MEN AND MANNERS.

Some time ago, I stood in St. Mary's churchyard, Nottingham, over the grave of Doubleday Crofts, a well-known composer and conductor of the last century. The stone slab which marks his last resting place, lies face upwards, and being thus exposed to the elements, the lettering is not easy to decipher. The inscription might be recut for a trifle, and were I a ringer of Nottingham, nothing would prevent me collecting a few pence from the ringers in the town for the purpose. Don't let my Notts. friends think for a moment that I infer lack of interest in these things, for I know they receive no encouragement from the incumbents who have bells under their control. In the borough of Nottingham there are two rings of eight and one of ten, and yet, with plenty of willing ringers, no peal can be rung. I am told that if only a short touch is attempted, the usual grumblers make themselves heard. I cannot see any reason why a peal should be forbidden at St. Mary's, except in cases of illness in the immediate vicinity. I have stood at different points around the church while the bells have been going, and could not detect the slightest dissonance. Moreover, if the respected Vicar and wardens would brick up on the inside part of windows in the bell-chamber, the objections could not exist only in the most bigoted persons, for by this process, the sound in the neighbourhood is reduced to a minimum. In regard to All Saints, I believe the same objections exist, and if so, the same course might be pursued. The cost would be nominal, and if the church authorities desire, the columns of this paper shall be at their disposal for a subscription for the purpose I have suggested. The Vicars are Honorary members of the Midland Counties' Association, and the Rev. H. A. Gem, of All Saints, honoured the last annual meeting by his presence. Will the reverend gentleman move in this matter, with his brother-clergy, for the sake of the Art of ringing, in which Nottingham once stood most prominent, and for the men who needs must travel elsewhere to ring that which might be done at home. This applies to other towns besides the one mentioned, but if the clergy will only hold out one hand, the ominous motto, Ichabod, will be removed from many belfries in the days which are to come.

The Home Secretary's decision to release several notorious dynamitards has caused a sensation, seeing that his predecessor in office ignored the many appeals made on their behalf. Evidently Sir Matthew White Ridley stands on the motto—"Be just and fear not." We are told in the comic papers that man is like an egg: To keep him in hot water a little while will be sufficient, but keeping him in hot water too long will make him hard. There may be a deal of truth in this. I believe it is possible, nay, highly probable, that continuous punishment instead of softening a prisoner, will have the contrary effect, and will incite his worst passions with the result that on his release he plunges back into his old haunts and crimes. The prison chaplain and The Discharged Prisoners' Aid Society are the only stepping stones for the gaol bird, and the reforms they effect are incalculable. We have it on record that cases have been known where the employer of a discharged prisoner has been visited by the police and warned of the man he employs, with the obvious result of his loss of his situation, and then finding all honest avenues are closed against him, he drifts back again to his companions in crime. There could scarcely be two opinions of police zeal of this kind, or of the system of re-arresting a prisoner for other offences on his release, thereby dashing to the ground any good motives and intentions of a fresh start in life. The Home Secretary rebukes such vindictive tactics, and advises that if any other charges are to be made, they should be stated at the time or during his imprisonment, and that if necessary he can serve his terms at one and the same time, knowing that when once more he looks on the outer world, he will be free from interference. Sir M. W. Ridley stands out as one of the most humane ornaments of any Government.

My colleague Plain Speaker does me honour. When we meet he will hear something drop. I had not blushed for a dog's age till I read that little tit-bit in Current Topics, and it made me "swell visibly." P.S.—I'll take a pinch of snuff, nothing stronger; snuff-taking is not a nice habit I know, that is the reason I never buy any, but beg it, and I have sampled some rare kinds in my time. For instance, sand, ginger, and pepper, and by the way, if you want anything that will bite, just try cayenne pepper. It will make you shed tears of joy, particularly if you get hold of it by mistake as I did, and your nostrils will burn with indignation in more sense than one.

Passing through a village a short time ago, I noticed a "house of refreshment within the meaning of the act," facing the old church, and in the windows were written "good ale for ringers!" Now I wondered what that meant. Did the Publican and Sinner actually insinuate that ringers would drink ale? Malediction! the thought maddened me. Hitching up my breeks and expectorating on my hands I rushed in—not that I am accustomed to do so—and demanded to see the scurrilous knave who wilfully insulted the Exercise. The said scurrilous knave could not be found, so after testing the refreshment to see if it was good, I severely told the landlady that it was no better than it ought to be. She implored me to stay my avenging hand, and I consented, furthermore, that they should not lose the license on condition that the offending bill was removed. On my way out, a man's face white as a ghost and eye starting out of his head, appeared over the top of a meal-barrel where the landlord was in hiding. He was a little man, and on hearing my stentorian voice, he had ran and hid himself, well-satisfied that he was in for a good trouncing at the hands of JINGLE.

FUNERAL OF A NOTED RINGER.

On Saturday, August 22nd, was interred in Kirkheaton churchyard the remains of Mr. John Green Hardy. He formerly belonged to the Kirkheaton company, but latterly he had joined the Almondbury company. He was one of the famous company formed in 1871, called the All England Company, who won many prizes, and notably the Great Prize given at Saddleworth in 1875, when twenty-five companies competed. He has won eight first prizes on church bells, besides numerous others, and also a great many prizes on handbells. No man ever lived who loved ringing better than he did. Nature having formed him physically weak, he was mentally strong, and it was a saying among his friends that if ill, and any ringing were proposed to him, it would cure him better than a doctor, and although his last illness was of a most distressing nature, his friends never gave him up till the last moment, he bore illness like a man without complaint, and it was characteristic of him, that on Whit-Monday last he won the first prize at Armitage Bridge with the Almondbury company in the Heavy Woollen competition, and then went home ill, from which he never recovered. His friends were legion, and to show in what esteem he was held in his native village, he was elected a member of the Urban District Board, and was also chairman of the Lepton School Board, in fact he was a most useful member of society, and could ill be spared. Friends attended from all the surrounding churches and the Kirkheaton company rung a muffled peal at his funeral. Age 61 years.

NOTE TO EASTBOURNE PEAL.—This peal was rang at the third attempt, the 1st and 2nd ones failing through the 7th rope breaking, and an error in the ringing after one and two hours' duration respectively. The band desire to thank the vicar and churchwardens for the frequent use of the bells in one week. After the peal Mr. J. Andrews kindly invited the band to a substantial supper at The Lamb hotel (which had been twice ordered and postponed) and were joined by our two friends and host, W. Greenfield, also a ringer. Mr. Andrews in the chair and Mr. Fussell, vice. There were no toasts, but success to the Royal Cumberland Youths was expressed, this being the first peal rang by that Society in Eastbourne. The company included H. Vernon and Thomas Lewis, who were in the attempts. The thanks of the company was conveyed by Mr. Fussell to the chairman for his hospitality and also for his generous promise to erect a marble tablet recording the peal in the belfry, of course subject to the approval of the vicar, whose son, Mr. Ottley, visited the tower to wish good luck to the attempt. The band are all residents of the town excepting the conductor. W. H. F.

The Bell News and Ringers' Record.

No. 753.]

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1896.

[VOL. XV.]

MR. WILLIAM MICKLEWRIGHT, SEN.

[Vide Portrait.]

The subject of our sketch, the son of Richard Micklewright (a change-ringer in his day), was born at Liverpool on November 21st, 1822. At the age of five his father removed to Shrewsbury, where he was appointed deputy sexton and tower-keeper at St. Chad's church, which offices he held for twenty years. During this time his young mind was drawn to the belfry and the bells by the ancient customs prevailing, to wit, curfew, passing bells, and other offices appertaining to the duties of sexton. He rang his first peal, viz., a peal of Grandsire Triples, on August 6th, 1839, at St. Alkmund's church, Shrewsbury, his father conducting the peal. At this period of the history of change-ringing there were few of the privileges that exist at the present time for young aspirants to satisfy their ambition, to shew their ability to ring the Standard Methods; there were but few recognised associations, no "BELL NEWS" to give young ringers information where Stedman, Treble Bob, Double Norwich and other methods were rung, much less an invitation to "come and we will make you up for a touch." A young ringer in those days had to walk for an opportunity perhaps ten or twenty miles, with a prospect of a rebuff when he arrived at the tower, unless he was well known to be able to ring the method he aspired to. Such was the experience of the subject of our present memoir, and having studied the work in the Stedman method, he felt anxious to try to ring it. The nearest place to his home for that purpose was Shifnal, a distance of seventeen miles, which he walked one Sunday, arriving in time for their practice at 5 p.m. Asking in the tower if he might have a try in a touch of Stedman Triples, was answered by a member, "What does that boy know about Stedman?" The conductor knowing his father replied, "Oh give the lad a chance." He succeeded in ringing his first touch of Stedman, and with a buoyant step walked his seventeen miles' journey home contented. Who would do it now?

About the year 1846 he removed to Stafford, where he at once associated himself with the ringers, who at the time were "Churchyard Bob" ringers. Here he invited a band from Wolverhampton to ring a peal. Coming one short he made them up, the bells being in such a deplorable condition—although they succeeded in getting the peal—they declared they would never again go to Stafford for hard labour. Stafford being the county town, was the place where people were sent for that purpose in Staffordshire.

In 1850 his lot was cast in Dudley, again to find himself in the midst of thick darkness, so far as the science of change-ringing was concerned, and it was months before he could get a chance to bring his abilities into action. A young band being formed, his influence was soon felt, and by his untiring perseverance, the first peal ever rung on the bells by any Dudley ringer was rang with the bells half-muffled on the occasion of the Duke of Wellington's funeral in November 1852, which he conducted. Among other peals he conducted here was one composed by our highly respected friend, the late Mr. Henry Johnson, of Birmingham, without a plain lead, rung for the first time at Dudley (see Snowdon's Treatise on Grandsire).

I here enclose a quotation from a letter bearing date April 20th, 1863, from the above composer, shewing the cordial friendship existing between them:—

"Dear Friend,—I have sent you two peals of Caters on the plan you requested as follows: with the 6th her extreme behind the 9th, also the extreme with the 6th at home, at hand, the one with only two singles contains 5093 changes, the other 5003 with twenty-two singles, and for music it cannot be excelled."

Both these peals have been rung at Dudley.

During his career here a new peal of six bells were presented to St. Andrew's church, Netherton, an adjoining parish, which gave a new scope for his untiring zeal to promote the spread of the science. Here a band was soon at work, and through his efforts were able to ring 720s in various methods. His influence in promoting the Art of change-ringing at this time was felt and acknowledged for a radius of miles round this district.

As regards his peal-ringing, as before stated, in his early days there was no medium like "THE BELL NEWS" to incite ringers to keep a record of their peals. Among his various achievements was three courses of Kent Treble Bob Maximus on handbells retained in hand, rung in Mr. Chattell's bakehouse, Birmingham. John Perks, 1-2; William Micklewright, 3-4; Robert Yates, 5-6; William Chattell, 7-8; Richard Micklewright, 9-10; Thomas Gay, 11-12. This was rung on a Sunday morning while a leg of mutton was cooking in the bakehouse for their dinner. The following day he was in a peal of Treble Bob Royal with his Birmingham friends.

It is rather surprising that our friend Mr. John Day should have forgotten in his reminiscences such a notable person in the district. He has rung peals on tower bells in the four Standard Methods, in Triples, Major, Caters, and Royal; among which he conducted a peal of 10,061 of Grandsire Caters at Wednesbury on May 21st, 1861, a record peal in the county of Stafford at that date. He also conducted the last peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal rung at St. Michael's, Coventry, on Easter Monday, 1874. S. S.

THE NORTH NOTTS. ASSOCIATION.

The quarterly meeting of this Association was held at Bawtry on August 22nd, when there was only a small attendance of members, representing the Bawtry, Everton, East Retford, East Marsham, Harthill or Ordsal towers. In the absence of the vicar, the tea and subsequent business meeting were presided over by the Rev. H. T. Slodden, vicar of Worksop, supported by the Rev. B. Darley, hon. sec., and thirteen members. In addition to other business, it was resolved to hold the next quarterly meeting at Shireoaks towards the end of November, and a cordial vote of thanks to the vicar of Bawtry for the use of the bells was unanimously passed. Besides other shorter touches the following completed lengths were brought round during the afternoon. A 720 Oxford Treble Bob in 25 mins. J. White, 1; J. Swindon, 2; H. Blagg, 3; T. Smith, 4; H. Haigh, (conductor), 5; C. Crawford, 6. A 720 Bob Minor in 25 mins. E. Pinder, 1; J. Bee, 2; A. Morton, 3; J. A. Bailey, 4; F. Green, 5; H. Wilson (conductor), 6.

Ringers' Outings.

ST. MARY, SWANSEA.—On August 29th, the above band including one of the clergy (the Rev. — Morris), visited the city of churches, viz.: Bristol. Their object has been during the past year to do some good in two ways by visiting this old city at this time of the year. We can do a lot of good as regards helping a charitable cause. Our train fare amounted to £1 16s. which goes to the Widow and Orphans' Fund, as the excursion is set apart for that purpose, and then again for the assistance from the Bristol boys themselves in assisting us in ten and twelve bell-ringing, which I hope we shall have such a peal at Swansea. We left Swansea at 6.15 a.m. and arrived at Bristol about 9.15, our esteemed friend, Mr. J. Hinton, meeting us at Stapleton road, and throwing up a good day's work specially to make us comfortable, which we all thank him for from the bottom of our hearts; likewise Mr. F. Price and others, who did his best for us; only one thing clashed, which we thought would not be comfortable, but thanks to the above-named, it turned out better for us: it was this, we all wanted to have a pull or hear the Bristol men themselves on the twelve at St. Mary Redcliff, but on enquiring of Jimmy, he told us that the Taunton men were on their way and had permission for St. Mary's church, but he mixed us up along with them, for a few touches both there and at St. Stephen's, which was much better for us, and as we were so agreeable, the day passed away better than any outing we ever had. The only thing we were sorry for, was that we left the Taunton and Bristol men rather abruptly, as before the day was over, some went to Clifton and others to Totterdown. We were in haste to catch our train which left an hour or two earlier than the Taunton train, but knowing their forbearance as brothers, it will be all right in the end. Our train left Bristol at 7.10 p.m. and arrived at Swansea at 10.25. Thanking them one and all once more, hoping they enjoyed themselves as we did.

THE CAPEL BRANCH OF THE WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD held their annual outing on Monday, August 24th. A trap being in readiness a start was made about 7.20 a.m. The first place to call at was Ewhurst, where they were met by Mr. Francis, who conducted them to the tower, and an attempt was made for 720 of Cambridge Surprise which unfortunately was lost a lead from home. This lapse was owing to the bad state of the bells, but the information was imparted that hopes were rife that the evil would soon be remedied, a bellhanger having been consulted with a view to putting them in repair. The ringers were E. Holloway, 1; E. Jordan, 2; T. M. Stedman, 3; C. Taylor, 4; T. Fairs, 5; D. Jordan (conductor), 6. A 240 Kent Treble Bob, in which Mr. Francis took part, brought the ringing to a close here. Then on to Cranleigh, which was reached about 11.30. The company met there the old veteran, Mr. H. Burstow, of Horsham. Unfortunately they could not obtain a 720 here owing to the tenor going so heavily, on account of the dry weather, a plain course of Superlative was however accomplished. A move was then made to The White Hart hotel, where dinner was awaiting, and after ample justice had been done to the repast, a start was made for Shere, and a lovely drive thereto amongst some of the famous Surrey Hills. Arriving at their destination about 4 o'clock, the visitors soon made for the tower, where there is a fine ring of eight bells, having very recently been augmented to that number. After ringing some Treble Bob Major and Grandsire Triples the bells were lowered and a start was made for home, which was reached about nine o'clock, all being thoroughly pleased with their day's enjoyment. They wish to heartily thank through "THE BELL NEWS" all the vicars that placed their bells at their disposal, likewise those who helped to make the day an enjoyable one.

THE CHRIST CHURCH SOCIETY, BACUP.—On Friday, August 21st, eight members of this Society had their usual four days' outing, the place selected this year being Tong, Yorkshire. The ringers meeting at 5 o'clock on Friday morning, began a five miles walk to Todmorden, catching the 7 o'clock train to Bradford, where breakfast was partaken of. Then they had a good stroll round the town until eleven o'clock, the time appointed to meet a friend at The George hotel yard, Mr. Maude. As soon as we had introduced ourselves, he enquired where we should like to go, so we decided to go to Messrs. Shaw and Co., Bellfounders, Mr. Maude getting permission for us to look through the workshops. After a short chat with Mr. Shaw, we were off again with our friend to the museum and the reading room, which is a grand building both inside and out. It was now dinner time, so we made for a refreshment room and had a good blow out. Meeting our friend again at 2 o'clock he took us to Manningham Park, and showed us all the interesting things that were to be seen. Business then compelled him to leave us, but he left us with another good friend, Mr. Latimer, who turned out a jolly good fellow. After refreshments together, we made for the 5 o'clock train to Tong, which we reached in about half an hour, and put up at our quarters at The Old Duke William hotel. A short chat with our landlord as to future arrangements, then off to the church, where we rang Killamarsh Treble Bob and short touches of other methods. Later on we had a short entertainment, with Mr. George Bolland (Tong) in the chair, songs and recitations being the order of the evening until eleven clock, when we all went to bed, and thus ended the first day of our outing. We were up the next morning by 4.30, and spent the time till the breakfast hour in walking round the country lanes. Eight o'clock found us back again at The Old Duke, where after a good breakfast, we were conveyed in a trap to Horbury, which is a very nice country town, arriving there about twelve o'clock. Here we rang a 720 of Woodbine Treble Bob. Lunching with two of the Horbury ringers after a jolly good-bye we were in our trap and back again to The Old Duke, arriving about six o'clock to tea, then a two miles' walk to Drighlington church, and again took to the bells and rung a 720 Killamarsh Treble Bob; also short touches with the parish and Tong ringers on eight bells until about eight o'clock, when we again made tracks to our lodgings. We were up soon on the Sunday morning so as to have a short walk before breakfast. At nine o'clock we started for the village church to ring for morning service, when short touches were rung till service time. Wishing to spend a quiet and proper Sunday we all attended Divine Service and heard a splendid sermon. A famous dinner greeted us, and we went again to the church to ring for afternoon service. Then to the house of Mr. George Bolland, who entertained us with refreshments before we commenced our next walk to Pudsey, where we arrived about four o'clock, and the first person we met was our old friend Mr. Maude, who invited us to look through the grounds and take refreshments with him. Thanking him for his kindness we made for Pudsey church and rung a 720 of Violet, which turned out to be false. A short chat with the Pudsey ringers, and we again made for Ye Old Duke, arriving there about eight o'clock, being Sunday we had a quiet hour or two. The next morning our usual walk before breakfast could not be had as it was raining, so after breakfast we had a short stay with our host and hostess, whom we wish to thank for their kindness. Leaving Birtenshaw at 9 o'clock, we arrived at Leeds about 11.30, and came on to Halifax, where we had dinner and a look through the park. Getting on the train again we arrived at Todmorden station about 4.30, and now having five miles to walk, we commenced our great task of getting home where we all arrived safely about 8 o'clock, having thoroughly enjoyed the four days' holiday. Through the medium of this valuable paper, the ringers wish to return their thanks to Mr. George Bolland and his band of ringers for their kindness and courtesy, which was the means of making our outing so pleasant and agreeable. We have also very great pleasure in thanking Messrs. Maude and Latimer for their kind services rendered on our behalf as guides.

ONE WHO WENT.

THE OLNEY (BUCKS.) SOCIETY.—On August 27th, 1896, the ringers of the parish church, Olney, held their annual outing. A start was made at 9.0 a.m. en route for Ecton, Earls Barton, and Yardley-Hastings, Northamptonshire. After a pleasant drive of about two hours we reached Ecton, where a move was at once made to the tower. Having spliced the tenor rope, the bells were raised in peal, and a 720 of Bob Minor was rung by the following: T. Wright, 1; R. Perkins, 2; W. Wright, 3; S. Smith, 4; W. Jones, 5; R. Raban (conductor), 6. The bells were then lowered and tracks made for Earl's Barton, a distance of about two miles, where dinner was provided at The Old Swan inn. The several courses of "Knife and Fork" were brought round nicely. Then the tower was visited, and a 720 of Bob Minor rung, standing as before. Grandsire Doubles was then indulged in by F. Hopper, 1; R. Perkins, 2; W. Wright, 3; W. Jones, 4; S. Sidney, 5; T. Wright, 6. The bells were then lowered and tea indulged in. The last calling place (a distance of five miles) was Yardley, here, owing to the bells not going well and the very long pull, nothing was done. After slight refreshments, a start was made for home, reaching there at 11 p.m., each one having thoroughly enjoyed the day's outing.

THE ST. MARY (WOOLWICH) SOCIETY.—One of the most interesting excursions from this neighbourhood this season took place on Saturday last, the 5th September, when the church bell ringers of St. Mary's, Woolwich, availed themselves of the kind invitation given them by the Rev. S. G. Scott (formerly of Woolwich), now rector of Havant, and Mrs. Scott. In order to have a thorough good day's outing, the party were early astir, leaving in sufficient time for the 6.50 a.m. train from London Bridge for Portsmouth town. The ringers numbered ten, and they were accompanied by the rector, the Rev. C. E. Escreet, and their secretary Mr. E. O. Masters (who had drawn up an excellent programme) and other friends of St. Mary's to the extent of twenty. The scenery by the Mid-Sussex line was much admired, the chief points of interest being especially noted, and Portsmouth was reached by 9.30. Here fifteen minutes were allowed for refreshments, then the party began the day's work in real earnest. First, the magnificent town hall (the pride of Portsmouth) was inspected, then the party proceeded through Victoria Park to the Dockyard main gates, where they were allowed to view the first naval port of the kingdom. Here they saw some of England's finest ships, including the "Terrible" and "Powerful." In the meantime a few of the company had taken the opportunity of visiting St. Agatha's church. No architectural beauty distinguishes this church, but it has been prominently brought before the public of late by reason of the inhibition of the incumbent. The way then was by the Harbour Gun Wharf to the beach at Southsea, where the esplanade affords such attractions to this watering place. Southsea Castle and the Spithead Forts, with their powerful guns, came under view, and gave the impression that a foe would not attempt to capture Portsmouth. It was not mid-day, and the company proceeded through the chief business thoroughfares of Southsea and went by tram to St. Mary's church, Kingston (Canon Jacob's, now Bishop of Newcastle, late church). Here the ringers ascended the magnificent tower and rang a touch of Grandsire Triples, consisting of 504 changes, by the following members: W. J. Aldridge, 1; J. E. Beaven, 2; A. Phillips, 3; H. G. Hill, 4; J. C. Harvey, 5; R. G. Carter, 6; H. Harvey, 7; G. Carter, 8; which called forth admiration from below. It was now time to make for Havant, where on our arrival by train we found the Rev. S. G. Scott waiting on the platform, and who lost no time in conducting us to The Bear hotel, where he had provided a substantial dinner, and which, considering the morning's work, was thoroughly enjoyed. Our next business was to accompany the rector to Havant church, which was inspected, the ringers making their way to the ringing-chamber and trying their skill on the bells, but after ringing fifteen minutes unfortunately the clapper of the fifth bell broke, and so the ringers were deprived of their pleasure for the remainder of the day. However, by the kindness of the churchwarden, who engaged a brake, they were conveyed to the church at Warblington; others had a most enjoyable walk through the fresh fields to the same place. The church was inspected, and it was noticed that it only possessed one bell, which was rung from the centre of the church. The yew tree outside, said to be 2,000 years old, was much admired, and the rector then led the company back to the rectory for tea. After which they perambulated the rectory gardens, leaving at 7 p.m. for Havant Station, and arriving at Woolwich 11.30, having spent a most enjoyable day, and duly appreciating the kind hospitality of the Rev. S. G. Scott and Mrs. Scott.

E. O. MASTERS.

LIVERPOOL.—On Monday, August 31st, at St. Luke's church, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples in 50 mins. T. Hammond, 1; J. Moore, 2; G. Woodhall, 3; G. Fisher, 4; W. Davies, 5; W. James (conductor), 6; J. Martin, 7; R. Phipps, 8. Longest length in the method by Messrs. Woodhall and Phipps.

THE CENTRAL NORTHAMPTONSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

By invitation of the rector and ringers of Wootton, a quarterly meeting was held at the church of St. George, in that village, on Saturday afternoon. The pleasant country outing was much enjoyed. Ringers were present from Wootton, Great Doddington, Earls Barton, Wellington, Collingtree, and Northampton, St. Giles, St. Peter's, St. Sepulchre's, St. Edmund's, and All Saints. Wootton bells are a good ring of five, the inscription and weights being as follows:—(1) "Richard: Old: Frances: Evans: Church: Wardens: Matthew: Bagley: Made: Mee: 1770." Weight 5 cwt. 3 qrs. 18 lbs. (2) "Praise Him On the Well Tuned Cymbals, 1895. Re-cast by Taylor and Co." Weight 7 cwt. 1 qr. 6 lbs. (3) "Henry Bagley Made Mee 1660." Weight 7 cwt. 2 qrs. 21 lbs. (4) "Simvl Venire Frates in Vnvm 1620." Weight 10 cwt, 19 lbs. (5) "Rev. J.: P.: Lightfoot Rector T.: Steevenson Churchwarden. Taylor Oxford Campanarius 1336." Weight 13 cwt. 2 qrs. 21 lbs. Diameter 46 ins. Their recent renovation is recorded on a handsome brass tablet on the belfry wall, reading thus:—"To the Glory of Almighty God. The restoration of the bells of this church, commenced by the Rev. C. E. Hammond, rector, 1887, was completed by the voluntary contributions of the rector, churchwardens, organist, choir, congregation, and other friends. The bells were re-dedicated October 1st, 1895, by the Right Reverend Mandell Lord Bishop of Peterborough. A. J. Miller, rector; Edward G. Frost, John Smith, churchwardens. Praise God from Whom all Blessings flow." An excellent tea was provided by Mr. Bell, of the Rose and Crown, in the old school-room at five o'clock. The room was very prettily decorated with flags and evergreens and the tables with flowers. Over thirty were present, including the new rector (the Rev. G. L. Kemp), who, with the churchwardens, the local ringers, and the parish clerk (Mr. Douglas), was heartily thanked for the warm reception given to the association. At the business meeting the Rev. H. C. Holmes, of St. Sepulchre's, Northampton, presided. It was unanimously resolved that the next quarterly meeting take place at Yardley Hastings. The hon. secretary (Mr. E. J. Dennes) said he hoped that a good meeting there might result in the Castle Ashby, Easton Maudit, Grendon, and other ringers in that district joining the association. The rector of Wootton kindly consented to become an honorary member. It was reported that Whiston bells were now being re-hung. A. Hensman, J. Hensman, and H. Tredgold, ringers connected with St. Peter's church, Northampton, were elected ringing members. The ringers of St. Edmund's, Northampton, were good enough to bring their handbells for the use of those present. The villagers made the members most welcome. Several flags were displayed in the main street and one floated from the church tower. A set of handbells would be of great benefit to the Wootton ringers in their efforts to master change-ringing.

THE DEVONSHIRE GUILD.

PLYMOUTH AND DEVONSHIRE BRANCH.

A surprise visit was paid to this branch on Sunday, September 6th, by Mr. J. W. Hinton, of Bristol. A scratch party was got together (Mr. Taylor being away), and a well-struck touch of 633 Grandsire Triples was rung at Charles church, Plymouth, for Divine Service in the evening. E. Hendy, 1; A. J. Richards, 2; G. V. Richards, 3; W. J. Hinton (conductor), 4; W. H. Marsh, 5; H. Myers, 6; W. Ford, 7; C. Legg, 8. It was intended to ring a quarter-peal, but to make good ringing at Charles church the bells must be rung slow, hence there was not time before the service.

HUNSTANTON, NORFOLK.

A large clock has just been erected in the new Town Hall by John Smith and Sons, Midland Clock Works, Derby. It is fitted with all the latest improvements, and will doubtless prove a great benefit to the town. The same firm are also erecting a large clock and carillon at Kendal Town Hall.

HANDBELLS.—For Sale a Chromatic set of 19 Bells from C, size 15 to F sharp, size 5, in perfect order, 10 of the set (including the 5 largest bells) quite new. £4 15s. net cash. W. A. CLARK, The Goldthorns, Trafalgar-road, Moseley, Birmingham.

St. Albans Abbey Tower

ON Saturday, September 5th, eight members of the Cathedral Society met at the ancient and historic Cathedral Church of St. Alban, to ring a peal of Stedman Triples in honor of the silver wedding of The Venerable Archdeacon Lawrance, the Rector. As the news of the attempt had been previously chronicled in the local press, the event was looked forward to with great interest, both in ringing circles and among the vast number of well wishers with whom the Archdeacon is so deservedly popular. As soon as Evensong at the Abbey was over, the band took up their position in the tower, and after ringing three hours and one minute, the much coveted peal was successfully accomplished, under the skilful conductorship of Mr. Challis F. Winney, who had been induced on this memorable occasion to once again take the lead amongst some of his former pupils, with some of whom

in past days he has done some excellent performances. After the peal the ringers were invited to the rectory, and welcomed by the Archdeacon and Mrs. Lawrance, who expressed their appreciation of the peal, and the efforts of the ringers in marking such an eventful epoch of their lives. Cake and wine were handed round, and the health of the host and hostess toasted. Mrs. Lawrance kindly invited the band to see the beautiful presents received, testifying to the esteem in which they are held. The following took part in the peal:—Messrs. Ernest R. Mitchell, 1; John C. Mitchell, 2; E. Percy Debenham, 3; J. Ernest Randall, 4; W. H. L. Buckingham, 5; Challis F. Winney (conductor), 6; Walter Battle, 7; Henry L. Waddington, 8. The customary record of this performance will be found in its usual place.

At the Abbey on the next day, Sunday September 6th, for Divine Service, 447 Grandsire Triples. H. L. Waddington, 1; S. Barnes, 2; W. Battle, 3; J. E. Randall, 4; C. F. Winney (conductor), 5; A. Hallett, 6; W. H. Buckingham, 7; M. Samuels, 8. Also a touch of Stedman Triples and a touch of Bob Major. E. J. Mitchell, 1; J. C. Mitchell, 2; J. E. Randall, 3; W. Buckingham, 4; W. Battle, 5; C. F. Winney, 6; W. H. Buckingham, 7; T. Waller, 8.

[St. Peter's Church.]

At St. Peter's church, in the same old city of St. Albans, 504 Stedman Triples. E. P. Debenham, 1; J. C. Mitchell, 2; H. G. Fairbrass, 3; R. Weatherby, 4; N. N. Hills, 5; W. H. L. Buckingham, 6; C. F. Winney (conductor), 7; W. H. Buckingham, 8.

THE OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

THEALE (Berks.)—On Sunday, August 9th, the ringers of Goring, Oxon, visited this place, to have a pull with the local band, who have recently visited Goring, and rang touches of Plain Bob for evening service, and after service, 360 Kent Treble Bob was attempted, but came to grief a few changes from home. One of the band having to leave to catch a train, time would not permit of another attempt, but a course was brought round, and a 720 Plain Bob rung, in 24 mins., the striking being very good. The following took part in the ringing:—G. Wilson, J. Bower, C. Tidbury, J. Parsons, J. Alexander, W. Barefoot, W. Horne, W. Clarke, J. Richardson. Great credit is due to Mr. W. Horne, who had never rung any Treble Bob, and he rang the treble in a very satisfactory manner. The Goring ringers hope the Theale band will pay them another visit at their earliest convenience. The visitors, who were all on bicycles, reached home about 9.30, having much enjoyed visiting Theale, the interior of the church being very nice.

MEN AND MANNERS.

Li Hung Bang Ching Tung Tay's visit was a boon and a blessing to the dily pipers. The dead season was fairly floated, and the newspaper scribe actually had nothing to say, and hungered after something that would serve to create a little excitement in the public mind. The horrible murders and suicides were worn threadbare, and of alarming railway accidents there was a surfeit; and when at last Ching Ching came along, the men of letters, who, expecting their occupation was drawing dangerously near to that of Othello's, gave thanks, and revelled in the descriptions of the yellow jacket, coffin, and peacock's tail. In one town a "special" edition was worked late at night when Li Bung lost his feathers, the inhabitants being startled out of their sleep, and the papers went like hot cakes. However, His Nibs has gone over the pond to the land of the stars and stripes, where Chinamen are not exactly idolised, and next we may expect the Mikado on the trail. When he arrives we shall go through the same routine, the same old pageant—except the new face—and the same old crowd of sycophants who will stand in the gutters and cheer lustily until their ears lay back and their eyes bulge out, and all that is required to complete the picture would be found in a bunch of carrots or a few thistles. I can do my share of cheering when occasion requires, but the habitual "cheerer" I do detest. If he were asked why he cheered at every passing show, he would look at you as though he thought you were insane, particularly if he was one of those down-at-heel, horny-headed—as well as horny-handed—sort of persons who appear to have little to cheer about, and who might act more like sensible men by drinking a little less and thinking a little more. A few stars here, and then we pass on to the next caravan.

A correspondent, taking the cue from "Plain Speaker," wants to know what has become of those gentlemen who used to write, for this paper over the nom-de-plumes of "Pickwick" and "Sam Weller"? The answer to the above is simply that of the coroner's jury—"Natural Causes." Mr. Pickwick, having a contented mind, got stouter day by day, until it was physically impossible for him to lean over a desk, but as he is once more getting into condition, you may perhaps hear something about him if you continue to remain a "constant reader" of "THE BELL NEWS," price one penny weekly. Sammivel has married the vidder, and all is well at present. Another correspondent, who imagines he was born for a clown, wonders whether Violet's Grandsire will allow an Alliance with Bob Major? I really cannot say, and as my interrogator signs himself X Y Z, I must beg to be X Q Z.

In to-day's issue of "THE BELL NEWS" will be found a page for the special attention of the ringers of the rising generation who require more knowledge in the way of conducting touches and peals. This is a step in the right direction, for in the old days it was almost impossible for a learner to get any information on these matters from the "big guns" of the belfry. An air of mystery would surround the bob-caller, and any meek request to know more of calling would be met with something like this: "You've quite enough to do to ring your bell." The obvious result would be that one man would monopolise the calling for many years, and the band would be lost without his presence; and if he was taken away, the ringing declined until a new band got a foothold. Happily, this system is fast dying out, and although here and there we find an autocratic personage who won't ring unless he can have all his own way, the great majority of conductors gladly stand aside to assist a novice to accomplish his "first peal as conductor." This is right, for if the contrary course is pursued the rising band may engender feelings the reverse of respectful, which should exist between young and old, and they are glad when the old band finally gives up ringing, that is if the young ones have not given up earlier in disgust at the petty selfishness.

A contemporary informs its readers that the "New Woman" is gradually ousting the ringing fraternity, and states a case of two girls who chime for Sundays in a church near London. Thereupon the knight of the inkpot lets himself loose in the following manner:—

Yes, many a time a cheerful chime
Is rung by these two girls;
But some fine day, two bounders bold,
In garments gay, with hoops of gold,
Will ring these charming belles.
And when these belles are ta'en from church,
Their tongues may still keep clanging;
The ringers then—if quiet men,
Will wish their belles were hanging.

To which, if you will look out and stand from under, your humble servant will also oblige; thanks.

No doubt 'tis true, but a trick worth two
We know; when they start to ring,
We make them obey, or they don't get learn'd,
Tho' the tables may some day be turn'd;
Then won't they have their fling?
So we keep them in hand till they see quite well
If with us they want to mingle;
Their clappers they must tie, and if hanging they would try,
Well—hang 'em round the neck of Jingle.

Of course there are some on this staff, popular contributors and such like—mind I mention no names—who think they are the lady's men, men who paste in their hats photos cut from "THE BELL NEWS" of Miss Alice White and Mrs. G. Williams, but pooh, bah—there is only one lady's man on this paper. Why not e'en "FREE LANCE" has a ghost of a chance alongside. No, I am too modest to mention his name. Perhaps it is not generally known that several ladies in various parts of the country are rapidly becoming proficient in half-pull ringing. It is a fact, nevertheless. We shall have them taking the shine out of some of us.

If there are two Associations which have advanced more than others during the last few years, I should award the honour to the Durham and Newcastle and the Bedfordshire Associations. Thanks to the earnestness of Mr. C. W. Clarke, the last-named society is rapidly coming to the front, and when the peal of ten is ready at St. Paul's, Bedford, we may expect something out of the common. Friend Routledge I see has returned to his old address, and although they are all doughty men at St. John's, Newcastle, he has evidently been missed. I have never been so far north, although the members of St. John's gave me a hearty reception some four years ago when they were on tour. They came out for experience, and they got it. Peal after peal was attempted—two a day—but they would not come home; bad luck clung to them cruelly right through, and out of ten or twelve attempts only two peals were scored. Since that time however they have had a good slice of fortune, and now the wanderer has returned, there is every indication of another good innings.

PRACTICAL HINTS TO YOUNG CONDUCTORS
AND COMPOSERS.

CHAPTER I.

I had better say by way of introduction that these chapters are not intended to teach anything new; nor are they intended to compete with what has already been given in the way of instruction, through any source; they may be merely regarded as supplementary to what has already been written upon the subjects. It is thought this periodical form of giving information may do some good, and may assist young ringers to attain knowledge which from disinclination to read, or some other reason, they do not get from the various books on ringing. A well known contributor to "THE BELL NEWS" has gracefully said that these and the following lines may enable the ladies of the Exercise to amuse themselves at composition.

My young friends who intend to go through this series of lectures, chapters, or essays, or by whatever title they may be known, must make up their minds to give attention to what are contained therein. If they do this, I can promise them that the trouble and patience which they exercise will be rewarded by the results. By the desire of the Editor of this paper I have, under the usual conditions of postage, consented to answer any replies and make any explanations in cases where my remarks may not be understood. My purpose is to teach what I can to those who are wanting instruction in the subjects named. In the pursuit of this object I shall avoid all technicalities which may tend to doubt or obscurity. The technical phrases used will be fully explained, though such explanation may involve repetition, tautology, bad grammar, or any other evil.

These papers are only intended to be elementary. But a good elementary education on such subjects is really all that is required, for the beginner, when once his road is clear before him, generally proceeds rapidly without further help, and in fact often is in the end able to teach his whilom teacher. I hope this will be the result of these endeavours.

At the risk of being thought too effusive, I shall begin at the lowest rung of the ladder, and as the simplest and the best known method among young ringers appears to be Grandsire, that method shall, for the present, be adopted for illustration. The first thing to be talked of, therefore is

GRANDSIRE DOUBLES.

There are, as is well known, 120 changes of Doubles and no more. Only one-half of this number in this method can be had without a single, or its equivalent, being made; bobs only will not produce the extent. It must be remembered also that after one single is called, the bells will not come home, that is, into rounds, without another single (or its equivalent). I had better explain what is meant by the words "its equivalent." It is understood that at a bob two bells make thirds, and then go back to lead. But at a single, one bell makes seconds place and the other long thirds (or four blows in thirds place). This has the effect of changing the two bells concerned, one falling into the other's place, and doing its work. The courses of the bells are thus changed by the single, and the consequence is that the bells will not come home, unless a similar process—or its equivalent—is again resorted to. When two bells are dodging together behind, say the 4th and 5th, and the 4th should be the bell which ought to come down first, the 5th to follow her down, but instead the 5th came down first, that accident would be an equivalent to a single being made. This is called a change-course, or a "shift" from the correct progress of the bells. A single and a change-course between two bells has the same effect on what is known as the "in-and-out-of-course" of the changes. If the bells are right (i.e. "in-course") a single or a shift between two bells puts them wrong, i.e., "out-of-course," and vice-versa. The subject of in-course and out-of-course must be treated of in another chapter.

We have got to know that only sixty changes of Doubles—just one-half of the extent—can be had without an alteration in the courses of the bells; this alteration being effected by the calling of a single; and we also understand that the bells cannot be brought into rounds after this single is made without having another single. This plainly shows that the number of singles used in the production of a 120 of Doubles must be an even number, i.e., two, four, or six; an odd number of singles preventing the bells from coming round at all.

These points being understood, we can now proceed to the calling of our first 6-score. If the reader is able to prick lead-ends he will better understand what is to follow. Fortunately, there is no necessity to prick out every change. What is required is to know how to prick the lead-ends, i.e., each back-stroke lead of the treble. This is sufficient almost for every purpose, at any rate for the present. Below are the lead-ends of the plain course, from rounds:—

1 2 4 5 3

1 2 3 4 5

Grandsire Doubles having ten changes in a lead, the plain course comprises three leads, or 30 changes. The above are the changes rung at the respective back-stroke leadings of the treble. It is not usual to use the treble in the pricking of lead-ends, but I have done so here for the sake of clearness to the beginner.

Now for the lead-ends of the 120:—

1 2 3 4 5

1 2 5 3 4

1 3 4 2 5 -

1 3 5 4 2

1 4 2 3 5 -

1 3 2 4 5 s

These six leads represent 60 changes, or one-half the extent; the bob leads represented by - and the single lead by s. It is obvious that if a bob had been called instead of a single, the bells would have run home at the half-way. Here is seen a plain lead and a bob lead alternately, and at every call the 5th bell is in the same position, which is that of dodging in 4-5 up. Therefore it is called the observation-bell, because observation of its work renders easy the calling of the 120. Notice the work of this bell. The first lead it makes thirds place. Then on going up behind, it passes two bells before it meets the treble, and as the next blow is being struck on the treble, "bob" is called. Here then is the "observation." Each time the 5th gets into that very position, "a call" must be made, i.e., immediately it strikes upon the treble in going up after making thirds.

While being guided by the observation-bell, and calling the bobs as that bell falls into the place specified, it is necessary to recollect the number of bobs called. The figures above denote two bobs and a single, and if a mistake should be made in this arrangement, confusion is likely to happen. So that it is necessary not only to look out carefully for the work of the observation-bell, which is likely at first to occupy some attention, but to remember how many bobs have been called and made.

The young bob-caller who rings the 5th bell in this 120 will find the duty very easy. He has got to make three calls at the periods when his bell is in the position already shown. If he wants to ring one-half the extent, i.e., 60 changes, he will call three bobs, but for the 120 he will have two bobs and a single, as above; and then by repeating the calling, the 120 is produced.

The calling B.B.S. may be varied thus: B.S.B., S.B.B., each with the observation-bell in the same place. ALEPH.

ASHBURTON, DEVON.

The fine peal of eight bells, tenor 22 cwt., in this parish church tower, which have been silent for a long time, will soon be heard again. The work of restoring and rehanging them is placed in the hands of Mr. Harry Stokes, church bell hanger, Woodbury, who has the work now in hand, and hopes to complete it by the end of September.

THE PEAL "APPENDIX, 1895," PRINTED BY the Central Council Committee, may be obtained post free, with the Report on Calls, on application to the Hon. Secretary, Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, Stanhoe Rectory, King's Lynn, enclosing 7d. in stamps.

CURRENT TOPICS.

A very pretty little picture of Crawley church. And a good illustration of the grand memorial window, which we know of, some of us. I suppose "THE BELL NEWS" will soon become an illustrated paper now. They say an illustrated paper is wanted in these sharp days. Perhaps some of my friends will send me some comic cuts, such as those we are constantly having pushed into our faces when perambulating Fleet Street and the Strand. I really think it is time that "Current Topics" was illustrated. Don't you?

How would some sketches of Heathen or Greek Mythology suit you? I have got a selection of old oak posts in my back-yard, beautifully carved in places by hand, or by foot, with innumerable death's heads and crossbones. They are said to have been brought from Patagonia or from one of those uninhabited islands upon which Robinson Crusoe was stranded without a shilling in his pocket, and scalped by the savages. If some of these very antique objects will interest you they shall be engraved at once. But there's nothing on them about ringing—not the veriest, barest, rag of an allusion. The editor of these posts was evidently not a ringer.

One is anxious to become a contributor to our paper—I mean an illustrated contributor. But looking over my possessions I see nothing suitable but these ancient landmarks, and I am afraid they would not be accepted. If any of you can help me to illustrate this page I really shall feel obliged. I feel sorry now that I said anything about these posts. My countrymen all will do my memory justice in this endeavour, should anything break.

I suppose you all read about the outing of the Middlesbrough Society. They found something. An individual somehow appropriately named "Welsher" thrust himself upon them. A person who apparently was well-up in what is known as "the confidence trick," who asked them to come and refresh themselves, and they did so, but at their own expense. What a vulgar sort of person this Welsher must have been. This episode will act as a warning to all ringers against picking up and hob-nobbing with new and untried acquaintances.

Six-Bell Methods is the topic of the hour. We shall have it hot and strong directly. We live and learn, and most of us are pleased to learn. Knowledge is power. Six-bell ringers all remember Mr. Attree's rough-and-ready advice to them at the last Council meeting—some thought it more rough than ready. If all towers had nothing less than eight bells, what would become of the six-bell methods? Goodness knows.

We are to be favored with some lessons about composing and conducting. As a fact an opportunity was afforded me to peruse the first instalment of these lessons. They may be thought too prolix, but too much of a good thing like this cannot be had. You know that some physicians in prescribing for a disease, don't confine themselves to one remedy merely. They order every drug they know of to be used, which has a curative property for the complaint under treatment. Evidently the compiler of these "hints" believes in such a practice.

The fair sex among the Exercise will soon be able to "compose" now, and a very good occupation for them—at home.

"Musings by an Old Contributor" was the heading to a page last week, in which the writer had a joke at my expense. There is a very eminent Queen's Counsel who feels his bulk so great a disadvantage that he has been known to remain seated in court while engaged in his forensic duties. This gentleman has always been a strong teetotaller, and a leader of the United Kingdom Alliance. Unfortunately I am in the same boat, but I don't belong to the Alliance. Corpulency is a drawback to its possessor I very well know. But it has its advantages. A portly individual looks generally contented and happy. I know some thin people who are always unhappy, and they look it. They would give anything for my temperament with all its bulk. I am not angry with the "old contributor." Let us hear from him again.

PLAIN SPEAKER.

THE LLANDAFF DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

The Annual Meeting of this Association was held at the Prebendal House, Llandaff, on Saturday afternoon, August 29th. The Rev. Canon Griffith Roberts, M.A., presided, and there was a fair muster of members present. The proceedings opened and closed with prayer. After the minutes had been read by the Secretary (the Rev. D. H. Griffiths, of St. John's, Cardiff), several matters of interest and importance were discussed by the members. Mr. Charles Lloyd (Cardiff), was unanimously elected Master of the Association in the place of Mr. W. Honeyfield (Monmouth), who had sent in his resignation. Great satisfaction was felt that the Dean and Chapter had expressed their willingness to allow the Association the use of the Cathedral bells once a quarter. Owing to some letters that appeared some time back in the columns of The Times touching the danger to church towers by the modern method of change-ringing, the Dean and Chapter felt constrained to deny the ringers this privilege. The decision caused a good deal of dissatisfaction and disaffection. However, on examination the tower of the Cathedral was found to be perfectly strong and safe, and the Chapter very kindly granted fresh permission to the Guild to use the bells. It is to be hoped that this concession will restore unity and harmony into the ranks of the Association; and the members of the Guild beg through the columns of "THE BELL NEWS" to express their thanks to the Dean and Chapter for their kindness.

The Rev. D. H. Griffiths was re-elected Hon. Treasurer and Hon. Secretary. Several new members were proposed and admitted as members of the Association.

A very hearty vote of thanks to Canon Roberts for the able way in which he fulfilled the duties of the chair, brought the meeting to a close.

RINGERS' FESTIVITY.

On Tuesday evening, August 18th, through the hospitality of the vicar (Rev. W. A. Duke), the ringers of St. Mary's church, Debenham, were entertained to a substantial supper, the course-ends of which rolled up in excellent order, no dodges being missed, and each one appearing to know his place. After supper the meeting was enlivened by some tune-playing and touches of Bob Minor on the handbells. A hearty vote of thanks to the vicar for his generosity, terminated the proceedings, all having thoroughly enjoyed themselves. This company has made very satisfactory progress, as it has only been started a few months. Two or three have succeeded in ringing their first 720, and it is hoped that the others will accomplish it in a very short time.

The Bell News & Ringers' Record.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1896.

THE Llandaff Diocesan Guild is quite a young organization; one which at its birth we did our utmost to foster. It is noteworthy to read of its continued success, and has it enjoys the services of an energetic Clerical Honorary Secretary, we may naturally look for its periodical advancement. There has however appeared an obstacle to the Guild's comfort, which though partially removed now, we cannot subscribe to any kind of "rest and be thankful" policy in connection therewith.

It appears that some correspondence had appeared in The Times concerning the danger, real or supposed, to which church towers are subject from the practice of ringing, and this led the Dean and Chapter of Llandaff to prohibit ringing on the bells of the Cathedral. We may suppose that some sort of moral pressure was brought to bear upon the capitular body, with the result that the examination of the tower was made, and the verdict, as we may have expected, was that the structure was perfectly safe. Ringing is therefore to be allowed upon these bells once in every three months.

The Times newspaper is certainly a mighty engine. But its dictates are very often most unsound, frequently very unpractical, and sometimes very absurd. We are not to deny that instances have been where ringing was prejudicial to the tower, and perhaps dangerous. But these instances are few. Architects and other specialists do not sufficiently consider the effect of their dictum upon the stability or otherwise of a church tower. If the mortar or cement is seen to escape from the stonework joints, or any such trifling derangement, the usual panacea is to stop the bells. Any one who knows the tower of Llandaff Cathedral must smile at the idea that ringing, whether of a modern or ancient style, is detrimental to the stability of that edifice. There is a ring of eight bells, seven of them not twenty years old, hung by a firm whose name among bellfounders stands as high as any; a substantial tower to boot, and an organisation of ringers who would be able to find out whether the tower was being injured by their practice as quickly as the whole Institute of Architects. The assertion that ringing is dangerous to a tower is in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred one that will not hold water.

With the greatest deference to the Dean and Chapter we beg to point out that the privilege they have accorded of ringing once a quarter only on the Cathedral bells seems to show that their fear is not wholly subsided. We should like to hear that they had amended such a privilege by substituting the word "month" for that of "quarter." We hope to hear that they intend to take such an amendment into consideration, and that they will not think this suggestion impertinent or improper. It is well known that more frequent ringing by accomplished hands leads to more frequent care and preservation of bells. The Cathedral should be looked upon as the natural headquarters of the Diocesan Guild; our suggestion, if adopted, would bring that desideratum within reach.

"THE BELL NEWS" this week consists of twenty pages, and is accompanied by a portrait of Mr. W. MICKLEWRIGHT, sen., of Dudley. Attention is directed to a new feature on the page following the notices, viz., announcements of coming events. It depends chiefly upon our readers to make this column a success. Notices of peal attempts, festivities, and many other items which cannot be comprehended in the notice-page, can be dealt with very well in this new column. We should receive everything for insertion therein not later than Wednesday morning. Next week will be published a paper on "Singles for Six-Bell Methods" by Mr. J. J. PARKER, and a collection of peals by Mr. ARTHUR KNIGHTS. Other important features will also appear.

DUFFIELD, DERBYSHIRE.

There will be a garden party at Duffield Bank, near Derby, on Saturday, September 26th, from 2 to 5 o'clock, to which Mr. PERCIVAL HEYWOOD begs to invite ringers who are members of recognised societies. The bells of the parish church will be available from 2 till 9 o'clock.

To the Editor of "THE BELL NEWS AND RINGERS' RECORD."

A REQUEST.

SIR,—Kindly allow me through the medium of your valuable ringing journal to thank Mr. Carter for the excellent collection of touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples which have been published in "THE BELL NEWS," which must have proved valuable to many of the young conductors. I should also like Sir, with your kind permission to take this opportunity of asking Mr. Carter to kindly publish all his new methods from five to eight bells, which have not hitherto been published, and which I venture to think would be a great boon to the Exercise.

HENRY T. W. EYRE, Assistant Sec.
Great Totham Vicarage, Witham.

FOR THE CHURCH TOWER.—Hamburg can now boast of possessing the largest clock in Germany. It is now finding its resting-place upon the tower of St. Michael's church. The church spire is the first landmark of Hamburg visible as the traveller goes up the Elbe, as it is situated at the highest point of the old Hanseatic town. The four dials of the clock each measure 26ft. in diameter. The minute hand measures 12ft. from the centre of the dial, while the hour hand is almost 10ft. long. The clock is constructed in such a way that even heavy birds perching upon the hands will not appreciably interfere with the time-keeping of the clock. The chimes will be heard for one-and-a-half miles around, and will be sounded by electricity.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS.—The address of Mr. G. Williams, Hon. Div. Sec. of the Sussex County Association, is now 2, Grove street, Brighton.

[Vol. XV.]

THE YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

Saturday last witnessed a "double event" at Bradford. On that day fifty years ago, the present ring of ten bells in the parish church tower were formally "opened;" and that day practically completed the twenty-first year of the Yorkshire Association. There was thus a jubilee and a coming of age to celebrate. The weather, unfortunately, was anything but favourable, heavy showers falling at frequent intervals. But that untoward circumstance did not prevent a large attendance of members, who came from Bradford, Shipley, Keighley, Halifax, Leeds, Brighouse, York, Wakefield, Armley, Hull, Bramley, Pontefract, Rothwell, Low Moor, Knaresborough, Tong, Doncaster, Birstall, Guiseley, Lightcliffe, Pudsey, Skipton, Heptonstall, Treeton, Bingley, Saltaire, Bolton and several other places.

First on the day's programme was a special choral service in the parish church, at which there was a large congregation. Service opened with the "Old Hundredth," and at the close "The Church's one Foundation" was sung. The Rev. T. W. Story, M.A., then preached an eminently practical sermon, taking as his text—"Oh, earth, earth, earth! hear the words of the Lord" (Jeremiah xxii. 29). The preacher made reference to the treatment of the subject of the bells by the poets, and quoted passages from Shakespeare, Tennyson, Moore and Cowper; and then alluding to the historical aspect of the occasion, he spoke of the services which had been rendered to bell-ringing by the Yorkshire Association. During the twenty-one years of its existence, he said, the Association had accomplished great reforms. The object of the promoters of the Association was not merely to promote change-ringing as a science, but also as a branch of church work. It was understood that the ringers were to consider themselves as church workers, ready to defend and help the Church, and valuing the work which the Church had at heart—that being nothing less than the advancement of the Kingdom of God among men. To set forth the history of the parish church bells would almost be to write the history of the town. They would all know how Bradford had changed during the period of fifty years; how green fields had given place to great piles of warehouses and shops. Amongst other indications of development was the fact that during the time referred to the number of churches in the town had increased from six to thirty, and the parish church bells had celebrated the completion of the erection of each of these additional churches. They had celebrated the incorporation of Bradford, tolled mournfully for many of the prominent citizens of the town, and had been a part of the life of Bradford in every way. It was significant that when they were first placed in the historic tower of that church the funds for that purpose were subscribed to not only by churchmen, but also by members of all denominations in the town. He would like them always to hear in the music of the bells the words of the text which he had chosen, for he was of opinion that to-day, as in the day of Jeremiah, the great evil of the times was not so much scepticism or the tendency to self-indulgence and vice as it was the indifference of the people. Though there were only churches and chapels in Bradford to accommodate as many hundreds as there were thousands of population, these places of worship were never filled except upon special occasions, and it seemed impossible to induce large masses of the people to find inclination to attend to anything beyond the matters of time and sense. He knew it was a busy age, and men's energies were taxed very greatly by the keenness of competition, but he urged upon them, as Jeremiah urged the people of his day, the paramount necessity of not being so absorbed in their material affairs that they neglected the attention which was needed for the things of eternity.

The singing of the hymn "O God our help in ages past" concluded the whole, and in the midst of a heavy downpour, a hasty adjournment was made to the schools, where Messrs. Read and Brown, of the Coffee Tavern Company, served a most excellent tea to the large number of guests. Before leaving the tables, a cordial vote of thanks to the churchwardens and school trustees was proposed by Mr. W. Snowdon, who expressed the regret, which was shared by every member of the Association, that the Venerable Archdeacon Bardsley was not there to welcome them; adding that by his lamented death the Church had lost an able and faithful minister, and ringers had lost a friend.

This motion was seconded by Mr. B. T. Copley, and carried amid loud cheers.

Mr. A. W. Ward, on behalf of himself and co-warden, acknowledged the vote and re-echoed the sentiments expressed by the President with reference to their late beloved Vicar, whose loss they felt so keenly.

By this time the rain had abated, and steps were retraced to the churchyard, where the members, with the clergy and other church officials were grouped in front of the venerable tower and photographed by Mr. George Whitaker, of Bingley, a member of the Association. This having been accomplished, the school was again visited for the business meeting, when the chair was occupied by Mr. W. Snowdon, president. The minutes of the previous meeting having been confirmed, it was resolved to place on record the vote passed at tea. Messrs. J. W. T. Holgate (Bramley), and James Cotterell (Halifax), were unanimously elected auditors. On the motion of Mr. W. Abbishaw (Rothwell), seconded by Mr. George Bolland (Tong), a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rev. T. W. Story, M.A., for his able sermon; and to Mr. Coates, organist, and his choir for their assistance at the service.

Mr. J. Yeadon (Guiseley), moved, and Mr. F. Prince (Brighouse), seconded a cordial vote of thanks to the local branch for its generous arrangements, which was carried with loud applause, and acknowledged by Mr. Henry Raistrick, which concluded the business. The bells of the parish church were kept going till late in the evening, which brought to a close the interesting proceedings.

The Bradford Observer says it was a happy coincidence that Bradford, the birthplace of the Yorkshire Change-Ringers Association twenty-one years ago, should have been the chosen ground for celebrating the society's coming of age, and that the celebration should chime in with the jubilee of the bells at the parish church. The Yorkshire Association occupies a very different position to-day to that which it held during the first year of its operations. Only some twenty or thirty members found inclination to band themselves together in the first instance, and the society was looked upon with a very suspicious eye by clergy and church officials; but as time went on it was recognised that not only was valuable service being done to the Art of change-ringing, and an improvement being made in the social conditions of the ringers, but also a closer tie was being established between the authorities of the churches and these humbler servants of theirs, and the ringers were becoming more intelligently interested in the work of their churches as well as the bells. The association has now a membership of about 900, and its honorary members include all the principal church dignitaries in the county. The assembly on Saturday was the largest gathering of bellringers held in the town, and the excellence of the ringing was noticed by most of the people who crowded the streets in the evening.

THE PEAL "APPENDIX, 1895," PRINTED BY the Central Council Committee, may be obtained post free, with the Report on Calls, on application to the Hon. Secretary, Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, Stanhoe Rectory, King's Lynn, enclosing 7½d. in stamps.

WALTON-ON-THE-WOLDS, LINCOLNSHIRE.

The rector of St. Mary's, Walton (the Rev. M. B. Bird, B.A.), the churchwarden (Mr. W. Daft), and all those who have assisted, are to be congratulated at the result of the effort to secure for Walton-on-the-Wolds a peal of bells at which the parish may, with every justification, feel both pride and pleasure. The original intention when the subscription list was first opened, was to raise a fund sufficient for the re-hanging of the already three existing bells, which was rendered absolutely necessary in consequence of the decay in the old oak frame which had been doing duty since 1729. The response, however, to the appeal of the esteemed rector, from the landowners in and friends of the parish and the parishioners generally was so hearty, and contributions came in so freely, that it was considered advisable while they were having a new frame to obtain one that would be of sufficient capacity to accommodate five bells. The next development in the happy succession of events in connection with the bells of Walton-on-the-Wolds, was an offer from a landowner in the parish, Mr. J. W. Taylor (Messrs. Taylor, Founders, Loughborough), a few months or so ago, to give a treble bell if the money could be raised to provide a tenor bell. As may easily be imagined, the opportunity to secure the peal of five bells was seized with avidity, and Mr. Taylor was heartily thanked for his liberality, and the result was that the order for the other bell and the work in connection with the re-hanging was placed with Messrs. Taylor, who have satisfactorily completed their part of the contract, and Saturday week a service in connection with the opening of the bells took place, the function of their dedication and consecration being performed by Bishop Mitchinson. Unfortunately the weather was very inclement, and doubtless kept away many who would otherwise have been only too glad to have been present to witness the ceremony. Sufficient, however, of the parishioners were present, in spite of the unpropitiousness of the elements, to show the great interest with which those in the district regarded the undertaking.

The service, at which Mr. W. G. Taylor, Loughborough, presided at the organ, started at about four o'clock, the Bishop being accompanied on entering the sacred edifice by the rector, the Rev. E. Dalton (rector of Seagrave), and the Rev. T. Pitts (Loughborough). The first hymn sung was "We love the place O God," and the special psalms were numbers 145 and 150. The prayers were said by the rector, and the lesson from 14 Cor., was read by the Rev. T. Pitts, after which the Bishop, with the others officiating at the service, in procession, proceeded down the nave to the entrance of the church, from which point admission is gained to the belfry, for the purpose of discharging the gratifying function which was the occasion of his visit. After he had declared the bells to be "dedicated and consecrated to the service of Almighty God, in the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, Amen," the procession retraced its steps, and the quartette forming it resumed their former positions.

The rector then announced that they had received £108 odd towards the bells fund, and they wanted about £57 more. They hoped within the next few weeks or so to collect another £25, which will only leave about £32 owing. They hoped to pay that off by the weekly offertories. The hymn "O praise ye the Lord" having been rendered,

The Bishop gave an interesting address to those present, basing his remarks on the first verse of the 81st Psalm, viz.:—"Make a joyful noise unto the house of Jacob."

After the sermon, the hymn "All people that on earth do dwell," was sung, and collections made, which realized £1 15s. 6d., was in aid of the bells fund, the concluding hymn being, "Now thank we all our God," and as the congregation were dispersing, the organist played a fugue in C minor by Bach.

A number of the Loughborough company, viz.:—Messrs. J. W. Taylor, sen. and jun., E. Denison Taylor, R. Lane, J. Hardy, E. Cartwright, Harriman, Inglesant, S. Smith, J. Smith, and W. Tyler, gave touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles on the peal of bells after the conclusion of the service.

The total cost of the undertaking amounted to £198, made up as follows:—The new treble bell, given by Mr. J. W. Taylor, £33; the new tenor bell, £65, and the new iron frame with steel girders £100. After allowing for the collection at the service there remains about £55 to wipe out the debt on the bells fund.

The inscriptions on the bells are as follows:—

Treble.—"A.M.D.C. The gift of the founder, John William Taylor, A.D. 1896."
2nd.—"God save the Church. 1656. Robert Blunt, James Blunt."
3rd.—"1853. John Taylor and Sons, of Loughborough, founders."
This bell about 43 years since was cracked when utilised in ringing in the new year, and was sent to Messrs. Taylor to be re-cast.
4th.—"John Bryant, Hertford, fecit 1807. J. Shuttlewood, C.W.; Rev. Phillip Story, rector; J. Palmer, C.W."
Tenor.—"Andite et Venite, Venite et Andite. Montagu B. Bird, B.A., Rector. William Daft, Churchwarden. A.D. 1896."

The rector, with several of the inhabitants of Walton, paid a visit to the Loughborough Foundry to witness the casting of the bells. The peal has been put into perfect tune, in the key of A flat, and all the bells are equipped with entirely new fittings, in which all the latest improvements are introduced, notably the iron girder head-stocks, the Heywood lubricators for the bearings, and the Hastings stays. The iron framework is of H shape, massive castings being bolted to stout steel girders, and it stands perfectly rigid while the whole peal is swinging.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

The Quarterly Meeting of this Association was held on Saturday, September 12th, in the charming little old town of Wotton-under-Edge; but partly, perhaps, because it is rather a long way from a railway station, and partly, perhaps, because from morning till noon there was a regular tropical downpour of rain, there was rather a poor attendance of members. Most of these however, who put in an appearance set to work with the ropes soon after their arrival, and found that the bells went uncommonly well. At five o'clock evensong was said in the parish church, which is a fine edifice, in spite of the restoration not having been carried out as it might have been under a more judicious architect. A very sensible address was delivered by the Vicar, who subsequently presided at a substantial repast which had been prepared in the Church Institute, which was once, we believe, a cloth mill, and is admirably adapted for a its present purpose. Amongst the company were the Master, Treasurer, and Honorary Secretary of the Association, past Master Rev. H. A. Cockey, Rev. C. D. Mason Cox, the brothers Howell, E. Duckham, and C. H. Horton. The Vicar proved himself a very genial chairman, and ample justice was done to the good things provided by Mrs. Eyles, who looks like the embodiment of good nature. A business meeting ensued, but the proceedings were devoid of public interest; and as soon as it was over the ringers repaired again to the belfry and rung 500 Stedman Triples in a most creditable manner.

THE EAST DERBYSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The Quarterly Meeting of this Association was held at Wingerworth on Saturday, September 5th. Owing to the wet and miserable weather, representatives only from Tibshelf, Wingerworth, and North Wingfield put in an appearance. Regret was expressed that more members did not attend to do justice to the splendid tea provided by Messrs. Burkitt and Barnes (churchwardens), the rector being very ill. The Rev. W. Calder (son of the rector, who is now over from Australia for his holidays), was voted to the chair, and gave some very interesting accounts of church matters in Australia, stating how our own countrymen when abroad miss the sound of the church-going bell, although they themselves when in England never heeded the call the bells gave. But once abroad, the old proverb "we never miss the water till the well runs dry," is forcibly brought home. They who till then never heeded the sound of the church bells, then long and crave for it, when it cannot be heard.

It was unanimously resolved to hold a special meeting at Ripley on Saturday, October 17th, when all members are invited (friends included).

Votes of thanks to the churchwardens for the tea, and also to the rector for the use of the schoolroom and bells, brought the meeting to a close. The bells were afterwards kept going till about 8.20.

DISTRICT MEETING AT UCKFIELD.

A meeting was held at Uckfield on Saturday, September 12th, but only a few members put in an appearance, including Mr. Saker (the Eastern Divisional Secretary); Messrs. Goldsmith (Southover, Lewes); E. Butler (St. Nicolas, Brighton), F. Bennett (St. Peter's, Brighton); and G. Williams (Divisional Secretary). A capital tea was provided at The Maiden Head hotel, Mr. Saker, in the absence of the Rector, presiding.

Mr. Muddle, the captain of the local band, on behalf of the rector, gave the members of the Association a hearty welcome, and expressed regret at his (the Rector's) inability to attend the tea, owing to a previous engagement.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector for granting the use of the bells, and to Mr. Muddle for making arrangements for the tea.

The tower of the parish church was then visited, and the bells kept going till 8.30 p.m., when they were lowered in peal by the local company, who we are sorry to say are not at present members of the Association, but several expressed their willingness to join another year.

The bells, a fair ring of eight (but treble is rather badly cracked), bears the following inscriptions and dates:

Treble.—"These two trebles raised by voluntary subscriptions by Messrs. Lough, Markwick, and others, to make them a peal of eight." 4 cwt.

Second.—"I mean to make it understood, that tho' I'm little yet I'm good." 4½ cwt.

Third.—"You'll own my voice is sweet and clear. W. Mears fecit 1785." 5 cwt.

Fourth.—"If you have a judicious ear." 5½ cwt.

Fifth.—"Peace and good neighbourhood." 6½ cwt.

Sixth.—"Ye people all who hear me ring, be faithful to your God and King." 7 cwt.

Seventh.—"These bells were purchased by voluntary subscription by the inhabitants of Uckfield and their many friends." 9 cwt.

Tenor.—"While thus we join in cheerful sound, may love and loyalty abound." 12 cwt.

The back six date from 1779. The following is a copy of the tablet recording the first peal rang on them:—

"On Whit-Monday, June 4th, 1827, a true and complete peal of 5040 changes of Plain Bob Trebles was rung in this steeple by the Uckfield Youths in 3 hours and 3 minutes, being the first peal that was ever rung by them. Six of those Youths were pupils of Mr. Charles Welch. Mr. Willm. Wood, Treble; Mr. Edwd. French, 2; Mr. Chas. Farley, 3; Mr. Richd. Markwick, 4; Mr. John Pelham, 5; Mr. John Farley, 6; Mr. Chas. Welch, 7; Mr. Edwd. Markwick, Tenor."

As far as we could gather from the local ringers, Mr. Charles Welch came into the neighbourhood at the time of the building of Buxted House, and is supposed to have conducted this peal, his name being in italics.

We give above an illustration of the church of Holy Cross, Uckfield. The Rector is the Rev. Edward Sanderson, M.A., of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, who was instituted in 1880. Uckfield is in the Diocese of Chichester, and the patron of the benefice is the Archbishop of Canterbury. The Rector is one of the Surrogates of the Diocese. The net value of the living is £41, with two acres of glebe and house.

CHARETON, DEVON.

The old bells of this church, four in number, two of which were cracked, have lately been restored. The two cracked ones have been recast, and the treble, which was a very light bell and a weak one in tone, has also been recast and made heavier. Two new bells, a first and second, have also been added, so as to make one of six. The two new bells, and the three recast ones have all been tuned from the old tenor, which weighs 10 cwt. 1 qr. The new bells were dedicated by Canon Houghton, Vicar of Alvington, at a special service, before a crowded congregation, and the bells were rung by bands of ringers from Kingsbridge Stokenham, and West Alvington. The whole work, which included new oak beams and floor and oak frame and fittings, and the fixing of the Ellacombe chiming apparatus, was entrusted to Mr. Harry Stokes, church bell hanger, of Woodbury, who has carried out his work to the satisfaction of all concerned.

SINGLES FOR SIX-BELL METHODS.

By J. J. PARKER, Farnham Royal.

There seems to be considerable doubt in the minds of many young composers and conductors as to the right kind of single that should be used for some of our plain six-bell methods. This is perhaps owing chiefly to the fact that in an old book ("Monk") in which there is a collection of six-bell methods, the singles in many cases are wrong. The same may be said of a collection which appeared in "THE BELL NEWS" many years ago, which were compiled by Mr. Walker of Leeds. Now if the thing is put to the only practical test, there will be no difficulty, and the thing will decide the matter for itself. For instance, in Plain Bob and all such methods in which 2nds place is made at the plain lead, and 4ths at the bob, both of these places together with 3rds should be made at the single when the three different half-ways, together with the handstroke of the single, will be as follows:—

Here it should be noted that the single in each case is made precisely the same way in each case, and that only two bells are out of place. Why the three half-ways are different, is because the single in the first case is a substitute for a plain lead, and in the second case for a bob, and the third case is where fourteen, twenty, or thirty-two bobs are employed. Now if in the first two cases 2 3 4 were allowed to run home, and 5 6 lie still thus:—

1 2 4 3 6 5	1 3 2 4 6 5
1 2 3 4 6 5	1 2 3 4 6 5

Here again only two bells are out of place, but it must be noted that the working of the bells is different in each case, and that each single suits its own particular case only, if otherwise used five bells would be thrown out of place. Thus it is clear that the kind of single used in the third case, and which suits the other two, must be the correct one.

Now in applying the above theory in the case of methods in which 4ths place is made at the plain lead, and 6ths at the bob, or 6ths at the plain lead, and 4ths at the bob, both of these places, together with 5ths, should be made at the single, when the three different half-ways, together with the handstroke of the single, will be as follows:—

1 3 2 5 4 6	1 3 2 4 6 5	1 3 2 6 5 4
1 2 3 5 4 6	1 2 3 4 6 5	1 2 3 6 5 4

Here it will be seen at a glance that this kind of single is objectionable, because it affects the 5-6s, and to get over this difficulty it has been the custom, in such as the first two cases, to cause 3-2 to lie still and allow 4-5-6 to run home. Here again no provision is made for the third case, and it is at this point that the young composer becomes confused, in the endeavour to use a kind of single that does not suit all cases. To get over the difficulty as regards the 5-6s the single should never be called at the half-way and home in these methods, but at some point as will leave them undisturbed. A good position is when they both come together in 2-3, or one may be in 2-3, and the other making the place at the plain lead or the bob, as the case may be. If a 720 is composed with the single at the half-way, it can always be transposed afterwards.

In the case of Double Court and Double Stedman Slow Course, when no bobs are used, a single that will allow the bells in 4-5-6 to work as at a plain lead, may be used with good effect, the bells doing their Treble Bob dodging in Court, and their slow work in Stedman, will then meet with less interruption. Our old friend H. Burstow has, I believe, always adopted this plan in ringing Court Bob round about Horsham.

Correspondence.

While allowing the utmost freedom for the expression of opinion, it must never be considered that we are in any way bound to statements made by correspondents.
To the Editor of "THE BELL NEWS AND RINGERS' RECORD."

YORKSHIRE COURT.

SIR,—In your issue of August 15th the interesting letter of Mr. J. J. Parker, pointing out the falseness of the above in Minor, calls for some expression of thanks from me as Jasper Snowdon's brother, and as editor of the last edition of "Standard Methods." Mr. Parker's praiseworthy investigation clearly sets forth the fact that too much reliance must not be placed on the accuracy of matters handed down to us, even when they come from distinguished experts. Those who have the early volumes of "Church Bells" will perhaps be interested in turning to page 595 of Vol. II. (1872), where they will find a letter signed by A Yorkshire College Youth. Therein mention is first made of this method. This letter had, by the way, been written and sent up for the editorial columns, as the we points out, but Mr. Ellacombe, wisely as matters now stand, turned it into a letter and added the nom de plume. My brother, giving the figures of a lead, etc., explained that Henry Hubbard had extended the work of Bob Minor by a simple step with a special view of encouraging learners to get out of the groove in which they often buried their talents, viz, out of the one method in which they had been taught.

Now that Mr. Parker has shown us the pitfall, it is not difficult to see the double danger that exists in a method or variation which not only has its rows of the same nature—whether in or out of course—when the treble is in a particular place both up and down; but which also has no neutral or central point, in its plain course, at, and from, which the work of a bell may be said to repeat itself backward, and so exhaust all the rows peculiar to that plain course (as it seems to me) without poaching on the preserves of another.

It is gratifying to find that the workings of the ins and outs in Yorkshire College Major render repetition avoidable, and even impossible, provided that, when used, the singles are carefully introduced. The truth of the method in Major makes one wonder whether Hubbard worked it out on eight, and afterwards threw it into Minor (in which form it is given, in the letter to which I have referred) without further examinations of the ins and outs which fall quite differently on six:—Otherwise Hubbard would hardly have been found tripping (with his special knowledge of the subject) nor my brother overlooking the point at fault.

It only remains for me to thank Mr. Parker for his able letter, and to express my regret that such an error should have appeared in "Standard Methods"—Jasper's first peal (and mine alongside) collapse as false, since this formed one of the seven Minor methods rung on the occasion.

Leeds, September 14th, 1896.

P.S.—Absence from home has prevented my thanking Mr. Parker earlier.—W. S.

WM. SNOWDON.

REPLY TO MR. J. W. COCKCROFT.

SIR,—In answer to the query by Mr. J. W. Cockcroft, of East Crompton, near Oldham, published in "THE BELL NEWS" of September 5th, I can give him the following particulars as to the Todmorden Society, where we have a fine peal of eight bells by Mears and Stainbank. Our company consists at present of eleven members. The length of time each has rung here continuously is as follows:—Four from January, 1869, or twenty-seven years and eight months; three from 1870; one from 1874; and the remaining three about nine years, so that we have a full company of eight who have rung together continuously for twenty-two years. In addition to the above, we lost one only a year ago through change of residence (having gone to reside in Blackpool), who had been with us since 1869; and another still residing in the town who commenced at the same date, who retired from active service a few years ago, but had rung regularly for considerably over twenty years. I think therefore that the Crompton ringers will have to allow us to have the record for the present, though I should not be surprised to hear of other competitors.

MEN AND MANNERS.

What churchman of the working classes is there who has not been taunted that the clergy are against the workers? That the parsons in general preach that it is good to suffer here in sure and certain hope of a glorious hereafter? I say working class churchmen have borne this sneer for ages, but listen to the Dean of Ely. Speaking in St. Michael's church, Edinburgh, to congregations of trades union delegates and workers, the Dean, who is the author of "Christ and Democracy," took for his subject "The true ideal of the Church." In his opinion the attitude of the masses was not of hostility, but that the Church and Christianity had no interest for them—that it had done nothing in the way of a solution for our social problems, such as a living wage, and the abolition of women and child labour. If the Church would only take up the prophetic line like St. James she would denounce wrongdoing and oppression in whatever class. Says the Dean—"Prices should follow wages, and not the present contrary system." To the usurer and dividend taker, there might be some in his audience, he would say—"Does your business deserve to pay? Is your income derived from starvation wages and long hours? No money is legitimately earned which is got through the weakness or ignorance of your neighbour." Dean Stubbs at St. Mary's cathedral smote even harder. He says—"No one ought to feel that he has any right to pray 'Give us this day our daily bread,' unless he believes that in a Christian state (1) every citizen ought to have a subsistence, before anyone has a superfluity; (2) each and every citizen can and ought to enjoy equality of consideration, social opportunity and justice; (3) no wealth is honest wealth which is accumulated by taking advantage of the ignorance of the class with whom you deal. Such bread is not God's but the devil's, and the 'prosperity' that of swindlers." These sermons have been given under the auspices of the Christian Social Union, and to my knowledge they have borne good fruit by breaking down a considerable amount of bias against the Church in the minds of many. The C.S.U. is on the right track. If we were all Christians our social evil would not long exist. If we were all Christians there would not be thousands of our fallen outcast sisters walking under the lamps to satisfy the lust of those who in many cases have driven their victims to their horrible calling by the impossibility of an honest life with a starvation wage. If we were all christians we should not civilize the heathen at the point of the bayonet or by the Maxim gun, nor would the christian (?) employer lower wages on Saturday and raise rents on Monday. But we are not all christians, and the outlook is not bright, nor will it be until many of our clergy speak out as boldly as those I have quoted.

Variety is the spice of life, and that is the reason I have chosen to commence seriously this week. Whether our hobby be one of pleasure or no, we cannot always dwell on one theme, our minds will not always follow our will, and we feel at times that we must give vent to whatever weighs mentally upon us and cry with Charles Mackay:—

Come age, with experience fresh gathered from time,
Come youths in your vigour, come men in your prime;
From pleasure or slumber, from study or play,
Come forth in your myriads and aid us to-day;
There's a word to be spoken, a deed to be done,
A truth to be uttered—a cause to be won!

The bells of St. Peter Mancroft are evidently in fine form, seeing that the back ring of ten have been turned into Treble Bob Royal for two peals in a fortnight. The last peal being rung in the Oxford variation may be taken as even superior to the previous one of Kent. There seems no reason to doubt the statement made in the footnote, viz.: that the weight of the tenor is not 41 cwt. but 43 cwt. 1 qr. 18 lbs., but we all know that in villages if we take the word of the old timers, their tenors are always over a ton. Just a few pounds over—they can't tell to an ounce, but they are positive the tenor is over a ton. When the tenor tenor is weighed it is usually found about 13 or 14 cwt. In the last few years we have seen the weight of tenors grow, peal after peal; so I hope the big bell of Norwich will be weighed.

The tenor at Erith has been disputed more than once, and that of "Bonny Christ Church bells," Oxford, gradually rose at one time from 19 cwt., 20, 30, 40, to 45 cwt. The actual weight is 31 cwt. 1 qr. 23 lbs. bell metal. In regard to St. Peter's Mancroft, Hubbard states that "this fine-toned bell is 41 cwt. in C." Shipway also says it was 41 cwt. in 1816. What are we to believe?

The Derby branch of the Midland Counties' Association is still going ahead with their peals of Grandsire Triples on handbells, for which they are to be congratulated; but why not try another method or two? Surely our old friends Harry Woodward or Albert Thompson would take a pair. I mention this because I notice separate hands usually ring the Derby peals. The handbell band I notice do not do much on the tower bells. This is of course nobody's business but their own, but take this advice, my young men of Derby, don't let the handbell ringing occupy all your attention. The church should stand first, and although we hold that handbell peals rank higher for merit than those of the tower, remember your position as church workers should be your first consideration. I know what the handbell fever is, but better shun it if it results in keeping you out of the belfry.

Here is a glorious opportunity—a fortune awaits you, and all for doing simply nothing. From the land of the wooden nutmeg comes a brand new means of earning a livelihood when too old to work. A patent medicine vendor has hit on the idea of securing a number of thoroughly bald-headed men and renting their shiny poles as hoardings for advertisements. The men cannot complain (for they come coloured) as they are sent into places of amusement; and when they remove their hats there stands out in bold lettering on their craniums "Try Screecham's Pills." The pit and stalls simply roar with delight, and the uproar in the gallery can be better imagined than described. Henceforth I shall not worry about old age pensions, but simply wait with blissful nonchalance until the barber has gathered in his sheaves and gleaned to his satisfaction all the wool from the devoted head of

JINGLE.

BAGSHOT, SURREY.

The coming of age of Mr. Ralph Waterer was celebrated on Monday, August 31st. Ringing was started between five and six o'clock in the morning, and several 6-scores of Grandsire Doubles were rung. Starting again at two o'clock, the bells were kept going at intervals till 5.30., several 360s and touches of Bob Minor being rung. J. Corbett, 1; T. Gould, 2; B. Hawkins, 3; O. Harding, 4; E. Spooner, 5; E. Collins (conductor), 6. At 6.30 the ringers were invited to dine with the tenants and tradesmen at The Fighting Cocks inn, where a capital spread was waiting them. After the cloth had been removed, Mr. Waterer appeared on the scene, and after his health had been drank, and "For he's a jolly good fellow" sung, two touches of Bob Minor were rung. Returning to the inn, Mr. Waterer was found there, and the handbells being brought out, a plain course of Grandsire Triples was rung, which delighted the company. T. Gould, 1-2; E. Collins, 3-4; B. Hawkins, 5; J. Corbett, 6; E. Spooner, 7-8. Afterwards Mr. Waterer called the ringers, and gave each ringer a present in the shape of a sovereign each. Returning back to the company several toasts were given and duly honoured. Mr. Waterer shook hands with all present, and returned home, while the rest of the evening was spent in touches on the handbells, and songs by Messrs. Corbett, Varndell, Gould, and Bond, which brought a pleasant day to a close.

It may be mentioned that Mr. Waterer's mother gave the ring of six to the parish church, tenor 21½ cwt., in memory of her husband, Mr. Michael Waterer, who died December 1st, 1880. Mrs. Waterer never lived to hear them rung, she dying in November 1881, before the building of the church was finished.

AND COMPOSERS.

CHAPTER II.

It was shown last week how to call a 6-score of Grandsire Doubles with the 5th being the "fixed," or observation-bell. The same usage can be applied to the 3rd bell, i.e. she can be made the observation in the same manner, only that the calling will have to be commenced one lead earlier. The first half of such a 6-score is thus:—

1 2 3 4 5
1 4 5 2 3 -
1 4 3 5 2
1 5 2 4 3 -
1 5 3 2 4
1 4 2 5 3 S

This calling to be repeated, as before. The order of the bobs and singles can be varied in the same manner as was shown when the 5th was used as the observation.

To ring the observation-bell when calling is what every pupil should do at first, because not only is his work rendered easier, but he is better able to look about him and take soundings, as it were, of the work of the other bells. But he should soon be able to do without its aid, so far as ringing is concerned.

There is a process which is very useful to the bob-caller when he reaches the higher numbers of bells, and that is "observations by the bells before." As by this many peals are called, in other methods beside the one we are dealing with, it will be as well to see what it means. Every one who reads these lines should be aware for some time previous, when "thirds place and back to lead" has to be done. A ringer whose bell the treble has turned from behind knows full well that the treble is following it down, and will inevitably take it off the lead. In such case, when his bell is leading its first blow, the treble will be in 3rds. As he is leading this first blow let him call "bob," which will be calling his own bell "before." To call one's own bell before is very easy indeed, and in Grandsire Doubles it may be effected with any bell but the 2nd, and repeated until the bells run home.

To call any bell "before" requires some little thought. Before entering upon this the following scale may be looked at. Let us imagine the change given below to be a bob lead-end, i.e. a bob having been called this change is the back-stroke lead of the treble when the bob is made:—

Into the hunt.
Before.
Out of the hunt.
Right.

Here are the four places in which the bells fall at a bob. The observation for calling your own bell "before" we have just given; that for "right" was explained last week. To call your own bell "into the hunt" it must be in 2nds place going up with the treble just behind it, and the lead which will put a bell in that position is the one after it has dodged in 4-5 down. To get a bell out of the hunt the call must be given at the last blow of that bell behind.

Having gained an accurate knowledge of these positions, to call any bell "before" is plain. The chief thing is to know at what lead the bell required to be so called has to make 3rds through being taken off the lead by the treble. As a bell passes from front to behind its ringer should notice what bell he strikes upon immediately before he meets the treble; that is the bell which will make 3rds, and thus can be called "before" that lead. On any number of bells the same rule holds good. In ringing Cinques eight bells may be met with in going up behind previous to meeting the treble; the last bell of those eight will make thirds after leading, and is thus in a position to be called "before," as it leads the first blow. When the bell is discovered which has to be called before, and if not the bell the practitioner is ringing, he will be able by a knowledge of the above scale to tell at once what position his own bell will be in at the bob, and call it accordingly.

In Grandsire Doubles either of the bells not in the hunt can only meet two bells (no more) in going up, before the treble is met with. Those two bells will be together in front if a bob is called, one being "before," and the other going into the hunt. It is obvious therefore that the last bell but one met before the treble, goes into the hunt at a bob.

If the foregoing remarks can be understood we can now proceed to examine a 6-score with nine calls instead of six. There is no necessity for more than one example, others may be obtained from the various works on ringing. The one here given is by observation of the 3rd, though after what has been written the pupil will be able to ring any bell and call this 120.

1 5 4 2 3 S
1 5 3 4 2
1 2 4 5 3 S
1 5 3 2 4 -

This 120 is in three parts, the above being the first. The 3rd is called "right" twice (by a single each time) and then "before" by a bob. This calling being twice repeated completes the 6-score.

The last lead of the above—15324, is for obvious reasons called the part-end, and it will be seen that the 3rd bell is at home there. In all cases when a peal or touch is divided into equal parts, all the parts being called alike, the bell or bells at home at the part-end do the same work in each part, and thus can be used as observation-bells if required.

In concluding Grandsire Doubles, a rule may be given to call the bells into rounds. This is very little trouble on so low a number. First call the 4th into the hunt, and if no singles have been made (or their equivalent) call the 5th "right." This is all that is necessary. But when about to call the 5th "right" it should be noticed whether the 2nd or 3rd will be called "before." If the 2nd should present itself for that duty, call a single; if the 3rd a bob, in either case the round is reached.

ALEPH.

THE SOUTH AND WEST MIDDLESEX GUILD.

A monthly ringing meeting of this Guild was held at Staines on Saturday, August 22nd, the vicar of St. Mary's (Rev. J. H. Armstrong), very kindly placing the bells at the disposal of the Guild from 5.30 p.m. There was a good muster of members and ringing friends from Isleworth, Hillingdon, Heston, and Ealing (Christ Church and St. Mary's); also some of the local company, whilst Messrs. Gutteridge (2), and T. Gosling journeyed from Windsor, and R. Flaxman from Slough. Mr. H. Simmonds, of Caversham, who happened to be in the town, also visited the tower. The "go" of the bells was considered good, and plenty of ringing indulged in by mixed bands, numerous touches of Grandsire Triples, Stedman and Oxford Bob being brought round and conducted by Messrs. Basden, Taber, and Walsom (Ealing), and H. S. Reeves (Hillingdon). Some good practice was also obtained in Treble Bob Major. A touch of Plain Bob Major was also brought round. J. Gutteridge, 1; A. Taber, 2; W. Foster, 3; J. Basden (conductor), 4; C. Edwards, 5; R. Flaxman, 6; H. S. Reeves, 7; H. Simmonds, 8.

The bells having been kept going till close upon 9 o'clock, it was decided to bring the meeting to a close with a touch of Stedman. This was rung in a masterly style, and was undoubtedly the best striking of the evening. A. Taber, 1; E. J. Walsom, 2; W. Foster, 3; R. Flaxman, 4; C. Edwards, 5; F. Goddard, 6; J. Basden (conductor), 7; T. Beadle, 8. The members desire through the medium of "THE BELL NEWS" to thank the vicar for the use of the bells, and also Mr. A. Wicks, the steeple-keeper, for his kind attention.

CRAMLINGTON, DURHAM. THE DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

Some months since Mr. Bodger, who is organist at this church, and who has always been distressed at the silence of this fine peal of bells, set to work to try to resuscitate their ringing, and for that purpose communicated with Mr. R. S. Story, of Whitley. The latter gentleman asked the Whitley ringers to accompany him to Cramlington, with a view to assist the ringers there, and this they willingly did at the time. The tenor of this peal is 20 cwt., and has been renowned as a very bad goer as long as any of the oldest ringers in the neighbourhood can remember. On arrival it was found to be quite as bad as was reputed, and it was quite impossible to ring a 720, Doubles being all that was possible, and that with difficulty, though strong men tried her. It was then suggested to Mr. Bodger that the bell being end-bound, a remedy might be applied in this direction, and it is pleasant to report that in this work which he at once took in hand, he was assisted by several of the old and new ringers, who lifted the tenor, and relieved the brasses at the end.

On the invitation of Dr. Hornsby, the Whitley ringers were invited to return in August to try the bells again, and enjoy the hospitality of Dr. Hornsby after ringing. This they did on Saturday, August 29th, when they found some improvement in the going of the tenor. It was still impossible to get her through a 720, though various ringers tried, the most notable attempt being one in which one in which W. Thompson took the tenor, and it was only lost when within a course or two of the finish through a change-course. After an examination of the bells, and further ringing, the local ringers and the visitors made their way to the schoolroom, where they were entertained to an ample tea. The vicar took the chair, supported by Dr. and Miss Hornsby, Mr. and Mrs. Ryder, Mr. H. Storey (churchwarden), Mr. R. S. Story (Whitley), and others; while Mr. Bodger, the honorary organist, who is taking such an interest in the belfry, occupied the vice-chair. Mrs. Bodger and several ladies assisted in attending to the wants of the company, so that the meal passed off most satisfactorily. After grace a very hearty vote of thanks was passed to Dr. and Miss Hornsby for their hospitality, and in returning thanks Dr. Hornsby referred to his old connection with the peal, he being one of the originators of the scheme for having them erected. He gave some excellent advice to the ringers as to the reasons why they should ring, and assured them of his support in the future to the best of his ability.

Mr. H. Story proposed the health of the visitors, to which Mr. R. S. Story and Mr. Ryder replied. Mr. Bodger proposed "The Ladies," their champion in replying in a very suitable speech, being the leader of the belfry. Mr. Ryder having brought a nice peal of handbells by Taylor, a course or two of Grandsire Triples was rung by T. Gofton, J. Keen, W. Holmes, and R. S. Story. The local ringers then rang some call-changes on the tower bells, which, considering the bad "go" of the bells, was greatly to their credit, and it is satisfactory to note that there is every prospect of a good band of change-ringers being established here, as the men appear to be of the right disposition, and not the kind to be content to put up with any inferior method. At present the state of the bells stands greatly in the way of their advancement, but there is no doubt that Mr. Bodger, with such a band at his back, will not be long in getting them into ringing order.

NORTON, DERBYSHIRE.

The peal of six bells at the church are about to be recast, with a new iron frame. Messrs. Allen and James, two of the local ringers, having recently inspected the old oak frame and reported to the vicar that it was unsafe; also suggesting that the bells be recast. A meeting having been called and a committee of gentlemen commenced to raise the sum of £400, intending to make a sound job of tower and bells. The subscription list has in a few weeks reached near upon £300. It is intended to entrust the work to Messrs. Taylor, Loughborough. E.J.

COMPLIMENTARY DINNER TO RINGERS.

On Wednesday evening, September 9th, the ringers connected with St. James's church, Wigan, together with those gentlemen who have since the opening of the bells given their services in ringing for Divine Service twice each Sunday, were invited to supper on the invitation of Mr. Thomas Airey, of the Victoria Brewery. About thirty responded to the call, and assembled at the Eckersley's Arms, Poolstock, where a sumptuous spread had been prepared by Mr. and Mrs. James Paxton. Needless to say, the spread was thoroughly enjoyed by all, and the host and hostess were highly complimented on the matter in which the toothsome delicacies had been placed upon the table. The post-prandial proceedings were presided over by Mr. R. O. Burland, the vice-chair being occupied by Mr. R. Bannister.

The Chairman gave the toast of "The Queen, the Prince and Princess of Wales, and the rest of the Royal Family," which was drunk in a most loyal manner.

The Chairman next proposed "Health to the donor, Mr. Thomas Airey," and in doing so said that his kindness on that occasion was actuated by a spirit of neighbourly feeling towards those who had, at great inconvenience themselves, come to St. James's belfry, Sunday after Sunday, and given their valuable assistance in ringing the bells. No monetary value could be placed on those services, but the hospitality of Mr. Airey that evening was conclusive evidence that the efforts of their ringing friends were appreciated in the district and that they added to their list of friends many of the "Islanders." The toast was vociferously received, and was accorded musical honours, the company singing "For he's a jolly good fellow."

The Chairman next gave the toast of "The Conductor" (Mr. John Meadow.) He said they in Poolstock ought to feel proud of the able manner in which he had brought St. James's ringers to their present state of efficiency in the short space of six weeks. Tuesday, this week, was the first time the bells had been rung "open" by them, and it was creditable both to the ringers and to the conductor. He dared say that not a man living could have improved on the work done in their tower. This toast also was received with musical honours.

Mr. Meadow, in responding, thanked those present for the manner in which the toast of his health had been received. Speaking of the new band of ringers, he said a more willing and kindly lot of men it would be difficult to find, and the results so far has been phenomenal, considering the "raw material," if he might use a metaphor, of which it is composed, and he had no doubt that in the near future they would be well grounded in the art of change-ringing. The kindly help afforded by ringers and substitutes (past and present) from All Saints had been very valuable; and he might add that they had occasional visitors from Aughton, Hindley, &c.

The Vice-Chairman proposed the health of the ringers who had occupied the belfry since the opening of the bells, and this was supported in a felicitous and vigorous speech by Mr. W. Wilson.

Responses were made by Messrs. R. Fisher, John Hall, and Gilbert C. Hall, the latter remarking that it was a tribute to the memory of the late Mr. Nathaniel Eckersley, that brought them to their tower week by week, and the name of that gentleman, he trusted, would be engraven in their hearts for very many years to come.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Burland for presiding was proposed by Mr. Tom Taylor, this being seconded by Mr. Henry Hall.

During the evening some excellent songs were rendered by the following:—Messrs. F. Sheargold (late of the Wigan parish church), Henry Hall, Jos. W. Hall, H. Meadow, E. Horton, W. Major, J. Brown, T. Taylor, and J. Fisher. Mr. J. Taylor (organist of St. George's), and Mr. J. Fisher creditably officiated at the piano. A most enjoyable and social evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

EASTHAMPSTEAD, BERKS.

The ring of six at this place has been put in proper order with new ring gudgeons and gun metal bearings, and other repairs. The work has been done by Messrs. F. White and Sons, Church Bell Hangers, Appleton, Berks., and the "go" of the bells and the work gives great satisfaction to the parish.

The Bell News & Ringers' Record.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1896.

A DISCOVERY has been made by Mr. JOSEPH PARKER which has resulted in the elimination of a well known method, so far as its Minor practice is concerned. The letter from Mr. WILLIAM SNOWDON in this number finally establishes this fact. Upon six bells, it is well known, methods are as plentiful as blackberries, and it is not too much to say that a great many of them would not bear the ordeal of examination by such an expert as Mr. PARKER. This gentleman has invited co-operation in an analysis of six-bell methods. If such an enquiry is entered upon, we think it would be well to determine to recommend to the Exercise as represented by the Council, the propriety of demolishing not only those methods which cannot bear strict and careful proof, but also those which have too close a resemblance to others well-established.

Methods should show some art and symmetry in their composition. Grotesque masses of figures thrown together without rhyme or reason were once thought a capital hotch-potch. In these days our method-masters are men of science, and fail not to throw the weight of their ridicule upon anything in the shape of a method which impinges upon their ideas of propriety and correctness.

AN OLD RINGERS' PITCHER.

Mr. S. Slater, of Glemsford, Suffolk, sends us this picture, which we willingly reproduce. He says: "I have made inquiries about this interesting old piece of earthenware, and I have gathered the following particulars: It was given to the company of Clare ringers (not bought by them), by some admirer of bell-ringing in the year 1729. Its size and inscription are as follows:—

CANORE,
CLARE RINGERS,
1729.
Hold 16 Quarts.
3 Ft 3 ins. round.

THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.—LIVERPOOL
DIOCESAN BRANCH.

On Saturday, September 5th, a meeting in connection with the above took place at Farnworth, near Widnes, when ringers attended from Garston, Hale, Huyton, Liverpool, Prescott, Walton, Warrington, also the local company. The tower was open for ringing at 4 o'clock, and shortly after that time the bells were in motion. At six o'clock, the members assembled in the old school-room and sat down to tea provided free of cost. After tea, the business meeting was held, presided over by the Rev. W. Thatcher. In his opening remarks, he said how pleased he was to meet those present, and extended to all a very cordial welcome. He went on to say that various changes had taken place in Farnworth church, the old galleries being taken out, and alterations in the ringing arrangements, the bells now being rung from the ground floor. It was sweet to hear the bells on the Sabbath pealing forth, inviting old and young to join in prayer and praise, and he was glad to hear ringers took more interest in church work than they did formerly. There were various uses bells were put to in ancient times, such as decking the high priest's garments, &c., and there were different ways in which our church bells were used in modern times, such as the wedding bells and the muffled bells. Tubular bells were quite a recent addition to our churches, but they were not to be compared with bells that were rung. There was also the Gospel bells, and he was a ringer of the Gospel message in telling out to mankind the sweet story of Jesus and his love. He was glad to say that previous to the bells being rung for Divine Service at Farnworth, the ringers held a short service. In conclusion, he hoped he would have the pleasure of meeting those present on some future occasion if they were spared. The minutes of the previous meeting held at Halewood were read and confirmed. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Wigan, on Saturday, October 3rd., and it was requested that members will do their utmost to attend. Mr. R. S. Mann, of Liverpool, was elected to serve on the general committee for the next two years.

Mr. E. Rimmer, of Huyton, spoke about the abilities of Mr. Mann, and hoped he would long continue to serve on the Committee, as he knew him to be a good ringer and a good "man."

A vote of thanks to the chairman for presiding, and to the Rev. J. Wright-Williams for his extreme kindness in providing tea, etc., and to the local company for the admirable way in which they had carried out the arrangements, brought a very successful meeting to a close. After the meeting the following members rang on the bells a 720 of Plain Bob Minor. R. Johnson, 1; W. Oxley, 2; J. Houghton, 3; W. Brammer, 4; J. Moston, 5; F. W. Stout, 6. This was conducted by F. W. Stout, and it was his 100th 720.

Change-ringing was freely indulged in during the afternoon and evening by mixed companies, in the following Minor methods: Grandsire, Plain Bob, Canterbury Pleasure, College Single and Kent Treble Bob.

DODDINGTON, NORTHANTS.

DEATH OF MR. J. M. SHARP.—We regret to record the death of the above-named gentleman, farmer, of Great Doddington, which took place on Saturday after about a fortnight's illness. Deceased who was fifty-nine years of age, was highly respected by a large circle in the Wellborough district. For a number of years he had been churchwarden at the parish church, Doddington, and last year was a member of the Parish Council. He was a Conservative in politics, and took a keen interest in agriculture, occupying farms at Doddington and Wilbye. The funeral took place at Doddington on Thursday afternoon amid many signs of regret. Many people attended to pay their last token of respect to the departed, notwithstanding a heavy downpour of rain at the time fixed for the funeral, and much sympathy was expressed for the widow and three children. During the evening the ringers rang 720 Grandsire Doubles with the bells muffled. T. Thornton, 1; T. Sharp, 2; C. Chapman, 3; T. Bonham, 4; E. Chapman, 5. Mr. Sharp will be greatly missed both in Doddington and Wilbye. He was fond of the bells, and a good friend to the ringers. He made the members of the Central Northants. Association welcome at their quarterly meeting at Doddington last year, and became an honorary member. The project of a new tenor at the parish church loses a warm advocate by his death.

ST. STEPHEN'S PARISH CHURCH, LINDLEY, YORKS.

The ringers in connection with the above church, met on Saturday afternoon, September 6th, to celebrate the twenty-second anniversary of the bells, by ringing a date touch, 1896 changes, in 1 hr. and 9 mins. A. Sykes, 1; S. Woolhouse, 2; T. Rhodes, 3; A. Crossland, 4; G. T. Turner, 5; G. W. Schofield, 6; J. A. Royston, 7; F. Schofield, 8. Tenor 18½ cwt. The touch was composed by A. Sykes and conducted by F. Schofield (president of the Heavy Woollen Association). After the touch the ringers adjourned to The Globe inn, at the kind invitation of the host and hostess (Mr. and Mrs. Burhouse), and partook of an excellent supper, to which full justice was done. After the cloth had been removed, a pleasant evening was spent under the presidency of Mr. A. Sykes, when songs were given by Mr. B. Shaw, and others, accompanied on the piano by Mr. Charles Harwood, who also gave a piano solo. The tower bells were rung at intervals. Votes of thanks to the host and hostess, and to the chairman, brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

ARTHUR T. KING, Hon. Sec.

Sarum, Ravenscroft Park Road, Barnet.

FINEDON, NORTHAMPTONSHIRE.

The death took place on Saturday last, after a lengthy illness, of Mr. James Wallis, who for many years had been the parish clerk. Mr. Wallis, who was in his 74th year, had been a ringer for upwards of half a century, and is the last of the half-dozen "old ringers," the other five (William Bailey, William Moon, Jerham Cooper, James Bailey, and Thomas Wright) having pre-deceased him. At the death of the last-named, thirty-five years ago, the office of parish clerk became vacant, and Mr. Wallis received the appointment, performing his duties in a manner which gave satisfaction to everyone with whom he was brought in contact, until about two and a half years ago, when a nasty fall which he sustained at that time resulted in an illness which has since prevented him from following any employment. A few years ago Mr. and Mrs. Wallis, who were widely known and respected, celebrated their golden wedding, and by the death of Mr. Wallis, Finedon has lost a familiar link with the past history of the parish. The funeral took place on Wednesday amid many signs of esteem in which the deceased was held, the ceremony being performed by the Vicar (Rev. G. W. Paul), assisted by the Rev. W. E. Fletcher. He was carried to the grave by four of the senior ringers—Messrs. Manning, Baker, Elson, and Tompkins. By desire of the widow the bells were not rung muffled in the evening.

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.—The address of Mr. R. Binns, Secretary of the Leeds and District Amalgamated Society is now 4, Kirkland Square, Kirkland Street, Beeston Road, Leeds. —The address of Mr. T. Groombridge, late of Chislehurst, is now 2, Mount Villas, The Vine, Sevenoaks, Kent.

MR. THOMAS HUDSON, SEN., OF SUNDERLAND.

[Vide Portrait.]

This gentleman, a native of Bishopwearmouth, the ancient parish of Sunderland, first learnt to ring when, owing to the mistaken policy of the old-fashioned class of ringers, learners were kept in the dark as much as possible, with regard to the art, and Mr. HUDSON had to learn first to handle a bell by stealing into the church at nights and tying the clapper. No books or literature of any kind were available, and the only advantage to be had, if it can be called an advantage, was the permission of the sexton allowing him with some other youths to chime for some of the minor services. On leaving the town all connection with the bells ceased, but on returning to settle in Sunderland, he became again connected with the church as sidesman and churchwarden. Things were getting to a very low ebb in the belfry, and in the Jubilee year the authorities found themselves without ringers. Mr. HUDSON volunteered to assist in forming a new band, all of whom had to be taught, and the assistance of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association was asked for, in response to which Mr. Story took up the instruction of the party. Mr. HUDSON proved an apt pupil, and in addition to learning readily himself, was of immense benefit in keeping the band together during the trying period of tutelage. The authorities of the church owe him a great debt for all he has done in the belfry, and his services are duly appreciated by the ringers and others. In a comparatively short space of time, the six bells which the church then possessed, were mastered, and several different methods of Minor were commonly rung on them. The bells being in a very bad condition, it was found absolutely necessary to have them rehung, and Mr. HUDSON very wisely took this opportunity to set about having them made into a peal of eight. In this, owing to his determination, and the kind and generous assistance of others, notably Mr. J. L. Browne, he was successful, and two trebles were added to the old peal of six. His band are now familiar with Major ringing, and may be expected to become one of the staunchest bands in the Association. Mr. HUDSON's chief performances consist of the following:

Bob Triples ... ..	1
Grandsire Triples ... ..	1
Stedman Triples ... ..	2
Kent Treble Bob Major ... ..	3
Double Norwich Court Bob Major ... ..	2

When the Rev. C. Buston was obliged to vacate the office of Secretary to the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan which he had so ably filled, it was difficult to induce any one to follow him, and it was only under the greatest pressure that Mr. HUDSON allowed himself to be installed in the position until the Annual Meeting. By that time he had got a fair grasp of the business of the Association, and fortunately for the Association, he was prevailed upon to continue to act. His exactness and rectitude in everything relating to the dealings of the Association reflect upon him the greatest credit as a man of business, and as one who has the welfare of the Art at heart. He is always ready and willing to put his own convenience on one side to assist in any way to advance the interests of the Association, and the members are to be congratulated upon having such a Secretary. In his family, though Mrs. Hudson is not in any sense a ringer, her native place is the well-known Saffron Walden, the seat of one of the oldest ringing societies. His two sons are well-known performers, and his two daughters can both use the handbells, one being a member of the Association, having rang several 720s of Minor.

THE NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.—ANNUAL MEETING AT NORWICH.

On Tuesday last the ancient city of Norwich was enlivened by a great deal of bell-ringing, on the occasion of the annual meeting of the Norwich Diocesan Association, members of which had come to the city of churches from all parts of Norfolk and Suffolk. The towers represented were Norwich, Aylsham, Beccles, Debenham, Somerleyton, Yarmouth, Blofield, Wickham Skeith, Quidenham, Tunstead, Cawston, Fundenhall, Eye, Stradbroke, Wiveton, St. Cross, Fressingfield, Leiston, North Elmham, Hethersett, Aldeburgh, Grundisburgh, Clopton, Wenhaston, Ipswich, Diss, Bramfield, Wetheringsett, Ufford, and Haddiscoe. The Norwich towers available were St. Peter Mancroft, St. Andrew, St. Michael Coslany, St. John Maddermarket, St. Mary Coslany, St. Lawrence, St. Gregory, and St. Peter Permountergate. After some ringing in the morning the members assembled in the church of St. Peter Mancroft, for Divine Service, and afterwards adjourned to the assembly room of the Norfolk and Norwich Conservative Club to dine and to transact the business of the annual meeting. At the service the Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, the secretary, read the prayers, and the Rev. Dr. Raven, president, read the lesson, the Rev. W. P. Burn preaching a brief and admirable sermon from Isaiah xli. 6. "They helped every one his neighbour; and every one said to his brother, be of good courage." The preacher dwelt on the principle of mutual help, which ought also to be observed amongst ringers, for as bells were God's witnesses calling men to his service, those who were instrumental in ringing them should consecrate themselves to Christ. At the dinner Dr. Raven presided. The repast, served by Mr. H. L. Brown, of the Shirehall hotel, was of the excellent and substantial character which the ringers have always had provided for them at Norwich. The genial president was supported by the Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, Revs. W. Pelham Burn, T. H. Marsh, H. J. Coleman, J. H. Pilkington, C. F. Blyth, A. G. Blyth, F. J. Moule, G. S. Ives, J. Goodwin Johnson, and W. Morley Smith, Messrs. J. W. Spratt, F. Knights, and others. Alongside the upper table was a framed portrait of her Majesty, with the inscription, "Presented to James Chandler by Queen Victoria, in recognition of his having assisted to ring the bells of Fressingfield Church on every anniversary of the birth of her Majesty." It will be remembered that we gave a portrait, a few weeks ago, of Mr. Chandler, with a short account of his ringing career, written by the Rev. Canon Raven, D.D., F.S.A.

The President, in giving "The Queen," said that on the morrow her Majesty's reign would be the longest in English annals. At that moment the Czar was with her Majesty in privacy at Balmoral, and God only knew what might result from that visit. They must not expect much, but they might hope to any extent. The destinies of Europe once hung on three quarters of an hour's chat in an orchard in Holland. It was a question of peace or war, and there came peace. All they could hope was that He in whose hands were the hearts of kings and princes might so dispose and govern the hearts of those who ruled in Europe that they might not let the end of the 19th century be marked with the unmitigated disgrace pertaining to the priest and the Levite, who passed by on the other side. The speaker then pointed to the portrait above referred to as an illustration of the kindly and gracious character of the Queen, for it was presented by her to John Chandler, who was born on the 29th February, 1812, and who, having had only twenty-one birthdays, was consequently still a very young man. When he mentioned to Canon Hervey, of Sandringham, that Chandler had rung the bells at Fressingfield on every anniversary of the Queen's birth, he was simply satisfied that he had done so, but on returning home he found the portrait, framed, with the inscription thereon, an inscription he knew to be correct, because he recognised the very words he used in his letter to Canon Hervey. This gracious and kindly act showed her Majesty's regard for her subjects, even for those not born of high estate.

MR. THOMAS HUDSON, SEN.
(Of Sunderland.)

The Chairman next gave "The Prince and Princess of Wales and the rest of the Royal Family," and "The Bishop and Clergy of the Diocese," with thanks to the Rev. W. Pelham Burn for his able and interesting discourse.

The Rev. W. Pelham Burn said that it was a pleasure to see the ringers of the diocese at St. Peter Mancroft. Since their last visit the tower had been made secure for many generations to come. The two lower storeys were left unrepaired at the time of the restoration for want of funds, but during the past two years a great effort had been made to complete the job, and it had all been paid for with the exception of about £100. Ringers would be able to continue ringing in the tower for as long a period as it had stood.

The President, for the amusement of the company of experts in the way of ringing, called attention to a West of England story, which appeared in an illustrated magazine, to show what strange ideas were current about ringing. His experience was that it took both hands to raise a bell, but possibly some present could raise two bells at a time, one with each hand. [A voice: "Handbells."] Dr. Raven went on to quote from the magazine story a conversation in which it was set forth that a person could raise not only two but even three or four bells at the same time. When he reached that point he felt bad, but the ill effects went off in a fit of tremendous laughter. An act of Parliament might be introduced to compel people to write about what they did not understand, in order to provide amusement for their fellows.

The Rev. H. Earle Bulwer stated that at Christmas there would appear in the Windsor Magazine an article that would give a clear and concise account of bell ringing, to act as a sort of counter irritant to such ignorant stories as that to which Dr. Raven had referred. The Rev. Pelham Burn's discourse suggested to him the necessity there was to try to improve the organisation of the several companies, for it was exceedingly loose in many places in the diocese. There was a great tendency to break up. It was of great importance for the welfare of the association and of change-ringing generally that a little more attention should be paid in various parishes to the organisation of companies and the rules governing them. No company would do much good without discipline and organisation. The most fruitful cause of the break up of companies was money. Where the ringers received a certain sum from the churchwardens, from the parish, or for weddings during the year, if one man did not get so much on a division as he expected he would throw up ringing. If churchwardens had not the same amount at their disposal for distribution, the ringers in a body would be disgusted and throw it up. There ought to be some understanding so that companies should not break up for such a trivial reason. He suggested that everything received in the course of the year for ringing should be put into a common fund, and that there should be a system of small fines or forfeits for non-attention to duties or for absence from practice, so that at the end of the year, when the total came to be divided, each man's share would be the same, less his forfeits, which would go to a subsidiary fund, to be equally divided. Thus the man who was most attentive would get the most, and the man who did the least would get the least. If something of that kind were done many difficulties would be removed. The rev. gentleman then presented the annual report, which he said contained some welcome features, while others were not so cheering. The numerical strength of the society was stationary, about 800 resident members, the number of new members being barely sufficient to counterbalance the losses. They had to regret the retirement of two vice-presidents, Archdeacon Neville and Sir Lawrence Jones, the latter having gone to reside abroad for some time. They had lost by death the Rev. C. Ward, of Ipswich, Mr. J. Cullum of Fandenham, Mr. B. Smith, of the Redenhall company, and Mr. William Degée and Mr. C. Saul, of Ipswich. There had been a considerable diminution in the number of peals rung as compared with the previous two years; but on the other hand the character of the performances achieved exhibited a marked advance over former years, for Superlative Surprise Major again appeared in the record, the perseverance of the company practising at Redenhall having been deservedly rewarded by the achievement of an excellent peal in that beautiful method. Several peals of Double Norwich Court had also been rung, two of them by a band under great disadvantage as regarded eight-bell practice, and two on handbells by four members of the Ipswich company, the only previous record of the kind having been by the Cambridge University Guild. Three towers had come into union during the year—Besthorpe, Huntingfield, and Quidenham, while Grimston had withdrawn. The Kenninghall company had broken up, and Gorleston was represented by only one annual subscriber and one life member. The Tunstead company had been reorganised, and its recruits sought admission into the Association. The number of towers actually in union or represented by one or more members was 92, of which 23 were five-bell and 31 six-bell towers. Few, comparatively, of these smaller towers were represented ten years ago; the increase was therefore very gratifying. Of the restorations which had been effected or commenced in the diocese during the year the following were the most important. At Borgate the bells had been rehung; at Griston the four bells had been re-cast and one added, the whole being rehung; at Haughley the five bells had been rehung in a new six-bell oak frame on steel girders, and had just been reopened; at Huntingfield a new six-bell frame had been erected, and one bell recast; at Old Newton the five had been rehung in a new six-bell oak frame on steel girders, the fourth being recast, a new belfry provided, and the tower repaired; at Saham Toney the frame had been restored and the bells overhauled; at Sproughton the third bell had been rehung and the rest overhauled; at Stonham Aspal the fourth bell rehung and the others repaired; at Stutton the frame had been reconstructed for six bells, and the five existing ones rehung with new fittings; and at Westerfield the three bells were being rehung. The peal records for the year showed that fifty-nine performances had been accepted for entry in the peal-book, comprising one peal of Kent Treble Bob Maximus at Ipswich, one each of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Royal at St. Peter Mancroft, one of Superlative Surprise Major at Redenhall, seven of Double Norwich Court Bob Major, two of which were on handbells; sixteen of Oxford and thirteen of Kent Treble Bob Major, nine of Bob Major, two of Grandsire Triples and one of Bob Major. Of the six-bell performances one was in seven Treble Bob methods, two in seven mixed methods, one in three methods, and one of Bob Minor. Of five-bell performances there had been only two, one in seven methods and one in four methods. The general distribution was as follows: At Attleborough, one; Bedford, one; Boxtord, in Essex, one; Clopton, one; Debenham, four; Diss, three; East Dereham, one; Eye, two; Framlingham, six; Framsdon, one; Helmingham, four; Huntingfield, one; Ipswich, three (two being on handbells); Kelsale, three; Leiston, four; Monewden, two; Norwich St. Peter, three; St. Michael-at-Coslany, three; Fulham Mary, seven; Redenhall, one; Stowmarket, one; Tunstead, one; Ufford, two; Wells, one; Wickham Skeith, one; Woodbridge, one. After referring to the meeting held during the year the report showed that the financial position of the Association continued satisfactory. Although there were great difficulties to be faced in sustaining the organisation of a society dependent upon annual subscriptions, owing to the straitened circumstances of clergy and laity, yet they might look forward without misgiving if the company members would be true to themselves and alive to the responsibilities of their office as church bell ringers. Every ringer should anxiously ask himself whether he was faithfully subserving or thwarting the work of the Church in his parish. The future of change-ringing and of ringing societies would be found in the long run to hinge upon that. Each member should therefore strive to do away with the causes that tended to decay. The number and quality of change ringing performances, however excellent, were but as the dust in the balance compared with the value of a good example set by an honest and fearless obedience to the principles of Christian faith and practice.

Dr. Raven having thanked the Secretary for his invaluable services and his annual report, then retired from the presidency.

The Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, in retiring from the post of secretary, said that the time would come when he would have to relinquish the position, and they would have to elect his successor.

The Rev. C. F. Blyth said that every year they had to go through the little comedy of the president and secretary retiring for two or three minutes. There ought to be a rule that they should give ten years' notice. He moved that Dr. Raven be re-elected President, and the Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, Secretary.

The Rev. T. H. Marsh seconded, and the motion was carried with very hearty unanimity.

Dr. Raven said that he would again accept the position, to do what little he could for the Association, as it was one of his greatest pleasures to be amongst them.

The Rev. H. Earle Bulwer thanked them for his re-election, undertook the office for another year, and said that if he was wanted at any place in case of a muddle, he would be at their service.

The Secretary, Messrs. J. Motts, W. L. Catchpole, and J. A. Trollope were elected representatives on the Central Council, and it was resolved next year to hold quarterly meetings at Halesworth and Yarmouth.

The company then dispersed to the several towers to resume ringing, which was continued till shortly before the departure of the several trains.

In connection with the story above mentioned, any allusions to which at the Norwich meeting gave rise to much merriment, the Rev. Dr. Raven writes:—

"I have to draw the attention of my brother-ringers to another of those wonderful descriptions of bell-ringing which appear from time to time in the illustrated magazines and newspapers. He is a good man who can raise a bell with one hand; and it is just possible that two might be raised simultaneously, but this writer has no scruple in representing a west-countryman as raising three at once. Nay more—as you read on you come across still greater wonders—four—even five! What would cricketers think were their matches to be described in corresponding terms?"

A RINGER'S WEDDING.

On Saturday last, September 19th, Mr. Samuel Cotton, of Leicester, was united in the bonds of Holy Matrimony to Miss E. Ward, also of Leicester, at Christ Church, Bow-street. The event had been anticipated for some time, but the greatest secrecy had been observed, owing to the shy disposition of the bridegroom-elect. However, late on Friday night the writer was aroused from sleep by the redoubtable John Buttery o' that ilk, and informed that the secret had leaked out. All the postcards on hand were made use of, and on Saturday afternoon a company met at St. Saviour's church (near to where the shy couple are residing), and rang a merry quarter-peal (composed by the Editor) in honour of the event. The bridegroom—who by the way is a member of the choir at Christ Church—was supported by Mr. C. Ward, who acted as best man, while the bride was assisted by Miss Cotton. Both bride and bridesmaid carried handsome bouquets of orchids, the gift of the bridegroom, and were dressed in cream cashmere, trimmed with pink satin. The choir ably assisted in the service, and sung the hymn—"The voice that breathed o'er Eden," and Mr. G. Cross, F.C.O., played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" at the close. The quarter-peal was rung by the following: J. Morris, 1; J. O. Lancashire, 2; G. Cleal (conductor), 3; E. E. Smith, 4; J. S. Needham, 5; J. Veasey, 6; W. Willson, 7; J. Buttery, 8. After the ringing the ringers made their way to the house of the bridal party, where they were very hospitably received. Songs, recitations, and handbell tunes enlivened the proceedings between the usual toasts. Before leaving a course each of Grandsire and Stedman Caters was rung by J. Buttery, 1-2; W. Willson, 3-4; G. Cleal, 5-6; S. Cotton, 7-8; J. Needham, 9-10. The presents were numerous and costly; and we may leave them with wishing the happy couple the best of health and prosperity, feeling sure that ringers generally will re-echo the wish.

MUSINGS

BY AN OLD CONTRIBUTOR.

Apropos of Big Ben, I see that on the occasion of the late stoppage to repair the striking parts of the great clock, an authoritative statement is put forth by one of the great daily journals, on the authority, it states, of Messrs. Dent, that Big Ben himself is "perfectly sound." On the other hand, others of the big dailies repeat, as a matter of common knowledge, that Big Ben is cracked. That this latter is commonly accepted as a fact, I am well aware; but I should like to know really how the matter stands, and a word from Messrs. Mears and Stainbank would of course settle the matter definitely. I think that for the satisfaction of the bell-world, those gentlemen might be induced to enlighten us. I do not pretend to have an "ear," and in my humble judgment the great bell does not sound as if it were cracked.

I am very glad to see the new column of coming events: it is a departure in the right direction. If now the various secretaries of the ringing companies could only be induced to spend a half-penny post card stating when peals were to be attempted, it would be, I think, a boon to many ringers who are not upon the active list, but, like myself, would be highly gratified to get the chance sometimes to listen to a peal. I have often felt disappointment when on reading my "BELL NEWS," I have seen peals recorded, of which, had I but have known were in contemplation, I could have easily have been within hearing.

I trust all readers of "BELL NEWS" will, so far as lies in their power, help to swell the agitation, now rapidly growing, for the deposition of the vile miscreant who now disgraces the name of manhood from his seat upon the throne of Turkey. That such horrible massacres should be possible in Europe at this stage of time is a scandal to the Christian religion, and reflects the deepest dishonour upon the statesmen of all professedly Christian nations. No dastardly fear of consequences should prevent England at least from removing this monster. "Do justice though the Heavens may fall."

I have been given to understand that the rather "rollicking" style somewhat noticeable in the effusions of friend Jingle, has been owing to the deficiency of water in Walthamstow (for the information of provincial readers it may be mentioned that "THE BELL NEWS" printing office is within the area of the notorious East London Water Company, who demand and receive their water rates four times a year with the most precise regularity, but only supply water at frequent intervals), in consequence of which the sheets having had to be damped before going to press with a more potent liquid, the fumes of which have got into the type. I deprecate in anticipation the obvious retort of our lively friend that the musings of the O.C. should be entitled the bemusings.

For some two years now my daily grind has led me past a church near the eastern extremity of the city of London, with a peal of eight. There is a fortnightly meeting, for practice presumably, and on one occasion within the period named, I heard Treble Bob rung for about half-an-hour. I think a peal was started for on this occasion. Every other time, and they have been a great number, that I have heard them, Churchyard Bob has been the order of the evening, and generally speaking very poor stoney it has been. I confess that I cannot see the utility of annoying the near inhabitants in such a fashion. That it is an annoyance I happen to know from two different sources. To obtain facilities for legitimate practice is often difficult enough, but such futile proceedings as obtained in this instance, is, in my humble opinion, simply opening the gate to the enemy.

MR. MATTHEW A. WOOD.

On Tuesday, September 22nd, this old and favorite member of the Exercise reached his seventieth birthday. A few intimate friends met on the occasion at St. Matthew's, Bethnal Green, and rung a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 45 mins. J. Bonney, 1; J. Comb, 2; E. Wallage, 3; Matthew A. Wood, 4; J. Scholes, 5; S. Lawrence, 6; J. West, 7; W. Williamson, 8. Composed and conducted by Matthew A. Wood. All our readers will join in wishing our old friend many happy returns.

AND COMPOSERS.

CHAPTER III.

OF "IN-AND-OUT-OF-COURSE."

Before we advance any further it will be as well to get some idea of what is meant by the above phrase. To many it may seem odd that changes, in no matter what method, are of two distinct kinds, each being of a different nature to the other, or as the old ringing books say, "diametrically opposed to each other." Yet this is really the case. By whatever names the changes are defined is perhaps of little consequence. We may call them respectively right and left, or black and white, male and female, odd and even, or any other appellation, so that we comprehend that there is a distinction. The general terms adopted however, are "in-course" and "out-of-course," and we had best use those terms on the present occasion. I think there is some alteration in this definition suggested by the Central Council, but as this alteration seems not yet to have been generally accepted, we had better adhere to old custom. The subject is somewhat difficult to explain, except by those who have a better command of language and forms of expression than I have.

One half of the extent of the changes, then, in any method, it is understood, are "in-course" changes, the remaining half—"out." Beyond this any arbitrary arrangement is impossible. In Grandsire Doubles every change rung are "in-course" changes until a single is made; directly a single is effected the changes are all "out of course." In Triples of the same method every back-stroke change is "in," every hand-stroke change being out. A single in this case reverses them, putting the hand-stroke changes "in," the back-stroke changes "out." Caters run the same as Doubles; Cinques as Triples.

Of course the round is one of the changes. Thus—1234567 is one of the changes of a 5040 of Triples. That is, I suppose, well known. If you write out 5040 changes of Triples, 1234567 will be one of them, there is only 5039 without it. And on any number of bells the round is an "in-course" change. Therefore if you want to produce rounds at the back-stroke lead of the treble, in the case above-mentioned, you should have your back-stroke leads "in-course." For instance take Grandsire Triples and Cinques. The handstroke-changes are all "out," the backstroke changes "in." Therefore the bells must come round at back-stroke. But if a single is made, the courses are turned, and the handstrokes become "in" and the back-strokes "out," rounds must be produced at the handstroke. Doubles and Caters having every change "in-course," can be brought home either at hand or backstroke. But (as has been before shown) when a single is made all the changes become out of course, and cannot be brought round at all without another single.

I hope this will be understood. The subject is far from being exhausted in the above remarks, but I think I have said enough to set the young practitioner thinking over what is very important, if he wishes to become expert in composition.

It is necessary sometimes to be able to tell whether a particular lead-end or course-end is an "in-course" change or the contrary. Let us assume the following change for illustration, the change known as "the Queens":—

1 3 5 2 7 4 6 out
1 3 2 5 7 4 6 in
1 3 2 5 4 7 6 out
1 2 3 5 4 7 6 in
1 2 3 4 5 7 6 out
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 in

Here will be seen that two bells, and two bells only, are transposed in each change from the one preceding it. If by such transposition rounds are produced from the given change in an even number of changes or rows, the given change will be "in-course," but should rounds be produced in an odd number of rows, the given change will be "out." This is not the quickest way of discovering the condition of the courses, but I use it here from its simplicity. It may be done by transposing more than two bells at a time, thus in the following example four bells are transposed:—

1 3 2 7 5 6 4 in
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 in

In the first example the transposition puts the bells "in and out of course" alternately; in the second they remain "in." This shows that two bells only changing alters the state of the courses from the previous row, while four retains them. Therefore the changes are retained in the same course, or vice versa, according to the number of bells moved from the preceding change.

A knowledge of this subject is, as before observed, necessary to those who attempt composing. Wanting this knowledge many would-be composers attempt the impossible, which an acquaintance with this subject would prevent. A good conductor knows the value of such information if he possesses it only in an elementary degree. A ringer who aspires to neither of the higher branches of the Art, greatly increases his own enjoyment while ringing if he understands this subject.

In the progress of these papers the matter will become more fully developed, without dealing with it directly. The remarks I have now made upon "in" and "out-of-course" of the changes are really only prefatory, but the "hints" which are to follow will I think gradually more and more unfold the subject.

Obituary.

F. R. T. BOLTON.

It is our very painful duty to record the death of Mr. F. T. Bolton, of Braeside, West Kirby, Hon Sec. of the Chester Diocesan Guild (Wirral Branch), who died on September 4th, at his mother's house, Church Stretton, after two days' illness, at the age of forty-four. He was deeply interested in bell-ringing, but it was the ringers who occupied the first place in his affections, and with almost his last breath he sent a message of love to his friends, the West Kirby ringers, and asked that he might be carried to his grave by them. They did this lovingly and gently on September 7th, and laid him close under the old church tower in a piece of ground which he had only a short time before pointed out as the place where he should wish his grave to be, lowering the coffin with bell-ropes. In him the ringers lose a good friend but his influence and example are not lost. They will live in the lives of those he loved so well.

On Monday, September 7th, at Great Neston parish church, a 720 of Oxford Bob was rung with the bells half-muffled as a mark of respect from the following members of the Wirral branch of the Chester Guild for their late secretary, Mr. R. F. T. Bolton. H. Grundy, 1; J. Edwards, 2; W. Williams, 3; J. Sutton, 4; J. Mealon, 5; W. Briscoe (conductor), 6; J. A. Evans, 7.

We are requested to print the following:—

"SIR,—We, the bell ringers of West Kirby, through the medium of your paper, wish to express to Mrs. Bolton and relatives, our deepest sympathy in the great loss which they have sustained in the death of her husband. We feel it our duty to do so, he being the hon. sec. of the Wirral branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild of church bell-ringers, and also being an honorary member, and being always in our midst. He was a gentleman who always studied the interest of the ringers, though being a non-ringer himself, his whole mind was wrapped up in the art. He was to be seen on practice night, on Sunday, in the tower unless illness prevented him, and then there would be a cheery message from him. He was a most unselfish gentleman, giving up his own time for the benefit of the ringers, and we feel that we have lost in him the dearest friend in the world, for his kindly word and cheery smile was ever greeting us. He was a thorough churchman, his whole religion based on self-denial, giving up his leisure hours for the pleasure of others, patient in all his sufferings, he never complained, but lived the life of a Christian, teaching others the way of Christ, and giving his advice to all who came to him. And now he is laid to rest until the great day beneath the tower of the church where he used to worship at, the bells of which he often listened to and loved so well to hear. "Fell asleep September 4th, and laid to rest September 7th.

THE CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

MACCLESFIELD BRANCH.—A meeting of the above was held at Disley, on Saturday, September 12th, when there were twenty-four members present, representing the following towers, Macclesfield, Bollington, Poynton, Sutton, and Disley. The tower bells were set in motion soon after three o'clock, and a 720 of Grandsire Minor (thirty-eight bobs and twenty-two singles), was rung. A. Mottershead, 1; W. Kenny, 2; W. Matthews (conductor), 3; M. Davenport, 4; F. Stonely, 5; J. Norbury, 6. And a 720 of Plain Bob Minor (fourteen singles and four bobs). A. Mottershead, 1; W. Ingham, 2; M. Davenport, 3; W. Matthews, 4; W. Steel, 5; W. Walmsley (conductor), 6. At five o'clock an excellent knife and fork tea was partaken of at The Ram's Head hotel, which was entirely free, the Disley ringers having got subscriptions for the purpose from gentlemen in the village. After tea, a meeting was held in another room, W. Walmsley, of Macclesfield being in the chair, when a resolution was passed thanking the Disley ringers for their kind reception, and especially Messrs. Marsland and Johnson, who had collected the subscriptions and made all the arrangements for the splendid tea that had been partaken of. It was resolved to have a ringing meeting at Prestbury about the third Saturday in October. A vote of thanks was passed to the Chairman for presiding, and to the Vicar for the use of the bells. After the meeting the Macclesfield ringers rang several tunes on the handbells, after which the tower bells were again set in motion and kept going with short touches till about 8 o'clock. An adjournment was then made to The Ram's Head hotel, and the rest of the evening was spent in handbell ringing, singing, &c. Train time arriving, all departed with pleasant recollections of the first meeting at Disley, it being one of the best meetings the branch has had.

WASHINGTONBOROUGH, LINCOLNSHIRE.

The bells of the church of St. John, after being tuned, quartered and rehung, and two new trebles added, were formally opened on Sunday, September 6th, by the Rector, the Rev. J. Dudding. The whole work has been carried out by Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough, and has given every satisfaction, both to the committee and ringers. On Sunday, September 13th, for morning service, 336 Bob Triples. For evening service 504 in the same method by the local company. G. Croft, 1; J. W. Ash, 2; J. W. Walker, 3; G. Kettleboro, 4; T. D. Clarke, 5; W. Walker, 6; J. Ash, 7; J. Hutton, 8. Conducted by J. W. Ash.

To the Editor of "THE BELL NEWS AND RINGERS' RECORD."

ST. PETER MANCROFT TENOR.

SIR,—As your contributor "Jingle" seems to cast a doubt on the weight of the above bell as lately given, I will, with your kind permission, state what I know about the matter. That it has always been called 41 cwt., is true, and it is somewhat remarkable that its correct weight should not have been known to the ringers. The peal was cast in 1775, but the tenor was split nearly forty years after, in 1814, and was replaced by a new bell, the old one not being taken away till the new one was ready. I have always heard that the first bell was 36 cwt., and that the new one was better and heavier, but I find that Messrs. Mears' list, which they lately informs us is of the original peal, gives the old bell as 41 cwt., and the same weight is given on the tablets recording two peals rung before the bell was broken. If then the new bell was heavier than the old one, 43 cwt. might be correct. The idea that the old bell was 36 cwt. arose no doubt from the fact that the specification for the peal gave that weight as the approximate size of the tenor. In addition to this Messrs. Mears state that they have destroyed the books relating to the recast, and so the only written evidence in existence relating to the bell's weight is an autograph letter of Mr. Mears dated 1814, giving the bell as 43 cwt. I may mention that Mr. Day, of Eye, informed me that he had heard that when the bell came home Tom Hurry weighed her, and said that the founders' weight was not correct. Some correspondence occurred on the matter, but the founders declared that the bell was a good one, and the weight correct, and that if the parish didn't like the bell, well, they could leave it; and having a monopoly of bell-casting they got their way.

THE ST. ALPHEGE COMPANY, CANTERBURY.

SIR,—The members of the above company are arranging an entertainment to be given in aid of a fund for putting a new window into their belfry, which is very much needed, and among other things, they wish to have a few tableaux, or living pictures, and would be very glad if any of your readers could suggest any stories that would be suitable for it, in which bells or bell-ringing could be introduced. Suggestions will be gladly received by the rector, the Rev. T. G. Crosse, Eastbridge, Canterbury, or by myself.

Ringers' Outings.

THE ST. MARY'S GUILD, TAUNTON.—On Saturday, August 29th, eleven members of this Guild had their annual outing. Meeting at Taunton station at 8.0 a.m., they took train for Bristol, which they reached at 9.25, and resorted first to a well-known restaurant to arrange for dinner. The Temple church was first visited, the leaning tower of which, being between 6 and 7 feet out of the perpendicular, caused one or two of the party to hesitate before entering. The steeplekeeper's assurances, however, soon dispelled all fear. The company found at this church a splendid ring of eight bells, which they raised in peal, and then several touches of Grandsire Triples were rung by Messrs. T. Radford, E. Shepherd, J. Burge, S. Radford, S. Wyatt, A. Walker, J. Fowler, A. Evans, J. Jones, J. Hunt, and W. Thomas. The bells were then lowered in peal, and the company repaired to the above-mentioned restaurant, where they were joined by Mr. Boutflower (Master of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association) and Mr. F. Price, of Bristol. A good dinner having been here partaken of, steps were taken in the direction of the church of St. Mary Redcliffe, where the visitors were met by Messrs. C. Horton and James Hinton, and everything being found in readiness, the back eight were raised in peal, and a course each of Grandsire Caters and Cinques were rung, when the bells were again lowered in peal. Then the church of St. Stephen was visited, and 503 of Grandsire Caters rung by J. Jones, A. Evans, A. Walker, S. Wyatt, J. Burge, E. Shepherd, S. Radford, J. Fowler, T. Radford (conductor), and J. Hunt. And 153 Stedman Triples by S. Radford, F. Ellis, E. Shepherd, W. Knight, J. Hinton (conductor), T. Radford, F. Price, and A. Walker. Tea was the next item, and then a visit to the Hot Wells, and a hoist up the lift on to the suspension-bridge, and returning to the ringers' meeting-house, touches of Grandsire Triples and Caters were rung with Bristol friends on the handbells. The hour of departure for home now drew nigh, and the visitors, wishing sincere farewells to their brethren of Bristol, arrived at Taunton about 10.15 p.m., bringing to a close one of the pleasantest outings the Guild has ever had. The visitors heartily thank the respective vicars and churchwardens at whose churches permission was given to ring; the steeplekeepers of the same for having everything in readiness; and Mr. C. E. D. Boutflower, Mr. J. Hinton, and Mr. F. Price, for making arrangements.

T. R.

THE DEVONSHIRE GUILD.—OTTERY S. MARY BRANCH.—Taking advantage of an excursion train to Bristol, on September 3rd, this band determined on a visit to this city for their general outing this year, and a very pleasant holiday was enjoyed by all. Through the kindness of C. E. D. Boutflower, Esq., Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, leave was obtained to ring at Clifton Old Church, from 1 to 2 p.m. and at St. Mary Redcliffe, at 5.30 p.m. At the former tower touches of Grandsire Triples and a course of Stedman Triples were rung, but owing to the bad "go" of the 6th bell it was very difficult to ensure good striking, still the performance was most creditable, considering some of the band had only once previously rung out of their own tower. The band was J. Wilson, 1; W. Godfrey, 2; S. Godfrey, 3; Rev. M. Kelly, 4; J. Godfrey, 5; J. Baker, 6; J. A. Pike, 7; J. Lovering, 8. In the course of Stedman the Rev. M. Kelly took the treble and W. Wilson, 3; S. Godfrey, 4; the rest standing as before. In the evening with the assistance of Mr. Boutflower, some of the visiting band rang the twelve bells at St. Mary Redcliffe, in rounds, which was quite a new experience for the Ottery men, who had never handled such heavy metal before. A touch of Grandsire Triples was also rung on the front eight. The band are very grateful to Mr. Boutflower for the trouble he took in making arrangements for them, and to the church authorities for the use of the bells. On Sunday, September 16th, a visit was made by three of the band to the parish of Colyton, and some six-scores of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles were rung on the fine-toned bells of the church. These bells have lately been rehung by Mr. H. Stokes, and their "go" now is excellent. The tenor is 28 cwt. in Eb. And it is hoped that two trebles may before long be added to the peal, such a tenor is indeed worthy of the full octave. J. Godfrey, 1; S. Godfrey, 2; Rev. M. Kelly, 3; J.

Baker (conductor), 4; A. Pike, 5; J. Lovering, 6. Some of the local ringers who have made a beginning at half-pull change-ringing afterwards joined in, and some plain courses of Grandsire Doubles were accomplished.

THE HORBURY SOCIETY, YORKS.—On Saturday, September 5th, the above society had their third annual excursion, in the shape of a drive to Wragby, Roystone, and Felkirk. A start was made at 1.25 p.m., and after picking up one of our party at Wakefield, we made direct for Wragby, which was reached soon after 3 o'clock. On enquiry we found there was a funeral at 3.45, so we made straight to the tower, and had just time to pull off a 360 of Oxford Treble Bob. W. H. Giggie, 1; E. Brooke, 2; G. Hunt, 3; G. Barstow, 4; H. Rowley (conductor), 5; G. Pickles, 6. The church is a handsome structure in the Perpendicular style, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles, south porch, and embattled western tower containing six bells, dated 1768, and all of which were rehung in 1886. There are fourteen stained windows, the west window dating from 1535, and some fine examples of wood carving. There are several monuments of the Winn family. The font of the church possesses an especial interest from the fact of its having once formed part of the font belonging to the church of Auburn, near Bridlington, the site of which is now some distance out at sea. The font was removed from the church before the cliff on which it stood was washed down, and was afterwards given to the late C. Winn, Esq. Soon after four o'clock we were en route for Roystone, and after driving for half-an-hour, we found it impossible to reach our destination on account of the rain having washed down a quantity of soil under a low bridge, and so making it impossible for the waggonette to pass under, so we were obliged to abandon the idea of going to Roystone that day. We turned back and wended our way toward Felkirk disappointed and hungry. Arrived at Felkirk church (which is some distance away from a village), we got out and sent the waggonette on to the nearest hostelry, intending to ring and then follow on. On enquiry at a farmhouse near, we were told that the keys of the church were kept at the vicarage, about half-a-mile away. After some discussion which should come first, ringing or eating, the latter prevailed, and we started off to walk to the nearest inn, where tea was ordered, and while it was being prepared, a few courses on the handbells were rung. After tea, and having got the keys of the church, we left orders for the waggonette to meet us in an hour. We were soon jogging along in a happy mood to the church, where a 720 of Oxford was rung with the members standing as before. The church is an ancient building in the Perpendicular style, with some Norman portions, and consists of chancel, nave, aisles, south porch, and embattled western tower, containing six bells, the last three of which were given by the late T. Dymond, Esq., when the church was restored in 1876. Leaving Felkirk about 8.20 p.m., favored with a pitch dark night, and no one knowing the way, it was no wonder that we found ourselves at 10.30 p.m. (when we ought to have been nearly home), at Notton. After enquiries and sundry ejaculations from our honoured friend Mr. Pickles, we were put on the right track again, but alas! it would have been no use if our honoured friend (and now our guide), had not kindly condescended to examine by the aid of a match, the numerous finger-posts. In the course of half-an-hour we found ourselves at Sandal, where a halt was made, and it was a pleasure to see the beam of delight which overspread the countenance of our worthy guide when he found we were once more in a well-known district. A drive of an hour saw us in "Good Old Horbury," again well pleased with our outing.

THE ST. MICHAEL'S SOCIETY, SHREWSBURY, held their annual outing on Thursday, September 10th. They left Shrewsbury at 1.45 p.m., Shifnal being the place selected, arriving there in a wagonette at four o'clock, when they soon made their way to the parish church, and several 6-scores of Grandsire Doubles were rung on the back six. J. Collett, jun., 3; R. Smith, 4; J. Owen, 5; F. Hannett, 6; G. J. Taylor, 7; J. Collett, sen., 8. Several 6-scores were also rung on the eight with 6-7-8 covering. J. Owen, 1; R. Smith, 2; F. Hannett, 3; W. Lewis, 4; W. Carter, 5; Rev. — Chinner, 6; G. J. Taylor, 7; J. Collett, sen., 8. Conducted by Messrs. Taylor, Smith, Hannett, and Owen. These bells are a fine ring of eight, and are in a very good going order. The tenor weighs a little over 18 cwt. There are some very fine tablets in the belfry, having records of peals of all kinds, which have been rung by the Albion Society of Shifnal. The visitors gave several tunes on the handbells and rang also several 6-scores. After having about three hours' ringing the bells were lowered in peal, and then a walk down to The Jer-ningham Arms inn, where supper was awaiting the company. After supper several 6-scores were rung on the handbells; and tunes, one of the ringers vamping the piano. Time was then coming to a close when a vote of thanks was passed to the clergy and churchwardens for their kind permission given to ring. The company then finished up on the handbells by playing Auld Lang Syne, and then returned homeward, leaving Shifnal at 9.10 p.m. and arriving at Shrewsbury about 11.30 p.m., all having thoroughly enjoyed themselves, and hoping this would not be the last time they would visit Shifnal. G.I.T.

THE NORTH LINCOLNSHIRE ASSOCIATION. — On Saturday, September 12th, the members of the Grimsby branch of this Association had a most enjoyable outing to Scunthorpe, where there is a splendid ring of eight bells. We arrived about 4.30 and were met by the local leader, Mr. Dixon, and at the church gates by the vicar, who gave us a hearty welcome. Ascending the tower, the bells were raised in peal, and several touches of Grandsire Triples were rung. After lowering the bells a move was made for tea, which was provided by the vicar at a restaurant. We then had a look round, and returned to Grimsby at 8 o'clock, all having thoroughly enjoyed ourselves. We wish through the medium of "THE BELL NEWS" to thank the vicar for his kindness and for the use of the bells, and the local ringers for their company. A. B. S.

THE ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

SUDBURY ARCHIDIACONAL BRANCH.

A meeting of the above branch of this Association was held at Monks Eleigh on Saturday, September 19th, and was well attended by members from Sudbury (1), Lavenham (8), Monks Eleigh (6), Hitcham (4), Preston (2), Melford (8), Bildeston (3), Hadleigh (1), and Ipswich (1), thirty-four in all being present. During the morning a band was got together, and two touches were rung on the bells of Lavenham church, viz., a touch of Bob Major by W. Boby (Lavenham), 1; F. Symonds (Lavenham), 2; C. Jarvis (Lavenham), 3; A. Symonds (Lavenham), 4; H. Smith (Lavenham), 5; W. Snell (Lavenham), 6; R. Grimwood (Hitcham), 7; C. Sillitoe (Sudbury), 8. Also 504 Grandsire Triples. W. Boby, 1; T. King, 2; C. Jarvis, 3; A. Symonds, 4; H. Smith, 5; W. Snell, 6; C. Sillitoe, 7; R. Grimwood, 8. Both touches were conducted by C. Sillitoe.

At Monks Eleigh touches of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and Bob Minor were rung during the afternoon and evening by various bands. This is a beautiful ring of six, one of the finest in the county, but the "go" of the tenor is bad, and not conducive to ringing any length of time. It is hoped that this will be remedied ere long.

The tea was held at The Bull inn, where a very excellent spread was provided by host Farthing, thirty-three sitting down, presided over by the genial vicar, the Rev. A. J. C. Connell supported by Messrs. C. Sillitoe (District Secretary), E. Ambrose, C. Bixby, F. Connell (Melford), W. Boby, H. Smith, W. Moore (Lavenham), etc.

At the conclusion of the repast the chairman proposed The health of "The Queen," which was drunk with enthusiasm. In a few well-chosen remarks he also welcomed the Association to Monks Eleigh, and hoped it would not be the last time they would come there. He thought that these Association meetings did an immense deal of good, and he wished the Association every success and prosperity. As he was obliged to leave owing to another engagement, he would now ask Mr. Sillitoe, their District Secretary, to kindly take the chair and preside over the business meeting. The first business was the election of members. The following were elected: Rev. A. J. C. Connell (Monks Eleigh), Hon. Member; A. Howell (Ipswich), Life Performing Member; Non-Resident: Messrs. R. Keeble and A. Bowers (Monks Eleigh), J. Scowen (Hadleigh), Cyril Herbert, Ernest Herbert (Woburn, Beds.), G. Maxim (Waltham Cross), R. Brett (Stanstead), and J. Ambrose (Melford).

The chairman said the next business was to fix a place for the next meeting. Mr. A. Symonds proposed, and Mr. W. Moore seconded, that it be held at Lavenham. Mr. E. Ambrose proposed, and Mr. C. Bixby seconded, that it be held at Sudbury. The chairman said that there had been one meeting held there this year, also at Melford, and he thought the Lavenham proposition a very good one. The first meeting was held there, and he thought that it was time that another visit should be made there. It was ultimately unanimously decided to hold the next meeting there on the first Saturday in January, 1897. No other business arising, Mr. J. Ambrose (Melford), said he rose to propose the health of their Secretary, Mr. Sillitoe, and also at the same time to thank him on behalf of the meeting for the trouble and time he spent in arranging and bringing these meetings to a success. He (the speaker) was not a first-class ringer himself, but he always liked to be where good ringers were, and he was sure he was, as he looked round and saw some of the faces there. He proposed the health of the Secretary with musical honours, which was drunk with enthusiasm.

Mr. Sillitoe, in thanking the members for the very kind manner in which they had drank his health, said he was very pleased if his humble efforts were appreciated by his brother-members, and he was very pleased to see such a large number present that day. He did not expect to see such a large meeting. He would just mention that nine peals had been rung up to the present this year by this branch of the Association, namely, two of Bob Major, one of Grandsire, and six of Treble Bob. These included a 7040 of Treble Bob at Walter Belchamp, Essex, being the longest peal on those bells; and also the first peal of Treble Bob on the bells of St. Mary's, Bury St. Edmunds. He must congratulate Messrs. A. Keeble and R. Grimwood on the very able manner in which they rang in the peal of Bob Major at Lavenham on August 29th, this being the first peal by both of them.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the vicar for kindly granting the use of the bells; also to the local company for the warm reception accorded to the visitors by them.

This concluded the proceedings, and the members adjourned, some to tower ringing, and some to handbell ringing. A course of Grandsire Caters was rung on handbells by E. Ambrose (Melford), 1-2; A. Symonds (Lavenham), 3-4; C. Sillitoe (Sudbury), 5-6; A. Howell (Ipswich), 7-8; T. King (Lavenham), 9-10. Also a course of Bob Major with the bells swung. A. Ambrose (Melford), 1-2; C. Sillitoe, 3-4; H. Duce (Melford), 5-6; A. Symonds, 7-8. A very merry evening was spent with songs and dancing, Mr. Sillitoe accompanying on a violin, which was unearthed somewhere in the parish by some of the local members.

EDENBRIDGE, KENT.

A dinner was given the other evening to the ringers and choir of the parish church, through the generosity of Mrs. C. F. Gore, wife of the Vicar, in celebration of the opening of the two new bells and a new organ, both of which were dedicated two months since. After the dinner, which was most ably served to the satisfaction of all concerned, the rest of the evening was devoted to harmony, and a capital toast list was gone through, one of the principal (after the usual loyal and clerical toasts) being that of the Edenbridge ringers, coupled with which were the names of Mr. J. Preston and Mr. T. Wallis, the latter of whom urged the young members to become more efficient by study at home. Other toasts followed, and with a large amount of vocal power present, the hour of midnight came too soon for all.

NOTE TO THE PEAL AT ARLEY CASTLE.—This is A. Spittle's first 5040 on six bells, E. Hampton's first 5040 with a bob bell, and the first 5040 on the bells. There is a tablet in the belfry bearing the following record:—"On December 24th, 1786, was rung in this tower a peal of 240 changes. The above peal rung in a masterly manner. John Gill printed." The bells have recently been rehung by Carr, Birmingham, and the go of them is all that can be desired. The ringers tender their best thanks through the medium of "THE BELL NEWS," to the Vicar and Churchwardens for the use of the bells, and also to the tower-keeper, Mr. Bint, for having everything in readiness.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN, CHURCH BELL HANGER, AND TUNER. SALISBURY, WILTSHIRE.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN is a practical Ringer, and having had considerable experience in Church Bell hanging and tuning, with confidence solicits the patronage of the Clergy, Churchwardens and Ringers generally.

T. B. has devoted a great deal of attention to the fixing of Clock Hammers used for striking the hours and quarters on Church Bells. These are sometimes placed in awkward and dangerous positions, even by Church Clock Makers.

T. BLACKBOURN's experience enables him to affix these hammers, with their accompanying levers in a most accurate manner, preventing any danger to the bell frame or clock. He will be glad to advise on clocks as well as bells.

The Ellacombe Chime Hammers fixed. Sole Fixer of Joby's Apparatus for Silent practice. Handbells supplied. Bells weighed in the tower at a small cost.

A PEAL OF 362,880 GRANDSIRE CATERS, 6d.
Contains the full extent of changes on nine bells. Forwarded Post Free, on receipt of 7d. By James Hewett, 15, Chape Row, Gosport.

Established 1833.

The Bell News & Ringers' Record.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1896.

THERE has just been achieved, undeniably, a record peal (as the words are understood) of a most superior order. It has been our privilege on many occasions to be the first to chronicle performances superseding those which for years had maintained the first place, but we think nothing hitherto done comes near to the performance of which a report will be found among our peal records. Members of ringing Guilds and Associations who will this day assemble at various places according to the announcements in our notice page, will have a fruitful topic of conversation. An eleven thousand of the most difficult method known—LONDON SURPRISE—has been rung at a church far from the Metropolis, by a company of ringers, one-half of whom were comparatively unknown. Eleven thousand of LONDON! The method is not of itself one to be commended in point of symmetry or musical properties; but its difficulty is the chief thing. That many well-bred ringers have fought shy of it, is well-known, but here we find a band knocking off—not an ordinary peal, but one twice the usual length. The composer and conductor—MR. WASHBROOK—had better retire from ringing at once, for he is surely a second Alexander, and while we are writing is probably sighing for more methods to conquer. To speak seriously, the peal is the greatest achievement, intellectually considered, which the history of the Exercise has to annalize. We would make no invidious comparison between the performers, but it is impossible not to remark upon the fact that the ringer of the seventh bell in this extraordinary peal is the Vicar of the parish, in which church the peal was rung—the REV. F. E. ROBINSON. When a few weeks ago we gave an illustration of the church of St. Peter's, Drayton, Berkshire, we little thought—and our readers were in the same area of innocence—that such a performance was on the eve of being rung there. That picture of this church will become historical through this wonderful essay of the Oxonians.

Next week will appear a selection of "Plain Methods with two Guiding Bells," by Mr. JOHN CARTER, embracing features never yet before published. Those friends who are making enquiries concerning the absence of our popular contributor, may rest assured that he will be en evidence before long. We shall shortly have the pleasure of issuing a beautiful photograph of Chesterfield Church, with its twisted spire.

THE BELLS OF CROYLAND ABBEY.

This venerable Abbey (of which a sketch is annexed) is situated in the south of Lincolnshire, and was founded in the year 716 A.D. by Ethelbald, King of Mercia, in memory of his promise made to a monk named Guthlac. In the year 870 the Danes, under Osketul, slew Theodore, the fourth Abbot of Croyland, at the high altar, and burnt the Abbey. Thurkytel, Athelstan's Chancellor, became the sixth Abbot of Croyland in the year 941. He rebuilt the Abbey on a majestic scale, and introduced into the Monastery the Benedictine rule. In the year 946 Thurkytel gave a great bell, which he named Guthlac; afterwards other bells were added. Thus in Croyland Abbey "the first peal of bells was hung in England:" a fact which will be interesting to the readers of this paper. Elgeric, Thurkytel's nephew, made the six bells named Bartholomew, Betelin, Thurkytel, Tatwyn, Bega, and Pega. These, when rung together, resounded with melody through the extended plains of South Lincolnshire, whence the proverb: "As sweet as Croyland bells." But these bells were destroyed by fire in the year 1091. Abbot Joffrid, on the 7th of March, 1113, laid the first stone of the choir, but before the nave could be roofed an earthquake (1118) damaged the building. In the year 1170 the Abbey was burnt a third time. Abbot Lytlington (1464) sent five of the six bells to London, to be recast at a cost of £160. Before they were hung they were consecrated by Nicholas, Bishop of Elphin, and Suffragan to John, Bishop of Lincoln. The bells were named Guthlac, Bartholomew, Michael, Mary, and Trinity. As they were raising a great beam to the roof of the new-built belfry, the tackle suddenly gave way, and in falling greatly damaged the building below, but though there were twenty workmen in the tower, not one of them received any hurt. At the dissolution of the monasteries (1539) the annual income of the Abbey amounted to £1217, out of which sum the Commissioners generously allowed the sum of "£10 for serving the cure of Croyland." In 1688 the nave roof fell, and the north aisle became the parish church.

A few notes from the Parish Book of Records may interest the readers of "THE BELL NEWS."

"5th July, 1788. Took the third and second bells down, and sent them to Leicester to be recast. The third bell weighed 6 cwt. 2 qrs. 21 lbs.; the second bell weighed 6 cwt., with 7½ stone of iron, with nuts, bolts, screws, and two clappers."

"The second bell was brought back 16th July, and put in the frames the 24th and 25th July, 1788."

"1797, the fourth bell was recast by Edward Arnold, of Leicester, at a cost of £22 18s. 2½d.

The cost of carriage from Crowland to Leicester, £1 13s. 6d.

The fourth bell weighed 9½ cwt.

Gave the ringers five shillings for ringing after the bell was up.

Paid James Blake for a set of bell ropes, £1 7s. 6d.

"18th October, 1798. Paid the ringers at Nelson's victory 5s., and 2s. for powder."

"24th December, 1815. Paid the ringers for three days at the celebration of peace, £1 10s."

The present peal consists of only five bells, but a new frame has been added for a sixth bell. Would some kind steward of this world's wealth give a small bell?

The present peal was re-tuned and one bell re-cast in 1895, and re-hung for the 5th May, 1895, the fortieth anniversary day of the Rector's wedding.

The present peal of bells, as fixed for the 5th May, 1895:—

No. 1: Diameter, 2ft. 6½in.; height, 2ft. 1in.; musical note, C Sharp; weight, 5 cwt. 3 qrs. 2 lbs.; date, 1895; inscription, "Thomas Norris made me 1674." Rev. T. H. Le Boeuf, Rector. T. Atkinson, A. Bellairs, Churchwardens. This bell was re-cast 1895, by J. Taylor, Loughborough."

No. 2: Diameter, 2ft. 9in.; height, 2ft. 3½in.; musical note, B; weight, 6 cwt. 2 qrs. 14 lbs.; date, 1788; inscription, "Wm. Hickling and Wm. Cooke, Churchwardens. Edwd. Arnold, Leicester, Fecit 1788."

No. 3: Diameter, 2ft. 9½in.; height, 2ft. 5½in.; musical note,

A Sharp; weight, 6 cwt. 1 qr. 18 lbs.; date, 1788; inscription same as No. 2.

No. 4: Diameter, 3ft. 1½in.; height, 2ft. 5in.; musical note, G Sharp; weight, 9 cwt. 1 qr. 17 lbs.; date, 1797; inscription, "Rev. Moore Sciebo, Rector. William Cooke and Charles Ashby, Churchwardens. E. Arnold, Leicester, Fecit 1797."

No. 5: Diameter, 3ft. 3in.; height, 2ft. 7½in.; musical note, F Sharp; weight, 9 cwt. 2 qrs. 8 lbs.; bears no date; inscription, "IN MULTIS ANNIS RESONET CAMPANA JOHANNIS."

Total weight: 37 cwt. 3 qrs. 3 lbs.

The cost of the tower repairs since 1887 has been nearly £2,000. The sum still required is £1,830 for the north aisle, or present parish church. The Bell Fund is in debt £10 11s. 7½d. The Rector of Croyland earnestly appeals for help in this great work, and trusts that donations may still flow in, which may enable him to make safe the ancient and historic Abbey of Croyland, otherwise Crowland. T. H. LE BOEUF, Rector of Croyland.

KELVEDON, ESSEX.

On Sunday, September 13th, a new stained glass window, erected to the memory of the late Vicar of Kelvedon and his wife, was dedicated by the Rev. E. F. Hay (Vicar), the sermon being preached by the Rev. F. Spurrell, of Faulkbourne, a former friend of the deceased Vicar. The window has been placed in the tower, and represents Dorcas making garments for the poor, and St. Peter feeding Christ's flock. The inscription on the window is as follows:—

"To the glory of God and in loving remembrance of George Peter Bennett, M.A., for 32 years Vicar, and his wife Charlotte. Erected by their son, Henry Curtis Bennett, J.P., Sept., 1896."

The ringing in the morning, when the window was "opened," commenced with a 720 of Oxford Treble Bob by J. Elliott, C. Elliott, H. Elliott, W. Keeble, D. Elliott, W. Elliott (conductor). For evening service 720 of Kent (5th the observation). J. Elliott, H. Elliott, C. Elliott, W. Keeble (first 720 of Treble Bob as conductor), H. Evers, W. Elliott. After service 360 Oxford Treble Bob. H. Elliott, W. Elliott, J. Newman, W. Keeble (conductor), H. Evers, D. Elliott. Tenor 21 cwt. 1 qr. 17 lbs.

WILBY, NORTHANTS.

On Thursday evening, September 10th, Wilby bells sent forth in mellow muffled tones a token of respect from the Rector and parishioners for the memory of Mr. John Sharp, of Doddington. The local ringers accomplished 720 changes, being 360 each of Grandsire and Bob Doubles. R. Sharp, 1; F. Fowler, 2; F. Barber (conductor), 3; A. Fairey, 4; W. Smith, 5. Mr. Sharp was an honorary member of the Central Northamptonshire Association.

MEN AND MANNERS.

The bells of earth go sounding on
 From many an ancient steeple,
 Telling their tales of woe or joy
 To all the waiting people;
 To-day they mourn a nation's loss
 In muffled tones of sorrow,
 But chant the merry wedding bells
 In gladsome tones to-morrow.
 To-day they sing of victory
 With banners gaily flying,
 To-morrow, requiems for the slain
 On all the winds are sighing;
 Their tune is one; but human souls
 All thoughts and passion blending,
 Can turn the music at their will,
 To each emotion bending.
 And when death's sad procession moves,
 The bells are slowly tolling;
 How mournfully upon the ear
 Those waves of sound come rolling.
 The bells of earth go sounding on
 With note that ever changes,
 And over all the chords of life
 Their mystic muses ranges.

No thank you. My noble brow looks quite manly enough without the laurel wreath. The above poem is nothing to speak of. It was simply dashed off to make my column look classical, but it shows what we can do when occasion requires. It will not be a walk over for the next laureateship, not by several long chalks. Talking of poetry, it is about time the Glemsford gladiator got to again. His slate is full and running over with bell poetry and things, in fact the Editor is seriously thinking of running a poet's corner for the benefit of the poor long-haired individuals who dwell in garrets. To make poetry is (to use the phrase of the Kettering men) "as easy as snuff." You simply write down all the melancholy things you can think of, cut off the ends of each line, rhyme the last words, and there you are. To be conventional you must wear your hair very long, diet yourself until you get lanky, and then sallie forth. Once again, it's as easy as snuff.

The six-bell ringers are naturally in sore trouble over the latest discovery. All who have rung 5040s on six, with Yorkshire Court and Court Bob, will put the blue pencil through those performances as false. It is lucky the methods were not produced by mushroom composers. As Mr. Snowdon points out, it is evident that the methods were originally evolved by Hubbard for Major ringing, and eventually reduced or applied to Minor. I can only see one 5040 rung during this year that includes Yorkshire Court, viz.: one by the South Lincolnshire Association. In 1895 I find there were three or four, in fact most six-bell companies have rung the methods one time or another. As it is clear that a 5040 on six bells must be false sevenfold, it might be argued that a false 720 ought not to invalidate the performance; but the line must be drawn somewhere, and most properly through a false method or composition. The greatest chagrin will be felt in those companies where tablets are erected to record the performance, but some solace might be felt by ringing another genuinely on the anniversary to take the place of the false one. I know of several peals which have been re-rung in this manner.

Who says a slice of Turkey? This is the question before the political gourmands of Europe. Here are six powers all agreed that something ought to be done for the persecuted Armenians, but no move is made. Is it because each suspects the other of seeking a greater share of the spoils? Here and there we hear rumours that H.R.H. the Prince of Wales will get the ear of the Czar, and thus induce the Russian monarch to lead in the attack on Turkish misrule. It may be so, but there are some of us who recollect that there is such a place as Siberia, and such an instrument of torture as the knout. There are some of us too who know what horrible cruelties were perpetrated on the Jews when they were exiled from Russia, and what the word freedom means to inhabitants of a country where every third man is a police spy. In short, the "Czar of all the Russias" may safely—to slightly alter the adage—let justice begin at home. Our course is clear. Seeing that the British sword is so ready to leap from its scabbard to slay savages whose only crime is in defending their huts and lands from being stolen, to satisfy a handful of grasping philanthropic (?) millionaires; can we not on this errand of mercy go forth—if necessary—alone?

"Ye ringers all: who prize your health and happiness, be sober, merry, wise, and you'll the same possess." So runs the refrain, but I venture to say that if the ringers' jug we saw in last week's "BELL NEWS" is made use of in its fullest capacity, "Ye Ringers" no doubt will be merry, but whether they would be wise or happy is a question. Of course there are times in a ringer's life when such a jug would come in handy. For instance, Christmas morning, when one has been out all night with the handbells and finished up on the tower, such a jug would be as welcome as the flowers in May. But sixteen quarts! However, it would not go far among some that I know. Let me tell you a story. Some years ago a certain band went out to ring a peal. I believe it was in the neighbourhood of Church Langton, Leicestershire. The usual crowd of hangers on went with them, and were told that while the peal was on they might have a little refreshment. The peal was rung, and when they went to settle the light refreshment bill, lo! it was forty quarts! And they had "shifted" it in three hours. Well, as the landlord said, they had had it, and the "hangers on" said ditto, there was nothing to do but settle up; but it will be a very cold day before some of them hang on again. There is a very quaint old ringers' jug in Lincoln, at the meeting house. It don't hold so much as the one at Glemsford, but it holds enough; and shall I confess it? I have "looked" inside it. On one side is painted "Presented to ye city ringers, 1792." It is made entirely of leather, and when a peal is rung it is sometimes brought out; but what a thirsty lot the last century ringers must have been.

According to the news found in another column it will be seen that another of us has joined the Benedicts. One by one they come, unable to ward off the darts of Cupid, but we who have experienced it all can at least in the manner of Artemus Ward extend to the couple "our deepest sympathy!" Of course Artemus didn't mean it, not if we take the tale of his courtship as a guide, and neither do I. The probabilities are that if I hadn't got wed when I did I would have been in the workhouse—and as Mrs. Jingle, peeping over my shoulder says—or prison. But in all seriousness, courtship is often a great drawback to ringing, that is unless the lady takes to the art, in which case all runs smoothly; but as a rule the smitten suitor transfers for a time his attentions from the rope to the belle, but after the happy event the method is exactly reversed. At any rate it was in the case of

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH, LEICESTER.

S. GEORGE'S, LEICESTER.

*As it appeared when struck by lightning, Saturday,
August 1st, 1846.*

ST. GEORGE'S, LEICESTER.

August 1st, 1896.

THIS handsome edifice was erected in the year 1827, as a chapel-of-ease to St. Margaret's, and has experienced many vicissitudes. The entire building is a masterpiece of the mason's art, every stone being sawn smooth and bedded to perfection, and encrusted with the sculptor's handiwork.

In the early decades of this century, lightning conductors were not so much in vogue as at present, and the subject of our sketch managed very well without one until the eventful day chronicled in our illustration (No. 1), when the steeple was struck. A violent storm had raged from early morning, and towards noon had slightly abated, but not until the market stalls were wrecked, and their wares scattered in all directions.

The lull was only temporary, for towards evening the lightning was terrific, scarcely any one being able to venture out of doors. This increased in volume until, at eleven minutes past eight, a blinding flash struck the spire, and down it came with a mighty crash. The sexton, John Dye, whose grave is on the north side of the church, had just been up the belfry to ring the curfew, and was locking the church gates when the steeple fell. The stones were scattered a considerable distance, and two of them, weighing each about half-a-hundredweight, fell at the back of a house now occupied by the present steeplekeeper, Mr. William Willson, and there they have lain for fifty years. The only bell in the tower fell through, and was smashed to atoms, and had it not been for the large churchyard, there is little doubt that many lives and much property would have been sacrificed.

A public meeting was called under the presidency of His Grace the Duke of Rutland, to take steps towards the restoration, and over £1000 was promised in the room. Eventually the whole sum of £2300 was raised, and the height of the spire increased by six feet. It now stands 172 feet from the ground.

The present ring of six bells was cast and hung in 1857 by the Loughborough firm; tenor 12½ cwt. in F. In 1876, at the demise of the Vicar, the Rev. A. Hill, the Rev. H. J. Fortescue was inducted to the benefice, and while Vicar made extensive alterations, being most lavish in his gifts to the parish. He built a new chancel, undertook the reseating of the whole church, making it free to all, and before leaving St. George's for Honiton in Devon, in 1825, practically completed the restoration of the interior by erecting a carved oak screen for the west end, but by his generosity made it most difficult for a less fortunate man to follow in his footsteps.

Unfortunately, all throughout the restoration the bells have been entirely overlooked or ignored. Only one peal has been rung on them, viz.: a 5040 in seven methods, the first in the county of Leicester; and now it is the hardest struggle to ring for many minutes together. They have not been overhauled for forty years, the fittings and frames are in a shocking state, and thorough rehanging is necessary. With two trebles added to complete the octave, St. George's would be possessed of bells worthy of the church, and the cost of these could undoubtedly be raised. At present it is the only broken octave in the town of Leicester; and without doubt the worst-going ring. It is to be hoped that under the present Vicar—the Rev. H. E. Sherlock, M.A.—and the energetic Church Council, the stigma may be removed. If the clergy and churchwardens desire, the columns of this paper will be at their disposal for subscriptions at the proper time, and we trust that time may speedily come.

THE SAFFRON WALDEN SOCIETY.

Certainly one of the most enjoyable days ever spent by any Society was that of Thursday, September 17th, when the ringers of Saffron Walden took a trip to the old Sussex town of Horsham. For this we were principally indebted to the exertions and benevolence of the Master of the Society, Edward Taylor, Esq., whose arrangements for the happiness of his fellow ringers were most successful and highly appreciated. We may at once say that Mr. Taylor had selected this town for our annual outing on account of the many associations connected with his earlier life, for it was there that he wooed, won, and married one of the daughters of a former Vicar, the Rev. Canon Hodgson, who held the appointment upwards of forty-four years.

Forty miles to London, a promenade over London Bridge, thirty-seven to Horsham (the latter exhibiting some picturesque scenery), a walk down the principal streets, and the desired object, the goal of our excursion, the grand old church of St. Mary appears in sight, and with—

No delay in our admission,
Mr. Vaughan is there with keys;
With the Vicar's glad permission,
"Kindly walk in, if you please."

An admiring view of the interior, which contains many objects of great interest from an historical and antiquarian standard,—too many in fact to attempt to enumerate—but our desires were still unsatisfied until—

To the belfry we ascended—
Cast an anxious look around;
From the roof eight ropes descended
Fixed to bells all good and sound!

Soon the sound of the musical bells announced that we were enjoying ourselves, and the strains (not physical) of Stedman Triples, Double Norwich Court, Cambridge and Superlative Surprises, filled the air.

We were pleased to meet with the good old veteran, Mr. Burstow, whose name adorns the peal boards of the belfry, and whose anecdotal reminiscences were much enjoyed. The brothers Crisp, of Crawley, also honored us with their presence, and took part in the ringing occasionally. Then—

An inward monitor who would not be denied,
Warned us that Nature needed such repair
As angels wot not of—and to the "Dragon Green"
We were conducted—and our conduct there
Was such as well to warrant that a void
Has been discovered: but the goodly store
Would have sufficed young "Oliver" and many more!
Enough! so good a spread had been collected
Each face to face with pleasantries reflected!
The friendly glass—the good time-honored toast,
"The Bells of England," "The Master we boast,"
"Our Glorious Queen," of Sovereigns loved the most.

Dinner over, we repair to "Causeway House." Here the Misses Hodgson vie in their abilities as entertainers, making us at once happy in their genial society. An inspection of the gardens followed, each one having perfect liberty to stroll; but were at last all brought to a focus on the lawn, where was stationed the magic lens, which, cleverly manipulated by Miss Ethel Hodgson, left an indelible souvenir of our visit, a good photo. of the party being obtained.

Once again we find ourselves in the belfry, and after some good and otherwise ringing, we return to "Causeway House," for—

There a good tea was awaiting,
With ladies presiding o'er it;
"Pray sit down, without hesitating,
You must be ready for it."

We did justice to the tea; but am afraid we could hardly thank the ladies sufficiently for their many kindnesses, and after a little handbell music, which evidently met with appreciation—

We bade our friends adieu,
With hopes another day
Our friendship to renew—
And thanks for a happy day.

On arriving in London, we visited St. Botolph's, Bishopgate (where permission had previously been obtained, and for which we heartily thank all concerned), and rang Stedman Triples, etc. Here we had the pleasure of meeting Messrs. Jacob and Foskett, who happened to be in the neighbourhood, and were attracted by the sound of the bells. These gentlemen took part in two touches.

"Nature" was again attended to; and now for the train. We reached home at 12.15 a.m., and thus ended a very pleasant day.
JOHN F. PENNING.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT AMALGAMATED SOCIETY.

The monthly ringing meeting of this society was held at Christ Church, Armley, on Saturday, September 26th, when the following towers were represented: Bramley, Tong, Rothwell, Leeds, Holbeck (R.C.), Armitage Bridge, St. Michael's, Headingley, Pudsey, and the local company. Tower ringing commenced a little after 2.30 by an attempt for a peal, which came to grief at an early stage; however ringing was continued at intervals until 9 p.m. in the following methods: Arnold's Victory, Cambridge Surprise, Woodbine, Tulip, Violet, Oxford, and College Treble, all of which were successfully brought round by mixed companies. A business meeting was held at The Barleycorn inn, when there was a good attendance of members. The minutes of the previous meeting were passed as read. A notice of motion was next given to grant an amount from the society's funds to open a subscription list in aid of a worthy and respected member, who has been suffering from a diseased hip for some two years; also that an appeal be made through the columns of "THE BELL NEWS" to other ringers and friends. This was proposed by Mr. M. Broadbent, and seconded by Mr. J. Turner. The Hon. Secretary, Mr. R. Binns, was unanimously elected as representative on the Central Council, being proposed by Mr. J. Thackray, and seconded by Mr. W. Chapman. Holbeck was then announced as the place for the next meeting, when the amateur society belonging to the parish church will offer two money prizes for the best touch on six and eight bells. The usual votes of thanks were passed to the vicar, wardens, and local ringers for the use of the bells, and to the chairman for presiding. Handbell tinging followed, courses of Grandsire Triples, Major, and Caters, Bob Major, and Oxford Bob Minor being rung. About thirty members were present, all of whom seemed to enjoy themselves.

THE SOCIETY OF ROYAL CUMBERLAND YOUTHS.

The election of officers for the ensuing year took place at St. Martin's on Friday, September 11th. Mr. B. Foskett, Master; Mr. W. Baron, Treasurer; Mr. A. Jacob, Secretary; Mr. E. Frazer, Senior Steward; Mr. W. Nudds, Junior Steward. A vote of thanks was accorded to the officers for their services during the past year. The first three were all re-elected.

THE OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD PEAL-BOOK.—A RECORD of Five Hundred and Twenty Peals rung by this Guild. Paper covers, 1s. 2d.; cloth do., 1s. 8d.—Blackwell, Reading; or the Hon. Sec. of the Guild—the Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis, Dunstons Vicarage, Reading.

News from Australia.

SIR.—The following is a resume of our work during the half-year ending June 30th, 1896. We are practising seven different methods with a view to getting a 5040 in the near future, and trust that by the time we accomplish it the Central Council will see their way clear to designate such a meritorious performance a peal.

On January 1st, at St. Mark's church, for midnight service, Darling Point, a 720 Grandsire Minor, in 26 mins. J. Pope, 1; J. Waterman, 2; H. Davies, 3; M. A. Noble, 4; C. Porter (conductor), 5; A. B. Joyner, 6. On March 15th, for morning service, a 720 Grandsire Minor, in 25 mins. A. Pope, 1; M. A. Noble, 2; H. Davies, 3; J. Waterman, 4; A. B. Joyner, 5; T. Joyner (conductor), 6. On March 19th, for practice, a 720 Grandsire Minor, in 26 mins. J. Pope, 1; J. Waterman, 2; H. Davies, 3; T. Joyner, 4; M. A. Noble, 5; C. Porter (conductor), 6. This 720 was composed by Mr. A. Barnes, of the Victorian Society of ringers. On April 16th, 1896, for practice, a 720 of Oxford Treble Bob, in 25½ mins. C. Porter, 1; M. A. Noble, 2; H. Davies, 3; J. Waterman, 4; A. B. Joyner, 5; T. Joyner (conductor), 6. First 720 in the method by all the ringers and the first on the bells. On April 23rd, for practice, a 720 Darling Point Minor, in 27 mins. J. Pope, 1; T. Joyner, 2; H. Davies, 3; M. A. Noble, 4; J. Waterman, 5; C. Porter (conductor), 6. On 3rd May, for practice, 564 changes, being a 180 of Darling Point, 144 of College Single, 144 of Plain Bob, and 96 College Single. On May 25th, for practice, a silent 720 of Grandsire Minor, in 27 mins. J. Pope, 1; T. Joyner, 2; C. Porter, 3; M. A. Noble, 4; J. Waterman, 5; A. B. Joyner, 6. This is the first silent peal by the society. On June 11th, for practice, a 720 consisting of Darling Point Minor and Plain Bob. Conducted by T. Joyner. On June 21st, for evening service, a 720 of Grandsire Minor, in 25 mins. J. Pope, 1; M. A. Noble, 2; H. Davies, 3; T. Joyner, 4; A. B. Joyner, 5; C. Porter (conductor), 6. On June 25th, for practice, a 360 of Yarranable. Conducted by T. Joyner. On June 25th, for practice, a 720 Kent Treble Bob in 25 mins. H. Davies, 1; J. Waterman, 2; C. Porter, 3; M. A. Noble, 4; A. B. Joyner, 5; T. Joyner (conductor), 6. On July 2nd, a 720 for practice, a 720 of Grandsire Minor, in 23 mins. J. Pope, 1; J. Waterman, 2; H. Davies, 3; M. A. Noble, 4; T. Joyner (conductor), 5; A. B. Joyner, 6. This 720 was also composed by Mr. Barnes, of Victoria.

St. Mark's Society, New South Wales.

Ringers' Outings.

THE ST. MARTIN'S SOCIETY, HAVERSTOCK HILL.—On Saturday, September 12th, the members of this society held their annual outing, Southend-on-Sea being the place selected. A start was made at 8.43 from Kentish Town by the Midland Railway, Southend being reached at 10.15 a.m., and after refreshing the inner man they parted for a stroll round, some going on the pier, others walking along the shore, all meeting at one o'clock sharp for dinner. After doing justice to the good things provided, a move was made to Prittlewell to have a ring on the fine peal of eight, permission having been previously obtained. Arriving there about four o'clock, a start was made for 308 Grandsire Triples, when they were joined by some Crayford friends, together with Mr. Judd, of Southend, and after a general welcome all round, the following touches were rung: 168 Grandsire Triples, 224 Double Norwich, 252 Stedman Triples, 288 Kent Treble Bob, 224 Bob Major, 224 Canterbury Pleasure Major, and 182 Grandsire Major, conducted by Messrs. Barnett, Wilkins, Smith, and Nixon, the following also taking part: Messrs. Alderman, Bevan, Smith, Nixon, Titchener, Young, Ellis, Watson, Judd, Barnett, Wilkins, Conyard, Saxby, and Coombes. Lowering the bells a move was made for tea, the Crayford friends having now to leave to catch their train. After tea a walk back to Southend for an hour or so before leaving for home, which was reached about 11.15. They wish to thank the vicar of Prittlewell for the use of the bells, and Mr. Bedwell for having all in readiness; also Mr. Judd and their Crayford friends for having assisted them.

THE GAINSBOROUGH SOCIETY.—On Saturday, September 19th, by the kind invitation of Lady Beckett, the members of this society paid a visit to Corringham, which was reached about 3.15 p.m. Arriving there the bells were very soon raised and set in motion. The first touch was a 6-score of Grandsire Doubles. T. Pattison, 1; F. S. Butler, 2; A. Wheeler, 3; J. Ladd, 4; G. Wilson (conductor), 5; R. Lakin, 6. Followed by a 720 of Bob Minor (eighteen bobs and eighteen singles) in 27 mins. E. Credland, 1; J. Ladd, 2; A. Wheeler, 3; W. D. Tinker, 4; G. Wilson, 5; F. S. Butler (conductor), 6. By the time this was finished, Mr. Smithson, the captain of the Corringham ringers put in an appearance, and rang the treble through a 6-score of Grandsire Doubles in a creditable manner, considering the local company are not practical change-ringers. After other touches had been rung, the company adjourned to the house of Mr. Smithson, where a splendid tea was spread out for them, provided by Lady Beckett. After tea Mr. Pattison obliged the company with two interesting recitations, after which Mr. Butler proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Lady Beckett for her kind invitation and for the splendid tea provided for them by her; also to Mr. and Mrs. Smithson for the way in which they had arranged it for them; and to the Rev. J. F. Flowers (who to the regret of all present was away from home) for the use of the bells. This was seconded by Mr. Wheeler, and duly responded to by Mr. Smithson. The ringers then went back to the church, where a 6-score of Stedman Doubles was brought round. A. Wheeler, 1; J. Ladd, 2; W. Tinker, 3; H. Kirtton, 4; F. Butler (conductor), 5; R. Lakin, 6. A 720 of Grandsire Minor (thirty-eight bobs and twenty-two singles) which came to grief, was then attempted by C. Dunderdale, 1; F. Butler, 2; E. Credland, 3; J. Ladd, 4; A. Wheeler, 5; H. Kirtton (conductor), 6. Time drawing on, the bells were then lowered, and a start made for home, which was safely reached about 9.30 p.m., after an outing which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

THE ROMSEY SOCIETY.—On Monday, September 21st, the members of this society had their annual outing, Andover and Stockbridge being the places selected. They halted at the latter place and rang several 6-scores of Bob and Grandsire Doubles, and a 720 of Bob Minor. After staying 2½ hours they journeyed on to Andover, where they were welcomed by the vicar (the Rev. P. R. P. Braithwaite) and several of the local band. After ringing a few touches of Bob and Grandsire Triples, they done justice to a beautiful tea at the vicarage, provided by the vicar. After tea was over they returned home, a very enjoyable day being spent in spite of the heavy rain which fell at intervals. The visitors wish to thank the vicar for his kind hospitality.

ST. WOOLLS ASSOCIATION, NEWPORT, MON.—On a recent Monday the members of this Association had their annual outing, the places selected being Symons Yat and Monmouth, undoubtedly one of the most beautiful spots in the Wye valley, and therefore it would be hard to find a place more suitable, especially from a ringer's point of view. Leaving Newport at 8.5 a.m., we passed through the quaint old city of Caerleon (eight bells, tenor 7½ cwt.); Pontypool, Trevethin (eight bells, tenor 14 cwt.); Usk (six bells), then on to Raglan with its fine old castle. Arriving at the Yat at 9.45, and after visiting host Davies at The Rocklea hotel, we climbed the rock, from which a most charming view is obtained of Ross, Mitcheldean, and Cinderford. After descending we took to the boats and enjoyed a row as far as Whitchurch and back to dinner, which host Davies supplied at his best. After the customary toasts we took train to Monmouth, but unfortunately the four small pinnacles on the tower are condemned, so we could not have a pull there: but nothing daunted we wired off to our old friend J. Morley, at Chepstow, where we arrived in time for a start a 7 p.m. touches of Grandsire Triples being rung. After a most enjoyable day's outing we arrived home at 10.50 p.m. We wish to thank our Chepstow friends most earnestly for their kindness in getting things ready at such short notice, and for taking part in the touches.

BANHAM (Norfolk).—On Sunday, September 20th, after evening service at St. Mary's church, 720 Bob Minor. W. Hensley, 1; W. Nudds, 2; G. Haylett, 3; J. Tite, 4; A. Mann, 5; J. Saunders (conductor), 6.

PRACTICAL HINTS TO YOUNG CONDUCTORS
AND COMPOSERS.

CHAPTER IV.

A composer of very high standing has suggested an addition to my remarks upon "in and out-of-course." He asks me to add Shipway's observations upon the subject, as it was by their means that his eyes were opened. I hardly think this necessary for several obvious reasons, but the opinion of such an authority as my correspondent may not be disregarded. Omitting unnecessary parts, Shipway has the following:—

"It is of the highest importance to the composer and bob-caller (now termed conductor), that they be well acquainted with this part of the science, as it enables the one to ascertain the truth of his production, the other the truth of his peal; and if a conductor be not possessed of this knowledge, should the bells be out of course, he may often suffer his companions to ring a false peal; the bells, indeed, in many instances never could come round. An acquaintance with this is highly necessary to those practitioners who are learning to bring bells into rounds, which cannot be acquired without much study and practice. . . . It is already understood, that, on any number of bells, there are half in each course or part: thus, of 40,320 changes on eight bells, 20,160 are in course, and the same number out; which, according to the method, are variously blended together; some, one and one; others, two and two, etc.; and the effect produced is consequently as various. Now in many instances it is necessary that the courses of the bells should be turned; this is done by what we have termed a single, which, on five and six bells is a single change, but on seven and eight is double, and on nine and ten bells is a triple change, etc. The next object is to know what changes are in and out of course. Three bells are always a single change, one bell laying still, while the others make a change; they are therefore turned every change. On four bells, again, there is a double and single change alternately; the four changing at one time is a double change, which retains them in course; then, two bells laying still, the two middle ones make a single change; so they are turned every two changes. By three and four bells, any change can be known, if in or out of course, on any number of bells: thus, if two bells change, they are out of the course they were in; if four bells change, they continue in the same course. This is the case with five bells, as the odd bell can make no change. Six bells changing are out of course, there being four and two, which produce the effect of a single change; for, let the four lay still or change, they still are in course; then the two changing act the part of a single, whether the four lay still or not. Seven bells are a four and three: consequently they act as six, the four making a double, and the three a single change, as observed above. On eight bells there are two fours, that keep the bells in course; and so of nine, being two fours and an odd one. Ten and eleven bells are as six and seven in effect, containing two fours and a two. Twelve and thirteen are like eight and nine, containing three fours, which keep twelve and thirteen bells in course; as two fours keep eight and nine in. Thus the changing of four and five, eight and nine, twelve and thirteen bells, keeps them in course, whilst that of six and seven, ten and eleven, fourteen and fifteen, puts them out. By applying the round to any given change, it will, by the above method, easily discover whether it be in or out of course."

We now take leave of this part of the subject.

GRANDSIRE MINOR.

The method under treatment is not favorable for an even number of bells. The bell in 6th place having to lie four blows behind while the place is being made in front, and six blows at a bob, is not conducive to musical effect. But for all this, there are many to whom "Grandsire" under any circumstances is a great favorite. The method seems certainly to afford more entertainment than Plain Bob, but the fact remains that the bells lying behind is an immense drawback.

Minor is generally called by observation of the tenor. A 720 is obtained by calling a bob every lead except when the 5th or the tenor is in the hunt, when these bells have to remain there two leads. When, however, the 5th is called out, the part end must be allowed to run up when the tenors will be at home together. This to be five times repeated, calling a single midway in the third and sixth parts instead of a bob, in any one place where the tenors are not before. Below are three 720s from Shipway:

720.	720.	720.
23456	23456	23456
B 65243	B 65243	B 25364
64532	64532	B 46235
S 32654	B 23654	B 43652
B 45362	B 45263	B 25463
B 26435	B 36425	B 36245
B 53246	B 52346	B 54326
54362	54263	B 62534
B 25534	B 36524	B 63245
23645	32645	B 54623
24356	34256	52436

In the first the second call is a single; in the other parts, except the fourth, a bob must be substituted. The other two must be dealt with in the same way. Of course if the single is omitted the bells run home at 360 changes. Here is given the scale of positions of the bells when a call is made:—

Into the hunt.	Before.	Out of the hunt.	Wrong.	Right.

These are exactly the same as was pointed out in Doubles, with the exception of the observation "Right." This position is secured to a bell by calling the bob the lead after she has made thirds place. The bob must be called as the bell is making her first blow behind.

It is unnecessary to prolong the observations on Grandsire Minor. We may conclude by giving a rule by which to call the bells into rounds. The first thing is to get 5-6 at home, i.e. the 5th to be after (or behind) the tenor. This is done by calling the 5th into the hunt, and call her out when the tenor is before. Then call the tenor "right" until the bells run home. When the 4th gets into the hunt, the 2nd and 3rd must be looked after in the same way as was shown in Grandsire Doubles.

ALEPH.

CRAWLEY (Sussex).—On Wednesday, September 23rd, 504 Grandsire Triples. B. Paine, 1; J. Rice, 2; G. Attfield, 3; J. Newnham, 4; G. Paice, 5; R. Jordan, 6; F. Rice (conductor), 7; F. Merritt, 8. Also 504 in the same method, conducted by J. Rice, standing as before with the exception of G. Paice and R. Jordan changing places. Rung in honour of Her Majesty the Queen having reigned longer than any other sovereign.

LEATHERHEAD (Surrey).—On Wednesday, September 23rd, at the church of St. Mary and Nicholas, to celebrate the long reign of Her Majesty the Queen, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 45 mms. F. Kemp, 1; H. Wood, 2; H. Newnham, 3; C. Race, 4; A. Dean, 5; W. Crockford, 6; E. Hull (conductor), 7; W. Messum and T. Newnham, 8.

LLANDEGAI (North Wales).—On Monday, September 14th, 720 Bob Minor. J. Rowlands, 1; S. Taylor, 2; F. Taylor, 3; B. Broadbent, 4; P. Davies, 5; M. J. Morris (conductor), 6. B. Broadbent bails from Ashton-under-Lyne; the rest from Bangor. First 720 on the bells, which sadly require a thorough overhaul. The above was considered well-struck under the circumstances.

QUIDENHAM (Norfolk).—On Sunday, September 20th, at St. Andrew's church, for morning service, 720 Bob Minor. J. Tite, 1; J. Sage, 2; G. Haylett, 3; R. Haylett, 4; A. Mann, 5; J. Woods (conductor), 6. In the afternoon another 720 in the same method. W. Hensley, 1; J. Tite, 2; G. Haylett, 3; R. Haylett, 4; A. Mann, 5; J. Woods (conductor), 6.

THE CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

The Crewe Branch of the above Guild held a ringing meeting at Sandbach on Saturday, September 19th. At half-past four the usual meeting was held in the schoolroom, the President, the Rev. G. J. Howson, Vicar of Christ Church, Crewe, presiding. The towers represented were Sandbach, Alsager, Crewe, Kidsgrove and Lawton, twenty-six members being present. After reading and passing of the minutes of the previous meeting the following gentlemen were elected hon. members: the Rev. W. O. M. Hughes, Rector of Tarporley, and the Rev. J. R. Armitstead, Vicar of Sandbach; Mr. Geo. Mason, of Sandbach, was elected as a ringing member. A vote of condolence was moved by the Rev. G. J. Howson, seconded by J. Stringer, Esq., sympathising with the relatives and friends in their bereavement through the death of the late Mr. F. R. T. Bolton, of West Kirby, who was Secretary of the Wirral Branch and a much-respected member of this Guild. After the meeting the members sat down to a splendid tea in the schoolroom kindly provided by J. Stringer, Esq. and the Sandbach ringers, which all thoroughly enjoyed. After tea a hearty vote of thanks was passed to J. Stringer, Esq. and the Sandbach ringers for the kind and hearty reception they had given the visitors that day; also a vote of thanks to Mrs. Stringer, Mrs. Johnson and the ladies present for so kindly making tea for them. The ringers then adjourned to the tower, and ringing was kept up till eight o'clock, when the bells were lowered in peal, and the ringers wended their various ways home, all having spent a very enjoyable afternoon with their Sandbach friends. Among the various touches rung during the afternoon were a 504 of Grandsire Triples. A. Harding, 1; R. Langford, 2; J. Davies, 3; P. Mason, 4; G. Harding, 5; T. Johnson, 6; R. T. Holding (conductor), 7; J. Edwards, 8. Also another 504 in the same method. J. Mason, 1; T. Cartwright, 2; A. Archer, 3; W. Cartwright, 4; H. Dean, 5; G. Baddiley, 6; R. T. Holding (conductor), 7; R. Langford, 8. And a 350. J. Edwards, 1; J. Elsley, 2; J. Davies, 3; W. Cartwright, 4; G. Baddiley, 5; A. Harding, 6; R. T. Holding (conductor), 7; J. Spooner, 8. Also two courses of Bob Major. J. Mason, 1; T. Cartwright, 2; A. Archer, 3; R. Langford, 4; H. Dean, 5; W. Cartwright, 6; G. Baddiley, 7; R. T. Holding, 8. And several touches of Treble Bob Minor by various bands.

THE SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

To-day, Saturday, October 3rd, a band of the above Association will attempt a series of peals at various places in Hants. To-day a start is to be made at Fareham; on Monday the intention is to ring two peals at Soberton; Tuesday—in the morning at East Meon, in the afternoon at Petersfield; Wednesday—in the morning at Havant, afternoon at St. Mary's, Portsea. We wish the company much pleasure and great success. In all probability a report of the proceedings will be found in our next.

Correspondence.

While allowing the utmost freedom for the expression of opinion, it must never be considered that we are in any way bound to statements made by correspondents.

To the Editor of "THE BELL NEWS AND RINGERS' RECORD."

SIR,—Will you kindly permit me to intimate to the members of the Yorkshire Association that the "coming of age" photo, taken at the Bradford Meeting is now ready. It is not only an interesting, but a really creditable production, which, as a memento, ought to find a place in all Yorkshire belfries. The photo itself measures 15 in. by 12 in. It comprises about 150 faces, is handsomely mounted (with appropriate inscription), and enclosed in a most elegant oak frame with gold beading, the whole measuring 23 x 20. The price of the picture, framed complete, is 7s. 6d., and copies may be had on application to the photographer, Mr. George Whitaker, 4, Arthur Street, Bingley, a member of the Association. I hope to find that Mr. Whitaker's commendable enterprise in this direction has been well rewarded.

B. T. COPLEY, Hon. Sec. Y.A.C.R.

LYTHAM (Lancashire).—On Sunday evening, September 27th, at St. Peter's church 720 Plain Bob Minor (eight bobs and twenty-six singles) in 29 mins. G. Maries (conductor), 1; J. Pendlebury, 2; E. Forshaw, 3; W. Gillett, 4; J. Moore, 5; W. Tomlinson, 6. Tenor 10½ cwt. This is the first 720 in the method by all except the conductor.

THE OLD EAST DERBYSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The Quarterly Meeting of this Association was held at North Wingfield on Saturday, September 26th. Upon arriving at Chesterfield, a great muster of ringers was seen, waiting for the train, some bound for Wingfield, others for the garden party at Duffield. During this period of waiting we were all able to have a friendly chat, and a hurried glance at our "BELL NEWS," one remarking that we should soon have a good photograph of the crooked spire, and as we were then in full view and close by the object of that picture all eyes were turned that way. Having wished our Duffield friends a pleasant day we took our seats and were soon at our destination.

The meeting was held at The Blue Bell inn, members being present from Norton, Killamarsh, Eckington, Staveley, Chesterfield, Clay Cross and Wingfield. The Rev. J. E. Ormesher, Curate-in-charge of Wingfield, presided.

The minutes were read and confirmed.

On the motion of Mr. W. Biggin, seconded by Mr. Harris, it was arranged that the next quarterly meeting be held at Anston on the second Saturday in January, 1897.

The question was then discussed regarding a second prize at the cup competition. Mr. J. Harris (Staveley), spoke at some length, and, although he approved of the scheme, did not like the idea of taking the hat round for subscriptions, which was not a pleasant task to perform. Perhaps that gentleman may think such a course would clash with the Christmas boxes, which I am afraid many companies have to partly rely upon for their year's ringing salary.

The Rev. J. E. Ormesher said he should very much like to give them a good start, and had he been the man with the money he would have spent it in helping such a good cause. He promised to lay the matter before their new Vicar when he arrived, suggesting that if the clergy and squires in the respective parishes where the Association held their meetings gave their pounds, the meeting would easily gain their object.

Mr. Marsden and others having pointed out to the meeting that they would not only want a second prize, but also one in proportion to the second for the winners of the cup, Mr. Worthington said he was inclined to think that if such was not the case there would be more trying for the second prize than for the cup.

On the motion of Mr. Tarlton the matter was left over till the Easter meeting.

Mr. T. Allibone proposed, and Mr. Marsden seconded a vote of thanks to the Rev. J. E. Ormesher for presiding.

The rev. gentleman, in reply, thanked the meeting for their vote of thanks, remarking that it was very little he had done for them that day, but what little service he had been able to render it had given him great pleasure. He would convey the business of the meeting to their new Vicar, who he had no doubt would give his aid to the objects of the Association.

Several 720s were rung by mixed bands during the afternoon.

MARK LEONARD MYHILL.

The above ringer, who died at Romford last week, was some few years ago a promising young ringer. Having commenced during his apprenticeship in the printing trade to learn ringing at St. Edward's church, Dick, as he was familiarly called, made rapid progress, both on tower and handbells, and was soon at peal-ringing, even attempting to conduct. His interest in the Art however appeared to flag after leaving Romford, for with the exception of doing a little ringing during a short employment at St. Albans, the deceased does not appear to have practised the science but upon rare occasions. Although the possessor of a will of his own when shown that there were two sides to a question, Dick was generally convinced of that which was right, and was exact, and insisted upon having everything above board. In a peal or touch he was always willing to go to the heavy end, and at the first attempt for the printer's peal at Romford he rang the tenor; in the successful attempt he rang the 4th. He died at the age of 25 years 9 months, after having suffered eleven days from rheumatic fever. On Thursday evening the bells of St. Edward's were rung half-muffled.

THE DESTROYED BELL-HOUSE AT KING'S COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE.

VISITORS to Cambridge may observe in such a dry season as the summer of 1896 a peculiarly arid spot on the grass just to the west of King's College Chapel. This is the site of an ancient bell-house, or Clochard, as Bowtell (a great ringer in his day) calls it, erected about the time of King Henry VI., for the temporary reception of those five great bells which were intended to find a permanent home in the projected grand tower in the court to the north of the chapel. The troubles of that unfortunate king's reign prevented the completion of the design, and from various causes the bells remained in their habitation till it was pulled down in 1739, when they were removed to the floor of the chapel, where they stood till they were sold in the year 1754. The engraving here presented is from my Church Bells of Cambridgeshire,* p. 57, No. 73, and we are indebted to the kindness of the Cambridge Antiquarian Society for the use of it. It consisted of two stories, of which the upper one in 1603 was called "le bell sollar." This word, from Solarium, a sunny chamber, is still in use in the Eastern Counties. In 1613 it was standing without struts to support it, as may be seen from Sir Henry Savile's Chrysostom, but by 1660 there were struts all round it, a local painter named Wisdom being employed to paint them.

The engraving is completed from Loggan, who gives only the south-east view of the structure.

On another occasion I hope to give some account of the wonderful five bells, the tenants of this bell-house, which was constructed of timber and plaster, with a leaden roof.

THE PEAL "APPENDIX, 1895," PRINTED BY the Central Council Committee, may be obtained post free, with the Report on Calls, on application to the Hon. Secretary, Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, Stanhoe Rectory, King's Lynn, enclosing 7½d. in stamps.

THE NORTH LINCOLNSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The October General Meeting of this Association was held at Grimsby on Saturday, September 26th, and was well represented by members from Gainsborough, Barton-on-Humber, Market Rasen, Lincoln, Timberland, Branston, and the local company. A short service was held in the parish church of St. James in the afternoon, after which the members met at the Coffee Tavern for tea. The inner man being refreshed, the company soon settled down to the more serious duties of the business meeting, under the presidency of the Rev. Canon J. P. Young, vicar of St. James. In opening the meeting the chairman remarked he felt sure all the members would agree with him in expressing their congratulations upon the long and successful reign of Her Majesty the Queen, and in wishing that she may still enjoy good health to continue the government of such a prosperous nation.

Canon Young expressed the pleasure it gave him to welcome the members to Grimsby, and said he wished he knew more about the science of change-ringing and its mathematical problems. He encouraged the ringers to take an interest in the marks upon the bells, and to try to find out their history. He set the members a good example by giving them a most lucid and interesting description how he had traced the history of his own peal of bells, and concluded by suggesting that if such matter were put into the annual report, it would no doubt make the report useful as a reference, as well as instructive from an antiquarian point of view.

Mr. Chester (Lincoln) said he had to apologise for the General Secretary's absence, who was unavoidably detained in Lincoln.

The minutes of the Market Rasen meeting were read and confirmed, and a discussion arose as to the definition of a non-resident Life Member. The matter was referred to the Committee with a suggestion that the rule as regards Life Members should be more definite. The draft rules and regulations which had been drawn up by a special committee of the Lincoln District, were ordered to be embodied in the next report, so that each member should have an opportunity of considering them before their confirmation at the Annual Meeting. Four new honorary members were proposed from Timberland, together with two new honorary members from Barton-on-Humber. Mr. Heyhoe's (Grimsby) proposition that the Rev. E. Akenhead, vicar of St. Oswald, Scunthorpe, become an honorary member, together with his band of twelve ringers as probationary members, was received with loud applause. The fact that Scunthorpe possessed in addition to a beautiful church, a good ring of 8 bells, no doubt enhanced the popularity of the proposition. The total number of members elected were 7 honorary, 12 probationary, and one non-resident life member. The Acting-Secretary also remarked that through the activity of the Barton-on-Humber branch, two donations had been received from there. It was decided that peals of Minor rung during this year eligible for the peal book, be inserted in the next annual report. A request having been received from the Branston branch for an Instructor, it was agreed to grant the usual fee towards the cost, together with a similar arrangement with the newly-elected Scunthorpe branch.

A vote of thanks to the chairman for presiding, to the clergy for the use of the bells, and to the local ringers for making the necessary arrangements, concluded the business meeting. The tower of St. James being near to the station was again visited, and various touches were brought round during the evening. In the early afternoon the members from Barton-on-Humber visited Waltham, a village near to Grimsby, and rang a 720 of Bob Minor upon the bells.

ALL SAINTS (FULHAM) SOCIETY.

On Thursday, September 24th, at the usual weekly meeting of the above society, Mr. Driver presented Mr. E. H. Adams with a handsome clock, subscribed for by the members as a mark of their esteem, and congratulated him in their name on his wedding. Mr. Adams suitably responded.

A short time ago a presentation was made to Mr. Charge, to mark a similar event.

MEN AND MANNERS.

Good old scruffers, they are on their last legs, and a good thing too. This time they are "on strike" in a village not a hundred miles from Birmingham, and if the Rector's statement is correct it is to be hoped they will be superseded by a set of better men. It seems they never attend to ring except there is "something at the end of it." For chiming they have been paid, and they want paying to ring for the Harvest Festival. Most properly the Rector declines with thanks, and is setting about getting another band of ringers. I don't like this sort of thing, it means that those who come after are looked upon as usurpers, and the breach between the old and the new ringers is never healed. In ninety-nine cases in a hundred the men have only themselves to blame. There are times when ringing entails loss of time from employment, and in such cases services should most certainly be paid for, and none but unreasonable clergy or churchwardens would refuse payment; but for ordinary ringing for services of the Church the unreasonableness is on the other side. I know towers where it is almost impossible to raise a practice except for a few weeks before Christmas, and it is no wonder that an attempt is made to clear out a few of this school. It is true that the "go" of some bells is almost enough to make many of the band stop away until the fittings are overhauled, places where the pleasure of ringing is out of the question, and where it is simply torture to pull a bell through a five hundred or so. There are churches I know where the church authorities don't care a fig so long as the bells are chimed for Sunday services. In such places I would suggest to the ringers to draw up a letter to the Vicar and Wardens, setting forth the labour and distress it causes to ring in anything like form, and if no notice is taken of it they will have done their duty.

This is a cruel world, it don't give a man a "chance." So said James Covey when hauled before the stipendiary at a London Police Court on a charge of stealing his employer's filthy lucre. It seems that Jeames borrowed the spare cash without asking permission. Of course Jeames meant to put it back—they all do—he simply took it as a loan, and I am ashamed of him. You see, Jeames, you ought to know better, this cold world don't give a Covey like you a ghost of a "chance." Not likely, you should develop your talents in another direction. For instance, there is money in a host of ventures. You might start in the corned beef trade—old cab horses are cheap—or you might go abroad and discover somebody; or again, seize a tract of land and you might get made a member of Parliament. You might look out for somebody who has started in business and getting fairly afloat, and all you have to do is to run an opposition shop in the same line. Never mind what trouble you may cause the man who has worked up the business, you can copy and imitate him and trade upon his name, and all this is considered honest and highly respectable, but stealing is low—very low. Besides, look at the risk of punishment. The man who rings the changes in your line, Jeames, must be an expert or nothing. The method don't run smooth, it runs quite the reverse to what you might expect. For your future guidance, Jeames, I append a table of rogue's course-ends. When the policeman takes you in the hunt—for a loaf, value 6d.—three months hard; for removing surplus cash or goods—two years; absconding with £1000—one year. Ditto with £30,000—two years as a first-class misdemeanant; salting a "Gold Mine" and vending it for £100,000—Member of Parliament and "friend of the working man." You see, Jeames, it is as well to know the method before starting to ring it. Good morning, mind the step.

The Harvest Festivals are with us, although the weather is very unlike harvest time, in fact it seems as though we have exchanged the usual September weather for that of February. To my mind the harvest festival services seem the best of any in the year. It is then I get me away from the madding crowd in the towns to an old quiet village with a ring of five bells in the quaint old tower. What a contrast is there between the scanty decorations of a busy city church and the masses of fruit, flowers and corn to be found in that of the average village where almost every parishioner considers it his duty to bring an offering. I love the village church; everything in connection seems more sacred and yet more homely. There is an absence of "starchiness" and finery so conspicuous in town churches, and it may be fancy, but even the stained windows and the simple service appeal to one more strongly than those of a cathedral. It makes me wish the service would never end, and methinks I would willingly exchange it if I could, the roar and bustle, for the quiet life of a villager.

Eleven Thousand of London Surprise! Still I am not surprised. I told you a few weeks ago that there was very little doubt but what the Oxford giant would go for the extent; but I do think Mr. Washbrook might have published when the attempt was to be made, and Jingle would have been on the spot. However it is another record for J. W. W., and like Tennyson's Washbrook he seems to go on for ever. He needs no praise, his previous feats are so well known, but this will make history in Surprise ringing, and the band are to be congratulated, firstly on their magnificent performance, and secondly on being under the tutorship of such a magician in the art of peal-ringing. The Burton men are in sackcloth and ashes, their record of 6720 being smashed beyond recognition. By the way I notice Mr. Joseph Griffin (who called the 6720 from the 4th) has woke up again and called a peal of Stedman for the Ashby men. It was about time friend Joe did something. Since he retired from the secretaryship of the Midland Counties Association, in which office he worked like a Trojan, he seems to have lost his enthusiasm; and now he has come out of his shell it is to be hoped he will go on the war path again.

The weight of Norwich tenor seems to be indisputable according to Mr. Trollope's letter, and I am glad he has given us the desired information. An autograph letter from the founders should be conclusive enough, and the mistake in the weight could easily be understood where two bells are involved. Nevertheless there are ringers who won't accept even the founder's version. The Erith tenor is stated to be 18 cwt., and yet if what another ringer says is true, he has a letter from the firm saying the bell is 15 cwt. Perhaps someone at Erith will oblige, for there can be no other reason in exaggerating the weight, except to make the peals which are rung shine brighter than they possibly might if the proper weight is given. I notice Mr. Trollope has been elected to represent the Norwich Association on the Central Council, and congratulate him on his success. He will be, I believe, the youngest member sitting, but Mr. A. J. T. is about as smart as the next man, though it does not seem many weeks since he rung his first 5040 (Bob Minor). Since then he has quickly mounted the campanological ladder, and holds the record I believe of the longest peal rung in hand, viz.: 11,200. Norwich has always been famous for its ringers, and the mantles of the Hurrys and Hubbards have fallen on some who will not disgrace them. The best performance of late years at Norwich was to my mind the wedding peal of Mr. F. Knights, who turned the great tenor in to a peal of Treble Bob Major, no mean feat with a bell upwards of two tons. It would be a splendid performance to ring Mancroft twelve to Double Norwich Maximus, but they must be quick about it, or Jemmy Motts will do the trick at Ipswich. I see they have been practising some time, and weekly I expect to see they have pulled it off.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN,
CHURCH BELL HANGER, AND TUNER.
SALISBURY, WILTSHIRE.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN is a practical Ringer, and having had considerable experience in Church Bell hanging and tuning, with confidence solicits the patronage of the Clergy, Churchwardens and Ringers generally.

T. B. has devoted a great deal of attention to the fixing of Clock Hammers used for striking the hours and quarters on Church Bells. These are sometime placed in awkward and dangerous positions, even by Church Clock Makers.

T. BLACKBOURN's experience enables him to affix these hammers, with their accompanying levers in a most accurate manner, preventing any danger to the bell frame or clock. He will be glad to advise on clocks as well as bells.

The Ellacombe Chime Hammers fixed. Sole Fixer of Silby's Apparatus for Silent practice. Handbells supplied. Bells weighed in the tower at a small cost.

A PEAL OF 362,880 GRANDSIRE CATERS, 6d.

The Bell News & Ringers' Record.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1896.

THE minds of several of our readers have been exercised by the appearance of a story in one of the monthlies, wherein, in relating a scene in the belfry on New Year's Eve, the writer describes how one of the ringers proceeds to raise several bells simultaneously, ropes being affixed for this purpose to his arms, legs, and elbows—we forget whether he had one round his neck also. The narrative itself is a very tame commonplace affair, and without the episode of bell ringing athleticism, would hardly be noticed by readers who expect in their literary fodder something bold and striking, fresh, and highly seasoned withal. If we mistake not, the same magazine some years ago treated us to an effusion on bells and ringing from the pen of a well-known, if somewhat erratic reverend gentleman, which was regarded by all ringers quite as ridiculous as the story we are alluding to. We suppose no other pursuit of a recreative character has been sported with by uninformed writers so much as that of ringing. These people are practically ignorant of the alphabet of ringing; they seem to be under the impression that a rope or line has merely to be pulled and the job is done. All this is very ridiculous we know, but the comical situation soon changes into contempt or disgust, with amazement how such stuff should find its way into print without enquiry. But we must endure these things. The Art will never become popular in a sense. We shall never get whole pages of bell-ringing intelligence in the daily papers. Golf, football, and even horse-racing before ringing. We can content ourselves, however, by the thought that the terrible evils of the latter will never enter our planet.

The reports of the Yorkshire and Worcestershire Associations are unavoidably held over until next week. With next number will appear the portrait of Mr. Charles Sillitoe, of Sudbury. The following week we hope to publish a photograph of Chesterfield Church, executed specially for this paper.

NOTE TO THE PEAL AT TONBRIDGE.—This peal was rung in commemoration of the long and glorious reign of Her Majesty Queen Victoria; and to enable Mr. Wadmore and the other new peal-ringers to score their first peal. After the bells were lowered the ringers were very kindly entertained by Mr. Wadmore at a neighbouring hotel, a very pleasant evening being spent. The toasts of "The Queen," "The Conductor," and "The New Peal-ringers," were enthusiastically drunk, and it is hoped this is the first of many more peals that might easily be scored by the numerous ringers in and around Tonbridge. All the ringers in this peal are resident in Tonbridge, except the Messrs. Card, who kindly came down from Southborough to conduct and assist.

THE DUFFIELD GARDEN PARTY.

Last Saturday was unpropitious in weather, yet a numerous body of ringers accepted Mr. Heywood's kind invitation to a garden party at his residence, Duffield, as announced in the pages of "THE BELL NEWS." The visitors were delighted with the journey round the estate on Mr. Heywood's railway. They came from many of the towns in the neighbourhood, and before leaving accorded a hearty vote of thanks to their kind entertainers. The bells of Duffield Church were made good use of afterwards.

TITCHFIELD, HANTS.

The four bells of this ancient parish church, having been for a long time in an unsatisfactory condition, have been taken down to be re-cast. Two new trebles are to be added, and the ring of six will be rehung in a cast-iron frame. The oldest bell had the inscription "Ave gratia plena," and is said by a competent authority to date between 1275 and 1300. The other three bells bear dates 1675, 1628, and 1769. The work is being carried out by T. Blackburn, of Salisbury, and is to cost about £270, most of which has been raised locally.

PLAIN METHODS WITH TWO GUIDING BELLS.

BY JOHN CARTER.

Several members of the Exercise have asked me to publish all methods I have by me. This would hardly be wise, because several already published do not run the whole peal, while of others I cannot say whether they run the whole peal or not without giving them a considerable amount of study; in fact there are several methods of Triples that run only one, two and three leads to a course, and therefore cannot be called complete methods.

On five bells there is only one method on this plan—Grandsire—and it is so well known that it is unnecessary to give it. Minor is certainly unsuited for methods with two guiding bells.

Turning to the triple-change methods on this plan, it will at once be seen that the plain hunt bell can be arranged to travel up and down in front of the treble by starting two changes earlier, as was done by Solomon Biddlestone in his "New Grandsire," therefore such are actually the same method, and need no further comment.

Methods I have been able to collect, and which have been published, I have placed first with their names, while I have numbered the others and arranged them thus—1 to 7, containing Grandsire lead-ends; 8 to 11, Union lead-ends; 12 to 18, Darlaston lead-ends; 19 to 23 other lead-ends. It will be seen that 2 reverse, 14 reverse, 15 reverse, 19 reverse, 20 reverse, 23 and 24 reverse contains the Whittington change (12753468) at a treble-lead in the plain course.

If any reader can point out either of the numbered methods as occurring in any ringing paper or books, will he kindly do so; or having any other method on this plan send it to me so that I may make the collection complete, before October 31st, since I intend to publish the calls which I consider most suitable to each in the number of our paper of November 28th.

It will be seen that several of these methods are termed variation of something else (as Grandsire of Plain Bob), but as the work and ringing is entirely different they really ought to bear another name.

The methods which have no name now become public property, and those who first ring a peal in either of them are entitled to christen it as they think proper.

THE LONG PEAL OF LONDON SURPRISE AT DRAYTON, BERKS.

On Thursday, September 10th, the Oxford Society arranged to journey to Drayton, with the express idea of ringing 11,328 of London Surprise. Well, thought we, it is a bigish order; we had better get off early in the morning and have the day at it. So according to arrangement the Oxford men met at the City Building at 9 sharp, and started on their journey of nine miles in good spirits and good form. Arriving at Drayton at 10.15, they were soon doing justice to the good things provided by their worthy host and Master, the Rev. F. E. Robinson. That finished, they were soon in the belfry and on with the peal. Magnificent striking for 2½ hrs., then down went "Father's" bell. "Right," says he, "I know where I am." Every eye was on "Father's" rope, and lo! and behold! to the dismay of all, down the rope could be seen stealing; a portion of the fittings that should properly have remained in the fillet of the wheel in the shape of a rubber tube, no sooner was that noticed by the conductor than "stand" was called, it being utterly useless to proceed further. Thus ended the first attempt. "Well," says we, "let us put things to rights, and let us have another start." So after some more refreshment another start was made, the result being 2 hrs. good ringing, but we soon began to find that 11,000 of London was not going to be rung after so much dodging about, and as several mistakes occurred, it was again abandoned, and the enterprising band returned home under the parental care of "Father" Hounslow, much disappointed, but very determined to try again.

"When are we to try again?" is the question often sifting the different opinions. It was finally settled to go again that day a week hence, but after a few days we were again disappointed by our 7th man (Mr. Smith) not being able to go. "Well, what is to be done now?" "Get another one of the young ones in my place" says he, "and have a good go for it; for if you don't do it now you never will, perhaps; don't study me personally, study the company." "That is true brotherly love, Bill," says we, and therefore chartered C. Exon to take his place. Off to Drayton again, by train to Abingdon this time, for we could only spare half a day for the job. 2.25 brought us together at Oxford station. "Shall we go or not?" was the next thing, for it was pouring in torrents of rain, and nearly three miles walk for us from Abingdon to Drayton, and only just time if everything goes right, to ring the peal and rush back to Abingdon for the last train home. It was however decided to face it, and luckily when we arrived at Abingdon it held off. We arrived at Drayton at 4.10, got the bells up, and after a few minutes waiting for "Father" who could not get along so fast, we were off into rounds at 4.18, and changes at 4.19. Not a word of any description except "bob" was spoken for the first 1½ hrs., then a very slight trip occurred which was soon rectified, and on we went again till 7.40, when we had another little trip, then we did tap them, for from 7.40 till 9 o'clock the striking was by far the finest ever heard in this method by any concerned, and called forth the admiration of the natives, who know good ringing when they hear it. At 9 o'clock we had what we considered the only real uncertain place in the peal, for while the bells were going like clockwork, a trip up behind nearly upset our equilibrium. It broke our time for us, which is of such importance in all ringing; but the culprit was soon detected, and sent to his 3rds 6-5-6-4th lead, but it unsettled us. For a few courses the striking was slower, but as soon as we got into the last hour we made up for it, for it was London Surprise of the very best sort, both the music and the striking was as good as could be. The bells came round admirably at 10.25. Now come the trouble: the rain poured down again, and we had just 33 minutes to get to Abingdon. "Can we do it?" says we "Yes; but you will have to run for it." Off we go, the ringers of the 3rd and tenor taking the lead, and managed to get to the station at 10.59. They kept the train till three more came up; "Father" stopped at Drayton, and the other one had to walk the whole distance to Oxford—nine miles. We had to do all this without any refreshment, as there was no time to spare for that.

HOLY TRINITY GUILD, WEST HAM, ESSEX.

On Saturday, September 26th, the members of this Guild paid a visit to the church of SS. Peter and Paul, Milton-next-Gravesend, Kent. Arrangements had been made to meet the local company. After inspecting the church which was being decorated for the Harvest Festival, we made our way to the belfry. After having a view of the surrounding country from the top of the tower, the bells were raised, and some call-changes rung by the visitors, the young members not having attained to the Art of change-ringing. A 720 of Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung in 24 mins. H. Davis, 1; W. Doran, 2; R. Munn, 3; B. Spinner, 4; W. Dallimore, 5; W. Martin (conductor), 6. And 720 Bob Minor. J. Waits, 1; F. Hayes, 2; R. ## MR. CHARLES SILLITOE, OF SUDBURY, SUFFOLK.

[Vide Portrait.]

MR. SILLITOE was born at Sudbury, Suffolk, on July 24th, 1865, consequently he is in his thirty-second year.

By profession a musician, his energies in this capacity appear equally with his activity in ringing, for he is a proficient on the organ, piano, violin, mandoline, and musical glasses. A noted quadrille band, of which he is the head, is well known over a large portion of Suffolk, Essex, Cambridgeshire, and Herts. He holds the post of organist at Borley Church, Essex, and has been connected with the Church all his life. He was admitted a member of St. Peter's (Sudbury) choir at the age of seven years, and was one of the leading choristers for over four years, till his voice breaking he was obliged to retire. The steeple and bells next attracted his attention, and he soon learnt to ring a bell. At that time what was known locally as the "sermon bell" was rung every Sunday morning at all the churches in Sudbury for about half-an-hour before the chiming commenced, and it was mainly due to this that he became thorough master of a bell before the idea of becoming a change-ringer entered his head. At length, through death and removals, the local company of ringers found themselves short-handed, and CHARLES SILLITOE was pressed to learn, and in due time rang his first 720 of Treble Bob at Foxearth, on Sunday, July 23rd, 1882, conducted by his friend Mr. S. Slater, this being also the first 720 in the method by another member of the Sudbury company, Mr. W. Howell, sen. Then as time progressed he progressed with it, for we find he rang his first peal (Bob Major) on April 10th, 1883, on the fine ring at All Saints, Sudbury (tenor 28 cwt.). At this time he was 17 years old, and he rang the 7th, a bell known to all ringers who have visited the tower to require "a lot of ringing." The same week he rang his first peal of Treble Bob at Long Melford, ringing the 6th. His first peal of Grandsire Triples, on July 21st, 1885, was at St. Mary's, Bow, London, conducted by the late H. J. Shade—an old Sudbury ringer, John Bonney, taking part in the same. The first peal he conducted was at St. Gregory's, Sudbury—Holt's 10-part peal of Grandsire Triples—on October 24th, 1885, this being also the first in the method on the bells. On February 27th, 1886, he rang his first peal of Kent Treble Bob as conductor at the same church, ringing the 5th, this being also the first in the method on the bells. Since that date he has conducted the first peals of Kent Treble Bob Major on the bells of the following churches:—All Saints, Sudbury; St. Peter's, Sudbury; St. Peter's, Colchester; St. Mary-the-Virgin, Ardleigh; St. Peter's, Coggeshall; St. Mary's, Bury St. Edmunds; and Great Tey; and the first peal of Grandsire Triples on the noted ring at Lavenham, also the longest peal yet rang on the same bells, viz., 6048 of Kent Treble Bob. He conducted the longest peal on the bells of Walter Belchamp, Essex (7040 Treble Bob), and the longest peal on the bells of Foxearth, Essex (10,176 of Treble Bob), this last being also the longest peal in the method rang in the county, and by the Essex Association. He has conducted a peal of Treble Bob from every bell in Foxearth tower. He took part in the first peal on the fine ring of ten at St. James, Bury St. Edmunds,—5000 Treble Bob Royal, conducted by Mr. F. Pitstow. As a double-handed ringer, Mr. SILLITOE occupies a high position. He can ring any pair of bells in Bob

Major, Treble Bob, Grandsire, Stedman, and Double Norwich, though an opportunity has not yet been afforded him to attempt a double-handed peal. Out of the total of 81 peals rung by him only 13 have been rung in Sudbury, and therefore shows that some amount of "knocking about" has been necessary to obtain such a score. Mr. SILLITOE is a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, the Norwich Association, Essex Association, Bedfordshire Association, and perhaps more important than all, just at present, he is the District Secretary to the Sudbury Archidiaconal Branch of the Ely Association. In this latter office he has done, and is doing, good service.

ST. PAUL'S, BEDFORD.—DEDICATION OF NEW BELLS.

On Tuesday, September 29th, the endeavours recently made to augment the bells at St. Paul's Church, culminated in their dedication. There was a numerous attendance of clergy and ringers, and the proceedings were of a very cheering character. The ringers of the old town of Bedford—Bunyan's town—are to be highly congratulated upon the fruition of their hopes and aspirations. They have waited patiently, and the desired end has arrived. A local journal, in giving an account of the dedication, with regard to the action which has led to so successful a result, says:—"For some time past, especially since the inauguration of the new chimes in 1879, and the establishment of an excellent society of change-ringers, a strong feeling has existed in the town and neighbourhood that the peal should be thoroughly overhauled, and two trebles added to make a ring of ten worthy of the Metropolitan church. With this view, a representative committee was formed in December last, and an executive sub-committee selected to invite subscriptions and carry out the work of restoring the bells, and ultimately the chimes which have been so long silent. This body consisted of the Mayor of Bedford (Mr. F. A. Blaydes), chairman, the Vicar of St. Paul's (Rev. L. Woodward), the two Churchwardens (Messrs. Cuthbert and Bull), Sir Frederick Howard, Rev. W. W. C. Baker and Mr. T. Gwyn Elger, hon. sec. At the request of the Committee, Messrs. Taylor & Co., prepared a very complete report on the condition of the bells, and estimates for the necessary work of restoration and addition. It was the unanimous opinion of the Committee, after receiving this report, that it would be desirable to have an entirely new peal of ten, with a tenor weighing about 34 cwt., but the result of an appeal, widely circulated throughout the town and country, for defraying its cost, was so discouraging that they were reluctantly obliged to fall back upon the more modest plan which is now completed, viz., to replace the old tenor by a new bell of greater weight, to add two trebles, making a ring of ten, and to have the other bells rendered as satisfactory as possible. The tenor and the two new trebles were cast at the Loughborough foundry on June 26th, and turned out to be excellent bells, but in the process of tuning the peal as a whole, it was found that the treble of the old ring, which is, of course, the third of the new one, had been years ago so injudiciously chipped in the sound-bow in the endeavor first to sharpen its note, then to flatten it, that it was wholly impossible to make a satisfactory bell of it, except by recasting. This was accordingly done, so that of the ten bells now hanging in the tower of St. Paul's, four are new, viz., the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and the tenor, and the remainder have been returned and replaced in the tower on strengthened framing."

The dedication of the new bells of St. Paul's took place at that church on Tuesday afternoon, September 29th, in the presence of a crowded congregation, many persons being unable to gain admittance to the building. The ceremony was performed by the Right Rev. Bishop Macrorie, who was acting for the Bishop of Ely. The other clergymen present were the Revs. E. Robinson (Vicar of Drayton, Berks), L. Woodard (Vicar of St. Paul's), P. E. Curtoise (Hemingford Grey), Canon Haddock (Clapham), W. Hart-Smith (St. Peter's), F. R. Michell (St. Andrew's), G. H. Pratt (St. Mary's), A. Hawkins Jones (St. Martin's), A. Orlebar (Willington), A. J. Foster (Wootton), H. Hocken (Cople), W. W. C. Baker (Ridgmount), J. Twamley (Bedford), J. Home (Bedford), F. G. Lyall, and G. F. Hills, E. W. Adams, S. W. M. Goldsmith and L. Matson (curates of St. Paul's). The Mayor and several of the Corporation also attended in state, including Aldermen R. Richards, J. E. Cutcliffe, and Jarvis, and Councillors J. W. D. Harrison, C. D. Shelton, and J. Sell, with officers of the Corporation. The service opened with the hymn "All people that on Earth do dwell," and after several responses, Psalm 150, commencing "O praise God in His Holiness," was sung, and was followed by more responses. The Bishop then blessed the bells, and a short peal was immediately afterwards rung as the preacher, (the Rev. F. E. Robinson (Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild), ascended the pulpit.

The rev. gentleman took for his text the 12th chapter of Exodus and part of the 26th verse—"What mean ye by this service." A very impressive discourse, listened to with breathless attention by the congregation. Mr. Robinson's concluding words were: "As surely as the ringer must lay hold tightly and firmly of the rope if he wished to ring the bell properly, so if they were to keep on dedicating themselves to the service of God and give something better to him by His grace, if they were to fulfil faithfully the commandments they received from Him from time to time, they must hold fast to the three-fold cord, which was not easily broken, nay, should never be broken. If they did that, what would happen to them thereafter? How utterly unfit were there words to say anything about it all. How did that verse end from the 3rd chapter of Philipians? It spoke of their own re-casting and it told them: 'He shall change our vile body that it may be fashioned like unto His glorious body, according to the working whereby He is able even to subdue all things unto Himself.'"

The service then concluded with the singing of the hymn "Lift them gently to the steeple," during which a collection was taken for the bell fund and amounted to £14 12s. 1d. Dr. Harding presided at the organ in his usual efficient manner.

Upon the congregation leaving, the bells struck up and continued ringing at intervals throughout the rest of the afternoon and evening.

TEA TO THE RINGERS.

At the conclusion of the dedication service, the workmen who have been employed in hanging the bells and the ringers of St. Paul's and St. Peter's were entertained at tea at the Library, the chair being taken by the Rev. Lambert Woodard (vicar), who was supported by the Mayor (Mr. F. A. Blaydes), Messrs. T. Bull and J. M. Cuthbert (churchwardens), Mr. G. Hurst, Mr. Taylor (the founder of the bells), and the Revs. F. E. Robinson and W. W. C. Baker (hon. sec. of the Beds. Association).

Justice having been done to the good things,

The Mayor made a few observations, congratulating the bell-ringers of St. Paul's on the achievement of their hopes, and trusted that the possession of such a fine peal would be an inducement to the younger members of the Association to practice diligently in order to become proficient ringers. If there was a shadow of any kind over the meeting, it might be that the aspirations of the Committee to have a perfect peal of bells at St. Paul's had not been fully realised owing to the necessary funds not being forthcoming, but he hoped that at no distant date the funds necessary for them might be raised to complete the remainder of the work, and make the bells a thoroughly tuneful and harmonious peal (applause). The Mayor also referred to the presence of Mr. Taylor, the bell founder, and said that no doubt the committee and those connected with the craft of bell-ringing might feel assured that Mr. Taylor was not one to look at his work from merely a financial point of view, but that his work was a labour of love, and the bells which he had that day fixed in the steeple would be worthy of the credit of the firm (applause).

Mr. Taylor briefly replied, and referred to several other places in the county which he had recently visited in the course of his business.

Mr. G. Hurst, who was then called upon by the Mayor, congratulated those present on the success of that day. He had known the bells perhaps longer than any person, and he felt sure the work had been well done.

We understand that the bells committee intend to have the chimes adjusted and set going as soon as possible, although, of course, some time must elapse before this can be brought about.

The following particulars relating to the new bells at St. Paul's, Bedford, are worthy of being placed on record:—

Treble (new), diameter 2ft. 3 9-16th inches, weight 5cwt. 3qrs. 2lbs., note F sharp; inscription, "John Taylor & Co., founders, Loughborough, 1896."

3rd (new), diameter 2ft. 7 1-8th in., weight 7cwt. 0qrs. 8lbs., note D; inscription, "John Taylor & Co., founders, Loughborough, 1896."

4th, diameter 2ft. 8in., weight 6cwt. 3qrs. 8lbs., note C sharp; inscription, "Thomas Lester made me, 1744."

5th, diameter, 2ft. 10 1/2 in., weight 7cwt. 0qrs. 9lbs., note B; inscription, "Mears & Stainbank, founders, London."

6th, diameter 3ft. 2in., weight 9cwt. 3qrs. 13lbs., note A; inscription, "Thos. Lester made me, 1744."

7th, diameter 3ft. 4 5-8th in., weight 12cwt., 0qrs. 4lbs., note G; inscription, "By a sudden fall my subscribers did surprise. But now am come to please their lisening ears and eyes. T.L. 1744."

8th, diameter 3ft. 7in., weight 13cwt. 3qrs. 14lbs., note F sharp; inscription, "Thomas Lester made me."

9th, diameter 3ft. 11 1/2 in., weight 18cwt. 3qrs. 7lbs., note E; inscription, "Thomas Lester, of London, made me, 1744."

Tenor (new), diameter 4ft. 6 7-8th in., weight 28cwt. 3qrs. 6lbs., note D; inscription, "To the glory of God. x 1896. This bell was recast by John Taylor, of Loughborough. Lambert Woodard, vicar; J. M. Cuthbert, T. Bull, churchwardens; F. A. Blaydes, mayor. At the same time two trebles were added to the old ring of eight."

Total weight of the new bells of St. Paul's, exclusive of fittings, 6 tons 6cwt. 0qrs. 26lbs. The tenor, with the exception of the solitary bell at Woburn new church, weighing 2 tons 15cwt. (presented by the Duke of Bedford in 1867), is the heaviest bell in the county. The new tenor at St. Paul's is about 2cwt. heavier than the old one which it replaces.

The opening rounds were rung by C. W. Clarke, 1; S. Cullip, 2; C. Chasty, 3; W. Hall, 4; F. Hull, 5; W. Shimmans, 6; I. Hills, 7; F. Smith, 8; H. Tysoe, 9; J. Sharpe, 10. After service touches of Grandsire Caters and a course of Treble Bob Royal was rung, in which the Rev. F. E. Robinson, the Rev. W. W. C. Baker, and Mr. J. Taylor, Bell Founder, took part.

THE NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

Friday, September 25th, being the eightieth birthday of Mr. William Freeman, the last survivor of the old Norwich Scholars, a meeting was held at St. Andrew's, but owing to the severe illness of the vicar, the Rev. Canon Copeman (who has since died), an adjournment was made to St. Laurence's church where some Oxford Treble Bob Minor was rung. Besides Mr. Freeman the following took part: Messrs. Borrett, Howchin (2), Knights, Smith, and Trollope. The old gentleman rang the 4th, which was the first bell he ever rang to changes sixty-two years ago. It is a great pity St. Andrew's bells are altogether unpealable, or a 5000 would have been attempted, in which the old gentleman, who is hale and hearty, would have taken part.

THE OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD PEAL-FOOK.—A RECORD of Five Hundred and Twenty Peals rung by this Guild. Paper covers, 1s. 2d.; cloth do., 1s. 8d.—Blackwell, Reading; or the Hon. Sec. of the Guild—the Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis, Dunsden Vicarage, Reading.

THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.—ANNUAL MEETING.

The above was held at Manchester on Saturday, the 26th inst., and was well attended by members from Bolton, Blackburn, Liverpool, Flixton, Pendleton, Worsley, Walkden, Dean, Pendlebury, Bacup, Ravenstall, Helmsdale, Ramsbottom, Waterfoot, Newchurch, Rusholme, Southport, Ormskirk, East Crompton, Leesfield, Ashton, Heywood, Rochdale, Radcliffe, Wigan, Walton-in-Furness, Prestwich, Eccles, etc., and from the various towers in Manchester. Service was held in the Cathedral at 3.30 p.m., the clergy in attendance being the Dean of Manchester, the Revs. Canon Kelly, Canon Woodhouse, Canon Charles Lowe, Rev. H. J. Elsee, M.A., President of the Association; and Rev. C. A. Clements, B.A.

The preacher was the Hon. and Rev. A. T. Lyttleton, M.A., Vicar of Eccles, who selecting as his text Psalm xcvi. verses 4, 5, 6, observed that every office of the Church had its own special signification; the clergy, choir, ringers, each and all had their own special office. "What is the special signification of the office of ringers? Surely to be ministers of joy to the world." Speaking of music he showed how it expressed our joy, humiliation, repentance, griefs and sorrows, and also the channel of the mind of God to us, expressing His wrath, judgment, love, etc., expressing also the range of the service we owe to God, chiefly used, however, in expressing our joy and our sorrow. Church bells express more particularly joy, for even when they are muffled to express our grief, there is also expressed by them glorious joy of the resurrection to life eternal, the nearest and best invitation of that song of the angels "Glory to God in the Highest." The preacher went on to observe what a great place joy and sorrow occupy in the books of the Old and New Testament. He thought joy was an emotion which was hard to learn, it being easier to sympathise with people in their sorrows, trials, etc., than to rejoice with them in their joys. He thought it was impossible for others to feel exactly the joy we feel over any event in our lives. To feel true joy we must give up our sins and have a heart undefiled with wilful sin, joy to be properly expressed needs a pure heart. He thought ringing brought out the great lesson of unselfishness, as they knew each depended on the other, and all worked for one end, and without each other their work was of none effect. He trusted they would do their work in the Church well, and at all times consider that they were engaged in taking part in God's worship, and hoped that all they did would be done to the glory of the Lord.

After service the members adjourned to the schools attached to the Cathedral, and sat down to an excellent tea, and when ample justice had been done to the good things provided, the Dean of Manchester briefly addressed the members, extending a hearty welcome to the Association, delighting the meeting by his happy, humorous reminiscences of bells and ringers, and earnestly exhorting his hearers to ever bear in mind the importance of their office, and above all to endeavour as frequently as possible—after ringing the worshippers to church—to following precept by example, by attending the service themselves.

The Rev. Canon Charles Lowe (a former president of the Association) expressed the great pleasure it had afforded him of once more meeting the members and seeing so many of his old friends amongst them that day, and emphasised the remarks of the Dean as to the importance of the ringer's office, and the duty incumbent upon him of attending the Divine service after ringing.

The company then settled themselves for the more serious duties of the business, and in opening the proceedings, the chairman (the Rev. H. J. Elsee, president) remarked upon the long and successful reign of Her Majesty the Queen, and felt sure that all the members would join with him in expressing their congratulations, and in wishing that she may still enjoy good health to continue the government of our great nation. The whole meeting responded to the president's invitation by rising and singing in a hearty manner the National Anthem.

The President then gave his address, congratulating the members on the progress made by the Association during the past year, sixty-two members having been enrolled, whilst only seven of the old members had lapsed, bring up the total membership to 911, including the honorary members. Speaking of the treasurer's balance sheet, he pointed out that a slight loss had occurred on the year's working, the income for the year being £37 17s. 3d. and the expenditure £39 13s. 1½d., leaving an adverse balance for the year of £1 15s. 10½d., this being the first time for some years that an adverse balance had been recorded. He accounted for it, however, partly by the fact that one or two items of expense were included in this year's balance-sheet which rightly belonged to the previous year, and partly by the special expense of printing the rules and diagrams for ringing various methods which were issued with last year's report, but he chiefly attributed the loss to fact that a good many members had allowed their contributions to fall into arrear, and remarked that if all the members would endeavour to pay their subscriptions regularly the income would far exceed the year's expenditure. The total balance in hand is now £81 9s. 4½d. He also congratulated the members on the improvement made in change-ringing, as shewn by the increased number of peals rung in advanced methods during the past year, and exhorted them to persevere in the study and practice of different methods, as being the best means of keeping up their interest and zeal in ringing. He also mentioned that the Committee had in hand the issue of another book containing rules and diagrams for ringing various Minor methods, which he trusted would be of service to the six-bell ringers of the Association. After the reading of the Committee's report and the Treasurer's balance sheet, the election of officers was proceeded with; the President (the Rev. H. J. Elsee), the Hon. Secretaries (Messrs. Joel Redford and James Wilson, and Mr. H. W. Jackson (Hon. Treasurer), were unanimously re-elected. For the vacancies on the Committee the following were elected: Mr. R. S. Mann, Liverpool; Messrs. J. B. Taylor and Z. Lord, Rossendale; Mr. Mather, Preston; Mr. G. Morris, Fylde; and Mr. Slater, Blackburn; whilst the Revs. H. J. Elsee and C. A. Clements, and Messrs. Eachus and Ridyrd were appointed representatives to the Central Council. Several new performing members, together with two non-resident and two honorary members, were elected. After the claims of various places had been discussed and voted upon, it was finally decided to hold the next annual meeting at Newchurch, in the Rossendale Branch.

Mr. Chatterton, a former Secretary of the Association, in a few well-chosen words moved a vote of thanks to the Dean, the Cathedral authorities, the ladies for their services at tea, and to the preacher for his excellent sermon.

Mr. Hill, of Southport, seconded the vote of thanks, which was carried by acclamation.

Votes of thanks were also accorded to the President and retiring officers, and ably replied to by Mr. J. Redford.

This closed a most successful and well-conducted meeting, the members adjourning to the various towers of the city which have been kindly placed at their disposal for that day, including the bells of the Manchester Town Hall.

A RINGER'S WEDDING.

On Saturday, September 26th, at St. Giles' church, Ashted, Surrey, the marriage of Mr. A. Corbett and Miss E. Barnes was solemnized. His brother-ringers, assisted by Messrs. E. Hull, W. Crockford, and W. Otway, of Leatherhead, met and rang a short touch of Grandsire Triples. W. Cook, 1; J. Page, 2; W. Crockford, 3; W. Otway, 4; J. Wyatt, 5; H. Wilkinson, 6; E. Hull (conductor), 7; D. Anscumb, 8. After which Mr. Marks, of Leatherhead, coming up, a peal of Oxford Bob Triples was attempted, which came to grief after ringing over 2000 changes, owing to a change-course. W. Otway, 1; W. Cook, 2; W. Crockford, 3; H. Wilkinson, 4; W. Marks (conductor), 5; J. Wyatt, 6; E. Hull, 7; D. Anscumb, 8. The ringers returned to the residence of Mr. Wyatt, where a cup of tea was partaken of. After a quiet chat and a hearty congratulations to the happy couple, the party left after a very enjoyable afternoon.

THE PEAL "APPENDIX, 1895," PRINTED BY the Central Council Committee, may be obtained post free, with the Report on Calls, on application to the Hon. Secretary, Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, Stanhoe Rectory, King's Lynn, enclosing 7½d. in stamps.

PRACTICAL HINTS TO YOUNG CONDUCTORS
AND COMPOSERS.

CHAPTER V.

GRANDSIRE TRIPLES.

We have now arrived at a point when a greater scope is given for illustration of those "bints" which have already appeared. I hope I do my young readers justice in thinking that they have carefully followed my remarks, and also that they have understood the lessons laid down. If so, what follows will become easier as it progresses, and certainly much more interesting.

The following is the scale of the position of the bells at a bob:—

Into the hunt.	Before.	Out of the hunt.	Middle.	Wrong.	Right.

I now presume that the necessity of the observation-bell, so far as ringing it is concerned when calling, is removed. If any of my young friends cannot however yet see their way quite clear upon this point, I can assure them that a little practice will enable them to totally surmount the difficulty. An attempt should be made at first with one particular bell, and call it "before" until the bells run home. For example, take the 5th. You all know that this bell makes thirds place the first lead. The bell you ring will be in one of the above positions, of course. Call a bob, then, the first lead, then every following lead, as you are ringing, watch the 5th's position with the treble. You will find each lead that she is getting closer, step by step, to the treble, until you observe that in going up behind, you meet the treble immediately after her—then the bob must be called directly your bell is in the right position, as above shewn. If your bell is course-bell to the 5th you will have to call the bob the lead after you have dodged in 6-7 up, just as the 5th is in the act of taking you off the lead, your bell being in 2nds, the bob causes you to go into the hunt. After this is practised a few times the work will come natural and easy.

The following touch—168 changes—is commonly called "the old chiv." The three back bells are at home at each bob:—

1 2 3 4 5 6 7
 1 2 5 3 7 4 6
 1 2 7 5 6 3 4
 1 2 6 7 4 5 3
 Bob
 1 3 4 2 5 6 7

The observation for this is "call the 6th wrong." That is, the bob must be called the lead after that bell has made thirds place. The above is the first part of the touch; the calling is again repeated, and the part-end 1423567 is produced; repeat the calling once more, and the bells come home. By substituting a single for the third bob, the whole can be repeated, when double the number of changes is obtained. Below is given the touch alluded to above, viz., the 5th five times before:—

1 2 3 4 5 6 7
 1 7 5 2 6 3 4 1
 1 6 5 7 4 2 3 5
 1 4 5 6 3 7 2 5
 1 3 5 4 2 6 7 5
 1 2 5 3 7 4 6 5

The above contains 350 changes. The bells run home "natural," i.e. at a plain lead; four leads after the last change given rounds appear. This is a very handy touch for the young conductor, as it can be lengthened at pleasure. The observation for calling it is—"call the 5th before until the 2nd comes into the hunt." The figures to the right denote the number of leads from one bob to the next.

Now when the 2nd appears in the hunt, the process can be repeated, and the touch extended to five parts. Or one or more parts only can be rung. Here it is given in full:—

1752634 1	1672453 1	1462375 1	1342567 1	1532746 1
1657423 5	1476325 5	1364527 5	1543726 5	1735624 5
1456372 5	1374562 5	1563742 5	1745662 5	1637452 5
1354267 5	1573246 5	1765234 5	1647253 5	1436275 5
1253746 5	1275634 5	1267453 5	1246375 5	1234567 5

It will be seen that at the end of each part the bells are in the plain course, and hence will run round unless the bob at 1 in the following part is called. Therefore the conductor can leave off at either part-end, if to complete the whole is found too much.

ALEPH.

THE KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

An interesting little ceremony took place at St. John's Church, Lewisham, on Wednesday, September 23rd. At the conclusion of evening service, the Vicar (Rev. R. W. Atkinson) accompanied by Mr. Churchwarden London, ascended to the belfry, where had assembled a large body of ringers. Mr. William Jeffries, the tower-keeper, invited him to unveil a handsome tablet which had been erected to record the achievement on May 30th, of 5040 changes of Grandsire Triples by eight members of the Kent County Association, under the conductorship of Mr. Fredk. W. Thornton, of St. Allege Church, Greenwich. The Vicar, having uncovered the tablet and read aloud the inscription, addressed the ringers at some length upon their duties and responsibilities, and concluded by hoping whenever they looked at that memorial, and saw his own and the churchwardens' names coupled with those of the ringers, they would not fail to remember they were all co-workers in and for the Church, and members of one brotherhood. Mr. Churchwarden London followed, emphasizing his remarks by saying the peal should stimulate the ringers of St. John's to improve upon their ringing for the services of the Church. Of late it had not been up to its proper standard. Mr. Frederick W. Thornton said as the one who had had the honour to conduct the peal—one of the best in which he had ever taken part—he was grateful to the Vicar for so kindly coming amongst them, and for his good counsel, which he hoped all would profit by. He felt that the presence of the rev. gentleman and his colleague, Mr. London, forged another link in the chain of friendship which bound together the clergy, laity, and ringers. He trusted his friends at St. John's would now often be honoured with a visit from their worthy Vicar. After a hearty vote of thanks had been tendered to, and acknowledged by Mr. Charles Venables, the generous donor of the tablet, who rang the tenor bell in the peal, the proceedings terminated with some excellent touches of Grandsire Triples, a "Royal Salute" being fired upon the bells in honour of the Queen's record reign.

STOKE ARCHIDIACONAL ASSOCIATION.

The usual monthly meeting of this Association was held at Longton on Saturday, October 3rd, and was attended by representatives from Stoke, Wolstanton, Bucknall, Hanley, Leek, Cheddleton, and Longton. Several short touches of Grandsire Triples were rung, and at 6 o'clock the members adjourned to the schoolroom, where an excellent tea was partaken of, which had been provided by the local ringers. The rector (the Rev. G. Oliver), gave the members a hearty welcome. After tea the members again made their way to the tower and rang 518 of Grandsire Triples. T. Miller, 1; T. Allen, 2; W. Twigg, 3; W. Shuker, 4; S. Churton, 5; J. George (conductor), 6; G. Woods, 7; T. Brookfield, 8. Also a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples. W. Shuker, 1; S. Churton, 2; W. Twigg, 3; A. Clews, 4; T. Miller, 5; J. George, 6; G. Woods, 7; W. Maitland, 8. Composed and conducted by J. George. First quarter-peal in the method by the ringers of the treble, 3rd, and tenor. Also 217 in the same method with G. Wade, 8; it being his longest touch in the method.

MEN AND MANNERS.

Mr. J. W. Washbrook's interesting account of the long peal at Drayton Church makes very pretty reading, and others might do worse than imitate the system. In my remarks last week, I mentioned that the conductor ought to have given notice through the columns of "THE BELL NEWS," but J. W. W.'s explanation of "How they did it" is sufficient. There are times, we all know, when we are not so sure whether the peal will be "on" or "off," and, in such cases, notice of the attempt is out of the question; in fact, it would be foolish to advertise a peal attempt unless the conductor has a few spare men to fall back on. There are not many long peals rung on the advertised dates. I am of opinion that the Debenham band thought so, seeing that they went for their peal every Whit-Monday for years, before reaching the welcome "This is all," and once, I believe, a ringer went over sixty miles to hear a long peal which didn't come off—or come on either—for the band met a man short. The long peal of London was inserted in at least half a dozen provincial papers which have come into my hand. No doubt it had been snipped out of the metropolitan dailies in which it was published. The chief wonder of those who do not understand much about ringing, is that the vicar of a church should ring for six or seven hours. It is such an uncommon thing, and more's the pity. The fact remains that since some of the clergy have gone in for change-ringing some good feats have been accomplished, and it would not be a hard task to fix a band of clergymen in for a peal on ten bells, including, of course, the Rev. G. F. Coleridge, who figured in the long peal of Superlative at Loughborough in 1894.

I was glad to see the 100th peal of Mr. J. E. Groves last week and also the quality of them. There is no doubt the presence of "Jimmy" at Wolverhampton has been the cause of the revival of ringing in that town, for he can call about anything that he can ring, and is an all-round handy man to have in a peal. He has had some good opportunities under Mr. John Carter and made the most of them. He is what we can call a "sticker" from the word go; or, to use an Americanism, "he is all wool and a yard wide," and takes a lot of heavy bell work unflinchingly.

The Basingstoke heroine, Miss Alice White, I see has rung her first quarter-peal of Stedman Triples. It would be quite a red-letter day for all the band, as it was the first in the method by six of them and the first as conductor by Mr. Henry White, father of the lady. Miss White is evidently going in for the Standard methods, as she has rung peals of Grandsire and Bob Major, and is about safe enough for a peal of Stedman. We used to hear sometimes about a band of ladies at Saffron Walden, under the tuition of Mr. N. J. Pitstow, but they do not seem to come on somehow. Mr. A. R. Aldham also took two or three in hand, and, if I am not mistaken, they could ring Plain Bob on handbells.

What we are looking forward to is to see a lady call a peal, say, Holt's Original; or Thurstans' one-part peal of Stedman. Furthermore, who is to be the first lady member of the Central Council?

On the list of ringing members of the M.C.A. there are the names of three ladies who, I believe, can ring double-handed Stedman. They are the daughters of the popular President, A. Percival Heywood, Esq., and nothing would be more welcome to the Exercise generally than a handbell peal brought off at Duffield.

The Bishop of Peterborough has set aside Sunday, October 11th, as a day of prayer and almsgiving for the Armenians. It is to be hoped that churchmen generally will respond to the appeal. We may possibly hold different views in regard to the Turkish atrocities, and I am one of those crochety persons who believe in keeping our own doorstep clean before operating on that of our neighbours; but, as Christians, we ought certainly to sink all social or party distinctions and look upon all nationalities as brothers, especially when they are persecuted for their religious opinions. It may be argued that on this principle we ought to regard the Turk as a brother, and this also I admit; but he is the Cain, and as such should be regarded. Truth puts the case clear as noonday in the following verse:—

Each day the proofs of guilt are made more sure,
Each day the grave indictment grows more grim;
Surely the time for sentence is mature,
Surely the cup is filled up to the brim.

Lying and subterfuge cease to avail,
The damning truth can be suppressed no more;
Well may the cowering Abdul quake and quail,
For see! his lecherous fingers drip with gore.

Full long as Europe closed her listless eyes
To all the horrors his black heart conceived,
Full long has she feigned deafness to the cries
Of the doomed victims, tortured and bereaved.

But surely now her listless eyes must see,
Her careless ears no more can deafness feign;
Even a callous heart must now decree
Just vengeance on the slayer of the slain.

In mercy's name your rivalries forget,
For once let policy to pity yield;
Let party jealousies aside be set
Whilst you the tardy sword of justice wield.
And wield it sternly! End, with one swift stroke
The rule that now so fair a land can ban;
And save a tortured people from the yoke
Of one accursed alike by God and man.

The Birmingham veteran, Mr. John Buffery, has suggested the following idea:—"When conductors send up the report of a peal, why not send also the diameter of the tenor?" This would be a capital plan for estimating the weight of the bell, and even the difference between ancient and modern bell-casting would not allow a very wide margin for piling on a few cwts. of metal which exist only in the mind of the tenor-ringer. If reports of peals contain something like this, "Tenor, 21cwt., in E, diameter 48 inch," we can easily see whether the stated weight is in anything like proportion to the diameter.

While allowing the utmost freedom for the expression of opinion, it must never be considered that we are in any way bound to statements made by correspondents.

To the Editor of "THE BELL NEWS AND RINGERS' RECORD."

LETTER TO THE ATTLEBOROUGH COMPANY.

SIR,—I was pleased to see the performance on the handbells which took place at Mr. John Miles' house, between the Attleborough company, Mr. J. A. Trollope, of Norwich, and Mr. John Howes, of Kingston-on-Thames; I was also very glad to see their names in "THE BELL NEWS," and that they were ringing at the house of John Miles. I am pleased to see the Attleborough company getting on so well with handbell ringing the last two or three years; and if Mr. Trollope or Mr. Howes, or any of the Attleborough company visit Leeds, don't forget to come to Christ Church, Armley, we should be pleased to see you. I want to ask Mr. John Howes if he will send me his address through "THE BELL NEWS," or by letter. This is from a late member of the above company.

F. G. KERRY.

THE "COMING OF AGE" PHOTO.

SIR,—Since my letter last week I have had several enquiries respecting the "Coming of age" group. I may say that I believe Mr. Whitaker is prepared to send photos. mounted, but unframed, at 5s. each. But I would recommend all who are desirous of securing a copy to communicate direct with the photographer, Mr. George Whitaker, 4, Arthur Street, Bingley.

B. T. CROLEY.

APPOINTMENT.—Mr. Edward Dewey, late of the Reigate Society, has been appointed steeplekeeper of St. John's church, Redhill, Surrey, by the vicar and churchwardens.

Situation Vacant.

WANTED a plain Gardener. A good change-ringer, who would also act as sexton and verger. Apply, stating wages, to the Rev. H. T. W. EVANS, Great Totham, Witham, Essex.

THE YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.—AIREDALE BRANCH.

A meeting of this branch was held at Kildwick on Saturday last. The weather in the morning was most unfavourable, but about noon came an improvement, and at two o'clock the bells were raised by the local company, who rang a "welcome touch" to their visitors who came from Bradford, Bolton, Shipley, Saltaire, Bingley, Keighley, and Skipton. Between fifty and sixty attended during the afternoon, and the bells were kept going in various Minor methods until seven o'clock when evensong was sung, which commenced the harvest festival. On arrival most of the visitors availed themselves of the privilege of inspecting the grand old parish church—"the long kirk of Craven"—with its monuments dating from the beginning of the fourteen century, its exquisite stained glass windows (one of which bears the arms of the Romilies family, founders of the celebrated Abbeys of Bolton and Fountains), and the many quaint and historic features with which the venerable edifice abounds. Here the visitors were met and received a kindly greeting from the vicar, the Rev. A. D. C. Thompson, M.A., who had placed every facility in the way of promoting their enjoyment. In this also, the worthy vicar had been well supported by the parishioners who, in honour of the occasion had subscribed for a new set of bell ropes and a carpet for the floor of the belfry. Prominence to this visit of the Airedale branch had also been given on the posters intimating particulars of the harvest festival, while the royal standard which floated over the ancient towers indicated the nature of the welcome extended to the visitors of the day. The ring of six is a most musical one; the bells run well, and presents no difficulty whatever in the way of good ringing. It was thus a treat both to ring and listen to the sweet-toned variation of minor which issued through the louvered windows of the tower. The ringing throughout was as excellent as it was varied, and whether in ringing or rambling about the many picturesque walks with which the district abounds, the visitors enjoyed themselves immensely, notwithstanding occasional showers. Some of the visitors having to leave early, an impromptu meeting was held at The Ship inn about seven o'clock, when, on the motion of Mr. B. T. Copley (Bolton), seconded by Mr. W. Gill (Keighley), a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rev. A. D. C. Thompson, vicar, for his kindly welcome, and to the Kildwick branch for their efficient arrangements. The next meeting will be held at Keighley on Saturday, October 24th.

ST. FAITH'S SOCIETY, HAVANT, HANTS.

On Monday, September 21st, the members of this society, accompanied by the rector, the Rev. S. G. Scott, and Mr. P. Watson, churchwarden, had their annual outing, the place selected being Salisbury, starting from Havant by brake at 7.0 a.m. for Cosham, thence by train to Salisbury. Here they were met by Canon Renaud, former rector of Havant, who took them over the Church House and on to the Cathedral. Here the sub-Dean very courteously conducted them through this magnificent specimen of Early English architecture, explaining its history and many points of interest. Prior engagements compelled him to leave after showing them the grounds of the Bishop's Palace. The party then adjourned to Crane Cottage, where Canon Renaud gave them a hearty welcome and a bounteous dinner, after which the rector expressed in the name of the ringers their gratitude to the Canon for his kindness and hospitality.

It was on the programme to visit the Wilton Carpet Factory, but on making enquiries it was found that Wednesday only was visiting day; there it was decided to visit St. Martin's church, and being joined by Mr. Blackburn and his band, some good ringing was enjoyed. A move was now made to a restaurant for tea, and ample justice was done to a good spread provided by Mr. Watson. A trial was now made on the heavier peal at the church of St. Thomas, the bells being kept going till the time arrived for leaving. Home was reached after a most day at 10.15. The ringing at the towers was thoroughly appreciated by the visitors, as well as the kindness and courtesy extended by their brother-ringers.

BETWEEN MORNING AND EVENING.

[A FRAGMENT.]

By FLUMMERY GASSING.

[After The British Illuminated Magazine.]

"I don't see what's the good of taking the boat out, with three men short," said Anthony Callit, grumblingly, as they stood shivering in the Putney boathouse on a weary July afternoon.

"Doesn't thee bother thy head, Tony, I be going to pull four oars myself in this racket," shouted William Lagg, in a stentorian voice, and the grumbling but muscular Anthony retired into his shell forthwith.

The occasion was the annual eight-oared race from Putney to Mortlake, between the Gander and the Undone Rowing Clubs, and consternation reigned when the time arrived, to find that five rowers, the coxswain, and three medical certificates were all that turned up to strive to carry the Undones to victory.

The medical documents certified to the fact that Nos. 3, 4 and 6 of the boat's-crew were suffering from delirium tremens, so the gallant No. 5, William Lagg, heroically threw himself into the breach to save the honour of his club.

Of course, the loss of three men meant the boat floating much lighter, and to compensate for this, a cask of beer was stowed in the bows, a barrel of whiskey in the stern sheets, and the four middle sliding seats, by the removal of a few screws, being made into one long slide, the largest pitch kettle appertaining to the boat-yard was secured to it, and with a few inches of pitch left in the bottom, made a secure seat, and, when the athlete warmed to his work, gave him the requisite steadiness and grip.

William Lagg then, "according to his own secret cunning," lashed Nos. 3 and 5 oars to his left arm and leg respectively, and Nos. 4 and 6 to his dexter limbs, and taking his seat in the sliding pitch-kettle, the Undones gently paddled off to the starting point.

After two or three false starts, the boats got away as level as a die, and William Lagg, warming to his work, and to the pitch, made such an astonishing display of the new patent legs and wings arrangement that the spectators on the bank were too dumbfounded to cheer: but working his four oars in unison with the other members of the crew, with the precision of clock-work, and drawing upon their opponents, and the contents of their ballast barrels, judiciously mixed of course, they shot past the "Ship" at Mortlake, the winning post, a good ten lengths ahead."

THE ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A district meeting of the above was held at Prittlewell on Saturday, October 3rd. Ringers assembled from the following places: Walthamstow, Ipswich, Loughton, Hornchurch, Barkington, Wanstead, Tottenham, and West Ham. The tones of the two trebles, cast by Mears and Stainback in July last, and added to the existing ring of six, was much admired, and some good ringing was engaged in during the day. Tea was partaken of at The Blue Boar, and thirty members sat down under the presidency of the Assistant Secretary, the Rev. H. Eyre, of Great Totham. The usual business meeting followed. It was announced that the next meeting would be held at Brentwood towards the end of January.

THE LIVERPOOL DIOCESAN GUILD.

On Saturday, September 26th, the above Guild held a meeting at St. Peter's Church, Hindley, when about forty persons attended from the following places, viz., Aughton, Crossens, Ormskirk, Wigan (All Saints and St. James), besides the local company. The bells of St. Peter's were placed at the disposal of the ringers, and these were utilised to the utmost extent by the members present, several touches in various methods being rung. At 5 o'clock tea was served in the schoolroom, which had been provided in lavish style by the Vicar and other friends in the parish, and was heartily enjoyed by all. The business meeting was afterwards held in an adjoining room, the Vicar (Rev. C. F. Holt) presiding, being supported by the Rev. W. T. Bulpit (Crossens), Messrs. J. Law (churchwarden, St. Peter's), J. Martin (Bootle), etc.

The Chairman formally welcomed the ringers to St. Peter's church, and in a most interesting speech spoke of the good work such societies as this was capable of doing. As a speaker at one of the previous meetings had said, it was a means of "making better ringers of the men and better men of the ringers;" such gatherings as these tend to smooth over any misunderstanding that might arise, and the interchange of opinion with regard to their Art must greatly benefit the good work they were engaged in.

The Rev. W. T. Bulpit also addressed those present, and expressed the pleasure it gave him in meeting the Vicar on that occasion. He mentioned the fact that it was now twenty-five years since they were fellow-curates in Southport. During that period many improvements had been made in the conduct of those engaged in bell ringing. He exhorted them by their example outside the belfry to be a means of showing that calling people to church was not only their aim, but that they attended to that call themselves at once each Sabbath day.

One honorary and three performing members were elected.

The Honorary Treasurer reported that the funds of the Society were in a very satisfactory state, both in the benevolent and ordinary branches.

Mention was made of the Queen's record reign, this eliciting the fact that there was present a veteran in the Art of change-ringing (Mr. J. Prescott, of Ormskirk), who had had the honour of ringing on the occasion of the Queen's coronation.

Hearty votes of thanks were accorded to those who had contributed to the success of the gathering, all expressing themselves as highly gratified at the manner in which they had been received. Great praise is due to Mr. R. Calland, conductor of St. Peter's, for the manner in which the arrangements were carried out.

ST. GEORGE'S PARISH CHURCH, DONCASTER.

The front six bells of the above church have lately been rehung by Messrs. J. F. Mallaby and Co., of Barnby Don, with the best steel gudgeons, fitted into improved cast-iron brackets, and hard gun-metal bearings. All pulleys have been rebushed, and turned up with new steel pins, all the clapper joints have also been adjusted. The ringers and churchwardens are glad to find that the work throughout has been executed in a thoroughly first-class manner, and hope the firm will have a continued increased employment. The St. George's Company are pleased to testify the above.

THE BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday, October 3rd, a quarterly meeting was held at Husborne Crawley and Aspley, when the following towers were represented: Bedford (St. Paul's, and St. Peter's), Woburn (St. Mary's), Milton Bryant, and Aspley, when some good ringing was done at Crawley and Aspley in various methods; also courses of Grandsire Caters and Bob Royal (double-handed), were rung by the Rev. W. W. C. Baker, Messrs. Herbert (3), and I. Hills. It was proposed by C. W. Clarke that an intermediate meeting should be held at Kempston in a month's time, where some likely young hands are learning. It was proposed by Mr. I. Hills that the next quarterly meeting should be held at Leighton Buzzard.

LEOMINSTER, HEREFORDSHIRE.

PRESENTATION TO THE REV. GEORGE WHITEHOUSE.

At the usual practice of the Leominster Guild of ringers on Tuesday evening, October 6th, an interesting presentation was made to the Rev. G. Whitehouse, warden of the Guild. The presentation, which consisted of a beautiful double set of carvers, was made by the Master of the Guild (Mr. H. E. Taylor), who remarked that it was a token of sincere regard and affection, and an expression of their heartfelt thanks for his kindness and courtesy to the members. They wished Mr. and Mrs. Whitehouse long life, health, and happiness, and hoped that the present would lead him to think kindly of them, and of the many pleasant hours spent in change-ringing. He would no doubt receive more valuable souvenirs, but none would be given more heartily and sincerely.

The rev. gentleman, in responding, said he was sorry to leave Leominster, and had been trying not to associate himself with the idea of leaving. He was thankful to know that he left the town with the good wishes and even affection of many classes of people. It was most gratifying to receive that handsome present, and he would keep it as long as he lived in affectionate remembrance of a pleasant past. He hoped they would allow him to continue a member of the Guild, and that the members would accept his invitation to spend a happy day in the country with him some time next year.

To the above may be added that it was through the exertions of Mr. Whitehouse, while curate-in-charge of the Priory church, Leominster, that the old ring of eight bells was augmented to ten, and entirely rehung in a new frame.

COOMBE BISSETT, SALISBURY.

The old peal of four of the church of St. Michael's in this parish has been recently overhauled by Mr. Thos. Blackburn, of Salisbury, who also has added a new treble. The whole work, which consisted of a massive oak frame (the oak very kindly given by the lay rector, Lord Radnor), the quarter-turning, tuning, and re-hanging the old bells, three of which are by John Wallis, of Salisbury, and upwards of three hundred years old, has been most efficiently carried out. The bells were first rung for evening service on St. Michael's day last, and gave the greatest pleasure, not only to those who rang, but to those who listened. After service the Coombe ringers and those of Mr. Blackburn's employees who were able to attend, were, through the kindness of Mr. D. G. Corbin, one of the churchwardens, entertained at a most excellent supper served by the landlord of The Fox and Goose, whose efforts for their comfort and excellent coking were beyond all praise. Changes and tunes on the hand-bells, by Messrs. Blackburn, Goddard, and Wise, brought to an end a memorable day in the annals of Coombe Bissett—where a most promising and keen band of young ringers are now to be found.

The inscription on the new treble, cast by Messrs. Mears & Co., is:—

RICHARD MILNER, Vicar.
WALTER FLOWER,
DENNET G. CORBIN, } Churchwardens, 1896.

Let all in truth and harmony rejoice,
To honour Church and King with heart and voice.

DEATH OF CHARLES BOWER, OF SHEFFIELD.

The above ringer commenced to ring at Rotherham, and came to Sheffield in 1864, and joined the parish church company in 1875. He was well-known as a good striker, and a very safe ringer; was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths and the Yorkshire Association. He had taken part in about sixty peals, the last being a peal of Stedman Cinques at the parish church, Sheffield, on Tuesday, November 19th, 1895. The deceased died on September 8th, aged fifty-eight years. A course of Grandsire Caters was rung at the graveside, and the bells were rung half-muffled at the parish church, Sheffield, after the funeral.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN,
CHURCH BELL HANGER, AND TUNER.
SALISBURY, WILTSHIRE.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN is a practical Ringer, and having had considerable experience in Church Bell hanging and tuning, with confidence solicits the patronage of the Clergy, Churchwardens and Ringers generally.

T. B. has devoted a great deal of attention to the fixing of Clock Hammers used for striking the hours and quarters on Church Bells. These are sometime placed in awkward and dangerous positions, even by Church Clock Makers.

T. BLACKBOURN'S experience enables him to affix these hammers, with their accompanying levers in a most accurate manner, preventing any danger to the bell frame or clock. He will be glad to advise on clocks as well as bells.

The Ellacombe Chime Hammers fixed. Sole Fixer of Liberty's Apparatus for Silent practice. Handbells supplied. Bells weighed in the tower at a small cost.

A PEAL OF 362,880 GRANDSIRE CATERS, 6d.
Contains the full extent of changes on nine bells. Forwarded Post Free, on receipt of 7d By James Hewitt, 14, Chape Row, Gosport.

The Bell News & Ringers' Record.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1896.

We are ever ready to help forward by any expressions of encouragement the progress of a young company of ringers, and our attention has this week been drawn to a thriving young company at a place named Edenbridge, in Kent. They have recently had an augmentation of their bells, which were formerly a ring of six, now one of eight. The latter were only opened about three months ago, yet the band has succeeded in ringing a peal, the record of which will be found in its usual place; this performance being the first of its kind by nearly all the company. To some who read these lines, such facts may appear insignificant, but those who have known the uphill work of teaching, and keeping together a young band in harmonious cohesion, will not refuse a meed of praise to the conductor of this young Edenbridge company. By themselves it is confessed that their attainments in the science are owing to the painstaking efforts of their leader, Mr. JOHN PRESTON, and they are anxious that their appreciation of his efforts and labours should be publicly known. We have great pleasure in assisting this commendable desire. The days happily are changing from the time when the efforts of willing and able teachers were met with ingratitude, and the change is quite refreshing to notice. Let us hope more instances of the kind may be seen.

All correspondence in connection with St. Paul's, to be addressed to Mr. Albert Oxley, 129, Mersey Street, Warrington.

* * Next week will appear a photograph of Chesterfield church, as announced. This has been prepared especially for this paper. Other illustrations are in course of production. We again impress upon our friends the great importance of affixing to their communications their names and addresses, not for publication, of course, unless where necessary. It should be plainly seen that such a condition is really desirable, and there ought not to be any withholding such information, if only from mere courtesy. The Ringers' Directory, which we referred to some weeks ago, is hardly complete, and we ask our friends who have not forwarded their addresses, to be kind enough to do so. We are frequently asked for the residences of ringers, and it is requisite in order to comply with such enquiries, that we should be furnished with such information.

THE QUAINTEST CHURCH.

Perhaps the quaintest little church in the kingdom is that of St. Michael de Rupe, situated on the top of Brent Tor, in the middle of Dartmoor. Two and a half miles from the romantic Lydford gorge, on the road to Tavistock, stands this outlying peak of the great Dartmoor range, on which, in Saxon days, the beacon fires blazed which gave the crag its name. Near the summit of this rock is a tiny church, 40 ft. long and 14 ft. wide, dating back to 1283. It has an oaken roof, three small windows, and a western tower 52 ft. high, and was formerly attached to the great Benedictine Abbey at Tavistock. Service is held in the church on alternate Sundays, and once a year the Duke of Bedford, the lord of the manor, is said to visit the church. From the rock on a clear day the Channel may easily be distinguished. Where Rupe is that this particular St. Michael hailed from is not known.

THE LONG PEAL OF LONDON SURPRISE.—Mr. J. W. Washbrook kindly informs members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild that on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope, he will send to them a card containing the record of this peal.

ST. MARTIN'S CHURCH, TIPTON, STAFFORDSHIRE.

TIPTON Parish Church, situated in Church Lane, Horseley Heath, is a plain modern building of brick, consisting of chancel, nave, and aisles, with a circular dome surmounted by a small gilt ball and cross.

The registers date from the year 1513, and are deficient from 1519-79. Up to the close of last century the church, now known as St. John's, Prince's End, Tipton, was the parish church, but falling into decay, the present building was reared on Horseley Heath, and became the mother church of Tipton. There is a handsome stained glass window in the chancel, representing the Good Samaritan.

The living is a vicarage, net yearly income £404 with residence, in the gift of the Hyndman's trustees, and held since 1895 by Rev. Wilson Thos. de Vine, M.A., of Jesus College, Cambridge. The Vicar of Tipton is sole patron of two other churches in the district, viz., St. John's and St. Paul's.

As regards the bells, they were a peal of six cast by the old Whitechapel firm in the year 1798, but the tenor being broken about 1845, they were taken down and augmented to a peal of eight in 1848, by Messrs. Mears, the weight of the bells being as follows:—Treble, 4 cwt.; 2nd, 4 cwt. 1 qr.; 3rd, 4 cwt. 2 qrs. 26 lbs.; 4th, 5 cwt. 2 qrs. 4 lbs.; 5th, 6 cwt. 2 qrs. 24 lbs.; 6th, 6 cwt. 3 qrs. 25 lbs.; 7th, 9 cwt. 1 qr. 7 lbs.; tenor, 12 cwt. 25 lbs. The treble and 2nd of the old peal are still remaining in the tower. They are a good peal of bells, and great credit is due to the bell-hanger, the late Mr. Charles Oliver, as they are all hung on one level frame, which has been seen and admired by many well known and practical ringers, who have had a touch or peal on them. As will be seen by the picture above, it is a small round tower, very few of which are to be seen in this part of the country; it is called by the Tiptonians "the little pepper-box," the ringing chamber of which is 11 ft. in diameter, so that a ringer of large proportions is obliged to stand a little on one side to keep clear of the rope while ringing.

There was practically but little change-ringing and few peals rung upon the bells till the appointment by the Vestry of Mr. W. R. Small in 1886, since which time he has had the entire charge of the tower and bells. The local band and members of the Worcestershire and Districts and the Stafford Archdeaconry Associations have rung peals of various methods on the bells, of which tablets are fixed in the tower recording peals of Grandsire, Stedman, Darlaston and Bob Triples, Kent Treble Bob Major, Forward Major, and Double Norwich Court Bob Major. The peal of Stedman recorded in this number was rung as a centenary peal of the present church's existence: also the tower-keeper's 200th peal rung on tower bells in various towers and counties. The following is a list of peals rung by him (Six-bell peals have not been taken a record of):—Stedman Cinques, 11; Caters, 13; Triples, 34. Grandsire Cinques, 5; Royal, 2; Caters, 28; Major, 6; Triples, 50. Kent Treble Bob, Maximus, 11; Royal, 7; Major, 9. Plain Bob, Royal, 4; Caters, 1; Major, 16; Triples, 1. Darlaston Bob, Triples, 4. Canterbury Pleasure Major, 1. Double Norwich Court Bob Major, 2. Double Oxford Bob Major, 1. Forward Royal, 2. Forward Major, 2. Total, 200 peals. Longest length, 9020 Grandsire Cinques, Birmingham, March 23rd, 1887: attempts at long peals of Grandsire Caters, 13,104 at Aston; rang about 11,000 changes also at Wolverhampton in an attempt for a 17,000; rang 7356 changes when clapper of tenor broke, and stopped the ringing.

WORCESTERSHIRE AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday, September 26th, a Committee and Quarterly Meeting of the above was held at Evesham in the Public Hall. In the unavoidable absence of the vicar, the Rev. G. Napier Whittingham, M.A., the Master, Mr. S. Spittle, presided, supported by representatives from Birmingham, Bromsgrove, Bengeworth, Dudley, Netherton, Kidderminster, Old Hill, Tipton, Worcester, etc. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. New performing members were elected from Clent, Birmingham, Norton, Old Swinford, Wolverley, and Wolverhampton, and Mr. T. W. Chapman, Nuneaton, a life member. It was resolved that the next quarterly meeting be held at Old Swinford, January, 1896, the date to be fixed by the Hon. Secretary.

Messrs. A. E. Parsons (Old Hill) and W. Micklewright (Dudley) were elected auditors for the ensuing year.

At the request of the Bengeworth Company, it was resolved that the Hon. Secretary be requested to write the Rev. G. N. Whittingham, Vicar of Evesham, respectfully asking him if he would kindly allow the use of the Campanile and bells for the Bengeworth ringers to practise change-ringing once a fortnight, or such other times as he may think fit without interfering with his own ringers.

On the motion of the Chairman, seconded by the Hon. Secretary, and supported by Messrs B. Hill (Worcester), W. Painter (Birmingham), A. E. Parsons (Old Hill), W. R. Small (Tipton), and others, an enthusiastic vote of confidence was carried in favour of "THE BELL NEWS," the meeting pledging itself to use every possible means in its power to extend its circulation and usefulness.

Votes of thanks to the Chairman for presiding, to the Vicar of Evesham for the use of the tower and bells, brought the meeting to a close.

Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung on the tower bells, which are in very bad going condition, and could do with the attention of the Clergy and Churchwardens to put them in proper ringing order, so that ringers paying visits there may not have so much hard labour.

THE HALIFAX AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of this society was held at Lightcliffe, on Saturday, October 3rd, when by kind permission of the respective authorities, the ring of six bells (tenor 14 cwt.) at the Congregational church and the ring of eight (tenor 20 cwt.) at St. Matthew's, were available for members' use throughout the day. A business meeting was held at 5 p.m. Mr. J. Smith, of Sowerby, vice-president of the Association, in the chair. The chairman in opening the meeting said that it was the first time he had filled such a position, and pleaded for indulgence on that account, though by his management of the business he showed that none was needed. He also alluded to the fact that he was the only ringer present who had officiated at the opening of St. Matthew's bells, twenty-one years since. Mr. F. Prince, of Brighouse, was then elected first president of the Association; Mr. S. W. Stewart of All-Souls, Halifax, being elected to fill the vice-presidency rendered vacant by his elevation. The rules drawn up by the sub-committee appointed at the last meeting, were carried en masse. On the kind invitation of the Stainland branch, it was decided to hold the next meeting at Stainland, on Saturday, December 12th. Hearty votes of thanks were then passed to the vicar and chapel authorities for the use of the bells, and a similar vote to the chairman, concluded the business. Touches in various methods were rung by mixed bands at the two towers, and the members present were delighted by the rapid way in which the secretary reduced his superfluous flesh, while piloting the 20 cwt. tenor of St. Matthew's through the intricacies of Treble Bob Minor.

CHESTERFIELD PARISH CHURCH.

The Church of St. Mary and All Saints, Chesterfield, was the Parish Church of the old Ecclesiastical Parish of Chesterfield, (a parish formerly of large extent, but considerably reduced in modern times). The Church as it now exists is principally of the Decorated style of Architecture, and was probably erected about the year 1232; but previously to this date there must have been on the same site first a church of the Norman period, and subsequently one of the Early English style of Architecture. It is believed that there was a church erected on the same ground in the time of the Saxons. There are several pillars and corbels of the Early English period, still existing in the south-west and north transepts of the present church. And recently in excavating for a heating chamber, broken pieces of the old Norman arches were discovered. There is an old font which has recently been restored and placed in the south-west transept which is believed to date from Saxon times. The fabric of the Church has during the last two centuries fallen greatly into decay, and a fund is now being raised for its complete restoration.

The ancient fabric, with its time-worn walls, and twisted steeple, is fondly revered by all who live within the sound of its bells. It is a grand relic of an age departed, and has made the town famous throughout the world. Travellers from distant lands visit it, and wonder whoever put up the eccentric spire that Harrison Ainsworth once likened to the uplifted tail of the dragon of Wantley. Pilgrimages from out-of-the-way corners of the land, as well as from crowded cities, are made to the old church; and attenuated Americans, losing their superciliousness as they climb to the tower, scratch their heads in perplexity, and are obliged to admit that they have nothing like this wonderful steeple in their own marvellous country. It is dangerous to say anything in its disparagement to those who reside in the town, of which it is the greatest ornament. In his scholarly "Notes on the Churches of Derbyshire," the Rev. J. C. Cox says the proportions of the church are justly balanced, and would have, if it was not for the spire, a most symmetrical and harmonious effect; but the citizens of Chesterfield, who for generations have grown up within the shadow of the twisted spire of lead-covered timber, knew better than to sacrifice it on the altar of symmetry. The steeple, with its grotesque ridges, and flecks of black and grey and white, may be ugly to some eyes; but even as a mother lavishes her tenderest love upon her deformed child, so the inhabitants of the old town are sensitive about this crooked steeple, and see beauty in its shape, although it may be an architectural singularity.

Another authority says "The most rational theories adduced as to the cause of the steeple's crookedness are those so intelligently put forward by Mr. Cox, who argues that the clinging pressure of the lead may have caused an irregular subsidence in the timbers, which have also been powerfully warped by the action of the sun beating through the lead on to the green parts of the wood-work. That the action of the sun, he says, has been one of the most powerful agencies at work is further shown by the fact that the timbers are the most displaced and twisted from their original position on the south side—the side most exposed to the influence of its rays. It creaks sometimes, when the wind savagely assails it and makes the door of the crow-hole clatter; it quivers when the bells make gleesome riot; but the steeple is in no immediate danger of collapse. It will most likely stand for years yet; but, when it does decide to vacate its lofty position—may it fall gently!"

Various opinions, and innumerable arguments have been advanced for and against the spire being in a perpendicular direction. It appears to lean different ways according to the sides on which you approach it. The Rev. G. Hall says:—"It is built of wood and covered with lead, and no doubt was once straight and perpendicular; but the sun, at the time when its power is strongest, i.e., between one and two o'clock, has shrunk the wood and warped the spire in the direction it now appears. By measurement in January, 1818, the ball on which the weather-cock is fixed, was found to lean towards the south six feet from the perpendicular of its base; and four feet four inches out of perpendicular to the west; therefore its greatest deviation from the perpendicular of its base, is nearly at the angle between these two points, or nearly south-west. If the sun continues to have influence on the materials of this spire, as no doubt it has, though in a very moderate degree in comparison to what it had when the timber was put up; yet if this be true at all, there will a time, when the deviation it now has from the perpendicular of its base will be so much increased, that it must inevitably drop to the ground. How many years may elapse before it thus gets beyond its balance, it is difficult to say; but there is no doubt but it will continue drooping more and more, even if there was nothing more than its own inclining weight to occasion it."

The following are the dimensions of the Church:—

In the church is a fine-toned organ, built by Schnetzler, of London, a German, for the sum of £500. This organ was opened on October 21st, 1756.

In 1820 a new peal of ten bells was put up in the tower of the church; the cost was between £400 and £500. The bells are considered a very excellent and musical peal, and reflect the highest credit on Mr. Mears, the founder, and Mr. Hansell, the bell-hanger. The weight of the tenor is 24 cwt. 2 qrs. The opening took place on Monday, May 22nd in the same year, by the undermentioned societies, who each performed as follows:

1st.—The society from Oldham in Lancashire, rang a complete peal of 5147 Grandsire Caters.

2nd.—The society at the parish church, Sheffield, completed a peal of 5003 Grandsire Caters.

3rd.—A miscellaneous band from the societies of Leeds, Wakefield, Sheffield Independents, and others, performed a complete peal of New Treble Bob Royal, consisting of 5200 changes; this finished the first day's ringing.

On Tuesday morning the Ashton-under-Lyne company ascended the tower, and rang a complete peal of 5000 and upwards of Grandsire Caters.

After them the Nottingham society of Sherwood Youths, performed a peal of 5364 Grandsire Caters; and lastly the society from Mottram, in Cheshire, performed a peal of 5000 and upwards of Grandsire Caters.

This concluded the whole; each party having completed their peal on the first attempt, which is an achievement never before performed in the annals of change-ringing.

The bells have the following inscription from the treble to the tenor: "T. Mears, of London, Fecit 1819; and on the tenor "Rev. George Bossley, vicar, Richard Dixon, John Wright, Churchwardens."

The slit windows under the belfry windows (louvres) are those of the clock-room, in which is a very large wheel, very much out of repair, which was formally used for drawing materials up into the tower from the church below. The ringing-room is twenty-one feet square. There are no practice-nights at present.

Chesterfield is a vicarage in the diocese of Southwell. The patron of the benefice is the Bishop of the diocese. Since 1893 the living (the gross income of which is given as £280 with house), has been held by the Hon. and Rev. Cecil James Littleton, M.A., of Christ Church, Oxford.

CHESTERFIELD PARISH CHURCH.

THE MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION.

The Annual General Meeting of this Association was held at Southgate on Saturday, October 10th. By the kind permission of the Vicar, the Rev. Cyril Wilson, the belfry was thrown open to members of the Association at 5 p.m., and from that hour until 7.30 the bells were kept going to the tune of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Major. At 7.30 p.m. an adjournment was made to The Cherry Tree inn, where an excellent tea had been prepared by mine host. Some forty members sat down to this repast, and ample justice was done to the good things provided for them. After tea a verse of the National Anthem was sung with the greatest heartiness and loyalty, and the Rev. D. W. Barrett, Rector of Barnet, was unanimously elected to the chair for the ensuing business meeting.

The Hon. Secretary, Mr. A. T. King, read the annual report, which was duly received and adopted, and 200 copies were ordered to be printed. During the past year the number of members of the Association has, it appears, increased from eighty to upwards of 130, and although only four peals have been successfully brought round, a great many attempts has been within a measurable distance of being achieved. Mr. King gave a detailed account of the efforts he had made to bring the incumbents of churches within the county possessing peals of bells to identify themselves with the work of the Association, with the result that found two parishes, viz.: South Mymms and Edgware, upwards of twenty members, were enrolled. In other cases the Incumbents had expressed themselves more or less sympathetically with the aims and objects of the Association, and there can be little doubt but that the excellent work done by the Hon. Secretary in this direction will bear further fruit.

The chairman, in a humorous speech, commented at some length on the report, and strongly urged upon the members present their duties as churchworkers, and church defenders. The balance-sheet, which showed a balance of £7 5s. od. upon the right side, was next brought up and ordered to be printed along with the report; as also was an account of the Tottenham bells, kindly written for the Association by Mr. W. Pye English. The next business on the agenda was the appointment of a committee to meet a committee of the South and West Middlesex Association, and confer with them upon the question of amalgamating the two societies, or rather forming a Middlesex County Association, of which each Society would form a constituent part. Messrs. C. H. Martin, G. B. Lucas, F. A. Milne, A. T. King and J. Waghorn, sen., were unanimously elected to serve on the committee. Mr. C. H. Martin was unanimously re-elected Master for the year 1896-7, notwithstanding a struggle on his part to be excused that honour, and Mr. A. T. King and Mr. F. A. Milne were also unanimously re-elected to fill the posts of Hon. Secretary and Hon. Treasurer respectively.

As the number of the Association now exceeds 120 it is entitled to send two representatives to the Central Council, and Mr. G. B. Lucas having expressed a wish not to be re-elected, it was resolved that Mr. W. H. L. Buckingham and Mr. J. Waghorn, sen., do represent the Association on the Council during the next three years. Twenty-four new members were enrolled, viz.: 12 from South Mymms; 8 from Edgware; 3 from Barnet, and 1 from Gospel Oak. It was agreed that the next quarterly meeting in January, 1897, should, if possible, be held at All Hallows, Tottenham, and the meeting was brought to a conclusion with hearty votes of thanks to the Vicar of Southgate for the use of the bells, and to the Rev. D. W. Barrett for so kindly consenting to occupy the chair. An adjournment was then made to the belfry, when several touches of Stedman, and Grandsire Triples were successfully brought round, after which the ringers separated, all being agreed that the meeting had been the greatest success, and that the Association had, thanks to the unwearying efforts of the Hon. Secretary, been firmly put upon its legs again. It was hoped that nothing may arise to prevent the formation of the proposed county Association, whose work must necessarily be more effective and far reaching than that of two societies working independently of and without reference to each other.

UNVEILING A PEALBOARD AND PICTURE AT TONG, YORKSHIRE.

On Saturday last the village of Tong was visited by several friends of the local ringing company, who were invited to witness the interesting event of unveiling a new peal-board and a picture of past and present ringers at Tong. At half-past five the visitors and local ringers were met by the vicar (Rev. C. Farrow) in the belfry of the Parish Church. Mr. Geo. Bolland (conductor of the Tong band) addressing the meeting, said that doubtless they were aware of the twofold object of their assembling together, first to unveil a peal-board recording the Tong Company's latest achievement—a peal of above 10,000 changes, and secondly to unveil a picture consisting of a collection of photographs of past and present ringers at Tong, framed in the old oak in which the bells originally stood, and presented by their friend, Mr. Maude. He had much pleasure in asking the vicar to unveil the peal-board and in requesting Mr. Maude to ask the vicar to unveil the picture. The Vicar expressed his pleasure in the performance of the task and said that many of the names were well known, not only in Yorkshire, but, he might say, in England, which made him proud of the tablets and picture in the belfry and of the Tong ringers. He saw old familiar faces in the picture of those who had gone to their rest, whose names and deeds would be recorded on higher tablets than these.

Mr. Maude, in asking the Vicar to uncover the picture, remarked that he had known the church and belfry of Tong for more than 20 years, and yet the idea of collecting these photographs of past and present ringers had only occurred to him quite recently, his one regret being that some of the past ringers were omitted as they had left no photographs. If it was a pleasure to the ringers to receive the picture, it was a pleasure to him to present it. The Vicar then ascended the ladder and removed the coverings from both. In the afternoon a half-peal of Oxford was rung by J. Thornton (Drighlington), 1; E. Keighley (Calverley), 2; Joe Thackray (Armley), 3; W. Hollings (Calverley), 4; John Thackray (Armley), 5; F. Hargreaves (Tong), 6.

Before tea a twelve-score of Cambridge Surprise was rung by the local company. C. J. Sallaway, 1; H. Oddy, 2; R. P. Farrow, 3; W. Bolland, 4; G. Bolland, 5; F. Hargreaves, 6.

A substantial tea was then provided by Miss Dennison, and when justice had been done to it the Vicar expressed his pleasure in seeing all the strangers present, and remarked upon the presence of Mr. McDonald, of Bradford, who was a ringer at Tong 50 years ago.

Mr. Geo. Bolland moved a vote of thanks to the Rev. C. Farrow, their referee for the peal of 10,440 changes, who noted down the times of every peal and witnessed the whole thing through from the vicarage close by. This was duly seconded and responded to.

The Vicar expressed his thanks to Mr. Bolland for his services in the tower. Mr. Maude moved a vote of thanks to the Vicar for his presence and to Mr. C. Sallaway for giving his services in making the frame of the picture, at the same time presenting a copy of the photograph as a slight acknowledgement of his services.

The evening was enlivened by handbell-ringing in various methods, including a course of Oxford Treble Bob Minor by Mr. Keighley, of Calverley, and the Bros. Thackray, of Armley; of Bob Major; Grandsire Triples, Major and Royal by members of the Tong, Armley and Calverley Companies. A pleasant meeting was concluded by singing the National Anthem.

THE ST. PETER'S SOCIETY, WOOTTON, LIVERPOOL.

On Saturday, September 19th, the members of this Society held their annual outing, Conway, North Wales, being the place selected. The party included the Rev. E. Roberts, Messrs. G. Hislop, J. Roberts, P. Ball, H. Fyles, T. Kay, P. Leather, J. Bowstead and J. Edwards. They left Allerton (L.N.W.), at 8.55 arriving at Conway at 11.15. Dinner and tea were partaken of at The Harp hotel. Visits were paid to the Castle Picture Gallery, Conway Hill, etc., and the day was a very pleasant one, the weather, with the exception of one shower, being all that could be wished for. Allerton was reached shortly after ten o'clock, after an outing which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

ST. WOOLOS CHURCH, NEWPORT, MON.

The funeral of the late Canon Hawkins took place on Wednesday, October 7th. Deceased had been vicar of St. Woolos for forty years, but owing to failing eyesight he resigned in the year 1883, but continued as Canon of Llandaff until within the last three years. He was ninety-six years of age (born with the century), having seen three kings and one queen of this country, and was supposed to be the oldest living clergyman of the Church of England in his day. In the evening, with the bells half-muffled, a start was made for Penning's five-part peal of Grandsire Triples, but after a well-struck 3750 it unfortunately came to grief, after ringing 2 hrs. 21 mins. H. Russell, 1; E. Davies (conductor), 2; H. Millard, 3; J. Jones, 4; F. Atwell, 5; J. Butler, 6; J. Trowbridge, 7; J. Cox, 8. Tenor 19 cwt. 3 qrs.

BOB MAJOR.—By J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

The following peal, with its two reduced variations, contains the extent of the combinations of 4-5-6 in 5-6, with the 2nd and 3rd never in 6ths place, and the 2nd never in 5ths at a course end; and they are the only peals yet published with these qualities in six equal and regular parts in the number of changes without parting the tenors:—

Each to be five times repeated, a single being substituted for the bob at w in last course of 3rd and 6th parts.

Several variations can be had of these compositions, among which are—

Omit all bobs save those at the "homes" in fourth and fifth courses of either first three or last three parts of peal (a) gives 5088.

Call both fourth and fifth courses of either (b) or (c) "R" only in either first three or last three parts gives 5040.

Call the s at end of third part of either peal and begin last three parts at the fifth course.

Of course the singles may, if preferred, be called half way and end, but that would put the second three times into fifths place.

FALL OF A CHURCH BELL.

A great deal of excitement was caused in the neighbourhood of St. Andrew's church, Leicester, on Tuesday evening, by the fall of a bell from the turret over the chancel roof. St. Andrew's does not possess a peal, but the single bell is of considerable weight. The cannon by which it was suspended from the horizontal beam supporting it had gradually worn through, and the bell fell with a crash on to the chancel roof, cannoning off there, and finding a resting-place in the church garden, this occurring about half-past seven o'clock. Fortunately, no one was hurt, and little damage was done. The clerk, who was in the church at the time, thought from the noise that the whole roof was coming through, but it stood the strain well, though a large portion of the coping and a considerable quantity of slates were carried away. The bell itself seems to have escaped injury.

THE OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.—DEDDINGTON DEANERY BRANCH.—MEETING AT ADDERBURY.

The first Autumn Meeting of this newly-formed Branch was held at Adderbury on Saturday afternoon last. There was a very good attendance of members, who represented the following eight towers in the Deanery:—Adderbury, Bloxham, Cropredy, Deddington, Great Tew, Mollington, Swalcliffe, and Tadmarton. Unfortunately, a sufficient number of change-ringers could not be got together to ring any changes, but various touches of round ringing were done, some of the striking being creditable, when it is borne in mind that many of the ringers are young beginners, and have seldom or ever rung out of their own towers. A meat tea was provided in the girls' school, at 4 o'clock, when between forty and fifty sat down. There were present Rev. H. J. Gepp (Vicar of Adderbury), Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis (Dunsden, Reading, Hon. Sec. to the Guild), Revs. R. F. Mallam (Bloxham), T. Boniface (Deddington), A. E. Riddle (Tadmarton), W. B. Humphrey (Mollington), J. P. Malleon (Great Tew), Mr. W. Bradford (Bloxham, Hon. Sec. of the Branch), and about forty probationary members. After tea, a meeting was held presided over by the Rev. H. J. Gepp, in the unavoidable absence of the President of the Branch, Rev. Canon Wood, D.D., who was attending the Church Congress. The Rev. Chairman welcomed the members of the Branch to Adderbury, and referred to the formation of the Branch as an unexplored mine of interest in the neighbourhood. As Church people they had the command of the beautiful bells in the belfries, and he exhorted those present to make the most of the privilege.

Mr. Bradford (Hon. Sec.), announced that the Branch now consisted of over fifty members, seven towers being affiliated to the Guild. The Great Tew ringers, who had joined the Chipping Norton branch, prior to the formation of the local branch, would come over next year, and the Secretary had great hopes that Banbury, who already belonged to the Guild, would join the Branch. At the suggestion of the Secretary that an Auditor should be appointed, the Rev. R. F. Mallam (Bloxham) kindly undertook the duties. The Secretary also expressed his willingness to give one evening a week during the winter months to visiting the towers, for the purpose of teaching change-ringing. The offer was accepted with applause. In addressing the meeting, the Hon. Sec. of the Guild (Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis), said that it gave him much pleasure to attend the meeting, and to have an opportunity of seeing the three famous spires in the neighbourhood. Speaking of the influence of the Guild for good and the progress made in change-ringing, he said he must not omit the names of "the grand old Master" of the Guild (Rev. F. E. Robinson), and Mr. J. W. Washbrook. These two gentlemen, with six other members of the Guild, had lately accomplished a feat and beaten the record by ringing a peal of "London Surprise," consisting of over 11,000 changes, the peal being composed by Mr. Washbrook. The membership of the Guild last year numbered nearly 1,200, of which 850 were working men change-ringers. It was gratifying to find such a new Branch in so flourishing a condition, and he was glad to find that his old friend, Mr. Bradford, whom he well knew as a change-ringer, had undertaken the Secretaryship of the Branch. He wished the Branch all success. On the motion of the Rev. J. P. Malleon, a vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar of Adderbury for kindly permitting the meeting to take place there, and duly acknowledged.

Evensong was held in the church at 5. The Vicar intoned the service, the lesson being read by the Rev. T. Boniface. Tallis's responses were sung, and Psalms lii., liii., and cl., also Hymns 242, 292, and 274 (A. and M.). In the absence of Mr. Hadley, Organist, Mr. Bradford presided at the organ, and the adult members of the choir were drawn from among the ringers who were also choristers. The sermon was preached by the Hon. Sec. of the Guild, who took his text from Psalm lxxxi. 1—"Make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob." The preacher dwelt particularly on the religious side of change-ringing, contrasting the science with the other arts having no religion. In the course of his admirable and appropriate discourse the rev. gentleman said:—"To any one who has from its foundation in 1881 taken an active interest in the Oxford Diocesan Guild of Church Bell-Ringers, it will be allowable to look back on the fifteen years with feelings of thankfulness and gratitude. It is always delightful to note any instance of the successful working out of the old saying that "Union is strength." The Club, the Association, the Trade Union, the Friendly Society, the Co-operative Society, each of these has its own peculiar use and office, and they must be few in the congregation who have not in some way or other thus associated with their fellows to attain some end which they could never have reached alone. But praiseworthy and excellent as are all such associations, they cannot by their very nature aspire to the highest excellence of all. They indeed affect a good work. They may tend to make us more secure against poverty, they may increase the comforts of life, they may add to our knowledge and wisdom, they may give us the unspeakable pleasure of feeling that we are helping one another and are doing something towards the relief of the world's miseries. They may do all these, but yet fail to be in the highest sense of the word religious. They touch two sides of human life, but they cannot reach its noblest side. Body and spirit feel their heating hand, but no ministration of theirs finds its way to the soul of man. We have joined the Guild, not as Bell-Ringers merely, but as Christians, as men whose desire is to be better Christians as the years pass over us, and to give to God as members of the Church to which we belong, a service ever fuller, more faithful, and more ungrudging. There stands at the head of the Rules of our Guild this sentence, marking the main object before us: "To recognise the true position of ringers as Church Officers." "Come, if you come at all," your Guild says to you, "as Christian men, who love Christ and His Gospel, who seek to do His will, to be manly, upright and pure, and who do not shrink to come forward in your place as office-bearers in the Church to lead others in worship and righteousness." And now, as a result of a good work done by the Guild, your office is duly recognised by the Church, and valued by you yourselves. There are numerous instances in which the clergy are not content merely to encourage their ringers but take an active part in the work. Here and there, and notably to one among ourselves, we may point to clergymen who have reached to the highest attainment of the art. The ringer who is influenced by the highest aims devotes his art to the service of God. But what is an art? I doubt if it can be defined better than this—to do faithfully whatever we do. Anything done perfectly well, becomes a work of art. Anything finished thoroughly in all its details affects the mind as art, and any high or beautiful work well done becomes fine art. It is the perfect finish of poetry, the exact proportion of architecture, the regular modulation of music, the delicate precision of painting and sculpture, which makes them works of art. Finish, proportion, musical rhythm, precision, all these are required in bell-ringing, to make the result a real work of art your desire. A work which shall be faithfully done for its own sake, for the sake of others, for the sake of God. Carry this aim with you whenever you enter the belfry, and you will have the highest satisfaction that work can bring, a new honour and dignity will be yours. Again, alluding to the progress of the Guild, the preacher remarked that so great had been its growth, that it has been necessary to appoint an assistant Hon. Sec., the work now being too great for any one man to manage who has necessarily many other duties to fulfil. In conclusion, he said: "In many ways the sound of the Church bells of England has been continuously heard in the historic and every day life of the nation speaking through the sanctuary. More need not be said to show that the bell-ringer has a real service to render, may he perform it—may all of you perform it—heart and soul for God and His Church. Let it be the very best service that you can give, a work of art, as perfect as you can make it, above all, let it be the service of Christian men, faithful to their Lord in the use of that talent with which he has constructed them."

After the service there was more ringing until about seven o'clock, when the various bands dispersed after a most successful and pleasant meeting.

WITH THE WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD IN HANTS.

On Saturday, October 3rd, members of the above Guild (including Messrs. G. Williams (Brighton), I. G. Shade (Greenwich), W. W. Gifford and T. Blackburn (Salisbury), H. White (Basingstoke), C. F. Hopgood (Reading), journeyed to Fareham, Hants., where the first peal of a short ringing tour was to be attempted. All arriving pretty well true to time, just after 4 p.m., we were met by Mr. Whiting of the local band, who with his usual hospitality entertained us all to tea. Arriving at the tower at 6 p.m., and being joined by Mr. Grafham, also of the local band, the bells were soon off in Double Norwich, and in 2 hrs. 53 mins. a well struck peal was the result. After spending a pleasant hour together, Messrs. Gifford, Blackburn and Williams left for an eight miles drive to Soberton, the rest of the band staying at Fareham the night, and coming on to Soberton in the morning, ringing for morning service at Wickham. Sunday evening, with the assistance of Mr. Chappell, of Wickham, a 576 and 448 of Superlative Surprise Major was rung at St. Peter's, Soberton, after which touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung on the handbells. Monday morning we were astir early, seeing to ropes, etc., before breakfast, and at 8.50 "go" was called for Superlative, and at 11.52 a good peal had been accomplished. Coming out of the tower we were joined by the Rev. F. E. Robinson, who had arrived from Botley in time to hear nearly the last hour of the peal. Dinner was the next order, at 12.30, which was capitally served by host Holmes as usual. Then again to the tower at 2 p.m., Oxford Treble Bob being the method, all going well for nearly two hours, when a slight trip occurred, and although only a few bad blows, stand was called a few bars later, the conductor having discovered a change-course. This put an end to our idea of ringing three peals in a day this time. However, after tea a first-rate peal of Stedman was tapped off with the Rev. F. E. Robinson at the helm.

Tuesday morning at 7.30 we were off for an eight miles' drive to Eastmeon. Arriving at the fine old Norman church of All Saints, we were met by Mr. Atwood, the sexton, who assured us everything was in readiness. As no Superlative had been rung here, that was the method chosen, but it seemed as if we were a bit "off" the method (although a good peal had been rung the day previous), when someone suggested a little refreshment, and start again. This was done and the bells were soon heard pouring out the beautiful music of Superlative, a peal seeming almost a certainty, but no, after 3 hrs. and 3 mins. good ringing, in the last course it was lost. The next item being dinner at the George Inn, after which, in the pouring rain, a drive of five miles to Petersfield was not very consoling after our failure in Superlative. But here another disappointment awaited us, no peal being able to be attempted as a parishioner living close was seriously ill. This left no alternative but to get on to Havant by first train possible, where we were booked for the night, in readiness for an early attempt for a peal there the following morning. Arriving at Havant about 7 p.m., we soon found arrangements had been made for sleeping, etc., by Messrs. Staples and Shirley, with whom during the evening touches of Grandsire Triples were rung on the handbells.

Wednesday morning at 7.30 found us at the tower, where we were met by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, who had driven over from East Marden. An excellent peal of Stedman Triples was tapped off here in 2 hrs. 52 mins. After partaking of the kind hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Staples, a move was made for the station. Catching the 2 p.m. train, we were soon wending our way to the noble church of St. Mary's, Portsea, where the last peal in the programme was to be attempted and the fine ring of eight in this tower were soon sounding out the music of Oxford Treble Bob, but to the great disappointment of all, after 45 mins. ringing, 'the treble rope came down in the belfry, leaving the bell set. This of course finished our ringing programme. After tea we dispersed to our various destinations Messrs. Gifford and Robinson accompanying Mr. Williams to Brighton, where peals had been previously arranged for each other evening during the week. This band one and all wish to thank all those who had been the means of making the outing a success, the Vicars for the use of the bells, and Messrs. Staples and Whiting for their hospitality. G. W.

A WONDERFUL FEAT IN PEAL-RINGING.

On looking over some of the old Cambridge Chronicles a short time ago, I found the record of a most wonderful feat in change-ringing; the following is a copy from the Cambridge Chronicle for Saturday, December 29th, 1770:—

"On Monday last, was rung at Great St. Mary's church in this town on twelve bells, a complete peal of Grandsire Cinques, consisting of 5610 changes, which was completed with ease in 3 hours and 50 minutes by Messrs. Young, Treble; Laughton, 2; Saunders, 3; Incarsole, 4; Gee, 5; Robinson, 6; Jones, 7; Hinkin, 8; Groves, 9; Crowther, 10; Day (who called the peal), 11; and Banyard, Tenor. It is very remarkable that Mr. Incarsole who rang the 4th bell, is quite blind."

The above is a wonderful feat in peal-ringing for a man to be quite blind, and to ring a working bell through a peal of Grandsire Cinques. There is a tradition in Cambridge that this most wonderful man, Mr. John Incarsole, was very remarkable for his great talent and hearing powers both in change-ringing and music. In the same paper for Saturday, March 7th, 1778, I found the following:—

"On Shrove Tuesday, a complete peal of 10,260 Grandsire Caters was rung upon the deep melodious peal of ten bells at St. Mary's church in Nottingham, being the first and only attempt ever made for the same. The above performance continued 7 hours and 20 minutes, and was performed by eleven of the Nottingham Society. The tenor (as customary with bells that weight), was rung by two, and the other nine single-handed. St. Mary's bells are the heaviest peal of ten bells within one hundred miles of the place, York Minster only excepted."

THE ELY DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

A ringing meeting of members in the two Archidiaconal branches of Ely and the Isle of Ely was held on Tuesday, October 6th, at Sutton, and was attended as well as could reasonably be expected, the afternoon being exceedingly wet and stormy. Several touches of Plain Bob were rung and a 720 of Oxford Treble Bob Minor, by the following members from Willburton: James Markwell, 1; Joseph Markwell, 2; Henry Markwell, 3; A. Hazell, 4; A. Sharp, 5; Arthur Markwell (conductor), 6. After tea in the vicarage room adjoining the church, the usual business meeting was held, presided over by the Rev. W. W. Crump, the General Secretary of the Association. Several fresh members from Sutton and Haddenham were elected, and it was proposed to hold the next branch meeting at Soham, near Ely, early next year.

BELL OPERATIONS IN ESSEX.

Rumour has been busy for some time past concerning the augmentation of the ring of eight at Waltham Abbey to ten and even twelve bells. The latter would be a splendid complement to the old historical edifice, and every one would rejoice at such a proposal being made a fait accompli. We hear that Messrs. Taylor have prepared an estimate. The ring of eight at the old parish church of St. Mary, Walthamstow, is to be graced by the addition of two new trebles, with an entire new frame for the ten bells. The Whitechapel firm are entrusted with this undertaking. This is a very happy restoration indeed. St. Mary's, Walthamstow, has for some years been a high-class ringing centre, being near to the city of London, and easy of approach by metropolitan and suburban ringers. It will now become a more favorite place than ever for ringing meetings.

AND COMPOSERS.

CHAPTER VI.

The touch at the end of last week's chapter was given as a favorable example for practising to call any bell "before," without the conductor ringing that particular bell. If that touch is examined it will be found that every bell is called into the hunt in each part. Therefore the touch, or any part of it, could be called by the following observation: "Call every bell into the hunt, and out at five leads, until the 2nd comes in." The plan to find out what bell will go into the hunt at a bob is to notice on going up behind how such bell stands with the treble. I have said that the bell called "before" is the bell met with immediately before the treble; the bell called into the hunt will be the bell met with before that one. Therefore the bell going into the hunt at a bob is the bell you meet next but one before the treble. This observation can be practised in like manner to the previous one.

The advantages to be derived by not wholly depending upon the observation-bell for calling, i.e. so far as being compelled to ring it, has already been shown. Whoever depends upon that mode of calling only, is at a great disadvantage. He is obliged to ring that particular bell, and this is often an inconvenience, to say the least. The bell in question may be a bad-going one, or may be too heavy for the practitioner's strength, and other drawbacks may be present. In the plan recommended the bob-caller can ring any bell he pleases; and it looks much better in a strange tower, among strange companions, when he appears indifferent to what bell he rings. Here is a quarter-peal in this method:—

1	7	5	2	6	3	4
1	2	3	7	5	4	6
1	7	4	2	3	6	5
1	5	3	7	6	4	2
1	6	3	5	2	7	4
1	3	5	6	2	7	4
1	6	7	3	5	4	2
1	2	5	6	4	7	3
1	4	5	2	3	6	7
1	5	2	4	3	6	7

This is the first part, comprising 420 changes, to complete which it must be twice repeated. Now you will see that there are three bells at home (and only three) at the part-end. They are 4, 6, 7. Consequently those bells do the same work in each part, and thus either or all of them can be used to make up a lesson for calling without having to ring either. Here is an example of a calling lesson for this quarter-peal:—

"Call the 7th into the hunt and out of the lead after the 4th has made thirds. 7th into the hunt with a double (that is two running bobs). 6th into the hunt, and out the lead after the 7th has made thirds. 6th in with a double. The 4th in and out the lead after the 6th has made thirds."

The calling expressed by this lesson to be repeated, which brings up the second part-end—1354267; it is again repeated, and the third part-end being reached the bells are round.

Study and practice will enable the young beginner to shorten these calling lessons very considerably, but I think it best to begin something like the above.

It is hardly necessary to give many of these examples; this one ought to be understood sufficiently to enable my readers to compile a lesson themselves for any touch they may come in contact with. There is one thing however to which attention should be given. In peals of 5000 or more, the conductor ought to be able to inform himself at certain periods whether the peal is going on correctly; if he disregards such a condition, he is very likely to find himself in a predicament when he is looking for rounds to appear. Therefore it is well for the young conductor to commence this practice early. When going for a touch, or this quarter-peal, say, he should make himself acquainted with the positions of the bells at certain periods, and see that those positions come up. The duties of a conductor is not merely to call out "bob," but also to carefully watch that what is being attempted is being accurately done. He should notice any particular changes that approve themselves to his eye or ear, and correctly ascertain beforehand at what period they ought to show themselves, and if they do not appear at the place expected, then some mistake has been made either by two or more of the ringers, or perhaps by himself. Having made this unpleasant discovery he should at once call "stand," or bring the bells round if he is able to.

Next week I will give a few more select touches, and point out their lessons for calling. I would do it now only that space is very valuable this week in our paper. But I think there is plenty of food for study and reflection in this week's chapter—for the young, of course.

ALEPH.

A MERRY MEETING IN THE OLD BOROUGH.

The October pleasure Fair at Leicester has for many years been looked upon as a good opportunity of meeting with old friends and faces, taking into consideration the facilities offered by the different railway companies; and Saturday's cargo bore numerous ringers from Lincoln, Derby, Yarmouth, Loughboro', Barwell, Coventry, and places too numerous to mention. At four p.m. a band was negotiating a peal of Double Norwich at St. Saviour's, but after 50 mins. ringing a deafening kicking at the belfry door disconcerted a few, and the bells were "stood." Investigation proved that the offender was a country visitor—a ringer of the old school, who "thought there was some ringing on!" The following was the band:—G. Lindoff, 1; J. B. Fenton, 2; R. Clarke, 3; W. Willson, 4; R. Dawson, 5; G. Chester, 6; A. Craven (conductor), 7; C. P. Clifton, 8. Other ringers coming up, including the volatile Wm. Challenor, the bells were put through touches of Grandsire, Treble Bob, &c., and then lowered. Sixty-three found a goodly number at St. Margaret's; Grandsire Caters the order of the evening; 575 being brought round by C. Lomas, 1; J. B. Fenton, 2; R. Dawson, 3; W. H. Inglesant, 4; G. Lindoff, 5; G. Chester, 6; W. Willson (conductor), 7; A. Craven, 8; C. P. Clifton, 9; W. Challenor, 10. Adjournment was then made to the clubroom of "The Sun," and a very convivial gathering was soon bent on making the proverbial welkin ring. The irrepressible Jonty W. Veasey sang "Pat and the Mermaid," in fine form, and the ball being thus opened, the following programme was gone through:—Stedman Triples: G. Lindoff, 1-2; G. Cleal (conductor), 3-4; W. Willson, 5-6; J. Buttery, 7-8. Song: "Baby," Mr. E. E. Smith. Treble Bob Major: A. R. Aldham (conductor), 1-2; A. Knights (Chesterfield), 3-4; G. Lindoff, 5-6; A. Craven, 7-8.

Song: "The Masquerade Ball," Mr. F. Cooke. Grandsire Caters: G. Bemrose, 1-2; J. B. Fenton, 3-4; A. R. Aldham, 5-6; G. Lindoff, 7-8; C. P. Clifton, 9-10.

Song: "Fine Old English Gentleman," Mr. J. S. Needham. Treble Bob Royal:—G. Cleal, 1-2; A. Knights, 3-4; A. Craven, 5-6; G. Lindoff, 7-8; A. R. Aldham, 9-10. Recitation: "Crazy Kate," Mr. Wm. Willson.

Song: "Wants and Means," Mr. A. R. Aldham. Train time came round all too soon for all concerned, but "companions" in the shape of long-necked bottles were provided for the return journeys, all being well pleased with the half-day's enjoyment.

THE YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday evening, October 10th, the Staveley branch of the above Association paid a visit to Chesterfield to test the "go" of the bells, which have been made quiet pealable for any company who may feel inclined to attempt a peal upon them. After ringing two courses of Kent Treble Bob Major 880 of Kent Treble Bob Royal was brought round in a very creditable manner. S. Palmer, 1; S. Price, 2; J. Worthington, 3; J. Hunt, 4; W. Worthington, 5; W. Daffin, 6; S. Smedley, 7; J. Harris (conductor), 8; A. Worthington, 9; H. Madin (conductor), 10. First attempt at Royal by Messrs. J. Worthington, S. Smedley, W. Daffin, and S. Palmer. Hunt and Price belong to Chesterfield; the rest to Staveley.

MEN AND MANNERS.

How shall we write? How shall we begin? Events grave and gay, sunshine and shadows have mixed in indescribable confusion during the past week. William Morris, the greatest of modern, and shall we say human poets, has gone to that bourne from whence no traveller returns. The Czar is in Paris, feted and almost worshipped by a Republican but temporarily frantic French populace. Rockefeller—the American oil trust millionaire—after freezing into poverty all the smaller men, gives thanks at a bun and coffee prayer meeting because “God has dealt kindly with him!” Lord Rosebery has resigned, and everybody with an axe to grind has gone on the stump. The Church Congress has discussed the question of the Church and the drink traffic. Prebendary Denison, of St. Michael's, North Kensington, has taken a public house in Portobello Road, turned it into a club, and placed a curate in charge. Besides beer it will supply literature, skittles and whist. Du Maurier, the author of Trilby, is dead, and finally the Burton band has decided in grim earnest to go for a long peal of London Surprise.

There my masters is the bill of fare. Shall I sort them out for you or will you take 'em or leave 'em as you think fit? You will observe in the above items that virtue and hypocrisy runs pretty nearly their extent wrong and right so to speak. You will see that the men who do the most good either depart or play a very second rate fiddle to the whited sepulchres that remain. You will not need telling that Morris was the people's poet, a man who would not write to order, but wrote from his heart; and notwithstanding the fact that we live in the close of the 19th century, we have none too many folk who possess a solid heart. Alas, my gentle reader or otherwise, you cannot fail to observe that the French enthusiasm is only measured by their desire to get their two lost possessions back from the Germans. The next item I will leave you to nurse over and discover the humbug thereof, and we come to that of the Church and Drink. Truly the Bishop of Chester has not lived in vain, but whether Prebendary Denison has gone a step too far or not is a question. I will yield to no man in my desire for purity and temperance, but I cannot at present bring my mind to mixing of clubs and clergy. Not but what the presence of the clergy would most probably elevate the social side of life, but it seems to me somewhat sacrilegious to expect a curate to turn barman. I am no prude. I believe that houses of refreshment are an absolute necessity, and to raise higher the standard of them is a noble object well worth striving after; but many eyes will watch the experiment with anxiety.

On second thoughts I must refer to the cant and hypocrisy I mentioned previously. Laying foundation stones for a little Bethel will not save a man's soul. Donations drawn from the sweat and blood of hirelings will not please the God who is no respecter of persons—if we believe in the good old book. It is this smug, hollow, imitation religion that evokes many a sneer at the genuine. We find those too who wear their religion as they wear their Sunday clothes, or those who trade on it for a living.

Some of my notes may not suit a few of my readers, but I cannot help that. Wherever I see a sham I feel bound to expose it, and if a writer is wanted who will please everybody, you will wait until the millenium. A certain ringer called upon me a short time ago, and in the usual course of conversation on ringing matters, “THE BELL NEWS” came in for criticism. After remarking on the improvement in the paper, he said he liked reading the “Men and Manners” column, but “that there Jingle didn't wrap things up nicely; he hit out so hard and blunt.” I told him I would have it seen into, and he little thought he was talking to Jingle himself. I don't intend to “wrap things up nicely,” where there is a truth to be told, I shall tell it, however unpleasant it may be. I am told it is a welcome relief to turn from the drab sameness of ringing to something which may interest us all, although I don't expect everybody's opinions to be the same as mine. I would not screen a man's wrong doing because of his poverty, neither whitewash a rich man for the sake of his position. There is a deal of cud that wants chewing in the following lines:—

How much is he worth? Let death declare,
For death will come for the millionaire,
And naked and poor lies he.
The gold will drop from his cold dead hand,
He holds no title to home or land;
But a narrow bed of clay or sand
Out under the graveyard tree,
A worthless life by the world forgot,
A worthless body to mould and rot;
And a worthless soul to the weighing brought
In the scales of God—and then?

* * * *

How much is he worth? Let us reckon who care,
A larder scant and a coat threadbare,
And a shilling or two has he.
How much is he worth? Tell us who can!
May be less in the purse, but more in the man
To count in the world of men.
For worth is not in the things possessed,
'Tis the wealth of the mind, 'tis the heart in the breast;
'Tis the goodness that blesses and is blest,
Not poor, but rich 'tis then.

* * * *

Seventeenthly, my brethren, if you don't like my style, you have the option of trying to go one better, or to turn over the page and read the advertisements, which are fine food for the most profound reflection.

* * * *

You will see in this week's peal record that the St. Paul's company, Burton-on-Trent have accomplished a 5184 of London Surprise. You may say that is nothing uncommon with them, but I beg leave to observe that there is something more to follow. What I know of the grit of the Burton band leads me to say that they are on the war path after the scalps of the Oxonians, and there is going to be some fun. It has not yet been proved impossible to get a longer length than 11,328, and you will probably smile when I say—but I don't think I will say it; but just keep your eye on “THE BELL NEWS.” Verb sap. By the way, an excellent photo. of the Oxford long peal band is in course of preparation and will appear shortly.

Next week I shall stand down and give my colleagues a chance. “Plain Speaker” will trot to the front again, and “Free Lance,” having received a new coat of paint will once more be in evidence. “Old Contributor” may also smoke some strong navy cut and do some more musing what time I recuperate. So come out of your shells, my hearties, and do something, while I strike my harp ('tis rather the office gridiron, but t'will serve), and grind out some more copy and things for succeeding numbers. So for the time being I wave my hand, and away skips the fantastic
JINGLE.

WALTON-ON-THE-NAZE, ESSEX.

On October 8th the Bishop of St. Albans formally started a large new church clock here, which has four large dials, chimes the quarters, and strikes the hours. The clock has been made and fixed by John Smith and Son, Midland Clock Works, Derby, to the general designs of Lord Grimthorpe. It is expected that the clock will go to great accuracy.

ROCHDALE (Lancashire).—On Sunday evening, September 13th, for Divine Service at All Saints church, Hamer, 720 Bob Minor (forty-two singles) in 26 mins. Jno. Crossley, 1; R. Hoyle, 2; Jos. Crossley (conductor), 3; J. Lingard, 4; R. Whittles, 5; J. Marshall, 6.

WITNESHAM (Suffolk).—Recently at St. Mary's church, 360 Bob Minor. F. Addison, 1; J. Sadler, 2; W. Webb, 3; T. Sadler (Treeton, Yorks), 4; W. Dye, 5; G. Potter (conductor), 6. Great credit is due to this young band for the excellent ringing of the above, and also to Messrs. Potter and Dye for instructing them.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN, CHURCH BELL HANGER, AND TUNER. SALISBURY, WILTSHIRE.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN is a practical Ringer, and having had considerable experience in Church Bell hanging and tuning, with confidence solicits the patronage of the Clergy, Churchwardens and Ringers generally.

T. B. has devoted a great deal of attention to the fixing of Clock Hammers used for striking the hours and quarters on Church Bells. These are sometime placed in awkward and dangerous positions, even by Church Clock Makers.

T. BLACKBOURN'S experience enables him to affix these hammers, with their accompanying levers in a most accurate manner, preventing any danger to the bell frame or clock. He will be glad to advise on clocks as well as bells.

The Ellacombe Chime Hammers fixed. Sole Fixer of Salby's Apparatus for Silent practice. Handbells supplied. Bells weighed in the tower at a small cost.

A PEAL OF 362,880 GRANDSIRE CATERS, 6d.
Contains the full extent of changes on nine bells. Forwarded Post Free, on receipt of 7d By James Hewitt, 15, Chape Row, Gosport.

The Bell News & Ringers' Record.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1896.

A GREAT bereavement has, by the Divine will, been suffered by the whole Anglican Church throughout the world. On Monday last the community were startled and amazed by the tidings that the Archbishop of CANTERBURY had suddenly died on the previous day. The awful suddenness seemed to affect all who read or heard of the news. It may truly be said that the whole religious world felt a great shock at the intelligence, unexpected as it was surprising.

The particulars hardly need recapitulating. The Primate was a guest for a short time at Hawarden Castle, the seat of Mr. GLADSTONE. In the early morn of Sunday last he attended church, and received the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Afterwards at the mid-day service he was among the worshippers, and it was while this service was proceeding that he had the attack which in a very short period culminated in death.

In apparent health and seemingly vigorous for his age, very few signs were present that could lead any one to think that the deceased Primate had not many years of life before him. But the magnitude of his office; the constant strain, and anxiety that its duties should be performed accurately, religiously, and effectively; the continual inquietude and perplexity caused by hundreds of various subjects which absolutely necessitated his attention and care, would be sufficient to lead to a weakening of the vitality of any man. He is now at rest from his labours. The spot where, and the period when, he received the Master's call, create the most reverent and solemn thoughts. Not long before his death he had communed with his God in the highest and holiest ordinance of our Church; in God's own house, while worshipping Him shortly after, he received the summons—"Come up higher." We can picture the scene; and some of us perhaps would fain hope that our own last call may be similar, viz., while in the act of worshipping our Maker. Sudden death of this sort we cannot help thinking is sudden glory.

It is not necessary here to deal with the biography of the deceased prelate. We only need know, unfortunately, that our Church has lost a wise and kind leader, who occupied a position it is not very easy to fill. Our connection with the Church concerns us much with such unwelcome tidings. His Grace was not unknown to ringers, or the Exercise unknown to him. He was the President of the Surrey and Kent Associations, and had been so since his translation to the Primacy.

Composed by HENRY DAINS and Conducted by JAMES PARKER.

The performance was arranged by Mr. H. S. Thomas to commemorate the Harvest Festival. The composition is in three equal parts, and has the 4th and 6th the extent in 5-6. *First peal in the method. This is the first peal in the method on the bells. Messrs. Ward, Dench, and Parker formerly belonged to the Crawley band, Sussex, but are now resident in London.
[Mr. Parker, the conductor of this peal, very kindly explains the reason that the report of it was not sent earlier.]

Miscellaneous.

THE MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION.

CHIPPING BARNET (Herts).—On Monday, October 5th, for practice, 168 Grandsire Triples. A. E. Dolton, 1; H. S. Reeves (conductor), 2; W. J. Dell, 3; J. Sumpter, 4; J. Stevens, 5; J. W. Ginns, 6; A. Belton, 7; A. T. King, Esq., 8. And 210 in the same method. J. Stevens, 1; A. Chidwick, 2; F. A. Milne, Esq. (conductor), 3; W. J. Dell, 4; J. Sumpter, 5; A. E. Dolton, 6; J. W. Ginns, 7; E. Dolton, 8. Also three courses Stedman Triples. H. S. Reeves, 1; J. Sumpter, 2; F. A. Milne, Esq., 3; J. Stevens, 4; C. H. Martin, 5; J. W. Ginns, 6; A. Belton, 7; E. Dolton, 8. And 224 Bob Major. F. A. Milne, 1; J. Cornell, 2; H. S. Reeves, 3; J. Stevens, 4; J. Sumpter, 5; A. Belton, 6; J. W. Ginns, 7; C. H. Martin (conductor), 8. Mr. C. H. Martin hails from Hendon, Messrs. Cornell and Reeves from Finchley, and W. J. Dell from Hadley. On Thursday, October 8th, an attempt was made for a peal of Grandsire Triples, which unfortunately came to grief after ringing 2100 changes. C. H. Martin (conductor), 1; A. Chidwick, 2; W. Dell, 3; J. Stevens, 4; J. Sumpter, 5; A. Dolton, 6; A. Belton, 7; A. T. King, Esq., 8. Rung with the bells half-muffled as a mark of respect to the memory of the late Rev. F. C. Cass, rector of Hadley, who was interred in Hadley churchyard on Friday, October 9th.

THE PETERBOROUGH GUILD.

OAKHAM (Rutland).—On Saturday, September 26th, at All Saints' parish church, 120 Grandsire Doubles on the back six. J. Binks, 3; G. J. Martin, 4; E. G. Baker, 5; C. R. Lilley (conductor), 6; R. Rowell, 7; R. Squires, 8. The two trebles then being raised, 120 Grandsire on the front five, with 7-6-8 covering. R. Rowell, 1; C. R.

Lilley (conductor), 2; R. Squires, 3; G. J. Martin, 4; E. G. Baker, 5; F. Sewell, 6; J. Binks, 7; R. W. Baker, 8. And 360 in the following methods: 120 April Day, 120 Lincolnshire Singles, and 120 Plain Bob, standing as above. Also 480 as follows: 120 Lincolnshire Singles, 120 Grandsire, 120 Plain Bob, and 120 April Day. R. Rowell, 1; E. G. Baker, 2; R. Squires, 3; G. J. Martin, 4; C. R. Lilley (conductor), 5; G. Clarke, 6; J. Binks, 7; R. W. Baker, 8; 768 covering. And 120 Plain Bob and Grandsire, standing as before, except R. W. Baker, 6; and F. Sewell, 8. The bells were then lowered in peal by C. R. Lilley, 1; E. G. Baker, 2; R. Rowell, 3; G. J. Martin, 4; R. Squires, 5; — Dexter, 6; — Dexter, 7; R. W. Baker, 8. Tenor 21 cwt. in F. The bells are a very musical peal, difficult for change-ringing on the eight, on account of the position of the ropes, the back six being a good circle, the treble rope coming between the 3rd and 4th, and the 2nd between 4th and 5th. The Dexters are local men, and Messrs. R. W. Baker, Sewell, and Clark belong to Langham, the remainder to Peterborough. It is supposed to be the first in the method on the bells of Lincolnshire Singles and April Day. There is no change-ringing company here. The ringers wish to thank the Vicar, the Rev. F. Baggallay, for the use of the bells, and the Churchwardens and local ringers for having everything in readiness.

LANGHAM (Rutland).—On Saturday, September 26th, by invitation from Mr. R. W. Baker, six members paid a visit here, and rang at SS. Peter and Paul, 120 Grandsire Doubles. J. Binks, 1; G. J. Martin, 2; E. G. Baker, 3; R. Squires, 4; C. R. Lilley (conductor), 5; H. Hodgson, 6. A date touch was also attempted and lost through the tower door being opened. And 860 changes in the following methods: 120 April Day, 480 Plain Bob, and 260 Grandsire Doubles. R. Rowell, 1; G. J. Martin, 2; E. G. Baker, 3; C. R. Lilley (conductor), 4; R. Squires, 5; R. W. Baker, 6. Tenor 16 cwt. And two courses of Grandsire Minor. J. Binks, 1; G. J. Martin, 2; E. G. Baker, 3; R. Squires, 4; R. Rowell, 5; C. R. Lilley (conductor), 6. The ringers then visited Mr. Baker's house and sat down to another peal, "go" being called, and all coming into rounds. After the cloth was removed, the handbells were brought into use; then another visit to the tower, and 240 Grandsire Doubles. C. R. Lilley (conductor), 1; R. W. Baker, 2; E. G. Baker, 3; G. J. Martin, 4; F. Sewell, 5; R. Squires, 6. And 480 in the following methods: 120 April Day, 120 Lincolnshire Singles, 120 Grandsire, and 120 Plain Bob. R. Rowell, 1; G. J. Martin, 2; E. G. Baker, 3; R. Squires, 4; C. R. Lilley (conductor), 5; R. W. Baker, 6. Also 120 Grandsire. R. Squires (conductor), 1; R. W. Baker, 2; E. G. Baker, 3; G. J. Martin, 4; R. Rowell, 5; A. Buttrey (Oakham), 6. The bells being lowered in peal, a visit was then made to Oakham. Messrs. R. W. Baker, Sewell, and Hodgson belong to Langham, where there is a very sweet peal in the key of G. Tenor 16 cwt. This is supposed to be the first in the methods of Lincolnshire Singles and April Day on the bells. The ringers wish to thank Mr. Baker for his kindness in making all arrangements and having everything in readiness, also to the Vicar (Rev. F. Baggallay) and Churchwardens.

PETERBOROUGH.—On Tuesday, September 29th, at St. Mary's church, for practice, 720 of Plain Bob Minor (eighteen bobs and two singles) in 28 mins. G. J. Martin, 1; C. R. Lilley (conductor), 2; E. G. Baker, 3; R. Squires, 4; A. Johnson, 5; W. T. Johnson, 6. Tenor 8½ cwt. This is the first 720 by the Guild, and longest length in the methods. First 720 by E. G. Baker and first on an inside bell by R. Squires. On Thursday evening, September 24th, for harvest festival, 120 Grandsire Doubles. R. Squires, 1; G. Baker, 2; E. G. Baker, 3; J. Binks, 4; C. R. Lilley (conductor), 5; G. T. Martin, 6. And touches of Bob Minor. W. Johnson, 6; the rest as before. After service, 120 Grandsire. G. Martin, 1; C. R. Lilley (conductor), 2; E. G. Baker, 3; G. Baker, 4; R. Squires, 5; J. Binks, 6. On Sunday, September 27th, 120 in the same method. G. Baker, 1; R. Squires, 2; E. G. Baker, 3; C. R. Lilley, 4; G. Martin, 5; G. Terrell, 6.

THE OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

BRADFELD (Berks).—On Saturday, October 3rd, on the occasion of the annual meeting of the Bradfield Deanery Branch, 720 Oxford Bob Minor. W. Lucas, 1; E. Bruce, 2; F. Richardson, 3; H. Keal, 4; W. Horne, 5; J. Hatto (conductor), 6. And 720 Plain Bob, in which Messrs. Giles, and Tucker (Reading), and E. Holloway (Bradfield), took part. Also 120 each of College Single, and Canterbury Pleasure. W. Lucas, 1; W. Horne, 2; F. Richardson, 3; H. Keal, 4; E. Bruce, 5; J. Hatto (conductor), 6.

MORTIMER (Berks).—On Tuesday, September 1st, the Beenham ringers visited this place to have a pull on the new bells at St. John's, and also on the fine peal of eight at the parish church. Time would not permit going for a 720 at the new church, owing to a service being held there, so touches of Grandsire Doubles were rung, and the bells lowered in peal. On arriving at the parish church, where Mr. H. Cox the foreman, was in waiting, an attempt was made for a 720 of Plain Bob, with 7-8 covering, which came to grief after ringing over half-way. Afterwards a 720 of Oxford Bob Minor was rung on the back six. W. Lucas, 1; F. Richardson, 2; W. Horne, 3; H. Keal, 4; E. Bruce, 5; J. Hatto (conductor), 6. Also 720 Plain Bob standing as before. And several 6-scores of Grandsire Doubles, with F. Wigmore at the tenor.

To the Editor of "THE BELL NEWS AND RINGERS' RECORD."

Re THE RINGING AT A CHURCH IN THE EASTERN EXTREMITY OF THE CITY.

SIR,—Your contributor is a man who has gained all the knowledge he requires, and therefore don't care a button as regards a young ringer. I am a member of a Church situated as above, and all are anxious to learn half-pull ringing; but when we have such men in the ringing world as your contributor, how can you expect young ringers to get on? We have often asked ringers to come and help us, but our meeting night falling on one of the principal meetings of a larger Society, we have to put up with Extremity Surprise. But if your contributor will condescend to lower his dignity and come and help instead of passing remarks, we shall deem it a most gentlemanly action.

W. CLOW.

Obituary.

FRANK MUMFORD.

It is with regret that the members of the Birmingham Amalgamated Society have to report the death of one of their members, viz., Mr. Frank Mumford, who died on September 29th, of pneumonia, aged 32 years. Deceased began ringing with the above Society in the Jubilee year, and scored his first peal on November 21st, 1891, as a Midland Counties Association peal at Rowley Regis, and conducted by John Carter. Since then he has rang the tenor in several peals of Caters and Triples, also the treble in peals of Caters; in all he has rang about fifteen peals. Frank was always acknowledged a good striker, and was in regular attendance at the service ringing at St. Philip's church, where he will be missed very much. He was interred at his native village parish church, Harford Bridge, near Shipston-on-Stour, on Saturday, October 3rd, and by his own wish was borne to the grave by three of his brother strings, Messrs. Sparker, Hitchman, and Jennings, and also an old friend—Mr. Walter Hughes. Deceased was conveyed by road from Birmingham, a distance of thirty miles, and the coffin was covered with beautiful wreaths from Birmingham friends, including one in the shape of a bell from his brother ringers of St. Philip's church. An attempt was made on Tuesday, October 6th, for a peal of Stedman Triples at Harborne (it being the tower where deceased rang his last peal on August 15th, and conducted by Mr. John Jennings), with the bells muffled, but it came to grief after 50 minutes ringing, owing to a change-course. The bells of St. John's, Deritend, were also muffled on Friday, and arrangements are being made to attempt a peal at St. Philip's, Birmingham.

JOHN C. TRUSS, SEN.

Mine host of The Two Brewers, Great Marlow, Bucks, died on Thursday evening, last week, after an illness of eight weeks, from which there was little hope of his recovery from the first. The deceased was a well-known member of the Society of College Youths, London, and the Oxford Diocesan Guild, attending most of the meetings of the latter society; and was an excellent caterer for many ringing societies from London and the neighbouring counties who visited this river-side town for their annual day's outing, accommodation being provided in a spacious room, which may be termed a change ringers' parlour, containing a fine peal of handbells, its walls hung with pictures, portraits and records of peals in which the deceased (and his two sons John and William) have taken a part. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon, the vicar, the Rev. H.O.F. Whittingstall officiating. During the procession to the church a muffled peal (whole pull and stand), was rang by the Marlow company, under the mastership of A. H. Cocks, Esq. The coffin bore the inscription:—

JOHN CLARK TRUSS, Died October 8th, 1896, Aged 63 years.

It was covered with wreaths of flowers from sorrowing relatives and friends, and was followed to the grave, situated beside the belfry door, by the widow and five children, a brother and sister, a nephew and niece, and several other relations, brother-tradesmen and friends, amongst the latter several ringers from Wooburn and Slough.

Immediately after the funeral, the last 720 of Holt's Original Grandsire Triples was rang by the following members of the District Guild: C. Green, 1; H. Collins, 2; E. Jones, 3; J. Garrell, 4; H. Collins, 5; A. E. Nye, 6; W. H. Fussell (conductor), 7; W. E. Yates, tenor; and the bells lowered in peal.

The Truss family is an ancient one in the parish of Marlow. The father of deceased was sexton for 34 years, and succeeded in the office by a brother. Needless to say they were all ringers, and their sons after them, a band of six Trusses frequently meeting for a spell at the old system of call changes, and in later years half a band for Grandsire or Stedman Triples being provided by the family. John Clark Truss was a man big and strong of stature with a jovial face and a good heart, was a keen ringer and fond of good striking, a constant lover of bells and ringing of any kind. He learned to ring at a very early age, but not till he was turned 50 did he attempt change-ringing. So much was his determination and energy at his advanced years, that he took part in 17 peals in all, including Triples, Caters and Major, ringing two peals in one day in his 56th year. His first was rang October 20th, 1883, and his last, an event he has often been heard to say was the greatest ambition of his life, was a peal by all natives of the town of Marlow, rang December 5th, 1894. He was one of the old Society who resigned office owing to a reduction of their fees, with the curtailing of other church expenses, not agreeable to the old hands, but, he was soon a member of the new society formed in 1881 under the then vicar, the Rev. A. Fearon, and he eventually was the first Marlow man to ring a peal of 5000 changes. He was looked upon as a father of ringers in the district around, and his death removes a strong link connecting the old school with the new, a link which has helped to support bell-ringing in its lowest and its most flourishing times.

AN APPEAL.

We are asked to insert the following copy of circular:—

GENTLEMEN,—We beg to appeal to your Society on behalf of David Wilson, who has not followed his employment for the last ten months, being afflicted with hip disease. He is in need of your sympathy and generous support. His abilities as a change-ringer, and his willingness to take part in all that tends to promote the Art of change-ringing, is too well known to need any special mention here. Hoping you will place this before your company as soon as possible.—We remain, yours,

G. THORNTON, W. SMITH,
W. BANHAM, W. STAINTHORPE.
F. W. CROSSLEY, J. WEST,
W. RHODES, W. H. HOLMES.

Contributions must be sent to John West, Bradford Road, Birstall, near Leeds.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

THE KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.—ANNUAL MEETING OF THE LEWISHAM BRANCH.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

In point of numbers the meeting at Lewisham on Saturday last was the most successful ever held in the district, between sixty and seventy members from all parts of the county and the metropolis attending. The bells, which were half-muffled on account of Archbishop Benson's demise, were kept going in various methods from 3.30 p.m., the ringing-chamber at all times being inconveniently crowded, and everyone appearing in the best of spirits. Few were prepared for the startling, almost dramatic developments of the business meeting later in the day, developments which will probably be the chief topic for discussion in ringing circles generally for some time to come. A general move was made at 6 p.m. to the Parish Hall, a commodious, lofty, well-lighted building in close proximity to the church, where an excellent tea had been provided. Immediately after the meal the Vicar of Lewisham (Rev. S. Bickersteth, M.A.) took the chair, supported on his right by Mr. William Bedwell the District Secretary, and on his left by the Curate of St. Alfege, Greenwich (Rev. G. J. Bayley, M.A.). The reverend gentleman, in opening the proceedings, made sympathetic allusion to the loss sustained by the English Church in the death of the Primate, who also was President of the Association. Minor details soon disposed of, the Secretary made his Annual Report, which appeared satisfactory to the meeting, although for some reason the number of peals rang by the district did not transpire. Crayford was chosen in preference to Woolwich for the next meeting in January, and Mr. G. Conyard was re-elected Representative upon the Central Committee of the Association.

Mr. F. W. Thornton proposed the re-election of Mr. W. Bedwell as District Secretary, remarking that that gentleman had proved himself a worthy successor to the Rev. Teignmouth Shore, and thought they could safely entrust him with the business of the district for another term. The motion was duly seconded and agreed to, Mr. Bedwell briefly acknowledging the honour.

Mr. E. O. Masters (of Woolwich) asked leave to announce that a Special Service for Ringers would be held at St. Mary's Church, Woolwich, on Saturday next, the 24th inst., and hoped that members would attend. Ringers from any part would be heartily welcomed, the tower being at disposal from 3 p.m.

Thus far, all had gone "as merry as a marriage bell," but had a thunderbolt burst into the hall, it would not have caused greater consternation than when at the call of the Chairman—

Mr. F. W. Thornton rose and moved—"That the attention of the Honorary Secretary to the Association be drawn to the practice which for some time past has prevailed amongst certain of its members of calling peals from the manuscript, and respectfully urges upon that gentleman the necessity of instituting an exhaustive enquiry as to the bona fides of the so-called conductors, before accepting their performances as legitimate Association peals for record in the peal-book and Annual Report." Mr. Thornton prefaced his speech by stating that although he might hit hard he desired it to be understood that he was prompted solely by a sense of duty to take that step, and not from jealousy or animosity. For over two years this practice of calling peals from manuscript had been common among certain members with the result that numerous peals had been successfully rung, and the so-called conductors risen high in the estimation of their brethren who however were totally ignorant of the means adapted to ensure these wonderful successes and the accompanying honours. He proceeded at some length to substantiate his statements by relating instances which had come under his observation, including one at Erith a short time since, where the bob-caller had carefully affixed the figures of the peal near at hand, and he (the speaker) on protesting very forcibly against the use of them and declining to ring, was told he knew nothing about the matter, a further statement being made that it was always done in that particular part of the county. Mr. Thornton stated a similar experience he had at Tunbridge Wells, and quoted a list of instances where peals had been successfully rung, in each case the calls being made from papers bearing the course or part-ends and calling of the entire peals. Stedman at Erith, Treble Bob at Westerham, Woolwich, etc., Oxford Bob Triples at Lewisham and Greenwich, and a simple twelve-part peal of Grandsire Triples at Lewisham, all were conducted (?) by the aid of manuscript, and the list if properly compiled would be a most formidable one. He contended that this questionable practice was bringing change-ringing to the lowest possible level, and dragging the name of Science down into the dust. It was doubtless most pleasing to see one's name at or near the head of the list of conductors for the year, and to be told that people referred to you as "that clever young ringer who calls all the new compositions so easily." But he (the speaker) felt that all the honour, distinction and popularity, purchased at the price which these gentlemen had paid, was not worth having. While they had been throwing dust in the eyes of the Exercise they had also been deceiving themselves. He appealed most earnestly to them to put aside such detestable practices, if not for the honour of the Association, at least for their own self-respect, and in the future do their part in ringing fairly and above board so that they could say fearlessly, "Ye know that our record is true." It might perhaps be that by his action that day he would lose the friendship of many with whom for years he had associated, and with whom the happiest hours of his ringing career had been spent; that he should deeply deplore. But whatever the outcome, he should have the satisfaction to know that in bringing the matter before that gathering, and through them to the Association and the whole ringing community, he had only endeavoured to fulfil what he considered was his bounden duty as a change-ringer and an Englishman.

The Rev. G. J. Bayley, M.A., met with a cordial reception on rising to second the resolution. He trusted that Mr. Thornton's fears as to loss of friendship would not be realised, and congratulated him upon the temperate manner in which he had carried out a very unpleasant duty. He hoped the practices complained of would at once be dropped by those who had recourse to them, as unfair and unworthy the use of all true ringers. There could not possibly be Art in using such guides for the accomplishment of their peals. The mover of the resolution had wisely and carefully avoided publishing the names of individuals and he hoped the motion, which had his hearty support, would be adopted, with a beneficial result to the interests of the Association.

Mr. W. Weatherstone supported the motion, remarking when he desired to call the ten-part he had to trust memory alone. Let them put all their calling, course-ends, partends, etc., into their brain-box, and conduct their peals straightforwardly.

Mr. William Bedwell announced that he was one of the culprits who used manuscript from which to call, and certainly did not see much harm in doing so, saving as it did many peals which otherwise would be lost. A good many of his friends did the same and it ought not to have been taken exception to. He was to call the peal at Erith alluded to, but did not put up a three-part composition as stated.

There being no other speakers, Mr. Thornton, replying to Mr. Bedwell, said that he had on his manuscript at Erith the course-ends, together with one-part of the calling, which was twice repeated. That composition was published only a few days later, letter for letter and figure for figure as Mr. Bedwell had it at Erith, and he challenged him to disprove it.

Notwithstanding that a few abstained from voting, the resolution upon being put was carried amid loud applause, by an overwhelming majority, about six hands only being held up against it. The usual compliment to the Chairman closed the proceedings, and an adjournment made to the church were an eloquent discourse was delivered to the members by the Vicar, from the text,—"Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep." After service, ringing was indulged in until 9.30, but long after that time groups of ringers were still discussing the situation, the freely expressed opinion being that a step had been taken in the right direction. On leaving the hall after the meeting, the proposer of the resolution was thanked by several prominent ringers for his sturdy protest against "bogus conducting." The matter has been subject to much comment in the metropolitan ringing centres during the week, and the proceedings at the meeting appears to have given satisfaction to a large body of the Exercise.

THE SURREY ASSOCIATION.—QUARTERLY MEETING AT BANSTEAD.

The picturesque little Church of All Saints, with its quaint tower and fine peal of eight bells was on Saturday, the 10th inst., roused from its ordinary quiet by the visit of some 40 members of the above association. Situated as it is just off a quiet country lane (although some said it was the Epsom Road) with its peaceful churchyard, and the Vicarage adjoining, where might be seen the fowls and ducks running about, taking little heed of the strangers who were soon in possession of the belfry, it seemed almost as if we had been deposited some 50 miles away in the country. Indeed, some such remarks as the following were heard. "Well, where are we now?" "Why don't you know?" "Well, I like to know where I am."

And so it appeared afterwards, for at tea everyone seemed to know where he was then, although outside was dark, everything was bright within. The usual formal business followed.

Mr. W. Short, of Wareham, was elected a life member. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the bells. It was proposed that the next, which is the Annual meeting, should be held at Putney early in January, 1897.

The Secretary gave notice that at the next meeting he would move a resolution, re a Master.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Chairman, Mr. H. Brooker (Croydon), who it is needless to add, conducted the business of the meeting to the satisfaction of all present.

EAST DERBYSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday, October 17th, 1896, a special ringing meeting of this Association was held at Ripley, ringers being present from North Wingfield, Tibshelf, Clay Cross, South Normanton, Horsley, and Ripley. The bells had been kindly placed at the disposal of members during the day by the Rev. W. E. Bradstock, Vicar.

As a tribute of respect to the late Archbishop of Canterbury, the bells were rang half-muffled the whole day, the mufflers made of solid leather being made and supplied by Mr. H. George of Ripley, who would be pleased to supply any other tower, on application, with price list. Several were on view in the belfry and were considered an improvement on the old style.

The bells—a musical ring of five in F, were cast and erected in 1866, by Taylor and Co., the addition of a treble or even three more to make eight would make a peal worthy of the town. The greatest credit reflects on the local ringers, and also the tower-keeper, Mr. H. George, for the beautiful way everything is fitted up in the belfry, which has the appearance of a nicely fitted drawing-room, with the beautiful plants growing in pots, and placed in the windows; our ringing celebrities, which have appeared in "THE BELL NEWS" not being forgotten, all the photos being placed in elegant oak frames at the expense of the ringers. All present spoke in high terms of the painstaking tower-keeper, who spares neither time nor expense to make the belfry and ringers comfortable. The bells were kept going to Grandsire, Bob Doubles, Stedman, Manchester, &c., one and all being unanimous in thanking the Vicar for use of bells, and all concerned for other comforts during the day. [The following lines from the Harvard (U.S.) "Graduates Magazine" of September, 1896, has been sent to us by the writer, Dr. Nichols, of Boston, U.S.A. It is with much pleasure we reproduce them for the benefit of our readers. Dr. Nichols, while in London a few months ago, sought an interview with the Editor of this paper, who found the Doctor a warm enthusiast on bells. Every one who reads the following will hope that his efforts to popularise the Art in his Country may meet with success.]

SCIENTIFIC CHANGE-RINGING.

"What notes more lively can our senses know,
Than the loud changes which melodious flow
From Bride's, St. Martin's, Michael's, Over's, Bow."

"MEMORIAL HALL, which from an historic standpoint constitutes the crowning glory of the buildings composing the University, stands in one respect incomplete, for its campanile has never received the ring of bells contemplated in the original scheme, and for which this part of the edifice was especially designed. Answering to no requirement, unless to point out by its multiple bannerets the direction of the wind, this empty belfry thrusts itself persistently upon our attention, but one seeks in vain to discern any adequate reason for its existence.

"And yet it is creditable to the sagacity of the projectors of this monument to our honored alumni that this part of the original plan was permitted to lapse. Fortunately for the University, it was appreciated that campanology in all its branches was at that time, so far as concerns America, an art comparatively unknown and absolutely unstudied. It is an ungracious task to have to speak disparagingly of any class of our artisans, but regard for veracity compels the admission that the United States, while leading the world in many branches of mechanical art, has been lamentably backward in everything appertaining to bell-founding; for up to the present time not a single ring of bells has here been cast suited to the exercise of change-ringing. In recognition, then, of this delinquency, it was wisely concluded that any disbursement made for bells would inevitably lead to disappointment.

"Scientific change-ringing had indeed been introduced in colonial days in Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, but was suspended with the opening of the Revolution, and became thereafter not merely a lost, but even forgotten art. Toward the close of the last century, Paul Revere, who had acquired some experience in casting small articles of bronze, extended his enterprise to church-bells, and managed occasionally to turn out a fair-toned instrument, such as that of King's Chapel, Boston, which produces a minor cord with dominant corresponding nearly to E flat. To the untutored ear, these notes can be demonstrated by sounding them on a trombone near the bell, which thus emits a consonant sound, in accordance with the familiar law of acoustics. During the last half-century, American founders have essayed to cast what they are pleased to denominate "chimes," made up of a series of bells more or less perfectly attuned to the diatonic scale, and fastened rigidly to horizontal beams, as was the custom centuries ago in China. But in these combinations, the heavy bells, being of disproportionate weight, tend to overpower the upper tintinnabula; and as the alloy is often unhomogeneous, the vibration is of short duration, and the sound consequently harsh. Possibly, some persons may experience pleasurable sensations from listening to the plain-sailing melodies executed by a single performer, generally the sexton, on chimes, achievements upon which are about on a par with those on a triangle. To the apprehension of the genuine bell-lover, however, they are defective and unsatisfactory, because in bells thus struck, when at rest with mouth downward, the over-tones are inadequately brought out. Hence it happens that the jargon of dissonant sounds proceeding from our church towers thus furnished has gradually distorted the popular conception of bell-music, and rendered hostile to it those having musical taste.

"The success of the grotesque scheme for the construction of the so-called American Liberty Bell furnishes a striking instance of unthinking, unreasoning ignorance in the matter of campanology. In this case, in response to a bombastic appeal, numerous persons were induced to part with valuable heirlooms of gold and silver, under the delusion that these substances, being added to the amalgam, would sweeten the tone of the bell, as water is sweetened by the addition of a lump of sugar. And this nonsense found indorsers in the unsophisticated committee of scientists of the Chicago Exposition, who actually awarded a diploma and gold medal to this colossal humbug, not only for its 'patriotic conception,' but also 'for its historic and intrinsic value.' As to the culpability of the bell-founders, who tacitly encouraged this proposed vandalism, I will quote from the catalogue issued by them in 1883 their own criticism on this sweetening business, that they may be condemned out of their own mouths: 'The long experience of ancients, as well as the careful test of late years, has clearly proved that copper and tin are the only metals capable of producing a ringing alloy. Iron and steel, and even silver and gold, frequently entered into the composition in whole or in part, but solely to the injury of the tone.'

"Another prominent founder betrays his imperfect qualifications in the essentials of his craft by proclaiming that his bells produce but one tone, adding, 'What would be thought of a church organ the pipes of which each produce two or more tones? The defect is just as great in a bell as in an organ.'

"The ignorance betrayed in this extraordinary declaration is almost incredible, for the existence of harmonic or over-tones of bells, dependent upon the diameter of the concentric rings composing the instrument, was understood even by the founders of the thirteenth century.

"But if in the United States campanology has never excited interest, no less remarkable is its decadence in Belgium, where in certain details the art was brought to perfection in the seventeenth century. Though the famous carillons of Antwerp, Bruges, Mechlin, Louvain, and Tournay still hang in their belfries, mechanically played like a hand-organ, the general introduction of other instruments, together with the development of band, orchestra, piano, and organ, have tended to banish the popular love for these bells. The art of playing them has thus gradually declined, until the master compositions of Matthias van den Gheyn are now regarded as musical curiosities beyond the skill of any living performer. And even in England, where bell-ringing has been at all times cultivated, many circumstances serve to explain if not to justify the allegation of Lord Grimthorpe, that this art, in so far as concerns the proper construction, shape, composition, and the best modes of hanging, 'had sunk to a lower ebb thirty or forty years ago than it had reached in the thousand years or more since large bells were first made.'

"It is gratifying to be able to record that the last fifteen years has witnessed a complete rejuvenescence in this art, which so recently bade fair to become virtually lost. Stimulated to renewed activity and vigor by the newly-awakened interest among the ancient guilds, and the formation of new ringing-clubs, several old English firms, such as Messrs. Mears & Stainbank, of Whitechapel, Taylor of Loughborough, Warner of Cripplegate, Barwell and Carr of Birmingham, and others, have produced rings of bells pronounced equal to those of the most celebrated ancient founders. Numerous treatises, both elementary and advanced, have been published, designed to impart instruction in the mysteries of change-ringing, while an ably conducted journal, THE BELL NEWS, furnishes a weekly record of achievements therein.

"In view, then, of this recent musical revolution, I venture to suggest to the alumni that the time is at length opportune for consummating the glorious conception of Harvard's lofty bell-tower, and supplying the Faculty and undergraduates with a novel and superior source of recreation, the practice of which has been said by that erudite composer, Jasper W. Snowdon, to give 'full scope to the exercise of the intellectual as well as the physical powers.' Such a tuneful ring, forming as it were an aerial orchestra of perfect instruments flinging its sweet concord of sounds for miles around, would serve to give dignified utterance to Harvard's exultations and celebrations, and with the 'half-muffled peal' commemorate, as can be done so impressively in no other way, occasions of sadness and mourning.

"To many it has probably not occurred to analyze the cause of that unique and exquisite delight afforded by the music of a ring of bells in full swing, as heard from the London steeples or from many a village tower in England. It may be stated, then, that this superiority and grandeur of tone lies largely in the character and perfection of the major and minor chords, transmitted through the air in a succession of rhythmical wave-sounds. The chords emitted by each bell are composed of from four to seven notes, depending upon its weight and shape, and to the practised ear these over-tones are distinguished from the key-note as readily as if sounded consecutively. Moreover, in dealing with tower-bells, no provision for transposition of key is necessary. Hence each bell can be tuned to the natural scale in strict accordance with the mathematical laws of acoustics. The result is that perfect intonation which harmonizes exactly with the human voice or with stringed instruments. To those familiar with the principles of harmony, it is unnecessary to explain that no such perfect intonation can be produced, or is even attempted, upon our piano, organ, or other fixed instruments in which the subdivisions of the octave are distributed among all the tones in accordance with a purely artificial scale of temperament, as it is designated. On our key-board, for example, A and B, two separate notes, invariably recognized as such on the violin, by the human voice, and even upon all Japanese instruments, are blended in one note. Now the correct interval between these two notes, consisting of several 'commas,' is still further increased when the key is changed from C to F, and with a corresponding increase of error. By the general adoption of this false scale of temperament, in which the fifty-three real subdivisions of the octave are represented by only twelve intervals called semitones, our ears have gradually lost their natural predilection for the true scale until they have come to prefer the wrong to the right. The Japanese, trained to a much finer appreciation of delicate gradations, affirm that they cannot listen with complacency to the discordant notes of our piano and organ. It will thus be apparent that the bell, by reason of its superior accuracy and volume of sound, may be made to educate the public to an appreciation of correct musical notes; and it possesses the further advantage of keeping itself in tune as long as it exists, not being susceptible to changes of temperature, or to deterioration in tone from use.

"In this brief suggestive appeal, I may not aspire to convey any extended idea of the peculiar characteristics of this branch of musical art, now cultivated in England by organized societies numbering in the aggregate more than 30,000 devotees. Its code of notation consists either of columns of figures or of vertical colored lines, by which the groups of sounds may be comprehended and the paths of the different bells traced throughout the peregrinations which constitute a peal. Numerous technical terms must be acquired, and upon paper and with hand-bells must be studied the rules of the various methods, some details of which, like certain algebraical formulæ, must be committed to memory. When, however, the perfect management of his bell and a knowledge of these preliminary principles have been mastered, the ringer finds at his command a new accomplishment, susceptible of indefinite elaboration. As with classical music, the intelligent comprehension of this art must be largely a matter of time and training, though this educational process will be simplified if the student is the possessor of what is termed a 'bell ear,' by which is meant that physical organization requisite for the reception of this particular music. To such will be presented a sequence of polyphonic combinations, interspersed with snatches of brilliant melody, endless in variety and of extraordinary complexity. This musical kaleidoscope appeals to the intellect rather than to the feeling. Offering no scope for individual 'interpretation' or emotional or passionate 'rendering,' its faithful execution must correspond with mathematical accuracy to its composition.

"From an athletic standpoint, change-ringing occupies a high position, best compared, perhaps, with rowing at moderate pace, bringing into gentle play nearly every muscle in the body. Inasmuch as the rhythm or stroke of the bells is maintained throughout a peal at nearly a uniform rate, there can be no danger of physical strain. The skilled ringer, when once his bell has been 'set,' or raised to the perpendicular, guides almost unconsciously its subsequent oscillations, by a delicate touch and an exact knowledge of its movements and peculiarities rather than by the expenditure of brute force. Unlike the prosaic work of the gymnasium, the intellectual faculties are here continuously employed and developed to the highest degree, as in the solution of mathematical problems. The ringer must know the 'duty' of his bell in any composition, and regulate its course and stroke through its various permutations. He must cultivate what is called 'ropesight,' which involves the quick perception of the movements of the arms and ropes of his comrades, and above all he must keep an eye on the 'observation' bell which signals the various alterations in the order of stroke essential to the successful production of a true peal. This fascinating exercise does not exist, therefore, in merely pulling on a rope: it appeals pre-eminently to cultivated intellects, to professional men, and above all to mathematicians; for no more interesting problems can be imagined than those presented by the intricate changes of a complete peal.

"The first peal of 'maximus,' or perfect performance on twelve bells, was rung at St. Bride's, London, February 26, 1726, and it is recorded that, while all the ringers were of high position, the heaviest (tenor) bell was rung by Benjamin Annable, professor of mathematics at Cambridge and a prolific composer. Admiral Sir Francis Geary, who fifty years later commanded the grand fleet, rang with the 'College Youths' a successful peal on these same bells about the year 1730. Sir Matthew Hale, Lord Chief Justice of the Court of King's Bench, is said to have belonged to a company of ringers; John Bunyan rang the fourth bell at Elstow.

"Unlike the more violent and dangerous sports, which are dropped when the surplus energy of youth begins to wane, this exercise, once acquired, is usually kept up throughout life, and many full peals have been scored by men all of whom had passed the meridian. Of the expert ringers at whose performance of a faultless peal of 'Stedman Triples' I was present when in London last year, the names of the greater number were famous among the ringing fraternity a  $\frac{1}{2}$  of a century ago.

"To collegians this exercise will commend itself from the fact that it is said to have begun with the students of Cambridge, which was the home of Fabian Stedman, known as the father of the science; and college men have ever proved its most enthusiastic promoters. The first complete ring of five bells set up in England was given, in 1456, to King's College, and they remained until 1750 the heaviest ring in the kingdom. The Ancient Guild of College Youths, which has just celebrated its 258th anniversary and was never in a more flourishing state, is believed to have been founded by students, as its name suggests. The oldest peal-board but one extant is in the porch of St. Margaret's, Westminster, and commemorates a performance, in the year 1751, of the society of Union Scholars. The Royal Cumberland Youths were formerly known as London Scholars, while the names of other guilds in the provinces, such as Eastern Scholars, Twickenham Scholars, and Hertford College Youths, will illustrate to what an extent this art found favor among the collegians of the last century.

"The Oxford University Society, founded in 1872 by Chas. A. W. Troyte, has since attained a fair standard of performance, using for evening practice the bells of New College. Christ Church possesses in addition to 'Great Tom' the ten historically celebrated bells, now four centuries old, all taken from Osprey Abbey. In Merton's great central tower hang ten bells cast in 1680, of which the heaviest is said to be equalled in mellowness of tone only by the 'matchless tenor of Lavenham;' and Magdalen has another fine-toned ring of ten. In a recent letter describing the mode of practice and work accomplished by the Oxford undergraduates, Mr. James W. Washbrook, their accomplished maestro, adverts to the invaluable service of the collegians in stimulating a love for the art in various parts of the country. 'I know,' he says, 'that if the science of ringing were once firmly established at Harvard, it would undoubtedly become as much esteemed in America as it now is in England.' The Cambridge University Society, composed of undergraduates, has also attained an honorable stand, having rung its first successful peal in 1886.

"Ten thousand dollars and a period of five months should suffice to supply Harvard with a ring of bells equal in power and tunefulness to those of the English universities. In another five months a band of ringers under a competent teacher might be trained in one of the simpler standard methods, such as 'Grandsire Triples' or 'Treble Bob Major,' though efficiency in the "Surprise," or more intricate compositions, can only be attained after years of assiduous practice. May we not hope, then, that some loyal graduate will promptly embrace this opportunity to express his regard for our Alma Mater by generously providing means for the cultivation of this elevating science, and thereby mark a fresh date in the College history. What simpler method for transmitting one's name to posterity than by raising on high such a veritable monumentum aereum sempiternum?

"Regard for ancient customs will probably require the time-honoured march of the Alumni on Commencement to be preceded by the vulgar strains of a hireling band. When hereafter, however, the venerable vanguard of this triumphant column shall have approached, on this auspicious day, the portals of our Thespian temple, then let these mercenary performers give way to the more sympathetic volunteers chosen from the Harvard University Guild. Responsive to the artistic touch of these undergraduates, tons of resonant metal shall then replace the puny blare of trumpets, and a symphony from a more tuneful orchestra shall thrill the enraptured line with that majestic harmony which has been said to approach the nearest to the celestial 'music of the spheres!'

"ARTHUR H. NICHOLS,

"Member of the Ancient Society of College Youths."

THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.—FYLDE BRANCH.

Last Saturday, October 17th, the above branch held their quarterly meeting at Kirkham, the bells of the parish church being placed at the disposal of the members from 3 o'clock by the Rev. Canon Mason. Shortly after this hour the bells were going in Grandsire Triples, Plain Bob Minor, College Single and Grandsire Minor. Subsequently after tea the meeting was held at The Black Horse hotel. After having a good spread and each one being quite satisfied, the Rev. J. Barker was voted to the chair (being an honorary member) and was supported by Canon Mason, Mr. Robert Cookson the captain of the Kirkham Company, and the Branch Secretary (J. Fell, Lytham).

Mr. Barker in a few well chosen remarks welcomed the branch to Kirkham, and spoke of the ringer's office as being equal to the choir. He should like the ringers to attend Divine Service more frequently, and also become communicants.

Canon Mason here offered a few remarks of an historical nature, which was listened to with great interest. Kirkham Church was a very old church, and the minute book of the vestry contained some very interesting entries of payments, such as ringing after the battle of Culloden, when the men were paid 12s. for ringing; and instanced other such curious items not without interest to the company.

The Chairman then said perhaps the Branch Secretary would offer a few words.

The Secretary said he was sorry that their ringing master, Mr. Clitheroe, of Blackpool, was not with them that day, for he wished to compliment him on his recent marriage, and hoped that he and his wife might enjoy very much happiness in the future.

The Secretary then said that the branch had grown so much that they were entitled to have a representative on the Committee of the Lancashire Association, and that honour had fallen upon Mr. G. Maries, of Lytham. He did not think that they could have found a more suitable person in the branch to see to their interests, and hoped Mr. Maries would do his best to raise the standard of ringing in this district, which might be one of the best branches in the Association.

The place for next meeting being Blackpool, in January, Canon Mason was thanked very heartily for his kindness in allowing the use of the bells, who said he should be glad at any time to welcome the branch, and thought little meetings such as they had that day made the members think of each other as brothers.

Mr. J. Fell proposed a vote of thanks to the Chairman for his address, this was seconded by Mr. Maries and carried.

The Chairman in replying, said he hoped that the next time the branch visited Kirkham, Canon Mason and himself might be spared to welcome them. The meeting then terminated.

The tower was again visited and some short touches of Plain Bob, College Single, and Grandsire were brought round. The bells being lowered in peal, the visitors wended their way to the station, having enjoyed one of the most pleasant meetings the branch has had.

Mr. Redford wrote to say that he and the Rev. H. J. Elsee were unable to be present, also did Mr. G. R. Bellamy, the latter hoping we might spend a social evening, which we did, much to the gratification to all.

BOB MAJOR.

By J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

The reappearance of an old friend of ours in the composition column of last week must serve as an apology for my saying a few words on one class of peals of Bob Major which may now. I think, be fairly said to be worked threadbare; I mean six-part compositions with one bell fixed in 6th place throughout each part.

There is a considerable number of these peals going about, but, although no doubt I shall not carry the opinion of a good number of composers with me, yet I cannot see that any, or at least scarcely any, of the names that appear attached to them ought to be there.

Readers will easily identify the class of peals I am dealing with by the following characteristics:—

(a) They are produced by calls at W M R only.

(b) The calls at M do not affect the "part" bells i.e., those that come home at the part end.

(c) The singles, of which there are two only, are used for turning the course of the bells only and consequently are called on either the two part-bells or else on two of the working bells, not one and one.

Since one half of the peal is but a duplicate of the other, but with the course of the changes altered, it will only be necessary to deal with one half and ignore the singles altogether.

Again since the bobs at M do not affect the part bells the latter would come home at the part end, even if no M's were called, and since in that case the sixth would not have been moved, it follows that if the bobs at W and R only be called, the bells will run round at the part-end, and each part will be a complete touch or "round block."

We shall therefore have to consider what suitable touches there are and having got them it will but require the addition of certain bobs at M to extend them to peals.

Now, the number of touches produced by calls at W and R only is limited; they are well known; and they are all as old, or very nearly as old as the method itself.

These touches are:—

I.	W R	II.	W R	III.	W R
5 2 4 3 6	- 3	4 2 3 5 6	3 -	2 4 5 3 6	- 2
3 5 4 2 6	- 3	3 4 2 5 6	3 -	3 2 5 4 6	- 3
				2 3 4 5 6	- 3

IV.	W R	V.	W R
4 3 5 2 6	2 -	5 2 4 3 6	-
5 4 3 2 6	3 -	4 3 5 2 6	-
3 4 2 5 6	3 -	2 4 5 3 6	-
2 3 4 5 6	3 -	3 2 5 4 6	- 3
		3 5 4 2 6	- 2
		2 3 4 5 6	- 3

These five touches form all those available for our purpose but a large number of variations may be had

(a) By beginning at a different course-end,

(b) By omitting any three consecutive bobs at either W or R, reducing the touch by two courses.

There will also be an equal number of round-blocks with the fourth, and an equal number with the fifth in sixth place; and it will also be apparent to all that if three bobs be called on 4-5-6 the corresponding touches with the fourth in sixth's, the fifth in sixth's, and the sixth in sixth's will run into one touch.

But if—

(a) The original touches be ancient and (b) the method of connecting them be apparent to every one, can the result be, by the greatest stretch of imagination be called an original composition?

That these compositions in their six part form do not appear in any old books, matters very little, for the old composers certainly knew of the touches, and just as certainly knew how to connect them together, for to be ignorant of one or the other is to be ignorant of the very principles of Bob Major Composition. In other words an extension of touch No. 1 which appears as Bob Maximus in 1788 can scarcely be called original when it appears as Bob Mayor in 1896.

As to the bob at M, which is properly called a "shunting" bob, there are two places in each part where it may be called—

(a) After the course end 23000 if followed by a bobbed W; or 02030 if followed by a plain W.

(b) After the course end 32000 if followed by a bobbed W; or 03020 if followed by a plain W.

Among the best known of these peals the following will serve as examples:—

5376.	W M R	6048.	W M R
(a) 4 2 6 3 5	- -	6 4 2 3 5	- - -
6 3 4 2 5	- -	2 6 4 3 5	- -
4 6 3 2 5	- -	4 2 6 3 5	- -
3 2 4 6 5	- -	6 3 4 2 5	- -
4 3 2 6 5	- -	4 6 3 2 5	- -
2 4 3 6 5	- -	3 4 6 2 5	- -
3 6 2 4 5	- -	6 2 3 4 5	- -
2 3 6 4 5	- -	3 6 2 4 5	- -
		2 3 6 4 5	- -
6048.	W M R	6720.	W M R
4 2 6 3 5	- -	6 4 2 3 5	- - -
6 3 4 2 5	- -	2 6 4 3 5	- -
2 6 4 3 5	- -	4 3 2 6 5	- -
3 2 4 6 5	- -	2 4 3 6 5	- -
4 6 3 2 5	- -	3 2 4 6 5	- -
3 4 6 2 5	- -	4 6 3 2 5	- -
6 2 3 4 5	- -	3 4 6 2 5	- -
3 6 2 4 5	- -	6 2 3 4 5	- -
2 3 6 4 5	- -	3 6 2 4 5	- -
		2 3 6 4 5	- -

But does it follow then that no composer may use these touches without forfeiting his claim to originality?

By no means. There is scarcely any extent in the method which does not consist of a judicious joining of certain of these touches. The point I want to emphasize is not that these touches may not be used at all, but that they may not be used to form the foundation of a three-part composition which is then put forth as original.

What has here been said of Bob Major applies with equal force to such methods as Double Norwich, Double Oxford, Canterbury, etc.

IVINGHOE DEANERY: DIOCESE OF OXFORD.

A local correspondent writes:—

On Friday evening, October 16th, a muffled peal in memory of the late Archbishop of Canterbury, was rung at St. Mary's, Ivinghoe. Most of the churches in the deanery contain only five bells, but there are two or three rings of six; and the parishioners of Ivinghoe are fortunate in possessing one of them, musical and well hung in a good tower. A local effort is being made to further belfry reform, and introduce proper change-ringing. The five old bells were recast, and a new one added in 1877; at the same time a good set of handbells were purchased. These, however, have been made little use of, save for tune ringing. The present rules which guide the ringers are somewhat antiquated, with the usual monitions against "swearing," "smoking," "beer," "strong drink," "quarrelling," &c. Would not the clergy do well to eliminate such conditions from belfry rules? Whoever heard of change-ringing—and change-ringing is only undertaken by those who love bells and the belfry—being accompanied by such surroundings? During the present vicariate, which commenced in May last, several needed repairs have been completed in the belfry, and the tower wears a much cleaner appearance. The Vicar too, though not acquainted with "half-pull," has taken part in some of the round ringing. Proper change-ringing is being practised by 7 or 8 probationers, and, what is rather an exception, a real good feeling exists between them and the older appointed ringers. "THE BELL NEWS" is placed weekly in the ringing-chamber, and if the new hands will but persevere in their work, there is no reason why higher ringing should not obtain a sound footing in Ivinghoe: to be followed in time by the formation of a strong Parochial Guild or association with Honorary Members.

[We gladly welcome—though the effort be in its infancy—any news of this kind, and shall be pleased to record any progress, either on handbells or in the tower, from Ivinghoe. Cannot this parish lead the way to a Deanery Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild?—Ed.]

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.—EASTERN DIVISION.

A most successful meeting was held at Pevensey, on Saturday last, forty members being present, representing the following towers, viz.: Alfriston, Balcombe, East Hoathley, Christ Church Eastbourne, St. Peter's Brighton, Christ Church Blacklands, Hastings; St. Clements Hastings; Pevensey and West Ham.

Evensong was held at Pevensey Church, at 5 o'clock, the Rev. E. B. Walsh, B.A., officiating, and the service was very heartily joined in by the ringers and the many parishioners who also attended.

After the service, the members adjourned to the schoolroom, where a splendid meat tea had been provided by the kindness of the Vicar, the Ven. Robert Sutton, M.A., Archdeacon of Lewes, at which the Rev. E. B. Walsh presided, the Vicar being unable to attend in consequence of a bad cold. The muster at tea numbered forty-two, and the good things provided were much enjoyed by all, and reflected great credit upon the caterer, Mr. Smith.

Grace having been said, the Rev. E. B. Walsh read the following letter from the Archdeacon:—

DEAR FRIENDS AND BROTHERS,—It is, I assure you a very sore disappointment to me that I cannot be with you to-day, to speak from heart to heart a few kind words of welcome—but I am this afternoon quite out of sorts and feeling very poorly—and in view of to-morrow being a hard day with me, with an anxious week to follow, I dare not leave my house, so I must write to you instead and say on behalf of my wife, Mrs. Sutton, and myself, that we are very glad you are paying this visit to our Parish, and have accepted our invitation to tea, which for the credit of Pevensey I hope you will all enjoy. You, each of you, hold, you know, a sacred office in the Church of God, and I trust that when you are performing the most important and honourable portion of your duties, in inviting with your far-reaching metal tongues, your kinsfolk and acquaintance to the House of God, you will never leave yourselves out of the invitation, but will attend God's worship as often and as regularly as you really can, and take a pleasure in so doing more and more.

I often say there is nothing like a good sound bell at one end of a rope and a good Christian man at the other. I have asked my dear brother Priest of Pevensey to take the chair for me this evening, and at a fitting time to move a resolution, which I hope Mr. S. Saker, the Secretary of the Eastern Division of the Association, will kindly second.—Your faithful friend and brother,

ROBERT SUTTON.
Archdeacon of Lewes.

The Divisional Secretary, Mr. S. Saker, then proposed a vote of thanks to the Archdeacon for the cordial welcome he had given the Members of the Association, for the substantial tea he had provided, and especially for the very nice letter that had just been read to them. Continuing, he said he was sure that everyone was sorry that the Archdeacon could not be present with them. It was very encouraging to him as Secretary, to receive such assistance as he had done with reference to this meeting, and it was also a very great assistance to the Association when the Clergy took such an interest in its work as the Archdeacon had done to-day. They often heard that ringers did not attend church as often as they should do, but he was of opinion that if more of the clergy took such an interest in their ringers as Archdeacon Sutton evidently did, and joined the ringers at their meetings more frequently, matters in this respect would improve more rapidly than they are doing. The vote of thanks was duly seconded by Mr. E. Brant and carried unanimously.

At this point Mrs. Sutton honored the meeting with her presence, and expressed regret at her husband's inability to be present, and hoped that everyone would enjoy themselves. Three hearty cheers were then given by the members for the Archdeacon, followed by three for Mrs. Sutton.

The Secretary then read the Minutes of the last meeting, which were duly confirmed and signed.

The Secretary having mentioned that he had received no notice of any particular business for this meeting, the Rev. E. B. Walsh, on behalf of Archdeacon Sutton, proposed the following resolution:—

"That this meeting begs to record its sense of the remarkable ability and perseverance of Mr. J. W. Washbrook as composer and conductor, the Rev. F. E. Robinson, Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, and the remainder of the band who recently rang the peal of 11138 changes of London Surprise

Major, and offers accordingly their cordial and respectful congratulations.

Mr. S. Saker said he had very much pleasure in seconding this resolution. Mr. J. W. Washbrook must have spent a great deal of time in composing a true peal of so many changes in such an intricate method, and it must require a great deal of perseverance and concentration of thought to conduct such a peal successfully, and he thought that change-ringers should express their appreciation of the efforts of those who do so much for the advancement of the Art of change-ringing. He also thought that special mention should be made of Rev. F. E. Robinson, who in addition to this great achievement, had given so much time and assistance to change-ringing. Very few Clergymen would allow the use of their towers for so long a time for ringing, and he should like to see more of the Clergy take up change-ringing in their own towers in the same spirit that the Rev. F. E. Robinson had done.

The following votes of thanks were then proposed by Mr. F. Lock, seconded by Mr. Piper, and carried unanimously, viz., to the Rev. E. B. Walsh for the able manner in which he had presided; to the Vicar of Pevensey and West Ham for the use of the bells; and to Mr. Smith for the splendid manner in which he had catered for the members. The Rev. E. B. Walsh suitably responded for all.

The members then returned to the belfries, and the bells were kept going at both Pevensey and West Ham until 9 p.m.

OPENING A RING OF SIX AT FORDEN, MONTGOMERYSHIRE.

On Tuesday, September 22nd, the ringers of Welshpool journeyed to Forden on the invitation of the Vicar and Churchwardens to ring at the dedication of the new bells recently hung in the tower through the generosity of Mrs. Wharton, Skelton Castle, Skelton-in-Cleveland, Yorks, as a memorial to her brother, the late Colonel Harrison of Cærbowell, one of the most popular gentlemen in the county, and who was interred in the family vault in May last. Originally there was only one bell in the tower, but a few years ago two more were placed there by the late Colonel himself. The work has all been carried out by the Loughborough firm, and the bells and the go of them are all that can be desired; the tenor is 10 cwt. in B. The dedication service took place at the Harvest Festival, the Vicar, the Rev. J. E. Vize, officiating. A few rounds were rung at the proper place in the service, after which 120 Stedman Doubles (first change-ringing on the bells) and touches in all the standard methods were rung, including 720 of Grandsire Minor. The names of the ringers were as follows:—Alfred Grice, John Lloyd, David Williams, William Jones, Thomas Barnes and T. J. Bratton, conductor. After the ringing the ringers were entertained to a substantial spread at the Church House. Messrs. W. Davies and T. Watkin, Churchwardens, occupied the chair and vice-chair respectively. After the removal of the cloth songs were sung by Messrs. Grice, Williams, Barnes and Jones, and touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples were rung on the handbells, and a very pleasant evening was spent. The Vicar was unable to be present, but the following is an extract from a letter forwarded by him to the conductor:—

"Let me say how very grateful I and others feel to you and your company for the splendid way in which you rang the bells. There is only one feeling here of satisfaction to you all, for so very kindly coming and helping us, and I trust you will name to your brother campanologists the sense of our appreciation of your good work."

The following epitaph is in the churchyard and may amuse some of our readers:—

Beneath this tree lie singers three,
One tenor and two basses;
Now they are gone it's ten to one,
If three such takes their places.

The ringers wish through the medium of this paper to thank the Vicar and Churchwardens for their hospitality.

NORTH'S ENGLISH BELLS AND BELL LORE.

Illustrated. Price 12s., postage 6d. Should be in the hands of all Bell lovers.—W. H. EATON, Publisher, Leek, Staffs.

ST. ANDREW'S, EWERBY, LINCOLNSHIRE.

In July last we gave an account of the opening of a ring of ten bells at this church. The augmentation was carried out mainly through the instrumentality of the Earl of Winchilsea, who rang the tenor in the opening touches. Below we give the inscriptions, etc., on the bells, and above is a pen-and-ink sketch of the church.

The four largest bells are old and the six front bells have been added to complete the ring of ten.

The following are the diameters, notes and weights:—

	Diameter	Notes	Weight
			Cwts	qrs	lbs
Treble.	2 3½	F sharp	5	3	10
2nd	2 5	E	6	0	21
3rd	2 6½	D	6	2	14
4th	2 7½	C sharp	6	2	14
5th	2 9½	B	7	1	0
6th	2 11½	A	7	3	20
7th	3 1½	S	7	2	1
8th	3 3	F sharp	8	1	22
9th	3 8½	E	14	3	18
Tenor.	3 11	D	15	0	23
			86	2	3

The inscriptions on the six new bells are as follows:—

No. 1 of ten.—Æde Hac Feliciter Renovata Me Dedicavit Sororibus v. Minimis Simul Fusis Murray, Comes de Winchilsea. Guilmo Grayson Vicario. Thom Thorpe Guilmo Money Ædis Custodibus A. S. 1896—Vigilate Et Orate.

All the ten bells are equipped with entirely new fittings and the latest improvements have been introduced, notably the iron girder headstocks, the Heywood lubricators for the bearings, and the Hastings stays.

The framework also is new, and very strong and massive, consisting of iron and steel well braced and bolted together. The bells hang in two tiers, six being on the lower level and four above.

STREATHAM, SURREY.—THE SURREY ASSOCIATION.

Three presentations in two years. That is cutting it rather fat, as the saying is, still there it is, and very nice it is to record the same, at any rate that is the opinion of yours, etc.

Hardly two years ago it got whispered about that one of the ringers (Dr. Steedman) was going to take unto himself a wife, and as time went on these whisperings kept getting louder, till there was no doubt about it, true enough it was; the lady being the grand-daughter of the present Rector (Canon Nicholl) who by-the-bye celebrated his golden wedding, also his jubilee as Rector some time since, and is now in his 88th year. This being so, the ringers got a nice little "bell gong" with suitable inscription, presenting the same to the Doctor on his return from the honeymoon.

Presentation No. 2.—More whispers going about, but no lady in it this time. The hard-working Curate, Rev. G. M. Drought, for 10 years doing arduous duty at the parish church, is going away Well, another "bell gong" was soon on the road, and he being invited to the belfry one evening, received the same as a special gift from the ringers, which he said was very acceptable, and that it would remind him (although many miles would separate them) of the many pleasant hours he had spent with them, also at the meetings of the Surrey Association at which he had been present.

Presentation No. 3.—More whisperings, and again a lady in it. This time the respected Hon. Sec., F. A. Bellamy, Esq., is the recipient of another "bell gong," on the occasion of his wedding. Dr. Steedman, in handing the same to him said it was given him as a small token of the esteem which his fellow-ringers had for him during the six years he had undertaken the duties of Hon. Sec. of the Streatham Branch of the Surrey Association. He hoped that now he had entered the married state, he would not leave his old acquaintances altogether, but come and see them sometimes.

Mr. Bellamy, in thanking the members, said that what he done in the past had always been a pleasure, and only regretted having to be so far away now, however he hoped to be with them occasionally. The following 720s have lately been rung here; for practice a 720 of Kent Treble Bob Minor; for service, a 720 of Bob Minor; for divine service on harvest festival a 720 of Grandsire Minor; and on Tuesday evening last a 720 of Bob Minor with the bells muffled as a mark of respect to the late Archbishop of Canterbury.

TURNERS and Fitters wanted: Preference given to Change-ringers.—W. B. Lake, Albion Works, Braintree.

THE LATE MR. THOMAS HURRY, OF NORWICH.

Since my friend "J. A. T." gave a very interesting account of the bells of St. Andrew's, Norwich, and also an account of Thomas Hurry in "THE BELL NEWS," I have thought that if I were to collect his peals it might interest my fellow-readers if they were given since the above date. I have endeavoured to collect and make up the following list, which I think is almost a complete one. Thomas Hurry was a native of Ditchingham, near Bungay, and had brothers who were also change-ringers; his father was also a ringer. In the early part of this century he joined the Bungay Company and rung his first peal with that Company in the year 1811, and some time after, probably about the year 1815, he removed to Norwich, and there about the year 1817 he set up in business as a bellhanger at No. 3, Ladies Lane, St. Peter Mancroft. The business he carried on for several years, hanging bells in various steeples of Norfolk, Suffolk and Essex, insomuch that about the year 1845, a list of places was published from 1817, with number of bells, weight of tenor, etc., where Mr. Hurry had been employed; before his death however, this list could have been doubled. He was a ringer of very great skill, both at the heavy and also at the light end. The writer's father personally knew him and rung with him on various occasions, and often related anecdotes concerning him and his ringing. He was also a composer of no mean ability, and conductor, having conducted several peals. It must be admitted, therefore, that he was a very good all-round member of our art. About the year 1818, Thomas Hurry joined the Junior Society of College Youths, ringing one peal with them at Kensington, and in the year 1820 he joined the Royal Cumberland Youths, ringing a peal Treble of Bob Royal with them at Bermondsey.

The following is the list of his peals:—

Date.	Method.	Changes.	Hrs.	Mins.	Where Rung.
1 May 1st, 1811	Bob Major	5040	3	10	Bungay
2 Aug. 1st, 1812	Bob Major	6000*	3	40	Bungay

23 Dec. 8th, 1842	Kent T. B. Royal	5040	2	27	St. Andrew's, Norwich
24 Feb. 6th, 1843	Oxford T. B. Royal	5040	3	40	St. Nicholas, Yarmouth

25 Jan. 18th, 1844	Stedman Cinques	7126	5	17	St. Peter Mancroft
26 May 5th, 1845	Oxford T. B. Major	5120			St. Michael Coslany

Peals marked with a * are the ones that he conducted.

On Friday, February 5th, 1869, died Mr. Thomas Hurry, bellhanger, aged 86 years, upwards of 50 years one of St. Peter Mancroft ringers, who as a last tribute of respect rang a muffled peal on the twelve bells.

No. 1 was Annable's peal from The Clavis. No. 2 was from The Clavis, and the first conducted by Hurry. No. 3 is the peal of Maximus of which so much has been said, and is the only one in the method yet rung. No. 4 was the first peal on the bells after they had been restored with a new tenor. No. 5 is the peal that Mr. Hurry rung with the Junior College Youths. No. 6 was the first peal on the new bells put up by Mr. Hurry. No. 7 was rung by a miscellaneous band, being the first on the new bells. No. 8 was the first peal of Treble Bob rung on the bells. Nos. 9 and 10 was the first peals on the bells after they had been rehung by Mr. Hurry. No. 11 was Holt's ten-part peal and was the first peal of Grandsire Triples on the bells, and the first in the city for many years. No. 12 was the first peal of Treble Bob Major rung upon the Quex Park bells. No. 13 was also the first peal rung upon the bells of that church. The next performance was the half-peal of Stedman Triples, the composition of the late J. P. Powell, Esq., and is the first time it was rung. No. 14 was the peal that Mr. Hurry rung St. Peter's tenor single-handed to, which my friend mentions in "THE BELL NEWS," vol. 14, page 266. No. 15 was the production of the late Mr. John Reeves of the College Youths. No. 16 was the composition of the late Henry Hubbard, and was the first time of its being rung. No. 18 was the peal of Treble Bob Royal which Mr. Hurry rung with the Cumberland Youths. No. 19 was the composition of the late Henry Hubbard, and contained the 120 course-ends. No. 20 was the first rung upon the bells after they had been rehung by Mr. Hurry. No. 21 was the first peal rung in the Kent variation in the city of Norwich. No. 22 was the second peal on the newly augmented eight which had been framed and hung by Mr. Hurry. No. 23 was the first peal on the ten of that church, the trebles of which were presented by Mr. Hurry. No. 24 was the first peal of Treble Bob Royal rung upon the bells of that church. No. 25 was the longest peal in the method up to date in England. No. 26 was Mr. Hurry's last peal; and when one looks at this list he must consider it a very good one, one that strongly helped (as my friend J. A. T. states) to make Norwich famous among ringers.

SAMUEL SLATER.

ST. MARK'S, WINSHILL, DERBYSHIRE.

On Tuesday, October 16th, between the hours of 1 and 3, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung with the bells half-muffled as a token of respect to the late Archbishop of Canterbury. Also on Saturday, October 17th, a 600 of Grandsire Doubles, with the bells half-muffled as a tribute of respect to the late Adam Birch, who for the past twenty-four years had been a member of the choir and a Sunday School teacher. His funeral took place at 3 o'clock on Saturday, October 17th. The remains were met at the west door by the Vicar, Rev. R. G. D. Frampton, and Rev. L. S. Noble, also by the choir, who followed the mourners. The hymn "For ever with the Lord" was sung, and at the grave side the Vicar read the concluding portion of the burial service, and the choir sang "Now the labourer's task is o'er."

On Sunday, October 18th, before morning service, a 720 of Plain Bob was rung by G. Wright, 1; W. Wylde, 2; W. Shepherd, 3; F. Shepherd, 4; J. Woodward, 5; C. Golder (conductor), 6.

The Vicar who preached from Ephesians v. 17; and dwelt at length on the beloved Archbishop's death. Referring to Adam Birch, he said: "I cannot let this day pass without referring to the loss which the Church has sustained in the death of one of its members who for the past 24 years had been a member of the choir and a Sunday School teacher. Now we shall miss his face, and his place is vacant here, and though we grieve for his widow and fatherless children, we know that he has entered into that rest which remains for the people of God."

CURRENT TOPICS.

It has not been any great drawback to have such an interval between this and the last time my talk was put into print. For no one has suffered or felt a loss during the period. It was said some time ago that rest was necessary even to writers for the press, Editors and so forth. To keep on without some sort of a break is bad. Pressmen, unless they have periods of cessation are apt to grow stale, flat, and unprofitable. So for our own credit's alone these intervals are necessary.

Shortly after my last contribution to this paper appeared, a gentleman—I speak advisedly—wrote and said that one of his company sat up late on the Friday night reading this paper, and was so engrossed in its contents that he went off to bed directly after reading it, forgetting that he had not had his supper. And the oblivion to other objects thus brought on, not only yielded him the downiest of repose, but begat a determination to avoid suppers in the future; but he hoped, he said, that "THE BELL NEWS" would come out oftener.

Mr. Penning, of Saffron Walden, has composed a new method, and he offers a half-crown to each member of a band who rings the first peal of it. This is something out of the common. A correspondent wishes to know if Mr. Penning will give the gratuity to a band of eight who will ring it upon handbells, not retained in hand, but by that artistic process known as "lapping." I think instead of giving such a band the sovereign, he would be inclined to give them—a month, on the ting-tang.

A good tale comes from the black country. A band met for a peal, and one of the company—whose ubiquity is well-known—pulled out of his pocket just before starting for the peal, a post-card, on which he wrote the names of the band, the method, conductor, and everything else, with the exception of the time of the performance. This was done in order to get the report into the post for publication at the earliest possible moment. A very good idea. Only how queer you look when in such a case the peal is not got, which was the result in this instance. And the laugh was against this energetic member. But he won't mind, I dare say. He is bomb-proof against any kind of chaff.

My friend who has amused us under the cognomen of "Jingle" appears to know everybody all over the country. He mentions people by name right and left. Nobody seems to be unknown to him. The other week it was Jimmy Groves, of Wolverhampton, who certainly seems to be moving something. Nearing King's Norton last Sunday evening, I heard quite by accident that this same "Jimmy" had recently published no less than four false peals all at once. I hope this is not correct for his sake. Never mind, James, better luck next time. But remember always the probable fate of those who rush into print. Have your compositions proved, James, by one who knows how to do it.

We shall see, I am told, in this week's paper, reports of touches upon tower bells where ladies have taken part—the Misses Whyley, daughters of the Rev. the Vicar of Alton, Hants, the Vicar himself calling the touch. And Mrs. Williams also ringing two in hand again. Miss Alice White has rung a few more peals since my last, and a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples also. We are getting along. Which of these is going to call the first peal? Perhaps we shall have a ladies' peal very soon. I am one of those who believe that the presence of ladies in the belfry will be beneficial in more ways than one. I think I have said this before.

This number, it is said, is to be a large one, and so I shall have to draw it mild this week. Our numbers of late have all been large. It is to be hoped that the enterprise shown may be repaid by a greatly increased circulation. We often hear it said that gratitude is not an attribute of ringers. Why should this be? Putting gratitude out of the question, ought we not to show our appreciation of these welcome changes and improvements in our paper? What gentleman is there who reads these lines that will send word to me next week that he has secured another permanent subscriber. Many I hope. I request, in as respectful a manner as I can, that no apathy be shown in this.

I have just heard a little story—but it's a secret, you know, so don't tell anybody else. The other day a band of Yorkshire ringers stood at their ropes to "pull off" a few touches in various Minor methods. The Conductor called "go" in the usual way, but somehow or other, there was a misunderstanding as to the way in which they were to "go" first. The treble man, of course, set off in the Treble Bob pathway; the second bolted off into Violet; number three had Duke of York in his head (doubtless thinking of royalty at Balmoral); the fourth man's mind was in the direction of New London; the Conductor was of the same inclination as the man at the third rope; while the tenor man coincided with him at the fourth. This attempt to ring a multiplicity of methods at one and the same time was valiant, but of brief duration. At the end of the treble lead came collapse and subsequent mutual explanations, and—shocking to relate—even the sanctity of the place did not prevent a loud "guffaw" at the result of the investigation. "Ned" essays to call a variety of touches; he will be careful to specify the order in which they are to come; and so have one method at a time, which is quite sufficient for an ordinary individual.

One more paragraph, and I have done. In my journeyings lately I have heard of the doings of an individual who I thought had sufficient sense to know better. This person has always been on terms of intimacy with the Editor and staff, and he certainly was held in some respect by them. But he has thought fit of late to take his august support somewhere else. There is no objection to that. But he not only turns his back on his old friend "THE BELL NEWS," but he has been spreading reports that our paper is soon to be defunct, and so on. I don't hesitate to say that this man has received a letter from "the firm" to the effect that if any more is heard of such slander, they will take action against him. I have made private enquiries at the publisher's, and the reply is that our paper never stood so high as at present, in point of circulation. Go and ask, anyone who doubts it. I have spoken plain on this matter—as I ought to. But I am charitable enough not to mention the above person's name. But if he is not careful I shall do so later on.

PLAIN SPEAKER.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN,
CHURCH BELL HANGER, AND TUNER.
SALISBURY, WILTSHIRE.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN is a practical Ringer, and having had considerable experience in Church Bell hanging and tuning, with confidence solicits the patronage of the Clergy, Churchwardens and Ringers generally.

T. B. has devoted a great deal of attention to the fixing of Clock Hammers used for striking the hours and quarters on Church Bells. These are sometime placed in awkward and dangerous positions, even by Church Clock Makers.

T. BLACKBOURN'S experience enables him to affix these hammers, with their accompanying levers in a most accurate manner, preventing any danger to the bell frame or clock. He will be glad to advise on clocks as well as bells.

The Ellacombe Chime Hammers fixed. Sole Fixers of Juby's Apparatus for Silent practice. Handbells supplied. Bells weighed in the tower at a small cost.

A PEAL OF 362,880 GRANDSIRE CATERS, 6d.
Contains the full extent of changes on nine bells. Forwarded Post Free, on receipt of 7d. By James Hewitt, 16, Chape Row, Gosport.

The Bell News & Ringers' Record.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1896.

DURING the long period wherein we have had the honour of commenting week after week upon questions closely related to the Exercise, or having some affinity thereto, the particular matter we deal with this week is certainly not the least remarkable of them. On what is technically regarded as our first page will be found a report of a meeting of a section of the Kent County Association, furnished by a correspondent. The expose, at this meeting, of what we have no hesitation in calling malpractices in bob-calling, must have surprised many of those present, and in the same degree will be the manifestation of amazement by our numerous readers all over the world. That men are to be found in these days, dwelling in or near to the Metropolis, who can humiliate themselves by such miserable attempts to obtain a cheap repute for ability, is hard of belief; and the report, as we read it, seems to partake largely of the fabulous. We wish however it were totally untrue, every line of it. For the honour of ringers generally, we would prefer acknowledging that we had been misled by our correspondent, rather than dwell in detail upon the conduct of those who have brought such a Nemesis upon themselves. To pose as conductors of peals and at the same time keep in hiding the fact that the mss. of such peals were used for such a purpose is, to put it mildly, a gross deception. It is a deceit perpetrated against the honest ringer and conductor. We have heard it said in jest that such and such a bob-caller had while engaged in calling a peal the course-ends upon his thumb-nails, or upon the wristbands of his shirt. But such remarks are merely the facetiae of sportive minds. The cases under review were evidently done in a brazen manner, if we understand aright the language of the mover of the resolution. A band meets for a peal, and we suppose the individual who is to call the bobs first of all looks for a coign of 'vantage on which to deposit his figures, course-ends, and so forth, and this in the sight of the company who are to ring the peal. What an accommodating body of men to look calmly on at such action, and say nothing. To the honour of one gentleman he refused to ring under such wretched conditions.

There is not the slightest excuse, palliation, or allowance to be made for this sort of thing, and whoever attempts to explain the offence away, makes it ten thousand times worse. One of the puerile excuses we read of was that the use of mss. in calling a peal was customary in that part of the country. This is a libel on the neighbourhood. Was such a modus operandi customary in Woolwich when those celebrated Surprise peals were rung by the renowned Woolwich band? But enough. We have no patience with any one who makes the slightest attempt to defend such an execrable practice. If it were general, what would be the use, or were would lie the credit of calling a peal? What regard should we entertain for many of those great successes achieved by our brethren of the past and present, if we thought for one moment they were secured by such means. Were the long peals at Shoreditch and other places gained in this way? Where is the model the mss. bob-callers have taken for their pattern. Is it GROSS, or REEVES, or ANNABLE, or any of the celebrated moderns? We advise them to go into sackcloth and ashes for a time, until their contempt for the stern proprieties of peal-conducting be thoroughly and effectually purged.

This week "THE BELL NEWS" consists of twenty-four pages. This increase has been necessitated by the extraordinary quantity of reports which have come to hand. Even now we are compelled to hold over several, and also an inordinate number of touches till next week. Our contributor who is endeavoring to explain the mysteries of bob-calling has found it needful to take a brief holiday, but will resume his papers next week. We shall issue with our next number a photograph of the tomb of the late MR. HENRY JOHNSON, accompanied by a medallion portrait of the deceased gentleman.

DISPUTED AUTHORSHIP.

SIR,—I notice in last week's "BELL NEWS" a Peal of Bob Minor 6048, by William Flory, of Framlingham, Suffolk. The same peal appeared in "THE BELL NEWS" some three years ago, composed by William James Fisher, of Eastbourne. Having cut the peal out and placed it in my books am able to give the exact date it appeared. 8, Coventry Road, Reading.

ALBERT E. REEVES.

"BELL NEWS" WANTED.

SIR,—I am anxious to have vols. xiii. and xiv. of "THE BELL NEWS" bound, but being deficient of number 643, for 4th August, 1894, I should be glad if anyone could oblige me with that number. 2, Western Road, Winchester.

Obituary.

FREDERICK PAUL ADAMS.

It is with regret that we record the decease of Mr. Frederick Paul Adams, of Glemsford, who died by his own hand on Tuesday morning, Oct. 13th, and was buried on Monday afternoon, Oct. 19th, in Glemsford churchyard, aged 49 years. The Rector, Rev. W. Hall, read the burial service, both in the church and at the grave, and Mr. Charles Sillitoe played the Dead March in Saul, on the organ. Mr. Adams had not taken part in any ringing for some long time, but at one time he was the leading conductor in the neighbourhood of Glemsford, as he was always known as a good striker and safe conductor. He rung his first 720 of Bob Minor in 1865, and his first long peal in 1869, and in all he took part in fourteen peals. He joined the Royal Cumberland Youths in 1882, and was for several years a member of the Loyal Wellington Lodge of Odd Fellows, several of whom attended at the funeral. The bells of the Parish Church were rung muffled both before and after the service, by the Glemsford company, assisted by Mr. C. Sillitoe, J. Slater, S. Slater, Z. Slater, F. Wells, C. Honeybell, C. Adams; O. Garwood, conductor, taking part in the ringing, which consisted of touches of Kent Treble Bob Minor.

AN IMPORTANT CORRECTION.—In the record of the four peals rung by members of the Winchester Diocesan Guild while on their recent tour in Hants., one or two errors occurred. The peal of Superlative at Soberton should have been recorded as second of the four. The peal of Stedman at Soberton was conducted by the Rev. F. E. Robinson, who rang the 7th; and the peal at Havant was conducted by Mr. Williams. We are sometimes obliged to draw upon our imagination when important features of a record are omitted. In sending the reports of these performances, our friend Mr. Williams omitted something, and our attempt to put it right only made matters worse. This explanation we hope will put things right.

Review.

REPORT OF THE BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.—If anything were wanted to show the improved position and prospects of the above-named Association, it can be discovered in this report. The members are found to be increasing in number, both in honorary and otherwise. A decided advance has also been made by many of the members in the practice of the Art. The first paragraph of the report closes thus:—

"Thanks to the untiring efforts of our friends at Dunster and Minehead, two peals of Stedman Triples were scored for the Association during the year. Although the success on these occasions was largely due to the skill of the conductor, who is, unfortunately, permanently resident outside the Diocese, still it is hoped and believed that in the near future we shall have a Stedman conductor resident in our midst."

The achievement of a peal of Stedman Triples under any conditions, is a sign of progress, and a congratulatory circumstance also. But it will not be denied that the merit or eclat attending such a performance is somewhat lessened when a conductor from afar has to be obtained so that the object may be secured. Therefore, all who wish the members of this Association to become eminent in such a particular, cannot but join heartily in the hope expressed by the Honorary Secretary, that in the near future one or more "local" members will be found whose abilities may prove equal to the requirements.

The diocese of Bath and Wells is, geographically considered, a difficult one to work, and though the present Hon. Sec. is an official of great industry and aptitude, it would be impossible for him to carry on the duties in a satisfactory manner to himself, unless there were others, energetic and anxious for the general good willing to co-operate in such labour. To these colleagues Mr. Tomkins awards due recognition.

Respecting finances, the Association has reason to be satisfied, if contentment where funds are concerned is ever attained. The balance-in-hand is not vast, being £13 18s. 11d., but it is nearly £5 more than the previous year. A similar growth of the exchequer year by year will be sought for, and it may well be believed that the greatest fiscal economist will not exercise more care and anxiety upon the expenditure portion of his duties than will the executive of this Association.

This report possesses a special and valuable feature which we do not recollect to have seen before in any other similar publication. Evidently Mr. Tomkins (the Hon. Secretary) is the first to introduce it. Following the name of each tower in union are the number and weights of the bells and a list of members practising at such church; and beneath these are comprehensively given the hours (if any) for Sunday ringing, also the practice-nights, and methods generally rung. This information will surely be appreciated. It will be most useful to members who may happen to visit a part of the diocese with which they may be unacquainted, as a glance at the report will inform them what ringing and methods are done and practised in the neighbourhood they intend visiting, and an opportunity for a pull may thus easily be taken advantage of.

This feature we hope to see adopted in the reports of other ringing bodies. Altogether the report is very satisfactory and cheering, and we congratulate the Master, Secretary and Committee upon its appearance.

ST. MARTIN'S-IN-THE-FIELDS, LONDON.

On Friday, October 16th, by order of the vicar and churchwardens, the bells were rung half-muffled at the time of the funeral of His Grace the late Archbishop of Canterbury. The following members of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths took part in the ringing: Messrs. Baron, Bull, Walters, Meads, Barry, Wild, Fraser, and Mansfield. Conducted by W. Baron.

HENRY WOOLCOTT, Hon. Sec.

Grange Mount, Lang Lane, West Kirby, and 34, Castle Street, Liverpool.

NOTE TO THE PEAL OF GRANDSIRE CATERS AT BIRMINGHAM.—This peal was rung with the bells muffled for the late Mr. Frank Mumford, who was a member of the above Society. Reference was made in last week's issue. The peal contains the 6th twenty-four times before the 9th, and seven times behind the 7th in the titlums position, and also twenty-four times behind the 8th in the hand-stroke home position. Mr. John Prickett hails from Chepstow, and made a special journey to be in this peal for his old brother-string; A. F. Hyland hails from Upchurch, Kent, and is only 15 years of age. This is his first peal away from Minor.

NOTE TO THE PEAL AT ST. STEPHEN'S, WESTMINSTER.—This peal was arranged after ringing the usual "whole pull and stand" on Friday evening. In July last the band determined to try Superlative, but only a plain course or two could be managed before September, owing to holidays. On September 26th a start was made for a peal, which came to grief after ringing an hour. A fortnight later another attempt was made, which resulted in 1½ hours' good ringing. Not to be overcome by bad luck, the third attempt was made on Saturday, when an excellent peal was the result. Mr. J. M. Hayes was at the church and heard the greater part of the peal. In less than twelve months this Society has scored first peals in Double Norwich, Duffield, and Superlative.

AN APPEAL.

We are asked to insert the following copy of circular:—

GENTLEMEN,—We beg to appeal to your Society on behalf of David Wilson, who has not followed his employment for the last ten months, being afflicted with hip disease. He is in need of your sympathy and generous support. His abilities as a change-ringer, and his willingness to take part in all that tends to promote the Art of change-ringing, is too well known to need any special mention here. Hoping you will place this before your company as soon as possible.—We remain, yours,

G. THORNTON, W. SMITH,
W. BANHAM, W. STAINTHORPE.
F. W. CROSSLEY, J. WEST.
W. RHODES, W. H. HOLMES.

Contributions must be sent to John West, Bradford Road, Birstall, near Leeds.

INSCRIPTION ON THE 1ST AND 2ND BELLS.

We, two little Bells to complete the chime,
Were nearly left out too late,
When MILES to the rescue, but just in time,
Added us on to the Eight.

INSCRIPTION ON THE TENOR BELL.

Through all the ROADS of life, the best
We'll strive to be your guide;
And let our notes do your behest
By tolling far and wide.
We've crossed the seas to this fair land,
To do God all the honour;
From clime to clime we'll ring our chime,
And tell of RHODES, the Donor.

We are indebted to Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough, for the loan of this picture. The following extract is from the New Zealand Illustrated Press of the 8th of October, 1881:—"The peal of ten bells, also the munificent gift of the same donor as the tower, has been hung, . . . On each bell the name of the Founders (Messrs. Taylor & Co.) is cast. The bells are sent out with massive oak framework, and all the fittings complete, including Ellacombe's chiming apparatus. They have been rung several times, and their rich tones can be heard at a considerable distance."

News from Australia.

MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA,

September 14th, 1896.

DEAR SIR,—Will you kindly give the following a notice in your paper at your earliest convenience:—

On Monday evening, September 7th, seven members of St. Patrick's Cathedral Bellringers Society, assisted by Mr. J. Freeman, of the Victorian Association of Change-ringers, rang for practice a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples, the men standing as follows:—A. Bames, 1; F. Whiteside, 2; J. P. Nolan, 3; E. Bryning, 4; W. Coppock, 5; J. C. Nolan, 6; J. Freeman, 7; J. Sheehan, 8. Conducted by J. C. Nolan. Time, 47 minutes.

As far as we know, this is the first quarter-peal in this method that has been rung in the Australian Colonies. At no distant date I hope to be able to send news of having got the first full peal in this method.

Trusting this will receive attention at your hands, and thanking you in anticipation.—Yours truly,

Hon. Sec. St. Patrick's Society.

JOHN W. COPPOCK.

SOCIETY FOR THE ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD.

A meeting of this Association was held at Breewood on Saturday, October 3rd. Here there is a very fine church, which has been restored at a cost of some £5000. By way of making the restoration complete, the bells have been rehung, and increased from six to eight. The result is a fine peal, with a tenor of 22 cwt. Between thirty and forty ringers were present, and touches of Grandsire, Stedman, and Plain Bob were rung. In the absence of the vicar through indisposition, the usual service was conducted by the curate, the Rev. G. Roper, who also presided at the Committee Meeting. The members present afterwards sat down to a capital tea at The Rodney Arms, after which other touches were successfully brought round.

THE DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

The annual gathering of the above Association was held October 26th, in Newcastle. In the morning touches were rung at the Cathedral and All Saints' and St. George's Churches. At noon, a committee meeting was held in the upper vestry of the Cathedral. It was agreed that, according to rule, the next annual meeting should be held at Durham next October, and that intervening meetings should be held at Houghton-le-Spring in February, and at Darlington on Whit-Monday. The peal committee and the sub-committee were elected, being the same as last year.

Subsequently a special service was held in the Lady Chapel in the East End of the Cathedral, the Vicar (the Rev. Canon Gough) delivered an address, taking for his text Numbers v. 10. He said he supposed the object of the ringers' association was to enable those who were connected with it to realise distinctly the religious side of the work which they had undertaken. Of course, it went without saying that all work connected with the Church must be a religious work; and yet he was afraid that perhaps of all the various offices that gathered round their churches, that which they represented—he did not say in these days, but in time past—had been more almost divorced from the religious or serious aspect than any other of the offices of the Church. He did not mean to say that there had not been holders of other offices in connection with the Church, who had not made those offices or made themselves other than they ought to have been. There had been carelessness in other departments of the Church's official work; but he thought they would agree with him, when they thought of it, that the bells had been in times past almost considered as if they did not belong to the Church at all; and one of the features of their revived Church life in these days was the endeavour to impress upon every official of the Church the distinctly religious and serious aspect of his work. Consequently the Association had been called into existence for the purpose of enabling the individual and the corporate body of ringers to realise their part in the religious work of the Church. The Vicar proceeded to speak of the privilege and the responsibility of the ringers' work, pointing out that they were setting in motion bells that had been consecrated, and so they were really ministers of the Church. Their work was a "Memorial to God."—The Rev. Canon O. Churchyard and the Rev. W. D. Heelas also took part in the service.

The members of the Association dined together, later, at The White Hart hotel. The chair was occupied by Mr. R. S. Story, president, supported by the Rev. Canon Churchyard and the Rev. W. D. Heelas, Mr. Lees being in the vice-chair. The toasts of The Queen, the Bishops and Clergy of the two Dioceses, and the Press, were duly honoured. The toast of the Press was proposed by Mr. Adam Thompson, who spoke of the Association's indebtedness to the newspapers. He referred especially to "THE BELL NEWS" as being the means of bringing them into touch with ringers all over the world.

The Secretary (Mr. Thomas Hudson) of Sunderland, presented the annual report, which stated, inter alia, that the bells at Durham Cathedral had been repaired. The fourth bell had been re-cast, and the whole re-hung. It was hoped that the efforts of the authorities might be rewarded by the Durham friends taking up scientific ringing, and that the spiritless system of call changes might be a thing of the past. The tower of the Newcastle Cathedral having been put in thorough repair, the architect had certified that the bells might be rung without danger. The bells had been found to be none the worse for their long rest. The ringers of Richmond and Newburn had joined the Association during the past year, and it was suggested that it was because of ignorance of the work of the Association and of the privileges of membership that more towers were now brought into union with the Association. During the year, twenty-six peals of more than 5000 changes had been rung.

Fifty-four members had taken part in peals during the year, and thirteen members had rung their first peals. Two new conductors were added to the list, namely, Mr. G. W. Park, and Mr. J. H. Jones. An analysis of the peals were given as follows:—Eight each of Kent Treble Bob and Stedman Triples; Two each of Superlative Surprise Major, Double Norwich Court Bob Major, Grandsire Triples; and Seven Minor Methods one each of Oxford Treble Bob Major and Union Triples. The value of the twenty-six peals in point of merit was 575, or an average of 22.15 per peal—an increase as compared with last year's average. Reports were given from the following belfries:—Bishop Auckland, Bishop Wearmouth, Chester-le-Street, Durham (St. Oswald's), Darlington (Holy Trinity and St. John's), Jarrow (Christ Church), Middlesbrough (St. Hilda's), Newcastle (Cathedral, All Saints', St. John's, and St. Matthew's), Richmond, Staindrop, Tanfield, Sunderland, Stockton, Whickham, and Whitley.

The election of new members then took place. These included the ringers of Cramlington and Gainford. All the officers were re-elected, and Messrs. Story, Lees, and Hudson were chosen to represent the Association on the Central Council.

In the evening an exceedingly well-struck peal of Stedman Caters was brought round on the Cathedral bells.

NORTH NOTTS. ASSOCIATION.

A very pleasant Committee meeting with only a moderate attendance of members present, was held in the Ordsall school-room on Saturday last to revise the Association rules. The new rector, the Rev. Dr. Stott, kindly presided, and was supported by the Hon. Secretary, Rev. B. Darley, and representatives from the following towers, viz.: Anston, Harthill, East Markham, Everton, East Retford and Ordsall. The rules were thoroughly gone through and several alterations made, subject to the approval of members at the Annual Meeting held next Easter Monday, at Retford, but probably a draft copy will be presented and read to the members at the next quarterly meeting, held at Shireoaks, on Saturday, November 28th, where it is hoped a good attendance will muster. At the close of the meeting, the Rev. B. Darley proposed, and Mr. S. Smith seconded, that a hearty vote of thanks be accorded the Rev. Dr. Stott for presiding, and also for the use of the schoolroom. The rector suitably replied, and expressed his approval with the objects of the Association by becoming an hon. member.

The following touches and 720s were rung, viz.: a 720 of Kent Treble Bob Minor in 26 mins. by A. Street, 1; C. Crawford, 2; Rev. B. Darley, 3; H. Lambert, 4; T. Smith (conductor), 5; H. Blagg, 6; also 720 of Violet, by J. White, 1; C. Crawford, 2; H. Blagg, 3; T. Smith, 4; S. Smith (conductor) 5; H. Haigh, 6; rung in 24 mins. A 720 of Woodbine was attempted but came to grief close to the finish, and time not permitting for another attempt the bells were lowered in peal. At the close of ringing, the Rev. B. Darley expressed his gratification on behalf of himself and colleagues to the Ordsall ringers for making arrangements for ringing. The following rung in the Woodbine: A. Street, 1; E. Crawford, 2; J. White, 3; H. Haigh (conductor), 4; H. Blagg, 5; G. Brown, 6. Messrs. Street, White, Blagg and Lambert, hail from Ordsall; Rev. B. Darley and T. Smith from Harthill; S. Smith, from Anston; C. Crawford from East Markham; G. Brown from Everton; and H. Haigh from East Retford.

THE OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD PEAL-FOOK.—A RECORD of Five Hundred and Twenty Peals rung by this Guild. Paper covers, 1s. 2d.; cloth do., 1s. 8d.—Blackwell, Reading; or the Hon. Sec. of the Guild—the Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis, Dunsden Vicarage, Reading.

DEDICATION OF BELLS AT ASPATRIA, KENDAL.

The Bishop of Carlisle dedicated a peal of eight bells at St. Kentigern's Church, Aspatria, on Wednesday afternoon. The cost of the peal and the structural alterations of the tower amounted to £600, and towards this sum about £500 had been previously raised. The tenor, which weighs 14cwt. 10lb., commemorates the late Bishop of Carlisle; the seventh, weighing 10½cwt. was given in memory of the late Thomas Wade Powell, M.A., vicar of Aspatria, 1879-1885. The old bell comes next, and the fifth bears the following names: Edward Salkeld, M.A., vicar 1838-1872, and T. T. Shipman, M.A., vicar 1872-1879. The children's bell bears an inscription, "Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not." For the comfort of the ringers a new floor in the tower was a necessity, and for this Mr. Rawlings gave the labour and the Vicar the timber. The bells are hung upon an iron frame, the treble and second being placed above the six heavier bells. For the greater safety of the tower in case of electric disturbance, a new lightning conductor on the most approved principle has been put up. In future it is intended that the clock shall strike the hour upon the "Bishop's bell."

The services attracted a large congregation. His lordship the Bishop was accompanied by his chaplain, Canon Bower, vicar of St. Cuthbert's, Carlisle; and the following clergy were also present:—Revs. R. Taylor, Bromfield; H. M. Todd, Silloth; C. H. Gem, Torpenhow; Dr. Curwen, Plumbland; J. Wordsworth, Allhallows; R. Bardsley, Holme St. Cuthbert's; R. Bott, Hayton; J. Walker, Westnewton; J. J. Burrow, Ireby; J. Baker, Burgh-by-Sands; and W. S. Calverly, vicar, and W. Jardine, curate of Aspatria. The service, shortened evening prayer, opened with the Old Hundredth. Prayers were read by the Vicar, and the lessons by the Rev. R. Taylor and Canon Bower. The Bishop took for the text of his address, "Bells of gold between them round about," Exodus xxviii. 33. He said, since he came to Aspatria, he had been told there were very many people who had never heard the sound of a peal of bells. To one like himself, brought up in a part of the country where peals of bells were scarcely ever still—to one who had heard their sound from childhood across the water and over the hills—it seemed scarcely credible there should be people who had not heard the music of the bells. But still when they came to think of it, peals of bells were rare in this diocese. Their great poet Wordsworth, it was true, wrote about church bells, and said—

"I heard Sabbath bells' harmonious chimes float on the breeze, Heavenliest of all sounds that hill or dale prolongs or multiplies."

And it occurred to him to ask himself—Where did Wordsworth learn the music of the bells? He supposed it must have been from that old peal in the ancient tower of St. Bees Priory Church. It was very true there was a peal of bells at Crosthwaite, the ringers of which had come to take part in that very interesting service. There were also bells in the Cathedral Church at Carlisle and other places, but still the peals of bells were so few in this diocese that they might very easily be counted on the fingers of both hands. And yet it was not always so. After alluding at some length to the common use of peals of bells in earlier times, when towers and steeples came in, and the circumstances which led to their disappearance, his Lordship said he was very glad to be there to congratulate them upon the full possession of a full peal of eight bells. This project had occupied them as parishioners—he believed almost as far back as 25 years ago, when Lady Lawson set aside the sum of £150 as a nucleus in order to procure a peal of bells for that tower. Without going into the history of the acquisition of the peal, he could not but speak of the exertions of the Vicar of the parish, and he was sure Mr. Calverley would wish him to name his curate, Mr. Jardine, who had been associated with him. The largest bell of the peal would be associated with the memory of his great predecessor, Harvey Goodwin, and he had been told that the greater portion of the cost of that bell had been defrayed by the work of loving fingers at meetings held from time to time of the Girls' Friendly Society. These young women desired to do something for the church, and desired to commemorate the love they bore for their old Bishop by possessing a big bell in Aspatria tower. Of the next bell he could scarcely speak, for it was the gift of one present and commemorated the memory of a vicar not long ago laid to rest at the east end of the church, one of whom they would all agree it might be said of him in the words of St. Paul, "Ye all know how holily, how justly, and how humbly and unblameably he behaved himself among you." The third was associated with the names of preceding vicars, Canon Shipman and Mr. Salkeld. There was another bell which was the gift of the children, and bore the inscription: "Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not." That day was, therefore, of great interest, not only because they possessed a peal of bells, but because they possessed bells which would awaken fresh sweet memories. In the words of the ancient couplet, "Singers and ringers are home bringers," and the Church ought to be their spiritual home bringers, and as often as the bells summoned them to the House of God, he trusted they would remember it was God's own call, and that these bells would continue to preach to them as former vicars had preached. He understood there was a certain amount of debt connected with the bells, and he trusted there would be a liberal response.

At the close of the address the Bishop proceeded to the tower to dedicate the bells, and after his return to the chancel, the Keswick ringers raised the bells and rang them in rounds while the offertory (over £24) was being taken. When the bells were brought to rest special dedicatory collects were said, after which the ringers re-started with a touch of Bob Major, and continued for several minutes. The final hymn, had been composed specially by the Rev. Canon Rawnsley.

"Lord, give these bells of Kentigern Thy blessing and Thy voice,"

The collect and benediction having been said, the ringers rang a 720 of Bob Minor.

The names of the Crosthwaite ringers, who all accepted the invitation of the Vicar of Aspatria, were as follow:—Messrs. Stephen Hogarth (conductor), Watson Telford, J. Panter, R. Dennison, A. Panter, P. Wise, W. Campbell, F. Postlethwaite, and J. I. Wardle and W. Barron (juniors). The party also included some of the wives of the ringers, and Mr. G. Postlethwaite. A wagonette was hired for them from the King's Arms Hotel, and they left Keswick at 8.30, arriving at Aspatria at 11.30. A hot dinner was prepared for them in the school-room. Before service they visited the belfry and, having tied the clappers, tried the weight of the bells. After tea they again went to the steeple with the intention of ringing a Grand-sire date touch of 1896 changes, but by the time they had got half through they were stopped because of the gas going out. The return journey was begun about 8.30 p.m.

Messrs. Mears and Stainsbank, bell-founders, London, have carried out the work of completing and hanging the peal, and the work has given the greatest satisfaction.

THE DEVONSHIRE GUILD.

PLYMOUTH AND DEVONPORT BRANCH.

RE-OPENING OF ASHBURTON BELLS.—Members of the above branch visited this place last Christmas, when the local ringers told them the rehanging of the fine peal of eight, tenor 22½ cwt. would take place in the near future. This is now an accomplished fact, the work having been done by Mr. Harry Stokes, of Woodbury, in a very satisfactory manner. There has been five new beams, new floor, frame and fittings, and some quarter-turning, at a cost of between £180 and £190. At the request of the Rev. Maitland Kelly, who preached the sermon at the opening service, ten members of the above branch proceeded to Ashburton on the 21st instant, to represent the Guild at the opening ceremonies. The vicar was at the station to meet them, and heartily welcomed them to luncheon at the vicarage. Service commenced at 3 o'clock, after which members of the branch, including the Revs. J. M. Clarkson and M. Kelly, rang a short touch of Grandsire Triples. A start was then made for a quarter-peal, but after ringing about 800 changes it came to grief. After tea in the schoolroom, a 504 was rung on the tower bells, and then quick march to catch the train. Many are the blessings wished for the vicar and his good lady for their kindness. The bells go splendidly.

GENTLEMEN'S Curb Alberts. Heavily Plated with Pure Gold. Guaranteed 18 carat, 4s. 6d., 22, 5s. 6d., Double, 7s. 6d. and 8s. 6d. Member of Norwich Diocesan Association.—SKINNER, 3, Mayes Terrace, East Dereham.

THE OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

The Autumn Quarterly Meeting of this Guild was held at Witney on Saturday, October 17th. There was a good muster of ringers from the neighbourhood, but only about two-thirds of these belonged to the Guild. The following towers were kindly placed at the disposal of the Guild: Ducklington, Brize Norton, Stanton Harcourt, Eynsham, Burford, Aston, Standlake, and Stonesfield. The ringing during the day was confined to Grand-sire Triples and Minor, the more advanced methods being as yet untouched in this neighbourhood.

An excellent tea, to which about seventy sat down, was provided in the St. Mary's schools. The Master of the Guild (Rev. F. E. Robinson), presided, and at the conclusion thanked the members of the local Committee for satisfactorily carrying out the arrangements for the meeting. The names of the Rev. H. J. Scott, the local secretary for the occasion, and Miss Macray, of Ducklington (a change-ringing member of the Guild), were specially mentioned. The President also addressed the ringers present, and impressed upon the "unattached" the advantages of membership in the Diocesan Society.

After tea those present attended choral evensong at the parish church, when the rector, the Rev. Canon Norris, gave an excellent address. His text was taken from St. John ii. v. 17: "The zeal of Thine House." He said:—

There are two thoughts here. First, zeal, and then its exercise upon all that has to do with a House of Prayer. I want you, if you will, to think for a few minutes on these two subjects. 1. What is meant by zeal? It has been well defined as the earnest desire for God's honour, leading to strenuous and bold deeds in His behalf, and that in spite of all obstacles. But again, what is zeal for God's house? May it not be said that a zeal for the House of God is one of the characteristics of perfect manliness? That it is so we are certain, because this particular quality shines down upon us from the personal conduct of Our Lord Jesus Christ when on earth, and He is the perfect man, He is the perfectly manly character, and how jealous He was for the House of God at Jerusalem! Twice by a mighty miracle He cleansed the vast court of the temple. No doubt it was a mighty miracle. Alone, unarmed, a defenceless Galilean stranger, a carpenter in social position, He walked into that wide area, and first interrupted, and then destroyed the profane traffic of a huge mercenary crowd. Surely His Godhead flashed out on the greed of buyers and sellers—It is written, "My House shall be called the House of Prayer!" "Ye have made it a den of thieves." A great miracle in regard to the hidden power which made it possible on its human side, and as our pattern, it was the act of a man, the heroic zeal of the Second Adam, the new head of our race. Nor did He neglect the least detail. He would not suffer so much as a vessel to be borne across the consecrated floor. Therefore, not only is zeal one of the elementary parts of our religion, i.e. one of those which are essential in the very notion of a religious man, but its practice in loyal care and love of the House of God is nothing less than one of many ways in which the heart of man may rise and exert itself to follow the loftiest and only perfect human example—the example and pattern of Christ Himself. Men and brethren, you will surely have anticipated my application of these thoughts to the noble and manly office which you undertake, and which you rejoice to discharge as ringers in the towers of God. What is your motive? What in your prayers do you mean when you ask God to continue your bodily strength and give you grace of soul for this holy work? Is it not that like Our Lord, who alone can nerve your strong arms and give you the power of close attention, and lift your hearts to the work that you may persevere in zeal for His House? That you may catch the deep enthusiasm of the Psalmist when elsewhere he cries, "Lord I have loved the habitation of Thine house, and the place where Thine honour dwelleth." Is this too high a standard of thought? It cannot be, when we remember what church bells are for, nor can I for one moment think that you yourselves would accept any lower view of that sacred service to which, not without much self-rule and voluntary sacrifice of time and toil, you stand habitually pledged. Go on, then, brothers, in your good work. Hallow it with prayer. Brighten it with mutual kindness and generosity. Kindle each other's zeal with a holy emulation. Above all, let it be seen that outside the steeple alike in worship and in work your lives are consistent, above reproach, upright, pure, sober, peaceable, and humble, and I say in worship and in work. For every ringer should be a regular worshipper passing down from the tower to kneel with his neighbours in united prayer and stand with his fellows in holy praise. Nay more—he should be a regular and devout communicant. The tower is the Lord's, and the altar is the Lord's, the ringer is the Lord's, and the communicant is the Lord's, and those things which God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. Oh sirs! Thus viewed yours is indeed a high calling, manliness, reverence, zeal, piety, all blending in strongest union, all consecrated in joyous willing service for the glory of God and for the good of His people.

After evensong touches were rung on the parish church bells, and the ringers dispersed to their various destinations. It is hoped that all who heard the President's advice about joining the Guild, will take it home; also that other methods besides Grandsire may be practised before the next annual meeting of the Guild.

THE NEWCASTLE CATHEDRAL SOCIETY.

On Sunday, October 4th, the word was passed round: "There is a trip to Leeds next Saturday afternoon; let us go for a peal." A rather large order; 202 miles and a peal in the middle of it, all in a half-a-day. By an excursion train, however, six men good and true say "go at once." It was then suggested the Brothers Story be asked to make up the band. Discussion then arose as to what church we could get, when it appeared likely to go off with talk only. The writer, seeing what he thought of the chance of the cathedral ringers doing something, turned to another of the band and remarked: "Where is (Jack) Simm;" and off they went to find him, and he immediately fell in with the idea with that quick smile of satisfaction that left no doubt about about him. A note was then dispatched to Mr. W. Holmes thus: "All cathedral ringers for Leeds next Saturday; method—Stedman Triples; you conduct; make all safe." Another note to Mr. Snowdon, President of Yorkshire Association, asking him to arrange matters for us. He quickly put us into communication with Mr. Medlicot, captain of the parish church belfry, who kindly informed us the parish church bells would be at our disposal, and he would make the arrangements.

But great was the consternation, and puissant was the shock, on Friday night, when it was said that Mr. Holmes could not go! "What is to be done now?" was asked; when the reply came—"Let's go for a peal of Grandsire; you can call it, can't you?" "Well I'll try; not much time to look it up." So off we went, arriving at Leeds at 5 p.m., one of the local band meeting us and kindly informing us they were ringing for the marriage of the Mayor's daughter, and the bells would be ready for us at six o'clock, which suited us to a Tea, which we very badly wanted, having taken short commons for dinner. At six o'clock we arrived at the church and heard the finish of a well-struck touch of Stedman Caters, and were soon at the end of the ropes ourselves and into Grandsire Triples, which went off well for 1,260 changes, when the 5th man cried out: "That is rounds at hand!" the conductor saying, "No, no; but you have made a shift; stand!" But to his utter dismay he discovered that all was right. But too late now, the bells are stopped, and no time to start again. A move was then made to the society's meeting house, where a very enjoyable hour was spent with the local ringers in handbell ringing, etc.

The company take this opportunity of thanking the Leeds ringers, including Messrs. Snowdon and Medlicot, for their great kindness and making everything as comfortable for us as possible, and hope that they will not be long in putting it in our way of expressing our thanks in a more practical manner.

E. WALLIS.

CENTRAL NORTHAMPTONSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

MEARS ASHBY.—Recently several members of the Wellingborough Company journeyed to the village of Mears Ashby for a pull on the ring of five bells at the church of All Saints. Tenor 9 cwt. Several six-scores of Grandsire Doubles were rung, conducted by Messrs. Haddon and A. Arch, of the local company, and Moore and Hensher of Wellingborough. The Mears Ashby men are learning Stedman Doubles, and a 120 was attempted but failed about half way. With a little practice, however, they will soon be able to ring this difficult method. An adjournment was afterwards made to the house of Mr. Arch, sen., where touches on the handbells were indulged in, several junior members of the Wellingborough company taking part. The pleasant country walk was beneficial to the townsmen, and they will look back upon the evening at Mears Ashby as a most pleasant and enjoyable time.

SOUTH NORMANTON, YORKSHIRE.

In order to show the respect which is due to a righteous man, a great leader, and a good chief shepherd as our late beloved Archbishop Benson proved himself to be, the bellringers of St. Michael's church rang muffled peals on Friday afternoon, October 16th, the date of the burial. This parish possesses a good company of ringers, and thus ringing on this occasion gave great satisfaction. The family of Hill has been renowned for many generations as expert ringers, and it is to be hoped that the younger Hills will follow in the footsteps of their seniors. A 720 changes in the following methods were rung: 120 Manchester (four singles and two bobs), 120 Gog (six singles and three bobs), 120 Normanton (four bobs and two singles), 120 North (ten bobs and two singles), 120 Hill's Delight (four singles and two bobs), 120 New Ringers' Joy (four singles and eight bobs). G. Hill, 1; J. Hill, 2; E. Hill, jun., 3; F. Hill, 4; E. Hill, sen., 5.

KENDAL, WESTMORLAND.

On Thursday, 22nd instant, the Kendal parish church ringers met in the belfry and rang in fine style a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, as a compliment to Mr. Jacob Baxter, who composed and conducted the same. Mr. Baxter, who is a member of a family which has been connected with Kendal ringing for over a century, celebrated his "Silver Wedding" on the day mentioned, and received the hearty congratulations of his brother-strings on the auspicious event. He has himself had some forty years' experience in the fascinating art, and is known as a very safe ringer and conductor. The best wishes of his friends are that he may live to celebrate his "Golden Wedding" in a similar manner. R. Dennison, 1; W. Tyson, 2; W. Graham, 3; W. Atkinson, 4; J. Baxter, 5; B. Walker, 6; J. Braithwaite, 7; W. Salmon, 8.

STAINDROP PARISH CHURCH, DURHAM.

The Rev. H. C. Lipscomb, M.A., and J.P., having been at Staindrop for the term of fifty years, the inhabitants and friends decided to celebrate the rev. gentleman's jubilee, and having been seen by the committee on the matter, refused any personal gift, but informed them if they would place a new clock and chimes in the tower of the parish church he would gladly accept the same. The committee therefore placed the order with Messrs. W. Potts and Sons, clock manufacturers, Leeds and Newcastle-on-Tyne, for a new clock to show the time on three external dials over 7-ft. each in diameter, and strike the hours and Cambridge quarter-chimes, with all Lord Grimthorpe's latest improvements inserted. The same has been carried out in a workmanlike manner by Messrs. Potts, who are now making a large clock and chimes for Mossley hill parish church Liverpool, and other important work.

THE KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

RODMERSHAM.—On Monday, October 26th, to celebrate the wedding of Mr. Sidney Beach with Mrs. Clementine Adams, the following after the usual firing, rang 720 Plain Bob Minor (eighteen bobs and twenty-five singles). C. Sellen, 1; H. Coast (first 720 away from the treble), 2; G. Coast (first 720 with a bob bell), 3; J. Dixon, M.A. (conductor), 4; E. Day, 5; J. Grensted, 6. And 360 Canterbury Pleasure. W. Hollands, 1; G. Coast, 2; J. Grensted, 3; J. Dixon, M.A., 4; E. Day, 5; C. Milway (conductor), 6. On the day before the wedding in the presence of the band, Mr. J. Dixon presented Mr. Beach with a silver-mounted pipe and pouch, as a token of his appreciation of Mr. Beach's efforts on behalf of change-ringing, and in return for the unfailing support he had received from him since the formation of the band three years ago.

THE OLD EAST DERBYSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

NORTON, DERBYSHIRE.—The bell committee have decided for a new ring of eight bells instead of one of six.

CASTLEMORTON, WORCESTERSHIRE.

The tower of this parish church recently contained a ring of five bells, which were badly in want of repairs. It was therefore determined to have two recast, the others quarter-turned, all rehung, and also an additional bell (treble) to make them six. This task was entrusted to Messrs. Llewellyns and James, Bristol, and it was carried out in a very successful manner. The dedication of the new bell and re-opening was fixed for Wednesday, October 31st. Two early celebrations of the Holy Communion took place at 6.15 and 8 a.m., and the usual dedication service at 8.45 a.m. Matins at 11 o'clock: Preacher, Very Rev. the Dean of Worcester. A children's service at 3 o'clock, conducted by the Rector, Rev. Dobree Fox; and Evensong at 7.30, Canon Claughton being the preacher. The rector has been untiring in his efforts, and every credit is due to him and his parishioners for bringing to a successful issue such a desirable and good work. In the early morning ringers assembled from the adjoining parishes, and the bells were going merrily at intervals throughout the day. A 720 each of Grandsire and Bob Minor were rung. W. Tarling (Hanley Castle), 1; H. Knowles (Malvern), 2; T. Williams (Eastnor), 3; L. Longney (Croome), 4; H. Allen (Colwall), 5; R. Knowles (Hanley Castle), 6; conducted by R. Knowles and L. Longney respectively. Several six scores of Grandsire Doubles were rung by A. Hartland, A. Price, D. Messenger, and W. Davis (Tirley); A. Pitt and J. Greenway (Hanley Castle); and F. Lane (Castlemorton), and other local ringers. The ringers wish to thank the rector, through the medium of "THE BELL NEWS," for his kindness to them; dinner and tea being laid out at the school for one and all.

ONE OF THE RINGERS.

AIREDALE RINGERS AT KEIGHLEY.

On Saturday afternoon, a meeting of the Airedale branch of the Yorkshire Association of change-ringers took place at Keighley. An adjournment followed for handbell practice, and the evening was spent in social enjoyment. The meet was a success, and was attended by members from Skipton, Keighley, Kildwick, Bingley, Saltaire, Shipley and Bolton. There were touches of Kent, Oxford, Violet, and Duke of York, etc., rung during the afternoon. The next meeting will be held on Saturday, November 14th, at Saltaire.

THE YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday, October 24th, ten members of the above Association paid a visit to Chesterfield parish church to attempt a peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal on the bells which have been recently rehung. After ringing 1800 changes in 1 hr. 25 mins., it unfortunately came to grief. S. Palmer, 1; S. Price, 2; J. Hunt, 3; J. Worthington, 4; W. Worthington, 5; W. Daffin, 6; S. Smedley, 7; J. Harris (conductor), 8; A. Worthington, 9; H. Madin, 10. Tenor 24 cwt. 3 qrs.

ASHBURTON, SOUTH DEVON.

The tower and bells of the above church having been restored, it was thought a fitting opportunity of having the clock and chimes cleaned, and a new dial erected on another side of the tower. This has been carried out by Messrs. W. Potts and Sons, clock manufacturers of Leeds and Newcastle-on-Tyne, who erected the clock and chimes in commemoration of H.M. Jubilee, 1887.

MIDLAND RAILWAY.—This Company, following the policy which they adopted some time ago of providing pillows for the comfort of passengers in the night trains, have now decided to further add to that convenience by supplying rugs to passengers during the cold weather at a nominal charge of 6d. each. The arrangement will come into force at St. Pancras on November 2nd.

Mr. F. Dench has removed from Crawley to 44, Hartismere Road, Walham Green, Fulham, S.W.

MR. JAMES PARKER.

FAREWELL PEAL AND PRESENTATION AT CRAWLEY, SUSSEX.

On Saturday, October 10th, members of the Crawley society met together once again for the purpose of presenting the above-named gentleman with a silver cruet and gold pin, as a token of respect for his past services as conductor of the society. It was arranged to commemorate the event by ringing a peal of Superlative, their favorite method, but this was lost after ringing 1 hr. J. Rice, 1; A. Cripps, 2; J. Sharman, 3; W. Ward, 4; R. Jordan, 5; E. Jordan, 6; J. Parker, 7; F. Dench, 8. Afterwards a move was made to the Albany Coffee House, where a capital spread was prepared. Full justice being done to the good things provided, and the cloth being removed, Mr. John Rice, the new hon. secretary, in the unavoidable absence of the vicar, in making the presentation, said he was not presenting a testimonial that night as merely the value of the articles, but something that would remind Mr. Parker of the high position that he was held in the hearts and minds of his brother-ringers, and that it would immortalise the name of Crawley and ringers on his memory, and that his children would look up to it in years to come with respect and esteem, reminding them of their father's honour of conducting and bringing to the front one of the finest bands of ringers in the annals of ringing, and he was sure that his ability had won him the esteem of the Association, especially his own society, as shown by the presentation to him that evening, and it was the sincere hope that he would live many years to enjoy such pleasant memories.

Mr. Parker, in reply, said the presentation came as a great surprise to him, and words could not express the gratitude he felt for their kindness towards him. He spoke of the five years he had been with them as five years of real pleasure to him. All the members had worked well with him during that period, or else they would not have gained the lofty position they now held. When he came to Crawley ringing was at a low ebb, he himself being a novice. They started at the bottom of the ladder with Grandsire Triples, with a strong mind never to turn back till the top was reached—London Surprise, which he was proud to say was accomplished, and in the last two-and-a-half years they had rang Superlative Surprise, Cambridge Surprise, London Surprise, and New Cumberland Surprise (being the first ever rung in the south of England), and Alliance Major (first ever rung on the principle), and a quarter-peal in a new Surprise method not yet published. But three of the band leaving the district, prevented the further progress of a peal. This was a record, he thought, would take a great deal of beating in the time, for not only could they do the ringing, but had talent in the band who could work out compositions in the methods, and even make new if needed. He again begged to thank them most heartily for their kind present, and to those who had taken the trouble of getting it up, and hoped they would again see the time when London Surprise could be rung for Divine Service at Crawley church.

The peal that was lost in the evening was again attempted on Sunday afternoon starting at 2.55, and at 5.53 the welcome words "this is all" was heard. The performance was recorded in its proper place in "THE BELL NEWS." Mr. F. W. Rice and the veteran Mr. J. Newnham, who heard the peal, congratulated them on the fine striking, and spoke of the great pleasure it gave them to hear their bells once again to the tune of that ingenious and most harmonious of all methods.

This peal was the fiftieth performance in which Mr. F. Dench has taken part, and the following is a list thereof: On six bells, 2; Grandsire Triples, 2; Stedman Triples, 5; Treble Bob Major, 2; Double Norwich, 2; Alliance Major, 1; Superlative Surprise, 30; Cambridge Surprise, 1; London Surprise, 2; New Cumberland Surprise, 1; Stedman Caters, 1; Treble Bob Royal, 1; total 50. F. D.

EXTRACT FROM A LECTURE ON "FOODS," BY DR. ANDREW WILSON.—
"The consumption of cocoa happily increases year by year. I say 'happily,' because, as tea and coffee are not foods, while cocoa is a true food, any increase in the national nutrition means an increase in the national prosperity. Winter, besides, is close upon us, and I advise those who are susceptible to colds to fortify themselves against chill by attention to their food. The easiest way of effecting this end for many is to substitute cocoa (Epps's being the most nutritious) for tea and coffee."

ANOTHER VETERAN RINGER FROM FRESSINGFIELD.

On October 2nd, Henry Edward Barber, forty-seven years sexton of Fressingfield, passed from this world. Like Edmund Chandler, whose portrait appeared recently in "THE BELL NEWS," he had rung on every Queen's birthday since the Accession up to 1895, but this year his strength failed him, and Chandler, though nine years older, surpassed the sexton's record. He was born at the Tithe Farm, Fressingfield, June 28th, 1821, and learned ringing under Robert Aldrich and James Motts, grandfather of our present well-known Suffolk ringers, William and James of that name. His first performance was 720 of Bob Minor, called by him, for the marriage of James Barber (no relation), March 24th, 1841. The steeple-boards record the following peals in which he took part:—5040 of Bob Major, May 24th, 1845; 5120 of Bob Major, May 19th, 1878; 5040 of Plain Bob Triples, November 28th, 1878; 5088 of Oxford Treble Bob, March 3rd, 1879; 5140 of Bob Major, May 1st, 1880. He rang the treble on all these, except the Plain Bob Triples, where he took the 3rd, and conducted on every occasion but the last.

In addition to these, I took down at his dictation the following unrecorded peals:—6088 Oxford Treble Bob, called by James Motts; 5120 Kent Treble Bob, in which our lamented friend Captain Arthur Peniston Moore rang the tenor, and 5120 Oxford Treble Bob, the day after Christmas, at Stradbroke.

His last performance was at Halesworth, in 1881, in 5040 of Bob Major. It was very touching, in the wanderings caused by weakness in his dying illness, to hear him calling "Bobs" as he had called them many a time in Fressingfield tower. He was buried in the churchyard in which he had interred so many of his fellows, on October 8th, and his brother-ringers commemorated the occasion with a dumb peal in the evening.

THE HEAVY WOOLLEN DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

The October meeting of the above was held at Brighouse on Saturday, October 17th, only a small number being present. Mr. F. Prince proposed, and Mr. G. H. Simon seconded, that the minutes be passed as read. Mr. F. Scholefield proposed and Mr. J. Barraclough seconded the acceptance of G. Lawton (Brighouse), and D. Clarkson (Mirfield), as members, which concluded the business, the remainder of the evening being spent in ringing.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The Central Council Committee for the Collection of Peals, having organised a company of workers to deal with the methods hereinafter mentioned, invite all composers to send their compositions in any of these methods to the specified collector for proof and comparison. Compositions which have already appeared in Collections or Treatises need not be sent. References to those which have appeared in the columns of the ringing papers will be accepted as sufficient without the figures; but they should be accompanied by reference to any subsequent correspondence respecting them, and an assurance that they have not been pronounced false. In all cases it is desirable that the date of composition should be appended, whenever it can be accurately assigned. Collectors will not undertake to receive compositions merely for proof, nor to enter on any correspondence with regard to them. The following gentlemen will receive compositions in the methods set against their names. Collectors for other methods will be announced in due course.

Bob Major: Mr. J. A. Trollope, 9, Valentine Street, Norwich.—Duffield Major, Royal, and Maximus; and Forward do.: Mr. John Carter, Forward Villa, Aston, Birmingham.—Grandsire Triples: Rev. C. D. P. Davies, East Marden Rectory, Chichester.—Other methods of Triples (except Stedman): Dr. A. B. Carpenter, Bedford Park, Croydon.—Double Norwich Court Major: Mr. H. Dains, 147, Barnsbury Road, London, N.—Double Royal and Maximus, Mr. W. L. Catchpole, Philip Road, Stoke, Ipswich.—Double Oxford Bob Major: Rev. J. H. Pilkington, Framlingham Rectory, R.S.O., Suffolk.—Stedman Triples: Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, Stanhoe Rectory, King's Lynn.—Stedman Caters and Cinques: Mr. J. R. Pritchard, 9, Granville Terrace, Wallasey, Cheshire.—Superlative Surprise Major: Mr. Gabriel Lindoff, 15, Knight Street, Lincoln.—London Surprise Major: Mr. N. J. Pitstow, West Road, Saffron Walden.—Treble Bob Major (in continuation of Snowdon's Collection): Mr. Tom Lockwood, 38, Chad Street, Newtown, Leeds.—Treble Bob Royal and Maximus (do.): Mr. Arthur Knights, Brunswick Street, Chesterfield.

ST. PETER-AT-ARCHES, LINCOLN.

CHURCH WORKERS' ANNUAL SUPPER.—On Thursday evening, the 22nd inst., thirteen of the ringers, together with choir and other church workers, met at the kind invitation of the Rector (Rev. Canon Nelson) and churchwardens at the Lincoln Coffee Palace, to partake of a supper generously provided for them; this consisted of a substantial meal of four true courses. The Rector presided, and was supported by the curate (Rev. Canon Fowler), the churchwardens, and Mr. W. W. Smith, the bishop's secretary. After the cloth had been removed and the choristers sent home, the remainder of the evening was spent in speech-making and harmony. A toast list was gone through, and some capital songs well rendered by both the singers and the ringers. The following handbell ringing was much appreciated by all:—A course of Grandsire Caters. G. W. Bemrose, 1-2; J. B. Fenton, 3-4; G. Lindoff, 5-6; A. Craven, 7-8; C. W. P. Clifton, 9-10. A touch of Treble Bob Major. G. W. Bemrose, 1-2; G. Lindoff, 3-4; A. Craven, 5-6; C. W. P. Clifton, 7-8. Altogether a very pleasant evening was spent, which concluded by all present, at the request of the Chairman, singing "God save the Queen."

THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Rossendale Branch of this association was held at the Parish Church, Bury, on Saturday, October 24th. There was an exceptionally large number of members present, and also many friends from the Manchester and Rochdale branches. The bells were started early in the afternoon, and continued ringing touches in various methods until five o'clock; when an adjournment was made to the school, where a substantial tea had been provided, the cost being defrayed by the Rev. F. G. Blackburn, rector of the parish.

The business meeting followed, which was made of special interest by the hearty welcome the rector gave to the members of the Rossendale Society. A special feature of the meeting was a collection for the benefit of David Wilson, Birstall, near Leeds (the appeal in "THE BELL NEWS" will make known the particulars of the case). The collection realised 12s. 6d.

The Rector was made a Honorary Life Member, and his Curate, the Rev. A. D. S. Studly, a Honorary Member of the Association. A hearty vote of thanks concluded the business meeting; after which a course of Grandsire Caters was brought round on handbells. The rest of the evening was spent in the tower, where touches of Kent Treble Bob, Stedman, Plain Bob, and Grandsire, were rung.

Correspondence.

While allowing the utmost freedom for the expression of opinion, it must never be considered that we are in any way bound to statements made by correspondents.

THE GEORGE NEWSON MEMORIAL.

SIR,—I am desired by the committee to say that the head and foot-stone has been erected to the memory of our deeply-lamented friend in Hampstead Cemetery. The design is both elaborate and appropriate, and is from the pencil of W. H. Fussell, Esq. of Slough, to whom thanks are due. The work was entrusted to Mr. Henry Swain, of Chelsea, who has executed the whole to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. The inscription was drawn up by Mr. John Penning, of Saffron Walden, Essex. The committee at its last meeting decided to retain for investment in the Post Office Savings Bank or other bank, the sum of £7 in trust for the purpose of keeping up and maintaining the spot and memorial in good order, and proper documents to assure this is being prepared. The balance of the fund has been handed to Mrs. Newson. The books and papers are now in the hands of auditors, and a statement approved by them will be published in due course.

MR. TROLLOPE'S TEACHING.

SUR,—I beee only a clodhopper, but I hev done a little pricking out in my time and I hev red Mr. Trollope's letters with plessure, but I wood like him to look at his own peals before he kritisises ennyboddy elses. I think his 3024 with the 6th wrong and right each other course is substracted from Mr. Eversfield's peal in "Shipway," page 295. And in the 3056 the two last halves come also from Shipway or Reeves, and is the eggzact block he kritisises as a 6048. And Mr.

Edditur, what is worsor he published the same old block hisself on July 5th, 1895, in a 6608, using it for more than half the peal. And Mr. Edditur, in the ten-part peal he uses 1M 2H 1W 2H for half the peal, which is older than Adam, as ennyboddy can see. I hev heerd as he is a very young man, witch accounts for it, but he mun see as we hev eyes as well as him, and I do ope as he will beee more kon-sistant as it is the wish of IGGNORAMUS.

P.S.—I doant suppose Mr. Trollope can beee allowed to do what he doant want noboddy else to do.

DISPUTED AUTHORSHIP.

SIR,—I have had in my possession since 1890, the 6048 of Bob Major which appeared in "THE BELL NEWS" of October 17th, composed by William Flory, and previously by W. J. Fisher, of Eastbourne, with Mr. John Carter's name attached to it. If it is ever rung, what is to be the composer's name to be attached to it?

Writtle.

W. LINCOLN.

SHEFFIELD RINGERS AND THE BABY.

SIR,—On Saturday last, after listening to the greater part of the peal of Caters at the parish church, together with several more ringers, we waited at the gates until the band came down from the tower, when a stylish dressed lady came up in a hurry, and without any introduction addressed the company—"Are you the ringers?" "Yes ma'm," was the polite reply from Mr. Holmes. "Then you ought to be all blown up with gunpowder, for you have kept my baby awake from 6 o'clock." And spinning round on her heels she departed, giving no chance for a reply, and by her manner she must have meant what she said. We have heard a lot of late about dynamite plots, etc., but should the Sheffield dames for the sake of their babies blow up the tower and ringers it will be something new. I should advise my friend Mr. Hattersley not to take his men up on the 5th of November. E. J.

IRREGULARITIES IN CONDUCTING.

SIR,—I was very pleased to read in your last issue that the Kent County Association had passed a resolution condemning the calling of peals from manuscript, and trust that other Associations will do likewise. There is yet another practice that should be abolished—a practice which is prevalent in certain parts of the country—and that is the custom of having an "instructor" as well as a "conductor" for the ringing of peals. How can men say that they have rung a peal by "method" as laid down in the instruction books written by Jasper W. Snowdon and others, when they are dependent upon an Instructor to call "dodge" before they can ring a course, much less a peal? Several ringers of this type have visited Birmingham and elsewhere, and have been obliged to either ring the treble or stand out altogether, failing this calling of "dodge." I am writing this in quite a friendly spirit, in the hope that one universal rule will be adopted for all peal-ringing, a consummation most devoutly to be wished, and not, as far as I can see, attended with any difficulty or inconvenience.

JOHN CARTER.

A CORRECTION.

SIR,—In your last issue you made a slight mistake in reporting H. Franks as the composer of the 504 of Grandsire Triples rang by members of the Battle society. It should have read "Mrs. H. Franks." Now Sir, my sole object in writing to you on this matter is because you have espoused the cause of the ladies rather strongly of late in your very valuable paper. I thought perhaps you would be pleased to know there are lady composers as well as ringers, if only on a small scale.

C. HYLAND, Hon. Sec.

EXPLANATION.

SIR,—In your last issue appeared an exaggerated report of a meeting held at Lewisham, on October 17th, in which I am reported to have said "I was one of the culprits who used manuscript from which to call." Allow me to correct this statement. What I did say was, "That I was one of the culprits who was accused of using manuscript to call from." As a matter of fact I have never attempted to call a peal from manuscript during the whole of my ringing career. What I have done sometimes, and no doubt may do again, is to have the course-ends of a peal near me, and I can assure every ringer who has rang peals with me, in which I have had the honour to conduct, that each peal has been true and complete. I am sorry that the mover of this resolution should have allowed his personal spite, jealousy and animosity to carry him thus far, and try to do, what he calls one of his friends (?) as much harm as he possibly could. I should not have taken any notice of the matter if it had been confined to my own district, where I am too well known for it to do me harm. If Frederick William Thornton perseveres, he may yet be at the top of the list of conductors for the year with "Taylor's Bob-and-Single" peal of Grandsire Triples.

W. BEDWELL.

MUSINGS

By AN OLD CONTRIBUTOR.

The admirable article on "Scientific Change-Ringing," by Dr. Nichols, ostensibly addressed to the students of Harvard University, should appeal to the whole of the Great Nation of the United States, or at least to that superior portion of it of Anglo-Saxon blood, either by birth in the country or importation from our own ringing island. I have several times been struck, in reading American works of fiction, by the many allusions to bells—or rather the sound of the bells as chimes—in their sentimental aspect, from the same standpoint so familiar to us in the writings of our own novelists. At the same time, with but one exception, simple jangling of bells, few or many as the case may be, has been the only approach to "ringing" or "chiming" ever heard throughout the vast expanse of the continent of the Two Americas.

Though this is, perhaps, too sweeping an assertion, in one respect, as I have myself heard operatic tunes played, and well-played too, in a cathedral tower in Brazil, on a carillon of some fifteen or twenty bells. But I think tune-playing is beside the question.

There is, however no reason, by want of bells, that ringing should not be practised, as there are several peals in various parts of Canada and the United States, some of them hung for ringing. New York has a peal of eight at Trinity, and a ring of ten at Gracechurch, the latter, the last time I saw them, some twelve ago, were lying in the churchyard pending some repairs to the tower, but were, I believe, replaced in good order. The only approach to ringing, or rather chiming, at Trinity, the mother-church of New York, was by a keyboard chiming apparatus, with, of course, the bells clocked. By-the-bye, Trinity has a 9th, or Sanctus bell.

Philadelphia has a ring of eight, and it was here—the one exception I have alluded to—that the only actual ringing ever took place in America. In 1851, the Great Exhibition year, the celebrated Yankee showman, T. P. Barnum, visited us, and thought it would be good business to take back with him a band of what he chose to term "Lancashire handbell ringers." The band consisted of five Bethnal Green gentlemen, headed and conducted by the late Henry Haley. They made a very successful tour through the States, and at Philadelphia met with two other old Bethnal Green friends and ringers, who had emigrated some years before. With the help of another, I believe, English emigrant at the tenor, a peal was arranged, and the event, well advertised by the astute Barnum, took place on a Sunday morning. The peal—Holt's ten-part—was duly accomplished; and as I have heard Haley relate—on descending from the tower it would have been physically possible to have walked upon the heads of the crowd, while champagne and—but 'twere better to draw the veil.

Montreal has a ring of ten, off the same strickles as Bow and York Minster, with the front six only hung for ringing, and a small ring of eight simply hung up to beams, tunes being played upon them by clockwork and barrels.

Quebec Cathedral has a ring of eight, hung for ringing, but only chimed by a keyboard apparatus. On one occasion some years ago the late Dr. Knipe (a member of the Cumberlands) a good ringer, with the writer of these lines, managed to chime the plain course of Grandsire Triples on these bells. This—for Quebec—unique performance was accomplished by chalking the figures on a board, and was believed to be true and complete.

Dr. Nichols quotes in his headline:—

From Bride's, St. Martin's, Michael's, Overy's, Bow.

but does not make use of the local colour that lies to his hand so to speak, by connecting John Harvard, the chier founder of their beloved University, as he might do, in the mind or imagination of his students with Overys, the very nest of change-ringing. St. Mary Overys, or St. Saviour's—for there were two churches under one roof, though the former name was practically lost at the Reformation—possessed originally seven bells, which were made eight in 1424. The Ancient Society of College Youths was founded in 1637, and the first change-ringing recorded was accomplished by members of that society on Overys bells in 1684, being 720 each of Oxford Treble Bob, College Singles, and Oxford Singles, on the six large bells. Now John Harvard was born in 1607, in High Street, Southwark, his father's house—as shown by the parish books still extant, and parish plans of the period—actually abutting on the churchyard. His childhood and youth were spent in that house, and necessarily the sound of Overys or St. Saviour's eight bells must have been as familiar in his ears as his mother's voice. After the death of his father by plague, his mother married a gentleman named Yarwood, and left Southwark, so that when John Harvard was entered at the University of Cambridge, he was described as "of Middlesex." He grew up to become a Non-conformist Divine, and like many other Puritans was impelled to leave his country for his religion's sake. This was in 1637; but consumption carried him off within a year of his landing, and dying in 1638, he left the sum of £779 17s. 2d., together with his library of 320 books, to help to found what is now the famous University in Cambridge, U.S.A., that bears his name.

* * *

The correspondent who writes respecting the stoney ringing at a city church in the east, complains that his band can get no change-ringer to teach them. In this case I do not see how they are ever to get any further ahead, as it does not seem to occur to them to teach themselves by help of Troyte, or better still, by studying the very clear and explicit papers by "Aleph," now running in "THE BELL NEWS." But why not drop three of their meetings out of four, and attend some of the meetings of the change-ringing societies instead. Most of the prominent London ringers of my acquaintance have attained their proficiency by frequent practice at many different towers; I think if our friend tries he can find a meeting for every night throughout the week, within a reasonable walk, and could make his choice of one, or more, of these as he may find convenient.

* * *

I went to see the Nelson column decorations, and with a hope to hear the St. Martin's bells, but the genial Jack Mansfield was not in the show. I think the Navy League should get him, with permission of the Vicar, to help them on such occasions.

I was also within ten minutes' walk of St. Michael's, Cornhill, on the 10th instant, but knew nothing of the peal attempt until I got my "BELL NEWS" the week after. When will intending peal-ringers favour outsiders with a week's notice in "B.N."

ST. MARY'S SWANSEA.

On Tuesday, the bells of this church pealed forth in Grandsire to commemorate the event of two weddings among the St. Mary's ringers. It was rather a strange coincidence, as both parties no doubt meant the ceremony to be kept secret, but as the wind got west it soon reached the old tower, where the band met to let the locality know that the secret was all out. The contracting parties where Mr. J. A. Hoare to Miss Mills, both of Swansea, and Mr. R. J. Yeo to Miss Bingham, both of whom left Swansea some months ago and went to reside in London. While we were making things lively at Swansea little did we know that our late and respected brother-ringers was playing the same trick, till on the following day we received the complimentary bit of cake with Mr. and Mrs. Yeo's compliments. We, the ringers of St. Mary's, wish both parties all the happiness this world can afford them, and that now they have rung their last Belles with a ring, that they will both be more persevering in the art of change-ringing, as both Mr. Hoare and Mr. Yeo were considered the best of the Swansea company.

I might advise our London friends to wait on Mr. Yeo, as he is quite an intelligent young man, and no doubt would make a splendid mark in the ringing fraternity if some one would look him up. His address is: Mr. R. J. Yeo, 27, Netherwood Road, Shepherd's Bush. H. W.

STOCKLAND, NEAR HONITON, DEVON.

A large clock with quarter-chimes has just been erected in the parish church of Stockland, near Honiton. It is fitted with all modern improvements. Messrs. John Smith and Sons, Midland Clock Works, Derby, carried out the work.

TURNERS and Fitters wanted. Preference given to Change-ringers.—W. B. Lake, Albion Works, Braintree.

sorry than ourselves; for certain reasons we regret his being implicated in the emute; and if the report is untrue as regards himself, an apology is certainly due to him from the writer.

There being evidently a conflict of opinion as to what was said at the meeting, we shall decline to insert any further correspondence on the subject. It is for the Association concerned now to settle the questions at issue.

There is an appeal being made for a very worthy ringer, who is incapacitated from following his employment from what may be regarded as hopeless disease—MR. DAVID WILSON, of Leeds. The movement does not, so far as we know, appear to be so well known as we should like to hear. Perhaps if we draw attention to it in this column, our brethren may be induced to help a poor ringer in his great affliction and necessity. Full particulars of the case will be found in our notice page; and all subscriptions will be thankfully acknowledged by any of the gentlemen therein-named.

AN APPEAL.

We are asked to insert the following copy of circular:—

GENTLEMEN,—We beg to appeal to your Society on behalf of David Wilson, who has not followed his employment for the last ten months, being afflicted with hip disease. He is in need of your sympathy and generous support. His abilities as a change-ringer, and his willingness to take part in all that tends to promote the Art of change-ringing, is too well known to need any special mention here. Hoping you will place this before your company as soon as possible.—We remain, yours,

G. THORNTON, W. SMITH,
W. BANHAM, W. STAINTHORPE.
F. W. CROSSLEY, J. WEST,
W. RHODES, W. H. HOLMES.

Contributions must be sent to John West, Bradford Road, Birstall, near Leeds.

Mr. R. HASTED begs to thank the sender of number 643 of "THE BELL NEWS," asked for in last week's issue.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

F. S.—We are unable to tell you. You should write to some medical journal.

Brought round with calls at 2, 3, 5, 6, 10. This peal has the 4th, 5th, and 6th their extent behind the 9th. The fixing of the treble in 2nd's place and the 6th in 5th's place in the first course is obtained in the least number of changes possible. It was first produced by the composer in 1863. The figures appeared in the Yorkshire Association Report for 1880-1, No. 147.

* This course is produced by bobs at 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 11.

Rung at Sheffield on October 24th, 1896; Conducted by its Composer.

* This course (which is taken from one of Mr. C. H. Hattersley's compositions) is produced by bobs at 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 11.

Repeated, calling the first course 4-5s, produces 216354. Round with calls at 2, 4, 7, 9s, 10, 13.

If the last course is called 4, 6, 8s, 9, 11, 13, 14, the peal will be 5235.

If the three bobs bracketed are omitted in one part, the peal is reduced to 5016.

This peal contains the 5th and 6th the extent behind the 9th, with the treble a fixed bell in 2nds place.

The author would be pleased to know if a shorter peal than this exists containing the above properties.

RE-OPENING OF BELLS AT PENSHURST, KENT.

These bells, formerly a ring of six, have been thoroughly overhauled, several of them being recast, and two trebles added. They have been rehung in a new iron frame with all new fittings, and were dedicated a few weeks ago. The work was entrusted to Mr. T. Blackburn, of Salisbury, and he engaged Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of the Whitechapel foundry, to recast the bells and supply the two bells to complete the octave. To both the bellhanger and the founders the greatest credit is due for the manner in which they have carried out the work. The bells are now a splendid ring, tenor about 17½ cwt. in E, and the go of them is all that can be desired. It was the wish of the bell restoration committee that the work should be tested by a band of practical ringers. Accordingly Mr. W. Latter, of Tunbridge Wells, District Secretary of the Kent County Association, was requested to select a band to attempt a peal on them. Thursday, October 22nd, was the day selected, and on that day the party, consisting of Messrs. Latter, Mankelow, Perkins, and Smithers from Tunbridge Wells, Dunk and Wright from Westerham, and Groombridge from Sevenoaks arrived at the church, where they were met by Mr. J. Ray, captain of the local ringers, and Mr. T. Blackburn, who had got everything in readiness. After the ropes had been adjusted and a few rounds rung, a start was made for Parker's variation of Washbrook's four-part peal of Stedman Triples, but unfortunately after ringing about 2688 changes in 1 hr. and 28 mins., with scarcely a hitch, a change-course occurred, and the conductor called "stand." W. Latter, 1; E. Mankelow, 2; D. Wright, 3; S. Perkins, 4; T. Blackburn, 5; E. R. J. Dunk, 6; T. Groombridge (conductor), 7; G. Smithers, 8.

After a touch of Treble Bob Major the bells were lowered in peal, and the ringers adjourned to The Leicester Hotel, where a capital knife and tork tea was provided, through the kindness of Mr. Blackburn. The Rector presided, and J. M. Sturges Esq., occupied the vice-chair, and the company included the curate, Mr. Churchwarden Arnold, the sidesmen, the local ringers, and representatives from the Chiddingstone and Leigh branches. Grace before and after meat having been said by the Rector, he said that he shortly had to leave to attend a choir practice, but he wished before he left to thank Mr. Blackburn for the manner in which he had carried out the work. They had had several estimates for the works, and after due consideration they accepted Mr. Blackburn's tender, and he could strongly recommend him to anyone who wanted bells rehung, as they could depend on the best materials being used, combined with the best workmanship. Mr. Blackburn had also entrusted the recasting of the bells and the order for the new bells to a firm of the highest repute, and the result was that an excellent job had been made. He also wished to thank Mr. Sturges for the part he had taken in collecting the subscriptions, and generally superintending the work, remarking that they were fortunate in securing his services, as anything he undertook was sure to be done well and thoroughly. He also thanked the ringers who had come that afternoon and had treated them to such excellent ringing. He was very glad to see that the association's first object was that bells should be used for their proper use, viz., to call worshippers to church, and he was pleased that the Penshurst ringers had joined the association, and were receiving instruction in change ringing. He hoped before long that Penshurst would not only possess a good peal of bells, but also a good band of change-ringers. His old friend and pupil, Mr. A. T. Battye, who accompanied Dr. Nansen in his Arctic Expedition, had kindly offered to give a lecture in November on his experiences in the Arctic regions, and to devote the proceeds to the bell restoration fund, on which there was still a deficit of about £35.

Mr. Blackburn, in reply, thanked the Rector for the manner in which he had spoken of the work. He could assure them that he had done everything in his power to make the work a success. He did not believe in scamping work for the sake of a little extra profit, but knew that the best way was to use the best materials and have good workmanship, and the best way to test bellhanging was for an independent band of change-ringers to come and try them (such as had been ringing that afternoon) and he was quite content to leave the verdict in their hands. It gave him the greatest satisfaction to hear that the unanimous opinion of the ringers that afternoon was that the "go" of the bells was all that could be desired.

The Rector having now to leave, the chair was taken by Mr. Churchwarden Arnold, and with a plentiful supply of pipes and the fragrant weed, and some excellent songs, a very pleasant evening was spent. During the evening Mr. J. M. Sturges proposed "Success and Prosperity to the Kent County Association." A short time ago little was known in the parish of it or its work; but from what he had heard of it lately he was convinced of the great work it had done and was doing amongst the ringers of the county. He was very glad that the Penshurst ringers had joined and were receiving instruction in change-ringing, and he learned from Mr. Latter, their instructor, that they were making satisfactory progress. He was very sorry that they did not succeed in the attempt for the peal, but they heard sufficient to bring out the beautiful music of the bells when rung in scientific changes. He hoped the ringers would start for the peal again soon and be successful, and thus score the first peal on the bells for the Association. He also hoped that Penshurst would heartily support the Association by as many of the residents as possible becoming hon. members next year. It could not be expected that the Association could continue to do what it was doing without they assisted it by their subscriptions. He coupled with the toast the name of the District Secretary.

Mr. Latter, in responding, regretted the absence, through a previous engagement, of the Rev. F. J. C. Helmore. He gave a few statistics about the association, the number of members, and the advantages they had, but he regretted to say that the report for last year showed a small balance on the wrong side. He urged the company to do all they could to obtain more hon. members next year, for without increased support they must curtail their expenses, which would mean that members would not get the same privileges they did now. He concluded by thanking, on behalf of the visiting ringers, Mr. Sturges and the Bell Restoration Committee for their kind invitation to them that day; he regretted that they were not successful with the peal, but hoped shortly to attempt it again, and trusted that they would be successful next time. A very pleasant evening was brought to a close shortly before ten o'clock by the company singing the National Anthem.

FIFTY-SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE HANGING OF SOUTHOVER CHURCH BELLS, LEWES.

On Wednesday, October 28th, to commemorate the 57th anniversary of the hanging of Southover church bells, an attempt was made for a peal of Grandsire Triples, but in this the company were unsuccessful. A quarter-peal in the same method was afterwards rung by S. W. Shoesmith, treble; S. Saker, 2; F. Bennett, 3; G. Williams, 4; H. Jones, 5; J. S. Goldsmith, 6; A. J. Turner (conductor), 7; J. F. Steadman, tenor.

In the evening the ringers and friends sat down to an excellent repast at The King's Head, provided by Mrs. Goldsmith. Mr. S. Saker, Hastings, Sussex, County Association (Eastern Divisional hon. secretary), occupied the chair, Mr. J. R. Lusted being in the vice. Among others present were: Mr. J. Hambrook (churchwarden), Mr. W. H. Paris (organist), Mr. G. Williams (Central Divisional hon. secretary), Mr. F. Bennett (Brighton), Mr. H. Jones (Ringmer), Mr. A. J. Turner, Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, Mr. J. F. Steadman, Mr. S. W. Shoesmith, Mr. G.

Turner, Mr. A. Uridge, Mr. F. Brooker, Mr. W. Oram, &c. At the conclusion of the meal,

The Chairman proposed the Ringers' toast of "The Church and Queen," which was enthusiastically honoured, Mr. T. Steadman taking the solo in the National Anthem.

Mr. Goldsmith, in submitting the toast of the evening, "Success to the Sussex County Association of Change Ringers," said that all those who were in any way connected with church work were aware of the great amount of good done in the belfries by such associations as this, and they were therefore worthy of the heartiest support. One of the primary objects of these societies was belfry reform, and another was the honour that evening of having among them one of the greatest of present day exponents of the art, Mr. George Williams. He coupled with the toast the names of Mr. Saker and Mr. Williams, two of their divisional hon. secretaries.

Mr. Saker, in reply, said he was very pleased to be among them. He had come to Lewes that day to assist in attempting a peal, in which he was sorry they were not successful. Bell-ringers, he believed, were always true churchmen, and it was their duty, not only to help in the art of change-ringing, but to set an example by attending the service. He had heard it said that a ringer was like a signpost, showing people the way, but never going itself. He was thankful to say that now, ringers, after inviting the people to attend the service "with their far-reaching metal tongues," also attended the service themselves. The speaker then referred to a very successful meeting which had lately been held at Pevensey, and quoted the words of Archdeacon Sutton by saying, "There is nothing like a good sound bell at one end of a rope, and a good Christian man at the other."

Mr. Williams also thanked the company for the way his name had been received in connection with the toast.

Mr. Turner, in giving the toast of "The Rector and Churchwardens of Southover," said he was very pleased to see their churchwarden, Mr. Hambrook, with them that evening. With regard to the Rector they all knew the good work he had done in the parish for considerably over twenty years, and he was ably assisted by his churchwardens. He also wished to thank the Rev. W. E. Richardson for his kindness in providing dessert that evening.

Mr. Hambrook, in thanking the company for the way in which the toast had been received, said he should very much have liked to have seen the Rector himself present. Although he had not known him for any length of time, he knew that he was a good, conscientious, Christian man. Continuing, the speaker said he was very fond of the sweet music of the bells, and although he lived within sixty yards of the belfry he had never found any annoyance. The other day, when he heard the bells being rung half-muffled, they had brought back to him many reminiscences, one of which was the time when those very bells had rung in the same manner on the day that the daughter of his fellow-churchwarden was laid in her last resting place.

Mr. J. R. Lusted next proposed "The Health of the Chairman," in eulogistic terms.

Mr. Saker, in replying to the compliment, said when he was asked that afternoon if he would take the chair he was very much surprised, as he thought there were others present who could more ably have filled the post than himself. Referring to ringing, he said he had often wondered how it was there were not more of the younger members of the congregation who took up the art of change-ringing, which was a healthful exercise both for the mind and body. Other toasts were "The Vice-chairman," proposed by Mr. Goldsmith; and "The Hostess," proposed by Mr. Bedford.

During the evening songs and recitations were given by Messrs. A. J. Turner, W. Whitehorn, T. Steadman, F. Paine, J. Balcombe, E. Bedford, &c. Selections on handbells were given by Messrs. Goldsmith and Turner, and a course of Grandsire Triples was also rang by S. Saker, 1-2; F. Bennett, 3-4; G. Williams, 5-6; and J. S. Goldsmith, 7-8. A pianoforte solo was given by Mr. Paris, who also acted as accompanist.

GREENSTEAD GREEN (Essex).—On Sunday afternoon, October 25th. for Divine Service, 720 Kent Treble Bob. C. Ridgewell, 1; W. J. Sorrell (conductor), 2; G. Arnold, 3; H. Ellis, 4; W. Rust, 5; W. Root, 6.

DEDICATION OF NEW BELLS AT ST. MARGARET'S, ROCHESTER.

On Thursday, October 22nd, the two new trebles, which have been added to complete a ring of eight, were dedicated and declared opened for ringing by the Very Rev. the Dean of Rochester (Dr. S. Reynolds Hole). After the dedication the Dean gave a very eloquent and powerful address upon the use of bells to a large congregation.

For a long time the ringers of St. Margaret's have wished to possess a peal of eight, but have been put off from time to time by other things needed in the parish, but by constantly bringing the matter before each succeeding vicar, we have been successful at our meeting last January. Three of our band were appointed to wait upon the vicar; they did so, and the matter was at once taken up, not only by the vicar, the Rev. A. J. W. Thorndike, and churchwardens, but by the ringers themselves. But the success of the undertaking rests with the vicar and Mrs. Thorndike, who worked so energetically, assisted by Mr. Churchwarden Hind, the hon. secretary of the committee.

The work of adding the two new bells and tuning the six old ones has been carried out by Messrs Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and has given every satisfaction.

At the conclusion of the service the bells were kept going in various methods till 8.30 p.m. A special band of ringers had been invited to open the bells, consisting of the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore (hon. sec. of the Kent County Association), C. Wilkins (Crayford), F. French (Bexley), W. Haigh (Gillingham), C. Waterman (Shorn), T. Mannering and C. Hobbs (Maidstone). Other ringers attended from Lewisham, F. Hayes (Milton), and several from Gillingham, Frindsbury, &c. The whole of the local band were present during the evening. The invited guests were entertained to tea by the vicar.

A grand reception was given in a large tent erected on the lawn by Mr. R. Smith, of Rochester. At 8.30 p.m. the local ringers sat down to an excellent supper. Songs were sung by Messrs. Kidd, Baker, Tulett, &c., breaking up on the stroke of twelve, after a very pleasant evening. A. OSBORNE.

GUSSAGE ST. MICHAEL, CRANBORNE, DORSET.

This church has recently been reopened, and the bells rededicated by the Bishop. The tenor of this ring of five has been cracked for nearly seventy years, and was caused by a man striking the bell with a blacksmith's hammer, probably because the then churchwardens did not provide a rope. The whole of the frame-work and flooring is new, and everything has been overhauled and put into good working order at the expense of Miss Dewdeny, of Balmoral Villa, Bournemouth, daughter of the late rector, who died in 1869. The recast tenor is in the key of F sharp, and weighs 11 cwt. 11 lbs. Everything has been well done and executed by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The inscriptions on the bells are as follows:

Treble.—"F. F. Prayes God. R. H. D. W. 1663."

Second.—"Prayes God. R. H. F. F. 1663."

Third.—"Hope Well. I. W. 1608."

Fourth.—"Feare God. I. W. 1608."

Tenor.—"R. Wells of Aldbourne, Fecit MDCCLXVII. William Brewer, Churchwarden. To the Glory of God. This bell was recast and the belfry restored A.D. 1896. Mears and Stainbank, Whitechapel Foundry, London."

Mr. Oliver has left a place for a new treble bell, if some kind friends will come forward and provide one. At present all the available funds have been used for the repair and restoration of the church, which is well worth a visit from antiquarian friends. It is six miles from Verwood and seven from Blandford station. The ringing was done by members of the Mitchampton and Crichele belfries, who rang call-changes during the afternoon and evening. A Guild meeting is being arranged to be held at Cranborne (five miles from this place) in Christmas week, when an effort will be made to do something for the surrounding villages by way of instruction in change-ringing, which is practically unknown in the neighbourhood.

The vicar of Cranborne was present at the dedication, as was also the assistant-secretary for Dorset.

Obituary.

ROGER STOCKLEY.

On Thursday afternoon, 29th October, there was laid to rest in Walton Parish Churchyard, near Liverpool, the mortal remains of the late Mr. R. Stockley, who died at the early age of thirty-three years. He was a native of Walton, but for the past five or six years had resided in Birkenhead. He came home from work on Friday, October 16th, complaining of feeling unwell, and on the following Sunday week he breathed his last. His death came as a surprise to everybody, as he had always enjoyed good health, and was robust and strong. The cause of death was jaundice and convulsions. He had a kind disposition, and endeared himself to all who came in contact with him. He leaves a widow and five children—the youngest being fifteen months old—to mourn his loss, as well as a large circle of friends. He commenced his change-ringing career at Walton, and was a member of that company from 1885 to 1888, when owing to business arrangements he had to leave. He rang in various Minor methods, and was greatly respected by the senior and junior ringers of Walton. The funeral left the deceased's residence, 3, Paterson Street, Birkenhead, at 1.20, and went by way of Conway Street to Hamilton Square, where a large number of fellow-workmen were assembled, and who followed the hearse down to the ferry, where they stood to allow the mourners' carriages to pass through. Previous to the funeral arriving at the church, the bells were chimed by Messrs. Barker, Somerville, Rodger and Bell. Upon arrival, the coffin was carried into the church by Messrs. Johnson, Hurst, Percival and Harrison (senior and junior ringers), and from the church to the grave by four of his fellow-workmen. There was also present a large number of workmen from the Birkenhead Lairage, who followed in the procession, also his late employer, Mr. W. Simpson, by whom he was held in high esteem. There was also present Mr. W. Cope, who journeyed specially from London. The service was conducted by the Rev. Canon Leigh, rector of Walton, and was very impressive throughout. A great number of floral wreaths were presented, one among the number being from the Walton parish church ringers, and one from his fellow-workmen, also one from his late employer, Mr. W. Simpson. There was also a beautiful everlasting wreath in a glass case presented by the employees of Mr. J. S. Baker. Immediately the burial service was over, the following ringers ascended the belfry, and rang with the bells half-muffled a 720 of Canterbury Pleasure Minor (twenty-two bobs and fourteen singles). C. E. Wilson (composer and conductor), 1; J. W. Bell, 2; H. Rodger, 3; H. Percival, 4; H. H. Barker, 5; H. Harrison, 6. The following also assembled in the evening, and rang a 720 of Plain Bob Minor (twenty-four singles). G. Somerville, 1; C. E. Wilson, (composer and conductor), 2; H. Rodger, 3; H. Percival, 4; H. H. Barker, 5; H. Harrison, 6. In addition to the ringers and chimers already mentioned, the following were present: Messrs. Bramley, Nightingale, Gilmour and Waistell.

OLD HILL (Staffordshire).—Recently for Divine Service at the parish church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples in 43 mins. W. Foxall, 1; O. Pearson, 2; G. Bird, 3; W. Priest, 4; H. Cartwright, 5; H. Mason (conductor), 6; W. Green, 7; W. Adams, 8. First quarter-peal by Messrs. Bird and Adams. On Sunday morning, October 18th, for Divine Service, 336 Grandsire Triples. W. Foxall, 1; H. Cartwright, 2; G. Bird, 3; W. Priest, 4; H. Mason, 5; G. Parish (conductor), 6; W. Green, 7; W. Adams, 8. For Divine Service in the evening 420 Grandsire Triples, being the first two parts of the above quarter-peal. W. Foxall, 1; H. Cartwright, 2; G. Bird, 3; O. Pearson, 4; H. Mason (conductor), 5; G. Parish, 6; W. Green, 7; W. Adams, 8.

WELLINGTON (Salop).—On Thursday, October 22nd, at the parish church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples in 45 mins. J. Rowley, 1; W. Owen, 2; R. Nicholls, 3; T. Pritchard, 4; R. Rowley, 5; E. Childs, 6; J. Eveson (conductor), 7; G. Moore, 8.

WILLENMALL (Staffordshire).—On Sunday morning, October 25th, for Divine Service at St. Giles' church, 1008 Grandsire Triples. G. Goodchild, 1; S. Pitt, 2; S. Atkins (composer and conductor), 3; S. Dace, 4; N. Kibble, 5; S. Allport, 6; J. Appleby, 7; J. Adams, 8.

EXTRACT FROM A LECTURE ON "FOODS," BY DR. ANDREW WILSON.—"The consumption of cocoa happily increases year by year. I say 'happily,' because, as tea and coffee are not foods, while cocoa is a true food, any increase in the national nutrition means an increase in the national prosperity. Winter, besides, is close upon us, and I advise those who are susceptible to colds to fortify themselves against chill by attention to their food. The easiest way of effecting this end for many is to substitute cocoa (Epps's being the most nutritious) for tea and coffee."

CENTRAL NORTHAMPTONSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

QUARTERLY MEETING AT YARDLEY HASTINGS.

By kind invitation of the Rector and ringers of Yardley Hastings, the quarterly meeting of the Central Northamptonshire Association took place at that village on Saturday, October 24th, when there was an excellent muster of representatives from All Saints', St. Giles'. St. Edmund's, and St. Peter's (Northampton), Wellingborough, Doddington, Rushden, Earls Barton, Ecton, Easton Maudit, Castle Ashby, and Yardley Hastings. An excellent plain tea was partaken of in the Infants' Schoolroom by about fifty ringers, local ladies looking after their wants. The Rector, the Rev. A. C. Ranger, presided, and among those present were Mr. J. W. Robinson and Mr. J. Dunkley (churchwardens). A most cordial vote of thanks was proposed to the rector and ringers for their invitation, and to the churchwardens for their attendance, by Mr. E. J. Dennes. Referring to the Yardley Hastings bells, the speaker said they were a good peal, but were hung in the old style, and although much had been done to improve the belfry, the Yardley Hastings people would soon have to face the question of re-hanging. Mr. Hall (Rushden) seconded the vote, which was heartily carried.

The Rev. A. C. Ranger, in reply, said it was a pleasure to him to have the ringers there. He read an apology from the Rev. R. M. Carrick (Castle Ashby), and, in conclusion, expressed the hope that the Castle Ashby and Easton Maudit ringers would join the association.

Mr. J. Dunkley (churchwarden) also welcomed the ringers to Yardley Hastings, and said they were only waiting for some one to leave them sufficient money for the bells to be re-hung, and the work would then soon be done. Mr. Dennes mentioned that the Rev. A. C. Ranger had consented to become an honorary member. Subsequently the business meeting took place, and an invitation to hold the next meeting at Rothwell on February 20th was accepted. J. Juggins, G. Digby, and E. James, of Northampton, were elected ringing members.

The Hon. Sec. read a letter from the Rev. W. R. Morse, rector of Rushden, inviting the association to hold a meeting there next summer. He also referred to the peal recently rung at Kettering as being worthy of note, owing to the fact that it was the first rung by a local band for over fifty years; and that one of the local clergy (the Rev. W. H. Abbot) took part in it. Since their annual meeting, he pointed out that several ringers in their district had died, viz: J. Horner, of Irthlingborough (who rang his first peal just a year ago); Mr. Hartwell, the oldest ringer in Northampton; Mr. Wallis, the aged sexton of Finedon; also Mr. John Sharp (one of their hon. members), churchwarden of Doddington, all of whom had much love for bells and bell ringing.

Mr. Dennes mentioned that the donor of their new peal-book wished it to be looked upon as a gift to the association in celebration of the 60th year of the reign of our beloved Queen Victoria. A vote of thanks was passed to the rector for presiding.

Ringling continued at the church until 8 o'clock, when all adjourned to the large room of The Rose and Crown inn, and passed a most harmonious social evening, enlivened with some excellent songs, and handbell music on two peals of bells brought over by the Wellingborough and Rushden companies.

The bells of the Church of St. Andrew, Yardley Hastings, are a ring of six, inscribed and dated as follows:—1. Fear God Honor the King. Henry Penn Fovnder 1723. 2. Obey them that haue rule ouer you in the Lord 1723. 4. Praise God in the Beauty of Holiness. Hymphry Betty A.M. Rector 1723. Recast G. H. Rigby 1885. 5. Bee not wise in yovr owne conceits. Samvel Whitmey Robert Jeffrey Churchwardens. 1723. 6. The Righteous hath hope in His Death. The Right Honble. George Earl of Northampton Baron Compton of Compton. 1723. (Diam. 42 in. Weight about 14 cwt.) Henry Penn, who cast the entire peal, was a Peterborough founder. (He cast the Cathedral Bells 1709.) The fourth bell at Yardley Hastings having become cracked was recast by Taylor, of Loughborough, 1885, the old inscription being reproduced thereon with the addition of the name of the rector at that time, the Rev. G. H. Rigby. Each bell bears the arms and motto of George, Fourth Earl of Northampton, whose name is on the tenor.

AN HON. SEC. ON THE RAMPAGE.

"A gross deception;" "wretched conditions;" "execrable practice." "Hulloa!" says I; "what's the meaning of this? something wrong, surely." And sure enough it was a good big something; as after glancing down the editor's remarks in the number of our paper for the 24th ult., the above words met my astonished gaze. Well after, as I said, glancing it down, I read, and read, and read—and I thought, and thought, and thought. Then I read the report of that annual meeting which had called forth such powerful expressions, and says I to myself—"Well, if ever there was 'the right man in the right place' it is our editor, when he penned his condemnation of this 'miserable practice.'"

Now sir, in the first place, when that thunderbolt burst into the hall—I beg pardon, I mean Mr. Thornton (all honour to him)—rose and moved his resolution, what do we find? Why that "for over two years this practice of calling peals from ms. had been common among certain members." Then a little further on—"that it was always done in that particular part of the county;" and last but not least, "that a step had been taken in the right direction." Well sir, with your permission, I being rather of an inquisitive turn of mind, take the liberty of asking those gentlemen who have been conducting (save the mark) peals of this description for over two years past, what is going to be done with such so-called peals if, for instance they are inserted in the Association peal-book—and I suppose they have been? Are they going to put a footnote to them stating that they were conducted by Mr So-and-So, from manuscript? or are they going to put a neat black border round them? or are they at the next meeting going to bring forward a proposition that they be struck out altogether? At the last meeting of the Central Council some discussion took place respecting the value of points, and it was suggested that long peals should be credited with more points than an ordinary 5000; then the weight of metal was put forward, and it was thought that that should be considered. Perhaps at the next meeting of the Central Council we may be hearing something as to the value of points for peals called from manuscript.

Then again (how inquisitive I am, to be sure) I should like to ask—Is it quite true that it was always done in that part of the county? And when we come to "a step had been taken in the right direction," I should like to ask those gentlemen not to take a step, but a good big jump, and either conduct their peals like men or else leave it alone altogether.

One member of the Association stated that when he desired to call the ten-part peal, he had to trust to memory alone. To this I may say ditto. Rather proud I was, too, as it was my first attempt; though some little time afterwards, when in the company of some of my fellow-members one night after a peal of Stedman, the conversation was running upon conducting, and I overheard part of a colloquy which comprised the following: "What! Holt's 10-part peal? Why you could stand on your head and call that!" Didn't I feel little—"that's all."

CURIOUS ACCIDENT.

On Thursday, October 29th, as a band of ringers were practising at St. Giles's church, Norwich, a rather singular accident happened to part of the bell-gear.

The trebles at this church are hoisted some feet above the general level of the frame, for the purpose of throwing the sound of the windows. During the ringing the clapper of the treble fell out, smashing the wheel of the 3rd (some four or five feet off) all to pieces. There is only a single floor between the ringers and the bells, and that a very poor one, so that the noise was quite appalling.

A few of the ringers at once went up to the bell-chamber to see what had happened. After ascertaining the cause, a search was made for the missing clapper. The whole floor was inspected without result, and after some time it was decided to report matters to the authorities. As one of the "break-down gang" was walking across the frame to the door, he espied the quondam clapper inside the fourth! This bell had been set the instant the noise started, but how it became a receptacle for broken bell-gear is a mystery, as it is quite out of line with the treble and third.

Correspondence.

While allowing the utmost freedom for the expression of opinion, it must never be considered that we are in any way bound to statements made by correspondents.

To the Editor of "THE BELL NEWS AND RINGERS' RECORD."

BOB MAJOR.

SIR,—Anyone who publishes his opinion on any subject, must expect adverse criticism, and I certainly ought not to complain because my precepts and practices have been somewhat roughly handled in your last issue; but at the same time I may be excused for saying that your correspondent's words would have had greater weight and been more appreciated had he written English and signed his name, instead of screening his identity behind an assumption of ignorance, and a nom de plume. He accuses me of inconsistency; of having said one thing and done another; of having criticised other people's compositions and forgotten that my own are not above criticism. But I have criticised no one's peals, and have mentioned no one's name; what I did was to emphasise certain facts respecting a certain class of six-part peals, which facts I had reason, and have reason, to believe have been in many cases overlooked. But it does not require very careful reading to see that I draw a very distinct line between the six-part peals and the touches that constitute those peals. Let your correspondent read my last paragraph, and he will see at once that it is so. I said that nearly all extents in the method were merely certain of these touches judiciously joined together. This means that the touches are not original any more than the courses that comprise them are original, but that originality certainly can be had in the arrangement of the touches. Thus then there is no inconsistency in my using these touches in my peals, if it cannot be shewn that in so doing I trespass on another's ground. This your correspondent says I have done, and first he quotes my 5024 "THE BELL NEWS," p. 311, as being a variation of Eversfield's 5760 in "Shipway." But Eversfield's peal, as I pointed out in my article in "THE BELL NEWS," November 16th, 1895, is founded on a plan that shews a remarkable affinity to Holt's ten-part peal of Grandsire, and Reeves's 13440 of Bob Major, while my peal is an adaption of the last of the touches on p. 329. My 5056 is vaguely said to be copied from Shipway and Reeves; as a matter of fact it consists of touches 1 and 3, with a little added. The ten-part peal is indeed not a very extraordinary composition, but was given as a simple peal in the shortest number of changes. For the rest of "Ignoramus's" letter, I am certainly content to be judged by my own standards as well as that others should be judged thereby, but I would ask your correspondent in future to read any article he attempts to criticise, for had he done so in the present instance, there would have been no need of his letter. In my article I tried to prove everything I stated, and beyond that no one can go. To those that want more, I can only say in the somewhat brusque language of Dr. Johnson, "I have found you a reason, Sir; I am not bound to find you an understanding."

Valentine Street, Norwich.

J. A. TROLLOPE.

P.S.—In reply to Mr. Lincoln's query as to the authorship of the 6048 of Bob Major, among the many claimants none has a better title than John Reeves, who by publishing it in a reduced form in 1788, is nearly a hundred years before most of his competitors.

SIR,—I see in last week's "BELL NEWS" a peal of Bob Major by Mr. N. J. Pitstow. I have the same composition in several different forms from Mr. Dains, also the same peal in Double Norwich; with 4, 5 and 6 eleven course-ends consecutively in sixths place. I had them in my possession since April, 1894, I don't know if they have been published in "THE BELL NEWS" or not.

CONDUCTING FROM MANUSCRIPT.

SIR,—It has been, perhaps, too hastily assumed that there is only one side to this question. The charge made against Mr. Bedwell at Lewisham, so far as I understand it, was first—that he called a peal or peals from MS.; secondly, that he thereby obtained credit as a conductor under false pretences. Now there are two different degrees of wrong-doing: it is, indeed, open to argument whether the first without the second is wrong-doing at all. It may be less scientific than the ordinary practice; but is it dishonourable, if done openly and aboveboard? The question is this—and the principle is the same whether a conductor has only course-ends or the whole peal before him—Is a conductor entitled to use any written help to his memory, if he feels that he can thereby do more justice to the band who look to him to guide them through their peal? And if he does so, is the peal any less creditable to those who have rung it, whatever it may be to the conductor's own reputation for ability? If he allows it to go forth to the public as equal to a feat of conducting by memory, that is deception, and therefore wrong. But on any other supposition the case is not so clear, in the absence of any definite rule. Let me put two cases, both of possible occurrence. A band, let us say, meets several times at a given tower for a peal, but always with ill success, because one of their number is anxious to conduct, and will not fall in with any other arrangement until he has scored a peal as conductor. Would they after a certain time be justified in saying to him—"If you want us to come again and ring the peal for you, you must have some figures to help your memory?" Or take the case of a young band, anxious to secure a peal, but unable to do so because their conductor, good enough for a quarter-peal or other long touch, is not quite up to calling a peal. Is it better for them to call in a stranger to conduct for them, or to do it for themselves with some manuscript aid to their conductor's memory? I do not wish to lay down a definite answer to either question: I only submit that they want a little thinking over, and are not to be answered off-hand in a fit of virtuous indignation. And if questions are to be raised of getting credit under false pretences, what is to be said of cases where a distinguished band of strangers visit the same country district, and ring a number of peals, the credit of which goes to the local Association in whose name they ring. I am not and never shall be a conductor, with or without manuscript; nor have I any personal interest in the Lewisham dispute. But I confess that the case is not so clear to me as it seems to others; and I should like to elicit some authoritative statement of principle that will help me to a decision.

T. L. PAPILLON,
Hon. Sec. Essex Association.

Another letter has come to hand from Mr. F. W. Thornton, strenuously maintaining the correctness in every particular of his report; but while entirely agreeing with him in the condemnation of the alleged practices in bob-calling, we must not go behind our determination of last week. Perhaps he will find another mode of helping forward his case.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The Central Council Committee for the Collection of Peals, having organised a company of workers to deal with the methods hereinafter mentioned, invite all composers to send their compositions in any of these methods to the specified collector for proof and comparison. Compositions which have already appeared in Collections or Treatises need not be sent. References to those which have appeared in the columns of the ringing papers will be accepted as sufficient without the figures; but they should be accompanied by reference to any subsequent correspondence respecting them, and an assurance that they have not been pronounced false. In all cases it is desirable that the date of composition should be appended, whenever it can be accurately assigned. Collectors will not undertake to receive compositions merely for proof, nor to enter on any correspondence with regard to them. The following gentlemen will receive compositions in the methods set against their names. Collectors for other methods will be announced in due course.

The Bell News & Ringers' Record.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1896.

NEXT week we hope to publish a beautiful picture of an important English Cathedral, with an account of the edifice written by a competent authority. We have repeatedly been asked to republish the view of the Snowdon Memorial Window on a separate sheet; should we not be able to publish the splendid engraving above alluded to, next week, we will issue the picture of the window. And our paper will again revert to the increased size which it has been of late.

AN APPEAL.

We are asked to insert the following copy of circular:—

GENTLEMEN,—We beg to appeal to your Society on behalf of David Wilson, who has not followed his employment for the last ten months, being afflicted with hip disease. He is in need of your sympathy and generous support. His abilities as a change-ringer, and his willingness to take part in all that tends to promote the Art of change-ringing, is too well known to need any special mention here. Hoping you will place this before your company as soon as possible.—We remain, yours,

G. THORNTON, W. SMITH,
W. BANHAM, W. STAINTHORPE.
F. W. CROSSLEY, J. WEST,
W. RHODES, W. H. HOLMES.

Contributions must be sent to John West, Bradford Road, Birstall, near Leeds.

NOTE TO THE PEAL AT IRTHLINGBOROUGH. This peal was rung as a 27th birthday compliment to the conductor, his brother-ringers wishing many happy returns. It is also his first peal in the method as conductor, which he called at the first attempt, only having called four touches of Grandsire previous. It is also a noteworthy fact that he only started change-ringing two-and-a-half years ago. It is also the first time that this famous peal has been conducted by a resident of the county. Messrs. Gilbert (2) and Stubbs hail from Raunds; Mackay from St. Giles, Northampton; the rest belong to Irtlingborough.

[Vol. XV.]

ST. ALBANS, HERTS.

[BY AN OCCASIONAL VISITOR.]

An excellent way for a Londoner of spending a Saturday afternoon in summer is to pay a visit to the ancient city of St. Albans, and while viewing its many interesting features, to get a good whiff of its pure and bracing air, a commodity to which the denizen of the "Great City" is such a stranger.

Leaving St. Pancras at 2.25 p.m. with a cheap return ticket, costing 1s. 9d., a matter of thirty minutes suffices to cover the twenty miles which divides the "ancient" city from the "great." A walk of seven or eight minutes brings one to the Town Hall, a coterie of straw hat factories (the staple industry of the place), and also the public library, having been passed on the way. Of course, the Cathedral, or, as it is more commonly called, the Abbey, is the chief object of interest to the visitor, and to this he accordingly wends his way, passing through the old and irregularly built Market Place at the bottom of which formerly stood the symbol of our faith, erected by Edward I., in memory of his Queen, Eleanor, whose body rested here in its progress from Hardby, Lincolnshire, where she died, but which a utilitarian age has replaced by a not very ornamental drinking fountain. Here also is the Clock Tower, built at the beginning of the fifteenth century, and restored some thirty years ago by the Corporation. It contains two bells, the larger of which, according to Mr. North, is the most interesting bell in the county. It is used as the clock bell, but was cast as an Angelus or Curfew bell, and bears the motto in very handsome lettering:—

† MISSI DE CELIS HABEO NOMEN GABRIELIS.†

It weighs about a ton, and Mr. North thinks is probably of early sixteenth century date, but it is possibly much older than this. The other bell which was formerly used for market purposes, is inscribed, "Thos. Robins, Mayor of St. Albans, 1729."

Passing on, the visitor arrives at the west front of the cathedral. Founded about 793 A.D., by Offa, King of Mercia, with the consent of Pope Adrian, by whom the protomartyr was canonised, the monastery was placed under the rule of St. Benedict. The abbot being mitred in the year 1161, sat in Parliament among the peers of the realm.

The abbey was rebuilt on a very much larger scale by Paul de Caen, first Norman abbot, and fourteenth in succession, the materials being taken from the ancient city of Verulamium, the work occupying about eleven years. From time to time additions and restorations have taken place, so that almost every style and period of architecture is represented in the building. Quite recently Lord Grimthorpe has spent several years in a thorough restoration, at a cost of over £140,000. The building, which is one of the finest of its kind in the kingdom, is in the form of a Latin cross, and consists of nave, transepts, choir, saints' chapel, chapel of our Lady with antechapel and chantry chapel on its south side, and a central tower.

The extreme length is 548ft., the width between the outer faces of the transepts 189ft., and the height of the tower, 144ft. by nearly 50ft. square.

The beautiful illustration, which, through the kindness of Messrs. Gibbs and Bamforth, of St. Albans, we are able to present to our readers, shows the cathedral from the south-west, an excellent view, in which the extreme length of the nave, and the noble proportions of the tower, are well brought out.

Exigencies of space, however, absolutely forbid going into details of the very numerous objects of interest, so we must leave the visitor to his guide or guide-book, though readers of "THE BELL NEWS" will expect to be provided with some particulars of the tower and bells.

The tower, which is part of the work of Paul de Caen, is to-day substantially the same as when it left the hands of the Norman builders, eight hundred years ago.

The ringing chamber is one of the largest in the country, measuring 33 by 31 feet, one-fourth of the floor space being amply sufficient for ringing purposes. It is intersected in all directions by immense oak beams, supporting the tower generally and the floor above, which carries the bells. These beams make ringing most difficult to those unaccustomed to the tower, and it is only from the treble or second that a good sight of the whole of the ropes may be obtained.

Of the pre-reformation bells little is known. There were most probably five, which remained in the tower till 1699, when they were broken up, and, with additional metal, cast into six by Philip Wightman. The dedications of the old bells were respectively Mary, Amphibalus, Alban, Christ, and John, but there is unfortunately no record of the inscriptions.

Four of the six bells cast by Wightman still remain, the 3rd, 4th, 7th, and tenor of the present ring. The 5th was re-cast in 1731 by Richard Phelps, and the 6th in 1758 by Lister and Pack. The treble and 2nd, which were added in 1730, were cast by Phelps, but the treble has been twice re-cast—first by John Briant and subsequently in 1845 by C. & G. Mears. The inscriptions on the present bells, in addition to names of Rectors, Churchwardens, and Founders are:—

Treble.—"Nata minor laude prior."

2nd.—"Thes 2 least bells were bought by free gifts of sundry good people obtained by YE REV'D. MR. JOHN COLE VIC: R: P: FEC: 1730."

Tenor.—"Vivos ad celvm mortvos ad solvm pvlvata voco."

The weight of the tenor is 30 cwt., diameter 52½ inches. There is also a small bell in the tower hanging in a small frame, which Mr. North says is undoubtedly a Sanctus bell of mid-fourteenth century production, but which has no inscription whatever.

The only record of change-ringing prior to 1872 is a tablet in the ringing chamber, giving particulars of a peal of 5040 Bob Major, rung in 3 hrs. 20 mins. on 19th December, 1765, conducted by Wm. Kentish, junr. It is stated to be the first peal on the bells. In 1872 the bells were rehung, but no peal was rung till 1883, when the College Youths rang Holt's 10-part of Grandsire Triples, which was conducted by Mr. M. Wood, four local ringers taking part in the peal. It was shortly before this that Mr. N. N. Hills moved to St. Albans, and the revival of change-ringing in the city is in great measure due to his exertions. On New Year's Day, 1884, the present change-ringing society was formed to supersede a company who had been content to ring "Churchyard Bob." It was not, however, until January, 1886, that a peal was accomplished by an entirely local band, when Holt's 10-part was rung. In the following September the Cathedral Society accomplished their first peal, this being Holt's Original, and both being conducted by Mr. Hills.

Leaving the church again, a large building near the west end claims the attention of the visitor. This, the only one of the monastic buildings which was saved from destruction at the dissolution, is the old gate-house. Used from very early times as a gaol, it was purchased in 1870 by the governors of the Grammar School, a new gaol being built in another part of the city. The Grammar School is the most ancient in the kingdom, having probably been founded by Abbot Ulsinus in the middle of the tenth century.

This same Abbot also founded three of the five remaining churches in the city. The largest of these (St. Peter's), which stands at the northern end of the city, has recently been practically rebuilt by Lord Grimthorpe. It presents few features of general interest. The tower, which is a very fine one from a ringer's point of view, contains a musical peal of ten bells, the tenor weighing 24 cwt. Previous to 1728 there were only six bells, but in this year they were re-cast, and augmented to eight in the following year. They were not left idle very long, for on the 27th of December, 1729, a peal of 5040 Bob Major was rung by a band of College Youths from London. This is said to be the first peal in the county.

THE CATHEDRAL AND ABBEY CHURCH OF ST. ALBANS.

(From the South-West.)

In 1787 the ring was augmented to ten, and in 1868 two more bells were presented by the late Mr. John Lewis to complete the peal of twelve. Thirteen years later, however, the tenth and eleventh bells were cracked, and sent to Loughborough to be recast, and the two small bells were handed over to the founders in part payment for the recasting. The ringing-chamber is large and well lighted. There is an Ellacombe chiming apparatus, and the walls are ornamented by numerous boards recording peals of Bob Triples, Major, and Royal, Grandsire Triples and Caters, Stedman Triples and Caters, and Kent Treble Bob Royal. In 1867 the College Youths held their 230th anniversary here, when a peal of 5000 changes in the last mentioned method was rung, conducted by H. W. Haley.

St. Michael's, another of the churches founded by Ulsinus, preserves its ancient features to a great extent. It was restored some thirty years ago, and at the present time Lord Grimthorpe is engaged in rebuilding the tower. The bells, which, consequent upon the rebuilding operations are lying in the churchyard, are six in number. These were cast from the material of five old ones, in 1739, by Samuel Knight. The tenor, which weighs just over 9 cwt., was recast in 1845 by C. and G. Mears.

A mile or so beyond St. Michael's is Gorhambury, the seat of the Earls of Verulam. The mansion, which is in the centre of a well wooded park, is the fourth which has been built here, the first being by Geoffrey de Gorham in 1128.

St. Stephen's, the third church built by Abbot Ulsinus, was restored in 1860. Here are also six bells, which were recast from the four old ones in 1803.

RODMERSHAM, KENT.

The Annual General Meeting of the local society was held in the vestry on Saturday, November 7th, the President, the Rev. T. C. H. Boughton-Leigh, in the chair. The Hon. Secretary stated that the society consisted of ten honorary and twelve ringing members, and that they had rung during the year sixty-one peals of Minor in nine methods, viz., twelve of Oxford Treble Bob, fourteen of Kent Treble Bob, five of Canterbury Pleasure, two of Grandsire, four of Superlative Surprise, two of Cambridge Surprise, one of College Single, three of Oxford Single Bob, and eighteen of Plain Bob; of which thirty-seven were conducted by Mr. Wood, twenty-one by Mr. Dixon, and three by Mr. Millway; also one 5040 in three methods, conducted by Mr. Wood.

The accounts were then passed, and showed a small balance in hand. Mr. J. Dixon was re-elected Hon. Secretary, and Mr. J. G. Grensted Hon. Treasurer. The Hon. Secretary then informed the President that the members of the band had subscribed for a silver-mounted engraved walking stick for Mr. H. Wood, to mark their appreciation of his efforts to promote the Art of change-ringing in the society, and requested him to present the same to Mr. Wood. This he did in a few well-chosen words.

In thanking the members for their handsome present, Mr. Wood said he should always value the gift in remembrance of the many pleasant hours he had spent with the band, and although his business had taken him to London, he hoped, as a member of the society, to ring a great many more peals with the band in the old tower where he first learnt to handle a rope.

A hearty vote of thanks was then accorded to the chairman for presiding at the meeting, and in replying thereto he said it gave him great pleasure to be among his ringers, and that he would always be ready and willing to do what he could for them.

THE OXFORD SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of this society took place on Saturday, November 7th, when the following officers were elected: Master—Mr. P. Hind; Treasurer—Mr. C. Hounslow (re-elected); Steward—Mr. J. W. Washbrook; Secretary—Mr. T. Payne.

GENTLEMEN'S Curb Alberta. Heavily Plated with Pure Gold. Guaranteed 18 carat, 4s. 6d., 2s. 5s. 6d., Double, 7s. 6d. and 8s. 6d. Member of Norwich Diocesan Association.—SKINNER, 3, Mayes Terrace, East Dereham.

CHURCH OF ST. MARY THE VIRGIN, NEW SHOREHAM, SUSSEX.

The tower of this most ancient and interesting church having been rebuilt, and the five bells recast, with one added to them by Mears and Stainbank, the dedication service took place on November 3rd. A large number of clergy and an overflowing congregation assembled to take part in a most musical and well-arranged service, the Lord Bishop of the Diocese, Dr. Wilberforce, taking the special service of dedication, and preaching an appropriate sermon. On the invitation of the vicar, the hon. sec. of the Sussex Association issued notices to various neighbouring towers for volunteers for the day, the following being duly represented:—Angmering, Upper Beeding, Brighton St. Peter's, Goring, Henfield, Midhurst, Steyning, and Warnham; the master of the association, Mr. G. F. Attree, and the hon. sec., the Rev. J. W. G. Loder-Cotter, being also present. A plain course of Kent Treble Bob was rung in the midst of the service. T. Searle (Beeding), 1; G. A. King (St. Peter's), 2; C. Hills (Angmering), 3; G. Gatland (Steyning), 4; A. B. Bennett (Midhurst), 5; C. Tyler (Henfield), 6. On the conclusion of the service, a 720 of Kent Treble Bob was rung. H. Evans, 1; G. Gatland, 2; J. Smart, 3; C. Smart, 4; W. Woolgar (conductor), 5; J. N. Frossell, 6. The meat tea, kindly provided by the forethought of the vicar, having been heartily enjoyed, the following touches were brought round:—720 Kent Treble Bob. — Matthews, 1; A. B. Bennett, 2; C. Hills, 3; G. Smart (conductor), 4; G. King, 5; K. Hart, 6. 360 Oxford Treble Bob. J. Searle, 1; J. Smart, 2; G. Smart, 3; J. N. Frossell, 4; C. Smart, 5; H. H. Chandler (conductor), 6. 360 Bob Minor. G. Gatland, 1; H. Evans, 2; E. Rapley, 3; J. Searle, 4; J. Jay. sen., 5; C. Smart (conductor), 6. 120 Stedman Doubles. K. Hart (conductor), 1; G. King, 2; E. Rapley, 3; G. Gatland, 4; W. Woolgar, 5; H. Tugwell, 6. Double Oxford. W. Woolgar, 1; C. Hills, 2; G. Smart (conductor), 3; G. King, 4; K. Hart, 5; J. N. Frossell, 6. The whole arrangements for the service and ringing reflects great credit upon the vicar, the Rev. C. M. A. Tower, and the thanks of the ringers are freely offered to him. The tower has been rebuilt at a cost of nearly £2000, of which but some £240 remains to be raised. One of the most welcome and encouraging results of the service was announced to the ringers for their natural gratification, viz., that two gentlemen who had joined in the service, and had heard the well-tuned bells, had promised each of them a bell, that a complete ring of eight bells might be accomplished. The weight of the tenor is 15 cwt. Altogether a most helpful and encouraging event was solemnly and fittingly celebrated.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT AMALGAMATED SOCIETY.

The October meeting of this society was held at the church of St. Francis (R.C.), Holbeck, on Saturday, the 31st ult. The attendance was all that could be desired, over 70 members and friends attending during the afternoon and evening from Leeds, Headingley, Armitage Bridge, Bramley, Hull, Armley, Rothwell, Tong, Wakefield, Pudsey, Calverley, Batley, Dewsbury, and the local company. Ringing commenced about 3.0, and continued up till 7.0 in various methods on six and eight bells. The business meeting was opened at 7.30 in the school, kindly lent by the resident priest. The president of the society—Mr. J. W. T. Holgate—took the chair. The minutes of the previous meeting were read, and after some little discussion were passed.

The sum of £1 was voted to the Rothwell branch (according to rule) for a peal-board, on which to record the peal recently rung in a method not previously rung by the society. Those present who took part in the peal were the recipients of many hearty congratulations. Two new members were next elected.

A most hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rev. Father McAuliffe for the use of the bells and well-appointed schoolroom, and to the local ringers for other kind arrangements, on the proposition of Mr. George Bolland (Tong) seconded by Mr. J. M. Chadwick (Rothwell); and the usual vote of thanks to the chairman for presiding was also passed.

An adjournment was then made to The Bellmount inn, where the remainder of the evening was spent in handbell ringing—Grandsire Triples, Major, and Caters, and Treble Bob Minor being creditably performed. A late hour brought to a close one of the best-attended gatherings in the history of the society.

THE SOUTH AND WEST MIDDLESEX GUILD.

A monthly ringing meeting of this Guild was held on Saturday, October 31st, at the church of SS. Peter and Paul, Harington, by kind permission of the Rector, the Rev. E. J. Hadcock, who placed the bells at the disposal of the members from 5.30. It was not long after this time ere the bells were going right merrily, and this quiet little village bestirred from its usual stillness with a well-struck 360 of Grandsire Minor. This was followed by numerous touches in various methods, comprising Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Minor, and Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, by mixed bands; conducted by Messrs. Pratt and Reeves (Hillingdon), and Basden and Taber (Ealing). The bells were kept going till 9 o'clock, and were then lowered in peal.

It was satisfactory to note a very fair attendance of members, who represented the following towers: Hillingdon (St. Andrew's and St. John's), Heston, Isleworth, and Ealing. The Rev. J. F. V. Lee was also present from Cranford, and Mr. A. Wicks, who journeyed from Staines.

Considerable interest was manifested in the inspection of certain memorial tablets in the church, and it may not be considered out of place to give some particulars of two of the most interesting. The first is of ancient date, and most elaborately designed, with the following inscription:—

"To the memory of Sr. John Benett Kt of Ye Honble. Order of the Bath, Baron of Ossulton, in the County of Middlesex, Lord of the Mannor and patron of this Church, and both his wives, The 1st Elizabeth Countess of Mulgrave, Daughter of Lyonell Cranfield Earle of Middlesex, the other Bridget, Daughter of John Howe of Langor in the County of Nottinghamshire, Esquire, by whom he had issue one Sonne and 2 Daughters. Anno Domini 1686. Aetatis Suoe 70."

The other is of more modern date, and reads:—

"Lieut. Gen. Rodolph de Salis C.B. Colonel of the 8th Regiment of Hussars, which he led in the heroic charge of Balacava, and commanded through the war of the Indian Mutiny, this monument in love and admiration of a soldier without fear or reproach, is erected by his brother William Fen de Salis; honoured and lamented by all who knew him, he died 13th March, 1880. Aged 68."

In the centre of the tablet last-mentioned is a bust of the late gallant officer, and on either side a formidable list of the engagements in which he took part: Alma, Inkermann, Balacava, Kertch, Tchernaya, Sebastopol, Delhi, Chandaree, Gwalior, etc.

Another little item of interest is the observance here of an old and quaint custom on Guy Fawkes day—November 5th. Many years ago a venerable and wealthy lady left a sum of money to provide annually for the ringing of the bells to joyfully commemorate the frustration of Fawkes's wicked plot; also for the provision of a supper for the ringers, to consist of a leg of pork with trimmings. The fund still furnishes a luxurious repast, at which of course the famous leg of pork is always the principal joint. After supper loyal toasts are duly honoured, and the time passed in harmony.

THE ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE SOCIETY.

The quarterly meeting of the above society was held at the Manchester Town Hall on Saturday, October 31st, ringers being present from the surrounding districts in good numbers, including Mr. W. Walmsley, of Macclesfield. Ringing commenced shortly after 4 o'clock with a touch of Grandsire Caters, followed by another, during which the ninth rope broke. After this no other attempt was made, with the exception of a touch of Kent Treble Bob Major on the first eight, as the bells were going very bad. The business of the meeting was also conducted in the ringing room, Mr. J. Wood presiding. Several new members were made, and Flixton appointed as the next meeting place. The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to Mr. Wood for presiding, and also to the committee for their kindness in allowing us the use of the bells. Several of the ringers afterwards visited the cathedral for a touch.

THE KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

TONBRIDGE DISTRICT.—A meeting of this district was held at Chiddingstone on Saturday, October 24th, it having been postponed from the 17th, by request of the Rector, on account of the death of the Archbishop of Canterbury. The wet weather no doubt prevented a good many from attending, but the following companies were represented: Tunbridge Wells, Tonbridge, Edenbridge, Horsmonden, Westerham, and the local band. Some good ringing was done in Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and Plain Bob and Treble Bob Major. The business meeting was held at 6 o'clock in the National Schoolroom, Mervyn Streatfield, Esq., of Edenbridge, presiding. The minutes of the meeting held at Goudhurst on May 6th were, on the proposition of Mr. Steed (Tonbridge), seconded by Mr. Dunk (Westerham), read and confirmed. The following bands were unanimously elected members: Marden (7), Penshurst (9), and Chiddingstone (9). Edenbridge and Penshurst were both proposed as places at which to hold the annual meeting, and on the matter being put to the vote Edenbridge was selected; and it was decided that it should be held on a Saturday in next year, the exact date to be fixed by the district Secretary. The Secretary then read a copy of a resolution which had been passed by the Lewisham district, and which had been sent with a request that it might be submitted to the members of this district. This resolution indicated that public notice should be given before any rules of the Association were altered. After some discussion, in the course of which several members expressed their approval, it was proposed, seconded, and carried unanimously: "That this meeting approves of the resolution just read, and pledges itself to support it if brought before the members at the annual general meeting." Votes of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells and the schoolroom; to the chairman for presiding; and to Mr. G. Edwards of Chiddingstone for making the arrangements, were passed on the proposition of the district secretary, seconded by Mr. W. H. Lambert (Horsmonden).

Mr. Streatfield, in replying, expressed the pleasure it gave him to attend the meeting, and although he knew but little about the Association, he could see that it was doing a good work, and he hoped to know more about it, as he intended to become an honorary member next year, and he would try to get some of his friends to join also. This announcement was received with applause.

The members again visited the tower, and ringing was kept up in various methods until after 9 o'clock. The following are worthy of notice, being the "first touch in the method" by some of the ringers:—

420 Stedman Triples. G. Head, 1; G. Smithers, 2; S. Perkins, 3; E. Dunk (conductor), 4; W. Steed, 5; W. Latter, 6; J. Preston, 7; G. Edwards, 8. J. Preston's first touch in the method. Also a course of Bob Major. T. Belton, 1; G. Smithers, 2; G. Edwards, 3; W. Lambert, 4; J. Heasman, 5; W. Steed, 6; G. Head, 7; W. Latter, 8. First course in the method by T. Belton and G. Edwards.

PAINSWICK, GLOUCESTERSHIRE.

On Sunday morning, November 1st, for Divine Service, the members of the parish church society rang 168 of Grandsire Triples. G. Browning, 1; H. Scrivens, 2; H. Grosvenor, 3; W. Hale (conductor), 4; S. Baker, 5; Dr. Walker, 6; W. Bateman, 7; C. Hall, 8. On Thursday, November 5th, a 336 by the same band, and several plain courses in which Messrs. Burdock, Peters, Poole, and Sollar took part. These are the first touches by this new church society, which started at Easter this year, and with the exception of Messrs. Browning, Scrivens, and Hale, all the rest had to learn to handle the bells. They are much attached to their new vocation, and although they can only ring the ten and twelve bells in rounds and plain leads for Divine Service, they are longing for the time when they can tap off a 504 of Grandsire Caters as well and true as the St. Michael's Juniors from Gloucester did on a previous Sunday. It gave them an impetus to go forward and do likewise.

WARRINGTON (Lancashire).—On Monday, October 12th, for practice, 720 Oxford Single Bob in 24½ mins. J. Wilson, 1; W. Oxley, 2; A. Oxley, 3; J. Pomfrey, 4; W. Brammer, 5; F. Stout (conductor), 6. On Sunday evening, October 25th, for Divine Service, 720 Canterbury Pleasure in 25 mins., standing as before.

BOB MAJOR.

By J. A. TROLLOPE.

"Is Bob Major worked out?" is a question that has been asked and answered by various composers in various ways, directly and by implication. The composer who starts fresh to the method evidently seems to consider himself, if not the first who has tried for a 5000 of Plain Bob, at least very nearly so, and consequently publishes as original peals, compositions that were well known before Hubbard was born or Reeves touched a rope. As a natural result, he gets pulled up here and called out at there, and very likely at last comes to the conclusion that there is nothing fresh to be done; that the method is worked out. Other, and better composers, seeing what poor specimens of composition so many of the Bob Major peals are, and what little originality they shew, seem to think that their talents would be better employed elsewhere, and turn their attention to other methods. Seeing that if any new peals were ever to be had an acquaintance must first be made of those that already exist, I began about three years ago to make a collection of compositions in this method, and have continued it at intermittent intervals. As a result, I have a large number of peals—about six hundred—of all sorts, good, bad, and indifferent, which will enable one to form a very fair idea of what has been done, and what there is still to do. I do not now intend going into all the problems that remain unsolved, but I should like respectfully, and with all deference (for I have been but lately reminded that I am only a young man) to submit a few considerations to the attention of Bob Major composers.

In the first place, I should like to point out that it is scarcely likely that the simple plans should have remained untouched in a method that has been before the Exercise for little short of two centuries, and that therefore our present composers, if they would attain originality can hardly hope to find it in simple five-part compositions, and compositions on the "five-course" plan, and such like. Nor can it be possible that a composition like the 6048, that appeared a few weeks back, should have escaped the attention of composers during so many years. We must beware, then, of two simple peals. But in simple five-part peals I have noticed that the failure to obtain originality with bobs only has induced some to introduce singles. But such a use of the special call cannot be too much condemned. Singles are a necessary evil, and by tacit consent it has been universally decreed that they shall not be used unless they are absolutely necessary to produce some quality not attainable by bobs only. These words apply almost equally to three-part compositions, into which some composers seem to delight to bring singles by the cart-load; as a rule, two only are required in each part, and then only to exclude the second and third from sixths.

Another class of peals which are thoroughly threshed out are the six-part peals with one bell fixed in sixths place during each part. These I dealt with at some length in "THE BELL NEWS" a week or so ago. In two-part peals, there is, of course, much greater scope, yet here several well-known peals have been at various times copied rather closely.

A very large proportion of the existing peals are composed on the plans I have just now indicated, but do they comprise all the plans possible? Certainly not. There is as yet no five-part peal without a call at Home; those that have more than one bell in 6ths (or 5ths in the reverse variation) can almost be counted on the fingers of one hand; it was but yesterday that the 120 7-8's before were compressed into a few changes over five thousand; there is no 5120 in ten parts without parting the tenors, while many other qualities are represented by one or two compositions only.

Yet as year by year goes on, problem after problem is solved, and the scope for originality continually gets narrower and narrower. It behoves, therefore, everyone who would be a composer in this method to make himself acquainted as much as may be with the compositions already published, for otherwise he can hope neither to escape treading on another's ground, nor to discover what has not yet been found out.

Henry Hubbard placed on the title-page of his "Campanologia" the motto, "Prove all things;" I would complete the quotation and say, "Hold fast that which is good."

A SILVER WEDDING.

OCTOBER 29TH, '71.—MR. &amp; MRS. JOHN BUTTERY.—OCTOBER 29TH, '96.

As will be seen from the above heading, a very happy event occurred on the 29th ultimo, when Mr. John Buttery, of Leicester, celebrated the 25th anniversary of his marriage. As will be known to many of our readers, Mr. J. Buttery has been for many years the recognised conductor at St. Margaret's, Leicester. It was here he called the first peals of Grandsire and Stedman Caters for the Midland Counties Association, and also where he turned the heavy tenor into a peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal. By a fortunate coincidence, it is also 25 years since he called his first touch of Caters, and on Thursday, the 29th ultimo, a party of old and new faces gathered around Host S. Cooper's board to commemorate the event. After partaking of the hospitality of the celebre, several songs were sung, and Mr. Stephen Cooper then feelingly touched on the connection between the local society and Mr. Buttery, with whom, he said, the dearest ties existed. It was true "Jack," as he is familiarly termed, had not been blessed with the best of luck. He had gone through a deal of adversity, but he was glad to say a silver lining appeared in view, and he trusted that the happy relationship which had existed through more than a quarter of a century would remain unbroken for many years to come. He would propose the toast of the evening, "Mr. and Mrs. Buttery—success to them." This was drank with applause, the company singing, "For he's a jolly good fellow," &c. Mr. Buttery then most suitably responded, and a course of Grandsire Caters on the handbells by S. Cooper, 1-2; W. Willson, 3-4; G. Cleal, 5-6; S. Cotton, 7-8; W. Cooper, 9-10; brought a very pleasant gathering to a close. On the following Saturday, November 7th, a peal of Grandsire Caters was attempted at St. Margaret's in honour of the occasion, but came to grief after ringing two hours and ten minutes. The following was the band:—J. Jarvis, 1; J. O. Lancashire, 2; S. Cooper, 3; W. H. Inglesant, 4; W. Cooper, 5; G. Cleal, 6; J. Marlow, 7; J. W. Veasey, 8; W. Willson (conductor), 9; A. Martin, 10. It is intended, all well, to go again for the peal to-day (Saturday, November 14th).

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

Bell ringers were well to the fore on Saturday, October 31st, at Wraxall, there being a remarkably large attendance at the quarterly meeting of this association, over fifty ringers being present. Several touches of Triples were rung on the fine peal in the tower of the parish church early in the afternoon, and much interest was evinced in the unveiling of the four peal-boards on which were recorded recent peals. A well-attended service followed. It was conducted by the Rev. E. M. Lance (vicar of Pill.). The lesson was read by the Rev. J. A. W. Wadmore (vicar of Barrow Gurney), and an earnest address was given by the rector (the Rev. H. Vaughan). A meat tea at the club room, kindly provided by the Rev. H. Vaughan, was succeeded by a business meeting. The Master of the association (Mr. C. E. D. Boutflower) presided, and he was supported by the Revs. H. Vaughan, E. M. Lance, H. Mann (Dundry), and H. C. Courtney (Minehead); the hon. secretary (Mr. H. W. Tomkins), and the representatives of the following towers:—Wraxall, Nailsea, Backwell, Barrow Gurney, Long Ashton, Tickenham, Portishead, Easton-in-Gordano, Abbot's Leigh, St. Mary's (Taunton), Minehead, Old Cleeve, and several ringers from Bristol. A number of new honorary and performing members were elected, and amongst the latter were Mrs. Boutflower (wife of the Master), and the Misses E. H. and A. Phelps (daughters of the rector of St. John's, Bristol). On the motion of the Rev. H. C. Courtney, the Rev. H. Vaughan and the choir were thanked for their assistance. The next meeting of the association was fixed to take place at South Petherton in January, and the chairman asked the opinion of the meeting as to a joint meeting of the Gloucester and Bristol and Bath and Wells Associations at Bristol, on Boxing Day. The idea was received with enthusiasm, and the arrangements were left in the hands of the master. Touches of Triples and Minor were rung at Wraxall, Nailsea, and Backwell, in the evening.

CURRENT TOPICS.

What is the first topic? Why the weather. Where would be our social amenities without the weather to talk about? No-where. "Rather dull this morning" was the exclamation I heard on entering the train. The next: "Quite a fog." The next: "Awful thick." The next: "Wretched; it will be pea-soup in the City." And so on. My fellow-passengers were bound to have their go at the weather and the general atmospheric conditions before they could settle down to hint at anything else. What an awful loss to conversation it would be if there wasn't such a thing as "weather." What a calamity if they were to disendow and disestablish "the weather" by Act of Parliament! It is positively dreadful to contemplate.

Here ought to follow a few remarks I had written upon a subject, the mention of which has been likened to the sudden appearance of a thunderbolt. But it has been interdicted; and I have quietly acquiesced in its removal. "Let every soul be subject to the higher powers." Some recent writers have of late been making use of Scripture to enforce their arguments. A chance will not be denied me, I suppose. Coming back to the thunderbolt, I have never yet seen one, and I should like to know who has. They say Mr. Thornton has, because he lives close by the Greenwich Observatory. Then he will describe it for us.

The Bob Major people are a little lively just now. First a peal belongs to somebody else; then that somebody else is told the contrary; then the original composer, i.e. the man who composed the peal first says he didn't; and then it isn't Bob Major at all, but something else. I am open to correction, but when my friend the Rev. C. D. P. Davies controlled Church Bells he gave broad hints that Bob Major figures did not find favour in his eyes. The method is very nice, I suppose. Producing a mighty array of course-ends with brackets, asterisks and the like, looks very profound. But we can have too much of a good thing.

My old friend James, of Wolverhampton, writes me a letter. There is no reason why you should feel annoyed, Jimmy. Ah! if you knew the good turns I have done you, before now. You must commence the process of keeping up your spirits, but don't talk at random, and about things you know no more of than I do; else the denouement is sure to come. I am not at all angry with you, James.

The Cambridge undergraduates are going ahead. Another peal in band. One or two of the performers' names are strange to me. This looks well. I see the Kidderminster people have got their bells all right again, and the "cramp" methods are in full swing in the carpet town. All looks promising; twenty peals in last number, and nearly three pages of touches. Ringing is as popular as ever.

I hope the readers of this paper who are in a position to do so will strive to reduce the list of advertisements of ringers who are in want of situations. Help in this manner will be doing good. People in business and others are often changing their workpeople, and I feel sure there must be chances of employment knocking about that would fit many of these advertisers. May I again appeal for these to the well-to-do portion of the Exercise? At the same time I would mention the appeal put forth in another column for a distressed brother by our Leeds friends.

We are making progress in getting a band of ladies to ring a peal. Last week's issue tells of some handbell ringing at Romford, in which Mrs. Keeble took part. True the items are not very great achievements, but everything must have a beginning, and six 6-scores of Grandsire Doubles is a fair start. A feature connected with this is another 6-score and a course of Grandsire Triples in which twins of the House of Keeble, aged 13, took part. It is claimed that these young people are the youngest twins that have rung a 120. Very likely; but it is not every ringer that can produce a band of his own family who can ring even a 120. There are a still less number even if they had the ambition, that could include twins in the same; but perhaps they haven't. Young folks go on, and let us hear something more of your doings. You will find the science of change-ringing an intellectual recreation, and the greater achievements you accomplish, the greater will your interest become in the Art, and you will look back with delight upon the many pleasant hours you have spent in learning it. So says

PLAIN SPEAKER.

RETFORD AMALGAMATED SOCIETY.

On Saturday, October 31st, Mr. Crawford, Churchwarden and practical change-ringer, invited the members of the Retford Amalgamated Society to pay a visit to East Markham for the purpose of ringing a 720 each of New London Pleasure and Woodbine Treble Bob, and also to give his band of ringers a short run in the Bob Minor method, three of whom (Messrs. Freeman, Page, and Brett) showed good form indeed, and succeeded in ringing 360 changes.

With practice and perseverance under the able tuition of Mr. Crawford, these probationers will make a good band of ringers. It is also worthy of mention that a new code of rules has been carefully drawn up and agreed to by the ringers, Churchwardens, and the new Incumbent, Rev. — Briggs; and the East Markham ringers hope to score their first 720 ere the winter is gone, and if not successful, the writer of these lines will be very much deceived. A 720 of Woodbine followed the Bob Minor, and was rung in good style in 25 minutes by the following:—A. Street, 1; C. Crawford, 2; G. Clark, 3; H. Lambert, 4; H. Haigh (conductor), 5; H. Blagg, 6. This is the first 720 in the method on the bells.

The visitors were afterwards entertained to tea at the house of Host and Hostess Crawford, and after full justice had been done to four courses of knife and fork surprise, Mr. H. Haigh rose and proposed that a hearty vote of thanks be accorded to Host and Hostess Crawford for their kind hospitality and hearty welcome, and also to Miss Crawford for entertaining the ringers with selections of music on the piano during tea. The speaker remarked that their visits to Markham were few and far between, but he thought the oftener they came they were better liked, and got every encouragement to come again.

Mr. H. Lambert seconded the resolution, which was carried, and Mr. Crawford replied to the effect that he was also pleased to welcome a band of ringers (especially Retford ringers), and he hoped their visits would be more frequent now they had got such a melodious peal of bells in good going order.

A move was now made for the tower, where an attempt was made to ring 720 of New London Pleasure, which was lost in the last treble lead, after ringing over 700 changes, through a change-course. A. Street, 1; R. Potter, 2; G. Clark, 3; H. Lambert, 4; H. Haigh (conductor), 5; H. Blagg, 6.

The bells were afterwards lowered in peal, homeward bound being the next item on the programme; the ringers in every way (except the misfortune with the New London method) being well pleased with their outing, and take this opportunity of thanking the Rev. — Briggs and churchwardens for the use of the bells and their kind hospitality.

AND COMPOSERS.

In my last paper I promised to give a few select touches, with lessons for calling them. I hope the selection here given will be enough for the purpose; and also that those for whom these papers are intended are beginning to see their way clearer, and feel the subject within their grasp. To get a complete understanding of all these things it is necessary that some attention should be given to them. Those who have followed my observations have, I suppose, worked out the problems set forth, and have been enabled to comprehend them. A cursory reading will be of no use whatever. I am anxious that some little good may be done by these papers.

Now to recommence. Here is a touch of 672:—

6 7 2 4 5 3 2
3 4 6 5 7 2 1
7 2 3 6 5 4 2
4 6 7 5 2 3 1
7 2 4 6 3 5 3
5 6 7 3 2 4 1
6 7 5 3 2 4 4
4 3 6 2 7 5 1

LESSON.—6th in with a double. 7th in with a double, twice. 6th in with a double. Twice repeated. This touch contains the twelve 6-7s, a feature which will be explained later.

Here is a musical touch of 714 changes:—

7 5 2 6 3 4 1
2 3 7 5 4 6 3
7 4 2 3 6 5 3
5 3 7 6 4 2 1
4 2 5 7 6 3 2
3 7 4 6 2 5 1
4 2 3 7 5 6 3
3 5 4 2 6 7 3

Twice repeated.

LESSON.—7th in, and out the lead after the fourth has made thirds. 7th in with a double. 4th in with a double. 4th in, and out the lead after the 6th has made thirds.

These touches, with the others in a former paper, ought to be sufficient, I think, for illustrating the manufacture of a calling lesson, at any rate for the present.

In choosing touches of Triples it is well to select those as far as possible in which the bells fall into the most approved musical positions. Lead-ends with 4 6 behind together, or 7 4, or 6 7, are considered the best. Among changes ending with 4-6 is that one known by the name of "Queens"—1357246. In relation to music this change would be chords of three—1 3 having a sort of affinity for each other; 3 5 the same; also 5 7; and so on of the rest. Among the changes with 7 4 behind is that one known as "the tittums"—1526374. Tittums are chords of five, and have a greater affinity; each pair of bells is a fifth, similar to the strings of a violin when tuned. The violin and other stringed instruments are tuned by thirds, fifths, and octaves, and therefore in ringing it is considered the best music to have as many 4 6s, 7 4s, and 6 7s as possible. Of course all these are limited in number, there being only twenty-four of each of them in the whole 5040, viz., twelve at hand, and the same number at backstroke; in other words, "twelve in and twelve out-of-course." These facts should naturally occur to the young reader upon considering that if three bells out of seven are fixed for a certain work, there are only four bells left to permute, or to work the changes; and every one knows that twenty-four changes is the extent upon four bells. If therefore the three bells 1, 6, 7, are fixed at a lead-end, we can only have twenty-four changes with those bells there, or fixed in any other position. The same of course with any other bells. Perhaps I ought to point out that the meaning of a 6 7, or a 7 4, or a 4 6, is those bells have to be behind when the treble is at lead, either at a plain lead or at a bob.

As a rule these musical properties are more easily obtained in touches constructed in three parts. And the way to proceed is thus: Determine what you want first. Suppose it is a touch to contain the twelve 7-4s. For the present purpose the number of changes produced need not be considered, the only object is to produce a touch containing the twelve 7 4s. We adopt the three-part plan, and therefore at the first part-end we must have three bells at home: the two bells concerned—7 4, and some other. To get the twelve 7-4s in a three-part touch it is plain that we must have four of them in each part, then after we have obtained these, those two particular bells must be brought home. For why? Because we want them to do the same work in each part; and as has been pointed out before, that in any part composition, where the parts are called alike, the bells at home at the part-end do the same work in each part. It is obvious then, that after getting the four 7 4s which the first part must have, we must get those two bells at home at the part-end, so that in the second part they may come together behind four times, and in the third part the same.

If these remarks are thought over during the coming week, the young composer will be able to understand the formation of such a touch as we are dealing with when in our next number it is demonstrated. ALEPH.

ST. MICHAEL'S GUILD, BRAINTREE, ESSEX.

This newly-formed Guild is making considerable progress in the Art of change-ringing. On Thursday, October 29th, they were invited to dinner at The Wheatsheaf by the churchwardens, the vicar (Rev. T. W. Kenworthy), and the curate (Rev. H. P. Parmenter) being also present. An excellent and well-served repast was put on the table by the host, and to this full justice was done. The usual loyal toasts having been duly honoured, the chairman proposed "Success to the new Guild." On the proposition of the vicar a vote of thanks was tendered to the churchwardens for entertaining them, who in responding referred to the valuable assistance given by Messrs. Howard and Slade for their services as instructors. The services of the ringers are voluntary, and although the whole of the Guild, except the instructors, knew nothing whatever of bells or ringing a few months since, all can pilot a bell through Grandsire Doubles, and some in Minor.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The Central Council Committee for the Collection of Peals, having organised a company of workers to deal with the methods hereinafter mentioned, invite all composers to send their compositions in any of these methods to the specified collector for proof and comparison. Compositions which have already appeared in Collections or Treatises need not be sent. References to those which have appeared in the columns of the ringing papers will be accepted as sufficient without the figures; but they should be accompanied by reference to any subsequent correspondence respecting them, and an assurance that they have not been pronounced false. In all cases it is desirable that the date of composition should be appended, whenever it can be accurately assigned. Collectors will not undertake to receive compositions merely for proof, nor to enter on any correspondence with regard to them. The following gentlemen will receive compositions in the methods set against their names. Collectors for other methods will be announced in due course.

Bob Major: Mr. J. A. Trollope, 9, Valentine Street, Norwich.—Duffield Major, Royal, and Maximus; and Forward do.: Mr. John Carter, Forward Villa, Aston, Birmingham.—Grandsire Triples: Rev. C. D. P. Davies, East Marden Rectory, Chichester.—Other methods of Triples (except Stedman): Dr. A. B. Carpenter, Bedford Park, Croydon.—Double Norwich Court Major: Mr. H. Dains, 147, Barnsbury Road, London, N.—Ditto Royal and Maximus, Mr. W. L. Catchpole, Philip Road, Stoke, Ipswich.—Double Oxford Bob Major: Rev. J. H. Pilkington, Framlingham Rectory, R.S.O., Suffolk.—Stedman Triples: Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, Stanhoe Rectory, King's Lynn.—Stedman Caters and Cinques: Mr. J. R. Pritchard, 9, Granville Terrace, Wallasey, Cheshire.—Superlative Surprise Major: Mr. Gabriel Lindoff, 15, Knight Street, Lincoln.—London Surprise Major: Mr. N. J. Pitslow, Saffron Walden, retires.—Treble Bob Major (in continuation of Snowdon's Collection): Mr. Tom Lockwood, 38, Chad Street, Newtown, Leeds.—Treble Bob Royal and Maximus (do.): Mr. Arthur Knights, Brunswick Street, Chesterfield.

THE MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

This Association paid its fourth visit to Ashby-de-la-Zouch on Saturday, October 31st, when some 51 members and friends attended from Derby, Burton, Leicester, Duffield, Sheepshed, etc. Visitors soon made their way to the parish church, when touches of Duffield, Double Norwich, Stedman, Grandsire, etc., were rung, conducted by the president and others. The well-appointed belfry, evidencing the care of the Vicar and churchwardens for the comfort of their ringers, would be a good object-lesson to many of the clergy and churchwardens of our large towns, where the ringers have to be satisfied with rough and not over-clean boarded floors, unpainted and unplastered walls, oft covered with loose whitewash, resulting in a temporary disfigurement of many a Sunday coat. A capital meat tea had been prepared at the Blue and Green Coat School, to which full justice was done, the Rev. Canon Denton honouring the Association as usual by his presence.

To commence the business of the meeting, the Hon. Secretary read the minutes, which were signed, as also the names of some sixteen new members who were admitted.

The President in addressing the meeting on the record of the past quarter, stated that seventeen peals had been rung, viz., five peals by the Derby Branch, three by the Birmingham Branch, two by the Burton Branch, two by the Ashby Society, and one each at Nuneaton, Long Eaton, Quorndon, Melbourne, and Sapcote. With regard to the election of representatives to the Central Council, he gave notice that he should propose that at the next election voting papers be sent to each member of the Association, as it was a foregone conclusion that an election at any one centre would result in more than one representative being returned from that centre, which was hardly fair; although, personally, he did not think that they could have better representatives than the two Burton delegates, viz., Messrs. Griffin and Wakley.

Chesterfield was selected for the next quarterly meeting, on the proposition of Mr. Draper, seconded by Mr. Hickling.

Mr. Jaggar then proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. Canon Denton for the use of the bells, and for his presence at the meeting, which was seconded by Mr. Wakley, and carried with applause.

The Rev. Canon Denton, in responding, expressed the great pleasure it gave him when the association visited Ashby. That day, he said, was a peculiarly fitting occasion, as it was the tenth anniversary of the reopening of the bells. Since that time, what great events had the bells chronicled—great rejoicings and great losses; and quite recently his friend and fellow-student, the late Archbishop of Canterbury. He congratulated the association on the influence of its meetings, which he thought was a beneficial one, tending to heal up differences between clergy and ringers, and encouraging the members to persevere.

A vote of thanks to the President was then proposed by the Hon. Secretary, and seconded by the Hon. Treasurer.

In responding, the President mentioned that the finances of the association were not in quite such a satisfactory state as could be wished. He hoped they would think the matter over, and be prepared with some suggestions for cutting down expenditure at a future meeting.

The members then dispersed to finish up the dull autumnal evening with touches in various methods on the bells, and others with handbells in Host Canner's cosy parlour.

ASHWELL PARISH CHURCH, HERTS.

The late Mr. Westrope, of Ashwell, having left a sum of money to erect a new clock and chimes in the tower of the parish church, the order was placed with Messrs. W. Potts and Sons, Clock Manufacturers, of Leeds and Newcastle-on-Tyne, who have carried out the same in a workmanlike manner. The clock is a large one, constructed on the lines laid down by Lord Grimthorpe, and shows the time upon three external dials 7-ft. 6-in. each in diameter, and strikes the hours and Cambridge quarter-chimes. The above has been very awkward to fix owing to the great thickness of the walls, which are over 7-ft. thick, and the great height of the dials. Messrs. Potts, we understand, are making a large chime clock for Mossley Hill church, Liverpool.

Correspondence.

While allowing the utmost freedom for the expression of opinion, it must never be considered that we are in any way bound to statements made by correspondents.

To the Editor of "THE BELL NEWS AND RINGERS' RECORD."

CONDUCTING FROM MANUSCRIPT.

SIR,—Permit me to correct two misprints in my letter of last week, which alter its intended meaning. In line 5 I am made to say: "There are two different degrees of wrong-doing." What I wrote was: "These are two different degrees of wrong-doing"—viz.: the two counts just mentioned in the charge against Mr. Bedwell. In the 7th line from the end, "The same country district" should have been "Some country district." I was anxious to avoid the appearance of alluding to any particular district.

T. L. PAPILLON.

THE ROCSDALE BRANCH.

SIR,—I was very pleased to read in your last week's issue an account of a meeting, held at Bury, of the Rossendale Branch of the Lancashire Association. I always take an interest in reading of these branch meetings, particularly if they are well attended and some good ringing takes place. I was glad to see that some friends from Rochdale got to the meeting. But I should like to remind those Rochdale ringers that the Rochdale Branch sometimes holds its meetings which they never attend; but I see at Bury there was a free tea, and perhaps that was a bait for them. We held a meeting of the Rochdale Branch at All Saints, Hamer, a six-bell tower, and it was so poorly attended that we could not raise a company for six. But I'll inform ringers of the Rochdale Branch that if there is not a better attendance at the meetings I shall resign my office of secretary, and my membership of the committee. I think that the Rochdale Branch is a disgrace to the L.A.O.C.R. I am not going to attend meetings just to glance at the bell-ropes, and say "that is all."

Leesfield.

EDWIN B. SHAW, Branch Sec.

A DISCLAIMER.

SIR,—As I hear that the 6048 of Bob Major published by me in last week's issue has been previously composed, I give up all claim thereto.

H. HOWLETT.

ADVICE WANTED.

SIR,—Our ringing-chamber being open to the Church, some members of the congregation are disturbed by the calls of the conductor during the Sunday ringing for service. I am afraid we are not qualified to ring "silent" touches; and I should be glad if any member of the Exercise, who has met with the same difficulty as ours, could suggest a plan of signalling, or any other means of getting over the trouble. Our bells are decidedly noisy, and almost any call loud enough for the ringers is heard in the church.

SUSSEX.

BOB MAJOR.

SIR,—With reference to Mr. Parker's letter which appeared in your last issue concerning a peal of Bob Major published by me the week previous, I beg to state that the composition was known to me about April, 1891, that it has been in the hands of others who have asked me for a peal in that method to call, and that I have twice attempted and failed to call it. If our friend Mr. Dains has a prior claim to it I willingly renounce mine.

N. J. PITSTOW.

COMPOSITION.

SIR,—In your last issue appeared a peal of 5009 Stedman Caters by Mr. N. J. Pitstow. I do not know how long Mr. Pitstow may have had this peal in his possession, but I composed it three years ago, an exactly identical peal, which was attempted, and we rang to the second single at St. Philip's, about two years ago. Why it was not attempted again was that our band do not much care about any start of Stedman outside the ordinary start; in fact we have not rung a peal away from it. I forwarded this peal to the Editor with some others—Grandsire Caters—but for some reason it was not published until last week, when it appeared under the name of Mr. Pitstow. I quite believe it to be legitimately composed by Mr. Pitstow. I asked Mr. Godden about twelve months ago if the late Mr. Johnson had ever a peal of 5009 with the 5th and 6th twenty-three times behind the 9th, and his answer was "No, I don't think so." I naturally did not wish to publish what belonged to another person. I also gave this peal to Mr. J. E. Groves, of Wolverhampton, and others, to call, who will substantiate my statement. I cannot lay claim to this peal, as my name was not attached to it at the time of publication. I can only say as Mr. Trollope says—"Grin and bear it." This is an instance of how one may miss the credit of one's own compositions by not having them published at once. Other peals I have seen published by different composers, which I have lost by not sending them at once to your paper for publication.

JOHN CARTER.

And with a glad wonder we read the sequel. The bells are opened by our Sussex brethren under the auspices of two such worthy folk as the Master and Rev. Hon. Secretary, and we read that two gentlemen among the congregation at the service in the church each offered to present a bell, which will complete the octave. What an example for wealthy churchmen is here. What a lengthened homily could be built upon such generosity. The names of such donors will, it is hoped, be known, so that they may be handed down to posterity.

Obituary.

HENRY PRIOR.

It is my painful duty to have to record the death of Henry Prior, of Stansted, Essex, which took place on Thursday morning, November 5th. Deceased learnt to ring at the Church of St. Mary, Stansted, and in October, 1888, he joined the Bishops Stortford St. Michael's Society, where he was found to be a very useful member, and used to meet that society weekly up to last March, when owing to his illness—consumption—setting in, he was obliged to give up all hopes of ringing any more. Deceased only took to his bed on October 29th, and died on November 5th, at the age of 33 years. He was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, the Essex Association, and the All Saints Fulham Society, and had taken part in eighteen peals as follows:—Kent Treble Bob Royal, 1; Grandsire Caters, 3; Double Norwich Court Bob Major, 1; Kent Treble Bob Major, 2; Plain Bob Major, 4; Grandsire Triples, 2; Oxford Bob Triples, 2; Darlaston Bob Triples, 3.

H. J. TUCKER.

AN APPEAL.

We are asked to insert the following copy of circular:—

GENTLEMEN.—We beg to appeal to your Society on behalf of David Wilson, who has not followed his employment for the last ten months, being afflicted with hip disease. He is in need of your sympathy and generous support. His abilities as a change-ringer, and his willingness to take part in all that tends to promote the Art of change-ringing, is too well known to need any special mention here. Hoping you will place this before your company as soon as possible.—We remain, yours,

G. THORNTON,	W. SMITH,
W. BANHAM,	W. STAINTHORPE.
F. W. CROSSLEY,	J. WEST.
W. RHODES,	W. H. HOLMES.

Contributions must be sent to John West, Bradford Road, Birstall, near Leeds.

NOTE TO THE PEAL AT BEDFORD.—This is the first peal on the bells, which have recently been made into a ring of ten by Taylor & Co., Loughborough. This is the first peal on ten bells by the ringers of 1, 2, 4, 5, and 6; it is also the first peal on ten bells by the Association, and was rung at the first attempt. This peal was taken from "THE BELL NEWS," September 19th, and contains the 5th and 6th their extent behind the 9th, and is now supposed to be rung for the first time.

NOTE TO THE PEAL AT WELLINGTON.—One of the band selected for this performance missed his train, and it was then thought he would arrive in time by means of his bicycle; but when the others of the band had met he was not present. With two of the local men the visitors raised the bells, and rung a short touch in hopes the missing member would arrive. As he did not, a change in the band was made, the tenor-man being placed inside; and then, after a deal of consideration, two of the local men offered to ring the tenor in turns, but one of them finding the task more easy than was expected, completed the peal, which feat was certainly a credit to him. He was elected a member of the Association previous to starting.

These simple peals commence with a full quick six, instead of the last two changes of a quick six, as usually practised. Call a bob at start, when by repeating the 1st or 2nd nine-course columns four times, 23456 will appear as 45th course-end. Round in two courses by bob at 1 in each course. If the ten course column is rung in one part of first peal, the bells are round in one course (5064), by bobs at 1, 2, 8, 15, 16. These peals have what is known as Shipway's part-ends, and the treble undisturbed throughout.

THE OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.—CHIPPING NORTON DEANERY BRANCH.

The annual meeting of this branch of the above Guild was held at Charlbury on Saturday, November 7th. There was a fair attendance of members from various towers in the neighbourhood, viz.: Charlbury, Chipping Norton, Enstone, Leafield, Shipton, etc., with the Hon. Secretary, Mr. J. Barlow, Chipping Norton, and Mr. Pierce, of Shipton. But beyond the Master of the Guild (the Rev. F. E. Robinson, of Drayton), the President of the branch (Rev. H. Barter, of Shipton), and the Vicar of Charlbury (the Rev. C. F. C. West), none of the clergy of the district were present, which was a great disappointment to the members. The Chipping Norton band called at Chadlington on their way, and rang some Grandsire Doubles, while the Shipton ringers journeyed to Spelsbury, and rang some 6-scores in the same method. At Charlbury the bells were kept going in Grandsire Doubles and Minor until evensong, most of the ringers attending the meeting taking part in the ringing.

A short service, with a sermon by the Rev. the Master of the Guild, was held in the parish church at half-past four. The Vicar conducted the service, the Rev. H. Barter reading the lessons, and the musical portion was accompanied by Miss Bowl, the organist, several members of the choir attending. The preacher took as his text Ecclesiastes iv. 12: "A threefold cord, which is not quickly broken." He said that the previous Sunday was the Festival of All Saints, and as appropriate to such a festival he would try to point out the duty of all in trying to be as saintlike as possible, and in doing so to draw some illustrations from the bells. The first point necessary in a bell was its soundness, and that likewise was the first thing essential if they wished to be saints. They must be sound in faith, sound in the keeping of the Commandments, sound in speech. In enlarging upon these three points, he said that in the latter there was a noticeable improvement among bellringers. Bad language in the belfry had now become a thing of the past, though a watchful guard should always be kept on the tongue. Coming to the words of the text, "A threefold cord," he spoke of the various attributes of the Holy Trinity—God the FATHER, the SON, and the HOLY GHOST. This threefold cord of communion with God they must not lose hold of, as it was like a when a good band was ringing a long peal, the great disaster to be feared was the breaking of a rope. The rev. gentleman concluded his remarks with an analogy between the tone of a good bell and the life of those who were trying to be saints.

The members then adjourned to the Y.M.C.A. room, where a meat tea had been provided. After tea, the business meeting was held, the Rev. H. Barter in the chair.

The Secretary read the annual report and balance-sheet, as follows: "The branch has continued its position as far as towers in union are concerned, and there is a slight increase in the number of members, viz.: one life honorary member, 18 honorary members, and 65 change-ringing members; total, 84. The annual meeting last year was held at Enstone, which was a great success, 54 being present, and it was the means of bringing that parish into union. The spring meeting was held at Great Tew, where a very kind reception was accorded to the members. Five peals of 5000 changes have been rung during the year. The receipts with balance in hand from last year amount to £12 1s. 9d.; expenses, £3 11s. 6d.; balance, £8 10s. 3d.; which with half the subscriptions collected paid to the general Guild fund, and the loss on the tea, leaves a balance of about £3 in hand.

The Chairman said the report was satisfactory, the only thing for the members to do being to try and persuade their neighbours in other towers to join the Guild.

The election of officers followed. On the proposition of the Rev. C. F. C. West, seconded by Mr. Joyner, the Rev. H. Barter was re-elected chairman of the branch. The Chairman proposed that Mr. Barlow be re-elected Secretary. He was an excellent, efficient, and courteous secretary, and they could not do better than re-elect him. The proposal was seconded by Mr. Bartlett, and carried. Mr. Barlow briefly returned thanks, and spoke of the great bell-ringing feat recently accomplished by members of the Diocesan Guild, in which their Master, the Rev. F. E. Robinson, had taken part. They ought to be proud of being members of a Guild which could turn out such a band of ringers. Several new members were elected, viz., Messrs. G. O. Gomm and William Haynes (Charlbury), F. J. Lock (Leafield), and A. G. Newman, E. J. Hooper, A. E. Coombs, and G. L. Faulkner (Chipping Norton). On the motion of Mr. Barlow, seconded by Mr. Bartlett, it was decided to appoint as auditor Mr. T. H. Burbidge, of Chipping Norton, who had expressed his willingness to accept the office. The Chairman proposed that the spring meeting be held at Churchill, and in doing so, spoke of the good done by visiting the towers in the deanery, and also how improvements could be effected in different places through the medium of their Guild, taking as an instance Spelsbury, where the bells had formerly been without stays, with the exception of the tenor. Mr. Barlow seconded, and it was carried.

The Rev. C. F. C. West proposed a vote of thanks to the Master of the Guild for his attendance and excellent sermon.

In responding, the Rev. F. E. Robinson said it had been a great pleasure to him to attend. He had been happy to hear such a cheering and satisfactory account of the work, but they must all keep on and persevere so as not to spoil the good beginning made, as there remained a good deal to do in their part of the diocese. The feat of ringing 11,000 changes in the hardest possible method, that called "London Surprise," had been accomplished by a band of members of their Guild, thanks to one whom he might call his genius, Mr. Washbrook, of Oxford. They had rung a peal that up to that time had been thought to be impossible, 6,120 changes being the number previously rung, and the method of doing so had only been discovered by the perseverance of Mr. Washbrook. He had received more congratulations on the subject from all parts of England and various parts of the continent than for any previous event in his life, and he had heard from the highest possible authorities on ringing that it was the greatest performance ever done. To encourage all young members he would be point out that out of the eight members of the band, four or five were young men. He next spoke of the good work done by the chairman, the Rev. H. Barter, and urged the members to try and make more progress in change-ringing. The Chairman next proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. C. F. C. West for enabling them to meet at Charlbury, and for making arrangements in connection with that day's proceedings.

Some of the members subsequently visited the belfry, and rang amongst other touches 360 Grandsire Minor, the performers being: J. F. Barlow, 1; Rev. F. E. Robinson, 2; W. Longshaw, 3; H. Harris, 4; G. Barrett, 5; W. Large (conductor), 6. The plain course of Stedman Doubles was rung several times by: J. F. Barlow, 1; W. Large, 2; G. Bartlett, 3; H. Harris, 4; Rev. F. E. Robinson, 5; W. Longshaw, 6.

KIRKTHORPE, YORKSHIRE.

RENOVATION OF THE CHURCH.—The above work has just been completed, and has given great satisfaction. The mason's work was done by Mr. C. S. Dennison, Wakefield, the joiner's work by Mr. J. Faux, Heath, and the painting and decorating by Messrs. Goodall, Lister, and Goodall, Wakefield. The bells have been re-hung and quarter-turned, and new fittings and fixtures provided, and are highly satisfactory. This work was entrusted to Messrs. J. F. Mallaby and Co., Barnby Don, Doncaster.

THE ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS.

[BY OUR OWN REPORTER.]

The 259th anniversary dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths took place at The Champion hotel, Aldersgate Street, E.C., on Saturday, November 14th. The Master of the society (Mr. W. Burkin) presided. Mr. F. E. Dawe occupied the vice-chair. There was a large attendance, the company numbering no less than 114. Among those present were: Miss Rosa Macalpine-Leny, the Ven. Archdeacon of London, Rev. G. F. Coleridge, Rev. G. Bayley, Rev. M. Fowler, Rev. D. F. Wilson, Messrs. R. A. Daniel (Cumberlands), A. T. King, hon. sec. Middlesex Association, E. A. Davies (Barking), W. Newell (Reading), W. Alps (Waltham Abbey), —. Hickman (Nottingham), W. Battle (St. Albans), &c. The arrangements were in the hands of a dinner committee, which included the following:—Messrs. W. H. L. Buckingham, W. Burkin, F. W. Butler, W. T. Cockerill, F. E. Dawe, G. Dorrington, W. E. Garrard, E. Horrex, T. Mash, G. T. McLaughlin, G. Musket, E. P. O'Meara, J. Pettit, W. Prime, S. Saker, and C. F. Winney. Most of these gentlemen were present, as also many other members of the society. The arrangements were satisfactorily carried out. Upon the conclusion of the repast, the Chairman announced that letters expressing regret at not being able to attend had been received from Mr. A. Percival Heywood and others.

The Chairman, in proposing "The Church, Queen, and Royal Family," said Her Majesty had now broken all previous records in this country; therefore there was the more reason why the health of Her Majesty should be heartily drank. They, as ringers, were proud to belong to the Church of England, and it was a pleasure to find that they had with them that evening five clergymen. The more often the clergy came among them, the more proud they as ringers would be, for the greater would be the interest that they (the clergy) would take in ringers. He would venture to say that if the clergy would come more often among them by visits to the tower, that it would ensure a more regular attendance inside the church.

Archdeacon Sinclair, whose name was coupled with the toast, in responding said in these days it was not always understood that the clergy represented the Church, but that the laity had just as much rights as members of the Church; he should therefore have had pleasure in listening to some good layman responding to the toast. There had been a discussion in one of the newspapers as to why the clergy were unpopular. It appeared to him that a very good answer to the question was that if the clergy would learn the Art of bell-ringing, go up into their towers, mix well with their stalwart ringers, they would become more recognised. The clergy were much indebted to ringers for what they, as ringers, did. It was wrong to say that the clergy were the Church, and the ringers were there to help them. Each one had his particular function. A ringer's was one, and not the least important. Church bells are one of the characteristic glories of the Church of England. He sometimes wondered why his country—Scotland—was so lack in the Art, and why there were not more peals. He did not know if it was better before the Reformation—as at that time all the old churches were pulled down—but at the present time it was generally one tingle which was very depressing to the ear. Some time ago he had a letter from the late Archbishop Benson, asking for information as to their society, and he was able to give the Archbishop some particulars. He explained to the Archbishop that the society was not connected with either Oxford or Cambridge, but that it took its title through the founders meeting at a church on College Hill, from which the origin of the title arose. That at the present time the headquarters were at St. Paul's, but the society was spread throughout the country. Archbishop Benson became president of the society, and now they with the rest of the country were grieved at his death. They, the clergy, were delighted to have such a magnificent peal of bells at St. Paul's Cathedral, which the Ancient Society of College Youths undertook to ring. He would remind them of the motto which Canon Liddon had put on Great Paul, which he, the Canon, translated in his own way thus: "May I be cracked if I fail to call the people to the Church." Of course that was only the Canon's way of translating the motto. Next year they would be ringing noble peals all over the country for the long and glorious reign of Her Majesty. He regretted that Mr. Haworth was not there that evening. As one of the oldest members of the society, he understood that Mr. Haworth rang at Her Majesty's Accession and also at her Jubilee. He trusted that Mr. Haworth would be spared to ring upon the occasion of the celebration of the Queen's diamond reign; if so he should be pleased to inform Her Majesty of the same, and he had no doubt but that some recognition would be forthcoming. He did not desire to see the Church become a body of dictation, but trusted she would go on as a harmonious and perfect body within her own borders for the exercise of good works, and teaching those grand doctrines which were entrusted to her to spread among them.

The Chairman, in proposing the toast of the evening, "Success to the Ancient Society of College Youths," said that during the past year the Society had made forty-one new members and rang forty-two peals. Among the new members was Dr. Nichols, of America. This gentleman was doing his best to plant the Art of change-ringing in America, and the Society had elected him a member. Among the peals that had been rung was one at St. Magnus-the-Martyr, where no peal had been rung previously for forty years. The longest peal rung in London was a 6000 of Stedman Caters at Fulham. He thought that the St. Stephen's (Westminster) company was deserving of special mention. Three methods had been rung, viz.: Double Norwich, Duffield, and Superlative, and he supposed London would be the next. One of the most pleasant days that had been spent during the year was the visit to Kent at the invitation of their lady friend. Another special feature during the year had been the presentation to their old friend Mr. Pettit. He did not know which was the most pleasant of the two—the Society in presenting it, or Mr. Pettit in receiving it. One thing he was certain, if any member or society deserved recognition it was Mr. Pettit. He believed that the attendance last year at the annual dinner broke the record, and he understood that this year had beaten that. He trusted that the Society would go on with the good work it commenced in 1637. The Ancient Society of College Youths had always endeavoured to drive away that which was bad, and to promote that which was good, and for the benefit of change-ringing.

The Vice-Chairman, whose name was coupled with the toast, said he regretted that their old and esteemed friend Mr. Haworth was not there to respond to the toast. It gave him pleasure to see so large a company present that evening, among whom he saw a number of old faces and also several new faces. He was also glad to think that the Church of England was so well and ably represented. If the clergy would come more among ringers he was sure that the latter would not lose sight of the original reason for ringing, viz., to call the people to church. Some of their friends had come a long distance to be present, among whom he might mention the Rev. G. F. Coleridge, of Crowthorne, Mr. Newell, of Reading, and Mr. Hickman, of Nottingham. These pleasant gatherings did a deal of good. Their advantages could not be overrated. They tended to cement good fellowship among ringers, which he trusted would never crack or be rent asunder. They were now living in the days of progress. Motor cars had been started that very day, and who could tell but that a machine would be invented to ring bells? But he was sure that if a machine was invented it would not be made to ring so well as the College Youths. As to the performances during the year, there was one not referred to by the chairman that ought not to be passed over; that was a handbell peal in which two of the oldest members of the Society—Mr. M. A. Wood and Mr. W. Cooter—took part. These men had been the back-bone of the Society. There did not appear to have been any very great change during the year. Death had not removed many. They must not, however, rest upon the honours won years ago. They must push on and go with the times. He was sure that they were all delighted to have their lady friend among them that evening. Those who had the good fortune to visit her charming home would say with him that she was an enthusiastic lover of bells, and a good friend to all ringers.

Mr. W. H. L. Buckingham, in proposing "The London and Provincial Ringing Societies," said it was with extreme pleasure that they as members of the Ancient Society of College Youths met their friends there that evening, as it was a pleasure at all times to meet them. They appreciated the good work that had been going on, and the rapid strides that had been made of late years by many of their provincial friends, which had only been accomplished by a lot of hard work. Many of their friends had many difficulties to contend with, hence the more reason for complimenting them upon their achievements.

Mr. A. T. King, in responding, said many of them had great struggles to overcome and needed a little encouragement. When this was given, the better it was for the Exercise. He should like to see the various Metropolitan members of that Society go out into the country and perfect all the bands of ringers, not but that upon the whole in the country they were successful. He was himself just as proud to see a young band get through their first 120 of Doubles, as he was to hear that some of the old hands had rung a peal. That was one way—if not the only way—in which recruits for the older Societies could be obtained. One of the greatest difficulties they had to contend against in the country was the stoney ringing. He found that one had sometimes to listen to stoney ringing in the City, so after all they need not be ashamed of it in the country, more especially as it was done in the City on Lord Mayor's day; and he would tell them simply as a "man in the street" that some of it was very poor. But they had prejudice to overcome from the country. Stoney ringers had a great deal of prejudice against change-ringing. Another difficulty which the country had to contend with was that the aggrieved parishioner, would come and plank themselves down in the parish near to the church. Then there were difficulties with the clergy. You may write to them without getting any reply, not but that he would admit that if a reply did come it was generally of an encouraging nature. He had endeavoured to solicit the sympathy of a stoney band, and they had agreed to learn change-ringing, an instructor being provided by the clergy, which was very encouraging. Another difficulty was the state of the bells. He was told that when the Archdeacon sent round to the Churchwardens, one of the questions was, "Are the bells well hung?" and that the answer was generally, "Yes." He knew of one ring where the bells "bumped" an inch. The question did not go far enough. The bells might be well hung, but there might not be any ropes to ring them with—or, if there were ropes, there might not be a band to ring. He would suggest that the question should be, "Are the bells well rung?" If this was done, something would have been done for the benefit of the Exercise. He trusted that the Ancient Society of College Youths might long continue to flourish. That all societies, young and old, Metropolitan and Provincial, unite together in perfecting the great and noble Exercise of change-ringing, and in doing so, cement that feeling of good fellowship among all ringers.

Mr. E. A. Daniell, whose name was also coupled with the toast, responded. The speaker stood, unfortunately, in one extreme corner of the room, and his remarks consequently did not reach our representative.

Mr. E. P. O'Meara proposed "The Visitors." Referring to the remarks made by Mr. King as to stoney ringing in the City on Lord Mayor's day, the speaker explained that it was impossible to secure sufficient change-ringers to supply the whole of the towers upon such an occasion.

Mr. Hickman, who replied, said at Nottingham where there were three peals they had difficulties to contend with. At the parish church there was a band of stoney ringers who refused to permit change-ringing. At another church the bells were in a bad state, while the third was close to an hospital, therefore if Nottingham ringers desired to ring a peal, they had to go away to do so.

Mr. E. A. Davies (churchwarden of the Abbey Church of St. Margaret, Barking, Essex), proposed "The Press." After a reference to Church Bells as a Churchman's paper, he said "THE BELL NEWS" as a ringers' journal had supplied that which the former lacked.

The Rev. Montague Fowler, described upon the toast list as the "proprietor" of Church Bells, replied.

The remaining toast was that of "The Officers of the Society," proposed by the vice-chairman, and replied to by the Secretary of the society.

During the evening a course of Stedman Caters were rung upon the handbells by Messrs. H. R. Newton, 1-2; W. H. L. Buckingham, 3-4; C. F. Winney, 5-6; M. A. Wood, 7-8; A. W. Barkus, 9-10.

The harmony of the evening was contributed by members of the St. George's Glee Union of some twenty voices, under the able conductorship of Mr. Jos. Monday. Cooke's "Strike the Lyre" and other favourites were rendered in a manner that left nothing to be desired, the musical abilities of the company proving excellent. Several members also contributed songs, among the most highly successful being "On the banks of Allan Water." Mr. E. E. Vinen, F.C.O., very ably officiated as accompanist.

THE NORTH LINCOLNSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

(LINCOLN DISTRICT.)

One of the most successful meetings ever held by the above Association, took place at Branston on Saturday, November 14th. It was well attended by members from the various church towers connected with the Association in the district, and although the elements were somewhat unpropitious, they did not appear to damp the enthusiasm of those who had made up their minds to place on record that the first Association's meeting at Branston should be long remembered as a very enjoyable one.

In the early afternoon the bells were set in motion, and the less proficient members were soon struggling through the science of change-ringing, aided by the more advanced members of the Art. The announcement that tea would be held in the Old Hall, somewhat deterred the attention which had been paid to the bell ropes, and shortly after five o'clock the company were comfortably seated in a spacious room with an overflowing festive board which seemed to carry their thoughts back to the "good old days of fifty years ago" when sumptuous repasts were frequently indulged in through the generosity of the country squires.

Be this as it may there was not the slightest doubt that for the time being all cares and troubles, and even the depressing state of the weather, were scattered to the winds, everyone it is believed did their very best to wage war with the huge piece of beef which seemed to defy the hunger of those present, but as the genial Rector afterwards remarked there was not the slightest doubt that the beef came off second best in the contest.

The usual business meeting with the Rector, as Chairman, was held immediately after the tea. Letters were read from absentees, and the minutes of the previous District Meeting were read and confirmed. Washington was the place selected for the next meeting. The election of A. S. Leslie Melville Esq., and the Rev. J. C. M. Mansel-Pleydell as honorary members of the Association was carried with applause. Votes of thanks to Mr. Melville, the donor of the tea, and to the Rector for the use of the bells, and the local ringers for making the necessary arrangements, coupled with the name of Mr. Curtis, were passed.

The Chairman, in replying, remarked how eager both he and his ringers were to make progress in the science. He amused the company by giving his experience of learning to handle a bell-rope some twelve or thirteen years ago in London, and said it was a great pleasure and a great help for the skilled members to come amongst them, for, in consequence of the noise, bell-ringing as a rule, did not receive much encouragement from some of their neighbours who had the misfortune to reside too near the church tower. He could only endorse what had been said about the kindness of Mr. A. S. Leslie Melville, and he felt they owed very much to Mr. Curtis for so ably carrying out Mr. Melville's wish. He (the Rector) felt as a clergyman that bell-ringing was making very rapid strides. Things were different to what they were some years ago, and an improvement in the ringers had certainly taken place, both in the science and in spirit, and anyone who joined a bell-ringing society did so for his own benefit, and for the good of the Church. Clergymen could exhort those who attended the church services to think of their spiritual welfare, but the ringers could do more—they could invite those from the outside whom the clergy could not reach, for the sound of the bells reached all parts, and invited the people to come. They thus helped in the very important part of the spiritual work of the parish. He gave a practical illustration of a young man who had recently left the village, and who was now living two or three miles from his church. In writing to the rector, the young man did not say much about missing the services, but he said he did miss the Branston bells. This seemed another testimony to the importance of bell-ringing. In speaking about the bells themselves, it appeared that the fifth was the oldest bell, and was probably cast in the fifteenth century; the third, fourth, and tenor had the mark of Henry Oldfield upon them. For about 300 years these four bells hung in the tower, until Mr. A. S. Leslie Melville presented the second bell in 1893. Last year in consequence of the success of the bazaar the restoration of the spire was put in hand, together with the tuning and rehanging of the bells in a new iron frame, and the addition of a treble to complete a ring of six. The treble and second bells were cast by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, who, both in their bells, and in the admirable and massive framework and steel girders in which the bells are hung, quite justify their high reputation for workmanship. In concluding a most interesting address, the Chairman again thanked the company for the kind way in which he had been received, and trusted they would all feel strengthened and helped by the meeting, and go home all the better for the happy gathering. Before the meeting concluded, Mr. Ash, of Washington, said he would like to congratulate the Association upon having a company of ringers such as the St. Peter-at-Arches Society, who had the previous Wednesday succeeded in ringing a peal of Superlative Surprise Major, and having such a ringer amongst them as Mr. Lindoff, the composer and conductor of the peal. Ringers were very apt to get an idea that a company so far advanced in the art as the St. Peter-at-Arches Society would not take the trouble to assist their less-skilled friends, but he could assure those present that he had always found every individual member of that company ever ready to give any assistance when asked to do so.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The Central Council Committee for the Collection of Peals, having organised a company of workers to deal with the methods hereinafter mentioned, invite all composers to send their compositions in any of these methods to the specified collector for proof and comparison. Compositions which have already appeared in Collections or Treatises need not be sent. References to those which have appeared in the columns of the ringing papers will be accepted as sufficient without the figures; but they should be accompanied by reference to any subsequent correspondence respecting them, and an assurance that they have not been pronounced false. In all cases it is desirable that the date of composition should be appended, whenever it can be accurately assigned. Collectors will not undertake to receive compositions merely for proof, nor to enter on any correspondence with regard to them. The following gentlemen will receive compositions in the methods set against their names. Collectors for other methods will be announced in due course.

Bob Major: Mr. J. A. Trollope, 9, Valentine Street, Norwich.—Duffield Major, Royal, and Maximus; and Forward do.: Mr. John Carter, Forward Villa, Aston, Birmingham.—Grandsire Triples: Rev. C. D. P. Davies, East Marden Rectory, Chichester.—Other methods of Triples (except Stedman): Dr. A. B. Carpenter, Bedford Park, Croydon.—Double Norwich Court Major: Mr. H. Dains, 147, Barnsbury Road, London, N.—Ditto Royal and Maximus, Mr. W. L. Catchpole, Philip Road, Stoke, Ipswich.—Double Oxford Bob Major: Rev. J. H. Pilkington, Framlingham Rectory, R.S.O., Suffolk.—Stedman Triples: Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, Stanhoe Rectory, King's Lynn.—Stedman Caters and Cinques: Mr. J. R. Pritchard, 9, Granville Terrace, Wallasey, Cheshire.—Superlative Surprise Major: Mr. Gabriel Lindoff, 15, Knight Street, Lincoln.—London Surprise Major: Mr. N. J. Pitstow, Saffron Walden, retires.—Treble Bob Major (in continuation of Snowdon's Collection): Mr. Tom Lockwood, 38, Chad Street, Newtown, Leeds.—Treble Bob Royal and Maximus (do.): Mr. Arthur Knights, Brunswick Street, Chesterfield.

KING'S NORTON (Worcestershire).—Handbell Ringing.—On Wednesday, November 4th, an attempt was made for J. J. Parker's twelve-part peal of Grandsire Triples, but it came to an untimely end at the 11th part-end owing to the 5th clapper coming out, in 1 hr. 55 mins. F. Clayton, 1-2; W. H. Barber, 3-4; W. S. Pritchett (conductor), 5-6; W. Palmer, 7-8. Referee—F. Sumner.

THE ST. PETER MANCROFT SOCIETY, NORWICH.

The annual outing of the above society took place on Thursday, November 12th. Owing to various causes it had been postponed from time to time, but at last Great Yarmouth was settled upon for an attempt at a peal of Treble Bob Royal. All arrangements having been made by Mr. D. Hayward, the courteous Master of the Yarmouth society, the order was sent round "Thorpe station at 1.30 p.m. sharp." At the last one of the members was unable to go, and a county resident of the society (Mr. F. R. Borrett, of Pulham), was pressed into the band. Messrs. Hayward and Christian were at the station to meet us, and after a hand-shake all round, gave us the cheerful information that on the Monday previous, when ringing for the Prince of Wales' birthday, the tenor could not be rung to a short touch of Grandsire Triples. This sounded well for Treble Ten, but we plucked up again when we thought that if bone and muscle were any good for the job, they were to be found in the proper places in our conductor's person. Grease and ropes having been attended to, at 4.30 "Go, Kent Ten" was called by the tenor-man, who had—to quote from the sporting papers—"stripped a picture." With only one very slight trip the bells ran round at 8.24, and the first peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal on the bells had been scored.

Apart from the heavy "go" of the tenor, she is also very false, as in fact are the whole ring, so that all agreed it was fortunate a 6000 was not attempted as at first decided.

The thanks of the band are due to Messrs. Hayward and Christian for their promise of a board commemorating the peal, and to the former gentleman for having everything in readiness.

It is to be hoped that something will shortly be done to the bells of this, the largest parish church in England, making them more worthy of the noble name of which they are a part. Parcels of bloaters bought for the married ones' "missuses" resulted in a rush for the train, and we were quickly whirled homewards. C. E. B.

THE LLANDAFF DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

The Quarterly Meeting of the above was held at the quaint, historic little town of Caerleon, Monmouthshire. Before assembling at the Schoolroom, the members met together in St. Cadoc's church, where choral evensong was conducted by the vicar, the Rev. Francis Bedwell. The vicar also kindly took the chair, and gave the Association a most hearty welcome to his parish. After the minutes had been read by the Secretary and signed as correct by the chairman, several letters and matters of interest were read and discussed. Ten new members were enrolled. It was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting at Aberavon on Boxing-Day, and the next annual meeting at Newport. By an oversight, the annual meeting was not arranged for at the previous meeting as it should have been. A vote of thanks to the vicar for presiding, and for his kind permission to use the church for service, and the schoolroom for the meeting, terminated the proceedings.

GREAT BRICKHILL, BUCKS.

On Sunday evening, November 1st, after the six o'clock service, the bells of St. Mary's were rung after having been restored and rehung. The service concluded with a solemn Te Deum after which a 720 was rung. The bells are six in number, the tenor weighing 14 cwt. The work has been carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, the same firm who 110 years ago recast the same peal. As long as 250 years back there were bells at St. Mary's church, which, besides the ring of six, also possesses a sanctus bell, which bears the date 1681. The Rector, the Rev. M. P. Nepean, has taken a great interest in the work of restoring the bells of his church, and is to be congratulated on having so successfully accomplished his desire.

RINGER'S WEDDING.

At Coggeshall Parish Church, Essex, on Thursday, November 12th, Mr. E. W. Beckwith, a ringer at the above church, was married to Miss Carrie Elliott, youngest daughter of Mr. David Elliott, also a ringer at Coggeshall. The bells were rung by his brother ringers, assisted by Messrs. Newman (Feering), H. Elliott (Kelvedon), and D. W. Ladhams (Great Tey), at intervals.

MEN AND MANNERS.

Good-day to you! Once more I bob up serenely with my little lot. Once more I step into the arena, spit on my hands, invite you to tread on the tail of my coat what time I make things hum! Speaking of bob, I don't see exactly eye to eye with the Rev. T. L. Papillon. For obvious reasons, the personnel of this bob business cannot be discussed in the columns of "THE BELL NEWS," and I will only say one word on this matter. If a conductor has not confidence in himself how can he expect the band to have any in him? and rather than risk the peal on a half-learned new composition, I would prefer to call an old one. We all know that more importance usually attaches itself to the conductor of a peal than to the band, though I don't know why it should, except when the band are pupils of the conductor; but I guess there would be some reluctance to pose as bob-callers by the "paper-hanging" fraternity if the intimation was conveyed in the footnote that it was called from the wall! There is a large difference between a "wob-caller" and a conductor. This is a column wherein he who runs may read and profit thereby, perhaps while there is yet time; otherwise he who reads may run!

Both the Bishop of Peterboro' and the newly elected President of America were born in 1843. The American elections cause ten times the turmoil we get in this country but there is one thing to be said in favour of the Yankee. There is certainly every opportunity for the voter to record his vote soberly. Election day is a legal holiday. All banks and shops are closed and all places where intoxicants are sold are closed (with the exception of hotels) and even hotels must not sell liquors within a quarter of a mile of a polling booth. Of course "where there's a will there's a way," and no doubt some easily evade the law, but as a rule the American's election excitement is born more of enthusiasm than of the cup. They are voters of the man rather than of the party, whereas on this side we find the great majority would vote for a bag of sawdust if it only carried the party ribbon or ticket, and the man's record stands for nothing. In brief we have too much imitation patriotism of "sticking up" for our party whether in the right or wrong. We oppose because "our party" opposes, and oftener we would do more good by a fair compromise.

However the battle is ended,
Though proudly the victor comes
With fluttering flags and prancing nags
And echoing roll of drums,
Still truth proclaims this motto
In letters of living light:

No question is ever settled, until it is settled right.

* * * *

O man bowed down with sorrow,
O woman young—yet old!
O heart oppressed in the toiler's breast
And crushed by the power of gold;
Keep on in your weary battle Against triumphant might—

No question is ever settled, until it is settled right.

* * * *

Let those who have failed take courage;
Though the enemy seems to have won,
Though his ranks be strong, if he be in the wrong,
The battle is not yet done.
For so sure as the morning follows
The darkest hour of the night,

No question is ever settled, until it is settled right.

The Lord Mayor's Show has come and gone, and—"The Parliamentary return of the deaths in London in 1895 on which coroners' juries returned verdicts of death by starvation shews a total of 71 as against 39 in 1894. The majority is of women over 50 years of age. A dock labourer's wife in Shadwell was so reduced by privation that a kindly meal given her set up the reaction which killed her."

That is all, but before these lines are in print the fashionable charity craze will be an Indian or a Chinese Famine. We do so love our neighbours better than ourselves, particularly if the said neighbours live at the other end of the world, and I might just as well mention that a few of those noble institutions—The London Hospital—are seriously thinking of taking their signboards in for want of funds, what time the price of bread is rising higher and higher for the exclusive benefit of the poor—middleman. The motto for me this season shall be "Ring out the grief that saps the mind—Ring in redress to all mankind" which will be found on two of the largest bells of Manchester Town Hall.

I see Mr. James Parker, (late of Crawley) is making his presence felt in the Metropolis, and I notice one or two others of the Crawley band are migrating Londonwards. We may expect to see London Surprise rung for Divine Service at an early date. There are also several other "shifts" about the country. In a recent issue of "THE BELL NEWS" I saw a W. J. Smith ringing at Oxford, and Friend Washbrook mentioned a "Bill" in his long peal account. Thinks I, this must be the Sweet William of Burton-on-Trent, and my idea was confirmed when I saw Mr. Jagger had been ringing in Treble Ten at Oxford. Mr. W. J. S. can ring a pair of bells in Grandsire and Stedman, and so we can reasonably look forward to a handbell performance or two in the near future. When a good man removes, as a rule his old band suffers, but this is counter-balanced by the stir he creates in his new sphere, that is when there is a ring of bells fit to practise on. I know a case where a handful of ringers—all clever men—have to go out of town for a peal of Major, there not being a ring fit to turn in. As I mentioned on a previous occasion, the apathy of some ringers is brought about by the same complaint in "the powers that be" who don't care a straw so long as the bells are chimed for Sunday service, and who disregard any request for repairs until it is obvious that if the bells are not hung, the ringers soon will be. In my own case I sometimes do a little elephant work on a ring which I feel convinced will come down on us some day, and we will all get a "nightcap" gratis and for nothing. I was once told I was born to be hanged but I don't suppose my informant expected it would be at the end of a bell rope. However I won't be too jubilant at the prospect, I might be disappointed!

It is said there is great regret in Kensington at the loss of the Rev. Carr Glyn, its vicar, even though it is to make way for the high honour as Bishop of Peterborough. In Kensington, he and his family were not only popular, but much beloved. His work in that parish has been heavy and unceasing. Every scheme calculated to raise the condition of the poor of the district has had the most assiduous help from him and his wife. The poorer Church schools owe an incalculable debt to both. His Sunday Schools contain nearly 1300 scholars, and his people support the good work of his church with voluntary offerings to the amount of nearly £20,000 per year. This alone speaks for itself, and there is every reason to believe that the diocese of Peterborough will be enriched spiritually by his presence. I saw in last week's "BELL NEWS" where a peal had been rung in honour of his appointment, and I have no doubt that on his consecration more than one band of ringers will do their best to create a musical

JINGLE.

THE ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS.

After the ringing at St. Paul's Cathedral on Tuesday, November 17th, a very largely-attended meeting was held in the society's room, when the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year. Master—Mr. W. Burkin (re-elected); Secretary—Mr. W. T. Cockerill (re-elected); Treasurer—Mr. J. Pettit (re-elected); Senior Steward—Mr. E. P. O'Meara; Junior Steward—Mr. F. G. Newman; Trustees—Mr. C. F. Winney and Mr. H. R. Newton.

PRACTICAL HINTS TO YOUNG CONDUCTORS.
AND COMPOSERS.

CHAPTER VIII.

Last week we were talking of the production of a touch possessing the twelve 7-4s, and it was shown that in a three-part touch it was necessary for this purpose to have four 7-4s in each part. Everything being now understood, we can proceed to compose the touch. Get up the first 7-4 as soon as possible, thus—

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 .

1 7 5 2 6 3 4

1 7 6 5 4 2 3

B

1 2 3 7 5 4 6

1 2 5 3 6 7 4

Here is the first 7-4. If we call a bob at the fourth lead from this, we shall have

1 5 3 2 6 7 4

and at a further fourth lead another bob

1 3 2 5 6 7 4

This gives us three out of the four required. Another bob the following fourth lead would bring a repetition, so it is necessary to proceed differently for the remaining 7-4. From the above lead 1 3 2 5 6 7 4, let another plain lead follow, thus:

1 3 6 2 4 5 7

Then a double bob (e.g. two running bobs)

B

1 7 4 3 5 6 2

B

1 2 5 7 6 4 3

and the next plain lead is the remaining 7-4, thus:—

1 2 6 5 3 7 4

Having produced the required number of 7-4s for the first part, these two fixed bells must be brought home, and one other bell with them also. Care must be exercised in the selection of this other bell. There are four bells to choose from, the 2nd, 3rd, 5th, and 6th. In this particular touch the 3rd only must be chosen; if either of the others, the touch will be false. How is this? We place our four 7-4s below for easier explanation, thus:

1 2 5 3 6 7 4

1 2 6 5 3 7 4

Examine these four changes and you will see the 3rd is in a different place in each. Not so the other bells. That bell may be said to perform its complete work, and can with safety be brought home at the part-end, to do the same work in succeeding parts. The other three bells must at the part-end be "away" from home, as they have not done their complete work; we may say that their procedure has been irregular, and cannot for the moment be depended on. This selection is of the greatest importance, as the young composer will discover. It is one of the instances in the Art of composition where the pupil has to look deeper into the science than he at one time supposed.

Now, as has been stated, from the last 7-4 we have to bring up the first part-end with 3 4 7 (and none others) at home. We begin thus:—

1 2 6 5 3 7 4

1 2 3 6 4 5 7

1 2 4 3 7 6 5

B

1 5 7 2 6 4 3

1 3 6 5 4 7 2

1 3 4 6 2 5 7

B
1 7 2 3 5 4 6

1 6 5 7 4 2 3

1 6 4 5 3 7 2

1 6 3 4 2 5 7

This is the first part-end with 3 4 7 at home. Here is the touch given in the usual regular manner:—

1 2 3 4 5 6 7

1 7 5 2 6 3 4 1

1 2 3 7 5 4 6 3

1 5 3 2 6 7 4 5

1 3 2 5 6 7 4 4

1 7 4 3 5 6 2 2

1 2 5 7 6 4 3 1

1 5 7 2 6 4 3 4

1 3 6 5 4 7 2 1

1 7 2 3 5 4 6 2

1 6 5 7 4 2 3 1

6 3 4 2 5 at 2

Twice repeated; has the twelve 7-4s.

The next thing is to ascertain the number of changes in the touch. Sum up the calling figures to the right of the changes: add them up. They come to 26, which is the number of leads in the part. This number must be multiplied by 14. Why? Because there are fourteen changes in a lead. Multiplying these numbers give 364, the number of changes in this first part. As it is a three-part touch, this number must be multiplied by three, which gives 1092, the number of changes the touch contains.

Next week we will see what improvement can be made on this touch, while containing the same properties. ALEPH.

THE CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

The members of the Northwich Branch of the above Guild held a meeting at Great Budworth on Saturday, November 7th, and although the weather was unpropitious, there was a good muster.

Tea was partaken of at The George and Dragon hotel, the vicar, the Rev. Canon Holmes presiding, and also providing the repast, to which all did ample justice. After the tables were cleared, the vicar presided over a business meeting.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and passed.

The Vicar, in an able and pleasant speech, said that it always gave him great pleasure to meet the ringers, and gave them a hearty welcome to the parish.

A sub-committee was formed to fix all future meetings and business.

Votes of thanks to the vicar for presiding brought the meeting to a close, the ringers adjourning to the tower, where some very creditable ringing was done. The following rang a touch of 360 Grandsire Minor with the tenors behind:—A. Booth, 1; T. Bush, 2; J. Wakefield, 3; T. Wilkinson, 4; H. Yarwood, 5; J. Ashmole, 6; J. Bell, 7; A. Johnson, 8. The first six hail from Davenham, and the last two from Northwich. The following rang a 720 of Bob Minor:—S. Johnson, 1; S. Foster, 2; G. Johnson, 3; A. Johnson, 4; J. Bell, 5; W. Foster, 6; the tenors being rung by R. Chandler and J. Holden, the first seven hailing from Northwich, and J. Holden is of the local band.

THE KING'S NORTON GUILD, WORCESTERSHIRE.

The peal of Treble Bob reported on another page, was rung in honour of the birth of daughters to Mr. J. S., and Mr. Alfred Pritchett, who having each already two sons, are to be congratulated on their good fortune. It is more than fifty years since a peal of Treble Bob was rung on the bells, and is the first by a local band. This is the first peal of Treble Bob Major by all the band, except the ringers of the 7th and tenor, although Mr. J. S. and Mr. W. S. Pritchett have rung peals of Royal and Maximus. The four brothers have now rung peals together in each of the four standard methods on the beautiful bells of their native village, and a peal of Double Norwich is looked forward to in the immediate future.

BOB MAJOR.

By J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

The following six peals have each the extent of the method in two parts without the use of singles:—

THOMAS BLACKBOURN,
CHURCH BELL HANGER, AND TUNER.
SALISBURY, WILTSHIRE.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN is a practical Ringer, and having had considerable experience in Church Bell hanging and tuning, with confidence solicits the patronage of the Clergy, Churchwardens and Ringers generally.

T. B. has devoted a great deal of attention to the fixing of Clock Hammers used for striking the hours and quarters on Church Bells. These are sometime placed in awkward and dangerous positions, even by Church Clock Makers.

T. BLACKBOURN's experience enables him to affix these hammers, with their accompanying levers in a most accurate manner, preventing any danger to the bell frame or clock. He will be glad to advise on clocks as well as bells.

The Ellacombe Chime Hammers fixed. Sole Fixer of Silby's Apparatus for Silent practice. Handbells supplied. Bells weighed in the tower at a small cost.

A PEAL OF 362,880 GRANDSIRE CATERS, 6d.
Contains the full extent of changes on nine bells. Forwarded Post Free, on receipt of 7d By James Hewett, 16, Chape Row, Gosport.

The Bell News & Ringers' Record.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1896.

THE Ancient Society of College Youths has again held its annual festivity, and apparently with a most successful result; the number attending being more than at any other previous festival. We give a full account elsewhere, which will interest our readers, but there is one matter which is worthy of more than a passing notice. The popular Archdeacon of London, in responding to a toast, alluded to the fact that Mr. J. R. HAWORTH—who we believe is the oldest living member of the Society—had rung for Her Majesty's Accession to the throne, and he (the Archdeacon) hoped to hear that the veteran would be able to ring for the celebration of Her Majesty's Diamond reign next year; and if so he would represent the fact to Her Majesty. It may be supposed that there are other ringers who will enjoy a like privilege; many of them, we hope. But we have to do with the instance before us. Mr. HAWORTH has long been known as an highly-respected member of the London section of the Exercise. As a ringer, never was man more secure and careful and his prestige among ringers is as high as any. If some sign of approval or esteem could be conferred as a recognition of the services he had performed as a ringer through a long life, no one would welcome the distinction more than the whole ringing community.

AN APPEAL.

We are asked to insert the following copy of circular:—

GENTLEMEN,—We beg to appeal to your Society on behalf of David Wilson, who has not followed his employment for the last ten months, being afflicted with hip disease. He is in need of your sympathy and generous support. His abilities as a change-ringer, and his willingness to take part in all that tends to promote the Art of change-ringing, is too well known to need any special mention here. Hoping you will place this before your company as soon as possible.—We remain, yours,

G. THORNTON, W. SMITH,
W. BANHAM, W. STAINTHORPE.
F. W. CROSSLEY, J. WEST,
W. RHODES, W. H. HOLMES.

Contributions must be sent to John West, Bradford Road, Birstall, near Leeds.

THE ST. MICHAEL'S SOCIETY, MACCLESFIELD.

On Saturday, November 7th, four members of the above Society, viz., G. Norbury, W. Kenny, W. Matthews, and A. Howard, with W. Ingham from Higher Sutton, paid a visit to Prestwich to have half-a-day with their old friend J. Gratrix. Leaving at 1.49, they got to Manchester half an hour later, and as they had about an hour to wait for the train, amid a heavy shower, they paid a visit to Lewis's, in Market Street, and invested a copper coin to see Venice, though they did not trust themselves in a boat for fear of sea sickness. It would never have done to be ill after coming out specially to enjoy themselves. They got to Prestwich in due course, where they found their old friend waiting for them, the rain still coming down, and a good thick fog also. They at once made tracks for the tower, as very little time was allowed, there being a service at 5 o'clock. The company were rather startled with the ropes, which were a real handful, with sallies about two yards long. After two false starts they managed a touch of Bob Minor, then to tea at Mr. Gratrix's. This being over, the tourists then went by train to Whitefield, where they met some of the local ringers. A search for the church (not an easy thing to find in such a fog) was made, and after a little fumbling about found the gates; with a few such mishaps as stepping over shoe-tops in a puddle of water, tumbling up some steps, and bumping their heads against the tower door, they found themselves at the bottom of the steps, where some one kindly provided them with tapers, and they were soon in the belfry. They at once raised the bells, and a 504 of Grandsire Triples was rung in good style by the following:—W. Ingham, 1; F. Bradshaw, 2; J. Gratrix, 3; W. Kenny, 4; W. Matthews, 5; W. Houghton, 6; J. Norbury (conductor), 7; J. Bradshaw, 8. Also a 321 in the same method. W. Ingham, 1; W. Matthews (conductor), 2; J. Gratrix, 3; W. Kenny, 4; G. Barlow, 5; W. Houghton, 6; G. Norbury, 7; F. Bradshaw, 8. After this they took leave of the local ringers, and went back to Prestwich, and spent an hour with the handbells at the Ring o' Bells, after which they departed for home, where they arrived about 12 o'clock.

THE CARTER-PITSTOW PEAL OF STEDMAN CATERS.—In connection with this, Mr. J. Groves writes: "The 5009 of Stedman Caters published in your issue of November 7th, under the name of N. J. Pitstow, was given to me by Mr. Carter in August, 1894."

VIOLIN FOR DISPOSAL. Lovely, rich, and powerful tone, and in perfect preservation. Grand solo instrument, full size. Also fully lined ebonized case, mounted bow, chin rest, plated mute, tuning pipe, etc. Only 19s. the whole outfit complete. Extraordinary value. Approval willingly. References exchanged.—Violin, Verandah Cottage, Tower Street, Ipswich.

Obituary.

WILLIAM MOLE.

We greatly regret having to record the death of a very old friend and ringer in the person of the above-named, which event took place on the 3rd instant. William Mole was well known among City of London ringers, and also by those of the eastern part of the Metropolis. He was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths. Some time in the sixties he was connected with a branch of that Society practising at Christ Church, Spitalfields. This Spitalfields company had such men as the late Henry Booth and John Murray Hayes at its head, and though not a very great deal was done by the members in the way of peal-ringing, yet it would have been difficult to find at that time a company with greater cohesion and harmony. "Bill Mole," as he was known, contributed greatly to such a happy state of things, and the writer fondly remembers many pleasant episodes in which our departed friend contributed more than his share. Good natured, always pleasant, and apparently happy and agreeable, he was a capital fellow at dispelling bad humour from the most ill-favored nature. His loss is greatly regretted by a large circle of brother-strings.

For many years he was steeple-keeper at the church of All Hallows, Barking, Tower Street, City of London, in which office he succeeded his old friend the late George Longhurst—another excellent member of the Spitalfields Company. He took part in several peals of Grandsire Triples, his last being at the church of St. Dunstan-in-the-East.

On Tuesday evening, November 10th, being the day of interment, the bells of the church of All Hallows, Barking, were rung deeply muffled as a mark of respect, by the following:—T. Barnardin, 1; W. Scholes, 2; J. Joyce, 3; W. Clow, 4; H. Living, 5; S. E. Joyce, 6; E. Wallage, 7; J. Scholes, 8. Also a touch of 630 of Grandsire Triples. T. Barnardin, 1; E. Hall, 2; E. Clayton, 3; A. W. Barkus (conductor), 4; J. Scholes, 5; S. E. Joyce, 6; E. Wallage, 7; W. Williamson, 8.

THE CHURCH OF ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST, SOUTHOVER, LEWES, SUSSEX.

The church of St. John the Baptist, Southover, Lewes, is the only church in the old historical county town of Sussex which can boast of a ring of bells. The following facts connected with the church are taken from Horsfield's History of Lewes, and other sources, but the history of the tower and bells have been compiled by the writer from the original church papers.

Of the exact time when this church was reared, we are totally ignorant. The pillars of the nave, four in number, are of Norman architecture. That the church originally stood within the grounds of the old Cluniac Priory is proved by the remains of the Priory walls. This monastery was founded by William, Earl of Warren, husband of Gundrada, the fourth daughter of William the Conqueror. That the present church existed in 1512 is proved by the will of a Mrs. Agnes Morley. The building was not large, but sufficiently capacious to accommodate the parishioners, whilst the gates of St. Pancras Church in the Priory were thrown open to receive those of the inhabitants who preferred to worship with the Prior. But after King Henry's reforming zeal in 1538 had levelled the proud structure (which by the way, with its lands consisted of an area of thirty-two acres), the parishioners flocked to Southover church, which was then found insufficient to accommodate the increased congregation, and an enlargement became necessary. The whole of the present south side of the nave is built of alternate squares of flint and stone, and corresponds with the style of building at the close of the sixteenth century, at which time it is most probable that the alteration took place. The stone window frames which were introduced at the time of this repair are Gothic, and were most likely taken from the ruins of the demolished Priory. That they were not originally formed for the situation that they occupied, seems evident from many parts of them being composed of different materials from the rest, owing probably to some of the stones being broken or lost in taking them from the walls in which they were originally fixed. Of these windows only one remains, the others having been replaced by some splendid stained glass, the stonework then being renewed.

In the year 1775 the tombstone of Gundrada was discovered in Isfield church by a Dr. Clarke. This tombstone, which is beautifully carved and bordered with Latin verses in her honour, cut in the rim and cut down the middle, was brought from Isfield and placed in a vestry pew in Southover church. Built on the south side of the church is a chapel of Caen stone, some of which was brought from the Priory ruins, erected by subscription at a cost of over £400. This was built to receive the remains of Gundrada and her husband, which were discovered during the cutting of the Lewes and Brighton railway in the year 1845. This chapel, in Norman style, is of exquisite workmanship, and in the centre is the tombstone brought from Isfield over the graves of the Earl of Warren and his wife. In niches in the south wall are the two leaden cists, in which their remains were found, and in a niche in the north wall is a stone effigy of the body of a knight in chain armour, minus head and legs. This was discovered also together with several other relics at the same time. The chapel is lighted by three small stained glass windows representing respectively Gundrada, William de Warren, and St. Pancras. The chapel forms one of the chief places of interest to visitors in the town. The old communion cup bears the inscription:—

"This is Southover Communion Cup."

The paten, which is undoubtedly of the same age, bears the date 1689. The church register dates from about 1550. The rector (Rev. W. E. Richardson) has been in possession of the living (which is a very small one) for nearly thirty years, and his predecessor (Rev. J. Scobell) was rector for considerably over forty years. The church itself is very plain. The newest addition to the edifice is the chancel, which was added in 1885.

The earliest record connected with the steeple or bells is in the year 1698. In folio 3 of the church book there is a memorandum, by which it appears that in that year the old steeple fell down. From another memorandum among the church papers we find that in the year 1714 the foundation of the present steeple was laid, and the building carried up to the first loft, the expense of which was about £240, the money being raised by a "Brief." The money which was raised was not sufficient to complete the structure, so the remainder was devoted towards repairing the body of the church. It would seem that at some time between the year 1714 and 1738 four bells were put in the tower, their total weight being about 31 cwt., 2 qrs., 15 lbs. In 1738, at a public vestry, a resolution was passed to finish the steeple, and the money to pay for it to be raised by a tax. The churchwardens of the time, named William Newton and John Winton, agreed to lend the sum required (£241 15s. 4d.) without interest. Thus the total cost of building the steeple was about £480. In the year 1738 also, a subscription was raised by the inhabitants of Southover (Southover at that time was a separate village from Lewes), the town of Lewes and the cliff to have the four old bells recast, and two new ones added. The sum thus raised amounted to £218 4s. 3d. The work of recasting the old bells, and making the addition of two ones, was undertaken by Samuel Knight, bellfounder, and Robert Catlin, bellhanger, of London. The frame was designed by a Mr. Joshua Kipling, of Portsmouth, and built by John Collingham, at a cost of £18. The weights of this new peal of six were as follows:—

	cwt.	qrs.	lbs.
Treble .. .. .	5	1	10
Second .. .. .	6	1	6
Third .. .. .	7	2	4
Fourth .. .. .	8	1	0
Fifth .. .. .	11	1	21
Tenor .. .. .	15	1	21
Total weight .. ..	54	1	6

The total cost, after deducting the amount allowed for old metal, was £220 0s. 3d. In a letter to the churchwardens informing them that the bells had been successfully cast, the founders state that "they are a very good pitch for eight bells." In an old history of Lewes the author states that in the year 1779 "two other bells were added, forming a musical peal of eight bells." This statement is borne out by two items in a parish bill, dated December 27th, 1779, and January 16th, 1780 respectively, are charges for repairing "the 7th bell wheel."

There is nothing else of any importance recorded in the church papers concerning the bells or the tower until the year 1839, when the old peal of eight were replaced by a new peal, cast by Messrs. Mears, of Whitechapel, and hung by Mr. Markwick, of Uckfield. This peal of bells was given by the following generous donors:—

Treble.—The gift of Henry Verrall, 1839.

Second.—The gift of good people, 1839.

Third.—The gift of good people, 1839.

Fourth.—The gift of the Verrall family, 1839.

Fifth.—Mr. Verrall, Gabriel Eagles, churchwarden, 1839.

Sixth.—The Rev. John Scobell, Rector, 1839.

Seventh.—The gift of William Verrall, Esq., in memory of his father, 1839.

Tenor.—The gift of William Verrall, Esq., Lord of the Manor, 1839.

Each bell also bears the name "Thomas Mears, Founder, London." The first recorded peal in this tower is the following, copied from a peal-board in the belfry:—

"On December 6th, 1869, a complete peal of Grandsire Tripples (Holt's Original), consisting of 5040 changes, was rung on these bells with great precision in 3 hrs. 7 mins., by the Lewes Society of Change Ringers, assisted by Messrs. Box and Warner, of Brighton. T. Goldsmith, treble; J. Brooks (conductor), 2; C. Warner, 3; J. Pryor, 4; J. Goldsmith, 5; J. Box, 6; J. Acton, 7; C. Wren, tenor."

NEW RING OF BELLS AT STANSFIELD, SUFFOLK.

On Saturday, November 14th, a new ring of five bells was dedicated in the parish church. The old bells, which were all originally made by Miles Graye, of Colchester, in 1652 ("quite a phenomenon," says Dr. Raven in his "Church Bells of Suffolk,") had been for many years unringable, and the belfry had fallen into a dilapidated and almost ruinous condition. An effort was therefore made to restore the noble old tower and bells, and the work has now been brought to a happy completion, with the hearty co-operation and goodwill of all the parishioners, under the superintendence of Mr. J. W. Little, A.R.I.B.A., of Tonbridge. The bells have all been recast and rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of Whitechapel, the tenor in F, weighing 10½ cwt. Each bell bears an appropriate inscription. During the afternoon a band of skilled ringed ringers visited the tower, and many peals were rung, both before and after the opening service, to the great gratification of all who heard them. The tone and tunefulness of the bells leave nothing to be desired, and the manner in which the whole work has been executed has elicited high praise from competent judges.

Before evensong, a short Office of Dedication was said in the town by the Ven. Archdeacon Chapman, and the assembled clergy and congregation, the rector, the Rev. J. R. Little, tolling the tenor seven times, to signify the completion of the work. Evensong followed, with special psalms and hymns, and the Ven. Archdeacon preached from 1 Exod. xv. 2, a very interesting and impressive sermon, in the course of which he drew the attention of his hearers to the inscriptions on the bells as helping them to keep in memory "the things preached unto them." The Thanksgiving Services were continued on the following Sunday. The Rector preached in the morning from Psalm cxxvii. 1:—"Except the Lord build the house they labour in vain that build it."

Such an occasion, he said, had not been known in that parish for well-nigh 250 years. As their minds went back to the other occasion they wondered by what happy circumstance it was that a whole ring of bells were set up in those troublous times in their little parish. For troublous times they were. The whole of England had been convulsed by civil war between the party of the King and the party of the Parliament. The clergy had been driven from their livings, and others unjustly put in their places. The use of the Prayer Book had been forbidden under the severest penalties, and the very fabric of the churches had been subjected to shameful mutilations and indignities. Only three years before the King himself had been put to death on the scaffold. The scanty records of their parish told them that it was not wholly free from troubles. How came it, then, that in those times of trouble and religious strife and confusion that little parish was able to complete so great a work? They could but wonder, for the parish books told them nothing. They only knew the fact from the old bells themselves; each one of them told its own tale—"Miles Graye made me, 1652." Those old bells had been the messengers of peace in the parish during the last two centuries and a half. It had been well remarked that love of the village steeple was the foundation of patriotism, and it might with equal truth be said to be a very powerful bond of religious union. The voices of the bells exercised a subtle influence over all alike, and formed a bond of union between the Church and other denominations. In their associations, and the use to which they were put, lay their power. He thanked God they had been permitted to bring to a happy completion that part of the work of restoration which they had set themselves to do. It was not unworthy of mention that as much of the work as possible had been done, and well done, by inhabitants of the parish. They had much to be thankful for, that without accident, without injury to life or limb, a somewhat dangerous work had been completed. He trusted their work had been done in no vain, glorious, or empty spirit, but with a sincere desire to promote the glory of God and the good of His children in that place, by repairing that which was broken and decayed in His house. In the name of the parish he took this opportunity of recording their gratitude to all who had helped by their means, or by the generous devotion of their time, and thought and skill. Without such assistance it would have been impossible for them to carry out the work. It had been for him a very happy, though a very anxious time, not only because of the many tokens of goodwill which they had met with at home, but also because of the many kindnesses he had received in response to his appeal for help to friends of former years. In the course of the work it was found necessary to do much that they did not anticipate, and to incur a greater expense than they at first proposed; therefore, although the sum already raised was more than sufficient to cover the work they set themselves to do, still, in the end, they found that they fell short of the sum required. They therefore earnestly appealed to all thankful hearts to contribute according to their means towards the deficiency.

The services both morning and afternoon were well attended, and the collections for the two days amounted to between £7 and £8.

Stansfield is to be congratulated on the acquisition of a very melodious little ring of bells. It only remains to complete the ring by the addition of a sixth bell, for which provision has been made in the frame.

BIDDENHAM, BEDS.—RE-OPENING OF THE CHURCH BELLS.

The bells of this parish church were re-opened on Thursday, November 12th, after undergoing entire restoration by Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough. The tenor bell getting cracked a few months ago, Mr. W. C. Kane, of Biddenham House, kindly came forward and offered to have it recast at his own expense. As the second and fifth bells were out of tune, and the oak frame (which was dated 1604) in a very bad and unsafe condition, a meeting was called by the Vicar to consider the holding of a bazaar to raise funds for a complete restoration. Accordingly a bazaar was held in June last for two days in the grounds of Mr. J. N. Taylor, adjoining the vicarage, and with the help of kind friends and willing workers, the grand total, together with the gift of Mr. Kane's, realized £226. An estimate being obtained from Messrs. Taylor to do the work for £214, operations were soon commenced. The work has been carried out in a most satisfactory manner. The whole ring has been carefully tuned with the most perfect mechanical appliances that modern science affords. The peal is equipped with entirely new fittings, notably the iron headstocks, the Heywood lubricators for the bearings, and the Hastings stays. The iron framework is of the H shape, massive castings being fixed to stout steel girders, giving a compact and perfectly rigid frame. Formerly the tower possessed only five bells, which were recast into six in the year 1787 by William Emerton, of Wootton, Bedfordshire.

At the opening ceremony special prayers and lessons were read by the Vicar, the Rev. W. E. B. Norman. The pulpit was occupied by Canon Punchard, of Christ Church, Luton, who gave an instructive discourse on bells, touching on their uses and abuses, also their work as servants of God. A large congregation was present. The service being concluded, the local ringers took the ropes and merry sounds pealed forth, which were again gladly welcomed by the villagers after a silence of several weeks. On Thursday, November 5th, the night of the completion of the bells, the workmen together with the ringers and Mr. S. Green (clerk), were invited by Mr. J. N. Taylor, churchwarden, to an excellent supper, after which the time was passed in songs and short touches on the handbells. The evening terminated with cheers for Mr. and Mrs. Taylor for their kindness. On Saturday, November 7th, 720 Kent Treble Bob and 720 Plain Bob were rung by the home band, who were assisted by Messrs. S. Constant and A. Robinson, of St. Peter's, Bedford, and all were highly pleased with the excellent "go" of the bells.

THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

LIVERPOOL BRANCH.—A meeting of the above branch was held at the parish church, Wigan, on Saturday, November 7th. Owing to the unfavourable weather the attendance was very poor. The business meeting was held in the vestry, when, owing to the unavoidable absence of the rector, the chair was taken by Mr. T. Halliwell. He gave the Association a hearty welcome, and expressed how pleased he was to meet them, and urged upon those present to further the objects of the Association as much as possible by attending the meetings more regularly. The minutes of the meeting held at Farnworth were read and confirmed. It was decided to hold the next meeting at St. Nicholas' Church, Liverpool, on Saturday, December 5th.

CHAPTER IX.

I am obliged to the gentleman who in a letter to the Editor alludes so kindly to the work upon which I am engaged in "THE BELL NEWS." The figure he mentions is "5," not "6," rather a damaged type, it seems. In these "calling figures" the figure "6" can never appear. If four plain leads are allowed there must be a bob at the next lead (or we get a repetition) and this would be represented by the figure "5." Then again with the words "at 2." The touch last week had a natural part-end, i.e. the part-end came up at a plain lead, not at a bob. The last bob was 1657423, then one plain lead 1645372, then the next plain lead was the part-end 1634257. And therefore the words "at 2" is to represent that the part-end appears at the 2nd lead from the previous bob-change. I hope this is understood. The part-ends sometimes come this way. I may also mention here that in Grandsire Triples we cannot have any more than two running bobs. Three running bobs will cause a repetition: two bobs only can be allowed, and these are spoken of as "a double."

To resume. The object this week is to see what can be done in the way of improvement upon the touch given in the last number. That touch contained 1092 changes; this is too long for any useful purpose. In trying to obtain such a feature as the twelve 7-4s in a touch, we need not shut our eyes to any other favorite property that we can take hold of at the same time. Managed rightly a touch with the whole of the 7-4s should also have as many possible 4-6s and 6-7s; if we cannot get all, let us have what we can. It will at once occur to the pupil on reading this that to effect such a desideratum not only the 7th and 4th bells must be brought into play, but the 6th as well; and such will necessitate getting that bell at home at the part-end. Why in such cases should the 6th be thus brought home? Because we require her to do certain work. This work cannot be got in one part of the touch, it must be spread over the three parts, and equalised. We know that if we bring that bell home at the part-end, after doing the duty we require her to do in the first part, she will do the same in the remaining parts. "This is the same old story," it may be said by some of my readers, "we all know this now." I shall be pleased if that is so.

If the touch given last week is again examined, it will be seen that the 7-4s therein are four leads distant from each other. The first three of these 7-4s are produced by the same means, i.e. by a bob the fourth lead following. The last one of the four is obtained in a different manner. It is advisable, if only for the sake of brevity, that we should get each 7-4 to follow one another as rapidly as possible, but we cannot, by bobs only obtain them in less than four leads. And there are three modes of doing this, which are here shown. Take the first 7-4 given to prick from:—

No. 1.	No. 2.	No. 3.
1253674	1253674	1253674
1265437	B 1462753	1265437
1246753	B 1374562	B 1742365
1274365	1357246	B 1537642
B 1532674	1325674	1563274

In Nos. 1 and 2 the three back bells are undisturbed; in No. 3 the bell in 4th place is not affected.

Let us now see how a knowledge of these plans enables us to improve upon the touch given last week. We will commence as before, thus:—

1752634

1765423

1237546

Here is the first 7-4 again. Now we want to remove the 6th, to prevent her from falling in the same place in the next 7-4. Therefore we will use plan No. 3, thus:—

1742365

B

1537642

1563274

Here is the second 7-4 with the 6th in a different place. Now adopting plan No. 1 we get four leads further and by the same means at the next fourth lead we have:—

1635274

1356274

The last 7-4. Place them together, and the 6th is in a different position in each. The plain lead following this will be:—

1325467

6-7 being at home, but not the 4th. We have got all our 7-4s, and need only to get the 4th at home for a part-end, which is done thus from the last 7-4:—

1356274

1423756

1472035

1354267 Part-end.

Here we have a touch of 882 changes only with the same properties as the one given last week, and in a more compact form, and with the 6th instead of the 3rd as a fixed bell. We will try and discover next week what advantages avail us in having the 6th to deal with in this manner, when we enlarge the touch to obtain additional musical properties. ALEPH.

WHITCHURCH, SALOP.

On Friday, November 13th, Messrs. Holding and Hartshorn, of Crewe, with Mr. Weatherby, of Market Drayton, visited this town for the purpose of attempting a peal of Grandsire Triples with five of the local ringers, on the 85th anniversary of the birthday of the rector (the Rev. W. E. Egerton, M.A.) A start was made at 4.17, and all went well until 6.47, when the conductor's bell stuck fast while in mid-swing, causing him to jump off the box and look earnestly at the ceiling, as if he expected to see it coming through. However, the rope commenced moving again, and, with a few swings, the bell was down. The rest of the company, with eyes fixed on the conductor, continued ringing, but in what method it would be hard to say, until told that they could stand as soon as they liked. The bells were hardly set before Mr. George Wright, the local conductor, was in the tower enquiring what was the matter, and expressing regret at losing the peal so near the end. After falling the other bells, an examination of the bell in fault took place, when it was found that the clapper had broken partly loose, and caused it to catch on the frame. It had then taken a piece out of the oak framing, and, swinging again, had caught the slider and smashed that; so far as could be seen the bell itself was not injured. The names of those who attempted the peal were: E. Barker, 1; E. Weatherby, 2; T. Owen, 3; C. Challinor, 4; W. Barrow, 5; W. F. Hartshorn, 6; R. T. Holding (conductor), 7; H. Taylor, 8. At eight o'clock the ringers adjourned to The Lamb hotel, opposite the church, and sat down to a first-class dinner, the rector's annual gift to his ringers on the anniversary of his birthday, and to which full justice was done. After the cloth was moved, the Rev. C. Moir took the chair, and the usual toast list was gone through, interspersed with songs, recitations, etc.; a very happy and agreeable evening closing shortly before eleven o'clock.

PLAIN METHODS WITH TWO GUIDING BELLS.

BY JOHN CARTER.

Having now given in "THE BELL NEWS," October 3rd, 1896, all the methods I have in my possession which run the five leads to the course on the above plan, and not receiving from the Exercise any response to my request for further additions to make the series more complete, I can only conclude that the group is fully represented.

I will now proceed to enumerate which, in my opinion, are the most suitable calls for each method. I do not believe in having more than two calls in any method, one to keep the bells in-course and the other to put them out-of-course; but as there are some methods which will not run the whole round block with only these two calls, another one in such cases is necessary.

There are two kinds of bobs and singles suitable for these methods: one known as the Grandsire bob, working while the treble is in front; and the other as the Darlaston bob, affecting the three back bells, thus:—

No. 1.	No. 2.
5 7 1 6 2 4 3	6 3 7 5 1 4 2
5 1 7 2 6 3 4	6 7 3 1 5 2 4
B 1 5 7 6 2 4 3	B 7 6 1 3 5 4 2
1 7 5 2 6 3 4	7 1 6 5 3 2 4

Singles working in union with these bobs:—

No. 1.	No. 2.
5 7 1 6 2 4 3	6 3 7 5 1 4 2
5 1 7 2 6 3 4	6 7 3 1 5 2 4
S 1 5 7 2 6 4 3	S 7 6 1 3 5 2 4
1 7 5 6 2 3 4	7 1 6 5 3 4 2

Double that will suit all the methods:—

5 7 1 6 2 4 3
5 1 7 2 6 3 4
D 1 5 7 2 6 3 4
1 7 5 6 2 4 3

Of the foregoing No. 1 bob and single should be used in the methods numbered 2, 3, 6, 7, 9, 11, 13, 19, and 21. No. 2 bob and single for 1, 4, 5, 8, 10, 12, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 20, 22, and 23; and the double for all.

Some of these methods will go well in Caters and Cinques; places to be made as in Triples.

This completes the methods with two guiding bells, and if of any value to the Exercise, I shall be happy to extend them on another principle on a future occasion.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

EAST RETFORD.—The local company honoured the Municipal Election day in this most ancient borough with touches of Grandsire Triples and Bob Major. In the afternoon an attempt was made to ring Mr. Arthur Knights' five-part peal of Bob Major (5200 changes). A start was made at 2 p.m., without lighting the gas in the ringing chamber. It was thought by all if the venture was successful the peal would be completed before twilight came on. Towards 3.30 it turned very dark, and the belfry door being locked, it was impossible for anyone to turn on and light the gas. Nevertheless the ringing continued until 4.35, the ringers living in hope that the peal would be brought to a successful issue; but after ringing 3700 changes, the conductor was obliged to call stand in consequence of darkness, the ringers being scarcely able to see each other. The following were the ringers:—F. W. Abbott, 1; G. W. D. Metcalfe, 2; G. Swannack, 3; T. H. Denman, 4; H. Haigh, 5; G. R. Winter, 6; T. Spurr, 7; J. B. Joynes (conductor), 8.

Correspondence.

While allowing the utmost freedom for the expression of opinion, it must never be considered that we are in any way bound to statements made by correspondents.

To the Editor of "THE BELL NEWS AND RINGERS' RECORD."

BOB MAJOR.

SIR,—Mr. Trollope, in his remarks on Bob Major in your issue of the 14th inst., says there is as yet no peal in this method in five parts without a call at home, nor a 5120 in ten parts without parting the tenors. The enclosed will fill up the gaps.

J. HOLME PILKINGTON.

SEASONABLE APPRECIATION.

SIR,—I should like through your columns to thank our friend "ALEPH" for his valuable and exceedingly clear hints on composing and conducting. I am sure that they must require a great deal of care and trouble on his part, and I should like him to know that his hints are appreciated by one, at least, who wishes to know something of the inner mysteries of "calling" on seven or more bells. He adopts the excellent plan of asking the question "Why?" whenever he says that "so and so must be done"; the very question we ask ourselves and cannot often answer. I hope when his hints are finished that they will be published in a volume; at the same time I recommend all ringers not to miss any copy of "THE BELL NEWS," containing as it does such useful papers, as well as other excellences not necessary to particularize.

I do not quite see in "ALEPH's" paper of November 21st, how he gets the 6 as the number of leads in the third line of the last column, or what "at 2" means. In adding them I make 26. The rest of his paper, and his other papers, have taught me all I know of this art of conducting.

NON-CONDUCTOR.

Obituary.

JOHN MELHUISH.

We regret having to record the death of the above-named, which took place on October 27th in the following manner. He was a carpenter by trade, and was working on a scaffold at a house at Bathwick Hill, Bath. By some means or other he missed his footing, and fell a distance of forty feet, dislocating his neck, and causing instantaneous death. He was a member of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, and had rung six peals. The funeral took place at Locksbrook cemetery on Sunday, November 1st. The coffin, which was covered with floral and other wreaths, was borne to the grave by members of the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners (over sixty in number), and fellow-workmen and ringers were present at the graveside, where deep sympathy was expressed with the widow and family. He was formerly a member of St. Andrew's Guild, and at the time of his death a member of the Twerton-on-Avon company. At the conclusion of the afternoon service at this church a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung with the bells deeply muffled, in 55 mins., by the following members:—A. Hudd, 1; G. Temple, 2; W. Davis, 3; J. Smith Flower, 4; W. Lanham, 5; H. Wotton (conductor), 6; H. W. Brown, 7; A. Cox, 8. In the evening, at St. Andrew's church, 518 Grandsire Triples was rung with the bells deeply muffled as a token of respect.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN, CHURCH BELL HANGER, AND TUNER. SALISBURY, WILTSHIRE.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN is a practical Ringer, and having had considerable experience in Church Bell hanging and tuning, with confidence solicits the patronage of the Clergy, Churchwardens and Ringers generally.

T. B. has devoted a great deal of attention to the fixing of Clock Hammers used for striking the hours and quarters on Church Bells. These are sometime placed in awkward and dangerous positions, even by Church Clock Makers.

T. BLACKBOURN'S experience enables him to affix these hammers, with their accompanying levers in a most accurate manner, preventing any danger to the bell frame or clock. He will be glad to advise on clocks as well as bells.

The Ellacombe Chime Hammers fixed. Sole Fixer of Silby's Apparatus for Silent practice. Handbells supplied. Bells weighed in the tower at a small cost.

A PEAL OF 362,880 GRANDSIRE CATERS, 6d.

NOTE TO THE PEAL AT BRIGHTON.

This peal was arranged for Mr. John Jay, sen., and is his rooth peal. Mr. Jay came from Streatham to Brighton to live about twenty-seven years ago. He joined the St. Nicholas' society when ringing was at a very low ebb, he himself being the only one in Brighton that could ring Grandsire Triples. On June 28th, 1882, a peal of bells (through the instrumentality of Mr. Attree being opened at St. Peter's), he was asked by Mr. Attree whether he would teach a band of gentlemen ringers if he (Mr. Attree) got them together. "Yes, Sir," was the reply of our worthy veteran. They started, but after getting well into Grandsire Triples one after another left, until all were gone but Mr. Attree, so practically a fresh start had to be made with the enlistment of other members. Nevertheless Mr. Jay kept at his task only too well, although several members would stand outside the tower and say "Look at old Jay slaving away at those chaps." But patience and perseverance has its reward, likewise did Mr. Jay, for on December 2nd, 1882, he got them through their first peal of Grandsire Triples, the famous Holt's ten-part being rung by the following ringers, being the first peal by all excepting the conductor: J. Jay (jun.), 1; E. Hilder, 2; J. Searle, 3; C. Tyler, 4; H. Boast, 5; G. F. Attree, Esq., 6; J. Jay, sen. (conductor), 7; E. Awcock, 8. This was the only peal rang in Brighton since 1833. He then conducted a peal of Grandsire Triples at the church of St. Nicholas, being the first peal on the bells after 53 years. In January, 1885 the Sussex County Association was formed, and Mr. Jay had the honour of conducting the first peal by the Association, which was rang at Cuckfield in the same month, Mr. Edward Butler, another veteran Brighton ringer, ringing the tenor. He has also conducted the first peals on bells at St. Paul's (Brighton), Buxted and Ringmer in Sussex. About two years ago Mr. Jay had a very serious illness, and we all thought that he would never live to ring his 100 peals, which was his one great aim, but we are glad to say he is much better in health now. It was his wish to ring his rooth peal at St. Nicholas in his favourite method (Stedman). A start was made on Tuesday, November 10th, but was lost after one hour's ringing owing to a change-course. On Saturday last another attempt was made, and the peal was safely accomplished. Great credit is due to Mr. Palmer, steeplekeeper, for the "go" of the bells, and for the trouble he took in getting everything ready, splicing ropes, etc. The following is a list of the peals he has taken part in: Grandsire Triples, 50, conducted 15; Stedman Triples, 22; Plain Bob Major, 3; Double Norwich Court Bob Major, 5; Kent Treble Bob Major, 4; Superlative Surprise Major, 4; Cambridge Surprise Major, 1; London Surprise Major, 1; Grandsire Caters, 8; Stedman Caters, 2; total, 100.

Ringers Wanting Situations.

COULD anyone help me to get a situation; am willing to do anything. By trade a six-quarter Tapestry Weaver. Can ring Double Norwich, Stedman, Superlative, Cambridge, and London Surprise. Can conduct in method I can ring. I am willing to give my services as a ringer for getting employment. Married; 29 years of age; 15 years' character.—W. H. Smith, Lark Hill, Kidderminster.

PAINTER wants a job on builders' firm or on estate. Can ring Treble Bob on six and eight.—Apply F. F. Ewhurst Green, near Cranleigh, Surrey.

WANTED by young man, age 19, situation in bake-house. Good bread baker, used to smalls. Seven years experience. Good character; change-ringer; and member of the Sussex County Association.—I. J. Attwater, Church street, Cuckfield, Sussex.

No. 765.]

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1896.

[Vol. XV.]

MR. J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE, OF NORWICH.

[Vide Portrait.]

Mr. JABEZ ARMIGER TROLLOPE was born at East Dereham, Norfolk, on January 8th, 1876, and has consequently not yet completed his 21st year. He was educated at King Edward VI. Middle School, Norwich, and while there he passed the Cambridge University Local Examination with honours in both Junior and senior sections, and was placed fifth in all England in English subjects. At school he made the acquaintance of George and John Burton, and with them developed a hobby—the climbing of church steeples—which had as its natural result the display of an interest in the occupants of these steeples—the bells. He learnt to pull a bell at St. Giles', Norwich, and shortly afterwards his two friends and he manufactured a small peal of six handbells, from half-a-dozen door bells, picked out with some trouble from a large stock at an ironmonger's; they were fitted up with leather handles and suitable brass tongues. This peal was afterwards increased to ten by the addition of four larger bells, supplied by Messrs. Warner, of London.

The first plain course of double-handed Minor was rung on Saturday, April 30th, 1892; on the following day Mr. TROLLOPE rang the treble to his first 120 on five bells, at Intwood, near Norwich, scoring his first 720 a week or two later on the middle six bells at St. Peter Mancroft. The first double-handed 720 was rung on September 30th, 1892, conducted by George P. Burton.

Besides the handbell ringing, which was persevered in, a good deal of practice was had at St. Peter per Mountergate, Norwich, where, during 1892—3, regular meetings were held, and where at length a 5040 was rung. But ere this, Mr. TROLLOPE and his friends had secured a peal on handbells, viz., seven 720s of Bob Minor, on January 19th, 1893, rung just after Mr. TROLLOPE's 17th birthday, and conducted by himself; this was rung on the handbells above mentioned.

Major was then taken in hand, and a new peal of handbells (15 size in E) was bought, and a 5040 of Bob Major rung on them, and during that year, 1893, and the next, fifteen peals were rung in various methods from Minor to Royal, including the 11,200 of Bob Major, the longest length yet rung in hand; this was a reduction of a 13,440, which could not be rung owing to a late start.

Besides the methods in which peals were rung, touches and courses were rung in Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Major, Royal and Maximus, Grandsire Royal, Cinques, and Maximus, Duffield Major, Forward Major and Royal, Bob Caters, and Canterbury Pleasure Triples, besides about a dozen six-bell methods, and an odd course or two of Stedman Triples; peals were proposed in all these methods, and some, doubtless, would have been accomplished, had not the handbell band come to an untimely end.

Just before the band broke up, Bob Maximus and Grandsire Cinques were taken in hand, with a view to the accomplishment of a 5040 in each, but the attempt was frustrated by the departure of one of the band, and the illness of another; however, several touches were rung, including 1584 of Bob Maximus.

Mr. TROLLOPE rang his first tower-bell peal, Bob Major, at St. Peter Mancroft, on June 8th, 1893, and has since rung twenty-two in various methods. This list is not a lengthy one, but his business prevents him from ever ringing a large number of peals.

Mr. TROLLOPE's peals are as follows:—

	Tower.	Hand-bells.	Conducted.	Total.
Seven methods on five bells .. .. .	1	—	—	1
Five methods on six bells .. .. .	1	—	1	1
Bob Minor (seven 720s) .. .. .	—	1	1	1
„ Triples .. .. .	1	1	2	2
„ Major .. .. .	4	8	5	12
„ Royal .. .. .	—	1	—	1
Canterbury Major .. .. .	1	1	2	2
Grandsire Triples .. .. .	1	1	1	2
„ Major .. .. .	—	2	—	2
„ Caters .. .. .	3	1	1	4
„ Cinques .. .. .	1	—	—	1
Kent Treble Bob Major .. .. .	1	—	—	1
„ „ Royal .. .. .	1	—	—	1
Oxford Treble Bob Major .. .. .	5	—	1	5
„ „ Royal .. .. .	1	—	—	1
Stedman Triples .. .. .	1	—	—	1

Two of these peals, both of Bob Major, on handbells, exceed the usual length, viz., the 11,200 and 6720.

As a composer, although Mr. TROLLOPE has produced peals in most of the well-known methods, including London and Superlative Surprise, Treble Bob Royal, Stedman Caters, Double Norwich, Canterbury Pleasure, Double Oxford, Duffield, Forward, New Duffield, &c., he has chiefly confined his attention to Bob Major and Triples, in which methods he has peals with nearly all the qualities possible. Among his best compositions we may mention: Peals of Bob Triples, with all the musical combinations at back stroke; peals of Bob Major, with the sixth its extent right and wrong, with the fifth and sixth their extent each way both with and without singles, with all the combinations of 4-5-6 in 5-6, with the sixty 7-8s before; peals containing the extent of the method without singles, in one, two and three parts; and peals with the 120 course-ends on several plans. In Bob Royal he has produced the extent with 9-10 together, and in Bob Maximus, the extent of the method, containing all the changes possible on twelve bells, namely, 479,001,600. Besides these, we may mention peals of Superlative Surprise with the 4th and 6th the extent in 6th; London Surprise, the extent without 2-3 in 6ths place, and a peal equal in length to Mr. Washbrook's extent; and in Duffield, peals with the extent with and without the 6th moved.

Mr. TROLLOPE has at various times contributed articles to the pages of THE BELL NEWS on different subjects, including "Bells of St. Andrew's, Norwich," "Variation and Adaptation," "Round about Eye," "The Sexton's Wheel," "Some Norwich Bells," and one or two chapters on Bob Major and Triples. He has also formed a collection of compositions of Plain Bob, and has charge of that section in the coming Central Council collection.

Mr. TROLLOPE is a member of the Norwich Diocesan Association, the Durham and Newcastle Association, The Ancient Society of College Youths, and the Essex and Midland Counties' Associations; he is district secretary of the Norwich Diocesan Association, and represents that Society on the Central Council; he is an ardent cyclist, and is sub-captain of the Norwich C.E.Y.M.S. Cycle Club.

NORTH NIBLEY, GLOUCESTERSHIRE.

A large Westminster chime clock has just been erected in the tower of this church, which is fitted with all the modern improvements. John Smith and Sons, Midland Clock Works, Derby, carried out the work.

MR. J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

RINGER'S WEDDING.

Saturday, November 21st, witnessed the marriage of Mr. Ernest Alfred Pitstow, third son of Mrs. N. J. Pitstow, of Saffron Walden, Essex, with Miss Harriet Louisa Dallimore, only daughter of the late Mr. Henry Dallimore, of East Cowes, Isle of Wight, which took place at Holy Trinity church, Barking Road, West Ham, the ceremony being performed by the Ven. Archdeacon Stevens, vicar of Stratford, and formerly vicar of Saffron Walden. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. W. H. Dallimore. Miss Alice Pitstow was bridesmaid, and Mr. H. Pitstow acted as best man. The bridegroom being an esteemed member of the Essex Association, the following members, after having "fired" the bells, rang a 720 of Bob Minor. J. Waits, 1; E. Lucas, 2; H. Springall, 3; G. Pearl, 4; W. Doran, 5; S. Hayes (conductor), 6. The ringers then went to the residence of Mr. W. H. Dallimore, and drank the newly-married couple's health. Later in the day the happy pair took train for Bengoe, Hertfordshire, where the honeymoon has been spent. Numerous presents have been received, including one from the Excelsior Band, of which Mr. Pitstow has for many years been the worthy conductor, and also from the St. Mary's company, of which he is also a member. On Saturday, November 28th, a peal of Stedman Triples was rung at St. Mary's church, Saffron Walden, in honour of the home-coming of the newly-married couple. On Monday evening, November 30th, Mr. Pitstow was asked to meet the ringers at the headquarters of the society, when the Master, Edward Taylor, Esq., said he had great pleasure in congratulating him, and asking him in the name of his brother-ringers to receive as a token of their appreciation a clock which had been purchased by their subscriptions, and which he had the pleasure to present, with every good wish to himself and Mrs. Pitstow, and that he would live long to honour the society with his presence, and concluded by reading the address:—

"Presented to Mr. Ernest Alfred Pitstow by the Saffron Walden Society of Change-Ringers, as a token of appreciation of his ringing abilities and genial disposition, and with sincere wishes for the continual health, happiness, and prosperity of himself and Mrs. Pitstow."

November 30th, 1896.

Every blessing through the "peal" of life,
Each "change" give pleasure to yourself and wife;
The "single" has been called! and may the changes new,
Increasing happiness bring your wife and you.

Mr. Pitstow, in accepting the present, said he could but feebly express the great pleasure he felt at the honour conferred upon him by such a beautiful and substantial recognition of his services, as he felt he had only done his duty in a society in which he had so great a pride, and which he hoped to see reach the highest pinnacle of success, and shortly be able to ring a peal of London Surprise.

Mr. Pitstow's health was heartily drunk, interspersed with many complimentary remarks by other members.

THE EAST DERBYSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The Quarterly Meeting of the above Association was held at Ashover, on Saturday, November 28th, 1896, ringers being present from Ashover, Clay Cross, Tibshelf, Ripley, Horsley, Wingerworth and North Wingfield. A splendid tea was provided by the rector (Rev. J. B. Nodder), to which 34 members sat down. After tea, Rev. J. B. Nodder was voted to the chair. The minutes of the last quarterly meeting were read and confirmed; Messrs. T. Clough and F. Marshall were appointed to audit the accounts for the annual meeting, two new ringing members were admitted, and the secretary was requested to write to two towers respecting their subscriptions, which have been allowed to get considerably behind.

A hearty vote of thanks was given to the rector for providing the tea, presiding at the meeting, and use of schoolroom and bells for the day, to which the rev. gentleman suitably replied.

The bells were kept going till after 9 p.m. by mixed bands, Grandsire, Old Doubles, Stedman, Manchester, and Bob Minor being the principal methods rung. A very pleasurable afternoon was spent, every one appearing to enjoy themselves immensely.

THE GORING SOCIETY, OXON.

On Tuesday, October 27th, on the occasion of the wedding of Capt. Fife and Miss Gibbs, 720 Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Plain Bob, and College Single; and on Tuesday, November 3rd, on the occasion of the wedding of Capt. Gang, of Goring, and Miss Marsden, of Pangbourne (Berks), touches in the above methods were rung on the bells of the parish church. On Tuesday, November 10th, the Goring ringers visited Streatley (Berks), and by permission, rang a 360 each of Kent, Oxford Bob, and Plain Bob, Oxford Treble coming to grief owing to the tenor rope slipping the wheel. On Saturday, November 14th, the Goring ringers journeyed to Pangbourne to have a pull on the bells, and there rang 360 each of Kent, Oxford Treble Bob, Oxford Bob and Plain Bob, and 360 Grandsire Doubles, with three of the local band ringing the first three bells. It has been the wish of the Goring ringers to visit this place, as two years ago, when they tried the bells nothing could be done owing to their condition; but, thanks to the efforts of the foreman of the local band, the bells went capital, and some very good ringing was done, making amends for what was attempted when visiting the village before, the ringers taking part being J. Carter, J. Parsons, J. Bower, J. Alexander, C. Tidbury, W. Aldridge, A. Spokes, and G. Wilson (conductor).

ST. MARY'S, WALTHAMSTOW.

Some weeks ago it was announced that the ring of eight at this church was to be augmented to ten, and the whole hung in an entirely new frame. This has now been carried out. On Friday next, the 11th instant, the dedication service will be held at 7.0 p.m., at which the Ven. the Archdeacon of St. Albans will officiate. On the following Sunday there will be special services in connection with the event. In the morning the sermon will be preached by the Rev. H. A. Allpass, Master of the Monoux Grammar School; in the afternoon at 3.15, by the vicar (the Rev. W. H. Langhorne); and in the evening by the Rev. E. A. B. Saunders, vicar of St. Mark's, Dalston.

In a former allusion to this desirable restoration, we stated that it was to be carried out by the Whitechapel firm. Our information was obtained from the highest authority in the parish, but it was a mistake, nevertheless. Messrs. Warner and Sons were entrusted with the contract, which has been carried out satisfactorily. When the bells were removed, and the usual clearance made, it was found that the tower needed repair.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The Central Council Committee for the Collection of Peals, having organised a company of workers to deal with the methods hereinafter mentioned, invite all composers to send their compositions in any of these methods to the specified collector for proof and comparison. Compositions which have already appeared in Collections or Treatises need not be sent. References to those which have appeared in the columns of the ringing papers will be accepted as sufficient without the figures; but they should be accompanied by reference to any subsequent correspondence respecting them, and an assurance that they have not been pronounced false. In all cases it is desirable that the date of composition should be appended, whenever it can be accurately assigned. Collectors will not undertake to receive compositions merely for proof, nor to enter on any correspondence with regard to them. The following gentlemen will receive compositions in the methods set against their names. Collectors for other methods will be announced in due course.

Bob Major: Mr. J. A. Trollope, 9, Valentine Street, Norwich.—Duffield Major, Royal, and Maximus; and Forward do.: Mr. John Carter, Forward Villa, Aston, Birmingham.—Grandsire Triples: Rev. C. D. P. Davies, East Marden Rectory, Chichester.—Other methods of Triples (except Stedman): Dr. A. B. Carpenter, Bedford Park, Croydon.—Double Norwich Court Major: Mr. H. Dains, 147, Barnsbury Road, London, N.—Ditto Royal and Maximus, Mr. W. L. Catchpole, Philip Road, Stoke, Ipswich.—Double Oxford Bob Major: Rev. J. H. Pilkington, Framlingham Rectory, R.S.O., Suffolk.—Stedman Triples: Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, Stanhoe Rectory, King's Lynn.—Stedman Caters and Cinques: Mr. J. R. Pritchard, 9, Granville Terrace, Wallasey, Cheshire.—Superlative Surprise Major: Mr. Gabriel Lindoff, 15, Knight Street, Lincoln.—London Surprise Major: Mr. N. J. Pitstow, Saffron Walden, retires.—Treble Bob Major (in continuation of Snowdon's Collection): Mr. Tom Lockwood, 38, Chad Street, Newtown, Leeds.—Treble Bob Royal and Maximus (do.): Mr. Arthur Knights, Brunswick Street, Chesterfield.

OTLEY, YORKSHIRE.

The Otley company, with their wives and a few friends, held their annual supper on November 5th, at The Horse-shoe hotel, Bridge Street, and the event was attended with its customary success. The evening's proceedings commenced with an excellent repast, provided for them by Mr. and Mrs. Bell, to which the company did full justice. After the repast, a company of ringers, in accordance with the usual custom, ascended the tower of the parish church and rang a few touches of Kent Treble Bob in commemoration of the event. The following gentlemen took part:—C. Ralph, 1; F. Maston, 2; T. Lockwood (Leeds), 3; A. Snowball, 4; W. D. Clough, 5; J. Nelson (conductor), 6; J. Horner, 7; W. Waddington, 8. Returning again to Bridge Street hostelry they were rejoined by their friends and together they spent a very pleasant evening; under the conductorship of Mr. Waddington, who presided, Mr. W. Hunt occupying the vice-chair. The toasts of the evening, "The Bishop and Clergy of the Diocese," "The Vicar and Churchwardens of Otley," and "The Subscribers," were drunk with enthusiasm, and the evening was enlivened with songs and recitations by Mr. Clough, Mr. Ralph, Mr. Nelson, Mr. F. Maston, Mr. Waddington, Mr. and Mrs. Burns, Mr. J. Horner, and Master Frank Horner at the piano. Miss Minnie Ralph also gave some selections on the fairy bells which were very satisfactory to the company. Mr. T. Lockwood gave a tune on the handbells, Mr. W. Hartley (violin), Mr. W. Horner (piccolo and flute), and Mr. J. Horner (cello), obliged at intervals. The Otley company of handbell ringers, comprising Messrs. Maston, R. Nelson, Waddington, Holms, and Horner (conductor), gave several tunes and changes, the time drawing near for retirement appearing rather too soon for so enjoyable a company.

KENDAL, WESTMORLAND.

Full muffled ringing took place on the parish church bells on Thursday morning, the 19th inst., the occasion being the interment, at Heversham churchyard, of the remains of the late Mr. W. Tattersall, of Blackburn and Milnthorpe, a gentleman well-known for general philanthropy. In the evening, a half-muffled date touch of 1896 Grandsire Triples was accomplished in 1 hr. 15 mins. R. Dennison, 1; W. Tyson, 2; R. Everson, 3; W. Graham, 4; W. Atkinson (conductor), 5; B. Walker, 6; J. Braithwaite, 7; J. Salmon, 8.

A DISGRACEFUL SCENE.

A correspondent writes: "On Tuesday last, at the headquarters of the Ancient Society of College Youths, a proposition was made by a certain member, 'That all paid ringing done in the name of the Society should be done under the cognisance of the Master,' or something to that effect. The Master, Mr. W. Burkin, stated that as it was past the time no further proposition or notice of motion could be accepted, and advised the member to put his motion in writing and hand it in in the usual way upon the next meeting night. Without the least warning the member in question aimed a terrific blow across the table at the Master's head, which fortunately missed the mark, but was received on the shoulder. The meeting was abruptly closed amidst great confusion, several members rushing to the Master's assistance, to prevent further mischief. As may be imagined, the desk, inkstand, books, etc., were scattered. It now remains to be seen what the respectable members of this Ancient Society think of such behaviour, especially as the member in question, holds office, to which he was recently elected. It appears that this is not the first offence of the kind—violent assault, perhaps, is the better term for it—that he has committed upon a member; and out of justice to the fair fame, honour, and integrity of this, the premier ringing society of this universe, steps should be taken at the next meeting, or a special meeting of the members, to remove the possibility of these frequently-recurring disgraceful scenes so far as this particular old offender is concerned: and the liberty is taken to ask all serious, fair-minded readers of your valuable journal, particularly those who are members of the Society named, to express, in your columns, in no unmistakable voice, their opinion of such a gross breach of all rules regarding the respect to a Master in the chair. For the present the name of the person will not transpire."

Correspondence.

While allowing the utmost freedom for the expression of opinion, it must never be considered that we are in any way bound to statements made by correspondents.

To the Editor of "THE BELL NEWS AND RINGERS' RECORD."

A DISCLAIMER.

SIR,—My friend Mr. F. Pittsow, of Saffron Walden, tells me privately that the peals of Bob Major published by me in your issue of the 21st ult. belong to him, and as he gives a date on which he obtained them, which is prior to mine, I willingly withdraw my claim to these peals.

HENRY DAINS.

TWO CORRECTIONS.

SIR,—On page 415 of your last week's issue appears a note to a peal rung at St. Nicholas, Brighton, on November 21st. After giving a brief description of Mr. Jay's first years in Brighton, and his perseverance in teaching young ringers, your correspondent refers to a peal rung on December 2nd, 1882, by the following:—J. Jay, jun., 1; E. Hilder, 2; J. Searle, 3; C. Tyler, 4; H. Boast, 5; G. F. Attree, Esq., 6; J. Jay, sen. (conductor), 7; E. Awcock, 8; and which he says was the first peal by all excepting the conductor. If he will look at "THE BELL NEWS" for August, 1881, he will find there the record of a peal (Holt's Original) which was rung at Hurstpierpoint, Sussex, on July 23rd of that year, and conducted by Mr. I. G. Shade, on which occasion Messrs. E. Hilder, H. Boast, and J. Searle rang their first peal, and in which Mr. Jay also took part. I heartily congratulate the veteran on reaching his century, and I hope he may live to ring his second hundred.

In the same issue, on page 405, a correspondent from Lewes gives a correct copy of a peal board in Southover church, recording a peal rung there on December 6th, 1869, which states that the composition is Holt's Original. I frequently met Mr. Warner and Mr. J. Goldsmith, when I first went to live in Brighton about twenty years ago; and also saw the conductor (Mr. Brooks) about seven or eight years ago, who came to reside there after a long absence; each of whom, when asked about it, admitted that the peal was Holt's Ten-Part, and that the board was wrong. These three veterans have all gone over to the majority; but I believe Mr. Jay will corroborate what I say. I think the Lewes Society should see this mistake rectified.

Burgess Hill, Sussex.

J. SEARLE.

INFORMATION.

SIR,—In reference to "Advice wanted by Sussex," I will just say what we do at our church, the ringing room being open to the church. We always lower the bells in peal, allowing five minutes; then the sermon bell is rung five minutes, which makes ten minutes before service commences, without any call being made; so that if anyone is annoyed it is those who come very early, and we have not heard any complaints. We have only five bells. Tenor about 20 cwt. Eight bells should take rather more than five minutes. NORWICH.

Obituary.

JOHN FARRISH, OF MACCLESFIELD.

It is with deep regret that we have to record the death of another of our respected local ringers, who departed this life recently at the age of seventy-four years. Deceased was a first-class change-ringer, and had taken part in peals of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Caters, Treble Bob Major and Royal, and probably a few of Plain Bob. He was a safe ringer, and a good striker, his chief element being Stedman. He assisted in ringing muffled peals in the evenings on the occasion of the death of King William IV., and was entered on the list of regular ringers of the parish church, Macclesfield, in the year 1841. I may say here that an old rule which was in existence at that time, and which was carried out for a considerable period after, was that no ringer was put on the company's list of regular ringers until he could ring a 500 in two methods, one of which had to be Stedman, and that for a great many years this company was the best band of Stedman ringers for a radius of fifty miles. But to return to our deceased brother. He, with a few slight exceptions, was an active member until 1890, when through failing health he had to cease ringing. He was also a member of the Macclesfield old brass band, being a thorough musician. His funeral was attended by a large combined band, representing the various bands, and several ringers of the district. In the evening the local company at the "old church" (which is about to be restored), rang several touches with the bells half-muffled, in respect to an old and faithful member whose decease severs another of the links of bygone days.

THE OXFORD SOCIETY.

THE LONG PEAL OF LONDON SURPRISE.

On Wednesday evening, November 25th, the members of this society commemorated their recent remarkable performance of a peal of London Surprise Major, consisting of 11,328 changes, by a dinner at their meeting-house, The Bell inn, Cornmarket Street. The time occupied by this extraordinary peal, which is the longest composed and rung in the method, was 6 hrs. 6 mins., and the ringers were: C. Hounslow, Treble; F. Exon, 2; C. H. Fowler, 3; C. Exon, 4; E. Hims, 5; T. Payne, 6; Rev. F. E. Robinson, 7; J. W. Washbrook (composer and conductor), Tenor. The Bishop of Reading (Dr. Randall) occupied the chair, and among those present were: The Rev. F. E. Robinson (Master of the Diocesan Guild), the Rev. H. Barter (President of the Chipping Norton Deanery Branch), Mr. G. H. Phillott (Master of the Cheltenham Society), Mr. C. Barlow (Secretary of the Chipping Norton Deanery Branch), Councillor Wheeler, Mr. T. E. Harwood (Christ Church), Mr. C. R. Greenall (Kemble College), and Messrs. C. Hounslow, P. Hind (Master of the Oxford Society), Higgins, C. Tolley, J. Moggridge, C. Fowler, T. Payne, J. Fox, A. Fox, E. Hims, Chandler, A. Strange, Francis, J. Warner, F. White, J. W. Washbrook, W. Finch, C. Hester, W. Smith, W. Jeffery, W. Payne, S. Hounslow, F. Castle, J. Howse, Stace, &c. At the conclusion of the dinner, which was well served,

The Right Rev. Chairman gave the toast of "The Queen," remarking that if any people were loyal, certainly bell-ringers ought to be, because there was no one in England that caused more bell-ringing than the Queen did herself.

Mr. Phillott proposed "The health of the Bishop and Clergy of the Diocese," remarking he did so with the more pleasure, and at the same time more nervousness, because they had a real live Bishop with them that evening. They had a most excellent set of clergy, to whom they owed a great deal as ringers. He thought they ought to endeavour, as laymen, to appreciate and understand the clergy, and on their part he was quite sure the clergy were willing to try and understand them. In most parishes the ringers might be a most helpful body of men to the clergy. They were always glad to see the clergy in the tower, and wherever they would, to come and ring with them.

The Bishop of Reading, in acknowledging the toast, wished the Bishop of the Diocese were present to speak for himself. If he were to take change-ringers in hand, even Mr. Washbrook would have to look out for his laurels, because he strongly suspected before very long he would invent a Cuddesdon surprise. He was a wonderfully clever man, and whatever he set his hand to he generally did it to perfection. However, they were not thinking of him as a change-ringer, but as Bishop of the Diocese, and he was sure he would be exceedingly pleased when he told his lordship they drank his health. As to the rest of the clergy, he thought they came out better as change-ringers than most other professional men. He believed Mr. Phillott was the sole representative of architecture who combined in himself that great art with the art of change-ringing, and he was told there was only one member of the legal profession who was a change-ringer. That could not be said of the clergy. There were a good many of the clergy who were change-ringers. He was sorry he had not attained to the position of a change-ringer—he would be a better fellow if he had, no doubt. When he began his career, change-ringing was not quite so fashionable as now, and he thought his great exploit was the ringing of the one bell for chapel service at Winchester. He, however, took the greatest possible interest in change-ringing, and wished with all his heart there were greater interest taken in it by the clergy, because it was perfectly true if a clergyman got round him a good, honest band of ringers, it was a great support to him. So far as his small influence went he would always support bell-ringers, and especially change-ringers, to the best of his ability.

Mr. Washbrook proposed "The Mayor and Corporation," which was acknowledged by Councillor Wheeler.

The Rev. F. E. Robinson submitted the toast of "Prosperity to the Oxford Society of Bell Ringers," remarking that there were reasons why perhaps the toast was properly entrusted to him, because he had known that society probably longer than anybody in the room excepting his old friend Mr. C. Hounslow.

He had the pleasure of knowing not only the present members, and ringing with them, but of knowing and sometimes ringing with the former generation of bell-ringers. There were old Jonathan Pavier, Henry Nunney, Wilkinson, and Carr, and their dear old friend, Arthur Taylor, and he remembered the veneration with which he as an undergraduate used to look upon those men. All they could do, however, was to ring Grandsire Triples, but he could not, and they all knew there were peals recorded in their book at New College and Christ Church in which those whose names he had mentioned bore a conspicuous part. He had enquired as to the old annals of the society, and was told they had not been kept, but it had probably been in existence more than 200 years. So they would imagine the society was founded at or about the time when the celebrated Fabian Stedman flourished at Cambridge. They knew he was the inventor of the method of change-ringing called after his name, which was still the favourite with them, and they could well imagine the rival University thought they would not be behindhand, and so started a society of their own. He remembered also as a young man, the great veneration with which he looked upon Master Nicholls, who was a Kidlington man, and he imagined a member of that society. At all events he composed and conducted the long peal of Grandsire Caters at New College in 1815. He thought there never was a moment when the Oxford Society was more flourishing, because change-ringing was now very much more in vogue, and because a great many more able men gave their time to it than formerly, and because a great deal more had been done in composition than in former years, and last but not least, the principal reason of all was that it had pleased God to raise up amongst them as a member of the society one whom they must all pronounce to be a genius in the way of ringing, Mr. Washbrook, who was a patient and most able composer, a very skilful instructor, and a most excellent ringer and competent conductor. There was no other man he knew that combined all these things in perfect efficiency, and that was the chief reason why the society at the present time was in a most flourishing condition. He congratulated the society upon what it had done, and urged upon the members the necessity of going forward and doing something more.

Mr. P. A. Hind, the Master of the Society, whose name was coupled with the toast, responded, and thanked them very much for the kind way in which they had received the toast. The society, as they knew, had had to contend with many difficulties in the past. He thought the success of the long peal of London Surprise Major which they were now celebrating, showed that by perseverance and unity they had surmounted most of these difficulties, and it gave them reason to hope that in the future they might be more successful still. As one of the younger members of this society, he was very proud of the position he had been called upon to occupy that evening, and he could not sit down without saying how deeply he felt that their success had been due to the great ability and earnestness of their excellent friend and conductor, Mr. Washbrook.

Mr. J. F. Barlow proposed the health of "The Conductor and Ringers of the long peal of London Surprise," remarking that they were all proud of Mr. Washbrook, who had performed the great feat of piloting the Oxford society through this extraordinary peal. He coupled with the toast the names of Mr. Washbrook and the Rev. F. E. Robinson.

Mr. Washbrook responded, and said what he had done had been a labour of love. He had worked almost day and night to accomplish it, and it had always been his aim to show the ringers of the country what the Oxford men were made of. He had heard ringers say "Oh! there are two or three good ringers in Oxford, and that's all." He was sure nobody would be able to say so again. Many of the older ringers who had been capable of performing these things, had unfortunately gone from their midst, but he had been lucky in finding younger ringers who were also good ringers, and who were willing to give up their time in order to practise. They were fortunate in having Mr. Robinson to stimulate them on. If a month or so passed without anything being done, he soon had a post-card to ask the reason why. He knew Mr. Robinson better than any other man alive knew him, and he knew that if it had not been for Mr. Robinson, the long peal would never have been accomplished.

The Rev. F. E. Robinson also responded, and said with reference to this particular peal he thought that being an oldish fellow, and having an occasional moment of forgetfulness, he had better stand out. He told Mrs. Robinson that he thought of standing out, but she said "Fiddlesticks!" You won't!" He then consulted Mr. Washbrook, who replied with a long shake, not only of the head, but of the whole body. So he was obliged to ring; and he was happy to say that he had behaved quite properly, except once, for about six seconds, when Mr. Washbrook put him right with a loud "8-7-8, dodge with the treble, fifths and down." With regard to Mr. Washbrook, he thought there were other fields where he would conquer, and he hoped to hear some day about a long peal of Superlative Surprise, which they hoped to accomplish. Though they had done something, they hoped still to go on and make progress. He was asked to say that they had received letters of apology for inability to attend that dinner from the Duke of Marlborough, Lord Jersey, Lord Valentia, the Mayor of Oxford, the Rev. Hart-Davis, Councillor Dodd, and others. He wished also to say a word of thanks to the bell-ringing paper, which had been established so many years ago, and had done very good work. He had always admired the spirit and courage with which that paper was conducted, and he thought they would do well to support "THE BELL NEWS" to the best of their ability. He thought they owed the Editor of "THE BELL NEWS" a great debt of gratitude; he had been kind enough to advertise the Guild Peal Book all the year; he had taken a great interest in their long peal; and had been kind enough to provide every guest at their dinner with a special "Peal Card" to commemorate the occasion. With regard to himself, so long as they were pleased to elect him, year after year, Master of the Guild, so long he intended to work—yes, and make them work, too.

Mr. C. Hounslow, who received a tremendous ovation on rising, proposed the toast of "Kindred Societies," remarking that only a short time ago they were somewhat antagonistic, but, thanks to the introduction of diocesan guilds and county associations, that feeling was changed into what they might call friendly rivalry, and that he thought meant progress.

The Rev. H. Barter, in acknowledgment, referred to the excellent work which the Oxford Diocesan Guild was doing, and he had no doubt the guilds all over England were doing similar work. One special work was that visits were paid to places where things were rather backward, with the best results. The other day they had an interesting visit to Spelsbury, where there was an immense belfry between 21ft. and 22ft. wide at the very least. There were only six bells, but there was a splendid opportunity for a peal of twelve. He thought it ought to be an object before the Diocesan Guild to have somewhere in the diocese a peal of twelve, and he believed he could not find a better place than Spelsbury. It was within easy reach of a station, and if they got their peal of twelve, it would be easy for the Oxford men to come down, and all the country side would flock to hear them ring Cinques. He saw the Dean and Chapter of Christ Church were the patrons of the parish, and no doubt they would give their help. In conclusion he hoped every branch would extend its number of towers, and every society its number of members.

The Rev. E. E. Robinson proposed "The health of the Bishop of Reading," and thanked him for presiding on that occasion. When a high official of the Church came to preside over them, he thought they might take it to mean that he and the highest authorities of the Church approved of their work. The object of their guild was not only to improve ringing, the order of the belfry, and the status of the ringers, but it was to put the whole subject of scientific change-ringing upon its proper footing, and that was to teach the ringer how to cultivate it in the fear of God, and how to give back to God the gifts He had bestowed upon them.

The Bishop of Reading, in acknowledging the toast, said he had an old-fashioned notion which he always tried to impress upon the guild, and that was to say they ought not in any of these guilds or societies to say that no persons were fitting members, except those who were change-ringers. It would be a great mistake to draw the lines so tight that no one could get into the guild unless he was a change-ringer, for the simple reason that a great many of their towers had not the power to produce change-ringers. With regard to Mr. Barter's twelve-bell suggestion, he was afraid as far as the Chapter of Christ Church was concerned, he could not give him very much encouragement, but if the project was started, they would try and help him as far as they could as individuals.

This concluded the toast list, and the Bishop and some of the other guests who had to catch trains left, but the proceedings were kept up for some time longer, under the chairmanship of the Master, Mr. Hind, the time being agreeably spent in listening to songs, recitations, and performances on the handbells.

WALTHAM ABBEY, ESSEX.

A most enjoyable evening was afforded the members of this Society on Saturday last, when by the kind invitation of John Parnell, Esq., J.P., the whole of the company sat down to dinner at The Cock hotel. The members of the Waltham Abbey Town Band were also invited, and were present. Previous to sitting down to dinner, the ringers assembled in the belfry, and rang two touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples. An excellent dinner was served, at which Mr. W. C. Dymock (bandmaster) presided, and Mr. T. Pallett (Master) occupied the vice-chair. The Chairman, when the cloth had been removed, and after the usual loyal toasts had been honoured, referred in a few words to the origin of the gathering that night, and to the kindly interest taken by Mr. Parnell in the two Societies. "The health of Mr. and Mrs. Parnell" was drunk with musical honours, amid much enthusiasm. The other toasts during the evening were: "The success of the Waltham Abbey Town Band," proposed by Mr. Pallett, and responded to by Mr. Morton; and "Success to the Waltham Abbey Society of Change Ringers," proposed by the Chairman. Mr. F. Carter, in replying to the latter toast, on behalf of the ringers, referred briefly to the kind relations of the ringers with the band, and trusted they would correctly interpret one object of the gathering that evening in endeavouring to cement such friendship. Referring to the bells of the abbey, he said that the Church Authorities had taken up the question of restoration in no half-hearted manner, and they all hoped that their friends the bellhangers would soon be in possession.

During the evening, Messrs. G. Carter, G. Clark, and E. A. Bacon came over from Loughton, and stayed with the company some time. The harmony of the evening consisted of performances by the band, touches of Grandsire Caters and Triples upon handbells, and songs.

At the conclusion, Mr. W. A. Alps proposed a vote of thanks to the chairman and vice-chairman for their offices that evening, which was carried heartily.

The pleasure afforded the ringers and members of the band on this occasion is another example of the generosity of Mr. Parnell, who does much to promote all that is good in Waltham Abbey.

THE HEAVY WOOLLEN DISTRICT ASSOCIATION, YORKSHIRE.

The November meeting of the above took place at The Fleece inn, Batley, being attended by members from Mirfield, Ossett, Earlsheaton, Dewsbury, Batley Carr, Kirkheaton, Liversedge, Sandal, Batley, and Armitage Bridge. In the absence of the president and vice-president, Mr. Moxon occupied the chair. The minutes of the last meeting being read and passed, it was resolved not to alter the yearly meeting date, which will be held as usual on the third Saturday in January, of which further notice will be given. No other important business was brought forward, the remainder of the evening being spent in ringing, which brought a most successful meeting to a close.

SOMEWHAT OUT-OF-COURSE.—As illustrations of how much local newspapers know about bell-ringing, the following are two good examples. A Hastings paper in an account of the half-muffled ringing at Battle (Surrey), for the late Primate, instead of saying that "the whole pull and stand" was rung, had the following:—"A memorial service was held on Friday evening, and for this the usual 'whole, great and grand' was rung sixty-seven times, denoting the age of the deceased." Another Sussex paper, although not making quite such a muddle, stated that "the whole stand and pull" was rung sixty-seven times.

The Bell News &amp; Ringers' Record.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1896.

THE peal records of this week are not only goodly in number, but possess one or two features worthy of notice. First there is the peal of Maximus at St. Paul's Cathedral, wherein for the first time the tenor of this famous ring of twelve has been rung by one man. Such a feat surpasses everything hitherto done so far as weight of metal is concerned, and MR. COCKERILL, who is the College Youths' Secretary, and who rang this more than three-ton bell through the peal, has proved himself a competent successor to the celebrated heavy-end men of preceding generations.

Another performance is the peal of Double Norwich Twelve at Ipswich. This is remarkable as being the first peal of the kind ever rung, as the footnote to the record informs us. If there is no doubt about this statement, it appears strange that some of our enterprising companies should not have done the thing before. The Ipswich gentlemen, however, know what they are about, and generally say what they mean. The Exercise will have to credit them with a grand intellectual performance.

To say that the quality of peals rung year by year is improving, is only uttering an oft-repeated truism. The two performances we are alluding to will, however, help wonderfully to substantiate the assertion.

This week we present our readers with what is held to be an excellent portrait of MR. TROLLOPE, of Norwich, well-known as a frequent contributor. Next week will appear a vignette portrait of MR. DENISON TAYLOR, of Loughborough, and our paper will comprise an extra four pages. We respectfully inform our readers who send photographs of churches, that such photographs must be of the very best quality, otherwise it is impossible to reproduce for them a successful copy. Further illustrations will be announced next week. A late reception of reports compels the omission of several matters, but all these will be found in our next number.

NORTH NOTTS. ASSOCIATION.

(AN ENJOYABLE OUTING BY THE RETFORD AMALGAMATED SOCIETY.)

On Thursday week, six members of the above Society, under the Leadership of Mr. H. Lambert, had a very pleasant afternoon's ringing on the bells of North Wheatley Church. Nov. 19th, being the re-opening day, the ringers received a very cordial invitation by the Vicar, Rev. C. T. B. Chamberlain, to ring on the occasion. Arriving by conveyance a little after one o'clock they made for the vicarage, and were heartily welcomed by the Vicar, who very courteously showed them through the newly restored church, explaining the various meaning of many wonderful antiquities connected therewith. At 1.40 an inspection of the bells took place, all being of opinion that they were well hung on the latest improved principles. They were next raised in peal and a 720 of Kent Treble Bob was safely got through in 26 minutes by the following:—H. Haigh, 1; C. Crawford, 2; G. Clark, 3; H. Lambert, conductor, 4; H. Blagg, 5; J. White, 6. This 720 was rung prior to afternoon service. On the arrival and departure of the Bishop of Southwell, the bells were fired three times in nine volleys each, and previous to the public tea, which was held in the schoolroom, and which occupied four sittings, a 720 of Oxford Treble Bob in 26 minutes, conducted by H. Blagg, the ringers standing the same as in the Kent method. This 720 was rung in order that the people congregated together might have the pleasure of listening attentively and forming their opinion with regard to the quality of tone the bells possessed. Several other musical touches were rung in different methods before and after service, conducted by H. Haigh, after which the bells were lowered in peal and the ringers adjourned to Timothy Hall Flint's, Plough Inn, to partake of a hot supper, and refreshments very generously supplied by the Rev. C. T. B. Chamberlain.

After the removal of the cloth, Mr. White proposed and Mr. Lambert seconded that the best thanks of the ringers be accorded to the Rev. C. T. B. Chamberlain and his parishioners for their kindness and hospitality. Mr. White remarked that they had had a hearty welcome, and it was a pleasure to have the honour conferred upon them to re-open the bells. The resolution was unanimously carried. The remainder of the evening was spent in harmony, several of the ringers and company present contributing some excellent songs.

The ringers afterwards rode home in Mr. Crawford's conveyance, arriving at Retford about 10.30 p.m., the beautiful night air and ride home in the moonlight being thoroughly enjoyed by all.

It should be mentioned that everything in the tower is new, with the exception of the old five bells, the new treble being cast from two old bells taken from South Wheatley church. The easy go of the bells leave nothing to be desired, except that the old clappers are much too heavy, in fact heavy enough to strike 30 cwt. bells; and the ringing-chamber is also too near the bells, the sound being almost deafening to the ringers, several of whom went round the village begging cotton wool to stuff in their ears to deaden the sound. This nuisance may easily be remedied by a thick plastered ceiling being put in between the ringing chamber and the floor above, about 18 inches apart. The work of re-hanging the bells has been done by Messrs. Thomas Mallaby and Son, of Masham, Yorks.

It is to be sincerely hoped, now the bells are in good going order, that the young men of the village will rally round their good Vicar, and form a company of ringers determined to make good progress in the Art of change-ringing, and ere the first anniversary of their peal of six bells comes round in 1897, may they be competent to ring their first 720 changes, and thus compete with brother ringers in North Notts. By joining the North Notts. Association the members will give them every encouragement, and one more tower will be added, and the membership considerably increased.

HANDBELL GIFT.—Those who have kept the coupons for the gift of handbells will not forget that they must reach our office on Monday week, the 14th instant. They should be posted on the Saturday evening previous, in order to arrive by the first post on the Monday following.

MR. EDMUND DENISON TAYLOR, OF LOUGHBOROUGH.

[Vide Portrait.]

MR. E. DENISON TAYLOR is the fourth son of Mr. John William Taylor, sen., bellfounder. He was born at Loughborough on April 30th, 1864, and is now therefore in his thirty-third year. He was educated at Loughborough Grammar School, and at the conclusion of his school days he served a two years' apprenticeship in a Leicester iron foundry. At the present time he is associated with the business of the Loughborough firm, and takes an active part therein. We believe with the exception of his elder brother—Mr. John W. Taylor, jun.—MR. DENISON TAYLOR is the only one among the six sons of Mr. Taylor, sen., who at present is concerned in the work of bell-founding, and the same holds good with regard to bell-ringing.

MR. DENISON TAYLOR has rung about twenty peals, comprising Grandsire Triples and Caters, Stedman Caters and Treble Bob Major. His first peal—Grandsire Triples—was rung at Coleorton in Leicestershire, in 1885, conducted by his brother, in which Mr. Percival Heywood took part.

In matters musical he is something of an authority, for he is conductor of the local amateur orchestra, and is a performer on the 'cello.

PRACTICAL HINTS TO YOUNG CONDUCTORS AND COMPOSERS.

CHAPTER X.

In our last we succeeded in producing a touch of 882 changes containing the twelve 7 4s. If this touch is examined, the last 7 4 in the part will be found to be 1 3 5 6 2 7 4. From that the part-end 1354267 is provided by calling the 4th into the hunt, and out at three leads. But from this last 7 4, viz.: 1356274, we can obtain some further results. A plain lead from this would be 1 3 2 5 4 6 7.

This is a 6 7. If we get three more of them, and can at the last one have the 4th at home, we shall have a part-end with 4 6 7 at home, and the touch will possess the twelve 6-7s as well as the twelve 7 4s. Notice then, this plain lead, which is a 6 7. As I pointed out previously we can get another 6 7 every fourth lead, and that there are three plans of doing this. As they may have escaped the memories of some of my pupils, I give them again:—

No. 1.	No. 2.	No. 3.
1325467	1325467	1325467
1342756	B 1743625	1342756
1374625	B 1567243	B 1673542
1367542	1526374	B 1256473
B 1253467	1532467	1245367

Now which of these plans shall we take? We must take No. 3, for the very reason that we have to move the 4th, which the others will not allow us to do. Here it is then from the last 7 4:—

1 3 5 6 2 7 4

1 3 2 5 4 6 7

B

1 6 7 3 5 4 2

B

1 2 5 6 4 7 3

1 2 4 5 3 6 7

Here is the second 6 7 with the 4th removed. Now, using plan No. 1, i.e., calling a bob at the fourth lead, we obtain 1452467; again the same plan, and we get the fourth 6 7, thus, 1524367; having the desired three bells at home. This gives an exact quarter-peal with the twelve 6 7s, with the Queen's and Tittums changes.

By the same means, plenty of touches can be produced with the twelve 4 6s. Thus a plain lead from rounds is 1253746; three more 4 6s can be got from this in the same way, care being taken to resort in the first instance to plan No. 3, so as to remove the 7th.

We have been dealing with the production of the twelve 7 4s, 6 7s and 4 6s. You all know that this is only after the number possible. There are twenty-four of each, half of them being in-course, the other half out-of-course. It is the former we have been working upon. The other twelve must be got up at hand-stroke, because the hand-strokes are out of course. Therefore, if we wanted such a thing as the twenty-four 6 7s, one half of them would be 7 6 at back-stroke, the other half the right way. But by the discriminate use of singles they can all be had the right way as in that popular quarter-peal known as "the Editor's," from which several variations are in existence. If any of you know this composition, I may state that by letting a plain lead run from the round, and calling in the same way a quarter-peal, the twenty-four 4 6s all the right way can be produced. Those who aspire to do something new, may direct their energies to a quarter-peal having all the 7 4s the right way, for such a thing has not yet been published.

We can now leave this part of our subject. Touches may be obtained in five parts, which will require one bell at home at the part-end. If eighteen leads are pricked out with only one bell at home at the last one, that may be the first part-end (to be four times repeated) of a quarter-peal, only it will be of very little value as a musical composition, and it may not be true. Young composers who may be burning to give their productions to the world, should prove them first. Write down the parts of every treble lead, and see if they are all different. ALEPH.

LECTURE ON CHURCH BELLS BY MR. J. R. JERRAM.

At St. Edmund's Schoolroom, Salisbury, on a recent Monday evening, in connection with this parish branch of the Diocesan Communicants' Guild, a large audience assembled and were treated to a most interesting lecture by Mr. J. R. Jerram. His subject was "Church Bells, their origin, history, and use," and the fact that it was dealt with in a practical way by one who knows as much about church bells and bell ringing as anybody in the district, made the lecture of additional value. The interest was also enhanced by the local applications which Mr. Jerram gave to his subject. In commencing, the lecturer said that although they found bells mentioned in Old Testament history, such as those attached to the High Priest's vestments, and horse bells mentioned by Zechariah, those instruments could hardly be called bells in the strict sense of the word as they understood the term at present. They were mere rattles made of sheet metal. Bells of this description were used for religious purposes at a much later date, and many had been dug up in this country. They varied in height from three inches to eighteen inches, and were considerably less in diameter than they were in height. They were generally square or oblong at the mouth with the corners rounded off, and were somewhat smaller at the crown than at the base. In fact they were simply pieces of sheet metal bent into shape and rivetted together, like the older form of sheep bells. He did not propose to consider these articles further, but would pass on to legitimate bells of cast metal. Church bells were said to have been first introduced by Paulinus, Bishop of Nola, in Campania, about A.D. 400. Hence the Latin terms "Nola" and "Campana" for a church bell, as opposed to "Tinnabulum," a little bell, or rattle, such as he had spoken of before. This story of Paulinus had, however, been refuted, and a writer in the Saturday Review some years ago remarked:—

And so 'twill be when we are gone,
This baseless tale will still ring on,
And cribsters yet unborn will tell
How Pauline introduced the bell.

However this may be, a bell of some sort was mentioned by Bede as being used in England in A.D. 680. But they had no distinct record of any bell-foundry in England much before the 13th century. The earliest known English bell-founder was John de Lenne (Lynn) 1299; and one John of Gloucester was mentioned in 1310. It was generally supposed that the monks carried on bell-founding in the monasteries in early times, and probably this was correct. Some of the earliest bells cast in the 14th century were what were called alphabet bells, that is, they simply had letters of the alphabet (Lombardic capitals) for inscriptions, usually from A to G inclusive, but sometimes taking in the whole alphabet. Next to these they found bells inscribed with the name of a saint also in Lombardic capitals, such as Johannes, Maria, and so on. Then they had the Ave Maria bells; the older ones simply inscribed Ave Maria. Later, the words "gracia plena" were added, and sometimes the whole salutation of the Angel Gabriel, "Ave Maria gracia plena Dominus tecum." About this date they found one or two with "Hall Mary full of grace" in English, and one of which he had a rubbing, as "Hal Mari ful of gras." This was from the treble bell at Greywell, Hampshire. They also found the names of saints with the word "sanctus" added, but in those cases the inscription was generally in the vocative, such as "Sancte Petre," "Sancta Maria," "Sancte Jacobe," and so on. A little later they found the words "ora pro nobis" added. About this date the inscriptions began to be put in "black letter" with "Lombardic capital," in preference to all "Lombardic capitals" as before. In the 15th century the founders began to use Latin hexameters for inscriptions such as "In multis annis resonet campana Johannes," "Quesumus Andrea famulorum suscipe vota," "Sum Rosa pulsata Mundi Maria vocata," and so on. One bell about this date boldly asserted "Me melior vere non est campana sub ore." Time would fall him to mention the endless devices, initial crosses, and other ornaments used by the various founders in their inscriptions. In the 16th century bells began to be frequently cast with English inscriptions. About this time a foundry was established in Salisbury by John Wallis, who cast bells in this district from 1580 to 1636. He was followed by John Danton to 1640, who helped him in his business during the latter part of his life; and later still, the Purdue family, William, Roger and Thomas, who carried on business here and at Bristol. In conjunction with William Purdue they found the name of Nathaniel Bolter. These two cast the original six bells at St. Edmund's, four of which still remained. About this time they found the name of John Lett on many bells in this neighbourhood. John Wallis commenced business in Culver Street, about 1580, and cast many bells all over the district. He re-cast the tenor at St. Edmund's, Salisbury, in 1603. In 1606 he was elected churchwarden of St. Edmund's, and during his term of office he recast the second and fifth bells there, also the bell on the top of the old tower. The fifth bell, however, seemed to have proved a failure, for in the accounts for the year ending Easter, 1609, they found that Wallis recast it again with more than a hundredweight and a half more metal. He seems to have been paid only 28s. for this second recasting, and 13s. 8d. for hanging the bell, and that was not paid till the following year. John Danton seems to have worked with Wallis during the latter part of his life, and he cast St. Martin's tenor in 1624. Wallis died in 1624 and was buried in St. Edmund's church; but the business seems to have been carried on in his name up to 1636. William Purdue commenced business about this time, and with Nathaniel Bolter cast many bells in the district, St. Edmund's among the number. He died at Limerick, and was buried in the Cathedral there in 1673. His memorial stone has this inscription:—

Here a bell-founder, honest and true,
Until the Resurrection lies Purdue.
WILLIAM PURDUE obitt 111*
Xbris Ao Dui MDCLXXIII.

His brother Thomas, of Bristol, died in 1711, aged 90 years, and was buried at Clossworth, Somerset, with a somewhat similar inscription. John Wallis used English inscriptions on his bells. They were generally short mottoes, such as "Give thanks to God," "Fear God," "Praise the Lord," "Hope well," and on some of his bells we find "Be meek and lowly to hear the word of God." These inscriptions were generally in large, rude capitals. Wallis' successors rarely attempted anything beyond the founder's name or initials and the names of the incumbent and churchwardens. The foundry finally wound up with Clement and John Tozier about the year 1730. There was also a foundry at Aldbourne in North Wilts, in the last century, carried on by Corrs and afterwards by Wells. At the request of the Rector, Mr. Jerram added a few words on change-ringing. He remarked that it was not his intention to give an essay on ringing, as that would take too long. He would merely say that round ringing (common in most of the village churches about here) simply consisted of ringing the bells one after the other from treble to tenor, with a few variations known as call changes, which were repeated over and over again until the conductor choose to call something else. That style of ringing required but little skill when once the management of the bell was mastered. In scientific change-ringing the bells changed their position at every round, both back and hand stroke, no bell moving more than one place at a time either forward or backward. There were various methods, such as Grandsire, Plain Bob, Treble Bob, Stedman, etc. But the changes in all were determined by scientific rules of permutation, which it would be impossible for him to explain out of a belfry. Mr. Jerram also gave some practical information on the subject of church bell-hanging, illustrating his remarks by a fair-sized model. He pointed out that the average weight of tenors of peals from five to twelve in number varied considerably. Perhaps from 14 to 20 cwt. might be considered a fair range for tenors in a peal of eight. He remarked that there was a tradition, founded on error, that the bells now in St. Thomas' church tower were once in the old Cathedral campanile. That, however, was absurd, as five out of the eight bells were cracked years before the campanile was pulled down. The sixth bell of the original peal was removed to the central tower of the Cathedral, where it was now used as service and clock bell. The other seven were sold to Robert Wells, bell-founder of Aldbourne, in 1793. During the progress of the lecture Mr. Jerram passed round tracings of rubbings he had made of quaint inscriptions on various bells. The Rector, who presided, said he was sure they had all listened to Mr. Jerram with the greatest interest and pleasure. At intervals musical selections were given.

UNVEILING OF A PEAL TABLET AT HEPTONSTALL, YORKSHIRE.

Saturday, November 28th, will always be regarded as a red-letter day in the annals of the Heptonstall Society, for that date saw the unveiling of a beautiful peal-tablet in the parish church belfry, and the presentation of a set of thirty-seven handbells to the Vicar and churchwardens. Invitations had been issued to all the past ringers and the church officials, and were accepted by almost all, so a goodly muster was present at the opening touch, which was rung at 3.0 p.m. by a mixed band of present and past ringers. This preliminary touch, over the Vicar, after a short speech, in which he alluded to the desirability of augmenting the present rather unmelodious ring of six to a full octave, unveiled the tablet, which records two 5040s of Minor in seven methods, rung by the local company in 1884 and 1895. The tablet, which is splendidly executed in black marble and gilt engraved letters, and reflects great credit on the artistic taste and workmanship of its designer, Mr. W. Ingham, met with universal admiration, and will be a great ornament to the belfry. Tea was partaken of by all present at the ceremony at 5 o'clock at The Cross inn, and was well worthy of Mrs. Sagar's reputation as a caterer. After tea G. Sutcliffe, Esq., in the name of the ringers, handed over to the Vicar and churchwardens a set of thirty-seven handbells, bought from subscriptions collected by the ringers. A pleasant social evening was afterwards spent in the discussion of various church affairs, and of old times and customs, and it is hoped that these enjoyable reunions of churchworkers will in future become more frequent, as they form a bond of union and a stimulus to further progress in the noble field, to which all present had devoted themselves.

THE SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

CENTRAL DIVISION.—A Quarterly Meeting of this Division was held at Crawley, on Saturday, November 25th, and proved a very successful and representative gathering of ringers in the district, twenty-three putting in an appearance, including Mr. G. Walder, jun., of Bolney; A. and H. Tomsett (Lingfield); I. G. Attwater (Cuckfield); J. and A. Gasson and C. Holman (Balcombe); F. W. Rice (Worth); E. Butler (St. Nicholas' Brighton); E. C. Merritt and G. Williams, Divisional Secretary, (St. Peter's, Brighton); W. Edwards, J. Kenward and T. Sparks (Horley); and the whole of the local band. An excellent tea was provided at the coffee tavern close to the church. Seventeen members sitting down. A short business meeting was held afterwards, Mr. G. Walder, jun. (in the absence of the Master) being voted to the chair. Three new members were elected: Mr. G. Wood to the Crawley band, Mr. A. Steadman and Mr. J. Hambrook to the Southover, Lewes, band, the latter gentleman being one of the churchwardens of Southover church. A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Rector of Crawley (the Rev. J. B. Lennard) for granting the use of the bells. An adjournment was then made to the tower, where touches of Grandsire, Stedman, Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Superlative Surprise were brought round during the evening.

GOSBERTON, LINCOLNSHIRE.

On Thursday, November 26th, the re-opening and dedication of New treble took place, the preacher on the occasion being the Rev. Canon Disbrowe, rector of Benington. The work has been done by Mr. Charles Carr, of Smethwick, and the "go" of the bells is splendid. 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung for the re-opening in 31 mins. J. S. Wright, 1; G. Skeef, 2; R. Mackman, 3; E. Jarvis, 4; R. Creasey (conductor) 5; G. Ladd, 6. Tenor 21 cwt. in E flat. G. Ladd hails from Pinchbeck; the rest from Spalding.

EASTBOURNE (Sussex).—On Saturday November 28th, at Christ church, after an unsuccessful attempt for a peal, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, in 47 mins. Composed by John Howes, and published in "THE BELL NEWS" August 1st, 1896. E. Beal, 1; A. Piper, 2; G. Penfold, 3; W. Lawrence, 4; H. Vernon, 5; E. Brant, 6; T. Willoughby (conductor), 7; J. Bray, jun., 8. This is the first quarter-peal by ringers of 1, 3, 6 and 8, who hail from Pevensy; the rest from Eastbourne.

THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

NEWCHURCH BRANCH.—The annual dinner and meeting of this branch was held at Newchurch on Saturday, November 28th, when upwards of fifty members sat down to an excellent dinner, provided by Mr. Haworth, of the Blue Bell hotel, to whom great praise is due, for the admirable way in which he catered for the company. After dinner the evening was spent in a pleasant and convivial manner, Mr. Henry Fielding, of Haslingden, being voted to the chair. The toast of "Her Majesty the Queen" having been loyally and heartily given, songs were rendered by Messrs. W. Taylor, R. Wilson, James Taylor, Sam Lord, Tom Wallwork, and J. B. Taylor.

The toast of "Our Church and the Association" was given by Mr. Z. Lord, of Bacup, and was heartily responded to by the rest of the members, after which the local band of handbell ringers gave a selection, which was highly appreciated by all.

Mr. Banks followed, and spoke of the success which had attended the Association—especially the Rossendale branch, of which he was proud to call himself a member.

Mr. S. Lord and O. Eastwood spoke in similar terms.

Songs were given by Messrs. Sam Lord, L. Taylor, J. Wright, J. H. Hargreaves, and J. W. Haworth.

The next toast, "The Success of all Change-ringers," was proposed by Mr. James Pickup, the oldest ringer in the Rossendale branch, and the oldest in the association, with the wish that they would persevere in their work. The speech of the veteran member was very suitably followed by a selection on the handbells, and songs were given by Messrs. Sam Lord, J. W. Haworth, R. Wilson and Henry Fielding, and Mr. Banks gave a reading from Shakespeare.

Mr. T. H. Barnes, of Haslingden, then proposed "The Health of the Host and Hostess," which was responded to by Mr. Haworth.

A vote of thanks to the chairman concluded a most enjoyable and pleasant evening, each one going home with the thought that the meeting had passed off to the satisfaction and benefit of all present.

SHEFFIELD RINGERS AT CHESTERFIELD.

Two or three weeks ago the idea was mooted among the parish church company of Sheffield of going to Chesterfield to attempt a peal of Treble Ten; and on Sunday, November 29th, ten members announced their readiness. The use of the bells were applied for and readily granted, and on Saturday, December 5th, nine men turned up at the station at 2.30, when something like consternation was caused by the announcement that Mr. G. Holmes had sent at the last moment to say he could not go. However, it was resolved to make the journey on the chance of getting a Chesterfield ringer to make up the band. On arriving at our destination we were met by Messrs. Mee and Goodwin, the latter, on learning our dilemma at once went "into the hunt" after Mr. James Hunt. He quickly succeeded in his quest, and brought Mr. Hunt up into the tower, where he proved himself an efficient substitute, a good peal of Treble Bob Royal being brought round at 7 o'clock, which is recorded in its proper place. This is the first peal rung on the bells since they were rehung, and the "go" of them was everything that could be desired. After a substantial tea a social hour was spent with our Chesterfield friends, with a course of Caters on the hand bells and two or three songs, etc. Some amusement was caused by the attempts of two members to oust each other out of the arm-chair. But 9 o'clock came all too soon, and tracks were made for the station, where two of the band managed to arrive too late, and so were left behind. This being no uncommon occurrence with one of them, not much surprise was felt. The rest of us arrived safely in Sheffield very well satisfied with the afternoon's outing. The company take this opportunity of thanking the Vicar for the use of the bells, and the ringers, especially Messrs. Mee, Goodwin, and Toplis, for having everything in readiness, and Mr. James Hunt for making up the band.

THE OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD PEAL-BOOK.—A RECORD of Five Hundred and Twenty Peals rung by this Guild. Paper covers, 1s. 2d.; cloth do., 1s. 8d.—Blackwell, Reading; or the Hon. Sec. of the Guild—the Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis, Dunsden Vicarage, Reading.

THE WINCHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

The above Society held a Quarterly Meeting at Horsell, near Woking, on Saturday, December 5th. The bells (6) were raised soon after 2.0 p.m. and kept going till 3.30, when the meeting took place in the school-room. Members of the Society attended from Gosport, Fareham, Basingstoke, Bagshot, Ewhurst, Shere, Guildford, Hursley, Eastleigh, Portsea, Woolston, Hawley, Yateley, and Reading. The minutes of the last quarterly meeting were read and confirmed. The master, Rev. R. C. M. Harvey, who presided, decided that an application for balance of travelling expenses incurred at the Annual Festival, should be referred to the next general annual meeting; all present concurred with this decision. Nineteen members were elected, viz:—Five compounding, one Honorary, thirteen Performing. The votes for four representatives to serve upon the Central Council were then counted, with the following result:—Rev. R. C. M. Harvey (Eastleigh) 240; Mr. H. White (Basingstoke) 216; Rev. C. E. Matthews, Hon. Sec. (Hursley) 194; Mr. J. W. Whiting (Fareham) 191; Mr. G. Williams, (Brighton) 80; Mr. J. Hewett, (Gosport) 73; Rev. F. Whytey, (Alton) 64. The first four were elected to serve. Petersfield was chosen for the next Quarterly meeting, and the date fixed for February 20th, 1897. Votes of thanks were accorded to the master, and to the Rev. W. H. Turle, Vicar of Horsell, for the use of the bells and school-room. At the conclusion of the meeting, some members walked over to Chobham (8) for a ring, where the Vicar, Rev. H. S. Acworth, always makes ringers welcome.

THE RECENT PEAL OF DOUBLE NORWICH COURT MAXIMUS AT IPSWICH.

Mr. W. L. Catchpole asks us to insert the following note concerning this performance:—

"On November 30th, 1886, a week after the company rang their first peal of Double Norwich Court Royal, an attempt was made at Maximus with the hand-bells, single handed, three leads being the result of one evening's practice. The next week on the tower bells, four leads; then the matter was buried for a time, but revived in the latter part of 1888, when the first course was rung. The first three courses were not obtained until October 30th, 1893, from which time the company began to hope. An attempt was made for a half-peal, ringing 2400 in 1 hr. 45 mins. on January 23rd, 1894; first attempt at peals, February 9th, with two more attempts during that year. In 1895 five attempts, 1 hr. 5 mins., the best; in 1896, two attempts on April 6th and May 10th, being so poor as to almost dishearten us. On November 21st we met and rang for 1 hr. and 42 mins. very fairly, and resolved to meet every week until we got the peal—not expecting it at the very next meeting—when we rang an excellent peal, as was seen in last week's ringing column, being the twelfth attempt. The Society has now succeeded in ringing upon eight, ten and twelve bells all the following methods:—Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, and Double Norwich Court Bob, trusting that they will add others to the list."

THE ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS.

At the meeting held on Tuesday, December 1st, the Auditors presented the balance-sheet for the past year, which was accepted. The following is a copy:—

IN HONOUR OF AN OLD NORFOLK BELL-RINGER.

On Friday evening week a muffled peal, consisting of 1440 changes, was rung upon Quidenham church bells as a last tribute of respect to the late Mr. George Edwards. Deceased was a native of Kenninghall, and was buried there on Wednesday week. The following were the company:—W. Kensley, 1; J. Sage, 2; G. Haglett, 3; W. H. Ringer (Kenninghall), 4; R. Haglett, 5; J. Woods (conductor), 6; The deceased had taken part in some record ringing, and was one of the company who rang 10,176 changes in St. Mary's, Kenninghall, on the 14th March, 1871. Four of these ringers have died. A painted tablet is still to be seen in St. Mary's tower recording this extraordinary event, and the following lines were written and published by the deceased at the time:—

Ye lovers of ringing come listen awhile,
I will sing you a song that will cause you to smile;
That's all about ringing, and that you shall hear,
And as near as I can the truth I'll declare.

In the year eighteen hundred and seventy-one,
On the fourteenth of March a long peal was rung;
In the tower of St. Mary's in Kenninghall town,
On eight pretty bells as there need to be found.

Ten thousand one hundred and seventy-six,
Was the number of changes to ring they did fix;
And like heroes in battle, each man in his rank,
And the bells they did ring as if turned by a crank.

Will Oxer, the treble, no better could find,
To set them off well, and all in right time;
He's a labourer, a porter, if I don't mistake,
He works a great deal amongst corn, coal, and cake.

Tom Oxer, second, with his heart fully bent
For to ring a good peal, that was his intent;
He belongs to the company upon the railway,
His duty he does both by night and by day.

John Murton, the third, so in earnest was he,
To ring a good peal if you'll believe me;
He's a blacksmith or whitesmith, what else I don't know,
But he gets his living by the sweat of his brow.

John Woods rang the fourth without any shoes,
Lest in standing so long they should pinch his toes;
He's a labourer, porter, and does all sorts of work,
To maintain his large family he works like a Turk.

James Rudd rang the fifth, a whitesmith of Diss town,
Such a man for change-ringing could scarcely be found;
The ladies on him some ribbons did bestow,
Sent him home in bright colours Diss people to show.

Robert Hutton, the 6th, the truth I will tell,
Had a bad bell to ring, yet he did ring her well;
He's a brickmaker by trade, and can make quick and well,
Yet his greatest delight is in ringing a bell.

George Edwards, the seventh, did try for to ring,
And likewise this song he composed for to sing;
Though simple, yet true, let it not be forgot,
Till we in the ground shall moulder and rot.

J. Mordey, the tenor, who had a bad task,
For he called all the bobs from the first to the last;
He's a gardener by trade, but a strong muscled man,
And his master for ringing do you find if you can.

Oxford Treble Bob was the method they rung,
For six hours and a half before they had done;
They rang the peal through, and fired the bells down,
And surprised the people that lived all around.

So now I conclude and finish my tale,
Since I have told you so much about the long peal;
It is recorded by one, a man of great fame,
A painter of Diss—Ambrose Cobb is his name.

HARTFORD, HUNTINGDON.

Mr. H. Bond, bell-hanger, of Burford, Oxon, has received the following testimonial for work done at the above place:—

"The bells of Hartford church have recently been rehung in a new steel frame, with the latest improved fittings, and the Ellacombe chiming hammers, and I am pleased to say that the work has been carried out by Mr. H. Bond, senr., bellfounder, Burford, Oxon, and has given great satisfaction, and the 'go' of the bells is all that can be desired.
GEOFFREY WARBURTON, Churchwarden."

Obituary.

EDWARD HYDER, OF ALDINGTON, KENT.

We have to record the death of the above, one of the very oldest ringers in Kent. He was born at Mersham in Kent, on June 24th, 1812, and died at Willesborough Union, November 14th, 1896, being of the good old age of eighty-four years. Deceased commenced his ringing career at St. Martin's, Aldington, November 2nd, 1831 (under Mr. John Seeley, who I believe was a pupil of Richard Hills of Lympe, grandfather of the present Mr. N. N. Hills of St. Albans, Herts. [The said R. Hills rang in most of the peals of 5000 in this neighbourhood early in the present century, and died, I believe, in 1869 and was buried close to the north side of Cheriton church, in Kent. John Seeley died May 21st, 1880, age eighty-five years]. Edward Hyder was a regular ringer at Aldington until 1894, for the long space of sixty-three years. He was buried at Aldington on Friday, November 20th, and the Aldington ringers rung a muffled peal as a last mark of respect to his memory at St. Martin's church. The present William Hyder is the only son of the above, and four daughters are also left. The deceased had not kept any record of peals to my knowledge. He had been a very great friend of mine since 1877, when I commenced my ringing career, but I understood that he rung two or three 5000s of Bob Major, at Hythe, about 1845; and 6720 Bob Major about this time at the same place, which is recorded on a tablet; also 6720 Bob Major at Folkestone, Kent, in over four hours, on the old peal, tenor twenty-four cwt., he ringing the 7th; also the 13,440 Bob Major, at Hythe, on May, 4th, 1846, he ringing the 7th. He had to get a substitute to take his place at plough on this last occasion, and walked thirteen miles and rung 13,000 on this day, Hythe being a little over six miles from Aldington. This peal took 7 hrs. 55 mins., commencing at seven o'clock in the morning. Thomas Post of Aldington, who rung the tenor, 19 cwt., in this peal, is the only survivor of the band, his age being nearly seventy-nine years, and he resides at Brook, near Ashford. The band I believe died in the following order:—15£2437, and the 8th still living behind. The deceased also rung the 5th in 5600 Kent Treble Bob Major at Ashford, recorded in 1848, and the 7th in 5760 Bob Major at Frittenden, in December, 1879, also seven 720s Bob Minor at Aldington, January 14th, 1882, he ringing the 5th and conducting, in 3 hrs. 18 mins.; also April 19th, 1884 another performance of the same length in 3 hrs. 13 mins., he ringing the 4th in this; and the writer also took part in both the above. E. Hyder also assisted in opening the bells of St. Stephen, Hackington, Canterbury, when two trebles were added to make eight, in 1845. I think on this occasion four of the Aldington band assisted the Hythe ringers, journeying by way of Elham, on the opening day, and having a bit of practice for a particular 1008. After a short trial at St. Stephen's, which was allowed, they started into a fresh 1008 altogether, and Hythe, though the last, was not least of the four companies, for they won the first prize, viz., a pair of white kid gloves for each man. Bob Major was the method rung; Edward Hyde had also rang Oxford Treble Bob, Double Court, and Aldington Pleasure Minor, which he composed in 1876. He was parish clerk of Aldington from 1882 to 1894, when he got too helpless to do duty any longer. He was a good hand-bell ringer in his time, and had taught a great many ringers. Myself and four brothers had our chief instruction from him. He was head ringer at Aldington nearly all the sixty-three years and he would put almost anything aside to have a ring. He joined the Kent Association at its commencement in 1880. PHILIP HODGKIN.

GEORGE EDWARDS, OF KENNINGHALL.

It is also our painful duty to have to record the death of the above-named ringer, which took place on Saturday, the 21st November. He was one of the oldest ringers belonging to the Kenninghall Company, and it is just upon sixty years since he began his ringing with the old company at the above place, but it was many years before he became the ringer he was, for the last forty years as they used to ring only Bob Major. About the year 1860 he joined the young company and kept with them until some of them left and the older ones were taken away by death. He took part in thirty-five peals, the most noteworthy being a 10,176 of Oxford Treble Bob Major; 10080 of Bob Major and 7360 Oxford Treble Bob Major; thirty-five peals in all, thus:—Grandsire Triples, 2; Bob Major, 3; Oxford Treble Bob Major, 15; Kent Treble Bob Major, 15. On Friday, the 27th, the Quidenham Company rung with the bells deeply muffled, as a mark of respect, 1440 Bob Minor—W. Kensley, 1; J. Sage, 2; G. Haylett, 3; W. Ringer, 4; R. Haylett, 5; J. Woods (conductor), 6. The deceased assisted to ring the opening 720 on these bells on June 13th, 1891. He was eighty one years of age.

JOHN LOMAS, OF SHEFFIELD.

On Wednesday, November 25th, the remains of the late Mr. John Lomas, who died on November 23rd, were interred at Ecclesal church, Sheffield. He was the oldest ringer in Sheffield, and was well-known in ringing circles throughout Yorkshire and neighbouring counties. He took part in nearly forty peals, consisting of Grandsire, Plain Bob, Stedman, Treble Bob and Hudson's New Delight, seventeen of which he conducted, including a peal of Stedman Caters at Chesterfield (being the first peal of Stedman in the county of Derby), which he composed and conducted. He conducted the first peal of Grandsire Cinques rung at Sheffield on the augmented peal of twelve. He also rung in the first peal of Treble Bob in the county of Lincoln, which was rung at Gainsborough in 1848. In 1843 he emigrated to America, and rung Grandsire Triples at Philadelphia. Trade having revived, he returned home and joined the parish church company, having been a respected member nearly fifty years, the last time he rung being for the re-election of the Duke of Norfolk as the Mayor of Sheffield, November 9th. The bearers were members of the parish church company, and rung a course of Grandsire Triples over his grave. In the evening muffled touches were rung at the parish church (including 660 Grandsire Cinques), and on Friday a half-muffled peal of 5120 of Kent Treble Bob Major. He was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, the Yorkshire Association, and president of the St. Peter's Amalgamated Society of Change-ringers. He was 74 years of age, and greatly respected by all who knew him.

Correspondence.

While allowing the utmost freedom for the expression of opinion, it must never be considered that we are in any way bound to statements made by correspondents.

To the Editor of "THE BELL NEWS AND RINGERS' RECORD."

DOUBLE NORWICH MAXIMUS.

SIR,—Whilst congratulating the Ipswich Company upon their splendid achievement of November 28th, might I ask the sender of the report what evidence has come to light, since the articles by Mr. Heywood on the subject, to warrant the foot-note "First peal of Maximus rung in the method." In "THE BELL NEWS" of January 12th, 1889, Mr. Catchpole—on behalf of his society—raises the question, and asks "some of the leading ringers to go into the matter and let the Exercise know their opinions." A letter from the Rev. H. E. Bulwer appears in the next issue, stating as his individual opinion that it was the Double method, and also points out that the wording on the board is a better description of the Double method than the single. On January 26th and four succeeding numbers appear the exhaustive enquiry by Mr. Heywood. This gentleman threshes the whole matter out both theoretically and with the aid of all existing evidence, and sums up the whole in the words "an overwhelming preponderance of evidence points to its being the Double method." Nothing further has appeared on the subject since Mr. Heywood's concluding paper, until the foot-note to the Ipswich peals which, in my opinion, is an insult to Mr. Heywood, and certainly detracts from the high reputation for courteousness the Ipswich men have borne in the past.

NORWICENCIAN.

MR. BULWER'S ARTICLE IN The Windsor Magazine.

SIR,—In the article on "Bell Ringers and Ringing" written by me for The Windsor Magazine, and just published in the Christmas number of that periodical, the following sentence appears on page 119:—"The wood is well-seasoned oak, and a good many of the finest frames have come from Sussex." This statement is not only out of place where it appears, but is to my thinking sheer nonsense; and I beg to say that it was not written by me, and did not appear in the printed proof of the article as corrected by me. How, why, and by whom it was interpolated I know not, and I can only request such of your readers as become possessed of a copy, to kindly cross it out.

H. EARLE BULWER.

AN APOLOGY.

SIR,—I must apologise to my friend Mr. Searle for the mistake I made in your issue of November 28th. It was purely my fault, putting it down naturally as the first peal by all excepting the conductor, because it was the first peal rang in Brighton for fifty years. But there is no Brighton ringer who can get away from the fact that Mr. Jay was the mainstay of Brighton ringing at that time. As regards the peal at Southover, Lewes, Mr. Jay informs me that it was a ten-part peal rung there, Mr. Brooks being totally unable to call the Original.

THE NORTH NOTTS. ASSOCIATION.

The quarterly meeting of this Association was held at Shireoaks on Saturday, November 28th, when there was a good muster of members, the village being conveniently situated on the M.S.L. railway, on which it has a station, and forming therefore a suitable centre for the winter gatherings. The ring of six bells is moreover a light one, in very good going order, the ringing chamber commodious and well-lighted, and last, but not least, the wives of the Shireoaks company are famous for the excellence of the rabbit pies and other good things which they are wont to provide on these occasions. The following towers were represented at the meeting, which was the best quarterly one which has been held since that at East Markham on Easter Monday, and considerably above the average: Anston, Bawtry, Harthill, Markham, East and West Retford, Ordsall, Shireoaks and Worksop. Ringing commenced at about 2 p.m., and continued with little intermission and varied success until five o'clock. During this period two 720s were brought round in good style, whilst two more unfortunately came to grief within a lead or two of the end. Some shorter lengths were also rung. At 5 p.m. the members adjourned to the schoolroom adjoining the church, where they found a splendid repast awaiting them, to which forty-two persons sat down, presided over by the Rev. H. Cowgill, Vicar of Shireoaks, who was supported by the Rev. B. Darley, the Hon. Sec. When full justice had been done to the excellent tea provided by the good ladies of Shireoaks, which took more time than the ringing of a 720, the usual quarterly business meeting was held, the Vicar taking the chair. Besides other business which need not be recorded here, it was resolved that the next meeting be held at Worksop, on Saturday, January 23rd. A unanimous vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for presiding at the tea and meeting brought the business to a conclusion. A very successful meeting wound up with some further ringing, details of which appear elsewhere.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

TANFIELD (Durham).—On Wednesday, November 18th, this little village was astir, owing to the marriage of Mr. T. Robinson (one of the sidesmen of St. Margaret's), to Miss Bella Armstrong, who was a great churchworker, being connected with the choir. The service was performed by the Vicar, the Rev. T. H. Archdall. The ringers were invited on this occasion to ring the bells, which they did in their heartiest style. As the wedding party left the church the organ played the wedding march, and the ringers tapped off a 840 of Bob Triples. C. Elliott, 1; H. Tyson, 2; W. R. Brewis, 3; T. Brewis, 4; W. Brewis, 5; F. Lowe, 6; F. J. Harrison (conductor), 7; J. Nicholson, 8. After firing the bells the ringers then adjourned to the Inn, where refreshments were provided, and "the health of the bride and bridegroom" drank. The ringers then wended their way back to the belfry and rang 252 Canterbury Pleasure. F. J. Harrison, 6; F. Lowe, 7; the rest standing as before. They then rang another touch of Bob Triples with W. Tyson at the tenor, being his first attempt at Triples on the tenor. Also several touches of Minor. The bells were then fired about five minutes, and lowered in peal. On descending the belfry the ringers were complimented on their striking and firing.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday, November 28th, six members of the St. James's Society, Taunton, accompanied by Messrs. T. Doble and E. Harris, of Taunton, and W. Chapman, of Milverton, paid a visit to Bridgewater, to attempt a peal of Grandsire Triples on the bells of the parish church. They were met with a hearty welcome at the tower by Mr. King, of the local company, and Mr. Rowe, of Huntspill. After raising the bells and a touch rung to try the "go" of them, a start was made for the peal, which came to grief at the third attempt after 2 hrs. 30 mins. good striking. J. Maddock (conductor), 1; H. Pearce, 2; F. Millard, 3; W. Chapman (who was elected a member before starting), 4; T. Doble, 5; G. Yandell, 6; W. Thorn, 7; E. Harris and E. Burgess, 8. The visitors wish to thank the Vicar for the use of the bells, also Mr. King for having everything in readiness.

ST. MARY'S, KIDLINGTON.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH BELLS, KIDLINGTON, OXON.

This ring of six bells, which have for years been in bad order owing to the rotten condition of the frame-work, are being overhauled. The 2nd and 4th bells will be recast, and the whole will be rehung in a new iron frame fitted up for eight bells, and then, if funds will allow, two new trebles will be added. Messrs. Webb and Bennett, of Kidlington, are entrusted with the work, which is estimated to cost about £300. During the past few months more than one of the bells have become worn and loose in their fixtures, and all further ringing is prohibited by expert advice, in consequence of the extreme danger to both the tower and spire, which constitute a well-known landmark, and an ornament to the country-side.

The following is an extract of the report on the condition of the bells, by the Rev. F. E. Robinson, Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild; Mr. J. W. Washbrook; and other well-known authorities:—

"The frame is quite worn out, and must be doing incalculable harm to the masonry with the bells in their present rickety condition. The bells are all fairly good and sound, with the exception of the 4th, which is cracked and must be re-cast. The cannons of the 2nd and 3rd are also broken, and should be removed. The fittings and the clappers are all in a worn-out condition. In making a new frame the strain upon the tower and spire would be greatly lessened by the bells being all hung upon one level."

A committee has been formed for the purpose of raising the amount required, of which the Vicar and churchwardens are at the head.

THE SALOP GUILD.

On Saturday, December 5th, this Society held a monthly meeting at Shifnal, members being present from Shrewsbury, Wellington, Wolverhampton, etc. Touches of Grandsire, Plain Bob and Darlaston was rung, and at 5 p.m. the Vicar of Shifnal invited them all to tea, to which about thirty sat down. After tea Mr. C. F. Vicars (Shrewsbury), proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for his kindness in providing tea for them, also for the use of the bells. It is hoped a peal will be rung on these bells by members of the Guild very shortly. The next meeting will be held at Wellington on Saturday, January 16th, 1897, when it is hoped there will be a good attendance.

WESTERHAM (Kent).—On Sunday, November 29th, at the parish church, 336 Stedman Triples.—E. R. J. Dunk (conductor), 1; G. B. Selby, 2; H. J. Selby, 3; H. V. Selby, 4; D. Wright, 5; J. Heath, 6; J. Steer, 7; D. Ashdown, 8.

MEN AND MANNERS.

Then Christ sought out an artizan,
A low-browed, stunted, haggard man,
And a motherless girl, whose fingers thin
Pushed from her faintly, want and sin.

These set He in the midst of them,
And, as they drew back their garments' hem
For fear of defilement, "Lo! here," said He,
"The images ye have made of me!"

LOWELL.

I am reminded of the above by reading a very instructive story in the Westminster Gazette, which says a certain remote rural parish near here is owned by a woman—a woman of title, fairly well-known in London Society. She owns every cottage in the place and consequently has the inhabitants absolutely under her thumb. A short time ago she was driving through the village, when she saw a little four-year-old child standing at the gate. The child—a pretty little thing—stared innocently at her ladyship as she drove past. The carriage was suddenly stopped—if you think it was to caress the child, that's where you are mistaken—and her ladyship dismounting, entered the cottage, calling loudly to the child's mother "Why don't you teach this impudent thing proper manners?" Upon the mother asking what was the matter with the child's manners, it appeared that the offence was in omitting to curtsy to her ladyship. After rating the mother well—"Now let me see the child curtsy. Tell her what to do." And she stood in state while the mother had to go through the humiliating performance of making the child "do it's obedience." No doubt her mightyness will on Sunday next mutter some of the ten commandments, and she would do well to ruminate over "Thou shalt not bow down to any brazen image." Graven is the word, but the other seems quite appropriate. Respect and idolatry are as wide apart as the poles, and I wish the child had been mine.

I must congratulate the St. Peter-at-Arches Society, on their latest accomplishment, viz.: Superlative Surprise. To Mr. Lindoff be the credit for bringing the band thus far up the campanological ladder. They have now rung Kent, Oxford, Double Norwich and the Surprise previously mentioned. London Surprise is evidently the goal of Mr. Lindoff's ambition, and he is on the high road to reach it. "Gay," as he is called, is immensely popular in Lincoln, or in fact anywhere he has been located, Leiston, Gillingham and Chatham to wit. The band who ring at "Arches" are a jolly crowd, every man, from the genial Charley Clifton down to the midgets Arthur Craven and J. W. Watson. The last maned always acts the good Samaritan to any benighted bellringer who stays in Lincoln. "Down, Plain Speaker, down!" I have been the recipient of Mr. Watson's hospitality, and so of course I ought to know; and I shall not soon forget the ringer's bedroom, where peal-ringing celebrities look down from their frames on the slumbering brother string what time great Tom ticks off "the sixty course-ends" every hour. Friend Gay usually gives his band "instructions during Lent" in the shape of a diagram of the method next on the tapis, and I expect that Cambridge will speedily follow Superlative. Lincoln has the honour of evolving the the latest qualities in Treble Bob Major, viz. 2 3 never in 6ths at a course-end, and this was sought for for more than a century. It is now an accomplished fact and nothing more can be done in that method, excepting it be to supplant the late T. Day's long peal of 16,608. That may never be, but if it should occur in modern times I venture to assert that past efforts point to it being solved by the highly respected teacher of the Lincoln band.

The number of collectors of peals for the Council Appendix is large, though if we were to believe the statements which ever and anon are dinned into our ears about "no new peals obtainable" there would seem very little occasion to appoint anybody to collect. Still, as there exists a certain amount of antipathy on the part of some conductors to call a composition a second time, it is evident that someone must go into the figure business to keep up the supply on the market. True there is very little scope in anything but the Surprise methods, and the composer of the future will have to devote his time in trying to obtain the same qualities in a less number of changes. Regarding the "Appendix," I would like to suggest that a better class book be entertained. Could not the Council issue say an edition with cloth covers? The present kind will not stand much handling, and one in cloth would also suggest that the committee consider the advisability of reprinting that excellent brochure on "The Management of Bells," &c. It has been of great service and is at present unobtainable.

The late Archbishop Benson was fully alive to the social evils of to-day, and was on intimate terms with Tom Mann, the well-known Socialist orator. A recent issue of Goodwill says that once in a drawing-room speech Tom accused the clergy of apathy towards the people. The Archbishop thereon invited him to Lambeth Palace. After dinner, the Primate took up a book, and saying: "this was written by a clergyman," handed it to Tom. After perusing the introductory chapters the Socialist said "Ah! this is all right, who wrote it?" "I did," said the Archbishop; who then presented his guest with the volume, which was "Christ and His Times." Tom often quotes from it in public, and frequently refers to the kindly white-haired prelate in the warmest possible terms.

What a wonderful difference one's social standing makes in the eye of the law, to be sure! A week or two ago the wealthy American lady Mrs. Castle, was sentenced to a term of imprisonment for stealing plate and furs from London shopkeepers. She has, however, been released because she was, of course, a kleptomaniac. Recently a Mrs. Law, in a sickly state of health and near her confinement, has been sentenced to six weeks for stealing a shawl. It is needless to say Mrs. Law is only the wife of a labourer, and it is sheer nonsense to suppose anyone outside good society to have kleptomania. In her case it means that her babe will be brought into the world within the precincts of a prison, and the stigma of its birth will exercise a baneful influence throughout its career. I don't say it was wrong to release the thief in sealskin, but it seems to me that "fat sorrow" usually gets off much easier than lean.

I take my hat off to the guardians of the Aston Workhouse. I take a certain interest in these chilly harbours of refuge, as some day I might see fit to become a tenant. The Ashton guardians have decided that in future the old ladies will be divided into two classes, according to their previous circumstances, character and behaviour. They are to have extra allowance of tea, better clothes, &c. In fact the "workus" will soon be what the glib-tongued auctioneer terms:—"A most desirable residence." Now if other guardians will follow suit and extend the same to the men I shall be as happy as a cow in clover. When I get old enough to be "in the road and idle" I would look up a few other ringers in the same street, and if the authorities would allow us a peal of handbells, well—what more can a man want. There I could finish life's peal of changes in comfort, and when the coming home course arrives, I hope to be ready. Don't think I frivol, I sincerely welcome any sunshine to dispel the shadow of dreary workhouse life, and I here will conclude with G. R. Sims:—

Ragged, wretched, worn and weary,
Come the casuals creeping in;
Where the parish nightly shelters
Shame and sorrow, sloth and sin.
Where the wounded in life's battle,
Pushed aside or trodden down,
Share the poor law's tender mercy,
With the refuse of the town.

The Bell News & Ringers' Record.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1896.

At the long-peal Dinner of the City of Oxford Society, reported last week, the Rev. H. A. BARTER, President of the Chipping Norton Branch of the Diocesan Guild, struck a right chord when he suggested the provision of a ring of twelve bells somewhere within the diocese. At the present day, twelve bells are somewhat of a rarity, though the number has greatly increased within the past few years. It would be well if every one of our Cathedrals could possess this maximum, but unfortunately from structural causes that is not practicable. But the diocese of Oxford is favorably situated. If the Cathedral bells cannot be increased, there are other churches capable of holding the number. Mr. BARTER especially alluded to one peculiarly favorable. We advise him, with all respect, to bring the question before the clergy and the laity of the diocese. What a splendid memento of the 60th year of our Queen's reign such would be. Many Churchmen of this diocese will no doubt be called upon to consider how they shall perpetuate some tangible memoir of the sort. And what will answer the purpose better than the erection of a new ring of twelve bells?

THE CENTRAL NORTHAMPTONSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday, November 28th, eight members of the above Association paid a visit to the fine old church of St. Peter, Northampton, to attempt a peal of Grandsire Triples. After much difficulty in getting the bells up right-side a start was made, and after ringing 4900 changes in 3 hrs., the 7th slipped wheel, much to the disappointment of the band, who were joined by the St. Peter's members outside and congratulated on their excellent striking. These bells have recently been rehung by a local firm, and the "go" of them is not at all satisfactory. The ringers were as follows:—S. Hall, 1; A. Arnold, 2; W. Roberts, 3; J. Mackay, 4; A. Stewart, 5; T. Haxley (conductor), 6; W. Wood, 7; A. Smith, 8. Smith belongs to St. Peter's, and this is his longest length; the rest belong to St. Giles'.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The Central Council Committee for the Collection of Peals, having organised a company of workers to deal with the methods hereinafter mentioned, invite all composers to send their compositions in any of these methods to the specified collector for proof and comparison. Compositions which have already appeared in Collections or Treatises need not be sent. References to those which have appeared in the columns of the ringing papers will be accepted as sufficient without the figures; but they should be accompanied by reference to any subsequent correspondence respecting them, and an assurance that they have not been pronounced false. In all cases it is desirable that the date of composition should be appended, whenever it can be accurately assigned. Collectors will not undertake to receive compositions merely for proof, nor to enter on any correspondence with regard to them. The following gentlemen will receive compositions in the methods set against their names. Collectors for other methods will be announced in due course.

DONCASTER, YORKS.

The workmen on the Great Northern Railway, Doncaster, have erected a new turret striking clock, showing the time on two external dials in memory of the late Mr. Shotton, foreman of Great Northern Railway and Superintendent of St. James' Church Schools, where the clock is erected. The work has been erected by Messrs. W. Potts and Sons, Clock Manufacturers of Leeds and Newcastle-on-Tyne, who have also fixed a new illuminated clock at Melton Hall, near Doncaster, this week, and are now fixing one at the new Oriental Baths, Doncaster, for Mrs. Turner, South Parade House.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

OBSERVER.—We did not see the publication; we do not think it would have influenced us in any way. To your other observation it may be said that people who decry old age very seldom live to be old themselves.

J. W. P.—Your second communication arrived too late for this week.

SOME NORWICH BELLS.

[See Illustration.]

As is probably well-known to most readers of "THE BELL NEWS," Norwich is famous for the number of its churches, nearly all of which are situated within the confines of the old city walls. Most of them possess towers, and those that now have to content themselves with turrets, have been deprived of the larger appendages by accident or design, but it is somewhat curious that with the exception of the Cathedral there is not a single spire in the city of Norwich.

These towers are fairly well supplied with bells, the numbers of peals being twelve bells, 1; ten bells, 1; eight bells, 2; six bells, 4; and five bells, 4; besides which there are several rings of three and a large number of single bells. Of the lesser peals I now propose to say a few words: St. Andrew's I have already dealt with (see "BELL NEWS," November 2nd, 1895), the others I will leave to some future time.

There are, as I said just now, four six-bell towers, St. Lawrence, St. Gregory, St. John's Maddermarket, and St. Mary-at-Coslany, the first three of which are situated within a stone's throw of each other.

St. Lawrence's church is a large and lofty building with a tower 112 feet high, but being built at the foot of a steep hill, loses much of its appearance; the roadway although only a few feet from the church, is nearly on a level with the aisle roof. The ringing-chamber, situated immediately under the bells, is a dark and somewhat dirty room about twelve feet high, the ropes are bad, and the bells are nearly unringable. The peal is a very fair one, and the bells, although not powerful, are deep-toned and pleasing in sound. In the year 1547 the churchwardens sold their two old bells and some plate, the whole realising £110 6s. 11d.; and with this they "bought foure bells that did belong to the late College of our lady in the Fyld in Norwich weying in the hooll xxxiiij hundredth." From the inventory of the College of our Blessed Lady we learn that the weights were 13, 9, 7, and 5 cwt. The present third and fifth are no doubt survivors of this peal, and the former has the reputation of being the oldest bell in Norfolk, but I doubt it; the latter has the following original and intellectual inscription: — A B C D — D E F — A B C D — E F G — C H I — D E. The fourth was cast by William Brend in 1615, and shortly after the tenor was split. Then, as was usual in those days, a scheme was set on foot to recast her into two smaller bells, but nothing came of it, for in 1701 Charles Newman was commissioned to recast "the greate splitt bell" for which he was paid £22 18s. 0d. She now weighs "fourteen hundred and a half and fourteen pounds."

St. Gregory's, nearly opposite St. Laurence, is another large church, built in much the same style, but the tower is not worthy of the rest of the edifice. The bells are a good ring of six from the Whitechapel Foundry, tenor 11 cwt., and are rung from a stone vaulted gallery half-way up the tower arch. The bells they superseded were an old black letter peal of five, one of which according to the Norwich Mercury, was dated 1018. If this were so, what a lamentable piece of vandalism was here perpetrated, for the bell would date back to before the Norman Conquest, and rank among the very oldest in existence.

Thomas Hurry put the bells up, and since then they have been rehung, but the "go" is hardly satisfactory, especially of the treble.

Closer to St. Gregory's than even St. Gregory's is St. Lawrence, stands the church of St. John's Maddermarket, a handsome building, but not so large as either of its neighbours. Here is a very fine peal, the tenor being probably the best bell in Norwich out of St. Peter's Mancroft. The front five were cast at Whitechapel in 1765; the tenor by Patrick and Osborn in 1782. Samuel Turner hung the peal for £40, and in 1823 Tom Hurry received £35 4s. 10d. for restoration. The tower being very confined and the bells all hung on one level, the wheels had to be made very small, which with a long draught of rope and no guides makes ringing somewhat difficult. By a rather curious coincidence the trebles of all these three peals go the worst of the lot, and this is especially the case with St. John's.

Samuel Turner, above mentioned, was the bell-hanger who worked in conjunction with the Whitechapel firm, and who hung most of the bells they cast. He made the frames for St. Peter Mancroft, Great Yarmouth, Eye, Stonham Aspal, and several others in Norfolk and Suffolk. Mr. Fred. Day, of Eye, told me that his frames were equal to the best made at the present day, and this, coming from such good authority, is high praise indeed.

The other church with six bells, St. Mary's, is situated on the other side of the river Wensum, in the district of Coslany, but is now in almost a ruinous condition. The bells hang in a small round tower, and are a fair peal, tenor 7 cwt.; the treble has been much cut about to alter the note, and is rather wild. This tower is notable as being the only one of the five and six-bell steeples in Norwich except St. Peter Permouthergate in which a 5000 has been rung—seven 720s of Grandsire Bob Minor in 1824, conducted by George Watring. The fifth and sixth bells are ancient and are inscribed "— In Multis Annis — Resonet Campana Johis," "Dulcis sisto melis, Campana vocor Michaelis."

Although their condition is not by any means good, yet all these six-bell peals can be rung, but this unfortunately can be said of only one of the five-bell peals.

First among them comes of course the Cathedral ring, which are fine old bells, cast during the first half of the 13th century. There was originally a clocher, or bell tower, situated in the Close near the Erpingham Gate, opposite the west front of the Cathedral, which contained another peal of five bells, but when this tower was destroyed, and what became of the bells, I cannot say. The bells are, as I said just now, of very good quality, but they cannot be said to be worthy of the Mother Church of so large a diocese as Norwich, besides which they are in a minor key, the notes being F sharp, G sharp, A, B, C.

However, these notes lend themselves to a very effective set of quarter chimes, beside which the Cambridge Quarters sound very tame. As the central tower is a lantern up to the floor of the bells, and as it would be probably unsafe to ring the bells on account of the lofty spire, they are "clogged" and chimed from the treforium, but rarely are more than three used.

Nearly opposite the gate of the Cathedral close stands the Church of St. George-at-Tombland, and here is a ring of five, besides a saint's bell and a clock bell. They have not been rung for many years, and I do not remember hearing them chimed save once. They are among the oldest of the bells of Norwich, but are poor in quality and much out of tune, although I was assured by a former rector that they only wanted an extra tenor to make them the sweetest peal in the city.

For the peal at St. Peter Permouthergate I have a natural affection, for it was here that my first campanological efforts were made, along with a few more of my own age. Unfortunately, the surrounding neighbourhood did not at first appreciate the early results, and loud were the complaints that arose about "that beastly row." The bells, like most Norwich peals, are a made up lot; 3 and 4 are pre-reformation, with black letter inscriptions, and all were probably cast in the city. The small ones are much too weak for the fourth and tenor. There is a tradition that a 6000 was rung here during the latter part of the last century, but I have no particulars. The only other peal on the bells was rung in 1893, and by the young company just mentioned. It was conducted by my old friend and school-fellow, Mr. John E. Burton. One amusing incident in connection with our ringing at this tower was that some friends of ours who used to affirm that we had "gone mad on bell pulling," wrote a sarcastic letter to the leading daily newspaper of the city, the Eastern Daily Press, whereof the irony was so subtle that everyone except a few who were in the secret took it for undiluted praise! The belfry has been lately smartened up, and is now fit for any one to go into.

The fourth peal of five, that of St. John's de Sepulchre, is altogether unringable—one of the bells is cracked, another has a large piece weighing, I should say, from one and a half to two cwt., broken out of its side. This leaves the treble, second, and tenor, which are chimed for services. The church stands on the highest ground in Norwich, and its lofty tower is one of the first objects that attract the attention of the visitor on leaving Thorpe railway station.

Concerning the peals of three, what shall I say? In a word, you can get good bells, medium bells, and perfectly hideous bells. There is also a set of patent tubular bells, which can hardly be called a success (they are ringing now as I write). But to appreciate all these, the visitor should stroll through the city just before eleven o'clock on Sunday morning, and he will hear close upon a hundred bells from nearly fifty churches, all clashing one against the other, and above all, the sonorous roar of the famous twelve at St. Peter-at-Mancroft.

I give sketches that I have roughly drawn of four of the city churches.

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

NOTE.—Since the above was written a few repairs have been done to St. Lawrence bells, which are now in a fairly ringable condition.

ST. MARY'S, WALTHAMSTOW.

[FROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT.]

As previously announced, the dedication service in connection with the augmentation of these bells took place on Friday, the 11th instant. On arriving at this thriving suburb of the metropolis late in the afternoon, there were visible signs that some important ceremony was on foot. The first that met our eyes was a large posting bill—printed in divers colours at the office of this paper—announcing the Dedication, with names of preachers, and other particulars. At the service at 7 p.m., when a very appropriate sermon was preached by the Ven. Archdeacon of St. Albans, a large congregation assembled.

After the service a touch of Grandsire Caters was rung by the local party, when those specially invited were entertained in the school room to a substantial repast. The chair was occupied by the Vicar (Rev. W. H. Langhorne), supported by the Archdeacon of St. Albans, Rev. H. A. Allpass, Rev. C. Copland, Rev. G. Padfield, the Churchwardens (Messrs. W. H. Shurmur and W. M. Beck), and several influential inhabitants. The choir and ringers were well represented, and in all nearly 120 sat down. The Archdeacon having to leave early, the Rev. Chairman called the attention of the assembly to the kindness of the Archdeacon coming among them on such an auspicious occasion, being the first of its kind in connection with Her Gracious Majesty's glorious reign of 60 years, which was being celebrated in Walthamstow that day by the event which had called them together. As a memento of the occasion, he had much pleasure in presenting the Archdeacon with a photo. of the bells as they stood in the churchyard, previous to being hoisted to their place in the tower.

The Archdeacon suitably responded, and in accepting the photo., which was practically a gift from the ringers, said he would place it in the tower of St. Albans Abbey as a lasting reminiscence of a few happy hours spent in Walthamstow. A hearty farewell was given the Archdeacon as he left at 9 p.m.

The first toast after dinner was "The Queen," which was most loyally and enthusiastically given by the Rev. Chairman, and duly honoured.

The toast of the "Clergy," given by Mr. Nicholas, in eulogistic terms, was responded to by the Vicar and the Rev. H. A. Allpass.

"The Churchwardens," given by the Chairman, was musically honoured, and both gentlemen responded, certifying with what pleasure and amity both Clergy and Churchwardens of Walthamstow worked together.

Mr. Shurmur gave "The Donors to the Bell Fund," and spoke of the praiseworthy efforts made in its behalf by numerous influential parishioners. The ringers also had not only contributed a good round sum, but had renovated the ringing chamber after working-hours, with matched lining for the walls, and linoleum for the floor. Mr. Herbert Chappell responded.

"The Choir" was given by Mr. Lewis, Mr. Wilkinson (organist) ably responding. The toast of "The Ringers," given by Mr. Churchwarden Shurmur, dramatically brought forth the initial cause of that evening's gathering. He stated that at the Ringers' Dinner last year Mr. Maynard (sexton) incidentally remarked that several of the bells were dangerously out of repair, and immediate steps should be taken to put them safe. Having made a close examination, he found that the true position was far worse than had been represented, and orders were therefore at once given to stop all unnecessary ringing. The next thing to do was to find the money. Tenders were asked for and that of Messrs. Warner and Sons was accepted, with the result that Walthamstow now possessed an excellent peal of ten bells. It should, however, be known that grave doubts existed as to whether there was public spirit enough in Walthamstow to enable the money to be raised, but a gentleman came spontaneously forward and offered, if necessary, the sum of £150 to £200 for five years without interest, and that gentleman was no less a person than the respected and excellent steeple-keeper, Mr. Thos. Maynard, whose name he coupled with the toast.

Mr. T. Maynard thanked those present for the very kind and too flattering remarks, and expressed his willingness to do in the future what he had done in the past, for the maintenance of good ringing in Walthamstow.

The toast of The Bell Founders, by Mr. Shurmur, was responded to by Mr. Marriage, the Manager of the firm.

The old peal of eight were cast by Pack and Chapman in 1778; the tenor being recast by Mears in 1852. Messrs. Warner have recast the old 3rd, and added two trebles, making a nice handy ring of ten. The tenor is 19 cwt. in E flat. The bells are all fixed in an independent cast-iron frame, and all the bells are hung upon one level. All the stocks are fitted with new pattern cast-iron shoes and steel gudgeons, and the clappers are of the new straphead type. The old bells have been all quarter-turned and tuned. The whole have been placed upon four steel girders and new floor, the old beams being quite decayed. The work has given every satisfaction, and the bells go splendidly.

The inscriptions upon the old bells possess little novelty. That upon the two new bells is as follows:—

"Cast by John Warner and Sons, Ltd. 1896. Dedicated to the Glory of God and His Church, and to commemorate the illustrious reign of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, 1896."

LECTURE ON BELLS AT HULL CHURCH INSTITUTE.

A well attended lecture, under the auspices of the Hull Church Institute, was delivered in the hall of the Literary and Philosophical Society, on Monday, Dec. 14th, by the Rev. Canon Nolloth, M.A., Vicar of the Minster, Beverley, on Bells and Bell-ringing. The rev. gentleman, in the course of his remarks, gave some interesting information about the materials which should be used, and the proportions of the casting in order to produce bells of the best quality. He described the ancient and modern use of bells, and by the aid of a model, lent by Mr. C. Jackson, showed his audience the manner of raising and setting a bell as practised in this country. He also gave an interesting account of how the carillons are played on the Continent; enlivening his lecture with a few humorous stories of bells and bell-lore. He drew attention to the science of change-ringing, explaining the number of changes that are obtainable on the different numbers of bells, and in order to illustrate this portion of his lecture, he enlisted the services of six members of the Yorkshire Association of change-ringers, who rung the following methods on handbells:—Grandsire Doubles, Kent Treble Bob Minor, Kent Treble Bob Major, Grandsire Caters, and Plain Bob Maximus.

The Venerable Archdeacon Hughes-Games, Vicar of Holy Trinity, who presided, moved a hearty vote of thanks to the lecturer, and also to the ringers, remarking that he was sure they had all listened with extreme interest and pleasure to the lecture and to the illustrations. The ringers who took part were Messrs. H. W. Needham, W. Southwick, D. W. Brown and H. Jenkins, of St. James' Church, Hull, and C. Jackson and L. Stockdale, of Holy Trinity Church, Hull.

NOTE TO THE BRIDGWATER PEAL.

The first attempt ever made for a peal on these bells was on Saturday, November 28th last, when it came to grief after ringing for 2 hrs. and 36 mins. Not to be daunted by the mishap, and encouraged by the offer of the tower for another try, it was at once decided to make another start for it on Saturday, December 12th, when after ringing 3 hrs. and 20 mins., the welcome sound of "that's all" was heard. On opening the belfry door, which is on the ground floor, the ringers were recipients of many hearty congratulations on their success from the local ringers as well as from many from the surrounding neighbourhood, who had assembled to hear the ringing, as it had hitherto been considered that the bells were unpealable. A local ringer of fifty years' standing was so much interested in the matter as to sit in the belfry during the whole of the peal, and also timed it. Messrs. Maddock, A. Doble, Pearce, Millard, Yendall, and Burgess are members of St. James' Guild, Taunton; T. Doble and Harris are unattached members also of Taunton; and Mr. Chapman belongs to the Milverton band. On their arrival home one of the band suggested "Try your weight, gentlemen." The call having been readily answered, the following was the result: Maddock, 14 stone; A. Doble, 10 stone 4 lbs.; Pearce, 9 stone 11 lbs.; Millard, 10 stone 5 lbs.; T. Doble, 13 stone 12 lbs.; Chapman, 14 stone 7 lbs.; Yendall, 11 stone 10 lbs.; Harris, 12 stone 7 lbs.; Burgess, 12 stone 1 lb. This brought our Bridgwater peal business to a close, every one being highly gratified with the result.

MEN AND MANNERS.

I don't think I will perpetrate any poetry this week. There are times when it is impossible to hold it in check, when I literally bubble over with it, and it fairly runs out of the top of my boots, so to speak. However, as my friend shakebacon remarked, "enough is better than a feast." Of course I am aware that my colleagues turn green with envy whatever I manage to start off with a nice bit of pudding at the head of my page in the shape of rhyme. It would be invidious to mention names, but some of "our popular contributors" have been hunting up all the poetry books they can lay their hands on, from Johnny Horner upwards, in the rigid determination to lay me in the dust, but Ho Ho! and likewise Ha Ha!! I still survive and my desk is crammed jammed full of up-to-date matter. Terms moderate; come early and avoid the crush.

The eyes of our readers who are particularly interested in the peal records will naturally have rested on the performances of the Derby branch of the Midland County Association. Some time ago I referred to the handbell band in the above Midland town. They were then engaged in ringing peals of Grandsire Triples, but I am extremely pleased to see they have now accomplished Bob Major and Darlaston Bob Triples. These shew that there is some determination in the team to excel, and depend upon it the Exercise will hear more of Frank Bradley of Derby. It is refreshing to criticise and encourage rising talent of this character. While writing of handbell-ringing, I hear on good authority that the band at Leicester are fixing in for another silent peal of Stedman. It is to be hoped that Messrs. Cleal, Lancashire and Co., will succeed in accomplishing the coup,

We don't see much genuine self-denial in this fin de siècle age, and that is why a case is more noticeable when discovered. Prince Max, of Saxony, has become a preacher in the East end of London. He has renounced his right of succession to the throne of Saxony, and intends after two or three years' experience in London to go back to his own country and take charge of a parish there. Another scion of a noble house who follow the same line of work is Lord Archibald Douglas, brother to the Marquis of Queensbury. He is known in Southwark simply as "Father Douglas," and that is the simple title that stands over the confessional at St. George's Church, Southwark.

The Rev. Canon Pennefather, who succeeds the Bishop-designate of Peterborough, as Rector of St. Mary Abbots, Kensington, ought to meet the taste of that flourishing parish. Canon Pennefather is practically unknown in London, his work having been for the most part in the North of England, but he is just the man to minister seriously to such a congregation, as Rev. Carr-Glyn is leaving. He has the cut of an ecclesiastic from head to foot. Fair and clean-shaven, he used to look the ideal High Churchman—the High Churchman with a strong dash of wordly wisdom in his composition, though I believe he is what is called a "Moderate." He will take up the work of the Rev. Carr-Glyn without introducing violent innovations of any kind, being somewhat a similar kind of man and not afraid of parochial enterprise.

The 28th of November, 1896, will stand out boldly on the pages of the ringing records of this century, when they are written by the historian of the next, for on that eventful day it will describe how two colossal feats in bell-ringing were achieved. I refer to the single-handed peal of Treble Twelve at St. Paul's Cathedral, and that of "Double Norwich Twelve in" at Ipswich. For intricacy, of course the latter performance takes the palm, and Messrs. Motts, Catchpole and Co., deserve the congratulations which such a magnificent performance must naturally call forth, but for one man to turn in St. Paul's tenor, which is three tons two cwt., for upwards of four hours is a remarkable feat of herculean strength, and surpasses any other, in my opinion; of a similar kind. To the names on the already long roll of heavy bell-ringers must be added that of Cockerill, who has done something to crow about, although, he is possibly not such a bantam as some may be inclined to think.

We live in a curious world, my masters. You will remember the table of rogue's course-ends I gave some time ago? Very well, just prick out the following: "At Wells county petty sessions, the master, hon. secretary, hon. huntsmen, and others were summoned for trespassing on land, &c. Evidence showed that sixty or seventy persons followed the pack, and nine ewes and one cow were injured and numerous fences were knocked about. The facts were plainly admitted, but defendant's solicitor contended that the case came within 1 and 2 William IV. cap. 34. sec. 35:—"Provided always that the aforesaid provisions against trespassers, &c., shall not extend to any persons hunting or coursing with hounds," &c. The magistrates took this view of the case and dismissed the summons. The next case (same court and same day) two labourers were summoned for trespassing on land, &c., and on pleading guilty, the magistrates convicted and fined defendants 10s. each and costs. You may possibly think with somebody else that "the law's a hass" but nevertheless it is only fair the magistrates were morally bound so to decide the cases according to the Act of Parliament. True, the hunt did a hundred times more harm than the labourers, and the reason they go scot free is palpably because such laws were made by the class who poach on horseback, who, on the strength of their political ascendancy and monopoly can practically do as they please.

I intended to say a congratulatory word for the Henfield band, who have just achieved a peal of Stedman Caters in hand, under the guidance of Mr. Charles Tyler, but as this brings me to the bottom of the page, I think I will just give one note of warning to your horny-headed comp. Last week he only missed one clear line out of the third paragraph. Simply that and nothing more. And now, my dear and gentle reader, as this is the festive season when hampers of sundry good things find their way to "THE BELL NEWS" Office, let me exhort you not to make two bites at a cherry, so to speak. Never mind the frantic appeals of the rest of the staff who usually get more turkey and things than is good for them, but plump solid for yours truly. Stand not on the order of your sending, but send at once. Whether it be goose, turkey, cigars, or even a barrel, send it on, and do the thing up in style, but mind how you address it. There are sharks in the office, so no split votes. Let your writing be legible, "be just-in-time" and you will have the satisfaction of knowing that all that you send will be "for the benefit of the poor—"

JINGLE."

THE BELLS OF PERSHORE ABBEY, WORCESTER.

A correspondent writes:—

"It will be gratifying to ringers generally, and those in this vicinity especially, to hear that there is a likelihood of the above bells being rehung. The Evesham Journal states that a fund is about to be raised, a committee having been formed with that object in view." I need scarcely add that this ring of eight is one of the finest in existence, and that all ringers will rejoice to hear of the probability of its being restored.

The bells have been in the Abbey 167 years, being hung in the year 1729. They were cast by Messrs. Rudhall, of Gloucester, "and though so ancient, only one peal has ever been accomplished, and that a peal of Stedman Triples by the College Youths, on December 27th, 1890, the Rev. F. E. Robinson and Mr. Washbrook taking part in the same. The tenor is 29 cwt. in D flat." Our correspondent omits to add that Mr. F. E. Dawe called this peal.

[Will our correspondent send in his address again?—Ed.]

PEAL BOOK, Price 2s. 6d. A book specially ruled for entering peals, date touches, etc. Handbell music arranged for any number of bells. Send for catalogue. W. H. GIGGLE, Queen Street, Horbury, near Wakefield.

THE HANDBELL GIFT.

Many of our friends will be looking for the result of this affair. It cannot be said that it has been altogether a success, if the number of competitors is taken into account. Five hundred at the least were expected, but one hundred did not compete. Two gentlemen, Mr. Salter of Kidderminster, and Mr. F. G. Harrison, of Jarro-on-Tyne, ran very closely. Mr. Salter's number of coupons was 2096; Mr. Harrison's, 2121. Therefore we award the gift of handbells to the last-named gentleman, who will please communicate with us in accordance with directions previously given.

We are open to receive suggestions from any of our friends with regard to another gift of the same character as early as possible. If any scheme can be formulated by which competitors could use their own coupons only we should very much prefer it. Perhaps some of our ingenious brethren will set their minds to work on the subject, between now and the first of January.

Correspondence.

While allowing the utmost freedom for the expression of opinion, it must never be considered that we are in any way bound to statements made by correspondents.

To the Editor of "THE BELL NEWS AND RINGERS' RECORD."

A CORRECTION.

SIR,—The two compositions of 5076 Stedman Caters, under my name in your issue of November 14th last, repeat, through using the two old fashioned coming-home courses, and requires an addition by Single at 4 in the first coming-home course and Single at 15 in the last course to make them true. The second version of first peal should have been 5062 and not number as sent. I am indebted to a provincial friend for the information, as it had not attracted my attention. I should be glad if you would insert this, and so prevent them being used in the form sent you.

JOHN ROGERS.

REPLY TO "NORVICENCIAN."

SIR,—In reply to Norvicencian re Double Norwich, although nothing has been brought forward since Mr. Heywood's admirable articles, still the majority of the Ipswich company are not convinced; and further they do not dream of insulting Mr. Heywood in not accepting his reasoning as conclusive. As far back as October, 1879, years before the company thought of ringing Double Norwich, five of the company went to Norwich on the Saturday preceding the Association meeting of that year, and when in the tower looking at the board with the late Mr. James Young, then Master of the Norwich Scholars, the question was asked "Was it Double Norwich?" He replied "No, it was a single method." But, Sir, rumour has it that Mr. Heywood is the happy possessor of S. Thurston's diary, and of course it will soon clear the whole question, as it was his greatest achievement.

W. L. CATCHPOLE.

FALSE COMPOSITIONS.

SIR,—A peal of 5120 Bob Major, composed by W. Shipway, was recently rung at Darlington. This peal was pointed out to the Exercise in 1888 to be false. Since that time it has been rung twice. If any one thinks that the peal is not false, let them prick out the lead-ends of the first and fourth courses, and their doubts will soon vanish. Those who have copies of Shipway should mark this peal "false." It will be found on page 24, part 3. The 1260 Grandsire Caters on page 118, part 2, should also be marked false, the course-end 35264978 and the first lead-end coming up twice. The peal of 5280 Treble Bob Major recently published by J. R. Werring is false, both at the middles and homes; and even if the peal were true it certainly does not contain the musical properties claimed for it, as neither the 4th, 5th or 6th are the extent in 6ths place, nor the 5th and 6th the extent in 5ths.

K.

SIR,—The peal of Treble Bob of J. R. Werring's, published in "THE BELL NEWS" of November 28th, has been found false, and he desires to offer his apologies for sending it.

T. REDMAN.

"A.S.C.Y.—A DISGRACEFUL SCENE."

SIR,—All fair-minded readers of your journal are asked to express their opinions in regard to the above. The opinion of one is that it is a matter which should be dealt with by the Society alone, and that your correspondent should be severely censured for communicating it to the press while sub judice.

THE REV. DR. RAVEN'S WORK.

NOW READY.

THE CHURCH BELLS OF SUFFOLK.—By JOHN JAMES RAVEN, D.D., of Emmanuel College, Cambridge; Vicar of Fressingfield-with-Withersdale; Honorary Canon of Norwich Cathedral; and President of the Norwich Diocesan Association).—WITH ABOUT NINETY ILLUSTRATIONS.—This most interesting work contains an account of all the Church Bells in the County of Suffolk—their makers and history—so far as they can be discovered. Incidental notices are introduced of the ancient uses of Bells—the individuals mentioned on them—and many historical events connected therewith. Introductory remarks on the general history of the Bells are prefixed to local portion of the work. The book is fully illustrated with engravings of ornaments, letterings, founders' marks, shields, etc., of which some will be found hitherto unknown. The latter portion of the work contains a complete list of Churches in the County, with the inscriptions on the Bells now belonging to them, as well as on many which have been re-cast. The Demy 8vo. Edition is limited to 500 copies, and is now offered at 20s. nett; or Bound in Half-morocco, Roxburgh style, 27s. 6d. nett. Copies by post 1s. 6d. extra. The Large Paper Edition was subscribed for within a few days of the issue of the Prospectuses, and is now unobtainable.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN, CHURCH BELL HANGER, AND TUNER. SALISBURY, WILTSHIRE.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN is a practical Ringer, and having had considerable experience in Church Bell hanging and tuning, with confidence solicits the patronage of the Clergy, Churchwardens and Ringers generally.

T. B. has devoted a great deal of attention to the fixing of Clock Hammers used for striking the hours and quarters on Church Bells. These are sometimes placed in awkward and dangerous positions, even by Church Clock Makers.

T. BLACKBOURN'S experience enables him to affix these hammers, with their accompanying levers in a most accurate manner, preventing any danger to the bell frame or clock. He will be glad to advise on clocks as well as bells.

The Ellacombe Chime Hammers fixed. Sole Fixer of Salby's Apparatus for Silent practice. Handbells supplied. Bells weighed in the tower at a small cost.

A PEAL OF 362,880 GRANDSIRE CATERS, 6d.
Contains the full extent of changes on nine bells. Forwarded Post Free, on receipt of 7d! By James Hewitt, 16, Chapel Row, Gosport.

THE PEAL OF MINOR AT KELVEDON.

This peal was rung upon the Golden Wedding Day of Mr. and Mrs. John Keeble, who were married at St. Mary's Church, December 12th, 1846. During the day the old folks were congratulated by the Vicar and many of the inhabitants among whom they had lived so long and by whom are generally respected. The conductor of the peal is a nephew, and belongs to the local company. Mr. B. Keeble, of Romford, is a son of the old folks. He accepted the kindly invitation to tackle the treble, not with much confidence of success, not having of late years rung a peal, or ever having attempted a 5050 of Minor. The two first 720s went very smoothly, so also did the two following ones, with the exception when the treble appeared to be inclined to miss a dodge down. The rest of the band were, however, too sharp to permit even a slip actually taking place, and quickly woke him up when he appeared to be dreaming, even if it was respecting such an event as the recent peal at St. Paul's Cathedral. Double Oxford appeared at first rather shaky, and wanted a little looking after, but everyone soon settled down and at last the whole 5050 was safely brought round in a creditable manner. A visit was afterwards paid to the home of the old folks, where several 120s of Grandsire Doubles were rung on the handbells:—W. Keeble, 1-2; B. Keeble, 3-4; J. Keeble (Romford), 5-6; also a 120 in which A. Keeble, of Romford, took part. A course of Bob Major was also rang, in which some of the band took part. The only experience that the old chap ever had of pulling a bell was an attempt to ring one bell in Little Tey Church, this he managed to throw over and the attempt proved his full "extent." With the exception of his having to spend several weeks in Colchester Hospital, through an accident, neither he or Mrs. Keeble have resided a week out of the village during the whole of their married life. The accident referred to happened upon the G.E.R., on which he was engaged as a platelayer by the big contractor, Joe Hutchinson. He was proceeding one morning in August, 1850, to his work, when an engine running down upon the up line knocked him down and his foot was smashed. First aid in those days was rare, and it was twelve hours after the accident, and after having been put twice upon the rail and travelling between thirty and forty miles, before he was admitted to the hospital, where he was allowed to remain a week, when amputation up to the knee-joint was carried out. Consequently the old gentleman has been for over forty-six years a cripple. In those days no Employers' Liability Act secured compensation. Even a friendly society of which he was a member, attempted in a few years to stop payment of a weekly allowance, but was was compelled under a magistrates' order to pay up until 1877, when, chiefly through its honorary members, new rules were registered and in his old age further payment was refused.

THE LEEDS AND DISTRICT AMALGAMATED SOCIETY.

The November meeting of this society was held at Bramley on Saturday, November 28th. Ringing commenced about three o'clock with an attempt for a peal, and after two attempts, in both of which the striking was excellent, it was abandoned. Other companies followed at intervals during the afternoon with touches of College Exercise, London Scholars' Pleasure, College Treble, Cambridge Surprise, Tulip, and Violet. A business meeting was held at 6.30 at The Cardigan Arms, the President, Mr. J. W. Holgate, presiding. The minutes of the previous meeting were passed as read. The December meeting was adjourned to the first Saturday in January, 1897, to be held at Pudsey (eight bells), when arrangements for a peal attempt was completed for that day. A deputation, consisting of the President, Treasurer, Secretary, and two members intimate with a neighbouring vicar were appointed to wait upon him to obtain permission to hold a special meeting of the society and ring on his peal of eight bells (tenor 21 cwt.) which for some years has for Divine Service been rattled about by a revolving barrel process called change-ringing. A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the vicar, churchwardens, and local company for the use of the bells, which was proposed by Mr. J. Whitaker, seconded by Mr. C. Pratt, and carried unanimously. The President, as a Bramley man, responded on behalf of the above, and said how pleased they were to welcome the society at any time. Votes of thanks were also passed to the President for presiding, and to the Secretary for his unremitting attention to the interests of the society. The inscription for the peal-board to be erected in the Rothwell tower by the society and other friends, was decided. The "David Wilson" fund was next submitted, which together with other matters concerning ringers and ringing, concluded the meeting. The following towers were represented: Armley, Holbeck (R.C.), Tong, Calverley, Rothwell, Bradford, Headingley (St. Michael's), and the local company. Tower ringing was again in for some time, and the remainder of the evening was occupied with handbells at the meeting-house.

RE-OPENING OF RUSHTON BELLS, NORTHAMPTONSHIRE.

These bells, formerly a ring of five, have had a treble added, making a nice ring of six. The old frames have been taken away, and they have been rehung in new iron frames and all new fittings. The work was entrusted to the firm of J. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and the greatest credit is due to the firm for the splendid way they have executed the work, the tone and the "go" of the bells being everything that could be desired. By the kind invitation of the Rector, the Rev. A. Hawkes, the Kettering band, on Saturday, December 5th, journeyed over to formerly open the bells. The proceedings opened by a few prayers (relating to the dedication of new bells), which were read by the Rector, after which the bells were raised, and four 6-scores of Grandsire Doubles were rung by the following:—G. Toseland, 1; G. Lewis, 2; E. Underwood, 3; J. Julian, 4; W. R. Hensher (conductor), 5; J. Spence, 6. Also 720 of Plain Bob Minor. G. Toseland, 1; E. Underwood, 2; C. Newman, 3; W. R. Hensher, 4; J. Julian, 5; J. Taylor (conductor), 6. The ringers then adjourned to the rectory, where a capital meat tea was provided. After tea a vote of thanks was passed to the Rector for the kind way he had entertained every one there, and to Mr. Taylor for the capital work done; and a hope was expressed that he would soon have the neighbouring village bells of Geddington in hand. After tea the tower was again visited, and a 6-score of Grandsire Doubles was rung by the following:—G. Toseland, 1; A. Robinson, 2; E. Underwood, 3; J. Julian, 4; W. R. Hensher (conductor), 5; J. Spence, 6. And 720 Bob Minor. G. Toseland, 1; A. Robinson, 2; C. Newman, 3; E. Underwood, 4; J. Julian, 5; W. R. Hensher (conductor), 6. After the local band had tried their hands at the ropes, a few 120s of Grandsire Doubles were rung, and the bells were lowered in peal. The ringers adjourned next to the Thornhill Arms, and after a few touches of Bob Minor and Major had been rung on the handbells, a start was made for home, every one having spent a most enjoyable holiday. The weight of the tenor is 3 cwt. 3 qrs. 3 lbs. in F sharp.

THE DEBENHAM LONG PEAL BAND.

[Vide Photograph.]

The ancient town of Debenham is situated fourteen miles from Ipswich by road, seven from Eye, and seven from Framlingham, the nearest railway stations, and is consequently not so often visited by ringers from a distance as its fine-toned ring of eight bells would otherwise attract. On every occasion when permission to ring a peal or otherwise has been sought by a good band of ringers, it has always been readily granted by the Vicar and Churchwardens, so that with such a good ring of bells, the courteous attentions of the steeple-keeper, Mr. W. Grimes, and the good wishes of the inhabitants generally, it seemed the proper place where the accomplishment of this great feat was to be done; for great feat it was; and whatever band essay to beat it on Debenham bells, will soon find out the truth of this statement. Many years of anxiety elapsed, and many discouragements were encountered, before its final accomplishment. On one occasion 7 hrs. 54 mins.; another 6 hrs. 25 mins.; another 5 hrs. 35 mins., were occupied in unsuccessful attempts, and during the period of the first and last attempts many prominent ringers had been invited to take part. Most of them however declined with thanks the invitation, probably believing it to be too big an order. Finally the band whose portraits we give, determined on the task, and started on their journey on Whit-Monday, June 6th, 1892, at 4 o'clock in the morning, and arriving at their destination, at 7.18 the bells went into changes. At the expiration of 10 hrs. 32 mins. the bells ran home, and the longest peal of Treble Bob had been achieved, comprising 16,608 changes. The weight of Debenham tenor is 20 cwt. The peal was composed by the late Thomas Day, of Birmingham.

With reference to the company who rang this peal, it may truly be said that in JAMES MORRIS (the conductor), the band placed great confidence, and his well-known abilities for the task was a great earnest of success. A painter and decorator by trade, he is truthfully regarded by all who know him as an upright and kind-hearted fellow; a better ringing colleague it would be difficult to find. Ringing is his great delight and pleasure, and when you have JAMES for your leader in a peal, it means a peal, or it is not his fault. Of his brother WILLIAM the very same may be said with the exception of being a conductor, as brothers in bell ringing, the same attachment and good feeling one towards the other exist in their daily life.

WILLIAM CRICKMER resides at Earl Soham, is a most ardent ringer, and has walked some hundreds of miles in his time in pursuit of the Art he loves so well. He has conducted several peals. He is a shoemaker by trade, and postman in his district.

ARTHUR ALDHAM, an Ipswich man, now of Barwell, Leicestershire, is a clicker by trade, and formerly belonged to the St. Mary-le-Tower Society, Ipswich. His loss was greatly felt by the members of that society, as he was a fine striker, and good handbell ringer.

ROBERT H. BRUNDLE, the proposer of the long peal attempt, is a joiner by trade, but is now working for the well-known London firm of Bishop and Son, of Marylebone Road, Organ Builders, who have established a factory in Ipswich. He has taken part in many a performance, including successful peals of five, six, seven, eight, ten, and 16000 changes. MR. BRUNDLE is generally to be found taking an active part in those necessary details and arrangements which lead eventually to success. The Exercise may naturally conclude that his exertions contributed in no small degree to the attainment of the object the company had before them.

DAVID and EDGAR COLLINS are brothers; pit sawyers by trade. Many a fine oak has been divided by their strong arms for bell frames, etc., and it is an acknowledged fact that two better ringers of Treble Bob it would be impossible to find. EDGAR will be remembered for many a long day by an ignorant intruder at a wayside inn who forced his company on every passer-by, till he found out he had mistaken the man he was face to face with, and received from the redoubtable EDGAR such a sound thrashing as he was justly entitled to.

FREDERICK TILLET, the tenor-man, is the son of Samuel Tillet, and grandson of John Naunton, both heavy bell ringers. He has maintained his father's reputation. It was owing to his pluck and determination that the tenor was rung to such a length. He is in the iron trade, employed at the renowned firm of agricultural engineers, Messrs. Ransome, Sims, and Jefferies, and is an agreeable and jolly young fellow. Long may he live to ring many more long peals.

This brief account ought not to be closed without a word in reference to the umpire, poor William Lines, who listened attentively to the peal from outside the church from first to last, and was, in his usual cool manner, delighted to be able to acknowledge that a true and honourable peal had been rung. The writer is sorry to say that poor William has been in declining health for some years past. May God in his merciful kindness yet restore him to good health. And lastly, may the Reverend the Vicar, and the Churchwardens of good old Debenham, all live to a green old age.

THE SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A western divisional meeting of this Association was held at Steyning on Saturday, December 12th, the following towers being represented: Angmering, Blacklands, Goring, Henfield, and Steyning, the Hon. Secretary of the Association being also present. Torrents of rain kept very many away, but an enjoyable meeting took place. Various touches were brought round, including 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor. G. Gatland, 1; H. Evans, 2; W. Alliss, 3; J. Smart, 4; C. Smart, 5; C. Hills (conductor), 6. And 504 Stedman Triples. J. Matthews, 1; W. Woolgar, 2; E. Rapley, 3; J. Smart, 4; C. Smart (conductor), 5; S. Saker, 6; A. Gatland, 7; E. Turrell, 8. Mine host of The Norfolk hotel provided an excellent meat tea, and at the business meeting three new members were added to the Steyning branch. Votes of thanks to the vicar for the use of the bells were duly passed, and various things were transacted.

UPCHURCH (Kent).—On Tuesday, December 15th, 720 Grandsire Minor (thirty-four singles and two bobs). W. Hawes, 1; H. Shipp, 2; A. Trowell (first 720 with a bob bell), 3; W. J. Walker, 4; W. H. B. Wilkins, 5; W. T. Hyland (conductor), 6.

A. R. ALDHAM, 4.      R. H. BEUNDLE, 5.      DAVID COLLINS, 6.      EDGAR COLLINS, 7.      FREDK. TILLET, 8.

W. G. CRICKMER, 3.      WILLIAM MOTTS, 2.      JAMES MOTTS (conductor), 1.

DATE TOUCHES.

By J. J. PARKER, Farnham Royal.

As the date touch season is upon us again, it will be a good time to introduce an idea that occurred to me a year or so ago concerning the manufacturing of them. The idea stands good for all plain methods, but I will take Grandsire Triples for illustration. We know it is not customary to cause the treble to do anything other than hunt up and down, at the same time there appears to be no reason why the treble should not be made to do a little place-making or dodging, and as this may be done strictly in accordance with the method, it seems to me that this plan would be more preferable than having the treble leading seven or eight blows while the other bells are muddling about. There are six different ways to add eight to the first lead, by causing the treble to do a double dodge in two of the dodging places. These are shewn below, together with the result in each case, thus:—

4-5 up and 6-7 up will produce	456723, if a bob at the lead	754352
4-5 up and 6-7 down	"	452673 " " 654327
4-5 up and 4-5 down	"	472635 " " 674523
6-7 up and 6-7 down	"	256473 " " 452367
6-7 up and 4-5 down	"	276435 " " 472563
6-7 down and 4-5 down	"	264375 " " 462537

In the case of an even number of changes, when singles are unnecessary, the thing is more easy than in the case of an odd number, such as 1897, when at least one single must be used to bring the bells round at hand, and in which case each portion of the changes that have been inserted in the first lead, can arrive from two other different leads, therefore it is necessary, after selecting either of the above starting leads, and before commencing the main body of the touch, to ascertain what leads must be avoided, as I have shewn in the annexed example:—

Bob 1234567 number, such as 1897, when at least one single must be used to bring the bells round at hand, and in which case each portion of the changes that have been inserted in the first lead, can arrive from two other different leads, therefore it is necessary, after selecting either of the above starting leads, and before commencing the main body of the touch, to ascertain what leads must be avoided, as I have shewn in the annexed example:—

Bob 234567 The first four changes belong to the lead 234567, the next two to 342567, the next four to 423567, the next two to 436527, and the next eight to 645273, therefore the last four leads must not occur at all. And when one or more singles are used, the following leads also must not be allowed to appear: 576243, 576324, 576432, 572463, and 573426. In this particular case I would suggest a single at the first lead, and produce the remainder of the touch with bobs only, in which case the last five leads mentioned are all that need be avoided.

A WEEK OF EVENING PEALS IN SUSSEX.

This annual event, organised by the Brighton parish church ringers, has just taken place, but as will be seen on referring to the peals published in this paper, its success was somewhat marred by two of the evenings proving blanks, owing to no fault of the ringers.

On the first evening, Saturday, December 5th, an omnibus was chartered to convey the band to Bolney, where after a fourteen miles' drive, and tea at The Eight Bells inn (for which we have to thank our worthy captain, Mr. G. F. Attree), the first item on the programme, namely, a peal of London Surprise, was secured without a hitch of any sort, and the return journey commenced about 10.30 p.m. during the gale which was then wrecking the piers and damaging the Brighton seashore. But little notice was taken by the eight inside the omnibus of the elements outside, as the cigarette box frequently passed round, and the discussion as to the best way to ring London Surprise kept us amused the greater part of the journey, home being reached just before one o'clock on Sunday morning.

Monday, a peal of Cambridge Surprise was rung at South-over, Lewes: Tuesday—Heene, Worthing, had to be substituted for St. Nicholas, Brighton, and all went well for an hour and a quarter in New Cumberland Surprise, when the tenor bell was suddenly stopped by coming in contact with a chiming hammer; thus the first break in the programme occurred. Wednesday and Thursday successful peals of Superlative Surprise Major and Double Norwich Court Bob Major were rung respectively at Steyning and St. Paul's, Brighton. But on Friday evening, when the band met at the tower of St. Peter's, Brighton, they found to their regret that one of the churchwardens was lying dangerously ill close to the church, so the proposed peal of Duffield Major had to be abandoned. The last item on the programme was a peal of Double Oxford Major at Hurstpierpoint. Here again disappointment was in store, and was caused for the first time during the week by two of the band changing course after ringing 55 mins. Being unable to get another tower for any of the following evenings, the band were compelled to be contented with four peals out of six attempts; one each of London, Cambridge, and Superlative Surprise Major, and one of Double Norwich. However another peal of London Surprise Major was successfully accomplished at Lindfield on Saturday, December 10th, the report of which will be found with the others. The band wish through the medium of this paper to thank the respective vicars for the use of the bells, and to the steeplekeepers for having everything in readiness. Owing to a service on Saturday, December 12th, Hurstpierpoint was substituted for St. Mary's, Eastbourne, for Double Oxford, as was advertised in "THE BELL NEWS" of December 5th.

THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

MANCHESTER BRANCH.—On Tuesday evening, December 8th, the following members of this branch assembled at the tower of the parish church of St. Mary, Eccles, and rang 720 Oxford Treble Bob Minor and 840 Stedman Triples, with the bells deeply-muffled as a tribute of respect to the late Mrs. Barrett (mother of Mr. James Barrett, chief ringer at this church) whose interment took place on this date. T. G. Down, G. E. Turner, A. Cross, H. Chapman, J. Ridyard, F. Derbyshire, W. Ashcroft, R. Ridyard (conductor). The late Mr. James Barrett, sen. being for a number of years a prominent member of the Eccles company, deceased was greatly interested in bells and ringing, and desired that they should be rung on this occasion. It was intended to attempt a peal, but owing to meeting one short no start was made. The ringers wish to offer their deepest sympathy with Mr. Barrett in his sad bereavement. Messrs. Ridyard and Derbyshire belong to Worsley; Ashcroft to Eccles; the remainder to Pendleton.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION OF SIX-BELL RINGERS.

The Quarterly Meeting of the above was held at Higher Walton on Saturday, December 12th, when the following towers were represented: Blackrod, Chorley, St. Andrew's, Leyland, St. James, Leyland, Standish parish church, Preston, St. Mark's, Preston, Penwortham, and Higher Walton. During the afternoon and evening touches in various methods were rung. At 5.30 the members adjourned to The Swan inn, where they found a splendid supper awaiting them, to which ample justice was done. Afterwards the usual business meeting was held, the President, Mr. James Banister, presiding. It was resolved that the next quarterly meeting be held at Leyland parish church. A unanimous vote of thanks to the vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells, and to the ringers for the kind way in which they welcomed the visitors, brought the meeting to a close.

CHILTON, BERKS.

MARRIAGE OF MISS A. M. SPIERS.

Considerable interest was evinced on Thursday, 3rd inst., in the marriage of Miss A. M. Spiers, youngest daughter of the late William and Sarah Spiers, of Chilton, Berks., and Mr. John G. Collins, second son of William and Mary Ann Collins, of Cheveley, near Newmarket, Cambridgeshire. The Rev. A. T. Morland officiated. As the party left the church, the Chilton ringers rung some 120s of Grandsire Doubles, and later on in the day, as the newly-married pair started on their wedding tour. In the evening, five of the Harwell band visited the tower, and with W. J. Spiers, rung some Bob Minor; also the late Henry Johnson's bob-and-single 6-part of Grandsire Minor, in honour of the event. J. Spiers, 1; V. Hitchman, 2; A. Thomas (conductor), 3; T. Hughes, 4; I. Hitchman, 5; W. Hitchman, 6.

Correspondence.

While allowing the utmost freedom for the expression of opinion, it must never be considered that we are in any way bound to statements made by correspondents.

To the Editor of "THE BELL NEWS AND RINGERS' RECORD."

A DOUBT.

SIR,—I saw published in your last issue a peal of Grandsire Triples, Holt's ten-part, rung at Bridgwater on the 12th December. I was there and heard the peal rung and timed it at intervals. They were ringing from twenty-two to twenty-three rounds a minute; the midway single turned up in 1 hr. 47 mins., and the bells ran round in 3 hrs. 20 mins. at a plain lead. Holt's end single was neither called or made, and the backward change turned up twice during the peal, therefore, I fail to see that it can be a true peal.

J. JOYCE.

DOUBLE NORWICH MAXIMUS.

SIR,—Please permit my final on the above question; Mr. Catchpole's explanation only makes the matter worse. The "majority of the Ipswich company not being yet convinced," is given as an excuse for ignoring everything previously written on the subject, and palming off on the Exercise a statement of which they have absolutely no proof. Mr. Heywood has had Thurston's note book for years. It was seen by one, at least, of the Norwich ringers before it left the city, and there is nothing in it bearing either on the method or on the peal. James Youngs certainly had no grounds for the statement he made in 1879 to the Ipswich company. He came to Norwich in 1856, and certainly could not have known so much of the subject as the rest of the company. There are at present living three members of the Norwich scholars who were elected members fifteen years before Youngs came to Norwich, and yet never gleaned anything about it; one of the three even worked for some time with Beales, the ringer of the 11th in the famous peal, and never heard him mention it!! NORWICHIAN.

TO DISTANT BELLS RINGING AT MIDNIGHT.

[The following lines are written by Miss Harriet Kate Wood, of the Home and Colonial College, and elder daughter of our very old friend Matthew A. Wood. We have therefore much pleasure in publishing them.]

Oh bells! sweet bells! that from your hallowed tower
Tell out the sweetest messages of love, of praise, of prayer;
From your ethereal mansions, from God's own Mercy-seat,
Ring out your peals, while changing years, in joy and sorrow fleet.

Below thee, far below thee, we mortal men live on,
Seeing in part and darkly, until has sunk our sun;
Yet lifting, as we hear that gentle call of thine,
Our hearts unto the Fatherland, to the Fount of Love Divine.

Above thee, far above thee, in space and chaos wrapt,
Hid by the veil mysterious, in the land by Angels track'd;
The songs of glory echo around the Throne of God,
And are borne back to earthly realms in the cadence of thy voice.

And when this mortal breath, O God, Thou wilt in mercy take,
And the spirit rend in twain the veil, and on wings of Angels make;
Its passage o'er the waters deep to that far eternal shore,
Then toll out bell, that another soul is at rest for evermore.

Ring on, sweet bells, while the Ages down Time's wild rugged steep roll,

Until the flaming heavens and earth, wrapt together like a scroll;
Shall pass away while the trumpet blasts, and before the judgment throne,

In the presence of his great Creator, each man will stand alone.

HARRIET KATE WOOD.

JOHN WARD.

It is with regret that we have to announce the death of the above-named ringer, which took place at Groby, near Leicester, on the 8th inst., at the age of sixty-eight years. Deceased, who was a native of Birmingham and had resided at Groby only a few months before his death, was a much respected member of the St. Martin's Guild for some thirty years, but commenced his ringing career under the famous William Chattell, of St. Philip's, Birmingham. Although being a fair Stedman Caters ringer, owing to business and other matters, he did not score many peals, but he had the keenest interest in the art and cultivation of change ringing and was a man to be relied upon when he promised "to be there." When the pic-nic season came round he was always present, except illness, or such like, kept him back, and no one was better welcomed than John Ward, for the company knew that when he was present there was a treat in store for them. I say "a treat," when I refer to the manner in which he used to deliver his quaint recitations, etc. For this sort of thing Mr. Ward had some very exceptionally good abilities, and when he was absent at any festive gathering it was rather a disappointment to the older members. A half-muffled peal of Stedman Cinques, in the inverted tittum position, was attempted on Tuesday, the 15th inst., at St. Martin's, Birmingham, but came to grief through the 4th bell casting rope after 1 hr. 7 mins. ringing:—W. Hancox, 1; B. Wittchell (conductor), 2; W. Barber, 3; T. Miller, 4; W. R. Small, 5; S. Reeves, 6; W. Short, 7; J. Groves, 8; F. Clayton, 9; R. Hall, 10; T. Reynolds, 11; C. H. Watts, 12. After this 896 of Double Norwich was rung on the back eight:—W. Hancox, 1; B. Wittchell, 2; W. Short (conductor), 3; W. R. Small, 4; J. Groves, 5; T. Miller, 6; W. Barber, 7; T. Reynolds, 8. Tenor 36 cwt.

P.S.—Mr. John Ward was a contributor to "THE BELL NEWS," having taken it in since it first came out up to his death. He had read the one for December 5th from beginning to end.

AN AUSTRALIAN LETTER.

DEAR SIR,—Just a line or two which may be of some interest to the bell ringers in the Old Country. In Melbourne we have founded an association which is called "The Victorian Association of Change Ringers," the principal aims being the advancement of the art of change-ringing. The membership is restricted by a qualification of 720 changes in any method. So far, we have fifteen members eligible, and that it is doing some good (being only three months in existence) the following facts will show:—On the 27th July, eight of the members attempted a peal at St. Patrick's Cathedral, a peal composed by Mr. A. Barnes (and rung by the Melbourne branch of the Midland Counties Association) and rang 4200 changes, or about eighteen calls from home, when the 4th and 5th changed course:—J. P. Nolan, 1; W. Shenton, 2; J. L. Murray, 3; W. Albinson, 4; J. C. Nolan, 5; J. Freeman, 6; A. Barnes (conductor), 7; W. Woollard, 8. At St. Paul's Cathedral, September 9th, a touch of Grandsire Caters (the first in Australia), 593 changes, conducted by A. Barnes. At St. Paul's Cathedral, Sunday, September 28th, a quarter-peal (bells half-muffled as a token) of respect to the memory of the late Sir George Verdon of Grandsire Triples, composed by the editor of "THE BELL NEWS," in 52 mins. Tenor 32½ cwt.—W. Shenton, 1; A. Barnes, 2; J. C. Nolan, 3; J. Freeman, 4; W. Albinson, 5; J. L. Murray (conductor), 6; W. Woollard, 7; J. Davies and J. Durrant, 8. At St. Patrick's cathedral, on September 28th, 1344 of Grandsire Triples, composed and conducted by A. Barnes, 4th and 5th in the middle every fourth lead.—E. Bryning, 1; J. P. Nolan, 2; A. Barnes, 3; J. L. Murray, 4; C. Nolan, 5; N. O'Shea, 6; W. Woollard, 7; J. Sheehan, 8. Also 504 Grandsire Triples, Holt's 1st part, conducted by J. L. Murray. E. Bryning, 1; J. Murray, 2; J. P. Nolan, 3; W. Shenton, 4; J. C. Nolan, 5; M. O'Shea, 6; W. Woollard, 7; A. Barnes, 8. On Saturday, October 17th, at St. Paul's Cathedral, an attempt for A. Barnes' peal, and rang over 3000 changes, when the third made a mistake and "stand" was called. J. P. Nolan, 1; W. Shenton, 2; J. C. Nolan, 3; J. Freeman, 4; W. Albinson, 5; W. Coppock, 6; A. Barnes (conductor), 7; M. O'Shea, 8. I will continue to send you a report of our doings quarterly and would feel obliged if you would give us a paragraph occasionally. With good wishes to brother ringers, I remain, Dear Sir, yours truly,

COMPLIMENTARY DINNER TO RINGERS AT POOLSTOCK, WIGAN.

On Wednesday evening, the 9th instant, at the invitation of the vicar and churchwardens of St. James's, a company of St. James's and Wigan ringers assembled at the Eckersley Arms Hotel. Amongst those present were the vicar (the Rev. H. C. Bull), the Rev. L. Bull (curate), Messrs. Burland and Bannister (wardens), Mr. Councillor G. B. Walker, Mr. John Meadow, Mr. Tom Taylor, and others.

The company sat down to an excellent repast, the following being the menu:—soup: mock turtle; fish: turbot, lobster sauce; joints: sirloin of beef, horseradish sauce; roast mutton, onion sauce; boiled turkey, celery sauce; tongue; sweets: plum pudding, blanc-mange, wine, jellies, cheese, celery; dessert: apples, pears, oranges, figs. After dinner, the Vicar, who had to leave early, rose to say a few words. He expressed his sincere thanks to those who had so kindly come down to St. James's to assist them in the ringing of their new bells, and he was sure he did not know what they would have done without them, nor did he know what they would have done without their instructor, Mr. Meadow, and he said it was very creditable to him for having brought St. James's ringers to their present state of proficiency on the bells. He hoped they would continue in their duties, and that in time they would be equal to any body of ringers in Lancashire, and that they would continue to use that intelligence which was much required in the art of bell-ringing. Mr. Bull apologised for leaving them so early that night.

Mr. R. O. Burland then took the chair and proposed the toast of "The Queen," also "The Prince and Princess of Wales and the rest of the Royal Family."

Mr. R. Bannister, in proposing the toast of the Bishop and Clergy of the Diocese, along with the Vicar and the Rev. L. Bull, their curate, said he hoped the clergy of St. James's would always work together in the interests of their parishioners, and do their best to retain that good feeling at St. James's which was so much desired, and which happily they had amongst them at present.

The Rev. L. Bull, in replying, said that while the clergy tried to do their duty, he thought a great deal also depended on the help of the laity to bring about that peace and harmony referred to by Mr. Bannister, and he said the chief thing was for them to work together in love and brotherhood, and in this respect he did not think Lancashire people were much behind. He was pleased to see the ringers from Wigan present who had given them so much help down at Poolstock. He also expressed his thanks for the toast to the clergy of St. James's.

Mr. Bannister then proposed the toast of "The Wigan Ringers," coupling with it the names of Mr. Councillor G. B. Walker and Mr. Gilbert Hall. He said that like the Vicar he did not know what they should have done without their willing help, which had been so unreservedly given.

Mr. Councillor Walker, in responding on behalf of his brother ringers, expressed his hearty thanks for the extremely kind manner in which they had been treated by the vicar and churchwardens on this, and many other occasions on which they had always been welcomed. The St. James's company would not be wanting for help at any time in their tower, for they would always come down when required to render any possible assistance so long as it lay in their power, and he was sure the new ringers of St. James's had always been ready to receive that instruction which Mr. Meadow had been able to give, and he hoped they would continue in the same groove until they reached a high state of proficiency. He (Mr. Walker) had been noticing their progress, and he could speak without doubt that he never saw a lot of men take hold of the ropes and work so well together as the ringers of Poolstock—and he hoped they would continue to drink in the instruction which Mr. Meadow imparted to them. He said the bells of Poolstock were the sweetest for many miles around, and when one heard their beautiful tones, could not help being reminded of the giver of those bells, and to whom they stand as a memory of one whose name had always been held in the highest esteem in the town of Wigan. He referred to the late Mr. Nathaniel Eckersley—and when within the sound of those bells, it caused them to think of the love which their benefactors had borne to the town. Mr. Walker again expressed his hearty thanks for the kindness and generosity shown by the Vicar, and he said it was the pleasing duty of the Wiganers to come down and render whatever help they could to the people of St. James's.

Mr. Gilbert Hall also responded. After the remarks of Mr. Walker he could but say little, as that gentleman had given utterance to the thoughts which had occupied his own mind. Referring to the giver of the bells to the parish, he hoped Mr. Eckersley's name would long be remembered and revered, as it deserved to be. He hoped he would have the pleasure for many years to come to render assistance at St. James's.

Mr. Tom Taylor then moved a vote of thanks to the new ringers. He was pleased to say they were doing their duty well in the work they had undertaken. He also begged to thank their instructor for the very able and untiring manner in which he had fulfilled his office, and in bringing them to their present state of proficiency, and he hoped that before another year had passed they would be able to ring the whole peal of 5040 changes.

Mr. John Meadow briefly responded, and thanked Mr. Tom Taylor and all the other speakers for the very flattering remarks they had said about him that evening. He hoped he had given them satisfaction as their instructor, and if he had done so, he would try to continue to merit their esteem.

Mr. William Wilson also spoke on the progress of the new ringers, and said although one of the new men himself, he was satisfied that under the instruction of Mr. Meadow they had made the best possible progress, and were on the right way to becoming good sound change-ringers. A vote of thanks to the chairman and vice-chairman brought to a close the very best evening it has been the lot of bell-ringers of Wigan to spend, at any rate, in their recollection.

CHEPSTOW, MONMOUTHSHIRE.

On Saturday, December 19th, the ringers of St. Peter's, Newnham-on-Severn, Gloucestershire, paid a friendly visit to Chepstow, they then made the best of their way to Tidenham, Gloucestershire, where hangs a very pretty ring of six bells, lately restored by the Loughborough firm, and the greatest credit is due to them for the splendid way they have executed the work; the tone and the "go" of them being everything that could be desired. The bells were raised in peal, and a six-score of Grandsire Doubles was rung by the following:—C. Scrivens, 1; Tom Simmonds, 2; C. W. Prosser, 3; F. Blanton, 4; J. Morley (conductor), 5, E. Hatton, 6. J. Morley hails from Chepstow. Also a six-score of Bob Doubles. W. Huron, 1; T. Simmonds, 2; C. W. Prosser, 3; F. Blanton, 4; J. Morley (conductor), 5; E. Hatton, 6. Also 720 Plain Bob Minor. C. Scrivens, 1; T. Simmonds, 2; R. Thompson, 3; G. Burcher, 4; C. H. Prosser, 5; F. Blanton (conductor), 6. R. Thompson hails from Chepstow. And another 720 of Plain Bob Minor in 25 mins. C. Scrivens, 1; T. Simmonds, 2; W. H. Prosser, 3; F. Blanton, 4; R. Thompson (conductor), 5; J. Morley, 6. Messrs. R. Thompson and J. Morley hail from Chepstow. Tenor about 11 cwt. in F. Sharp. The above 720s are the first on the bells since being restored. The ringers then returned to Chepstow, where some touches of Bob Triples were rung. An attempt was made for a quarter-peal of Bob Triples, but was lost after ringing over 1000 changes. The ringers wish through "THE BELL NEWS" to thank the Vicar of Tidenham for the use of the bells and also to Mr. J. Williams (Captain), who so kindly met them.

HEATH TOWN, WOLVERHAMPTON.

A new clock with four six-foot dials and striking the hours, has just been erected in the parish church tower as a memorial to the late Mr. William Rool, Goods Agent of the London and North-Western Railway, Wolverhampton. The starting ceremonial took place on the 19th inst., conducted by the Ven. Archdeacon Scott, of Stafford. John Smith and Sons, Midland Clock Works, Derby, carried out the work.

BILLINGSHURST (Sussex).—On Friday, December 11th, for practice, 720 Oxford Treble Bob and 720 Kent Treble Bob, in 50 mins. P. Wood, 1; W. Chantter, 2; W. Wadey, 3; M. Ireland, 4; J. Voice, 5; H. H. Chandler (conductor), 6. Chandler hails from Warnham.

ON CHRISTMAS EVE.

"Yes, yes, I'm getting an old man now, and I don't suppose I shall ring for many more Christmases. Man and boy I've been up and down that tower close on sixty years, and I never missed ringing Christmas Eve only once, and that's long ago. Did you say it's still snowing? Ah! it's a bitter night. Listen to the wind a-howlin' round the house! Just such a night as when Tom Stone's grandfather and I saw the ghost down at the church. No, I sha'n't tell you about it; you'd only laugh, and I can tell you it weren't any laughin' matter to us. Listen to the wind! Well, if you really want to know, I'll tell you, only fill my glass up first, someone. Well, as nigh as I recollect, it was close on fifty years ago, we ringers met on Christmas Eve to have a touch, as usual, 'cause we had a very good band at that time. We didn't have any Associations or Central Councils, and all them sort o' thing them times, but I fancy we could ring a thousand, on our old bells, and strike 'em, too, as well as any o' you young chaps. Well, as I was a sayin', we met to ring, but just as we were a-goin' up to the church, a messenger from the Hall stops us, and says, 'the Squire's took bad,' and we couldn't ring. So we just dropped in here, and came into this very room, and thought we'd have a jolly night of it for once. Old Bob Grimley, the sexton as was then, he sat over there in the corner agin' the fire, Jack Codlin, our tenor-man, sat where I'm now, Ben Davis, an' one or two others sat along-side him, and your grandfather, Tom, an' I sat just over there where you're now sittin'. Well, I don't quite remember now, who started it, but, somehow or other, we got a talkin' about ghosts, an' them sort o' things, an' one arter another, told all the most creepy an' dreadful stories they knew, till I do assure you, we began to feel our hair sort o' stand upright. Only Tom's grandfather and I said they was all rot, an' we didn't believe in 'em. Well, we'd got into the middle o' the tales, when there came a message from the Hall to say the squire was dead, and his lady wanted the bell put out. He said his missus was sorry to get anyone out on such a night, but she'd double the fee, an' give something extra to drink. Old Grimley shook his head; he didn't want to offend the lady, but he wouldn't go down to the church on a night like that for all the gold in 'Indy.' Nor would the others, so the feller turns to me, an' asked if I'd go. I see the others a-noddin' their heads to one another, and I thought I wouldn't be laughed at by them, so I says I'd go if Tom Stone 'ud go wi' me; an' o' course, I says to Grimley, 'I'm a goin' to have the fee.' 'You can ha' the fee if you like, but you're a young fool to go down to the church a night like this,' he says, so Tom an' I buttoned up our coats, an' took a lantern, an' started for the tower. It's all very well talkin' about ghosts when you're settin' over a fire with a lot o' other fellers, but I can assure you I didn't feel half so brave when I got out into the night with the snow a fallin', and the wind a blowin'; and I know Tom Stone was as bad. And, I can tell you that I've alwust found that them gents. as laugh so much about ghosts never seem very ready to go into a church by 'emselves arter dark, or if they do have to go, they come out agin' precious sharp. Well, we got down to the church, unlocked the door, set it wide open, and went in. I noticed Tom was a lookin' over his shoulder continually, as if he wasn't too sure what was about. Well, we went into the tower, set the light down, an' I got on the tenor block. Those days we rang on the ground floor. Tom, he was a seein' to the light, when, all of a sudden, he looks up an' gives a sort o' scream. 'Look there! Look there! What's that?' an' blunders the light down, an' rushes out o' the door, which banged to arter him. When he called out I looked up, an' see somethin' white standin' at the end o' the church, close to the pews, an' what with the tales we'd bin a tellin', and Tom's screamin' and slammin' the door, it quite upset me, and down I goes, all of a heap. Tom, soon as he got out o' the church, he ran all the way back here an' told them I'd bin carried away with ghosts. O' cause they was struck all o' a heap an' didn't know what to do, but the doctor, callin' in on his way home from the squire's, persuaded 'em to go along o' him and see what had become o' me. So they got a lot o' lights and sticks, and went down to the church, an' there they found me, more dead than alive. And there, hung over the back o' one o' the pews, was a surplice that one o' them choir boys had chucked there to save the trouble o' goin' to the vestry. 'Thankee, talkin' is a dry job; I don't mind if I do have another glass.'"

A CHRISTMAS CRACKER.

The following conversation recently took place between a ringer whose name appeared in the peal columns last week, and a gentleman, who, although he never attempted to pull a bell—probably never saw the inside of a ringing chamber; certainly never a bell chamber—evidently considers he knows something of bellringing.

No. 1 (looking at a print from a photo. block of the Poland Street Handbell Ringers): "These fellows look as if they had all got ropes round their necks."

No. 2: "That is the costume they appear in. They must be a rich company; I heard them 25 years ago. They have been all over the show."

No. 1 (reading from prospectus): "One of the latest achievements of these far-famed artists has been that on several occasions they received commissions from the Imperial Institute to perform selections of music upon the stupendous bells. The peal consists of ten notes, the largest bell weighing nearly two tons."

No. 2: "That is only chiming. Same as when they came here they got permission, and went up in the tower and chimed some tunes. That's not ringing or anything like it. Talk about the weight of the tenor. The tenor at St. Paul's weighs over three tons. The other evening a band of twelve men rang a peal there, one man ringing the tenor for 4 hrs. 26 mins."

No. 1: "Of course, there's not much difficulty in keeping it going; the job is to get the proper start so as to make it swing right."

No. 2: "This man rung the tenor so as to take part in the changes—over 5000. I saw him the other evening when I went to The Champion; in fact, he is secretary of the College Youths, so, of course would be at the dinner: he is just about such a built man as—round the corner. It is one of the greatest, if not the greatest achievement by one man upon so heavy a bell."

No. 1: "I don't see where the difficulty comes in, except, of course, to watch and see that he did not pull too hard so as to make the bell strike too loud at any time."

MORAL: "Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise."

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The Central Council Committee for the Collection of Peals, having organised a company of workers to deal with the methods hereinafter mentioned, invite all composers to send their compositions in any of these methods to the specified collector for proof and comparison. Compositions which have already appeared in Collections or Treatises need not be sent. References to those which have appeared in the columns of the ringing papers will be accepted as sufficient without the figures; but they should be accompanied by reference to any subsequent correspondence respecting them, and an assurance that they have not been pronounced false. In all cases it is desirable that the date of composition should be appended, whenever it can be accurately assigned. Collectors will not undertake to receive compositions merely for proof, nor to enter on any correspondence with regard to them. The following gentlemen will receive compositions in the methods set against their names. Collectors for other methods will be announced in due course.

BELL HOUSES.—THE OLD CAMPANILE OF SALISBURY CATHEDRAL.

The old campanile, which stood on the north side of Salisbury Cathedral, was a building of immense size and strength. It was 33-ft. square inside, and nearly 80-ft. high to the top of the parapet, independent of the super-structure and spire. The walls were nearly 8-ft. thick.

On each side were four lancet windows, and in the centre of the building an octagonal shaft of marble, from which corbels projected supporting the timbers of the floors. The staircase was formed in the thickness of the wall at the south-east angle, and was approached by a door and passage in the east wall. The ringing-floor was 37-ft. from the ground, and the bell-chamber about 32-ft. higher; the latter being square. A square super-structure of oak, each external face of which was divided into eight arched compartments with tracery heads and spandrels. Four of these divisions on each side were pierced as windows, and were filled with louvres. Above this rose an octagonal turret covered with lead, furnished with an embattled parapet, which was surmounted by a spire of timber, also covered with lead, and crowned by a cross and weathercock. The total height was about 190-ft. The foundations of the west and south walls and buttresses are still traceable in a very dry season; and a plan of them was drawn last summer. The history of the demolition of this noble structure is as follows: In October, 1746, several of the peal of eight bells being cracked, it was ordered that no more peals be rung after November 5th in that year, until the cracked bells were recast. This however was never done; but in 1762 an application was made to Bishop Thomas for a faculty for the sale of the second, third, fifth, seventh and tenor bells, which were all cracked, and lying on the ground floor. This faculty was refused. In 1769 the spire and upper part of the campanile was pulled down and the bell-chamber covered with a slated roof. In 1777 Bishop Hume granted a faculty for the sale of the five cracked bells, and Robert Wells, the Aldbourne bell-founder, bought them for £647 17s., the weight being computed at 154 cwt. 1 qr. He afterwards bought the treble and fourth bells for £105, and in 1790, by the advice of Mr. Wyatt, the cathedral architect, the remainder of the campanile was demolished.

The sixth, the only remaining bell, was then removed to the central steeple of the cathedral; and has ever since been used as the service bell, being tolled by an ingenious arrangement of levers, cranks and wires, attached to the clapper; and in that capacity she daily tolls the knell of her departed sisters. She is a fine-toned bell in the key of D; measuring 51½ inches in diameter, and weighing nearly 25 cwt. and has the following inscription: "WILLIAM PYRDVE. FVSA ANNO REGIS CAROLI 2DI XIII O AOQ DNI 1661 IMPENSIS ECCLESIAE . . . R.T. . . H.H."

The dates and founders of the other bells in the old campanile I have not been able to discover; but the seventh and tenor were recast by Clement Tosier, bellfounder, of Salisbury, in 1680, and there is a long and elaborate agreement among the cathedral documents, made between the Dean and Chapter and himself in conjunction with Elizabeth Flowery, relating thereto. The others were also probably cast by some of the old Salisbury founders.

The peal must have been a grand one, as the tenor was in the key of B flat and, must have weighed at least 50 cwt. I may just say that the weights of the bells are given in the late Mr. Ellacombe's Bells of the Church, but I imagine that they are not quite correct, since he gives the seventh at 30 cwt. and the tenor as 38 cwt. I think this must be a misprint for 58 cwt. There are numerous items of repairs and matters connected with the ringing of these bells among the cathedral documents.

THRAPSTON CHURCH BELLS, NORTHANTS.

A parish meeting was held in the National School, Thrapston, on Wednesday last, to consider the report and recommendation of the committee with respect to the re-casting of the peal of bells for the parish church. The Rector ably presided over a fully representative gathering, among whom we noticed Messrs. Hillyard and Pashler (churchwardens), G. Smith (Chairman of Parish Council), A. E. Knight, R. Bland, A. Smith, T. E. Sharp, F. Freeman, G. Siddons, G. Warder, J. Grant, S. C. Ryley, Payne, Carter, Clipson, W. Sutcliffe, Redhead, Cook, W. J. Hillyard, Hambling, Pettit, Lineker, Drake, G. T. Hollis, Partridge, King, Emery, Coates, A. Smart, Papworth, Pycraft, Jeffs, and Yates.

After the reading of the minutes of last meeting, the rev. Chairman gave a resume of work done by the committee, and announced that so far as the canvassing of the town had proceeded £150 had been given or promised towards the objects for which the meeting was called. The following resolutions were unanimously carried:—(1.) By Messrs. G. Smith and A. J. W. Hambling, "That this parish meeting approves of the estimate recommended by the committee, viz., that the existing five bells be re-cast, a new tenor bell added to weigh 13½ cwt., making the whole peal of six bells about 46 cwt. This, with the requisite fittings, to be erected at a cost of £328 4s; and pledges itself to support them in their effort to carry out the works as a national memorial to her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen." (2.) By Mr. Grant and Mr. A. Smith, "That, in the opinion of this meeting, it is desirable to provide a lasting memorial to commemorate the sixtieth anniversary of the longest, most peaceful, most prosperous, and glorious reign in the records of this nation, and that a suitable inscription be inscribed on the proposed peal of bells recording the fact." (3.) By Messrs. G. Siddons and E. Freeman, "That, in pursuance of the foregoing resolutions, a special Jubilee Fund be opened to raise the necessary amount for the carrying out of the proposed scheme." (4.) By Messrs. A. E. Knight and Pashler, "That, in view of the proposed scheme having taken the form of a parish matter, it is expedient that the committee be enlarged by the addition of Messrs. G. Smith, A. J. W. Hambling, and R. Sanderson." The following increased or additional subscriptions were promised: Mr. G. Smith, 10 guineas; Mr. E. Smith, London, 10 guineas; Mr. N. Smith, five guineas.—A vote of thanks to the Chairman, to which he suitably replied, closed the meeting.

Thrapston bells are now a ring of five (tenor 35½ in. diameter.) They are dated 1686, 1765, 1677 and 1634. The fourth bell is a mediæval casting not dated.

THE KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

At a meeting of the Central Committee of the above, held at Rochester, on Saturday, December 12th, 1896, there being present—C. Wilfrid Blaxland, Esq. (in the chair), and F. Finn, jun., Ashford District, A. Foreman, Canterbury District, W. Bedwell, Lewisham District, Rev. A. L. Brine and A. Palmer, Maidstone District, Messrs. Osborne and Haigh, Rochester District, W. Latter, Tunbridge District, Messrs. W. Martin, F. G. Newman, F. W. Thornton and Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, Hon. Sec., the following resolutions were passed:—

"That the Annual Meeting be held at Canterbury on the third Saturday in June, 1897, if the cathedral bells are at that time in a fit condition to be rung; if otherwise that Lewisham be the place of meeting." It was proposed to put the following alteration of rule xvii. before the members at the next annual meeting: "No alteration in or addition to these rules shall be made except at the annual general meeting, and any such alteration or addition shall take effect only from the date of such meeting. Three weeks' public notice of any proposed alteration or addition to be given by the Secretary." This was carried after a long and tedious discussion, seven voting in favour of it. It was determined "That the Chiddingstone band, who have recently joined the Association, should receive a few lessons," as, although they had rung several peals of Grandsire, they had learned on such a strange plan that it was at present impossible for them to ring with others.

It was agreed "That (a) peals that have been rung in which the conductor has called from manuscript or used any visible aid to memory should have a footnote appended to that effect, and that (b) in future no peal thus rung be reckoned as an Association peal." As a consequence of this it was determined to insert in rule xvi. the words "accompanied by a certificate from the conductor that no manuscript or other visible aid to memory has been used in calling." The latter part of the rule will then run: "Accounts of peals, accompanied by a certificate from the conductor, etc., must be sent to the Secretary within a month of their performance, or they will not be entitled to entry."

A vote of condolence with the family of the late Archbishop, the President of the Association, was unanimously passed, and the Secretary was requested to forward a letter to Mrs. Benson to that effect.

UNVEILING OF A PEAL-BOARD AT CHEPSTOW.

On Saturday evening, Nov. 28th, the ringers of St. Mary's, Chepstow, and Messrs. Butler, Attwell and Jones, of Newport (Mon.) assembled in the ringing-chamber of the above church to witness the unveiling of a peal-board by their Vicar, the Rev. E. J. Hensley. The peal-board records two excellent peals, viz.: one of Grandsire Triples by the Newport band, and the first in the method on the bells since 1837; the other a peal of Darlaston Bob Triples, being the first in the method on the bells and the first in the County of Monmouth, rung by Mr. John Carter and other Birmingham friends.

The Vicar expressed the pleasure it gave him to come and perform the unveiling ceremony. He said that it should be an incentive to the local band to strive to attain such proficiency in ringing to be able to ring peals without outside assistance, and he hoped they would soon want him to do a similar duty for them as he was that day performing. He was sorry that defective sight prevented his taking part with them, but he was always pleased to hear their beautiful bells. He regretted that some ringers came for practice and did not come to ring for service, which he thought was hardly fair. Afterwards some touches of Grandsire Triples were rung.

POLESWORTH, WARWICKSHIRE.

Special services were held at this Parish Church, on Sunday, December 6th, in connection with the restoration of the fine old church bells, and the addition of a sixth bell. The sermon in the morning was preached by the Vicar, and in the evening by the Rev. Canon Maden, a former Vicar of this parish, who preached an able and eloquent sermon from Chronicles xi. 17, on the influence of association. The work of repairing the bells was entrusted to the well-known firm of Messrs. J. Taylor and Sons, of Loughborough, and the result is in every way very satisfactory. The bells were rung throughout the day. In the afternoon the Tamworth ringers rang 720 of Grandsire Minor, being the first 720 on the bells, also several 6-scores of Grandsire Doubles. W. Lago, 1; A. Everitt, 2; C. Chapman, 3; J. Pratt, 4; R. P. Bindley, 5; J. W. Timms (conductor) 6.

ASPLEY GUISE (Beds.—On Saturday, October 31st, at the church of St. Botolph's, 720 Oxford Treble Bob. S. A. Avis, 1; C. Herbert, 2; W. Smith, 3; C. Herbert, 4; E. Herbert, 5; M. Lane (conductor), 6. On Saturday, November 1st, 720 Bob Minor. R. Wells, 1; H. Checkley, 2; W. Smith, 3; C. Herbert, 4; E. Herbert, 5; M. Lane (conductor), 6.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN,
CHURCH BELL HANGER, AND TUNER.
SALISBURY, WILTSHIRE.

THOMAS BLACKBOURN is a practical Ringer, and having had considerable experience in Church Bell hanging and tuning, with confidence solicits the patronage of the Clergy, Churchwardens and Ringers generally.

T. B. has devoted a great deal of attention to the fixing of Clock Hammers used for striking the hours and quarters on Church Bells. These are sometimes placed in awkward and dangerous positions, even by Church Clock Makers.

T. BLACKBOURN'S experience enables him to affix these hammers, with their accompanying levers in a most accurate manner, preventing any danger to the bell frame or clock. He will be glad to advise on clocks as well as bells.

The Ellacombe Chime Hammers fixed. Sole Fixer of Libby's Apparatus for Silent practice. Handbells supplied. Bells weighed in the tower at a small cost.

The Bell News &amp; Ringers' Record.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 26, 1896.

ONCE again the festive season of the year is upon us—the period hallowed for nearly nineteen hundred years as one when sentiments of genuine goodwill and peace should reign among men. "Christmas is here!" many of our readers will be able to say, as soon as this paper reaches their hands, and such knowledge will accentuate the fact that they have important duties to perform as members of the Church. No other nation can keep Christmas like the people of these islands; the voices of Church Bells on this Christmas festival are only heard to perfection among us. That we know, and rejoice thereat. To people of this country what would Christmas be without the joyous sound of our bells? A festival shorn of one of its greatest adornments, so to speak. And we, who constitute "The Exercise," are the ringers; our labour and ingenuity is called into play to give effect to the holiness and happiness of the great Christian festival; we have striven to so perfect ourselves in such work, not altogether for amusement, but that we may officiate successfully in the church upon such occasions as Christmas. Is this true? In a great many instances we know that it is. Many there are who devote themselves to change-ringing so that they may, primarily, render service to their God in His Church.

What a happy time it would be if this spirit was universal; if all our brethren dwelt together in unity. We must still hope for such a time; to despair altogether would be folly.

"A MERRY CHRISTMAS," which we now sincerely wish all our readers, we hope will be merry to them in the best sense.
