A special meeting of the East Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire Association was held on Saturday at South Normanton Parish Church, when a short service was held in the tower for the purpose of dedicating a peal board. The board records two peals, the first a peal of Grandsire Doubles, rung on Monday, May 14th, 1928, and the second a peal of Bob Minor rung on Sunday, July 14th, 1929, as part of the national thanksgiving for the recovery from illness of H.M. the King. A good company was present, and the bells were rung from 3 p.m. to 4.30, when the Rector, the Rev. J. H. Lewis, Mrs. Halpin, a local lady who was invited by the ringers to unveil the board, and the churchwarden (Mr. A. J. Evans), arrived for the service. The Rector, as the representative of the church, was invited by one of the local ringers (Mr. J. W. England) to accept the peal board as a gift from the ringers. The Rector invited Mrs. Halpin to unveil the board, and, after the dedication, formally charged the churchwardens with the care of the same, to which Mr. Evans suitably replied. The Rector then gave a short address, in the course of which he described the bells, and also spoke of his appreciation of the services of the church bellringers. Although the church has possessed five bells from 1813, and six from 1902, these two peals were the first to be rung on them, and the only method rung by the local company, until recently, was Grandsire Doubles. The tower now possesses a useful band, who attend regularly for Sunday service ringing in various Minor methods.

The tenor was given to the church by Mr. George Dodd, and is dated 1854. The 5th was cast by George Oldfield, and bears no date. The 3rd bears the inscription W. B. and Co., and is dated 1774. This bell is supposed to have come to this church from Pinxton, during the incumbency of the Rev. — Coke, who was Rector of the two parishes. The 4th, the gift of the Rev. Guy Bryan, and the 2nd, the gift of Sir Eardley Wilmot, are both dated 1813, while the treble was the gift of Miss Wright, a resident of the parish. The old five were retuned and treble added in 1902, the work being carried out by Messrs. Taylor and Co.

The service concluded, the company adjourned to the Church School, where about 40 sat down to a substantial tea, generously provided by the Rector, who placed the catering in the capable hands of Mrs. A. Foulkes, assisted by the wives of four local ringers.

After tea, votes of thanks were passed to the Rector for providing tea, Mrs. Halpin, who performed the unveiling ceremony, and the ladies who had assisted at the tea.—The Rector responded, giving the association a warm welcome to South Normanton.

The bells were then again set going in touches of various methods from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor, until 8.15, when they were lowered in peal, and brought to a close a successful and enjoyable meeting. The towers represented were Alfreton, Blackwell, Crich, St. Peter's, Derby, Horsley, Heanor, Morton Mansfield, Mansfield Woodhouse, Melbourne, Ripley, Sutton-in-Ashfield, Selston, South Normanton and Tibshelf.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION.

PRESENTATION TO FORMER MASTER.

A most enjoyable day was spent at Llandudno on Saturday, September 14th, by those members of the North Wales Association who attended the half-yearly meeting. A service was held at Holy Trinity Church and was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. Watkyn Davies), who also gave a very interesting address. He extended a hearty welcome to the visitors, and in the course of his address commented upon Llandudno possessing two lady ringers. He said he would like to see more lady ringers, for they added charm to the belfry.

A short business meeting was held in the schoolroom, the Rev. W. M. Morgan-Jones, president of the association, presiding.

During the meeting Mr. A. J. Hughes, formerly Master of the association, was presented with a travelling clock in recognition of his past services.

Mr. Hughes resigned the Mastership upon being transferred to Yorkshire, and regret was expressed at his departure from the district.

An excellent tea had been arranged by Mr. S. Brown, the Llandudno secretary, at Payne's Cafe, and in the evening good practice was put in on the bells until seven o'clock.

WEDDING BELLS.

On Thursday, September 26th, at the Church of St. Mary-the-Virgin, Burton Latimer, Northants, a quarter-peal of Bob Major (1,280 changes) in 50 mins.: E. York (first quarter) 1, C. Hendry (first away from treble) 2, J. W. Lines 3, H. Turner 4, B. Morris (first quarter-peal on eight) 5, J. Saddington 6, J. Mitchell (first quarter-peal on eight) 7, G. Lines (conductor) 8.

Rung to commemorate the wedding of Mr. Philip Rigby Baldwin Jacques, son of the late Rev. W. B. Jacques and Mrs. Jacques, of Orlingbury Hall, to Miss Joan Mary Williamson, Mrs. Jacques being patron of the living of St. Mary's. Also to commemorate the ninth anniversary of the reopening of the bells after rehanging, and the addition of two trebles to complete the octave, Mrs. Jacques being the donor of the treble bell.

THE YORKSHIRE COMMEMORATION DINNER.

A LINK WITH JASPER SNOWDON.

Mr. P. J. Johnson proposed 'The Visitors,' and said that almost all the countries of the United Kingdom were present. They very heartily welcomed Canon Dolan, Rector of St. Marie's, Sheffield, who was held in high regard by the ringers of Sheffield and district. He thought perhaps he would be correct in describing him as being connected with Ireland. Then they laid with them Mr. William Thomas, chairman of the Bristol United Guilds, who had brought Mrs. Thomas with him, and with him, of course, they got very close to Wales. He understood that Scotland would have been represented, but he saw by that morning's paper that the gentleman was brought up at Bow Street in connection with the mania for window slashing (laughter). In answer to the charge the Scotsman said he was a bellringer (laughter), and he committed the offence because he wanted to see 'glass go' (laughter). They had many distinguished visitors with them, first of all their dear old friend Mr. J. W. Rowbotham, whom they welcomed once more on his native heath of Sheffield, but who came there to represent the Ancient Society of College Youths. He believed Mr. Rowbotham was the only person present that night who rang in a peal with Jasper Whitfield Snowdon. Mr. Johnson gave a special welcome to Mr. J. T. Rew and to the representatives of all the other associations present, including a representative of that young and lusty infant, the Guildford Diocesan Guild. That representative was, however, better known to most of them, he said, as the editor of 'The Ringing World,' to whom they owed a great debt of gratitude for the work he had carried on for many years in the interests of the art of ringing, very often under serious difficulties and handicaps. One would like to feel that all ringers gave the same encouragement to 'The Ringing World' that the paper gave to ringing (applause).

Canon Dolan, who responded, had to correct Mr. Johnson's inference that he was connected with Ireland. He was, he said, a Yorkshireman. Canon Dolan went on to refer in a humorous way to the difficulties which he experienced from his neighbours in connection with the ringing of the bells at St. Marie's Church, and said that bellringers were very enthusiastic men, but sometimes they required a good deal of diplomatic handling (laughter). He recalled the fact that in 1885 a muffled peal was rung at St. Marie's on the death of Mr. Jasper Snowdon, and only one of the ringers of that peal was living to-day. That ringer had been steeplekeeper and ringer at St. Marie's for 55 years, and he was Mr. James Dixon, who was present with them that night (applause). His was a great record of perseverance and diligence. Canon Dolan reminded his hearers that the bells had a solemn place in the service of the church, and it did not, he said, require a great deal of imagination to hear the voice of the ringers in those bells. These were days of great experiences. The voice of man could be carried thousands of miles without wires; was it foolish, was it altogether impossible, therefore, to imagine that some day they might discover that there was some sort of spiritual connection between the hand that pulled the bell and the voice that the bell gave out? He did not see there was anything impossible in that, therefore, when they rang the bells let them remember that when the bells were placed in the steeple they were blessed, that they were meant to be a call to prayer, and that it might be that the ringers communicated to the bells something of their own spirit. If they rang in the spirit in which the bells were blessed, they would speak in their own tongue, but if the spirit of the ringer was not the spirit in which the bells were blessed, the spirit of the bells might be nullified. Therefore, he liked to see the men who had rung the bells go into the church and say their prayers.

YOUNG RINGERS' OPPORTUNITIES.

Mr. Palmer at this point announced letters of apology from the Lord Bishop of Sheffield, the Rev. W. G. Largie (Sharrow), the Rev. W. A. Baker (Handsworth), the Rev. E. Saleby (Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association), Mr. E. Guise (secretary of the Gloucester and Bristol Association), Alderman J. S. Pritchett (Presiding Ringing Master of St. Martin's Guild), Mr. T. H. Reeves (secretary) and Mr. A. Padden Smith (Birmingham), Mr. G. Holmes (Workington) and Mr. H. E. Buggs (churchwarden of Dore).

Mr. Albert Walker submitted 'Continued Prosperity to the Yorkshire Association,' and referred to the success which had attended the work of the association and the progress it had made. When it was founded in 1875 there were about a hundred members; to-day there were over 1,200. Mr. Walker quoted from a letter he had received from the Birmingham veteran, Mr. Thomas Russam, in which he spoke of the late Mr. C. H. Hattersley being always a welcome visitor to Birmingham, of the fun there sometimes used to be on the occasion of his visits, and of the interesting anecdotes that passed between Mr. Hattersley and Henry Johnson. The future prosperity of the Yorkshire Association and of all other associations, Mr. Walker went on, depended upon their being able to instil into their younger members some of the enthusiasm of those men whose memory they were honouring that night and whose work was being so ably continued by the present excellent officers, so that these young members, with better opportunities, could carry on the good work of the past. Young ringers of to-day had the finest opportunities to excel; they had, for the most part, good going bells, and splendid ringing chambers; they had excellent libraries and cheap facilities to get to other towers and to meetings for social intercourse, which was the foundation of continued prosperity (applause).

Mr. J. E. L. Cockey gave 'Kindred Ringing Societies.' They were honoured, he said, by having so many other ringing organisations represented among them that night, from as far south as Bristol and Bath, and from the doyen of all societies, the Ancient Society of College Youths. Membership of that society was one of the greatest ringing honours one could attain to in these days. Mr. Johnson had referred to the representation of the different countries there that night and had said that Scotland was not represented. He wished to correct him in that, for Scotland was represented in his (the speaker's) wife (applause). She was not a ringer, but she took a kindly interest in ringing (applause). Mr. Cockey threw out the suggestion that more should be done to bring about co-operation between ringers and the other church societies, so that more might be known of the unselfish work which the former did. In giving the toast, Mr. Cockey said the Yorkshire Association wished kindred societies every success, and he coupled with the toast the name of Mr. Rowbotham.

PERSONAL REMINISCENCES OF SNOWDON.

Mr. Rowbotham, in responding, conveyed the fraternal greetings of the Ancient Society of College Youths to the Yorkshire Association, and went on to speak of his early associations with Sheffield ringing. As a boy, he said, he was apprenticed to Thomas Hattersley and learned to ring. That was in 1876, when the Yorkshire Association was in its infancy. Of course, he heard a lot about Mr. Snowdon, and when Mr. Snowdon came to Sheffield and a peal was arranged for him, he (the speaker) was asked to stand in, and it was performed very successfully. That was on November 4th, 53 years ago at the Cathedral. Mr. Snowdon after the peal complimented him on the way in which he rang, and the record of the peal was to be found in those marvellous volumes which were the priceless possession of the College Youths. After that he was invited to take part in a peal at Holbeck with Mr. Snowdon, and in that, too, they were successful. Then he migrated to the Metropolis, and was one of those who made a departure from standard methods and began to practice Double Norwich. He (Mr. Rowbotham) provided Mr. Snowdon with a lot of matter about peals which had been rung years before, for the treatise on the method which he wrote, and the first book which left Mr. Snowdon's hands was sent to him, and written upon it was, 'With the author's compliments to his dear friend Rowbotham.' Could anybody desire a prouder possession than that? asked Mr. Rowbotham. He had the melancholy opportunity of taking part in a funeral peal for Jasper Snowdon, in which another dear friend of Snowdon's rang, Sir Arthur Heywood, and he (the speaker) represented the College Youths at the unveiling of the memorial window in Ilkley Church—the finest thing that had ever been erected to the memory of a ringer.

'The Chairman' was proposed by Mr. S. F. Palmer, who referred to Archdeacon Darbyshire's interest in the ringers at Sheffield Cathedral and of his constant consideration for them. The relations which existed between the Rector and churchwardens on the one hand, and the ringers on the other, made Sheffield Cathedral one of the best ringing places in the country (applause). Similar relations existed at St. Marie's, and it was due to a large extent to the kindness of the incumbents in charge (applause).

The Archdeacon briefly acknowledged the toast and said he hoped his successors would always have as fine a band of ringers as they had got at Sheffield Cathedral at present.

This concluded the speechmaking, which was followed by an hour of social intercourse. An enjoyable musical programme was carried out, in which songs were sung by Mr. J. H. Borwick, Mr. H. Muscroft (of the well-known Orpheus Male Voice Choir) and Mrs. Milnes, while Mr. W. C. Langley contributed a violin solo. The enjoyable proceedings terminated at 11 p.m., but many of the visitors who stayed the night met again next morning at the Cathedral and St. Marie's for ringing before going their several ways home.

RINGER'S 'JUBILEE.'

At Hinton, near Evesham, on Thursday, September 26th, a quarter-peal of Grandshire and St. Dunstan's Doubles (1,260 changes) in 49 mins.: F. L. Barnes 1, Miss R. Johnson 2, Mrs. A. V. Harris 3, R. Harris 4, F. J. Johnson (conductor) 6. Rung as a compliment to the conductor on the 65th anniversary of his birthday, also to commemorate his 50 years as a bellringer, he having rung in rounds for the first time on September 27th, 1879. The above are all regular Sunday service ringers.

FIVE SURPRISE EXTENTS FOR SUNDAY SERVICES.

At St. Mary's Church, Fryerning, Essex, on Sunday, September 29th, five Surprise extents were rung for harvest festival services: For 7 a.m. choral Eucharist, 720 Norwich Surprise; for 11 a.m. matins, 720 York Surprise and 720 Ipswich Surprise; for evensong, 720 Wells Surprise and 720 Cambridge Surprise, the ringers taking part being F. Wright, L. Camp, G. Camp, C. Harrington, E. Stich, H. Wright, A. Bradley (conductor).

WORCESTERSHIRE AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION. SUGGESTED RESOLUTION OF LOYALTY TO THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The quarterly meeting of the Northern Branch of the Worcestershire and Districts Association was held at Stone on Saturday, September 21st. This was the first meeting the branch has held at Stone. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. S. Stork). The organist and choir were also in attendance, and rendered the musical portions of the service very effectively. The Vicar gave an address based on the chief points of the association's form of service.

Tea was served in the Parish Room, about 60 being present and being waited upon by the Vicar and Mrs. Stork, assisted by several ladies of the parish.

The business meeting took place in the schoolroom, the Vicar presiding. Apologies were announced from Mr. J. Broad, Mr. W. Fisher, Mr. J. F. Simpson and Mr. H. Mason.

The officers were all re-elected, and it was unanimously agreed to support Mr. T. J. Salter's proposal that at the annual meeting to be held at Worcester the branch should support a resolution pledging the association to loyalty to the Central Council.

Mr. A. E. Parsons moved that in future a collection should be taken at the end of the service for the benefit of the belfry repair fund at whatever church the meeting was held.

Reference was made by Mr. Parsons to the loss the association had sustained by the death of one of its oldest members in the person of Mr. G. N. Cockin, of Halesowen. He was highly respected in every sphere of life.—It was agreed that the secretary should send a letter of sympathy to Mrs. Cockin and family, and the members stood in silence to mark their respect.

On the motion of Mr. Parsons, a very hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for presiding at the meeting, the use of the bells, and arranging the service, which everyone, he said, had thoroughly enjoyed; also to the organist and choir for their services. Mr. Parsons added that their best thanks were also due to the Vicar for providing tea, and to Mrs. Stork and to the ladies who had so kindly assisted in the handing round of the good things provided.—The Vicar, in reply, said he thought it quite an honour to preside over so important a body of church workers, and he would be pleased to see them again in the near future.

A touch on the handbells outside the Parish Room concluded a very successful meeting, and also amused the parishioners and visitors. Ringing in various methods was done on the church bells both in the afternoon and evening.

WARWICKSHIRE RESTORATIONS.

ARBY BELLS AUGMENTED.

The bells at the Church of St. Wilfred, Arby, Warwickshire, have been retuned and augmented to six and hung in iron frames by Messrs. Taylor, of Loughborough. The tenor, which is 7 cwt. 0 qr. 12 lb., was cast by Edward Arnold, of Leicester, 1790, the 5th by Watts 1825, the 3rd by Robert Newcombe, of Leicester, about 1590, the three new bells being the front three.

A special service was held on Sunday, Sept. 29th, at 3.30 p.m., when the Bishop of Coventry dedicated the new bells. Ringers were present from Filloughley, Coventry and Nuneaton, also Mr. J. P. Fidler and Mr. C. Harrison, of the Loughborough Foundry. After the service, the ringers from Filloughley opened the bells with rounds and call changes. 360 of Bob Minor was then rung by: J. P. Fidler 1, C. Harrison 2, W. Martin 3, E. Martin 4, A. Wilkerson 5, J. H. W. White (conductor) 6. Also 120, in which H. O. White and D. Ellender took part.

The tone and the 'go' of the bells are excellent.

A 'BRIANT' RING REHUNG.

On Wednesday, August 20th, the ring of six bells (tenor 12 cwt.) at the Church of St. Botolph, Newbold-on-Avon, cast in 1792 by John Briant, of Hertford, were rededicated at a special service at 7.30 p.m. Ringers were present from Rugby, Nuneaton and Coventry, and also Messrs. J. Oldham, J. P. Fidler and D. Collins, of the Loughborough Foundry.

The bells have been retuned and rehung in a new iron frame, and the work reflects great credit upon Messrs. Taylor and Co. Touches of Stedman and Grandsire Doubles, Cambridge Surprise and Kent Treble Bob Minor were rung. The ringers were afterwards entertained by the Vicar and Mr. Cotterill Boughton Lee.

PORTISHEAD LADY RINGER MARRIED.

On Monday, September 23rd, the marriage took place at Portishead Parish Church of Miss Adelaide Stokes and Mr. Percy Charles Simper, Preb. H. W. Jukes, Rector, and the Rev. H. S. Briggs officiating. The bride has been a member of the Portishead band since 1913, when she commenced ringing, and during the war helped with other ladies to ring the bells regularly for Sunday services.

She took part in the first peal which was rung for the Ladies' Guild at Portishead on January 30th, 1915, and has always assisted to ring for any special services of the church.

Among the numerous presents was a clock from the ringers, who 'fired' their good wishes from the belfry as the happy couple left the church.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We hear that the Painswick Youths, who held the record for the longest length rung on twelve bells until the recent performance of 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Ashton-under-Lyne, contemplate making an effort to regain the honour. Mr. Albert Wright, the composer and conductor of the 13,001 Grandsire Cinques rung in 1920 at Painswick, has a 16,000 odd which he hopes may be attempted in the near future.

The first peal of Stedman Cinques on record was rung by the College Youths at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields on October 6th, 1788. It was a 6,204, and not only was it the first, but also the longest in the method until 1806, when its length was supplanted by a 6,334 rung by the Cumberland Youths at Spitalfields.

William Booth, a famous old Sheffield ringer, born in 1783, and grandfather of Charles H. Hattersley, died on October 6th, 1849.

The anniversary of the death of another outstanding figure in the Exercise occurs next week. Henry Hubbard, born in 1807, died on October 9th, 1881.

Mr. F. G. Newman wishes to thank all ringing friends who subscribed to his fund (which amounted to £21 3s.), and also Mr. W. T. Cockerill for his kindness.

AN OLD OXFORD UNIVERSITY RINGER.

THE UNIVERSITY SOCIETY'S FIRST 720 RECALLED.

The will has just been proved of Mr. William Christopher H. Burne, of Upper Link, St. Mary Bourne, Hants, who died recently at the age of 74 years, and whose estate has been sworn at £53,079.

Mr. Burne, who, before he removed to St. Mary Bourne, where he took great interest in the restoration of the bells, resided at Woking, where he served for many years on the Urban District Council, and was one of its most able chairmen.

While at Oxford, Mr. Burne learned to ring—although he did not follow up the art in later years—and rang the tenor to a peal of Grandsire Triples at Appleton by members of the combined Universities, on March 10th, 1877. (This peal was referred to in 'Glimpses of the Past,' in our issue of September 13th.) Mr. F. A. Milne (president of the Middlesex County Association) and the Rev. C. D. P. Davies are the only survivors of that band of over fifty years ago.

The late Mr. Burne also knew something of method ringing, for he rang the treble to a 720 of Bob Minor at St. Thomas', Oxford, just before the peal above mentioned. It was the first 720 by the Oxford University Society. The following was the paragraph which appeared in 'Church Bells' at the time:—

'On Thursday, February 22nd, the following members of the Oxford University Society of Change Ringers rang at St. Thomas', Oxford, 720 Bob Minor in 25 mins.: W. C. H. Burne (Kemble) treble, C. Davies (Pembroke) 2, J. R. Kebble (Kemble) 3, F. A. Milne (Kemble) 4, H. W. Ellicott (Brasenose) 5, * — tenor. Conducted by H. W. Ellicott. The above is the first 720 Bob Minor ever rung by this society. * The gentleman who rung tenor objects to his name appearing in such an insignificant performance as a 720.'

MR. TOM BEADLE APPEAL FUND.

Previously acknowledged £5 Os. 6d., Mr. F. A. Milne £1, Mr. W. Pickworth 10s., Mr. R. Lathbury (Cambridge) 5s., Miss V. Shorter (Cambridge) 5s. Donations will be gratefully received on behalf of Mr. Beadle by Mr. Wm. H. Hollier, 29, Duke Road, Chiswick, W.4.

BUCKLEBURY BELLS.

Bucklebury Church, Berks, where a band of eight ladies rang a peal on Saturday week, has an octave of bells of varying date, with tenor about 14 cwt. in G.

The oldest bell, which was dated 1581, unfortunately cracked and had to be recast about three years ago. This was done in memory of George Davis, the late foreman of the tower, whose name appears on the recast bell. The inscriptions and dates are as follow :—

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.
PLEASANT THAMES-SIDE MEETING.

One of the best practice meetings held in the East Berks and South Bucks Branch was that at Cookham on Saturday last. Perfect weather for ringing and a nice breeze from the river combined to make it a success.

A bright service and no sermon, but an excellent talk on concord by Dr. Bachelor, the vice-president of the branch, was appreciated. Then tea in the Vicarage garden, where the Vicar warmly welcomed over 40 ringers, and showed other talents besides that of preacher.

A few tunes on handbells by the Barlow party and one other were followed by some Stedman Triples, whilst the choir boys had their tea, after which the tower was revisited and the bells were kept going in various methods to a late hour.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.
ANNUAL ELECTIONS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—It is not often that I disagree with Mr. Edwards, but I must point out that on this subject facts are against him. In the Suffolk Guild we have always elected our representatives on the Central Council each year, and none of the results he anticipates have occurred.

He groups together three things which are connected, but not inseparable: (a) Triennial sessions of the Council. (b) Triennial elections of committees. (c) Triennial election of representatives. I have not seen any suggestion of an alteration of (a) or (b), and if they were altered there is no reason to expect the consequences he fears: as there are no such bad results in other bodies. A committee can be, and usually is, continuous, whether elected annually or triennially.

All, however, that is proposed is that each Society should elect its representatives every year. What we have found is that the annual re-election of our representatives, along with our other officers, keeps our representatives alive, and the interest in the Council keen. It so often happens at an annual meeting, where the old routine is carried out, that a representative says, or sends word, that it is time they elected someone else, but the matter is shelved because it is not the right year for the election. Then when the election comes the old four are re-elected without comment; or some new member is elected, because it happened to be convenient, rather than because he is the most suitable member.

HERBERT DRAKE.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD.
TRURO BRANCH MEETING.

A well attended meeting of the Truro Branch was held at St. Gluvias', on Saturday last, the eve of the Feast of St. Michael and All Angels, when approximately 50 ringers were present from Truro Cathedral, Mabe, Illogan, Perranzabuloe, Perranwell, Gwennap, Kenwyn, St. Newlyn East and Redruth. The six bells were set going at 2.30 p.m. by the local band, as a bride and bridegroom left the church after a wedding ceremony, and were kept going by the various bands until service time at 4.30, and from 6 p.m., when tea was over, until, about 8.30 p.m., train and bus claimed everyone's attention.

The service, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. E. H. Shore, consisted of a hymn, the Magnificat, an address of welcome and suitable prayers. Tea, at the invitation of the Vicar, was served on the Vicarage lawn, and was enjoyed in bright sunshine. A vote of thanks was proposed to the Vicar and Mrs. Shore for their kindness by the Rev. W. H. R. Trehwella, and was seconded by the district secretary, Mr. A. S. Roberts.

After tea, the district committee, consisting of a member from each tower in the district, met to do the needful business. The Rev. W. H. R. Trehwella, of Truro, was elected chairman, and Mrs. A. S. Roberts secretary for the ensuing year. It was decided to hold the extra meeting, which should have taken place in July, at St. Mabe, to encourage the scheme for the rehanging and augmentation of the five bells, on October 26th.

Two invitations were received for the half-yearly meeting, one from Redruth and one from St. Newlyn East, and it was decided to make the selection at the St. Mabe meeting.

In the evening several ringers visited Perranwell, about three miles distant, for further ringing.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

A meeting of the Alton District was held at Privett on Saturday, September 21st, the numbers present being disappointing, as only 14 turned up from the following towers: Blackmoor, Binsted, North Stoneham, Portsmouth Cathedral and Winchester. However, several of the six-bell ringers present were very well satisfied, as it enabled them to get plenty of eight-bell practice in Grandsire, one old gentleman of 71 ringing the tenor behind to every touch during the afternoon and evening, to his great delight.

The next meeting will be held at Selborne and Newton Valance on November 23rd, due notice of which will appear in 'The Ringing World.'

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

RINGING COMPETITION AT EAST MARKHAM.

The North Notts Association's annual ringing contest for the Crawford silver cup took place at East Markham on Saturday, September 21st, when five companies competed. The cup was given to the association, to encourage good ringing, by Mr. Arthur Crawford, of Rampton, in memory of his father, Mr. Charles Crawford, who did good work both for the association and the Church of East Markham. The contest drew together a large gathering of ringers and their friends, some 70 in all, and created great interest among the inhabitants of the village. Mr. A. Crawford was unfortunately unable to be present.

The ballot for the order in which the companies were to ring took place at 2.45 p.m., and the contest commenced at 3 p.m. Mr. J. R. Brearley, of Bolsterstone, near Sheffield, kindly undertook to judge the contest, which he did in a most able manner.

A short service was held at 5.15 p.m., the Vicar, the Rev. R. E. Rogerson, officiating. Miss E. Rose kindly played the organ, after which the ringers sat down to tea, which was served in an excellent manner by Miss A. R. Stockdale and helpers.

The Rev. R. E. Rogerson presided over the meeting, supported by the Rev. R. F. Wilkinson, Mr. G. Booth (warden), Mrs. C. Crawford, Mrs. A. Crawford, Mrs. Rowsell, Mr. J. R. Brearley, Mr. H. Haigh, hon. treasurer, and Mr. H. Revill and Mr. R. W. Stockdale, hon. secretaries, together with members from Anston, Shireoaks, Mistoron, Edwinstowe, Sutton-on-Trent, Worksop, Collingham, Gamston, East Retford, West Retford, Folkingham, Ordsall, and the local company.

It was resolved to hold the next meeting at Gamston on November 9th.

Mr. Arthur Crawford was elected an honorary life member on the motion of Mr. H. Haigh, seconded by Mr. H. Stanton. Mr. J. W. Craig, of Ordsall, was elected a vice-president, and Mr. J. R. Brearley a non-resident life member.

The result of the contest was next announced. The faults lost by the competitors, given in the order in which they rang, were as follows:—

	Faults.	Penalties.	Total.
Ordsall	149	0	149
Shireoaks	171	30	201
Sutton-on-Trent	149	10	159
South Anston	92	0	92
Worksop	280	20	300

The first four rang a test piece consisting of 360 changes on six bells, but Worksop had the great courage to compete on eight bells.

The winners of the contest were declared to be South Anston. In making his award, the judge remarked that the striking of to-day was not to be compared with that previous to the war, and appealed to all to try and improve the striking.

Mrs. Rowsell, Lancham, daughter of the late Mr. C. Crawford, presented the cup to the victors, and in doing so expressed a wish that all companies would try and enter for the cup contest next year. She hoped that East Markham would be the winners some day.

Mr. H. Stanton, in receiving the cup for the Anston company, suitably replied.

A vote of thanks was proposed to Mrs. Rowsell for presenting the cup by Mr. H. Haigh, and seconded by the Rev. R. E. Rogerson.

Mr. H. Stanton proposed, and Mr. H. Revill seconded, a vote of thanks to the judge.

The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson said he wished to thank the Rev. R. E. Rogerson for officiating at the service and presiding at the meeting; also he thanked the organist, the caterers, the Vicar and wardens for the use of the bells, and the members for making the meeting such a great success, and hoped that he would see even larger gatherings in the near future.

The tower was again visited in the evening, when good ringing was indulged in until 9 p.m., when the bells were lowered in peal.

The bells at East Markham included four cast in 1637 by George Oldfield, of Nottingham. The present 3rd and 4th were added in 1895, and the peal increased to eight by the addition of two trebles two or three years ago, given by Mr. W. T. Hopps, of Leamington, in memory of his uncle and aunt. The four smaller bells were cast by Messrs. Taylor and Co. The tenor is 10 cwt.

BELL DEDICATION AT MINSTER.

On Saturday, September 21st, the treble, which has been added to the existing ring of five at Minster Church, Thanet, was dedicated at a special service in the afternoon. A representative company of the Rochester District of the Kent County Association attended, and the bells were rung in various methods during the afternoon. Unfortunately arrangements had been made to tune the organ during the afternoon, and both ringers and organ tuner were greatly handicapped, the organ tuner deciding eventually to capitulate. A well-struck 720 of Kent Treble Bob was brought round, and the assembled company were agreed that the 'go' of the bells was excellent. The treble was originally in Warden Church, and more recently reposed quietly in a local blacksmith's shop. The work of recasting and hanging was carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

Favoured with a fine day and given a genuine Lancashire welcome, the annual meeting of the Lancashire Association passed off successfully at Blackburn Cathedral on Saturday. The attendance, well above 100, represented all the ten branches, and was slightly above the average. Service at 4 p.m. was attended in robes by Canon Elsee (president), Canon Sinker (Rector of Blackburn Cathedral) and his assistant, with the Bishop of Blackburn as preacher. The Bishop in his address gave a discourse on church architecture, particularly as it had been altered and modified to the requirements of bells and ringers.

Tea followed in the schools, and in an upper room the business of the day was transacted. Canon Elsee presided. The committee's report was read, and mention was made of the election of 102 new members. The balance sheet was satisfactory. There had been bell restorations at Leyland, Eccles, Halewood and Milnrow. The peal record, although not as big as last year, was satisfactory, 104 peals having been recorded. Fifty-four ringers rang their first peal, and 128 their first in a new method, while eight conducted their first peal.

The election of officers for two years included the re-election of the ringing secretary and auditors. Other offices, which were filled by ballot, resulted in Mr. G. R. Newton, Liverpool, being elected vice-president, Mr. W. Horan, Todmorden, as treasurer, and Canon Elsee, Messrs. G. R. Newton, W. H. Shaker and A. Tomlinson as Central Council representatives. For the voting, 1,075 papers had been sent out and 740 returned—68 per cent., which was a very fair proportion.

An invitation from Liverpool to hold the next annual meeting there was accepted unanimously, the Secretary remarking that the members could have the use of ten towers.

One of the members brought up the question of a national society of ringers, as outlined in 'The Ringing World', and asked the branch secretaries to discuss it in their branches. He also brought up the question of the Central Council, and referred to the articles and comments recently published as a foundation for discussion. His chief idea was that the associations should pay into a general fund to allow all their members to become life members of other associations, they on their part to pay expenses of accredited members to the C.C. meetings.

Another suggestion was made that a 'Ringing World' year book should be published to contain peal reports, compositions, and interesting and useful correspondence and articles as published the previous year.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Bishop, the clergy of the various towers who had given the use of their bells, the organist and choir boys, the ringers for making arrangements, and to the ladies who served the tea. If anyone suggested to the ladies that a caterer should be employed for these gatherings, it would not be safe for him to be seen in Blackburn again, as they hold second place to none in putting on a tea fit for ringers to sit down to.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

ASHFORD DISTRICT'S RINGING MASTER PROBLEM.

The annual district meeting of the Ashford District was held at Hythe on Saturday, September 21st, when between 20 and 30 members attended, including visitors from Dover. The bells were fully made use of during the afternoon, and service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. Chester de Boinville), who gave a short and interesting address. Tea was partaken of at the Paddock Tea Rooms, presided over by the Vicar. At the business meeting which followed, the two representatives on the committee and the district secretary were all duly re-elected.

The Secretary thanked the members for the confidence and trust placed in him, and with their loyal support he would, he said, continue to serve in the position.

Some long discussion arose when Mr. C. Tribe proposed that a Ringing Master should be appointed. This was carried on a vote, but was eventually lost when it came to the election. The quarterly meetings fixed for 1930 were: February, Headcorn; May, New Romney; July, Cheriton; annual, September, Wye.

Thanks were accorded to the Vicar for his kindness and for the use of the bells, the 'go' of which was much appreciated by all present.

Further ringing closed a most successful meeting, the methods rung during the day being Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich Major.

Lydd was chosen for the next meeting, the date to be arranged by the secretary.

MUFFED BELLS.

On Tuesday evening, September 24th, after the interment of the late Mr. Edward Leigh, sen., for many years a member of the local band, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung at Edenbridge, Kent, with the bells half-muffled: E. Collison 1, G. Mulyan 2, Len Tidy (Limpfield Chart) 3, R. Jenner 4, E. Scal (Hever) 5, J. Heasman 6, J. W. Steddy (conductor) 7, J. Webb 8. First quarter of Stedman by Messrs. Tidy and Webb.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

WELCOME BY REV. MAITLAND KELLY'S SON.

There was a large attendance of members of the Yorkshire Association at the general meeting held at Huntington, near York, on September 14th. Visitors to the number of about 70 came from such a wide area as Sheffield, Bradford, Leeds, Halifax, Selby, Pontefract, Scarborough, Market Weighton, Aysgarth, Tadcaster, Pickering and Thornaby; and with members of the York Minster band, and the local tower, were altogether a company of close upon a hundred. One explanation of the large attendance in addition to the novelty of the meeting place was to be found in the fact that members of the association desired to pay a special compliment to the Vicar of the parish, the Rev. R. M. Kelly, whose father, the late Rev. Maitland Kelly (who died in June last) was founder and for many years president of the Devon Guild.

Complete teams of ringers were present from several of the parishes mentioned—in one case, that from Pickering, the team included one or two ladies—and these took turns in ringing the peal of six bells in the delightful rural tower of All Saints'. Later in the evening, by courtesy of the Very Rev. the Dean of York, the superb ring of twelve at York Minster was also made available to the visitors.

In the course of the afternoon a short service was conducted by the Vicar in the Parish Church. In a brief address, Mr. Kelly traced the history of the church, pointing out that it had been a centre of Christian worship since the 11th century. Founding his address on the text, 'Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you,' he emphasised that for this part of Christian worship in which the visitors were specially engaged, they were doing God's work and therefore should give of their very best. If this ideal were kept in view, the more they gave of their best the better it would become. He mentioned that in recently looking over some of his father's papers he had found an address in which the latter, on an occasion when bell-ringing was for the first time recognised by the Church authorities, had set up this same ideal. It was an ideal which comprehended not only that the ringing should be the best possible, but that the bells should be kept in the best condition. But, above all, bell-ringers, he urged, should ever remember that they were performing a Christian service in calling people to the worship of God.

The general meeting was held in the Memorial Hall, after tea, which was served by an efficient band of ladies under the direction of Mrs. Porteus. The Rev. C. C. Marshall, president of the Association, occupied the chair. Amongst those present were Mr. Kightly, Towthorpe, and the veteran sexton, Mr. John Rank, who are hon. members. Apologies for absence were intimated from Mr. Percy J. Johnson, hon. general secretary; Mr. R. J. Wolstenholme, another honorary member; and others. Three new members of the local band, Messrs. G. Rank, Walker and Young, who had qualified, were admitted to membership of the Association.

The proceedings were for the most part of a routine character, and cordial votes of thanks were passed to the Huntington committee for their invitation and entertainment, which were acknowledged by Mr. Kelly and Mr. George Rank, the latter of whom had been most indefatigable in making adequate arrangements for this highly successful and memorable gathering.

WELL-KNOWN RINGER'S SILVER WEDDING.

On Thursday of last week Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Pulling, of Guildford, celebrated their silver wedding, and the event was fittingly marked by a peal (rung on the previous evening) on the bells at the Cathedral of the Holy Trinity, with which, for something like 35 years, Mr. Pulling has been actively identified.

Mr. and Mrs. Pulling were married at Warboys, Huntingdonshire, and their connection with ringing is well known. For many years Mr. Pulling has been one of the leading conductors in the Exercise, and it is a great joy to his many friends that he has made such a successful recovery from his serious motor accident of two years ago that he is able to take his place in the heltry with undiminished skill. Mrs. Pulling is a past-president of the Ladies' Guild.

After the peal at Holy Trinity Cathedral, the band were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Pulling, to whom congratulations and good wishes were cordially extended.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Harry Hutton, who rang in the silver wedding peal, also took part in a peal at the same tower in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Pulling's wedding in 1904. That peal was conducted by Mr. Charles Wilshire, who is now resident in Montreal.

A pleasing little ceremony took place on Sunday in the Cathedral belfry at Guildford, when the Provost (Canon Kirwan) presented to Mr. Pulling a silver cream jug and sugar basin in commemoration of the silver wedding. The sugar basin was inscribed, 'Presented to Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Pulling on the occasion of their silver wedding by the Provost and ringers of the Cathedral Society, Guildford, September 28th, 1929.' In a happy speech the Provost referred in terms of high appreciation to the services Mr. Pulling had rendered in the tower over a very long period, and wished him and Mrs. Pulling many more years of happy married life. Mr. Pulling, who was taken completely by surprise, suitably acknowledged the gift on behalf of his wife and himself.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING OF CLEVELAND ASSOCIATION.

INTEREST AND ENTHUSIASM AT ORMESBY.

'It's been a champion meeting.'
'It's worth coming a long way to get ringing like this.'
'There's some satisfaction in arranging meetings when they are such good ones as this.'
'What a fine peal of bells!'

These were remarks passed by ringers who attended the autumn meeting of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association at Ormesby-in-Cleveland, on Saturday, September 21st. Members from far and near travelled to meet old friends and make new ones, and the popularity of these meetings is proved by the fact that representatives of no less than 14 towers attended, as follows: Middlebrough, Hartlepool, Darlington (St. John's, St. Cuthbert's and Holy Trinity Churches), Stockton, Saltburn, Marske, Guisborough, Swainby, Skelton, Sharrow, Whitby and the local tower.

The fine peal of eight (tenor 18 cwt.) were ringing from 2.30 in the afternoon till 8.30 at night, with only a spell for the service and tea, and many were the words of commendation spoken as to the 'go' and tone of this excellent ring.

The service, conducted by the Vicar of Ormesby (the Rev. E. Flintoff Wood), was beautiful in its simplicity and directness, and those who have been privileged to hear addresses on many occasions such as this were unanimous that the one they then heard ranked amongst the finest ever delivered.

The tea, which was presided over by Mrs. J. C. Pollard, wife of the president, was a happy affair, held in the Ormesby Bungalow, and in spite of the good appetites with which ringers of the hardy North are endowed, they had to admit defeat by the plentiful provision made for them.

A short, almost informal, meeting was held at the conclusion of the tea, and the President welcomed all the ringers to the meeting. He dwelt on the pleasure it gave the officers of the association to see such a good attendance, and expressed the hope that this was merely the forerunner of many other happy and well attended gatherings. He welcomed, as an old friend of the association, the Rev. W. P. Wright, who is now at Eym, Derbyshire, and who was the first secretary, and, later, president of the association. He also welcomed the president and secretary of the Southern District of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association, and remarked that visits by the officers of neighbouring associations to each other's meetings would do much to forward the cause of bellringing. 'Pa' Newton, of Stockton, the veteran of some 70 odd years, and an original member of the association, was also welcomed.

The thanks of the meeting were accorded to the Vicar of Ormesby for his ready and willing sanction to use the bells, and for his beautiful service and address. Several members were elected, and the Vicar of Ormesby was made an hon. member of the association.

Mr. Wright, in a happy little speech, expressed his delight with such an excellent meeting. He referred to the anxious times the association had passed through in its earlier years, but felt that if the present meeting was an example of the good work the association was doing, the labours of the first members and officers had not been in vain.

Mr. Wood thanked the meeting for their appreciation of what he termed 'the little he had done,' and said that his services and help in any way were always at the disposal of the association, of which he was so proud to be a member.

The bells were soon going again under the leadership of the secretary of the association (Mr. T. Metcalfe), and the enthusiasm was so great that on more than one occasion, whilst the tower bells were pealing, handbells were in use in the churchyard. It was strange for the ringers of the tower bells to hear the handbells when a touch on the tower had been completed.

As has already been said, the ringing went on until 8.30, and good ringing it was, too. Double Norwich, Stedman, Kent Treble Bob Major, Bob Major, and Grandsire Triples were rung, all in perfect time and striking. The learners were helped on to do something better than they were used to; ringers who were not too certain of a method had a more experienced man to stand behind and help them; and everybody got a pull. But all good things have to come to an end, and at last the meeting broke up, and the members went their several ways. They all felt that of the many good meetings the Cleveland Association has held, the Ormesby meeting had been one of the most successful and happy.

The president and secretary were the last to leave the old-time village. They were tired—dead tired—but happy with the thought that their hard work had been well rewarded by the response they had received to their endeavours. Their hopes are that many more happy meetings such as the Ormesby one may be held. J. C. P.

A HARVEST FESTIVAL RECORD.

Something of a record must have been set up at Kelvedon on Sunday, when Mr. W. Elliott rang for the fiftieth year for the harvest festival at his Parish Church. For morning service, 720 Kent Treble Bob: W. Keeble (conductor) 1, G. Hayward 2, J. C. Newman 3, C. Button 4, E. W. Beekwith 5, W. Elliott 6. For evening service, 720 Plain Bob: F. Dale 1, J. Mason 2, W. Keeble (conductor) 3, J. Elliott 4, L. Clark 5, W. Elliott 6.

HALIFAX ASSOCIATION'S RINGING CONTEST.

A SPLENDID MEETING AT FRIEZLAND.

The Halifax and District Association held a quarterly meeting and six-bell contest at Christ Church, Friezland, near Oldham, on Saturday. The bells were in good condition, for, mainly through the generosity of Captain Schofield, a local resident, they have been rehung by Messrs. Taylor and Co.

A committee meeting was held previous to the contest, and it was decided to adhere to the committee's previous decision to ring 504 changes any method. Seven sets had entered, the draw being as follows: No. 1, Batley; No. 2, New Mill; No. 3, Shelley; No. 4, Liversedge; No. 5, Holmfirth; No. 6, Huddersfield; No. 7, Meltham. All the sets rang Oxford Treble Bob Minor. Ringing commenced about three o'clock and continued until 7.30. An excellent tea had been provided, to which over one hundred sat down.

The meeting followed soon after ringing had ceased, Mr. E. Earnshaw (Meltham) occupying the chair. Mr. Carter moved a vote of thanks to the Vicar (Rev. J. R. Smith), the churchwardens and ringers of Friezland a very good turn in coming there. He thought it would be good tea they had provided.—The motion having been heartily carried, the Vicar, in reply, said that the association had done them at Friezland, a very good turn in coming there. He thought it would have been a very good idea if they could have made a gramophone record of the stories some of the older ringers had told that afternoon. The ringers of Friezland and churchpeople owed Capt. Schofield a great debt of gratitude for taking such an interest in the bells and ringers. He was sorry that he could not be with them that day. The Vicar added that he was reminded of a story he had been told of a certain gentleman who, rather backward at speech-making, had to reply on behalf of the ladies. His only remark was that if it had not been for the ladies there would be no ringers. He thanked the association for their kind vote of thanks.

The judges, Mr. J. Broadley (Bradford), who is close on seventy years of age, and Mr. J. Wood (Friezland), gave their decision as follows:—

	Faults.	Penalty.	Total.
Batley	107	—	107
New Mill	97	20	117
Shelley	139	30	169
Liversedge	173	10	183
Holmfirth (rung out).
Huddersfield	182	20	202
Meltham	228	—	228

Batley were declared winners of the cup, which was presented by the Vicar to Mr. S. Gibson. He congratulated them on their good ringing.—Mr. Gibson replied. Mr. Idle proposed, and Mr. J. Tinker seconded, a vote of thanks to the judges. Mr. Idle said no one could deny that judging in a long contest was a trying job, and all agreed upon how well the judges had done their work.

Mr. Burgess, in moving a vote of thanks to the chairman, said it gave him very great pleasure to thank the officials of the association for bringing the contest to Friezland. They at Friezland would not rest until they had won the cup.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

MEETING OF THE CHERTSEY DISTRICT.

The Chertsey District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild held a meeting on Saturday at East Molesey, a Thames-side parish on the north-western fringe of the diocese. In one respect the meeting was disappointing—the attendance of members belonging to the district—but in others it was quite a success. Numbers were small, but the practice was good, thanks to the help given by visitors, who included Messrs. H. R. Pasmore (College Youths), O. H. Kippin (hon. secretary, Surrey Association), J. Sparrow (hon. secretary, Royal Cumberland Youths), D. Cooper (Croydon), E. G. Turner (Ealing), etc. Guild members were present from Ottershaw, Esher, Thames Ditton, Walton, Leatherhead, and Woking, and Mr. F. Brown, of the Molesey company, was indefatigable in helping the visitors to spend a pleasant time.

A short service was held, which was conducted by the Vicar, Rev. A. G. Le Masurier, who extended a welcome to the Guild, and referred to the fact that the parish, which had always been on the extreme edge of the diocese, first of Winchester and now of Guildford, had for that reason taken very little share in diocesan life. He hoped that their part in diocesan affairs in the future would be more pronounced, and for that reason he welcomed a visit of a diocesan organisation to that church.

A brief business meeting was held after tea, presided over by Admiral T. P. Walker (hon. treasurer of the Guild), who moved a vote of thanks to the Vicar and to Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown was elected a member of the Guild, and a tribute was paid by Mr. Sparrow to the patient spade work which Mr. Brown had done for many years to keep a band at Molesey.

It is hoped that other members of the tower will follow Mr. Brown's example and join the Guild, and that the tower, through the Parochial Church Council, will become formally affiliated.

ANOTHER STAGE IN METHOD 'SPLICING.'

The splicing of Minor methods has been carried a stage further by the researches of Mr. A. G. Driver, and as a result of his labours there have been rung extents in which methods, not hitherto thought to be 'spliceable,' have been joined together in true seven-twenties. The practical ringing of them has been done by the talented and enterprising Leytonstone band, and the results are briefly set out in another column. This is only one more instance of the unceasing progress which goes on in the art of ringing, and, while the splicing of methods in peals is still looked upon by many as a kind of freak, there can be no doubt the time is not far distant when the practice will be very generally followed. Both in six-bell and eight-bell ringing rapid advances have been made in the last decade, and while in practice it has been somewhat limited, as far as peals are concerned, there is a growing desire among enterprising ringers to get a closer acquaintance with this interesting departure.

The publication by 'The Ringing World' in 1925 of a book on the subject has enlightened many six-bell ringers upon the intricacies of splicing, and when a new edition of the 'Collection of Minor Methods' is available, doubtless, many more will study and apply the principles in their ordinary ringing. At present they are handicapped for want of many of the methods themselves, but this drawback will, we hope, be remedied in the near future. Mr. Driver's plan of uniting in true extents methods which hitherto had appeared to be impossible of splicing opens a further gateway to this attractive side of ringing for the six-bell man, but in the eight-bell towers there is also scope for the enterprising ringer.

It is not necessary to be a Surprise ringer to enjoy this phase of the art, for it has been shown by Mr. Pitman that Triples methods can be joined together, and Mr. Stephen Wood and Mr. E. G. Turner have each published compositions splicing a number of plain Major methods. There is no end to the variety to be obtained and doubtless our ingenious composers will continue to open up new fields for ringers to conquer. The first stage, at any rate, ought to be simple enough, for where a band can go from one method to another in a peal or touches with only one row of rounds to mark the division, it should not be a difficult step to take, to change the method at some other lead end. A little patience and perseverance would quickly enable a band to grasp the principles, and this, once done, the rest would follow stage by stage. Apart from the extra interest which this form of ringing gives to those who practise it, it is an excellent mental exercise. Rapid change from method to method sharpens one's wits and brightens one's mental capacity, for it develops the power of quick thinking. From this point of view alone, method splicing should be made part of the regular practice of every competent six and eight-bell band.

DEATH OF AN OLD BROMSGROVE RINGER.

ONE OF FIRST MEMBERS OF WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

After a rather prolonged illness, Mr. George Hayward, of Bromsgrove, passed away at his home in Worcester Street on Thursday, September 26th, at the age of 73 years. He had not taken part in active ringing for some few years past, but his mind was active in other directions, viz., composing peals and touches, the whole of which he handed to the Vicar of Bromsgrove (the Rev. T. C. De La Hay, M.A., M.C.) some two months ago for the use of the local ringers and the association in general, and it is hoped in due time to get them classified and copied, so that a copy may be added to the Association Library.

He was one of the first members of the Worcestershire and Districts Association when it was formed in the 'eighties, and had rung and conducted many peals, some of them being recorded on the peal boards in the belfry of Bromsgrove Church. Some few of the present-day ringers in the neighbourhood owe much to his tuition and help.

The interment took place at Bromsgrove Cemetery on Monday, September 30th, and the following ringers rang various touches at the Parish Church of St. John the Baptist with half-muffled clappers as a last token of respect, viz.: Messrs. A. E. Parsons and H. G. Bird, of Old Hill, W. Short, of Clent, Miss Amy Johnson, Messrs. T. Albutt, H. Martin, A. Martin, F. Whitworth and H. Price, of the local band. A peal of Stedman Triples was also rung on September 28th with half-muffled clappers in memory of deceased, and has already been recorded in the peal columns of a previous issue of 'The Ringing World.'

DONCASTER AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The monthly meeting of the Doncaster and District Society was held at Conisborough on Saturday, September 28th, when there was a good attendance, the towers represented being Arksey, Doncaster, Tickhill, Darfield, Campsall, Sprotborough and local company. The bells, a fine peal of eight, were raised soon after 3 p.m. and rung to various methods, some good practice being obtained. Tea was provided by the local ringers and partaken of in the Church Lecture Room. The business meeting followed tea and was presided over by Mr. G. Clark. It was decided to hold the next meeting jointly with the Yorkshire Association at Arksey on October 19th.

Tracks were made again for the tower, and the bells were rung until 8 p.m., at which time they were lowered in peal. During the afternoon and evening the following methods were rung: Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Little Bob Major, Forward Major, Double Norwich and Cambridge Minor.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The September meeting was held at Hunslet Parish Church. The attendance in the afternoon was rather poor, but improved after tea, when some 30 members were present from Leeds Parish Church, Armley, Rothwell, Lindley, Holbeck, Holbeck St. Francis (R.C.), Headingley St. Michael's and Headingley St. Chad's, Drighlington and the local company.

The business meeting was held in the tower, Mr. J. Hey (vice-president) being in the chair. Three new members were elected, and a vote of thanks to the Vicar of Hunslet for kindly granting the use of the bells and to the local company for the necessary arrangements was proposed by Mr. J. Woodhead (Holbeck) and seconded by Mr. H. Grimwood (Armley)—Mr. H. Smith, of Hunslet, replied. The meeting being closed, the veterans began to exchange reminiscences of visits to this tower over 20 years ago, and further ringing took place.

A FAREWELL PEAL.

A peal of Minor rung at Springfield, Essex, on September 28th, was a farewell to Canon and Mrs. Paynter. Canon Paynter has been Rector for 32 years, but before leaving he has had the bells retuned and rehung on ball bearings, the work having been carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston.

The peal was also a very reluctant farewell to the conductor (Mr. F. Buckingham) who is also leaving, and taking up his duties with the Canon.

Mr. Buckingham has been conductor of the band for ten years, during which time the band has progressed from call changes to Surprise methods. The 'go' and tone of the bells are all that can be desired and greatly appreciated by all the band.

FRAYED ROPE STOPS PEAL.

At Badgworth, Somerset, on Saturday, September 28th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes) in 45 mins.: G. E. Shallish, 1, W. Balsh 2, E. Avery 3, R. Roberts 4, H. E. Blacker (conductor) 5. Longest length on the bells. Also three six-scores of Plain Bob. An attempt was made for a peal, but the bells were called round at the first quarter, owing to the 4th rope fraying out badly. The ringers were afterwards kindly entertained to supper by the Rector, the Rev. Preb. M. F. Hall.

RINGING IN AUSTRALIA.CHESHIRE MAN'S VISIT TO MELBOURNE.

At St. Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne, Australia, on Sunday, August 11th, for evening service, 630 Grandsire Triples: G. Wheeler (Cheshire) 1, W. Preston (Kent) 2, J. Murray (Victoria) 3, J. Spencer (Leicestershire) 4, H. Blakeley (Lancashire) 5, J. M. Guest (Staffordshire) 6, F. H. Crawley (Cheshire), conductor, 7, T. Trotter (Victoria) 8.

Mr. F. H. Crawley, a member of the Chester Diocesan Guild, who belongs to the S.S. 'Euripides,' was calling at Melbourne with his ship. It was originally arranged to attempt a quarter-peal, but time did not permit of the longer length.

After the ringing the visitor was entertained to some tune playing on handbells by the St. Paul's band.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.MEETING IN THE CITY.

A meeting of the Northern District of the London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild was held at St. Dunstan-in-the-East on Saturday, September 28th, when the ring of eight bells were available from 3 p.m. onwards. Something of a setback was at first experienced owing to the 'go' of the two tenors, which left a good deal to be desired, but after a little attention they were reduced to a ringable state. Grandsire and Stedman Triples were essayed and achieved, and some of the bolder spirits suggested Double Norwich, which was tried, and only came to grief through the breaking of the 7th rope for the second time during the afternoon. This terminated the ringing for the time being, and the members adjourned to a near-by 'Lyons' to partake of tea. This latter having been disposed of, a move was made to St. Magnus-the-Martyr's Church, London Bridge, where the ring of ten bells was very kindly placed at the members' disposal.

The business meeting was held in the tower of this church, and, there being nothing important to discuss, it was soon brought to a close. After this a good touch of Stedman Caters formed a capital opening touch. Then Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Royal were rung, intermingled with touches of Grandsire, etc., for the beginners. Double Norwich, Treble Bob, Cambridge and London Surprise were also rung on the back eight before the majority of the members departed, and the meeting was finished by touches of Grandsire Triples and a touch of Plain Bob Minor on the front six, which were then lowered in peal. At this meeting, which was one of the most successful of the year, over thirty members and friends put in an appearance, all of whom it is hoped to see again at the next meeting.

NORFOLK AND SUFFOLK GUILDS' JOINT MEETING.MAINTAINING FRIENDLY RELATIONS.

A joint meeting of the Suffolk and Norfolk Guilds was held at Bungay on Saturday, September 28th. The attendance numbered about 20, including the general secretaries of the Suffolk and Norfolk Guilds and members from towers on both sides of the border.

At the business meeting after tea it was suggested that the next Suffolk Guild meeting should be at Woodbridge, and it was hoped to arrange the first meeting of the newly-formed eastern district of the Norfolk Guild before the end of the year.

Reference was also made for the need of maintaining friendly relations between the two Guilds for the mutual benefit of the ringers living on the border line.

The bells of the Parish Church were kept going from 3 p.m. till late in the evening, and everyone seemed satisfied that a successful meeting had taken place.

'SILENT' PEAL RECORDED.

A very pleasant and instructive evening was spent at the Holy Trinity tower, Dartford, Kent, on September 26th, when a board to record the non-conducted peal of Double Norwich rung there on March 23rd last was unveiled by the Vicar (the Rev. L. Hammond), who gave the impressions of a non-ringer on the performance. He expressed pleasure that Dartford was selected for the attempt, and repeated his oft spoken welcome to visiting ringers. He then formally unveiled the board and concluded with the belfry prayer. The band then stood as in the peal and rang 192 Double Norwich (silent).

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar, and, after his reply, the tower was given over to practice. Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge and London Surprise Major gave all a chance. Surprise practice is not so often obtainable locally, on this scale at any rate.

In addition to the peal band and the umpires, the local band assembled in full force, and there were also present Messrs. F. Rogers and A. Greenwood (Portsmouth), R. Smith (Northfleet), F. J. Cullum, jun. (Erith), T. Emsden (Chislehurst) and E. Barnett ('Ted III.' of Crayford).

The band who rang the peal consisted of Messrs. E. Barnett, E. Barnett, sen., T. Groombridge, jun., G. H. Cross, J. H. Cheesman, C. W. Roberts, H. E. Audsley and T. Groombridge, the umpires being Messrs. E. J. Beer and H. Hovord.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The dedication of the bells at Kislbury, Northants, is to take place at 3 p.m. on Sunday, October 20th (not Saturday, the 19th, as erroneously printed in previous notices). Will intending visitors please note?

Mr. William Pye has done many great things in his ringing career, but we doubt if he has ever tackled anything greater than his performance on Saturday, when he rang the 50 cwt. tenor at Worcester Cathedral to a peal. Only those who have rung at Worcester can appreciate the greatness of the performance.

Holt's Ten Part was rung for the first time on October 12th, 1752, at Shoreditch Church.

Thomas Tolladay, who was a prominent leader in the old St. James' Society a hundred years ago, died on October 18th, 1845.

The annual general meeting of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths will be held on January 11th at St. Martin-in-the-Fields, and arrangements have been made for a peal tablet to be opened on the same day.

We have the unusual experience this week of recording in one issue peals rung at no less than four cathedrals and one abbey—Worcester, Llandaff, Ripon, Chester and Tewkesbury.

THE 29 COURSES OF CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I herewith wish to enter a strong protest against the Rev. H. L. James in any way attaching his name to the 29 courses of Cambridge Royal and Maximus, both of which have been rung.

If there is any credit for extending Middleton's 25 courses to 29, it is due to myself, who first used them to obtain the 14,112 of London Surprise published in 1903.

Seeing that Middleton's peal is the basis of this block, I think it would only be an act of courtesy and justice to leave the credit of the 29 courses with that old worthy of the Cambridge method.—Yours faithfully,

G. LINDOFF.

PEAL PACE AT HASLEMERE.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In May last, nine simple country ringers and one Bolton Wanderer rang a peal of Stedman Caters at Haslemere, which brought forth a letter from 'Tintinnabulator,' a Londoner, with the suggestion that, 'even if it was amusing,' we had rung extra courses.

If he will look in last week's issue of 'The Ringing World' he will find another peal, 24 changes shorter, was rung at the same tower, in two minutes less than ours, which proves to the Exercise that the bells can be rung at that pace. The College Youths' band, from their names, do not appear to be so simple as to ring the last quarter over again. I hope 'Tintinnabulator' will withdraw his letter, as it has already caused friction, and, in future, leave the pace of peals alone, as most ringers have fads about the speed at which bells should be rung.—Yours, etc.,

A. H. PULING.

MAXIMUS AT WORCESTER CATHEDRAL. ANOTHER GREAT PERFORMANCE.

The first peal of Maximus ever rung at Worcester Cathedral was accomplished on Saturday last, the method chosen being Cambridge Surprise. Considered by many who had had experience of the bells to be a 'real big job,' it was brought to a successful issue by a mixed band, the majority of whom rang in the twelve-bell record at Ashton-under-Lyne on August Bank Holiday.

Mr. William Pyo 'turned in' the tenor in his own inimitable style, and was the recipient of the congratulations of a large audience on the completion of the peal. In reply to a facetious remark by a joker from Birmingham as to why he did not attempt the record at Worcester, he said he was not likely to—a five thousand there was quite enough.

WORCESTER CATHEDRAL AND CENTRAL BELL TOWER.

The band who rang the peal are greatly indebted to the Dean and Chapter for the use of the bells, and to the former for his hospitality prior to the peal. The attention and kindnesses received from Worcester ringing friends were also appreciated. A peal of Bristol Surprise Major was rung on Sunday afternoon at Claines, at the invitation of Mr. E. P. Thomas. Here the visitors were welcomed by the son of the Vicar, in the latter's unavoidable absence.

Worcester Cathedral bells were recast last year by Messrs. Taylor and Co., and are a magnificent ring, but, perfectly as the bells are hung, the structural defects of the tower make the ringing of the bells no easy task. The pinnacled central tower, although massive in appearance, is too thin towards the top to carry the strain of a ringing peal, and, in consequence, the bell frame is supported on wooden stanchions, cross-braced and tied, which are carried up from the main walls at about the level of the Cathedral roof. This is an extremely interesting feature of the structure, but it did not simplify the bellfounders' job. Everything that engineering science could suggest was done by Messrs. Taylor in strengthening and bracing the old frame, and the inevitable movement under the strain of a swinging peal was reduced to a minimum. But, while the bells are so perfectly hung, the timber structure is bound to give, with the result that, as one ringer in Saturday's peal said, they all 'catch you bending,' and when a two and a half ton bell plays tricks, well—he is more than an average ringer who can put it through a peal of Maximus.

EYE, HEREFORDSHIRE.—On Monday, August 26th, 720 Bob Minor: Miss E. Cooke 1, Miss M. Cooke 2, R. Cooke (first 720) 3, T. Cooke, jun., 4, F. Jaine 5, J. Cooke (conductor) 6. First 720 of Minor on the bells with members of the local band taking part.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

QUARTERLY MEETING AT LUTTERWORTH.

The quarterly meeting of the Midland Counties Association was held at Lutterworth on Saturday, October 5th, and, in spite of a very unsatisfactory train service, it was well attended. The first arrivals, however, had a long dreary wait until parties arrived from the country districts, when some Bob Minor and Grandsire Triples were more or less successfully rung. Further members from Whitwick and elsewhere strengthened matters, and later on the higher methods were rung. On the arrival of the second train from Leicester reinforcements and committee turned up in good numbers, and the latter immediately had a formal meeting in the Church Hall. They carried out the usual routine, and also passed several resolutions or recommendations for the general meeting. Tea was held at the Coach and Horses Inn near the church, and it was pleasing to see such a large number present, between 50 and 60 sitting down.

Immediately after tea the general meeting took place, with the vice-president (Mr. J. Griffin) in the chair, supported by the hon. treasurer (Mr. W. Wallace) and the hon. secretary (Mr. Ernest Morris). The election of members (seven life, seven ordinary) was duly confirmed.

The hon. treasurer gave a brief summary of the finance of the association, and urged all members to do their best to assist in keeping up this very necessary side of the work, not only by paying their own subscriptions promptly, but also by interesting their clergy and others to become hon. members. The vice-president also asked the local hon. secretaries to do their very best to the same end, for, since the lamented death of the president, Mr. R. B. Chambers, many of his personal friends had ceased their honorary subscriptions.

PRESENTATION TO MR. WILLIAM WILLSON.

The vice-president then informed the meeting of a very pleasant duty he had to perform, and that was to present Mr. William Willson with a slight token of the members' appreciation of his good work for the association and ringing generally. This took the form of a solid silver tea set, which he trusted Mr. Willson would value as much as he (the vice-president) did the watch presented to him by the members in 1893. Mr. Griffin spoke in eulogistic terms of the good work Mr. Willson did as hon. treasurer for nine years, and in other directions for the association.

Mr. Willson, in accepting the gift, spoke 'very feelingly,' stating that whatever he had done in the past either for the association or for ringers and ringing, he was still willing to do again, and any service rendered was given with a free, good will. He had been a member some 40 years and had seen many changes. One particular trait could not help being noticed, and that was the fact that all the hon. treasurers had borne the initials 'W. W.,' viz., William Wakley, sen., William Wakley, jun., William Willson, and now they had Walter Wallace! He also remarked on the fact that it had been facetiously remarked he had two 'l's' in both his names, and it was said one would not be enough for him! (laughter). He thanked the members for their good wishes, and would appreciate and value their gift most highly.

SUGGESTED MEMORIAL TO THE LATE PRESIDENT.

Mr. C. H. Webb asked if it was possible to promote a scheme for a memorial to the late president, and, as one suggestion, mentioned the fact that at Pentling Magna, Leicestershire, where Mr. Chambers had great interests and certain property, there was a ring of four bells. On their restoration in 1906 they were greatly indebted to the late president for his generosity, and, in addition to other gifts, he had the tenor bell recast at his own expense. This bell is 13 cwt., and inscribed:—

+ A B C D E F G H I J K L M N O P Q R
WILLIAM + GEORGE

RECAST 1906 AT THE COST OF R. B. CHAMBERS, DERBY.

Mr. Webb suggested that it might be possible to increase this ring to six, if the association could give a bell, and, maybe, Mrs. Chambers might be approached to place another there to the late Mr. Chambers' memory.

It was decided that this matter should be considered by the various local centres, and a definite proposal brought forward at the next general meeting in January, 1930.

Votes of thanks to the local ringers and others for arranging the meeting were duly passed, and further ringing was done both at Lutterworth and Bitteswell by those who were fortunate enough to be able to stay. Many had to go back by train early to reach their destinations in a damp atmosphere, but not damped in spirit!

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the report of the meeting of the Truro Branch of the above Guild, which appeared in your issue of Friday last, the branch secretary elected for the ensuing year was Mr. A. S. Roberts, and not Mrs. A. S. Roberts as reported. I shall be obliged if you will point out this little error, as my ringing friends in various places may be led to think that I have become 'spliced'—even the word 'go' for this has yet to be called.—Yours faithfully,

A. S. ROBERTS.

AN ADVANCE IN MINOR SPLICING.

SOME NEW PRINCIPLES.

By George L. Joyce, Leytonstone.

Those of us who possess a copy of that useful little book, 'Method Splicing,' will have read that spliced Minor ringing was introduced by the Rev. H. Law James, when, in 1909 or thereabout, he discovered that methods could be spliced 'by leads' and 'by courses,' a peal in 14 methods (in seven true extents) being rung in 1911.

The next step was the splicing of methods in three complementary leads, the first peal on this '3-lead' plan being arranged and conducted by Mr. J. W. Parker in 1913.

The publication of 'Method Splicing' in 1925 introduced the '6-lead' splice, and the splicing by 'mixed places' at the lead ends. Extents on these principles were rung by the Leytonstone company in 1926, and embodied in a 22-method Surprise peal in 1928.

It has been suggested more than once in these columns that a complete and concise table of Minor methods which will splice would be of great assistance to those interested in arranging such extents. With the object in view of compiling such a table, Mr. A. G. Driver, of Belvedere, Kent, has undertaken an exhaustive investigation, which has resulted in a number of splices hitherto unknown.

Not all that is new can be exemplified in the Surprise methods, with which the Leytonstone company are more familiar, but the following instances have been selected by way of introducing Mr. Driver's work to the Exercise. The extents were rung at St. John the Baptist, Leytonstone, and are the 'firsts' of these particular types.

CARLISLE and CUNECASTRE SURPRISE (Nos. 9 and 17).—On Sunday, July 14th, 1929, in 26 minutes, for morning service. These methods are spliced in three-lead blocks. As described in 'Method Splicing,' the 3-lead splice is confined to the middle rows, whereas Mr. Driver has extended it throughout the lead. This makes necessary a correction to the statement, on page 5 of the book, that methods cannot be spliced when they start in different ways.

NETHERSEALE and BOURNE SURPRISE (Nos. 23 and 41).—On Sunday, August 25th, 1929, in 26 minutes, for morning service. A splice on a 6-lead principle, which is remarkable in that, unlike Mr. Parker's, it is not confined to the '5/6 section' of the methods; and, moreover, it does not produce the extent of the rows within the six complementary leads. Again two methods which start in different ways are truly spliced.

NORTHUMBERLAND, CARLISLE and SANDIACRE SURPRISE (Nos. 8, 9 and 11).—On Sunday morning, September 29th, 1929, in 27 minutes, for harvest festival. These methods are spliced on a novel and interesting principle evolved by Mr. Driver, which he terms 'composite courses.' It has been thought, in the past, that the 'odd' methods of Mr. Fidler's 'groups' can be introduced only in complete courses; but, in the 'composite courses,' these methods are spliced in such a way that no complete course of any method is rung.

NORFOLK, IPSWICH, PRIMROSE, CAMBRIDGE, HULL and BOURNE SURPRISE (Nos. 36, 37, 38, 39, 40 and 41).—On Monday, April 8th, 1929, in 27 mins., for practice. An example of an extent from a set of 'composite courses,' further varied by the use of Mr. Parker's 'mixed places' at the lead ends. The figures are appended, whereby it will be seen that Hull and Bourne Surprise are both included in a 720 which runs round. These methods have 165432 at the lead end (hand-stroke row), with 6th's and 2nd's places between the leads, respectively, and it has hitherto been thought that such methods could not be embodied in an extent between 'rounds.' It is the second combination of more than five legitimate Surprise methods to be spliced into a 720 between rounds; and, unlike the other (to be found on page 11 of 'Method Splicing'), no method here will splice with another 'by the leads.' It may be mentioned that both of these combinations of six methods keep the tenors the 'right way.'

The ingenuity displayed in the 'composite course' splice is remarkable to a degree. The writer is of opinion that Mr. Driver's work forms a valuable addition to that which has been published, and it is to be hoped that he may be induced to place the results of his researches before the Exercise.

The writer has seen some of the tables compiled by Mr. Driver, and can say that, roughly, the number of 3-lead and 6-lead splices is double that which would be obtained by tabulating those from existing principles; is given to understand that extents in eleven, and even twelve methods, are possible; and also, in the splicing of plain methods, that the relationships which have been stated to exist can now be revised and very much amplified.

Surely an advancement, and yet by no means the 'last word' in the splicing of Minor methods.

The following names should be associated with the above 'first' performances: P. H. Avey, E. J. Butler, G. Dawson, G. L. Joyce, W. Miller, R. Molton, J. Moulle, A. Prior, A. Reeve, E. D. Smith and W. Theobald.

BENJAMIN ANNABLE AND THE COLLEGE YOUTHS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—About the end of last year you kindly published a letter from me in which I questioned the accuracy of one of the records in the interesting handbook which gives us the history of the College Youths. In the 'list of notable performances by members of the Ancient Society of College Youths, compiled from the Peal Record Books,' the first entry is: 'January 7th, 1689, St. Sepulchre, Snow Hill, Plain Bob Triples, 5,040 changes, 3 hours 45 minutes, tenor 31 cwt., Composed and Conducted by Benjamin Annable.' I pointed out that if, as Osborne stated, Annable died on February 1st, 1756, and, as the 'Clavis' records, he was between 60 and 70 years of age, he could not possibly have composed and conducted a peal of Bob Triples in 1689. If he did call the peal in 1689, then he must have been nearer 90 years of age when he died, but it was unlikely that so soon after his death the writers of the 'Clavis' would have made a mistake of twenty years in his age. Moreover, I drew attention to the fact that Annable was Master of the College Youths in 1746 and suggested it was doubtful if he would have been appointed to office at the age of 80 or thereabouts.

In commenting on my letter, Mr. E. Alex Young admitted the difficulty with regard to reconciling the date of this early performance and Annable's age, and suggested, as a possible solution, that Annable was a much older man than his contemporaries thought. Mr. Young added that reference to Snowdon and Osborne did not help us.

Here Mr. Young appears to be in error. Looking casually through an old volume of 'Church Bells' recently, I came across an article (December 9th, 1876) by Jasper Snowdon on 'Annable's M.S.' (now in the British Museum). In this article Snowdon says, 'Annable was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, and in the earlier pages of their peal books his name is to be found connected with nearly all their great performances. He joined the society in 1721; in fact, he was the only member admitted in that year. He was elected a steward in 1737, and made master in 1746. The last mention of his name in the books of the society occurs in the peal rung by the College Youths at St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, in 1754.'

The dates quoted here, by Snowdon, are, I presume, not guess-work, and can be verified by reference to the books of the society. If, in fact, Annable joined in 1721, that would finally settle the question whether he composed and conducted the 1689 peal.

As Annable composed and conducted the peal of Grandfire Cinques at St. Bride's in 1724, which is the next performance on the list, I have my own theory as to how a mistake may have occurred, but Mr. Young may be right when he says that 'in the several transcriptions, Annable's name was added as conductor and composer, where the original had omitted to state these, and "hearsay," like a rolling snowball, had eventually added what was deemed the only possible name, and incidentally overlooked the age difficulty.' However, the Ancient Society can, I imagine, now settle the question, if, as would seem to be the case, Annable's name appears in the Name Book as having been elected in 1721. Will Mr. Young be good enough to examine it and let us know?

Anything which adds to our knowledge of these ancient pioneers is welcome. Few of your readers probably are aware that Annable was, by trade, a baker, for on the first page of his famous notebook, Mr. Snowdon tells us, is written:

'London College Youths.
'Amsterdam Coffee House.
'Benjamin Annable, Baker.'

Yours faithfully,

'COLLEGIAN.'

KEGWORTH RINGERS VISIT THE FENS.

The ringers of the Parish Church, Kegworth, Leicestershire, with friends had their annual outing on Saturday, September 21st, when they visited the Fen district. Travelling via Melton Mowbray, Oakham, Stamford with its cluster of churches, and Peterborough, they stopped at Market Deeping, where ringing took place, and several touches were brought round. Here they met Mr. Horace W. Day, who kindly conducted them to St. James', Deeping, and arranged for them to ring on these bells (a very fine six by J. Taylor and Co.), but time would not allow of a long stay. A few touches were, however, rung, and the ladies handled these heavy six very well, the 'go' being good. Proceeding to Crowland, where Mr. A. Holland provided a substantial tea for the visitors, which all enjoyed, the party visited the famous Abbey and its surroundings, and brought round a few touches on the bells. The return journey was commenced shortly after seven o'clock, via Cowbit, of skating fame, and here the party were met by the Vicar (the Rev. E. Clark), who is a son of a former Rector of Kegworth, also his sister (Mrs. Glead), who were delighted to meet the visitors. A short visit to the church and an inspection of the old documents and Elizabethan communion plate was of great interest. The journey was continued via Spalding, and Kegworth was reached about 11.15 p.m., after a memorable and happy day. Thanks are accorded to all who helped to make a successful outing.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.DEVIZES BRANCH AT WARMINSTER.

The quarterly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at the Minster Church of St. Deny, Warminster, on Saturday. Ringing commenced about 3 p.m. and service was later conducted by the Rev. A. R. Bellars (Vicar), the lesson being read by the chairman of the branch (Mr. C. D. Heginbotham). Tea followed at the Magnet Tea Rooms, the Rev. A. R. and Mrs. Bellars and Mr. Curtis (churchwarden) being present.

A short business meeting followed, at which the Chairman expressed to the Vicar the congratulations of the branch on his marriage, and wished him and Mrs. Bellars long life and happiness.

The Vicar, in replying, thanked those present for their good wishes, and also thanked the local ringers for ringing for his wedding and on his return, and also for the present which the ringers had given him and his wife. The Vicar said he would like those present to see this gift, which took the form of two silver inkstands in the form of bells. He added that he was very pleased to welcome the branch again to Warminster.—Mr. and Mrs. Bellars then left.

The Chairman extended a welcome to the visitors and the following were elected members of the Guild: Messrs. T. Button, W. Chatfield and H. Moody.

On the motion of the Chairman, a vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells and conducting the service, to the organist, and to those who prepared the tea.—Mr. Curtis, in reply, said he was pleased to be present as churchwarden, and he felt that sometimes the work of the ringers was not appreciated as much as it should be, as it was done out of sight. It was, however, none the less a work for the church.

Seend was proposed for the November meeting, and Bradford-on-Avon (Christ Church) for December.

Visitors included Miss I. Hastie (Leatherhead, late of Warminster), Miss N. G. Williams (Bath), Mr. W. Prescott (Bath), Mr. E. Coward (Mere) and Mr. W. Evans (Burnham-on-Sea). Ringers in addition to the above were present from Warminster, Devizes (St. John's and St. Mary's), Bratton, Mere, West Cranmore, Corsley and Rowde. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob were rung during the afternoon and evening.

Warminster has a peal of eight bells (tenor 28 cwt. approximately), and a brass plate affixed to the pillar near the belfry door bears the following: 'The bells in this tower were rearranged December, 1881, and converted from a peal of six bells into a peal of eight bells. The treble and second bells were added by George Thomas Vicary. Nos. 3 to 7 were recast and the tenor retained.—James Erasmus Phillips, Bart., Vicar; Edward Edwards, Thomas Ponting, churchwardens.'

A peal board in the belfry records a peal of Grandsire Triples by the Cumberland Youths for the opening of the bells, and the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales to Longleat, December 18th, 1881.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM.

A well-attended quarterly meeting of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham took place at Edgbaston Parish Church, Birmingham, on Saturday, September 28th. The church, which is known locally as 'the Old Church,' is dedicated to St. Bartholomew, and, although within a couple of miles of the centre of the city, is pleasantly situated in a quiet residential district. The date of the original church is unknown, but from authentic records a small chapel stood on the spot in 1340. Since then it has passed through many vicissitudes. During the Civil War it was laid derelict by Parliamentary Forces under Tinker Fox, and the materials of the roof were used to barricade Edgbaston Hall and make bullets. Between 1658 and 1684 the parishioners began to rebuild the church, and about 1725 the Lord of the Manor put it into very good repair. Considerable alterations were made in 1810, and again in 1885 it was restored and enlarged.

The tower contains a modern peal of eight bells by Taylor. Until recently there were only six bells, and four of these bore the date 1885.

Ringings in various methods took place from 3 to 5 p.m., in which Mr. W. Burgar, of Sheffield, took part. Tea was then partaken of in the schoolroom and was followed by the business meeting, at which the Presiding Ringing Master (Alderman J. S. Pritchett) took the chair. Several new members were elected, including Mr. Clifford H. Ball, the carillonneur at Bourneville.

It was decided to hold the Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner as usual on Saturday, March 1st, 1930.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar, Canon Blofeld, for the use of the bells, for providing such an excellent tea and for his presence amongst them that afternoon was proposed by the Chairman.—In acknowledging this, the Vicar stated how pleased he was to be with the Guild and how much he appreciated the services rendered in the belfry.

After the meeting a course of Stedman Cinques was rung on a new peal of handbells, in which Mr. Vice-President Tom Russam took part, the band being T. Russam, P. Ladin, H. Withers, A. Walker, A. E. Norman and J. Neal. A return was then made to the belfry, where further ringing took place until about 8 p.m.

A JOINT MEETING AT GUILDFORD.SURREY ASSOCIATION VISIT GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

Guildford Diocesan Guild and Surrey County Association members fraternised at Guildford on Saturday, when ringers from a wide area spent a pleasant half-day. Joint meetings of this description are a welcome feature of present-day gatherings, and in the case of organisations which overlap in their territory as these two do, they are all the more commendable, as they encourage that friendly spirit which leads to completely amicable working between the two societies. Guildford is favoured by having two excellent peals of bells, one of eight at the Cathedral and the other of ten at St. Nicolas' Church. The former were open on Saturday during the afternoon, and the latter both afternoon and evening. The result was that St. Nicolas' was, more or less, neglected before tea, but a band was got together to ring a good service touch. In the meantime, Holy Trinity Cathedral bells had been kept going, under the direction of Mr. A. H. Pulling, in a variety of methods up to London Surprise Major.

The service in St. Nicolas' Church was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. G. M. Wheeler), and an address was given by the Rev. G. Wellercoot, who has come to reside in the diocese on retiring from the charge of a parish in the West of England, where he took a practical part in ringing at his own church. It was an inspiring sermon, coming from a ringer. Basing his address on the words, 'In that day there shall be on the bells of the horses, "Holiness unto the Lord,"' he referred to the appeal of the bells to the people and the fascination of the art to ringers. There was an old saying, 'Once a ringer, always a ringer.' That, said the preacher, was true if they started in the right spirit and if they had a love of ringing. He referred to the changed tone which had come into the belfries and hoped that it would ever be maintained.

A company of nearly fifty sat down to tea at a near-by cafe, and afterwards Mr. Walter Harrison (vice-president of the Guildford Diocesan Guild) welcomed the Surrey Association, remarking that such gatherings must tend to improve the good feeling between the two bodies. He also thanked the preacher for his address, and the Vicar for conducting the service.—Admiral T. P. Walker (vice-president) seconded, and took the opportunity of extending, on behalf of all present, cordial congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Pulling upon celebrating their silver wedding.—Mr. D. Cooper (district secretary) acknowledged the welcome on behalf of the Surrey Association and hoped to see the Guildford Diocesan Guild members at a similar gathering in the Surrey area. He also thanked Mr. G. Grover (Guildford District secretary) for having made all the arrangements.

The Rev. G. Wellercoot replied to the vote of thanks in a homely speech, in which he again evinced his interest in ringing.

Mr. C. H. Kippin (hon. secretary of the Surrey Association) made an appeal for help for the widow of the late Mr. C. Gordon, who was ill and in straitened circumstances, and, in response, several of those present made contributions to the fund.

Afterwards St. Nicolas' belfry was visited, and for more than two hours the ten bells were kept going to Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Treble Ten and Cambridge Surprise Royal, under the direction of Mr. C. Hazelden (District Ringing Master).

NEWCASTLE CATHEDRAL GUILD.

Blessed with excellent weather, the above society had one of their most delightful week-ends this summer, starting from Newcastle by bus on Saturday, September 21st, at 9.30 a.m. The venue was Whitby and Scarborough, and to the number of eleven they reached the former in time for lunch at the Station Hotel. From thence to the tower, where the handy peal of ten was turned in to short touches of Stedman and Erin Caters and Forward Royal. After a tour of the ancient Abbey of St. Hilda, and other parts of the town, Scarborough was reached in time for dinner at 7.30 at the Lord Nelson Hotel, an ideally comfortable place for a holiday on the foreshore. The night was filled in in a 'go-as-you-please' fashion, and after a touch on handbells, followed by a more or less friendly game of cards, bed was sought as the last resort.

Two touches were rung for service at St. Mary's on the fine peal (tenor 24 cwt.), Double Norwich Major and Stedman Triples. After service, Mr. Harry Ferguson conducted his friends from his native town on a charabanc tour round the Marine Drive, past the Lord Nelson Hotel, and round by Scawby and Forge Valley. The afternoon was spent somewhat lazily, four preferring touches on handbells and others the charms of the south cliff and shore, where the beauties of the Italian gardens and precincts were a source of delight.

The party boarded their bus at 5.30, and landed in Newcastle well pleased with all they saw and did. The members wish to thank the Vicars of the two churches at which they rang, and also Mr. Ferguson for his kindly arrangements at Scarborough, together with his colleague, Mr. Barton. The members are also most grateful to Mr. Arthur Payne, their secretary, who made such admirable plans for their comfort and amusement.

MEASHAM, LEICESTERSHIRE.—On Wednesday, September 25th, in connection with the harvest festival, 1,344 Grandsire Triples: Rev. J. R. King 1, J. H. Swinfield 2, M. Swinfield (conductor) 3, J. Bailey 4, C. Draper 5, C. Smith 6, J. George 7, R. C. Belton 8.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

CANTERBURY DISTRICT APPOINTS A RINGING MASTER.

By the kind permission of the Rev. D. A. Taylor (Vicar), the autumn meeting of the Canterbury District was held at Wingham on Saturday, October 5th. The meeting was well attended, there being 31 members present, representing the following towers: Brabourne, Canterbury Cathedral, St. Alphege, Dover, Littlebourne, St. Peter's, Thanet, Sturry, St. Nicholas-at-Wade, Swindon, Tunstall, Walmer, Wickhambreaux and Wingham.

The bells were ringing soon after 3 o'clock, and from then until 4.30 p.m. some very enjoyable touches in Grandsire, Bob Major and Stedman were accomplished. The Rev. Taylor officiated at the service, for which the association's form was used, and gave a particularly interesting address. Mr. F. Lovell, of Wingham, very kindly presided at the organ.

Subsequently, adjourning to the Dog Inn, the ringers found an excellent tea awaiting them. The Vicar presided and was later voted to the chair for the business meeting.

The election of two non-resident life members, W. R. Drage, Long Eaton, Netts, and T. R. Dennis, Cambridge, was confirmed.

A discussion arose as to the advisability of the Canterbury District appointing a Ringing Master. The suggestion met with general approval, it being thought that it was necessary for the cultivation and continuance of successful meetings to get someone to take the lead and make the more or less shy ringers 'take off their coats and join in.'

Subsequently Mr. Whitehead made a proposition that Mr. F. Brett, Canterbury, be elected as Ringing Master for the Canterbury District, and, failing his attendance at any meeting, the ringers in the tower should elect their own 'master' for the afternoon, preferably the conductor or secretary of the local tower, the Ringing Master to be elected annually at the annual district meeting. The proposition, upon being seconded by Mr. Slingsby, was put to the meeting and carried with one dissentient.

Ospringe was decided upon for the next by-meeting, the probable date being 23rd November.

Before the meeting closed Mr. Brett proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. D. A. Taylor for his kind words of welcome and for the service, and also to Mr. Lovell for the musical arrangements.

Adjourning to the tower after the meeting, the ringers enjoyed further good ringing, adding Kent and Oxford Treble Bob to the methods achieved.

NORTH STONEHAM RINGERS IN BERKS.

The North Stoneham ringers, together with the choirmen, had their annual outing on September 14th. A start was made at 8 p.m. in two motor charabancs. Newbury, with its fine ring of eight bells, recently rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, was the first stop, the party being met at the church by Mr. H. Curtis. Leaving Newbury, a trip over the lovely Berkshire Downs brought the party to Farringdon, where there is a grand ring of eight by Messrs. Taylor and Co. Ringing here was not of the best, as the bell ropes are apt to strike the clock wires, and this put several of the company 'off.' However, a good lunch restored confidence.

A move was then made to Drayton, where everything was of great interest to the ringing members of the party on account of its association with the late Rev. F. E. Robinson. The beautiful carving which he executed, the ringing records, and the memorial screen were of much interest, and it was with regret that the visitors learned that there is not now a ringing band at this church.

East Ilsley was the last place on the programme, where Mr. W. Hibbert had everything in readiness, including a splendid tea, which was first disposed of. Afterwards, a move was made to the church, and the party enjoyed ringing on the light ring of eight. A special feature was a good touch of Grandsire Triples, in which four of the East Ilsley ringers took part. Home was reached at 9.30 p.m., everyone agreeing that a most enjoyable day had been spent. During the trip, touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Double Norwich, Cambridge and Superlative Major were rung. The best thanks of all are due to the various incumbents and steeplekeepers of the four towers visited, and particularly to Mr. G. Williams for arrangements made in such interesting country.

RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL'S RULES.

A fortnight ago we said we hoped to be able shortly to put before our readers draft proposals for amending the rules of the Central Council, in order that those members of the Exercise, who are interested in the endeavour to place the Council on a firmer footing among ringers, may have something definite to consider. In this issue our contributor, who a few weeks since put forward some reasoned suggestions, submits his ideas in concrete form, side by side with the existing rules, so that complete comparison can be made.

It has to be remembered that at present the associations throughout the country are very loosely knit to the central body. There is the Council, to which any ringing society of over a certain membership may elect a limited number of members, and, in so doing, shall pay certain contributions. There the connection ends. The societies owe nothing in the shape of support or loyalty to the Council, the Council owes nothing whatever to the societies. That state of affairs may have been adequate when the Council was formed in 1891 and when, as the first President (Sir Arthur Heywood) put it, 'they had yet to make a position for themselves; and it depended upon the judgment with which their decisions were drawn up, whether the Council would come to be regarded as the final authority upon all Ringing matters.'

In the course of nearly forty years the position has changed. The Council, in the opinion of the majority of ringers, has justified itself as the central organisation of the Exercise, but it is generally recognised that its position, under its present constitution, is not as secure or as well defined as it ought to be. The Council, as the mouthpiece of the Exercise, should have all the weight of the associations and guilds behind it and it should be answerable to them for any actions it may take. At present, in theory, at any rate, associations, as such, have no voice in the deliberations of the Council; and, as such, they cannot bring recommendations to the Council. In this sense the Council is undemocratic, for the societies, who 'pay the piper' cannot 'call the tune.'

Briefly, the suggestions made elsewhere by our contributor are that the basis of the Council shall consist of affiliated societies (instead of merely of the elected and honorary members), that these societies shall undertake to recognise the decisions of the Council, that the representative members shall be elected annually, instead of triennially, and that the Council shall officially report its decisions to the affiliated bodies. These proposals are put forward in definite terms, not that they shall necessarily be submitted in this or any other form to the Council for adoption, but to give ringers at their many meetings during the next six months the opportunity of talking over the subject with something before them which can be approved, amended, or rejected. In a genuine desire to get a full expression of opinion of the Exercise we invite all district and general secretaries to bring our contributor's proposals to the notice of their meetings and to send us for publication any decision taken in regard to them. In that way the views of ringers throughout the country may be made known, and at the right time suitable action taken, if there is any desire for it.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Northern Division of the Essex Association was held at Gestingthorpe on Saturday, when 20 members were present, representing the parishes of Earls Colne, Colne Engaine, Halstead, Greenstead Green, Great Bentley, Melford, Braintree, Hedingham, Wickham St. Paul, Little Waldingfield, Sudbury, Fulbourn and Gestingthorpe. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. M. Greenway), Mr. C. H. Howard (Master of the Association) reading the lesson. Tea was provided in the schoolroom, a collection being made by the Vicar, who very generously handed the money to the association.

At the business meeting which followed the District Master (Mr. A. A. Saunders) presided, and one member was re-elected, viz., Mr. E. Turner, of Gestingthorpe.

It was resolved to hold the annual district meeting at Braintree on November 9th, and it was unanimously agreed, on the proposition of Mr. Howard, seconded by Mr. L. Wiffen, to give the 10s. collected at the tea to the Bell Restoration Fund.

After the meeting courses of Grandsire Caters and Triples and a course of Bob Major were rung on the handbells, and during the afternoon and evening methods ranging from Plain Bob to London Surprise Minor were rung on the tower bells.

Disaster has overtaken the fine old Parish Church at Howden, East Yorkshire, fire having practically destroyed the magnificent tower, with its ring of eight bells, and the chancel beneath. The church is one of great beauty of architecture—an excellent example of Early English. According to historians, it was made collegiate in 1266, and it ranks among the five or six most important churches in Yorkshire. Its noble tower, rising to a height of 135ft., dominated the town and countryside.

The fire occurred in the early hours of Wednesday last week, being discovered shortly before two o'clock, as the result, it is said, of the cries of a sea lion in a menagerie in the market place, which is close to the church. Soon the streets were filled with people, who saw the whole of the tower enveloped in flames. Howden Fire Brigade was quickly on the scene, and help was summoned from Goole and Selby, whose brigades arrived soon afterwards. Volumes of smoke and clouds of sparks were emitted from the top of the tower and through the windows, and as the fire increased its hold lurid flames shot up and the whole district around was lighted as by a huge torch. It was an awe-inspiring spectacle.

The tower is situated immediately over the chancel, and onlookers could hear the beams crashing to the ground and bringing destruction into the church itself.

BELLS CRASH INTO THE CHANCEL.

It was early realised by the fire brigades that to save the tower from the flames was hopeless. All that could be done was to allow the fire to burn itself out in the tower, and to save the remainder of the church. The Howden brigade began operations on the north side by breaking in one of the nave windows, through which water was poured on the burning timbers as they fell from the tower to the ground. The Selby and Goole brigades worked from the south side, two stained glass windows being broken to enable the firemen to bring their hose into play. The parish registers, dating from 1541, the communion plate, lectern and Book of Remembrance (containing the names of the local men who fell in the war) in the south transept were saved, but the altar, with its candlesticks, and other ornaments, together with the communion rails and other furnishings in the chancel, were demolished by the falling beams.

After an hour's work the Selby and Goole brigades got into the church by the south entrance. The building was filled with smoke and the floor was flooded with water to a depth of several inches. The roof of the tower had become molten lead, which poured into the chancel. Just after 4 a.m. there was a deafening crash as the first of the bells fell into the chancel from the steeple. One after another four more bells, including the tenor, of over 26 cwt., came crashing down, with the noise of exploding bombs, and part of the east window fell out.

The effect of the fire is that the tower is burned out to a shell and much damage has been done to the masonry. There are huge cracks in the battlements down to the broken and burned-out windows on the sides of the tower. Three bells have been saved, but one is wedged precariously between the steel girders forming the

POLICE RINGERS VISIT BIRMINGHAM.

A DAY OFF DUTY.

On Saturday a meeting of police ringers was held at Birmingham. Arriving shortly after 11 a.m., the visitors were met by Sgt. Dowding, Birmingham City Police, who piloted them to the Police Social Club, where lunch was served. The party afterwards proceeded to King's Norton, where they were welcomed by the local ringers.

The splendid bells were soon set going in an attempt for a peal of Stedman Caters, which, unfortunately, came to grief after 2 hours 50 minutes, owing to a change course. The ringers taking part were Sgt. Lawrence (Hatfield) 1, Sgt. Dowding (Birmingham) 2, Detective Poole (Leicester) 3, P.C. Clayden (Reigate) 4, P.C. Beeson (Surrey) 5, P.C. Tuffery (Birmingham) 6, P.C. Digby (London) 7, Sgt. Jenny (Leicester) 8, Inspector Botttrill (London) 9, Sgt. Schleuter (London) 10. After 'stand' had been called the culprits were immediately 'reprimanded and cautioned.'

Northfield bells were open for ringing during the afternoon, visitors and locals making use of them during the peal attempt. Afterwards all adjourned to the Bull Hotel for tea. Sgt. Jenny proposed a vote of thanks to the local ringers for their hearty welcome and for the arrangements made for the visitors' comfort. Mr. Webber replied, saying how sorry he was the peal had failed, but hoped the band would come again. 'Idling and gossiping' was then carried on without interruption from 'superior officers,' till a general rush was made for train and bus, all getting safely aboard, at the last minute.

A CORNISH GATHERING.

A FEW FRIENDS MEET AT ZENNOR.

The Church of St. Senara, Zennor, Cornwall—part of which was built during the 12th century and which was enlarged and the tower added in the 15th century—until about three years ago contained three bells, one of which was lying broken in the first stage of the tower. However, in December, 1926, a restoration took place, and a new ring of six, tenor 12 cwt. in G, was dedicated. This was entirely owing to the great efforts of the then incumbent, the Rev. W. H. R. Trehwella, who raised the whole of the money for the restoration. Mr. Trehwella is now Vicar of St. Paul's, Truro, where there is one bell weighing 12 cwt. (five more are wanted).

On Saturday last Mr. Trehwella was again able to enjoy several hours' ringing on the bells which he augmented, as were also four of the Truro Cathedral band, one from St. Agnes' and six from Gulval (including Dr. J. Symons and Miss E. Symons). From 3.15 until 5 o'clock the bells were kept going to Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Bob Minor. Those present then crossed the road to the Tinner's Arms, where they were the guests of Mr. Trehwella for tea. A sumptuous repast was partaken of, the Cornish clotted cream from a well-known local herd of Guernsey cows soon receiving the attention of the ringers. Afterwards the Gulval contingent had just time for one more touch of Grandsire Doubles before departing. Those who were lucky enough to have come from Truro by car were able to stay to bring round a quarter-peal (1,260 changes), the first on the bells of Grandsire Doubles in 40 minutes, viz.: R. Woods 1, R. Dibbs 2, Rev. W. H. R. Trehwella 3, W. H. Southard 4, A. S. Roberts (conductor) 5, H. Stephens 6.

Everyone heartily thanked Mr. Trehwella for providing such a splendid tea, and the Truro ringers were especially grateful to him for the forty mile car ride.

CARDINAL'S VISIT TO SHEFFIELD.

On the occasion of the visit to Sheffield of His Eminence Cardinal Bourne on October 1st, the bells of St. Marie's R.C. Church were rung. A quarter-peal of Bob Major (1,280 changes) was brought round in 52 minutes: J. Tuke 1, G. Lewis (conductor) 2, W. Burgar 3, J. A. Dixon 4, W. Biggin 5, R. Harrison, sen., 6, T. E. Lee 7, R. Harrison, jun., 8. The bells were also rung at intervals on Wednesday, October 2nd, on the occasion of the opening of a new R.C. School on the Manor Estate.

bell frame. The chancel floor was covered with charred woodwork, in which were parts of the broken bells and pieces of fallen masonry.

The fire is believed to have broken out in the belfry, but the cause is unknown. The amount of the damage has not yet been ascertained, but it will run into many thousands of pounds.

VICAR'S APPEAL FOR RESTORATION.

The bells were originally cast by Pack and Chapman at the White-chapel Foundry in 1775. At various times some of these have been recast by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough. The tenor was one of them. About 20 years ago the 5th was recast by Messrs. Warner and Son, of London, so that very few of the original bells remained.

Writing to 'The Ringing World,' the Vicar of Howden (the Rev. Arthur Waring) says: 'You will have heard of the sad disaster to our matchless tower, which was burnt out during the night of Tuesday last, October 8th, and the bells partly destroyed, only three remaining. I wonder if your readers would kindly consider an appeal for help from them (if only a small sum) to assist us in restoring the damage? We should feel deeply grateful for any small donation to help us in making good the loss we have suffered, through the destruction of the tower and the bells.'

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.AN INSTRUCTIVE MID-WEEK MEETING.

In fine autumnal weather a meeting of the Dorchester Branch was held at Frampton on Thursday, October 3rd, a day arranged to give an opportunity to attend a meeting to those members who cannot attend on Saturdays. It proved a happy gathering. A charabanc left Dorchester at 2.15 and made for Sydling, a beautiful country village right off the beaten track and miles from the main road. Here the party were met by the Vicar. A band of willing helpers were putting the final touches to the decorations for the harvest festival, which was to take place the same evening, and the ringing of the fine old peal of five was greatly appreciated. This church dates from the 14th century, and has a Norman font and some fine gargoyles. The tower and north porch are noteworthy. The bells are a beautiful mellow peal, with tenor 19½ cwt. (approximately). The 3rd and 4th bear the dates 1611 and 1613 respectively, and the opinion was expressed that they would make a fine octave. Bidding the Vicar and his helpers adieu, a move was made for Frampton. At Frampton the Vicar (the Rev. G. Wynne), the Master of the Guild (the Rev. R. H. Gundry) and the local band gave the visitors a hearty welcome. The bells were soon set going to Stedman and Grandsire Doubles and Bob Minor until the service, which was of a bright and cheery character, and was led by a full mixed choir. It was conducted by the Vicar, and the Rev. R. H. Gundry read the lesson. Subsequently tea was partaken of in the Vicarage gardens.

A short business meeting followed. In the absence of the chairman (on holiday), the Master presided, and was attended by members from Bradford Peverell, Charminster, Dorchester, Frampton, Shroton and Wyke Regis. A welcome visitor from outside the branch was Miss N. G. Williams (Bath), who has been spending a holiday in the district, and who has given valuable help to some of the towers. Regret was expressed that she was not staying longer. Another old friend present was Mr. W. Shute, who had motored from North Dorset. Several apologies for absence were received.

It was arranged to hold the annual meeting at Dorchester either in December or January.

Regret was expressed that the chairman wished to resign, and the secretary was asked to invite him to reconsider his decision. The Master also promised to write.

Mr. Gray, on behalf of the Frampton band, asked for the services of an instructor. The Chairman congratulated them on this step, and the secretary promised to do his best to make arrangements for such.

A short discussion took place on the best means to be adopted,

AN OLD UNIVERSITY RINGER.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I have read with interest the note in your issue of October 4th on 'An Old University Ringer.' Christopher Burne, my brother-in-law, was quite keen on change ringing when at Oxford and could ring any bell through a 720 of Plain Bob Minor. But he was oftener on the river than in the belfry, being captain of his college boat club and spare man for the University Eight in 1876, and again in 1877, the year of the 'dead heat.' Some three or four years ago he presented a treble to the church at St. Mary Bourne, Hants, to complete the ring of six. The gentleman who was unwilling to be identified with such an insignificant performance as a 720 of Bob Minor is to-day a prominent member of the Central Council.—Yours faithfully,

F. A. MILNE.

Summerhill, Barnet.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A very representative gathering of ringers met at Hatfield on Saturday for the first district meeting held there since the addition of the two new bells. The general opinion of those present was that a very good 'splice' had been made by the bell founders. The bells were set going to Stedman Caters, and during the afternoon and evening Grandsire Caters, Bob Royal, Treble Ten and a course of Cambridge Surprise Royal were rung. The party adjourned at 5 p.m. for tea, which was followed by a brief business meeting and handbell ringing.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at St. Albans, the date to be arranged so as not to clash with other meetings.

The tower was then again visited, and the bells kept going until 8 p.m., bringing a very enjoyable meeting to a close.

where towers had left the Guild, with a view to getting them to rejoin. The Master and secretary promised to assist in this matter.

A hearty vote of thanks was proposed by the Chairman to the Vicar, not only for taking the service, but for providing such an excellent tea; also to the organist and choir, and the ladies for waiting at the tables, and to the organ blower.—The Vicar replied and hoped the Guild would come again.

Another visit was paid to the tower, and help was given to some of the members to ring their first 120. A move was next made to Bradford Peverell, and here the fine going peal of five were rung to Stedman, Grandsire and Plain Bob, and assistance was given to the local band. A very useful and instructive time was spent.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The ancient custom of ringing the curfew bell at 8 p.m. was revived at the old Parish Church of St. James, Poole, Dorset, last week, and will be continued henceforward. The revival took place at a special service, when the bell was rung by Alderman H. S. Carter, president of the Society of Poole Men. The lesson was read by the Mayor and a sermon was preached by the Rector.

St. Martin's bells, Birmingham, will be heard on the wireless on Sunday evening, 7.50 to 8 p.m., and the Cathedral bells (St. Philip's) on the following Sunday, also at 7.50.

The bells of St. Mary's, Birkenhead, will be rung for the first time on Mayor's Sunday, November 10th, after a silence of 12 years.

The 'headquarters' of the Manchester handbell band have been moved from Lime Grove to Greek Street, Stockport, but it is hoped that the peal ringing will be maintained.

John Holt rang his only peal of Grandsire Cinques with the Union Scholars on October 20th, 1751, at St. Bride's, London. This was three months after he had conducted, from manuscript, his famous one-part of Grandsire Triples, when it was rung for the first time. In the following year Holt left the Union Scholars and joined the College Youths, with whom he rang two peals. With the record of the last of these in the College Youths' peal book, Holt's name as a ringer disappears from the scene.

A peal of Bob Major, 15,120 changes, was rung at Oldham on October 24th, 1807. The ringers could hardly have known that in 1793 a peal of 15,360 had been rung at Aston, otherwise they would surely have beaten this record, which stands to this day as the longest length in the method.

The first peal by the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association (Grandsire Triples) was rung 50 years ago next Wednesday. It was conducted by George Wanklyn.

The first peal on the bells of St. John's, Waterloo Road, London, now silent and unused, was rung on October 24th, 1825. It was a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major, rung by the College Youths.

The 'dead heat' between the three teams who recently tied in the Barnsley Society's Shield contest was 'rung off' on Saturday, when Shelley won. Sandal were second and Wath-on-Dearne third.

The Herts Association meeting at Flamstead has been postponed owing to illness.

SALISBURY GUILD'S LOSS.

A great loss has been sustained by the North Dorset Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild in the death of Mr. Edwin Ridout, of Okeford Fitzpaine, a keen ringer and one who for very many years hardly missed attendance in the belfry and at church.

The funeral was conducted by the Rector of Okeford Fitzpaine (the Rev. F. Etheridge), assisted by the Rev. C. A. Phillips (secretary of the Wimborne Branch) and the Rev. F. H. Phillips, sons of a former Rector. A large number of brother ringers were among the many mourners, including the Master of the Salisbury Guild (the Rev. B. H. Gundry) and the secretary of the branch. Muffled touches were rung before and after service.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL. SUGGESTED ALTERATIONS TO RULES.

[CONTRIBUTED.]

Having been responsible in some measure for raising anew the question of revising the rules governing the constitution and procedure of the Central Council, the writer accedes to the request of the editor of this journal to put forward, in concrete form, some suggested alterations of the rules which would, it is thought, incorporate the proposals made in 'The Ringing World' of Aug. 30th. Doubtless there will be many who will not agree with them even in principle, and many more who will disagree with them in detail, but they will, it is hoped, form a basis for discussion and thus lead eventually to a definite expression of opinion in many of the associations, first as to whether some change in the constitution of the Council is desirable; secondly, as to whether, if it is changed, it should be in the direction of strengthening the ties between the Council and the constituent bodies; and thirdly, as to the actual terms upon which future relations between them should be maintained.

Very few ringers outside the Council, in all probability, have any knowledge of the rules as they at present exist, and it is perhaps advisable, where changes are suggested, to give the rule as it now stands, side by side with the proposed alterations. By this means readers will be enabled to compare the two with a full knowledge of changes involved.

It is quite possible that those who agree in principle with the suggestions may desire to put them into different terms; if they do the opportunity now occurs to offer alternatives, so that before the next Council meeting some definite amendments to the existing rules may be put forward, if—and this is the point which should be emphasised—the associations themselves deem alterations advisable. It rests with them. The one desire on the part of the writer is to bring the associations and the Council closer together; if possible, to remove what has recently been a source of friction, and to make the Council leader as well as adviser of the Exercise.

Here, then, are the suggested alterations to the rules, for discussion. The existing rule is given first and the proposed change alongside.

Various minor alterations to other rules might have to be made if all or some of the proposed revisions were made, but that is a matter of detail.

1. That the Council be known as the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers.

2. That the Council consist: (1) Of Representative Members from all recognised Societies, Associations and Guilds of Church Bell Ringers (hereinafter referred to under the general term 'Societies'), numbering not less than seventy-five members. The representation to be in the following proportion:—

For a Society the number of whose members exceeds 75, but does not exceed 150, one Representative; 150, but does not exceed 300, two Representatives; 300, but does not exceed 450, three Representatives; 450, four Representatives.

Four Representatives to be the limit of representation allowed to any one Society.

That any recognised Society, Association or Guild of Church Bell Ringers (hereinafter referred to under the general term 'Society'), numbering not less than seventy-five members, shall be eligible to apply for affiliation to the Council, and, upon admission, shall subscribe to an undertaking to recognise and observe the rulings of the Council.

That the Council shall consist: (1) Of Representative Members, elected annually by affiliated societies; (2) of Honorary Members, not exceeding fifteen in number, elected by the Council. No representative Member to be eligible as an Honorary Member. The voting powers of Honorary Members to be equal with those of Representative Members.

(2) Of Honorary Members, not exceeding fifteen in number, elected by the Council. No Representative Member to be eligible as an Honorary Member. The voting powers of Honorary Members to be equal with those of Representative Members.

Note.—Here and elsewhere in these Rules the word 'Member' shall be taken as meaning 'Member of Council.' A 'Representative Member' is not necessarily a Member of the Society which he represents.

3. That, except in the event of a vacancy, in which case the new Member shall be elected only for the unexpired period of the three years, the election of Representative Members shall take place triennially, before the end of the year.

4. That the Honorary Members shall, as far as convenient, be chosen by the Council at their first Annual Meeting after the Triennial Election; but that, in the event of vacancies, others may be chosen at either of the following Annual Meetings. Also that each Honorary Member shall retire after the third Annual Meeting from, and exclusive of, the Meeting at which he was elected, but be eligible for re-election; but that any Honorary Member who, during his term of office, may be elected a Representative Member, shall, ipso facto, vacate his Honorary Membership.

5. DEVON GUILD.

BRANCH MEETING AT KINGSTEIGNTON.

A successful quarterly meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch of the Devonshire Guild was held at Kingsteignton on Saturday last, ringers being present from Paignton, Torquay, Cockington, Brixham, Buckfastleigh, Christow, Exeter, Sowton, Clyst St. George, Littleham, Thorverton, etc. The bells, which had been rehung and augmented to eight by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, earlier in the year, were well utilised during the afternoon. In the unavoidable absence of the Vicar of Kingsteignton, the Rev. E. S. Powell (President of the Guild) officiated at the service, and based his address on the words, 'What mean ye by this service?'

After tea in the Schoolroom, Mr. F. J. Laxton (chairman) presided over the business meeting which followed. He referred to the fact that since the last meeting they had lost by death two old members, Mr. C. Drew, of Paignton, who had been connected with ringing for about 70 years, and that grand old man, the Rev. Maitland Kelly, ex-president of the Guild. The meeting stood in silence as a token of respect.

For the annual branch meeting, to take place on Saturday, January 30th, 1930, St. Michael's, Teignmouth, was chosen.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar of Kingsteignton for the use of the bells, to the Rev. E. S. Powell for taking the service, to the organist and steeplekeeper were passed. A hearty vote of thanks was also accorded to the chairman, who suitably replied.

Arising out of a discussion, it was resolved to try and arrange a combined meeting of branches in Torquay at the latter end of November.

This concluded the business, and the visitors returned to the tower, where touches of Grandsire Doubles and Triples, Stedman Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major were rung. Several members visited Bickington earlier in the afternoon and rang touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles.

Committee meetings. Each Committee also shall appoint a Con- venter and shall report annually at or before the meeting of the Council. Such reports as have not previously been published shall be made in writing.

That any subject proposed for discussion shall be notified to the Hon. Secretary in writing by the Secretary (or other official) of the Society submitting the proposal, or, signed by two members of the Council, not less than two months previous to the Meeting, for insertion among the agenda. . . . And that the Hon. Secretary shall also add the name of the Society submitting the proposal, or the names of the proposer and seconder of the motion (as the case may be), when the same is printed in the agenda.

(As an addition to the Rule.) Also that copies of all resolutions having reference to matters outside the private business of the Council shall be printed and sent to all the affiliated Societies within one month after each meeting of the Council.

OBJECTIONS TO ANNUAL ELECTIONS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—My initial point about annual elections to the Central Council is that there would be no certainty of continuity from year to year, and for a body doing such a large proportion of its work through committees, that fact alone would render the proposition impracticable. It is true, as you, sir, very properly point out, that a similar risk is taken every third year, but it certainly seems to me that the deliberate introduction of this element of chance every year would be rather going out of our way to create difficulties, and that such a change would inevitably tend to reduce the proportion of elective members on the committees. While there might not necessarily be any objection to that in itself, it would have just the opposite effect to that of increasing the direct interest of members of associations in the work of the Council.—Yours faithfully, F. LL. EDWARDS.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL FESTIVAL.

The annual festival of this association was held in the city of Durham on Saturday, September 28th, and, although the attendance was not up to expectations, there was a very happy spirit about the gathering, which promises well for the future.

The Dean of Durham read the lesson at the festival service in the Cathedral, and a very interesting and inspiring address was given by the Vicar of Stockton, the Rev. G. W. Froggatt.

An excellent lunch followed, at the old Three Tuns Hotel, Mr. E. E. Ferry, the president, in the chair, supported by the Assistant Bishop of Newcastle (Dr. Wood), Mr. William Story, Mr. C. L. Routledge, Mr. Arthur Paine, Mr. J. W. Parker, Mr. J. F. Bird, Mr. G. S. Taylor (hon. secretary) and others.

After the loyal toast, Mr. William Story, in a happy speech, proposed the health of the Bishops and clergy of the two dioceses, Bishop Wood replying.

The secretary read letters of apology from the Rev. Preb. Wynne Wilson, Canon Holmes, the Rev. A. Dunn and Mr. William Newton (Stockton).

In his annual report, the secretary referred to the bell restoration at St. Cuthbert's, Blaydon, and said that Mr. James Cliff was training a band of young ringers there, and they were making good progress. The pre-Lent meeting had been held at Blaydon, to encourage Mr. Cliff in his work, and the pre-Whitsun meeting at Whitley Bay had been very successful, but the summer meeting at Darlington, where there were three towers available, only brought together about 15 members. During the year they had sustained some severe losses amongst their members and friends, viz., the Rev. H. H. Barff, Vicar of Wylam, who died with tragic suddenness while on the way to a preaching engagement at Stocksfield; Mr. R. B. Wilson, one of the original members of Holy Trinity, Darlington; and their old friend Mr. Joseph E. Sykes, whose tragic death at Copenhagen was still fresh in their minds. 'Joe' Sykes was always a welcome visitor in that district, and when he was last there, from January to March, 1928, he scored ten peals, three of which he conducted. The association had also lost good supporters in the Rev. Canon Bothamley, of St. Nicholas', Durham, who had resigned owing to ill-health, and the Rev. T. H. A. Morris, of St. Oswald's, Durham, now Vicar of Hinton, near Ipswich. The chief event of the year had been the great gathering of ringers at the North-East Coast Exhibition on July 13th, when the proprietors of the 'Newcastle Evening Chronicle' and Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, the bell founders, invited the members to a demonstration on the Wellington (New Zealand) War Memorial Carillon. About 500 members and lady friends attended, and were delighted with selections on the bells by Miss Nora Johnston and change ringing by Mr. T. Groombridge, jun. An excellent tea was provided by the hosts and the day closed with a social gathering and concert, arranged by Mr. C. L. Routledge, in the 'Chronicle' Hall, Newcastle.

SUNDAY SERVICE RINGING.

Eighteen record sheets for Sunday service ringing had been sent in this year, and St. Ignatius', Sunderland, headed the list for eight-twelve bell towers with 1,279 points, St. Paul's, Whitley Bay, being second with 997 points. Of the six-bell towers, All Saints', Hurworth, gained the first certificate with 734 points, St. Oswald's, Durham, being second with 65 points. Holy Trinity, Darlington, had scored 1,440 points, but did not wish to compete this year. Mr. Adam Deas headed the list of peal ringers for the year, having scored 14, Mr. W. H. Barber and Mr. John Anderson being second with 12 each, and 11 members have rung their first peal. The total number of peals rung during the year was 21, which was a considerable decrease on last year.

The framed certificates gained by the four towers under the Sunday ringing scheme were presented to the belfry representatives by Bishop Wood.

The officers for the year were elected as follows: President, Mr. E. E. Ferry, Newcastle; secretary, Mr. G. S. Taylor, Sunderland; treasurer, Mr. J. W. Parker, Sunderland; editorial secretary, Mr. C. L. Routledge, Newcastle; auditor, Mr. J. F. Bird, Newcastle; vice-presidents—Northern District, Mr. E. A. Hern, North Shields; Southern District, Mr. Alfred Cates, Darlington; Eastern District, Mr. E. Burnett, West Hartlepool; Western District, Mr. W. F. Pattison, Chester-le-Street; West Tyne District (secretary), Mr. H. B. Taylor, Walbottle; Wednesday Guild (secretary), Mr. G. Siddie, Chester-le-Street.

The association meetings for the year were arranged as follows: Pre-Lent, Wylam-on-Tyne; pre-Whitsun, Bishop Auckland; summer meeting, Hexham; annual festival, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

After the meeting short touches were rung on the bells of St. Nicholas' and St. Oswald's Churches, and at 6 o'clock about 20 members negotiated the almost endless steps of the Cathedral tower and kept the bells going in Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob Major and Double Oxford until about 8 p.m.

LOUGHBOROUGH.—At the Parish Church on Sunday morning, October 13th, with bells half-muffled for a memorial service to the 5th Leicestershire Regiment, 1,259 Stedman Towers in 52 mins.: H. F. Stubbs 1, C. Ballard 2, D. S. Collins 3, J. Tawell 4, J. Saddington 5, J. Holman (Sheffield) 6, J. Hutchby 7, Colin Harrison (conductor) 8, E. Reader 9, A. Harrod 10.

ANCIENT BELLS AT WASHINGTON, SUSSEX.A COMPROMISE ON PRESERVATION.

A member of the Towers and Belfries Committee of the Central Council (Major J. H. B. Hesse) has done a further useful piece of work in advising the Washington, Sussex, Church authorities with regard to the restoration of the bells, and by appearing at the Consistory Court to support the application for the faculty. The Court was held in the church by the Chancellor of the Diocese (Mr. Kenneth MacMorrán), the application being for permission to recast one bell (the tenor, by Richard Eldridge, 1608), and to add a new one to make six, or three to make a ring of eight.

The Chancellor had intimated to the Vicar that he was prepared to allow the petition, and, except so far as the recasting of the bell, he did not want to raise difficulties over other matters. He asked if they had considered repairing the wood frame, instead of using iron.

Major J. H. B. Hesse, giving evidence, said he recommended the use of an iron frame for the hanging of the bells. The timber was in a very bad state, and, if repaired, would only last for a few years before it would have to come out. The iron frame would be a support for the tower and would bind all the walls together and be much better for the going of the bells.

The Chancellor said he thought it would be better if oak or teak were used, but Major Hesse pointed out that wood was liable to shrink. The Chancellor said he never insisted on wood if the parishioners desired metal, but wood was, in his view, more seemly.

Replying to Mr. Philip Johnson (architect), upon whose advice and experience the Chancellor said he was able to count, Major Hesse explained the technical details of the iron frame, and said the present wood one was pretty rotten. The existing frame might go for a few years with five bells.

The Chancellor then asked about the bell it was proposed to recast and inquired why they should not have a new bell.

Major Hesse said it was a question of funds, and the Vicar (the Rev. A. H. S. Patrick) remarked that the difference would be between £40 and £50. Major Hesse said the bell was extremely poor, and he thought it was cracked.

The Chancellor said the problem was whether they thought he ought to allow this 1608 bell to disappear in order that the parish might save £50. That was a difficult question to answer.

After consulting with Mr. Johnson, the Chancellor suggested that the founders might cut out the inscription on the bell and that could be preserved in the church and the rest of the metal could then be recast.

This compromise was agreed to by Major Hesse, the Vicar and Sir Eustace Betcher (churchwarden).

The Chancellor remarked that there were certain bells he should not allow to be touched, but there would be an order for the faculty to be granted in terms proposed, except that the inscription on the bell specified must be cut out and returned to the church for preservation. He hoped the Parochial Council would accept that.

The bells which the Chancellor said he would not allow to be touched are presumably two pre-Reformation bells, probably by a Sussex founder, of the early fourteenth century, and, as such, are priceless antiquarian possessions.

DISS RINGER MARRIED.

An interesting wedding took place at St. Mary's Church, Diss, on Saturday last, when Mr. Albert G. Harrison was married to Miss Daisy Pigg. The Rector of Diss officiated at the ceremony, which was fully choral. The bride was given away by her father, and Mr. William Harrison acted as best man.

After the service the bells were 'fired' and three leads of Oxford Treble Bob Major rung. During the afternoon, while the happy couple were leaving for London, the grand-toned ring, referred to by certain of the fraternity as 'the peal with four tenors,' was set going to Double Norwich, the local company being assisted by Messrs. Poppy (Stoke Ash) and Berry (Thornham Magna). Mr. Arthur Leeder, who participated in the ringing immediately following the wedding, was unable to take part in the peal.

The bridegroom is a much respected member of the local company and is well known for his ringing activities in Norfolk and Suffolk, being a 'go anywhere' enthusiast, whose genial manner and reliability has won him the esteem of all. As a member of the Norwich Diocesan Association and the Suffolk Guild, he has rung during the last three years upwards of 50 peals on from five to ten bells in a variety of methods, including Superlative Surprise.

Members of both Guilds join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Harrison a long and happy life together.

SUFFOLK GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Bury St. Edmunds District was held on Saturday, September 28th, when the following towers were represented: Ipswich, Cambridge, Lavenham, Sudbury, Stowmarket, Newmarket, Mildenhall, Elvedon, Long Melford, Sible Hedingham, Chevington and Hessett. Ringing commenced at the Norman Tower with Kent Treble Bob Royal, Grandsire and Stedman Caters, followed by Cambridge, Double Norwich, Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples at St. Mary's Church.

LADIES' GUILD.SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT WOKINGHAM.

A quarterly meeting of the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild was held at Wokingham on Saturday. There were about 30 present, including the president of the Central Council (Canon G. F. Coleridge) and the Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn). All Saints' bells were kept going in various methods till 5 o'clock, when all adjourned to the Church Hall and enjoyed a good tea, provided by Miss Robinson and Miss Walker. The ladies were successful, after much persuasion, in getting Canon Coleridge to address the meeting. After a few words of welcome to the visitors, he expressed pleasure at seeing so many youthful members of both sexes, who, he said, 'could teach the older hands a good deal.' He also referred to the women filling the gaps during the war and was thankful to notice that they were sufficiently interested to continue this duty to the Mother Church (applause).

After passing a vote of thanks to the ladies who so kindly provided tea, members were reminded of the stall in the corner where one could make purchases, the proceeds to go to the St. Laurence's Bell Fund.

Mr. Charles Denyer rendered valuable help to the Wokingham ladies in 'acting' as auctioneer (without a license!), and there is reason to believe the result was very satisfactory.

The men were then given permission to return to the tower whilst the ladies' business meeting was in progress. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Old Woking in February, 1930. Just before the service the Rev. B. Long entered the belfry to extend a welcome to the Ladies' Guild.

St. Paul's bells were available from 7.30 and were put to very good use. Ringers were present from Aldershot, Binfield, Caversham, Crowthorne, Farnham, Guildford (Cathedral and St. Nicolas'), Hawley, Hillingdon, Maidenhead, Worplesdon and local towers.

The secretary would like, through the medium of 'The Ringing World,' to thank all who assisted to make this meeting such a success.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.AN ADMIRAL RINGS BOB ROYAL.

A very pleasant meeting of the Leatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild was held on Saturday at Leatherhead. Originally the meeting had been planned for Epsom, but the bells there were not available on the date selected, and, by the kindness of the Rev. G. H. B. Coleridge and the band, Leatherhead was offered as an alternative. A company of just over 20 assembled and got in some excellent practice. Some six-bell men got touches on eight and eight-bell ringers got practice on ten, so that the afternoon and evening were productive of good work. The usual service was dispensed with on account of the Vicar's other engagements, but Mr. Coleridge was able to join the ringers at their meeting, which followed tea in the Institute, and over which the District Ringing Master (Mr. A. Harman) presided.

Admiral T. P. Walker proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and expressed appreciation of the help given in connection with the meeting by the Leatherhead band, and particularly by Mr. Arthur Dean.—Mr. Alan Pink (district secretary) seconded, and the Vicar, in replying, said the Guild were always welcome at Leatherhead.

The little business that there was to be done was quickly transacted, and the ringers returned to the tower, where there was uninterrupted practice for nearly three hours. Among the methods rung were Bob Major and Royal, Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Royal, Double Norwich Major, Superlative, Cambridge, London and Bristol Surprise Major, not the least interesting performance being that Admiral Walker rang his first courses of Bob Royal on an inside bell.

The visitors present during the day included the Surrey veteran, Mr. David Wright, of St. Peter's, Croydon, Messrs. J. Bennett and A. W. Coles (London), and ringers from Cobham, Epsom, Ewell, Leatherhead, Dorking, Newdigate, Chertsey, Guildford (St. Nicolas') and Woking. Only five had notified their intention of being present, but 22 sat down to the substantial meat tea. Either the caterer has been let into the secret of producing the proverbial 'rabbit' from the apparently empty hat, or else he has had previous experience of the ringers' customary failing. Anyhow, there was no lack of fare at the tea table.

RINGERS' HELP FOR READING BELLS.

On Saturday, October 5th, the Bradfield Deanery Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild annual meeting was held at Pangbourne.

After the routine business had been settled, the Chairman (the Rev. H. C. Wilder, R.D.) called the attention of those present to the big scheme at St. Laurence's, Reading, and suggested that as the branch was a Berks County branch, a generous grant should be made from the branch funds. The sum of £5 5s. was thereupon voted, the towers in the branch also promising to contribute.

Good use was made of the fine little peal of six (by Rudhall), Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob and Cambridge Surprise being successfully brought round.

THE 18 1/2 TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

RINGING CONTESTS.

Competitions in connection with Church bell ringing are responsible for very divergent views among the ringing fraternity. Some there are who look upon them as entirely retrograde from the point of view of belfry reform and not to be countenanced; others hold that they are of considerable value in cultivating good ringing and therefore should be encouraged; while in between these two extremes there are a variety of opinions. In the bad old days ringing contests led to all sorts of disgraceful proceedings in connection with the belfry, and were not infrequently promoted by some 'sporting' publican who saw in them a means of benefiting his own business. But at that time ringing and ringers were generally looked upon as something apart from the Church—the belfry was almost entirely dissociated from it. It was to remove the evils that had grown up in this and other directions that ringing associations were first formed by men who wished to see the belfry used with proper reverence and the art of change ringing extended and raised to a higher plane. It was not unnatural that the reformers should put in the forefront of their programme the abolition of competitions, and in the rules of some of them to-day are still to be found regulations prohibiting members from taking part in competitive ringing. In the Devon Guild, for example, a member is liable to immediate exclusion for a breach of this rule.

Conditions, however, have vastly changed since the days when such rules were first thought desirable. The belfries are now recognised as a part of the Church and are treated as such; the ringers are co-workers in the Church and men of high repute. Ringing competitions in these days are of a different character and, where they are promoted among change ringers, it is entirely with a view to improving the ability of the ringers themselves, and so raising the standard of the service which they render to the Church. Several competitions take place each year in different parts of the country on these lines and wherever they are held the clergy are to be found supporting them. The Barnsley and District Society have recently completed one of the closest contests in the history of ringing, for on the first occasion three teams tied on points, and comparatively few faults separated the first and second teams when they tried for the second time to settle the destination of the shield. At the Church where the tie was 'rung off,' the incumbent not only welcomed the contestants, but eulogised the good which such competitions did by improving the skill of the ringers in their craft. And, looked at from this point of view, with all the old evils associated with prize ringing eradicated, who shall say that these contests do any harm or degrade the belfry or the calling of the ringer? Everything depends upon the spirit in which the ringing is undertaken and, given the right spirit, we can see nothing more objectionable in this than in a choir contest.

EASTERN DISTRICT.

A most successful meeting of the Eastern District was held at Sutton-on-Hull on Saturday, October 12th, and was attended by upwards of 40 members and friends, representing towers at Beverley, Goole, Hovingbrough, Hull, Kirkella, Market Weighton, Pontefract, Selby, Withernsea, and the local company. The bells, a handy ring of six, were kept going in various methods during the afternoon and evening. A sumptuous tea was provided at Hill Farm by Mr. and Mrs. L. Rodwell, and was followed by the business meeting, the Vicar, the Rev. B. M. Challoner, presiding.

Four new members were elected: Messrs. J. Maurice Dixon, T. Shoppard and Cecil W. H. Tomlinson, of Withernsea, and Mr. A. Botham, of Beverley Minster.

The next quarterly meeting will be held at Beverley in December. A vote of condolence was passed with the Vicar of Howden, the Rev. A. Waring, on the sad calamity that has overtaken his noble church, and the sympathy of ringers go out to him and the people of Howden on the painful misfortune that has befallen them.

On the motion of the Hon. Secretary, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to Mr. and Mrs. L. Rodwell for their excellent catering; also to the local company for their efficient arrangements for the comfort of the visitors.

DEDICATION OF BELLS AT HEDON, YORKS.

EAST RIDING GETS A NEW PEAL OF EIGHT.

An impressive service was held at St. Augustine's Parish Church, Hedon, Yorkshire, on Thursday, October 17th. It was a thanksgiving for the inauguration of the peal of eight bells, and the service included the dedication of two new trebles and the rededication of the original six bells after recasting. The service was largely attended. The Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis were sung to West, in E flat, and the anthem, 'Send out Thy light' (Gounod), was rendered, immediately after which the dedication of the bells by the Ven. J. Malet Lambert (Archdeacon of the East Riding) took place. The bells were rung for two minutes, during which time the vast congregation remained standing, with who knows what thoughts of thankfulness and joy at the splendid result of their labours for their beautiful parish church. The hymn before the sermon was taken from Lord Tennyson's 'In Memoriam,' sung to the tune 'Warrington,' by the Rev. R. Harrison, and in which the bells as well as the congregation took their part very appropriately. The 'whole pull and stand' was rung after verses 1 and 2 for the two new bells, three 'whole pulls and stand' after verses 3 and 4 for the six old bells, and four 'whole pulls and stand' after the last verse for the full peal. The introduction of the bells was most effective.

The sermon was preached by the Archdeacon, who chose for his text 1 Cor. xiv. 8, 'For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?' He spoke of the way in which church bells were woven into the life history of the churches and the countryside. They were, he said, part of their very being. They gave tongue for joy after weddings, they tolled for death, were sounded after Trafalgar, after Waterloo, and after the Armistice. The people of Hedon had done well in completing the noble work of restoring the bells. They could be proud and thankful. It was not only a matter of parochial achievement, but something of greater importance, a matter of promise to a wider circle. He spoke of the glorious treasure of the church of Hedon, and of the ancient borough, almost unique in England. It had stood for eight or nine hundred years, and must continue the history of its strange, compelling memorable past. The achievement of the restoration of the church and the glorious bells was an object lesson. Around the countryside they could see the ruins of many mediæval castles, mere heaps of stones, crumbling away. Still the churches stood to mark the remaining need for men to seek the presence of God. Never was there a time when there was a greater need for this. Man was suffering from intoxication of his own mechanical achievement. He bent the forces of Nature to his will, and it was impossible to say what would be the outcome. There must be a spiritual power to guard mankind aright. Education could go far, but it could not touch the hearts and wills of men. The perennial answer was from these houses of God.

Archdeacon Lambert concluded with the wish and the prayer that the sound of the bells of Hedon Church would go out to 'Ring out the false, ring in the true,' and be instrumental in doing a great work for the brotherhood of man and the Fatherhood of God.

The hymn after the sermon had been specially written by Col. R. Hall for this service, and he was also the compiler of a delightful souvenir of the service, which was presented to the Vicar, the Rev. E. H. M. Ainslie, M.A., Rural Dean of South Holderness, the organist, choristers and ringers, to mark a great occasion in the history of the church.

The bells are a fine ring by Messrs. Taylor and Co., the tenor weighing 17 cwt. 1 qr. 19 lb. The two trebles were given by the late Col. W. Lambert White, C.B., and Mrs. Lambert White. Col. White saw the full peal of eight bells before they were raised to their position in the tower, but to the regret of the people of Hedon he did not live to hear them ring. He was a most generous benefactor to the church in which he and his family had worshipped for so many years.

The bells bear the following inscriptions:—

Treble.—Elizabeth White, 1929.

2.—William Lambert White, 1929.

3.—Eustace Roper, Richard Gibson, Churchwardens, 1776.

4.—Wind Them and Bring Them, and I will Ring for Them. 1637.

5, 6 and 7.—William and Philip Wightman made mee, 1686. The gift of Charles Duncomb to the Corporation of Hedon in Yorkshire.

Tenor.—The gift of Charles Duncomb to the Corporation of Hedon in Yorkshire, 1687, S.S. Ebor.

The initials S.S. are those of Samuel Smith, a bell founder of York. William and Philip Wightman were bell founders in London (1682-1702). Sir Charles Duncomb was one of the two members of Parliament representing the borough of Hedon. He was elected in 1685. The six old bells have now the added inscription: 'Recast, 1929.'

The following ringers took part in the ceremony: Messrs. G. F. Williams, J. H. Howell, G. T. Miller, G. Dowling, J. H. Chamberlain, W. Hobson, A. B. Cook, J. P. Fidler, E. Wood, A. E. West and L. Rodwell, and were afterwards kindly entertained to supper by Mr. G. W. Drescher, churchwarden.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION. SHIPBOURNE'S NOISY BELFRY.

The autumn meeting of the Tonbridge District was held at Shipbourne on Saturday, October 5th, and was attended by about 50 members, this being a record number for a meeting at a six-bell tower. Members were present from Horsmonden, Lamberhurst, Leigh, East Peckham, Penshurst, Sevenoaks, Tonbridge, Tunbridge Wells, Ightham, Chislehurst, Plaxtol, East Grinstead, Godstone, Hartfield, Mayfield and the local band. Ringing commenced at 3 o'clock. The usual service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. F. L. Schrieber), who is an honorary member of the association, and who gave an excellent address, in which he traced the history of the bells from the earliest date. The local organist presided at the organ and the service was very hearty throughout. Mr. T. E. Marriott, one of the churchwardens, was present. After the service the members were kindly entertained to tea by the Vicar in the Church Room, and, although more members turned up than had been anticipated, the caterers were equal to the occasion.

The business meeting followed, the Vicar presiding, supported by Mr. T. E. Marriott. One new non-resident life member was elected.

The Chairman said that no doubt the members had noticed that the bells were very noisy in the ringing chamber and asked for suggestions to remedy this.

These were forthcoming, and it is hoped something will be done in the near future. The reverend gentleman also mentioned that they, as churchmen, had heard that the Bishop of Rochester had issued an appeal for £50,000 to build churches in those parts of the diocese that had sprung up in recent years, and he suggested that as these churches would require at least one bell each, the association might consider the question of providing some bells for these new churches.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, conducting the service, and entertaining the members to tea, to the organist for his services, and to Mr. Marriott for his attendance, were passed, and the members adjourned to the tower.

LOST CLAPPER STOPS PEAL.

At Longstanton on Saturday, October 12th, an attempt for a spliced peal of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Major unfortunately came to grief, the sixth clapper dropping out after ringing ten courses with excellent striking, the band being Miss V. Shorter 1, F. J. Cook 2, G. E. Crisp 3, F. G. Gleaves 4, T. R. Dennis 5, F. Warrington 6, C. W. Cook 7, A. G. Rivers 8. If successful, this would have been the first peal of Spliced Major for Ely Diocesan Association.

DEATH OF MR. SAMUEL SOUTHBY. 'A FINE OLD ENGLISH GENTLEMAN.'

Mr. Samuel Southby, known to many of the older London ringers, passed away recently in his sleep.

'Mr. Southby,' writes Mr. Challis Winney, 'was a Sunday service ringer some ten years ago at St. Margaret's, Westminster, and also at St. Mary Abbots and St. Andrew's, Wells Street. He belonged to the refined "fine old English gentleman" type. Mr. Taffender, I think, called his last peal, Stedman Caters, at St. Mary's, Prittlewell, some years since. Mr. Southby was at one time butler to Lord Ormonde, at Kilkenny Castle, Ireland, and was practised in his profession. I remember on one occasion a person diligently attempting to pour out whisky with the cork remaining in bottle, when Southby gracefully called his attention to the oversight. Mr. Southby was a clever boxer, and once stood up in two rounds against Peter Jackson. If he had lasted another he would have won a prize, but Peter floored him next round. Mr. Southby's doctor had told him his end might come at any moment, but he preferred to die in harness. He was taken down to Tenterden and buried there where his son resides. May he rest in peace.'

SOCIETY FOR THE ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD.

The autumn meeting of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford was held at Wombourn on Saturday, September 28th, the weather being delightful. After ringing in the afternoon in various methods, a short service was held, at which the Rev. H. L. Langley (Vicar) officiated, and gave a very interesting address. A capital tea was laid in the Church Institute, kindly provided by the local ringers, when about 80 members and friends were present. The Vicar, who presided, gave the assembly a warm welcome, and asked why they had not been coming more often, it being ten years since the last visit! He, however, hoped they would visit Wombourn again in the near future.

An appeal on behalf of the church repairs fund was made by the Rev. C. H. Barker, and the result was that a useful amount was handed over to the Vicar, the latter expressing his surprise and delight.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar for his address, use of bells, etc., to Mr. England for presiding at the organ; to the local ringers for the splendid tea; and to the ladies for preparing and serving the same, was moved by the Rev. C. H. Barker and carried with acclamation.

Handbells were brought into use, and a touch of Stedman Triples was rung by the 'Old Boys,' while the 'Sedgley Juniors' delighted the audience with tunes and the 'rising' and 'falling' of a ring of eight.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The meeting of the Marlborough Branch of the Salisbury Guild, arranged for Collingbourne, is now to be held at Burbage on the same date at the time advertised.

'On the 25th October, 1731, here was Rung that Mysterious Peal called Stedman Tripples, the discovery thereof has been the Study of several Ingenious Ringers in England, though to no effect, until this intricate Peal, which differs from all other Methods of Tripples, as being every bell a like course, was perfectly discovered by Tho. Melchior, who first completed the Peal of Perfect Stedman Tripples with only two Doubles, and no alteration, the extent being 5,040 changes.'

This is the preamble to the record of the first peal of Stedman Tripples, which was rung at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich. An opposition company at St. Michael-at-Coslany, Norwich, disputed the truth of the peal, and claimed as the first, the 5,040 which they rang on December 6th in the same year. Indeed, so high did feeling run that according to the 'Norwich Daily Press' attempts were made to stop the peal at St. Michael's, but the interrupters were prevented by the people who had assembled to hear the peal, 'and were sent to their home to their shame with bloody noses.'

The first peal of Stedman Caters out of London was rung at Birmingham on October 25th, 1790.

A peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal was rung for the first time on October 26th, 1822, at Wakefield, by nine local ringers, with Joseph Tebbs, of Leeds, which peal, says the old record, 'will be a standing laurel to the Society for ages to come.'

The first double-handed handbell peal that was ever rung was accomplished at Sheffield on October 30th, 1811. It was a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major.

November 1st is the fortieth anniversary of the first peal by the Middlesex Association, which was rung at Tottenham. The method was Bob Major, and the ringers were Messrs. H. A. Barnett, J. Waghorn, jun., T. C. Grove, A. Fox, G. B. Lucas (who was composer and conductor), J. Barker, J. Waghorn, sen., and W. Pye English. Although this peal was rung so long ago, seven at least of the hand are still living. Whether the other ringer, Mr. A. Fox, is still alive, is not known to our correspondent.

NORTON, STAFFS. BELL RESTORATION. GENEROSITY OF NEIGHBOURING PARISH.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—At a meeting of the North Staffs Association held at Biddulph on Saturday, October 12th, an envelope containing the sum of £5 12s. 6d. was placed in my hands by the Vicar towards the recasting of the six bells at our church at Norton, this being the result of two 'retiring' collections (morning and evening) at Biddulph Church, and the Vicars assures me that the ordinary collections did not suffer one iota in consequence. Now, for the congregation of a church five miles away, upon whom Norton has no direct ecclesiastical claims whatever, we think this generosity on the part of the Biddulph people is unique, for we have never heard of anything similar occurring before. The Norton people are deeply grateful for this timely help.—Yours sincerely,

JOHN E. WHEELDON.

BROMSGROVE BELLS.

THEIR HISTORY AND SOME EARLY PEALS.

The bells at the Parish Church of St. John-the-Baptist, Bromsgrove, Worcestershire, where a peal was rung last Saturday, have a long history. When bells were first placed in the tower is unknown, but mention is made of them in 1691. In 1695 the five bells were recast into six, but they could have been only a poor lot, for in 1701 the whole ring was recast by A. Rudhall, of Gloucester. Three bells were again recast (the present 6th, 8th and tenor) in 1773, and two more added to make eight, by Thomas Rudhall. In 1790 the seventh was recast, and in 1815 a subscription list was opened for adding two more bells, which were provided in the following year, when the existing eight were rehung. There was a general restoration of the bells in 1871, when the reopening was attended by ringers from Worcester, Birmingham, and other towns. As a ring, the bells went on for over fifty years without serious attention, except the recasting of the eighth in 1887, and they were rehung in 1927 by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The tenor is about 18 cwt. in E flat.

Made eight in 1773, the first recorded peal on the bells was on December 31st, 1787, when 'a compleat peal of Bob Major, 10,192 changes,' was rung in 6 hrs. 33 mins. In December, 1788, a peal of 12,000 Bob Major (of which the composition is preserved) was rung. The first peal on the ten bells was rung in the year of the augmentation, this being a peal of 5,160 Grandsire Royal in December, 1816. In August, 1817, a peal of 5,000 Oxford Treble Bob Royal was rung.

ST. JOHN-THE-BAPTIST CHURCH, BROMSGROVE.

It was at Bromsgrove that the Worcestershire Association's first peal was rung, and many other 'firsts in the method' by the association have been rung there.

The inscriptions on the bells are as follows:—

Treble.—Purchased by subscription, 1816. J. Lawrence, of Whitford, first subscriber.

2.—T. Mears, of London. Fecit 1816.

3.—Thomas Rudhall, Gloucester, Founder, 1773.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

THE SUGGESTED RULES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The proposals which you have printed form so mild a revolution that one would hope that they will be acceptable to most of us. There is, however, one detail which, if not remedied, will make them ineffective.

The two months' notice required for proposals will not allow these to be published in time for discussion at the meetings which nearly every society holds on Easter Monday. On the other hand, it will be too long to allow of any proposals then made to be put on the agenda for the forthcoming Council meeting.

Would it not be best to fix, say, ten weeks' notice for individual proposals, and, say, six weeks for proposals, and especially for amendments, made by the societies? The effect of this would be that private proposals would, as now, form the normal agenda, which could be published some ten days before Easter. Then on Easter Monday the societies would be expected to review these proposals, and would have opportunity of adding to them, or amending them, for the final agenda to be published some ten days later. Such a time table would, I think, meet all requirements, and should satisfy everyone.

Mr. Edwards seems to have set himself a big proposition. He has first of all to prove that 'certainty of continuity' is possible in this changing world, even among change ringers. Then, that it is desirable. Most people would say that it means the worst kind of stagnation. He then has to prove that annual elections would affect the continuity at all. He has not done this yet, and I for one think it would have the opposite effect. The only people who would be lost would be the 'duds,' and they are no good on committees, even if they get there. Last and biggest, would be the effort to prove that the present constitution affords even the least 'certainty of continuity.' The way the Nomenclature Committee was treated was hardly an example of 'continuity.'

PRINCE'S GIFT FOR BELLS.

POOR NORFOLK PARISH'S APPEAL.

The Prince of Wales has headed the subscription list for the addition of two bells to the present four at Great Massingham Church, near King's Lynn. Canon C. M. McAnally, the Rector, is anxious to get these two trebles into the tower, and the parishioners, as far as they are able, are giving him their support, but the parish is a purely agricultural one; there is no 'squire,' and the farmers have no money. The Rector is, therefore, obliged to go outside the parish with his appeal.

Some years ago the belfry was in a terrible state of repair. The woodwork was crumbling, and the three bells then in the steeple were badly cracked. Canon McAnally raised sufficient money to recast these old bells and add another, which were put into an iron frame made for a ring of six, so that only the bells themselves are now required. The sum of about £145 is wanted, and when this is raised the work will be put into the hands of Messrs. Taylor and Co., who carried out the previous restoration. There are a number of young men in the parish to whom bellringing would be likely to appeal, and it would provide them with some occupation on Sunday.

Here is an opportunity for ringers, particularly those in East Anglia, to lend a helping hand, and contributions should be sent to Canon McAnally, Great Massingham Rectory, King's Lynn. The subscriptions at present received are as follows: H.R.H. the Prince of Wales £25, the Earl of Leicester £25 5s., Lord Fermoy £10, Marchioness Cholmondeley £22 2s., Countess Stratford £22, the Rector £5, Major J. H. B. Hesse £1.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

SOUTHERN DIVISION'S JOINT MEETING WITH DONCASTER SOCIETY.

A joint meeting of the Southern Division of the Yorkshire Association and the Doncaster and District Society was held at Arksey, near Doncaster, on Saturday, when members were present from Doncaster, Conisborough, Sprotborough, the Cathedral and St. Marie's, Sheffield, Wath, Darfield, Pontefract and Fishlake. A short service was held, at which the Vicar, the Rev. Pierce Price, officiated, and gave a very hearty welcome to the visitors. The service was also brightened by the attendance of the organist and choir, and whose services were highly appreciated. Tea was served in the New Church Hall, a building erected mostly by voluntary labour, and which will long stand as an example of what can be done by an energetic Vicar and a few loyal churchworkers.

At the business meeting the Vicar was voted to the chair, and one new member (Mr. R. Thompson, of Doncaster) was elected.

It was decided to join with the Sheffield and District Society and the Doncaster and District Society and hold the next meeting at All Saints', Sheffield, on December 14th, and to invite the Barnsley and District Society.

It was decided to place on record the best thanks of the association to Mr. S. F. Palmer and his co-workers on the committee for the very able manner in which the association dinner had this year been arranged, and for the work which had been done to make everyone comfortable and happy at this gathering.—Mr. Palmer replied on behalf of the committee, and said it was very gratifying to know that the efforts they had made were appreciated. All they desired was to send every visitor home satisfied, and then they would come again and bring others along.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens, organist and choir, and to the ladies for the excellent tea were heartily carried and acknowledged by the Vicar and Mr. G. Clark (churchwarden).

A collection on behalf of the funds for the Church Hall realised 12s. 1d., and for which the Vicar sincerely thanked all present.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

The quarterly meeting held at Coleshill on Saturday last was well attended by members from Allesley, Chilvers Coton, Croft, Fillongley, Exhall, Leamington, Nuneaton, Smethwick and Stoke, together with the local band and friends from Erdington and King's Norton.

The bells of the Parish Church (which is an imposing edifice commanding an extensive view of the surrounding country) were raised during the afternoon and kept going to various methods until five o'clock, when a halt was called for tea. This was served in a cosy room at the Town Hall by ladies of the parish. When the excellent fare provided had been disposed of, the business meeting began.

Mr. F. W. Perrens was voted to the chair. The place for the January quarterly meeting had to be decided. Both Leamington and Nuneaton were proposed and seconded, and upon a vote being taken the majority were in favour of Nuneaton. Arley was decided upon for the November meeting, and Newbold-on-Avon for the December one.

Mr. J. White proposed and Mr. J. Hunt seconded that the December meeting be held on the second Saturday instead of the third owing to its proximity to Christmas.—This was carried unanimously.

Six new ringing members were elected, two from Leamington and four from Brinklow.

Mr. A. Wilkerson proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to the local band for having everything in readiness in the tower, and to the ladies for the tea they had provided.—This was seconded and carried unanimously, Mr. Charles Dale suitably responding.

The members then returned to the tower, where ringing was resumed until 7 p.m., when a service in the church caused the bells to be silent.

Most of the standard methods up to London Surprise Major were rung during the afternoon and evening.

BELLRINGING TALK TO ROTARIANS.

The members of the Birmingham Rotary Club, at their weekly luncheon at the Queen's Hotel, on October 14th, were entertained by a 'talk' on 'Church Bells and Change Ringing' by Rotafian William A. Clark, F.R.P.S., and a demonstration on handbells given by members of St. Martin's Guild, under the conductorship of Mr. A. Walker (Deputy Ringing Master), the illustrations being on six, eight, ten and twelve bells.

Mr. Clark, in his talk, briefly traced the history of bells and ringing, and referred to some of the curious inscriptions to be found on bells in the churches in the Midlands. His tribute to the bellringers was that they were downright good fellows, the true yeomen of England, who devoted the whole of their physical and mental strength to the craft.

The talk and the ringing were followed with intense interest by the Rotarians.

THE DESTRUCTION OF HOWDEN BELLS.

We have to acknowledge a donation of 2s. 6d. from Mr. D. C. Mears, Offley, in response to the appeal for the restoration of Howden Church tower and bells, made by the Vicar of Howden in our last issue. This donation has been forwarded to the Rev. A. Waring.

A large sum will be needed to carry out the restoration, and any help that can be given by ringers will be gratefully received. Contributions should be sent direct to the Vicar of Howden.

When the restoration is taken in hand, one of the first difficulties will be the removal of the three remaining bells which hang precariously in the blackened ruin of the tower.

BARNSELEY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY'S CONTEST.

THREE TEAMS DECIDE A TIE.

The contest for the Barnsley and District Society's challenge shield and prizes, which took place on August 31st and resulted in three bands tying for first place—an unprecedented occurrence—was rung again on Saturday, October 12th, when the three teams met at Crofton to decide the destination of the shield and the prize-winners. The draw for order of ringing was: 1, Wath-on-Dearne; 2, Shelley; 3, Sandal. A 720 of Oxford Treble Bob Minor was rung by each band, and at the conclusion of the ringing about forty ringers and friends sat down to an excellent tea.

Subsequently the judge (Mr. W. Idle) gave his decision as follows: Wath-on-Dearne, 124 faults, 10 penalties, total 134; Shelley, 80 faults, 5 penalties, total 85; Sandal, 125 faults, no penalties, total 125. Shelley, therefore, were the winners, and will hold the shield for the next year. They also took the first prizes, a pair of hair brushes in leather case for each of the team. Sandal gained the second prizes, a cruet stand each, and Wath-on-Dearne the third, a double-bladed penknife each. These third prizes were not originally provided, but the judge had decided to give them himself, as the teams had rung so closely together so many times, and, he thought, whoever was third ought to get a prize.

Needless to say, Mr. Idle was warmly thanked by all for his generous gift, which was very much appreciated.

The Rector's wife, Mrs. Brownrigg, very kindly presented the shield and prizes with appropriate words.

A short business meeting was held, and among other things it was decided to hold the next monthly meeting at Sandal on Saturday, November 9th. A hearty vote of thanks to the Rector and Mrs. Brownrigg, the churchwardens and local band, and all who had helped to make the meeting a success, was replied to by the Rector in very kindly terms, in the course of which he stated that, in his opinion, such contests, conducted in the way in which that one had been, were bound to improve the quality of the ringing for services, and in consequence should have the support of the clergy wherever there are bells.

Thus terminated a very pleasant day.

DEATH OF A PAIGNTON RINGER.

It is with deep regret we have to announce the death of Mr. J. S. Collings, of Paignton, Devon, which took place suddenly on Saturday, October 12th. Deceased had been in ill-health for nearly two years. He was vergar at the Parish Church for some time, but his health compelled him to resign.

He had been associated with the Paignton ringers for many years. When the Paignton band joined the Devon Guild, he was very keen, and quickly acquired the art of change ringing. Not only was he a great help to his band, but rendered invaluable service as instructor to the Brixham company.

The funeral took place on Wednesday of last week, the Rev. R. D. Mills officiating. There were considerably over a hundred sympathisers in the church; six of deceased brother ringers acted as bearers: F. Allwood, C. Boyce, A. L. Pope, F. E. Parnell, C. F. Austen and H. J. Hole. Mr. F. J. Laxton (branch chairman) and Messrs. A. C. Taylor and F. Hayden (Brixham) represented the Devon Guild. The coffin was draped with the flag of the British Legion, of which deceased had been an active member. Amongst the many beautiful wreaths were tributes from the gardeners of the Paignton U.D.C.; the British Legion; his brother ringers, Paignton; and the Brixham band.

In the evening, with the bells muffled, the 'whole pull and stand' was perfectly struck 56 times, representing the fifty-six years of deceased's age, followed by 504 Grandsire Triples. Those who took part were Messrs. Laxton, Gover, Huxley, Lewis, Austen, Pope, Parnell, Boyce and Hole.

A UNIQUE 720.

On Sunday, October 20th, at St. Peter's Church, Rock Ferry, Cheshire, 720 of Plain Bob Minor was rung for evening service by a band which consisted of the unusual combination of a father and two daughters and a father and two sons. The composition of the band was as follows: Geo. Battle 1, Miss Marjorie Cooke 2, Miss Elsie Cooke 3, W. Battle 4, W. J. Battle 5, John Cooke 6.

The 720 was conducted by J. Cooke, and this is the first occasion in which such a family combination has taken part in a 720 in the district.

PEAK DISTRICT'S ENCOURAGING MEETING.

An enjoyable meeting of the Peak District of the Midland Counties Association was held at Darley Dale on Saturday. About 20 ringers were present from Bakewell, Chesterfield, Darley Dale, Derby, Dore, Eyam, Hope, Matlock and Ripley. The bells, a nice going peal of eight (tenor 16 cwt.), were raised about 3 p.m., and were kept going until well into the evening, some well-struck touches of Double Norwich, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Major and Stedman and Grand-sire Triples being brought round. A substantial tea at a nearby inn was provided about 5.30, at which the Rector of Darley (the Rev. R. Griffiths) presided.

A short business meeting followed, the Rector being in the chair, supported by the Rev. W. P. Wright (Eyam), Mr. W. Wallace (Derby), hon. treasurer, and Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey (Dore), hon. district secretary.

It was arranged to hold the next meeting, if possible, at Baslow (six bells) on November 16th, and it was decided to make Cambridge Minor the method for special attention at that meeting, and Double Norwich the method for the next eight-bell meeting. Some good advice regarding methods of practice and assistance of learners was given by Mr. W. Wallace, who also made an appeal for a more generous support of 'The Ringing World.'

A hearty vote of thanks to the Rector and the local company was responded to by the former in an eloquent little address, in which he referred to the message of the bells, their part in rejoicing and sorrow in the life of the Church, the definite mission of the ringers as a part of the Church, entailing labour and sacrifice, and of his appreciation of the work being done by the Midland Counties and like societies.

Mr. G. H. Paulson also responded on behalf of the Darley ringers, extending a welcome to those present. A few plain courses of Grand-sire Triples and Caters on the handbells followed; and Messrs. A. G. and W. Wallace and F. H. Bennett afterwards entertained those present with a little tune playing.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

THE MEMORIAL TO THE LATE DISTRICT MASTER.

A most successful meeting of the South and West District of the Middlesex County Association was held at Twickenham on Saturday, October 12th. The bells pealed forth shortly after 3 p.m., with Mr. F. W. Goodfellow (Ringing Master) in charge. Standard methods were practised during the meeting. A service from the 'Ringers' Manual' was conducted by the Rev. W. P. Cole Skeane (Vicar), assisted by the Rev. G. Bradley. Dr. Nicholl presided at the organ and led the singing.

Afterwards the company, which numbered 50, adjourned to the Church Hall, where they were entertained to tea by the Vicar and his wardens. The Vicar presided, supported by Mr. W. Etherington and Mr. A. Forman (churchwardens), Mr. F. Goodfellow, Mr. J. A. Trollope and Mr. J. Herbert.

The Vicar gave the association a most hearty welcome, and said what a great pleasure it was to meet the members at his church, and, above all, to listen to the hearty way they sang at the service.

At the business meeting which followed, attention was called to the joint meeting with the London County Association and North South-west Diocesan Guild (South District), to take place at St. Mary's, Ealing, on November 2nd, details of which appear in 'The Ringing World' notices.

The hon. secretary made an appeal on behalf of the fund for the erection of a memorial tablet to the late District Ringing Master, and the sum of £1 5s. was collected.

Mr. Tom Beadle, who was assisted to the meeting by his two sons, received a hearty welcome.

At the request of the Vicar, Grandsire Caters were rung on handbells by Messrs. F. Goodfellow, J. A. Trollope, R. A. Pardon, J. Herbert and E. S. Turner.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar and his wardens for their kind hospitality, which was greatly appreciated by the company. Thanks were also accorded to the Vicar for conducting the service, to the curate who assisted, to the organist (Dr. Nicholl), to the host and hostess (Mr. and Mrs. J. Lovill), and Miss K. SUDDEN DEATH OF EDENBRIDGE RINGER.

It is with deep regret we record the death, which took place suddenly, on Saturday, October 12th, of Edwin Colbron.

The deceased was born at Staplehurst, Kent, nearly 45 years ago, but moved to Edenbridge. As a lad he joined the Royal Artillery and served 12 years with the colours. At the outbreak of war he at once volunteered, and was sent to France in September, 1914. After the Armistice, he settled down in Edenbridge, learnt to handle a bell, and took up change ringing. His first peal was rung in 1921. He was quite safe in all standard methods.

He was also a member of the local town band.

The funeral took place on Thursday, October 17th, amidst general tokens of sympathy and respect. Most of the ringers and members of the band were present, and a large number of his fellow-workmen from the tanyard also attended.

In the evening, with the bells half-muffled, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung in 45 mins. by: W. Leigh, sen., 1, E. Leigh 2, G. Malyan 3, R. Jenner 4, H. Leigh 5, J. Heasman 6, J. W. Steddy (conductor) 7, W. Leigh, jun., 8.

The deceased is the third member of the Edenbridge Parish Church ringers to pass away within three months.

A TOUR IN YORKSHIRE.

AND A PEAL AT RIPON CATHEDRAL.

On Saturday, October 5th, a party of ten members of the Doncaster and District Society had a day's outing among some Yorkshire towers. The programme included visits to Knaresborough, Tadcaster, Selby Abbey and a peal of Royal at Ripon Cathedral as the main objective.

A start was made from Doncaster at 9.30 a.m., the weather being ideal. The first stop was made at Ferrybridge, owing to a deflated tyre, which event was certainly not on the programme. After a delay of 15 minutes the journey was resumed and Knaresborough was reached at 11.20 a.m. Mr. Lee greeted the party and piloted them to the belfry, where the beautiful peal of eight were soon raised. Touches of Stedman, Double Norwich and Little Bob were rung. There was no time allowed to visit the various places of interest, such as 'Mother Shipton's Cave' and 'The Dropping Well' in this interesting old-world town, and after a too short stay of 50 minutes the party proceeded to Ripon.

The first interesting event on arrival at Ripon was 'Knife and Fork Surprise' at the Granville Hotel. After an excellent lunch the bells of the Cathedral were raised after everything had been prepared by Mr. F. Tingle, of the Cathedral Society. The bells came in for a good deal of adverse criticism. The tone is poor and one cannot hear the trebles in the ringing chamber. A process of 'Taylorising' would certainly improve them. Bob Royal was the method chosen for the peal, and the band were instructed to finish the peal by 4.40 so that the bells could be chimed for 5 o'clock evensong. The peal went steadily on until at 4.40 p.m. 'Ted' called a 'wrong' hob in the right place, which brought the bells into the plain course. A minute afterwards a knock came at the belfry door as a signal that the bells must stop. The ringing had been so good throughout the peal that 'Ted' decided to finish it, come what may. At 4.44 p.m. the bells ran round, and 'That's all' and 'Stand' were called. The door was opened to admit the verger, who had come up to chime for service. An offer by the band to ring the full peal for service was declined on the ground that it was usual for the two trebles to be chimed from 4.45 until 4.50 p.m., and then for the third to be chimed from 4.50 to 4.55 p.m. The first part of this ceremony was performed by two of the band, who rang as many changes as is possible on two bells in the short time available. At 4.55 the remaining seven bells were lowered in peal in 'double quick' time, so that the clock could chime the hour. The band desire to extend their apologies to the Dean of Ripon for overstaying their welcome by four minutes, and hope he was put to no inconvenience by reason of their belated completion of a splendid peal.

Rain commenced to fall as the bus left Ripon, and it was soon pouring down. Tadcaster was the next place of call, and at 6 o'clock the bus drew up outside the church. Mr. Hicks and several of the local band greeted the visitors and explained that there could be no ringing, as it was not permitted after 6 p.m. This was to be expected, as, according to programme, the party should have arrived at Tadcaster at 5.15 p.m. Before recommencing the journey the visitors sampled the product for which Tadcaster is noted.

Selby Abbey was reached in pouring rain at 7.30, and Messrs. F. Cryer and W. A. Hall welcomed the visitors. The magnificent ring of ten were soon going to Stedman Caters. In the first course a quick bell went in slow and stayed there, effectively putting 'paid' to the first attempt. At the second attempt three well-struck courses were rung. These were followed by a touch of Treble Bob Royal and a course of Cambridge Surprise Major. Selby Abbey and its beautiful bells were regretfully left behind at 8.45 p.m., and Doncaster reached an hour later.

During the last stage of the homeward journey a hearty vote of thanks to the organiser of the tour, Mr. J. E. Cawser, was carried with acclamation.

The party desire to thank the Dean of Ripon, the 'Abbot' of Selby Abbey (an old friend of ringers) and the incumbents at Knaresborough and Tadcaster for granting the use of their bells, and also Messrs. Lee, Tingle, Hicks, Cryer and Hall for kindly making local arrangements. The towers represented at the outing were Arksey, Conisborough, Doncaster, Tickhill, Rotherham, Ravenfield, Gainsborough and Lincoln Cathedral.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Winchester District was held at Hursley on Saturday, a fair number of ringers being present from various towers, namely, Winchester, North Stoneham, Titchfield, Southampton, Romsey and King's Somborne. After ringing in various methods, a service was conducted by the Rev. Husband, who gave a short address on 'Self Sacrifice.' He considered all church bellringers were performing a duty which was, to a certain extent, self-sacrifice.

Tea was served in the Church Hall, to which twenty-two sat down, and at the business meeting which followed, votes of thanks were tendered to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for the service. Handbell ringing terminated the meeting, and the ringers adjourned to the tower for further touches, which brought to a close a very pleasant meeting.

RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

BELFRY RECORDS.

There are many directions in which the records of the ringing Exercise are sadly lacking, and information as to past happenings is no longer available. In the early days, of course, it was impossible to bring together for purposes of reference particulars of peals and other events, and yet how valuable and interesting would the information have been to-day if it were available. Alas, it can never now be compiled; it has gone for ever. Here and there, there remain to us scraps of history, retained through old peal boards, the books of a few of the ancient ringing societies, paragraphs buried deep in the files of old newspapers, or retained in the 'scrap books' compiled by old ringers. But while among these records there are, happily, accounts of some of the outstanding early performances in the art, much that would have been of untold interest to-day is lost to us. Not only is this not surprising; it was inevitable.

Even modern facts are soon lost sight of, and instances constantly crop up, for example, of claims to 'first performances' on bells, which prove to be untenable. It is hardly to be expected, perhaps, that ringers of this generation should be fully acquainted with all that happened even in the generation that preceded it, although everything of note that has happened in the last half century is on record in the pages of the various ringing journals. The difficulty, of course, is that the precise information required is not, nine times out of ten, to be found, because no one knows where to look for it. There can be no doubt that many claims have from time to time been made, which could not be upheld if tested, but which have never been disputed merely because the earlier records have been lost sight of. The most important of these, obviously, relate to peals, and it might be well, before matters get any worse, if something could be done with a view to bringing to light all available information.

This suggestion might seem to offer a stupendous task, but the collection of these records might be made possible if undertaken by the various associations. In each organisation some one or more ringers interested in research could probably be found to examine the association's reports and the volumes of the ringing press, and extract for each tower the particulars of the first peal rung therein in each method. These details could then be handed to the custody of the respective towers, where they would always remain for reference. Afterwards, if there was a desire for it, the information could be elaborated by the addition of other peals rung in the tower. Every belfry would thus have its own record, at any rate of essential performances, which could be consulted and which would settle most of the questions of priority of claims. There are in many belfries, of course, records of the peals rung, but by far the larger number have no such records, and it would be a step towards the preservation of local information if something on the lines roughly sketched out could be generally adopted.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

GOSPORT REVISITED AFTER 15 YEARS.

A very successful meeting of the Portsmouth District was held at Gosport on Saturday last, it being 15 years since the Guild last met there, and over 30 members were present from Alverstoke, Bramshott, Curdridge, Fareham, Gosport, Portsmouth (St. Mary's and St. Thomas'), Ryde, Shedfield, Titchfield and Wickham, visitors from Beaconsfield, and Mr. J. H. Shepherd (Swindon).

The bells were available during the afternoon, and at 4.30 the Guild's service was held in the church, the Vicar kindly officiating and giving the address. An excellent tea was served in the Parish Hall, after which the business meeting was held, Col. A. de W. Kitecat being voted to the chair. Apologies for absence were received from Mr. E. Woods (Bramshott) and Capt. A. R. W. Woods, R.N. (Alverstoke), who were both indisposed.

The Vicar of Gosport was, subject to his consent, elected an hon. member, and G. Jurd (Gosport) a ringing member.

It was decided, after a vote, to hold the annual district meeting at Alverstoke on January 27th, 1930. It was also resolved that the secretary should send a letter of sympathy to Canon G. Landon (Alverstoke) in his recent loss by the death of his daughter.

Votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, and the organist for kindly officiating at the organ. In reply, the Chairman, on behalf of the Vicar, welcomed the members to Gosport that day, and hoped that it would not be another 15 years before they came again.

The Secretary (Mr. F. W. Rogers) thanked the chairman for his kind remarks, and also those who had been mentioned in the votes of thanks.

At the conclusion of the meeting another visit was paid to the tower, and, although the bells are somewhat difficult for strangers to handle, some very good touches were brought round in methods ranging to Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise Major.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

ARCHDEACONRY OF ELY.

A meeting of the Archdeaconry of Ely Branch was held at Melbourn on Saturday, ringers being present from Barley, Bourn, Fulbourn, Ickleton, Newton, Royston, Sawston, Stapleford and Trumpington, as well as members of the local band. Tea was provided at the Rose Inn, where about 20 ringers and friends sat down. At the conclusion of the tea a short business meeting was held, Mr. A. E. Austin being elected as chairman. Owing to the absence of the district secretary, Mr. F. Warrington, the minutes of the previous meeting could not be read.

There were two propositions for the place of the next meeting, namely, Trumpington and Fulbourn, and on being put to the vote Trumpington was selected, the meeting to be held on November 23rd.

A suggestion was made that it would be better to arrange a programme of meetings and dates for a complete year, instead of the present method of arranging at one meeting the place and date of the next meeting. After some discussion, it was resolved that the committee for the archdeaconry should be asked to arrange such a programme for the ensuing year.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to Mr. J. W. Ward for arranging for the tea, and to the chairman for presiding at the meeting.

The methods rung during the afternoon and evening were Plain Bob, Double Court, Oxford, Kent, and Woodbine Treble Bob, Cambridge, London, Wells, York, Durham, Beverley and Ipswich Surprise, some of the Surprise methods being spliced.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT STAMFORD.

An enjoyable meeting of the Southern Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild was held at Stamford on Saturday last, about 25 ringers and friends being present. The bells of All Saints', a musical peal of six, were set going about 3 p.m. to a variety of methods, including London Surprise. The good-going peal of six at St. Martin's was also available during the afternoon and evening, and at this church the bells were rung half-muffled before service, owing to a funeral having taken place the same afternoon of a well-known churchman of this parish.

A short service was held at All Saints' Church, at which the Vicar (the Rev. C. A. Peacock) officiated, and gave a very hearty welcome to the visitors, and also a very interesting address on bells from early times. Tea was served at Ye Olde Barn Cafe, 19 sitting down to the excellent tea provided.

At the business meeting, the Rev. H. Law James (Master of the Guild) took the chair, and three new members from Stamford were elected.

The next meeting being the annual meeting of the branch, it was decided to hold a meeting at Grantham.—A vote of thanks to the Vicars of All Saints' and St. Martin's for the use of the bells, also to the Rev. C. A. Peacock and his organist for making the necessary arrangements for the service, was passed.

Ringings was continued at both churches until about 9 p.m.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

The last quarterly meeting of this association for the year was held at Llantrisant, Glam., on Saturday. The bells, a light, good-going ring of eight, were off early in the afternoon, and kept going in various methods until 4.30, when service was held in the church, the Vicar (Rev. D. H. Simon) officiating, assisted by Canon David, of Llantwit Major, who gave a most interesting address.

Following the service, about 60 sat down to a bountiful tea, which had been laid in the church rooms, and graciously provided by the two churchwardens.

Before tea was finished, the Canon had to leave, and was thanked by the Vicar for his address. This was endorsed by the hon. secretary (Mr. J. W. Jones), and the Canon, in reply, said that it was a great pleasure to him to do all he could for ringers, and hoped the members would once more visit Llantwit Major before the year was out. He mentioned that the first bells he ever heard were those of Llantrisant, his home being in the adjoining parish of Pendoylan.

The Vicar presided at the business meeting, at which mention was made that Pentre bells had now been placed on ball bearings and were going well, and an invitation was also given to anyone to pay a visit to the tower, where there would be a welcome.

The place for the next quarterly meeting was left over until the annual meeting, which is to be held at St. Woolos', Newport, on December 26th.

Mention was made that the first peal of Stedman Caters had been rung on Llandaff Cathedral bells by members of this association, and the meeting closed with the usual vote of thanks. The bells were afterwards rung until late in the evening.

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Shropshire Association was held at Whitchurch on Saturday, October 26th, and was attended by about 25 ringers from Wellington, Wem, Moreton Corbet, Prees, Shrewsbury, Market Drayton, Alberbury, Crewe, Marbury, and the local company. The bells, a ring of eight, with tenor 20 cwt., cast by Rudhall in 1715, were raised shortly after three o'clock, and were kept going till 5.30.

A short meeting was then held in the belfry, presided over by Mr. F. A. Barnett. It was decided to hold the annual meeting at Shrewsbury in January.

There was no other business before the meeting, and the members adjourned to a nearby cafe for tea, after which they kept the bells going until eight o'clock.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.
SOUTHERN DISTRICT AT STREATHAM.

A successful meeting of the Southern District of the London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild was held on Saturday, October 19th, at Streatham. Proceedings were to commence at 3, and at 2.55 there was a good Stedman band in attendance at St. Leonard's Church, but no ringing could be done for a short time owing to a christening ceremony which was taking place. Cambridge was rung as an opening touch. Other humbler methods followed, including Grandsire for beginners. Members and friends continued to arrive, and by service time some 30 odd people were in or out of the not by any means large ringing chamber. Choral evensong at five o'clock, at which the Rural Dean gave an inspiring address, was followed by tea at Streatham Hall, 28 sitting down to a nicely prepared meal, the arrangements for which were kindly made by Mr. J. Chapman, of St. Leonard's.

The business meeting followed, and the usual routine items were soon disposed of. An appeal was made for Mr. T. Beadle, of Isleworth, a very old member of the district, which resulted in the sum of £1 being subscribed, to be handed to Mr. Hollier (Middlesex) for his fund.

The ringers then turned their attention again to ringing. The Master (Mr. Mance) took the major portion of the company to Immanuel Church for London Surprise, etc., whilst the secretary took charge of a novices' party, who first revisited St. Leonard's and rang three good touches, Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob Major, and afterwards went on to join the main body. Ringing in various methods was kept up till nine o'clock, by which time some of the out-residents (having to go twenty miles or so) had left. During the meeting a vote of thanks was passed to the incumbents for the use of the two 'eights' available, to the Rural Dean, the organist and choir, and to Mr. J. Chapman and his merry men who arranged things so admirably.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

A small but energetic company met at Warfield on Saturday last for an East Berks and South Bucks Branch practice meeting, and after a few touches enjoyed a most interesting address by the Vicar, which included some history of the older bells of this church.

Then an excellent tea followed, at the Vicar's invitation, in the Brownlow Hall, a very up-to-date structure with clubroom, billiard room and library attached.

Afterwards the tower was again visited, chiefly for spade work, until all had been satisfied.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We desire to thank the many ringers who have responded to our request, in the notice at the head of this column. We hope that those who have not yet been able to send the picture of their church and information about the bells will kindly do so.

Messrs. Taylor and Co. are restoring the ring of five bells in the ancient tower of Rugby Parish Church. It is of interest to note that Rugby Parish Church is unique in possessing two peals of bells, there being a ringing peal of eight, with tenor 25 cwt., in the other tower of the same church.

In connection with the Students' Mission Campaign, two Cambridge undergraduates visited Kington Magna early in September. During two days spent in the village they became interested in ringing, and have since both joined the Cambridge University Guild.

Several veterans took part on Saturday at Bradford in a peal of Treble Ten, which was rung as a compliment to Mr. Joseph Broadley, one of Yorkshire's 'grand old men,' on his 70th birthday, as a birthday peal for Mr. Tom Maude, whose interest in ringing and ringers has been maintained through many years, and also as a compliment to Mr. J. W. Cundall on the 38th anniversary of his wedding. Many happy returns of the day was the wish extended to the trio.

We are happy to record that after seven weeks' illness, Mr. Walter Perkins, of Irthlingborough, Northants, is on the road to recovery, and hopes to be at work again in a fortnight's time.

To-day is the anniversary of the opening of the bells at St. Paul's Cathedral, which took place in 1878.

The first 'name' peal on record was rung by a band all with the Christian name of William. There were eleven of them (two to the tenor), all members of the Royal Cumberland Youths, in a peal of Grandsire Caters at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, on November 3rd, 1796, the conductor being William Shipway.

The bells of Great St. Mary's, Cambridge, which were heard over the ether on Sunday evening, have been associated with change ringing almost from the earliest days, and as long ago as November 5th, 1725, a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung there.

What is believed to be the first peal of Superlative Surprise on record was rung at St. Peter's, Huddersfield, on November 5th, 1821.

Because of the nearness of a church, which interfered with his Sunday tennis, the High Sheriff of Somerset has had his rating assessment reduced on appeal. He stated that it was impossible to play tennis on Sunday evenings, as the people in church could look through the church windows across his lawn and watch the play; also that the church bells were rather trying.

The name of the ringer of the third in the peal of Treble Ten at Heddington on October 18th, was connected with Trafalgar and not the Norman Conquest. It should have been Nelson Elliott.

The asterisk in the report of the peal of Treble Bob Royal at Bromsgrove should have been against the name of the ringer of the 7th instead of the 8th.

MR. TOM BEADLE FUND.

Previously acknowledged £10 14s. 6d., collected at the Streatham meeting of the London County Association (per Mr. J. Herbert) £1, Mr. F. Corke 2s. 6d., Mr. F. T. Hoad 2s. 6d., Mr. G. Thompson (Tunbridge Wells) 2s., Mr. J. Idle (Dewsbury) 2s.; total £12 3s. 6d. Further donations will be gratefully received on behalf of this fund by Mr. Wm. H. Hollier, 29, Duke Road, Clacton, W.I.

HEDON CHURCH AND ITS BELLS.

Hedon, in the East Riding of Yorkshire, possesses a very fine church, and a noble tower, in which, as recorded in our last issue, a ring of eight bells has just been installed and dedicated.

Originally there were five bells there, cast in 1686 and 1687, and, from their inscriptions, they appear to have been presented, not to the church, but to the Corporation of Hedon. The tenor was cast in 1687 by Samuel Smith, a bell founder of York, the bell being the gift of Sir Charles Duncomb, one of the two members of Parliament for the borough. The fourth bell was cast in the same year, presumably at the same foundry, and bore the unusual inscription, 'Wind Them and Bring Them and I will Ring for Them.'

The other three bells of the five were cast by William and Philip Wightman, of London, and were also the gift of Sir Charles Duncomb. A treble was added to make a ring of six in 1776, and the whole of the bells have now been recast by Messrs. Taylor and Co. and two trebles added, the gift of Col. and Mrs. Lambert White, making a fine ring of eight, with a tenor of 17½ cwt. The inscriptions on the old bells have been reproduced on the new, and each bears in addition the words, 'Recast, 1929.'

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

EASTERN AND WESTERN DISTRICTS' JOINT MEETING.

A joint meeting of the Eastern and Western Districts of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association was held in Sunderland on Saturday last. The ringers began to meet at Bishopwearmouth Church at 2.30 p.m., and the bells were soon going merrily to touches of Grandsire Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major. By four o'clock the belfry was full of ringers, so a party 'took off' for Holy Trinity Church, where Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung. At 5 p.m. all ringers wended their way to St. Ignatius' Institute for tea, but owing to some mistake the victuals had been sent to the wrong place. After a good deal of hurrying and scurrying, however, the ringers sat down at 6 p.m. to a most substantial meal.

Afterwards, a short meeting was held, presided over by Mr. E. Burnett (vice-president of the Eastern District), supported by the Rev. G. H. J. Baily, Vicar of St. Ignatius' Church. Votes of thanks were given to the clergy of the respective churches for the use of the bells, Mr. Baily replying for the incumbents, and saying what a great pleasure it was for him to be at the meeting. He was always ready to grant the use of the bells at any time, and wished all success to all belfries.

Mr. Pattison, of Houghton-le-Spring, moved a vote of thanks to the ladies for helping at tea, and this, naturally, was carried with acclamation.

It was proposed that the next meeting be held at West Hartlepool in conjunction with the Southern District on Saturday, December 7th.

After the meeting, St. Ignatius' Church was visited, where touches of Kent, Grandsire, Stedman, Double Norwich and Superlative were rung, and it was pleasing to know that one or two learners had their first touches at this meeting. Ringing finished at 8, and all agreed that it had been a very successful and happy gathering.

DEATH OF BRISTOL RINGER.

A LOSS TO SS. PHILIP AND JACOB'S GUILD.

It is with deep regret we have to announce the death, at the age of 58 years, of Mr. Isaac Long, of Stapleton, Bristol, who passed away on Sunday, October 20th, after an illness lasting less than a week. Up to a few days before his death, deceased took part regularly in the Sunday and practice ringing at St. Nicholas' Church and at SS. Philip and Jacob's Church. Of the Guild at the latter church he was a valued member.

Mr. Long began ringing at Stapleton Church 40 years ago, and continued there until the St. Nicholas' Guild was formed some ten years later by Mr. Fred May, with whom he rang many peals, including the first peal of Erin Caters in the country. After the St. Nicholas' Guild was disbanded, deceased joined the SS. Philip and Jacob's Guild, and has been one of its keenest members for the past 11 years, ringing about 16 peals. He rang about a hundred peals altogether, from Triples to Royal, the methods including Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Kent, Oxford, Forward, Erin, and Double Norwich, and most of them were rung at the heavy end.

The funeral took place amidst many tokens of sympathy and respect, on Wednesday, October 23rd, at Ridgeway Cemetery, the service having previously been held at Stapleton Church. Most of deceased's fellow-ringers and many ringers from other churches were present, and his employers (Messrs. R. Wilkins and Sons, builders), for whom deceased was foreman, were also present. The handbells were rung at the graveside by four members of SS. Philip and Jacob's Guild: Miss A. Brown 1-2, F. E. Tyler 3-4, E. J. Brown 5-6, F. W. Wade 7-8, and an attempt was made for a muffled peal of Stedman Triples at St. Philip's, but unfortunately this failed after nearly two hours' ringing. However, on Sunday evening, October 27th, prior to the service, a muffled quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung by: Miss A. Brown 1, P. C. Williams 2, F. W. Wade 3, W. C. Hunter 4, F. Skidmore 5, G. S. Wiltshire 6, H. T. Howell 7, E. J. Brown (conductor) 8. This was followed by the whole pull and stand 58 times.

Mr. Long's presence at St. Philip's will be greatly missed, not only for his ability, which was considerable, but for his excellent company.

LADY RINGER WEDDED.

The wedding took place at Chiddingfold Church on Saturday, October 26th, of one of the lady ringers of the band, Miss Dorothy Attwell (daughter of Mr. T. Attwell, himself an old ringer at this picturesque Surrey village). The bridegroom was Mr. Frank Harris, until lately also a ringer. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by her ringing sister, Miss Mabel Attwell, as bridesmaid. The service was choral, Mr. E. Howard being at the organ. Owing to serious illness near the church, the tower bells could not be rung, but touches on handbells were rung by Messrs. J. P. Pelloe, A. J. Bartlett, M. Smither and G. Luff, who with other ringers formed an archway with handbells, under which the bride and bridegroom passed as they left the church. The ringers' present to Miss Attwell was a biscuit barrel suitably inscribed.

CONGREGATION STAY TO HEAR BELLS RUNG.

RECTOR'S NOVEL STEP TO INTEREST PARISHIONERS.

On Sunday, October 20th, members of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild from Highclere and Woolton Hill were invited by the Rector of Burghclere (the Rev. Canon Medlicott) to ring the bells after evening service, the object being to enlighten the people of Burghclere in the art of change ringing.

The Rector preached a sermon on bells and change ringing, and asked the congregation to stay and listen to the ringing.

Burghclere church bells (a light ring of six) were for some time in a very bad state, and very little ringing was, or could be, done with them. However, funds were raised, and the bells now have been rehung with new fittings, including ball bearings, by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The result is that the bells go perfectly.

Twelve members from the two towers mentioned took this opportunity of ringing at Burghclere, and some good touches of Doubles and Minor were brought round. Several of the local ringers were also present, and it is hoped they will make good use of the bells. Thanks were accorded to the Rector for the opportunity provided to ring the bells.

THE FIRST PEAL OF MAXIMUS IN HANTS.

SOME PERSONAL NOTES.

The peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Winchester on Saturday was in the nature of a gathering of the clans. Hampshire, Surrey, Kent, London, Essex, Somerset and Worcestershire were represented in the band, and it is not unworthy of note that in this first peal of Maximus ever rung in the county of Hampshire were two association Masters (Winchester and Portsmouth, and Middlesex), four association general secretaries (Middlesex, Guildford, Bath and Wells and Surrey), and a Winchester and Portsmouth District secretary.

Mr. William Pye, who celebrated with this performance the 40th anniversary of his first peal—and his fortieth year of peal ringing has been marked by achievements greater than any in his wonderful career—added yet another to the still expanding list of twelve-bell towers in which he has rung a peal, while, among the 'novices' in the peal was Mr. George Williams, who, it may be recalled, first rang at Winchester Cathedral as long ago as the year 1873! He and Mr. J. S. Goldsmith took part in the first peal of Stedman Caters on the bells—the first in Hampshire and by the Winchester Guild—just thirty years ago, and, master and pupil, they also rang together in the first peals of Cambridge and London Surprise Major in the county and by the Guild, both well over thirty years ago. They also shared in the first peal of Stedman Cinques in the county and by the Guild, and their participation in last Saturday's peal was thus a happy culmination of a long association.

Mr. Sidney T. Holt, of Worcester, stepped into the band at the last moment to fill a breach caused by illness, and this brilliant young ringer proved his worth. He had never before struck a blow in Cambridge Maximus, and he rang almost without a trip from start to finish.

To these personal notes must be added the thanks of the band to the Dean for granting the use of the bells, and especially to the genial Dean's verger (Mr. J. W. Elkins), who made all the local arrangements, was there to welcome the ringers, and, at the close, was the first to enter the belfry to congratulate the band upon having rung a fine peal. Mr. Wilfred Andrews, the leader of the Cathedral ringers, was away on holiday and unable to be present to greet the visitors, but he sent his good wishes, which were much appreciated.

NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE & DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

PEAL TABLET UNVEILED.

A most successful meeting was held at Biddulph. There was a very good attendance, over 40 members being present from Bucknall, Norton, Burslem, Brown Edge, Uttoxeter, Swynerton, Cheadle and Kingsley. The chief event of the afternoon was the unveiling of a beautiful marble peal tablet recording the first Surprise peal in seven methods on the bells. The ceremony was performed by the Vicar (the Rev. S. Myers Bridge), who, after congratulating the ringers on their performance, said how much he appreciated the services which the ringers rendered. He then charged the wardens with the care of the tablet.

Mr. J. E. Wheeldon, the conductor of the peal, replying, said that the placing of such a tablet in the belfry was not only a distinct ornament but it would stand for a long time recording to the generations of ringers to follow the performance of the present-day ringers, and so encourage them to keep ringing up to a high standard.

Tea was served in the schoolroom, and was presided over by the Vicar, after which a vote of thanks was accorded to the Biddulph ringers for so kindly providing the tea and giving the association such a hearty welcome.

A very unique event took place immediately after tea, when the Vicar announced that he had great pleasure in handing over to Mr. Wheeldon the sum of £5 12s. towards the Norton bell restoration scheme. This sum was the result of a retiring collection at both morning and evening services at Biddulph Church on the previous Sunday.

The gift was much appreciated by all present.

The tower was afterwards again visited, and some good practice was put in, some of the ringers trying their hand at Double Surprise Minor, and others at Kent, Oxford, and other Treble Bob methods. Opportunity is again taken of thanking the Vicar and Biddulph ringers for entertaining the visitors so well.

BIRTHDAY COMPLIMENTS.

At Beenham, Berks, on October 21st, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung in 40 mins., as a birthday compliment to Mr. Thomas Bidmedd, foreman at this church for 15 years, and a ringer over 40 years: F. Wigmore 1, W. Churchill 2, E. Richardson 3, F. Churchill (first quarter) 4, A. Arlott (conductor) 5, B. Churchill 6.

At Rickmansworth, on Saturday, October 24th, to mark the birthday of Mr. Freeborn, a quarter-peal of London Surprise Major (1,344 changes) by: J. H. R. Freeborn 1, Mrs. C. C. Mayne 2, S. H. Hoare 3, G. M. Kilby 4, F. W. Goodfellow 5, M. Hibbert 6, F. Smith 7, C. C. Mayne 8. First quarter-peal in the method by Messrs. Hoare and Smith and on the bells.

LANCASHIRE'S BELLS.

DISAPPEARANCE OF RUDHALL'S CASTINGS.

'The Church Bells of Lancashire: Epilogue,' was the subject of a lecture, by Mr. F. H. Cheetham, at the opening meeting of the winter session of the Lancashire and Cheshire Antiquarian Society. It was in substance, says the 'Manchester City News,' a summary of his papers on the church bells of Lancashire read before the society a few years ago, in which he dealt separately and in some detail with the bells in the six Hundreds constituting the county. Dealing now with Lancashire as a whole, Mr. Cheetham said that there were only twenty-two bells which could with certainty be assigned to a date earlier than 1550. Of these only four were dated, and two of the four belonged to the sixteenth century.

The oldest was the bell at Cloughton dated 1296, and the next one at St. Michael-on-Wyre dated 1458. But there were five or six bells which could be assigned to the fourteenth century, and a like number to the fifteenth century. There were only six dated bells belonging to the period 1550-1600, but when we come to the seventeenth century the number is much larger, some thirty-four dated bells of that period still remaining.

Of these, seven came from the Wigan Foundry, held successively by John, Geoffrey, and William Scott. Mr. Cheetham spoke at some length of the Wigan bell founders, both of the Scotts in the seventeenth, and the Ashtons of the eighteenth century. One of William Scott's bells, dated 1666, still hangs in Chetham's Hospital, Manchester.

Only three of Ralph Ashton's bells now survive in Lancashire, but there are over a score by his successor, Luke Ashton, ranging in date from 1723 to 1758. In all there were about 265 bells of eighteenth-century date in the county at the close of the war, of which 189 were cast in the Rudhall Foundry at Gloucester, but during the last ten years a number of these had been recast.

LOSS OF RUDHALL'S BELLS DEPLORED.

The disappearance of the older Rudhall bells, said the lecturer, was greatly to be deplored, and even more so the melting down of a bell dated 1685 in north Lancashire.

Mr. Cheetham drew attention to the recommendations of the Central Council for the Care of Churches as respects church bells, and said that in spite of these recommendations Diocesan Advisory Committees in different parts of the country still allowed old bells to be recast without insisting on the retention of the original inscriptions. The Central Council had endorsed the memorandum drawn up in 1923 by a conference between the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings and the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers, in which it was agreed as a general principle that 'in case of recasting, the enrichment and inscription should be reproduced on the bell in facsimile,' and the new bell should be dated and the fact of its recasting added.

It was also agreed that bells cast by famous founders, such as Abraham Rudhall, should receive special care, probably the same as bells of pre-Reformation date. The Manchester Advisory Committee had, however, allowed the cathedral bells, which included six by Abraham Rudhall dated 1706, to be recast without regard to these recommendations, and the same thing had occurred at Eccles Parish Church, at Leyland, and at Sacred Trinity, Salford, where Rudhall bells, dated respectively 1709, 1722, and 1748, had been melted down.

DEATH OF A LINCOLN RINGER.

MEMBER OF CATHEDRAL COMPANY FOR NEARLY 50 YEARS.

By the death of Mr. Isaac Vickers, there has been lost to the Cathedral company one of the oldest ringers in the city of Lincoln. It is only as recently as last September that, after a period of over 54 years with a local engineering firm as a toolsmith, Mr. Vickers retired and looked forward to a quiet enjoyment of leisure in his declining years, but it was destined not to be so. After a very short illness he passed away at the age of 76 years on October 23rd, and was carried to his last resting place on Saturday, followed by several of his fellow-ringers and workmen. A half-muffled quarter-peal of Stedman Cinques (1,323 changes) was rung on the Cathedral bells in one hour and four minutes in the evening by the following: George Flintham 1, Harold Marcon 2, Charles McGuinness 3, George Chester 4, Lewis Snell 5, Leslie Pack 6, Tom Pyle 7, Fredk. W. Stokes 8, John A. Freeman (conductor) 9, Stanford J. Wolfe 10, John Walden 11, Rupert Richardson 12.

Mr. Vickers was one of the old school of ringers, who in his early days considered it an achievement if a band could be got together able to ring the plain methods. He was always ready to give a helping hand, and when the old North Lincolnshire Association was formed in 1884 his name was found amongst the first list of members and as one of its instructors. He rang several peals, conducting a few, and looked with pleasure upon ringing his first peal of Stedman at an advanced age. He was enrolled a member of the Cathedral company in 1882, and acted as treasurer and conductor for many years, finally succeeding to the office of Master in 1913, a position he held at the time of his death. He was a man with a strong disposition, with a straightforward character in all his doings, and a staunch churchman.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.THE APPROACHING JUBILEE.

The annual meeting of the Lewisham District was held at St. George's, Beckenham, on Saturday last. The bells were made good use of during the afternoon, and service was held in the church, the association form being used. The Rev. Father Winton officiated, and gave an interesting address.

Service over, the company adjourned to the Church Hall, there to partake of tea, provided by the Rector (Rev. E. A. Morgan), who, at the conclusion of the meal, welcomed the association to Beckenham, and deplored the lack of recruits to the Exercise.

Mr. F. W. Thornton moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, and for his generous hospitality in entertaining the members to tea; to Father Winton for conducting the service and giving his address; to Mr. W. Smith for making the arrangements for the meeting; and to the ladies for helping at table.—This was carried with applause.

The business meeting followed, the Rector presiding. A report of the year's work, read by the district secretary, was adopted.

One ringer was elected as practising member of the association, and the election of four members previous to peals was confirmed.

The retiring secretary (Mr. A. G. Hill) was re-elected, and the retiring representatives (Messrs. I. Emery and E. Barnett, jun.) were nominated for a further term of office, but on receipt of an intimation that Mr. Emery did not seek re-election, the nomination was altered to E. Barnett, jun., and W. Smith, and this was carried.

Chislehurst was chosen as the place for the January meeting without dissentient vote.

Then followed 'any other business,' which, as usual, was the most productive of speech of any item on the agenda.

Mr. W. J. Jeffries mentioned the 'Helmore Testimonial Fund,' and hoped that the Lewisham District would exert itself to obtain a much better result. This idea was developed by other speakers, notably Mr. F. W. Richardson, and it was finally agreed to make a collection among those present to swell the fund. The result was the gratifying sum of £2 2s. 6d.

The next business to engage attention was the arrangements to be made for the next annual general meeting, which would mark the association's jubilee. It was suggested that the meeting be held, if possible, in the same place as, and on the exact anniversary of the inaugural meeting. The district representatives undertook to convey the members' wishes to the general committee on the occasion of its next meeting. The Chairman suggested that it would be a happy thought to endeavour to secure the presence of the Dean of Canterbury (Dr. H. R. L. Sheppard) on this occasion—an expression of opinion endorsed by all those present.

Mr. A. E. H. Hodges, churchwarden of St. George's, was elected an hon. member of the association, at his own request. (Oh! that others would profit by this example!)

The secretary was instructed to write to Mr. I. Emery, regretfully accepting his withdrawal from office, and expressing a wish for his speedy and complete recovery from his present indisposition.

This concluded a successful meeting, the members regaling themselves with handbells, notification of a serious illness near the church preventing further use of the tower bells.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.CARY DEANERY CHAIRMAN LEAVING.

A quarterly meeting of the Cary Deanery Branch was held at North Cadbury on Saturday, October 19th. The towers represented were Swindon, Bristol, Babey, Bruton, Ditchat, Templecombe, Buckhorn Weston, West Pennard, Evercreech, Castle Cary, North Cheriton, Mere, Zeals, Barton St. David, North Cadbury and Kingston Magna. A short service was held in the Parish Church, at which the Rector (the Rev. R. Molene) officiated. Tea was partaken of in the Catash Inn, and thoroughly enjoyed by the large company, after which the business meeting followed, Preb. D. M. Ross being voted to take the chair. The agenda was a small one.

The chairman informed the members that the next meeting would be at Evercreech in January.

Preb. Ross then announced to the meeting that he would be leaving the Cary Deanery in a short time to take the living of Claverton, near Bath, and therefore he would be resigning from the office of president. He had always thoroughly enjoyed the meetings whilst at Cary, and would be sorry to go.

Mr. R. Whitehead thanked Preb. Ross for his kind help at all their meetings in the past, and said how sorry they all were to hear he was leaving them.

The Rev. E. S. G. Lock, Master of the association, also thanked Preb. Ross for his past services, but hoped he would not be lost to the association, as he was sure the towers around Bath would give him a hearty welcome.

Preb. D. M. Ross proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for his kindness in welcoming the ringers, and for the use of the bells, also to the organist and the ladies who waited at the tea tables.—This was seconded by Mr. R. Lock and carried. The party then returned to the tower, where touches of Grandsire Doubles, Plain Bob, Bob Minor and Stedman concluded a splendid meeting, thoroughly enjoyed by the large company present.

THE FIRST PEAL AT GAMLINGAY.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The peal at Gamlingay, Cambridgeshire, on September 28th last, is not the first on the bells, as believed by the band to be.

The first peal at Gamlingay was rung on December 11th, 1897, and was a peal of Minor in seven methods, viz., 720 each of College Pleasure, London Scholars' Pleasure, College Exercise, Violet, Woodbine, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob. The ringers were Edgar Tingey, Isaac Hills, William J. Barker, Charles Chasty, Charles W. Clarke and Frank Hull. It was conducted by C. W. Clarke, and the tenor was then believed to be about 23 cwt. With the exception of Mr. Clarke, none of the above band figure in the peal records of today. Mr. Clarke at that period was one of the most prolific peal scorers, especially on six bells, and it is quite possible he holds the record on that number of bells.—Yours faithfully,

GEORGE R. NEWTON.

Liverpool.

HOW TWO PEALS WERE LEFT BEHIND.

The following is the story of two peals and how they were not rung. Four ringers from Crawley and a friend arranged to spend a ringing week-end in Wiltshire, with Devizes as headquarters. A peal of Double Norwich was to have been attempted at Melksham on the Saturday afternoon, October 19th, and a peal of Superlative at Devizes (St. John's) on the following afternoon. Most of the party journeyed by car, and the rest by train. All met safely at Devizes, where a substantial and much-needed dinner was demolished in a ringer-like manner, after which a start was made for Melksham. Here the visitors were met by the doughty Mr. Joseph T. Dyke and two other gentlemen. An amusing interlude was provided before the peal by two cats fighting in a tree. This proved a bad omen, as, after 20 minutes of Double Norwich on these glorious bells, the 2nd rope ungratefully broke. Circumstances not permitting of a second start, Mr. Dyke kindly offered to get the use of Keevil bells, which he did. At this church, with its peal of six bells (tenor about 22 cwt.) and long draught, 720 Cambridge Surprise was successfully brought round by: Robert Swift 1, Kenneth Snelling 2, Bernard H. Wells 3, Nelson Elliott 4, Joseph T. Dyke 5, Oliver Sippets (conductor) 6. It is believed to be the first time these bells have been rung to a Surprise method. After tea, farewell was said to Mr. Dyke, and the party returned to Devizes for the night. On Sunday morning an hour's ringing was enjoyed on these fine bells for morning service, the methods rung being Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, Grand-sire and Stedman Triples. Here it was learned that these bells were not available for the peal, but Mr. Hillier had procured Bishop Cannings bells instead. The party were unable to admire the scenery owing to the torrential rain, but they could, and did, admire these magnificent bells. With the assistance of Messrs. Hillier, Andrews and West, an attempt was again made on Double Norwich, but after an hour and ten minutes' good ringing the bells neatly ran round. (The culprits shall remain anonymous.) So, reluctantly, the company returned to Devizes, where, after tea, ringing was indulged in at St. Mary's. Then farewells were said, and homeward they wended their ways, eventually arriving in the small hours of Monday morning. The party would like to thank the various gentlemen who met them and arranged for the towers, especially he who drove them there in his car, and, last but not least, the hostess, Mrs. Swift, all of whom it is hoped to meet again at some future date to retrieve the peals left behind.

H. B. W.

A FAREWELL.

Otter 4, Joseph McCluskey 5, James McCluskey 6, T. Revill 7, T. Bysouth 8. Rung as farewell to C. F. Otter, who is leaving to join the Royal Air Force.

PENDLETON RINGERS ON TOUR.

The Pendleton, Lancs., ringers had their annual outing on Saturday, October 5th, and, with one exception, assembled at 2 o'clock to board a 14-seater bound for Blackburn and Whalley. Two other ringers—one from West Didsbury and the other from Middleton—made up a full load. The exception mentioned above was officiating as best man at a wedding, and was, therefore, excused. Passing through Bolton, where Bolton Wanderers were entertaining Aston Villa to a leather-chasing contest, the charabanc swung out on the road to Blackburn, with rugged looking moorland stretching away on either side. A halt was made to 'replenish radiators,' and shortly afterwards the party passed through Darwen and into Blackburn, where Mr. A. Tomlinson met them outside Blackburn Cathedral, to conduct them to the tower. Here Mr. W. E. Wilson had everything in readiness for a start. The period allowed here was from 3.30 to 4.15. Mr. Tomlinson having arranged to time the movements to suit both the ringers' convenience and a service which was to be held at Whalley later on. Two or three young Pendleton visitors had the pleasure of ringing their first course of Bob Royal at Blackburn, at the second attempt, the first being their first try at ten-bell ringing. Everyone having had a pull, Mr. Wilson pointed out one or two interesting peal tablets, and gave a short description of tower and bells. After thanking him for his trouble and courtesy, the company made a hasty exit to the bus. Mr. Tomlinson, with his inexorable watch, which someone said was double-gearred when it went at all, soon had the party on the Whalley road, and pointed out that, had they come on a clear summer's day, they could have seen from that road some of the loveliest scenery of the famous Ribblesdale. Even on a misty day, tending to rain, they saw enough to convince them that he was not exaggerating. Arrived at Whalley Church, near the Abbey ruins, the reason for Mr. Tomlinson's strict time table was discovered. A diocesan Sunday School festival was in progress, the Bishop of Blackburn being present, and there was just the clear half-hour for ringing before the festival service. Stedman, Bob Major and Kent were rung in that time, and opinions were unanimous as to the lovely tone of these bells. The tenor, especially, has a mellow stroke that seems to pour out. Even the hardened anti-Simpsonite, who had to hear them both outside as well as in, seemed to be converted, at least temporarily. 'Owd' Sam 'niver did hear 'owt like 'em afore.' Tea had been arranged at a neighbouring cafe, to follow immediately upon the ringing, but Mr. Tomlinson 'wangled' a quarter-hour for a visit to the remains of the old Abbey while daylight lasted. A visit well repays the few coppers charged for admission. Several acres in extent, even in ruins the place is a fine example of the skill and workmanship of the old monks who designed and built them. One can only imagine what they must have looked like when standing complete, and contemplate the ultimate end of all the works of man, no matter how well ordered.

A meat tea, which was a most excellent one, put everyone in a good humour. W. H. S. remarking that these were about the only courses ends you could really bring round with 'inward' satisfaction. A cabinet gramophone discoursed 'Ever so goosey' in a style that lunched those moss-grown feelings acquired in the Abbey ruins. 'Old Sam' moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Tomlinson for his time table arrangements, which had secured a ring at Whalley when the chances were against it, owing to the Sunday School festival, and added a rider thanking the Pendleton secretary, Mr. H. Greenhalgh, for his part in the arrangements. This having been carried, Mr. Tomlinson increased the debt to him by suggesting that, as one could not view the lovely scenery at Whalley in pitch darkness, they should divert the homeward route and make a call at Oswaldtwistle (newcomers are allowed two shots at this ward), where a meeting of the Blackburn Branch of the Lancs Association was in progress. This was agreed to, and soon the 'old bus' was on its way through Accrington to Oswaldtwistle, where a somewhat poor meeting gave the party a hearty welcome, via Mr. Isaac Whalley, who put the visitors in possession of the ropes immediately. In a few minutes a touch of Stedman Triples had come smartly home, followed by a touch of Oxford Treble Bob Major, and another of Bob Major, in which a local lady and a local lad took part.

By this time it was raining violently outside, and it was decided to make tracks for Manchester shortly, but before leaving the Vicar of Oswaldtwistle invited them to come again, and even went so far as to offer the bells for a record peal attempt. This sudden offer was not accepted on the spot, as no one seemed willing to start just at the moment. On the way home someone suggested a call at the Mason's Arms, to see if the mason was still working, one supposes. The younger element, who had been regaling the party with all sorts of songs on the road, including drinking songs, now had a lemon apiece, whilst the rest had some bird 'seed.' 'Old Sam,' it is hoped, will see this joke. Manchester was reached at 10.30, and all agreed they had had a good time. They wish to thank all those who contributed to a very happy outing.

THE 18 1/2 TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

INTERESTING THE PARISHIONERS.

The somewhat novel step taken by the Rector of Burghclere, Hants, with the object of interesting his parishioners in the church bells and enlightening them upon the art of change ringing is one which might, perhaps, with advantage be taken in other places, where there is need for stirring up a little more enthusiasm in this phase of service to the Church. Canon Medlicott, having preached a sermon on bells and change ringing, invited the congregation to stay and listen to the ringing, which was done by ringers from neighbouring churches. We constantly hear of the difficulties there are in getting young men (or women) to take up ringing, and even in those towers where there are already bands there is constantly the fear that, when the old ones drop out, there will be no one to fill the gaps. The ringers themselves are ready enough to bring along new hands; their difficulty is to find them.

We have often urged that in providing recruits for the belfry the responsibility rests as much upon the church authorities as upon the ringers, and the incumbent, whose consent is necessary for the admission of any new ringer to the belfry, ought to take a hand in inducing members of the congregation to take up ringing more often than he does. His influence can often prevail where that of the ringers would probably have little weight. But it is seldom that the clergy, unless they are ringers, or are specially interested in their bells, bestir themselves to see that the ringers are kept at full strength; yet they would get exceedingly busy if their choir stalls showed signs of becoming empty.

On the other hand, we believe that the difficulties of recruiting for the belfry would often be lessened if parishioners could have shown to them some of the many interests which are to be found in bells. If they were given some idea of the fascination of scientific bell ringing, of the value of the practice as a physical exercise and mental training, and of the intriguing grip which a theoretical study can give, many more, we believe, would be induced to come into the belfries. But it can only be done by educating the public, and no one is in a better position to pave the way than the parson. If he is not a ringer himself he can usually be easily prompted, and in any case he can bring possible candidates into touch with the ringers. The action of Canon Medlicott in endeavouring to create interest in his own parish by a practical demonstration of change ringing was a means of furthering the cause. There are many towers where companies are not sufficiently numerous to ring all the bells for the services, and it might serve to create some new interest if the incumbents at these churches could be induced to follow the example of the Rector of Burghclere.

A SALISBURY RESTORATION.

A fresh chapter in the history of St. Martin's, Salisbury, began with the reopening of the peal of eight bells, which took place on Saturday evening, October 19th, when a special service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. W. N. Wilson, assisted by the Rev. C. A. Plaxton (curate). Among the congregation were the St. Martin's churchwardens, Mr. C. S. Hibberd and Mr. B. Jenkins, Rev. F. L. Edwards, general secretary of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, Rev. C. Phillips, secretary of the Wimborne Branch, Mr. F. W. Romaine, secretary of the Salisbury Branch, and Mr. R. Dove, who represented the firm of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, to whom the work of rehangng the bells on ball bearings and overhauling of frame and fittings had been entrusted. The work has been carried out in a most thorough manner, and the go of the bells is now excellent.

In the course of his address the Rector made special mention of the 7th bell, which is the oldest one of the peal, and bears the inscription, 'Be Moe and Loly to Heare the word of God,' and is dated I.W., 1582. The inscription on the tenor is, 'Call a Solemne Asseble, Gather the People. I.W., 1624.'

After the service the bells were set going in various methods, including Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain and Kent Treble Bob Major, etc., until about 9 p.m., when they were lowered in peal, bringing to a close a very pleasant gathering.

Ringers were present from Bournemouth, Branksome, Poole, Ringwood, Wimborne, Corfe Mullen, Shrewton, Dinton, Broadchalke, Britford, Coombe Bissett, Beddington, Croydon, and the local band, etc.

A WEST COUNTRY APPEAL.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Readers of 'The Ringing World,' or, at least, a number of them, are aware that the Church of St. George (Wilton), Taunton, can boast of a talented band of ringers, having recently rung seven and ten different Surprise Minor methods in peals. The Vicar and Church authorities, recognising this, decided, after being appealed to by the ringers, to increase the ring to eight and rehang the whole in a new frame and fittings. A faculty has been obtained, and the order placed with Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The local band, to give the job impetus, guaranteed to give one of the new trebles complete with fittings, the cost of which is about £50. Towards this they are subscribing half, viz., £25, which everyone will agree is a handsome donation. They now make an appeal to ringers generally for financial help. There are doubtless many ringers who would be willing to assist a band that are doing all they possibly can to help themselves. Any contributions sent will be duly acknowledged by Mr. S. G. Coles, 3, Holly Terrace, Staplegrave, Taunton, or by yours truly, 5, Florence Terrace, Bishop's Hull, Taunton. J. HUNT.

MRS. G. W. FLETCHER'S 200 PEALS.

Mrs. G. W. Fletcher (formerly Miss E. K. Parker) rang her 200th peal recently, fittingly enough for the Ladies' Guild, of which she has been the hon. secretary since its formation. The following is the list of her peals:—

DEATH OF AN OLD YORKSHIRE RINGER.

We regret to announce the demise of Mr. Frank C. Willey, a member of the All Saints' Church company, Sheffield, whose death took place suddenly on October 29th, at the age of 72 years. As chorister and ringer he was connected with All Saints' for an uninterrupted period of 50 years, being steepickeeper and conductor for most of that time. Joining the Yorkshire Association in 1881, he was a vigorous worker in the interests of change ringing. He had occupied the position of vice-president of the association, which he had also represented on the Central Council. He was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, and had rung 24 peals.

Mr. Willey was a very well-known member of the Druids Friendly Society, of which he was a lodge secretary for some years. Of breezy, generous disposition, Mr. Willey was always a welcome visitor in any gathering. Unfortunately, 'Frank' was a victim of a paralytic attack three years ago, which rendered him almost unable to talk or walk. He partially recovered from this, but a further attack resulted in death.

The interment took place on Saturday, November 2nd, at Burngreave Cemetery, being preceded by a service at All Saints' Church, at which the Rev. G. H. Staveley (Vicar) officiated. 'Jesu, Lover of my soul,' and 'Abide with me,' two favourite hymns, were feelingly sung by a large gathering of friends and churchworkers. The following representative ringers were present, in addition to many others: Rev. C. C. Marshall (president, Yorks Association), Mr. P. J. Johnson (hon. secretary, Yorks Association), Mr. G. Lewis (vice-president, Southern District), Mr. F. Clarke (hon. secretary, Southern District), Mr. R. Harrison (president, Sheffield and District Society), Mr. R. Harrison, jun. (hon. secretary, Sheffield and District Society), Mr. J. Lewis Cockey (Midland Counties Association), Mr. C. D. Potter (Barnsley and District Society), Mr. A. Gledstone (Doncaster and District Society), Mr. J. A. Dixon and Mr. W. Bugar (St. Marie's), Mr. J. Thorpe and Mr. S. F. Palmer (Cathedral), Mr. S. Briggs (Rotherham), Mr. J. R. Brearley (Bolsterstone). A course of Grandsire Triples was rung at the graveside, and also touches of Grandsire and Treble Bob on the tower bells, deeply muffled, as a tribute of respect.

Mr. Willey leaves a son and two daughters to mourn their loss, his wife having predeceased him about five years ago.

The bells of St. Marie's R.C. Church, Sheffield, were rung for evening service on Sunday, November 3rd, with the clappers half-muffled as a token of sympathy and respect to the late Mr. Frank Willey, who was a past officer in the Sheffield District Society of Change Ringers.

A JOINT AFFAIR.A HAPPY GATHERING AT EALING.

On Saturday last the Southern District of the London County Association were at Ealing, the guests of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild, South and West District, there being the bells of St. Mary's Parish Church, and, in the evening, those of Christ Church, at the disposal of the company. Ringing commenced soon after three, and various methods were rung previous to a service conducted by the Vicar (Rev. C. J. Sharp), during which he gave a lesson-address on the Beatitudes—most appropriate and helpful. The singing was well rendered, Mr. H. J. Dawson presiding at the organ. Tea, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Hunnisett, was served in St. Mary's Church House, presided over by the Vicar, where a party of about 40 sat down to a substantial repast. After tea, Mr. J. A. Trollope, hon. treasurer, Middlesex South and West District, welcomed the London County men and ladies to Ealing, saying that this was a unique occasion, and one which they, as officers of the Middlesex Association, were very pleased to be able to take part in, as promoting good fellowship among the different societies. Skimming back a hundred years or so, he recalled the fact that the London County, then the St. James' Society, was mainly the outcome of a quarrel between Annable and Holt, and he sketched the progress of that society till the present. He hoped and was sure these gatherings did no end of good.

Mr. Mance, District Master, L.C.A., responded, thanking the Middlesex men for the splendid welcome extended to them, and hoped that meetings of this nature would continue. The hon. secretary, Mr. J. Herbert, L.C.A., also spoke in support, as well as Mr. A. D. Barker, Oxford Diocesan Guild.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar was proposed by Mr. W. J. Hollier, hon. secretary, Middlesex, for the use of the bells, for the service, and for presiding at the tea, also to the organist for his services, to which the Vicar responded in a few words, having, he said, grasped long since what benefits could accrue from such mixed gatherings.

He was then forced by an engagement to leave, doing so amidst applause. A course of Grandsire Cinques was rung on handbells by F. Goodfellow (Middlesex), J. A. Trollope (Middlesex), G. H. Cross (London), J. Herbert (London), E. S. Turner (Middlesex), and W. Wilson (Middlesex). A vote of thanks was returned to Mr. and Mrs. J. Hunnisett and their helpers for the excellent arrangements made for tea, which was provided in Mr. and Mrs. 'Jim's' own inimitable way. The two towers were then visited, and ringing was carried on until nine o'clock. During the day the standard methods, Double Norwich, Cambridge and London Surprise and Rounds, were rung.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We are informed that the bells at St. Mary's Church, Birkenhead, are to be dedicated by the Bishop of Chester at 5.30 p.m. to-morrow. The reopening was previously announced to take place on Sunday. A gudgeon of the tenor bell at Irthlingborough is at present broken, and ringing is therefore suspended for a time.

We hear of peals coming to grief in many different ways, but it is not often a young Rook gets into the belfry and upsets a peal, as was the case a short time ago at a pretty little village in the Midlands. Perhaps, writes our correspondent, Mr. G., of England, will explain, as he nearly wrung its neck. The gentleman wanted to play tennis near the tower.

The ringer of the 6th in the peal at Winchester was Albert W. Coles.

Ringers throughout the country will join us in extending greetings to Canon G. F. Coleridge, who celebrates his birthday on Sunday.

One of the earliest peals of Oxford Treble Bob Maximus was rung by the Society of Cumberland Youths at St. Saviour's, Southwark, on November 10th, 1766.

On November 13th, 1797, a peal of 5,003 Stedman Caters was rung at Christ Church, Spitalfields. This church formerly had a ring of twelve bells, which were destroyed in a fire, but there are now only eight in the tower.

November 13th is also the anniversary of a peal of 10,080 New Treble Bob Major (Kent) rung at Huddersfield in the year 1820. It is recorded on a board in the belfry, and in addition to the usual particulars it preserves the figures of the peal. Four of the ringers in this peal took part eleven years later in the 15,168 Kent Treble Bob Major at Ellam. Ten men, however, shared in this peal. At that time it was the greatest length composed in the method.

Ninety years ago next Wednesday, William Rock Small was born at Wednesbury. This famous old Black Country ringer lived to the advanced age of 85 years.

The first 'Charles' peal was rung at Bristol on November 13th, 1895. The method was Grandsire Triples.

'TO KEEP SOBRIETY.'

Here is another variation of 'Belfry Rules' in the old days. They are to be seen painted on a board on the south side of the tower of Fowey Church, Cornwall:—

Hark, how the chirping treble sings most clear,

An Covering Tom comes rowling in the rear.

We ring the quick to church, the dead to grave,

Good is our use, such usage let us have.

Now up on end at stay, come let us see

What laws are best to keep sobriety.

To Swear or curse or in a Cholerick mood

To strike or quarrel, though he draw no blood,

To wear a hat or spur, to o're turn a bell,

Or by unskifful handling marrs a Peal,

Such shall pay sixpence for each single crime,

'Twill make him cautious 'gainst another time.

What forfeitures are due as here it is exprest,

Here is a box to take the same whereby "have Transgrest,"

And we the whole society of Ringers do agree

To use the same in love and unity.

DEATH OF MR. EDGAR PEMBERTON. MEMBER OF A FAMOUS IPSWICH COMPANY.

Death has removed another veteran ringer, whose name was famous in the Exercise at the end of last century. Mr. Edgar Pemberton, one of the last survivors of the celebrated Ipswich band, passed away at his residence, 41, Bramford Lane, Ipswich, on Thursday, October 31st, at the age of 78 years. He had long been an invalid—a victim of arthritis—but his interest in ringing remained to the end, although he had not been able to get up into the belfry for some years.

Mr. Pemberton was one of a band who made ringing history at Ipswich, where he became a member of the band at St. Mary-le-Tower Church, when it was reorganised in 1876. He rang his first peal (Grandsire Triples) at St. John's, Waterloo Road, London, on May 22nd, 1878, the band being George Newson, Thomas Sadler, David Stockwood, William Coppage, Edwin Gibbs, William Baron, Edgar Pemberton and George Isley. On March 1st, 1881, Mr. Pemberton rang the eleventh to a peal of Kent Treble Bob Maximus, the first peal on the twelve bells at St. Mary-le-Tower Church. It was rung at the third attempt. This peal was the beginning of a series of achievements extending over many years, and in all he rang in 270 peals, including the first peals of Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques in Suffolk; the first peals of Double Norwich Major, Royal and Maximus, and the first of Cambridge Surprise Major, Royal and Maximus in the county. The Cambridge Maximus was the first peal in the method ever rung, and in this, as in all the Surprise peals in which he took part, Mr. Pemberton rang the treble. In 1880 he rang in peals of 7,296 and 10,272 Kent Treble Bob Major at Debenham, and he also rang in an 8,896 in the same method at Rochester Row, Westminster. He took part in a 10,178 Oxford Treble Bob Major at Ufford in 1894, but he was not in the 16,608 at Debenham in 1892, although he was in two previous attempts for it at that tower, and in two others at Leiston. In each of the latter they rang over 10,000 changes and broke down. When, eventually, the peal was rung, Mr. Pemberton, whose trade was that of a carpenter, was working at Bury St. Edmunds, and was unable to take part. In long lengths of Double Norwich, Mr. Pemberton rang 6,608, 8,064 and 10,080. Thus he had a great share in the ringing which the Suffolk men of those days—men like Daniel Prentice, William Ireland, James Motts, and William Catchpole, and the enthusiasts who comprised their band—made memorable.

Mr. Pemberton's peals were as follow: Kent Treble Bob Maximus 38, Oxford Treble Bob Maximus 3, Cambridge Surprise Maximus 2, Double Norwich Court Bob Maximus 3, Bob Maximus 1, Stedman Cinques 25, Grandsire Cinques 3, Kent Treble Bob Royal 11, Oxford Treble Bob Royal 3, Cambridge Surprise Royal 1, Double Norwich Court Bob Royal 6, Bob Royal 1, Stedman Caters 18, Grandsire Caters 7, Kent Treble Bob Major 23, Oxford Treble Bob Major 17, Bob Major 2, Double Norwich Court Bob Major 38, Superlative Surprise Major 9, Cambridge Surprise Major 9, London Surprise Major 4, Stedman Triples 26, Grandsire Triples 17, Plain Bob Triples 1, Minor 2.

The funeral took place at St. Mary-le-Tower Church on Monday, and much sympathy has been expressed with the widow, son and daughter in their bereavement.

Mr. Robert Brundle is now the sole survivor of St. Mary-le-Tower Society as reconstructed in 1876, and is still on the active list.

YOUNG MILFORD RINGERS' PROGRESS.

At Milford-on-Sea, Hants, on Thursday, October 31st, to celebrate the first anniversary of the dedication of the bells, known as the Rev. C. E. Matthews' memorial bells, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) in 50 mins.: L. Parker 1, G. Preston 2, J. Knight 3, K. Desham 4, G. Scragg 5, B. Mogg 6, G. Parker 7, A. Knapp 8. The ringers of 1, 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8 only began to learn in November last, when Mr. G. Preston was appointed as instructor to the Milford band. Ringers of 2, 4 and 5 belong to Christchurch, the rest to Milford.

BRAMLEY, LEEDS.—On Wednesday, October 23rd, 1,024 Kent Treble Bob: S. Helliwell 1, Miss C. Wade 2, H. G. Grimwood 3, F. Blackith 4, Frank Blackith 5, F. Jackson 6, N. Redshaw 7, L. Morris 8.

BELLS THAT SAMUEL PEPYS HEARD. MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION VISIT ST. OLAVE'S

A very enjoyable meeting of the North and East District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held on Saturday last, at the famous Church of St. Olave, Hart Street, City, where, some 250 years ago, Samuel Pepys was called to service by some of the bells that are now part of a pretty octave. The back five were cast at Whitechapel in 1662; the present third at the same foundry in 1694. It was therefore fitting that Messrs. Mears and Stainbank should have the work of retuning this old peal of six and adding two trebles, which that firm did right well only a few months ago. The back six form the earliest of London's ringing peals, with the exception of the five bells at St. Bartholomew the Great, Smithfield. The latter peal are not at present in a ringable condition, so that the honour of possessing the oldest ringing peal remains with St. Olave's.

Last Saturday's meeting was attended by some 50 ringers, who made good use of the bells. Rounds for the beginners present, Grandsire and Stedman for the more advanced, and London and Bristol for the budding experts, was the order of the day, and thus all were served. It was a great pleasure to see Mr. Joseph Wagborn present, and taking part in the ringing at the advanced age of 86.

The address at the service was given by the Rector (Rev. T. Wellard, D.D.), who reminded ringers of the service they did for the church. The bells in this church had done great service in the past, he said, and had been rung for the coronation of many English Kings and Queens. He made reference to the fact that Samuel Pepys, who lived close by the church, and who was buried there in 1703, had listened to these bells, and had probably received inspiration from them.

Of the business done at the meeting, mention might be made that it was arranged to hold the next meeting at St. Matthew's, Upper Clapton, on December 7th.

A sum of £3 3s. was voted to the fund opened on behalf of Mr. T. Beadle, one of the founders of the association, and sometime Master and vice-president of the South and West District. It was pointed out that this was an urgent matter, and as such might be dealt with at this meeting, rather than awaiting the district annual meeting in January or February next. The members present unanimously agreed that the sum be paid over to the treasurer of the fund, and that the matter should come up for confirmation at the annual meeting.

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector for his excellent address, and for the use of the bells; to the organist who had very kindly assisted at the service; and to Mr. H. T. Wilson, the tower-keeper, for his unfailing help in making the meeting a pleasant one.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION. MID-WEEK MEETING OF CENTRAL DISTRICT.

A meeting of the Central Division took place at Henfield on Wednesday, October 23rd, and the experiment of holding the gathering on a Wednesday instead of Saturday was completely justified by the result, as shown by the large and representative attendance. This much the hon. secretary is very pleased to learn, but feels compelled to complain of the lack of consideration shown by some members to those who are extending hospitality, to say nothing of the time and trouble taken in organising the meeting. The total number expected at this meeting, according to returns, totalled only about a dozen.

The tower was open at 2.30 for ringing, which continued till 4.30, when those present, over fifty in number, adjourned to an excellent tea provided by the kindness of Canon R. J. Lea (the Vicar of Henfield) and Mrs. Lea. This was followed by the business meeting, presided over by Canon Lea, supported by the Master (Mr. J. T. Rickman). Mr. Keith Hart acted for the secretary, who was unable to be present.

The business was of the usual routine nature, and the following were elected members: William Morey, Eric Morey, Frank King, Harold Trower, Ronald Childs, of the Henfield Branch. The election of Messrs. Alfred Ballard, Stoney Stanton, Redvers F. Elkington, Anstey, Leicester, Ronald H. Dove, Thornton Heath, and F. Wilford, Northampton, as non-resident members, was confirmed.

At the conclusion of the meeting a vote of thanks to Canon and Mrs. Lea, proposed by Mr. Rickman, was enthusiastically carried.

The service which followed was conducted by Canon Lea, who, in the course of a striking address, drew attention to the influence exerted by the age-long atmosphere of worship that pervaded the ancient parish churches of England, such as the one in which they were then worshipping, with its six centuries of existence.

After service, ringing was continued, methods from Grandsire to Cambridge Surprise being rung.

The following towers were represented: Bolney, Bosham, Brighton (St. Peter's, St. Nicholas', The Good Shepherd), Chichester, Crawley, Heene, Henfield, Lewes (Southover), Lindfield, Lower Beeding, Sanford, Shorham, Steyning and Warnham.

The local company are fortunate in possessing a group of keen, young probationers, and they have a capital peal of eight by Messrs. Taylor and Co.

MAISEYHAMPTON BELLS RESTORED.

RINGERS' MEETING AT THE REOPENING.

A very successful meeting of the Cirencester Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was held at Maiseyhampton on Saturday, October 26th, on the occasion of the dedication of the new fifth bell and the rededication of the other five bells. The peal was originally cast in 1708 by Abraham Rudhall, but the tenor was recast in 1825 by John Rudhall.

The Church of St. Mary was well filled for the service, which commenced with the hymn, 'We love the place, O God.' The lessons were read by the Rev. Canon Jones, Vicar of Fairford, a member of the association.

The bells were dedicated by the Lord Bishop of Gloucester, and were then rung for a few minutes by the local ringers. The sermon was preached by the Bishop, who gave a very interesting address dealing with bells and their uses. During the singing of the last hymn a collection was taken in aid of the bell fund.

The bells were then open for ringing, and between 30 and 40 ringers were present from Cirencester, Witcomb, Sydenham, Swindon, Stratton St. Margaret, Tetbury, Lechlade, South Cerney, Prestbury, Burford, Fairford, Elkstone, Coln St. Aldwyns and Croydon. Two very welcome visitors were Mr. Wilfred Andrews, of Winchester Cathedral, and Mr. Frank W. Perrins, of Coventry.

The branch secretary (Mr. F. J. Lewis) did his best to see that everyone had a pull. Tea was served in the Village Hall, and was presided over by the Rev. A. M. Coode, the branch chairman, but as he had to leave early, Mr. F. Edwards took the chair for the business part of the meeting, at which Cirencester was chosen for the annual meeting in January.

MAISEYHAMPTON CHURCH.

Mr. Edwards proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector (Rev. H. Peach) for granting permission to hold the meeting, and to the local ringers and their wives who provided the tea. He also congratulated Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, on the excellent work they had done. Mr. F. E. Collins, who had hung the bells, replied on behalf of the firm.

A short time was then spent with the handbells, and the tower was again visited and the bells kept going till about 8.30. The methods rung during the afternoon and evening were Grandsire, Stedman and Bob Doubles, Plain Bob, Double Court, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor.

The fifth bell has been recast and the whole peal of six rehung with new fittings and ball bearings. The firm and the bell hanger are to be congratulated on the splendid work they have done. The new bell fits in perfectly with the other five, and all the ringers were unanimous in saying that the 'go' of the bells was perfect, one ringer remarking that this would be the place to go for a record peal of Minor.

The following are the inscriptions on the bells:—

Treble.—God preserve the Church. A. R., 1708.

2.—God save the Queen and Church. A. R., 1708.

3.—Abra Rudhall cast us all, 1708.

4.—Prosperity to all our benefactors. A. R., 1708.

5.—Peace and good neighbourhood. A. R., 1708. Recast in 1929.

Tenor.—W. Foreshaw and R. Miller, Churchwardens, 1825. John Rudhall, fecit.

The weight of the tenor is 9 cwt. 2 qr. 17 lb.

CARISBROOKE, I.O.W.—On Thursday, October 3rd, for harvest festival, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,288 changes) from Holt's Original: W. Johnson 1, W. Legge 2, A. Drake 3, F. Priddle 4, W. Scott 5, W. Chambers 6, H. Barton (conductor) 7, B. Sibbick 8.

A NEW RING OF EIGHT FOR SHROPSHIRE.

CLAVERTLEY BELLS AUGMENTED AND REHUNG.

An important event in the history of Claverley, Shropshire, was enacted when the Lord Bishop of Hereford (Dr. M. Linton Smith) dedicated the restored and augmented ring of eight bells. A very large congregation, perhaps a record for the parish in point of numbers, attended and reverently participated in the beautiful service of dedication, which was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. R. P. Guy).

The Bishop, in his address, spoke of the influence of bells, and the important part they had always played in English village life. From the earliest time, he said, the bell had been used as a means of gathering Christian people together for worship; indeed, so much was it a Christian institution that Mahomet forbade the ringing of bells in Moslem cities. In certain religions, when the worshipper entered the temple, he rang a bell to call the attention of his god to the prayer he wished to offer. But it was not God that needed reminding; rather was it man that needed to be reminded of the presence of God and the duty of public worship.

During the dedication, rounds were rung by the local company assisted by Messrs. S. R. Roper and W. Dyer, Croydon.

At the conclusion of the service an expert band from Wolverhampton, with Mr. Cooper as conductor, attempted a peal of Grandsire Triples, which unfortunately came to grief in the second part.

There was also present a representative gathering of about seventy ringers from Birmingham, Market Drayton, Coventry, Womborne, Sedgley and Coseley. All were delighted with the fine tone and easy 'go' of the bells.

It was only in July last that it was decided to restore the six bells and put them in ringing condition, Messrs. Gillett and Johnston's tender being accepted. The bells were dismantled and sent to Croydon, during the second week in August, and were back in the church tower again and ready for use in the fourth week of September—a very creditable record of expeditious work. The contract included recasting Nos. 4 and 5 of the previous peal of six, adding two trebles and hanging the whole in an entirely new frame with the most up-to-date fittings. As the contractors are clockmakers as well as bell founders, they were also entrusted with the restoration of the clock, the striking part of which had been out of use for years.

Claverley now possesses a peal of eight (tenor 15 cwt. 1 qr. 7 lb.) of which they may justly be proud. Special attention has been paid to the distribution of the sound of the bells by blocking up the louvres to various heights, so that close to the church the volume of sound is brought to pleasant proportions, and no one bell can be heard above the others. The like effect has been accomplished inside the tower.

During the evening the visiting ringers, with the local band, were entertained at the Crown Hotel, Mr. I. Marsh (captain of Claverley ringers) presiding. In addition to the ringers there were present the Vicar, Mr. R. L. Meredith and Mr. J. Thompson (churchwardens), and Mr. G. Green.

Speeches were made congratulating Messrs. Gillett and Johnston on the excellence of the work and upon the expeditious way it had been carried out.

Mr. S. R. Roper suitably responded on behalf of the firm.

It is hoped, in the near future, to have a ringing festival.

The situation of Claverley is rather unique. It is in Shropshire, but on the border of Staffordshire and in the diocese of Hereford, so that it would seem an ideal place to hold a combined meeting of the associations of ringers for those counties. In any case visiting ringers can be assured of a warm welcome and wonderful hospitality at all times.

SUFFOLK GUILD VISITS THE STONHAMS.

A meeting of the Debenham Branch of the Suffolk Guild was held at the Stonhams on October 28th. After ringing in various methods on the bells of Earl Stonham and Little Stonham, the company, which included Canon Wonnacott (Stonham Aspal), Rev. E. D. P. Parry (Little Stonham), Rev. A. A. L. Gedge (Earl Stonham), and members from Cretingham, Debenham, Framsdon, Great Bentley, Helmingham, Ipswich, Stowupland, Stoke Ash, and Wetheringsett, sat down to tea at the Malsters Arms.

Mr. E. F. Poppy expressed regret at the absence of the district secretary, Mr. W. C. Rumsey, of Debenham, through the illness of his wife. He thanked the incumbents for the use of their bells.

Rev. E. D. P. Parry, in welcoming the ringers to his parish, expressed his regret that none of his band were present, and spoke at some length on the pleasure it would give him if the Suffolk Guild could induce his band to become active members of the Guild and more proficient in their art. He felt himself too old to take any part in ringing, but he would do anything to get his band to unite and become more proficient.

Canon Wonnacott and Rev. A. A. L. Gedge both spoke in the same strain, remarking that ringing, for some cause or other, always seemed to alternate between waves of enthusiasm and the reverse.

Some good ringing in various methods, on the fine ten at Stonham Aspal, concluded a very pleasant meeting, although more local talent would have been welcome.

ON THE PILGRIM'S WAY.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD MEET AT SEALE.

A successful six-bell meeting was held by the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild at Seale on Saturday. Over thirty members were present, and their visit was made all the more enjoyable by the welcome which was given by the Rector (the Rev. R. S. Arrowsmith) and the local ringers. Seale is an ancient and picturesque village nestling in a fold of the hills under the Hog's Back, and remains, even to-day, totally unspoiled. An almost continuous stream of modern traffic roars along the top of the hill, but Seale is untouched by it. It stands on the ancient Pilgrim's Way, and the foundation of its church is lost in the mists of antiquity. The present building has a square tower over the choir, and originally the ringing chamber was approached by a staircase behind the choir stalls. The entrance to these steps was never intended for stout ringers, for the door is of the minimum width—even a thin man would have to go through edgewise. It was, however, hardly for that reason that a new entrance was cut into the outer wall of the tower, giving access to the stairway from outside. Before this was done, the ringers coming down from the tower at service time had to disturb the organist from his seat, so that some other means of getting into and out of the belfry was obviously called for. At the top of the stone stairway, wooden steps up the side of the chancel roof take one to the little ringing chamber, and even here big men were not catered for, while a low arch is a trap for the unwary, as the Master of the Guild found to his cost on Saturday, when a rather badly damaged cranium caused his early retirement from the scene. The bells themselves are quite a good little ring, with a tenor of about 7 cwt., and hung on ball bearings. The fifth was originally cast by Robert Eldridge, of Wokingham, in 1608, but at the time of the inventory taken in the reign of Edward VI. there were three bells in the tower and one 'sauce' bell. Even in 1588 they had a steeplekeeper, for in that year the churchwardens paid John Jure 12 pence for 'kepinge the belles.' Many other interesting items appear in these old accounts, such as, for instance, the following:—

1591, for ringing when her Majesty (Queen Elizabeth) came to Farnham, 12d.; and expenses upon coronation day in drinke to the ringers 8d.

1593, to Carpenter for mendinge the bells three daies worke, 3s. 6d.; iron worke and nails 14d.; for charges at the mendinge of the bells in bread and drinke, 10d.

1594 for a cleet that mended the Stocke of the little bell 2d., for mendinge of the goodgin of ye lyttle bell 2d.; for Whitt Lether at Farnam Fayre to mend the bels bandreks, 7d.

1597, for soap to dress the bells 1d.

1604, for ringeng for the King (James I.) & grese for the bell ropes 5d.

1606 pd to the Bell founder for new castinge of the bells and all charges belonginge thereunto as Smyths work & carpinters & such like Vlijs. ixd.

1607 Laide out at Okengam when wee caried the bells, lxs vjd.; for carrying & recarrying the bells, xs.; pd to the bellfounder for metall yt he put into the bell, xiiij li at vj a pound, vjs. vjd.

The Guild's form of service was used on Saturday, and was conducted by the Rector, who also acted as organist, and gave an address, in the course of which he dwelt upon the important part which bells played in the life of the nation, the parish and the individual, and the importance of the art which the ringer exercised.

The Rector afterwards presided over the tea and business meeting in the Village Hall, and extended a welcome to the Guild. He was thanked by Admiral Walker (Guild treasurer), who also expressed the visitors' appreciation of what had been done for them by the local band and by the caterer.

Two new members of the Seale band were elected, and nominations for district officers for next year were received. So efficiently have the present officers discharged their duties that their names were the only ones submitted, and at the annual district meeting at Farnham in January they will be duly elected.

During the afternoon and evening there was ample ringing for all, and it ranged from rounds to the higher flights of Spliced Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor. Pilgrims found their way to Seale from Aldershot, Ash, Blackwater, Farnham, Guildford (Cathedral), Haslemere, Hawley, Ottershaw, West Clandon and Woking, but few of them came afoot as did the men of old.

LEOMINSTER RINGER'S DEATH.

At the Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Leominster, Herefordshire, on Thursday, October 31st, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes) in 49 mins.: H. Sirrell 1, T. C. Gwilliam 2, A. Fairbanks 3, J. Jones 4, F. A. Jaine (conductor) 5, W. Quartley 6. Rung with the bells half-muffled as a token of respect to the memory of Gus Nicholls, a respected member of the Leominster band, who was interred that day. First quarter-peal for ringers of treble and third. The ringers of 2nd and 5th are from Eye and Kimbolton respectively. The rest belong to the local band.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

PRESENTATION TO ROCHESTER DISTRICT SECRETARY.

The annual meeting of the Rochester District was held at Rochester Cathedral on Saturday, October 26th, members attending from Gravesend, Gillingham, Chatham, Rochester, Frindsbury, Milton-next-Gravesend, Lewington, Borden, Rainham, Tunstall, Queenborough, and also from the Ashford District. During the afternoon every opportunity was taken by the ringers to try their skill on the fine peal of ten bells. Evensong was attended by over fifty, the choir and organist being in attendance. Afterwards, the party, numbering about sixty, were entertained to tea by the association at the Temperance Cafe, the Dean of Rochester being present, supported by the Rector of Chatham, the Rev. Buckingham from Gillingham, and also the general secretary, Mr. F. M. Mitchell.

The business meeting was presided over by the Dean, who thanked the ringers for giving him the opportunity to meet them at such a fine gathering.

The secretary then asked the Dean to make a presentation to the late district secretary, Mr. F. M. Mitchell, and handed a small box to the Dean. The Chairman humorously remarked upon the contents of the box—saying he believed it was rouge—and spoke about the qualities of Mr. Mitchell, who, after ten years as district secretary, had now been chosen as a 'county man.' The box, upon being opened, was found to contain a beautiful ringer's gold pendant, inscribed, 'Kent County Association of Change Ringers. Presented by Rochester District to F. M. Mitchell, 1929.'

Mr. Mitchell, in replying, said he was completely taken by surprise. He thanked the Dean for his kind and encouraging remarks, and also the ringers who had given him such a delightful reminder of ten happy years' work as their district secretary.

The Rector of Chatham (the Rev. Audrey Standen) was elected an hon. member, Miss Beer and Miss Jones, of Gravesend, and Mr. J. Wilder, of Queenborough, as practising members.

The officers of the district for the ensuing year were elected, viz., Mr. S. Shellock, hon. secretary; Mr. W. Haigh and Mr. W. Spice, district representatives. In the selection of the place of next meeting, Swanscombe was duly declared at the head of the poll.

The final item on the agenda being 'any other business,' the Dean remarked that this was where the fun commenced.

The Secretary drew the attention of the ringers to the previous week's issue of 'The Ringing World' containing reference to the Central Council, and a spirited discussion took place.

It was finally agreed that the district secretary should bring the matter up at the forthcoming general committee meeting.

A vote of thanks was unanimously passed to the Dean for presiding at the meeting, and the ringers then returned to the belfry, touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Kent Treble Bob being successfully brought round.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT AT KINGSWOOD.

A by-meeting was held at Kingswood on Saturday, October 26th, the towers represented being Horley, Charlwood, Mersham, Limpsfield, Chart, Crawley, Buckland, St. John's, Croydon, Newdigate, Reigate, Godstone, Redhill, Burstow and the local band. The members were also pleased to have with them Canon Ridout, of Johannesburg, and Mr. C. W. Roberts, of London. There were also visitors from Dorking and Leatherhead. A short and interesting service was held in the church, at which the Vicar (the Rev. Wethered) officiated.

The tea, which was kindly given by the Church Council, was provided at the Infants' School, 42 members and friends being present. The secretary would like to point out that, while he is very pleased to see present so many members who help to make the meetings successful, it would be a great help if those intending to come would let him know, as on this occasion he had ordered tea for 30 or 32, and valuable time was taken up in finding chairs and tables to accommodate the extra guests.

A short business meeting followed, the chair being taken by the Master of the association, Mr. D. K. C. Birt. Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for his address at the service; to the Church Council for their kindness in providing the tea; to Mrs. Braid for officiating at the organ in the unavoidable absence of Mr. Hicks; the organist; and to Mr. Boodle, captain of the local band, for his assistance in arranging the meeting.

Great disappointment was felt when the visitors were informed that ringing must be discontinued at eight o'clock instead of at the usual hour of 9 p.m.

The bells at Kingswood, which are, no doubt, the best peal of six in Surrey, were heard to advantage during the afternoon in methods ranging from Grandsire Doubles to London Surprise Minor, also in rounds for the beginners.

The next meeting will be held at Redhill in December.

BERKSHIRE TWELVE-BELL FUND.

The amount received for this fund is now £118 6s. 9d. A further list of subscriptions will appear in our next issue. Contributions should be sent to Mr. R. T. Hibbert, 69, York Road, Reading.

TRAGIC DEATH OF A LITTLE MUNDEN RINGER.

A VILLAGE IN MOURNING.

It is with great regret that we record the death of William Stanley (Bob) Lawrence, which took place under tragic circumstances. The deceased, who was 22 years of age, was the dearly-loved and only son of Mr. W. H. Lawrence. While returning home from work on the evening of October 21st, riding his motor-cycle, he collided, in the fog that prevailed, with a horse that was straying on the road. He sustained severe injuries to the head, and was taken to the Hertford County Hospital, where he passed away on the 26th without regaining consciousness.

The tragic occurrence shed a gloom over the whole village, for Bob Lawrence was loved by all. The deceased was a member of the Church Council, and not only was he, like his father, a ringer, but he was also a member of the choir, and in the belfry and the chancel he was to be found regularly for every Sunday service. He had not rung any peals, but he could ring quite a number of six-bell methods. He took his part in the life of the village, and was a member of the Cricket Club and the Men's Club.

The funeral took place on the 31st ult. amid great manifestations of sorrow. Little Munden was a village in mourning. The church was filled to overflowing, and many were unable to find seats. The hymns sung were, 'They whose course on earth is o'er' and 'Ten thousand times ten thousand.' Psalm xxxix. was chanted, and the Nunc Dimittis was also sung. Four of the deceased's young friends carried him into church, and four of the ringers from the church to the grave. Eight of the nursing staff, colleagues of deceased's sister, were present, and added impressiveness to the sad service, at the close of which the bells were rung muffled. The floral tributes numbered seventy-four. The sincerest sympathy has been shown to Mr. William Lawrence, the sorrowing father, and deceased's two sisters, from both inside and outside the parish. The loss is a severe blow to the family, coming, as it has done, so soon after the death of the deceased's mother.

KING'S NORTON (BY GALBY), LEICESTERSHIRE.

WHERE PEALS ARE FEW AND FAR BETWEEN.

As reported elsewhere in this issue, another step in the ringing history of this famous outlying village was accomplished on Saturday last by a peal of Grandsire Triples! This place was made famous by Squire Wm. Fortrey, who not only rebuilt the church but gave the bells (originally ten) in 1760-4. He also gave bells to the nearby village of Galby (six), and others to Houghton, Kebworth, and St. Margaret's, Leicester. His name appears as a subscriber to Holt's famous broadsheet. Soon after the bells were installed, the Sherwood Youths came all the way from Nottingham and rang the first peal, recorded thus:—

'On May 28th, 1776, J. Holt's peal of Grandsire Triples at Norton-by-Galby, the seat of William Fortrey, Esq., in 3 hours 31 minutes: James Wilkinson Treble; Richard Peat 2; Robert Metheringham 3; William Bradley 4; Richard Sharrah 5; Francis Draper 6; William D. Crofts 7; John Mason Tenor. Conducted by W. D. Crofts.'

Then, after a lapse of forty years, we read in the 'Leicester Chronicle' of June 8th, 1816:—

'Ringing. Tuesday last being his Majesty's birthday, the Leicester Scholars met at Norton in this county, by particular desire of the Norton and Gaulby Scholars, to strike off the musical peal of eight bells of that place. They rang a true and complete peal of 5,040 Grandsire Triples, which was brought round in a masterly style in 3 hours 20 minutes by the following persons, viz.: Jonathan Haywood Treble; John Clarke 2; Thomas Clarke 3; James Gill 4; George Harris 5; Lawrence Stains 6; William Reeves 7; William Wood Tenor. The peal was called by William Reeves. After it had been rang, the Leicester, Norton and Gaulby Scholars partook of an excellent dinner, and the day was completed by ringing several courses of Grandsire Caters on the handbells.'

This peal is commemorated on a slate tablet in the belfry. The bells still hang in their original two-storey frame (the three trebles about ten feet above the others), but of recent years Mr. F. G. Rimington, of Manchester, spent a lot of time and money on them, having had stays and sliders added, etc., thus making it possible to ring a peal on them. Two abortive attempts were made by the late Mr. J. W. Washbrook to ring peals, but later the locals rang on the back six a peal of Doubles. However, to commemorate the 150th anniversary year of the first peal on the bells, the present Sherwood Youths of Nottingham came and scored an excellently struck peal of Stedman Triples on December 4th, 1926, in 3 hours 5 minutes, conducted by Mr. A. Coppock. No other peal has been rung here until the one recorded this week, at the successful conclusion of which, needless to say, all the band and the locals were very gratified. One would like to see (and hear) a peal of Major on them, and it would be quite possible if a band not afraid of 'work' would only have the courage!

THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

THE GREAT REUNION

The anniversary celebration of the Ancient Society of College Youths seems, as the years pass by, to make a wider and wider appeal to ringers throughout the country, and last Saturday's proceedings were striking evidence of the ever growing popularity of the event. From the four corners of England men came to London to take part in the assembly, which is, as befits the old society, the largest gathering of its kind in the social programme of the ringing year. It is now in the fullest sense a ringers' festival, for it has, since the war, taken on a new significance. Whereas formerly it was just a dinner party, it has now become a function of real importance, which not only continues the convivial side of the proceedings, but helps to emphasise the connection between bell ringing and the church, through the service which is now made a feature of the festival.

It was at the old church on College Hill—destroyed in the Fire of London—that the society had its origin, and, to the church which has succeeded it, the society now returns once a year to hold an official service where, nearly three hundred years ago, it was born in a small but august company. The story of the Ancient Society goes back beyond the beginnings of change ringing as we know it to-day, and throughout the centuries of the history of our art the College Youths have not only played an important part, but have been almost as much to the Exercise as the trunk is to the whole tree. The founders, of course, could have had no notion of the extent to which their society would grow and grip the imagination of ringers as time progressed, any more than they could have anticipated the vast developments which have taken place in the science itself since their day. But there are traditions and an atmosphere about this old society which are distinctive, and the progress of time only serves to deepen respect for it and widen its influence.

It is, however, not alone this respect for and this influence of the society that are responsible for drawing together the representative company that every year comes to London to celebrate the anniversary, and the assembly is by no means exclusively a gathering of members who come to do honour to their Society. Others outside the ranks delight to join in the festival and are glad by their presence to pay tribute to this old and honoured organisation. Apart from this, however, one great attraction of this event is the certainty of meeting and greeting old friends. The College Youths' dinner is one of the greatest reunions in the Exercise, and if it were suddenly to be dropped it would leave a void which nothing else could fill in exactly the same way.

BIDDENHAM'S VETERAN RINGERS.

A meeting of the Bedford District was held at St. James' Church, Biddenham, on Saturday, when a company of 38 ringers was present, representing Bedford (St. Paul's and St. Peter's), Bromham, Biddenham, Cardington, Clapham, Great Staughton, Harrold, Kempston, Keysoe, Woburn, Turvey and Stagsden. The bells, a well-running peal of six, were set going at about 2.30, and kept in constant use throughout the afternoon and evening.

Tea was served in the Village Hall, where an excellent repast had been prepared, and the presence of the Rev. W. Norman at tea and the business meeting was greatly appreciated.

The Vicar, in welcoming the association to his tower, said they were all pleased to see amongst them Mr. William West, who is captain of the Biddenham band at the advanced age of 82. He spoke of Mr. West as 'the old man with a young heart.'

It would be interesting to know if there is a ringer with as great a record as Mr. West, for he has been a member of the Biddenham band for 71 years, having been made a member on November 5th, 1858. Mr. Harry King, also a Biddenham ringer still on the active list, is one of the oldest members of the association, having joined at its establishment.

The Vicar said when he first came to the village he was struck by the harmony and concord of the place, and in those days he thought he was right in saying Biddenham had one of the finest bands of ringers in the county, producing harmony on the bells—bells not rung in time produced very obnoxious noises.

At the business meeting, with the Vicar in the chair, it was decided, after some discussion, to hold the annual meeting at St. Peter's Church, Bedford, on December 7th, if the bells are available. The advisability of appointing a Ringing Master to supervise the ringing at meetings was also discussed, and it was resolved to ask Mr. H. Gayton to carry out this office at the next meeting.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to Mr. West for making local arrangements, closed the meeting.

The methods rung on the bells during the day ranged from Bob Doubles to London Surprise.

An interesting feature in the tower is a huge framed record of the bells of the churches of Bedfordshire, giving the name of the church, the number of bells, the weight of tenor and the founders' names.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.DEVIZES BRANCH EXTENDS WELCOME TO VETERAN.

A very successful monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Seend on Saturday, November 2nd, a good company being present, when ringing commenced. The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. W. A. Butler), with Mr. A. T. Weeks as organist. Tea followed at the Bell, to which 25 sat down. The following towers were represented: Devizes (St. John's and St. Mary's), Southbroom, Holt, North Bradley, Rowde, Trowbridge, Melksham, and visitors were present from Bath, Wootton Bassett, Mere and Buckhorn Weston.

Mr. C. D. Heginbotham presided at the business meeting. After extending a hearty welcome to all present, the Chairman made special reference to the presence of Mr. H. Brownlee-West, a vice-president of the Guild, and formerly branch secretary. Although Mr. West is well over 86 years of age, he is in good health and very active; in fact, as soon as he arrived in the village on Saturday he called to see an old friend, Mr. Joe Willshire (change ringing instructor and verger), who is at present unfortunately on the sick list.

Mr. West thanked the chairman for his kind remarks, and assured them all it was a very great pleasure to him to see so many old friends again.

Four life members were elected, viz., Messrs. R. Swift, K. Snelling and N. Elliott, of Crawley, Sussex, B. H. Wells, of Merstham, Surrey, and two ringing members, Messrs. J. S. Weeks, of Southbroom, and E. Wilkins, of Holt.

An invitation was received from Holt to hold the December meeting there, if possible.

A move was made to the tower for more ringing till 8 p.m. During the afternoon and evening the following methods were successfully rung: Cambridge Surprise, Kent Treble Bob, Oxford Treble Bob, Plain Bob, and Little Bob Minor, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles, everyone being delighted with the 'go' and the music of the peal.

SURPRISE MINOR ON KEEVIL BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In 'The Ringing World' of November 1st I note a 720 Cambridge Surprise Minor was rung on the grand peal of bells of Keevil, Wilts, 'believed to be the first 720 Surprise on the bells.' The Leytonstone company rang 720 York Surprise on the same bells on June 20th, 1925, on the occasion of their annual outing (see 'The Ringing World,' July 10th, 1925).—Yours, etc.,

GEO. DAWSON.

DEATH OF A RIPLEY, DERBYSHIRE, RINGER.

The Midland Counties Association has lost one of its promising young ringers by the death, under very tragic circumstances, of Mr. Hugh F. Attewell, of Codnor Park, Derbyshire. Mr. Attewell, who was only 29 years of age, learned to ring on the five bells of the ancient church at Pentrich, and subsequently joined the Ripley company, rapidly becoming proficient in the standard and Surprise Major methods. He had not been able to take a regular part in the Sunday service ringing at Ripley for about two years, owing to his removal to Codnor Park to reside near his place of business, but he had decided to return to Ripley, with a view to renewing his active association, when he was taken ill with double pneumonia, and he passed away in the Derbyshire Royal Infirmary on Thursday, October 31st. Mr. Attewell leaves a widow, and an infant son only eight weeks old.

The interment took place at Ripley on Monday, November 4th, the deceased being borne to his last resting place by fellow-members of the collieries staff of the Butterley Company, Limited. During the sad ceremony, the bells were rung half-muffled, and, as a last tribute of respect, on Monday evening, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes) was rung in 52 mins., with the bells half-muffled by the following: John W. Cupit 1, Herbert Day 2, Kenneth G. Sheldon 3, John J. Turner 4, Frank F. Hill 5, Fred W. Hill 6, Alex. Hutchison (conductor) 7, W. Henry George 8.

The heartfelt sympathy of the Ripley ringers is accorded to the widow, and father and mother of the deceased, in their very sad bereavement.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Jasper Whitfield Snowden died on November 16th, 1885, at the age of 41 years. His death, coming just when he had reached his prime, was one of the greatest blows the Exercise has ever sustained.

'The Antient Guild of St. Stephen's Ringers,' Bristol, was granted a Royal Charter on November 17th, 1620.

The first peal of London Surprise Major was rung at St. Andrew's Church, Norwich, on November 17th, 1835. It was a composition by Shipway and conducted by S. Thurston, and was one of the most memorable performances in the history of ringing.

It was at another Norwich church, St. Giles', on the same day in the year 1760, that the first peal of Imperial Treble Bob Major was rung, and immediately it was completed John Webster, who had rung the 6th, dropped dead in the belfry.

It was this John Webster who wrote to Dr. Mason, of Trinity College, Cambridge, saying that the Norwich company seemed 'entirely to slight' John Holt's broadsheet of peals of Grandsire. He owned it was 'not a generous way of treating Mr. Holt's performance,' adding that, 'I believe they are induced to this by that ingenious ringer, Mr. Annable's not encouraging of it, had he approved of it his influence on the College Youths I presume would have been sufficient to have sent it to the press without any further subscriptions.'

This letter threw great light on the attitude of ringers towards Grandsire composition in those days, when men were striving for a peal without singles. Apparently, Annable did not approve of Holt's peals because they contained singles, and his influence was so great that the Norwich men, on the strength of it, withheld their support.

One hundred and twenty years ago on November 20th, eight members of the Tebbit family rang a peal of 5,208 Oxford Treble Bob at Soham, Cambs.

Twenty years ago next Wednesday, Holt's Original was rung 'silent' at Christ Church, West Bromwich.

The hon. secretary of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild will be abroad for the sake of his health till the middle of January. Any correspondence requiring immediate attention may be addressed to the assistant secretary, Mr. T. Hervey Beams, Bradpole, Bridport.

There are still ringers to be found who are prepared to make some serious personal effort to fulfil engagements. Last Friday, Mr. G. A. Blaxcell 'push-biked' 42 miles, after a day's work, to take part in a peal of Minor at Winfarthing, Norfolk.

A peal was rung at Rickmansworth, Herts, in honour of the V.C.'s. The tenor at Rickmansworth is 20 cwt. 20 lb. in D. Is this, asks a correspondent, the lightest D bell in the country? And have there been any faster peals rung on this weight, without a trip throughout? The time of the peal was 2 hrs. 55 mins.

The bells at St. Mary's, Birkenhead, which were reopened on Saturday, have suffered long periods of silence, but it is not twelve years, as was at first said, since they were rung. There has been occasional ringing on them since, the last time they were rung being at the induction of the Rev. R. E. T. Bell.

Mr. R. Matthews writes that the first peal by a local band at Wollaston, Stourbridge, was rung on October 10th, 1910.

COLLEGE YOUTHS' ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

GREAT GATHERING OF RINGERS IN LONDON.

SERMON BY OXFORD GUILD MASTER.

Coinciding with Lord Mayor's Day, the celebration of the 292nd anniversary of the foundation of the Ancient Society of College Youths took place on Saturday, and was once again noteworthy for the large number of ringers it drew together from all parts of the country. The bells at Southwark Cathedral and St. Magnus' Church, London Bridge, were open in the early part of the afternoon, and afterwards those of St. Olave's, Hart Street, and St. Andrew's, Holborn, and all of them were well utilised during the time available. Following the custom revived since the war, a service was held at St. Michael's Church, College Hill, where the men who founded the society nearly three hundred years ago were wont to practise, and from which the society got its name. The congregation of men filled the seating accommodation to capacity, and the bright service was conducted by the Rector (Rev. Canon Bullock Webster), the hearty singing of the hymns being a feature. The sermon was preached by the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild.

A UNIQUE GATHERING.

The preacher chose for his text Proverbs xvi. 31, 'The hoary head is a crown of glory if it be found in the way of righteousness.'

There is, he said, no ringers' gathering quite like this. All ringers' gatherings have their peculiar features. In one case it may be a diocesan guild or a county association annual meeting; in another case it may be a gathering together on the anniversary of the death of some great ringer who, in his generation, justly held sway among his fellow-men, and after his death his memory is held in honour and we meet to do honour to it. On another occasion it may be that the gathering together is to welcome the restoration of some well-loved ring of bells; but, to my mind, there is a unique feature about this gathering, which has been going on now for nearly 300 years, and which is called, and I suppose, always will be called, 'the College Youths' dinner.' In trying to think out in my own mind what exactly it is that is the unique feature about this gathering, I rather blundered upon some sort of explanation which I will try to give you as shortly as possible. Those of us who are ringers and who love our bell-ringing have a pride in it—the proper sort of pride, not the sort of pride which says, 'I can ring so many methods,' or 'I have rung so many peals and I am quite satisfied with myself,' but the pride which says, 'Almighty God has given me a great gift, and I have the strength to use it, but I am not a bit satisfied yet that I have used it to the full or used it properly.'

From time to time, continued the preacher, they felt that they wanted some sort of response to that feeling, some sort of acknowledgment of that pride. Some of them in their work in connection with bell-ringing were sometimes led to ask themselves whether they were not pursuing an ideal which was, after all, only an ideal, and would never be accomplished, in trying to make people see what they meant and what they wanted to do. It was just at this time of year when they were taught to reach out far and wide, right beyond the seas, and think of their brothers and sisters, who perhaps once rang with them and were now far away, and to think of them as they would be remembering the Christmas bells; to think of those in distant lands who would miss the sound of the bells and the green fields; and to think, also, of those who went forth, leaving all behind them, and passed out of the sight of men, having made the great sacrifice. They as ringers came there at that time of year with some sort of response to that pride which they felt. They had rather felt it that day, as some of them had watched that very fine pageant associated with the City of London, had heard the bells ringing, and remembered that God had given them a very great country and empire. And they had come there that day, also, as bellringers, into the heart of that empire, among the glorious churches and the glorious rings of bells, and to that church which saw the beginning of change ringing 292 years ago, to that church which covered the remains of him who went out wandering and was called back, and had his destiny in this world guided and fixed for him by the sound of the bells of Bow. They came there, to the city where change ringing had existed since the reign of King Charles I., and where it remained vigorous enough to call together that day a gathering from the length and breadth of the land, members of other great ringing associations, many of them also members of the Ancient Society of College Youths. At a gathering like that they did, perhaps, begin to feel this response which they desired, and did begin to feel that they might be thankful to God that they were church bellringers. They thanked Him for His guiding hand in the past over the art which they loved, that He had accepted this change ringing for His Church, and had made it His handmaiden in the service of His Church; that He had accepted them as His servants and had endowed them, some more, some less, with the gifts requisite for this ministry. They thanked God that at this point in the history of change ringing it was, speaking generally, found in the way of righteousness.

NOT A THING OF YESTERDAY.

It was not a thing of yesterday, this change ringing of theirs; it was a thing of long standing. It had come through difficult times, but God had made it what it was to-day, when the bells of their churches were rung to express God's message to His people. There were, of course, exceptions. There were those, undoubtedly, who had taken up bell-ringing as a pastime, as they might have taken up any other game, and who did not pursue it in any other spirit than that. But they were the exceptions, and change ringing to-day was a crown of glory when it was to be found in the way of righteousness. He believed that everyone who was really a ringer at heart, and had a pride in his ringing, and was proud of being a ringer, would be all the better when he went home for having attended that gathering. He would go home inspired by his visit to London, by the service in which he was taking part, by the meeting with old friends and by the whole setting of this city in which they were met, and not least, perhaps, by what they had seen in the great show which had passed that day through its streets. It might be, in that show in a few years' time, they might have a series of cars representing bell founding from the beginning, for London had not been behind-hand among those who had founded the bell-founding industry.

In conclusion, the preacher said there were two most important things that he wanted to speak on quite shortly. The first was that they must maintain a standard of good ringing: that they should strike every blow, that they should set their faces against those who might have rung many peals, but had yet to learn to ring a bell, who seemed to think that the backstroke was merely an awkward method of bringing the bell back into the handstroke position. They must seek to ring truly every blow. That was one thing which would ensure the crown of glory. The second thing was they must be, most truly, men of God, and in this he wanted to remind them of one of the weaknesses of bellringers generally. Although ringers might be very regular and faithful in ringing the bells for Sunday services, there was not nearly enough of them who looked upon one particular church as his spiritual home, who could say, 'This church,' wherever it might be, 'is my church; it is here that I go and place upon the altar, as it were, the offering of my life and service, here that I seek for inspiration.' There were some who, he knew, had to perform ringing in many different churches on a Sunday, and each of those he urged to seek out one among the churches he rang at and make it his spiritual home, to enter into the whole life of that church and to make his contribution of service to it as a churchworker. In those ways, as they grew nearer the hoary age, they would add the lustre of a crown of glory to change ringing, and they themselves would be filled with the joy which, God grant, they might always have as they came nearer to the crossing, because they would be found in the way of righteousness.

The 'voluntary' after the service consisted of a course of Stedman Triples rung on handbells by Messrs. Winney, Walker, Smallwood and Young.

PATERNOSTER ROYAL,

THE DINNER.

Almost a record company gathered at the Bridge House Hotel for the annual dinner, the party numbering over 250. The chair was taken by the Master (Mr. J. Bullock), and the vice-chair by Mr. J. S. Hawkins. Among those present were Rev. Canon Coleridge (president of the Central Council), Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Rev. E. C. Bedford (St. Andrew's, Holborn), Rev. Canon Haldane (Southwark Cathedral), Mr. R. Walden (churchwarden of Southwark), Rev. H. J. Fynes Clinton (St. Magnus'), Rev. Canon Bullock Webster, Rev. F. L. Edwards (hon. secretary of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild), Rev. W. Pennington Bickford (St. Clement Danes), Messrs. A. A. Hughes (treasurer), W. T. Cockerill (hon. secretary), C. J. Chooel and E. J. Sampson (stewards), C. F. Winney and W. Prime (trustees of the society), E. A. Young (hon. secretary of the Central Council), W. Fenton, J.P., Major J. H. B. Hesse (Master, Guildford Diocesan Guild), Messrs. A. J. Wright (hon. treasurer) and R. T. Hibbert (secretary, Oxford Diocesan Guild), C. H. Kippen (hon. secretary of the Surrey Association), J. D. Matthews (Master of the Royal Cumberland Youths), E. H. Lewis, Mrs. Wilkins and Mrs. Cann (Bristol), Messrs. J. E. Groves (Birmingham), E. Bishop (Swindon), H. Marcom and H. Walker (Lincoln). There were representatives from many towers in and around London, ringers coming in parties from the Greenwich and Gravesend District, Reading and Caversham, Barking, Ealing, Holborn, Bethnal Green, Southwark, Edmonton, Portsmouth, Croydon, Guildford and High Wycombe, while among those from more distant places were Messrs. J. T. Dyke (hon. secretary, Bath and Wells Association), A. Walker (Deputy Ringing Master, St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham), J. F. Smallwood (Derby), F. Pervin (Coventry), S. Palmer, Wilson, J. Holman (Sheffield), C. Harrison (Loughborough), W. D. Smith (Eastbourne), W. T. Pates (Cheltenham), G. Bowen (Ilfracombe), W. A. Cave (Bristol), J. Austin (Gloucester), T. King and F. Rich (Bath), W. Knight and W. Thomas (Bristol), G. Popnell (Markham, South Wales), C. Mee (Ipswich), A. Rivers (Cambridge), W. J. Nevard (Great Bentley), A. Bennett (Buckfastleigh), E. Poppy (Eye), F. Dench (Saffron Walden), etc.

An interesting fact was revealed during the repast, when the Master 'took wine' with members of the society of over 50 years' standing. Those who responded numbered six, and were Canon Coleridge, Messrs. T. Wallace (the 'father' of the society), T. Benney, W. D. Smith, J. W. Rowbotham and W. Prime.

The toast of 'The King' was honoured on the call of the Master, who then proposed that a telegram should be sent conveying from that gathering respectful greetings to the Prince of Wales and his gallant guests at the House of Lords. This suggestion was endorsed with cheers.

The Master then gave the toast of 'The Church,' to which Canon Haldane responded in a facetious speech, in the course of which he said, on behalf of the clergy, or the great majority of them, that they did appreciate very highly the work which the Ancient Society of College Youths and ringers generally did for the Church (hear, hear). It was very arduous work, and work which made great claims upon their powers of mind and body, and work which had its risks; in fact, so risky was it that he had never been able to make up his mind to start it (laughter). Very often, he continued, those who listened got as much pleasure as those who rang, and he could honestly say no ringing he had ever heard at his tower had excelled the ringing of the College Youths. He realised that at Southwark they had the very fine peal of bells (hear, hear). Sometimes he was asked, when the bells were going, who it was that was ringing. If it was very good, indeed, he would reply that it was the College Youths (laughter). If, on the other hand, it was not so good, he said it was a Southwark Surprise Major (laughter), and did not say exactly who it was that was taking part in the ringing (laughter). Canon Haldane concluded by thanking the company for drinking the toast of 'The Church.'

'V.C.s' OF THE BELFREY.

Canon Coleridge proposed the toast of 'The Ancient Society of College Youths.' He said he was very glad they had sent from that assembly a message of greeting to the gathering presided over by the Prince of Wales at the House of Lords. He said he could not, of course, remember all the valiant deeds done by those gallant men, but he recalled three instances in which the coveted cross was won by men whose only weapons had been their own fists. But, he continued, what about those twelve valiant men who, at Ashton-under-Lyne on August Bank Holiday, rang the record peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus in 11 hrs. 33 mins., one of the greatest feats ever done in the annals of change ringing? (applause). He happened, during the following week, to be staying in Somerset, and a local paper, having got hold of the fact that this peal had been rung, ended its report with the question, 'We wonder what the inhabitants thought of it?' (laughter). He was able to inform some of the readers that the inhabitants of Ashton-under-Lyne thought a great deal of it; that they turned out in great numbers to cheer it, and so far from being annoyed with that peal, there was not a soul in the town and for miles around who was not delighted. Did these men have a V.C. for holding the ropes in their fists for 11½ hours? They didn't, but they deserved it, but merit brought its own reward, and the ringers of that peal wanted nothing else (hear, hear). What struck him was that a good many of those who were ringing in that peal could no longer be called young men. They were getting on in years—he did not know what their average age was, but whether they were young or whether they were getting into the sere and yellow leaf, ringing seemed to keep men young, and occasions like that gathering of College Youths had a great facility for keeping them young. It was always said that a donkey did not get to its prime until it was a hundred years old, and he thought it must be the same with some ringers (laughter). Even when men, owing to stress of circumstances, could not manage to ring any longer, not a few of them were engaged in doing valuable work for the Exercise (hear, hear). He mentioned one—one of his oldest friends—the Rev. G. D. P. Davies, who, though stricken down some time ago and who now had the greatest difficulty in moving about—put in a great deal of time for the good of the Exercise, either collating works or writing new ones. One of his most recent was 'Odds and Ends of Grandsire Triples,' which was a most interesting little work, especially for the young composer. Canon Coleridge went on to say that recently Mr. Davies preached at Tewkesbury Abbey (on the occasion of the jubilee of the restoration scheme inaugurated by his father), although he had to be carried into the pulpit by his son and the verger. The speaker concluded by remarking that the success of such an organisation as the College Youths needed the exuberance of youth and the wisdom of old age, and when those were combined, as they were in that Ancient Society, that society would go on and flourish to the end (applause). He coupled with the toast the name of that excellent ringer, friend, philosopher and everything else, Mr. Cockerill, the hon. secretary (applause).

A course of Stedman Cinques was then rung on handbells by H. Hodgetts, G. F. Swann, A. Walker, J. F. Smallwood, A. H. Pulling and H. Langdon.

A LONG DEATH ROLL.

In rising to respond, Mr. Cockerill was greeted with cheers and the enthusiastic singing of 'For he's a jolly good fellow.' Mr. Cockerill said they had received apologies for non-attendance and good wishes for a successful evening from Revs. Canon Alexander, J. H. Ellison, G. H. Phillimore, B. F. Simpson, S. G. Ponsorby and N. T. Hopkins, Messrs. J. C. Mitchell, P. Johnson, W. H. Judd, E. Morris, Nichols, and T. Reeves. They had also received a telegram from Bristol United Ringing Guilds sending best wishes. Since they last met at dinner, said Mr. Cockerill, they had made 40 new members (applause). They had met for ringing practices 76 times during the year, and these practices had been attended by 117 different members at some time or other. He regretted that the deceased members formed a rather long list. They had lost by death Robert Holloway, Henry H. Chandler, W. H. C. Courtney, Tom Coxhead, Henry W. Jackson (Bolton), John Wilkins (Walthamstow), Joseph E. Sykes, Robert Thompson (West Ealing), Geo. Alder (Burnham), Rev. Maitland Kelly, York Green, Sam Southby, Geo. T. McLaughlin, Edgar Pemberton (Ipswich), Frank Willey (Sheffield) and Tom Payne (Oxford). The peal list was only a very moderate one, only fifteen having been rung—all in the tower: Grandsire Triples 2, Stedman Triples 3, Stedman Caters 4, Stedman Cinques 2, Double Norwich Major 2, Superlative Surprise Major 1, Cambridge Surprise Royal 1. He thanked the company very heartily for the way in which they had received the toast.

Mr. A. A. Hughes submitted 'The Visitors,' and took the opportunity of thanking, on behalf of the society, the various incumbents of London churches for their permission to hold practice meetings at their churches. The society appreciated the encouragement that was given them in the work which they did.

The Rev. H. J. Fynes Clinton replied, and remarked that visitors to that gathering not only enjoyed the hospitality that was extended to them, but were very much struck by the extraordinary enthusiasm that was shown, not only among members of the Ancient Society in London, but by others who came to that dinner from such long distances—an enthusiasm which they could find equalled in hardly any other work or hobby. It must be the comradeship of ringing and the knowledge that they were doing a most valuable work for the Church. There was no fickleness in bellringing, but an enthusiasm and steadfastness which set an example to all other church workers.

Mrs. Hughes at this point gave some delightfully played handbell solos, with all her accustomed artistry. She rendered 'Love, could I only tell thee,' and 'I'll sing the songs of Araby,' and, being encored, with 'musical honours,' played an old favourite in 'Land of Hope and Glory.'

The Vice-Chairman (Mr. J. S. Hawkins) proposed the toast of 'The London and Provincial Ringing Societies.' He remarked that there were present that evening representatives from nearly every society, association and guild in the country. On behalf of the Ancient Society of College Youths he extended to them a hearty welcome, and, having referred to the valuable work which was being done by these societies, concluded by wishing them continued success and prosperity.

Mr. E. A. Young first replied, remarking that their first thought must go out to those who were not with them that night, but who were associated with them in their ancient Exercise. They had many vigorous societies operating in the London area, and among them was the Royal Cumberland Youths, who went back in their history,

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.THE MASTER ENTERTAINS LARGE GATHERING AT BRAINTREE.

In large numbers on a delightful autumn day, members responded to the invitation to attend the annual meeting of the Northern Division of the Essex Association at Braintree on Saturday last. The proceedings commenced with service in the Parish Church, with an inspiring address from the newly-appointed Vicar (Rev. Jas. Case, M.A., B.Sc.). Mr. C. H. Howard, Master of the association, read the lesson. The collection for the association's Bell Restoration Fund amounted to £1 10s. Upwards of one hundred accepted the Master's invitation to tea, the company being representative of thirty-five parishes.

At the subsequent meeting, Mr. A. A. Saunders was thanked for his past services and reappointed District Master.

Mr. W. Arnold, who has carried out the duties of secretary for the past two years in a most efficient manner, intimated his inability to continue, owing to business pressure, and was heartily thanked. Mr. F. Redgwell, of Earls Colne, was unanimously elected his successor.

Rev. O. L. Martin, Vicar of Earls Colne, was elected an honorary member, and Mrs. C. O. Courtauld, of Penny Pot, Halstead, was elected an honorary life member. Several ringing members were also elected.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Feering in February.

The Master made feeling allusion to the sad loss sustained by Mr. W. H. Lawrence, of Little Munden, Herts, by the tragic death of his son, Mr. W. S. Lawrence, as reported in 'The Ringing World,' and a vote of condolence with Mr. Lawrence and his two daughters was passed in silence, the Master being requested to convey the sympathy of the meeting to them.

The Vicar was thanked for the use of the bells and for his address, and the organist was also thanked for his services.

Mr. H. E. Hammond voiced the thanks of the meeting to the Master for providing tea for so large an assemblage.

Immediately after the meeting the whole company were shown over the magnificent Town Hall, recently presented to the town by Mr. W. J. Courtauld at a cost exceeding £60,000. In the spacious Council Chamber the Master, who has been a councillor for twenty-one years, explained the special points of the whole building, and enumerated many other gifts by Mr. Courtauld during the past few years, including a hospital completely equipped and a recreation ground endowed so as to be entirely free from charge on the rates.

The District Master and Messrs. W. Keeble and L. W. Wiffen did their utmost to ensure that everyone of the large company had a ring on the bells, which are in excellent order. Commencing at 2.30 p.m., they were, with the exception of the period of the service and meeting, ringing unceasingly in methods ranging from Bob Major to London Surprise.

CAMBRIDGE MAXIMUS BY VETERANS.

Mr. James George, who is approaching his 76th birthday, has achieved another distinction. He has rung his first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus at a greater age than any other 'first pealer' in the method, and has thus given another proof of his youthful mental capacity. Mr. 'Bob' Brundle, who also took part in the peal, was 73 last September. On the evidence of many competent ringers who were listening outside, the peal was splendidly struck, and went like clockwork from beginning to end.

It is no small achievement, even for a man of many achievements, to ring his first peal of Cambridge Maximus at the age of 76, when most men are thinking of retiring from the belfry, if they have not already disappeared from the scene. The peal was really a crowning achievement for Mr. George, for it was his one thousandth peal on tower bells. It was also his twentieth peal of Maximus, including the 12,240 Treble Bob Maximus, to which he rang the tenor, in 8 hrs. 39 mins. He has now rung peals of Cambridge Surprise on 6, 8, 10 and 12 bells.

like the College Youths, to the 17th century, and who had carried on the traditions of the Exercise ever since. He was glad to see many members of that society present on that occasion.

Mr. F. M. Mitchell, hon. secretary of the Kent County Association, replied for the Provincial Societies, and reminded the company that next year the Kent Association would celebrate its jubilee. He remarked that he would like to see every association have its own benevolent fund. In Kent they had such a fund which had often proved its value. They started it 17 years ago, had paid out about £90, and had a balance in hand of about £130.

Mr. R. T. Hibbert proposed the concluding toast, 'The Press,' to which Mr. J. S. Goldsmith responded, and the formal proceedings concluded with 'Auld Lang Syne.'

During the evening songs were sung by Mr. T. J. Fowler, Mr. E. Spice and Mr. Bullock, sen., Mr. H. N. Pitslow being the accompanist, while some clever card tricks were performed by Mr. J. A. Esler.

A considerable number of visitors remained in London until Sunday and rang at various churches for the morning services.

And what is Silchester? Well, if you take New Doubles, extend it to seven bells, and reverse it, you will arrive at the above set of figures; but I am not going to let it go out into the world with such a name as Reversed New Triples, or even New Triples Reversed. Such a name would kill any method. You may ring Reversed New Triples, if you like, but if you use my Bob, call it Silchester, please.

But, says the critic, your Bob is not a bob at all. Quite so, neither is the Single used in Grandsire Triples a single. To be exact, they are both double changes. But it is always called a single in Grandsire, and it will, I am sure, be most convenient to call it Bob in Silchester, especially as no other call is necessary.

Silchester will prove interesting to any ringers who feel tempted to try for the first peal, while, to the composer who likes to take up something new, I can promise a most interesting study.

Here is the peal again written out by the bob-leads, as some conductors may prefer it so:—

BELFRY RECORDS.AN OLD RINGING BOOK AT CHEW MAGNA.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Your leading article of November 1st curiously coincides with a discovery I have just made.

I have always believed that change ringing in North Somerset was introduced by Squire Palairt, father of the famous cricketers. Now I have to hand irrefutable evidence of change ringing done in the Chew Magna district, considerably over one hundred years ago, in the shape of a manuscript book which has been handed down through the generations, and is now the property of a Chew Magna ringer. On telling Mr. W. A. Cave of this, he quoted an old saying:—

'A single, extreme, a single, bob, too,

None can equal the ringers of Chew.'

The first line, I suggest, may be a misquotation of, 'A bob, extreme, a bob and single, too,' as the latter produces a six-score.

To revert to the book, it contains 28 extents of Doubles. Some of them, with curious names, e.g., Mrs. Crambol, Thomas Sage's Delight, the Cambridge Journey, Gog-Magog, are merely six-scores of Grandsire, with or without extremes.

Others, such as 'Little Mr. Bob,' are extents produced by causing one bell to lie eight blows behind, or in front. Others make the treble do a peculiar hunt, while others change the hunt bell.

Calls, in addition to the bob, single, and extreme, included the half-single and the 'sharp.' It would appear that the sharp meant an odd dodge on the front, with 3rd's place to correspond.

New Doubles, as we know it, is there, except that the single is made in 2-3 instead of in 4-5, as nowadays. All dodges were called, by the way.

One ringer was sorry, when I mentioned it, that April Day was not included.

'Ah!' said another, 'if us were to ring he, 'twould sound more like a November night.'—Yours faithfully,

Chilcompton.

J. T. DYKE.

DEATH OF FORMER MASTER OF COLLEGE YOUTHS.

The death of George T. McLaughlin, a former Master of the College Youths, who died at the age of 70 years, passed almost unnoticed in the Exercise. Writing, to pay 'a slight tribute to his worth,' Mr. Challis F. Winney says:—

George McLaughlin was Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths in 1887. Our dinner on Saturday, November 5th, in that year, was a great success under his chairmanship at Bridge House Hotel. The bells at St. Magnus' and St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Putney, were rung by the parochial ringers, and these were the last two churches to keep up 'St. Guido Faux.' I think this was the last anniversary when there was any paid ringing for the Gunpowder Saint. George had the honour of being a parochial ringer at St. Paul's, and took part in a peal there. He called Mr. Cockerill's first peal at St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Putney (Holt's Original), Saturday, June 25th, 1887. He was very keen in all he did, especially in ringing Holt's Original, non-conducted, rung with the material forged at St. Albans. Messrs. Mitchell and Buckingham are both still engaged in business in London.

George McLaughlin was an export packer at the Army and Navy Stores, and was pensioned off from there some five or six years ago. He had been out of touch with ringing since he gave up as instructor at St. John's, Wilton Road, where Messrs. Dawe, Gover and Winney started to ring. Cancer was the cause of death. May he rest in peace.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

THORNY PROBLEM FOR NORTHERN BRANCH.

The half-yearly meeting of the Northern Branch was held at Heckington on Saturday, November 2nd. According to previous arrangements, it should have been held at Ewerby, but, owing to the incumbency being vacant by the death of the Vicar, the committee decided to transfer the meeting to Heckington. Through unforeseen circumstances it was fixed later than usual, but, fortunately, it proved to be a real success. Amongst the towers represented were Blankney, Branston, Ewerby, Gainsborough, Heckington, Lincoln, Scotter, Sleaford, Stow and Willingham. The Elloe Deaneries and Southern Branches were represented by members from Pinchbeck, Surfleet, Spalding, Folkingham and Stamford, and the North Notts Association by a lady ringer from North Collingham.

The bells, which are a nice ring of eight, and have recently been overhauled, were kept going during the afternoon and evening in various methods, ranging from Grandsire Triples to London Surprise Major.

The service, at which the Guild office was used, was well attended. The Vicar (Rev. C. A. Norris) officiated, and gave an appropriate address. The organist very kindly presided at the organ. Subsequently, close upon fifty members and friends partook of an excellent tea in the Village Room.

The business meeting followed, at which the president, Mr. F. F. Linley, was in the chair, supported by members of the committee. The Chairman thanked the Vicar for the cordial welcome extended to the branch, and the Rev. C. A. Norris, who had to leave early, responded.

Barton-on-Humber was selected as the place for the next half-yearly meeting, the date being left in the hands of the committee.

The next item on the agenda was the extension of the annual report. The President explained that to return to a pre-war report would, owing to the high cost of printing, quickly absorb the funds of the branch, unless the free tea at the annual meeting was given up or an increase made in the subscriptions.

After discussion it was agreed to leave this thorny problem to the committee to decide upon the best steps to be taken in the matter.

Mr. Linley alluded to the loss which the branch had sustained by the decease of Mr. Isaac Vickers, who, for nearly fifty years, had been a member of the Cathedral company, and proposed a vote of condolence with the relatives.—Mr. J. A. Freeman seconded, and made reference to Mr. Vickers having been a staunch and loyal supporter of the old North Lincolnshire Association.—This was carried by the members standing in silence, and the secretary was instructed to write a letter of sympathy to those who are left to mourn the loss of one who was so highly respected by all with whom he came into contact.

A comprehensive vote of thanks was passed to the church authorities for the use of the bells, the organist for his assistance, the caterers for the excellent tea provided, the ladies for their efficient waiting at the tea table, likewise to the members of the local company for making the arrangements, and all others who had helped to make the meeting such a success.

This concluded the business, after which some of the company indulged in handbell ringing, others returned to the tower, while a third party went to Hale Magna and had touches on the ring of six at that church, thus bringing to a close a very successful and enjoyable meeting.

THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

GOOD STRIKING—AND BAD.

When the Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild gets into the pulpit to address a gathering of ringers he can be counted upon to preach a sermon which will really appeal to the intelligence of the congregation and give them food for thought. As a ringer he, of course, approaches his subject from a different angle to those clergy who have no practical acquaintance with the art and little actual knowledge of what it involves in time, and patience, and study. Those who attend ringers' services frequently have to suffer an address consisting of a hashed-up retrospect—more or less inaccurate—of the uses of bells, coupled with an admonition that the ringer's place, after ringing, is in the church. It may perhaps, be well, that ringers should sometimes be reminded of the history of the instruments they use, and of the duties associated with their office, but there is so little variation of the theme that those who make a practice of being present at these meetings sometimes—we feel compelled to say so—get just a little tired of it. It is refreshing, therefore, to have the opportunity of listening to an address such as that delivered to the Ancient Society of College Youths—full of interest, of new inspiration, and of good advice.

One of the points which will appeal most strongly to all good ringers was the emphasis which the speaker laid on the importance of good striking in ringing. It is not a new subject, but it carries added weight when it comes from one who is himself among the best of ringers. It is unfortunately too true that there are those who have rung many peals, but who have not yet learned to ring—to ring well, that is to say. There are many in the Exercise who, though their names may have appeared in the records of peals, are still inefficient in the management of a bell—who merely 'slop' through their ringing, and, what is sadder still, are content with that. One poor striker can and does spoil the efforts of the rest, however good they may be, and no man ought to be satisfied until he is competent to 'place' his bell in its exact position every time. That is not to say that the best of ringers do not sometimes make a bad blow. It was, we believe, the Master of the Oxford Guild who on some former occasion said that if he were asked to define a good striker he would say he was one who, when he made a bad blow, knew he had done it and could kick himself for it. That is a delightful definition and it would be difficult to find a better. The trouble about bad strikers—and no man has really learnt to ring a bell until he can strike well—is that they do not know it. They do not take the pains to learn to listen for their own bell, and they seem to have no sense of time or rhythm. Bad strikers we shall probably always have with us, but there is a great deal in the point which was made by the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn when he said we should set our faces against those who ring many peals before they have learnt to ring a bell. Young ringers need encouragement, but the encouragement which is provided by peal ringing should only be offered when they have really learnt to ring a bell.

BELL RESTORATION IN THE OLDEN DAYS.

HOW MONEY WAS GOT IN THE MIDDLE AGES.

An interesting record comes down to us in the archives of the diocese of Winchester, throwing light on the manner in which money was raised for church purposes in the Middle Ages. Referring to the fact that the parish and town of Farnham, Surrey, have just raised £300 to rehang and retune the bells of the Parish Church and to put the chimes in working order, the 'Guildford Diocesan Gazette' says: 'Note the continuity both of parish life and of the English Church. We ask our readers to think of the 14th century and the particular year 1388. Forty years earlier the Black Death had ravaged the country and halved the population, with momentous results to the religious, social and economic life of the country. Richard II. was (1388) on the throne. Wycliffe had been dead but four years; Chaucer had just completed his Canterbury Tales; monasticism and the Medieval Church were entering upon a period of decay. But parish life went on; people had the same needs: money was just as much wanted then as now for Church purposes. We dip into the episcopal register of the great William of Wykeham (1367-1405), and we read that in the year 1388 the people of Farnham were raising money for the purchase of church bells; the parishioners were duly and properly assessed (the "Quota," instead of being a new idea, is an ancient medieval practice). But it was easier then to raise money than it is to-day. It appears that a few of the parishioners would not pay up. What happened? The Bishop heard of it and issues a mandate to the Rector of Farnham to "admonish certain parishioners under pain of ecclesiastical censure (i.e., excommunication) to pay up." They stood no nonsense in the Middle Ages.'

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.STARTING THE REORGANISED BRANCHES.

A general meeting of the newly-constituted East Norfolk Branch of the association, the first of a series under the reorganisation scheme, was, by kind permission of the Vicar (the Rev. Canon R. Aubrey Aitken), held in the Priory Hall, Great Yarmouth, on Saturday, November 9th, for the election of officers and committees.

The general secretary (Mr. Arthur L. Coleman) read a letter of apology from Canon R. Aubrey Aitken, expressing his regret in not being able to preside at the meeting.

Mr. Denison Hayward was voted to the chair, and was supported by Mr. Arthur L. Coleman, Mr. William J. Lee (district secretary), and representatives from Acle, Beccles, Great Yarmouth, Reedham, etc.

The General Secretary gave a brief outline of the purpose of the meeting, after which the members proceeded to elect officers and committee as follows: Mr. Denison Hayward, chairman; Mr. William J. Lee, hon secretary; Messrs. Robert W. Barber, jun., William E. Bason, John C. Dicken, Edwin R. Goate and James Taylor, members of the committee.

The General Secretary moved the ratification of the belfry elections (prior to peals) of Messrs. Bertie J. Howchin (re-election), John W. Ward and Colin Harrison, life members (non-resident), and also moved the election of Messrs. James Bunn, Robert William Barber, and Francis Herbert Glossop Hind as members of the association. The motions, on being put to the meeting, were carried.

A vote of thanks was passed to Canon R. Aubrey Aitken for the use of the Priory Hall, and the meeting then closed, and the members adjourned to the belfry for ringing.

BOW BELLS.CITY CORPORATION AND THE RESTORATION.

The famous bells of St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheapside, which have all too long been silent for need of restoration, were mentioned at a meeting of the City Corporation recently, when the Lord Mayor presented a letter from Alderman Sir Louis Newton, on behalf of the Rector and churchwardens of the church, asking for the assistance of the Corporation in raising the funds necessary to carry out urgent repairs to the fabric, organ and bells.

Mr. Deputy Ellis said 'Bow bells' were not only known to every citizen of London, but they were known all over the world. Their historic association with Dick Whittington endeared them to every British man and woman, and the Court should do all in its power to see that they were repaired.

The letter was referred to the Coal, Corn and Finance Committee.

LIGHT BELLS IN 'D.'

Writing in answer to the inquiry as to whether Rickmansworth has the lightest D bell in the country as a tenor (its weight being 20 cwt. 20 lb.), Mr. C. H. Jennings says that Bere Regis (Dorset) tenor is 18½ cwt. in D.

The tenor bell at St. John's, Devizes, Wilts, was cast by R. Purdue at Salisbury, in 1677, and its weight is 19½ cwt. in D flat, and measures 50in. across. A perfect peal of Grandsire Triples was rung there, writes Mr. Sidney Hillier, on September 14th, 1912, in 2 hrs. 54 mins., and it is worthy of note, as the tenor ringer was blind. He gained the deserved congratulation by the band for the perfect way he rang it.

As to fast peals, the writer was one of a band who rang a perfect peal at Trowbridge, Wilts, on April 19th, 1913, in 2 hrs. 47 mins., the tenor being 24 cwt.

Mr. W. E. Pitman writes: 'A correspondent asks whether a peal rung at Rickmansworth with a tenor 20 cwt. 20 lb. in 2.55 can be beaten. Yes. The writer participated in a peal at Margate on October 19th, with a tenor 22½ cwt., in 2.53, and that without a trip. Mr. Buesden, the conductor, will bear me out.'

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.MEETING AT SANDAL.

A meeting was held at Sandal, near Wakefield, on Saturday, November 9th. The attendance of ringers and friends was only about half the number that attended at the near-by tower of Crofton in October, which represents the difference between the attraction of a shield contest and an ordinary monthly meeting. However, Sandal bells still hold a charm of tone for ringers, after a century's wear, that seems to say, 'Ringers may come and ringers may go, but we go on for ever.' There is a surrounding home for these sounds that never wearies. The houses, placed mostly in gardens, are fit to offer a happy welcome.

The proceedings were of the usual character. The worthy Vicar, the Rev. Parry, was at the tea table as of yore, offering a welcome to young and old. Unfortunately, duty called him away, but not until blessings and good wishes were given to the association.

One local veteran (Mr. G. Robinson) was there to receive all-round congratulations after recovering from eight months' very serious illness. Mr. Noah Wath, president, occupied the chair, and hearty votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar, the local ringers, and some ladies who always display a breezy activity towards the association.

The next meeting is most likely to be a joint one with the Yorkshire Southern Division at Rawmarsh in December.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The ringer of the tenor in the peal of Grandsire Triples on November 9th was Arthur C. Nason, not Nash, as published.

When the Mortlake Society rang 'a true and compleat peal of 5,040 Bob Major Tribbles' on November 22nd, 1731, they recorded that 'this is the third time this peal was ever rung and the first by the method designed and called by W. Walker.'

A William Walker was ringing at Richmond and Mortlake for many years, although it is rather likely that the later William Walker was a son of the ringer who 'designed and called' this early peal at Mortlake. If not, then William Walker must have been of the same virile stock that, long after, produced the gentleman who is 'still going strong.' William Walker rang in a peal of 10,640 Bob Major at Mortlake in 1776.

One of London's earliest ringing societies, the City Scholars, rang a peal of 6,012 Grandsire Caters at Cripplegate on November 23rd, 1732. Another of these long defunct London organisations, the Eastern Scholars, put up a record at West Ham, when on November 25th, 1737, they rang a peal of 15,120 of Bob Major.

Sunday next is the anniversary of the first peal of Maximus rung on handbells, a peal of Oxford Treble Twelve at Sheffield on November 24th, 1816.

Exactly two hundred years ago next Wednesday, the London Scholars rang a peal of 6,204 Grandsire Cinques at St. Michael's, Cornhill, the College Youths twelve days before, viz., on November 15th, having rung the first peal on the bells, a 5,126 Grandsire Cinques. The bi-centenary of these two performances ought not to go unmarked, despite the fact that little peal ringing is now permitted at this tower.

The first peal at St. James', Bermondsey, was rung one hundred years ago next Thursday. It was 5,120 Oxford Treble Bob Royal by the Cumberlands.

It was at the Shakespeare's Head, Wych Street, Strand, in 1886, that W. H. F. reported to the members there assembled that the College Youths' certificate was the work of Bartolozzi, and produced several engravings, purchased off a street trader's barrow in Rochester Row, to support his claim.

Amongst those present at that meeting were Messrs. Routh, Hayes, Allbone, Haworth, Barry, McLaughlin and Winney, besides others, but the last-named, with W. H. F., is the sole survivor to-day. Exactly forty years later Captain Yorke confirmed the fact of the certificate being Bartolozzi's work by his discovery at the British Museum in 1926.

The first peal of Cambridge Surprise on the bells at Curdridge, Hants, rung last Saturday, recalls the fact that the first and only other Surprise peal rung on the bells was Superlative over 31 years ago. Messrs. G. Williams and F. S. Bayley took part in both peals, the latter on the same bell, the seventh, but the former, who rang the tenor in 1898, and called the peal, took on a lighter task this time. When the first peal was rung, Curdridge was one of the noisiest towers in the country.

ANCIENT BELLS AT KIMPTON, HERTS.

ONE 500 YEARS OLD AND STILL IN USE.

A ring of six bells, the most modern of which is over two hundred years old, hangs in the tower of Kimpton, Herts, and a peal was rung on them on Saturday last. These six bells are of various dates, the age of the fifth probably exceeding 500 years. This bell is 36 inches in diameter, and in addition to a device, bears the Latin words, 'Sit nomen Domini benedictum' ('May the name of the Lord be blessed'). It was probably cast by one William Burford, whose last will dates from the year 1390, and on this evidence the bell certainly appears to be more than 500 years old. At one time it may have been the only bell, and it is possible that it may be slightly older than the tower, which was built about that period.

KIMPTON CHURCH.

The fourth is the next oldest bell, and bears a device of the arms of the Bishops of Winchester and the words 'Sancte Dunstano' (St. Dunstan). It was cast by John Saunders, of Reading, Berks, about the year 1540, and bears the founder's initials, 'J.S.' It is 33 inches in diameter.

A third bell existed at this time, which has now disappeared, for at the Inventory taken in the year 1552 there were three bells in the belfry. The missing one may, however, have been recast later.

The treble bell bears the name of Thomas Hoo, the owner of the Hoo Estates at the time. It is 28in. in diameter, and has a cross stamped upon it and the date 1636, also the maker's shield, 'R.O.', that is, Robert Oldfield, who cast bells in Hertford at this time.

The 3rd bell is of the same date as the treble, and by the same maker. It bears the same marks, but has, in addition, the initials 'W.M.—C.W.', probably meaning William Mitchell, churchwarden.

Two years later the tenor bell was hung, cast also by Robert Oldfield. This is 40 inches in diameter, and bears the inscription 'William Mitchell, 1638.'

ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS.

THE NEW OFFICERS.

At the annual election of officers of the Ancient Society of College Youths, Mr. E. J. Choost, who last year filled the office of Senior Steward, was elected Master; Mr. C. W. Pipe was elected Senior Steward; and Mr. C. W. Roberts Junior Steward. Mr. A. A. Hughes was elected hon. treasurer, Mr. W. T. Cockerill hon. secretary, and Messrs. C. F. Winney and W. Prime trustees.

AN APPEAL.

DISTRESSFUL CASE OF LANCASHIRE RINGER.

The Blackburn Branch of the Lancashire Association has made an appeal to all its members on behalf of Mr. Harry Tomlinson, of Burnley, one of its old members, to help him in his time of need.

Mr. Tomlinson, who is a widower, with a daughter entirely dependent upon him, was taken to the Infirmary some two months ago to have a leg amputated, but collapsed whilst under chloroform, and had to be revived with oxygen before the operation had taken place.

His circumstances are such that an appeal has been made to help to alleviate his suffering and distress, and, should any member of the Exercise outside the branch feel disposed to help a brother ringer, subscriptions, however small, would be gratefully received and duly acknowledged by the secretary of the branch, Mr. F. Hindle, 58, Anvil Street, Blackburn.

BALL BEARINGS v. GUN METAL BEARINGS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I have been asked by the authorities of one of the churches in the association of which I am president to advise them whether it is preferable to have their bells (which require rehanging) put into ball bearings or gun metal bearings.

I have my own ideas on the matter, but before passing them on would be glad to have a consensus of opinion of members of the ringing fraternity, more experienced in this matter than I am.

May I ask for expressions of opinion through your paper whether ball bearings or gun metal bearings are preferable from the points of view of durability, ease in ringing, and consistency. The bells in question are a quick-running peal of eight with a 12 cwt. tenor.

For obvious reasons I am writing under a nom-de-plume, but my name can be furnished if desired.—Yours sincerely,

'NORTHERN PRESIDENT.'

LINCOLN'S ANCIENT RINGING SOCIETY.

FOUNDED BEFORE THE COLLEGE YOUTHS.

In a letter to 'The Times,' with reference to a claim that the Ancient Society of College Youths, founded in 1637 to foster the art of campanology, is the oldest of its kind in the world, Chancellor Srawley of Lincoln, says:—

'May I venture to point out that the "Company of Ringers of our blessed Virgin Mary of Lincoln" is of still earlier date? It was in origin a voluntary association, and in the muniments of the Dean and Chapter there is a parchment document bearing the date, October 18th, 1612, which contains the Ordinances drawn up by the members. Another document, dated September 23rd, 1614, contains the Patent of the Dean and Chapter. On the walls of the Ringers' Chapel at the base of the south-west tower of the cathedral are inscribed the names of the Masters of the Ringers, beginning in 1614. In the Ordinances the purpose of the association is stated to be "for the ringing of Sainete Hughe bells and our Ladye Bells... on solempne feastes and dayes and otherwise upon good occasions."'

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

A very successful monthly meeting was held at Arley, near Nuneaton on Saturday, November 16th. Members attended from Allesley, Bulkington, Chilvers Coton, Croft, Fillongley, Leamington, Nuneaton, Shilton and Stoke, together with the local band. The Rector (Rev. M. J. G. King) welcomed the ringers at the Institute, where tea was arranged. A bazaar was being held in the building to help defray the cost of the bells.

The methods rung during the meeting were Plain Bob Doubles and Minor, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge, York, Beverley and London Surprise. This was the first visit of the Guild to Arley, where the bells have recently been recast and augmented by Messrs. Taylor and Co.

The 2nd bell was the last to be installed in the tower. It is 29 inches in diameter, and bears the inscription, 'John Carpenter, churchwarden, 1728. John Waylett, London, made me, H.S.' It is not improbable that this bell is the recast old bell, existing in 1552. Waylett is known to have gone through the country casting bells at this time.

There is a tradition that one or more of the bells was stolen from the neighbouring church of Ayot St. Lawrence, at some time, but no confirmation of that is now forthcoming.

CHESHIRE PEAL OF SIX RESTORED.

RE-DEDICATION OF BELLS AT ST. MARY'S, BIRKENHEAD.

After a silence, seldom broken, extending over about ten years, the bells of the Parish Church of Birkenhead (St. Mary's) were heard again on Saturday evening, November 9th, after they had been rededicated by the Lord Bishop of Chester (Dr. H. L. Paget). The old frame of wood having become very dilapidated and unsafe for ringing, these bells, of which there are six, have hung idly in the tower for years. In March of this year a subscription list was opened for the purpose of having the bells put into ringing condition, to which the townspeople, including the Corporation of the borough, most generously contributed, and the work of having a new iron frame constructed and the bells quarter-turned and tuned was entrusted to the well-known firm of Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, who were represented at the opening by Mr. J. P. Fidler. The rededication service, which was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. A. G. Williamson, M.A.), was attended by the Mayor and Mayoress of Birkenhead, the ex-Mayor and Mayoress, and other prominent citizens, the ex-Mayor reading the first lesson.

In his address after the rededication, the Bishop spoke of the readiness with which not only the members of the congregation but also the townspeople generally had contributed to the funds for re-hanging the bells. Without the bells they had been neglecting, to their peril, the beauty of public worship. Devout and regular attendance at divine service was one of God's own ways of helping them to hold together. The voice of the bells might be just the very voice calling them together in the performance of a common duty and a common privilege.

After the actual ceremony of rededication, and whilst the Bishop and clergy were returning from the belfry to the chancel, a well-struck course of Plain Bob Minor was rung, and, following the service, touches of Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor were rung, the ringers afterwards expressing satisfaction with the 'go' and tone of the bells, which will make a welcome addition to the 'rings' of bells in the town.

The inscriptions on the bells are:—

Treble.—William Dobson, Downham, Norfolk, Feoit 1821.

2nd.—God save the King. 1821.

3rd.—The first stone of this Church laid by Lloyd Lord Kenyon, July 26th, 1819, in the 59th of George III.

The Church was finished the second year of the reign of His Majesty King George III., 1821.

4th.—These six bells were cast by W. Dobson on the 26th of July, 1821.

5th.—Glory be to God on high. Peace on earth, goodwill towards men. Alleluia. John Taylor Oxford, Campanarius. George Gillibrand, Liverpool Church Bellhanger, 1837.

The Right Rev. John Sumner, D.D., Lord Bishop of Chester; Francis Richard Price, Esq., Lord of the Manor and Patron. The Rev. Andrew Knox, Minister.

Tenor.—Laudo Deum Verum, plebem voco, Congrego Clerum, defunctos plero, Festa decoro.

(Translation, I praise the true God, I call the people, I gather the clergy. I mourn the dead, I honour festivals.)
(Weight, 11 cwt. 9 lb.)

Total weight of whole peal, just over 40½ cwt.

MAYORAL SUNDAY, ARMISTICE AND TOC H RINGING.

On Sunday, November 10th, the ringers of St. Mary's, Birkenhead, and St. Peter's, Rock Ferry, joined forces so that, as the former church have not yet a competent band, the newly-restored bells should not be silent for 'Mayor's Sunday.' At St. Mary's Church, following the civic service, a 720 of Cambridge Surprise Minor was rung by: F. Banton 1, W. J. Battle 2, G. E. Edwards 3, J. Cooke 4, T. A. Rogers 5, H. Ludkin (conductor) 6. For evening service at the same church, a 720 of Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung by: W. Battle (first 720 in a Treble Bob method) 1, G. Battle 2, G. E. Edwards 3, F. Banton 4, W. J. Battle (conductor) 5, J. Cooke 6.

The services at St. Peter's Church were of a special nature having regard to the commemoration of the Armistice, and the bells were half-muffled for both morning and evening services. A 720 of Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung in the morning by: Miss D. I. Leatham 1, Miss M. Cooke 2, J. Gorst 3, J. Leslie 4, J. Hughes 5, W. Dean (conductor) 6, whilst the same band rang 720 of Oxford Treble Bob Minor prior to the evening service.

Following evensong, a special service for Toc H members and others was conducted by the Rev. A. Ball, M.A., prior to which 720 of Cambridge Surprise Minor, with the bells still half-muffled, was rung by: F. Banton 1, J. Gorst 2, J. Leslie 3, W. J. Battle 4, G. E. Edwards 5, J. Cooke (conductor) 6. After the service, which was most impressive and included the 'Ceremony of Light,' the bells were rung 'open' for a few minutes whilst the congregation dispersed.

Thus, between the two churches, five 720's were rung in one day, a 720 at St. Mary's in the morning being lost through the conductor missing a call.

A special word of thanks is here extended to all those who so kindly assisted the St. Mary's ringers, both for the Sunday service ringing and also at the rededication service the previous day.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

NEGLECT OF 30 YEARS REMEDIED.

Shalford Church is so close to Guildford that ringers have not thought it necessary to hold a meeting there for the last 30 years. This was remedied on Saturday, when the last district meeting of the Guildford District for the current year was held there. In spite of the wretched weather—rain, a heavy snowstorm and then more rain—over twenty ringers attended from Old Woking, Aldershot, Rudgwick, the Cathedral Church, Cranleigh, Worplesdon, West Clandon, S. Nicolas' and the local company. What the weather was really like may be gauged from the fact that no ladies were present. The bells were kept going in rounds and various methods from Doubles to London Surprise Minor throughout the afternoon and evening.

The Guild's form of service was conducted, and an interesting address given by the Vicar (the Rev. Hamilton Jackson). The organist had kindly arranged a choir. Afterwards the ringers did full justice to an ample tea, which was served in the Church Hut.

The Vicar was in the chair at the business meeting, when nominations for district officers for 1930 were received. No election will be necessary in the case of the Ringing Master, secretary and auditor. Although three names were proposed for the office of Ringing Master, namely, Mr. C. Hazelden, Mr. F. Bennett and Mr. A. H. Pulling, the two first-named gentlemen declined to accept the office, and Mr. Pulling will therefore be elected at the annual meeting. Mr. Hazelden withdraws from office after serving the district for many years as Ringing Master, first with the Winchester Diocesan Guild, and, since its formation, with the Guildford Diocesan Guild.

There are three candidates for the two places of ringing members on the Executive Committee, namely, Messrs. C. Hazelden, S. Radford and C. N. Burdock.

Mr. E. G. Martin, organist at Shalford, was elected an honorary member, and he drew the attention of the meeting to the fact that choir boys very often dropped out of Church life on leaving the choir, and pointed out that the ringers had an opportunity of keeping them interested in Church work by teaching them to ring.

In the discussion which followed, some members seemed of opinion that choir boys are the most difficult and hopeless of people to turn into ringers. Others thought that they are no worse than any other class of recruits, but the general opinion seemed to be that Mr. Martin's suggestion is excellent in theory, but difficulties, which only ringers can appreciate, arise in practice.

Admiral Walker was entrusted with the task of putting into words the thanks of the members to the Vicar, the organist, and to the ladies who helped with the tea.

One enthusiastic young ringer then started a lively discussion by seeking enlightenment as to the exact meaning of the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn's reference, in his address to the College Youths, to back strokes being considered by some ringers to be only an awkward method of getting the bell back into the handstroke position. After several members had expressed their views on the subject, the Vicar remarked that as neither he nor his churchwarden (Mr. Hayes) could understand what it was all about, the meeting had better end.

DEATH OF TWO NORTH NORFOLK RINGERS.

The already thin ranks in North Norfolk ringers have been recently depleted by the death of Messrs. Meager and Tennant, of West Runton and Cromer respectively.

Mr. Meager, who came to Norfolk from Northants, was a man of sterling character, genial and good-natured. Although not far advanced in change ringing, what he rang was rung well. He was a real help to ringing at Cromer, and was always punctual.

Mr. Tennant passed away at the age of 47 in the Norfolk and Norwich Hospital on the 8th inst. The funeral, which took place on Tuesday, November 12th, was followed early in the evening by the ringers' tribute, the bells being rung half-muffled by the following: S. Love, L. Risebrow, E. Wilson, C. Pooley, F. Pearce and T. James. W. Burgess and C. Silver also took part.

Mr. Tennant learnt to ring with his father at Shipdham, in the county, and, after serving an apprenticeship there, came to Cromer two years before the war. Here he found a company freshly started to learn ringing at the instigation of Mr. John A. Godfrey, and this company he joined. In 1919, Mr. Tennant undertook to train a band of ringers, and before long the bells were being rung regularly to Minor. He had rung six peals only for the Norwich Association, not being able to throw off business ties, but he was a devoted servant of the Church, and assisted not only as a ringer but as a member of the choir and the Church Council. Requiescat in pace. N. G.

THREE GENERATIONS.

Young 'Teddy' Barnett scored his first quarter-peal, and at the first attempt, on Sunday, when he rang the treble to 1,260 Grand-sire Triples for morning service at Crayford. It was called by his father, and 'grand-dad' rang the 2nd. Edwin iii. is only 11 years of age, but he is showing a keen aptitude for ringing. The touch was rung by: Edwin A. Barnett 1, Edwin Barnett, sen., 2, H. E. Audsley 3, J. Wheadon 4, E. Loy 5, W. Bond 6, Edwin Barnett, jun., 7, Albert Fleet (first quarter-peal and first attempt) 8.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

PRESENTATION TO FORMER SECRETARY.

Mr. Herbert Haigh, of Workop, recently retired from the office of hon. secretary of the North Notts Association, of which he was one of the founders in the year 1836. On Saturday week the members, in recognition of his long and loyal service, presented him with a wallet of Treasury notes. The presentation took place at a meeting held at Gamston, and members were present from Anston, Creswell, Collingham, East Markham, Edwinstowe, East Retford, West Retford, Gainsborough, Ordsall, Lincoln, Misterton, Sutton-on-Trent, Workop, and the local company. Several methods were rung on the bells of St. Peter's Church during the afternoon, and at 5.30 the members adjourned for tea, which was served in the schoolroom.

The Rector of Gamston (the Rev. E. A. Paxton) presided over the business meeting, and was supported by the Rev. R. F. Wilkinson, Rector of Ordsall; Mr. Herbert Smith, Gamston House; Mrs. Crawford and her daughter, Mrs. Rowsell, Laneham; with Mr. H. Haigh, Workop, treasurer; Mr. R. W. Stockdale, hon. secretary; and Mr. H. Revill, assistant hon. secretary.

Letters of apology for absence were received from the Rev. H. R. Peel, Cuckney, and the Rev. R. E. Rogerson, East Markham.

The Rector extended a hearty welcome to the association, and remarked that it was through the efforts of Mr. Haigh and the generosity of Mr. Smith that the bells of Gamston Church had been put into such good order. He spoke encouraging words to the members on their excellent work.

Mr. T. Hercy Denman, J.P., Netley, Southampton, a former ringer at East Retford Church, and the Rev. E. A. Paxton, Gamston, were elected vice-presidents; and Mrs. Rowson, Laneham, daughter of the late Mr. C. Crawford, East Markham, was elected an honorary life member. Her brother, Mr. A. Crawford, Ramp-ton, is an honorary life member.

Masters R. Smith and W. Brett, both of Ordsall, were elected members of the association.

It was decided to hold the next meeting of the association at Shireoaks on Saturday, January 18th, 1930.

A FOUNDER OF THE ASSOCIATION.

The presentation to Mr. Haigh then took place, and was the occasion of well deserved eulogiums of the work done in the cause of the association and of bellringing in general by the recipient, and was also a tribute to the respect and esteem in which he is held. The wallet was inscribed, 'H. Haigh, 1929, North Notts.'

Mr. Haigh was among the little band of enthusiasts in 1836 who met at the Priory Schools, Workop, with the late Vicar of Workop (the Rev. H. T. Slodden) and formed the association, with the first Bishop of Southwell as president and Mr. Slodden as secretary. Mr. Haigh, who succeeded the late Rev. B. Darley, Harthill, as secretary, was born at Ordsall, Retford, on September 22nd, 1866, and learnt to ring at the early age of ten years.

In 1890 Mr. Haigh played an important part in helping to get the East Retford bells rehung and augmented to a ring of ten, and the ringing chamber put in good order. He taught a new band of ringers soon after the Rev. G. J. A. d'Arcy settled at Workop, and was successful in having the bells rehung at the Priory Church, being responsible in collecting £66 towards the restoration of the peal. His motto is to practise on practice nights, and on Sunday to give the very best services in ringing for the honour and glory of God.

In addition to his love for the bells, he has many hobbies. In his younger days he was a keen cricketer, and played some good innings for local clubs. From 1890 to 1905 he collected almost £100 for St. Swithin's Cricket Club, for which the Rev. W. C. Ridding, then curate at East Retford, presented him with a beautiful smoking cabinet.

A letter was read from Mr. T. Hercy Denman enclosing a cheque for the presentation fund and expressing his appreciation of the valuable services rendered by Mr. Haigh for many years in the art of change ringing.

Mr. F. Hargreaves, Shireoaks, who was also unable to be present, referred to the ungrudging services rendered by Mr. Haigh to the Association, which was reflected in its financial position and the membership. Mr. Stockdale was a good successor to Mr. Haigh in the secretaryship.

MANY BELL RESTORATIONS.

The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson spoke of Mr. Haigh's long and energetic work for the association and of his keen interest in the art of bellringing. Mr. Haigh had travelled hundreds of miles to attend meetings of the association in town and country, and they highly appreciated his services. He (Mr. Wilkinson) became acquainted with Mr. Haigh when he was a curate at Mansfield, and he had read of Mr. Haigh's activities with great interest. Mr. Wilkinson referred to Mr. Smith's recent visit to Germany, and remarked that the 25-ton bell in Cologne Cathedral was made out of cannons which the Germans took from the French in the war of 1870, but, becoming short of

A PEAL AT SOUTHWELL CATHEDRAL.

AN UNUSUAL BELFRY.

It is interesting to note, as reported elsewhere, that after a lapse of 18 years the bells in the quaint and difficult belfry of Southwell Cathedral have had another peal recorded on them, this bringing the total to five in 208 years. The bells were cast and hung in the tower by Abram Rudhall in 1721, and it was not until 1894 that Mr. Francis E. Dawe conducted the first peal on them to the tune of Grandsire Triples in 3 hrs. 27 mins. In 1905 the Rev. F. E. Robinson conducted a peal of Stedman Triples in 3 hrs. 27 mins. Four years later, the first and only Surprise peal, 5,056 Superlative, was credited to that able conductor, Mr. William Keeble, in 3 hrs. 38 mins., and in 1911 the Rev. H. Law James conducted 5,024 Double Norwich in 3 hrs. 39 mins.

The ringing chamber consists only of a balcony projecting 4ft. from all sides of the tower, and forming an open space 16ft. square in the centre, with a 60ft. drop to the bottom of the church. As a means of safety a wooden barrier about 4ft. high is fixed in front of the ropes, and on top of this is fastened another 4ft. of strong mesh wire netting, through which the ringer is obliged to look to find his colleagues' ropes. This, together with the bells being hung the 'opposite way round,' makes it extremely difficult for visiting ringers, and often the tenor has been mistaken for the treble.

The present peal of Stedman Triples is the quickest yet rung in the tower, this, without doubt, being due to the excellent work of Messrs. Taylor and Co., who were entrusted with rehanging the bells recently. The band are indebted to Dr. Taylor, cousin to the Lord Bishop of Southwell, for his kind hospitality at the Bishop's Palace after the peal. Handbells later brought a pleasant evening to a close.

J. F. M.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

The attendance at the quarterly meeting of the I.O.W. District, held at Newchurch on Saturday last, was very small indeed, only eight ringing members (representatives from Brading, Godshill (2), Newport (3), Ryde and Whitwell) putting in an appearance. Nevertheless, good use was made of the six bells, and methods ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Double Court were rung. Tea was kindly provided and served to the ringers by the Vicar and Mrs. Bamford in the Parish Hall. The Rural Dean also presided at the business meeting, at which Mr. A. Jackson, of Ryde, was elected a ringing member.

It was resolved to hold a by-practice meeting at Carisbrooke on Saturday, January 4th, the annual meeting having already been fixed for Saturday, February 1st, at Newport.

The meeting concluded with a hearty vote of thanks to the Rural Dean and Mrs. Bamford for providing tea, also to the former for presiding. A course of Grandsire Caters was then rung on handbells by B. J. Snow, W. Upton, H. Barton, Dr. J. B. Williamson and H. Phillips, and further ringing was afterwards indulged in on the church bells.

ammunition in the Great War, the bell was taken down, broken up, and melted down. Since the war another bell, weighing 25 tons, had been made, and was now tolled every day. They all appreciated Mr. Smith's presence to make the presentation to Mr. Haigh. Mr. Smith took a great interest in church bells, and members were always glad to come to Gamston and ring the splendid peal in the church tower.

Mr. Smith, in making the presentation, said he had a sentimental regard for bells, and when he was abroad he missed the sound of the bells which was so familiar in England on Sunday mornings. It was an old custom in Belgium on the occasion of a public holiday for everybody to visit one of the cemeteries and churches to honour the dead, and he would like to see it practised in England. Mr. Smith observed that Mr. Haigh was primarily responsible for the renovation of the bells at Gamston, and he had much pleasure in handing him the wallet of Treasury notes as a token of appreciation and esteem for his services.

Mr. Haigh suitably replied, and gave a short history of the association. He observed that he had been associated with no fewer than sixteen restorations of bells in church towers in North Notts, including East Retford, Ordsall, East Markham, Misson, North Wheatley, Tuxford, Cuckney, Sutton-on-Trent and Gamston. He had often walked to Gainsborough and Lincoln to ring the bells.

Mr. Stenton proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Smith and to Mrs. Ashforth and her helpers for the excellent way in which they had catered for the tea. Mr. Stenton said he had been associated with Mr. Haigh in ringing for 40 years.

Mr. C. McGuinness, Lincoln, seconded.

The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. E. A. Paxton for presiding, and for the use of the bells, and the proceedings terminated.

He, however, desires to thank sincerely all those who have sent him such kindly messages.

'SILCHESTER.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—A peal of the method Mr. Bankes James calls Silchester was rung at St. John's, Waterloo Road, Lambeth, on October 23rd, 1912, under the name of Waterloo Reverse Bob. It was rung as a Major method with a bell in the hunt, but, of course, that does not alter the method. You will find it as No. 70 in the Collection of Major Methods. I should not call it an extension (or, at any rate, not the extension) of New Bob Doubles. New Bob Triples is given by Hubbard and as a Major method in the C.C. Collection.—Yours faithfully, J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

Mr. George Baker writes that 'Silchester' was published by him in 'Bell News' as long ago as June, 1900. It was published without a name.

Mr. Arthur Craven points out that if 'Silchester' had been a 'legitimate' method he could have published it as long ago as 1902.

DEATH OF CANON NOLLOTH.

The Rev. Canon Henry Edward Nolloth, for 41 years Vicar of Beverley Minster, has died at Oxford, where he had lived in retirement since 1921. He was 84 years of age. To Canon Nolloth, Beverley Minster owes its fine peal of bells, and he was largely responsible for the recasting of the bells at York Minster.

THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

A CRITIC CRITICISED.

With big black headlines, 'Bells that make our Sundays hideous and our nights intolerable,' 'Everybody's Weekly,' in its last issue, produced an article, by Francis E. Trotter, calculated to curdle the blood of all peace-loving people and rouse them to such a condition of active indignation that one might almost expect to hear that the population of these islands has risen as one man to fall upon the bells of our churches and smash them each into a thousand pieces. People who object to bells do sometimes write like that, and we sympathise with them—sympathise with them because they are usually the victims of unfortunate circumstances and a misplaced sense of discrimination and proportion. The trouble seems to be that Francis E. Trotter has made his habitation in a neighbourhood where church and other clocks—several, more or less, in number—strike the hours at varying times, and some of them the quarter-hours, through the night, while on Sundays solitary church bells clang out a rather monotonous call to worship. Consequently Francis E. Trotter—unlike the majority of people, who quickly get used to the striking of clocks at night and don't lose a wink of sleep about them, and who are generally within the hearing of only one church bell or one peal of bells which ring for service—lays about him with the big stick and belabours bells of every kind, and, by inference, the ringers of them. That is the fault with writers who have a bee in their bonnet: their condemnation is sweeping and they lose perspective.

But Francis E. Trotter disclaims any desire to speak irreverently or frivolously, and tells his readers that one of his loveliest memories of the war-time was when, in a train passing through North France, he heard the tiny bells of one village church and then another sound across the small rounded valleys. That is just the secret of it. It is the conditions that make all the difference. Probably those French bells were, as bells, as bad or worse than those English ones of his acquaintance, of which he now complains, and it is quite obvious that Francis E. Trotter has yet to hear a good modern peal of bells well rung. Nowhere in all France would he hear bells like them. It is unfortunate that he had not heard some of these glorious rings before he embarked upon his tirade, in an effort to influence public opinion.

And yet, for all his fuming, thoughtful readers will appreciate the exaggeration with which the article is filled, from this characteristic statement, that 'all the inability of the churches to agree with one another in a Christian way is symbolised in the clanging, arguing, bickering, contradicting, quarrelsome exhibition of bells jostling and pushing and shouting one another down.' Anyone acquainted with the facts knows that, with very few exceptions, bells are used only in the Established Church; that in extraordinarily few instances are churches so closely situated that their bells can be heard in annoying conflict; and that therefore this fulmination against church bells in general is nothing but a bit of empty 'flapdoodle.' If the clocks at night disturb him, he must be a sufferer from insomnia and should consult a doctor; if the bells on Sunday upset him, he should consult a parson—it may be that conscience is pricking him for a long-neglected summons. But the pity of it is that so many of the readers of his article will not realise this.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

EIGHT MEETINGS FOR ELY ARCHDEACONRY.

A district meeting for the Ely Archdeaconry was held at Trumpington on Saturday last. Although poorly attended, some good ringing took place. The service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. A. C. Moule), Mr. E. Haynes being the organist. Tea and business meeting followed at the Green Man, arranged by Miss K. Willers.

The secretary (Mr. F. Warrington) read the minutes of the last meeting, arising out of which it was decided the district committee meet, if possible, at the room of the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey (president of Cambridge University Guild), to arrange a programme for ensuing year. Mr. F. Hurry (Sawston) proposed, and Mr. A. E. Austin (Stapleford) seconded, there be eight meetings next year, and this was carried.

Three new members were enrolled: Eric Chapman (Trumpington), Cecil Austin (Stapleford), and Mansfield Ginn (Over). Mr. A. G. Rivers (Dry Drayton), supported by Mr. B. Buttress (Fulbourn) welcomed the new members, stating they were pleased to see the young blood enlisted in the association.

On the proposition of Mr. A. E. Austin, seconded by Mr. E. G. Hibbins (Cambridge), votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells and taking the service, to Mr. E. Haynes as organist, and Miss Willers for making arrangements. The Vicar replied, welcoming the association to Trumpington. He said he wished it to be known that Miss Willers, by her untiring efforts, had a good Sunday service ringing band. He also expressed thanks to Mr. A. Wilson on his help.

Mr. Hibbins congratulated Mr. Haynes on conducting the first peal on the bells, which was also his (Mr. Haynes') first peal.

Business over, the tower was again visited, methods rung being from Plain Bob to London Surprise, the meeting ending with a 720 of London Surprise (rung non-conducted) by: E. Haynes 1, Miss K. Willers 2, A. E. Austin 3, F. Warrington 4, C. W. Cook 5, E. G. Hibbins 6. Witness, A. J. Ginn.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.NEWBURY BRANCH GRANTS FOR RESTORATIONS.

The annual meeting of the Newbury Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at Newbury on Saturday, November 16th, when, despite a very wet day, the attendance was good.

The Rector (the Rev. L. R. Majendie) dedicated two peal boards commemorating peals rung in November, 1922, and August, 1929, after which a short touch of Grandsire Triples was rung by the members present, whose names appear on the boards, augmented by Miss V. Robinson, of Wokingham, and Mr. R. T. Hibbert, conducted by Mr. H. W. Curtis (captain of the tower).

Service was held in the Parish Church, conducted by the Rev. A. Browning (Rector of Peasemore), the address being given by the Master of the Guild (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), who preached from the text, 'Iron sharpeneth iron; so a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend' (Proverbs xxvii. 17). The Rev. L. R. Majendie presided at the organ.

Tea was served in the Parish Room by Mrs. H. W. Curtis, assisted by other ringers' wives, and 58 sat down to an excellent meal.

The business meeting followed, over which the chairman of the branch (the Rev. L. R. Majendie) presided, supported by the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Mr. R. T. Hibbert (Guild secretary), Mr. A. J. Wright (Guild treasurer), Rev. Hugh Bonsey, Rev. A. Browning, and the hon. branch secretary and treasurer (Mr. H. W. Curtis).

The Secretary reported a very successful year; the balance in 1928 was £13 12s. This year £13 3s. had been voted to three towers for restoration, leaving an actual balance in hand of £4 17s. 4d.

The sum of £2 was voted from the branch fund to the Berkshire Twelve-bell Fund.

The foremen of towers gave satisfactory reports.

The Master congratulated the Newbury Branch on its meeting and its officers. He was glad to hear reports from nearly every tower in the branch.

Mr. R. T. Hibbert also spoke on behalf of the St. Lawrence Twelve-bell Fund, and the chairman promised to send £1.

Mr. A. J. Wright commended the branch upon granting so much of the balance to bell restoration.

Three new honorary members were elected, and 15 new ringing members were also enrolled.

The next meeting was fixed for Chieveley in February, and the spring meeting for Thatcham in April.

The meeting closed with an expression of thanks to the Master, the Rector, and to the ladies for providing tea.

Further ringing then took place until 9 p.m.

THE LATE CANON NOLLOTH.HIS ASSOCIATION WITH BEVERLEY AND YORK MINSTER BELLS.

The death of Canon H. E. Nolloth, D.D., which we briefly recorded last week, removes a great lover of bells. Canon Nolloth was Vicar of Beverley Minster for 41 years, and during his incumbency did a great deal to beautify the building, and he added the glorious ring of bells for which the Minster is famous. He retired in 1921, but took an active part to getting York Minster bells and Great Peter recast.

During his long incumbency at Beverley, Canon Nolloth spent a considerable amount of his private means in beautifying the church to which he was greatly devoted. He put in the fine mosaics and figures in the niches in the altar screen, stained glass windows in the transept, and a new organ case, and also erected the iron fencing round the churchyard; the last-mentioned work alone cost over £3,000. Canon Nolloth was also responsible for the scheme he partly financed of filling in the niches in the exterior of the Minster with stone figures, and he and Mrs. Nolloth were generous benefactors in connection with the present peal of ten bells and clock which chimes on the peal and strikes on the great bell which hangs in the other tower.

When Canon Nolloth left Beverley he gave the property he held in the town to the Minster for the improvement of the living. For several years he was a member of the East Riding County Council. As a Canon of York Dr. Nolloth frequently preached in York Minster, and since he went to live at Oxford continued to take his appointed turn at the Minster.

Both York and Beverley owe much to Canon Nolloth in regard to their noble rings of bells, and a short time ago the York Minster ringers made a presentation to him in appreciation of the work he had done in connection with York Minster bells.

Canon Nolloth, who had been living at Oxford since 1921, had reached the advanced age of 84 years. Mrs. Nolloth survives her husband.

The funeral took place at Beverley on Thursday of last week.

FAREWELL TO A MISSIONARY.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Maximus rung at Ashton-under-Lyne on August Bank Holiday is not long to remain unchallenged as the greatest number of changes on twelve bells. On Saturday, December 14th, the Painswick Youths will attempt, at the famous Gloucestershire church, a peal of 16,565 Grandsire Cinques, starting at 8.30 a.m. Before the Ashton-under-Lyne record was set up, the longest length on twelve was the 13,001 Grandsire Cinques, rung at Painswick in 1920. The Painswick Youths, who have made records through many generations, are not readily to give up their pride of place.

William Doubleday Crofts, the famous Nottingham ringer, died one hundred and twenty years ago to-day, and was buried on December 2nd, 1808, when a 'mourning peal of 1,494 Grandsire Caters' was rung at St. Mary's.

The first peal of Oxford Treble Bob Royal on handbells was rung at Sheffield on December 3rd, 1811.

The whole peal of Tripples on Stedman's Principle, as composed by Mr. Thos. Edwards, was completely rung in this tower on Sunday, December 4th, 1803, in 2 hours and 50 minutes by the following College Youths. This appears on a peal board in St. Mary Abbot's tower, Kensington, and records the first peal of Stedman Triples rung by the Ancient Society.

The first Freemasons' peal was rung at St. Clement Danes, ten years ago next Wednesday.

It is always a pleasure to record a success which is the outcome of real perseverance. 'The first peal of Stedman by all the hand,' says a footnote to a peal at Bridstow, Herefordshire, and 'rung at the ninth attempt.' We all admire the skill of a band who can ring a peal in a new method at the first attempt, but a company which perseveres in the way these Herefordshire ringers have done, equally compels admiration.

DEFECTIVE REPORTS.

We are asked to state that the peal of Grandsire Triples, rung at All Hallows', Tottenham, on Saturday, November 16th, should have been credited to the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild.

A peal of Minor in seven methods was rung at North Crawley, Bucks, on Saturday, but the report has been sent in with the names of only five of the methods.

We constantly call attention to the need for care on the part of correspondents when sending in reports, a great many of which reach us lacking in some detail. In the case of peals, when the correspondent's address is enclosed, we take steps to get the report rectified.

In the case of touches sent for publication, numerous cases occur where the name of the church, or the name of one ringer, is missing, and for that reason we are unable to insert the report.

We would again ask correspondents carefully to check their reports before sending, to assure themselves that no essential detail is omitted. At the same time we would ask them to write names plainly. It is no use blaming the printer for errors when the writing is indecipherable.

A FAMOUS BRISTOL GUILD. THE ANTIEN SOCIETY OF ST. STEPHEN'S RINGERS.

Occasional references have been made in our columns to 'The Antient Society of St. Stephen's Ringers,' an old Bristol Guild, which is supposed to have been founded about the year 1620. There was a tradition that Queen Elizabeth visited Bristol in 1574 and expressed herself so pleased with St. Stephen's sweet bells of the Church of St. Stephen-the-Martyr, Bristol.

and graceful tower that she promised to give the ringers a charter. But the royal charter does not seem to have materialised. Perhaps Queen Elizabeth forgot about it. It has sometimes been stated that King James I. rectified Elizabeth's omission, but no charter has been found, nor any record of one, and there is no good reason to suppose there ever was one. Had a charter been issued by the Lord Chamberlain it would have recited the purposes for which the Guild was formed, given the names of those associated with its control, and probably the date of its foundation. The absence of such a document, and, indeed, of any other written record, prior to 1681, leaves the origin of the society entirely a matter of conjecture, and the numerous attempts made to ascertain its true beginnings have not been attended by much success.

Probably the Guild had a very informal beginning, though the Ordinances plainly indicate a religious foundation. The earliest of these Ordinances go no further back than 1620, but there is clear indication in them that the St. Stephen's Ringers were already an ancient body, and local historians have suggested that it was a pre-Reformation society for religious, benevolent and social purposes. That they were originally responsible for ringing St. Stephen's bells is obvious, but that active connection with the church seems long since to have ceased. Here are two interesting extracts from the Ordinances:—

'If anyone of the said Company after the time he shall come into the Church shall be so saucy as to take the rope to ring before the Master and the eldest of the said Company who have been Masters shall be settled where they please to ring, the party so offending shall pay for such his offence twopence, one penny thereof to the sexton and the other penny to the Company.'

'If any of the said Company shall be so rude as to run into the Belfry before he do kneel down and pray as every good Christian ought to do, he shall pay for first offence sixpence, and for the second he shall be cast out of the Company.'

The earliest known minute book of the society is of the year 1682, and the first known Master was Thomas Atkins, elected in 1681, and with only one short break in the first half of the eighteenth century the list of Masters is complete to the present day. At first all the members were actual ringers, but by the close of the seventeenth century non-ringers were admitted, and gradually the ringing element disappeared.

The Guild has had its ups and downs, and occasionally come near to extinction, but it never quite died, and in the mid-nineteenth century began its great work for the fabric and embellishment of the church of St. Stephen. So, while the members never rang, they rendered a great service to the church by assisting when needful in the upkeep of the building. Only a few years ago they spent about £2,000 on the renovation of the tower.

There is one other feature which they have steadfastly maintained, and that is their annual feast, and from the bills of fare that have come down to us, the members have generally managed 'to do themselves well.' The menu for one of the feasts in the forties of last century, for instance, contained three soups (including turtle), five kinds of fish, venison (in three forms), lamb, veal, calves' heads, beef, tongue and fowls, with ducklings, venison pastry, gosling, roast chicken and turkey as entrees, three puddings and dessert.

Even to-day the quality of the banquets is maintained. The members and their guests dined together at the Red Lodge, Bristol, on Monday week, under the chairmanship of the Master, Mr. Francis N. Cowlin. The diners successfully negotiated a recherché meal of ten courses, including the traditional turtle soup. There were eight toasts, including one 'To the memory of Good Queen Bess.' The old observance of the 'Procession of the Don' was honoured, the 'charter' was read, and the new Master (Capt. Mardon) installed. There was a distinguished company present, including the Lord Mayor and Sheriffs of Bristol, and Sir Ernest Charles (Master of the Merchant Venturers' Society), and during the evening an address and a silver salver were presented to Mr. H. E. Roslyn, in recognition of his services in compiling and publishing a history of the Antient Society.

The Church of St. Stephen-the-Martyr, Bristol, with which the Antient Society is associated, is conspicuous for the elegance and beauty of its tower. The church itself dates back to 1304, and was rebuilt between the years 1450 and 1490, the fretted tower, which is 133 feet high to the leads and 35 feet more to the tops of the pinnacles, being erected in 1469. The bells were originally a ring of six, recast, and made into eight by Rudhall, of Gloucester in 1759, and augmented to ten in 1891, the trebles being recast by Llewelyn and James, of Bristol, in 1906. The inscriptions on the bells are as follow:—

Treble.—A. B. James, 1890. C. R. Hancock, 1891. Llewelyn & James, Bristol, 1906.

2nd.—E. H. Stock, 1906. E. C. Barry, 1906. Llewelyn & James, Bristol, 1906.

3rd.—God Preserve Our Church And State. A. R., 1759.

4th.—Peace And Good Neighbourhood. A. R., 1759.

DEATH OF MRS. W. H. THOMASA WELL-KNOWN BRISTOL LADY RINGER.

It is with great regret that we announce the death, at the age of 46 years, of Mrs. William H. Thomas, wife of the popular president of the Bristol United Ringing Guilds.

Mrs. Thomas was ringing as recently as Armistice Day and Colston Day (November 13th). It is presumed that she contracted a chill on Armistice Day, and death resulted from pneumonia and septicæmia on Tuesday evening, November 19th. Mr. Thomas was away travelling at the time, and only reached home several hours after death had taken place.

Deceased had rung nine peals for the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, being three of Stedman Triples, four of Stedman Caters and the treble to Cambridge Surprise Major and Royal.

Mrs. Thomas leaves three sons, two of whom are ringers, Wilfred being attached to Oxford University Guild, and Stanley, a useful member of St. Stephen's Guild, Bristol.

Mrs. Thomas, like her husband, was very genial company, and the writer's mind is carried back to many happy ringing meetings which she attended during the past few months, one in particular across the stretch of Somerset from Pill to Clapton-in-Gordano.

Many happy memories of the deceased lady will be cherished, and ringers in the West, as well as many other parts of England, who knew her, will extend deepest sympathy to Mr. Thomas and his family in the great loss they have sustained.

At St. Stephen's Church she will be greatly missed, and the Bristol Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association has lost a valuable member, who regularly attended the meetings. E. G.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.
WEST NORFOLK BRANCH STARTED.

A general meeting of the newly-formed West Norfolk Branch of the Norwich Diocesan Association was held in the Archdeacon's Court in St. Nicholas' Church, King's Lynn, on Saturday, November 16th, for the election of officers and committee. The Rev. M. H. Knowles, Rector of St. Margaret with St. Nicholas, King's Lynn, presided. Supporting him were the Rev. R. L. B. Oliver, the Rev. A. N. Garrett, Messrs. A. L. Coleman (general secretary), W. J. Eldred (district secretary), H. R. Heyhoe and representatives from Dersingham, Gaywood, King's Lynn, Marham, Swaffham, etc.

The general secretary gave a short explanation on the object of the meeting, after which the members proceeded to elect the officers and committee.

The Rev. R. L. B. Oliver was elected chairman of the branch, Mr. William J. Eldred hon. secretary.

The Rev. R. L. B. Oliver moved, and Mr. James H. Raper seconded, that a Ringing Master be appointed, and, on the motion being put to the meeting, it was carried without opposition. Mr. W. J. Eldred was elected to the office, on the motion of Mr. James H. Raper, seconded by Mr. H. R. Heyhoe.

Messrs. Christopher Crome, Robert E. Greenacre, Tom Greenacre, William Hawes and James J. Raper were elected members of the committee.

On a motion moved by the general secretary, Mr. John Buckenham was elected a life member (non-resident) of the association, and Mr. John Curston a performing member.

It was resolved that a West Norfolk Branch meeting be held at Dersingham on Saturday, January 4th.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Rev. M. H. Knowles for presiding and for the use of the Archdeacon's Court, and also for the use of eight bells of St. Nicholas' Church.

The members adjourned to the belfry for ringing at St. Nicholas' and also on the ring of six bells at St. Faith's, Gaywood.

PRESENTATION TO ICKLETON'S VICAR.

On Monday evening, November 18th, a meeting of the Ickleton ringers was held to give a small present to the Vicar, the Rev. P. H. Cooke, who is retiring. The gift consisted of a silver inkstand in the shape of a bell.

Mr. P. Webb, on behalf of the ringers, said they were all very sorry they were losing the Vicar, as he had always backed the ringers up. He always praised the ringing when it was good, never found fault when it was bad, and always welcomed visiting ringers.

The Vicar, who was taken quite by surprise, said he found when he came to Ickleton, 15½ years ago, that he had a gallant band of churchworkers in the ringers, so he backed them up in their work. He was very pleased he had been able to get the bells restored and two added in his time. He thanked the ringers very much for the present, which he would treasure very much. It would remind him of the happy meetings, and he wished them every success in their ringing in the future.

SON'S TRIBUTE TO FATHER

Five sons paid a tribute to their departed father at St. Mary's Church, Devizes, when they took part in a 720 Bob Minor, rung with half-muffled bells, in memory of Mr. W. W. Swift, who died on November 19th. The ringers were: V. E. Swift 1, L. Swift 2, R. Swift 3, E. G. Swift 4, W. A. Swift (conductor) 5, F. Green 6.

'SILCHESTER'—AND THE TWO NEW METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Mr. James asks, 'What is it?' Personally, I think he ought to know. But if he has forgotten that the Central Council had a committee, named 'The Legitimate Methods Committee,' and that they have given a definition for each class of method, he should know that the one in question is not a legitimate one, inasmuch as the changes are not all Triple changes, as it has a double change when the treble lies her blows behind, and also when treble leads when a bob (or single) is called. Had this method conformed to rule, I could have published it as long ago as 1902.

Good Triples methods are not plentiful. Quite the best I have come across I append below:—

No. 1.	A DOUBLE METHOD.

These methods will be equally interesting to the ringer, conductor and composer. There are 70 changes in the plain course, 72 courses in the peal. The new feature of a Double Triple Method with dodging in 3-4 and 4-5 as the centre work alternately should commend them as a great novelty.—Yours truly,

ARTHUR CRAVEN.

RUNG AT BRISTOL.

Dear Sir,—New Doubles, extended to Triples, was rung for many months at St. James', Bristol, over three years ago. Extended to Caters, it was rung once or twice by the St. Stephen's Guild at St. Stephen's Church.—Yours faithfully,

E. GUISE.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.WESTERN DIVISION MEETING.

A very successful quarterly meeting of the Western Division was held at Chichester on Saturday, November 16th. Although it was a typical November day, about 40 ringers and friends attended from all quarters, the following towers being represented: Angmering, Brighton, Lewes, Heene, Shoreham, West Tarring, Rogate, Bosham, Hove, Petersfield and Chichester. Some good practice was held in the following methods: Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich, Cambridge Superlative and London Surprise Major, some of the young members ringing their first courses of Bob Major and Grandsire Triples.

A service was held in the Cathedral, and afterwards the company wended their way to Messrs. Vokes' tearooms, where a substantial tea was partaken of.

The usual business meeting followed, with Mr. James Blaker presiding. The following new members were elected: Bosham band, Rev. G. Street (hon. member), Messrs. G. Brown, W. A. Combes, G. T. Dewdney, J. M. Gilby, G. W. Marshall, J. B. New, J. G. Payne, A. J. Robinson and H. W. Stovold; Goring band, Rev. A. de H. Robinson (hon. member), Messrs. F. W. Hayler, T. A. Warren, W. and P. Smith, H. Weaver, S. Orchard and P. Baker. The election of Mr. G. Wilson, of Guildford, was confirmed.

After the usual votes of thanks, the members again made their way back to the campanile for further ringing.

BALL BEARINGS v. GUN-METAL BEARINGS.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In reply to the letter in 'The Ringing World' of November 22nd, concerning the above, I feel sure your correspondent will find ball bearings to be a great advantage over gun-metal bearings for a light peal, with a tenor of 12 cwt., providing they are fitted by a competent firm of bellhangers.—Yours, etc.,

J. H. B. HESSE.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.SOUTH-WESTERN DIVISION AT LEYTONSTONE.

In spite of the inclement weather, the meeting of the South-Western Division at Leytonstone was a successful one, between 40 and 50 members and friends putting in an appearance from Leyton, Walthamstow, West Ham, Loughton, Brentwood, Bentley, Wanstead, Woodford, Ealing, Barking, Romford, Camberwell, etc. The bells were going soon after 3 p.m. till 4.45 p.m., when those present attended the service conducted by the curate (the Rev. D. Beard) in the regrettable absence of the Vicar, Canon Brown, through illness. After service the members were entertained to a sumptuous tea kindly provided by the wives and daughters of members of the Leytonstone band.

Tea over, the business of the afternoon was proceeded with, and five new members elected. Messrs. A. Prior and E. J. Butler were unanimously re-elected District Master and secretary respectively for another year, and it was agreed to hold the next meeting at Loughton. The bells there have been rehung in ball bearings, etc., the work being almost completed.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the Vicar, Canon Brown, for allowing the use of the tower, bells and hall, the Rev. Douglas Beard for conducting the service and presiding at the tea and meeting, the organist for kindly attending and accompanying the hymns, etc., Miss Dawson for her splendidly rendered solo, Mr. Churchwarden Clark, and Messrs. Prior and Butler respectively for their services during the past year, and, last but not least, to the ladies who kindly provided the tea.

After the meeting the bells were again made use of till 8.30 p.m., and touches in various methods from Grandsire and Stedman Doubles to Spliced Surprise Minor were rung.

This is believed to be the first meeting of the association ever held at Leytonstone since the formation of the St. John's Society in 1883 by Mr. W. Miller and others, the former still being the respected Master of the band.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

A monthly meeting of the Nottingham District of the Midland Counties Association was held at Bulwell on Saturday, November 9th, when a goodly number of members attended. Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob, and Double Norwich Major were rung during the evening, also a short touch of Grandsire and Stedman Spliced.

There were members present from Warsop, Bottesford, Sutton-on-Trent and Nottingham, while the local ringers were there in force. Just after eight o'clock the bells were splendidly brought down in peal, and this brought to a close a very enjoyable meeting.

PEAK DISTRICT.

A very pleasant meeting of the Peak District was held at Baslow on Saturday, November 16th. A very wet afternoon adversely affected the attendance, but ringers were present from Baslow, Bakewell, Dore, Eyam, Hope and Sheffield Cathedral. The bells, a musical ring of six, were raised about 3 p.m. and were kept going until about eight o'clock, in Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, and Cambridge Surprise Minor. Several learners were given a good drilling in Plain Bob, and about an hour's real good practice in Cambridge was indulged in, it having been decided at the last meeting to make this the method for special attention. A good 720 of Oxford Treble Bob Minor was also brought round by: U. Dane (Eyam) 1, F. Sheldon (Baslow) 2, A. G. Wallace (Bakewell) 3, F. Barker (Eyam) 4, A. Wallace (Bakewell) (first 720 of Oxford) 5, Rev. W. P. Wright (Eyam) (conductor) 6.

A substantial tea was partaken of at the Rutland Arms, nearby, and was followed by a short business meeting, presided over by the Rev. W. P. Wright, of Eyam, at which the usual votes of thanks were passed.

It was decided to hold the first annual meeting of the district at Bakewell, about the third Saturday in January, and to make Double Norwich Major and Cambridge Minor the methods for special attention.—A little handbell ringing concluded the proceedings.

MAYOR 'PROCLAIMED.'

At Wrexham, North Wales, on Saturday, November 9th, in honour of the Mayor of the town being proclaimed, at the Parish Church, a quarter-peal of Stedman Caters (1,268 changes) in 57 mins.: E. Barber 1, F. Mitchell 2, J. Clutton 3, W. Jones 4, F. Evans 5, W. Cahall 6, A. Lea, jun. (conductor) 7, T. Cathall 8, A. Lea, sen., 9, A. C. Hodges 10. First quarter by ringers of 2 and 10.

CLERGY AND RINGERS.To the Editor.

Sir,—Will you, through your columns, kindly voice the cry of a somewhat neglected body of churchworkers, and submit its appeal both to the incumbents and fellow-workers everywhere, that on both sides an earnest effort be made to remedy a greatly regretted state of affairs?

Long and varied experience proves that bellringers note the absence of their Vicars from the ringing chambers, and we fear that in only too many instances they have accepted the situation and look for nothing else. There are, of course, exceptions, but the rule, alas, is only too general.

On the other hand, clergy and congregations note the absence of the ringers from the services to which they have just been calling the parishioners. Here, again, there are exceptions, but the practice is very common.

These topics were freely discussed at a recent meeting of bellringers, the outcome, Sir, being this request to voice the cry, hereby expressed:—

'Could not all incumbents make their bellringers as sacred a charge as their Sunday School teachers or any other body of workers?'

All present agreed that a warm welcome would be extended were incumbents regularly to visit their belfries, warmer still if they would set about acquiring the art of change ringing; and would, without doubt, find the ringers respond to the changed attitude. The incumbents on their part would soon be able to rejoice over ringers joining in the worship to which they call others.

Signed on behalf of the meeting,

J. R. KING,

Vicar of Measham.

JOHN LEACH,

Hon. Secretary,

Burlington-Trent District,

Midland Counties Association.

DEATH OF MR. J. H. GARTSIDE.EARLY LINK WITH LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The death of Mr. John Henry Gartside, of Chorley, Lancs., removes another of the few survivors of the first days of the Lancashire Association. Mr. Gartside died on November 18th at the age of 75 years, and by his passing Chorley loses one of its most respected inhabitants and the Church one of its most stalwart sons. He was a man of many activities, and in all he undertook he laboured unostentatiously but thoroughly. Born on January 8th, 1855, Mr. Gartside began work in his father's plumbing and painting business at eleven years of age, and after his father's death he carried on the business with Mr. S. J. Gartside. Familiarly known as 'John Henry,' the deceased devoted a great deal of time to religious and friendly society work.

His connection with the Chorley Parish Church and Sunday School extended over the long period of 66 years, commencing as a Sunday School scholar. He was for over 40 years a Sunday School teacher, and held the long-service bronze medal of the Manchester diocese. He was a member of the church choir for over 15 years, became a bellringer at the age of 15 years, and served 39 years in this capacity, he had been treasurer of the Parish Church Schools for 30 years, and for 25 successive years was re-elected people's warden, retiring in 1924. He had also been Sunday school librarian and superintendent for a short period.

Mr. Gartside was present at either the first or second meeting convened for the formation of the Lancashire Association, which was held at St. George's School, Chorley, in 1876. There are still one or two left who were present at that meeting, one being Mr. John Marsden, who still rings regularly at Chorley Parish Church. Mr. Gartside was the president of the Lancashire Six-Bell Association, which was dissolved just prior to the Great War, the members of the society being absorbed by the present Lancashire Association. Owing to his other church duties, Mr. Gartside had not been actively associated with ringing for a long number of years, but his place has been taken by his son, Mr. J. H. Gartside, jun., who is more widely known to present-day members of the Exercise as a good ringer, especially on the heavy end. He has recently rung the tenor to the two heaviest peals of Minor rung by the Lancashire Association.

Mr. Gartside, sen.'s, connection with friendly society work was almost lifelong, and in addition to being for over 58 years' standing an Oddfellow in which he served in all the lodge and district offices, his greatest interest was in the Loyal Order of Ancient Shepherds, in which he rose to the highest office of Chief Shepherd of the Order in 1906.

The funeral took place on Friday amid every manifestation of regret. In addition to the family mourners, there were a large number of representatives of local organisations, including the ringers, whose floral tribute was in the shape of a bell. The service was choral, and the bells were rung half-muffled.

On Sunday morning, as a last token of respect, before the morning service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung with the bells half-muffled: H. Fisher 1, H. Foster 2, T. Lofthouse 3, H. Southworth 4, J. H. Gartside, jun., 5, F. Rigby (conductor) 6, W. Blackledge 7, G. Hewitt 8.

DEATH OF MR. CHARLES STANBRIDGE, BIRMINGHAM.ANOTHER LINK WITH HENRY JOHNSON BROKEN.

It is with deep regret that we record the death of Mr. Charles Stanbridge, who passed away on Monday, November 18th, at the advanced age of 81 years.

Born at Hertford, he came to Birmingham about 55 years ago, and attached himself to Aston tower, and was one of the founders of the Holt Society, which later became merged in the St. Martin's Guild. He was an accomplished ringer and good striker, and a most reliable man in a peal, being a contemporary of such ringers as Henry Johnson, Harry Bustable, Samuel Reeves, William Kent, etc.

He rang many peals in various methods, his most notable one being a long peal of Grandsire Cinques, 9,020 changes, rung in St. Martin's tower on March 23rd, 1887, to commemorate the visit of Queen Victoria to Birmingham to lay the foundation stone of the Victoria Law Courts. He is the last of the band who stood in that peal.

He had a most lovable disposition, and was always willing to do anyone a good turn, being in the best sense of the term one of nature's gentlemen.

He was laid to rest on Saturday last, and St. Martin's Guild was represented by several members.

A muffled peal of Stedman Cinques will be attempted at St. Martin's on Tuesday, December 3rd, in his memory.

CHINGFORD BELLS.TO RETURN TO OLD HOME.

A new ring of six bells is to be placed in the tower at the Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Chingford Green, Essex, to replace the three ancient bells, brought from the old church at Chingford Mount in 1844, and which are to be returned to their original home.

The later church was built owing to the disrepair of the old edifice and the growth of a new residential district at the Green. Pews and other articles were moved, as well as the bells, which are centuries old. Other monuments were moved when SS. Peter and Paul Church was enlarged in 1903.

In 1904 the roof of the old church fell in. A new roof to the chancel was put in at the expense of Miss Boothby Heathcote, a descendant of some of the Rectors of the parish and patrons of the living, and Miss Heathcote recently gave £1,000 towards a fund to restore the church.

The work of restoration is now proceeding, and when it is sufficiently advanced regular services will be resumed in the church. Many new houses have been built on the sites of the old village dwellings which surround the place.

BEGINNING YOUNG.

A number of young folk have been learning to ring under Mr. W. Denyer at Aldershot Parish Church, and two more girls have now scored their first quarter-peal. This was Grandsire Triples rung on Sunday for evening service, in 47 mins.: *Miss Betty Stewart (age 13) 1, C. W. Denyer (conductor) 2, *Miss Edna Southby (age 13) 3, Miss A. Fisher 4, W. Denyer 5, P. L. Eldridge 6, Lance-Serjt. E. J. Bragg (Grenadier Guards) 7, *Guardman F. Townsend (Coldstream Guards) 8. * First quarter-peal and rung at first attempt.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

Despite the unfavourable weather, eight different towers were represented at Clewer on Saturday last, when a meeting of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch was held. Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, and Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor were rung, the practice being quite a successful one. It is hoped that the next meeting will be on December 21st.

SOUTHGATE RINGER'S WEDDING.

An interesting event took place at Christ Church, Southgate, recently, when Mr. Donald Pink, one of the local ringers, was married to Miss Dorothy Crane, a Sunday School teacher, the only daughter of Mr. A. G. Crane, who is also a local ringer.

The choral wedding service was conducted by the Rev. C. F. Peplow, M.A., in the presence of over 80 guests. As the happy couple left the church, in addition to being besprinkled by copious showers of confetti, they were greeted by a merry peal on the bells. The reception was held at the Village Hall, and speeches appropriate to the occasion were made. Later the happy couple left for Lynton, Devonshire, where the honeymoon is being spent. In the evening, in honour of the event, the Southgate ringers, with the assistance of one of the bride's uncles, who resides at Bletchley, Bucks, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes) was rung in 47 minutes: Arthur Crane 1, A. R. Glasscock 2, G. Plater 3, D. Overington 4, J. E. Miller 5, H. Miller 6, W. Pickworth 7, J. Armstrong (conductor) 8. Immediately afterwards the band, by invitation, adjourned to the residence of the bride's parents, where an excellent supper awaited them, to which ample justice was done, during which the health and prosperity of the newly-married couple was toasted and the thanks of the ringers expressed to the host and hostess for their kind hospitality.

Fortunately, the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Pink will be in Southgate, and the local society will thus retain the services of Mr. Pink.

YATELEY RINGER WEDDED.

On Thursday, November 14th, the marriage of Major J. G. Stilwell, of Yateley, Hants, to Miss C. Woods, took place at Freshwater, Isle of Wight. At noon, in honour of the event, as is usual at Yateley, the whole resident band assembled in the belfry and wished the newly-married couple every happiness, whilst a section, under the conductorship of Mr. G. Butler, rang a splendid touch of Grandsire Triples.

Major Stilwell has for some time taken a great interest in ringing, and, being a practical ringer, the Yateley band are pleased to know he will reside at Yateley with his wife, who, we understand, has lately been interested in the restoration and rehanging of bells at Beutworth, Hants. The best wishes for their future will, we feel sure, be re-echoed by the whole of the Basingstoke District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild.

THE 18 1/2 TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

CLERGY AND RINGERS.

The appeal, which appeared in our last issue, for a closer interest in their ringers on the part of the clergy, particularly, and their fellow churchworkers, generally, is one which, although often made in various quarters, will stand reiteration. Big advances in this direction have been made during the present century, but there is, frankly, still much to be desired. There was a time, as we all know, when, in the vast majority of parishes, the tower was a place entirely apart from the church, and the ringers were looked upon as a body of men whose acquaintance was not to be encouraged by 'respectable' people. That state of things has happily gone for ever, thanks in the first place to the reforming zeal of the various associations and guilds, which have placed ringing on a higher plane and brought into the belfries a totally different type of ringer. Many of the clergy thankfully recognise this, and many others, when occasion arises, do lip service to the labours of the ringers. But a large number of clergy still take no interest, either in ringing, as one of the arts of the church, or in ringers as churchworkers and part of the church organisation. There is probably no section of church life in which the clergy as a whole take so little personal interest as in the bell ringers and anything which can be done to improve matters in this direction is well worth the effort. It is quite true that if the ringers saw more of the parsons in the belfry, the parsons would see more of the ringers in the church, and this point is well emphasized in the appeal to which we have referred.

Good in every direction would accrue from a more sympathetic relationship between ringers and clergy. Fortunately the persistent activities of our associations have brought about this better understanding in numerous instances, but much remains to be done. There are churches where the ringers seem to be merely 'tolerated' by the incumbent; there are others where, if the parson realises their existence, he entirely ignores them, except in the exercise of his veto to stop peal ringing. We do not say that there are never faults on the other side. There constantly are; but we do say that it is the duty of the incumbent to show the same consideration for and the same interest in the work of the ringers as he displays in that of any other body of workers. The interest of the clergy in the activities of the ringers helps to maintain the company at full strength, by making the ringers realise that their services are really appreciated. This, in turn, ensures the regular ringing of the bells Sunday by Sunday, and also secures the maintenance of the bells in an efficient state. And not only is an incumbent's interest in the ringers repaid in the directions thus indicated. If one of his chief aims is to see the ringers as often in the pews as at the rope-ends, he will find there is no surer way of achieving this than by the encouragement which his frequent presence in the belfry would give.

AMERICAN NEWSPAPER AND ENGLISH BELLS.SUGGESTED PURCHASE WHERE THERE ARE NO RINGERS.

The 'S.O.S.' which went out from Halesworth, Suffolk, for ringers has been 'picked up' in all parts of the world. Many of the English newspapers copied it, and it also found its way into American journals. Here is what a Baltimore newspaper had to say about it under the heading of 'Old England's Bells'—and if any English parish cannot find ringers, the opportunity apparently offers to sell the bells to the Americans, who are out to buy anything with a real old English flavour about it:—

'A brief dispatch from Halesworth, a little village deep in Suffolk, tells of the lack of interest among the young Halesworthians in the time-honoured art of bellringing. The ten ringers now practising total more than 700 years in age, and they have no successors in sight. That is to say, one of England's finest traditions is in danger of decay.

'The crisis, if it be one, does not affect America directly. Belgian carillons, operated from a keyboard by a single player, are becoming popular in this country, but the English bell ringing by bands of from five to ten men is not known. To its advocates this is sad, for they claim a finer performance by hand than is possible through the use of any machinery. The pure tone is heard, so they say, when the clapper and bell swing together by gravity. And certainly there is a spirit of good fellowship in a band of bellringers which a carillon operator cannot develop in himself. To be sure, bell ringing in England at one time served as an adjunct of the nearest pothouse, but in recent years it has regained its higher standing, and the alien who hears a "Treble Bob Major" on a fine Sunday morning has gained a memory which even his doubt about the name cannot weaken. Or a "plain course" of "Grandsire Triples"—the nomenclature is charmingly antique and correspondingly obscure to the uninitiated.

'Can an efficient America take up this highly technical art? It is possible. If bell ringing is really lapsing in England, the bells will remain and can perhaps be bought for the edification of the New World. In fact, this suggestion should be made seriously to Halesworth. If, after that, they cannot get volunteers to help out their aged ringers, they have no right to the bells.'

EALING, MIDDLESEX.—On Saturday, November 30th, for Confirmation service, at Christ Church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) in 45 mins.: L. H. Wilson (first quarter-peal) 1, H. MUFFLED BELLS.

On Saturday last a half-muffled quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) was rung on the bells of St. George's, Doncaster, as a last tribute to the memory of the late Dr. Henry Joy Clarke, M.D., J.P., some time churchwarden at St. George's, who was laid to rest on the previous Tuesday: H. Bradley (Campsall) (first quarter-peal) 1, G. Holmes 2, P. C. Newsome 3, J. Thorley (Thorne) 4, W. Lloyd 5, R. Thompson 6, H. Walker (Lincoln Cathedral) (conductor) 7, H. Baldwin 8.

At All Saints' Church, Ryde, Isle of Wight, on Sunday, November 10th, prior to evensong, a half-muffled quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) was rung in 50 mins. by: A. Jackson (first quarter-peal) 1, H. Dowden 2, A. R. Ward (conductor) 3, A. Bradley 4, P. Long 5, B. J. Snow 6, E. Hatcher 7, W. Kemp 8. This quarter-peal was rung as a last token of respect to the late Mr. Charles Greaves Vincent, aged 91, who was elected honorary treasurer of the ringers in 1886, when the bells were dedicated, and held this office continuously for many years, when, owing to his ripe age, his son, Major C. W. Vincent, took over the duties of treasurer.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD.

A very enjoyable meeting of the Peterborough Branch of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild was held at Deeping St. James on Saturday, November 2nd, and was well attended by members and ringing friends from Northampton, Peterborough, Market Deeping, West Deeping, Deeping St. Nicholas, Spalding, Bourne, Edmonthorpe, Wymondham and the local band. Ringing commenced about 3 p.m. on this fine peal of bells, and various methods were rung prior to the Guild service, which was taken by the Vicar (the Rev. Pain).

An excellent tea was provided by Mrs. Patworth, 15' sitting down. Afterwards the Master of the Guild (Mr. F. Wilford) presided over the short business meeting.

It was left to the secretary to try and arrange a joint meeting with the Ely Diocesan Association at March early in the new year.

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and also to the organist for presiding at the organ.

The methods rung during the afternoon and evening were Plain Bob, Court Bob, Double Oxford, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge, London, Primrose and Ipswich Surprise.

'SEVEN DIFFERENT 720's.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Our band is just getting well enough advanced to ring peals on six bells. Will some reader of your paper kindly tell us what exactly is 'seven different 720's'? Does it mean that there must be seven different compositions, or could the same composition be used, making a different bell the observation, which would thus produce the 720 changes in a different order?

Also, is it permissible to ring six 720's of Bob Minor and 720 of Grandsire Doubles and call it a peal? Recently a peal was rung at Brierley Hill, which was a mixture of Bob Major and Grandsire Triples. Is it permissible to do the same thing on six bells? Our band would be interested to know.—Yours, etc.,

TYRO.

ST. MARY'S, DOVER.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I wonder whether any of your readers can furnish information regarding one of the earliest peals which the College Youths rang, and some books state took place, at St. Mary's Church, Dover, the ringers afterwards crossing the Channel to France. I have tried to find out locally of any history attached to the above, but can trace nothing. I believe 'Campanologia' has some reference to it, but perhaps some of our research ringers can enlighten me, if any record is obtainable, as to the peal and names of the ringers who took part.—Yours faithfully,

CHARLES TURNER,
Captain, St. Mary's Ringers.

DOUBLE TRIPLES METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I congratulate Mr. A. Craven on his two double methods of Triples, both of which, so far as I know, are original, and if peals can be produced in them should prove very interesting (as Mr. Craven says) to ringers, conductors, and composers.—Yours faithfully,

GEORGE BAKER.

P.S.—When 'Silchester' (?) was published with two other similar methods in the 'Bell News' in June, 1900, I gave them only as examples, in illustration of the old saw: 'What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.'

PEAL TABLET UNVEILED AT BISHOP'S STORTFORD.

A very pleasing function took place at Bishop's Stortford on Thursday, November 28th, when a tablet was unveiled in the tower by the Vicar (Rev. W. McCarthy). The tablet records the peal of Grandsire Triples rung by the local band, the report of which was published in 'The Ringing World' of October 25th. The proceedings opened with a short prayer, after which the Vicar gave a brief address and expressed the pleasure it gave him to unveil the tablet. The Master (Mr. F. Bird) thanked the Vicar for the interest he took in the tower, and hoped they would soon be able to record a local peal of Stedman.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Chesterfield District of the M.C.A. was held at the Parish Church at Alfreton on Saturday, November 16th, and was attended by ringers from Creswell, Morton, North Wingfield, St. Mary's, Notts, Sutton, Swanwick, Staveley, Warsop and members of the local company.

The bells were kept going until eight o'clock, good practice being obtained in Superlative, Cambridge, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, Bob Major, Stedman Triples and Grandsire Triples.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Norton on Saturday, December 21st, thus accepting the invitation from the Norton company.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

At Howden, Yorks, a man has been committed for trial, charged, on his own confession, with having set fire to the church. The fire destroyed the magnificent tower and bells, as well as the chancel, and damage estimated at over £10,000 was done.

The first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major rung by the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild at Portsmouth was rung on Saturday last, and the band wish to associate with it the name of Mr. F. A. Burnett, who, although taking part in the practices, was unable, through indisposition, to take part in the peal.

It was on this day in the year 1731 that a peal of Stedman Triples was rung at St. Michael at Coslany, Norwich, by the rivals of the St. Peter Mancroft company, who had rung the first peal in the method about six weeks earlier. There was a great deal of local feeling about these performances, and it is evident that the Coslany ringers doubted the truth of the Mancroft peal.

The tablet in St. Michael's belfry states: 'In this steeple, on the sixth of December, 1731, was Rung that most Incomparable as well as Intricate Peal of Stedman Triples, which had been long ye Study of many well skilled in the Art of Ringing, but without success, till Edward Crane, one of the company, with much pains and application brought it to perfection with two Doubles. This peal contains 5,040 Triple changes, 2 Doubles only excepted, and is allowed by all Judges of the Art to be the most Ingenious Peal that till now has been composed.'

On December 8th, 1883, the 'five ones' of Stedman Caters (11,111 changes) was rung at Fulham by the College Youths. Youth as well as experience took part in that peal of 47 years ago, for there are still several of that band alive, including Frank Dawe, Jack Rowbotham, Challis Winney and Walter Prime. The two latter regularly take their place at St. Paul's Cathedral every Sunday, and Walter Prime, who rang the tenor at Fulham, is still to be seen on the tenor box at St. Paul's.

By contrast, it was only two years earlier, viz., on December 10th, 1881, that the first peal was rung at St. Paul's Cathedral, yet all the 13 men who took part in that memorable performance have gone from us. Jim Pettit (who called both), George Mash, Ted Horrex and Jack Hayes took part in the two peals.

Painswick, which is shortly to be the scene of another record-breaking peal attempt, held the Treble Bob Maximus record for nearly eighty years with a peal of 10,224 rung on December 9th, 1833.

In the paragraph which we printed in our issue of November 22nd with regard to peals rung at Southwell Cathedral, one peal was omitted. Mr. E. H. Lewis writes that the Cambridge University Guild rang a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major there in 5 hrs. 30 mins. on August 31st, 1906, conducted by H. S. T. Richardson (now the Rev.).

The peal of Spliced Oxford and Kent Treble Bob at Newcastle-on-Tyne, and recorded last week, was rung on Wednesday, November 20th, not Tuesday, the 19th, as reported.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

NORTH-WESTERN DISTRICT AT BANSTEAD.

A very pleasant meeting of the North-Western District was held at Banstead on Saturday, when, despite the unsettled weather, thirty members and friends attended during the afternoon and evening from Banstead, Beddington, Croydon (St. John's and St. Peter's), Epsom, London, Merstham, Mitcham, Rickmansworth, Wandsworth and Watford. Ringing commenced at 4 o'clock, and good use was made of the bells until service time. Service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. Canon F. N. Skene). Tea followed in the View Tea Rooms, where 26 sat down to a very enjoyable meal. The Vicar presided at the business meeting after tea, supported by the Master of the Association (Mr. D. K. C. Birt) and the District Master (Mr. A. W. Clarke).

The election of Mr. A. J. Smith, of Leatherhead, previous to a peal attempt was ratified.

It was decided if Camberwell bells were not available for the district annual meeting that the secretary try and arrange it at Kingston on the fourth Saturday in January if possible.

BANSTEAD CHURCH.

A very hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for conducting the service, Mr. F. N. Pitstow for kindly playing the organ, and Mr. F. G. Woodiss for the help he gave in arranging the meeting.

The Vicar suitably replied, saying how pleased he would be to welcome the association at Banstead at any time. The tower was again visited, and ringing continued until 7.30, when to everybody's regret ringing had to cease owing to a concert in the Parish Room. Methods practised during the meeting ranged from Grandsire Triples to Bristol Surprise Major.

Banstead bells are a ring of eight recast, from a mixed octave, by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston in 1921, and they are rung from the ground floor. The former trebles were by Warner in 1892, but the others were ancient castings, one of them, the 6th, having come from the Whitechapel Foundry in 1585, and being the work of Mot. It was inscribed 'Robertus Mot me fecit, 1585.' The other bells were as follow: 3rd, B.E., Gloria Deo in Excelsis, 1638 (cast by Eldridge); 4th, William Carter made me, 1613; 5th, Thomas Mears, Fecit 1791; 7th, Lester and Pack, of London, fecit, 1756; tenor, William Eldridge made mee, 1661, I.L., S.L., Churchwardens. There were 'V belles in the steeple' as long ago as Edward VI.'s reign.

SURPRISE MAXIMUS.

IPSWICH BAND RING YET ANOTHER 'FIRST.'

The peal of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus rung at Ipswich on November 30th is the first peal of Maximus ever rung in this method. The figures were published by Mr. Arthur Craven in 'The Ringing World.' It is very musical, as the bells work in their correct coursing order, both before and behind, with very little exception.

St. Mary-le-Tower Society thank a well-known East Anglian ringer, now resident in London, for bringing the method to their notice. They have now rung peals in ten different Maximus methods since 1921.

It is worthy of note that the first peals of the only four Surprise Maximus methods practised have been rung at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, viz.:—

August 15th, 1908: Cambridge Surprise Maximus.
April 30th, 1927: Superlative Surprise Maximus.
December 8th, 1928: New Cambridge Surprise Maximus.
November 30th, 1929: Yorkshire Surprise Maximus.

THE BELLS IN NORWICH DIOCESE.

MANY UNRINGABLE PEALS.

In an article which he has contributed to the 'Norwich Diocesan Gazette,' Mr. Arthur L. Coleman, hon. secretary of the Norwich Diocesan Association, has taken the opportunity of explaining the decentralisation scheme which the association has just put into operation, and points out that the object is to strengthen the work of the organisation in the diocese by getting into closer touch with the clergy and the young men of the parishes as recruits for the belfries.

Young ringers, he says, are much needed at the present time for the regular ringing of our bells for Sunday services. There are in the diocese eighty-eight rings of five bells, seventy-two rings of six bells, thirty-five rings of eight bells, three rings of ten bells, and two rings of twelve bells, making a total of 200 rings, which would require 1,206 ringers. It is a very deplorable fact that a very large percentage of those rings of bells are unringable. Even such being the case there is a great shortage of ringers. Although our total membership of all grades numbers 806, less than half that number reside in Norfolk. Of recent years the membership of the clergy has greatly fallen off, not one-third of what it once was; but for the good feeling and help received from the clergy the association could not exist, and without ringers our church bells could not be rung to summon the people to divine worship.

The relationship between clergy and ringers is a vital and mutual one; they stand and fall together, in this particular branch of Church work. On the matter of so many unringable peals of bells in the diocese, it is too often assumed that church bells, once hung, require little attention. Up in the windy heights of towers they hang, unvisited by Church authorities and Church officials, who care little to keep such valuable property in repair and in good order for ringing. Too often our bells and belfries are found to be the dirtiest place in our parishes—a veritable disgrace that it should be so in a consecrated portion of the church. It would be an excellent way for Archdeacons and Rural Deans at their periodic visitations to inspect the bells and belfries, and to see that the clergy and churchwardens at least keep them in a presentable state.

One of the surest safeguards for keeping a ring of bells in permanent repair is to organise a good company of change ringers, who will in their own interest and love for the bells look after them, and with the co-operation of the clergy and churchwardens meet the little expenses yearly needed to keep a peal of bells in excellent condition for long periods. It would be no difficult matter for a secretary of a diocesan or county association to state cases of rings of bells, restored, say, fifty years ago—one with a company of change ringers, the other without any ringers. In the former case the ring of bells would be found in as good a state of repair as when restored—the latter case, with never a band of ringers to see after the bells and so left unattended, unvisited by the Church authorities, and thus left for fifty years, would become unringable and in need of restoration at heavy expense to put them in ringable order.

We would commend the work of the association to the clergy and churchwardens of the diocese, and in doing so appeal for their co-operation in manning our belfries with young ringers and for the care of our beautiful bells. To many of the clergy we owe a deep debt of gratitude, who have always on every occasion at our meetings so kindly granted us the use of their bells and, whenever possible, co-operated with us by being present at the association meetings.

Finally, we would bring before the clergy and laity that change ringing is an art and a science well worthy of their attention and interest.

NEW DOUBLES EXTENSION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Guise is wrong. The method has never been rung at St. Stephen's by the St. Stephen's Guild.—Yours truly,

W. A. CAVE.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION GLOUCESTER BRANCH AFFAIRS.

The annual meeting of the Gloucester Branch was held on Saturday, November 16th, at St. Mary de Lode, 24 members attending, and visitors from Fairford and Ross being also present. Service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. W. G. Pritchard), assisted by the Rev. Wyndham Jones and Mr. G. Jackson (Vicar's warden), Miss Workman presiding at the organ. After service, tea was partaken of in the parish schoolroom. The usual business meeting followed, Mr. Geo. Jackson presiding in the absence of the Vicar, who had another engagement, and the branch chairman (Rev. H. G. Hadow), who also was otherwise engaged.

Mr. W. H. Harris (branch secretary) presented his report, which showed that during the past year nine meetings had been held, with a total attendance of 154 members, an average of 17 per meeting. The branch had now 110 ringing members against 121 last year, owing to the disbanding of ringers at Sandhurst and Upton St. Leonard's, where it is hoped to make an improvement during the next year. There were 27 hon. members, as against 24 last year, making a net decrease of eight in total membership. Thanks were extended to the incumbents in the district for the courtesy shown to the members when visiting their towers.

Mr. J. Austin was unanimously elected branch chairman for the ensuing year, and Mr. W. H. Harris hon. branch secretary, with Mr. T. Baldwin as representative on Management Committee. Barnwood was selected as the next place of meeting, the secretary to fix the date.

Discussion took place on a proposal to put a small tablet in St. Mary's Church, Hartpury, to the memory of the late Mr. C. H. Austin, as this was the last peal of bells which he hung in the county. It was left to Mr. G. L. Brunson to get an estimate to present at the next meeting.

The Secretary informed the members that at the last two meetings held at Hartpury and Arlingham £3 6s. 6d. had been collected for the Ruarden Church bell fund.

Messrs. Austin, Brunson and Romane were appointed, with the branch secretary, as a small committee to arrange the annual dinner of the branch, with Mr. Baldwin as a co-opted member. The date of the dinner will be published in 'The Ringing World.'

Mr. J. Austin proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Geo. Jackson for presiding at the meeting, to the Rev. W. G. Pritchard for the use of the bells, also for his excellent address, to Miss Workman, the organist, and to Miss E. Stephens and other ladies who looked after the wants of the members at the tea tables.—This was seconded by Mr. J. Williams and carried with applause.

Mr. Jackson, in replying, said he was always glad, as churchwarden of the parish, to welcome the members of the association to St. Mary de Lode, and he would convey the vote of thanks to the Vicar. The Chairman said he was sure all present were extremely sorry to hear of the death of Miss Gardner, who had done the catering for tea for the members during the past four years that the annual meeting had been held at St. Mary's. He would, therefore, ask the branch secretary to write a letter of condolence to Mr. Gardner (the deceased lady's brother), and also ask the members to stand in silence as a mark of respect to the deceased.

Miss Workman also responded to the vote of thanks, and informed the members she would be quite willing to offer her services as a pianist at their annual dinner.—This offer was much appreciated by the members.

There being no other business, touches of Triples on handbells, and tunes by ex-Sergt. Williams and Mr. J. Austin brought a very pleasant and happy meeting to an end.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. SOUTH NORFOLK BRANCH INAUGURATED.

A general meeting of the South Norfolk Branch of the association, the third of a series under the new constitution, was, by kind permission of the Rector (the Rev. Ralph L. Whythead) held in the vestry of the Parish Church of St. Mary, Diss, on Saturday, November 23rd, for the election of officers and committee. The Rector presided, and supporting him were Mr. Arthur L. Coleman (general secretary and treasurer), Mr. William Ireland (district secretary for Diss), and members from Diss, Dickleburgh, Garboldisham, North Lopham, Palgrave, Wymondham, etc.

The General Secretary, in his introductory remarks, said the decentralising scheme by the formation of four branches was a move in the right direction. It had one very great advantage, that it would give to many more members an opportunity for active work on the committee of their respective branches, with full liberty to carry on the business of their branches for the welfare of the association. It was for the members to proceed to elect chairman, secretary, and committee for the South Norfolk Branch of the association.

The Rev. Ralph L. Whythead was elected chairman, Mr. F. Nolan Golden hon. secretary, Messrs. Eric George Bennett, Frederick R. Borrett, Charles F. Goodman, Clement J. More, and William Steggells, members of the committee.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Rev. Ralph L. Whythead for the use of the vestry, and also for the use of the bells. The Rector suitably replied.

The members then adjourned to the belfry for ringing.

BALL BEARINGS FOR BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In reply to 'Northern President's' query re bearings for church bells, I am of firm opinion that ball races of the self-aligning radial type, with two rows of balls, of proper diameters to deal with the load, are far superior to plain bearings.

The use of ball bearings is rapidly growing to nearly every class of machinery, and their durability has been put to severe tests. For church bell work, however, they seem to be specially suited.

A few points in favour may be acceptable. In a swinging bell the load is without shock, the difficulties of lubrication are entirely overcome, as when once packed with grease the bearing needs no attention for years, the bearing is about half the width of a plain bearing (space is often precious in the belfry), the bearing is always in accurate alignment, so that, if woodwork is used, a small shrinkage does not upset matters. In case of renewal they can be fitted at a small cost by an unskilled man, and can be easily obtained.

From a ringer's point of view, the perfect going bell is that without friction or any other force acting on the bell other than that put on the end of the rope. The co-efficient of friction is much less for a ball race than for a well lubricated plain bearing.

I may add that I am in no way connected with any bell foundries, but am speaking entirely from the standpoint of an engineer, who happens to be interested, and who is a ringer.—Yours faithfully,
'ENGINEER.'

TOO COSTLY?

Dear Sir,—In your issue of November 22nd, 'Northern President' inquires about the 'merits' of ball bearings, i.e., 'gun metal or others,' the bells in question having a 12 cwt tenor. My answer to this is that bells of this weight do not require ball bearings; they go quite easily enough if hung properly in the old style. Bells of, say, 17 cwt. and over may receive these bearings with advantage. I was recently shown a 'ball bearing' (not gun metal), and I asked the price. '£30 per bell,' was the answer. In my opinion this is too expensive, and they are quite unnecessary for light bells.—Yours faithfully,
Bath and Wells Association.

ANON.

'SILENT' HOLT'S ORIGINAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—A week or so ago you published in 'Belfry Gossip' a record of a silent peal of Grandshire Triples rung at West Bromwich on November 20th, 1909. I took part in a silent peal of Grandshire Triples (Holt's Original) eleven years previously as under:—

Waterloo Society.—Silent peal. On Saturday, June 4th, 1898, in 2 hrs. 55 mins., at the Church of St. John, Waterloo Road, S.E., John Holt's Original one-part peal of Grandshire Triples: Arthur R. Davis treble, George W. Wild 2, Harry Barton 3, George E. Symonds 4, Harold N. Davis 5, James E. Davis 6, Thomas Langdon 7, William S. Langdon tenor, Frederick G. Perrin umpire.

I believe all the above are still with us, excepting the umpire, and this after 31½ years.

FOUR ASSOCIATIONS MEET.

COMBINED GATHERING AT CLAVERLEY.

The picturesque village of Claverley, situated in the county of Salop, on the border of Staffordshire, was the place chosen for a combined meeting of members of the Hereford Diocesan Guild, the Shropshire Association, the Worcestershire and Districts Association and the Stafford Archdeaconry Society. The following towers were represented: Coalbrookdale, Ironbridge, Broseley, Bridgnorth, Brierley Hill, Bradley, Walsall, Wolverhampton, Tettenhall, Swindon (Staffs), Brewood, Coventry, Croydon and the local tower. Apologies for absence were received from Mr. A. J. Skelding (hon. secretary of the Worcestershire and Districts, Northern Branch), and Mr. H. Baker (hon. secretary of the Shropshire Association, Bridgnorth Branch), who had returned from hospital only two days before.

The ancient church now possesses a fine ring of eight bells which have recently been augmented from six, four of the old ones having been retuned, two recast, and two new ones added, the whole being hung on ball bearings in an iron frame, by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston. Both the tone and 'go' of the bells gave great satisfaction, the general opinion being that it was an admirable 'splice.' The methods rung included Grandshire Doubles and Triples, Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise, as well as rounds and call changes for the local learners.

Tea was served at the Crown Hotel, which was greatly enjoyed.

The Vicar (Rev. Ralph Guy), after giving the company a warm welcome, delighted his hearers with some humorous tales, fresh from the Mint. Handbell ringing followed, including Grandshire Caters, Stedman Triples and Caters, those taking part being R. Pickering, H. Knight, F. W. Perrens, J. Perry, E. F. Mitchell, and W. Saunders. A return to the tower for an hour or so concluded what might well be termed a successful venture.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

COMPETITION FOR OFFICES IN CHERTSEY DISTRICT.

The Chertsey District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild held a meeting at Esher on Saturday. Some very useful six-bell practice was put in by the two dozen or so ringers who attended and who came from Hersham, Walton, Ottershaw, Thames Ditton, Otlands Park, Esher, Cobham, Guildford (S. Nicolas'), Leatherhead, Aldershot, Woking and St. Peter's, Croydon.

The service was conducted by the Rector (Dr. Floyer), who also played the organ, and gave an address, in which he pointed out that success in the work for the church needed the same qualities of enthusiasm, concentration and co-operation that were required for success in the belfry.

The business meeting was held after tea, when Admiral T. P. Walker presided. Nominations were received for the officers for next year. Mr. H. Hancock was again nominated for the post of hon. secretary. The District Ringing Master (Mr. H. J. Chaffey) was re-nominated, and, at his own suggestion, in order to give members a choice, Mr. F. E. Hawthorne was also nominated, although the latter was reluctant to let his name go forward.

There is to be competition for the two places on the Executive Committee, four names being put forward in addition to those of the two retiring members. The Rev. W. N. Willis (Ottershaw) was re-nominated as the representative of the hon. members.

A vote of thanks was accorded, on the motion of the chairman, to Dr. Floyer for the use of the bells and for the service, and to Mr. Ristowe of the Esher band for his share in the successful arrangements.

A short but interesting discussion afterwards took place on the best means of attaining good striking.

The ringing during the day included Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor, while, yielding to the pressure of the progressivists, some of the amateurs tried their prentice hands at Oxford Bob, Double Oxford and Double Bob.

Esher Parish Church is a comparatively new structure, and stands in a perfectly kept churchyard, which has an unusual number of handsome memorials to the dead. In the tall spire there is a light ring of six bells, which were put in in 1853. In the now dismantled old church there were, at the time of the Edward VI. Inventory, 'iiij belles in the steeple and a hand bell.' There was also a tradition that there was in the tower at one time a bell said to have been brought from San Domingo by Sir Francis Drake. It bore no inscription. It was probably only a fable; it was much more likely to have been a bell given to the church, says a Surrey historian, by a Mr. Francis Drake who owned the manor in James I.'s time.

SEVEN-BELL METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I do not think that Mr. Craven is quite accurate in his remarks about Triple Methods. It is quite true that a section of the Exercise has all along held that seven-bell ringing should be continuous triple changes. It is quite true, also, that some of our leading authorities (notably Rev. C. D. P. Davies and, I think, Sir Arthur Heywood) have maintained that seven-bell methods which are not continuous triple changes are not legitimate. But the Exercise, as a whole, has never said so. Nor did the Methods Committee or the Central Council ever say so. The Method Report says that a seven-bell method which has not continuous triple changes cannot be considered 'perfect.' This was a concession to the above opinion. My own view, arrived at after examining several thousands of methods, is that the regular succession of the nature of the rows is sometimes of great importance in getting true peals, but otherwise of no importance at all. The only real test of a method's value is its suitability for ringing in the tower. Judged by that standard, Waterloo Reverse Bob (which is the correct name for Silchester) is an excellent method, decidedly better than Stedman. You may judge of this matter by asking yourself this question: Is Oxford Treble Bob so very much better than Kent, or Superlative so very much better than Cambridge, or Norfolk Surprise so very much better than Bristol?—Yours,

J. A. TROLLOPE.

A FRIEND OF WENHASTON RINGERS.

On Thursday afternoon, November 21st, there was laid to rest in the quiet churchyard of St. Peter's, Wenhaston, Suffolk, the remains of the late Mr. E. Hardingham, father of the Vicar, and an honorary member of the Suffolk Guild of Bellringers, who had reached the ripe old age of 87 years.

The deceased gentleman took a great interest in all matters connected with the church, especially the choir and bellringers, and was beloved and esteemed by all with whom he came in contact.

The bells of the Parish Church were rung muffled in the afternoon, and again in the evening, several 360's and other touches of Bob Minor being rung by: Messrs. Sam Ellis, A. Leech, G. and S. Stockdale, R. Roberts, R. Pearce and G. Pearce, of the local company, F. C. Lambert (district secretary), A. H. Took (Halesworth), and J. Punchard (of Bramfield).

A PARISH CLERK OF 1710.

BY 'CASCABLE.'

The following is a 'skit'—political, of course—by Jonathan Swift, the famous Dean. It, however, throws some very interesting sidelights on parish life of the period.

'Yet, be it acknowledged that at the age of sixteen I became a company-keeper, being led into idle conversation by my extraordinary love to ringing; inasmuch that in a short time I was acquainted with every set (sic) of bells in the whole country; neither could I be prevailed upon to absent myself from wakes, being called thereunto by the harmony of the steeple.

'While I was in these societies I gave myself up to unspiritual pastimes, such as wrestling, dancing, and cudgel-playing, so that I often returned to my father's house with a broken pate. . . . "What man is there, howsoever dexterous in any craft, who is for aye on his guard?"

This outpoken individual also took the tenor to a peal on one momentous occasion, followed by a 'beano' over whose details we will draw a veil.

To proceed: 'No sooner was I elected into mine office (parish clerk) but I laid aside the powdered gallantries of my youth, and became a new man. . . . I was determined to reform the manifold corruptions and abuses which had crept into the church. First, I was especially severe in whipping forth dogs from the temple, excepting the lap-dog of the good widow Howard, which yelped not, nor was there offence in his mouth. Secondly, I did even proceed to moroseness, though sore against my heart, unto poor babes, in tearing from them the apples which they privily munched at church. Thirdly, with the sweat of my own hands I did make plain and smooth the dogs-ears throughout our great Bible. . . .

He appeared to be a man of many parts. Listen to this: 'Shoes did I make, and if entreated mend, with good approbation; faces also did I shave, and I clipped the hair. Chirurgery I also practised in the worming of dogs; but to bleed adventured I not; except the poor. I once had the honour of trimming Sir Thomas himself without fetching blood. Furthermore I was sought unto to geld the lady Frances her spaniel, which was wont to go astray; he was called Toby, that is to say, Tobias. . . . We had London singing-masters sent into every parish, like excisemen. . . . to instruct my fellow-parishioners in this new manner of worship. What though they accuse me of humming through the nostril as a sackbut; yet would I not forego that harmony, it having been agreed by the worthy parish clerks of London to preserve the same. I tutored the young men and maidens to tune their voices, as it were, with a psaltery, and the church on the Sunday was filled with these new hallelujahs.'

Finally, he is overpowered with vanity. He first attempts to give hints to young curates how to preach, following on to higher game until he finally lets himself go on Dr. Sacheverell and politics generally.

Although the bitter Dean has used this fictitious character to vilify a great and good man, we can, nevertheless, easily deduce from his general and vivid description what the life of a parish clerk must have been in Queen Anne's reign.

Says Swift: 'In the churchyard (no name mentioned) I read this epitaph, said to be written by himself (i.e., the clerk):—

'O reader, if that thou canst read,

Look down upon this stone:

Do all we can, Death is a man

That never spareth none.'

If this epitaph is not fictitious, then it belongs to an individual named Paul Phillips. Other parishes mentioned in the full narrative are Milton, Yelverton and Waybrook.

Can readers say, please?

BROADCAST RINGING AND CHIMING.

The following appeared in last week's issue of 'The Radio Times':—

'As a regular reader of "The Radio Times," may I make a suggestion that when Sunday services are relayed from various churches and are preceded by bells, some distinction might be made in the announcement, so that listeners may know beforehand if the bells are to be scientifically rung or mechanically chimed? Take, for example, services relayed from St. Martin-in-the-Fields, London, and also from St. Martin's Parish Church, Birmingham, both announcements are headed in the same way, viz., "The Bells," and yet the former consist of one man "clanging" out hymn tunes, etc., on a chiming machine, whilst the latter is proper change ringing by a competent band of ringers. The two performances do not bear comparison. Might the word "chimed" or "rung" be inserted under "The Bells" (as the case may be) in order that listeners may be forewarned?—F. C. T.'

Bravo! F. C. T., writes 'F. W. T.' and so say all of us! And might not the 'chimer' at St. Martin-in-the-Fields, London, be asked to confine his efforts to the playing of hymn tunes only, and to kindly refrain from inflicting his attempts at 'changes' upon the sensitive ears of change ringers?

THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, New York, U.S.A.

CONDITIONS FOR PEALS.

When a departure is made from a well-defined practice in ringing, complications inevitably arise, often in a direction which the originators of the innovation did not anticipate. During the last three or four years, there have occasionally been rung peals on eight bells, in which Triples and Major have been spliced together and on ten bells in which Caters and Royal have been spliced. Now the question has been asked, Is it permissible to ring a mixture of Doubles and Minor and call it a peal? It is a pertinent question, and one which requires a definite ruling. There will doubtless be divergent views held on this question, but as things stand, it is difficult to see how any differentiation can be made between the practice on eight and ten bells and the application of similar principles on six bells. If Bob Royal and Grandsire Caters can be combined in a peal; and Bob Major and Grandsire Triples, why not Bob Minor and Grandsire Doubles? But if this last is to be admitted, it is going to add further complications to the definition of what shall constitute a six bell peal?

The present rules of the Central Council, although they have been amended to provide for the splicing of methods when they are of like nature, for instance, all Major, as in the ten method Surprise peal recently rung, or all Triples, did not contemplate the splicing together of odd and even bell methods, and it is open to question whether such performances are strictly entitled to be recognised under 'the conditions required for peals.' There is certainly no provision for ringing both Minor and Doubles in the same peal. In the case of Triples combined with Major it would seem to depend on whether the definition of a peal on seven bells (with or without a covering bell) applies to such a performance. At present the rule requires, in a peal on seven bells (and when it was framed it was doubtless intended to apply to all peals in which Triples are rung), that 'the number of changes be not less than 5,040 rung . . . without interval, being the extent of the changes in the method or methods chosen. . . . ' The definition of a peal on eight is wider—'that there be not less than 5,000 true changes rung without interval'—and it is only if this rule can be construed into including Triples, and if Triples, spliced into a peal with Major is excluded from the other definition, that Spliced Triples and Major can be strictly recognised as a peal. The position with regard to Caters and Royal is, perhaps, a little less questionable, for the rule as to Caters states that 'there shall be not less than 5,000 true changes . . . with the addition of a covering bell,' while that relating to Royal is exactly the same as for Major.

Undoubtedly the whole question requires clarifying. Either the Council must discourage the splicing of odd and even bell methods in peals, or they must amend the rules so that this new development in ringing is 'legalised.' The definition of a peal of Minor is likely to be again in the melting pot; it might, therefore, be a good thing if the whole of the 'conditions' for peals were overhauled. It seems rather obvious that the position cannot remain as it is, otherwise the whole of the rules governing peals might as well be scrapped, and that would be a distinctly retrograde step to take.

BUSY LOUGHBOROUGH BELL FOUNDRY.

It will no doubt be of interest to many of our readers to note the wonderful capacity which the Loughborough Bell Foundry has for turning out work, their bell hangers being engaged on no less than ten different jobs, all of which are to be completed this month. The following list gives details of these particular restorations, etc.:-

Shirley, Warwickshire, augmenting peal of five to six and hanging, in a new iron frame, with modern fittings.

Bradden, Northants, recasting the ring of five and hanging with modern fittings in the existing framework.

Whimple, Devon, rehanging peal of six with modern fittings in new cast-iron frame.

Claybrooke, Leicestershire, recasting the treble of four and adding four new trebles to complete the ring of eight, and hanging, with modern fittings, in new cast-iron framework.

Yatesbury, Wilts, adding new treble to ring of four and hanging, with modern fittings, in a new iron framework designed for six bells.

Radstock, Somerset, adding new tenor to make ring of six, and hanging with modern fittings in oak bell frame.

Tilsworth, Beds, recasting ring of five into peal of six, and hanging, with modern fittings, in new cast-iron framework.

Thatcham, Berks, adding two trebles to complete the ring of eight, and hanging, with modern fittings, in new cast-iron framework.

Goole, Yorks, rehanging peal of eight, with modern fittings, in existing framework.

Glastonbury, Somerset, rehanging peal of eight.

The dates of the openings of the above will be advertised in our notices columns, and those of the first five will be found in this issue.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

MEETING AT ASHTEAD.

The Leatherhead District held its last district meeting for the year at Ashtead on Saturday, and good progress was made in several directions. The attendance was small, only 16 ringers putting in an appearance from the following towers: Ashtead, Banstead, Epsom (St. Martin's), Haslemere, Dorking, Leatherhead, Woking and Guildford (Cathedral). Actually only 12 district members were present. This is not good enough, and does not repay the efforts of the men who try to make these meetings a success.

Methods ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Bristol Surprise Major were practised with varying degrees of success. Some useful 'spade work' was accomplished, and all enjoyed their practice on this handy ring of bells, which have probably been more 'worked' by peal 'fiends' than any other tower in the diocese.

The Rector, Rev. E. J. Austin, conducted the service, and in an impromptu talk welcomed the ringers to Ashtead. He mentioned the fact that he had never before been in charge of a church which possessed a peal of bells, and said that he had grown to love them, as also had his parishioners (a remark which will doubtless delight the said 'peal fiends'). He outlined the work of ringers and its value to the Church, and his address was much enjoyed by all.

Tea followed the service, and was partaken of at Evelyn's Tea Room. The tables presented quite a festive appearance, and each one had a Christmas cracker, some of which, appropriately enough, contained bells.

The tea and following business meeting was quite a jolly affair, and the spirit of comradeship, so necessary to a ringing meeting, was much in evidence. Three new honorary members were elected, viz., Miss E. A. Cleeve, of Dorking, Mrs. T. P. Walker, wife of Admiral Walker, as an hon. life member, and the Rev. E. J. Austin. These elections were carried unanimously amidst great applause.

At this point the Rector had to leave, and Admiral T. P. Walker proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to him for all he had done to make the meeting a success, and also to all those who had contributed their services in various ways. In reply, the Rev. E. J. Austin said how greatly honoured he felt in being made a member of an organisation which was doing such good work for the church, and promised to further its interests as and when he could. He said he felt he must apologise for refusing to grant the bells for a peal on one occasion, but he wondered whether the bells would annoy some fresh parishioners of his. He felt the ringers would understand his point of view, but there was now no need for apprehension in that direction.

He left the meeting amidst applause, and the Leatherhead District feels that it has made another friend among the incumbents.

The next item on the agenda was the nomination of district officers for 1930. The Leatherhead District must be fairly satisfied with its present officers, as few changes were reported. Mr. Albert Harman had no rivals for the position of Ringing Master, and neither had Mr. Alan R. Pink as district secretary. The two representatives on the Executive Committee (Mr. Alfred H. Winch and Mr. George Marriner) were again nominated, and one other, Mr. William James, of Cobham, the idea being that the six-bell towers should have a representative.

Rev. G. H. B. Coleridge was again nominated as the representative of the honorary members. This was the extent of the business, and the meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the chairman (Major J. H. B. Hesse). The members then returned to the tower for further ringing, which ended at 9 p.m. by letting the bells down in peal. This latter we feel would have met with the approval of the 'West Country' experts.

A. R. P.

FORMER SALISBURY RINGER'S DEATH.

There passed away at Bassett, Southampton, on November 24th, Mr. H. D. Adams, who, about 40 years ago was an active member of the band at St. Martin's Church, Salisbury, in the palmy days of W. W. Gifford, A. W. Barkus, A. P. Goddard, T. Blackburn, W. S. Wise, S. Lawrence, Macey and others, including J. W. Washbrook. He had rung nearly forty peals for the Salisbury Diocesan Guild on tower and handbells, but he had been out of ringing for some years.

Mr. Adams was formerly a colleague of the late Mr. Gifford in the Wilts and Dorset Bank at Salisbury. He had retired and settled at Bassett, and about a year ago he became Rector's warden at North Stoneham, in which parish Bassett is situated. He was 66 years of age.

LADIES' GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Northern District of the Ladies' Guild was held at Dore on Saturday, November 30th, when two members of the Lincolnshire District also attended. An excellent tea was prepared by Mrs. Johnson.

The Vicar's warden gave an interesting speech of welcome in the belfry, and Mrs. Scott proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar, the churchwardens and the gentlemen present. After the ringing had ceased, the meeting was held in the vestry, Mrs. Scott being voted to the chair. The place and date of next meeting were left in the hands of the secretary.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

JOINT MEETING OF DISTRICTS.

A joint meeting of the Eastern and Southern Districts of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association was held at West Hartlepool on Saturday. There was only a fair attendance of members present, a few of whom arrived at St. Oswald's Church at 2.30, and rang a well-struck 720 of Oxford Minor. More members then turning up, the bells were soon going to Grandsire Triples and Caters and Stedman Caters.

Tea was the next important item, and a good spread awaited the ringers in St. Oswald's Mission Room.

After tea a short meeting was held, presided over by the Rev. T. H. Lilburn (Vicar of St. Oswald's).

Mr. Burnett, vice-president, moved a vote of condolence with the relatives of Canon Knowlden, of St. Aidan's Church (who passed away in November after a long illness), the ringers standing in silence for a few moments.

Mr. Titt moved a vote of thanks to the clergy for the use of the bells, and Mr. Lilburn, in reply, welcomed the ringers to West Hartlepool, where, he said, they would always be assured of a hearty welcome when they came. The bells of St. Oswald's would also be available for them at any time. The Vicar referred to those people who objected to the bells, and said they should be ignored, as the bells would certainly be missed by a great majority of the people.

Mr. Metcalfe proposed a vote of thanks to the ladies for the excellent tea, and Miss Stephenson suitably replied.

Gateshead will be the place of meeting to be held some time in January.

After tea the ringers went to All Saints', Stranton, but owing to some misunderstanding the church was locked up. They therefore proceeded to St. Aidan's Church, where touches of Bob Major, Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Superlative Surprise Major were rung until nine o'clock.

The ringers all agreed that this was an enjoyable meeting, but the presence of a few more ringers would have been welcomed.

COLLEGE YOUTHS' MASTER'S BADGE.

A silver replica of the badge worn by the Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths has been presented to the London Museum by Mr. W. H. Fenton, of Heston House, Heston, Middlesex. This medal was struck in 1837 to celebrate the bicentenary of the society, and that worn by the Master as a badge of office was formerly the property of James Mash.

The one now presented to the London Museum was the property of H. Mills, and recently came into the possession of Mr. Fenton, who has given it to the metropolitan collection at the suggestion of Mr. E. A. Young.

TIMBERSCOMBE RINGER'S DEATH.

A quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) was rung with the bells half-muffled, in 50 mins., for morning service at the Parish Church, Timberscombe, Somerset, on Sunday week, in memory of the late Mr. E. J. V. Thorne, who died on the previous Friday week, and who was a member of the tower band. The ringers were: G. Stacey 1, S. Grabham 2, J. Pugsley (conductor) 3, F. Date 4, F. Boyd (first quarter-peal) 5, I. Farmer 6, E. Gould 7, W. Yeandle 8. During the course of his sermon, the Vicar, Prob. the Rev. H. H. Bell, alluded to Mr. Thorne as a good sportsman, and referred in felicitous terms to his devoted service to the church as a ringer and member of the choir.

BELLS IN A COAL MINE.

Three hundred and sixty yards down in the bowels of the earth handbells were rung on Sunday week. Four members of the Midland Counties Association descended a coal mine in the North Midlands, and at the bottom rang a course of Bob Major and a course of Grandsire Triples. It was a strange experience for the little company, who would like to know if handbells have been rung underground before. The ringers had to undergo the usual search for matches and cigarettes before going down.

TILEHURST RINGER'S DEATH.

The death occurred on November 30th of Mr. E. M. Shepherd, who was a ringer at Tilehurst Church, near Reading, for a considerable number of years. He was 48 years of age. The funeral took place on Thursday week, and in the evening the local company of ringers rang the 'whole pull and stand' and a 504 Grandsire Triples with the bells half-muffled, as a token of the esteem in which the deceased was held by his colleagues. The ringing was done by A. Haines 1, H. Hunt 2, R. Runham 3, R. Chapman 4, J. Barnes 5, C. Watts 6, H. Goodyear (conductor) 7, R. Hames 8.

WEARE, SOMERSET.—On Saturday, November 9th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes) in 45 mins.: A. Hunt (first quarter-peal) 1, A. Ham 2, C. Weare (first quarter-peal as conductor) 3, W. E. Wiseman 4, W. Braddock 5, C. Drunton 6.

'GODFATHERS' FOR EAST DEVON TOWERS.AN INTERESTING PROPOSAL.

The annual meeting of the Exeter Branch of the Devon Guild was held at St. Sidwell's, Exeter, on December 7th. Although a large number were present, many others were prevented from attending by the ravages of the storm. A hearty service was held in St. Sidwell's Church, the Rector officiating and giving an interesting address.

At the business meeting which followed the tea, at St. Sidwell's Institute, the Rev. E. V. Cox, chairman of the branch, presided, and was supported by the Rev. E. S. Powell (president) and Mrs. Powell, the Rev. Lanyon Owen, the Rev. E. A. Jullian and others.

A vote of thanks to the Rector, the organist and the local ringers was carried with acclamation.

The hon. secretary and treasurer's report on the year's progress and finance of the branch was adopted, and showed a slight decrease in the membership.

A resolution was carried that the committee should take steps to evolve a scheme whereby one or two experienced ringers should act as 'godfathers,' so to speak, of each of the various towers, with a view to maintaining the interest of members, improving the standard of the ringing, and furthering the progress made in new methods, etc.

It was decided that the spring meeting should be held at Whimble on March 1st. Messrs. Taylor and Co. have rehung the bells there, and they are to be dedicated to-morrow.

Several new members were elected, and some change ringing certificates presented by the president.

The Rev. E. V. Cox was re-elected chairman for the ensuing year, and Miss E. Lomas hon. secretary and treasurer.

The bells of the Cathedral, St. Sidwell's, Heavitree, St. David's, St. Thomas' and St. Petrock's were available for ringing by kind permission of the Dean and the respective incumbents.

BROADCAST RINGING AND CHIMING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As a ringer and listener, I wholeheartedly support the suggestion made by 'F.C.T.' that some distinction might be made in the announcement in the B.B.C. programme with regard to scientifically rung changes or mechanically chimed hymn tunes, by inserting the word 'Chimed' or 'Rung' in the announcement in both 'The Radio Times' and the daily Press, for the benefit of those who are not aware of the difference. The two performances (if not the performers) do not bear comparison.—Yours truly,

E. I.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFERY GOSSIP.

Cambridge University Guild has received some seven or eight recruits this term who are very keen and have learned to manage a bell. Change ringing instruction is going on on handbells, and in this the veteran president (Rev. A. H. F. Boughey) continues to give valuable help.

Berkshire's new ring of twelve, at St. Laurence's Church, Reading, will be dedicated at 8 p.m. on December 20th. Owing to the lateness of the hour there will be no general ringing, but, as announced in our notice columns, the tower will be open for ringing on the afternoon of Boxing Day.

One of Benjamin Annable's many great performances was conducting a peal of 8,008 Grandsire Cinques at St. Saviour's, Southwark, on December 15th, 1735. He rang the 10th on this occasion, and three men rang the tenor. In February of the previous year Annable called a 7,018 in the same method, and on that occasion assisted two others in the ringing of the tenor.

Twenty-five years ago next Sunday the first peal was rung in South Africa—a peal of Grandsire Triples at Woodstock.

We record this week a peal of Canterbury Pleasure Royal rung at Leeds, in Kent. It is interesting to recall that the first peal of Canterbury Pleasure Major was rung at Warnham, Sussex, on December 17th, 1888.

In reference to last week's letter, headed 'Silent Holt's Original,' another of the band, writing from the Isle of Wight, affirms that so far as he is concerned he feels still capable of taking his part in a repeat performance.

To-day, Mr. Francis E. Dawe celebrates the fiftieth anniversary of his first peal, Grandsire Triples at St. John's, Wilton Road, London, called by James Pettit. Mr. F. T. Gover, of Paignton, Devon, is the only other survivor of that band.

The ringer of the 4th in the peal at Bottesford on November 30th was Clarence F. Briggs, not Bird, as printed.

At the special invitation of the Dean of Worcester, a large party of Birmingham ringers and friends visited Worcester Cathedral on Sunday, and rang for an hour and a half for the evening service. The visitors made up a party of 17, and touches of Stedman Cinques and Cambridge Maximus were rung.

THE EXTENSION OF NEW DOUBLES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I have read Mr. Cave's letter, and to make certain that I am not wrong (it was very unlikely in this instance), I have interviewed the officers of St. Stephen's Guild of Ringers, and they corroborate my statement that New Doubles extended to Oaters was rung upon at least two occasions, at St. Stephen's Church, Bristol. This was before May, 1926. At Chester or Ipswich, it is difficult to remember, I asked a Central Council member's opinion about it; hence my statement, namely, about three years ago. The member's opinion was that it was irregular, and that is perhaps why no more was rung at St. James' or St. Stephen's.—Yours faithfully,

EDGAR GUISE.

A PEAL BY EIGHT EDWARDS.

At Gravesend, on Saturday week, a band of eight Edwards pulled off a peal of Stedman Triples. Other 'name' bands, led by the Williams of Shipway's day, have rung peals, but this is believed to be the first time that the Edwards have accomplished such a performance. Six of them were residents of Kent, and the other two came from across the Thames. The conductor was Mr. Edward P. Duffield, of Colchester (who rang the 11th in the record peal of Cambridge Maximus at Ashton-under-Lyne), and the others in the band were Messrs. E. Hadlow, E. Beer, E. Spice and E. Morrad (all of Gravesend), E. Allen (Rochester Cathedral), E. Smith (Stratford) and E. Ruck (Ashford).

THE TWELVE-BELL RECORD

TO-MORROW'S LONG PEAL ATMAINTSWICK.

All being well, an attempt will be made at Painswick, Gloucestershire, to-morrow, for a new record twelve-bell peal. The present longest length is the 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Maximus, rung at Ashton-under-Lyne on August Bank Holiday. To-morrow's attempt is for 16,565 Grandsire Cinquses, and ringing will begin about 8.30 a.m. Good wishes for success will go out to Mr. Albert Wright (the conductor) and his band.

From the earliest days of ringing, Painswick has been famous for long lengths, and several records have been set up there. Among the long peals in this famous tower have been the following:—

- 12,006 Grandsire Caters, in 7 hrs. 55 mins., on April 18th, 1737.
- 12,312 Grandsire Caters, in 7 hrs. 44 mins., on May 5th, 1817.
- 10,224 Treble Bob Maximus, in 6 hrs. 50 mins., on December 9th, 1833.
- 15,001 Grandsire Cinquses, in 8 hrs. 45 mins., on February 14th, 1920.

BELLS REOPENED AT WOOLTON HILL.

A HAMPSHIRE RING REHUNG.

On Sunday, December 1st, the bells at St. Thomas' Church were reopened after being rehung with modern improvements, including ball bearings, by Messrs. Mears and Stambank. The result is that the bells now go perfectly.

To mark this occasion, special mention of the bells and change ringing was made by the Vicar (Rev. E. E. Utterton) in his sermon. He spoke of the various uses of bells and of the great art of ringing. He told his congregation that it was far more difficult to learn change ringing than many people imagined. He also spoke of the position of the bells and ringers, saying, that as the bells were hung in the highest part of the church, one naturally had to look up to the bells and ringers, and he himself looked up to any ringer who mastered this great art.

After the service, he said the bells would be rung in various methods, and he asked the congregation to stay to listen to the ringing, and many did so. Some good ringing was done by the local band and visitors from Highclere and Newbury in the following methods: Grandsire and Stedman, and Plain Bob.

Change ringing has flourished somewhat at Woolton Hill during the past few years, and it is hoped to get back to the original standard of Surprise ringing in the near future. The ringing included 720 of Bob Minor by: H. Curtis 1, J. Scott 2, J. Berry 3, F. Knapp 4, L. Robbins 5, R. Rex (conductor) 6, followed by 360 in the same method by J. Robbins 1, A. Challis 2, F. Knapp 3, J. Berry 4, S. Beaven 5, R. Curtis (conductor) 6.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

CHELTENHAM BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Cheltenham Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was held at Charlton Kings on Saturday, in fine weather. The useful peal of eight, with tenor of 20 cwt., were set going at three o'clock, and made good use of. The service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. Edgar Neale), assisted by the curate. The address, given by Rev. E. G. Benson, of Tewkesbury, was listened to very eagerly, the preacher himself being an expert change ringer.

Tea followed in the Parish Room, where all were the guests of the Vicar, who had a band of willing lady helpers.

The business meeting was held in the same room, and the Vicar, on being voted to the chair, expressed his pleasure at seeing so many present. He was, he said, always willing to do all he could for the ringers at any time.

The chairman was supported by Canon F. W. Sear (Leckhampton), Rev. Smith (curate), Rev. E. G. Benson (Tewkesbury Abbey), and over 40 members, including a number of visitors from Bourton-on-the-Water, Fairford, Minchinhampton, etc.

A letter was read from the Rev. A. J. Pennington, who has gone south on retirement, saying how he regretted having to sever his connection with the branch.

The following officers were elected: Branch chairman, Canon F. W. Sear (Leckhampton); branch representative, G. H. Walters (Prestbury); branch hon. secretary, W. Yeend (Swindon). The two latter were thanked for their past services.

At the invitation of the Rev. W. Downes, Badgworth was selected for the next meeting in March.

The secretary was instructed to send the following message to Mr. Albert Wright: 'That the members of the Cheltenham Branch gathered at Charlton Kings for their annual meeting send their best wishes for the success of the band in their record long peal attempt at Painswick on Saturday next.'

On the proposition of Mr. F. Clements, seconded by Mr. G. Noch, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for all he had done to make the meeting such a success, also Rev. E. G. Benson for his able address, and the lady helpers.—Rev. E. Neale and the Rev. E. G. Benson responded, and this concluded the business.

The tower was again visited, and much useful practice obtained.

BRISTOL BRANCH.

A very successful meeting of the Bristol Branch was held at SS. Philip and Jacob's Church, Bristol, on Saturday, November 30th, 16 towers being represented, together with the local band. The bells, a nice peal of eight, were raised soon after 3 p.m., and some good touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Cambridge Surprise Major were brought round. Rounds and Queens were also rung for the beginners.

The service was taken by the Vicar (Rev. M. E. Thorold), a vice-president of the association, who gave a very interesting address.

Tea followed, and there were over 40 members present at the business meeting.

Mr. J. Gould (chairman) asked the members to stand in silence as a token of respect and sympathy for the late Mrs. W. H. Thomas. Deceased was very popular in the Bristol Branch, and will be greatly missed at these meetings. She was present as recently as the last monthly meeting of the branch at St. Matthew's.

The Secretary read a letter from Mr. W. H. Thomas, the president of the Bristol United Ringing Guilds, in which he thanked the members for their letters of sympathy and floral tribute.

The next meeting, as is the usual custom, will be held at Brislington.

THE AMERICANS AND HALESWORTH BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I expect I know Halesworth and its ringers as well as anyone living at a distance. In case any of your readers should be led to the erroneous conclusion by your last week's paragraph, that our brethren there hobble up to the church with a pair of walking sticks or anything like that, I would like to mention that this is by no means so. It is merely a case of there being not much young blood in the band, but I venture to say the present company can (D.V.) carry on with Grandsire Triples and Bob Major under their enthusiastic conductor for many a year yet.

Halesworth can by no stretch of the imagination be called 'a little village deep in Suffolk.' It is a fair-sized market town, with a station on the direct London-Yarmouth line, and a fine Parish Church with a melodious peal of eight. The drawback to ringing is that the ropes hang something like this: 1 3 2 6 4 3 5 7, which is rather puzzling to beginners. The Halesworth men are of the right sort. A visiting ringer would be sure of a hearty welcome, and, indeed, would be an inspiration. The bells merely want rehanging, and, who knows, perhaps some day a fresh eight will come along there, and then things would go ahead. As for the Americans wanting the bells—I should say, let them keep their money.—Yours truly,

HARRY BARTON.

ST. STEPHEN'S GUILD.

ANCIENT RULES FOR THE ORDERING OF RINGERS.

In an article in these columns a fortnight ago we briefly outlined the history of the Antient Guild of St. Stephen's Ringers, an old Bristol Society which, while it is not now connected with ringing, had its origin in the ringers of that church more than three hundred years ago. To-day the Guild devotes its energies largely to raising funds for the preservation and restoration of the church.

There has recently been published on behalf of the Antient Society a handsome volume. The author is Mr. H. E. Roslyn, a member of the Guild, who has compiled an exhaustive history of the Guild, so far as it can be traced, based mainly on the minute books which, with one exception, are intact from 1682. An interesting history of the church is also given, as well as a description of the handsome tower.

The church was founded between 1247 and 1291, and was attached to Glastonbury Abbey, this connection lasting until the dissolution of the monasteries, when the patronage passed to the Crown, in whom it is still vested. The church was rebuilt about 1470, the tower being erected at the sole cost of Master John Shipward, who also gave the great east window. Shipward was one of the most important citizens of Bristol of his day. He was a wealthy merchant, and was the second of his family to fill the highest office in the city. His father was Mayor in 1444 and 1453, and he himself served as Mayor in 1463 and again in 1469. He also represented Bristol in Parliament in 1460.

He left directions for a most elaborate funeral, as was the custom of rich men in those days, and also for the observance of the anniversary of his death. He charged his property with the maintenance of two chaplains for twenty-five years, and after that one chaplain in perpetuity to celebrate daily at the high altar of St. Stephen's for the good of his soul and the souls of his parents. A solemn requiem mass was to be celebrated every year on August 3rd, in connection with which there were a number of bequests, including twentypence for tolling the bells.

In the records of the Antient Guild, however, probably the most interesting portion to ringers is 'The Ordinances,' sometimes known as the 'charter.' These ordinances have been transcribed at various dates, but they are directly traceable to 1620, and it is supposed that even those of this date were a transcription of an even earlier copy. The ordinances, which are read every year, as a part of the ritual observed at the annual banquet, begin with the following preamble:—

'It is agreed and determined that everyone that is or shall be of the Company or Society of St. Stephen's Ringers, shall keep all Articles and Decrees that are or shall be specified in this Ordinary concerning the good government and Peaceable Society of the said Company, and that none shall be of the said Society but those that shall be of Honest, Peaceable and Good Conversation, and such that shall be at all time and times ready to defend whatsoever shall be alleged against the said Company as well in regard to any Challenge as of any other Wrong or Injury that shall be offered and done by anyone of what estate or Condition soever he be, so that we may not only stop the mouths of those that would or shall exasperate themselves against us. But also gain credit and Reputation by our Musical Exercise that others of our rich neighbours hearing these loud Cymbals with their ears may by the Sweet Harmony thereof be enlarged in their hearts to pull one string to make it more sweet and for these and other causes We have procured this Ordinary and do confine ourselves to those Articles following.'

'Then follow the twenty-six Articles as under:—

1.—Item. For the choosing of every Master you shall put three honest men into the Election, and he that hath most voices to pass on his side shall be Master of the Company of Ringers for the year ensuing.

2.—Item. For the choosing of Wardens you shall put four honest men into the Election, and those two of the four that have most voices shall be Wardens of the said Company for the year ensuing.

3.—Item. You shall have four Quarter days every year (that is to say), the first, St. Stephen the Martyr; the second, the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary; the third, St. John the Baptist; and the fourth, St. Michael the Archangel.

4.—Item. Upon everyone of the said Quarter Days everyone that is a Freeman of the said Company shall pay to the Master for the time being for his quarterage one penny, and if he doth or shall deny or neglect to pay the same he shall pay for such his offence threepence, one penny thereof to the Sexton and the other two pence to the Company.

5.—Item. Every Master for the time being shall settle up his account on the seventeenth day of November all Quarterages and fines as he shall receive in his year, and if he shall deny or neglect he shall pay for his offence the sum of twenty shillings to the Company of his own proper money.

6.—Item. Every Master shall be chosen on Michaelmas Day between five and eight of the clock in the morning. If the Master shall neglect to send the Wardens to warn the Company so that by that means the day be deferred, he shall pay for his offence the sum of six shillings to the Company.

7.—Item. There shall be none made free of the said Company unless he give the Company a Breakfast or pay the sum of three shillings and fourpence in money.

8.—Item. If the Master for the time being shall send to the Wardens to warn the Company, and if they neglect the same shall pay for their offence fourpence apiece, one penny thereof to the Sexton and the other threepence to the Company.

9.—Item. If the Master for the time being shall neglect or forget to warn the Company once within every fourteen days for to ring a Bissit sett peale he shall pay for his offence one shilling to be divided amongst the Company.

10.—Item. If the Master for the time being shall send to the Sexton concerning a peale that shall be rung either at night or in the morning or at any other time that the Master shall please to ring, if he shall deny or neglect to come at the every hour that the Master doth appoint him he shall pay for his offence twopence to be divided amongst the Company.

11.—Item. Everyone that is made free of the said Company shall pay to the Sexton fourpence for his fee.

12.—Item. If anyone of the said Company after the time that he shall come into the Church to ring shall curse or swear or make any noise or disturbance either in scoffing or unseemly jesting that the party so offending shall pay for his offence threepence to be divided as aforesaid.

13.—Item. BELLRINGERS AND CLERGY.To the Editor.

Sir,—My attention has been drawn to the Vicar of Measham's letter in your issue of November 29th. It may interest your readers to know that Holy Trinity Church, Llandudno, is an illustration and a confirmation of the point with which he deals in his admirable letter.

Some time ago the conductor of our bellringers approached me with a view to the clergy visiting the belfry on Sundays.

I gladly welcomed the suggestion, and now before every service (at which the bells are rung), either I or one of my clerical staff climb up to the ringing chamber and hold a short service there.

We say the Lord's Prayer together, and pray for the blessing of God upon the work of our bellringers, emphasising the value of the service rendered by them to the glory of God.

This custom (which I trust will never be discontinued) is already bearing fruit, and is bringing home to the hearts of the ringers that they are regarded as an important group of churchworkers.—Yours faithfully,

F. P. WATKIN-DAVIS,
Rector of Llandudno.

The Rectory, Llandudno, North Wales.

A TASK FOR RINGERS TO DO.

Dear Sir,—The letter headed 'Clergy and Ringers' in your issue of November 29th, and your leading article under the same title in last week's issue brings out what is, indeed, a main object of practically all our ringing societies.

Will either help in bringing about this much desired ideal? Directly, I hardly think so. It is a case of preaching to the converted. The ringers who read these two items will concur that it is to be desired. The incumbents who read 'The Ringing World' are, in the majority, ringers themselves, and, of course, having the interest of ringers at heart, will also concur.

This is not enough. How many ringers who, as I have already stated, agree to this ideal, will approach their own incumbent and bring these two items to his notice? How many incumbents will approach their clerical brethren, or their Archdeacons, or even their Bishops, and do likewise?

In this way only—again a case of spade work for the enthusiast—can the appeal be spread on to new ground, and if we, as ringers, consider this idea to be an ideal, it is up to us to arouse the interest of those whom we desire to be interested.—Yours faithfully,
'LAYMAN.'

SWANSEA AND BRECON GUILD.

A meeting of the Swansea and Brecon Guild was held at Gorsceinon on Saturday last, when about 30 members attended from Aberavon, Cadoxton, Morriston, Swansea, Llanelly, and the local band. The bells (eight) were kept going until 4.30 p.m., when a short service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. W. J. Thomas), and the curate (Rev. D. T. Price) presided at the organ. A meat tea was then partaken of in the schoolroom, most generously provided by the Vicar, and with a willing hand of ladies to look after the wants of everyone, this was very much enjoyed by all present. Unfortunately the Vicar had to leave when tea was over, but before departing he gave the Guild a hearty welcome to the parish, wished it continued success in the future, and he hoped all had enjoyed themselves.

The business meeting followed, when the Master (Mr. A. J. Pitman) was voted to the chair. The election of officers for 1930 took place. Mr. E. Stitch was re-elected secretary, and Mr. G. W. Hollis was re-elected auditor. Baglan was chosen as the place of next meeting.

Two new members were elected. It was decided to have a practice at St. Mary's, Swansea, on January 11th, at 5 p.m., for Stedman Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Rev. W. J. Thomas for the use of the bells, for conducting the service, and for the tea, to the Rev. D. T. Price for presiding at the organ, and to the ladies for their kindness in waiting at the tea tables.

The tower was again visited, when Stedman and Grandsire Triples and Bob Major were rung, and the bells lowered in peal about 8 p.m., bringing to a close a most successful meeting.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO CHISLEHURST RINGER.

Mr. Thomas Emsden, of Chislehurst, has met with a severe motor accident. He was returning from Bromley on Wednesday evening of last week on a motor-cycle, when he was run into by another machine. No one saw the accident, but both riders were found unconscious in the road. Mr. Emsden had a fractured skull and a broken leg, while his right hand was badly lacerated. Both were removed to hospital, and it was two days before Mr. Emsden regained consciousness. His condition on Monday was still serious, after a restless night. Two days before the accident Mr. Emsden took part in a peal of Stedman Triples at Chislehurst, rung in honour of the 78th birthday of the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore.

SECRETARIES PLEASE NOTE!

Owing to the necessity for going to press much earlier in Christmas week than usual, notices of meetings for our issue of December 27th must reach us at latest by first post Monday, December 23rd.

CENTRAL COUNCIL'S CONSTITUTION AND POLICY.DISCUSSION AT A LANCASHIRE MEETING.

A well-attended meeting of the Blackburn Branch of the Lancashire Association was held at Churchkirk on Saturday, December 6th. Members were present from Blackburn (Cathedral and St. Michael's), Burnley, Accrington, Helmshore, Rishton, Oswaldtwistle, and a full muster of the local company. Ringing during the day consisted of Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Major and Double Norwich Major.

During the meeting a short paper was read by one of the members on 'The Constitution and Policy of the Central Council' and the suggested alteration to its rules, as contributed to 'The Ringing World' of October 18th. The members were unanimously of the opinion that the time had come when the Central Council should be the real head of the Exercise in practice as well as in name, and that the societies comprising the Council should loyally accept its rulings and decisions.

A long discussion took place on the relative merits of the triennial and annual election of representatives, and in the end the majority favoured the existing system of triennial elections, it being urged that it takes some time for a person newly elected to the Council to settle down to the ways and means of his new surroundings, and therefore before he becomes a really useful member he may be displaced.

It was agreed by all that the societies ought to pay their full quota of subscriptions on all representatives they are entitled to send.

It was also thought that a notice of motion coming from a society through its secretary or other official would carry more weight and receive greater consideration from the other bodies.

Mr. W. H. Hunter, of Burnley, occupied the chair, and a very successful meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Rector and wardens for the use of the bells, and to the local ringers for their usual kindly welcome and their good example to other towers in attending en bloc at their own local meeting.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.BEDFORD DISTRICT'S ACTIVITIES.

The annual meeting of the Bedford District was held at the Church of St. Thomas of Canterbury, Clapham, on Saturday, December 7th (owing to the bells of St. Peter's, Bedford, not being available). In spite of the stormy day, about 28 members were present, and ringing on this light peal of six (tenor 5½ cwt.) commenced about 2.45 p.m. At 4.30 a short service was held in the church, conducted by the Rev. J. K. Cowburn (Vicar), who gave an interesting address, in the course of which he spoke of the early uses of bells, and also set forth his idea of the ideal ringer—one whose heart and soul was behind every blow of the clapper, one who was regular and punctual for Sunday ringing. We generally fall short of the ideal, he said, but if we got nearer to it the message the bells rang out on Sunday would have greater effect on those they summoned.

An excellent tea, prepared by the wives of the local ringers, was served in the schoolroom, after which the business meeting was held. The Rev. J. K. Cowburn took the chair. The secretary read a brief review of the year's activities. Twelve meetings had been held at the following towers: St. Peter's, Bedford, Sharnbrook, Houghton Conquest, Milton Ernest, Willington, Bromham, Elstow, Kempston, Wilden, Turvey, Biddenham and Clapham, and all were well attended. During the year 14 new members had been elected, chiefly through the energies of the late secretary, Mr. J. T. Newington, who, unfortunately, had to resign that office owing to business taking him to Peterborough. Four non-resident members had been elected. There was a total of 83 ringing members in the district. Ten peals had been rung, two members ringing their first peal, and one conducting his first peal.

The secretary also presented the balance sheet, showing a balance in hand of £3 18s 8½d., which was considered satisfactory and accepted.

The following officers were elected: District secretary, Mr. P. C. Bonnett; district committee, Mr. H. Stapleton, Mr. P. Inskip, Mr. E. Freeman, Mr. G. Wright and Mr. L. Williams.

It was decided that one member of this committee should take charge of the ringing at the meetings in turn.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and conducting the service, to Mrs. J. Barker for presiding at the organ, and to the local ringers and their wives concluded the meeting.

Ringing was carried on in methods ranging from Bob Doubles to Cambridge Surprise until 8 p.m.

Members present represented the following towers: Bedford, Bromham, Clapham, Harrold, Kempston, Wilden, Keysoe, Thurleigh and Stagsden.

The next meeting is arranged for St. Peter's Church, Thurleigh, on January 14th.

ORIGINAL COMPOSITIONS.

Time and again we have urged the need of some kind of register of compositions, and time and again there arise incidents which demonstrate how needful such a register really is. Not infrequently there is open dispute as to the rights of authorship; often, we are convinced, compositions are attributed to composers who have no right to them according to the recognised practice of the Exercise. In the latter category there are many instances, of course, in which the composers have obtained their figures by perfectly independent work, but they have no right to authorship, because earlier composers had secured the same peals, and it has to be borne in mind that even variations of a previous composition cannot always be allowed to claim 'originality.'

We are prompted to return to this subject again by the appearance in the Lancashire Association's annual report of a composition of Double Norwich in five parts, with bobs at 1 and 6 only, except for one solitary bob at 4 in the first course of each part. We thought it was a pretty well recognised fact that anything new on this plan was out of the question. The peal under notice has probably been composed at least a hundred times, in different methods, and we have consigned it to the wastepaper basket at least a score of times. Probably Henry Hubbard, who composed an exactly similar peal of Double Norwich to this 70 years ago, has the best title to it, and none of the variations that have appeared since have been any improvement upon it. Even so, it is more than likely that this simple nine course plan was rung to Bob Major long before Hubbard's time; indeed, we should not be surprised to learn that old Ben Annable himself had discovered it.

It may be disappointing to a composer, after a genuinely independent effort, to find that he is not the first, but the last of many in the field, but that does not alter the fact that a composition, appearing in a widely circulated medium such as the Lancashire Association's report, is likely to be rung and the record passed on to posterity as according credit to someone not actually entitled to it. The difficulty, as we have so often pointed out, is that the new composer has no means ready to hand by which he can ascertain if his work is really original or not. The Central Council has in its possession a large nucleus for a register of compositions such as we suggest; but, while the register is already badly needed, and as time progresses, will become more and more necessary, it will not be easy to find those who would be able to undertake the task. In our view, however, it is a matter of sufficient importance to demand attention, and, if necessary, the Council should pay for the work to be done.

BROADCAST RINGING AND CHIMING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I am pleased to see that my letter to the 'Radio Times' on the above subject has been noticed and approved of by listening ringers. I doubt, however, whether the B.B.C. will trouble to act on my suggestion, which I made with the sole object of trying to point out to the many listeners, uninitiated in ringing, that what they so often hear on Sundays broadcast from St. Martin's-in-the-Fields is not ringing, whereas that from other towers generally is; they can then be their own judges of the difference.

While on this subject I should be glad to know if the bells of St. Martin's ever do ring? If so, I should like to hear them in peal, through the medium of my set, as the back eight appear to be of good tone, but the strange weird tones of the trebles, that one hears on the wireless, make me think a little 'Simpson tuning' would be an advantage. Has any other listener noticed this peculiarity?—Yours,

P. C. TURNER.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING AT NETHERTON.

The quarterly meeting of the Dudley and District Guild was held on Saturday, December 7th, at St. Andrew's Church, Netherton, Worcs, and was very well attended. The bells were placed at the disposal of the members from three o'clock, and were kept going merrily until service, which was held in the Parish Church. The Guild's special form was used, the service being conducted by the Vicar of Netherton (Rev. H. C. Kemp), who also gave a very interesting address. At the close of the service an adjournment was made to the School House, where an excellent tea was in readiness, and, needless to say, full justice was done to the good things provided. The funds for the tea were obtained by subscriptions from St. Andrew's parishioners, collected by Mr. Albert Prestidge, sen.

The business meeting followed, at which the chair was occupied by the Vicar, who was supported by Messrs. W. S. Sidaway (Vicar's warden) and E. Baker (people's warden). The Chairman said how pleased he was to meet them, and on behalf of himself, the wardens and Church Council he gave them a hearty welcome to Netherton.

After business of a routine character had been disposed of, several new members were added to the roll, including the church-wardens, who readily consented to their names to be added to the list of honorary members.

It was resolved to hold the next meeting, which is the annual one, at Dudley, on Saturday, March 1st.

It was also decided to attempt the quarterly peal at Netherton, the date and other arrangements being left in the hands of the Ringing Master (Mr. John Goodman, jun.). The question of the Guild's monthly practice was again discussed, and it was arranged that the practice be again proceeded with on the first Monday in each month, meeting at 7.45 p.m., at Dudley Parish Church.

On the motion of Mr. Price, seconded by Mr. James George, a welcome was extended to Mr. Harry Mason after a long absence.—Mr. Mason feelingly replied. He said he had received many letters from his ringing friends, and he very much appreciated their kindness. He had written to a few, but at the moment he had been unable to reply to all, and he hoped they would accept his appreciation and thanks. Mr. Mason proposed that compliments and congratulations be given to Mr. James George on having recently attained his 76th birthday, also to Mr. John Goodman, sen., 'father' of the Dudley band, with the hope that they might be spared for many years yet to come.—Mr. George briefly thanked the members for their congratulations, and Mr. John Goodman, jun., replied on behalf of his father, who was unable to be present.

The secretary mentioned that since their last meeting the Rev. Dr. Swindell, the venerable Vicar of Sedgley, had passed on, and on behalf of the members he had sent a letter of sympathy and respect to the family of the deceased gentleman. The Chairman proposed that the secretary's action be endorsed, and the motion was carried in silence, the members standing.

At the close of the meeting, on the proposition of Mr. Mason, seconded by Mr. S. J. Hughes, and supported by Mr. J. George, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar of Netherton for his kindness in granting permission to hold the meeting at his church, also for conducting the service and for his admirable and interesting address, for the use of the tower and bells, and the School House in which to hold the meeting, also to the wardens for their attendance and interest, and to the organist for the musical part of the service. A special vote of thanks was given to Mr. Albert Prestidge for his work in making the necessary arrangements for the tea and meeting, and to Mrs. Prestidge and the ladies who assisted her in preparing and serving the tea and who looked after the comfort of all present. Thanks are also added to those who subscribed to the tea fund, and to all who had in any way assisted in making the meeting a happy and successful one.—Mr. Prestidge thanked the members for their vote of thanks, and said that it was a pleasure for him to be of service.—Mr. Churchwarden Sidaway also thanked the members, and said what a pleasure it had been for him to be with them that afternoon.—Mr. Churchwarden Baker briefly thanked the members, and said people missed a lot by not knowing anything about their bells or bellringers. It was a pleasure to him to be with them that afternoon, and he would look forward to meeting them again.—The Vicar also responded. Afterwards some of the members again returned to the belfry and kept the bells going in various methods, and so ended a happy and enjoyable meeting.

WEDDING BELLS.

On Saturday last, at Holy Trinity Church, Old Hill, Staffs, an attempt was made for a peal of Grandsire Triples, but owing to the bad 'go' of some of the bells, it was brought round at half-way (2,520 changes): B. Gough 1, P. Hackett 2, G. Swallow 3, J. Price 4, W. Green 5, H. Goodman 6, J. Goodman (conductor) 7, G. Guest 8.

This was rung to celebrate the wedding of Miss R. Price, daughter of Mr. J. Price, the esteemed leader of the Old Hill ringers, to Mr. J. Cox, also of Old Hill. After the ringing, the ringers were kindly entertained to tea by Mr. and Mrs. Cox, to whom the ringers extend their thanks, and wish them every happiness in their future life.

The bells need the attention of expert bell hangers.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.NORTH BUCKS BRANCH'S GRANT TO 12-BELL FUND.

A very successful quarterly meeting of the North Bucks Branch was held at Newport Pagnell on Saturday, December 7th, when the attendance was larger than really had been expected. The following towers were represented: Bletchley, Beachampton, Bradwell, Chicheley, Emberton, Fenny Stratford, Stony Stratford, Simpson, Stoke Goldington, with visitors from Bedford, Husbands Crawley and Linslade. The bells were going in various methods during the afternoon, and the choral service was conducted by the chairman of the branch (the Rev. L. Moxon). Tea was served in the school-room, when about 28 sat down. Very welcome, but unexpected, visitors put in an appearance in the persons of the Master and the Guild secretary (Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn and Mr. R. C. Hibbert), and a very cordial reception was given them.

The Secretary (Mr. W. Sear) announced that there was nothing special in connection with branch business to discuss, but he would like to propose that a grant of £5 be given to the Berkshire 12-Bell Fund. This was carried unanimously.

Both the Master and secretary addressed the meeting, and thanked North Bucks for their generous support of the twelve-bell scheme.

The usual votes of thanks were given to the preacher, choir and organist, and to the ladies for providing tea.

This brought a very pleasant meeting to a close. The methods rung during the afternoon ranged from Grandsire and Stedman Triples to Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Major.

QUICK PEALS.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I have wondered why no one has raised a query, regarding the extraordinarily quick peal rung at Crayford some time ago.

I can understand why such times as 2 hrs. 20 mins. are considered ordinary at the Loughborough Bell Foundry, when the weight of metal, etc., is taken into consideration, but for a quicker peal to be rung on a peal of bells, with a tenor double the weight, is, to put it mildly, remarkable. I should like to see it repeated, because if it can be accomplished once it can be done again, or, possibly, it could be shortened still further.

In concluding, I might say that my first peal of Major (Treble Bob method) took 2 hrs. 22 mins., and I have also rung in the quickest peal yet on tower bells, which would have been faster still if they had just put on a bit more speed as I asked them to.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Southern District of the Surrey Association was held at St. John's, Redhill, on Saturday, December 7th. The following towers were represented: Godstone, Reigate, Limpsfield Chart, Horley, Merstham, Burstow and the local band, with visitors from Crawley, Croydon and East Grinstead. The bells were well utilised during the afternoon.

Tea and business followed the usual service. Mr. H. Goodwin and Mr. H. Shelley, of St. John's, Redhill, were elected members, and the election of Mr. Geo. Oliver, of Crawley, prior to a peal at Horley, was ratified.

It was proposed to hold the annual district meeting at Godstone on January 18th.

Votes of thanks were accorded the Rev. L. G. Mannering for his address at the service, and for the use of the bells; also Mr. A. Gear for assisting in making the arrangements; and to the ladies who waited at the table.

Ringing was then resumed, and the bells lowered about 8.30.

THE FIRST PEAL AT AMBROSDEN, OXFORDSHIRE.DEDICATION OF COMMEMORATION TABLET.

On Sunday evening, December 8th, a peal tablet of polished oak, recording the first peal on the bells, which was rung (as reported in 'The Ringing World') on Saturday, November 16th, by a mixed band of members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, was dedicated during the evening service by the Vicar (Rev. C. C. David Oake).

After the third collect, the ringers and clergy proceeded from the chancel to the ringing chamber, which is situated on the ground floor at the west end of, and open to, the church. Here, with the Vicar and special preacher (Rev. Capt. Sharp, of Oxford) standing in the centre, and with the ringers in a circle, each man by his respective rope, the Vicar pronounced the customary dedicatory prayers, immediately after which some well-struck rounds were rung by the following members of the Ambrosden Society and Oxford Diocesan Guild: Frederick Sharpe, Marcus Turner, Sidney Taylor, Joseph Turner, jun., Mervyn Harry Tuffrey, Joseph Turner, sen., Alfred Turner and Arthur Turner.

During the service the Vicar made special reference to the bells, remarking that Saturday, December 7th, was the first anniversary of their dedication, and saying how pleased he was that, within a year, the first peal had been rung, and the peal tablet erected which they had just dedicated.

The service closed with further ringing.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

'A Merry Christmas' to all our readers.

Whimpe, Devon, bells are to be dedicated to-morrow. By a slip, it was stated in one part of our last issue that the dedication was to take place last Saturday.

The City Corporation has contributed one thousand guineas to the restoration of Bow Church, Cheapside, and, we understand, a definite portion of this is 'earmarked' for the bells. It is to be hoped that this very necessary part of the work will now soon be taken in hand, and that a really comprehensive scheme will be carried out.

Among the earliest peals of Stedman Cinquses was one of 6,334 rung at Christ Church, Spitalfields, by the Cumberland Youths on December 20th, 1806. The same band on December 13th had rung over 5,500 changes in an unsuccessful attempt for the same peal, and in the interim, viz., on December 15th, the Junior Society of Cumberland had rung a peal of 5,886. That was in the 'good old days.'

John Cox called the first peal of Stedman Caters rung at St. Saviour's, Southwark, on December 20th, 1836.

The opening of the new ring of eight bells at Claybrooke, Leicestershire, which was to have taken place to-morrow, has been postponed until January 18th. The augmentation of the four old bells into an octave has been carried out by Messrs. Taylor and Co.

The members of St. Mary-le-Tower Society, having received many letters of congratulation upon ringing the first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus, wish, through 'The Ringing World,' to thank all the writers for their kind and encouraging remarks.

The first peal by the Lancashire Association was Grandsire Triples at Bolton on December 22nd, 1877. The last survivor of the company that scored this peal was Mr. H. W. Jackson, who died in January last.

The Christmas holidays have been a favourite time for record-making, and we have not space to mention all the long lengths accomplished. They have included the 11,111 Stedman Cinquses at Birmingham on Boxing Day, 1901, the 15,168 Kent Treble Bob Major at Elland in 1831, and the 10,440 Cambridge Surprise Royal at Walthamstow in 1923. Two Superlative records (since surpassed) were also made on Boxing Day, 9,312 at Crawley, Sussex, in 1894, and 9,728 at Clent, Worcestershire, in 1910.

The record length of Double Norwich (17,104) was made at South Wigston on December 27th, 1904, and the Double Oxford Major record (10,176) was rung at Brierley Hill on December 27th, 1909.

Two other interesting performances of a bygone age may also be mentioned. On December 26th, 1782, 5,040 'London Union Trebbles' was rung at St. Giles-in-the-Fields by the Society of London Youths, 'being the first peal in that method.' What was the method?

Squire Proctor and his band of village residents rang a peal of 6,048 London Surprise Major at Bennington, Herts, on December 26th, 1871, 'being the greatest scientific performance ever achieved in change ringing.'

The late Sir Arthur Heywood, who died in 1918, was born on Christmas Day eighty years ago.

Mr. Perkins, of Hemingford Abbots, Hunts, has had the misfortune to break his ankle, and will be kept from ringing for a time.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.DEVIZES BRANCH AT HOLT.

A meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at St. Katherine's Church, Holt, on Saturday, December 7th. Ringing commenced about 3 p.m., and later on a peal board, recording the two peals of Grandsire Doubles rung by the local ringers, under the conductorship of Mr. W. C. West, of Melksham, was unveiled by Mrs. Scott, of Stanbridge House, Holt, and dedicated by the Vicar, the Rev. T. Roberts. This was followed by the Guild service, which was conducted by the Vicar, the lesson being read by the chairman of the branch (Mr. C. D. Heginbotham), Mr. Wicks, of Devizes, being the organist.

In a few well-chosen remarks, the Vicar welcomed the branch to Holt, and referred to the interest the local ringers were taking in their work, as shown by the board which had been unveiled. People

Ringers, including Mr. W. J. Prescott, of Bath, were present from Aldbourne, Bradford-on-Avon (Holy Trinity), Bratton, Devizes, St. Johns and St. Mary, Southdown, Holt, Rowde, Trowbridge and Melksham.

Touces of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob were rung during the afternoon and evening. No doubt more ringers would have been present but for the flooded state of the roads.

Holt Church, dedicated to St. Katherine, was restored during the year 1890-91, when the clerestory and chancel were added to the church. The tower dates between 1450 and 1500, the font is late Norman, with herring-bone ornamentation. The east window is a memorial to Miss Edith Mackey, daughter of Mr. Alexander Mackey, who at that time resided at Holt Manor, and afterwards at the Grange, Trowbridge. He was one of the first vice-presidents of the Salisbury Guild, and a great friend to the Trowbridge ringers of his day. The central light of the window shows St. Katherine, the patron saint, with the spiked wheel.

The bells at St. Katherine's Church, Holt, Wilts, are a ring of six, with tenor of 9 cwt. 5 lb., and the most interesting of them is the 5th, a pre-Reformation bell from the Bristol Foundry about the year 1500. It bears the usual Bristol cross and a rare medallion, which is also found at Churchill, Somerset. This bell (36½ inches in diameter) has the inscription, 'Sancte Michael ora pro nobis.' Up to the year 1905 there were five bells—the present 5th being then the 4th—all of different dates. They bore the following inscriptions:—

Treble: William Earle: William Bissie: Benefactors 1665 IE:
LG (bell) W (bell) P.R.P (tree.)
2nd: Thomas Sartain, Curate.
Roger Goor, Churchwarden of Holt (star).
3rd: JAMES BAILEY, C.W., 1716.
W (bell) C.
4th: Present 5th.
5th: THO. CARINGTON: C.W. L (bell) C. 1698.

THE CHURCH OF ST. KATHERINE, HOLT, WILTS.

who had never taken any interest in ringing were now beginning to do so. Ringers, he said, should make the first object of their ringing the glory of God, and then they would get greater pleasure from their ringing.

Tea followed in the schoolroom, Mrs. Scott honouring the company with her presence.

A short business meeting followed, Mr. C. D. Heginbotham presiding. The Secretary (Mr. F. Green) reported the receipt of £22 2s. from the Parochial Church Council of Holy Trinity, Bradford-on-Avon, and £1 4s. from the Parochial Church Council of St. James-the-Great, Bratton.—A vote of thanks was passed to those Councils.

Rev. Tudor Jefferies, Vicar of St. James', Southbroom, was elected an hon. member, and Mr. W. Bolwell, of Hounslow, late of Devizes, a life ringing member.

On the motion of the chairman, a vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells and conducting the service, to the organist and to those who prepared the tea.

Of these, the 3rd was by William Cockey, of Frome, and the tenor by Lewis Cockey, of Bristol, who is also found at Sutton Veney.

In 1905 the first three and the 5th were recast by Warner, and a treble added. The treble had the following inscription on the waist: 'To the Glory of God and in Memory of the Rev. H. H. Moseley, B.A., Vicar 1865-1901. This bell was given and the bells re-cast by the People of Holt, 1905'; and the tenor, 'George A. S. Melford, Vicar; William Deverill, Walter Buckland, Churchwardens.'

These bells were a very poor lot, especially the tenor, and consequently they were recently recast (except the 5th) by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

At the time of the Edward IV. Inventory (1553), it was recorded that there were at 'Holtte, iij bells.'

The belfry door, made by a parishioner is interesting. Carved on it are six bells, surmounted by the date, 1475, which is supposed to be the year in which the tower was erected, and below, '1914, Vicar, Rev. T. Roberts, M.A.,' and a St. Katherine's wheel.

BELLS UNDERGROUND.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In reply to the query in this week's 'Ringing World' as to whether handbells have been rung underground before, several attempts were made for a peal of Stedman Triples in Chislehurst Caves by a College Youths band in 1904. These caves certainly bear no resemblance to a coal mine, but are completely underground, the spot where the attempts were made being about 80 to 100 feet down.—Yours faithfully,

T. GROOMBRIDGE, JUN.

IN A COAL MINE.

Dear Sir,—It may be of interest to our Leicestershire friends to know that a 336 Grandsire Triples and a course of Stedman Triples was rung in the West Pit, Cramlington, some years ago, by B. C. Dixon, J. E. R. Keen, O. Simm and yours sincerely,

W. H. HARBER.

Dear Sir,—As far back as 1904, a party of Yorkshire ringers, including the late Mr. Charles Jackson, of Hull, rang a course of Grandsire Caters down a colliery at Gildersome, near Morley, Yorkshire. Trusting this will be of interest to the enquirer, I remain, on behalf of some of the Yorkshire party, yours sincerely,

WM. AMBLER.

WEEKLY PEAL ATTEMPT FOR TWO YEARS.PERSEVERANCE OF RINGERS A CENTURY AGO.

On December 22nd, 1828, 'The Times,' then price 7d., recorded the following: 'On Thursday, the 18th inst., eight members of the Junior College Society, members of St. Saviour's, Southwark and Trinity Church, Newington, rang on the bells at the latter place a true and excellent peal of grandsire triples on Stedman's principle, containing 5,040 changes, which was completed in three hours and four minutes, and is the greatest performance ever achieved upon any peal of bells in the Kingdom. The above peal contains 598 bobs and 122 singles, and is the most perfect of the kind ever produced, but has never been rung until the present occasion, when every bob and single was regularly called and made.'

Now, however, comes the most illuminating part of the story. The paragraph goes on: 'Two years have elapsed since the Society first attempted to ring this peal, during which time they have assembled every Thursday evening to perform it, and in the various unsuccessful attempts which have been made, they have rung upwards of 200,000 changes in this most difficult of all the systems in the art of ringing. This system of ringing was invented by Mr. Fabian Steadman, a native of Cambridge, about the middle of the 17th century.'

THE 12-BELL PEAL RECORD.

PAINSWICK ATTEMPT COMES TO GRIEF.

The attempt to set up a new record length on twelve bells at Painswick on Saturday was unsuccessful.

After a rather late start, and with new ropes, the ringing came to grief after two hours. It is hoped to make another attempt early in the new year.

In the afternoon a peal of ordinary length was rung.

NEW RING OF EIGHT AT GORING.

PRE-REFORMATION BELLS PRESERVED.

There were probably few happier and prouder people in the country on Wednesday of last week than John Bower, the foreman of the Goring tower, when, after their dedication by Bishop Shaw, he was entrusted by his Vicar with the ropes of a ring of eight bells.

For upwards of forty years he has kept a Minor band together at Goring, and together with his old friend, James Aberly, has done his best to teach change ringing in the Bradfield Deanery Branch of the Oxford Guild.

The old ring of six at Goring was, from a musical point of view, a poor lot, but it contained two pre-Reformation bells, one of which bears the name of Richard Wymbis, who was casting at the end of the thirteenth century, and must surely hold an almost unique place among church bells. There must be few bells that have done duty for six hundred years, including half a century of Minor ringing, as this has done.

These old bells have now been taken out of the ring to be handed as treasures of the church to succeeding generations of Goring folk. The other four have been broken up and have gone towards making as delightful a ring of eight as good ringers love to handle and as bell lovers like to listen to.

At the close of the service the bells were rung in Grandsire, Stedman, Kent, Double Norwich and Cambridge.

Many and hearty were the congratulations received by Mr. Bower from his old friends who were present at the realising of a dream of almost a lifetime.

The entire cost of the bells and necessary work was met by the pious benefaction of one who of late worshipped in and loved Goring Church, and who left in his will a sum of money for this specific purpose. The work has been excellently carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

The ringers present were the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild), Messrs. R. T. Hibbert, A. A. Hughes, G. Gilbert, J. Shepherd, H. Tucker, J. Aberly, A. Tyler, and Miss S. Davis and the local ringers. Touches of Cambridge Surprise, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob Major and Grandsire Triples were rung.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

NEW ORGANISATION COMPLETED.

A general meeting of the North Norfolk Branch of the association, the fourth and last of a series under the new constitution, was, by kind permission of the Vicar (the Rev. H. McMullen), held in the belfry of St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, on Saturday, December 7th, for the election of officers and committee. The president of the association (the Archdeacon of Norwich) presided, and supporting him were Mr. Arthur L. Coleman (general secretary and treasurer), Messrs. G. P. Burton, W. C. Duffield, H. J. Borrett (Ringing Master, St. Peter Mancroft Guild), W. B. Duncan, B. S. Thompson and R. W. Cooke (district secretaries), and members from Buxton, Dereham, Fakenham, Gressenhall, Hovingham, Norwich, Reepham and Wymondham.

The general secretary gave a brief review of the new scheme under which four branches had been formed, and said that the special business before the meeting was the election of chairman, hon. secretary, and committee for the North Norfolk Branch.

The President referred to an article which had been contributed by their general secretary (Mr. Arthur L. Coleman) to the 'Norwich Diocesan Gazette,' and said as editor of the 'Gazette' he was glad to have had the opportunity of publishing it, and thus bringing such an important matter as that of church bells and ringers before the clergy of the diocese. The President then asked the members to proceed to elect their chairman, hon. secretary and committee.

Mr. George P. Burton was elected chairman, Mr. William D. Duncan hon. secretary, Messrs. William Clover, Robert W. Cooke, William C. Duffield, Ben S. Thompson and Bertie Whiteside members of the committee.

Mr. G. A. Cooke moved, and Mr. Coleman seconded, the election of the Rev. Ernest F. Morison, Rector of Fakenham, M.A., an hon. member of the association.

It was resolved that a meeting of the North Norfolk Branch be held at Wymondham in January, 1930.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Rev. H. McMullen (Vicar of St. Peter Mancroft) for the use of the belfry, for holding the meeting, and also for the use of the bells after the meeting.

The meeting then closed, and the members rang some short touches upon the bells, but being Saturday and market day the ringing was strictly limited.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Owing to the Christmas holidays, 'The Ringing World' will have to go to press much earlier than usual next week.

Reports of events which have already taken place during this week should be sent in at once, and reports of peals rung and meetings held to-morrow (Saturday) should be forwarded in order to reach us not later than first post on Monday. Nothing received after that time can be inserted in the next issue.

Secretaries are particularly requested to note that Monday, first post, is the latest time for receiving notices for next week's 'Ringing World.'

ANOTHER SURPRISE MAJOR METHOD.

To the Editor.

Sir,—We shall soon have as many Surprise Major as Surprise Minor methods—mostly variations of each other.

However, before this happens, would these enterprising constructors oblige by giving the Exercise a new Triple method—one really worth ringing? Moreover, if composers of peals would try their hand at producing a fresh peal of Grandsire Triples, the space occupied in your columns would not be taken up.—Yours faithfully,

D. GECIL-WILLIAMS.

Shirley, Southampton.

[It may interest our correspondent to know that Mr. J. A. Trollope, who is working on Surprise methods, has got over 2,000 of them, and they are still coming.—Ed. 'R.W.']

THE EXTENSION OF NEW DOUBLES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I am sorry to have to write you again on this matter, but I think you will agree necessity demands it. I, also, interviewed on Saturday, November 30th, two of the officers of the St. Stephen's (Bristol) Ringing Guild, to give it its correct title, and this is their evidence reproduced as faithfully as possible, although not verbatim:—

The Hon. Secretary: 'I don't remember ringing any new method of Caters, unless it was one of those easily explained, such as Erin (from Stedman) or Double Norwich (from the Major). I know nothing of any other.'

The Conductor: 'I believe we did have a "go" at it one night, but we did not ring a course. We did not have a second "go."'

The Sub-Conductor (myself) says: 'If it was rung at St. Stephen's it must have been on a practice night when I was not present.'

It is just possible that (the method being rung at St. James') some of the St. James' band came to St. Stephen's one evening and tried the extension with some of our members standing it. I must confess I have never rung even a course of New Doubles, nor have I been in a tower while it was being rung. In fact the only person who has ever mentioned the method to me (previous to November 30th) was Mr. Guise, when he told me they were ringing it at St. James', and asked if I would stand in a peal of it. He mentioned the extension to Caters and Cinques, and said that two working bells would be on the front dodging together from the time the treble left till she returned. On this account I disapproved of the method, and heard nothing more of it until less than a month ago in 'The Ringing World.'

With regard to my possible absence on the occasion of the method being rung, I would point out that (previous to Whit Monday, 1928) 'absent' marks against my name, either for practice or Sunday ringing, were conspicuous for their rarity.

This morning (December 15th) I interviewed that most excellent servant of our Guild, the steeplekeeper, with regard to the above, and he says: 'I know nothing about it. I have never rung it, and don't want to.' He also said that the hon. secretary (who, I take it, is one of the officials Mr. Guise interviewed) repudiates the statement that he corroborated the assertion, and also repeated, in effect, the words given in my letter above (December 13th, 1929).

This evening a member of the committee also disclaimed all knowledge of the method or its being rung at St. Stephen's. In view of his position as the holder of the keys, the evidence of the steeplekeeper is most valuable, and emboldens me to again say: 'Mr. Guise is wrong. The method has never been rung at St. Stephen's by the St. Stephen's Guild.' I will go further and say that, without the four I have mentioned, and the 'non-effective' members, we could not ring it.

Mr. Guise's last letter was pure bluff, not to call it by an uglier name.—Yours truly,

W. A. CAVE.

THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.A REVIEW.

The Lancashire Association's annual report is always an interesting as well as an informative one. Established in 1876, the association has grown from very small beginnings to a total of nearly 1,500 members. At the end of 1879 there were 11 honorary and 90 ringing members, at the end of 1929 there are 80 honorary and 1,406 ringing members. These last figures are not the highest totals reached, as in 1927 they were 92 and 1,451 respectively, but Lancashire is suffering badly from the general depression in trade, and this doubtless easily accounts for the falling-off in membership. There is now a total of 1,144 resident ringing members, of whom 99 were elected in the period covered by the report. The year's income amounted to £71 13s. 6d., and the ordinary expenditure to £63 16s. 6d., leaving a net gain on the year of £7 17s. It is pointed out, however, that the amount received only represents 820 ringers.

NOTEWORTHY PERFORMANCES.

There were 104 peals rung during the year under review, the outstanding performance being the 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Ashton-under-Lyne, and the heartiest congratulations of the association go out to the ringers concerned on the accomplishment of such a marvellous performance. Grandsire Triples (23) headed the peal list, and these contained a good percentage of first peals. The report singles out for special mention several of the performances.

'We are glad to note,' it says, 'the steady progress made in our Preston Branch, and offer to them our congratulations on their two recent successes, Cambridge Surprise Major at Hoghton and Kent Royal at Blackburn Cathedral, both these peals being the first rung by that branch. It is our pleasure to record a peal of Superlative Surprise Major rung by the local company at Newchurch, near Warrington, in honour of the 400th anniversary of the parish and the silver jubilee of the present church. Peals of Double Norwich Court Bob Major have been accomplished at Standish and Church-kirk by the local ringers there. Our Liverpool Branch is again to the fore with peals of Stedman Cinques, Kent Maximus and Cambridge Surprise Maximus, rung at St. Nicholas', the peal of Cambridge along with a peal of Grandsire Triples at Bolton being rung in connection with the National Thanksgiving for the King's recovery. Bolton Branch has provided us with a very youthful conductor, and we congratulate Mr. P. Crook, jun., on his excellent performance.'

'A noteworthy feature is again the large number of peals rung by local companies, and we look forward to the time when all our towers will attempt that very worthy object—"To ring at least one peal each year on their own bells, with their own local band." It is always a pleasure to record the footnote, "First peal by all the band," but when this is accompanied also with "All service ringers at the above church," the pleasure is even greater. One such comes from our Wigan Branch at Rainford, and we extend to the ringers there our hearty congratulations.'

'Great credit is also due to our ringers in Manchester for their handbell performances, the peals of Oxford Royal and Oxford Major being the first in that method by our association on handbells. During the year Mr. P. Laffin, of Pendleton, and Mr. A. Potter, of Walkden, rang their 100th peal, whilst their 50th was accomplished by Mr. S. Holt, of Middleton, Mr. W. Horan, of Todmorden, and Mr. W. Taylor, of Penwortham.'

'Fifty-four members rang their first peal, 128 their first peal in some particular method, whilst eight members conducted their first peal.'

PEAL BOARDS PRESERVED.

'During the year the ring of eight at Leyland has been rebung and increased to ten, but unfortunately the association has not been allowed to hold a meeting there. The ring of eight formerly in St. John's, Deansgate, Manchester, has been removed to Eccles Parish Church. With the exception of the tenor the bells have been recast, and Eccles is now proud to possess a ring which in tone and weight is worthy of that ancient church. The peal boards formerly in St. John's tower are now preserved at Eccles. The ring of eight at Milnrow has been rebung in a new frame, and the ring of eight at Halewood has also been recast and rebung.'

The report adds: 'We have suffered a great loss by the passing away in January of Mr. H. W. Jackson, of Bolton, who had been treasurer of the association almost, if not quite, from the beginning. He had reached a good old age, but his interest was unabated and his genial presence at our meetings will be much missed. It is proposed that a memorial to him should be placed in the Church of Holy Trinity, Bolton, near to that of his old friend, Joel Redford, a former secretary of the association. We have also regretfully to record the death of three other ringing members, M. Oldfield and E. Oldfield, of Eccles, and W. H. Harrison, of Colne, and of several honorary members. Among them we recall with gratitude the names of Canon Rowntree, late Rector of Stretford; the Rev. T. Taylor Evans, late Vicar of Holy Trinity, Bolton; Dr. A. J. Wilson, late Vicar of St. Mary's, Oldham, who was largely concerned with getting the great ring there recast and rebung; and Mr. A. E. Holme, of Dewsbury, a former vice-president of our association.'

'Our best thanks are always due to the branch secretaries on whose labours in regularly attending branch meetings and keeping in touch with ringers in their districts, the practical working of the association chiefly depends.'

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

A very enjoyable meeting of the Warwickshire Guild was held at Newbold-on-Avon, near Rugby, on Saturday last. Members were present from Allesley, Chilvers Coton, Exhall, Husbands Bosworth, Leamington, Lillington, Monk's Kirby, Nuncaton, Shilton, Rugby and Wolvey, together with the local band. The Vicar (Rev. Noel Prentice) extended a hearty welcome to all the ringers, a number of whom were paying their first visit to Newbold to try the ring of six recently rebung on ball bearings by Messrs. Taylor and Co. Touches of Plain Bob, Grandsire, Cambridge and London were rung during the afternoon. At five o'clock the Vicar escorted the members to the Parish Room, where a splendid tea was provided. At the close of the tea Mr. A. Wilkerson (Nuncaton) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for his kindly welcome, adding that it made a great difference to the success of a meeting when the incumbent took an interest in the ringers.

The Vicar invited the members to stay in the room as long as they pleased, and as the room was a cosy one, and a box of handbells had been brought in, the ringers needed no second invitation. Well-struck courses of Grandsire Caters, Bob Major and Stedman Triples were rung by Messrs. T. W. Chapman (Nuncaton), J. A. Fenton (Rugby), J. B. Fenton (Rugby), J. White (Allesley), J. Hunt (Allesley), T. Beale (Wolvey).

A return was made to the belfry later, when ringing in various methods was continued until about eight o'clock, bringing to a close the last and certainly one of the most enjoyable meetings of the year.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.EASTERN DIVISION.

A quarterly meeting of the Eastern District was held at Rotherfield on Saturday, December 7th. Owing to the inclement weather there was rather a poor attendance, about 15 members being present from the following towers: Eastbourne (St. Saviour's), East Grinstead, Heathfield, Mayfield, Lewes, and Sevenoaks, together with some members of the local company. Following the service, the members partook of tea at the King's Arms Hotel, at which the Rector (Rev. H. E. Collins) presided.

At the business meeting which followed, the Rector occupied the chair, and in the absence of the hon. secretary, through illness, Mr. A. R. Miles took over these duties. The following members were elected: Messrs. R. C. Mitchell, J. G. L. Mitchell, E. B. Wilson, R. Filtness, E. E. Brazier, H. S. Hineon, all of Rotherfield; Mr. E. L. Taylor, of Sevenoaks, Kent, non-resident life member; and Rev. H. E. Collins, Rector of Rotherfield, hon. life member.

Mr. R. J. Dawe proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for his address at the service, for presiding at the tea, and also for taking the chair at the meeting. This was supported by Mr. A. R. Miles, and carried.

The Rector, in responding, said how very pleased he was to be present, and hoped that another meeting would be arranged in the near future, and, further, he hoped that the visit could be made in the summer, when Rotherfield would be more attractive.

Mr. W. Booth proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Brazier and to the local ringers for making the arrangements for the meeting. This was also put to the meeting and carried.

The members then returned to the tower and indulged in further ringing until about 8 p.m.

OLD 'WAR HORSE' RETURNS.

At Canterbury Cathedral, on Tuesday, December 10th, as a last short touch for practice, 700 of Grandsire Triples (part of Holt's Original): P. J. Paine 1, C. W. Brett 2, W. E. Pitman, Mus. Bac., 3, F. G. Brett 4, F. R. Weller 5, H. G. Fairbrass 6, G. G. Jenkins 7, M. W. Pierce 8.

As Mr. H. G. Fairbrass conducted his first 5,040, Holt's Original, at Herne Hill, near Faversham, on May 30th, 1887, it being the first peal on the bells after augmentation to eight, it was suggested that he should call 700 of that peal, but he declined with thanks. However, Mr. W. E. Pitman came to the rescue, and volunteered to conduct it, which he did in a masterly manner, while the ringer of the 6th took to it like an old war horse at the sound of the trumpet.

MR. J. LOWE APPEAL FUND.

The amount received for this fund was £38 4s. 7½d. The expenses were 17s. 7½d., and the balance has been paid to Mr. J. Lowe, who desires to thank all ringers and friends who so kindly came to his assistance. The accounts were audited by Mr. W. H. Shuker.

In the last list it should have been stated that £1 12s. was collected at the Kent County Association Lewisham District meeting at Deptford, and 12s. sent by Holy Trinity, Dartford, ringers and friends.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.WESTERN DIVISION.

A meeting of the Western Division of the Yorkshire Association was held at St. Michael's, Headingley, on Saturday. There was a good attendance of members, the following towers being represented: Armley, Lindley, Guiseley, Rothwell, Denholme, Calverley, Bradford, Hunslet, Queensbury, Birstall, Bramley, Marsden, Pudsey, Shipley, Keighley, Batley, Far Headingley, and the local company. During the afternoon the bells were kept going in various methods, and at five o'clock tea was partaken of in the Parochial Institute.

Mr. J. Cotterell (vice-president) presided over the business meeting.

Two members were elected, viz., Mr. J. I. Robertshaw (Keighley) and Mr. D. Snowball (Lindley). For the annual meeting, Calverley was suggested, and Mr. C. Pratt said he would be pleased to see the Yorkshire Association at Calverley. He would put the matter before the churchwardens (there being no Vicar at present) to see if a meeting could be arranged.

Mention was made of the regrettable absence of Mr. H. Lindsay owing to illness, and the secretary was requested to write to him expressing the sorrow of the members, and wishing him a speedy recovery.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells, and to the local company for the arrangements made. These were responded to by Canon R. H. Malden and Mr. P. J. Johnson.

Ringing on tower bells and handbells was afterwards indulged in.

SUCCESSFUL JOINT GATHERING AT RAWMARSH.

A joint meeting of the Doncaster and District Society, the Barnsley and District Society, the Sheffield and District Society and the Southern Division of the Yorkshire Association was held at Rawmarsh, near Rotherham, on Saturday, and proved a great success. The majority of towers in the various districts were represented, and nearly 40 members were present at the service conducted by Canon Seavell, Rector of Rawmarsh. Tea in the Church Room was followed by the business meeting, at which the Rector was voted to the chair and was supported by Mr. Lewis, vice-president, Yorkshire Association, Mr. Nash, president, Barnsley and District Society, Mr. Gledstone, hon. secretary, Doncaster and District Society, and Mr. R. Harrison, jun., hon. secretary, Sheffield and District Society.

Before business commenced, Mr. Lewis made sympathetic reference to the loss the association had sustained by the death of Mr. F. Willey, of Sheffield, a vice-president for many years, and the members stood a few moments in silence as a last mark of respect. The secretary's explanation of the meeting not being held at All Saints', Sheffield, was accepted.

Mr. A. Tate, of Wakefield Cathedral, was elected a new member of the association.

As no invitation was forthcoming for the annual meeting of the division in March, it was left to the committee to arrange.

The Secretary gave a hearty welcome to the kindred associations, and spoke of the very happy relations between them all and the good feeling which existed in the area covered by the Southern Division. Mr. Nash replied in his usual felicitous manner. He hoped that more joint meetings would be held, as they all tended to bring them more together, and were helpful in every way. Mr. Gledstone and Mr. Harrison supported Mr. Nash's remarks, and expressed the thanks of their associations for the invitation extended to them by the Southern Division.

Votes of thanks to the Rector, the churchwardens, the ladies for the splendid tea provided, and to the local company for the arrangements made were heartily carried, and replied to by the Rector in his customary happy manner. It is hoped this will be the forerunner of many such successful gatherings.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.THE WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON GUILD.

The first annual meeting of the Wednesday Afternoon Guild was held at Chester-le-Street on December 11th, when a good 'beat up' of 14 ringers gathered. The bells were kept going until late time, and after enjoying a really splendid repast a short meeting was held.

The president of the association wished the Guild a long life, as it filled a gap by enabling ringers who could not, owing to their business, attend Saturday meetings, to ring.

Mr. Geo. Siddle (Chester-le-Street) was unanimously re-elected secretary, and the next meeting was fixed at Houghton-le-Spring on Wednesday, February 12th.

The ringers then returned to the belfry, where the bells were kept going merrily throughout the evening. The methods rung were Kent Treble Bob Minor, Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Major and Oxford Treble Bob Major.

PINNER, MIDDLESEX.—On Monday evening, December 9th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples in 44 mins.: R. Colyer 1, H. Ive 2, P. Thrift 3, W. Bunce 4, G. M. Kilby (conductor) 5, T. Collins 6, H. Kilby 7, T. Humphreys 8.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.A WELCOME TO HESTON.

A meeting of the South and West District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held at Heston on Saturday, December 7th, when, in defiance of the boisterous elements, 36 signed the roll. The bells pealed forth at 3.30 prompt, and methods from Grandsire Triples up to and including Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Major were practised, and rounds for the probationers were rung.

The company were entertained to tea in the Parish Hall by the Rev. George Craggs (Vicar) and Mrs. Craggs. The Vicar presided, supported by Mr. C. Bird (vice-president of the association), Mr. J. A. Trollope (hon. treasurer), Mr. F. W. Goodfellow (Ringing Master) and Mrs. Goodfellow, and the hon. secretary (Mr. W. H. Hollier).

The Vicar gave the Guild a most hearty welcome to Heston, and expressed the pleasure of Mrs. Craggs and himself to meet them there that afternoon.

A social, as well as the business meeting, followed tea. Messrs. F. W. Goodfellow, J. A. Trollope, E. S. Turner, W. G. Wilson, and J. R. Mackman rang a touch on the handbells.

Mr. Mackman and his son Howard rendered some fine selections on their handbells, which were greatly appreciated by the company.

The following members were elected: Mr. T. Setter, to St. Andrew's, Hillingdon; Mr. Wm. Bolwell and Master Brian Rose, to Heston; and Mrs. Craggs an honorary member.

St. Andrew's was selected for the next meeting on Saturday, January 11th, of which due notice will appear in 'The Ringing World'.

Further ringing on handbells in several methods took place, after which a most hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar and Mrs. Craggs for their kind hospitality and for the hearty welcome given to the Guild. The Vicar, on rising to respond on behalf of himself and Mrs. Craggs, was received with acclamation.

Thanks were accorded to Mrs. Spackman (hostess) and her assistant, to Mr. and Master Mackman, to Mr. Wm. Lewis, of the local band, and to all who assisted in making the last meeting of the year 1929 successful and enjoyable.

The tower was then again visited, and ringing resumed until nine p.m., and all agreed that a most enjoyable afternoon and evening had been spent.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.CHRISTCHURCH DISTRICT SECRETARY'S LONG SERVICE.

The annual meeting of the Christchurch District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild took place on Saturday, December 7th. The ringers attended a special service in the choir of the Priory at 4 p.m., the Guild form being used.

The Rev. H. N. Lerner, Vicar of Milford-on-Sea, gave the address. The other clergy present were the Rev. Canon W. H. Gay, Rev. A. B. Bennett, Rev. Dr. M. C. Potter and Rev. C. A. Phillips, secretary of the East Dorset Branch of the Salisbury Guild, and members from Bournemouth, Brockenhurst, Lymington, Lyndhurst, Christchurch, Ringwood, Poole, Sopley, Milford-on-Sea, Wyke Regis, and Mr. R. H. Dove, of Croydon. Tea was provided at the King's Arms Hotel, followed by a business meeting.

Apologies were received from Mr. G. Williams, Master of the Guild, Mr. G. Pullinger, general secretary of the Guild, Mr. Bennett, Bournemouth, Mr. Ravenscroft, Mr. Hardman and Mr. England.

The balance sheet showed the receipts to be £14 17s., and the expenditure £6 12s., including £3 for instruction given, leaving £4 6s. 7d. to the general fund and £3 16s. 7d. as balance to the district.

The following officers were elected for 1930: Mr. E. C. Elliott, chairman; Mr. G. Preston, hon. secretary and ringing master; Mr. F. Sparshott, representative to the Central Committee; and Mr. A. N. Wooff, auditor. Mr. Preston thanked the meeting for re-electing him as their secretary for the twenty-sixth time, and said that during that time the district had grown from 25 members to over 100.

It was decided to hold meetings during 1930 at St. Peter's, Bournemouth, Brockenhurst, Ringwood and Lymington, and Christchurch for the annual meeting. It was resolved to hold a combined practice with the Wimborne Branch of the Salisbury Guild at Ringwood in February. It was also decided to attempt the first quarterly peal at Milford-on-Sea. Five new members were elected to the Guild.

Mr. George Taylor, of Ringmer, Sussex, has recently retired from the service of the Post Office, after nearly forty years as rural postman. In that time he walked about 100,000 miles and cycled about 200,000 miles in the exercise of his duties, and he has been presented with a medal in recognition of his long and faithful service.

Mr. Taylor was for many years a ringer at Ringmer Parish Church, and was a very efficient tenor man. He rang a few peals, one of which, a peal of Grandsire Triples, in the year 1894, was the fastest on the bells. It was rung in 2 hrs. 32 mins.—not bad going with a 14½ cwt. tenor.

Ringmer bells are by Mears and Stainbank, and before being erected in the church tower were on show at the Industrial Exhibition of the early 'eighties.'

THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

ANOTHER TWELVE-BELL TOWER.

The year which is just closing has been one of great activity in bell restoration and augmentation, and it is a striking testimony to the work which has been done by the bellfounders that, within a few days of Christmas, one firm alone had in hand the completion of no fewer than ten important contracts. Not the least interesting of the augmentations which have been carried out is that which has resulted in giving the county of Berkshire its first ring of twelve bells, the consummation of the scheme being witnessed last Friday, when the service of dedication took place at St. Laurence's, Reading. This is the second ring of twelve to be brought into existence this year—the other being at Walsall—and it will be welcomed because it establishes another twelve-bell tower in a part of the country where, hitherto, opportunities for twelve-bell practice have been lacking, and, what is more, in a centre where there is every chance of real use being made of the facilities. There are to-day forty-seven peals of twelve in the British Isles, hung for ringing, but we doubt whether in much more than half the towers is twelve-bell ringing regularly practised. From time to time, doubtless, twelve-bell ringing takes place in all of them, but there are many where it is only occasionally heard.

The growth in the number of twelve-bell rings has been really remarkable since the war. In the last eleven years there have been as many rings added as there were in the previous fifty years. A century ago there were just fourteen peals of twelve, in 1878 they had grown to 25, and now there are 47. York Minster was the first to possess twelve bells, the augmentation being made in 1681, but there was a considerable interval afterwards, when there were only ten bells there, and the famous church of St. Bride, Fleet Street, can claim the largest unbroken history for a twelve-bell peal, the trebles being added to the then existing ten in 1719. At one time the practice of change ringing on twelve bells was confined to the privileged few, and except perhaps in London, Birmingham and Norwich, there were no twelve-bell companies that lasted for any length of time, until the latter half of the nineteenth century. To-day, of course, the position is much different, and twelve-bell companies can be found in many places, but, what is more, the number of competent twelve-bell ringers has vastly increased, thanks to the additional facilities for practice which are now enjoyed. There is every reason to hope that Reading will provide an active centre, where twelve-bell ringing will be encouraged on an ample scale. The Berkshire twelve-bell scheme was launched as a venture of faith; it has

A GREEK DISAPPROVAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Apropos of your recent leading article, a young Greek at my hotel was enlarging a few days ago on his objection to bells. The illustration on the front page of 'The Ringing World' had aroused his curiosity, and coining a new Greek word for the purpose I explained that it was 'a journal for lovers of bells.' At that he queried how I could find either 'necessity or beauty' in bells, and proceeded to tell in quaint English how they had disturbed his slumbers at Locarno. He was staying at an hotel near the Church of Madonna del Sasso, 'and the monk,' he said, 'belled at 5 o'clock. Oh!' (At this point he jumped in his seat to indicate the effect that it had on him.) 'And then he belled it again every half-hour till eight o'clock.'

As the young gentleman in question makes a practice of coming to breakfast in his night attire just before 10 a.m., one can readily understand that the good monk's efforts to encourage early rising did not secure his approval!—Yours truly,
F. LL. EDWARDS.

THE MAKING OF A BELL.

LECTURE BY A BELL FOUNDER.

A lecture on the technical side of bell founding was given by Mr. A. A. Hughes, of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry, before the Newcomen Society for the Study of the History of Engineering and Technology, at a meeting held at Prince Henry's Room, Fleet Street, London, on December 18th.

In the course of an interesting lecture Mr. Hughes pointed out that fundamentally the actual processes of moulding and casting have altered only slightly during the last six or seven centuries. The first step in the founding of a bell was to design the shape, and the making of this design was perhaps the most important part of the whole work, for the satisfactory quality of tone depended upon correct shape and correct proportions of thickness at various points. The quality of metal, whilst of importance, was secondary to design. Mr. Hughes went on to describe in detail the process of moulding, and contrasted the care necessary in this part of the work compared with that for commercial castings, in which it is customary to add a percentage of thickness to allow for machining. In the case of bells there was no machining in the accepted sense of the word, and the founder designed his bell to produce the note required. It was for this reason that such particular care was taken with the moulding, as the limits for correction by the tuning machine were very small. The moulds of both core and cope are subjected to drying at several stages in order to reduce shrinkage to the lowest possible point, and are finally given a dressing of plumbago and polished to produce a clean, smooth surface on the casting, also to prevent the metal from burning into the mould and to allow of easy 'stripping' after casting.

QUALITY AND TONE.

Bell metal, continued Mr. Hughes, was an alloy of copper and tin, and, for church bells, the mixture was about 76 per cent. copper and 23 per cent. tin. Many experiments had been made, but this copper and tin alloy had been proved to be the best for producing a clear, pure tone. The note of a bell depended upon its diameter at the mouth and its thickness at the soundbow. Two bells of the same size, but of different thicknesses, would therefore have different notes, the thinner of the two being the lower in pitch. A peal of eight in the diatonic scale were calculated from the following proportions: Taking the tenor as 1, the diameter of the others from the 7th to the treble would be 8-9ths, 4-5ths, $\frac{3}{4}$, 2-3rds, 3-5ths, 8-15ths, $\frac{1}{2}$, and each bell would, of course, be cast on the same scale of thickness. As, however, weights varied at the cubes of the diameters, in the case of bells to be hung for change ringing the weights obtained in a peal cast exactly to this natural scale, would not be satisfactory, and the smaller ones would be overpowered by the larger ones. It was, therefore, necessary to depart by calculation from the natural scale and gradually to increase the weights from, generally speaking, the 6th. This naturally necessitated making them larger, and, in order to retain the desired note, the thickness must be proportionately increased. The result was that the treble would be about 30 per cent. of the weight of the tenor instead of, according to the natural formula, 12½ per cent.

EXACT TUNING.

In modern tuning, the note and harmonic tones were recorded by means of special tuning forks, registering the rate vibrations per second for each note. Each bell was treated on the lathe, until its note responded exactly to the desired forks, and a ring of bells so tuned could be guaranteed to be absolutely perfect in tune. It was in designing and tuning that the great advance had been made. The first tuning machines constructed were laid down at the Gloucester Foundry of the renowned Rudhall family, and at the Whitechapel Foundry about 100 years ago. From descriptions handed down, these machines were worked by horse or donkey, and it was the machine which revolved, not the bell, as on modern lathes. With these early machines, it was only possible to tune a bell in one zone, i.e., the soundbow, and the harmonic tones were, therefore, neglected. Previous to these first machines, tuning was effected by hand-chipping metal from the soundbow. Sometimes a bell would be sharpened by chipping metal from the extreme edge, the reduced diameter and retention of the original soundbow thickness resulting in lesser amplitude, and, therefore, quicker vibration, giving the higher note.

It had been stated that a few of the early English founders had some knowledge of the theory of correct design. The examples were mostly found in the Eastern Counties, and one could only assume that they might have gained a certain amount of knowledge by contact with the Flemish founders, or by having paid visits to the Continent. One of the most renowned bells in East Anglia was the tenor at Lavenham, Suffolk, cast by Miles Graye, of Colchester, in 1625, and weighing about 24 cwt. This bell was almost perfectly correct in its tones. The curious thing, however, was that, as good a founder as Miles Graye was, his bells were not consistent in quality, and one could, therefore, only assume that his knowledge was limited. Mr. Hughes said his own opinion was that these early founders, like their successors, believed that all bells, irrespective of size or scale of thickness, could be designed on exactly the same lines.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

WEST DORSET BRANCH: APPRECIATION OF HON. SECRETARY'S WORK.

The annual meeting of the West Dorset Branch was held at Bridport on Saturday, December 14th, about 60 ringers attending. Service was held in the Parish Church, conducted by the Rev. S. H. Viggars (Rector), and an address was given by the Rev. B. J. Langham, Rector of Maiden Newton.

The usual meat tea followed at the Greyhound Hotel, presided over by the Rev. C. Carew Cox, chairman of the branch, supported by the Revs. B. Langham, B. Hutton, C. H. d'Ombrian, Messrs. F. Bugler (Ringing Master), W. H. B. Northover (Deputy Ringing Master), and Mr. T. Hervey Beams (hon. secretary).

At the business meeting, the president, Ringing Master and Deputy Ringing Master were all unanimously re-elected to office.

The unwelcome announcement had then to be made that Mr. Beams felt unable, on account of his ill-health, to carry on all the duties required of the secretary and treasurer. Mr. Beams spoke on his own behalf, regretting his inability, but offering whatever counsel and direction he could to whosoever was appointed to succeed him.

It was unanimously felt that the branch was anxious to retain Mr. Beams upon its list of officers as long as possible, and the warm sympathy of the members was expressed to him. He was, therefore, re-elected formally as secretary and treasurer, and Mr. F. Brooks, of Beaminster, was appointed hon. assistant secretary, with the understanding that he would shoulder all the active work.

The Chairman then spoke of Mr. Beams' association with the Guild during the twenty-three years since his coming to Bradpole, of his untiring devotion to the cause of bells and ringing, and of his persistence which had resulted in the established position of the branch to-day and in the existence of change ringing over a wide area where it was previously unknown. He asked Mr. Beams to accept the gratitude of the branch, which owed all its progress to Mr. Beams.

On behalf of the members, the Chairman then presented to Mr. Beams a framed address, accompanied by some useful gifts, towards which every tower affiliated to the branch had sent a subscription.

Mr. Beams, in expressing his thanks, hoped that the members would assist his successor in every way.

Bradpole, Maiden Newton, Whitchurch, Netherbury and Beaminster were chosen for the quarterly meetings, and it was resolved to hold a bye-meeting at Litton Cheney.

A comprehensive vote of thanks was accorded the Rector of Bridport, the preacher, the organist, and all the incumbents who had welcomed the Guild at their towers during the year.

A strong recommendation was passed that the Diocesan Guild should press for the inclusion of a practical ringer on the Diocesan Advisory Committee.

The towers in the neighbourhood were available for ringing, and many young ringers enjoyed some good practice.

THE MAKING OF A BELL (continued from previous column).

It was, of course, now known that this was not the case. With all these early founders' products, it was noticeable that one or two bells were better than others, and he (Mr. Hughes) thought there was no doubt that they worked largely by rule-of-thumb methods. It should not be inferred, concluded Mr. Hughes, that all the old rings of bells in the country should be recast. There were still many old rings throughout the country which, despite technical faults, were regarded favourably, and the general effect in ringing was pleasing. It was also possible to retune many old peals, getting their fundamental notes correct and their harmonic tones as nearly in line as possible, with satisfactory results.

Mr. Hughes' lecture, which was much appreciated, and followed with close interest, was illustrated by lantern slides and models.

The forthcoming Minor Methods Collection contains an appendix which is both an opportunity and a challenge—an opportunity for the Exercise to see if it has any use for a new style of peal composition in Minor and Doubles, and a challenge to those who think that only what has always been done should still be done.

Let us remember that ringing is an art based on a mathematical science, a science so exact and rigid that it makes its own rules. You cannot get very far from them. Its long history and its many developments have left ringing substantially the same thing as when it started, and we need have no fear that it will ever be spoilt by lawless innovations. So I am all in favour of experiments, and the more the people who make them understand the nature of ringing the better chance they have of being successful.

RULES FOR PEALS—A TIME OF EXPERIMENT.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

The recent editorial in 'The Ringing World' on the subject of 'Conditions for Peals,' raises a rather interesting problem. We are reminded that spliced ringing has become a fairly common practice in late years, and that not only have peals been rung in several Major methods, but Triples and Major and Caters and Royal have been rung in the same peal. And we are asked, 'What about Minor and Doubles?' May they, too, be rung in the same peal? Well, the answer depends, I suppose, largely upon how you are going to mix them. You might ring six complete 720's of Minor, followed by six complete 120's of Doubles, and although such a performance cannot be said to be covered by the accepted rules, it is hardly likely that anyone (save, perhaps, a few purists who are not six-bell ringers) would seriously object. But you could not call it spliced ringing any more than you could call a complete touch of 2,520 Bob Major followed by a complete touch of 2,520 Grandsire Triples spliced ringing. And there hardly seems to be any sufficient reason for ringing such a peal. The essence of spliced ringing is that two or more methods are employed in the same composition, and in ringing you pass from one to the other in the middle of the touch, and with no more notice than you get at a bob. It is one thing to start a fresh method from rounds, and quite another to pick up the work for a new method at any odd lead-end. In proper spliced Doubles and Minor ringing you must have a true 720 made up of the two. Such a thing is no doubt possible, but it would involve making each of the bells in turn a covering tenor, a thing which for obvious reasons is not to be recommended. Apart from the detestable musical result, it would, I think, violate the sound rule of the Exercise that no bell should strike in any one position more than two consecutive blows.

One other way, perhaps, you might do it. You could start a 720 of Minor, then in the middle of it switch over into Doubles, ring a whole or part of a six-score and pick up your Minor again, and so by shifting from one to the other ring a complete 720 and a complete 120. It would not be true spliced ringing, but it might be interesting as an experiment. But would it be worth while? The band that wants to ring it are the only people who can really answer that question, but I should say, seeing that the scope of real spliced Minor ringing is so wide, that it would not be worth while.

But then comes the question, What about the Central Council rules for peal ringing? Cannot we settle this question by seeing what they say and loyally abiding by it? I should say that they have nothing to do with it at all. They were drawn up at a time when nobody thought of spliced ringing, and they do not contemplate these things in any way. True, they do not allow them, but it is not fair to say that they forbid them. Nor do I think that we need worry, at present, about bringing our rules up to date. We are passing through a time of development in peal ringing, and experiments are being made. We want to see what is going to come out of them, and when we know that we can rewrite our rules. We do not want to legalise formally all these experiments, but we certainly do not want to stop them being made.

But people say, 'That won't do. If we have got rules we must keep them, otherwise better to do away with them altogether. And do we want to have a state of lawlessness in the Exercise, where everyone does just what he thinks good in his own eyes?' The answer to that argument is that you must understand what the nature and use of rules in ringing are. And on this point there is a good deal of misunderstanding. People think that our rules are like the rules in such things as cricket and football, which are necessary to the game, and which, if a player breaks, he is guilty of unfairness. But they are not. When the essence of a game is competition between two people or two sides, you must have rules to hold the proper balance between them, and if one side breaks them it is guilty of unfairness. For instance, the bowler who throws in cricket is unfair to the batsman. But in ringing there is nothing of that sort. Competition only enters into it as a side issue. Our rules are not restrictive. They are not intended to prevent people from doing things. They are really directions how to get the best out of ringing. They are the result of the experience of the Exercise during centuries, and they say to ringers, 'If you want to get the best out of ringing, do this and do not do that.' But, if a band chooses to do otherwise, they are quite within their rights, and are guilty of no unfairness. It follows that if sufficient reason occurs any band may break any of these rules and be justified in doing so. Nor will these exceptions alter the fact that for nearly every case the rule is good and should be observed. No rules should stand in the way of the legitimate and natural development of ringing. The final test must be whether the novelty is a legitimate and natural development. And that, I think, time alone can solve. Fifty years ago (much less than fifty years ago) a representative body of ringers would have condemned out of hand such things as Little Methods, or spliced peals. The time was not ripe for them. But now they have fitted themselves into our scheme of things, and we feel they are right and proper and a gain to our art. Novelty just for novelty's sake and things that are freaks are to be sternly discouraged, but if ringing is to live and flourish it must develop.

READING'S RING OF TWELVE.

DEDICATION AT ST. LAURENCE'S, READING.

It is remarkable what results may be achieved when everyone concerned does his best, and at the same time makes it possible—and attractive—for others to do theirs. This is practically the story of the St. Laurence Twelve, which were dedicated by Bishop Shaw on Friday, December 20th. The matter was only taken in hand at the end of June, and some time before six months had elapsed the money was assured. The result is also a witness to the fact that you can have a ring of twelve possessing beauty, body and balance with a tenor of under 24 cwt. Every bell is heard distinctly in the ringing room, and all are restrained. The 'go' is all that could be desired.

Besides adding two trebles, the treble of the old ten has been recast and the whole ring tuned and hung with new fittings in a cast-iron and steel frame. The work has been carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, whose representative in charge of the work in the tower was Mr. Frank Smith.

It was the wish of the church authorities that the ringing at the dedication should be carried out by experienced twelve-bell ringers, so the foreman of tower, Mr. R. T. Hibbert, applied to Mr. H. Langdon, of the College Youths, who brought down for the occasion some of the St. Paul's Cathedral band, most of whom are also members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, and the bells were heard to good advantage in a 504 of Stedman Cinques rung at the close of the service.

The original ten bells were a ring by Robert Catlin, which were restored in 1882, when some of the bells were recast.

TWELVE-BELL TOWERS.

A COMPLETE LIST.

The practice of having twelve bells, hung for ringing, in a tower goes back to the earliest days of change ringing. York Minster possessed the first, set up in 1681, but these were recast into a peal of ten in 1765, and there was not twelve in the tower again until 1844. It was at St. Bride's, Fleet Street, that the first twelve-bell peal was rung, and the bells here were made twelve in 1719. Cirencester followed in 1722, St. Martin's-in-the-Fields (1726), St. Michael's, Cornhill (1728), and St. Saviour's, Southwark (1735) came next, but it was not until 1770 that another ring of twelve appeared in the provinces. In that year the twelve was completed at St. Mary's, Cambridge, but in the meantime, as mentioned above, the twelve at York had disappeared. Two famous peals followed soon after—Birmingham in 1772 and Norwich in 1775.

It is interesting to note that two rings of twelve of former days are no longer in existence. That at Christ Church, Spitalfields, was destroyed by fire in 1836, and the ring of twelve at St. Peter's, St. Albans, completed in 1868, was afterwards reduced again to ten.

Here is the list of rings of twelve in Great Britain and Ireland, with the approximate weights of the respective tenors:—

SPlicing PLAIN MAJOR METHODS

PEALS IN 15 METHODS.

BY STEPHEN H. WOOD.

This article is really a continuation of, or a sequel to, one which appeared in 'The Ringing World' of August 30th, 1929. In that article I was dealing mainly with the first 15 methods in the C.C. Collection, namely, all those which are produced by adding one or more of the following to 'plain hunting': '3rd's and 4th's round the treble,' '5th's and 6th's round the treble,' '2nd's place,' '7th's place.'

We succeeded in splicing seven of them into a peal, and, later, added six 'Little' methods to this number. In doing this we limited ourselves to the use of bobs only, with the exception of two Singles—one at the end of each half—to turn the 'course' of the rows; and I promised to return later and see whether we could get any further by using Singles as well as Bobs. I have since investigated this matter, and hope to explain in this article how the use of Singles enables us to splice the whole 15 methods into a peal.

In my previous article (referred to above) I divided the 15 methods up into four groups and showed how there are eight false course-ends between any two of them, namely:—

42356,	52436,	43652,	35264,

The problem before us now is, therefore, to produce four sets of natural course-ends which are such that no member of one repeats with any member of any of the others when transposed by any of these eight false course-ends. This sounds rather alarming, but in reality it is not nearly as hard as it sounds. We can at once get two sets—one in-course and one out-of-course. What we have to do, therefore, is to write down two sets, both in-course, which satisfy these conditions; we can then write down the two corresponding out-of-course sets, making up the necessary four.

There are several solutions to this problem, giving in each case a total of 60 course-ends—i.e., just half the full number (and, incidentally, just about enough to give us a peal).

The following is the most obvious and symmetrical solution:—

(In-course.)	(In-course.)	(Out-of-course.)	(Out-of-course.)
23456	24365	23465	24356
42356	32465	42365	32456
34256	43265	34265	43256
42635	32546	42536	32645
34625	43526	34526	43625
23645	24536	23546	24635
35264	46253	36254	45263
25463	26354	26453	25364
45362	36452	46352	35462
62534	52643	52634	62543
64523	53624	54623	63524
63542	54632	53642	64532
56234	65243	65234	56243
56423	65324	65423	56324
56342	65432	65342	56432

In the above, A and B are in-course, and it will be found that the rows of B are just the rows of A written backwards. C and D are out-of-course, and are the same as A and B with 5 and 6 reversed. These four sets will be found to satisfy the conditions.

Now, we could have got as far as this before, but our trouble was that, while we were limited to the use of bobs only, it was impossible to get from A to B, or from C to D. The Singles will overcome this difficulty, and it now remains for us to see how we can best join up these 60 courses into one round block.

Here again we are likely to get temporarily stuck; but it is obvious that there must be a way of doing it, so that if we think about it long enough and hard enough we shall probably get an inspiration or brain wave. Now it will be observed that the 60 course-ends which we are using are rather peculiar; in each of them 5-6 are either 'at home' (i.e., in 5-6, either the right way or reversed), or else are coursing each other; and these 60 course-ends have already been joined into an admirable peal of Double Norwich some years ago by the Rev. E. Bankes James.

I would ask any who are interested in these matters to follow this through very closely, because the way in which Mr. Bankes James' peal of Double Norwich is bound up with our present difficulties, and the manner in which it overcomes them all with one fell swoop, as it were, and saves us from any further worry about falseness, is one of the most fascinating and beautiful things which I have yet met in the world of composition.

The figures of this peal are as follows:—

23456 5 6

42635 x

64523 x

65423 S

46352 x

34265 x

Eleven times repeated, with two similarly-placed Singles, one in each half.

This is in itself a very clever peal of Double Norwich, but I doubt whether even such a far-seeing man as Mr. Bankes James can have foreseen when he composed it that it would enable the Exercise several years later to splice many methods into a peal of Major with such a maximum of simplicity. To begin with, it contains just the courses which we are dealing with, but it does more than this; it uses only two calls, Bobs at 'Home' and Singles at 'Out.' Now a Single at 'Out' in an 8th's-place method has the same effect as a Single at 'Right' in a 2nd's-place method, and by making this slight variation we at once make room for our 2nd's-place methods as well as our 8th's-place methods, and, moreover, the calls are now in both cases right at the end of the course, so there is no possible chance of bits of one course repeating with bits of another, each one being an entirely separate and independent unit. In fact, it is all almost too good to be true!

If we write out the peal in full and mark A, B, C or D opposite each course according to which of the four groups the previous course-ends appears in above, we can find out at once which methods we may use for each course; there will in each case be a choice of two. For instance, I have taken the—

Plain Bob, Double Bob and Reverse Bob group for A, Lavenham, Maidstone, Edmonton and Chesterfield for B, Shipway, Highbury, Winchester and Marlborough for C, and Double Norwich, Pershore, Double Oxford and Hereward for D.

Suppose we make opposite a course, then if the calling is 'Bob at Home,' the method to be rung is Reverse Bob, and if the calling is 'Single at Right,' we may ring either Plain Bob or Double Bob. And again, if D is marked opposite a course, we can ring either Double Norwich or Pershore if the calling is 'Bob at Home,' and either Double Oxford or Hereward if it is 'Single at Right.'

So far things have been going well for us, but we now find ourselves up against two snags. The first is fairly easily overcome; we have got to put in two Singles, one in each half, and in doing this we must be careful about changing the method. We must always change from one group to another at a Single, and as in this case we must make the Singles in the middle of the course, we shall have to change the method in the middle of a course.

The second snag is more serious; it is this: as the calling is 'Bob at Home' in all the 8th's-place method courses, these courses will in no case contain the full seven leads. The Reverse Bob courses will give six leads and the Double Norwich five, but the others will give only four, three and two, according to where the 'Home' position occurs in the course. The result of this is that although we have 60 courses (and 45 full ones are enough for a peal), even if we spin out the length of our round block as far as possible by putting in only one course of Pershore, Maidstone, and Highbury, we are still nearly four courses short of a 5,000. This is a tragedy, and something drastic must be done about it. There is no choice; if we are to get a peal at all we must splice in some courses with the tenors separated. I have done this as simply as possible (and having due regard for 'truth') by making three calls at '5th's' in each half, and by making the first of them in each case a Single instead of a Bob, we get over our first snag at the same time, and so avoid messing up the composition any more than is absolutely necessary.

I will now give the figures of the peal:—

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION. A MEETING AT BEVERLEY.

The quarterly meeting of the Eastern District was held at Beverley on Saturday, December 14th, and was but poorly attended. The service was held in the choir of the minster, where the Vicar, the Rev. W. H. Rigg, D.D., delivered an appropriate address, in the course of which the demise of the late Vicar, Canon Nolloth, was touched upon in affectionate terms.

Tea was served in the Minster Parish Room to members representing towers at Howden, Hull, Kirk Ella, Market Weighton, Selby, Sutton, Withernsea and the local company. The business meeting followed, the chair being taken by the Vicar.

The annual meeting was arranged to be held at Goole in March, and Mr. E. E. Taylor, of Withernsea, was elected a member of the association.

A vote of condolence was moved by Mr. F. Cryer and seconded by Mr. W. Gibson, with Mrs. Nolloth on the death of the late Canon, the members standing a few moments in respectful silence.

A unanimous hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Rev. Dr. Rigg for the use of the magnificent peal, service and address, also to the ladies who kindly administered to the wants of the visitors, and to Mr. W. Gibson for the excellent arrangements.

This concluded a small but a very enjoyable and harmonious meeting, to which the Vicar contributed in no small degree.

N.B.—In the 3rd course Plain Bob is rung till the '5th's' position comes up (at the second lead), and Double Oxford is then rung till the course-end, the course consisting of four leads. In the third course of the second half, Double Oxford is rung till the '5th's' position comes up (at the 5th lead), and Plain Bob is then rung till the course-end, the course consisting of ten leads. In arranging the methods I have as far as possible put the harder and less known methods early, and in this and other ways made the practical performance of it as easy as its nature allows.

This peal contains one or two rather unsatisfactory features; to begin with there are seven methods which only appear once, and in three of these cases only for a short course. There are also the four courses with the tenors apart, which we had to put in.

I have, however, composed another peal which gets over these difficulties to a great extent. I will publish it, and the groups of course-ends A, B, C, D from which it is produced, in a later issue. It is based on the same idea, but at the expense of elaborating the calling a little bit I have reduced the number of short courses, so that the 60 courses, instead of giving a round block of under 5,000, now give 6,048, which is a big improvement.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A happy and prosperous new year to all our friends. May good fortune always attend them, and their shadows never grow less.

The St. James' Society (which is now the London County Association) was established to give the members of the College and Cumberland Youths the opportunity of meeting and ringing peals together. It was established over a hundred years ago, but it was not the first society that existed to meet this particular requirement. As long ago as 1738 there was in London 'the Friendly Society of Ringers.' How long it lasted we do not know, but on December 27th, 1738, under its auspices, a peal of 6,160 Bob Major was rung at St. Andrew's, Holborn.

A 'John' peal, composed by John Holt, reversed by John Carler and conducted by John Jagger, was rung at St. John-the-Baptist's Church, Hagley, on December 27th, 1902. The Johns, too, rang a peal of London Surprise at St. Stephen's, Rochester Row, on January 2nd, 1904, but the first John peal was rung by the Bromley Youths in 1828.

On hundred and eighty years ago to-morrow the 'Twickenham Scholars' rang a peal of 6,000 Bob Major at Twickenham.

A peal of 12,000 Bob Major was rung at Bromsgrove on December 29th, 1738, and on the same day, two years later, a 10,080 was rung at Leeds, Kent.

The 29th is also the anniversary of the first peal of Double Norwich in Surrey, rung in 1848 at Holy Trinity, Newington, composed and conducted by John Cox; and the 35th anniversary of 10,176 Kent Treble Bob Major at Irthlingborough, which was conducted by Charles W. Clarke.

Two records in their day, set up by the Oxford Diocesan Guild, were made on December 31st, when, in 1831, 15,041 Stedman Caters was rung at Appleton; and in 1892, 12,036 Double Norwich at Maidenhead.

James Barham rang his 100th peal on January 1st, 1793. The total age of the band was 582 years.

On New Year's Day, 1776, a peal of 8,046 Grandsire Caters was rung at St. Mary's, Nottingham, conducted by W. D. Crofts.

The first recorded peal in the belfry of St. George's, Gravesend, was rung on January 1st, 1786, fifty years after the bells had been installed. The church was burnt down in 1727, and the restoration completed in 1736. The present bells are a fine-toned peal by Messrs. Taylor and Co., dedicated in 1923.

Mr. Robert Spalding must have created something of a record when on Saturday week he rang his first peal of Major, for he is in his 80th year. Age is no bar in ringing. Prior to this peal of Kent Treble Bob, Mr. Spalding had rung only one other eight-bell peal, namely, a peal of Grandsire Triples, 17 years ago.

If you want to buy or sell handbells, advertise in 'The Ringing World.' An advertiser writes: 'I had seven applications from my two advertisements of set of handbells, and sold them satisfactorily.'

Mr. H. A. Barnett has completed fifty years as a ringer at All Hallows', Tottenham.

The peal of Grandsire Doubles rung at Huish Champflower, December 14th, and reported in our last issue, should have been credited to the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association.

EAST BERGHOLT'S QUAIN'T BELL HOUSE

The quaintest belfry in this country with a ring of bells is East Bergholt in Suffolk, where at the parish church, dedicated to St. Mary, there is a heavy peal of five bells, the tenor reputed to be about 28 cwt., hung in a cage in the churchyard. They are roofed over, but have neither ropes nor wheels. Each ringer stands on a ledge about two feet from the ground by the side of the bell frame and swings his bell by hand by the stock. The ringers are quite dexterous in handling their bells and the ringing of them is always an object of interest.

There are various traditions accounting for the strange state of affairs; the least probable being that every time an attempt was made to build a bell tower his satanic majesty, annoyed over something or other, pulled it down. A more likely explanation is the one that Cardinal Wolsey started the new tower but his 'fall' put a stop to the work. The former nave was taken down in 1520 and a base for a new tower prepared, but this was never completed, and the bells were housed in the cage as it is seen to-day. Some of the bells have been recast.

The church of St. Mary is chiefly of the decorated period, with a spacious chancel dating back to 1450, containing a beautiful marble floor and well carved oak choir stalls. The windows all round are large, and some very beautiful, giving the building a very bright interior. An oaken chest, 1400 A.D., is placed near the organ, whilst an unexploded German bomb, one of forty dropped from an airship in September, 1915, is hung on the south wall. A short distance away from the church is the birthplace of John Constable, the artist.

CLERGY AND RINGING

To the Editor.

Sir,—May I, as a parson who has recently taken up ringing, join in the correspondence re the above?

First let me say that, while from the ringers' point of view the ideal thing would be for every parson to be also a ringer, there is another side to it, and one which must not be lost sight of. For it is obvious that to learn ringing absorbs much time. Some, it is true, pick it up much more quickly than others, but it requires, say, a year or more to become at all proficient at change ringing. How many overworked clergy and curates in large parishes can give one or two nights a week during that time to learn the art in the midst of all their other engagements? Even a country parson finds himself much occupied by evening classes, and many might well argue that his time might be much better spent than in the tower week after week. But if he is not a ringer, how is he to get in touch?

He may visit the ringers on practice nights, if he has time and is not otherwise engaged, but the probability is that he will not understand what they are doing, and will feel very much in the way. On Sundays the bells are ringing before he gets to church, and if they are having quarter-peals his arrival in the belfry will disconcert the ringers if he attempts to start conversation with them during the peal. If they are having change ringing, it is not easy to time one's arrival for the few minutes in between the changes. By the time they stop ringing for tolling in he is probably in the vestry getting ready himself for the service. And do not forget that there are often many things he must see to just before the service if all is to go with that smoothness which is so necessary to devout worship.

It may be said that he should be there early to take the opening prayer. But if the parson is single handed, and possibly in the country with two churches some distance part, this may entail a very early start, and I think there are many of my brethren who would agree with me that the last half-hour is a very sacred and precious preparation for prayer and meditation, and not one to be lightly dispensed with. Having for some years lived about a mile and a half from my church, I know something of what time and distance mean.

My point is that there is a very real difficulty in getting in touch with the ringers, even with the best will in the world. It is easy enough for the ringer to say, 'If parson were different it would be all right, but the question is, 'Is it always his fault?' I honestly think that if the parson rings himself it helps to bridge the gulf, but, as I have tried to point out, that is not always easy.

But are we not in danger of losing sight of the main crucial point? The office of bellringers should be as sacred an office as that of Sunday School teacher or any other churchworker. Quite so; then we must go one step further. Spiritual men and women for spiritual work. Aim, pray, work for converted bellringers. Then there will be no gap between parson and bellringer; both will be one in their aims and purpose, they will not only meet in the belfry, but in many other phases in Church life and work. And there will grow up between them that holy, happy bond of Christian fellowship which is only to be found between those who are truly one in the deepest spiritual things. Their bellringing will then be not merely a hobby nor an occasion for social intercourse, but it will be a bit of spiritual work undertaken from the highest motives.—Yours truly,

F. ARTHUR ROUGHTON,

Vicar of Galleywood, Essex.

JOSEPH J. PARKER.

PIONEER IN COMPOSITION.

A NOTED SOUTH BUCKS RINGER.

Among the names that will go down to history in ringing is that of Joseph J. Parker, who, as an investigator of and a pioneer in new ideas of composition, was among the leading composers of a generation ago. Mr. Parker has produced peals which are classics, and, if only for his famous twelve-part of Grandsire Triples—in its original and transposed forms it is the most widely rung Grandsire composition to-day—his work will always be known in the Exercise. But while ringers have the advantage of his work, what of the man? One of the most retiring of individuals, one who has never sought the limelight, Joseph J. Parker, loved by his intimates who ring in and around South Buckinghamshire, is personally unknown to the larger world outside, and it is a delight to us, through the sketch which follows, from the pen of 'W. H. F.', to introduce him to the ringers of a new generation. Mr. Parker has just completed fifty years as steeplekeeper at Farnham Royal Church, and the present is therefore a particularly fitting opportunity for such an article.

Born near the River Colne, in the parish of Horton, Bucks, on March 7th, 1853, Mr. Joseph J. Parker migrated as a young man to Salt Hill, near Slough, for two years, and then on to Farnham Royal in 1870, where he was married to an Eton lady, by the Rector, at St. Mary's Church on April 25th, 1865.

MR. J. J. PARKER.

Two children (a son and daughter) survive of a family of four, the elder son—named Joseph after his father, and who had rung a peal or two—passing away in his prime in the year 1920. Early in June this year Mrs. Parker was called away in her 84th year, and as troubles never come alone Mr. Parker almost followed her a few days afterwards, having been run down by a fast motor-car while cycling near his home. Fortunately serious results were not apparent—although his machine was crumpled up and he was cut about and bruised considerably—for he may yet be seen occasionally riding a brand new cycle through the village.

Mr. Parker's trade as a practical boot and shoe maker was carried on at two shops in the Village Square, facing the well-known 'pump house' in the centre. One he occupied for 17 years, the other for 14 years, with the added responsibility of the Post Office work to his numerous undertakings.

Some 20 years ago he was obliged, by a nervous breakdown, to retire to his present residence, Ellesmere, in the Stoke Poges Lane, where we hope he will be spared for many years to hear the bells of St. Mary's.

IN THE BEGINNING.

Farnham Royal Church tower was rebuilt in 1876, and the present back six bells, with new frame, etc., hung by Mears and Stainbank. They were made up as a 'six' with four old bells, two of which (by Pack and Chapman, dated 1752) were cracked, and two new bells. On Whit Monday, 1877, ceremonious rejoicings at the opening of the restored tower and bells took place with 'open house' to neighbouring bands of ringers and their clergy, from Berks and Bucks towers, with service in the church and a suitable address, and luncheon in a marquee in a field adjoining. To the Slough ringers (a six-bell band in those days) was allotted the honour of opening the bells, and the writer has vivid recollections as a young 'prentice hand' with that company of taking the second bell in a few call changes and his first meeting with Mr. Parker 52 years ago.

There were present Rev. A. H. Drummond, of All Saints', Boyne Hill, inducted Vicar in 1877, and his eight-bell band of ringers, whose tower and bells had been opened in 1875. During the speeches reference was made to 'half-pull' ringing and bellfry reform, several letters having appeared in 'Church Bells' upon these matters.

Local clergy were not slow in appreciating the advice of Canon Ellacombe in the current issues of that weekly, whilst the newly-formed West Middlesex Association and the Devonshire Guild, both in 1874, followed by Yorks Association, 1875, and Lancashire, 1876, pointed the way to a Berks and Bucks Association for the advancement of change ringing in this district.

It took over twelve months to bring the organisation into shape. Drummond was president, Marshall treasurer, and Edward Rogers hon. secretary. Rules were drawn up, and the annual fee fixed at 2s. per head. A number of meetings and practices were held by the ringers, Messrs. Rogers, Smith (from Devonport), Parker, Flaxman, Bissley, Alder and Fussell, during 1878, and on January 1st, 1879, subscriptions were first paid in, the writer treasuring No. 14 receipt of that date, now in his possession.

Mr. Parker is the only survivor of the old Farnham team—Messrs. Batten (schoolmaster), Beaumont, verger, a big man who could scarcely climb the old stairs, Bovingdon, Crockett, Deadman and Flaxman—and with them he learned to pull a bell, his assistance having been previously secured as a musician to enable them to master handbell tune playing for Christmas.

PUBLIC UNDERTAKINGS.

Mr. Parker's appointment as tower foreman followed, and he set about getting new hands, and soon mastered tower bells in Doubles and Minor. Then he turned his attention to simple compositions on six bells, little dreaming of the mass of figures he was to wade through in after years. When Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee came along, it was Mr. Parker who urged the 'trebles' in opposition to other suggestions, and in 1897 he collected the whole of the funds for the new bells and fittings.

With his neighbour, the late George Alder, of Burnham, he at once set about hanging the new bells in a new frame without professional help, and in October, 1898, with his own band conducted his own composition for the first peal on the octave. On the death of the Rector, the Rev. F. Stirling Marshall, a well-beloved ringers' friend, who had been incumbent for 37 years, the parish decided to keep his memory by installing a striking clock in the church tower, and the whole of the funds for this were collected as a labour of love by Mr. Parker, who has ever since 1891 cared for and attended to its regular timekeeping.

When the Parochial Council was formed, under the Local Government Act of 1894, Mr. Parker was one of the first members elected, and has served on it ever since. He now holds the position of vice-chairman, with the added dignity of being Father of the Council. As a fire brigade volunteer he took on the care of the hose reel and hydrants of the parish for some time. Fond of music and a natural musician, he early joined the choir as a tenor singer and played a great part in concert work in many of the neighbouring parishes, with occasional violin and English concertina performances of merit, and solo handbell table pieces.

It is to be hoped my account is not wearying to the readers of 'The Ringing World,' but one cannot hold a friendship with a fellow churchman for over half a century without going into a little detail of his life. How much should we appreciate to-day a similar history of some of the early founders of the art, such as Garlton, of Norwich, Annable and Holt, of London, and several others of centuries ago?

HIS PEAL RINGING.

When the Oxford Diocesan Guild was formed in 1881, the Berks and Bucks Association was taken over en bloc by the diocesan body and allowed to retain its old title as a branch. For the Guild, Mr. Parker has scored over a century of peals, details of which are appended, but it is doubtful if he will add another to the list owing to his recent accident. The writer consoles himself with the fact that he shared in Mr. Parker's first (Ealing in 1883) and last (Ritchin in 1925) performances.

Of these, 101 peals were rung for the Oxford Diocesan Guild, 19 for the Middlesex County Association, and 11 for other societies.

It will be noticed that 'Grandsire' predominates in the list, which shows that the veteran was born too soon, at a time when half-pull men were scarce, and long journeys on foot had to be undertaken.

for an 'attempt' that was frequently repeated. For instance, at Wraybury Mr. Parker made nearly a dozen attempts, some of almost three hours' duration, before he was rewarded with 'That's all.' In addition to the Oxford Guild and Middlesex Association, he also joined the College Youths, St. James' and Waterloo Societies in London.

IN THE REALM OF COMPOSITION.

Success with his early efforts in Minor led Mr. Parker to plain 'Triples' compositions in Union, Court and Oxford Bob methods, and several new peals were sent to Harry Burstow, of Horsham (an old friend), and were rung by the Warnham company. Indeed, Mr. Parker was so well recognised as an authority on these methods that he was asked by the Rev. Earle Bulwer to classify a collection, but he gave way in favour of the late Dr. A. B. Carpenter, of Croydon. No composer of note is free from numerous applications from budding conductors for information, often of an 'impossible nature,' and Mr. Parker's postbag of the past 40 years would fill a good-sized box.

He has produced several peals of value in Double Norwich, Treble Bob and Superlative, but it is in the development of new ideas from 1889 onwards that J.J.P. surprised the Exercise by his compositions. All leaders in the realms of method building and composition have, at one time or another, communicated with him to their mutual satisfaction and the advantage of the Exercise—Snowdon, Bulwer, Dains, Washbrook, Pritchard, Carter and Sir Arthur Heywood, all now deceased, as well as J. W. Parker, of Sunderland, G. Baker, of Brighton, G. Lindoff, of Dublin, and the Rev. C. D. P. Davies. With the last-named, a good deal of the spade work was done to produce the two modern works on ringing, viz., 'Grandsire' and 'Stedman.' It is on record that Sir Arthur Heywood, on seeing certain productions by Mr. Parker, threw over a whole pile of work in order to start afresh.

During the early years of the Sussex County Association challenge cup era certain of the committee rather feared for the truth of the peals rung in the Warnham district, not knowing till later who was the actual composer. Quite recently Mr. Lindoff produced a ten-part peal of Stedman Triples and wished to claim it, but was referred to the 'Bell News' of 1889. Again, Wm. Sevier, of Gloucester, sent him years ago a ten-part peal of Grandsire Triples by the Rev. H. L. James, which Mr. Parker converted into an excellent five-part peal. In recent conversation I have ascertained that much of his early work was entirely wasted in endeavouring to 'produce an impossibility,' and it was only after elaborate diagrams, with columns of part-ends to correspond with the 'bob sets' of calling, had been prepared that it was possible to answer the question: 'Will it go?'

Carter's '20 courses,' with the help of the two Parkers, soon became 30, and then 40 courses as we know them to-day, and, strange to say, working independently, each man produced them in exactly the same way.

The Waterloo Society rang Holt's Original reversed by Carter, and it was questioned by Challis Winney with letters to Mr. Parker, who pointed out that by cutting out the three leads between the Singles, and placing them in the body of the peal, it was quite true. There was a very interesting half-hour with Carter at the 'Goose and Gridiron' soon afterwards, during a College Youths' meeting there.

Harvey Reeves, the late editor of 'Bell News,' had an ambition to call a peal of Stedman Triples at St. Saviour's, Walthamstow. Carter arranged the composition—a variation of Thurstans' four-part—to suit the 4th bell as the observation. This Reeves called, and had a board erected for it in the belfry. That peal proved false, but the same composition with the 2nd as observation by Parker runs true. When 'Bell News' started, Harvey, a portly man, often visited Farnham Royal for a week-end, when he would engage a pony and chaise to drive through the famous Burnham Beeches with Parker, and I often heard a good deal of talking and figuring in various methods by the pair during our drive, which usually finished up at the Duke's Head to moisten the course ends.

Mr. Parker had the pull on him once when Reeves returned his two peals of Grandsire Triples on the six-part plan as false, whilst they were perfectly true, a plan which other composers have since followed up.

What do you consider the most effective composition in Grandsire? I asked. 'My 12-part; it is capable of endless variation,' replied Mr. Parker. 'I have it transposed with the second bell as observation for a conductor, who is unable to ring at the back end of a ring of eight.'

This contribution would not be complete if attention were not drawn to Mr. Parker's fourfold jubilee, an accomplishment that does not fall to one individual very often, viz., as chorister, towerkeeper and Berks and Bucks ringer, and, last but not least, fifty years of happy married life. His many services as a ringer, composer and a committee man for the Oxford Diocesan Guild were acknowledged by electing him to honorary membership of the Guild in 1889, and there is every prospect of his making another jubilee in 1931.

On St. Leonard's Day four Berks and four Bucks men met at Farnham Church and rang a 'complimentary peal' (as already reported) for Mr. Parker to celebrate his jubilee. One of his favourite methods, 'Oxford Bob,' was selected. W. H. F.

THE STANDARD OF STRIKING IN PEALS.

SOME PERTINENT REMARKS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Far be it from me to cast animadversions upon other people's peal ringing. The standard of striking in peals is necessarily arbitrary, for various reasons. However, there is a definite minimum of performance below which no ringers should go.

I am moved to these remarks by what I heard of a peal at Painswick on Saturday last, by the band which had attempted to regain the twelve-bell record for length. I trust that no one will think I exaggerate, or that I approach the subject with anything but an open mind. I say, then, that this performance was no peal, for neither did it start from nor did it end with rounds. Not one of the opening rounds was clean, and owing to the careless ringing of two of the little bells, rounds did not come up where it ought to have done. Of the forty minutes or so of the ringing that I heard, the least said the better. It reminded me of nothing so much as a billiard player idly knocking the balls about the table, with no definite object in view. If a ball goes in a pocket, all well and good. If it doesn't, nobody cares. And this was from the band which, had it succeeded in keeping the bells going for the proposed length, would have taken precedence over the band which rang the Southwark Stedman, a magnificent performance, and over the Ashton Maximus band.

I have just read through the foregoing, and see no reason to withdraw one jot or tittle of my remarks. The two very efficient ringers who were with me at the time agreed with me that the ringing was very bad indeed.

I do sincerely trust that the band, among which are some of my very good friends, will take these strictures as they are offered, i.e., in a spirit of friendly criticism.

Now, Sir, I am not the man to take an attitude which may be construed as purely destructive. Hence I have a suggestion to make in regard to all record performances. Is it impossible for the Central Council to appoint competent judges to listen to the ringing of these peals? The difficulty which crops up immediately is that were such judges to be appointed, they would have no fixed standard on which to base their conclusions, but they would have their own very good sense, and that is not an unreasonable criterion.—Yours truly,

J. T. DYKE.

OLD SLOWE'S GHOST.

A GRAVE WARNING TO YOUNG RINGERS.

'Tis oft times repeated as 'how there's no ghosts.'
But, don't you believe it; for he who sure boasts Upon this moot point—well, just doesn't know
Our long defunct change ringer—Benjamin Slowe.
Now 'Benjy,' while wearing this ill-fitting coil
Which poets call mortal, gave much of his toil
To the art of change ringing; but always insisted
That 'striking' came first, the remainder—existed.
'Tis known for a fact that old Benjamin 'walks.'
He was buried in seventeen forty, and folks
Declare that on practice nights he's 'nosing' round,
When you'd think he was safe tucked away underground.
If the 'striking' be had, then an 'aura' is seen
To materialise over the closely cropped green
Into 'Benjy' himself! a-dancing a jig,
In his three-cornered hat and his pump-handled wig.
When the bells 'fall' in peal, and the light are turned out,
It is then that had 'strickers' their fears try to flout.
Quite useless, however! they just have to face him:
If they take to their heels they can never outpace him.
The end of this race is a terrible thwack,
As a shrewd blow goes home 'cross the broad of the back.
The striker now stricken, ducks—bellows for mercy,
And as Barham would say, 'it's now quite wisey wersey.'
But afterwards, in the smoke-laden saloon
Of that good house of cheer, 'The Yorkshire Dragoon,'
It's then that 'mine host,' from the victim in pain,
Takes toll, winks, and says, 'What! old "Benjy" again?'

'CASCABLE.'

THREE GENERATIONS IN A PEAL.

Edwin Barnett the third has scored his first peal at the age of eleven years, and will earn the hearty congratulations of the Exercise upon his achievement. 'Granddad' called the peal, and father also took part, so that the performance is specially noteworthy as being one of the very rarer examples of three generations taking part. We hope the three Edwins may ring many more peals together, and that some day Edwin Barnett I. and Edwin Barnett II. will ring in a peal conducted by Edwin Barnett III.

GLIMPSES OF THE PAST.

LAVENHAM'S FAMOUS TENOR.

The 'Saturday Magazine' of October 17th, 1832, had the following paragraph in praise of Lavenham tenor, still held to be one of the finest old bells in the country: At Lavenham, an obscure little town in Suffolk, once celebrated for the manufacture of blue cloth and hand-spun yarn, stands a noble monument of ancient munificence, ranked among the most beautiful Gothic fabrics in the kingdom, both for durability and grandeur. In the steeple of this church is a bell, weighing only 2,576 lb., with such a melodious note as to be universally styled 'The Matchless Tenor'; and 'Magna Britannia,' treating of Lavenham bells, says: 'The tenor hath such an admirable note, as England has none to compare to it.'

'Its weight, its shape, its size alike admir'd,
And tone wherewith each ringer is inspired,
The merry eight with music fill the ear;
Enterpe, too, invites from far and near.
And though, in floating, all sounds slowly die,
They're quick revived by Echo's sweet reply.
Heard through the woods their soft melodious ring
Inspires the warbling feathered tribe to sing,
Nestling 'mid leaves, or skimming o'er the plain,
Distinct to hail each harmonising strain.'

Tradition says that at the time of casting this tenor bell at Lavenham (1625) some rich wool staplers there and other gentlemen in the neighbourhood contributed great quantities of silver, and even gold, to the usual metal, which may, perhaps, account for the vast superiority of its tone. Three roods of land were left to the church by some admirer of ringing for the repair of the bell ropes. Judge Hale, Simon De Ewes (one of the most learned antiquaries of his time and lord of the manor of Lavenham), and William Cecil (Lord High Treasurer of England) were celebrated bellringers, and no doubt travelled miles to assist at the rejoicings of village festivals.

BOW STEEPLE.

Bow bells, still silent for want of that attention which all ringers are hoping will soon be given to them, are perhaps the most famous in the world, and the steeple is one of Wren's masterpieces. It is recorded that about the year 1190, one Longbeard, ringleader of a furious mob, sought refuge in the spire of Bow Church and refused to surrender himself to the authorities until compelled to do so by their setting fire to his place of retreat. In 1271 part of the steeple fell, and, says Stow, the historian, 'slewe manie people, men and women, that then were in the church, or dwelled neere there or about.' The old steeple was entirely rebuilt about 1460, when the Common Council of the City of London ordered that 'Bow Bell' should be rung nightly at nine o'clock in order 'to release the London 'prentices.' This bell, says, Stow, being usually rung somewhat late, as seemed to the young men 'prentices and others in Cheap, they made and set up a rhyme against the clerk as followeth:—

'Clerke of the Bow Bell, with the yellow locks,
For thy late ringing thy head shall have knocks.'

Whereunto the clerk, replying, wrote:

'Children of Cheap, hold you all still,
For you shall have the Bow Bell rung at your will.'

This Bow steeple suffered in the Great Fire of London, and Wren's noble structure is its successor.

FORTUNE SPENT ON BELLRINGING.

One of the most notable of the lords of the manor of Cowley (Gloucestershire) appears to have been Henry Brett. He was an eccentric man, and was remarkable for his fondness for bellringing, which he gratified by constantly travelling about the country with a company of ringers. So costly was this amusement that in the end he is said to have thus dissipated a splendid fortune! He gave a ring of six bells to the Church of St. Mary, at Cowley, in the year 1730.

WHEN 'GREAT PAUL' CAME TO TOWN.

When 'Great Paul' was brought from Loughborough Foundry to London in 1881 it made a kind of triumphal progress through the country. It was drawn on a trolley by traction engines, the vehicle with its load weighing about 22 tons. One day's journey was planned from Leighton Buzzard to Dunstable, but between Fenny Stratford and Breckhill the trolley became stuck in the mud, and many attempts had to be made before it could be extricated by jacks. The roadway was too soft for the narrow wheels of the heavily-loaded wagon, and the experiment was made of putting down boiler plates for the vehicle to travel on. This, however, met with little success, and only 100 yards was covered in the day.

The first 'Big Ben,' cast at Stockton-on-Tees, also met with misfortune on its journey. It was brought by boat to London, and while being unshipped fell into the water. It was recovered, only, however, to be fractured and rendered useless.

FINED FOR NOT RINGING.

Of ringing upon historic occasions there are many quaint records in old parish documents, the details having been preserved because of the payments made by the churchwardens to the ringers, which were duly charged up in the parish accounts. At the time of the civil wars, the parson and the ringers did not apparently always feel safe in their celebrations, and veered from side to side in their loyalty. At Wrington, Somerset, the ringers were paid to ring when Henrietta Maria rode through the little town on her way to France, but in 1651 a payment of five shillings was made to the ringers 'for ringing for joy of the route of Worcester,' and in 1652 the like sum, 'when the Lord Protector was proclaimed,' with another payment in 1657 for 'God's discovery of the bloody plot against the Lord Protector.'

Sometimes the non-ringing of bells brought its penalties. The people of Twickenham, while busied in reaping, neglected to have the bells rung when Charles I. passed through their town in 1647, and it is recorded that they were mulcted in a penalty of 13s. 4d. 'for default of ringing in harvest when the King came by twice.' In 1529 Queen Catherine was at Reading, and in consequence of the bells failing to be rung the sum of eightpence had to be paid to her almoner. Earlier still, in 1410, Archbishop Arundel suspended certain churches in London, 'with God's holy organs and instruments in the same,' because when in open daylight, passing on foot through the city with his cross borne before him, the bells did not ring out.

A DUKE'S EXPERIMENTS AT BRISTOL.

It is said that the St. Nicholas' Guild of Ringers, Bristol, owes its charter to a royal visit which Queen Elizabeth paid to that city. One of her victims, Thomas, Duke of Norfolk, whose death warrant was thrice sealed, but only twice effectually revoked, had some love of ringing, and experimented on bells in Bristol. At the Temple Church, where there is the famous leaning tower, it is said he had the bells rung to see whether the tower rocked during the process. It must have been well tested, if it was not more gently tried than was the belfry of St. John's in the same city, where there is entered in the church accounts for the same year, 'Paid for reparation upon the church at the ringing of the Duke of Norfolk, 9s. 11d.,' a sum which represents about £10 in modern money.

PEALS AT SHREWSBURY.

The 'Shrewsbury Chronicle' has given the following details of peals rung in that town up to 50 years ago:—

'The recorded peals of 5,000 or more changes, rung on our town church bells within the last 144 years, amount to 21 or a little more, on an average, than one peal for every seven years. The first of these peals was rung at the Abbey in 1735, comprising 5,040 Grandsire Triples, and the same peal was repeated the following year in the same tower. It is stated that three peals in the same method, and containing the same number of changes, were rung at Old St. Chad's in 1762, 1769 and 1770 respectively, and, in the same old tower, a peal of Grandsire Caters was successfully performed in 1772. Mr. Holt's celebrated peal of Grandsire Triples seems to have been rung for the first time in our town at St. Mary's in 1778: a peal of Treble Bob Major was rung at the Abbey in 1783; in 1798 a peal of Grandsire (eight-in) was rung at St. Mary's. Our local society of change ringers must have been in good form at that date, for in the following year (1799) they succeeded in completing a peal of Grandsire Cinques at St. Chad's remarkably distinguished for its fine striking; and in 1800 they surpassed themselves by the far more difficult task of ringing a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Maximus in the same tower.'

THE RINGERS OF CHEW.

AN OLD RHYME.

Here's a health to John Northcote,
And James Rendall, too,
They made a new Sconch*
For the ringers of Chew.
This new sconch was made
For to rise and to fall,
And the name of John Northcote
Shall reign above all.

In the year of 1804
This noble fine sconch
Was brought into Chew Tower,
Which made all the ringers
Rejoice and to sing,
Here's a health to John Northcote,
And God save our King.

If a Gentleman calls
This new sconch to see,
There's no harm in treating Such ringers as we.
We can ring Bobs and Singles,
Extremes and true blues.
There's no ringers can compare
With the ringers of Chew.

Chorus:

Twinkle, dillo, Twinkle dillo, Twinkle dillo, dillo, dillo, dillo,
For he that loves a pretty girl is a jolly good fellow.

* Sconch=sconce?—a three-branched candlestick. Chorus is reminiscent of the Sussex blacksmith's song.

THE BELLS OF ST. CLEMENT'SRINGING DEFENDED AMONG NOISES OF LONDON.

The bells of St. Clement Danes, London, have recently come under the lash of those who object to bellringing. One London newspaper gave great prominence to the complaint made against them, and the Rector, the Rev. W. Pennington Bickford, who is one of the best clerical friends that ringers have in London, has spiritedly defended the ringing.

The 'Daily Telegraph' has taken up the cudgels on behalf of the bells, and in a leading article said:—

'The bells of St. Clement's are famous, not only in the nursery rhyme, but in fact. Seven of the ten date from William III.'s day, and their music is sweet. Yet it appears that some of the few neighbouring residents object to their ringing. Bells, they think, are to be unheard as well as unseen. Barristers poring over their briefs by lamplight are disturbed by the pealing from St. Clement's spire. They do not share Trotty Veck's awed admiration for the deep, strong melody that Dickens has described so well in "The Chimes." They have no sympathy with the ancient and peculiarly English art of change ringing which the Rector of St. Clement Danes has encouraged at his church. Grandsires, Treble Bobs, and Plain Bobs are all equally abhorrent to them.

'There is no arguing with the indignant Templars who dislike church bells, but accept the roar of the street traffic as a matter of course. It may be suggested, however, that the evening peals which five Guilds of change ringers perform on Saturday afternoons and on occasional evenings at St. Clement's are so exceptional in modern London as to deserve encouragement rather than reproof. Travellers who have heard the nightly carillon in the towns of Belgium and Northern France often regret the silence of our London belfries, save for the Abbey. Many a good peal of bells, handed down from generations that delighted in their aerial melodies, hangs neglected. When there are enthusiasts who like the skilled team-work and hard exercise of change ringing, it would be a pity to deter them. London is noisy enough, in all conscience, but it would not willingly part with the bells of St. Clement's.'

The Rector, writing to the 'Daily Telegraph,' said: 'Having regard to what has appeared elsewhere, I think, in all fairness to our beautiful bells and to the public, it is due from me to say that I have had no complaints, written or verbal, from any resident of the Temple, excepting just one instance, which was settled most amiably, or from any of his Majesty's Judges at the Royal Courts of Justice, during the nineteen years that I have been Rector. On the contrary, when the famous peal was silent, some years before 1919, I found that these renowned bells had so many admirers, both far and near, that there was no difficulty whatever, in a very short space of time, in providing a new steel frame, which had become necessary in order that the London public could hear them again. The late Queen Alexandra set the bells ringing after this long period of silence, and the subscribers included some of his Majesty's judges and several residents of the Temple.'

BISHOP AND RINGERS.

A visit by the Bishop of Guildford to Haslemere on Thursday, December 19th, for the dedication of an organ, which an anonymous donor has given to the Parish Church, provided an opportunity for a small but happy gathering of ringers who met there to pay the usual compliment due to a prince of the Church when visiting in his own diocese.

Several touches of Grandsire Caters were rung before and after the dedication service, the following ringers being present: Messrs. A. Furlonger, B. Elliot, F. Bowden, R. Overy, J. H. B. Hesse, W. Eldridge and R. Hayes, of the local band, Messrs. A. J. Bartlett, Chiddingfold, W. and R. Melville, A. H. Pulling and C. Hazelden, Guildford.

After the service, the Bishop visited the ringing chamber and expressed his surprise and pleasure in finding a full company of ringers able to be present for a mid-week function. His Lordship concluded by wishing the ringers every success and happiness in their work for the Church.
