5, J. White 6, B. Hawkins (conductor) 7, E. Brant 8. Rung after an attempt for a peal had been brought to a close through Mr. Nye, of Bagshot, being recalled by telegram owing to an outbreak of fire. Mr. White, of Hurst, kindly filled the vacancy.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING AT WALTHAMSTOW.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS BY THE RETIRING HONORARY SECRETARY.

The annual meeting of the Essex Association was held on July 25th at Walthamstow, having been unavoidably postponed from Whit-Monday, due to the reduction of train service, consequent upon the miners' strike. There was a good attendance of members from Suburban Essex, and also representatives from other parts of the county. Service was held at St. Mary's Church in the afternoon, the Vicar officiating, and the special ringers' form was used.

The Rev. H. T. W. Eyre, the retiring hon. secretary and treasurer to the Association, delivered his valedictory address from the pulpit on resigning the office after 30 years' service. Preaching from the words, 'Wee is me if I preach not the Gospel, and if I do this willingly I have a reward,' he said the words he had taken for his text were cast upon the waist of the Great Paul bell in St. Paul's Cathedral. A church bell was in a very real sense a proclaimer of the Gospel: the glad news of a Saviour present in life and death. The office of the ringer of the bell gave him the privilege of leading others to laud and magnify the Name which was above every other name. The preacher said bells and bellringing had had a fascination for him from his earliest days, and his name would go down to posterity in the three Essex bellries at Coggeshall, Great Totham and the Cathedral at Chelmsford. As soon as the new bells were placed in the belfry at Great Totham Church it became his lot to become his own sexton, and during his tenure of the benefice he rang for the deaths and funerals of 400 parishioners, a record in the case of the holder of a benefice, which he ventured to say was unique. When Queen Victoria died at 6.30 in the evening of January 22nd, 1901, the news reached Totham at 7.45, and he was enabled to ring her knell, in a quiet and isolated belfry, far from the madding crowd, when many towns took no notice till the following day. He also rang the knell for the Duke of Clarence, King Edward, and four Bishops. In 1890 he became assistant secretary to the Essex Ringers' Association, and it fell to his lot to preach the Gospel in that particular way. The work was becoming too great for Canon Papillon, who, up to that time, had been practically its only executive officer. In 1901 the county was divided into four districts, and last year into five, each with its own Master and secretary. The gain to the association had been immense. Now it had recovered from the ravages of the war, and renewed its youth and vigour; its financial position was stable and strong. He had been for 30 years secretary and treasurer to the association, and he ventured to say that of the many associations of ringers, spread over the length and breadth of the land, there were few officials, if any, who had had a longer tenure. His services had been rendered willingly, and with a glad heart, and now he had his reward. All through the thirty years he had been treated with the greatest kindness, and he hoped that his labours had not been in vain. He had received loyal support and many treasured gifts from the members, and he said farewell with the earnest wish that the Essex Association might long live and extend its borders, and that the ringers would be blessed in the honourable work they were doing for Church, King and Country.

A YEAR OF UNPARALLELED PROGRESS.

Tea followed at the Church House, the Master of the Association, Mr. C. H. Howard (Braintree), presiding, and the business meeting succeeded the tea. The annual report and balance sheet, presented by the Master as follows, were unanimously adopted:—The 41st annual report of the Association's work is highly satisfactory. The membership totals 936, showing an increase of 108 on the year, after allowing for losses due to deaths and other causes. My ambition has always been to have a thousand members—which I think will be accomplished during the coming year. Our income of £32 11s. 8½d. has not been sufficient to meet our expenditure, £37 4s. 4d., showing a net loss on the year of £4 12s. 8d., accounted for principally by extra cost of printing and postage. The raising of subscriptions from 1s. to 1s. 6d. will, it is hoped, meet our current expenses, and in time enable us to replace the £20 transferred from Reserve Fund. During the year 57 peals were rung, against 28 in 1919. The methods ranged from Grandfire Doubles to Stedman Cinques. Included in this list is the extraordinary result accomplished by Mr. W. Eyre and his band in their week's tour in the county. They rang no less than eleven peals in Surprise Major methods in eight days. The heavy ring of six at Kelvedon has been rehung; the bells of All Saints' (10) and Holy Trinity (6), West Ham, have each been overhauled and put in good ringing order. The ancient ring of eight at Finchingfield, which from a chaugeringer's point of view, has been practically unringable for 30 years, is to be rehung and the bells quarter turned. It is hoped the work will be completed and the bells re-opened during the present year. I regret to report that we have lost by death several prominent supporters: Bishop Stevens, of Barking; Rev. Canon Andrewes, Vicar of Harlow; Canon Corbett, Rector of Wanstead; Canon Sanders, Rector of Woodford; the Rev. E. S. Glover, Vicar of Writtle; the Rev. D. N. Younge, Vicar of Boreham; and Mr. J. Dutton, of Chelmsford, Honorary Members; Messrs. W. Grimwade, A. J. Perkins, O. L. Twist, J. Taylor, G. T. Clayton, E.

Chaplin and W. Moore, all of whom took a lively interest in our work. Mr. W. Moore was an original member, and had been a regular attendant at meetings since the formation of the Association in 1879. While we regret that the Castle Heddingham company have severed their connection with us, we welcome the following new towers: Black Notley, Finchingfield, Wethersfield, Wormingford, and Great Chesterford. Tollesbury, Galleywood and Stanford-le-Hope have rejoined—making a total of 96 towers in union with the Association. The annual gathering at St. Peter's, Colchester, drew a large attendance. The Rev. Canon Triffitt Ward, Vicar, gave us a hearty welcome. The address, a very practical one, was given by Rev. J. Evans, Rector of St. Giles. The proposal to erect in the Cathedral a memorial to fallen ringing members was unanimously passed, and a committee was appointed to see the work carried out. The plans submitted have since been amended on the advice of the Cathedral Architect, with the result that we have a fitting memorial worthy to commemorate those of our members who made the supreme sacrifice for King and Country in the Great War. The position chosen over the door leading to the ringing chamber is eminently appropriate. District meetings have been held at Sawbridgeworth, Saffron Walden, Bishop's Stortford, Colchester, Wormingford, Tollesbury, Langham, Broomfield, Brentwood, Maldon, Rettendon, Springfield, Chigwell Row, Prittlewell, Hornchurch, West Ham, Stebbing, Finchingfield, Foxearth, and Halstead. Proceeding these meetings, there have been services at the churches in the parishes, and the attendances show that we realise the sacredness of our calling. These services have helped us to appreciate our position as Churchworkers. Our position as ringers is unchanged under the provisions of the Church Enabling Act. In the past, our relations with the clergy have been of an amicable character, and we trust that they will continue so in the future. This exception of ringers from the control of Parochial Church Councils shows that we are recognised by the National Assembly as voluntary church workers, and the importance of our position is on an equality with the choir. I should like to take this opportunity to urge upon all the necessity to take the 'Ringing World' each week, as this is the only medium in existence serving the interest of our noble art. The year's work may be summed up as a record of unparalleled progress, due in a very large measure to our district officers who have carried out their duties during the year in a most efficient and praiseworthy manner. On behalf of the Association I tender to them our grateful thanks for their untiring efforts, and congratulate them on the result attained.

MASTER SUGGESTS A CHANGE.

During the election of Master, Mr. Black temporarily took the chair. Mr. Lucas (Walthamstow) proposed the re-election of Mr. C. H. Howard as Master.—This was seconded in two places, and carried unanimously.

Mr. Howard, in accepting the office, said he mentioned at Colchester last year that he considered for some years it would be in the interest of the Association that a change should be made in the position of Master. He had held the office for 15 years, and it would be well for the Association to seriously consider the question of a change. As the meeting had unanimously re-elected him Master again he would continue for one year, and hoped the members would choose someone from among themselves in whom they would have confidence as Master. He felt there were younger men from whom a choice of Master could be made, and so bring new ideas to the work. He felt he was standing in the way of someone who would not allow his name to be put forward if he (Mr. Howard) was willing and anxious to hold the position. That was not the position, and he would gladly welcome the successor appointed by the Association, and promise him unlimited support (hear, hear). He thanked the members for re-electing him Master, which he looked upon as a renewal of confidence (applause). Mr. Howard went on to say that the members heard in the church that the Rev. H. T. W. Eyre had decided to resign the offices of hon. secretary and treasurer to the Association. He had held the offices for 30 years, and the Association were very grateful to him for all he had done. The Essex Association, formed in 1879, had only had three hon. secretaries since Mr. Seaman formed it: the Rev. H. A. Cockey, Canon Papillon, and the Rev. H. T. W. Eyre. The Association had risen from very small figures to the proud position it now occupied, and this was very largely due to the excellent work by Mr. Eyre during his long term of office. The members would convey warmest thanks to Mr. Eyre for all he had done, with best wishes for a happy retirement, and they hoped to see him at the meetings of the Association whenever it was possible for him to attend (applause).

THE NEW HON. SECRETARY.

Mr. J. A. Black (Woodford) proposed, and Mr. Coles (Walthamstow) seconded, that Mr. F. Pitstow, jun. (Saffron Walden), be elected hon. secretary and treasurer to the Association, and this was carried unanimously.—The Master said Mr. Pitstow was an excellent choice for the office, and it was due to the name of Pitstow, which had long been associated with ringing in Essex, that they should honour it by electing a member of the family as hon. secretary and treasurer.

The Peal Committee was re-elected, and Messrs. J. A. Black and T. Faulkner were re-elected auditors.

Mr. T. Faulkner moved, in accordance with notice, that in future the annual meetings of the Association be held at Chelmsford. He said since the Association decided to hold their annual meetings at different centres in Essex, Chelmsford had become the Cathedral City of the county; there was a peal of 12 bells, and Chelmsford was the home of the ringers' association. Also Chelmsford was the geographical centre, and there were very convenient towers near for ringing. —Mr. Theobald (Leytonstone) seconded.—Mr. Lucas (Walthamstow) suggested that the meetings should be held alternately at Chelmsford and Bishop's Stortford, so as to serve the western side of Essex.—On a vote the meeting decided in favour of returning to Chelmsford for the annual meetings.—The Master stated that now the decision had been reached to go to Chelmsford each year for the annual meeting, he had no hesitation in saying that circumstances had changed since the Association decided to hold its annual meetings in each district in rotation. The meetings at Chelmsford were always very successful, and there could be no better place for ringers to meet in Essex. Chelmsford had become the pivot of Church life in the county. That meeting was rather small, due to the necessary adjournment from Whit-Monday, but it was worth noting that every tower in Essex had been advised of the resolution to return to Chelmsford for the annual meeting, and not one had intimated any objection to the proposal.

PEALS TAPPED ON HANDBELLS.

Mr. T. Faulkner raised the question of booking peals tapped on the handbells by Mr. Morris, of Dovercourt.—The Master reported that he had been asked to book only one of the many rung, and he had accepted payment of the fee, and asked the Association to consider what was to be done in future.

After discussion, the following resolution was passed: 'That seeing that peals tapped on handbells were not recognised by the Central Council, in future they will not be booked by the Essex Association.'—It was agreed that this resolution did not exclude the one which had been booked, and which was recorded as an interesting performance.

On the proposition of Mr. Faulkner, it was decided to make an entry on the minutes of the Association of the appreciation felt for Mr. Eyre's 30 years' services as hon. secretary.—The Rev. H. T. W. Eyre proposed, and the Master seconded, thanks to the Vicar for the use of the room and for the church service.—Mr. Howard said, on going back to Chelmsford, the Association would be made doubly welcome, and it would be proved they were right in deciding to hold their annual meetings at Chelmsford.

At the close of the meeting, Mr. W. Pye made a collection for Mr. H. Tarble, of West Ham, who has been ill for some time, and the amount received was £3 2s. 10d.

GRANDSIRE TRIPLES.

A NEW ONE-PART PEAL.

A new one-part peal of Grandsire Triples of merit has been composed by Mr. Louis Head, of Maidstone, the feature of which is that except that in the initial 'B' block, the 4th, 5th and 6th are never called 'before.' The peal contains 125 calls, and only two ordinary Grandsire Singles.

A SUSSEX TRIP.

The Seaford Parish Church bell ringers held their annual outing on Wednesday, June 29th, when they motored to Cuckfield and Bolney. Mr. T. Fisher (people's warden) accompanied the party, as also did Mr. W. Oxley (sidesman). Touches were rung by the party on the bells at both the parish churches. Tea was partaken of at the White Hart Hotel, Cuckfield, and the return journey was made later in the evening, after an enjoyable time had been spent.

Suffolk is to have a new peal of eight by the provision of an octave with 17½ cwt. tenor at Elvedon. Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have been entrusted with the work.

August 7th is the anniversary of the first silent peal of Stedman Triples rung at Drayton in 1899.

The anniversary of the first true peal of Grandsire Royal falls upon August 6th, and is another of the performances to which the Ancient Society of Painswick Youths can lay claim. It was a 5099 rung in 1815, and described in the society's peal book as 'Tittum Grandsire Royal.' It was excelled in length by a 6000 rung in the following October by St. Martin's Youths, Birmingham, who had in 1814 rung what afterwards turned out to be a false peal at the opening of the bells at Aston.

The restoration of the peal of eight at All Saints', Hereford, with the recasting of the tenor as a memorial to the fallen members of the Diocesan Guild, will shortly be completed by the Whitechapel Bell Foundry.

Messrs. Mears and Stainbank will also complete, within the next three or four weeks the peal of ten at St. Mary's, Stafford.

Mr. J. W. Jones, the energetic honorary secretary of the Llandaff Diocesan Association, is as enthusiastic a cricketer as he is a ringer. He has played the national game for his county, and is still a keen follower of the pastime. He has recently been visiting Manchester—primarily to watch the Test match, we shrewdly suspect, although he succeeded in putting in some ringing when the play was over. We believe we are right in saying that Mr. Jones has seen every Test match played in England for the past quarter of a century or more.

As illustrating the real live interest which the Master of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild takes in its affairs, the honorary secretary of the Dorchester Branch told the members at the district meeting the other day that Major Hughes D'Aeth last year travelled 2,000 miles in connection with the Guild.

The master carillonneur of Malines (M. Josef Denyn) paid his annual visit to Cattistock on Thursday of last week, when he delighted a large audience who had gathered in this little Dorset village, with a wonderful selection of carillon music. Unfortunately the eight bells in the tower which are hung for ringing are practically unringable, and there is no hand of ringers there.

LONDON SURPRISE ROYAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I remind Mr. Bankeg James that a negative is one of the hardest of things to prove, and when he says that he has proved that London will not extend to twelve bells it really means that the Maximus is impossible on the lines on which he is working. Which I quite believe. That he is mistaken I have the best of all reasons for saying, and I am prepared to give him extensions from eight up to sixteen bells, or more. Mr. James is an able and fair-minded man, and when he has seen them I know he will agree they are true extensions, though they may not be what he is trying for.

The great majority of methods have limited powers of expansion. Some will not extend at all; some will only extend on even numbers; some will only extend on odd numbers; some only on numbers that are multiples of four; some only on numbers in other progressions. But if a method will extend at all, there is no limit to its expansion within its proper progression. It is contrary to natural law for a method to extend from, say, eight to ten, and then abruptly stop, or to miss out twelve and reappear on fourteen. It is much more likely that Mr. James' extension is wrong somewhere, than that natural law should be broken.

Many methods will extend in a variety of ways; and because I have a true and correct extension of an eight-bell method it does not follow that there are not others just as good and perhaps better.

Before you can argue about these things you must settle what exactly it is you are going to extend, and what exactly you mean by extension. And you must have some test by which to prove whether your extension is correct. Such a test is by no means easy to lay down. Here are four, which, together, are quite infallible if you have knowledge enough to apply them.

1. The construction must be the same. This is the one vital test, but does not help us until we know what construction is.
2. The lead-ends must be the same.
3. The work of the bells must be the same and in the same order without any additions or alterations which are not implied in the original.
4. You must be able to lay down a formula in general terms by which, without any other aid, any competent person could write out the method on any number.

I would like to give this advice to persons who are interested in this matter of extension. Don't experiment with complex methods like London. Take a simple method like Kent, and try and see what does and what can happen there. When you have understood the natural laws which give the extension of Kent you will have no trouble in extending London.—Yours truly,

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

THE FESTIVAL AT OXFORD.

The annual festival of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, of which we gave a brief impression last week, drew together one of the largest assemblies of members that has foregathered during the Society's long existence. The beautiful service in the Cathedral, when the members honoured and perpetuated the memory of their fallen comrades by unveiling a tablet in the Cloisters has already been dealt with, and will long be remembered by those privileged to take part.

The business meeting was held in the Chapter House, and presided over by the Master (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), who, in reviewing the year's work, first reminded the members that the war memorial which they had dedicated that day, had not been supported by every tower in the diocese, but the fund was still open for further contributions. There had been, he said, a considerable improvement in the standard of striking in many towers, but not many peals had been rung, although a fair number had been attempted, and it was evident that there was an increasing number of ringers of both sexes who

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. R. T. Hibbert) pointed out the heavy cost that had been entailed by the war memorial and the roll of honour, and remarked that the balance sheet told a very different tale this year owing to this expense and various grants to restorations, honorariums, etc. Every tower had been circularised with regard to the memorial, and it was hoped that every member, whether honorary or ringing, would contribute to this fund, for the memorial was the one way to keep in remembrance the sacrifice of the 120 men of their Guild. Some towers had contributed handsomely, and to all who had sent donations the Memorial Committee tendered their sincere thanks. Continuing, the Secretary said they deplored the loss of one or two towers, and also the loss of some who might be called emergency members, who look up ringing during the time so many men were away, and who never quite got past the struggling phase of the ringer's career. On the other hand, they welcomed back Clanfield, an old tower, and several new towers had become affiliated, most could be depended upon to ring well in a peal. In resigning the Archdeaconry of Oxford and passing to an honourable retirement, Canon Houbton carried with him the sincere good wishes of all members of the Guild and their thanks for much kindness spread over many years. Death had removed from them two old and faithful servants of the belfry—Samuel Paice and Valentine Sear. Having referred to the restoration work carried out at Churchill, Ellisborough and South Stoke, the Master went on to say that the status of the Church bell ringer had lately been receiving the attention of the national assembly of the Church of England, and it had been decided that the ringer should continue to come under the authority of the incumbent and not of the Parochial Church Council. It was, however, essential that church bell ringers should identify themselves with the Church life in their parishes and assist in the working of these new Councils.

of them in the North and South Bucks branches, so that the membership for 1920 worked out at 167 towers in union, 570 honorary and unattached members, and 1,365 change ringing and probationary members, making the total 1,875. The peals were not quite so many as in 1919, but were quite up to the proportionate average of other associations. They had to congratulate the Stoney Stratford band on their Minor peals and on the range of methods they had conquered, viz., 15 Surprise, 8 Treble Bob and 7 Plain methods. Also they had to congratulate St. Ebbe's, Oxford, who were on the way to again make Oxford a place to be reckoned with. He had attended with the Master a good many branch meetings and combined practices, and in the latter he had great faith. The Hon. Secretary concluded by thanking the Master and hon. treasurer and the district secretaries and all the members of the Guild for the help they had given him.

WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL, 1921.

The reports and balance sheet were adopted, and the following officers re-elected: Master, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn; hon. secretary, Mr. R. T. Hibbert; hon. treasurer, Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis; committee, Rev. Canon Newhouse, Messrs. G. Caudwell G. Hollifield, E. Humphrey, J. Keyte, J. J. Parker, W. Newell, F. Webb, H. Scar and J. Evans. Messrs. A. D. Cullum and J. F. Barlow were elected to fill vacancies caused by the resignation of Messrs. F. W. Booth and A. W. Pike.

An honorarium of £20 was granted to the hon. secretary. Canon Coleridge, who is President of the Central Council, gave a resume of the proceedings of the Council at their meeting at Whitsuntide.

The following recommendations of the committee of votes in aid of restorations were adopted: South Stoke three guineas, Tackley two guineas.

It was decided to hold the next festival at Oxford, an amendment that it should be held at High Wycombe being defeated by a large majority.

The election of 47 probationary and 83 change ringing members was confirmed.

After the meeting, the annual dinner was held in Christ Church Dining Hall, the Master presiding. Votes of thanks were accorded to the Dean and Chapter for their welcome, to Canon Coleridge for his sermon and to the organist.

During the day the following towers were open for ringing: The Cathedral, New College, Merton College, Carfax, St. Giles, St. Mary Magdalen, All Saints, St. Aldgate's, St. Ebbe's, Holywell, Ifley, Headington and Kidlington.

CARISBROOKE BELLS.
DEDICATION OF RE-CAST PEAL.

On Wednesday evening, July 27th, the Right Rev. Bishop MacArthur solemnly dedicated the new peal of 8 bells at Carisbrooke, Isle of Wight, in the presence of a very large congregation. The service, which was fully choral, was taken as far as the third Collect by the Rev. T. S. Bushor, Vicar of Carisbrooke; the Rev. L. G. Tugwell (Calbourne), LL.D., Rural Dean, read the lesson, other clergy present being Revs. N. Gray (Curate), E. A. Fitch, C.F. (Parkhurst), and others. The Rev. G. E. Matthews (Milford), Vice-President of the Winchester Diocesan Guild, acted as Bishop's chaplain, and carried the Pastoral staff.

During the hymn 'Ring forth, Hojy Bells,' the choir, clergy and Bishop proceeded to the tower, where the actual dedication took place. This ended, the bells were immediately pealed for the first time, and a well struck touch of Grandsire Triples brought round. After the hymn 'Praise, my soul, the King of Heaven,' had been sung, the Bishop preached on Psalm 1, 5, 'Gather My saints together.' He said that a peal of bells were indispensable to the completeness of a church. For years some bells had been unringable and silent, and unable to give out their full message to the parish; but their music was necessary to articulate the feelings of the people. They had many functions, domestic, social, individual and national, apart from calling worshippers to God's house. Their sounds gave out God's clear call to the consciences of the parishioners—into His presence people were thus summoned. In these days masses needed to be reminded that there was a God, and from the bells a penetrating peal of reproach and warning could arouse the men and women of this sordid generation out of their apathy and callousness, and thus contribute their share towards the spiritual awakening of this worldly-minded age. His Lordship concluded his stirring address by quoting the inscriptions on the bells.

The hymn 'Now thank we all our God' was sung during the collection, and, after the Blessing, the choir and clergy left the church by the north door, just outside of which a presentation of a small model bell was made by Mr. C. Johnston to H.R.H. Princess Beatrice, who was present at the Dedication Service, and had seen the bells re-cast at the Croydon foundry. Her Royal Highness has shown a deep interest in this work of restoration. The model bell was cast from the same metal as the Carisbrooke peal.

The re-cast peal weighs 77 cwt. 0 qr. 17 lb., the tenor, a magnificent bell, in E, weighing 20 cwt. 1 qr. 0 lb. Hung in a new steel frame with ball bearings and tuned correctly according to Canon Simpson's principle, the harmonics of the whole eight bells are as perfect as modern tuning can make them. The effect when the whole peal was going, from the hill above the noble old Perpendicular tower, was truly charming, and everyone was delighted with Messrs. Gillett and Johnston's work—without doubt the most melodious peal in the Island.

Previous to the service, the churchwardens, Messrs. R. Fisk, H. L. Morris and G. H. Horsley, entertained the local ringers and those from Hyda and Newport to tea in the Sunday School; the Vicar, the Revs. E. Bankes James and C. E. Matthews, and Mr. C. Johnson being present.

The Rev. C. E. Matthews proposed a very sincere vote of thanks to the churchwardens, and hoped that Carisbrooke would soon possess a band of change-ringers, duly affiliated to the new Isle of Wight branch of the Diocesan Guild. Mr. W. Upton, the hon. secretary of this branch, is exceedingly keen, and, under his guidance, campanological things are beginning to 'hum' in the Island.

An interesting old stone tablet in Carisbrooke belfry with bas-relief carved representations of Newport and Carisbrooke Churches at the head, also two hands joined below a bell, records that on December 26th, 1777, the whole and compleat peal 5040 Holt's Grandsire Triples was rung in 3 hours 3 minutes by members of the above bands—all natives of the Island.

The dedication touch was rung by Newport ringers, and consisted of 168 Grandsire Triples: J. Simmonds 1, W. Chambers (conductor) 2, T. Scamell 3, W. Johnson 4, A. Callaway 5, W. Scott, sen., 6, W. Upton 7, J. Leal 8.

5040 GRANDSIRE TRIPLES.

To the Editor.

The following is a ten-part peal, in which all the ten parts are called alike. I published a similar peal in 'The Bell News' many years ago, and it was afterwards incorporated into Snowdon's 'Grandsire.' But owing, I believe, to the form in which it was published, which was not very clear to many conductors, and to the ill-advised selection of the 5th as observation bell, the peal is never rung.

I am asking you, sir, to be so kind as to insert this present peal in the form given below, in the hope that it may be useful to the conductors of the present day. It will be noticed that I have reduced the calls to 140.

A musical touch of 504 Stedman Triples is sent by Mr. W. Walmsley, of Macclesfield, got by Bobs at 2, 3, 4, 5, 8 at 7, Bob at 12, eight bobs with 6-7 behind, nine bobs with 7-4 and nine with 4-6, the whole being repeated. This contains all the possible 7-4's, 4-6's and 6-7's at backstroke. The first twelve sixes, five times repeated, give a touch of 432, or, omitting the singles, will come round at 212. The first 14 sixes, four times repeated, omitting singles, come round at 420.

SUNDAY SERVICE RINGER.

There is, at any rate, one regular Sunday service ringer older than Mr. Ted Horrex, and he is Mr. Thomas Conley, of St. Peter's band, St. Albans, who, if spared, will be 85 on September 14th next. He is a regular ringer twice each Sunday, and has been connected with St. Peter's bells for about 70 years, as, when quite a boy, he used to chime the bells for service. By profession a cabinet maker, he daily pursues his calling, walking backwards and forward to his business at meal times with the regularity of a young man. Mr. Conley says 'it goes against the grain to be idle.' Mr. G. W. Cartmel, in sending us this information, adds: 'We are reminded, by a board recording a peal of Treble Ten in the sixties, of Ted Horrex's performances in St. Peter's tower, alas, he is the only one of the band alive. All good wishes, Mr. Horrex.'

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In the report you kindly inserted last week of the Hereford Diocesan Guild's Annual Festival there is given the inscription proposed to be placed on the All Saints' tenor bell. It appears as if my name were to form part of the inscription. This is not the case. I signed my name to show who sent in the report, and had no intention that it should appear as part of the inscription.—Yours, etc.,

GEOFFREY W. TURNER.

THANET.—On Thursday, July 7th, at St. Laurence, Thanet, 504 Stedman Triples was rung by the following company: L. Twyman 1, S. G. Twyman (conductor) 2, W. Pickworth (London) 3, W. G. Birch 4, W. J. Jarman 5, J. Blythman 6, A. E. Jarman 7, J. Jarman 8. First 500 in the method as conductor. Also the first by the treble, 4, 6, 7 and tenor.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.PROPOSED DIVISION INTO DISTRICTS.

The fourteenth annual general meeting of the Warwickshire Guild was held at Rugby on July 16th. The towers of St. Andrew's (8), Dunchurch (6) and Newbold-on-Avon (6) were open for ringing during the afternoon and evening, and the Guild's special service was held in St. Andrew's Church, at which the Rev. J. B. Hewitt (Vicar of Newbold) officiated, and gave an appropriate address.

The business meeting was held in the evening, the President (Rev. Canon H. C. A. Back, M.A.), being in the chair. Apologies for absence were received from the Ven. Archdeacon of Coventry, Ven. Archdeacon of Warwick, Rev. Canon Evans, Rev. T. B. Harvey-Brookes, Rev. Canon Fortescue, Mr. G. E. Over, Mr. H. Reader and Mr. B. Wittchell. About 40 members from Allesley, Birmingham, Berkswell, Coventry, Emscote, Hatton, Rugby, Nuneaton and Warwick were present.

The printed report, covering a period of five years, was distributed to the members, and the Honorary Secretary (Mr. A. Wilkerson) read a summary of the Guild's activities during that time.—The President moved its adoption, Mr. O. J. Hunt seconded, and this was carried unanimously.

The usual annual report was also submitted, and mentioned that quarterly meetings were held at Stoke-in-Coventry, Bedworth and Warwick, and monthly meetings at Coleshill, Dunchurch, Wolvey and Berkswell.—Regret was also expressed that once again the Guild was refused admittance to the tower at Stratford-on-Avon, notwithstanding the President making the application. Mention was made of the augmentations at Monks Kirby and Exhall, the former with two new trebles to complete the octave, and the latter with two trebles and a tenor to complete a ring of six. The Guild rang 15 peals during the year, and ten new members have joined.

The Honorary Secretary also submitted a statement of accounts up to April 30th, 1921, which showed a balance in hand of £22 10s. 6d.

On the motion of Mr. Argyle, seconded by Mr. Cox, the accounts were passed, after which Mr. James George proposed, and Mr. Argyle seconded, that in future the financial year close on December 31st.—This was carried unanimously.

The President was unanimously re-elected, on the proposition of Mr. George, seconded by Mr. Pervin, after which the remaining officers were re-elected en bloc.

The President mentioned as this was the first annual meeting since the retirement of Mr. J. H. White, as hon. secretary, he would move a hearty vote of thanks be accorded him for his services.—This was unanimously carried.

The committee's recommendation of dividing the Guild into districts was discussed, and ultimately it was decided, on the motion of Mr. Argyle, to suspend action for the present, and a committee consisting of the Ringing Master, Mr. T. W. Chapman, Mr. J. B. Fenton, Mr. O. J. Hunt, Mr. F. E. Pervin and Mr. T. Male appointed to go into the matter.

Southam was selected for the next quarterly meeting in October, Brinklow and Exhall for monthly meetings in August and September respectively.

An item which provoked a deal of discussion was a resolution by Mr. Argyle to alter Rule 8 by deleting the word 'Birmingham,' but it was defeated by a large majority.

Votes of thanks were accorded the President for presiding, to the Rev. J. B. Hewitt for officiating at the service and for his address, to the clergy for the use of the bells, both at the annual meeting and during the year, to those honorary members and friends who have assisted the Guild in various ways to achieve its objects of recognising the bellringers as office holders in the Church, the promotion of scientific change-ringing and bellry reform.

The methods rung during the day included Graudsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Double Norwich Major, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise.

BELFRY PENALTIES.To the Editor.

Sir,—Being an old member of the Yateley band of ringers, not on the active list now. I was much interested in the recent article on 'Bells and Bellringing.' I could give some very funny reminiscences of ringing in the old days, and of chiming, when the tower got unsafe for ringing. Towards the end of the article referred to, the writer quotes some lines on penalties for misbehaviour in the belfry. Here is one version:—

All ye that are ringers
This do ye mark,
Who throweth o'er a bell,
Pay a groat to the clerk.
If with hat on or spurs
You perchance should ring,
You sixpence shall pay
For that very same thing.
For every oath taken
One shilling shall pay,
Or be expelled from the belfry without any delay.

Yours

W. B. TICE.

AN ENJOYABLE OUTING.

On Saturday, July 23rd, the ringers of St. Paul's Church, Wood Green, Winesbury, had their annual outing, the place chosen being Albrighton. The party, numbering 23, including wives and children, reached Albrighton by rail at about 10.45. Having carried out the essential business of arranging for meals, the Vicar was interviewed for permission to use the bells, which was kindly granted for the afternoon. The rest of the morning was spent in exploring the village, walking through the fields and lanes, which provided a real treat in the glorious weather. After dinner the party made their way to the church, where they found the Verger awaiting them. After inspecting the building the bells were raised and set going to Stedman Doubles for the younger members of the band. A touch of Kent Treble Bob Minor followed, and finally a 720 of Cambridge Surprise Minor was rung by: A. Cooper 1, J. Tyler (conductor) 2, E. Marlow 3, G. Tyler 4, E. J. Tyler 5, T. Hill 6. After falling the bells tea was partaken of, and the evening was spent in various way. The return was made at 7.50, after one of the best outings which the band has ever had. Best thanks are due to the Vicar of Albrighton for the use of the bells, and to the Verger for having everything in readiness.

DURHAM & NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

The summer meeting of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association was held at Whitley Bay on July 23rd, and was attended by 26 members. The bells at North Shields and Whitley Bay were kept going in various methods during the afternoon and evening. London Surprise Major appeared to present no difficulties to one member, who rang his first touch in that method like a seasoned London ringer, and proved the truth of the old proverb, 'Where there's a will, there's a way.'

A capital tea was enjoyed at the Grosvenor Cafe, and the business meeting followed, at which nine new members were elected, including two ladies from Chester-le-Street.—A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicars of Christ Church and St. Paul's for the use of their bells was carried by acclamation, and the meeting closed.

The musical tones of the bells of Whitley Bay were soon heard again in London, Cambridge, etc., and then, after a convivial hour, the members dispersed. Those who travelled up to Newcastle were treated to a trio, performed by some members of a band (not ringers) in the train on the trombone, cornet and bassoon.

CENTRAL NORTHANTS ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday, July 23rd, the annual meeting of the Thrapston District was held at Ringstead, when about 50 members were present from Thrapston, Titchmarsh, Raunds, Addington, Woodford, Finedon, Kettering, Wellingborough, Northampton, Desborough, Weekley, Isham, Peterborough, and the local band. A short service was held, conducted by the Vicar (Rev. C. Page Wood), who gave an address on bells and ringers. This was followed by an excellent tea in the School Room, arranged by a band of willing ladies. The President of the Association (Rev. H. E. Fitzherbert, R.D., Rector of Thrapston) presided over the business meeting, supported by the Vicar and the Rev. F. H. Lang (Twywell). The Rev. W. St. G. Coldwell was elected vice-president, Mr. J. Nickerson hon. secretary. Messrs. Bellamy, Wyman, Redhead, Wainwright and Baxter committee.—The Rev. C. B. Ritclie (Sudborough) and Mrs. Wyman and Mr. A. Rickard, the two churchwardens of Ringstead, were elected honorary members. Four ringing members from Sudborough were also elected.

It was decided to hold a special meeting at Sudborough, and the next quarterly meeting at Aldwinckle.—A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar, the organist and the ladies for providing tea.—Mrs. Wyman extended an invitation to visit her grounds, and many took advantage of the opportunity. Some members indulged in handbells, while others made use of the fine peal in the tower and rang touches in methods from Cambridge Surprise to Plain Bob.

KIDDERMINSTER.—On Saturday, July 2nd at St. Mary's Church, in 50 mins., a quarter-peal (1,280 changes) of London Surprise Major: J. Woodberry 1, G. Davis 2, N. Davis 3, K. Salter 4, T. J. Salter 5, J. Davies 6, J. Smith 7, C. H. Woodberry (conductor) 8. Rang with the bells half-muffled in memory of the late Mr. M. Tomkinson, carpet manufacturer, seven times Mayor of Kidderminster, and for forty years churchwarden at this church.

THE POSITION IN SUFFOLK.

The recent formation of the Suffolk County Association aimed a serious blow at the Ely and St. Edmundsbury Diocesan Association, and the secession of the towers in the Archdeaconry of Sudbury must have had a considerable effect upon the strength of the organisation. It has, in the past, been felt by those who have now established their own association, that their attachment to Ely was, so far as ringing affairs were concerned, one from which they got little or no benefit, and it was this that largely induced the West Suffolk men to set up a society of their own. The Ely and St. Edmundsbury Diocesan Association appear to have accepted the fait accompli with the best grace possible, and at once curtailed their title to suit the more limited area left to them. At the same time there seems to us to have been no great reason why they should so hastily have taken this action, for there are other instances of diocesan and county associations overlapping one another's areas. It almost looked like the admission of the argument that they were unable to provide for the interests of the ringers in the Sudbury Archdeaconry.

But the idea behind the establishment of the Suffolk Association, as we understand it, is not merely to confine it to the West Suffolk towers, but eventually if possible to take in those in the eastern part of the county at present affiliated to the Norwich and Ipswich Association. The task of winning over the ringers in this area, who through a long period of years have grown up as loyal members of the old Norwich Diocesan Association, is a totally different problem, and at present among the ringers themselves there seems little desire to change their allegiance. Moreover, the Norwich and Ipswich Association is not prepared to accept the innovation quite so readily as did the Ely Association, and at a general meeting on Bank Holiday they sought a way of meeting the opposition which has confronted them. The solution of the difficulty which met with acceptance, and which the President characterised as an ideal suggestion if it can be carried out, was that there should be a meeting between representatives of the Norwich and Ipswich Association and the new County Association, with a view to amalgamation, the Sudbury Archdeaconry being made a separate branch with the same powers to control its own affairs as is now possessed by the Norfolk and Suffolk branches of the Norwich and Ipswich Association.

From the point of view of the latter organisation it is quite true there could be no happier settlement, and if the territory covered by the County Association were entirely within the boundaries of the old diocese of Norwich, the effort to amalgamate the two would have everything to commend it. While we have no desire to raise possible obstacles to such a solution, we feel inclined to ask where the consideration for the Ely Association comes in? The territory which, at the moment, is chiefly affected by the new organisation, is an area that until recently was within the borders of the Diocese of Ely, and when the new diocese was formed for the county of Suffolk, the Ely Association altered its title just as the Norwich Association did, to meet the changed conditions. If, now, the Norwich and Ipswich Association persuades the western part of the county to throw in its lot with them, they may lay themselves open to the accusation of robbing the Ely Association of a big slice of its area, almost as wantonly, indeed, as if they had done it without waiting for the formation of the Suffolk County Association, and we are sure that is the very last impression they would desire to create. If, therefore, the proposed conference is to take place, the Ely Association ought surely to be represented.

THE HANDBELL PEAL AT WORCESTER.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I should esteem it a favour if you would allow me space in your valuable paper to correct a mistake I made in the foot-note to the peal of Bob Major rung in Worcester on handbells on July 27th. It should have read, 'First peal of Major in hand by Western Branch,' and not the first peal in hand, as given. Will the secretary please note?—Faithfully yours,
W. PAGE.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.A MEETING IN HARDY'S COUNTRY.

On Saturday, July 23rd, the Dorchester Branch held their summer meeting at the old-world village of Puddletown, which is situated five miles N.E. of the county town of Dorchester, and is the 'Weatherbury' of the Wossex novels. The feature of greatest interest in the village is its fine old church, which dates from 1195, and is one of the few in the county which has escaped the hand of the restorer. There is in the nave a beautiful panelled ceiling of Spanish chestnut, which dates from 1441. There are the old oak pews of past days, still in use, a handsome singing gallery for the choir, bearing the date 1635 (the Vicar still has the bill for the pews and gallery, which amounts to £101), an ancient wood pulpit, and a Norman font, shaped like a tumbler glass. The altar rails date from 1635. The church has a trans-Norman tower, with Perpendicular additions, which contains a fine peal of six bells. The tenor, which is especially worthy of mention, is 16 cwt. in E. No church in the county can compare with this in human interest, and nowhere can one come into closer communion with the homely spirit of the Dorset of the past. The village, also, has a lovely park and extensive gardens, with a large amount of glass. By kind permission of the squire (the Rev. G. Brymer) the ringers were taken through these by the head gardener, and they were much enjoyed and appreciated.

The following towers were represented: Bere Regis, Bournemouth, Buckhorn Weston, Buckland Newton, Fordington, Dorchester, Swanage, and Wyke Regis. The bells were raised at 2.30 p.m., and made good use of till 4.30, when the special Guild service was held in the church. The Vicar (the Rev. A. L. Helps) officiated, and was assisted by the Rev. C. A. Phillips (hon. secretary, Wimborne Branch). The singing was well rendered, and was a fine feature of the service, being led by the full ladies' choir. The Vicar gave a quotation from Emerson, 'What you are thunders so loud, I cannot hear what you say,' and instead of the usual sermon, he dwelt in a masterly way on the history of the church, pointing out every detail, to the delight and appreciation of all present.

Other good things were in store for the ringers and friends (between 40 and 50), the Vicar inviting all to come to his house, and on the lawn under the large beech trees a sumptuous tea was awaiting them.

The business meeting followed, and in the absence of the chairman (Mr. R. N. Dawes), Major Hughes D'Aeth (Master of the Guild) presided, supported by the Vicar and Mrs. Helps, the Rev. C. A. Phillips (hon. secretary, Wimborne Branch), and officers of the branch. Several apologies for non-attendance were read.

Mr. A. B. Russ, of Wyke Regis, was elected an honorary member.—The Vicar of Buckland Newton (the Rev. E. C. Field), having extended an invitation to the branch for them to hold their meeting there in September next, that place was chosen.

The Master gave a short resume of the general meeting of the Guild, and stated they had decided to raise the subscription from 1s. to 1s. 6d. He also proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar and Mrs. Helps for their great kindness in providing such a bountiful repast, and for the use of their house and extensive grounds; also to the Vicar for the interesting address.—The Rev. C. A. Phillips seconded, and, needless to say, the vote was carried with acclamation.—The Vicar, responding, said he hoped nothing would intervene to prevent them staying away so long again.

It may be mentioned here that the Vicar is a real ringers' friend, having been an honorary member of and taking great interest in the Guild for a number of years. He also learnt the rudiments of the ringers' art at the Theological College.

Further votes of thanks were given to the organist and choir, the local band, and the Master for presiding.

General regret was expressed on all sides at the likelihood of the Branch Secretary having to leave the district.

Several ringers came after the meeting and made good practice with the learners till 9 p.m., while another party motored to Bere Regis and rang some Bob Minor and Grandsire Doubles on this fine peal, a few being piloted through their first course of Minor. Afterwards they made a circular trip home in what is known as Hardy's country, across Egdon Heath, through Bovington Camp, which many a ringer remembers during the late war.

AUTHORSHIP CLAIM WITHDRAWN.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I write to withdraw my name from the composition rung at Oswaldtwistle, on June 28th, the figures of which were published in 'The Ringing World' on July 15th, with apologies to the Rev. H. Law James.

I think Mr. A. York-Bramble's suggestion in 'The Ringing World' of August 5th, re overlapping in naming of methods and claims to authorship is worthy of consideration by the C.O.—Yours truly,

T. LAW.

NEW BELLS AT HADLEY.MR. F. A. MILNE'S MEMORIAL GIFT.

On Thursday, July 21st, the Bishop of Willesden dedicated at the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Hadley, Middlesex, the two new trebles which have been presented by Mr. F. A. Milne, J.P., hon. treasurer and a vice-president of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild; the treble in memory of his father and mother and the 2nd in memory of his son who was killed in France. The bells are from the foundry of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and all who heard the touches which were rung by members of the association after the dedication service were agreed not only that the founders had made a most excellent splice, but that the new bells, when rung in changes with the old, appeared to impart a tone and quality to them which they did not possess before.

The inscriptions on the bells are as follows:—

Treble.—A.D.M.G. In piam memoriam Franci et Augustæ Milne qui eodem die ex humanis rapti in Christo beatissime obdormiverunt ix Kal: Aug: MDCCCXC. Dedit filius F.A.M.

Second.—A.D.M.G. In piam memoriam Alexandri R. Milne, centurionis in magno bello occisi. Fridie Kal: Aug: MCMXVII. 'O all dilectissime paulisper vale.' Dedit pater F.A.M.

DEATH OF MR. W. WARBURTON.PIONEER OF CHANGE RINGING AT WHISTON.

It is with deep regret we have to record the death of Mr. William Warburton, of Whiston, Yorks, who passed away at the age of 61 years, on Saturday, July 30th, after suffering for some months from cancer. The deceased first joined the Rawmarsh company of ringers, and afterwards transferred his services to Rotherham. He joined the Yorkshire Association in the year 1889, and rang ten peals under that association.

Later in life he went to reside at Whiston, where there were only four bells. He, however, used his talent there in instructing the band at that time, and was chiefly instrumental in getting the ring augmented to a peal of eight (by the famous Loughborough firm, Messrs. J. Taylor and Co.). It is pleasant to record that his name appears on the tablet in the church recording the first peal upon the bells.

At the funeral the remains were borne to the grave by the deceased's fellow workmen. The Rev. H. T. Alton, M.A., Rector, met the cortege at the church gate, and read the prayers and lesson in a very impressive manner. He also spoke of the late Mr. Warburton's upright, manly bearing and character, from which all could take an example.

After the committal, a plain course of Grandsire Triples was rung at the graveside by: S. Briggs 1-2, F. Willey 3-4, W. Burgar 5-6, C. Ryder 7-8. Many other ringers attended from Rotherham, Norton, and other towers, and rang the church bells half-muffled in the standard methods as a last tribute of respect.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting of the Manchester Branch was held at Reddish on Saturday, July 30th, Mr. A. Barnes presiding over the business proceedings. He gave a hearty welcome to the visiting ringers, especially to Mr. J. W. Jones, of Newport, the secretary of the Llandaff Association, and his wife, who were spending part of their holidays in the district.—The Branch Secretary gave a report of the committee meeting held at Bolton, and Prestwich was selected for the next meeting-place on Saturday, September 3rd. Before the close of the meeting, Mr. J. W. Jones said how pleased he was to have met the members of the branch, and thanked all those who had made his stay in Manchester so pleasant, especially Mr. H. Chapman for his kindness in arranging the ringing for him at different towers. If at any time any of them were coming to Newport he would try and repay what had been done for him.—Votes of thanks to church officials and to the local ringers for having everything in readiness, closed the meeting, and ringing was indulged in till a later hour.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the St. Albans District of the Herts County Association was held at Hatfield on Saturday, July 23rd, and was well attended by ringers from various towers. The bells were kept going during the afternoon and evening in methods up to Superlative. The party were entertained to tea at St. Audrey's by the Rev. J. J. and Mrs. Anrobus, whose kindness was much appreciated by all.

At the business meeting the Rector was voted to the chair. One new member was elected (the Rev. F. R. Bonsey, of Northaw), and it was decided to hold the next meeting at North Mymms, it being left to the secretary to fix the date.

A vote of thanks was moved to the Rector for the use of the bells and for so kindly entertaining the members to tea.—The Rector, replying, said it gave him great pleasure to have the meeting there, and hoped the association would come again.

'TABLOID.'

In our article, 'Westminster Ringers in Bucks,' on page 444 of our issue of July 29th, reference was made to 'Tabloid food (Horlick's)' as among the local industries pointed out at Slough. Messrs. Burroughs Wellcome and Co. call our attention to the fact that the word 'Tabloid' was invented by them, and is their registered trade mark, and has been for nearly forty years specifically designated the products of their house. Clearly, therefore, 'tabloid food' should not have been used in connection with the industry at Slough, and we take this earliest opportunity of pointing out the error which our correspondent quite inadvertently made, and which we regret.

SUFFOLK RINGERS IN ESSEX.

On Saturday, July 9th, the St. James' Guild, Bury St. Edmunds, made a tour of Essex towers for their annual outing. Starting from home by char-a-banc at 8.15 a.m., accompanied by Mr. T. Fitzjohn, of Thetford, and Messrs. A. and S. H. Symonds, of Lavenham, the first stopping-place, Halstead, was reached at 9.30, where the bells were soon going to Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Kent Major. Braintree was reached at 11 o'clock, and Grandsire, Stedman and Bob Major were rung at this tower, where the party were greeted by Mr. A. Shufflebotham. Chelmsford was the next objective, and here the party were joined by Messrs. J. Sparrow (Croydon), C. Woodcock (Ipswich), F. G. Symonds (London), and Mr. Kirton and others of the Cathedral band. After an excellent dinner at the Dolphin Hotel, a visit was paid to the Cathedral, where a course each of Grandsire Caters, Grandsire Cinques and Stedman Caters was brought round. The next call was at Writtle, where hangs a very musical peal of eight, on which Grandsire, Stedman, Bob Major and Double Norwich were rung. Mr. F. G. Symonds had then to leave for London. The last place on the programme was Becking, which was reached at 5.45 p.m. Here tea was enjoyed, and afterwards a visit to the tower to ring Grandsire, Stedman and Kent Major. The touches throughout the day were conducted by A. Moore. On the homeward journey the handbells were brought into use, and Grandsire Triples and Caters were rung, whilst travelling through Halstead, Sudbury and Long Melford street, much to the amusement of the townsfolk. At Alpheaton the two Lavenham friends bade farewell, to wend their way home by field and glade, and Bury was later reached in safety, after a very happy time. The ringers wish to thank the incumbents of the towers, and the friends who met them, for all their kindnesses.

DONCASTER & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The July meeting of the above was held at Bentley on July 30th. There was a fairly good attendance of ringers, in spite of the holiday. Various methods of Doubles were rung on the five bells during the afternoon and evening. A sumptuous tea was provided by the local band, and served in St. Peter's Room.—The Rev. A. E. B. Wade (Vicar) welcomed the ringers to Bentley, and advised his own ringers to send a deputation to the Church Council to ask for another bell to make the ring into one of six.—The usual votes of thanks were passed at the business meeting. Later the members went on to Arksey, where touches in the four standard methods were rung on this light ring of eight.

LINSLADE RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, July 30th, the Linslade ringers had their first outing since the war, and motored to Hardwick, where they found a handy little ring of six, restored by Mr. Bowell in 1903, to commemorate the late King's Coronation. After raising the bells in peal, Grandsire, Plain Bob and Stedman Doubles were rung, as well as 360 Bob Minor and 180 Double Court. The ringing is done from the floor of the church, and several of the local men were interested spectators. This is believed to be the first half-peal ringing on the bells. The visitors were congratulated by one of the oldest ringers, who had rung at Hardwick for over 50 years.

After leaving Hardwick, the party rode into Aylesbury for tea, and then took a stroll round the market. Then going on to Berton, they interviewed the Vicar, who kindly went with the ringers to see if it was possible to ring the bells, but it was found that only one rope out of the six was attached to a bell, owing to repairs being carried on to the tower roof. Proceeding to Wingrave, where there is a fine ring of six, they tried about half an hour to get the bells to go to Grandsire Doubles, but the task had to be given up on account of the shifting of the frame. A deputation of the visitors called on the Vicar and told him the state of the bells, and recommended him to call in expert advice or communicate with the Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild about them. These bells were rehung about 14 years ago, but appear to have been neglected. After leaving Wingrave the party motored to Mentmore, and called on Host A. Carter, of the Stag Inn, where a pleasant quarter of an hour was spent on different hunting courses. Host Carter informed the visitors that he came from Little Munden, Herts, and several were interested in the peal cards he brought out for their inspection. Before leaving, the wish was expressed that he would cycle to Linslade for six and eight bell practice.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

It was interesting to note that amongst the Wath company taking part in the contest at Ecclesfield was the genial face of Mr. Josiah Panther, aged 74, and, like 'Johnny Walker,' still going strong. At the last contest at Ecclesfield, which took place in 1874, this veteran was one of the Wath company which gained second prize.

Another interesting figure at the contest was Mr. T. Stead, of Huddersfield, who took part in the 'All England team' which won the 1874 contest.

Mr. F. Willey writes: 'I see in your Belfry Gossip in this week's "Ringing World" you say the first silent peal of Stedman Triples was rung on August 7th, 1899. May I correct the statement, and also inform you that a silent peal of Stedman Triples was rung at St. Paul's Church, Burton-on-Trent, on November 20th, 1886.'

An anniversary which falls to-morrow is that of the first peal of Double Norwich in Wales, which was rung on August 13th, 1883, at Rhyl, by those same Burton men who can claim the 'silent' peal of Stedman. Joseph Griffin, John Jaggard and Edward I. Stone, who were in the band at Rhyl, are still on the active list to-day.

August 15th is the anniversary of the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus, which, with many other interesting achievements, went to the credit of the St. Mary-le-Tower Society, Ipswich. It was rung in 1908. This method is the height of ambition of most twelve-bell ringers, but the total number of peals rung since the Ipswich men led the way is, we believe, less than a score.

Our reference in our leading article last week to the long services of the Rev. E. J. O. Helmore as hon. secretary of the Kent County Association brings us the information that Mr. Helmore has filled this office for longer even than we mentioned, for he was appointed on July 15th, 1891, which is over thirty years ago. Mr. Helmore feels it is time a younger man was appointed, but that is not the feeling of the members of the Kent Association all the while he is willing and able to discharge the duties of his office.

Fancy ringing 99 peals and waiting 16 years for the 100th! Yet this is what Mr. H. A. Folkard has done. Last Saturday he rang the tenor to a peal of Stedman at West Ealing. It completed his century, although his previous peal was rung in 1905.

PETERBOROUGH AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

BELL REPAIRS FUND STARTED.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough and District Association was held at Peterborough on August Bank Holiday, when upwards of 60 were present, including ringers from Gainsboro', Derby, Southwell, Northampton, Rushden, Wellingborough, Kirby-Muxloe, Kettering, Bedford, March, Chatteris, Deeping, Whittlesey, Wisbech, etc. The service was held at St. John's Church, conducted by the Rev. A. Miles, who gave a very powerful address, and a collection was made for the Memorial Bell Fund.

The tea and meeting were held in St. Mary's Schools, the president (the Dean of Peterborough) being in the chair, supported by the vice-president, the Rev. A. C. Neely, B.D., Vicar of St. Mary's.—The treasurer's report showed a balance of £9 18s. 1d. in hand, and on the Bell Fund £6 13s. 6d. One handbell peal and ten Minor peals had been rung during the year.

The officers were re-elected, with the addition of Miss K. A. Jutson as assistant secretary; Miss A. Parkins and Messrs. Tebbutt, Cross and Dainty on the committee, in place of Messrs. Barker, Howling and Hoare.—Nine new members were elected, and two life members.

The bells of St. John's, St. Mary's and Woodston Churches were kept going during the day, the methods rung ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Superlative Surprise Major. Master Bowley, Kirby-Muxloe, got his first touch of Bob Minor, and another ringer from that district a first in Treble Bob.

It was decided to form a Belfry Repair Fund, and it was also decided to ring a quarterly peal to be arranged by the committee.

In conclusion, a vote of thanks was proposed to the Dean for presiding, to the clergy for the use of the bells, and to the ladies for arranging such a splendid tea.—Mrs. Jutson replied on behalf of the ladies.

PRESENTATION AT HOUGHTON-LE-SPRING.

FAREWELL TO A ROMFORD RINGER.

On Wednesday, July 27th, at the Church of St. Michael and All Angels, Houghton-le-Spring, Co. Durham, a date touch (1,921 changes) was rung in one hour and eleven minutes, consisting of 481 Plain Bob, 720 College Single, and 720 Plain Bob Minor, by: — Rainbird 1, T. Masters 2, S. Robinson 3, A. Spearman 4, W. Sheraton 5, R. Parkinson (conductor) 6. This was rung as a farewell to Mr. Rainbird, of Romford, Essex, who has been staying in the district for about a year, and has been a frequent visitor to the belfry. On behalf of the ringers, a walking stick, suitably inscribed, was presented to Mr. Rainbird as a memento of his stay. He leaves with the best wishes of all the band for his future welfare, and the hope was expressed that the day was not far distant when he would be amongst them again.

NORWICH & IPSWICH ASSOCIATION.

THE POSITION OF SUFFOLK MEMBERS.

SUGGESTED CONFERENCE UPON AMALGAMATION WITH NEW SUFFOLK ASSOCIATION.

A joint meeting of the Norwich and Ipswich branches of the Association was held on August Bank Holiday at St. Margaret's Institute, Lowestoft, when many representatives from both the Norfolk and Suffolk towers of the Association were present, and an important discussion took place upon the position of affairs in Suffolk, caused by the formation of the new Suffolk County Association. Previous to luncheon being served at the Crown Hotel, the members were kindly granted by the Rev. Evan C. Morgan (Rector) the use of the ring of eight bells of the Parish Church of St. Margaret, and rang touches in the standard methods. The president (the Very Rev. the Dean of Norwich) presided at the luncheon, supported by the vice-president (Mr. C. E. Borrett), the hon. secretary (Mr. A. L. Coleman), the Ringing Master (Mr. G. P. Burton), Mr. E. Evans (branch secretary, Ipswich), the Revs. W. C. Pearson and H. Drake, Mr. W. L. Duffield, and the following district secretaries: Messrs. G. H. Cross, C. E. Fisher, E. E. Diaper, F. C. Lambert and F. W. Naunton. An excellent repast was served by Host Stansfield, and the only toast honoured was that of 'The King.'—The Dean said every year that passed by made the toast appeal more and more to all patriotic and loyal Englishmen. His Majesty the King set us all a magnificent example of duty faced and duty done.—The toast was enthusiastically honoured.

The company then adjourned to the St. Margaret's Institute, Alexandra Road, where the Dean extended to the members a hearty welcome.—The General Secretary (Mr. A. L. Coleman) read the minutes of the last general meeting of the Norwich Branch, and the Branch Secretary (Mr. Edward Evans) read the minutes of the last general meeting of the Ipswich Branch, and these were confirmed.

The Secretary read the names of nine new members elected by the committee, and reported that the association had enrolled nearly fifty new members, including re-elections, and had received six resignations. He thought this a very satisfactory state of affairs, in view of the increased subscription which had been levied. Mr. Coleman further reported that Mr. A. J. Naunton, who had been secretary of the Southwold District for 25 years, had resigned on account of his great age, and his son, Mr. Francis W. Naunton, was elected to fill the vacancy at a meeting of the Southwold District, held at Wrentham on May 7th. Mr. Coleman eulogised the work carried on by Mr. Naunton, senr., in the Southwold District, and congratulated the members of that district upon appointing another member of the Naunton family as district secretary (applause). Mr. Coleman also reported the resignation of Mr. Edward Jenkins as secretary of the Framlingham District, upon his leaving that district to take up an appointment at Warrington, Lancashire.

Mr. A. L. Coleman proposed, and Mr. E. Evans seconded, the confirmation of the motion passed by the Norwich Branch at Fakenham, and by the Ipswich Branch at Ipswich at their respective meetings on March 28th, 1921: 'That members on re-joining the association shall pay a fee of one shilling, together with the subscription for the then current year.'—The motion, on being put to the meeting, was carried.

VIEWS OF SUFFOLK CLERGY.

A long discussion followed as to the position of the Norwich and Ipswich Association in respect to the formation of a new Suffolk County Association.—Mr. Evans explained that since the branch meeting at Ipswich a Suffolk County Association had been formed by West Suffolk members (late of Ely Diocesan Association). He had been asked whether East Suffolk members were going to secede or stick to the Norwich and Ipswich Association. They would really like a lead from the new Bishop of the Diocese. At a meeting last Tuesday, the Ipswich Branch decided to continue their membership with the Norwich and Ipswich Association (applause).

The Rev. H. Drake read the circular letter that he had issued to the clergy, and stated that he had been asked to find out the opinions of the clergy who have towers with rings of four bells and upwards, and to report to the meeting. Mr. Drake said the clergy had no sympathy with the formation of a County Association, but he wanted the meeting to be impartial on the matter. There was a strong feeling amongst the clergy, however, that a Diocesan Association should be formed.

Mr. G. P. Burton said he was surprised at the attitude of Mr. Drake, especially as he was an official of their association. The Suffolk members had always adopted a brotherly feeling, and it would be unnatural to divide Suffolk up. He thought the question arose through the overlapping of the boundaries. It was not right to say that West Suffolk ringers would not coalesce with East Suffolk ringers. Suffolk ought to be, and could be, as one. He was not desirous of witnessing anything approaching secession, and suggested that the new Bishop of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich be approached in a diplomatic manner for a lead to be given, and the suggestion be made to the Bishop that the two associations work together as one.

The Secretary (Mr. A. L. Coleman) said he thought Mr. Drake's circular a mischievous one, and the questions put to the clergy to answer misleading, in dealing with such a serious matter as that, of dividing up of an association. Of the 200 clergy to whom the circulars have been issued, approximately only 20 were members of ringing associations. What was such an opinion worth, coming from a body of men with little or no experience on ringing associations? The 380 ringing members concerned did not appear to have a voice in the matter until the clergy had expressed their opinion, which was wrong in principle, and was compromising the position of companies in union with the association, and endangering the happy relationship that now exists between the clergy and the ringers. Mr. Coleman pointed out that in all cases of the divisions of Dioceses, the ringing associations had wisely decided to remain as one society, with admirable results. He thought one association would be far better than two broken associations (applause). They would deeply regret a severance of the Suffolk members.

A SUGGESTED SOLUTION.

Mr. F. C. Lambert (district secretary, Halesworth) thought that very few of the members were aware of the spade work done by the Norwich bell ringers during the past 250 years. Bell ringing in the district was instituted at Norwich, and it would be unfair to sever connection.

Mr. C. E. Borrett said the only happy solution would be the forming of one association for Norfolk and Suffolk, with self-governing branches for Norfolk, East and West Suffolk. He proposed that a small deputation meet the West Suffolk County ringers at a conference to discuss the matter of amalgamation.—This was seconded by Mr. G. P. Burton, and carried.

The President remarked that this would be an ideal solution of the matter, and hoped it would be carried into effect so as to make amalgamation possible.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Dean, the Rector of Lowestoft, for the use of the bells, and to Mr. Richard T. Woodley who kindly made all the preliminary arrangements.

THE REV. H. DRAKE'S CIRCULAR.

The circular sent out by the Rev. H. Drake to the clergy, and which was commented on at the meeting, was as follows:—

'When this Diocese was formed the re-arrangement of the Ringers' Societies was held up on account of the war. Ultimately the old arrangements were continued, with merely a change of name. The Ely Diocesan Association became the Ely and St. Edmundsbury Association, and the Norwich Diocesan Association became the Norwich and Ipswich Association. At Easter a new Society was formed in the West of the Diocese to be called 'The Suffolk County Association.' Thereupon the Ely Association withdrew from the Diocese and reverted to its old name.

'The new Society wishes to cover the whole of the County; but there are two counter proposals: (1) That it should keep to the West of the County, and leave the East to the Norwich and Ipswich Association. (2) That the County Association become a Diocesan one, or that an independent Association be formed for the Diocese, to include the 200 towers in which there are bells.

As an official of the Norwich Association, I cannot support the formation of a rival Society, but I was asked to find out the opinions of some of the Clergy who have Ringing Towers, and report them to a Meeting of that Association which will be held at Lowestoft on August 1st. So far, I have heard from about a score, and they are all of one opinion. Therefore, it seems best to send this letter to all the Incumbents of towers given in Raven's "Bells of Suffolk" as having four or more bells, asking them to return me their replies on the form on the next page.

'If they could also suggest the kind of subscription which would be best, it would be a help. The Norwich Association's subscription is 2s. 6d.; that of the County Association is 2s.; it is suggested that the subscription for a Diocesan Society be a lump sum for each tower, say, 2s. (or even 1s.) per bell, to include all Clergy, and ringers.

'The answering of this letter does not pledge you to join any such Society, unless you answer the last question in the affirmative.

'If you know of any tower where the bells have been increased to 4 or more since 1890, please mention its name.'

The questions to which replies were requested were the following:—

- (1) Do you think the Norwich and Ipswich should continue, as of old, the Association for Ringers in East Suffolk?
- (2) Or do you think that the County Association should take its place?
- (3) Or do you think that it should become a Diocesan Association, or that such a Diocesan Association should be formed?
- (4) What arrangements as to subscription do you advise?
- (5) Are you at all inclined to join such a Society, and if so, which?

The Rev. H. Drake informs us that he omitted to make it clear at the meeting at Lowestoft that his primary motive in sending out the circular was to advertise the Association among the clergy of towers where there are bells, and interest them in it through this question which has arisen.

Out of about 245 inquiries sent out 53 replies were received, and as the majority, if not all of these are not at present members of any association, it should at any rate lead to many new members being secured.

GILLETT & JOHNSTON

ROYAL EXCHANGE, 1921.

ROCHESTER CATHEDRAL, 1921.

THE CROYDON BELL FOUNDRY

CARISBROOKE, 1921.

WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL, 1921.

To the first question asked, six said 'Yes.' An affirmative to the second question was given by three, and 39 said 'Yes' to question 3, while five declined to express an opinion.

On the question of the amount of the subscription 11 voted for a subscription of not less than 2s. 6d. per ringer, two for 2s., one for 1s., five for 2s. per bell, eight for 1s. per bell, three for 2s. 6d. for each tower. Four promised to join the Norwich and Ipswich Association, two the Suffolk County Association; 30 a Society for the new Diocese, and one whatever society was ultimately formed.

The circular was intended, we are informed, to elicit opinions of those now outside ringing circles, and the idea originated with Canon Goldsmith. At the same time arrangements were being made to elicit the opinion of ringers themselves in the county, but as was explained at the meeting at Lowestoft, these fell through. The information obtained from the clergy, although not forming a working basis, is not without interest or value.

RINGING CONTEST AT ECCLESFIELD.

KIRKBURTON WIN A £12 PRIZE.

Ecclesfield Church, Yorks, is known for its architectural beauty. Dodsworth, the great Yorkshire antiquary, wrote of this church more than 200 years ago: 'The Church of Ecclesfield is called by the vulgar, and that deservedly, the Minster of the Moor, being the finest church for stone, wood, glass, and neat keeping that I ever came in of country churches, and has a famous peal of bells that ordinary ringers of to-day say go the wrong way round.'

At this remote village, far from the madding crowd, a great ringing contest took place on August Bank Holiday, and drew together a big gathering of ringers. The contest 'piece' was a 720 of Treble Bob, and some 15 companies from Yorkshire and adjoining districts, including some well known six bell bands, entered, viz.: Dronfield, Kirkheaton, New Mills, Roughton, Sheffield, Bolsterstone, Killamarsb, Shelley, Wath, Kirkburton, North Anston, Shireoaks, Hoylandswaine, Liversidge, Eckington. Of these thirteen companies competed, and some good ringing and clear striking was the result of combined practice. Kirkburton was awarded first prize, value £12, their faults numbering 108. Liversidge took second honours and a prize, value £8, with 116 faults; Wath carried off third prize, value £5, with 251 faults. Shelley was placed fourth, and received prizes, valued at £3, with 282 faults. North Anston gained fifth prize, with 336 faults. Messrs. Joseph Broadley, of Bradford, and William Lambert, Bolsover, were the judges, and gave universal satisfaction.

The prizes were distributed to the successful companies in the Gatty Memorial Hall by Dr. Simes, J.P., who had the honour of distributing the prizes at the last contest at this old 'Minster of the Moor,' in the now distant days of 1874.

During the afternoon the Ecclesfield handbell ringers gave selections on their fine peal of handbells, and drew forth the applause of a large and interested audience. The selection of 'Les Cloches de Bride' was rung with excellent taste and judgment, and well deserved the encore which was given. Another interesting item was entitled 'Swannie.'

Mrs. Clyde Hayes, a lady deeply interested in handbell ringers, made a special appeal to the audience, and asked them to show their appreciation by contributing to the box placed at the end of the table for the repair and renewal of handbells and music.

The Dronfield Glee Party contributed several excellent items, and in 'The Soldier's Farewell' (Kincol) every voice was heard to perfection. Mrs. J. Turner sang two songs entitled 'Roses' and 'Good-Bye,' and, after repeated calls, Mr. and Mrs. Turner sang the duet, 'Let the rest of the world go by.'

It is interesting to recall that at the last contest, in the year 1874, the winners were a company called the 'All England' band. They had no regular tower at which to practice, but they made themselves champions not only on six, but on eight. At Ecclesfield their company comprised Joseph Roebuck, John G. Hardy, Thomas Stead, Richard Whitehead, John Rhodes and Allen Womersley. They had to ring 720 Violet and 720 Oxford Treble Bob Minor, and there were ten competing teams. Wath being second. Mr. T. Stead, who conducted the winning 'All England' team, was an interested listener on Bank Holiday, and though he gave up ringing many years ago and took to bowling, in which he excelled, and has represented his county, he was given hearty greetings. Mr. Stead was one of a band of six Huddersfield ringers, who, in the year 1867, at Batley, rang a non-conducted peal in seven different Minor methods.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir.—Will you kindly announce the following further contributions to the fund for Mrs. Walter Wise: Major J. H. B. Hesse, 10s.; Mr. C. Winney, 10s.; Mr. C. Burden, 2s. 6d.; Mr. Jas. Hunt (Taunton), 5s.; Mr. F. Bennett, 2s. 6d.; Mr. A. Trappitt, 2s.; Mr. J. Trappitt, 2s. The fund is now closed. Mrs. Wise wishes to thank all those who have helped in the hour of need.—Yours truly, 99, Northcote Road, West Croydon. ARTHUR MASON.

VISIT TO KENT TOWERS.

The Uckfield Branch of the Sussex Association had their annual outing on August Bank Holiday. The party, numbering about 20, were joined by Messrs. E. J. Dawe and A. Turner, of Lewes, and Mr. G. Ades, of Brighton. Leaving Uckfield by motor at 8 a.m., a journey was made eastward, through Heathfield, Burwash, Hurst Green (a drive commanding extensive views equalled only in the writer's experience by those of Devon). The first call was made at Rolvenden, a little village on the Kentish border, where the party were met by Mr. C. Tribe and conducted to the tower. Touches of Grandsire Triples and Bob Major were rung, and during the stay, Messrs. W. and G. Billness arrived on the scene, thus augmenting the party considerably. Eventually the journey was continued to Tenterden, where, on the fine peal of eight, Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples were brought round prior to lunch, which Mr. Tribe had admirably arranged for the visitors.

Afterwards the tower was again visited, and various touches rung. This tower is among the finest in Kent, and the view to be obtained from the top is magnificent. The bells were lowered in peal at 3.45 p.m., and the return journey made by way of Benenden, to Hawkhurst, where the ring of eight were soon set in motion to the tune of Triples and Major. Tea had been arranged for here, after which the homeward journey was continued, Uckfield being reached about 9.30 p.m., after a most delightful day.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY, DONCASTER.

The annual outing of the above Society was held on Saturday, July 23rd, when Lincoln and Washingborough were visited. Leaving Doncaster by the 8.50 train, the party, on arrival at Lincoln, proceeded to the Cathedral, and spent a pleasant hour looking round this magnificent pile. Hopes had been entertained of being able to have a 'pull' on the bells, but permission was refused by the Dean, 'owing to the fact that Doncaster was not in the Lincoln Diocese.' The Doncaster men feel that the Dean hardly met them in the friendly spirit generally shown to ringers at other places. The Old Prison and Castle were visited, and, after dinner, the Arboretum. Proceeding by train to Washingborough, no time was lost in getting to the church, and the bells were soon going merrily to the tune of Stedman Triples. A sumptuous tea was provided by mine host of the Hunter's Leap Inn, and was done justice to by all concerned. After tea various members of the party entertained the rest to songs and selections on the piano. More ringing was then indulged in, when touches of Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire were rung in good style. The bells were then rung down in peal, and votes of thanks were accorded to the Rector for the use of the bells, and to the local band for making the party welcome. The party included several of the ringers' wives and friends. 'Home, sweet home,' was again reached about midnight.

A BRISTOL SOCIETY'S LONG TRIP.

The annual outing of the St. James's Society, Bristol, was held at Minehead on Saturday, July 16th. The ringers, accompanied by their wives and friends, left Bristol at 8 a.m. for Wells, which was reached at 9.40 a.m., and where a short stop was made, which enabled the party to look round the Cathedral. They then proceeded to Glastonbury, and were conveyed thence by char-a-banc to Taunton (via Langport), which, after a good lunch at the County Hotel, they left for Bampton (Devon), arriving at 3 p.m. Here the photographer got busy with his camera, and took an excellent photograph of the char-a-banc and party. Leaving Bampton, Minehead was reached about 4.45, after a picturesque ride through some of the best scenery in Somerset and Devonshire. Time passing all too quickly, the ringers went to the church and found Mr. Atkins (the secretary) patiently waiting for them. The bells were soon going to Grandsire, Stedman, and a course of Cambridge Major. After ringing they had tea, and left Minehead for Bristol about 6.45 p.m., Bristol being reached at 11.30 p.m., with stops at Bridgwater and Cross only. The total mileage for the day was about 160, and everyone had a very enjoyable outing.

BEVERLEY MINSTER RINGERS.

The ringers of Beverley Minster and their wives had an enjoyable outing to Howden on the occasion of the quarterly meeting of the Eastern Division of the Yorkshire Association. The party left Beverley, by char-a-banc, in the morning, and a stay of about an hour was made at North Cave for a ring on the new peal of six bells at the village church and a tour round the Vicar's garden, by his kind permission. Howden was reached in good time, and this enabled the Minster ringers to secure an early turn on the peal of eight at the Parish Church, where ringing was indulged in by various companies up to service time. The Vicar conducted a short service, and welcomed the ringers to Howden, and afterwards a party, numbering in all 52, sat down to tea together. The party from Beverley returned by way of Market Weighton, where a stay of about an hour was made for a ring on the peal of six bells at the Parish Church, and Beverley was reached at 10 o'clock, after a delightful day's enjoyment.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.PLEASANT MEETING AT HADLEY.

A meeting in such pleasant surroundings as at Hadley is sure to be an attraction, and that held by the North and East District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild on August Bank Holiday was no exception to the general rule. A large number of members, several with their wives, visited the church during the afternoon, and the bells were kept going in various methods almost continuously from 2 o'clock until 5.30, at which hour Divine Service was held.

The Rector of Hadley (the Rev. E. H. North) officiated, and also preached a very eloquent sermon on the duties and responsibilities of ringers, basing his remarks on Numbers x., 2: 'Make thee two trumpets of silver, that thou mayest use them for the calling of the assembly, and for the journeying of the camps.'

Tea was served in the Church House, presided over by Mr. Arthur T. King, I.S.O., whom everybody was glad to see looking exceedingly well. Unfortunately, the president was unable to stay to the business meeting owing to the somewhat early departure of his return train to Stevenage. An excellent substitute was, however, present, the chair being taken by Mr. F. A. Milne, J.P., vice-president. Two new members were elected, and several hearty votes of thanks unanimously passed.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles) produced a supply of Central Council publications, and did good business in disposing of several of those very valuable booklets.

Touces of Stedman Triples were rung on handbells, both before and after the meeting.

During the afternoon and evening, the splendid peal of eight bells at Barnet were at the disposal of the members, who were cordially welcomed by Messrs. J. Sumpter and R. Roffey, and several touches were rung. The bells at Hadley, where Messrs. W. Tarling and W. Daniel were in constant attendance, were also made good use of, amongst the methods rung being Superlative and Cambridge Surprise.

The two new trebles recently given to the church by Mr. F. A. Milne, in memory of his parents and his son, Capt. A. Milne, who was killed in France, are two very fine bells, and Messrs. Mears and Stainbank are to be congratulated on the excellence of the work.

SIR EDWARD CLARKE'S WELCOME AT STAINES.

A meeting differing somewhat from the usual type was held at St. Peter's, Staines, on Saturday, August 6th, when the members of the South and West District, who assembled there, were personally entertained by Sir Edward Clarke.—The District Master (Mr. C. S. Bird) thanked the host for his kind hospitality, and this was seconded by Mr. W. H. Fussell.

Sir Edward said that owing to indisposition, Lady Clarke was unable to meet the company, but she had expressed a hope that everyone would 'have a good time.' He added that it gave him great pleasure to assist in all things connected with the church, and it was with delight he heard the sound of the bells which he saw cast at the Whitechapel foundry. Further, he was always ready to back up ringers in their good old English art (applause).

After tea everyone viewed the beautiful stained glass windows which have been placed in the church by Sir Edward, and executed from designs by the well-known architect, Mr. Edward Prynne. Especial mention should be made of the 'Nativity' window, and the western 'Rose' window; but the crowning masterpiece is in the south aisle, the subjects for which are taken from the 'Benedicite,' verses 23, 20 and 24:—

'O ye Whales, and all that move in the Waters.'

'All ye Green Things upon the Earth.'

'All ye Fowls of the Air.'

'Bless ye the Lord, praise Him and magnify Him for ever.'

During the course of business, eight new members were enrolled. Thirty-six members and friends attended from: Acton, Chertsey, Chiswick, Clapham, Ealing, Fulham, Guildford, Heston, Hillingdon, Isleworth, Kensington, Kilburn, Old Windsor, Slough (St. Peter's and St. Mary's), Staines, Stoke Poges, Windsor, Willesden and West Ealing.

W. L.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

A very successful meeting of the Presteigne and Leominster District was held at Lyonshall on Saturday, July 30th, about 30 members being present from the following: Kington, Eardisland, Weobley, Staunton-on-Arrow, Pembridge, Almeley and Clifford. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. Cullwick), who gave an excellent address, and a meat tea was kindly provided in the Parish Room by Captain Green.

The Vicar presided at the short business meeting which followed, when six of the local band were elected members of the Guild. A vote of thanks was passed to Capt. Green for his kindness in providing the tea, and to the Vicar for the use of the bells and his excellent address.

TRING RINGERS' EXCURSION.

On Saturday, July 23rd, the ringers of the SS. Peter and Paul Church, Tring, their wives and friends, had a motor tour in Bucks and Beds. The first stop was made at Linslade, where they were welcomed by Mr. F. Vickers and other members of the local band. Touches of Grandsire Triples and Bob Major having been rung, a move was made to Dunstable, Mr. Vickers and Mr. Jeffs accompanying the party. At Dunstable they were welcomed by Mr. A. E. Sharman, the secretary of the Bedfordshire Association, and Mr. G. W. Heley, the steeplekeeper. Touches of Grandsire and Bob Major were rung. After about an hour's ringing tea was partaken of, and at 6.15 they journeyed on to Luton, being met there by Mr. A. King, the secretary of the Luton tower, and Mr. F. Hunt. Further touches of Grandsire Triples and Bob Major were rung, one of the members ringing his first touch. The weather throughout the day was glorious, and the party arrived home about 11 o'clock, after having spent an enjoyable day.

SALOP ARCHIDIACONAL GUILD.

This Guild held a meeting on June 18th, at Edgmond, where it is hoped change ringing will be started once more at St. Peter's Church. The ringers there are fortunate in having in the Rev. Talbot a Vicar who takes an interest in change ringing, and he will not be satisfied until he can get a band to ring some other method than call changes. The Vicar took several members round his grounds, and pointed out the splendid views that are to be seen, which the visitors quite enjoyed, whilst in the tower a 720 of Bob Minor was being rung by others. Several members took advantage of the practice that was afforded in different methods. Tea was provided at the Forresters' Hall, which was thoroughly enjoyed, especially by those who had had a long cycle run.

It was decided to hold the next monthly meeting at Clive, in August, as a quarterly meeting is being held at Coalbrookdale in July. Members were well pleased with the meeting, and thanked the Vicar for his kindness.

THE EXTENSION OF METHODS.

There are a great many ringers to whom, probably, the present discussion in our columns on the question of the extension of London Surprise may appear totally uninteresting, as indeed it must be to those who have little or no knowledge of the advanced theory of ringing. The majority of the members of the Exercise are content to have methods presented to them, and to ring them if they appeal to their fancy and are within their capacity. But it must be remembered that ringers owe everything to those who spend or have spent their labour in research, and few who practise in the belfry give any heed to their indebtedness to the men, beginning with Fabian Stedman, who, for something like two and a half centuries, have gradually unravelled the mysteries of the art for the progress and enjoyment of others. These long labours, however, have not solved all the problems connected with change ringing; indeed, the inevitable mistakes and misapprehensions of principles which have from time to time been put forward and accepted generally by the Exercise for want of greater knowledge, have led to confusion which modern experts have been called upon to clear up.

An instance of this is to be found in the promulgation of a method which Shipway designated Double Norwich Royal, but which, as ringers pretty generally have known, bears no likeness to the Major. Yet, for a century, Shipway's method has been the accepted extension. Those who are acquainted with the method will agree, we think, with Mr. George Baker in the suggestion that some other name should be found for it, for there is a certain amount of agreement among the experts that something totally different is the true extension—but it has taken a hundred years to bring the Exercise to a realisation of this fact.

The position with regard to London Surprise is somewhat different, for up to the present there has been no method which is really accepted by general consent (even of the experts) as the correct extension of the Major. There is no difficulty in reconciling the fundamentals of the Minor and those of the Major, but men have striven for years to get the correct extension to ten bells. One such method rung some years ago by the College Youths was withdrawn as London Surprise Royal, and accepted as a new method which was officially designated 'Stepney.' This only helps to illustrate the complex nature of the problem which experts have set themselves to solve, and we have now arrived at another stage in the investigations when an effort is being made to settle a most interesting and long-discussed question. Our readers who have studied this subject will follow this week with interest the arguments of Mr. George Baker as to the possibilities of obtaining a true extension of London Royal, and next week we shall give the Rev. E. Bankes James' ground for claiming that the method which he has evolved is not only the nearest, but the perfect extension of London from eight bells to ten. Whether the ground of his claim will be accepted by the other experts remains to be seen, and if they cannot agree, it may be necessary for the Central Council to give a ruling, as, we believe they did, in the case of 'Stepney.'

With the advance of ringing to the stage when Surprise peals on ten and twelve bells are no longer a novelty, and ringers in increasing numbers are showing themselves competent to put into practice the most complicated methods, there is a growing desire for new fields to conquer. These fields will not be open to the practical men until the experts have explored them, and for that reason, we think, it is in the best interests of the art that the arguments upon and the claims to the correct extension of London Surprise should be published, for London being the method generally accepted as the pinnacle of the ringer's ambition offers on ten bells the opportunities of new conquest. One of the questions which is not yet settled is what is really the way in which a method should be extended. Different writers claim different principles, and this will be found exemplified when Mr. Bankes James' grounds for establishing his method appear. At present, the Methods Committee of the Central Council have their work held up for want of funds to publish their collections. While they are waiting, could they not consider the laying down of some definite principles of method extension, and so carry the Exercise one stage further out of the confusion which has so long reigned in regard to many important phases of the art?

First peal as conductor on handbells, also first peal of Stedman Ceters as conductor.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

St. Ives Parish Church, Huntingdonshire, which was badly damaged during the war by an aeroplane crashing into the tower, has now been restored, and Messrs. Mears and Stainbank now have in hand the rehanging of the bells, which are also to be tuned.

The Whitechapel Foundry have also in hand a new peal of eight for Bushey Heath, Herts. The tenor will be a 12 cwt. bell.

Owing to illness near the church, the Slimbridge monthly meeting of the Gloucester and Bristol Association did not take place on July 30th, but it is proposed to go there on August 27th.

A band of beginners are receiving instruction at Carisbrooke from Mr. Chambers, of Newport, and with the help of the Newport ringers it is hoped that in time there will be a revival of the interest in ringing which existed over a century ago in this Isle of Wight parish—records of which are in the hands of local ringers to-day, in the shape of 'Chronicles of Ringers,' in which all touches and peals were recorded in handwriting, the like of which one seldom sees to-day.

There is one industry important to the ringer which is not often thought of, but which is as essential as that of the bell founder; it is that of the bell rope maker. Bells will last for centuries, but ropes wear out in time. The return to normal ringing since the war has revived the rope-making industry, and among the busy manufacturers are Messrs. John Astley and Sons.

As an example, it may be mentioned that they have in hand at the moment sets of ropes for Berwick St. John, Salisbury (6), Wakefield (6), Rotherham (10), Darlaston and Preston, among others.

THE LOWESTOFT MEETING.A CORRECTION.To the Editor.*

Dear Sir,—In your report of the meeting of the Norwich and Ipswich Association at Lowestoft, the words, 'he wanted the meeting to be impartial in the matter,' have by some error crept into the middle of a sentence, thus making nonsense of what I said. You correctly report me as having said, 'The clergy had no sympathy with the formation of a County Association, but . . . there was a strong feeling among them, that a Diocesan Association should be formed.' I went on to point out that if the Association acted wisely they could draw in the 50 or so of the clergy, who had answered my circular. But as probably none of these were interested in change ringing it would mean that the Association would have tried to attract round ringers, more than it had succeeded in doing in the past. I explained that in what I was then saying, on the question of round ringers. I wanted to be quite impartial, and did not want to attempt to sway the meeting one way or the other, but I did think they ought to make up their minds whether they wanted more round ringers to join or not.

Those who referred to it were in favour of getting round ringers to join, but most of the speakers referred to the replies of the clergy in such a way as to show that they did not want to have them interfering in a matter they did not understand. If the question had been one of change ringing I can see the point; but as it was a matter of organisation, a matter in which many of the clergy excel, the argument is not so convincing.

At ringers' meetings one is constantly hearing the complaint that the clergy take no interest in them. But if we are going to snub the clergy in this way when they do attempt to take an interest, it is our own fault if they hold aloof. We ought to make up our minds—(1) Whether we want our organisation to be merely technical societies; in which case we ought always to drop the word Diocesan, and make it clear to the clergy that we do not want their help unless they are change ringers (in which case, too, your suggestion that the Ely Diocesan Guild should be now consulted, is in order); or (2) Whether we want to be organised on Diocesan lines. In the latter case, as West Suffolk is now outside the Ely Diocese, we should have no ground for consulting them.—Yours, etc.,

HERBERT DRAKE.

THE POSITION IN SUFFOLK.To the Editor.

Sir,—There are two points raised in your article in 'The Ringing World' of the 12th inst., which are likely to lead to misconception, and to which, as secretary of the Norwich and Ipswich Association I feel it my duty to call your attention. The points I refer to are as follows, viz.: 'Where the consideration for the Ely Diocesan Association comes in'; and 'That we may lay ourselves open to the accusation of robbing the Ely Diocesan Association.'

Now, Sir, I should like to point out that by reason of the ringers of the Archdeaconry of Sudbury having thrown off their allegiance with the Ely Diocesan Association and established an Association of their own, and that the latter have accepted their action as an accomplished fact. You will realise that an entirely new outlook has arisen respecting our position in relation to the Ely Diocesan Association. Being independent of either Associations, should the Suffolk County Association entertain the proposal of amalgamation with our Association, I fail to see how any reasonable person conversant with what has taken place, since the division of the Dioceses, could accuse our Association of lack of consideration or of robbing the Ely Diocesan Association of territory which they have relinquished in the Archdeaconry of Sudbury.

ARTHUR L. COLEMAN, Secretary,
Norwich and Ipswich Association.

A CALL FOR NEW SYSTEMS.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It was whilst stationed at Great Totham, Essex, with the 2/9th Battalion Hrs. The Royal Scots, that I made my personal acquaintance with the Rev. H. T. W. Eyre, the then Vicar of that parish, whose retirement from the secretaryship of the Essex Association was announced in 'The Ringing World' of the 5th inst. I was then a very raw recruit as regards ringing, only able to manage rounds and call changes. As an expression of gratitude for his help and encouragement in ringing matters, I have named the enclosed method 'Great Totham.'

There are signs here and there that sooner or later a call will be made by six bell ringers for fresh fields of ringing activity, and for new systems of method ringing. All the Surprise Minor methods in the C.C. Collection have been rung, and those of the other classes in the Collection which have not been rung, are becoming a gradually diminishing quantity.

It has occurred to me that one way of meeting the call is by giving the treble another kind of work than those well known, and I have ventured to work this out in the

THE EXTENSION OF DOUBLE NORWICH.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—When I attended the Central Council meeting at Northampton last year I had the pleasure of Mr. H. W. Wilde's company, and amongst our many interesting conversations we discussed the extension of Double Norwich to ten and twelve bells, both agreeing that the methods hitherto known as Double Norwich Royal and Maximus given in Shipway should certainly be called by some other name, as there was very little of the Double Norwich method about them. Mr. Wilde then gave me a lead of what he considered to be a perfect extension of Double Norwich to twelve bells. These figures I now have, and they are identical—row for row—with those given by Mr. George Baker in 'The Ringing World' of July 29th. Mr. Wilde also explained that the extension to Royal, though equally perfect, would unfortunately only run three leads.—Yours, etc.,

PEALS TAPPED ON HANDBELLS.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—We have noted the resolution passed at the annual meeting of the Essex Association on the question of recording peals tapped on handbells. Why the Association has decided not to book the peals is not at all clear to us.

We assume that the main object of the Association is to promote the art of campanology, and we fear that the passing of the above resolution is not a step in that direction. We doubt if 95 per cent. of the ringers present at the meeting ever gave the matter serious consideration, and of those that did we would like to ask on what grounds they considered that these peals should not be booked?

Mr. A. T. Morris has now tapped several peals in three methods, and his chief difficulty is to get ringers capable of umpiring them. Mr. Olave Broyd, of Castle Hedingham (who has tapped peals), and Mr. T. Mannering, of Maidstone, umpired peals for Mr. Morris last week, and it would be interesting to have the opinions of these gentlemen on the performances.

We feel that Mr. Morris is only one of the pioneers of the vogue of peal tapping, and that it is bound to spread. We note that the one peal already booked is to remain as an 'interesting performance'—it might almost read 'Freakish performance,' as this is what appears to have been in the minds of the ringers present at the meeting. We feel that before the question of the booking, or not booking of peals tapped on handbells was gone into, the Peal Committee of the Association should arrange to witness a peal being tapped, and present a report on the performance.

We shall be glad to have the candid opinions of the members who were responsible for the above resolution being passed as to why they arrived at the conclusion that they should not be booked. It appears to us that it is not possible for a ringer, however experienced, to be capable of expressing an opinion on the merits (or otherwise) of peal tapping until he has witnessed one being tapped and has given the matter some serious thought.—We remain, your faithfully,

T. H. BERNARD, Captain.
G. C. R. TAYLER, Secretary.

PRIZE RINGING CONTESTS.To the Editor.

Sir,—In your issue of August 12th, appears an account of a ringing contest held in Ecclesfield, in Yorkshire, for the first time (it is stated) since 1874. I express no opinion upon such contests, whether or no they are creditable or profitable; for I have never seen one, nor have they (I am glad to say) ever been a recognised feature of change ringing in districts with which I am familiar. But I remember that, when I first became interested in the cause of belfry reform some 35 years ago, these ringing contests were spoken of as an old abuse from which the Exercise should purge itself. The clergy were warned, by earnest pioneers of the cause, not to allow their church bells to be used in this way; and I was under the impression that the custom had become discredited with the prevalence of higher views of the uses of church bells and of the ringers' office.

I should be glad to hear whether this Ecclesfield contest is an exceptional 'hark-back' to older times, or a sign of an undesirable revival; also what is to be said in favour of such practices.—Yours faithfully,

(Late Master of the Essex Association).

A MEETING AWHEEL.WINCHESTER GUILD MEMBERS' BANK HOLIDAY ITINERARY.

The district gathering of members of the above somewhat remote division of the Winchester Diocesan Guild took place on the first day of the month, and if not quite so well attended as some previous assembles, it was none the less enjoyable. The weather was ideal for cycling and ringing, and the tower bells silently awaited the eager hands that were to come and 'turn them upside down.' Two towers—Esher and East Molesey—not yet affiliated with the Guild, will, it is hoped, as a result of the meeting, no longer remain out of the fold. The visitors much appreciated the kind attention of the steeplekeepers and the respective clergy at Walton and Hershham, where the veterans, Mr. B. Wickens and Mr. J. Emery, met the members with keys and ropes in readiness. Whilst making the tour of the four towers, many other holiday makers were to be met with all 'going it' by road, rail and river—the usual crowds to be found in the near neighbourhood of the great city of London—and, let us hope, the sound of the bells added joy to their outing, for August Bank Holiday only comes once a year, be it remembered.

The ringing during the day was confined to the four standard methods, and all the 'touches' were short ones, and sweet, the bob callers clearing their characters for 'gourmandising.' The Kent and Bucks party scored four new towers. Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd took part in the ringing at Hershham, and Mr. and Mrs. Whittington were in evidence with their 5,000 mile tandem, which is now a familiar machine at many towers between Land's End and John o' Groats. One lady member was ringing a 'ring' which betokened an engagement of a day old. Mr. 'Tenor' Shepherd, of Swindon, came up at Esher and embraced the J.H. cover bell. There are other little niceties of the craft of ringing which space forbids me to enumerate, but I have mentioned enough to show that other fascinating hobbies can be pursued when once a ringer has placed his foot upon the first 'ring' of the ladder; especially 'some' ladders which readers have met with occasionally.

Altogether 21 towers were represented by the company, and the genial secretary went home, to hear the 'owls hoot mere,' well content with his day's work for the Winchester Guild, in a large district difficult to manage.

At the Parish Church, East Molesey, the Rev. Le Masurier, M.A., conducted the Guild's form of service, and the favourite hymn was sung. The reverend gentleman, in his address, without note or text, referred to the appeal to one's memory created by the sounds of church bells, when the days of our youth and early friends and associations were vividly recalled. Thoughts crowd upon one by some chance sound from the tower, be it in busy city or town, or the quiet country village, and with such thoughts come the reminder of Him who made all things.

Tea, set out on the lawn of East Molesey House, the residence of Captain De Saumarez, was an enjoyable one, with the Vicar presiding, and surrounded with fine specimens of garden shrubs and trees, and the River Mole at the end of the lawn flowing on its way to the Thames. Here can be seen a huge weeping ash, some 150ft. in circumference, the outer boughs touching the ground, the bole representing the pole, leaving a space around resembling the interior of a bell tent. The mulberries were fully ripe, and fingers were made crimson by taking a handful with leave.

There was a little business to be done, as well as revelling, when Messrs. Hall, Brown and Halls were elected performing members, Mr. A. D. Barker a compounding member, and the Rev. Le Masurier an honorary member of the Guild. A peal of 12 handbells were laid out on the grass, and soon several suburban tune players got them going 'four-in-hand' in popular airs, much to the delight of Capt. and Miss De Saumarez, who were on the terrace with friends, and were agreeably surprised to find the 'Blue Bells of Scotland' at East Molesey, and that the gentleman on the tenors—poor fingers!—brought 'Ring the Bell, Watchman,' from the shades of Greenwich.

Thanks to Capt. De Saumarez were voted: to the Vicar for his four-fold help that afternoon; and to Mr. J. Brooks (local captain) for his kind arrangements for the Guild's visit.

The tower ringing ceased at 9 p.m., Messrs. A. V. Marsh, H. J. Chaffey, W. Henley, W. Shorter, W. J. Hollett, J. Howes, E. Holman, S. Woods and G. Miles, taking part therein, with the Misses Gudgin and Bateman. W. H. F.

BRIERLEY HILL RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, August 6th, the ringers of Brierley Hill, Staffs, 14 in all, visited Bridgnorth for their annual outing. Starting from their own tower at 1.30, they had a most enjoyable run via Enville and Four Ashes, and arrived at Low Town at 2.30. After wandering round the town, and a long pull up to High Town, and satisfying the inner-man, the party were met at St. Leonard's Church by Mr. J. Overton and a few of the local ringers at 5.30. The bells were soon raised in peal, and touches of Grandsire and Plain Bob Major were rung until 6.45. Leaving at 7.30, a call was made at Claverley, where a howling match between two of the members was watched with interest, and home was reached at 9.30, after a very enjoyable half-day. The ringers wish to thank the Vicar of Bridgnorth and the local men for the use of the bells and getting everything ready, and for the welcome extended to them.

ST. STEPHEN'S GUILD, BRISTOL.ANNUAL OUTING.

The annual outing of the St. Stephen's (Bristol) Guild took place on Bank Holiday, when Newport and Cardiff were visited, the original intention of visiting London having been cancelled owing to the coal strike having interfered with the railway facilities. The party included the Rev. E. B. James, Mr. T. King (Bath), and Mr. J. Dyke (Midsomer Norton), who arrived in Newport at 10 o'clock, and were met by that enthusiastic ringer, Mr. J. W. Jones, who conducted them to All Saints', where touches of Double Norwich, London Surprise and Stedman Triples were rung. The ancient and interesting Church of St. Woolos was then visited, and Stedman Caters, Clifton Surprise Royal and Cambridge Surprise Royal were rung on the beautiful ten bells. The 'go' of these bells is perfect. Leaving Newport at 12.30, the party had dinner at Cardiff, and then visited Llandaff, where touches of Stedman Caters, Bristol Surprise Major and Cambridge Surprise Royal were rung on the Cathedral bells, the local ringers joining in the Stedman Caters. Returning to Cardiff in the evening, St. John's Church was visited, and Clifton Surprise Royal and Cambridge Surprise Royal were rung. The thanks of the party, who had a most enjoyable outing, are due to Mr. Jones for the arrangements made, and for the pleasure of this company during the day, and to the clergy for the use of their respective bells, and the steeplekeepers for the trouble taken. Regret was felt at the absence of Mr. R. J. Wilkins, through illness, and Mr. J. Tyler on account of illness in his family.

YORKSHIRE RINGERS' TRIP TO PICKERING.

A party of Yorkshire ringers were again indebted to Mr. T. Maude, of Pudsey, for generously organising a successful and pleasant trip on August 6th, when Mr. J. W. and Masters Gerald and Malcolm Moorhouse, and Miss O. Lumley, cycled from Leeds. Mr and Mrs. Cotterell travelled by motor-cycle from Bradford to Pickering. The party was met by Miss Phyllis Gibson, and a visit was made to the tower, where a short touch of Grandsire Triples was rung, followed by touches of Stedman and Double Norwich, on handbells.—The Vicar, who gave the party a hearty welcome, invited them to spend a short time in the Vicarage garden and sample the fruit, while even-song was in progress. Afterwards ringing was resumed, with a touch of Kent Minor, and was followed by a capital tea, served in the Castle Hotel. The Castle was then visited, and the tennis courts and bowling greens called forth much admiration.

A touch of Grandsire was rung for morning service on the following day: Miss O. L. Lumley 1, Miss Simpson 2, Miss P. Gibson 3, Malcolm Moorhouse 4, Gerald Moorhouse 5, Jas. Cotterell 6, J. W. Moorhouse 7, J. Dobson 8. The Vicar conducted the party round the historic church, and described its many interesting features. A start was made at 2.45 p.m. to Scarborough by cycle, and a full band of visitors rang Kent Trouble Bob Major and Stedman Triples for evening service. On Monday, the party prepared for their return ride, after ringing a well-struck touch of Stedman Caters on handbells: Miss O. L. Lumley 1—2, J. Cotterell 3—4, G. Moorhouse 5—6, J. W. Moorhouse 7—8, M. Moorhouse 9—10.

A TRIP TO LLANDUDNO.

The annual outing of the St. Mark's, Worsley, company, took place on July 21st, the party, including wives and friends, travelling by charabanc to Llandudno. The journey was made via Chester, Hawarden, etc., and was everything that could be wished for, the scenery being magnificent. Arriving at the destination just after 11 a.m., the party had an excellent repast at the Dorothy Cafe, and then set out to see the sights, the Great Orme, the Marine Drive, the Invalids' Walk, and the Happy Valley being visited. After tea, the ringers made their way to the Parish Church for some ringing. They were met by two of the local men, who welcomed them and made everything pleasant. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman were rung, a visitor from Doncaster, who was on holiday at Llandudno, taking part. The Worsley ringers tender their best thanks to the Vicar, wardens and ringers for their kindness, and the enjoyable outing is one that will be remembered.

DEVONSHIRE GUILD.

A capital meeting of the North-East Branch of the Guild was held at Huntsham on Saturday, July 30th, when ringers were present from Bampton, Calverleigh, Chipstable, Exeter, Holcombe Rogus, Huntsham, Ilminster, Sowton, Taunton, Tiverton and Washfield. By the kindness of Colonel Acland Troyte, the Court grounds were thrown open to the visitors, who much appreciated this thoughtfulness. It was mentioned during the afternoon that most of the ringers in the West owed their initiation into the art to the present colonel's father, who would have rejoiced at such a gathering.

After service in church, tea was provided in the Court at quite a nominal charge, and a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to Colonel and Mrs. Acland Troyte for their generosity.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting of the branch at Calverleigh in September.

Touches of Grandsire and Stedman were rung on the bells.

CHATHAM RINGERS' TOUR.

On Saturday, August 6th, the ringers of Chatham Parish Church, accompanied by two ringers from Frindsbury, went on a tour through the 'Garden of England.' A full programme had been arranged, so an early start had to be made, Headcorn being reached at 8.30 a.m. Here Mr. Hodgkin met the trippers, and the bells were soon going to the tune of Grandsire Triples. Touches of Stedman, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich were also brought round, and then the party left for Tenterden. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Kent Major were rung on this fine peal of eight, and the bells were lowered in peal just in time to hear the clock chimes to the tune of 'The Last Rose of Summer.' After partaking of a sumptuous meal, supplied by the proprietor of the Woolpack Hotel, the party made tracks for Wye, where touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major and Double Norwich were rung. Chilham was the next place of call, and here Grandsire, Stedman and Kent Treble Bob were brought round. At Ospringe, the last place of call, the visitors arrived half an hour late, in spite of the efforts of the driver, but justice was done to a fine tea at the Ship Inn. Afterwards they were met at the tower by the captain of the local band, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major were successfully accomplished. Chatham was eventually reached safely at 10 p.m., thus bringing to an end a most successful outing, the first since 1914. The ringers wish to express their thanks to the incumbents at the several towers, and also to the local ringers for the way in which they were received.

LEEDS & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The usual monthly meeting of the above society was held at Rothwell, on Saturday, July 30th, and ringers were present from Leeds Parish Church, and the local company. Touches of Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples were rung, and Mr. O. Lawson, in the absence of the chairman, presided at the business meeting.

LOSS TO BOURNEMOUTH DISTRICT.

Ringings in the Bournemouth district has received a heavy blow by the deaths of Mr. C. W. Goodenough, of St. Peter's band, and Mr. R. Wheeler, an old ringer of St. James', Poole, both of whom have recently passed away. On Tuesday, August 2nd, a muffled quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at St. James', Poole, as a token of respect, by: H. G. Thompson 1, I. Davies 2, H. Baverstock 3, A. G. Rose 4, W. Allen 5, H. James 6, P. W. Townsend (conductor) 7, P. Davis 8.

85 : 64 : 46 : 43.A REMARKABLE EVENT.

August 8th marked a red-letter day in the life of Mr. Joseph Rayner, of 54, Gee Street, London, E.C.1, the much respected steeple-keeper of St. Andrew's Church, Holborn. He was married on August 8th, 1857, and August 8th, 1921, was the anniversary of 64 years of married life. He had also been associated with St. Andrew's Church, Holborn, for 46 years, and a College Youth for 43 years. In the evening of the 8th instant, eight members of the College Youths, in 49 minutes, rang a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes), at St. Andrew's, Holborn, in honour of this remarkable event, which is the first quarter-peal upon these bells since the rehanging. The band were, Messrs. C. F. Winney 1, O. S. Burden 2, T. Walker 3, C. W. R. Grimwood 4, W. S. Langdon 5, W. A. Alps (conductor) 6, H. Langdon 7, A. Joyce 8. Mr. Tom Langdon was also present.—Mr. Alps, 'in a few words,' expressed the heartiest congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Rayner, on behalf of the ringers present, and he also felt certain that the College Youths as a whole joined with them in this expression of best wishes for their future.—Mr. Rayner thanked his brother ringers for their good wishes so kindly expressed. Although he is 85 years of age, he is still a youth and appears to be proud of it, judging by the hearty welcomes extended to the College Youths at all times.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

A successful meeting of the Isle of Wight District of the Winchester Diocesan Guild was held on August Bank Holiday at All Saints', Freshwater. Ringing commenced at 2.30, and was enjoyed by visitors from Portsea, Croydon, and the local ringers, besides Guild members from Newport, Ryde, Brading, Carisbrooke, Whitwell and Ventnor. A short service was conducted by the Rev. H. E. H. Coombes (Rector), who expressed the pleasure it gave him to be able to speak to the ringers assembled in his church. Ringing, to his mind, was symbolised by three words: Music, Method, and Mirth. He hoped they would endeavour always to create music by the method, so necessary to good ringing, and so spread the feeling of mirth among those who listened to their efforts.

The business meeting was held in the vestry, presided over by the Vicar.—The next meeting was fixed for All Saints' (8 bells), Ryde, in November.—Instruction was arranged for the Freshwater ringers, who are a young band.

Tea was partaken of at Gillings' Restaurant, 20 sitting down.

SKIPTON PARISH CHURCH BELLS.

RECAST PEAL, DEDICATED.

On Saturday afternoon, August 6th, the Right Rev. Dr. Perowne, Lord Bishop of Bradford, dedicated the new peal of eight bells at Skipton Parish Church, Yorks, in the presence of a large congregation. The service commenced with the processional hymn, 'Angel voices ever singing,' and was followed by shortened evening prayer, with Psalm and special lesson, to the end of the Third Collect.

During the singing of the hymn, 'Christ is our cornerstone,' the Bishop, clergy and choir proceeded to the tower, where the act of dedication took place. Mr. A. Randerson (churchwarden) asked the Bishop to dedicate the bells, and several prayers followed. His Lordship then performed the ceremony in the following words: 'To the glory of God, and for the service of His Church, we do now solemnly set apart and dedicate the bells in this tower in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost Amen.' He communicated with a bell rope to the ringing chamber, and the local company set the bells going for the first time in rounds for three minutes.

During this time the procession returned to the chancel. The Bishop then preached from Proverbs viii. 4: 'Unto you, O men, I call; and my voice is to the sons of man.' Dealing mainly with the civil and religious uses to which bells were put, he described that day as one of great importance to the members of the church. Bells, Dr. Perowne said, were a call to worship. He was thankful that that day had been marked in the revised prayer-book by the restoration of the festival of the Transfiguration, and it was very striking that upon that day also the Skipton Parish Church bells should have been dedicated.

After the service, ringing was continued for the remainder of the day by the Gargrave, Kildwick, and Keighley companies (who had been invited to the dedication ceremony), and also by the local company the touches including 500 of Grandsire Triples, and various lengths of Treble Bob.

The Rev. C. M. Edgar, of St. Augustine's, Kilburn, was very much interested in the new peal, and expressed delight with the tone of the bells, as did the Bishop, Archdeacon Cook, and the church officials. Many people were outside the church to hear them started, despite the fact that the weather was bad at the time.

The recast peal weighs over 80 cwt., and the tenor in D flat weighs 22 cwt. 1 qr. It is the very latest production from the Loughborough foundry, and that speaks for itself. Hung in a new frame, with ball bearings, and tuned on Canon Simpson's principle, the sweetness of the tone was favourably commented upon by many parishioners, and all the ringers. The firm was represented by Mr. Pryce Taylor, who took part in several touches on the opening day, and also rang for service on the following day.

SUFFOLK ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Suffolk Association took place at Sudbury, on August 1st. Ringing commenced at St. Peter's at 10 o'clock, under the conductorship of Mr. F. Borrett, of Pulham Market, from thence to St. Gregory and then to All Saints'. The whole three peals of eight were going at the same time, and the ringing was kept up at intervals till 4 p.m., when an adjournment was made to All Saints' Schoolroom for business. Owing to the absence of the Vicar, the Rev. — Stote, Mr. Fredk. E. Wheeler, senr., churchwarden, presided.—Mr. Wheeler said he was pleased the Vicar had to leave home. He was pleased that he was at liberty and able to preside, and to welcome the ringers to Sudbury.—The Secretary made a suggestion for the re-naming of the new association, and Mr. D. Elliott proposed, and Mr. A. Scott seconded, that the name be altered to 'The Suffolk Diocesan Association.' This was put to the meeting, and was carried unanimously. New members elected were: H. Lister, K. Whittell, J. Whittell and P. W. Whittell, of Bildston; J. Euston and A. Proctor, Great Finborough; D. Elliott, Great Henny; Mr. F. E. Wheeler, hon. member; Mr. R. Whiting, Pulham Market, life member, non-resident; F. Claydon, Earls Colne; A. Saunders, Greenstead Green; A. Maxim, Foxearth; E. Beckwith, Coggeshall; W. Elliott, Kelvedon; A. Catterwell, Little Horkesley. Mr. F. Turner was elected auditor. Hadleigh was selected for the next meeting, to be held in September.—A vote of thanks to Mr. Wheeler for presiding; also to the Vicar of All Saints'; Canon J. J. Jones for the use of the bells of St. Gregory and St. Peter's. Methods rung during the day was Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Double Norwich, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Superlative. Towers represented were: Cathedral Church, Bury St. Edmunds; Lavenham, Fornham All Saints, Long Melford, Glemsford, Thornham Magna, Ipswich, Pulham Market, Norfolk; Foxearth, Great Henny, Great Tey, Kelvedon, Colchester, Little Horkesley, Essex.—At the close of the tower bell ringing, Mr. Bowell and son rang a course each of Double Norwich Major, Double Oxford Minor and Stedman Doubles.

HONITON, DEVON.—At St. Michael's, on Aug 9th, 240 Grandsire Doubles: H. Skinner 1, F. Smith 2, E. Clapp 3, F. Dark 4, W. Stuart 5, W. Davey 6, W. Hooper 7. It is some years ago since this band has done any change ringing, but they are now meeting regularly.

METHOD CONSTRUCTION.
THE EXTENSION OF LONDON SURPRISE.

By GEORGE BAKER.

I illustrated in 'The Ringing World' of July 29th the fact that Double Norwich Royal is not a method, it is a three-part touch. This article should prove conclusively that London Surprise Royal and Maximus are touches also.

If we use absolutely the same kind of shunts in the construction of London Royal and Maximus, as are used in London Surprise Minor and Major we obtain the following leads:

By transposition we shall find that London Royal is a seven-part touch, and is not in Plain Bob coursing order; London Maximus is a five-part touch, with Grandsire coursing order.

As I mentioned in connection with Double Norwich Royal, it may be possible to obtain peals from these touches, but as methods London Surprise Royal and Maximus do not exist.

If our mutual friend Mr. Trollope will compare the following method with London Surprise Minor, and also with his supposed London Surprise extensions on the higher numbers, he will find he has not extended London Surprise Major as he thought, but he has extended an entirely different method, of which London Surprise Minor is the infant, the Major is here, and he is the author of the Royal and Maximus.

London Surprise Minor and Major both have equal numbers of odd and even changes; the Rev. E. B. James' method of Royal does not conform to that rule, as each lead contains 24 odd changes, and 16 even changes, which of itself is sufficient proof the construction is not the same as London Surprise, and, furthermore, the Minor of Mr. James' method has five false course ends, and is, therefore, useless; on eight bells the same construction produces a method with the non-coursing lead head of 14258367.

The latter circumstance is by no means unusual, there are other methods in which the Minor and Royal have coursing order lead heads, but Major produced by the same shunts have non-coursing lead heads.

BURES BELLS RESTORED.

The restoration of the bells at Bures, Suffolk, has just been completed by Mr. A. Bowell, of Ipswich, and a large company of ringers, representing about twenty towers, were present at the reopening. Three of the bells have been recast, and the whole ring of six have been rehung with steel headstocks. The 3rd bears an inscription showing that the recasting and rebanging were done in memory of Mr. Alan Pettitt, who was churchwarden for 40 years, and connected with Bures Church in many capacities for the whole of his life. Great satisfaction was expressed by visiting ringers with the results of Mr. Bowell's work, the tone of the new bells and the 'go' of the whole peal being excellent. The tenor is 21 cwt. The ringing on the occasion of the opening included 720's of Cambridge Surprise, Double Court, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, and touches of Double Oxford and Plain Bob.

In place of the old cracked ring of five, Mr. A. Bowell, of Ipswich, who has done a great deal of work in Kent, is providing a new peal of six at Smarden in that county. He is also engaged in the restoration of two other Kentish peals, viz., at Staplehurst and Aylesford, at each of which places there is a ring of eight.

Other restorations upon which he is engaged are: Baldock, Herts (8), Finchingfield, Essex (8), Braintree, Essex (8), and Spaldwick, Hunts (6).

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

On Wednesday, August 10th, a combined practice was held at Putney, and was attended by members from Chelsea, Battersea, Hammersmith, Kilburn, Chipping Barnet, and the local band. Grandsire, Stedman and Double Norwich were the methods rung, and, incidentally, much good work was done both individually and collectively. The handy ring of good-going bells, the river (with its burden of boats of various sorts) flowing peacefully by, the splendid view up river, with Harrow Church in the far distance, contributed to make quite a pleasant evening. It is hoped that many who know not Putney and its beauty, will get acquainted with it at the next combined practice, which will be duly announced.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting for August of the Rochdale Branch took place on Saturday, the 7th, at Hamer; 28 members representing the following towers were present: Oldham, Glodwick, East Crompton, Middleton, Milnrow, Shore, Todmorden Parish Church, Crosstones, Miles Platting, Hamer, Pendleton and Hepstonstall. Ringing commenced soon after 3 p.m., and was continued until about 9 o'clock, the methods rung being Stedman, Grandsire, Kent, Oxford and Plain Bob Minor.

Mr. S. Stott afterwards presided over the business meeting, at which it was decided that the next monthly meeting should be held at Middleton on September 10th.—Messrs. A. Hoyle and J. Silverwood (of Hamer), together with Mr. E. Procter (of Shore), were elected performing members of the association.

A very satisfactory report of the meeting held at Trinity Church, Bolton, was given by the Rochdale Branch representative, and was accepted by the meeting.

After Mr. T. K. Driving had been unanimously nominated as branch secretary for the next two years, the following nominations were made for the Lancashire Association, the annual meeting of which takes place on September 24th, at Todmorden Parish Church: Mr. J. Schofield (of Glodwick) as vice-president; Mr. J. H. Banks as ringing secretary; Messrs. A. Barnes and S. Greenhaigh as auditors.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar of Hamer for the use of the tower and bells, and to the local ringers for having everything in readiness, brought this successful and harmonious meeting to a conclusion.

THE EXTENSION OF LONDON SURPRISE.

From eight bells to all numbers, odd and even, up to infinity. Above the treble.

1. On eight bells second's place is made at the parting of the leads. On all numbers make second's place at the parting of the leads.
2. On eight bells a place is made at every cross section, next the treble's path, except when she passes into the hindmost dodging position.

On all bells make a place at every cross section next the treble's path, except when she passes into the hindmost dodging position.

3. On eight bells, when the treble is dodging in 1-2, the six hindmost bells plain hunt backwards.

On all even numbers, when the treble is dodging in 1-2, make the six hindmost bells plain hunt backwards.

On all odd numbers, when the treble is dodging in 2-3, make the six hindmost bells plain hunt backwards.

4. On eight bells a place is made next the treble's path at every cross section.

On all numbers make a place next the treble's path at every cross section.

5. On eight bells fourth's place from behind is made at the half-lead end.

On all numbers make fourth's place from behind at the half-lead end.

6. On eight bells, Oxford places are made in every section next the treble's path until she passes into the hindmost dodging position but one.

On all numbers make Oxford places in every section next the treble's path until she passes into the hindmost dodging position but one.

7. On eight bells, when the treble is in the hindmost dodging position but one, the four bells immediately below her plain hunt backwards.

On all numbers when the treble is in the hindmost dodging position but one, make the four bells immediately below plain hunt backwards.

8. On eight bells, when the treble is in the hindmost dodging position, the six bells immediately below plain hunt backwards.

On all numbers, when the treble is in the hindmost dodging position, make the six bells immediately below plain hunt backwards.

This gives the first half-lead. The second half is the same thing backwards.

The lead end on all even numbers is the same, i.e., 4263857 on eight, 426385079 on ten, 4263850719e on twelve, etc. The work of the bells on eight is retained on all even numbers in the same order, and without any alteration whatever. Additions consist of extra dodging, as in Kent, Double Oxford, and the rest. The odd bell variations differ from the even bell variations in the way that all odd bell variations must differ from even bell variations.

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

FINCHAMPSTEAD, BERKS.—On Saturday July 30th, in honour of the Patronal Festival, 1,440 Bob Minor: J. White 1, J. Mason 2, E. Milam 3, W. J. Paice 4, J. Nash 5, W. Goddard (conductor) 6. Longest length on the bells by a local hand.

TANWORTH, STAFFS.—At 13, Ludgate Street, on Saturday, July 30th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles, on handbells, in 37 mins.: H. I. Dakin 1-2, S. G. Chaplin (conductor) 3-4, E. J. Jeffries 5-6. E. J. Jeffries has only been practising a few weeks on handbells.

MIDDLESEX RINGERS IN KENT.

On Saturday, August 13th, the band of ringers at St. Stephen's, West Ealing, Middlesex, spent an enjoyable day in Kent.

Leaving Ealing at 7 a.m., for Northfleet (via Charing Cross, where they were joined by Messrs. C. F. Winney and A. A. Hughes), which was reached at 9 a.m., the first tower to be visited was Swanscombe (8). Here Messrs. W. Hooper, G. Hayes and F. Hayes were waiting, and the bells were soon going to touches of Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Major for about 40 minutes.

A move was then made for Northfleet (8); here again touches of Stedman, Grandsire Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major were brought round.

The next call was Old Gravesend (8), where touches of Stedman Triples were successfully brought round. After a repast, the band (who were now augmented by several members of the Milton-next-Gravesend band) made their way to the Clock Tower. At 2 p.m. a start was made for the outlying villages, the various towers being visited in the following order: Meopham (6), St. George's, Wrotham (8), St. Mary's, West Malling (8). Here a halt was called for tea. Leaving at 6 p.m., the next call was Snodland (6), and then on to Rochester Cathedral (10), by special invitation, where several members of the band took part in touches of Stedman Caters and Treble Ten. Leaving Gravesend at 9.57 p.m., the band reached Ealing at 11.55 p.m., after spending a very enjoyable day, on the first occasion of an outing by a band of ringers from St. Stephen's. It is hoped by all that it will become an annual affair. The band wish to take this opportunity of thanking all the incumbents of the various churches visited in so kindly placing the bells at their disposal, also the steeplekeepers in having the bells, etc., in readiness; to Mr. W. Haigh, to the ringers of Swanscombe and Milton-next-Gravesend for their company, and especially to Mr. F. M. Mitchell, secretary of the Rochester district of the Kent County Association, who made all arrangements for the towers, charabanc, lunch and tea, and hope that their enjoyment was not less than that of their brother ringers of St. Stephen's. It may be interesting to some brother ringers to know that on the journey home, the members of St. Stephen's band, with Mr. Winney, were initiated in the order of Tom Tits by Mr. A. A. Hughes.

DURHAM PRACTICE MEETINGS.

A combined practice was held at the six-bell tower at Staindrop recently, and was attended by ringers from Darlington, Hurworth and Shildon, and the local band, including the veteran, Mr. D. Shipp, who, despite his 82 years, is as keen as ever in taking part in a touch of Kent Treble Bob Minor. The methods rung included Kent Treble Bob Minor, Oxford Treble Bob Minor, Bob Minor, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles. A 720 of Kent was rung by: H. Taylor 1, A. Coates 2, J. Newson 3, W. D. Lister 4, A. Hunter 5, R. B. Robinson (conductor) 6.

At another practice at Gainford (6), touches of Kent, Oxford and Plain Bob Minor were rung by ringers from Darlington, Hurworth, Shildon and Staindrop, but owing to tendency of 5th bell to 'throw' the rope as the wheel was out of truth, the usual 720 could not be rung. Thanks are due to the Rectors of Staindrop and Gainford for permission to ring, and to Messrs. Shipp (Staindrop) and Henderson (Gainford) for having the bells ready. The next meeting will be held at Barnard Castle or Catterick, due notice of which will be given in 'The Ringing World.'

TEWKESBURY & DISTRICT GUILD.

A NEW GLOUCESTERSHIRE ORGANISATION.

A meeting of the above Guild was held at Ashchurch, on Saturday evening, July 30th, ringers being present from the various towers in the neighbourhood, including the Ringing Master and hon. secretary. During the evening, touches of Grandsire, Plain Bob, Stedman and Canterbury Doubles and Plain Bob, Canterbury, Oxford Bob, College Single and Kent Treble Bob Minor, were rung, some of those present making their first attempt at some of the methods. Several new members were elected, and Tirley selected for the next place of meeting, on Saturday.—A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells brought a very pleasant and instructive meeting to a close.

This is the fourth meeting of the Guild since its formation, previous meetings having been held at Twynning, Dearhurst and Fortthampton. It is owing chiefly to the energies of Mr. C. W. Dyson that the above Guild was formed. On Easter Monday last a fairly representative gathering met in the belfry of Tewkesbury Abbey to discuss the advisability of forming the Guild, and it was unanimously decided to take this step, as it was thought it would fulfil a long-felt want, the object of the Guild being the promotion of change ringing and friendly intercourse between the different bands of ringers in the neighbourhood.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: President, the Rev. E. F. Smith, Vicar of Tewkesbury Abbey; Ringing Master, Mr. C. W. Dyson; and hon. secretary, Mr. F. Smith. Afterwards touches of Grandsire Triples and a course of Grandsire Caters were rung by members of the newly-formed Guild.

ALDERSHOT.—Winchester Guild. — For evensong, at the Parish Church of St. Michael, on Sunday, August 14th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 47 mins.: Sergt. G. Gilbert, R.E. (conductor), 1, Miss B. M. Mills 2, W. Denyer 3, T. Streeter 4, Alb. Croucher 5, C. Bish 6, W. Moorey 7, Fred Croucher 8. Arranged for ringers of 4th from Shere, and 6th and 7th from Godalming, the remainder being Aldershot band.

WAKEFIELD.—On Sunday, August 7th, at the Cathedral, Wakefield, for evening service, was rung a touch of Grandsire Triples, numbering 504 changes, by a portion of the Cathedral company, stationed as follows: T. Moorhouse 1, J. Moorhouse 2, W. Peaker 3, G. Heald 4, G. Hinsley 5, T. Eason 6, F. Cockell 7, W. Archer 8. The touch was conducted by Mr. James Moorhouse in a masterly manner, and was much enjoyed by the ringers. Great credit is due to the conductor, as this was practically his first attempt at calling. He was heartily congratulated by his fellow ringers on his achievement, who realise more than the general public the mental strain that is involved in keeping so many 'fuzzaks' in their proper places.

BOURTON-ON-THE-WATER.—The Gloucester and Bristol Association. —On Sunday evening, for service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), in 48 mins.: H. E. Gillett 1, W. Stratford 2, H. Packer 3, W. Large (conductor) 4, J. Collett 5, T. Banning 6, H. Gillett 7, J. Butler 8. W. Large belong to Todenham. This quarter was taken from Grove's Variation of Parker's 12-Part.

IN THE THAMES VALLEY.

St. Mary's Society, Putney, had an enjoyable outing to the upper reaches of the Thames. Leaving Paddington at 6.30 a.m. they made Shiplake their headquarters, and at the Plough mine host had a genial welcome and a substantial breakfast awaiting them. Afterwards they enjoyed some ringing on the bells of the Parish Church, Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob being the methods. After dinner a visit was paid to Sonning, where the party were cordially received by the Vicar and invited to rest on the Vicarage lawn. Subsequently a quarter-peal of Grandsire was attempted on the Parish Church bells, but was stopped after 35 minutes by the conductor, under the erroneous impression that he had missed a bob. A stroll back along the Thames Valley to headquarters for tea was followed by a visit to Wargrave, where touches were rung on the beautiful peal of eight. On Sunday a quarter-peal was rung for service at Shiplake, as already duly recorded, and after a leisure day the party returned home via Caversham, where, by the kindness of the Vicar and local ringers, three courses of Stedman and a touch of Grandsire were rung after service.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

A monthly meeting of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild (Devizes Branch) was held at Bratton, on August 6th. It was not very well attended, owing, we presume, to the short notice, only 14 out of a possible 179 turning up. The following towers were represented: Warminster, Trowbridge (Devizes St. John), Westbury, Kesvil, Hilperion and Midsomer Norton. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION. REVISED RULES.

Irrefutable evidence that the affairs of the Sussex County Association are in the grip of a post-war revival was furnished by the unqualified success of the quarterly meeting of the Central Division held at Crawley on Saturday, August 6th. Ringing commenced at 2.30 p.m., and was continued until 4.30 p.m., when a short service was held in the fine old church of St. John the Baptist. During the course of an illuminating address, the Rector (the Rev. H. L. Barrett-Lennard, M.A.) outlined briefly the history of the use of bells as instruments of Christian worship from the very earliest times to the present day; and quoted some remarkable figures and facts in connection with weights and types of bells; the varying styles of architecture of campaniles; and the great names in the history of bell founding.

At the close of the service a collection was made on behalf of the Benevolent Fund of the Association.

A move was then made to the Rectory, where the vista of the white-covered tea-tables on the lawns evidenced the generous interest of the incumbents of Crawley in the affairs of the association; and a truly representative company of 40 partook of the goodly fare provided. At the conclusion of the meal the necessary business of the meeting was proceeded with, the Rector being in the chair, supported by Mr. York Bramble, and the divisional secretary, Mr. A. D. Stone. In the election of new members, the Secretary proposed, for the Twineham Branch, one hon. member (the Rector), and ten ringing members; for the Bolney Branch, four ringing members.—The proposal was seconded by Mr. T. H. Messer, and carried unanimously.—Then followed the ratification of the provisional election of six non-resident members.

Under the general business item, attention was drawn to the innovations in the rules of the association, which have been revised by the sub-committee appointed for that purpose at the last annual general meeting, and which are incorporated in the latest issue of the annual report. It was pointed out that while the removal of all the old irregularities and ambiguities had resulted in the expansion of the rules, yet only one new rule (as to peals, etc.) had been added, one other being divided into two; and that nothing had been included except what absolute necessity demanded. Any constitutional innovation was, of course, subject to adoption at the next annual general meeting. Copies of the report had been circulated to all affiliated towers in the county, and it was urged, therefore, that all members should make themselves well acquainted with the rules, and discuss the question of the innovations in readiness for adoption or otherwise at the annual general meeting. Only by the practical application of a thorough working knowledge of what was really the basis of the constitution of the association could its members hope to assist their officers in maintaining the association in the front rank of ringing organisations.

It was then announced that, in accordance with Rule XIV., individual members might obtain copies of the annual report upon payment therefor, and in a few seconds the divisional secretary had sold out (at the rate of 1s. per copy) the stock he had brought with him.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mr. York Bramble announced that the Master of the Association, Mr. J. Thornton Rickman, who had returned to Brighton to attend a prior engagement, desired to have his regret expressed at being unable to remain till the end of the day; and he (the speaker) had great pleasure, therefore, in proposing (in the absence of the Master) a very hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for his interesting and instructive address, and also for the enjoyable tea which he had so generously provided; to the Rector and churchwardens for the use of the bells, and to the organist and the choir for their services.—Mr. A. D. Stone seconded, and the motion was carried with acclamation.—The Rector, in responding, expressed the great pleasure it gave them to welcome a gathering of the association to Crawley, and hoped that the next visit would be at an early date.

Ringling at the tower was then resumed, and practice in the following methods—Bristol, London, Cambridge, Superlative, Double Norwich, Treble Bob, Stedman, Grandsire and Plain Bob—kept the bells going until a late hour, when the members reluctantly dispersed from what was unanimously voted a highly enjoyable meeting.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting of the South-Western Division was held at Havering Atte Bower, on Saturday, August 13th, at which 20 members were present from the following towers: West Ham, Barking, Romford, Hornchurch, Loughton, Dagenham, Chigwell Row, Woodford, Leytonstone, Little Heath and Bentley, who rang touches of Plain Bob, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge, York and London Surprise Minor.—The Vicar welcomed the members, and arranged a short service, and presided at the meeting held in the hall near the church. He was supported by the District Master (Mr. E. Wightman). It was decided to hold a by-meeting at Bovinger on Sept. 25th, notice of which will appear in 'The Ringing World.'—It was also decided to hold the annual district meeting at Waltham Abbey, in December.—Mr. G. Perry, of Loughton, was elected a ringing member, and Mr. H. W. Freeman was re-elected a member of the association.—A vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, conducting the service and presiding concluded the meeting.

SLOUGH PEAL TABLET.

BISHOP AND THE 'DEAR OLD DAYS.'

A handsome peal tablet of Hopwood Stone, designed by Mr. W. H. Fussell, and given by Mr. E. Sargent, who also executed the work, has been erected in the belfry of St. Mary's, Slough, recording the first peal of Grandsire Triples rung by the local band on October 18th, 1919. The tablet was unveiled and dedicated by the Bishop of Buckingham, who, addressing the ringers afterwards, told them he was pleased to perform the ceremony because it reminded him of the dear old days they had spent together, when his position was rather different to what it is now. The band that rang the peal, rang a touch of 400 Grandsire Triples, standing in the same order, viz.: A. Leader 1, T. S. Smith 2, W. H. Fussell 3, W. G. Bedford 4, G. T. Leader 5, E. T. Hooper (conductor) 6, P. E. Jones 7, A. Perryman 8. Touches of Stedman Triples by friends and visitors followed.

On the same occasion the Bishop dedicated a turret clock, with three dials, placed in the church by Mr. E. Sargent, of Buckingham House, in memory of his uncle, Mr. Edward Sargent, who was parish clerk from 1896 to 1915.

The eight bells of St. Mary's Church, Billingshurst, are to be restored. The tenor bell is to be recast owing to being cracked, and the whole peal retuned and rehung with all new fittings. The contract has been placed in the hands of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

ELY ASSOCIATION AND SUFFOLK.

While the Norwich and Ipswich Association was seeking at Lowestoft to find a solution of the difficulty which presented itself by the formation of the Suffolk Association, the latter body at Sudbury took steps to justify an extension of its activities throughout the county by changing its title to "The Suffolk Diocesan Association." How far this alteration is a happy choice of title, seeing that it does not conform to the name of the new diocese, is not a matter of much importance outside the Association itself, but it does emphasise the determination of the members not to confine their efforts to West Suffolk. Our article on the position of affairs in the county, which appeared a fortnight ago, has, we believe, awakened a very real interest, among the ringers most closely concerned, as to the best method by which an amicable settlement of the relations of the rival organisations can be arrived at. To our suggestion that it was a matter in which the Ely Diocesan Association should have a voice, the reply of Mr. A. L. Coleman last week was that, as the Ely Association had recognised and accepted the fact that the Sudbury Diocese had thrown off its allegiance, it left the field clear to the Norwich and Ipswich Association to make advances. There would have been stronger ground for his contention were it not for the fact that the Ely Association, as far back as 1914, had, in view of the division of the diocese, taken specific action to encourage the towers in the new diocese to form a diocesan Association.

The letters which we publish this week make it abundantly clear that the Ely Association retired from the Sudbury Archdeaconry with a definite policy in view—but that policy was not to leave the field open to any other Association, apart from a new one established directly to embrace the new diocese, to step in and take over what they had relinquished. Indeed, in the Report for 1913 the Ely Association referred to the division of the diocese, appealed to the Sudbury Archdeaconry not to sever their connection with them until a new association was formed for the new diocese, and strongly deprecated a withdrawal in favour of any Association which lay outside the new diocese. Probably Mr. Coleman was unaware of the attitude of the Ely Association, when he suggested last week that no reasonable person conversant with what had taken place could accuse the Norwich and Ipswich Association of lack of consideration or of robbing the Ely Diocesan Association of territory. As the Rev. H. B. Woolley points out, it would be well if the Suffolk Association now voiced its own views, and in any case we are still of opinion that for the sake of future amicable relations between the various organisations concerned, any conference should be attended by the Ely as well as the other Associations. The question is one which will need some amount of diplomacy to settle satisfactorily, but, in view of the line which has all along been taken by the Ely Association, no settlement, in our opinion, is likely to remove the friction which ignores the position of this body.

The band tender their best thanks to Mr. G. Eastaugh, the tower keeper, for granting permission to ring at a moment's notice.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting of the Eastern Division of the Sussex Association was held at Battle on Saturday, August 13th, between 24 and 30 members attending from Bexhill, Battle, Christ Church, Blacklands, Salehurst, and Eastbourne (St. Saviour's). Messrs. G.
H. Howse and A. Piper, of Eastbourne, and Mr. G. Billings, of Hawkhurst, were also present. Ringing in the standard methods was indulged in during the afternoon and evening.

At the service, the Dean gave an excellent address, which was thoroughly appreciated by everyone present. Through the great kindness of the churchwarden, Mr. R. B. Allwork, the ringers were invited to tea at his residence in High Street, the meeting which followed being held on the lawn, the Dean presiding.

The Dean of Battle, the Very Rev. H. Francis, M.A., and the Vicar of St. Saviour's, Eastbourne (the Rev. Canon H. Urling Wheipton, M.A.), were elected as hon. life members, and Mr. R. B.
Allwork (Battle) was elected as an hon. member. The following ringing members were also elected: Messrs. W. H. Ware, J. Park, E.
Marchant, L. Faulkner, and A. Akehurst, of St. Saviour's, Eastbourne.

Mr. W. D. Smith proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. All-work for his kindness in providing tea, and coupled with this the names of Miss Allwork and Mrs. Walter Allwork for so kindly attending to the ringers' wants. He also thanked the Dean for the use of the bells, and for his very kindly and practical address at the service.—This was supported by Mr. Walter Franks, and the Dean, in acknowledging the vote of thanks, said what a great pleasure it had been to him to be amongst them that day.

Mr. Allwork also responded, and in a few well-chosen words, said he had been more than pleased to welcome the ringers to tea that day.

It was decided, circumstances permitting, to hold the next quarterly meeting at Mayfield.

CHIPPING BARNET RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, August 13th, the St. John's Society, Chipping Barnet, with their wives and ringing friends, from Hadley, Southgate and Kilburn, held their annual outing. Leaving the Parish Church at two o'clock they travelled by charabanc to Harpenden, where the steeplekeeper was awaiting them, and the bells were soon going to the tune of Stedman Triples, and a well-struck touch was called by Norman A. Tomlinson. Grandsire Triples and Bob Major followed, to give all a chance to have a pull. Proceeding to Luton, where Mr. A. King gave the visitors a welcome, the bells, a nice peal of eight, were soon going to methods to suit all. The next stop was Hitchin, where a sumptuous tea was provided by Host Hobleys.
At the church, some of the local band were awaiting the party, who found a good peal of bells (tenor 28 cwt.), and a lot of jolly good fellows, too. They would have liked to stay longer, but a touch of Stedman Triples and Bob Major had to suffice, before going off to Knebworth. Here a well-struck touch of Stedman, conducted by Cecil V. Ebberson, and Grandsire Triples by Norman A. Tomlinson, finished the day's ringing. The return journey was commenced at about 9 o'clock, and Chipping Barnet reached at 11 o'clock, everyone being pleased with the trip.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

A monthly meeting of the above was held at Brinklow on Saturday last. The Vicar (the Rev. G. A. Dawson) was present in the church, and welcomed the members, who attended from Allesley, Coventry, Exhall, Nuneaton, Rugby, Stoke and Warwick. Some good ringing was successfully accomplished, and included Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Kent Minor, Double Court, Double Oxford, Double Stedman Slow Course, and Plain Bob. Tea was partaken of at the Raven Inn, after which the handbells were brought into use, and amongst other methods a very musical but freak method, called Rugby Major, was rung. The members wish to take this opportunity of thanking the Vicar for the use of the bells.

LONDON SURPRISE ROYAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I think we have had quite enough of bluff, as they call it, in poker, and that the time has come for somebody to lay his cards upon the table; for my own part, I am quite ready to do so. This is my view:—

London Surprise consists in two hunts, a treble bob hunt, which is done by the treble, and adopted by all the other bells when they are going to pass the treble—to enable them to get by—and a plain hunt backwards, which all the bells do, when they are not manœuvring to pass the treble, and there is no other work of any sort in the method.

As I want everybody to thoroughly understand this argument, I pause to explain that a plain hunt is the work that bells do in Plain Bob, and by a plain hunt backwards I mean that the bells are hunting in the other direction, as in the annexed figures.

Now, if we look at London on six and eight bells, we find that the bells adopt different places in which to change from their backward hunt to the treble bob hunt when they are above the treble, but as soon as they have passed the treble on the way down they make a place at once and resume the plain hunt backwards, except the two bells that dodge with the treble behind, which come down one place lower before they bring their plain hunt backwards.

And now I think I hear someone asking about the second's place when the treble is dodging in 3—4. Well, if we followed the ordinary rule the changes would go as I give them here, which would involve the 2nd lying three blows at lead, and a repetition when the treble is in 4th's place; both of which are avoided by making the place one row later.

Notice that the internal places mark the divisions between the hunts: the bells on one side of the place are hunting backwards, those on the other are doing treble bob.

In the Minor the 5th is the pivot bell, and the Major the 7th; therefore the 9th is the bell that must make 7th's place when the treble lies her whole pull behind in Royal.

This fixes the pairing of the other bells, for when the 9th lies still 7 must change with 10, 5 with 8, 3 with 6, and 2 with 4, otherwise we shall not get the right lead end.

We are now in a position to make a start. Have we any definite fact to begin with that will fix the working of the other bells? We have—the second is already dodging with the treble, so her work is fixed, and she will be in 5th's place going up as the treble commences her whole pull behind.

This fixes the work of the fourth, which must be in 6th's place ready to change with her; therefore, the fourth must pass the treble in 8—9 down, and it is our work to see that she gets there at the right time. Recollect that the only means by which we can do this is by choosing the right moment to alter her path from a backwards hunt to a treble bob hunt. Now, there are two places in which we can do this. First we can let her make 8th's place as she hunts up and begin dodging parallel to the treble, but if we do that the bells behind her must continue their plain hunt backwards, which would involve 8th's, 9th's and 10th's places being all made at once, and rules that plan out. It only remains to allow the fourth to hunt backwards until she reaches 9th's place on the way down, and then start treble bob in 9—10 up. This is the plan adopted in my method, and there is no other plan available.

Now, having fixed the path of the fourth the path of the 6th is also fixed, as, while the 4th is hunting backwards all the bells above her must do the same, so the treble must dodge with the 6th in 9—10 up. Consequently, the 3rd must dodge with the treble in 3—4 down, or she will not be in the right place to change with the 6th in 8—9 when the treble lies her whole pull. The third, therefore, changes with the 7th as the treble passes through 2—3, and the 9th must make 6th's place and commence her treble bob path, so as to pass the treble in 4—5 and fall into 7th's place when the treble lies behind.

We now have the front six bells all doing treble bob, and the reverse hunting bells up behind have to make 7th's place and go back up again in due order, until the moment when they all four turn round and commence their treble bob paths to get by the treble.

In the figures below, a glance will show that all the bells printed in italics are doing treble bob, and the rest are hunting backwards, with the exception of the second's place, which I have already explained.

When I said that London Surprise Maximus could not be obtained it was for this reason: If you try to prick London on twelve bells you will find the 2nd in 9th's place when the treble is going to lie her whole pull behind.

Now we must have the eleventh there, and it is not possible to get the second away without departing from the method.

E. BANKES JAMES.

To the Editor.

Sir,—All those who are following the controversy upon the subject of extensions will note with interest that Mr. George Baker's extensions of Double Norwich have been produced by an independent investigator—Mr. W. H. Wilde. It may be of interest, also, to note that Mr. Baker's extension of London to the Royal (as given in last week's issue) has also been produced independently—by myself. But the unfortunate fact that, while conforming with the construction of the Minor and Major in the parallel arrangement of Treble Bob and of plain-hunt-retrograde rows (and part rows) of changes, it incurs the serious limitation to a seven-part touch (and with non-coursing lead-ends at that!) instead of a nine-lead plain course, caused me to relegate my result to the waste-paper basket! In the course of my investigations, however, I discovered a form of extension to the Royal (in fact, was in correspondence with Mr. Law James about it in June of last year), which, with the exception of the blamish of a 9th's place * (unavoidable in that form), and which at once condemns it from the musical point of view, conform with the given requirements and produces the full nine-lead plain course with true coursing London lead ends, viz:—

FIRST QUARTER PEAL AT 60.

At Paignton, on Wednesday, August 17th, a quarter-peal of Grand-sire Triples (1,260 changes), from Holt's One-part peal, in 50 mins., was rung by: F. Allwood (first quarter-peal and first attempt) 1, J. H. Williams (Coleshill) 2, Mrs. F. T. Gover 3, W. Abraham (Bristol) 4, C. Austin 5, F. T. Gover (conductor) 6, W. E. Garrard (London) 7, H. J. Hole 8. Mr. Allwood was warmly congratulated by the band on the admirable manner in which he rang. He is over 60 years of age, and until last year was always used to call changes. Messrs. Williams, Abraham and Garrard, who were on a visit to Paignton, were elected life members of the Devon Guild previous to starting.

BEWDLEY BELLS RESTORED

REOPENED BY THE BISHOP OF WORCESTER.

The restoration of the bells at Bewdley, Worcestershire (an old peal by Rudhall) has just been completed by Messrs. Charles Carr, Ltd., of Smethwick, and the dedication has been performed by the Bishop of Worcester. A civic touch was given to the ceremony, which was attended by the Mayor and Corporation in state, a procession being formed, headed by the maces and the Mayor in his robes and chain of office, and marching from the Guildhall to the church, where a large congregation had assembled. A special form of service was used, and was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. A. H. Moore). After the formal dedication, the Bishop preached from the words, 'My soul fleeth unto the Lord before the morning watch; I say before the morning watch' (Psalm 130). The Bishop spoke of the watchman of old, standing upon the towers of Athens, and added that he thought there was something which brought the old watchman to their minds, when they spoke of bells. The bell was not, he said, historically the luxury it had now become. 'In a more primitive age,' said the Bishop, 'when the various means for ordering life was less mechanically perfect, than they are to-day your bell tower was also your clock tower—it is that with which you keep time. It tells you—if it is the curfew—the time to close down and commend your soul to God for the night. It tells you (if the Church bell) of the time of Divine service and that you should prepare your heart to worship in spirit and in truth. It tells you (if the vesper bell) it is the time to come and join the rest of God's servants in this place. Or it tells you the time some sinful weary soul has left to abide in another life. The passing bell meant notice that the word had gone forth that poor "so and so" could not last very long, and the simple friendly folk knew that the time had come to pray earnestly for so and so, and when it should please God to cut the thin thread and take the soul again to His own presence, that you should pray for such that they may enter the presence and go out no more for ever. And so the Church bell passed from giving the time for religious things to giving the time for secular things as well. There may be traditions in this place—certainly there were in many—of the reaping bell; the bell that went as a signal that before that time nobody must start to get in the fruits of the earth and so get an unfair advantage over another. First of two things, this help of yours is to remind you that your position in human life for God's sake and Christ's, is to be a watchman of something or over something which you are determined to defend and maintain at all costs. There lies upon you in God's sight sole responsibility for certain things. It is not possible for me—it is not possible for any human being, however far-sighted, however wide his experience to tell you exactly what the particular responsibility is—they belong to your own fortress—the fortress of your own soul and what is more important, the contribution you can make to the sum total of the progress of the Kingdom of God. The responsibility of the watchman is that he should be ever watchful. These bells are also time-keepers, and you know the great fact of accurately kept time is always a sense of confidence. It is this unfailing punctuality of the bell that gives us confidence; it is that very life-blood of the Church of Christ that the mercy of God endureth for ever. May the effect of that you have done here give you this kind of spiritual confidence, and, as you hear the bells, of the kindness of the Lord in the land of the living. Get that and the little effort you are called upon to make to-night in order to complete the cost of what has been done will seem but a small act compared with the love of His mercy, who is gracious and generous for evermore.'

During the concluding hymn a collection was taken for the Bell Fund.

The Bishop gave the Benediction.

At the conclusion of the service the bells were rung by the ringers of the Kidderminster Parish Church.

The Mayor, from the entrance to the Guildhall, thanked everyone who had supported him at the ceremony on that interesting occasion.

Messrs. Carr's work in connection with the restoration of the bells has given great satisfaction to all concerned.

ELLAND BELLS.

A movement is on foot to have the bells of St. Mary's Church, Elland, overhauled. The bells are a fine peal, but in a sad state, and are almost unringable. The long peal of 15,168 of Kent Treble Bob Major was accomplished on these bells in 8 hrs. 43 mins. on December 26th, 1831. At that time it was the longest peal of Treble Bob that had been composed. It was a three-part by Hugh Wright, of Leeds. The first part was conducted by J. Wormersley, who, according to the record, seems to have rung the fourth for part of the time, and the fifth for the rest. The two last parts of the peal were called by S. Goodier, who rang the tenor.

That enthusiastic ringer and supporter of many associations, Mr. Cecil V. Ebberson, is to be married on Saturday, at Fakenham. The congratulations of his many friends will be extended to him.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The death has occurred at Dovelys, Rocester, Staffs, of Lady Heywood, widow of the late Sir Arthur Heywood.

On August 27th, 1912, one of the stalwarts of London ringing for half a century passed away in the person of Matt. Wood, of Bethnal Green. A descendant of the Huguenots, and coming of a family of ringers, Matt. Wood's ringing performances in the days of his prime, were, many of them, achievements which will long live in ringing history.

To-day is the anniversary of the first peal of Grandire Triples, rung on August 26th, 1718, at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, where about three years before the first recorded peal—a peal of Bob Triples—was likewise rung.

The record of the peal of Grandire Triples is still to be found on a board, in the tower in the following quaint terms: 'On the 26th of August, 1718, was rung that harmonious peal called Grandire Triples, which have been ye study of ye most ingenious men of this Age, who delight in ye art of variations, but all their projections have proved errors until it was undertook by John Garthorn, who with long Study and Practice have perfectly discovered those Intricate methods which were hidden from the eyes of all the ringers in England, the extent of this peal being 5,040 changes, have oftentimes been rung with changes alike, but the first time that ever it was rung true was in three hours and a half without any changes alike or a bell out of course, by these men whose names are underwritten against their bells as they rung: James Brook treble, John Briggs 2, William Palmer 3, Robert Crane 4, Henry Howard 5, Wm. Callow 6, Tho. Melohior 7, Tho. Barrett tenor.'

Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have just rehung the tenors at Iver, Bucks, and Pinner, Middlesex, in roller bearings, and the ring of six at St. Minver, Cornwall, with new gudgeons and ball bearings.

The peal of six at Kemerton, near Tewkesbury, are also being rehung by the Whitechapel Foundry.

The ringers' war memorial at Selby Abbey is to be unveiled on September 10th.

*The fine panel oak peal board now completed and erected in the ringers' room at Clun, in memory of the late Rev. V. A. Creswell, will be dedicated by the Rev. H. J. Scott, M.A. (Ringing Master of Clun district) on Sunday evening, Sept. 11th. All ringers will be welcome.

The number of changes in the peal of Cambridge Surprise Major rung at Shepshed on July 31st, and published in our issue of Aug. 12th, should, of course, have been 5,056 and not 5,024, as stated.

The bells of the Parish Church, Cookham, Berks, have kindly been placed at the disposal of the Oxford Diocesan Guild and ringing neighbours on Saturday afternoon, August 27th, at 4 o'clock on the occasion of the district annual sports meeting. The Ladies' Guild of Church Workers of Cookham have graciously offered a welcome to the East Berks and South Bucks Bell Ringers' Guild for Saturday, September 24th. Details of the tea and service ringing will be published later.

With only one 'outsider' to make up the band, the well-known Kent ringing family of Lambert scored a peal of Bob Major last Saturday at Tunbridge Wells.

It was fitting that the first peal on the ten at Berkeley, Glos., where the two trebles were added as a memorial to members of the Gloucester and Bristol Association who fell in the war, should be rung by overseas ex-Service men of the association. This was accomplished last Saturday at the first attempt.

The peal was conducted by Mr. W. A. Cave, and it is curious that, although Mr. Cave, who has held the office of Master of the Association, and has rung over a hundred peals under its auspices, this should have been his first peal in Gloucestershire outside Bristol. Most of his peals have been rung in Somerset.

In reference to the recent note in 'Belfry Gossip' on Silent Stedman Triples, Mr. T. H. Taffender writes that in the records of the St. James' Society, now the London County Association, it is stated that on March 11th, 1854, 5,040 Stedman Triples (Brooks' Variation of Thurstans' Four-part) was rung on handbells in 2 hrs. 41 mins., at the Whittington and Cat, Church Row, Bethnal Green, by: John Cox 1-2, William Cooter 3-4, Henry Haley 5-6, Matthew A. Wood 7-8. 'This peal was rung without conducting, no sign or signal being made during the performance, and in the presence of competent judges, who pronounced it a masterpiece of handbell ringing.'

Mr. John Carter, who was in the peal at Burton-on-Trent on Nov. 20th, 1886, recalls the fact that the same band met again twelve months later, and each man in consecutive order called three courses, but it fell to Mr. Carter, who rang the 2nd to call the half-way single and extra course. This performance is certainly worthy of note.

THE POSITION IN SUFFOLK.

To the Editor.

Sir, — Your interesting article on the above in 'The Ringing World' for August 12th summed up the situation quite correctly, but your two correspondents of this week—the Rev. H. Drake and Mr. A. L. Coleman—each from his own standpoint, seem to demur from the conclusion arrived at, viz., that the proposed amalgamation of Norwich and West Suffolk is a question which affects the Ely Association. I do not think, however, that these gentlemen would do so had they been present, as I was, at the meeting of the Ely and St. Edmundsbury Association, held at Cambridge on Easter Monday. At that meeting the West Suffolk ringers, through their representative, Mr. A. Symonds, announced their intention of severing their connection with the parentsociety in order to found a new Association of their own, if possible coterminous with the new Diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, but in any case a new Association. It was distinctly understood that our old friends in West Suffolk were not deserting us to join any existing association, and it was from their sympathy with the aspirations of the new Diocese that the representatives of the 'Ely' part of the Association acquiesced so readily in the proposed change and all that was implied in the curtailment of their title to its old limits of 'the Ely Diocesan Association.' I do not see how our West Suffolk friends could now join the Norwich Association without laying themselves open to the charge of breaking faith with their old comrades of Ely; but we have yet to learn that they have any intention of doing so, as all the suggestions of fusion appear to have come from Norwich and East Suffolk, where, naturally, what passed at the Cambridge Easter Monday meeting is not known, and where the old friendly relations existing between Ely and West Suffolk are imperfectly understood. Perhaps the newly-formed Suffolk Association will soon speak for itself, and then we shall know exactly where we stand?—Yours, etc.

H. B. WOOLLEY.

Long Stanton, August 22nd, 1921.

WHAT HAPPENED IN 1914.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—From the Ely Association's point of view there is little to say regarding the secession of West Suffolk, to form a new association. When Mr. Symonds informed the annual meeting at Cambridge last Easter, that a new association for Suffolk would be formed, we accepted the statement in good faith, and whilst regretting the severance, we wish the new association the best of luck.

It is well known that this would have happened in 1914 had not the war intervened. I would like to point out that the following resolution was carried unanimously at Bury St. Edmunds, May 5th, 1914: 'That this meeting desires to approach all towers in East Suffolk with a view to forming a Suffolk Diocesan Association, and that the secretary of this branch be instructed to take the necessary steps immediately.' This coming at a time when the Ely Association had reached the zenith of prosperity, at once disposes of the insinuation that the Ely Association had failed to provide for the interests of its ringers in the Sudbury Archdeaconry.

As to expecting consideration from our wealthy Norwich neighbours, the very fact that their sub-committee's recommendations as regards the alteration of the future title, etc., to the Norwich, Ipswich and St. Edmundsbury Diocesan Association were actually distributed among the West Suffolk towers in June, 1914, and that I was coolly informed of the fact, after this had been accomplished, shows they entertained no chivalrous feeling towards the Ely Association.

The Lowestoft meeting, alarmed at the appearance of a new opponent with bona-fide claims, at once set out to smother the new organisation by suggesting amalgamation, with self-government, whatever that may mean. I cannot believe that West Suffolk will allow itself to be cheated out of its just claim; that is, 'A Suffolk County or Diocesan Association for the County of Suffolk.'

All impartial critics will, I think, agree, that Suffolk is entitled to its own association, in loyalty, and patriotism to its new diocese, and Norwich should release East Suffolk in order that the partition of territory may operate fairly, and the giving shall not be all on one side.

The argument that there is not room for two efficient associations in Norfolk and Suffolk cannot be upheld, after reference to the map, and the sooner the Norwich Association act in a sporting spirit, and take their chances in their own diocese, the sooner the friction will be removed.—Yours, etc.,

T. R. DENNIS,

Late General Secretary, Ely Diocesan Association.

MILDENHALL.—Ely Association. On August 1st: at St. Mary's, a 1,990 Grandsire Triples, after an unsuccessful attempt for peal, arranged for Miss Nora Shorter: Miss Nora Shorter 1, H. Hazell 2, P. Pinder 3, Miss Violet Shorter 4, R. Sharpe 5, P. Fordham 6, R. Lathbury (conductor) 7, F. Turner 8.

DEATH OF MR. CHARLES JACKSON OF HULL. CONDUCTOR OF EVERY KNOWN PEAL OF GRANDSIRE.

An interesting personality, and a loyal supporter of change ringing, has passed away, in the person of Mr. Charles Jackson, of Hull, who died on Monday, August 15th, at Hull, in his 71st year.

Mr. Jackson commenced his ringing career at St. James', Hull, when he was only 16 years of age, but after a few months he migrated to the tower of Holy Trinity, Hull, with which tower his name will always be associated. The deceased had been unable to take any active part in ringing for the past few years, owing to increasing infirmities, but his interest in ringing remained keen until the last.

He lived for the closing years of his life in the Dr. Lees Rest Homes, a truly delightful spot founded for retired tradesmen of Hull.

His many friends will always remember Mr. Jackson for his genial personality and rare fund of anecdote. His kindly disposition endeared him to all aspirants in the ringing world, while he was well known to a wide circle throughout the country for his exploits on ringing tours, and the fact that up to his retirement he conducted every known peal of Grandsire Triples.

The funeral took place on Thursday, August 18th, at Anlaby, the service being conducted by the Rev. J. B. Davies, assisted by the Rev. T. C. Earp, Precentor of Holy Trinity, Hull. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung at the graveside by Messrs. A. M. C. Field 1—2, P. J. Johnson 3—4, W. Hare 5—6, and T. S. Morton 7—8. As the party left the grave the words of the ringers' poet, Mr. G. F. Margetson, formed a fitting tribute to our old friend:

Above his pillow, in that narrow cell,
Ring those soft changes which he loved so well.
His gentle spirit breathes in their responsive sound,
And bids us calm our sorrow in the peace he's found.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

A meeting of the Gainsborough District was held at Brigg on Saturday, August 20th. The attendance was only small, owing, no doubt, to the harvest operations being in full swing. The bells were made good use of during the afternoon and evening, the methods rung being Grandsire, Plain Bob, Treble Bob and Stedman. A short service was held, conducted by the Rev. F. Burgess (Vicar).

Tea was provided at the Church House, and was followed by the business meeting, at which Mr. F. F. Linley presided, and read an interesting paper on 'Bells.' Apologies for absence were announced from the Rev. Canon Hicks, the Rev. H. T. Parry, Mr. J. W. Seamer (general secretary), and Mr. H. Haigh, Worksop.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells, the ladies for the excellent tea they had provided, and all others who had helped towards making the meeting such a success, were unanimously passed, and duly responded to by the Vicar of Brigg, who gave a very hearty welcome to the Guild.

Ringers were present from Gainsborough, Kirton-Lindsey, Scotter and Bigby, in addition to the local company; and, apart from the attendance being so small, the meeting proved very successful and enjoyable.

LADIES' GUILD.

A meeting of the Southern District was held at Worplesdon on Saturday, August 20th, when about 25 ringers were present. Touches of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Plain Bob were rung before the service, which was conducted by the Rev. Bruce, Rector of Worplesdon. After the service, the members were invited to the Rectory garden to enjoy the generous hospitality of the Rector and Mrs. Bruce.

At the business meeting, Mrs. Bruce and Mrs. Blackman were elected members, and Wokingham was selected for the next quarterly meeting.

Ringers were present from the following towers: Aldershot, Guildford, Haslemere, Sandhurst, Shere and Worplesdon. It is hoped to hold the district annual meeting at Aldershot on Sept. 24th.

DRY WEATHER EFFECT ON BELL FITTINGS

To the Editor.

Sir,—Having noticed a loose bolt through the wooden headstock of one of our bells, I made a thorough investigation of the whole fittings, which terminated in the tightening up of nearly two hundred bolts, the cause of which no doubt is the continuous drought. Every bolt passes through wood, and as they are now as tight as they can possibly be, I ask, is anything likely to happen when change of weather occurs, and moisture sets in? Perhaps some expert will reply. The bells were rehung 25 years ago, and there was not a single bolt that did not require tightening. Hoping you will find space for this slight warning, which I hope towerkeepers will take advantage of.—Yours truly,

G. EDWARDS.

CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE MAJOR.
MIDDLETON'S ACHIEVEMENT REIGNS SUPREME.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Curiously enough when your leading article urging the study of the theory of Cambridge Surprise appeared a week or two ago, I had been engaged for some little while in an investigation of the method, with the special object of discovering if any other peal, preferably a longer one than Middleton's, was feasible. The inquiry has just been concluded, and has resulted in the emergence of the fact that there are not more than twenty-five available courses, and that consequently Middleton's achievement reigns, and will reign supreme. Of course, his peal, which is in five parts, might conceivably be thrown into other forms, such as a one-part or a three-part, or it might be shortened, as has already been done with it by Johnson by the introduction of bobs B, and may possibly still be done by rearranging it into twenty-four or twenty-three courses. But practically there is not, nor can there ever be, more than one peal of Cambridge Surprise Major, and that peal is Middleton's.

CHARLES D. P. DAVIES.

P.S.—By the way, can someone give some account of Middleton? I never knew anything about him.

OXFORD VERSUS CAMBRIDGE.

THE EFFECT OF METHOD EXTENSION ON LEAD ENDS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I have read with much interest the two articles by Mr. Trollope and Mr. George Baker, but I fear that I must ask for the forbearance of your readers while I go back to some very elementary rules of extension before I can reply to them effectually.

Let us consider the method of Double Bob on four bells. There are two different ways in which this method can be extended on to six bells. The first is known as Double Bob with 156342 as lead end. The second is Double Oxford, and has 142835.

Now the casual observer might say that the second variation is the right one, because it keeps the right lead ends, and the other is wrong because the 5th makes second's place at the lead.

This brings us to the consideration of the true nature of a method. In every method the coursing order of the bells must be the same at the lead end, the treble having taken up a fresh position amongst them. To do this the treble must either gain or lose upon the other bells.

But in a plain method the treble is plain hunting, this is to say, she is going at the fastest pace that a bell can go at; therefore she must gain upon the other bells.

Now, in Double Bob on four bells she gained two places; that is to say, she passed over the 3rd and 4th. But in Double Bob Minor she passed the 3rd and 5th. Therefore, Double Bob Minor is the correct extension on what I call the Cambridge Extension. But in the Double Oxford extension the treble has been made to pass over two more bells, 3, 5, 6, 4. Consequently fresh work has been introduced into the method. To my mind it is not the same method, but we may call it the Oxford Extension; or adopt Mr. Wm. Snowdon's term and call it the extension of stagnation.

The difference between the two can best be seen by comparing the work of Double Oxford with the work of Cambridge Surprise. In the one the bells are kept dodging for a longer time in every place, that is the stagnation. In the other the bells reproduce their work at exactly the same length in every place. Is there a double dodge in 7-8 in Major, there is also a double dodge in 9-10 in Royal to take its place; it does not develop into a three pull dodge.

Let us consider the extension of Double Oxford Minor from six bells to ten. We have the ordinary Oxford extension that we all know, with its lead end 1426385079; but if we extend by the Cambridge principal we shall have to make 2nd's and 9th's as the treble leads and lies, and Court places in 5, 6, as she passes through, and the lead end will be 1907856342. You see she passed over 3, 5, 6, 4 in Minor, and she has passed over 3, 5, 7, 9 in Royal.

Now turn we to Treble Bob. No longer is the treble going at her fastest pace; so now the other bells can go faster than her, and in Oxford and Kent Treble Bob she always loses one place; therefore, the lead end always commences 1426; but if the treble was losing at such a rate as to bring 135264 for the Minor lead end the Major would be 17856342, and the Royal 1089674523, the treble being left behind by four bells every time.

In Cambridge and Superlative the other bells are losing two places on the treble in every lead, as they are moving slower than she is. In London the treble loses one place.

Now if you turn to Mr. Baker's extensions of Double Norwich you will see what he has done. He has used the Oxford extension instead of the Cambridge, and has come to the conclusion that it must be right. For my part, I say Cambridge for ever, the Oxford rule only leads to stagnation.

And now I have cleared the ground sufficiently to be able to discuss the two methods set forth by Mr. Baker and Mr. Trollope, but first of all I see that Mr. Trollope has modestly refrained from giving his figures. Let me supply them, as I fear that I cannot pursue the argument without them—half a lead will be sufficient for my purpose.

Now, after what has been said it will be obvious to all that this is an extension on the Oxford principle.

In London the other bells are certainly moving faster than the treble, but here the others are obviously being retarded until the treble not only regains the place that she had lost in London, but passes by all the other bells as well.

As Mr. Baker truly pointed out, it is an extension of London Minor, but an extension on the Oxford principle; and, therefore, to my mind useless. Mr. Baker, on the other hand, has grasped the essential fact of the two hunts, and has kept rigidly to them. The point that he seems to have overlooked is this: The bells are only allowed to do the treble bob hunt to enable them to pass the treble, consequently when he throws 930486 all into Treble Bob work at once, he is getting them ready to pass the treble long before they ought to do so.

The mistake into which they have both fallen is that of trying to apply the simple laws which apply to simple methods to a complicated structure like London Surprise. I do not think that we shall ever find a mortal man clever enough to do so. Mr. Trollope has surmounted his difficulty by adopting an Oxford extension, and has crowded into the method a pile of extraneous matter which is utterly foreign to its nature. Mr. Baker, in his efforts to confine the monster to his simple rules, has turned traitor to his lead ends.

The only connection that I can see between London Minor and London Major is this, they neither allow any other work than the plain hunt backwards, and the treble bob hunt forwards. Furthermore, they are the only two methods that I have ever seen on six and eight bells that conform to that rule; and, as the treble is moving more slowly than the other bells, they both have the same lead end 1426. I consequently set to work to marshal the bells so that they should all be ready to change with their proper partners when the treble lay behind; taking care that they should never move in any other path than the two hunts aforesaid. When I find that there is one method, and only one, that will conform to that rule, I have no hesitation in asserting that that method must be London Surprise Royal.—Yours sincerely,

E. BANKES JAMES.

P.S.—Mr. Baker's remarks about the in and out of course rows in my method are quaint. The rows in Grand sire Triples are half in course and half out; but in Grand sire Caters they are all in course. Are we to take it that Grand sire Caters is not the right extension? According to Mr. Baker it is sufficient proof.

METHOD COMPOSITION.

Sir,—I said at the Council meeting what I have said many times, that there is no such thing as a 'new' method, that there is no such thing as ownership of methods or copyright in methods, and no such thing as authorship of methods. I repeat it here.

The number of possible methods on eight bells is large, but it is limited. Mr. Law James has a formula, which will go on half a sheet of notepaper, by which any intelligent schoolboy could, without any knowledge of ringing, write out in time the whole lot. By such a formula the whole of the six bell methods have been written out; and, as everyone knows, are published. All the plain hunting treble eight bell methods are in MSS., and a large proportion of the Treble Bob methods. It is only a matter of time and patience and they will be completed. On the higher numbers similar formulae can be prepared in a few minutes, although I do not suppose anyone will undertake the perfectly useless task of writing out all the methods. I have several formulae, each of which will give thousands of methods.

But as I also said at the Council meeting, that does not mean that men should not try and work out good methods. For instance, the particular work Mr. Bankes James does, is not in the least affected, because after he has published a good method someone may find it buried among scores of indifferent or bad ones. It does mean this, that it is useless to produce methods unless you know that you are getting something that is of practical worth, or of some theoretical interest. Change ringing is a science, and like all sciences you must study its laws and learn before you begin to talk. Unfortunately, the less some people know about the theoretical side of ringing the more ready they are to offer their opinions on methods.—Yours truly,

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

SALOP ARCHIDIACONAL GUILD.

A most successful and well attended meeting of the Salop Archidiaconal Guild was held at Clive on August 13th. At the outset, owing to the extra strength of one or two members in trying to get the tenor up, the rope broke, but after this had been put in order, ringing commenced about three o'clock. All the standard methods were rung during the afternoon, and 21 ringing members sat down to tea. A course of Grand-sire Caters was admirably rung on handbells by five members of the Guild. Afterwards, the visitors took a look at the most picturesque views of the surrounding districts, which are to be had in the neighbourhood, and which are well worth travelling many miles to see. The scenery from the rocks was delightful, and here a course of Double Court was rung on handbells.

At the business meeting it was decided to hold the next meeting at Stanton-on-Hine Heath, on September 10th, members from that district expressing the opinion that they were entitled to one there after having been so long in the Guild. Further ringing afterwards took place in the tower, when good striking was maintained in a variety of touches. The Vicar was on holidays, but the thanks of the Guild are extended to him for his permission to hold the meeting at his church, and also to all those who helped to make the meeting such a success.

THE EXTENSION OF DOUBLE NORWICH.

To the Editor.

Sir,—By all means let us have as much fresh light as possible on the principles of method extension, but a change of name of 'the methods hitherto known as Double Norwich Royal and Maximus,' as proposed by Mr. E. Barnett in his letter in your issue of the 19th, would cause confusion—and quite needlessly. These methods have become standard methods. History and records would be upset; and sentiment has a claim to consideration. Ringers who have known and practised the methods as they are, as they have been, and as they are likely still to be, would own an attachment to the old names, and would doubtless prefer even the old methods to the perfect extension.

If these new extensions on ten and twelve bells should ever be practised, it would be quite sufficient to refer to them as New Double Norwich Royal, and New Double Norwich Maximus.—Yours faithfully,
G. P. BURTON.

Norwich, 20th August, 1921.

To the Editor.

Sir,—The available space in 'The Ringing World' is far too valuable to be wasted, and half a column this week is absolutely wasted. If Mr. Fidler had asked a friend to analyse his new method before publishing he would not have sent you a worthless composition. In the lead he sent you the treble strikes, four blows at the back, three out of course, and only one in, so that a 720 is impossible.

If Mr. Barnett had read the late Jasper Snowdon's book on Double Norwich he would have known that the original method was Royal, and the first peal rung was Royal, so that the Royal has first claim upon the name, and that the Major was produced from the Royal by Mr. Porter, of Norwich, who had previously produced the Royal, Major, Royal and Maximus are all the same method, but a far finer variation of Maximus exists with the places in 5-6 and 7-8.—Yours, Surfleet.
H. LAW JAMES.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting of the Wigan Branch was held at Upholland on Saturday, August 13th. The Vicar (the Rev. G. F. Wills) presided at the meeting, and extended a warm welcome to the members.—The Secretary gave a report of the committee meeting held at Bolton, and Newton-le-Willows was chosen as the next meeting-place on September 3rd. Mr. Jenkins, late secretary of the Framlingham district of the Norwich and Ipswich Association, was present, and the members of the Wigan Branch extended a warm welcome to him to visit any of their meetings during his stay in Lancashire.

MR. H. TORBLE'S ILLNESS.

We have been asked to announce the following contributions to the fund to help Mr. H. Torble, who, in consequence of his long illness, is still unable to follow his employment. Thanks are extended to all the gentlemen who have already contributed, as below: H. Flanders 2s., W. Riches 2s., F. Scholes 1s., A. T. Rayner 2s., A. Scambler 1s., W. Clark 1s., A. Hardy 2s., E. Andrews 2s., C. F. Winney 2s. 6d., E. F. Pike 2s., G. Hayden 2s., collected at meeting of Essex Association 2s. 3s., W. Miller 2s., G. L. Joyce 2s., G. Dawson 2s., A. D. Butler 2s., F. C. Newman 2s. 6d., W. Watson 2s., G. F. Margetson 2s. 6d., A. T. Neale 2s. 6d., G. W. Faulkner 2s., F. Freestone 2s. Any other ringers wishing to contribute to this fund should send to G. Hayden, 29, Maryland Street, Stratford, E.15, by whom all sums will be gratefully acknowledged.

FETE IN AID OF BELL FUND.

On Saturday last, a motor-cycle gymkhana, organised by the East Midland Centre, A.C.U., and a fete were held in Stanford Park, near Loughborough, in aid of the fund for the restoration of Stanford Church bells, upon which £80 has recently been spent for overhaul. Sports and a variety of games were enjoyed, and the 'side-shows' included bowling and skittling for pigs and fowls. There was a guessing competition, and draw for a number of prizes, the first of which was a young pig. The winning numbers were as follow: 838, 2169, 2321, 352, 785, 767, 911, 3524, 314, 3625, 3877, 1023, 1106, 4053, 226, 2555, 826.

The ringers wish to thank all who subscribed to the fund, and they are pleased to be able to announce that they have raised about £40 towards the cost of the restoration.

SIMPSON, BUCKS.—On Thursday, August 4th, a quarter-peal of Grand-sire Doubles, in 45 mins.: R. C. Underwood 1, Miss C. Wilma Lawson 2, W. E. Coles 3, G. Guest 4, C. W. Smith (conductor) 5. First quarter-peal by Miss Lawson Rung in honour of the visit of the Bishop of Oxford (Dr. Burge) to the Blechley Rural Deanery.

PEALS TAPPED ON HANDBELLS.To the Editor.

Sir,—I see in your last issue there appears a letter signed by two members of the Harwich band complaining of the decision of the annual meeting of the Essex Association not to book peals tapped on handbells. Now, as one who was present, I can assure your correspondents in the first place they are very wide of the mark. Judging by the tone of their letter they appear to have jumped to the conclusion that these performances were rejected because they were worthless, and that doubts were expressed as to the genuineness of the performances. No doubts were expressed by anyone respecting the genuineness of the performances, and everyone who spoke had nothing but admiration for Mr. Morris. The position was this: At the last meeting of the Central Council they decided that peals tapped were not to be recorded, and the officers of the association wanted the decision of the members whether the peals were to be recorded in the Peal Book or not, as they did not feel justified either in booking or leaving them out without authority for doing it.

Personally I fail to see how any other decision could have been arrived at. If we refer to Rule 1 of the Essex Association's Report, it states plainly enough that the object of the association is 'the promotion of change ringing and bell chamber reform. In the first place these peals are tapped and not rung. That alone justifies the association in not booking them. In the second place, they are of no educational value to anyone else, being individual performances, and in the third place they do not assist bell chamber reform; so that they are outside the objects for which the association was formed.

I think it is a great pity that the Harwich band was not represented at the meeting. They would then have been able to have seen for themselves, and also to have spoken in favour of it.

As regards the opinions of the umpires of these performances it would not make any difference, as the genuineness of the performances is not disputed.

I may add that in my opinion the greatest exponent at tapping is Harry Withers. I have seen him tap London Major. He is open to tap Stedman and to allow anyone to call it, and call what they like; in fact, I believe he could tap almost any method, but he does not tap peals. Although I have never heard him say so, I have no doubt that his only reason for not doing it is because he realises that tapping is not change ringing.—Yours, etc., W. PYE.

To the Editor.

Sir,—With reference to the 'tapping' of peals, may I say the one had the pleasure of witnessing was, to the best of my judgment, a fine performance. Mr. Morris himself called the bobs, and I ticked off the course ends. With regard to the decision of the Essex Association not to book these performances, I would advise my friend, Mr. Morris, not to trouble about it. Perhaps 'tapping' is outside the domain of our ringing associations, but we can read of his performances in 'The Ringing World,' and appreciate them, and I personally congratulate him on his achievements, and would encourage him to go on. I hope to have the pleasure of seeing a peal of London Surprise tapped by him in the near future.—Yours faithfully, T. MANNERING.

LLANDAFF DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.PENHOW BELLS TO BE AUGMENTED.

A well-attended quarterly meeting of the Llandaff Diocesan Association was held at Magor on Saturday last, the towers of both the Monmouth and Llandaff Archdeaconries being well represented. The Vicar welcomed the members as they arrived, and the bells, a light ring of six, were soon off to touches in various methods. Service was conducted by the Vicar, and immediately afterwards tea, very kindly provided by the Vicar and his wife, Mrs. Price Davies, was partaken of. Several more were present than were expected, but all were amply catered for.

The business meeting followed, and a few well-chosen words of welcome were extended by the chairman. Instructors' reports were received, good progress being reported at Bassaleg.

Proposed restorations and augmentations were the next mentioned, followed by a discussion as to where the next Monmouthshire meeting should be held. Bedwas was proposed by the conductor of the ringers there, and it was unanimously decided that the meeting should be held there.

New members were elected and subscriptions paid, and, replying to a vote of thanks for his kindness and hospitality, the Vicar said it was quite a pleasure to have the association there, but he regretted that his bells were not rung for the services as he would wish. He had been there but a few months, but he was hoping to start a new band of ringers, and would gladly accept the offer made to him by the officers of the association to teach change ringing.

Taking advantage of a kind offer made by Mr. Vincent Davies, of Carleon, to take a party across to Penhow Church to try the bells there, the car was soon off, the party including the well-known enthusiast, Mr. J. H. Shepherd, of Swindon. On arrival at Penhow, permission to ring was readily obtained. The bells, a light musical ring of five, by Evans, of Chepstow, were found in excellent ringing order, having a few years ago been rehung in a new iron frame by Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough, and it was gratifying to learn from the Rector that he is placing an order with Messrs. Taylor to add a new treble to make a ring of six.

Refreshments were served by the Rector's wife, and a return then made to Magor. The meeting was most enjoyable, and can be best described as a huge success.

PLANNING FOR PROGRESS.

Now that the autumn is drawing on and 'summer-time' will soon be banished, the longer evenings will enable ringers to devote more attention to the belfries, and it is now that those who hope to do something more than merely mark time should lay their plans. Unfortunately, in the majority of cases, ringing companies are very prone to leave progress more or less to chance. They very seldom set out on a preconceived scheme of making headway. With the practice season coming on, it would be a good thing if bands would seriously draw up a plan of campaign for the winter. Not only could they determine upon what they will set out themselves to accomplish, but they could do a great deal of valuable work by arranging exchange of visits with neighbouring towers, and particularly with towers not so well advanced as themselves.

Where schemes for combined practices have been carried out excellent results have been obtained. Equal good would be the outcome of inter-tower visits by bands whose belfries are within walking or cycling distance. It would not only help to raise the standard of ringing, but would promote good fellowship. A visiting ringer is always welcome in a tower, but there are very few places where any systematic attempt is made for such an interchange as here suggested. It is not for lack of goodwill or desire, but merely because no attempt is made to organise. What is required is a definite objective. There should be a determination on the part of each band to progress themselves and to assist some less advanced company to get over one more stile. If there is the will to do it, a way will be found, but the step should be taken now. It should begin among those well up the campanological ladder and it can extend to those on the lowest rung. Even the band that can ring only Grandsire Doubles can advance to Bob Minor—or another Doubles method if they have not got six bells—and can help into the art the ringers at some other tower who have not got beyond the limits of call changes. Indeed, the greatest of all services that can be rendered to the Exercise is to bring in those who are outside it.

There are many bands whose practices fall away badly, and sometimes are ultimately abandoned, because of all absence of endeavour to get on. Now that the time of year is advancing when the belfry holds out more attractions than in the long hours of daylight and the heat of the summer, there is opportunity for the leader of a tower to show real leadership, to lay his plans for a progressive programme, and to instil into his men who lack keenness a feeling that, if only as a point of honour, it is up to them

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The Southern District of the London County Association held a pleasant meeting at Isleworth on Saturday, August 20th. Despite the fact that a good number of members are away on holidays, there was a numerous attendance of members and their wives and friends. Tea, for which Mr. T. Beadle had kindly made arrangements, was partaken of at the London Apprentice. The fine-tone bells were rung in various methods during the afternoon and evening.

MEMORIAL SERVICE TOUCHES.

At Tunstall, Kent, on Aug. 13th, after the unveiling and dedication of the tablet recording the names of the Tunstall men who gave their lives in the great war, and also the dedication of the new O.E.M.S. Hall, erected by Mr. Charles Homewood, the following touches were rung with the bells half-muffled: 720 Plain Bob, 720 Double Oxford, 720 Oxford Treble Bob, 720 Canterbury Pleasure, by: J. Webb, E. H. Spice, Tho. Jull, G. H. Spice, E. J. Dobbie, W. Walker, W. E. Spice, W. Nye and W. Spice, senr.

RINGERS' OUTING IN NORTH DEVON.

AMONG ISOLATED TOWERS.

The first outing (for ringing purposes) for at least 27 years of the Bampton (Devon) ringers took place on Saturday, August 13th. A most comfortable charabanc, appropriately named 'The Cosy,' was chartered from the Tiverton Motor Company, and at 8.15 a.m. a party of 15, consisting of the ringers (including the Vicar), their wives and friends, set off in pouring rain for a 50-mile round of six-bell towers, where only call changes are rung. Punctually on time, a halt was made at Stoodleigh, where some six scores of Grandsire Doubles were rung. The next call was Rackenford, where the Rector (the Rev. J. A. J. L. Beazor) welcomed the band. As the bells were being raised in peal, the eyes of one of the local 'stone' men were fixed on the ringer of the tenor, and he was not disappointed! However, the bells went excellently when once 'up.' A most picturesque spot awaited us at Roseash with its delightful church and village green. On entering the west door of the church, the floor struck us as quaint, and on inquiry we ascertained that it was made of slates set up on their ends in squares. The church is well worth a visit, if only for the purpose of seeing the exquisite pew-ends, the work of Messrs. Clatworthy, of Witheridge, in 1888. The carvings represent emblems of the betrayal, denial, and Passion of our Lord. After ringing here, we all assembled on the village green, seeing that the rain had quite cleared off, and enjoyed a picnic lunch, thanks to the seats provided on the green and the provision of hot tea from the one and only shop.

On leaving, we encountered the most thrilling part of the journey, for the only road to Romansleigh was exceedingly narrow, atrociously pot-holey, and culminated in a terrific descent of 400 feet to Odam Bridge, on the Witherbridge-South Molton main road. The driver compared the hill with the famous Countisbury Hill (Lynmouth). A little further on, we discovered that it would be best to get out and walk up to Romansleigh, as the ascent was both very steep and twisty. We were told that an old postman used to say of this hill, that 'it was three-quarter mile up and half-mile down!' It was well worth the climb, and the striking here was practically faultless throughout.

The church is dedicated to St. Rumon, who appears to have been a notable hermit or bishop of the sixth and seventh century, and much honoured in Cornwall and Brittany. Every legend of him connects him with a forest called 'The Nemeen,' or the forest of Nevet, a corruption of an ancient Irish word, Nemed, which was used to express a sacred grove. This accounts for the number of places in Devon and Cornwall, in which the prefix Nymet, or something like it occurs; as, e.g., Nymet Rowland, Bishop's Nemet (or Nympton), Kingsampton, etc. About the year 960, his bones were removed to the newly-built Abbey of Tavistock which was dedicated in his honour to 'the Blessed Virgin Mary and St. Rumon.' The patron was changed later, but the name was retained in the county by the Church of Rumonsleigh, or Romansleigh, a little to the south of Bishop's Nympton. (Extracted from 'Studies in Church Dedications,' F. Arnold Forster.) 'Revel' Sunday is always the first Sunday in September, the village feast taking place on the following day.

The lack of sign-posts or their illegibility did not help to make the road to West Worlington any easier to find, and had it not been for Bartholomew's map we should have probably lost our way, especially so as grass-covered roads did not necessarily mean that we had struck the wrong route! On arrival we found the old sexton waiting to show us the way to the church of a beautifully situated village. With a list of rectors, dating from 1261, and very fine 15th century pew-ends, and some ancient screen work, the church well repays a visit. The treble and 4th ropes come down very near the wall here, a fact which handicapped us a little at first, but we soon settled down to some well-struck six scores. An adjournment was now made to the Stucley Arms for tea. And what a tea! Some of us had heard of the real old Devonshire teas, but had never seen one till now. There was everything you ever saw on a tea-table, besides Devonshire cream and junket. Mr. and Mrs. Edworthy, who have only recently come to West Worlington, know how to make you want to revisit the place. Whilst we were at tea, the Rector's wife came round to give us a welcome and to invite us to have a pull on the East Worlington bells before we left. We had not included this tower, as a list of the church bells of Devon only gave four bells. We accepted the invitation gratefully, and made a short call there on our way to Thebridge. At this latter place, ringing unfortunately seems at a low ebb owing to the scattered nature of the parish. Despite the flatness of the treble and the roughness of the ropes, we finished the day's ringing with a good 360, which drew forth the remarks from an old ringer that he had not heard such ringing there since the Crediton men came 10 years ago. One of the churchwardens was outside to welcome us, and to offer some liquid refreshment before departing for home. The record for the day was 3,240 Grandsire Doubles, and not a single 120 attempted was lost. A good run through Tiverton brought the outing to a successful end at 9.15 p.m., and everybody went home with a firm resolve to repeat such an outing next year. E. V. O.

LONDON SURPRISE ROYAL.

MR. BAKER'S CLAIM FOR A NEW METHOD.

Dear Sir,—The Rev. E. B. James knows perfectly well that every Minor method must have equal numbers of odd and even changes in proper succession if the extent is to be obtained.

London Surprise Minor produces the extent; the Minor of Mr. James' method will not produce the extent, and it only needs eight changes of the method to prove this statement.

123456	Even
213546	„
125364	Odd
215634	„

251643	Odd
526143	„
256134	„

Now, if we compare the succession of Even and Odd rows with the Royal, I do not think anyone will have the audacity to pretend the Minor and Royal are not the same method.

1234567890	Even
2135476980	„
1253749608	Odd
2157394068	„

2513790486	Odd
5231970846	„

It should be known to everyone who aspires to method composition that Treble Bob or Surprise methods of Minor or Royal never have more than one false row (the simple transposition row) to each lead, provided that the method is properly constructed and the Even and Odd changes are equal.

In presenting the following methods of Royal and Maximus to the Exercise, I do not pretend they are the same construction as London Surprise Minor and Major, but I do assert most strongly that they are nearer the mark than any others I have yet seen.

To begin with, there is no alteration at all from the strict method in either the Royal or Maximus until the Treble is striking her last dodging blow in 7-8 going up; and the succession of rows are such, that there are no false rows in the Royal beyond the simple transposition row until the Treble is in 9-10. Perhaps Mr. James will now understand that his method of Royal is not the same construction as London; the false rows of his method are in 3-4.

The extra work in 1-2 in Royal, and 1-2 and 3-4 in Maximus in the method here given is absolutely London work, as will be seen by anyone who will take the trouble to examine it, and there is no better way of doing that than by drawing a skeleton diagram of the plain course.

If I am asked why I have not presented these methods before, I have a good reason, they were only discovered to-day, the 28th August, 1921.

In conclusion, just a few words about the Double Norwich Royal and Maximus extensions: these have been known to me for the past seven years, and several experts have agreed with me that they are absolutely correct.—Yours faithfully,
GEORGE BAKER.

ANOTHER VARIATION.

Sir,—An examination of this half-lead will show that it differs only very slightly from Mr. Baker's apparently true extension. I hope to prove that the variations from Mr. Baker are vital and necessary for a correct extension to Royal.

This half-lead has equal numbers of odd and even changes, correct lead ends and all the working bells come to the lead in each lead, and in correct order, as in Minor and Major. Now for the variations from Mr. Baker.

First, in Minor, the 5th on its way down to lead, makes a place immediately before crossing the treble's path: it is prevented from making the place under the treble, as this would cause the 2nd to lead three blows. However, it overcomes the difficulty by striking a single blow in 2nd's as the treble completes its dodge in 3-4.

Secondly, in Major, the 5th works as in Minor, and in addition the 7th on its way down to lead make a place immediately before crossing the treble's path.

So, in Royal, the 5th and 7th work as in Major, and in addition the 9th must make a place immediately before crossing the treble's path.

Again in Minor, the 5th makes the place when the treble lies its whole pull behind: in Major it is the 7th, and in Royal it must be the 9th.

These shunts alone will not give correct lead ends. Now in Major a departure from the rule, that a place must be made, next to, and under the treble occurs when 7 is dodging with the treble in 3-4 with 5 leading; so in Royal a similar departure is made when 9 is dodging with the treble in 5-6 with 7 leading; in each case 2nd's place is made.

A peculiar feature to this extension is the dodging in the odd bell positions of 4-5 and 6-7 caused by the 9th making 3rd's place when the treble lies its whole pull behind. Having stated my case I leave it to the Exercise to judge whether this is the correct extension to Royal. In any case the musical properties should be of a high order, and give a method which is well worth ringing.

I have not been able so far to extend to Maximus. The 11th must, of course, take the part of 5, 7 and 9. This brings it to be the last to lead in the half-lead, and consequently unable to make the place as the treble lies its whole pull behind.

A possible solution might be obtained by making the 9th make a place at each side of crossing the treble in 4-5, thus taking up the work of the 3rd, at the same time bringing down the 11th to dodge with the treble in 5-6.—Yours truly,

Tower House, Penwortham, Lancs.
WILLIAM TAYLOR.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS' PEAL.

With reference to the allusion in our leading article on August 19th to the fact that a method rung as London Surprise Royal by the College Youths was afterwards accepted as a new method and officially designated 'Stepney,' Mr. W. T. Cockerill writes that the peal, which was rung on November 11th, 1907, at St. Dunstan's, Stepney, was booked by the College Youths as London Surprise Royal.

We were writing from memory, but many of our readers will remember the discussion at the time, and while the College Youths may not have accepted the alteration of title, we believe the Central Council declined to recognise the method as 'London Surprise.' If, however, the College Youths' peal is to stand as 'London,' another phase of argument will enter into the present discussion: What is the Rev. E. Bankes James' method to be called?

HUDSON'S 'NEW LIGHT' ON TREBLE BOB.

Sir,—In your issue of July 22nd, Mr. Lomas, of Sheffield, writes saying that the Ilkeston Variation of Treble Bob is really the composition of William Hudson. Now, I beg to differ. The idea may be the same as regards keeping the tenors out of the slow. I do not dispute that, but as regards to the composition there is as much difference as between chalk and cheese. A hundred years ago people travelled to London by the old coach and horses, now we travel by motor-car and aeroplanes. We cannot say that we all travel the same way, although we go to the same place. We go in a much better way nowadays.

In your issue of July 8th you will find that I stated what kind of conveyance I travelled by, but in the issue of March 18th, 1921, our Sheffield friend does not state what conveyance Mr. Hudson travelled by, whether by Kent Bobs or Double Norwich Bobs. I find out now, after studying Mr. Hudson's figures, that he travelled by the 6th's place bobs, also with bobs at the Oxford leads.

No doubt Mr. Hudson was the first to get the idea of keeping the tenors out of the slow, but when we get to the Worcester, Granta, Gonville, and the Ilkeston Variations, they are all great improvements on Treble Bob. We cannot let our Sheffield friend claim the whole lot. I should be very much obliged if he would allow the Editor to have Mr. Hudson's MS. for publication. Enclosed is the peal of Hudson's New Light put in order, OxB for Oxford Plain lead, being the 3rd lead of every course, and OxB for Oxford Bob lead, the bob effecting the three back bells as in Double Norwich. Compare these figures with the Ilkeston Variation.—Yours, etc.,

SITTINGBOURNE RINGERS' OUTING.

A KENT TRIP.

The following party of ringers had a very enjoyable and satisfactory charabanc trip in the Weald of Kent on a recent Saturday: Messrs. W. Spice, W. E. Spice, P. J. Spice, G. H. Spice, E. H. Spice, E. J. Dobbie, S. B. Dobbie, T. Jull, F. Hollands and S. Taylor. Most of the ringers were accompanied by their wives, Mrs. G. H. Spice being the only lady ringer of the party. Leaving Sittingbourne at 8 a.m., and picking up the 'Spices' at Tunstall, it was full steam ahead for Leeds—the resting-place of the famous James Barham. Here a halt was called, and after raising the peal of ten, a touch of Treble Bob Royal was tapped off, also a touch of Stedman on the back eight, and a well-struck course of Cambridge Surprise Major.

The next stop was Headcorn, where the party found their old friend, Mr. Phil Hodgkin, waiting to welcome them. Here another good course of Cambridge was rung, also Treble Bob, Stedman and Grandsire. After lowering this splendid eight in peal, tracks were made for Tenterden. Here Mr. Tribe had everything in readiness, and the first item at this pretty little country town was a good long touch of 'Knife and Fork Surprise' (not on the bells). After this the visitors were able to climb the fine old tower, and set the bells going to the tune of Stedman, Grandsire, Bob Major and Cambridge Surprise. Without a doubt this fine ring of eight deserves all the praise that visitors always have for it.

Next on the programme was Charing, the birthplace of the young 'Spices,' which was reached about 5 p.m. An excellent tea was partaken of at Mrs. Feakins' tea-rooms, and after a course or two of Grandsire Triples on handbells and a saunter round the village, the tower was visited, and touches of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge and Plain Bob Minor were brought round. Mr. Wallace Good, who had very kindly made arrangements here, joined in the ringing.

Leaving Charing about 7.30 p.m., the party's last stop was Lenham. Here the stay was short, it being the general opinion that a visit by bell hangers instead of bell ringers would be nearer the mark. The ladies of the party were pleased, anyhow, and many thanks are due to them for their patience and assistance at the tables.

Sittingbourne was reached at 9.30, and everyone agreed that it had been a very enjoyable and successful day. The ringers take this opportunity of tendering their thanks to the various incumbents for the use of the bells, and to those who made the necessary arrangements.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Whatever may be the feeling of ringers as to whether peals tapped on handbells should be recorded by the associations for which they are performed, no one will deny the merit of such achievements, and Mr. Arthur T. Morris has now accomplished the unique feat of tapping a peal of 5,600 London Surprise Major. This is a most remarkable performance, and we should like to see it repeated in the presence of independently appointed referees. We have not the slightest doubt as to the genuineness of any of Mr. Morris's achievements, but such a peal as London Surprise tapped before officially appointed witnesses would at once and for ever silence any criticism upon the subject.

The Bailey brothers, of Leiston, have scored another success, by adding to their achievements a 'family' peal of Stedman Cinques on handbells. By this performance they have put up another record. They are the first band of brothers to ring a peal of Cinques, and they have now scored Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques, and Kent Treble Bob Major, Royal and Maximus.

There is not much left for this wonderful company of brothers to achieve, except tower bell peals in some of the higher methods, and these we have no doubt will all come in good time.

The Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques have all been rung within the last ten months, and would probably have been completed before but for the hot weather and the harvest. Some time ago three-quarters of the peal was rung, and then it was left alone until last week. These men have made ringing history.

Among the coming young men is undoubtedly Albert E. Norman, of Birmingham. Although only 19 years of age, he has just recently called a peal of Stedman Caters on handbells, and this, we learn, at only four hours' notice, prior to which time he had not even seen the composition. There are not many youths who could successfully take on a task of this kind. Among his other performances are peals of Cambridge Major, Royal and Maximus.

A correspondent (Mr. J. W. Moorhouse) informs us that the one part peal of Grandsire Triples by Mr. Louis Head, in our issue of August 5th does not contain any new feature. Peals were published in 1907 with only three bells 'before,' with the minimum number of calls with this quality.

In the quiet village of King's Norton, Leicestershire, an old ringer and churchwarden, Mr. W. Webster, has suffered a great loss by the sudden death, on August 12th, of his youngest son Walter, aged 30 years, so quickly after the death of Mrs. Webster (mother of three ringing sons). The fine tower containing a beautiful toned peal of eight, by Eyres, losses a regular service ringer, respected by all.

The peal rung at Bungay on August 4th, has appeared twice, sent up by two different correspondents.

There is a 'lock-out' of ringers at St. George's, Bristol, we read. The Vicar complains that the ringers failed to attend service, and dismissed them. It is stated that the ringers are submitting their case to the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association.

A DEBENHAM STORY.

COMMITTED MURDER, THEN CALLED A LONG PEAL.

To the Editor.

Sir,—As you publish anniversary notices of long peals, first peals, etc., perhaps the following will be of interest:—

There is a peal board at Debenham on the east wall of the tower, well made, excellently written, but faded. It commemorates a peal of Bob Major rung in 1767 (six years after the bells were augmented to eight), 10,600 changes, in 6 hrs. 1 min. The tenor man called the peal, and his name was Jas. Wilson (I quote from memory). Would this peal be the longest length then rung in the method? I forget the rest of the account on the board, as it was always difficult to read the last few lines. Perhaps a Debenham friend would send it for publication.

The old blind ringer, the late John Brady, of Debenham, told me that in his young days this peal was commonly regarded as a unique performance, as the tenor man was supposed to have committed a murder on the road to Debenham to call the peal. It could not, however, be brought home to him at the time, for being arrested on coming home again, he proved an alibi, to the satisfaction of the court. His having been ringing at Debenham for six hours cleared him, but on his death-bed, years after, so the story goes, he confessed that he did commit the murder on his way, and managed to get to Debenham quickly enough to prove the alibi. A cool customer, I imagine. It would be interesting to know if all this is true. The man must have been known fairly well as a ringer. He was from Norwich, I believe. The rest of the band were local, I think.

Wishing 'The Ringing World' and the Exercise in general the best of luck.—Believe me, yours,
PETER LAFLIN.

BRISTOL AND SUPERLATIVE ROYAL.

A CHALLENGE TO MR. TROLLOPE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The Revs. Bankes James and Law James speak frankly in last week's issue; the former as to the surfeit of bluff, and the latter as to the wasting of space in your valuable columns. Perhaps these shafts have gone home to our honourable friend on the 'Opposition Bench'; or perhaps he is now conscious of the futility of his attempt to lay down a series of 'rules' for the production, ad lib., of complicated structures such as London; or perhaps, again, he has now realised that in the absence of practical illustration (preferably by means of the actual figures), it is purposeless to give vent to expression in vague phraseology and meaningless platitudes. But, whatever may be the reason for it, the fact remains that Mr. Armiger Trollope has not furnished an answer to the problem—(of the kind which he has already avowed himself capable of solving in 30 minutes)—the problem which I propounded in your issue of August 5th, as to the extension of Bristol; neither has he expressed his willingness to accept the challenge to prove that any one of the first three methods submitted to the Records Committee, C.C., has been produced previously; and yet (vide last week's issue) he still speaks of 'no such thing as a new method' and again 'no such thing as authorship of methods.' Pray, sir, how does Mr. Trollope reconcile this with the fact that the late Sir Arthur P. Heywood, Bart., M.A., was known to the Exercise as 'a skilled change ringer, conductor, composer and author,' and whose memory will ever be cherished by the Exercise as such?

But to revert to the Bristol problem; this is a question of such universal interest as to call for a ready answer; and Mr. Trollope claims to be able to settle such questions in a few minutes; therefore, we as in all seriousness, Can he produce Bristol Royal? Yes or No. And if his answer be in the affirmative, will he be kind enough to give us the figures of half a lead of his method, in preference to his somewhat uncertain 'Rules for extending'?

Perhaps he will give us also the true version of Superlative Royal, if he considers that to be possible, since he has proclaimed repeatedly his ability to do these things with ease.

In all fairness to the question, may I be pardoned for adding that I have already formed my own conclusions on these matters (and am prepared to publish them), but then I am only E Pluribus Unum! and meanwhile the Exercise awaits the evidence of Mr. Trollope's expositions.—Very truly yours,

A. YORK-BRAMBLE.

TAPPING OF PEALS.

MR. OLAVE BROYD'S OPINION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—My opinion of the peal which I umpired for Mr. A. T. Morris tapped on handbells, I consider a wonderful performance, and quite worthy of record. If two men rang a peal of Major with four handbells each, I suppose it would be recorded. It is impossible for Mr. Morris to ring eight handbells, so, therefore, he taps his peals. Judging by the splendid and confident way in which he tapped this peal, I look for Mr. Morris to come out with far more wonderful performances in the future.—Yours faithfully,

O. BROYD.

A WONDERFUL PIECE OF WORK.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I feel I cannot let pass without some reference the remarks of Messrs Bernard and Taylor, of Harwich, re the tapping of peals and non-booking of same by the Essex Association. I, like them, cannot quite fathom the reason why the association decided not to book any further peals. I had the honour to umpire a peal tapped by Mr. Olave Broyd, of Gestingthorpe. I considered that performance a wonderful piece of work. The hobs were called by the performer, and ticked off by myself and my brother and compared with the composition at the end of the peal, and were found to be correct in every detail. Whether eight bells are more difficult to tap I do not know. Doubtless the performer has some method of doing it that I do not myself understand, but at the same time it must require a great deal of skill, and I for one certainly congratulate Mr. Morris, whether right or wrong from a campaniologist point of view. Perhaps those responsible for the booking, or rather the non-booking, of these peals think it might be possible to ring anything and just have the bells right when the hobs are called and course ends come up, but if anyone disputes the peals they are, as Messrs. Bernard and Taylor state, at liberty to witness a peal being tapped, and if they think it worth while can 'tick off' portions anywhere, apart from the actual calls and course ends, and then pass their own opinions. I hope that some steps may be taken to rightly recognise this most skilful bit of work.—Yours faithfully,

Belchamp Walter, Essex.

H. W. CATTERWELL.

THE POSITION IN SUFFOLK.

WEST SUFFOLK'S ATTITUDE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—After reading the two letters in last week's 'Ringing World,' under the heading 'Position in Suffolk,' I would make the following facts plain. West Suffolk, late Sudbury Branch of the Ely Association, left that Association not because of the 'neglect of the Parent Society'—the Ely Diocesan Association has never given West Suffolk cause to accuse it of 'neglect'—but because, Suffolk having become a diocese, and having its own Bishop, it was the opinion that there was a just claim for an Association for Suffolk; hence the separation, which our Ely brethren were quite expecting, and did accept in good faith. Not wishing to impair that faith, I emphatically state that at no time has West Suffolk entertained the idea of amalgamating with any other society. West Suffolk, having formed an Association, intends to carry it on as a separate society for Suffolk.

I ask our brother ringers in East Suffolk carefully to consider the matter, and trust they will see that the claim is right and proper, and to join with us in building up a society which will justify itself. Anyone who will carefully study the matter, will, I think, agree with Mr. Dennis that there is ample room for a separate society to be carried on in each of the counties of Norfolk and Suffolk.

Our appreciations are due to the two correspondents of last week for their manly attitude throughout their respective letters. I trust, whatever the outcome, nothing that has, or will be said, will alter that friendship which has hitherto existed between us as brother ringers.—Yours, etc.,

Lavenham.

S. H. SYMONDS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As you say, the position is quite altered by the letters you have published from the representative members of the Ely Diocesan Association, and I quite agree with you that they ought to be consulted in any arrangements that are proposed.—Yours very faithfully,

H. DRAKE.

DRY WEATHER EFFECT ON BELL FITTINGS.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—No matter how well seasoned timber is in a bell frame, or in the head stocks, during a period of dry weather—such as we have recently experienced—the timber will always shrink, and I do not think that there is any danger whatever of a bolt getting too much load to carry when wet weather sets in. Unless the bolt is very badly rusted and thin, the wet weather will not affect it. Great care should be taken in tightening up the gudgeon shoe bolts always to pull up the inside ones first, as when a bell is down the tendency is for the gudgeons to tip upwards; also when they are tightened up the inside ones should be considerably tighter than the outside, in order to keep the gudgeons lineable.

Care should also be taken to pull up equally the head stock bolts that hold the bell. If one side is pulled up more than another, the bell will become false struck.—Yours faithfully,

J. H. B. HESSE.

DEATH OF VETERAN EAST LONDON RINGER.

It is with much regret that the St. Mary, Bow, Middlesex, Society, record the death of an old and much respected member, viz., Mr. Thomas Cranfield, who passed away on Friday, August 5th, aged 71 years. Deceased was well known to East London ringers, and will be greatly missed at Bow, and also West Ham, where he was regular in his attendance.

The funeral took place on Friday, August 12th, and in the evening the 'whole pull and stand' and a touch of Treble Bob was rung with the bells half-muffled at Bow. The following ringers took part: G. Hayden, A. Neale, F. Newman, R. Sanders, A. Scambler, J. Scholes, W. Theobald, R. Turner and J. Waghorn.

BRISTOL RINGERS' WEDDING.

On Saturday, August 20th, the marriage took place at St. Anne's Church, Brislington, Bristol, of Mr. Edwin J. Brown and Miss Maud A. Jordan, two highly respected members of the St. Philip's Guild. The ceremony was performed by the Vicar of St. Anne's (the Rev. H. S. Urch), assisted by the Rev. M. E. Thorold, Vicar of St. Philip's, and Past Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association. Mr. W. A. Cave, another P.M. of the Association, was also present.

After the ceremony the bridal pair proceeded to Bournemouth for the honeymoon, where a little programme of ringing had been arranged for them by Mr. W. A. Cave.

In the evening, in honour of the event, an attempt for a peal of Stedman Triples at St. Philip's unfortunately came to grief, and afterwards 816 Double Norwich was rung by: F. Poreh 1, Miss A. Brown 2, F. W. Wade 3, P. C. Williams 4, G. Wiltshire 5, H. T. Howell 6, J. Long 7, A. E. Reeves (conductor) 8. The Guild wish the pair every happiness in their married life.

HORNCHURCH BELLS.RINGERS ABUSED.

Hornchurch, Essex, is having its turn with a storm in a teacup, stirred up by one who most vehemently protests against the 'intolerable nuisance' of the 'nerve-racking tintinabulation of the bells.' The correspondence has appeared in the 'Romford Recorder,' and the gentleman who finds his peace disturbed goes to the length of nearly half a column of sheer abuse. Among other suggestions for ending the ringing he suggests that the ropes might be used by the ringers to hang themselves with.

The ringers have responded with vigour, and, as might only be expected when an attack of this virility is launched, have hit out pretty strongly. They reciprocate by offering the gentleman an old rope to enable him to take a short cut in escaping from the torture which he seems at present to be enduring, and they make other kindly suggestions, Mr. Dale, the captain, adding, by way of encouraging him, we imagine, that he is arranging a peal of 20,160.

If the gentleman who objects to the bells thought that abuse of the ringers was the way to get his grievance (whether real or imaginary) given serious consideration, he must have other opinions by now. At any rate, if the correspondence is still going on, the public of Hornchurch are having some entertaining reading.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A successful meeting of the Bedford District was held at Willington on Saturday, August 27th. Members were present from Bedford, Kempston, Elstow, Biggleswade, Great Staughton, Roxton, Clapham, Dunstable, and the local company. At the business meeting, held in the tower, with Mr. F. Webb in the chair, it was proposed to hold the next meeting at Elstow on Saturday, Sept. 24th.—A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for use of the bells, and to the local company for having everything in readiness, was accorded.

BARNSELY & DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

A meeting was held at Monk Bretton on Saturday, August 13th. The bells at this tower are very good. The ringing room, although small, is neat and nice, and the whole is a credit to all concerned. Ringing went on merrily from 4 to 9 p.m. The outstanding feature of the meeting was the welcome given to the association by the Vicar (the Rev. John E. A. Mercer), who presided at the business meeting held in the vestry. He gave an address, outspoken yet eloquent, and rich in tender appeal. He praised and admired the bells and their music, and said he held great regard for their influence on men at early morn or dewy eve. He besought change ringers with earnest pleading to aspire to the very highest in their art. By doing this their sounds would travel far, and ascend to the Great Creator of all that is divine. Merit is sometimes slow to be recognised by the National Church, but if ringers are any judge this young clergyman must attain higher rank in the church he serves so well.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and local company for all arrangements made, ended the meeting.

Members were present from towers near and far. The next meeting is to be held at Wragby, near Wakefield, on Saturday, Sept. 10th.

WALLASEY RINGERS ENTERTAINED AT LIVERPOOL.

At the invitation of the local band, ringers from St. Hilary's, Wallasey, Cheshire, visited St. James' Church, West Derby, Liverpool, for an afternoon's ringing. A well-struck 720 of Bob Minor was first rung, followed by other touches. The party then adjourned for tea, at the conclusion of which Mr. Walters thanked the St. James' ringers for their kind hospitality in providing them with tea, which they had all enjoyed.

Mr. Hargraves replied for the St. James' ringers, and referred to the friendly feeling which had grown up between the two towers as a result of the efforts of Mr. George Rogers. That was the second year of these social meetings, and he hoped the friendship which had been established would last for years to come.

Mr. G. Rogers also spoke, and referring to the intimate relations which had sprung up between the towers, said he could not realise how it had been brought about, but he hoped it would long continue.

After tea the visitors inspected the relics to be seen in the old village, and then returned to the tower where several touches in various methods were rung until eight o'clock.

Mr. Donnelly, of Liverpool, and Mr. H. Ashton, of Ramhill, were present also at the gathering.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.ROCHESTER DISTRICT MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Rochester district of the Kent County Association was held at Rochester, on Saturday, August 20th, and from the point of numbers was highly successful, although the ringing never reached a very high standard. At 3 o'clock a good party had mustered outside the Cathedral, where the new ring of ten by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, had been placed at the disposal of the district through the kindness of the Dean. Some of the visitors, whose first visit it was to Rochester, were very interested in the approach to the belfry, and more than one had cause to remember it through a sore head—caused by coming into contact with the low beams. Ringing took place until 4.45, when a halt was called for tea, which was served in the beautiful gardens of the Tea Table Cafe, and 53 sat down.

The business meeting followed, and was of a hasty character, owing to the service being fixed for 6 o'clock.—The District Secretary (Mr. Fred M. Mitchell, Milton-next-Gravesend) was unanimously re-elected, and thanked for his services during the past year, one member returning thanks for the 'buckshee' teas he had been instrumental in getting the district.—The representatives on the Central Committee (Messrs. E. A. G. Allen, Frindsbury, and W. Spicer, Tunstall) were also re-elected.—Swanscombe was chosen for the next quarterly meeting, on Saturday, December 3rd, and the meeting terminated with a hearty vote of thanks to the Dean of Rochester for the use of the bells, also to the Vicars of St. Margaret's, Rochester, and Frindsbury for allowing their towers to be open, and to Mr. W. Haigh for presiding over the meeting.

The ringers' service followed in the Cathedral. The service was not definitely fixed until the forepart of the week, so could not be advertised, and it was a very small congregation of ringers that listened to an excellent address by Canon Arnott, who took his text from 1 Corinthians x. 31, 'Whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.' He reminded the ringers that their service in the church was as important as the choristers' or the clergy's, and said that the service to the church should also be followed by service to God. He remarked on the large number of ringers that had, during the afternoon, passed through that ancient Cathedral on their way to the belfry to ring, but how few had attended to pay their service to God.

It certainly was not very encouraging to the organist, who attended, and to the clergy, and a little excuse can be offered for those ringers who had to leave to catch an early train.

Ringers were afterwards again indulged in until 9 o'clock, when the bells were lowered, and a successful meeting terminated.

During the evening, the towers at St. Margaret's, Rochester, and Frindsbury were open for ringing, and the district is to be congratulated in having such a fine peal of ten, as the Cathedral now possesses, which is the only peal of ten in the district.

In addition to the ringers from the towers of the district there were visitors from Canterbury, Lewisham and Maidstone districts, Lancashire, Yorkshire, Croydon, Staines, and Prittlewell.

VICAR'S WIFE AS PRACTISING MEMBER.

The quarterly meeting of the Lewisham District was held at Farningham, on Saturday, August 6th. The tower was open at 3 p.m., and the bells, a ring of six, were set going to Grand sire and Stedman Doubles, College Single, Plain Bob, Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor. Service was conducted by the Rev. F. N. Snaith (Vicar), who also gave an interesting address, taking for his text the words, 'A three-ply cord is not quickly broken,' illustrating life with the colour of the sally, red, white and blue.

The Vicar very kindly entertained the company to tea at the Lion Hotel, and over forty sat down, including several ringers' wives.

The business meeting followed, presided over by the Vicar, who was unanimously elected an hon. member. Nine practising members of Farningham tower were also duly elected. They include Mrs. Snaith (the Vicar's wife) and Capt. and Mrs. Sheldon.

St. Luke's, Bromley Common, was chosen as the place for the annual district meeting in October.

A hearty vote of thanks was then accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, his address, and the tea; also for presiding.—The Vicar, replying, said it had been a great pleasure to him to have the association there, also to hear the bells ringing again. Any time they were that way, and would like to ring on the bells, he should be most happy for them to do so.

A course of Grand sire Triples and Caters, and Stedman Triples, was then rung on handbells, after which the tower was again visited.

LEEDS & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The usual monthly meeting was held at Calverley, on Saturday, August 27th, ringers being present from Leeds, Buxley, Idle, Pudsey, and the local company. Touches of Grand sire Triples, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major were indulged in in the evening. At the business meeting, in the absence of the secretary, Mr. Gerald Moorhouse, his brother, performed the necessary duties.

MR. T. REDMAN'S LONG SERVICE RECOGNISED.

A most enjoyable meeting of the Blackburn branch was held at the Holy Trinity Church, Burnley, last Saturday, over 40 members, many of whom brought their wives, attending. Ringing in the afternoon was followed by tea provided in the Sandgate School. At the subsequent meeting, the Rev. T. H. Foulds, curate of Holy Trinity Church, presided, and gave the ringers a hearty welcome to Holy Trinity. He hoped before long he would have the pleasure of seeing them again in Burnley.

Mr. Rennie Hartley was elected Branch President and Ringing Master for the ensuing 12 months.—Mr. Wm. Aaron, of Church Kirk, was elected a performing member, and the Rev. T. H. Foulds was elected an honorary life member.

The following members were elected as nominees for the various positions in the Lancashire Association: Vice-president, Mr. W. E. Wilson, Blackburn; ringing secretary, Mr. J. H. Banks; auditors, Mr. Greenhaigh and Mr. Barnes.

Accrington was chosen as the place for next meeting, to be held the week following the annual meeting of the Lancashire Association.

During the evening, a presentation took place to Mr. Tom Redman, of Burnley, in recognition of his long and devoted services to the branch. The gift took the form of a divan 'easy chair, and was presented, on behalf of the branch, by Mr. W. E. Wilson, who spoke of Mr. Redman's many excellent qualities, and of the high esteem in which he was held by all the ringers of the association, and particularly of the Blackburn branch.—Mr. Redman suitably responded.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar and wardens for the use of the bells, also to the Rev. T. H. Foulds for presiding.

LONDON SURPRISE ROYAL.

The discussion in our columns on London Surprise Royal has now arrived at the stage when all those who have produced methods, worth considering as extensions approximating to the Major, have placed their figures before the Exercise, and what has now to be decided is, which of the various extensions is to be accepted as that entitled to the designation of London Surprise Royal. It is fairly obvious that this question will not be mutually agreed between the rival claimants, and the thought that may occur to some is that the matter should be settled by the Central Council as the final body of appeal. In the end it may be well if the Council set the seal of their authority upon what is to be recognised as the acceptable extension of the method, but the Council, as a whole, could hardly be expected to decide the merits of the question. Yet it ought to be decided. Who, then, is to adjudicate upon the matter?

We would suggest that a small body of, say, five members of the Exercise—preferably from within the Council, so that eventually their finding might go out with the endorsement of the Council—should be appointed to examine the claims. We believe that such a committee, with the requisite knowledge and impartiality, could be found from among the experts who have watched the controversy with detached interest. The committee might consist of two members who specialise in the theory of methods, and two men of wide practical experience in the ringing of London Surprise Major, with a chairman appointed by themselves. Such a body, we believe, could arrive at a decision on the subject, whereas the full Council could not be expected to deal with it. Indeed, were it referred to the Council as a whole, the result would probably be similar to that which attended the proposal made by the Rev. H. Law James in 1913 to recognise Shipway's method as the correct extension of Superlative Surprise. After adjourning the subject for a year, and having an amendment before them that the Council did not feel competent to decide the question, Mr. James' motion was ultimately withdrawn, largely to save the Council from putting themselves in an awkward position, and, as the President urged, to avoid 'making fools of themselves.'

After all, a matter of this kind cannot be settled satisfactorily and with knowledge by a large body of members, many of whom have not even rung a peal of London Surprise Major. But a small committee of experts, such as we suggest could decide the question for them and, with the co-operation of the rival claimants, who would have full opportunity of stating their case, the arrangement ought to work well. But by the time the next Council meeting is held much of the interest in the discussion will have evaporated, so far as the general body of the Exercise is concerned, and we would suggest that the interested parties should agree straightaway upon a committee, submit their respective cases and let a decision be come to, so that when the next Council meets a resolution can be moved and the finding of the committee endorsed. All that would then remain, it seems to us, would be for the College Youths, if they desired to do so, to prefer their claim to the name for the peal rung by them at Stepney, which stands in their records as 'London,' but which is classed by the Council as 'Stepney.' The question of prior right to a name is a question which the Council would be fully competent to decide; the question of the closest extension of the method from Major to Royal is one which they could not be expected to answer.

THE EXTENSION OF DOUBLE NORWICH.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Since I pointed out in 'The Ringing World' that Mr. H. W. Wilde had previously produced the same extension of Double Norwich Maximus as that given by Mr. G. Baker, I have received a pamphlet by Mr. J. S. Pritchett, of Birmingham, which is an extract from 'The Bell News' of twenty-five years ago, giving exactly the same Maximus extension with instructions how to ring the method. This is certainly interesting, coming as it does from three independent sources, and each arriving at the same conclusion as to what is the true extension of the method.

While writing I should like to endorse what you say in your leading article of August 19th, 'that we ringers owe everything to those who spend or have spent their labour in research.' Our scope for ringing would have been narrow indeed without them.

How interesting, too, is the correspondence going on in 'The Ringing World' by some of the experts of to-day, much of which is beyond the average ringer, but nevertheless highly interesting, and we are grateful to them for giving us of their time and labour in solving some of the 'knotty problems' which have been baffling the Exercise for years, and thereby opening up a still wider field for ringers' enjoyment.—Yours, etc.,
E. BARNETT.

DEATH OF A LINCOLNSHIRE RINGER.

The Southern Branch of the Lincoln Guild loses one of its oldest members, by the death of Mr. John Hoyes, of Hough-on-the-Hill, who passed away on Saturday, August 13th, at the age of 67 years. Deceased had been a ringer at All Saints for 40 years, and was well known and much respected in South Lincolnshire.

The funeral took place at Hough-on-the-Hill on August 16th, deceased being carried to his last resting-place by four of his brother ringers: Messrs. J. Cragg (Caythorpe), A. Mackears (Long Bennington), J. H. Haynes and H. Squires (Hough-on-the-Hill). After the funeral the bells were rung muffled.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

MEETINGS BY ROTA IN PRESTON BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Preston Branch was held at Preston Parish Church, on Saturday, August 27th, about 40 members attending, and making good use of the fine ring of eight bells. The business meeting was held in the spacious ringing chamber. Mr. W. Heald, of Preston, was voted to the chair, and several important propositions were carried. The first of these was that the whole of the towers of the branch be put into a fixed order, and visited in rotation without voting at every meeting. This idea is intended to save time, and the list will be drawn up by the branch secretary and submitted for approval at Leyland in October.

Next it was decided to support the Rossendale Branch in their proposition to reduce the general committee, and only one representative was elected, instead of two as previously.

Mr. J. R. Taylor gave an account of the committee meeting at Bolton, also the arrangements for the annual general meeting at Todmorden.

Mention was made of the deputation to St. Luke's Church, Preston, with regard to their hemispherical bells, but the authorities are determined to go on with their scheme.

At the close of business, the Vicar and wardens were accorded a hearty vote of thanks for the use of the bells. The bells were again brought into use, and ringing kept up till about 8.30. Standard methods, with the addition of Double Norwich and Superlative, were the methods rung during the afternoon.

MANCHESTER BRANCH.

The monthly meeting of the Manchester Branch was held at Prestwich, on Saturday, Sept. 3rd. Mr. J. W. Washbrook, who presided, said how pleased he was to see such a large gathering of ringers present, and also to note the variety of methods rung, which had ranged from rounds for the learners to London Surprise. The good striking had been a prominent feature of this meeting.

Nominations for the officers of the association were: Vice-president, Mr. A. Trippier; ringing secretary, Mr. J. H. Banks; auditors, Mr. S. Greenhalgh and Mr. A. Barnes.

Flexton was selected for the next meeting, on Saturday, Oct. 1st.

A discussion took place on whether it was possible to arrange a tea at these branch meetings, and it was left to Mr. J. Collier to see if one could be arranged for the meeting at Flexton, in order that the branch secretary may give due notice in 'The Ringing World.'

Votes of thanks to church officials, the local ringers, and the chairman, closed the meeting, and further ringing took place on this grand ring of bells.

DUDLEY & DISTRICT GUILD.

MEETING AT WEST BROMWICH.

A quarterly meeting of the Dudley and District Guild was held at Christ Church, West Bromwich, on Saturday, August 20th, when over forty members, representing various towers in union with the Guild, attended. The fine peal of 12 bells was at the disposal of the members from 2.30 until service time. The beautiful Guild service was conducted by the Rev. J. Goodacre, M.A., M.C., who also gave a very interesting and eloquent address, in the course of which he gave the members a right hearty welcome to Christ Church.

At the close of the service an adjournment was made to the Parish Hall, where a bountiful tea was in readiness, kindly provided by the Vicar. Afterwards the business meeting took place, presided over by Mr. John Goodman, Junr. (Ringing Master), in the unavoidable absence of the Vicar, who had other engagements to fulfil. An apology was read from the secretary, regretting his inability to be present at the meeting, as he was away from home on a holiday.—Several new members were elected to the roll.

The arrangements for the next quarterly meeting were left in the hands of the secretary to make what arrangements he could, as no invitation had been received.

It was proposed that the quarterly peal for the Guild be attempted at Christ Church, West Bromwich, and that the method be Stedman Cinques, the necessary arrangements to be left in the hands of Mr. Jesse Screen.

At the close of the meeting, a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar of West Bromwich for his great kindness in consenting to the Guild holding its meeting at Christ Church, for conducting the service, for his eloquent address, for the use of the tower and bells, and of the Parish Hall, as also for the bounteous tea he so generously provided.—A vote of thanks was also accorded to the ladies who prepared and served the tea, and looked after the comforts of the members; to Mr. Jesse Screen and the local ringers for making the necessary arrangements, and to all who had assisted in any way in making the meeting such a successful and happy one.—Thanks were also extended to the Ringing Master for presiding at the meeting. The bells were again utilised in the evening, while some of the members visited the town and park before returning home.

PEALS TAPPED ON HANDBELLS.

MR. MORRIS REPLIES TO CRITICS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In his recent letter, Mr. Pye makes the assertion that the education received through tapping of peals is of no value except to the performer. As this seems to me to be the kernel of the whole thing, may I, through a little illustration, try to show that he is quite wrong. My brother ringers will have noticed that I was at last successful in tapping a peal of London. Now I maintain that it is quite possible for me to teach any young band that method, and in the process of teaching, the education I have received entirely through tapping is distributed amongst them, and, therefore, becomes the property of eight or nine ringers instead of only one, as Mr. Pye asserts. If I am wrong will someone please point it out and convince me. I should take that as a great kindness, and I would promise that 'The Ringing World' would be troubled no more with my performances; but if I am right, I think the Essex Association, in the passing of that resolution, has committed a great error of judgment. I should like my brother ringers to know that personally I do not care two straws whether or no there are points given or records kept; but the point, to my mind, is, will such action be likely to deter any ringer from trying to educate himself in a similar way? My opinion is it will. My object is to try and educate myself to fit any situation I may find myself in. I had a plan of entirely reconstructing the Harwich band, by the addition of six or eight youngsters; but I must confess the thought has arisen, if, after I have done my best to teach them what little knowledge I have, they will turn to me and say that my education is of no value to anyone but myself. To my brother ringers who have sent me their congratulations and kindly words of encouragements, the umpires, our Editor for the publication of the records, the composers who have so kindly sent me peals, and to Mr. W. Pye for his most candid letter, I tender my most sincere thanks, for these are things which, in my estimation, really count.—I remain, yours truly,

ARTHUR T. MORRIS.

P.S.—I note your remarks in 'Belfry Gossip,' and I quite see the point; but I would point out that recently I have had the services of several competent outside umpires, one of whom conducted one of the peals, another who has tapped a peal or two himself.

THE EDUCATIONAL VALUE.

Dear Sir,—Should space permit I should like to make reply to Mr. Pye's letter in your issue of August 26th, re the booking of peals tapped on handbells. Mr. Pye hits the nail right on the head when he states that we jumped to the conclusion that the members of the Essex Association responsible for the passing of the resolution referred to considered the performance of tapping peals on handbells worthless. We did; and Mr. Pye further endeavours to substantiate his case that they are worthless by giving three apparently sound reasons why they should not be booked. I will answer them very briefly, as they are stated.

For the purpose of booking, why should we discriminate between tapping and ringing? I submit that in ringing a handbell peal it is not the fact that the ringers engaged in the performance continue to strike their bells up and down that makes the performance worthy of note, but that they keep their bells in place and their mind concentrated on the method. A tapper goes further, he keeps eight bells in place. Surely this is a greater achievement! The fact that he does not ring them obviously enough is because it is a physically impossible feat.

The second reason given is more important. Mr. Pye states that, being individual performances they are of no educational value. Now, Mr. Morris has only once rung a course of London. He was, however, successful in tapping a peal in this method. The advantage derived here is that should Mr. Morris at any time go to a tower where London is rung he could at once become a useful member of that band. Also, Mr. Morris is and has been for years an enthusiastic teacher of change ringing to youngsters wishing to learn, and when his next batch of pupils come along in the winter months there is not the slightest doubt that he will find his exercises in tapping of great advantage in his teaching.

I think that the third point mentioned in Mr. Pye's letter can hardly be raised in protest against the booking of these peals, as handbell peals rung by three or more members are booked, and these can hardly be said to assist 'Bell Chamber Reform.'

If the resolution was passed for reasons no stronger than those mentioned by Mr. Pye, I would repeat that the matter never received sufficiently thoughtful consideration. To express an opinion as to who is foremost in the vogue of tapping is to beg the question raised.

Thanking you, sir, for the hospitality of your columns.—Yours faithfully, 53, Church Street, Harwich.

T. H. BERNARD.

TAPPING, NOT CHANGE RINGING.

Sir,—In your last issue, another correspondent, Mr. Broyd, who has done some peal tapping, complains of these peals not being recognised. He also says if two persons had rung four bells each they would be booked. Quite true, and deservedly so. Could Mr. Morris ring four handbells retained in hand to a peal, say, of London Surprise? I doubt it very much. If he can, perhaps Mr. Broyd being a peal tapper would ring the other four. Such a performance would rank as the greatest on record. I see Mr. Morris has tapped a peal of London, and without ever ringing an inside bell in the method. I hope Mr. Morris does not think he has strengthened his claim for recognition by doing this; if so, he has made a great mistake, for he certainly has shown us that the system he adopts to tap peals does not apply to change ringing. I may say that I have known two persons who used to tap touches who could not ring two handbells to the method. That convinced me that from a change ringing point of view there was not so much in it as many people think there is.—Yours faithfully,

W. PYE.

WHY HAS DISTINCTION BEEN MADE?—AN ENQUIRY.

Dear Sir,—I consider the Essex Association quite justified in not booking any further tapped peals. This is not change ringing as I have always understood it. Tapping is not ringing, but why book one and not more? I believe there was a previous one tapped by Mr. O. Broyd, and booked. Now, Sir, I should like to know why these two peals which were tapped and not rung have been booked? I can find nothing in the rules of the Essex Association to allow them to be booked. I am quite aware the rules of the Association have been set at defiance on more than one occasion; but that was to suit one individual, and Messrs. Broyd and Morris are only ordinary members. I hold no brief for either. They may be wonderful performances—undoubtedly they are—but that does not turn the performances into change ringing. You, Sir, mentioned in 'Belfry Gossip' that you would like to see this performance repeated in the presence of competent witnesses (I refer to the peal of London tapped by Mr. Morris), and as I am able to repeat a peal of London (or any other method on 7 or 8), change by change and call the bobs, I should be quite willing to act as one umpire, providing this meets with your and Mr. Morris's approval.—Yours truly,

Rye Mill, Feering.

W. KEEBLE.

TWO QUESTIONS.

Dear Sir,—Without in any way detracting from the merit due to Mr. Morris for the various peals he has tapped, I would like him to answer two questions: (1) Can he ring an inside bell on tower bells and conduct a peal in all the methods he has tapped? (2) Can he also ring any pair of handbells retained 'in hand' and conduct all the methods? My reason for asking is that I have known of cases where a person can tap changes but cannot ring a pair of handbells in the same method. In my opinion tapping peals is not advancing change ringing, for which all associations were formed.—Yours faithfully,

Taunton.

J. HUNT.

ACTON GUILD'S EXCURSION.

Backed up by fine weather, the St. Mary's, Acton, Guild, held their annual outing on Saturday, August 27th, when a visit was paid to the two churches at Staines, and one at Egham. Under the guidance of the captain (Mr. Robt. Holloway) the visitors made their way to St. Peter's, Staines, where the peal of eight (tenor 15½ cwt.), by Warner, were soon off to Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major. Owing to the ambitious route set out, however, a long stay could not be made, and no matter how charming a place may be, or how delightful the bells, there always seemed a pleasurable anticipation of the next stopping-place. So the party moved on to the parish church at Staines, where the bells with their tenor (approximately 1 ton) were set going, and made good use of during the short stay, when the same methods as above were indulged in.

The next stop was for a splendid and well-earned tea. Soon after this the band found themselves at Egham, which has a ring of eight (tenor 17 cwt.) by the Croydon foundry. It was not long before these bells were off to the harmonious changes of a well-struck touch of Bob Major, followed by Grandsire and Stedman Triples.

Lowering the bells in peal at 9 o'clock, the visitors returned by train to London, where they arrived about 11 p.m. after a most enjoyable excursion.

The thanks of the Guild are extended to the respective clergy and local ringers, who so kindly assisted in making such excellent arrangements, and placing the bells at their disposal. The visitors included: The Misses D. Feltham, N. Williams and I. L. Hastie, Messrs. Robert Holloway (captain), L. H. Page, R. H. Bodington, R. A. Fardon, H. Wincote, J. W. Fruin, C. Brown, S. D. Breeze, F. Goodfellow, and M. England.

BURSLEM, STAFFS.—On Tuesday evening, August 2nd, at the Parish Church, 720 of Violet Treble Bob was rung. This was brought round after several unsuccessful attempts, the ringers being: *R. Welsby 1. *A. Lees 2. F. Triner 3. J. Hurd 4. T. Hilditch (conductor) 5. W. Bourne 6. * First in the method. Other ringers taking part in Woodbine and Burslem Delight were T. Hurd, L. Pennington and W. P. Deane.

LONDON SURPRISE ROYAL.
THE REV. E. BANKES JAMES ENTRENCHED.
To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In his letter of Sept. 2nd, Mr. Baker says:—
'Perhaps Mr. James will now understand that his method of Royal is not the same construction as London.'

In my letter of August 26th, I said:—

'The only connection that I can see between London Minor and London Major is this, they neither allow any other work than the plain hunt backwards, and the Treble Bob hunt forward.'

I think I may safely say that I do understand that simple fact as well now as I did when I wrote that letter.

Meanwhile, Mr. Baker does not explain how his infallible rule failed so lamentably in the case of the Grandsire method.

Here is another method for his consideration. The first 12345678 four changes are here given, and you continue as in 21435687 Oxford Treble Bob until you come to the last four, when 12436878 you duplicate the places. Now, half the changes are even 21346587 and half are odd. When we extend to ten bells, we have 24 even changes and 16 odd!

Of course, I quite agree with Mr. Baker that you must have equal numbers of odd and even changes if you want to ring a 720 of Minor, and I am also prepared to allow the same argument if you want to ring a peal of 3,628,800 of Royal; but then I have no ambition to start for such a peal, and as I know that far better methods can be obtained if we disregard such a rule, I do not think that the Exercise ought to be bound by it for the purpose of pleasing Mr. Baker.

But the war has advanced to such a point now that I think it is time to dig in. Here are my trenches, and everyone is welcome to inspect them.

1. There are two methods, known as London Surprise Minor and London Surprise Major, which defy all the efforts of the experts, with their simple laws of construction, to trace the connection between them, and yet show such a marked resemblance to each other that the Exercise is justified in calling them by the same name.
2. That that likeness is entirely due to a higher law which overrules all other considerations in their construction, the law of the two hunts.
3. That I have produced a method on ten bells, which conforms to that higher law, that it is the only method that can be produced on ten bells which will do so, and that it is as closely connected with London Minor and London Major, as they are with one another.
4. That as long as the Exercise retains the names of London Surprise Minor and London Surprise Major, they must, to be consistent, recognise my method as London Surprise Royal.

There is my camp, safely guarded by its four trenches, and to hold that position I am ready to fight, tooth and nail, cat and dog, until the fur and feathers fly; but I am not to be drawn outside to contend with any stray side issues which may be advanced. If they think that they can apply their little simple rules to such a complex monster as London Surprise, by all means let them try. I will allow them a lifetime to show any other connection between London Minor and London Major than the one that I have made use of in my trenches.

The two methods published this week are both obviously Oxford extensions, and are both unlike London in that they have internal places with treble bob on both sides of them, a feature that is entirely wanting both in the Minor and the Major. The resemblance, too, has vanished, as soon as the great law is broken.—Yours faithfully,
E. BANKES JAMES.

MR. TROLLOPE'S FORMULA.

Dear Sir,—I have to thank Mr. Baker for pointing out to me a clerical error in my formula for extending London. No. 2 should read, 'make a place at every cross section above the treble's path, except when she passes into the hindmost dodging position but one.' This on eight and all other numbers.—Yours truly,
J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

PROGRESS AT WORCESTER.

On Sunday, August 21st, at All Saints' Church, Worcester, for evening service, three courses of Cambridge Surprise Royal, in which J. Morris, F. W. Neate, J. R. Mackman, G. Hinton, junr., S. Holt, T. Walters, W. Lewis, W. Page, W. C. Jones, J. J. Jefferies and R. G. Knowles took part. On Monday, August 22nd, at St. Helen's, for practice, two courses of London Surprise Major, by: T. Walters, F. W. Neate, W. C. Jones, S. Holt, J. J. Jefferies, G. Hinton, junr., W. Lewis, W. Page and J. R. Mackman. Both the above are the longest rung in the methods by a local hand at Worcester. On Tuesday, August 23rd, at St. John's 720 of London Surprise Minor: W. Page (conductor) 1, S. Holt 2, T. Walters 3, J. J. Jefferies 4, W. Lewis 5, J. R. Mackman 6. First 720 in the method by all except Messrs. Page and Holt.

A WEEK ON A FARM.
RINGING—NOT HARVESTING.

On Saturday, August 20th, ringers began to congregate by various means at a small Lincolnshire village, yeolpt Surfleet. Mr. Rupert Richardson was responsible for collecting all these 'mad' people together, ostensibly for a handbell ringing week. Some of them, however, had recollections of cutting corners with a scythe in a harvest field the previous summer, so they went prepared for a few aching backs, as well as happy hours with handbells. Imagine their relief, therefore, when it was found that all the harvesting was finished, and all that remained to be done was to sit down and ring peals on the lawn, with a few wasps and umpteen flies tickling their noses.

As far as ringing was concerned, Saturday was a quiet day, as everybody was busy greeting somebody else, and discussing the state of the roads, etc.

Sunday was the great day of the week, namely, Rupert's birthday, and right well it was celebrated, by the ringing of two peals of Bob Royal in honour of the auspicious occasion.

Monday and Tuesday passed without much excitement, except a peal or two, to keep one's hand in. Wednesday morning saw a Ford, and a few motor bikes and side-cars leave Surfleet in full travelling order for Everby, where a peal of Stedman Catens was attempted, but abandoned, owing to one of the party becoming indisposed. Lunch was the next item on the programme, but as half the band suffered from indigestion for the rest of the week, nothing more need be said about that. In the afternoon, a peal of Double Norwich was successfully brought round at Heckington. Then the fun began. One member of the company had 'wind up' about a 'dud' tyre on his machine, so he started, with numerous helpers and advisers, to put a new one on. Work continued until after dark, when it was carried on by the aid of matches, one would-be helper eventually producing a candle. When the job was finished, and all were ready for home, one member was missed. He appeared later, correctly attired, as to his goggles and mackintosh, but his overalls were reversed, with toes pointing over the heels of his boots. His excuse was that he had put them on in the dark, and could not see which way he was going.

Eventually a start was made, and all went well for about a mile, when Frank stopped, with a flat tyre on his side-car. A lot was thought, but nothing said, as he had a parson with him. The tyre being repaired, the journey was resumed for a few miles; then Frank's lamp went out, but this did not cause a serious delay. On starting a third time (everybody hoping it was the last) all went well for a few more miles; but it was not to be, for Frank then thought it time to have another rest, so he broke his driving chain. This extinguished any further active interest which Frank had in the journey, and he was towed home by a well-known conductor.

On Thursday afternoon, the convoy moved off to Peterborough, where everyone enjoyed themselves to the full, thanks to the kind hospitality of Mr., Mrs. and Miss Jutson. Some interesting reunions took place between old friends at the tea-table, and someone was heard to remark 'that he wished he was staying there a week.' Nothing of special interest occurred on the return journey to Surfleet, as Frank had left his 'bus' behind.

Friday was a quiet day, with a couple of peals added to the score, and on Saturday afternoon the party began to break up. A ringer, who had his fiancée with him, was sent off in fine style from Spalding with an old boot attached to the back of the car, much to the amusement of the boys on the street corners, and to the remainder of the party.

With the departure of a 'Trusty Triumph' and side-car, loaded up with three other popular members of the party, nothing was left for the rest, but to bemoan the fact that a very happy and pleasant week had come to an end. The 'bag' included ten handbell peals and one tower bell peal.

THE LOST SHEEP.

DONCASTER & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

A meeting of the above society was held at Conisborough on Saturday week. About 40 ringers were present, representing about a dozen towers. Touches of Plain Bob, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and Kent Treble Bob Major were rung during the afternoon and evening. A short service was held, and was conducted by the curate, in the absence of the Vicar. Tea was partaken of in the Parish Hall.—Mr. Smith (one of the churchwardens) was voted to the chair at the business meeting which followed.—Votes of thanks were accorded the chairman for his services, and to the local band for making arrangements for the meeting and providing the tea.

Conisborough bells are a grand peal of eight, and are considered by the experts to be the best light peal in the Doncaster district. They were cast about seven years ago by Messrs. Taylor and Co. at their famous Loughborough Foundry. The weight of the tenor is about 14 cwt., and its note F sharp.

A SCARBOROUGH MEMORIAL.

On Sunday, Aug. 23th, before morning service, the Vicar of Scarborough (the Rev. Canon C. Cooper) unveiled and dedicated a tablet, erected in the belfry of St. Mary's Parish Church, to the memory of two ringers who made the supreme sacrifice during the great war. The tablet, which is of polished slate background and inset panel of white marble, bears the following inscription:—

In memory and in honour of Corporal A. Rayner, 5th Yorks; Private H. Ferguson, Royal Fusiliers, ringers of this tower who gave their lives in the great war, 1914—1918.

After the dedication, the ringers of St. Mary's Guild rang a plain course of Grandsire Triples with the bells half-muffled.

Quite a goodly number were present, including Mr. Rayner, senr., father of the late Corporal A. Rayner, and family; Mr. Ferguson, senr., father of the late Private H. Ferguson, and family; the churchwardens, Messrs. Bourne and McConkey; 10 of the local ringers: Mr. P. L. Wright, of Burton-on-Trent; and Mr. George Hatton, senr., of Ashby-de-la-Zouch, Leicestershire, who were visiting Scarborough.

In the evening, for Divine service, and in connection with the above, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) was rung in 50 minutes, by: H. Priest 1, G. Hatton, senr., 2, P. L. Wright 3, H. Ferguson 4, A. Coates 5, H. Gibson 6, J. R. Barton (conductor) 7, J. R. Fryers 8. Mr. Coates cycled from Whitby to take part in the ceremony to the memory of his brother ringers.

The tablet, which was subscribed for by the local ringers, was designed and executed by Mr. Fred Dove, sculptor, Dean Road.

CLIFTON RINGERS' TRIP.

On Saturday, August 20th, the Clifton (Bristol) ringers held their outing, Minehead and Dunster being the places visited. After a most enjoyable trip by boat, Minehead was reached at 11.15 a.m., where the party were met by Mr. G. Atkins, who conducted them to St. Michael's tower. Here the splendid peal of ten bells were soon going to Stedman Caters, Bob Royal and Cambridge Surprise. A good dinner was partaken of at Stevens' Cafe, and a pleasant drive by motor was afterwards enjoyed through the country to Dunster. After a good pull on Dunster bells, the return journey was made to Minehead, and boat taken to Bristol, which was reached about 9 o'clock, everyone having thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The members wish to thank Mr. Atkins for his kindness in making all arrangements and conducting the party; also Mr. Thrush for having the Dunster bells ready, and the Vicar and churchwardens of St. Michael's, Minehead, and St. George's, Dunster, for the use of the bells.

ROMNEY MARSH GUILD OUTING.

The members of the Romney Marsh and District Guild visited Chatham and Rochester for their annual outing on Saturday, August 13th, the journey being made by motor charabanc. Arriving at St. Mary's, Chatham, at 10.30, they were kindly met by Mr. W. Haigh, of Gillingham, who acted as pilot for the day. After an hour's ringing at this church, the party went on to Gillingham for another hour's ringing in various methods. After lunch, the meeting-place was Frindsbury to test the new peal of eight, by Mr. A. Bowell, of Ipswich. The tone and 'go' were satisfactory, and another hour's ringing was enjoyed before proceeding to St. Margaret's, Rochester, but the ringing here was cut short by the late arrival of the prominent members. At 4.30 all sat down to a really good tea at the Tea-Table Cafe, High Street, the party numbering 43. At 5.30 the pilot conducted the visitors to the Cathedral tower, and the new peal of ten by the Croydon foundry were soon set going, and gave great pleasure to all the party. The three lady ringers seemed to be quite at home on the Cathedral ten.

Later the party heard, from terra firma, a well-struck touch of Stedman Caters rung by London ringers and the Cathedral band. At 8.30 p.m. the return journey was begun, and with a brief stop at Maidstone home was safely reached, after a perfect day. The party desire to thank Messrs. Haigh, Allen and Kidd and all others who assisted in making the day so thoroughly enjoyable.

BIRTHDAYS CELEBRATED.

At St. Nicholas' Church, Deptford, on Tuesday, August 23rd, 1921, a quarter-peal of Oxford Bob Triples (1,260 changes), in 44 mins.: John W. Billing 1, David F. Ward 2, George W. Harris 3, Thomas Easterby 4, Richard Riches 5, William H. Daynes 6, George H. Daynes 7, William H. Billing 8.

Rung as a birthday compliment to Mrs. Stretton, mother of the ringer of the tenor, and grandmother of the ringer of the treble, and who attained the ripe old age of 87 years on this day.

On Sunday, August 23th, 1921, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Oxford Bob Triples, in 41 mins.: John W. Billing 1, David F. Ward 2, Frederick Barnes 3, George W. Harris 4, Richard Riches 5, William H. Daynes 6, George H. Daynes 7, William H. Billing 8.

Rung as a birthday compliment to Mrs. T. Daynes, mother of the ringer of the seventh, and grandmother of the ringer of the sixth, and who attained the age of 82 years on this day.

Both the quarter-peals were composed and conducted by G. H. Daynes, and, with the exception of Mr. Easterby (St. John's, Deptford), were rung by the local band, with their hearty congratulations.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Among the very early peals of Grandsire Triples was one recorded at St. Mary's, Coddendam, Suffolk, where lived Theodore Ecclestone, who had an estate at Coddendam, and gave the bells at his parish church, and also the peal of ten at Stonham Aspall. The 180th anniversary of the peal at Coddendam occurs to-morrow.

The ancient tablet records: 'On Thursday, September ye 10th, 1741, was rung in this steeple by ye Crowfield Society of Ringers a compleat peal of five thousand and forty of Gathrine's Triples, being the first true peal that ever was pricked with two doubles only, it was completed in three hours and seven minutes by ye men whose names are under-written: Theodore Ecclestone, Esq., 1, Daniel Horsham 2, John Foster 3, Samuel Cullum 4, Samuel Keeble 5, John Leggett 6, Stephen Garnham 7, Samuel Anderson 8. John Foster call'd the bobs.'

It is assumed that this peal was Garthou's peal of Grandsire Triples, and the same Jphn Foster (or a namesake) called the peal again at St. Peter-at-Archies, Lincoln, in the year 1756, when it was described in the records as 'Catharan's Tripples.'

On Sept. 9th, 1750, a peal of Bob Triples, conducted by John Holt, was rung at St. George's, Southwark; and Sunday next is the anniversary of the first peal of Double Norwich in Cheshire, which was rung at Christleton in 1844.

Eighty-one years ago next Monday, viz, on Sept. 12th, 1840, Charles Henry Hattersley was born at Sheffield.

The Dean of Chester, in an appeal, states that only by making a big effort will Chester Cathedral be restored. There are big cracks and deteriorating stone in the edifice. The bells can no longer be rung, as the tower will not stand the strain. There is much that must be done at once, and it is a case of everyone helping by giving a little, because few can help largely.

Prior to 1867 there were five bells at Chester Cathedral believed to have been cast originally by Henry Oldfield, of Nottingham, in 1608. In 1867 Messrs. Warner added three trebles. The present eight have a tenor of 29 cwt.

Clever as Mr. A. H. Pulling is in ringing on handbells, he has not yet aspired to ringing two pairs at once, and the ringer of 7-8 in the second peal at Surfleet on August 21st was Walter Ayre.

A PEAL ATTEMPT IN VANCOUVER. VISIT OF AN OLD GUILDFORD RINGER.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It is now quite a while since I have been able to give you any news of our doings here, and the following may be of some interest to you and readers of 'The Ringing World.' You may imagine my surprise and delight in receiving a visit from no less a person than Mr. Charles Willshire, senr., from Montreal, Quebec (formerly of Guildford, Surrey), who was spending his vacation in a tour through the Rockies. He arrived in Vancouver on Friday last (August 5th). I at once had the wires hot, summoning the best ringers I could reach, for a ring for Sunday evening, when we had a very satisfactory and pleasant time. Amongst other touches was one of 572 Grandsire Triples by the following: A. C. Limpus 1, Charles Willshire, senr. (conductor), 2, John Dunaway 3, W. R. Warner 4, George W. Foster 5, John C. Dearlove 6, H. Whiteman 7, John Parkinson 8. Indeed, so satisfactory was the ringing that it was decided to ask permission for a peal attempt on Monday. This was promptly given by Father O'Boyle, and at about 10.15 a.m. we started for a peal of Grandsire Triples. All went very well, and we had good striking for 1 hour and 17 minutes, when Father O'Boyle reluctantly had to break his way in and request us to stop, on account of sickness in an hotel opposite.

Well, I suppose it just couldn't be helped, but we all felt a keen disappointment, as everyone was fully confident that the peal was ours could we have been left to ourselves. However, it will probably be of interest to those at home, and more particularly to the Guildford ringers, to know that those taking part were as follows: A. C. Limpus 1, G. W. Foster 2, Charles Willshire, senr., 3, John Parkinson 4, William Sampson 5, John C. Dearlove 6, Herbert Whiteman 7, Farrington Jones 8. Mr. Willshire was conductor, and started for Holt's Original. On taking his leave for Montreal, on Monday evening, Mr. Willshire told me he had enjoyed his trip out here past all expectations, and he has all but promised to return next summer, when it is hoped we may capture the first peal of Stedman away from the British Isles.—Yours very truly,

A. C. LIMPUS.

THE BAILEYS OF LEISTON.

UNIQUE RECORD OF A WONDERFUL FAMILY.

The unique record set up by that family of talented ringers, the brothers Bailey, of Leiston, Suffolk, has been crowned by the peal of Stedman Cinques rung by six of them on handbells and recorded last week. For several years they monopolise the tower, where there is a united and progressive company of some sixteen members. Indeed, we think it probable that the Leiston company practise more Surprise methods than any local eight-bell band in the country.

We give here a photograph of the six brothers who scored the peal of Stedman Cinques on August 25th, and it is noteworthy that both Allen and Frederick have rung Cinques 'in hand' before they have rung Triples.

have been steadily progressing, and our readers must have noticed how, one after the other, these brothers, as they grew up, were drawn into the Exercise. This alone is a remarkable thing, and it must be almost unique in itself for eight brothers to take enthusiastically to the same pastime. The first 'family affair' was a peal of Bob Major on tower bells about eight years ago. Since then, in addition to the 44 handbell peals which they have rung, there have been peals of Double Norwich, Superlative Surprise and Stedman Triples on tower bells. These latter have been achieved by the six brothers who took part in the Stedman Cinques on handbells, with the help of Leonard and Wilfred. Providing nothing occurs to break this family circle, we may look for still further peals by the eight brothers. It must be added, however, that while forming the backbone of the Leiston band, they do not

CHORLEY RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, August 6th, the ringers from the Chorley Parish Church, along with their wives, and a few friends from Standish, held their annual outing by charabanc to Lytham and Bispham. Starting from the Town Hall, Lytham was reached about 3 o'clock, when the bells of the Parish Church were soon going merrily to Grandsire Triples and Bob Major, and successfully brought round. The party continued the journey through leafy Lytham, St. Anne's, and breezy Blackpool, on to Bispham, which was reached shortly before 5 o'clock. Tea had been arranged at Ivy Cottage. After tea, Mr. J. Booth and his daughter from Standish gave a few handbell selections, which were much appreciated.

The musical ring of Bispham Church were soon going to Grandsire and Bob Major, and successfully brought round. Interest was shown in the arrangement on the clappers by Mears and Stainbank, which are a very good improvement. The return journey commenced at eight o'clock, Chorley being reached at 10.30, after a very enjoyable afternoon.

The thanks of all are due to the Vicar and ringers of both churches for permission to ring, and for having everything ready for us.

EAST SUFFOLK RINGERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Dennis, in his letter of the 26th August, wishes that the Norwich and Ipswich Association should release East Suffolk. Does he think we are retained against our wishes; if so, he is greatly mistaken, as by far the greater majority of East Suffolk ringers wish to remain connected with the association they helped to raise to its present position, and what is more, they will not be cut away just because the diocese is altered.—Yours truly,

Stoke Ash, Eye. ERNEST F. POPPY.

DEATH OF MR. HARRY FLANDERS. PASSING OF A WELL-KNOWN LONDON RINGER.

It is with the utmost regret that we announce the death of Mr. Harry Flanders, of West Ham, at the comparatively early age of 55 years. The deceased had suffered from heart trouble for some time past, which caused him to give up peal ringing, his last peal having been rung on August 2nd, 1920, when he almost collapsed near the end. He was, however, a regular attendant at West Ham church, and as late as Sunday, August 14th, he was in his place, and rang for evening service. He was, however, far from well, and on the following Wednesday had to cease work. He took to his bed on the following Friday, and passed peacefully away on Tuesday, August 23rd.

The funeral took place at West Ham Cemetery on Monday week, the first part of the service being read at West Ham Church. Owing to the time of the funeral, few ringers were able to be present, but the following were able to attend to pay a last tribute of respect: Messrs. W. Pye, G. R. Pye, W. Miller, J. Moule, E. J. Butler, H. Torble, A. J. Baynes and O. Smith. A large number of wreaths, including a handsome one from the West Ham and Leytonstone ringers, was placed on the grave, and a course of Grandsire Triples was rung over the grave by the following: J. Moule 1-2, W. Pye 3-4, G. R. Pye 5-6, W. Miller 7-8.

In the evening, at West Ham, the usual 'whole pull and stand' was rung with the bells half-muffled, followed by four courses Stedman Caters and a course of Treble Bob Royal, the following taking part: A. J. Neale, A. Scambler, W. Theobald, W. Miller, J. Scholes, A. Pryor, C. Smith, E. Andrews, A. J. Baynes, G. Potter, G. Hayden, E. Wightman, R. Sanders and W. Pye.

Until ill-health prevented him, there were few more enthusiastic ringers than Harry Flanders, as his peal record proves. His employment was not one of the most favourable for peal ringing, but he was one of those who believed that where there is a will there is always a way, and the times that he failed to turn up could be counted on the fingers of one hand. Among his peal records are some notable achievements, and he once, in company of the Brothers Pye and I. G. Shade travelled from London to Guildford and rang three peals in a day. Among the societies to which he belonged were the Middlesex Association, with which he rang the majority of his peals; the Essex Association, the Kent County Association, the Norwich and Ipswich Association, the Hertford County Association, and the Royal Cumberland Youths. The list of his peal performances is as follows:—

RINGER UNDER NINE VICARS.

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM LAW, KILDWICK.

Mr. William Law, one of the oldest inhabitants of Kildwick, Yorks, passed away on Wednesday, August 17th, after a long illness, at the advanced age of 79 years. Mr. Law had been the village blacksmith for over 50 years, having worked at the forge up to a few years ago. At the time of his death he was one of the bell ringers at 'the Lang Kirk o' Craven,' and up to fairly recently had never missed taking his place in the belfry on Sundays. He had been a ringer at Kildwick Church under nine vicars, and for a period of about sixty years, and was one of the oldest ringers in the Keighley district.

The deceased was also at the time of his death one of the trustees of the local Lodge of the Manchester Unity of Oddfellows, a position he had held for a very considerable number of years. He had lived in the village practically the whole of his life, and was a most interesting personality. By reason of his occupation he was known to all in the village, old and young alike, and was highly respected, being a man of the highest integrity. He belonged to the old generation of sturdy Yorkshire characters, of which there are unfortunately few survivors.

At the funeral on Saturday, August 20th, the coffin was borne to the churchyard by the local ringers. After the funeral several muffled touches were rung, as well as on the following day for both services, as a last token of respect to an old veteran.

The deceased's only son, Mr. Charles Law, is at the present time leader of the ringers at Kildwick, where he has been a ringer about thirty years.

WEDDING BELLS.

On Thursday, August 25th, at Yateley, Hants, an attempt was made for a peal of Bob Major, in honour of the wedding of the daughter of Mr. Barzillai Hawkins, a well-known ringer of this district, who has done a great deal to further interest in change ringing. The peal unfortunately, however, came to grief, and time was too short for a second attempt, but not to be outdone, the ringers scored a quarter-peal of Bob Major: Miss Robinson (Wokingham), longest length of Major, 1, Miss B. M. Mills (Aldershot) 2, W. Haynes (Farnborough) 3, Miss H. F. Mills (Aldershot) 4, F. Nye (Bagshot) 5, G. Miles (Camberley) 6, S. Riddle (Yateley) 7, Sergt. Gilbert, R.E. (conductor), 8.

TAPPED PEALS.

The concern of the Exercise in the question of peals tapped on handbells has risen above the phase in which these achievements are to be regarded as "freak" performances of merely passing interest. Hardly a week goes by but Mr. Morris accomplishes one or more of these peals, and both at the Central Council and at the Essex Association annual meeting the question of including them in the official records has been raised. The Council, or rather the Peals Analysis Committee, has decided not to give them official recognition; the Essex Association recorded the first of Mr. Morris's peals "as an interesting performance," but none of the succeeding peals have been included. In the discussion which has taken place in our columns some very interesting points have been raised, and there seems to be a general consensus of opinion that Mr. Morris's peals cannot be classed with ordinary handbell peals.

Whatever technicalities may stand in the way of giving them a place in the official records, no one can for a moment gainsay the fact that, by whatever system these peals are accomplished, they are a far greater performance than the ringing of a pair of handbells to a peal. The mental concentration alone is stupendous, whether the performer accomplishes his object by transposing the figures as he goes, by merely coursing the bells, or by actually following the method separately with each.

Whether such performances promote the art of change ringing may be a question of opinion, for men who are capable of such achievements are rare, and much depends upon the use to which they put their talents. If, for instance, Mr. Morris can turn his knowledge, gained by tapping peals, to use in instructing ringers in the methods which he taps, then undoubtedly his efforts promote the art. If, however, his system has no relation to change ringing as the ordinary ringer knows it, and cannot be utilised in teaching others, then the opposite view must prevail. The only other question that enters into the matter is as to whether the peals are "rung." It cannot be said that they are, if by ringing we mean sounded by their own clappers, but this would be a physical impossibility for one man, and the question of official recognition ought not to be governed, we think, by this alone. New departures cannot always be judged on old standards, and in ringing we must be prepared to march with the times. These peals by Mr. Morris are great achievements. They are unique, and therefore thought to be freakish; but they ought not to be ruled out merely on that account, or because they are performances beyond the capacity of the majority of ringers.

LUTON RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, August 27th, by the kindness of the Vicar and churchwardens, the Luton ringers, 15 in number, had their annual outing in delightful weather. A motor charabanc left at 9 a.m. for Woburn, via Dunstable and Hockerilffe, which was reached at 10 o'clock. The ringers were met by Mr. Cyril Herbert, and joined later by his brother Ernest, sons of that veteran, Mr. Charles Herbert, one of the founders of the Beds Association, and a vice-president. Woburn tower contains a peal of eight fine-toned bells by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and ringing was indulged in for upwards of an hour, the methods being Stedman Triples, Double Norwich Major, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major. The journey was then resumed, by way of Woburn Sands, Aspley Guise, Husborne Crawley, Ridgmont, Marston and Bedford, to St. Neots, which was reached at 1 p.m. A hot lunch was partaken of at the New Inn. The town has a beautiful old church, with a fine tower, which contains a grand peal of eight bells, with tenor about 29 cwt. Unfortunately the bells were unavailable, owing to illness of the Vicar (the Ven. Archdeacon T. Hodgson), and for some unexplained reason, which was a great disappointment to the visitors. After a look round this ancient town, the motor was again boarded for Biggleswade, and its handy ring of eight (tenor 13½ cwt.) recently rebung by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon. A meat tea was partaken of at the Royal Oak Hotel, after which the tower was visited, and the ringers were met by Mr. C. Pratt and a few friends. The bells were set going for about two hours to Stedman and Grandsire Triples, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major. At 8 o'clock a start was made for home, via Baldock, the Garden City of Letchworth, Hitchin, and Offley, Luton being reached at 10 p.m., after a very enjoyable trip. The ringers wish to thank the incumbents, the Rev. B. V. White, of Woburn, and the Rev. G. C. Rolfe of Biggleswade, for the use of the bells; also brother ringers for their many kindnesses during the pleasant day's outing.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD.

The eleventh annual ringing week took place last week in Northamptonshire, when thirteen members met, and the bells of the following parish churches were rung, viz.: Burton Latimer, Rothwell, Desborough, Rushton, Kettering, Titchmarsh, Thrapston, Raunds; Northampton St. Giles, Holy Sepulchre, St. Peter, All Saints, St. Edmund; Earls Barton, Irthlingborough, Higham Ferrers, Finedon, and Isham. The number of towers visited—viz., eighteen—constitutes a record for the Guild week; and, although peals were not the main item on the programme, five were attempted, and three successfully accomplished.

EAST SUFFOLK RINGERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It is not necessary to stress the word 'release' as Mr. Poppy does. The difficulty is that the Ely Association has withdrawn from all its former territory that lies in the new diocese, while the Norwich Association has not.

Undoubtedly we all in East Suffolk do want, as Mr. Poppy says, to remain connected with our old association. But there are a great many who feel they ought to support an association connected with their new diocese. In the case of the clergy it is almost imperative that we must join an association which should become a real diocesan one, and not diocesan in name only.

What we are trying to arrange, is a scheme that will combine these, at present, conflicting interests. Of course they would cease to be conflicting if the two associations would agree to work side by side in East Suffolk, so that we could belong to both associations if we liked. But so far the Norwich Association does not seem inclined to 'release' its members, by allowing them to do this.—Yours, etc.,

HERBERT DRAKE.

FULBOURNE.—Ely Diocesan Association.—On August 8th, at St. Vigor, 1,280 Kent Treble Bob Major, in 54 mins.: B. Buttress 1, Miss V. Shorter 2, Miss N. Shorter 3, A. Page 4, A. E. Austin 5, W. H. J. NEW BELLS AT COALPIT HEATH.

On Sunday evening, Sept. 4th, four new bells, being part of a ring of six, for which the order has been given to Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, were dedicated at Coalpit Heath by the Vicar of the parish, in the presence of a very large congregation. The tenor weighs just over 10 cwt., and is inscribed 'For Victory and for Peace after War, 1914-1919. E. J. Phillips, M.A., Vicar; A. S. Newman, G. E. Newman, churchwardens. Cast 1921.'

The preacher at the dedication service was the Rev. M. E. Thorold, M.A., Vicar of S. Philip's, Bristol, a past Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association.

After service, the first touch on the bells was rung by the officials of the association, Messrs. H. T. Howell (Master), E. Guise (hon. sec.), G. Condiek, junr. (hon. peal secretary), and P. C. Williams (hon. secretary of the Bristol Branch). The tone and 'go' of the bells were pronounced excellent, and there were a large number of delighted listeners in the churchyard and in the vicarage garden, some of whom, at least, were fired with a new enthusiasm to get the ring of six completed with the least possible delay.

BISHOPSGATE PEAL BOARD UNVEILED.

ST. BOTOLPH'S RINGER-CHURCHWARDEN.

A very interesting ceremony recently took place in the belfry of St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, London, where a board recording a peal rung on these bells was unveiled by Mr. Churchwarden A. C. Stanley Stone, C.C. The peal was rung on St. Thomas' Day, December 21st, 1920, to celebrate the return to office of the common councilmen for Bishopsgate, and also as a birthday compliment to the esteemed member of the ward, Mr. H. Weber Brown, B.A., C.C. It also had reference to the connection of Mr. T. Walker with the churchwardenship. The board records the name of Mr. Churchwarden Walker as one of the ringers of the peal, and he is most probably the first churchwarden of St. Botolph's to have achieved this distinction as a ringer while in office.

The ceremony, which was a simple one, opened with prayer by the Rev. G. A. S. Bullock, M.A., B.D. After Mr. Churchwarden Walker had explained the occasion of the peal, Mr. Churchwarden Stanley Stone unveiled the board, and in the course of a brief address, said that as bell ringing represented the secular side of the church service, it was only fitting that one of the civil officers should perform the ceremony. At the present time they might one and all take a lesson from the way in which 'a band' of bell ringers cordially pulled together to achieve their aim. The whole world, England included, was at present like a peal of bells cracked and out of tune. If a better state of things was to be brought about all classes should co-operate, as did the bell ringers. The board records the peal of Grand sire Triples by the Ancient Society of College Youths, conducted by W. A. Alps.

Mr. A. E. Pridmore, a past churchwarden at Bishopsgate, in a short and interesting speech, said he had taken an interest in ringing ever since his boyhood days, when his father used to take him to listen to the bells of his native city of Coventry, and it was always a pleasure to him when in office to do all he could to make the ringers comfortable in every way. Apart from its church and ceremonial uses, bell ringing was a useful and healthy art and hobby.

Mr. W. A. Alps, the conductor of the peal, in a few words, expressed the thanks of the ringers to the past and present churchwardens for the great interest they had always taken in ringers and ringing generally.

The company present included a number of ringers, members of the congregation, and Church Council, including the ringers' dear old friend, Sir Edward Zohrab, Bart.

After a short touch on the bells, a move was made to the Parish Room, where the churchwardens had provided light refreshments, and a delightful hour or two were spent in social intercourse.

During the evening, a course of London and a course of Bristol were rung upon the tower bells, touches of Stedman Caters and Stedman Triples and tunes on the handbells. One of the ringers very ably presided at the piano, and several also displayed their vocal abilities.

On the motion of Mr. Alps, seconded by Mr. E. Fenn, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the churchwardens and Councillor Weber Brown for their generous hospitality, which everyone present enjoyed very much.

Mr. A. S. Pettett moved that a hearty vote of thanks be given to the pianist and others who had given them such a musical treat.—This was seconded by Mr. Alps, and carried, and Mr. Nightingale responded on behalf of his friends and himself.

PRESENTATION TO WREXHAM RINGERS. FIRST TEN BELL PEAL IN SCOTLAND RECALLED.

The ringers of Wrexham Parish Church have just been made the recipients of a valuable gift, which recalls the first peal on ten bells in Scotland. On August 31st, 1886, a party of College Youths and members of the Wrexham Society visited St. Mary's Cathedral, Edinburgh, and rang 5,003 Grandsire Caters, in 3 hrs. 29 mins. The members who made the visit were Messrs. Joseph Field, Oxford; Richard W. Evans, Wrexham; Alfred Thomas, Birmingham; Jos. Williams, Wrexham; John Ellis, Wrexham; Francis E. Dawe, London; Edward Rowland, Wrexham; Thomas Newell, Wrexham; Edward Evans, Wrexham, and James Kendrick, Wrexham.

The peal was composed by Mr. Henry Johnson, Birmingham, and conducted by Mr. F. E. Dawe.

To commemorate that occasion, Mr. Richard Evans, Wrexham, had an illuminated record designed, and in the centre of the address was placed a group photograph of the performers, only four of whom survive.

Dr. Harry Evans, a son of the late Mr. Richard Evans, has now presented the record to the ringers of Wrexham Parish Church, and it is a coincidence that the presentation corresponds with the 50th year, during which Mr. E. Rowland, a member of the party, has been a bell ringer at the Parish Church. A plate has been attached to the address to mark the occasion of the presentation, and it will now be hung in the belfry at the church.

MR. H. TORBLE'S ILLNESS.

Mr. H. Torble, of Leytonstone, who has been ill for twelve months, is still unable to follow his employment. The fund which has been started to give him a helping hand will be closed on Sept. 29th, and all who are able to do so are invited to send subscriptions to Mr. G. Hayden, 29, Maryland Street, Stratford, E.15, before that date. Amount already acknowledged, £5 1s. The following additional subscriptions have been received: W. E. Garrard (Kensington), 10s.; W. Davies, 2s. 6d.; F. Smith, 2s.; B. Foskott, 2s.; G. Card, 1s. 6d.; W. Bottrell, 1s.; T. Scarlett, 2s. 6d.; F. Cornford, 2s.; S. C. Knowles, 1s.; Freenslade, 6d.; F. G. P., 2s.; A. W. Coles, 2s. 6d.; C. S. Basden, 2s. 6d.; T. Monle, 2s.; C. Fenn, 2s.

BROMLEY, KENT.—At St. Luke's Church, Bromley Common, on August 22nd, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 45 mins.: J. Lyddiard 1, G. Durling 2, C. F. Keep 3, G. James 4, P. Spice 5, A. James 6, J. E. Keep (conductor) 7, G. Smith 8. The first quarter-peal at this church conducted by a member of the local band.

DEATH OF AN OLD ESSEX RINGER.

We regret to record the death, at the age of 89 years, of Mr. Elisha Radley, of Stisted, who passed away at his residence on August 23rd. The deceased had been a ringer at Stisted for over 40 years, and for upwards of 30 years he was a member of the Essex Association. He was an excellent ringer and conductor on six bells. He took part in the three peals rung on Stisted bells, two of which he conducted. He was a safe ringer of Major, and during a short time he resided in Bocking he regularly rang there on the ring of eight.

The funeral took place on the following Friday. The Rev. E. M. Farrar (Rector) officiated, and the chief mourners were the widow and several relatives. The deceased had no family. The bearers were his fellow ringers. There were also present: Mr. G. T. Bartram, J.P., C.C., Mr. C. H. Howard (Master of the Essex Association), Mr. H. F. Cooper (District Master), Mr. W. H. Hammond (Braintree), Mr. H. Fox representing Mr. Lionel Faudel Phillips, for whom the deceased last worked, and representatives of all classes in the village.

The Rector, in an address at the graveside, said the late Mr. Radley was a man of sterling character, and was held in the highest esteem in the parish. His loss would be keenly felt. Not only did he ring week by week the bells to summon the parishioners to worship, but he was a regular attendant himself at the services, and was, in many respects, a pattern man for the village.

Immediately after the service, Grandsire Doubles were rung on the bells, with the clappers half-muffled, and in the evening 720 Bob Minor, 720 Oxford Treble Bob and two 360's Bob Minor were rung, the following taking part: F. Clayton (Earls Colne), A. Saunders and O. Laver (Greensted Green), H. Redgwell (Rayne), A. Shufflebotham and F. Ely (Braintree), B. Ardley, A. Saunders, C. Duncombe, G. Chaplin and H. F. Cooper (Stisted), conducted by H. F. Cooper and A. Shufflebotham. On Sunday, August 28th, the bells were again muffled for evensong, the ringing including 720 Bob Minor: B. Ardley 1, O. Laver 2, A. Shufflebotham 3, G. Chaplin 4, H. Redgwell 5, H. F. Cooper (conductor) 6; and after service, with the bells open, 720 Oxford Treble Bob: A. Shufflebotham 1, O. Laver 2, G. F. Williams (conductor) 3, G. Chaplin 4, H. Redgwell 5, H. F. Cooper 6.

NORWICH.—On August 16th, at the Church of St. Peter Mancroft, 244 Stedman Cinques: C. E. Borrett 1, F. R. Copeman 2, G. Sparks 3, A. Rought 4, G. P. Burton 5, S. Thompson 6, F. J. Howchin 7, J. E. Burton 8, F. H. Knights 9, G. Mayers 10, G. H. Cross (conductor) 11, F. W. Curtis 12. Also 224 Superlative Surprise on the back eight: B. S. Thompson 1, G. Sparks 2, G. P. Burton 3, F. J. Howchin 4, O. E. Borrett 5, F. R. Copeman 6, J. E. Burton 7, G. H. Cross 8. Tenor, 43 cwt. 1 qr.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

To-day is the anniversary of the first peal rung by the Society of St. Martin's Youths, Birmingham. This was a peal of Bob Major at St. Philip's, on Monday, September 16th, 1755.

On Sept. 22nd, 1826, that famous old College Youth, Matthew Wood, of Bethnal Green, was born. His grandfather, a Huguenot, was a silk manufacturer of Lyons, and when driven out of France, settled in Spitalfields, where, with his brother Samuel, he became interested in ringing. Matt. Wood's connection with ringing began in 1837, when he was taught by his father to handle a bell, and in 1845 he became a pupil of John Cox. For something like 75 years Matt. Wood was a ringer, and, as a striker, he has had but few equals.

Sept. 17th, 1896, was rung at Drayton by the Oxford Diocesan Guild, 11,328 London Surprise Major—the record length at that time.

St. John the Baptist's, Cirencester, where a peal was rung on Sept. 6th, was one of the earliest churches in the country to possess a peal of twelve bells. York Minster was the first, and Cirencester probably the second tower to have a ringing peal of twelve.

Practice night at St. Giles', Reading, is now Monday, at 7.30.

Ten peals on tower bells, nine of them in Surprise Methods (viz., two each of Bristol, Superlative and Cambridge, and three of London), and a peal of Stedman Triples were the result of the annual ringing week, organised by Mr. W. Pye, the field of operations being Leicestershire.

Thursday and Friday proved blank, Cambridge Royal being lost after 2½ hours' good ringing at Melton Mowbray on the first of these two days, while an error in conducting at one tower and the bad 'go' of the bells at another, frustrated Friday's peals. It will be noticed, however, from the reports which appear in the peal columns, that amends were made on Saturday when three peals were rung.

We miss this year a well-known name that has for long appeared in the records of these yearly excursions, that of Isaac G. Shade.

The peal at Brading, Isle of Wight, recorded last week, was not the first peal by the Misses Mills, but the first in the method.

Mr. William Jakeman, formerly a ringer at the Parish Church, Ashton-under-Lyne, and whose home is now in the United States, has been in England with his wife on a holiday. They sailed for America again on Saturday last, taking with them the best wishes of their many ringing friends. Mr. Jakeman took part in a peal of Grandsire Caters at his old tower on the Tuesday before he sailed.

Mr. C. H. Hattersley was born on September 12th, 1844. We stated last week that it was 1840, but this was through an error. Mr. F. Willey, a close companion of the late Sheffield worthy, writes to point out the mistake.

The peal of Grandsire Triples, rung at Thurstaston on Sept. 3rd, and reported in our last issue, should be credited to the Midland Counties Association.

The peal of Superlative Surprise at Loughborough on Sept. 3rd, was rung in 2 hours 47 minutes, and not 2 hours 57 minutes, as published last week.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

RESOLUTION OF CONFIDENCE IN SUFFOLK ASSOCIATION.

A district meeting was held at Fulbourn on Saturday, Sept. 3rd, but was attended by only a small number of ringers. In the absence of the Rector, the service was conducted by the Rev. C. R. Purser. Tea was provided at the Six Bells Inn, followed by the business meeting, Mr. J. Taylor, Cambridge, presiding.

Linton, a five-bell tower, was selected as the place of the next meeting, to be held about the end of October, it being many years since a meeting was held there.—Two new members were elected, and one election in the tower was confirmed.

Mr. T. E. Dennis read a letter he had received from Mr. S. H. Symonds, Lavenham, respecting the correspondence which had recently appeared in 'The Ringing World' regarding the new Suffolk Association, when the following resolution was passed: 'That this meeting is pleased to record its continued confidence in the Suffolk Diocesan Association, and heartily endorses their action in formulating a separate association, believing that it will be carried on in a spirit of true comradeship, and tend to increase rather than otherwise the forward movement which we all so much desire.'

The usual votes of thanks concluded the meeting.

A SOMERSET TRIP.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Bush, the Weston-super-Mare (Parish Church) bell ringers had a very enjoyable outing on August 11th, when they journeyed by charabanc to Taunton, where a short ring was enjoyed. After light refreshments the party proceeded to Milverton, where a longer halt was made, and further ringing indulged in which was greatly appreciated, as the bells were in excellent condition. Wiveliscombe was next visited, where a nice peal of six was found. From Wiveliscombe the return journey was made to Weston-super-Mare, which was reached safely after a most enjoyable day.

HONOUR FOR MR. J. S. PRITCHETT.

PRESIDING RINGING MASTER OF ST. MARTIN'S
GUILD APPOINTED RECORDER OF LINCOLN.

Mr. J. S. Pritchett, senior member of the Birmingham Bar, has been appointed Recorder of Lincoln in place of the late Mr. W. A. Metcalfe.

Mr. Pritchett, who has been senior member of the Birmingham Bar since the retirement from practice at the Bar of the late Mr. S. S. Dorsett, is the son of the late Mr. J. S. Pritchett, of King's Norton, and was born in 1856. He received his earlier education at King Edward's School, New Street, afterwards gaining an open mathematical scholarship at Balliol College, Oxford, where he took first-class mathematical honours and graduated B.A., subsequently proceeding to his M.A. and B.C.L. degrees.

MR. J. S. PRITCHETT.

Having entered as a student at the Inner Temple, he was called to the Bar in 1881, and joined the Midland Circuit. He occupied a seat on the Worcestershire County Council as a representative of King's Norton until the extension of the Birmingham boundaries in 1911, when he was elected an alderman of the city. He has deputised as Assistant Recorder at Birmingham Quarter Sessions on a number of occasions. During the war he was deputy chairman of the Appeal Tribunal under the Military Service Act.

Mr. Pritchett has been Presiding Ringing Master of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham for many years, and is an hon. member of the Central Council. His many ringing friends throughout the country will join his Birmingham brother ringers in congratulations on his new appointment.

Mr. Pritchett, with three of his brothers, learned to ring at King's Norton as a boy, and followed up the art at Oxford as a member of the University Guild. He became a member of St. Martin's Guild in 1874, and joined the College Youths in 1875. Although Mr. Pritchett has no record of his peals, he has rung well over a hundred, including all the standard methods; and, in addition, Superlative, Cambridge and London Surprise Major and Stedman Cinquses, in all of which methods he has conducted peals. It is Mr. Pritchett's boast that for nearly fifty years he has rung regularly for Sunday morning service at his parish church.

Mr. Pritchett is, as many of our readers know, a leading Freemason, having attained to the 33rd degree.

At King's Norton Church, on Sept. 5th, in honour of Alderman J. S. Pritchett's appointment as Recorder of Lincoln, a quarter-peal of Double Norwich Major was rung by: J. Betterton 1, H. Williams 2, J. Withers, Junr., 3, W. Ball 4, P. Laffin (conductor) 5, C. Webb 6, S. Grove 7, J. Withers 8.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

INTERESTING PRESENTATION BY WIRRAL BRANCH.

Saturday, Sept. 3rd, was a red-letter day in the history of the Wirral Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild, when the usual monthly meeting was held at Heswall, and was made the occasion of an interesting presentation to the highly-esteemed Rector, the Rev. Canon T. H. May, to mark his retirement from the parish after 31 years' ministry.

A large gathering was present to honour Canon May, and a most enjoyable afternoon was spent. Ringing commenced shortly after 3 o'clock, and the bells were kept going in various methods until 5.30, when a service was held in the church, at which the Rector officiated, and gave an interesting and most helpful address. Each of us, he said, had a part to play in God's great Universe, and unless each and everyone did his share the whole of God's plan for the perfecting of this world would be so much the longer delayed. Bell ringers were as much church workers as the choir or even the priest. He knew that the Chester Guild, and, in fact, all other Guilds and associations, had done good work in getting the importance of the ringers' efforts recognised, and every ringer in the country should belong to some Guild or another, and so further their work. Bell ringers had a special and unique gift given them by God, and they should dedicate it to God and His service.

After the service, close on 50 ringers and friends sat down to an excellent tea, following which the usual meeting was held, over which Mr. J. W. Milner (president of the branch) presided. He expressed his pleasure at being amongst the members once again, having travelled some thousands of miles since he last attended one of their meetings. He said how true it was that we all had obligations to fulfil, and parts to play. One of the most common mistakes, and yet the greatest that could be made, was to imagine that to have no work to do, or only intermittent work, was the height of happiness. The man who had no useful work was most miserable, and the greatest joy of life was not the gaining of money, but the satisfaction of doing what lay before us in as efficient a manner as possible. That made all work noble. Canon May had worked in that parish for quite a generation, and it was a matter of profound thankfulness that he had no sad thoughts at retiring, except the parting from so many friends. His kindness to the Guild was well known, and he had always been one of its best friends. It was always a pleasure to come to Heswall, for one was always sure of a hearty welcome. The little gifts they were asking him to accept—a silver bell-shaped inkstand and a fountain pen—would, he hoped, always remind him of the happy gatherings they had, by his kindness, held there.

The Chairman then handed the gifts to Canon May, amid hearty applause. The inscription on the inkstand read as follows: 'Presented to the Rev. T. H. May from the Wirral Branch, Chester Diocesan Guild of Bell Ringers, as a mark of esteem. September, 1921.'

In reply, Canon May, addressing the company as 'Fellow-workers in God's service,' said the gifts were a complete surprise to him, and he was pleased to see such a large number present at the last meeting he would attend as Rector of Heswall. That in itself he took as an appreciation of his work. What he had done for the Guild he would do for anyone, as he found the greatest happiness was in making others happy. He wished the Guild every success, and the members a happy life, remarking that to be a Christian meant true happiness, and not going about with a long face.

Mr. H. S. Brocklebank (secretary) said that as showing the respect and esteem in which the reverend gentleman was held, practically every tower in the branch had responded to the invitation to contribute. What Heswall lacked in the number of bells was amply compensated for by the heartiness with which the ringers were always received.

Afterwards the company dispersed, some walking through the well-kept nurseries of Mr. Newbrook (where tea had been served), and others wending their way back to the tower, where ringing was again indulged in, thus bringing to a close a most memorable and eventful day. The following towers were represented: Bebington, Bidston, Birkenhead, Capenhurst, Heswall, Liscard, Neston, Oxtou, Rock Ferry, Wallasey, West Kirby and Woodchurch.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the North-Eastern Division was held at Great Bentley on Saturday, August 27th. The secretary (Mr. H. T. Pye) presented his report, and a hearty vote of thanks to the Master (Mr. W. J. Nevard) for presiding, and for having everything ready, was proposed by Mr. Challis Winney.

The following towers were represented: Great Bromley, Thorrington, Mistley, Tendring, Ardleigh, Colchester, Maldon, Langham, Little Horkesley, Ipswich and Walkhamstow. Touches in the following methods were rung during the afternoon and evening: Cambridge Minor, Bob Major, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Graudsire and Stedman Triples.

Tea was kindly provided by Mr. Nevard.

EXTENSION OF LONDON SURPRISE.

TO FIND THE CENTRE OF A GIVEN CIRCLE.

(Euclid Book III., Proposition I.)

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I see that Mr. George Baker has been so kind as to produce a method that he calls the Minor of my method. He also says that he does not think that anyone will have the audacity to pretend that the two are not the same method.

Though perhaps lacking the audacity to pretend, I think I have the ability to prove that they are not.

Mr. Baker says that it only needs eight changes to prove that they are. I will now show that it only needs four more changes of London Surprise Royal to prove that they are not.

When I look at Mr. Baker's Minor figures, I find that he has selected the rows in which the treble is dodging in the middle place.

To be logical he must compare these four rows with the four in which the treble is dodging in the middle in my method. I give below I, Mr. Baker's method; II, London Surprise Minor; and III, my method, all with treble dodging in the Middle places. Your readers will form their own conclusions.

A PUZZLING SILENCE.

Dear Sir,—I think your idea of a tribunal a very excellent one, and should be adopted as soon as possible. A correspondent recently said, 'that he left it to the Exercise to judge, etc.' That is the crux of the whole matter, for the Exercise as a whole could not and would not judge such a highly technical problem. Surely here is a case where the Central Council would not be interfering with the domestic affairs of the associations, also a case which ought to be settled once and for all. There can only be one true extension from Major to Royal, or none if a correct extension is impossible. Why are some of the well-known experts who are connected with the Council so strangely silent on this important matter? It is very puzzling to the average ringer that they should sit tight and say nothing.—Yours faithfully,

Watton-le-Dale, Preston.

CLAIM TO ABSOLUTELY CORRECT METHODS.

Sir,—I wish to withdraw the extension to Royal which you published on September 2nd, and substitute in its place, absolutely true and correct extensions to Royal and Maximus.

As the Rev. E. B. James points out, London consists of two hunts, (a) a direct Treble Bob hunt, (b) a plain hunt backwards; these occur simultaneously on opposite sides of the treble's path, that is to say, if the bells above the treble are plain hunting backwards, the bells below the treble must Treble Bob hunt direct, and vice versa; it is just here where we have all gone astray.

The bells commence by plain hunting backward above the treble, and continue to do so until the 4th comes behind, when they change into the direct Treble Bob hunt.

In Royal the bells below the treble change from the Treble Bob hunt to the plain hunt at the same time as the bells above the treble make the reverse change, but in Maximus the bells below the treble doing Treble Bob work must wait until the treble has completed its dodge in 5-6 before they change over to plain hunting. Compare Minor and Major with treble in 3-4.

In Minor, Major and Royal, all the odd bells except the 3rd cross the treble's path, the 3rd in all cases is unable to pass the treble; when we come to Maximus the 9th, as well as the 3rd, is unable to pass the treble, and as a result the tenor is forced to cross the treble, dodging with it in 5-6, the 9th snaps and dodges in 7-8, crosses the treble in 6-7, and courses the tenor down to lead. Compare this with Minor where the 3rd is unable to pass the treble; as a result the tenor is forced to cross the treble, dodging with it 3-4, the 3rd snaps and dodges in 5-6, crosses the treble in 4-5, and courses the tenor down to lead.

The work of the 2nd, under the treble, in both Royal and Maximus is the key to the extension, in so far as the work under the treble is concerned; it consists of alternating treble bob hunt, and plain hunt backwards. When the 2nd is plain hunting backwards, the familiar London places must be made, next to, and under the treble, but when the 2nd is doing direct Treble Bob (that is, when it is coursing the treble) the places must be made, next to, and under the 2nd; and, further, when any other bell is coursing under the treble as in the case of the bell which turns the treble from behind, the places must be made next to and under that bell. This is why 4th's place from behind is made when the treble lies its whole pull behind. See Minor and Major where the above rule holds good.

The Rev. E. B. James speaks of the Oxford Extension and the Cambridge Extension; this is a third, and may be called the London Extension. Another example of it, is the way Yorkshire Surprise Major may be produced from Cambridge Surprise Minor, giving a method superior to Cambridge Surprise Major.

The work of 9 and T in Maximus calls for remark; there is no way of avoiding the long dodge which continues whilst the pivot bell hunts up to 9th's and down to lead.

N.B.—The pivot bell is the highest odd number, 5 in Minor, 7 in Major, etc. When the treble is leading, the treble bob bell makes 2nd's place, and when the treble lies its whole pull behind the pivot bell makes 4th's place from behind; it cannot get higher because of the bells dodging behind with the treble. The extension was first produced on 3rd September, 1921.

Yours faithfully,

WILLIAM TAYLOR.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Northern District was held at Royston on Saturday, September 3rd. The attendance was not so large as last year, but the ringing was better. The bells were made good use of, and some fine touches of Double Norwich Major, Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Treble Bob and Grandsire were brought home by members from Ponders End, Hitchin, Barley, Barking, and the local band. The Vicar being away on holiday the service was conducted by the Rev. W. H. Wright, who gave a stirring address. A capital tea was served at a neighbouring restaurant.

After the meeting a 'whip round' was made for the new treble bell for Barley, which resulted in handing to the treasurer a nice little sum of money.—Thanks were freely expressed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to the Rev. W. H. Wright for presiding and for his address, also to the organist for presiding at the instrument.—Ringing was continued until a late hour, one member ringing two of the tower bells to a touch of Stedman Triples.

PEAL TAPPING.

The letter which appears in another column from Mr. William Pye, criticising our article last week on the subject of peal tapping, calls for some reply. One hesitates to cross swords with an expert like Mr. Pye on any subject relating to ringing; but we think few will agree with him when he says our article was unfair, and that it was unjust to double-handed ringers. The only possible injustice to handbell ringers is in the expression that 'by whatever system these peals are accomplished they are a far greater performance than the ringing of a pair of handbells to a peal.' But is that statement unjust? It may be amusing to read that as one possible means of accomplishing a peal a performer may follow the work of all the bells. It may be an impossibility, and we have not said that this is the method adopted by Mr. Morris; we only state it as a self-evident fact that if this is the method it must be more difficult than following the work of two bells, and in that there is no injustice to double-handed ringers. Again, many ringers in double-handed ringing rely largely on coursing. It is no injustice to the man who can ring only one bell to say that it is more difficult to do this with two bells than with one, and it certainly must be more difficult to do it with eight than with two. Wherefore, then, the injustice?

Let us leave for the moment the peal of London and go back to peals in simpler methods, to the position where, in fact, it was when the Central Council and the Essex Association discussed it. There is no doubt that in peals of Plain Bob or Treble Bob there are many men who can follow the coursing order of all the bells throughout a complete peal. It is only another step to put this into practice, and do, as Mr. Morris has done, tap a peal. But this, surely, is a more difficult task with eight bells than with two. It is perfectly true, too, that none but ringers of exceptional ability can ring a pair of handbells to a peal of London Surprise, and Mr. Pye will be the first to agree that the required mental concentration, of which we spoke last week, is enormous. Because Mr. Morris, by whatever system he adopts, can concentrate on eight bells, and tap 5,000 changes (there is a question as to whether the composition he chose was true) without having first rung two bells to the method, it is no proof, as Mr. Pye suggests, that he has no exceptional ability. In our opinion it proves just the contrary.

As to the rest of our article, and we are only concerned for the moment with the justice of it, we believe we put both sides of the question very fairly. We did not say that the tapping of peals has any educational value, neither did we express the opinion that these peals should be officially recognised, nor did we say that tapping was ringing; but we do say that new departures must be viewed from new standpoints. The Essex Association has a perfect right to refuse to recognise the peals, the Central Council may continue to disregard them; but that does not alter the fact that they are great performances which, in the present generation at any rate, have been accomplished by not more than two or three individuals.

A TRIP THROUGH CHESHIRE.

On Saturday, Sept. 3rd, the ringers of Christ Church, West Didsbury, Manchester, had their annual picnic. Setting out at 1.45 p.m. in a 12-seater motor charabanc, they were soon moving very smoothly through (what is supposed to be) the healthiest, wealthiest and prettiest village in the county of cheeses—to wit, Alderley Edge, Cheshire. The objectives, however, were Lawton, Alsager and Barthomley, journeying first to the last-named place on the Staffordshire border. At Lawton, on the outward journey, two of the local ringers, Messrs. Rigby and Pierepoint, were picked up, and the 12-seater became somewhat overcrowded. However, the inconvenience was very much palliated by the two additional passengers acting as guides, philosophers and friends to the borderland. On arriving at Barthomley a very cordial greeting was extended by one of the local ringers, Mr. Allman, and Mr. Owen, churchwarden, and an hon. member of the Chester Guild. Three touches of Grandsire Triples were rung, Mr. Allman taking part in the ringings. Proceeding to Alsager, the visitors were welcomed by Mr. Cartwright (one of the local company). Grandsire, Stedman and Bob Major, in which Messrs. Rigby and Cartwright took part, were rung at this tower. At Lawton the party found a nice light peal of eight, and rang touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, the striking being excellent. This completed the day's ringing. Next the visitors accompanied Mr. Rigby to his residence for tea, and found the table very sumptuously laid.

After tea the best thanks of the party were accorded Mr. and Mrs. Rigby and their helpers for the splendid repast, and the company were entertained by young Master Davies, son of the conductor, who gave selections on the piano in most accomplished style. After games of billiards, etc., the party left for home at 9 p.m., but the journey was not without incident. After a few miles the lights failed, but a short stop enabled this to be rectified. Then some 20 miles from home a thorough breakdown occurred through the exhaust having gone wrong. It was an isolated part of the country, but fortunately within 50 yards was found a place 'within the meaning of the act,' where the party were enabled to refresh themselves. After about an hour's stoppage, and failing to be taken in tow with any passing motor the driver, with the aid of some of the excursionists, eventually got the motor in working order again, and the destination was reached after midnight, when the cars having ceased running, some of the members had a two and three miles' walk home. Verdict—a most enjoyable time, and all's well that ends well.

The ringers take this opportunity of tendering their thanks to the various authorities for the use of the bells, and to Messrs. Rigby, Pierepoint, Cartwright and Allman for having all in readiness, which added much to the pleasure of the party. W. B.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.A BELLS REPAIR FUND DISCUSSED.

On Thursday, September 8th, in glorious weather, the Dorchester Branch of the Salisbury Guild held the last of their summer meetings at Buckland-Newton, this being the first time that such a meeting had taken place in the village. Members from St. Peter's, Dorchester (including three lady ringers), Fordington, Upwey, and Wyke Regis, met outside St. Peter's Church, Dorchester, and were conveyed to Buckland by motor charabanc. The drive through the Prydal Valley and picturesque country was much enjoyed. On arriving at the church, the party were met by the Vicar (the Rev. E. S. Field) and the Master of the Guild (Major Hughes D'Aeth). The Vicar conducted the ringers over the interesting church, and pointed out its principal details, his kindness being much appreciated. The local band had also set the bells going to welcome the visitors. Afterwards some change ringing took place, and assistance in the art was given to local ringers. The Guild service was conducted in the church by the Vicar, and the address was given by the Rev. P. T. Knott (Rector of Pifehead-Neville, and former Dorset county wicket keeper), who took for his text, 1 Cor. xii., part of the 28th verse. Speaking as an old ringer, he touched on the lessons taught by the bells, and emphasised the fact that in his opinion every belfry door ought to be inside the church, and not outside, as it was in most cases.—Miss Field presided at the organ, and a ladies' choir was in attendance. The parishioners also turning up in good numbers.

At the kind invitation of the Vicar and Mrs. Field, tea was afterwards provided on the Vicarage lawn. The business meeting that followed was presided over by Major D'Aeth. Apologies for non-attendance were read from several members, including Mr. R. N. Dawes (Branch Chairman), the Revs. F. L. Edwards (general secretary), C. A. Phillips (Wimborne Branch Secretary), and Mr. J. T. Godwin. It was resolved to hold the next (annual) meeting at St. Peter's, Dorchester.

The Master spoke of the suggestion of the Central Council, that all collections at the meeting be set aside for the purpose of a bell and belfry repair fund, and an interesting discussion followed. The Branch Secretary promised to put the matter on the agenda for the annual meeting.

The Master also suggested that the secretary should get the service music transposed into a lower key.

Pleasure was expressed at the presence of the Rev. P. T. Knott and hearty votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar and Mrs. Field for their kindness in providing tea, etc., also to the organist and choir.

Following the meeting, the ringers again visited the tower, and practised Bob Minor, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles, and also assisted the local men through some 120's. Before departing, the Vicar and Mrs. Field invited the visitors to light refreshments at the Vicarage, for which they were heartily thanked. Although there were not quite the average number of members present, owing to two of the towers holding their harvest festival on the same day, the first meeting at Buckland was a great success.

DEVIZES BRANCH MEMORIAL TABLET.

A monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Seend on September 3rd, and was very well attended as will be seen from the following list of towers represented: Keevil, Seend, Warmminster, Devizes (St. John's and St. Mary's), Trowbridge, Holt, Southbroom, Swindon, Hilperton, Chippenham, Marlborough, Salisbury and Westbury. Thirty-one sat down to tea, which was kindly provided by the Rev. E. S. and Mrs. Adwry. At the business meeting which followed, the Hon. Secretary (Mr. H. F. Brown) reported that the Vicar of Bradford-on-Avon would like the branch to visit them on Oct. 8th instead of the 1st, as then he hoped to be there to welcome them. This was agreed to.

Mr. F. Green presented a sketch of the memorial tablet that it is proposed to put in St. John's tower, Devizes, to commemorate the muffled peal rung on February 28th, 1920, in sacred memory of the ringers who fell in the great war.—Mr. White proposed, and Mr. Greenland seconded, that Mr. Morgan's tablet, as shown on sketch, be accepted, and this was carried.

Mr. H. Brownlee West proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. and Mrs. Adwry for so kindly providing tea, and this was carried with acclamation.—A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells concluded the business.

The ringers then returned to the tower, where some good touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Bob Minor and Kent Treble Bob were rung.

GRIMSBY, LINCOLNSHIRE.—On Tuesday, August 30th, at St. Andrew's Church, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples, in 43 mins.: C. W. Taylor 1, F. Overton 2, J. W. Seamer (conductor) 3, R. S. Long 4, J. B. Budd 5, S. Bromfield 6, W. Bolton 7, A. B. Shepherd 8. Rung as a farewell to W. Bolton, who is returning to Cardiff, after 16 months in the neighbourhood of Grimsby. It was intended to go for a peal, but meeting short and late the above was rung by Mr. Shepherd kindly taking the tenor. First quarter in the method by treble and tenor ringers.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.THE LATE MR. CHARLES JACKSON.

A general meeting of the Yorkshire Association was held at Sheffield on Saturday, Sept. 10th. The fine peal of twelve at the Cathedral, together with the peals of eight at St. Maries', All Saints' and St. John's, were, by the courtesy of the respective clergy, available for ringing by the visitors, who much appreciated the genial reception accorded them at the various towers. Some 90 ringers met, and found a welcome acquisition to the ringing clergy, in the person of the Rev. B. F. Shepherd, who, having left that famous training ground of Cambridge, i.e., the Cambridge University Guild, has now taken up work in connection with Sheffield Cathedral. Stedman Caters and Cinques and Grandsire were tried with varying success at the Cathedral, while some enterprising adventurers who attempted to ring a touch of Grandsire at St. Maries', after a good lunch, had an attack of indigestion as the result of their exploit.

A bountiful tea was provided in the Wolstenholme Hall, after which the business meeting was held. The President (the Rev. C. C. Marshall) presided, supported by the principal officers of the association.

The following resolution was carried, the meeting rising with heads uncovered, as a last tribute of respect to the memory of the late Mr. C. Jackson, of Hull:—This meeting of the Yorkshire Association of Change Ringers desires to put on record its sense of the very great loss which the Yorkshire Association and Change Ringers in general have sustained by the death of Charles Jackson. His sterling character and engaging personality endeared him to all with whom he came in contact, and his great skill as a change ringer, and life-long interest in the Yorkshire Association makes his death a loss which will be widely felt. This meeting further desires to express its very sincere sympathy with Mrs. Jackson in her loss.

A vote of thanks to the various clergy of Sheffield for kindly granting the use of their bells was carried unanimously.—The Rev. B. F. Shepherd, who responded, extended a hearty greeting to the visitors, and thanked them for the felicitous remarks and good wishes expressed to him, and stated that he would at all times be prepared to do what he could to further the art.—A vote of thanks to the local company and the ladies who waited at the tea-tables was responded to by Messrs. W. Lomas and C. Harrison.—A hearty vote of thanks to the chairman brought the meeting to a close, after which many ringers visited Ranmoor, and indulged in ringing various methods until train time called a halt, while anecdotes of those giants of the Exercise, Messrs. W. Hudson, the famous Brothers Hattersley, with their more recent rivals, in the persons of Messrs. S. Thomas and W. Lomas, not forgetting the 'Knight of Chesterfield' will leave the visit to Sheffield a pleasant memory to all those who undertook the journey.

P. J. J.

THE LATE MR. D. BREARLEY'S MEMORIAL.

The quarterly meeting of the Southern District was held at Bolsterstone on Saturday, Sept. 17th, but was very poorly attended, only about 20 members being present. The towers represented were: All Saints', Sheffield; Rawmarsh, Wortley, Doncaster, Arksey, and the local company. The bells, a fine peal of eight (tenor 13 cwt.), were kept going in the Standard methods during the afternoon. At five o'clock, a short service was held in the beautifully decorated church, the harvest festival having been held on the preceding Sunday. Tea, generously provided by the local company, was followed by the business meeting, at which the Vicar (the Rev. J. H. Mason) took the chair. One new member, Miss K. Jackson, of Doncaster, was elected. No invitation having been received for the December meeting, it was left with the secretary to arrange.

Mr. Shaw, of Bolsterstone, made an appeal to the meeting to help to defray the cost of the memorial tablet erected to the memory of the late Mr. David Brearley, of Bolsterstone, who had done so much for the art of change ringing in the Southern Division of Yorkshire, and it was decided to circularise the various towers in the district in which the deceased gentleman was so well known, asking for subscriptions to this worthy object.—Mr. F. Willey kindly undertook to do this work, and to act as treasurer to the fund. It is hoped that a good response will be made to the appeal.

Further ringing, including a good touch of Double Norwich, took place until 8 o'clock, when the bells were lowered in peal.

ST. MARGARET'S GUILD, LEICESTER.

The second outing of the members of the above this season was held on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 10th, when Woodhouse Eaves was visited. A most enjoyable time was spent, and a party, numbering 27, partook of an excellent tea, friends being present from Kibworth, Anstey and Belgrave. Both before and after tea the bells of St. Paul's Church were rung to touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and Kent Minor. Handbells were also utilised, and tunes and several courses of Grandsire Triples rung. Pleasing news was conveyed to the company by Mr. J. Oldham, of the Loughborough bell foundry, who informed the party that the work of recasting and rehanging St. Margaret's bells is now going on apace, and hopes are entertained that they will be completed for ringing by the end of November.

TAPPED PEALS.

MR. MORRIS EXPLAINS HIS MODE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I claim your further indulgence to answer Mr. J. Hunt's letter of Sept. 9th, and also to say that a ringing friend has pointed out to me that the peal of London I tapped is false. The peal is published in Standard Methods, page 92, and to make quite sure that my friend is right, will someone be kind enough to examine it, and let us know the result? If it is so, I apologise for publishing it, and offer as an excuse that this was the only peal I had, and being in the book I thought it was quite all right. If any brother ringer will send me a true peal of London I should be glad, as I hope to include London in my next programme. My answer to Mr. Hunt's questions is 'Yes, with the exception of London, and that method I am tapping to try and get enough knowledge for the purpose of instructing, conducting, etc.'

It may not be out of place to describe how I learned it. First I learned the construction of the method, then I took a piece of paper, and wrote one to eight on it, and tried to read it. After having a good practice at this, I next learned the work of the fixed bells, treble and two tenors. Next I learned that each bell does its work in rotation. What the tenor does in one lead the 7th does in the next, and so on. Will my brother ringers compare the above method of learning with their own way, and tell me if they think I know enough of the method to enable me to ring it? I invite opinions. I see that my friend Mr. Keeble has made the statement that he knows the peal he rings by heart, line by line. Would he be kind enough to answer me a question? Has that knowledge ever been of any service to him, or his brother ringers at any time whilst he has been performing his duties as a ringer? I might also mention that the peal of London I tapped was purely an experimental one, to gain knowledge for more serious work later on.—Yours, etc.

ARTHUR T. MORRIS.

A REPLY TO MR. PYE.

Dear Sir,—In your issue of Sept. 9th, Mr. Pye has a personal dig at me; therefore, I feel I must have a word in reply. In the first place, I would inform Mr. Pye that I am not a 'peal tapper.' It is true that I tapped a peal of Minor several years ago, but I have done hardly any tapping since except for a few occasional 720's of various Surprise Methods. If a peal tapped by one person is not of any educational value, how much more would be derived from two persons ringing a peal with four handbells each? Mr. Pye also asks if Mr. Morris can ring four 'in hand' to London; also if I could take the other four. Now, I think Mr. Pye had better ask Mr. Morris, and volunteer to take the other four himself, as he is a London Surprise ringer, and I am not. He mentions that there is a system adopted for 'tapping.' Well, of course, there is a system. There is in most things. He says he has known persons to tap touches who could not ring two handbells to the method. Perhaps they were 'song' touches. I know ringers who ring London Surprise Major that cannot ring two handbells to a touch of Bob Major. I have always been able to ring two handbells to any method that I could tap.—Yours truly,

O. BROYD.

'UNJUST TO DOUBLE-HANDED RINGERS.

Sir,—I had no intention of entering into any further correspondence on this subject, but the unfair remarks made by you in your last issue compel me, as I consider they are unjust to double-handed ringers. You say a tapped peal is a greater performance than ringing a pair of bells; you amuse me when you say 'whether the performer does it by following the work of all the bells.' Now, sir, London double-handed has only been rung by men of exceptional ability, and never will be, and anyone who has rung a peal 'in hand' will ridicule the idea of a man being able to follow the work of all the bells. Now Mr. Morris admits that he does not possess sufficient knowledge to get his hand along, which is sufficient proof that, as a ringer, he does not possess any exceptional ability, yet he can tap London Surprise. Is not that sufficient proof that his system has no relation to change ringing? If he could tap by following the work of all the bells, there would be no need for him to educate himself to teach a band, and if he taps a hundred peals he will not make himself an expert ringer by doing so. As regards your remarks about advancing with the times, you cannot turn tapping into ringing; and whatever may have been the wrong doings of the Central Council in the past, they are quite justified in their action in not recording them.—Yours faithfully,

W. PYE.

LIVERPOOL.—On Thursday, August 11th, at the Church of St. James, West Derby, 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor: J. Hancock 1, G. W. Tembey 2, S. Taylor 3, W. Parry 4, G. R. Newton 5, W. Hargreaves 6.—On Friday, August 12th, at St. John's, Tuebrook, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 47 mins.: C. Davies 1, G. W. Tembey 2, J. Meldrum 3, G. R. Newton (conductor) 4, E. Bumphrey 5, T. Hammond, junr., 6, E. Cance 7, W. H. Rawsthorne 8. First quarter-peal for ringers of 2, 5 and tenor. Composed by H. W. Wilde. Arranged for Mr. Tembey, of Cumberland.

ESSEX RINGERS' VISIT TO SUFFOLK.

On Saturday, August 27th, the Chelmsford and District ringers paid a visit to Suffolk for their annual outing. Leaving Writtle at 7.30, and picking up the rest at Chelmsford, a fine run by a 'National' motor coach through Braintree, Hakstead, etc., brought them to Sudbury at 9 o'clock, where a halt was made, and refreshment obtained, as 'Dora' was unknown beyond the river dividing the counties of Essex and Suffolk. After a short stay, a move was made to Bury St. Edmunds, where Mr. A. E. Moore met the party, and conducted them to the Church of St. Mary. The fine ring of eight bells were soon going to Grandsire and Stedman Triples, the ringers taking their places according to pre-arranged programme, while others were viewing the beautiful church and abbey grounds. Proceeding to the Norman tower, Stedman and Grandsire Caters and Treble Bob Royd were brought round. The seventh and ninth bells provided, the ringers with a bit of exercise to obtain anything like accurate striking, otherwise the fine peal of ten was much enjoyed.

Dinner took place at the Rose and Crown Hotel, where 50 sat down to a fine spread provided by Host Gaskin. Accompanied by the brothers A. E. and H. Moore, the next move was to Lavenham where the visitors were met by Messrs. A. and S. H. Symonds. The bells being up ready for use they were set going to Double Norwich, Stedman and Grandsire. The church here was beautifully decorated for the harvest festival, and with the splendid carved work was very much admired. Tea was well served at the Swan Hotel by Host Ingram. Messrs. Moore and Symonds joining the party. Taking leave of the local men, the next move was to Sudbury, where at St. Gregory's Stedman and Grandsire Triples were rung, as per programme. These bells now hang in a perfect circle, and a great improvement has taken place with rehanging and tuning since the last visit of the party a few years ago. Proceeding to All Saints', accompanied by Mr. Scott, the local representative to finish the day's ringing, the visitors found that this fine heavy ring require a bit of handling, and offered the stiffest job of the day. However, short touches of Stedman, Grandsire and Treble Bob were brought round, and then leave had to be taken of friends who had met them. A fine ride back brought the excursionists to Chelmsford about 11 p.m., after a most successful and enjoyable day. The ringers would like to thank the incumbents of the various churches, through the medium of 'The Ringing World,' for kind permission readily granted for the use of their bells, and the various local men who met them for their great assistance in making arrangements.

CHELTENHAM & DISTRICT GUILD.

On Saturday, August 27th, the members of the above Guild left Cheltenham by charabanc for Chepstow, the first stop being at Newnham, where light refreshments were partaken of by the riverside. The journey was then continued to the White Lion, Chepstow, where lunch was provided.—The Chairman (Mr. Yeend, senr.) proposed the loyal toast, and selections on the handbells were rendered by Messrs. Humphries, Pates, Prickett, Brinkworth and Pendry. The party were welcomed by the churchwarden, in the absence of the Vicar. Mr. Prickett mentioned that it was 33 years since the Cheltenham Company were engaged to 'open' the bells, Mr. W. T. Pates being one of the band.

Afterwards the church bells were raised in peal, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman were brought round, Mr. Prickett, of Chepstow, and Messrs. J. W. Jones and H. Morgan, of Newport, taking part. The homeward journey was made through Monmouth and Ross, the scenery being much enjoyed.

The arrangements were in the hands of Mr. W. T. Pates (Master of the Cheltenham company), Mr. A. W. Humphries (secretary), Mr. W. Brinkworth (Master of the Guild), and Mr. T. Pendry (captain of the Prestbury company).

BARNESLEY & DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

A meeting was held at Wragby, near Wakefield, on Saturday, Sept. 10th. The church is situated in the park on Lord St. Oswald's property, and its history is very interesting, but space forbids a description. The surroundings are lovely, and the day being fine, visitors enjoyed the outing very much. Many methods of Minor were rung, of which Wragby was one, and others down to Bob Minor were practised. The members were from far and near, and about 30 sat down to an excellent tea. The Vicar (the Rev. G. E. Badeley, B.A.) being present; also the Rev. Dickinson, of Ryhill. These gentlemen manifested great interest in all the proceedings; and suffice it to say, all were very happy, and left with bright hopes of the next meeting, which is to be held at Wath on October 8th.

EAST HAGBOURNE, BERKS.—On Thursday, Sept. 15th, for the harvest thanksgiving service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), taken from 'The Ringing World': B. Corderoy (first quarter-peal) 1, T. East 2, W. E. Napper 3, J. Butler (conductor) 4, E. E. Napper 5, T. F. East 6, J. S. Napper 7, W. Goodenough 8.—On Sunday, Sept. 18th, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), composed by A. P. Wakley, and published in 'The Ringing World': B. Corderoy 1, A. H. Webb 2, W. J. Napper 3, J. Butler 4, W. E. Napper 5, T. East 6, T. F. East (first quarter-peal as conductor) 7, W. Goodenough 8.

MEMORIAL TO THE LATE REV. V. A. CRESWELL.
A HANDSOME PEAL TABLET.

On Sunday, Sept. 11th, the oak peal board, erected in the ringers' room of the Parish Church, Clun, Salop. to the memory of the late Rev. V. A. Creswell, M.A., formerly of Clun, was dedicated by the Rev. H. J. Scott, M.A., Ringing Master of Clun district. There was a good congregation, which included Mrs. Creswell and her two daughters, and other members of the Creswell family. The service was fully choral, and was intoned by the Vicar (the Rev. M. Lutener), special psalms and hymns being used.

The Rev. H. J. Scott was the preacher, and took for his text, St. Matthew xxvi. 13. He made special reference to Mr. Creswell's boyhood days in Clun, when he was a member of the choir, and when he was taught to ring; also to his work in the various parishes in which he resided, and his efforts to improve the ringing in the Hereford Diocese.

After the sermon, the choir, clergy, with Mr. W. Mead (churchwarden) formed a procession to the west end of the church, where the formal dedication took place, after which the procession returned to the chancel, where the service was concluded.

The memorial peal board is of solid oak to Early English design, and measures 11ft. long by 3ft. 4 inches high, and consists of five vertical panels enclosed with heavy moulded framing and mullions with bold sill and head pieces. The latter form a cornice with projecting coverings, in which the memorial inscription has been carved in relief in the solid: 'In loving memory of Vaughan Creswell, M.A., C.R., formerly of Clun, who died 15th March, 1919, at Yarkhill.' The panels are constructed of solid English oak, horizontal boards, with ledges screwed on behind. The records carved on the three centre panels have been spaced out so that no joint in the boarding cuts the incised wording. The centre panel records the peal rung by the St. George's Society, Clun to celebrate the Armistice, when Mr. Creswell rang the treble—the bell the family gave in memory of a deceased sister. This was the first peal on the new bells, and it also happened to be Mr. Creswell's last peal. Two other panels record peals by the Hereford Diocesan Guild and the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham rung during the same week, the two vacant panels being reserved for future special occasions.

The memorial board was especially designed by Mr. W. H. Fussell, Slough, and the work, executed by a local firm, forms a unique example of the arts and crafts of a country town. It is one of the finest peal records to be found in any ringing room.

GLOUCESTER & BRISTOL ASSOCIATION.

The quarterly meeting of the Bristol Branch of the above Association was held at Mangotsfield on Saturday last, Sept. 17th. The bells were raised in peal at 3 o'clock, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman were rung. A large assembly was present at the service, at which the Rev. F. R. H. Crews and the Rev. M. E. Thorold officiated. The former also gave the members an invitation to the schoolroom, where an excellent tea was ready, over 80 ringers and friends sitting down.

At the business meeting which followed, the Master (Mr. H. T. Howell), who presided, extended a very hearty welcome to the visitors, who included Miss E. Fisher, of St. Martin's, Dorking, Surrey.

The Rev. M. E. Thorold proposed the Rev. E. J. Philips, of Coalpit Heath, and Mr. J. G. Jefferies proposed the Rev. F. R. Henry Crews, of Mangotsfield, as hon. members, and they were unanimously elected. Ten performing members were also elected.

The places for the next two monthly meetings were fixed, viz., Wopley and Westerleigh, on October 15th, and Ainsbury and Almondsbury, on November 12th. The quarterly meeting is to take place at St. James' City, on December 10th.

The Rev. T. C. Fowler proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. F. R. H. Crews, and to the choir, organist and the ladies who kindly assisted to make the meeting such a success.—This was carried with applause.

The tower was again visited, and touches of Plain Bob, Grandsire, etc., terminated a very successful meeting. Seventeen towers were represented during the day.

REIGATE RINGERS VISIT KENT TOWERS.

On Saturday, Sept. 3rd, the Reigate society had their annual outing by charabanc, the members being accompanied by their wives and friends. The first call was at St. Mary's Church, Westerham, where a good touch of Grandsire Triples and Kent Treble Bob were rung. After viewing the neighbourhood, the party proceeded to St. Mary's, Chiddingstone, where other good touches were rung. Proceeding through picturesque country, the next place of call was St. John the Baptist's, Penshurst, where the party, 28 in number, sat down to lunch. Ringing at the parish church followed, and was watched with much interest by a great number of visitors to the castle grounds. Edenbridge was the next objective, and after tea an hour's ringing at the Church of SS. Peter and Paul was enjoyed. Reigate was again reached at 8.30, after a most enjoyable outing, the weather being all that could be wished.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. T. Conley, the oldest regular service ringer, celebrated his 85th birthday on September 14th. He has been a member of the belfry at St. Peter's, St. Albans, for a very great number of years.

The new peal of eight bells, given by a well-known South Wales Nonconformist, Mr. J. L. Morgau, of Brynderwen, Llandaff, to the Parish Church of Llanfagan were dedicated on September 7th. The ring, with tenor of 12½ cwt., were cast by Messrs. Taylor and Co., who have hung them in a rigid frame on steel girders, with fittings of all the latest type, including ball bearings.

East Ilsley, Berks, the birthplace of Mr. R. T. Hibbert, secretary of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, is to have its five bells tuned, augmented to eight, and hung in new fittings and framework by the Whitechapel Foundry.

The tenor at Bexhill Parish Church, Sussex, has just been rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank in their new type of ball bearings. The same firm are rehanging the six bells at Appleby, Lincs, with new gudgeons and bearings.

Next Thursday is the anniversary of the birth of William Shipway, who was born at Bath on Sept. 29th, 1760. He was apprenticed to a Mr. Hancock, a cabinet maker, who was sexton at the Abbey, and, through him, made the acquaintance of the ringers. He was able to ring Treble Bob Royal before he left the city for London, at the age of 24.

MR. JOSEPH BREARLEY RETIRES.

One of the best known personalities in campanological circles in Yorkshire, Mr. Joseph Brearley, has, we are informed, retired from taking any active part in campanology. Being close upon 80 years of age, this veteran ringer has completed some 60 years in the belfry tower, and during that period he has assisted in winning numerous prizes at contests in various towers, including Brighouse, Low Moor, Almondbury, Liversedge, Dewsbury, Sowerby, New Church, etc.

At that time, when Elland company were considered one of the best ringing teams in the West Riding, Elland had the good fortune to possess two or three companies of ringers, but at present it is very difficult to raise a full team, and unless some effort is made to enrol recruits the art of campanology in Elland may be a thing of the past. An effort is about to be made to have the bells in the tower (which are considered an excellent peal) overhauled. Mr. Brearley's many friends will wish him health and happiness in his retiring years.

SPALDWICK BELLS.

INCREASED TO SIX.

On Thursday evening, Sept. 8th, several ringers met at the Parish Church, Spaldwick, Hunts, to try the new peal of six bells installed by Mr. A. Howell, of Ipswich. A well-struck 720 of Oxford Treble Bob was rung by: L. Chapman (Rushden) 1, A. Smeathers (Rushden) 2, L. Wyman (Thrapston) 3, R. C. Loveday (Thrapston) 4, A. W. Clarke (Ipswich) 5, A. Howell (Ipswich), conductor, 6. Also a 300 Kent Treble Bob followed, with J. Rosa (Ipswich), the Rev. C. B. Woolley (Long Stanton) standing in. A 120 Stedman, and a course each of Cambridge Surprise and Double Oxford finished the ringing.

The band was then entertained to refreshments at the inn, and were joined by the Rector (the Rev. — Jones), and a very pleasant evening was spent.

The bells are hung in a new iron frame, a treble has been added to make the peal of six, with a tenor of 12½ cwt. in E. The work has been most satisfactorily carried out by Mr. Alfred Howell, to whom great credit is due for the 'go' and tone of the bells, which is excellent.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

A combined meeting of the Gainsborough and Grimsby districts was held at Kirton Lindsey on Saturday, Sept. 10th. There was only a very moderate attendance. The towers represented were: Gainsborough, Bigby, Grimsby and Kirton Lindsey. The bells were available during the afternoon and evening, and tea was provided in the Schoolroom, followed by the business meeting, at which the Rev. H. R. Garvey (Vicar of Kirton Lindsey) presided. He gave the visitors a very hearty welcome, and assured them that he should always be pleased to see them on any future occasion.

Votes of thanks to the church authorities for the use of the bells, to Mr. A. Davies for making the necessary arrangements, and to the ladies for the excellent tea provided and their services at the table, were unanimously passed and duly responded to.—Apologies of absence were received from Canon Hicks, Messingham; Rev. J. Barber, Stow; Messrs. W. H. Heyhoe, Grimsby; W. P. Henton (on behalf of the Stow company), and H. Haigh, Worksop.

THE LEICESTERSHIRE TOUR.

THE SUCCESSES, FAILURES AND HUMOUR OF A RINGING WEEK.

TOLD BY ONE OF THE PARTY.

The arrangement was made to meet at Leicester on September 3rd for a week's ringing in the hunting shire, and on that date the men began to foregather for the scalping of possible peals. The brothers Goffton, of Newcastle, came by train, as did also Tom Coles, of the 'Middlesex,' accompanied by the 'Varmer Giles' of the party, yecept W. J. Nevard. These men from town brought the startling news that the 'skipper' was driving the remainder of the London band down in his own car. It took some time to assimilate the fact that Bill Pye had joined the Jehus, and further, that he was timed to reach Leicester by 3.30 p.m. It is not known whether he has ulterior designs of 'putting it across' the Brooklands' records or not, but punctually to time our Son of Nimshi pulled up at the destination on the London Road, having done a hundred miles.

It was a most auspicious entry—what happened at the latter-end of the week, alas! must wait until the tale is told—and after a wash and tea at their hotel the band made their way to tackle the first obstacle on the programme, a peal of Bristol Surprise at St. John the Divine. The bells of the above church are in an iron frame, tenor 21 cwt. At 4.30 they went into changes, and in 3 hours 10 minutes, the first peal of Bristol rung in Leicester was an accomplished fact.

On Sunday a visit was made to Barwell for London Surprise, but after an hour's ringing the untucking of a rope end caused one of the band to set up. Monday was a great day. A peal of London was pulled off at Quorn, and this was followed up by one of Superlative at Mountsorrel. Then, being in advance of the clock, some went on to Loughborough, where a peal of Cambridge was added to the score. On Tuesday morning a meet was made at Belgrave St. Peter's, a left-handed ring, but an hour's ringing was enough to satisfy. The afternoon saw the men at St. Saviour's, a sonorous ring of 26 cwt. In 3-10 the first peal of London Surprise rung in Leicester was safely recorded.

The evening was spent at the Palace of Varieties, where our skipper got right in the limelight. One of the 'turns' consisted of the mechanical driving of motors by electric rays of light, and the audience was invited to send up a committee of investigation. We put up two, W. Pye and J. Harris, who promptly went over the top, but their scrutiny failed to detect the secret.

Wednesday was mapped out for Gilmorton and Lutterworth. The first named was reached by 10 o'clock, and a peal of Superlative was started for. It was a hot day, and the writer is of the firm opinion that the best part of peal ringing in such circumstances is that of a listener. Those of us who occupied that role, idly reclined on the rectory lawn sampling the juicy fruits, what time the bolder spirits pulled away in the belfry. After two hours' ringing the second clapper flew out, and put paid to the attempt No. 1. While at dinner we decided to refix the clapper, go on to Lutterworth for the peal arranged, and return for another try in the evening. This we did. The bells at Lutterworth were all ready, thanks to the steeplekeeper, and we got away to the tune of Bristol. An excellent peal—the first in the method on the bells—was rung in 3 hours 5 minutes. Owing to the re-arranged programme we were unable to wait in Lutterworth to meet the local men, and motored back for the peal at Gilmorton. There was no mistake this time. The peal was safely negotiated, and Superlative was added to the 'bag.'

I wonder if the god Pan watches over ringers. If he does, then Thursday and Friday were not piping times, for black failure overtook us. Melton Mowbray was the venue, Cambridge Royal was the menu, and Thursday morning heard the ten bells roll it out. Sitting in the public park we listeners heard two and a half hours' good ringing, when . . . (draw down the blind, every ringer knows what happens when four bells insist on filling two places). This was a cold douche, for it was the only ten-bell tower on the list. Dinner soothed the ruffled feelings, if not the sore fingers, and a drive out to Ashby Folville, a ring of eight, some seven miles away, did not bring success, for Cambridge Major was lost after ringing two hours.

Black Friday was true to name. An eleventh-hour cancellation of the bells of Stanton owing to steeple repairs, resulted in eight men motoring to Barwell, the remainder going on an hour later by motor-bus. A few miles out of Leicester the bus was held up by eight pairs of hands. 'Old Bill' had got out and got under the car, which had turned cantankerous; the men climbed aboard the bus, leaving the skipper behind. Permission was obtained at Barwell, and Superlative was started for. A lapse of memory on the part of the writer—he admits it in sackcloth and ashes—caused the misplacement of a bob 'before.' 've peal was lost,' after two hours.

Himckley Parish Church possesses a ring of eight bells, with a tenor about a ton. One side of the ringing room consists entirely of a huge window giving ample light and also heat on a hot day. Some of the bells badly need recasting, being sadly out of tune. One and a half hour's ringing was enough for the men who were sore-handed, and a return was made to Leicester headquarters.

Eight o'clock saw a goodly company of ringers from all parts assembled in 'The Earl Grey,' where a smoking concert was held in honour of the visitors. Songs and handbell ringing filled the programme, conspicuous in which was a course of London Surprise 'in hand,' by: E. P. Duffield 1-2, A. Goffton 3-4, W. Pye 5-6, T. T. Goffton 7-8. The smoker ended with 'Auld Lang Syne,' and the band retired to rest with a grim determination to retrieve the position on Saturday.

The last day of the tour was a memorable one. A band of eight motored over to Thurcaston to start for a peal of London. The remainder went to the neighbouring village of Ansty, to endeavour to fix up another peal at that place. We saw the Rector, who kindly granted permission. The peal of London was duly pulled off, and tracks were made for Ansty, where, after a meal, attempt was made for No. 2. Cambridge was the method, and 'that's all' came up in 2.50.

Tea was taken at Steeplekeeper Cufflin's house, and the band began to dwindle, owing to the fact that some were due to return home. We had Hugglescote bells at our disposal, however, and relying on the help of Mr. Ephraim Rands, a local ringer, and Jim Harris, of Leicester, we made for the last item on 'the bill of fare.' Hugglescote was reached at 6.15, and off we went into Stedman Triples, Tom Coles barking out the bobs. The bells are somewhat loud in the ringing room, but they are very fine for their weight, and a first-class peal was rung in 2.55. It should be noted that Mr. W. J. Nevard, the oldest member of the party, rang in all three peals that day.

As our motor had shown outward and visible signs of indisposition during the day, and not a little buck-jumping, we were dubious as to how we were going to get back. It is a ten-mile run to Leicester, and we started back about 10.15 p.m. At midnight we were six miles off, the machine had developed rheumatics in its hind legs, and was emitting the most unearthly groans and grunts mankind ever heard.

The peaceful village of Markfield was awakened from its sleep as though all the clanking chains of Hades had suddenly been dumped upon them. Heads were thrust out of windows, and the language hurled at us was anything but complimentary: as a matter of fact it was, in strict Jounnalese, 'unfit for publication.' Still we struggled on for another mile, when the motor considered that it had done its bit, and, after another grunt, stopped. The lights gave out, the moon went to bed, and we were properly stranded. There was no help for it but to hoof it home. We decided to abandon the craft, but not so Bill. Like a good skipper he resolved to stay aboard till morning, and did so after we had moved him to the roadside.

We moved him darkly at dead of night,

The wheels with our shoulders turning;

Not even a blinking moonbeam's light,

But a rear lamp dimly burning.

Bill's Beiter 'Ole was scarce a nest,

But safe till a policeman found him;

And he lay like a warrior taking his rest,

With his motor rug around him.

Thus ended this strange eventful history. At daylight we sent out garage help and towed him in. As trouble had developed in the back axle it could not be repaired until Monday, hence the majority went home by train. Thanks are due and herewith given to the various church authorities, Rectors and Vicars for their kind permission to ring, and also to the steeplekeepers. W. W.

THE SALOP GUILD.

The September meeting was held at Stanton-on-Hine Heath on Saturday, when 20 members were present. During the afternoon all Standard methods were rung in short touches. Ringers were glad to see the Vicar (the Rev. Holmes) among them whilst ringing was going on. Tea was provided in the Schoolroom, and afterwards the Vicar was thanked for his kindness in allowing the Guild to hold this meeting there, and also for the trouble he had taken to provide the tea. On returning to the tower some further good ringing was maintained. At 8 o'clock the gathering broke up, and some of the members went to the next village, Moreton Corbet, where, after getting permission to use the tower, a 360 each of Bob Minor and Kent Treble Bob were well rung.

CREWE RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, Sept. 10th the ringers connected with Christ Church, Crewe, had their annual outing, the place selected being Woolton, near Liverpool. The party arrived about 3 o'clock, and were met by the Rector, the Venerable Archdeacon Howson (a former Vicar of Christ Church, Crewe), who showed them round the beautiful church, after which they proceeded to the tower, and rang several short touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major until 5.30, when they were welcomed and entertained to tea at the Rectory by Archdeacon and Mrs. Howson. When tea was over, a ramble round the grounds was enjoyed, after which the ringers thanked the host and hostess for their kind hospitality. Returning to the church, a short service was held, conducted by the Archdeacon. Afterwards the ringers again visited the tower until 8.30, when the return journey was made to Lime Street Station, leaving Liverpool at 10 p.m. Crewe was safely reached, all agreeing that a very pleasant time had been spent.

LONDON SURPRISE ROYAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—When our present-day experts will leave off talking of forward and backward hunting and get down to the true fundamentals, they will begin to understand—(1) What a method is; (2) how it is obtained, (3) and what are the correct extensions.

The following method, discovered by myself many years ago, gave me the clue, and it will give anyone else the clue if they are willing to accept the truth, instead of backing their own opinions against what can positively be proved a fact, not only so far as this particular method is concerned, but of any method, principle or system whatsoever.

24163857

75816342
57183624
51738264

The above method is produced from what I call the Quick primary principle by three bobs which shift nine bells, but as the 3rd makes all the bobs, the result is that seven bells only are shifted, and we obtain the proof in the lead-head: 13527486.

The merest novice will surely have no difficulty in following the above argument; and it is just as easy, when you know how, to prove that London Surprise Minor, Major, Royal and Maximus are produced by Bobs and Extremes from the Slow and Quick primary principles in combination.

The Rev. E. B. James can see no likeness between London Surprise Minor and Major. I wonder if what follows will convince him?

The shunts of London Surprise on all numbers consist of Slow Bobs, Quick Bobs, and Quick Extremes: they are distributed as follows:

	Slow Bobs.	Quick Bobs.	Quick Extremes.
Minor	8	5	3
Major	12	7	3
Royal	16	9	3
Maximus	20	11	3

In Treble Bob and Surprise Methods, the shunts affect all the bells just as they do in Principles and Systems. The following is a true table of the numbers of bells shifted in London Surprise from Minor to Maximus:

Minor: bells shifted ...	54—1 total 53.
Major: bells shifted ...	96—1 total 95.
Royal: bells shifted ...	150—3 total 147.
Maximus: bells shifted	216—2 total 214.

N.B.—The Minuses are the bells that are in the same position at the lead-head that they occupied in the fundamental row.

Mr. James being a mathematician will know all about casting out the nines in proving arithmetic. I will now show how a similar rule can be used in proving the above figures to be correct.

In Minor, 53 bells have been shifted; cast out the sixes, and you have a remainder of five working bells, which is proved by the lead-head 142635.

In Major, 95 bells have been shifted; cast out the eights, and you have a remainder of seven working bells, which is proved by the lead-head 14263857.

In Royal (the seven part touch), 147 bells have been shifted; cast out the tens, and you have a remainder of seven working bells, which is proved by the lead-head 1083564927.

In Maximus (the five part touch), 214 bells have been shifted; cast out the twelves, and you have a remainder of ten working bells, which is proved by the lead-head 12e9(7058364. This row is on a par with the lead-head of the true extension of Double Norwich Royal, because, although you have ten working bells, the cycle is finished in 5 leads.

If Mr. James is not satisfied now that his method is not London Royal, there are other ways of proving the truth of my statements; but this is enough for this week, excepting we will just compare the Bobs and Extremes of Mr. James' method with the proved true touch of London Royal given above.

London Royal.	Mr. James' Method.
16 Slow Bobs.	20 Slow Bobs.
9 Quick Bobs.	11 Quick Bobs.
3 Quick Extremes.	3 Quick Extremes.

The number of bells shifted in Mr. James' Method is 170—1; total, 169: if we cast out the tens, we have a remainder of nine working bells, which is proved by the lead-head of 1426380597.—Yours faithfully,
GEORGE BAKER.

P.S.—It may interest Mr. Taylor to compare the shunts of his latest Royal method with the true shunts of London Royal given above, they are as follow:—

	18	9	2	1

these shunts have shifted 160 bells minus 1, total 159, cast out the tens, and there is a remainder of 9 working bells which is proved by the lead-head, 1426380597.

FORMULÆ NEEDED.

Sir,—I have just read with much interest the able controversy now appearing in your columns on the subject of the extension of London Surprise. (I regret that I have had no time to do so before.) On the particular method I do not propose to speak; but I should like to put forward a theory of my own that I have held for some years, but lacked the opportunity to work up.

Some of the arguments just put forward are very ingenious—especially that of Mr. Bankes James; but all that has been done in any of these controversies so far is to formulate empirical rules to suit particular cases; and as a result much ingenuity runs to waste, because owing to the lack of a general basis it is bound to produce conflicting results. Some years ago, for example, I attempted to prove that Stedman was illegitimate; I still think it is; but on the lines I (and my opponents) used then I believe I could prove with equal definiteness that it is perfectly legitimate.

Change ringing is a mathematical science—there is none more definitely and exclusively so; and I, therefore, venture to think that it should be possible to get a watertight mathematical proof of these problems, if anyone could only hit on the lines to work on, instead of having to rely on empirical generalisations, which, however obvious they seem, must in the long run be based on nothing less variable than personal interpretation. What I have long thought we need is a collection of formulæ, in the form of algebraical series or otherwise, and a system of expressing methods algebraically: the whole to be such that—

- (1) Given a half-lead (or half-division, or quarter-lead of a double method) we can immediately write down the method on any number of bells by using the formula.
- (2) Given a half-lead (etc.) of any method on any number of bells, we can immediately write down its true courses.
- (3) I should imagine that such formulæ would give at once the number of methods with any particular set of characteristics that could be obtained on any number of bells.

I cannot pretend to prove the existence of such formulæ; I only feel that as change ringing is a purely mathematical science they must exist; and they would solve many of the problems of change ringing just as Newton's discovery of the calculus solved those of ordinary mathematics. Exactly what to expect from the Newton of change ringing I am not sure. Whether formulæ can be devised by numbering changes and establishing general relations between their sequence, or whether by working on the places made, I do not know.

I feel fairly certain of one or two points, however. First, that the In-and-Out of course of the changes will have no place in the investigation. The In-and-Out of course is merely an empirical generalisation—a very useful one, but none the less empirical for all that. From the mathematical point of view, we might as well work on the number of multiples of seven that pairs are interchanged from rounds. Secondly, I think that what must be dealt with is the places as they are—not any theories, however correct, as to their function; and thirdly, it seems quite probable that everything could not be discovered synthetically, but that much work would have to be done on analysing the possible orders of the changes, all taken in.

With this I must at the moment, sir, leave the suggestion. I ask your permission to commend it to those qualified to judge its worth. If there is anything in it, it would be premature to pronounce one extension right and another wrong until these formulæ have been discovered.—Yours faithfully,
H. W. FRIGHT.

ACROSS THE BRISTOL CHANNEL.

All Saints' Church, Newport, Mon., ringers, had their annual outing on Saturday, Sept. 10th, going by steamer to Weston-super-Mare, where a most enjoyable time was spent. After a ring on the Parish Church bells a charabanc was chartered, and a visit paid to Kewstoke and Uphill Churches, and touches rung in different methods. Opportunity is now taken of thanking the incumbents of the different churches for the use of the bells, and more especially to Mr. Stubbins and Mr. Parker of Weston, for making the necessary arrangements.

A PARTING GIFT.

On Sunday, Sept. 11th, before ringing for morning service a little ceremony took place in the belfry at Tring, Herts. The curate, on behalf of the ringers and himself, presented Mr. T. W. Wright with a framed photograph of the ringers. Mr. Wright, who is leaving Tring to take up a business appointment at King's Norton, will be greatly missed in the belfry, where he was a great help and most regular in his attendance for service ringings. Afterwards a 504 Grandsire Triples was rung by: H. Bull 1, F. J. Reeve (conductor) 2, F. Keen 3, F. C. Reeve 4, F. Waterton 5, T. W. Wright 6, H. Heley 7, W. Redman 8.

SUNDAY SERVICE TOUCHES.

LONG STANTON.—On Sunday, Sept. 18th, for evening service (harvest thanksgiving), a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), in 44 mins.: W. Hawkes 1, F. J. Cook 2, C. W. Woolley 3, Rev. H. B. Woolley 4, J. B. Woolley 5, C. W. Cook (conductor) 6, Geo. Crisp 7, L. A. Cook 8.

LONDON.—On Sunday, Sept. 18th, for evening service, at St. George-the-Martyr, Southwark, S.E., a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples: E. G. Hibbins (Cambridge), first quarter-peal in the method. 1, T. H. Taffender (conductor) 2, E. J. King 3, W. Rushton 4, J. R. Gammon 5, R. G. Chappelle 6, W. H. Pickett 7, W. E. G. Lewson 8.

THAME, OXON.—On Sunday, Sept. 18th, for morning service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 45 mins.: D. Chapman (first quarter-peal) 1, Sergt. G. Gilbert, R.E. 2, W. Henley 3, R. J. Ricketts (first quarter-peal in the method) 4, W. Welling (conductor) 5, G. Miles 6, T. Jakeman 7, H. Clarke (first quarter-peal) 8. Rung as a birthday compliment to Mrs. G. Gilbert.

STONY STRATFORD.—On Sunday, Sept. 18th, at St. Giles' Church, for evening service, 1,260 Minor, in 47 mins., being 720 Cambridge Surprise, 360 Kent Treble Bob, 144 Oxford Treble Bob, 56 Plain Bob: A. Clarke 1, H. C. Edwards 2, E. C. Lambert (conductor) 3, W. Bonham 4, T. C. Tompkins 5, E. Yates 6.

NORTHFLEET, KENT.—On Sunday evening, Sept. 18th, 720 Bob Minor, on the back six, in 26 mins.: A. Best 1, F. M. Mitchell 2, F. Draper 3, G. Lingham 4, H. Barnes (first 720 as conductor) 5, W. Ware 6.

OXFORD.—Oxford Diocesan Guild.—At St. Ebbe's Parish Church, on Sunday, Sept. 18th, for harvest festival, 720 Plain Bob: F. A. H. Wilkins (first 720) 1, W. H. B. Wilkins (conductor) 2, H. Tolley 3, F. Beckitt 4, G. Stone 5, F. Clifkard 6.

SELLY OAK, WORCESTERSHIRE.—On Sunday, Sept. 18th, for evening service, and on the 60th anniversary of the dedication of the church, a quarter-peal (1,260 changes) of Stedman Triples: E. J. Dowler 1, G. Cartwright 2, V. Hemus 3, H. Stanley 4, H. J. Dowler 5, J. Eaton 6, S. Grove (conductor) 7, H. Parkes 8.

KINGSNORTH, KENT.—For evening service, on Sept. 18th, the occasion of the harvest festival, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes): Miss Rose Thomas (Mersham) 1, Fred Hodges (Kingsnorth) 2, Fred Good, conductor (Charing) 3, Sid Hopper (Ashford) 4, Harry Parkes (Mersham) 5.

BARKING, ESSEX.—On Sunday, Sept. 18th, for morning service, a quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob Major (1,312 changes), in 50 mins.: O. Fenn (conductor) 1, H. E. Parker 2, G. Jackson 3, T. Faulkner 4, G. H. King 5, G. W. Faulkner 6, G. Cottis 7, A. C. Hardy (composer) 8. For evening service, a quarter-peal of Superlative Surprise

Major (1,280 changes), in 48 mins.: G. Jackson 1, H. E. Parker 2, T. Faulkner (conductor) 3, E. Andrews 4, G. H. King 5, A. C. Hardy (composer) 6, R. Fenn 7, O. Fenn 8.

BARNES.—On Sunday, Sept. 18th, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes): M. Jacobs 1, H. Barrett 2, W. H. Stevens 3, H. Cook 4, R. Mackrill 5, C. Hunt 6, F. Skevington (conductor) 7, J. Willmott 8.

MARKET DEEPPING.—At the Parish Church, on Sept. 11th, for morning service, 360 St. Clement's Minor: E. A. Sneath 1, A. Riggall 2, H. M. Day 3, H. Holmes 4, W. A. Day (conductor) 5, J. Landon 6. For evening service, 720 of St. Clement's: E. A. Sneath 1, A. Riggall (first in the method) 2, J. Landon 3, H. Holmes 4, W. A. Day 5, H. M. Day (conductor) 6.

BROMLEY, KENT.—On Sunday, Sept. 11th, at the Parish Church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: H. Skinner 1, F. J. Spice 2, G. F. James 3, A. James 4, E. Mounter 5, G. Huxley 6, G. Darling (conductor) 7, F. Scott 8. First quarter-peal by the ringers of the treble and tenor.

FOXEARH, ESSEX.—On Sunday, Sept. 11th, for evening service, on the occasion of the harvest festival, 576 Kent Treble Bob Major: W. Underwood 1, P. Gridley 2, A. Maxim 3, W. P. Gridley 4, G. More 5, T. Chinnery 6, G. Maxim 7, S. Evans (conductor) 8.

PENTRE, RHONDDA.—Llanfaff Association.—On Sunday, Sept. 11th, for morning service, at St. Peter's Church, 720 Double Norwich Court Bob Major: H. Page 1, F. Lasbury 2, H. Davies 3, J. Cross 4, T. Hamlin 5, G. Wires 6, W. Page 7, T. Page (conductor) 8. From 'The Ringing World' of August 28th, by F. W. Rogers.

BRIDGEND, GLAM.—On Sunday, Sept. 11th, at St. Iltyd's Church, for morning service, 392 Grandsire Triples: A. W. Wright 1, R. Evans 2, J. Evans 3, R. Gregory 4, C. H. Perry (conductor) 5, H. Jenkins 6, D. R. James 7, B. J. Toby 8. For evening service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), in 45 mins.: B. J. Toby (longest length away from tenor) 1, R. Evans 2, J. Evans 3, R. Gregory 4, C. H. Perry (conductor) 5, H. Jenkins 6, D. R. James 7, A. W. Wright 8.

NORTON, STAFFS.—On Sunday, Sept. 11th, for evensong, 720 Violet Treble Bob: G. E. Lawrence 1, J. W. Walker (conductor) 2, F. Triner 3, E. E. Johnson 4, J. E. Wheelton 5, J. Walley 6.

WICKEN, NORTHANTS.—On Sunday, Sept. 11th, for morning service, 720 Bob Minor: G. Cooper (first 720 of Minor) 1, H. Ridgway (first 720 with a bob bell) 2, T. Roberts 3, F. Case 4, T. Read 5, A. J. Green 6.—On Sunday, Sept. 18th, for morning service, a 720 Double Court: H. Ridgway 1, T. Roberts 2, F. Case 3, L. Smith 4, T. Read 5, A. J. Green 6.—For evening service, a quarter-peal, being 120 Double Oxford, 360 Double Court, 360 Oxford Bob, 420 Plain Bob: A. Birdsey 1, T. Roberts 2, F. Case 3, L. Smith 4, T. Read 5, A. J. Green 6. First quarter-peal in four methods by all except 4th and 6th.

KEWERTON, GLOS.—On Sunday, Sept. 4th, at St. Nicholas' Church, for morning service, 720 of Kent Treble Bob Minor, in 27 mins.: R. Harris 1, A. Wallace 2, E. Devereaux 3, O. Attwood 4, W. Crooks 5, W. Ricketts (conductor) 6.

FRAMPTON, near BOSTON.—On Sunday, Sept. 4th, for evening service, 360 Kent Treble Bob Minor: P. Lakin 1, H. Lakin 2, G. Coleman 3, J. W. Lakin, junr. 4, W. Houghton 5, J. W. Lakin, senr. (conductor). 6. Also 360 Plain Bob: J. W. Lakin, senr. 1, P. Lakin 2, H. Lakin 3, G. Coleman 4, W. Houghton 5, J. W. Lakin, junr. (conductor). 6. The Lakins are from Benington; W. IGNORANCE OR PREJUDICE?

We share the amusement which we are sure our readers will obtain from the attempt which Mr. William Pye makes to put a sting in the tail of his letter, which appears elsewhere in this issue. It is true, unfortunately, as he says, that some people write first and think afterwards, but that is a remark which applies principally to amateurs. The trained writer, although he may make mistakes, is like the experienced chess player. He not only thinks first about his subject, but in a controversial matter looks at least a move or two ahead. So we begin by assuring Mr. Pye that, so far as we are concerned, we have at any rate thought about the subject, even though we be blind. Our leading article last week carefully avoided any reflection upon the great performances of those men like Mr. Pye, who have rung double-handed peals in the higher methods, but it gave Mr. Pye the opportunity of stating explicitly wherein our previous reference to the tapping of peals was an injustice to these ringers; and he jumps at it, with the admission, in effect, that in his view such performances as those of Mr. Morris, unless belittled, may dwarf the pedestal upon which others have placed themselves.

There was a time, not so many years ago, when men who had rung London Surprise on tower bells would have said that it was impossible for four men to ring a peal of it on handbells. But the impossible happened, and it was Mr. Pye and his brothers who first brought it about, and they received the credit they richly deserved. That being the case, why should we jump to the conclusion that nothing greater can be done? All the progress in the world has been made up by someone going a step further than anyone else has gone, and no one should imagine that they have reached the limit in any branch of science. If they do, sooner or later they get a rude awakening.

But to return to the peal tapping and Mr. Pye's letter, with its inference that our comments were unjust and were made without knowledge. While not attempting to pit our experience against Mr. Pye's, we are not entirely ignorant of the practical side of ringing, either on tower or handbells; but this we do confess that the tapping which we have seen done by Mr. Harry Withers of methods which we are able to ring is utterly beyond us, and we are not ashamed to admit it, as we believe most other ringers are prepared to do. But in attempting to minimise tapped peals, is not Mr. Pye rather committing the error of which he accuses others—speaking without knowledge? Can he, for instance, put forward any plan upon which a peal can be tapped by one person which does not require a greater mental effort than the ringing of two handbells to a peal in the same method? Without this, we venture to think, it is unfair to say that there is 'not so much in it as many people think there is,' and to suggest that it is not as great a task as ringing two handbells. We are not referring to the tapping of courses or short touches, which may be learned more or less by heart, but to peals in which it is impossible for the performer to commit the thing to memory. Let us give credit where credit is due. At the same time it may also be well to remember that it is not always blindness or ignorance that causes others to think differently to ourselves, and it is wise to beware lest prejudice distorts one's vision.

WEDDING OF A NEWPORT (MON.) RINGER.

One of the prettiest weddings that ever took place in All Saints' Church, Newport (Mon.), was solemnised on Saturday last between Mr. Frederick Whitfield and Miss Iris Irene Jayne. The bridegroom is a regular Sunday Service ringer at All Saints', and the crowded church showed that both bride and bridegroom are held in the very highest esteem in the parish. Immediately following the ceremony, the bells struck out. 'Queen's,' 'Firing,' rounds, etc., were indulged in, and then followed an attempt for a peal which proved successful, as recorded elsewhere. Useful gifts were made to the pair by the All Saints' ringers, to whom also the best wishes go forth. After the peal, the ringers were entertained at the home of the bride's parents, and a happy time spent.

BISHOP'S STORTFORD OUTING.

On Saturday, August 27th, the St. Michael's company, Bishop's Stortford, revived their annual outing. Ten members, accompanied by Messrs. Walter Prior, T. Watts, T. Jordan and G. Jordan, from Stansted, started by motor at 9 a.m., and Braughing, which was reached in quick time, was the first stopping-place. After ringing on the peal of eight, Bennington, of campanological renown, was next visited, after passing through the by-lanes of Hertfordshire, amid charming landscapes. Two of the locals, Messrs. Page and Kitchener, joined in the ringing. After dinner, at the Bell, the journey was continued, the objective this time being St. Albans. Here arrangements had been kindly made by Mr. Debenham to ring at St. Peter's (ten bells) and the Cathedral. Tea was obtained at 'Palm Court,' after ringing for Divine service at St. Peter's, and the Cathedral was then visited, the 'guide' pointing out some of the interesting features of this grand edifice. This proved to be the gem of the outing, and it was with the greatest regret that the stay had to be cut short owing to the flight of time. The methods rung were Grandsire, Stedman, Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge.

The return journey was enlivened by various songs and tales, and Bishop's Stortford was reached about 9.45 p.m., after one of the most enjoyable trips that could be recalled.

Mr. H. J. Tucker kindly made all arrangements, and to him the thanks of the party are due, also to Mr. Debenham and the various steeplekeepers who welcomed them.

AMONG SUFFOLK TOWERS.

On Saturday, August 20th, the ringers of St. Peter's Church, Goldhanger, Essex, held their annual outing, and visited some of the Suffolk towers. Leaving the rectory at 9 o'clock, in the Rector's car (which was kindly placed at their disposal for the outing), the first stopping-place was Nayland, where the bells were soon going to Plain Bob, Oxford, Kent and College Exercise. Proceeding next to Polstead, where the fine peal has been rehung, further touches were rung, and then the party went on to the small town of Hadleigh, where a sumptuous dinner was enjoyed by the bang at the King's Head Hotel. Afterwards the fine old tower, with its peal of eight bells (tenor 28cwt.), was visited, and here the party were met by Mr. T. Reed, and other ringers, who had everything in readiness. The afternoon was spent in ringing, and after tea the visitors went on to Higham, where there is a fine peal of bells, and where the party met with the band of ringers from Langham. After some good touches they went on to Stratford St. Mary, the Langham band having preceded them, and got everything ready. Some further good ringing took place, and the bells were lowered in peal. Goldhanger was reached at 9.30, everyone having thoroughly enjoyed the trip, which was arranged by the conductor, Mr. J. D. Buckingham. All the towers were close together, and contained fine peals of bells.

BECCLES RINGER'S DEATH.

On Wednesday, August 31st, the remains of the late Mr. Harry Reynolds, of Beccles, were laid to rest.

The funeral was attended by the choir and ringers, four of the latter ringing a course of Grandsire Triples on handbells at the graveside.

During the evening, muffled, half-muffled and open touches were rung on the bells of St. Michael's Church.

The deceased was a regular ringer and member of the choir for upwards of 20 years, although he had never rung a peal.

LADIES' GUILD.

DISTRICT ANNUAL MEETINGS.

A meeting of the Western District of the Ladies' Guild was held, by kind permission of the Rector, at Wraxall, near Bristol, on Saturday, Sept. 24th. There was a fairly good attendance of members and friends, who were pleased to welcome a member from the Southern District, viz., Miss Fisher, of Dorking, Surrey. The Rector, the Rev. W. S. Mather, gave a most interesting and encouraging address at the service, based on the inscription on a bell in Wraxall tower dated 1705, 'Though my voice it be but small, I'll be heard amongst you all.' He showed how nothing is really insignificant, for God makes use even of trifles to help forward His great work. The message is often greater than the messenger—and a ringer learns the lesson of self-effacement. The oldest bell in the tower bears the date 1608, and has been in use ever since that time.

Following the tea, a business meeting was held, at which Miss Fisher presided. Miss Smith was re-elected hon. secretary for the ensuing year. The 'committee of four' for the district was elected as follows: Mrs. W. Edwards, Portishead; Mrs. Knight, Clapton-in-Gordano; Miss Emm, Fauton; Mrs. R. J. Wilkins, Bristol. The two representatives on the General Committee are Mrs. Edwards, Portishead, and Mrs. Harvey, Bristol.

One new honorary member was elected, Mrs. Burchell, of Thornbury, and one performing member, Mrs. Leaker, St. Thomas', Bristol.

It was decided to ask permission to hold the next quarterly meeting at St. Stephen's, Bristol, if possible, on Saturday, December 3rd.—It is also hoped that the Guild will be able to hold a meeting in the southern part of the district early next summer.

The meeting closed with an expression of thanks to the Rector and to the steeplekeeper (Mr. Winsor).

SOUTHERN DISTRICT OFFICERS.

The annual meeting of the Southern District was held at Aldershot on Saturday, Sept. 24th. Ringers were present from Aldershot, Ash, Bagshot, Farnham, Farnborough, Finchampstead, Guildford (St. Nicolas and Holy Trinity), Liss, Portsmouth, Sandhurst, Shere and Worplesdon. The bells were raised at 3 o'clock, and kept going until 4.30, when the service was conducted by the Rev. Drury, who gave the visitors a 'welcome. Miss K. Avenell kindly acted as organist. Twenty-six sat down to tea in the Parish Hall, 14 being lady ringers.

At the business meeting, Miss C. M. Orlebar, of Liss; Miss M. Domoney, of Bagshot, and the Misses Grace and Nancy Denyer, of Aldershot, were elected as members.

Miss H. F. Mills was asked by all present to continue as secretary, and Miss Nye, Miss B. Mills, Miss Avenell and Mrs. Melville were elected on the committee.—Hawley was decided on for the next annual meeting.—A vote of thanks to the secretary for the work done during the year closed the business.

Ringing continued till 8.30, Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob being rung. Members of the Guild were able to take part in all the methods.

CLEVELAND AND NORTH YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

The postponed annual meeting was held at Ripon on Saturday, Sept. 10th, there being a fairly good and representative gathering. Tea, provided at the Black Bull Hotel, was presided over by the president (the Rev. J. L. Kyle), supported by the Very Rev. the Dean of Ripon, vice-president (Mr. W. Pick), and the hon. sec. (Mr. T. Metcalfe). At the committee meeting various items of interest to the association were discussed, and meetings arranged for the year. One is to be held at Ormesby, on Saturday, Oct. 22nd, and the Easter Monday meeting by special invitation of the president, will be at Carlton.

A resolution sent in by the Northern District of the Yorkshire Association was discussed at great length.

The business of the annual meeting came on after the tea, and was presided over by the Dean of Ripon, as the president had to leave early to reach home.

The loyal toast was submitted by the Dean, and duly honoured.

The secretary's report and balance sheet showed that the association was in a very good financial position, having a bank balance of some £35.

Votes of thanks to the Dean and Chapter for the use of the bells, also to the retiring officers, who were all re-elected, were passed.

DONCASTER & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The October meeting was held at Harmby, Doncaster, on Saturday, September 24th. There was only a small attendance of members, but some good practice was indulged in on the fine peal of six bells. Touches in the four Standard methods were rung during the afternoon and evening. Tea was partaken of at the White Hart Hotel, and at the business meeting, which followed, votes of thanks, were accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to Mr. T. S. Gill, one of the churchwardens, for so kindly providing tea and making arrangements for the meeting. The next meeting will be held at Thorne.

The mid-week practice at St. George's has been suspended on account of the nearness of the Technical College and School of Art.

AN EXCURSION IN THE MIDLANDS.KING'S NORTON RINGERS' LONG TOUR.

King's Norton (Worcestershire) ringers had their annual outing on Saturday, August 27th, and were joined by a few ringing friends from Selly Oak, Northfield and Birmingham. The party, numbering 20, made a start for Chilvers Coton at 7.15 a.m. On arrival the party were met by Mr. H. Argyle, and touches of Stedman Triples, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise were rung. Monk's Kirby, about 11 miles away, was the next place on the programme, but owing to a 'change course' about 30 miles were covered before reaching it. However, ringers are not easily upset, and while the key of the tower was being found the gentleman in charge of the commissariat department produced a welcome supply of sandwiches and other refreshments. After an al fresco snack on the roadside, a move was made to the tower, and, on the grand peal of eight, Stedman Triples and Double Norwich were soon pealing out. The 'go' and music both being great, the short stay here was very much enjoyed. The bell foundry at Loughborough was the next objective, and was reached at 2.30 p.m. The party were met by Mr. Denison Taylor, Mr. Pryce Taylor and Miss Taylor, and while old friends were chatting and new ones introduced, the official caterer showed that his foresight in this department is as great as his ability as a ringer, the result being that everyone enjoyed a well-prepared lunch. After lunch, Alderman J. S. Pritchett, in a few well-chosen remarks, thanked Mr. and Miss Taylor for the kind reception, and Mr. P. Laffin for having made all the necessary arrangements. — Mr. E. J. Dowler seconded the vote of thanks, and Mr. D. Taylor, in reply, said how pleased Miss Taylor and he were to help in any little way to make the visit a success.

A move was then made to the foundry bell tower, where some excellent ringing was enjoyed. Afterwards a visit was paid to the famous peal of ten at the parish church, where touches in several methods, including a course of Cambridge Surprise Major were rung. After a very cordial send-off a move was made for St. John's, Leicester, where the party were welcomed by that genial ringer, Mr. W. Willson. Time being short, touches of Double Norwich and Stedman Triples were rung, and all too soon the visitors had to leave, after a very enjoyable time. Leaving Leicester soon after 8 p.m., the party, after many necessary consultations with the finger posts, arrived home rather late but very happy, after a splendid day's enjoyment. Through 'The Ringing World' they wish to thank all those who helped to make the outing such a success.

LLANFIGAN BELLS.DEDICATION OF A NONCONFORMIST'S MUNIFICENT GIFT.

As briefly recorded last week, the new peal of bells at Llanfigan, South Wales, have been dedicated and opened. The whole cost of these bells, as well as the restoration, pointing, and raising by several feet of the tower, approximating £4,000, has been wholly defrayed by Mr. J. L. Morgan, Brynderwen, Llandaff, son of the late Mr. David Morgan, a native of the parish, a staunch Nonconformist, and founder of the famous firm of drapers, David Morgan, Ltd., of The Hayes, Cardiff. A number of close relatives of the late Mr. Morgan still live in the immediate neighbourhood, including his brother, Mr. Wm. Morgan, of Llanbrynean, Llanfrynach, a well-known agriculturist. The work was executed by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., Loughborough. The bells (with the tenor weighing 12 cwt. 1 qr. 19 lbs.) are hung in a rigid iron frame, on steel girders, and the fittings are of the very latest pattern throughout, including patent ball bearings. A sound-board has also been erected at the top of the tower, and an up-to-date chiming apparatus has been installed in the ringers' room.

The four old bells have had their inscriptions reproduced on the new 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th, and the other four have inscriptions in Welsh. We gave the details of the inscriptions in our issue of July 15th.

The dedication was performed by the Bishop of Swansea, and after the special prayers the bells were rung in rounds for three minutes. At the same service a memorial to the men of the parish who fell in the war was unveiled by Col. H. R. Jones Williams (churchwarden), and dedicated by the Bishop.

The opening rounds on the bells were rung by St. Mary's, Brecon, ringers, who were afterwards joined by ringers from Llanelly, and Mr. J. P. Hyett, of Hay. Touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples were rung.

MR. H. TORBLE'S ILLNESS.

The subscription list opened on behalf of Mr. H. Torble, of Leytonstone, who has been ill for the past twelve months, and is still unable to follow his employment, will now be closed, and those who desire to contribute and who have not already done so, are asked to send their donations to-day to G. Hayden, 29, Maryland Street, Stratford. Amount already acknowledged, £7; received since: 'An Eye ringer,' 10s.; 'A fellow ringer,' Barking, 2s.; J. S. Goldsmith, 3s.; A. T. King (President, Middlesex Association), 5s.; T. Fitzjohn, Theford, 2s. 6d.; W. J. Nevard, 5s.; G. Barrell, 2s. 6d.; A. Joyce, 1s.; T. Joyce, 1s.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The recast ring of ten bells at Bradford Cathedral are to be opened to-morrow (Saturday) at 3 p.m. The restoration work has been carried out by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough.

The Doncaster and District Society, formed six months ago, is steadily increasing its membership, which now numbers 120.

On October 6th, 1849, William Booth died at Sheffield. Grandfather of Charles and Thomas Hattersley, he took part, in 1804, in the last peal on the old ten bells of the Parish Church, Sheffield, now the Cathedral, and the first peal on the new bells.

His most famous performance, however, was the first double-handed handbell peal, viz., Oxford Treble Bob Major, in which he rang 3-4, the peal taking place in his own house. Afterwards he rang the same pair of bells to Royal and Maximus.

William Booth was known in London. He visited the Metropolis in 1816, and rang a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Royal at Shoreditch, with George Gross and William Shipway. He joined the Cumberland Youths a week before this peal, and his certificate, still in existence, was signed by Shipway, who was then 'Beadle' of the Society.

October 6th is also the anniversary of the first peal of Stedman Cinques. This was a 6,204 rung at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields by the College Youths in the year 1788. The peal board, in the flowery language associated with peal records of that time, speaks of it as 'an instance of that unrivalled merit only to be equalled by a similar assiduity and perseverance.'

The first peal of Bristol Surprise on handbells was rung at Romford on October 1st, 1907. October 3rd is the anniversary of the first 'silent' peal of Kent Treble Bob on record. This was rung at Liversedge, Yorks, in 1863.

On October 2nd, 1608, Henry Bagley, the first of the Northamptonshire bell founders, was baptized at Chacombe. He commenced his foundry about the year 1632, and died about 1676.

'A Cambridge Ringer' is informed that his Minor method is open to the same objection as the previous one to which he refers. All the rows with the treble in 6th's are out of course.

Messrs. Aggett, of Chagford, are about to commence the restoration of the peal of five, with a new treble, at Rockbeare (Exeter); also of the peals at Sourton, Knowstone, Padstow, Landulph, St. Budeaux, Skilgate (near Taunton).

CENTRAL COUNCIL LIBRARY.

To the Editor

Dear Sir,—By the kind help of various friends of the Exercise, the library of the Central Council now possesses bound volumes of the ringing press from 1871-1901, consisting of 'Church Bells' and 'Bell News.' There are also available for reference my own bound copies of 'The Ringing World' from 1911 to present date. There is wanting the record of the years 1901 (May)—1910 (Dec.). Can anyone supply this? I fear I cannot undertake to deal with unbound copies. Failing this, is there anyone who possesses these copies in bound volumes, and while unable to part with them would allow the use of them for reference on application? If so, I shall be glad to hear from them.—
Yours truly,
CYRIL W. O. JENKYN.

BARLEY BELLS.

HELP WANTED FOR AUGMENTATION.

To the Editor.

Sir,—It has been decided to have the bells at the Parish Church, Barley, Herts, which are now a peal of five, rehung, and a new treble added to make a peal of six. About £150 is needed to put the bells in order, and to add the new treble, and of this £50 has already been collected, so that £100 is still needed. Contributions will be thankfully received by Mr. W. Mansfield, of Church End Barley, near Royston, Herts, or by Mr. R. Howard, Church End, Barley, near Royston, Herts, and will be acknowledged through your paper. We appeal to all ringing friends who can do so, to help us.

R. HOWARD, Secretary,
Barley Band of Ringers.

LEEDS & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The usual monthly meeting was held at Idle, on Saturday, Sept. 24th, but was only poorly attended, as has always been the case, ringers being present from Shipley, Calverley, Leeds Parish Church, and the local company. The meeting was held in the tower, after touches of Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Major had been rung. Owing to the Bramley bells being out of order, the question of the next meeting-place was discussed, but was finally left to the secretary to decide.—A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens, and the local company, closed the meeting.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION. INCREASE OF SUBSCRIPTIONS.

The annual meeting of the Lancashire Association was held at Todmorden, on Saturday last, when the towers of Christ Church and Unitarian Church at Todmorden, Cross Stone, and Hepstonstall, were kindly placed at the disposal of the members. Ringing commenced about 1 p.m. (although the bells were at liberty from 10 a.m.), and at 4 p.m. a service was held at Christ Church. The Vicar (the Rev. A. Aspin) gave a short address.

Tea followed, to which about 90 sat down. The business meeting then took place, the president (Canon Elsee) being in the chair, supported by the Rev. F. Whatmough and the Rev. — Marle (of Cross Stone).

The committee's report was read, as was also the balance sheet. There is a membership of 1,221, and a balance of income over expenditure of £1 15s. 10d., after paying the treasurer £4 11s. 5d. deficit from last year. The peals totalled 94, made up of methods from Bob Minor to London Surprise. Mention was made of the new Wigan branch, also the deaths of four members.

The ringing secretary and two auditors were re-elected without opposition.

Out of four candidates for vice-president, Mr. J. Potter was elected after close voting.

Five places were suggested for the next annual meeting, and the vote favoured Preston.

A long discussion took place regarding a wish to have a full report printed. The committee had had the matter before them, and they said it could not be done without raising the subscription, and recommended 1s. 6d. as a trial for twelve months, to which the meeting agreed.

Mr. Banks gave a short report of the Central Council meeting, after which the usual votes of thanks were accorded the various authorities, the organist, the choir, the local ringers ladies, and others, who had helped to make the meeting such a success.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION. EIGHT BELLS PROPOSED FOR STANMORE.

Members from the North-west corner of Middlesex, and from the adjoining districts of Bushey and Oxhey, turned up in good numbers at Stanmore on Saturday last, when a meeting of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held, and it was very gratifying to meet two of the original members of the society, in Mr. E. Heading, of the local band, and Mr. C. H. Martin, of Hendon, besides several others of many years' standing.

Ringings commenced shortly after 3 p.m., and continued until 5 o'clock, when a short service was held, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. S. F. L. Bernays), who preached a very interesting and instructive sermon.

After tea, the meeting was held in the Vestry, the Rector taking the chair. Two new members were elected.—The Hon. Secretary proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector of Stanmore and to the Vicar of Harrow Weald for the use of the bells at their respective churches; also to the former for his address at the service. Thanks were also accorded to Messrs. E. Heading and J. Furness, for having the bells ready.

The Rev. S. F. L. Bernays briefly replied, with a warm welcome to the association to Stanmore, and expressing a hope that the proposals which had been made for adding two bells to the existing six would be carried out by the time the society again met there.

The meeting over, several members paid a visit to Harrow Weald, whilst others stayed at Stanmore, and at both places several touches of Doubles and Minor were rung, in many methods, including Cambridge Surprise.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the wishes of the Stanmore ringers to have a peal of eight will soon be realised, and we think they will be, but even with an octave of bells to attract members one could hardly hope for a more pleasant and successful meeting than the one just held, and we feel sure that the afternoon was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

RINGER'S BEREAVEMENT AT SEA.

It will be recalled that in our issue of Sept. 16th we recorded a peal at Ashton-under-Lyne, rung in honour of a visit of Mr. William Jakeman, formerly a ringer at this tower. Mr. Jakeman resides in America, and, with his wife, was on a pleasure trip to England. Mr. Jakeman took part in the peal which was rung on the 6th, and a note in our 'Belfry Gossip' column stated that Mr. and Mrs. Jakeman sailed on the 10th, taking with them the best wishes of their many ringing friends.

It is our sad duty now to record that before the paragraph had appeared in print Mrs. Jakeman had passed away. News has reached England that Mrs. Jakeman was taken ill soon after their vessel, the 'Caronia,' sailed, and died at sea on the following Tuesday. Mrs. Jakeman was highly respected among a large circle of friends in Lancashire, and her death has come as a great shock to all who knew her. The deepest sympathy goes out to Mr. Jakeman in his great bereavement. On Tuesday of last week, a muffled peal of Treble Twelve was rung at Ashton-under-Lyne, as a token of respect and mark of sympathy.

PEALS TAPPED ON HANDBELLS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In your leading article of the 23rd Sept., you say you cannot see where any injustice is done in your editorial remarks of the previous week. Now, sir, I consider that anyone who has called a peal of London from a pair of working bells, has reached what might be termed the top of the ladder in ringing. In your leader of the 16th you say it is a greater feat to tap a peal than to ring a pair of bells, which means that the performer has done something which supersedes anything in the way of ringing from a scientific point of view, and places the performer in front of anyone else in the Exercise. Can a man so suddenly spring into fame? I say, certainly not. If he can in a few weeks, then a good many of us must be very poor tools to have been so long about it. You speak of the mental concentration in tapping. If it be so, how about the late Elijah Roberts who, we are told, tapped ten bells all day? He then must have been a living machine. There is only one thing that will convince me that this tapping is such a strenuous task, and I think I can answer you and Mr. Broyd at the same time. If Mr. Broyd remembers aright, he took up the cudgels on behalf of Mr. Morris, and he put forward as an excuse that it was impossible for Mr. Morris to ring eight bells, and I suggested they should take four each as a way out of the difficulty. He does not care to take it on, and suggests I should ring the other four myself. I do not profess to be able to ring four bells to London Surprise, although I should probably be able to go as far as Mr. Morris at it; but I will take a pair and find someone else to take another pair, and let him ring the other four. If he can do that, he will be able to do something in ringing which no one else has done, and also convince the Exercise that he taps on the same system as ringing is done. Now, sir, if you don't see the injustice, you must be blind. You, no doubt, as Editor, reserve the right to express your opinion, and I, as reader, also reserve the right to pull you up when you go too far. To sum the whole thing up, it is a question of folk being too free to express their opinion; and my experience is that those persons who generally so readily express their opinions know very little, and generally either talk or write first, and think afterwards.—Yours truly,
W. PYE.

SUFFOLK DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

REV. H. DRAKE ELECTED SECRETARY.

A meeting of the Suffolk Diocesan Association was held at Hadleigh on Saturday, Sept. 17th, the towers represented being Bildeston, Tinborough, Ipswich, Lavenham, Ufford, Langham, North Walsham, St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, Sible Hedingham, and Greenstead Green. The business meeting was held in the Guildhall, and in the absence of the Very Rev. Dean Carter, the churchwarden (Dr. W. E. S. Wilson) took the chair.

The new members elected were: The Rev. H. Drake, Ufford; Messrs. E. Evans, Ipswich; T. Reed, Hadleigh; F. Poulson, Thetford; W. Cross, Sible Hedingham (life member), and Dr. Wilson (hon. member).

The Rev. H. Drake was elected diocesan secretary, and Mr. A. Symonds (who had previously occupied the position) agreed to act as West Suffolk branch secretary.

Clare was selected for the next meeting, to be held in December, notice of which will be published in 'The Ringing World.'

Mr. W. R. J. Poulson proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Dr. Wilson for presiding, and also asked him to convey to Dean Carter the thanks of the ringers for the use of the bells.

THE LEICESTERSHIRE TOUR.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The account of the happenings at the end of the above tour, as related by Mr. Willson, make very amusing reading, but he does not state how he himself got us out of a great difficulty. When we left our 'skipper and his craft' by the side of the road in the early hours of Sunday morning, and walked nearly four miles back to Leicester, we were in real trouble about our skipper's breakfast. Mr. Willson very kindly volunteered to see to this, and although he did not reach home until 2 a.m., he was back at the scene of the 'disaster' by 7.15, with hot tea, bacon, meat and bread, and 'Old Bill' enjoyed what he himself described as 'the best breakfast he had had that week.' Our sincere thanks are due to Mr. Willson for that act of kindness, and also for so well arranging the whole tour. We would also like to thank Mr. Pryce Taylor for his invitation to Loughborough on the Monday, when we rang the peal at the foundry, and for his hospitality on that occasion; and also the many ringers at Leicester, Loughborough and elsewhere, for the hearty welcome given to us.—Yours faithfully,
C. T. COLES (for the visitors).

WITNASH, WARWICKSHIRE.—On Thursday, August 25th, in 48 minutes, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes), being 104 six-scores called differently: F. Ashbourne 1. J. Jones 2. W. Male 3. T. Male (conductor) 4. W. Clarke 5. T. Thomason 6. First quarter-peal on tower bells by the ringers of treble and tenor.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION. PROPAGANDA WORK.

The second quarterly meeting of the North Notts Association was held at Harworth on Saturday, Sept. 10th, when members were present from Barlborough Blyth, Ordsall, East Retford, West Retford, Lancham, Misterton, Turton and Worksop, together with a few of the local company. It is fully eight years since the association had a meeting at this picturesque little village, so the visit and some good ringing was looked forward to by the inhabitants. Nor were they disappointed, as some well-struck touches of Grandsire Doubles, Plain Bob, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Minor were rung on the sweet little ring of six put in by Taylor in 1893.

Tea was partaken of in the Village Schoolroom, presided over by the Vicar (the Rev. F. d'Arbiay Burney) and supported by the hon. secretary (Mr. H. Haigh) and others. The business meeting which followed was well attended. Three new members were elected, viz., Messrs. A. Lister, of Harworth, and W. Widdowson and G. Gabbitas of Worksop.

The next quarterly meeting will be held at Ordsall early in the new year, and advertised in 'The Ringing World,' but the secretary was authorised to arrange a supplementary meeting at Edwinstowe in October or early in November, for propaganda work, and with a view to the Edwinstowe tower becoming affiliated to the association.

Mr. Wilson and the Vicar spoke in the highest praise of this class of work.—Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar of Harworth for presiding over tea and meeting, and for use of the bells and schoolroom; also to the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. O. Revill, churchworkers, for providing an excellent tea at such a small charge.—These votes were carried with acclamation, and the Vicar, in reply, said nothing gave him greater pleasure than to see such a large gathering of North Notts ringers assemble at Harworth, and to hear some good ringing. He hoped again to hear the bells in the evening. He loved to hear the sound of bells, but neither he nor his ringers could do any change ringing. However, he was looking forward to the day when the tower would become affiliated to the association and some instruction be given to them by a competent ringer. In the course of his travels recently he was particularly impressed with the number of new peals, augmentations and rehangerings of bells taking place in various parts as suitable war memorials for those who had laid down their lives for their God, their King and country. There was nothing better. In conclusion, he wished the association God-speed in their work.

At 7 p.m. about 20 ringers wended their way to Tickhill, and by the kind permission of the Rev. H. Booby, and the steeplekeeper (Mr. Winn) were given permission to ring on the eight bells. Touches of Grandsire Triples, Bob Major and Kent Treble Bob Major were successfully brought round, and at 8.15 p.m. the bells were lowered in peal, and the carillon played three verses of 'Home, Sweet Home.' A pleasant ride home in the moonlight by 'bike' and motor-bus brought another happy and enjoyable day's ringing to an end.

INTERESTING WEDDING AT BRAY.

MR. E. R. COLES—MISS G. M. WOODHOUSE.

At the historic Church of St. Michael, Bray, on Saturday week, an interesting wedding was solemnised between Mr. E. R. Coles (son of Mr. Ralph Coles, foreman of the Wycombe belfry) and Miss Gwendolyn Marion Woodhouse, youngest daughter of Mr. E. Woodhouse, of 'Aleya,' Bray. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Pickles (priest-in-charge of St. Anne's Church, Wycombe Marsh). Suitable wedding music was supplied on the organ by Mr. C. Branwell, L.R.C.M., L.R.A.M., organist of St. Mary's Church, Maidenhead. The wedding was an exceedingly pretty one, and the glorious September day, with its wealth of sunshine, added a charming effect to a brilliant scene. The bridegroom is a member of the High Wycombe belfry, and by the kindness of the Rev. W. S. Riddlesdell, the bells of Bray Church were placed at the disposal of the Wycombe ringers, who attended in practically full force to do honour to a 'brother string.' Following the custom at this place, the bells were rung previous to the ceremony, and 360 Minor was brought round, when the happy pair emerged from the Church. Stedman and Grandsire Doubles and a touch of Kent Treble were also rung. Then came a break, for the ringers were invited to the Church Room, where they found a first-class spread in readiness for them. Afterwards the bridegroom looked in to thank his colleagues for their presence, and he met with a fine ovation. On behalf of the Wycombe belfry, the Secretary asked Mr. Coles to accept, as a wedding present, a solid silver bell, in the form of an inkstand, mounted on a mahogany base. The bell was inscribed: 'To E. R. Coles, on his marriage, Sept. 3rd, 1921.' Felicitations were also expressed to him and his charming bride. The bridegroom cordially returned thanks for the gift. Later the belfry was again visited, and other touches rung. Previous to lowering the bells, an invitation was sent to the ringers to call in at the bride's home, and here again the party were hospitably entertained, and the wedding cake sampled. The ringers spent a day of great enjoyment, and thanks are especially tendered to 'Mr. Ralph' for his successful efforts on their behalf.

On Sunday, after evensong, a couple of touches of Stedman were rung at Wycombe in honour of the event.

RINGERS WEDDED AT ISHAM.

MR. E. MAURICE ATKINS—MISS F. A. CANNAN.

An interesting wedding took place in the Parish Church of, Isham (Northants) on Tuesday morning, Sept. 13th, when Mr. C. Maurice Atkins, son of the Rev. E. J. Atkins, Rector of Isham (late President of the Central Northants Association) was married to Miss F. A. Cannan, of Newbury. Both the bride and bridegroom are highly esteemed members of the Central Northants Association, Mr. Atkins being specially well known as ringer, composer and conductor of a large number of peals. He is a member of the Central Council, a past Master of the Cambridge University Guild, and a member of numerous associations. The ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father (the Rev. E. J. Atkins), assisted by the Rev. E. Atkins, Vicar of St. Nicholas', Leicester (grandfather), and the Rev. G. Atkins, LL.D., Rector of Denver (uncle). Needless to say, that before and after the wedding ceremony the beautiful peal of six bells were rung in honour of the event. Mr. Atkins conducted a touch before the service, and immediately after Mr. and Mrs. Atkins rang their own 'wedding bells.'

On Monday evening the Isham ringers presented Mr. Atkins with a handsome Queen Anne pattern tea-pot and silver-plated toast rack.

The honeymoon is being spent camping in the Wye Valley.

OXFORD GUILD.

NORTH BUCKS BRANCH AT GREAT BRICKHILL.

A quarterly meeting of the North Bucks Branch was held at Great Brickhill on Saturday, Sept. 10th, when the following towers were represented: Bletchley, Beachampton, Fenny Stratford, Linslade, Stony Stratford, and Shenley, with the local ringers, the ringers numbering about 25. Great Brickhill only recently joined the branch, and this was the first meeting of its kind that had been held there, and had been much looked forward to both by the ringers and the Vicar, the Rev. F. H. Hoyle (who is also an honorary member of the branch). Service was conducted by the Rector, his address being interesting and instructive. After service, an adjournment was made to the Rectory grounds, which had been kindly placed at the disposal of the visitors, who were received by the Rector's wife (Mrs. Hoyle). Tea had been prepared on the lawn, and, needless to say, proved very acceptable, especially as the majority had come by cycle, the meeting-place lying, rather wide of the railway.

After tea, the Secretary reported that he had no business to bring forward, but a general discussion took place over various matters, the chief being the best method to overcome the noise in the tower at Great Brickhill, where, when the bells are ringing, a conductor can scarce make himself heard. It was suggested that expert advice should be got to obviate the trouble.

The Secretary proposed a most hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. and Mrs. F. H. Hoyle for so kindly welcoming the branch, and for the splendid arrangements that had been made both for service and tea, which had made the meeting so enjoyable.—The Vicar suitably responded, and the members were quite satisfied that they would be welcome again when they decided to visit Great Brickhill.

Touches rung during the afternoon ranged from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Northern Division of the Essex Association was held at Feering on Saturday, Sept. 17th. A short service was held in the Parish Church, at which an address was given by the Rev. A. F. Curtis (Vicar). Tea and meeting followed at the Bell Inn, 25 members being present from Kelvedon, Witham, Earls Colne, Braintree, Stisted, Broomfield, Rayne, Chelmsford, and the local company.

Mr. H. F. Cooper, District Master presided, supported by the Vicar, Mr. C. H. Howard (Master of the Association), and Mr. B. Redgwell (hon. secretary). Two new members were elected.

The Vicar, who is shortly retiring, and leaving the parish to take up his residence in Coggeshall, was thanked by the Master for his address and warm welcome, and on behalf of those present wished him a happy time in his retirement.

Some excellent touches were rung before and after service on the ring of eight in the Standard methods. The next meeting is to be held at Sible Hedingham.

FALSE PEAL OF LONDON.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir.—It was I who pointed out to Mr. Morris that the composition of London Surprise tapped by him was false, and my reasons for doing so are that the three false course-ends that operate against the method are admitted as actual course-ends of the composition in question. They are 46253, 24385, and 32546, and they form the 6th, 11th and 16th courses. Another false course-end, 53624, is the 21st actual course-end. This together with the fact that 42356, 34256 and 23456, are the 23rd, 24th and 25th actual course-ends, should at once dispel any doubts as to the peal not being false.—Yours faithfully,
EDWARD MULLINS.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Bedford district was held at St. Peter's, Bedford, on Saturday last. The meeting was to have been held at Elstow, but owing to the death of the sexton's wife, the Rector of St. Peter's kindly granted the use of the bells at a very short notice. Members were present from St. Paul's, Bedford, Elstow, Kempston, Biddenham, Turvey, Clapham, Biggleswade, Roxton, Luton, Cranfield, and the St. Peter's company.

At the business meeting, Mr. F. Webb presided, and one new member was elected. Milton Ernest was chosen for the annual meeting of the district some time in November, of which notice will appear in 'The Ringing World.'

A hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, and to Mr. Stapleton for getting everything ready, brought a very pleasant meeting to a close. The methods rung ranged from Stedman Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor.

METHOD NAMING.

At the meeting of the Central Council, at Whitsun, a resolution was passed authorising, after a lapse of six months, the naming of all the methods in the Council's 'Collection,' for which a name had not been claimed before the expiry of that period. Less than two months remain for those who have rung 720 in either of these methods to make their claims; and in order that those who have the right to name them—the right going to the band that first rings the extent—we publish in another column, at the request of the Council's Librarian (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) the list of those methods which, unnamed when the 'Collection' was published, have, as far as he is aware, since been named. In view of the resolution of the Council, it is important that those who have any claim to give the title to any method not appearing in the list, or who dispute an existing title, should at once communicate with the Librarian.

Of the Minor methods, which form by far the largest section, 36 were already named when the 'Collection' was published. As far as can be ascertained, 77 others have since been rung and named, leaving 47 still without titles. Some of these methods may have been rung, and, if they have, their names should at once be sent to Mr. Jenkyn. In the opinion of the Council it is quite time now that names were found for the remaining methods, and no one is likely to quarrel with this decision. The list, as it at present stands, will be of interest to the majority of ringers, especially the six-bell men, who will doubtless desire to bring their own copies of the 'Collection' up to date by adding the information now published.

While it is difficult to suggest a more satisfactory way of providing titles, where the authors have not done so, than that adopted in the past—of leaving it to the choice of those who first ring the methods—it is likely to result in the vast majority of the hundreds of Plain Major methods, which are awaiting publication, going title-less for a very long time. When, however, the publication comes about, doubtless the responsible Committee will see to it that those methods which are extensions of existing Minor methods will appear with their correct names. Only a small section of them is likely to be affected, for those methods in the Minor Collection which have a plain hunt number but 27. At the same time, although it is a small point, it ought not to be lost sight of, for it will have still greater importance if the Major methods of one of the other sections are undertaken. The haphazard naming that has been adopted in the past has led to a good deal of confusion, and if the Council, through the Committee, can now begin to bring order out of chaos and utilise a certain class of names for a particular class of methods, it would be an excellent step.

BELLS! BELLS! BELLS!

Let the Music of the Bells celebrate Peace.

LONDON SURPRISE ROYAL.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Mr. Martin is mistaken in thinking that there can never be more than one correct extension of a method from Major to Royal. Under certain circumstances there might be quite a number all equally correct in structure. A simple example should make this clear. I think most people will agree that the following figures are the exact equivalent from the structural point of view of those given by Sir Arthur Heywood as an extension of his Duffield Major.

Duffield Royal (alternate variation).

21	43	6587	09
12	34	6657	90
21	43	8675	09
12	34	8765	90
24	17	3580	69

In the case of Maximus there are 3 similar variations. In those instances where the correct lines on which a given method should be extended from Minor to Major are generally agreed, a long step has been made towards eliminating possible variations in the Royal. Thus, in the case of London, much ground would be cleared if it were first decided whether the methods known as London Surprise Major and Minor (C.C. Collection Surprise Minor 14) are or are not one and the same. In any case I do not consider the time is ripe to ask us to decide on the merits of the various rival claimants to the title of London Royal. A fairly wide experience of examination papers has taught me that it is often easier to pick out the best of several candidates than of just two or three. If, as appears to be the case, members of the Exercise are prepared to give us a fresh variation once a fortnight, a little patience on our part should soon find us in possession of a fine collection (numerically) from which to select the method to be designated henceforth and for ever London Surprise Royal. E. S. POWELL.

CHISLEHURST, KENT. — On Sunday, Sept. 11th, at 35, Albany Road, after an unsuccessful attempt for a peal, a quarter-peal (1,248 changes) of Bob Major, in 35 mins., by: Frederic G. Groombridge 1-2, Robert Brett Smith 3-4, Thomas Groombridge, junr. (conductor), 5-6, Cyril Brett Smith 7-8. Rung as a birthday compliment to Mrs. Groombridge, senr.

THE METHOD COLLECTION.

CLAIMS TO NAMES.

The following is the list as far as at present ascertained of the titles which have been given to previously unnamed methods contained in the Central Council's 'Collection of Legitimate (Regular) Methods,' and the names claimed for any others which have been rung but not included in this list, should be sent without delay to the Hon. Librarian (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), Broadlands, Caversham, Reading.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting of the Central Division was held at Bolney, on Saturday, Sept. 24th, a representative gathering of close on forty members being present. Ringing commenced about 2.30, and continued until 4.30, when a short service was held in church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. W. Michell, M.A.), at which a collection was taken on behalf of the Benevolent Fund, and amounted to 7s. 4d. A move was then made to the garden of the 'Eight Bells,' where a sumptuous meat tea had been kindly provided by Capt. C. W. Hemp.

The usual business meeting followed, the Vicar presiding, supported by the Master of the Association (Mr. J. T. Rickman) and the hon. general secretary (the Rev. Cecil H. Clarke). The following new members were elected: Mr. C. Dipleck (Hurstpierpoint), Mr. J. Chapman (Keymer), and Capt. C. W. Hemp (hon. member). The meeting also confirmed the election of the following: Mr. G. Radley (Warmleigh), Mr. H. J. Skelt (West Croydon), and Mr. Harry R. Pasmore (London). The meeting concluded with hearty votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, conducting the service, and presiding at the meeting; to the churchwarden (Capt. C. W. Hemp) for his generosity in providing tea; also to the lady who kindly presided at the organ.

The tower was again visited until about 7.30, when the bells were lowered in peal. The methods rung ranged from Grandsire Triples to Bristol Surprise.

STAPLEHURST RINGERS' OUTING.

On Sunday, Sept. 18th, the Staplehurst (Kent) ringers travelled by car to Linton, where they were met by Messrs. T. E. Sone and L. Newman. Several touches were rung, including 742 Grandsire Triples (the last part of Holt's Original). Ringing lasted until 11 a.m. The party then proceeded to Hadlow, where they were made welcome by Mr. A. H. Reader. During the ringing, which lasted an hour and a half, some good striking was accomplished. Leaving at 2.30 p.m., the band made their way to Goudhurst. Although these are heavier bells (tenor 27 cwt.), a few touches were rung with the help of Mr. J. Foreman, who ably kept the 'great bell' swinging. Ringing lasted until 6.30 p.m., when the band returned to Staplehurst, feeling satisfied with their 'first annual outing.' The ringers are all young members, and are only waiting for the completion of their own bells, which are being overhauled, when they hope to ring the first local peal.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION. DISTINGUISHED PATRONS.

A quarterly meeting of the Midland Counties Association was held at Hinckley, Leicestershire, on Saturday, Sept. 24th, when members from Burton, Leicester, and the local district put in an appearance. The bells of St. Mary's were in requisition from 2 p.m. The back six are reputed to be of the Rudhall foundry, the trebles being added a hundred years ago. At the present time they are sadly out of tune, the fourth bell particularly so. The church is a noble edifice, the spire being a landmark for miles around. The town of Hinckley is fourteen miles from the county town, and four from Nuneaton. Detractors of Hinckley have said rude things about it. Rumour hath it that on one occasion a native put his pig on a wall to see a band go by, but (cum grano salis) the writer has seen and heard some humorous things in Hinckley, but none so funny as that. Another, that a resident revelled in wearing a tin hat. Whether the wearer used it for his liquid nourishment history deponeth not, but the writer has seen the tin hat. It reposes at present in the museum of a 'Boniface' at the sign of 'Ye Hare and Pheasant,' High Street, Leicester, and as the host is a native of Hinckley, it is possible that he possesses the real article.

To return to our mutton, after the ringers who wished to indulge in Grandsire, Stedman and Cambridge Surprise, had satisfied their desires, adjournment was made to a local cafe, where an excellent tea was provided. The President (Ald. R. B. Chambers, J.P., of Derby), and Mrs. Chambers, the Rev. Canon Hurrell, M.A., of Hinckley, and J. A. T. Hall, M.D., honoured the company by their presence, and they were supported by Mr. A. C. Wright, hon. secretary, and Mr. W. Willson, hon. treasurer.

At the subsequent business meeting, a considerable number of new members, life, honorary and ringing, were duly elected.

Canon Hurrell graciously intimated his desire to be included, and he was elected, with applause. Chief among the names submitted were the following patrons: His Grace the Duke of Devonshire, K.G., the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Dartmouth, the Most Hon. the Marquis Curzon, K.G.

It should be mentioned that the great majority of new honorary members added to the association are due to the untiring energy of the Hon. President, Ald. Chambers, J.P., who, by securing the patronage of His Majesty's Foreign Minister, has reached a high-water mark in the history of the association hitherto unattained.

Votes of thanks to the clergy, and the local men for their arrangements, brought the meeting to a close. As is usual at ringers' gatherings, when the bells are down, the smokeroom of a neighbouring hostel was found very useful. Handbell plugging and songs were indulged in, and an opportunity afforded for the local humorist, one W. Humphreys, to eject from his chest his great hit, 'Fish and Chips.'

The rather small number of members attending the meeting showed the need in such localities for more united effort, and with this object in view a combined meeting of Hinckley and Leicester districts will be held probably at Earl Shilton on some Saturday in November.

THIRTY YEARS AS STEEPLEKEEPER.

To celebrate the birthday of Mr. George Frederick Pickles, of Horbury, 928 Boh Major (58 leads) was rung on Thursday, Sept. 29th, by: G. Bennett (Ossett) 1, G. Hunt 2, G. F. Pickles 3, H. Rowley (conductor) 4, G. Barstow 5, F. Lockwood 6, G. W. Pickles 7, R. Thickett 8. Mr. Pickles has been the steeplekeeper at Horbury for 30 years, but he has never made the mistake of 'greasing' the bells with Yorkshire Relish, as his confrere is said to have done at Earlsheaton. One of his sayings is, 'There's niver nowt but there's allus summat,' which reminds me of a waggonette trip the Horbury ringers had to Felkirk a few years ago. Mr. Pickles was selected as guide, as it was dark when we set off for home. When he thought we were somewhere near Sandal, he called a halt near a finger-post. After striking nearly a box of matches endeavouring to find our whereabouts, he suddenly saw lights ahead of us. 'It's all reight, chaps, yons Notton Station,' he cried. 'Let's mak for it.' So we made for it, and when we got to it, it was another waggonette.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The meeting of the Northern District of the London County Association at Willesden, on Saturday last, proved a very pleasant one, and the bells having been raised beforehand, ringing began promptly at the advertised time. The following methods were rung: Grandsire Triples, Stedman, Kent, and a touch of Cambridge for the service at 5 p.m. Tea was followed by the business meeting, the Master being in the chair for the latter. Ringing was soon resumed, and touches of Plain Bob, Kent, Oxford, Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge were brought round successfully. Nine o'clock came all too soon, but the enthusiasts, nothing daunted, set handbells going to Plain Bob, Kent, Stedman Caters and Stedman Cinques, this bringing a very successful and instructive meeting to an end. Thanks are due to the Rector and steeplekeeper for their kind welcome and arrangements.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD. STOCKPORT BRANCH.

The quarterly meeting, held on Saturday, October 1st, at Taxal, was very well attended, between forty and fifty members and friends being present and the branch as a whole well represented. The esteemed hon. secretary (the Rev. A. T. Beeston) conducted the service, giving a helpful and instructive address. The chairman (Mr. T. Jackson, of Disley) read the lesson.

Tea was served at the Royal Oak, and it was evident the fine October air had given the visitors keen appetites. The usual business meeting followed, presided over by Mr. T. Jackson.—The Hon. Secretary announced that the Rector (the Rev. S. Evans) had become an hon. member, and had expressed a wish that all present would have a drink at his expense.—A hearty and cordial vote of thanks was passed to the Rector for his generosity, and his health was duly toasted. This was followed by a course of Grandsire Triples 'in hand.'

The summary of the proceedings of the annual festival was given by Mr. T. Wilde, supplemented by Messrs. A. Barnes and W. Gordon, and two new members were elected.

It was decided that the annual meeting be postponed, and be the first meeting of the new year. Therefore, the next meeting to be held at St. Paul's, Stayley, on Saturday, December 10th, will be an ordinary one. This arrangement, it was pointed out, will give the secretary ample time to prepare his report.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the authorities for permitting the meeting to be held, and for the use of the bells; to the hon. secretary for his address, and to the chairman for his services.

During the course of the meeting, Mr. Beeston remarked that he patiently perused the columns of 'The Ringing World' for reports of peals rung in the branch, and so far had not had the pleasure of seeing many. He expressed a wish that the leader of each tower should arrange one, and that, if sufficient members of his own band could not stand in an attempt, there were several ringers who would gladly make up the number.

The bells, a fine ring of six by Taylor (tenor 11 cwt.), were well requisitioned throughout the afternoon and evening. There is also in the tower a pre-Reformation bell, which hangs above the rest. The church, dedicated to St. James, is a neat edifice of stone, with a square Western tower. It is beautifully situated on the banks of the River Goyt, a short distance from the highway to Buxton, and it cannot be seen until closely approached, being surrounded by stately trees, which make it a secluded and pleasant retreat. The autumn tints of the trees and the surrounding hills presented a fine picture in the sunshine. The Goyt Valley is well known for its beautiful scenery, which, on this occasion, was added to by the music of the bells reverberating amongst the hills.

NEW PEAL OF SIX AT POUGHILL. A DEVON RESTORATION.

On Wednesday, Sept. 21, the peal of six bells at the Parish Church of St. Michael, Poughill, were reopened, and the new treble dedicated by the Bishop of Crediton, in the presence of a very large congregation. The Bishop gave an excellent address. Those who assisted at the service were the Rev. Gurney (Rector) and clergy from the neighbouring parishes. The service was an impressive one, and afterwards the bells pealed out o'er hill and valley their joyous notes. The Poughill ringers rang the opening touch, and other ringers who afterwards took part came from Lapford, Cadleigh, Alplington, Stoodleigh, Cruwys, Morehard, Cheriton, Fitzhame, Knowstone and Thorverton. The ringing included some splendid rounds rung as these Devon men can ring them, but there was also some splendid method ringing during the afternoon and evening. All were well pleased with the 'go' and tone of the bells, and especially of the new treble, making Poughill rank with the best peals of six in the county. The work has been most satisfactorily executed by Messrs. W. Aggett and Sons, of Chagford, who have put in their patent adjustable gunmetal bearings and modern fittings.

SUFFOLK ASSOCIATION'S FIRST SURPRISE PEAL.

The first Surprise peal by the new Suffolk Diocesan Association—a peal of Cambridge at Feering, Essex, recorded in another column—was rung to celebrate a multiplicity of events. It was a birthday compliment to Mr. and Mrs. J. Sadler, who attained the age of 68 on the 18th and 22nd September respectively. It was also to celebrate the birth of a son and heir to Mr. and Mrs. R. Fisher Feering, on Sept. 10th, and of a son and heir to Mr. and Mrs. W. Mellins, of Witham, on Sept. 19th. Further it was a farewell peal to the Vicar (the Rev. A. F. Curtis), who is shortly retiring, and to whom the band wish to tender their thanks for the use of the bells.

The band afterwards adjourned to Rye Mills, and after partaking of the cup that cheers, but not inebriates, tapped peals, rung peals, the Editor's leading articles, and some other articles were discussed, and among other items was rung a 288 Kent Treble Bob, 'in hand': F. Claydon 1—2, A. Shufflebotham 3—4, W. Keeble 5—6, A. Saunders 7—8. The party dispersed about 9 p.m., well satisfied with the afternoon's performance.

SOCIETY FOR THE ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD. THE ROWLAND CARTWRIGHT MEMORIAL.

A capital meeting was held at Brewwood on Saturday week, when members and friends assembled to the number of about 60. The four standard methods were rung during the afternoon and evening upon the fine ring of bells. A good tea was provided at Mr. Perry's, to which full justice was done. Then followed a service in church, when an address was given by the Rev. Freb. Dunkley, M.A., Vicar. During the singing of a hymn a sum of ten pounds, together with a list of subscribers, was handed over to the Vicar—who in turn presented it at the altar—representing the amount collected from towers in the Archdeaconry to help defray the cost of repairs to the church steeple at Brewwood. Prior to his address, the Vicar very warmly thanked those whose names appeared on the list for such a welcome gift. He took his text from Jeremiah vi. 16, and gave an interesting account of the church building and the history of the surrounding neighbourhood.

A special service is to be held at Wombourn on Saturday, October 29th, at 4 o'clock, as a fitting conclusion to the erection of the memorial in the churchyard to the late Rowland Cartwright. All will be welcome.

It was announced that the peal of ten bells at Stafford are to be rededicated on Sunday, Oct. 9th—they having recently been rehung after lying dormant for several years—and that all and sundry will be heartily welcome to have a ring there on the following Saturday, 15th inst., during the afternoon and evening.

The next quarterly meeting is provisionally fixed to take place at Stafford on January 14th.

BICENTENARY CELEBRATION.

At Southwell Cathedral on Wednesday evening, Sept. 7th, to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the return of the bells, after being recast by Abnham Rudhall, of Gloucester, a date touch (1,721) of Grandsire Triples was rung in 1 hour and 8 mins., by the following: W. W. Shorthose 1, T. Foster 2, G. E. Padgett 3, F. Pickard 4, E. Foster 5, H. F. Clulow 6, A. J. Chamberlain (composer and conductor) 7, F. Milner 8. Longest length in the method by local band. The touch contains all the 7-4's.

A 'FAMILY' PEAL ATTEMPT.

An attempt for a peal of Bob Major by a band of Lamberts, so well known in Kentish ringing circles, was made at Marden on Sept. 3rd but was lost just past the half-way single: R. B. Lambert 1, J. A. Lambert 2, F. J. Lambert, senr., 3, R. T. Lambert 4, W. H. Lambert 5, R. E. Lambert 6, F. J. Lambert 7, E. C. Lambert (conductor) 8.

ESSEX RINGERS' EXCURSION IN KENT.

Tenterden seems to be the Mecca of many ringers lately—no doubt the courtesy and kindness shown to visitors by the local ringers have as much to answer for as the famous peal of eight. On August 31st, the ringers of Puttlewell, Essex, and a few friends spent a very pleasant time there on the occasion of their annual outing.

A start was made from Southend at 6.33 a.m. to Gravesend via Tilbury. A charabanc was chartered from Gravesend to make the journey through Kent. The first halt was at Leeds, after a most enjoyable ride through the Medway Valley. Having first inspected the grave of James Barham, and marvelled at his endurance in that peal which lasted 27 hours, the bells were raised, and touches of Treble Ten and Grandsire Caters rung. If bells could be carted away en bloc, how many bands would like the opportunity of stealing this fine peal of ten?

Unfortunately, owing to a late start from Gravesend, there was no time for dallying, and a move was made to Headcorn. Here touches of Stedman, Double Norwich and Kent Treble Bob were indulged in to the obvious interest of a party of charabancers. Tenterden was next on the programme, and was reached just before 1 p.m. in time for a splendid repast at a restaurant near the church. After lunch the tower was invaded, and the grand old bells were soon going to Stedman. The time came all too soon for the return journey, and at 3.30 a start was made for Frittenden. Here Double Norwich, Stedman and Kent Treble Bob were rung, and the party set out for the final tower on the programme—Linton. In this beautiful little church touches of Double Norwich, Stedman Triples and Kent were enjoyed. Then came the long run back to Gravesend, which was reached about 8.30 p.m. The day was voted the most enjoyable ever spent by the bands who wish to record their very grateful thanks to the incumbents and ringers of the towers visited for the kindness and trouble taken on behalf of their visitors.

PRESENTATION.

On Sunday, Sept. 4th, before ringing for evening service, a little ceremony took place in the belfry at St. Illtyd's Church, Bridgend, Mr. R. Evans presenting Mr. A. J. Stanley with a smoker's companion, as a token of esteem, from his brother ringers. Mr. Stanley, who has gone to reside near Newport, has been a ringer at St. Illtyd's Church for many years, and, naturally, will be greatly missed. As a farewell, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was attempted, but unfortunately came to grief. A 420 Stedman Triples was, therefore, rung by: J. Evans 1, C. H. Perry 2, A. J. Stanley 3, R. Gregory 4, R. Evans 5, A. J. Pitman 6, D. R. James (conductor) 7, B. J. Toby 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Bolney, where the Sussex Association held a meeting the other day, is one of the villages most remote from a railway station in Sussex, but it possesses a musical ring of eight bells, which would doubtless be much more in request by ringers were they a little more accessible. Bolney can boast of having had a peal of eight as long as almost any other tower in the county, with the possible exception, perhaps, of Chichester Cathedral campanile.

One of the bells was the product of the Whitechapel Foundry in 1582, and was cast by the first of his line, Robertus Mot. Other bells came at different times; but one by William Eldridge, of Chertsey, cast in 1660, remained for more than two hundred years. The peal of eight was completed in 1740, by Robert Catlin, who in the previous year had succeeded to the business established in London by Samuel Knight, previously of Reading.

This foundry, which is presumed to have been in the neighbourhood of Shoe Lane, Holborn, ceased with the death of Catlin's successor, about 1781, so that Bolney has a link with a long extinct line of founders, who were in business in Reading as long ago as 1560.

An interesting anniversary falls in next week. On October 12th, 1754, Holt's ten-part peal of Grand sire Triples was rung for the first time. This was at St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, and is recorded in the peal book of the Cumberland Youths. George Patrick, who was a leading conductor in London in those comparatively early days of peal ringing, rang the treble and 'call'd hobs.' The ringer of the 5th was Francis Wood, grandfather of Matt. Wood, whose death in 1912 severed a link of more than 160 years in London ringing.

Clent, where the Northern Branch of the Worcestershire Association rang their quarterly peal on Saturday week, possesses among its bells four by Bagley, one of the successors to the Henry Bagley, the first Northamptonshire bell founder, who established himself at Chacombe, Northants, in 1632. The four bells at Clent date from 1681, others were added in 1718 and 1723 respectively, and Messrs. Taylor and Co. made them eight in 1902.

Readers are reminded of the appeal made last week for help towards the restoration of the bells at the Parish Church, Barley, Herts: £100 is needed, and contributions should be sent to Mr. W. Mausfield, or Mr. R. Howard, Church End, Barley.

One of the Old Brigade took part in a peal at St. John's, Deptford, last week. Mr. Joseph Law, who is in his 80th year, rang the 4th to a peal of Grand sire Triples, and great credit is due to him for the performance.

In response to the appeal made last week for the use of volumes of 'Bell News' in connection with the Central Council Library, Mr. D. J. Nichols, of Kettering, has kindly offered to present to the Council the bound volumes of that journal for the years 1903-04-05. Offers of volumes covering the other years between May, 1901, and December, 1910, will be welcomed by the Librarian (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), Broadlands, Caversham, Reading.

The peal of ten at Stafford, rung by the Whitechapel Foundry, are to be rededicated on Sunday, and on the following Saturday there will be an open ringing meeting.

What will be one of the heaviest peals of eight in the country will be opened at 3 p.m. on Saturday, October 29th, when the bells at Westbury, Wilts, will be dedicated.

The old six have been recast and two new trebles added by Messrs. Taylor and Co., who have hung them in an entirely new iron framework, with new fittings, including ball bearings. The tenor is over 35 cwt.

Major C. F. Jerram, D.S.O., of H.M.S. 'Raleigh,' has recently been in port at Quebec, where he took the opportunity of visiting the Rector of St. Matthew's. Major Jerram, who is keenly interested in ringing, made suggestions for improving ringing at St. Matthew's Church, where there is a peal of eight bells, and it is hoped that good results may follow.

The attention of Salisbury Guild ringers is called to the meeting of the Devezes branch, which is to be held at Bradford-on-Avon to-morrow (Saturday).

THE SUFFOLK DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In your report of the meeting of the Suffolk Diocesan Association, held at Hadleigh, on Saturday, Sept. 17th, you state that the towers of North Walsham and St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, were represented. This is not so. It is true that I and Mr. G. F. Burton were at Hadleigh, but we were there in the capacity of representatives of the Norwich and Ipswich Association to take part only in a conference held previously to the general business meeting of the Suffolk Diocesan Association. It is obvious that the towers of North Walsham and St. Peter Mancroft could be represented at a Suffolk meeting.—Yours faithfully,

ARTHUR L. COLEMAN, Secretary.

Norwich and Ipswich Association.

North Walsham, Norfolk.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A most successful meeting of the Eastern District took place at North Cave, on Saturday, Sept. 24th, this being the first visit of the association, thereby fulfilling the rule as to unaffiliated towers. A most hearty welcome was accorded the members by the Vicar (the Rev. M. N. Rice, M.A.), whose keen interest in ringing made the visit doubly agreeable. The bells, a nice light ring of six, by Taylor, were made good use of during the afternoon.

A service was held at 4 p.m., and a short address given by the Vicar, who spoke from Zechariah xiii. 20, 'In that day shall there be upon the bells of the houses, Holiness unto the Lord.' He referred to the difficulty of change ringing, and said that ringers should be very careful of their privilege in being able to ring bells.

An excellent repast was afterwards provided by Mrs. Foster in the Albion Hotel, and short work was made of the renowned local delicacy, 'Cave cheesecakes.'

The business meeting followed, the Vice-President (Mr. A. E. West) being in the chair. One new member was elected—Mr. L. Dobson, of Market Weighton. It was proposed that the annual meeting be held at Selby, subject to the usual permission being granted, failing which, Pontefract should be visited.—A vote of condolence to the relatives of the late Mr. Charles Jackson was passed, by the members standing in a few moments in respectful silence.

An informal discussion took place on the advisability of having fixed dates for the meetings, and the secretary was asked to put this on the agenda for the annual meeting.

The Vicar had previously expressed a desire for expert assistance for his ringers, and a band was arranged to visit North Cave once a month.—Votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, and for his instructive address at the service; also to the organist, the verger (Mr. J. T. Blanchard) for his excellent arrangements, and to Mrs. Foster for the splendid catering. This concluded the business, and ringing was again indulged in until dusk. Thus ended a very pleasant meeting, in this most delightful of villages, nestling at the foot of the Yorkshire Wolds.

WESTERN DISTRICT.

A most successful meeting of the Western District was held at Wetherby, on Saturday, Sept. 24th, when over 80 members and friends attended. The bells, a fine new peal of eight, rang out merrily during the afternoon and evening in various methods. A short service was held in the church, conducted by the Vicar, who gave an interesting address.

Subsequently the visitors sat down to a good tea in the churchroom. The business meeting followed, Mr. G. Bolland being in the chair, supported by the Rev. C. C. Marshall (president) and the Rev. P. P. P. P. P. (Vicar of Wetherby).

Owing to no invitations being forthcoming for the December meeting, it was left in the hands of the committee to select a place.—A vote of thanks to the Vicar and wardens for the use of the bells and churchroom was accorded, on the motion of the Rev. C. C. Marshall, seconded by Mr. Cotterell.—The Vicar, in responding, said it was a great honour to Wetherby to have a meeting of the association there. Everything was done to make the meeting successful, and he hoped the ringers had enjoyed themselves. He also wished they would pay Wetherby another visit.—A vote of thanks to the local company and the ladies who served tea, was replied to by Mr. Johnson.—The tower was again visited, bringing a most enjoyable meeting to a close.

ESSEX RINGERS IN HERTFORDSHIRE.

On Saturday, Sept. 17th, the Woodford and Loughton ringers had their annual outing, and were accompanied by Mr. G. F. Margetson and Mr. H. T. Scarlett. A very pleasant journey by charabanc brought them to St. Albans about 10.30 a.m. Ringing at St. Stephen's was first on the programme, but the nice peal of six were going none too well. Touches of Bob Minor and Treble Bob and Bob Doubles for the young ones were brought round. Next, at St. Michael's, everything was found in first-class order, and some good ringing took place, touches of Kent Treble Bob, Bob Minor, Stedman, Grand sire and Bob Doubles being brought round. After an excellent dinner at Messrs. Slater's Restaurant, the handbells were brought into use, and touches and tunes were rung to the delight of the staff and people in the street below. A move was then made for the Abbey, where the visitors were met by Mr. Whiteman, who piloted them up the lofty tower. Grand sire and Stedman Triples and Treble Bob and Bob Major were rung, and all were very pleased to have a pull on this heavy peal of eight. The party then continued the journey to Hatfield, where they were kindly met by some of the local ringers. The ringing on this splendid peal of eight included Grand sire, Stedman, Bob Major, Treble Bob and Double Norwich, some of the local men taking part. After tea, at the Salisbury Temperance Hotel, it was found the time had gone too quickly, and a visit to Hadley had to be abandoned. Therefore, after a few more tunes and change ringing on the handbells, and a selection on the piano by Mr. Margetson, a start was made for home, which was reached about 10 o'clock, after a thoroughly enjoyable day. The ringers wish to thank all the Hertfordshire friends who helped them spend such a pleasant time.

DEVONSHIRE GUILD.

PROGRESS OF THE NORTH-EAST BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the North-East Branch was held at Calverleigh on Saturday, September 24th, and brought together no less than fifty-three ringers, representing Bampton, Bickleigh, Calverleigh, Chipstable, Exeter, Holcombe Rogus, Huntsham, Lifton, Milverton, Sowton, Thorverton, Tiverton, Washfield, and West Moors (Dorset). This constituted a record attendance for the branch, and it speaks volumes for the enthusiasm for change ringing in this corner of Devon, where the difficulties of the art itself are magnified by difficulties of transit and the isolated situation of many towers. It was evidence also of the value of subdividing unwieldy associations into districts, providing regular meetings which give the most out-of-the-way tower its turn, and intensifying the spirit of emulation and a guild patriotism by concentrating upon the smaller area. Calverleigh is a tower which stands almost to itself, amidst beautiful scenery, and possesses a light ring of six bells (tenor about 6 cwt.), and an aspiring band of change ringers. A feature of this meeting was the number of clerical ringers present, and advantage was taken of the occasion to ring two six-scores of Grand sire Doubles by clergymen only: Revs. W. G. Carew (Bickleigh), Maitland Kelly (Lifton), E. J. Barton (Holcombe Rogus), F. Carter (Witleigh), E. V. Cox (Bampton), O. C. Cox (West Moors). Ringing was kept up continuously during the afternoon and evening in Grand sire and Stedman Doubles, with a touch of Bob Minor towards the end. At the service in church, the Rev. Maitland Kelly, president of the Guild, gave an address, recalling the memory of William D. James killed in the war, and urging upon all ringers the desire of improving themselves in the practice of their art.

Tea was served at the Court, by kind permission of Major and Mrs. J. Chichester, and afterwards the general meeting was presided over by the Rev. E. J. Barton, chairman of the branch. The Hon. Secretary and Treasurer (the Rev. E. V. Cox) presented a very encouraging report. Membership, he said, had increased from 86 to 94, and the accounts showed a balance in hand of £5 13s. 9d.

All the officers were unanimously re-elected.—Twerton was decided upon as the place for the December meeting.—Votes of thanks were accorded to Major and Mrs. Chichester, the Rev. F. and Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Woodley, and her helpers at the tea, and to the chairman and secretary for their services during the past year.

The Rev. E. V. Cox, to whose spirited efforts and practical enthusiasm for change ringing the growth of the branch is very largely due, in replying, emphasised the need of passing on to the mastering of Stedman and Plain Bob Minor by those who can now ring Grand sire.—The President of the Guild spoke of the joy it gave him to have such proof of the flourishing condition of the branch, and likewise impressed the expediency of moving on to Minor Methods, with Plain Bob as the foundation. He also called to mind the splendid propaganda work done by the Twerton men many years ago.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Portsmouth District was held at Curdridge, on Saturday last, when members, to the number of 25, were present from Alverstoke, Curdridge, Gosport, Havant, Portsmouth, Portsea, Wickham, and visitors from Upham, Bishopstoke, North Stoneham, and Southampton, and the Rev. E. Banke James. The fine peal of eight were available during the afternoon and evening, and were used to full advantage. Shortly after 5 p.m. the first contingent of ringers went to tea (as accommodation would not permit of all sitting down at once), and two courses of Cambridge Surprise Major were rung by the remaining ringers. After these had finished their repast, the business meeting was held, when several new members were elected, including the Rector of Soberton as an honorary member.

Portsmouth was chosen for the annual meeting, to be held in January, due notice of which will appear in 'The Ringing World.'

A letter was read from the Vicar of Curdridge, regretting, through indisposition, that he could not attend, although he wished the Guild a hearty success.—A vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and a vote of sympathy to him, closed a successful meeting, at which all the standard methods were rung.

A meeting of the Guildford District was held at Wonersh, on Saturday, September 17th, and was well attended. Ringers were present from Capel, Dunsfold, Godalming, Holy Trinity and S. Nicolas, Guildford, Shalford, Shere, Ockham, Walton and Woking. Service was conducted by the Vicar, who also gave an address. Tea was held at the Grantley Arms, presided over by Mr. W. R. Melville, who also took the chair at the business meeting which followed.—A vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar of Wonersh for the use of the church and bells, and for conducting the service; also to the Vicars of Bramley and Shalford for the use of the bells there.

CUCKFIELD, SUSSEX.—At Holy Trinity Church, on Saturday, August 27th, an attempted peal of Grand sire Triples, failed after 2 hours 40 minutes' ringing; R. J. Dawe 1, E. J. Pannett 2, G. Apps 3, T. Mitchell 4, T. Gasson 5, F. Attwater (conductor) 6, G. Wood 7, A. Wheale 8.

PEALS TAPPED ON HANDBELLS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I see in your leading article of last week you attribute my arguments to either ignorance or prejudice, and run away with the idea that the Exercise will find amusement out of the tail of my letter. Perhaps they will, but it won't all be at my expense. Now, I don't think you can lay either of these things at my door. In the first place, I do not think I am ignorant of much concerning the practical side of ringing, and I can hold my own in any argument concerned with it. When I speak or write it is from my own experience, and not from what others have told me. As regards prejudice, do not run away with the idea that I think that records which I have set up cannot be beaten. I should be pleased to see some of them beaten. It would give me an opportunity to try and set up some fresh ones. But let these performances be beaten by scientific change ringing, not by mechanical systems of tapping, which is not ringing at all. I still say that from a scientific point of view the ringing of an inside pair of bells to a peal of London is one of the greatest achievements, and when someone rings more than two bells it will be beaten, and not until then. If Mr. Morris is capable of that, he would have fallen in with my suggestion, and it would prove whether his performances are done on the same lines as change ringing. You speak of my knowledge of tapping, what about your own knowledge? You say 'these performances are beyond us.' How do you know who they are beyond? No one with any exceptional ability as a ringer has ever taken it up seriously. Now, sir, I think you would have shown more wisdom if you had left this subject to those who started it. I should never have taken any part in it had I not been concerned in the discussion on it, which resulted in the Essex Association deciding not to book the peals. The fact that you are Editor of this journal does not entitle you to try and be the dominating figure in all disputes which arise out of ringing, and you are not justified in opposing decisions set up by the Central Council. I fail to see what your object can be unless it be self-preservation, but if you are open to stand by anything for the sake of this, we shall soon be seeing peals which are 'lapped' appearing in your columns, and all I can say is that in doing so you are dragging change ringing down to the lowest possible level, and dragging science into the dust. It has always been my object to raise the standard, and if I have not succeeded I certainly have never done anything to lower it.—Yours, etc.,

W. PYE.

The last thing that one would attribute to Mr. Pye is ignorance in the practice of ringing. On the contrary, the suggestion of ignorance was made against us by Mr. Pye in his last letter, when he said that 'those persons who so readily express their opinions know very little.'

Mr. Pye, however, now goes on to another issue, and says we have no right to try and be the dominating figure in all disputes which arise out of ringing. But neither has Mr. Pye in those in which he takes a hand. It is, however, the duty of an Editor to put facts before his readers, and as far as possible do justice to all. We doubt if both sides of a question could have been more fairly put than in our article upon 'Tapped Peals,' in our issue of Sept. 16th. Up to that time Mr. Pye and others had the free use of our columns to express their views. We endeavoured to sum up fairly between the two claims, but Mr. Pye challenged us with being unjust to 'double-handed' peal ringers. Now that we have, as we think, proved that we were 'not guilty' under this count, he desires to deny us the right of expressing our views. If in the exercise of our duty and privilege of helping to mould opinion we appear to some people 'to be trying to be the dominating figure in all disputes,' that is not our fault. No writer ever had everyone in agreement with him, and we certainly do not expect to have the whole Exercise in agreement with us on every subject which we deal with; but if our articles cause others to think then our object has been served.

Further, Mr. Pye says we are not justified in opposing decisions set up by the Central Council. We imagine, however, that we have as much right to criticise them as anyone else, if we do not agree with them, but, in regard to peal tapping, can Mr. Pye point to one single word we have written in which we have disagreed with the Central Council, or, for that matter, with the attitude of the Essex Association, in whose decision Mr. Pye had a voice, and on whose behalf he took up the cudgels in our columns.

What we are waiting for now, however, are not side issues, but Mr. Pye's plan, upon which a peal can be tapped by one person, which does not require a greater mental effort than the ringing of two handbells to a peal in the same method. That will be the best proof of Mr. Pye's authority to dictate on this subject.—Ed. 'Ringing World.'

MR. MORRIS REPLIES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As Mr. Pye has been handling my name pretty roughly lately, I think it is about time I had a say in the matter, in reviewing the 'debate,' if one may term it so. He is simply confirming what we said in our first letter, that the Essex Association did not understand the subject sufficiently to pass such a resolution, and there ought to have been an inquiry into the subject. In his talk of educational value, Mr. Pye was only theorising, whilst we, having tested the practical value derived from tapping, knew what we were talking about. His second letter practically lost sight of the subject, and as Mr. Broyd has dealt with it, I pass that, and come to his third. I may say at once I never saw a fairer view taken of a subject than that taken by the Editor in a previous issue. I am sure there is no ringer who would try to belittle the most clever feats of that gifted family, the Baileys, or of the Guildford and Birmingham bands, not to mention others. My own doings I leave to the judgment of others. I would like to ask Mr. Pye how long he has been a judge on the capabilities of a man? I quite agree with him when he says it requires men of exceptional ability to ring a pair of handbells to a peal of London, but that does not say that sooner or later a man will not come along who will be able to do the work of the whole eight. And may I also ask that when he is conducting a peal in that method does he not follow the course of each bell, for that is what I have always thought a conductor ought to be able to do? If so, why should he say such a thing is impossible in tapping? And again, I have never to my knowledge told him how much or how little I know of London. I might say in passing that I could have rung London long ago had I the same chance as himself. I notice, too, that he is trying to tell the Exercise that I tap by a system that has no relation to change ringing, yet he curiously enough omits any details. I think, however, my letter of explanation will be sufficient answer to that. Whether I shall be able to make an expert ringer through tapping remains to be seen. I am a better judge of that than he can be, so he need not worry about that. I note, too, that he mentions once or twice that one cannot call tapping ringing. We have never made that claim yet, but we have made the claim that tapping is a great aid in the progress of our art. If I were asked to deliver a lecture on change ringing, I should take my bells with me and intersperse my remarks, with change ringing, thereby illustrating what I had to say by a practical demonstration. Is not this promoting the art more than by mere talking? Again, if I were asked to stand in a peal in the tower, I should practise the peal over, and I suggest that I should be of more practical service to the band when the peal came off than if I had just looked at a paper.

In his last letter, Mr. Pye is unconsciously paying me a great compliment, by saying in effect, it is impossible for me to spring into fame in a few weeks. I say, with the lessons of the great war still in our memory, how can any man say what is impossible and what is not, where men were performing impossible tasks almost every day, tasks in which, I am proud to say, a large number of my brother ringers took part? I am sure that Mr. Pye cannot tell the capacity of my brain. If he can he is very clever, for that is more than I know myself. I see, although he is up against tapping peals, he wants me to take four handbells with him and another. I do not think it would be a great matter to do that; but the point is, why should I cater to the wishes of a man who, trying to denounce my other performances, has no objection to me wasting time over freak performances. I may say that as I am only a common workman, I have no time to waste over such luxuries as freaks, by the performance of which no good purpose would be served. May I say here, that any knowledge I may have that is any good to any of my brother ringers, is theirs for the asking. In my opinion the church to-day is up against the biggest fight in her history, one may almost say a fight for existence, and she is looking to her ringers to give her every ounce of support of which they are capable, and it is up to us to get every recruit we can by every means that lies in our power. I say to any ringer who has any fresh ideas, for teaching or in ringing, never mind how silly they look at first sight, try them out, and see what they come to, for it is the trying out of such things from which one gains experience, if nothing else; do not mind the opinions of men who have placed themselves on such a high pedestal that they cannot see the struggles of their humbler brothers trying to keep a hand together. I am pleased to say these are few and far between, for I have had many letters from different parts of the country, telling me to go straight on. That is the spirit that will make any organisation go ahead; not the spirit we have seen running through this debate.—Yours sincerely,

ARTHUR T. MORRIS.

A letter from Mr. W. Keeble is unavoidably held over until next week.—Ed.

TRUE PEAL AFTER ALL.

Sir,—I am sorry to say that in my letter last week, with reference to the peal of London Surprise tapped by Mr. Morris, I condemned a true peal, as the only leads of the plain course used in the 5,600 are the 1st, 7th and part of the last lead, and repetitions cannot occur in those with the tenors together. You will see I have committed a technical error, for which I most humbly apologise to Mr. Morris, the Exercise and yourself, for wasting your valuable time and space.

SIBLE HEDINGHAM RINGERS' OUTING.

On Saturday, Sept. 10th, the Sible Hedingham ringers, accompanied by several ringing friends from Gestingthorpe and Great Yeldham, had their annual outing. Starting from Sible Hedingham about 7 a.m., by motor charabanc, the first call was made at Haverhill, where the party were met by Mr. D. Elliott, of Great Henny, and some of the local company. The bells are a nice light ring of six, and touches of Treble Bob and Grandsire were rung. The next move was to Radwinter, where is a good ring of eight, which would be all the better for a little attention from a bell hanger. However, Treble Bob and Grandsire were brought round, although a nice touch of Stedman was lost through the seventh slipping wheel. The party then went on to Saffron Walden, where they were met by Mr. F. Pitstow, junr., and were in time to ring a good touch of Grandsire Triples for a wedding as the happy pair were leaving the church.

A good substantial dinner was enjoyed at the Temperance Hotel, after which the visitors returned to the tower, where they were met by Mr. F. Pitstow, senr., and Mr. Penning, and some very good touches of Treble Bob and Double Norwich Major, Grandsire and Stedman Caters were brought round. Some of the younger members had their first touch on ten bells, and they rang in most creditable style. Proceeding to Stansted, where everything was ready for ringing, further touches were rung, and then the party headed for home, passing through Dunmow and on to Felstead, where Mr. Farrow had the bells in readiness, and a few short touches of Treble Bob Grandsire and Stedman brought the ringing to a close. Home was reached about 11 p.m., after a most successful and enjoyable day. The ringers would like to thank the clergy of the various churches for the use of the bells, also the various local men who met them and assisted them in making everything such a success.

KIDLINGTON, OXON.—At St. Mary-the-Virgin's Church, on Wednesday, Sept. 21st, in 50 mins., for the wedding of Mr. C. Brown and Miss Robinson, of Water Eaton, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: J. Bowerman 1, C. Bennett 2, F. Webb 3, L. Tuffrey 4, W. Judge 5, J. H. R. Freeborn 6, G. A. King (conductor) 7, J. Franklin 8. Also 504 Stedman Triples: F. Webb 1, L. Tuffrey 2, G. A. King 3, J. H. R. Freeborn 4, V. Webb 5, J. Franklin 6, W. Judge (conductor) 7, W. H. Thorne 8; and 504 Grandsire Triples: R. R. Payne 1, C. Bennett 2, F. Webb 3, V. Webb 4, J. Franklin 5, W. Judge 6, L. Tuffrey (conductor) 7, W. H. Thorne 8.

THE SAFETY OF OLD RECORDS.

The history of the old ringing societies is always a subject of great interest to the majority of ringers. The present is built upon the past, and a knowledge of what was done by bygone generations is often of value—not only in upholding traditions, but in helping to a fuller realisation of the origin of present practices, and of the difficulties and obstacles which had to be surmounted, by those who in their day helped to lay the foundations upon which the Exercise has been erected. The modern associations have had the advantage of the ringing papers to record their progress, and their membership has been such that the printing of their own special Reports has been warranted, thereby providing, for all who come after, a reliable record of their doings. The old societies were not so fortunately placed. They had no ringing Press to help them, and could not afford to have recourse to printing. All they could leave us were their written records, and, happily, where these have survived, they are, for the most part, carefully preserved; and well they may be, for they are irreplaceable. Such records as those contained in the peal and minute books of the College Youths and the Royal Cumberlands, the St. Martin's Guild and the Painswick Youths, which carry us back to the 17th and 18th centuries, are guarded with great care by the Societies, and some other of the old records have found safe lodgment in the British Museum. But there are, unfortunately, other records which do not now seem to be in existence, or, if they are, are in the hands of those to whom they are of no value, and, possibly, of no interest. Mr. E. Alex. Young is anxious to find the records of the earliest days of the 'Society of St. James' Youths,' which, as the London County Association, is now approaching its centenary. Although founded in 1824, there is no minute of any description in the records held by the Society before May, 1830, and yet these first six years must have been, and from an historical standpoint undoubtedly were, among the most important in the Society's career. Another organisation, not so old as the St. James', but now practically defunct—although there are numerous 'life members' still in the active ranks of ringing—is the Waterloo Society. It would be interesting to know where the 'belongings' of this former London organisation are, and to put them into safe keeping before they are lost. Doubtless many valuable old MSS. have disappeared merely because of the death of the person last entrusted with them, and the passing of the papers into the hands of someone who had no knowledge of their interest or value. Mr. Young's endeavour to find out something of the first years of the history of the St. James' Youths may, we hope, prompt others to take up the search for other lost records which are known to have existed.

BELLS! BELLS! BELLS!

READING SOCIETY'S OUTINGS.

A very successful and enjoyable day was spent by the ringers of St. Mary's Society, Reading, on Saturday, Sept. 28th. The party of 14, including a few ladies, went by motor to Southsea. Leaving at 8 a.m. Petersfield was the first halt. Here a visit was paid to the Church of St. Peter, the bells of which were placed at the disposal of the party, and a hearty welcome accorded them by the Vicar and the members of the Petersfield band. An interesting hour was spent looking round the church, which is a fine example of Norman architecture, and has a light, roomy tower, with a nice peal of eight bells. Several touches of Grandsire Triples, Bob Major, and Stedman, were successfully brought round.

Then the whole party retired to lunch, a repast which was well served and greatly appreciated. The journey was then continued, and Southsea reached about 2.30. The day being exceptionally fine and warm, the party decided to extend the trip across to the Isle of Wight. Touches, double-handed, of Grandsire Triples and Caters were indulged in en route. The day was well advanced by the time they reached Southsea again, and after a light tea, a start was made for home, Reading being reached about 10.30 p.m., after a thoroughly enjoyable day's outing.

On Saturday, August 20th, St. Giles' Society, Reading, had their annual outing. The party, consisting of the ringers, their wives and friends, 28 in all, left Reading by charabanc at 8.45 a.m., arriving at Hagbourne about 11 a.m., where a halt was called, and a visit paid to the belfry. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich and Bob Major were rung, and tracks were then made to the Fleur de Lys, where another touch of 'knife and fork surprise' was partaken of, and justice was done to a substantial dinner provided by Host Napper. After dinner the party left for Blewbury, where attempts were made to ring touches on the bells, but without success, as the bells, especially the 6th, required a visit from the bell hanger instead of the ringers. The party next proceeded to Wantage, where tea was provided by Mr. Ash, the Market Place. Subsequently several touches were rung upon the fine peal of eight bells in the parish church, the ringers leaving for home at 8 p.m., and reaching Reading at 10 o'clock. They take the opportunity of tendering their thanks to the various incumbents for the use of the bells, and to those who made the necessary arrangements.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

PRESTON BRANCH SECRETARY'S APPEAL.

A very successful meeting of the Preston Branch was held at Whittle-le-Woods, on Saturday last about 30 members attending, and enjoying some good ringing on the fine peal of eight. The business meeting was held, under the chairmanship of Mr. H. E. Woodhouse, and the list of towers for meetings, as prepared by the branch secretary (Mr. E. A. Martin) was adopted with one slight alteration. This list will be circulated in due course to all the towers in the branch. Information was given to members of the rise in subscriptions and the price of instruction books.

In presenting a report of the year's working, the Branch Secretary made a strong appeal to the eight-bell ringers to attend the six-bell meetings, and go in for something better than Kent and Oxford Treble Bob.

At the close of business, a hearty vote of thanks were accorded the Vicar and local ringers for the use of the bells (so readily given when another tower was not available). Standard methods, with the addition of Double Norwich, were rung during the afternoon and evening.

A meeting of the Rossendale Branch was held at St. Nicholas', Newchurch, on Saturday, Oct. 1st, when members were present from Ramsbottom, Helmsford; St. Saviour's, Bacup; Haslingden and Rawtenstall, in addition to the local ringers.

Some excellent touches were rung during the afternoon and evening, the bells being kept going till after nine o'clock. These bells, which have only recently been rehung on the latest principle by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., are satisfactory in every way, and are a splendid ring.

Ramsbottom was chosen for the next meeting, and the usual vote of thanks to the Vicar and wardens for the use of the bells, also to the local ringers for having all in readiness, brought the meeting to a close.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

WESTERN DIVISION MEETING AT HORSHAM

A successful quarterly meeting of the Western Division of the Sussex Association was held at Horsham on Saturday, Oct. 1st. Members, including Miss Fisher, were present from Brighton, Billingshurst, Earlswood, Crawley, Dorking, Chiddingfold, Horley, Heene, Shipley, Pulborough, Shoreham, West Grinstead, Hurstpierpoint, Slinfold, Ruspur, Kirdford, and the local band. Ringing progressed during a full afternoon, and tea was served at the Queen's Head Hotel. A business meeting followed, Mr. E. C. Merrett occupying the chair.

Only one new member was elected, viz., Mr. G. Daynes. It was proposed to hold the next meeting at Arundel on Dec. 17th. The new rules of the association were discussed, but nothing definite was arrived at.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Merrett for presiding, to the Vicar of Horsham for granting the use of the bells, and to Mr. Leo Paice for making the arrangements.

The meeting over, most of the members returned to the belfry, and the bells were kept going till nine o'clock. It is interesting to note that a peal of Grandsire Triples rung in 1756 is commemorated by a tablet in the belfry. The present bells have been recently overhauled by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and great credit is due to them for the excellent tone and 'go' of the ring.

JAMES GEORGE RINGS HIS 700th PEAL.

An aspiration is a joy for ever, a possession as solid as a landed estate, a fortune which we can never exhaust and which gives us year by year a revenue of pleasurable activity. — Robert Louis Stevenson.

We have on many occasions in the past recorded items in connection with the extraordinary career of Mr. James George, and we now record in its proper place his 700th peal—Stedman Cinques on hand-bells rung in the Cathedral belfry, Birmingham, by members of the St. Martin's Guild.

We say 'extraordinary' advisedly, as although there are now quite a few men who have 700 peals to their credit (or discredit, according to the point of view!) we know of no other man who has achieved this huge total who did not start early in life, while our friend George did not learn to pull a bell until he was 36 years old. 'Old,' did we say! Tut, tut! the word is anathema to J. G., who swears that he feels better than he has ever felt in his life, and that not only could he do all the big jobs he has ever done over again, but do them better.

One of his greatest regrets is that no band has yet beaten the 12,240 of Treble Twelve rung at Ashton in 1911, in which he rang the tenor, as until this is beaten he has no excuse to go for a longer length. Can't someone oblige?

In the meantime, Mr. George is spending some of his boundless energy and enthusiasm in teaching a young band at Bishop Ryder's Church to follow in his footsteps, and all who have ever tried this know only too well what a difficult task it is. A ringing tour in which peals are scored every day with the help of a crack band is child's play compared to it, and there is no doubt as to which of the two ways of annoying the public helps the better to spread the art of change ringing.

Quite a large number of his peals are of the 12-bell variety, his first of Stedman Cinques being rung at St. Martin's, Birmingham, on October 16th, 1894. Only seven of those who took part in this peal are still in this vale of tears, and some of those have given up ringing and other bad habits, and are now living rational and respectable lives. But J. G. is positively incorrigible. We understand that before we have had time to announce to an expectant world the achievement of his 700th peal, he has actually rung another, and thus started gaily for another century. We warn him, however, that we cannot undertake to write up his 800th peal before the end of the current year.

By-the-by, the photo which is here reproduced, is an excellent likeness of Mr. George as he is to-day, and it will be noticed from the air of complacency on his benign countenance that he is not at all worried about the present, repentant for the past, or troubled as to the future. We have no doubt but what he will in due course (or earlier), if his luck holds good, join the select few who can claim to have rung 1,000 peals, and we trust he will live to fulfil his ambition.

He has rung in almost every corner of the British Isles, and it is common knowledge that to enable him to do this to the best advantage, the whole resources of the L. and N.W. Railway were for many years placed at his command. Why, when he used to come to Birmingham from Rugby he frequently missed the last train home, but then he used to catch the one after that, and it was more than the officials dare do to let that train go out without first ascertaining whether 'the man from Rugby' was on board.

The following are the associations and societies of which Mr. George is a member: Essex, Midland Counties, Middlesex, Winchester, Salisbury, Sussex, Hertford, Oxford, Archdeaconry of Stafford, Worcestershire, Hereford, Lancashire, Kent, College Youths, London County, Waterloo; All Saints', Fulham; St. Martin's, Birmingham; Durham and Newcastle; Raunds, Wellingborough and District; St. Margaret's, Westminster; Bedfordshire, United Counties, Ashton-under-Lyne, Gloucester and Bristol; St. Michael's Juniors, Gloucester; St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich; Norwich Diocesan, St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich; Nun-eaton; St. Andrew's, Rugby; Surrey, Warwickshire, Cheltenham and District, Llandaff, Irish, Lincolnshire, Yorkshire, Salop, Dudley and District Guild, Chester Diocesan, Worcester Cathedral.

Appended is the list of his 700 peals, which have been rung in 260 different towers, and 41 different counties, in England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales.

STOURBRIDGE OUTING.

The ringers of St. Thomas' Church, Stourbridge, held their annual outing recently, and journeyed to Bridgnorth by charabanc. The outward journey was through Wolverley and Shatterford. The party visited the tower of St. Leonard's, where they were welcomed by the local ringers. The belfry and the view from the tower were of special interest. Two good touches of Grandsire Triples and Bob Major were brought round, and a move was then made to the Castle Restaurant, where a capital tea awaited the party. Another visit was made to the tower, and with some of the local men Stedman Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major were rung. The homeward journey was made through Enville, Stourbridge being reached in good time. The ringers wish to thank Mr. J. Overton and his fellow ringers at Bridgnorth for the splendid arrangements, and for their hospitality in putting the bells at their disposal.

CENTRAL NORTHANTS ASSOCIATION. TOWERS IN THE WELLINGBOROUGH DISTRICT.

A quarterly meeting of the Wellingborough district was held at Earls Barton, by kind permission of the Vicar, on Saturday, Sept. 24th, when the following towers were represented: Northampton, Kettering, Wellingborough, Peterborough, Irthlingborough, Wollaston, Castle Ashby, Easton Maudit, Doddington, Isham, Wilby, Bozeat, Mears Ashby, Ecton, and the local ringers. During the afternoon, short touches in various methods were rung, including Cambridge Surprise, Woodbine, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Minor, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles. A short service was held in the beautiful and interesting old Parish Church, and the Vicar, though far from being well after a recent operation, officiated. Tea was partaken of in the schoolroom, kindly provided by the local ringers and their wives, the company numbering about 40.

The business meeting followed, and, in the absence of the vice-president, Mr. W. Wilson, the treasurer of the association, was voted to the chair. Apologies were received from Mr. Wilford (of Northampton) and Mr. G. Basford (of Finedon).

It was resolved to hold the next meeting at Wellingborough.—Three out county members were elected, viz., Messrs. F. W. Brinklow, of Oxhey; A. W. Dix, Watford; and Mr. J. King, of Southam. Owing to three of the Yardley Hastings ringers having joined the association, the question arose as to whether they were in the Northampton or the Wellingborough district, the tower being about half-way between the two. In the discussion which ensued it was felt by those present that it should be in the latter district, as they had only three towers with peals of six bells, whilst the Northampton district had seven towers with six bells, and the secretary was requested to write to the Rector, expressing this view, and hoping that this would be satisfactory to him and his band of ringers.

It was decided to hold occasional meetings in various parts of the district, apart from the quarterly ones, in the hope of creating a greater interest in the work of the association, and to help forward the art of change ringing.

The newly-appointed secretary appealed to all the members for their hearty support during his term of office, and to do their best in regard to Sunday Service ringing, and by attending the services so that they could be looked upon as churchworkers in the true sense of the word.

Amongst those present at the meeting were Mr. D. J. Nichols (hon. general secretary of the association), Mr. R. Richardson, Surfleet; Mr. T. Tehbutt, Miss Phyllis Hare, Miss A. Parkins, Miss C. Hepburn, etc.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar, with the hope that he might speedily be restored to health, the local ringers, and the ladies who helped with the tea, brought a most successful meeting to a close.

A course of Grandsire Caters was then rung on handbells; also a short touch of Stedman Triples, whilst others again visited the old tower to have another pull.

THE HATTERSLEY LIBRARY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the letter by the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn regarding the Central Council Library, I desire to inform him that the Sheffield Cathedral Company have in their tower the 'Charles Henry Hattersley Library,' the contents of which are at the disposal of the ringing community, subject to the conditions shown in the catalogue. The books Mr. Jenkyn inquires about are amongst the collection. If you would kindly publish the contents of the catalogue much labour would be saved, and an advantage gained by those who are desirous of knowing what our collection consists of. It must be distinctly understood that postage both ways must be paid by those wishing to borrow books.—Yours faithfully, COLIN HARRISON, Hon. Librarian.

53, Baltic Street, Sheffield.

We gladly comply with Mr. Harrison's request, and append the information he suggests. The library contains copies of 'Clavis Campanologia,' and the works by Shipway, Hubbard, Thackrah, Sottan-stall, Bannister, and Troyt; the Snowdon series, the Central Council publications; 'Duffield,' by Sir Arthur Heywood; Yorkshire Association Reports from Oct. 30th, 1875, to Sept. 30th 1915; 'Church Bells' from 1874 to 1879; 'Bell News' from 1881 to 1915; 'Campanologia' and 'The Bellringer.' The historical and other volumes are 'The Bell,' by the Rev. Alfred Gathy; 'Bells and Bellringers,' by Benjamin Lomax; 'The Bells of England,' by Dr. Raven; 'Bell Towers and Bell Hanging,' by Sir Arthur Heywood; 'The History of Shore-ditch Church,' by H. J. Bradley; and 'Sheffield Cathedral,' by the Rev. H. Cecil and J. R. Wigfull.

These books may be borrowed by any responsible individual, subject to the approval of the committee. Copies only of the numerous MSS. can be obtained.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A new ringing peal of ten for Scotland is to be dispatched from the Loughborough Foundry at the end of this month. They are for His Grace the Duke of Argyll, and are to be erected at Inveraray. The tenor is 41 cwt., and they will, we believe, be the heaviest ringing peal north of the Tweed.

A bazaar held recently at Llanfchain, in aid of the Church Belfry Fund, realised £160.

Mr. James George, 'of England,' has just rung his 700th peal, and has, we believe, now scored more than any other ringer in the Midlands.

By ringing his seven hundredth peal, Mr. George enters a small but select circle. The following are, we believe, the ringers who have previously passed the 700 mark: Mr. W. Fye, the late Rev. F. E. Robinson, the late Mr. E. Fye, Mr. I. G. Shade, and the late Mr. Bertram Prewett, Mr. G. R. Fye, Mr. G. Williams, Mr. J. W. Washbrook, Mr. F. Bennett, Mr. K. Hart. If there are others we shall be glad to hear of them—they are not intentionally omitted.

There is to be a week of celebrations in connection with the re-opening of the bells at All Saints', Hereford, on All Saints' Day, November 1st. In addition to the ceremony itself, a week of peal ringing at neighbouring towers is to be arranged, and those who wish to take part should peruse the notice in another column.

Among the visitors at the dedication of the new peal at Bradford Cathedral, on Saturday, October 1st, was Mr. John Austin, of Gloucester, who, after the ceremony, was invited to call a touch of Stedman Caters, and next day to conduct a peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major on the bells of St. Paul's, Shipley, along with Mr. Pryce Taylor. The peal unfortunately came to grief when half-way through.

We are approaching the 190th anniversary of the first peal of Stedman Triples, a performance claimed for the band at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich. Although this was challenged by a rival Norwich company, the figures of the peal are not now in existence, and its truth or otherwise cannot at this date be determined. But Oct. 25th is the anniversary of this performance. Will it be celebrated at the famous tower of Mancroft, where there is a most gratifying revival of ringing?

One of the early records put up in Treble Bob Royal was by the College Youths on Oct. 19th, 1766, when in 4 hrs. 21 mins. they brought round a peal of 6,000 at Shoreditch.

The first recorded peal of Treble Bob Major, containing the 60 course ends, was performed on Oct. 20th, 1794. It was 6,720 rung by the Cumberland Youths at St. Giles', Camberwell, and was conducted by that famous old ringer and composer, George Gross. William Shipway took part in the peal.

Thirty-eight years ago, on October 16th, 1883, the Amalgamated Society rang the longest peal of Grandsire Major on handbells. This was 10,176 in 4 hrs. and 55 mins., by: T. Russam 1—2, J. Carter 3—4, T. Miller 5—6, J. W. Cattle 7—8. It was composed and conducted by Mr. John Carter, and contained the 120 course ends and tenors together throughout. Mr. Carter was the first to compose a 13,320 with the tenors together throughout without a bob at every lead.

By the way, Mr. Carter has just returned to London, after a summer sojourn in the Isle of Man.

SOCIETY OF ST. JAMES' YOUTHS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I have been trying to throw some light upon the opening years of the 'Society of St. James' Youths.' They were founded in February, 1824. There appears to be, however, no written memo or minute until May 17th, 1830. Neither is there a recorded Mastership, until that of Mr. William Dunn, who was so acting in September, 1834.

It would appear likely that Mr. J. Collinson and Mr. T. Tolladay were amongst the early Masters. I should be very glad to know of anything which may have come down either written or by way of tradition in this matter. Also, if there were two ringers about 1830 known as Mr. Mann and Mr. John Coleman.

Incidentally, I feel that it is a great pity that any of the old records of ringing societies should be lost or get into improper hands, as has been too often the case in the past. Our present Guilds, or the Central Council, would be only too glad to have the care of such records, and might well encourage the return of the same.—Yours faithfully,
E. ALEX. YOUNG.

WATFORD, HERTS.—On Sunday, Oct. 2nd, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), in 51 mins.: A. J. Howard 1, R. Pieton 2, T. Pitkin 3, P. H. Doick 4, W. Norris 5, F. Edwards (conductor) 6, W. E. Oakley 7, E. Elliott 8. * First quarter-peal. P. H. Doick was on a visit from Fulborough, Sussex.

BRADFORD'S NEW BELLS.

A MAGNIFICENT RING.

On Saturday, October 1st, at the Cathedral, Bradford, the dedication of the recast ring of ten bells was performed by the Lord Bishop of the Diocese, Bishop Perowne. Long before the appointed time, 3 p.m., the Cathedral was well filled, and well-known ringers from all parts of the country were striving to gain admittance to the tower to have a pull upon this glorious new ring. Yorkshire claims to possess more ringing peals of fine quality than any other county, and such magnificent rings as Beverley Minster; St. Mary's, Beverley; Bridlington Priory; Holy Trinity, Hull; Huddersfield Parish Church; Selby Abbey, etc., immediately occur to one's mind, and are justly famed. Bradford Cathedral is now to be added to the list.

The recast tenor weighs 25cwt. 2qr. 21lb., and both inside and outside the tower the purity and richness of the bells individually and collectively is truly remarkable. This is partly attributable to the openings made in the tower roof for the escape of the sound, but principally, of course, to the perfect musical qualities of the bells themselves. Messrs. Taylor and Co., of the famous Loughborough Foundry, have carried out the recasting of the bells and their re-hanging with new fittings of their latest type, and consequently the bells now 'go' with the greatest ease and precision. The harshness of the old peal was only too apparent, especially in close proximity to the tower, but Messrs. Taylor have produced a remarkable transformation, and everyone was enthusiastic upon the glorious and booming effect, without noise, of the recast rung.

The inscriptions of the bells are as follows:—

Treble.—'For unto you is paradise opened, a city is builded and rest allowed,' Book of Ecdras.

From his desolate wife, in memory of her beloved husband. Sir J. Arthur Godwin, Kt., first Lord Mayor of Bradford, died April 29th, 1921, aged 68.

2nd.—'Praise to the Holiest in the height.'

In reverent thanksgiving to our immortal dead from the members of the Cathedral choir. Henry Coates, Organist and Choirmaster.

3rd.—'His servants serve Him day and night in His Temple.'

In memory of Edward Billson, Churchwarden, 1904-5, 1908-12. Died 17th April, 1919. Presented by his devoted widow, Sarah Billson.

4th.—'Lovest thou Me? Feed My lambs,' St. John xxi. 13.

The offerings of the teachers and scholars of the Cathedral Sunday Schools in gratitude for the heritage of freedom won by our splendid men.

5th.—'Labourers together with God,' 1 Cor. iii. 9.

This bell was given by the sidesmen of the Cathedral in thanksgiving for the blessings of victory and peace.

6th.—'Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends,' St. John xv. 13.

To place on record our love and gratitude to the men of this church and parish who paid the supreme sacrifice in the great war, 1914-1918. Given by the mothers of Bradford.

7th.—'He asked life of Thee, and Thou gavest him a long life: even for ever and ever,' Psalm xxi. 4.

In memory of Edward Alexander Shepherd, captain in 4th-5th Battalion of the Black Watch. Killed on Sept. 3rd, 1916, at Beaumont Hamel, aged 41. Presented by Elizabeth Mitchell.

8th.—'Except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain,' Psalm cxvii.

To commemorate the men of the city of Bradford who gave their lives for King and country in the great war, 1914-1918. Anthony Gadie, Lord Mayor, 1920-21. King George V.

9th.—'Te Deum Laudamus.'

In memory of the men of the Diocese of Bradford, who laid down their lives in the war, 1914-1918. Arthur William Thompson Perowne, D.D., first Bishop of Bradford.

Tenor.—To the Glory of God. Bradford Cathedral, 1921. The peal of ten bells was recast in memory of the men who fell in the great war, 1914-1918. William Stanton Jones, Vicar; Arthur Wellesley Ward, John Edward Holdsworth, Churchwardens.

The service was highly impressive in character. Clergy from many parts of the diocese were present. The congregation included the Lord Mayor of Bradford (Lieutenant-Colonel Anthony Gadie) and the Lady Mayoress (Mrs. Gadie).

Special hymns were sung, and the choir sang the anthem, 'How blest are they,' with impressive effect. At the selected part of the service the Bishop, clergy, churchwardens, and choir marched in procession to the west door of the Cathedral, under the tower, where Archdeacon Stanton Jones (Vicar of Bradford) asked the Bishop to dedicate the bells.

The Bishop performed the dedication in the following words:—

To the glory of God, and in grateful memory of those who gave their lives for King and country and a righteous cause, I dedicate the memorial peal of bells in this tower. May all who hear their sound realise the peace of sins forgiven, the joy of faithful service, and the power of the endless life to which may God vouchsafe to bring us all; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

A consecratory prayer followed, after which a short muffled peal was rung. Following the blessing the National Anthem was sung, and Trumpeter MacLoughlin sounded the Last Post.

The Bishop preached a thoughtful sermon on the lessons of the bells.

In the process of recasting, writes a correspondent, the bells have been changed from the worst peal in Yorkshire to the best for their weight. The new tenor is 25 cwt. 2 qr. 21lb. in D, as against 27 cwt. 14lb. for the old tenor. The new bells have been hung in the old oak frame, which is a very strong one. The bell hangers have braced and bolted it together in such a manner that it is quite rigid and likely to last for 100 years with a reasonable amount of attention which all frames require from time to time. Also the bells are hung in ball bearings, which is a great advantage. Messrs. Taylor and Co. have completed their work splendidly.

The Cathedral is surrounded by warehouses, and there have been complaints about the noise from time to time. To avoid this, the louvres have been closed up with reinforced glass, the roof of the tower opened out, and a lantern built on the top, which has proved very satisfactory in the moderation of the sound.

The opening ceremony was entirely a parochial affair. The ringers' opening will take place at a later date, when it is intended to invite the Yorkshire Association to hold a meeting at Bradford. This meeting will be announced in 'The Ringing World' in the usual way.

FUTURE OF THE LLANDAFF ASSOCIATION. EFFECT OF DIVISION OF DIOCESE TO BE DISCUSSED.

A quarterly meeting was held at Cowbridge on Saturday, Oct. 8th, when a large number put in an appearance. The bells, a ring of eight, by Evans, of Chepstow, were cast in 1722, the tenor being about 15½ cwt., and hang, as most of Evans' rings were hung, left-handed, making it somewhat awkward for young ringers. The bells were made good use of during the afternoon, and at 4.30 an adjournment was made to the Schoolroom, where tea, most kindly provided by the local ringers, was served. The business meeting followed, presided over by the Vicar (the Rev. D. Hopkin-James). Instructors' reports were read, and a number of new members made. It was decided to hold the next Llandaff Archdeaconry quarterly meeting at Llantrisant.

Notice was given that at the next annual meeting, which is to be held at St. Woolos, Newport, on Boxing Day, that owing to the formation of the new Diocese of Monmouth, the title of the association must be amended, or a new association formed, the matter to be discussed and decided then.

After the usual votes of thanks to the Vicar, the ladies, and to the local men for their hospitality, the meeting closed.

The bells were again requisitioned, and, as the bells of Llanblethian were also available, and were within easy distance, quite a number journeyed there. The weather was delightful, and with the presence of several ladies from St. Athan, Rumney, Whitchurch, Cardiff and Bridgend, added pleasure to the proceedings. From the ringing point of view, it was quite a red-letter day for Cowbridge, for never before has there been such a muster of ringers at the church. The meeting was a huge success.

AN ALARMING EXPERIENCE.

Ringers at Lenton on Saturday week, had an alarming experience. An attempt was being made for a peal of Treble Bob, and ringing had gone on merrily for an hour and 25 minutes, when, to the surprise of the band, a piece of plaster from the ceiling came down with a crash beside the ringer of the 6th, whom it missed by about an inch. But the 6th man, being a miner, coolly remarked, 'Keep going, I am used to them.' A few minutes after, however, three bells had a scramble for the slow, and bringing up the wrong course end, put a finish to the attempt. The distance from the roof to the belfry floor is about 40 feet. The band was: W. Thornley 1, S. Wesley 2, T. H. Kirkby 3, A. Hickton 4, E. C. Goby (conductor) 5, H. Harrison 6, H. Turner 7, J. F. George 8.

DOUBLE NORWICH COMPOSITIONS.

To the Editor.

Sir.—In the Norwich and Ipswich Association report for 1920, peal No. 3,276 was composed by me and first rung at St. Mary's, Debenham, December 1st, 1897, conducted by W. Pye. The figures appear in the report for that year. Peals, No. 3,264, 3,369, 3,401, are only simple variations of my peal. I think young composers ought to look up old reports and ringing papers before publishing old peals as new.—Yours sincerely,

EDGAR WIGHTMAN.

PEALS TAPPED ON HANDBELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. Morris's question as to whether my being able to repeat a peal figure by figure has ever been any use of me, I may say at once 'yes,' since I should do so by the rule of the method and the coursing order; but at the same time, in my view, that does not imply that tapping is any aid to Mr. Morris's teaching. If so, in what way? As I yet fail to grasp his system of tapping, but I am open to be convinced.

Now, sir, to business. With reference to your leading articles, I agree with some exceptions. If I remember right, there was another ringer of exceptional ability besides the Brothers Pye, who helped to achieve the supposed impossible, i.e., ring the first peal of London double-handed, and it so happens to be your humble. No offence, Mr. Editor, but I rather like to see credit given where it is due. You say, sir, that a peal tapped is a greater performance than ringing double-handed. I, with Mr. Pye, say it is not. Tapping is not change ringing, and I am prepared if necessary to go anywhere within the four corners of the British Empire to debate this. You, sir, say it is a greater mental strain. I say it is not, for this reason: a man who taps by himself has a system, and never has the danger or risk of being shifted by another ringer. He has everything, so to speak, in his own mind and hands, and should he make a false blow or two can put it right without calling on another to do so. Now, sir, with all due respect to you as Editor, I maintain that tapping never was, is not now, and never will be, change ringing. I have always understood there are two strokes in ringing changes, i.e., handstroke and backstroke. What stroke does a tapper imply? None at all. I have discussed this tapping with several well-known ringers, including a well-known ringing family, who were present at Finchingfield last Saturday, who can ring London on the tower bells, and most of whom are good double-handed ringers, and without exception their opinion is that a tapped peal does not supersede a peal 'rung' double-handed. There are three classes of men in ringing, as in other sciences; some are born great, others achieve great things, and some have greatness thrust upon them. There are plenty of the latter category about, and I will leave you, sir, and your readers to decide for themselves to which each one belongs, including Mr. Morris and yours truly,
W. KEEBLE.

Mr. Keeble points out some of the advantages which the peal tapper has over the 'double-handed' peal ringer, in order to justify the assertion that tapping a peal is not a greater mental strain than ringing a pair of handbells. May we point out some of the advantages on the other side? Mr. Keeble says it is not a greater strain to tap a peal for this reason, a man who taps by himself has a system, and never has the danger or risk of being shifted by another ringer. He has everything in his own mind and hands, and should he make a false blow or two, can put it right without calling on another to do so.

But it should also be borne in mind that in a 'double-handed' peal there are three others who by word or gesture may put the fourth one right when he makes a slip. That is an advantage which the peal tapper does not enjoy, and a trip is almost certain to be fatal. Again, in place making, and in leading in London Surprise and some other methods, there are whole pulls 'wrong.' The mechanical action of the up and downstrokes in ringing are a valuable aid in this matter, which, of course, the peal tapper cannot avail himself of.

As to 'system,' which, after all, is only another word for method, does not the double-handed ringer, ring by 'system' or 'method'? And which is the more difficult performance, to apply the system or method to two bells or to eight?

That is, after all, the only question with which we have been concerned, for it was upon that and that alone that we were challenged.

We have never said that tapping ever was, is now, or ever will be, change 'ringing'; neither have we said that the Central Council or the Essex Association are wrong in excluding these peals from their records. We have given both sides of the question as to whether these performances promote the art of change ringing; but we have never stated which view we take, because we are still open to conviction on this point.

We mention these matters once more, in order to keep the issue clear. Side issues as to what it has been imagined we have done and said, and what it has been imagined we have a right to do and say, have been raised; but it has not yet been proved that we were wrong when we said that 'by whatever system these peals are accomplished they are a far greater performance than ringing a pair of handbells to a peal.'

We have received a great number of letters on the subject from ringers in all parts of the country, and many competent handbell ringers, some of whom have had some practical experience of the difficulties of tapping, have endorsed our views. One letter, which was not sent for publication, contains, however, some valuable information, by a ringer who can both ring and tap methods, that we are sure the writer will forgive us in making an extract. He says: 'Mr. Pye infers that there is some secret or trick in it, and that any other person in possession of the alleged secret could do the same. Before I joined up I could tap 720's of Minor in 35 methods, including about a dozen Surprise methods, and the only secret I know about it is—hard and constant practice. I have always transposed row by row, as one would write on paper, after learning what places have to be made. For Minor tapping I think this way would be the quickest to learn if one wants to tackle a peal of spliced methods. After the first method, anyone might make progress quickly, but Mr. Pye is very wide of the mark in talking of fame in a few weeks. It is the amount of study before the first peal that no one knows of, that takes the time, and is more likely to be many months. You are quite correct about the concentration. A single mistake is fatal. It is no use looking for the man you are dodging with to give you a friendly nod! Since being demobbed I have done very little. I am not able to concentrate as I did. Active service may be the cause. A 720 of Cambridge is about all I have bothered with lately.'

Sir,—The correspondence upon this subject has left one of your readers no wiser than he was before, but has reminded him of the old proverb, 'Ne autor ultra crepidam'—(A cobbler should stick to his last). Great eminence in peal ringing on tower or handbells in company with others does not carry with it the pen of a ready or convincing writer, nor (apparently) much appreciation of the different kind of skill shown by the single-handed 'tapper.' So far as I gather, the performances of Mr. Pye and Mr. Morris, though each remarkable, are on a different plane, and hardly comparable; and I think that the Essex Association showed, at the present stage, a wise discretion in confining itself to the entry in its peal book of one of Mr. Morris' tapped peals, as a curiosity in skilful execution, but hardly in pari materia (as lawyers say) with ordinary peal ringing performances.—Yours faithfully,
T. L. PAPILLON.

VISIT TO WARWICK.

St. Martin's Society, Leicester, chose Warwick as the venue of their annual outing this year, and made the journey by road. 'We had some confidence in our bus this time,' writes a correspondent. Its buzz gave one the feeling that it would arrive where it was supposed to. On a previous annual excursion we had one that reminded us of a churn full of old tins. That one also arrived, but 'somewhere' 10 miles from our destination or a railway station, and there gave out. The faith in our converted Leyland was fully justified, for we reached Warwick within five minutes of scheduled time, after a splendid run via Nuneaton, Coventry and Kenilworth Castle, with a stop at Cotton Arches.

Our friends of St. Mary's gave us a hearty welcome, and the ringers soon had the bells (a fine peal of 10) going to Stedman Caters. The ladies of the party also got busy exploring the fine old town. The advance party was soon augmented by the 'millionaires,' who arrived in their own car, combinations, etc. With the 'millionaires' assistance the first course of Cambridge Royal on the bells was brought home, after which an adjournment was made to the Dale Hotel, where the ladies had already arrived. Full justice was done to a fine meat tea, and we owe a 'lemonade' to the man who recommended the Dale. After tea a further visit was made to the tower, when Superlative and more Stedman Caters were brought round, the ladies meantime visiting Leamington.

Mr. Adams, the genial sexton of St. Mary's, had made special arrangements for the use of a room at the Punch Bowl for an hour's convivial with the local ringers. Here the handbells were brought into use for tunes and change ringing, but all too soon our bus was ready for the homeward trip. Bidding adieu to our friends of Warwick, we started for Leicester in the wake of the millionaires. It was not a bee-line. Any old road seemed to suit. The intention was to travel home via Rugby, but on leaving Leamington our chauffeur introduced a course that was not in the main block, and promptly lost his way. No one worried, we knew the bus would get there; it did so in spite of us, so it did not matter. We only added 10 courses to the first half. Here we found the advance party waiting for us. The last half, Rugby-Leicester, 21 courses, was brought up in the small hours, in 1 hour 10 minutes. We would like to thank Mr. Adams and the Warwick ringers for their kindness in making the arrangements and meeting us. It was unanimously agreed that this was the best 'annual' we had ever had.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

The Eastern Counties Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild held a most successful meeting at Sutterton on Sept. 24th, when the bells were kept going by mixed bands until nine o'clock. Ringers were present from Surfleet, Pinchbeck, Spalding, Wrangle, Peterborough, Kirton, Skirbeck, Freiston, Benington, Leake and Wrangle. A capital tea was provided at the Angel Inn, a party of 43 sitting down. The bells of Wigtoft and Algarkirk were also rung during the evening. The next meeting will be held at Wrangle in January.

RESTORATION OF FINCHINGFIELD BELLS. REOPENING CEREMONY.

On Saturday week the ancient ring of eight in Finchingfield Church, Essex, were reopened, after being rehung and quarter turned. The Vicar, the Rev. Harry Jordan, entered into the restoration scheme most enthusiastically, and the work has been completed at a cost of £230. The bells are rehung on the most modern principles.

A special service marked the occasion. The Vicar officiated, and the lesson was read by Mr. A. W. Ruggles-Brise, J.P., C.C. The Rev. J. A. Evans, D.D., Rector of Sible Hedingham, was the preacher, and he congratulated the parishioners on having made their church bells safe, sound, and serviceable. It was a great delight to the neighbouring churches that the work had been carried out so excellently. There was a charm in the sound of church bells which influenced the hearts of more people in the world than any other sound. Nothing was more charming and soothing, and nothing could better prepare the heart for service. People might ask, 'Why have bells to call people to church, when there are clocks?' The answer was that there was authority from God to use musical instruments to invite people to His house. God appointed first two silver trumpets to give the invitation, and trumpets were succeeded by bells. On some fountains could be seen the figure of a bell ringer, with an evil spirit in flight. The voice of the church bell was the voice of God, because it was God's command. He hoped that the bells of Finchingfield would now sound sweeter and merrier, would carry further, and that the voice of the messenger would be answered by the people responding, 'O Jesus, I come.'

The service closed with the hymn, 'Now thank we all our God,' and immediately afterwards a short touch of Treble Bob Major was rung, conducted by Mr. C. H. Howard (Master of the Essex Association). The offertory for the bells' fund amounted to £4 17s. 4d.

Tea followed in the Schoolroom, served by the ladies of the village. Among the guests were Sir Fortescue Flannery, Bart., M.P., and Lady Flannery. The Rev. H. Jordan welcomed the ringers and visitors, and gave a report on the finances, showing total receipts and promises of £203 5s. The ringers of Essex contributed £33 2s. 6d. The work was taken in hand fifteen months ago, so they had every cause to be satisfied with the speedy and successful progress made (applause).

THE RINGERS' HELP.

Mr. A. W. Ruggles-Brise, J.P., C.C., on behalf of the parishioners, thanked the Vicar for the splendid enthusiasm he had shown in taking up the work, and Mr. Howard for the ready help the ringers had given.

Mr. Howard replied that it was the work of the Essex Association to help in getting peals of bells restored and repaired where such work was needed. The Vicar of Finchingfield and all the local ringers were members of the association, as Mr. Brise had been for a great many years. He (Mr. Howard) contended that ringers were the keenest workers in the church. If a church choir went out they admired the organ and all they saw at other churches, but they did not want to hear the organ played for them to sing, but if a band of ringers went to another church they were not satisfied till they had rung the bells. He never heard of a choir or a combination of choirs subscribing to purchase a new organ, but the ringers subscribed to restore bells and to provide new peals (hear, hear). The sound of the Finchingfield bells had been greatly improved by the bells being quarter turned and new clappers put to them, and he hoped the local band would now take up change ringing. The Master welcomed Mr. F. J. Pitstow (Saffron Walden), the new secretary to the Essex Association, and thanked the ladies of Finchingfield, who provided the tea.

After the tea various touches were rung, ranging from Grandsire Triples to London Surprise Major by upwards of 50 ringers from Braintree, Saffron Walden, Sible Hedingham, Chelmsford, Yeldham, Felsted, Stebbing, Rayns, Feering, Kelvedon, Bardfield, Bocking, Earls Colne, Broomfield, Greenstead Green, Dunmow, Finchingfield, and Ipswich. Many of the ringers cycled long distances to the gathering. The arrangements for the day were efficiently carried out by Mr. B. Redgwell, hon. district secretary.

The work has been carried out by Mr. A. Howell, of Ipswich. The 'go' of the bells (tenor 18½) and the improved tone were the admiration of all present.

During the evening, the Vicar threw open to the ringers his beautiful garden and grounds, which are in keeping with this picturesque village, which is acknowledged to be the prettiest in the county.

NEWPORT PAGNELL.—On Sunday evening, Oct. 2nd, after harvest thanksgiving, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), in 50 mins.: A. Gregory 1, F. C. Tompkins 2, E. Lathall 3, W. C. Brown 4, G. Boon 5, H. J. Warren (conductor) 6, W. F. Smith 7, J. Gregory 8.

'REMEMBRANCE DAY.'

The suggestion which, according to a correspondent, is to be carried out in the Central Northamptonshire Association's areas, viz., to ring the bells of the churches half-muffled on Armistice Day in remembrance of those who fell in the war will, doubtless, commend itself to a large number of ringers all over the country. November 11th is to be 'Remembrance Day,' and those who wish to do honour to the glorious dead will find the opportunity thus presented a very suitable one. The 'two minutes' silence,' which bids well to become an honoured and established custom on this day, has been found to be an act which goes right to the heart of the people of this Empire, and to appeal to their sentiment and to their desire to remember those who passed into immortality on the field of honour. Such an occasion is one on which ringers may well unite in doing their part, as they are privileged to do, in interpreting the national spirit.

On the other hand, there may, perhaps, be those who will prefer to let the sound of the bells recall the relief and joy that was felt at the termination of the years of war, and whose peals will be in celebration of this phase of the anniversary. May we suggest, in these cases, that it would be in keeping with the spirit of 'Remembrance Day' if the open ringing were preceded with a half-muffled touch, as a reminder to all who hear the bells of those who died? This is the least we can pay, and it can be done at very little cost of time or trouble. Indeed, these considerations ought not to weigh at all in a matter like this, for those whose memory we would honour gave no thought of time or trouble—or even of self. They gave all.

We hope, therefore, the Central Northants Association's lead may be widely followed, and that ringing may take place throughout the land in every tower where there is a peal of bells, and where ringers can be got together. Association Committees have time to take this matter in hand and circularise their branches in order to get concerted action. In any event, November 11th should not be allowed to pass unmarked by the bells.

While on this subject, may we suggest for the consideration of the Central Council, that the list which they have compiled of members of the Exercise who fell in the war should be inscribed on vellum and deposited in the newly formed library? It may not be possible to add many details to the names, except, perhaps, the place and the Association to which each belonged; but this, if done, would provide in compact form, a record of those from the belfries of the land whose memory is honoured in the Exercise. There is no other way of keeping a complete list, but, if suitably done, it would form a not unfitting memorial to those who passed to the great beyond in the service of King and country.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The quarterly meeting of the Western District of the Hertford County Association was held at Hemel Hempstead on Saturday, Oct. 1st, about 20 members and friends attending, including Mr. Ben. Jarman and Mr. F. Edwards, of the St. Albans and Watford Districts, respectively. The towers represented were: Berkhamstead, Tring, King's Langley, Watford, Harpenden, and the local tower. The methods rung during the day were Plain Bob, Grandsire and Stedman. A short service was held, the Vicar (the Rev. A. F. Robson) giving a very interesting and helpful address, which the ringers greatly appreciated.

After service, the Vicar invited the ringers to St. Mary's Hall, where he had thoughtfully provided a very nice tea, which he and Mrs. Robson served.

The business meeting was held afterwards. The Vicar, who presided, extended a hearty welcome to the association.—Mr. R. Walker was elected a ringing member. It was also decided to hold the next meeting at Apsley, a six-bell tower, the date to be left to the secretary.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and the address, and also to him and Mrs. Robson for so generously providing the tea, concluded the meeting.

The tower was again visited, and various touches rung, the Vicar and Mrs. Robson being interested spectators.

FUNERAL TOUCHES.

After the funeral of Sir Frederick Eldridge for 34 years churchwarden at Croydon Parish Church touches of Stedman Triples were rung at St. John's, with the bells fully muffled, and on Sunday, Oct. 9th, with the bells half-muffled, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung by J. Rumble 1, A. Mason (conductor) 2, J. E. Cooper (first quarter inside) 3, W. States 4, H. Skeet 5, A. Clark 6, S. Roper 7, A. J. Crawley (first quarter) 8. Sir Frederick Eldridge was a staunch supporter of the church and the borough.

PEALS TAPPED ON HANDBELLS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In your issue of the 7th, Mr. Morris says the Essex Association did not understand sufficiently to pass a resolution: He is making a great mistake; it was discussed before the meeting took place by those who were present, and the general opinion was that his method was nothing but a transposition of figures. He speaks again of the practical value derived from tapping. There are, no doubt, occasional ringers of limited experience who would believe him, but I have never met them. If he has derived so much benefit from tapping, I wonder he has not grafted some of it into his so-called humbler brethren, and not wasted time tapping peals of Bob Major. Of course, he has a perfect right to do as he likes, but it is useless to try and stuff the Exercise that he is doing it to help others. His object is to achieve fame for himself; or, perhaps, it would be more correct to say, have it thrust upon him. He says he could have rung London years ago had he had the same chance as myself. I consider he has had more chance to ring Surprise Methods than I ever had. I had to scrape a band together and practise them, and go many miles to do it. We rang Superlative, Cambridge and London inside six months, without any assistance, and we only practised London three times, and rang a peal at the first attempt. Now, if a lot of novices could do that without help, surely a company with a list of 16 ringing members in the Essex Report for 1918, and a man in the company like himself who professes more knowledge of London Surprise than myself and a peal of eight bells at their disposal, have nothing to stop them if they have any energy in them. It is either that or they have no leader. If I was capable of doing what Mr. Morris professes to do, ring eight bells, I should not want to tap peals to educate myself. He asks how long have I been able to judge the capabilities of a man? That's about the only thing I flatter myself upon being able to do, and I have proved a good many times that I only want to see a man at the end of a rope once, and I can soon sum him up. When I have wanted to get a band together for anything out of the ordinary, I have never had one let me down. To my knowledge I have never met Mr. Morris, but I can sum up his knowledge of the practical side of ringing from his letter of the 7th instant. He backs out of the job of taking four bells to London, and says he has no time for freak performances. No doubt it is too big a freak for him. I will reduce my request from four bells to two, and find two others besides myself. I wonder what lame excuse he will have to offer against this. There is another thing I might mention. Some weeks ago, Mr. Keeble said he would like to umpire a peal of London tapped by Mr. Morris. I have never seen any answer to this and why?

Now, Mr. Editor, you say in your issue of the 7th you don't want any more gide issues, but my plan whereby a peal can be tapped without more mental strain than ringing a pair of bells. Before answering that question, I will ask you one. As you say you have had a lot of letters not for publication on the subject, may I ask are all these writers the same opinion as yourself? If not, why take extracts out of one person's letter against his wish, and make use of it to try and make your own case good? I have never yet used other people's opinion on the subject, but as you have begun it I may say that since this correspondence started I have met hundreds of ringers who have been of the same opinion as myself, and many of them are men of great ability on tower and handbells, and many of them could tap, although they do not tap peals, and those who tap admit that their knowledge of ringing is their drawback at tapping. One thing is the transposition of figures which is not practicable in ringing. Mr. Keeble is quite right when he says it's not so difficult as ringing a pair of bells; and to support my argument I will guarantee Mr. Morris could not tap four, and let someone else tap the other four. You say in your last issue you have not said which view you take. It is not necessary to do that when you are standing by one side all the time. You are the person who gave a tapped peal the preference over a double-handed peal and started the discussion, and it's up to you to prove it, which at present you have failed to do.—Yours, etc.,

W. PYE.

In answer to Mr. Pye's question addressed to us, only one of many private correspondents has taken a view entirely opposite to ours on the question. The reason we selected the extract given last week, was that, coming from a man with a larger knowledge of tapping than the majority of people, it was highly informative, and as fair to one side as to the other, for we carefully eliminated the expression of opinion on the merits of tapping. Editors, of course, receive letters on many subjects, in which topics in the public eye at the moment are touched upon en passant, and which it is not possible to reproduce.

We have answered Mr. Pye's question frankly; is it too much to expect that he will now give us what we have asked for?

In view of Mr. Pye's offer to Mr. Morris, may we suggest that a further and still more convincing test of the relative merits of the performances would be for Mr. Morris first to ring a pair of handbells to a peal attempt, and then for Mr. Pye to start tapping a peal, and see which can get the further?—Ed. 'R.W.'

MR. MORRIS' AND MR. KEEBLE'S ARGUMENTS.

Dear Sir,—In replying to my previous question, Mr. Keeble is practically proving that Mr. Pye's assertion on the educational value of tapping is entirely wrong. In repeating the rows of a peal, he must transpose. When tapping I do the same, keeping an eye on the coursing, to see that my transposing is all right. Mr. Keeble says that this is of service, both to himself and colleagues, when ringing in the tower, so it will be clearly seen that, as our education is almost identical, if it is of great value to him in the belfry it must also be of great value to me. Thus, by his own words, he is proving that tapping is promoting the art, as it is of great value to every ringer the tapper rings with. This being so, the performer is conforming to Rule 1 of the Essex Association, and promoting the art of change ringing, and his performances ought to be recognised, and yet he says in his previous letter he holds no brief for it, and indicates that he would vote against my peals being booked. This is, to my mind, rather strange. He also says that he sees nothing in the rules of the Essex Association to allow them to be booked, and goes on to say that he is well aware of the same having been set at defiance. I fail to see how the rules can be set at defiance, when they are not there. In his first letter he says that undoubtedly they are wonderful performances, yet in his second letter he is trying to prove they are not. As I do not understand that way of arguing I must give it up, but the fact now remains that tapping is promoting the art of change ringing. I am still receiving letters of congratulation, and as I cannot answer all the letters, will the senders please accept my most sincere thanks for their kind words? I am still waiting for the details of the system by which, according to Mr. Pye, I am supposed to tap peals. I have every sympathy with your correspondent on tapping. May I suggest that he should use his will power a little more freely, and force himself into it? I mean when he has got a disinclination for it, it is then he should drive himself into it. I know, for I have 'had some.' Can I persuade him to take it up again, and come into friendly rivalry with myself?—Yours sincerely,

ARTHUR T. MORRIS.

AN OFFER.

Dear Sir,—I am afraid a great deal of ink, paper, time, and many hard words, have been wasted over something which, like water, would have found its own level if left alone, and I know that one of such small account as my unworthy self won't help the matter much; but dare I 'step in where angels fear to tread,' and offer a very simple solution to a very simple affair? If Mr. Morris could meet Mr. W. Pye, Mr. G. R. Pye and Mr. W. Keeble, and take, say, 3-4, and call a peal of London in hand, in the presence of four neutral umpires who know the method, it would settle for a long time the question as to whether it is easy to ring London 'in hand.' Mr. Morris would find that it is easier to tap eight than to control eight. Napoleon, while on St. Helena, could not make all his clocks strike just when he wanted them to do so. I would even dare to say, if Mr. Morris got the peal home that I would pay his fare to the Metropolis to try his peal.—Yours sincerely,

ONCE A BEGINNER (AT LONDON).

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

BISHOP'S ADVICE TO A YOUNG BRANCH.

At the invitation of Bishop Macarthur, the Isle of Wight District of the Winchester Diocesan Guild assembled at Shanklin on October 8th. Ringing at St. Saviour's-on-the-Cliff was first indulged in, and the Bishop conducted a short service in the church at 3.45 p.m. In the course of his remarks the Bishop emphasised the necessity of the members of this young branch setting a high standard to work up to, both as regards quality of ringing and punctual and regular attendance, especially for Sunday Service ringing.

Afterwards, the company, numbering 46, wended their way to the Bishop's residence, 'Luccombe Hill,' situated on the renowned landslip leading from Shanklin to Ventnor, the grounds of which reach to the very cliff's edge, and from whence one can look across the English Channel. It was amongst these surroundings that tea was served, his Lordship and his household, in addition to the Vicar of St. Saviour's and Mrs. Bere, attending on the ringers. After tea a vote of thanks to the Bishop was proposed by the Rev. J. C. Orr, Rector of Whitwell, seconded by Mr. J. B. Williamson, the former expressing the company's appreciation of the keen interest evinced by his Lordship in their doings, and for his earnest address at the service.

Bowls were indulged in on the lawn by a portion of the company, and the other portion returned to St. Saviour's for further ringing until 9 p.m. The towers represented were Brading, Carishbrooke, Chale, Newport, Ryde, Shanklin and Whitwell.

A meeting for combined practice was held on Saturday last at Swanmore, when about 20 members were present from Portsmouth, Portsea, Wickham, Curdridge, Bishopstoke and Swanmore. Touches of Grand-sire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Single and Double Oxford, Grand-sire, Colleger, Oxford Treble Bob and Kent Treble Bob Minor, were rung during the afternoon and evening. It is hoped to arrange further meetings of this kind during the coming winter.

LONG STANTON RINGER'S DEATH.

The Long Stanton (Cambs) band has sustained the loss of another member of a family of four brothers who have taken a prominent part in ringing in the village since its formation in 1912. In November, 1918, Albert Cook died of pneumonia, at the early age of 25, and on Thursday of last week, Leonard Alfred Cook, aged only 23, succumbed to an attack of paralysis. He had rung, according to his custom, for the morning and evening services on the previous Sunday, but this proved to be his last active service, for he did not go to work the next morning.

The deceased had only taken part in one peal, viz., of Bob Major, but he could ring in about a dozen methods on six and eight bells, and his loss will be keenly felt. (R.I.P.)

The funeral took place on Sunday, Oct. 16th, and was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. B. Woolley), in the presence of a very large congregation. After the service, 360 Bob Minor was rung in whole pulls on the back six, which were muffled on the back stroke, by the following: W. Hawkes 1, J. B. Woolley 2, W. Pye 3, H. G. Benson 4, G. Crisp 5, W. H. J. Hooton (conductor) 6.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.TONBRIDGE DISTRICT AND WAR MEMORIAL.

The quarterly meeting of the Tonbridge District was held at Penshurst on Saturday, Oct. 8th, and was attended by about 35 members. Some good practice was obtained in the Standard methods by mixed bands. Service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. E. H. Rycroft), who also gave an excellent address, in which he traced the history of bells which used to call the people to church as far back as the 13th century.

After service, the members adjourned to the Village Hall for tea. The Rector presided, supported by the Rev. Horsley (curate), Mr. Constable (churchwarden), Mr. Baker (clerk of the Church Council), Mr. Edwards (verger), etc.

The business meeting followed.—The District Secretary (Mr. W. Latter) referred to the association war memorial. He said that at the annual district meeting, held at Sevenoaks, last February, he asked the local secretaries to collect any subscriptions from their respective bands, and send them on to him, but he had not received a single penny from any of the members. He asked them again to make some effort for this object, as the Central Committee were meeting in November, and would no doubt be making some move in the matter.

Votes of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, for conducting the service, etc., and to all who had assisted to make the meeting such a pleasant one, were passed, to which the Rector replied.

On the appeal of Mr. F. White, of Tunbridge Wells, a collection was made on behalf of the St. Dunstan's Hostel, which realised one guinea.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.DEVIZES BRANCH MEETING.

A quarterly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Bradford-on-Avon, on October 8th, when about 50 ringers gathered together from the towers at Bath, Batherton, Melksham, Chippenham, Bradford, Trowbridge, Warminster, Westbury, Holt, Devizes, St. John's and St. Mary's, Steeple Ashton, Keevil, and Southbroom. The ringing throughout was of a very good standard, touches of Grandsire Triples Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Bob Minor and Kent Treble Bob, being rung. After the usual Guild service, an excellent tea was partaken of at Mr. Somner's restaurant in the Chambles. The business meeting followed, presided over by the Master of the Guild (Major C. C. Hughes D'Aeth). The next three meetings were provisionally arranged as follows: Bromham, Nov. 12th; Steeple Ashton, Dec. 3rd; Devizes (annual), January 7th.—Three new life ringing members were duly elected, viz., Mr. E. J. Truman, of Chippenham; Mr. W. Hobbs and Mr. W. Watts, of Bath.—£1 2s. was collected towards the Memorial Tablet Fund.

The Chairman proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the excellent address at the service, also for allowing the use of the bells, and the Vicar, replying, said he would like to see all present at Westbury on the 29th October, when their new peal of eight were going to be dedicated.

This concluded the business; the ringers then returned to the tower, where further touches were rung until 8 p.m.

FAREWELL TO VERGER.

On Saturday, October 1st, at St. Chad's, Shrewsbury, eight members of St. Chad's Society attempted a peal of Grandsire Triples (Holt's Original) as a farewell to Mr. W. Taylor, who has been verger for 30 years. All went well until the last 700 changes, when one of the band let his bell over: A. Shorte 1, J. E. Lilley 2, S. Snelson 3, R. Pole 4, D. J. Boucher 5, W. Fairhead 6, C. R. Lilley (conductor) 7, R. Chilton 8. The band were afterwards congratulated on the excellent striking, but were disappointed at not getting the peal. All the above are Sunday Service ringers at the church.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

An important meeting is to be held to-morrow at Ormesby, when members of the Northern Division of the Yorkshire Association and the Cleveland and North Yorks Association will discuss the question of amalgamation.

Mr. A. J. Turner, whose 50th birthday was celebrated by a peal at Lewes, Sussex, last week, has been connected with the tower for more than thirty years, and he has rung over a hundred peals on the bells. At various times he has served in the offices of steeplekeeper, secretary and captain.

As we have already mentioned in this column, the anniversary of the first peal of Stedman Triples occurs next Tuesday, this having been rung at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, on October 25th, 1751. The same day is the anniversary of the first peal of Stedman Caters rung out of London. This was at St. Philip's, Birmingham, in the year 1790.

On October 23rd, 1791, which was Sunday, Holt's Original was conducted for the first time in London by a ringer taking part in the peal. This was at St. Giles-in-the-Fields, and for more than a century it was believed to be the very first occasion upon which the conductor had rung one of the bells and called this peal. On Oct. 23rd, 1884, the College Youths celebrated the anniversary by ringing the composition non-conducted at the same church.

There is reason now, however, to suppose that the composition was conducted by one of the ringers in a peal at Saffron Walden, on Christmas Day, 1753, and again on New Year's Day, 1754, for an ancient newspaper cutting was unearthed a few years ago recording the peals and the ringers' names, and stating that the peal was 'composed of 148 Bobs with two singles.' As no other composition of the kind was known to exist at that date it seems evident that these peals must have been the Original, and that the performances were unknown to the London ringers 38 years later.

The old custom of 'Ringing for Gofer' is observed at Newark Parish Church on Sunday evenings in October and November. Over three centuries ago a wealthy merchant, named Gofer, lost his way one night in the forest that then surrounded Newark. He carried much money, and thieves were many, so that he feared robbery and murder. Then suddenly he heard Newark bells, and was guided home by their sounds. As a thanksgiving for his escape he left a legacy to the Newark bell ringers on condition that they 'rang for Gofer' every year on the Sunday evenings of October and November.

The peal of Bristol at Royston, Herts, on Oct. 1st was not the first of Major on the bells, but the first Surprise peal. The first peal of Major was one of Kent Treble Bob rung on May 11th last.

Among the greater doings of some of the 'star artists' of the Exercise, the work of some of the humbler brethren is apt to be overlooked, but here is a case where a word of congratulation is certainly merited. Little more than a year ago what change ringers there were among the bands at Chalfont St. Giles and Amersham, Bucks, could ring only Grandsire Doubles called in one way.

Practically without help from outside, except occasionally from Mr. G. H. Guttridge, they have persevered in the art, and on Saturday last, with Mr. Guttridge as conductor, five of the band rang their first peal—seven differently called 720's in two Minor methods, Plain Bob and Oxford Bob. This is a performance which in merit ranks as high as many a peal which will receive far higher points in the Analysis.

Another praiseworthy 'first peal' was the one at Bridgwater, with a band which included four youths still in their 'teens.

Mr. Henry Briggs, of Stoney Stanton, Leicestershire, who celebrated his golden wedding during the past week, has been connected with the belfry of the parish church for the long period of 55 years. He is still on the active list, and only a fortnight ago rang over two hours in an attempt for Stedman Triples, which was lost through no fault of his. He has children and grandchildren who are ringers, and members of the fourth generation are almost ready to be initiated into the mysteries of the art. He still takes great trouble and interest in teaching young ringers, and it is hoped that he will be spared for many more years to carry on the good work. His brother (and sister) ringers unite in wishing him and Mrs. Briggs many more happy years in double harness.

Scotland's heaviest ringing peal of ten is at St. Mary's Cathedral, Edinburgh, the tenor being 42 cwt. 2 qr. 21lb. in C, so that the new bells for Inverary, with 41 cwt. tenor, will not be the heaviest across the Tweed. Both peals are by Messrs. Taylor and Co.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A most successful meeting of the S. and W. District was held at Putney on Saturday, October 8th, between 40 and 50 ringers being present. The bells were kept going during the afternoon and evening, and the methods ranged from Grandsire to Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Major.—A vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to Messrs. J. Herbert and T. Bolton for their welcome to the association and assistance.

A DEVONSHIRE HOLIDAY.

By W. H. F.

A year or two back the 'Bishop of Swindon' was good enough to suggest a visit to North Devon for one of our ringing tours, and in such glowing terms that I was induced to send out invitations to a number of the members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild to go down there for the 1921 holidays.

Preliminary correspondence with the Rev. E. S. Powell, of Holbeton, and the Rev. E. V. Cox, of Bampton, both holding secretarial positions in the county, led me to abandon visits to Buckfastleigh (12 bells) and Lundy Island (8 bells) as being too venturesome. These gentlemen were, however, able to coax their fellow members of the cloth at some 14 parishes to sanction our attempts, and so we had quite enough to last the week, added to which Mr. Jas. Hunt, of Taunton, made negotiations for some half-dozen towers in Somerset, where the 'fag end' of our holiday ended. It was quite a voyage of discovery, for little was known of the bells at many of the Devon parishes to which we were going; in fact, the Shepherd of our flock gave me a tower which was afterwards found to possess but six bells, whilst at another parish the bells were found to be quite unringable—Witheridge—tenor 28 cwt.

We discovered a friend at court in Mr. A. H. Searle, of Exeter, who paved the way for our noisy art, by gracefully alluding to the musical treat in store for Devonshire folk, in the 'Devon and Exeter Gazette,' and giving a list of the places to be visited. One paragraph I ought to introduce for the perusal of a Lancashire parson whom I recollect raised the question in our ringing Press that peal tours were of no value, and should be deprecated:—

'The West Country was before the great war the happy hunting ground for scientific ringers from other parts of the country, who desired to combine the pursuit of their hobby with holidays spent in visiting various places—endeavouring to score peals, and in doing a little missionary work. The party will be a strong one, mustering about 15, and including Canon Coleridge, son of the Vicar of Cadbury, who astonished the natives of Plympton St. Mary many years ago by ringing the tenor there through a peal of some 5,000 changes.'

FORCES GATHER AT COLLUMPTON.

Full programmes, having been sent out, with ample instructions to those concerned, ten men were collected at Collumpton on the tenth day of September, and met with Royal success in the Kent Variation. Our team travelled down in two sections, via Exeter and Taunton, both trains being due at Collumpton at 4.5 p.m. Departure for Tiverton at 9.40 left little time to 'bite and sup' with the brotherly home hands—who had given our week a good start off. We picked up another man on our way, carrying a mysterious looking handbag, which was, on inquiry, found to be packed full of London Surprise fresh from Leicestershire. We stayed at the Palmerston Hotel at Tiverton, which has been carried on by Mr. Webber for 25 years, and for three nights found ourselves very comfortable. On arrival there was some controversy with the chambermaid as to where the 'singles' were to be placed, and how many 'doubles' were required. Having had some experience of army billeting I was able to place the 'eleven' in a suitable position to enjoy their 'going off' course at back.

On Sunday the eleven were early afield, touches of Cambridge Surprise and Stedman Triples being rung for the morning service at the parish church (tenor 28 cwt.). The going was not good, as attention to the old oak frame is needed. Members of the local society kindly joined us, and the Vicar (the Rev. W. Burroughs), who addressed us with words of welcome, offered belfry prayers, as is the custom here; and impressed upon us all his personal wish that those who ring for the services should attend them. We had the privilege of hearing him (an eloquent speaker) give his farewell address to a Tiverton congregation on his retirement to live at Oxford, and his reference to our visit that day almost inferred we had come from Oxford on purpose to ring him there. Tiverton tower is noted for the family of Graters, who furnished a team of Graters to ring a peal many years before the Exercise possessed so many clever ringing families as it does to-day. The peal boards here are polished oak, with engraved brass plates, cut shield shape, about 16 inches over all, and the effect is very neat and good.

AT THE HOME OF THE TROYTES.

After luncheon our car conveyed us to Huntsham, the home of the Troytes. A tiny belfry, and a close atmosphere after a hearty meal were reasons for the Cambridge Major lasting but 40 minutes. This was followed by touches in various methods and a special touch for the evening service later on. The church and churchyard were inspected. Here lie the remains of Charles Acland W. Troyte, the author of 'Change Ringing' (1876). Gazing at the marble cross that marks his resting-place, the lines came forcibly to memory—

Ever the same, yet ever new,
Changed and yet true—

and one realised as a change ringer all that he did for an art that had almost decayed at that period of ringing history.

Huntsham Court to tea, by the generous invitation of Mr. and Mrs. G. Acland Troyte, was a real Sunday at home, and we were loath to depart. The journey ended at Tiverton, as it began, amidst refreshing showers that promised, in a grazing country, richer Devonshire cream for the days to follow. An hour or so in the smokeroom at the Palmerston, where handbell vibration distorted the smoke rings silently floating upwards, and then early to bed, for the 'orderly' in the morning would be calling 'show a leg there'—incidentally, I believe, he saw three.

On Monday, our party was increased to twelve by the arrival of Mr. Wm. Mead, of Clun, who is not a peal hand in the ordinary sense, but desired to see fresh fields and pastures new, o'er mead and dale. The morning broke with fine clouds and bright sunshine. Breakfast at eight, motor-car at 9 a.m., were the orders for a drive to Oakford and Bampton. Double Norwich at the former tower was successful, followed by a decent lunch at one of those 'emporiums' for work, business and pleasure, that usually adjoins the last happy resting-place of the villager, commonly called a 'public-house.' The interior of Oakford Church resembles an early Victorian Methodist Chapel. It is probably the best lighted church in England, as huge windows with clear glass are numerous on each side of the nave.

BAMPTON, TIVERTON AND SOUTH MOULTON.

At Bampton (no connection with Oxon) the Vicar met us at the church and kindly helped us to ring a course of London Minor and other methods on his rumbling peal of 6 bells. They are to be restored when the £ s. d. comes along. There is a set of old oak stocks beside the tower, and the two ancient yew trees have their boles encased with stonework some six or seven feet high, with a stone bench all round at the tower level, forming a resting-place for the living.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox had thoughtfully prepared a Devonshire tea for us at the Vicarage, and we learnt what a good-tempered motor and side-car could now perform under favourable management. The Vicar's wife evidently possesses one of the best of coxswains. Our drive home to Tiverton was direct to the church for Cambridge Major, where the Vicar of Holbeton was awaiting us. An hour of Cambridge led two men to repeat what the tenors said to the bell frame—'You've shifted,' and the men concerned were not sorry to leave the bell frame motionless. What Pryce the bellhanger? Mr. J. W. Washbrook will possibly recollect Tiver-tenor with kindly feelings.

On Tuesday we said 'Good-bye' to Tivertonians. The start was delayed by the treasurer's settlement of accounts, cheques for £24 showing that a family of twelve want keeping nowadays. The lucky 13 of us sailed off for South Molton, through a stretch of real countryside, with tall banks and narrow roads that offered little passing room to other motors. We were now in the land of 'up and downs,' both as to towers and territory. The church was visited at once, and a team successfully tackled Stedman Triples, whilst others engaged reception-rooms at the George Inn, and stowed all the baggage at the railway station in readiness for the train journey at 9.55 p.m. into Barnstaple. The churchwarden, and the towerkeeper, Mr. Tapp, met us, and evinced great interest in our method ringing; the latter becoming somewhat excited when the bells came home, after three hours or more ringing. Going up the stone stairway with him I heard him shout in eager tones, 'They've got it—the bells are round, thank God.'

'LEST WE FORGET.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I beg to offer the following suggestion to all ringers throughout the length and breadth of the country, that wherever there is a peal of bells of five and upwards, and a band of ringers to ring them, they be rung half-muffled on Armistice Day, the muffled side in ever grateful remembrance of those we loved and lost, and the open side in joy and gratitude for those who returned and for the blessing of victory. I am quite sure if this were done it would appeal to the hearts of all as nothing else can, and would show that we, as ringers, were doing our part to keep in mind that ever memorable day, November 11th, 1918. 'Lest we forget.'

Might I just say that we of the Central Northants Association have decided to carry this idea out, subject, of course, to the approval of the incumbent in each case.—Yours faithfully,

F. BARBER.

Hon. Sec. of Wellingsboro' District.

LONDON SURPRISE ROYAL.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Please allow me to say that I entirely agree with Mr. Powell in regard to the variations he speaks of. My object in writing was to try and have this matter thrashed out, seeing that it is some thirteen or fourteen years ago since the question of London Royal was first before the Exercise. It looks to me that the same result is going to happen once more, and each of the contending parties be left with their own opinions. One must admit that it is very creditable to all the gentlemen concerned to produce these extensions, but I have no doubt that they would welcome a settlement as to which is correct.—

Yours faithfully,
Preston, Lancs.

BIG OXFORD GUILD GATHERING. RINGERS ENTERTAINED AT COOKHAM.

Some 80 or more members of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch of the Oxford Guild gathered at Cookham on Saturday, Oct. 1st, when they were entertained by the Cookham Ladies' Guild of Church Workers. The proceedings began with touches on the bells of the parish church, and during the day the following were among those who were present: Mr. W. H. Fussell (Slough), the hon. secretary of the branch; from Cookham—T. J. Fowler, J. Johnson, C. Tegg, E. Tuck, G. Chainey, W. H. Walker, F. W. Johnson and J. L. Kirk. Bray—P. G. Morris, A. E. Crocker, J. N. Beall and F. J. Russell. Boyne Hill—G. Martin, R. Howard, J. A. Martin, L. Martin, A. Martin, A. Martin, junr., Mrs. A. Martin, L. W. Copey, A. G. Walker, E. Eldridge, J. Maw and E. Hobbs. Fulmer—C. Harding, F. Gudgin and Winnie Cooper. Tilehurst (Reading)—Mrs. A. G. Horne, E. Horne, E. C. Chapman, F. W. Lane, H. Goodger, E. G. Foster, E. M. Shepherd and J. O. Levendon. Chalfont St. Giles—G. H. Olney, J. Chapman, H. Edwards and J. Astels. West Coles—R. Howard and W. Ripington. High Wycombe—Upton Wooler, W. Goodchild. W. Wycombe—C. A. Smith, G. Twitcheo, Mrs. Twitcheo, Harry Butler, Miss Butler and J. W. Wilkins. Beaconsfield—J. Blackmore and Mrs. Blackmore. Marlow—E. W. Atkins, V. R. Gibson, G. Hinxon, H. Collins and E. Green. Slough—G. T. Leader and W. H. Fussell. Iver Heath—Emily Fuller and G. H. Gutteridge. Stoke Poges—W. Bate-man and W. Henley. Waltham St. Lawrence—G. A. Martin, W. E. Mortimore and J. Cooper. Warfield—G. W. Higgs. Old Windsor—W. Walling, F. Middleton, A. Cross, R. Wood and E. Neighbour. Staines—E. Butler and W. C. Parker. Enfield—J. Thomas. Hillingdon—N. G. Williams. Old Edward Keeley, one of the original Cookham team, who is still living, and is one of the oldest ringers in Berks, was too feeble to be present, but Mr. W. Newell, 'father' of the Reading ringers, was present, carrying his 83 years well. Visitors were interested in the belfry in an old newspaper cutting recording a bell ringing competition in Berks 150 years ago, for silver laced hats, and, further, in the framed photograph of the memorial in the cloisters at Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford, which was erected to the memory of 120 members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild who fell in the war.

Choral evensong was held in the church, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Dr. Batchelor. The choir sang well under the direction of Mr. W. A. Ayres, A.R.C.O. The lesson was read by Mr. J. L. Kirk (Maidenhead). During the singing of the third verse of the hymn, 'Hark, hark! my soul,' Mr. Ayres skillfully introduced on a bell-like stop an obligato imitating the chimes on eight bells, written by himself, and making a most effective and appropriate variation for such a festival.

The Rev. Dr. Batchelor preached from the words, 'Make thee two trumpets of silver . . . that thou mayest use them for the calling of the assembly and for the journeying of the camp.' The Vicar first welcomed the ringers, and, after briefly reviewing the history and uses of bells, went on to say that bells and bell ringers used to be looked upon as a separate element in the services of the Church; but this was not the case to-day in a single parish in the Oxford Diocese; here the bell ringers were regarded as an integral part of the services of the Church, as serving the Church and the worship of God just as did the clergy or the choir. They remembered their ringers, not as people heard but not seen, but rather as actually holding an official capacity in the worship of God in the churches. The ringers on their part were more and more recognising what a sacred privilege was theirs, what a responsible task was theirs in calling the people to the services of the Church, pealing over a marriage, or tolling when death visited the parish. The bell ringers present, the Vicar felt sure, realised the sacredness of their office and its responsibility, and carried out their tasks for the honour and glory of God. The bells of a church also marked the 'journeying of the camps.' Every new year 'rung in' marked another stage in the 'journeying of the camps.' Sunday by Sunday they reminded the people they had reached nearer to what God would have them be—and nearer, because of their having obeyed the summons of the bells and come to God's House and joined in the prayers of the faithful. Hence the bell ringers recognised what a privilege they had in helping to make life stronger and holier and more beautiful for all through calling the people to the House of God.

The party, after service, gathered on the lawn of the Vicarage, where they were received by Dr. and Mrs. Batchelor, and where tea was served to them by the following ladies: Miss Leith, Mrs. Leith and party, Miss Greenwood, Mrs. Ellis, Miss Ellis, Miss Gamble and Mrs. Earle.

After tea, the Rev. Upton Wooler (West Wycombe) proposed a vote of thanks to Dr. and Mrs. Batchelor and the Ladies' Guild for their kind hospitality, and Mr. L. W. Copey (Boyne Hill) seconded, the vote being supported in very grateful terms by the Rev. W. Whittingstall, of Chalfont St. Giles, who said the reception of the ringers that day reminded him of the apt entries in a visitors' book in Cornwall—'We expect a good tea. Later: We have had an excellent tea' (applause). This well represented the experiences of that large party at the hands of their friends at Cookham. Dr. and Mrs. Batchelor had expected only 60 visitors, but they had 'risen to' the needs of over 90; and their very warmest thanks were due to the Vicar and his wife and their helpers (applause).

In acknowledging the expressions, the Vicar assured the gathering that he and Mrs. Batchelor were most glad to see them, and they were all very welcome. Such a gathering provided a sort of bond of union among the bell ringers of the branch, where they were enabled to meet at the friendly board and 'swap ideas' and sentiments and strengthen the bonds of fellowship (applause).

After tea the company was entertained on the lawn by Mr. George Martin and Mr. Arthur Martin, and the latter's two little sons, to some splendid handbell ringing, and the Vicar and others sang songs, while afterwards the bells were kept going in various methods for a couple of hours, a course of Cambridge and London Surprise Minor being included in the ringing.

A FRODSHAM OUTING.

THE JOYS AND SORROWS OF 'A PERFECT DAY.'

From Frodsham on September 17th, a long-looked-for excursion to the somewhat wild and woolly towers 'back here' took place. Profiting by experience, spare ropes, oil, marline-spike, etc., were carefully collected, and as speedily forgotten. The ancient mulberry tree at Stockton Heath was named the collecting station, and from thence the road led to Lymm. Conveyed by a local ringer of repute, whose recreation is the building of bridges and the making of cities, the party were very quickly examining the relics of the belfry. One was an ancient towing rope, another a certain cure for pimples; and there were more.

The motto on that 30 cwt. tenor must surely be 'Vox mea resonabit per montem et vallem.'

A touch of Kent was brought home, the 'Dumpling' distinguishing himself highly on the tenor, as did also the London County man, who had frozen on to the aforesaid towing rope—calling it 'his very own.' Stedman was next attempted, the award of merit going to the conductor, who happily called the bobs in the right places. Mention might also be made of the rope, which made Cambridge places during the touch, causing the 'Dumpling' to barge in the vulgar tongue in no uncertain way. Other touches were rung, the 'go' of the bells causing the old heads and fat men to veer toward the light end.

Eventually 'cease fire' was called—maybe sarcastically by the Master—and fresh fields were sought. A beautiful church, with beautiful surroundings and beautiful bells, the tenor only requiring an extra wheel attached—and a tow rope. A few courses were next rung at the Cafe Royal, ably called by the builder of many things, the striking being perfect.

Warburton was the next stop. Memories of Lymm tenor caused a cry of 'volunteers to the front.' Herminius-like, the Grappenhall representative filled the breach, and covered himself with glory. The way he rang that bell should live in ringing history—and from inquiries made he is still living.

Oxford, Kent, Stedman, Grandsire and Plain Bob were rung, a Rochdale visitor standing in the latter, causing the 'Dumpling' to remark at the close of the touch, in his best Hamlet-like manner: 'Sir, I assume you are aware that I spoke to you just now.' The visitor mildly said he thought he heard something. This brought events to a close.

Tuning up the chiming apparatus, the Soham man reeled off a touch of Double Norwich, followed by Kent Treble Bob. The former finished at a shift, the latter by a bob called from outside. 'All aboard' was shouted by the pilot—a wave of the hand to his reverence—cricketer, scholar, and parson—a last admonition, 'Haste, wanderer, the sun is sinking low: he shall return, but when shalt thou?' and 'that is all,' called at the end of a perfect day.

The ringers who are duly thankful for the joys and sorrows of that day were Messrs. Fairclough, W. Bibby, J. Bibby, F. Bibby, C. Raddon, W. Ashcroft, E. Jenkins, T. Lightfoot, R. Greave and H. Collyer.

NORWICH AND IPSWICH ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday, Oct. 1st, a meeting of the Halesworth District of the Norwich and Ipswich Association was held at Cratfield. Members were present from Ke'sale, Thornham Magna, Ufford, Bungay, Ditchingham, Balingham, Bramfield, Henham, Halesworth, Chediston, and Cratfield. Well-struck touches in the four standard methods were rung on the fine peal of six bells, at St. Mary's Church. The Vicar (the Rev. T. S. England) kindly provided the ringers with tea, which was much appreciated. At the close of the meeting, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells and entertainment.

NEWCASTLE GUILD'S OUTING. SUCCESSFUL TRIP TO BEVERLEY.

Last year the Newcastle Cathedral Guild made a very praiseworthy attempt to record the first peal of Stedman Caters on the bells of Beverley Minster, an attempt that came so near fulfilment that only a few sixes were required to complete the peal. Unfortunately, the effort came to grief. Not being satisfied with the result it was again decided this year by the Guild that another attempt be made to attain their object, and, accordingly, eleven members of the Guild, including Mr. R. Richardson, of Wellington College, journeyed through to the Yorkshire town, on Saturday, Sept. 24th, and the peal of Stedman Caters was rung in the old N.W. tower without a hitch. The performance was a very creditable one indeed, and, as far as the striking was concerned, was a very fine peal. Nothing but praise was heard from many of the local inhabitants, who seemed very pleased to have the Guild back amongst them. The main object of the week-end was thus accomplished, and put the party into very excellent spirits, or was it that the spirits got into the party? At any rate, some of them seemed to get rather out of hand, while the persistent attentions of a wasp to one notable member seemed to arouse general curiosity.

Visits were made to the belfry at St. Mary's on Sunday morning, to the Minster on Sunday afternoon, and to Holy Trinity, Hull, on Sunday evening, where short touches for service were rung and thoroughly enjoyed, especially by 'The Novice,' the methods being Stedman, Eriu and Grandsire.

An attempt to ring a peal of Grandsire Caters at St. Mary's, Beverley, on Monday, came to grief, after about two hours' ringing, 'The Novice' most likely being the cause, as the excitement of the week-end seemed to have percolated into his system, while the fact that he was trying to think out a good cure for toothache may have been another reason. This being his first attempt at a peal, perhaps he may be forgiven.

Further sight-seeing by the party, under the guidance of their old friend, Mr. Sellars, who seemed to know something about the growth of tomatoes, and about the antiquities of the place, brought the visit to a close for the bulk of the party.

The Guild regret the departure of their old friend, Canon Nolloth, D.D., from Beverley, and will always associate the successful peal at the Minster with his farewell. They also desire warmly to thank the Rectors and incumbents of the various churches where the use of the bells and belfries had been so generously given, also to acknowledge the kind assistance and help of the local ringers.

The chronicle of the doings of certain members of the party who extended their visit cannot be exactly recorded, neither can the successful method of curing toothache be divulged by

'THE NOVICE.'

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION. NORTHERN BRANCH.

A quarterly meeting of the Northern Branch was held at Bewdley, some 30 members being present from various towers in the district. Ringing took place before and after service and meeting, but the 'go' of the bells prevented more than a few plain courses being accomplished. The service was conducted by the Rector, who also presided at the business meeting which followed. The usual business was transacted, Mr. W. Short being elected Ringing Master, and the other officers re-elected.

Much criticism of the way the bells had been rung was made at the meeting, and the Secretary of the Kidderminster band wished the meeting to understand that they were in no way responsible for the report which appeared in 'The Ringing World' on the opening of these bells, which said they gave general satisfaction.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Rector for presiding at the meeting.

Mr. J. E. Groves was appointed to conduct the quarterly peal. The next meeting, subject to the usual consent being obtained, will be held at Kidderminster in January next.

HEMEL HEMPSTEAD RINGER'S DEATH.

It is with great regret that we announce the death of Mr. Fredk. George Walker, of Hemel Hempstead, who passed away on September 30th, at the West Herts Hospital, after only a very brief illness. The deceased was 28 years of age, and was for nine years a ringer at St. Mary's Church. The bells were muffled on Sunday, and on Wednesday, after the funeral, when a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,280 changes) was rung as a last tribute of esteem, by: H. Floyd 1, W. H. Newell 2, H. Golding (conductor) 3, H. Gates 4, J. Floyd 5, W. Shephard 6, W. Floyd 7, J. Floyd, junr. 8. A large number of wreaths, including one from his brother ringers, as a token of respect and deepest sympathy, were laid on the grave.

A REFERENCE SYSTEM REQUIRED.

A letter which appeared in a recent issue from Mr. Edgar Wightman with regard to Double Norwich compositions, in which he points out that in one report of the Norwich and Ipswich Association there is claimed as new one peal composed by him as long ago as 1897, and three which are variations of peals by him, calls attention once more to the views which we have previously expressed as to the importance of verifying the originality of compositions. Other recent instances besides those mentioned by Mr. Wightman come to mind, including the publication of a peal of Stedman Triples which was composed by Mr. J. W. Washbrook more than twenty years ago, and a peal of London by the Rev. H. Law James cropping up as the composition used in the first peal in a new method. Now, in all these cases there is no question of piracy. The later composers have obtained their peals by perfectly legitimate methods and independent research and without any knowledge of their prior existence. But we have got to remember that the composition of peals has been going on in a more or less intensive manner for the last half-century and over, and that, therefore, in the common methods, at any rate, it is extremely difficult to get anything new; indeed, the fact that a previously composed peal of London was again produced as a peal of Northampton Surprise goes to show that it is never safe to assume that a composition for an absolutely brand-new method is necessarily obtained for the first time. All this, however, only goes to emphasize the need for great care in claiming the authorship of a peal.

The real difficulty about the matter appears to be in the means available for checking the originality. Reference to all the existing text-books and publications would not necessarily enable a composer to be certain that his peal was or was not new, even supposing all these books were at his disposal and that he was prepared to spend the great time that would be involved in the search. In the same way, it would not follow that he would be sure of obtaining the information if his peal were published, say, in our columns, for there are many compositions which have been rung in past years which are now unknown to all but a very few, and the reappearance of the figures would not in all cases call the original to mind.

What is required is some sort of reference file in which the peals are so classified that those most nearly like any freshly produced composition could be turned up in a few minutes. It was suggested recently that some such scheme was necessary for methods; it is more necessary for peals, for scores of compositions of peals are produced for every new method that sees the light. In compiling the Central Council's 'Collection of Peals,' the Committee had through their hands a great number of compositions which they could not use, and these, with those that have been published and those which could be obtained from living conductors, would form the nucleus, at any rate, of a collection which could be classified for the purpose of reference. The task would be a big one, but it will grow bigger still as the years go on, and unless some scheme on these lines is adopted the future will be chaos, and ringers yet unborn will be putting forward, as original, compositions rung by their grandfathers.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT AT LEWISHAM.

A successful meeting of the Southern District was held at St. Mary's, Lewisham, on Saturday, October 15th, about 50 members being present, including ringers from Reading, Slough, Kingston New Malden, Wimbledon, Croydon, and other districts. The association's veterans also attended, including Mr. John Carter, Mr. Ted Horrex, and Mr. J. Waghorn, senr. Mr. T. H. Taffender acted as Ringing Master, and various methods up to London Surprise were rung on the fine peal of eight. Tea was partaken of at the White Hart, and several ladies were present.

The business meeting was held afterwards and, in the absence of the District Master (Mr. H. Burton), Mr. T. H. Taffender was voted to the chair.—Mr. Skelt, of Croydon, was elected a member, and a vote of thanks was unanimously accorded Mr. H. Warnett for arranging the tea and having the bells in good order, thus making the afternoon and evening enjoyable for the visitors. After a short touch on handbells the tower was again visited till 9 p.m.

DEVON ROUND RINGERS.

With the arrival of Canon Coleridge we were almost a double team. Seven took hot lunch at two o'clock, and relaid for eight hungry peal men at 2.30. We learnt that a 'prize contest' was to be held at North Molton, and adjoining parish, for the following week, when it was expected that some 16 or 18 teams of eight would compete. Proceedings were to commence at 10 a.m., each set having the ropes for 30 minutes, and raising and falling the eight bells in peal. Umpires were provided, locked in a private room near the tower, and would number the teams, take a note of errors, and award points without knowing who the bands were, or the order they were drawn for ringing. These trials of strength and skill would last all day—keenness and sportsmanlike emulation would pervade the whole village for about 12 hours—allowing a brief interval for dinners and a ringers' service in the church. There is a greater value in these contests as church work than the change ringer usually imagines. Framed certificates, mostly printed (on neat cards similar to the larger peal cards we use) are hanging in many a North Devon tower showing the local band to be 'first prize' or 'second prize team,' as the case may be in hard-fought occupations of pre-war days. In several churches hang framed photographs of all the competitors, sometimes mustering over 100 strong, fine stalwart Devonshire men who carry on their Sunday work, simple though it may be, with faithful punctuality and very accurate ringing, irrespective of the bad going or the weight of the bells they handle.

There are more than a dozen towers in this district where round ringing only is practised, and none of them belong to the Devon Guild. Some unusual advantages we found, viz., not a broken rope during the tour, not a bearing left ungreased, no disturbance during the peals, and the lighting at night in good order. One cannot but admire the thoroughness of the Devon round ringers.

In the afternoon we motored in our 14-seater with 16 up to Chittlehampton, miles from anywhere, it was said, and found the village centre consisted of an open rectangular square, with the church on one side and 'the Bells' on the other, with picturesque houses on each frontage. It was a fine Decorated tower, similar to those of Somerset, with a useful octave, tenor 15 cwt. Forty minutes of London Surprise and 30 of Stedman were sufficient to end our efforts, which, like the weather all day, was on the damp side. In justice to the band, I may say, however, both ventures were lost by the conductors' omissions—who would be a conductor? On the other side of the square we were successful, and not quite so dry round the teatable our shepherd proving himself to be a veritable 'cow-maid' when the dishes of cream came round. Double-handed (10 bells) ringing in the open square, with all the neighbours looking out of doors; their prolific families clustering around us with the commanding Canon as centrepiece; afforded an interesting theme for an artist to record on canvas, and I wished that it could appear on a cinema screen. Fast falls the eventide—South Molton was duly reached, and train at 10.10 p.m. onward boarded, motors taking us from the G.W. Railway terminus, a mile to the Hotel Central, our headquarters in Barnstaple, till Saturday.

Wednesday in Barnstaple was our 'at home' day, with two towers close by and our party at full strength and, a three days' fair beginning in the town, joybells and joviality reigned supreme. We ordered a leg of mutton dinner for this especial occasion, and placed 'Old Caversham' and 'New Mills' to do duty as chairman and vice-chairman respectively.

Of the Central Hotel, I would like to mention its reasonable charges and our general appreciation of the attention, comfort and scrupulous cleanliness to be had there. Mr. J. Broom, the host, gave us a private room, and set one long table for our use at meal times, and what passed across it, by way of ringers' 'jargon,' besides the Devon edibles would fill a book. If you would know how to 'extend' L-O-N-D-O-N, ask the compositor. If you 'tap' a bell what sound is produced? Is it a growl or a squeak? As a motorist you would know that the 'gradient' of Fiddler's Elbow caused his army rejection—and should you happen to have an action in the High Courts, ask Lord Chagford, K.C., to brief you. When ringing double-handed 'Granta' never permit Little Bob to hear you, for unkind words have a way of coming home to roost.

Pilton Church for Stedman, in the morning, only a mile out, resulted in an excellent performance at this fine Ruhlhall eight (tenor 25 cwt.), and the pride of North Devon. The strapping end was taken off the tenor rope surprise being expressed by several local men that so 'lean' an Arab could stay the time, as two locals usually handle it for touches. Those who know the physique and stature of Messrs. Coleridge and Williams will realise that it was a decided case of 'up over' and 'down under' when they were dodging together whilst ringing the trebles.

In the evening, Double Norwich at Barnstaple Parish Church (tenor 18 cwt.) ended when the tenor clapper came out broken, with a crash that alarmed the onlookers, after 2½ hours' ringing; the Arab aforesaid expressing his genuine 'thanks' at the mishap, as the going of the tenor was too big a pill to swallow on top of Pilton. Here we rang on the ground floor with three sides, having tall pointed arches, quite open to the whole church. It was most interesting to see the townspeople and some of the Devon prize ringing men come to the pews near us to sit and watch our efforts. Stripped as we were for a peal in earnest, the whole scene gave one the impression of a free side-show for those who had come 'fairing'; but the fun of this affair was not to our liking. Our solace at home ended with a full measure of cider, tobacco, handbells, and ringers' anecdotes. Then what care I, let the peal go by, for another we'll try on the morrow.

MID-DEVON BRANCH PROGRESS.

A quarterly meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch was held at Upton, Torquay, on Saturday, October 8th. The President of the Guild (the Rev. Maitland Kelly) was present, also ringers from London, Lifton, Exeter, Christow, Buckfastleigh, Dartmouth, Cockington, Paignton. The Rev. C. S. Powell (of Plymouth), gen. hon. secretary, wrote expressing his regret at being unable to attend. Some well-struck touches were brought round, the president, although nearly 50 years of age, taking part. Nearly 30 members were present, and the president congratulated the branch on its progress, and exclaimed, 'at last, after many years' struggle.' He recalled a visit made by the Guild to Torquay nearly 40 years ago, trying to introduce change ringing, and said it was a great pleasure to him to know the 'method' was taken up in real earnest. He held very high hope of a bright future for the Mid-Devon Branch, and suggested combined practices at various towers.

Owing to the long journey back to Lifton, the president had to leave early, to the regret of all present.

Mr. H. W. Wilkes (chairman) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the president, and said the whole of the branch most heartily welcomed him.—This was seconded by Mr. F. T. Gover, who said what a pleasure it was to welcome him, and especially to have the pleasure of ringing with him—an expression which met with a cordial 'hear, hear.'

The business meeting followed. After several propositions and much discussion it was resolved to hold the annual meeting at Paignton on January 21st, 1922.—Mr. C. Austin proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens of Upton for the use of the bells, and supported the proposal of combined practices.—The motion was seconded by Mrs. E. T. Gover, and carried, and Mr. C. Roberts (churchwarden) responded, saying what a pleasure it was to welcome the Guild and to hear what good progress the branch was making in change ringing. The Vicar and himself would always be pleased to welcome them, and he only wished a band could be started in Torquay.

Mr. H. J. Hole (hon. secretary) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the visitors, especially alluding to Mr. Shepherd, of Exeter, whose knowledge of the art of change ringing was always a very valuable help to any band. Paignton had benefited this summer by visitors from London, Birmingham and Bristol, who had helped to ring a good quarter-peal.—Mr. Shepherd, in reply, said it was a pleasure to come to Mid-Devon and find such progress being made. It made his heart glad to think the branch was in real earnest. Ringing was a fine exercise, both for brain and body, and a sure cure for indigestion (laughter), and many pleasant hours could be spent by the fireside learning the methods.

The ringers then adjourned to the belfry again, and the tit-bit of the day was a splendidly struck 504 Grand sire Triples, which, if rumours are correct, left the 'have-beens' and 'would-like-to-be' critics 'stony' cold.

A quarterly meeting of the Exeter and District Branch of the Guild took place at Exeter on Saturday, Oct. 1st. Tea was provided at St. Sidwell's Institute, and was attended by 36 members.—The Chairman (Mr. E. Shepherd), on behalf of the branch, extended a hearty welcome to visitors from Plymouth, Torquay and Llandaff.

The holding of the annual meeting at Heavitree, on November 28th, was confirmed. Visits were paid to various towers, including the Cathedral, St. David's and St. Sidwell's, and some excellent touches were rung in various methods.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Bolton Branch was held at the Church of The Saviour, Bolton, on Saturday week, when members attended from the various towers in the district, and visitors from Leyland, Preston, Standish and Manchester. Kent Treble Bob Major, Stedman and Grand sire Triples were rung until 7 p.m., a concert in the school adjoining preventing further ringing.

At the business meeting it was decided to hold the next meeting at Walkden, and the branch secretary was appointed on the general committee in place of the vice-president.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar and wardens for the use of the bells, and the ringers for their preparation.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Owing to pressure on our space, several reports are unavoidably held over.

There is every promise of a big gathering at the College Youths dinner at the London Tavern on the 12th November, and those who desire to secure tickets should do so at once.

The peal of ten at All Saints', Maidstone (tenor 31 cwt.), are to be rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. This will be welcome news to Kentish ringers, for the back end bells of this ring have provided plenty of hard work for the ringers, and, as one prominent gentleman has put it, have made more than one good heavyweight groan.

A new treble to make a peal of six at Longhope, Glos., is being cast at the Whitechapel Foundry, and the bells are to be rehung in a new frame.

The first handbell peal was rung 110 years ago next Sunday—Oct. 30th. It was Oxford Treble Bob Major at Sheffield, and the late Mr. C. H. Hattersley's grandfather took part. On Oct. 30th, 1911, a centenary peal was rung, and was 'timed' by the same grandfather clock that was used for the purpose in the original peal.

A hundred and thirty years ago next Monday—Oct. 31st, 1791—a peal of 7,002 Grandsire 'Quaters' was rung at Great St. Mary's, Cambridge, by a band of Cambridge Youths. There must have been a good company at Cambridge at that time, for there are records still in the tower recording this, and peals of Bob Maximus (6,600) and Oxford Treble Ten (6,000) within the three preceding years.

On November 3rd, 1796, the first 'name' peal was rung. It was achieved by the Williams at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields.

There should be a number of peals of Superlative rung on Nov. 5th next, which will be the centenary of what is said to be the first peal in the method. It was at St. Peter's, Huddersfield, but whether the composition of that peal was true we are unable to say. Perhaps some of our Yorkshire readers could give us some enlightenment upon this performance.

Mr. Pryce Taylor, of Loughborough, is an enthusiastic hockey player, and between the ringing of peals, finds time, in what leisure he has, to turn out for his town's hockey club. In a match against Beeston on Saturday week he scored three goals!

Ringers who remember the doings of former days at Debenham will read with interest of the ringing of a peal at this celebrated Suffolk tower by a local band—the first for upwards of 20 years.

Few ringers can beat the record of ex-Sergt. J. Williams, of Newent, Glos., whose 69th peal is recorded this week. Although able to pull a bell for years previously, it was not until he was 60 years of age that he rang his first peal—one of Bob Minor—at Newent in October, 1912. Since then he has rung 69 peals in many different methods, on from five to twelve bells, and entailing much travelling. He is now one of the keenest ringers to be found in the West of England, and is secretary of the Forest Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association. Surely a wonderful example of keenness to many young men, whose enthusiasm is often only lukewarm.

Mr. G. E. Symonds has conducted his first peals of Cambridge Surprise Major, Double Norwich Court Bob Major, Bob Royal, Grandsire Caters, Bob Major, one, two and three Minor methods on tower bells; and on handbells, Grandsire Caters, Grandsire Triples and Bob Major. Does this constitute a record?

A REMARKABLE YEAR'S WORK.

MESSRS. TAYLOR AND CO.'S WONDERFUL OUTPUT.

Messrs. John Taylor and Co.'s advertisement on another page reveals the remarkable activities of this firm during the present year. In addition to having cast twenty new peals of bells with less than 20 cwt. tenors, they are the founders of 13 rings and carillons, with tenors ranging from a ton to 130 cwt. The total weight of bells cast by them during the past year is upwards of 250 tons. A prodigious output and a testimony to the enterprise of the firm and their sterling work.

YOUNG COMPOSERS' PEALS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Mr. Edgar Wightman's letter should be a warning to young composers palming off on the Exercise variations of peals as new compositions; particularly now we have the Central Council's collections of peals with plain hunt treble. The names of those composers who have joined the great majority ought to be reversed, and not have their masterpieces thoughtlessly usurped.—Yours, etc.,

G. E. SYMONDS.

NEW BAND IN MONMOUTHSHIRE.

The Parish Church of Bassaleg, Monmouthshire, has a ring of six steel beds, by Vickers, but for a number of years there was no local band of ringers. A few months ago the local schoolmaster, Mr. J. Gould, although not a ringer himself, called a meeting in the parish for the purpose of starting a band, and old pupils of Mr. Gould's readily responded. The hon. secretary of the Llandaff Association (Mr. J. W. Jones) was approached, and asked for his assistance, and he readily responded. A start was made in teaching the novices how to handle a bell, followed by Grandsire Doubles. The new band can now ring 120's of Doubles, and the bells are rung for the Sunday services. The association's object is thus once more attained.

NORWICH & IPSWICH ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING AT NORWICH.

The annual general meeting of the Norwich and Ipswich Association for the Diocese of Norwich and Archdeaconry of Suffolk was held in Norwich on Thursday, October 13th, and was attended by 72 members from the counties of Norfolk and Suffolk. The general secretary (Mr. A. L. Coleman) had mapped out an interesting programme, and the visitors as a consequence had a pleasant time during their brief sojourn in the city. The bells of the city churches were a special attraction, and many touches in various methods were rung under the skilful handling of the association members.

Divine service was held in the magnificent church of St. Peter Mancroft, conducted by the President of the Association (the Very Rev. the Dean of Norwich). The address was given by the Bishop of Thetford. Luncheon was served at the Bell Hotel, Orford Hill, under the presidency of the Dean of Norwich, with whom were the Bishop of Thetford, Rev. Francis L'Estrange Fawcett, Rev. W. C. Pearson, Rev. H. Drake, Mr. C. E. Borrett (vice-president), Mr. G. P. Burton (Kinging Master, Norfolk branch), Mr. J. Motts (Kinging Master, Suffolk branch), Mr. E. Evans (secretary, Suffolk branch), Mr. A. L. Coleman (general secretary), Mr. F. Knights, Mr. W. L. Duffield, Mr. J. Murray, Mr. J. Souter, Mr. E. F. Poppy, and the following District Secretaries: Messrs. F. R. Copeman, G. H. Cross, F. R. Borrett, T. Fitzjohn, and 54 members.

The King having been heartily toasted on the call of the President, the toast of 'the Church' was submitted by Mr. G. P. Burton, and acknowledged by the Bishop of Thetford.

The business meeting followed, at which the president, the vice-presidents and all the officers were re-elected en bloc.—Mr. Charles S. Tutbill was appointed district secretary for Fakenham; Mr. Fredk. Salter, district secretary for Thetford; and Mr. Victor E. Kerridge, district secretary for Framlingham.

The following were elected non-members of the association: The Right Hon. Lord Cozens-Hardy (Letheringsett Hall) and Mr. Gilbert Wellesley Overman (Manor House, Weasenham). The following thirteen were elected performing members, viz.: Messrs. G. Gibson, L. Knights, E. Newson, F. Jay, R. Smy, A. Sawyer, W. Sawyer, J. Starling, S. Love, E. Kimin, F. Wilson, F. Pearce, L. Burton.

The committee were empowered to pass the revised rules, and to transact the remainder of the business on the agenda.

A vote of thanks was moved by the President to the Bishop of Thetford for his address, and also to the clergy for the use of their bells, and this concluded the general business meeting, after which the Dean conducted a large party of ringers round the Cathedral, which was much appreciated by the visitors.

A SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

The 40th annual report of the 44th year of the association was a record of continual steady progress. During the year six hon. members, 12 hon. life members and 56 performing members had been elected, and regret was expressed at the loss of two members by death and 12 by resignation, bringing the net total membership up to 1,052. Five branch meetings were held during the year, and emphasis was laid on the necessity and importance of the district and practice meetings, which were held at 18 different towers, with thanks to those district secretaries who have carried out this very useful work on behalf of the association. The peal performances for the past 12 months showed a steady progress in quality and quantity. The report recorded that 178 peals were rung in many methods ranging from Doubles to Maximus. Four performances, however, called for special mention, being first peals by the association, viz., Suffolk Surprise Major, Yorkshire Surprise Major and two handbell peals, one of Stedman Caters, and one of Stedman Cinques. These four peals were rung by the St. Margaret's, Leiston, company, and conducted by Charles F. Bailey, and were fresh achievements to the unique family records of the Bailey brothers. The St. Mary-le-Tower company, Ipswich, were also to be congratulated on adding to the association peal records of Cambridge Surprise Maximus and Double Norwich Court Bob Maximus. The association occupied first place in the Central Council's Analysis, 1920, with a grand total of 179 peals, with a total value in points 2,490.

A SUBSCRIPTION OF TWO SHILLINGS.

At the subsequent General Committee meeting, the revised association rules were passed, on a motion of which notice was given at the general meeting held at Ipswich on Oct. 6th, 1920.

The Secretary and Treasurer (Mr. A. L. Coleman) presented a financial statement, and reviewed the present financial condition of the association. He reported that there was still a large amount of subscriptions outstanding, and thought the greater part of that amount would be paid before the end of the year, as up to the present the members had been most loyal in paying the increased contributions.

If all paid up, he estimated a small balance at the end of the year, and on the strength of that he would recommend that the annual subscription be two shillings per annum.

Mr. G. P. Burton proposed, and Mr. C. E. Borrett seconded, that the annual subscription for the year 1922 be two shillings per annum, and this was carried.

The Secretary reported the resignation of Mr. T. Fitzjohn, as district secretary for Thetford, and moved a vote of thanks to him for the services he had rendered for the past twelve years.

A vote of thanks was passed to the president for presiding, and this concluded the business, the day being gloriously fine, added much to the enjoyment of all present, and the annual festival was an exceedingly successful one.

STAFFORD BELLS RESTORED.

TRANSFORMED BY RETUNING.

St. Mary's, Stafford, is again in possession of its ring of ten bells, but a greatly improved peal is now to be heard, after the long silence. Some of them are more than 200 years old, and they are by various founders, but, short of recasting, they are now as good a ring of ten as one could hope to obtain. The founders and the dates are as follow:—

- Tenor.—By Henry Bagley, of Chacombe, 1742.
- 9th.—By Abel Rudhall, of Gloucester, 1751.
- 8th.—By Henry Bagley, of Ecton, 1692.
- 7th.—By Abraham Rudhall, of Gloucester, 1709.
- 6th.—By Henry Bagley, of Ecton, 1692.
- 5th.—Same as 6th.
- 4th.—Same as 7th.
- 3rd.—Same as 7th.
- 2nd.—Gillett and Johnston, Croydon, 1887.
- Treble.—Gillett and Johnston, Croydon, 1887.

The bells have been cleaned of all their corrosion, and tuned, and have all been rehung with entirely new fittings, which include iron headstocks and the latest type of ball bearings. The framework has been considerably strengthened with tie bolts, and repaired, and three heavy steel girders, horizontally cross braced, have been put in under the timbers as additional centre support. The tenor pit has been replaced by a new one, constructed of larger framing, these timbers having been specially selected from some very old oak.

It is satisfactory to note, that although the framework had previously been condemned, it has now been found, after inspection, to be perfectly rigid during ringing, and is quite clear of the tower walls. During the restoration, the timber in the framework was found to be in excellent condition, and capable of service for at least the better part of another century. St. Mary's, Stafford, now has a good old peal which are a pleasure to handle. The opening ceremony took place on Sunday, October 9th, but this being an awkward day for visitors, an 'open' day was arranged for Saturday, Oct. 15th, when ringers from various parts of the country, including Walsall, Wolverhampton, Birmingham, Burton-on-Trent, Coseley, Uttoxeter, Brewwood, Coalbrookdale (Shropshire), Stoke-on-Trent, Crewe, London, etc., spent a very pleasant afternoon and evening. Touches of Stedman Caters and Triples, Grandsire Caters, Kent Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich, Cambridge Surprise, Bob Royal, etc., were rung. The unanimous opinion was that the 'go' of the bells was perfect, and admiration was expressed at the greatly improved tone. The work has been carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of the Whitechapel Foundry, who were represented at the re-opening by Mr. A. A. Hughes.

CENTRAL NORTHANTS ASSOCIATION.

NORTHAMPTON DISTRICT.

A quarterly meeting of the Northampton District was held at Pitsford on Saturday week, when 26 members attended including the Vicar of Pitsford (the Rev. J. White) and the general secretary (Mr. D. J. Nichols). Evensong was conducted by the Vicar, and a collection for the Belfry Repairs Fund amounted to 11s. 4d. This fund is not new to the association. It was proposed some years ago by Mr. Fred Hopper, whom many ringers thank, for it has been the means of helping in the rehanging of many peals of bells.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. White were present at tea, after which a meeting was held, the Vicar being in the chair.—Mr. Bertram Murby was presented with a certificate in recognition of ringing his first peal with a working bell.

Mr. Nichols, the General Secretary, kindly explained the position of Yardley Hastings tower, regarding the Northampton and the Wellingborough districts, and thanks are due to him for the way the business was carried out.

Mr. Nichols also mentioned the muffled ringing on Armistice Day, and hoped that all towers, if possible, would ring muffled on Nov. 11th.

Mr. B. Meadows was re-elected to the association, and the next quarterly meeting was fixed for Moulton on Saturday, January 21st, 1922, with a 'special' at Ecton on November 26th.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells was proposed by Mr. England, and seconded by Miss Law, and to this the Vicar suitably replied.

PEALS TAPPED ON HANDBELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I do not at all agree with all Mr. Pye has said in this controversy, and I think it a pity that he has allowed himself to be drawn into argument with, not only the performer on the merits of his performances, but with you, Sir, just because your 'leaders' on the subject are not such as he would have written himself. Whatever our friend may say, for one man to tap a peal of London Surprise Major is a marvellous performance, and entitles the performer to one of the seats in the front row of campanologists. Where the mistake has been made is in trying to compare 'tapping' with 'ringing' two handbells to the same peal. As well try to compare a violinist in an orchestra with an organist. One only plays his part, while the other plays the whole composition himself.

With regard to my second point, I will only mention one item. The sentence, 'You are not justified in opposing decisions set up by the Central Council.' May I remind your readers that the Central Council has had no opportunity of setting up a decision on the matter. What happened was this: When the Peals Analysis Committee were giving their report a member asked: 'What about the peals tapped by Mr. Morris?' And the answer came sharp, without hesitation: 'We only record peals rung.' This answer was not vociferously received, but I certainly heard several people in different parts of the room say 'hear, hear.'

Instead of an argument, 'Handbell peals' versus 'tapped peals,' I expected, from the letter from the captain and secretary of the St. Nicholas' band, Harwich (the first on the subject), a discussion on, say, 'Does tapping promote the art of campanology?' I am prepared to argue that it does not. It is useful, as Mr. Morris says, to let outsiders hear what change ringing sounds like, but to spread the knowledge of it among a band of learners I regard it as ridiculous.

Twenty-six years ago we had a ringer in Bristol who could tap a plain course of Grandsire Cinques like clockwork, and whenever we had a dinner or social evening, this was always looked forward to, but we never had it at any other time. Ringing in Bristol to-day would not be what it is if he had only been content to show us what he could do, or what Grandsire Cinques sounded like. No; to his credit, he it said, he worked hard, and encouraged everyone of us to reach his standard, by practice in the towers round about Bristol. That we eventually caught up to him, and even (to be truthful) passed him, is entirely due to his spade-work of from 26 to 30 years ago. But he would never have done it by tapping.—Yours very truly,
W. A. CAVE.

MR. KEEBLE'S EXPERIENCE.

Dear Sir.—Mr. Morris claims that I am proving that his tapping is of the same value to him as my ability to transpose is to me. Nothing of the sort. I have gained my knowledge and ability through study and experience, and one ounce of the latter is worth a ton of theory. If Mr. Morris thinks he can gain the same experience by tapping, let him by all means keep on thinking so. I have proved what I can do, having taught a band to ring double-handed, from Bob Minor on to Bob Major Kent, Oxford, Superlative, New Cambridge, Bob Royal and Kent Royal; and, I beg to remind him, did this without any tapping or without any outside help. I note, also, Mr. Morris is slow to accept my offer to umpire, and also to accept any of the challenges offered to him. Why? I can tell Mr. Morris this, if he tackles the job of ringing a pair of handbells to London he will find it a vastly different job to the transposing of figures. I know, I have 'had some,' and I say it is not a greater, but a lesser mental strain to transpose eight figures than to ring a pair of handbells to any one method. You, Sir, say in last week's issue only one of many private correspondents has taken a view entirely opposite to yours on this question. Probably so, but may I ask how many of such are capable double-handed ringers? I am quite aware that my name has been bandied about from one end of the county of Essex to the other in connection with certain incidents of the Essex Association. But may I request these private correspondents to do so in future on their own notepaper? Verb. sap.

Now, Sir, just a word with Canon Papillon. Quoth he, when the first peal of London was rung, double-handed: 'While congratulating these men on their achievement, we think their time would have been better occupied in teaching young ringers the rudiments of Grandsire Triples.' I note he does not tell Mr. Morris so. Of course one man is gaining all the experience, the others never did. The cobbler should indeed stick to his last, but are not men with ability and experience to be allowed to express their opinion? If Mr. Morris says I use strange arguments, perhaps so. May I remind him, 'adversity doth oft strange bedfellows meet.' I note he refers me to Rule 1 of the Essex Association. I beg to refer him to Rule 8, which deals with peals rung and the booking thereof. Will Mr. Morris now accept your offer, and that of 'Once a Beginner' (at London) which is practically the same. If so, and he rings the peal double-handed, and gets his fare to the Metropolis, I will pay the fare back to Harwich. I think your readers generally will say this is a sportsman's offer.—Yours sincerely,

W. KEEBLE.

MR. MORRIS RESENTS.

Dear Sir,—I have just been reading Mr. Pye's latest outburst, and I see that my friend has 'got 'em badly'; but for all his open insults and taunts, I will try as politely as possible to answer one or two of his accusations as briefly as possible, and finish this so-called debate. Mr. Pye is great on telling us what he can do and what he knows. There is one thing it is quite apparent he does not know, and that is anything about tapping. Another thing he does not seem to know is that a ringer, when ringing changes, except when making places, is continually transposing his rope or figure (whichever name he likes to give it) with another. Mr. Pye also hints that I tell lies. Many thanks for that compliment, also for giving me the right to do as I like. I hope to continue to do so without his aid for the rest of my ringing life. I agree with him, it is much better to have fame given one, than it is to take it to oneself. I note, too, that he has made a great deal out of there being 18 ringing members to our band, but he forgot to mention that eight of those names have been scratched off long since. One has actually been dead for years, which fact, as an official of the Essex Association, he ought to have known, as they have been duly notified. Out of those remaining, two are in Scotland, two can only attend once a fortnight, one once in about seven weeks and one is too old to do any active ringing. Perhaps Mr. Pye is right about the fault of their leader, only I do not happen to be their leader at present. Will he please look over my letters again, and see where I made the mistake of professing to ring eight bells and scratch it out, as I confess I cannot see it myself? Perhaps my spectacles are not strong enough. I must apologise for thinking that Mr. Pye flattered himself on his knowledge of London, for now I find that he only flatters himself on telling a man's capabilities. But, seriously, I started in this debate hoping to have a good give-and-take argument, and when I saw Mr. Pye's name in it, I anticipated somehow that we were going to derive much benefit from it, with a hearty laugh here and there, to liven up the proceedings. But I was doomed to great disappointment, for first it was the Editor, now it is me, and there is no blinking the fact that Mr. Pye's latest outburst is nothing more or less than an open insult to me. There was a time during the debate when I felt myself trying to fall in with his plans, by showing him what I could or could not do, but thanks to him I am wiser now, as I can see very clearly that I should have been held up to ridicule, and I must take an action I very much regret. Will the officials of the Essex Association please take my name off their register, as I will not profess to belong to an association where on asking a question, and daring to pass an opinion, one is insulted in the way I have been by one of its officials. I hope Mr. Pye does not think that by his bluff he is washing me off the slate. If he does I am afraid he will be greatly disappointed, for circumstances permitting, it will still go on. On concluding this debate, so far as I am concerned, I only hope, when the time comes for me to call 'stand,' I shall be able, on turning back the pages of my ringing life, to say with truth I have done my best. I hope Mr. Pye will be able to do the same, and I hope he will remember that whether on Sundays we ring London Surprise or only Plain Bob, our services are of equal value to the Church. If we are doing our best, that is all she demands.—Yours, etc., ARTHUR T. MORRIS.

P.S.—Will 'Once a Beginner' please note that when I come to the Metropolis I hope to be able to pay my own fare?

MR. PYE'S MEMORY.

Sir,—Mr. Pye claims to be expert at judging a man when he is at the end of a rope, and we are, I imagine, equally justified in judging him by the sorry figure he cuts when he rushes into print. From his pedestal he attempts to belittle a very clever performance by arguments based on a defective memory. He describes as 'novices' a band which six days previously had rung 15,000 of Double Norwich. One member had previously rung Superlative, Cambridge and London, and also 13,000 of Double Norwich, before he came under Mr. Pye's tuition, and another had travelled many times to Brighton for practice, and had also rung peals of London and Superlative, and had been meeting other bands in London for practice at the time of the historic 'first attempt.' Mr. Pye is undoubtedly a good judge, when necessary, of the man at the end of the rope, for he has scoured the British Isles for the best men in some of his efforts to mount the pedestal. Can he point to a single footnote to a peal of Surprise as the first in the method by an entirely local band? I quite agree, Mr. Editor, with your sporting suggestion, and should like to have the pleasure of acting as umpire.—Yours faithfully,
J. PARKER.

HEMDEL HEMPSTEAD, HERTS.—On Thursday, Sept. 29th, for the harvest festival, 672 Grandsire Triples: R. Walker 1, W. H. Newell 2, H. Golding (conductor) 3, H. Gates 4, J. Floyd 5, W. Shephard 6, W. Floyd 7, J. Floyd, junr., 8.

A Page for Sunday Service Ringers.

Mr. T. E. Sone points out that the 504 Grandsire Triples by Mr. J. Beams, published on this page on October 7th, is false, the handstroke in the lead before 'Queens' in the first part, repeating with the backstroke at the single in the third part. Similar repetition will, of course, occur in the other parts.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

THE PROPOSED AMALGAMATION WITH CLEVELAND.
CONFERENCE TO BE HELD.

A successful meeting of the Northern Division was held at Thornaby on Saturday, October 8th. By kind permission of the Vicar (the Rev. T. A. Lee) the bells of the Parish Church were available, and the privilege of using them was made good use of by the ringers present, several touches of the most familiar methods being rung during the afternoon and evening.

A short service was held, at which the Vicar officiated. His kindly words of welcome and his encouraging address were greatly appreciated by all present. The local band provided tea in the Parish hall, and this was much enjoyed.

A business meeting followed tea, the Rev. E. Drage, Vicar of Pickering and vice-president of the association, being in the chair.

Reference was made to the unveiling of a tablet in the belfry of St. Mary's Church, Scarborough, in honour of Corpl. A. Rayner and Pta. H. Ferguson, both of whom laid down their lives in the great war. The ringers present expressed a wish that a letter be sent to Canon Cooper, Vicar of Scarborough, conveying their appreciation of the honour done to their fallen bell ringers.

The Hon. Secretary said he had great pleasure in acquainting those present with the answer received from Mr. T. Metcalfe, secretary of the Cleveland Association, to their resolution passed at Saltburn, March 12th, 1921. The members of the Cleveland Association, at their meeting, held at Ripon on Sept. 12th, decided to accede to the request of the Yorkshire Association that three members of each association should meet to discuss the possibility of amalgamating, and a meeting for this purpose was to be held at Ormesby on Saturday, October 22nd.

A resolution was unanimously passed, expressing their appreciation of the steps taken by the Cleveland Association.

The Rev. T. A. Lee, Vicar of Thornaby, was elected an honorary member of the association, and the Rev. Outhwaite, a ringing member.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the hearty welcome he gave the visitors, and for his many kindnesses during the day, and to the local band for all the arrangements they had made for the pleasure and comfort of the ringers. The meeting concluded with a prayer.

The ringers returned to the tower and enjoyed another two hours' ringing. The meeting was a great success, and revealed in many ways the good feeling and fellowship that exists between the ringers in the various towers in this Northern District.

THE LIGHT THAT FAILED.

A new Rector having recently been inducted to the living of Merthyr Tydfil, Glam., the local ringers, with the assistance of Mr. J. W. Jones, Newport, and Mr. Fred Chamberlain and Mr. Fred Viles, of Cardiff, made an attempt to ring a peal of Triples at the Parish Church on Saturday evening last as a welcome to the reverend gentleman. 'Stand' had to be called, however, owing to a lady, who had been decorating the altar with flowers, turning off the electric light at the main switch, thus putting the ringing chamber in darkness. This was a great disappointment, but a pleasant hour was afterwards spent at the Imperial Hotel, where supper was served. Another attempt is to be made in the near future.

NOTHERTON.—Worcester Association.—At St. Andrew's, on Thursday, Sept. 29th, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples, in 44 mins: W. Massey 1, A. Davies 2, A. Prestidge 3, William Davies, junr. (longest length), 4, J. Faulkner 5, W. Prestidge 6, H. Hubball 7, J. Faulkner, junr., 8.

DEATH—THE REAPER.

The hand of death, falling here or there upon some stalwart in the Exercise, reminds us from time to time of the passing of the years, and one by one the links which bind us to the past generation are broken. Several well-known ringers have been gathered to their fathers this year. To-day we have the sad duty of chronicling the death of two ringers of sterling worth, who, in their respective spheres have left their mark upon the Exercise—Raymond John Wilkins, who helped in no small measure to advance the art of ringing in and around Bristol, and William Gifford, who, admirable ringer that he was himself, never ceased to preach the gospel of good striking to all who came under his influence, and never tired of labouring, unsung, among the struggling beginners in peal ringing in the towers where help was not often forthcoming. Although neither had reached the allotted span of life, yet each had had a ringing career stretching over nearly four decades of invaluable service to the Exercise, forming as the years rolled by ever widening circles of friends, who are the poorer to-day for the loss of valued colleagues.

Mr. Raymond Wilkins began his ringing in and around Gloucester in the days when knowledge of the art was much farther to seek than in the present time; when, indeed, a man who wanted to learn had to make his own opportunities. A ringer then needed much more enthusiasm if he desired to get on than is necessary to the average beginner of to-day, but it made real ringers of those who had the courage and determination to overcome the obstacles and to brush aside disappointments. Mr. Wilkins was raised in a school of hard experience; he took a broad outlook upon ringing, and his value to his association was incalculable. His death has created a feeling of indescribable loss to the men who have been long associated with him in the Bristol towers.

Mr. William Gifford had a most attractive personality. His experience among the country towers in counties where change ringing is still in a backward state was wider than most men's. He was able to comprehend the difficulties of the struggling rural company, and his advice and assistance were ever at their disposal. The majority of his peals were Grandsire Triples, but he was quite at home in the higher methods. To him, however, it was the striking that was of paramount importance, and he never hesitated, when occasion arose, to bring this point home to the indifferent ringer. But it was always done in a way that would never offend. There was no 'blaring' or bullying. In all he said, as in all he did, William Gifford was an English gentleman. The Exercise is the poorer by the death of these men, who were a pattern to other ringers in the high ideals they always set before themselves in their exposition of the art.

Thursday was the only day we scored a double event, the journey to Bideford and Northam being made by twin cars, as the handy small charabanc does not appear to have yet arrived at Barnstaple. We thoroughly enjoyed an interesting ride, and were growing quite accustomed to the luxury of being picked up at our own door, and put down at the church door—we poor old church bell ringers can't afford it as a rule. On the way we passed a glaring example of the terrible waste of war—some dozen or so large steel vessels lying idle and useless, high and dry in the mouth of the Taw, all waiting for instructions to 'reft' for several years past. The scenery from Northam tower was most beautiful in the clear sunshine. Barnstaple Bay and Lundy Island on one hand, and the Devon Coast, Westward Ho! to Clovelly, on the other. The writings of Charles Kingsley, a good golf course and three peals of eight bells, have added popularity to the district.

At the former town, serious illness near the tower was almost the undoing of our peal, friends of the patient (an old choir-boy and ringer) wishing to stay the ringing. The patient himself would not allow the 'word' to go forth, and said he expected to feel much better when they had finished the peal. We peal hands found a note under the belfry door, from Mead, giving us instruction as to lunch at Bideford, and we afterwards joined the rest of our 'twelve' at Northam Church in the evening. Yesterday it was a case of the 'big 'un' on the little 'un'; at Northam we put the 'little 'un' on the 'big 'un,' for of such are the vagaries of making up an eight when over-stuffed.

The Rev. G. Payne Cook and the Northam ringers were eager to welcome us, and provided hospitality in the way of supper at the Vestry Hall after the peal. Much interest was taken in our visit, and a change ringing band is to be started locally as a consequence. Their kindness was likely to lead to a midnight dissolution of some 25 ringers, were not our chauffeurs impatient to return to their Barnstaple beds. Brief handbells, brief thanks to all, and away with a bright clear moon overhead, and a run of ten miles home.

On Friday we took train to Braunton, six miles along the north bank of the Taw estuary. There was some reluctance, to start for the peal, as these bells do not go of their own accord, and some time was occupied in seeing something of the church, the antique carved bench ends being very fine. Peal ringers do not as a rule go nosing about old buildings like a party of antiquarians—they can't afford the time. Stedman was rung for under the quarter-peal, and, with a bob missing, 'stand' came. Braunton prize men will have a poor opinion of half-pull. I fear, until another band go and finish off a 5,000. The bells are a good eight by E. Evans, of Chepstow, 1713 (tenor 18 cwt.). An event occurred many years ago on this day, about which my father and mother failed to consult my wishes, but it allowed me the privilege of inviting my brother strings to drink my health, which they did with a plain snack at the adjoining house-of-call. Our leisure time, though unexpected, was happily spent blackberrying on the hills above the town, enjoying the summer-like weather, and the scenery, till two o'clock train time: Booking to Omerley Station—eight miles the opposite side of our centre—we had to walk to High Bickington (three miles), our Beeston-Humber taking up his low gear, because half the distance has a 'rise' of about one in three. There was no 'bickering' about the gradient, every one had to just take it or leave it. There is no doubt of Bickington being high. On the top we were impressed by a wide view of the glorious country stretching away to Exmoor, some 18 miles distant.

We had a more comfortable job with the bells, as they were restored by Taylor quite recently. With regret we had to ask the local men to leave us to it, several wishing to personally 'watch' the peal through.

Our twin cars, booked in the morning to come out for us, were waiting at the only inn in the place, and our band was called out quick for another moonlight drive to the Staple town, keeping a sharp lookout for the bonny lassies and the wobbling Johnnies who had been 'so long at the fair.' Since lunch at noon we had had no meal, but ample amends were made at the Central with high supper and the pipe of consolation till midnight chimes (none too pleasing in tone) proclaimed the day was ended. I much appreciated the kind congratulations on my birthday peal from my companions. Each year I realise more and more that we shall be a long time dead, so don't delay harmony; don't subdue the Morris Tappers, please.

Saturday, the 17th, was 'breaking-up' day, when the best of pals, like the sixes, must part. We packed our bags (mine was not loaded up with heavy Birmingham jewellery for a makeweight, as it was last year), and settled up accounts, but, only half of the members caught the 8.50 G.W. up train from Barnstaple. The other half, having to wait till 10.30 a.m., watched the gilded trappings of disbanded shows from the fair being packed on to the trucks; and the weighing of the fat lady—17st. 13lb. We came away with several honours; such as a chat with the President of the Devon Guild (one of the hand who rang in the first six-score in the county at Kelly about 1865), the presence of six clergymen to take a rope with us during the week; and act as chaplains, a handshake with the two men who rang Exeter Cathedral tenor for the first peal (the heaviest ringing bell in the world), the privilege of taking home six 'first peals on the bells,' all ringing records respectively. Our 'bag' was a modest seven peals—or one per day—but, happiness doesn't always grow at the rope end, nor at the bottom of a quart cup. The holiday was so much enjoyed that it was agreed another should be taken in 1922. Where, throughout all this 'ringing world,' shall it be? On behalf of those who made the tour I would like to say 'thank you' to all who helped it on by their kind co-operation.

DEATH OF MR. R. J. WILKINS.

PASSING OF A WELL-KNOWN BRISTOL RINGER.

We deeply regret to record the death, at his residence, Woodland Road, Bristol, of Mr. Raymond John Wilkins, one of the best known and most respected West Country ringers. The sad event occurred on Sunday morning at 9.30 o'clock, after a long illness, borne with much patience and fortitude. The sympathy of the Exercise will go out to Mrs. Wilkins and Mr. Arthur Wilkins (her son) in the heavy bereavement they have suffered.

It was in January last that Mr. Wilkins was first taken ill, and on medical advice was removed to a nursing home, but as he did not improve, he was, after a time, taken to his own home again, where he remained until just before Whitsun, when it became necessary to take him to the Bristol Royal Infirmary for an immediate operation. The prospects of recovery were, even then, remote, and he was conveyed to his home again about a fortnight later, and has since fluctuated considerably until, about three weeks ago, he took a decided turn for the worse, and despite all the skill that could be obtained and the unremitting care of a devoted wife, he passed away as above stated.

For more than 35 years Mr. Wilkins had been connected with ringing in Gloucester and Somerset, and he rang his first peal as long ago as 1887. This was one of Grandire Triples at Upton St. Leonards, and appears in the first report of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association. Up to the year 1893 he had rung 39 peals for the association, and then occurred a break at the time he removed from Gloucester (of which city he was a freeman) to Bristol. At the latter city he took part with local ringers, who were not affiliated to the association in a number of performances, including a peal of Grandire Triples at St. Mary Redcliffe claimed, and at the time honestly believed, by the band to be the heaviest peal rung, single-handed. The tenor was reputed to be 52 cwt., as stated on two old peal boards in the tower. When, however, the bell was sent to Loughborough to be recast, it was found to be 39 cwt. only.

At the beginning of 1898 it would appear Mr. Wilkins again took up his membership of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, and joined the band at St. Andrew's, Clifton. He rang four peals during the year, one at Gloucester and three at St. Stephen's, which Guild he also joined during that year. The last of these peals, rung on New Year's Eve, was his longest (7,023 Stedman Caters). This peal and the one of London Surprise Major, rung at Clifton Parish Church on March 29th, 1909, in 2 hours 34 minutes, Mr. Wilkins always declared could not be beaten, as they were perfect.

He kept no record of the peals he rang, and often said he did not want to ring a large number, but those he did ring he wanted good. Certain it is, that as a striker of a light or medium weight bell he had few superiors. His total for the Gloucester and Bristol Association was 183, the two last being London Surprise and Cambridge Surprise Major.

Mr. Wilkins often compared the facilities for learning change ringing when he started, and at the present time. It was the usual thing, in his early ringing days, to start out early in the morning and return late at night, Sunday after Sunday, ringing being done at three or four churches round about Gloucester in the course of the day. Stroud, Painswick, Barnwood and Upton St. Leonards were only a few of the towers which he used to visit to get practice, and then it was usually only Grandire. He considered beginners did not show the same enthusiasm for learning now that they did 30 years or so ago.

Mr. Wilkins did his share towards teaching others to ring, and especially was this the case during the late war, when many bands were sadly depleted. At St. Nicholas he was helping a young band every Wednesday evening up to the time of his illness. He was most regular and punctual in his attendance for Sunday ringing at St. Stephen's, seldom missing an attendance when at home. It is needless to say he has been missed very much, and his loss to the Gloucester and Bristol Association cannot be measured. Mr. Wilkins was widely known outside his home association, and with Mrs. Wilkins, who is also a ringer, had visited many towers throughout the country. He was a member of the College Youths and the St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, and always looked forward to the annual dinner of these societies; in fact, the social side of ringing appealed to him very strongly.

The funeral took place at St. Stephen's Church, on Wednesday, and there was muffled ringing at this church on Tuesday evening, and at St. Nicholas' Church on Wednesday evening.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The two new trebles which have been added by Messrs. Gillett and Johnson to make a peal of twelve at Winchester Cathedral as a memorial to the members of the Winchester Guild who fell in the war, are to be opened to-morrow (Saturday), when, also, a memorial tablet will be unveiled.

There seems to be a likelihood that 'Remembrance Day,' Nov. 11th, will be widely honoured by ringers throughout the country, either by half-muffled peals or touches.

The peal that was rung on the 11th October, at Bedfield, Suffolk, was rung for the Norwich and Ipswich Association.

Before the opening of Westbury bells, on Saturday, a peal of Bob Major was attempted at Bradford-on-Avon. The tenor here is 33 cwt., and has never been 'turned in.' Only one single-handed peal has been rung on the bells. Saturday's peal was lost half-way, through a change course, after 1 hour 40 minutes' splendid ringing. Nothing near half a peal of Major has ever been rung there before, and had it been finished it would have been a birthday peal to Mr. Joe Broadley, of 'the other Bradford.'

One of the very earliest peals of Grandsire Triples was rung on Nov. 5th, 1725, at Great St. Mary's, Cambridge, and John Mite and Thomas Cornwall, who rang in this peal, took part also in another rung in the same tower in the year 1734.

As we mentioned last week, Nov. 5 is the centenary of the supposed first peal of Superlative, a 5,152 at St. Peter's, Huddersfield.

On November 9th, 1742, the first eight bell peal at Coddenhull was rung. It was 5,040 Bob Major by the Crowfield Society, in which the tenor was rung by Theodore Eccleston, the donor of the bells, who resided at Crowfield Hall, and upon whose estate the ringers were employed. Theodore Eccleston became a member of the College Youths in 1744, served in the office of Steward in 1747, and was Master in 1750.

The anniversary of the Yorkshire Association's first peal, rung in 1875, falls on the 9th. This was Holt's six-part peal of Grandsire Triples at Holy Trinity, Hull, conducted by Mr. Charles Jackson, who has only recently passed to his rest. Whether there are now any survivors of that peal we are not sure. The ringers were: E. Prince, G. Harrison, T. Jackson, H. Jenkins, W. Southwick, C. Jackson, A. Hayward and H. Eastwood.

The regular practices of the London County Association are attracting good attendances, and the methods now include Cambridge and London Surprise. This, however, is not at the expense of the beginners, who received assistance in Grandsire and Stedman at all practices.

Mr. Morris has now tapped 50 peals made up of London Surprise 4, Kent Treble Bob Major 22, Bob Major 16, Grandsire Triples 11.

The handbell peal of Stedman Caters at Monkseaton, Northumberland, on Oct. 6th, occupied 2 hours 49 minutes, and not 2 hours 39 minutes, as published in the report of the peal. The peal of Grandsire Triples, at Borden, Kent, rung on October 22nd, was Thomas Jull's first peal in the method with a bob bell, and not his first peal in the method.

BALL BEARINGS FOR BELLS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I have noticed lately that the hanging of bells on ball bearings is becoming a practice, and I have wondered several times whether these bearings will stand the test of time, as well as the old-fashioned plain bearings made of hard gun metal. I have rung on several peals of bells hung on ball bearings, and have certainly found that they 'go' perfectly. I have also, however, found the same result with bells hung on plain bearings, as witness some of the heavy tenors in London and the country. My only doubt on the question is of durability, and as I think such a point is of interest to ringers generally, I trust you will pardon me trespassing on your space.—Yours faithfully,
A. SMITH.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT AMALGAMATED SOCIETY.

The usual monthly meeting should have taken place at Bramley, but owing to the bells being out of order, the Birstall band and the Vicar and churchwardens kindly allowed the society to hold a meeting there, and it proved a very successful one. Members were present from Ossett, Horbury, Armley, Lightcliffe, Leeds, Tong, St. Chad's, Headingley, and the local company. The president (Mr. Peacock) took the chair at the business meeting, and eleven new members were elected, which is believed to be a record since the war.

Ringing on the tower bells started about 4.30 p.m. and continued, with short intervals, until 9 p.m., the methods being Kent Treble Bob and Grandsire. Handbells were also rung freely in both Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and Stedman, etc.

DEATH OF MR. W. W. GIFFORD.CLOSE OF AN INTERESTING CAREER.

A large circle of ringers will read with the keenest regret of the death of Mr. William W. Gifford, formerly of Salisbury, who died at Blackford, Somerset, on Friday last, after a protracted illness. One of the safest of ringers and finest of strikers, Mr. Gifford, who was born in 1858, was well known in the South and West of England, for he had toured through many counties, often in company with some of the best ringers in England, in pursuit of his hobby of ringing. For a great many years, Mr. Gifford was connected with the Wilts and Dorset Bank at Salisbury, and, while there, he proved himself one of the mainstays of change ringing in the diocesan association. Altogether he had rung over 400 peals, many of them Grandsire with struggling bands in out-of-the-way towers. But the Surprise methods were also within his scope, and his peal list included Superlative, Cambridge, and, we believe, London.

It is a pity that Mr. Gifford has not left us a book of his ringing reminiscences, for few men were richer in anecdote or had had wider experience in the 'backwoods' of ringing. The stories he had to tell and his manner of telling them made him extremely entertaining company, which was the more striking by contrast with his bearing when ringing. He was never more happy than when giving an impromptu lecture on the art of method ringing, or the importance of striking to a company of local listeners outside a country tower, while some band of expert ringers was inside at the ropes, and had he drawn upon his store of recollections, the Exercise would have had a book to read and laugh over, and read again.

A member of the College Youths, and of half a score or more of county and diocesan associations, Mr. Gifford's interesting ringing career was brought to an end by failing health. He retired then to the Somerset village of Blackford, but slowly became a complete invalid. Then he had a seizure, and for more than a year had lost the use of his limbs and power of speech, while latterly he became nearly blind. In view of these afflictions death has been a happy release for this once splendid ringer, but the Exercise is the poorer for the loss of a great exponent of the art of good ringing.

SUFFOLK DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.EAST SUFFOLK BRANCH FORMED.

A preliminary meeting to arrange for the formation of an East Suffolk branch was held in Ufford Church Room on Saturday, Oct. 22nd. The Rev. E. A. Cooke (Vicar of Pensehall), presided over a meeting, which, owing to the storm, was only just over 30 in number. It was decided, on the proposition of the Rector of Bredfield, to form an East Suffolk branch. Pleasure was expressed that at last ringers of Suffolk were allowed to decide this matter for themselves. After having had a Diocese of their own for over seven years, it was quite time they had a Ringers' Association of their own without having to be under an obligation to another county or diocese.

The Rev. Canon Douglas-Hamilton, Vicar of St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, was elected chairman of the branch; five members were elected to the committee pro tem.; and the Rev. H. Drake was asked to continue as secretary for the present.

A new rule was proposed admitting junior members at half subscription.—A proposal to allow towers to compound for all their members was discussed, but postponed.—It was decided to hold the next meeting at Framlingham on November 12th. Over 30 members were elected.

On Saturday, October 15th, the first monthly meeting of the Suffolk Diocesan Association was held at Monk's Eleigh, when ringers assembled from Finborough, Hadleigh, Bildeston, Great Waldingfield and Lavenham, and the local tower. The ringers were welcomed by the Rev. Northcote, and the first touch was 720 Oxford Treble Bob: S. H. Symonds (conductor) 1, K. Whittell 2, T. Reed 3, H. Lister 4, A. Keeble 5, A. Symonds 6. This was the first 720 in the method by the ringers of 2nd and 4th. It was followed by 720 Plain Bob, by: H. Whymark 1, F. Turner 2, W. Stiff 3, H. Lister 4, S. H. Symonds 5, G. Golding 6; and another touch of Plain Bob, with J. Euston (Finborough) 2nd, Messrs. Symonds (2), F. Turner (from Lavenham), Whittell and Lister (Bildeston), Reed (Hadleigh), Golding (Great Waldingfield), were present, and it is over 20 years since a Bildeston ringer has rung a 720 of Treble Bob.

MANCHESTER P.C.s' QUARTER-PEAL.

At the Town Hall, Manchester, on Saturday, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) was rung in 55 mins., on the back eight of the heavy ring by a band composed of members of the Manchester Police Force: P.O. W. Spicer 1, P.C. G. Pye 2, P.C. W. Bilinge 3, P.C. J. Turner 4, P.C. J. Carter 5, P.C. J. Wilson 6, P.C. F. Page (conductor) 7, P.C. G. Barlow 8.

The record of a peal at Stoke Golding has been forwarded without the name of the conductor.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Warwickshire Guild was held at Southam, on Saturday, Oct. 15th. Ringers were present from Allesley, Coventry, Exhall, Stoke, Rugby, Nuneaton, Warwick, and the local band, and received a very hearty welcome from the Rector, who described some of the chief features of interest in the church, and, at the service, gave a very interesting and instructive address, which was much appreciated.

Tea was well served at the Black Dog Inn, after which the business meeting was held. The Rector being unable to attend owing to a previous engagement elsewhere, the chair was occupied by the Ringing Master (Mr. A. Roberts).

Bishop Ryder's Church, Birmingham, and Erdington, were put forward as the place for the next quarterly meeting. Erdington was carried by a large majority.

It was unanimously resolved that a letter of congratulation be sent to Mr. James George on his 700th peal achievement.

It was also resolved that the best thanks of the members be accorded the Rector of Southam for the use of the bells and his address, and to Mr. E. G. Berry for making arrangements for the meeting.—Mr. Berry, in reply, hoped his efforts had been successful, and he should be happy to do all he could for the Guild.

Messrs. Pryce Taylor, John Olffiam and Harold J. Poole, Arthur Rowley and Fred Hill, elected in the towers of Monks Kirby and Stoke Golding respectively, were duly elected non-resident ringing members of the Guild.

The methods rung during the afternoon were Grandsire, Stedman and Double Norwich.

PEAL BOARD UNVEILED.A RECORD OF PROGRESS AT NORBURY, CHESHIRE.

Three new panels have recently been added to the existing three panel board in the belfry of St. Thomas' Church, Norbury, Cheshire. The material for the new portion was provided by the present ringers, and made by Mr. J. W. Hartley (also a ringer), the Vicar, curate and wardens defraying the cost of painting. This is the third extension which has been made, the original being the top centre panel, recording a 'Date Touch' rung in 1897, two other panels being added at a later date. The present board shows how the art has been developed at Norbury.

The 'date touch' consisted of 457 Plain Bob and 720 each of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob. The last peal, rung on April 9th, 1921, was seven 'spliced' 720's, which included no fewer than 19 methods.

The enlarged board was unveiled and dedicated by the Vicar (the Rev. A. J. Humphreys, B.A., B.D.), on Saturday, Oct. 22nd, in the presence of a large number of friends, and past and present ringers, the Rev. A. C. Waggett (curate), the Vicar's warden (Mr. Walter Lund), Mr. J. W. Thompson (hon. secretary to the Church Council), and the Rev. A. T. Beeston (hon. secretary of the Chester Diocesan Guild), being among those present. The ceremony opened with a brief service in the church, at which the Vicar gave a very interesting address in keeping with the occasion, after which all proceeded to the belfry, where the formal dedication took place, the 'veterans' ringing a course of Kent Treble Bob.

A substantial tea was provided by the present ringers, to which full justice was done, the visitors being entertained afterwards to a little tuna ringing on handbells, and also a little change ringing. After a course of Grandsire Doubles had been brought round, a course of Grandsire Triples was rung by J. Fernley, junr. 1-2, J. Fernley, senr. 3-4, J. P. Fidler 5-6, W. Fernley 7-8, to show the marked difference between six and eight bells. The proceedings were terminated by further ringing on the tower bells.

On Sunday, the following 720's were rung: For morning service, 720 St. Werburgh; for evening service, 720 Crowland: H. Hallworth, junr., 1, J. P. Fidler (first in the methods) 2, W. Fernley 3, H. Langley 4, J. Fernley, senr. (conductor), 5, J. W. Hartley 6.

RINGERS' WAR MEMORIAL.UNVEILING AT SELBY ABBEY.

A tablet, which has been placed on the wall of the North Transept of Selby Abbey, close to the tower door, was unveiled by Mr. F. Cryer, captain of the Abbey bell ringers, and dedicated by the Rev. Canon Solloway, D.D., at choral evensong, recently. The tablet, which is of Portland stone, with black marble background, has two enamelled plates let in, one with a cross in the right-hand corner, and another with the regimental crest in the left-hand corner, and bears the following inscription:—

To the proud and loving memory of Pte. John Morley, 22nd Battalion Northumberland Fusiliers, killed in action in France 26th August, 1917 aged 19 years. At rest in the British Cemetery, Hargicourt. Erected by his brother ringers.

The bells were rung half-muffled before and after the service. There was a large congregation, including ringer friends from Arksey, Doncaster, Hemingbrough, Huddersfield, Hull, Pontefract and York.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION. LEWISHAM DISTRICT AND THE WAR MEMORIAL.

The annual meeting of the Lewisham District was held at St. Luke's, Bromley Common, on Saturday, Oct. 22nd. The bells were raised at 5 p.m., and touches in various methods accomplished. A bright service was held at 5 p.m., the organist and choir boys helping it greatly. The Rev. C. C. Gosselin (hon. member) officiated, and gave an address from Psalm iv. 6, 'There be many that say, Who will show us any good?'

Tea followed at St. Luke's Institute, Mr. W. Chisholm Simpson (churchwarden and hon. member) presiding. Thirty-six sat down, but fifty names had been received. Unless members come after sending or send when coming, the hon. secretary is afraid that this part of the proceedings will have to be cancelled, as it is neither fair to the caterer nor to those responsible for the arrangements.

At the business meeting, two non-resident and four practising members were elected, and St. John's, Deptford, was selected as the place of next meeting.

The District Secretary read his annual report, which was adopted. Mr. T. Groombridge, senr., was re-elected district secretary; Messrs. W. J. Jeffries and I. Emery were re-elected district representatives.

A motion for a silver collection towards the war memorial was lost. A discussion ensued on the subject, it being pointed out that this seemed to be the only district doing anything towards the memorial, and the representatives were asked to bring the matter forward at the next committee meeting.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for his address, to the organist and choir boys for their services, and to the chairman for presiding, brought the meeting to a close. The tower was again visited in the evening.

DONCASTER & DISTRICT SOCIETY. TO HONOUR REMEMBRANCE DAY.

A successful meeting was held at Thorne on Saturday, Oct. 29th. About 30 members were present, representing nine towers, and touches in the Standard methods were rung during the afternoon and evening. Tea was partaken of in the Mission Room, and was presided over by the vice-president (Mr. G. Halksworth) who also took the chair at the business meeting, at which the following resolution was carried unanimously: 'That this meeting recommends that all peals of bells in the Doncaster district should be rung half-muffled on Remembrance Day, Nov. 11th, in memory of all those who died for King and country during the great war.'

A vote of congratulation was accorded the Conisborough ringers who have rung their first peal. It was decided that the society should attempt to ring a peal every three months, and it was left to the Ringing Master to make all the arrangements.—Votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, to the local band for providing tea, and to Mr. Halksworth for his services in the chair.

Some of Thorne bells are very old, the tenor having been cast in 1671; and on account of their antiquity it is not surprising that some of them are sadly out of tune. The belfry is approached from the inside of the church by way of a massive wooden spiral staircase. Such staircases as this are to-day very uncommon. Hung in the ringing chamber is a small bell known locally as the 'Paneske Bell.' It is not, however, used now. There is no founder's name or date on it.

DEATH OF A BATTLE RINGER.

It is with deepest regret that we announce the death of Mr. Frank Nuthis, of Battle, Sussex, who passed away at the age of 63 years. The deceased had but a short illness, being confined to his bed only three days, death taking place on Oct. 15th. He had been parish clerk and vergier for 32 years. Owing to his duties, and health in general, he was debarred from taking part in more than three peals, but he was one of the band that rang the first peal by the Battle Society, on Nov. 12th, 1892. Out of the eight that took part in that peal, only four are now living.

The funeral took place at the Battle Cemetery on Oct. 19th, the first part of the service being conducted at the Parish Church. In the unavoidable absence of the Dean of Battle, his brother, the Rev. William Francis, officiated. The bells were rung half-muffled before the service, and on the way to the grave the bells were rung in the "triumph."

The deceased who was secretary to the Battle band for many years was one of the first to join the Sussex County Association when it came into being in 1894-5. His loss will be keenly felt, as he was always in his place both at practice and Sunday ringing.

MARKET DEEPING.—At the Parish Church, for harvest festival, on Sunday, Oct. 9th, for morning service, 216 Spliced Kent and Oxford, 240 Cambridge Surprise. For evening service, 240 Bob Minor, 360 Single Court. After service, 720 Bob Minor: T. Palmer 1, E. Wright 2, H. M. Day (conductor) 3, J. Landon 4, W. A. Day 5, G. Wells 6. The other ringers who took part were A. Riggall, J. Freeman and H. Holmes.

PEALS TAPPED ON HANDBELLS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Mr. Morris' reply is just what I expected, nothing but lame excuses. He may think he is clever in ignoring the suggestions of writers to prove his ability, but he is making a great mistake. It is up to him to prove to the Exercise that his claims of ever having tapped a peal are justified, and ignoring Mr. Keeble's offer and going back to Bob Major looks bad. Folk do not as a rule go backward—'forward' is generally their motto. I do not think I am wrong when I say Mr. Morris has never tapped London Major in the presence of a London Surprise Major ringer, and, until he does, a certain amount of doubt will exist. It is a difficult job to properly umpire a tapped peal of London, and I have no hesitation in saying that there are not more than twenty ringers living to-day who could do it. It is much more difficult than umpiring an ordinary handbell peal, as the performer hides your view of the bells, and you would have nothing much but your ears to guide you, and the best place would be in an adjoining room. I took part in one double-handed peal of London, when one of the umpires was outside, but he was a ringer of exceptional ability.

Mr. Morris says I know nothing about tapping. I know as much about that as he does about ringing London double-handed, and as regards his last sentence about paying his own fare, he must remember that he put forward as an excuse that he was only a humble workman, and that was why this generous offer was made. I was not aware that I was an Essex Association official, and as he reminds me about what I ought to know it shows what little interest he has in the association, not even to know who the officials are. As regards his resignation, that has nothing to do with me; he must please himself about that. He says I insulted him. I told him the truth, and that has done to him what it has done to many a one—offended him. Now, Mr. Editor, as regards your so-called sporting offer, which I have no doubt you put forward to try and 'choke me off,' I am quite willing to put my knowledge of tapping against Mr. Morris' calling of a peal of London from an inside pair of handbells.

I must have a word with Mr. J. Parker. He has been up against me for years, and never loses an opportunity of having a personal 'dig' at me. He speaks of the sorry figure I cut when I rush into print, and about my defective memory. Perhaps I have, but I can keep in my head his doings since he came this way. It may be argued that I should not introduce personalities, but as he has made a personal attack on me it is only fair that I should point out that in my opinion his attitude is one of jealousy. After he threw in his lot with the Middlesex Association, he was quite content while he could be first in the field, but when I called the first peal of London for the association in the county it turned the frying pan over, and he has been dead against me ever since. Mr. Parker picks me up over my first peal of London. I never said that none of these men had ever rung a peal. One of them had rung a peal several years before, but I challenge Mr. Parker to show me where this ringer had ever rung a peal of Cambridge. The other member was in neither the Superlative nor the Cambridge, and only came into the band when we started for the peal of London, and, if he had been to Brighton, and elsewhere, to practise, he was the weak member of the band, and had not benefited by his experience. We were certainly novices at Surprise methods. Mr. Parker asks if I can point to a footnote showing a local Surprise peal. I cannot, because I am not so fond of footnotes as he has been, although I have rung a double-handed Surprise peal with local men, and at the tower with which I was connected for a good many years, if we generally had an outsider or two in a peal it was not because we could not do without them; it was due to unselfishness. Our door was always open to visitors, and many appreciated it and rang their first peals in different methods. We did not do as he has done, almost forbid members to ring a peal with anyone else. As long as men put in their best work while they are with me, I do not care who they ring with. According to Mr. Parker's talk, I have never done anything for ringers; but has he done what I have done, travelled 75 miles after a day's work to teach ringers Surprise methods, and that many a time? He talks about my scouring the British Isles for men to mount my pedestal. If I have done so it has been at my own expense. If I should live to an age, when I am beyond active ringing, I shall be able to look back with pleasure to the happy hours I have spent among ringers in various parts of the British Isles, and not upon the unpleasantness I have caused among ringers and association officials.—Yours, etc., W. PYE.

We regret that we have been compelled to excise some portions of Mr. Pye's letter, not because we did not wish him to have the fullest scope for his reply, but because the consequences of an infringement of the law of libel may fall upon the publisher as well as upon the writer.

As the letters which we are receiving have now got beyond the subject originally under discussion, it is time to add: 'This correspondence must now close.'—Ed. 'R.W.'

COLLEGE YOUTHS AND CUMBERLANDS IN KENT. RIVAL PEALS AT NEIGHBOURING TOWERS.

The keenest friendly rivalry between these two societies was manifested in Kent on October 14th, when two peal attempts were made, a band of College Youths being collected together for Swanscombe for Stedman Triples, and of the Cumberlands for Double Norwich at Northfleet. These two towers are not a mile away from one another, and both starts were made for 4 o'clock. The various members, all ringing friends together, met previous to starting at Northfleet Station, and wished each other success. Fred Mitchell piloted his band across the fields to the beautiful peal of eight at Swanscombe, and Mr. Sergt. Jimmy Bennett led his band in full marching order to the tower at Northfleet. The Cumberland Youths were represented by the aforesaid Jimmy Bennett and Fred Richardson from Chatham; George and Harry Wilson and Bill Dudley from Prittlewell, Essex; Teddy Barnett, senr., Crayford; Bert Audsley, Dartford, with Jack Cheesman, Greenhithe, as conductor. The Collegers were Alan Macdonald, Jimmy Walsom and Horace Belcher from Ealing; Will Harper, Swanscombe, the 'eternal' youth, Ex-P.S. Jack Avis, Reuben Copelin and Fred Mitchell, Milton-next-Gravesend, and 'Grandpa' Haigh, of Rochester Cathedral, as conductor. Both peals of bells were set going true to time, 'that's all' being called at Northfleet at 7, to be followed 17 minutes later at Swanscombe, which was rather a slow peal, but the ringing was perfect, and well upheld the traditions of the ancient society. The conductor at Swanscombe consoled the band on the slowness, that there were some 'old crocks' in it. Both bands were heartily congratulated on the ringing by those that had gathered round to listen. After limited refreshment, the London contingent were seen safely in their train, Alan promising them a feed of crab sandwiches upon their arrival home. The remaining members of the bands met at the new Tradesmen's Hall at Northfleet, and an hour was devoted to conviviality, mirth and melody. The true spirit of friendship prevailed, the handbells were brought into use by members of the Northfleet band who had joined the ringers, and a course of Grand sire Caters by F. Mitchell 1-2, R. Smith 3-4, F. Richardson 5-6, J. H. Cheesman 7-8, W. Haigh 9-10, was rung. Jack Avis' policeman's song was enjoyed, and Fred Richardson was in humorous mood. Honours were easy at ringing, singing, and handbells, and Mr. Percy Clark, of Ealing, in congratulating the Cumberlands on their peal on behalf of the College Youths, said that on the day's run there was only one thing that his society would admit defeat on, and that was the 'oiling.' Altogether a very successful time was spent, and at the conclusion Mr. Cheesman offered as a suggestion that the two towers be reversed at a future date, the Cumberlands to ring Stedman at Swanscombe, and the College Youths Double Norwich at Northfleet, and this was agreed upon. The promoters are to be heartily congratulated upon arranging such a unique performance, and long may the true spirit of rivalry prevail, and spur the members of the two societies on to higher achievements. It is interesting to note that nearly the whole of the ringers were members of the Kent Association.

New Ring of Ten opened May 14th, 1921.

BELLS, CARILLONS, CLOCKS.

AN OASIS IN THE DESERT.

Among the many memorials which ringers have erected to the memory of their comrades who fell in the war, by no means the least interesting was that opened at Winchester Cathedral last Saturday, when the two new trebles, given by the Winchester Diocesan Guild, were heard for the first time. It is no mean task for a ringing society—even one so well organised as that which operates in the wide area of the Winchester diocese—to raise funds sufficient to add two new bells to an existing ring. It has meant a very considerable effort, and now that the bells are in the tower ready for use, and the carved oak tablet is in the belfry recording the names of those who fell on the field of honour, there ought not to be much difficulty in finding the £40 or so which is needed to complete the scheme.

Many fitting methods of commemorating the ringers who gave up their lives in the years of war have been adopted by Associations up and down the land, and if the Winchester scheme was among the most ambitious, it is certainly one which may also tend to advance the art of ringing. Until now the diocese, which includes Hampshire, the Isle of Wight and a big slice of the county of Surrey, has had no ring of twelve bells, and, consequently, it has been handicapped in the practice of methods on the higher numbers which it afforded its members. Winchester, however, is more or less centrally situated, and, while the distances to the extreme edges of the diocese may be great, and the opportunities of many of the members small, yet the choice of Winchester Cathedral for the purpose, even apart from the appropriateness of the selection of the Mother Church for the memorial, is likely to prove as convenient as any other alternative tower.

As was pointed out at the opening gathering, when the question of recasting some of the other bells was mentioned, the Cathedral is diocesan, and, in that measure, the bells also are diocesan. Therefore we hope the Guild will find it possible to arrange for periodical diocesan practices. With the goodwill of the Cathedral band, whose interest was evident on Saturday, little local difficulty would appear to be likely, and there ought to be sufficient enthusiasm among the members of the Guild to make such a step a success. Twelve-bell ringing, hitherto, has had no opportunity in the diocese of Winchester; indeed, the South of England is the most badly placed of the whole country in this respect. Outside the metropolis there is but one light peal of twelve in the far north-east corner of Kent; Sussex, Hants and Dorset were without any such ring; Berks, Wilts, and, if we exclude any Bristol tower, which perchance may stand within the border, Somerset, too, are without rings of twelve; so that Winchester will be just one oasis in the desert to which we may now hope to turn to find ringing on the highest number of bells.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MR. R. J. WILKINS. MUFFLED RINGING AT BRISTOL CHURCHES.

Relatives, colleagues and many personal friends attended the funeral on Wednesday, November 2nd, of the late Mr. Raymond John Wilkins, whose death we recorded last week. The service took place at mid-day at St. Stephen's Church, where there assembled ringers from St. Stephen's, St. James's, St. Andrew's, St. Peter's, St. Philip's, St. Mary Redcliffe, St. Thomas', St. Nicholas', St. Michael's, and other churches of Bristol, Trowbridge, Midsomer Norton, Wells, Olveston, Mangotsfield, Thornbury, Bath, and other distant places.

The remains were met at the south porch of the church, by the Rev. Herbert Thomas (Rector), the Rev. M. E. Thorold (vice-president and past Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association), the churchwardens, and sacristan, carrying a censer, in which was burning incense. The coffin was borne in to the church by the deceased's brother ringers, Messrs. W. A. Cave, G. Condict, junr., E. Guise, F. G. Leaker, J. B. Tyler and P. W. Cave. The mourners included Mrs. Wilkins (widow), Mr. Arthur E. Wilkins (son), Miss Marshall, Mr. Arthur Collier, Mr. and Mrs. Cann, and Miss Olive Skuse, who had faithfully assisted Mrs. Wilkins during the long illness of Mr. Wilkins. The service was jointly taken by the Rev. Herbert Thomas and the Rev. M. E. Thorold, and Mr. H. Anstey read the lesson. The interment took place at Canford Cemetery, where the committal prayers were said by the Rector of St. Stephen's, after which a course of Grandsire Caters was rung at the graveside by: J. B. Tyler 1-2, F. G. Leaker 3-4, G. Condict, junr. 5-6, E. Guise 7-8, W. A. Cave 9-10. Floral tributes were sent by: Wife and sonny ('Till we meet again'); Mr. Mackenzie; Mrs. Trigg and family; Gladys and Ben (niece and nephew); Rose and Alice; Mr. and Mrs. Heath (niece and nephew); Sisters Philips (nurses); Mr. and Mrs. Collier; Mr. and Mrs. Bodenham; Mr. and Mrs. Hutchings; Ethel and Olive; Mr. Thwaites; Hilda Baynham; Mrs. Spreckett; three friends; Miss Barrett; Mrs. Guise and Peggie; the Gloucester and Bristol Association; Bath and Wells Association; Salisbury Diocesan Guild; Ladies' Guild (Western Branch); Gloucester and Bristol Association (Bristol Branch); St. Stephen's Guild; St. James' Society; Christ Church Guild; Portishead Guild; County Sports Club; few friends (County Sports Club); Mrs. Brown, Jack and Annie; Mr. and Mrs. Cann; Mr. and Mrs. T. King; Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hector; Mr. and Mrs. J. Dyke; Mr. Taylor.

The funeral arrangements were entrusted to Mr. H. T. Howell (Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association) and his son, Mr. F. H. Howell (late of St. George's Guild).

Before and after the service in the church, touches in various methods were rung, half-muffled, on the St. Stephen's bells, and the Union Jack was placed half-mast on the tower.

On Sunday, prior to the funeral, the bells of St. Michael's were muffled, after the evening service, as also were St. Stephen's, where an excellently struck course of Cambridge Surprise Royal was rung by: A. E. Reeves 1, J. B. Tyler 2, E. Guise 3, W. H. Thomas 4, R. Clark 5, C. Gordon 6, E. Ridler 7, H. Pring 8, G. Condict, senr., 9, G. Condict, junr., 10. This was succeeded by touches of Stedman Caters. On Monday, at St. Andrew's, Clifton, an eight which Mr. Wilkins loved to ring upon, a quarter-peal of Bob Major was rung, conducted by R. Clark.

On Tuesday, a successful half-muffled peal was rung by St. Stephen's Guild, and is recorded in another column. The bells of St. Philip's were also rung, half-muffled, in various methods. On Wednesday, an attempt for a half-muffled peal of Grandsire Caters failed, after 1 hr. and 20 mins. ringing, the band being: F. Blackmore 1, E. Dibben 2, F. G. Leaker 3, S. M. Badman 4, P. W. Cave 5, W. Abraham 6, W. A. Cave (conductor) 7, J. T. Dyke 8, W. Turley 9, H. J. Webley and F. Standen 10.

Mrs. E. J. Wilkins and Mr. Arthur E. Wilkins desire to express thanks to all those who assisted in the ringing, those who sent floral tributes, and for all messages of sympathy to them in their sad bereavement.

Mr. E. Bishop, of Swindon, Mr. J. W. Jones, of Newport; and Major Hughes D'Aeth, of Salisbury Guild, deeply regretted that they were unable to attend the funeral.

STAPLEHURST BELLS REHUNG.

Staplehurst, Kent, is now in possession of a peal of bells which gives the local ringers no excuse for not going ahead, and scoring their first peal in the near future. There is an entirely new and young band, who, with the bells now made pealable, hope to put in some good work during the winter months. The tower was reopened on Monday, Oct. 31st, when a good company were present to try the 'go' ringers attending from Linton, Horsmonden, Marden, Headcorn, Frittenden and Benenden. All agreed that Mr. A. Bowell, of Ipswich, had, with his usual thoroughness, put the bells 'just right,' and proved it by the striking of touches of Grandsire Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob and Steinton Triples. Ringing will take place on Sundays, at 10 a.m. and 5.30 p.m., and practice will be on Tuesdays at 7 p.m.

NEW PEAL AT BUSHEY HEATH. EIGHT BELLS HUNG IN TWO TIERS.

The dedication of a new peal of eight bells at the Parish Church, Bushey Heath, by the Bishop of St. Albans, took place on Saturday, October 29th, in the presence of a large congregation. The bells were presented by Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Rutherford, of Bushey Heath, in memory of their son, Lieut. David Alfred Rutherford, M.C., R.G.A., who was killed in Ireland in October, 1920. The bells were cast and hung in a double tier cast iron frame on a foundation of rolled steel joists, by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of Whitechapel. The bells are fitted with ball bearings, and the 'go' of them leaves nothing to be desired. They are also fitted with Messrs. Mears and Stainbank's new buffer clappers, but as the writer has not heard the bells without this device, he is unable to form an opinion as to whether this causes an improvement on the old style or otherwise. Some seemed to think that there was rather too much hum, which disguised the real tone of the bells.

The following are the weights of the bells:—

Tenor, note F: 11 cwt. 2 qr. 3 lb.; 7th: 9 cwt. 1 qr. 16 lb.; 6th: 7 cwt. 2 qr. 27 lb.; 5th: 6 cwt. 1 qr. 12 lb.; 4th: 5 cwt. 1 qr. 9 lb.; 3rd: 4 cwt. 3 qr. 4 lb.; 2nd: 4 cwt. 0 qr. 12 lb.; Treble: 3 cwt. 3 qr. 7 lb.

After the dedication, 504 Stedman Triples was rung by the following members of the Hertford County Association: H. Eden 1, G. W. Cartmel 2, A. W. Dix 3, E. Ashby 4, W. H. L. Buckingham 5, H. G. Whitehead 6, F. M. R. Hibbert (cond.) 7, F. W. Brinklow 8.

Touches in various methods, including Superlative, Cambridge, London and Bristol, were rung during the afternoon and evening by the large company of ringers present.

700th PEAL CELEBRATED.

Mr. James George celebrated his 700th peal by giving a little dinner party to a few ringing friends on Saturday, Oct. 29th. The affair was held at one of the Holt Company's houses, of which company Mr. Wm. Cheshire, formerly a well-known Midland ringer, is managing director. A substantial dinner was served, and was followed by handbell ringing, etc.

The Vicar of Bishop Ryders Church presided, and among the guests were Messrs. Ben Gough, O. Norman, W. Kent, T. Miller, B. Witchell, W. Anker, A. P. Smith, etc. Apologies were read from Mr. Alderman J. S. Pritchett and Mr. W. Cheshire.

In a few well-chosen words, Canon Badger proposed the health of the host, saying how proud he was to have such a well-known campanologist in charge of his tower. He hoped he would succeed in infusing similar enthusiasm into the young idea he was training.

Among other items during the evening, an excellent touch of Stedman Caters was rung in hand by: T. Miller 1-2, W. Kent 3-4, B. Witchell 5-6, A. Paddon Smith 7-8, James George 9-10. Conducted by B. Witchell.

Altogether the company assembled enjoyed a very pleasant social evening, which concluded with a vote of thanks to the host.

NORWICH AND IPSWICH ASSOCIATION.

FAKENHAM TREBLE FALLS FROM THE STOCK.

A united gathering of the Doreham and Fakenham districts met at North Elmham on Saturday week, when about twenty members from the local branches assembled and rung various touches on the bells, which were kept busy until 9 p.m. It afforded great pleasure, as several young members availed themselves of the opportunity, and a gathering of this kind had not been held locally for about ten years. The general view seemed to be that the bells had, during this space of time, suffered from absence of ringing, caused by depleted companies during the war, and, no doubt, the drought of the past year had more or less affected the woodwork.

Thanks are due jointly to the district secretaries, and a further meeting will shortly be arranged.

Recently, at the Fakenham tower, a narrow escape, which might have caused a great deal of damage, occurred. Whilst the eight bells were being rung for Sunday morning service, the treble bell fell from the stock, but fortunately set itself fast in the frame. After careful inspection it was found that immediate overhaul was necessary, and that a large number of the bolts were loose and had to be tightened. A new stock was procured for the treble, the bell jacked into position, and rehung by the ringers. A peal has since been rung on the bells.

IMPROVEMENTS AT BRAINTREE.

The tenor of the ring at Braintree, Essex, has recently been rehung and quarter turned, the frame strengthened, and other improvements made, including the re-arrangement of the fall of the ropes into a better circle. The work has been satisfactorily carried out by Mr. A. Bowell, of Ipswich. The whole peal is now in excellent ringing order.

On Sunday, November 6th, for Matins, at the Parish Church, 700 Grandsire Triples: H. E. Hammond 1, C. H. Howard (conductor) 2, G. Melbourne 3, G. Lindridge 4, W. H. Dyson 5, F. Rose 6, F. Ely 7, J. Hardy 8. For evensong, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: C. H. Howard (conductor) 1, G. Lindridge 2, H. E. Hammond 3, G. Melbourne 4, W. H. Dyson 5, F. Rose 6, F. Ely 7, J. Hardy 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The addition of the two trebles at Winchester Cathedral brings the number of twelve-bell towers in England up to 38. Of these only eight are at Cathedrals, viz.: St. Paul's, London; York Minster, Chelmsford, Newcastle, Oxford, Sheffield, Worcester and Winchester.

In the setting up of records of a century or more ago, a peal by the Junior Cumberlands on November 13th, 1797, held a place for some few years. This was 'a true and complete peal of Grandsire Caters on Stedman's principle, containing 6,003 changes, being the greatest number ever achieved in that method,' at Christ Church, Spitalfields. It was composed and called by John Noonan, and a note is appended that 'this performance will remain a lasting honour to the society, and an example worthy to be imitated by posterity.' After many years the peal was found to be false.

The anniversaries of two Norwich records fall on the 17th November. The first peal of London Surprise was rung at St. Giles', in that city, on November 17th, 1835, and in the year 1760 the first peal of Imperial Treble Bob Major was rung at St. Giles', Norwich. A tragedy marked this latter performance, for immediately on the completion of the peal, John Webster, who had rung the 6th, dropped dead.

We never hear of any ringing in these days at the old practice towers in East London, such as Spitalfields, Stepney, Bow-by-Stratford, and Bethnal Green, etc. We know that Spitalfields (8, tenor 33 cwt.) can do with the services of a bell-hanger, but no doubt a little good steeplekeeping would enable them to be rung for service and practice nights. Time was when these towers were excellent College Youths schools, and it seems a pity they cannot be kept going. Spitalfields and Bethnal Green have history behind them.

The College Youths anniversary dinner to-morrow, no doubt stands alone in London as a purely ringers' gathering, and is looked forward to by many as a great annual reunion. There are some who would like to see it a mixed gathering by extending the invitation generally to the fair sex, ringers or not; but, so far, the Ancients have maintained their old customs, and perhaps it is their adherence in these changing days to their customs, which creates a charm of its own. There is certainly something in this great festival which holds a peculiar attraction, and there are many who think the Ancient Society, with their surroundings, and pomp and circumstance, are wise in maintaining their conservatism.

Our recent reference to the custody of ancient ringing documents leads Mr. W. H. Lawrence to write that in Shrewsbury Museum is the peal book of Samuel Lawrence, of Shrewsbury. This book can be inspected by visitors, and is well worth going to see. The peals, rung in the eighteenth century, are beautifully written, and in many cases include a sketch of the church.

May we remind ringers that there is no such thing as halfpenny post in these days, not even for post cards containing Press matter? Reports can be sent for a penny stamp, if unsealed and marked 'matter for Press,' but they must contain nothing in the nature of a letter.

Ringers, and particularly those associated with the Devon Guild, will read with interest of the revival of ringing at Plymouth, where a peal of Grandsire Triples has been rung. Weekly practices at Charles Church have also been inaugurated again, and will be held on Mondays at 7.30 p.m.

The time of the peal rung on handbells on Tuesday, Oct. 11th, at Lavenham, was 1 hr. 52 mins., not 1.56, as sent in.

The weight of the tenor at New Mills is 13 cwt. 1 qr., and not 23 cwt., as stated in the report of the peal rung there on Oct. 29th.

The autumn meeting of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association, at Ormesby, at which amalgamation with the Yorkshire Association was discussed, the Yorks Association's views being put forward by the President and Secretary, did not arrive at any decision on the question, but the matter is to be further considered. A fuller report will appear in our next issue.

The ringer of the treble in the peal of Surprise Minor at Holy Trinity, Barking Road, was Avey, and not Avery, as published.

Messrs. Gillett and Johnston are adding two new treble bells to make a peal of ten at Kettering, and it is hoped the work will be completed before Christmas.

EGREMONT, CUMBERLAND.—At the Parish Church for harvest festival on Sunday, Oct. 2nd, 576 Bob Major.—On Sunday, Oct. 9th, for morning service, 576 Bob Major.—On Wednesday, Oct. 12th, a quarter-peal of 1,440 changes of Kent Major. The following ringers took part: Andrew Campbell, Wm. Cook, Benson Douglas, Beam Douglas, J. J. Spedding, Wm. Douglas, J. Rothery, Wm. Norman, G. W. Tembey. The conducting was shared by Wm. Norman and G. W. Tembey, and the quarter-peal was the first by all in the method, except the conductor, G. W. Tembey.

WINCHESTER'S TWELVE BELLS.

THE GUILD'S MEMORIAL TO FALLEN MEMBERS.

Winchester was the Mecca of the members of the Diocesan Guild on Saturday, when the two new trebles, placed in the Cathedral as a memorial to the ringers who fell in the war, and which make the ring into a peal of twelve, were formally opened. The bells, which have been added by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, were dedicated some weeks ago on the floor of the Cathedral, so that nothing remained on Saturday but to let them be heard for the first time. It is greatly to the credit of the Guild that they have been able to raise the large sum required to carry out the scheme, and thus give the Mother Church, the first ring of twelve in the diocese. In addition, an oak tablet has been placed in the ringing chamber recording the names of the 56 fallen members, and the unveiling and dedication of this memorial was the principal ceremony of the afternoon. Members assembled from all the districts of the Guild, from Bournemouth to Guildford, and from Portsmouth to Camberley. The proceedings began with a half-muffled touch of Grandsire Cabers, and then a brief service was held, in the course of which prayers were offered by the Rev. N. C. Wood (Minor Canon and hon. secretary of the Guild), and the lesson was read by the Rev. C. E. Matthews (vice-president). The Mayor of Winchester removed the Union Jack which hung over the tablet, and the dedicatory prayers were offered by Archdeacon Braithwaite, who also pronounced the Benediction, after the hymn, 'Let saunts on earth in concert sing,' had been sung.

The tablet, which is of dark polished oak, has the names of the fallen carved on three panels, and on the frame above and below, the following:

1914. FOR THE COMRADES WHO DIED FOR US 1918.
1921. THE GUILD DEDICATES THE TREBLES. 1921.

Canon Braithwaite said it was a great privilege to take part in that ceremony, and to have that tablet erected in their Cathedral belfry as a constant memorial of the ringers of that diocese who gave themselves for England, for freedom, and for right in the great war. He was also very thankful that there were so many ringers present that day from all parts of the diocese, and to greet them as workers in the church. The ringers were out of sight, but not out of sound, and he was sure they did a real work for God. To those with musical ears, and those who love music, what was more beautiful than to hear the sound of well rung bells, to mark the changes as they go, to follow a bell as it hunted up and down, to hear the great tenor speaking so regularly and so steadily, keeping the bells in their right places. It was music that anyone might love to hear. The clergy had a series of texts which spoke to them very clearly. One of them, in one of St. Paul's epistles, was: 'Thou that teachest another teachest thou not thyself?' Was that not also a text that applied to the ringer: 'Thou that callest another to worship, callest thou not thyself?' They remembered the reason why bells were hung in their towers and steeples, not merely that they might delight in the music, but that they should hear their call, and through their ears realise that God was calling to them to serve Him and to worship Him.

The Mayor made a brief speech, referring to the pleasure it gave him to take part in the ceremony, and to the delight which the sound of the bells always gave him when he heard them ringing.

On the motion of Mr. Elkins, thanks were accorded to the Mayor and to Canon Braithwaite for their attendance.

The ringers' requiem, the 'whole pull and stand,' with the bells half-muffled, was then rung 56 times, representing the number of men whose names are recorded on the tablet. This was the first ringing that took place on the twelve bells, and the muffles were then removed, and a course of Grandsire Cinques rung for the Cathedral evensong.

Subsequently the ringers gathered for tea at St. Maurice's Parish Hall, the Rev. W. E. Colchester, treasurer of the Guild, presiding, supported by Mr. Cyril Johnston, the Rev. E. B. James, the Rev. N. C. Hill, Mr. George Williams (Master), Mr. W. Andrews (Master of the Cathedral band), Mr. A. H. Pulling, etc.

The Chairman informed the meeting that the fund for the memorial bells had been completed, with the exception of some £25 or £30, but the question had arisen of providing guides for the first six ropes. This would represent, probably an additional £12. He asked for the opinion of the gathering as to whether this additional responsibility should be undertaken.

Mr. Cyril Johnston, asked to tell the meeting something about the bells, said it was not the first time his firm had been associated with Winchester. The Guildhall clock had come to them for restoration after 60 years' work, and, on examination, he found that the clock was made by his firm. When one thought of this, one wondered how clockmakers and bell founders ever got a living (laughter), for their work lasted for generations. The first definite order for bell restoration they received after the war was given them by Mr. Colchester for the bells at St. Maurice's, Winchester, and now they had come there again in connection with the Cathedral. He would like to congratulate the Guild upon being so well organised, and having such energetic officers and such a good spirit pervading the members that they had been able to get such a comparatively large sum of money to put up two bells as a memorial to their members who fell in the war. There had been some difference of opinion as to whether the two new bells should be tuned on the modern scientific five-tone principle, or whether they should be left like the old bell. He was more than satisfied himself with the result. His firm had given them the very best that could be given, and he hoped the ringers, with whom, after all, the decision rested, would be equally satisfied (applause). He appreciated the high honour done to the firm in having been concerned in the carrying out of the memorial.

Mr. George Williams (Ringing Master), the Rev. E. Bankes James, and others, having spoken of the great advantage that would be gained by placing guides in the ringing chamber, it was resolved to request the sub-committee to have the guides erected.

SUGGESTED RECASTING OF OTHER BELLS.

Mr. Wilfred Andrews said he hoped before his connection with the Cathedral ceased they would have all their bells attended to, for there were some they were not too proud of. He hoped it might eventually be possible to form a bell fund to have these recast. It was, perhaps, more a Winchester matter than a Guild matter; but still, it did concern them, for the Cathedral and the bells were diocesan. Those who knew the old tenor before it was cracked were of opinion that it was a better bell than the present one. The present 11th was a very good bell, and if they could have a correspondingly good tenor they would have a much better peal than they now had. Mr. Andrews added that, as representing his colleagues at the Cathedral tower, he was pleased to see so many ringers present from the various districts of the Guild.

Mr. Johnston said when the order was given for the two new bells he made a sporting offer to recast the two old trebles for £50, if they could be done at the same time. Unfortunately it was not possible to take advantage of that offer, and he was, therefore, relieved of responsibility in the matter. But in view of what had been said by Mr. Andrews he would be prepared to keep the offer open until midnight on December 31st next (applause). If Mr. Andrews could walk round Winchester and find ten people to give £5 each the thing would be done (applause).

It was pointed out that the 2nd of the old ten (the present 4th) was given by the Winchester Guild, and a resolution was passed supporting the committee, in the event of the additional money being raised, in giving their consent to the recasting of this bell.

Afterwards the annual meeting of the Winchester District was held, at which the officers were re-elected.

It was decided to hold the next annual district meeting at Romsey, and the intervening quarterly meetings at Alton, Cheriton and Titchborne, and Dibden and Fawley.

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Cathedral authorities.

Further ringing at the Cathedral subsequently took place, and the beautiful peal of six at St. Maurice's were also utilised. With regard to these latter, it is interesting to note that the four largest bells are about 300 years old, and that when they were taken out for restoration, it was found possible to tune them on the five-tone principle, so that the whole are now like a new peal. The evening ringing at the Cathedral included Stedman and Grandsire Cinques, and many ringers had their first pull on twelve.

The founders of the bells received many compliments upon the excellent work they had accomplished, and the 'splice' was regarded as a surprising success in view of the indifference of some of the bells which form the rest of the peal.

THE LAMBERTS' FAMILY PEAL.

FIVE BROTHERS AND THREE SONS.

An interesting 'family' performance is recorded this week. A peal was rung at Mitcham on November 2nd, in which eight members of the Lambert family took part.

The band consisted of five brothers, the eldest being 66 years of age, and three sons of Mr. F. J. Lambert, the youngest being 20 years old. Several attempts were made previous to the war by seven brothers for a peal of Triples, but one brother having died a prisoner in Germany, and another, through illness and age, being unable to attempt it, the younger members of the family have now been brought in. Owing, however, to the band living in different parts of the country, previous attempts were very limited, but success has at length attended them. About 25 years ago, in November, 1896, the conductor rang his first peal, and Mr. J. A. Lambert his first of Stedman at this tower.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting of the Manchester Branch was held at Eccles on Saturday, October 29th, and was moderately attended. At the business meeting, Mr. J. Potter, one of the local ringers, took the chair, and gave a warm welcome to the visiting ringers.—Flixton was selected as the next meeting-place on Saturday, Nov. 26th.

The meeting was pleased to have the company of Mr. A. F. Bailey, of Leiston, Suffolk.

Votes of thanks to the church authorities and local ringers closed the meeting. Ringing took place during the afternoon and evening.

DURHAM & NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION. A SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

At the ancient Cathedral city of Durham, on Saturday, Oct. 29th, the 40th annual festival of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association was held. Several ringers from Newcastle and elsewhere were early in the field, and the bells of St. Oswald's and St. Nicholas' rang out merrily during the morning. Owing to the committee meeting at 11.30 a.m. being rather protracted, it was unfortunately impossible to ring the Cathedral bells before the service, which took place in the venerable building at 12.30 p.m. The Right Rev. Bishop Welldon, D.D., Dean of Durham, officiated at the service, and gave an inspiring address, which was much appreciated by his hearers.

Dinner was served at the Three Tuns Hotel, 41 members sitting down. Mr. W. Story, the president, was in the chair, and was supported by the Rev. W. Bothamley, Vicar of St. Nicholas', Durham, and the Rev. G. R. Appleton, of St. Mary's, Gateshead; Messrs. B. C. Dixon and E. E. Ferry, joint secretaries and treasurers; Mr. J. Cooper, bell major at the Cathedral; Messrs. C. L. Routledge, T. T. Goffon, G. W. Park, R. L. Patterson, and many other well-known ringers, representing a large number of towers.

After 'The King' had been duly honoured, Mr. C. L. Routledge, in a happy speech, proposed the toast of the Bishop and Clergy of the two Dioceses, and also a vote of thanks and appreciation to Dean Welldon for so kindly officiating at the service.

This was suitably responded to by the Rev. W. Bothamley, who remarked that it always gave him pleasure to come among ringers, and regaled the company with a graceful speech, and one of his anecdotes, which are always greatly appreciated.

Votes of thanks to the Vicars and wardens for the use of the bells and to the organist, proposed by Mr. R. L. Patterson, were carried by acclamation.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. B. C. Dixon) then presented the balance sheet, which showed a balance in hand of £21 17s. 9d., and read his annual report. Reference was made to the loss which the association had sustained during the year, by the death of two respected members, Mr. G. J. Lungley, of Darlington, and Mr. Park of the same town. The secretary promised to have the reports put in hand as soon as possible, and have them in the hands of the members before the end of the year. Every member was urged to purchase a copy, otherwise the cost of printing would fall on the shoulders of three gentlemen who had guaranteed the necessary financial assistance.

SUNDAY SERVICE AND PEAL PERFORMANCES.

The Sunday service ringing returns showed that Whitley Bay came first with 2,241 points, Newcastle Cathedral second with 877 points, and Sunderland (St. Ignatius) third with 745 points. Of the six-bell towers, Benfieldside was first with 574 points, Houghton-le-Spring second with 334 points, and Winlaton third with 174 points. Whitley Bay were congratulated on their consistent and brilliant record, most of their ringing having been done in the three Surprise Major methods: London, Cambridge and Bristol. Most of the points gained by Newcastle Cathedral were due to Stedman Caters and Cinques. Of the six-bell towers, Benfieldside had done excellently in coming first for the third year in succession, and had won the certificate. Houghton-le-Spring were to be congratulated on reaching second place, this being the first time they had sent in a return. They have brought touches round for nearly every service. Seventeen peals were rung during the year, those of outstanding merit being the handbell peals of London Surprise Major rung by the gifted Brothers Goffon and their son. They were heartily congratulated on their splendid performances. The first short course peal of Stedman Cinques ever rung was rung at Newcastle Cathedral during the year. The meetings held were fairly well attended, and, on the whole, successful. It is hoped that train fares will be much reduced in the near future, and thus give more scope for covering the large area under the jurisdiction of the association. It is interesting to record that several ladies have joined the ranks of the association, several of whom were at the meeting.

The President moved the adoption of the report and balance sheet.—The motion was carried by acclamation, and Mr. J. Pickering proposed a vote of thanks to the retiring officers, which was heartily carried, and suitably responded to by Mr. B. C. Dixon.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Afterwards, on the motions of Messrs. C. L. Routledge and A. F. Hillier respectively, Mr. W. Story was re-elected president, and Messrs. B. C. Dixon and E. E. Ferry, joint secretaries and treasurers, with the unanimous approval of the meeting.

The vice-presidents were unanimously elected as follows: Northern District, Mr. G. Holmes; Western District, Mr. E. Lowery. For the Eastern and Southern Districts, Messrs. G. S. Taylor and W. Kingdon remain in office for another year. Secretaries for the various districts were next elected: Northern District, Mr. J. E. Goffon (re-elected); Western, Mr. Tyson, of Tunfield; Eastern, Mr. J. W. Parker (re-elected); Southern, Mr. J. Pallaster (re-elected). For the West Tyne Division, Mr. Taylor, of Hexham, was elected in place of Mr. E. Lowery, who was now a vice-president.

The hon. auditor (Mr. C. L. Routledge), the peal referees, Messrs. J. A. Goffon, W. H. Barber, J. W. Parker, C. Todd and J. E. Keen, and the Central Council representatives, Messrs. C. L. Routledge, W. Story and T. T. Goffon, were all unanimously re-elected.

For the forthcoming year it was announced that meetings would be held, as follows: Pre-Lent at Chester-le-Street; Whit-Monday, Darlington; Summer, Hexham and Corbridge; Annual, Newcastle.

A vote of sympathy to Mr. J. G. Green, of Chester-le-Street, in his severe illness, was passed at the meeting. Mr. Story paid a tribute to his sterling worth, and expressed the earnest hope, which was shared by the meeting, that he would be speedily restored to health. A large number of new members were elected, and Messrs. J. Bird and A. Deas, of Gosforth, were elected hon. ringing members.

During the evening, a large number of members ascended the many steps of the lofty central tower of the Cathedral and set the bells going in quarter-hour touches of London, Stedman, Grandsire, etc. The bell major showed them round his tower, and many went and say the bells, which are said to be the highest hung ringing peal in Britain. He told them that the curfew is still rung there every night except Saturday, and thereby hangs a tale. One Saturday night, in the dim and distant past, a man went up into the tower as usual to ring the curfew. The curfew was rung, but the man was never seen again. And from that time the curfew was never again sounded on a Saturday night. So goes the tale. 'There are more things in heaven,' etc. The members, in thoughtful mood, had a splendid 'fall,' and then a convivial hour, and home.

ANTIQUARY AS WELL AS RINGER.

MUFFLED RINGING FOR THE LATE MR. GIFFORD.

The funeral of the late Mr. W. W. Gifford took place at Blackford (Somerset), on Tuesday, Nov. 1st. The bells of the following churches were rung, muffled, as a last mark of respect to his memory: St. Thomas, Salisbury, on the day of the funeral, rounds and call changes, by: G. Webb 1, I. W. Romaine 2, C. Mountford 3, J. R. Jerram 4, H. Worsdell 5, F. Hiscock 6, F. E. Wright 7, W. Wright 8; followed by three whole pulls and stand on each bell, three times round.

At Britford, on the same evening, muffled ringing also took place under the direction of Mr. L. Harris.

On Wednesday, November 2nd, muffled touches of Grandsire Triples were rung at St. Martin's, Salisbury, by: S. Macey, F. Precey, C. Sanger, W. J. Prince, L. Harris, A. Fry, A. Southey and W. Triman, several of those who rang at St. Thomas' also taking part. This was followed by ringing the age of the deceased (63), by the whole pull and stand. The late Mr. Gifford was for many years at the head of the St. Martin's ringers; and in 1886, when the peal was augmented from six to eight, he gave the second bell, besides contributing largely to the rebanging.

On Thursday, Nov. 3rd, at St. Edmund's, Salisbury, the bells were rung, muffled, by: J. Parsons, senr., J. A. Parsons, W. Spender, and several of those who took part in the muffled ringing at St. Thomas' and St. Martin's, and younger members of St. Edmund's company. A muffled peal was also rung at St. Paul's, Fisherton, under the direction of Mr. S. J. Kite, on Sunday, Nov. 6th.

It may be added that the late Mr. W. W. Gifford was not only an enthusiastic change ringer, but a great antiquary in the matter of bells; and he had a most unique collection of rubbings and casts of inscriptions and founders' marks taken from ancient bells all over the kingdom.

THE ROWLAND CARTWRIGHT MEMORIAL.

Upwards of 80 ringers and friends—the latter including several of deceased's colleagues of the staff of the L. and N.W. Railway—asssembled at Wombourne on Saturday, Oct. 29th, on the occasion of a service held in memory of the late Mr. Rowland Cartwright. The service began with the hymn, 'O God, our help in ages past,' followed by prayers read by the Rev. C. J. Cox. The hymn, 'Rock of Ages,' followed, after which an impressive address was delivered by the Rev. H. L. Langley, M.A. (the Vicar), who said: 'They were commemorating one whom they all could call a friend.' This was indeed true, for one of deceased's pronounced characteristics was that of holding out a hand of fellowship. His ability in the art of change ringing was of no mean status, and he was ever ready to impart his knowledge to any who sought his advice, whether within the bounds of ringing or outside.

After the hymn, 'Holy Father, cheer our way,' the clergy, followed by Mrs. Cartwright (widow), Mrs. Whitehouse (daughter), and the congregation, proceeded to the graveside, where prayers were read by the Rev. C. H. Barker, L.Th., Vicar of Swindon.

The memorial, which is in the form of a cross, bears the inscription: 'In memory of Rowland Cartwright, who died February 24th, 1915, aged 55 years. Erected by his bell ringing and railway friends.'

After the Blessing, a course of Grandsire Caters was rung on handbells by: W. Devey 1—2, R. Pickering 3—4, J. E. Groves 5—6, H. Knight 7—8, T. Smith 9—10. The tower bells were rung half-muffled before the service, and for a short time after; then open ringing continued for the remainder of the evening.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting for the South-Eastern Division of the Essex Association was held at Chelmsford on Saturday, Oct. 29th. Service was held in the Cathedral, conducted by the Rev. Canon Lake, the address being given by the Rev. Colley. Tea was held at the Bell Hotel, about 40 members being present, including Mr. C. Dean (Croydon), the Master (Mr. C. Howard), and Mr. F. Pitstow (the association's new secretary).

At the business meeting, Mr. Howard presiding, Mr. W. Lincoln, District Master, and Mr. P. Timson, District Secretary, were re-elected.—Mr. Howard proposed a vote of thanks to the retiring officers for their services.—Six new ringing members were elected, and two probationary members were confirmed as ringing members.

Great Waltham was selected for the next place of meeting.—Mr. Lincoln pointed out that it was intended to hold the present meeting there, but owing to the effect of the spell of dry weather on the bell frame the bells had been unringable, but were now in better order.

Mr. F. Pitstow proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, and the Rev. Colley for his address. Handbells were then utilised, and other members returned to the tower for further ringing.

WINDSOR RINGERS' FIRST OUTING.

Saturday, Sept. 24th, will long be remembered by the ringers of the Parish Church, Windsor, when they had their first outing. A start was made at 9.30, the nine ringers being accompanied by Mr. J. M. Burns (Vicar's warden), Mr. Ponder (verger), and the ringer of All Saints' Church. The first stop was at Warfield, where the party were welcomed by the Vicar and Mr. Higgs, and, finding the bells to their liking, soon got them going to Grand sire and Oxford Bob. It is hoped that in a few weeks' time they may make their first peal attempt on these bells, their own not being available for peal ringing. A pleasant run took the party to All Saints', Wokingham, where a few short touches were brought round. Next on the list was Hurst, and here they lost their first touch, one of the old stagers thinking he was ringing Superlative instead of Oxford Bob. A handy place to have lunch was found near by, the worthy steeplekeeper and his wife having prepared a splendid spread of rabbit pies, apple tarts, etc. During lunch, the Vicar joined the party, and finding that he could ring the treble to Doubles, the band returned to the belfry to get him through a plain course of Triples. Passing through Twyford, with its light ring of eight, they reached Sonning soon after three o'clock, and the ringing here was much enjoyed. The next move was to Wargrave to the new church, built on the site of the one destroyed by fire by the Suffragettes in 1914. The bells, which are very noisy, rather upset the visitors' ringing, though one or two touches were brought round.

Marlow, the sixth and last place, was reached after a ten-mile drive through lovely scenery in South Oxon and Bucks. Here tea was ready at the Two Brewers—so well known to all ringers. Messrs. Collins, J. C. Truss, and others, joined the party in an hour's ringing, which ended by running down the back six, much to the delight of the 'Fidler.' Before leaving Marlow, Mr. Truss and his friends delighted the visitors with tunes on the handbells. Windsor was reached at 10 o'clock.

Although ringing was confined to Grand sire and Oxford Bob Triples, about 3,750 changes were rung in short touches, nearly all of which were successful. Everyone voted the first outing a great success. Opportunity is taken of thanking the various incumbents and steeplekeepers for so kindly granting permission to ring, and having everything in readiness.

PETERBOROUGH AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

Two very useful meetings of the Association have been held recently, one at Crowland, on Sept. 17th, when, by special invitation of the Rector (the Rev. S. C. Calver), the association paid its first visit to the abbey. Ringing was indulged in during the afternoon and evening in various methods. The ringers attended choral evensong, after which the Rector invited all present to a sumptuous tea in the Parish Room. This was followed by the usual business meeting, over which the Rector presided. He remarked that this was the first ringers' meeting that had been held there during the eight years he had been at Crowland. It was an interesting event, as Crowland Abbey had been associated with a peal of bells for many centuries.

On Saturday, Oct. 1st, a meeting was held at Alwalton. The Rector (Rev. F. J. Medforth) conducted the service, and very kindly entertained the ringers to tea at the Wheatsheaf. He afterwards presided at the business meeting, at which the whole of the local band were elected members, with the Rector as honorary member. One life member was also elected.

Credit is due to Mr. Knight, the captain of the young band at this church for the progress made. Ringing took place throughout the afternoon and evening. The next meeting will be held at St. Martin's, Stamford, on November 19th, notice of which appears in this week's 'Ringing World.'

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS' DINNER.

Some features of unusual interest to ringers marked the annual dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths on Saturday. The gathering, as is customary, brought together a widely representative company of ringers from all over the south of England, and fully maintained the prestige that has grown up with it in a long course of years. This dinner, drawing together, as it does, old friends from widely separated districts who would otherwise have no opportunity of meeting, stands out as one of the landmarks of the ringing year, and last Saturday's gathering will remain memorable for the first public exhibition of Mr. John Carter's ringing machine. Needless to say, this marvellous piece of mechanism was the great centre of attraction, and while, through no fault of the inventor, some of the effect was lost by the difficulties presented by the instrument to which it was attached, it was looked upon as a compliment to the oldest ringing society that the newest, and certainly the most wonderful of machines, connected with bells, should have made its first public appearance there. It needs a knowledge of the science of ringing to understand to the full the extraordinary ingenuity that has been displayed in constructing this machine, and many will agree with Canon Coleridge when he said, in effect, that it was the most wonderful piece of mechanism ever fabricated by human intelligence.

London ringers who were present heard with pleasure that there is a possibility of having in the not far distant future yet another peal of twelve bells within the City, for the Rector of St. Magnus made the announcement that, if it is at all possible, he proposes to augment his present peal of ten by the addition of two more bells. Ringers will specially welcome this information, because, although London already possesses eight such rings, access to some of the towers is not always readily attained, and as St. Magnus is one of the belfries in which the College Youths practice regularly, the carrying out of the scheme will be a matter of congratulation.

A suggestion which one hopes may bear fruit was made by the Past Master of the Society (Mr. C. H. Horton) that the social side of ringing might be considerably further advanced if another such gathering as that, and the one at Birmingham, could be inaugurated in some other part of the country, and he indicated the west, presumably Bristol. Had it not been for the war we believe that a commemorative dinner would have been arranged at Sheffield in honour of the memory of the late Mr. Charles Henry Hattersley. Sheffield would be an admirable centre for a gathering of north country ringers, and an annual festival of this character both in the north and in the west should prove popular.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual general meeting of the Cumberland Association was held on Saturday, November 5th, at All Saint's Church Rooms, Cocker-mouth, about 40 ringers being present from Aspatria, Arlecdon, Bridekirk, Carlisle, Cocker-mouth, Cleator Moor, Egremont, and Hensingham. The chair was taken by the Rev. Canon Parker, M.A., Vicar of All Saints', and President of the Association, supported by the hon. secretary, Mr. J. J. Wallis (Carlisle).

The Secretary presented his report, which showed a very satisfactory balance in hand of over £7.

It was decided that at all towers in the association the bells should be muffled on the Sunday following Armistice Day as a token of respect to those who had fallen in the great war, also that a peal should be rung in the near future, and recorded on a peal board with the names of the members of the association who had made the supreme sacrifice.

It was also decided that the next quarterly meeting be held at Keswick, in place of the one which was postponed in July on account of the Coal Strike.

After tea the ringers adjourned to the belfry of All Saints', where there is a peal of eight by the Whitechapel Foundry. They are rather in need of attention, but some good practice was had, and touches of Kent Minor and Major, and Bob Minor and Major were brought round, some of the ringers having a pull on eight for the first time.

CLEVELAND AND NORTH YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

THE PROPOSED AMALGAMATION.

The autumn meeting was held at Ormesby on Saturday, Oct. 22nd, when ringers were present from Carlton, Darlington, Thirsk, North-aller-ton, Whitty, Hartlepool, Middlesbrough, Ormesby, Stockton, and Saltburn. The old Parish Church, which dates back to about 1100, was without either tower or peal of bells until some 14 years ago, when a lady left a legacy for both a tower and a ring of eight bells, which latter were put in by the well-known firm of J. Taylor and Co.

The address at the service was given by the Vicar of Ormesby (the Rev. J. C. C. Kemm), who gave the association a most hearty welcome, remarking that the last time the association held a meeting there was about 11 years ago. He only wished that these meetings came round oftener, as they brought a good number of ringers together, and increased the good fellowship between them.—Tea was provided in the village bungalow, some 40 ringers and friends sitting down. The chair was taken by the President (the Rev. J. L. Kyle), supported by the Vicar of Ormesby, the Vicar of St. Chad's, Headingley, Leeds, Vice-Presidents J. Stool (Thirsk), J. W. Passman (Middlesbrough), and the secretary (Mr. T. Metcalfe).

After tea, the usual loyal toasts were given by the President, and a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar of Ormesby for his most able and instructive address, also for the use of the bells, the Vicar suitably responding.

Nine new members were elected from Saltburn, Whitty, Ormesby and West Hartlepool.

Representatives attended the meeting from the Yorkshire Association in accordance with the resolutions and invitations that had passed between the two organisations from time to time, with a view to getting the Cleveland Association, which has done good spawework in Northern Yorkshire during the last twenty odd years, to amalgamate.

The Rev. C. C. Marshall (President of the Yorkshire Association), and Mr. P. J. Johnson (secretary) laid their ideas before the meeting, the suggestion being that the Northern division of the Yorkshire Association should be cut into two, one part to be called the North-East Division, and the other to be called the Cleveland Division. The attitude now adopted is different to that of 1897, when the Yorkshire Association were begged to open out a Northern Division, and their then president seemed to think that the district was so wide that no good could be done.

The Cleveland men offered strong objection to the present proposals, and no resolution was put to the meeting. The Yorkshire Association's representatives were asked to give the proposed dividing line between the North-East Division and the Cleveland Division, and when this has been done the Cleveland Association will call another meeting to further consider the matter.

SAILOR-RINGER DEAD.

A young and promising ringer, who rang the treble to Grandsire Triples at the age of 13 years, has died, in the person of Alan Wedmore Dyson, A.B., Royal Navy, who succumbed on Sept. 30th to malaria, at the age of only 21 years. The funeral took place at Leigh Parish Church, Gloucestershire, where deceased was formerly a ringer, and the coffin was carried to the grave by six of the deceased's old friends, and school fellows. The coffin was covered with the Union Jack, and the funeral was attended by a great many sympathisers. His favourite hymns, 'Fierce raged the tempest' and 'Nearer, my God, to Thee,' were sung by the choir, of which deceased was a member for years as a boy. The first verse of the National Anthem was sung at the graveside at the conclusion of the burial service, and in the evening his brother ringers rang, muffled, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes), in 53 mins.: B. Poulton 1, W. Poulton 2, C. Coldrick 3, G. Watts 4, A. Martin (conductor) 5, W. Hughes 6.

At Tewkesbury Abbey, on Saturday evening, Oct. 15th, with the bells muffled, 504 Grandsire Triples was rung: F. Taylor 1, R. Harris 2, O. Attwood 3, P. Smith 4, W. Crook 5, T. Devereux 6, C. Dyson (conductor) 7, W. Hughes 8.

MAGDALEN BELLS HEARD AGAIN.

OXFORD GUILD'S ACTIVITIES.

On Tuesday, October 25th, at Magdalen College, Oxford, a quarter-peal of Stedman Caters was rung, in 50 mins., by: T. Payne 1, Mrs. A. E. Lock 2, A. E. Lock 3, F. S. Macey 4, S. Hounslow 5, F. B. Taylor (conductor) 6, W. H. B. Wilkins 7, G. Caldwell 8, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn 9, H. Miles 10.

At the Church of St. Ebbe, 720 Oxford Treble Bob Minor, by: W. H. B. Wilkins 1, F. Clinkard 2, Mrs. A. E. Lock 3, F. S. Macey 4, A. E. Lock (conductor) 5, G. Caudwell 6.

At Milton, Berks, on Oct. 29th, 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor: H. Cooper 1, Mrs. A. E. Lock 2, H. Holifield 3, J. Nobes 4, A. E. Lock (conductor) 5, F. S. Macey 6.

At Sutton Courtenay, the same day, 720 Oxford Treble Bob, by: H. Cooper 1, J. Nobes 2, J. Honey 3, G. R. Rice 4, A. E. Lock (conductor) 5, F. S. Macey 6. First in both methods by J. Nobes.

TWELVE-BELL CATHEDRALS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In many journals a 'printer's error' can well be allowed to pass unnoticed, but not in one which appeals to so wide a public and enjoys such a well-merited reputation for accuracy as does 'The Ringing World.'

May I be allowed, therefore, to point out a mistake in the current number of 'The Ringing World'?

In the first paragraph under 'Belfry Gossip,' you say that of the twelve-bell towers in England only eight are at Cathedrals.

Now, Sir, probably all your London readers, and many of your Provincial readers, know of the twelve bells at St. Saviour's, Southwark, which is the Cathedral Church of the Diocese of Southwark. Yet Southwark Cathedral is not mentioned in the paragraph as one of the twelve-bell Cathedrals.

Can it be, Sir, that your paragraph is prophetic, and that Southwark Cathedral will never appear again among the twelve-bell Cathedrals of England? If so, there is very real danger of this prophecy coming true.

Some weeks ago the bells were pronounced unsafe, and they cannot be rung again until 'The Wizards of Whitechapel' have worked their spells upon them. This will cost £60, and the Cathedral Chapter have no funds in hand to pay for the work. So the bells of Southwark are at present silent, to the great regret of many besides the present writer.—Yours obediently,

A. W. STACEY,

Assistant Priest of St. Saviour's, Southwark, and a member of the London County Association.

By an oversight both Southwark and Wakefield Cathedrals were omitted from the list of 12-bell Cathedral towers in our last issue.—Ed. 'R.W.'

SAMUEL LAWRENCE.

Mr. C. R. Lilley, of Shrewsbury, writes, in reference to the paragraph which appeared on the subject of Mr. Samuel Lawrence's peal book, that Mr. Lawrence was a Shifnal gentleman. He was buried there, and his house is still standing. He rang a good many peals at St. Chad's, and was in the last peal of Maximus there by the Union Society on December 27th, 1813. The tenor was not again turned in to a peal until the peal of Bob Maximus rung in 1914.

Samuel Lawrence's peal book is well worth looking at, as he travelled a long way in those days, which was no easy task.

St. Chad's Society are fortunately in possession of the handbells used by the Union Society more than a century ago. St. Chad's bells were opened by the College Youths in 1798, when a peal of Grandsire Cinques was rung, in which Lawrence took part. He also rang in the first peal of Stedman Cinques.

THE LAST OF THE OLD BRIGADE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the anniversary of the first peal rung for the Yorkshire Association at Holy Trinity, Hull, on Nov. 9th, 1875, vide 'Belfry Gossip' in your issue of the 4th inst. This peal was rung on the election of the then Mayor, now Lord Mayor, a custom which is still in vogue in the city of Hull.

There is now only one left who rang in this peal — Mr. Henry Jenkins, familiarly known to the local ringers as 'Old Harry,' who is in his 78th year.

Although unable to take any active part in ringing, his enthusiasm has in no way abated, his intellect being as firm as ever. He is often to be found outside the tower during ringing, being a keen critic of the striking.

Of a jovial disposition, and possessing a pleasant fund of humour, his genial presence is ever welcomed amongst the ringers.—Yours truly,

A. B. COOK.

ST. BOTOLPH'S, BISHOPSGATE.

The unveiling of the war memorial tablet, erected in St. Botolph Church, Bishopsgate, will take place on Sunday morning next, 20th November, when the Lord Mayor and sheriffs, in state, will attend, also a contingent of the Honourable Artillery Company, with their splendid band. In the evening, the War Memorial Chapel will be dedicated, and the Rector and churchwardens of St. Botolph's cordially invite all ringers to these services, as ringing will precede both services, which commence at 11 a.m. and 6.30 p.m. respectively.

ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS.

CELEBRATION OF 284TH YEAR.

The 284th Anniversary Dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths was held at the London Tavern, Fenchurch Street, on Saturday last, and was once again the occasion of a large gathering of members and friends, not only from the Metropolis but from many parts of the Provinces.

The admirable arrangements made by the Dinner Committee, coupled with the excellent catering, made the gathering extremely enjoyable, and to add to the interest there was on view, for the first time publicly, Mr. John Carter's marvellous ringing machine. This was naturally an object of great attraction, both before the dinner and during an interval, as well as later, when it was set to tap a course of Stedman Cinques on the piano. Unfortunately, owing to the piano attachment not fitting perfectly to the instrument, the rhythm of the course was lost by the frequent absence of notes, but the extraordinary nature of the machine was fully obvious to the audience.

The Master of the society, Mr. Harold J. Walton, presided over the company numbering nearly 200, including:—Rev. J. H. Ellison, M.V.O. (Rector of St. Michael's, Cornhill), Rev. H. J. Fynes-Clinton (Rector of St. Magnus), Rev. Prebendary Isaacs (Rector of Cripplegate), Rev. C. O. Child (St. Agnes, Kennington), Rev. H. B. Simpson (Stepney), Rev. Canon G. F. Coleridge (President of the Central Council), Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild), Rev. F. Ll. Edwards (Secretary of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild), Messrs. E. A. Young (Hon. Secretary of the Central Council), T. H. Tallender (Master of the London County Association), W. T. Cockerill (Hon. Secretary of the College Youths), A. A. Hughes (treasurer), C. F. Winney and W. Prims (trustees), G. R. Fardon, J. C. F. Bayley (stewards), Capt. Bennett, V.C., Mr. C. F. Johnston (Croydon), Mr. A. R. Powys (Secretary of the Society for the Preservation of Ancient Buildings), Major J. H. B. Hesse, Mrs. Wilkins, and Mr. A. E. Wilkins, Messrs. W. A. Cave and P. W. Cave (Bristol), G. Bowen (Ilfracombe), A. Walker (Birmingham), R. T. Hibbert (Secretary of the Oxford Guild), and members of the Caversham band, T. Faulkner and members of the Barking, Essex, band, J. Wyatt and J. S. Stainer (Ashted), J. W. Nevard (Great Bentley), J. Carter (Honor Park), G. Head (Reigate), H. Eden and H. Smith (Bushey), T. T. Groombridge (Chislehurst), J. Parker and W. J. Hazell (Edmonton), T. Beadle and members of the band from Isleworth, P. Clark and members of the band from Ealing, J. C. Truss (Marlow), J. Evans (Hughenden), A. B. Bennett (Cumberland Youths), J. T. Dyke (Midsomer Norton), J. D. Harris and F. W. Rogers (Portsmouth), etc.

Immediately after dinner the toast of 'The King' was honoured.

THE CHURCH.

The Master proposed the toast of 'The Church.' Looking back to the history of their society, he said, they found that their very existence depended upon the church. If for a moment they could imagine there were no Church, their society would not that evening be celebrating their 284th anniversary. The church, he continued, was symbolic of all that was best and highest, the ceremonies of her services, whether it be at one of their cathedrals or in the smallest village church, were carried out with great reverence and dignity, and left them all with a sense of rest from the toil and turmoil of everyday life. The churches themselves were among the finest buildings in the land, and provided them with some of the finest specimens of ancient architecture. Referring to the part of ringers in the services, the Master said to the uninitiated the ringers' art might be somewhat of a mystery, but though their work was carried out unseen, they never received complaints that they could not be heard (laughter). Continuing, the Master said they were honoured that evening by the presence of the Rectors of some of the City and London Churches. The society owed to them a debt of gratitude for the use of their bells for practices. In coupling with the toast the name of the Rev. J. H. Ellison, he said it was unnecessary for him to remind them of the interest he had shown, of the help they had always received from him, and how greatly they valued his support (applause). The presence of so many eminent members of the church was especially gratifying, as showing not only their continued interest in the society, but also because it was an acknowledgment of the part ringers took in the work of the Church (applause).

Canon J. H. Ellison, in responding, said at the meeting of the National Assembly a few months ago there was a proposal that the bell ringers of the country should come under the Parochial Church Council, and he was much struck by the fact that man after man got up and said they could not possibly have that. They had been connected with the clergy for so long a time that they wished to go on working under the clergy. That, he thought, was a great compliment to the relations which had always existed between the clergy and the ringers, and which, he hoped, would always continue to exist (applause). At the same time, upon the face of it, it seemed to indicate a rather wrong idea on the part the bell ringers of what the Church of England really is. It almost seemed to imply that the Church of England was the clergy of the Church of England. They were not, they (the laymen) were equally as much a part of the Church of England, and in proposing that toast they were proposing their own health (laughter and applause).

THE LAYMEN'S PART.

The toast was 'The Health of the Church.' Somebody had described health as the power of adapting the body to all the various changes which it had to meet in the course of the year. If health was the power of adapting itself to circumstances, then, he thought, the Church had never been so strong as it was at this moment, because at long last the Church of England had got, at all events, some power to govern itself, and to say in what way it wanted to be ruled, and in what way it wanted to go forward, thanks to the action of Parliament in giving them the National Assembly. Up to the passing of that Act, the Church had not been able to take a single step forward without the sanction of Parliament, and Parliament had been either too indifferent or too preoccupied to make that possible. Therefore, for a large number of years the Church of England had really not been enabled to adapt itself to all the changing circumstances of the age in which we lived. Everything else had been changing, but the Church had had to go on almost exactly on the same lines, merely because it had had no power to adapt itself to the new circumstances. People sometimes spoke of the weakness of the Church, but bearing in mind the limitations upon its actions, his answer always was that the very fact that the Church of England was at the present time what it was, and was so great a force in the country, showed how enormously strong it was, and what tremendous reserves of strength it had behind it if it could only use them, as he believed it was going to use them through the National Assembly. If the laymen wanted the church to be really strong they must put their whole force into it, and they as ringers should grasp the rope firmly, if he might use the metaphor, and give a hard pull, resolving that the peal of the Church should be strong and united. Having referred to what the National Assembly was already doing by way of remedying abuses and establishing the Central Fund, Canon Ellison pointed to the difficulties of trying to reconstruct the Church finances at a time when money was so terribly short, but added that the laymen were throwing themselves into the matter, and if the ringers really wished health to the Church of England they should also throw themselves into the work in their own Parochial Councils, and, by sending resolutions to the National Assembly, not only make the Church fulfil the wishes of her laymen, but show that the laymen realised that they were, as much as the clergy, a part of the Church of England (applause).

REMINISCENCES OF ANCIENT YOUTHS.

Canon Coleridge, in an entertaining speech, submitted 'The Ancient Society of College Youths.' He said those gatherings carried him back in memory forty years or more, to a time when it was his privilege to meet the College Youths in a somewhat low tavern at Southwark (laughter). That was in 1879, and he could see now certain old members of the society sitting there in great solemnity, and being venerated by the young men like himself. There was Henry Haley at the end of the row, and next to him John Cox, who was a Cumberland, but preferred to be with the College Youths when he could (laughter). Next to him sat Murray Hayes, then Mat. Wood, then the gentleman they used to call 'Jimmy Delight,' because his name was James Dwight; then came their dear old friend, still with them, Ted Horrex (applause). The only difference he could see in him was that that night he was smoking a cigar, while on the occasion he referred to, 40 years ago, he was smoking a clay pipe (loud laughter). Last of all, came George Muskett who, to his (the speaker's) huge astonishment, drank claret (laughter). He (Canon Coleridge) thought himself 'no small beer' as an Oxford undergraduate, to be admitted to such lofty society (laughter). From that day to this, when he came to their annual banquet, he felt rejuvenated, and he went back feeling young again, and hoping he would be fit to come again the following year (applause). Canon Coleridge then branched off into the inevitable anecdotes, of which he has an inexhaustible store, and much amused the company.

A GREAT HERITAGE.

Turning again to the toast list, the speaker referred to the quotations from Shakespeare, with which the programme was appropriately besprinkled, and remarked that the sentiments seemed to him to apply particularly to the College Youths. The first was: 'He sits high in all the people's hearts.' Was it not perfectly true that if there was one thing the people of England valued more than another it was the sound of the bells? They did not understand very much about the ringing of them, but they were greatly disappointed if the bells were silenced. Then, again, 'Bequeathed down from many ancestors.' A great heritage was theirs. They were celebrating their 284th anniversary that day, and they had to look back to the heroes of the past and remember that many of the young men in the room that night would in time come to be looked on by those who followed after as heroes in the Exercise. Let them, therefore, see to it that they excelled in every possible way and bequeathed their art, through themselves, from those from whom they received it to those who would come after them (hear, hear). Then there was the quotation, 'Here is a touch. Is't good?' Let them always see that every bit of ringing they did, whether a long peal or simply a touch, was the best they possibly could give. 'A smooth success be strewed before your feet,' was another quotation. He hoped they might be successful in many peals, but let them try their best to deserve it. 'You are very welcome to our house, it must appear in other ways than words.' That was the call of the Church. Was it not for every ringer to be welcome in the House of God, not merely for ringing the bells, but also to take part in the services in the Sanctuary? They made their presence in the belfry heard outside; let them not fail to make their presence evident within the Church. 'All's well that ends well.' They said that of every peal. The time would come when the peal of their lives would draw to a close, and he prayed that it might be well with them at the end, so that when the call of 'stand' came, in that their earthly activity they would take up life in another sphere for which they had tried to fit themselves here (applause). In conclusion, Canon Coleridge referred to Mr. John Carter's machine, which they hoped to hear in public for the first time that night. He had no hesitation in saying that no piece of scientific work had ever been fabricated in this world which bore such an intelligent impress as that marvellous production of Mr. Carter's creative mind (applause).

THE YEAR'S LOSSES AND SUCCESSES.

After a course of Stedman Cinques on handbells, Mr. W. T. Cockerill, whose name was coupled with the toast, replied. He said he had received letters regretting absence from the Archdeacon of London, Ald. J. S. Pritchett (Birmingham), Mr. J. C. Mitchell, Mr. W. H. Judd and Mr. E. P. O'Meara. They had to deplore the loss of eight members by death, since the last dinner, viz., Miss Macalpine Leny, Mr. Frank Woodhead, Mr. Ackland J. Perkins, Mr. Charles W. Goodenough, Mr. Walter S. Wise, Mr. Charles Jackson, Mr. Raymond J. Wilkins and Mr. William Gifford. Since the last dinner they had made 56 new members, and their meetings for practice had been excellently attended. Sixty-seven practices had been held, and 137 members had attended at some time during the year. The peals rung during the year numbered 27: Grandsire Triples 2, Stedman Triples 12, and one on handbells; Stedman Caters 4 and one on handbells; Stedman Cinques 3 and two on handbells; Cambridge Major 1, Cambridge Royal 1, Superlative Major 1. The conductors had been Messrs. W. A. Alps, T. Tafender, H. Langdon, H. R. Pasmore, A. Walker, J. Thomas, H. G. Miles, T. Groombridge, junr., J. N. Oxborough, C. F. Winney, W. E. Garrard, W. H. Barber, W. Haigh, R. T. Hibbert and C. Fenn.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION. SOUTH AND WEST DISTRICT.

Both 'success' and 'welcome' were written large on Saturday last, when over forty ringers met at Hillingdon. Some of the 'early birds' arrived soon after three o'clock, and a start was made with Grandsire Triples. The service was held at five o'clock, when the recently-appointed Vicar (the Rev. Henry J. Kitecat) officiated, and in the course of his address dwelt upon the subject of the various sacred offices, pointing out that all were necessary, whether at the east or at the west end of the church. He showed how all are dependent upon and have need of one another. The bells always seemed to say, 'Come unto Me,' and they were especially associated with Christmas.

The service was brightened with suitable music, Miss Feltham presiding at the organ, and very appropriate selections were made in the choice of hymns, 'Far, far away, like bells at evening pealing,' and 'Craftsman's art and music's measure.'

A good tea is a great addition to a ringing meeting, and the best thanks are due to Miss Nora Williams for arranging it so economically, and to her willing assistants for their help.

The District Master (Mr. C. S. Bird) thanked the Vicar for allowing the use of the bells.

The Vicar was proposed as a hon. life member, together with three ringing members from his tower, including Miss Grace Baker, who rang one of the small bells to Grandsire Caters. The methods rung during the meeting were Grandsire Triples, Stedman Caters, Treble Ten, Double Norwich, Cambridge and London Surprise.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Luton District took place at Dunstable, on Saturday week, and proved a most successful one, members and friends being present from Luton, Leighton Buzzard, Linslade, Woburn, Tring, Hitchin, Stevenage, St. Albans, and the local tower. A very welcome visitor also was Mr. O. Dean, of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston's Foundry, Croydon. The bells were rung for an hour before the short service, which was conducted by the Rector and President (Canon W. W. C. Baker), and greatly appreciated by the members. Tea at Wilson's Restaurant was followed by the annual business meeting, at which the chair was taken by the President. The officers were re-elected en bloc, and four non-resident members and one ringing member were afterwards elected.

An interesting discussion took place on various matters of interest to the association, and a very hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Rector for the use of the bells, and for presiding at the meeting.

The handbells were afterwards brought into use, and a course of Grandsire Caters and a touch of Bob Major rung, while other members returned to the tower, where ringing again took place. The methods rung during the day were Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Major.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION. SPECIAL MEETING AT CUCKNEY.

An interesting supplementary meeting was held at North Cuckney, on a recent Saturday. Business duties kept some faithful members away, others were no doubt deterred by the stormy afternoon, but the muster was fairly representative of seven towers, viz. Anston, Barlborough, Cuckney, Warsop, Worksop, Sutton-in-Ashfield and Treeton. Ringing commenced at 2.45 p.m., and after a few preliminary touches in plain methods for the learners, the higher methods of Oxford, Kent, Violet and Duke of York were practised, and a 'silent' 720 Oxford Treble Bob, the first on the bells, by A. Hakes 1, W. Platts 2, P. Hibbard 3, H. Haigh 4, C. F. Fowler 5, J. H. Brothwell 6. Tea was provided in the Church Institute, presided over by the Vicar (the Rev. J. T. Mumford), 25 members sitting down. Afterwards the business meeting was held, and a new peal of eight handbells was rung by mixed bands in tunes and changes.

The Secretary (Mr. H. Haigh) explained the reason for holding the meeting at Cuckney instead of Edwinstowe, and said the Edwinstowe band would join up early in the new year, and a meeting be held there next July.—Mr. Wilson moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar of Cuckney for his kindness in coming amongst them and presiding over the tea and meeting, and also for the use of the bells and institute. He looked upon the Vicar, he said, as an old friend, and as one who always extended the utmost courtesy to ringers.—Mr. C. F. Fowler seconded the motion, and the Vicar, in reply, said it gave him great pleasure to welcome the ringers at Cuckney, and hoped they would make good use of the bells, which, upon the authority of one of the oldest ringers, were one of the sweetest rings of six bells in North Notts. He need not tell them too much of the enjoyment he had experienced just before tea, when sick visiting at the other end of the village. The sound of the mellow-toned bells was wafted over by the breeze, and it was delightful to pause and listen to them. During the great war, in which he played some little part, he never heard the sound of church bells except a solitary one in Egypt or France. The art of bell ringing was English, and the people of cities, towns or villages owed a debt of gratitude to the ringers of England. The work of a bell ringer required self-denial and loyalty; hard and strenuous practice to master the art. Their work was hidden and unseen by the outside public. Although the bell ringers derived many pleasures and advantages, he also realised the many ups and downs and disappointments they had to pass through. Especially was this the case with the enthusiastic teacher, who, having brought a band almost to perfection, often found that change of occupation or migration from village to town undid the good work he had done and necessitated the making of a fresh start.

Mr. Haigh moved, and Mr. Ibbotson seconded, a vote of thanks to the hostess (Mrs. Harvey) for her splendid catering.—This concluded the business, and in the evening the bells were rung to a variety of Treble Bob Methods.

BALL BEARINGS AND 'SIMPSON' TUNING. To the Editor.

Sir,—I quite agree with Mr. A. Smith as to the permanent utility of either ball, or roller, bearings for bells. People seem to forget that bells are not like engines or motor-cars, which are continually overhauled and looked after; but when once hung, they are expected to go for many years with little or no attention except oiling occasionally. No doubt that the 'go' of a bell hung on such bearings is simply perfect for a time; but what will it be in a year's hence if neglected? There is no doubt that simplicity is the great thing to be aimed at in everything connected with bell hanging.

While on the subject of modern 'improvements' (?) in connection with bells, will you allow me again to protest against tuning on the 'Simpson principle'? Not only have many good old bells been sacrificed for this fad, but the result does not appear to be satisfactory. I have heard from several well-known peal ringers, in different parts of England, and they all tell me that the effect is a continuous howling all through a peal. No doubt this system of tuning is all very well for carillons; but it does not appear to be a success for bells rung in peal.—Yours, etc.,
J. R. FERRAM.

November 5th, 1921.

BLEWBURY, BERKS.—On November 1st, 672 Grandsire Triples: W. Walters 1, T. East 2, R. Prior 3, A. Webb 4, W. A. Webb 5, G. F. James 6, R. G. Rice (conductor) 7, W. Greenough 8. This touch is the composition of the late A. R. Bosley, who was interred the previous afternoon at Harwell.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

ROSSENDALE BRANCH.

A very successful meeting of the above was held at St. Paul's, Ramsbottom, on Saturday, November 12th, when members were present from Helmshore, Rawtenstall, Newchurch, Bury, and visiting members from Blackburn, in addition to local ringers.

Ringings commenced at 3.30, and was kept going until 9 o'clock in various methods, viz.: Grandsire, Bob Major, Kent, Stedman and Double Norwich. The usual vote of thanks to the church officials for use of bells and to the ringers for having all in order, brought a very good meeting to a close. The next meeting will be held at St. Saviour's, Bacup, upon a date to be arranged.

PRESTON BRANCH.

A very successful meeting was held at Higher Walton, on Saturday last. The bells were raised about 3.30, and well utilised up to 5.45, when a short business meeting was held in the ringing chamber. Mr. J. Bimson, of Preston, presided, and one new member was elected. Several suggestions were made for the first annual social, to be held at Chorley in December.

Tea was afterwards served in the school, and was very much appreciated.—A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the local ringers for arranging the tea, also to the ladies who so kindly waited at the tables.—This was suitably acknowledged by Mr. J. Eccles, the local captain, who is also a warden of the church.

The tower was again visited, and ringing kept up till 8.30. Perhaps there was one fault to be found, and that was that the bells 'go a little bit rough.' Unfortunately, the discovery of extensive dry rot in the fabric of the church will put the question of overhauling the bells back for some considerable time. However, the range of methods rung during the afternoon was quite good, and included Cambridge and London Surprise Minor, Woodbine, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob; also Bob Minor for the beginners.

THE STANDARD OF RINGING.

From the experiences of Association officials at meetings all over the country and from the evidence of our own columns, ringing has made a wonderful recovery from the effects of the war. In the three years which have elapsed since the Armistice many bands have been built up again; the bells are, in perhaps the majority of cases, rung regularly once more for the services on Sundays; the activities of the associations have revived to almost, if not quite, pre-war vigour; and the ringing of peals is increasing steadily. All these are splendidly healthy signs, and yet, in conversation the other day, a well-known ringer expressed the opinion that ringing on the whole was not as good as it was before the war. In explanation he advanced the view that there was not the same keenness and enthusiasm, nor quite the same desire to do things well, and, consequently, the quality of the ringing was inferior.

The majority of the Exercise have no doubt felt perfectly satisfied with the way recovery has been made since the end of 1918, but there is, after all, something to think over in this ringer's view. Too often, we are afraid, all of us are readily content to think that all is well when it is not really so, and the opinion expressed above has, probably, a good deal in it when one reviews the present position and compares it with those seemingly far off days 'before the war.' There is, perhaps, to be found in our application to the art a little of that spirit of slackness which has, unknowingly, maybe, crept into even more serious aspects of life, as a kind of reaction after the strenuous days of the war. It cannot be described altogether as 'weariness,' and when one endeavours to sense the thing it is difficult to put a name to it; yet it is there.

Lest we be accused of saying that some particular ringer or band is not doing his or its best, or is falling below the standard of pre-war days, when, in fact, he or it may be showing even greater enthusiasm and ability, we hasten to say that the views expressed have only a general application, but they are worth noting, if only they make ringers pause to consider whether they are too self-satisfied with their progress. Is there not room for a little more enthusiasm, which might be manifested in more regular and punctual attendance at service and practice ringing? Is there not scope for a little more keenness in the desire to strike better and advance in method ringing? Is the general standard of the work really as good as it was before the war intervened? These are questions which we could each put to ourselves, and, if answered conscientiously, many would perhaps find that there is considerable truth in the remarks which we have quoted. And the remedy? That is in the hands of the ringer himself.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

PRESENTATION TO MR. J. J. JONES.

The annual meeting of the Guildford District was held at Guildford on Saturday, November 12th, and was very well attended. The bells at Holy Trinity and S. Nicolas' Churches were rung during the afternoon, and a service was held in S. Nicolas' Church, conducted by the Rev. G. M. Wheeler (Rector), the Guild's form of service being used. An excellent address was given by the Rev. Canon Cooke Yarborough (Rector of Puttenham). Miss Margaret Simmonds presided at the organ.

Tea was held at Brett's Restaurant, the Mayor of Guildford (Councillor H. M. Lunn) being in the chair. He was supported by the Rev. G. M. Wheeler, Canon Cooke Yarborough, Sir John Herschel (Rector of West Clandon), and others.

A pleasing feature of the meeting was the presentation to Mr. J. J. Jones (late hon. sec.) of a handsome silver-plated tantalus, subscribed for by members of the district as a mark of appreciation of his services during his 34 years' secretaryship. The presentation was made after tea by the Rev. G. M. Wheeler, who said he should never forget that when he was assistant priest at S. Nicolas and wanted a team to ring, Mr. Jones told him it was like playing a game of chess and riding a bicycle at the same time.—Mr. Jones, in thanking the members for their handsome present, said what he valued most was their appreciation of the work he had tried to do for the Exercise during the 35 years he was secretary.

At the business meeting the accounts for the past year were submitted and passed, and the following officers were elected: Hon. secretary, Mr. E. Raddon; Ringing Master, Mr. C. Hazleden; Chairman of committee, Mr. W. R. Melvill; representatives to the Central Committee, Messrs. Jones and Hazleden; auditor, Mr. W. H. Tunnell.

Letters of apology for non-attendance were sent by Canon Kirwan (Guildford) and Mr. J. H. White (Dorking).—The usual vote of thanks was accorded to the Mayor for presiding, the Rev. G. M. Wheeler for conducting the service, Canon Cooke Yarborough for his address, and to Miss M. Simmonds for acting as organist.

Places of meeting for next year were fixed as follows: Dorking in February; Worplesdon in April; Cranleigh in May; Cobham in July; Aldershot in September, and the annual at Guildford.

After the business a capital entertainment was given by Mr. Sid. Murrells and his concert party, varied by touches on the handbells and songs by Miss M. Simmonds.

WESTBURY'S "MAGNIFICENT EIGHT."

NEW PEAL DEDICATED.

The grand old church of All Saints, Westbury, Wilts. is now in full possession of one of the most magnificent peals of eight bells in the country. The old six bells were re-cast and new metal added, so that, in addition to the two new trebles, the weight of the others have been increased, the tenor being now 35 cwt. The bells have been hung in an entirely new frame, and the whole work carried out at a cost of over £2,000 by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, with that characteristic excellence which has made them famous. With the exception of from £200 to £300 all the money required has been raised in the parish, a fact of which the good people of Westbury may be justifiably proud.

All the old inscriptions and ornamental bands which were on the original bells have been reproduced with an infinite amount of skill and care upon the re-cast bells and the Arms of the Earl of Marlborough and the Royal Arms which appear on the re-cast 7th are, if anything, more distinct than they were upon the old 5th bell. The heavy peal form a noble eight as they hang in their massive iron frames, which from their appearance are constructed to last as long as the tower stands, and the design and construction of all the various fittings down to the smallest detail assure the observer that nothing remains undone that could possibly lend itself to the placing of the peal in the most perfect ringing order. Those who had the pleasure of the first pull on the new bells were unanimous in their expressions of pleasure at the ease with which these heavy bells can now be rung.

There were nearly 200 ringers present on the occasion of the opening on October 29th, visitors coming from Bath, Bristol and various towers in the Salisbury Diocese; others came from Swindon, Slough, London, Dorchester, Swanage, Newport (Mon.), Sheffield, Devizes, Trowbridge and other towns in Wilts. Among well-known ringers were Mr. W. A. Cave (Bristol), Mr. King (Bath), Mr. E. Bishop (Swindon), Mr. J. Holman (Sheffield), Mr. J. W. Jones (Newport), Mr. J. Sykes (Huddersfield), Miss Edith Parker (London), Mr. W. H. Fussell (Slough), Miss Evelyn Moore (of Warminster), and others. Mr. S. J. Hector, of Trowbridge, acted as Ringing Master for the occasion.

The congregation that attended the dedication ceremony completely filled the church, and the service was very impressive.

The dedication was performed by the Archdeacon beneath the noble arch which supports the tower. Having given the salutation, 'Peace be to this house,' to which came the response, 'Alleluia,' the churchwardens requested the Archdeacon to 'dedicate to the honour and glory of God the bells now hung in the tower.' Taking the ropes the Archdeacon offered the customary dedicatory prayers, using the words, as he delivered the ropes to the Vicar, 'Receive these bells as a sacred trust, committed unto thee, as the appointed minister of Christ in this church and parish; and take heed that they be ever and only used in His service and for His honour.' Then, holding the ropes, the Vicar and his churchwardens kneeling, he pronounced the dedicatory prayer: 'In the faith of Jesus Christ we do solemnly set apart and separate these bells from all profane and unhallowed uses, and do now dedicate them to the glory of God and for the benefit of the Holy Church, in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.'

The Doxology was then sung, and the remaining prayers were offered by Archdeacon Carpenter—for the worshippers, for all that hear the bells, for the ringers, for the afflicted, for the departed.

After the exhortation, 'Sing we merrily unto God our strength,' and the response, 'Make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob,' the first open notes of the bells were heard, the effect in the church being as of the sound of a church organ, the mellow sounds of the trebles, intermingled with the rich booming notes of the deep-toned tenor, combining to produce an effect of indescribable grandeur. It was a solemn, and yet joyous, moment to the vast congregation.

Choir and people next joined in singing the hymn, 'In the House of God's own glory,' and following an address by the Archdeacon of Dorset, the service closed with 'Angel voices, ever singing,' and the Blessing.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday, November 5th, the members of the Rochdale Branch of the Lancashire Association held their monthly meeting at Glodwick, the towers represented being Glodwick, Middleton, Oldham, East Crompton, Milnrow, Todmorden Parish Church, Crossstones, New Hey, Miles Platting, Ashton Parish Church, Ashton St. Peter's, Pendleton and Hyde, and the number present being 31. Touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples, Kent Treble and Plain Bob were rung.

Mr. S. Stott presided over the usual business meeting which followed the ringing. It was unanimously decided that next month's meeting should take place at Whitworth, on December 3rd.

A delegate present from Oldham Parish Church tower intimated to the meeting that their bells were not at present in fit condition for ringing.

The meeting then concluded with a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar and the local ringers.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

There has been a boom in peals in recent weeks, and, swelled by the number rung on Remembrance Day, the reports of these performances have been so heavy in the past week that we are compelled to hold over a number of them.

We are informed that Oldham Parish Church bells a ring of twelve, with a tenor of 33 cwt., are so badly in need of the attention of a bell hanger that little or no ringing can be done on them.

The handbell peal rung by the Cambridge University Guild on Nov. 5th was conducted by Mr. E. M. Atkins.

The many ringing friends of Mr. Denison Hayward, the genial and popular tower master at Great Yarmouth, will extend their sympathy to him in the heavy bereavement which he has sustained by the death of his wife, who passed away on October 28th.

A young band—all under 21—and self-taught, are now regularly practising Grandsire Triples at the village of Ringwood, Hants. The bells are rung regularly twice on Sundays, and there is a weekly practice on Tuesday evenings. They only took up change ringing last year, and are heartily to be congratulated upon their quaided progress.

To-day is the centenary of the first peal of Treble Bob Triples, which was rung at St. Peter's, Huddersfield, on Nov. 25th, 1821, and last Wednesday was the centenary of a peal of 5,040 New Treble Bob Royal rung at Soham. One hundred and five years ago yesterday the first peal of Oxford Treble Bob Maximus was rung on handbells at Sheffield.

Next Sunday will be the anniversary of a peal of 6,204 Grandsire Cinques, rung in the year 1729, at Cornhill, by the London Scholars.

It is quite possible that there may soon be another twelve bell oasis in the desert of the counties of the south. Taunton, now a peal of ten, is to have two trebles added.

The peal of eight at All Saints', Hereford, which have just been restored, with a recast tenor, date from 1769, when they were cast by Thomas Rudhall, but an inventory of 1552 shows that there were eight bells and a sanctus bell in the tower, even at that distant date.

A big contract for the installation of electric clocks in the new London County Hall at Westminster is being carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnson, of Croydon. There are to be, in all, 700 dials.

THE LATE MR. R. J. WILKINS. MUFFLED RINGING AT BIRMINGHAM.

On Tuesday evening, November 8th, the twelve bells at St. Martin's Church, Birmingham, were muffled in memory of the late Mr. R. J. Wilkins, of Bristol, who was a respected member of St. Martin's Guild. The 'whole pull and stand' was rung 54 times (corresponding with deceased's age), followed by six-courses of Stedman Cinques in the inverted titums and handstroke home position: T. Russam 1, E. T. Allway 2, T. H. Reeves 3, G. F. Swann 4, P. O. Laffin 5, M. J. Morris 6, A. S. Norman 7, J. F. Smallwood 8, S. Mansell 9, J. George 10, A. Walker (conductor) 11, J. Neal 12.

DRONFIELD RINGERS DEAD.

YORKSHIRE TOWER LOSES TWO MEMBERS.

Dronfield, Yorks, has lost one of its veterans, in the person of Mr. Samuel Allen, who has passed away at the age of 82 years. He had been a ringer at Dronfield Parish Church for upwards of 62 years, and took part in many six-bell prize ringing contests all over the county. The deceased possessed a rich, deep bass voice, and had been a chorister at the church for upwards of 50 years.

The impressive funeral service was fully choral, and was largely attended, and the deceased was laid to rest under the shadow of the walls of the church he loved so well, and in which he gave the best of his talents.

Mr. Allen was a member of the Old East Derbyshire Association of Change Ringers, and by his geniality and kindness, together with his rare old stock of anecdotes of ringing and musical lore, always drew a large circle of friends around him.

After the interment, half-muffled touches were rung upon the bells. The following towers were represented: Ecclesfield, Norton, the Catfield, and All Saints', Sheffield.

The deceased was a prominent member of the R.A.O.B., and took an active part in the working of and introducing new lodges in and around the district in the early years of his life.

It is with regret we have also to record the death of Mr. Thomas Platts, of Dronfield, who has died at the age of 55 years. He has been a ringer at Dronfield Parish Church for close upon 35 years, and was also verger for a number of years.

HARLOW COMMON, ESSEX.—On Sunday morning, Nov. 6th, 336 Double Norwich, and for evensong, 1,152 Kent Treble Bob Major: W. Tipton 1, T. Hard 2, V. Tipton 3, G. Dent 4, H. Smale 5, S. Clarke 6, J. Cordell 7, Wm. Wheeler (conductor) 8.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS' DINNER.

PROPOSED PEAL OF 12 FOR ST. MAGNUS.

In proposing the toast of 'London and Provincial Ringing Societies,' Mr. C. H. Horton (vice-chairman) said the coming together on such an occasion of so many representatives of societies from different parts of the country helped in many ways to advance the cause of change ringing. The College Youths had their annual dinner in London; the St. Martin's Guild held the Johnson Commemoration dinner every year in Birmingham, and he would suggest that one of the other provincial societies should institute another such gathering to make a triangular affair of it—perhaps it could be done somewhere in the west. He believed it would knit together even more strongly the interests of ringers and ringing, for amongst the majority of ringers there was a spirit of brotherhood, and it was brotherhood that counted. The College Youths always did their best to make visitors welcome in that city (hear, hear). They welcomed there that night members of the following, among other societies: Gloucester and Bristol, Midland Counties, Essex, Herls, Kent, Surrey, Middlesex, Oxford Guild, Salisbury Guild, Royal Cumberlands and London County. He coupled with the toast the name of Mr. A. B. Bennett, of the Royal Cumberlands, well known to many ringers of past days, and the Rev. F. L. Edwards, hon. secretary of the Salisbury Guild, who had done yeoman service for the church, and ringers generally (applause).

Mr. A. B. Bennett responded for the London Societies, and expressed the pleasure which it gave the members to take part in that enjoyable reunion to talk over old times with old friends, and to make new friends. He asked the College Youths to accept their thanks, and wished them continued prosperity.

The Rev. F. L. Edwards replied, in a racy speech, for the Provincial societies, and emphasised the spirit of brotherhood, referred to by the proposer, which was always shown by the College Youths to provincial ringers when visiting London. Country visitors always received a hearty welcome in the towers, and it was noticeable how the College Youths accommodated their methods to the rudimentary capacities of the country men.

'THE VISITORS.'

Mr. W. D. Smith submitted 'The Visitors,' and remarked that the gathering was one of the most representative he had attended in connection with the College Youths. It showed that the society was appreciated. He expressed the thanks of the society for the support given to them, and he thanked the London rectors for permitting them to ring at their respective towers, which enabled them to continue in their endeavours to advance the art of change ringing.

It was at this stage that Mr. Carter's ringing machine was publicly shown, and after the course of Stedman Cinques, the Master thanked Mr. Carter, to whom, he said, every honour was due for the marvellous patience and ingenuity he had shown in the construction of the machine. It was a compliment to the society that the machine should make its first public appearance at their gathering (applause).

The Rev. H. J. Pynes-Clinton (Rector of St. Magnus) responded to the toast of 'The Visitors' in an interesting and humorous speech, in the course of which he stated, amid applause, that he hoped some day they would be able to increase the present peal of ten bells at St. Magnus to twelve, as there was room for two more. He had, he said, a great love for our English bells, and he owed a great debt of gratitude to the Ancient Society of College Youths, because they were the first people to welcome him when he came to his new parish. Continuing, the speaker said he was a great believer in the historical traditions of ringing, and the use of the bells. At St. Magnus he had revived two ancient usages, for what he considered the main purpose of bells, viz., the advance of the cause of the church. Bells were not merely for their pleasure; they were to remind them of higher things, and he did not think any man of due sensibility could hear the bells in the ancient towers speaking of the services of God, which were going on inside the churches, without having their thoughts raised a little bit towards things which were above. They of the clergy ought to realise, perhaps more than they sometimes did, the great and valuable part that the ringers played in the services of the church. The revival of which he had spoken at St. Magnus was the revival of the Angel bell (or Angelus), at a quarter to eight, at mid-day and at half-past six. The Angelus dated back to the eleventh or twelfth century, and was rung three times a day as a memorial of the Incarnation. He had had at least one message that that bell was helpful. Nurses at Guy's Hospital had told him that when they heard the bell across the river it did serve as a reminder to them of the spiritual side of their work. The other revival was the ringing of the Sanctus bell at the consecration prayer in the High Eucharist, as a call to those who were not amongst them to raise their hearts and offer a prayer in union with those in the church.

BELLS AND THE PRESS.

Mr E. A. Young proposed 'The Press,' remarking that there was a real link between the bells and the Press, for in the old days when there were no newspapers it was to the bells that the people looked for the announcement of news of great importance. Ringers were interested in the toast in that they had a paper of their own. It was a great asset to have such a paper, run in their own interests, and although they might sometimes feel they had a little grievance if their performances did not appear when they had done something which they thought merited it, they had to recollect the difficulties which often confronted the journal.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith responded to the toast. The aim of 'The Ringing World,' he said, was to do the best for the greatest number, and if some were occasionally disappointed because their special touch or paragraph did not appear it was not because there was any intention of keeping it out, but because there was not the room. It was not possible to put 24 pages of matter into 16, and it was inevitable that when, as was often the case, there was far more material than there was space available, something had to go 'overboard.' The Editor had to do just the best he could, and while he was sorry for those who were disappointed, he asked them to believe that that disappointment was unavoidable.

A most interesting musical programme was then carried out, opened by Mr. Percy Cave with a pianoforte selection. Messrs. A. C. Hardy, C. Fenn, T. Faulkner and R. Fenn next gave an exhibition of London Surprise on handbells, and almost completed a course, which was loudly applauded. Excellent songs and a duet were contributed by Messrs. H. Castell (who was also the accompanist), and W. C. Dowding, but the most delightful and novel item in the programme was the handbell solos given by Mrs. A. A. Hughes, who was loudly encored for her charming rendering of 'Ashore' and 'Little Grey Home in the West.' This was Mrs. Hughes' first appearance at a ringers' gathering, although she has performed at other entertainments previously, and her extremely clever manipulation of the bells, coupled with the artistic rendering of the solos, was quite a feature of the evening's entertainment.

After the toast of 'The Artistes,' submitted by Mr. T. Faulkner, the enjoyable proceedings concluded with 'Auld Lang Syne.'

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

A highly successful meeting was held on Saturday, Nov. 19th, at St. Margaret's Church, Stoke Golding. A goodly number of ringers from the Nuneaton District were present. Grandsire was first rung, one very young enthusiast having to be accommodated with a couple of boxes in order to get near enough to the beloved sallie. Next came St. Clement's and Kingston Treble Bob, and London Surprise and Grandsire followed. Then the ringers attended service, conducted by the Vicar, the surpliced choir assisting. The ringers' hymn, 'Set between the earth and heaven,' was sung after the first lesson, followed by the Magnificat. After the Collects and prayer for ringers, 'Faith of our Fathers' was sung, and the service concluded with the Nunc Dimittis.

Tracks were then made for the Schoolroom, where a good tea was waiting. Afterwards the Vicar, who was elected an honorary member of the Guild, welcomed the ringers to the parish, and said he hoped to do so again on some future occasion.—Hearty thanks were accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for the service, also to the choir for their attendance.

The tower was then again visited, and London, Beverley, Cambridge, Chester and Norbury were all brought round, thus concluding a very happy day.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Bedford District was held at Milton-Ernest on Saturday, November 12th. Ringing commenced at 2.30, and a service was held, at which an excellent address was given by the Vicar (the Rev. E. L. Holmes). At tea, which was served in the School, 30 members were present. The Vicar presided at the business meeting, supported by Miss E. Steel (vice-president), Mr. F. Payne, of Keitering, and members from Sharnbrook, Harrold, Thurlough, Riseley, Clapham, Elstow, Bedford, and the local company.

The District Secretary referred to the sad loss to the Elstow company and to the association by the death of Miss S. Smith, and a vote of condolence was passed, by all standing. Although Miss Smith had only rung one peal, she was a very keen ringer, and her loss will be sadly felt by all her ringing friends.

The Secretary's report was passed, and the committee were re-elected en bloc. The secretary, although he gave notice to resign, was asked to take on the duties for another year, and consented to do so.—It was proposed to hold the next meeting at Bromham, of which notice will be given in 'The Ringing World.'—The Vicar was elected an hon. member.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, for his address, and for his kindness in providing tea, to which he responded.

A course of Grandsire Caters on handbells by H. L. Harlow 1—2, W. Stapleton 3—4, C. W. Clarke 5—6, F. Webb 7—8, E. White 9—10, brought the meeting to a close. The methods rung in the tower ranged from Grandsire Doubles to London Surprise Minor.

HEREFORD GUILD'S WAR MEMORIAL.ALL SAINTS' BELLS RESTORED.

The Bishop of Hereford, on the eve of All Saints' Day, dedicated the recast tenor bell at All Saints' Church, Hereford, and once more, after fifty years of silence, this peal of bells, now rehung in a new frame, rang out again. The recasting of the bell was the proposal of Mr. C. Edwards, one of the joint secretaries of the Hereford Diocesan Guild, and was undertaken by the Guild as a memorial to its 57 fallen members. The tenor is 17 cwt. 2 qrs. 19 lbs., and is inscribed, on one side:—

To the glory of God and in memory of the ringers of the Diocese, who fell in the Great War, 1914-1918. This bell was re-cast by the Herefordshire Diocesan Guild of Bellringers, 1921: A. G. M. Rushton, Vicar; S. Searle, H. R. Rogers, Churchwardens.

On the other side of the bell is reproduced the old inscription:—
I to the Church the living call
And to the grave do summon all.
Stephen Sandford, Esq., Mayor, 1769.

The work was carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and has given the greatest satisfaction, the firm's work having drawn the warmest praise from the large number of ringers who assembled in the ancient city for the opening ceremony.

The dedication service was one that will live long in the memory of the parishioners of All Saints. The Bishop, in his robes, the choir and clergy, preceded by the thurifer scattering incense, walked in procession to the steps of the belfry, where his Lordship solemnly dedicated the tenor bell to the memory of the 57 fallen ringers, and offered up prayers for the repose of their souls. At the conclusion the buglers sounded 'The Last Post' and 'The Reveille.'

The lessons were read by the Dean of Hereford (the Very Rev. R. Waterfield), and the Bishop preached an impressive sermon upon the uses of bells.

On the following day there was Solemn Evensong, attended by members of the Guild. The Rev. J. H. Roberts officiated, the lessons being read by the Vicar (the Rev. A. G. M. Rushton) and the Rev. G. W. Turner (Vicar of Madley).

The preacher was the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxford Guild). The sermon was based on the three opening verses of the 40th Psalm, in which he found a parable which crystallised in metaphor the story of the re-cast tenor bell. The bell, he added, was now a bell of remembrance, a monument to those who had laid down their lives for God and their fellow-men. It was fitting that the dedication should have been on All Saints' Day, for that was a day which tugged at every heart, and more so than ever now because of the remembrance of those last seven years. Could they ever forget those early days in 1914 when those to whose memory the bell was re-cast, set out on that great adventure, which was to win peace and liberty? So was it with the Christian life itself. Their profession, their faith, was a great, a splendid adventure.

After the service the Office of the Dead was sung by the Rev. F. G. Russell.

There was a large gathering of ringers at tea at St. Peter's Church House, over 150 sitting down, under the presidency of the Dean of Hereford. Among those present were the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Rev. G. W. Turner, Madley (Secretary, Hereford Diocesan Guild), the Rev. A. C. M. Rushton (Vicar of All Saints), Rev. J. R. Roberts, Rev. A. Middleton (Allensmore), Rev. F. E. Russell, Mr. C. Edwards, Great Brampton (Joint Secretary, Diocesan Guild), Mr. R. Knowles (Worcester), Mr. E. Jenkins (Norwich), Mr. A. A. Hughes (head of the firm of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, London), Mr. J. H. Shepherd (Swindon), Mr. J. G. Buchanan (Master of the Diocesan Guild), Mr. G. H. Phillot (Obeltenham), Mr. S. Searle and Mr. H. R. Rogers, jun. (churchwardens), Mr. J. W. Jones (Newport), Mr. W. Mead (Clun), Mr. W. H. Fussell (Slough), and many others.

After tea the Chairman complimented Hereford upon its bells, and congratulated the Vicar of All Saints upon the very happy festival which they were this year celebrating. No one could have been present at the dedication service the previous night without being impressed by its extreme beauty. The bell ringers of the diocese could not possibly have chosen a better way to commemorate the fallen bell ringers than by re-casting the tenor bell and refitting it so that with the other bells the peal might be rung again as it had been in the days of their forefathers (applause).

The Vicar welcomed the Guild, and spoke in gratitude and appreciation of the work done by Mr. C. Edwards in connection with the memorial.

Mr. Edwards, in reply, said it was a matter of great regret to him, after a 23 years' absence from his native Hereford, to come back and find the peal still out of order, the tenor bell still cracked. When the question of commemoration of the fallen diocesan bell ringers was raised the idea came to him, he felt almost as an inspiration, that it might be possible to have it re-cast. It had been possible. He did not attempt to minimise the task, or the anxiety which the re-casting had been to the bell founders, but all had ended well. His difficulty in getting a full list of names was very great. He was afraid it was not yet complete. He believed that if the parishes would only respond and give accurate returns that it would be found there were 66. He hoped that a full list for permanent record would soon be possible.

Congratulations were also extended by the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Mr. J. G. Buchanan and Mr. G. H. Phillot.

Much ringing was organised in the diocese during the week, and the visitors spent a very happy time.

A CUMBERLAND'S GOLDEN WEDDING.PEALS, HOSPITALITY, AND PRESENTATIONS.

Should there be any members of the Exercise (of either sex) who still believe in the old adage that 'ringers and singers are no home-bringers' they would be well advised to ask the opinion of Mrs. Benjamin Foskett in the matter. For certainly her good man, 'Old Ben,' brought a goodly number home to No. 1, Olive Road, Cricklewood, on Saturday, November 12th. And should 'Old Ben' by any chance fall in with the suggestion of one of the party to make it an 'annual,' no doubt his good lady will look forward to seeing her beloved taking part in long peals once again in preference.

However, the occasion was a memorable one, even for the proverbial long-lived ringer. For had not Mr. and Mrs. Foskett outlived the trials of 50 years of married life? And was there one of the party who did not hope that, should it be his good fortune to recall such a landmark in this 'vale of tears,' he would at least be as happy, contented, and comfortable as this worthy old couple?

To the younger generation of ringers Mr. Foskett's name may not be so well known, but to those of us who can hark back (dare we say it?) round about 30 years his name is well known as one who has done much to further the Exercise. His proudest performance was his share in the 13,440 of Double Norwich at Romford in 1894, and in the few years preceding and following this he took part, with the late George Newson and Henry Dains, in a goodly number of peals for the Royal Cumberlands. But there are two sides to every story, and this long peal was no exception to the rule. One wonders what his feelings were at Brentwood, some six weeks before the peal was successfully rung, when the treble rope came down on his head after ringing 13,072 changes in 8 hrs. 16 mins., the actual time taken to ring the peal at the next attempt! All this, of course, is ancient history to the 'old uns,' but it may serve as a reminder to the younger generation that perseverance is as necessary in ringing as in anything else.

The peals rung to mark this historic golden wedding have already appeared in their proper place. Following the peals at Highgate and Willesden on the Saturday, the respective bands assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Foskett to partake of their hospitality. The number of good things provided, it need hardly be said, were done ample justice to. Following the toast of 'The King and Royal Family,' Mr. Foskett welcomed his friends in a few words of kindly advice and reminiscence. He was pleased to see that the company included not only members of his own society, but of the Middlesex, London County, and College Youths.

The toast of the evening, 'Mr. and Mrs. Foskett,' was proposed by the Master of the Society, of which Mr. Foskett has for so long been a worthy member and office-holder, whilst Mr. W. Pye also added a few words of good wishes. Then followed song and jest, interspersed with a course of Stedman Cinques, a course of Double Norwich, three leads of Treble Twelve, and a touch of Stedman Caters.

At an appropriate interval a pleasant little surprise was sprung upon the worthy couple by Mr. J. D. Matthews, on behalf of the ringers at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields. It was his pleasure and privilege, he said, to ask Mr. and Mrs. Foskett to accept some small token of the goodwill of his fellow Sunday ringers. The speaker recalled the fact that during the dark days of the war, when ringers had a difficulty in keeping things going, he had no more loyal supporter than Mr. Foskett, who, despite his age, was regularly in his place on Sunday morning, rain or shine. Mr. Matthews then pinned on his old friend's tie a gold pin, with a bell in relief, and Mrs. Foskett received a gold brooch to match.

Mr. Foskett tendered his thanks on behalf of himself and wife, and said how much they would value the small tokens they had just received. He hoped for a long time yet to be regular in his Sunday ringing, but reminded his hearers that years were beginning to tell.

And to prove it he had rung a peal of Stedman Cinques before 48 hours had expired!

To the Misses Foskett and friends the best thanks of the party are due for all they did for their comfort. With such daughters one need have no misgivings as to the welfare and comfort of 'Old Ben' and 'Mrs. Ben' in the evening of their days. Long life and good luck to them—one and all!

HALF MUFFLING BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I should be glad for any of your readers' opinions as to which is the correct way of half muffling bells. Should they be muffled on hand-stroke or back-stroke? We always muffle the back-stroke, but on visiting a neighbouring tower just recently on the occasion of war memorial dedication we found the bells muffled on the hand-stroke, and it led to a discussion as to which is the proper way. Perhaps someone will give an explanation?—Yours truly,

JAMES SMITH, Hon. Sec., Horbury Branch, Y.A.C.R.

VETERAN BLACK COUNTRY RINGER.MR. ROCK SMALL'S 82nd BIRTHDAY.

On Saturday, November 12th, Mr. William Rock Small, the well-known, popular and respected octogenarian Black Country bell ringer, celebrated his 82nd birthday, and in honour of the event the bells of several church towers in the Archdeaconry of Stafford rang out 'birthday greetings.'

At Wednesbury, the place where Mr. Small first saw light, in the year 1839, and where he rang his first peal—Treble Bob Royal—in the year 1866, the Parish Church bells were rung by the 'senior' band to the tune of Stedman Caters (many of the company having rung peals with Mr. Small over 33 years ago), and were successful in scoring a good peal in 3 hours and 47 minutes. Whilst the 'seniors' were ringing at Mr. Small's native place, some 'juniors' and one of the 'stalwarts' were attempting a peal of Stedman Triples ('Rock's' favourite method) at the 'Pepper Box,' Tipton Parish Church, where Mr. Small attends Divine service when he is fit and weather permitting, but, unfortunately, after ringing nearly an hour, the attempt came to grief owing to too many being in the 'slow' at one time. The band was: J. Pemberton, W. A. Cooper, Abe Greenfield, S. Baker, W. Fisher (conductor), Jesse Screen, T. Cattell, and Reuben Hall, the last-named having taken part in peals with Mr. Small 40 years ago. Unfortunately, Mr. Small was, for the first time in his career, unable to take part in either of the birthday peals, owing to his legs not being able to stand the strain of three hours. Neither was he able to get over to either the Wednesbury or the Tipton functions, to which Mr. Small always invites his colleagues when his birthday celebrations are in progress.

The Tipton contingent were entertained at the Britannia Hotel, Church Lane, the witty and good-humoured Mr. John Jagger joining the party, together with Mr. Alf. Rowley, the Tipton tower-keeper, who acted as chairman. After drinking the health of Mr. Small the party spent the remainder of the evening in handbell ringing.

The Wednesbury 'boys,' together with three ladies (Mrs. J. E. Groves, Mrs. Ben Gough and Mrs. Bert Horton), were entertained to a hot dinner at the ringers' coffee-pot, 'The Three Tuns' Hotel. Afterwards Mr. James George, who should have taken part in the peal, but was unfortunately late, was voted to the chair, he being the senior of the party. In proposing the health of Mr. Small, he congratulated him on attaining his 82nd birthday, and said how sorry he was that Mr. Small was not able to be with them. He hoped, however, that Mr. Small would live for many years to come, and that he would be able to take part in the pastime he loved so much.

Messrs. Herbert Knight, Ben Gough, J. E. Groves and Bert Horton also spoke in honour of the veteran ringer, and said how they appreciated Mr. Small, who had helped to put bell ringing on its proper basis and to advance belfry reform.

Mrs. Groves, on behalf of the ladies present, and on behalf of the Ladies' Guild, also spoke, and said that she hoped Mr. Small would be able to take part in many more birthday celebrations.

At the request of the gathering Mr. Ben Gough undertook to convey the congratulations and best wishes of the ringers to Mr. Small.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A successful meeting of the North and East District was held at St. Giles'-in-the-Fields, on Saturday, November 5th. Quite a large number of members put in an appearance during the afternoon and evening, and it was good to see an old friend, Mr. James Hunt, now of Taunton, amongst the company.

Ringings commenced at 3 p.m., and at 5 p.m. a short service was held, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. W. H. Davies), who prefaced an instructive sermon with a hearty welcome to the association. Tea was served in the Church House, the members being the guests of the Rector and the local ringers, who were heartily thanked for their kindness. The former, unfortunately, had to leave before the business meeting, but before departing he addressed a few words of thanks to the members for the help given by the association to his own ringers, and expressed a hope that all had enjoyed the meeting.

At the subsequent business meeting, the chair was taken by the President (Mr. A. T. King, I.S.O.), who proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to all who had contributed towards the success of the gathering, especially to those who had been good enough to provide such an excellent tea as they had just enjoyed.

The Hon. Secretary produced a number of Central Council publications which he had for sale, and disposed of several.

A large party afterwards visited St. Andrew's Church, Wells Street, under the guidance of the genial towerkeeper, Mr. H. Dyas, and several touches were rung on the very fine peal of bells. A further visit was paid to the tower of St. Giles'-in-the-Fields where ringing was continued until 9 p.m.; amongst the methods rung at both churches being touches or courses of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Cambridge, and Superlative Surprise.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday afternoon, 5th November, six members of the Ely Diocesan Association spent an enjoyable time at Litlington, Cambs., a small village near Royston. The ringers met with the intention of attempting a peal of the bells of the Parish Church, which were augmented from five to six last February. The Vicar (the Rev. L. G. Edwards) met the ringers at the church, and insisted that they should adjourn to the Vicarage and have tea before starting for the peal. Upon arrival at the Vicarage they were welcomed by Mrs. Edwards, who had a splendid repast awaiting them. After partaking of the good things provided, the ringers returned to the tower, and an attempt was then made for the peal, but after ringing 720 Oxford Bob and nearly 720 Cambridge Surprise the peal came to grief.

A further attempt was not made but touches of Woodbine, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Oxford Bob and Plain Bob were rung, and then the Vicar appeared again and invited the ringers to meet the local men at the Vicarage and have some more tea. After this, some of the local ringers were put through their first plain course of Bob Minor, and then a 720 of Cambridge Surprise was rung by: S. Reed (Melbourn) 1, E. G. Hibbins, conductor (Cambridge) 2, A. E. Austin (Stapleford) 3, C. Gouldtborpe (Melbourn) 4, F. Harper (Melbourn) 5, S. E. Roberts (Royston) 6.

The bells are a light peal, tenor $7\frac{1}{2}$ cwt. in A flat, and go excellently. The ringers wish to place on record their appreciation of the kindness of the Vicar and Mrs. Edwards in making them so welcome.

REMEMBRANCE DAY.

WINDSOR.—At the Parish Church, on Remembrance Day, Nov. 11th, 1,260 Grandire Triples, half-muffled, in 52 mins.: J. W. Crofts 1, W. F. Cross 2, H. F. Hunt 3, T. Smith 4, A. J. Harman 5, C. Farr 6, L. Stilwell (conductor) 7, J. H. Cropley 8. The above are all Sunday Service ringers.

ANSTEY, LEICESTERSHIRE.—On Saturday, Nov. 12th, at St. Mary's Church, after an unsuccessful attempt for a peal, 518 Grandire Triples from Holt's Ten-part: G. H. Dexter 1, A. Ballard 2, R. Barrow 3, L. Jackson 4, A. Cattell 5, J. Morriss 6, R. F. Elkington (conductor) 7, A. Cufflin 8. Rung in honour of the Armistice, with bells half-muffled.

WYKE REGIS, WEYMOUTH.—At All Saints' Church, on Remembrance Day, 720 Bob Minor, rung on the middle six, treble leading, tenor covering: A. Hatcher 1, *J. Gray 2, *A. Muntz 3, L. W. SUNDAY RINGERS' MEETINGS.

A new and interesting departure has been made by the Southern Branch of the Worcestershire Association, by the holding of a Sunday meeting for Sunday service ringers. The proceedings can certainly be counted an entire success. Ringing during the afternoon was followed by a tea and further touches on the bells before evening service, which was attended by the ringers, and which included such features as the use of the association's special form of service, an appropriate address, delivered, of course, not only to the ringers, but to a general congregation, and a short handbell recital. The meeting was held at Bredons Norton at the instigation of the curate-in-charge (the Rev. F. C. Champion), who is himself a ringer. So successful was the gathering that, we are informed, similar meetings are likely to be arranged in other parts of the county, and the experiment will doubtless be watched with interest. Indeed, we think it likely that it may be readily copied by many other associations, for there are points about it which open up new possibilities.

The majority of the ordinary meetings of associations are held on Saturdays, and there are generally a number of members regularly prevented by business from attending and sharing the pleasure which is obtained from these gatherings. Sunday Service meetings would remove the handicap under which these ringers are placed. Beyond this, special features of the service can be made to bring the ringers' work very prominently before the congregation of the church where the meeting is held, as in the case at Bredons Norton. The services at the ordinary meetings are seldom attended by any but the ringers themselves, and the sermons preached—dare we say it?—do not often contain anything that is new. Indeed, if truth be told, ringers sometimes get just a little tired of hearing the oft-repeated story of the bells. When, however, the history, the uses, and the message of the bells can be delivered to the wider congregation present at an ordinary service, the value of the sermon may be infinitely greater, in that it may serve to extend public knowledge of what the science of ringing and the ringers' work consist. In this way useful results may follow from this new departure.

At the same time we venture to utter just a word of warning. Excellent as these gatherings are likely to be, it must not be forgotten that the ringer's Sunday duty is to his own church, and this duty ought not to be neglected without adequate arrangements having been made to see that the service ringing is properly maintained. This means that whole bands ought not to desert their towers together,

It would be quite possible for members to go in turn to these meetings, leaving at home a sufficient number to ensure that the bells are efficiently rung. Upon another point, too, consideration must be exercised, and that is to avoid, as far as possible, involving others in Sunday labour to provide teas, etc. If these two matters are borne in mind, the general institution of Sunday meetings for service ringers might result in considerably extending interest in the art.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A successful meeting of the Northern Division was held at Hitchin, on Saturday, November 19th. Ringers assembled from Baldock, Barnet, Bedford, Cambridge, Dunstable, Gravley, Luton, Little Munden, Newmarket, Royston, Stevenage, Wallington, Wymondley, and the local band. The ringing began with Stedman Triples, which was followed by various other methods. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. L. B. Ashby), who gave an address on 'the bells and their message.'

Tea at the Grange, was followed by business meeting, over which the Vicar presided. After some discussion it was decided to hold the next meeting at Baldock in February, and one at Offley in the summer.

Hearty thanks to the Vicar for his excellent address, for the use of the bells, and for presiding, to the ladies who undertook the catering, and to Miss A. M. Durrant for presiding at the instrument in church, terminated the meeting.

Ringings on the tower bells afterwards, ranged from Plain Bob to Superlative.

LADIES' GUILD.CHANGE OF MIDLAND SECTION SECRETARY.

The quarterly meeting of the Ladies' Guild (Midland Section) was held on October 29th, at Smethwick. The visitors, though small in numbers, came from Bilston, Solihull, Handsworth, Erdington, and, of course, included the local company. The bells were rung before the service, Grandsire and Stedman being the methods. The service was conducted by the Rev. Stanley Astbury, son of Canon Astbury, M.A., Vicar, and the Guild form was used. The rev. gentleman gave an interesting address.

After service the ringers and friends adjourned to the Schools, where a good tea was provided by the local company. After justice had been done to the repast, the usual business meeting was held, Miss S. Pigott being voted to the chair.

The elections of district officers took place. The secretary (Miss Salter) retired from the position, and the meeting elected Mrs. J. E. Groves, of 43, Malvern Road, Handsworth, to fill the vacancy, and members are requested kindly to note this change.

The place of the next quarterly meeting will be at Willenhall, the date to be arranged later.

Further ringing took place afterwards.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.NORTHERN DISTRICT'S SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

On Saturday, November 26th, despite the fog, the Northern District of the London County Association held a very enjoyable meeting at St. Mary Matfelon Church, Whitechapel. Touches of Stedman, Grandsire and Kent Treble Bob were rung before the short service, which was conducted by the Rector, who afterwards explained some of the remarkable work in his church. This thoroughly interested all present.

Tea followed, some 25 members enjoying a very substantial repast, admirably arranged and provided by the Rector. A good touch of Stedman Caters on handbells by Messrs. T. H. Taffender, A. D. Barker, W. H. Judd, W. Taffender and W. Chapple, was perfectly rung and appreciated.

The business meeting followed. Three new members were made, including the Rector (the Rev. Mayo), who was elected a hon. member, amidst much applause.—The Rector replying, said that whilst he was sure he would never be able to master the art of change ringing he had one consolation, and that was that he could listen to the bells with anybody, and was never more happy than when his own bells were being rung.

Mrs. C. Ebberson, wife of a very well known member, Mr. Cecil Ebberson, was elected a ringing member, and hearty congratulations were extended to her, and it is hoped she will favour the association with her presence at future meetings.

Mr. P. Norton, of Willesden, was appointed to audit the district's books, and a vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. E. A. Young (who unfortunately had to leave the meeting early) for his presentation on behalf of the district, to the Rector, of a drawing of the old church at Whitechapel, thus fulfilling his promise of twelve months' standing. The drawing was much admired, and the Rector stated that he would place it in a prominent part of the church.

The Master announced the date and place of next meeting, at which it is hoped to be able to put on a good musical entertainment in the evening. Particulars will be published in the usual way, and it is earnestly requested that all northern members will book January 21st for Bishopsgate.

Hearty votes of thanks were accorded to the Rector, steeplekeeper, and all who helped to make the members comfortable. Thanks are also due to Mr. J. Raynor, who thoughtfully brought his fine set of bells, and Mr. Riley for bringing his. Touches of Kent, Cambridge and Stedman brought a most enjoyable and successful meeting to a close.

Mr. G. R. Fardon, who has been elected Master of the College Youths for the ensuing year, is a native of Bourton-on-the-Hill, Gloucestershire, where he learned to pull a bell at the early age of eight years. His connection with ringing in London dates from 1895, when he joined St. Luke's Society, Chelsea, of which he was Master in 1897 and 1898. He was elected Master of the St. James' Society (now London County Association), in 1907, and filled the office for several terms. He has also represented that Society on the Central Council.

During the winter, 1899-1900, the bells of Norbury, Cheshire, were rebung by William Greenleaf, of Hereford, and on a board in the belfry commemorating this, there is recorded a seven method peal rung on November 10th, 1900, which was the first peal in that number of methods for the Stockport branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild. Now, 21 years later, there has been rung a peal in twenty-four methods, the first of its kind, for it comprises a greater number of methods than ever before spliced into seven complete 720's.

We are told that a trophy of some value and historical interest may be won by any ringer with sufficient energy and ability to pilot the Manchester Town Hall tenor through a 5,000.

The prize consists of a U.S. dollar note, No. D. 88062388 A., formerly the property of Mr. Richard Newton, now of Boston, U.S.A. It is at present in the hands of another 'Dick.'

The present holder stipulates that the peal must be Royal or Major. So roll up, strong men of London, Birmingham, and elsewhere! The Town Hall tenor is a somewhat formidable bell, weighing 52 cwts., but goes quite well, and the tower is available for a peal attempt almost any Saturday.

The Towers and Belfries Committee of the Central Council and the Society for the Preservation of Ancient Buildings have at length got into real contact with one another. This is a very happy step, and should lead to a better understanding of the different points of view which are held on the respective sides. We understand that a joint statement may shortly be issued.

At the little village of Bodiam, Sussex, is a ring of five bells hung in 1761, and the first peal has just been rung on them by a band from Salehurst. The event created quite a stir, and Mr. A. Elsom, for 27 years churchwarden, and most of the local ringers, were present to witness the peal which is practically the first change ringing on the bells. They were all greatly interested.

Next Sunday will be the 110th anniversary of the first peal of Oxford Treble Bob Royal rung on handbells. It was achieved at Sheffield on December 3rd, 1811, by ringers who on October 30th in the same year had scored the first peal of Oxford Treble Eight, with, of course, an additional man.

December 4th is an interesting anniversary to the College Youths, for it was on that day in 1803 that they rang their first peal of Stedman Triples. This was at St. Mary Abbot's, Kensington.

In the year 1731, on December 6th, a peal of Stedman Triples was rung at St. Michael's, Coslany, Norwich. It was composed and conducted by Edward Crane, and from the ancient records appears to have caused a lot of feeling with the rival company at St. Peter Mancroft.

Henry Johnson's 'five ones' of Stedman Caters (11,111 changes), the longest length in the method at the time, was rung by the College Youths at Fulham on December 8th, 1883, in 7 hrs. 12 mins. It was conducted by James Pettit.

The ten thousand of Grandsire Caters rung at Appleton on November 19th is specially interesting, from the fact that the conductor (Mr. G. Holifield, senr.), took part 33 years ago in the 15,041 Stedman Caters (the record at that date) rung on the same bells.

The reference made a fortnight ago in our columns to the proposal, abandoned on account of the war, for a Charles Henry Hattersley memorial dinner at Sheffield, brings from a Yorkshire worthy the information that it is the intention of the Hattersley Memorial Committee to honour the late G.O.M. of the Exercise when charges are not so exorbitant, and the trade of the city is more flourishing.

We have seen a very artistic muster roll designed and executed by one of the young ringers at All Saints', Ilkley, upon which the record of attendances for 1922 is to be kept. Patience and skill mark the penmanship of the draughtsman, and keen interest is manifest among the young band, several of whom are still in their teens.

The ringer of the 9th in the peal at Shoreditch, on November 14th, was William (not Ernest) Bottrill.

Peals have been rung by bands of Freemasons, Oddfellows, Foresters, and other societies, and there is now a movement on foot to attempt a peal by members of the Ancient Order of Druids. The difficulty at the moment is to make up the band, and ringing members of the society are asked to communicate with Mr. W. Farley, City Saw Mills, Wells.

SUNDAY SERVICE RINGERS' MEETING.WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION'S INTERESTING DEPARTURE.

One of the first meetings of its kind ever held in connection with the Worcestershire Association took place on Sunday afternoon and evening, on November 20th, at Bredons Norton Church, which is situated on the side of Bredon Hill, and in the extreme west of the Southern Branch. This was a Sunday Service Ringers' meeting, and was arranged at the instigation of the Rev. F. C. Champion, curate-in-charge of Bredons Norton Church.

Soon after 3 p.m. ringers began to assemble, and soon the beautiful peal of bells were set going to various standard methods, and eventually upwards of 25 ringers were present. At 4.30 p.m. they were invited to tea in the Schoolroom, provided by the Rev. F. C. and Mrs. Champion, who were assisted by several willing lady helpers, and the ringers showed their appreciation by heartily thanking Mr. and Mrs. Champion for their generosity and thoughtfulness. The bells were then set going for evening service, at which the church was filled. The association form of service was used, and the Rev. F. C. Champion officiated. He took for his text, Exodus xxviii. 35, 'And the sound (of the bell) shall be heard when he goeth in unto the holy place before the Lord.' The preacher gave an eloquent and interesting address on bells, their history, and use. He quoted the inscriptions on various peals of bells, and pointed out to his hearers the patience and concentration of brain power, which were necessary to become proficient in the art of change ringing.

An uncommon feature of the service was a short handbell recital given at the conclusion of the address by some of the ringers. This included a course of Grandsire Triples, and the hymn, 'Come ye faithful, raise the anthem,' etc.

Both the Rev. F. C. Champion and the ringers were congratulated upon the unique service, and it is anticipated that similar services will be held in other parts of the county.

Unfortunately for the Worcestershire Association, the Rev. F. C. Champion is shortly leaving for the North Cotswolds, but he will take with him the best wishes of all members of the Southern Branch.

'SIMPSON' TUNING.To the Editor.

Sir,—As no one has replied at present to Mr. Jerram's protest against Simpson tuning, perhaps I may be allowed, as one living within 100 yards of a Simpson tuned ring in constant use, to say a few words in defence of the system. One advantage it possesses over the old method of tuning is that it is possible to get a better effect from lighter bells. For example, the tenor bell of our ring here, which weighs 7½ cwt., is a far more dignified bell than the tenor, say, of St. Andrew's, Cambridge, which is about 11 cwt.

For all light bells of about 5 cwt. and under, I regard it as incontrovertible that the Simpson method is vastly superior, for the reason that the harmonics, especially the hum notes of these bells, are very aggressive, and it is, therefore, of the utmost importance that they should be in tune with the dominant note of the bell. It is generally impossible to tell the note of school and factory bells weighing up to 2 cwt.; bells of this weight, however, tuned on the Simpson principle give a clear and definite note.

Most of the peals I have rung on up to the present have been on Simpson tuned bells, and I can assure Mr. Jerram always with pleasure, as far as the sound was concerned. Yes, in ringing on heavy bells (not on light rings), I have distinguished a kind of noise which might be likened to howling, when I have listened for it; it has never bothered me. But what about the weird confusion of noises which always accompany the ringing of 'old-fashioned' bells, and which made the poet Tennyson describe them as 'wild' bells? I like it myself, as I do all bell sounds, but a great many people do not. A musical neighbour of mine told me the other day that the sound of bells made him feel melancholy. I answered that I feared our Long Stanton bells must be a trial to him. 'Oh, no,' he replied rather testily, 'yours are all right—they're in tune!'

Long Stanton, Nov. 25th.

NAMING METHODS.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I have been informed that Method No. 9 on page 10 Leg. Meths. Coll. should be Nelson's Delight; Method No. 11 on page 10 should be Woodcock's Victory; Method No. 24 on page 19 should be Duke of Clarence.

CYRIL W. O. JENKYN.

LEICESTER'S PROPOSED RING OF TWELVE.AN APPEAL.To the Editor.*

Sir,—I am making an urgent appeal to all ringers on behalf of the bells of St. Margaret's, Leicester, which are now about to be increased to twelve. Our grand old church has always been famous for its fine bells and historians, and others of the past have testified to this, notably John Brand in 'Popular Antiquities,' who states that 'the finest peal of ten bells in England is said to be in St. Margaret's, Leicester.' We, of the present day, have endeavoured to carry on this spirit and uphold this tradition, and when the bells became dangerous and unringable, the Church Council was prevailed upon to take the matter in hand and have them rehung. It was found, on thorough examination, that the bells themselves could not uphold their traditions, and so it was unanimously decided to recast them with additional metal, and make them worthy of the name they bore. Messrs. J. Taylor and Co. have done this with great skill, and once more St. Margaret's, Leicester, will possess one of the finest peals in the kingdom (certainly in the Midland Counties), hung in a new steel and iron frame, with all new fittings.

It was also decided to raise the peal to twelve, providing the necessary funds could be raised, and as one bell was practically assured by promises of ten £10 subscriptions, the scheme will be carried out.

There still remains some £700 yet before the bells can be cleared of debt, and as the church has already raised £1,700, we appeal to a wider public, and especially ringers who are interested, to help us in this great work.

There will be a public procession of the bells through Leicester, on Saturday, December 10th, and they will be dedicated (on the floor of the church) on Sunday morning, December 11th, by the Lord Bishop of Peterborough. They will be hung and ready for ringing on Christmas Day by the St. Margaret's ringers, and I hope to arrange an 'open' ringers' day shortly afterwards, which will be announced in your columns.

Any subscriptions, however small, will be gratefully received by the under-mentioned, on behalf of the Vicar and Church Council.

24, Coventry Street, Leicester.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.TAPPED PEALS NOT TO BE RECORDED.

At the meeting of the Central Committee recently held at the Cathedral Choir School, Rochester, it was decided to hold the annual general meeting on Easter Monday at Ashford, or, in the event of the requisite permission to ring being withheld, at Tenterden.

Grants from the Belfry Repairs Fund were voted towards the work done, or about to be done, at Headcorn (8), Aylesford (8), Gravesend (8) and Maidstone (10).

In order to raise more money for the War Memorial Fund, which during the past year or more had been practically at a standstill, it was agreed that collecting cards should be printed, and circulated among the members by the district secretaries.

The committee decided that a peal tapped by a single individual on handbells could not be regarded as an association peal. In passing this resolution there was no idea of detracting from the merit of such performance, only the plain practical view that the very name 'association' implies a combination or binding together of several persons, and, therefore, could not be applied to the performance of a solitary individual.

After the meeting several members enjoyed a ring on the new peal of ten at the Cathedral.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS.ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The following officers have been elected by the Ancient Society of College Youths to serve for the ensuing year: Master, Mr. G. R. Fardon; treasurer, Mr. A. A. Hughes; trustees, Messrs. C. F. Winney and W. Prime; senior steward, Mr. J. C. F. Bayley; junior steward, Mr. W. E. Garrard; hon. secretary, Mr. W. T. Cockerill.

A CORRECTION.To the Editor.

Sir,—In reference to the footnote to the peal of Stedman at Coalbrookdale, on November 11th, 1921, which states that it was the first peal of Stedman by a local band, this is not correct. The first peal of Stedman Triples rung by a local band for the society was at St. Edmund's, Shrewsbury, on February 17th, 1913, and the local ringers visited Whitechurch on February 22nd, 1913, and rang another, while the St. Chad's Society rang one at Wem, on March 11th, 1914. All these were in the Salop Archdeaconry, and the Lichfield Diocese.—Yours truly,

C. R. LILLEY.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

EASTERN DIVISION MEETING.

A quarterly meeting of the Eastern Division was held at Mayfield, on Saturday, Nov. 19th, when members attended from Brighton (St. Nicholas'), Chiddingly, Eastbourne (St. Saviour's), Hailsham, Heathfield, Pevensey, Rotherfield, Tunbridge Wells, Waldron, and the local ringers. Mr. J. H. Shepherd (Swindon), Mr. F. Benueit (Brighton), and Mr. A. Piper, Mr. E. Bray (Eastbourne) were also present.

The address at the service was given by the Vicar (the Rev. E. C. Pitt-Johnson), who gave the ringers a most hearty welcome, the lessons being read by the Rev. C. H. Clarke, of Chiddingly (hon. general secretary of the association).

A most excellent tea was provided by the kindness of the Vicar at the Parish Hall, to which 31 sat down, including the Vicar and churchwardens (Messrs. J. G. P. Moon and H. Grinham).

Following tea, the business meeting was held, the Rev. E. C. Pitt-Johnson being voted to the chair.

The election of Mr. W. J. Jeffries as non-resident life member be confirmed.—It was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting at Eastbourne, circumstances permitting.

The Rev. C. H. Clarke proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, the address at the service, and last but not least, his kindly invitation to the ringers to tea.—This was supported by Mr. W. D. Smith, who also coupled with the motion thanks to the organist, and to the ladies who so kindly assisted at the tea.—The Vicar, in response, stated that it had been a great pleasure to meet them that day, and wished that meetings such as these could take place more frequently.—This was supported by Mr. J. G. P. Moon (churchwarden), who also expressed his pleasure at being amongst the ringers.

The ringers then returned to the tower, where good practice was had in Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Treble Bob, and Double Norwich Major. Taken altogether, it was a most successful meeting, and many thanks are due to Mr. A. R. Miles and the local ringers for their co-operation.

BALL BEARINGS FOR BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Permit me to write a few lines in the defence of ball bearings for bells. Comparing ball or roller bearings with the old-fashioned gun-metal bearings, we find that the former offer five times more resistance to friction than the latter. Hence it would seem that five times as much wear will take place in the gun-metal bearings than the ball bearings. Therefore, the ball bearings will last five times as long as the gun-metal. This fact alone should be sufficient to remove any doubt that there may be as to the permanent utility of ball bearings.

These bearings do not require as much attention as the ordinary type, and require oil only at long intervals. Being totally enclosed it is impossible for dust or moisture to gain access to them. This cannot be said of gun-metal bearings.

Mr. J. R. Jerram says we must aim at simplicity. I beg to differ. What we must aim at and go 'all out' for is efficiency and progress. It is a poor repayment to those who have laboured so hard and spent so much time in perfecting the science of bells to have the results of their researches stigmatised as fads.—Yours truly,

Doncaster, HAROLD WALKER.

Twice repeated.

In this peal there are no Bobs, Oxford places being made instead of Kent places at the lead ends marked under the head, 1, 3, 5. The call at 3 shortens the course by two leads, cutting out the leads in which the tenor and 7th would have been in the slow. The 2nd and 3rd are never in 6th's place at the course ends, and the composition is the least number of changes for a three-part peal on the plan.

The first four courses repeated give a quarter-peal, 1,280 changes.

THE EXTENSION OF METHODS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Years ago it was pointed out that there are two rival theories as to what the extension of a method to higher numbers ought to be.

(a) There are the practical ringers who have mastered a method (say, London) on eight, and desire a 10-bell method to practise, which they can call the same name. They want something ringable, and they expect the work of individual bells to be similar on both numbers.

(b) There are the scientists and mathematicians who are seeking the constructional equivalent.

In the present state of our knowledge is it possible to get the Exercise to decide definitely between (a) and (b)? Consider a few of the pros and cons.

Practical reasons in favour of (a) are obvious, and from the theoretical point of view it can be plausibly argued that in the existing confusion as to the nomenclature of methods generally little harm can be done by giving a name to a method to which it is not strictly entitled. But, in this case, the inevitable result will be incessant controversy. Now it is London, to-morrow it will be Bristol and Superlative. Naturally each investigator thinks his own discovery the nearest and best, and there will be just as much divergence of opinion between practical ringers. There is, and can be, from this point of view, no definite test for you to apply.

If you decide to follow (b) something of the same difficulty exists, and will do until you get an approach towards general agreement as to what the construction of a method actually is. But even now you can go a good way towards ruling out incorrect extensions. A true one will probably be opposed at first, but will almost certainly make its way by its inherent excellence. You may not be able to prove it is a (or the) correct extension; but instinctively you feel it to be so. Where you have many rivals, as in London; and, above all, alternative solutions offered at intervals by the same investigators, each with plausible claims and not one of them singled out by general acclamation, you will not err greatly in suspecting that neither is a real extension, though it may be a variation in somewhat of the same way as Oxford and Kent are variations of one method, or, again, Grandsire Major and Bob Major.

Further, it will be more than probable in this case that no true extension on this number of bells does in fact exist, at any rate in a ringable form. Illustrations of what is laid down above will be found in the history of Cambridge and Double Norwich. In the last-named method it seems more or less agreed now that Shipway was right. There are, moreover, some reasons for thinking that Mr. Law James is, perhaps, mistaken in regarding the Maximus variation, with places in 5-6, 7-8 as the true extension.

A second criterion easily applied is this: any mathematician who approaches the subject without prejudice will tell you that the probability is great—in fact, so great as to amount to practical certainty (Mr. Trollope goes too far in putting it as an absolute necessity), that if a method will extend from 6 to 8 and on to 10 by the same process you will arrive at an extension to 12. If it will not do so, you may be sure that in (say) 99,999 cases out of 100,000 there is a flaw in the reasoning; in other words, the succession 6, 8, 10, is not a true mathematical progression.

These two criteria which are capable of application by many practical ringers should go far towards providing a solution of the question for all practical purposes in any given case, and there is more than a likelihood that the solution will be scientifically sound.—Yours, etc.,

E. S. POWELL.

HALF-MUFFLED BELLS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In reply to Mr. James Smith, for half-pull ringing bells should be muffled on the handstroke. This ensures the back bells turning up in the right order at the open leads, i.e., the 5-6's or 7-8's open, and the 6-5's or 8-7's, muffled. For whole-pull ringing, which is, to my mind, far the best method to adopt when the bells are half-muffled, they should be muffled at back stroke, thus producing a soft echo to each change. (See 'Rope Sight').

WEDDING BELLS.

On Monday evening, November 7th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1260 changes) was rung on the bells of St. Nicholas Church, Harwich, in 45 minutes, on the occasion of the wedding at Portrose, Scotland, of Mr. T. Bernard, captain of the Harwich band of ringers, to Miss Mackenzie, of Portrose, by the following band: J. Alderton 1, B. Elmer 2, C. Ellis 3, G. Taylor 4, S. Taylor 5, G. Jordan 6, G. Thompson (conductor) 7, S. Bernard 8. First quarter-peal by ringers of 6th and tenor. Afterwards the ringers were kindly entertained by Mrs. C. H. Bernard, mother of the bridegroom.

CHESHUNT, HERTS.—On Sunday, Nov. 27th, for evening service, 504 Grandsire Triples: *F. J. Gilbert (Bishop's College) 1, G. Andrews 2, W. G. Darlington 3, H. Warner 4, A. Bull 5, F. Jelf 6, G. Maxim (conductor) 7, *J. T. Munday (Bishop's College) 8. * Longest length in any method.

CAMBRIDGE.—On Sunday, Nov. 27th, for evening service, at the Church of Our Lady and English Martyrs, 720 of Bob Minor: V. Shorter 1, H. J. Hazell 2, H. G. Benson 3, E. G. Hibbens (conductor) 4, W. Welch 5, T. R. Dennis 6.

THRAPSTON, NORTHANTS.—On Advent Sunday, Nov. 27th, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes), in 46 minutes: J. M. Nickerson 1, O. Willson 2, D. Redhead 3, L. Wyman 4, A. Willson 5, S. Willson 6, R. C. Loveday (conductor) 7, J. Coleman 8. First quarter-peal of Stedman by all the band excepting the conductor, and first as conductor. It was rung at the first attempt.

WEST BALING.—For the morning service, at St. Stephen's Church, on November 27th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 42 mins.: H. Belcher (conductor) 1, M. Folkard 2, E. J. Walsom 3, W. Lawrence 4, W. H. Hollier 5, G. Edwards 6, E. Harris 7, A. Harding 8.

KESWICK, CUMBERLAND.—On Sunday, Nov. 6th, at Crosthwaite Church, 720 Bob Minor: Robert Dennison 1, Miss Lena Telford 2, Miss Clara Grisdale 3, F. Hogarth 4, T. Wilson 5, F. Hogarth (conductor) 6. The ring of the treble is 82 years of age, and has been a ring for 70 years, of which 58 years have been at the above church.

STREITON, CHESHIRE.—On Sunday, Oct. 30th, 720 Bob Minor: H. Fairclough 1, S. T. Jenkins 2, E. Bostock 3, L. Bostock 4, E. Jenkins (conductor) 5, J. H. Davenport 6. First 720 on the bells by an entirely local company.

NETHERTON.—Worcestershire Association.—At St. Andrew's Church, for harvest festival, on Sunday, Oct. 30th, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), in 44 mins.: L. Prestidge 1, W. Massey 2, R. Round 3, H. Hubball 4, J. Faulkner 5, W. Prestidge 6, A. Prestidge (conductor) 7, J. Faulkner, junr., 8.

THRAPSTON, NORTHANTS.—On Sunday, Oct. 30th, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob Major (1,280 changes), in 45 mins.: J. M. Nickerson 1, J. Coleman 2, D. Redhead 3, L. Ryman 4, F. Stubs 5, A. Bellamy 6, F. Kirk 7, R. C. Loveday (conductor) 8. Taken from 'The Ringing World,' by H. Haigh.

NORTON, DERBYSHIRE.—On Sunday, Oct. 30th, in 50 mins., 1,260 Grandsire Triples, as a compliment to Mr. J. Goucher on his 75th birthday, the veteran taking part: W. Biggin 1, W. Bingham 2, B. Shaw 3, J. Goucher 4, T. G. Sarel 5, G. M. Thorpe 6, G. F. Allen (conductor) 7, G. Butcher 8.

GRENCESTER, GLOS.—On Sunday, Oct. 30th, for morning service, at Holy Trinity Church, Watermoor, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), composed by W. A. Tyler, and published in 1882: A. Parsons 1, W. G. Cook (first quarter-peal as conductor) 2, F. J. Lewis 3, H. Lewis 4, J. Butler 5, J. Hope 6, H. C. Bond 7, J. Hayward 8.

LONDON.—London County Association.—On Sunday, Oct. 30th, for evening service, at St. John's, Vassell Road, Brixton S.W., 1,280 Kent Treble Bob Major: T. W. Tafender (first quarter-peal of Major) 1, T. H. Tafender (conductor) 2, E. J. King 3, J. R. Gammon 4, R. G. Chappelle 5, G. A. Card 6, G. W. Wild 7, W. H. Pickett 8.

NEWPORT PAGNELL.—On Sunday, Oct. 30th, the following touches of Grandsire Triples were rung on the occasion of a visit by Miss Stella Davis, 504 for morning service, and 546 for evening service, both touches conducted by F. Tompkins. Also a quarter-peal, after the evening service, in 50 mins., composed by H. G. Miles, and conducted by H. Warren. The under-mentioned ringers took part during the day: A. Gregory, W. Brown, F. Tompkins, E. Lathall, Miss Stella Davis, G. Boon, H. Warren, W. Smith and J. Gregory.

HAYES, KENT.—On Oct. 30th, for evening service, 720 Oxford Treble Bob Minor: G. Harwood 1, H. Reader 2, J. Hack 3, F. Keech 4, H. Brown 5, O. Gilbey (conductor) 6. Rung after the baptism of a niece of the conductor, and as a birthday compliment to Miss M. Lazell, one of the godparents.

LONDON.—At the Parish Church of St. Mary, Bow, Middlesex, before and after Divine service, on Oct. 23rd, on the occasion of the induction of the new Rector (the Rev. H. Greatbatch), touches of Stedman Triples (1,764 changes) were rung: W. Theobald 1, J. Scholes 2, R. Turner 3, H. Clark 4, A. Scambler 5, W. A. Alps (conductor) 6, R. Sanders 7, D. Hodgson 8.—At the same church, for Divine service, on Sunday, Nov. 6th, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes), in 44 mins.: J. Scholes 1, W. Salmon 2, R. Turner 3, W. Theobald 4, A. Scambler 5, R. Sanders 6, W. A. Alps (conductor) 7, F. Baker 8. Composed by G. Charge.

STONEBY STANTON.—On Sunday, Oct. 16th, for harvest festival, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 42 mins.: Miss Stella Disney 1, G. Wood 2, N. Walker 3, C. Brown 4, C. H. Webb 5, T. Atkins (first with a bob bell) 6, C. H. Briggs (first as conductor) 7, W. Briggs 8.

ROBIN HOOD'S BAY, YORKS.—At St. Stephen's Church, on Sunday, October 16th, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes): M. Cooper 1, Miss M. Parnaby 2, Miss A. K. Wilkinson 3, Miss D. Bulman 4, Miss A. Bulman 5, J. W. Wilkinson 6, Miss B. Wellburn 7, G. F. Alexander (conductor) 8. This is the first quarter-peal by an entirely local band since the company's reorganising in 1919, and first for Miss A. Bulman.—On Sunday, Nov. 6th, for evening service a quarter-peal in the same method: P. C. Mervyn Duck 1, Miss M. Parnaby 2, Miss A. K. Wilkinson 3, Miss D. Bulman 4, J. W. Wilkinson 5, G. F. Alexander (conductor) 6, Miss B. Wellburn 7, F. Townsend 8. Arranged for P. C. Mervyn Duck, of Malton, Yorks.

MALDON, ESSEX.—On Sunday, Oct. 16th, for the harvest festival, morning service, in 45 minutes, a quarter-peal of Minor, consisting of 60 changes of Double Court and 240 each of Plain Bob, Cambridge Surprise, Woodbine, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob: E. W. Finch 1, J. H. Waldox 2, A. Mansfield 3, A. J. Peake 4, A. South (conductor) 5, H. J. Mansfield 6. For evening service, 1,344 changes, 264 Double Court, 360 Plain Bob, 192 Cambridge Surprise, 96 Woodbine, 144 Kent, and 288 Oxford Treble Bob: E. W. Finch 1, W. Brinkley 2, A. Mansfield 3, A. South 4, J. H. Waldox 5, H. J. Mansfield (conductor) 6.

ACTON.—At St. Mary's Church, on Sunday, Oct. 16th, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (Carter's Old Bob), in 41 mins.: W. Lawrence 1, *H. Wincote 2, *C. Brown 3, W. Alps 4, Robt. Holloway 5, Challis Winney (conductor) 6, Robt. Fardon 7, G. R. Fardon 8. * First quarter Stedman.

TENTERDEN, KENT.—On Sunday, Oct. 16th, for evening service, 336 Grandsire Triples: O. Hodges 1, H. Baker 2, E. Parsons 3, G. Sims 4, C. Tribe 5, R. E. Burgess 6, G. Johnson 7, J. Neve 8.—On Monday, October 17th, for practice, 504 Grandsire Triples: H. Baker 1, C. Tribe 2, L. Honess 3, G. Sims 4, H. Parkes 5, R. E. Burgess 6, G. Billenness 7, R. Want 8.

THURLASTON, LEICESTERSHIRE.—For Wake Sunday evening service, and also on the occasion of the visit of the Bishop of Peterborough, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles, being 10½ six-score* called differently, in 45 mins.: P. ADVERTISER, at present Secretary and Head Clerk to Brewery Company, would like to hear of similar Berth; twenty-nine years' experience; not afraid of work. Good references. Has rung peals in all methods from Doubies to Royal.—Apply Box 'P,' 'The Ringing World,' Woking.

SAFFRON WALDEN SOCIETY.

On the re-election of Councillor David Miller as Mayor, on Nov. 9th, the ringers of the Saffron Walden Society rang a touch of 513 Stedman Cafers for service at mid-day. In the evening, touches of London Surprise, Cambridge Surprise and Superlative Surprise were successfully brought round.

This company has again reached its old standard as one of the premier bands in the country, and now regularly rings from Stedman Cinques downwards.

A MEMORIAL TABLET.

On Sunday, November 15th, during evening service at Earl Shilton, the Vicar (the Rev. H. V. Williams) dedicated a tablet (by Messrs. Jones, of Rugby) recording a muffled peal rung in memory of the late Vicar, and bearing inscriptions to that effect. Half-muffled touches were rung before and after service, among those taking part being all the ringers whose names appear on the tablet.

GOLDEN AND SILVER WEDDING DAYS.

Mr. H. Briggs, for 55 years a ringer at Stoney Stanton, has just celebrated his golden wedding, and, as a mark of esteem, his ringing friends have presented him with a handsome reference Bible, in which the names of the subscribers were written by Miss Disney. The gift was handed to the veteran with good wishes for the future health of himself and his partner of 50 years.

The silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Beckwith, of Coggeshall, Essex, was celebrated on November 12th by a peal on the bells of the church where the wedding took place. Three of the band who rang for the 25th anniversary also rang for the ceremony itself, viz.: Messrs. D. Elliott, W. Elliott and J. Sadler. After the peal the band, with other ringers, were hospitably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Beckwith, and hopes were expressed that they would be spared in health to see their golden wedding.

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting was held at Roystone on Saturday, Nov. 12th, a good muster of ringers from neighbouring towers assembling. The bells were kept going in many methods during the afternoon and evening.

The business meeting was held in the belfry. It was particularly noted, that although ringers are still directly under the control of the incumbent, it is extremely desirable that at least one ringer should have a seat on the Church Parochial Council.

Although apologies were due to the larger societies for this meeting clashing with others, this gathering may be said to have been very successful and popular.

It was agreed to hold the next meeting at Crofton, on Saturday, December 17th.

REMEMBRANCE DAY.

ABERAVON.—At St. Mary's Church, on the evening of Nov. 11th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, half-muffled, in 52 mins.: A. Hatton 1, A. Pitman (composer and conductor) 2, E. Stinch 3, W. Nurton 4, H. Boyce 5, J. Hammond 6, F. Atwell (first quarter-peal on inside bell) 7, J. Wethersby 8. The ringers of 1, 5 and 6, belong to Neath.

STAVELEY, DERBYSHIRE.—On Saturday, Nov. 12th, in honour of Remembrance Day, 720 Bob Minor, with tenor covering, with bells half-muffled, in 24 minutes: L. G. Palmer 1, A. Daffin (first 720 in the method) 2, F. E. Parsons 3, W. Daffin 4, S. Smedley, senr., 5, A. E. Parsons (conductor) 6, J. R. Brooks 8. Rung after meeting short for Bob Major. The bells were rung half-muffled for both services on the following day, Sunday, Nov. 13th.

SWAINSWICK.—On Friday, Nov. 11th, at the Parish Church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes), in 48 mins.: H. Merrett 1, W. Starr 2, W. Clark 3, Miss A. E. Watson 4, S. White (conductor) 5, E. Bath 6. Rung with the bells half-muffled as a token of respect to those who fell in the great war.

BURGHILL, HEREFORD.—On the occasion of the unveiling and dedication of the war memorial picture, on Nov. 18th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes), in 45 mins.: C. Jones 1, A. Probert 2, C. Edwards (conductor) 3, W. Williams 4, T. Probert 5, H. Beeks 6, T. Rawlings 7, R. Lloyd 8. Rung with the bell half-muffled, with 7, 6, 8 as covers, as a token of respect to the fallen heroes: First quarter-peal by the local band.

NEWPORT, ISLE OF WIGHT.—On Armistice Day, the last 742 Holt's Original was rung half-muffled: J. Simmonds 1, W. Scott, senr., 2, W. Johnson 3, J. Bacon 4, A. Callaway 5, W. Scott, junr., 6, W. Upton (conductor) 7, W. Chambers 8.

RINGS OF TWELVE.

The steady growth in the number of rings of twelve in the country is a very gratifying feature of the ever-widening interest in bells, and of the progress of the art of ringing. Close upon the opening of the peal of twelve at Winchester come the announcements of proposed additions to the existing rings of ten at Taunton and St. Margaret's, Leicester, as well as the expressed desire of the Rector of St. Magnus to add his tower to the twelve-bell churches of the Metropolis. At the moment the St. Magnus' proposal has not developed into a definite scheme, but in the two other cases the order has been definitely given. When the work is complete these new twelve-bell peals should prove of immense value to ringers. As we mentioned only recently, the southern and south-western counties of England are very badly off for towers with the highest number of bells for change ringing. Except for the new peal at the Abbey at Buckfastleigh, Devon (which are hardly likely to be often, if ever, available to ringers), the peal at St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol, and the light peal at Quex Park, Kent, the whole string of counties from Dover Straits to Land's End was without a ring of twelve, until Winchester led the way. The present ten at Taunton should make a splendid twelve, and there are men in Somerset who will see that they are used.

It is fitting also that such an active centre of ringing as Leicester should possess a peal of the maximum number; and, in some ways, it is strange that a peal of twelve bells has not made its appearance in the Midland area long before this. Up to the present, however, there is no such ring between Birmingham and Sheffield, or Ashton-under-Lyne and Cambridge. Thus Leicester will raise the standard in another wide area hitherto without twelve-bell opportunities; and here, again, we may look for the fullest use being made of the peal.

It is interesting to look for a moment at the growth of the twelve-bell towers of the country. When the 'Clavis Campanologia' was published in 1788, there were eight such rings, four of them in London, while York Minster, which was the first twelve bell tower in the country, had at that time had the ring recast into ten. When Shipway collected information as to the rings of bells in the country and published it in 1816, the number had increased to 13, by the addition of three towers in London and two in the provinces. The total in England now is 38, no fewer than seven having been added in the last ten years, which, remembering that the period includes four years of war, is a really great achievement, and one of the many encouraging signs of the advance of ringing. Leicester needs assistance to complete its ring of twelve, and we commend to our readers the appeal made in our last issue.

RINGER'S WEDDING.

The wedding took place at Almeley, Herefordshire, on November 24th, of Mr. William Webb and Miss Ethel Jones. The ceremony was performed by the Vicar (the Rev. H. M. Evill), and quite a number of parishioners were present, both the bride and bridegroom being highly respected. Immediately after the marriage service, the bells rang out merrily, and later the ringers attended a reception at the new home of the happy pair. Mr. Male, on behalf of the ringers, wished both the bridegroom and the bride a long life of happiness and health, and added that as a token of the respect in which Mr. Webb was held by the ringers, he had very great pleasure in asking his acceptance of a silver inkpot, in the shape of a bell. He trusted it would remind him of the happy hours they had spent, and hoped to spend in the belfry.—Mr. Webb, who was completely taken by surprise, suitably replied.—Mr. J. P. Hyett (district secretary of the Hereford Guild, to which the Almeley band now belongs) associated himself with all that Mr. Male had said.

LEEDS & DISTRICT AMALGAMATED SOCIETY

On Saturday, November 26th, the usual monthly meeting took place at St. Michael's, Headingley. Owing to a service intervening in the time advertised when the bells would be available, the Vicar of St. Chad's, Headingley, kindly granted permission for ringing to take place on his bells. Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Stedman were rung from 6 p.m. to 7.30 p.m. Then St. Michael's tower was visited, and touches of Double Norwich and Stedman were rung.

In the absence of the chairman, Mr. P. J. Johnson was voted to the chair, and a short business meeting took place. After much discussion it was decided to hold the December meeting at St. Francis, Holbeck.

Ringers were present from Selby; St. Chad's, Headingley; Armley; Leeds Parish Church; Pudsey; and the local company.

SUFFOLK VETERAN'S DEATH.
SONS' FUNERAL PEAL.

One of Suffolk's veteran ringers has passed away, at the ripe age of 80 years, in the person of Mr. William Riches, of Fressingfield. The deceased was a native of the village, and possessed of a lovable and happy disposition, was a general favourite. He had been a member of the Norwich Diocesan Association since 1878, and for many years acted as Master of the Fressingfield ringers.

On the evening of the funeral, half-muffled touches were rung by his brother, Mr. John Riches, and five of his sons, Messrs. Albert, Walter, William, Robert and Jas. Riches. Many local friends attended the funeral, and, besides these, the following bell ringers were present as a mark of respect to an old master: Messrs. J. Mottz (Ipswich), F. R. Borrett (Pulham), E. F. Poppy (Stoke Ash), G. Howard (Weybread), J. Filby (Wingfield), G. Filby (Wingfield), J. Adams (Harleston), R. Raynor, R. Girling, F. Barber, and J. Etheridge (all of Fressingfield). The above took part in the ringing before and after the service, and the four first named rang a course of Triples on handbells over the grave.

On Sunday evening the Rev. K. E. Shaw (Vicar) preached a funeral sermon, and another company of bell ringers attended and rang half-muffled touches before and after service. This company consisted of Messrs. E. Lincoln, C. F. Wood, H. Barrell, and C. Clarke (of Bungay), J. Filby and G. Wilby (of Wingfield), and F. Freeman and J. Etheridge (of Fressingfield).

LOSS TO PORTSMOUTH.

SERVED UNDER FIVE VICARS.

Portsmouth has sustained a severe loss by the death of Mr. W. H. Hellyer, who has passed away at the advanced age of 87 years. He was a prominent figure in local friendly society circles, and his connection with St. Mary's, Portsea, can be best quoted from a paragraph in the local Press: 'For a lengthy period he had been one of the most stalwart workers at Portsea Parish Church, where he had served under five Vicars—the late Bishop of St. Albans, the present Archbishop of York, the late Canon Wilson, the present Bishop of Southwark, and the present Vicar (the Rev. J. F. L. Southam). He was superintendent of the Sunday School for over 30 years, until compelled to retire by advancing age, two years ago. He was always to be relied upon in his work for the church, and his memory will be revered throughout the parish.'

When the present magnificent church was built, 30 years ago, he was instrumental in providing two bells to complete the present octave, and was greatly interested in the art.

After the funeral, a quarter-peal (1,260) Grandsire Triples was rung in 46 minutes, with the bells half-muffled, as a token of respect and gratitude for past services: J. J. Symons 1, F. A. Burnett 2, F. W. Rogers (composer and conductor) 3, W. Tate 4, J. D. Harris 5, R. J. Stone 6, E. J. Harding, senr., 7, B. W. C. Hardy 8.

MILNROW, LANCs.—On Armistice Day, at St. James' Church, a quarter-peal of Bob Major, with the bells fully muffled: R. Buckley 1, J. Fitton 2, C. Bennett 3, G. Staff (conductor) 4, S. W. Dunn 5, C. Fielding 6, Jno. H. C. Massey 7, H. Buckley 8.

DEVONSHIRE GUILD.EXETER DISTRICT BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Exeter District Branch was held at Heavitree, Exeter, on Saturday, November 26th, and attended by 48 members, representing St. Sidwell's, St. David's, Heavitree, St. Peter's, Withycombe Raleigh, Topsham, Thorverton, Clyst St. George, Sowton, and Christow.

Service was held in Heavitree Parish Church, and conducted by the Rev. H. B. Clark (Honiton Clyst). Tea was served in the Fore Street School, followed by the meeting, presided over by Mr. E. Shepherd (chairman of the branch), amongst those present being the Rev. Canon McLaren and the Rev. H. B. Clark.

A vote of sympathy with the relatives of two honorary members, deceased, was passed by all standing.

The accounts of the hon. secretary and treasurer (Mr. N. J. Southwood) showed a satisfactory state of affairs, and a balance in hand.

The Assistant Hon. Secretary (Mr. J. C. Oke) stated in his report that the year's work had been very satisfactory, meetings having been well attended, while change ringing was making steady progress. He regretted, however, that the number of peals had fallen short of last year's total, and hoped that members would endeavour to remedy this before the annual report was printed. One tower had joined the district during the year, and one tower desired to resign. It was, however, resolved to ask this band to reconsider the matter.

The reports were adopted, and the officers re-elected unanimously.

Nine new members were elected, and one honorary member added to the list.—Thorverton was selected as the place for the next meeting, to be held in March.

Votes of thanks to the incumbents for the use of the bells and to the ladies for presiding at tea, brought a very successful meeting to a close.

The bells of the Cathedral, St. Sidwell's, St. David's and Heavitree, were kept going during the afternoon and evening, and some good touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples rung.

RINGING AT ST. MARY REDCLIFFE.

On Saturday, November 26th, at the Church of St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol, in honour of the visit of the Lord Bishop of Bristol for the annual confirmation service, 967 Grandsire Cinques: Miss A. Brown 1, F. G. Leaker 2, A. Pearce 3, S. Badman 4, E. Dibbens 5, t. W. H. Came 6, F. G. Jewell 7, H. Pring 8, F. J. Porch 9, E. J. Brown 10, W. A. Cave (conductor) 11, W. Read 12.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

A most successful joint meeting of the Leicester and Hinckley Branches of the Midland Counties Association was held at Earl Shilton on Saturday, November 26th. Members and friends, numbering 45, attended, the following towers being represented: Anstey, Burbage, Barwell, Croft, Hinckley, Higham-on-the-Hill, Kirky-Muxloe, Leicester, Nuneaton, Stoney Stanton, Stoke Golding, Lt. Wigston, South Wigston, and Earl Shilton. The methods rung ranged from Grandsire to Double Norwich, and during the ringing, the Vicar (the Rev. H. V. Williams) came amongst the ringers to say how pleased he was to welcome them to Earl Shilton. The visitors took the opportunity to thank him for so kindly placing the bells at their disposal. Ringing continued until about 7 p.m., when the visitors were conducted to the meeting-room, and enjoyed refreshments, provided by the generous hospitality of the churchwardens (Messrs. E. H. Gilbert and A. Abbott), and an honorary member of the association (Mr. A. H. Bradbury).

The business meeting followed, Mr. A. H. Bradbury being voted to the chair.

Two towers, Hinckley and Nuneaton, were nominated for the annual district meeting, and on a vote being taken Hinckley was selected by a large majority. The meeting will be held there early in January.

Five new honorary members were elected (Messrs. Harry Orton, Arthur Green, Leonard Cobley, Joseph Grewcock and Joseph Ladkin).

—The Chairman moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and W. Willson, in seconding, coupled with it a vote of thanks to the chairman and churchwardens for their kind hospitality.—The motion was carried with applause.

It was resolved to make an annual affair of these joint meetings, one to be held in Leicester district, and one in Hinckley.

Mr. W. Willson referred to the excellent position the M.C.A. had attained, and his statement was very gratifying to the members.

A musical programme was then carried out, including a pianoforte selection by Mr. Coe, junr.; duets by Messrs. W. Reynolds and L. Cobley; songs by W. Humphreys, L. Cobley, W. Reynolds and H. Fullylove; a course of Grandsire Caters: H. Webb 1—2, J. Clarke 3—4, H. Stoneley 5—6, W. Willson 7—8, F. Elkington 9—10; and handbell selection by Messrs. H. Webb, H. Stoneley and W. Willson.

KIRDFORD, SUSSEX. — On Friday, Nov. 11th, at St. John's Church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes), in 41 mins.: M. Stenning 1, S. Kilner 2, P. Duneton 3, S. Kitchener 4, F. Brooks (conductor) 5, V. Nicholls 6.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

To-morrow is the 40th anniversary of the first peal at St. Paul's Cathedral. This was a 5,014 Stedman Cinques in 4 hrs. 17 mins., by the College Youths. The band contained some famous names, but all, we believe, have now passed away, except the 'youthful' Ted Horrex. The ringers were: J. Pettit 1, G. Muskott 2, W. Coster 3, J. R. Haworth 4, R. Jameson 5, G. Mash 6, G. Dorrington 7, W. Tanner 8, M. Wood 9, E. Horrex 10, J. M. Hayes 11, W. Jones and W. A. Tyler 12. The bells had been opened on November 1st, 1878.

On December 12th, 1848, St. Martin's Society, Birmingham, rang the then longest length of Stedman Cinques (7,392), in 4 hrs. 55 mins. It was composed and conducted by Henry Johnson, and superseded in length the 7,126 rung in 5 hrs. 17 mins., at Norwich on January 18th, 1844, thus regaining for Birmingham the honours which the Norwich men had taken from them.

Three anniversaries fall on the 15th of December. On that date, in 1735, the College Youths rang 8,008 Grandsire Cinques at Southwark, at that time the longest length on 12 bells, the peal being called by Benjamin Annable. On December 15th, 1806, the Junior Cumberlands rang a peal of 5,886 Stedman Cinques at Christ Church, Spitalfields, where there are now only eight bells. Two days before, the Senior Cumberlands lost a peal in the same method, after ringing 5,500 changes, and on the 20th scored a peal of 6,334, all on the same bells. What the neighbours said, history recordeth not.

To come to modern days, on December 15th, 1904, was rung the first peal in South Africa. This was Grandsire Triples at Woodstock.

By ringing a peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Royal last Saturday the St. Mary-le-Tower company, Ipswich, have completed a series of meritorious performances this year; having rung a peal of Cambridge Surprise and Double Norwich on eight, ten and twelve bells. The society were the first to ring a peal of Cambridge Maximus.

The death occurred, on November 24th, of Mr. Wm. Lee, for many years steeplekeeper at St. Mary's, Nottingham. He was well known in the Midland Counties as an eccentric character. Not being an expert in change ringing, his peals were not numerous, and were confined to either trebling or covering.

Mr. Percy Cave, of Bristol, who obtained his B.Sc. degree last July, is taking up an appointment at Southampton. He will be much missed at St. Stephen's, especially for Sunday ringing, at which he has been most regular.

Over 100 miniature bells were sold to help the fund raised for recasting Westbury bells. We understand that the profits on the surplus bells, which were purchased by Mr. W. H. Fussell, amounting to £4 2s., were handed over to the Hereford All Saints' Fund.

The peal of Stedman Cinques at Waltham Abbey was rung on Oct. 22nd.

THE BELLS OF ST. GEORGE'S, DONCASTER

The magnificent peal of eight bells at St. George's, Doncaster, has just been overhauled. The clappers have been taken out and new crutches inserted. New fillets have been put in the wheels, and alterations have been made to the pulley boxes. The whole peal is now in excellent ringing condition. Mr. J. F. Mallaby, of Barnby Dun, carried out the work, and great credit is due to him for the excellent way he has done it. It was he who rehung the bells the last time any repairs were carried out, which was 25 years ago.

The peal at St. George's is claimed to be the heaviest and finest peal of eight in Yorkshire. The bells were cast by Warner and Co. in 1856, to the designs of the late Lord Grimthorpe. The weight of the tenor is 30½ cwt., and its note E flat. The bells replaced an older ring of eight, which perished in the great conflagration of 1853, when the entire church was laid in ruins. This old peal was cast by Hedderly, of Bawtry, and was described by Lord Grimthorpe as the finest he had ever heard. It is believed that these bells were slightly heavier than the present peal.

HALF-MUFFLING OF BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I was much interested in the inquiry of Mr. J. Smith as to the muffling of bells, and agree with the Rev. H. B. Woolley that the back stroke should be open. When the musical qualities of touches or peals are given the back stroke is always referred to; also it must be very obvious that a roll up of, say, 5678 in Major is much better than an open 6587, or take the Littums position of Caters, an open 6978 is much better than 9687. It is customary in this neighbourhood to muffle the back stroke, and I always consider the best effect is lost.—Yours truly,

W. PAGE.

A HATTERSLEY MEMORIAL DINNER? SHEFFIELD RINGER'S STRONG COMMENTS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I shall be greatly interested to know what authority 'Yorkshire Worthy' has for making the assertion which appeared in the Belfry Gossip of December 2nd, re the intentions of the Hattersley Memorial Committee, which is now defunct. I myself served on the committee which was formulated to carry out the scheme to perpetuate the memory of the late C. H. H. That scheme was to establish a library in the Cathedral belfry, and I am sorry to say (without fear of contradiction) that the subject of a Commemoration Dinner was never once discussed in committee. However, I myself did incidentally make the suggestion to one of the serving committeemen, who immediately poured cold water on the scheme—not out of any disrespect to the late gentleman, but for other obvious reasons.

It is strange, but true, that neither exorbitant charges, nor the shocking state of trade, affects the late Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner. That goes on! Why? Simply because it is nurtured in an environment of unselfishness!

One is rather doubtful concerning the excuses: Is it intended to convey coercion, or is it the essence of sincerity? Personally I am inclined to think it is sent with the former intention; if so, I am sure it will lack sufficient strength to bring about the desired effect! The real reason there has been no Commemoration Dinner in Sheffield is simply the predominating spirit of selfishness!

Where are the men who profess to be admirers of the late C. H. H.? Where are their pretentious ambitions, either to do honour to the late gentleman, or any other enterprise which will be for the uplifting of the art? Boldly I stand before the whole Exercise and say there will be no Commemoration Dinner in Sheffield, unless some generous person comes along and says: 'Parake of my hospitality and call it a Commemoration Dinner,' or a magnanimous spirit arises which will conquer and tread down that spirit of callous and selfish indifference! Once this is accomplished, that honour (long deferred) will become manifest, and not until then.

Further, credit can only be given to one man for his conception of a memorial library, and for the assiduous manner in which he carried this undertaking to a final issue, in the face of having to gauge his own generosity by the meanness of other individuals.—Yours, etc., Hillsbro', Dec. 5th, 1921.

ALFRED T. BAKER.

DURHAM & NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION. NORTHERN DISTRICT MEETING.

A district meeting was held at North Shields, on Saturday, Dec. 3rd, when members attended from Newcastle, Whitley Bay and North Shields. During the afternoon some good practice was obtained with London and Cambridge Surprise Major and Kent Treble Bob Major. Tea was kindly provided by Mr. William Story at the Douglas Cafe, and was followed by a business meeting.

The Secretary (Mr. J. E. Gofton) welcomed Mr. George R. Holmes, and said what a great pleasure it was to all present to have at last such an active vice-president to grace the chair.—It was resolved to hold the next meeting at St. Stephen's, Newcastle, on January 21st, and the secretary was instructed to get on with the arrangements.—After further discussion, it was also decided to pay visits to other districts when holding meetings.

Some good touches of Stedman Caters were afterwards brought round in fine style. The tower was visited by the Vicar and other clergy, who expressed their pleasure at hearing the ten bells going, after being recently restored by a local firm of engineers.

This brought an excellent meeting to a close.

SIMPSON TUNING—BALL BEARINGS. 2778

To the Editor.

Sir,—I think Mr. Woolley is probably right as regards 'Simpson tuning' for very light bells. Everybody knows that small bells are often 'wild.' Heard from one point, under certain atmospheric conditions, they appear to be in tune; and heard from another point, under other conditions, they seem to be horribly out of tune. Probably the 'Simpson tuning' corrects this fault. As Mr. Woolley says, it is with heavy bells that the howling is noticeable. I still maintain, however, that to recast good old bells, which are in tune with one another, simply because they cannot be tuned on the 'Simpson Principle,' is a most unjustifiable waste of money, which is badly needed for more important church purposes in the present day.

As to what Mr. H. Walker says about ball and roller bearings, his theory about wear may be all right, but I question whether in actual practice the old way will not prove to be the best. Time alone will show this. I never heard of bell brases being actually worn through; though, of course, gudgeons will wear oval in time. After all, bells of up to, say, 40 cwt., go well enough hung on the old plan on a perfectly rigid frame for all practical purposes: though possibly it might be worth while to try to find some plan to facilitate the 'go' of very heavy bells.—Yours, etc.,

December 2nd, 1921

J. R. JERRAM.

EXTENSION OF METHODS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Mr. Powell's letter raises the question of the extension of methods, and he says that there are two rival theories, and wants the Exercise to decide between them.

These two theories are not rivals, they are complementary, and we have to take both of them into account.

I will begin to-day with the Grandsire Bob method, and show what its extension really is, and with your permission, I will go on with some other simple examples, and so lead up to the more difficult problems.

Grandsire Bob can be rung on all numbers of bells by the following two rules:—

If the treble turns you from lead make 3rd's place (on odd numbers) 2nd's (on even numbers), now count $2x-1$ blows and dodge; continue to do this, and you will complete the plain course on 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, or 12 bells, x being the number of bells being rung.

To explain; consider the 3rd in Grandsire Doubles. Here, x equals 5, so $2x-1$ is 9.

Make 3rd's place, strike in 2nd's and count one; at lead 2; and so on up to 9, and dodge 4-5 down; count 9 and dodge 4-5 up; the treble turns you from lead next time. Consider the 2nd in Grandsire Bob Maximus (commonly called Bob Maximus). She has just made 2nd's place; x equals 12. $2x-1$ equals 23. Lead and count 1, etc., up to 23 and dodge 3-4 down; count 23 and dodge 5-6 down, etc.

Now, what is the extension of the method? Obviously, nothing but plain hunting. We add two places to each section of plain hunting between the dodges for every extra bell we add, and we make 2nd's or 3rd's once only in the plain course.

We have, therefore, extended the method according to both of Mr. Powell's so-called rival theories, and so we see that they are not rivals at all, but complementary.

Next week we will consider Double Court.—Yours truly,

Surfleet Vicarage.

RINGING IN AMERICA. AN INVITATION TO ENGLISH RINGERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—You have at various times received letters from Dr. A. H. Nichols, 55, Mount Vernon Street, Boston, U.S.A., regarding efforts made by him to stimulate interest in bell ringing here in America. While he has succeeded in interesting a few persons in the art, the general results of his efforts are rather disappointing. The reason for this is chiefly because of failure to keep a band of ringers together. At the present time we have six ringers who live within the confines of this district, the only locality in the U.S.A. where there are any bells for ringing. At the present time all the towers are open to us for ringing. One tower is situated at Groton School, 40 miles from Boston; one at Hingham, 18 miles from Boston; one at Watertown, 8 miles from Boston; and two in the city itself. Since the war, our ringing has been confined to periodic visits to Groton School, usually on a holiday, where, with the assistance of Mr. Sturgis and Mr. Farr, teachers at the school, we are able to ring a touch on eight.

Dr. Nichols often receives inquiries regarding the installation of a peal of bells, usually as a memorial, by some person of wealth, who has heard us ring and wishes to erect a peal near home. But usually the request is made that we make regular visits to ring; and, not getting a definite answer that we can do so, the inquirer is discouraged.

My object in writing this letter is to interest any of your readers who are thinking of moving to some 'promised land' to try their fortunes anew, that they may possibly call here and look things over. Conditions are as good in Boston as in any place, and chances of employment equally as great. Men in the building trades, especially masons (bricklayers), are almost certain of employment; gardeners, good ones, are as scarce as hens' teeth. This State is one of the greatest manufacturing districts in the country, especially of shoes, cotton and woollen goods, etc. At the same time, I do not want any person to imagine that a fortune can be picked up on the street.

We believe that if we could add to our numbers sufficiently to enable us to be certain of getting a band together for regular ringing, we could interest more people, and so advance the art of change ringing in this country. A new peal is to be erected, I believe, very shortly, at Wellesley College, Mass., easily reached from Boston. It is expected that a peal will be brought over and installed at the World's Fair, to be held in Boston, 1924. Altogether the prospects for the furthering of the art of change ringing seem good, could we get a good band of ringers to enable us to ring regularly.

If anyone wishes further information regarding conditions, etc., should they be interested enough, the writer or Dr. A. H. Nichols (55, Mount Vernon Street, Boston) will be glad to enlighten them to the best of their ability.—Very truly yours,

ALEXANDER MATTHEWS.

SALOP ARCHIDIACONAL GUILD. PROPOSED ADDITION TO DAWLEY BELLS.

By the kind permission of the Vicar (the Rev. T. R. J. Faulness), a monthly meeting of the Salop Archidiaconal Guild was held at Dawley on Saturday week. Touches were rung in various methods on the tower bells during the afternoon, and members were pleased to have the Vicar with them in the tower.

The Vicar expressed a wish to have two more bells added to the peal, and Mr. W. Saunders suggested that it would be far better to have the whole of the bells retuned when the time came to add two trebles. Tea was well provided in the National Schools by Mrs. Ruscoe, and among those who were present were representatives from Cardington, Hodnet and Wellington, while Coalbrookdale, as usual, was well represented. Afterwards the Vicar said how pleased he was to see the members of the Guild in his parish to hear the bells rung, especially on a Saturday, as it was not very often that people in Dawley heard bell ringing on that day.

Mr. Saunders, of Coalbrookdale, in reply, remarked that the main object of the Guild in holding those meetings was to set up a good standard of Sunday Service ringing, and in getting the ringers to take more interest in their art, besides helping members to keep more in touch with one another.

Mr. Woodvine supported Mr. Saunders' remarks, and it was then decided to hold the next meeting at Sheriff Hales.

Members then turned to St. Leonard's, Malins Lee, where a good touch of Oxford Bob was well rung; also a course of Grandsire Caters and Triples on handbells.

HEREFORD GUILD.

EFFORTS TO INTEREST YOUNG RINGERS.

A successful meeting of the Hereford District of the Hereford Diocesan Guild was held at Tarrington with a view to stimulating local interest and enthusiasm. Ringers were present from Allensmore, Madley, Lugwardine, Fownhope, Hereford Cathedral, Stoke Edith and Tarrington. A short service was held in the church, and the Vicar (the Rev. A. E. Green-Price) gave the members an encouraging address. The Vicar presided at the tea at the Foley Arms. At the business meeting which followed, Mr. C. Edwards, the district secretary, pointed out that the annual meeting would be at Hereford, and he would expect a large attendance. All Saints' peal would now be available. It was surprising, that upon the last occasion there was not a clergyman in Hereford who could be found to offer to hold a service for them. Therefore, they had to have the annual meeting without a service. He thought that upon this occasion they would be in a better position. He pointed out that practices were held at All Saints' every Thursday evening at 7.30, and that all ringers were welcome. Proceeding, he said that it was only twelve months since they had a district meeting at Lugwardine, and they knew what was brought forward there, the project for recasting All Saints' tenor bell. When he moved that that be done, he never thought for a moment he would have had the support of the ringers in the way he had, and that the project would have been brought to such a successful issue. He was grateful to all who supported him, and particularly to the ringers in the Hereford district. Many towers did not contribute, but the result showed that they had had real workers. All Saints' had now a fine peal of bells, and the parishioners were very pleased. He hoped the ringers would show a united spirit, and do all they could to make themselves proficient.

Mr. H. Taylor moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. C. Edwards for all he had done, and said he was sure no one could have worked harder. They had now a fine peal of bells at All Saints', and they should become better ringers. They had practices there on the Thursday and on Wednesday at the Cathedral.

Mr. Fussell seconded, and referring to Mr. Edwards' great interest in ringing, said his father, who was present, must have given him a good education in that direction to have turned out such a good ringer. He regretted the silence of All Saints' bells for so many years, and announced that he was able to hand over to All Saints' belfry fund the sum of £4 2s., profits on the sale of miniature bells. He referred to the large amount of work that had been done voluntarily in cleaning out the dirt and dust of centuries in the belfry by Hereford ringers.

Mr. Edwards, responding, said there were still towers that stood aloof from the Guild. They did not want to thrust scientific change ringing down their throats, but he thought that if they would join in meetings like that it would create a better feeling all round.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar, who, in responding, said he hoped Tarrington bells would be in a better condition the next time the ringers visited the church. He threw out the suggestion that the Guild should send out, say, once a month one of their members to try to interest the younger men of the parish in ringing.

The District Secretary said he had that very point in view, and meant to bring it forward at their annual meeting, as they were now in a position to appoint qualified district instructors (applause).

Further ringing took place after the meeting.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

Ringers from Aldershot, Hurst, Shere, Wargrave, Wokingham and Worplesdon were present at the quarterly meeting of the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild, held at All Saints', Wokingham, on Saturday, December 3rd. Grandsire, Stedman and Bob Major were rung, and the Rector (the Rev. B. Long) conducted the Guild service. The members afterwards enjoyed an excellent tea, for which thanks are due to the Misses Robinson and Walker.

The business meeting only lasted a few minutes. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Staines on Saturday, February 25th, if possible.

Ringing was then carried on at St. Paul's Church.

The Guild wishes to thank all concerned for the use of the bells.

WESTERN DISTRICT.

The quarterly meeting was held at St. Stephen's, Bristol, on Saturday, December 3rd. To visit this church is always a great treat to the members, and a good number were present. They were much indebted to Mr. Knight, who made all arrangements. The bells were kept going until 5 o'clock, when the Guild service was conducted by the Rector, who also acted as organist, and gave an address. Tea was provided at the 'Cadena Cafe,' followed by a short business meeting.

Owing to a concert in the Colston Hall there could be no further ringing at St. Stephen's, but several ringers availed themselves of the offer of a pull at the Church of SS. Philip and Jacob during the evening.

Portishead has now thirteen members of the Guild.

It is hoped that it may be possible to hold the next quarterly meeting at Weston-super-Mare early in March, and an intermediate practice meeting at Portishead during January.

The Secretary reminds members that a few subscriptions are still owing for the year September, 1920—September, 1921, which she would be glad to receive.

A DISPUTED CLAIM.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As one of the ringers who took part in the peal of Stedman Triples, rung at Coalbrookdale on November 11th, 1921, and claimed to be the first peal rung in the method for the Salop Guild by an entirely local band, my colleagues have requested me to reply to Mr. C. R. Lilley's letter headed 'A Correction,' appearing in last week's issue of your paper. The only satisfactory way to decide anything of the kind is at the annual meeting of the Guild concerned, but as the claim has been challenged, I wish to state that it was made because we are all members of the local band of ringers at Holy Trinity Church, Coalbrookdale, ringers who have struggled on for years unanimously and happily together. Further, whilst the peal was being rung there was quite another good local band of Stedman ringers listening to it from various parts of the neighbourhood; ringers who are always welcomed and who are delighted to come to Coalbrookdale belfry. Mr. C. R. Lilley is quite well acquainted with their names.

Mr. Lilley states that the first peal of Stedman Triples rung by a local band for the Guild was at St. Alkmund's, Shrewsbury, on Feb. 17th, 1913; he mentions also the peals at Whitechurch and Wem. Unless he takes in the Lichfield Diocese, the Salop Archdeaconry and the county of Salop, to make up his local bands, the above peals were rung by mixed bands from various towers. The three peals were conducted by himself. I think I am right in stating that before he arrived at Shrewsbury he had several hundred peals to his credit, so he did not need much training as a 'local.' When Mr. Lilley also states that the three peals he mentions were rung in the Lichfield Diocese and the Salop Archdeaconry he means that Coalbrookdale tower is in the Hereford Diocese, but we have one honorary member (our Vicar) and 14 ringing members subscribing annually to the Salop Guild. We are nearly the last church on the northern border of the Hereford Diocese, and since 1905 have been loyal supporters of the Salop Guild. This year we have one hon. member and 15 ringing members, so I do not think we are any the worse for not being in the Lichfield Diocese. Further, I take it for granted that if a local band from Coalbrookdale had gone to Quebec, Canada, and rung the peal we should have been quite in order in making the claim we have.

Mr. Lilley also mentions that the peal at Wem was rung by the St. Chad's Society. We are continually being asked: What is the St. Chad's Society, and by whom and when was it started? Well, though I am a member I cannot say much about it, but I think it is about like the 'one man bands' we hear so much—one man is trying to play twelve beautiful instruments without the aid of the 'locals,' who were advanced ringers before he came amongst them. What a pity, when we come to think of it, that these instruments, which are the only peal of twelve in the county of Shropshire, are practically closed to every 12-bell band in existence! May I, in conclusion, advise Mr. C. R. Lilley to try and leave Coalbrookdale ringers in peace. We are quite happy.—Yours faithfully, for the Coalbrookdale Ringers.

WILLIAM SAUNDERS,

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

The annual meeting of the Yorktown District was held at Bagshot on Saturday, December 3rd, when about 30 ringers were present from Winchester, Sandhurst, Binsted, Ash, Horsham, Walton-on-Thames, Chertsey, Farnborough, Yorktown, and the local band. Ringing commenced soon after 3 o'clock, and the ringers later attended service, at which the Guild's form was used. The Vicar (the Rev. Canon K. Stuart) officiated, and a helpful address was given by the Rev. W. E. Colchester (hon. treasurer of the Guild). Tea was served in the Church Room, presided over by the Vicar.

At the business meeting which followed, the accounts for the past year were submitted, and passed, and showed a balance in hand of over £9.—The Vicar of Bagshot was elected an hon. member of the Guild, and the following officers were elected: Hon. secretary, G. Miles; Ringing Master, Mr. H. Chaffey; representatives on the Central Committee, Messrs. H. Chaffey and W. A. Woodrow; auditor, Mr. G. W. A. Gasson.

The places chosen for next year's meetings were: Yorktown in February; Thames Ditton in May; Horsell in August; and Chertsey for the annual meeting.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and church room, and for officiating at the service; also to the Rev. W. E. Colchester, who came from Winchester to give the address, concluded the meeting.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.
NEW SECRETARY FOR FYLDE BRANCH.

A meeting of the Fylde Branch was held at St. John's Church, Blackpool, on Saturday, November 26th. A few touches of Plain Bob and Grandsire preceded the business meeting. Mr. J. Tipping (Parish Church, Lytham) was elected President and Ringing Master for the ensuing twelve months.

The chief object of the business was election of secretary, in place of Mr. G. Maries, who has resigned, after occupying the post for 20 years. Mr. C. Sharples, of 32, Ormond Avenue, Blackpool, was appointed secretary, accepting the post on condition that the office becomes vacant annually, the retiring official being eligible for re-election.

It was resolved that the secretary arrange branch peals, the first peal attempt to be a farewell for the Rector of Bispham (Canon Leigh-ton), who is retiring at the end of December. The attempt will be made on Boxing Day.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the late secretary for his services, the meeting wishing him prosperity in his new business venture.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at the two six-bell towers of St. Peter and St. John.

Touches of Bob Major and Grandsire Triples brought the meeting to a close.

DONCASTER & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

A meeting of the Doncaster and District Society was held at Arksey on November 26th, when about 30 members were present. The standard methods were rung during the afternoon and evening. A short service was held in church, and was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. Rhys James), who is himself a ringer. Taking as his text part of Psalm cxxii.—'I was glad when they said unto me, We will go into the house of the Lord,' he delivered an eloquent and stirring address, and mentioned that the inscription on the tenor bell at Arksey, which was cast by W. Sellar, at York, in 1622, was—

'God send them heaven that hear us ring,
We praise Thy name when ere we sing.'

Tea was partaken of in the Schoolroom, and was presided over by the Vicar. At the business meeting, four new members were elected, and Mr. J. Eagles, A.R.C.Se., Principal of the Doncaster Technical College, was elected an honorary member.—The usual vote of thanks was passed.

SUFFOLK DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

There was a good representative attendance at the meeting of the East Suffolk Branch, at Framlingham on November 12th. It was agreed to accept the invitation of the Vicar of Stowmarket to meet at his town on December 10th, in order to hear his proposals for united working with the Norwich and Ipswich Association.

It was, however, agreed to pass the following resolution: 'That this meeting does not see how a joint working with the Norwich and Ipswich Association can be arranged.' Only the secretary and one other member voted against this.

It was also decided to hold a meeting at Ipswich later on, to finally settle the matter. Since then the Bishop has arranged to attend such a meeting on February 4th.

SIFOLDHAM, NORFOLK.—On Nov. 11th, at All Saints' Church, with the bells muffled, except the tenor at buck stroke, a date touch of Bob Minor (1,921 changes) in 70 mins.; W. Cousins 1, A. Bacon 2, B. Barker 3, C. Cousins 4, H. Porter 5, T. Price (conductor) 6.

INSTRUCTORS.

The question raised at the recent meeting of the Hereford Guild as to providing instructors for new ringers is one which ought to occupy a much more prominent place in connection with the work of many of our ringing associations than it actually does. Some of the organisations, it is true, provide facilities for teaching, but there are very few which really give systematic effect to them. Generally, an instructor is more or less indiscriminately appointed, he visits the tower for a certain number of lessons, and leaves the band to their own devices, so that they may or may not thereafter make progress. The association, unfortunately, takes very little interest after the instructor has been appointed.— We have known more than one instance of a band who have had a course of instruction, but who, so far as future effort is concerned, have failed to profit by the trouble expended upon them, and, in fact, have, on the contrary, very quickly slipped backward.

This, not infrequently, is the fault of the association and the lack of organisation to follow up the advantage which has been gained by the instructor's lessons. Except that the rules may provide for sending out paid instructors for helping beginners, few associations have any settled plans for carrying the teaching beyond the very rudiments of the art; indeed, it is often considered that when a band has been instructed in the way to ring a plain method like Bob Minor or Grandsire the responsibilities of the association have been fully discharged. Would it not be to the greater advantage of the Exercise, however, if instruction could be carried some stages further than this?

It may be advanced that, having been initiated into the elements of method ringing, a band ought to have sufficient interest and keenness to go on by themselves. Given the right kind of company, they will probably do so; but the majority of new companies are not so gifted, and in country districts, where they may be some miles removed from the nearest change-ringing tower, the absence of help and the difficulties which confront the beginner not only deter them from further progress, but sometimes result in the evaporation of interest and the gradual dropping away of the men until the band is so depleted that no change-ringing can be done. In some cases the band has, perhaps, to be content to confine its ringing to the one method which the instructor may have taught them. That they are unable to go ahead may be due to their limitations, and not to their fault. What we should like to see is in all associations a scheme for sending out instructors to teach the ringing of higher methods to those who are still unable to get further than plain methods. Why should there not be instructors for Stedman and Double Norwich as well as for Grandsire and Plain Bob?

BELLS! BELLS! BELLS!

Let the Music of the Bells celebrate Peace.

Messrs. CHARLES CARR, Ltd.

The OLD-ESTABLISHED firm of Bellfounders,

are now prepared to execute orders for all kinds of Bells, singly or in rings. Their foundry is equipped with every modern appliance for the manufacture of Bells of any size, weight or note, all their Bells being moulded and cast on scientific principles; while their knowledge of the 'Chemistry of Metals' enables them to produce that fine quality of Tone so much desired by all lovers of Bell Music.

In their finishing and fitting shops they have installed the most 'up-to-date' Tools and Machinery for the making of Bell Frames and Fittings, so that they are in a position to carry out the complete installation of Peals of Bells for Churches, or Sets of Chimes for Public Clocks, etc.

SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO THE RECASTING AND REHANGING OF EXISTING PEALS.

KENT RINGER'S DEATH.

With much regret we record the death of Mr. Fred Hayes, of Milton-next-Gravesend. He caught a cold, pneumonia set in, and he died on Thursday, December 1st, after quite a short illness.

Fred Hayes had been connected with ringing practically all his life, his association with Milton Parish Church extending over 40 years. He was a member of the Kent County Association for the whole of his ringing career, and had been a member of the College Youths since 1886. Only last month he journeyed to London for the College Youths Dinner, and remarked that it was the best he had attended. It was very singular that on that occasion he had his first and last pull on twelve bells at St. Giles', Cripplegate. As a ringer he was very safe, and his first thought was Sunday Service ringing. During later years he suffered with slight deafness, and found this a drawback at times in visiting a strange tower. Of how many peals he rang he did not himself keep a record, but during the past nine years the writer has rung over 30 with him, and can claim some knowledge of his ringing capabilities, comradeship, and good nature. He walked miles to further the cause of the Exercise, and how many ringers he has taught it would, indeed, be hard to say. In all his wanderings no bells were the equal of his favourite peal of six at Milton-next-Gravesend, and he will be sadly and sorely missed in many towers in the district.

He was buried on Tuesday, December 5th, amid many manifestations of sympathy. The first part of the burial service was read at Milton Parish Church under the shadow of whose tower he lived and died, and where he had done much yeoman service in the cause of ringing. The remains were afterwards interred in the beautiful cemetery at Swanscombe in the family grave. Many beautiful floral tributes were sent, among them being wreaths from Dartford, St. Stephen's, Baling, W., Swanscombe, Gravesend, Northfleet, Shorne, and a large bell from his past and present comrades at Milton-next-Gravesend. Mr. Hayes led a life that was well worth following, and now, at the age of 60 years, his earthly peal has finished.

By special request of the bereaved widow, the bells at his favourite tower were not rung during the time he lay dead, nor on the day of the funeral.

CHISLEHURST. — Kent County Association.—On Monday, Nov. 21st, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 45 mins.: T. Phillips 1, J. Bond 2, *P. Brett-Smith 3, H. Durling 4, R. S. Goodchild 5, R. Brett-Smith 6, T. Groombridge, senr. (conductor), 7, *F. Groombridge 8. * First quarter-peal on tower bells.

THE NEW KNIGHTS OF JERUSALEM.

For the third year in succession eight members of the Exercise met at the Church of St. John of Jerusalem, South Hackney, by kind permission of the Rector (the Rev. G. T. McLean), on Dec. 9th, to celebrate the capture of Jerusalem by the Allies during the war. On the second anniversary of that event, in 1919, a peal of Sledman Triples was rung in commemoration, whilst last year, on 'the day,' the same band met at the unveiling of a very fine peal board, which had been erected to record the peal.

This year, on Friday, December 9th, the band met again, and were welcomed at the church by the Rev. G. E. B. Mort, curate. A fine quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung by the following, standing in the same order as in the peal: C. T. Coles, A. K. Harrison, E. H. King, W. J. Kemp, H. J. Walton, A. R. Macdonald, A. D. Barker (conductor), A. W. Coles.

Afterwards, in company with the towerkeeper, Mr. A. Riley, a move was made to the Alexandra Hotel, Victoria Park Road, where a sumptuous repast was enjoyed, followed by reminiscences, etc., and altogether a very pleasant evening was spent.

The 'eight,' it should be noted, all served during the war with H.M. Forces in the East, and they hope to be able to celebrate this day together for many years to come.

Thanks are due to the Rector and curate at St. John's Church for making it convenient for the bells to be rung on the actual date necessary, and to Mr. Riley for having all in readiness. C.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A new treble, weighing 6 cwt. 3 gr., has been cast by Mr. Thomas Bond, of Burford, Oxon, and added to the peal of five at Ilmington, near Shipston-on-Stour, where the bells were rehung by Mr. Bond in 1902. The new bell bears the inscription: 'Thanks be to God who giveth us victory and peace. A. N. Warner, Rector; H. L. Terry, Ringing Master.'

A peal of London Surprise was rung at Kidderminster on Saturday as a compliment to Mr. T. J. Salter, on the completion of 40 years as a ringer, and 35 years as a Sunday Service ringer at the Parish Church. Mr. Salter is one of the few ringers who have rung 100 peals in their own tower. This he accomplished 14 years ago. It is 20 years since a peal of London was rung on the bells at Kidderminster, which, by the way, was Mr. W. Short's first peal of London. In those days, Kidderminster had one of the most progressive bands in the country.

The talented Gofton family have added yet another to their achievements, by ringing a peal of Stedman Cinques on handbells. The fact that we are getting accustomed to 'family' peals in no way detracts from the interest or the merit of the performance, and congratulations of the Exercise will be extended to these skilful ringers.

The suggestion made in our issue of November 17th, that Bristol would be a very suitable point for a 'triangular' dinner seems to have borne some fruit. We learn that a meeting is being held to-night in Bristol, to which all Guilds in that city have been invited to send a representative. It is probable that an announcement will appear in our notice columns next week, and, if this should prove to be the case, the Bristol ringers deserve hearty support from members of London and Provincial Societies for their enterprise.

It would be very appropriate if Mr. C. H. Horton (well known in Bristol, and a past Master of the College Youths), who reminded the Bristolians of their need for activities, would honour the gathering with his presence, and take with him a party from London. It is quite certain that if an annual dinner is instituted at Bristol it will be of the highest order.

Mr. E. H. Arnold, hon. secretary of the Westbury Bells Restoration Fund, writes: 'I am naturally delighted to hear of the splendid use Mr. Fussell made of the 118 miniature bells I sold him on our dedication festival, but I thought I should like to correct the impression that just over "100" were sold. We actually sold 2,450, and they were in demand after I parted with the last 100 to Mr. Fussell. In fact, I re-collected 20 for pressing buyers, the whole helping our fund to the extent of £30. The miniatures were sold at 3d. each.'

RINGER'S DEATH IN THE BELFRY.

TRAGIC ENDING OF A PEAL AT MANCHESTER CATHEDRAL.

We deeply regret to record the sudden death, in the bell chamber of Manchester Cathedral, on Wednesday, Nov. 30th, of one of the ringers, Mr. Richard Massey, who was 40 years of age.

An attempt was being made for a peal of Grandsire Caters which Mr. Massey was conducting, the ringing being in honour of the quinquenary of the Cathedral. The band were: C. McLoughlan 1, B. Massey (conductor) 2, R. Ravenscroft 3, W. Owen 4, J. Simpkins 5, H. Arden 6, W. C. Bridgeford 7, W. Sanders 8, A. Ridyard 9, J. Wright 10.

After ringing 2 hrs. 50 mins., Mr. Massey was seen to collapse and fall backward, his head striking the mat near the door, and his rope flying all over the room. In the excitement of the unexpected happening, it was a minute or so before anyone could go to Mr. Massey's help.

Every effort was then made to bring him round, but it was found he was beyond aid. Some difficulty was experienced in getting the deceased down the staircase to the ambulance. A doctor, who was called, said Mr. Massey died of a blood clot on the brain, caused by a degenerated artery, and death might have occurred at any time, at home or at business. An open verdict was given at the inquest.

The deceased was buried at St. Luke's, Cheetham, and many friends of the deceased and scholars from the Cathedral Sunday School attended.

The floral tribute from the ringers was in the shape of a bell, made of white chrysanthemums, with a clapper of red roses.

A memorial service was held on Sunday morning, when the bells were muffled.

To the deceased's wife and two children the Exercise will extend their deepest sympathy.

GLOUCESTERSHIRE RINGER'S DEATH.

The funeral of Mr. Charles Williams, for many years a ringer at North Cerney, Gloucester, took place on November 11th, when a half-muffled quarter-peal of St. Dunstan's Doubles was rung at the Parish Church by A. Dowdeswell 1, O. Bliss 2, W. C. Cuss 3, J. Hope (conductor) 4, J. Miller 5, W. Peachey 6.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION. WESTERN DISTRICT AT BRADFORD.

On Saturday, December 10th, the association were invited to Bradford Cathedral to the ringers' opening of the glorious peal of ten bells recently recast by Taylor to the memory of the men who fell in the great war. This magnificent ring proved a great attraction, and were heard during the afternoon and evening in a variety of methods.

A short service was held in the Cathedral, attended by most of the visitors present, when the Vicar, the Ven. Archdeacon Stanton Jones, gave a very inspiring address. At 5 p.m., about 250 members and friends sat down to tea in the Captain Street Schools.

The business meeting followed, with Mr. G. Bolland (vice-president of the district) in the chair, supported by the Rev. C. C. Marshall (president), and other officers. Several ringers were admitted as members of the association. No invitation being forthcoming for the annual district meeting to be held in March, it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the committee to select a place.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar of Bradford and wardens for the invitation and use of the bells and schoolroom, on the proposition of the chairman, seconded by Mr. P. J. Johnson.

Archdeacon Stanton Jones expressed his sorrow at the tea-tables that he could not stay to the meeting, and said it was a great pleasure to him to welcome the ringers to Bradford. He remarked that these meetings did a great deal of good, and said how helpful the quiet hour was that they had spent in the Cathedral that afternoon.

The Rev. C. O. Marshall, in moving a vote of thanks to the local ringers and ladies who assisted with the tea, said being now an old ringer he felt quite competent to judge a good ringers' tea as regards the quality and price. It was going back to the olden days when ringers used to cater and entertain the visitors, and he hoped it would be a precedent for future meetings.—Mr. J. Lawson, in seconding, said he had heard nothing but praise that day as to the beautiful tone and 'go' of the bells. It looked like old times again to see so many present, and did great credit to the Bradford ringers. He hoped it would be an incentive to other companies to make the Yorkshire meetings the same as they used to be.

Mr. Harvey, of the local company, in replying, said it was a great pleasure to see so many there, and hoped it would not be long before they had another meeting at Bradford. No doubt some of the visitors that day would not have the chance of ringing, but they would be welcomed at any practice on a Tuesday night, or at any other time.

A sub-committee was chosen to deal with the question of a wedding present (a model of a bell, or something similar, to be used as a gong) from the Yorkshire ringers to Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles.

The Chairman remarked that the present Ringing Master (Mr. P. J. Johnson) was retiring owing to the fact that he was now the general secretary of the association, and hoped members would look round and nominate someone for the position, due notice of which would be given on the circular for the March meeting.

A vote of thanks to the chairman concluded the business.

The room at the Talbot Hotel, reserved for handbell ringing and social intercourse, was taken full advantage of. Stedman and Grand-sire Caters, Kent Treble Bob Royal and Major were rattled off in great style. The meeting was the most successful ever held in the district.

SOUTHERN DIVISION.

The quarterly meeting was held at Barnsley on Saturday, Dec. 10th, when the following towers were represented: Arksey, Bolsterstone, Crofton, Darfield, Doncaster, Hoylandswaine, All Saints', Sheffield; Rawmarsh, Wath and Wortley, and good practice was obtained in Bob Major, Treble Bob and Stedman Triples, while later in the evening the six-bell experts of the neighbourhood had a turn to themselves. A short service was held, at which the Vicar officiated, and gave a short address, in which much good counsel and advice was given.

After tea, the business meeting was held in the ringing chamber, the vice-president (Mr. E. Willey) being in the chair.—Mr. W. Marsden (Hoylandswaine) and Mr. H. Crossland (Cawthorne) were elected members.

An invitation having been received from Handsworth to hold a meeting there, it was decided to hold the annual meeting of the division at that place on the third Saturday in March 1922.

Mr. Willey presented the result of his endeavours, on behalf of the David Breasley Memorial Fund, and was heartily thanked for his efforts and the trouble he had taken for this worthy object.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for the address, and to Mr. C. D. Potter for his kindness in making all arrangements, brought the meeting to a close, after which the majority of the visitors were the guests of Mr. Potter for a pleasant hour.

for ringing. With several new arrivals, the whole company adjourned to that tower, and several touches and courses of Stedman and Grand-sire Triples, and Bristol and Cambridge Surprise were rung. The meeting was thus turned into a success, from a ringing point of view, in addition to the success as a social event already assured to it.

EXTENSION OF METHODS.

BY THE REV. H. LAW JAMES.

The subject this week is Double Court: The bell the treble turns from lead hunts up $\frac{x}{2} + 1$ places, makes the place, changes with the treble in the middle; she then hunts $x-1$ places if she crosses the treble or $x-3$ places if she does not cross the treble and dodges, and continues to do this until the treble turns her from lead or behind.

These rules will ring the method on all even numbers, and on odd numbers also, by ignoring fractions and taking the next whole number above and crossing the treble and bell in the hunt between the making of the places.

In Minor, x equals 6. $\frac{x}{2} + 1$ is four, make fourth's place change with the treble in the middle, make third's, hunt $x-1$, that is, five places and dodge, 3 more places and dodge, 5 more places and dodge and treble turns you.

In Triples, $x=7$. $\frac{x}{2}$ is 3½, call it four.

Major Caters and Maximus produce four blows in front and behind, and are, therefore, useless.

Royal $\frac{x}{2} + 1$ equals 6, and $x-1$ equals nine

These rules will ring the method; what do they tell us about its extension?

From 6 to 7 add a bell in the hunt and hunt two more places between the dodges, that is, hunt one more place, for each added bell from 6 to 10, add four places to the dodging.

This proves that the extension of a double method with a plain hunt treble is simply the extension of the plain hunting between the dodges in proportion to the number of bells added, and so again the practical and theoretical extension agree.

I now think anyone can prove the same truth for Double Bob for themselves, and next week I shall deal with Double Oxford.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Mr. Law James is ambiguous. What does he mean when he says 'we have to take both (rival theories) into account'? Does he mean (1) that after the theoretical extension of a method has been obtained it is necessary to take into account its ringing value before starting to practise it? If so, we should, of course, all agree, but it hardly seems necessary to have mentioned so obvious a fact.

Or (2) is he trying to bring home to the practical ringer the value of the scientist's efforts on his behalf by pointing out that the scientific extension is likely to appeal to the ringer by producing on all numbers similar work on the part of individual bells occurring in the same order? His illustration seems to suggest this, and it is a valuable addition to the points mentioned in my last letter.

Or (3) there is another possibility which I should hesitate to suggest owing to its utter absurdity, were it not that others of our recognised experts appear by their writings to have fallen into the heresy. Does he really mean that the investigator is to try to combine in his extension mathematical considerations with the requirements of practical ringing? To this the answer is simply that the extension of a method is either a mathematical process or it is not. Mathematics will allow no half-hearted following. You must go wherever it leads you, or you must leave it alone altogether.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

THE BELLS OF ST. JAMES', CLERKENWELL.

The North and East District of the Middlesex County Association and Loudon Diocesan Guild met at St. James', Clerkenwell, on Saturday, December 10th, and a good company of ringers attended in the hope of a pull on this historic peal of bells. Unfortunately, however, the bad 'go' of the tenor made the ringing anything but pleasurable, so that the touches rung were limited to a few of Stedman and Grand-sire Triples.

A short service was held, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. J. Parker), who afterwards presided at tea, in company with the church-wardens. A very nice meal had been prepared, and was much enjoyed after the hard work of the afternoon. A course of Stedman Caters was rung on the handbells by Messrs. C. T. Coles, W. Pye, G. R. Pye, J. Thomas and B. S. Thompson.

At the subsequent business meeting, two new members were elected. A hope was expressed that something might be done to put the bells into ringing order again, and, in replying to a vote of thanks, the Vicar stated that the matter would be given serious thought. The great difficulty was the expense, as the church was situated in a very poor neighbourhood, but they would see what could be done. He stated that he was sorry that not much ringing could be done that afternoon, as they had looked forward to the visit of the society.

By the kindness of the Rector of St. Andrew's, Holborn, and Mr. J. Raynor, steepkeeper, the bells at that church were made available

THE C. H. HATTERSLEY MEMORIAL.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The remarks contained in your issue of December 9th, written by A. T. Baker, can be assessed at the same value as those of a spoilt child, who cries because it cannot have all its own way. They are simply the outcome of personal feeling on the part of one who walked out of the Cathedral tower because another member of 35-40 years' standing dared to say two words in reply to Mr. Baker during an argument.

He states that he only incidentally mentioned the matter of a memorial dinner outside the committee meetings, so that evidently his abilities in that sphere were not a success, as he hadn't the strength of conviction to bring the matter forward in a proper manner.

It is still the wish and desire of those intimately connected with the late Mr. Charles Henry Hattersley to hold a commemorative dinner, but it is obvious to us that the initiation of such a scheme is more exhaustive and expensive than the continuance of those at present in vogue, especially so, when we wish to make it a success that would correspond with the esteem in which the late gentleman was held by his many friends.

The fact of your article in the issue of October 14th advertising the C.H.H. Library, and the willingness with which we are pleased to lend any books to those who desire them, certainly disposes of the selfish creed which we are alleged to possess; also, we might add, applications for volumes from our library collection have been so numerous lately that we have reluctantly been unable to satisfy the demand.

Bearing in mind that with a view to economy, and as an example to other bodies, the Sheffield Cutlery Company decided to postpone their annual function this year, we did not think that the present was a suitable time for the inauguration of a memorial dinner, but we feel sure of the support of those who really know us immediately we are able to carry same out.

In conclusion, may we add that 'A.T.B.' is not gifted with Sheffield birth, that he will have to measure 'six-feet' very quickly if he does not desire to see a 'C.H.H. Memorial Dinner.'—Yours faithfully,

COLIN HARRISON, W. LOMAS, G. HOLMES, J. THORPE,

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The first annual social of the Preston Branch was held at Chorley on Saturday last, and was in every way a complete success. The bells of the Parish Church and of St. Mary's (R.C.) were available from 2 till 5, and the first named were utilised again from 5.45 to 6.30, whilst the second sitting for tea was in progress. Standard methods, with the addition of Double Norwich and London and Cambridge Surprise Minor, were rung during the afternoon. It is rather a pity that the 'go' of the bells at St. Mary's is affected by the excessive vibration of the tower, and in consequence there is no regular ringing at this church.

Tea was served in the Gymnasium of the Church Institute, and the attendance was rather startling to the organisers, no less than 127 adults and nine children sitting down. However, the caterer was equal to his task, and the tables were loaded with good things which, needless to add, rapidly disappeared from view. A second sitting was necessary for a few owing to limitations of the seating accommodation. Tea over, a whist drive took place in the upper room, about 100 taking part, the caterer very kindly presenting the prizes. The successful players were: Ladies: 1 Mrs. Martin, 2 Miss Kearney. Gentlemen: 1 Mr. Cliffe, 2 Mr. Wm. Nelson. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and singing, a small ringers' orchestra providing the music. These gentlemen, who deserve a special word of praise, considering they had not previously played together, were Messrs. Jas. and Percy Watkinson, of Leyland, violin and clarinet; J. H. Gartside, of Chorley, piano. Handbell selections were rendered by Mr. Booth and his daughter, of Standish, and drew an encore on each occasion. Songs were rendered by Miss Gartside, Messrs. Jas. Miller and J. Watkinson.

At an interval, Mr. Lofthouse read an apology for absence from the Rector of Chorley (the Rev. Archdeacon Allen), who was confined to the house with a chill.

Mr. J. T. Miller of Leyland, then proposed a hearty vote of thanks, firstly to the Rectors of the Parish Church and St. Mary's for the use of their bells; and, secondly, to the Chorley ringers for their very complete arrangements made for the social.—This was seconded by Mr. R. Sanderson, of Preston, and was unanimously carried. Mr. Lofthouse suitably acknowledging the motion.

The proceedings terminated with the National Anthem, about 11 p.m., everyone voting the affair, what is called in Lancashire, 'A gradely good do.'

It will certainly not be the last 'annual' social for the Preston branch. The large attendance represented some twelve towers, along with the ringers' wives and lady friends.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting of the Rochester District was held at Swanscombe, on December 3rd, when a good number of ringers attended. A short service was held in the church, and the Rector (the Rev. Campbell Ward), an hon. member of the association, welcomed the members to his parish, and gave an eloquent address. The organist, Mr. C. Horridge, also attended. The Rector and Mrs. Campbell Ward invited the ringers to tea, and 36 sat down to an excellent spread.

Prior to the business meeting, the district secretary, Mr. F. M. Mitchell, informed the members of the death, that had taken place two days previously, of Mr. Fred Hayes, of Milton-next-Gravesend, one of the oldest members of the association in the district. He reminded them that he (the speaker) had been associated with the late Mr. Hayes at the same tower ever since he was a ringer, and was a pupil of his, and was in a position to speak of his excellent qualities. A good ringer, Mr. Hayes loved a good peal, but his first thought was for Sunday Service ringing, and now that death had claimed him, he proposed that the district's deepest sympathy be extended to the bereaved widow, and to Mr. George Hayes and Mr. and Mrs. W. Harper.—The proposition was carried in silence by all standing.

The Rector took the chair for the meeting, and four new members were elected.

The secretary's report and balance sheet held over from the annual meeting were read and adopted.

Three towers were proposed for the next meeting, and on a vote being taken, Rainham was chosen, the meeting to be held on Saturday, 25th February. In the event of Rainham not being obtained the alternative tower is to be Gillingham.

The Secretary stated that the district's total to date for the county war memorial was £6 3s. 9d.

A discussion was initiated by Mr. W. Harper regarding the date of the annual general meeting of the association, and from the remarks it was clear that the meeting were not in favour of the date.

Mr. W. Haigh proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Campbell Ward and the Rector for so kindly entertaining them to tea, also to the Rector for the use of the bells and for conducting the service.—In replying, the Rector said it gave them great pleasure to receive the district, and regretted that there were not more there, and he hoped their next visit would be in the summer, so that they could have a large gathering, and he and Mrs. Ward would be pleased to entertain them on the lawn.—The secretary promised to remember this.

A collection for the Gravesend Bell Restoration Fund realised £1. Ringing continued until 9 o'clock, and all methods up to Cambridge and Superlative were rung. Forty members attended during the ringing, including members from Lewisham district, and Prittlewell, Essex. It would hardly be a meeting of Rochester district without the latter ringers.

DEATH OF MR. C. CHAPMAN, CHALFONT.

The death has occurred at Chalfont St. Giles, of Mr. Charles Chapman, who was for upwards of 25 years a member of the Parish Church belfry, and also for some years a member of the Oxford Diocesan Guild. Deceased, who was 46 years of age, had suffered from heart trouble for some time, and passed away in his sleep on the night of Wednesday, November 30th. He had been at his work as usual during the day, and on the previous Sunday evening rang the treble to a 720 of Minor before the service. He was much respected in the village, being of a quiet and obliging disposition, and was very regular in attendance for the Sunday Service ringing, and also at the services.

He was laid to rest on Tuesday afternoon, December 6th, in the picturesque little churchyard of this old-world village, the Rector (the Rev. H. O. F. Whittingstall) taking the service, and the ringers acting as bearers. Amongst the floral tributes was a wreath of chrysanthemums. 'In remembrance and with deep sympathy from his brother ringers.' The bells were rung muffled, after the service, and during the evening. The sympathy of the Chalfont ringers; and, in fact, of everyone in the parish goes out to Mrs. Chapman and her young family in their sad bereavement.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

The last meeting of the year for the Stockport Branch was held at St. Paul's, Staley, on Saturday, December 10th, about forty members being present. In the absence of the Vicar (the Rev. Canon Sheriff), through indisposition, the service was conducted by the Rev. A. T. Beeston. The usual tea and business meeting followed, with Mr. J. H. Jackson in the chair.

Much useful discussion took place, as to the best way in which fresh methods may be mastered. This was the result of a question raised by the local ringers, who are desirous of making progress.

It was unanimously resolved that the annual branch meeting shall in future be the first meeting of each year instead of the last, as formerly was the case, and the next meeting will be held at Norbury on Feb. 11th, 1922.

The usual votes of thanks concluded the meeting.

The bells (eight) were well requisitioned, but to ring them is 'labour,' not 'capital,' and it is to be hoped that in the near future the authorities will call in the bell hangers. The local ringers are keen, and, though at present they ring only Grandsire, they strive to maintain the essential of all ringing—good striking.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the North-West District of the Essex Association was held at Saffron Walden, visitors joining the local company from Cambridge, Newmarket, Sawston, Ely, Bishop's Stortford, Royston, Stansted and Rickling, to take advantage of the opportunity of ringing on the twelve bells. The Vicar (the Rev. L. Hughes) conducted a short service, and the Rev. G. M. Benton gave an address on the use of bells. Miss Dennis presided at the organ. After tea, at the Abbey Temperance Hotel, the business meeting was held, the Vicar being supported in the chair by the Rev. G. M. Benton, Mr. F. Pitstow (Master of the Saffron Walden company), Mr. F. J. Pitstow (general secretary and treasurer of the Association), Mr. F. Dench (district secretary), Mr. R. A. Strong (secretary of the Saffron Walden company) and Miss V. Shorter (general secretary of the Ely Diocesan Association).—The Vicar extended a cordial welcome to the visitors, and expressed the pleasure it gave him to help in furthering the cause of bell ringing, which, he said, had been going on solely as an English art for several centuries.

Mr. F. Pitstow and Mr. F. Dench were re-elected Master and secretary respectively of the district, and the Rev. G. M. Benton was elected an honorary member.—Votes of thanks were accorded to all who had contributed to make the meeting both interesting and successful.

It was decided to hold the next meeting of the district at Roydon and Hunsdon in the New Year.

DEATH OF A SHILDON RINGER.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. E. J. Titt, which took place on November 18th, at his residence, King Edward Street, Shildon, after a few days' illness. The deceased was 67 years of age. On Sunday, November 20th, his remains were laid to rest in St. John's Churchyard, near the tower, under the sound of the bells he loved so well, and amid many tokens of sorrow and respect. A short touch on handbells was rung over the open grave at the conclusion of the service.

Deceased learned to ring at St. Andrew's, Bishop Auckland, and was conductor for several years. On his removal to Shildon, in 1900, the people of St. John's were contemplating building a new tower and installing a peal of bells. He got together a band of young men, and taught them change ringing in his own house, and, obtaining practice at Bishop Auckland on the tower bells, they were able to ring for both services on the first Sunday after the new bells had been dedicated. Deceased became a member of the Durham and Newcastle Association in 1884, and was also a member of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association. He took part in 32 peals, conducting 4. By his death the church has lost a keen worker, and the ringers a friend whom to know was to love. The deepest sympathy goes out to the sorrowing widow and family.

On December 7th a muffled peal was rung on the bells of Shildon Parish Church.

HEREFORD GUILD.

A combined practice of the Hereford district was held at Moreton-Lugg, on Saturday, December 3rd, members being present from Madley, Holmer, Wellington, Lugwardine Hereford and Burghill. The bells are a light peal of six (tenor 7 cwt.), by Meats and Stainbank, but the ropes hang in an indifferent circle, the third being in the centre of the ringing chamber, so that it is not an ideal place for change ringing. Several 120's of Grandsire and Bob Doubles were brought round; also a 720 of Bob Minor, the first on the bells, which was rung in 26 minutes by Ivor Probert 1, W. H. Symonds 2, C. Edwards 3, W. Williams 4, H. J. Taylor 5, F. Arrowsmith 6. This would be an ideal tower for some special conductor to call a peal of Minor blindfolded.

DEATH OF MR. A. SHUTTLEWORTH.

Mr. Abraham Shuttleworth, for 40 years a ringer at Widford, Essex, has recently passed away. On Wednesday, December 7th, a band met at the Parish Church to ring a memorial peal, but were prevented from starting on account of a C.E.M.S. meeting. However, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples, with the bells deeply muffled, was rung by A. Edwards 1, P. Timson 2, C. Pease 3, J. Wood 4, A. Head 5, E. P. Buckingham 6, W. Lincoln (conductor) 7, A. H. Bewers 8.

THE POSITION IN 12-BELL TOWERS.

The pointed comments upon the condition of ringing in the twelve-bell towers of the country offered by our correspondent 'Once a Beginner' will be read with interest. The writer of the letter has as wide a personal knowledge of the matter as most people, and, speaking generally, it must be admitted there is little that can be disputed in his review of the position. The centres where twelve-bell ringing is really seriously cultivated are far too few, compared with the number of twelve-bell towers, and 'Once a Beginner' puts his finger unerringly upon the principal causes.

In several cases, of course, the bells are not sufficiently good a condition to make ringing an attractive occupation; in others, the surroundings are such that opportunities are exceedingly limited, and in either of these circumstances little can be effected, although, we think, the development of a greater enthusiasm might eventually result in getting the dilapidated rings put in order. In a considerable number of instances, however, neither of the foregoing reasons can be advanced for the lack of good twelve-bell ringing in the towers favoured with sufficient bells. Absence of real interest and enterprise and, as our correspondent puts it, the absence also of men with the necessary personality is, unfortunately, largely responsible. A man may be a clever ringer and a good conductor, and yet be a poor leader. This may be said with regard to ringers in every kind of tower, but it applies with additional force in the case of twelve-bell companies. Ringers are notoriously difficult teams to handle, and the man who can keep his band together and make them ringers of the first order, keen and capable, is not to be found in every tower. This kind of leader is born, not made, and we suppose the twelve-bell towers have only got their proportion of them.

At the same time, it is a pity that we do not find a more general activity in the twelve-bell towers. 'Once a Beginner' mentions some of those wherein there is real 'life,' and others could be added; but there is too long a list of places where, from one reason or another, little is done, and that little is all too poor. Those ringers who are privileged to have control of a peal of twelve ought to look upon their position as one carrying special responsibilities. They have the opportunity of extending the art of ringing in a direction which comparatively few can share, and if they really cherish the true interests of their calling, they will see to it that their bells are in the best condition, that their belfries are the best ordered, and that their ringing is of the best kind. Bad ringing is a source of annoyance to the public as well as to the good ringer; lack of unity and of enterprise in a single belfry is a weakness to the whole structure of the Exercise; and it is to the twelve-bell towers of the land that the rest should be able to look for leadership and example. Improvement cannot be expected all at once, but where ringing does not already reach the highest standard there is nothing to delay an immediate beginning if the ringers themselves like to will it.

DEVIZES BRANCH.

A monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Steeple Ashton on December 3rd, ringers being present from Keevil, Trowbridge, Steeple Ashton, and Westbury. Ringing in the afternoon was followed by tea at the Tongs Arms, and a short business meeting followed. Mr. W. Gale, of Molksham, was elected a ringing member of the Guild.

The Chairman reminded the members that that was the last meeting of the year, and they only had a month to look round and see who they were going to put into office for 1922. He would not be seeking re-election himself, as he felt the time had come when he would not be able to attend the meetings so regularly. He concluded by proposing a hearty vote of thanks to Canon Knubley for the use of the bells.—The Canon, in reply, said he hoped the branch would come in the summer, when next they visited Steeple Ashton, as it was a very pretty place. He also hoped to have a young band of ringers ready to join the Guild by that time, as Mr. W. Baxter, of Trowbridge, had offered to instruct them.

DEATH OF A LIVERPOOL RINGER.

The death occurred at Liverpool, on Wednesday, November 30th, of Mr. Thomas J. Morris. Deceased had been a ringer of St. Mary's, Grassendale, for upwards of 40 years, and had taken part in 15 peals for the Lancashire Association at Garston, Grassendale and Halewood.

The funeral took place at Allerton Cemetery, on Monday, December 5th, prior to which a service was held at St. Mary's, Grassendale, at which the Vicar (the Rev. G. H. Jobling) paid an eloquent tribute to the loyalty and faithfulness shown by the deceased. The coffin was borne to the grave by four of the late Mr. Morris's fellow ringers, viz.: T. Jennion, J. Allen, senr., J. Allen, junr., and S. Finch, assisted by T. Hammond, junr., and J. H. Moore. Among the numerous floral tributes were wreaths sent by St. Mary's, Grassendale, company, and also from St. Nicholas', Liverpool.

On Sunday, December 4th, the bells were rung half-muffled for each service, and on the Monday evening following, a peal of 5,040 changes. Much sympathy is extended to Mrs. Morris and her family in their sad bereavement.

FINE 'CENTURIES.'

Mr. Arthur Mason, who the other day completed his first century of peals, almost all of which have been rung since the war, has a list which few ringers of a hundred peals can equal. It includes 55 Surprise peals, among them 10 of Cambridge Royal, and 12 peals of Stedman Cinques. Mr. Mason has had the opportunities, and he has made the most of them.

The peals comprise Grandsire Triples, 1; Grandsire Caters, 1; Stedman Triples, 16 (conducted 1); Stedman Caters, 5; Stedman Cinques, 12; Bob Major, 4; Granta Treble Bob Major, 1; Kent Treble Bob Major, 1; Kent Treble Bob Royal, 1; Double Norwich Major, Superlative Surprise Major, 11; Cambridge Surprise Major, 8; Cambridge Surprise Royal, 11; Bristol Surprise Major, 15; London Surprise Major, 10; total, 100.

With a peal of Bristol Surprise at Leiston, Mr. J. M. Bailey completed his 100 peals on the bells, and is the fourth member of his family to do so. The century includes peals in no fewer than nine Surprise methods, and the following is the list:—Grandsire Triples, 1; Stedman Triples, 6; Bob Major, 5; Kent Treble Bob, 14; Oxford Treble Bob, 5; Double Oxford, 1; Double Norwich, 10; Superlative, 19; Cambridge Surprise, 16; New Cambridge Surprise, 4; Yorkshire Surprise, 1; Norfolk Surprise, 1; Guildford Surprise, 2; Suffolk Surprise, 1; Bristol Surprise, 11; London Surprise, 3; total, 100.

EXTENSION OF METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—First of all to answer Mr. Powell. He says that my statement is ambiguous, and gives three possible meanings. Of course, I agree with his first statement, but I am really at work trying to bring home to the practical ringer the fact that the scientific extension of a method is the only one that is possible, whether it be practical or not. The third of his statements is not, to my mind, a possibility at all.

Now we turn to Double Oxford.

The Minor is obviously a combination of Double Court and Double Bob; Triples is the same with a bell in the hunt added; Major is a combination of Double Norwich and Double Bob, and so it is not the same method as the Minor, and, as far as I know, it is the only case in which Shipway made a mistake, but Shipway's mistake may stand, because the real Major is not a practical method, but Shipway's Royal is wrong, and the true extension is much better. I add a lead of the Major and Royal, and anyone who has followed my previous letters will be able to practise a similar formula to extend the method, and also to ring it by; proving what is true of all plain hunt methods, that the extension is nothing but an extension of the plain hunt.

Major.	Royal.
12345678	1234567890
21436587	2143658709
24163857	2416385079
42613587	4261830597
46231857	4628135079
42638175	6482310597
46283715	6482301957
64827351	6482039175
46283751	6840293715
etc.	8604927351
	8840293751
	etc.

The Major is useless, and the Maximus is also useless, as they involve four blows in front and four blows behind, but the correct Royal is a fine method.

Next week I shall deal with Double Norwich.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Sixty years a ringer at one church is a proud record, and the Exercise will join in congratulating Mr. Harry Crossland, of Cawthorne, Yorks, upon completing such a long period of service in one belfry. A peal was rung to celebrate the event, and Mr. Crossland, happily, was able to take part in it.

Another veteran ringer takes his place in the belfry every Sunday, wet or fine, at Stowmarket. This is Mr. C. Souther, who is in his 84th year. He resides two miles from the church, and goes regularly to and from the belfry. On Sunday, December 11th, on the occasion of the dedication of a war memorial chapel, he took part in ringing before and after morning service, and then walked home to dinner, and back again to ring for afternoon service. We raise our hat to the Stowmarket veteran, whose example should be an inspiration to many men 50 or 60 years his junior.

The ringer of the 7th, at Colwall, Herefordshire, on November 19th, should read Edward W. Turner, instead of Ernest W. Turner, as published. It was Mr. Turner's first peal in the method.

The Christmas holidays have always been a favourite time for long peals. Among those rung on Boxing Day have been 15,168 Kent Treble Bob Major, at Elland, in the year 1831; 8,066 Double Norwich, at Leiston in 1885; 9,312 Superlative Surprise, at Crawley in 1895; 9,728 Superlative Surprise (record), at Clent in 1910; and 11,111 Stedman Cinques (record), at St. Martin's, Birmingham, in 1901.

On December 27th, 1904, 17,104 Double Norwich was rung at South Wigston, and 10,106 Double Oxford Bob at Brierley Hill on the same date in 1909. On December 28th, 1820, 6,609 Stedman Cinques, the longest length in the method at that time, was rung on the famous peal in the Bull Ring.

Mr. John Bernard Woolley, elder son of the Vicar of Long Stanton, has been awarded a scholarship for science of the value of £80 at Jesus College, Cambridge.

We extend to all our ringers the best wishes for 'A Happy Christmas.'

BOY'S EXTRAORDINARY PERFORMANCE.

An extraordinary performance has been done by Gordon Turner, an 11-year-old boy, of North Anston, near Sheffield. He cannot ring, but has been visiting the belfry fairly regularly for the last six months. He has proved very observant, and has grasped the idea of composition and the way in which touches are called. On Sunday evening, December 11th, he stood in the belfry and conducted 729 of Anston Surprise Minor, the bells being rung by R. Smith 1, W. Platts 2, H. Stenton 3, H. Turner 4, S. Smith 5, C. Fowler 6. The ringer of the 4th is the father of the boy, who has already surpassed his parent in his knowledge of figures. The lad gives promise of a great future in connection with ringing.

INSTRUCTORS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Your leader of December 16th covers a subject that is very much in need of attention by all the associations that there are. None of them pay the attention they ought to do to the novices: as you say, a short course of instruction is nothing to what should be done, and it would do a power of good if all the instructors were gathered together and a good course of instruction given to them on 'how to instruct,' for they sadly need it.

The gift of being able to teach is not granted to many. Many men are good ringers, and can conduct in a lot of methods, but they have not got the ability to impart their knowledge to others, and are never in sympathy with their pupils. I know a number of good ringers who are used by their associations as instructors, who never get their hands to grasp their meaning, however hard they work, because they have not got that one gift which really good schoolmasters possess—the ability to retain the attention of their class and concentrate it on the object in view. If one man with the bump of teaching well developed is sent as instructor to a young band, though he can only ring Plain Bob, that band will make more progress than the band taken in hand by a Surprise ringer who has not got the gift of imparting knowledge, and associations would do well to recognise that fact.—Yours truly,
ONCE A BEGINNER.

BREDENBURY.—On Friday, Nov. 11th, at the Parish Church, 720 Oxford Bob Minor and 360 Bob Minor: A. Tomkins 1, W. Watkins 2, W. Mantell 3, J. Hamer 4, A. Tomkins (conductor) 5, R. Bethell 6. Rung in honour of Remembrance Day.

CHELMSFORD.—At All Saints' Church, Springfield, 360 Bob Minor, with the bells half-muffled, in honour of fallen comrades. Afterwards the muffles were removed, and 1,260 Bob Minor was rung by the following local band: J. H. Myhill 1, W. Prail 2, J. Poulton 3, A. E. Davis 4, B. Kemp 5, E. Buckingham (first quarter as conductor) 6. This is the first attempt in this method by the first five ringers.

THE TWELVE-BELL TOWERS OF ENGLAND

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In your leader on this subject in your issue of December 9th, you say it is a very gratifying feature to see the steady growth of the number of rings of twelve bells, and you are quite correct; but it would be just as gratifying if you could publish the fact that all those in existence were used as they ought to be. Newcastle-on-Tyne have a twelve-bell company, who are whole-hearted, and use their bells. Yorkshire is in 'proud' possession of no less than five rings of twelve, and in not one of the five is it a pleasure to ring on ten, never mind the twelve. In one of them, the twelve have not been pulled up for years, and a prominent ringer told me that there had not been a new ringer taught in that tower within his memory. In two of the others it would be advisable to take a course of Sandow's developer before trying to ring; in yet another the two trebles are so sweet that it is nicer to leave them alone; in still another when there are twelve there to ring 'em, it is something like this: 'Get hold for Cinques; go, Stedman, bob!!! Stand—let's have another start,' and so on till time is up.

In Lancashire only one of the three 12-bell rings are worth visiting, one lot won't 'go,' and the other lot can't go. West Bromwich want a little delicate attention from the bell doctor. Wolverhampton are awake, and Birmingham—well, if you spend much time in the historic Bull Ring you won't visit many of the 12-bell towers between there and Newcastle, as it is like cold bacon and fried up 'veg.' for breakfast, after a Johnson Dinner. Worcester have got men who ring the twelve bells, but they have a lot to contend with. Cambridge and Oxford are worse off still, and we hear but little from a dozen other twelves. Why is this?

One reason I know only too well, and that is that the person or persons in charge of these towers have not got a twelve horse-power personality. It takes a man with an enormous personality to keep together a band who can ring twelve bells as they should be rung, and to override all the little petty spites and jealousies which crop up in any tower, and on twelve these are, of course, quadrupled. The person who would pull his tower out of the rut and keep his band together and keep them in peal form must have exceptional abilities, and when there is such a one in the vicinity of a 12-bell tower the band should take care that they have his services, and not be held back because the one in charge is apathetic or incapable of being a 12-bell leader.

Let me say, in conclusion, that I heartily endorse the letter by Mr. Baker, re a C. H. Hattersley Memorial Dinner, and would point out that no doubt the very best tribute to the memory of a great composer was to ring someone else's composition as his funeral peal. The late Mr. C. H. Hattersley was a gentleman who would never have countenanced that.—Yours truly,
ONCE A BEGINNER.

BATH & WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting was held at Long Ashton on Saturday, December 17th, when about 50 members were present. Ringing on the beautiful peal of eight bells commenced shortly after 2.30, and was continued until 4 p.m., when a short service was held in the Parish Church, the Vicar (the Rev. — Varley) officiating, and giving a very interesting address. Tea was partaken of in the Church House, after which the business meeting was held, the Master (the Rev. C. C. Parker) presiding.

The Master moved a vote of deep sympathy with Mrs. and Mr. A. Wilkins in the very great loss they had sustained by the death of Mr. R. J. Wilkins. The late Mr. Wilkins was a very keen ringer, and although living out of the diocese of Bath and Wells, very seldom missed a meeting of the association, if it was within reasonable distance of Bristol.—The motion was carried in silence, the members standing.

A few new members were duly elected.

The Chairman then brought up the matter of affiliation fees, and, referring to the circular letter which had been sent to all Vicars where the ringers were members of the association, said it was hoped that the Church Council would see their way to pay the fee.

The place for the next meeting was fixed for Ditchat, after Easter.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. — Varley for arranging and officiating at the service, and for the use of bells, and to the ladies who arranged the tea, brought the meeting to a close.

Further ringing then took place.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

A combined practice was held at Winchester Cathedral, on Wednesday, December 14th, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Cinques were rung.

A meeting for combined practice was held at Romsey on Saturday, December 17th, those present including Mr. G. Williams, Mr. P. Gave (late of Bristol), and members from Southampton, North Stoneham, Bishopstoke, and the local band. The methods practised were Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Double Norwich, and a touch of 448 Cambridge Surprise Major.

In the foregoing table is given a lead of Cambridge Surprise Major, the rows of which are numbered in the column to the left of it. On the right the nature of each row, positive or negative, is intimated by the sign plus or minus. Note that the lead as here given is the true scientific lead. In this particular lead rounds occupies the place of the backstroke blow of the treble's whole-pull lead, and the thirty-one rows which follow are obligatory. The row preceding rounds may be one of two, i.e., it may be either 12436587, or 13246587. Similarly, the row following 15372846 may be either 15738264, or 13578264. There is, therefore, a break before rounds, and after 15372846; but the rows beginning with rounds and ending with 15372846 form one unbreakable block, and rounds is not the 'lead-end,' but the 'lead head,' and stands as the characteristic of the 31 rows which follow it. These 32 rows constitute lead I. of the plain course. Similarly 5738264 is the lead head of lead II. Similarly also in any other course (as we are assuming throughout that the tenors are together) the number of the lead may be immediately deduced from the position of the tenors in the lead head. Thus 6547283 is the lead head of lead V. in the course whose course-head is 4625378, or, more briefly, 46253.

The fourth column in Table I. gives the lead heads which will produce in the other possible position the two rows opposite which they stand. An example will make this clear. Take No. 6—5347862. This stands opposite the two positive rows 27641835 and 72468153 (rows 11, 12), and what it tells us is that these same two rows will be produced in rows 23, 24 (the other two positive rows with the treble in 5—6) in the lead whose head is 5347862. And similarly with all the other 13 lead heads in this column. It will be seen that though 16 are given there are in reality only 14, as Nos. 7 and 8 occur twice. This column is, therefore, the column of 'False Lead-heads.'

In Table II. the top horizontal row of figures with the Roman numerals above them are the lead-heads of the seven leads of the plain course. In column I are given the fourteen false lead-heads, each with its number to the left, taken from Table I. By employing these as operators we can get the fourteen false lead-heads of the other leads of the plain course; or, in fact, of any lead of any course. For instance, take No. 6 (5347862) in column I. If the corresponding false lead-head in, say, lead IV. is wanted, then by applying 5347862 as an operator to 4263857 we get 3265784, which is the false lead-head required. This last is not given in the Table for the reason now to be explained.

We are considering the method only so far as the tenors (7, 8) are kept together, i.e., are kept in the relative paths which they pursue in the plain course. So long as this feature is preserved it is manifest that no lead-head can occur in which the two tenors taken together occupy positions not found in the plain course. Now, in the lead-head just instanced (3265784), the tenor is in 7th's. But in the plain course lead-head, with the tenor in 7th's, the seventh is in 5th's.

whereas in 3265731 it is in 6th's. This lead-head, therefore, cannot possibly occur, and we need not trouble about it. This being so, only those false lead-heads are given in the Table which have the tenors together, except in column I., in which of necessity all the false lead-heads are given, those with the tenors together (Nos. 3 and 7) being underlined.

TABLE II.

Table with 7 columns (I-VII) and 14 rows of numbers representing lead-heads.

46253-V 32546-V 24765-III 32546-VII 46253-VI 24365-VI 32546-III

Beneath the columns are given the course-heads and the number of the lead in the course in which the false lead will be found. Take, for instance, 6583724 in column III. This is lead VII. from the course-head 3254678.

Since, as stated above, we are considering the method only in so far as the tenors are kept together, it will be found that there are only four points in the course at which bobs can be called. These are: (1) Between leads III. and IV., (2) between IV. and V., (3) between VII. and I., and (4) after lead II. But as this has the effect of cutting out leads III., IV. and V., we shall dispense with it—at least for the present.

Now, as for the present, we are ignoring B (Before), and are considering only bobs M, W and H, it is manifest that the course divides itself into three parts or blocks, that is (1) the first three leads, (2) the fourth lead, and (3) the last three leads.

We are now in a position to assemble and put in order the false course-heads at the foot of Table II. A moment's inspection will show that though these, as they there stand, are fourteen in number, they are capable of considerable compression.

We can now proceed on a voyage of discovery with the object of finding how many of the sixty courses can be selected as true with each other, and of setting against them the courses with which they are false.

We are much helped at the outset of our search by the three false course-heads ending in 65. When these are fully worked out against the three in the first column ending in 56, it is found that each of the 85's is false against each and every 56, so that we at once get the fundamental principle that courses with the bells reversed in 5-6 are false to each other, and that, therefore, having had any two bells in 5-6, we cannot have them reversed in those places.

Accordingly we write down three course-heads ending with 56, and twelve more in similar sets of three with the bells in 5-6 in a regular rota. The meaning of the rota may be seen by running the eye down the bells in 6th's, which will be found in the order 6, 5, 3, 2, 4, those in 5th's showing the same rota beginning with 5.

Note here that we have as yet nothing to do with the ten courses, and all their belongings below the transverse line. That portion of the Table is for the present to be taken as blank. We shall come to it presently.

TABLE III.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION. WESTERN DIVISION MEETING.

A successful quarterly meeting of the Western Division was held at Arundel, on Saturday, December 17th, the following towers being represented: Angmering, Arundel, Amberley, Brighton, Keene, Billingshurst, Kirdford, Pulborough, and Shoreham.

A short service was held, and an address by the Rev. C. Winn (Rector of Arundel). Afterwards the company adjourned to Owen's Restaurant, where 27 sat down to an excellent tea.

At the business meeting which followed, the Rev. C. Winn presided. No new members were elected. Goring was selected for the next quarterly meeting, in March.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for presiding, and for the use of the bells; also to Mr. Caldwell for making the arrangements for the meeting. These gentlemen suitably responded.

It was announced by Mr. Burdfield that the Vicar of Billingshurst (the Rev. R. O. Johns) invited members of the association to the opening of the bells on Saturday, December 31st. Tea will be provided. Members accepting the invitation are requested to advise Mr. Burdfield, High Street, Billingshurst, by Wednesday, Dec. 28th.

After the meeting, the company again visited the belfry, and the bells were kept going in various methods until 8.30, when the bells were lowered in peal.

STOKE ARCHIDIACONAL ASSOCIATION.

PRESENTATION TO BELFRY LEADER.

On Saturday, December 3rd, the annual meeting of the above association was held, and the ringers of the Stoke Parish Church (N. Staffordshire) took the opportunity of unveiling a fine peal board, which had been erected in the belfry, commemorating the ringing of 5,088 Kent Treble Bob Major on July 16th, 1921—the first peal rung in this method on the bells. It was conducted by Mr. C. H. Page, one of the local ringers. The tablet was unveiled by Mrs. G. J. P. Fleet, wife of one of the churchwardens.

Later in the meeting another pleasing incident took place, a presentation, consisting of a gold watch chain and bell pendant, being made to Mr. S. Churton, who had been leader of the ringers for 21 years.

The Rector (the Rev. H. V. Stuart) made the presentation, and remarked that he was pleased to see such good feeling existing among the ringers.—In acknowledging the gifts, Mr. Churton said a great surprise had been sprung on him, and he greatly appreciated the handsome present and the kind feelings which his brother ringers had for him.

Mr. Churton is well known in the North Staffordshire ringing circles, and has rung between 30 and 40 peals in various methods. He took over the leadership at Stoke from Mr. H. Page, who resigned in June, 1900, but Mr. Churton has been connected with the belfry for about 37 years, and, as the presentation indicates, is much respected by his brother ringers.

THE BELLS OF ST. MARGARET'S, LEICESTER.

RE-DEDICATION OF THE RECAST RING.
A £100 ROADSIDE COLLECTION.

Saturday and Sunday, December 10th and 11th inst., were memorable days in the history of Leicester, for on the former, the newly recast bells of St. Margaret's returned from Messrs. Taylor's foundry, and were paraded round the city, accompanied by St. Margaret's ringers, with handbells, and the Ivanhoe Prize Band. A collection en route amounted to nearly £100, and on returning to the church, the bells were unloaded and placed under the tower in readiness for the re-dedication on the following morning by the Lord Bishop of Peterborough.

On Saturday evening, the ringers were entertained to tea by the Vicar, and a representative from each of the other local towers, while Mr. Denison Taylor and Miss Taylor, of the bell foundry, were also present. After tea a very pleasant evening was spent with music, handbell ringing, etc., which was very much appreciated and enjoyed by all present.

On Sunday morning, in the presence of a large congregation, which included the High Sheriff of the county (Mr. J. E. Faire, J.P.), the Mayor (Councillor Heath), and members of the Corporation and Board of Guardians, the Bishop dedicated the new ten bells, and gave a most interesting address, speaking from the words, 'O come, let us sing unto the Lord, let us ring out our joy unto the God of our salvation—a translation of Psalm xcvi. 1. He spoke entirely on bells, their history, peculiar uses, change ringing, and foundries, and rightly said that St. Margaret's would have a peal of bells which would compare favourably with any in the country, and would be the proud possessor of the first peal of twelve in the Peterborough Diocese.

The offertory on behalf of the bell fund amounted to £174, and in the afternoon the children came forward splendidly with a collection of over £10.

The services were continued in the evening, when the late Vicar (the Very Rev. Provost Lethbridge, of St. Mary's, Glasgow) preached a powerful sermon. The collection at this service amounted to £27, and the Vicar announced that a gentleman whose name was withheld, but who had already given £105 to the fund, had been so touched by the splendid service, that he would provide the cost of the two new trebles.

Thus in two days, by a united effort, a sum of £500 was raised, and it now requires but £250 to clear the whole debt and St. Margaret's people are hoping that ere the bells ring out their first peal on Christmas morning, they will go so free from all charges. Mr. Ernest Morris again earnestly appeals to all ringers who can to help in this great scheme. Mr. Morris's address is 24, Coventry Street.

The old tenor weighed under 30 cwt., but the new bell is 32 cwt. 3 qr. 14 lb. net. The old marks and inscriptions have been faithfully reproduced, with the addition of the founder's mark, and 'recast 1921' on the waists, and on the tenor:—

Recast 1921
in memory of
W. Quinton Lander,
Corporal, 4th Leicesters, who fell at the Hohenzollern Redoubt,
October 13th, 1915.

The two new trebles will simply bear the date and founder's mark. St. Margaret's, Leicester, will thus be the first church to possess a peal of twelve in the Peterborough Diocese, and they will also be the heaviest in the county.

DEATH OF MR. JACK COOKE, BEDFORD.

It is with great regret that we announce the death of Mr. P. J. Cooke, better known as 'Jack' Cooke, of the St. Peter's company, Bedford, who passed away on Friday, December 9th, after a long and painful illness.

The deceased was only 34 years of age, and for many years was a member of the St. Peter's company. There is no record of his peals, but he was in the first peal of Surprise Minor rung in the county, and by the Association.

The remains were laid to rest on Monday in the Bedford Cemetery. After the funeral at St. Peter's Church, a 720 Cambridge Surprise was rung with the bells half-muffled: T. Harpin 1, Miss D. Steel 2, C. W. Clarke (conductor) 3, Miss E. Steel 4, C. A. Robinson 5, H. L. Harlow 6; and a 720 London Surprise: T. Harpin 1, Miss D. Steel 2, C. W. Clarke 3, Miss E. Steel 4, H. L. Harlow 5, W. Stapleton (conductor) 6.

Several wreaths, including one from the St. Peter's and St. Paul's ringers, as a token of respect and deepest sympathy, were laid on the grave. The ringers were represented at the graveside by Mr. H. L. Harlow, the district secretary.

CRANLEIGH RINGER'S SUDDEN DEATH.

The Cranleigh band and the Winchester Diocesan Guild have lost one of their oldest members, in the person of Mr. William Streeter, who, at the age of 62 years, fell dead in his bedroom on Saturday, December 3rd. The deceased had been a regular service ringer at Cranleigh for 46 years. He was of a particularly jovial disposition, and a general favourite with his fellow-ringers and workmates.

The funeral took place on Wednesday, December 7th, the Rev. P. Cunningham (Rector) officiating at the church service and at the cemetery. At the end of the service he added a few kindly words of appreciation and consolation, which had their effect on all assembled at the graveside.

The bells were rung half-muffled for both services on Sunday, and, although owing to the fact that the 5th bell is cracked and away from the tower for recasting, and it was not convenient or desirable to do much ringing under such conditions, a 360 of Bob Minor was rung with the bells half-muffled immediately after the funeral by the following: Mrs. R. Whittington 1, H. Tidy 2, J. Goacher 3, H. Charman 4, A. Charman 5, R. Whittington 6. Mr. Goacher kindly stood in to make up the band. He is a member of the Clendon band, and a nephew of the deceased.

HIGH WYCOMBE.—For evensong, on Dec. 11th, at All Saints' Church, in 1 hr. 2 mins., a quarter-peal (1,306) Steelman Cinques: F. Hayes (conductor) 1, R. Coles 2, J. Gransbury 3, E. R. Coles 4, J. W. Wilkins 5, F. K. Biggs 6, G. White 7, G. Twitchen 8, F. Boxall 9, P. S. C. A. Smith 10, S. T. Goodchild 11, H. C. Ingram 12. First quarter of Cinques by P. S. C. A. Smith, and first quarter of Cinques by the local band since the return of the service men. Rung with the bells half-muffled.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.MANCHESTER BRANCH.

The monthly meeting of the Manchester Branch was held at the Town Hall, on Saturday, December 17th, and was well attended, between 50 and 60 ringers being present. The ringing commenced soon after three o'clock, and was kept up in various methods till 7 p.m., when the bells were lowered in peal owing to there being an organ recital in the large hall.

The business meeting was presided over by Councillor A. Trippier, of Eccles, who asked the members present to stand in silence a minute as a tribute to the memory of the late Mr. Richard Massey, of the Cathedral band, who died suddenly in the tower under circumstances already reported.

The Chairman called attention to the small number of peals being rung, and thought it showed a lack of interest in change ringing. He asked the members to try and bring it back again to the usual standard, and get younger persons to take to the ringing art. He also made a strong appeal for support of 'The Ringing World,' saying it was still not supported as it ought to be, as it was the only paper the ringers had, and it would be a misfortune if it were allowed to die out through lack of interest.

Two new members were elected, viz., Miss A. Brierley, of Miles Platting, and Mr. E. Jenkins, of Warrington, late of Suffolk. The members were treated to some good handbell ringing from Triples to Cinques in Grandsire and Stedman, by Messrs. A. Bailey, J. W. Washbrook, senr., J. W. Washbrook, F. Page, H. Chapman, A. Ridyard and E. Jenkins.

The Branch Secretary would like to receive subscriptions from the members at the next meeting, which is to be held at the Cathedral on Saturday, January 14th.

Votes of thanks to the town hall officials, the local ringers, and the chairman, closed an excellent meeting.

LINSLADE, BUCKS.—On Sunday, Dec. 11th, for evening service, at St. Barnabas Church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: G. White 1, F. Dedman 2, W. Jeffs 3, J. Sear 4, A. Vickers 5, W. Dedman (conductor) 6, F. Vickers 7, A. E. Seddon 8. Rung to welcome the Rev. T. H. Liddiard, formerly curate at Linslade, who was preaching at St. Barnabas.

THE CLOSING YEAR.

At the end of a year it is customary to review the preceding twelve months, and in a stocktaking of 1921, there is not a little that should give cause for gratification to ringers. The recovery of the Exercise, remarked upon a year ago, has, for the most part, gone steadily on, and while nothing of unusual interest stands out to make 1921 exceptional, there has, we think, been an all-round progress, which is one of the best guarantees for the future. We do not know how the peal records will compare with the preceding twelve months when the figures have been completed, but a superficial survey points to an improved standard in the methods rung. Surprise peals would appear to be practised in an increasing number of centres, and this is the best indication of a rising quality in ringing generally. It is good to notice this feature of progress, which is far more satisfactory than a growth in the number of Surprise peals by just one or two individual bands.

As we have so often remarked, however, peal ringing is not the chief object for which ringers carry on their work. The first duty is to the Church, and we believe that the past year has seen a steady improvement, not only in the regularity of service ringing generally, but in the quality of the ringing. This steady application to the principal task before the Exercise has had its reflection, too, in the peal ringing, and it has been gratifying to read, with increasing frequency, of peals rung by Sunday service bands. If ringers would realise to a greater extent than they do that the promotion of this phase of their work is the surest road to success as a band, and, consequently, to their aspirations in peal ringing, even more rapid results might be attained.

If there is satisfaction in the general review of ringing it must be said that, individually, the associations have had a good year. There have, of course, been difficulties in some quarters; but they are not always a cause for regret, because triumph over difficulties leads, in the majority of cases, to a stronger position in the end. For ourselves, we had to face our own testing-point in the early months, and we were, happily, justified in the bold line that we took. We shouldered the risk, and our readers stood by us, although the response from new subscribers was not wholly what we had hoped for, and we trust our friends will not imagine that there is reason to relax their efforts in aiding us to extend the circulation. The bad old practice still exists in many places of taking one copy for a tower. If only every ringer affiliated to an association could be induced to take an individual copy, the sale would be increased more than three-fold, and this would enable us to provide a paper of a very different style. However, we

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting of the Fylde Branch was held at the two six-bell towers of Lytham (St. John's and St. Peter's, E.C.). Ringing commenced soon after 3 p.m., at St. Peter's, in Plain and Treble Bob, after which the members adjourned to St. John's, where the business meeting was held.

Nine new members were proposed, eight from Bispham and one from St. John's, Blackpool.

The monthly peal was postponed a day, viz., until Tuesday, Dec. 27th, owing to family re-unions, etc.

The next meeting will be at St. Anne's-on-Sea (eight bells, tenor 18 @wt.).

A few touches of Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob brought the meeting to a close.

It was the best attended meeting for a year or two, though still leaving great room for improvement in numbers. The enthusiasm, however, was all that could be desired. All ringers desiring the use of Bispham bells should address their letters to Mr. C. Sharples, 32, Ormond Avenue, Blackpool.

BOLTON BRANCH.

One of the best attended meetings of the year, of the Bolton Branch, was held on Saturday week at Walkden, when members met from Bolton Parish, Holy Trinity, Deane, Newchurch, Tyldesley, and the local churches, with visitors from Eccles, Worsley, Pendleton, Crewe, and Bury. A special feature in the ringing was the good striking, and touches in the following methods were brought round, viz.: Grand sire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Cambridge and Superlative Major.

At the business meeting it was decided to hold the December meeting at Farnworth. A discussion arose on the appointment of a Ringing Master for each meeting for the purpose of looking after the interests of the younger aspirants who come to meetings, and, being too shy to ask for any particular method, sometimes go away without a pull. The later was left, for the time being, in the secretary's hands.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to the ringers for their assistance, brought a very useful and successful meeting to a close.

MUFFLED RINGING AT BISHOPSGATE.

It was with profound regret the ringers of St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, learned of the death of Mr. E. Harvey Cook, who for many years was clerk to the vestry, and also clerk to the Bishopsgate Foundation, in which he took a keen interest. The funeral took place on Monday, December 5th, and in the evening the bells of St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, were rung deeply muffled, as a last tribute of respect to his memory. The ringers who attended were Messrs. T. Walker, A. S. Pettitt, R. Sanders, C. S. Burden, W. Turner, E. G. Fenn, H. Langdon, R. F. Forward, W. C. Dowding, E. E. Holman, W. Rushton, and W. A. Alps, who conducted the ringing, which consisted of Stedman and Grand sire Triples. — Mr. Churchwarden Walker thanked the ringers for thus showing their appreciation of the good work carried out by Mr. E. Harvey Cook.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

NORTH BUCKS BRANCH.

A quarterly meeting of the North Bucks Branch was held at Stoney Stratford on Saturday, December 3rd, when a fairly representative gathering, numbering about 25, attended from the following towers: Bletchley, Beachampton, Calvertou, Fenny Stratford, Shenley, and the local ringers. A short service was held, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Last), the address being given by the President of the Branch (the Rev. J. R. Vincent, of Shenley).

After service, tea was provided in the Parish Room, thanks to the splendid arrangements made by the Vicar. The meeting had a very pleasant surprise, by the presence of the Master (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), who attended both the service and tea, and also took part in the ringing before service; but owing to the long distance he had to travel, and to the restricted train service, he had to leave after tea, when the members adjourned to the tower for further ringing.

The Master brought with him for inspection the Oxford Guild 'Roll of Honour Book,' containing full details of members who had served, etc.

The usual vote of thanks was proposed by the secretary to the Rev. Last, and to the ladies who had so kindly arranged for the meeting and catering, etc., and this was suitably responded to by the Vicar.

The Master having passed a few kindly remarks with reference to the work of the branch and ringing generally, a very pleasant meeting was brought to a close.

The methods rung during the afternoon and evening ranged from Grandsire Doubles to London Minor.

LEYTONSTONE DELIGHT.

St. John the Baptist Society, Leytonstone, having rung 720 of the Third's Place Delight, No. 35, on page 29 of 'Legitimate Methods,' at St. John's, Leytonstone, on Monday, 19th December, 1921, have claimed for it the name of Leytonstone Delight. It was rung by: P. H. Avey 1, G. L. Joyce 2, A. Prior 3, E. D. Smith 4, W. Miller (conductor) 5, J. Moule 6.

RINGERS' DINNER AT HANDSWORTH, SHEFFIELD.

The St. Mary's Guild held their first annual supper on Saturday, December 17th, on the anniversary of the opening of the peal of eight at Handsworth. The ringers first rang a few touches of Bob Major, after which an adjournment was made to the Church School-room, where a hot dinner awaited them. Thanks are due to Mr. and Mrs. Turner, of the Old Crown Inn, for the catering.

After dinner various toasts were honoured.

The President (the Rev. W. A. Baker) made a presentation, on behalf of the Guild, to Mr. Fred Watkinson for the valuable services he has rendered to the ringers. Speaking of the progress of the ringers, he said seven members had rung in a touch of 1,008 Bob Major, and three members in a 672 (their longest touches), which spoke for itself, as not one member understood anything of change ringing twelve months ago.

Mr. Watkinson, after accepting the present, which was a complete surprise, spoke of the pleasure it gave him to teach the Guild, and remarked that the enthusiasm of all the members amply repaid him for his efforts. He urged them to work together in unity, and endeavour to give their best to the glory of God and the service of the church. Their progress would then never be in doubt and peals would quickly follow; but these should always take second place in a ringer's ambition.

The rest of the evening was spent in handbell ringing, songs, monologues, and games.

REMEMBRANCE DAY.

BURTON LATIMER.—Central Northants Association.—On Remembrance Day, November 11th, with the clappers half-muffled, 1,260 Grandsire Triples, in 49 mins.: J. Pettitt 1, H. Meadows 2, J. Saddington 3, H. Saddington 4, M. Norton 5, B. J. Saddington 6, G. Lines (conductor) 7, H. M. Saddington (longest length) 8. First quarter-peal on the octave by an entirely local band.

MILTON-NEXT-GRAVESEND, KENT. — On Friday, Nov. 11th, with the bells half-muffled, an attempt for a peal of Minor came to grief, after 1½ hours, during which 720 Double Oxford and Woodbine Treble Bob were rung, the shift occurring at the end of Cambridge Surprise: F. A. Mitchell 1, Miss E. M. Goodship 2, H. Argent 3, A. R. Copelin 4, F. M. Mitchell (conductor) 5, G. Morra 6. First attempt for a peal by F. A. Mitchell, he not having previously rung a 720 on the treble. He was congratulated on his ringing.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

DORCHESTER BRANCH MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Dorchester Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, at Dorchester, on December 15th, was marked by a pleasing presentation to the Hon. Secretary, Mr. C. H. Jennings, of Wyke Regis, in recognition of the valuable work he has done for many years. Ringing was done at St. Peter's and Fordington Churches during the afternoon, and service was held at the former, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. G. C. Niven), assisted by the Rev. C. A. Phillips (hon. secretary of the Winnborne Branch).

The Rector gave an address, dealing with the history of bells, and we take the following extract from the 'Dorset County Chronicle': In the Dorchester deanery, said the Rector, there were only three churches which had mediæval bells, namely, Fordington St. George, Came, and Monkton. At the Reformation certain things were ordered to be destroyed, but in this category bells seemed to have been forgotten. Even bells which had inscriptions on them about the Romish Church or the Virgin Mary were left untouched. In the time of Queen Elizabeth there was a man named John Wallis, of Salisbury, who cast many bells for churches in Dorset and Wilts, which were doing first-class work now, although many of them had been recast. Wallis was a man of few words, but of great taste in his inscriptions on the bells. For instance, at West Stafford two are inscribed 'God is faithful' and 'Serve ye the Lord'; one at West Knighton bears the inscription 'Praise the Lord'; two at Whitcombe, 'Hope well' and 'Love God.' In a list of bells made in the year 1350 there were five at Dorchester St. Peter's—four great bells and a lych bell, which afterwards came to be called the passing bell. In 1734 those bells were recast, and that was why there were no mediæval bells there now. The man who founded the bells was Thomas Bilbie. In 1750 two trebles were added to complete the octave, but, said the Rector, he had only been able to give the record of seven. In 1808 one bell was recast, and there was a further recasting in 1889. The inscriptions on St. Peter's bells were as follows:—Third (formerly the treble)—'Although my sound is but small, I will be heard among you all'; sixth—'God send us good luck'; seventh—'Come, let us go up to the house of God'; tenor—'Ring to the praise of God.' The Rector gave details of inscriptions on some village bells, one of which, at Preston, he said, was rather vindictive—'See in what estate they live, nothing unto the poor they give,' while the tenor in the same church was inscribed 'At thy departure I shall sound and ring to bring thee to the ground.' The Rector observed that at one period it was customary to boast about the founders, and all sorts of undesirable inscriptions were placed on bells. As a lesson from the bells, he asked his hearers that, inasmuch as their eyes and ears must be up when they were in the belfry, so also might their hearts be up as well.

After the service, the members and friends adjourned to St. Peter's Institute, where they were hospitably entertained at tea. The arrangements were admirably carried out by Mrs. F. G. Longman, who had the assistance of several willing helpers. A business meeting followed, under the chairmanship of Mr. R. N. Dawes (chairman of the branch), who was supported by the Revs. G. C. Niven and C. A. Phillips, Mr. F. G. Longman (parish warden of St. Peter's), and Mr. H. C. Jennings, of Wyke Regis (hon. secretary and treasurer of the branch).

The Hon. Secretary read letters of apology for non-attendance from the Revs. F. Ll. Edwards (general secretary of the Guild), C. J. Neate (Frampton), and B. D. Reed (Puddletrenthide), Major Hughes D'Aeth (Master of the Guild), who sent Christmas and New Year greetings), Messrs. F. W. Townsend (Poole), T. Harvey Beams (assistant general secretary of the Guild and hon. secretary of the Bridport branch), J. North (Milton Abbey), W. Hewlett (Puddletown), and W. Bedford (Bere Regis). In his letter, the Rev. B. D. Reed said that at present it was not possible to bear the cost of necessary repairs to the Puddletrenthide church tower, but he hoped the time would come when it would be possible to raise the required amount.—The Chairman said the branch had been interesting itself in the matter in the hope of getting the tower strengthened, and that to the fine peal of bells an addition of three should be made.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

The Hon. Secretary, in the course of his annual report, said:—'The year 1921 completes our first decade as a branch of the Diocesan Guild, which has made steady progress in this healthy and useful Church work since its formation. The objects are (1) to recognise the true position of ringers as Church officials, (2) to encourage the due care and use of church bells and belfries, (3) to cultivate change ringing. In the year of its foundation (1911) the branch started with five towers and a membership of 47, and at the present time we have 12 towers and a record membership of 114. I would urge all the incumbents and ringers who are not at present in the Guild to join, and reap the advantage to be gained, to say nothing of the good fellowship that springs up among this loyal body of Church workers. Quarterly meetings were held at Wyke Regis, Puddletown, Buckland Newton (the first held there), and Dorchester St. Peter's. In addition to these a visit was paid to Buckland Newton in June on purpose to start the local band in change ringing, and the Dorchester and Fordington bands visited Frampton to try the rehung peal of six. At the latter place the tenor bell has been recast by Taylor's, of Loughborough, and the other five have been rehung by Messrs. Doble, of Taunton, making a handy ring of six, the tenor being 16 cwt. A plucky attempt was made at Wyke Regis on Easter Monday for a peal of Grandsire Triples, but unfortunately it was lost after ringing two hours and 45 minutes, Mr. Wiffen conducting. Some of our six-bell towers have found it rather difficult to master the art; we trust that in the coming year arrangements will be made for help and instruction. The Secretary visited Buckland Newton on two occasions and gave them a good insight in the art, and we hope all the towers will take it up seriously. Muffled ringing was general through the district on May 8th as a mark of tribute and respect to our late Lord Bishop, also on Remembrance Day (Nov. 11th), in honour of our glorious dead; Wyke Regis celebrated the 30th anniversary of the bells by a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples on Whit-Sunday. Our greatest thanks are due to the incumbents and friends for providing tea at the quarterly meetings and giving the members a hearty welcome, also to Major D'Aeth, who has greatly assisted us by his presence at all our meetings; to our Chairman, for his continued good work; to Mr. J. G. Godwin, who has placed his car at our disposal. The Branch Secretary would like to personally thank the various secretaries of our tower for their continued good work to the Guild. The Secretary wishes to make a suggestion that our towers should bring on some more young ringers. We regret to report the loss, by death, of Mr. S. G. Hodges, Dorchester, well known as the father of the branch, who took an active interest in our work for a number of years, and was one of the founders of the branch; and also Mr. R. Barnes, of Bere Regis. Our sympathy goes out to Mr. Tim Hyde, one of our old members, in his sad loss.'

The Chairman, in moving the adoption of the report, congratulated Mr. Jennings on his excellent work, which had resulted in a most satisfactory increase in the membership of the branch. He also referred sympathetically to the death of their old friend, Mr. Hodges, which was a great loss to the bell ringing world.—Mr. W. Bowring seconded, and the report was adopted.

It was reported that the balance sheet was not quite complete, but it was hoped to have a balance in hand of about £4, and, subject to audit, it was provisionally adopted, on the motion of Mr. H. Thomas, seconded by Mr. W. J. Simons.

Mr. Edgar Guise (general secretary of the Gloucester and Bristol Association) and Mr. Dibbens, of Bristol, were elected life members of the Dorchester branch.

It was resolved that the quarterly meeting in March should be held at Wool.

On the motion of the Rev. G. C. Niven, seconded by Mr. W. J. Benger, the meeting unanimously re-elected Mr. Dawes as chairman, and he suitably expressed his thanks. Messrs. G. T. White and W. J. Benger, both of Dorchester St. Peter's, were re-elected as Ringing Master and Deputy Master respectively. Mr. J. T. Godwin (Dorchester St. Peter) was re-appointed as the committee branch representative on the Guild.

PRESENTATION TO THE HON. SECRETARY.

The Chairman, in proposing the re-election of the hon. secretary and treasurer, paid a warm tribute to the devoted services of Mr. Jennings since the formation of the branch. Unfortunately, it was doubtful if he would remain in the district, although they sincerely hoped that he would—(hear, hear)—but should it happen that he had to leave them he would be a valuable asset to any ringing Guild with which he might become associated. The members felt that they would like to recognise in a substantial manner his services to the branch, and, thanks to the energy of Mr. Thomas, £10 had been raised from the various towers as a little testimonial for Mr. Jennings.—Mr. White having seconded the motion for Mr. Jennings' re-election, it was agreed to.

The Chairman then handed the cheque to Mr. Jennings, saying, 'I have much pleasure in presenting it to you as a little Christmas present, with our best wishes and thanks.'—Mr. Jennings, who was received with cordiality, tendered his sincere thanks to the members for their handsome gift, and he especially thanked the chairman and Mr. Thomas. It had always been his endeavour to do his utmost for the branch, and in the departments of Church work with which he was connected he regarded bell ringing as No. 1. He spoke with appreciation of the success that had attended the efforts of the Guild in getting bell ringers to recognise their true position as Church officials.

The Chairman proposed a comprehensive vote of thanks to the Rev. G. C. Niven for the use of the church, and for his interesting address, and also to Mrs. Longman and her kind helpers for providing such a bountiful tea. Further, he thanked Mr. Longman for showing interest in the branch by attending the service and meeting.—The vote, which was carried with acclamation, was seconded by the Rev. C. A. Phillips, who incidentally alluded to the work of Mr. Jennings, and described him as a model secretary.

Arising out of a suggestion by the Master of the Guild, it was decided to ring a peal at Dorchester St. Peter's on the 21st in celebration of the enthronement of the new Bishop of Salisbury.

CENTRAL COUNCIL MINUTES.

OFFICIAL MINUTES OF THE 1921 MEETING.

The first session of the eleventh Council (twenty-ninth meeting) was held in the Upper House of Convocation, in the Church House, Westminster, on Tuesday, May 17th, at 11 a.m. There were present 71 members, including honorary members (representing twenty-eight Guilds and Associations), which was generally deemed a most satisfactory attendance, especially in view of the outstanding difficulties due to the Railway Strike.

After the meeting had been opened with prayer, the Honorary Secretary said the Council would hear with great regret that the President (the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey) was unable to attend the meeting, owing to his suffering from neuritis, and he was sure the Council would share his (Mr. Davies') grief that they would have to proceed to the election of another president. He felt it would be no kindness to Mr. Boughey to re-elect him, and they must proceed to the election of a new president.—On the motion of Mr. W. T. Cockerill, seconded by Canon Baker, Canon Coleridge was unanimously elected president for the ensuing three years.—A vote of sympathy with the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey, and of sincere thanks to him for his services, was passed.

The Rev. C. D. P. Davies, the honorary secretary and treasurer, having intimated his intention of resigning, Mr. E. Alexander Young, of the London County Association, who had been nominated, was, on the motion of the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, seconded by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, duly elected to the office.—Mr. Davies, on the motion of the President, was most cordially thanked for his long and valuable services to the Council.

The minutes of the last meeting having been published, were taken as read, and duly confirmed and signed. Arising out of the minutes, Mr. Davies said that he had had a reply (practically an anonymous one) in respect to their recommendation on the subject of the demolition of London churches, and that the towers retaining rings of bells should, wherever possible, be spared. The reply briefly stated that the Bishop's Commission was no longer in existence. Mr. Davies also referred to the very satisfactory interview that he and Mr. Young had had with the authorities at the Victoria and Albert Museum, from which there was every reason to hope for good results.

Apologies for absence were received from Canon Papillon, the Rev. H. Drake, the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, the Rev. T. Lewis Jones, Miss Gillingham, Messrs. H. Argyle, G. Boland, John Carter, T. R. Dennis, C. Edwards, H. Haigh, C. H. Howard, E. H. Lewis, T. Metcalfe, W. Parker, J. W. Seamer, W. R. Small and R. Warner.

Before further formal business was proceeded with, the Rev. C. D. P. Davies said that it had been arranged to lay a wreath upon the Unknown Warrior's grave that day. This was to be a tribute from the ringers of England to those ringers who fell in the great war. The Council were further informed that the Dean of Westminster had kindly offered to conduct a short service upon the occasion, and to allow handbells to be rung after. The offer was duly and gratefully accepted, as was that of Mr. W. T. Cockerill to arrange a band, and Mr. A. A. Hughes' offer to provide the handbells.

The Hon. Treasurer presented a statement of accounts, of which the following is a summary, viz.: Balance in hand last year, £63 15s. 7d.; affiliated fees received, £12 10s.; interest, £3 8s. 2d., and received from sale of publications, £3 17s. 9d., making with the balance a total of £85 11s. 6d. Against those there had been the expenditure for printing, etc., £9 17s. 3d.; postage, etc., £1 5s. 4d.; stationery, etc., 13s. 5d., leaving a balance in hand for this year of £71 15s. 6d. The statement of accounts having been audited in detail by the Standing Committee, was, on the proposal of Mr. W. Shepherd, seconded by Mr. A. T. King, duly accepted as correct.

The Honorary Librarian, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, read a statement of the sale of publications, showing that the net receipts by sales had been £3 17s. 9d., against £16 13s. 2d. in the previous year. He raised the question of the additional cost this year in respect to posting and advertising, and proposed that the additional charge of £2 12s. 6d. per annum for advertising should be paid, and the same was unanimously agreed to. A proposal that the postage should be added to the cost of the publications was lost.—The Hon. Librarian referred to the books on ringing, which are now being collected in the library, and asked for further gifts. Mr. W. Willson and Mr. R. Narborough, and others, kindly offered to give certain volumes which were missing from the collection.

The Hon. Secretary then read a list of those honorary members, whose names came forward for re-election, and on the motion of Canon Baker, seconded by Mr. George, Messrs. J. Carter, E. A. Daniell, C. D. P. Davies, J. S. Pritchett and J. A. Trollope were re-elected, and Mr. A. T. King and Major J. H. B. Hesse were added; Canon Papillon, whose term also had expired, not being desirous of re-election.

New members attending for the first time were then formally introduced to the president.

On the proposal of Mr. J. S. Pritchett, seconded by the Rev. E. W. Carpenter, the previous Standing Committee were unanimously re-elected, viz., the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey, the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, Canon G. F. Coleridge, Canon H. J. Elsee, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, the Rev. H. Law James, Messrs. W. T. Cockerill, R. A. Daniell, J. Griffin, A. T. King, E. H. Lewis, and A. E. Parsons, and it was further agreed that Mr. E. A. Young, the new honorary secretary should be added to the same.

The Council then passed to the consideration of the reports and work of the various committees.

THE PEAL COLLECTION COMMITTEE.—Mr. H. W. Wilde having reported and spoken as to the work of the committee referred especially to the help given by Miss Parker in typing the collection of Treble Bob Peals, and a hearty vote of thanks to Miss Parker was put from the chair, and carried unanimously. The committee, consisting of the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, Messrs. J. A. Trollope, H. W. Wilde and J. W. Parker, were then duly re-elected, and on the proposal of Mr. J. Griffin, seconded by the Rev. E. W. Carpenter, Miss Edith K. Parker was added to the committee.

THE LITERATURE AND PRESS COMMITTEE.—The Rev. C. E. Matthews having reported as to the work of the committee, the following members were then duly re-elected, viz., the Rev. C. E. Matthews, the Rev. A. T. Beeston and Mr. R. A. Daniell (Canon Papillon having resigned), and on the proposal of the President, seconded by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, Mr. G. E. Burton was added to the committee. (See also subsequent addition).

The Council then adjourned at 12.50 p.m. for the purpose of attending at the grave of the Unknown Warrior in Westminster Abbey, where a short service was held by the Dean. The President then, on behalf of the Council, laid a wreath upon the grave, and a course of Stedman Caters was rung by five ex-Service men, as follows: J. Thomas, R.A.F., 1—2; T. H. Taffender, R.N.V.R., 3—4; W. Willson, R.A.F., 5—6; A. H. Pulling, R.G.A., 7—8; W. A. Cave, R.E., 9—10.

On re-assembling in the afternoon, the Council considered the following:—

THE LEGITIMATE METHODS COMMITTEE.—The Rev. H. Law James, and Mr. J. A. Trollope having reported and spoken as to the work of the committee, the committee, consisting of the Rev. H. Law James, Mr. J. A. Trollope and Mr. E. H. Lewis, were then duly re-elected.

PEALS ANALYSIS COMMITTEE.—Mr. King having referred to the report which had been already published, it was proposed by the Rev. E. W. Carpenter, and seconded by the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, that the report be accepted.—On the motion of the President, it was unanimously agreed that the committee be re-appointed. The committee, consisting of the Rev. A. T. Beeston, the Rev. E. W. Carpenter, Mr. A. T. King and Mr. G. Williams, were then duly re-elected.—It was proposed by the Rev. H. Law James, and seconded by Mr. J. A. Trollope, that after a lapse of six months of the then date, the committee be free to name all unnamed methods of the Minor Methods Collection.

THE TOWERS AND BELFRIES COMMITTEE.—Major J. H. B. Hesse having reported on the work of the committee, the committee, consisting of the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, Mr. E. H. Lewis, Major J. H. B. Hesse and Mr. E. A. Young, were re-elected. The Rev. C. D. P. Davies also referred to a letter received from the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings. The letter was referred to the committee.

THE BELLS OF BELGIUM COMMITTEE.—The Rev. H. J. Elsee having reported generally and referring also to the altered conditions from the time that the committee was appointed, it was proposed by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, seconded by the Rev. C. E. Matthews, that the committee be allowed to lapse.—This was unanimously agreed to.

THE RECORDS COMMITTEE.—The Rev. A. T. Beeston having referred to the report which had already been published in 'The Ringing World,' it was proposed by Mr. C. T. Coles, and seconded by Mr. W. Shepherd, that the same be adopted. The committee, consisting of the Rev. A. T. Beeston, the Rev. H. Law James and Mr. T. H. Beams, were then duly re-elected. Mr. J. A. Trollope and Mr. R. A. Daniell kindly agreed to help the committee occasionally, if desired.

The Rev. A. T. Beeston then gave a statement of some of the committee's difficulties in respect to peals of Minor, and after some discussion, a motion, proposed by Mr. W. A. Cave, and seconded by Mr. T. H. Taffender, that the committee deal, for the time being, with peals of Triples, Major, Caters, Cinques and Maximus only, was carried. By further motions duly carried, the committee were authorised to (1) approach the associations for further information, and (2) to include the figures of both the methods and peals where possible.

The Council then passed on to the general business shown upon the agenda, as follows, viz.:—

The Rev. H. Drake, the proposer of the first motion (that all peals should be credited to the local association), not being present, it was moved pro forma by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, and seconded by Mr. J. A. Trollope. After a short discussion the motion was negatived by general consent.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn proposed the following resolution: That in every Diocese there should be a recognised authority to give advice on matters concerning church bells, and that it is hoped that each Guild and Association will take steps to provide such authority.—The Rev. M. Kelly seconded, and the motion, meeting with general support, was carried unanimously.

Mr. W. Willson proposed that a committee for ringing defence be formed of five persons, or more, as may be expedient, whose duty shall be to watch the interests of ringing companies, and reply to any attack in the Press, or otherwise, when required to do so.—The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards seconded, and after discussion, which showed sharp division of opinion, the motion was carried by 28 votes to 27.—It was then proposed by Mr. W. Willson, and seconded by Mr. J. George, that the Press Committee be authorised to undertake this work. Upon this being carried, it was then pointed out that the latter did not consist of the above number. The position was regularised, on the proposal of Mr. W. A. Cave, seconded by Mr. T. Faulkner, by the appointment of Mr. W. Willson and the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards to the Literature and Press Committee.

The Standing Committee having suggested that next year's meeting be held at Lincoln, Mr. J. Cotterill proposed Bradford, and the Rev. A. T. Beeston, Chester. Each being duly seconded, were voted upon as follows, viz.: Lincoln 31, Chester 19, and Bradford 5. It was accordingly decided to hold the meeting at Lincoln. This ended the business upon the agenda. But as there was an hour to spare, the meeting agreed to discuss two motions which had been received by the secretary, after the prescribed date, viz., from Mr. A. H. Pulling and Alderman R. B. Chambers respectively. These were as follow:

Mr. A. H. Pulling moved, and Mr. W. A. Cave seconded, that the Council recommend that its Associated Guilds and Associations hold their annual meeting within the three months previous to that of the Council.—After some discussion this motion was withdrawn.

In the second case, as Alderman R. B. Chambers was not present to move his resolution, it was agreed that it should remain in abeyance.

On the motion of the Rev. H. Law James, seconded by Canon Baker, a vote of thanks to the president was carried, who briefly replied, and the meeting closed at 5 o'clock.

IRISH PEACE PEAL CELEBRATED.

At Beckenham, Kent, on Monday, December 12th, at St. George's Church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung by the Rector's request, to celebrate the Irish Peace Treaty: H. Hawkes (first in the method) 1, P. Meek 2, W. Smith (conductor) 3, F. Scutcher 4, F. Terry 5, G. Durling 6, J. Emery 7, F. King 8.

BARNES.—On Sunday, December 18th, at St. Mary's Church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 44 mins.: J. Willmott 1, M. Jacobs 2, W. H. Stevens 3, H. Barrett 4, M. Mackrill 5, H. Cook 6, C. Hunt (conductor) 7, P. Stratton (first-quarter) 8.

DEVONSHIRE GUILD.

NORTH-EAST BRANCH.

A meeting was held at Tiverton, on December 10th, and was attended by 37 ringers from Bampton, Calverleigh, Chipstable, Christow, Exeter, Huntsham, Tiverton and Washfield. A feature of the gathering was the notable progress that had been made in Stedman since the previous meeting in October. This was due to the fact that some of the members had attended three special practices for Stedman only on Saturday afternoons during the interval. Several six-scores of Doubles and some plain courses of Triples were rung in consequence.

The new Rector (the Rev. A. E. Chapman, formerly of Luton) gave an address at the service, and afterwards, at the tea extended a most hearty welcome to all present. A really splendid meal was put on the table by Mrs. Knowles, Miss Hanson, and the wives of the local ringers. Thanks were given most cordially to them for their trouble in preparing the tea and so tastefully decorating the table, and also to the Rector and the organist.

A course of Grandsire Triples was rung on the handbells by the Rev. E. V. Cox, Messrs. W. Clements, E. Shepherd and T. G. Bartlett before returning to the tower.

The next meeting will probably be held in Easter week at Locombe Rogus.

DEATH OF MR. W. ROWLAND, CHELMSFORD

GRANDSON OF FAMOUS ESSEX RINGER.

On Tuesday, December 13th, Mr. W. Rowland, formerly foreman of the Chelmsford company, passed away, at the age of 77. His ringing career practically ceased when the old bells were taken down for recasting. He belonged to an old ringing family at Great Baddow. His grandfather's name is recorded at Chelmsford as ringing the tenor to 6,000 Bob Major, in 1815. He also rang a 5,000 at Writtle in 1819, and the tenor to 10,080, given as 'a quarter-peal of Bob Major' at Great Baddow, March 7th, 1819, 'being the masterpiece of the art ever performed in the county.' His father, Angelo, was a member of the band at Baddow, and for fifty-two consecutive years regularly visited at Christmastide the principal houses in the village with his peal of handbells. His son, William, also made a capable ringer, calling Holt's Original at most of the towers in the neighbourhood, but did not join the new band which was formed at the opening of the new ring of twelve. Mr. Rowland was a member of the Essex Association since its formation. His peals were not numerous, about eight in all.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Two long peals by the Oxford Guild were rung on the last day of the year. In 1888 it was the famous 15,041 of Stedman Caters at Appleton, in 9 hours 16 mins., at that time the record length, and in 1892 12,096 Double Norwich at Maidenhead, in 7 hours 10 mins.

The first peal of Halifax Treble Bob was rung at Huddersfield on January 1st, 1868. It was composed by W. Sottenstall.

One of the vory earliest peals of Norwich Court Bob Major was rung at Soham on January 1st, 1795.

January 4th, 1818, was the date of the death of James Barham, the famous old ringer of Leeds, Kent. He was 93 years of age.

Christmas Day, 1753, and New Year's Day, 1754, were the occasions of the ringing of Holt's Original at Saffron Walden. The extracts from old newspapers which have been sent to us by Mr. W. Slater, of Glemsford, and appear in another column, seem to clear up once for all the question as to whether these peals were the first time the 'Original' was called by a ringer taking part in the peal.

The present ring of ten bells at All Saints', Rotherham, were cast by Mears in 1821, and were opened on Easter Monday of the same year. The first peal was rung on them on December 20th, 1821. It was one of Grandsire Caters, consisting of 5,040 changes, and is duly recorded on a tablet in the ringing chamber of the Rotherham Parish Church. On December 20th last a centenary peal, also of Grandsire Caters, was rung.

Mrs. R. Massey wishes to thank all ringers for the sympathy extended to her upon the sudden death of her husband, especially the Manchester branch for their kind vote of condolence passed at the town hall meeting on Saturday, December 17th.

HOLT'S ORIGINAL.

FIRST RINGER-CONDUCTOR UNKNOWN.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I send you copies of extracts from East Anglian newspapers, from which it will be seen that it is not known for certain who did really ring and call Holt's Original first:—

Holt's Original was first rung at St. Margaret's, Westminster, on Sunday, July 7th, 1751, conducted from manuscript by John Holt, as most of your readers know. It was rung for the second time at Stonham Aspal as the following record, copied from the 'Ipswich Journal,' shows:—

'On Friday, January 31st, 1752, was rung at Stonham Aspal in the county of Suffolk by their own society of ringers a five thousand and forty Grandsire Triples, it being the second time ever rung with two Doubles only. This true peal has been very lately found out by Mr. John Holt, of London, and the bobs were called by Mr. William Walker. It was completed in 3 hours and 10 minutes by the eight following persons: Henry Gray 1, Daniel Hearsbam 2, James Gardiner 3, Richard Wade 4, William Banyard 5, John Sharp 6, Richard Moyse 7, John Thurlow 8.'

N.B.—It is thought impracticable for a man to ring one of the bells and call the bobs at the same time the peal being so intricate.'

The composition was rung for the third and fourth times at Norwich, as will be seen from the following extracts from the 'Norwich Mercury':—

'St. Michael's, Coslany.—On Saturday, August 22nd 1752, was rung at St. Michael's, Coslany, a complete 5,040 of Mr. Holt's Triples in 3 hours, without changes alike or a bell out of course, it being the first time ever performed by eight men only. So intricate, it was thought no man could ring a bell and call the bobs. It has been rung in London and at Stonham Aspal with prompts. But was rung by these men without a prompt.'

No names are given in the 'Norwich Mercury,' but from the particulars given it appears certain that the peal was 'Holt's Original.'

The same peal was again rung two months later, the record in the 'Norwich Mercury' being as follows:—

'On Sunday, Oct. 22nd, 1752, was rung at St. Giles', in ye city of Norwich, 5,040 Grandsire Triples with only two Doubles and no alteration. This true peal has been very lately found out by Mr. John Holt, of London. The bobs were called by William Dixon. The peal being so intricate, the bell (London) ringers thought it impracticable for a man to ring one of the bells, and call the bobs at the same time. The peal was compleatly rung in 3 hours and 6 minutes by the following persons: William Dixon 1, John Gardiner 2, Thomas Hart 3, Charles Jarvis 4, Samuel Shelver 5, Robert Dyke 6, Charles Harth 7, Frederick Whitfield 8.'

This record clearly shows what peal was rung, and these records prove that it is not known who did really first ring and call the peal at the same time. The 'Original' was rung for the fifth and sixth times at Saffron Walden on the dates mentioned, Christmas, 1753, and New Year's Day, 1754.

T. E. SLATER.

THE PROPOSED C. H. H. COMMEMORATION DINNER.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Again I crave your indulgence and the hospitality of your columns, to reply to a letter of excuse which appears in this week's issue of 'The Ringing World,' trusting that I may use the metaphor, that figuratively speaking, this ring of twelve who attest their cognomens are unquestionably 'A Baker's Dozen.' Evidently the cap fits, and I am prepared with the sword of truth to battle with them on the aforementioned subject—of course, with your kind permission—leaving the Exercise to adjudicate.

Let them, with all their professed admiration of the late Mr. C. H. Hattersley, dispute these glaring facts:—

(1) Was it the postponement of the Cutlers' Feast that prevented them from sending one single flower as a last token of respect to their late chief on the day of interment (this is the first stone upon which I built my present opinion). I saw one laid on that grave from Birmingham. How was that? Simply because it was not so exhaustive and expensive for the Birmingham fellows to show a little respect: I only quote Birmingham as an example. I do not even know them, yet actions speak louder than words—in Birmingham and in Sheffield.

(2) A half-muffled peal was rung also on the day of interment at the Cathedral at Sheffield (Stedman Cinques) COMPOSED (in large capitals, Mr. Editor) and conducted by William Lomas! And all their late chief's gems of composition cast to the four winds. Was that for economy's sake, or was it out of respect? No, it was the same insidious fiend, self first; C. H. H., or anybody else, last.

(3) Now we arrive at 'the man of a few words,' with his 35-40 years' standing, who simply played Hamlet, because I, in the capacity of (first) treasurer had to make a nominal levy of 1s. 6d. per head, so that I might honourably settle a final account of 25s. in connection with the C. H. H. Memorial Library, which they speak of in their letter as 'Our Library.' It is a Hattersley Memorial Library, not theirs! It is put there for the purpose of disseminating knowledge freely; it costs them nothing to lend the books (see Rule 9 in the catalogue). They also rely on the lending of a few books to clear away the truthful imputations made concerning them and their selfish greed, not creed! They have none! a creed is a confession of faith! Here are the words of the great personal friend and admirer of the late C. H. H., who, when he had to subscribe 1s. 6d., said, 'We never had this sort of thing until you came, Baker; we shall soon have to pay to come to ring.' That's the spirit of the man who I dared to say two more words upon the subject. Child-like, he said 'Two more words.' My reply was, 'No, you never did anything until I came.' I retired, leaving them falling out amongst themselves how much I should be fined for leaving the tower.

This is the state of affairs at Sheffield Cathedral, and to-day I challenge these 'Worshippers of Mammon' to show us one iota of what they have done for the Honour and Glory of God, His Church, or the art of campanology, other than the Memorial Library!

In connection with the Memorial Library, panels were inserted both dexter and sinister to act as a necrology, thereby keeping a chronological record of those ringers who answered the last call of the great Composer and Conductor. How many names want adding to-day? Why are they not inscribed up to date? Are they omitted for economy's sake, or is it with a selfish motive that the space is reserved? Answer, please! There is an old adage which says, 'A man with one eye can see more than a man with two'; afflicted as I am with that physical infirmity, I can see with one optic, that the ever-erasing finger of time is blotting out those peal records on the west wall of the tower. My name is not there, but I have the ambition to leave anonymous footprints by putting them into a good and readable state of preservation.

These are the kind of things the spoilt child cries about. There is no self about such actions as this. Why, pray, should they inconvenience themselves, or the Editor, by advertising the fact that I am not 'gifted with Sheffield birth.' That is no great honour if they are typical specimens. My former letter was sufficient proof to the Exercise, who are not all endowed with an indolent stupidity! Further, it matters not whether I come into contact with humanity in its shirt-sleeves or in the purple. I shall never bow down to worship Mammon to please any votary of that false deity. To conclude, I may add, 'Gloriam ad Dei Veritas.' I am 'not gifted with Sheffield birth,' only a spoilt child; an alien, pleading for humanity, aye, even begging for the very thing that humanity desires!—Yours, etc.

STAVELEY'S VETERAN RINGER.

At Staveley, Derbyshire, on Saturday, October 29th, 768 Kent Treble Rob Major: H. Stow 1, L. G. Palmer 2, H. Daffin 3, F. E. Parsons 4, W. Daffin 5, S. Smedley, senr., 6, A. E. Parsons 7, J. R. Brooks (conductor) 8. Also 252 Grand sire Triples by the same band, conducted by L. G. Palmer. These touches were rung in honour of the Rector, Canon Molineux's 79th birthday, and his 35th year as Rector of Staveley.

CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE MAJOR.

Starting then with the upper fifteen courses of Table III., given in the first portion of this article, and examining the first three columns of false course-heads we find that the three columns fully repeat each other. In other words, there are fifteen false course-heads against fifteen true ones, the characteristic mark of difference being that the bells in 5—6 in the one are the reverse of those in the other. Hence for the future we can save ourselves the trouble of pricking these three false columns, substituting for them the rule that when once any pair of bells has been in 5—6 in a course-head they must never appear in another in the reverse order. Bear in mind that we are here speaking of only the x and z portions of the course.

The y portion is quite another matter. The y portion of all sixty courses is available.

On pricking out the last two columns of false course-heads and finding that all was well, I had visions of a further set of fifteen true courses, making thirty in all. But careful scrutiny of these last two columns speedily dissolved any such castle in the air. The student should remember that, so far, only the portion of the six columns above the horizontal line is supposed to be known. The ten true course-heads below the line, and their five corresponding columns of false course-heads are as yet all blank. Now carefully scrutinise the fifteen course-heads in the upper portion of each of the last two columns. Among them we find the following, which, for clearness sake, I show in a little table.

53462	34562
54263
24536	45236
25634
65243	52643
62345
32654	26354

Those on the left of the line occur in the last column but one, and those on the right of it in the last column of all. Only five of these last are given, because, though there are ten as in the other, five of them are the same as in the other column, and so we leave their spaces blank. Let us take the first two lines in the Table—those containing 2 and 6 in 5th and 6ths, as all the other cases are precisely similar to these. Perhaps, however, it may be well first to take a momentary survey of our position. All possible pairs of bells in 5-6 are 23, 24, 25, 26, 34, 35, 36, 45, 46, 56. Each of these help to form six course-heads—three with 23, and three with 32—and so with all the others—sixty altogether. Now of these we have already had thirty, three false and three true of each, so that we now have only 25, 26, 34, 36 and 45. All these come in our little table. Are we going to try 62? If so, we have only a possible chance, and that a poor one, of one of them, viz., 45362, since, if we have either 53462 or 34562 we are immediately false with 35642 or 52364, one of our true fifteen courses; and, moreover, we could then at the most only hope for twenty true courses in all. So we try our luck with 26, of which we still have two chances left, viz., 35426 and 54326. This time fortune favours us, and in this way we get ten more courses, making twenty-five true courses in all. When we compare them with the courses of Middleton's peal, that is, with the x and z portions of Middleton's courses, we find the one set identical with the other.

Though it was but a forlorn hope, I determined to leave no stone unturned in my search for any further possible true courses, or parts of courses. I thought that just possibly I might find the x of one course and the z of another true with the twenty-five already found, and that by means of a suitable y they might be spliced in, and so contribute their share to the formation of a peal of twenty-six or more courses. With this in view I drew up a Table embracing all sixty courses, testing all of them against the twenty-five true ones. Most of them turned out false in four, six, or even eight places, and of the few that were false in only two places, one of these two false places was in every case in the x portion and the other in the z, so that no portion escaped. There are five of them, 45362, 52436, 26543, 63254, and 34625, that is the missing one in each case of the pairs given in Table IV.

Before proceeding to the proof of Middleton's peal it only remains for me to redeem my promise to speak of bobs B (before). These occur at the end of the second lead in the course, and, when employed, transfer us immediately to the head of the sixth lead, thus cutting out the third, fourth and fifth leads, including the position for M and W, which therefore are wholly eliminated by a B, this bob reducing the course to a length of only four leads. Its use serves occasionally at least one good purpose, namely, that of reducing the length of a peal or touch to something nearer the dimensions required than might otherwise be possible. A very good instance of such use is found in Johnson's variation, where the peal is reduced to a length of 5056, instead of 5600, which is an uncomfortable quantity.

The three central columns are the peal itself, all the courses being divided into their x, y, z portions, the heads of the courses to which each several portion belongs being entered in its proper column. Take its commencement. We have first the leads I, II, III, that is the portion x, of the plain course. We therefore enter 23456 in the z column. Then comes a bob M. This leads us into lead IV, that is y, of course 43652, which accordingly is next entered under y. There is no bob W, which means that the y portion of 43652 is followed by its z portion. Also there is no bob H, and therefore the z is followed by its own x, as shown under x in the second line. And so on. The last entry in column z perhaps needs a word of explanation. It means that the last three leads of this peal belong to the course whose head is 34256. The last row in this course is the treble's handstroke lead 13246587. Between this and the next row the bob H takes effect, but the next row (rounds), which in the usual and unscientific rotation is called the course end, is in reality nothing of the sort, but is the head of a new course. The z portion of the plain course comes, as may be seen, two courses earlier.

As explained some way back, there are four course heads, 24365x, 43265x, 32546z and 46253z false against 23456x; and four, 24365z, 32465z, 32546x and 46253x, false against 23456z. But we decided that it would not be requisite to write down the first two of each of these for the reason that they end with 65, and we decided, instead of pricking them down, to bear carefully in mind that having once got a pair of bells in 5-6, that pair must not be found reversed in 5-6 in x or z. Once having—say—3, 5 there we must never have 5, 3. This enables us to dispense with two false columns on either side of the Table, so that we have two columns on the left of the peal which are false with the x portions of the peal, and two on the right which are false with its z portions. But happily in this case they are not false, and, therefore, the x column being true to itself, and the z column the same, the x and z portion of the whole peal is true. Only the y portion now remains. This, having a clean proof scale, only requires its own column to be, as it is, true with itself. Its bells may be in any position. Without it, and its freedom from falsity, no peal would have been possible, as we should have had no means of stringing together the only twenty-five x and a portion that this unsatisfactory method allows us

PENZANCE. — On October 18th, for practice, 1,260 Grandsire Triples, in 44 mins.: W. C. Corin (first quarter-peal by treble man) 1 Eileen Symons 2, John Symons 3, P. Hitchens (conductor) 4, F. C. Jelhart 5, A. Triggs 6, John Wood 7, J. C. Corkell 8.

WRITTLE, ESSEX. — On Wednesday, December 14th for practice, 1,024 Cambridge Surprise Major: T. Lincoln 1, A. Edwards 2, H. Head 3, J. Wood 4, C. Pease 5, P. Timson 6, W. Lincoln 7, A. Head 8. First touch in the method by all the band.

DEDICATION OF BELLS AT SPALDWICK.

Ringers from Rushden, Thrapston, Ringstead, Finedon, Woolston, Great Storton and Godmanchester, attended the dedication of the bells at Spaldwick, Huntingdon, on Saturday, December 10th. The bells, an old ring of five, have been rehung in an iron frame, with all new fittings, and a new treble added, which has made a splendid peal of six. The work has been carried out by Mr. A. Bowell, of Ipswich, who has completed the work in first-class style.

A special form of service was used at the dedication, which was conducted by the Venerable Archdeacon Knowles, of Huntingdon, assisted by the Rev. H. T. Havard Jones, Vicar of Spaldwick. After the dedication a few rounds were rung, and 360 Kent Treble Bob, by: R. C. Loveday 1, L. Chapman 2, L. Wyman 3, J. Nicholson 4, J. R. Main 5, A. Smeathers (conductor) 6. Various touches of Kent, Oxford, Woodbine, Double Court, Double Oxford and Cambridge Surprise followed.

The Vicar and churchwardens entertained the ringers, numbering 15, to tea, and a vote of thanks to them was proposed by Mr. A. Smeathers, seconded by Mr. A. Bellamy, town councillor of Ringstead. One of the church officers responded. Afterwards touches were rung on the handbells, and a few tunes were played, a very pleasant evening being thus passed. A special invitation was given by the Vicar for a band to ring a peal on the bells as soon as possible.

BEDFORD ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Bedford District was held at Bromham, on Saturday, December 10th, when members were present from Bedford, Harrod, Clapham, Cranfield, Roxton, and the local company.

At the business meeting, at which Miss E. Stael presided, two new members were elected, viz., Messrs. A. Lamb, of Bletsoe, and H. Cocking, of Staggsden. It was resolved to hold the next meeting at Harrod some time in February, of which due notice will be given in 'The Ringing World.'

Votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and to Mrs. Mortimer for providing tea, and to the local company for having everything ready, were passed.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD.

MEETING AT WOOD GREEN.

A quarterly meeting of the above Guild was held at St. Paul's Church, Wood Green, Wednesbury, on Saturday, Nov. 19th, when members from the following towers were present: Bilston, Bradley, Dudley, Tipton, Smethwick, Sedgley, West Bromwich, Walsall, and the local band. The Guild service was conducted by the Rev. G. Lomas (in the absence of the Vicar, through illness), who gave a most inspiring address. At the close of the service, an adjournment was made to the Institute to partake of tea.

At the business meeting, the Rev. G. Lomas occupied the chair, and it was arranged that the next meeting, which is the annual, should be held at Dudley, and the quarterly peal be attempted at St. Paul's, Wood Green.

Mr. R. Small proposed the best thanks be given to the Vicar (adding sympathy with him in his illness, and wishing him a speedy recovery), for the use of the bells, and his hearty welcome to the Guild; to the Rev. G. Lomas for his address at the service and presiding over the meeting; to the organist; to the ladies who had provided the good things for the tea; and to Mr. E. J. Tyler and the local band for making the necessary arrangements for the meeting.—Mr. Goodman (Ringing Master) seconded the proposition.

The bells were utilised during the afternoon and evening in various methods.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION.

GLOUCESTER BRANCH.

A quarterly meeting of the Gloucester Branch was held at Sandhurst on Saturday, December 17th, when a good company assembled from Gloucester, Barnwood, Upton St. Leonard's, and Sandhurst. The bells are a fine peal of eight, and some very good touches of Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples and Bob Major were brought round. After a short service in the church, conducted by the Rector (Canon Sewell) the ringers adjourned to the Schoolroom, where a very excellent tea had been provided by Mrs. Bennett (wife of the hon. secretary), and friends, to which full justice was done.

Tea over, Mr. G. A. Smith (Barnwood) was, in the absence of the Rector, voted to the choir for the business meeting.

The Hon. Secretary, Capt. A. A. Bennett, C.A., gave a brief report of the quarter's work and progress, and announced the very interesting fact, concerning the comparatively small country parish of Frampton-on-Severn, which possessed only six bells that there was a company of thirteen ringers, all of whom had during the quarter joined the association, and were displaying great keenness in change ringing. He urged those present to follow this splendid example, and retain their keenness in the welfare and progress of their local branch. Following the meeting, some excellent touches were rung on the handbells, conducted by Mr. John Austin.

HERTFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A very pleasant meeting of the Eastern District was held at Broxbourne on December 10th. The bells were available from three o'clock, and were kept going until nearly nine p.m., with the exception of the tea interval. Members attended from Cheshunt, Edmonton, Cambridge, Walthamstow, Ware, Nazeing, Brockley, Thundridge and Little Munden, besides the members of the Broxbourne band. Tea was prepared at The Welcome, and the business meeting followed, the Rev. Tyrwhitt Drake (Vicar of Thundridge) presiding.

The usual vote of thanks was passed to the Rev. Eardley Wilmot for kindly granting permission to use the bells, also to the Vicar of Hoddesdon for kindly granting the use of his tower, although no ringing was done there, as members chose to remain at Broxbourne, which is near the station.

The meeting expressed a desire to visit Sawbridgeworth in February, if permission could be obtained.
