A HINT TO CONTRIBUTORS.

With our first number of a new year and a new volume, we want to say a few words affecting ourselves. The increasing activity in the Exercise makes the pressure upon our space heavier and heavier as the months go by, and our sixteen-page journal cannot now provide room for all the matter which we would like to include in its columns. Every week we have to hold over, or put aside entirely, reports of doings of varied importance, simply for lack of space. The majority of ringers like to see their performances recorded, the general interests of the Exercise demand that the numerous ringing meetings should be noticed, and it is essential, in order that there shall be no break in the records, that the peals rung should find their proper place in the paper. Yet these requirements already more than fill our available space, and articles of general and special interest, whenever they occur, can only be given at the expense of other matters. It is a matter of real regret to us, that many things have from time to time to 'go overboard,' but where there has been any disappointment to contributors, we must ask them to bear with us and believe that it is no fault of ours.

The remedy lies in a larger paper, which would of course be welcomed by all our friends, but we are equally sure they will realise that this is a step which can only be taken if the financial support given to the journal warranted it. When, nearly two years ago, we emerged from the 'war stage,' we asked ringers to help us raise the circulation by at least a thousand copies a week. It may be news to many to know that only about half that number of additional subscribers was obtained. To provide a larger paper than the present, without increasing the price, it would be necessary to double the circulation, and, the apathy which exists among a large body of the Exercise, and the pernicious habit which still prevails in many places of taking just one copy for 'the tower,' makes us hesitate before even considering such a step. Obviously it could not be taken without some guarantee against financial loss.

Until it is possible to provide more pages to accommodate the matter sent in, there is one means by which contributors can help us, and that is by sending in their reports and other communications without loss of time. It is an every week occurrence just as we are on the point of closing our pages for press, to receive numerous reports of peals, meetings and minor performances which have taken place not on the preceding Saturday or Sunday, but ten, seventeen and sometimes many more days before! This is hardly fair to us and it is certainly not fair to our

A QUERY ABOUT A PEAL.

A correspondent, writing with regard to the peal of Bob Major rung at Headcorn on December 16th, 1922, composed by Frank Bennett, conducted by A. E. Edwards, that he presumes the ringers that took part in this peal feel justified in publishing the record. He understands that no Singles were 'made' or 'called,' although the conductor warned the band that two Singles were in the peal, and 2 and 3 made them. He asks Mr. Edwards to be good enough to tell those who are interested (through the columns of this paper when to find the figures of the peal called, and so satisfy the members in that district of the Kent Association.

BATH & WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

BISHOP'S TRIBUTE TO RINGERS.

A large gathering of ringers assembled at Corston, near Bath, on December 16th, at the invitation of the Rector (the Rev. C. C. Parker), who is Master of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association. There was ringing during the afternoon, and a special service was held, at which the Bishop of Bath and Wells was the preacher. The branches of the association represented, included Burnham, Ilminster, St. James's (Taunton), Midsomer Norton, Weston-super-Mare, Wilton, Bridgwater, Uphill, Chedzoy, Taunton St. Mary's, and Wedmore. Among the representatives of the association who numbered about 60, were Messrs. E. E. Burgess (hon. secretary), F. C. Rich (hon. secretary, Bath Deanery), W. J. Prescott (the late Bath secretary), W. A. Cave (Bristol), C. H. Jennings (Salisbury Guild), G. Yeo (Chew Deanery secretary), D. G. Taylor (Ilminster), and J. T. Dyke (secretary, Midsomer Norton Deanery), W. Farley (Wells), and T. F. King (Bath). Most of the Bath towers were represented.

The special form of service authorised by the late Lord Bishop for the use of this association was adopted. Prayers were read by the Rector (the Rev. C. C. Parker), Preb. F. A. Bromley (Vicar of All Saints, Weston) acted as the Bishop's chaplain, and the lesson was read by Preb. M. E. Hoets, R.D. The Rev. Paget L. Bayly (Rector of Newton St. Loe) was also present. The churchwardens took their accustomed part in the service, and the surpliced choir attended. The service included three special hymns, among them the 'Ringers' Hymn,' an adaptation of a passage of Tennyson's 'In Memoriam.'

The Bishop took for his text, Isaiah lxii. 6, 'I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem, which shall never hold their peace day nor night: ye that make mention of the Lord, keep not silence, and give Him no rest, till He establish, and till He make Jerusalem a praise in the earth.' In the course of his address, Dr. Wynne Wilson said the ringers in the glorious towers of the churches of Somerset, the county's pride, were the watchmen on the wall. As they stood in the belfry towers calling God to hear men and calling men to praise God, they should realise that theirs was a great office; they should realise theirs was a great function in the life of the Church. They were the Lord's remembrancers in church life and in the life of the nation. The bells announced a birth into the world, rang merrily as a man and maid took life's most stupendous step, and in the deep solemn notes told of the passing of a human soul. Their bells, too, celebrated the great Christian festivals. Their appeal was almost human, and the sound of the bells on a still summer's Sunday brought back memories of Sundays in childhood's happy days. Sometimes the bells tore the very heartstrings. In national life the bells were the people's common expression, and rang for victory or for sorrow. In the winter months they were the messengers who proclaimed the coming of a new year and a new life. In that county he hoped the bells of the Lord's remembrancers would ring out every careless, foolish and selfish thought. It was the bells of every belfry tower which called men to remember—'Lest we forget' was their message. Might the bells, as they rang, reach their hearts and help them to the realisation of the full worship of God.

A LIVE BODY OF CHURCH WORKERS.

After the service the company adjourned to tea in the Village Hall. After tea the Rector of Corston welcomed the Lord Bishop and the other guests. In doing so, Mr. Parker observed that he was enabled to welcome the company in a dual capacity, firstly as Rector of Corston, and, secondly, as Master of that association. As Rector of that parish, he was proud to welcome the Bishop that day. Corston was one of the most ancient parishes in that diocese. It was mentioned in Domesday Book, and the church was evidently of very considerable antiquity. He was glad that the Bishop's first official visit to Corston was in his capacity of President of the Association. That association consisted of a thoroughly live body of church workers (hear, hear). He believed that the ringers in their association were as good as any other church workers who could be found, and he did not believe that any other body of church workers excelled them in intelligence. He did not mean to imply that other church workers were necessarily unintelligent, but he referred to the particular qualities which change ringing demanded. He did not suppose that their president had yet fully realised what those qualities were. Change ringing demanded the exercise of very great intelligence, very great concentration, and very great perseverance. The Rector then referred to the patriotism which the ringers of Somerset had displayed in the European war and to the memorial tablet in Bath Abbey, which recorded that 30 of the members of their association had sacrificed their lives for their King and country. Not only had they this record of sacrifice, but they gave help in other ways during the struggle. During the war the association continued its activities in spite of the difficulties of running such an organisation at such a time. Their thanks were due to their secretary, Mr. Burgess, who carried them through those difficult times. They did so well that they did not even have to raise the subscription of their members above a shilling. They had found it necessary, however, to adopt the rule that every parish in which there was a band of ringers belonging to that association should affiliate itself to the association by paying a small fee for that honour. They felt that it was a very great advantage to have a band of ringers in a parish who belonged to that association. In the case of probationers—persons desirous of learning change ringing—an affiliation fee of 2s. per tower annually was paid, and he believed that most Church Councils if approached in the right way would be only too willing to give a small sum as an affiliation fee of 5s.

In the usual way the members of that association exercised a self-denying ordinance at their meetings by foregoing any charge for tea, but at that evening's gathering the tea had been provided by certain friends in his parish, his Church Council, and ladies associated with the ringers without any charge on the association funds. Notwithstanding their difficulties their finances had materially improved, and they had been able during the past year to publish a full report of their activities. The Rector expressed his regret at the fact that several churches in Bath were not affiliated to the association, and that several others had not their full band of ringers. The Rector acknowledged the services of Mr. F. C. Rich, the local secretary, and remarked that he believed the association had been doing and was continuing to do a good work. He again expressed his thanks to the Bishop for encouraging the work of that association by his presence that day.

THE BISHOP'S APPRECIATION OF RINGERS.

The Bishop thanked the Rector for his welcome, and humorously congratulated Mr. Parker on the success with which he had extended that welcome in a dual capacity. He also thanked him for his hospitality, and expressed his appreciation of the service in the church. He also further thanked Mr. Parker in his capacity as Master, for the information which he had given him about the work of that association. Dr. Wynne Willson described with evident enjoyment, the attempt which he made to 'cram' himself hurriedly, with the assistance of a book he procured from his chaplain, on the subject of change ringing, and the mysteries of 'Grandsire Triples, Bob Major, and other things.' He could assure the Rector that he already appreciated the enthusiasm of those who practised change ringing, and the value of the work of that association. As he went about his diocese, he had learned to realise the value of that work, even before Mr. Parker told him. He hoped that the bell ringers would continue to realise the sacred character of their office, and that when they had concluded their task of calling people to church they would themselves remain for the service, and that the bell-ringers' pew would always be full. There was no county, he added, in which such exquisite towers were to be found as these which were the glory of Somerset. Personally he should never forget the deep impression made on him by the peal rung in the evening on Nov. 19th, 1921, on the bells at Wells Cathedral under the direction of his friend, Mr. J. T. Dyke, to celebrate his induction and enthronement as Bishop of the Diocese. He wished the members of that association every success in their endeavours in that diocese (applause).

A SILENT BATH TOWER.

Prebendary M. E. Hoets, R.D., in proposing a vote of thanks to their entertainers for their hospitality, expressed regret that the tower of Christ Church, Bath, was still silent. He explained that to put the bells in a condition for change ringing would involve an expenditure of possibly £150; and at present his church had to meet other urgent claims. Perhaps a friend of the church might make a thankoffering in the future which would enable this work to be carried out. The probable sequel would be complaints from the proprietors of lodging houses and other residents in the vicinity of the noise of the bells (laughter).

Prebendary F. A. Bromley (chairman of the Bath Deanery), who seconded, said he considered that Corston possessed a peal of bells with sweet and beautiful tone. He regretted that there were still some towers in the Bath Deanery without sufficient ringers; and he hoped that some influence might be brought to bear to remedy this. In his parish of Weston they were very grateful for the help which other ringers very kindly gave them.

Thanks were expressed to the Rector of Newton St. Loe and to the Vicar of Twerton who had also placed their towers at the disposal of the visitors.

Mr. C. H. Jennings, of the Salisbury Guild, brought the meeting best wishes and greetings from his Guild.

At the business meeting, the members of the association agreed to assist the Vicar of Mells, whose bells have just been rehung by helping to complete a band of ringers, and a collection was taken at the suggestion of Mr. Parker, towards the fund for the carrying out of this work.

The collection towards the rehanging of the bells at Mells realised £2 5s. 8d.

The next quarterly meeting will be held at Ilminster on the second Saturday after Easter.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

When the representatives of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild invited the Central Council to visit their Cathedral City for the next meeting, they promised the members a great welcome. We understand a unique programme is under consideration, and of such a nature that members of the Council should make every effort to reach Salisbury for this gathering. They will assuredly enjoy the visit.

Our recent reference in this column to the first peal in Scotland, at Dundee in 1873, leads a correspondent to say that he believes the first peal over the border was rung by a party of York ringers, when they opened a ring of eight from Whitechapel, at St. Andrew's, Edinburgh, about a century ago. The method was Treble Bob. Can any of our readers give us information upon this?

Claimed to be the first true peal ever rung in London in that method, a peal of Norwich Court Bob Major was rung at St. Matthew's, Bethnal Green, on Monday, January 7th, 1788, by the Senior Society of Cumberland Youths. It was called by John Reeves, and the claim is especially significant in view of a peal in the same method rung at Bethnal Green by the Junior Cumberlands in 1786. It is generally accepted that the latter peal was false.

The first peal of Oxford Treble Bob Caters was rung at Birmingham on January 7th, 1817.

The College Youths, on January 6th, 1851, rang a peal of 7,524 Stedman Cinques at Cripplegate, and this length stood as the record in the method until 1858. It was a band of men who became famous in London ringing that took part in this peal: John Cox, John Bradley, William Cooter, William Banister, James Mash, Matt. Wood, R. Haworth, George Ferris, Ed. Lansdell, K. Littlechild, James Dwight, and John Austin.

Several of them were in the peal which recovered the record for the College Youths in 1861, and concerning which Jimmy Dwight lapsed into verse. His poetry on the subject is still remembered by some of the London ringers of to-day.

On January 11th, either 1716 or 1717, the London Scholars rang a peal of Grandsire Caters at St. Bride's, Fleet Street. This is believed to have been the first ten-bell peal ever rung, and the only peal of Caters rung at St. Bride's while the tower contained 10 bells.

Henry Johnson died on January 7th, 1890.

The peal of Bob Minor at Pickleton, recorded in our issue of Dec. 2nd, was rung on Dec. 16th, not Dec. 2nd as printed.

On Dec. 18th last there passed away, at Mortlake, at the advanced age of 94 years, Mrs. Edwin Sykes, widow of the late Mr. Edwin Sykes, solicitor, and mother of the late Mr. D. F. E. Sykes, historian, novelist and solicitor. She was the grandmother of Mr. Joseph E. Sykes, of Huddersfield.

Mr. R. O. Street points out that the date touch of Stedman Caters published in our last issue is false in the second and ninth courses.

It is hoped that the dedication of the bells at Lambeth Parish Church, which Messrs. Mears and Stainbank are recasting and rehanging, will take place at the forthcoming Parish Festival on Feb. 2nd.

Mr. A. Prior has been elected Ringing Master of the South-West Division of the Essex Association, in place of Mr. E. Wightman, who has been accorded the thanks of the members for his services during the past two years. The divisional secretary was re-elected.

The Yorkshire Association, and particularly the Leeds district, has suffered a great loss by the death of Mr. John Thackray, of Christ Church, Upper Armley, who passed away on Dec. 23rd, at the age of 68. He had been a ringer at his church for over 40 years.

The bells at Stanmore, Middlesex, with the 3rd recast and two trebles added, were, after rehanging by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, rededicated on Dec. 23rd.

In reference to our recent article upon twelve bell peals, Mr. G. E. Symonds calls attention to the fact that a peal of Cinques at Ipswich, rung on May 5th, had apparently been omitted from our calculations. This is correct. The record was overlooked through it not appearing under the customary heading.

This makes a total of 35 twelve-bell peals on tower bells rung during 1921 up to the date of our article, of which 19 were rung in or around London, four at Painswick, three at Birmingham and three at Ipswich, leaving only six, spread over five towers, viz., Wolverhampton (2), and Leicester, Norwich, Chelmsford and Sheffield.

FARNBOROUGH BELLS RESTORED.

The bells of St. Peter's Church, Farnborough, Hants, which have been restored by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, were dedicated by the Rector (the Rev. Canon W. A. Chalacombe) at the morning service on Christmas Eve, and afterwards rung by the local band of ringers. The bells have been rehung in a new steel frame for six bells. The 4th was recast, and the whole ring of five accurately tuned.

A TIME FOR GOOD RESOLUTIONS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—May I add to your suggestions under this heading one or two minor, but not unimportant, subjects for good New Year resolutions by the ringing fraternity?—

(1) Punctuality in keeping appointments. A man who keeps seven others waiting in a belfry is wasting their time, not his own; and who fails to turn up without urgent excuse commits an act of great discourtesy to others. Whenever I read in peal reports that 'meeting one short' for one method, a band had to substitute another, or possibly ring on fewer bells, I wonder what was the defaulter's reason (or no reason) for non-appearance. If it was 'cussedness,' or carelessness—of both which mental states I have known examples—will he turn over a new leaf this year?

(2) Civility in disagreement. Why cannot men who disagree with each other on matters where difference of opinion is possible and legitimate, do so without imputing either gross ignorance or crooked motives? That they cannot always behave thus, your columns, sir, have recently shown some flagrant examples; and here again, I would respectfully suggest is a field for good New Year resolutions.

(3) But someone will say, 'You clergy also ought to make good resolutions in regard to your belfries and ringers.' I quite agree. I have in the past spent much time and trouble in this direction with my clerical brethren, I fear without much result. Many years ago, when I spoke to the Rector of an important parish, who allowed a set of paid ringers to monopolise his belfry and keep change ringing out of it, he declined to interfere on the ground that this had nothing to do with the church! More recently I have heard of a parish with a fine ring of bells, and a well-established band of change ringers, respectable men and (I am told) regular communicants, where a newly-appointed incumbent took no notice whatever of belfry or of ringers; until, after he had addressed the local branch of C.E.M.S. upon 'Sociability,' it was suggested to him that he should put his teaching into practice, find out who rang the church bells, and himself pay a visit to the belfry. For some clergy, as well as for ringers, there is obviously 'a time for good resolutions.'

LLANDAFF & MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

THE CARE OF BELFRIES.

The annual meeting was held at Llandaff on Tuesday, Dec. 26th. There was a good attendance, including visitors from Bristol and Reading. The Vicar of St. John's, Cardiff, had readily given permission for the use of his bells during the day, and full advantage was taken of it. The bells of the Cathedral were also kept busy until service time, at 4 o'clock. In the unavoidable absence of the Dean, through indisposition, the Archdeacon of Llandaff kindly took the service. Tea followed in the Prebendal House, and the business meeting was afterwards held, the Archdeacon taking the chair.

A very cordial welcome was accorded to the association by the chairman, on behalf of the Dean.

The Bishop's letter sanctioning the alteration of the title of the association was read by the hon. secretary.

Officers for the ensuing year were next elected, including Master, hon. secretary and auditors.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at All Saints', Newport, the next Monmouthshire quarterly meeting at Chepstow, and the next Glamorgan quarterly meeting at Sully.

Instructors' reports were received, and showed good progress at several towers.

A suggestion was made that the attention of the clergy throughout the association's area should be called to the desirability of all ringing chambers receiving the same regular care and attention by those responsible as the other parts of the church.—The Archdeacon said that it would be a pleasure to him to bring it before the clergy at his next visitation.

Quite a number of new members were elected, including the whole of the ringers at St. Andrew's, Dinas Powis.

The usual vote of thanks was accorded to the chairman, and also to the Dean and Mrs. Griffith for their kindness in arranging everything, and providing the tea.

The bells of both the Cathedral and St. John's, Cardiff, were again rung during the evening, bringing to a close a most useful and pleasant meeting.

VISITORS FROM ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

Mr. G. W. Sturgiss, of Groton, Massachusetts, U.S.A., is on a visit to this country, and on Dec. 21st took part in a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples on handbells with the College Youths, the ringers being W. Roughton 1-2, C. F. Winney (conductor) 3-4, H. Langdon 5-6, G. W. Sturgiss 7-8.

Mr. Chaney F. Ellis, home from Canada, took part in a peal of Grandsire Triples for 'watchnight' service at Holy Trinity, Guildford.

TEN-BELL TOWERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Your Editorial on the twelve-bell towers of our 'Ringing Isle' forces us to the conclusion that it is not from them that we got that name, and I am certain that it is not from the ten-bell towers. These do not even help to uphold our claim to the title. No one can dispute your assertions, nor can they dispute the fact that the ten-bell towers are as $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 in proportion to the twelve-bell towers, who are now fast hastening to set their house in order. I believe that only seven of the 12-bell rings are now unpealable. But one shudders when one thinks of the ten-bell towers. Out of 140 I find that only 60 put up a peal (or attempt) during the year, and only a very few of these can claim that half or more of the band were regular service ringers at these churches. So the twelve-bell towers have it with a percentage of 2.857 towers, putting up a peal against a percentage of 2.3 for the ten-bell towers.

We must, of course, bear in mind that the percentage of ten-bell towers which are not pealable for various reasons, is greater than that of the twelve-bell towers. But when towers are unused even for Sunday services because the 'neighbours' object, and because not enough ringers can be had, one must come to the conclusion that there is a screw loose. I know of several such towers. One I know where six is the rule for morning service—they are only paid to ring eight at any time—and another where more than six are never heard unless a visiting band calls in. One could use up reams of paper describing the state of the ten-bell towers, but only dynamite and the undertaker will remove many of the obstacles to reform. Let us hope that this new year will cause a few more of our Tens to help us to uphold our title of 'The Ringing Isle.'—Yours sincerely,
ONCE A BEGINNER.

REOPENING OF LAXFIELD BELLS.

The six bells of All Saints' Church, Laxfield, were reopened on Thursday, December 21st, when ringers assembled from Badingham, Cratfield, Demington, Framlingham, Fressingfield, Ipswich and Wingfield. At about 11.30 a.m. the first 720 of Plain Bob was brought round by W. Hollingsworth (Laxfield), conductor, 1, J. Etheridge (Fressingfield) 2, W. Emeny (Laxfield) 3, T. Hembling (Laxfield) 4, F. Warren (Laxfield) 5, A. Bowell (Ipswich) 6.

During the day touches of Plain and Treble Bob were rung, and for the service at 7 p.m. a well-struck 720 of Oxford Treble Bob by W. J. G. Brown (Laxfield) 1, G. A. Wightman (Cratfield) 2, A. H. Watson (Badingham) 3, G. Filby (Wingfield) 4, A. Riches (Fressingfield) 5, J. Filby (Wingfield), conductor, 6. After the service, 720 of Woodbine Treble Bob was splendidly rung by F. Reeve (Demington) 1, W. J. G. Brown (Laxfield) 2, J. Garrett (Badingham) 3, G. Filby (Wingfield) 4, J. Filby (Wingfield) 5, H. Hall (Framlingham), conductor, 6.

At the well-attended service, which was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. V. M. White, an interesting and appropriate address was given by the Rev. J. R. C. Darling, Archdeacon of Suffolk.

The ringers and friends did justice at 5 p.m. to a substantial tea provided in the Boys' School by the churchwardens, Messrs. T. J. Goram and C. Bloomfield.

The recast tenor and the bells with steel headstocks, the cannons having been taken off, have been rehung with bearings in oil boxes, on the strengthened old wooden frame by Mr. Alfred Bowell, of Ipswich, and the ringers present spoke highly of the 'go.'

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM WARD.

By the death of Mr. William Ward, at Watford, on December 10th, the Exercise loses one of the most careful of ringers, and a man of most obliging and unselfish character. Mr. Ward was not a prolific peal ringer, mainly owing to the fact that he nearly always confined his attempts to peals arranged by the local band to which he belonged, and seldom travelled afield. This is strikingly illustrated by the fact that his first 40 peals were rung at Crawley, Sussex, in the tower in which he learned to ring.

Altogether he took part in 98 peals, of which a list is here given. These include the first peal of Alliance Major and the long peal of 9,312 of Superlative (in which he did not make a single trip), both of which were rung at Crawley.

The deceased moved to London in 1896, and took part in several peals with the Royal Cumberland Youths, and with the Edmonton band. Later he went to Watford, but business curtailed his ringing, although he rang with the Oxhey band until about seven years ago, when failing health compelled him to give up ringing altogether. He leaves a widow, a son and two daughters. His peals were Grandsire Triples, 6 (conducted 1); Bob Triples, 1; Court Bob Triples, 1; Stedman Triples, 15 (conducted 2); Treble Bob Major, 9 (conducted 2); Alliance Major, 1; Double Norwich Major, 10; Superlative Surprise Major, 46 (conducted 2); Cambridge Surprise Major, 1; London Surprise Major, 6; Stedman Caters, 1; Treble Bob Royal, 1; Treble Bob Maximus, 1; total, 98.

DEATH OF MR. ARTHUR SLATER.

Mr. Arthur Slater, of Norton, near Sheffield, whose death has already been briefly announced, was a former member of the St. James' Society, Norton, which he joined in 1890. He was a member of the old East Derbyshire Association, and took part in many six-bell peals and contests.

At a later period (1896) he joined the Yorkshire Association, and rang eleven peals of 5,000 and upward under the banner of this prominent and illustrious society. His most noteworthy performance was at St. Mary's Church, Bolsterstone, in the year 1900, when he rang in a peal of 8,288 Kent Treble Bob Major, composed by Mr. Arthur Craven, and conducted by Mr. Arthur Knights. This peal contained the 60 course ends. It was a singular fact that five of the ringers in this peal possessed the Christian name of Arthur.

Failing health for the last few years kept Mr. Slater from following the art which he loved, although his deep interest many times prompted him to undertake journeys to be amongst members of the craft in the various towers of the district. His geniality and kindness drew around him a large circle of friends, both in the ringing and commercial world. He leaves a widow, daughter and two sons to mourn their loss.

The interment took place at the Abbey Lane Cemetery, Norton.

On Saturday, Dec. 23rd, at Dronfield Parish Church, six members of the old East Derbyshire Association, as a last mark of esteem and regard to the memory of the deceased, rang, with the bells half-muffled, a well-struck 720 of Violet Treble Bob Minor: Heber Allen 1, Thomas Barker 2, Amburn Wilson 3, Edward Allen (conductor) 4, Ernest Platts 5, Leonard Allen 6.

On Wednesday, Dec. 27th, at St. James' Church, Norton, eight members of the Yorkshire Association, rang a quarter-peal of Grand-sire Triples (1,260 changes), with the bells half-muffled: C. Oldfield 1, T. O'Hara 2, B. Shaw 3, G. Butcher 4, T. Seals 5, F. Allen 6, W. Biggin (conductor) 7, A. P. Knight 8.

WHAT IS DIOCESAN ?

To the Editor.

Sir,—May I be allowed a word in reply to the Rev. H. Drake's letter appearing in your issue of December 22nd? I submit that your correspondent confuses the case and evades the issue, and that it is necessary to descend from the clouds whither he takes us, and get to fundamentals.

First, as to the three charges he prefers against the Norwich, St. E. and I. Association—annexation, monopoly, and inflated title. If these things are to be reckoned as faults against us, his new association equally falls under the condemnation; a detail he quite overlooks.

Then as to the diocesan title. For 45 years past (the association was founded in 1877) the ringers of East Suffolk have consistently used the title 'diocesan,' and during all that time have enjoyed the confidence of their diocesan. In 1914, in common with other churchmen in the Suffolk Archdeaconry, they were placed under the first Bishop of St. E. and I., who gave them, thereupon, his blessing. And to-day the East Suffolk ringers continue their work under their clergy exactly as heretofore. Hence it is with reason that they claim recognition as parochial and as diocesan workers, just as, for instance, the organists and the choirmen do.

And they cannot, if they would, belong to any other diocese than St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich. It is not evident, therefore, in what respect the ringers of East Suffolk fail in a duty in which the West Suffolk ringers succeed. In deserting the majority of his ringers, as he has done, the present Bishop has, it seems, been badly advised.

Lastly, as to 'St. Edmundsbury' Ipswich, and the whole of East Suffolk, are as much in the diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, as is West Suffolk; and it follows that in amending and amplifying their diocesan title, it must be the full, and nothing but the full, title taken. Besides, it must be remembered that for many years—long before the new association was thought of—ringers in West Suffolk have been members of the Norwich, St. E. and I. Association; and more may yet wish to join it. Mr. Drake's advocacy of the diocesan style for his association is inconsistent with the brief history of the new society. At first, the title 'Suffolk County' was chosen; then changed, on second thoughts, to 'Suffolk Diocesan.' It was only after the Norwich, St. E. and I. Association had adopted their new style, that it occurred to the West Suffolk men that the title was in any way desirable—a case, in fact, of second-comers jumping a claim previously pegged out.—Yours very truly,

Manor House, Bracondale, Norwich. G. B. BURTON.

SHREWSBURY.—On Nov. 9th, at St. Chad's Church, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes), in 57 mins.: G. Bylin 1, J. Griffiths (aged 14) 2, J. E. Lilley 3, R. R. Pole 4, D. J. Boucher 5, W. Fairhead 6, C. R. Lilley (conductor) 7, J. Evans 8. First quarter-peal of Stedman by the 2nd and tenor ringers. Rung on back eight.

BRISTOL SURPRISE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It is quite easy to prove that the methods given in to-day's 'Ringing World' are not even remotely related to Bristol Surprise Major, and what is still more strange is the fact that the Maximus given by Mr. Bramble is not even related to the Royal.

In March of this year, I commenced canvassing the views of other composers to see if there was any likelihood of my views being accepted by the majority, with the following result.

Of the 23 composers written to, 15 agree with me that the following Minor, Major, Royal and Maximus are in proper progression, or, as we generally say, the same method. Of the remaining eight two agree with me that the Major, Royal and Maximus are all one, but they are doubtful about the Minor. Three composers have not replied, one prefers to remain neutral, one says it is an Oxford extension, and one says, 'No, they are all different methods.'

THE METHOD.

The above is a single method and can be doubled, the lead heads being then as follows:—

To the double method, if we apply the Treble Bob hunt, the lead heads are the same as in the plain method, the essential shunts are exactly the same in both plain and Treble Bob methods, the subsidiary shunts that are necessary for carrying on the Treble Bob hunt are precisely the same from Minor to Maximus, and the method is 'Bristol Surprise.'—Yours faithfully, GEORGE BAKER.

N.B.—Subsidiary shunts have no effect whatever on the lead head, a truth which can be easily demonstrated if necessary. G. B.

THE AUTHOR'S PREFERENCE.

Dear Sir,—I cannot but admire Mr. York Bramble's admirable system of arriving at his conclusions. The plan seems to be this: Choose the method whose claims you are going to bolster up. Find all the points that will help you in your argument, and call them 'inevitable inter-relationships'—a nice long word that—ignore any essential facts that militate against your argument; and there you are!

Mr. Bramble has given us a complete octave of these 'i-i-r's,' and he allows that there are others: he is right, there are. Here is one of them: In Bristol Surprise Major no bell ever dodges on the lead or behind with any other bell than its course bell, or the bell that is coursing it!

Your readers may be interested to apply this rule to the figures that Mr. Bramble offers us as Bristol Maximus.

Of course, I was aware long ago that by an Oxford extension it was easy to produce some such extension as that which he has given us, but I preferred the extension that I give here.

With regard to his inevitable inter-relationships, (b) and (c) are obviously untenable.

With regard to (b), I might just as well say that in Superlative Royal the bell that strikes in ninth's place when the treble is in fifth's must go on dodging until the treble turns her from behind; and as to (c) I might assert that in Cambridge Royal the bell that is being coursed down by the 'bell-behind-at-the-lead-head'—another fine word that!—must run straight in to lead.

I may add that I am still convinced that the extension that I sent you is correct, but, as I do not expect that there is more than one in a thousand of your readers who is at all interested in the matter, I will not waste your valuable space in enlarging on the subject.—Yours truly, E. BANKES JAMES.

CHEERIO!

By 'W. W.'

This is the festive season—that is, as I write; but by the time this appears in print the frisky feeling will have fizzled out somewhat, and we paterfamilias will be scrounging around the corners of our pockets in a forlorn hope of discovering—what we know is 'not there,' no, not there—some flotsam and jetsam from the wreck of the good ship Treasury.

There are certain signs of the approach of the festive season which are unmistakable, and can be diagnosed by anyone accustomed to being 'touched.' The dustbin men, who, for fifty-one weeks have taken a pure delight in shaking surplus refuse over the front pavement, suddenly alter their tactics, call me 'Sir,' give me their unasked opinion of the weather, and hope I am well in health. Everyone who brings anything to the door, hands it over reluctantly, and with an expectant air as though I ought to give it back again in return for bringing it.

As Christmas approaches, those of us who have families, are not allowed to forget it. After being under an apprehension for several days, we feel that the blow is about to fall—and it does.

'I believe in giving sensible presents; don't you, dad?' Then I tremble all over like a horse that has just been down for the first time. You may appear to be too busy to hear, but it gets there all the same. Such a question puts you in a cleft stick, or, in the vulgar tongue, 'up the pole,' for 'sensible presents' may mean anything from a box of nose-powder to an automobile, and in any case there is a sudden drop of the financial barometer from fair to freezing.

Then the letter-box rattles incessantly, and every time I go to pick up the missives I find nothing but bills, bills, and still more bills. I wonder why tradesmen will persist in pestering one with these reminders of filthy lucre at such a season of goodwill.

Still, I am no Scrooge nor curmudgeon, and for the sake of the younger generation we will laugh with those who laugh, though we are conscious of having reached the hilltop, and are taking the first steps down the other side, when Christmas and the festivities which it brings in its train do not appeal to us as they did. The ghost of 'Christmas Past' peers over our shoulder, and brings back memories of years ago when the festive season was a landmark in our history, in the days when we set our faces to the rising sun, fearless of the future. We have passed many milestones since then. Memories of our dearest and our best; the friends of the home and of the belfry who made merry with us it may be only one short year ago, and who have preceded us to the land of shadows, come back to us at this time, and we would not have it otherwise, for some day, we hope that those who follow us, will recall our happiest hours. Omar felt the kindred spirit when he wrote:—

And when thyself with shining foot shall pass
Amid the guests star-scattered on the grass,
And in thy joyous errand reach the spot
Where I made one—turn down an empty glass!

And that reminds me, 'Landlord! Landlord! mine is also empty. A mild and bitter, please, and a word in thine ear, good Boniface—not so much froth (no personalities). Thanks, Selah, we'll don the cap-and-bells to drive dull care away, we'll make them ring, what time we sing, "Taroorooralay." Avaunt the spectre of Christmas Past, we laugh Ha! Ha! Ho! Ho! Here's to the spirit of Christmas present, so cheericerio.'

'Christmas present,' that's the right slogan, for it turned the trick and the unexpected has happened. I am the recipient of a souvenir from an unknown admirer. 'A box for you,' said the verger, 'and there is a hundred at least.' 'A hundred of what?' said I. 'Why, cigars,' says he, adding a moment later, 'I should try them, you always look well behind a cigar.' I rattled the box. 'These are not cigars,' I said, and then a wild thought struck me for a moment, to be dispelled the next, for folk don't send boxes full of money through the post!

When the lid was prised off, a card came to view, inscribed 'These choices are not poisoned.' We dug deeper through the stuffing, when there lay revealed two polished steel—Battle-axes! Attached to each was a coat-of-arms. The joke was 'on me,' as the Yankees say, but it was too good to waste, and I can appreciate it anyway, so here they are reproduced on this page.

The smaller weapon bore the message: 'This to be used only on special occasions.' The larger one: 'Under this sign thou shalt conquer,' and the accompanying parchment read:—

'Greetings and salutations to William at ye Camp at Leicester, Your Majesty's recent outcries just tickled ye palate of Your Majesty's armourer. Methinks when ye King doth Axe for his Battle-axe he shall have it, because he axed for it. Herewith are ye requisite tools to Joust. Now let thine adversaries look to it, those of ye masks, dark lanterns, and jemmies, smite them, and take ye twist out of their tails. Thou art ye man.

'With ye compliments of Your Majesty's Armourer,
Trenous Pistor.'

I have not the remotest knowledge who is the donor of the 'choppers,' but from the samples of previous letters in this journal, I must say he is a horn humorist, and a worthy follower of Mark Twain. It gives me an idea. And now, Go to, I will tell thee what I will do with my Axes. I will invite my correspondents to a 'convivial evening.' Notice the spike on the business end of the Axe. It reminds me of Rider Haggard's Zulu hero of 'King Solomon's Mines,' and how Ulmslapoga got some fine work in with a similar tool—the 'woodpecker.' I will beguile 'A London Ringer,' and that thorn in the flesh, 'Once a Beginner,' to pay me a visit and receive them behind the door. The psychological moment will be great.

'So 'here's to our noble selves and our next merry meeting.' Trenous Pistor, I am looking towards you. Cheerio!

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

A very successful meeting was held at East Retford on Boxing Day. The ten bells of the Parish Church were at the disposal of ringers from 9 a.m., by the kind permission of the Rev. C. Bailey, Vicar. Members attended from Anston, Doncaster, Misterton, Gainsborough, Wigan, Worksop, East and West Retford, Ordsall and Tickhill. During the day the following methods were rung: Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Major, Forward Major, Erin and Stedman Triples and Doubles, Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Kent Treble Bob Royal, and other methods, in which three ladies took part. Mr. John Segar also tapped courses of Bob Minor, Bob Major and Grandsire Caters on the handbells. A very pleasant day's ringing ended at 7 p.m. by lowering the ten bells in peal.

PEAL TABLET AT NEWPORT.UNVEILING AND DEDICATION CEREMONY.

At the evening service, at All Saints' Church, Newport, Mon., on Sunday, December 24th, a beautifully designed oak tablet was unveiled and dedicated by the Vicar (the Rev. W. Williams, M.A.). The clergy and choir having proceeded to the entrance of the church where the board is fixed, Mr. J. W. Jones, the conductor of the peal, requested the Vicar to unveil and dedicate the tablet in commemoration of the peace peal. The Vicar performed the ceremony, and dedicated the tablet 'to the glory of God and in grateful commemoration of the termination of the great war.' He mentioned what a tremendous sacrifice had been made by the lads of that parish. After several most appropriate prayers had been said, a processional hymn was sung, and the choir returned to their places.

THE CARE OF RINGING CHAMBERS.

The Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association could not have seized upon a better opportunity than a meeting at which an Archdeacon was present for a resolution, calling attention to the desirability of all ringing chambers receiving the same regular care and attention, by those responsible for the upkeep of churches, as the other parts of these buildings receive. Upon the Archdeacon devolves the responsibility of seeing that church authorities, among other things, exercise due care in maintaining the churches, and the Archdeacon of Llandaff quickly seized upon the opportunity which the resolution provided, of assuring his association that it would be a pleasure to him to bring this matter before the clergy at his next visitation.

We hope that many other associations will follow the example set by that for the Diocese of Llandaff and Monmouth, and, if they cannot get an Archdeacon to their meetings, they will carry their resolution to the Archdeacons and get them interested in it. There is no portion of the church building which, in the past, has been more neglected than the belfry, and even to-day the condition of many ringing chambers is lamentable. There are, of course, a large number of belfries up and down the country which are a pattern of cleanliness and neatness, and fully in keeping with the rest of the church, but the condition of most of these is due to the zeal of the ringers themselves, and not to any effort made by the church authorities. In assisting the cause of 'belfry reform' the clergy have lost no opportunity of reminding ringers that the belfry is a part of God's House, but many of these same clergy have done nothing to make the ringing chamber conform worthily, in its upkeep and appearance, with the rest of the building.

Ringings have been, and in some cases still are, made the lumber room of the church, the receptacle for all unwanted furniture, where dust and cobwebs accumulate for years. Indeed, there is to-day at one of the most famous London churches, a belfry almost as black as a chimney. This sort of thing ought not to be. Ringers, by their own labour and often at their own monetary cost, have worked wonders in many towers, but it is not right that this matter should be left entirely to them. The choir are not called upon to clean out the choir stalls, and the ringing chamber should be just as carefully attended to by the church authorities as the nave, the chancel or the vestry. Where the condition of affairs shows obvious neglect, an association would, we imagine, be fully warranted in bringing the matter to the notice of the church authorities, through the incumbent or the Parochial Council; and if tactful representation had no effect, a direct appeal to the Archdeacon to bring his influence to bear might have some result.

A PEAL IN 30 METHODS.GREAT ACHIEVEMENT BY A CHESHIRE COMPANY.

A triumph of six-bell ringing has been achieved by the enterprising band at Norbury, Cheshire, where on New Year's Day a peal of Minor in no less than 30 methods, all contained within the scope of seven true extents, was rung. The peal was rung at the third attempt. The first was on December 23rd, and the second on Boxing Day. These attempts failed in the fourth 720 each time. On both occasions the striking was very good, and the first trip upset everything. No trip occurred in the final attempt, and the striking throughout was faultless.

All the methods will be found in the present edition of the C.C. Collection of Legitimate methods, with the exception of Bogedore, Trowell, Grove Delight, Poynton and Overton, which, however, are also regular. Fifteen of the methods have, on previous occasions, been first rung and named by the Norbury company.

To those ringers whose efforts are largely limited to six bells, there is ample scope in the Central Council's Collection, and what can be done by way of increasing interest, variety and intricacy is demonstrated by the men at Norbury. No one can say that six bell ringing need be 'tame' after this.

In addition to the Norbury peal, it is interesting to note that a peal in fourteen Surprise methods was rung at Thornham Magna on December 30th.

THE FIRST PEAL AT EAST ILSLEY.

In the peal column last week was recorded the first peal in the tower at East Ilsley, Berks. It was decided at the conclusion of the great war to add a bell to the old five in the tower as a memorial to 21 men of the parish who gave their lives (most of this has been printed before, but 'Lest we forget,' Mr. Editor, we would like it printed again). Well, after great disappointments and difficulties tackled and defeated, a seventh bell was promised provided the octave was completed, and after a great fete one summer day in 1919 the job was placed with the firm of Mears and Stainbank, who took the old bells away, and tuned them, cast three trebles, than which no sweeter little bells swing in the county, and hung the peal on a specially designed frame to suit the tower.

It was hoped that an entirely local band would ring the first peal, but the difference between five bells and eight has proved too big a jump at present, so it was agreed by all that a peal ought to be rung before 1922 went out. Therefore, five Ilsley men, with the help of three natives of adjoining parishes, rang a Berkshiremen's peal, which was excellently struck throughout. It very seldom happens that several men in a peal can say that they first rang a bell in a certain tower on a poor old ring of five that would take all the pulling and all the handling that men could give them to get a good six-score, and that now they have rung a first-rate peal on one of the sweetest little rings of eight that can be found. Hearty congratulations from the villagers, and especially from the local ringers who were left outside, showed the good feeling among the band. The visitors were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. Hibbert after the peal. Mr. J. Hands is a native of Yattendon; G. Essex, of Hagbourne; and the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, of East Garston. R. T. H.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN THACKRAY.A PIONEER OF HANDBELL RINGING IN LEEDS.

As briefly announced in our last issue, the death has occurred at Upper Armley, Leeds, of Mr. John Thackray. The deceased, who was in his 69th year, commenced ringing in the year 1881, when the peal of six bells was hung in Christ Church, Upper Armley, and when opportunity offered, rapidly advanced to be one of the foremost six bell ringers in the district, being possessed of a fine ear, which made him noted for good striking. In the days when handbell ringing was little known in the county, in conjunction with Mr. J. Whitaker (now a veteran indeed), and his brother, Mr. J. Thackray, under the leadership of Mr. H. Williams, rang the first peals in various methods on handbells, in the city, one of the greatest of their exploits, being what is believed to be the only handbell peal of Grand-sire Triples ever rung with the conductor blindfolded. For many years the deceased earnestly advocated the addition of two trebles at Armley, and early in 1922 the peal was rung by Messrs. Taylor. Largely owing to the energies displayed by Mr. Thackray two trebles were added to the existing peal of six, and this was a source of great gratification to him.

The funeral took place on Tuesday, December 26th, when a large and representative gathering of ringers assembled at Christ Church, where the first part of the funeral service was held. Dr. W. Bradley (Mus.Doc. Oxon) officiated at the organ, while the Vicar (the Rev. T. Goodchild) conducted a most impressive service. The Dead March 'in Saul' was played at the conclusion, after which the interment took place in Armley Cemetery, close by the church, and within sound of the bells of which he was so fond. A plain course of Grand-sire Triples was rung on handbells at the graveside by Messrs. C. Pratt, W. Barton, H. Williams and P. J. Johnson, as a last tribute of respect to an old friend, who endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact by his kindly and unassuming character, while his loss will be keenly felt at Armley, where the band owe much to his self-sacrificing labours.—R.I.P.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The Bristol United Guilds' second annual dinner to-morrow is likely to repeat the success of last year. Already a company of over 120 is assured, and visitors will be present from Birmingham, Cheltenham, Gloucester, Bath, Paulton, Midsummer Norton, Newport, Taunton, Southampton, and various other West of England towns. An excellent musical programme has been arranged.

Councillor Amos Trippier, of Manchester, has just recovered from a serious illness, and was welcomed back to active ringing by a peal at Pendleton on the 2nd inst.

On January 13th, 1772, a peal of 6,048 Imperial Treble Bob was rung at St. Michael Coslany, Norwich, where, a year earlier, on January 15th, 1771, 6,700 Norwich Court Bob had been rung by the Norwich Scholars. This last named was, we believe, the first peal in the Norwich variation of Court Bob, of which there is any record. Feals of Court Bob in other variations had previously been rung in London.

On January 18th, 1844, a record was put up at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, when a peal of 7,126 Stedman Cinques was rung in 5 hrs. 17 mins., and the peal tablet recording the performance affirms that 'the bold and regular striking attracted the notice of the public, and is allowed to exceed any other performance ever attempted in England upon Twelve Bells.' Charles Middleton, whose name is so inseparably linked with Cambridge Surprise Major, and Henry Hubbard, who in his day did much work for the art, took part in this peal.

The first peal of Forward Maximus was rung at St. Martin's, Birmingham, twenty years ago to-morrow.

On January 14th, 1899, the St. Peter's Society, Brighton, then at the zenith of their fame, rang the first peal of London Surprise in the City of London. That was at St. Stephen's, Coleman Street, if we remember aright.

At a meeting of Gravesend Council, on Dec. 20th, it was unanimously resolved to contribute from the borough funds one hundred guineas towards the recasting of the bells at the Parish Church.

Mr. John Overton has been re-elected Ringing Master of the Bridgnorth Branch of the Hereford Diocesan Guild, and Mr. W. Hayward hon. secretary. It is hoped that more of the towers in the district will join the Guild during the coming year.

There are not many towers in which a peal of Cambridge Major, Royal and Maximus has been rung, but St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, have just completed the circuit on the famous bells in the Bull Ring.

ENGLISH BELLS FOR AMERICA.

MESSRS. GILLET AND JOHNSTON'S GREAT CONTRACT.

The carillon of 42 bells ordered by Mr. J. D. Rockefeller, from the celebrated Croydon foundry of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, for the campanile of the Park Avenue Baptist Church, New York, will be the largest on the American Continent, and, owing to the perfection to which the founders have brought the art of bell tuning, it will also be unequalled for purity of tone and tune.

The bells will be played by a skilled carillonneur, by means of a hand clavier, fitted also with foot pedals, this method giving complete control over the volume of sound produced, and enabling the operator to play the most elaborate music, the great number of the bells allowing for an unlimited repertoire.

Before selecting the Croydon firm, Mr. Rockefeller secured the services of a well-known American musical expert to visit and report to him upon the leading bell founders of America and Europe, and Messrs. Gillett and Johnston are to be congratulated that, after such a critical investigation, they have secured, in the open market of the world, a contract of such interest and importance.

The church, situated in the newest and perhaps the most fashionable avenue in New York City, is of an unusual type, inasmuch as, owing to restricted ground space, the Sunday School classrooms are built in vertical tiers outside the lofty nave, and are reached by means of large capacity express elevators. The building is surmounted by an exceptionally beautiful Gothic campanile, the delicate tracery of which will allow the music of the bells to be heard to the best advantage in the broad boulevard beneath.

At present the largest carillon on the Continent is that of 23 bells, with a 4-ton tenor, installed by the same founders earlier this year at the Metropolitan Methodist Church, Toronto. Recitals have been given on these bells throughout the summer, and a novelty in the way of carols was prepared for Christmas by uniting the voices of the large and perfectly trained choir, conducted by Dr. Fricker, formerly organist of Canterbury Cathedral, England, with those of the bells, the choir singing in the actual belfry, grouped round the carillonneur.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.A 'BELL WARMING' AT HASTINGS.

A quarterly meeting of the Eastern Division was held at All Saints', Hastings, on Saturday last, when the members had a very hearty welcome from the Rector (the Rev. F. A. Penson). The bells, which until quite recently were a ring of six, have now been augmented to eight by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and the 'go' of the bells is splendid.

The following towers were represented at the meeting: Battle, Bexhill, Eastbourne (St. Saviour's), Brede, Hailsham, Christ Church, St. Leonards; Christ Church, Blacklands, and Pevensey. Mr. Piper (Eastbourne), Mr. C. Payer (Stone, Ashford), and Mr. G. Kenward (Westfield) were present, together with the local ringers. During the afternoon touches in the standard methods were rung, followed by a service, which was conducted by the Rev. E. A. Penson.

After the service, the Rector kindly entertained the members to tea in the Parish Room, and presided both at this and at the business meeting which followed. He was supported by the lady organist, and by Mr. Wray, who gave a most interesting account of the history of All Saints' tower and bells for the past 500 years.

The following new members were elected: Leonard Giles and Searle Driver (Blacklands), and Charles Relf (Battle).—The place for the next meeting was discussed, Mr. W. Franks proposing Salehurst, which was agreed to unanimously.

With reference to a sum of 13s. 1d., which was collected at the Rotherfield meeting in June last, under the title of 'The Sussex Diocesan Bell Restoration Fund, as no such fund existed in the association, Mr. G. H. Howse proposed, and Mr. W. P. Smith seconded, that the sum be transferred to the general fund. This was put to the meeting, and carried.

Mr. Howse proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for the kind invitation extended to the association for the use of the bells, and for so kindly entertaining the members to tea.—This was supported by Mr. G. Penfold, of Pevensey, and carried by acclamation.

The Rector, in reply, said that it gave him great pleasure to have such a good number present, and he considered it an honour to All Saints' for the association to pay a visit. He remarked that usually, when they built a new house, they had a 'house warming,' and so when they had a new peal of bells it was only right that they should have a 'bell warming.' He hoped that every member present had enjoyed himself.

The members then returned to the tower, and the bells were kept going in different methods until 8 p.m.

WESTERN DIVISION AT CHICHESTER.

A very successful meeting of the Western Division was held at Chichester on Saturday, Dec. 30th. Members were present from Henfield, Pulborough, Heene, Brighton, Shoreham, and the local band, and also visitors from Portsmouth, Isle of Wight and Harwich. Touches of the following methods were rung during the afternoon and evening: Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major.

At 4 o'clock the party attended evensong in the Cathedral, after which a goodly company sat down to tea at Cowley's Restaurant.—The Master, Mr. J. Thornton Rickman, presided at the business meeting, at which the following new members were elected: Mr. G. W. Fletcher, of Southgate; Messrs. F. A. Burnett, F. R. Taylor and R. J. Stone, of Portsmouth; Dr. Bruce Williamson and J. Rymer, of Whitmill, Isle of Wight (life members); Mr. S. Hopper, of Shoreham; Messrs. S. Pickson, R. Heasman, C. Smart, junr., J. Carter and F. Beacher, of Pulborough (annual members).

It was proposed to hold the next quarterly meeting at Steyning in March.—A proposal was put before the meeting by Mr. G. Norris, and seconded by Mr. H. Stalham, that a motion should be brought before the general committee at their next meeting: 'That each member should pay an annual subscription of 2s., irrespective of what is paid by the church authorities of certain towers.'

The business meeting concluded with thanks to Mr. J. T. Rickman for presiding, and Mr. Tomkins (the late Master) for making the necessary arrangements, also to Dean Hannah for granting the use of the bells.

A further visit was made to the campanile, where the party was joined by Miss Burnett, who took part in various touches until the time arrived for the ringers to depart to their various destinations. The campanile is one of the few examples left in England, being a separate structure from the Cathedral, and contains an excellent ring of eight.

ILLNESS OF MR. JAMES MOTTS.

At the annual meeting of the St. Mary-le-Tower Society, Ipswich, held on January 2nd, regret was expressed at the serious illness of Mr. James Motts. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Master, Mr. James Rose; Deputy Master, Mr. William Tillet; steward and steeplekeeper, Mr. Frederick J. Tillet; auditors, Messrs. R. H. Brundle and W. P. Garrett; secretary, Mr. George E. Symonds, 28, Chevallier Street, Ipswich.

DONCASTER & DISTRICT SOCIETY.A SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

The annual meeting of the above society was held at St. George's, Doncaster, on Saturday, Dec. 30th. There was an attendance of about 40 members, representing some 12 different towers. Ringing commenced about 3 o'clock, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Kent Treble, Bob Major, Bob Major, and Double Norwich Court Bob Major were rung.

A short service was held in the Forman Chapel, and was conducted by the Rev. T. H. Mousley, M.A., S.C.F., the new curate of the Parish Church. In the absence of the President (the Ven. Archdeacon Sandford, M.A.), the Rev. H. T. Eddershaw, M.A., gave the address. The preacher apologised for the absence of the Vicar, and said that something very important indeed must have kept him away, as it always gave him great pleasure to come and speak to the ringers. He thanked the ringers for their services, and said how much the clergy and officers of the church appreciated the good work which they did Sunday after Sunday in calling the people to church, and reminding all that there was a God to be worshipped. There was no music, the speaker said, that was so beautiful as that produced by a peal of bells when they were well rung. In the name of the Vicar, he welcomed the ringers to St. George's, and wished them a successful new year.

The address, which was inspiring to a degree, and had to be given at a moment's notice without any preparation, was much appreciated by all who heard it.

Tea was served in the Memorial Hall, and was followed by the business meeting.—The Rev. T. H. Mousley was voted to the chair, and he was supported by the vice-president (Mr. G. Halksworth), the Ringing Master (Mr. G. Clark), the hon. treasurer (Mr. H. Woodhouse), the hon. secretary (Mr. Harold Walker), and Mr. C. D. Potter, hon. secretary of the Barnsley and District Society.

The Secretary reported a successful year's work in 1922, and his report was adopted.

The Chairman, who said that he was already a member of the Surrey Association, was elected a member of the society, together with three ringers from Adwick-le-Street.

Mr. G. Clark was re-elected Ringing Master, to serve another three years.

Votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, the Rev. H. T. Eddershaw for his splendid address, and the local band for having the bells ready, the chairman for his services, and the hon. secretary for his work during the past year. Coupled with the hon. secretary's name was that of Miss K. Jackson, who is a most enthusiastic worker for the society.

In a brief reply, the Secretary said he was looking forward to the time when the Doncaster and District Society would be the foremost society in the country, and he appealed to the members to put aside all petty jealousies and to work together for one thing, that was progress of the society.

The Chairman, in his reply, said how pleased he was to be at the meeting, and to be elected a member of the society. He could ring a bell, but that was all, and he hoped to be able to get amongst the ringers a bit more in the future. He was very glad, he said, to see in the report a reference to the fact that ringers should give of their best for Sunday ringing; and also he was glad that ringers who had been called to higher service were not forgotten in the annual report.

This meeting was held a month earlier than usual, owing to the fact that the annual general meeting of the Yorkshire Association is to be held in Doncaster on January 27th, it being twenty years since the last general meeting of that association was held at Doncaster.

AN EASY WAY TO SUPERLATIVE.

Dear Sir,—Some ringers will make such a fuss of the odd place in Superlative. If the novice will learn what is Treble work, odd place first, odd place last, long dodge last, and long dodge first, and then ring the method by the treble, the method should not be any trouble at all.

Three times in a course you leave the front and the back. Now my experience has been this, that no mother's son requires to be told that long dodge last is followed by long dodge first. The remaining two occasions you leave it for either odd place first or odd place last—which?

Never make odd 6th's when the treble is in 7-8, nor make odd 3rd's when the treble is in 1-2, but please remember that the odd place does change your direction.

Again, on leaving places the treble is either in the direction you are going, or you leave it behind you. If the treble is not in your path do the intermediate dodge and then treble work. If it is in your path you take it in 3-2 or 6-7 according to the direction you are going and do long dodge last.—Yours truly,

SUPERLATIVE.

STANMORE BELLS RE-OPENED.

The bells of the Parish Church of Stanmore, Middlesex, entered upon a new phase of their existence on Saturday, Dec. 23rd. Taken in 1851 from the old church they were rehung in the belfry of the new church, which had just been completed, and they have been well-known ringers since then. For some time past it has been realised that the whole of the framework, etc., was unsafe, and that the bells required overhauling. With the assistance of the Rector and churchwardens the necessary funds were secured, and then to everyone's pleasant surprise a member of the congregation came forward with the offer to complete the peal by the addition of two new bells in memory of members of her family. This offer was gratefully accepted, and the whole of the work placed in the hands of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. Upon examination it was found that No. 5 bell was badly cracked, and would require recasting. The work, however, was pushed along, and the sequel came on Saturday, Dec. 23rd, when a short dedication service, which included special prayers and hymns, was held.—The Rector gave a brief address, in which he traced the origin of bells from the earliest recorded times.

After the service, the following rang three courses of Stedman Triples: Hubert Eden 1, Percy Parsloe 2, William Whitehead 3, Fred Brinklow 4, Chas. Leman 5, William Seeley 6, Maurice Hibbert (conductor) 7, George A. Hughes 8. At the conclusion of this the ringers adjourned for tea at the Institute. On returning to the tower, several touches were rung, the methods including Cambridge, Superlative and Grand sire. Great praise is due to Messrs. Mears and Stainbank for the splendid splice which has been effected, and also for the 'go' of the bells, which is now perfect.

BELLS TOO NOISY FOR RINGERS.

WHY THERE IS NO BAND AT ANSDELL.

The December meeting of the Fylde Branch of the Lancashire Association was held at Ansdell St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church on Saturday, Dec. 16th. The bells are a light and handy ring of eight by Mears and Stainbank, cast shortly after the war broke out. The tower was erected a little earlier, and, according to one of the workmen, when nearing completion on their arrival to begin work one morning they were astonished to find the tower had subsided about eighteen inches during the preceding night. After further investigation the official in charge of the work was convinced that there would be no further subsidence. This incident, together with the outbreak of the war, caused a delay of twelve months between the casting of the bells and their erection in the tower, the bells meanwhile being at the foundry, paid for in advance.

At present the ringing chamber is immediately under the bell chamber, the noise from the bells is terrific, and they have not been rung since Armistice Day, 1918. Mr. Maries, of Lytham, spent many arduous months in trying to get a band of ringers, but failed, and no wonder, for the din is too much for any but the steadiest of ringers. Originally it was intended to have the ringing chamber in the room below, but this would have interfered a little with the choir, so the bells are unringable because of the ringers being too near the bells.

This lower room is from 16 to 18 feet high, and it was the opinion of the meeting that a floor could be placed midway, which would allow ample space for the choir in the lower part and the ringing chamber above.

The members found the bells in admirable going order, except the third, which wanted a little attention. When this had been made right touches of Bob Major, Stedman Triples, Treble Bob Major and Minor were successfully brought round. Besides the usual Blackpool contingent, there were two members present from Lytham Parish Church, one from St. Anne's-on-Sea Parish Church, and Mr. Robinson, of the Preston branch.

WHY NOT A REFERENDUM?

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—There are some things in the Rev. H. B. Woolley's letter in your issue of the 29th December with which I am practically in agreement with him; there are again other things—matters of opinion—as regards which we differ, and as to which he is, of course, entitled to his own view, and I to mine. But when definite statements of fact are concerned, there can be no such latitude allowed. If positive assertions are made they must be accurate. It is here I find myself in conflict with Mr. Woolley.

To quote from his letter: 'and call it by the same title as the Bishop has already given to the diocesan association.' The exact reverse is the truth. The title, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, had already been adopted by our Suffolk branch just four months before the Bishop announced his decision also to take it for the new association. All this is on record in the 'Ringing World,' q.v.:—

Feb. 10th, 1922, p. 89.—Norwich and Ipswich title extended to N., St. E. and I. meeting at Ipswich, Feb. 4th.

Feb. 24th, p. 125.—Meeting of Suffolk Diocesan Association at Ipswich, Feb. 4th.

May 12th, p. 297.—Meeting of S.D.A. at Ipswich left it to Bishop to decide as to title.

May 26th, p. 327.—The Bishop announces his decision to change title to St. E. and I.

I think, therefore, I am justified in objecting to that part of Mr. Woolley's letter, and further in complaining that he does not read his 'Ringing World' as carefully as he ought.

And to quote again: 'East is East, and West is West.' Exactly so. We of Norwich, St. E. and I, had always respected that view, and appreciated the difficulties of the case. May I appeal to history again? The ecclesiastical frontier between E. and W. Suffolk was removed when the new diocese of St. E. and I. was founded in 1914. For a period of eight years from that date, the Norwich Association was content to accept the old position, and made no move. Not so our West Suffolk friends, who as early as May 9th, 1914 (see 'Ringing World,' August 26th, 1921, p. 513), passed a resolution to inaugurate a campaign of penetration of East Suffolk. Only the war for a time prevented this action. But in 1921 they started the invasion in earnest, first of all by arrogating to themselves a title embracing the whole of Suffolk (Suffolk County Association); then in 1922 holding a meeting at Ipswich on February 4th; and lastly demanding the surrender of our East Suffolk members. All this and more. Now, when once St. Edmundsbury had gone to Ipswich, how can Ipswich reasonably be denied the equivalent as regards St. Edmundsbury?

And then as to the Referendum proposal. A referendum is generally understood to be a reference to a whole country, or a whole district, collectively upon a given question, as distinct from putting that question to the vote sectionally. By claiming the whole diocese as the sphere for the new association, Mr. Woolley, ipso facto, defines the electoral area. Yet he now would decline to abide by a referendum in it.

It is greatly to be regretted that when the present Bishop came to the diocese he did not adopt the bold course of becoming patron of his ringers both East and West; fusion would then assuredly have come about—or, he might have followed his predecessor, and made E. Suffolk the nucleus of his new diocesan association, when it might have been relatively easy to win the West, which was unattached. In selecting the minority in the West for his favour, he was inevitably 'up against' the majority in the East, which moreover was not unattached. The expectation of easily winning the East failed; as it was bound to do. Recourse has since been had to a form of coercion, which has not only failed, but brought in a feeling of bitterness. Hence the present impasse. And now West Suffolk is too small an entity to carry on by itself economically.—Yours very truly,

G. P. BURTON.

DEATH OF A BEVERLEY RINGER.

On December 12th, at the Beverley Minster, 539 Grand sire Caters was rung, half-muffled (circumstances not admitting of further ringing) as a mark of sympathy and respect on the passing away, after a long and painful illness, of Mr. G. Ford, who was for many years a zealous and devoted ringer at Beverley, and one noted for his regular attendance at Divine service.

It is gratifying to know that the sound of the bells was a source of hope and comfort to the deceased right up to the time of his death.

At St. Mary's, Woolwich, on December 31st, 1,263 Grand sire Triples was rung in 44 mins., with the bells half-muffled, as a token of respect to the late Mr. F. W. A VALUABLE AGREEMENT.

There has just been issued in printed form the 'conclusions' arrived at by the conference between the Central Council and the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, and this report will, we understand, come up for discussion at the Council's meeting at Salisbury. The conclusions have been arrived at as a result of complete agreement between the representatives of both bodies, and the report is a complete vindication of the position which ringers have all along taken up in regard to bell hanging in ancient, and indeed in all, bell towers. In past years there has been a feeling among ringers that the restoration or augmentation of bells in old steeples has, in a number of cases, been obstructed by the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, through, it has been felt, the mistaken but wholly honest belief that such work could not be carried out without detriment to the tower. Led by the late Sir Arthur Heywood, who laid the foundation of the movement with his book upon the subject, fortified by the indisputable scientific calculations of Mr. E. H. Lewis, and with the many practical proofs provided by the leading firms of bell founders in hanging bells upon sound engineering principles, the Central Council, through the Towers and Belfries Committee, have convinced the Society that it is perfectly possible to carry out such work, and the 'conclusions' of the conference lay down the principles by which it can proceed. To have reached this stage is eminently satisfactory, and the report is an extremely valuable agreement, for we now have two interested bodies pulling in the same direction instead of in opposition, and we hope that this report may reach all Church authorities contemplating bell restoration.

The methods which the conference recommends should be applied when bells are to be rehung or augmented in ancient towers are just those which any ringer conversant with the subject would advocate, and which all our leading founders in these days put into practice. There is one recommendation, however, which we are pleased to see included in the findings of the conference, and that is, that 'in no circumstances should a pre-Reformation bell be recast or its canons removed, and that when such bells cannot be retained in the ring, that they be used as single bells or preserved as a valuable and interesting work of the past.' This is a point which we have urged in this column, and we are glad to see that the preservation of these relics is thus strongly advocated. As bells, many of these castings are not fit to take a place in modern peals, but as examples of the work of old founders and specimens of an ancient craft, in which after all, ringers have a deep interest, these antiquities of the pre-Reformation period, all too many of which have disappeared, ought to be saved from the melting-pot.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

As will be seen from a notice, the new trebles, completing the ring of twelve at Exeter, are to be dedicated on Feb. 3rd.

What was probably the first peal on twelve bells, was a peal of Grandsire Cinques at St. Bride's, Fleet Street, recorded as having been rung on Tuesday, the 19th of January, 1724. Among those who took part in the peal were Benjamin Annable and Robert Catlin, who was a London bell founder, and carried on the business brought from Reading by Samuel Knight.

On January 19th, 1767, the London Youths rang 6,200 Oxford Treble Bob Royal at Shoreditch, and ten years later, on Jan. 20th, 1777, the Cumberlands rang 6,240 in the same method on the same bells.

On January 21st, 1788, a peal of 6,600 Bob Maximus was rung at the Church of St. Mary the Great, Cambridge.

In 1898, on January 21st, a peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal, which set the lead for modern Surprise Royal ringing, was accomplished at Cheltenham. It was believed to be the first peal of Surprise Royal, although, of course, it is now known that a peal in this method was rung at Wakefield in 1822.

A peal of 'Garthing's Trebles'—Garthon's peal of Grandsire Triples—was rung at St. Margaret's, Lynn, on January 20th, 1740.

'That most ingenious and intricate peal, Norwich Court Bob Maximus,' was rung for the first time at St. Peter Mancroft on January 20th, 1817.

The first peal by the Winchester Diocesan Guild in Hampshire was rung 39 years ago last Wednesday, at Soberton, Hants, and was Mr. George Williams' first peal. Curiously enough Mr. Williams rang his first peal as conductor in the same tower exactly a year later. Since then he has rung over a thousand!

Owing to unforeseen circumstances the annual meeting of the Chew Deanery Branch of the Bath and Wells Association is postponed until February 3rd.

'Long peals' of Cambridge Major are few and far between, but the enterprising Leicester men rang, last Saturday, a 7,008 by Mr. Fred Dench.

Mr. Wilfred Overton, of Bridgnorth, writes to point out that the peal of Oxford Bob Triples at Holm Lacey, published in our last issue, cannot be claimed as the first in the method by the Hereford Diocesan Guild. A peal in this method was rung by the association at Bridgnorth on January 11th, 1902.

The annual meeting of the Nottingham District of the Midland Counties Association is to be held at Nottingham on January 27th (the same day as the dinner to honour the memory of William Doubleday Crofts), and not on the 20th, as advertised last week.

Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of the Whitechapel Foundry, have recently secured the order for a large carillon for Oshawa, Canada.

The peal of eight at Northallerton, North Yorks, has been ringing by the same firm.

Congratulations to Walter P. Whitehead upon his first peal as conductor. To call a peal of Superlative at the age of 15 years is more than a promising performance.

In their annual report the Lancashire Association have set an example in bringing the doings of the Central Council under the special notice of their members by printing a summary report of the last meeting.

The Lancashire Association has now a total membership of 1,450, of which 1,163 are ringers attached to towers in the county.

At Beverley Minster belfry, just before midnight on New Year's Eve, the old custom was observed of reading Tennyson's poem, 'King out, wild bells.' Following a touch of 395 Grandsire Caters the Vicar read the poem, and after the hour of midnight had struck the new year was welcomed by another short touch.

On January 6th, after the Epiphany ringing, the Westminster Abbey company of ringers were entertained to lunch by the Dean (Bishop Ryle) and Mrs. Ryle, at the Deanery, an exceedingly enjoyable time being spent.

A Weymouth paper has recorded the 'keen appreciation and delight' of the inhabitants of the town at hearing the bells of Christ Church, King Street, at midnight on New Year's Eve, for the first time for many years. Hymns were rung, and the bells 'pealed forth a joyful welcome to 1923.' Congratulations are extended to those who have put these bells in order after they had been allowed to rust in inactivity for so long a time.

We should also join in the congratulations were it not for the fact that these bells are saucer-shaped and worked on the barrel principle.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The annual meeting of the Council will be held on May 22nd (Whit Tuesday) next, at Salisbury. Full particulars of the meeting will be published later. Notice of any proposed motion should be sent before April 21st.

Secretaries please note that the annual subscription is now due, and should be sent to the hon. secretary, Mr. E. Alexr. Young, 155, Rushey Green, S.E.6.

BELL HANGING IN ANCIENT TOWERS. CENTRAL COUNCIL AND SOCIETY FOR PROTECTION OF ANCIENT BUILDINGS.

1. Bell cages can be made to satisfy the various requirements of bell ringers, archaeologists and architects, having particular regard to the protection of ancient towers.
2. The design and workmanship of a cage are of more importance than the material of which it is made.
3. When the renewal of an old bell cage or the recasting of an old bell is under consideration, the benefit of any doubt should remain with the retention of what exists.

In these words the Conference between the representatives of the Central Council and the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings summarise their agreed findings on the subject of bell hanging in ancient towers, a subject upon which there has been considerable disagreement between the two bodies in the past.

The report containing the conclusions of the conference has just been printed, and it opens with the general statement that 'during the past quarter of a century or so very many different statements with regard to the right way in which bells should be hung in old towers have been made; and a considerable difference of opinion appeared to exist between the recommendations made by the society and the Central Council. Added to this difficulty the bell hanging firms were still, to a great extent, experimenting with metal cages, and recommending new and untried methods of construction.'

The Conference between the two bodies resulted 'in complete agreement,' and the principles agreed upon are put forward as a guide to be used by those who have the care of rings of bells in old towers, i.e., towers built before the end of the 16th century or thereabouts. The first recommendation is that with regard to any question concerning their church bells or work in their towers. Parish authorities are strongly urged to consult the Advisory Committee set up in their own diocese or the Central Committee for the Protection of Churches and their Treasures, with whom the parties to the conference would be prepared and willing to advise on technical points.

The recommendations go on to deal with the technicalities of bell hanging, urging the importance of the careful distribution of the strains and stresses, the protection of bellfries from birds and weather, the proper ventilation and care of the ringing chamber, the care of the bells and their fittings.

The report advocates that in no circumstances should a pre-Reformation bell be recast or its canons removed, and that, when such bells cannot be retained in the ring, they should be used as single bells or preserved as a valuable and interesting work of the past, also that bells of special interest of post-Reformation date, such as those cast by such famous founders as Miles Gray or Abraham Rudhall should not be recast without reference to the authorities referred to above.

'Clocking' of bells is strongly deprecated, and attention is directed to the necessity to quarter-turn a bell when it wears thin, and also to the importance of the form and condition of the clapper. The report adds this significant paragraph, 'With regard to bearings it is doubtful if any advantage is gained by the use of ball bearings.'

To the report, which is signed by Mr. A. R. Powys, secretary of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, and Mr. E. Alexander Young, secretary of the Central Council, is appended a schedule setting out the merits and demerits of various materials for the construction of frames, viz., oak, chestnut, teak and metal. The only demerits urged against the metal frame are that it needs regular painting to prevent corrosion, and has not got the shock-absorbing qualities of timber; but, it is added, in a properly constructed frame in proper condition shock does not arise.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A most successful meeting of the Hunts district was held at St. Neots on Saturday last. The ringers present came from a wide area, St. Neots, Eynesbury, Eaton Socon, Great Staughton, Ramsey, Roxton, Chatteris, Everton, Sandy, Cambridge, Hitchin, Long Stanton, Newmarket and Fulbourne being represented. Various touches were rung on the magnificent eight at St. Neots, and at Eynesbury (6) and Eaton Socon (6), the methods including Plain Bob, Treble Bob, Cambridge Surprise Minor, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and Double Norwich. A short service was held in the fine church of St. Neots, with an address by the Vicar. At the tea, which was held in the commodious Church Room, 32 ringers were present.

At the subsequent meeting the chair was taken by the Rev. W. Knights, Vicar of St. Neots, and several new members were admitted. It was decided, if possible, to hold the next meeting at Huntingdon on February 10th.

A hearty vote of thanks to the incumbents of St. Neots, Eynesbury and Eaton Socon for the use of the bells, and to the Rev. W. Knights for his excellent address, was proposed by the district secretary (the Rev. H. B. Woolley), seconded by Mr. J. Willis, and carried unanimously.

This district is evidently 'a live branch.'

BRISTOL UNITED GUILDS' DINNER.

This infant had its second trip on Saturday last, and, although I should say there were not quite so many present as last year, it was in every way quite as successful.

The speech of the Ven. Archdeacon of Bristol was much appreciated by everyone. It was delivered in a quiet, conversational tone, that made those present feel that he was speaking to them personally. He knows what ringing is from practical experience, and the association is fortunate in having such an excellent representative as one of its vice-presidents.

The year's programme last year was an excellent one, but this year it was even better. Mr. Emery's party were reinforced by friends of Mr. Leaker from St. Thomas' choir, and as one of those present remarked, 'the concert alone was worth the money.' To do proper justice to it would mean to describe each item, and I am afraid space cannot be spared for this. Suffice to say, there was not a weak item from start to finish.

The ringing preceding the dinner included four courses of Stedman Cinques at St. Mary Redcliffe, conducted by Mr. Albert Walker, one of those taking part being the esteemed and respected hon. secretary of the Bath and Wells Association, Mr. E. E. Burgess, of Taunton, and this was his first pull on twelve. Judging from this instance there is no reason why we should have to wait long for a peal of Cinques by a local band at Taunton.

Sunday duties sent many away from the dinner earlier than we could have wished, notably Mr. Pates, of Cheltenham, who, to avoid arriving home at 3 o'clock in the morning, had to leave Bristol by the 7.48 train. The chairman also had to leave before the close or walk seven miles. He chose the former (so should I). Our friends from Birmingham, London and Croydon stayed over the week-end, and rang Cambridge Royal and Stedman Caters at St. Stephen's for service.

Congratulations are due to the secretary for the smooth manner in which everything passed off, and to the treasurer for his active assistance. A meeting will shortly be held to fix the date for next year's function and election of officials, and against these two the words 'no change' will undoubtedly be written by the unanimous vote of all present.

W. A. CAVE.

RESTORATION OF OTLEY PARISH CHURCH BELLS.

The dedication of the Otley Parish Church bells, which have just been recast and rehung in a new metal frame, took place on Friday, December 22nd. Before the dedication ceremony by the Vicar (Canon R. P. Hadland), an address was given by the Rev. C. C. Marshall, Vicar of St. Chad's, Far Headingley, and President of the Yorkshire Association.

After the dedication service the bells were rung for about half an hour. Many of the townspeople were listening for the familiar notes, and their beautiful tonal quality was a subject for general comment. Later the ringers were invited to supper provided by a few friends in honour of the occasion. Here they were joined by Canon Hadland and Mr. C. F. Johnston, of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, the firm of bell founders who have carried out the repairs and alterations.

Commenting on the Otley bells and the ringers, Mr. Johnston said that he was taking home with him a photograph of the three oldest ringers—Mr. W. D. Glough, Mr. C. Ralph and Mr. J. Horner—whose total age is 214 years, and whose total years of service in ringing is 170 years. That was a record to be proud of, and he doubted if it could be beaten anywhere in the country.

Canon Hadland congratulated the staff of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston on their workmanship. He said there were quite a lot of men in Otley who really understood the engineering part of the alterations, and they had spoken most appreciatively of the steel framework which had replaced the old oak beams. The bells had also been subjected to a most minute inspection, and everybody was full of praise for the obviously excellent job made of them. The old peal was thought to be excellent, but the new peal was better still.

The recast bells now form a ring of eight, with a 17 cwt. tenor.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A most successful meeting of the Bedford District was held at Bromham on Saturday last, when members attended from Bedford, Clapham, Turvey, Kempston, Biddenham, and the local company. Ringing commenced about 3 o'clock, with a well-struck 240 Violet Treble Bob. Tea was served by Mrs. Mortimer, about 20 sitting down to a splendid spread.

At the business meeting, Miss E. Steel was in the chair, and three new members were elected, viz., C. Sargant and W. Stapleton, of Turvey, and J. Seemarks, of Bromham.

It was proposed to hold the next meeting at Turvey, of which notice will appear in 'The Ringing World.'

A hearty vote of thanks, proposed by Miss Steel, to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to Mrs. Mortimer for preparing tea, was carried with applause. The tower was then again visited, and the bells kept going until 8 o'clock to standard methods, after a very enjoyable afternoon and evening being spent.

DURHAM CATHEDRAL.

With reference to the announcement in these columns on Dec. 29th, that the bells at Durham Cathedral, which have just been rehung, cannot yet be rung owing to the condition of the tower, it should be pointed out that the defects that have appeared in the stonework are in no way whatever due to vibration caused by the ringing of the bells since their restoration. As a matter of fact the bells have not yet been rung, and it is not intended that they should be rung until the extensive repairs to the tower have been completed. The defects which have recently appeared are old ones, and were discovered before the bells were completed.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The meeting of the Bolton Branch at Holy Trinity, Bolton, was another proof of the progress that is being made in this branch. Considerably more interest is being shown in the higher methods by the younger aspirants of the art. Over 40 members were present from 17 towers, and the methods rung included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent, Oxford, Double Norwich, Superlative and Cambridge in the Major methods, many taking part in their first touch in these methods.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at the Bolton Parish Church.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

THE WAR MEMORIAL SCHEME.

A very successful meeting of the Rochester District was held at Northfleet on January 6th, upwards of 50 members attending. This district is well served with the quality of its ringing, and this was maintained at the meeting, all methods up to Cambridge and Superlative being the order.

The ringers' service was held in the church, conducted by the curate-in-charge (the Rev. H. H. Hurwood), the organist and choir also being in attendance. In an excellent address, it was very gratifying to hear the reverend gentleman saying how pleased he was to know that the ringers were doing good service by their attendance in the belfry and at church—one hears nowadays the reverse of that from some pulpits.

Tea and business meeting were held in the Schools adjoining. The tea had been prepared by the Ladies' Committee of the church, and a hearty vote of thanks was proposed to them for their kind thought and attending to the ringers' wants.

The Rev. H. H. Hurwood presided over the business meeting, supported by the churchwardens (Messrs. P. A. Terry and Snelling), Mr. G. Clements, the district representatives (Messrs. Haigh and Spice), and the district secretary, Mr. F. M. Mitchell. — Mr. John Avis (Milton-next-Gravesend) was elected a life member, Meopham tower was again brought into union, and two honorary members (the Rev. Tait, Meopham, and J. Clements, Northfleet) and sixteen practising members were elected.

Mr. W. Haigh gave a report of the annual committee meeting, and the action of the representatives in voting for the war memorial to be proceeded with was approved, the members unanimously supporting them in their vote.

The district secretary urged all members and secretaries of towers to hurry on with their collecting cards, and stated that their total sum raised to date towards the memorial was over £10. He also asked them to try and get more honorary members.

Two towers were put up for the next meeting, in April, Cliffe finally being chosen. This peal is to be rehung, and it is hoped it will be completed in time for the association to visit (and if this should meet the eye of the bell hanger, it is hoped he will make a note of it). If Cliffe is not available Meopham was decided upon.

Mr. W. Haigh proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the curate-in-charge for the use of the bells, for his excellent address, and presiding over the meeting; to the organist and choir, and the churchwardens for their attendance, and to the Ladies' Committee for providing such an excellent tea.

The Chairman, in responding, said they were pleased to welcome the ringers to Northfleet, and were pleased to see such a large number present. They would be assured of a hearty welcome at any future date.

Ringing was again indulged in, and all expressed the opinion that this was the 'best meeting for a long time.'

In addition to the district members, ringers attended from Dartford and Maidstone districts, Southend and Swindon.

A collection at the service for the war memorial realised 13s. 6d.

SPEEDY RINGING.

How fast is it possible to ring changes? This question arises from the fact that at Long Stanton on Sunday afternoon, after an unsuccessful attempt for a handbell peal of Grandsire Caters, a 720 Bob Minor, was rung 'in hand' in 10 mins. 40 secs., which is at the rate of about 67.5 changes per minute! The ringers were: W. H. J. Hooton (conductor) 1-2, J. B. Woolley 3-4, C. W. Woolley 5-6. The report adds that this was the fastest 720 by all. That is not surprising.

EXTENSION OF BRISTOL SURPRISE MAJOR.

Sir,—Now that Mr. York Bramble and the Rev. E. B. James have produced their figures, and also made their full statement of criticism of my figures, kindly allow me your space to make one reply, for the sake of your readers, in support of the accuracy of mine and the error of theirs.

Do both these gentlemen recognise the two basic laws which must control both construction and extension of all treble dodging methods? That there is one bell commonly termed the pivot bell, which must make a place either 1st, 3rd, 5th or 7th, at the same time as the treble lies her whole pull behind, which is the centre line of a single method. The second half of the method is simply a reflection of the first half, opposite hand, backwards.

When we come to a double method this reflection or centre line occurs when the treble has completed half her journey outwards, viz., passing from the 3-4 to 5-6 dodging positions, or, say, one quarter of the treble's course. The whole work in any double method is revealed in this first portion up to the reflection line, but the keystone to any double method is found in the position in which the two necessary places are made as the treble crosses the line. 1st, 3rd's, 6th and 8th places can all be made, as follows: 1st and 6th, or 1st and 8th's, 3rd's and 8th's, or 3rd's and 6th's. The last is what occurs in Bristol Major.

Now then, turn to the figures of Major and take stock of all the work which has been done. We find that 1234 are doing ordinary Treble Bob dodging, while 5678 have been making places, 5th's and 8th's in their turn, exactly fitting with the repetitious rows of 1234 as these bells dodged. While the necessary 1st and 4th's places are made to allow the treble to pass from 1-2 to 3-4 dodging positions, 5678 alternate with a snap to fit. If this work is carefully examined we find we can sum the whole work up under two items.

(1) That the treble dodges all positions up and down, and (2) that all other bells make the nearest place to the treble immediately before and after passing or dodging with her. I give a half lead of Major, Royal and Maximus, and invite all to examine them when they will plainly see the accuracy of the extension I published.—Yours faithfully,
ARTHUR CRAVEN.

'CHANGES' AT LAVENHAM.

The touches brought round at SS. Peter and Paul's Church, Lavenham, during 1922 amounted to the grand total of 118,380 changes, made up as follows: 83,631 on tower bells (in which are included 49,000 of Sunday Service ringing) and 34,749 on handbells. The following methods were rung: Grandsire Triples, Caters and Cinques, Stedman Triples and Caters, Union Triples, Bob Major and Royal, Kent Major and Royal, Oxford Major and Royal, Double Norwich, and Double Oxford Bob Major, Forward Major and Royal, Canterbury Pleasure, Albion, Sowerby Treble Bob Major, Superlative and Cambridge. In addition to the above several thousands of Minor changes were rung. The tower bells were rung for every Sunday morning and evening service throughout the year, also early services on Easter and Christmas mornings. Sixty-one ringing friends from thirty-two parishes visited and rang at the tower during the year.

THE 'SIMPSON PRINCIPLE' OF BELL TUNING IS IT OVERDONE?

During nearly three weeks' enforced idleness in bed and confinement to my bedroom, the question of the Simpson Principle of bell tuning has been the predominant theme running through my mind.

In any remarks I may make I wish it to be clearly and distinctly understood that I do not wish to make any imputation against the firms who so strenuously advocate this particular principle; their work, honour and integrity being unimpeachable. I only attack the principle as applied to church bells generally.

I am prepared to admit that, from a scientific, musical and logical point of view, the Simpson principle of tuning may be correct, when applied to a bell used singly, where it does not matter how long you have to wait for the note which eventually comes, though belated, but in applying that same principle to a peal of bells where the sounds follow in quick succession, it becomes quite a different matter.

I ask any ringer carefully to listen for and note this fact on Simpson-tuned bells, and see for himself if it is not strictly true, that when the clapper strikes the bell you get a very odd iron twang, the full note coming when it is mixed up with all the other twangs and notes, the result being pandemonium, which may be described as the striking of so many iron pots followed by a conglomeration of sounds ending in a weird howl. This has been my experience of the Simpson Principle up to the present time. I do not say all peals are as bad as each other, the bells in some belfries being a little further off; therefore, the noise is somewhat subdued, but that pandemonium is there all the same. Now, I am asked to believe that all this is good bell music. My good old trusty ear, which has given me lifelong pleasure and enjoyment, tells me it is anything but that.

Some years ago I was cycling with a friend to a ringing meeting where there had been recently installed a Simpson-tuned peal of bells, which I had heard several times, though my friend had not. As we came within hearing we dismounted and listened, and almost at once he said, 'They are certainly not a bad peal of bells.' I said, 'Wait till we get near, we are at present a mile away.'

We eventually came close, and after some minutes listening to the ringing, came to the conclusion that my description of the noise was a true one, which was confirmed to an even greater degree when we got up into the belfry. I have rung several peals on these bells, as well as on another peal of bells tuned on the same principle a few miles from here, where fortunately the ringers are a little further away from the bells and the noise is less painful, but in ringing a peal, as the bells work themselves into certain positions, that periodical howl is nothing short of nerve racking.

A year or two ago I was at the inauguration of a new peal of bells in the neighbourhood, replacing a beautiful modern peal of eight fit to grace any Cathedral tower in the land, for the sole reason that they were not Simpson-tuned. This I have always considered to be little short of sacrilege, a fact which I did not hesitate to tell that famous church dignitary who was responsible for their installation in a conversation which I had with him some time after. 'But,' he said, 'surely you do not question the musical ability of — and of —?' I said, 'No, I do not, they are not ringers, though, but theorists and slaves to a principle.' It was, however, easy to see the impression formed in that worthy's mind by those musical theorists.

Now, in replacing that beautiful peal of bells, have they given us a better peal in their stead? I am absolutely convinced in my mind they have not, and that the old peal was better than the new, and that opinion is shared by many of the local ringers and others who have heard and rung on both peals.

My true ideal of a good peal of bells is where the full note is produced immediately the clapper strikes the bell. Abraham Rudhall always gave us that note, and he knew how to give us good music with his beautiful bells which have never been beaten. Take Painswick bells, and those of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, London, both Rudhall's bells, I believe: what better music could you wish for than these bells give? Then, to come to more modern founders, take Southgate and Swanscombe. It is always a pleasure to listen to and ring on these beautiful peals of bells. These particular peals of bells I have quoted are only some of those with which I happen to be acquainted, and are, of course, only a few among very many others.

In conclusion, as a word of advice to those incumbents and church authorities who may be augmenting or recasting their bells, I say do not allow yourselves to be talked to by these musical 'cranks,' so that you do not know whether you are standing on your head or your heels, but if possible borrow one of our good friend William Willson's batleaxes, and approach the bell founder, something like this: 'We want our bells augmented or recast (as the case may be). Are you prepared to give us bells similar to Rudhall's? If not, hands off. We will hie ourselves to another bell founder who will.'

In all seriousness, I believe, the Simpson principle of tuning, as applied to church bells, is overdone; the note it produces being a very thin, weak, soulless one, and a reaction against it is inevitable. In fact, I think that reaction has arrived, for many eminent ringers throughout the country are loudly condemning it.

'THE QUICKEST PEAL ON THE BELLS.'

Very few reports of peals appear in our columns without a footnote attached referring to some point, more or less of interest, concerning the performance. From time to time we read 'Quickest peal on the bells.' This statement has, of course, a certain amount of interest, but has it any real merit? When we set out to ring peals we do not measure our performance by the speed of our ringing, but by the number of changes rung, and we ought not to judge it by the rapidity of the striking, but by the quality of it. We are not reflecting in any way upon those who have put out claims to have rung the fastest peal in any tower, nor referring to any performance in particular, but merely discussing the question from a detached standpoint, prompted by the many recent claims which have been made for local speed records.

From first to last the striking should be the thing that matters, and everything else, pace included, should be subservient to this necessity. It should be borne in mind that, when peals are rung on church bells, the ringers have a large audience, many of whom, let us frankly admit, may not care for long continued spells of ringing, and if bells are driven at an excessive pace it appears to many of the uninitiated to be one long-drawn-out jangle, without beat or rhythm. It is true that when bells settle down to good striking they naturally quicken a little in pace, because the smooth running of the changes is not broken by wide blows or hesitancy which leads to or is caused by trips. But this is a totally different matter to racing the bells to knock a few minutes off the time of some previous peal in the same belfry.

The fact that peals are rung far more rapidly at one church than at another is, of course, outside the question, for not only does the difference in weight have to be taken into consideration, but more important still in its effect is the method of hanging, whether bells are 'hung out, or 'tucked up,' with a consequent difference in the size of the wheels. Then, too, the length of rope has its effect, for, generally speaking, it is not possible to drive bells as fast when there is a long draught, as when there is a short one. Moreover, some bells, with other things more or less equal, seem naturally more 'sluggish' than others, but with any given ring of bells there is generally a limit within which they can be rung with the best effect from the listener's standpoint, and it is this standpoint that ringers ought constantly to bear in mind. We do not for one moment say that there is any harm in endeavouring to ring the quickest peal on the bells—so long as the striking is good—but it would be a far better thing to be able to say that it is the best peal ever rung on the bells.

SOCIETY FOR THE ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD.

NEW PRESIDENT ELECTED.

A successful meeting was held at Christ Church, West Bromwich, on January 13th, when more than 50 members attended, representing towers of Bilston, Birmingham, Bradley, Brewood, Cannock, Erdington, Oldbury, Pelsall, Sedgley, Selly Oak, Smithwick, Swindon, Tipton, Walsall, Wellington, Willenhall, Wolverhampton, Wood Green, and the local towers. A short service was held in church, and a helpful address given by the Rev. F. Jones, who took for his text Ps. xvi. 8, 'I have set the Lord always before me; because He is at my right hand.'

A bountiful tea was prepared by local ringers' wives and friends in the Parish Hall.

The Archdeacon of Stafford (the Rev. Hugh Bright) made his acquaintance with the members, and in response to a request to become president of the society he readily acquiesced.

The Rev. C. H. Barker proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar (the Rev. J. Goodacre) for the use of the bells; to the Rev. F. Jones for his address; to the organist for his kindly help, and to the ladies for preparing and serving tea. This was received with acclamation.

The next meeting is provisionally arranged to take place at Cannock on April 14th.

The annual meeting of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held at St. Martin's Hotel, City, on January 9th, the Presiding Ringing Master, Mr. Alderman J. S. Pritchett, M.A., B.C.L., being in the chair.

The Secretary (Mr. A. Paddon Smith) announced that he had just learned that the chairman attained his 68th birthday on the previous day, and all present joined in wishing him 'Many happy returns.'

Congratulatory letters upon the Peal of Stedman Sextuples were read from Mr. J. H. Swinfield, of Burton-on-Trent, and Mr. James George, the latter gentleman regretting he could not be present, as he left that day for Blackpool for a week's holiday.

All the Guild's officers were re-elected as follows:—President, the Lord Bishop of the Diocese; vice-presidents, Rev. Canon E. Grose Hodge, M.A., Rector of Birmingham; Alderman J. S. Pritchett, M.A., B.C.L., Messrs. W. H. Godden, John Carter, J. H. Shepherd, Wm. Kent and Thos. Russam; Presiding Ringing Master, Alderman J. S. Pritchett, M.A., B.C.L.; Deputy Ringing Master, Mr. Albert Walker; trustees, Messrs. T. Russam and C. Dickens; auditors, Messrs. J. L. Wells and T. H. Reeves; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. Paddon Smith.

The balance sheet for the year 1922 was duly approved, Mr. Mansell reporting that he had audited the books, etc., with Mr. T. H. Reeves.

It was arranged to hold the next quarterly meeting at Aston, in April, and the 'Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner' at the Imperial Hotel, on Saturday, February 24th, at 6 o'clock. Arrangements for the latter will be advertised in the usual column in due course.

Several new members were elected and, routine business having been disposed of, the company was entertained by a course of 'Treble Fourteen' on the handbells by the ringers of the aforementioned peal of Stedman Sextuples.

A vote of thanks to the officers for their services during the past year, and to Mr. Alderman Pritchett for presiding at the meeting, brought the proceedings to a close.

ISLEWORTH, MIDDLESEX.—On Saturday, Nov. 25th, on the occasion of the laying of the foundation stone of the new Church Hall by the Duke of Northumberland, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 45 mins.: F. G. Goddard 1, A. Harding 2, T. Beadle 3, E. F. Cole 4, W. Lidbetter 5, A. Beckensale 6, G. Spencer (conductor) 7, H. Brooks 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The coming week marks the anniversary of the death of several ringers who played a noted part in ringing in their day and generation.

On January 29th, 1836, Henry Haley died at Bethnal Green, at the age of 66 years. Much could be written of Henry Haley's performances, but only one or two points from his ringing career can be given here. He rang altogether 182 peals, of which he conducted 155 and composed 105.

In his early days, with a band of youths, he 'lapped' a number of peals, 16 of which he conducted, including Stedman Cinques and Double Norwich Maximus.

When he took up tower bell ringing with the Cumberlands he composed and conducted his first peal, 5,079 Stedman Caters at Fulham, at the age of 23. He went to America in 1850 on a tune ringing engagement, and at Philadelphia, with his four companions and three other ringers, rang the first peal on the American continent.

In 1854 he joined the College Youths, and among his subsequent peals were 8,580 Stedman Cinques at Cornhill, 15,840 Treble Bob Major at Bethnal Green, 8,448 Treble Bob at Christ Church, Spitalfields (where the tenor is 33 cwt.), and a 'silent' peal of Grandsire Triples (Holt's Original) at St. Giles-in-the-Fields. He rang in the first peal in Ireland, and the first recorded peal in Scotland.

When it is remembered that he passed out of ringing nearly 40 years ago, it must be admitted that his record was a wonderful one, just as his ability as a ringer was far above the average.

One of the greatest of pioneers of ringing, Benjamin Annable, died on February 1st, 1756. It was recorded of Annable in Hearne's Diary, 1734, that he 'is judged to understand ringing as well as, if not better than, any man in the world.'

Henry Burstow, of Horsham, Sussex, who was famed for his knowledge of folklore songs as well as, in Sussex, for his ringing, died on January 30th, 1916, at the advanced age of 83. When well past his 80th year he could sing from memory over 400 songs. As a boy he knew the pinch of poverty, and despite a lifetime of hard work, he died as he had lived a poor but honest and honourable man.

On January 26th, 1865, that marvellous performer of 'tapping,' Elijah Roberts, committed suicide at Liverpool. Roberts never had an equal at his particular forte until Mr. Morris, of Harwich, came on the scene in recent years, and tapped peals in a number of methods.

A new record in juvenile performances has been made, we feel sure, by Wilfred Taffender, son of the Master of the London County Association. On Saturday week he scored his first peal, at the age of 15 years, by ringing a working bell to a peal of London Surprise Major! Peals in this method usually come to ringers only after years of patient work, and those who have made it their first peal are extremely few. To do this at the age of 15 is a performance upon which this young London ringer is heartily to be congratulated.

The reward of perseverance has certainly come none too soon to Mr. John Smith, of the York Town band, Surrey. He rang his first peal of Grandsire Triples last week at the 37th attempt! There was, doubtless, feeling in his comment, when the bells came round, 'At last!'

Following closely upon the 720 of Bob Minor rung by Messrs. W. Hooton and J. and C. Woolley in less than eleven minutes, comes the report of a peal, comprising seven 720's rung by the same band, in the remarkable time of 63½ minutes. This is at the rate of 79.37 changes per minute. One thing seems pretty certain there could not have been any trips.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The annual meeting of the Council will be held on May 22nd (Whit Tuesday) next, at Salisbury. Full particulars of the meeting will be published later. Notice of any proposed motion should be sent before April 21st.

Secretaries please note that the annual subscription is now due, and should be sent to the hon. secretary, Mr. E. Alexr. Young, 155, Rushey Green, S.E.6.

NEW PEAL FOR COLLATON, DEVON.

Orders have been given to the famous West of England firm, Messrs. W. Aggett and Sons, Church Bell Works Chagford, for the erection of a peal of bells at St. Mary's Church, Collaton, Devon. The bells are to be fixed on the most modern principles, and hung on the firm's patent adjustable bearings.

The bells will be inscribed with the names of the men of the parish who fell in the great war. The work, it is hoped, will be completed by Lady Day.

Messrs. Aggett and Sons also hope to commence the peal of bells, at Usington, during the next fortnight.

BALL BEARINGS FOR BELLS.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I was interested in your two articles dealing with the conference between the Central Council and the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, and while, I think, most ringers will consider the result satisfactory, many would like to know how the conference arrived at one or two of its decisions. I have in mind the paragraph (which you rightly call 'significant'), stating that 'with regard to bearings, it is doubtful if any advantage is gained by the use of ball bearings!'

Is this conclusion the result of experiment, or of observations made by men well versed in the mechanics of bell hanging? Or is it a casual dismissal (one hardly likes to suggest it) by a body chiefly composed of architects and archæologists, of a subject with which they are not very familiar?

I have no prejudice in favour of ball bearings, knowing that bearings of the old type have so often proved efficient. But at the present time, when ball bearings are widely used, for almost every class of machine, and frequently for heavy duties, the decision of the conference provides food for thought.

The advantages of ball bearings are obvious—the chief being easiness of running, and freedom from lubrication troubles. I have certain ideas as to possible disadvantages. One, I think, would show itself in unequal wear upon the balls and races, due to the fact that under normal conditions, a bell only turns little more than one complete revolution for each stroke. Consequently, as the balls can never travel completely around the bearing, some must continually sustain more weight than others, and will not bear equally upon all parts of the inner and outer races. For this reason, ball bearings might not stand the test of time so well as some plain bearings, or those in which the 'brasses' are easily renewed.

In the case of a tower where there is much oscillation, ordinary ball bearings would work under conditions for which they are not designed, as there would be 'end thrust' to deal with. I am not sure whether it is customary to use 'thrust bearings' in such cases—these would overcome any difficulty, probably at an increased cost.

When dealing with heavy bells, centrifugal force would no doubt have to be considered, except when 'lucking up' to an abnormal extent is resorted to, as in many Continental and American bells.

I believe many would like to read the opinions of some ringers who have considered the subject from a purely mechanical point of view. Possibly Mr. E. H. Lewis or Mr. Hesse could enlighten us, thereby earning the thanks of myself and other seekers after knowledge.—

Yours faithfully,
Manchester.

RICHARD F. DEAL.

SIMPSON TUNING.To the Editor.

Sir.—I was very pleased to read in 'The Ringing World' of January 19th both Mr. E. Barnett's remarks on the 'howling' of bells tuned on the 'Simpson principle,' and also the advice of the Central Council and Protection of Ancient Buildings Conference as to ball bearings and other modern fads in bell hanging.

With regard to the former matter, all the ringers I have met, who have rung on, or heard, bells tuned on the Simpson principle have complained of this dismal howling. But what I most deplore is, that to produce bells tuned thus, so many mediæval bells—and good modern bells, too—have been sacrificed. Not only this, but an enormous amount of money has been unnecessarily spent on such fads, and at a time when money is so urgently needed for other church purposes of more importance.

As to ball bearings and other modern fads in bell hanging, as I have often remarked before, many of these may be an apparent success when first installed; but what will they be a few years hence, if not properly looked after and renewed from time to time? People seem to forget that a bell is not like an engine or a motor-car, which is constantly overhauled. When a bell is once properly hung she is supposed to go for an indefinite time, with a little oil when required, and an occasional screwing up of bolts and nuts in a very dry season. Besides this, any bell up to, say, two tons, can be hung on the old plan to go perfectly well for all ordinary purposes.—Yours, etc.,

J. R. JERRAM.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.CHANGE OF OFFICERS IN SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

The Southern District's annual meeting was held at the Church of All Saints, Fulham, on Saturday last. Ringing took place from shortly after 4 p.m. until 8 o'clock. The methods rung included Bob Minor, Stedman Triples and Caters, Grandsire Caters, Double Norwich Court Bob Major and Cambridge Major and Royal, some twenty members attended during the evening.

At the business meeting which followed the ringing, three new members were elected. The Master, Mr. W. Pickett, and secretary, Mr. F. A. Smith, both resigned, and Mr. H. Mance and Mr. F. W. Goodfellow were respectively elected to these offices. Thanks were accorded to the resigning officers, to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to Mr. J. W. Driver for having the bells in readiness, and for his kindness extended to the association during 1922.

BRISTOL UNITED GUILDS' DINNER.
A HAPPY GATHERING.

As briefly recorded in our last issue, the second annual dinner of the Bristol United Guilds was held on January 13th, at the Grand Hotel. The Master (Mr. G. Gould, of Henbury) presided, and the guest of the evening was the Archdeacon of Bristol. The company numbered about 120, and among those present were the Rev. M. E. Thorold (Vicar of St. Philip's, vice-chairman), Mr. E. Guise (hon. secretary, St. James'), and Mr. P. C. Williams (hon. treasurer, St. Philip's), Messrs. J. Carter, S. Roper (London), J. W. Jones (hon. sec., Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association), A. Walker, A. Withers, J. F. Smallwood, E. F. Allaway (Birmingham), E. E. Burgess, W. Cording (Taunton), W. T. Pates (Cheltenham), P. W. Cave (Southampton), J. Prescott (Bath), J. Higginbotham (Devizes), T. King (Bath), J. T. Dyke (Midsomer Norton) and H. Babb (Chew Magna).

After the loyal toast had been honoured, the Master gave a hearty welcome to the Archdeacon of Bristol, and said their gathering that evening spoke of the fellowship existing between ringers, in contrast to the spirit which prevailed forty or more years ago, when there was a coldness, estrangement, and sometimes hostility among ringers.

Mr. Henry T. Howell, proposing 'The Church,' claimed to be a Churchman of some 50 years' standing. He first learned change ringing at Thornbury, and on removing to Bristol was at once called upon to continue. Fifty years ago there were many abuses in the belfry, but when the position was put to the ringer as to whether he would take bottles and cups into the chancel or vestry things quietly changed, and there were no abuses to-day. Continuing, he said the Church seemed to be passing through a crisis. There was an undercurrent working against them, and it behoved the clergy, laymen and ringers to pull together.

The Archdeacon of Bristol (who was heartily received), replying, addressed the company as fellow ringers. He said he spoke on behalf of everyone present, for they were all the Church. He began bell ringing at Cricklade in one of the tallest towers in England, where the bell ropes stretched a foot before one got the bell (laughter). In these days ringers were very important people, and their association showed that they intended to maintain that position. He suggested that it was not bell ringing, but its purpose they should remember. He wished they would make people understand what bell ringing stood for. They should ring not for the sake of ringing, but to make it a voice of the Church calling people to church and join in their joys; and, by muffled peals, show their sympathy with those who were bereaved; to make the people feel that ringers were leaders, that ringing was a science and used for the glory of God. He wished every success to the association (applause).

BRISTOL CATHEDRAL LACKING IN BELLS.

Mr. Albert Walker submitted 'The Gloucester and Bristol Association.' He said the association held first rank among kindred societies in this ringing isle. Forty-five years ago the association was formed, and was a pioneer organisation in improving change ringing and reforming the ringing chambers. The speaker mentioned the names of several outstanding pioneers and members past and present. Among them were the Rev. E. Banks James, the composer of the 'Bristol Surprise.' Any who could ring that could ring anything (hear, hear). The speaker mentioned the names of several present, and referred to their skill and work. There was plenty of scope for the younger men, who had many splendid examples to follow (hear, hear). They should endeavour to maintain the high traditions of the association. Over 300 ringers from the association went to the war, and 60 never returned. Memorial bells had been erected at Berkeley. Members had assisted to ring several famous peals, including peals on the bells of Hereford, Wells, and Exeter Cathedrals. Bristol was a city of churches, bells and ringers. The ambition of all was to have 12 bells and 12 bell practices (hear, hear). He suggested that the bells of St. Nicholas should be brought up to 12, as at Redcliff Church. It was curious that Bristol Cathedral had not a ring of bells—a thing nearly unique among cathedrals. It was a black mark to the city. Modern methods of hanging almost enabled brick walls to carry bells, hence a ring could be placed in the central tower; if not there, one of the western towers. He hoped such a ring would be provided (hear, hear).

Mr. E. Guise (hon. secretary) responding, said he was proud to be hon. secretary of the Bristol United Guilds because the members were a most loyal lot of fellows. Members were always ready to respond to anything which was taking place. For the Berkeley memorial bells the money was readily raised. The association was moving forward with rapid strides. It ought to have support from the vestries, especially as ringers came from every class—including the clergy and churchwardens—and recognise them as an important part of the Church. There were 200 towers with bells in the dioceses of Bristol and Gloucester. He thought the association might take credit for the reformation that had been wrought in belfries. They had had great support from the local press. He thought the Central Council should embody the idea of a Royal Society of Campanologists, which would encourage the study and practice of change ringing.

The Rev. M. E. Thorold gave 'Kindred Guilds and Associations.' The words, he said, had a pleasant ring about them. It reminded him of the old saying that unity is strength. They must have unity among ringers or failure would result (hear, hear). He had been a ringer for 41 years. It did not follow that they must be active ringers to belong to an association. To join brought them hosts of friends (hear, hear). Guilds sometimes made things lively, and friendly rivalry did so. Therefore he wished health and prosperity to all guilds and associations, and might they never be short of a man at the end of a rope when he was wanted.

Mr. J. W. Jones (Newport) and Mr. J. Prescott (Bath) responded. The other toasts were 'The Press,' proposed by the Rev. E. J. Phillips, and 'The Artistes,' given by Mr. W. A. Cave.

The banquet was followed by a social and concert, the artistes being Mrs. F. Howell, Mrs. W. Sowden, Miss Edith Hill, Miss Read, Messrs. P. W. Cave, Lloyd Williams, Charlie Thomas, J. Houe, D. Llewellyn, W. J. Southwood, Herbert V. Spiller, W. S. Emery, and F. Rawlings. C. Read and the St. Thomas' Guild contributed hand-bell selections. The evening concluded with 'Auld Lang Syne.'

During Saturday and on Sunday members and visitors rang touches on the bells of the churches of Redcliff, St. James, St. Nicholas, St. John and St. Philip's.

CENTRAL NORTHANTS ASSOCIATION. NORTHAMPTON DISTRICT.

A very successful quarterly meeting was held at Kingshorpe on Saturday last, over 40 members attending from Northampton, Moulton Milton, Hardingsstone, Harlestone, Weston Favell, Collingtree, Pitsford, Flore, Gulsborough, etc., and the local ringers. The bells, a heavy peal of six, were rung to the methods of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles.

Evensong was read by the Vicar (the Rev. J. P. de Patron), assisted by the vice-president (the Rev. J. White, Pitsford).—The Vicar, addressing those present, gave the ringers a very warm welcome to Kingshorpe, taking his text from Psalm xix. 3, 'There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard.' Very forceful and interesting were the Vicar's words, showing the ringers what an important office they filled in the church. He asked them not to take too much notice of what was appearing in the local Press regarding church bell ringing, and added that he was very pleased to see so many young men taking an interest in change ringing.

A collection for the Belfry Repairs Fund amounted to 10s. Mr. Shaw, a Kingshorpe ringer, very ably presided at the organ.

Tea was served in the Parish Rooms, very nicely prepared by the ringers' wives.

The meeting followed, the vice-president being in the chair.—Two new members were elected, viz., Mr. F. H. Bowers, Northampton, and Mr. Shurley, Burton, Leicester.

A discussion on the advisability of altering the date of the annual general meeting from White Monday did not meet with the approval of the members present.

Cogenhoe was chosen for the next quarterly meeting, on April 14th, and Harlestone for a special meeting on March 3rd.

Mr. Law proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, and to all those who made the meeting so successful.—Mr. B. O. Soden seconded, and this was carried unanimously.—Mr. Dunkley replied for the ringers.

Further ringing was indulged in, and everyone present thought it was one of the best meetings in the district's history.

PONTEFRACT RINGERS' SOCIAL.

On Friday, January 5th, the ringers of the Parish and All Saints' Churches held their annual dinner and social. They are very fortunate on these occasions to combine with a concert party, locally known as 'the Pomfritters,' and this very largely helps to make the socials the great success they prove to be. Ringers, singers and friends, to the number of 52, enjoyed an excellent repast at the Red Lion Hotel. At the social the chair was occupied by Mr. J. Watkinson, an old All Saints' ringer, supported by the Mayor (Ald. Husband), the Rev. J. W. Capron (Vicar of the Parish Church), and the Revs. A. G. Shipley and D. T. Berry (Vicar and curate, respectively, of All Saints' Church), Mr. R. Wordsworth (churchwarden), Ald. Holmes, Councillor Hutchinson, and also Mr. C. D. Polter, of Barnsley, an ever-welcome visitor. Several toasts were cordially honoured. 'The Clergy' was proposed by the chairman, and responded to by the Vicars.

As the Vicar of the Parish Church is leaving Pontefract very shortly to take up duty as Vicar of St. Mary's, Scarborough, the occasion was thought by the ringers to be a suitable opportunity to present him with some little acknowledgment of the very hearty support he gave them when the question of the recasting and rehanging of the bells came before the parishioners some four years ago, and also for the many expressions of goodwill shown towards them during his five years' vicariate at Pontefract. The gift took the form of a gold-mounted meerschauum pipe in case, with a silver bell-shaped inscription. The presentation was made by Mr. W. Pearson, on behalf of the ringers, and the gift was feelingly acknowledged by the Vicar.

Music and recitations were then freely indulged in, interspersed with courses of Grandsire Triples and Caters upon the handbells, until time brought to its close another happy evening.

THIRTY METHODS IN SEVEN EXTENTS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—We would offer heartiest congratulations to the Norbury band upon their feat in ringing seven true extents, containing thirty methods, and we would ask if the method used in splicing is a 'state secret,' as we feel that six-bell ringers generally would be interested to see figures.

Whilst touching upon Minor methods, may we suggest there be published, serially or otherwise, the names of all those in the Central Council's 'Collection,' now that they are all named, or perhaps the committee will print a slip for sale, which might well embody the bob and single leads of each, i.e., the lead end shown as a call? Our experience is, that a beginner, endeavouring to scale out a method from a lead, finds great difficulty in determining how a call should be made, more especially if the construction differs from those methods to which he is used. We commend this to the notice of those responsible, when the publication of the Major methods is under consideration.

We have noticed, months back, peals of Surprise Minor published in your paper, which contain 'Superlative,' presumably No. 42 on page 41, which (according to preface, page 10) will not produce the extent of the changes.—Yours faithfully,

G. DAWSON,

Hon. Secretary, St. John the Baptist's Association,
Leytonstone.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

NORTHERN BRANCH MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Gainsborough district was held at Gainsborough on Saturday last, a good number of ringers being present from Stow, Messingham, Corringham, Bigby, Scunthorpe, Lincoln, Workop and Ordsall, in addition to the local company. The bells of the Parish Church were available, and kept going to the methods of Grandsire, Stedman and St. Clement's Triples, Flain Bob, Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Little Bob and Forward Major. Evensong was said at 4 p.m. at which the Rev. E. V. Clapton officiated. An excellent tea was provided at No. 6, Spital Terrace, and was followed by the business meeting.

The Rev. C. A. Greensmith, in the unavoidable absence of the vice-president (Canon Standen) presided, and was supported by Mr. F. F. Linley (president of the Northern Branch), and the Rev. E. V. Clapton. The Rev. J. Barber, Rector of Stow, was also amongst the number present during the afternoon.

The Chairman, on behalf of the Vicar and churchwardens, gave the Guild a very hearty welcome to Gainsborough. Mr. Arthur Bell, of Stow, was elected a member.

The whole of the officers were re-appointed with the exception of Mr. J. T. Ladd, who wished to resign as a member of the Northern Branch Committee. Mr. H. Morgan was elected as his successor.

The following places, subject to the consent of the incumbents, were chosen for district meetings during the ensuing year:—Lea, April 14th; Stow, May 12th; Messingham, June 8th; Willingham, July 14th; Corringham, August 11th; Brigg, September, and Kirton-Lindsey, October, the dates for the last two meetings being left open to the discretion of the district secretary, and others, subject to slight alterations.

A hearty welcome was accorded to the members from outside the district, and acknowledged by Mr. H. Haigh, of Workop.—Votes of thanks to the church authorities for the use of the bells, and the Revs. E. V. Clapton and C. A. Greensmith for taking the service and presiding at the meeting, respectively; also Mr. and Mrs. T. Whelpston and the members of their family for the very efficient way in which they attended to the wants of those present at tea, were unanimously passed. Afterwards the members returned to the tower for further ringing. The best thanks of the members are also due to Mr. W. E. Mawditt, for his very kind assistance on this and previous occasions.

WHAT DOES DIOCESAN MEAN?

To the Editor.

Dear Sir.—In his last three letters Mr. Burton evidently believes in giving us news. It is always so interesting to hear what you have been doing especially when you had no idea of it. And as the news comes from over fifty miles away, of course, it simply must be true. Moreover, as Mr. Burton lives in Norfolk, he must know accurately what we Suffolk people have been doing, and not only what is good for us, but what we want, much better than we do ourselves.

But if the contents of his letters are wonderful, much more wonderful are the omissions. I wrote a letter asking what does 'Diocesan' mean? In a letter which he tells us is a 'reply,' so that we may make no mistake about it, he does not answer the question at all. I will, therefore, answer it myself. It means belonging to a bishop as regards the area of his See, just as 'episcopal' means belonging to a bishop as regards himself personally.

In fact, 'Diocesan' means 'Bishop's,' and it would be much better if we used the latter word in many ways. The two are often quite interchangeable; thus I could well say that Mr. Burton would never dare to find fault with or to dictate to his own Diocesan (meaning the Bishop of Norwich), as he does to ours.

That being so, is it not absurd for three gentlemen in Norfolk to arrange for our Bishop as to what his Association is to be; and when he remonstrates with them to insist that they will constitute his Society for him; and still persist in it in your columns, to the immense amusement of the whole of Christendom?

I would not for worlds spoil his pretty tale from Norwich, and besides it cannot be nearly so interesting to hear what we thought we had ourselves been doing; but as there are some misguided people who prefer the Suffolk history of Suffolk to the Norfolk history of Suffolk, I will shortly recite the true but prosaic facts thereof.

A couple of years ago, some Suffolk ringers, who had for many years been wanting a local Association, decided to make a start. The See being then vacant, there was no Bishop to arrange a Diocesan Association; and to begin with they called it a County Association. When there was a new Bishop they asked me to approach him as to whether he would consent to a Diocesan Association being formed. He agreed to this, and (as I was anxious he should) he also agreed to continue as patron of the old Association. Our idea was that ultimately there would be a union of two Diocesan societies. If the Norwich Association were already this, as Mr. Burton says it is, there would clearly be no further conflict. At that time, however, the old Association had, two years before, deliberately dropped the word 'Diocesan' from its title; and it was not until the next year (1922) that any proposal was made that such a word should be used by it. Therefore, instead of it being four months earlier (as Mr. Burton states), it was several months later in using the word than the newer Association. At the next meeting of the new Association the secretary of the Suffolk Branch of the old Association attended, as he told us, as the representative of the old Association. He was told by the chairman in clear and definite language of the annoyance of the Bishop at the old Association using the term Diocesan without consulting him. The Secretary of the Suffolk Branch expressed his great sorrow that they had annoyed the Bishop, and promised that the Association would fall in with his wishes in the matter. This, of course, was quite the right thing to do. Unfortunately, however, this promise was only made to a Bishop; and as the Norfolk men seem to think that, if they call themselves Diocesan, they are above the Bishop, they proceeded to break it. Of course, the Bishop resigned from their society; what else could he do?

I have not seen the Bishop on the matter (since that meeting), so I know no more of his mind than your readers do, but as he chose for us exactly the same title as the old society pretends to, he clearly means us to understand that there can only be one genuine Diocesan Society in one Diocese; that he is the only person to say which is the Diocesan Society, and that he has in this case said that the new Association is it. After this there is nothing more that our Norfolk friends can do, whatever they may write or say; they can only succeed in making themselves ridiculous. They are not so much as entitled to say that they are Diocesan even for Norwich, for it is quite certain that the Bishop of Norwich will not allow the new title to be used merely to defy his brother Bishop.

After this, it is useless to add that the new title has been illegally adopted, according to the rules; and that the old Association has no legal right to any of its property or any of its peals.

This brings us to the most extraordinary omission in Mr. Burton's 'reply.' My argument was that the new title lends itself to fraud, and that peals rung under it were rung under false pretences. Will it be believed that Mr. Burton does not refer to this at all? He would refuse to ring a peal in which he knew there was a false change, still more one in a false method; but the much more important matter of a false title does not trouble him at all. It is not only making all the members of the old society ridiculous now, but it is entering on the records, statements which will make the ringers of these peals ridiculous for all posterity. People will wonder why the old society should pretend that their peals are rung by the new one.

Mr. Burton makes the unfounded statement that our Bishop has deserted the majority of his ringers. It is the old Association which is trying to alienate its old supporters; it has already alienated all the clergy in Suffolk, except one who is bound to the old Association by his many ringing records; and it has illegally expelled from its committee the only two active Suffolk members there. Mr. Burton also says, 'It is greatly to be regretted that when the present Bishop came to the Diocese he did not adopt the bold course of becoming patron of his ringers both East and West.' What Mr. Burton means I cannot imagine, as he knows quite well that for the first year of his episcopate, Dr. David was patron of both Associations, and only left the old one when they as good as told him they did not want him.

Just as Mr. Burton is quite wrong in all his references to our Bishop, so he is in all those referring to the new Association. There has been no demand for the surrender of the East Suffolk members (I suppose he is referring to the inked document to which Mr. Coleman affixed my 'signature.' This is more Norfolk history of Suffolk). In Suffolk there have been no 'failures' of 'expectations,' or of anything else; everything has gone according to plan; no form of any kind of 'coercion,' no 'impasse,' and no 'bitterness.' We are all friends together in Suffolk, and ringing together just as we have always done. In spite of what Mr. Burton says, there is no Suffolk ringer but regrets that our old Association is so foolishly defying the Bishop. We do not like being put into such a ridiculous position, but there are worse things to bear even that ridicule.

Of course, if our Norfolk friends have been trying to absorb the strange things that have been written in the Norfolk history of Suffolk, they may well be suffering from indigestion, and from bitterness, too. It is to be hoped that they will for the future eschew these sensational mixtures, and return to the genuine and healthful true Suffolk brew.

HERBERT DRAKE.

Ufford Rectory, Woodbridge, Suffolk.

THE TITLE 'DIOCESAN.'

Dear Sir,—I tender to Mr. Burton an apology for my mistakes in chronology, but they do not affect the general argument. Mr. Burton has himself made an important omission. In his account of the sequence of events, which is doubtless correct in other points, the concluding paragraph reads as follows: 'May 26th, p. 327.—The Bishop announces his decision to change title to St. E. and I.' Here Mr. Burton has omitted the words 'Diocesan Association' after 'St. E. and I.' It should read 'The Bishop announces his decision to change title to St. E. and I. Diocesan Association of Ringers.'

This, of course, decides the matter, for in all diocesan affairs the Bishop is the final court of appeal. Whatever difference of opinion may exist as to his being well advised, there can be no question as to his authority.

It is very satisfactory to observe that Suffolk towers affiliated to Norwich have dropped the 'Diocesan' in their reports of peals to this week's 'Ringing World,' thus taking one step towards a settlement. There is one accomplished band, however, which shows a true appreciation of the real position by reporting under 'Norwich and Ipswich Association.' To this title no exception can be taken, and I believe that the general adoption of this or a similar title would allay any misapprehension, and solve the problem for good and all.—

H. B. WOOLLEY.

Yours truly,

Long Stanton.

THE BISHOP'S APPEAL.

The Bishop of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, in a New Year letter to his clergy, says with regard to the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association:—

There has recently been formed a Diocesan Association, of which I am patron, the Archdeacon of Sudbury, president, and the Rev. H. Drake, of Ufford, secretary. It is much to be desired that all our ringers should belong to it. But many in East Suffolk prefer their old allegiance to the Norwich Association, which is naturally unwilling to let them go, and has added "St. Edmundsbury" to its name. I do not suggest that any great pressure should be used in favour of our own organisation, which is bound to win its way in time, but I should be glad if incumbents would use their influence for its benefit as opportunity offers. I understand that there are a great number of cracked bells in the Diocese, and that this is caused by the clapper being tied by a cord so that it does not hang free to rebound at the moment of striking. This is done to allow the bell to be struck more easily. I trust that this dangerous practice will be discontinued, and that every care will be taken to protect our bells, which form a valuable piece of church property.'

DUKE OF YORK'S BETROTHAL.

In honour of the engagement of H.R.H. the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, the Oxford Society rang, on Tuesday, Jan. 16th, at the Church of St. Ebbe, a half-peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor (2,520 changes), in 1 hour 20 minutes: H. Tolley 1. F. E. Taylor 2. W. Harris 3. H. Miles 4. F. Clinkard 5. W. H. B. Wilkins (conductor) 6.

THE TOLL OF DEATH.

Death, who is for ever taking his toll, has laid a heavy hand upon the Exercise this year already, and in this issue we have the sad duty of recording the passing of all too many stalwarts of the Exercise—men who in their day have done good solid work for ringing. For more than fifty years Edward Hynds, of Stebbing, gave devoted service to his church, and of few, like him, can it be said that for over half a century they rang regularly, Sunday by Sunday, in one tower. Such men as these are the backbone of the Exercise, for they labour not in the limelight, but very largely behind the scenes, where results are not measured in peals, but in self-sacrificing effort. Another to whom the call has come is George Woodiss, of Twickenham. He was well short of the allotted span, and his death came unexpectedly; but here again was a ringer who in his day had done some valuable spade-work—work which laid the foundations of change ringing in one corner at least of the Winchester Diocese. Then, too, death has claimed the venerable Dr. Nichols, of Boston, U.S.A., than whom the art had no greater advocate outside these islands.

Great as is the loss caused by the death of these and other members of the Exercise which we record this week, a loss which will be keenly felt in the circles in which each moved, something akin to universal regret will be felt by the passing of James Motts, of Ipswich. In him we had one of the outstanding figures of our craft; an enterprising and accomplished ringer whose initiative and skill helped to make ringing history. With William Catchpole he was the inspiration of the St. Mary-le-Tower Society more than a quarter of a century ago. He proved himself a real leader, and revived in East Anglia the prestige which the men of Norwich had gained many decades before. One has only to look at the 'first performances' for the Norwich Diocesan Association, which he conducted, to realise the type of ringer he was, and as an example one need only point here to the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus ever rung—a stroke of enterprise which brought this method within the bounds of practical ringing. The fact that he rang between 500 and 600 peals for the Norwich Association shows the work he did for his native society, and we imagine there are few men who have done more to help neighbouring ringers than he did in the days gone by. Twenty years or more ago the name of James Motts was one to conjure with, and even to-day the Exercise is not possessed of any superfluity of ringers of his type. He has gone to his rest, the belfry will see him no more, but in East Anglia at any rate 'Jimmy' Motts will long remain a cherished memory and a shining example of an accomplished ringer. Requiescat in pace.

WORCESTERSHIRE AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION.

The quarterly meeting of the Western Branch was held at Harborne on Saturday week. Touches in various methods were rung during the afternoon, and service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. G. Lloyd).

Tea, which had been very kindly provided in the Church Room, was followed by the business meeting, the chair being taken by the Vicar, supported by Mr. W. B. Cartwright, the new Ringing Master, Messrs. S. Grove, H. Grosvenor, G. N. Cockin, J. Price, J. Bass, and others. Apologies were received from Mr. A. E. Parsons (regret being expressed at his illness), and Messrs. Salter and Woodberry.

Several new members were elected, and it was resolved that the next quarterly meeting be held at Oldswinford on the third Saturday in June.—The Secretary expressed the hope that every member would make an endeavour to get to the annual meeting of the association at Worcester on Easter Monday.

Heartly thanks were voted to the Vicar, on the motion of the Ringing Master, seconded by Mr. J. Price, for providing such a splendid tea, for his homely address, for the use of the bells, and the splendid welcome extended to the association.—This was heartily passed, and the Vicar briefly responded.

DEATH OF MR. WALTER JACKSON.

The death took place early on Thursday, January 18th, under tragic circumstances, of Mr. Walter Jackson. He had been a ringer at Wragby Parish Church, Yorks, just 30 years, and his loss will be keenly felt, and his place not easily filled. He was a member of the Yorkshire Association, the Barnsley and District Society, and also the Doncaster and District Society, and quite frequently attended their meetings. Although a keen ringer and master of between 20 and 30 Minor methods, he had only rung one peal of 5,040 changes. That peal was on the treble at Tong, and the late Mr. Easter rang the second bell.

The funeral took place at Wragby Church on Sunday afternoon, and ringers attended from Barnsley, Crofton and Sandal Churches. The bells were fully muffled (with the exception of the tenor at back stroke) for both morning and evening services. Immediately after the funeral the visiting ringers rang 360 changes of Oxford Treble Bob Minor, the local ringers followed with a 'touch' in the same method. For the evening service 720 Oxford Treble Bob Minor was rung to his memory by F. Marsden 1, G. Harrison 2, J. Brewin 3, F. Atkinson 4, J. Adams 5, A. Adams (conductor) 6.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

At St. Peter's, Brighton, they have an aversion to 'starring' ringers in peal reports, but there must have been several 'first in the method' in the peal of Norfolk Surprise rung there last week. Following upon a peal of Bristol a short time before, this looks like a return to the good old days when the St. Peter's Society made history in method ringing.

Last week we commented on the fact that at the age of fifteen years Wilfred Taffender rang London Surprise Major as his first peal. This week we record his second peal—Stedman Cinques at Bow—and he rang it without a semblance of a trip. This young ringer is diminutive in stature, but he promises to be a giant in ringing intellect.

Bristol United Guilds have fixed Saturday, January 12th, 1924, for their third annual dinner, and intend to maintain the social side of ringing during the coming year by a series of gatherings, the first of which will take place on April 17th.

There was a keen contest for the Mastership of the Northern District of the London County Association at the meeting on January 20th. Eventually Mr. Symonds was elected to the position.

The other officers are Mr. Holman, hon. secretary; Mr. Riley, steward; Mr. Morton, hon. treasurer; Messrs. Turner and Ebberson, committee. The retiring Master and secretary were warmly thanked for their services.

In the city of Exeter there are no less than eight towers containing rings of 6, 8, 10 or 12 bells.

'Many happy returns of the day' to that youthful Cumberland Youth, Mr. Joseph Waghorn, on being '80 not out.'

The Cambridge University Guild, which has just rung the first peal in three spliced Major methods, was founded on Feb. 4th, 1879.

A peal of 10.032 Grandsire Major was rung in 6 hrs. 18 mins. at Walsall on Feb. 4th, 1861.

On Feb. 5th, 1783, 12,672 Bob Major was rung in 7 hrs. 48 mins. at Bromley, and on the same day, in the year 1888, 12,041 Stedman Caters was rung at Appleton.

The first peal of London Surprise on handbells was rung on Feb. 6th, 1904, at Romford by the brothers Pye and W. Keeble.

On Feb. 8th, 1889, the first peal of Forward Major (composed and conducted by John Carter) was rung at St. John's, Deritend, Birmingham.

The peal of Superlative at Erith on Jan. 6th was Mr. I. Emery's 30th in the method, not 50th, as reported.

Owing to the absence on the Continent of Mr. A. Paddon Smith, hon. secretary of St. Martin's Guild, all outstanding subscriptions and applications for tickets for the Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner should be addressed to the Ringing Master, Mr. Albert Walker, 81, Baker Street, Sparkhill, Birmingham.—See notice columns.

The Salisbury Diocese will soon have a second peal of ten. Two additional bells are to be added to the existing eight at Trowbridge, and the work has been put in the hands of Messrs. Llewelins and James, Bristol. The bells are to be completed by Easter. It is intended to have the opening on Easter Monday, and a large gathering of ringers is expected. At present Wimborne Minster contains the only peal of ten in the diocese.

THE SUFFOLK CONTROVERSY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—You have extended to me the courtesy of your columns in several recent issues of your paper, and I have, therefore, the less desire to make any further demand on your valuable space. On the main points at issue, I am satisfied I have succeeded in making good the case of our Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association, and I might, therefore, have been content at this juncture to have left myself in the hands of your readers, and to rely on their judgment and sense of fair play, as I am not in the least concerned with further quibbling over mere details.

But I must enter my very strongest protest at the insinuation concerning my friend, Mr. A. L. Coleman, in the last paragraph but one in the letter of the Rev. H. Drake appearing in your last issue. Does Mr. Drake realise what is implied by the deplorable statement he makes—'the tinkered document to which Mr. Coleman affixed my signature'? And that he is practically accusing Mr. Coleman of forgery? It ought not to be necessary to ask the question, but how otherwise could Mr. Coleman have affixed Mr. Drake's signature? I happen to have seen the document concerned—a letter from the Rev. F. L. Fawcett, in Mr. Fawcett's handwriting, and signed by Mr. Fawcett himself, and it bears Mr. Drake's endorsement right enough. Mr. Drake has once previously had the temerity to ask how his signature got there. Surely he himself should be able to answer that question better than anyone else.

I should not in any case have felt justified in continuing an argument with anyone—even a bishop's advocate—whose method of controversy condescends to such a base standard.—Yours very truly,

E. P. BURTON.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

PROPOSED 'BOOKING FEE' FOR PEALS.

The annual meeting of the Yorkshire Association was held at Doncaster on Saturday last, in exceedingly mild and fine weather for the time of the year; but this latter was discounted by an outbreak of smallpox in the town, which resulted in only about fifty visitors attending the meeting. The fine peal of eight bells (tenor 30 cwt.) were set going at two p.m. in a variety of methods, and the ringing was enjoyed by all, although the hundred and thirty-seven steps approach to the belfry made its impression on the more bulky members. Divine service was held in St. George's Parish Church, when a most interesting address was delivered by the Rev. T. H. Mousley. Preaching from Romans x. 18, the speaker gave a brief outline of the origin of bells, and urged his hearers to realise that the bells proclaim the love of God in a world devoted to sordid money getting and merchandise, and that as by their ringing they acted as the messengers of God, to let the thought that they were acting as fellow-workers with God dignify and ennoble their own lives in order that those with whom they came in contact might take them as a worthy example.

The business meeting followed in the Memorial Hall immediately beside the church, the president (the Rev. C. C. Marshall) occupying the chair, supported by Messrs. F. Willey, J. Broadley and P. J. Johnson. Letters of apology were received from the Rev. E. Drage, Messrs. G. B. Bolland, J. H. Blakiston and H. Williams. The annual report of the committee was adopted, on the motion of Mr. F. Willey, seconded by Mr. H. N. Imeson. The balance sheet was also adopted.

No further nominations having been received for the office, Mr. P. J. Johnson was declared duly elected as hon. general secretary of the association for the ensuing three years.—The General Secretary, in thanking the members for their confidence, hoped that all who could would purchase copies of the annual report in order to lighten the financial anxieties of the general committee.

It was decided to hold the Easter Monday meeting, if possible, at Bridlington, and failing Bridlington, the committee to make the best arrangements possible.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar of Doncaster (Ven. Archdeacon Sandford), great regret being expressed at the reverend gentleman's illness. The special thanks of the meeting to the clergy and the local company was responded to by the Rev. T. H. Mousley, the Vicar's churchwarden, and Mr. H. Walker.

A vote of sympathy was also extended to Mr. G. Halksworth (the genial Ringing Master of the Southern Division), with a wish for a speedy recovery from his serious illness, which prevented him from attending the meeting.

Mr. J. Broadley gave notice of motion as follows: 'That a booking fee of threepence per head be paid by all ringers in peals which are to be published in the Yorkshire Association annual report, and that the conductor of such peals be responsible for collecting all booking fees, and for forwarding the same with peal report to the hon. general secretary within one month of peals being rung.'

Ringing in various methods, and an interesting discourse on 'The Barnsley Chop,' brought a most pleasant meeting to a close.

DEATH OF DR. A. H. NICHOLS.

THE LEADING SPIRIT IN AMERICA.

Just as we are going to Press, we learn with deep regret, from Mr. Richard Newton, that Dr. A. H. Nichols, of Boston, Massachusetts, died suddenly on January 9th.

Dr. Nichols had a unique knowledge of bell history, and was keenly interested in ringing. He made determined attempts to introduce into America the practice of having bells hung for ringing, and also did his utmost to establish the art of change ringing on that side of the Atlantic.

With his daughter (now Mrs. Shurtleff) he visited England some years ago, and was frequently in the company of Metropolitan ringers, with whom Miss Margaret Nichols, as she then was, rang peals. Dr. Nichols was a member of the College Youths and the Middlesex County Association. From time to time he contributed articles of much interest to the columns of 'The Ringing World.'

On the Sunday following Dr. Nichols' death several 120's Grand-sire Doubles were rung with half-muffled bells at the Church of the Advent, Boston. The ringing, strange in its solemn sounds to American ears, made a deep impression on the public who heard the bells.

SUDDEN DEATH OF YORKSHIRE RINGER.

The death occurred suddenly, on Sunday week, of Mr. Henry Horner, of Skipton. He had taken part in the ringing for service, and about 7 o'clock, whilst conversing with friends in Gargrave Road complained of faintness, and collapsed. He died before medical assistance could be obtained.

Mr. Horner, who was 55 years of age, was identified with many local organisations at Skipton, and had been a member of the Yorkshire Association for 37 years. He had rung about 25 peals.

EXETER CATHEDRAL BELLS.

A WONDERFUL COMBINATION OF 'RINGS.'

The dedication of the two trebles at Exeter Cathedral to-morrow puts the final seal upon what is probably the finest—certainly the greatest—ringing peal in the world. The gift of Mr. Arthur Thomas, as a thankoffering for recovery from prolonged illness, the bells have been cast by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, the founders of the tenor—that wonderful bell of 72½ cwt. in B flat.

With the two trebles, there are now 13 bells in the tower having a total weight of 271 cwt. 3 qr. 7 lb. The extra bell, which is in A flat, renders it possible to produce ten distinct rings, viz., four of six, three of eight, two of ten and one of twelve—a combination which gives Exeter Cathedral a proud distinction among the belfrics of this country.

The inscription on the new bells is:—
'A thankoffering from an Exeter citizen, 1922. In Terra Pax, Hominibus Voluntatis (Peace on earth, goodwill among men).'

Each bell in the peal bears either the name of the donor or founder, except the 8th, which is known as 'Doom.' How it came by this title is not clear, but by some it is believed to be the bell tolled on the occasion of executions. The peal as completed is as follows:—

	cwt.	qr.	lb.
1. Thomas	6	2	16
2. Thomas	6	3	2
3. Earle	7	0	22
4. Brydan	8	3	10
5. Pennington	8	2	0
6. Purdue	10	1	2
Extra 6. Pongamouth	11	1	8
7. Fox	18	0	4
8. Doom	19	0	19
9. Cobthorne	28	0	4
10. Evans	33	2	11
11. Stafford	40	3	19
Tenor, Grandisson	72	2	2
	271	3	7

Grandisson, Stafford and Fox are names of Bishops; Earle and Cobthorne are those of Deans.

The 4th, 5th and 6th bear the names of the founders, and they were cast respectively in 1616, 1658 and 1676. Purdue was also the founder of the 8th, 9th and 11th. Evans cast the A flat bell in 1729, at the same time that he cast the 10th and the former 'Grandisson.'

The interesting diagram given below, was prepared by Mr. W. J. Southwood, hon. secretary and treasurer of the Exeter Branch of the Devon Guild, and conveys in a striking manner the combinations that will be possible on the Cathedral bells. Mr. Southwood has also printed an exceedingly interesting souvenir of the dedication.

The ceremony is to take place at 2 p.m., in the tower, following which there will be a special service and evensong in the Cathedral. Then the various rings will be demonstrated by the Cathedral band, and afterwards members of the Devon Guild and ringing visitors will be admitted to the tower. Tea for the visitors will be provided by the Dean and Chapter.

DEATH OF MR. JAMES MOTTS. PASSING OF A GREAT RINGER.

It is our sad duty to announce the death of Mr. James Motts, who passed away at his residence, 25, Orchard Street, Ipswich, on Sunday, January 21st, at the age of 83 years. Mr. Motts, or Jimmy, as he was popularly known, was born in September, 1839, at Fressingfield, Suffolk, where he learnt to pull a bell. He came of a ringing family, for his father and grandfather were ringers before him, and one of his predecessors was the noted Seymour Motts.

Mr. James Motts rang his first 720 in the year 1874. His first peal (5,120 Bob Major) was at Fressingfield on May 12th, 1875. He then rang about 16 peals (most of which were not association peals) before he removed to Ipswich in 1882. His first peal with the Tower Society was one of Oxford Royal, which he also conducted in 1882.

Mr. Motts' illness began about a year ago. After conducting his last peal, which came into rounds at midnight on Dec. 31st, 1921, he had a slight attack of gastritis. Although he improved in health at times, he had not been really well since that date. As months went on other complications developed, including heart trouble, and the end came somewhat unexpectedly to his ringing friends.

The funeral took place at Ipswich Cemetery on Wednesday, the 24th, amid manifestations of profound sympathy. In addition to the relatives there were about 20 ringers present, and E. H. Smith, C. J. Sedgley, F. J. Tillet, R. H. Brundle rang a course of Grandire Triples at the graveside. The wreaths were from his affectionate sister Anna; Phil. Dora and little Beryl; Mr. and Mrs. Whitman; Mr. Bishop; his brother ringers, St. Mary-le-Tower Society. Messrs. W. G. Crickmer and E. F. Poppy regretted inability to attend owing to ill-health.

The last year of Mr. Motts' ringing career (1921) was a very memorable one. In it he and his company rang Double Norwich Court Bob Major, Royal and Maximus, also Cambridge Surprise Major, Royal and Maximus. Of these six peals he conducted five. How he raised the standard of ringing is shown by the first performances he conducted for the original Norwich Diocesan Association.

On tower bells:—

- Dec. 19th, 1882, 5,200 Oxford Treble Bob Royal, at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich.
- Nov. 25th, 1884, 5,088 Oxford Treble Bob Maximus, at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich.
- Sept. 8th, 1885, 5,002 Stedman Cinques, at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich.
- Nov. 23rd, 1886, 5,260 Double Norwich Royal, at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich.
- May 25th, 1895, 5,040 Bob Royal, at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich.
- Nov. 28th, 1896, 5,016 Double Norwich Maximus, at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich.
- Aug. 15th, 1908, 5,280 Cambridge Surprise Maximus, at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich.
- Sept. 26th, 1908, 5,040 Cambridge Surprise Royal, at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich.
- Dec. 31st, 1908, 5,016 Bob Maximus, at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich.
- June 10th, 1911, 5,040 Duffield Major, at St. Peter's, Henley.

On handbells:—

- Mar. 5th, 1887, 5,009 Kent Treble Bob Royal.
 - Nov. 17th, 1887, 5,120 Kent Treble Bob Major.
 - Feb. 25th, 1888, 5,040 Bob Royal.
 - Mar. 12th, 1888, 5,016 Bob Maximus.
 - Apr. 28th, 1889, 5,040 Kent Treble Bob Maximus.
 - Jan. 13th, 1890, 5,040 Oxford Treble Bob Royal.
 - Dec. 25th, 1895, 5,040 Double Norwich Court Bob Major.
- Long lengths of over 7,000 conducted by the late Mr. Motts were:—
- Dec. 26th, 1885, 8,084 Double Norwich Court Bob Major, 5 hrs. 4 mins., at St. Margaret's, Leiston.
 - Apr. 21st, 1888, 10,304 Bob Major, 6 hrs. 17 mins., at St. Margaret's, Leiston.
 - June 6th, 1892, 16,608 Oxford Treble Bob Major, 10 hrs. 32 mins., at St. Mary's, Debenham.
 - Apr. 7th, 1894, 10,176 Oxford Treble Bob Major, 5 hrs. 58 mins., at St. Mary's, Ufford.
 - Jan. 19th, 1895, 7,008 Oxford Treble Bob Major, 4 hrs. 45 mins., at St. Mary's, Woodbridge.
 - Aug. 16th, 1902, 10,080 Double Norwich Court Bob Major, 5 hrs. 50 mins., at St. Peter's, Henley, Ipswich.

He also rang in the long peal of London Surprise Major (14,112 changes), in 8 hrs. 40 mins., at King's Norton on May 11th, 1903. The 16,608 Treble Bob is still the longest length ever rung in the Oxford Variation.

For the Norwich Diocesan Association he rang 540 peals on tower bells, and 39 peals on handbells, in addition to these there are numerous peals with other societies.

With the passing away of a ringer of such capabilities it will be readily understood what a tremendous loss the St. Mary-le-Tower Society has sustained, and his memory will always be borne in mind by all who knew him.

On Saturday, January 27th, a peal of Stedman Cinques was rung at St. Mary-le-Tower Church, with half-muffled clappers, to his memory.

On Thursday evening, January 25th, a quarter-peal of Double Norwich (1,280 changes) was rung at Debenham, with the bells half-muffled, as a tribute to the memory of the deceased: E. Grindell 1, F. Ruffles 2, P. Woods 3, S. Rowe 4, G. Rowe 5, T. H. Chappell 6, W. C. Rumsey 7, E. E. Grimes (conductor) 8. First quarter as conductor. Also 504 Stedman Triples: E. E. Grimes 1, S. Rowe 2, P. Woods 3, G. Rowe 4, T. H. Chappell 5, L. C. Wightman 6, W. C. Rumsey (conductor) 7, E. Grindell 8.

LAMBETH BELLS.

RESTORED PEAL TO BE DEDICATED THIS EVENING.

The restored bells at Lambeth Parish Church are to be dedicated at a special service this evening by the Bishop of Southwark.

The present bells were put in in 1723, just 200 years ago, by R. Phelps, although the 8th and tenor were recast in 1848. Doubtless part of the metal forming these bells had previously hung in the same tower, for there are records which prove that there were bells at this church as far back as 1520.

In 1586, Robert Mot, of the Whitechapel Foundry, did work among the bells of Lambeth Church, and the complete restoration of the peal, which will see its consummation to-day, has been carried out by the same firm, whose unbroken history has continued all through the intervening centuries.

Of the old bells only the 3rd and 6th remain. The others were found to be cracked, and have been recast with new inscriptions.

The third carries the intimation that it was cast in 1672, when Boyden Cuper and William Phillips were churchwardens, and that it was 'new made with the other 7 bells, 1723.' The 6th is merely inscribed with the name of the founders, C. and G. Mears, and the date of recasting 1848. The following are the

NEW INSCRIPTIONS.

- Treble.—I ring true; why don't you.
- Second.—Let praise devote thy work.
- Fourth.—Rise heart, thy Lord is risen; sing His praise without delays.

Fifth.— 4. viii. 1914—11. xi. 1918.

Silent I hung in war: I sang the hour of peace:

O England evermore pray thou that wars may cease.

Seventh.—In all time of our tribulation, in all time of our wealth, in the hour of death, and in the Day of Judgement: Good Lord deliver us.

Tenor.—The treble, 2nd, 4th, 5th, 7th, and tenor bells were new cast at the Whitechapel Foundry A.D. 1922.

DEATH OF A VETERAN ESSEX RINGER.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Edward Hynds, an old ringer of the St. Mary's company, Stebbing, Essex, which took place on January 14th, after a trying illness. The deceased had been a ringer at Stebbing Church for over 50 years, as was recorded in 'The Ringing World' of Dec. 1st. He was always regular in his attendance, and took a keen interest in everything pertaining to the bells.

The funeral took place at Stebbing, on Saturday, January 20th, and after the interment the bells were half-muffled, and the usual whole pull and stand was rung 72 times, corresponding with the deceased's age.

In the evening 720 Double Court was rung, and on Sunday morning, for Divine service, another 720 in the same method, as a token of esteem and respect for the deceased ringer, Double Court being his favourite method. In addition to the local company, those who took part were Messrs. A. Shufflebotham (Braintree), H. Redgewell (Rayne), W. Smith (Dunmow), and W. Farrow (Felstead).

Mr. C. H. Howard (Master of the Essex Association) and Mr. W. H. Dyson (Master of the Northern Division) attended the funeral. Among many floral tributes sent was one from the Stebbing company, and other ringing friends. This had six little bells fixed round the wreath.

LONG PEAL ATTEMPT.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

POINTS FOR SUNDAY RINGING DISCUSSED.

On Saturday, January 20th, the Warwickshire Guild held a very successful quarterly meeting at Leamington Spa. It is some years since a meeting was held there, and members turned up in force from Allesley, Berkswell, Coventry, Exhall, Nuneaton, Stoke, Kugby and Warwick, several of the local band being also present. The bells of the Parish Church, and those of St. Peter's R.C., were open for ringing during the afternoon and evening.

During the ringing at the Parish Church a very pleasing incident occurred. The Bishop of Coventry, being on a visit to Leamington, was induced by Canon Back (Archdeacon of Warwick, and President of the Guild) to make the acquaintance of the members assembled, and ascended the tower while ringing was in progress, for that purpose. In a few interesting remarks, he mentioned the last two parishes he was at (Great Yarmouth and Sheffield) each had a peal of twelve bells, and he gave a short account of the rehanging at Sheffield. He thanked the ringers for their services in the various parishes, who, he said, owed a debt of gratitude to the men who rang the bells for the church services, and hoped the Guild would continue to flourish.

A short service was held in the Parish Church, at which the Vicar (Canon Feist) officiated, and gave the address, which was both interesting and instructive.

Tea was served in the Europa Cafe, and at the business meeting which followed, the Ringing Master (Mr. A. Roberts) presided.

A resolution congratulating the president on his appointment as Archdeacon of Warwick was unanimously passed, and the hon. secretary was also instructed to send a letter of condolence to the relatives of the late Canon Reed, of Nuneaton, who was an honorary member for some years.

Stratford-on-Avon was selected for the next quarterly meeting in April, if the bells can be obtained, failing which Bedworth was chosen.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to Canon Feist for the use of the bells and for his address, a similar compliment being passed to Canon Barry, of St. Peter's.

A member asked if it was thought desirable for each tower to keep a record of all ringing for the services of the church, and at the end of the year compare the points on the same basis as that allowed by the points committee on the Central Council. He thought this would create more interest in the ringing if it were done.—The Ringing Master mentioned that the same idea was discussed several years ago; it was then thought undesirable, and he was of the same opinion now. — After some discussion it was decided no action should be taken.

It was resolved during the summer months, by way of an experiment, to hold monthly meetings in each district.

Three new members were duly elected.

The methods rung during the day included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Double Norwich, Superlative, Bristol and London. The falling of the bells in peal at 8 p.m. brought a very successful meeting to a close.

DEATH OF MR. F. K. BIGGS.

LOSS TO WYCOMBE BAND.

The High Wycombe ringers have sustained a loss, by the death of one of their members, Mr. F. K. Biggs, who passed away on Tuesday, January 16th, at the age of 53 years. The deceased had been in failing health for some time, but his demise was unexpected by his colleagues.

Francis Kingston Biggs was formerly a member of the Hughenden tower, but on coming to Wycombe he joined the latter belfry, and was a member until his death. His total of peals rung was not very large, being somewhere in the region of fifty, but, considering the disability he suffered by having an artificial leg, the number speaks volumes for his tenacity and keenness. Mr. Biggs was exceptionally pleased with two performances in particular—that his first peal of Major rung at Hughenden was one of London Surprise; and a peal of Stedman Cinques at Newcastle, where he was engaged in business during the war. Particularly keen on 'striking,' he was not slow to voice his opinion of a touch or peal, and his good-humoured criticism was often the means of a lively interchange of views. He had conducted one peal of Stedman Triples. His last peal in the Wycombe belfry, was two years ago, on New Year's Eve, when he was one of the regular Sunday service band who scored Stedman Caters—a trying performance for his leg. 'Frank' was highly amused when called to the colours, and he related with gusto his experiences with the medical board—those of us who knew him can appreciate this incident.

The funeral took place at the pretty little church at Hughenden on Saturday, January 20th, where he was borne to his resting-place on the shoulders of brother ringers. On the Sunday evening following, a muffled quarter of Grandsire Caters was rung to his memory on the bells of the Wycombe Church.—R.I.P. G. T.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.
STIRRING UP THE FYLDE BRANCH.

A combined meeting of the Preston and Fylde Branches of the Lancashire Association was held on Saturday, January 20th, at Kirkham, a small town of about four thousand inhabitants, situated about midway between Preston and most of the towers in the Fylde. It was hoped there would be a good response from the somewhat easy-going Fylde towers, and that the presence of the esteemed president of the association would act as a stimulus to the art which is apparently losing its attraction. About seventeen members of the Preston branch were present, the quota from the Fylde being ten, representing five towers. Five of the local band were present. They can only ring rounds and 'call changes,' but are very desirous of learning change ringing. The Fylde Secretary (Mr. Sharples), a few weeks ago, offered his services as instructor, but the week previous to the meeting the Rector was notified that if any person came to teach change ringing the chief ringer and another ringer would resign. This unlooked-for situation had delayed matters a little, but it was hoped the difficulty would be set right with the resignation of the two objectors.

The ring of eight bells (tenor 21 cwt.) was kept going merrily to Stedman, Double Norwich, Grand sire, Superlative and Treble Bob Minor, a course of Cambridge Major just failing to be brought round. The bells are a lovely-toned ring, and are in excellent going order, having been thoroughly overhauled by Mears and Stainbank last July.

Tea was partaken of by 26 ringers, including Canon Elsee, president of the association, and the Rector of Kirkham and Rural Dean of the Fylde. A short address was given by the president, and listened to with eager attention by all present. He reminded his hearers that the first president of the Lancashire Association was a Kirkham ringer, and he said he was sorry there had been a difference with the local men regarding change ringing. Some men got fixed opinions on certain things, and refused to alter their views, but he hoped before very long there would be a keen and enthusiastic band of change ringers in Kirkham. He did not see why the Fylde district should be behind the other branches of the association in change ringing, and he advised the Fylde members not to lose heart, for, with a little patience and encouragement, their efforts were sure to bear fruit.

Several of the Preston Branch members spoke of the days when their branch was in a similar state of apathy or drift when meeting after meeting was abandoned because there were not sufficient members to ring a Minor method. With perseverance, however, interest could be aroused.

At the conclusion of the meeting there was a feeling of optimism that the combined gathering had done a solid piece of good work for the Fylde Branch.

SWINTON'S FINE BELLS.

The monthly meeting of the Manchester Branch was held on Saturday, January 20th, at Swinton Parish Church, where there is a magnificent peal of eight bells (tenor 23 cwt.) hung in a massive iron frame, of ample proportions, and designed for ten bells, with all the latest improvements, including ball bearings, which Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough, have recently installed. The visitors numbered between fifty and sixty, and made good use of the bells. Members were present from various towers in the branch, and from Moorside, Oldham, Bolton, Warrington and Hyde, with Mr. Price Taylor representing the founders.

At the business meeting the Vicar (the Rev. Viscount Mountmorres, M.A.) took the chair, and gave the visitors a cordial welcome. He hoped they would be as pleased with the bells as he was.

There was a discussion on a proposition by Mr. W. Wolstencroft, that the meetings should be held at the various towers in rota, and the suggestion was agreed to, subject to the first meeting of the year being held at the Cathedral and the last one at the Town Hall, which has been the custom for a good number of years.

Mr. R. Longden, of St. John's, Deansgate, all the members of the Swinton tower, and the Vicar, also Mr. A. Saul, of Miles Platting, were elected to the association.

It was proposed to hold the next meeting at St. John's, Deansgate, failing that at St. Peter's, Ashton-under-Lyne, on Saturday, February 17th.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar and church officials, also the local ringers, were carried unanimously, and further ringing then took place. It was the opinion of the ringers that the tone and 'go' of the bells were all that could be desired, and that the founders had added greatly to their reputation by their latest additions to this part of the country. It was hoped that ere long the other two bells would be put in to complete this splendid ring.

NORTON, STAFFS.—At St. Bartholomew's Church, for practice, on Tuesday, Dec. 12th. 240 each of London Wells, Brown Edge York, Durham, Ipswich and Cambridge Surprise: G. E. Lawrence 1, J. W. Walker 2, F. Trimer 3, J. E. Wheelton (conductor) 4, J. Walley 5, F. T. Dawson 6.

By splicing the methods into each course as above, all seven lead ends are used, and the methods are arranged symmetrically.

57 courses of Bob Major, without bobs Before, give 5,016 changes. Each bob Before adds three leads of Little Bob (24 changes) to the course, bringing up the W and M positions again.

A peal on this plan was rung on handbells by the Cambridge University Guild on January 25th.

DEATH OF MR. GEORGE WOODISS.

We deeply regret to record the death of Mr. George Woodiss, of Twickenham, Surrey, who died on Wednesday, Jan. 24th, after only a short illness.

The deceased was a very old member of the Winchester Guild, and formerly resided at Hershams, where he organised and instructed a band when the bells were put in. Some years ago he removed to Twickenham, and had since been more closely identified with the Middlesex Association. He was a very safe ringer in the standard methods, and, although he had not recently taken part in many peals, he had a goodly number to his credit.

The funeral took place at Twickenham Cemetery on Tuesday.

A SILVER WEDDING.

Wednesday, December 27th, marked the 25th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Dawe, of Lewes, and an attempt for a peal was arranged in honour of the occasion. Meeting short for Stedman Callers, the band started for a peal of Stedman Triples, but unfortunately this came to grief after some two hours' good ringing. The ringers were afterwards generously entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Dawe, and did full justice to the enjoyable meal set before them.

Before dispersing, the ringers expressed their thanks for the hospitality which they had received, and congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Dawe upon their silver wedding, a hope being expressed that they would be able to meet and ring a peal in honour of their golden wedding—when it came.

The Host, in replying, expressed the pleasure it gave Mrs. Dawe and himself to welcome the band, and said that he hoped that at a future attempt better luck would attend their efforts in the tower. It was very gratifying, however, to know that the occasion had given pleasure to all concerned.

FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES.

That the strain of printing detailed reports every year is telling upon the financial strength of many of the associations, is more and more evident as time goes on, and following the suggestion which the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association put out not long ago, a proposal has been brought before the Yorkshire Association to charge a fee of threepence to each ringer taking part in a peal, to help meet the cost of printing the record in the annual report. Without doubt, these annual publications are a great drain upon funds, which in these days the ordinary subscriptions are insufficient to meet. A report like that of the Yorkshire Association is really a very substantial one, and if members desire their society to issue a publication of this kind, each ought to be prepared to pay for his copy. It is sometimes difficult to get ringers to realise what these publications involve in money alone, without taking any account of the time which has been given to their compilation. As has been previously pointed out, the cost of printing the peal records is usually the most costly part of the report, and, while it has been urged that booking fees place an undue tax upon those who are doing their best to raise the standard of peal ringing, there are those who are not constant peal ringers who contend that the printing of the details of other people's performances should be borne by those who take part in them. There is much to be said from each standpoint, and we can imagine that there will be strong discussion wherever the question is raised.

But now, along with the existing financial perplexities of some of the associations, come the first sounds of agitation which may add to the difficulties. A meeting of Lincoln Diocesan Guild members have decided to approach the Committee of the Association with a suggestion that the annual subscription should be reduced. This is principally on the ground that wages have fallen, and in an agricultural county such as Lincolnshire is, the effect of this decline is a serious one to the wage earners. Many ringing organisations—we are not sure if the Lincoln Guild was one of them—raised their subscription to meet the all-round rise in their expenses. These latter have not yet fallen, but if there is any general demand for reduction in subscriptions, the position of some of the associations will be serious. In order to bring into affiliation all ringers, whatever their personal circumstances, it is, of course, absolutely essential to make the annual contribution as small a one as possible. As ringers give their services to the Church, why should not the Church be asked to give help to the ringers' organisations? An affiliation fee, say, of ten shillings a year, for each tower paid out of the parochial funds, would be no serious burden on any church, but it would be the means of keeping many associations solvent, and, in some cases, no doubt, would enable a reduction to be made in the amount of the individual ringer's subscription.

RINGERS' DINNER AT LIVERPOOL.

A dinner organised by a few of the most active members of the Liverpool branch of the Lancashire Association was held at the Brunswick Hotel, Liverpool, on Saturday, Jan. 27th. It is hoped that this will be the first of an annual series. A most enjoyable evening was spent, with Mr. R. O. Street in the chair.

After the toast of 'The King,' proposed by the chairman, had been duly honoured, a violin solo was excellently rendered by Mr. E. Boumphrey.

The toast of the 'Liverpool Branch' was proposed by Mr. S. F. Barnes, and, in the unavoidable absence of Mr. W. Hughes, was responded to by Mr. J. Martin.

The toast of 'The Visitors,' among whom were noticed Messrs. W. Bibby, J. E. Bibby, F. Bibby and Gleave, of Frodsham; Mr. H. W. Wilde, of Chester; Messrs. H. Ludkin and Barnes, of Oxtou; Messrs. J. Cliffe and E. Breede, of Bebbington, was responded to by Mr. H. W. Wilde.

During the evening, songs were rendered by Messrs. H. Ludkin, J. Wilkinson, J. Cliffe and A. Lindsay. A course of Grandsire Triples and a short touch of Bob Major were rung on handbells by the Messrs. Bibby and Ludkin, also a course of Major by the chairman, Messrs. Wilde, Martin and Ludkin.

It was pleasing to notice the presence of Messrs. W. T. Robson and J. W. Bell, who the company would like to see more often in the tower. It would not be right in this account of the proceedings to omit the name of Mr. Lamb, who has gone to reside at Wantage, Berks, and whose health was toasted during the evening.

Votes of thanks to the chairman, the artistes and organisers were responded to by Messrs. Newton, Wilkinson and Gilmour, the two latter being thanked for their excellent dinner arrangements.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A most successful meeting of the Biggleswade district was held at Sandy on Saturday, January 20th, when members attended from Biggleswade, Everton, Clifton, Roxton, Potton, Northill, Bedford, Eynesbury, and the local company. Ringing commenced with a 240 Kent Treble Bob.

At the business meeting which followed tea, Miss Steel was in the chair, and one new member was elected.—It was proposed to hold the next meeting at Old Warden.

A hearty vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. A. Soden to the Rector for the use of the bells. The tower was again visited, and the ringing maintained in standard methods until after 8 o'clock.

CENTRAL NORTHANTS ASSOCIATION.

By kind permission of the Vicar (the Rev. H. K. Fry, R.D.) a quarterly meeting of the Wellingborough district was held at Higham Ferrers on Saturday, January 27th, members being present from Finedon, Burton Latimer, Isham, Kettering, Geddington, weekley, Broughton, Irthingborough, Wollaston, Raunds, Wellingborough, Easton Maudit, Earls Barton, Woodford, Ringstead, Thrapston, and the local band. The bells, a fine peal of eight, were kept going during the afternoon and evening to various methods, including Cambridge Surprise Major, Superlative, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples.

A short service was held in the fine old church, conducted by the curate, the Rev. G. E. Stevenson, who also gave a thoughtful and inspiring address. Tea was provided at the Bede House by the local ringers and their wives, 53 sitting down.

The business meeting followed, and in the absence of the vice-president the Rev. G. E. Stevenson occupied the chair.—Wollaston was chosen as the next place of meeting, and two new members were elected.

The secretary presented his report and balance sheet for the past year, which was considered highly satisfactory, and he was heartily congratulated upon it. He also referred to the loss the district had sustained by the removal of the Rev. J. G. Thornton, who had left the county, he having been a most loyal supporter of the association during the time he was Vicar of Mears Abbey. He mentioned the interesting fact that they could now boast that they had a Member of Parliament amongst their honorary members, and pointed out that Mr. Parker had held various offices in the association, and had been a most enthusiastic and loyal supporter for many years. He felt sure he should be expressing their wishes as well as his own when he said that he hoped that Mr. Parker would long hold the high and honourable position he had attained to. Reference was also made to the peal of Grandsire Doubles rung at Yardley Hastings on December 25th last, it being the first peal of all those taking part, and believed to be the first peal ever rung there by a local band. The ages of three of the ringers were as follows: Treble 15, second 18, fourth (conductor) 19, and considering that this tower only joined the association on October 8th, 1921, when they could do nothing in the way of change ringing, it was a very good performance.

Votes of thanks were heartily accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, and the Rev. G. E. Stevenson for conducting the service and for his address, also to the organist, the local ringers and lady helpers, this bringing a most successful meeting to a close.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

There were several points of interest about the peal of Treble Twelve at Southwark on Saturday by the London County Association, not the least noteworthy being the fact that it was the first occasion upon which a husband and wife had taken part together in a peal on twelve tower bells. To Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Barker falls this distinction.

Then, too, Wilfred Taffender rang his third successive peal. His first was London Surprise Major, his second Stedman Cinques at Bow, and his third Treble Twelve at Southwark! Some start for a lad of 15!

At the heavy end we find Mr. James George, in his 70th year, ringing the 50 cwt. tenor, and turning her in without turning a hair. It is really wonderful when you think about it. We think Mr. George must unquestionably be the oldest ringer to ring this bell single-handed to a peal of Maximus.

The six ringers who took part in Mr. George Bolland's birthday peal at Tong on Saturday have between them 255 years' service in the belfry of their parish church!

The meeting of the Worcestershire Association recorded last week was a Northern and not a Western Branch meeting, as reported.

The peal at Rawmarsh on January 13th was rung in 3 hours 40 minutes, and not 2 hours 20 minutes, as published.

Among the long peals, of which the anniversaries fall next week, are the 14,016 Kent Treble Bob at Oldham on Feb. 12th, 1821; 7,018 Grandsire Cinques at Cornhill on Feb. 14th, 1731; 13,001 Grandsire Cinques at Painswick on Feb. 14th, 1920; 9,999 Grandsire Major at Oldham, on Feb. 15th, 1825; 14,224 Bob Major at Aston on Feb. 16th, 1789; and 8,448 Stedman Cinques at Painswick on Feb. 16th, 1858.

BALL BEARINGS FOR BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Your correspondent, Mr. R. F. Deal, asks some questions with regard to ball bearings, and quotes the report of the conference between the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings and the Central Council. That report must be read with reference to the main object aimed at, namely, the best way of preserving old towers. The conclusion arrived at was not a 'casual dismissal.' Indeed every paragraph was most carefully considered by both sides. Nor can the conclusion be the result of experiment, because ball bearings for bells have not yet been tried for a sufficient number of years to constitute a reliable experiment. From the point of view of stress on the tower, ball bearings can have no effect different to that produced by the older type of bearing, provided the latter is maintained in such reasonable order as to avoid any serious 'knock.'

One of the undoubted advantages of ball bearings is the saving of labour to the bellhanger in the tower, and the consequent lower initial cost of hanging. But generally the members of the conference felt that the question of ball bearings was an open one, depending on local circumstances, and they were not prepared to commit themselves to a definite opinion.—Yours faithfully,

EDWIN H. LEWIS.

NORFOLK AND SUFFOLK RINGING ASSOCIATIONS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I think that the argument about the areas of ringing associations in Norfolk and Suffolk has been caused by the fact that when the Act for increasing the Episcopate was unexpectedly passed in 1915, the authorities were not well advised in the areas for the new Bishoprics they laid out. West Norfolk and West Suffolk are very near the Cathedral at Ely, and, further, parts of West Norfolk are also not far distant from the Cathedral of Peterborough. Now that Leicestershire has practically been taken away from Peterborough, it seems to me that East Norfolk and East Suffolk should have been the area of one Bishopric, and the west portions of the counties should have gone to Ely.

But although that matter has been settled, and must be made the best of, I do not see why the accomplished fact should upset ringing. After all, bells should be used first and foremost for ringing regularly for Sunday services; for which, of course, you must have ringers. Now, bands cannot be formed and maintained without at times outside help, which can only be given sufficiently by some person in each district; and the enthusiasm of districts can only be maintained by peal ringing of associations. I consider that East Norfolk and East Suffolk, because of rail and road communications, are naturally linked together, and should always be together. We in the Waveney Valley, with our towers alternately in Norfolk and Suffolk, would regret a separation more than any other part of the old diocese.

I was one of those appointed in 1914 to interview the late Bishop of Suffolk on the matter. All he said was he wished for an association for his Diocese, and the wish of the East Suffolk ringers generally for a joint association he would make no comment on. As to how to keep ringing going I do not suppose he knew anything.—Yours truly,

FRED R. BORRETT.

EXETER CATHEDRAL BELLS DEDICATED.ENTHUSIASM IN THE WESTERN CITY.

About 300 ringers were present, and great enthusiasm was manifested throughout the City of Exeter on Saturday, when the new trebles to complete the peal of twelve at Exeter were dedicated.

The proceedings commenced with a short dedicatory service in the south tower, in which is the ringing chamber immediately beneath the bells. This is reached by a narrow spiral stairway from the nave permitting only one person at a time, and traversing the parapet from near the west front to the tower entrance.

Mr. A. C. Thomas, the donor of the new bells, was accompanied, as guests, by Sir Robert Newman, M.P., Mr. F. R. Lumley, Rev. J. F. Sheldon, formerly Rector of St. Leonard's, Exeter; with Mr. E. J. Harbottle (representing his father, Mr. E. H. Harbottle, Cathedral surveyor). Also in the tower were the Dean (Dr. H. R. Gamble), the Archdeacon of Exeter (Ven. F. A. Sanders), the Archdeacon of Totnes (Canon T. Newton Leeke), Canon D. McLaren (sheriff of Exeter), Preb. F. W. Gegg, Revs. H. de Vere Welchman, R. C. B. Llewellyn (succentor), W. E. Lees (priest vicar), and Mr. W. T. M. Snow (chapter clerk), with Rev. E. S. Powell, of Holbeton, secretary to Devon Guild of Ringers; Mr. W. J. Southwood, secretary of Exeter branch of the Guild; Canon G. F. Coleridge, of Crowthorne, Berks (president of the Central Council), and Mr. Denison Taylor, of Loughborough.

The Cathedral ringers were under Mr. F. J. Davey (foreman), and included Mr. T. Laver (secretary).

Mr. Thomas and party paid a visit to the belfry, and saw the new bells in position. The Dean performed the dedication.

THE 'THOMAS PEAL.'

The Cathedral band then rang the peal of eight in E flat, to be known as the 'Thomas Peal,' and the Grandisson peal of 12 in B flat, bringing in both the new bells. Canon Coleridge took part in the ringing, which continued until 2.40, when the bells were chimed for evensong at 3 o'clock, specially adapted to the occasion. There was a large attendance of the general public, who with the visiting ringers and others comfortably filled the nave.

A procession from the west end of the nave included representatives of the Devonshire Guild of Ringers, the Cathedral ringers, the donor, the choir, clergy, and Cathedral clergy, among those present being Revs. Maitland Kelly, of Kelly (president of Devon Guild); E. V. Cox, Bampton (secretary North-East Devon branch); H. B. Clark, Honiton Clyst; Messrs. E. Shepherd (chairman Exeter branch) and T. G. Bartlett (treasurer). The clergy included the Bishop of Crediton (Dr. R. E. Trefusis), Preb. W. Bevil Browne, Treasurer P. Jackson, Rev. H. G. Chalk, A. P. Lancefield, and C. E. Burkitt. Among those also present were Mrs. Thomas (wife of the donor) and Sir James and Lady Owen.

Dr. E. Bullock (Cathedral organist) led the singing of the professional hymn, 'O praise ye the Lord.' Rev. H. de Vere Welchman intoned the service. The Bishop of Crediton and the Dean read the lessons. Psalm 144 was chanted, and the choir rendered the anthem, 'Send out Thy light.' Special prayers were also used.

The concluding hymn was 'Hark on high the joyful music; hark the concert of the bells.'

After the service the Cathedral ringers rang the Cobthorne six, the Stafford eight in C minor, and other combinations, as well as the full peal, and ringing was continued by the visitors in relays until about 8 p.m.

Tea was provided for the ringers by the Dean and Chapter at Deller's Café.

Courses of Grandsire and Stedman Cinques were rung by a mixed band of Plymouth and Taunton ringers.

On Monday evening the Cathedral clergy, representative citizens, Cathedral ringers, and officers of the Guild will be entertained at dinner by Mr. A. C. Thomas.

Exeter Cathedral now boasts of one of the most remarkable combinations of peals in the country, as well as holding the distinction of having the heaviest tenor and the heaviest peal in the world hung for ringing. Visitors on Sunday were delighted with the new twelve, and Messrs. Taylor and Co. are to be congratulated upon the success of their work.

RINGERS' HATS IN THE BELFRY.

A meeting of the North-Eastern Division of the Essex Association was held on Saturday, Jan. 20th, at Great Brimley, 24 members, representing 11 branches, being present. Some good ringing was done, notably 720 Cambridge Surprise, conducted by the Master (Mr. W. J. Nevard). Tea was served at the Spread Eagle Hotel at the kind invitation of the Master, who presided, supported by the Vicar.

Allusion was made to the old custom in this parish of having the hats of the old ringers hung up in the corner of the belfry. These were a novel and interesting sight, the last one being dated 1823.

Mr. Nevard (Master) and Mr. R. W. Stannard (secretary) were re-elected unopposed, and after electing the Vicar and churchwarden as hon. members, handbells and music were indulged in. Tending was selected for the May meeting, and Harwich for midsummer.

SIMPSON TUNING.To the Editor.

Sir,—Quot homines, tot sententia! But some of your correspondents are surely unfortunate. In spite of Messrs. E. Barnett, senr., and J. K. Jerram, there are a great many eminent ringers who do not loudly condemn the Simpson principle of tuning. In this town there has been lately installed a recast peal of ten for the old Parish Church of St. Nicholas—a first-class example of all modern 'heresies,' for the bells are in a steel frame, with ball bearings, and are tuned on the Simpson principle. But he would be more than rash who would decry them either from the point of view of the ringer inside the tower or the listener outside. And these bells are only one example of many.

There are just two simple points which many people overlook, but which might well be borne in mind by the Simpson critics:—

(1) That bells are primarily for the glory of God—and for this nothing less than the very best should be accepted—and not for personal idiosyncrasies of the ringers.

(2) That many bells are called 'Simpson tuned' which have little or no right to the name. Any who would know how beautiful a Simpson peal is have only to listen to the latest products of the famous Croydon or Loughborough foundries, who have cast many peals which refute the charges laid against bells of this type.—Yours, etc.,

CECIL H. CLARKE.

Vicar of St. Thomas', Hove, Brighton.

THE THOUGHTS OF A FLAT.

Sir,—A few thoughts on Simpson tuning. Has this method justified its purpose? Judging by the reports of various openings all over the world it must have. Anyway, it prevents such awful peals of bells as everyone is familiar with. What does Simpson tuning do? Much what the frock coat and top hat does. While not making a gentleman of anyone, it certainly makes them a little more presentable.

Now, as I have not got a battle axe, I must be a bit cautious in my remarks. The critic should remember that bells were intended to be heard more than a mile away. That is why they are put in the tower, and not in the chancel. Also, that founders cannot all be Rudhalls, any more than ringers can all be William Prys. No doubt Rudhall had some 'bad eggs.'

But what tickles my funnybone is that the critic says, 'I have rung peals on them.' Now, this is an army method of calling the stew and then eating it. Reminds me of a conversation I heard a short time ago. The conductor was holding forth on the musical qualities of various methods, when someone said, 'You stand for music?' 'Yes, all the time,' was the reply. 'Then why the policeman did you call such a rotten composition this afternoon?'

From the public point of view, excepting on special occasions and for their proper purpose, bells are tolerated, and no more. And, like the ringer, the public are just as pleased when a peal comes round, but from a different point of view. Nowadays there seems so much humbug about the ringing fraternity; yes, give them a peal of bells that go well, and which they can ring as much as they like, and what care they if the harmonics have got the rheumatics? Most of it goes out at the top. As to the musical part of the public, they have the foggiest notion about it. As I heard one say, 'Fancy playing all your tunes in E flat!'—Yours truly, A FLAT.

SOCIETY OF ROYAL CUMBERLAND YOUTHS

The annual general meeting of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths was held at St. Martin's-in-the-Field on Saturday, and the gathering included members from Guildford, Dorking, Leatherhead, Swindon and Bletchley. The fine ring of twelve were kept going for two hours before tea.

At the meeting the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Master, Mr. J. D. Matthews; treasurer, Mr. B. Foskett; senior steward, Mr. F. Smith; junior steward, Mr. C. Matthews; trustees, Messrs. E. Chapman and A. N. Hardy; hon. secretary, Mr. J. W. Cornford.

The balance sheet showed a very satisfactory state of affairs, the sum in hand being £22 4s. 6d. During the year four peals of Stedman Cinques, 1 Kent Treble Bob Maximus, 2 Stedman Caters, 1 London Surprise Major, 1 Cambridge Surprise Major, 1 Double Norwich Major and 1 Kent Treble Bob Major were rung.

WEDDING BELLS.

In honour of the wedding of Mr. H. Howard, one of the local ringers, on Saturday, January 27th, 720 College Single, Oxford Bob, Merchant's Return, Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor, were rung at Barley, Herts, by F. Hayes 1, H. Howard 2, W. Tack 3, W. Mansfield 4, W. Sermons 5, R. Howard (conductor) 6.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

The first meeting of the New Year was held at Worksop on Saturday, January 20th. Ringers attended from Anston, Blyth, Barlboro', Shireoaks, Norton Cuckney, Southover Cathedral, Staveley Town, Sutton-in-Ashfield, Tickhill, Ordsall, West Retford, Treeton, Gainsborough, Lincoln, Wortley, Misterton and Worksop. The Gainsborough men arrived in good time, and by 2.45 p.m. had brought round some well-struck touches of Treble Bob Major, Stedman and St. Clement's Triples and Forward Major. They afterwards adjourned to the Priory Gate House, where the ladies were preparing tea, and gave selections on the handbells.

The Rev. Canon d'Arcy had arranged a choral service at the Priory Church, and he was supported by a member of choirmen and 18 choirboys, the organist and the Rev. S. Dennison. The service was a great delight to those 50 who attended. Tea at the Priory Gate House was followed by the business meeting, presided over by the Vicar (Canon d'Arcy), supported by the Rev. S. Dennison, the hon. secretary, etc.

Two new members (Messrs. W. Schofield and L. Walker, of Tuxford) were elected. The next meeting, the annual meeting, will be held at Retford in May. The Gainsborough ringers gave a course of Grand sire Triples on the handbells, which was much appreciated.—A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar of Worksop for granting the use of the bells, arranging the service, and presiding over the tea and meeting, also to Mr. S. Mayes, organist, for arranging the choral service; to the choirmen and boys and the Rev. S. Dennison for their attendance.—A vote of thanks was also passed to the ringers' wives and lady ringers for attending to the wants of the inner man.

The Vicar, in reply, said how pleased he was to welcome them to Worksop; they were doing a good work throughout the diocese, and they had delighted him with some good ringing during the afternoon. The secretary of the association had asked, through 'The Ringing World,' for a good attendance, and he had got it. He would only be too pleased to arrange a similar service in all respects on a future occasion if asked to do so. In fact, he would like one every day; it reminded one of the days of our forefathers when men were more regular in their attendance at daily worship in the house of God.

During the afternoon and evening Grand sire, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich, St. Clement's Triples, Stedman Triples and a number of six-bell methods from Bob Minor to Cambridge Surprise were rung. A most pleasing feature was the first touch of Grand sire Triples by the 11-year-old son of Mr. Herbert Trueman, and a lady ringer (Miss Taylor) conducting the first touch of Grand sire Triples on the bells.

LADIES' GUILD.

The quarterly meeting of the Midland District was held at St. John's, Deritend, 'Birmingham's third oldest church,' on Saturday, January 20th. There was quite a good gathering of members from Smerwick, Solihull, Evesham, Handsworth and Netherton. Much regret was expressed that, owing to a bad cold, Miss Parker was not able to be at the meeting, and much sympathy was expressed with Mrs. White, who was unable to attend owing to the illness of Mr. White.

Unfortunately, owing to the illness of a little child in the vicinity of the church, there was no ringing on the tower bells, but handbell ringing occupied a little of the time. Mr. J. E. Groves and a young member of St. John's band taking part.

The Vicar (the Rev. J. A. Morgan) took the visitors round the church, explaining several things of interest, among them, the deed for the endowment of Deritend Chapel, signed by Richard II. in 1383; and the bust of John Rogers born in Deritend, 1500, and burned at the stake in Smithfield in Queen Mary's reign in 1555. The Vicar afterwards conducted the Guild form of service, and gave a very interesting and helpful address. He also arranged tea, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the party.

Miss Johnson was elected to the chair for the business meeting, at which two life members were elected. The meeting closed with a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for his kindness, and in replying he gave the Guild a hearty invitation to visit his church again soon.

NORWICH ASSOCIATION IN 1922.

At the close of 1922 the Norwich and St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association had 973 members, made up as follows: Resident life members, 5; non-resident, 224; hon. members, 51; performing members, 675; probationers, 18. The receipts were £104 3s. 2d., and the payments £120 13s. 8d., leaving a deficit of £16 10s. 6d. In the 205 peals rung in 53 methods from Doubles to Maximus, 306 members took part. A grand total of 1,036,145 changes was rung in 607 hours 59 minutes, with 40 conductors. The tower bell peals were rung in 68 towers. One general meeting of the association, five branch meetings and 18 district meetings were held.

WILLIAM DOUBLEDAY CROFTS.A MEMORIAL DINNER.

On the 27th January, in that quaint Elizabethan hostel, the Flying Horse Hotel, Nottingham, where in all probability the man whose memory was honoured had refreshed himself, a fully representative company sat down to dinner with the dual object of social intercourse, and to revive the memory of the stalwarts who have gone before, and the chief and most remarkable being William Doubleday Crofts, the Nottingham lawyer and campanologist, who lived 1737—1809. The local president, Mr. Albert Coppock, occupied the chair, supported by the Vicar of St. Peter's, Nottingham (the Rev. H. P. Hall), the Revs. R. F. Wilkinson and J. F. Amies, Mr. Eryce Taylor, Mr. C. Dean (representing Messrs. Gillett and Johnston), Mr. E. Bailey (Leiston), Mr. W. E. White, Mr. G. Hollis, whilst all the towers of note in Notts were represented, excepting Nottingham.

The Chairman traced the history of change ringing in Nottingham from its known commencement in 1672 down to the establishment of the M.O.A., pointing out all conductors and important features connected with the peals recorded. He also drew attention to the future care of such records as still exist, deploring the loss of W. D. Crofts's personal peal book, through a piece of pure sentiment, and the sale of a peal of cup handbells left by Crofts to the ringers at St. Mary's, Nottingham, by one who was merely the custodian.

Opinions were expressed as to the best way to preserve these manuscripts, and one of the methods may be adopted, if the present holder gives consent.

The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson gave a most interesting address on the bell founders of Nottingham, prefacing his remarks with a piquant anecdote of the enterprising efforts of a former Mansfield ringer in collecting Christmas boxes.

An excellent programme was provided by the Welbeck Gleo Quartette, which includes a well-known ringer, and Mr. Chas. Riley, a clever local entertainer, the accompaniments being furnished by another ringer, Mr. W. Taylor, organist at Greasley, Notts.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.ILCHESTER DEANERY BRANCH.

The annual meeting was held at Martock on Saturday, January 27th. There was an attendance of about 30 members, representing Ilminster, Stoke-under-Ham, Norton-sub-Hamdon, Yeovil and Martock. The service held in the Parish Church was conducted by the president of the branch (the Rev. G. W. Saunders, Vicar of Martock), who, in his address, welcomed the branch to Martock.

Tea was served in the Church House, and was followed by the business meeting. The president occupied the chair, and was supported by the Rev. H. J. Davies, Vicar of Stoke, and Mr. J. Goodchild, churchwarden of Yeovil Parish Church.

The officers were re-elected as follows: The Rev. G. W. Saunders, president; Mr. F. Farrant, secretary and representative of the branch on the general committee, and Mr. D. G. Taylor, Ringing Master. — The President said, in accepting office again, he did so against his own principles. He did not believe in one man holding the same office for a long time, but the longer he held this office the more difficult he found it to refuse to accept it. He was pleased the membership was increasing (the secretary having reported that 18 new members had been elected during the year), and that several were to be proposed at that meeting. He would like to see the suggested office for admission of ringers to the association used. He intended to admit new members to his own band at a public service in the church. He considered in that way the congregation would be brought to know the good work ringers were doing.

Thirteen new members were elected either as probationers or full members. The Rev. J. McKay, Rector of Norton; the Rev. H. J. Davies, Vicar of Stoke, and Mr. J. Goodchild, of Yeovil, were elected hon. members.—Mr. Taylor proposed a vote of thanks to the ladies who had provided such an excellent tea.

At the conclusion of the meeting a return was made to the tower. Grand sire, Stedman and Bob Major were the methods practised during the day.

HALESOWEN RINGER'S DEATH.

On Saturday, January 20th, the mortal remains of Mr. Harry Lea were laid to rest at Halesowen Parish Churchyard. The deceased, who was 58 years of age, was a sideman for a great number of years, and a bell ringer for nearly 40 years. He rang his first peal at Halesowen Church on Jubilee Day, 1887. He was one of the ringers to take part in the first change ringing in Halesowen since 1776, of which there is record. He was a Sunday School teacher in his younger days.

The bells were rung half-muffled for an hour before the funeral service, which was attended by the ringers, who also rang for an hour afterwards. Several touches of Stedman Triples were brought round by the local band, including E. White, M. Hackett, G. N. Cockin, W. Coley, V. White, A. Hackett (conductor), W. Webb, E. Brettle, W. Brown, A. Harriss. Nineteen wreaths were placed on the grave, including one from the bell ringers.

30 METHODS IN SEVEN EXTENTS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I was naturally much interested in Mr. Dawson's inquiry which appeared in your issue of January 26th. In reply, I wish to point out that the idea and plan of splicing Minor Methods has been before the Exercise at least 10 or 12 years. I think I am correct in saying that the Rev. H. Law James was the first to make known and to practise the idea. Through him the matter was discussed at the Central Council meeting in 1912. In the issue of 'The Ringing World,' August 23rd, 1912, Mr. E. H. Lewis described the rules by which the splicing could be done. A peal which contained extents in spliced methods was rung here on July 12th, 1913, and, together with the peal, the figures were published in an early issue of 'The Ringing World.'

I would like to add that the practice of splicing invests Minor ringing with considerable additional interest, which fact has often made me very much surprised that the practice has not been more widely adopted. I hope that as a result of this inquiry it may become so, and if any further particulars are desired I should be only too glad to give them.—Yours, etc.,

JAMES FERNLEY.

BOBS AND SINGLES IN MINOR.

Sir,—I was pleased to see Mr. Dawson's letter congratulating the Norbury company upon their recent achievement in ringing a spliced peal of Minor in 30 methods, and also wish to add my own congratulations to his, as I took part in the first peal of its kind in 14 methods at Edenham, Lincolnshire, composed and conducted by the Rev. Law James in February, 1911. If Mr. Dawson would inquire of that gentleman he would give him all the information he requires.

As to the suggestion of giving the Bob and Single leads of the methods in the 'Collection,' I have seen this question asked many times. The Rev. Law James, in answer to an inquiry which I made when the collection first came out, stated that in all Minor methods 4th's place is made at a bob instead of 2nd's or 6th's which ever it may be at a plain lead. A single is made by making 4th's as at a bob, and the plain lead place whichever it is and also the place between them. For example:—

	164523	135264
Bob	165432	153624
	156423	135642
Single	165432	153624
	165423	135624

It is a surprise to me that more six-bell ringers have not taken up spliced-method ringing, as it increases the interest in six-bell work, and also saves many rows of rounds coming up when it is wished to ring a peal in more than the seven methods.

I should also like to see all those Surprise Methods rung by the Anston company (composed by Mr. Fowler, I believe, and rung during the South African war and since), so that the best could be added to the collection. I also notice the record of a 720 Bristol Minor rung at Aldrington. This would be interesting, as I have never seen the method published under this name.—Yours, etc., F. BLOOD.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

WOTTON-UNDER-EDGE BRANCH FAVOUR BELFRY REPAIR FUND.

The annual meeting of the above branch was held at Wotton-under-Edge on Saturday week. Ringers attended from Coaley, Dursley, Stenchcombe, Berkeley, Wickwar, with the local ringers. The bells of the Parish Church were available, and kept going to Grandsire, Plain Bob, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and Stedman. At the special service, which was choral, the Vicar (the Rev. F. F. Greenham) officiated. An excellent tea was provided in the Parish Room, and was followed by the business meeting, the Vicar presiding.

The hon. secretary read the report and balance sheet for the past year, which were very satisfactory. The following officers were elected: Chairman, Mr. A. Burcombe; vice-chairman, Mr. W. Dyer; representative on the general committee, Mr. H. W. Fussell; hon. secretary, Mr. A. W. Lewis, Ham, Berkeley.—One new member was elected, and the meeting passed a resolution in favour of a belfry repair fund, which it is hoped the association will bring forward at the annual meeting on Whit Monday.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for presiding and providing such an excellent tea was passed.—The Vicar, in reply, welcomed the association to Wotton. He greatly appreciated the work the association was doing, and hoped it would meet with continued success.—A hearty vote of thanks was also passed to Mr. R. Marmont for giving his service at the organ.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

SONNING DEANERY BRANCH.

The annual general meeting of the Sonning Deanery Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held on Saturday, January 20th, at Wokingham. A service was held in St. Paul's Church in the afternoon, when the sermon was preached by Canon R. P. Newhouse, Rector of Sandhurst.

Tea followed in St. Paul's Parish Room, under the management of Mrs. Houlton, assisted by Mrs. H. M. Walter, Mrs. F. Heilas, Mrs. E. S. Barry, Mrs. Onslow and Mrs. Collis. Those present included the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Guild), the Rev. R. H. Hart Davis (chairman, Sonning Deanery Branch), Mr. R. T. Hibbert (Guild-secretary), Mr. F. Dentry (branch secretary), Canon G. F. Coleridge (president of the Central Council), Canon R. P. Newhouse, the Revs. H. M. Walter, B. Long, Farham, J. C. F. Wimberley, S. M. Winter, P. H. Ditchfield, E. H. Arkwright and C. Nightingale.

The Rev. R. H. Hart Davis presided over the business meeting. The balance sheet showed a balance in hand of £12 19s. 7d., an increase upon the previous year of £1 1s. 2d.—The Hon. Secretary reported that there was a membership of 183 of all ranks, a drop in one tower being made up for by the entry into the branch last year of Waltham St. Lawrence. Mr. T. Houlton, of St. Paul's, Wokingham, a ringer for upwards of 50 years, and one of the branch's oldest members, had been taken from them by death. Two peals had been rung in the year in the branch, both by Sandhurst (applause). Combined practices had been held in all the towers, the methods rung including Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Treble Bob, Cambridge and London Surprise.—The report was adopted with applause.

The Rev. R. H. Hart Davis was unanimously re-elected chairman, and Mr. Dentry hon. secretary and treasurer. The committee, consisting of the foremen of the towers, were re-elected. Mr. W. Houlton being chosen in the place of the late Mr. T. Houlton at St. Paul's. Messrs. Moth, Wright, Rance and Brooks were elected representatives to the Guild General Committee, and Messrs. Brooks, Moth, White, Rance and B. Darvill to combined practice committee.

The usual toasts were then given, including the Preacher (the Rev. R. P. Newhouse), the Rev. H. M. Walter, and the organist (Mr. A. H. Custy).

The Rev. P. H. Ditchfield, in proposing 'The Guild,' spoke of the influence of a great Guild like theirs upon its members. All were grateful to the ringers for the work they did.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Master of the Guild, in replying, said the Guild was a very big thing, of which they were but a small part. Oxford had now started a branch, and other branches were possible. It was said there were still towers where the bells were not ringing, so there was yet a great work for the Guild to do.

Mr. R. T. Hibbert, who also replied, said the Guild was in a flourishing condition.

The Rev. R. H. Hart Davis (hon. treasurer of the Guild) gave an account of the Guild finances, the balance being £61 ls. 7d. Eighty-four peals had been rung, against 44 last year. He also referred with feeling to the recent decease of Mrs. Tyndale Heilas, an old personal friend, always associated with these gatherings.

The Rev. E. H. Arkwright thanked the ladies who had helped with the tea.

The local towers were placed at the disposal of the members for ringing during the afternoon, and many touches were brought round.

A MEETING AT BRAY.

As is their usual custom, the Vicar and ringers of Bray kindly arranged for a half-day meeting at the Parish Church on Saturday week, when some 30 members of the Berks and Bucks Branch maintained their interest in the Oxford Diocesan Guild, representing ten towers, with visitors from Goring (Mr. and Mrs. Carter) and St. Giles', Reading (Mr. and Mrs. Simmonds).

The branch secretary (Mr. A. J. Harman) came direct from urgent duties at Lymehouse, and during the evening arranged for the branch committee to meet at Boyne Hill, on Saturday, Feb. 24th; the annual general to be at Beaconsfield on Easter Monday, subject to local approval.

Mr. J. N. Beale (local foreman) supported a suggestion that the old practice of holding monthly combined meetings be resumed. It was mentioned that the Diocesan Conference for Oxford was held at Reading last year, thus breaking, for the first time, its annual gathering in the city. This was thought to be a good omen for the Berks and Bucks ringers, who reside so far from the centre now adopted for the annual festival of the Guild.—The Rev. W. S. Riddlesdell presided at the tea, and after thanks to the organisers had been proposed and applauded, the family party adjourned to the church at 6.30, and there joined in prayers with the Vicar, who took over the organist's duty for the two hymns that were sung. Further ringing afterwards took place. Fine weather and a moon assisted the homeward journey, adding to the enjoyment of the visit. It should be noted that one gentleman created a record by acting in the following capacities: President, chairman, Vicar, chaplain, organist and bell ringer.

MULTI-METHOD PEALS.

The recent achievement by the band at Norbury, Cheshire, of a peal of Minor in thirty methods within the compass of seven true extents, has served to stimulate interest in multi-method peals, and we hope it may be the means of many more bands taking up the practice of spliced method ringing. It is more than ten years ago since this form of Minor extents was introduced, although, probably owing to the innate conservatism of ringers, very few bands have followed up the idea. Certainly no company has exploited the scheme as much as the Norbury men, whose success merits the warmest congratulation of the Exercise. It has hitherto been adjudged a hall mark of competency in Minor ringing to ring a peal in seven methods, and many ringers who have done this imagine they have reached nearly, if not quite, the top of the tree. But the Norbury peal proves that there is vast room for an advance, and we doubt, even, whether any peal in any one method on any number of tower bells can be said to surpass it.

It means that on an average no more than 168 changes are rung in each method, but the number of shunts from one method to another is far more than thirty, for a return may be made to a method two or three times in the course of a 720. One needs sharp wits and a more than passing acquaintance with the methods themselves for gymnastics of this kind, and it must not only invest Minor ringing, as Mr. Fernley pointed out last week, with considerable additional interest, but make it infinitely more difficult as well as entertaining. For instance, consider this as a four method extent; one lead of Wragby; three leads of Grove; two leads of Neasden; five leads of College Bob; three leads of Wragby; two leads of Grove; five leads of Neasden; three leads of College Bob; two leads of Wragby and four leads of Grove. There you have ten changes of method, and when it is remembered that seven such extents were rung and that each extent was a combination of different methods, it will be realised that the Norbury ringers' performance was of extraordinary merit.

We do not, however, look upon even this as the final word in this kind of peal, but we should like to see it the beginning of a much wider practice of spliced-method peals. In the same way we do not look upon the recent achievement of the Cambridge University Guild in ringing a peal in three Major methods as in any sense a "freak" performance, but probably only the forerunner of many varieties of multi-method peals on eight bells. There are, we believe, greater difficulties at the moment in providing true peals of Major on the multi-method plan than there are in Minor; but this obstacle, we imagine, will largely disappear when the Major methods have been explored and published in the same exhaustive manner as the Minor. At present the choice of Major methods is extremely limited, whereas the possibilities are vast, and we believe the time will come when we shall see peals of Major rung in almost, if not quite, as many methods as is now possible in peals of Minor.

THE SUFFOLK CONTROVERSY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It is a relief to find that Mr. Burton at last sees the danger of the yawning gulf lying before him and Mr. Coleman. But he must not say that it is I who accuse the latter of forgery. It would not at all suit my argument to make out these my very good friends to be criminals! What I have shown is that they have made a blunder, because being in Norfolk, they do not understand the position in Suffolk. But it now appears that they also do not understand the difference between a signature and an endorsement. You sign what is your own: you endorse what is another's—in order to show that, even if you do not agree with it, you will support it.

Now Mr. Burton, in your issue of Feb. 2nd, and Mr. Coleman in that of Nov. 17th, say that I both endorsed and signed a certain document. In your issue of Nov. 24th, I pointed out that it is impossible and contradictory for both these words to apply to a name written only once. They must decide which of these two opposite lines they are going to take. Mr. Burton says this document is a letter. But in your issue of Nov. 17th it is entitled 'Copy of Memorandum'—another contradiction. In the middle of it, is a starred note by Mr. Fawcett, which proves that Mr. Burton has blundered again in saying that the whole of it is his. Mr. Fawcett is evidently criticising Mr. Coleman's memorandum, which he has copied out verbatim. So that our statement that the document was composed by Mr. Coleman himself, is evidently borne out by the wording of it. It is above all clear that the document is not mine, which is all that I need to prove. How, then, has it got the word '(Signed)' inserted before my name? Most certainly this was not there when I wrote my name on it.

Another blunder of Mr. Burton's is when he says 'Mr. Drake has once had the temerity to ask how his signature got there.' My actual words (Nov. 24th) were: 'What right has Mr. Coleman to let my name appear unreservedly, when I attached lengthy reservations to it?' To this serious question I have received no reply.

Mr. Burton may say that he was referring to my words in the next paragraph: 'Why, then, is my signature put at the foot, when I never attached my name to it?' But this would be a double blunder. First he has introduced the words 'got there,' entirely altering the meaning; also if he looks at my letter he will see that the word 'it,' grammatically refers (not to the memorandum at all) but to Mr. Fawcett's starred note. I was asking why is my 'signature' attached to Mr. Fawcett's starred note. Am I not abundantly justified in calling the document 'finkered'?

These seem enough blunders in one short letter (all of them easily verified by anyone who compares the three issues of the 'Ringing World'); but there is still the most fatal blunder of all. When Mr. Fawcett and I had gone to the trouble of endorsing Mr. Coleman's proposals, why, oh why, did Mr. Coleman (with Mr. Burton) use this loyal support of himself to illegally turn us out of the committee?

NORWICH, ST. EDMUNDSBURY & IPSWICH ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Branch was held at Saxmundham on Saturday, when there was a fair attendance. At the business meeting Mr. C. E. Fisher occupied the chair.

A discussion took place as to the best way to hold the annual general meeting for election of officers for the branch in place of some who had left the county. Eventually it was decided that the annual general meeting be held at Ipswich on Easter Monday, Mr. G. Wilson (Leiston) consenting to act as secretary pro tem., and make arrangements for the meeting. Once again the members were disappointed, as they were refused the use of Kelsale bells, and ringing was confined to Saxmundham six, where good touches were rung in methods from Plain Bob (8' London Surprise Minor).

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD. PRESTEIGN AND LEOMINSTER DISTRICT.

The annual meeting was held at Leominster on Feb. 3rd. Ringing commenced at 3.30, and a short service was held, the Vicar (the Rev. R. Gillenders) officiating, twenty members being present, including four from the Ludlow district. An excellent tea awaited the company at the Etnan Street Cafe.—The business meeting followed, the Vicar presiding.

The accounts for the year were passed as satisfactory, showing a balance in hand of £8.

The officials were all re-elected for the year. Three members from Staunton-on-Arrow, one hon. member and six probationers from Stoke Prior, and seven probationers from Old Radnor, were elected, there being now only one eight-bell and one six-bell tower in the district that are not members of the Guild.

It was decided to accept the invitation from the Vicar of Kimbolton for the next quarterly meeting.

A vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, for his address, and for presiding at the meeting.—The Vicar, in reply, said it gave him great pleasure to welcome the members to Leominster for the annual meeting.

BARROW VETERAN'S DEATH.

THE DAYS OF 'BETSY BAKER.'

At the age of 76 years, Mr. Tom Gibbons, of Barrow-in-Furness, has passed away. He was born at Market Rasen, Lincolnshire, and there, at an early age, he learned to ring. At first there was only round ringing, and call changes designated by such names as 'Betsy Baker' and 'Candlestick Maker,' but about 45 years ago a Norfolk ringer came to the church as verger and caretaker, and introduced change ringing. The band made excellent progress, and soon could ring several minor methods, a date touch being rung in three methods in 1878. Mr. Gibbons rang in a number of Lincolnshire towers, and also became a member of the College Youths. He went to reside at Barrow about 25 years ago, and joined the St. James' Society, of which for some time he acted as secretary.

Only recently Mr. Gibbons wrote an entertaining pamphlet upon his ringing experiences, and it is full of amusing reminiscences. The widow, Mrs. Gibbons, has a number of copies remaining, and they can be obtained on application to her at 87, Ferry Road, Barrow-in-Furness. The price is sixpence, and ringers will be performing an act of kindness, as well as acquiring an entertaining little booklet, by purchasing a copy.

ROMNEY MARSH GUILD.

A SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

The 22nd annual meeting of the above Guild was held at Mersham on Saturday, January 27th, about 50 members attending from Ashford, Appledore, Aldington, Brabourne, Canterbury, Elham, Fritten-den, Great Chart, Kingsnorth, Rye, Rolvenden, Stone, Tenterden, Woodchurch, Willesborough, Wingham, and representatives from the local band. Touches in the 'very ordinary nowadays' methods were rung till 4.30, when a service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. G. Brocklehurst), Mr. W. E. Pitman, Mus.Bac., presiding at the organ.—The Rector gave a very helpful and instructive address, which was greatly appreciated by the members present. Tea was served at the Farriers' Arms, the Rector presiding. This was followed by the business meeting.—The Secretary's report showed the Guild to be in a flourishing state, both numerically and financially, and that the twelve monthly meetings had been well attended.—The Rector was duly elected president of the Guild for the year. Mr. H. Balcomb was re-elected secretary, and Mr. W. C. Bverett, Master of the Guild. Both were accorded a hearty vote of thanks for their past services, and both returned thanks for their re-election.

One honorary member and six ringing members were duly elected and the next meeting proposed to be held at Appledore on Saturday, Feb. 17th.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Rector for his permission to hold the meeting, for the service and address, and for presiding at the tea and meeting.—This was carried with acclamation, and the Rector replied.—The Master then occupied the chair, and a very pleasant social evening was spent with songs, recitations, and change ringing, and tunes on the handbells. Chief Engineer Finn's wireless was out of order, or arrangements for broadcasting would have been made.

FUNERAL OF MR. G. WOODISS.

The ringers who attended the funeral of Mr. George Woodiss, at Twickenham on Jan. 30th, were Mr. T. Beadle, Mr. F. Goddard and Mr. E. V. Beadle.

The deceased, who was a signalman on the L. and S.W. Railway, was actively interested in various Twickenham organisations, representatives of which were present at the last sad rites. About 30 of his railway colleagues preceded the cortege from the house to the cemetery, and signalmen acted as bearers. St. Peter's bell ringers, Hershman, sent a wreath.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

In connection with the disastrous fire which destroyed Eserick Church, near York, it is interesting to note that two peals of Doubles only were rung on the five bells in the tower, viz., on Good Friday, Mar. 29th, and July 20th, 1918. Both were conducted by Ernest Morris, of Leicester, whilst stationed at York as Staff-Sergt. in the R.A.S.C. Mr. Samuel Wood, of Ashton-under-Lyne, writes that the peal No. 2508 in the Yorkshire Association Report, 1914 and 1915, is false, if rung as published with the Singles at the second call; they should be used at the first call in the 13th and 14th courses.

The weight of Rishton tenor is 12 cwt. 1 qr. 22 lb., and not 21 cwt. 1 qr. 22 lb., as published last week. It was not Mr. L. J. Williams' first peal of Superlative, he having taken part in one on the Monday previous.

Mr. Robert Holloway, of St. Mary's (Acton) tower, has been elected Master of the South and West District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild.

Ringers who intend to be present at the Henry Johnson Dinner on February 24th should make early application for tickets to the Deputy Ringing Master of St. Martin's Guild, Mr. A. Walker, 81, Baker Street, Sparkhill, Birmingham.

On Wednesday, Feb. 17th, 1836, Christ Church, Spitalfields, was destroyed by fire, and with it the peal of twelve bells in the steeple. The tenor of that ring was reputed to be 44 cwt. The present tower contains only a peal of eight.

Forty years ago to-morrow a peal of 6,000 of Minor in 25 methods was rung by the Tong (Yorks) company, and the other day some of the same band took part in a peal of Minor to celebrate the conductor's birthday. Although they are 40 years older they seemed just as keen as ever.

On Feb. 18th, 1777, the College Youths rang 10,000 Oxford Treble Bob Royal at Shoreditch in 7 hrs. 28 mins. This curious composition, the great length of time, and the masterly manner in which it was rung, may justly entitle it the most excellent performance ever achieved from the first invention of the ingenious art of ringing to the present time,' says the board recording the peal.

The first peal of New Cambridge Surprise Major was rung at Huddersfield on Feb. 18th, 1822.

On Feb. 19th, 1833, a peal of 6,120 Treble Bob Royal was rung at Sheffield. This was the first peal of George Wilson, who was born on January 11th, 1809, and whose last peal was Treble Twelve at the same church on Dec. 26th, 1876.

The first peal of Bristol Surprise was rung on Feb. 22nd, 1901, at St. Peter's, Brighton.

Henry Haley was born at Bethnal Green on Feb. 19th, 1819.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD. READING BRANCH.

On Saturday, Feb. 3rd, the Reading Branch held a very successful annual meeting at Reading. The following towers were represented: St. Lawrence's, St. Mary's and St. Giles', Reading; Caversham, Tilehurst, Henley, Purley, Mortimer and Checkendon.

Touches of Grandsire and Stedman, etc., were rung at St. Lawrence's, St. Mary's and St. Giles' during the afternoon, and a short service was held at St. Lawrence's Church, at which the Rev. O. W. O. Jenkyn (the Master) officiated, an address being given by the Rev. C. H. Coles.

An excellent 'knife and fork' tea was served at the Central Cafe, and at the business meeting which followed Mr. W. Pole-Routh presided, and 85 members were present, this being a record number.

The balance sheet, showing a balance of more than £10 in hand (the largest ever known in the district), was passed, and the officers re-elected as follows: Chairman, Mr. W. Pole-Routh; vice-chairman, Mr. A. W. Pike; secretary, Mr. F. W. Hopgood; auditors, Messrs. Wiggins and Foster; committee of the general Guild, J. Swain, H. Goodger, W. Appleby and H. Tucker.

A splendid musical programme was then enjoyed. Items on the pianoforte and songs were warmly encored, but Mr. Treleaven, the ventriloquist, 'brought the house down' Miss H. Tucker kindly accompanied on the piano. It was unanimously agreed that a most enjoyable evening had been spent.

VETERAN YORKSHIRE RINGER'S DEATH.

Many ringers will hear with regret that the Armley band has sustained another loss by the death of Mr. Pollard Whiteley in his 71st year. He passed away on Sunday, Feb. 4th. He was for many years a member of the Halifax Parish Church company, and for the last six years has been a member at Armley. He was also secretary to the band until recently.

A service took place at Christ Church on Wednesday, Feb. 7th, conducted by the Rev. T. Goodchild, and was attended by the deceased's ringing friends and the churchwardens. The coffin was afterwards taken by motor to Halifax to be interred the following day. A short touch of Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung with the bells half-muffled after service by the Armley ringers as a last token of respect.

IRISH ASSOCIATION'S PRESIDENT DEAD.

We deeply regret to announce that Mr. R. R. Cherry, K.C., president of the Irish Association of Change Ringers, who was Lord Chief Justice of Ireland from 1914 to 1916, died in Dublin on Saturday.

A native of Waterford, he was a son of Mr. R. W. Cherry, solicitor. He graduated at T.C.D., was called to the Irish Bar, 1881, took silk 1896; was Attorney-General 1905-9, and was elevated to the Bench as Lord Justice of Appeal in 1909, in succession to the late Lord Justice FitzGibbon. In 1914 he became Lord Chief Justice. On his appointment as Attorney-General he was presented with the freedom of his native city, and in 1906 was created a P.C.

The late Lord Chief Justice had a very distinguished and honourable career. He was a double Gold Medallist in Mental Science and History and Political Science and First Scholar in International Law, Middle Temple, London. He was examiner in Political Economy for the Indian Civil Service, 1885-89; and Professor of Constitutional and Criminal Law in the University of Dublin, 1889-94.

It was in the Irish Land Courts that the late Chief Justice was best known. He published (with his colleague and friend, Judge Wakely) the 'Irish Land Act and Land Purchase Act,' which promptly became a standard work on land legislation. On going to the Bar he went to the Leinster Circuit, and he was soon amongst the Circuit leaders, figuring in all important cases. His practice in Dublin was chiefly in the Land Courts, but he was frequently seen in the Chancery and Common Law Divisions.

After unsuccessfully contesting the Kirkdale Division of Liverpool in the Liberal interest, Mr. Cherry was returned for the Exchange Division of the same city in 1905, and was soon after appointed Attorney-General for Ireland. He was elevated to the Bench as Lord Justice of Appeal in 1909. While Attorney-General he was active in repressing cattle driving.

Since 1916 he was a confirmed invalid, and was unable to continue active work, much to the regret of his colleagues on the Bench and at the Bar.

Mr. Cherry was devoted to bell ringing, and when in Dublin was to be found in his place in St. Patrick's Cathedral ringing for Sunday service. He took an active interest in the affairs of the Irish Association and rang several peals. Only a few weeks ago his son, who has also taken up ringing, scored his first peal.

JAMES MOTTS: AN APPRECIATION.

By CHARLES E. BORRETT.

May I be allowed to add a few lines as a supplement to the memoir in your last issue, and also to that part of your very appreciative leader referring to the passing of James Motts?

You, Mr. Editor, describe him as 'one of the outstanding figures of our craft.' I think he was THE outstanding figure, for to my mind there has been no ringer like him in any age since change ringing began.

Consider conditions. In Ipswich, until 1899, save rings of six and five, there was only the twelve at St. Mary-le-Tower Church. In 1899 St. Margaret's were increased to eight, and so the numbers remain to-day. James Motts' ringing career in the town of his adoption occupied 39 years—from 1882 to 1921—and only one twelve and one eight at home, and not a great many other eights in a 10-mile radius. Suffolk is largely agricultural, and railways in such counties are not particularly helpful, for late trains are unknown. I wonder how many miles Jimmy pushed his old 52-inch ordinary, and afterwards a safety bicycle, in the pursuit of his hobby? Even the day they scored the 16,608 at Debenham he rode the fourteen miles from Ipswich on his 52-inch!

Norwich was the nearest 12—until the advent of Yarmouth, Chelmsford and Saffron Walden—and any of them meant a long day's outing if a peal was attempted. Then, too, Ipswich is a comparatively small provincial town, and thus more difficult to create and maintain a crack company in, than in great centres of population where there is more inducement for ringers to converge. There were other prominent men in the Tower Society during all these years, but it is no disloyalty to the others to say there was only one real leader, and that was James Motts. To lead a fine progressive band for 39 years, and to have the respect of all! Is not that an outstanding achievement? And let there be no mistake—it is ten times harder successfully to lead a 12-bell band than an eight. I could write much more in support of my claim, but will pass on to the finest thing of all about Jimmy—his great modesty and absolute lack of all bluster or bounce. In spite of great achievements he was quite unspoiled, and would help any one who asked. I wonder if we shall ever again see the like of the two brothers? They were greatly attached, these two, in their plain homely way. Both were bachelors, and both equally quiet and unassertive—James by nature the leader, and William one of the safest of ringers and most lovable of men. James Motts was so great a conductor that his ability as a composer is likely to be overlooked, but he had compositions in all the standard methods, although he himself did not slavishly use them.

I do not know if he kept a peal book, but I have dissected his record for our association. In doing so I came across a curious error. Peal totals were published next members' names, for the first time in our 1890 report, and in that list James Motts is given 93 tower and 35 handbell peals. This should have been 83 and 25 respectively, and, of course, this mistake has been repeated every year since. The proper totals should, therefore, be 530 tower and 29 handbell peals. I am unable to estimate the number rung for other societies. There were a good many, I believe, for the Essex Association, and one in particular pointed out last week—the record London for the St. Martin's Guild.

Below are particulars of the 559 Norwich peals—no less than 93 of them on twelve bells and in seven methods!

James Motts then, I say, occupies the foremost place amongst our great ones who have gone. May those who follow try and copy his great example! My sympathy goes out to those of his comrades whom I always affectionately think of as 'the old brigade,' who helped in these great performances. Only three remain amongst our Ipswich members—Edgar Pemberton, Robert Brundle and William Garrett, and the first named is now unable to ring. I must apologise for the length of this appreciation, but my respect and admiration for a great ringer must be my excuse. Farewell, Jimmy!

BIRTHDAY GATHERING AT TONG.

LOCAL RINGERS' LONG SERVICE.

To celebrate the 71st birthday on Feb. 2nd of Mr. G. Bolland, of Tong, Yorks, the company of St. James' Church rang a peal of Minor (recorded elsewhere), and Mr. Bolland afterwards entertained a few of his friends to supper at the village inn.

The Vicar (the Rev. A. G. Seymour) joined the festive board, and, after an enjoyable repast, expressed his pleasure at being able to attend the gathering, illness having prevented him last year.

Mr. Seymour, in alluding to the traditions of the Tong company, added that he would be pleased to further any effort to carry them onwards, and trusted recruits would come forward for that purpose. He made an appeal to all ringers to attend the service, after summoning others to do so. He offered his good wishes to Mr. Bolland (his churchwarden), and trusted he would be spared for many years yet amongst them.

Mr. T. Maude supported the Vicar's good wishes, and Mr. Bolland's health was drunk with enthusiasm.—Replying in his usual characteristic and breezy manner, Mr. Bolland hinted that he would be well pleased to see the clergy everywhere take a personal interest in bells and belfry, as the latter in some places he had visited needed it.

A notable fact in connection with the present company who took part in the peal is their length of service, viz., Mr. G. Bolland, 54 years; Mr. W. Bolland, 50 years; Mr. S. Oddy, 45 years; Mr. C. Sallaway, 45 years; Mr. E. Oddy, 31 years; Mr. G. Lambert, 30 years, a total of 255 years. Mr. Wm. Bolland is now in his 75th year, and rang his previous peal at Branley (Leeds) on the occasion of the death of King Edward.

HAYES, KENT.—On Sunday, Feb. 4th, for evening service, 720 Oxford Treble Bob Minor; J. Grandfield 1, H. Reader 2, J. Hack 3, O. Gilbey (conductor) 4, J. Brown 5, F. Keech 6.

DEDICATION OF LAMBETH BELLS.WHITECHAPEL FOUNDRY'S 350 YEARS' CONNECTION WITH THE PEAL.

At a most impressive service on Friday week, the Bishop of South-west dedicated the restored ring of bells at the Church of St. Mary, Lambeth. We have already given some particulars about the bells themselves, the restoration having consisted of recasting the treble, 2nd, 4th, 5th, 7th and tenor, which were cracked, and the rehanging of the whole octave with new gudgeons and bearings. The cracking of the bells was due to the old 'cast in' crown staples, which are a frequent cause of this kind of damage. The old framework was found to be in splendid condition, after 200 years' service. It is made of heavy section timbers, and of very good construction. The existing headstocks and wheels were of comparatively modern make, and were brought into use again.

The service was attended by a large congregation, and the Bishop, after dedicating the bells, which were heard for the first time during the ceremony, preached an exceedingly interesting sermon. He dealt with the great age of the bells in the tower, viz. over 400 years, and mentioned important historical occasions on which they must have been rung. He also dealt with the effect of church bells on history, architecture and poetry, instancing, in history, the threat by the people of Florence to the King of France to ring their bells if the terms of a certain treaty were forced, which would have the effect of turning every house in the place into a miniature fortress with disastrous effects to the enemy forces. On architecture, the effect of bells had made it necessary to build fine lofty and massive towers, and gave scope for the various styles in architecture. In poetry, the Bishop mentioned several famous passages by renowned poets dealing with bells.

After the sermon, and during the singing of appropriate hymns, a parish procession took place, the Bishop and clergy, church officials, the architect (Mr. Forsyth), the founders (represented by Mr. A. A. Hughes, with whom was Mr. Alan Macdonald), the builder (Mr. Samson) being followed by the scouts, guides, school children and teachers, members of parochial organisations, the ringers, sidesmen, and Church Council. The procession passed down the nave, up the north aisle, past the altar, through the side chapel and south aisle, up the nave and through the sanctuary. The service concluded with the Te Deum and the Blessing, pronounced by the Bishop.

There was little time left for ringing afterwards, but all who tried the bells, which now constitute a very fine peal, were delighted with their 'go,' and Messrs. Mears and Stainbank are to be congratulated upon the excellence of their work. Their connection with Lambeth bells, as has already been mentioned, goes back 350 years.

BOLSOVER RINGER'S DEATH.RESULT OF A COLLIERY ACCIDENT.

In the death of Mr. Frank Wagstaff, Bolsover, loses one of its best and most regular Sunday Service ringers. The deceased met with an accident on Saturday, January 27th, at the Bolsover Colliery. He was admitted into the Chesterfield Hospital, and died on January 31st, after an operation. Mr. Wagstaff commenced to pull a bell 31 years ago, and has been one of the most regular service ringers during that time. He was not a great peal ringer, having rung about a dozen peals of Minor and Major, but he could always be relied upon for Sunday. He was one of the mainstays of the band in getting the peal of six increased to eight 20 years ago, when the scheme was opposed by church officials and many others. A native of Bolsover, and greatly respected by all, he was carried to his last resting-place by six of the local ringers. He leaves a widow and adopted daughter to mourn for him. The bells were rung half-muffled to a peal of 5,403 Kent Treble Bob.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the South-Eastern division was held at Boreham on Saturday, January 27th. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. E. Hall). A splendid tea was provided in the Parish Hall by Lady Curtis Bennett, and other ladies.

At the business meeting, a vote of thanks was passed to them for providing such an excellent tea.—In replying, Lady Curtis Bennett said they would be pleased to do it again the next time the ringers visited Boreham.

Miss M. C. Hulton was elected an honorary life member, and Mr. C. C. Pilkington and Mr. H. H. Wheaton were elected honorary members.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Burnham-on-Crouch with a view to getting this tower into the association.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and the organist for helping the service.

A vote of condolence was passed with Miss Hulton on the death of the Rev. Canon Hulton, who was an honorary member of the association. Touches and tunes were afterwards rung on the handbells, and other members returned to the tower for further ringing.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.PROPOSED BELFRY REPAIR FUND.

The annual meeting of the Bristol Branch of the above association was held at St. Thomas's, City, on Saturday, January 17th. The bells of St. Philip's and St. Thomas's were open for ringing in the afternoon. Service, which was choral, was held at St. Thomas's Church. The Rev. W. G. Bower (Vicar) and the Rev. W. Francis officiating, the Rev. W. G. Bower giving a very interesting and helpful address. Tea was arranged in the Church Room, and over 60 ringers and friends sat down.

After tea, Mr. H. T. Howell (Master) proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and friends of St. Thomas's for the very hearty welcome, and said he was sorry to hear that the Vicar was leaving St. Thomas's to take up duties in Australia.

The Vicar, in replying, said it had been a very great pleasure to welcome the ringers to St. Thomas's, and was the means of carrying away with him many happy memories. He was also taking with him a form of the ringers' service, and hoped the time would come when he would have some bells at his church at Warnambool, Australia.—As a farewell the party joined hands, sang 'Auld Lang Syne,' and wished the Vicar and Mrs. Bower 'bon voyage.'

The Chairman, in giving a hearty welcome to visiting members from Wells, Newport, Midsomer Norton and Weymouth, referred to the Belfry Repair Fund, and spoke of the poverty of some parishes where there was not sufficient money to maintain the belfry. It was suggested that 1s. per annum be paid by every member which would bring in £17 each half-year if taken up by all the members of the Gloucestershire and Bristol Association. There were many rings of six in the area that wanted rehanging. Some were unringable. If incumbents knew that the ringers were willing and anxious to help they would be stimulated to do their part.

Mr. W. A. Cave observed that they could not take action, but they could recommend the association to adopt the Central Council's recommendation that a fund be started for repairs to bells and towers. He moved that.—The Rev. E. J. Phillips seconded the resolution, which was adopted.

Mr. P. C. Williams, hon. secretary, gave a brief report of the last year. There had been fourteen meetings, which had been well attended. There had been admitted 10 associate members, 22 performing members, two life members, and two out-diocean. The balance sheet showed a credit balance of £11 15s. 6d.

The report and accounts were adopted. The Chairman mentioned that he was elected to his present office in 1912, and most wonderful good fellowship had existed among them during that period. He praised the abilities and energy of the secretary, and suggested that the ringers attend one service a Sunday. Having put in long service—his absences from meetings he could count on the fingers of one hand—he asked to be relieved of his post.

After a discussion the Rev. E. J. Phillips was chosen as his successor.—The new Chairman, thanking the company for the honour, said he took great interest in ringing and in his own bells, and invited members to join in the inauguration of the ring of six which was soon to be made at his church (applause).

The meeting re-elected Mr. P. C. Williams hon. secretary; Mr. J. Gould was chosen representative on the Management Committee, and several members were elected. The dates and places of quarterly meetings were fixed as follows: St. Matthew's, Feb. 24th; Olveston, May 12th; Coalpit Heath, Aug. 11th, and Clifton, Nov. 10th.—Votes of thanks to the ladies who provided the tea closed the proceedings.

DEATH OF MR. JOSIAH PANTHER.LOSS TO WATH-ON-DEARNE BAND.

We deeply regret to record the death of Mr. Josiah Panther, of Wath-on-Dearne, Yorkshire. The deceased was a very old member of the Yorkshire Association, and a regular ringer of the above band for 50 years. He was also a chorister for 42 years. Although in his 76th year he was a very active ringer, and quite recently rang the 3rd at the Ecclesfield contest, in which his band obtained the third prize. He had also a goodly number of peals to his credit.

The funeral took place at the Wath-on-Dearne Cemetery on Thursday, January 25th, and was attended by ringers from the district. A plain course of Oxford Treble Bob Minor was rung at the graveside by A. Nash (conductor) 1-2, J. Chamberlin 3-4, A. Gill 5-6. Immediately after the funeral a muffled 720 Royston Delight was rung on the church bells, in 27 mins.: E. Nichols 1, A. Gill 2, H. Chamberlin 3, A. Nash (conductor) 4, R. Ricketts 5, C. Walsh 6. In the evening, 720 Sandal Exercise: H. Chamberlin 1, A. Gill 2, J. Chamberlin 3, G. Lord 4, R. Ricketts 5, C. Walsh (conductor) 6.

THE HEAVIEST PEAL.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In your last issue it is stated that Exeter Cathedral boasts of the heaviest tenor and the heaviest ringing peal in the world. The weight of the whole peal, including the extra 6th (1½ cwt.) is 271 cwt. 3 qr. 7lb.; but the 12 at St. Paul's Cathedral, London, weighs 271 cwt. 3 qr. 1 lb.; and, as only 12 can be rung at Exeter at any one time, I should say that St. Paul's Cathedral contains the heaviest ringing peal in the world. At any rate it is a heavier peal of 12.—Yours faithfully,

CHAS. H. KIPPIN.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

A very well attended and successful gathering was held at Bromyard, on Saturday, January 20th, ringers being present from Bredenbury, Bromyard, Whitbourne, Pencombe, Kimbolton, Berrington and Eye. The quarterly service was conducted by the Vicar, who afterwards most hospitably entertained the company to tea.

At the annual meeting, Mr. Alfred Tomkins, secretary and District Ringing Master, presented the accounts, which showed a balance of £4 13s. 9d. His report also showed that the number of ringing members of the district during 1922 was 25; but before the meeting closed the number was increased by the election of nine more (seven from Bromyard and two from Pencombe).

Mr. A. Tomkins was reappointed District Ringing Master and secretary for the ensuing year, and the following were elected members of the committee: Mr. Miles (Bromyard), Mr. W. Watkins (Bredenbury), Mr. C. Jones (Pencombe), and Mr. Caswell (Whitbourne).

The number of ringing members is now 34, but the secretary pointed out that there was much room for improvement in the number of hon. members of the Guild. The Guild has done much to develop the science of bell ringing, and to raise the tone of service and fellowship in the ringing chambers of the church towers. The ministry of the bell ringers was a benefit to the whole community, and though it was a labour that ringers delighted in it called for a definite amount of sacrifice, and needed the guidance of ringing masters and instructors. It was hoped that the appeal of the secretary would produce good results, and that at the end of the year there may be a larger number of supporters who are willing to show their value and appreciation of bell ringing by becoming hon. members of the Diocesan Guild.

The meeting appointed Mr. C. Jones, Mr. Ranford, Mr. G. Soley and Mr. R. Bethell as official instructors to assist the District Ringing Master in teaching beginners.

Unfortunately Mr. C. Edwards, Ringing Master of the Diocese, was prevented from attending, and all regretted the absence, through illness, of Mr. Caswell.—Cordial thanks were offered to the Vicar for his hospitality and interest in the Guild, and the meeting then adjourned to the church tower, where the bells were kept going in Plain Bob, Oxford Bob Minor and Grandsire Doubles. This proved one of the best meetings held in the district.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.
EASTERN BRANCH MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Eastern Branch was held at Spilsby on Saturday, January 27th. As Spilsby lies almost at the northern extremity of the district, there was not a large number of ringers present, but nevertheless a very successful meeting was held, ringers attending from Boston, Skirbeck, Freston, Butterwick, Benington, Old Leake, Wrangle, Surfleet, Stickney, and the local band. Visitors were also present from Pinchbeck.

Ringings took place on the nice toned peal of six, and touches of Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob were successfully brought round. A short service was conducted by the Rev. C. P. Disbrowe, after which tea was partaken of at the George Hotel. Following this the business meeting was held, Mr. Rupert Richardson, in the absence of the president, occupying the chair. The Rev. C. V. Camplin-Cogan was unanimously re-elected president, and the vice-presidents were re-elected en bloc.

Mr. S. F. Staffurth resigned his position as secretary. He will shortly be taking up his residence in Ramsey, Hunts. Mr. J. Phillips, of Butterwick, was unanimously elected to the office of hon. secretary, and Mr. Arthur H. Palmer was unanimously re-elected Ringing Master of the branch.

Swineshead was chosen for the quarterly meeting, held in April.—A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and to Mr. Rupert Richardson for presiding concluded the business.

Touches of Grandsire Triples and Bob Major were rung on the handbells. During the evening touches of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Double Court and Cambridge Surprise were successfully brought round on the church bells.

NORTHERN BRANCH PROPOSED REDUCTION OF SUBSCRIPTION.

The Grimsby district annual meeting of the above was held at Grimsby on January 27th. The bells of St. Andrew's and the Parish Church were rung in various methods, young ringers taking part. A service was held in the Parish Church, conducted by the Vicar (Canon A. A. Markham), who gave a suitable address. Mr. Harold Rusby presided at the organ. Tea at the Church House was enjoyed, and was followed by the business meeting, the Vicar taking the chair owing to the vice-president (the Rev. H. T. Parry) being called away. Places for meetings for the year were voted for, and a welcome was extended to the new Vicar of Ulceby (the Rev. Mr. Newton), who was elected, together with several new members.—Mr. Hoodless, of Barton, proposed a reduction in the fee for subscriptions on account of reduced wages, etc., and this resolution is to be forwarded to the committee.—Votes of thanks and ringing in the evening concluded a pleasant meeting.

CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE MAJOR.
A NEW PEAL OF 5,024 BY J. W. PARKER.

Conductors of peals of Cambridge Surprise will study with interest the appended peal of 5,024, which has been composed by Mr. J. W. Parker, of Sunderland, and was rung for the first time on Jan. 25th, at Whitley Bay, Northumberland.

Hitherto Middleton's peal, with its five symmetrical parts, has been practically the only one available. Now Mr. Parker has given us another which, we imagine, will be welcomed by those to whom a change will commend itself.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.
GUILDFORD DISTRICT.

A district meeting was held at Farnham on Saturday last, and was attended by ringers from Aldershot, Alton, Binsted, Cranleigh, Dorking, Godalming, Guildford, Haslemere, Scale, etc. The Guild service was held in the church, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. J. M. C. Crum), who also gave an address. The organist presided at the organ, and the churchwardens were also present. Tea was provided at Ransom's Tea Rooms, presided over by the Rector.

A short business meeting followed.—The Ringing Master presented his report, and a hearty vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. A. C. Hazelden, and seconded by Mr. W. R. Melville, to the Rector and wardens for the use of the church and bells; also to the organist, and to the members of the local company for making the necessary arrangements.

After some touches on handbells, in which Mr. and Mrs. Hazelden, Mr. W. R. Melville, Mr. T. Upshaw and Mr. A. P. Duffield took part, the company returned to the tower, and the bells, as in the afternoon, were rung in various methods.

HEAVY GOING BELLS AT ALRESFORD.

A quarterly meeting of the Winchester district was held at Alresford on Saturday, Feb. 4th, when members attended from Bishopstoke, Bishop Sutton, North Stoneham, Farnham, Portsea, Winchester and Alresford. Tea was provided at Crook's Restaurant, the Rector presiding, supported by the Rev. W. E. Colchester, Mr. Geo. Williams (Master) and Mr. G. Pullinger (peal recorder). During the afternoon and evening the peal of eight were kept going to Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise Major. The heavy 'go' of the tenor made a course of Major enough at a time for those who rang this bell, although Mr. Pullinger's castor oil improved matters a little. The two back bells at least require new bearings.

YORKTOWN DISTRICT MEETING.

The quarterly meeting of the Yorktown district was held at Egham on Saturday, Feb. 3rd, 42 members being present from Chertsey, Bagshot, Binfield, Farnborough, Hershaw, Old Windsor, Staines, Walton-on-Thames, Yorktown, and the local band. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. C. Tranter), and an excellent tea was provided by the lady church workers in the Church Room.

At the business meeting the Vicar occupied the chair, supported by Mr. Hopkins and Mr. E. F. Stead, and ten new members were elected.

Mr. Nye proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and the kind way in which he had received the Guild; also to the ladies for their hospitality in arranging such an excellent tea.—This was seconded by Mr. Woodrow.—The Vicar thanked the members for coming, and said he was pleased to meet them.—The tower was again visited until 8.45 p.m. The methods during the afternoon and evening ranged from Grandsire to Kent Treble Bob Major.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Western district was held at Northchurch on Saturday, Feb. 3rd. The bells are a nice peal of six, which go round opposite to the customary way. Various touches were brought round during the afternoon, and a short service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. H. B. Pope). Tea, which was kindly provided by the Rector, was served in the Church Room, and was followed by the business meeting, at which the Rector, who presided, welcomed the association to Northchurch for the first time. He hoped they would come again, and said they would be made welcome whenever they desired to come.

The Rector was elected an honorary member, and Apsley was selected for the next meeting.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Rector, on the motion of Mr. W. Shephard, seconded by Mr. O. Bayes, for providing the tea, for the use of the bells, and for the welcome extended to the association; and also to the ladies for serving the tea.

The tower was again visited, and the bells kept going till 7.30, when they were lowered in peal. Some of the members then went on to Berkhamsted and rang for an hour.

A meeting of the Eastern District was held at Cheshunt on Jan. 20th, and 23 members attended from Edmonton, Ware, Nazeing and Little Munden, besides the members of the Cheshunt band. Some good ringing was done, and all spent a very pleasant time. Service was held in church, at which the Rev. C. R. Law, Vicar, who, by the way, is himself a ringer, gave a very helpful address from Exodus xii. 26. 'What mean ye by this service?'

MODERN BELL TUNING.

The advantages of tuning bells on the Simpson five-tone principle were bound, sooner or later, to be called into question from the ringers' standpoint, and Mr. Edwin Barnett's letters have expressed the views of quite a number of ringers after the gradually widening experience that is being gained. Whether or not these opinions can be said to outweigh the claims made for Simpson-tuned bells is not for us to say, and doubtless there will ever be two schools of thought upon the subject. It cannot be denied that to hear a Simpson-tuned peal in contrast with many an old ring is to be convinced of the vast superiority gained in the tones by the new method, for overtones and harmonics are rarely in evidence in the old-fashioned bells. If they came out true it was more by luck than anything else, although the founders of days gone by must be given credit for seeking, by form and mixture, to get as near as possible, within their limited mechanical means, to the perfect bell. That they occasionally succeeded is obvious by some of the very fine specimens still to be found up and down the country.

But there is something more in the arguments which Mr. Barnett has put forward than many advocates of the Simpson principle may be prepared to admit. For instance, the 'howl' of which he speaks is very noticeable in some towers, yet there are others in which it is by no means pronounced. Is this a matter, we wonder, of acoustics, rather than the fault of the bells themselves? If so, it might be possible by mechanical means to get rid of the dirgelike noises which seem to get into the heads of ringers when peal ringing in these particular towers. If the fault lay in the bells, and is to be found in some bells and not in others, it ought not to be beyond the wit of the founders and their tuners to overcome the drawback. We only make this suggestion, because we have never yet seen it stated what is the actual cause of the 'howl' which has been referred to. If the actual cause is not known founders might well investigate.

No one will attempt to deny that, from the important standpoint of the public, bells accurately tuned as modern bells are, whether strictly to Simpson principles, or with a flat seventh, are much more appreciated than old bells which obtained their harmonics more or less in haphazard fashion. That is a matter that must not be lost sight of. There is also another question which Mr. Barnett raises, namely, the life of a bell as a melodious instrument. Will Simpson-tuned bells, and, we presume, all other bells tuned on a lathe, lose their resonance sooner than the old bells? Will the metallurgists enlighten us?

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Barnsley and District Society was held on Saturday, January 13th. Ringing commenced early in the afternoon, members attending from Badsworth, Darfield, Crofton, Horbury, Sandal, Wath, Pontefract, Royston, and several of the local company. Service was held in the Memorial Chapel at St. Mary's, the Rev. W. B. Chapman giving an excellent address. Tea was partaken of at Fox's Cafe, and the annual business meeting was held in St. Mary's Parish Room.

The balance sheet was formally presented, and referred to the next meeting.

The officials were re-elected.—The Rev. H. E. Hone, Rector of St. Mary's, came in to the meeting and received the thanks of the members for his past and present services. He was also elected the first hon. president of the association.

Four new members were elected, and Crofton is to be the place for the next meeting.

BRISTOL UNITED GUILDS.

As already briefly announced, the Bristol United Guilds' third annual dinner will take place in Bristol on January 12th, 1924, and the officers for this banquet have been elected as follows: Rev. T. C. Fowler, chairman; Mr. F. G. Leaker, vice-chairman; Mr. E. Guise, hon. secretary; Mr. P. C. Williams, hon. treasurer; Miss Smith, Mr. W. A. Cave, Mr. Jeffries, Mr. H. T. Howell, Mr. L. Gowing, stewards.

The 1923 dinner was a great success, and to ensure the upkeep of standard socials are being arranged during the coming year. The first is already fixed for April 17th, 1923, at St. Thomas' Church Room. Every effort will be made to suit the requirements of all, and Mr. E. Guise is open to receive communications in this direction, and to place all useful suggestions before his committee.

A vote of thanks to the artists was passed very heartily.

Mr. J. Gould, the retiring chairman, fully justified his election, and has further demonstrated those quiet, unassuming but useful factors of a 'jolly good fellow.'

IPSWICH VETERANS.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The St. Mary-le-Tower Society, Ipswich, wish to thank you for finding space to print the appreciation of the late Mr. James Motts, by Mr. C. E. Borrett.

There are still, in addition to the names mentioned, two members of 'the Old Brigade' with us in Ipswich, although they are both on the 'retired' list, to wit, Edward Reeve and Samuel Tillet, in their 83rd and 80th year, respectively.

These are the only two ringers living in Ipswich who rang upon the old ten bells at St. Mary-le-Tower before they were augmented to twelve by the new treble and new tenor.

Mr. S. Tillet is the father of Frederick J. Tillet who rang the tenor in the 16,638 Oxford Treble Bob Major at Debenham.

G. E. SYMONDS, Hon. Sec.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the N. and E. District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held on Saturday, January 27th, at Christ Church, Southgate, when a company of about 40 members attended. Divine service was held at 5 p.m., conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. F. Peplow), who was assisted by the Rev. E. de G. Hampson (curate), the organist, and several members of the choir. The address was given by the Vicar. Tea was partaken of at the Cherry Tree Hotel, and was followed by the business meeting. The balance sheet, showing a credit balance of £2 6s. 3d. on the year's working, was passed.—Nine new members were admitted, and the whole of the officers re-elected.

The fund for a memorial to the late president, Mr. A. T. King, was mentioned, the Hon. Secretary stating that whilst over £25 had already been collected, further support was necessary, which he hoped would be forthcoming.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at St. George-in-the-East on March 10th.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar and curate, the organist and choir, and to the local ringers, was moved by Mr. W. H. Oram, and carried with acclamation. Some Stedman Cinques having been rung on handbells by Messrs. G. M. Kilby, J. Thomas, G. R. Pye, W. Pye, J. Armstrong and N. Sanders, a move was made to the belfry, where the fine-toned peal of ten were kept going to various methods, including Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Cambridge Surprise Reval.

RECAST BELLS AT LUSTLEIGH.A DEVON RESTORATION.

On Saturday last a ring of six bells at Lustleigh Church, Devon, was dedicated by the Dean of Exeter in the presence of a full congregation, including ringers from Halberton (Plymouth), Bovey Tracey, Kingskerswell, Highweek, etc.

In the middle of the service the Dean, with the clergy, proceeded to the west end, and dedicated the bells in the ringing room, which is on the ground floor, whereupon the local ringers rang rounds for a few minutes.

After an appropriate address by the Dean, and at the conclusion of the service, the first six score on the bells was rung by a mixed band from Halberton and Moretonhampstead, including the Rev. E. S. Powell (the general secretary of the Devon Guild) and Mr. C. F. Johnston (of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston).

Later the choir and all the visiting ringers were entertained by the people of Lustleigh to a tea in the Parish Hall.

The ring of six has been recast and tuned on the five-tone Simpson principle, and rehung with all new fittings, ball bearings, etc., in a new iron and steel frame, the whole of the work having been carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston.

The ringers present expressed themselves delighted with the 'go' of the bells, whilst the whole of the parish realised the great improvement in tone that had been effected in comparison with the old peal to which they had been accustomed.

At the conclusion of the tea, the Rector, in a happy speech, welcomed all those who were present, and Mr. Nicholls, of Bovey Tracey, and Mr. C. F. Johnston, of Croydon, both made speeches in happy vein.

Lustleigh is an adjacent parish to Moretonhampstead, where a new peal of eight has recently been installed from the same foundry, and at both churches it is hoped to introduce change ringing.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN JUDD.

We regret to announce the death, at the age of 75 years, of Mr. John Judd, of Kensington. For 14 years Mr. Judd was a ringer at St. Peter's, Bexhill-on-Sea, and many years previous to that at St. Mary Abbots, Kensington, where he was taught change ringing in 1895 by Mr. W. E. Garrard, and in which tower his name is on many peal boards. The family of the deceased desire to express their grateful thanks to the ringers at St. Peter's, Bexhill, for their muffled ringing and the beautiful wreath they sent.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

What was claimed as the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung exactly 140 years ago to-day. This was at St. Giles-in-the-Fields by a College Youths Company (there were two societies of College Youths at that time), and was 'deemed the greatest performance ever achieved in the Campanistean Art, as so intricate a method was never practised by any other sett of men whatever.'

A peal of 6,048 in the same method rung at Sheffield in 1787 (four years after the London peal) was also claimed as the first in the method in the country. This may have meant outside London, or perhaps the Sheffield men had not heard of the London peal.

'Perhaps there never was three such capital performances in ye art of ringing ever before rung on ye same day as was rung on Feb. 26th, 1777, for besides the 10,080 Caters at St. Margaret's, Leicester, and 10,080 Major at Shrewsbury, there was rung at Abingdon, in Berkshire, a peal of 5,040 Bob Royal on ten handbells by five persons, it being the first peal on handbells in ye kingdom, and is thought to exceed a course of Treble Bob Twelve in ring by ye College Youths in London.' (From a journal, March 1st, 1777.)

On Feb. 28th, 1881, 9,238 Stedman Cinques were rung at Birmingham, on Henry Johnson's 72nd birthday; the last day of February being also the birthday of Mr. Ted Horrex, who will be 85 next Wednesday, College Youths and ringers throughout the country will extend their good wishes to the London veteran upon this day.

Twenty years last Wednesday was rung the first (and only) peal of 'Silent Stedman Cinques' in hand. This took place on Feb. 21st, 1903, at Leicester, and of the band—J. O. Lancashire 1—2, G. Cleal 3—4, S. Cotton 5—6, W. Willson 7—8, J. Buttery 9—10, A. Millis 11—12, the first four men are like 'Charlie's Aunt'—still running.

It is interesting to note the commemoration of the 13,001 Grand-sire Cinques rung in this Gloucestershire tower three years ago, by a peal in which the same band rang the same bells. This was only possible, as the footnote indicates, by one of the band who had emigrated to Canada, being in this country on a holiday. We wonder if ever they will all meet again to achieve a similar performance!

On Feb. 28th, 1880, a very musical 'date touch' was rung at Liversedge, Yorks, in the shape of a 'World's Birthday Peal.' The band, consisting of Bradford members of the Ancient Society of College Youths, rang 5,884 Kent Treble Bob to represent the number of years that had elapsed since man's creation.

It was also rung in honour of the 80th birthday of William Sottan-stall, of Sowerby, Halifax, the composer of the peal, 'who for 60 years had taken a lively interest in any object to promote the art and science of change ringing both as a ringer and composer, as the book published by him testified.'

Long peals rung on March 1st include 13,440 Canterbury Pleasure Major rung at Warnham in 1889, and two peals of Grand-sire Caters at Painswick, viz., 8,064 in 1734, and 10,080 in 1735.

The bells at Haslemere, Surrey, have been taken down this week, prior to recasting at the Loughborough Foundry. Major J. H. B. Hesse has been responsible for raising funds for this work. He has been actively connected with at least a dozen such restorations.

Ringers will wish success to the Midland Counties Association band who to-morrow will attempt the 12,898 Cambridge Surprise Major at Stoney Stanton. Nothing like this length of Cambridge has yet been achieved.

RINGERS WEDDED.

A ringers' wedding of unusual interest took place at the Church of St. Thomas, Norbury, Cheshire, on Saturday, Feb. 17th, when Mr. J. P. Fidler was married to Miss R. E. Bennett. Much interest was evinced in the event, and ere the bells came round in the opening touch, a good congregation had assembled to witness the ceremony. The Rev. A. T. Beeston (hon. secretary of the Chester Guild) officiated, assisted by the Rev. A. J. Humphreys, Vicar of Norbury. During the service, the hymn, 'The voice that breathed o'er Eden' was sung, Mr. James Fernley, junr., presiding at the organ. After the service an attempt was made for a peal of spliced Minor, but unfortunately came to grief in the fourth 720. The following 720's were rung; 1st, Bogedone, Ely, Knutsford, Wilmslow, Rostherne; 2nd, Croyland, Abbeyville, Combermere, St. Werburgh, Vale Royal; 3rd, Grove Delight, Braintree, Neasden, Wragby, College Bob IV.; J. Fernley, junr., 1, W. W. Wolstencroft 2, W. Fernley 3, H. Langley 4, J. Fernley, senr. (conductor), 5, J. W. Hartley 6. Afterwards all adjourned to the residence of Mr. Fernley, where an enjoyable evening was spent.

THE RECENT PEAL AT HEADCORN.

Our correspondent who raised the question about the recent peal of Bob Major at Headcorn, Kent, writes that ringers in that district are still awaiting the reply of the conductor. Unless a reply is forthcoming, which will set at rest doubts as to the validity of the peal, he says, the association will be asked to judge whether or not they will be justified in recording the peal.

SIMPSON TUNING.

To the Editor.

Sir,—The Rev. Cecil H. Clarke's letter in your issue of Feb. 9th calls for some further comments from me. I am pleased to have found out that he is a ringer and doing excellent work in his district. I wish we had many more clergy of his stamp in our ranks. I have not heard the new peal at St. Nicholas', Brighton, so cannot pass an opinion on them; but I should be inclined to think if they are all he represents them to be, it is probably the result of an accident, or else the position of them in the tower having a tendency to hide their defects.

The fact that the bells are primarily for the glory of God, I have never overlooked, and there are few ringers to-day whose record for Sunday service ringing is better than my own during a period of forty-two years. But surely those ringers who ring for the glory of God have a right to ask that the music of the bells they ring shall be the best possible, and not be compelled to submit to anything which offends their ears, when in many instances it could so easily be otherwise if it were not for the passing craze of a few musical cranks who tell us that the harmonics of a bell are everything to be desired. Are they? There is not one ringer in a thousand who cares a 'snap of the fingers' for any of the notes above where the clapper strikes, and if a bell is cast the right thickness, that is the note which I contend gives the best result and does away with that distressing howl which you invariably get on Simpson-tuned bells.

The Rev. C. H. Clarke's experience on the latter type of bells is evidently very limited. He seems to think that because a ringer dares to have an opinion of his own, he is ignorant of the subject he is talking about, but my experience of life tells me it is often the very opposite of that. The true judge of the musical qualities of a bell is the experienced ringer with 'an ear.'

Common sense seems to say that the note produced by a thin bell must be irony, compared with a proportionately thicker cast bell, the latter type giving a good bold note, which the former lacks.

Most of our old founders cast their bells as nearly as possible true to note. If they had had to cut and hack them about to tune then we should never have had many of the beautiful old bells which we are so proud of to-day. The blow of the clapper has a much sweeter, resonating sound on a bell when the skin of the metal has not been broken, than when the metal has been skimmed out as with a Simpson-tuned bell.

It is a well-known fact that a perfect bell casting, which has never had its 'skin' broken, has a greater power of resonance and a longer resonating life than when it has been skirled with a tool, and when a casting is skirled from top to bottom as some of our big bells are to get the five tones correct, you have undermined the whole elasticity of the fabric, and it is only a question of pounding it long enough to knock all its breath away. The reason we are getting so many Simpson-tuned peals of bells is, not that they have been proved to be the best type of bell, but that the bell founders who advocate that particular type have found it so easy to talk over perhaps an unmusical incumbent and his equally unmusical churchwardens, who may be the village grocer and the village butcher; but if they had had experienced ringers to contend with the result in many instances would be different.

I wonder which of Brighton's two peals of ten will last longest? I am thinking those of St. Peter's, if left as they are, will be pouring out their melodious voice long after those of St. Nicholas have ceased to exist. I have now had my say on the matter, and am perfectly satisfied if I have drawn the attention of the Exercise to some of the imperfections of Simpson tuning.—Yours, etc.,

E. BARNETT, Senr.

A FULL TONE BELL PREFERRED.

Sir,—The Rev. Cecil H. Clarke, in your issue of Feb. 9th, quotes: 'So many men, so many opinions.' He then assumes the position of a Gamaliel, and mildly abuses two very estimable members of the Exercise for having opinions of their own and the courage to express them.

As regards the two points put forward, viz.: (1) 'That bells are primarily for the glory of God.' What churchman would dispute that? But who is to decide which are 'the very best bells'? Presumably Mr. Clarke. (2) 'Many bells are called Simpson-tuned, which have little or no right to the name.'—Why not?—if they 'howl' sufficiently. At this juncture it would be apropos to place before your readers, clergy and laity, musical and unmusical members of our bell ringing profession, an extract from a copy of 'The Sunday Times,' dated April 11th, 1920, as follows:—

'Your contributor leads one to believe that this new system of tuning was first used in this country by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston fourteen years ago. I, however, beg to point out that Messrs. J. W. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, were the first to make use of this system considerably over fourteen years ago at the suggestion of the late Canon Simpson, of Fittleworth, and Canon Simpson based his ideas on certain Continental bells produced in the latter part of the seventeenth century. Your contributor also leads one to think that, prior to this new system, all bells were tuned by hand chipping, but I believe that the first power-driven tuning machine was erected a little over eighty years ago by the Old Whitechapel Bell Foundry (Mears and Stainbank), which was established in 1570, and is still continuing business.'

'It would appear from your letter that all old peals are out of tune. Simpson-tuned peals are strongly in the minority, and, therefore, the vast majority of rings of bells are out of tune. There must be many of your readers sufficiently musical to know that such a statement is absurd.'

'I have devoted much time recently in making a comparison between the best of bells tuned on the old lines and those tuned on the Simpson five-toned principle, and I am bound to confess that the new system suffers by the comparison.'

'During my observations I have often asked myself, "Why do Simpson-tuned peals have a dirgelike, mournful howl with them, when being rung in peal, and the old tuned rings a bright, cheerful effect?" The only reason I can find for this effect, which is agreed to by the majority of ringers with whom I have come in contact, is that Simpson-tuned peals consist of a succession of octaves and fifths in harmonics, which, as every young student of music knows, is against the first laws of harmony, whereas the old tuned peals, with their strike notes and sevenths (instead of the octave), give the effect of an incomplete cadence, and so brighten the sound of the bells when rung in peal.'

'Perhaps some other reader can give a better reason for the "howling" tone of Simpson-tuned bells. As examples of beautiful toned rings of bells tuned on the old system, may I mention the famous twelves at Painswick, St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich; St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheapside, and Southwark Cathedral, the eight at Southgate, Middlesex (now ten), and the delightful ring at Privett, Hants.'

Some years ago I read a booklet by Thomas C. Lewis, the eminent organ builder, and an unquestioned authority on tone and tune. The pamphlet was entitled 'A protest against the modern development of unmusical tone, organs, church bells, pianofortes.'

The following is an extract:—

'Now, as a fact, there is nothing poorer in tone than a large bell having the tap or percussion note of a stated pitch, and the lower, or hum, note accompanying it an exact octave deeper. On the contrary, and in defiance seemingly of harmony, a fine bell with the percussion or tap tone, say, E, should have its lower, or hum, tone a major seventh lower, but flattened to the extent of about a quarter of a semitone.'

'To sum up, let us have peals of bells which give a musical and pleasing effect, and not peals of harmonics giving forth a doleful dirge, which gets more depressing on longer acquaintance. Mathematically-tuned bells may please, in theory, academical minds; the Chinese scale system is mathematically correct, but who wants to hear it, or what Western ear can be pleased by the sound of it?'

'Quot homines, tot sententia.' The whole question resolves itself into one of likes and dislikes. Ringers as a body prefer a full tone bell, i.e., the assertion of the actual note of the bell with the strike of the clapper, not an embroidery of harmonics which give a confused number of tones and obfuscate the actual notes of the bells. What is wanted is that sonorous, or clear, sound which one is accustomed to hear in those bells cast upon the lines of our old famous founders. Just imagine tuning an organ, pianoforte, or any other musical instrument upon the Simpson principle. For applause an orchestra would probably get anything from a boiled carrot to an egg of doubtful age.—Yours truly,

YE TESTE OF TIME AND USE.

Dear Editor.—On perusing, as is her wont, ye copy of ye only periodical worthy of her notice, yclept ye 'Ringing World,' ye heste of spouses did exclaim 'Of a truth there are two! Peppery, there exists one more, and I never dreamt it. And I trow he has not a battleaxe outfit or ye will fare badly at ye joust down Leicester way. Yeer wishbone and its five tones will e'en receive yeer shock of yeer lives should ye folk of ye Leicester flat be applied to ye harmonics of yeer five tones, especially ye five tones emitted by ye graceless varlet after a sojourn at ye good Castle of Leicester: ye keep of which is adorned with ye heads of ye lions who daro attempt ye louder roars and plenty of good old monkish xxxx?'

However, to our flats and sharps, Simpson tuning has not justified its existence. Goode Dame, yeer graceless spouse does e'en dare to brave ye wrath to come, ye axes, ye boiling in oil, ye immersion in molten metal, and point out to you that ye product of ye goode Master Perdue at Queen Camel has done, ye product of ye goode Master Miles Grey has done, ye very humble efforts of ye goode Master Gosleyn have done, ye goode Master Evans, of Chepswold, have done, and ye crude efforts of ye humble Master Abe Rudhall have done, what ye power and might of ye much lauded principle of Simpson has not yet done. But that ye person who did perform on ye worst of instruments could make ye article sound better were he to endeavour to make ye beste of hys bad bargain, and like ye steeple keeper of ye town in ye Yorkshire fastnesses, grease ye bells with Yorkshire relish for to give ye ringers an appetite for yeer exertions in ye making of ye beste of ' some flats and sharps.'—Yours,

AN OCTAVE COMPLETED.

ANOTHER RING OF EIGHT FOR NORTHAMPTON.

A noteworthy event in the history of the Parish Church, Desborough, occurred on Saturday, February 3rd, when two bells were dedicated in the presence of a large congregation. Two trebles were required to complete the octave, and the nucleus of a fund for providing these was supplied by the families and relatives of the late Mr. William and Ellen Burditt, and the families of Deacon, Kilborn and Tailby (descendants of Jonathan Deacon). In addition to the new bells, No. 1 bell has been recast. The work was carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, the well-known firm, of Croydon.

The dedicatory service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Cole-Hamilton). After the Collect, the Vicar proceeded—during the singing of a hymn—down the nave towards the tower, where he offered prayers. The local band then rang a few rounds on the new bells. An eloquent sermon was preached by the Vicar, who took as his text, 'Lift up your hearts.'

After the service a touch of Stedman Triples was rung by the following: M. H. Hobbs 1, W. Lawrence 2, R. Black 3, F. Kilborn (Oadby) 4, R. Baxter 5, E. M. Atkins 6, W. Perkins 7, F. Kilborn 8.

An adjournment was made to the Church Hall, where tea was partaken of. At the table the Rev. Cole-Hamilton made a short speech, touching appreciatively on the happy event that had been made possible by their united efforts.

After tea, ringers from Irthlingborough gave an admirable demonstration of handbell ringing. Further ringing in the tower, continued until eight o'clock, brought a memorable occasion to a close.

Ringers were present from Peterborough, Northampton, Kettering, Leicester, Rothwell, Surfleet, Broughton, Isham, Cransley, Geddington, Weckley, Tichmarsh, Irthlingborough and Draughton.

Mr. Cyril Johnston, of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, received the congratulations of all those present on the excellent splice which the firm had achieved in the recasting of the old treble bell and the addition of the two new ones, and on the pure and musical tone of the new bells.

MULTI-METHOD PEALS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I was much interested in your leading article on Multi-Method peals in this week's 'Ringing World,' and whilst I yield to no one in my admiration for the splendid achievement of the Norbury men, I feel, like Mr. Dawson, of Leytonstone, I would like to see the figures of the calling.

Most Minor ringers have been conversant for years with the splicing of various methods, and those mentioned in your remarks can be done quite easily, as the lead ends of one are the lead ends of the others.

I assume the hon. secretary of the Chester Diocesan Guild has been or will be supplied with the figures before registering the peal. Why, then, should not the whole Exercise have the same privilege? I have before me a copy of the Central Council's publication of legitimate Minor methods.

On page 9, No. 6, is given as Morning Star, the first lead end of which is 35264. This method with Trowel, Duke of Norfolk, College Exercise and Norbury appear to have comprised the second 720. Trowel has not been named in the publication, but those of the remainder have, 64523, as the first lead end. I am a little curious to know how these methods were spliced to complete a true 720. I hope, therefore, Mr. Fernley will kindly oblige, amongst others.—Yours faithfully,

ABRAHAM WILKERSON.

Hon. General Secretary, Warwickshire Guild.

BALL BEARINGS FOR BELLS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Since the last meeting with the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, and the remark that it is doubtful if any advantage is gained by the use of ball bearings for bells, I must admit I have altered my mind. At that time I was more against ball bearings than for them. My first reason is the gudgeons will not wear because the sleeve on which the balls run is fitted over the gudgeon, and thus takes the wear, so where ball bearings are fitted gudgeons will very seldom require renewing unless breakage or damage takes place, which is most unlikely.

Take the case of the plain bearing. When the brasses wear, the gudgeons will wear, too, also wear oval. This will in time necessitate the gudgeons being renewed; or, if they are large enough, trued up in the lathe. This would mean stocks and gudgeons being sent to the works, and the gudgeons trued up on the stocks in a lathe. This would cost a great deal more than new ball bearings, as the cost of transport alone would be a considerable item, plus the cost of new brasses, new gudgeons, or truing up the old ones.

As regards the disadvantages that Mr. Deal speaks of, I agree with him about unequal wear, and also that it is most important to fit bearings to take thrust in the case of a rolling tower.

Considerable time is saved in lubrication where ball bearings are fitted, and oil and grease will not drop down from them on the bell, which is so deadening to the tone. As time goes on probably there will be cases where a ball may split and the race get damaged, but I do not think this is nearly so likely to happen with ball bearings as with ball bearings fitted to heavy motor vehicles. The ball bearings will have to stand the same load each swing of the bell, the maximum being when the bell turns the bottom centre; in the case of the motor vehicle the load varies according to road shock.

To sum it up, if I may express my opinion, I consider ball bearings for bells an improvement and a mechanical advantage cheaper to fit and cheaper to renew, and a step in the right direction.

JOHN H. B. HESSE.

46 YEARS A RINGER.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN ARMSTRONG, OF HEPTONSTALL.

The Heptonstall ringers have sustained a loss by the death of one of their members, Mr. John Armstrong, who passed away on Tuesday, Feb. 6th, at the age of 63 years. During the war Mr. Armstrong lost two sons at the front, and shortly afterwards a daughter died at home. Those were great blows, and he never recovered his usual good spirits and cheerful disposition.

Mr. Armstrong had always been actively associated with Heptonstall Church and Sunday School, and for over 46 years was a bell ringer. He had rung a number of peals, and with the Heptonstall team took part in numerous contests. For many years he was conductor of the Heptonstall handbell ringers. In his younger days he was the most popular humorist in Upper Calder Valley, and his services were in great demand; he was also ever ready to give his talents in aid of a good cause. It is estimated that Mr. Armstrong won prizes at over 70 competitions, including a silver cup and many gold medals.

The funeral took place on Saturday, Feb. 10th, at the Parish Church. As the cortege left the house his brother ringers rang the 'whole pull and stand,' with the bells deeply muffled, and then descended from the tower and carried him to his resting-place. After the interment they rang touches of Bob Major, and the bells were also muffled for each service on the following day.

LEICESTER RINGERS ENTERTAINED.

On Friday, Feb. 2nd, the members of St. John-the-Divine Society, Leicester, their wives and friends, spent a very enjoyable social evening as guests of Mr. W. Willson. The Vicar (the Rev. E. S. White) presided, and the company of twenty-four gathered round the festive board at the Victoria Hotel, and did full justice to a most excellent dinner.—Afterwards the Vicar proposed the toast of 'The King,' which was duly honoured, and then expressed his pleasure at being asked to preside on that occasion, and on behalf of the company thanked the host for his generous inspiration.—Mr. Willson, in reply, said that he had been looking forward to a gathering of that kind for a considerable time, and hoped to make it an annual event.

After Mr. J. J. Jackson, of Belton, had spoken on behalf of visiting friends, the musical part of the programme was proceeded with. Mrs. Hardy and Mrs. Smith rendered duets at the piano, and Mr. J. J. Jackson contributed humorous songs. Miss W. Willson rendered her songs so delightfully that she had to give 'Smiling through' again by special request. Mr. F. Howe sang several bass songs, and Messrs. T. Vallance and H. C. Norman also contributed. The time for the 'last car' came all too soon, and everyone voted the evening a huge success, and accorded the host full musical honours.

THE GIFFORD MEMORIAL.

The tablet in memory of the late Mr. W. W. Gifford, at St. Martin's, Salisbury, was unveiled on Saturday last by Canon Myers, who conducted the dedication service in the presence of about 30 ringers from various parts of the country. In the course of his remarks, Canon Myers mentioned the good work that the late Mr. Gifford had done towards the improvement of change ringing in the district, and gave a short sketch of his work and life in Salisbury.

Previous to the dedication a peal of Grandsire Triples was attempted, but unfortunately came to grief within about 200 changes of the end. After the service a 500 of Stedman Triples was rung, conducted by G. Williams.

The tablet is of white marble and was executed by Mr. R. Collins. The inscription, surmounted by the figure of a bell, is as follows:—

" 'Praise Him upon the loud cymbals.'"

In Memory of

WILLIAM WELCH GIFFORD.

Member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, and for many years at the head of St. Martin's Ringers, who died at Blackford, in the County of Somerset, October 28th, 1921. Aged 63 years.

During his lifetime he took part in about 420 peals of over 5,000 changes on bells in various parts of the kingdom. He gave the second bell in this steeple in 1886, when the peal was augmented from six to eight bells. This tablet was erected by subscriptions of ringers in various parts of the country as a mark of their esteem and appreciation of his zeal and untiring efforts for the promotion of the art of change ringing in this and other districts."

Among those present were Major C. C. Hughes D.Aeth, Master of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild; Mr. G. N. Price, representing the College Youths; ringers from the four Salisbury City churches; Britford, Amesbury, Southampton, Bournemouth, and other towers.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.PRESENTATION TO THE HON. SECRETARIES.

The towers of All Hallows, Lombard Street; St. Giles, Bloomsbury, and St. Clement Danes, were open for ringing on the occasion of the annual meeting of the London County Association on Saturday week, and touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Kent Treble Bob were brought round. The Association's form of service was conducted by the hon. chaplain (the Rev. W. Pennington Bickford, M.A.), and some 48 members were present. A most excellent address was given by the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, M.A., M.C., Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, on the words from Ephesians v. 15, 'See that ye walk circumspectly.' A more appropriate discourse for ringers has never been delivered, and, were it in the writer's power, a printed copy should be circulated amongst all ringers and clergy.

A satisfying tea at the Express Dairy, thanks to the generosity of Messrs. F. C. Dawe and E. A. Young and Mrs. A. D. Barker, brought up the next 'part end.' It is wonderful what agility can be brought to light, though, with the aid of wet boots and brass stair edging.

Adjourning to the Parish House, Clare Market, the Master (Mr. T. H. Taffender) once more 'brought round' a none too easy 'composition.'

The secretary's report, as usual, contained mathematical details of the association's progress. The total assets in 1912 were £13 3s. 5d.; in 1922 they were £34 8s. 4d. Comment is needless. During the year 81 ringers took part in 26 peals. Two members rang their first peal, 10 first in various methods, two first away from tenor, two first away from treble, three first of Major, two first of Caters, eight first of Surprise Royal, three first on ten, two first on twelve, and one first on twelve tower bells, making 35 different 'firsts' in the 26 peals.

In spite of the secretary's protest that it was 'not business,' nor 'covered by the rules,' a handsome clock in oak, with Westminster chimes, was presented by the Master, on behalf of the members of the association, to the general secretary and his wife, commemorating their marriage in August last. Owing, however, to the countless compliments passed by some of the orators, the 'poor' secretary was unable to make much of a speech in return, and has since been approached with a view to buying a new set of hats for his wife.

The following officers were elected: Master, Mr. T. H. Taffender; treasurer, Mr. W. G. Matthews; secretary, Mr. A. D. Barker; assistant secretary, Mrs. A. D. Barker; senior steward, Mr. T. W. Taffender; junior steward, Mr. J. Bullock; trustees, Mr. J. George and Mr. E. A. Young. The evening closed with Stedman Caters 'in hand.'

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.LUTON DISTRICT MEETING.

The monthly meeting of the Luton District took place at Ampt-hill on Saturday, and proved very enjoyable, members being present from Bedford, Biddenham, Aspley Guise, Woburn, Husborne Crawley, Barton Le Cley, Houghton Regis, and Dunstable. A welcome visitor was Mr. J. H. Shepherd, of Swindon, who was present for a short time in the afternoon, before proceeding to another meeting being held at Old Warden, and to add the measurements of two more Bedfordshire tenors, to what must be a truly remarkable list. The bells at Ampt-hill are a very musical peal of six, but are rather spoilt by being very noisy in the ringing chamber. They were utilised in a number of methods, from Stedman Doubles to London Surprise Minor.

After tea a short business meeting was held, presided over by Mr. E. Herbert. One new member was elected, and Luton selected for the next meeting.

On the motion of the Chairman, hearty congratulations were accorded the Dunstable company on ringing a peal of Double Norwich Major the previous Saturday, their first peal of Major as a company.—The Hon. Secretary thanked the members for their kind remarks.—The Chairman said that it showed what promising young ringers there were in the district, as four members of the band were in the very early 'twenties.'

After the meeting, the tower was again visited, and further ringing took place.

THE PEAL AT JESMOND.

In connection with the peal at Jesmond it is interesting to note that the ringer of the 2nd rang his first course of Major only the night before. The ringer of the 4th had rung two or three courses some time ago on the treble only, and the ringer of the 6th had never struck a blow in the method before. All the band except the ringer of the tenor (Mr. W. H. Barber) are Sunday service ringers at the church. By the kind invitation of Mr. Craggs (who rang the 6th) and his mother, the band adjourned to 22, Osborn Road, where they were entertained to a delightful supper, and they wish to thank Mrs. Craggs and her son for their kind hospitality.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.TONBRIDGE DISTRICT PROGRESS.

The annual meeting of the Tonbridge District was held at Sevenoaks on Saturday, January 27th, and was attended by about 60 members, including several members of the Lewisham and Maidstone districts, Mr. K. Hart, of Brighton, and the brothers Cooper, of Croydon. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Superlative Surprise Major, and for the first time at a meeting of this district a course of London was brought round, in which several members of the district took part. At the customary service the curate read prayers, and the Rector (the Rev. W. A. Gilliatt) read the lesson, and also gave an excellent address.

Tea was partaken of at the Lime Trees Hotel, and the Rector, who presided, kindly contributed two-thirds of the cost of the tea.—The District Secretary (Mr. Latier) proposed that votes of thanks be accorded to the Rector for the use of the bells, for conducting the service, and for his generous contribution towards the cost of the tea, and also to the curate and organist for the part they had taken in the service.—This was carried, and the Rector replied.

An adjournment was then made to the Parish Room for the business meeting. Mr. F. White (Tonbridge Wells) was voted to the chair.—The District Secretary read his annual report, in which he reviewed the doings of the year, making special mention of the results of holding combined practices for particular methods. Double Norwich Major was, as a result, now firmly established. Superlative was well on the way, and he predicted that a peal in that method by members of the district would soon be an accomplished fact.—The report was considered highly satisfactory.

The district secretary and the two representatives on the Central Committee were unanimously re-elected to the respective offices, with thanks for past services.—Ten new members were elected, and it was decided to hold meetings during the year at the following towers, viz., Speldhurst, Goudhurst, Hever, and the annual district meeting at Tunbridge Wells next January.

The District Secretary then made a short statement upon the Association War Memorial Fund. He said the work would shortly be put in hand, but there were still several bands in the district who had not yet contributed, and he made an earnest appeal to every member to give something, however small, so that when they rang or heard the new bells at Canterbury Cathedral they would have the satisfaction of knowing that they had all done their part in raising a fitting memorial to the 60 fellow members who gave their lives in the great war.

Votes of thanks to Mr. H. J. Ford, of Sevenoaks, who, the district secretary remarked, had made all the arrangements for the meeting, and to Mr. White for presiding at the meeting, were unanimously carried, to which both replied. Further ringing afterwards took place.

LEWISHAM DISTRICT.

The quarterly meeting of this district was held at St. Alphege, Greenwich, where the ringing included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major, Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Treble Ten. At the business meeting, which followed service and tea, six new members were elected, and Chislehurst chosen for the next meeting.—Mr. W. J. Jefferies presented a report upon the business transacted at the Central Committee meeting, and the usual votes of thanks were passed.

DEATH OF A CHESHUNT RINGER.

The death occurred, from cancer, on Sunday, January 21st, at the North Middlesex Hospital, of Mr. John Francis Jelf. The deceased, who was 65 years of age, was formerly a ringer at Waltham Abbey, Essex, but when the Cheshunt peal was augmented to eight, eleven years ago, he joined that band, and had been a regular ringer up to the time of his illness. He was also a member of the Parish Church choir.

The funeral took place on Wednesday, January 24th, at Cheshunt Cemetery, the first portion of the service being held in the church, conducted by the Rev. T. W. H. Barker, who officiated at the graveside. Mr. Jelf was a widower, and is survived by four step-daughters and two stepsons-in-law.

The ringers present at the graveside were Messrs. G. Maxim, G. Andrews, W. G. Darlington, C. Dilley and H. Cornwell, of the local band, also Mr. and Mrs. G. Radley representing the Broxbourne ringers, and amongst the floral tributes was a wreath from his fellow ringers.

In the evening 504 Grandsire Triples was rung with the bells muffled.

Deceased was a member of the College Youths and the Hertford County Association.

THE BIRMINGHAM GATHERING.

With the gradual disappearance of the men who had the privilege of knowing Henry Johnson in the flesh, one might have looked for some falling off in the interest taken in the commemoration dinner, which is held every year in Birmingham, but the evidence of last Saturday's gathering goes to show that the event is tully maintaining not only its interest but also the spirit which prompted its institution. As a social function, of course, there is nothing in ringing circles which excels it. Birmingham itself is so centrally situated that it is accessible to all parts of the country, and year after year from the four corners almost of the land, ringers make the pilgrimage to share in the pleasures of the gathering, and to renew old friendships or to make new acquaintances. The spirit of fraternity which ringers boast so proudly of is seen fully revealed on these occasions; there is nothing cold and formal; the atmosphere of true brotherhood is uppermost.

This feature of the annual gathering, important and valuable as it is, does not, however, outweigh the other phase. Henry Johnson was the embodiment of all that was best in ringing: humility, unselfishness; an unwavering desire to seek the true advancement of the art; a kindly, genial soul, whose readiness to help others was an outstanding trait. Many great ringers there have been, but few can lay claim to all the characteristics and accomplishments which made the Birmingham veteran so much loved and respected, and placed him as well in the forefront of the Exercise. Every ringer who values the art for the art's sake, looks upon Henry Johnson not only as one of its most striking figures—a genius among pioneers—but one who stood for the maintenance of the best traditions of ringing. The opportunity that is thus provided every year of keeping alive the memory of this man, of reminding the present generation of all that his name stands for, and of holding up that name and reputation as a shining example to those who come new into art, is one which is of incalculable advantage to ringing, and ringers know and acknowledge this by the homage which they pay in attending the commemoration dinner.

The occasion provides no moment of melancholy thought, Henry Johnson himself would not have had it so; but it serves to direct attention to the brightest and best traditions of ringing, to stimulate ringers to unselfishness in the craft, and to seek always for improvement. Behind the feeling of pleasant comradeship which the commemoration inspires, one can sense the spirit which keeps green the memory of such a man, and we hope that year by year this feeling may grow as the numbers who claimed Henry Johnson as friend diminish.

FOR THE WIDOW OF AN OLD RINGER.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Your issue a fortnight ago contained a notice of the death of an old Lancashire ringer, Mr. Tom Gibbons, of Barrow-in-Furness. May I, through your columns, call attention to the little book of reminiscences published by him a year or two before his death. I think a good many ringers would read them with interest, and as the price is only 6d., many may like in this way to help his widow. Copies may be obtained from Mrs. Gibbons, 87, Ferry Road, Barrow-in-Furness, for 6d. each, post free.—Yours truly,

H. J. ELSEE,

DEATH OF A PONTEFRACT RINGER.

By the death of Mr. B. Watkinson, in his 60th year, on Feb. 10th, the Pontefract ringers have lost another old comrade. He had been a ringer at All Saints' Church for about thirty years, and took part in several Yorkshire Association peals.

The interment took place on Feb. 15th at Pontefract Cemetery, a good number of his fellow ringers and also ringers of the Parish Church attending. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung upon the handbells at the graveside at the close of the committal service, and, in the evening, at All Saints' Church, with the bells muffled, a quarter-peal of Grandsire was rung by the following: A. Walker, junr., 1. W. Hawley 2. B. Moody 3. W. Pearson, senr., 4. W. Pearson, junr., 5. A. Walker, senr. (conductor), 6. J. Fryer 7. H. Walters 8.

SWINTON.—On Monday evening, Feb. 12th, at St. Peter's Church, a half-peal of Stedman Triples (2,520 changes), in 1 hr. and 34 mins.: W. Grundy 1. P. Grundy 2. W. Jones 3. D. Howard 4. J. Ridyard 5. T. Howard 6. J. H. Ridyard (conductor) 7. W. Collier 8. This is believed to be the longest length ever rung in this method on the bells. Also longest length for the ringers of 4th, 6th and 8th.

MILTON-NEXT-GRAVESEND, KENT.—On Tuesday evening, Feb. 13th, for practice, 720 London Surprise, in 25 mins.: Fred A. Mitchell 1. H. Argent 2. J. Burles 3. Fred M. Mitchell (conductor) 4. L. Beckett 5. G. Morrad 6. First 720 in the method on the bells and by all the band.

'BOOKING FEES.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With regard to Mr. Broadley's notice of motion to be brought forward at the next meeting of the Yorkshire Association re a booking fee of threepence per member per peal for all peals rung under this association's title, I am pleased to see the proposition has come from a regular peal ringer; therefore it carries a little more weight than it otherwise might do. Doubtless, Mr. Broadley has the support of his fellow peal ringers in his district, or he must be a very brave man indeed to bring such a debatable matter up for decision.

Whilst personally agreeing with the motion in principle, I am afraid that the fee suggested is rather too much to be successful. Had the fee mentioned been one penny per member per peal, probably no one would object. I do not know whether Mr. Broadley has had any actual experience of his suggestion being put into operation, but I have in my mind that this method of producing revenue was instituted by one of our local district societies some years ago, and was not a success.

Turning to the last report issued by the Yorkshire Association, I find that during the year there were 68 peals rung on 6, 8 and 10 bells, which at threepence per member per peal would bring in a revenue of £6 15s., whilst there is shown a deficiency of £32 in the issue of reports; therefore, the motion, if carried, would not meet the deficit by even one quarter of the total amount.

In examining the committee's report therein, I notice they are urging more members to buy reports, and suggest that at least every tower should buy one copy for the company, to help the financial status of the association, adding that the only remedy is a greater sale, or to suspend the issue. Whilst admitting from a financial point of view this state of things is deplorable, I am certainly of opinion the remedy mentioned is not the only one to level matters up.

There are many points to consider before further taxing the worker, because where would any association be without its peal ringers? For an association to be successful you must have interest. To create interest you must have an object in view, and it is undeniable that the object of the great majority of change ringers is to become efficient peal ringers in as many methods as possible. Again, there is the continuous advent of beginners with the ambition of scoring peals, and these must be helped and encouraged, for this is where you build up the strength of your associations.

Just take into consideration for one moment that the peal ringer is the practical worker, for they put into execution the brain work of the composers, who exploit upon the genius of the method builder; therefore, to my mind, to tax the peal ringer to any extent is not the proper way to make profits meet losses, for without the practical execution the whole fruits of labour of the other workers mentioned would be lost, and the status of our noble art would eventually reach a very low ebb indeed.

Supposing the scheme is put into operation, will the association gain anything at the year's end? I am inclined to think that what they gain on the swings they will lose on the roundabouts.

When one considers the increased cost of living and travel, coupled with lower wages and bad trade (even if fortunate enough to be employed), I am afraid that if the fee is made too large, it will only create a strong camp of objectors, and less peal ringing.

Again referring to the report, I also notice that in spite of the loss on the reports, the past year's working has resulted in a net gain of £2 11s. 2d. Now this is where the peal ringer will argue as to where the loss to the association comes in, seeing it is not a profit-sharing business concern.

Whilst agreeing, as I have said, in principle, I do so only on the ground that the casual and non-peal ringers should not be compelled to pay more for their reports, because the regular peal ringers are sending up the cost; but looking at the matter broadly, and from a business point of view, there is more than the one remedy referred to, to put the matter on a proper footing without making more difficulties for the conductors, and causing dissension among the workers. Other methods should be tried, and the proposed scheme brought into operation as a last resource only.

SIDNEY F. PALMER.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Bedford District was held at Turvey on Saturday, Feb. 24th. The Rector (the Rev. Guy Beech) presided, and members were present from Bedford, Kempston, Biddenham, Bromham, Olney, Dunstable, and the local company. A welcome visitor was Mr. J. E. Sharman, who is now living in Northants.

It was proposed to hold the next meeting at Houghton-Conquest, some time in April, and notice will appear in 'The Ringing World.'

Methods rung included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob and Bob Major. Some good practice was derived by some six bell ringers who rang their first touch of Major.

A SUNDAY MEETING.

HEREFORD GUILD'S SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.

The Clifford District of the Hereford Diocesan Guild held their annual meeting at Eardisley on Sunday, Feb. 18th, when some 40 ringers assembled from the following towers: Almeley, Bredwardine, Burghill, Clifford, Eardisley, Kington, Letton, Peterchurch, Staunton-on-Wye, and Staunton-on-Arrow, the bells were raised shortly after 2.30 p.m., and kept going until 5 p.m., when the Rector (the Rev. S. H. Osborne) kindly invited the visitors to tea at the Rectory.

At the short business meeting which followed, the Rector took the chair, and gave the ringers a right hearty welcome, stating that as he suggested the meeting should be held on the Sunday he was very pleased to see so many present, as he understood it easily eclipsed any previous meeting held in the district. Peterchurch was chosen for the next meeting.—Four probationers from Eardisley were elected, and eight from Staunton-on-Wye.—The balance sheet, as adopted, showed an increased balance in hand.—Two Guild certificates were presented, and the secretary gave a short resume of the year's working, pointing out that fair progress in change ringing had been made, and that the balance in hand was made possible through the increase of hon. members from 8 to 14. The Guild was greatly indebted to these ladies and gentlemen, who thus showed their appreciation of the work the ringers were doing for the church. The secretary also said he was very pleased to be in a position to report that last year he had been successful in getting the ringers' subscriptions paid by the Parochial Church Council for each of the towers in the district.

A very hearty vote of thanks was given the Rector and Mrs. Osborne for their kind hospitality. — The Rector suitably replied, stating he had heard from the Bishop what a good work the ringers as a body were doing.

The tower was again visited, and 240 of Bob Minor rung for the evening service, at which the Guild's special form was used.—The Rector gave a very able address from part of verse 17, Acts xxvii., 'And they used helps.' After service the tower was again visited, and the bells kept going until after 9 p.m. During the afternoon and evening the following methods were rung: Grandsire Triples on handbells, Bob Minor, Grandsire, Plain Bob and College Single Doubles. This is the first meeting ever held by the Guild on a Sunday, and proved to be the best attended and most useful meeting yet held in the district.

THE PEAL AT HEADCORN.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the peal of Major at Headcorn, your correspondent appears to be very anxious to set at rest the qualms of conscience which he evidently thinks the members of the Ashford district are grievously suffering from over this peal. In the first place, he is waiting for a reply from the conductor of the peal, and from what I gather he can still wait. The conductor no doubt thinks the same as I do, that there was no reason at all to rush into print over the matter, but a private letter to the conductor himself would have no doubt resulted in a favourable reply. I take it that this concerns the hand who rang in the peal, and no one else, and I know that seven out of the eight who rang in the peal are satisfied with it as a peal, and will record it in their own list, let others do what they will.

If your correspondent wishes for any further information on this matter let him put his name, so that we may know whether it is someone really concerned in the matter anxious for right, and not spite or a busybody in other men's matters.

CHARLES TRIBE,

Hon. Sec., Ashford District, Kent County Association.

ROMNEY MARSH GUILD.

A PEAL BOARD DEDICATED.

A meeting of the above was held at Appledore on Saturday, Feb. 17th. The weather was very favourable, and resulted in a good attendance. Some good practice was had in the standard methods during the afternoon, and a peal tablet was unveiled by Mrs. H. Baker (the donor) to commemorate a peal of Grandsire Triples rung in that tower on October 21st last. It was the donor's first peal; Miss R. Thomas's first peal with a bob bell; also the first peal of Grandsire by Mr. R. E. Burgess and Mr. B. Baker.—The Vicar (the Rev. A. O. Scott) read the dedicatory prayers, and afterwards congratulated the ladies and gentlemen on their achievement.

Tea was served at the Swan Hotel, the Vicar presiding. At the meeting which followed, the members accorded a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Baker for the gift of the tablet, and wished her success in her future ringing career.

The next meeting was fixed for Stone-in-Oxney on Saturday, March 24th. The tower was afterwards again visited for more ringing, when the youngest member of the Guild (Master T. Player) showed excellent form in ringing the treble to his first touch of Bob Major.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The attempt for the long peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Stoney Stanton on Saturday unfortunately came to grief after four hours' good ringing through two bells changing course at the first trip that came along. It is hoped to make another attempt soon after Easter.

But even the lost peal had its compensations. With four hours to wait until the motor returned for them, ringers and visitors proceeded to make merry, and succeeded so well that one visitor said he was glad they had lost the peal, as he had 'spent the best evening of his life.' Ringers can generally make the best of a bad job.

An attack on the Appleton record is to be made on Easter Monday. Evesham bells have been secured, and a peal of 22,000 Steadman Caters is to be attempted. Mr. William Fye is organising the band.

Evesham bells are a peal with tenor of 31 cwt. The tenor is by Mears (1821), and the others by Rudhall (1741). If this peal is successful both weight and length in any previous record will go by the board.

Mr. Ted Horrex, who was 85 on Wednesday, is the sole survivor of a band of College Youths, who on March 3rd, 1866, rang a peal of 8,448 Kent Treble Bob Major in 5 hrs. 14 mins., at Bethnal Green. Henry Haley was the conductor.

The same day of the year 1778 saw the ringing of 10,260 Grand sire Caters at St. Mary's, Nottingham.

The first handbell peal of Bob Royal recorded by the College Youths was rung at Caius College, Cambridge, on March 2nd, 1897.

A peal of 7,392 Kent Treble Bob Maximus was rung at Oldham on March 6th, 1832, and displaced the previous record of 7,200 rung at Birmingham in 1820.

The Bob Major record for Essex which, we believe, still stands, was made on March 7th, 1819, at Great Baddow, the length being 10,080.

March 8th marks the anniversary of one of the very earliest of great performances. A tablet in St. Peter Mancroft belfry, Norwich, records 'On March the 8th, 1737, was rung a peal of Grand sire Caters, which for excellency of its ringing, Harmonious changes, and ye number of them, was certainly superior to anything of its kind ever done in the World, and to Remove all doubt of the truth of the performance several ingenious Ringers were abroad the whole time with proper rules to prove the certainty of ye same. Thus was this great peal perfectly compleated to the entire satisfaction, surprise and amazement of thousands of hearers in the space of 8 hrs. 15 mins. The number of changes were 12,603 rung by 9 men of the company then belonging to the company. The tenor singly by a young ringer 8,000, then a second ringer rung her to the end of the peal.'

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

STOCKPORT BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Stockport Branch was held at Reddish on Saturday, Feb. 24th, and was well attended, about eighty members and friends sitting down to a splendid tea. At the service which preceded it the Rector officiated, assisted by the Rev. A. T. Beeston (branch hon. secretary). The Rector's address was on bells and their uses, and was much appreciated.

The Master of the Guild (Mr. H. Fairclough, of Stretton) was present, and presided over the business meeting. This was the first meeting of the branch he had attended, and he and his 'lightning' conductor were cordially received. He was supported by the branch chairman (Mr. J. H. Jackson, Disley).

The Hon. Secretary presented his report and balance sheet for the past year. The general position was unaltered, but there was much room for improvement in ringing activities. On the social side, things were very satisfactory, as was evidenced by the fact that at the five meetings held in 1922 the average attendance was 47.

All the retiring officers were re-elected and an assistant secretaryship instituted, Mr. J. P. Fidler (Norbury) being elected to this office. Five new members were elected, and Bowdon fixed as the place of the next meeting on a date to be notified later.

The question of the introduction of a small booking fee for peals was discussed, and it was decided to ask the members of the other branches carefully to consider this question, as a means of raising some additional revenue towards the cost of the printing of the annual report.

An interesting matter brought forward, and one which appears to be gaining widespread popularity, especially from the social side, was the question of the introduction of a branch annual dinner. It received hearty support, and will be discussed further at the next meeting.

With regard to the subscription list for the Nantwich Bell Fund, this, it was stated, amounted to £2 10s. 6d., but as all the towers had not yet responded, the list still remains open.

The usual votes of thanks brought the meeting to a close, and the tower bells were again requisitioned and handbells brought into use.

HENRY JOHNSON COMMEMORATION DINNER

GREAT GATHERING OF RINGERS AT BIRMINGHAM.

With undiminished enthusiasm, the Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner was held at Birmingham on Saturday. Always a popular event, alike for the opportunity it provides for a reunion of old friends, and for the atmosphere of good fellowship which is ever present, the gathering was larger than in many former years, no fewer than 150 sitting down at the Imperial Hotel. Ringers from the towers within a considerable radius took part in the proceedings, and visitors came from far and near, from as far away as Leeds and Sheffield in the North; Newport and Bristol and Gloucester in the West, Essex, North Wales, and, of course, London. The famous church in the Bull Ring was the centre of gravity in the afternoon, but there was also ringing at the Cathedral, and one band was successful in ringing a peal at Deritend. The company which gathered round the festive board in the evening was a very happy one, and the Rector of Birmingham (Canon E. Grose Hodge, M.A.) presided in an exceedingly genial manner. He was supported by Alderman J. S. Pritchett, M.A., B.C.L., presiding Ringing Master of St. Martin's Guild; Messrs. J. J. Kendall and Fred W. Blake, churchwardens of St. Martin's; J. Bellis, churchwarden of Edgbaston; W. R. Heaton, Mr. A. Paddon Smith (hon. secretary of St. Martin's Guild) and Mrs. Paddon Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Goldsmith (Woking), Mr. Cyril Johnston (Croydon), Mr. Pryce Taylor (Loughborough), and Mr. A. A. Hughes (London). Among the visitors were Mr. P. J. Johnson (Leeds), hon. secretary Yorkshire Association; Mr. J. W. Jones (Newport), hon. secretary Llandaff and Monmouth Association; Mr. Moore (churchwarden, King's Norton), Mr. W. A. Cave and Mrs. Wilkins (Bristol), Messrs. J. Austin (Gloucester), W. Saunders and party (Coalbrookdale), T. J. Salter (Kidderminster), W. J. Nevard (Essex Association), W. J. Hazell (Royal Cumberland Youths), J. Carter, I. G. Shade, G. W. Fletcher, R. Marshall (London), S. W. Palmer (Sheffield), Miss E. K. Parker (hon. sec. Ladies' Guild), Mrs. J. E. Groves (hon. sec. Midland District of the Ladies' Guild), Mr. J. Johnson (son of Henry Johnson) and Mrs. Johnson, Messrs. W. Farley (Wells), Millward (Northampton), A. J. Hughes (Bangor), and many others. The officers of the St. Martin's Guild included Messrs. W. H. Godden, J. Carter, J. H. Shepherd, W. Kent and T. Russam (vice-presidents), Albert Walker (Deputy Ringing Master), C. Dickens (trustee), J. L. Wells and T. H. Reeves (trustees), etc. There were numerous ladies, many of them ringers, in the company, and the proceedings were very enjoyable.

After an excellent dinner, the toast of 'The King' was honoured and the Hon. Secretary announced that messages of apology had been received from Bishop Hamilton Baynes (Rector of St. Philip's), the Rector of Solihull, Mr. A. Parsons, of Old Hill (who was confined to bed), Mr. Rodway (late churchwarden of St. Philip's), and Mr. G. N. Ediss, an old friend of the Guild. The following telegram was also received: 'My warmest remembrances and hearty good wishes. Wish I could be with you. The Dean of Norwich.'

Mr. J. J. Kendall submitted the toast of 'Church and State.' That, being a gathering of ringers, he said, they would all acknowledge the connection between Church and State. As long as they had the State supporting the Church and the Church leading the State, they in England would never go wrong. He hoped the time would never come when the Church would be divorced from the State, for the State would certainly be the poorer if it were not for the support which it received from the Church (applause).

The Rector of Birmingham said they all knew the State had grown up round the Church. They did not mean the Church in any narrow sense, but the Church which was the whole people of God. The relation between the two was no new thing; it was not new at the Reformation. The Church had never been severed from it, and, as Mr. Gladstone eloquently said, if ever the State were torn from the Church it would leave the State a lacerated and bleeding mass. So, as they had accepted the toast, and as everyone there was loyal to the State and loyal to the Church, and felt it was best that things secular should be permeated with things sacred, he thought no other acknowledgment of the toast was necessary.

HENRY JOHNSON—THE MAN.

'The memory of the late Henry Johnson' was proposed by Mr. Thomas Russam, one of the nineteen persons present who knew the old gentleman in the flesh. Mr. Russam's speech was a most interesting one, showing from personal recollection the wonderful character of Henry Johnson. What Lord Chief Justice Coleridge was to the law, what Dr. Parry was to music, what Sir Oliver Lodge was to science; what Dr. Grace was to cricket, Henry Johnson, said the speaker, was to the great art of campanology (applause). It was more than 35 years since he (Mr. Russam) first met Henry Johnson, and from that time until now it was impressed upon him what a wonderful old man he was, not as a ringer accumulating peals, but as a man with a great ambition. His sole ambition was to build up a great record of ringing and conduct at St. Martin's Church. That principle he was glad to say had been followed to the present day by successive generations of ringers connected with St. Martin's (applause). Henry Johnson was a man who, by his unflinching courtesy, gentleness, wisdom and uprightness, won for himself the personal affection of everyone with whom he came in contact. No one ever went to Henry Johnson with a request, however small, concerning bell ringing and came away empty handed; but, with all his gentleness of heart, woebetide the careless ringer (laughter). The old man would not say much, but what he did say was seldom forgotten. They at Aston who knew him when he came to reside there used to sit at his feet and gather wisdom from his words, and the merry times they had with him had left nothing but pleasant memories. He was just, fair and upright, but he had his vein of humour. Mr. Russam went on to illustrate these traits in Henry Johnson's character by two personal anecdotes. After the first dinner which they had in honour of the old man, at which Sir Arthur Heywood presided, he (the speaker) was on his way home when he saw the old man in the centre of the town. He spoke to Johnson, and they started away for home together. Standing in the road was a cab, and they stood and seriously discussed whether they could afford to hire it to drive them home. After bargaining with the driver, they got in and were driven to Aston, which they reached at the rate of about a mile an hour (laughter), and on arriving they discussed who should pay for the cab. Eventually they paid sixpence each (laughter). He mentioned this to show how Johnson was always ready to share and share alike. William Chattell, who was a ringer at St. Philip's, was a great friend of Henry Johnson. One day he went to the old man and said, 'Henry, I want a peal of Stedman Caters, of such a number and with such and such qualities.' 'Very well, you shall have it,' replied Mr. Johnson, and, of course, Chattell got what he asked for. Johnson found out where they were going to ring the peal, and when it was to be at Aston, and when the time arrived Chattell and his friends started off for the tower, which in those days could only be reached by walking. When they got near the tower, they heard the bells going. They got down to the church, and found Henry had stolen a march upon William. He had collected a band, gone to the church, locked himself in, and rang the peal (laughter).

The toast was drunk in silence, and afterwards three leads of Treble Bob Fourteen were rung by T. Russam, A. Walker, P. Laffin, G. F. Swann, J. P. Smallwood, J. E. Groves and A. E. Norman. The touch was followed with intense interest, and its completion was the signal for prolonged applause.

A REVIEW.

Alderman Pritchett again proposed the toast of 'Continued prosperity to the St. Martin's Guild,' and following his usual custom gave a review of the year's doings. Referring first to the losses which had been sustained, he spoke of Sir Edward Malins, who for many years had joined them at those gatherings. They honoured him for the high position he held in his profession, and, knowing him so intimately, they loved him as a man. Then they had lost the late Lord Chief Justice of Ireland, Mr. Cherry, who some 15 years ago presided at that dinner. He was a man of singularly amiable and simple character, and those ringers who had rung with him, felt he was one of themselves. When he occupied the distinguished position of Attorney-General for Ireland, he (Mr. Pritchett) visited him, and went with him into the tower of St. Patrick's Cathedral, where he took off his coat, turned up his sleeves and rang with him; and that was his constant custom as long as his health permitted. They deeply lamented his death. The late Mr. James Motts was for many years one of the country members of that Guild. His ringing reputation was known to all of them, for doubtless they had read the memoir which had appeared in 'The Ringing World.' He might, however, be specially mentioned that evening in connection with the record peal of London Surprise at King's Norton. He was the first of the band to go, but they trusted the other seven would be spared for many years to come. Proceeding, Alderman Pritchett said they missed several old friends that night, who were absent from various causes. Foremost among them was Mr. Rock Small, who so recently celebrated his 83rd birthday. Another old gentleman who was with them two years ago for the last time was Mr. Ted Horrex, of London, who would celebrate his 85th birthday on the 28th of the month. He suggested they should send him a letter of congratula-tion, and tell him how much they would have liked to see him present that night (applause). The senior member of that Guild was also absent, Mr. John Buffery. He was the only survivor of a party of enthusiastic young ringers who visited him (the speaker) at Oxford 50 years ago. He believed he had told them before how much they enjoyed that huge pigeon pie with the claws sticking out of the top, and how John Buffery mistook some extra strong ale for soda water (laughter), and how the touch of Stedman at Magdalen College afterwards came hopelessly to grief (laughter). Alderman Pritchett went on to extend a hearty welcome to all the friends who were with them that night, and they specially welcomed, he said, the presence of so many ladies. They were glad to see most of the veterans, including Mr. Tom Russam, who was one of the senior members of the Guild, and only about ten years younger than himself (laughter). Mr. Kent, Mr. Godden, Mr. Miller, the three brothers Dickens, and Mr. Joseph Johnson, son of the old worthy whose memory they were met to honour that night. They hoped he would be with them on many more occasions (applause).

A NOTABLE PERFORMANCE.

They had, said Alderman Pritchett, to congratulate themselves that the Guild was continuing to prosper. He had received a report from Mr. Walker, which stated that 21 tower bell peals and 15 handbell peals had been rung during the year, which was about the average. There were some notable performances, but the most remarkable performance, not only of that Guild, but of any other Guild or change ringing society in the world, was the peal of Stedman Sextuples rung on mid-summer's day. The band who rang that peal was the same that had given them an exhibition of ringing on 14 bells that night, and they also had with them Mr. John Carter, who had come from Park Lane to be with them (laughter), who was the composer of the peal, and Mr. Kent who was the umpire. He had not included in those 36 peals which he had mentioned another peal rung on February 13th for the birthday of Mr. Russam and Mrs. Walker, which was chiefly remarkable from the fact that it was conducted by Mr. Albert Norman, who thus called his first peal of Stedman Cinques on tower bells before the age of 21 years (applause). They heartily congratulated him. Mr. Edgar Sheppard, another ringer of great promise, was mentioned in Mr. Walker's report. He was severely wounded in the war, and proudly wore the Military Medal (applause). A band met the other day at Solihull for a peal of Stedman Caters, but owing to illness they were unable to ring, and a peal on handbells was arranged at once. Mr. Sheppard rang his first peal on handbells in this method without any preliminary practice. He was a great credit to the Guild, and in years to come would no doubt be one of their leaders (applause). He could not conclude without expressing their and his acknowledgments to one or two men to whom they were especially indebted; to Mr. Albert Walker, their energetic, conscientious and painstaking Ringing Master, for all he had done in arranging peals and helping to manage the affairs of the Guild generally (hear, hear). They were specially indebted to him for the social evenings of the Guild which had been such a feature during the past year. For many years now, continued the speaker, he had been engaged in what was considered the hopeless task of improving the lily by painting it and gilding refined gold, and he did not propose to continue that attempt to enhance the reputation of Mr. Paddon Smith with ringers and the esteem in which they all held him by any more praise. All he would say was that he had never known a better organised series of dinners than those in connection with that Guild (applause). The organisation had been absolute perfection (applause). They would show their appreciation of what he had done by most heartily drinking his health (applause).

The toast was drunk with musical honours, and Mr. Smith was received with loud applause on rising to respond. He did not know, he said, exactly how Jacob felt when he was deceiving his father and accepting the blessing that was intended for Esau; but he certainly felt in somewhat of an invidious position, because owing to business having called him out of the country he had had to leave a lot of the organisation and work connected with that gathering to Mr. Walker, but he could assure them it was a sufficient payment to them both to look round and see everyone so obviously happy and enjoying themselves. Mr. Smith then announced that in that room, only a few hours before, a further honour in Freemasonry had been conferred upon their Presiding Ringing Master (Alderman Pritchett), who was installed as the Right Worshipful Provincial Grand Master of Warwickshire in the Royal Order of Scotland, a Masonic Order founded to commemorate the memory of Robert Bruce. The ceremony was performed by the Rt. Honourable the Earl of Kintore, the Sovereign of the Order. Alderman Pritchett, continued the speaker, had been lifted from one step to another in the craft, until there could be hardly any higher steps to mount, and they congratulated him upon the latest honour which had been accorded to him. It was a unique thing that they as ringers should have met in the same room within a few hours, and as they had got Alderman Pritchett with them he was going to propose a hearty vote of congratulation to him in an informal manner, which he asked them to carry by saying 'Aye' in no uncertain manner.

The motion was carried with a roar that almost shook the roof and testified in a remarkable way to the personal esteem in which the presiding Ringing Master is held by the Guild.

'MUTILATED BELLS.' CONSISTORY COURT INQUIRY.

The Chancellor of the Diocese of Rochester held a formal inquiry in the Parish Church of Chalk, near Gravesend, on Saturday, Feb. 10th, in the manner in which a faculty for rehanging the three ancient bells had been carried out. It was alleged, says the 'Church Times,' that the bells had been injured and mutilated through the Vicar neglecting to comply with the terms of the faculty, which made it a condition that the work should be done under the instructions of an architect.

Evidence was given to show that of the three bells, one was cast by a founder who was probably Thomas de Weston, about 1348, and that the other two were by John Wilner of Borden, in 1634, that they were of great archaeological value and interest, but that the canons had been cut off when they were rehung. It was shown that every effort had been made first by the Registrar and then by the architect to impress on the Vicar the importance of not allowing the removal of the canons; but while the work was in progress the founder, Mr. Alfred Bowell, of Ipswich, claimed that it was necessary to remove the canons on account of the nature of the new headstocks he had prepared. The Vicar neglected to call in the architect to inquire into the matter, with the result that the canons were removed. The founder claimed that the removal of the canons was a common practice, that it made the bells easier to ring, that it was sometimes necessary if the canons were broken, and that he had done it in numerous other churches in Kent. He admitted that it was not necessary to remove the canons to quarter-turn a bell, and that if he had been instructed at first not to do so, he would have prepared headstocks accordingly.

The learned Chancellor found that the provisions of the faculty had not been carried out, and that the Vicar had not had the work done under the advice of the architect, but had allowed the bells to be mutilated in direct opposition to his advice. He impressed on the clergy and Parochial Church Councils not only the necessity of loyally carrying out the provisions of faculties, but also the importance of making full use of the system of Advisory Committees recently set up. The committees included men of expert knowledge, who gave their advice to parishes free of charge, and the clergy and all concerned should avail themselves of these advantages. He said that those who refused to be guided by the committees, and who ignored the conditions laid down in faculties, played into the hands of those who wished our churches to be taken over by the State. If the ecclesiastical courts were ignored it would be said that the Church was powerless to safeguard her own buildings and the treasures they contained. If the Diocesan Advisory Committee said the advice of a particular person should be sought, it should be sought; and if that advice were included in a faculty, it would have to be followed. What the Vicar had done in this case amounted to contempt of Court, and might lead to the consideration of coercive measures. He trusted the clergy and Parochial Church Councils would loyally support the system as at present administered.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. AXBRIDGE DEANERY BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Axbridge Deanery Branch was held at Blagdon, near Bristol, on Saturday, Feb. 17th, and was very successful. Thirty-four members were present, representing Banwell, Burnham, Blagdon, Chewton-Mendip, Churchill, Rowbarrow, Winscombe, Worle, Wedmore, Weston-super-Mare, and Kewstoke. A service was conducted by the Rev. T. H. Richards, who also gave an address. Tea and meeting followed at the Parish Hall. The business meeting was presided over by the president of the branch (the Rev. J. H. H. Doorbar), supported by the Rector of Blagdon (Prebendary G. M. Lambrick). Eleven new members were elected, and Churchill was selected for the next meeting.

The secretary presented the balance sheet, which showed a balance of £8 18s. 8d. Prebendary G. M. Lambrick was elected president, and the Rev. G. E. F. Molineux, vice-president for the ensuing year.

Mr. G. Chamberlain was re-elected hon. secretary and representative on the general committee. The meeting concluded with a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, to the Rev. T. H. Richards, and to Mr. Westbrook, the organist.

There was ringing during the afternoon and evening.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.HEREFORD DISTRICT GROWING.

The annual meeting of the Hereford district was held at Hereford, and was well attended, some 80 ringers being present from the three city towers, and Burghill, Madley, Hampton Bishop, Allensmore, Stoke Edith, Bodenham, Wellington, Holm Lacy, Fawnhope, Lugwardine, Tarrington, Bridstow, Ross, Llanelly, Clifford, Sutton Holmer.

St. Nicholas' and All Saints' bells were available during the afternoon, and the Cathedral in the evening, some well-struck touches being brought round in Grandsire Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble and Stedman. Service was held at All Saints' Church, the preacher being the Rev. H. M. Fowler, of Holy Trinity, who gave an excellent address. The Guild's form of service was used, upwards of 70 ringers were present. A company of 81 assembled at the Spread Eagle Hotel for tea, the general secretary of the Guild (the Rev. G. W. Turner) presiding, supported by the Rev. H. M. Fowler, the Rev. A. Middleton, the Rev. F. Dent and the Rev. F. R. Wilkinson (Mansfield). Immediately after tea the Dean looked in for a few minutes, and expressed his thanks and appreciation for all the ringers had done, and for the good work the Guild was doing. He was, he said, delighted to see so many young men present and taking such an active part in the life of the church, and hoped to meet all of them again that evening when they assembled in the Cathedral tower at 7 o'clock.

The Secretary proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Dean for his presence, also for what he had done in the past year to improve the conditions of the Cathedral belfry. Ringers, not only in the Hereford district, but in the whole of the diocese, now looked upon the Dean as a true friend (applause).

The Secretary (Mr. C. Edwards) presented the balance sheet, which showed that they now had 28 honorary members, 101 ringing members, and 21 probationers in the district. The total receipts were £19, and after handing to the general secretary one-half of receipts, £9 10s., a balance of £5 1s. 10d. was left in hand. The secretary was re-elected, with Mr. A. Gwynne assistant secretary.

The question of District Ringing Master was brought up, when the secretary pointed out that Mr. W. H. Williams really had not got the time to spare to do what was required of him. He (the secretary) pointed out that, as he had to act as secretary for the district and also Ringing Master for the whole of the Guild, the time had come when others must do more to help, as in their own district more towers were joining the Guild, and must have assistance. He moved that Mr. Walter Taylor (Lugwardine) be appointed District Ringing Master, and Mr. Ivor Probert (Burghill) be assistant.—These appointments were made, amid applause, and 27 new members were then elected, including two honorary members. The majority of the ringers afterwards made their way to the Cathedral belfry, where they were welcomed by the Dean. Some excellent touches of Caters and Bob Major were brought round. The meeting, the largest and most successful held in the district, showed that great strides are being made by the Guild.

THE TUNING OF CHURCH BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Referring to the recent letters which have appeared in your columns, I venture to suggest that the points at issue have not been set forth with sufficient clarity. It is quite true that the preference for one system or the other is a matter of personal taste. Both systems have points in their favour, but the mistake has been in the matter of comparisons. It is useless to compare a poor ring of bells on the old lines with a modern ring tuned on the more recent system. Most of the old peals were tuned, either by hand chipping, or by now obsolete machines, which only permitted the tuning of practically one note in a bell, namely, the main tone. There are many old rings of bells in the country, where adjustment of the harmonics to the lines the bells were originally cast for, would convert them into perfectly musical rings. There are also many old rings, which have been cast so near to correctness in tune one with another, that the slight adjustment necessary to the main tones has not affected the harmonics, and the result has been a very fine peal of bells. On the other hand, many old bells have been cast where the main note has been considerably out of tune with what has been required, and the tuning having been restricted to this main tone only, has thrown the harmonics out of their original proportion. Fortunately, modern machinery can overcome this difficulty, and this is a point which has been overlooked.

I hold no brief for either one system or the other, for as I have stated above, preference is purely a matter of personal taste, but in all fairness, the matter needs properly explaining.

Practice and theory do not always agree, and for all the seemingly theoretical correctness of the Simpson principle, there are many rings of bells in the country on the old lines which have not yet been surpassed.

One thing is certain, harmonics in any instrument should always be subdued as much as possible, and not accentuated, and the aim of the bell founder should be to produce bells in which the tones are so blended as to produce a pleasing musical result, in which harmonics or overtones cause no annoyance or displeasing effect. This we know, from experience, has been achieved by old founders.

It appears to me that Simpson-tuned bells sound to the best advantage singly, or in sets of bells erected for tune playing only, where the time is much slower, but not to rings of bells hung for change ringing, where the notes follow in such quick succession, that the too dominant harmonics run into each other and apparently create the medley of sound which is so perplexing to many.

Another point to be remembered, in quoting musical persons as authorities, is, that being a judge of tone, and being of musical ability, are two very different things. Many a good organist or pianist is no judge of quality of tone. Further, church bells cannot be judged in the same light as the general musical instrument. They are two entirely different propositions.

In conclusion, I think it cannot be too strongly pointed out, that complete rings of bells should not be recast simply to obtain a more recent system of tuning.—Yours faithfully,

A. PADDON SMITH.

THE ULTIMATE JUDGES.

Sir,—I should like to thank Mr. Barnett for his very courteous reply to my letter of Feb. 9th, and fear I am not sufficiently advanced in metallurgy to be able to discuss the longevity of metal which has had its 'skin' broken. He is greatly in error, however, when he speaks of 'talking over an unmusical incumbent,' etc., for it is the very musical who most appreciate the properly tuned bell.

It is, perhaps, well that 'A Flat Seventh' veils himself under a 'Nom-de-plume.' His letter is rather rude, and very ridiculous. 'The whole question resolves itself into one of likes and dislikes,' he says. Well, 'de gustibus non disputandum,' but surely the ultimate judges of the very best bells will not be ringers as a body, nor even 'A Flat Seventh' (nor my humble self), but those who have to listen to them; and of these, musicians (pace Mr. Lewis who certainly built organs on the five-toned principle, and couldn't have done otherwise had he tried!) are nearly all in agreement with the assertion that when the harmonics of a bell are all in perfect tune the resultant sound is infinitely preferable to one in which any or all are out of tune.

His quotation from the 'Sunday Times' is singularly unfortunate. 'Simpson-tuned peals consist of a succession of octaves and fifths in harmonics, which, as every young student of music knows, is against the first laws of harmony.' I am glad of that phrase 'every young student,' because only a very, very young student could have made such an elementary mistake as to confuse the consecution of octaves and fifths in natural harmonics (which are present in any and every given note, either of voice or instrument) with the consecution of octaves and fifths of principal notes when sounded together in two or more parts.

'Just imagine tuning an organ, pianoforte, or any other musical instrument upon the Simpson principle.' Has 'A Flat Seventh' ever heard one that was not? It would be the eighth wonder of the world!—Yours, etc.,
St. Thomas', Hove.

CECIL H. CLARKE.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

BISHOP AND DEAN OF DURHAM ELECTED HON. MEMBERS.

The pre-Lent meeting was held at Newburn on Saturday, Feb. 10th, in adverse weather circumstances, for it was a very wet, cold day. Two weddings and a funeral in the afternoon were not encouraging, from a ringer's point of view, and very little ringing could be indulged in before tea, which was served by Host and Hostess J. Brown at the Newburn Hotel. The President (Mr. Story) occupied the chair, and was supported by the Rev. A. W. Lister, Mr. J. W. Parker, the hon. secretary, the hon. treasurer, and others. The following towers were represented: Tanfield, Winton, St. Ignatius, Sunderland; Newburn, the Cathedral, Newcastle; St. John, Newcastle, and St. George's, Jesmond.

The President, in proposing the toast of 'The King,' remarked that it was the first opportunity he had of doing so since his Majesty had become a grandfather, and wished Princess Mary and her infant son health and happiness.

Five new honorary members were elected, viz., the Bishop of Durham, the Dean of Durham, the Rector of Hexham, the Vicar of St. Oswald's, Durham, and the Vicar of Binfieldside and two life members.

It was stated that the ringers' memorial tablet was well on the way toward completion, and it was decided to have the unveiling ceremony on the first or second Saturday after Easter, whichever date suited the Newcastle authorities. Due notice will be given.

The treasurer made a very encouraging statement, to the effect that he had £29 odd in hand, but he still wanted more, as the printing of the new report would swallow that and more.

The Hon. Secretary called the attention of all conductors to rule 17. So far only two conductors have taken any notice of it, but unless they do so it will be impossible to keep the peals and their compositions up to date. The omission also puts much unnecessary work on the secretary.

The second certificate for Sunday Service ringing for six-bell towers was presented to Mr. H. B. Taylor, secretary of the Newburn band.—The Rev. A. W. Lister, in a few well-chosen words, congratulated them upon their success.—Mr. Taylor, in returning thanks, said he was afraid they would not win it again, as one of their members had left the district, and another had been injured in the mine.

Representatives from other winning towers were not present. The meeting expressed condolence with Mr. J. W. Park, the energetic vice-president for the eastern district, who is laid up with an injured foot, and wished him a speedy recovery.

A touch of Grandsire on handbells, a vote of thanks to the Vicar and wardens for the use of the bells, and to the Vicar for offering to make arrangements for the tea (which offer unfortunately came after arrangements had already been made), brought the meeting to a close, and an adjournment was made to the tower for more ringing.

EASTERN DISTRICT MEETING.

A very successful meeting of the Eastern District was held at Gateshead on Saturday, Feb. 24th, about 50 members attending from South Shields, Jarrow, Newcastle, Sunderland, Houghton-le-Spring, etc.

Several members had their first pull on the fine ring of twelve at Newcastle Cathedral during the afternoon, and the bells of St. Mary's, Gateshead, were kept going until late.

Tea was held in an historic room called 'The Anchorage,' near to the church. Messrs. Stuart and Kell, of the Gateshead band, had made excellent arrangements, and a very happy time was spent over the teacups.

A short meeting was afterwards held, presided over by Canon Stephenson, supported by Mr. W. Story (president), Mr. R. Parkinson (vice-president), Mr. E. E. Ferry (association secretary), Mr. A. M. Hall (treasurer), and others.

Mr. J. W. Parker proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the chairman and the Vicar of Newcastle for the use of their bells, and to Messrs. Stuart and Kell and the ladies who had kindly assisted with the tea; and this was carried with acclamation.

Mr. Story announced that the Ringers' War Memorial Tablet in Newcastle Cathedral would be unveiled on Saturday, April 7th.—It was decided to hold the next district meeting at Houghton-le-Spring on April 14th.

VETERAN TEWKESBURY RINGER'S DEATH.

The death occurred on January 21st of Mr. Josiah Wathen, of Tewkesbury, who passed away at the age of 77 years. For over 40 years he was manager and chief engineer at Tewkesbury Waterworks, a position he relinquished in 1912.

Mr. Wathen began his ringing in Worcester about 1865, and for something like 50 years was a ringer at Tewkesbury Abbey. With the Rev. C. D. P. Davies he started a change ringing band at the Abbey, which developed into one of the best Stedman companies in Gloucestershire. He conducted his first peal in 1877. He was for many years Master of the Tewkesbury Society, and he also called, on the Abbey bells, the first 1,008 Double Norwich Major in the county.

Muffled ringing took place at the Abbey in memory of the deceased, and a muffled peal was also attempted at St. Giles' Church, Willenhall, Staffs.

ILSINGTON BELLS.

The bells at St. Michael's Church, Ilsington, Devon, have been hung on modern fittings with patent adjustable bearings, and put in perfect ringing order by Messrs. Wm. Aggett and Sons, of Chagford.

The bells were tested on Monday week, by numerous ringers, who were highly pleased with the excellent 'go,' and with the improvements so well carried out.

PEAL RINGING.

Peals, we think it is rightly held, are the best indication of the advance of change ringing. Once get a man interested in the art and, if he has any ambition at all, he will not be content until he has rung a peal. Afterwards, much depends upon the kind of band he is ringing with and the manner in which his enthusiasm is developed. If the band is progressive, or even earnest, and the ringer's zest is maintained, they and he will go on to further peals and more advanced methods. And as the peals increase and new methods are practised, so the actual ringing, ought, and we believe in the majority of cases, does improve; indeed, if we may use a paradox, it takes a good band to ring a bad peal in a difficult method, because bad ringing will more often than not bring disaster. On the other hand, a good band, in the true sense of the word, would not tolerate bad ringing in a peal, and would stop.

Peals, then, are as a barometer to our art, and Canon Papillon points out in a letter which appears in another column, how the records in our last issue indicate gratifying progress. As a matter of fact, an analysis of the reports, in almost any week, show that quite a number of new peal ringers are coming into the arena. Probably the next best thing to a 'first peal' is the first in a fresh method, and in this direction again there is constant evidence of advance. One must not overlook the fact that, particularly in country districts, bands have sometimes the greatest difficulty in making progress. They may have the best will in the world to go forward, but circumstances, over which they have no control, place constant obstacles in the way. On the other hand, there are not a few bands in the country who show by their constant ringing of the simpler methods that something is lacking in their enterprise. Yet there is plenty of scope. Recently a peal in thirty methods spliced into seven extents has shown what opportunities there are for six-bell ringers; no eight-bell band should be content until they have reached the 'Surprise' standard, and even on ten bells there have been recent demonstrations proving that there is no reason to remain in the rut, as witness the peals of Clifton and Middlesex Surprise Royal. Never did ringers have finer opportunities to advance than are presented to-day. Rings of bells are growing rapidly in number, composers have given us a vast variety of methods and compositions to ring, and from the time a man sets his foot on the bottom rung of the campanological ladder there ought to be no pause till he reaches the top. But there are still large numbers apparently content to go on just as they have done for years. It is another instance of that apathy which seems characteristic of many ringers, and out of which even dynamite would hardly move them.

REOPENING OF BAMPTON BELLS.A DEVON RESTORATION.

A day, for which ringers in Bampton and the neighbourhood had waited many years, dawned on Saturday, Feb. 10th, when the six bells were reopened after having been rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The churchwardens' accounts showed that the bells have not been allowed to remain undisturbed during the past 200 years, for in 1726-27 'Mr. Thomas Wrath was paid £16 19s. for casting the third bell and for adding 120 pounds of mettell at 12d. a pound,' and in 1729-30 another entry records 'pd, for casting the 2nd bell and for adding 121 pounds of mettell at 12d. a pound, £15 15s.,' whilst on Easter Monday, 1799, it was agreed 'that the five bells in the tower be now cast into six bells, and completed with an entire new cage of timber, the frames 10in. x 6in., the brace pieces 10in. x 4in., and that Thomas Billie, of Cullompton, do complete the whole as aforesaid for £90, to be completed by 5th of November.' A later note adds that 'the bargain was extended to May 1st, 1800, and the price of all work was £123 12s. 6d.' The bells have now been quarter-turned and hung with self-aligning ball bearings in totally enclosed dustproof housings, and the old oak frame has been bolted together. Much satisfaction was expressed at the 'go' of the bells.

A special service was held in church at two o'clock, during which the Vicar's warden requested the Rural Dean (the Rev. T. C. Boves) to dedicate the work which had been done to the bells, after which a few rounds were rung on the bells by the local hand. The Rev. E. I. Teesdale (Nymet St. George) read the lesson, and an excellent sermon was preached by the Rev. E. J. Barton, chairman of the N.E. branch of the Devonshire Guild, in the course of which he congratulated the Vicar and the parishioners upon the ready response which had been accorded to their efforts to raise the necessary funds not only in Bampton itself, but amongst ringing friends far and wide. Tracing the history and use of bells from the seventh century, he referred in strong terms to the evil of 'clocking,' and attributed the improvements in our belfries to the introduction of scientific ringing. He spoke of the curfew, the market bell, the gleaming bell which gave the signal to the poor that they might go and gather the corn, the fire bell, the parish bell, and the distinctly religious use of bells to call men to worship in their Parish Church. He bore testimony to the need of mental alertness in ringers, and said how valuable a mental training change ringing supplied. He concluded with an appeal that the religious character of a ringer's work should not be overlooked, so that God's Kingdom might be enlarged by their lives and by their service.

Nearly eighty ringers were present from Bickleigh, Calverleigh, Dulverton, Exeter, Exminster, Halberton, Holcombe Rogus, Huntsham, London, Morebath, Nymet St. George, Skilgate, Stoodleigh, Thorverton, Tiverton and Washfield. Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, and a few courses of Bob Minor, as well as call changes, were rung during the afternoon and evening, whilst a clever exhibition upon handbells of raising and falling the bells, etc., was given by four members of the Morebath band in the Drill Hall during the tea, as also double-handed Grandsire Triples by ringers from Bampton, Halberton, Exeter, London and Tiverton, which was keenly appreciated by the parishioners.

During the tea, the Vicar (the Rev. E. V. Cox), in the course of his remarks, referred to the generous and friendly support which he had received from many of his ringing friends in different parts of the country.

Of the £160 required for rehanging the bells, new ropes, etc., only £17 still remain to be raised. The local hand is hopeful of speedy progress, and looks forward to ringing 720's of Minor before many weeks have passed.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

The annual meeting of the Ludlow and Church Stretton District, held at Bromfield, was a great success, there being 45 ringers present, including the Diocesan Ringing Master (Mr. Chas. Edwards) and three clergy ringers—the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, Hopesay (District Ringing Master); the Rev. H. J. Scott, Clun; and the Rev. — Jones, Knighton, together with members from Berrington, Bitterley, Clun, Clumbury, Hay, Knighton, Ludlow and Tenbury, and the local ringers, who are making remarkably good progress under the conductorship of Mr. Geo. Randle.

The Guild service (which the organist, Mr. F. Brayshaw, and choir very kindly attended) was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Canon Cheshire, who also gave a most interesting and delightful address, which was much appreciated.

Canon and Mrs. Cheshire afterwards generously entertained the whole party to an excellent tea at the Vicarage, and the ringers take this opportunity of recording their sincere thanks to them and to all who helped to make the day so very enjoyable.

During the afternoon and evening ringing took place in the following methods: Plain Bob and Grandsire Minor, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles, whilst assistance was also readily given to beginners. Twenty-one new members were enrolled.

GUARDIAN OF BOSTON'S BELLS.THE LATE DR. A. H. NICHOLS.

'Boston,' said the Boston Sunday Herald in a recent issue, 'has lost the guardian of her bells.'

The man who knew and loved every bell of any size and value in the city and who is responsible for nearly every set of chimes placed in belfries of the Hub and adjoining towns—Dr. Arthur H. Nichols, of 55, Mt. Vernon Street—died recently while visiting one of his tenants in Roxbury.

He was 82 years of age, and one of the most public spirited and esteemed physicians of his times.

Medicine and surgery were his vocation, and bells his avocation. Modesty on his part has prevented his remarkable story from being told, and only now—when his ears are deaf to the music of the steeples—are the facts available telling of his identity with the great bronze voices of church and school.

Seventy years ago as a boy he made friends with the bells of the old North Church, and was proud and happy to be assistant to the bell ringer. Many a time he clambered up the dusty stairways to the belfry loft, made famous by the lanterns of Paul Revere, and with the pigeons watched and listened.

He was more interested to know that Paul Revere was founder and ringer of bells than that he made his midnight ride to Lexington.

As the seasons rolled by, with many a new year rung in from Christ Church and from other Boston belfries, this young enthusiast conceived an ambition for his city; that it might be noted for its beautiful bells and for its trained bell ringers.

He read eagerly all literature on bell ringing and on the qualities of bells. He studied right methods of bell hanging, and he listened for exceptional tones and overtones. The bells became his friends, his companions, and he felt he could understand something, at least, of the messages they sent out over the city.

His interest in this aerial music was more than that of a musician or of an expert mechanic; his soul was filled with aspirations and emotions lifted high and carried out over the city with the mammoth notes of harmonious bells.

He dreamed of a bell-laden Boston singing to the heavens from the up-reaching steeples. He was sure that a city of bells and of experienced bell ringers would help to lift its people to higher planes of thinking and of acting.

Each new bell installed was an eventful occasion for this youth, and he studied inscriptions and learned the history of each newcomer.

Much of his interest in Boston's bells was instinctive; his ancestors had been bell ringers, and their ancestors before them. It was in the blood, and his very nerves were knit together in tune with steeple melody.

To the very last he kept closely in touch with each belfry and tower, the homes of his beloved bells. He knew them all, and on a Sunday morning would call attention of friends to this and that note as it rolled its way across housetops and gardens.

The voices of Boston's bells were as familiar to him as were words spoken by close relatives. Christ Church, Advent, Second Parish, Dorchester, Old South, the steel bells of the German Catholic Church in the South End—he understood and recognised them all.

Individual bells, however, had not the same attraction for this artist as had sets of bells such as those in the church of the Advent, Christ Church, Perkins Institute, Groton, and in a few other New England towers. It had long been the ambition of this veteran to have a 'peal' rung in Boston such as 30,000 bell ringers in England achieve frequently, in 3,000 or 4,000 belfries.

This bell guardian of Boston watched opportunities for new peals, and when the Government began construction of the Custom House tower he and his friends brought pressure upon those responsible for the tower to place in the top a reproduction of the famous Bow bells, the largest and finest in the world.

The order was in its final stages, and the old man gloried in what he believed would be a great artistic and musical addition to the city. He described to his friends the inspiring effect of those prospective chimes sending out their messages of melody and harmony to the busy citizens of Boston. Ships coming into the harbour would be met with a song; immigrants would be welcomed to the new world; and fishermen, after weeks of storm and stress, would sail up the harbour to the tune of sweet bells.

It was too good to be true, and sinister political forces—prominent among whom was a bell foundry trust—became busy, and finally compelled the Government to reject the Bow bells from London. And to-day the tower stands in dumb protest against forces which deprive mankind of joy and art and inspiration.

Although this Boston lover of bells was one of the busiest professional men, he found time to keep track of all his bronze family, and held in his memory a store of information amazing to those who have had no such avocation as bell ringing.

In spite of great enthusiasm on the part of a few bell ringers and bell lovers in New England and in America, with one exception there has been no peal rung in the United States. Once in Christ Church, Philadelphia, there was a successful peal, but that stands alone.

SIMPSON TUNING.

'THE BAGPIPE DRONE.'

Dear Sir,—I cannot congratulate the Rev. Cecil H. Clarke upon his feeble attempt, in your issue of the 2nd inst., to stultify my contention that the accentuation of the harmonics in church bells spoils their melody when rung in peal, and is productive of that dismal 'howl' which is so justly complained of by lovers of a clear, toned peal of bells. The platitudes about consecutive octaves and fifths are beside the point, and are only red herrings drawn across the track—another instance of underestimating the intelligence of ringers. My sincere thanks are, however, due to him for the opportunity he has afforded for the opinions of the other side to be ventilated.

The contribution of Mr. Paddon Smith upon the subject is a most intelligible and lucid exposition of what has been latent in the minds of many experienced ringers for some time past.

We may all rest assured that with their modern equipment for tuning bells upon mathematical calculations, there will still be founders, as in former days, producing well tuned bells, whose timbre, or tone colour, are not unduly interfered with by blatant harmonics.

In concluding my part in the controversy of 'Theory versus experience,' I most heartily thank you, sir, for your courtesy in throwing open the columns of 'The Ringing World' for the purpose of elucidating the cause of the bagpipe drone—yes! bagpipe, that is the phrase—that we have had lately inflicted upon us.

I am now convinced that it is produced by a medley of sounds occasioned by accentuated harmonics, when such bells are rung in peal.

The subject of harmonics is far too complicated a physical study to be entered into here, and the serious student is referred to Helmholtz's 'Sensations of Tone,' etc., or Hills' 'Catechism of Harmony, Thorough Bass and Modulation,' which contains all that is to be learned of common chords, consecutives, triads and my non-de-plume. —Yours truly,
A FLAT SEVENTH.

SOME EFFECTS OF SIMPSON TUNING.

Sir,—The preference of many persons for a bell tuned on the old system is, I think, due to the fact that the harmonics of such a bell are a major third and a perfect fifth, the hum-note being judged to be of secondary importance (if not obtainable in unison), provided it is not too sharp. Such bells are bright in tone and distinctly heard, inside the ringing chamber and outside, when rung in peal. It is assumed by many persons nowadays that if a bell is 'Simpson' tuned it is bound to be in tune, but I do not find this to be the case with many 'Simpson' bells, having under certain conditions of the wind and atmosphere heard such bells emit a group of notes which to a musical ear are offensive. It appears that in order to get, say, the fundamental, nominal and hum-note of a C bell in unison, the other harmonics are sacrificed, and become 'hazy,' the E becoming almost B flat, whilst the F also emerges, and clashes with G. At times one would suppose the bell was in F. This is considered by many musicians to be quite wrong. It is, I think, the cause of the 'dismal howl' complained of by some of your readers and if tried on a piano or other instrument the effect would be a great deal worse. I do not think any attention to the ringing chamber will avail anything, for often no bell in a peal has a true harmonic third at all, except the top-note of the sixth, which is often difficult to hear in the ringing chamber, on account of its being 'swallowed up.' Certain atmospheric conditions increase this slight discord by flattening the bells still further; but the same conditions tend to improve the tone of a bell with a flat seventh. We have heard nothing from the founders upon this question; they may have good reasons for what they do, and some remarks by them would doubtless be very interesting. There is no doubt that the Simpson principle of tuning does not find favour with a large number of ringers and others.—Yours, etc.,
A LOVER OF MUSIC.

THE REMOVAL OF CANNONS.

Sir,—The chief objection to Simpson tuning seems to me to be the destruction of so many good ancient bells, and good modern ones, too, for the sake of this craze. I have two cases in my mind at the present time, viz., Rochester Cathedral and Westbury (Wilts). But there are many others which I cannot enumerate. Probably bells tuned on the Simpson principle are all very well for carillons for tune playing, but not for ringing purposes. Anyhow, the destruction of good bells, whether old or new, is quite unwarrantable; let alone the money spent thereon which might be devoted to more useful objects.

With regard to cutting off cannons, I am sorry to say that this seems positively necessary in the case of large ancient long-waisted bells with very high cannons (the argant often projecting considerably above them) if they are to be made pealable.

With regard to the case of Chalk, mentioned in the 'Guardian,' and in your issue of the 2nd inst., there seems no reason whatever for the removal of the cannons, as they are only a light peal of three with a tenor under 10 cwt.—Yours, etc.,
J. R. JERRAM.

'NOT HALF DONE.'

Sir,—Being an admirer of 'true' Simpson tuning, I was very interested in the question raised by Mr. E. Barnett, 'Is the Simpson tuning overdone?' The answer is given clearly and concisely by the Rev. Cecil H. Clarke, and I am of the same opinion as the reverend gentleman, but would have answered another way. No! it's not half done (sometimes), and it is my candid opinion that it has come to stay. Now, when Mr. Barnett says, 'That not one ringer in a thousand cares a snap of the fingers for any of the notes above the clapper strikes,' I say, 'Oh, well, I think that's an horizontal, fallacious hyperbole!' And that's that! But wait, he then goes on and says, 'The true judge of the musical qualities of a bell is the experienced ringer with 'an ear.' Now where are we? Another problem raised pertaining to acoustics, which is in my opinion equally as diversified as the views of ringers on the subject of 'S.T.'—however, it would be of interest to hear the views of ringers with 'two ears' (probably they be more evenly balanced and unbiassed), especially on peals which are 'tuned,' I believe, on the S. P., such as Bradford Cathedral, Westbury, St. George's, Hyde, Ditcheat, Exeter Cathedral, and that insignificant peal of ten at Beverley Minster, which has in 'Great John' a bass accompaniment. Are these peals melodious? or are they odiously ornithological? Then Mr. Barnett speaks of 'broken skin' (and in a former letter of sacrilege). Now I have been in a few towers seeking knowledge in one of the ramifications of English archeology, and I find as a ringer and archeologist, that more sacrilege and vandalism were perpetrated by parsons and churchwardens in towns as well as villages, at the beginning of the 19th century, when it was the craze to obtain bells cast by a pet founder, who was at that period enjoying a monopoly. This was responsible for the loss of more old bells than the 'S. P.' craze is to-day! Concerning 'broken skin,' the skinning as done upon 'S. T.' bells is, in my opinion, an advantage; for it shows up 'porosity' (if there), and this skinning is by far superior to the hacking as much as three-quarters of an inch off the whole circumference of the lip! and at times the whole harrowing of the entire internal waist, in perpendicular lines reaching from soundbow to shoulder, in a succession of ridges such as one finds on a leg of roast pork, or a lady's accordion-pleated skirt. The question has now resolved itself into this: If ancient bells, which have been abominably hacked and disfigured to achieve the brilliancy of tone which they are attributed to possess, can and do retain both resonating breath and elasticity, I fail to see why a good, sound, homogeneous cohesive bell casting of the 20th century, tuned (skirted, if that phrase is preferred) on the 'S. P.,' will not retain both tone and resilience equal to its post-Reformation or mediæval predecessors which have been hacked and chopped internally by the old tuner.

If a bell, old or new, is porous, and unhomogeneous in composition, and literally 'blow holes and sand,' no tuning in the world will produce tone to equal the resonance of 'O. A. B.'s' evenly cut, or cast 'Laskit!' Nor will it have the resilience of the aforesaid 'Laskit,' or even the ineffaceable memory of cohesive attraction and repulsion which is to be found when ruminating a mediæval whelk!

In all probability the Greek 'phylosopher' Pythagoras was alluding to bells tuned on the old plan, when he spoke of 'the music of the spheres'! (Give it just another eyestricker, Mr. Editor, to make it a five tone, please!) As an archeologist I advocate preserving mediævals and early post-Reformation, and any tuned on the old plan which are full of splinters, sound and fury, signifying nothing but sentiment, hang them up dead! and use them for Angelus, curfew, or odd service bells!

But as a progressive Campanist and Churchman I advocate a new peal, of one homogeneous composition and tuned on the true Simpson principle, leaving a heritage for the generations of Churchmen yet unborn that is worthy, lasting and harmonious! In conclusion, let future generations draw for themselves a comparison of the tone, which we inherited, and that which we leave to posterity.

IRENÆUS PISTOR.

THE D-FECTS AND E-FECTS.

Sir,—How thin must be Mr. Barnett's opinion of Simpson tuning, when he states: 'It is probably an accident or the tower hides their D-fects.' Now, if the tower hides their D-fects, other towers must hide their E-fects. I think myself your leader of this week touches the vital spot. It seems to me to be a case of it being always the neighbour's cat which howls. One wonders if it is a case of the fox and the grapes. Yet these critics advocate bell buffers, which, while deadening the clapper blow, must increase the hum note, for which they have no liking. 'Once a Beginner's' argument sounded all right, with a glass of ye olde beverage. It filled the place of the cruet. But 'ye bell is not cut from ye solid block,' merely skimmed and in some cases practically untouched, and what relation rubber is to copper and tin my poor knowledge cannot grasp. We have all heard the wonderful stories of what our ancestors did. No doubt our 'cum-cestors' will hear similar tales of ourselves. I contend that, if a bell is cast heavy enough for its size, Simpson tuning will neither damage its tone nor life.—Yours truly, A FLAT.

ST. MARY ABBOTS' GUILD.

The annual dinner of the St. Mary Abbots' Guild took place in the Vicarage Hall, and proved a great success. The splendid arrangements, coupled with the excellent catering, made the gathering extremely enjoyable. The Rev. Marling Roberts, Vicar, presided, supported by the Rev. S. A. Spackman, chaplain, and Mr. Garrard. The visitors present were Major-General Sir Stanley Von Donop, Sir James Brooks and Mr. Reginald Carter, churchwardens; Capt. Fielding and Messrs. A. B. Bennett, W. T. Cockerill, B. A. Daniel, C. P. Winney, A. R. Macdonald and Miss Bolton. The chaplain read a letter of regret from the Rev. R. F. R. Routh—an enthusiastic ringing member, who is now Rector of a church near Saffron Walden—at being unable to be present.

The toast of 'The King' was enthusiastically honoured. Mr. A. V. Selbie, in a few well-chosen words, welcomed the visitors, and said what a great pleasure it gave the Guild to have them with them that night.—Mr. Cockerill replied.

Mr. Bennett submitted 'The St. Mary Abbots' Guild,' coupling with it the name of the worthy and much esteemed conductor, Mr. Garrard, who, despite the ups and downs a conductor encounters, is always the same.

In reply, Mr. Garrard thanked the company for the way the toast was received, and gave a summary of the annual report, mentioning that owing to increased membership, and the progress made by junior members, he had been able to revive the Sunday rota, which worked so well in pre-war days. A heavier clapper, with rubber buffers, has been fitted to the tenor bell with splendid results.

Sir James Brooks and Major-General Sir Stanley Von Donop both spoke of the genuine pleasure it gave them to be with the party, the latter stating that having spent a lot of time abroad nothing appealed to him more than the sound of church bells on Sundays in England.

The rest of the evening was spent in songs and with handbells. The Rev. S. A. Spackman, an accomplished musician, was at the piano. Mr. Bennett gave a couple of songs in his usual artistic manner. Mr. Selly rendered in fine style 'The Deathless Army,' for which an encore was demanded and given. Mr. R. A. Daniel contributed a few of his 'evergreens,' which proved most acceptable. Mr. Percy Clarke was in good form, and rendered 'Friend o' Mine' and 'Thora.' Other contributors to the programme were Messrs Brown and Macdonald. Courses of Stedman and Grandsire Caters were also enjoyed and brought round by the following: Messrs. Cockerill, Winney, Garrard, Roberts, Judd and Holloway. The singing of 'God save the King' and 'Auld Lang Syne' brought a jolly evening to a close.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

FOLKESTONE ASKS FOR TRANSFER.

The annual meeting of the Canterbury District was held at Faversham, and ringers were present from Faversham, Ospringe, Boughton, Canterbury, Dover, Birchington, Littlebourne, Wingham, Wickhambreux, Teynham, also visitors from Charing, Ashford District, Sittingbourne, Rochester District. Mr. C. Deau (Croydon) was also present. Ringing in standard methods were successfully accomplished by the mixed bands.

A short service, in which the association form was used, was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. Reeve), assisted by the Rev. A. H. Kennedy. The subsequent tea was followed by the business meeting.

—The Vicar presided, and gave the visitors a very hearty welcome to Faversham. Messrs. K. Guyler and C. Wilkins were elected full members of the Dover band, and there were also elected Messrs. R. Baldock and W. Baldock, St. Stephen's, Canterbury; the Rev. A. H. Kennedy and Mr. A. Sands, Faversham; and Mr. E. Lincoln, of Bungalow, non-resident life member.

The district secretary (Mr. E. Buesden) was re-elected; Messrs. C. Millway and F. Brett, Canterbury, were elected as representative for 1923 on the Central Committee.

The meetings arranged for the ensuing year are: Deal and Walmer, on Whit Monday; autumn meeting at Elham; annual meeting, 1924, Canterbury.

A short discussion took place with regard to the application of Folkestone to be transferred to Canterbury District from Ashford District. It was proposed that a district meeting be arranged at Folkestone by the Canterbury district secretary.—The Secretary, however, explained that he could not make any arrangement for a meeting out of the district, unless it was a combined meeting, and the proposition not being seconded, was eventually dropped.

A letter of congratulation was sent to the Rev. F. J. O. Holmore from the meeting on his accomplishing 200 peals.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar and church officials, also the local secretary (Mr. Harman) for carrying out the duties of ringing M.C. for the afternoon, were carried unanimously, as was also a vote of thanks to Mr. Drake for presiding at the organ.

The Vicar proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the district secretary for his past services, saying it must have taken a lot of time and patience to keep the district up to the present standard of excellence. It appeared to him that young people had not the patience of the older generation to stick to ringing.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The new ring of eight at Norwich (by Messrs. Taylor and Co.) is to be dedicated next Tuesday evening, and a ringers' meeting is to be held on the following Saturday.

A peal at Steventon, Berks, is worthy of special note. The band, with one exception, was local, and it was the first peal by all except the conductor. Moreover, all the ringers are members of the choir. This latter adds unique distinction to the performance.

Mr. James George is creeping on—not in years, of course. Judged by performances he gets younger. His peal total now reaches three-quarters of a thousand; his age, shall we say, half a hundred?

The peal of eight bells at Trowbridge, Wilts, which were restored in 1912 by Messrs. Llewellyns and James are to have two new trebles added by the same firm. This will be the first peal of ten bells in the county of Wilts, and all ringers are invited to attend the opening ceremony on Easter Monday afternoon.

A great performance was completed on March 10th, 1784, when the College Youths rang a peal of 7,008 Oxford Treble Bob Maximus at Southwark, and Samuel Mugeridge rang the tenor single-handed in 5 hrs. 48 mins. This record length of Treble-Twelve stood until the year 1802.

It was on the same bells on March 12th, 1758, that the society rang the first peal of Treble Bob Maximus on record.

The first peal on the bells at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields was rung on March 14th, 1727, by the London Scholars, about whose history very little is known. Only three peals are on record, although they probably rang others. The peal at St. Martin's was 6,006 Grandsire Cinques, and on the following day the College Youths rang 6,314 in the same method on the same bells.

The first peal by the Eastern Scholars was a 5,040 'Grandsire Tribbles' at St. Dunstan's-in-the-East on March 13th, 1733.

On March 14th, 1837, a peal of 10,133 Grandsire Caters was rung at Christ Church, Bristol, in 5 hrs. 54 mins.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The annual meeting of the Council will be held on May 22nd (Whit Tuesday) next, at Salisbury. Full particulars of the meeting will be published later. Notice of any proposed motion should be sent before April 21st.

Secretaries please note that the annual subscription is now due, and should be sent to the hon. secretary, Mr. E. Alexr. Young, 155, Rushey Green, S.E.6.

The following Associations have paid: Durham and Newcastle, Stafford, Central Northampton, Dudley and District, Salop, London County, Kent County and Oxford Diocesan.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

NOTTINGHAM DISTRICT'S NEW SECRETARY.

A very successful monthly meeting of Nottingham district was held at Ilkeston on Feb. 24th, attended by about 40 members, representing Greasley, Beeston, Bulwell, Bottesford, Cotgrave, Radcliffe, Breadsall, Long Eaton, Eastwood, Nottingham and Southwell; also visitors from Leiston (Suffolk), Derby and Duffield, including one lady member, and the local band. About 40 sat down to tea in the local cafe, the Vicar (the Rev. A. W. Bell) presiding supported by the Rev. C. Fogarty (curate), and Mr. H. Simpson, churchwarden. The vice-president (Mr. Albert Coppock) presided at the business meeting. Two towers were proposed for the next meeting, Whatton (6) and Lenton (8). On being put to the meeting Lenton was decided upon.

Mr. T. H. Kirkby resigned the office of secretary, owing to pressure of business, and it was resolved that Mr. F. Blood be asked to carry on.

The Chairman proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Kirkby, on behalf of the members, for his great service to the association for a number of years as local representative, and wished him good luck in his future venture.—Mr. Blood also replied, thanking the members for his election, and asking them to rally round and make the district a little more alive.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar (the Rev. A. W. Bell) for the use of the bells, and for his presence at the meeting, was carried unanimously; the Vicar responding.

The tower was again visited, and the bells rung until eight o'clock, when a social hour was spent with the local men in song and handbell ringing, this concluding one of the best meetings ever held by this branch.

An interesting event during this meeting was the presentation of a gold pendant to Mr. E. C. Gobey by his fellow ringers at St. Mary's Church as a mark of their esteem.—Mr. Iliffe gave a short account of his career, and the presentation was made by Churchwarden Mr. H. Simpson, who spoke in glowing terms of Mr. Gobey, and wished him long life and success.—Mr. Gobey suitably acknowledged the gift.

INDICATIONS OF PROGRESS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Though never much of a peal ringer, and now long past any such effort, I take much interest in your weekly record of peals, as an indication of the progress of change ringing from time to time. May I note one recent feature of this record that strikes me as very satisfactory, viz., the large proportion of peals in the simpler and easier methods with footnotes indicating 'first peal' by individual members or by a whole band? The 'big guns' no longer monopolise the field with 'Surprise' performances; there is room for those humbler efforts which in many a country parish represent as much patient perseverance as more conspicuous successes. For example, in your record of last week (March 2nd), I note three 10-bell peals, one Treble Bob Royal, one Stedman Caters, and one of Bob Royal. This latter, the first by all except three of the ringers and the first as conductor, with a lady of the 2nd, in honour of whose approaching marriage the peal was rung. Of twenty-two 8-bell peals, 7 were Grandsire Triples, 6 Stedman Triples, 2 Treble Bob Major, 3 Plain Bob Major, 1 Double Norwich, and 3 in 'Surprise' methods. We admire the skill of our 'Surprise' ringers, and look to them to uphold the highest standards of our art. But, remembering how many change ringers will never attain to such heights, we value equally the modest efforts of a village band, and 'first peal' successes by unknown ringers.

In the same issue of your paper is recorded a new departure, which to many will appear an undesirable precedent, viz., an annual district meeting held on Sunday. Let us hope that this will not 'catch on.' It will do no good, and may do much harm, to the cause.—Yours faithfully,

T. L. PAPILLON.

Late Master of the Essex Association.

IRISH ASSOCIATION'S LATE PRESIDENT.

On Monday of last week the Irish Association rang a muffled peal of Grandsire Caters at St. Patrick's Cathedral in memory of their late President, the Rt. Hon. R. R. Cherry, P.C., whose death has already been recorded, and who was buried at St. George's Cemetery, Dublin, on February 13th. The funeral service was held at St. Patrick's Cathedral, the Dean officiating. As the cortege left the building the 'whole pull and stand' was rung on the twelve bells, and the St. Patrick's band, of which the late Mr. Cherry was a member, sent a wreath made in the shape of a bell.

The Rt. Hon. Richard Cherry showed his interest in bells not only by taking his part in the service ringing while health and the claims of high office enabled him to do so, but he gave the two trebles to St. Patrick's in 1909, and had the semi-toned bell hung to make a light octave. He had rung ten peals, viz., Grandsire Triples 3 (on tower bells 1, on handbells 2), Grandsire Caters 2, Grandsire Cinques 1, Stedman Triples 2, Stedman Caters 2.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

PORTSMOUTH DISTRICT DISCUSSES DIVISION OF DIOCESE.

A very successful meeting of the Portsmouth district was held on Saturday last at Wickham and Sheffield, and glorious weather prevailed. Both towers were available during the afternoon and evening, and were used to full advantage by the 38 ringers present, the methods rung including Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Bob and Treble Bob Minor, Oxford and College Single and Cambridge Surprise.

A service was held at Wickham at 5 o'clock, at which the Rector (the Rev. E. H. Duke) officiated; the Guild form of service was used, and the address was given by the Rector, who being a ringer himself, was able to impress those present by his few words.

Tea was served at a local cafe, at which a good spread awaited the ringers. This was followed by the business meeting, presided over by Mr. W. Tate (chairman), supported by Mr. E. J. Harding, senr. (district secretary) and Messrs. H. J. Smith and F. W. Rogers (Central Committeemen). Several new members were elected, after which the representatives gave a report of the Central Committee meeting held at Winchester on the previous Saturday, and this was unanimously adopted.

The question of the proposed division of the diocese was next discussed by the members, and the general feeling of those present was that, if possible, instead of forming three new Diocesan Guilds, the present 'Winchester Diocesan Guild' should continue as in the past under some such title as 'The Winchester, Guildford and Portsmouth Diocesan Association.'

It was decided to hold the next meeting at West Meon on Saturday, May 26th, due notice of which will appear in 'The Ringing World.'

At the conclusion, the Chairman proposed a hearty vote of thanks both to the Rector of Wickham and the Vicar of Sheffield for the use of the bells, which was carried unanimously.

During the day members were present from Alverstoke, Curdridge, Fareham, Gosport, Havant, North Stoneham, Portsmouth (St. Mary's and St. Thomas's), Shedfield, Swanmore, Titchfield, Wickham and Winchester. The visitors included Mr. G. Williams (Master), Mr. G. Pulinger (Recorder of peals) and Mr. H. Marriott (Hythe), also Mr. J. Bruce Williamson and a friend of Whitwell (I.O.W.).

WEST WYCOMBE CHURCH BELLS.

AN APPEAL FOR HELP.

The little village of West Wycombe, Buckingham, about two miles from High Wycombe, is known to tourists and many others throughout the land. This village is famous for its church, mausoleum and caves, half-way up the steep hill, leading to the church. Erected by Lord Despencer, the mausoleum contains various monuments to members of the Dashwood family, and adjoins the church, but, unfortunately, is seldom, if ever, open to visitors. The Parish Church, which is dedicated to St. Laurence, is a remarkable structure, and stands on the top of a steep hill, around which are remnants of British entrenchments. Inside the church is to be seen the beautiful picture of the Last Supper on the chancel ceiling; the 'eye of Judas' being very noticeable. The font, with the snake and doves ('evil after good'), and the arm chairs used as pulpit and reading desk, are also interesting; entrance to the pulpit being gained by means of some drawers pulled out to serve as steps! At the top of the tower is a large ball, capable of holding, it is said, 'twelve persons and a gallon of beer.' Local historians assert in reference to this ball, 'that the designer of this church seems to have had "a screw loose somewhere," for the eccentric nobleman who was responsible for the curiosities of the church would call his friends and neighbours together, ascend the tower with them, and hold informal meetings in this queer chamber.'

The tower contains six bells, but for many years they have been practically unringable, and for a long time, owing to the danger of the framework, only a little chiming has been allowed. An old bell in the church loft bears the date 1688. Some of the bells in the tower are even older, and it may be interesting to give their weight and makers: Treble, weight, 5 cwt., makers, Lester and Pack, 1756; second, 5½ cwt., Henry Knight, 1821; third, 6½ cwt., Joseph Carter, 1581; fourth, 8½ cwt., Henry Knight, 1820; fifth, 10½ cwt., Lester and Pack, 1762; tenor, 13½ cwt., Thomas Mears, 1828.

A movement has been on foot for some time to improve matters, with a view to rehanging, and an estimate was obtained for a new oak frame for eight bells and rehanging the present six. The tenor of Mr. White, of Appleton, for this work is £268 10s. 6d. This gentleman also added an estimate for two new treble bells, to complete the ring of eight, this amounting to over £126 10s. The local friends have been working tremendously hard by means of fetes, etc., to raise sufficient money for the reframing and rehanging, and, considering the size of the village, are to be highly complimented. Now, two generous donors, who wish to remain anonymous, have offered to provide money for two new bells, providing the work is put in hand at once, and practically finished by Whitsuntide. That the organisers have done remarkably well as proved by the fact that they now require only about £160; and the Church Council are making herculean efforts to obtain that sum.

These few notes are penned in the hope that many among the ringing fraternity will assist with contributions, and, if possible, ask their friends to subscribe. The raising of such a sum is a big task for a small village; and when one considers the advantages of a ring of eight in a church of such historic association, ideal, old-world surroundings, one is filled with hope that the ringers' contribution will be handsome and worthy of their reputation. Mr. W. A. Day, churchwarden, of West Wycombe, will be most grateful for any donations towards the cost of the proposed work.

RINGERS WANTED IN BOSTON, U.S.A.

HINTS TO INTENDING EMIGRANTS.

Mr. Richard Newton, late of Manchester, and now of 23, State Street, Boston, U.S.A., sends a few words of advice to those ringers who think of seeking fortune across the Atlantic. He writes:—

You who wish to come to the United States to make a new start, or on a visit, in the first place, must not expect anyone to have a job of work waiting for you, for it is impossible, and it is against the laws of the country to promise work to anyone before they land. You must come here, like we all did, on the chance of making new friends and so getting acquainted. Do not write to me or any of us saying you are a clerk, for a clerk here is a shop assistant in a dry goods store or big department store. Book-keeping and clerks' work here is somewhat different to what it is in England, on account of the difference in the coinage, and nearly all book-keepers go to some special college to study for the particular line which they intend to follow, for everyone here specialises, and they are mostly very good, too. We would welcome a few ringers in Boston. There are only six of us now—so some of you come; we will do our best—after you get here. Work is fairly good, but not so good as it might be.

BEDFIELD.—On Feb. 23rd, at St. Nicholas' Church, 720 Cambridge Surprise: D. Read 1, F. Ruffles 2, E. Curtis 3, G. Stannard 4, P. Potter 5, W. Ruffles (conductor) 6. First 720 in the Surprise method on the bells and by all the band.—720 Woodbine Treble Bob was also rung by D. Read 1, G. Stannard 2, F. Ruffles 3, W. Ruffles (conductor) 4, P. Potter 5, E. Curtis 6.

Mr. J. F. Smallwood submitted the toast of 'Kindred Ringing Societies.' He said there were three objects which it was generally claimed ringing societies stood for, the first was the promotion of the art of change ringing, the second was the recognition of ringers as church workers, and the third was belfry reform; but their societies also stood for something else. In promoting the art of change ringing they promoted the spirit of brotherhood and good comradeship (applause). Among the societies represented that night was the Ancient Society of College Youths, which had stood for nearly three hundred years for the objects for which all their societies existed. They stood also for progress, and were looked up to as an example. It was necessary that they should continually introduce new blood into their societies if they were to live to the same great age as the College Youths, who had a splendid system of perpetuating the society by electing their officers from year to year. They appointed stewards who, in a kind of Masonic way, were promoted until they got to the top of the tree. It was a great thing for young ringers to look forward to, to reach the highest office in their society. They brought in new blood, new enthusiasm and new ideas. Among the other societies whom they were pleased to welcome were the Royal Cumberland Youths, the Worcester and Districts Association, the Staffordshire Society and Warwickshire Guild, the Yorkshire Association, which was the biggest ringing society in the country, the Ladies' Guild, the Bath and Wells Association, the North Wales Association, the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association, the Hereford and Salop Guilds, the Gloucester and Bristol Association, the Kent, the Middlesex, the Essex and the Surrey Associations. They wished them all godspeed in their work, and hoped they would continue in their efforts until there was not a single belfry in this country where ringing was unknown. He coupled with the toast the names of Mr. A. A. Hughes, of the College Youths, and Mr. P. J. Johnson, hon. secretary of the Yorkshire Association.

The toast was cordially drunk, and Mr. Hughes, who first responded, said St. Martin's Guild enjoyed a great reputation in twelve-bell ringing societies. They much admired the very high standard that was set in Birmingham, and they of the College Youths greatly admired the performances of the Guild. Particularly would he refer to the peal of Sextuples and to the Treble Bob Fourteen, which were extraordinary performances. In conclusion, he thanked the Guild for their hospitality to the visitors.

Mr. P. J. Johnson said they in Yorkshire always had and always would connect Birmingham with the greatest traditions of change ringing. Birmingham had been famed for such men as Thurstans, John and Thomas Day and Henry Johnson, and while they were there to do honour to one of the brightest gems in the ringing tradition, he claimed that his association was a lusty infant created from the venerable societies such as the College Youths and St. Martin's Guild (applause). In coming there that night it was an honour to the visitors to be allowed to be associated with the traditions built up by that Guild, and he hoped the Guild would take their presence as indicating not merely their desire to meet in a fraternal gathering, but for the purpose of honouring some of the greatest names that had ever been associated with change ringing (applause).

A HINT TO WRITERS.

Mr. A. P. Smith proposed the toast of 'The Ringing World,' and appealed to those present to do all in their power to assist in extending the circulation of the ringers' only paper. He said a recent census showed that there were over 30,000 ringers in this country, and it was a disgrace that only a very small proportion supported the paper. If only one-half of the ringers supported it they would probably be able to have a paper double the size at half the present price. Proceeding, Mr. Smith condemned in scathing terms those who inflicted on the rest of the Exercise letters full of acrimony, ill-feeling and bad taste. It was humiliating to think of the snappy, snarling and nasty letters which sometimes appeared from men who were distinguished exponents of the art all the while they were at the end of a rope, but who lost their halo when they took up a pen. He also suggested that some of those who could not agree upon theoretical questions should not inflict their dissensions upon the readers of a ringing paper, but should find out each other's addresses and conduct their correspondence through the post (hear, hear).

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith responded to the toast.

The Chairman, who said he spoke with an intimate knowledge of journalism, said ringers were a very close body, and the circle to which such a paper as 'The Ringing World' appealed was extremely limited, and, therefore, it behoved everyone to support it. If they did that he was sure the paper would grow in power and grow in excellence (applause).

Alderman Eritchett, in a felicitous speech, proposed 'The Chairman.' That night, he said, they had spent one of the pleasantest and happiest evenings of their lives, and it had been greatly contributed to by the genial and kindly presence of their chairman (applause).—The toast was drunk with musical honours.

The Rector of Birmingham, in responding said he was proud to occupy the chair. He had particularly enjoyed the evening, for one had felt that a real spirit of friendliness pervaded the gathering (applause), and he would take away a pleasant feeling of gratitude for much kindness shown.

At the conclusion of the speech-making, the gathering concluded with the National Anthem.

A feature of the proceedings was the musical programme, some capital songs and duets being sung by Miss D. Walker, Mr. A. A. Walker, Mr. Dai Thomas and Mr. W. Dowding, all of whose efforts greatly delighted the company. The accompanists were Mrs. T. Davies and Miss R. Faulkner. Handbell selections were given by Mr. Mansell's party and Mr. T. Miller's party, and both were enthusiastically encored.

DINNER ITEMS.

The dinner programme is always an interesting souvenir of the gathering, and this year was again of striking interest from the apt quotations with which it was adorned.

Speakers found these quotations useful pegs for some of their remarks, but an amusing incident was provided by an old Yorkshire toast which headed the programme. While admitting that it was necessary to go to Birmingham to hear Stedman Sextuples, Mr. Percy Johnson, the Yorkshire Association's popular secretary, claimed it was necessary to go to Yorkshire to hear this toast correctly given.

The Chairman seized upon the opportunity to ask the man from Leeds to let the company hear the toast in the real vernacular, and great laughter followed the admission of the Yorkshire secretary that he was born in London. The toast proved too much even for him.

The 'Johnson Dinner' does not end with the Saturday night's gathering, it is a festival which extends to the Sunday, and would probably go on until Monday if some could have their way.

Among the company were several who could claim to have attended a considerable number of Johnson Dinners, and it was the 25th consecutive occasion upon which Mr. A. Paddon Smith (the secretary) and Mr. Harry Withers had been present. Mr. Tom Russam was, however, the only one present who could claim to have been at the whole series from their foundation.

An exchange of umbrellas (quite involuntarily) took place after the dinner on Saturday night, some visitor being given in the cloakroom the umbrella belonging to the churchwarden of King's Norton, and leaving his own in place of it. The one that was taken, however, was one that was much valued by its owner, being a presentation umbrella, and if this meets the eye of the visitor who found on his arrival home that he had got the wrong one, he should communicate with Mr. P. Laffin, 33, Midland Road, King's Norton.

THE PEAL AT HEADCORN.

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. Charles Tribe's letter, I want to point out, in the first place, that I simply ask Mr. C. Edwards for the figures of the peal he called. I am not a busybody in other men's matters, or asking him, in spite, but just a member of the K.C.A. anxious for right.

I cannot say, sir, that there is any member suffering grievously over the validity of the peal, but I do know that there are several like myself anxious to see the figures. I consider that it concerns more than the band that took part, whether the peal was true or false. I think it concerns all members of the Exercise. However, Mr. Tribe says he knows of seven who are satisfied. What's wrong with the eighth? Can all these seven forward the figures of the peal they rang; in fact, have they any idea? As regards recording the peal, let me say Mr. Tribe may find space to insert it on the same page as a recent peal of Bob Major at Tenterden. As regards revealing my name, I have no wish to do so at present. Mr. Edwards has the same opportunity of placing the figures before the Exercise, which will give him little or no trouble.—Yours, etc.,

A CORRESPONDENT.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.NORTH BUCKS BRANCH.

A quarterly meeting of the above branch was held at Great Linford on Saturday last, when about 35 members attended, representing Bletchley, Beachampton, Emberton, Penny Stratford, Calverton, Stony Stratford, Shenley, Newport Pagnell, and the local tower. The bells were rung in various methods from 2 p.m. to service time. The Rector of Great Linford (the Rev. Andrews Uthwatt) gave the address, the president of the branch (the Rev. L. Moxon), Newport Pagnell, assisting in the service. Tea in the School Room had been prepared by the local ringers, etc. Afterwards the secretary announced that there was no special business to transact. There was, however, a general discussion on various points in relation to the general working of the branch.

Great Linford has only recently been enrolled in union with the branch, and the secretary expressed hearty thanks to the Rector for so kindly having the meeting at his tower, and hoped it would not be long before another was held there. This was responded to by the Rev. Andrews Uthwatt, and brought the meeting to a close.

The bells were then set going until 8 p.m., some good ringing being done. The methods rung during the day were Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Bob Minor, Kent Treble Bob, Double Court, Cambridge and London Surprise Minor.

THE LATE MR. W. W. GIFFORD.

COLLECTION OF RUBBINGS FOR SALISBURY CLERICAL LIBRARY.

As many of his friends are aware, the late Mr. W. W. Gifford amassed a considerable collection of rubbings of inscriptions on ancient and modern bells, which are of much value from an antiquarian standpoint. These rubbings, in four folio volumes, have been presented by his relatives to Salisbury Clerical Library.

Mr. Gifford's peal book has been presented to the Salisbury St. Martin's company of ringers to be kept in the vestry for reference. Appended is a list of the peals. The large number rung in the standard methods is an indication of the assistance which Mr. Gifford gave to many a struggling band.

BRISTOL MINOR.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I notice in 'The Ringing World' a desire from Mr. F. Blood for the method, rung by the Aldrington band, under the name of Bristol. As one of the band who rang it, I should like to mention that it was taken from a collection of methods compiled by the late Mr. H. Burstow, of Horsbham, and, I am informed, was rung some years ago under this title. However, I append the figures of a lead, which, it will be noted, bears no resemblance to the Major of the same name.—Yours truly,

ARTHUR H. WHITE.

THE RINGER'S OPPORTUNITY.

The notices appearing in another column remind us all, if nothing else does, of the near approach of the Easter meetings. On Easter Monday, and from then until Whitsun, more general meetings of associations are held than in any similar period of the year. These annual meetings provide members with their one real opportunity of the year to make any change in the policy or management of their society if they desire to do so, although, generally speaking, things seem to be so well managed that the utmost satisfaction prevails, and it is seldom we read of any alteration being made in the general conduct of an association. That may be taken to point to a happy state of affairs, and where domestic bliss reigns it would be a pity to disturb it.

It is not to the management of associations, however, that we want now to direct attention, but to the opportunity which presents itself to the ordinary ringer to make a move for the general good of the Exercise. At the annual meeting of an association a member can bring forward a proposal which, if he can find endorsement for it among his fellows, can be sent on, with an official backing, to the Central Council, which meets at Whitsun. The Council exists primarily for the advancement of the cause of ringing, and while criticism of the Council, on the ground that at times it has done very little for ringing, is very easily and very frequently expressed, ringers as a whole do not seem to realise that they may be in part, and indeed largely responsible for this.

Many ringers appear to imagine that when they have voted for the election of their representatives on the Council they have done all that is necessary. There could not be a greater mistake in our view. If they want the Council to be an active and an effective body they should provide it with work, and surely from among the forty affiliated organisations, there ought to be sufficient ideas to provide the Council with an interesting as well as a full agenda whenever it meets. In every other annual conference that we know of, where the members are elected by affiliated bodies, subjects for discussion come mainly, if not entirely, from the branches, and in the same way the work of the Council could be made vastly more valuable if resolutions were sent up from the various associations. This subject is not new. We have discussed it in this column before, and we return to it because we believe that the adoption of the principle which we advocate would be for the eventual benefit of the Exercise, and because, beginning at Easter, there will come the opportunities of putting it into operation. There must be scores of ringers who have ideas which would be worth ventilating in the interests of ringing. Let them put these matters forward at their annual meetings and so get them brought by their representatives before the Central Council. MULTI-METHOD EXTENTS.

THE FIGURES OF THE NORBURY PEAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I have pleasure in sending herewith the figures of the peal in question asked for by Mr. Wilkerson. They will meet the wishes expressed in the first and fourth paragraphs of his letter. It may, perhaps, prevent disappointment to some who wish to attempt 'Multi-Method' peals, if I may be permitted to point out that the identity of lead ends alone does not necessarily mean that those methods which have this feature in common can be spliced into a true extent, e.g., No. 9 and 16 T.B. will not splice. Mr. Wilkerson's second paragraph may, I think, be so understood. If I shall not trespass too much on your space I will repeat the rules for splicing given in 'The Ringing World,' August 23rd, 1912.

(1) If two or more methods contain the same changes in a plain course, one of the methods may be substituted for another, wherever a complete course occurs between two consecutive bobs.

(2) Certain groups of Treble Bob methods contain the same changes in a plain lead. In this case a lead in any method of the groups may be substituted for any other method at any lead end of the 720, be it plain or bobbed.—Yours faithfully, and with goodwill,

JAMES FERNLEY.

A YORKSHIRE RINGER'S MEMORIAL.

An interesting little event took place at St. Matthew's Church, Northowram, on Saturday, Feb. 17th, in the dedication of a memorial tablet which had been erected in the ringing chamber of that church by the ringers in memory of one of their own members who had fallen in the war. The afternoon began with a short touch of Kent Treble Bob with the bells half-muffled, followed by a service in the church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. G. Watkinson), and during which an address was given by the Rev. C. C. Marshall, president of the Yorkshire Association.

At the end of the service the ringers and the relatives repaired to the tower, when the tablet was dedicated by the Rev. C. C. Marshall. The tablet itself, very worthily executed in oak by a local craftsman, bears the record of a peal rung just a year ago, as follows: "On Saturday, Feb. 18th, 1922, in 3 hrs. 6 min., a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major (5,088 changes), by the local company. Changes per minute 27.3. Rung with the bells half-muffled as a tribute of respect to Edgar Bottomley, who fell in the great war: G. Bottomley 1. E. Farrar 2, W. Bottomley 3, F. Crossley 4, H. Wright 5, A. Wright 6, J. Greenwood 7, A. Jagger 8. Composed by Wm. Soffanstill, conducted by Albert Jagger. Vicar, Rev. G. Watkinson, M.A. Wardens, Mr. Bannister, Mr. Sutcliffe." After the service, the muffles were taken off, and further touches were rung, in which the local company were joined by friends from Lightcliffe.

REVIVAL IN CHELTENHAM BRANCH.

A meeting of the Cheltenham Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association was held at Leckhampton, and was attended by about 25 members. Mr. G. H. Phillott was in the chair, and spoke very encouragingly about the future of the branch.

The officials were elected as follows: Mr. J. Ballinger, chairman; Mr. C. Dyson, representative on Management Committee; and W. Yeend, hon. secretary. Nineteen new members were elected, and Charlton Kings was chosen as the next place of meeting on April 14th.

This revival will be especially welcomed in the association, because unsuccessful attempts have been made before to organise this difficult area. Neighbouring associations have gradually worked their way in and claimed many of the towers, but these it is hoped will now return to the fold of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA'S DIAMOND JUBLILEE.

At Milton-next-Gravesend, Kent, on Tuesday, March 6th, 720 Plain Bob: Fred M. Mitchell (conducting) 1, Cyril Mitchell 2, L. Beckett 3, J. Burles 4, Fred A. Mitchell 5, G. Morrad 6. First 720 by C. Mitchell (aged 16, and first attempt). This was rung on the eve of the 60th anniversary of the landing of Queen Alexandra in England, which took place at the Terrace Pier, in this parish.

BELLS OF ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH, EDINBURGH.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In a recent issue of your journal, a question is raised as to the bells of the above church. I regret that I am not able to state with definite authority whether a complete 'peal' in the Treble Bob or any other method was ever rung on these bells, but the following particulars taken from the official records of the Corporation may be of interest:—

Edinburgh, 9th September, 1858. The sub-committee appointed to look after St. Andrew's bells, have, during the last three months, employed Jonas Baldwin as bell ringer and teacher to the other ringers. They have agreed pro tempore that he be paid 4s. per week and 6s. for three assistants at 2s. per week each—being 10s. per week in all—the amount formerly paid for ringing those bells (from June 1st to September 1st), so that £6 10s. is now due from June 1st to September 1st for said service. They recommend a continuation of this arrangement.

They also took the opportunity of the Leeds bell ringers passing through Edinburgh of getting the bells thoroughly tried and tested, for which they incurred an expense of £3 15s. 6d., being extra railway expenses, the ringers otherwise acting gratuitously on the occasion.

It was found necessary to facilitate the teaching and obviate the noise which the practising on the larger bells occasions, to purchase a set of handbells, which the sub-committee did at an expense of £2.

This extraordinary expense of £5 15s. 6d. can by no chance be repeated, and the sub-committee hope the committee will recommend to the Council its payment. . . . The magistrates and Council, having considered the foregoing report, approved thereof, and authorised the Chamberlain to make payment accordingly.

I may add that this is the oldest of the few ringing peals in Scotland. On 12th March, 1788, the Lord Provost, who is in London, was asked to take the trouble to purchase a bell or bells for the spire of the said church.

An estimate was produced from William and Thomas Mears, of Whitechapel, who offered a peal of six good and musical bells, in tone and tune to each other, including a new frame, hanging, etc., for £337 10s. Subsequently it was pointed out that there was a material want to make the bells of St. Andrew's spire a complete chyme, and that was to complete the octave. That the expense of two trebles would only cost about seventy guineas. Resolved that two treble bells be written for in addition to those already made for the said spire.

On 1st July, 1789, we find that the City Chamberlain was authorised to pay to William and Thomas Mears two hundred and seventy pounds fourteen shillings and a penny, the balance of their account amounting to five hundred and twenty pounds fourteen shillings and a penny sterling.

It seems, however, that the cost of 'hanging' was not included in the above account, for on 22nd July, 1789, authority was given to the City Chamberlain to pay Edward Simons forty-eight pounds seventeen shillings and twopence halfpenny, being the expenses of his journey from and to London, his expenses here, for his time, attendance, and labour of putting up a peal of bells in St. Andrew's Church.

Unfortunately, the bells are now quite unringable, being in a very bad state of repair. The tenor, if my recollection serves me aright, weighs about 14 cwt.—Yours faithfully,

C. CLEVELAND ELLIS.

Hon. Member, St. Cuthbert's Society of Change Ringers,

BOOKING FEES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I read in your issue of March 2nd the letter on booking fees by Mr. Palmer. I must say I agree with Mr. Palmer when he says that 'there is more than one remedy.' There is. I know that in 1914 raising the subscription from 1s. to 1s. 6d. had been talked over, the reason being that the Yorkshire Association could not be carried on with a 1s. subscription and kept solvent. The subscription is now 1s. 6d. and I wish someone well up in high finance would explain to me how coin of the realm value 1s. 6d., has, to-day, got the same purchasing power as the 1s. 6d. it was proposed to ask for in 1914. It seems needless to argue such things. In 1914 1s. was not enough; 1s. 6d. would just suffice to keep the old flag flying as of yore. How, then, can 1s. 6d. suffice to-day? To use a Yankeeism, 'Search me!' But I do agree with Mr. Broadley when he advocates 3d. per person booking fees. Quite a number of Guilds have such fees, and I never heard of any complaints, neither are less peals rung. In most of the Guilds to which I have the honour to belong, that charge a 3d. fee the peal ringing is on the increase, thank goodness. Yours sincerely would gladly pay his 3d. every week.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We hear that, after all, Evesham bells will not be available for the record peal attempt, which it was proposed to make on Easter Monday. It is not unlikely, however, that other bells may be secured.

The cancelling of Evesham is due to local opposition to a peal of such length, and another result has been, we hear, the resignation of Mr. H. Middleton as captain of the local band.

One of the objections urged against the peal, put forward by Mr. E. A. B. Barnard, who acted as joint hon. secretary of the Evesham Tower Bells Restoration Fund in 1910, was on the ground that 'the vibrating effects of such a peal, although possibly not immediately apparent, might prove most prejudicial to the whole structure of the bell tower.'

In connection with the opening of the peal of ten at Trowbridge on Easter Monday there is to be a 'smoking' concert in the Club Room at the White Swan at 7.30 p.m., to which all ringers are invited.

The peal of Doubles published on Feb. 23rd was rung at Little Waldingfield, not Great Waldingfield, as stated.

The new Vicar of Pontefract, the Rev. J. Young, in honour of whose induction by the Archbishop of York, a peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal was rung last week, is a ringer and a member of the Yorkshire Association. On the Sunday following his induction he visited the belfry, and took part in a course of Grandsire Caters before evening service.

At Bocking, Essex, the home of J. Murray Hayes, Ezra Carter and Sam Hayes, an effort is being made to start a new band. Bocking was formerly a great centre of Essex ringing, and a place of frequent pilgrimage by College Youths.

About 30 years ago the band became 'paid' ringers—with the inevitable result. No young hands were brought along, and as the old ones died out the bells became silent. The Essex Association is helping in the effort to resuscitate interest, and the church authorities are raising a voluntary company.

The handbell peal to which we recently referred as the first recorded peal of Bob Royal 'in hand' by the College Youths, cannot claim that distinction. Mr. G. W. Cartmel, the hon. secretary of the Herts Association, informs us that such a peal, the first of Bob Royal by all the band, was rung at St. Albans on Feb. 16th, 1889, conducted by W. H. L. Buckingham.

'The greatest performance ever done by any society' was the peal of 6,240 Oxford Treble Bob Maximus at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, on March 16th, 1778, in 5 hrs. 22 mins. This peal is recorded in the Cumberland Youths' peal book, showing that the Norwich men were at that time all members of the Cumberland Society.

It was this peal at Norwich that inspired the College Youths to regain the supremacy for twelve-bell ringing, and eventually resulted in the peal to which we referred a fortnight ago, in which Samuel Muggeridge, single-handed, rang the tenor at Southwark to 7,008 Treble Twelve in the year 1784. The Norwich peal was rung with two men at the tenor.

The Cumberlands were nearly 20 years before they regained the record, but on March 22nd, 1802, they scored a peal of 7,104 at Southwark, in which J. Marlton rang the tenor in 5 hrs. 30 mins. The peal was called by George Gross, junr., but George Gross, senr., also took part in the peal, as did William Shipway, Malachi Channon, James Barnard and Thomas Reeves, who were also in this peal, were with George Gross, senr., in the 12,000 Treble Bob Royal, at Shore-ditch on March 27th, 1784—a few days after the College Youths' triumph at Southwark.

At Debenham, on March 16th, 1767, a peal of 10,080 Bob Major was rung in 6 hrs. 1 min.

The fund raised to assist the widow and daughter of the late Mr. Tom Wallis, of Edenbridge, Kent, amounted to £136 12s., about £10 of this amount coming from ringers outside the parish.

Not many months ago we had the pleasure of announcing that two Kent ladies had stood in a peal together. On Saturday last three resident lady members of the K.C.A., rang in a peal of Grandsire Triples at Marden, viz., Miss Orlebar (Tunbridge Wells), Mrs. H. Baker (Frittenden) and Miss Thomas (Mersham). They have established a record for their sex in Kent, and we understand they acquitted themselves very well indeed. It was Mrs. Baker's first peal with an inside bell.

THE GIFFORD MEMORIAL.

A balance sheet of this fund has been issued. The receipts from subscriptions and bank interest were £26 6s. 9d. The cost of the tablet erected at St. Martin's Church, Salisbury, was £24 10s.; the Minor Faculty for erecting the memorial, 12s. 6d.; circulars, postages and incidental expenses, £1 4s. 3d.

BOWDON'S BELLS.ANOTHER FINE RING OF EIGHT FOR CHESHIRE.

Although Bowdon, or Bodegone, has a church history of over a thousand years behind it, there is nothing definite as to what bells were there previous to 1714, but in that year a ring of six was hung in an old church and 'Abl. Rudhall cast us all.' Tradition has it that this ring was made up of old bells recast and new ones added; when the new church was built they were transferred to it. For some years they have been in very bad running order, and now they have been recast and two trebles added to complete the octave, the work having been entrusted to the well-known Croydon firm of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, to whom great credit is due. The inscriptions of the old bells have been reproduced, and new ones added. All are tuned on the five-tone Simpson principle, hung in a new all-steel frame, with ball bearings and all new fittings. The tenor weighs 14 cwt., and is in the key of F sharp. To this bell is fitted Messrs. Gillett and Johnston's clapper control, a very simple device, automatic in its action, only being effective when the bell is 'up,' thus allowing the clapper to strike when chimed on the swing. Its function is to lift the clapper away from the sound bow after the blow has been delivered, thus allowing the hum to be heard above the rest, with a pleasing and harmonious effect.

On Monday evening, March 5th, the new bells were dedicated by the Lord Bishop of Chester, a good congregation being present, but those persons who represent a custom of antiquity and of universal popularity even in this alleged decadent and certainly changing age, hid themselves to the ringing chamber, where the formal dedication and handing over of the ropes, took place, the Rector (the Rev. F. O. L. Hamilton, M.A., hon. C.F.) receiving them, the local ringers ringing rounds whilst the procession returned to the chancel. Although the time of the service and the situation of Bowdon made it difficult for many ringers to be present, the Chester Diocesan Guild was fairly well represented, amongst those present being the hon. secretary (the Rev. A. T. Beeston), the assistant secretary of the local branch (Mr. J. P. Fidler), Messrs. W. Gordon (Stockport), Johnson, Hough and Webb (Knutsford), with friends from Manchester. Mr. Cyril Johnston, representing the founders, was accompanied by Mr. Roper.

At the conclusion of the service, a touch of Grandsire Triples (conducted by W. Gordon), and a touch of Bob Major (conducted by J. P. Fidler) were successfully brought round, after which the visiting ringers were provided with supper, and, as is usual with late gatherings in out-of-the-way places, the services of 'shanks' pony' were required, to enable some to get home.

The site of the church, with its lofty tower, being on an eminence that commands an extensive view of the Cheshire plain, is such as to give full effect to the bells.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.NORTH AND EAST DISTRICT MEETING.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent by nearly 50 members of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild at a meeting of the North and East district held on Saturday last, at St. George-in-the-East. The attraction of ringing at a 'fresh tower' undoubtedly brought many ringers, and helped to swell the attendance.

At the service, the association was welcomed by the Rev. R. Beresford, on behalf of the Rector, who is at present away on mission work in India. A very instructive sermon was listened to, with, it is hoped, good results.

By the generosity of the churchwardens, Messrs. Govett and Jones, their wives, and Mrs. Judd, a bountiful tea was provided, to which ample justice was done.—A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the hosts and hostesses for their kindness.

At the business meeting, eleven new members were elected, including several of the local band, who were heartily welcomed into the association. It was mentioned by their proposer that several good ringers had already started their career at St. George's, and there was no reason why the newly elected members should not follow their example.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles) announced that the annual general meeting would take place on Saturday, April 7th, at St. Giles-in-the-Fields, and as they were to be indebted to the Rector for generous tea arrangements, he hoped members would assist as much as possible by making early application for tea tickets, which were to be issued.

It was arranged to hold the next district meeting at Stanmore on May 5th.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. R. Beresford for his address at the service was unanimously passed, and the members afterwards adjourned to the belfry, where ringing was indulged in until 9 p.m. Although, owing to serious illness within hearing distance, the bells had to be fully muffled (which entirely prevented annoyance to the sick person), the ringing was much enjoyed, and covered a great variety of methods from Grandsire Triples to London, including no less than four Surprise methods.

SIMPSON TUNING.To the Editor.

Sir,—A Flat Seventh' is certainly to be congratulated on his feat of mental gymnastics. His letter is one the most ridiculous you have published for many a long day. The platitudes of which he speaks were of his own introduction! He made the most elementary of mistakes, and apparently (like many others) did not like having it pointed out to him! But to attribute intelligence only to those who agree with him is too well known a trick to deceive anybody. For his rudeness to me I offer him a free pardon, but if the opponents of the five-tone principle have no better arguments to offer than those he has put forward, their case is not a very strong one.

I think Mr. Jerram will bear me out that the destruction of 'many good ancient bells' began long before Canon Simpson's time. The reason why we have so few pre-Reformation bells is due to the rise of the art of change ringing—originally bells not being in scale—and the destruction of less valuable, because less ancient, bells has followed with progress in the art of tuning to a more harmonic scale. I know some antiquarians who almost bear a grudge against the art of change ringing because of this result of its spread. As a fact this cannot be contended, but it may be an open question whether the gain does not outweigh the loss. Devotees of the five-tone principle may perhaps be allowed an opinion with regard to the further outcome of this destruction without offering any insult to the intelligence of ringers!—Yours faithfully,

St. Thomas's, Hove.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.EFFORT TO RESTART BOCKING BELLS.

There was a large gathering of ringers from the Northern Division of the Essex Association at a meeting at Bocking on Saturday week. Interest was added to the visit by the fact that the Bocking Parish Church ring of eight bells, noted for their fine, mellow tone, had not been rung lately, due to the old band of ringers dying out and new ones not taking their places. As the result of the association's visit it is hoped to revive interest in the bells, and to raise another band of campanologists at Bocking.

The Rev. A. C. Hawkes conducted the service at St. Mary's Church, the Rev. E. H. Melling F.R.C.O., was at the organ, and the preacher was the Very Rev. the Dean of Bocking, who based an earnest discourse on the words, 'If prayer pulls the ropes, the bells are heard in heaven.' The Dean dwelt upon the spiritual aspect of bell ringing as definite church work.

Mr. W. H. Dysou, District Master, presiding at the subsequent meeting, welcomed the ringers, and stated that Bocking had one of the best rings of eight bells in Essex, the bells being noted all over the country for their beautiful tone. Nearing half a century ago there was also a fine band of ringers at Bocking, where change ringing was rung before it was introduced to Braintree, and Bocking produced some famous College Youths. Often members of the College Youths in London came to Bocking to practise methods which were not rung in London and they spent instructive week-ends with the Bocking ringers. In those days ringers walked hundreds of miles to spread the knowledge of their art in the villages, including those about Braintree and Bocking. Enthusiastic ringers often walked to the nearest peals of eight bells, at Great Tey or Great Waltham, in order to practise eight-bell methods. The great desire was to get the Bocking bells 'on the go' again, so that their beautiful music could be heard as of yore (applause).

Mr. C. H. Howard, J.P., Master of the Association, proposing thanks to the Dean of Bocking and others said Bocking had been a noted place for ringing, and he felt sure it would become so again. He had very pleasant recollections of evenings spent in the Bocking tower, but most of those with whom he rang had now passed away. He hoped young men would come forward to form a new Bocking band.—The Rev. E. H. Melling, curate; Mr. O. J. Ollett, Dean's warden, and Mr. A. W. Tyler, parish warden, responded, and said they hoped to hear the Bocking bells ringing again.

Eight new members from Shalford were elected, and the Rev. E. H. Melling was elected an hon. member. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Felsted.

Ringers were present from Felsted, Rayne, Stebbing, Dunmow, Cavendish, Earls Colne, Greenstead Green, Goldhanger, Maldon, Stisted, Black Notley, Braintree, Bocking and Wethersfield. During the afternoon and evening some excellent touches in the following methods were rung: Cambridge and Superlative Surprise, Double Norwich Court Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples, and Bob Major.

HAYES, KENT.—On Monday, January 29th, 720 Cambridge Surprise Minor: 1. J. Brown 1, H. Reader (conductor) 2, O. Gibby 3, F. Keech 4, H. Brown 5, J. Hack 6. First 720 in the method on the bells, and by all the band except the ringer of the 3rd.

HAWKHURST, KENT.—On Monday, March 5th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples by the local band, in 45 mins.: T. Ashenden 1, G. Talbot 2, W. A. Penfold 3, J. Blake 4, J. Powell 5, O. Waghorn 6, G. Billenness (conductor) 7, H. M. Batehup 8.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.FURNESS AND LAKE DISTRICT BRANCH.

The half-yearly meeting of the Furness and Lake District Branch was held at St. James's Church, Barrow-in-Furness, on Saturday, when 32 ringers including four ladies, from Barrow, Kendal, Ulverston, Dalton, Millom and Broughton, attended. It was decided that the next annual meeting be held at Millom, and the next quarterly ringing meeting at Ulverston.—Ten new members were elected.

Following on the appeal made in 'The Ringing World' by the President of the Association, the secretary was requested to write to all ringers in the district to subscribe to a fund in aid of the aged and invalid widow of the late Mr. Thos. Gibbons a ringer at the Barrow-in-Furness Church for many years.

Tea was afterwards provided by the local ringers and their friends, before and after which touches of Bob Major and Minor and Grand-sire Triples were rung.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY, DONCASTER.

On Thursday, March 8th, the members of the above society held their annual social evening in 'Ye Olde English Cafe.' A company of about fifty assembled for the occasion, all the local ringers, with their wives and families, and sweethearts, being present. An excellent tea was provided by the caterer, Mr. K. C. Hopkinson, and when this had been satisfactorily disposed of the rest of the evening was spent in song and harmony. The chair was taken by Mr. George Halksworth (secretary and Ringing Master of the society).

Mr. Halksworth referred to the progress which the society had made during the past year, and hoped that they would make the same rate of progress in the coming year.

The artists at the concert were Mr. and Mrs. Windle, Miss K. Jackson, Mr. P. Schofield, and Mr. H. Wilson. After a piano solo by Mrs. Windle, a good programme of songs and duets was opened by Miss Jackson singing 'The Ringers'—'For we be the ringers at the church of St. George's.' During the course of the song, witty references to 'Old George and John there, and William and Me. caused roars of laughter, and the ringers concerned came in for much good-humoured chaff.

Among other songs sung were 'Drake Goes West' and 'Friend o' Mine,' both compositions of the organist of St. George's. During an interval the handbells were brought into use, and the air vibrated with the mellow tones of the bells when they were rung to Grand-sire Triples.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the artistes for their entertainment, and also the chairman for his services. After singing 'Auld Lang Syne' and the National Anthem the company broke up, having heartily enjoyed themselves.

DUDLEY & DISTRICT GUILD.MORE ENTHUSIASM WANTED.

The annual meeting of the Dudley and District Guild was held on Saturday, March 3rd, at the Parish Church, Dudley, when upwards of 70 members attended from Bilston, Coseley, Dudley, Sedgley, Smethwick, Tipton, Brierley Hill, Kingswinford, Old Hill, Netherton, Wednesbury and Stourbridge. The Guild service was conducted by the Rev. A. H. Phellips (Vicar and president), and the address was given by the Rev. C. H. Barker (Vicar of Swindon), who took for his text Ephesians vi. 13, 'Having done all, stand.'

After partaking of a bountiful tea, the Rev. C. H. Barker occupied the chair (owing to the president having much sick visiting to do).

The Secretary presented his annual report, in which he called for more enthusiasm by members, which would mean better results for the Guild.

In the absence of the treasurer, the auditors gave their report, which was very satisfactory.

Mr. F. Colclough (the secretary) moved a resolution, that as this Guild looked to the Dudley Parish Church as their 'home,' and seeing that they always were invited to hold their annual meetings there, the sum of £2 2s. be given towards the Parish Church Renovation Fund.—This was seconded by Mr. Bayliss, and carried unanimously.

The Rev. A. H. Phellips was re-elected president, and the Rev. C. H. Barker was added to the list of vico-presidents. The Ringing Master (Mr. J. Goodman) was re-elected, as was also the secretary (Mr. F. Colclough). The following were also elected: Treasurer, Mr. S. Hughes; auditors, Mr. F. Evans and Mr. T. Justice; Central Council representative, Mr. S. Hughes. — Four new performing members were made. Dudley was selected for the quarterly peal; and Smethwick was chosen for the next quarterly meeting. The monthly practice at Dudley Parish Church was altered to the first Tuesday instead of the first Monday.

Votes of thanks were given to all the officers for their past services, to the chairman for presiding, and for his excellent and most instructive address; to the donors of the tea, and to the ladies who had prepared it; also to Mr. H. Sheppard for making the excellent arrangements which added so much to the success of the meeting.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The annual meeting of the Council will be held on May 22nd (Whit Tuesday) next, at Salisbury. Full particulars of the meeting will be published later. Notice of any proposed motion should be sent before April 21st.

Secretaries please note that the annual subscription is now due, and should be sent to the hon. secretary, Mr. E. Alexr. Young, 155, Rushey Green, S.E.6.

LADIES' GUILD.WESTERN DISTRICT.

A very enjoyable meeting of the Western District was held at Mangotsfield on Saturday, March 10th. There was a good attendance, and ringing on the bells, a light peal of eight, was much enjoyed.

It being the first time the Ladies' Guild have visited Mangotsfield, the Vicar and Mrs. Crews very kindly entertained the large number present (about 40) to tea at the Vicarage, and the members would like to take this opportunity to repeat their very grateful thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Crews and the ladies who helped with the tea, and to Mr. Jefferies and the other Mangotsfield ringers who made them so welcome in the heltry.

It was decided by vote at this meeting that the next, on either the first or second Saturday in June, shall take place at Corston (near Bath) if the secretary can obtain permission for the use of the bells.

JUST BY THE WAY.EVESHAM AND PERSHORE.*To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I note with pleasure that a band of stalwarts are attempting to beat the Appleton peal of Caters, and at Evesham. There, at least, they will not be troubled with that 'mournful howl' and a noise like a pot auction on a Saturday night. The trebles are by Barwell, the tenor is a really grand bell; the other seven exude Rudhall in every breath, and a well-struck peal on them is a feast of music. On a fine day just to lie on the river banks 'neath the shade of the beautiful campanile and hear them is a tonic in itself. But in the near vicinity is another feast of music, at Pershore Abbey, reputed 30 cwt. In my humble opinion they are some of Rudhall's best, and I want to know why a replica cannot be cast to-day of those truly glorious instruments. But of Pershore one can without jesting say that 'none but the brave deserve the fair,' for he who would ring on those Pershore bells must make a long and tortuous climb ending with a sharp half left, up a slim set of steps, and cross a none too secure looking drawbridge and enter the cage, for a cage it is, and stand and ring, like Mahomet in his coffin, suspended 'twixt earth and heaven. On the occasion of the last peal I rang there, the 4th ringer just looked over the edge of his cage once, but that was enough. It was only Rudhall's music that saved him. On our descent from this ordeal, the fifth ringer discovered the bust of the conductor acting as a gargoyla on the tower of St. Andrew's Church just across the road from the Abbey, and it was too lifelike for words, the ensuing laughter dispelling all memories of our climb.

I noted with pleasure the various letters re 'Simpson tuning,' and should like to point out that one often hears and even reads of 'metal becoming tired.' I have been in the metal trade for over 30 years, and know how true it is, in the cast metal trade especially. I trust that the next time any parish wishes to break up the products of such men as Rudhall, the faculty will be made so stringent that it will mean penalties as it be disregarded. Chalk, I trust, is only a forerunner of such actions in times to come.—Yours faithfully,
ONCE A BEGINNER.

THE EXAMPLE OF THE M.C.A.

The Midland Counties Association is not only one of the largest of our ringing organisations, but it is admittedly one of the most go ahead, and thanks to the fact that it has been well managed by a succession of able officers, it stands in as strong a position as any in the country. From whatever point of view one looks at the report which has just been issued for the past year, there is evidence of solid progress. Financially the Association has a very substantial reserve, and, so far as its practical operations are concerned, there is no association which has shown a more progressive spirit. The results of the year's operations must be very satisfactory to all concerned. There are, moreover, certain matters referred to in the report which ringers outside the M.C.A. might well meditate upon. We would refer here to two of them.

The M.C.A. has over two hundred honorary members, and nearly half its income comes from this source. When it is remembered that the active ringing membership is 720, the large proportion of honorary members will be more fully realised. Such a number of subscribers from outside the ranks of ringers is not obtained without steady and persistent effort, and many of the associations, who are lamenting the falling off of funds, or finding the increased expenses a source of anxiety, might well direct more definite attention to this source of revenue. What the Midland Counties Association can do others should be able to manage. There are several associations we know whose finances are very largely of a hand-to-mouth kind, and whose energies must perforce consequently be much restricted, who seem to make but small effort to secure honorary members. Perseverance and tact are required to build up a big phalanx of outside support such as the M.C.A. has obtained, but with this example before them there is no excuse for the pessimists to say it cannot be done.

In the peal ringing line, the M.C.A. had an equally successful year, and of a total of 149 peals, which ranged from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Royal and Kent Treble Bob Maximus, no fewer than 30 per cent. were Surprise peals. The actual number was 46, and here we come to our second point, the conducting of these Surprise peals was shared by no less than twelve ringers. Here again is an example which might well be emulated in other associations. If one examines the annual reports of many of our organisations—there are exceptions, of course—one finds that the conducting in the higher methods is kept in the hands of just one or two men. It does not follow that it is because of any selfishness on their part; they have shown themselves capable and others have therefore just 'left it to them.' The result has often been that when the conductor goes the higher method ringing goes. The very best way to secure the continuance of ringing is to encourage conductors, who, after all, often take upon themselves the role of instructors, so that the falling out of any one of them does not necessarily cripple the band or handicap the association.

'SPLICED' EXTENTS OF MINOR.
 COMPOSED OVER 40 YEARS AGO.

Dear Sir,—The splendid achievement of the Norbury ringers in ringing a peal of Minor in 30 methods in seven true extents, calls forth the admiration of every true lover of the art of change ringing, and as the recent issues of 'The Ringing World' testify, it has aroused very great interest in 'spliced' methods extents.

Mr. Dawson, in his letter, wants to know if the method of splicing is a 'state secret,' and Mr. Fernley, in his reply, says he believes he is correct in saying that the Rev. H. Law James was the first to make known and practise the idea ten or twelve years ago. You, sir, in your leading article in 'The Ringing World' on Feb. 16th also state that it is more than ten years since this form of Minor extents was introduced.

By these remarks it would seem that the 'spliced' 720 of Minor is quite a new idea, but I would like to point out that I have a spliced 720 of Treble Bob Minor in nine methods, which was composed by a man who has certainly been dead over forty years.

I found this among some papers which belonged to my father, and an old ringer here on seeing the figures and writing assures me that they were written by my grandfather, who died in 1878, so if that is true it must have been composed before that year. The extent is written out, every one of the 720 changes, and the footnote states that it was composed by the late James Platt, of Saddleworth Fold. Now, when James Platt died I cannot say, but I find on referring to my father's peal book that a peal of Treble Bob there recorded was rung in 1881, and composed by the late James Platt. It also states 'this peal was the first ever rung with the 6th at home at nine different course ends and the tenors together, and was first rung at Moltram-in-Longdendale on Nov. 5th, 1846.'

James Platt, therefore, was composing peals nearly eighty years ago, and has been dead at least forty years, so this spliced 720 must have been composed long before the Rev. H. Law James made the idea of splicing known.

The 720 with the changes of method and the lead ends is as follows:

46532	Oxford	25465
54263		34625
25346	Holmfirth Surprise	56234
— 32546		42356
— 53246	New York	— 63425
46325		45236
25634	London Scholars'	24653
34562		62345
62453		— 36245
— 53462	British Queen	— 23845
42635	Oxford	34256
64523		45362
56342	Holmfirth Surprise	56423
— 35642		62534
— 63542	Nelson's Victory	— 23456

Thus we have nine methods, and no less than fifteen different changes of method, and never more than 72 changes without a change of method; also nine jobs called.

Of course, some of these methods would not satisfy our present-day experts of method construction, and are what are termed irregular, and bring up irregular lead ends, but the changes are true.

I have sent the original to Mr. Fernley, and he agrees with me that considering the time at which it must have been composed it is a wonderful construction.

Perhaps there is a reader of 'The Ringing World' who can tell us more about James Platt and his compositions, and help us to find out if he or someone else was first in the field with this very interesting idea of Minor composition.—Yours sincerely,
 Hyde. TOM WILDE.

A STIMULUS TO WIDER PRACTICE.

Dear Sir,—With your permission I would like to tender my sincere thanks to Mr. Fernley for his letter and figures of the 30-method peal rung at Norbury on New Year's day. I feel sure the publication will stimulate the practice of splicing Minor methods considerably more than anything else has done for some time.

There are (as you mentioned in your leading article a week or two since) many new recruits to the Exercise since the rules were published in 1912, who will, I am convinced, appreciate the publication immensely.

I would also like to congratulate the band on their recent performance in 29 methods, and had not the figures been published some doubt might have been cast on the previous peal, as I notice Morning Star has been omitted.

However, my curiosity has been satisfied and the brilliancy of the Norbury men further illuminated, and here I would like to say, if and when it is decided to issue certificates of merit, those responsible for the awards will do well to bear in mind the Norbury men's performances.—Yours faithfully,

ABRAHAM WILKERSON,
 Hon. Sec., Warwickshire Guild.

DEATH OF A GRIMSBY RINGER.

The death occurred, on March 8th, at his home at Grimsby, of Mr. Alonzo William Long. The deceased, who was 42 years of age, underwent an operation in October last, and, although he was able to get about again, had a relapse, and passed away as stated. He had been a ringer at St. Andrew's Church for over 25 years, and was most regular in his attendance, and always willing and obliging. He had rung 36 peals in various methods, his last being one of Double Norwich in August last, it being the first in that method in Grimsby.

The funeral took place on March 13th, the first portion of the service being held in St. Andrew's Church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. G. Barton), the committal being said by the Rev. Marsden. The service was choral, a brother ringer, Mr. H. Rushby, presiding at the organ. Amongst those present at church and the graveside were Mr. A. W. Hoodless (Barton-on-Humber), Mr. W. H. Hayhoe (secretary, Grimsby District, Lincoln Diocesan Guild), Mr. A. S. Hill (representing North Eastern Steam Fishing Co.), by whom deceased was employed, and numerous other friends. The coffin was carried to its last resting-place by four ringers: Messrs. Shepherd (St. James'), Brown, Ovorton and Bromfield, and a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by Messrs. Seamer, Brown, Hoodless and Bromfield. Amongst the numerous wreaths was one from his brother ringers at St. Andrew's, and one from the St. James' band. In the evening a muffled peal of Bob Major was rung, particulars of which appear elsewhere. Deceased was a member of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild and the Yorkshire Association. J. W. S.

PAID AND UNPAID RINGERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It has recently been stated that there are 31,454 unpaid bell ringers in places of worship under the Church of England. This fact will, no doubt, be of great interest to your readers. If it were safe to assume that non-association ringers are paid ringers, it would be interesting to compare these figures with the number of association ringers, if this can be ascertained. There is no doubt that remuneration for ringing is one of the greatest dangers that associations have to contend with, as it stops the young blood from taking up ringing. Moreover, unpaid ringers are the ones who make the most advance in change ringing. I have this proved to me every week in my own district. For one thing the paid ringers do not like members of another tower coming to give them a hand, even if the former are change ringers, and so, year after year, they stick in the rut, never getting more than Grandsire.—Yours truly,

ALEC. RICHARDSON.

LEEDS & DISTRICT SOCIETY.

SOME PLAIN SPEAKING.

A successful and interesting meeting of the Leeds and District Society was held on Saturday, March 3rd, at Pudsey. The bells were kept going in various methods during the afternoon and evening. The business meeting was held in the White Cross Hotel, and attended by members from Armley, Bramley, Birstall, Idle, Rotherham, Calverley, Headingley, Holbeck, Mirfield, Leeds Parish Church, and the local company.

There was more 'steam' let off at this meeting than there has been for some time. Fortunately by the thoughtfulness and generosity of the local gentlemen, who kindly supplied light refreshments, the members remained calm and bright.

The Secretary led off by complaining of the lack of official support which was shown, and this resulted in Mr. H. Lockwood being elected president pro tem.

Another member complained of the poor attendance at Birstall, which he said was a disgrace to this society, especially as the Vicar had put a service off for the convenience of the members.

Mr. Johnson spoke in a plain and direct manner of the unsatisfactory support of members at the meetings, saying that it was no encouragement to those who arranged them.

A USEFUL PRACTICE.

A practice meeting of the Halesworth district of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association was held at Wenhampton, on Monday evening, March 12th, and was attended by twenty ringers and probationers from the following towers: Halesworth, Brampton, Henham, Mells, Wissett, and Wenhampton. Good touches of Treble Bob Minor, Bob Minor, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles were rung, and much useful instruction was given to the young members present.

MR. ARTHUR TOMLINSON'S 100 PEALS.

Grandsire Triples, rung 19 (conducted 6); Stedman Triples, 18 (8); Kent Treble Bob Major, 17 (8); Bob Major, 8 (4); Oxford Treble Bob Major, 3 (1); Double Norwich, 8 (5); Superlative Surprise Major, 5 (1); Kent Treble Bob Royal, 4; London Surprise Major, 4; Guildford Surprise Major, 1; Forward Major 1 (1); Granta Treble Bob Major, 1; Minor, 11 (6); total, 100 (conducted 40). Rung in 25 towers. Eighty-eight of the peals included ringers who were either ringing their first peal or their first peal in the method.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

In our last issue we recorded 'the first peal of Major on the bells at Twickenham. It is interesting to note that in Benjamin Annable's MS. (page 181), now in the British Museum, is a record of a peal bearing the name of 'Middlesex' which was rung by the Twickenham ringers on January 22nd, 1733, composed by B. Annable. Whether this was a Triple or Major method we do not know; perhaps someone may be able to tell us.

Among the early peals that were rung was one at Wye, Kent, a peal of Grandsire Triples, on March 29th, 1736, concerning which it was recorded that the band were 'ye first set that ever rang it in the county, without the assistance of Londoners or others.'

A peal of Grandsire Triples had been rung at St. Mary's, Dover, on March 26th, 1729.

On March 24th, 1837, a peal of 6,048 Albion Surprise was rung at Liversedge, Yorks. It was, we believe, a method composed by W. Sottenstall.

It was on March 23rd, 1837, Elijah Roberts tapped a peal of 19,440 changes. Roberts committed suicide in 1865.

The first peal of Superlative Surprise Royal was rung at Wakefield on March 27th, 1826.

Ringers who propose to attend the annual meeting of the Middlesex Association at St. Giles-in-the-Fields on April 7th will do well to note that admission to the tea will be by ticket only, which, as will be seen from our notice columns, must be applied for by April 4th.

It will be no good complaining that they are excluded from the tea if they do not take this precaution. The committee of the association are determined to act upon this arrangement, if only out of courtesy to the Rector.

Mr. J. Barnett has just completed 54 years as a ringer at Northallerton, Yorks, and at the age of 74, took part on Saturday in a peal of Grandsire Triples. He has received the congratulations of the band upon his long service.

Ringers who keep their M.C.A. reports for reference should delete the composition of peal 2,599, published in the 36th Report, which is false.

Wilfred Taffender, the youthful son of the Master of the London County Association, has added to the laurels which he has begun to gather at such an early age. London Surprise Major, Stedman Cinques and Treble Twelve, have been followed by another peal of London and a 'double handed' peal of Stedman Caters. Not bad for one's first five peals at 15 years of age.

The handbell peal was also taken part in by another ringer under 16—one of the coming men in London, Jeffery Gammon—and by the veteran, Mr. John Carter formerly of Birmingham, now of 'Park Lane' and Douglas, Isle of Man.

'Interested' writes with reference to the peal of Bob Major rung 'in hand' at Saffron Walden on February 25th, and which was claimed to be the first handbell peal ever rung by a member of the Saffron Walden Society, that the late Mr. Nathan J. Pitstow rang a peal of Grandsire Triples 'in hand' as long ago as May 3rd, 1896. This peal was rung at Mr. W. H. Buckingham's residence at St. Albans, and conducted by Mr. C. W. Clarke, of Bedford.

The Ringing Master of the Worcestershire Association (Mr. W. Page) asks us to request all ringing visitors to Worcester for the annual meeting on Easter Monday to go direct in the first instance to St. Helen's tower. They can then be escorted to any other tower they may wish to visit, and this will avoid delay or disappointment at finding a tower closed.

LONDON PRE-REFORMATION BELLS.

ST. BARTHOLOMEW'S 800TH ANNIVERSARY.

The 800th anniversary of the dedication of the Church of St. Bartholomew-the-Great was celebrated on Sunday, March 11th. The Lord Mayor of London attended morning service in state, when the sermon was preached by the Bishop of London. The pre-Reformation peal of five bells was rung by members of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild, several 120's of Stedman and Grandsire Doubles being brought round. The following evening a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung by C. T. Coles (conductor), W. Hewett, F. I. Hains, C. W. R. Grimwood, R. Sanders. It having been previously announced that the bells were being rung on this occasion, quite a large number of parishioners gathered outside the church, listening to these ancient bells with great interest.

KING'S NORTON, WORCESTERSHIRE.—At St. Nicholas' Church, on Saturday, March 17th, for Confirmation service, 1,344 Cambridge Surprise Major, in 50 mins.: L. G. Cartwright 1, J. Withers, senr., 2, C. H. Stanley 3, Wm. B. Cartwright 4, T. W. Wright 5, Charles Webb 6, P. O. Laffin (conductor) 7, Jas. George 8. Longest length of Cambridge by ringers of treble and 3rd.

THE MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.
A SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

The 37th Report of the Midland Counties Association, covering the year 1922, has just been issued, and contains over 100 pages. The committee's report records a gratifying number of bell restorations, among them being the addition of new bells to make two rings of eight into ten, two rings of six and one of five into eight, and one of five into six. In regard to finance, the committee view with great satisfaction the continued prosperity of the association. The income for the year amounted to £90 17s. Of this sum the ringers' contributions totalled £48 14s. 6d., while a sum of no less than £42 2s. 6d. was subscribed by patrons and hon. members. To the latter the association owes a great debt of gratitude, for without their aid the ringers' annual subscriptions would not suffice to meet the expenditure. The balance in hand is £132 14s. 9d., and the hon. treasurer has suggested that a portion of this should be invested. A 'Bell Repair Fund' has been opened, to which several subscriptions have been already sent, and to which further help is specially invited. The committee might feel disposed to transfer to this fund a sum agreed upon from the balance in hand on the general accounts.

The peal ringing record is an excellent one, the number of peals being no fewer than 149, made up of Kent Treble Bob Maximus 1, Grand sire Cinque, 1, Cambridge Surprise Royal 6, Kent Treble Bob Royal 3, Spliced Kent and Oxford Royal 1, Grand sire Caters 3, London Surprise Major 4, New Cambridge 1, Superlative 16, Cambridge 18, Norfolk 1, Duffield Major 2, Double Norwich 8, Kent Treble Bob 10, Oxford Treble Bob 1, Bob Major 8, Stedman Triples 16, Grand sire Triples 19, Minor 14, Doubles 16. The peals in Surprise methods total 46, a percentage of 30.87, which may be regarded as very satisfactory. With a continuation of the present enthusiasm and suitable opportunities for extension of knowledge, it will naturally follow, says the report, that peals in higher methods will take the lead, and it is impressed upon the district committees that, with the association only holding four meetings annually, the opportunities for progression rest largely with them.

While considerable attention is given in the report to the progress of peal ringing, it is not forgotten that the most important of members' duties is the provision of good and regular ringing at Sunday services. That this duty is faithfully performed, there is not the least doubt, and it is often referred to by the clergy at meetings, which they attend regularly and in increasing numbers. That the incentive of peal ringing is an inducement for improved striking is a well-known fact, and the committee are convinced that peal ringers are among those who attend best to the duty above mentioned.

The membership at the end of 1922 was 922, comprising 9 patrons, 193 hon. members, and 720 ringing members.

SIMPSON TUNING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It was not my intention to trouble you again, as the hope, widely shared, that the daylight that had been let in upon the cause of the 'howl' in certain bells tuned on the S.P. would lead to some measures being taken as suggested in your leader of the 23rd February, i.e., 'it ought not to be beyond the wit of the founders and their tuners to overcome the drawback.'

Now let us get back to the point at issue:—

Q.—Do certain peals of bells tuned on the S.P. 'howl'?

A.—Yes!

Q.—What is the cause?

A.—Apparently the harmonics, which should be subservient to the tap tone, are too greatly accentuated.

Remedy: Remove the cause, the effect ceases.

How to discover the cause of the 'howl' has been my aim all through, and that is clearly shown in my previous correspondence. In spite of this the Rev. C. H. Clarke charges me with inconsistency.

It is certainly very clear that he has, with a steady persistency, accompanied with banter, written all round the subject, but has not once touched the cause of the 'howl,' which, of course, is the main point of the argument.

The offer to me of a free pardon has its humorous side, in view of the many personalities contained in his letters. Having reached threescore years and six I can afford to smile, and in return for his magnanimity I, with the greatest of pleasure, offer my benign benediction with the fervent hope that he may never have a peal of bells in his tower that 'howl.' Pax vobiscum. My thanks to you, sir, for your kind indulgence.—Yours truly, A. FLAT SEVENTH.

SURPRISE MINOR.

The six bell company at Aldrington, Sussex, are adding to their Surprise repertoire, and the following 720's have recently been rung: On Tuesday, March 13th, 720 Surfleet Surprise Minor: R. S. Cherryman 1, K. Hart 2, F. Trusler 3, R. Stredwick 4, G. Steele (conductor) 5, A. White 6. First in the method by all and first on the bells. Also recently, 720 of Beverley Surprise Minor: R. S. Cherryman 1, R. Stredwick 2, G. A. Steele 3, A. Cherryman 4, A. White 5, J. White (conductor) 6. First in the method by all and first on the bells; and 720 London Surprise Minor: J. White 1, G. Steele 2, R. S. Cherryman 3, R. Stredwick 4, K. Hart 5, A. White (conductor) 6.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.
SOUTHERN DIVISION AND THE ANNUAL REPORT.

The annual meeting of the Southern Division of the Yorks Association was held at St. John's, Ranmoor, Sheffield, on Saturday last. For an annual meeting the attendance was very disappointing, the towers represented being Rotherham, the Cathedral, St. Maries and All Saints', Sheffield; Ecclesfield, Arksey, Eckington, Chesterfield, Handsworth and Norton. The visitors were welcomed in the tower by the Vicar (the Rev. J. R. Lea Nicholls), himself a very enthusiastic ringing member of the association.

A short service was held in the church, conducted by the Vicar, who, in a brief and interesting address, gave much good advice and counsel to those present.

Tea in the Schoolroom was heartily enjoyed by all. The business meeting was then held, the Vicar being voted to the chair.

Messrs. F. Wetherill (Wragby), G. Haigh (Doncaster), M. Wilson (St. Maries, Sheffield), E. Haynes (Ranmoor), and S. Shepperd and Miss Clarkson (Tickhill) were elected members of the association.

Mr. F. Clark was re-elected secretary; Mr. G. Holmes, Mr. C. D. Potter and Mr. O. Harrison were elected to the committee, and Mr. Harrison was further elected to the general committee (to retire in 1925).

Several members complained of inaccuracies in the annual report, and a long discussion was held on the subject, the following resolution being passed: 'That the General Committee be asked to consider the advisability of the secretaries and committees of the different divisions compiling the report for their respective districts and forwarding the same to the general secretary.'

An invitation was received from Wortley inviting the district to that place for the next meeting, and this was accepted, the date being fixed for June 16th.

Mr. F. Willey gave a short account of the arrangements made up to date in connection with the association dinner in September, and everyone was well pleased with the progress made.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells, to the local company and the ladies for the excellent tea, were acknowledged, and brought the meeting to a close.

DEATH OF MR. J. B. HOUGHTON.

PASSING OF A WELL-KNOWN IRTHLINGBOROUGH RINGER.

We deeply regret to record the death of Mr. James Betts Houghton, of 10, Lilley Terrace, Irthlingborough, the sad event taking place on Friday afternoon, March 9th, after a long and very painful illness, at the age of 62 years.

The sympathy of the Exercise will go out to Mrs. Houghton and family in their sad bereavement. Mr. Houghton was a ringer at Irthlingborough for over fifty years, he having first learnt to ring a bell at the age of ten, under the able instruction of his father, at the time when there were six bells in the tower. The peal was made into the octave in 1893, after which the deceased made rapid progress in change ringing, and rang in the first peals of London, Bristol, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise in Northamptonshire.

Altogether he had rung 236 peals in the following methods: Doubles 3, Minor in 7 methods 17 (conducted 4), Grand sire Triples 14, Stedman Triples 31, Bob Triples 2, Bob Major 16 (cond. 7), Kent Treble Bob Major 21 (conducted 5), Oxford Treble Bob Major 1, Double Norwich 60 (conducted 25), Superlative 55 (conducted 10), Cambridge 1, Treble Bob Royal 2. He rang in the 9,312 Superlative Surprise at Irthlingborough, the 11,000 and 17,104 Double Norwich at South Wigston, and was also the first to ring 100 peals for the Northants Association. Mr. Houghton was a member of the following associations: Central Northants, Bedfordshire, Warwickshire Guild, St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham; Peterborough Association, and the Midland Counties Association. He rang his last peal, Double Norwich, last year, after which his health began to fail him.

Deceased was most regular in his attendance at his own belfry for ringing, ever ready to help others. Being an able conductor and a safe ringer, he will be very much missed, and his loss to St. Peter's, Irthlingborough, and to other towers in the county cannot be measured.

The funeral took place on Tuesday, March 13th the service being held in the Parish Church. Many ringers and friends were present, including Messrs. F. Barber (Wellingborough, district secretary), T. Law (Weston Favell), G. Basford, T. Abbott, J. Main (Finedon), H. Stubbs, W. J. Gilbert (Raunds), J. Garratt (Higham Ferrers), H. Horn (Irthlingborough). The cortege was met at the church by the Rector (the Rev. Walter A. Frift, M.A.), and the coffin was carried by eight of his brother ringers: Messrs. A. Tyler, W. Perkins, A. Perkins, J. Ward, C. Newman, J. Mawby, F. Wilford and F. Barber. The service was taken by the Rector, and the interment took place in the cemetery adjoining the churchyard.

Muffled touches were rung on the bells during the afternoon and evening, and a course of Grand sire was rung on handbells over the grave by Messrs. A. Perkins, W. Perkins, A. Tyler and J. Mawby.

It is an interesting fact that the deceased and his father between them, gave 110 years' service as ringers.

AN OLD RINGING MATCH.

INTERESTING RECORD OF A LANCASHIRE CONTEST.

Few records of the doings of ringers in the distant past have come down to us, and the following interesting account of a match between two well-known Lancashire companies will, we are sure, be read with interest. We are indebted for it to Mr. J. Bruce Williamson, who found it recorded in a volume of the 'Sporting Magazine' for the year 1808, under the heading of 'Sporting Intelligence.'

The following announcement appeared in the June issue: 'We have the pleasure to inform the amateurs in the art of change ringing, that the Oldham Youths of Lancashire have challenged the College Youths of Ashton-under-Line, in the said county, to ring them Mr. John Holt's Ten-course peal, of 504 changes, each course of Grandsire Tripples. The College Youths have accepted the challenge to ring them for 40 gs. a peal, in the above method, containing a true and complete peal of 5,040 changes only, at St. Michael's Church, Flixton, near Manchester, all in the said county, on the 25th day of June inst. Weight of the tenor 14 cwt. 2 qr. 24 lb.'

The story of the contest is told in the issue of July, as follows: HARMONIOUS CHANGE RINGING.

The Oldham Youths, sometime since, challenged the College Youths, change ringers of Ashton-under-Line, to ring them Mr. John Holt's ten-course peal of Grandsire Tripples of 504 changes each, making a complete peal of 5,040 harmonious changes. The Collegians of Ashton-under-Line accepted the challenge to ring the above peal for 40 guineas which was staked, and who have since completed it in the finest style of ringing, and in the quickest time on the new peal of eight bells at St. Michael's Church, Flixton, on Friday, June the 24th, 1808. Weight of the tenor bell 14 cwt. 2 qr. 24 lb. net bell metal.

This wager had caused a spirit of emulation between those two fine and lofty ringing societies; and various trials were made of their skill previous to the decision. The College Youths of Ashton-under-Line took the lead first (in practice); on Sunday, the 15th day of May, they rung at their village a complete peal of Mr. John Holt's Grandsire Tripples, in ten courses, containing 5,040 changes, which was finely completed in the quick time of two hours and 33½ mins.

On Monday, the 16th day of May, the Oldham Youths rung at their village, a complete peal of Mr. John Holt's Grandsire Tripples in ten courses, containing 5,040 changes, which was well rung in the quick time of two hours and 38 mins.

On Tuesday, the 24th day of May, the Ashton College Youths ascended St. Michael's tower at their villa, and rung well Mr. John Holt's ten-course peal of Grandsire Tripples, containing 5,040 changes, in the quick time of two hours and 34 mins.

Early in the morning of the 29th day of May, in honour of the old English oak, the Oldham Youths ascended St. Paul's Gothic tower, at their villa, and rung a fine peal of Mr. John Holt's Grandsire Tripples, composed of 5,040 good pleasing changes, which was completed in the quick time of two hours and 29½ mins.

On the morning of the same day, the College Youths of Ashton-under-Line ascended St. Michael's fine Gothic tower, also in honour of the ancient English oak, and most nobly brought round a fine-rung peal of Mr. John Holt's Grandsire Tripples, in courses, containing 5,040 beautiful changes, in the quick time of two hours and 29½ mins.

On Saturday, June 4th, in honour of his Majesty's birthday, the Oldham Youths again ascended the Gothic tower at their village, and completed a fine peal of Mr. John Holt's Grandsire Tripples, containing 5,040 changes, which they finely rung in the quick time of two hours and 29½ mins., in the ten-course method.

On Thursday, June 8th, from a friendly invitation, the College Youths of Ashton-under-Line, paid a visit to Mottram in Cheshire, and a select eight of them ascended the neat and Gothic tower at St. Mary's Church in that romantic village, and rung a charmingly fine peal, in ten courses of Mr. John Holt's Grandsire Tripples, in the very wonderful quick time of two hours and 23½ mins. The average speed of ringing this peal was thirty-five changes each minute, and towards the close of the peal thirty-six changes a minute, being the best and quickest ringing ever performed in this kingdom.

The College Youths of Ashton-under-Line, being highly pleased with their excursion to, and treatment at the romantic village of Hilly Mottram, in Longendale, Cheshire, they paid a second visit on Sunday morning, June the 19th, and highly delighted the natives in that part of the country with another remarkably fine rung peal of Mr. John Holt's Grandsire Tripples, in ten courses, containing 5,040 harmonious changes, which they completely and most nobly again brought round in the astonishing quick time of two hours and 23½ mins. Weight of the Mottram tenor 13 cwt. net bell metal.

The above eight peals being rung for practice, we must now approach towards the day of decision. Both companies of ringers met on the ground at Flixton, on Thursday, June 23rd, 1808, and each alternately ascended the Gothic tower of St. Michael's Church, and rung practice peals, according to their articles of ringing, during the day.

On Friday, June the 24th, early in the morning, both societies met and cast lots which company was to ring first. The Oldham Youths had the first innings, and they ascended St. Michael's Gothic tower at this village, and completely brought-round a fine and true rung peal of Mr. John Holt's Grandsire Tripples, in ten courses, containing 5,040 changes, which they performed according to the articles of agreement, and in the quick time of two hours 32 mins. and 50 secs.

The College Youths of Ashton-under-Line ascended St. Michael's Gothic tower, and rung a superlatively fine half-peal (say, 2,520 changes), made the single in fine stile, and rang most nobly fine to the 21st treble lead of the sixth course, when the conductor of the peal called a bob two treble leads too soon, which threw the bells out of course, and then they were obliged to call bobs irregularly afterwards for some time. The two last courses were rung true, after all the misscalling; the single at last completely made, and round at the change of 5,012, being the two treble leads short of the whole peal (or 28 changes) which entitled the Oldham Youths to the wager of 40 guineas, and was paid to them by the decision of the four censurers and umpire, who were as follows:

- Ashton-under-Line Censurers.
Mr. Thomas Ogden, of Ashton-under-Line.
Mr. John Moss, of Ashton-under-Line.
Oldham Censurers.
Mr. Daniel Bamford, of Middleton.
Mr. John Amellows, of Oldham.
Ashton Treble lead taker down.
Mr. Joseph Tebbs, from Leeds.
Oldham Treble lead taker down.
Mr. Jonathan Hague, of Manchester.

The grand umpire for both parties, and sworn to do justice, was Mr. Joseph Grayson, silver plater, of Birmingham, but formerly of Sheffield, Yorkshire.

The ringing artists for this wager at Flixton were as follows:—

Ashton College Youths.		Oldham Youths.
Treble, Mr. Jonathan Wild.		Treble, Mr. James Taylor.
2. Mr. Thomas Dewsnap.		2. Mr. Robert Coope.
3. Mr. Samuel Moss.		3. Mr. Henry Hindle.
4. Mr. Thomas Hammond.		4. Mr. Joseph Newton.
5. Mr. Aaron Walker.		5. Mr. William Rigby.
6. Mr. Joseph Burgess.		6. Mr. Joshua Kershaw.
7. Mr. James Moss.		7. Mr. John Whiteside.
Tenor, Mr. Charles Greaves.		Tenor, Mr. James Gartside.
Conductor, Mr. Jonathan Wild.		Conductor, Mr. Joseph Newton.
Weight of the tenor, 14 cwt. 2 qr. 24 lb. net bell metal.
Time of Ashton ringing 2 hours 34 mins. and 2 secs.

The Society of College Youths of Ashton-under-Line received the following flattering testimonial from Ralph Wright, Esq., Justice of the Peace, at the village of Flixton, on this ringing occasion:—

'Mr. Wright has the honour to present his best compliments to Major Lees, and to request that he will take the trouble to divide ten guineas among the Ashton-under-Line ringers as a small compliment due to their merit on this day, in delighting the village of Flixton with their most excellent peal of Holt's Grandsire Tripples.—Flixton, Midsummer Day, 1808.

'N.B.—The inhabitants of Ashton-under-Line, and the Change ringers, conjecture that the conducting of the peal of Mr. John Holt's 5,040 changes, was wilfully lost at Flixton on the above day, and the Ashton College Youths purpose challenging the Oldham Youths to ring them again, the same peal, for one hundred guineas, on their own peal of eight bells, at Oldham, off hand, with another conductor.'

LOUGHBOROUGH TEN: ALPHA AND OMEGA

To the Editor.

Sir,—Deforme est de se ipsum predicare.' But when I was a careless schoolboy and my iron hoop didst become 'tired,' and verily did become unstuck, it didst cause me to muse and ponder over ye laws of matter, motion and force! Uh! I could howl when I even read ye 'R.W.'—but, 'Ecce audi.' Our friend 'O. A. B.' doth not muse and ponder on ye subject, but 'often hears, and even reads of metal becoming tired,' and even goeth so far as to say that ho knoweth 'how true it is.' Oh dear me! Perhaps ye great authority will enlighten ye whole Exercise on ye subject of 'tired metal,' especially on three points of vital import?

1. How and by what means may we distinguish ye 'tired bell' from that which is not in a state of fatigue?
2. What are ye chief factors which cause ye bell to become 'tired'?
3. And what restorative should we apply to bring about revivescence?

Oh! and 'just by ye way,' why keep booming Rudhall's 'Best'? Do give ye good old bells a rest or they will become weary! As a matter of fact, 'A.B.E.' was ye 'Bellytree Foet Laureate,' and he nearly strangled his vocabulary when he burst forth into poetic effusions, booming up his own works with vainglorious boasting inscription formulas! I need no convincing that they (the Rudhalls) were most skilful craftsmen, but 'A.B.E.' spoiled himself by 'slopping over' more than any of the others. Oh! and 'just edgeways,' ye can't have any more of ye Rudhall's fabrications for ye whole line are as dead as 'Queen Lizzie'!

But be of good cheer, friend, ye who wants a 'replica.' Oh, well, ye fact remains that ye 'Loughborough Ten' are superior, and speak for themselves! And that's that!

IRENEUS PISTOR.

ANCIENT BELLS.

Although the trouble, which has recently occurred in a Kentish parish through the 'mutilation' of old bells in the process of rehangng, was not connected with a peal used for change ringing, the subject is certainly one which concerns ringers. With the incident at Chalk, and upon whom the blame rests, we have nothing to do, but we have on more than one occasion in this column pointed out that when bell restorations are taken in hand, the comparatively few really ancient bells which we now possess ought to be jealously guarded. The destruction of bells of real antiquarian interest in the past has robbed the present and future generations of valuable relics, which, once lost, can never be replaced. Some of these old bells may have been perfectly useless in conjunction with a modern ring, and because of this they have been sacrificed. Those that are gone, are gone for ever, and no amount of lamentation will bring them back. With those, however, that still remain, it is a different matter.

When restorations are contemplated, the fact ought not to be overlooked that these ancient bells, particularly those of the pre-Reformation period, however crude they may be as 'musical' instruments, are, after all, specimens of the bell founder's art which in themselves are archæologically valuable, and which will increase in value as the centuries pass. There is also a sentiment in regard to them which ought not to be ignored, and to put them into the melting-pot is rank vandalism. Where there are precious relics of this kind, and it is impossible to utilise them in connection with a restoration scheme, they ought to be preserved and retained in an honoured place in the church. It is true that such action would involve a greater expense than if the old bells went into the new peal, but we think little of a parish that would not gladly meet this extra outlay to preserve such relics.

We are glad to observe that a strong point is made of this matter in the joint report of the conference between the Central Council and the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings. That valuable old specimens of mediæval handicraft have been ruthlessly sacrificed in the past has been one of the reasons why antiquarians sometimes put obstacles in the way of the restoration of bells to make them pealable. It may be urged, and quite rightly, that what has happened has seldom been the fault of ringers; but, as ringers, we look upon ourselves as guardians of the bells, and wherever a church possesses bells cast by an early founder, special responsibility falls upon the ringers to see that such specimens of ancient work do not irretrievably disappear before some authority has had the opportunity of expressing an opinion upon their antiquarian value.

ELTHAM BELLS TO BE RESTORED. TO BE MADE INTO AN OCTAVE.

An appeal is being made for funds for the restoration and augmentation of the bells at Eltham, Kent. After the war the Council of the Parish Church was faced with several problems involving repairs to the structure and furniture of the church. Of these the most urgent were the cleaning of the organ, and the restoration of the bells and clock. The former has been completed, and the Council now propose to take in hand the more formidable task of restoring the bells and clock. For many years the clock, which was erected in the tower in 1884 has not been doing its duty properly as the chief clock of the village, partly on account of repairs necessary to its own works, and partly because the mechanism which connects it to the bells for chiming the hours and quarters is worn out. Further, some months ago the wheel of one of the bells broke, and the Council took the opportunity of having the belfry and clock surveyed by an expert. The survey revealed the fact that the wooden framework and wheels are in a state of decay, that three of the bells are cracked, and that any money spent on repairs would be wasted—total restoration being necessary.

The history of the bells is lost in the mists of antiquity. Ancient records, however, inform us that in 1467 there were three great bells in the steeple and a Sanctus bell of brass. In 1571 two of these bells were recast: the peal was again recast and a tenor added in 1610: the whole peal was again recast in 1794. In 1879 the tower of the present church was completed and the bells rehung on the old framework. In 1897 the wheels were repaired and the bells quarter-turned. Hence, when considering their great age, the condition of the bells is not surprising, and it has, therefore, been decided to embark on the work of restoration, and at the same time to complete the peal by the addition of two bells.

This will entail: (1) Clearing the tower of existing bells and clock; (2) fixing a new steel frame with eight bells, the metal of the old six bells being used in the new peal; (3) repairing and cleaning the clock, replacing it in the tower and connecting to the bells with modern mechanism; (4) providing a new clock face on the east side of the tower, i.e., facing up the High Street.

The modern method of casting and tuning bells, says the appeal, results in a tone far superior to that produced by the present bells, and this combined with certain alterations to the windows of the tower, which will throw the sound higher, will completely do away with the rather harsh tone at present noticeable by those in the close vicinity of the church.

The total sum required for this is about £850, and the whole work will be entrusted to Messrs. Gillett and Johnston of Croydon. Subscriptions (however small and by instalments if desired) are invited, and may be sent to Captain W. Anderson, M.C., 8, Sherard Road, Eltham, S.E.9, the hon. secretary and treasurer of the Eltham Bells and Clock Fund. Should a person or group of persons wish to give a bell either as a memorial or from any other motive, the Council would gladly allow the bell to be suitably inscribed.

The appeal has the support of many leading people of Eltham, and it is interesting to note that the list includes the names of the Wesleyan and Baptist Ministers.

DEATH OF MR. SPENCER MARSHALL.

It is with regret we have to record the death of Mr. Spencer Marshall, which took place suddenly on March 17th, at the early age of 35 years. The deceased was born at Rainham, Kent, and started ringing there in 1904. He rang his first peal at Sittingbourne. About 1906 his family moved to Bromley, Kent, and he joined the band at the parish church, and rang several peals with them. Working at Bexley Heath, he used to visit Crayford on practice nights and do his Sunday ringing at Bromley when he went home at the week-end. During the war he worked at Weybridge, Surrey, and took part in whatever ringing was available in that district.

Returning to his old employer after the war, he resided permanently at Bexley Heath, and joined the Crayford band, being a most regular attendant. He rang his last peal at St. John's, Deptford, last December, this being a Foresters' peal, conducted by Mr. W. J. Jeffries.

After ringing was suspended at Crayford last September, he, with three others, concentrated on handbells, and had it not been for Mr. E. Barnett, senr.'s, long illness would doubtless have rang a peal, having rung over half-way several times before Christmas. His peals number about 36, several of which he conducted, his last as conductor being Holt's Original at Crayford.

He had been subject to fits from a child, and he passed away in one of these seizures.

The funeral took place at Crayford on Thursday last, the Rev. Canon Jones (Rector) officiating. The deceased was carried to the grave by four of his brother ringers, and the lesson in church was read by Mr. E. Barnett, junr., who also carried the processional cross. A fortnight before his death he paid a visit to Whitechapel Foundry to see Crayford bells, and they were due to reach the church on the day of the funeral. Fortunately they did not arrive until the following day.—R.I.P.

FIVE-TONED OPINIONS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I note, with interest, the very courteous letter in the issue of March 16th by the Rev. C. H. Clarke; also those in recent numbers. As Mr. Clarke truly says, in this small hide-bound convention-ridden, 'British-Navy-girt portion of the terrestrial sphere it has always been our proud boast that each and every citizen, be he ever so humble, is entitled to hold and to hold forth on "his own opinion." The aforesaid citizen is also entitled forcibly to inculcate his opinion on the rest of his compeers, of course, always providing the aforesaid compeers will allow him so to do. We admit that this great and glorious privilege has two disadvantages; some people have an unacceptable opinion, and will express it and other people have a good and sound opinion and can't be made to voice it. Mr. Barnett, to my thinking, had a sound opinion, and he had the courage to voice his opinion, and opinions voiced, as his was, lead to discussions which open the eyes of some at least, and cause them to think, and only good can come from sound thinking and honest debating on well-grounded opinions, and the Exercise owes a debt of gratitude to men like Mr. Barnett who have the courage to voice their beliefs in the face of decided opposition. And if this controversy will advance the art of campanology, by leading to improvements in tone and life of resonance, the Exercise will owe my old friend more than an ordinary debt of gratitude. The opinions already voiced include those of the expert Mr. Jerram, 'A Flat,' 'A Flat Seventh,' the very courteous letters of the Rev. C. H. Clarke, the very lucid and soundly-reasoned letter of Mr. A. P. Smith, and the letter which friend 'Irenæus Pistor' has not 'half done.' One could almost persuade oneself that Irenæus had really taken counsel's opinion on the case; and one wonders what size of a refresher the momentous brief is marked with, but I still agree with 'A Flat' when he says that he cannot see what relation rubber is to copper; it is no more like rubber than a minor canon is like a gun of large calibre nor has as much resemblance to tin as 'A Flat' bears to a metallurgist. But all castings being formed in a molten state, bear more than a marked resemblance one to another in their traits, be they copper, iron, steel or rubber; and the effect of machinery on each is the same, the effect of chipping is the same; but the effect of the one operation is not the same as the other. All castings have a power of resilience, and it has not yet been proved to us (as ringers) what operation effects that resilience most. No doubt none but the most expert metallurgists could give us these formulae, and as yet the very few members of the Exercise who have this knowledge (I only know one) have not spoken. In conclusion, I should like to point out to 'Irenæus Pistor' that Bradford Cathedral bells have replaced a peal which had not even reached middle age. There are people alive to-day who remember Bradford old bells in their pristine glory, when there was music in their voices, but not a soul regretted their demise, nor was it necessary to request 'no flowers.' 'Irenæus Pistor,' my hat is off to you. I can joust with a rubber quarter staff, an ye will't.—Yours sincerely,

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the South and West District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held at Feltham on Saturday, March 17th, when over 40 ringers attended, it being an ideal afternoon. The Ringing Master (Mr. R. Holloway) and the hon. secretary arrived at the church just before 3 o'clock, to find only Mr. J. R. Mackman, of Reading, and another waiting. Within a few minutes, however, St. Mary's (Ealing) cycle section arrived, led by Mr. F. Goodfellow, and they were followed closely by Mr. W. Welling and his Boy Scout band from Windsor on their 'steeds.' The bells were then set going to various touches from Grand sire to Double Norwich.

The Vicar (the Rev. F. G. Browell) attended the tea at the Parish Hall, at the invitation of the hon. secretary, and welcomed the association to Feltham, this being the first occasion he had had the pleasure of meeting the members.

At the business meeting, presided over by the Ringing Master, the usual vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar and Mr. Denford (host), and steeplekeeper, after which the tower was again visited, and touches up to Cambridge Surprise was rung. The bells were kept going till 9 o'clock, when a pleasant afternoon ended.

THE BREAKING UP OF OLD BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the 'formal inquiry' held at Chalk, it should be borne in mind by your readers that the founders are not always to blame for breaking up old bells. Founders are business people who have to show the largest profit they can on their year's work, and, as an employe of a firm of contractors, I can truthfully say that 90 per cent. of contracting firms would willingly smash up and recast, even the Pearly Gates, as they received the order so to do. Sentiment and business do not agree; the sentiment, if any, should be shown by those who place the order, and no amount of 'skilful commercial travelling' should allow the placer of the contract to allow himself to be talked into allowing the contractor to make the contract a 'bigger job,' by breaking up and recasting.—Yours faithfully,

CENTRAL COUNCIL OF CHURCH BELL RINGERS.

OFFICIAL MINUTES OF THE 1922 MEETING.

The second session of the eleventh Council (thirtieth meeting) was held in the historic Chapter House at Lincoln Cathedral, on Tuesday, June 6th, at 11 a.m.

The chair was taken by the President, Canon Coleridge, who opened the meeting with prayer.

The Dean of Lincoln then extended a welcome to the Council, and referred briefly to the dangerous condition of the towers in the Cathedral. He gave also a short description of the Ringers' Chapel and the old Ringing Guilds. The President expressed the Council's thanks for the welcome given to them, and for the kindness of the Dean and Chapter in placing the Chapter House at their disposal.

The minutes of the last meeting having been published, were taken as read, and duly confirmed and signed.

Apologies for absence were received from the Rev. A. H. Boughey, the Rev. Maitland Kelly, the Rev. C. E. Matthews, the Rev. E. S. Powell, Major J. H. B. Hesse, Messrs. G. Bolland, J. Carter, W. T. Cockerill, R. A. Daniel, C. Edwards, P. J. Johnson, E. H. Lewis, W. Lawrence, T. Law, W. J. Nevard, A. Roberts, J. R. Sharman, W. Shepherd, W. Storey, W. R. Small, A. Paddon Smith and J. A. Trollope.

The President explained that owing to an important engagement in London he would have to leave early (much to his regret, as he had not missed a meeting since the Council was formed). It was resolved, on the motion of the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, that on the president retiring, Alderman J. S. Pritchett should take the chair.

The President then referred to the serious loss the Council had sustained by the death of Mr. A. T. King, and made special reference to his arduous work on the Peals Analysis Committee. As a token of respect, and to express sympathy with Mr. King's family, those present rose in silence.

The Honorary Secretary and Treasurer, Mr. E. Alexr. Young, presented the financial statement, which showed that the year began with £37 10s. 6d. in hand, and that affiliation fees amounted to £12 2s. 6d., interest on stock to £4 5s. 8d., and sale of publications to £2 13s. 8d. The expenditure was £17 6s. 8d., leaving 15s. in hand, and a balance at the bank of £47 10s. 8d. (apart from the sum of £100 previously invested by the Council). The statement of accounts having been audited in detail by the Standing Committee, was, on the proposal of Mr. J. Griffin, seconded by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, duly accepted as correct.

The Honorary Librarian, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn reported that during the twelve months 469 copies of publications had been sold, against 419 in the previous year. The profits of the sales were £2 13s. 8d., against £3 17s. 9d., the reduced profit being due to the increased cost of advertising. With regard to the library, it grew slowly, and he now had the record of ringing news from 1871 to the present date, with the exception of five years—1901, 1902, 1906 to 1909.—On the motion of the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, seconded by the Rev. A. T. Beeston, the librarian's report was adopted.

Mr. H. Chapman said that Mr. Samuel Wood, of Ashton-under-Lyne, had all the 'Bell News' from the beginning, which he would be willing to give to the library, and the offer of the copies to complete the collection was accepted with thanks.—On the motion of Mr. G. P. Burton, seconded by Mr. J. Griffin, it was agreed to have the volumes bound at 5s. each.

Election of Honorary Members.—The President having pointed out the desirability of maintaining one vacancy, it was proposed by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, seconded by Mr. J. George, and carried, that the retiring members be re-elected. These were the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey, Mr. H. Chapman, Mr. J. W. Parker and the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson (the late Mr. A. T. King's place thus not being filled).

The Peals Collection Committee.—Mr. H. W. Wilde presented a statement on behalf of this committee, and it was resolved, on the motion of the President that the same be received, and also that the librarian be authorised to send one of the typed copies of the collection of Treble Bob peals to the chairman of the committee.

The Literature and Press Committee.—Mr. W. Willson presented a report for this committee stating that they were on the alert for any Bill inimical to the interests of ringers, which might be introduced into Parliament, and that the committee were prepared to give their assistance to any company where local attempt was made to suppress change ringing; in which case the facts concisely stated, should be sent in the first instance to the secretary of the Council.—On the motion of Mr. A. L. Coleman, seconded by Mr. W. A. Cave, the report was adopted.

The President here relinquished the chair, which was then taken by Alderman J. S. Pritchett, who expressed his appreciation of the compliment paid to him, and referred to the honour which was about to be conferred upon the president, and which was the cause of his now leaving for London, viz., to receive at the hand of the Duke of Connaught the appointment of Provincial Grand Chaplain of the Mark Masons of England. Alderman J. S. Pritchett, as Recorder of Lincoln, in the absence of the Mayor, and on behalf of the city, also extended to the Council a most cordial welcome.

The Methods Committee.—The Rev. H. Law James gave a general report on behalf of this committee, and said that he thought the time had now come when some of the work done by this committee should be put into print, for which he had an estimate for £20 5s. 6d.—It was proposed by Mr. J. Griffin and seconded by the Rev. F. L. Edwards, that the tender of the 'Ringing World' to print 500 copies each of Plain Major Methods and the collection of Little Methods be accepted, and this was carried.—On the suggestion of the Chairman, it was also decided to leave to the committee the responsibility of naming the methods or otherwise.

The Peals Analysis Committee.—The Rev. E. W. Carpenter, in moving the adoption of this report, referred to the great loss the committee had sustained by the death of Mr. A. T. King.—On the proposal of Mr. T. H. Beams, seconded by Mr. E. Alexr. Young, the report was carried.—The Rev. E. W. Carpenter then referred to the whole question of the Nomenclature of Minor Methods, having regard especially to the principle of priority of use, and on the motion of the Rev. C. C. Marshall, seconded by Mr. G. P. Burton, the committee were empowered to take this question up, and on the proposal of Mr. J. George, seconded by Mr. J. Griffin, Mr. J. W. Parker's name was added to the committee.

The Towers and Belfries Committee.—On the motion of Mr. E. Alexr. Young, seconded by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn was added to this committee. The latter then, in the absence of Mr. E. H. Lewis, read the report, the adoption of which was moved by the Rev. Canon H. J. Elsee, and seconded by the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore. After reference to the committee's work, especially with regard to the joint conference with the S.P.A.B. (the papers of which were on the table), the report was adopted, and the chairman congratulated the committee upon the useful work which had been done.

The Records Committee.—The Rev. A. T. Beeston presented the report of this committee (which is compiling an official list of the 'first peals' and 'longest lengths' in the various methods). He said that further work remained to be done, and suggested that the printing of the schedule should stand over for another year. The report and suggestion were, on the motion of Mr. H. Chapman, seconded by Mr. H. Argyle, adopted, and thanks extended to the committee for their work.

Alderman Chambers moved a resolution that it is desirable to establish in the area of each ringing association a bell restoration fund, from which grants may be made for the restoration of any rings of bells within the area when local funds are insufficient to meet the cost.—This was seconded by Mr. W. Willson.—During debate, a suggestion as an amendment, was made by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, and seconded by Mr. F. Hoggood, that 'the county and diocesan associations be asked to consider the possibility of establishing in their respective areas a bell restoration fund, etc.' After some further debate the amendment was accepted by the proposers, and the resolution in that form carried.

Before rising for lunch, the Chairman referred to the fund being raised to restore the Western towers at Lincoln Cathedral, and it was agreed to take a collection with the result that nine guineas was received and subsequently sent to the Dean.

After the interval, the Rev. C. D. P. Davies called attention to a feature of Holt's peals of Grandsire Triples in connection with a statement on page 12 of the 2nd edition (1905) of 'Grandsire' in the Snowdon series: wherein the Editor states that the calling of the two halves of the ten-part, starts in opposite directions from the same point, and those of the six-part from two points a lead apart from each other. But that the reverse was in reality the case. He exhibited a diagram, with a few leads pricked out in full, to prove the correctness of his argument. No resolution, however, was made, and the subject dropped.

The Rev. H. Drake moved, 'That the Council draw up a card of instructions, on the care and use of bells, suitable for hanging in a tower.' This being seconded by the Rev. Canon H. J. Elsee, was, after general debate, carried with two dissentients; the bell founders present kindly offering to assist in the drawing up of the proposed card.

The Rev. H. Drake then moved his further resolution, 'That every tower should be officially affiliated to some one society and only one.'—This was seconded by Mr. C. Mee.—It was, however, generally held to be unwise to carry such a resolution, and it was defeated by a large majority.

Mr. A. E. Parsons moved, 'That the Council consider the advisability and practicability of proving and recording all new compositions before they are rung or published.'—This was seconded by Mr. W. Short, and after some debate 'Standing Committee' was substituted in the place of 'Council.' But on being put to the meeting the motion was defeated.

Mr. E. Alexr. Young, referring to the proposed exhibit in respect to Campanology at the Science Museum, proposed 'That a committee be appointed to deal with the case generally,' and suggested as members the names of the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, the Rev. E. Banks James, Mr. C. Johnston, and himself.—This was seconded by Mr. A. E. Parsons.—By general agreement the names of Mr. E. H. Lewis, Mr. Pryce Taylor and Mr. A. A. Hughes were added, and the formation of the committee, as augmented, was carried.

A resolution, of which Mr. J. H. Banks had sent late notice, was formally moved by Canon H. J. Elsee. It was to the effect 'That in future no method be named after a county or county town, without the consent of the principal ringing association within the area.'—The motion, however, did not find favour, and was defeated.

The Standing Committee having suggested that next year's meeting be held at Cardiff. That place was proposed by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, and seconded by Mr. J. H. Griffin, but was subsequently withdrawn in favour of Plymouth; Mr. J. Hunt proposed Bath; Mr. T. H. Beams, Salisbury; and Mr. Bibby, Chester. All were duly seconded. The latter, however, was withdrawn, and Plymouth, Bath and Salisbury receiving 2, 15 and 28 votes respectively, it was accordingly decided to hold the meeting at Salisbury.

On the motion of Mr. J. Griffin, seconded by Mr. G. Williams, it was resolved to communicate officially a report of the proceedings of the Council to the affiliated associations, by sending a leaflet, being the summary appearing in 'The Ringing World.'

It was proposed by the Rev. Canon H. J. Elsee, and seconded by Mr. J. H. Griffin, that the librarian be asked to ascertain the cost of engrossing on parchment, the names of ringers who fell in the great war, and that he report the same to the Council.—This was carried.

The Chairman moved a vote of thanks to the Dean and Chapter for kindly allowing the Council to meet in the Chapter House.—This was carried with acclamation, as was also a vote of thanks to the chairman, proposed by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies. — The Chairman briefly replied, and the meeting closed about 4.30.

BOLSTERSTONE RINGERS' LOSS.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN WILMOT.

In John Wilmot, Bolsterstone ringers have lost a staunch and loyal member. Born in Devonshire in 1867, he first learnt to ring a bell as a lad in that country of cream and cider, and, although, wherever he went (and he was a great roamer, having been to several English Colonies) he always visited the nearest tower and rang with the ringers there, he never learnt change ringing till he went to Bolsterstone about eight or nine years ago. Since then he has been most enthusiastic and regular in his attendance at service ringing. On the occasion of his first peal two years ago, on New Year's Eve, he rang the tenor to a peal of Minor on the front six, with the 7th and tenor covering, a monotonous job which no one but a real enthusiast would attempt. After much struggling and many attempts he rang the 6th to a peal of Bob Major, a good peal, on December 31st last—his first and last peal inside, for he was even then suffering from the complaint of which he died. After the peal he presented a splendid oak framed mirror to the tower, in appreciation of the ringers' efforts to teach him change ringing.

His death occurred after an operation at the Sheffield Royal Infirmary. When he knew he would have to go there on some date unknown, he said, 'If I don't turn up some Sunday morning or to a practice you will know where I am,' and we did.

During the last seven or eight years the deceased has also fulfilled the duties of sidesman at St. Mary's, where his regularity at service was much appreciated. A man who had worked hard all his life, chiefly on public works, he was noted for his great physical and moral strength, his uprightness and honesty of character, and he will be greatly missed, both by his fellow workmen and his brother ringers. In the tower, his quiet geniality, his kindly and practical help and general ability in all matters connected with the bells were invaluable, and his untimely death will leave a gap not easily filled. May he rest in peace.

STOKE DAMEREL BELLS TO BE RESTORED

The fine peal of six bells at the old church of Stoke Damerel, Devonport, are, owing to their bad state, to be restored by Messrs. Aggett and Sons. The bells were cast by Bilbie, of Collumpton in the year 1789, and the tenor is 16 cwt.

The bells are to be hung on modern fittings, including Messrs. Wm. Aggett and Sons' patent adjusting bearings, and it is hoped to commence in the tower by May.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The Lord Bishop of London climbed the turret stairs at the Parish Church, Chiswick, to view the boat race from the roof. He was highly delighted when he saw his old colours leading (Oxford).

Messrs. W. Aggett and Sons, of Chagford, have in hand the restoration of the peal of bells at Collaton, Paignton, Devon, and they hope to have these completed by the end of April. The date of the dedication service will be announced later.

A correspondent asks: Will the next attempt at ringing a record peal of Stedman Caters be broadcasted by wireless so that all who can will be able to listen in? It would be a novelty and much appreciated by all ringers interested.

The first known long peal of Treble Bob with the tenors paried was rung at St. Michael Coslany, Norwich, on April 1st, 1727. The tablet in the belfry recording it, says, 'A remarkable peal was rung by the eight persons as under, called the quarter-peal of Oxford Treble Bob, all eight in, or the Union Bob, consisting of 10,080 changes, which they rung in 6 hours 28 minutes on the 1st day of April, anno 1727.'

On April 3rd, 1899, the peal of 15,072 Double Norwich Major was rung in 9 hours 24 minutes at Erith by the Kent Association. At that time it was the record for the method.

On April 1st, 1777, the first 6,000 of Treble Bob Maximus was rung. This was a College Youths' performance at Southwark.

The first recorded peal on the ancient bells at St. Bartholomew-the-Great, Smithfield, was rung in commemoration of the 800th anniversary of the dedication of the church on Wednesday in last week, when forty-two six-scores of Grandsire Doubles were rung by five ringers, who, on Saturday, by way of contrast, took part in a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus, at Bow!

Congratulations to Miss Nelly Johnson, of Hinton, upon calling a 'double-handed' peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal. Mr. F. J. Johnson has a gifted family of ringers, and must be proud of his children's ability.

Reports of Peals rung on Monday next should be posted to us the same night, otherwise subsequent pressure on our space may cause delay in their appearance.

Easter Day Touches, to secure insertion, must be sent early, otherwise publication cannot be guaranteed.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN RICE.

A WELL-KNOWN SUSSEX RINGER.

The death occurred recently at Crawley of Mr. John Rice, a well-known Sussex ringer, who was 52 years of age, had for some time past been in indifferent health, and partial paralysis and other complications brought about his death after a short but painful illness. He was laid to rest on the 7th of March, near the tower in which he had spent so many happy hours. The sad service was attended by a great gathering of townspeople to pay their last respects, many local bodies, ringers and friends being present. Besides his interest in ringing John Rice was secretary of the local Co-operative Society, a past Grandmaster of the Oddfellows, and was ever foremost in working for charitable objects in the town.

His loss to ring at Crawley, with which tower he has been associated with for over thirty years, is irreparable. A good ringer and a good striker, regular for service ringing, he was an example to all who came in contact with him. He was of genial and retiring disposition, but into any task he undertook he put his whole soul and energy. For some years he served on the committee of the Sussex County Association, and he was also a member of the Sussex Association and Royal Cumberland Youths.

He had taken part in 161 peals as follows: Minor in 7 methods, 8; Grandsire Triples, 14 (conducted 5); Bob Triples, 1; Court Bob Triples, 1; Stedman Triples, 13; Bob Major, 7; Kent Treble Bob Major, 31 (conducted 2); Oxford Treble Bob Major, 1; Spliced Oxford and Kent Major, 2; Granta Treble Bob Major, 1; Double Norwich, 13; Alliance Major, 1; Superlative Surprise Major, 54 (conducted 1); Cambridge Surprise Major, 9; New Cumberland Surprise Major, 1; London Surprise Major, 2; Stedman Caters, 1; Treble Bob Royal, 1; total, 161 (conducted 8). His peals had been rung in 31 different towers, with 95 peals at Crawley, including at this church the 9,312 Superlative Surprise Major, in 5 hours 20 minutes on Dec. 26th, 1894; at that time the longest composed in the method.

He leaves a wife and daughter, besides a host of friends, to mourn their loss.

NOMENCLATURE OF MINOR METHODS.

CENTRAL COUNCIL COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

As instructed by the Central Council at Lincoln last May, we have given this matter our careful consideration, and beg to submit our report.

We have been guided in our work by the principles we made known at the Lincoln meeting, viz., by priority of use, and by the advisability of retaining as much as possible, consistent with our present definitions, all that has been in use in the past. We have also had in mind the decision of the Council at London in 1921, that all claims to give names to unnamed methods in the collection should be sent to the librarian within six months.

The result of our effort is, we believe, quite in accordance with these conditions. To secure this we have been obliged to set aside a number of claims which were sent in at shorter or longer intervals after the lapse of the time allowed. Under such treatment some of these may be described as 'hard cases,' and we have real sympathy with all who are concerned in them in their disappointment. But we realised that to have dealt with them otherwise we should have been obliged to draw a dividing line between claims, all which, nevertheless, share in a common feature, viz., being too late. We were not willing to attempt the settlement of a question so justly open to a diversity of opinion, nor did we feel our terms of reference required us to do so.

It is, of course, open to the Council to modify or reject our decisions. This, we think, will afford the necessary opportunity for any claimant, who considers himself aggrieved, to renew his claim.

The following is the complete list of the names of all the regular Minor methods included in the C.C. Collection, and also of those not included. For the latter, see 'Bell News,' June 6th, 1914, p. 160, and 'Ringing World,' March 7th, 1913, p. 166.

In the case of methods to which more than one name had been given before the Council considered the question of Nomenclature, we have attributed those which our researches showed to be the first given to each method.

SPLICED 720'S OF MINOR.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—There is yet another method of splicing, not used in the Norbury peal. This can best be explained by an example. In the Collection of Legitimate (Regular) Minor Methods, pages 14 and 15, it will be seen that Fourth's Place Delight, Nos. 3 and 5, contain the same changes in a lead except for the two middle changes.

No. 3	No. 5
632451	526451

Therefore, if in a 720 of No. 3, three leads be picked out which have the same bells in the same position in 4th's and 5th's places at the 'lead head,' Method No. 5 can be substituted for No. 3 in these three leads. Similarly Nos. 10 and 14 and Nos. 11 and 15 can be spliced by picking three leads with the same bells in 3rd's and 5th's, as shown by the figures below.

Yours faithfully,
EDWIN H. LEWIS.

Sir,—We should like to acknowledge, through the medium of your columns, the courtesy shown by Messrs. Fernley and Blood in their replies to our questions, and to point out that the construction that may be placed upon the reason of our inquiry, as shown in Mr. Wilkerson's first paragraph, may not be correct; we were seeking knowledge only.

We should like to see some decision by the Methods Committee, regarding the names of the Minor methods, mentioned in our letter. We think the cost of printing these on a sheet would be small, and willingly would volunteer to undertake this, and the distribution of such slips, if only to prove our belief that the loss would be small, if any.—Yours faithfully,

G. DAWSON, Hon. Secretary,
St. John Baptist Association (Leytonstone).

The last paragraph of the above letter is to some extent answered by the report of the Central Council's Committee, published in this issue.—Ed. 'R.W.'

BOB ROYAL ON HANDBELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the handbell peal of Bob Royal, mentioned on page 168 of your issue of 16th March, it would be interesting to know whether that rung at St. Albans in 1889 was actually entered in the College Youths' books, and if so, at what date it was inscribed. When Mr. G. F. Woodhouse sent up the report of ours rung at Caius College on 3rd March, 1897, we certainly gathered that up to that time there was no peal of Bob Royal 'in hand' recorded in the society's books. It is only a small matter, but it has its statistical interest as far as it goes.—Yours truly, Kington Magna Rectory. F. L. EDWARDS.

EASTERN DISTRICT MEETING AT YORK.

The annual meeting was held at York on Saturday, March 17th, and the attendance was one of the largest seen at a district meeting for some time past, the delightfully fine day no doubt having much to do with the success of the gathering. The peal of twelve at the Minster was available during the afternoon and evening, by permission of the Very Rev. the Dean of York (Dr. W. Foxley Norris), as were also the rings of six at SS. Philip and James', Clifton, and St. Mary's, Bishophill, by consent of the respective Vicars the Rev. C. T. Alexander, M.A., and the Rev. B. W. Wood M.A. Various touches were rung on the bells in the standard methods by the visiting companies, who made good use of the time allotted to them.

YORK MINSTER.

Choral evensong was held in the Minster at 4 p.m., and was attended by a large number of ringers, who greatly appreciated the beautiful service.

Tea was provided at the Ebor Hall, to which no fewer than 68 sat down, representing towers at Badsworth, Beverley, Goole, Hemingbrough, Hull, Leeds, Market Weighton, Pontefract, Selby, Sherburn, Sutton, Tadcaster, Wetherby and York. At the conclusion, Mr. G. Horner, who had charge of the local arrangements, requested the Rev. R. G. Pyne to read a letter from the Dean, which he had received that morning. In this letter the Dean said he was more than disappointed not to be with them. He had been in London for some days with his son, who was very ill, and he would not arrive home until too late to be present at tea. The Dean asked Mr. Horner to tell the visiting ringers how cordially they welcomed the members of the association to York, and how much he wished he could have been amongst them.

A vote of sympathy was passed to the Dean, with an expression of hope for the speedy recovery of his son.

The business meeting followed in St. Michael-le-Belfry Schoolroom, Stonegate, the Rev. R. G. Pyne, M.A., Vicar of St. Cuthbert's, York, presiding. He was accompanied on the platform by the Rev. C. T. Alexander, the Rev. B. W. Wood, Mr. A. E. West (Sutton-on-Hull), Vice-president, and Mr. A. B. Cook (Hull), hon. district secretary.

The Chairman (who was formerly curate at Beverley Minster) remarked that he appreciated the honour at being invited to preside, not merely because he was interested in church bell ringing, but because he recognised the sense of fellowship and spirit of brotherhood that existed amongst ringers, and that they were all fellow-workers in one cause in the service of God, and in that way they could materially help and strengthen one another.

The following new members were elected members of the Association: Miss Violet A. Imeson and Mr. S. Steel, York; Messrs. L. M. Woodhead, A. White, W. Stephenson, and A. Jackson, of Goole; Mr. F. Hatfield of Hemingbrough; Mr. A. Turner, of Sutton-on-Hull, and Mr. J. W. Johnson, of All Saints', Hull.

Mr. F. Cryer (Selby) and Mr. R. B. Smith (Howden) were re-elected on the committee and the vacancy caused by the retirement of Mr.

H. Walters (Pontefract), who had served for several years, was filled by the appointment of Mr. A. Walker, senr. (Pontefract). Mr. Cryer was re-elected on the Central Committee.

Mr. A. B. Cook was re-elected hon. district secretary. Mr. W. Middleton (Beverley Minster) invited the district to hold the next quarterly meeting at Beverley, in June, and this offer was unanimously accepted.

On the motion of Mr. P. J. Johnson, hon. general secretary, a cordial vote of thanks was passed to the Dean of York, the Rev. C. T. Alexander, and the Rev. B. W. Wood for the use of the bells, and to the York ringers for the excellent arrangements made for the meeting.

The Rev. C. T. Alexander and the Rev. B. W. Wood replied, and both spoke in appreciation of the opportunity of getting the bells rung. The ringers were doing a really good piece of church work in ringing the bells, and it was highly appreciated by the parishioners. Mr. T. F. Earnshaw responded on behalf of the local company.

The meeting then concluded with a vote of thanks to the chairman, and the Benediction said by the Rev. C. T. Alexander.

NORWICH, ST. EDMUNDSBURY & IPSWICH ASSOCIATION

A practice meeting of the Halesworth District was held at St. Peter's Church, Wenhamston, and was attended by ringers from Bramfield, Brampton, Halesworth, Henham, Meils, Wissett and Wenhamston. Several well-struck touches were rung in the following methods: Grandsire and Bob Doubles, Plain Bob Minor, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Minor. The district secretary, Mr. F. C. Lambert, had arranged the meeting in connection with the 74th birthday of the popular verger and tower keeper, Mr. George Eastaugh, who took part in the ringing during the evening. Reference was made to the loss the society had sustained by the recent death of Mr. Jas. Motts, of St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, the respected Ringing Master of the Suffolk branch, and for many years one of the leading ringers of England. After leaving the tower, an hour's ringing on the handbells brought to a close a very successful meeting.

FALSE METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—On looking through the book of Legitimate Methods I see there is given Double Grandsire Doubles, which is not a true method, there being two false rows beside the hand stroke treble lead 5324 and 4352. It is impossible to get a true 120. Also there are only three true methods in Triples, viz., Grandsire, Stedman and College Single. Take Double Grandsire, for instance. There are three false rows beside the hand stroke treble lead 564732, 764235 and 567243, so that it is impossible to get a true peal; and the rest are all about the same.—Yours truly,
E. HIMS.

THE SUFFOLK DEVELOPMENT.

The situation in Suffolk has come rapidly to a climax and Easter Monday saw, what to those outside ringing circles in that county, must appear an almost sensational development. The first inkling of what might be expected was provided by the notice 'To Suffolk Ringers' which appeared in our columns last week, which announced a meeting at Ipswich to decide upon the formation of a new society of ringers for the Diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich. This appeared after notice had been given of meetings of the existing St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association and the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Branch of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association to be held in the same town, on the same day. The upshot of the whole business was that by thirty-one votes to seven at the first meeting, it was decided to establish a Suffolk Guild for the Diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, to which a considerable number of the leading Suffolk ringers gave their allegiance, including men who had previously declined to join the recently formed diocesan organisation. Following upon this the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association was dissolved, and at another meeting, the members present of the Suffolk Branch affiliated to the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association declined to carry on the branch, and passed a resolution that it should 'cease to exist.'

As a matter of 'legality' this resolution is probably ultra vires, for the branch having been established under the constitution of the Norwich, St Edmundsbury and Ipswich Association at a general meeting of members of the two counties, can hardly be thus disposed of by one section only. As a matter of practical politics, however, the action taken at Ipswich seems to us likely effectively to put an end to an organised branch of the older association in Suffolk. There is nothing to prevent them retaining their title and those members who desire to remain in their ranks, but the future in Suffolk seems to be with the new Guild. If one can form any views from the opinions which exist, there have been mistakes on both sides, and it would be a matter of satisfaction if one could believe that the dispute has come to an end. We do not know, however, what the Norwich action will be as a result of Monday's Ipswich meetings. Faced with the accomplished facts the Norfolk members may accept what appears on the face of it to be 'the inevitable,' drop the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich part of their title and devote themselves to building up a purely Norwich Diocesan Association. On the other hand it will not be surprising if a still further effort is made to retain Suffolk, although with the two ringing stronghold

WESTERN DIVISION SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

A most successful annual meeting of the Western Division of the above association was held at Steyning on Saturday, March 24th. The day was gloriously fine, and no doubt accounted for the record number of members who attended, the following towers being represented: St. Peter's and St. Nicholas', Brighton; Shoreham, Heene, Henfield, Horley, Shipley, Crawley, Kirdford, West Grinstead, and members of the local band.

Various methods, which ranged from Grandsire to London Surprise and Bristol, were rung till 4.30, when the party attended a short service, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. W. Cox). Tea, which was kindly provided by the Vicar, was partaken of at the Steyning Tea Gardens.

Mr. J. Thornton Rickman, the Master, presided at the business meeting which followed.

The division has held four quarterly meetings during the last year, with a very fair attendance, and it has done a little better financially than the preceding year.

Mr. A. W. Groves was re-elected divisional secretary; Messrs. Lindup, Challen and Doick were elected to the association committee; and Messrs. W. Charman, Burdfield and T. Burtenshaw were re-elected on the Committee of Advice.

The following members were also elected: Messrs. H. Nichols and E. Enticknap of Kirdford; D. Hide, Geo. Joice, R. Green and A. Styles, of Steyning; and F. Meekens and F. Farmer, junr., of Heene.

It was proposed to hold the next meeting at Fittleworth in June. Votes of thanks were given the Vicar for providing the tea, and also for granting the use of the bells; also to Mr. Rickman for presiding, and to Mr. Hills for making the necessary arrangements for the meeting.

The party then wended their way to the tower for further ringing. This was the most successful meeting, both in point of numbers and in methods rung, held by the division for some years.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.ANNUAL FESTIVAL.
THE RECOGNITION OF PEALS.

There was a large assembly of members of the Hertford County Association at the annual festival held at St. Albans on Monday. Members were present from St. Albans, Harpenden, Luton, Watford, Hemel Hempstead, Leverstock Green, King's Langley, Berkhamsted, Tring, Hertford, Ware, Hatfield, North Mymms, Kimpton, Barley, Little Munden, Bushey, Bushey Heath, Oxhey, Houghton Regis, Kensington, Fulham, Edmonton and Southgate.

At the special service held in the choir of the Cathedral, evensong was sung by the Rev. — Mayhew, and the lessons were read by the Dean of St. Albans. An especially interesting feature of the service was the address delivered, from the lectern, by Mr. G. W. Cartmel, the energetic and enthusiastic honorary secretary of the association, who chose for his text the words, St. John xv. 14, 'Ye are My friends if ye do whatsoever I command you.'

Mr. W. H. Lawrence, as outgoing president, occupied the chair at the tea and annual meeting at the Abbey Institute, which followed the service, those supporting him at the head table being the Dean of St. Albans, the Revs. G. M. Edmonds and B. Tyrwhitt Drake, and Messrs. E. P. Debenham, E. N. Wix, H. J. Loe (High Chief Ranger of the Ancient Order of Foresters), W. H. L. Buckingham, E. G. Benson and L. C. Head, and there was also among the large number present Mr. W. E. Garrard (Master of the College Youths).

The retiring president extended a hearty welcome to members, both old and new, and made reference to Mr. J. Conley, of St. Albans, who is now 87 years of age, and has been ringing for 62 years. He went on to say that the members of the association might congratulate themselves upon the fact that the year just passed had witnessed the highest standard of ringing since the association was formed (applause). They had also created a record for England by ringing Cambridge Surprise from Minor to Maximus (applause). The Edmonton hand and others had also rung the first peal of Grandire Cinques on handbells recently for the association. Mr. Lawrence also expressed gratitude to the Dean of St. Albans for allowing Mr. G. W. Cartmel to give the address at their service that day.

The confirmation of the provisional election of Miss Kate Wells, of Cambridge, and of Mr. Derrick Luck, of Kimpton, was agreed to.

The following were nominated as new members: Messrs. Spicer and Frank Beeson (St. Albans) R. Richardson, G. Richardson and H. Nobbs (Hatfield), J. W. Todd (Houghton Regis), and W. S. Lawrence (Little Munden).

Mr. Cartmel read his annual report, which was a record of excellent progress, and this was unanimously adopted.

Mr. E. P. Debenham, who presented the treasurer's annual report, stated that the year commenced with a balance in hand of £5 7s. 11d. The year's receipts had amounted to £35 19s. 11d., and the expenses to £36 7s. 11d., leaving a balance due to the treasurer of 18s. 10d. There was a surplus fund of £29 17s. 6d., and the association also held £15 15s. 9d. of War Stock. Mr. Debenham explained that although there was a small adverse balance on the year's working, the association was by no means bankrupt, nor need its members look on the black side of things in regard to the financial position.

The treasurer's report and statement of accounts was adopted.

MR. E. P. DEBENHAM ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Mr. W. H. Lawrence proposed the election of Mr. E. P. Debenham as his successor in the presidential chair for the coming year, and in so doing observed that he was sure the selection was one that would meet with the hearty approval of all the members.

Mr. W. H. L. Buckingham, who seconded, said he was sure they could not have a better president than their 'good old friend' (applause).

The newly-elected president said the Hertford County Association was one that it did them good to belong to, as it brought them together as friends. Long might that friendship last between those who had 'done their bit,' and the youngsters coming on. They had had some good ones in St. Peter's (St. Albans) during the year, and he had been very pleased to see that a certain amount of progress had been made in connection with change ringing by the young ones who had attended the district meeting held a few weeks ago, and again that afternoon. As to the presidency of the association Mr. Debenham said he would have preferred to wait for two years before taking that office, as 1925 would mark the completion of his fifty years as a ringer (applause). Mr. Debenham said that during his year of office he would endeavour to attend at least one district meeting in each district, and he would look for good behaviour and punctual attendance at the district meetings (laughter and hear, hear). He also stated facetiously: 'If Easter is not altered I shall have an extra three weeks of presidency included in my year. They get measures through so quickly nowadays, and they may turn Easter away from the moon; but unless it is turned away from the moon, I shall have three weeks added to my occupancy of the position of president.'

On the proposition of the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake, seconded by Mr. H. Eden, Mr. Debenham was re-elected treasurer, Mr. Debenham observing, amidst laughter, that he did not desire to occupy all the offices in that association. 'Please don't think I want to be the capital I in the association,' he added, to which the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake retorted, '£ s. d. is what we want you to be (laughter).'

Mr. Debenham said he did not want to be saddled with the deficit which the association's finances showed this year, and added that if towers that were in arrears would forward their subscriptions without delay, that deficit would be turned into a balance in hand.

Mr. G. W. Cartmel was, on the proposition of Mr. Winney, seconded by Mr. W. H. Lawrence, re-elected hon. secretary amidst applause.

As representative of the association on the Central Council, the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake was re-elected, and Mr. E. D. Livermore and Mr. J. Prewett were re-elected hon. librarian and hon. auditor, respectively, with thanks for their services.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL'S AUTHORITY.

Mr. E. P. Debenham proposed the following alteration to rule, 'No peal of 5,000 changes or upwards on five or more bells shall be entered in the peal book that is not recognised as such by the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers, or other body for the time being exercising the powers of the Central Council with regard to peals.' He explained that the object of the alteration was to bring the association into line with the Central Council with regard to the selection of performances that should be regarded as peals. The Central Council was the 'Parliament' of church bell ringing in England, and if they could not decide, on behalf of the Exercise at large, what performances should be recognised as peals, he did not think the association should decide for itself, and it would be much better to leave it to the Central Council to define.

Mr. Buckingham seconded the motion, remarking that he did not think it was a good thing for the association to go for peals that were not recognised by the Central Council; and if they did not recognise the Central Council, it was of no good sending a representative to it.

Mr. Ayre inquired what was at the back of the mind of the proposer; was it in reference to the 30-method peal rung at Norbury, or had it to do with any other method?

Mr. Debenham said that was not present in his mind at all. We were living in a democratic age, and he thought they had better accept what the Central Council accepted, and leave it there. If the Central Council recognised any performance as worthy of record as a peal then the Hertford County Association should do likewise.

Mr. M. Hibbert inquired whether, if anyone brought in a great innovation in Minor methods and the Central Council disagreed, what line would the association take?

Mr. Debenham: They must either accept it or reject it.

Mr. Eden expressed the view that unless all the associations came into line with Mr. Debenham's proposal, it would be hardly fair to the Hertford County Association.

The Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake said it seemed that the 'spliced' method of ringing was excluded under the old rule, and now if Mr. Debenham's motion were passed it would be included. He did not think any other association would be accepting any peal that this association, if they adopted this rule, would be refusing, unless they went directly contrary to any ruling of the Central Council. There was no idea of cutting anything out, but rather of including Minor methods.

Mr. Debenham: It is rather a widening than a narrowing.

Mr. Cartmel explained that Mr. Debenham's idea in bringing this motion forward was to include everything that was a peal. To-day ringing was making such rapid strides that they did not know what would happen in twelve months' time. The Hertford Association were going to lead the other associations; they wanted to welcome all the peals that were rung in 20, 30, or 40 methods.

The motion was eventually agreed to.

DISTRICT SECRETARIES.

As district secretaries, Messrs. F. R. Bacon (Northern Division), W. Nash (St. Albans), H. Eden (Watford) and W. H. Lawrence (Eastern Division) were re-elected, and Mr. W. Ayre was elected to succeed Mr. Reeve (resigned) for the Western Division.

Mr. Debenham moved, and the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake seconded, a vote of thanks to the Dean of St. Albans, and the Vicars of St. Peter's, St. Michael's and St. Stephen's Churches for placing their bellies at the disposal of the members for the annual festival. Mr. Debenham making special reference to the admirable address, at the annual service in the Cathedral, delivered by Mr. G. W. Cartmel, whose words they would treasure in the days to come. He referred also to the sustained interest which Mr. Cartmel showed in the work of the association, and said if it were not for him the association would not be in its present flourishing condition.

The Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake jokingly remarked that the Dean of St. Albans now had such an excellent deputy on the Cathedral staff of preachers that it would be an excellent thing if he would decide to go round to the small country parishes and give the incumbents there a holiday.

The Dean of St. Albans, in the course of his reply, also alluded to Mr. Carlme's address, which, he said, was one they would all value, and one which he hoped would aid them in their work. He said he liked to look upon ringers as being in a very real sense workers for God. This was the only ideal that could bring about true friendship amongst them. Incidentally the Dean said he believed it was fifty years ago this year since the Abbey Society was revived, and he expressed the hope that the jubilee would be marked by great success. They had lost their old captain, Mr. Whitbread, who had been with them for many years, but they were very glad to have as his successor Mr. Goodenough (applause).

A NEW SOCIETY FOR SUFFOLK. UNITY OF ACTION ACHIEVED AT IPSWICH MEETINGS.

There have been a number of meetings in Suffolk during the last few years which have claimed to speak for the county, but such a claim has in each case been disputed. There can, however, be no doubt about the meetings held at Ipswich on Easter Monday. Suffolk ringers had made up their minds that it was quite time that they managed their own affairs, and at 12.30 they assembled in a crowded meeting under the Archdeacon of Sudbury as president. Voting papers had been sent out to all the towers where ringing is carried on in the diocese, and so many were returned to Mr. Charles F. Bailey, of Leiston, that he was able to inform the meeting that an overwhelming majority of both towers and ringers were in favour of forming a new society. He, therefore, proposed that such a society be now formed.

This was seconded by Mr. C. J. Sedgley, of Ipswich, and opposed by the Rev. W. C. Pearson, of Henley, who wanted a joint association of the two counties of Norfolk and Suffolk.

The Rev. H. Drake said he was really in favour of such a joint association, and had been trying to work for it for nearly two years, but the mention of such a thing simply infuriated their Norfolk friends, so the only practical course was to adopt Mr. Bailey's proposal, and when their society was formed and had been working some years, co-operation might be possible, but at present it was impracticable. He denied Mr. Pearson's statement that he had organised this meeting; the movement was entirely spontaneous throughout the county, and his share of the work was confined to posting the notices and voting papers.

The proposal was carried by 31 against 7.

It was then agreed that the name of the society be 'The Suffolk Guild of Ringers for the Diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich.'

The Bishop was then elected patron; Archdeacon Farmiloe, president; Archdeacon Darling, vice-president; Mr. C. J. Sedgley, Ringing Master; the Rev. H. Drake, secretary; Mr. C. E. Fisher, treasurer; and the following members, in addition to the district secretaries, on the committee, Mr. Ar. Symonds, the Rev. R. L. Gardner, Mr. Dixon, Mr. Chas. Bailey, Mr. Poppy, Mr. Charles Mee. The rules were left to the committee, and it was decided to hold the annual meeting at Ipswich in July.

ST. EDMUNDSBURY AND IPSWICH ASSOCIATION DISSOLVED.

A meeting followed at 2.30 of the existing St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association, and it was unanimously decided that at the close of that meeting the society be dissolved. A report of the whole working of the association was read and passed, and it was decided to ask the secretary to print it, together with a list of peals already rung by the association, out of the existing funds in his hands.

With regard to the matters left to this meeting by the previous meeting, it was decided to ask the New Guild to absorb the old association, to take over the life members, and those who have already paid their subscriptions, in return for which any balance in hand will be paid to the new Guild; £5 to be paid at once on account.

At 3.30 another crowded meeting was held; this time, of the members of the Norwich Diocesan Association. It only lasted about ten minutes. After formal business, Mr. George Wilson resigned the position of secretary pro tem., saying he had tried in vain to obtain a successor. After the chairman had appealed several times for nominations to this and the other vacant offices in vain, Mr. H. Day proposed, and Mr. B. Poppy seconded, that this branch cease to exist.

On being put to the meeting, it was carried, with only one dissentient.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION. ANNUAL MEETING AT DERBY.

It was at Derby in 1882 that the association everywhere known by the abbreviated nomenclature of M.C.A. first saw the light; and for many years the place was the sole headquarters. The movement spread, and other towns as great or greater came into the combine, and ultimately it was decided to visit each of these in turn, viz., Burton, Derby, Nottingham and Leicester. Thus, once in every four years ringers turn at Easter to one of these centres, in their respective order, and on Monday last Derby was the venue. Although a popular place, and almost centrally situated, the railway authorities always seem to give the celebrated Midland town a 'miss-in-bank.' No trips are run on Easter Monday, although one can pass through and travel far afield at excursion rates, but as far as Derby is concerned it is full fare. The Midland motto of 'Semper idem' is loyally carried out, but such conservatism is not compatible with progress. There was a time when Derby went much further—so its traducers say—and that cyclists were forbidden to ride through the iron gate on a Sunday; in fact, if anyone was seen by the Guardian in Blue to be laughing, winking, or wagging his ear, he was promptly 'run in!' I do not vouch for the truth of this, for some of the ringers of Derby are lively enough to ward off depression, and are never averse when they appear before a judge in chambers!

On this occasion the merry bells of St. Andrew were silent, the reason being that they are undergoing rehanging and augmentation to ten. Fortunately, St. Luke's bells of 30 cwt. tenor, unring for many years, gave tongue after rehanging, as did St. Peter's (8) and a bright sparkling ring of eight at St. Alkmund's. The ten bells of All Saints were also in evidence during the day, but it is much to be desired that the peal should be rehung, recast and augmented to twelve. All Saints is a grand old tower, and a landmark for miles around. No effort should be spared to make the bells worthy of the church. Among the ringers one met could be seen faces from Chesterfield, Bolsover, Burton, Nottingham, Loughboro', and from many places north of the Trent.

The sub-committee appointed to consider the certificate of merit question met at St. Alkmund's Institute. This question, which has been discussed in 'The Ringing World' has many sides. There are two classes of objectors, one that thinks the Surprise methods are too far ahead for them, and, therefore, no differentiation should be made; the other, that their prowess is so well known that it would be infra dig. to mention it! There is another school of thought that thinks differently, and believes that honour should be given wherever it is due. The movers in this scheme hardly expected it to be accepted off-hand. Few pioneers see the fruition of their labours. It usually remains for the after followers to garner the work of the pioneer, but it should never be forgotten that the impossibilities (1) and ideals of goneby ages are the common places of to-day! Some thought that a test of striking should be asked for, in other words, prize ringing without the prize. A cup was also offered for good striking, but realising the half-digested opinion at present extant, it was resolved to refer the scheme back to the committee for further consideration.

The general committee met later in the same place to transact the business when the matter of finance was discussed. As notified in the 'report,' the hon. treasurer, Mr. W. Willson, brought forward the question of investing some of the funds in hand. Owing to the initiative of the president, Ald. R. B. Chambers, the association possessed a considerable number of patrons and hon. members, so much so that their subscriptions almost equalled those of ringing members. Never in its history had the M.C.A. been so affluent, and while the bank balance brought little interest on current account, it was possible to invest in registered stock of Government Loan at 25 per cent. per annum free of tax. This involved the question of trusteeship, and the hon. treasurer suggested that £100 be bought, with the president as trustee. After discussion, it was agreed to postpone the investment until the next quarterly meeting. It was also resolved to allocate £10 to the 'Bell Repair Fund,' from which a grant of £5 was made to the church at Castle Donington, on condition the work of rehanging the bells is satisfactorily carried out.

A ringers' service was held at 4 o'clock in All Saints' Church, when the Ven. Archdeacon of Nottingham occupied the pulpit. Ringers' hymns were used, and the reverend gentleman gave an interesting discourse to an appreciative audience. At the close of the service, a collection was taken for the 'Bell Repair Fund.'

Following this, tea took place in the Assembly Rooms, Market Place, when about 150 members and friends sat down to an excellent repast. The meeting was graced by the presence of Mrs. Chambers, Miss Chambers, Ven. Archdeacon Conybeare, the Revs. R. F. Wilkinson, R. W. Ellison, M.A., T. S. Wiling, J. T. Mumford, M.A., and others. The business meeting followed on the heels of the tea.

The election of general officers was then proceeded with. Only the present occupants of the offices were nominated, viz., president, Ald. R. B. Chambers, J.P.; secretary, Mr. A. C. Wright; treasurer, Mr. W. Willson; and these were re-elected nem con.—Votes of thanks to them for past services were passed, with applause.

For the next quarterly meetings it was resolved to visit Loughboro' at the opening of the carillon in July; Bakewell, Derbyshire, in September, while a place to be chosen was decided on for the January meeting in 1924. Nottingham falls for the annual meeting at Easter next, according to rota.

Thirty-one new members were elected, bringing the total membership up to 953.

In moving a vote of thanks to the clergy for the use of the bells and to the local officers for the excellent catering, Mr. Willson said that Derby could now consider itself 'somebody.' It had got into the semi-final for the English Cup at football, had licked Leicester once at cricket (by a fluke) and now it remained to ring next time on the augmented ten at St. Andrew's.

Ringling throughout the day was of a first-class order, most of the standard methods being negotiated to the satisfaction of all concerned, while others, who only meet their friends at these meetings, retired to some of the cosy old 'snugs' to be found in Derby, where liquid nourishment is dispensed, and where they could ring their peals of long ago over again. Ah, well, they were good judges, too, for life is made up of anticipations—and memories.

In the evening, thanks to the generosity of Ald. Chambers, a social and 'smoker' was given in the Assembly Rooms, when the following items were well rendered: 'Napoleon,' Littleover Handbell Ringers; song, 'I care not' (Basil Hood), Mr. A. Roome; duet, 'Ring out, wild bells' (J. Blocksley), Messrs. Roome and Smith; song, 'The bellringer' (V. Wallace), Mr. A. P. Smith; quartette, 'Comrades in arms' (A. Adams), Messrs. Roome, Robinson, Dunning and Percival; 'The Ash Grove,' Littleover Handbell Ringers; 'Arlene Waltz' (Balfe), Littleover Handbell Ringers; song, 'The Songs of Araby' (F. H. Clay), Mr. A. Roome; duet, 'Flow gently, Deva' (H. Parry), Messrs. Roome and Smith; song, 'The Ringer' (Hermann Lohr), Mr. A. P. Smith; quartette, 'The long day closes' (Sullivan), Messrs. Roome, Robinson, Dunning and Percival; 'The Blue Bells of Scotland,' Littleover Handbell Ringers.

RESULT OF A CYCLING ACCIDENT.

It is with regret we have to record the sad death of Mr. F. T. Sands, of Mayfield, Sussex, which occurred at Tunbridge Wells Hospital, on March 20th inst., as the result of an accident on the previous day. While cycling to collect orders he came into collision with another cyclist, and was thrown with such violence from his machine that he received terrible injuries to his skull, to which he unhappily succumbed.

The deceased was elected a member of the Mayfield ringers in Jan., 1912, and became secretary and sub-captain in 1921, which office he held at the time of his death.

He was buried at St. Dunstan's, Mayfield, on March 26th, and was borne to the church by four of his fellow ringers and four brother Foresters. In the evening touches were rung with bells muffled and the hand stroke of tenor open, friends from Rotherfield assisting.

Mr. Sands, who was only 32 years of age, was born at Mayfield, where he had lived all his life, with the exception of the time he served in the war. He leaves a widow and three children, the youngest being only six weeks old, and for them much sympathy is felt.

BRIGHTON RINGERS' SOCIAL.

Some 14 of the members of the St. Nicholas' Society, Brighton, recently met for a social evening at the house of Mr. F. Bleach, one of the band. An excellent repast, prepared by Mrs. Bleach and a friend, was most heartily enjoyed by the company, which was later increased by the arrival of one of the honorary members — the Rev. C. H. Clarke.

Music and song followed, the solo items being contributed chiefly by Messrs. John Jay, Fred K. Palmer, E. Bleach, A. York Bramble, and the Rev. C. H. Clarke. The thanks of the company were due to Mr. and Mrs. Bleach and to their son-in-law, who so ably accompanied throughout the evening—an evening marked by the prevalence of the true social spirit.

DEATH OF FORMER HEPTONSTALL RINGER

At Heptonstall Parish Church, the bells were muffled for evensong on Palm Sunday as a mark of respect to the late Mr. William Robertshaw, who was conductor at this church previous to removing to Haworth some 35 years ago. A touch of 1,008 Bob Major was rung in 40 minutes by T. Robertshaw 1. W. Crabtree 2. Mrs. W. Crabtree 3. F. Robertshaw 4. J. A. Robertshaw (longest length) 5. J. Robertshaw 6. R. Nowell 7. H. BELFRY GOSSIP.

The Salisbury Branch of the Salisbury Guild is badly in want of a new secretary, the acting secretary, through pressure of other duties, being unable to hold the necessary branch meetings or to maintain and encourage the work of the bells. Here is a chance for an enthusiast.

Plans are under discussion for strengthening the tower of Tisbury Church, Wilts, so that the fine peal of bells there may again be brought into use.

The first non-conducted peal of Minor in seven methods was rung at Batley on April 6th, 1867.

On April 7th, 1741, at St. Sepulchre's, Snow Hill, London, the first peal of Treble Bob Royal was rung. This was a 5,200 'Oxford Triple Bob, ten in,' by the Eastern Scholars.

It was on April 7th, 1761, that the peal of 40,320 Bob Major was begun at Leeds, in Kent, to be finished on the next day, thirteen men taking part.

The rare performance for those early times, of two peals in one day was completed on April 9th, 1751. These were 5,800 Double Bob Major and 5,040 Bob Major, both rung at St. Mary's, Hillingdon. John Holt took part in these peals.

On April 11th, 1888, 13,265 Grandsire Caters was rung at Appleton in 8 hours 5 minutes, and on April 12th, 1909, the 18,027 Stedman Caters was rung at Loughborough in 12 hours 18 minutes. Easter Monday has been a favourite day for long peals.

The composition of 5,184 London Surprise Major, published last week under the name of Mr. S. Grove, was first produced by Mr. J. W. Washbrook, and was rung in 1896. Several correspondents have pointed this out, and it is only fair to Mr. Grove to say that, having regard to the qualities of the peal, he felt convinced he could not be the first to obtain it.

In reference to Mr. Kim's letter published last week it should be stated that true peals of Triples in the methods referred to can be obtained if the Singles used are Holt's Singles.

The report of a peal rung on March 28th at Newton-in-the-Isle, Cambs, has been sent without the name of the conductor.

The following is the copy of an interesting old peal tablet at St. Nicholas Cathedral, Newcastle-on-Tyne: 'On March 27th (Easter Sunday), 1842, the Union Society of Newcastle and Gateshead change ringers, in company with Messrs. John Cox and John Freeman, two members of the St. James' Youtlis, London, rang on the bells in this tower a true and complete peal of Holt's Grandsire Triples, consisting of 5,040 changes in the unprecedented short period of 2 hours and 59 minutes. Tenor 36 cwt. The harmony produced by the skill and talent employed on this occasion, displayed to the science an unequalled specimen of the sublime, beautiful and intricate art of change ringing. The following are the names of the artists who rang: Chas. Walker 1. John Elliott 2. Allan Stephenson 3. John Freeman 4. John Cox 5. Robt. Balmra 6. George James 7. Richd. Wanless 8. Conducted by John Cox. Stewards, R. Balmra, Geo. James.'

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

HINCKLEY DISTRICT MEETING.

A most successful meeting of the Hinckley District was held at Peckleton and Kirkby Mallory on Saturday, March 24th, when 23 members and friends attended from Barwell, Croft, Desford, Hinckley, Earl Shilton, Stony Stanton, South Wigston, Wigston Magna, and the local company. The bells were kept going in the standard methods till 7.30 p.m. At the kind invitation of the Rector (the Rev. S. R. Pocock) the ringers adjourned to the Rectory for their meeting. This was presided over by the vice-president (Mr. C. H. Webb), who was supported by the Rev. S. R. Pocock, who was unanimously elected an honorary member of the association.

Five ringing members were elected, and it was decided to hold the next meeting at Wolvey, in April.

Thanks to Rectors for use of bells at Peckleton and Kirkby Mallory were passed.—The Rev. S. R. Pocock, in replying, said, speaking for himself and his neighbour (the Rev. W. Townshend), he could assure the members it gave them great pleasure not only to place bells at the ringers' disposal, but also to hear them rung.

A very hearty vote of thanks was given to the Rector for his kindness in providing refreshments at the Rectory after the meeting, and the Rector said what a pleasure it was to know of the good work the ringers were trying to do. He hoped they would all be able to pay them a visit on many future occasions.

THE HANDBELL PEAL AT SAFFRON WALDEN

To the Editor.

Sir.—As I was partly responsible for the publication of the statement regarding the handbell peal at Saffron Walden, being the first by anyone of its members, I find 'Interested' is quite right. I, therefore, wish to withdraw that statement, although the peal was not included in the late Mr. Nathan Pitstow's list of peals published at the time of his death in 1914. It being the first handbell peal rung in Saffron Walden, still holds good.—Yours faithfully,

F. DENCH.

TEN-BELL TOWERS.

DEATH OF MR. J. S. AMBLER.

The Halifax, St. John's, company of ringers have sustained a severe loss, in their sadly depleted numbers, by the death of Mr. J. S. Ambler, on Tuesday, March 20th (after an illness of only three days) from sugar diabetes. Mr. Ambler had rung 69 peals in various methods for the Yorkshire Association, his membership of that body dating from 1888. He had also occupied all the senior offices of the Halifax and District Association, and his many activities made him known to an exceedingly wide circle of friends. The deceased had also been a regular member of parties of ringers organised each Whitsuntide by Mr. T. Maude, of Pudsey, to visit various parts of the kingdom, and his genial presence will be greatly missed at these functions, where his kindly disposition made him greatly esteemed by the other members of the party.

The funeral was led by a procession of some four hundred men, connected with the R.A.O.B., Plumbers' Institute, Master Plumbers' Association, and various change ringing organisations, and after a service at All Souls', Haley Hill, the interment took place at All Souls' Cemetery, both services being conducted by the President of the Yorkshire Association (the Rev. C. C. Marshall). Inside a square, formed by some two hundred members of the various orders, the last offices of the church were ministered at the graveside, the Grand Master of the R.A.O.B. conducting the rites of that order at the conclusion of the church service.

A plain course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by G. Naylor, T. B. Kendall, P. J. Johnson and J. Broadley after which muffled touches of Treble Bob Royal and Grandsire Caters were rung on the bells at the Parish Church. Great sympathy is felt for Mrs. Ambler and her son and daughter in their bereavement, while the loss of an enthusiastic and devoted helper to his ringing friends will be greatly felt, and it will be long ere the memory of our deceased comrade will be forgotten by his many friends.

JOHN NEW'S RINGING BOOK.

BITS FROM THE RECORD OF AN OLD TWICKENHAM RINGER.

The ringing book of John New, of Twickenham, who was born on June 14th, 1790, sets at rest all doubts as to the peal at Twickenham, the other day being the first of Major on the bells, for therein is recorded a complete peal of Bob Major, 5,040 changes in 3 hours 4 minutes, on October 10th, 1810. This peal was rung by Will Winson 1, J. New 2, J. Bates 3, B. Harris 4, E. Nelhams 5, E. Unday 6, W. Webb 7, G. Cole 8, and was conducted by G. Cole.

This ringing book, which has kindly been lent to us by Mr. T. Beadle, of Isleworth, is extraordinarily interesting. It was evidently begun by John New on October 27th, 1811, for it contains his name and this date boldly lettered on the fly leaf. Its principle object seems to have been to place the writer in possession of a copy of various methods and compositions, and with great pains and much obvious labour he has copied out the letterpress and figures relating to many of the methods and peals in 'The Clavis,' beginning with the changes on three bells and going on to twelve. Further on, John New's peals are recorded, carefully written, ruled round in red, and some of the special performances crudely decorated with designs of bells.

Although it is obvious that much of the writing was done at a later date, the owner of the book had apparently completed what he first set out to do, a few months after he started, for on the last page he has inscribed, 'Patience is a Virtue, And that you may see; this Book was begun and Finished by Me, John New, Feb. 27th, 1812.' As the years progressed, quite a variety of matters was crowded into spare spaces, ranging from the figures of handbell tunes, to business accounts and recipes for minor ailments. Among the last named, for instance, is a recipe by Mr. Thomas Ewington, which was written into the ringing book, apparently, on Dec. 7th, 1822: 'Tincture of Cantherides rubbed on the face three times a day is very serviceable in the Rheumatism, and take one spoonful of tincture of Gum Guacum put into three-quarters of a pint of water gruel going to bed at night.' Perhaps John New was suffering from rheumatism.

John New rang peals at many of the churches in Middlesex and Surrey, for at that time, between 1809 and 1822 there was an enthusiastic band of ringers at Twickenham, and peal tablets still remain at Isleworth and Richmond recording their prowess. Their conductor was George Cole, and he must have been a very able bob caller for in addition to many peals of Grandsire, including Holt's Original, there are peals of Bob Major, Oxford Treble Bob Major and Royal, and Stedman Catens. The record of the first peal of Stedman Catens which they rang, occupies a position of special prominence in John New's ringing book. A full and decorated page is devoted to it, and it is thus recorded: 'On Sunday, October the 3rd, 1819, was rung at All Saints' Church, Fulham, Middlesex, after the long perseverance of two years and upwards, the arduous task of Stedman Catens. A complete peal of 5,031 changes, which was Performed in 3 Hours and 12 Minutes, it being the first Peal ever Performed in that Tower in the Method of Stedman, the Performers were: Messrs.

John New	1st	John Cooper	6th
John Barber	2nd	George Cole	7th
Charles Barber	3rd	William Platt, senr.	8th
Scholes Bamford	4th	John Platt	9th
John Stratford	5th	Edward Hudnot	10th

This Peal was Composed, Call'd and Rung by George Cole.
Brought Round at Hand and Finished in Fine Style.'

John New appears to have been at the opening of the twelve bells at Painswick on October 11th, 1819, to have rung at Gloucester on the previous day, and at Stroud on the day after, for a record of 'touches' at these places appears on a page following a list of towers at which he had rung. He was also present at the first opening of Mitcham Bells on April 26th, 1820, and on Feb. 16th in that year he rang a 'dumb peal for George, the King of Great Britain, the best King ever reign'd in England.'

Various bits of doggerel verse intersperse other matters and one 'a Ringer's Song,' extols the virtues of a peal of Oxford Treble Bob rung at Richmond, on Feb. 11th, 1809, presumably John New's first peal—at any rate it is the earliest recorded in this book. It was a 5,120.

They did ring so neat and clear,
That you might travel many a mile and not such ringing hear.
A Tite young Youth the Treble rung, his name it was John New.
The second veteran Nelhams, he did ring both just and true.
The third, Jem Cole, well play'd his part,
Tho' he so lately learnt the art.

The 4th Scholes Bamford he did ring, although but weak and low,
Yet while that he could stand and ring, his rope he'd ne'er let go.
The fifth Jack Bates, a staunch brave Boy
Did knock about to all our joy.

The sixth was rung by William Platt, a noble striker He,
The 7th his nephew, stout young Jack, his model to a Tee.
They made the Musick oo well tell
No Slur or Blur, but Ding, Dong, Bell.

The Tenor by George Cole was rung, he call'd the Peal likewise,
And had the Londoners been there, it had struck them with surprise.

The first Peal ere he rung at all
He did both manfully ring and call.

Now since the peal we have gone through, so early in the year,
Let's down to White's, of Staunch True Blue, and drink his nut brown beer.

And if that will not touch us fine,
He' got some glorious elder Wine!

Some of the habits of peal ringers a hundred and more years ago do not seem to have been vastly different to those of the present generation.

John New, and at any rate some of the other Twickenham men, were apparently members of the College Youths, for a peal of 'Oxford Treble Bob' was rung at Kensington on Dec. 8th, 1822, 'by eight of the Society of old College Youths.'

John New made a family register of his ringing book, and in it he recorded the dates of his own birth, and marriage, and the names of his children and the dates of their birth. He was married to Elizabeth Shores at Twickenham Church on Sept. 4th, 1814. One may imagine he was a decorator, glazier and sign writer by trade, judging from his accounts, and he must have provided a good many peal boards, for he notes against some of his peals, as, for instance, one of 'Gransire Triples' rung on Easter Day, March 29th, 1812, at Twickenham, 'Printed the Board for it.'

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

GATHERING AT CAMBRIDGE.

The annual meeting was held at Cambridge on Easter Monday. The committee held a short meeting, at which the president (the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey) presided. The hon. secretary's balance sheet, which showed a balance in hand of £10 11s. 11½d., was approved, and the names of the officers were suggested for the approval of the general meeting.

The service was at Great St. Mary's at noon. The Vicar (the Rev. C. L. Hulbert) was assisted by the hon. secretary, and the lesson was read by the Rev. H. B. Woolley. The Rev. Canon S. T. Adams, Vicar of Holy Sepulchre and Rural Dean, gave an inspiring address. His text being 1 Cor., x. 31. At the close he quoted some words on the qualities required for successful change ringing, and dwelt on one, viz., 'Unselfish team work.'

A luncheon had been arranged at the Dorothy Cafe, at which 30 ringers and friends were present—a much smaller number than last year. After lunch came the general meeting, the chair being taken by Mr. Woolley as the president, who was suffering from a severe cold, begged to be excused from using his voice. The recommendations as to the officers were approved by the meeting: Hon secretary, the Rev. R. Copeman; treasurer, Mr. F. C. Turner; auditor, Mr. T. R. Dennis; district secretary, Ely Archdeaconry, Mr. A. E. Austin; district secretary, Huntingdon Archdeaconry, the Rev. H. B. Woolley; district secretary, Wisbech Archdeaconry, Mr. H. Giddings; district secretary, Marshland Branch, Mr. W. Cross. It was decided that the words 'Ringing Masters' should be deleted in Rule 10.

The question of printing the report was discussed. It was resolved that the reports be printed at the end of the financial year, and sixpence be charged for a copy. It was understood that the district secretaries ascertain the number of copies which would be taken in their districts.

Mr. J. Taylor proposed a vote of thanks to the incumbents of Great St. Mary's, St. Andrew's the Great, and Old Chesterton, and the Rector of the Church of our Lady and the English Martyrs for allowing their bells to be used.—This was seconded by Mr. Dennis, and carried with acclamation.—The Rector (the Rev. J. H. Marshall) replied, and said it gave him great pleasure to be present and to grant the use of their bells. Ringing in various methods was kept up during the afternoon at these churches, and the early comers raised the bells at the Church of our Lady soon after 10 o'clock.

It is hoped that the 7th at Great St. Mary's, which is cracked, may be recast before the next annual meeting.

The Hon. Secretary, in his report, stated that several district meetings had been held during the year, and that 23 peals had been rung: on the tower bells, six of Major and one Grandsire Triples, and 11 in various Minor methods, and five peals on handbells, three being Double Norwich Court Bob, one Kent Treble Bob, one Plain Bob.

BURGHLLY, HEREFORDSHIRE.—On Good Friday, March 30th, 1923 of Doubles, being 120 of each of the following: Stedman, Grandsire, Plain Bob, Canterbury, College Single, and St. Dunstons: J. Rawlings 1, A. Probert 2, W. Williams 3, R. Lloyd 4, C. Jones 5, W. Jones 6, J. Probert (conductor) 7, W. Davis 8. Rung with the bells half-muffled, and 4, 6, 8 covering.

SUNDAY SERVICE TOUCHES.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

In his notes upon 1922, published in the annual report of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, the Master (the Rev. C. C. Hughes D'Aeth) says the year was one of steady work, and also one in which there have been some notable restorations of peals, and in at all events one tower, the addition of bells. There have been some useful combined practices, which must bring forth much good, for it is chiefly through the help and skill from outside that some of our small country places can get their first insight into scientific ringing. The Master notes, with pleasure that there is to be another peal of ten in the diocese, in a district which has been very active in peal ringing during the year.

Thanks are expressed to the branch secretaries and the energetic and hardworking general secretary, and the Master once more asks the clergy to take a little more active part in the ringers' department of church work.

The hon. secretary's report also records steady progress. Sunday ringing has been well maintained, and several more parishes have adopted the Peace Bell on Fridays. Notable among restorations have been those effected in the ancient towers of St. Mary's Church, Marlborough, and St. Peter's, Shaftesbury.

Financially the Guild had a successful year, a balance in hand of £30 0s. 2½d. at the beginning being increased to £51 7s. 7½d. at the close.

The Guild has 108 affiliated towers, including one ten-bell and 26 eight-bell towers.

CUMBERLAND ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting was held at Cleator Moor on Saturday, March 24th, in the Montreal Schools, and presided over by the Rev. — Blackburn, who was supported by the hon. secretary (Mr. J. J. Wallis, of Carlisle), and some 16 members from Arlecdon, Bridekirk, Cocker-mouth, Carlisle, Egremont, and the local band.

Mr. Wallis was again elected hon. secretary, and Mr. Geo. Temby, of Egremont, was appointed to work in conjunction with him, as, owing to pressure of business, Mr. Wallis cannot attend every meeting.

Tea was afterwards partaken of, and subsequently some good practice was had on St. John's bell, Plain Bob and Kent Minor being rung.

The annual bell ringing competition was held at Crosthwaite on Easter Monday.

RECOGNITION OF CENTRAL COUNCIL'S RULINGS.

The decision of the Hertford County Association upon the recognition of peals is, we think, a step in the right direction. The primary object of the motion at last week's meeting is to bring the Association's rule more in accord with present-day developments in Minor ringing, but it goes further than this. By accepting for its records only such peals as are recognised by the Central Council, it places in the hands of that body the responsibility for the definition of a peal instead of laying down its own rules upon the point. The old rule of the Association provided that no peal of less than 5000 changes on seven bells or upwards, or seven 720's rung in any one or more Minor methods on six bells, provided that each 720 is called differently, shall be entered in the Peal Book. The new rule is really much broader, and its value lies in the recognition of the Central Council as the final authority for deciding what shall and what shall not be deemed a 'peal.'

By accepting the resolution proposed by its new President, the Hertford County Association has set an example which we hope to see widely copied, and out of which we think might be developed the idea, so commendable in theory, but so difficult to put into practice, of giving the Central Council some kind of power to insist upon decisions being binding upon all affiliated societies. The subject has already been discussed by the Council, and some attempt made to ascertain the views of the associations and guilds upon the matter; but the response was only a feeble one, as very few of the organisations replied, or even considered the matter.

The Herts Association, however, has opened up a new line. Voluntarily they have agreed to abide by the Council's ruling with regard to what constitutes a peal. If every Association would do the same thing, the first step towards giving the Council some real power would be achieved, and, having got this stage, the Council could then well draw up a code of rules, relating to peals and other matters, which Associations could be asked to subscribe to as a condition of membership of the Council. Associations which had thus given allegiance, would be in honour bound to stand by their undertaking, and we believe that the influence which would thus be exercised would result in individual ringers giving the same adherence to the Council's rulings. The obstacle to making the Council's decisions binding has been the absence of power to enforce them, but if the initiative could come from affiliated bodies in the same way as the Hertford County Association has shown that it can do, the position of the Council would be quickly and effectively strengthened.

DEATH OF GILLINGHAM'S BLIND VICAR.

On Saturday, March 30th, the bells at Rochester Cathedral were rung half-muffled as a tribute to the late Dr. W. H. Robins, hon. Canon of Rochester and Rural Dean and Vicar of Gillingham for 38 years. Although blind, the deceased cleric had carried out his duties during life with the greatest energy.

The funeral took place on Saturday, March 30th, at Gillingham, attended by about 30 clergy, including the Bishop of Rochester, the Dean and Canons, the Mayor and Corporation of Gillingham, and a large congregation. At Gillingham the whole pull and stand was rung during the approach of the cortege to the church, and after the service a 504 Grandsire Triples. In the evening at the Cathedral 503 Grandsire Caters, and on Easter Sunday morning 639 Stedman Caters, 270 Grandsire Caters.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.INTERESTING SOCIAL PROGRAMME FOR SALISBURY GATHERING.

The committee of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, who have been busily engaged in making arrangements for the visit of the Central Council and ringing visitors and friends at Whitsun have provided an admirable programme of social events, and it is earnestly hoped that a large number will avail themselves of the facilities offered for spending a pleasant week-end.

Local headquarters will be established at the Cathedral Hotel, Milford Street, with Mr. T. Hervey Beams as the local officer in charge.

On Saturday evening, May 19th 5-8.30 p.m., there will be ringing at city churches, followed by a social hour at headquarters.

Hughes D'Aeth, Buckhorn Weston, Wincanton, Somerset.

The visit to Wilton, and the charabanc trip will only take place should a sufficient number book; while provision for luncheon and tea will only be made for those intimating they will be present.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Central Division was held at Uckfield on Easter Monday, when 29 ringers were present. Ringing commenced at 2.30. At 4.30 all attended service in church, the address by the Rector (the Rev. E. J. Sanderson) being much appreciated. Tea followed at the Holly Bush, the Rector presiding, supported by the Master (Mr. J. T. Rickman). Afterwards the business meeting was held, at which the following new members were elected, Frederick William Healther and William Henry Woolven (Burgess Hill), Fredk. Howell and Alfred Willie (Lindfield), Messrs. Brown and Morey (Henfield), D. Findley and Wm. Collison (Tunbridge Wells).

The divisional officers were then unanimously elected as follows: A. D. Stone (hon. secretary), R. J. Dawe, Oliver Sippetts and Wm. Watts, senr. (committee); Keith Hart, W. Palmer and C. Tyler (committee of advice). The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, his address, and for presiding at the meeting; also to the organist for his services at the organ.

The tower was then again visited until 8 o'clock, the methods rung varying from Grandsire to Surprise. It is hoped to hold the next meeting at St. Nicholas', Brighton, this to be followed by Henfield.

Secretaries of towers should send in, at once, copy for report to their Divisional Hon. Secs.

AN INQUIRY.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I am one of a committee now very seriously pondering the necessity or otherwise of 'Simpson Tuning.' The peal of bells which cause the pondering are now in the hands of bell founders for sand-blasting and simple tuning. The firm who have undertaken this work, now contend that nothing but Simpson tuning—which entails an expensive recasting job—will give good results. Perhaps you could help us to find out from those who have a chance of knowing, whether the old tuning methods, properly applied, cannot also be made to give good results.—Yours faithfully,

SEEKER AFTER FACTS.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

To avoid clashing with the Ladies' Guild (Southern District) at Bramley to-morrow, the meeting of the Guildford District of the Winchester Guild, arranged for the same date at Chiddingfold has been postponed until the 28th.

Among the very long lengths rung at Painswick was a 12,006 of Grandsire Caters on April 18th, 1737, but it was not a record, for on the previous March 8th the men of St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, had rung a peal of 12,603. News did not travel so fast in those days, and had the Painswick men known of the Norwich performance they would probably have added that other 600 changes.

The first peal of Kent Treble Bob Maximus was a record length of 7,200 rung at St. Martin's, Birmingham, on April 17th, 1820. The present record in the method, as most readers of this journal well know, is the 12,240 at Ashton-under-Lyne rung, curiously enough, also on April 17th, but in the year 1911.

On April 18th, 1894, the Royal Cumberland Youths rang their 13,440 Double Norwich Major at Romford.

The first peal of Cumberland Exercise Major was rung at Birstall on April 16th, 1838.

The peal of Bob Minor rung at Tydd St. Giles, on January 10th, and published in 'The Ringing World' on January 26th, should have been credited to the Norwich and St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association.

After nine months in Ashton Court Hospital, Bristol, Mr. G. H. Jennings, former secretary of the Dorchester Branch of the Salisbury Guild, is now sufficiently recovered to leave that institution.

Miss Rose A. Bell rang a peal of Bob Major at Milnrow, Lancs, and another of Grandsire Triples at Newhey on Easter Monday, and we believe this is the first time a lady has rung in two true peals in one day. We have a recollection of a Leicester lady taking part in a similar performance, only to find later that one of the peals was false.

Mr. John Prickett, who was for some years leader and tower keeper at Chepstow, Mon., is leaving for Durban, South Africa. He should be a useful acquisition to the company that is struggling with change ringing in that distant part of the Empire. He will find that 'The Ringing World' reaches there every week in numbers much greater than it gets into very many towers in this country!

Mr. H. R. Pasmore writes, with reference to the inquiry of the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, that the handbell peal of Bob Royal rung at St. Albans does not appear in the College Youths' Peal Book.

FRIENDSHIP IN THE BELFRY.

One of the many happy features of ringing is the friendships we make. If a man is a change ringer, in whatever strange belfry he enters, the hallmark of friendship is seldom absent. There is a remarkable band of brotherhood existing to-day.

Some friendships are tinged with the desire of self advantage, so that they become degraded and valueless. But friendship to Jesus Christ must spring from the purest motives.

Regular, punctual attendance at the appointed hour should be the ambition of every ringer, and the conductor on his part should foster the corporate life of true fellowship.

You should not think lightly of your duties and responsibilities. Your office in the church is no mean job.

The basis of true friendship must begin with Jesus Christ. I ask you to take that friendship into your bellfries.

[Extracts from Mr. G. W. Cartmel's address to the Herts County Association in St. Albans Cathedral on Easter Monday.]

NORTHAMPTONSHIRE RINGERS MARRIED.

A wedding was solemnised at the Parish Church of St. Peter's, Isham, on Easter Tuesday afternoon, the bride being Miss Beatrice Maud Everest, who was one of the four ladies who volunteered to maintain the bell ringing for Sunday service during the war. The bridegroom, Mr. George Sidney Valentine is also a member of the Isham band, as is Miss Cecil Hepburn, the bridesmaid, and Mr. Albert Foubt, the best man; while the bride's father is one of the oldest Isham bell ringers. The bells were rung both before the service and when the happy pair were leaving the church, and Mr. Percy Everest, the bride's brother, himself a bell ringer, played appropriate organ selections.

During the afternoon a peal was rung, in which the bride's uncle, Mr. George A. Blaxley, rang the tenor. In the evening the whole of the local ringers were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Everest.

On Easter Sunday evening a presentation had been made in the belfry prior to evensong, when Mr. W. T. Wilson, the senior ringer, handed to Miss Everest and Mr. Valentine, on behalf of the Isham ringers, a handsome silver-plated teapot and butter dish. The bride's fellow lady ringers gave her a very nice pillow-lace handkerchief.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.THE MEMORIAL BELLS FOR CANTERBURY CATHEDRAL.

The annual general meeting of the Kent County Association was held on Easter Monday, at Chatham, when about ninety members from different parts of the county attended. The delightful spring weather was an agreeable contrast to that experienced at Ashford last year, when a grievous northerly blast afflicted even the stoutest chest. True, the wind was in the east, but there was not much of it, and through the greater part of the day the sun shone brightly. The towers open for ringing were Chatham (8), St. Margaret's, Rochester (8), Gillingham (8), Rainham (8) and Cliffe-at-Hoo (8). By kind permission of the Dean, the Rochester Cathedral ten were available from 6 to 7 p.m.

At the committee meeting, held in vestry of St. Mary's, the report of the sub-committee appointed to examine the tenders for the two memorial bells at Canterbury was read and adopted. It was also decided that any inscriptions on the bells should be in English. The committee agreed that the shillings demanded of the members towards the cost of the dinner should be put to the war memorial fund; £3 3s. was voted towards the rehanging of the bells at Cliffe-at-Hoo.

Service followed at 12 noon. It is interesting to notice that the association service at the last meeting held at Chatham in 1901 was the very last held in the old church before its demolition. The fine old Norman arches in the west wall being part of the original church, much older than the building pulled down in 1901, are still retained in the new church.

The prayers and lessons were read by the hon. secretary (the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore), and the Rector (the Rev. F. Wiltshire) gave the address from the text (Rom. xxi. 5), 'We, being many, are one body in Christ, and everyone members one of another.' Mr. W. E. Pitman, Mus.Bac., assisted at the organ. Three hymns were sung, the same as those used last year, viz., the Easter hymn, a special ringers' hymn, and 'Light's abode, celestial Salem.' The collection for the memorial fund amounted to £1 4s. 7d.

At the dinner in the Working Men's Hall the association was honoured by the presence in the chair of the Mayor of Chatham, Mr. H. F. Whyman, who is also churchwarden of St. Mary's, and 'a bit of a ringer.' The Rector was also present. Besides sundry officials and prominent members of the association there were in the hall one or two celebrities of the ringing world, notably Mr. John Carter, and a gentleman came even all the way from Birmingham to attend the meeting!

The usual toasts were duly honoured, viz., 'The King,' proposed by the Mayor; and 'Archbishop and Clergy, with special thanks to the preacher,' proposed by Mr. F. White (Tunbridge Wells), to which the Rector responded.

The Secretary proposed 'the Health of the Mayor,' remarking that the presence of the chief civic authority at their gathering was most unusual, but for that reason all the more appreciated.—The Mayor, after returning thanks, remained for a part of the business meeting and signed the minutes.

The secretary then read the report and balance sheet, both of which tend to show that the association continued to prosper.

The officers were re-elected, with the exception of the auditor, Mr. C. H. Drake being elected in place of the Rev. P. A. L. Clarke, who is resigning, on taking up the arduous post of Vicar of Faversham.

Five names having been sent up for representation in the Central Council in 1924, a contest became necessary, which resulted in the re-election of the present representatives, the hon. secretary receiving 64 votes, Mr. E. Barnett 63, Mr. J. H. Cheesman 61, Mr. Groombridge 48, and Mr. W. Haigh 44.

This concluded the business, and the company adjourned, some to the Chatham tower, and others, it is supposed, to the other towers open for ringing. A word of thanks is due to Mr. S. J. T. Shellock, secretary of the Chatham band, for making such excellent arrangements for the dinner.

AN APPEAL.To the Editor.

Dear Sir.—May I ask you to be good enough to insert an appeal in your columns on behalf of Mr. William Grimes, of Debenham, who has now been seriously ill for nearly two years. He was the pioneer of change ringing in Debenham some 40 years ago, and is well known to most of the craft in East Anglia. His long illness, however, has sadly depleted his financial resources, and he has only 11s. per week coming in at the present time. The Debenham company have subscribed £2 as the nucleus of a fund for helping him in his trouble, and Mr. Chas. Mee of Sproughton, collected the sum of £2 3s. at the meetings at Ipswich on Easter Monday. Any donations, however small, will be much appreciated, and will be acknowledged from time to time through the medium of your journal. Such donations may be addressed to—Yours faithfully,

WILLIAM C. RUMSEY.

Debenham, Stowmarket.

THE SUFFOLK GUILD, COMMITTEE GET TO WORK.

A committee meeting of the newly-formed Guild was held on April 7th, in Ipswich, and was attended by a very representative gathering. It was clear from those who were present, and from letters received, that the new move had met with general acceptance throughout the county, and that there would be no lack of enthusiasm to make the new society 'hum.'

In order to get over the difficulty of enrolling so many new members in time to record peals that are being rung, it was decided that all ringers who give their names and subscriptions to the diocesan secretary or to the district secretaries before the annual meeting on July 21st next, be considered as members of the Guild as from Easter Monday.

To our report of the Easter Monday meeting, we might add that in opening the meeting, Archdeacon Farmiloe struck the note which was evidently in everyone's mind, by saying that they were met as Suffolk men to form a Suffolk Society for Suffolk ringing.

In supporting the proposal to call the new society 'The Suffolk Guild,' the Rev. H. Drake pointed out that the ancient English Guilds were more like our ringers' societies than anything else at the present time. They were composed of men who were interested in one particular craft or art, irrespective of class or position, in order to further the interests of that craft or art; and the clergy were important members of every Guild, although they might not have any especial knowledge of the respective craft or art. Moreover, the word 'Guild' was a word which sounded more pleasantly than the glib 'society' or 'association,' while 'Suffolk Guild' had a workman-like sound, which would endear it to members as years passed by.

SHEFFIELD DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.LARGE GATHERING AT WORKSOP.

A large number of ringers visited Worksop on Easter Monday for the meeting of the Sheffield District and Old East Derbyshire Association, which meets on alternate Easter Bank Holidays in the North Notts town. The rendezvous was the ancient Priory Church, and train, tram, motor-bus, bicycle and sturdy legs were all pressed into service to bring the ringers together. There were ringers present from Manchester, Wigan, Bolsover, Gainsborough, Lancham, Sutton-on-Trent, Sheffield Cathedral, Sheffield All Saints', Southwell Cathedral, Anston, Treeton, Handsworth, Tickhill, Slaveley Town, Eckington, Warsop, Ordsall, Norton Woodseats, and the local company. During the early part of the day many of the visitors spent their time in looking round the ancient priory and the newly restored lady chapel, before taking their places at the ropes. The bells were ringing from 11 a.m. to 9.30 p.m., with two brief intervals for a wedding, and the tea and Divine service. The methods rung during the day were Bob Minor, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Cambridge Surprise Minor, Grandsire Triples, Erin Triples, Stedman Triples, Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Little Bob, College Single, Double Norwich, Duffield and Superlatie Surprise Major, many of the ladies present, with indomitable spirit and unbounded confidence, trying their skill. During the afternoon ringers' wives, lady ringers, Mesdames Haigh, Hardwick, Else, Taylor, Weaver and Winrow were working like Trojans in preparing an excellent tea, to which upwards of 60 sat down. Earlier in the day, while the writer of these lines was busy preparing the bells and ringing chamber, some 'Meddlesome Matildas' or 'Henrys' went into the Priory Gatehouse and reduced the seating accommodation from 60 to 40. Were we down-hearted? No. And they were forgiven. 'Where there's a will there's a way,' and we borrowed, and hired elsewhere, so that everything passed off as merrily as the proverbial marriage bell.

After tea the usual business meeting was held, presided over by Mr. J. Lewis, supported by Mr. F. Watkinson, acting secretary pro tem. Eight new members were duly elected, and the next meeting was fixed for Ramore, Sheffield, on the first Saturday in May, when the annual address will be given by the Lord Bishop of Sheffield, and four or five presentations will be made at the meeting following.

The Rev. S. Dennison, in the absence of the Vicar (Canon d'Arcy) gave the ringers a most hearty welcome to Worksop, and hoped everyone would enjoy their visit.

Mr. Chas. Baker (Gainsborough) moved, and Mr. Frank Willey (Sheffield) seconded, a hearty vote of thanks to the ladies for providing such an excellent spread and devoting their time to the task on such a beautiful day. Mr. Willey also alluded, in eloquent terms, to the beauties and antiquities of the ancient priory.—Mr. H. Haigh briefly replied for the ladies, and a further vote of thanks to the chairman and secretary and to the Vicar (Canon d'Arcy) for the use of the bells concluded the meeting.

A short service in the lady chapel, conducted by the Vicar, followed, and the tower was then again visited, and the bells were lowered in peal at 9.30.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.' PASSIVE RESISTANCE ' PROTEST.

The East Berks and South Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild held their annual meeting on Easter Monday at Slough, ringing also taking place at Wooburn, Burnham and Old Windsor. The ringing at St. Mary's, Slough, included London, Cambridge, Bristol and Superlative Surprise Major, Double Norwich, Treble Bob, Stedman and Grandsire.

The Guild service was conducted by the Master (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenky), the Rev. W. S. Riddlesdale, Vicar of Bray, being the preacher. Miss D. M. Feltham presided at the organ. After service a large company sat down to tea in St. Mary's Institute, ringers being present from Staines, Bagshot, Warfield, Marlow, Wycombe, West Wycombe, Wooburn, Beaconsfield, Burnham, Boyne Hill, Cookham, Hitcham, Farnham Royal, Stoke Poges, Chalfont Old Windsor, Windsor, Bray and Slough, Hillingdon, Hughenden, Egham, Reading, Winkfield, Penn, Caversham, etc.

The Rev. W. S. Riddlesdale presided over the business meeting, at which the Rector of Slough was accorded a vote of thanks for the use of the church and for arranging for the attendance of some of the choir.

The Secretary and Treasurer (Mr. Alfred J. Harman) presented the statement of accounts, which had been audited by Mr. W. H. Fussell, of Slough, and which showed that the year commenced with a credit balance of £19 0s. 11d., and ended with one of £13 12s. 7d. In giving his report, Mr. Harman said that Mr. Fussell had assisted him on every possible occasion. The credit balance was less, but that was due to the fact that some of the members had withheld their subscriptions as a protest against the holding of the festival at Oxford every year.

The Chairman said he was sure they would like to say they were very grateful to Mr. Harman for having undertaken a very difficult job. He felt that it was very unfair to choose a man to be secretary and then not to assist him in every possible way. There was a great deal to be said for their wish that the festival should not always be held at Oxford, but for the members to withhold their subscriptions to the branch as a protest was not playing the game.

' Let us express our feelings in a fair way,' he said, ' but not in that way. I feel very strongly about it. I think no tower has any kind of justification for withholding subscriptions to the branch because it feels that the whole Guild ought to pay some attention to our feelings in that respect.'

The financial statement and the report were adopted, and a vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Harman for his services.

PRESENTATION TO MR. W. H. FUSSELL.

Mr. Harman acknowledged the compliment, and asked the chairman to present a gold watch to Mr. W. H. Fussell in recognition of the work he had done as secretary. Since he had retired from the secretaryship, he (Mr. Harman) had had to call upon him for assistance on all sorts of occasions, and he looked forward to receiving the same assistance in the ensuing year. He would have more time at his disposal, and he was sure that they were going to have a very successful year (applause).

The Chairman said he was very happy indeed to be their spokesman on the occasion and to hand Mr. Fussell the beautiful present as a token of regard from the Guild for all the work he had done (applause).

Mr. Fussell said he should like to thank all of them for the valuable present. It was a very nice keepsake to give him for the little bit of Church work he had done on behalf of the ringers during the six years he was secretary. Before he was elected, owing to the war, arrears had accumulated, and there was a loss of touch with the clergy, the foremen of the towers, and the ringers. But the committee backed him up and gradually they got together a very powerful branch. He must say that the work had been very interesting, and he had a love for it, but for the past two years he had been very unsettled, and when he was away for a month or six weeks there were about 30 letters to answer in connection with the Guild. He was still only too glad to help. The present they had given him was a very handsome one, and he should treasure it very much. When he wound up the watch he should think of his old friends and acquaintances, and he hoped to see them for many years to come (applause).

The Bishop of Buckingham was unanimously elected as president of the branch, and the Rector of Slough as vice-president. The chairman was re-elected a vice president.

The following were elected the committee: Messrs. Boreham, Buckland, Kirk, G. Martin, G. Trust, T. Smith, Welling, White and W. H. Fussell.

Mr. Harman was unanimously re-elected secretary and treasurer, and he acknowledged the compliment.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.THE QUESTION OF GRANTS FOR BELL RESTORATION.

The annual general meeting and luncheon of the Bedfordshire Association was held in St. Paul's Mission Room, Bedford, on Easter Monday. The meeting was preceded by a service in St. Paul's Church, at which the Rev. L. R. Levitt (curate of All Saints', Bedford) was the preacher, and gave a most interesting and original address.

The Rev. Canon W. W. C. Baker, president of the association, presided at the lunch, supported by the Rev. L. R. Levitt, Mr. E. Ransom and Miss E. Steel, vice-presidents, and members from most of the affiliated towers. A large number of Northamptonshire friends were also present including Mr. D. J. Nicholls (hon. secretary of the Central Northants Association).—At the business meeting, the President, before reading the 40th annual report, drew attention to the fact that the committee had departed from the usual custom of presenting the report and balance sheet in manuscript, and had had them printed.—The report, which was a satisfactory one, and recorded steady progress, was unanimously adopted.

The accounts, which had been audited, showed a balance in hand of £34 6s. 1½d., being an increase of nearly £1 over that of last year.—The balance sheet was considered very satisfactory, and unanimously passed.

Canon Baker was unanimously re-elected president.—In returning thanks, he said the association had been in existence over 40 years, and during that time he had only missed about three meetings.

The vice-presidents, Mr. Charles Herberg (Woburn), Mr. Edwin Ransom and Miss Evelyn Steel (Bedford), and Mr. A. King (Luton) were re-elected.—Mr. E. Ransom, in a moving little speech, in reply, said they had been worthily complimented that morning in St. Paul's. Though he had passed four-score years, he hoped to be with them a little longer, and then they might meet in another sphere which they knew nothing of but which faith most clearly pointed to.

The hon. secretary and hon. auditor were both re-elected, the President humorously remarking that they might seem greedy at Dunstable to have both president and secretary, but added, there was one thing, they didn't fall out much.

Miss Steel then moved: ' That a grant be made towards the restoration of Tempsford bells,' and pointed out that Tempsford was only a small village, which was trying to raise £450 for rechanging their peal. The band there was attached to the association, but at present had no bells to ring on.—Mr. Harlow seconded the resolution.

The President said that in the past they had always set their face against making grants, as they felt with no special fund, they ought not to use their ordinary funds in that way.—The Hon. Secretary pointed out that at the last Central Council meeting, at Lincoln, this question was discussed; and while being in hearty agreement with Miss Steel, he could not see how they could make grants out of a subscription of 1s. per year.

After considerable discussion, the President put the following resolution: ' That a sum of two guineas be given towards the Tempsford Restoration Fund,' and this was carried unanimously.

The formation of a belfry repair fund, as suggested by the Central Council, was ordered to be placed on the agenda for the next annual meeting.

Canon Baker then moved that a hearty vote of thanks be given the Rev. L. R. Levitt for his address at the service. He said he had himself given a good many, and had listened to a good many others in his time, but he certainly thought Mr. Levitt's was the most original he had ever heard.—The Rev. L. R. Levitt, in reply, said they had a funny trick at St. Paul's of turning to him for all sorts of occasions (laughter), to preach to extra special congregations, but that was a congregation of friends, as ringers were friends all the world over (applause). He would look forward to meeting the members another year.—After votes of thanks had been passed to the Vicars of St. Paul's and St. Peter's for the use of their bells, the ringers wended their way to the towers, and ringing took place until a late hour.

During the afternoon the members were very pleased to welcome the new Vicar of St. Paul's (the Rev. W. A. Robins) who has been seriously ill, and only allowed to get out of bed in the afternoon. The reverend gentleman visited the ringing chamber at St. Paul's, and gave a very hearty welcome to the members. He promised at all times to do all in his power to help the association.

A noteworthy feature of the day was the very high standard of the ringing; the second touch being a well-struck course of Cambridge Surprise Royal, the first in the county. Other methods rung were: Stedman Triples and Caters, Grandsire Caters, Bob Major, Double Norwich and Superlative, Cambridge and London Surprise Major, and Treble Ten, at St. Paul's; and a number of Minor methods at St. Peter's. The gathering was very successful, and, in the words of an old member, ' one of the best meetings the Bedfordshire Association had ever held.'

RINGING CONTEST AT CROSTHWAITHE.

The annual ringing contest for the Rawnsley Shield was held at Crosthwaite Parish Church, Keswick, on Easter Monday. Six teams competed from Arlecdon, Bridekirk, Carlisle, Cleator Moor, Egremont and Keswick. As the appointed judge was unable to attend, Mr. W. T. Holmes, of Cocker-mouth, kindly consented to take his place. The contest resulted as follows: No. 1, Egremont, rang 576 Double Norwich in 21½ minutes with 160 faults; No. 2, Bridekirk, Kent Minor for 10 minutes, when they broke down; No. 3, Cleator Moor, 720 Bob Minor, in 28 minutes, with 165 faults; No. 4, Arlecdon also rang 720 Bob Minor in 27 minutes, with 210 faults; No. 5, Keswick, rang 576 Bob Major in 24 minutes, with 205 faults; No. 6, Carlisle, rang Kent Minor for 4 minutes, when they broke down. Egremont were, therefore, awarded the shield for the second year in succession, and were congratulated upon their fine performance, as they only had a year in which all of them had to learn the method.

The business meeting was held in the Parish Room Keswick, Mr. F. Grisedale presiding. St. Bees was chosen for the next meeting, to be held in July.—Votes of thanks were given to the Vicar for the use of the bells and room, to Mr. F. Grisedale for presiding, and Mr. W. OXFORD GUILD 'PASSIVE RESISTERS.'

It is strange to read of the action, reported last week, of certain members of the Oxford Guild in taking up a line of passive resistance by withholding subscriptions because the annual festival is always held at Oxford. This is the first time in ringing affairs that we have heard of the adoption of such an attitude in an endeavour to achieve the desire of a section of the members, and, in our opinion, the policy is a dangerous one. It is likely to lead to the disintegration of any society, and, in any event, the logical result must be that the dissatisfied ringers, if they continue to refuse to pay their subscriptions, will eventually allow their membership to lapse—and the place of the annual festival will cease to be their concern at all.

Questions such as that which seems to be disturbing the Oxford Guild must of necessity be settled by the majority of the members who attend the annual meeting, at which every member has the right to be present and vote. We know the argument that is likely to be raised against this; that when the meeting is always held in one centre, those who reside in the distant places are already handicapped in getting such an arrangement altered, because the smaller numbers who can attend from these areas are outvoted by those who have the meeting in their midst. It has to be admitted that there is a very real disadvantage here. But the Oxford Guild has some very live and admirably managed branches, and if there is a really general desire for a 'movable' festival, strongly backed resolutions from these districts would, we have no doubt, carry weight—certainly they would have far greater influence than any policy of passive resistance.

Many Associations adhere to the plan of holding their annual meetings in different places, and usually the scheme works very well, the great points in favour of this scheme being that it brings the principal meeting of the year to the very door, almost, of all the members in turn, and in this way does something to stir up interest and enthusiasm in districts where there may otherwise be little to stimulate them. The Oxford Diocese seems one peculiarly fitted for the application of this arrangement, and formerly adopted it, for there are portions of the diocese, particularly North Bucks, from which Oxford is almost inaccessible for such a gathering as the Guild festival. While the City is, indeed, the centre of diocesan church life, it must be remembered that the men who make up the ringing Guild are not for the most part men of means or leisure, and a journey from the outlying portions of the diocese to the Cathedral is a drain upon the resources of time and money which only few are able to stand. It seems, therefore, only equitable that the venue of the festival should be moved to the various districts in turn. All the same, the action which has been taken of withholding subscriptions is not, in our view, either right or best calculated to achieve the object which it is hoped to attain. Constitutional methods are wisest in the long run, and in this case 'passive resistance,' if persisted in, must eventually put the protestors out of court.

EASTER MEETING AT CATTERICK.

The Easter Monday meeting was held at Catterick Bridge, ringers attending from Richmond, Middlesbrough, Marske, Saltburn, Ripon, Tadcaster, West Hartlepool, Darlington St. John, Darlington Holy Trinity, and Shildon. The peal of eight bells was kept going from 10 a.m. until about 7 p.m. to the tune of Grandsire Doubles, Bob Minor, Kent Minor, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Double Norwich and Superlative Surprise Major. Dinner was provided at the Oak Tree Inn, 40 ringers doing ample justice to the good old English fare, which included roast beef and Yorkshire pudding.

No business was transacted at this meeting, except the acceptance of new members, as it is considered a day of enjoyment for the meeting of old friends, of whom there was a good number who talked over what had been done in years gone by, and the prospects of the future.

During the afternoon several ringers visited the beautiful little village of Bolton-on-Swale, where there is a peal of six bells, which were set going to Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Bob Minor, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Minor. Everyone had a most enjoyable day so far as ringing was concerned, but the weather seemed to have laid itself out to make it as uncomfortable as it could possibly be, for rain fell almost the whole day. Ringers, however, can generally make themselves happy, even if the weather is not 'up to the mark,' and this occasion was no exception to the rule.

BIDDENHAM, BEDS.—On Sunday morning, April 15th, a quarter-peal of Bob Minor: L. Williams (first quarter-peal) 1. H. B. Frossel 2. H. King 3. W. Davison 4. H. L. Harlow (conductor) 5. W. Freeman 6. Rung as a birthday compliment to Miss L. R. Harlow, daughter of the conductor, on her 21st birthday.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY AT NEWCASTLE CATHEDRAL.

To the Glory of God and in honoured memory of the members whom we bless for their unselfish Sacrifice in giving their lives in the Great War, this tablet was erected by the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association of Change Ringers.

This runs the superscription upon the tablet, containing the names of 41 members of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association, unveiled at an impressive service in Newcastle Cathedral on April 7th.

The service commenced with the hymn, 'God of the living, in whose eyes,' followed by an address by the Vicar of Newcastle (Canon G. Newsom, M.A.), who said many of those present that day were thinking with melancholy pride of their dead comrades, who, though hating war, stood forward to offer themselves when the call came. That was a great deed; and without them, and others like them, the world might have become a hopeless place.

After a few prayers, said by the Vicar, a special hymn for ringers, composed by Mrs. W. Pennington-Bickford, 'Father! King Immortal!' was sung kneeling. During the next hymn, 'O valiant hearts, who to your glory came,' the choir, clergy, relatives of the fallen, and congregation, proceeded to the memorial, which is placed on the west side of the south-east pier of the tower facing the belfry door.

Canon E. Williams (Vicar of Bamburgh), in unveiling the memorial (which is surmounted by the arms of the two dioceses, enamelled in colours, and has a decorative scroll as a border ornamented with bells), said he deemed it a great honour and high privilege to be permitted to do so. He owed the honour, not only to the fact that he took a keen interest in change ringing, but also to the fact that he represented the belfry which had been the hardest hit in the two counties. They had lost six ringers out of the eight who had joined up, and one of the six was in Holy Orders. They were all men of promise whom they could ill spare.

The dedication prayer by the Vicar of Newcastle followed, and a wreath in the shape of a bell was then placed at the foot of the memorial by Mr. W. Story, president of the Durham and Newcastle Association, followed by other wreaths from relations and friends of the fallen. A course of Stedman Caters on handbells was then rung as a tribute to the fallen by five members from St. Paul's Parish Church, Whitley Bay.

During the hymn, 'Let saints on earth in concert sing,' the choir, clergy and congregation returned to their places. The Blessing, pronounced by the Vicar, brought the service to a close. The clergy in robes included Canon G. Newsom, M.A., Vicar of Newcastle; Canon E. Williams, M.A., Vicar of Bamburgh; Canon A. Boot, M.A., Vicar of St. George's, Jesmond; Canon H. S. Stephenson, M.A., Rector of Gateshead. The association is very much indebted to all friends at the Cathedral for doing everything possible to make the service of unveiling a success; the Vicar for his help in drawing up the form of service and advice in many other matters, and for conducting the service; Mr. Ellis, the Cathedral organist, and the choir for so ungrudgingly giving up the Saturday afternoon. The services of the organist and choir added greatly to the service. Thanks are also due to Canon E. Williams for unveiling the tablet; Canons A. Boot and H. S. Stephenson for supporting the association, and Mr. R. Thompson, the senior verger, for his painstaking help in many ways.

The Cathedral bells were rung half-muffled until 2.50, when the whole pull and stand was rung until 2.57. Then the tenor was tolled until three o'clock, the hour of the service. There was more ringing after the service at the Cathedral and at St. Mary's, Gateshead. If any relative of the fallen who was not able to be at the service would like a copy of the form of service (which has a print of the memorial on the front page) they can have one by sending a large stamped envelope to the hon. secretary. There were about 200 relations, ringers and friends at the service which will not readily be forgotten by those who were present.

NEWMARKET'S NEW TENOR.

COMPLETION OF A TWENTY YEARS' OLD SCHEME.

About twenty years ago the five bells at St. Mary's Church, Newmarket, having become unsafe for ringing were rebung in a new iron frame on steel supporting girders, and the 3rd bell recast, Messrs. Taylor and Co. doing the work.

It was hoped at that time that sufficient funds would be forthcoming to carry out the suggestion of Mr. F. C. Turner (hon. treasurer of the Ely Diocesan Association, and of the Bell Restoration Committee) that a new tenor bell should be added to make the ring of five, which were in the minor key, into a major six. This unfortunately did not materialise, but the committee agreed to have the frame constructed to carry six bells, and a new tenor added when funds would permit.

Subsequently other work in the church intervened, and the matter dropped for the time being, but the idea was not allowed to be lost sight of. Since the end of the great war, when prices of metal were coming down, the matter was again taken up, and last November a meeting of the Parochial Church Council was held to consider estimates from various firms, when it was decided to accept the tender of Messrs. Taylor, of the famous Loughborough foundry, and the order was duly given.

The new bell arrived recently, and is a magnificent specimen of the bellfounder's art. Its weight is 21 cwt. 14 lb., and note E flat, and is tuned on the Simpson principle. Many of the parishioners visited the church to see it before it was hauled up in the tower. The hanging, which is on ball bearings, was completed in four days by Messrs. Taylor's bellhanger, and the bell was rung up and tested by Mr. Turner, who expressed complete satisfaction both with the ease of ringing, and also to the grand, full and mellow tone it gave out. On the occasion of the dedication, the old five bells were rung before the service. The clergy, consisting of the Ven. W. T. Farmiloe (Archdeacon of Sudbury), the Rev. J. Prankerd (Rector), and the Rev. E. A. Gray, proceeded to the ringing chamber, which is on the ground floor, and open to the church. Here the Archdeacon repeated the dedication prayers, and a few rounds were rung on the six bells as the clergy returned to the chancel. Psalm 150 was then sung, and the hymn, 'We love the place, O God.' The Archdeacon preached from the text, Numbers x. 2, 'Make thee two trumpets of silver,' and in the course of his remarks, said he felt it was not only a pleasure, but a privilege to be permitted to take part in that service, because he knew it meant the crowning of many years of work given, he was sure, in a spirit of love and faith for the greater glory of God.

The hymn, 'Hark, hark, my soul,' was then sung, and the service concluded by the Archdeacon pronouncing the Blessing.

After the service, several touches of Grandsire Doubles and Bob Minor were rung by the local ringers, many of the congregation staying to watch whilst others went outside to hear the effect of the new bell and the vast improvement it has made to the peal, the general opinion, which was freely expressed, being one of praise for the grand tone of the new bell. Messrs. Taylor and Co. are to be congratulated on the splendid splice they have made.

St. Mary's Church now has a ring of six second to none in the county. The inscriptions and weights of the bells are as follow:—

- Treble.—John Draper made me 1619. Weight 5 cwt. 2 qr.
- 2nd.—De Buri Sauti Edmondi Stefanus Tonni me fecit 1580 W.L. Weight 5 cwt. 2 qr. 8 lb.
- 3rd.—Same as 2nd (with) 'Recast 1904,' and Taylor's stamp. Rev. Arthur Reeve, Rector. Charles Eaton Hammond, John Alfred Dawson, Churchwardens. Weight 9 cwt. 3 qr. 5 lb.
- 4th.—John Draper made me 1619. Weight 9 cwt. 1 qr. 21 lb.
- 5th.—W. Sandiver, W. Headley, C.W. Tho. Newman and Tho. Gardiner. Fecit 1719. Weight 12 cwt. 21 lb.
- Tenor.—Rev. H. B. Young, 1904—1920, Rev. J. Prankerd, 1921. Rectors, Frank A. Simpson, Wm. J. Moon, Churchwardens, and Taylor's stamp, 1923. Weight 21 cwt. 14 lb.

RETUNING OF BELLS.

A number of replies have been received to the letter of 'Seeker after Facts,' who made inquiries with regard to the retuning of bells; they have been forwarded to our correspondent, as they are too numerous to publish.

The consensus of opinion expressed in these letters is that any really bad bells should be recast, but that if the bells are of fairly good tone the old method of tuning properly applied would give good results.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Up to the present, we understand, no notices of motion have been received by the hon. secretary of the Central Council for the Salisbury meeting. The last date for sending these in is April 21st, so there is not much time to lose.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Barker have resigned their positions as hon. secretary and assistant hon. secretary, respectively, of the London County Association.

An ebony walking stick, suitably inscribed, has been presented to Mr. J. W. Foster, of St. Cuthbert's, Benfield, in recognition of his having completed fifty years as a ringer at that church.

Two records, both of which still stand, were made on April 22nd. In 1889, the Gloucester and Bristol Association rang the 15,227 Grandsire Caters at Cheltenham, and in 1922 the Oxford Guild and College Youths rang the 21,363 Stedman Caters at Appleton.

At Otley, in Suffolk, on April 22nd, 1895, what was believed to be the first 'family' peal on handbells was rung, viz., seven 720's of Minor by Miss Constance Meadows (aged 14), Frederick Meadows (aged 15), conductor, and Sidney Meadows (aged 18).

On April 24th, 1896, a 10,400 Kent Treble Bob Major was rung at Shipley.

Ringers will join in congratulating Mr. William Rock Small, the Tipton veteran, upon his 84th birthday, which he will celebrate on Sunday. He was born on April 29th, 1839, at Wednesbury.

Poorly attended bell-ringing practices at Linslade (Bucks) were (according to a London newspaper) attributed at a Parochial Church Council meeting to some of the ringers having to remain at home to mind the children while their wives went to the Women's Institute!

An appeal is to be made to the whole diocese of Oxford for help in raising a fund of £1,000 for the restoration of the tower of High Wycombe Parish Church, known as the 'Cathedral of Bucks.' The tower contains the only peal of twelve bells in the county.

LONG PEAL ATTEMPT.

An attempt for 12,896 Cambridge Surprise Major will be made at Stoney Stanton, Leicestershire, on Saturday, April 28th. Ringing to commence at 1.30 p.m. prompt.

'PRINCESS MARY' SURPRISE ROYAL.

The first peal of Mr. Arthur Craven's method, 'Princess Mary' Surprise Royal, was rung on Saturday at Leicester. The figures of the method appeared in 'The Ringing World' on March 3rd, 1922. It should be noted that the lead end is 1573920486, and not as published.

After the peal had been rung it was decided to publish it under the name given it by the author, although the ringers think a more suitable name might have been found for it.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

The quarterly meeting of the Eastern Branch was held at Swineshead on Saturday. Ringing commenced about 3 p.m. and was continued to 4.30, when a short service, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. O. Hayes), was held. Immediately afterwards the members and friends sat down to a splendid 'knife and fork tea,' generously provided by the Vicar, churchwardens and Church Council.

The usual business meeting presided over by the Vicar, in the absence of the president, followed. Mr. W. Lakin, junr., of Benington, was elected to the office of Ringing Master of the branch, in succession to Mr. A. H. Palmer, whose resignation was accepted with regret.

The Rev. J. R. Trotter, Vicar of Freiston-with-Butterwick, invited the branch, through the secretary, to hold its next meeting at Butterwick in July. It was unanimously decided to accept the kind invitation. The Butterwick bells are being rehung in an iron frame, and a new treble added by Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough, and it is hoped they will be completed by then.

After the meeting the tower was again visited, and the methods rung included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Major. During the evening a band which had been to Ewerby, but had been unsuccessful in an attempt to ring a peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal, joined the party. Among the band were the Rev. H. Law James (Ringing Master of the Guild), the Rev. E. Bankes James and Mr. W. H. J. Hooton, Cambridge University Guild. After their arrival touches of Cambridge Surprise Major and Double Norwich Major were brought round.

THE ROYAL VISIT TO CIRENCESTER.

On the occasion of the visit of their Majesties the King and Queen to open the Royal Agricultural College at Cirencester, Glos., on Thursday, April 12th, the following touches were rung at the Parish Church: On their arrival: 504 Grandsire Caters: E. Edwards 1, A. Parsons 2, F. W. Bond 3, W. G. Cook 4, J. C. Eden 5, W. H. Hayward 6, W. C. Cuss 7, F. J. Lewis 8, H. C. Bond 9, J. Hayward 10; and on the departure, 504 Grandsire Caters: A. Parsons 1, J. E. Waters 2, F. W. Bond 3, J. King 4, W. G. Cook 5, W. H. Hayward 6, W. C. Cuss 7, G. Dore 8, H. C. Bond 9, E. Edwards 10.

'TWO IN A DAY.'
To the Editor.

Sir,—While heartily congratulating Miss Rose A. Bell on her feat of ringing two peals in one day—and this is more remarkable as one of them was her first peal—your remarks in 'Belfry Gossip' about the Leicester lady who did similarly, but one was false, does scant justice. My daughter Hilda, at the age of 14, rang four peals in three days, concluding with two in one day of Stedman Caters and Double Norwich. Both peals were accomplished within 7½ hours, and I have yet to read of youth of either sex equalling this performance. Months afterwards, the composition of the Stedman Caters proved to be false, but that does not invalidate the practical part of the ringing. You cannot put back time and say what has been has never been, and there is no reflection on the ringers in a peal because of the fault of the composer. The fact remains, whatever technical error there may be in the composition. Because the winner of a race discovers that the prize is a dud, it does not disqualify him or rob him of the fact that he accomplished what he set out to perform. Of course, I am naturally interested in this, and have no intention of forgetting it. What a Gilbertian situation would be caused if a band rang a long length of Minor and claimed the record! You could not deny it, yet of every 5,000 of Minor over 4,000 are false! I may add, apart from the above, that on August 3rd, 1914, I rang two peals of Superlative and Double Norwich for the Central Northants Association, in which Miss Evelyn Steel, of Bedford, took part.—Yours truly,
W. WILLSON.

Dear Sir,—While heartily congratulating Miss Rose A. Bell on her performance on Easter Monday, she is not the first lady to ring two peals in one day. Miss Phyllis Hare and Miss Elsie Brandon, of Peterborough, both rang in two peals: A peal of Minor at Burton-upon-Stather, and Bob Major at Barton-on-Humber, Lincs, on Nov. 12th, 1921. Miss K. A. Jutson of Peterborough, rang in two (one on tower and one on handbells) on July 31st, 1920.—Yours sincerely,
RUPERT RICHARDSON.

Dear Sir,—On Monday, August 3rd, 1914, Miss E. Steele, of Bedford, rang two peals: Double Norwich at Finedon, and Superlative at Irthlingborough. She was the first lady to ring two peals in one day.—Yours truly,
W. PERKINS.

NEW PEAL OF SIX AT EASTRINGTON.
THANKSGIVING MEMORIAL DEDICATED.

The new ring of six bells at the Parish Church, Eastington, Yorks, was dedicated on Easter Monday, by the Bishop of Hull. The bells form a unique memorial, inasmuch as they have been provided as a thanksgiving for the safe return of men from the parish who served in the late war.

The new bells have been recast from three ancient bells which formerly existed, and dated back to the 15th and 16th centuries. The work has been carried out by the famous firm of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon. An entirely new steel and iron frame has also been provided, and the bells are hung on ball bearings in the latest and most scientific method. They are tuned on the five-tone Simpson principle, in the key of C.

A large number of visitors attended from Howden, and the surrounding villages, and extra seating accommodation had to be provided. The service throughout was of a most impressive character. Following the Bishop's sermon, the choir and clergy proceeded to the west end of the church to the singing of 'Angel voices ever ringing.' The congregation turned towards the tower, and the Bishop, after being called upon by the Vicar, offered suitable prayers and solemnly dedicated the bells 'to the glory of God and for the benefit of His church and as a thanksgiving for the return of men from this parish who served in the war.'

After a brief silence the bells rang out a short peal. Further prayers by the Bishop followed, and the procession reformed, and returned to the chancel during the singing of the hymn, 'Fling, ye bells, your songs to heaven.' The Te Deum was sung immediately before the Blessing, which was pronounced by the Bishop.

In the course of his sermon the Bishop said the parishioners of Eastington had carried out a memorial in a most appropriate manner, and one which he feared was often forgotten. At the east end of the church they had erected over the altar a memorial to those who had fallen in the war, and now at the west end of the church they had a memorial for all time for the men who returned safely from the war. Nothing could be more appropriate. Thanksgiving was a thing they should always remember. No one could say it was chance or luck when one man was taken and his brother left, and if God had spared a man's life it meant that He had some work for that man to do on His behalf. When they heard the bells ring as a call to the church services they should remember it was a call to each one of them, and not merely for someone else. The bells were again rung after the service by the following Howden ringers: R. Smith, J. A. Sherburn, C. R. Smith, J. P. Powis, E. Philpot and J. Thompson.

Other ringers taking part were Messrs. J. W. Walker (Howden), W. A. Hudson, A. Hatfield, G. O. Terry (Hemingbrough), C. F. Johnston and A. J. Trappitt (of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston), G. H. Robinson (Derby), and W. Robbins (North Cave).

DOUBLE GRANDSIRE.
To the Editor.

Sir,—Mr. Hims is quite right in pointing out that the six-score of Double Grandsire Doubles in the C.C. Collection of Doubles, Minor and Triples is false, and I must apologise to the Exercise for the mistake. The fact is that Grandsire, Reverse Grandsire and Double Grandsire, Doubles and Caters all break the q set rule in their construction, so that you cannot arrange all the rows in plain courses. Triples is, however, different, and the three false rows which Mr. Hims gives, together with the handstroke lead of the treble, are all out of course; therefore, they cannot appear at the treble's backstroke lead if you use Holt's singles, or reverse the rows after an ordinary single; that is, let the bell in the hunt go in front of the treble.

In Doubles you can reverse the rows without singles, and in Double Grandsire the q set rule compels you to do so to get the extent which is given below.

21354	41532	31542	51342	31452	41253
23145	45123	35124	53124	34125	42135
32415	54213	53214	35214	43215	24315
34251	45231	35241	53241	42351	23451
43521	54321	53421	35421	24531	32541
45312	53412	35412	34512	42513	23514
54132	35142	53142	43152	24153	32154
51423	51524	51324	41325	41245	31245
15432	13542 S	15342 S	14352	12453	13254 S

This is constructed from B blocks by plaining four q sets which gives two rounds blocks of 5 leads each and two B blocks and then link up with six singles. Exactly the same thing occurs in Grandsire Doubles in the plain course.

All obviously belong to the same q set, but in the six-score the third member of this q set appears in this form, and is called a bob, the rows coming up the reverse way round, and in composing 21435 Grandsire Caters we have to guard against this very danger, 12453 and it seems probable that the extent of Double Grandsire 14235 Caters would only be got by the same rule. To obtain a six-score of Double Grandsire Doubles start from a bob lead, making 3rd's place whenever the treble goes to lead or behind and whenever she leaves the lead or behind. Omit the 3rd's place whenever 1-2 change places behind and whenever 1-5 change places in front or behind; this produces 60 rows. Grandsire S half-way and end.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.
A VISIT TO BRIDLINGTON.

A general meeting of the Yorkshire Association was held on Easter Monday at Bridlington, when some sixty members, drawn from a wide area, assembled. The magnificent peal of eight bells (tenor 26½ cwt.) were set going from 11 a.m. onward to a variety of methods, and the famous Loughborough Foundry had their reputation still further enhanced by the admiration of the visitors. The interior of the venerable Priory Church proved a source of great attraction, while the more Spartan enjoyment of sea bathing on a biting cold day attracted the activities of some of the younger and more vigorous members.

The general meeting was held in the Priory Church Institute, the president (the Rev. C. C. Marshall) being supported by the principal officers of the association.

A hearty invitation was received to hold the next general meeting at Otley in September, and this was gratefully accepted, on the motion of Mr. G. B. Bolland, seconded by Mr. F. Cryer.

A vote of thanks to the Rector of Bridlington (the Rev. Canon Topham) for kindly granting the use of the bells, and to the local company for their kind efforts, was responded to by the reverend gentleman, who expressed his great gratification at hearing changes rung on the bells, and hoped that his own ringers would take up change ringing as a result of the meeting.

On the motion of the Chairman, seconded by Mr. F. J. Johnson, Canon Topham was elected an hon. member of the association, as also was Mr. E. Lambert, a churchwarden, of Bridlington.

Tea followed at Marshall's Cafe, and who can describe the efforts of hungry ringers being defeated by a bountiful caterer, in their attempts to create a famine in the town as a result of their visit? So ended a most pleasant meeting, the only regret being that the violent weather of the preceding two days, probably deterred many intending visitors from being present at the meeting.

BAGSHOT, SURREY.—At St. Anne's Church, on Easter Sunday, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples in 47 mins.: Miss K. Corbett 1, Miss M. Nye 2, J. Corbett 3, H. Gould 4, T. Gould 5, P. Francis 6, F. Nye (conductor) 7, W. Varndell 8.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION. ANNUAL MEETING AT ST. GILES'-IN-THE-FIELDS.

One of the most successful annual general meetings in the history of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held at St. Giles'-in-the-Fields, on Saturday, April 7th, when about 90 members attended, and enjoyed good ringing and excellent company. Divine service was held at 4.30 p.m., conducted by the Rector (the Rev. W. H. Davies). A stirring sermon was preached by the President of the Association (the Rev. F. R. Bonsey), who took for his text, St. John xiii. 13-17. Referring to the present-day neglect of public worship, which was a considerable worry to all church workers, he asked his hearers to consider the causes, when, having found them, they would perhaps be able to find the remedy. If people were asked if they were Christians simply as a means of saving their souls they would probably say 'Yes,' but that was not true Christianity. Real Christianity meant a life of service to others. Christ never appealed to men to save themselves, but always to serve others. To so many Christianity was not the dominant factor in life, but only an afterthought, a thing for Sunday, and isolated from everyday life. The real purpose of Church-going and Communion did not end in ourselves, but was a means to greater end by service to man, a furtherance of the Kingdom of God. This was true of all church work. It was necessary to eliminate self. The reason of a falling off in ringers was due to men taking up the work in a selfish way, without consecration. It was a sad thing that so many professing Christians never interpreted religion in such terms. Church to many is a formality, one of life's decent conventions; but it should be a means of curing the social evils of the world, and ridding it of poverty, disease, ignorance, and vice. 'We should ask ourselves,' added the preacher, 'is our work real service for God? He is asking if you are helping to win the world for Him. Let us do our best to do it.'

After the service, an excellent tea was partaken of in the Church House, which was immediately followed by the business meeting. The Rev. F. R. Bonsey (president) was in the chair, supported by Messrs. F. A. Milne, J.P. and T. Beadle (vice-presidents), Wm. Pye (Master), C. T. Coles and W. H. Hollier (hon. secs.), G. B. Lucas and R. Holloway (District Masters), the Rev. W. H. Davies, and nearly 80 members.

The President thanked the members for the great honour they had done him in electing him President of the Association. It was with a great deal of diffidence that he accepted the office, as he felt himself to be unworthy. However, although he felt very small amongst such giants of the Exercise as they had present that day, he could ring a little, and always did ring with his own ringers on Sundays. He felt it a great privilege to follow their late president, Mr. King, who was the best man the association ever had (applause). He started the association, and carried it on almost to to-day, and he was a man that it would be impossible to replace. He (the speaker) thanked the members very much for electing him, and added that he would do his best to follow Mr. King's example.

Arising out of the minutes of the last annual meeting, it was reported that plans for the erection of a memorial to the late president were nearing completion. The funds in hand amounted to £31 6s. 6d., the inscription for the tablet had been decided upon, and it was hoped that the work would be put in hand at an early date. At the request of the members present, a slight alteration was made in the inscription, and the plans generally were approved.

BEST PEAL RINGING YEAR SINCE THE WAR.

The report and balance sheet were adopted, the former being taken as read. After dealing with the life and work of the late President of the Association, especially in connection with his efforts on behalf of ringers generally, the report states that the peal record for 1922 was the best since the war. Sixty-seven peals were rung, 146 members taking part in them, an increase of eight peals and 13 ringers over the previous year. Seven members rang their first peals, and 53 their first peals in a new method, or on a different number of bells, including 21 in Surprise methods. Amongst the more noteworthy of these peals were three of Cambridge Surprise Maximus, one of which was rung at St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheap-side, a remarkable heavy-bell achievement in a difficult method. The first peal of Middlesex Surprise Royal ever rung was accomplished during the year, and the first peal of Grandsire Cinques rung by the association was performed on handbells, conducted by Mr. A. H. Pulling. The conductors of peals numbered 22. A large number of quarter-peals were rung, no less than 161 being recorded, and it was mentioned that Ealing (St. Mary's), Isleworth and Acton led the way in this very satisfactory feature of Sunday Service ringing with 27, 24 and 23 quarter-peals respectively. During the year 51 new members were elected, including the St. Mary's, Twickenham band, and the total membership is now 684.

The balance sheet showed a credit to the Central Fund of £16 17s. 11d., as against £17 8s. 5d. at the end of last year, but with a prospective considerable saving in the costs of the annual report, the future was looked forward to with confidence.

The whole of the officers of the association were re-elected.

LIFE RINGING MEMBERS' SUBSCRIPTION REDUCED.

A recommendation made by the Central Committee that the subscription of life ringing members be reduced to 5s. was carried.—In proposing this, the Hon. Secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles) stated that the recommendation was not made because the higher subscription had been a failure; that not being the case. During the three years the higher subscription had been in operation the number of life members elected was quite up to the usual average, but it was thought that out-county ringers joining the association with the object of ringing a peal or two should have the benefit of the first step in reducing subscriptions. The committee only regretted that they could not yet recommend the reduction of all subscriptions.

Mr. Wm. Hewett, who stated that he was one of those who had objected to the raising of this particular subscription, seconded, and, as stated above, the recommendation was carried.

District Rules 1 and 5 were altered, making it in order for the members to elect district officers at the respective district annual meetings, instead of this being done by the district committees.

The action of the hon. secretary, in writing a letter of sympathy to Mrs. Shurtleff, daughter of the late Dr. Nichols, of Boston, U.S.A., on the sudden death of her father, was endorsed by the members standing in silence for a few moments.

It was decided that the next annual general meeting should be held at Fulham.

Heartly votes of thanks were accorded the Rev. W. H. Davies for his hospitality to the members of the association that day, and also to Mrs. Davies and friends, who had so ably assisted at the tea tables. The former very suitably replied, stating that they felt honoured at the presence of so many members of the association.

Thanks were also given to Canon Carnegie (St. Margaret's, Westminster), the Rev. W. Pennington Bickford (St. Clement Danes), and the Rev. W. F. G. Sandwith (St. Bartholomew-the-Great) for placing their bells at the disposal of the members. It was to be greatly regretted that the Rector of St. Clement Danes had to withdraw his permission at the very last moment, owing to a serious case of illness near the church.

The ringing done during the day was of a very varied nature. Quite a large number of ringers visited St. Bartholomew's, and rang several 120's of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles on the Pre-Reformation peal of five and made an inspection of the very ancient church, with one exception the oldest in London. Other members took part in touches in several methods, including Cambridge and Bristol, at St. Giles'-in-the-Fields, whilst after the ringing a large company visited St. Margaret's, Westminster, where Mr. W. Hewett had all in readiness, and rang touches of Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Treble Ten and Cambridge Surprise Royal.

A very pleasant meeting ended all too quickly.

LADIES' GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Southern District was held at Bramley, Surrey, on Saturday. Ringing started punctually at 3 o'clock and many touches, including Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Oxford Single Bob, Oxford, Kent and Woodbine, were brought home. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Green), who gave the Guild a warm welcome.

Tea was thoroughly enjoyed at the Jolly Farmer, and then the business meeting was held. Miss D. E. Orlebar, of Tunbridge Wells, was elected a member, and Cranleigh decided on for the next meeting on July 14th, if possible.

Ringling was resumed and continued till 8 o'clock. The ladies thoroughly appreciated the good 'go' of the bells.

Wheeldon (conductor) 4, F. T. Dawson 5, J. Walley 6. The above was rung in honour of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wheeldon's 24th wedding day.

DARLINGTON, DURHAM.—At the Church of St. John-the-Brange-list, on Easter Sunday, a quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob Major (1,280 changes), for evening service: R. H. Johnson 1, A. Coates 2, F. W. Johnson 3, A. Hunter 4, H. Broadley 5, W. Broadley 6, W. Dowson 7, H. Taylor (conductor) 8. First quarter-peal for ringers of the treble and seventh; also rung as a farewell to the Rev. J. Booth (curate) on his leaving after 10 years.

A SUNDERLAND CELEBRATION.

With reference to the peal rung at St. Ignatius, Sunderland, to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the opening of the first five bells it is a remarkable and interesting fact that three of the ringers (J. W. Parker, R. L. Patterson and G. S. Taylor) were members of the original band, and one (M. F. Harrison) has been a member since 1899.

After the peal the ringers and a few friends met at the residence of the captain (Mr. J. W. Parker) and presented him with a very fine rosewood clock as a mark of the esteem in which he is held. The presentation was made by Mr. R. L. Patterson, and Mr. Parker feelingly thanked his fellow-ringers and friends for their kindness.

'TIRED' BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Editor, — Goode Mistress Peppery did exclaim with great gusto, when she handed me my weekly solace, the 'R.W.' 'There, Peppery, that will make you shout "I.P., I. Pooray." ' And it did. For ye letter from friend Irenæus Pistor hit at least a few of the nails plumb on their pates. I agree with him in toto. Abe Rudhall, sure, was the clear candy where self-advertisement was concerned. Funny I never noticed it before, but I have taken Irenæus Pistor's very excellent advice 'Ecce audi,' and just looked matters up a bit, and, according to the pages of the 'R.W.', I find that the modern purveyors of the 'best ever' are not above a bit of 'slopping.' Now, I know that 'beauty is in the eye of the beholder,' so Rudhall for me, and just put a recurring spot after the eyestricker, please Mr. Editor. I really must tender my apologies to friend Irenæus Pistor for being so remiss as not to have noticed that the Rudhalls are as extinct as the Dodo, and that we can't have any more of their fabrications, but I still have just enough ineffaceable cohesive attraction and repulsion in my whelkish ruminating box to realise that if Irenæus Pistor and others have their way we are not even to be allowed to have any like unto ye fabrications of 'ABE' slopped over though they may have been. Verb, sap.

Pistor, my friend, an ye keep booming Simpson's best. I fear me they will get as tired as Rudhalls. I was at the opening of a much-lauded Simpson peal some time ago, and while basking in the sun on a hillside listening to some really fine Stedman, I remarked to a cleric who sat near: 'By yon bonnie banks and by yon bonnie braes,' He snapped, 'Yes—the "brays" are there, sure enough.'

Irenæus, ye bell has become tired when hys clapper no more rebounds as of yore, and ye sound produced is as ye sound produced by a stone on an anchor (anchors, by the way, are things whelks nest among), and ye chief factor to cause ye feeling of lassitude in ye bell is hys own shape as a casting. Any casting which is cylindrical is always in a state of tension, and through the course of time the multitude of small cells of which the metal, as a casting, is composed become worn out through sustaining the aforesaid tension. My friend Irenæus must excuse me for pointing out that there is no restorative for tired metal, 'it must be born again.' I have always been of the opinion that the Loughborough ten are a really fine ten, but why don't all founders put up some better ones and then try to do better still? And not try to make use believe that the various rings they put on to our backs are the Alpha and Omega, when we know they are not even as good as the Loughborough ten.—Yours resolutely,

ONCE A BEGINNER.

THE NAMING OF METHODS.

One of the most mysterious things about ringing is the curious manner in which certain words and names have crept into use in connection with the art. They have come in the process of time, though no one knows their real origin. The mists of the past surround them, and in these days we cling to them largely for the sake of tradition, but without knowing exactly why they came to mean what they at present convey, or how they came to be used. How many people, for instance, can tell us why the word 'Grandsire' was applied to the method, or whence comes the word 'Bob' as applied to Treble Bob? So with many of the names applied to other methods, they are presumably just the designation given at the caprice of composer or ringers, and in not a few cases they are ludicrous, and would seem so to ringers were it not for their familiarity. There is no reason, however, why these absurdities should be amplified and perpetuated when the opportunity occurs to remedy some of the ridiculous appellations of the past. Yet, in the report of the Analysis Committee of the Central Council, which is to be presented for adoption at the meeting at Whitsun, there appear names for methods which some may think picturesque, but which we venture to believe will be a laughing-stock to the majority of ringers. To give such names as Dahlia and Geranium, to mention only two, to Treble Bob methods seems to us sufficient to kill the methods for ever. We can only think the Committee adopted flower names for some of this group because some unimaginative persons in the past designated a few of the earlier methods by titles such as 'Tulip' and 'Primrose.' Then, too, they have retained such a name as 'Trinity Sunday' for a Treble Bob method, 'Francis' Genius' for a third's place Delight, and 'Ringers' Surprise' for one in the highest group.

The Committee tell us that they have been guided in their selection by priority of use and the advisability of retaining as much as possible, consistent with present definitions, of all that has been in use in the past. There can, however, be no advantage in extending the absurdities of the years gone by, and while there is much less objection to the word 'abbey' or 'castle' as part of a title, there can be no gainsaying the fact that nothing sounds so well as the plain name of a county, city, or town applied to the names of the methods we ring. There is still a vast number of such names left, and if there were not sufficient of these, even the rivers would have given us a better type of name than flowers. At any rate, we fancy there is something a little more impressive about such titles as 'Thames,' 'Severn' and 'Trent,' for instance, than 'Bluebell,' 'Fuchsia' and 'Marigold,' which, pretty as they may be in themselves, savour of fairy stories and nursery rhymes, instead of a serious art. If it is desired to preserve the ancient names which were given to some of these methods, it should have been sufficient to place them on record with a reference to the new designation, and thus kept the identity of the ancient titles from being lost. For the sake of the dignity of the art we hope the Committee will feel inclined to take back their report and amend it so that the Exercise may be rid of some of these absurdities. At the same time the question of naming new methods might be taken in hand by way of laying down some lines for the future. Only last week the Leicester men, ringing the first peal of Mr. Arthur Craven's new method, felt that the name given was not a suitable one. It is difficult to dispute an author's right to call his creation what he chooses—that is how some of the names in the past were handed down to us—but if the Council expressed their views as to the limits within which titles should be found, it is more than likely that they would be readily accepted, and, in any event, when the day arrives that all affiliated associations acknowledge the rulings of the Council as binding, the Council will have power to change any names that do not comply with their requirements.

ANCIENT WILTSHIRE BELLS RESTORED.

The ancient village of Ogbourne St. George, Wilts, lying in a pretty valley between two ridges of the celebrated Wiltshire Downs, has charming pastoral surroundings, and just below the venerable parish church the clear waters of the Ogbourne, a tributary of the Kennet, flow placidly by. The church contains a grand old ring of five bells, with a noble tenor, described in 'Church Bells' by W. C. Lukis, M.A., F.S.A., as follows:—

1. To bee the leading bell,
To prayse and ring well,
I was given by Master Thomas Baude, R.T., July fifteenth, 1825.
2. God be our guyd. R.B. 1603.
3. Geve thanks to God. R.B. 1603.
4. William Goddard, William Dixon, Churchwardens. William Purdue and Thomas Purdue, 1652.
5. William Goddard, William Dixon, Churchwardens. William Purdue and Thomas Purdue cast mee 1652.

For many years these beautiful bells have been practically unringable, but they have recently been rehung in a new steel and iron frame with entirely new fittings and ropes by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, and, needless to say, the work has been admirably done. The tone of the bells has been greatly improved by careful tuning.

The Vicar (the Rev. A. H. Smith, M.A.) has worked with characteristic energy in collecting the funds amounting to £375, and a further sum is required to carry out some necessary repairs to the tower and the provision of a new floor.

A dedication service was held on Saturday, April 14th, when the opening ringing was performed by local ringers, and their experiences were not too happy, the transformation to the easy-going bells somewhat upsetting them, and one enthusiast soon had a stay off. A number of ringers from neighbouring towers were also present, and the bells were kept going until a late hour.

The ringers were entertained to tea in the Parish Room by the Vicar, to whom a vote of thanks was accorded for his kind hospitality.

The Rector's subject in his sermon was a unique one. It was based on simplicity and the superiority of all things represented by simple words or monosyllables. 'In the farm,' he said, 'you have the sheep, the horse, the cow, the ox, the goat, corn, wheat, hay. In life you have love, light, food, sleep. All the best things were expressed by simple words. What more musical word could you find than that of "bell"?' The preacher congratulated the people of Ogbourne on their efforts which had culminated so successfully that day, and on the comparatively short period which had elapsed from the inauguration of the scheme to the completion of it. He greatly regretted that indisposition had prevented the Archdeacon of Wiltshire from performing the ceremony, which he had been called upon to do in his place.

At the conclusion, Mr. E. Bishop, of Swindon, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for his hospitality, and expressed his entire satisfaction at the excellent way in which Messrs. Gillett and Johnston had restored the bells. Mr. C. F. Johnston seconded the vote of thanks, and expressed the hope that the Ogbourne ringers would soon master the art of change ringing.

Thus another of Wiltshire's grand old rings has been restored, and it is safe to say that if the bells, frame and fittings are properly cared for they will continue to ring out their messages for many generations to come. The tenor is 18½ cwt. in E.

In the adjoining village of Ogbourne St. Andrew there is another interesting ring of five bells, with a Pre-Reformation tenor, and the Rev. W. C. Lukis in the book above referred to says: 'The tenor bell of Ogbourne St. Andrew, which was cast in the 15th century, and weighs about 15 cwt., cannot be surpassed for richness and dignity of tone.' The black letter inscription is 'Trinitatem adoremus.'

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SUCCESSFUL SOUTHERN DISTRICT MEETING AT LAMBETH.

The Southern district of the London County Association held a very successful and enjoyable meeting at St. Mary's, Lambeth, on Saturday last. It will be remembered that the bells were recently restored by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and the splendid 'go' and tone was fully appreciated by the 30 ringers who attended during the afternoon and evening. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Kent-Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise Major were rung.

Tea was partaken of at the Archbishop Temple Boys' School, and the excellent fare was heartily enjoyed. At the business meeting which followed, two new members were made. — A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to Mr. Hardy and the local men for having them in readiness.

After some handbell ringing, the tower was again visited, and further ringing indulged in.

At 7.30 the ringers attended evensong, and at the conclusion of the short service, the bells were once more set going. But 'all things come to an end,' and a very pleasant afternoon and evening came to a close all too quickly.

Ringers attended from Beckenham, Camberwell, Chelsea, Clapham, Beddington, Deptford, East Ham, Ealing, Hammersmith, Kensington, Lambeth, Rotherhithe and Willesden.

ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD SOCIETY.

The last quarterly meeting of the society's year was held at Sedgley on Saturday, April 14th. Between forty and fifty members attended, which was a very fair muster, considering the inclement weather which prevailed.

A short service was held in church, at which the Rev. Dr. Swindell (Vicar) delivered a helpful address. A bountiful tea was provided in the Schoolroom by the wives of local ringers, and was greatly enjoyed. The Rev. Dr. Swindell was present, and gave the company a warm welcome to Sedgley, as well as a little fatherly advice.—A vote of thanks to him for his address and the use of the bells, etc., to the organist, and to the ladies who attended to the wants of the inner man, was moved by the Rev. C. H. Barker, and carried with applause.

Handbells were brought into use, and several tunes were played. The ringing during the afternoon and evening comprised the four standard methods as well as touches of Cambridge Surprise and Double Norwich Major.

The annual meeting is provisionally arranged to take place at Lichfield on June 23rd.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

A very successful meeting of the Eastern District of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association was held at Houghton-le-Spring on Saturday week. About 30 members attended from Newcastle, Gateshead, Sunderland, Chester-le-Street, etc., and several touches of Bob Minor, Kent and Woodbine were brought round during the afternoon. Afterwards, at the kind invitation of the Rector, the members sat down to an excellent tea in the Parish Room. A short business meeting followed, the district vice-president (Mr. R. Parkinson) presiding, supported by the Rector, Mr. W. Story (president of the association), Mr. A. M. Hall (treasurer), and Mr. J. W. Parker.

The Rector, in responding to a vote of thanks for his hospitality, said that, as he had expected, the desirability of the octave being completed in the tower of his beautiful old church had that afternoon been pointed out to him, but he was afraid it was impossible at present.

It was decided to hold the next district meeting at Sunderland, on Saturday, June 2nd.

After a walk round the beautiful gardens of the Rectory, the bells were again set going, and a 720 of Double Oxford brought round.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SOUTH AND WEST DISTRICT.

A most successful meeting of the South and West District was held at Ruislip recently, when between 60 and 70 members and friends attended from Acton, Battersea, Brookley, Beaconsfield, Chelsea, Clapham, Camberwell, Chiswick, Ealing, Fulham, Heston, Hounslow, Hillingdon, Hanwell, Hammersmith, Isleworth, Kensington, Staines, Windsor, Willesden, and the local company. The ringing commenced at 3 p.m., under the leadership of the Master (Mr. Robert Holloway). Tea, which had been arranged by the hon. secretary, was partaken of by 40 members, including the vice-president (Mr. T. Beadle). Again visiting the church a short touch was rung for service, which was taken by the Vicar (the Rev. W. A. G. Gray), a lady ringer kindly presiding at the organ.

After the service, the Vicar visited the ringing chamber, when the customary vote of thanks was accorded him and others, whose kindness will not readily be forgotten. Ringing was further indulged in until 9 p.m., the methods ranging from Bristol, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise to Grandsire, the higher methods being for the first time rung upon the bells since their restoration. The 'go' of the bells is excellent, in spite of seventy feet of rope. Silence had long reigned supreme in the old flint tower, and this added much to the enthusiasm displayed, and was partly responsible for the large gathering, while last and not least was the social side, which fulfilled to the full the views expressed in the article upon 'Friendship in the Belfry,' which appeared in a recent issue of 'The Ringing World.'

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We understand that there is likely to be an attempt to beat the Stedman Cinques record in London on Whit Monday.

The present longest length is the 11,111 rung at St. Martin's, Birmingham, in 8 hrs. 2 mins., on December 26th, 1901. A 15,000 at Southwark Cathedral is now proposed!

Our tame diarist got a little mixed last week with regard to Mr. William Rock Small's birthday. He was born on Nov. 12th, and not April 29th, 1838, so the congratulations were a little previous. The 'Black Country Veteran' has been a ringer for more than 60 years, but his advancing age now prevents him from adding to his 330 peals.

There is still with us another veteran, who fifty-five years ago today took part in the 15,840 Kent Treble Bob at Bethnal Green, by the College Youths. This is Mr. Ted Horrex.

Seven years earlier, on April 27th 1861, the Ancient Society rang the then record of Stedman Cinques, 8,580, at Cornhill.

On April 28th, 1800, the Royal Cumberlands rang 10,112 Oxford Treble Bob Major at Edmonton.

Next Wednesday is an anniversary which should be celebrated by a peal in many places. On May 2nd, 1715, the first peal of which there is any authentic record was rung at St. Peter Maneroft, Norwich, a peal of Grandsire Bob Triples.

Messrs. Groombridge and Palmer are engaged on strengthening the frame and supplying new bearings to the bells at St. John's Church, Croydon.

LONG PEAL ATTEMPT.

An attempt for 12,896 Cambridge Surprise Major will be made at Stoney Stanton, Leicestershire, on Saturday, April 28th. Ringing to commence at 1.30 p.m. prompt.

GRANDSIRE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As long ago as June, 1900, I pointed out in the columns of the 'Bell News' that the Bob Lead of the Grandsire method is symmetrical within the lead, while the Plain Lead is not. Nearly 23 years later the truth of that statement is at last becoming clear!—Yours faithfully,

Brighton.

GEORGE BAKER.

OXFORD GUILD 'PASSIVE RESISTERS.'

To the Editor.

Sir,—With reference to your 'leader' of April 20th upon 'Passive Resisters' of the Oxford Guild, it was proposed at the annual meeting, held at Oxford last year, to circularise each tower in union, so that all members could vote on the question of holding the annual meeting always at Oxford. If this had been done there would be no reason for Passive Resisters.—Yours truly,

F. VICKERS.

THE 'COLLEGE YOUTHS' CERTIFICATE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I was asked by the Master and officers of the Ancient Society of College Youths at our last business meeting, on the 17th inst., to forward the following information, which we think will be of considerable interest to the Exercise, viz., that the certificate of the society was engraved by none other than the great Bartolozzi himself.

In Andrew W. Juer's catalogue of 'Bartolozzi and his works' our certificate is scheduled as follows: No. 2131 Society of College Youths. This number is to be found in Vol. II. of the catalogue.

Francesco Bartolozzi was born in Florence in 1725. In Venice, Florence and Milan, he etched several pieces on sacred subjects. He then took up his abode in England, where he lived for 40 years, and died in Lisbon in 1813. His works in this country are, of course, classical, his best engravings being 'The Death of Lord Chatham,' after Copely, and the 'Virgin and Child.'

I should be much obliged if you will kindly publish this information for the benefit of those members of the society who are scattered throughout the country, as it is only by means of your valuable periodical that we can get such information to them, especially as it enhances the actual value of the certificate, which several experts assure me is now worth to collectors anything between 15s. to 3 guineas.—Yours faithfully,

F. A. YORKE, Captain, R.G.A.
King's House, Tower of London.

LINSLADE WIVES AND SWEETHEARTS.

Sir,—In 'Belfry Gossip' last week mention was made of the poorly attended ringing practice at Linslade. At the Easter Vestry, the President of the Women's Institute asked if the ringers' practice could not be held on some other evening, as the two events now clashed.

The Foreman remarked he would be only too pleased to alter the evening, as the junior members of the band had their young ladies to take out, and the senior members had to stay at home to look after their children while the wives attended the Institute.—Yours truly,

F. VICKERS.

TEN-BELL TOWERS.
BECCLES CAMPANILE.

By J. R. JERRAM.

Beccles, in Suffolk, whose chief interest for ringers is its peal of ten bells hung in one of the very few detached Campaniles in England, had a peal of eight bells over a hundred and sixty years ago, and on a board in the tower is the following record:—

ROBERT MARGEROM.

Churchwarden, took down the old peal
of Eight Bells, and took up and Hung this new peal of ten, himself in the year 1762.

This peal of ten was cast by Lester and Pack at the Whitechapel Foundry in 1762, the tenor being stated to be 27½ cwt. The fifth bore the inscription:—

'Our Voices shall with Joyful Sound,
Make Hills and Valleys echo round.'

THE CAMPANILE OF BECCLES CHURCH.

The late Canon Raven, in his account of the bells, mentions that several were cracked when he took inscriptions, the 8th and 9th being hooped round with iron bands, while some of the bells had 'wooden crowns.' Messrs. Taylor and Co. carried out a complete overhaul of the bells in 1909, when the 4th, 6th and 9th were recast (the 8th having been recast twenty years before), and the whole ring hung in a steel frame. The present tenor is 25 cwt. 1 qr. 25 lb., in D flat.

The inscriptions on the bells are as follow:—

- 1.—Treble.—Edwd. Brooks Portreve, 1762. Lester and Pack, of London. Fecit.
- 2.—Lester and Pack, of London. Fecit.
- 3.—Thomas Mears, of London. Fecit, 1804.
- 4.—Recast by John Taylor and Co., Loughborough, 1909. John Rowsell, Rector. A. R. Clatworthy, Womack Brook, Churchwardens. W. J. Money, Mayor.
- 5.—Recast by John Warner and Sons, of London. 1889.
- 6.—Same as 5th, with the addition 'In memory of Queen Victoria.' (This line is surmounted by a bust of Queen Victoria.)
- 7.—Recast by John Warner and Sons, London. C. F. Parker, R. C. Houghton, Churchwardens, 1871. (This bell bears the Royal Arms, followed by the word 'Patent'.)
- 8.—Recast by John Warner and Sons, London. 1889.
- 9.—Vivos voco. Mortuos Plango. Fulgura Frango. Recast by John Taylor and Co., Loughborough, 1909. John Rowsell, Rector. A. R. Clatworthy, Womack Brook, Churchwardens. H. Hopson, Captain. W. J. Money, Mayor.

Tenor.—Wm. Clark and Robt. Margerom, Chwardens. O. Quam Dulce Sonas Domini Properemus. Adeedes. Lester and Pack, of London. Fecit 1762.

The only early peals, of which there is any record, are:—
5,220 Bob Royal, May 24th, 1837, to celebrate the birthday of Princess Victoria; 5,040 Bob Major, 1885; 6,048 Bob Major, 1867-5,040 Grandsire Triples, 1878. These are recorded on boards and tablets in the tower.

THE RINGERS' JUG.

A fine specimen of local pottery is kept in the belfry under lock and key. It is of ordinary brown glazed ware, 17in. high and 46in. in circumference at the widest part. The inscription thereon is as follows:—

1827.—When I am filled with Liquor strong
Each man drink once, and then ding, dong.
Drink not too much to Cloud your Knobs,
Least you forget to make the Bobbs,
A gift of John Pattman, Beccles,
Samuel Stringfellow, Potter.

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM GRIMES.

A SUFFOLK PIONEER.

It is with much regret that we have to record the death of Mr. William Grimes, of Debenham, Suffolk, which sad event took place on Saturday, April 14th. As announced in our columns a few weeks ago Mr. Grimes had been seriously ill for nearly two years, and the end was not altogether unexpected. It was chiefly owing to his energy and enterprise that change ringing was started at Debenham, when he came to reside there some 42 years back, and he had always taken a leading part in the advancement of the art in the district. He had also been a member of the choir for just on 40 years, and was connected with many other public bodies in the town.

His peal records show that he had rung 118 in all of which 116 were to the credit of the old Norwich Diocesan Association. The methods included Minor 1, Bob Triples 2, Grandsire Triples 3, Stedman Triples 2, Bob Major 20, Kent Treble Bob Major 10, Oxford Treble Bob Major 28 (including 16,608), Double Norwich Major 30, Cambridge Surprise Major 1, Superlative 9, Kent Treble Bob Royal 5, Kent Treble Bob Maximus 1. Of these he had conducted about 30.

The funeral took place on Thursday, April 19th, and was attended by a large and representative gathering, including several past and present officers of Court 5318 'Star of Suffolk,' A.O.F., of which deceased was a Past Chief Ranger. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung at the graveside by Hubert Day 1—2, William Rose 3—4, Wm. C. Rumsey 5—8, Ernest F. Poppy 7—8; and in the evening half-muffled touches of Cambridge and Stedman Triples were rung upon the bells of St. Mary's Church. These were followed by the whole pull and stand, after which the age of the deceased (64 years) was tolled on the tenor. On Sunday afternoon a peal of Double Norwich (deceased's favourite method) was rung as a last tribute of respect to his memory. A record of this will be found in its proper place.

It is proposed to keep the fund (started for the benefit of Mr. Grimes) open for a few weeks on behalf of the widow, and subscriptions will be thankfully received and acknowledged in the usual way by Mr. W. C. Rumsey, Debenham. The contributions to date are: Debenham company, £2; meeting at Ipswich, Easter Monday, per Mr. Chas. Mee, £2 3s.; Mr. Thos. Fitzjohn, 2s. 6d.; Col.-Sergt. James Bennett, R.M., 5s.; Mr. W. H. Fussell, 5s.

On Saturday, April 21st, an attempt was made for a peal of Stedman Caters at St. Mary-le-Tower Church, Ipswich, with the bells half-muffled, as a tribute to the memory of the late Mr. William Grimes, who was a life member of St. Mary-le-Tower Society. The whole peal was rung in 3 hrs. 30 mins., but two bells 'shifted' in the 3rd course from home, and, therefore, the performance cannot be recorded as a peal: W. P. Garrett 1 R. H. Brundle 2 W. Tillett 3. C. J. Sedgley 4, J. Rose 5, H. R. Roper 6, C. H. Gillingham (conductor) 7, G. E. Symonds 8, F. J. Tillett 9, C. A. Catchpole 10.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A successful meeting of the Luton district was held at Luton on Saturday last, members and friends being present from Dunstable, Barton Le Clay, Houghton Regis, Harpenden, Hitchin, St. Albans, Tring, Turvey, Leighton Buzzard, Kimpton, and the local tower. A short service was held in the beautiful Wenlock Chapel, conducted by the Vicar of Luton (the Rev. C. Moltan Williams), who gave a short address, which was greatly appreciated by the members.

The tea and meeting were held at the Red Lion Hotel, presided over by the Rev. C. M. Williams, who was afterwards elected an hon. member of the association.

Woburn was selected for the next meeting, on June 2nd, if this date is found convenient. One life member was elected, viz., Mr. H. Hollick, St. Albans.

After the usual vote of thanks to the Vicar of Luton for the use of the bells and presiding at the meeting, the tower was again visited, and further ringing took place. The methods rung during the afternoon and evening ranged from Bob Doubles, for the learners, to Bristol Surprise for the advanced members.

NEW BELLS AT TROWBRIDGE.

FIRST PEAL OF TEN IN WILTSHIRE.

There was a great day for ringers at Trowbridge on Easter Monday, when the two new bells added to the existing octave to make the first peal of ten in Wiltshire were opened. The bells have been added by Messrs. Llewellyns and James, of Bristol, and are inscribed as follows:—

Treble (5½ cwt.).—'Lest we forget.' Harold Butcher, a parish church ringer, killed in the Great War. P. A. Nash, M.A., R.D., Rector. W. E. Stanley and F. W. Saxty, Churchwardens. S. J. Hector, Ringing Master. C. M. Lansdown, F. H. White, F. P. Garrick, H. Ledbury and J. A. Cooper, Committee. Easter, 1925.

2nd (6½ cwt.).—'In gratitude, 1914—1918.' Lucy Mackay. This refers to the safe return of the late Mrs. Mackay's sons from the war. The name of the firm which cast them is also on each bell.

A gathering of nearly 300 ringers was present for the opening. Among the towns and villages represented were London, Bristol (which sent thirty or forty), Bath, Wells, Newport, Frome, Shaftesbury, Warminster, Westbury, Devizes, Chippenham, Swindon, Melksham, Midsomer Norton, Pewsey, Bratton, Steeple Ashton, North Bradley, Bishop's Cannings, Rowde Seend, Radstock, Holt, Bourne-mouth, Milverton, Bradford-on-Avon, Hilperton, Wootton Bassett, Colne, Bromham, Reading, etc.

The proceedings began with two hours' ringing on the old eight bells, and then, assembling outside the Town Hall, the ringers formed a procession and marched to the church, headed by the Comrades' band. The church was full to overflowing. A service was held, at which the Rev. P. A. Nash, Rector, gave a short address of welcome to the ringers, and referred to the circumstances leading up to the addition of the two bells. The lesson, from the service appointed to be used by the Salisbury Diocesan Guild of Ringers, was read by the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, Rector of Kingston Magna, Gillingham, who is general secretary of the Guild. The actual 'opening' of the enlarged peal was done by Trowbridge ringers, followed by a touch by a picked band from Bristol towers.

After the service there was tea at the Town Hall. The chairman of the Devizes branch, Mr. C. D. Heginbotham, opened the proceedings after tea, and in the course of an interesting address, said: 'This is a red-letter day in the Church history of this county, and in the history of the Devizes branch of the Diocesan Ringing Guild, for we have witnessed the formal opening of the first peal of ten bells in both. We are, I think, quite naturally very proud that our branch of the Guild should have this honour. I have heard that this branch also contains the first peal of eight rung as an eight for ringing in the whole county, viz., at Bishop's Cannings, and if this is true we have an additional reason to be proud of our branch. We naturally think on an occasion like this of the donors, through whose generosity the peal of eight in the parish church has been augmented to ten. As most of you are aware, one of the bells was given by the late Mrs. Mackay in grateful memory that through the mercy of God her two sons were spared in the recent deplorable European conflict. One cannot help thinking what a splendid method of showing gratitude to Almighty God this is. The other bell and the remainder of the work, including the chining apparatus, has been enabled to be carried out through the generosity of Trowbridge citizens (not of one denomination only), and they may well be proud of the result. We are told on all sides to-day that the prevailing elements where Church work and worship are concerned, are "apathy" and "indifference." But I say "Mr. Apathy" and "Mr. Indifference" never caused a church bell to be hung in their lives. No! To organise work like this needs patience, needs hope, needs a burning and unquenchable enthusiasm, and in the Trowbridge ringers, and especially in the man for many years their leader, you have these qualities personified. I refer to Mr. S. J. Hector.'

Mr. Heginbotham went on to refer to the great general improvements which had been effected in the belfries during the last thirty years, and went on to speak of the constructive programme which he would like to see carried out. 'First and foremost,' he continued, 'we want a more definitely pronounced recognition of ringers as Church workers. To enable us to achieve this we must have hearty co-operation between clergy and ringers. I strongly recommend that one or more ringers from every lower get a place on their respective parochial church councils, which now regulate and control parish finances, and with the assistance of the incumbent obtain from them a grant, however small, either from an offertory or the freewill offering funds, in aid of their Ringing Guild branch funds. A course like this would have far-reaching advantages. The ringers would have better chances of obtaining instruction in change ringing. It would also bring before them the fact that they must not be selfish and imagine their own tower and their own pockets are the only consideration. From the incumbent's point of view it would prevent any remarks, such as I have frequently heard, that the ringers are unrecognised by himself or the other Church workers, and quite naturally he would expect to see that the branch funds to which his parish had contributed, were properly expended, and as a consequence would take a greater interest in the Guilds as a whole, and in his own branch in particular. Secondly, I wish to see more mobility on the part of the ringers. Even if they are only round ringers they can and should visit other local towers, and rubbing shoulders with their fellows is bound to make them feel more keenly the bond of fellowship and brotherhood which unites all who take part in ringing the church bells. I want to see all ringers recognise their responsibilities. Never was there a time when sterling men and true were more wanted in the Church and by the Church than to-day. If ringers and choristers—many of you are both—especially the younger generation, will recognise their responsibilities there is no need to be disheartened. In the course of my wanderings over the South of England I have never met a body of men who on the whole are more genial, more ready to help a comrade in distress, more ready to extend the hand of good fellowship, than church bell ringers; and as long as the Church Ringing Guilds can count among their followers such men as Mr. Cave, of Bristol; Mr. King, of Bath; Mr. F. Green, the secretary of this branch, and others here present too numerous to mention by name, we can look forward to the future with an unclouded vision.'

The Rector also spoke a few words, and the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards thanked the Trowbridge ringers, on behalf of the Salisbury Guild, for the kindness extended to the visitors.

Two bands of handbell ringers came from Bristol, representing respectively the Guild of St. Thomas in that city and the Guild of St. Philip. They gave exhibitions of ringing outside the Town Hall before the procession started, and again from the platform of that building after the tea, and were listened to with interest and appreciation.

Ringing was later resumed at the parish church, and several good touches of Grandsire and Stedman Caters were rung. From every point of view the day was most successful.

DEVONSHIRE GUILD.
THE COMING JUBILEE.

One of the most successful meetings of the Mid-Devon branch was held at Kingskerswell on Saturday last. Ringers were present from Exeter, Christow, Buckfastleigh, Plymouth, Dartmouth, Torquay and Paignton. The members were met at the church by Mr. George Facey, the local captain, and the bells were soon set going, some well-struck touches of Kent Treble Bob, Stedman and Grandsire being rung. At 5 p.m. the members adjourned to the Lord Nelson Hotel, where Hostess Sitter provided a splendid tea, the Vicar (the Rev. G. H. F. Fagan) joining the members.

At the subsequent business meeting Mr. H. W. Wilkes presided. Mortonhamstead was chosen for the next quarterly meeting, and the chairman thanked the Vicar for the use of the bells, also for joining them at tea.

In replying, the Vicar said it gave him great pleasure to welcome the Guild, and he hoped they would soon pay them another visit.

Mr. H. J. Hole (hon. secretary) said he was pleased to announce that since the last meeting four hon. members had been elected; also the Rev. Brown and his band of Collaton, where a new peal of bells are to be erected next week.

The Rev. E. S. Powell, general secretary of the Guild, reminded members that next year would be the jubilee of the Guild, which was formed in 1874. He urged them to try and achieve something to commemorate the event. — Messrs. E. Shepherd and Richardson (Exeter) also addressed the meeting, and further ringing was then indulged in at Coffinswell and Kingskerswell towers.

ONE HUNDRED PEALS AT 21.

MR. A. E. NORMAN'S RECORD.

Mr. Albert E. Norman, of Birmingham, had the distinction on Thursday, April 5th, of calling his 100th peal on his 21st birthday. An able ringer and full of enthusiasm Mr. Norman has made the most of the excellent opportunities which living in such a ringing centre as Birmingham have made for him, but, even allowing for this, his first 'century' is really unique, including as it does 32 'double handed' peals, 41 peals on twelve bells, and one on fourteen. His 'Hundred' is made up as follows:—

	Tower Bells	Handbells
	Rung. Cond.	Rung. Cond.
Stedman Sextuples	14	1
Stedman Cinques	5	1
Stedman Caters	19	1
Stedman Triples	3	1

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting was held at Ilminster on Saturday last, when about 30 members were present. Touches in Treble Bob, Plain Bob, Stedman and Grandsire were rung during the afternoon, and tea was partaken of in the Schoolroom. The business meeting followed the Master (the Rev. C. C. Parker) presiding, supported by the Rev. J. N. Boughton, Vicar of Ilminster, and the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, Kingston Magna, Dorset (secretary of the Salisbury Guild), and about 30 members. The only regret was the absence, through illness, of Mr. D. G. Taylor, the captain of the local band, and one of the churchwardens. A vote of sympathy with him was unanimously passed, on the motion of the Master.

No fewer than fifty-nine performing and three hon. members were elected.

The Master announced that the next meeting, the annual, would be held at Yeovil, the date to be fixed later.

In moving a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and arranging the service, the Master remarked how much better it would be if every incumbent took as much interest in the ringers as the Vicar of Ilminster did.—The vote was carried with applause.

The Vicar, in responding, said he had a very enthusiastic band of ringers, and he spoke very highly of the work done by Mr. Taylor.

A short service was then held in the church, at which the Rev. J. N. Boughton officiated and gave a very earnest address, ably pointing out the duties of ringers. The service over, the tower was again visited, and touches in various methods rung.

BRISTOL UNITED GUILDS.

ENJOYABLE 'SOCIAL.'

Something more than an annual dinner has been the outcome of the establishment of Bristol United Guilds. The social side of ringing is being successfully extended, and on Tuesday of last week there was a big gathering at St. Thomas's Church Room on the occasion of a musical evening. There was a splendid attendance of ringers, their wives, their sisters, their cousins and their aunts, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The chairman was the Rev. T. C. Fowler (president of the United Guilds), and among those also present were the Rev. M. E. Thorold (St. Philip's) and Mrs. Thorold, the Rev. E. J. Phillips (Coalpit Heath) and Miss Phillips; and the Rev. M. Paterson (St. Thomas's).

Contributions by an orchestra were greatly enjoyed, and songs by Miss Ivy Baker, Mr. T. H. Edmunds and Mr. W. S. Emery were finely rendered. Mr. W. D. Moncrieffe contributed musical monologues, and St. Thomas's Guild gave handbell selections. Encores were the rule, and the very pleasant gathering concluded with a half-hour's dance. The refreshments were provided by a ladies' committee, under the capable management of Mrs. F. G. Leaker.

A NEW RECORD AND A PRESSING NEED.

One more record has been added to the annals of ringing. By their performance at Stoney Stanton on Saturday, that brilliant young band of the Midland Counties Association, who since the war have reached the highest standard in peal ringing, have settled, presumably once and for all, the longest length of Cambridge Surprise Major. Their peal of 12,986 changes is the limit obtainable in the method—until a composer can find something longer. We feel constrained to add this qualification, even though at the moment anything more than last Saturday's length is not believed possible, for we have in mind what has happened in regard to other methods in the past. The success achieved at Stoney Stanton is a crowning effort on the part of a band whose performances have been of no mean order, and they will receive the hearty congratulations of the Exercise.

This peal raises once more the necessity, upon which we have dwelt from time to time in this column, for an official record of all compositions, in order to set at rest any question of disputed authorship. In the case of this record peal of Cambridge Surprise Major, three well-known members of the Exercise are said to have laid claim to the composition. Each has indisputably constructed this record length, and their compositions, we are informed, although not identical, are so far alike as to come within the definition of a 'variation.' The ringers of the peal made an effort to solve the riddle without arriving, we believe, at a wholly satisfactory result, and they have, therefore, appended the name of Mr. E. Hims, who appears to have been the first to publish it. If there had been in existence an official record of all compositions, this question could not have arisen, because the first author to register the peal would be entitled to the credit, in the same way as a person who patents an invention or registers a trade mark.

Before the Central Council meeting last year we advocated setting up such a reference file of peal compositions, and the proposal got before the Council in the shape of a motion, but it was loaded with another scheme to put the onus of proof of peals upon the Council. This latter portion of the resolution was alone discussed, and, being defeated, dragged the other part of the question down with it. There is, however, a distinct need for, and there would be an important advantage in having such a record of compositions in the hands of the Council, for we believe there are many peals rung to-day under the names of new composers which were produced years ago. The men of to-day, however, have no means of ascertaining whether their figures have previously been obtained by another person, and the longer this state of affairs goes on, the more difficult will it be to remedy the omission. The Council is not overburdened with notices of motion for its Salisbury meeting, and here is one subject which it well might tackle. We are quite convinced that sooner or later this matter will have to be taken in hand, and the longer it is left, the heavier and more complicated will the task become.

BRIDGNORTH BRANCH SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

The first quarterly meeting of the year in connection with the Bridgnorth Branch was held at Broseley, on Saturday, April 21st. It was the largest gathering since the opening of the district, members being present from Bridgnorth, St. Leonard's and St. Mary's, Stockton, Madeley, Coalbrookdale and Broseley.

The bells were started at 3 o'clock, and the Guild's service was afterwards conducted by the Rev. W. A. Warner.

About 40 ringers sat down to a splendid tea in the Rectory, kindly provided by the Rev. and Mrs. Warner. At the business meeting the Rector was voted to the chair.

The report and balance sheet for 1922 were read, and were highly satisfactory, a balance of £3 being in hand to start the year with.

On the proposition of Mr. W. Saunders, seconded by Mr. Overton (Ringing Master), the Broseley ringers were made members of the Guild, with the Rev. W. A. Warner as hon. member. Two other members were also elected.

On the proposition of Mr. Saunders, a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Rector and Mrs. Warner for kindly providing the tea, and for use of the bells.

The Rector said how pleased he was to have been at the meeting. He had greatly enjoyed it, and he would do what he could for the benefit of the ringers, and hoped now that they had joined the Guild they would soon become change ringers.

Mr. W. Saunders' band then rang a touch of Grandsire Caters, 'double-handed,' and then the visitors returned to the tower, where the methods rung included Stedman, Grandsire, Plain Bob, Kent and Double Oxford.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

QUARTERLY MEETING AT STRATFORD-ON-AVON.

It is quite a number of years since the Guild visited Shakespeare's historic town, 1909 being the last occasion, and a good number of members and friends availed themselves of the opportunity of visiting the grand old church and making the acquaintance of the bells, upwards of 30 being present on Saturday week from Berkswell, Birmingham, Coventry, Ilmington, Nuneaton, Stoke, Tredington, and the local band. They were met and cordially welcomed by Mr. Haynes, the leader of the local men, Mr. Wright, and several others who had everything in capital order, the bells and their fittings being evidently well looked after. Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung during the afternoon.

Councillor F. P. Lawson had kindly made arrangements for tea at the White Swan Hotel.—The business meeting followed, presided over by the president (the Archdeacon of Warwick), and the question of a printed report was discussed, the hon. secretary being instructed to obtain estimates.

Arrangements were made for the monthly meetings in each district, the hon. district secretaries being asked to arrange them in their own districts to the best advantage, Nuneaton and Coventry districts taking the first and third Saturdays in each month respectively.

A discussion took place respecting members contributing to the cost of the report, and ultimately it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the annual meeting in July.

Four new members were duly elected. A slight alteration of Rule 4, defining the qualification of hand-bell ringers as members, was carried.

The Ringing Master (Mr. A. Roberts) moved a hearty vote of thanks to Canon Melville for the use of the bells, and expressed the hope that the interval between this and the next meeting at Stratford would be much shorter than the time that had elapsed since the last.—The Archdeacon seconded, and at the outset regretted it was not possible to have the Guilds' service in church. He congratulated the hon. secretary on being able, at the first attempt, to get the right side of Canon Melville, succeeding where he himself had failed. He stated he knew previous applications for the bells had been persistently refused, but he felt sure if the conditions of the Canon's permission were carried out it would not be long before Stratford was again visited.

After tea some good ringing was accomplished, the methods rung being Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich, Cambridge, and Bristol Surprise.

THE ROYAL WEDDING.A PEAL AT WESTMINSTER ABBEY.

The Westminster Abbey band consists of twelve members, and as all were present at the Royal Wedding on April 26th, and wished to ring, a 504 of Stedman Triples by J. N. Oxborrow (conductor) 1, A. A. Hughes 2, H. R. Pasmore 3, A. Macdonald 4, J. Willshire 5, S. Andrews 6, W. H. Pasmore 7, J. Rumby 8, was rung as the Royal couple left the Abbey. While ringing rounds the band was changed, and the peal of Cambridge successfully accomplished, the bells thus being kept going for 3 hrs. and 50 minutes.

After the peal the band was, by the kindness of the Dean, entertained to tea in the Old Dining Hall of the Abbots.

Among the touches rung in honour of the wedding of H.R.H. the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon were the following:—

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Next week we shall publish the Central Council's Analysis of the peals rung in 1922.

A unique performance is recorded in our peal columns. In a peal at Southampton two ringers took part, each of whom lost an arm in the late war.

The conductor of the record peal of Cambridge Surprise Major on Saturday (Mr. Harold J. Poole) is still some months short of the age of 21 years.

This performance stands out as one of the most remarkable of our time. A casual glance of the composition would be enough for most bob callers.

Although Mr. Poole's peal ringing career only commenced in July, 1920, he has rung to date 94, and has conducted peals of Stedman Triples and Caters, Treble Ten, Superlative, London and Cambridge Major, and Royal. He also rang in the 10,400 of Real Double Superlative, and a 13,440 of Bob Major, and has also rung peals of Double Norwich, Treble Twelve and Stedman Cinques. Not a bad collection in 2½ years!

This record length is one not likely to be displaced in Cambridge Surprise Major, for, as far as present knowledge goes, this 12,896 is the extent of the method.

The Ancient Society of College Youths must have a valuable possession in the plate of their certificate engraved by the great Bartolozzi. In view of the discovery, made after great search by Capt. F. A. Yorke, a copy of the certificate has been sent to the British Museum.

The plate was probably engraved between 1790 and 1800, but the figure of the century has been altered to keep pace with the times.

Twenty years ago next Friday, viz., on May 11th, 1903, the record peal of London Surprise Major, 14,112 changes, was rung at King's Norton.

On May 10th, 1777, the Royal Cumberland Youths rang 10,200 Treble Bob Royal at Shoreditch in 7 hrs. 40 mins.

Fifteen years later, on May 7th, 1792, the first peal of Grandsire Bob Maximus was rung at Southwark.

A long peal of more than a century ago, although not even at that time a record, was the 12,312 Grandsire Caters at Painswick on May 5th, 1817.

The first peal in Dorset, Grandsire Triples, was rung at Bridport on May 5th, 1887.

By an error it was indicated in our report of the death of Mr. W. Grimes that he took part in the long peal of Oxford Treble Bob at Debenham in 1892. Mr. Grimes did not ring in the peal, although he was steeple keeper at the tower at the time.

Peals are never certain until the last change rolls round, and it is certainly 'counting your chicken before they're hatched' to write the report of it before the ringing begins. A conductor in a tower in the South Eastern Counties, however, did this on the Royal Wedding day, leaving only the time to be filled in, in order to get the report into the local paper next morning. In this case the peal came off.

Mr. Richard Newton, of Boston, U.S.A., and formerly one of the ringers at Manchester Town Hall, was married at St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston, on April 9th, to Mrs. A. Nelson. In the evening the bride and bridegroom were present at a dinner of the staff of the Merchants' National Bank, and were showered with rice and confetti and good wishes.

Mr. T. E. Sone, of Harwarden, Buffs Brac, Dunfermline, Fife, will be pleased to hear from any ringers in Scotland.

Owing to pressure on our space on account of the many peals rung for the Royal Wedding, numerous peals and reports, as well as letters to the Editor, are unavoidably held over.

LONDON RINGER'S SUDDEN DEATH.

We much regret to record the sudden death of Richard F. Forward, which took place on April 24th. Deceased was returning home in the evening by tram when death took place. He had been employed for several years by the London County Council as a tram conductor, although he was a surgical boot maker by profession.

Mr. Forward was a native of Cranbrook, Kent, where he learnt to ring a bell, but it was only during the last two or three years that he had taken up change ringing. He was making very good progress indeed, considering that his opportunities for practising were limited owing to his duties. A member of St. Leonard's, Streatham, local band, he also met the Ancient Society of College Youths whenever he was able. All his peals have been with the tenor behind, and he was a reliable man in this position, whether on 8, 10 or 12 bells.

The funeral took place on Tuesday at Streatham Cemetery, and was attended by members of the Ancient Society of College Youths, who paid the usual mark of respect.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The Third Session of the Eleventh Council (30th annual meeting) will be held in the Chapter House, The Cathedral, Salisbury, on Whitsun Tuesday, 22nd May, 1923, at 11 a.m. precisely.

The morning sitting will be adjourned from 1 p.m. till 2.30, from which hour the Council will sit, if necessary, until 5.30 p.m.

The Standing Committee will meet previously at 9.45 a.m. in the same room.

THE POSITION IN SUFFOLK.

IMPORTANT RECOMMENDATIONS BY N., ST. E. AND I. DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION COMMITTEE.

At a meeting of the Committee of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association, held on Thursday at Norwich, it was resolved to recommend the general meeting to discontinue the present district organisation in Suffolk, to change the title to the Norwich Diocesan Association, or the Norfolk Guild for the Diocese of Norwich, and to retain Suffolk members, whose subscriptions are paid to 1923, as life non-resident members.

A fuller report of this important meeting will appear in our next issue.

STEDMAN CINQUES.

ATTEMPT ON THE RECORD.

All being well, twelve members of the Ancient Society of College Youths will attempt a peal of Stedman Cinques (15,051 changes), at Southwark Cathedral on Whit Monday, commencing about 8.30.

ROPESIGHT.

The seventh edition of this valuable work by the late Jasper W. Snowdon, which forms an introduction to the art of ringing, has just been published. It treats on the rudiments of change ringing, and carries the beginner by simple steps and lucid explanations, through the Plain Bob method to Major, dealing also with conducting and the proof of compositions. 'Ropesight' is still the leading text book for beginners. It can be obtained, post free 1s. 10d., from Mrs. Laura Snowdon, Cartmel, Lancs.

THE EXTENT OF CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE MAJOR.

RECORD PEAL RUNG AT STONEY STANTON.

The attempt by members of the Midland Counties Association for the record length of Cambridge Surprise Major was successful at Stoney Stanton on Saturday, the peal comprising 12,896 changes, being rung in 7 hrs, 35 mins. Congratulations will go out to the band upon their success.

It is possible there may be rival claims to the authorship of the composition, which we give below. Before attempting the peal, the band made efforts to decide the question, and have appended to it the name of Mr. E. Hims, who first published his figures in 'Church Bells' on February 28th, 1902. Other claimants, we understand, are Mr. J. W. Washbrook and Mr. F. Dench. Mr. Washbrook's composition appeared in 'The Ringing World' on April 14th, 1911. All three compositions are variations of each other, and the peal as rung is yet another variation.

ANOTHER SPOKE IN THE WHEEL OF HISTORY.

By 'A FLAT.'

On Saturday last six good men and true, the pick of the regiment, attended by one lady and myself, boarded a bus which was a cross between a bun wagon and an undertaker's van, bound for that village of musicians and pigeon flyers, Stoney Stanton. Just to show the contrariness of the sex, the lady said, 'I hope they get it, just to stop some of them for a bit.' Anyway, the old bus functioned all right, and we arrived in time to hear our good friend the steeple-keeper getting the bells up. The church, which is a good example of what a church should be, is well built and well cared for. This also applies to the bells, which, despite having been in upwards of forty years, 'go' like fiddles. On being met by a friend from Nuneaton, one of the kind who made ringers and ringing what it is, also a friend from the Battle of Bosworthfield area, whose ambitions are: (1) To climb the North Pole; (2) to ring the whole caboodle of Major, 'Go' was called at 1.50, and, although the beat was somewhat 'syncopated' for the first course, the ringing quickly settled down to near half-way, when the thought seemed to circulate through the whole band, 'Tread lightly by your granmies,' as they neared the fatal spot. Although the mainspring was on the 'great-un,' his understudy was in charge, and here centred the success of the peal, and further illustrated his ability for the task. Just one word aside: if only you will let the young blood go ahead and the old dogs follow in the van the seemingly impossible can be accomplished. This is the spirit the Exercise must harbour. But to get on with the peal, things went well until about 7.30, when someone refusing to dodge, made our bristles stick up. But the lad at the wheel steered a straight course, and rounds came up at 9.23, when our friend from King Dicks', Waterloo, remarked, 'Just a course of Bristol, I don't get any chance of practice for Major!'

After congratulations had been received, we adjourned to the Blue Bell—still amongst the belles. Joined by the father of ringers, Mr. H. Briggs, we proceeded to 'convivate,' but as there was only time for two courses before 'Dora' stepped in, we had to cut it short.

Still, some of them managed to call the host 'in and out at one' with a bitter.

Although the bells at Stoney Stanton are not quite a feast of music, such as 'O.A.B.' requires, they are nevertheless quite agreeable for a long length, and I am sure were no more tired after their effort than the ringers concerned. The aspirations of some of the band are not concluded, as they hope to accomplish 14,000 of Cambridge Royal, 18,000 of Bristol, culminating their performances with 25,000 of Stedman Caters at the Collegiate Church of St. Martin's (perhaps!).

GIDLEIGH'S ANCIENT BELLS.

The four ancient bells, at the old Church of Holy Trinity, Gidleigh, Devon, on the borders of the Moor are claimed to rank amongst the oldest in England. Two of the bells are pre-Reformation, the 2nd is dated 1674, and the treble is a Robert Norton bell (14th century), the product of the oldest known founder.

Orders have been given to Messrs. W. Aggett and Sons, Bell Works, Chagford, Devon, to place these bells in order, and to add another bell. The old bells will be removed to the foundry, and tuned without recasting. A new section of massive oak is to be provided to take the new bell, and the present oak frame is to be strengthened. The bells will be hung on Messrs. Aggett's patent adjustable bearings, and the work is to be completed by August.

SUFFOLK GUILD.

LARGE GATHERING AT WOODBRIDGE.

This new Guild is evidently going strong, not to say 'booming.' A large and enthusiastic district meeting was held at Woodbridge on Saturday, at which there were present ringers from all over the county, including Debenham, Helmingham, Ipswich, Grundisburgh, Hasketon, Woodbridge, Ufford, Marlesford, Leiston, Saxmundham, Kelsale, Friston, Framlingham, Blaxhall, Badingham and Otley. Ringing was kept going under some restriction, owing to the position of the bells in this high tower, from three to six o'clock, after which the rest of the evening was spent at Ufford. Many methods were rung, ranging from Grand sire to London Surprise Major. The meeting was much helped by the favourable weather and a desire was expressed for many and frequent district meetings all over the county, Helmingham, on May 26th, being the next fixture.

SILVER WEDDING.

On Friday last, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Johnson, of Hinton-on-the-Green, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary. Mr. Johnson is well known among the ringing community, he having done much spadework for the benefit of beginners, and both he and Mrs. Johnson have a large circle of friends. On Friday every member of their family was at home with them, and naturally it was not surprising they were the recipients of some most useful presents.

To mark the event a handbell peal had been arranged, and a peal of Grand sire Cinques had been specially composed by J. D. Johnson for the occasion. This was pulled off in good time, and great credit is due to Mr. J. Hall for the way he rang throughout the peal, this being his first peal 'in hand.'

After the peal a happy time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, their health being heartily drunk, and the hope expressed that they would be spared to celebrate a more important event 25 years hence.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION.

The first quarterly meeting of the Cheltenham Branch was held at Charlton Kings on Saturday, April 14th, when about 40 members attended from Leckhampton, Tewkesbury, Gloucester, Tredington, Leigh, Ashchurch, Winchcombe, Cheltenham (St. Mark's), Prestbury, Swindon, and the local tower. The service held at the Parish Church was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Edgar Neale, M.A.).

Afterwards the party adjourned to the Parish Room for tea, and enjoyed the hospitality of the Vicar and churchwardens.

The business meeting followed, Mr. Ballinger being in the chair.—The Secretary read his report, and several new members were elected, including the Archdeacon of Cheltenham (Canon Gardner), the Vicar of Charlton Kings and Winchcombe, and the Rector of Alderton. Winchcombe was the place chosen for the next meeting, in June.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the service in church and his excellent address; the use of the bells, and also for providing the tea; as well as to Mrs. Fry, the churchwarden's wife, for kindly superintending the tea.

The ringers afterwards adjourned to the tower, when the fine ring of eight bells were kept going in the standard methods.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

A YEAR OF STEADY PROGRESS.

The 36th annual meeting was held at East Retford on Saturday week. Members and visitors from kindred associations were present from Anston, Barlborough, Blyth, Harthill, Harworth, Shireoaks, Treeton, Norton Cuckney, Tuxford, Sutton-on-Trent, East Markham, Worksop, East and West Retford, Ordsall, Wheatley, Lincoln, Sheffield, Wortley and Handsworth. The bells of three towers were at the disposal of visitors, and ringing was indulged in during the greater part of the afternoon and evening, with the clappers half-muffled, as a sorrowful tribute of deepest grief and respect to one of the oldest members, Mr. Charles Crawford, of Laneham, late of East Markham, who died on the 17th April.

Service was held at East Retford Church, where the Rev. G. E. Summers gave an excellent address to upwards of 70 ringers and friends.

Tea followed, provided by Host and Hostess Cooke, at the Cafe in Carolgate.

Before the commencement of business the Secretary briefly alluded to the loss the society had sustained by the death of Messrs. F. Hind, of Worksop, and Charles Crawford. In Mr. Crawford, he said, they had one of the best and most good-natured fellows the society ever had for a member. A band of ringers visiting East Markham always found a hearty welcome and kind hospitality awaiting them. He came into this district in the early eighties, when there was a dearth of ringers, and rendered good service to the association until his passing away.

The members stood in silence for a few moments as a mark of sympathy and respect.

The business meeting was presided over by Mr. F. Hargreaves, of Shireoaks.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. H. Haigh) presented the annual report and balance sheet, which were unanimously adopted.

The report stated that the year had been one of steady progress, although not a single 5,000 had been rung. A great variety of new six-bell methods had been rung by the Anston company, six by the young and progressive Barlborough company, a date touch in three methods by Ordsall, and five quarter-peals in three methods by the Worksop company, four ladies taking part in these performances—the Misses Barker (Ordsall), Taylor, Weaver and Winrow (Worksop); their indomitable spirit, and unbounded confidence reflecting the highest credit on these ladies, who had passed through the initiatory stages of ringing during the past twelve months. A hearty welcome was given to the following towers and members who had become affiliated during the year—Edwinstowe, Harworth and Sutton-on-Trent, the latter village having replaced an old peal of five bells by a new peal of six bells tuned on a new principle, and reputed to be the best in the association. With regard to the condition of ringing throughout the country, enthusiasm is being revived, and a rapid recovery is being made to pre-war days. The committee urge members to go in for quality rather than quantity, and be careful to avoid giving offence or causing annoyance to the general public by their ringing. The association stands well in efficiency, notwithstanding they have had a heavy year of expenditure. The membership roll up to the end of the year contained the names of 20 vice-presidents, 197 performing, probationary, unattached and non-resident members; whilst the balance at the bank and in treasurer's hands displayed a sum of £22 10s. 7d.

All the officers were re-elected, and the following new members were elected: Rev. H. R. Peel (Norton Cuckney), vice-president; Rev. R. F. Gould (North Collingham). Efficient members from North Collingham: Mrs. T. East, Miss V. Birkett, Miss E. Webster, and Messrs. J. H. Clayton, A. W. Broadbury, J. Handiff, W. Mitchelson, A. Priestley and R. Thompson. From Wheatley: J. Wright and W. Bauskin. West Retford: J. Skelton. Blyth: Charles Willington and J. E. Hind. Norton Cuckney: W. Newton, H. Upex. Shireoaks: W. Parkin. Harworth: E. K. Lidster and Arthur Hicks, making a total of 21.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the chairman for presiding over the meeting; to the Rev. G. E. Summer, Rector of West Retford, for his admirable address; and to the three incumbents of the town for the use of the bells.—Mr. F. Hargreaves suitably replied.

Votes of thanks were also accorded to the hon. secretary and committee for their services rendered during the past year.

The following methods were rung at the three churches during the afternoon and evening: Kent Treble Bob, London Scholars and Violet Treble Bob at West Retford; Kent Treble Bob and Sandall at Ordsall, where two 720's were recorded; at East Retford: Grand sire Triples and Caters Stedman Triples and Caters, Bob Major and Bob Royal, Little Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich Major and Superlative Surprise Major, a lady taking part in the Bob Royal and Grand sire Caters. All the bells were lowered in peal at 9 p.m., and another satisfactory and pleasant day ended.

The next meeting will be held at Barlborough on Saturday, June 9th, and will be advertised in 'The Ringing World.'

DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN NORTH NOTTS RINGER.
AN APPRECIATION.

The passing of Charles Crawford, of Lancham, and late of East Markham, Notts, removes from the ringing district an interesting personality. His genial countenance was an index to his heart. His face was sunlit, and he was a pleasing conversationalist. He came into North Notts in the early 'eighties,' at a time when there was a dearth of change ringers, and settled down at East Markham as a farmer and miller. He was not there many years before he commenced to work with assiduous perseverance to have the old four bells rehung and two new trebles added to make a ring of six, and succeeded in teaching his own band of ringers, afterwards conducting for them a peal of 5,000 changes. It is difficult to say how many peals he had rung, but he rang his two first at Doncaster, under the conductorship of the late Thomas Hattersley, of Sheffield.

Although he was 67 years of age, physically he seemed to be endowed with perpetual youth. He rang his last 5,000 with the writer on the South African Peace Day, May 31st, 1902, a peal of Kent Major at Gainsborough. He had, however, rung several since, but no record has been kept.

He would cycle 20 miles for a 'bit of good ringing,' and always tell you he was quite a young man. The last time I rang with him, after his long cycle ride, was at North Collingham and Sutton-on-Trent, when he looked the picture of robust health. We planned many things for 1923, but 'Man proposes, God disposes.' The world seems to be divided into three main classes; those who will not work under any circumstances; those who work only when driven; and those who work willingly and do too much. Charles Crawford belonged to the last class.

You might at times disagree with his opinions, but he never left you in doubt as to his mental whereabouts.

To all bands of ringers who visited East Markham his hearty welcome and hospitality awaited them. His left hand never knew what his right hand gave away, and he was instrumental in helping many struggling villagers in their distress.

He broke a blood-vessel on April 13th, lingered until the 17th, talking most of the time of his dearest, cherished ringing friends, past and present celebrities, and then passed peacefully beyond the veil.

He was laid to rest on Friday, April 20th, in that peaceful, picturesque little graveyard of East Markham, beneath the sound of the bells he loved so well, and there we leave him 'Until the day breaks and the shadows flee away.'

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION.
SOAP AND WATER IN THE BELLRY.

In his annual report, presented to the members on Easter Monday, the Hon. Secretary of the Herts County Association (Mr. G. W. Carmel) referred to the high state of efficiency revealed by a perusal of the peal list, which comprised one handbell peal (the first of Grandsire Cinques by the association), and 33 tower bell peals from Minor to Cambridge Maximus, the association being the first to have rung peals of Cambridge Surprise on all numbers from six to twelve bells. The 'Service Ringing Page' of the 'Ringing World' had also offered ample evidence of real progress amongst various bands. Most useful work had been done in all the districts, but in the Watford district the attendance at meetings had been small. The general secretary appealed to the members in that area to rally round their district secretary even if it entailed the giving up of football matches. The thanks of the association were due to the district secretaries for their splendid work.

After referring to the loss, by death, of Mr. John Dennis, of Knebworth, Mr. P. Waterton, of Tring, and Mr. G. W. Steabben, formerly of St. Albans, who died somewhat tragically as the result of an accidental shooting affray in Mexico, the hon. secretary went on to say that he was glad to notice that 'The Ringing World' had recently commented upon the care of ringing chambers. Although there are still to be found some in that county which were made the receptacle of the church's rubbish and unwanted furniture, yet on the whole their bellries were well kept. Every belfry should have its weekly sweep, and periodical application of soap and water. In many cases this could best be arranged by the ringers themselves or by arrangement with the respective Parochial Church Councils. The report concluded with thanks to the auditor (Mr. J. Prewett); the hon. members, without whose welcome financial assistance the association's sphere of usefulness would be somewhat restricted; and the incumbents through whose generous permission members had been able to indulge in peal ringing. There are still some towers in Hertfordshire where change ringing is not practised and it would be a step forward if some of these could be 'roped in' before the association enters its fortieth year.

PAIGNTON BELLS TO BE RESTORED.

Restoration of the peal of eight bells at St. John's Church, Paignton, will commence during the next few weeks, the work being in the capable hands of Messrs. Aggett and Sons, Bell Works, Chagford, who have also received orders for the recasting, adding to and restoring the bells of Withiel Church, Bodmin, Cornwall. Messrs. Aggett hope to commence next month the work in connection with the bells at Stoke Damarel Church, Devonport.

THE PROPOSED SUFFOLK SETTLEMENT.

The difficulties which have arisen in ringing affairs in Suffolk, on account of the establishment of the new diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich, carved out of the old dioceses of Norwich and Ely, seem to be in a fair way of settlement. The recommendations which the committee of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association have drawn up, and which we have no doubt will be accepted by the members, provide in effect for the restriction of that organisation to the present diocese of Norwich, thus leaving the county of Suffolk without a rival association to the newly-formed Suffolk Guild. The Norwich Diocesan Association will retain its touch with its Suffolk members by constituting them non-resident life members upon payment of a sum of two shillings on the top of this year's subscription.

We think the recommendations which are now made will be generally looked upon as satisfactory, but the position has to a large extent been forced upon the committee. Faced with the fact that its branch in Suffolk refused to function as an integral part of the Association, there was little to be done, except to drop the attempt to embrace the new diocese, a large part of which had, neither geographically nor by tradition, any connection with the former diocese of Norwich. The desire among many Suffolk ringers for an Association of their own, coupled with the official backing which the new organisation for St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich has got, made any such attempt to hold East Suffolk and to 'penetrate' West Suffolk almost foredoomed to failure, and the committee have been wise in realising this position.

The steps by which it is proposed to retain the Suffolk members as 'non-resident life members' may probably meet with some criticism, as being not altogether generous. Members of 35 years' standing are to become honorary life members, but any lesser period of membership will involve the ringer in a further payment of two shillings on the top of his current subscription. This may be a comparatively small matter, but the treatment of performing members ought scarcely to be on any worse footing than that of honorary members, who, if of eight years' standing, may, on leaving the district, be excused, under Rule VII., from their annual subscription and become life members. This, however, will probably be dealt with when the recommendations come up for confirmation.

We are glad to see the possibility of this vexed question of Suffolk apparently so near settlement, and if the members in that area are retained under satisfactory financial arrangements there is no reason why the best of good feeling should not continue between the two counties. Many Suffolk ringers of to-day have the most loyal affection for the old Association, and while circumstances have made the break almost inevitable, we have no doubt they will see to it that their membership remains, although under changed conditions. From a pealing-point of view the loss of two such centres as Ipswich and Leiston is a serious matter for Norwich, but doubtless efforts will not be lacking to replace these with equally active towers on the other side of the border.

NORWICH, ST. EDMUNDSBURY & IPSWICH ASSOCIATION. PROPOSED DISCONTINUANCE OF SUFFOLK ORGANISATION.

A special general committee meeting of the Norwich and St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association was held in the belfry of St. Peter Mancroft Church, Norwich, on Thursday, April 26th. In the absence of the president (the Dean of Norwich), the Rev. W. C. Pearson (Vicar of Henley, Suffolk) was voted to the chair. Supporting him were Messrs. G. P. Burton, J. E. Burton, W. L. Duffield, Denison Hayward, F. Knights, C. S. Tutill, and A. L. Coleman (general secretary).

Letters of apology for non-attendance were received from the Rev. A. G. Blyth, Messrs. C. E. Borrett, F. R. Borrett, D. O. Holmes, G. T. Peggall, R. J. Goate and E. E. Diaper.

Mr. A. L. Coleman, in reviewing the present position of affairs in connection with the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Branch, said that a new movement had been developing in Suffolk some weeks prior to its climax at Ipswich on Easter Monday, and there had resulted from the meetings at Ipswich on that day:—

- (a) The formation of a new association (the Suffolk Guild).
- (b) The dissolution of another association (the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association).
- (c) The disbandment of a third body (the St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Branch of the N. and St. E. and I. Diocesan Association).

All these changes were of vital interest to Suffolk ringers, while the last named concerned intimately the ringers of the N. St. E. and I. Association also. The members then present at Ipswich had declined to elect officers, and had passed, instead, a resolution, 'that this branch cease to exist.' Such a resolution, however, was ultra vires, as the branch having been constituted under the auspices of the Norwich, St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Association, could only be dissolved constitutionally by and with the consent of the whole association. So comparatively few ringers had been present at that meeting that the resolution was open to question as being representative of the opinion of the members in Suffolk. He had, therefore, taken steps to obtain at first hand a real expression of opinion of that branch, and he had now available something quite definite to lay before the committee. He had issued a circular and questionnaire to all the district secretaries and leaders of companies in the Suffolk Branch. The questionnaire was as follows:—

- 1.—How many ringers in your district or company have definitely decided, to your knowledge, to continue membership of old Association; and their names?
- 2.—How many ringers altogether do you anticipate will continue?
- 3.—Do you think it desirable under present circumstances to continue our N. and St. Ed. and Ipswich districts as organised? Or, if not, in any other form?
- 4.—Do you desire a change in title? If so, what do you suggest?
- 5.—Other remarks.

COMMITTEE'S RECOMMENDATIONS.

The replies received to that date represented some 222 members, of whom a large majority decided to continue their existing membership, viz.: 76 as honorary life members (non-resident), 120 as annual subscribers (to be presumed). Seven replies were adverse to continuation of district organisation; five replies were in favour of continuation of district organisation. As regards the title two only replied in favour of the retention of the present title; three were in favour of modification; while eight expressed a preference for reverting to the original style, 'The Norwich Diocesan Association,' to cover the area of the Norwich Diocese only. The majority, however, had expressed no opinion on this important point. Mr. Coleman added that there were several replies still outstanding, and he hoped the members would kindly send them in before the general meeting of the Association, to be held at Pulham Market on Saturday, June 2nd.

After a long discussion the committee decided to recommend at the general meeting of members, that it is not desirable under the present circumstances to continue the district organisations in Suffolk, and two proposals were put forward for the future title of the Association, viz.: (a) The Norwich Diocesan Association; and (b) The Norfolk Guild (for the Diocese of Norwich).

To meet the wishes of the members desiring to retain their membership, it was resolved to recommend that all members of 35 years' standing should be excused any further subscription; and, ipso facto, become honorary life members (non-resident); also that all Suffolk members who have paid their subscriptions for 1923 should, with a further payment of 2s., become, ipso facto, honorary life members (non-resident) in lieu of the usual fee 5s., and that members who have not paid their subscriptions for the current year will, on payment of two years' subscriptions (4s.), become, ipso facto, honorary life members (non-resident). For new members the fee will be 5s. as per Association Rule VII.

The Secretary announced that the branch meeting to be held at Pulham Market on Whit Monday, May 21st, had been postponed to Saturday, June 2nd, at Pulham Market, and would be constituted a general meeting of the association. Much of the business to be transacted at that meeting concerned the members of the Suffolk branch, and he hoped that they would be well represented on that occasion.

It should be noted that any alterations in the constitution of the association will, under Association Rule XI., have to come up for confirmation at the annual general meeting of the association in September next, and in the meanwhile the association stands constituted as hitherto.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Rev. W. C. Pearson for kindly presiding over the meeting.

CENTRAL NORTHTANTS ASSOCIATION. GENERAL SECRETARY'S PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

There is a striking feature in the report of the general secretary (Mr. D. J. Nichols) of the Central Northants Association, which has just been issued. It is very gratifying to record, he says, the steady growth of the Guilsborough district, which has increased in membership and added one new tower to its number during the year. I regret to say the Northampton district has lost 46 members who have been crossed off the books, which include the ringers of St. Sepulchre, Northampton, who have been members of the association for many years. I hope they will reconsider their decision, and before the year is out join the association again.

The number of towers now in union with the association is 65, a decrease of two from last year. There are now 450 members, a decrease of 46 from last year, being 43 honorary and 407 ringing members. I would like to call the attention of members to the fact that there are 26 towers out of the 65 in union with the association which have not a complete band of ringers to enable them to ring all their bells for the Sunday services.

A great many bands, continues the report, were depleted during the war, which is no doubt still being felt. But I venture to suggest that there are other reasons which have also some bearing on the question which includes:—

1. Differences between ringers and clergy.
2. Differences amongst ringers themselves.
3. Not enough probationers being brought along to fill up the gaps as they occur from various causes.
4. Those in control of the belfry not having sufficient patience in teaching beginners.
5. Not sufficient opportunity being given to promising young ringers to act as conductors.
6. Others staying away because they do not get ringing suitable to their taste when there are learners in the tower.

I would sincerely ask the members to give the question their consideration, and in doing so I would like to make the following suggestions:—

1. That the committee in each district bring before their members that it is desirable that efforts be made to get a complete band of ringers in each tower.
2. District committees should consist of members who are prepared to take an active part in visiting and assisting the local bands in the district.
3. That it is desirable that the association should draw up a list of ringers who would be competent to give instruction in their district.
4. That the association allow out-of-pocket expenses to instructors for a stated number of visits.

The report shows that 44 peals were rung during the year 1922, in which 18 ringers rang their first peal, and 17 were awarded the association's certificate for having rung their first peal on a working bell. The association had a satisfactory year, financially, the receipts on general account being £57 13s. 9d., and the expenditure £46 11s. 5½d., leaving a profit on the year's working of £11 2s. 3½d. Grants were made to Peterborough Cathedral and Grafton Underwood, of £5 5s. and £3 3s. respectively, from the Belfry Repairs Fund for bell restoration. This fund now stands at £28 15s. 9d. Thanks are extended to Mr. R. F. Turner on retiring from the position of district secretary after several years' hard work.

THE RECORD PEAL OF CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE To the Editor.

Sir,—I was always under the impression that I was the first to obtain the 12,896 Cambridge Surprise Major in the early part of 1907. In August of that year I rang a 5,024 in the method which was an offspring, also the same thing as publishing the full extent. The fact that the 5,024 turned out false makes no difference whatever. The 5,024 was the coveted peal or missing link of the day, and a lot of people were surprised of the discovery.—Yours, etc., 39, Pleasant Valley, Safron Walden.

F. DENCH.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The mention made in this column last week of a peal report being written out before the peal was rung, recalls the fact that at Guildford some years ago a board was actually written before the peal (Stedman) was attempted, and it was opened three days later! 'That,' remarks our correspondent, 'was a "bit hot."' And we agree. Can anyone go one better?

On May 12th, 1788, at Wakefield, 'a new composition peal of Tripple Bob Tripples, called Wakefield Delight, consisting of 5,040 in 8 courses compleat,' was rung. 'The same set of ringers without changing a man or setting a bell began another peal of Oxford Single Tripples in twelve courses, consisting of 5,040 called Wakefield Surprise. Both these peals consisted of 10,080 changes were performed, including Raising and Settling the bells in seven hours and one minute, and were rung with a exactness and nice distinction, an instance never before done in ye Kingdome.'

The ancient report goes on to say, 'What adds to the singularity of this performance is—There were two fathers, five sons, five brothers, four cousins, one uncle, one nephew, yet only eight persons and only two names.'

May 15th is the anniversary of two long peals. One was 12,096 Grandsire Caters at All Saints', Fulham, rung in 7 hours 50 mins. on Whit Monday, 1837.

The other was the 8,800 Superlative Surprise Major at Loughborough in 1894, composed and conducted by Nathan Pitstow. The present president of the Central Council took part in that performance.

An interesting record has been made by Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Hairs, who have now rung together, handbell peals of Grandsire Triples, Caters and Cinques, Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques, Bob Major, Royal and Maximus, and Kent Treble Bob Major, Royal and Maximus, as well as Double Norwich Major.

The peal at St. Margaret's, Westminster, the report of which was published last week, was Mr. H. Ellis' 200th peal. The asterisk notifying this got into the wrong place. Mr. F. G. Newman, against whose name the 'star' appeared, rang his 200th peal over 30 years ago—in January, 1893, to be exact.

The answer of the ringers of the long peal of Cambridge Major to 'A Flat,' re their alleged aspirations for the future, is simply this—'You're another!'

There will be no ringing on the bells of St. Nicholas' Church, Chislehurst, until further notice. A crack has developed in the tower, and the bells require rehanging.

The peal of Stedman Triples rung at Canterbury Cathedral for the wedding of the Duke of York calls for a line of explanation. A start was made for a peal of Caters, but one of the hand being taken ill, it had to be abandoned, and Triples was substituted.

According to the 'Lincolnshire Standard' they do not do things by halves at Boston. It is reported that for the Royal Wedding, the Parish Church ringers rang '1,200 peals of grandsire doubles and 350 peals of grandsire trebles'! In reality it was something far less imposing.

STEDMAN CINQUES RECORD.

All being well, twelve members of the Ancient Society of College Youths will attempt a peal of Stedman Cinques (15,051 changes), at Southwark Cathedral on Whit Monday, commencing about 8.30.

DEDICATION OF BELLS, ST. THOMAS' CHURCH, EXETER.

WHIT SUNDAY.—The new ring of eight, by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, will be dedicated on Whit Sunday, May 20th, at a service at 3 p.m. by the Lord Bishop of Exeter. There will be a special ringers' service at 6.30 p.m. on the evening of the same day, at the conclusion of which a commemoration tablet, the gift of the ringers, will be unveiled. In the afternoon and evening the bells will be rung by the St. Sidwell's and the Cathedral bands.

WHIT MONDAY.—On Whit Monday the tower will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. (by kind permission of the Vicar) to all visitors. Will secretaries of bands desirous of ringing please communicate with me, stating the time preferred? All visiting ringers who notify me not later than Wednesday, May 16th, are invited to tea at the Buller Hall, Cowick Street, at 6 p.m.—W. J. Southwood, 14, St. James' Road, Exeter.

MISCELLANEOUS PERFORMANCE.

BIRMINGHAM.—At St. Chad's R.C. Cathedral, on Wednesday, April 25th, 1,708 Grandsire Triples: A. E. Norman 1, E. Mullens 2, A. Walker 3, T. Miller 4, J. F. Smallwood 5, A. T. Scrivens (conductor) 6, T. Kelly 7, T. Miller, junr., 8. This was an attempt for a peal, and was brought round at above number owing to a faulty rope. Rung with bells half-muffled in memory of Thomas Fearick, a ringer at this Cathedral.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The Third Session of the Eleventh Council (30th annual meeting) will be held in the Chapter House, The Cathedral, Salisbury, on Whitsun Tuesday, 22nd May, 1923, at 11 a.m. precisely.

The morning sitting will be adjourned from 1 p.m. till 2.30, from which hour the Council will sit, if necessary, until 5.30 p.m.

The Standing Committee will meet previously at 9.45 a.m. in the same room.

AGENDA, 1923.

1. Minutes of the last Meeting.
2. Apologies for Absence.
3. Statement of Accounts and of Sale of Publications.
4. Election of Honorary Members.
5. Presentation of new Members to the President.
6. To receive and discuss the Reports of the following Committees, viz. :-
 - (a) Peal Collection.
 - (b) Literature and Press.
 - (c) Methods.
 - (d) Peals' Analysis.
 - (e) Towers and Belfries.
 - (f) Records.
 - (g) Museum Exhibit.
7. To agree a card of instructions, on the Care and Use of Bells, suitable for hanging in a Tower.
8. That this Council, meeting in the Diocese of Salisbury, in which Sir Christopher Wren was born and baptised, expresses the fervent hope that no sanction will be given to any further demolition of the churches, with which be adorned the City of London, and which bear such a valuable witness to the Christian Religion in the world's busiest centre of secular activities.
9. This Council recommends that first or record peals should not be rung for a Society outside the limits of that Society's area.
10. That the Peals Analysis Committee be asked if they can add a column showing the ratio between the number of Members, and the points gained by each Society.
11. That in compositions of 5,000 changes or upwards on seven or any higher number of bells in which the plan of splicing various methods is adopted, it is essential that there should be no repetition of any row throughout—that is to say, that the whole composition shall be 'true' in the universally accepted sense of that word.
12. To fix the place of next year's meeting.
13. Other business, if any.

FOUR SHIRES GUILD.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT SHIPSTON-ON-STOUR.

The Four Shires Guild held their half-yearly meeting and ringing competition on Saturday, April 28th, at St. Edmund's Church, Shipston-on-Stour, in glorious weather. Nearly one hundred members attended to take part in the various competitions which were held. The judging was ably done by Messrs. J. D. Johnson (Hinton) and J. Hemming (Hampton), who awarded the points as follows: Imington: Rising and Falling, 91; Call Changes, 90; Method, 96; total, 276. Willersey: Rising and Falling, 63; Call Changes, 93; Method, 91; total, 247. Blockley: Rising and Falling, 71; Call Changes, 66; total, 137. Moreton-in-Marsh: Rising and Falling, 63; Call Changes, 70; total, 133. Ebrington: Rising and Falling, 26; Call Changes, 73; total, 99. Wootton Wawen: Rising and Falling, 18; Call Changes, 63; Method, 10; total, 91.

The handsome challenge shield of the Guild goes to the band which obtains the greatest number of points during the year, and a certificate of merit is awarded to the band which is second.

A special service was held in the church at 4.30 p.m., the preacher being the Rev. W. H. Manton, Vicar of Long Compton. Afterwards tea was provided in the hostel, where justice was done to an excellent repast.

At the business meeting which followed, the secretary, Mr. A. R. White, intimated his desire to resign, and Mr. Horace Terry was elected in his stead. It was decided to hold the autumn meeting at Wootton Wawen on Saturday, October 27th.

REPORT OF THE ANALYSIS COMMITTEE.

In presenting the report for another year, the committee consider it a matter for congratulation that it shows the Exercise to be in such a progressive condition. While the recovery from the effects of the war is gradual, such a condition is well in view. Each year the number of peals rung steadily increases, and as there is every indication of this growth being maintained, it should not be long before the big totals of immediate pre-war years are surpassed.

The analysis for 1922 shows that 253 more peals have been rung than in the previous year. The increase in tower bell peals exceeds this number, being 285, while peals on handbells have decreased by 12. The totals for the year are as follows:—

	Tower Bells.	Handbells.
Sextuples	—	1
Maximus	11	1
Cinques	33	13
Royal	54	16
Caters	106	29
Major	631	52
Triples	465	40
Minor	322	8
Doubles	94	9

A grand total of 1,885 peals, this being only 474 short of the record number.

The Norwich and Ipswich Diocesan Association retain their position at the head of the list for both peals and points, their total being 204 peals, including 23 on handbells, and 3,476 points. This is an increase over last year of 15 peals and 140 points. The number of other Societies which rang over 100 peals has increased by one, being three as against two, as follows:—

Midland Counties Association, 149 tower bell peals and 2,754 points; Kent County Association, 123 peals (including 3 on handbells) and 1,799 points; and the Lancashire Association, 102 tower bell peals and 1,646 points. It may be noted that while the last-named association has rung exactly the same number of peals as last year, the points value has increased by 197. The Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association again have the highest average points per peal, 30.77 for 22 peals (including 1 on handbells) and 677 points. They are run very closely by the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths with 23.18 for 11 tower bell peals and 310 points, St. Martin's Guild being third with 27.69 points for 36 peals (including 15 on handbells), and 997 points.

The total number of Surprise peals, excluding Minor, is 232, an increase of 44 over 1921, clearly showing the advance in quality as well as in quantity. Cambridge continues to advance in favour, showing an increase of 2 peals of Maximus, 2 of Royal, and 17 of Major; it is also much preferred by Minor ringers. London Major has advanced considerably, 37 against 24 peals; while Superlative Major shows a small increase of 5 peals; Bristol has only held its own with 15 peals. Other Surprise methods rung are: 2 peals each of Clifton and Middlesex Royal, 2 of Premier Major, and 1 each of Norfolk, Suffolk, Dublin and Lancashire Major. Grandsire and Stedman run a close race as the favourite method, there being 347 peals of the former and 332 of the latter, excluding Doubles.

Of Major methods, while Kent and Oxford Treble Bob show 172 peals, a decrease of 17, Double Norwich continues to ascend, showing 148 peals against 112 for 1921. Triples have increased by exactly 100 peals to a total of 505. Minor and Doubles have also gained ground, showing 433 peals against 368 last year.

The records show that 690 have joined the ranks of peal ringers, and in addition 7 have rung their first peal on tower bells, 12 their first away from the tenor, 73 the first inside, and 52 their first on handbells; 18 first peals have been rung by local bands, first on the bells 51, after rehanging, addition, etc., 28, and in the method on the bells 199; 85 made their debut as conductors. First pealers of Doubles numbered 18, Minor 88, Triples 34, Major 104, Caters 57, Royal 51, Cinques 31, Maximus 12. First peals in the method were rung in Doubles by 17, Minor 170, Triples 209, Major 627, Caters 120, Royal 94, Cinques 33 and Maximus 13. The number of muffled peals was 84, and there were 19 farewell peals; 74 peals were rung in honour of the Royal Wedding, 58 being on the day of the ceremony.

Performances worthy of special mention are: The first peal on 14 handbells, the method being Stedman Sextuples by the St. Martin's Guild; the first peal of Real Double Superlative by the Durham and Newcastle Association, and the record length, 21,363 changes of Stedman Caters by the Oxford Diocesan Guild.

A pleasing feature of the year's work is the number of new methods: Clifton and Middlesex Surprise Royal; Dublin Premier and Lancashire Surprise Major, Cambridge Court Bob Major on handbells, and in addition the Granta Variation of Treble Bob Royal for the first time on tower bells.

A rather unusual feature is the peals on 7 bells, two omitting the 2nd, and one without the tenor. The novelty of the year was a peal on handbells rung in bed.

The recording of the peals shows that much more care is taken by those sending them in for publication. The committee, however, are still troubled by slight errors. For instance, the name of the same conductor sometimes appears with different initials or with them reversed, and it is difficult to decide without inquiry whether it is the same person or not. If such errors are not corrected by those responsible, the committee will be compelled in future to record them as published.

The conductors of five peals and upwards are shown on the following list. The figures in brackets show the number of handbell peals conducted: 64 peals, A. H. Pulling (43); 36 peals, G. H. Cross (2); 30 peals, W. Pye (2); 28 peals, C. F. Bailey (9); 26 peals, E. Jenkins; 25 peals, K. Hart; 22 peals, W. H. J. Hooton (18); 21 peals, E. Morris; 20 peals, G. Williams; 18 peals, F. Bennett, H. J. Poole; 17 peals, H. Langdon, J. Thomas (4); 16 peals, J. T. Dyke, A. Wright; 15 peals, T. Groombridge, senr. (1), R. Richardson (4); 14 peals, C. Camm, R. Matthews, R. Sperring, G. E. Symonds, A. Tomlinson; 13 peals, F. Cotton, F. H. Dexter, G. R. Newton, W. Poston, T. Price, T. H. Tafender, A. Walker (6); 12 peals, J. H. Chesman, T. Groombridge, junr. (2), A. E. Lock, F. W. Naunton (2), O. Sippetts; 11 peals, N. R. Bailey (3), H. Knight, S. H. Symonds (5); 10 peals, W. Clarke, W. Nye, W. Page; 9 peals, W. H. Barber (1), F. R. Borrett, O. T. Coles, A. E. Edwards, C. Edwards, W. Keeble (1), J. D. Matthews, E. Whiting; 8 peals, E. M. Atkins (3), F. Chamberlain, A. Harman, B. A. Knights, C. R. Lilley (1), W. Welling; 7 peals, J. Austin, H. M. Day, J. Flint, R. G. Rice, C. H. Song, J. Sparrow (7), G. F. Swann (2), A. H. Ward; 6 peals, E. Barnett, senr., G. Cattermole, F. W. Dixon, M. F. R. Hibbert, E. G. Hibbens, J. Houldsworth, Rev. H. L. James (1), J. D. Johnson (5), W. Large, F. J. Lewis, R. C. Loveday, H. Ludkin, J. Oldham, G. R. Pye, W. C. Rumsey, W. Saunders (3), T. Tebbutt, B. Thorpe, J. A. Trollope (5), C. Wallater, C. F. Winney (3); 5 peals, W. Ayre & Billenness, W. B. Cartwright, G. T. Croft, E. C. Gobey, J. A. Gofton, J. F. Groves (2), S. T. Holt, P. J. Johnson (1), W. T. Last, J. Lord, G. Martin (2), W. Miller, A. E. Norman (3), F. W. Perrins (4), F. Pervin, C. Platt, J. Potter, Rev. A. Simpson, D. G. Wightman, B. W. Witchell.

There were also 29 conductors of four peals (2), 52 of three peals (3), 109 of two peals (7), and 297 of one peal (8). In addition all the band took part in conducting two peals of Minor, and one handbell peal of Grandsire Doubles was non-conducted. Three lady conductors are included in these figures, Miss E. K. Parker having conducted two peals, and Miss A. Brown and Miss C. Hepburn one each. Six reverend gentlemen have conducted peals during the year.

In lighter vein it may be remarked that while the greatest number of peals have been conducted by the P's, the Q's are not represented.

Five peals of over 7,000 changes have been rung, viz., 13,440 of Bob Major and 10,400 of Superlative Surprise Major (the record length), with bobs behind and in front, by the Midland Counties Association; 8,096 and 10,176 Kent Treble Bob Major by the Lancashire Association; and the record length in any method, being 21,363 of Stedman Caters, by the Oxford Diocesan Guild.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL MEETING.

When, last year, the Central Council was induced to fix its next meeting place at Salisbury, the members were promised that they would receive a hearty welcome in the ancient Southern City; and, judging from the programme which has been arranged by the Special Committee of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, the social side of the gathering bids fair to exceed in its attractiveness any preceding meeting of the Council—and many most enjoyable functions, notably at Newcastle, can be recalled. For the first time there will be a recognised headquarters from Saturday until after the meeting. This, in itself, will be a great advantage in many ways, for hitherto the members have had to make their own meeting places if staying over the week-end. Then, in addition to the ringing which will be provided, there will be organised excursions, and the official ceremonies on Tuesday will include a welcome by the Bishop of Salisbury in the morning and a reception at headquarters by the Earl of Shaftesbury in the evening. These features will add to the importance as well as the pleasure of the gathering.

As to the business meeting itself, the agenda, which is not overburdened, provides a variety of subjects on which members will find opportunity to talk, but there is little that is likely to prove really contentious. Committee reports always form an important part of the morning session, and the report of the Museum Exhibit Committee will be awaited with interest, inasmuch as the Exercise is likely to learn upon what lines the exhibit at the South Kensington Museum is to be organised. Among the resolutions of which notice has been given the suggested recommendation that first or record peals should not be rung for a society outside the limits of that society's area, is probably the only one that may be seriously challenged.

There have been a few cases in the past where the first peal in a method for a society has been rung outside that society's area, such, for instance, as the first peals of Norfolk and Brighton Surprise for the Norwich Association, which were rung in London. Then, too, the record peal of Bristol, rung at Hornchurch in Essex, was a Middlesex Association peal. It may be an ideal to ensure that first peals and records should be rung within the area of the society to which they are credited, but it is another thing to get the principle accepted by ringers. There is, moreover, one serious obstacle to its general application. How can the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, for instance, ring its first peal of Stedman Cinques, or Treble Bob, or Cambridge Maximus within its own borders, when it has not got a twelve-bell tower? The Salisbury

Guild may not have aspired to these heights of method ringing yet, but we instance the Salisbury Guild because the subject is to be discussed at Salisbury. The argument applies with equal force to other societies, and we see no reason why a society should be debarred from the first peal in a method obtained outside its borders if it has not got the facilities for ringing it within its area. Even if the word 'first' is to be taken as meaning the first ever rung in a method anywhere, we think the same argument applies, and the proposer may find some difficulty in disposing of this serious obstacle to his suggestion.

BATH AND WELLS ASSOCIATION.
DUNSTER BRANCH ANNUAL MEETING.

West Somerset ringers were well represented at the annual meeting of the Dunster Deanery branch of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association held at Dunster on Saturday, April 28th. A little practice on the bells preceded a service held at the Parish Church, which was conducted by the Rev. W. T. Reeder (Vicar of Dunster, and Rural Dean), assisted by the Rev. G. L. Fitzmaurice (President of the Branch). The special form of service for ringers was used, Miss Sorby presiding at the organ. Mr. Reeder gave a particularly suitable address, in which he impressed upon his hearers that ringers were really God's ministers, and as such they should strive to make their ringing a religious act.

After the service the members assembled at the Memorial Hall for tea, to which they were entertained by the Vicar. At the annual meeting which followed, the Rev. G. L. Fitzmaurice presided. Messages of regret at inability to attend were received from the Rev. W. P. Holmes (Porlock) and the Rev. T. S. Dawson (Carhampton). The towers represented at the meeting were Cutcombe, Minehead, Williton, Selworthy, Dunster, Chipstable, Timberscombe and Stogumber.

The hon. secretary (Mr. G. Stacey) presented the report for the past year. This stated that the branch held meetings at Cutcombe, Timberscombe, Porlock and Old Clevea. There had been 21 new members and one honorary member elected, the present strength of the paying members being about 108, as compared with a pre-war strength of 120. They had to record the loss, through death, of Mr. R. Hole, Dunster; Mr. C. Gale, Exton; the Rev. H. McCririck, Wiveliscombe; the Rev. H. A. Folkard, Sampford Brett; and the Rev. F. K. Warren, Exton; and while two members, the Rev. C. H. Bradburn, Selworthy, and the Rev. T. Hawkes, St. Decuman's, had left the district.

Having decided on Monksilver as the venue for the next quarterly meeting, the meeting proceeded to the annual elections.—The Chairman explained that he would be shortly leaving Cutcombe for Brompton Ralph, so that he would not be so much in touch with the branch, and he suggested that they should elect a local president.—The Rev. T. S. Dawson (Carhampton) was unanimously elected president for the ensuing year, and a vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Fitzmaurice for the interest he had taken in the branch, to which he suitably responded.

Mr. G. Stacey's re-election as hon. secretary was attended by a warm appreciation of his services from the chair. Other re-elections were Mr. H. Phillips (Timberscombe) as representative on the general committee of the association, and Mr. W. Hoyle (Minehead) as Ringing Master. Three new members were elected, viz., Messrs. R. Webber (Timberscombe), W. Thrush and T. Elliott (Dunster).

The thanks of the members to the Vicar for allowing the use of the tower for the ringing, for officiating at the service, and for his kindness in providing tea; and also to Miss Sorby, the organist, were expressed in the form of a resolution by the chairman.—Mr. Stacey, who seconded, spoke of the great interest which Mr. Reeder took in the association. He attributed the fact that the gathering that day was not larger to the absence of any band of ringers at Dunster. He reminded those present of the excellent band which Dunster once had, and referred to Dunster as the home of change ringing in West Somerset. In past years they had there the best band of ringers in the West, and he suggested that if the few ringers remaining there would put their backs into it, and form a new band, in which the association would help them, they might have a good band again there.

The Vicar thanked Mr. Stacey for what he had said, and intimated how pleased he was to welcome the association to Dunster. They had not got a band of ringers there, he said, but he hoped that this would be remedied soon.

After the meeting the members again adjourned to the church, and there spent the time in ringing Grandsire and Stedman Triples until about 8 p.m.

WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT.

A district meeting was held on Saturday, May 5th, at East Tytherley and Lockerley, both peals being available during the afternoon and evening. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Triples, Double Court, Bob Minor and Major were rung. The tea and meeting were held at the Star Inn, presided over by the Ringing Master (Mr. G. Williams), supported by the Vicar of East Tytherley, and members from North Stoneham, Curdrige, Bishopstoke, Romsey, Portsea, Ringwood, Lymington, Salisbury and Winchester.

The Vicar was elected an honorary member of the Guild, and a vote of thanks was passed to the respective incumbents for the use of the bells. This was acknowledged by the Vicar of East Tytherley, who assured the members of a welcome at any time they came to Tytherley for a peal or combined practice.

Afterwards further ringing took place at both towers. The next meeting is fixed for August 25th, at Hursley.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION.SOUTHERN BRANCH MEETING.

By kind invitation of the Vicar, the Rev. S. H. W. Lovett, the quarterly meeting of the Southern Branch was held at Toddington on Saturday, May 5th, and in spite of the inclement weather, this was well attended. A pleasing feature was the presence of the Rev. A. D. Pennington (Rector of Alderton) and the Rev. D. Fitzmaurice (Vicar of Hampton), this being proof of the increasing interest taken by the clergy in ringing activities. Among other visitors were Messrs. H. Colley, senr., and H. Colley, junr., of Wootten Wawen. The association's special form of service was conducted in the Parish Church, the full choir being present, and the Vicar giving an original and instructive address. Tea, provided through the generosity of Mrs. Andrews and the Vicar, was partaken of in the Village Hall.

The Vicar presided at the subsequent business meeting, at which several new members were elected, and an invitation to hold the summer meeting at Badsey was accepted.

Subject to the approval of the Vicar, it was decided that the quarterly peal be attempted at Toddington, with Mr. Geo. Ashley as conductor, and the hope was expressed that it would be found possible to ring the peal with an entirely local band.

Attention was drawn to a paragraph in the annual report, urging local bands to attempt more peals in preference to peals rung by mixed bands.

Votes of thanks (which were carried with applause) were passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, his address, and presiding at the meeting; to the organist and choir for their services, and to all who provided for or assisted with the tea.

The musical peal of six bells were well utilised throughout the afternoon and evening, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles and various Minor methods being rung.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A most excellent practice of the Southern District was held on Saturday, May 5th, at All Saints', Fulham, with its fine ring of ten. In the early part a 504 of Stedman Triples was rung, and later members attended from all parts, including some from Birmingham, Crayford, Greenhithe, Kent, and Walton-on-Thames, who took part in touches of Stedman Cabers, Treble Bob Royal, Cambridge and London Surprise.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.THE SCHEME FOR A PEAL OF TWELVE AT THE CATHEDRAL.

The annual meeting was held at Lincoln on Saturday, April 28th, and was, as usual, attended by a large number of members from all parts of the county. The bells of St. Peter-at-Arches, St. Peter-at-Gowts, and St. Botolph's were set going early in the afternoon and the Cathedral bells were also available from three o'clock until evensong at four o'clock. There can be few cathedrals where the services are more beautifully rendered than at Lincoln, and to many members, who visit the city only on very rare occasions, one of the most appreciated items in the day's proceedings is the Cathedral service.

Tea was provided in the Co-operative Hall, after which the usual business meeting took place, Mr. F. F. Linley presiding.

All the officers were re-elected as follows: President, the Dean of Lincoln; Master, the Rev. H. Law James; secretary, Mr. F. W. Stokes; treasurer, Mr. F. F. Linley.

The balance sheet and report were passed as printed. The latter showed that during 1922, 53 peals were rung (one more than in 1921), including two of Cambridge Surprise Royal. The methods rung generally again indicated a decided improvement in the standard of ringing throughout the Diocese. The Grimsby band has scored peals of Double Norwich; Lincoln recorded Stedman and Double Norwich, and Market Deeping was doing well in Minor ringing.

The question of the Cathedral Bells Memorial Fund was again brought forward, and discussed at some length. A considerable sum of money still remains to be raised to complete the amount required for the proposed augmentation of the Cathedral bells from eight to twelve, but there appears to be a confident feeling that if an organised and determined effort is made during the coming year, the long desired object will be attained.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Dean and Chapter, and to the incumbents of the various city churches for the use of the bells during the day, and to Mr. Linley for presiding.

The towers were again visited, and the bells kept going until nine o'clock. The ringing included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Cambridge, Superlative and London Surprise Major, besides many Minor methods at the two six-bell towers.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The table of handbell peals published last week omitted, by a typographical error, to show the handbell peal of Stedman Cinques rung by the Worcestershire Association, although it was included in the total and the points, and also in the general table.

The weight of the tenor of the recently augmented ring at Nantwich is 14 cwt. 2 gr. 18 lb. In a peal report last week it was given as 2 cwt. less than this.

Members of the Central Council upon reaching headquarters, the Cathedral Hotel, Milford Street, Salisbury, will be able to obtain a neatly printed souvenir programme giving particulars of all the arrangements made for their benefit.

Much interest is centred in the College Youths' attempt next Monday to set up a new Stedman Cinques record. It is a huge undertaking on a peal of bells with a tenor of 50 cwt., and if they are successful the men at the back end will deserve gold medals, although they will probably appreciate some of the contents of the Coffee Pot better than medals when the bells come round.

There will probably be many listeners, voluntary as well as involuntary, and of this we may be certain, there will be a good peal, or none at all.

By the way, the length is curious; it is the same whether read forwards or backwards—15051.

Here's more power to the elbow (or should it be elbows?) of the twelve good men and true, who will 'ascend the tower of the Cathedral Church of St. Mary, Southwark,' on Monday next, and may they have the satisfaction of hearing the bells run home!

They will not be alone in their long peal effort. Members of the Chester Diocesan Guild intend to start on a 17,280 Kent Treble Bob Major, at Over, Cheshire, on the same day.

The present Treble Bob record is the 16,800 of Kent, rung at Mottram, in 9 hrs. 40 minutes on June 8th, 1906.

Before that the record was 16,608, the 40th anniversary of which performance in the Kent Variation being, curiously enough, to-day. This was also rung at Mottram, the time being 9 hrs. 48 mins.

On May 18th, 1846, Thomas Thurstans' 'masterpiece,' the four-part peal of Stedman, was rung for the first time. This was at St. Martin's, Birmingham, Henry Johnson being the conductor.

In 1777, on May 19th, the College Youths rang 11,080 Kent Treble Bob Royal at Shoreditch in 8 hrs. 2 mins.

Fifty years ago next Monday, Matt Wood conducted the first peal of Grandsire Triples in Scotland.

May 21st also is the anniversary of a 10,061 Grandsire Caters at Wednesbury in the year 1861, and of the 13,054 Stedman Caters at Cheltenham in 1888.

Tuesday is the anniversary of the 17,024 Double Norwich Major at Kidlington, which was rung on May 22nd, 1899.

Owing to the spire of St. Michael's Church, Southampton, being unsafe, the peal of eight bells cannot be rung. The bells are at present at the Croydon Foundry all ready for hanging, and will remain there till the defects of the spire are put right.

Of course, it was sure to come—a peal of Bristol Surprise Major by that band of Leicester ringers who have been making history lately. It was the first in the method by all the band, but we warrant it won't be the last. And there is that 19,000 odd by the Rev. H. Law James waiting to be rung!

Six members of one family in a peal of Cambridge Royal—the first by all the band and by the association—is a noteworthy incident. The peal was rung at Gosforth, and the family party were from Whitley Bay, comprising six Goftons.

It was in the early part of 1901 that Mr. Fred Dench produced his 12,896 Cambridge Surprise Major, not 1907 as stated in his letter last week.

Last week the report of a peal at Birling, Kent, was claimed as the first of Major on the bells. Mr. W. Short of Clent, writes that the opening peal at this church was one, in which he took part, of 5,088 Kent Treble Bob Major on May 19th, 1891, by the All Hallows' Society, Tottenham. It was rung for the Middlesex Association, conducted by G. B. Lucas.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ANNUAL MEETING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In your issue dated May 11th a notice of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association contained an inaccuracy on my part. The service will be held at Holy Trinity Church Watermoor, not the Parish Church as stated. Any ringer intending to be present can get all information at Viner's Restaurant in the morning.—Yours faithfully,

EDGAR GUISE.

General Hon. Secretary.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The Third Session of the Eleventh Council (30th annual meeting) will be held in the Chapter House, The Cathedral, Salisbury, on Whitsun Tuesday, 22nd May, 1923, at 11 a.m. precisely.

The morning sitting will be adjourned from 1 p.m. till 2.30, from which hour the Council will sit, if necessary, until 5.30 p.m.

The Standing Committee will meet previously at 9.45 a.m. in the same room.

AGENDA, 1923.

1. Minutes of the last Meeting.
2. Apologies for Absence.
3. Statement of Accounts and of Sale of Publications.
4. Election of Honorary Members.
5. Presentation of new Members to the President.
6. To receive and discuss the Reports of the following Committees, viz. :—
 - (a) Peal Collection.
 - (b) Literature and Press.
 - (c) Methods.
 - (d) Peals' Analysis.
 - (e) Towers and Belfries.
 - (f) Records.
 - (g) Museum Exhibit.
7. To agree a card of instructions, on the Care and Use of Bells, suitable for hanging in a Tower.
8. That this Council, meeting in the Diocese of Salisbury, in which Sir Christopher Wren was born and baptised, expresses the fervent hope that no sanction will be given to any further demolition of the churches, with which he adorned the City of London, and which bear such a valuable witness to the Christian Religion in the world's busiest centre of secular activities.
9. This Council recommends that first or record peals should not be rung for a Society outside the limits of that Society's area.
10. That the Peals Analysis Committee be asked if they can add a column showing the ratio between the number of Members, and the points gained by each Society.
11. That in compositions of 5,000 changes or upwards on seven or any higher number of bells in which the plan of splicing various methods is adopted, it is essential that there should be no repetition of any row throughout—that is to say, that the whole composition shall be 'true' in the universally accepted sense of that word.
12. To fix the place of next year's meeting.
13. Other business, if any.

THE PEALS ANALYSIS. POINTS FOR HANDBELL PEALS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—The publication of the report of the Peals Analysis Committee is an event which is looked forward to with much interest by ringers generally, and the information and details contained therein bear eloquent tribute to much thorough and painstaking work.

Nevertheless, I must confess I was surprised when I saw the number of points awarded for the peal of Stedman Sextuples rung on handbells at Birmingham. Here, certainly, the Analysis Committee have not erred on the side of generosity, and one certainly wonders upon what grounds the committee thought fit to award only 38 points.

I am of opinion that the allocation of points for handbell peals, as compared with tower bell peals is a matter which needs a certain amount of overhauling.

To quote one instance: A peal of Stedman Cinques on handbells receives 32 points, whilst a peal of Grandsire Cinques receives only 13 points. From the handbell ringers' point of view, the latter is probably as difficult as the former.

I think, therefore, that points allotted for handbell peals should be on an altogether different basis to those allowed for tower bell peals.

Perhaps we shall be favoured with the views of some of the more prominent handbell ringers on this subject—Yours, etc.,

39, Longford Street, Derby. J. FRANK SMALLWOOD.

LONG PEAL ATTEMPT.

An attempt will be made by the Chester Diocesan Guild (Chester Branch) or 17,280 Kent Treble Bob Major at Over Cheshire, on Monday, May 21st. Ringing will commence at 10.30 a.m.

THE LATE MR. WILLIAM GRIMES.

The following further donations are acknowledged with many thanks: Already acknowledged, £4 15s. 6d.; St. Peter Mancroft Society, Norwich (per Miss H. Bill), £1 4s. 6d.; Mr. H. Barton, 5s.; P. and W. N., 2s. 6d.; Fakenham company, Norfolk (per Mr. Chas. Tuthill), 10s. 6d.; Mr. A. L. Coleman, 10s. Contributions should be sent to Mr. W. C. Rumsey, Debenham, Stowmarket.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION. CHALLENGE BELL COMPETITION TO CEASE.

The annual general meeting of the Sussex County Association was held at Eastbourne, on Saturday, May 5th, and proved to be one of the most successful meetings held since the war. In all, 87 members from all parts of the county and several non-resident members, attended. The tower of the Old Church (St. Mary's) was open for ringing during the earlier part of the afternoon, and the service was held in St. Mary's Church—a feature being the hearty singing led by the church choir and organist—and the sermon was preached by the Vicar (Canon Streatfeild), a vice-president of the association.

A splendid tea was provided by the generosity of Canon Streatfeild in the Pitman Institute, and after full justice had been done to it, there followed the business meeting. Mr. Frank Bennett was elected peals secretary for the ensuing year, and the other officers were re-elected. The following gentlemen were elected life members, honoris causa: Messrs. Keith Hart, Frank Bennett, G. H. Howse, W. D. Smith and A. A. Hughes.

It was decided—

(1) That the interest on the Reserve and Benevolent Funds be paid into the general account for two years in order to help payment of rail fares to meetings.

(2) That the rules be altered so as to include the peals secretary and the Central Council delegates, if any, on the General Committee.

(3) That a list of all towers in the county containing five or more bells be added to the report.

(4) That competition for the challenge bell should cease, and that the bell be loaned to the Brighton Museum.

(5) That a postcard vote be taken on the subject of members' subscriptions being paid, in addition to the payment of £1 ls. for a tower.

(6) That the next annual general meeting be held at St. Leonards.

A vote of sympathy with the family of the late Mr. J. Rice, of Crawley, was passed, and the secretary instructed to write a letter of condolence.

A hearty vote of thanks to Canon Streatfeild for his generosity in providing tea and for the splendid arrangements for the service and the meeting, was passed by acclamation. Ringing took place in some other towers in the town during the evening.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Western District was held on Saturday at Thames Ditton, and members attended from Mitcham, Sunbury, Isleworth, Otlands Park, Walton, Hershams, Battersca, Chertsey, Leatherhead, Clapham Park, Surbiton, and the local band. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and Bob Minor were rung.

A short choral service was conducted by the Vicar, and 24 members sat down to tea, which was followed by the business meeting.

It was proposed that the next meeting take place at Weybridge, failing that, Egham.

The ringers then adjourned to the tower, where further ringing brought an enjoyable meeting to a close.

DEATH OF HALEWOOD RINGER.

The death has occurred at Halewood, Lancs, of Mr. George Calland, who for 34 years had been a ringer at St. Nicholas' Church, and for the same length of time had been a member of the Lancashire Association. Mr. Calland for the last few years had also been tower keeper, and was always most courteous and obliging to visiting ringers, by whom he will be greatly missed. He had taken part in twelve peals, which were chiefly Grandsire Triples. The bells were rung half-muffled on the Sunday after his death, and also after the funeral by the local ringers.

On Friday, May 4th, as a last token of respect, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung with the bells half-muffled, by B. Trevitt 1, F. J. Hancock 2, T. Hammond 3, T. Jennion 4, E. Jones 5, G. R. Newton (conductor) 6, E. Counce 7, J. Almond 8. Much sympathy is extended to his sister and other relatives in their sad bereavement.

THE EDITOR'S ETERNAL PROBLEM.

After allowing for the space taken up by peals and notices this week the Editor had nine columns available for other news. But he had 23 columns of matter to get into it! Can our contributors wonder that some of their items cannot find a place?

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

APATHY OF THE CLERGY.

Ringers of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild assembled in considerable numbers at Marlborough on May 3rd for their annual meeting. Both towers were open for ringing during the day, and touches in various methods were rung, while a party also visited Ogbourne St. George, where Messrs. Gillett and Johnston have recently relunged the bells.

At the business meeting, the Master (Major C. C. Hughes D'Aeth), who presided, remarked that as that was possibly the last occasion on which he should have the opportunity of addressing the members of the Guild in his present capacity, he should like to say a few words on a subject which was very close to his heart. In his report for 1922 he once more asked the clergy to take a little more active part in that particular department of Church work. He felt bound to say that in his journeys about the diocese he had found what a friend had called a certain amount of apathy on the part of a certain number of the clergy. In going to a belfry he generally asked whether the parson took any interest in the ringing, and the reply he generally got was that they seldom saw the parson in the belfry. But as long as the Guild existed they had to remember that they were not merely a guild of ringers but a guild of Church workers, and that as such they were entitled to say, claimed—a certain amount of respect from some of the clergy. The clergy did not as a rule go to the recognised practices and offer up a prayer that their work might be blessed by God, and he feared that the time was coming when the bands of ringers would become merely social organisations for ringing only without any thought of God. He was sorry to say that in many churches, including some belonging to their own Guild, the ringers did not attend worship in God's house: they called others to prayer and praise, but did not themselves attend the services. Surely there must be something wrong in that. He was sorry to complain, and though he had nothing to say against the clergy he could not help thinking that many clergymen paid fewer visits to their belfries than to their dentists. Such things ought not to be. Turning to the other side of the picture the Master said he knew of one church not very far from Marlborough where there were seven ringers, six of whom were also in the choir. They not only thought of their bells but of the church as well. He would think that that were the general practice. The best ringing was as a rule to be found in churches where the parson took an interest in his ringers. He did not like to see ringers walk out of church when the services commenced. Prayer should not be left to a layman in the presence of the parson. If this apathy continued he was afraid they would tend to become a mere social club that knew not God. He trusted the clergy would forgive him if he had said anything to ruffle them. What he had said was meant to further the good work of the Guild so that it might be not only a guild of ringers but a guild of workers who could praise God at the end of the rope as well as in their places in the Church services.

Arising out of the minutes, the Master said they felt rather abashed and somewhat annoyed at their last meeting at Lyme Regis to hear that the Dean and Chapter of their Cathedral had thrown cold water and completely extinguished the small spurt of energy which they tried to put forward in raising what they thought was a suitable memorial to the ringers of the diocese who fell in the war.

The statement of accounts presented by the hon. secretary and treasurer (Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, Kington Magna), showing a credit balance of £51 7s. 7½d., was approved.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Master, hon. secretary and treasurer, and hon. assistant secretary (Mr. T. Hervey Beams, Bradpole) were all re-elected.

Thanking the Guild for the honour they had again done him, the Master said he must ask them to look round and find another Master next year, as he thought it was time they had a younger and more energetic ringer for the office. When the time came it would be with great sorrow that he would give up the mastership, because he loved the work, in carrying out which he was greatly indebted to the branch secretaries for their loyal support, not, of course, forgetting the hard work of their general secretary.

Mr. H. R. Hopkins (Kington Magna) and the Rev. A. D. H. Allan (Wimborne) were elected auditors, and the Rev. Canon Myers, the Rev. C. Wood, Mr. J. R. Jerram, with the officers of the guild and branches were re-elected on the committee.

The meeting elected as representatives on the Central Council Mr. T. H. Beams, Mr. A. F. Martin Stewart (Wimborne), the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, and Major C. C. Hughes D'Aeth.

The instructors in change ringing are Messrs. G. T. White (Dorchester), J. E. Wiltshire (Secord), S. Hillier (Devizes), T. H. Beams, F. W. Townsend (Poole), S. J. Hector (Trowbridge), and H. Taylor (Melksham), and the inspector of belfries is Mr. J. R. Jerram (Salisbury).

ALTERATION OF RULES.

Rule 3 was remodelled thus—The secretary of the branch shall collect subscriptions from members on a date not later than the last meeting of the branch held before Christmas and forward same to the general secretary at the end of the year, retaining not more than one-half of the subscriptions for local expenses, and at the same time send a brief report of the year's work together with a summary of the branch accounts.

In future rule 4 will read—Each company shall appoint one of its members as belfry correspondent. It shall be his duty to collect subscriptions and deliver them to the secretary with a correct list of their names at or before the last meeting of the branch held before Christmas in each year, also to deal with communications.

DIOCESAN WAR MEMORIAL.

On the question of the proposed memorial to ringers who fell in the war, the Hon. Secretary said that as members of the guild were aware they were not allowed to erect the memorial in the precincts of the Cathedral. Some time ago, however, he had an interview with the Dean who spoke to him about a design he had in hand for improving the war memorial in the Cathedral to consist of the restoration of one of the ancient chapels in such a way that it could be used for public and private worship as a memorial chapel. In the course of that work there was to be constructed across the entrance to the chapel an oak screen, and there was a place on each side of the screen where it was desired some panelling should be introduced, and the Dean suggested that the guild should undertake to provide the panelling. The Guild had in hand a sum of £5 collected for the purpose of a memorial, and if a further sum of about £20 could be raised the guild of ringers could be officially associated with the diocesan memorial.

The meeting approved the suggestion, and referred the matter to the branches, and appointed a committee, consisting of the Master, secretary, and assistant secretary to receive their reports, with power to act.

KINGTON MAGNA TOWER.

The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards remarked that they had an ancient tower to the church at Kington Magna which was in considerable need of restoration, and they were endeavouring in a village of 350 inhabitants to raise sufficient money to put the tower into effective repair so that they could continue to use the five bells without fear of endangering the safety of the tower. The Guild had sometimes made grants for such a purpose, and he would leave it to those present to say whether or not they would make a small grant towards his own church.

The Master observed that if there were any bells rung anywhere in the diocese it was at Kington Magna. The ringers were not only ringers, but they regularly attended the house of God. He suggested that the Guild make a grant of £1 Is.

Ultimately the meeting voted five guineas towards the object, and Mr. Edwards thanked the Guild for its unexpected act of generosity.

VISIT OF CENTRAL COUNCIL TO SALISBURY.

The Master said he supposed that most of them knew that the diocese was being honoured with a visit from the Central Council at Salisbury at Whitsun. The occasion would be quite unique as he believed the Central Council had never before met in the beautiful cathedral of the city of Salisbury. The visit would entail certain expense. The Guild proposed to take the Council to Wilton House by permission of the Earl of Pembroke on Whit Sunday, and they would afterwards be taken to certain eight and ten bell towers. The Wimborne branch had already made a contribution towards the expenses of the visit, and he ventured to suggest that the Guild might help them in some way.

On the proposition of the Rev. C. Cox the Guild decided to make a grant, not exceeding £5, for the purpose.

Members afterwards attended a special service at St. Peter's Church, where an appropriate address was delivered by the Rector (the Rev. C. D. Hoste). The visitors foregathered for tea in the Sessions room at the Town Hall.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Hunts District was held at Huntingdon on Saturday week the bells of St. Mary, Huntingdon (8, tenor 17 cwt.), Godmanchester (8, tenor 21 cwt.) and Hartford (a light six) being open for ringing. A service was held at St. Mary's Church, and was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. O. V. Burder), the address being given by the Rev. H. B. Woolley.

At the tea, held at Plum's Refreshment Rooms, 26 ringers were present, including two visitors from Northants.—It was decided to hold the next meeting, if possible, at Spaldwick on June 16th.

Ringers were present from St. Neots, Henningford Abbots, Great Staughton, Eynesbury, Drv Drayton, Cambridge, Long Stanton, Ramsey, Fenstanton, Woodford and Binford.

Messrs. S. F. Staffurth, of Ramsey, W. R. Matson (Godmanchester), and Miss Annie Townsend, of Great Staughton, were elected members of the association, and the election of Mr. Herbert Cole, of Long Stanton, was confirmed.

Heartly votes of thanks were accorded to the incumbents of the three churches for the use of the bells.

FORTY YEARS' SERVICE RECOGNISED.

PARISHIONERS' GIFTS TO HENBURY RINGER.

An interesting ceremony took place last Sunday week in the belfry of Henbury Church, Gloucester, after evensong, when Mr. Charles Jefferies was the recipient of a purse of money subscribed by the parishioners as a mark of esteem on his completing 40 years as a ringer in the parish church.—The Vicar (the Rev. C. P. Way) said, to his knowledge, Mr. Jefferies put in at least 60 attendances a year at the church, and had to walk two miles each way, which meant him journeying 9,000 miles. The Vicar also spoke of the excellent qualities which Mr. Jefferies possessed.

Mr. J. A. Waller, the senior churchwarden, in making the presentation, said how much he appreciated the services by Mr. Jefferies. He hoped he would long be spared to assist in ringing the bells.—Mr. J. Gould (captain of the ringers) also spoke of Mr. Jefferies' good work as a ringer, and endorsed all that had been said of him.

Mr. Jefferies thanked the parishioners for their great kindness towards him, and hoped the younger generation would continue to carry on the work.

The ladies also had a present for Mr. Jefferies, the gift consisting of a painting of the church, which was suitably inscribed, so that Mr. Jefferies may be reminded of the pleasant time he had spent in the church.

As a compliment, the following ringers rang 504 Grandsire Triples: C. Gould (first 504) 1, C. H. Jennings (Wyke Regis) 2, R. Devenish 3, E. Devenish 4, J. Martin 5, W. White 6, J. Gould (conductor) 7, C. Jefferies 8.

It is interesting to note that the Vicar, at evensong, praised the work of the ringers and choir, and midway through the service, as a thanksgiving to Almighty God for all His goodness and for blessing on the crops, the ringers rang a short touch.

DEPTFORD, KENT.—At the Church of St. John-the-Evangelist, on Thursday, April 26th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: E. W. Pannett 1, G. H. Daynes 2, J. J. Lamb 3, E. J. Pannett 4, W. J. Jefferies 5, J. Carter 6, E. B. Crowder (conductor) 7, G. H. Macklin 8. Rung for the induction of the Rev. R. R. Neill.

PROPAGANDA AND INSTRUCTION.

A correspondent puts forward some pertinent suggestions, in a letter which we publish, in connection with the Management of Associations, and he emphasises the importance of greater propaganda and instructional work by the ringing organisations. These are two subjects upon which we have frequently dwelt in this column, and too much emphasis cannot be laid upon them. Many of the associations do very little in either direction, and, apart from periodical meetings, leave the instruction of beginners to the chance interest of some neighbouring ringer, and propaganda to take care of itself. Yet, as a matter of fact, these two things are of real—indeed, vital—importance. The former will raise the standard of ringing and increase the number of change ringers, the latter should be first directed to interesting the clergy of those towers where they are at present ignorant of or indifferent to the objects of ringing associations.

With regard to instructing beginners in the art, there are some ringers who do not agree with the principle of paid instructors. Voluntary effort is no doubt best, and before fees are paid out an association, of course, would have to be satisfied as to a ringer's efficiency as an instructor, but where a man who has the ability to impart knowledge to others is prepared to give his time to instructional work, he ought at any rate to receive his out-of-pocket expenses. The question of instruction is by no means a simple one. Given a capable instructor and a keen and intelligent band, much good can be done in a very short time; but effort is wasted unless tutor and pupils show the necessary qualifications in their respective roles. Another important consideration is how long the instruction should be continued in the case of a receptive band. It is frequently the case that as soon as a few six scores of Doubles can be rung the instructor is withdrawn and the band left to shift for themselves. This, in our opinion, is a very bad policy. To reap the full advantage, the instructional course ought to be continued well beyond this very elementary stage, and one of the reasons for the frequent failure of these courses is that the work is not continued as far as it ought to be.

On the question of propaganda, there are few associations which work on any settled plan. An occasional meeting at some tower unaffiliated with the organisation is held in the hope of winning the support of the incumbent and the ringers, and usually, be it said, this brings success, but the infrequency of such meetings would make it, in the case of some associations, a question of years before all the towers could be reached. What is wanted in many parts of the country is a big 'push,' with propaganda work organised on comprehensive and sustained lines.

SHEFFIELD DISTRICT SOCIETY.

A YEAR OF PROGRESS.

PRESENTATION TO MR. SAM THOMAS.

The annual meeting of the Sheffield District and Old East Derbyshire Amalgamated Society was held at the Church of St. John-the-Evangelist, Ranmoor, on Saturday, May 5th, and in spite of a disappointingly wet afternoon, proved very successful. About 80 ringers and friends (including quite a number of ladies) were present from Sheffield (All Saints', Pitsmoor; the Cathedral, St. Mary's, Handsworth, St. Marie's R.C., and St. John's, Ranmoor), Barnsley, Bolsover, Bolsterstone, Chesterfield, Doncaster, Dore, Eckington, Ecclesfield, North Wingfield, Norton, Rawmarsh, Rotherham (Parish Church and St. Stephen's), Whiston, Wortley, etc. The peal of eight bells (tenor 15 cwt.) was kept going at intervals from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m., some very good striking being accomplished in all the standard and several Surprise methods. It not being possible for all the members to be in the tower at once, many took the opportunity of making a closer acquaintance of this exceedingly beautiful church, one of the finest examples of modern architecture in the country, and of admiring its noble proportions and decorations. The church, though modern, already has something of a history, and its fine environment, situated in one of the most delightful of the many beautiful suburbs of Sheffield, overlooking the beauties of Endcliffe Vale and the hills beyond, coupled with the almost unlimited facilities for change ringing and the warm welcome always extended to visiting ringers, make it an ideal headquarters for the society.

The first church built from designs by Mr. E. M. Gibbs, and consecrated by Archbishop Thomson in 1879, was, with the exception of the tower and spire, totally destroyed by fire on the first Sunday morning of 1887. The fine organ and many beautiful memorials all perished in the flames. Rebuilt from designs by the same architect at a cost of about £14,000, it was reopened in 1888, and a tablet in the porch records the fact. The present beautiful building is in a style influenced by French Gothic. The spacious and lofty nave has 750 sittings, and presents a stately appearance. A notable feature is the triforium, unusual in parish churches, and an apsidal chancel. As might be expected in such a wealthy district, the church has been enriched by many beautiful and costly gifts, including some very beautiful windows, and a fine organ. The bells, though a musical peal, and one on which there have been many notable performances, are hardly up to the exceedingly high standard of the rest of the church, and it is the hope of the local company that the church may one day possess a fine peal of ten to harmonise with its other beauties.

A short musical service was held in the church, opening with the Te Deum, and including some well known hymns, which were heartily sung by those present. An interesting address was given by the Vicar (the Rev. J. R. Lee Nicholls), himself an enthusiastic ringer, and an incumbent who, in the Sheffield Diocese at any rate, holds the unique distinction of being Ringing Master in his own tower, and who in spite of many and urgent calls on his time, including often two sermons on a Sunday, is seldom absent from his place in the belfry.

A tea was held in Parish Hall, followed by the annual business meeting, at which the Vicar presided. The balance sheet (which showed a small balance on the right side) was presented, and a short report of the previous year was given by Mr. Sam Thomas, who explained that he had been asked to undertake the duty; the late secretary (the Rev. J. F. Amies) having left the district, and the new secretary not having yet been officially appointed. The report showed a gratifying year of progress, with a membership reaching 300 and 30 affiliated towers. About 25 peals has been rung in most of the standard methods, and several Surprise methods, including Norfolk and Cambridge.

RECOGNITION OF MR. THOMAS'S VALUABLE WORK.

At this point the Bishop of Sheffield arrived, and after being given a hearty reception, and expressing his regret that pressure of other engagements had prevented his earlier attendance, at once proceeded to make a presentation to Mr. Sam Thomas, at the request of the chairman. The presentation, which had been kept a secret until the last moment, and came as a complete surprise to Mr. Thomas, consisted of a very handsome smoker's cabinet (fitted up with tobacco, cigars and cigarettes), with a suitable inscription on an attached plate, and an exceptionally beautiful illuminated and framed address, worked by Mr. Tom Lee, of Norton, himself a change ringer, and one whose work in illuminating peal records and the like is well known in the district. The address, dated 1890-1923, recorded Mr. Thomas' 33 years' association with change ringing in the district, and his 21 years' association with the Sheffield District Society, for many years as president, and later as its secretary. It recognised his untiring and disinterested efforts in the cause of change ringing, particularly in the training and encouraging of young bands, and concluded by expressing the hope that he might be spared for many years to carry on his good work, and asking his acceptance of the presentation with the most cordial good wishes of the society. It was signed by all the officers of the society on behalf of the subscribers.

The Bishop again expressed his regret at the fact that other engagements had interfered with his presence at the meeting, but stated that at all costs he had been determined to be in time to make the presentation to Mr. Thomas. He knew well the value of the work of the ringers, and especially of men like Mr. Thomas, who threw themselves heart and soul into the work, and he could, as Bishop, bear testimony to the appreciation in which their services were held, and especially those of Mr. Thomas, in sticking to it and persevering in the task of training up and encouraging young bands. He had the greatest possible pleasure, he said, in presenting these tokens to Mr. Thomas on behalf of the society, in associating himself with its sentiments and in wishing the recipient a long and happy life.—The text of the address was then read out by Mr. G. Lewis (president).

Mr. Thomas, who confessed himself taken completely by surprise, and remarked that everyone had been in league against him, and that he felt quite unable to make a speech, assured those present that he felt that he did not deserve what had been done, and expressed his sincere thanks to the subscribers. What he valued most was the unanimity and spontaneity of it all. He assured those present that he was no back number yet, and that he should continue to do all that he could for the art. He asked to be excused from saying more, as he felt too full and too affected to speak.

It might perhaps be mentioned that the presentation was in the first mainly due to the disinterested efforts of the late secretary (the Rev. J. F. Amies), whose departure from the district was much regretted, and whose services to the society, though short, were much appreciated. An appeal was sent out to the various towers in the society, and only a small subscription was asked for, but the response, much to the gratification of the organisers, was considerably beyond expectations, and came as a further proof of the esteem in which Mr. Thomas is held.

Following the presentation to Mr. Thomas, the society's silver cup and framed certificate, for the best year's attendance for Sunday Service ringing, were presented by the Bishop to Mr. F. Watkinson, representing the Handsworth company, the Bishop genially remarking that he always seemed to be presenting things to Handsworth—they had a splendid Rector, and did well in everything that they took up.

Other calls on his time intervening, the Bishop had to leave at this point, and smilingly declined a formal vote of thanks—an informal one was, however, accorded to him as he rose to leave, in the shape of very hearty applause.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mr. F. Watkinson (Handsworth), in place of Mr. G. Lewis (Ecclesfield) resigned; vice-presidents, Mr. A. Knights (Chesterfield) and Mr. J. Holman (Sheffield Cathedral); hon. treasurer, Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey (Ranmoor); hon. secretary, Mr. Thomas William Chown (Sheffield Cathedral), in place of the Rev. J. F. Amies (Chesterfield) resigned; peal secretary, Mr. Sam Thomas (Ranmoor); hon. auditors, Mr. J. Flint (Bolsover) and Mr. G. Hollis (Chesterfield).

The committee was re-elected, with the addition of Messrs. A. Robinson (Dore) and Measures (St. Stephen's, Rotherham), with the cup sub-committee as before. The fixtures for the ensuing year were confirmed—the next annual meeting, in accordance with the rules, being fixed for Chesterfield, the hope being expressed that by that time that popular peal of bells would be again available and the wonderful crooked spire in a stable condition.

Twenty-one new members were elected—a sure sign of progress—from Dore, Norton, Rawmarsh, Rotherham (St. Stephen's), Sheffield (Cathedral, Ranmoor, and St. Marie's, R.C.), and Whiston.

A number of business matters were discussed—including the question of the control of the ringing at the various meetings; services at each meeting; and the provision of fixture cards. No resolutions were passed on the first two items, but in regard to the last, the recommendation of the committee was accepted, i.e., that small fixture cards should be printed as in pre-war days, with all the details of the society and the year's fixtures recorded on them, and that members should be charged 1d. per card—these cards to take the place of the large tower fixture cards previously supplied.

A hearty vote of thanks to the retiring officers was proposed by Mr. Sam Thomas, and seconded by Mr. Cockey, and responded to by Mr. G. Lewis.

Mr. R. Harrison, in a racy speech, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, organist, local company, and ladies—expressing the opinion that now that his old friend, Mr. Thomas, had been able to rejoin, one would soon be hearing of things doing at Ranmoor as in the old days.—Mr. C. Haynes suitably responded.

Mr. Potter (Barnsley) proposed a vote of thanks, which was carried by acclamation, to Mr. Tom Lee for his exceptionally fine work in the illuminating of the address to Mr. Thomas, and to his generous action in doing it as his contribution to the presentation.—Mr. Lee, in response, referred to his work as a labour of love, and acknowledged the help and encouragement he himself had always received from Mr. Thomas in the art of change ringing.

Messrs. G. Hollis and F. Willey proposed a vote of thanks—carried by acclamation—to the chairman (the Rev. J. R. Lee Nicholls), and for the great interest he always showed in ringing matters.—The Rev. J. R. Lee Nicholls, in responding, extended a most hearty welcome to the society in their visits to Ranmoor.

Some very good handbell ringing was indulged in during the evening, and was much appreciated by those present.

COLLATON CHURCH BELLS.

On Saturday the new peal of bells at Collaton, Paignton, Devon, will be dedicated by the Lord Bishop of Exeter at 3.30 p.m. The opening ringing will be done by the Mid-Devon Guild (Paignton), after which the bells will be open to visiting ringers.

The bells were recently completed by Messrs. W. Aggett and Sons, of the Bell Works, Chagford.

TOWCESTER AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL FESTIVAL AT COURTEENHALL.

One of the most successful festivals held by the Towcester and District Association took place at Courteenhall on Saturday, May 12th, on the kind invitation of the Rev. Archibald Wake. The proceedings commenced with a service in church, followed by the annual business meeting, and a capital luncheon served by a committee of local ladies in the Schoolroom. The President (Major C. O. E. Nicholson) occupied the chair, and was supported by Lt.-Col. Sir Hereward Wake, D.S.O., the bellfries represented being: Alderton, Courteenhall, Lichborough, Passenham, Blakesley, Gayton, Lois Weedon, Pattishall, Cold Higham, Green's Norton, Leckhampstead, Towcester, and Wicken, and unattached members from Northampton.

The Rev. A. Wake is one of the founders of the association, and the amount of work done by him to assist it in various ways has been enormous. No one is happier among bell ringers than the genial Rector of Courteenhall. His generous and unstinted hospitality will long be remembered by those who participated in this year's festival.

A tribute was paid by Lt.-Col. Sir Hereward Wake to the oldest member of the association—Mr. T. Birch, of Pattishall—who has been a ringer for 61 years.—Mr. Birch, in reply, said he had attended every festival of the association since its foundation in 1894, and hoped to attend a few more.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

NORTHERN BRANCH.

A meeting of the Gainsborough district was held at Stow on Saturday, May 12th. It was not so successful as had been anticipated, the only tower represented being Gainsborough, in addition to two ringers from Scothorne and one from Lincoln, but those who did put in an appearance consider themselves amply recompensed for their presence, first by the very hearty manner in which they were received by the Stow members; secondly, by the quality of the ringing during the afternoon and evening. The methods rung included Cambridge Surprise Minor and Erin Doubles, this being the first occasion upon which these two have been introduced at a Gainsborough district meeting. The Guild's form of service was said at 4.30 p.m. The Rev. J. Barber (Rector) officiated, and gave a very appropriate address, basing his subject upon the festival of the Ascension.

Subsequently an excellent tea was provided in the Schoolroom, and was followed by the business meeting.

It was proposed and seconded, that, owing to the triennial festival of the Lincoln Diocesan Guilds Union having been fixed for June 9th, the Messingham meeting, which had previously been arranged for that date, should be held on June 16th.—This was carried unanimously.

Votes of thanks to the members of the Stow company for their very kind hospitality, also the Rev. J. Barber for the use of the bells and for presiding at the meeting, were carried with applause.

These were duly responded to from the chair, and concluded the business.

A Grimsby district meeting was held at Bigby on Saturday, May 5th. The bells were kept going in various touches during the afternoon and evening. Service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. H. T. Parry, vice-president of the district), assisted by the Vicar of Ujceby, and was sung heartily by the ringers.

Tea, kindly given by Mrs. Parry and the Rector, was much enjoyed by the fifty-one members present, who were waited on by the ladies of the village.

A business meeting followed, and after disposal of routine items, a vote of thanks to the Rector, Mrs. Parry, and the other ladies, as well as to the organist, was carried.

GRIMSBY.—At St. Andrew's Church, on May 3rd, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) was rung in 46 mins., with the bells half-muffled, as a token of respect for the late Mr. W. Oldroyd: N. Dale 1, F. Overton 2, T. Fitzjohn 3, E. W. Abbot South 4, E. Metcalf 5, S. Bromfield 6, H. Mingay (conductor) 7, R. S. Long 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The first peal of Stedman Caters (composed and called by John Reeves) was rung on May 28th, 1787, at St. John's, Horsley Down, London. We never hear of these bells being rung now. There is probably good reason for it. The bells, we believe, are hung in three tiers, and the belfry is exceptionally small.

The record peal of Bristol Surprise Major (15,264) was rung at Hornchurch, Essex, on May 28th, 1912.

On May 29th, 1901, the first (and only) peal rung on the sea was accomplished on the s.s. 'Cambria' between Dublin and Holyhead, and the same day the first Surprise peal in Wales was rung.

The first peal of New Cumberland Surprise was rung at Burton on May 31st, 1886, and on the same day of 1898 the 'four eights' of Stedman Caters were rung on handbells at Aston.

Birmingham ought not to miss the celebration of an interesting peal next Sunday week. Exactly 150 years ago on June 3rd the first twelve bell peal in Birmingham was rung. This was a 5,324 Grand-sire Cinques, and doubtless this will be fittingly commemorated in the tower, where, probably, more twelve bell peals have been rung than anywhere.

A peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung at Carisbrooke, Isle of Wight, last week. It is believed that the previous peal of Treble Bob on the island was rung on the old Carisbrooke bells by the College Youths, in the Oxford Variation, over a century ago; the band arriving by sailing boat from London via the Straits of Dover.

The Newcastle Cathedral Guild have been 'broadcasting' handbell ringing. On the Royal Wedding Day they broadcasted from the Newcastle station a touch of Grandsire Triples. On Sunday week they opened the evening wireless concert with some popular changes on eight bells and 70 changes of Grandsire Triples. These were taken much slower than on the first occasion, and the effect was reported to be much better. The experience shows that changes should not be rung faster than 16 or 18 to the minute for broadcasting purposes. The Guild again opened the programme on Whit Sunday evening.

Miss Vera Robinson, daughter of the late Rev. F. E. Robinson, rang her first peal on May 16th. It was for the Oxford Diocesan Guild, of which her father was for so long the Master.

Six of the band who took part in the peal at Corston on Saturday have a great appreciation of the energies of the other two (Messrs. Knight and Stowell), who, when the usual means of travelling failed them through overcrowding, promptly set out to walk the seven miles to the tower, and thus enabled a start to be made only 35 minutes after the appointed time. Owing to another engagement, the Master of the Bath and Wells Association (Rector of Corston) could not, as he usually does, welcome the whole of the band in the tower before starting, but he wished success to those who were present.

Last Saturday week the restored peal of six bells at Blessington, Co. Wicklow, Ireland, were reopened, after restoration, by ringers from Dublin. On the following day a sharp skirmish took place in the village between Free State and Republican troops!

Four resident lady change ringers of Kent took part in a peal of Grandsire Triples last Saturday at Marden, all of them ringing 'inside' bells. This is going one better than the previous occasion, when three resident Kent ladies rang in a peal at the same tower about ten weeks ago.—Miss Thomas cycled from Mersham, a distance of, approximately, 24 miles, and rode the 'iron horse' home after the peal, making in all somewhere near 50 miles.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The meeting of the South and West District was held at St. Mary's, Ealing, on Saturday, May 12th, and was attended by nearly 40 members. Ringing commenced about 3 p.m., with several touches with the Ringing Master Mr. R. Holloway, present. Service was conducted by the Rev. F. L. Rees, who gave an excellent address, and welcomed the association on behalf of the Vicar (the Rev. C. J. Sharp), who, after service, entertained the visitors to tea at the Church Hall, his kindness being much appreciated.

The Rev. F. L. Rees presided over the tea and business meeting, at which a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar and Mrs. Sharp for their kind hospitality. Thanks were also given to Miss Sharp (the organist), the Rev. F. L. Rees, Mr. Hunnisett for assistance and welcome on behalf of the local ringers, and Mr. Page for his instruction in making the St. Mary's band so efficient in change ringing.

The Vicar paid a brief visit and received a great ovation. He acknowledged the thanks accorded to him. After some handbell touches the tower was again visited.

STEDMAN CINQUES RECORD.

COLLEGE YOUTHS' WONDERFUL PERFORMANCE.

The attempt to beat the record length of Stedman Cinques made by members of the Ancient Society of College Youths at Southwark Cathedral on Monday was successful. The intention was to ring a peal of 15,051 if possible, and although this length was not accomplished, a peal of 12,675 changes was brought round in 9 hrs. 47 mins., thus exceeding in length any previous peal on twelve bells.

The task was a stupendous one, and one which deserves the admiration of all ringers. For more than nine and three-quarter hours those twelve men rang some of the finest Stedman Cinques that ever were heard, for all listeners agree that from first to last the ringing was magnificent. The bells went off into changes at two minutes past nine in the morning, and so even was the ringing that the first ten courses came up in 62 minutes, the next ten in the same time, and each of the two succeeding ten courses in only one half-minute more. Hour after hour the ringing went on with clocklike regularity, but after the record had been broken it was deemed wise to bring the bells round, for Mr. Alfred Peck on the tenor was feeling the strain of the long sustained effort. No one can wonder at that. To ring a 50 cwt. bell for that length is a tremendous triumph, and everyone must agree that a 12,675 in hand is worth a good deal more than 15,051 in the bush, so to speak. Great credit is due to everyone of the band, and it should not be forgotten that there were, in addition to men of tried merit and long experience, two youths in the peal, one of whom, Wilson Rushon, is only 17½ years of age.

One of the things which enabled the peal to be rung was the attention given to the bells by Mr. Albert Hughes, who four or five times during the peal went up among the bells, and with great coolness and dexterity oiled all the bearings.

When the bells rang smoothly round, a considerable number of ringers had assembled, and the successful hand received the hearty congratulations of all.

Southwark Cathedral has been the scene of some great ringing triumphs in the past, and among the greatest of early performances were peals on these historic bells. The first peal of Treble Bob Maximus ever rung was achieved here by the College Youths on March 12th, 1758, and various longer lengths in this method were rung there until on March 22nd, 1802, the Cumberlands pulled off a 7,104 in 5 hrs. 30 mins., 'the greatest performance ever done on twelve bells, which was completed by twelve men only.' This peal took precedence, in point of length, of the 7,008, rung in 5 hrs. 48 mins. by the College Youths in 1784 at the same church.

As far as we are aware there have been no exceptional lengths of Stedman Cinques rung at Southwark, although in an attempt to beat the then Painswick record of 8,448 (made in 1858) over 8,000 changes were rung in about six and a half hours, the peal being upset through confusion caused during 'lighting up' in the belfry. The peal was afterwards rung at Cornhill in 1861, the length being 8,580, and the time 6 hrs. 41 mins.

The succeeding longer lengths in the method were 9,238, in 6 hrs. 48 mins., at St. Martin's, Birmingham, on Feb. 28th, 1881, and the 11,111 in the same tower, rung in 8 hrs. 2 mins. on Dec. 26th, 1901. There are still two survivors of the 1881 peal, Messrs. John Buffery and H. Johnson, junr.

PEAL ATTEMPT AT OVER ABANDONED.

Owing to one member of the band being unavoidably prevented from taking part in the long peal attempt at Over on Monday last, the enterprise was abandoned, as the shortness of the notice rendered it impossible for a substitute to be found. The band hope to make the attempt now on August Bank Holiday.

A SUSSEX RESTORATION.

Many welcomed the joyous pealing of the church bells at East Grinstead, Sussex, after many months' silence owing to repairs.

After evensong, on Sunday, May 13th, the Vicar (the Rev. W. W. Youard) conducted a special dedication of the seventh bell, which had been recast. Afterwards a 504 Grandsire Triples was rung by T. Potter 1, G. Tizzard 2, G. Hewitt 3, N. E. Hope 4, H. Coomber 5, T. Tullett 6, J. Wren (conductor) 7, S. Chesson 8. In addition to the recasting of the seventh bell, all have been retuned and rehung on ball bearings, and the result appears to be eminently satisfactory. The work has been done by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, the firm that cast the original bells 110 years ago.

A HALF-PEAL.

At Rainford, Lancashire, on Tuesday, May 15th, the first half of Holt's ten-part (2,520 changes) was rung in 1 hr. 34 mins.: J. Rigby 1, W. Hesketh 2, H. Hesketh 3, G. Saint 4, S. Cadwallender 5, R. Hayton 6, J. W. Hall (conductor) 7, Prince Bagley 8. Longest length by ringers of treble, 2nd, 4th, 6th and tenor.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

TUESDAY'S MEETING AT SALISBURY.

The third session of the eleventh Council was held at Salisbury on Whit Tuesday. Excellent arrangements for the visitors had been made by a committee of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, and many of the members spent an enjoyable holiday in the Wiltshire capital. On each day, from Saturday to Tuesday at the various churches, the bells were available, and on Sunday, by special permission of the Earl of Pembroke, a party visited Milton House, where they spent an interesting time.

On Monday a party of over thirty had a delightful charabanc trip through the New Forest, and were able to ring at Fordingbridge, Ringwood, Wimborne and Cranborne. A social gathering took place in the evening at the headquarters at the Cathedral, where accommodation was placed at the disposal of the ringers.

The meeting on Tuesday was held in the Chapter House at the Cathedral, the chair being taken by the President (the Rev. Canon Coleridge). There were also present the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (hon. librarian), Mr. E. Alex. Young (hon. secretary and treasurer), and 58 members.

The proceedings having opened with prayer, a welcome was extended to the Council by the Lord Bishop of the Diocese, who was accompanied by the Dean and Archdeacon Carpenter, and the Bishop was afterwards thanked by the President.

The minutes having been passed, the Hon. Treasurer presented the accounts, which showed that the year began with a balance at the bank of £74 10s. 3d., affiliation fees amounted to £12 10s., interest on stock to £4 8s. 2d., and there was cash in hand 15s., and a balance of 3s. due to the hon. secretary. The expenditure included: Books and stationery, 17s. 6d.; notices and printing, £4 5s. 3d.; postage and petty expenses, £7 10s. 6d., and loss on sales of publications, £2 15s. The balance at bank was £76 18s. 7d.

The accounts together with the librarian's report and balance sheet, were adopted.

The following hon. members whose term of office had expired were re-elected: Rev. E. W. Carpenter, Mrs. Edwards, Mr. J. George and Mr. H. W. Wilde.

Messrs. E. Bishop (Gloucester and Bristol), J. Hughes (Dudley Guild), new members, were presented to the President.

The Hon. Librarian reported that between 1,100 and 1,200 names had been received for the Roll of Honour, and it was agreed that it be written in copper plate writing on the best paper, with the best ink suggested by the authorities of the British Museum, the leaves being afterwards bound, the title page only to be illuminated; the words from the King's Scroll are to appear on first page, with the words, 'Their name liveth for evermore,' on the last page; the names to appear in alphabetical order, followed by the initials, the town at which the man was a ringer, and the name of the Association or Guild in which he resided, written in abbreviated form.

It was resolved that the Council's expenditure on the roll should not exceed £20, but a suggestion by Alderman Pritchett that if there was any additional expense it should be raised by subscription, met with warm approval, Alderman Pritchett urging that they should be loath to limit the cost, and that many of them would be glad to subscribe to make the roll worthy of that Council.

The Peal Collection Committee had nothing to report, except that the remainder of the collection of peals of Treble Bob was in the hands of the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson. It was hoped a definite report as to the position would be available at the next meeting.

Mr. W. Willson presented the report of the Literature and Press Committee, in which special reference was made to the action taken to prevent the long peal attempt at Evesham.—The Rev. C. E. Matthews seconded the motion, which was carried.

The Rev. H. Law James, for the Methods Committee reported that the work was in the hands of Mr. Lewis, and as soon as he could complete it the collection of Plain Major methods would be printed.

The Rev. A. T. Beeston presented the Peals Analysis Committee's report, the essential particulars of which have already been published, and the committee were thanked for the labour exercised on the report.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn moved the adoption of the report of the Towers and Belfries Committee, which included the findings of the Conference between the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings and the committee upon the question of preservation of towers and bells. The summary of the findings has already been published in these columns.

The report was adopted, after a short discussion, and a motion was subsequently passed that 'this Council does not desire to exercise any rights of copyright on the report of the conference.'

The Analysis Committee's report upon the nomenclature of methods came up for consideration, and was adopted, but a discussion arose as to the alteration made by the committee in the names of College Single and Canterbury Pleasure. Eventually it was decided, by 23 votes to 20, to proceed to the next business.

GILLETT & JOHNSTON

ESTABLISHED 1844.

ROYAL EXCHANGE, 1921.

ROCHESTER CATHEDRAL, 1921.

THE CROYDON BELL FOUNDRY

CARISBROOKE, 1921.

WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL, 1921

The Rev. A. T. Beeston presented the report of the Records Committee, which was adopted, and it was agreed to have the schedule typed and put into the library for circulation.

The Hon. Secretary reported for the Museum Exhibit Committee, who have had the promise of Mr. John Carter's machine for five years, and also the promise of bell exhibits from various founders, while he (Mr. Young) had had made a model of a ring of six for the purpose. It was also suggested that there should be a wall exhibit of diagrams. The report was adopted, the diagrams to be those in use in Snowdon's 'Standard Methods.'

Mr. Cave offered to print courses of methods in large figures for the exhibit, and his offer was accepted with thanks.

The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards proposed, 'That this Council, meeting in the Diocese of Salisbury, in which Sir Christopher Wren was born and baptized, expresses the fervent hope that no sanction will be given to any further demolition of the churches, with which he adorned the City of London, and which bear such a valuable witness to the Christian religion in the world's busiest centre of secular activities.'

After a short discussion, in which opinion was expressed that the subject was outside the scope of the Council's business, 'the previous question' was moved and carried.

The Rev. H. Drake, with assent to an alteration in the form of the motion of which he had given notice, moved a resolution as follows: 'That this Council recommends that first or record peals should if possible be rung for a society within the limits of that society's area.'—The motion was held to be impracticable, and on being put to the meeting was lost.

The Rev. H. Drake also moved, 'That the Peals Analysis Committee be asked if they can add a column showing the ratio between the number of members and the points gained by each society.'—This, however, found no seconder, and was accordingly dropped.

The following resolution, moved by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, and seconded by the Rev. E. S. Powell, was carried nem. con.: 'That in compositions of 5,000 changes or upwards on seven or any higher number of bells in which the plan of splicing various methods is adopted, it is essential that there should be no repetition of a row throughout—that is to say, that the whole composition shall be "true" in the universally accepted sense of that word.'

A card of instructions on the care and use of bells suitable for hanging in a tower was considered in detail, and adopted, and the Rev. H. Drake offered to bear the cost of printing up to £5. He was heartily thanked for his offer.

It was decided to approach the Dean of Westminster with a view to holding next year's meeting in the Jerusalem Chamber at Westminster Abbey.

A vote of congratulation was passed, on the motion of Mr. C. T. Colds, to the Ancient Society of College Youths upon their record performance on Monday.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Dean and Chapter for the use of the Chapter House, and to the Salisbury Guild for their excellent arrangements, especially to Major Hughes D'Aeth (Master), the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards (hon. secretary), Mr. T. H. Beams, who was in charge of headquarters, and Mr. Martin Stewart.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the President.

Afterwards a party of over 60 partook of tea in the Church House, at the invitation of Archdeacon Carpenter, and many of the visitors joined in a 'conducted' visit to the Cathedral. In the evening a reception by the officers of the Salisbury Guild took place at the Cathedral Hotel.

NANTWICH BELLS.

AUGMENTATION AT A FINE OLD CHESHIRE CHURCH.

The ring of bells at Nantwich, Cheshire, have just been augmented to eight by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., and as already recorded, the first peal was rung on them on May 5th. The history of the old bells has recently been told in the Nantwich 'Parish Magazine.' In the year 1600 there were five bells in the tower. In 1608 the 'Great Bell' was 'new cast' by George Lee, of Congleton, the weight being 2,300lbs. In the following year the 4th was recast, at the same time that 'the timber worke of the roufe of the steeple, weathercock poole and the tow floures in the steeple were new made.' The next reference to the bells in the records is in 1669, and is as follows: 'Our Great Bell in Nantwich, being above 2000 li. in weight, chanced to be cracked, and was cast anew at Wellington, in Shropshire, by one Clitheroe. Robert Parker, Mercer, and Jon. Dean, Barber, Churchwardens anno 1669, wch. cost the parish near £30.' Forty years later it was deemed advisable to recast the whole peal, and the Wilbraham Journal states: 'Sept. 17th, 1713. The five bells belonging to the Church of N. were taken down in order to cast into six by Abram Rudhall.'

The bells cast in the year before Queen Anne died have remained until the present day, and one did not even require tuning when the recent restoration was carried out. The rehangng of 1713-14 was, however, marred by a tragedy, for the registers record under date January 22nd, 1714: 'Mark, son of Mark Topham, Kill'd by the 4th bell Clapper.'

The peal, as hung by Abram Rudhall, consisted of six bells, of a total weight of some three tons, the largest—tuned to the note F—weighing about 15 cwt., and measuring about 3ft. 8in. across the mouth. The inscriptions are as follow: '(Treble) Prosperity to this Town and Parish, A.R. 1713, (2) Peace and Good Neighbourhood, A.R. 1713, (3) Abr. Rudhall cast us all, 1713 (4) God save the Church and Queen Ann. A.R. 1713, (5) Prosperity to all our Benefactors, A.R. 1713, (Tenor) Tho. Talbot, Humphrey Hales, Churchwardens, 1713. They were hung in a massive oak frame, but this arrangement was never quite satisfactory,' says the Parish Magazine, 'tending to throw considerable strain on the tower, and making good ringing somewhat difficult. Apparently little attention was given to them until 1878. In this year the bells were quarter-turned, the frame was repaired and strengthened, and new wheels and ropes fitted, at a cost of £113 8s.'

THE MANAGEMENT OF ASSOCIATIONS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Your reports of numerous annual meetings of Associations held recently provide much material for reflection concerning the management of these bodies. For instance, some Associations have practically doubled their balance on the general account in a year's working, others have such huge balances that they are considering the investment of the same. Whatever can be the eventual use for it? On the other hand, at least one Association has discussed a motion to increase the fee for membership, and yet another has agreed to charge 6d. for a copy of the annual report! At the same time, there is a notable absence of any statistical matter, e.g., the number of members and towers belonging to each Association compared with a year ago, or the percentage of towers affiliated to each Association as against the towers with rings of bells unaffiliated in each area, etc.

As to the financial aspect, I cannot think of any benefit accruing from the accumulation of large balances, for surely it must be far more advantageous to keep the membership fee at a lower basis, and thus encourage more to join. It must be admitted, too, that members in remote country districts get very little for their money. However, I think the system of the Bath and Wells Association in this respect is worth copying. Next, as to the printing of the annual reports which, owing to abnormal conditions, has become a serious item. I consider each member ought to be presented with an annual report of the essential facts, statistics and financial state of the Association to which they belong, together with the list of officers, rules, etc., which could all be printed on a 4-page leaflet if the space were properly utilised. The printing of the list of peals which at present entails the largest proportion of expense could then be dealt with as a supplemental report and sold at cost price, which I consider would be a far better method of raising the necessary money than a booking fee for peals and much less trouble to everyone concerned. By the way, I should like to mention that I have never yet seen peals set out in a report in an economical manner. It would be quite easy to print nine peals on a demy 8vo. page by printing them in three columns.

Lastly, as to propaganda work undertaken by the Association, I have an insistent feeling that we are not going ahead with the same energy that we did in years past. Thirty years ago my Diocesan Association was giving instruction to five bands in one year, but for some years now they have done nothing in that direction. Then there is still an inexplicable ignorance with many incumbents and bands of ringers concerning the objects of an association to be overcome. Is it not possible that the issue of an informing circular from time to time would increase their knowledge and interest? At any rate, one feels that there is a great work yet to be accomplished. May I also recall a letter which you kindly printed in your journal some two years ago anent the desirability of introducing change ringing in leisure hours in our public schools and theological and training colleges, through which the future clergy and schoolmasters generally pass? I suggested a deputation from the Diocesan Association immediately concerned in each area to point out the great advantages to students, especially those intending to take up work in the Church, of making themselves acquainted with the art, and to offer, on behalf of their Association, the voluntary services of qualified instructors. You, sir, very kindly published a leading article on the subject, and suggested that it might be considered by the Central Council. I think every good ringer agree that the parson who is an enthusiastic ringer is a valuable asset in their work, and generally a good fellow withal.—Yours faithfully,

TOUCHSTONE.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.ENJOYABLE MEETING AT STANMORE.

In remarkably fine weather, a meeting of the North and East District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held at Stanmore and Harrow Weald on Saturday week, upwards of 50 members and friends attending from all parts of the county, and from the neighbouring districts of Bushey, Oxhey and Watford. Excellent practice in several methods was obtained until 5 p.m., when a short service was held at which the Rector (the Rev. S. F. L. Bernays) gave a very helpful and sympathetic address, which was much appreciated. An excellent tea was provided in the Church Institute, and, at the subsequent business meeting, eight new members were admitted, including seven members of the local band.

The hon. secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles) gave a hearty welcome to the several members and friends from 'over the border,' stating that it was one of the best features of their meetings that they were always pleased to see ringers from other Associations, whether members of their own Association or not, and he gave the visitors from Hertfordshire as cordial a welcome as he was sure they would give to their Middlesex friends at their own meetings.

It was announced that a date had been provisionally fixed for the unveiling of the memorial to the late president (Mr. Arthur T. King), and, subject to the necessary faculty being received in time for the work to be completed by June 16th, the ceremony would take place on that date.

It was decided that the next meeting of the district should be held at Barnet on the date mentioned, in connection with the unveiling. Should, however, circumstances not permit of this arrangement to be carried out, the next meeting would be held at Northaw.

Other important items of business included a congratulatory vote to the band that had rung the long peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Stone Stanton; and also a sincere vote of condolence to the relatives of the late Mr. William Grimes, for ten years a member of this Association, and father of one of the most brilliant ringers this society ever had amongst its members.

Votes of thanks were passed to all who had contributed towards the success of the meeting, including the Rector of Stanmore and the Vicar of Harrow Weald; also Mr. Hughes and Mr. Furness, the tower-keeper, and to the organist, and those who had prepared tea.

Afterwards a further visit was paid to the tower. The bells, which now number eight, were in continuous use until nearly 8.30, and the many methods rung ranged from Grand sire to London, including four Surprise methods. The bells, whilst rather noisy in the belfry chamber, are of good tone, and constitute a very nice ring, with a tenor of 12 cwt. It is hoped that the noise in the belfry will soon be obviated.

Several members paid a visit to Harrow Weald, where Mr. J. Furness gave them a hearty welcome, and rang several touches of Plain and Treble Bob Minor and Stedman Doubles.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.CLUN DISTRICT.

The fifth annual meeting of the Clun District was held at Knighton (Radnorshire) on Saturday, April 21st, when there was a muster of 40 members, the following towers being represented: Bromfield, Bitterley, Clun, Clunbury, Hopesay, Knighton, Leintwardine and Ludlow.

A special service was held in the Parish Church, conducted by the Rev. S. P. Jones, the Guild's service being used, and a very helpful address was given by the Vicar (the Rev. T. S. Griffiths).

Tea followed, Mr. and Mrs. Tench most kindly entertaining the whole party.—The Rev. H. J. Scott, on behalf of the members, expressed their thanks to the host and hostess for so kindly entertaining them; also to the Vicar and the Rev. S. P. Jones, Mr. P. Jones (Belfry Master), and the local hon. secretary (Mr. H. Smallwood) for the excellent arrangements made for the gathering.

The business meeting immediately followed, and was presided over by the Rev. H. J. Scott, Ringing Master.—The hon. secretary (Mr. W. Mead, Clun) presented the balance sheet for 1922, and reported that the balance in hand had increased to £3 5s. 9d., and the membership to 31. Good progress was being made, the Guild being in a very healthy condition, having a balance in hand of £70, and a membership of nearly 600.—Three hon. members and 15 members and probationers were elected.

The District Ringing Master (the Rev. H. J. Scott) and the district hon. secretary (Mr. W. Mead) were re-elected, and it was decided to accept the offer of Mr. W. H. Fussell to give a round of instruction to the various towers in the district.—The next meeting will be held at Bishop's Castle.

Afterwards some good handbell ringing took place and an adjournment to the tower was then made, the bells being kept going until nightfall.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

A most successful half-yearly meeting of the North Berkshire Branch was held at Abingdon on May 5th. Service was held in St. Helen's Church, and a most appropriate address was given by the Vicar, the Rev. H. A. Kennedy. There were some seventy ringers present, including members of the local band, and visitors from Caversham, Appleton, Wallingford, Goring, Bucklebury, Hagbourne, Harwell, Steventon, Chalgrove, Marcham, Hendred, Chilton, Blewbury, Hinton, etc., and all were entertained to a most enjoyable tea. The meeting was presided over by the Branch Chairman (the Rev. E. H. W. Leachman), and the report presented by the hon. secretary, Mr. A. E. Lock, was very favourable. Both these officers were unanimously re-elected, and it was decided to hold the next meeting, which takes place at a date to be settled later (usually in October), at Appleton.

The Master (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) and the Guild secretary (Mr. R. T. Hibbert) both addressed the meeting, the latter congratulating the local bands at Wallingford and Steventon on their successful progress in change ringing.

The bells at St. Helen's and St. Nicholas were at the disposal of the ringers, and touches of Grandire Triples and Caters, Stedman Caters and Treble Bob Royal were rung on the former. Sutton Courtenay and Drayton bells were also utilised.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL MEETING.

As a 'social' event the Central Council Meeting at Salisbury surpassed any that had gone before it, and the Salisbury Guild, and particularly the Committee responsible for the arrangements, can look with satisfaction upon their efforts to provide for the comfort and entertainment of the members of the Ringers' Parliament, and the Council are greatly indebted to them. The programme, however, went further than merely catering for the pleasure of the visitors, and had the result of giving a new impetus, as it were, to the claim of ringers to be recognised as Church Workers. For the first time in the history of the Council, they were welcomed by the Bishop of the Diocese in which they were meeting, and it was clear from the Bishop's speech that he is under no doubt as to the position which ringers should occupy in the organisation of the Church. It is to the great advantage of church bell ringing that a dignitary such as the Bishop of Salisbury should publicly welcome a body like the Central Council, and this one feature of last week's meeting alone would make the Salisbury meeting a memorable one. The circumstances of the Council's meeting do not always render it possible to bring it into the same touch with the head of a diocese as on this occasion, but what was done at Salisbury is a precedent which we hope may be followed on many future occasions.

The business side of the Council's visit was interesting, without having any striking features. Sufficient material was found to provide a meeting of several hours' duration, and despite some waste of time and discursive discussion, there was 'something attempted, something done.' Most of the Committees were able to report progress in the various directions in which their work lay, but we must defer to later issues comments upon details. The notices of motion on the agenda were neither numerous nor, as it turned out, generally acceptable to the Council. Three resolutions were 'turned down' by one means or another, and only that relating to the truth of spliced-method peals on seven or more bells was carried. There has scarcely been a meeting of the Council at which there has been so little debate upon subjects which come under the heading of 'notices of motion.' Indeed, the Council seemed to consider them hardly worth discussion. It is a pity that more of the affiliated associations do not send up suitable subjects for discussion by the Council. There ought to be among the many organisations that exist, a sufficiency of ideas upon matters closely affecting the welfare of ringing and ringers, to provide the Council every year with a really serious agenda to debate. Until this is realised and acted upon, there will always be a weakness reacting upon the usefulness of the Council.

PORTSMOUTH DISTRICT.

A beautiful day and the glorious scenery of the Meon Valley brought many ringers to the meeting held at West Meon on Saturday last. The bells were placed at the disposal of the ringers during the afternoon and evening, and members attended from Aldershot, Alton, Portsmouth (St. Mary's and St. Thomas'), North Stoneham, Southampton, Swanmore, Upham, Wickham and Winchester, and also Mr. E. P. Duffield.

The tea and meeting were held at the Red Lion Hotel, the latter presided over by the Master (Mr. G. Williams). One new member was elected, and it was decided to hold the next meeting at Bishop's Waltham, in August.—A vote of thanks was passed to the Rector for the use of the bells, after which the ringers visited the tower until 8.30 p.m. Although the attendance was not very large, the twenty ringers who were present made good use of the bells in all standard methods, and also Cambridge and Superlative Surprise.

At the annual meeting of the Essex Association on Whit Monday, Mr. O. H. Howard was elected Master for the fourteenth successive time. Mr. F. J. Pittow was re-elected hon. secretary.

The membership of the association is 989, a decrease of 32 on the year, but there is a record number of 99 towers in union with the association. Financially there was a net gain on the year of £4 10s. 3d., and the number of peals rung was 48. A report of the meeting will appear in our next issue.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS.NEXT YEAR'S JUBILEE.

The annual general meeting was held at Cullompton on Whit Monday. A service was held in the Parish Church, conducted by the Vicar, at which there was an attendance of over 150. All told, there were present at the dinner and meeting no less than 186 members and visitors—almost a record for the Guild, 22 bands in union being represented, besides ringers from Croydon, Hershams, Taunton and Bridgwater.

The annual report for 1922, which showed steady but real advance in the progress of change ringing, was brought forward by the general secretary (the Rev. D. S. Powell), and seconded by the general treasurer (Mr. T. G. Bartlett), who described how the accumulated funds were being expended in meeting the out-of-pocket expenses of instructors to bands of learners.

The membership of the Guild for 1922 consisted of 72 honorary, 123 life, 283 performing, and 115 associate members, together with four lady associates making a total of 597, representing a net increase of 84 in the course of the year. There were 42 affiliated bands, as against 36 in 1921.

The President (the Rev. M. Kelly) moved a resolution dealing with the coming jubilee of the Guild, which was founded on March 21st, 1874. He himself was elected a member on June 17th 1874, and in a moving speech he outlined the progress made during the intervening period both in the status of the ringer and the practice of change ringing, which was practically unknown in the South-West at the time of the foundation of the Guild. He made an urgent appeal for unity among ringers, the lack of which, where it exists, being in all respects disastrous. He pointed out that the Devon Guild was the earliest of all similar associations in the country, and that its jubilee would, therefore, occur before any other.—He moved the following resolution, which was adopted: 'That the general annual meeting on Whit Monday, 1924, take the form of a jubilee festival held in Exeter, and that the service be in the Cathedral, if the Dean be willing. That in order to celebrate the occasion further it is desirable that every band in union should endeavour to accomplish during the year ending March 21st, 1924, something which it has not previously done to further the advance of change ringing in the Diocese of Exeter. The members of each band will themselves decide the form of this undertaking. That the Guild organise a peal of Grandsire Cinques for the jubilee, if sanction can be obtained.'

All the officers of the Guild were re-elected.

HAMPSHIRE'S NEW EIGHT.HURSLEY BELLS DEDICATED.

On Saturday, May 19th, the augmented peal of eight bells at Hursley, Hants, was dedicated, the service being conducted by the Rev. O. E. Matthews, vice-president of the Winchester Diocesan Guild, and Rural Dean of Lyndhurst. Mr. Matthews was formerly curate at Hursley, 1896-99, since which time he has been Vicar of Bursledon, and of Titchfield, and is now Vicar of Milford-on-Sea. In the course of the service and during the singing of the hymn, 'The church bells ringing from the height,' the clergy and choir proceeded to the western tower. Here the Vicar (the Rev. J. R. Husband) asked the Rev. O. E. Matthews to dedicate the bells 'to the glory and praise of God.' Mr. Matthews and the Vicar ascended the tower to the belfry, where the dedicatory prayers were said; also the prayer appointed by the Guild, after which three bob leads of Grandsire Triples were rung, while the choir and clergy returned to the chancel, the service being resumed. The Rev. O. E. Matthews then gave an excellent address, basing his discourse on the words, 'There are so many kinds of voices in the world, and none of them is without signification,' 1 Cor. xiv. 10. Following the address, a hymn, 'The sacred bells of England,' composed by the Rev. O. E. Matthews, was sung, and the service closed with the Blessing. Afterwards touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major were rung.

Tea was kindly provided by the Vicar, ringers being present from Bishopstoke, Bindfield, North Stoneham, Romsey, Winchester, and the local band, and Mr. C. Dean from the Croydon Foundry.—Mr. W. T. Tucker apologised for the absence of Mr. G. Williams, Master of the Guild, and Mr. W. Andrews thanked the Vicar for his hospitality. Further ringing took place in the evening, including two courses of Treble Bob.

The new treble has been given by Sir G. A. Cooper, Bart., of Hursley Park, and the 2nd by Mr. F. W. Talbot, of Pitt, Hursley. The 3rd and tenor have been recast, and the latter is now 14 cwt. in F sharp, being 2 cwt. heavier than the old bell. Of the rest, the 4th and 5th were cast in 1835 by W. and J. Taylor, of Oxford, and the 6th and 7th in 1616. These two bells bear the inscriptions, respectively, 'Prayse God, I.W.,' and 'Give thanks' to God, I.W.' The previous tenor was cast in 1713. The back six are hung in the old frame, which has been strengthened, the new trebles being in an iron frame. The whole work reflects great credit upon Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, who have executed the contract, and Hursley possesses one of the finest peals of eight for their weight in Hampshire.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

His many friends in England, as well as in Ireland, will learn with deep regret that Mr. Gabriel Lindoff has lost his wife. Mrs. Lindoff was staying in England for her health, and only on Thursday Mr. Lindoff received a reassuring letter from her. On Friday she passed away suddenly. The deepest sympathy will go out to Mr. Lindoff in his bereavement.

A thanksgiving peal was rung at Alrewas, Staffs, on Tuesday week, for the recovery of the Vicar from serious illness. The bells at this church have recently been recast, and two trebles added by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, upon whom the splendid work done reflects the greatest credit. The tone and 'go' of the bells is all that can be desired.

A correspondent, writing with reference to the bells at St. John's, Horsleydown, where, as mentioned in this column, the first peal of Stedman Caters was rung, says that he surveyed this ring in March with the view to teaching a band, but found it impossible to ring the bells, the strap irons of several having snapped, and some having no ropes. The Vicar and churchwardens would like to have the bells rung, but the parish being a poor one, they cannot raise the necessary money for the restoration.

The Saffron Walden Society celebrates its tercentenary on June 27th. It has an unbroken history of 300 years, almost an unrivalled thing in ringing annals, and there ought to be a record gathering of ringers for this unique event. The Mayor and Corporation are taking a hand in the celebration, particulars of which are announced in an advertisement.

Wilfred Taffender, son of the Master of the London County Association, has achieved yet another distinction. Having rung 'inside' for a peal of London as his first peal, and achieved other performances of great merit, he has now rung his first peal as conductor, this being a peal of Stedman Triples (his first), which he called from a non-observation bell! And his age is 15 years!

Owing to a fete being held at Long Melford on June 23rd next, in aid of their bell restoration fund, the Lavenham annual gathering will be postponed. Notice of the event will appear in the 'Ringing World' in due time.

The peal of Stedman Triples, rung at Preston on May 15th, and reported in our issue of the 25th, was rung in 3 hrs. 16 mins. (not 2 hrs. 16 mins.).

The bell of Great Brampton House, Herefordshire, is rung six times daily by the Ringing Master of the Diocesan Guild, excepting when he is ringing a larger bell at one of the parish churches.

June 4th is the anniversary of the opening of two well-known peals of bells. In 1762 the new peal of 16n at Bow, Cheapside, were rung for the first time, and in 1814 the bells of St. Nicholas', Liverpool, were opened.

The long peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major (16,608) was rung in 10 hrs. 32 mins., at Debenham on June 6th, 1892, and on June 8th, 1906, the 16,800 in the Kent Variation was rung in 9 hrs. 40 mins., at Mottram, Cheshire.

The report of a peal rung at Burnham has been sent without the number of changes.

The Bishop of Salisbury, the Dean and the Archdeacon of Sarum attended the meeting to welcome the Council.

The welcome extended to the Council by the Bishop of Salisbury was a very hearty one. He said they had done wisely in choosing that city as a place of meeting, for he felt sure they would admire it and fall in love with it, as everyone did who came there. He welcomed them as Bishop of that Diocese, because he wanted to do all he could to encourage the work they did. He had the greatest possible opinion of the whole work of bell ringing, and he claimed to know a little about it, because he had lived in a country for seventeen years where there were hardly any bells, and coming back to the sound of the bells made a real difference. There were two peals of bells in his diocese of Brisbane, and when he went there one peal was in abeyance. He remembered what a tremendous effort was made by a few old Englishmen to get the bells rehung. They struggled until they got them done, and they were now hung as the Cathedral bells of Brisbane. Continuing, the Bishop said from the point of view of history he felt the bells were a real and eloquent link with the past. Bells had been associated with the main episodes of the life of the nation, they expressed the people's joy and sorrow, they had expressed the people's warlike spirit. As a citizen he felt that bell ringing, especially in the country places, provided an agreeable and delightful occupation for their young men, and he wondered why young men had not taken it up more freely, because it combined so many things—skill, and interest and good exercise. As a clergyman, he felt the connection between the young men, who rang the bells, and the clergy of the parish churches generally ought to be a very real one (applause), and he was sure it could be made a very real one. It did not follow that the clergy need know how to ring, but it certainly was his desire that the clergy should take the greatest interest in the belfry (applause). When he had a church where there was a peal of bells, he was frequently up in the belfry, and those ringers were most faithful not only in their ringing, but in their attendance at church (applause). As between the clergy and the bell ringers there was a real link, which should be kept up. In conclusion, the Bishop added that although they welcomed that Council to Salisbury, the most beautiful city in England, they also felt honoured by their coming there representing as they did such a wide interest (applause).

The President, on behalf of the Council, thanked the Bishop most warmly for his kindness in coming to their meeting, and for his inspiring and helpful address. It was a matter not only of interest, but of very great benefit to them, to know that the head of that diocese came to welcome them as loyal church workers in England (applause). Although the Council had met for 30 years, it was only within the last two years or so that they had been honoured by the presence of any cathedral dignitary to welcome them. They were welcomed at Gloucester by the Dean, and at Lincoln by the Dean, but that was the first time they had had a Bishop to address them (applause). They had also had the Dean with them, and the Archdeacon of Sarum. They were glad to be welcomed by those who held such high office in that diocese, and thanked them for their kindness (applause).

The Bishop briefly replied, and then left the meeting with the Dean and Archdeacon.

The audited accounts, a summary of which we gave last week, were passed, on the motion of the Rev. H. Law James seconded by Canon Elsee.

ADVERSE BALANCE ON PUBLICATIONS.

The Hon. Librarian, in presenting his accounts, reported that contrary to custom he had to declare an adverse balance on the year's working, and had to ask the Council to refund to him the sum of £2 15s. Quite accurately, the balance on the year's working was only adverse to the amount of 15s. It would be remembered that at Lincoln it was voted that a sum of 5s. per volume should be allowed to him for binding copies of 'Bell News' for the library. He had had eight volumes bound, which thus accounted for the £2. There is now for the purpose of reference a complete historical record of ringing from 1871 to the present date. The thanks of the Exercise were due to those members who had contributed towards this. With regard to the 15s., he had realised by sales of publications an amount within 9s. of last year, but the contribution from the 'on sale or return' source was short of last year to the amount of over £3. Accordingly, between them they had only realised £9 16s. 8d., which did little more than cover the cost of advertising. However, the books were finding their way among ringers. During the year he had bought in 30 copies of 'On the Preservation of Bells,' and had sold them nearly all. He had no more copies of 'Rules for an Association,' and only a very few of 'Rules for a Company,' while the 'Collection of Minor Methods' would at the present rate hardly last for two years. There had been a fair demand for the loan of the 'Treble Bob Peals Collection.' The Librarian added, 'I should like to put on record that I am constantly being asked for a book for beginners. There is not, I believe, on the market such a book at anything like the price of even the most expensive of the Council's publications, which are chiefly for the more advanced, and I venture to suggest that the Council should bear this in mind.'

FALSE COMPOSITIONS.

Mr. G. P. Burton pointed out that a great many peals in the 'Collection of Peals' were false compositions. Ringers purchased these books thinking that the compositions were true; they chose one and rang it, and perhaps found it was false. He suggested that the librarian, before issuing further copies, should stamp in the books that these peals were false, and that there was no guarantee that any of them were true. The worst feature was that they sold the books as official publications of the Council, and it was a very bad thing for them to let them go out with false compositions in them.

The Librarian said he had written to the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson that the Peal Collection Committee should take in hand the proving of all peals in the collection. Mr. Richardson had replied that he thought it was a good idea, and asking to be supplied with copies of the collection. These had been sent to him. He (the librarian) thought he had better be authorised to stamp each volume with a notice that the truth of the peals was not guaranteed.

Mr. W. A. Cave said he did not like either of the suggestions. To indicate that the compositions were not guaranteed would render the book almost valueless to those ringers who did not trouble about proving. He considered it would be best to find out the peals that were false and issue a slip.

Mr. J. A. Trollope said so far as the Bob Major Collection, for which he was responsible, was concerned he believed there was only one false peal; but he would undertake to let the librarian know which was false, and also to go through the peals of Double Oxford and certify them.

The Rev. H. Law James undertook to go through the Double Norwich collection in the same way.

Mr. A. H. Pulling suggested that when the false compositions had been ascertained they should be advertised in 'The Ringing World' for the benefit of those ringers who had already purchased these books.

The suggestion that each of the false compositions should be stamped was agreed to, and the librarian's report was adopted, an offer by the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore to present a copy of 'Campanology' to the library, being accepted with thanks.

RINGERS' ROLL OF HONOUR.

The Hon. Librarian reported that at the last Council meeting he was instructed to prepare a Ringers' Roll of Honour. Immediately afterwards he wrote to all secretaries of associations, enclosing their lists (which he had been keeping since the Northampton meeting) for revision. He asked especially for ringers' names, initials, towers and information as to their membership in other associations in order to avoid repetition. He received the last of these returns on the previous Saturday. He dealt with them as they were returned, and he had each man's name clearly written on a separate card, together with his initials and his tower, and Guild or association. There would be between 1,100 and 1,200 names. It was for the Council now to say in what manner they should be preserved. When the matter was brought up at Lincoln an offer was made to write the names free of charge in a book to be provided, but in view of the number of names (nearly double what was anticipated) he hardly liked to mention the offer. He suggested that a small committee be appointed to deal with the matter, the Council naming an approximate sum to be expended. The librarian added that the Standing Committee had had the matter under consideration, and suggested that the names be written in good 'copper-plate' writing upon leaves of good paper, these leaves to be afterwards bound into a book. Illumination should be on the title page only, which should contain these words:—

'Church Bell Ringers' Memorial Book of the Great War, 1914-1918.

They whom this work commemorates were numbered among those who, at the call of King and country, left all that was dear to them, endured hardness, faced danger, and finally passed out of the sight of men by the path of duty and self-sacrifice, giving up their own lives that others might live in freedom.'

Then should follow the list of names, with initials, the town to which the man belonged, and in brief form, his Guild or association. The Standing Committee suggested that this should be done at a cost not exceeding £20. That cost might be very much less if they could have the same or a similar offer as that made last year. It was for the Council to accept these suggestions, or to propose a sub-committee to act with him.

Alderman J. S. Pritchett said he would be loath to limit the cost to £20, although he agreed that not more than £20 should be taken from the funds of the Council. If, however, it cost more than £20 to do it properly, he suggested they might raise the balance by means of subscriptions among themselves, for many of them would gladly subscribe to make this list worthy of the Council (applause).

The proposals made by the librarian were adopted, and the matter was left in his hands, the suggestion being added that the question of the most suitable paper and most durable ink to be employed, should be left to authorities at the British Museum to decide.

PEAL COLLECTION.

It was reported that the remainder of the collection of the Peals of Treble Bob were in the hands of the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, and it was left with him to carry on, a desire being expressed that the committee would present a definite report upon the position to the next Council meeting.

LOSS TO KENT RINGING.

The Kent County Association and the All Saints' Society, Maidstone, band, have lost a valuable and esteemed member in the person of Mr. Thomas Mannerling, who died on May 4th after eleven weeks' illness, aged 53 years. From boyhood he had been a member of the choir of St. Peter's, Maidstone, and also belonged to the West Borough Adult School. For thirty-six years he was a member of the All Saints' band of ringers and for twenty-two years conductor. He was also on the committee of the association as representative of the Maidstone district. In 1890 he was made a College Youth.

A very safe ringer, equally good at either the light or heavy end, he had rung seventy-four peals, of which he had conducted sixteen.

A good number of his ringing friends attended the funeral on May 9th, the greater portion of the service being held at St. Peter's, the Rev. F. T. Marr, Vicar of St. Peter's; Canon Harcastle, of All Saints', and the hon. secretary of the association (the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore) taking part. Canon Harcastle gave a short address, in which he spoke very feelingly of Tom Mannerling's exemplary life and conduct, as a Christian man, a regular chorister and Sunday School teacher, and a first-class ringer and conductor. His body was laid to rest in the beautiful cemetery at Loose, belonging to the town of Maidstone.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

RAPID GROWTH.

The annual festival was held at Hereford on Whit Monday. The proceedings comprised a service in the Ladye Chapel of the Cathedral, with an address by the Bishop; luncheon in the Old Oak Room of the Boothe Hall Hotel, presided over by the Bishop, and the business meeting.

A simple but very beautiful service was conducted by the Rev. G. W. Turner, Vicar of Madley, hon. general secretary of the Guild, the special form of service being used. The Rev. H. D. Wall (diocesan missionary) presided at the organ, and the Rev. R. A. Lyne read the lessons. The collection, which was for the memorial tablet fund, amounted to £2.

The Lord Bishop, in a very thoughtful and helpful address, said that discipline, co-operation and sincerity, were the chief factors which made for success in bell ringing, and these were exactly the characteristics that were most wanted among men. He believed the bell ringers were doing a great service to the diocese.—Some 120 bell ringers were present and listened with rapt attention.

At the lunch there were present 111 ringing and hon. members, representing over 30 parishes. An excellent hot dinner was enjoyed.—After the loyal toast, Mr. C. Edwards, Ringing Master, proposed the health of the Bishop and clergy, and thanked the Bishop for his address.—The Bishop responded, and proposed the health of the Master, Mr. J. G. Buchanan, who had been an officer in the Guild since its birth, 37 years ago; six years as hon. secretary, and 31 years as Master.

After the Master had returned thanks, Mr. W. H. Fussell proposed 'the health of the Guild' in an interesting and eloquent speech.

At the business meeting the officers were re-elected.—The accounts showed a balance of £70 3s. 4d., being an increase of £10 18s. 4d. The balances of the districts amount to £42 13s. 2d. There are 76 tower in union with the Guild, an increase of six, and 605 ringers, an increase of 45; hon. members increased from 58 to 80.

The annual report of the Guild shows that the organisation is in a very sound condition. Sixty peals were rung in 1922, against 28 in 1921, and the report comments that these are a sign of increased skill and great keenness. The man who has rung a peal will never cease to remember that he is a bell ringer. The Guild is in a very satisfactory financial position, the districts having added £5 12s. 3d. to their balances, and the Central Fund £10 18s. 4d. to its balance instead of losing £15 as last year. This is due partly to a windfall of £4 4s. for two life honorary members, partly to the reduced cost of printing the report, and partly to the payment by the districts of half instead of a third of their receipts. The financial stability is to a great extent due to the increase in hon. members. In 1921 they numbered 58; in 1922, 80. With regard to probationers, the report states that four districts out of ten have no probationers. This is a sign of weakness. It either means that there has been no growth, or that members are, contrary to rule, admitted to full membership without first being on probation. Experience shows that what men obtain easily they value lightly. Even where ringers' subscriptions are paid out of a local fund, probationers should be required to pay their 2s. 6d. on admission to the tower. The association's war memorial is to cost about £35, but only about £11 has been received from 35 towers. It is hoped the other towers will quickly send their contributions. The report adds some words of advice, suggesting that all members should take a copy of 'The Ringing World,' and that each tower should pay out of its funds for a copy. This should be done, says the report, not only for the advantage of each tower, but also as a duty for the advancement of ringing generally.

THE STEDMAN CINQUES RECORD.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I be allowed to offer my very hearty congratulations to my colleagues in London upon their meritorious performance at Southwark Cathedral on Whit Monday, especially to that wonderful old veteran, Mr. Challis E. Whinney. I have no wish to single out any one man in particular—even Mr. Hughes' part was wonderful—but I think every ringer in the country will acknowledge with pride and pleasure Mr. Whinney's extraordinary feat and marvellous endurance both in mind and body for such a lengthy period. I know from experience that St. Saviour's bells are not toys to handle, and I suppose one gets used to Mr. Whinney's almost automatic accuracy in all methods, but apart from that, the physical strain upon a man of 65 is enormous and bound to tell its tale. I am sure all of his brother ringers will join me in wishing him continued good health and strength to carry on the wonderful work he is doing, and that his very alert mind and equally active body may hold out to add further laurels to an already enviable career.

This performance on the part of each individual ringer, to say nothing of the responsibility incurred by the popular conductor, Mr. Bert Langdon, merits the widest publicity.—Yours faithfully

FRANK BALL.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION.
THE OVERLAPPING OF SOCIETIES.

The annual general meeting of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was held at Cirencester on Whit Monday, and proved to be very successful. About 90 members attended, and these included life members from Birmingham and Cambridge, whilst three charabancs were requisitioned to convey members from Bristol. The bells of the Parish Church; Holy Trinity, Watermoor; Siddington, and South Cerney were open for ringing, and a service was held at Holy Trinity by kind permission of the Rev. Westmacott.

The Master (Mr. H. T. Howell) was unable to attend owing to the serious illness of his wife, and a vote of sympathy was accorded to him by the general meeting.—The Rev. T. C. Fowler, vice-president, was elected to the chair, and read a very satisfactory report of the year's work from the Master.

The hon. treasurer's balance sheet was incomplete owing to one branch not having sent their returns to him in time, and was referred back for the second year in succession.

The Hon. Secretary pointed out the need of action either by the Central Council or the Association to prevent overlapping of district associations into diocesan areas. He pointed out that a neighbouring association which was for a district, had in one of their branches approximately forty per cent. membership enlisted from the Gloucester diocese.

The vice-presidents were re-elected, with the addition of Mr. F. K. Howell, who retires from the hon. treasurership, after having served for so many years in various offices of the association.

Mr. Francis J. Lewis, of Cirencester, was elected as Master, and is thus honoured for his excellent services in the past.—Mr. William Lansdon, of Bristol, was elected hon. treasurer, and the hon. secretary and peal secretary were re-elected.

Acting upon the recommendation of the Central Council, it was decided to establish a belfry repair fund, and a monthly subscription sheet is to be issued to all towers in both dioceses.

It was agreed to place a brass tablet in St. Stephen's tower, Bristol, to the memory of the late Mr. Raymond John Wilkins.

It was also agreed to issue reports for the year 1921.—A vote of thanks to the Rev. Westmacott, the organist and verger, for their kindness in helping with the service, was heartily accorded, as were also thanks to Mr. F. J. Lewis for recommending such an excellent place for meals.—The vote of thanks was proposed by the Rev. E. J. Phillips in a humorous speech.

THE NEW PEAL AT COLLATON.

The new peal of bells recently installed at Collaton, Devon, by Messrs. W. Aggett and Sons, Bell Works, Chagford, were dedicated on Saturday, May 26th, by the Lord Bishop of Exeter. There was an impressive service, in the course of which a procession, comprising the choir, clergy and the Bishop, moved to the tower, where the Lord Bishop read the names of the men whose names are inscribed on each of the bells, and offered the dedicatory prayers.

The bells were rung for five minutes by the newly-formed Collaton band of ringers, with great success, under the conductorship of Mr. Pope. After the address, given by the Lord Bishop, the bells were set going by the Mid-Devon Branch of the Devon Guild, representatives being present from Torquay, Plymouth, Dartmouth, Marlton, Ipplepen, Stoke Gabriel, Exeter and Newton Abbot, and other ringers from the West of England. The tone, and especially the 'go' of the bells, were excellent, and all expressed their approval at the highly efficient work, so well carried out by Messrs. W. Aggett and Sons. The bells are all hung on the firm's patent adjustable bearings and modern fittings.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A most successful meeting of the Bedford district was held at Thurlough on Saturday, May 26th. Members were present from Bedford, Riddenham, Kempston, Clapham, Roxton, Turvey, Dunstable, Great Staughton, Kettering and Isham; Miss K. Willars, of Trumpington (who rang her first course of London Surprise Minor) and the local company. Tea was served at the Red Lion, and at the business meeting, at which Mr. C. W. Clarke presided, it was proposed to hold the next meeting at Kempston. Two new members were elected, Messrs. T. Osborn, of Thurlough, and J. Barker, of Clapham.

The methods rung during the afternoon and evening ranged from Bob Doubles to London Surprise Minor.—A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and defraying half expenses for the tea brought a good meeting to a close.

FARNHAM, SURREY.—At St. Andrew's Church, on Sunday, May 6th, for morning service, a quarter-peal (1,260 changes) of Grandsire Triples, in 46 mins.: H. Kemp (first quarter-peal) 1, H. Prior 2, G. Upshall 3, R. J. Hasted 4, E. Clapshaw 5, T. Upshall 6, R. Hasted (composer and conductor) 7, A. E. King 8.—For evening service, 504 Grandsire Triples: R. Knox 1, H. Prior 2, A. J. Le Clercq 3, R. J. Hasted 4, G. Upshall 5, T. Upshall 6, R. Hasted (conductor) 7, A. E. King 8.

'A CITY OF BELLS.'

EXETER'S NEW PEAL OF EIGHT.

St. Thomas' Church, Exeter, with its lofty pinnacled tower, is now in possession of a magnificent ring of eight bells, which have been provided by the great generosity of Mr. Edgar Stroud Plummer, the Vicar's warden. Formerly there was a ring of six, which fell into dilapidation in the early years of the century, and finally had to be abandoned for ringing in 1916. Mr. Plummer was interested in a scheme of restoration as a result of the representations made to him by Mr. W. J. Southwood, the hon. secretary of the Exeter district of the Devon Guild. At first the recasting of the cracked 5th and the re-hanging of the bells was contemplated, but eventually Mr. Plummer decided to make himself responsible for a complete renovation and augmentation, with the result that Exeter possesses yet another peal of eight bells, and is rapidly becoming a 'City of Bells,' having not only the peal with heaviest tenor, but, for its size and population, probably the greatest number of ringable peals.

The restoration at St. Thomas' has been worthily carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, and the tenor is now 14 cwt. 5 qr. 8 lb. The two new bells are inscribed as follows:

Treble: Remember Edgar Stroud Plummer and Evelyn his wife, who first gave this bell, 1923.

'There is neither speech nor language, but their voices are heard among them.'

2nd: Remember Edgar Stroud Plummer and Evelyn his wife, who first gave this bell, 1923.

'Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring out the false, ring in the true.'

The old six bells were cast in 1789 by the Penningsons, and the treble, recast in 1901, had added the name of General Sir Redvors Buller, V.C., who was then patron of the living. The recast tenor is inscribed:—

James Buller Esq., Patron; Chr. Churchill, Vicar, I.P., C.P. 1789

The six old bells were recast and rehung, and two new trebles added as a gift from Edgar S. Plummer, Crossmead, Exeter. The Lord Bishop of Exeter, Patron; Hubert G. Chalk, Vicar; Edgar S. Plummer, Edward J. Henson, churchwardens; Gillett and Johnston, Croydon, 1923.

The Bishop of Exeter dedicated the bells at a special festival service on Whit Sunday, and following the dedicatory prayers the bells were rung for the first time by the St. Thomas' band viz., J. Hosgood, W. J. Shobbrook, W. S. Robert, T. J. Stokes, A. Monkley, J. Moss, C. G. Routley and A. H. Goad. The ringers were attired in cassocks, which is quite a novelty. It adds, doubtless, to the solemnity of the proceedings, where the ringing chamber is open to the church, but is hardly likely to increase the comfort of the ringers.

The Bishop concluded an appropriate and thoughtful sermon by remarking that the bells should not be rung merely as a pastime, but as part of a great service and the worship of God. The church bells gave God's message as truly and as really as the man who stood either in choir or pulpit. Let them esteem those bells—thank God for the gift, and say a prayer for the ringers and donor, and pray that the message of the bells would reach some soul.

After the dedication service the bells were rung by St. Sidwell's band, and after evening service by the Cathedral company. Mr. Plummer entertained the ringers to tea.

Not the least interesting of the day's proceedings was the unveiling in the evening of a 'Ringers' Tablet,' placed in the tower entrance to the church as an appreciation of Mr. Plummer's generosity. Mr. W. J. Southwood crowned his many acts of kindness in connection with the installation of the bells by designing a handsome oak tablet subscribed for by ringers (past and present) who desired to set on record their feelings of gratification and appreciation. The tablet—five feet long and two feet six inches deep—bears an incised inscription, and illuminated panels on vellum. The inscription is as follows: 'St. Thomas' Church Bells. Augmented to a peal of eight, the old six being entirely recast and the bells rehung in an iron frame with ball bearings by Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon. The whole of the above being the generous gift of Edgar S. Plummer, eight years warden of this parish.' The left-hand panel contains the inscriptions on the bells and the right-hand panel the names of the St. Thomas' ringers who first rang them. The tablet also contains particulars of the weights of the bells, and the fact that the St. Sidwell's band rang after the dedication and the Cathedral band after evensong. The tablet was unveiled by the Vicar, who based his sermon on ringing. There was a large congregation.

The work of providing a raised ringing chamber, putting in a new floor under the bell cage, and certain repairs to the structure of the tower, have been undertaken by the parish, and represents an expenditure of about £150 or £160. The chiming apparatus is to be put in order, and it is hoped to carry out this work when the clock chimes are being adjusted.

In connection with the restoration of the bells Messrs. W. J. Southwood and Co. have issued a souvenir booklet, the sale of which at 6d. each is intended to augment the St. Thomas' Church Tower Fund. The souvenir contains much interesting matter and several excellent photographs.
