THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at
RIVERSIDE CHURCH, New York, U.S.A.

PROBLEMS OF THE NEW YEAR.

Another year has gone, and ringing associations will be counting up the gains and losses, and balancing the indications of progress against the set-backs. Such stocktaking is, of course, interesting, but it is unprofitable unless the lessons to which it points are taken to heart, and practically applied in the future. The credit items of success should lead to expansion of the same lines of advance; the losses on the debit side should lead to an examination of the causes, and determined effort to counteract them. There is probably no organisation of ringers that can survey the work of the past year and honestly say they are completely satisfied with it. They can see failures as well as successes; links in the chain which have weakened as well as others which have been strengthened. True, perfection is hard to achieve, and disappointments are many, but in carrying on the work of the associations there is a fairly wide margin between present achievement and the complete fulfilment of the highest ambitions of those who have the welfare of the Exercise and the art of ringing closest at heart.

The elevation of bell ringing to its rightful sphere in the service of the church; the promotion of a happier spirit and greater mutual recognition of each other's difficulties between clergy and ringers in many churches; the re-awakening of interest in towers where the bells are now silent or seldom heard for want of men; the kindling of a greater enthusiasm in the art of change ringing among thousands of ringers who are at present content to mark time or even to drift backward and gradually to slip out of the Exercise. These are some of the things to which all those who take their ringing seriously constantly turn their attention and by which they as constantly find themselves baffled. Association officials who appreciate their responsibilities are doing their best, but the great stumbling block is the inertia of such great numbers of the rank and file, some of whom wait for their ringing to be provided for them, while the rest, worse still, do not even take advantage of it when it is offered to them.

It is to these ringers that we would at this time appeal. A little individual effort on the part of everyone would make all the difference to the success of the work of the men, who, year in and year out, devote their time and energies not only to promoting the art of ringing, but in endeavouring to widen the interest of the ringers and the scope of ringing in every tower. If, in this new year, everyone who puts his hand to a rope would also put his shoulder to the wheel of his association's chariot, every organisation would have a vastly different tale to tell in twelve months' time, and the problems which we have enumerated above, and others which we could name, would be in a fair way of eventual solution.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A postal subscriber to 'The Ringing World,' writing in appreciation of the promptness in dispatch, adds, 'One looks for the "R.W." with as much certainty as one looks for the sunrise in the morning.' Those who have difficulty in obtaining 'The Ringing World' promptly and punctually should take the hint and have it sent direct by post.

The first peal on the twelve bells at Lincoln Cathedral was rung on Saturday, and was a noteworthy performance. Under the conductorship of the Master of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, a Lincolnshire band rang their first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus. In the one or two previous attempts that had been made, success eluded the band after it had appeared within grasp.

The peal of Bob Major at Tipton on Saturday was rung as a mark of appreciation to Mr. Alfred Rowley, a prominent member of the Stafford Society, who has completed thirty years' service as a ringer at the 'Pepperbox,' and during the last few years has been Ringing Master and towerkeeper. Mr. Rowley, who is an employee of the Birmingham Canal Company, has recently been transferred from Tipton to Brierley Hill. His duties at the latter place compel him also to reside in that district. The band who rang the peal extend their best wishes to Mr. Rowley in his new abode.

Ring conditions at Folkeham, Lincs, have been greatly improved by the addition of an extra floor.

Mr. John Cobbe Pitman, son of Mr. W. E. Pitman, Mus.Bac., organist of St. Gregory's, Canterbury, and well known in Kent ringing circles, has been ordained deacon at Lichfield Cathedral, and been licensed to the curacy of Hednesford, Staffordshire.

The first time that Bow tenor was turned-in to a peal of Treble Bob Royal was on January 3rd, 1803, when it was rung by James Malton.

On January 4th, 1784, a peal of 14,480 Bob Major was rung at St. Paul's, Oldham.

The first peal of Oxford Treble Bob Maximus on the bells at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields was rung on January 6th, 1785, by the Ancient Society of College Youths.

Henry Johnson, the famous old Birmingham composer and ringer, died at Aston on January 7th, 1890. January 5th is the anniversary of the death of another notable Birmingham ringer, Tom Reynolds, who died in the year 1912.

Alf Grimes, of London, who made a personal record in peal ringing, by scoring exactly 250 in two years, died on January 5th, 1917.

The first peal on the bells at Cirencester, which, as mentioned last week, have the longest unbroken history as a ring of twelve in the provinces, was rung by the College Youths on January 7th, 1767. This was a peal of Grandsire Cinques.

THE BERKSHIRE 12-BELL FUND.

This fund is now closed. There are one or two small amounts promised, which will be gratefully acknowledged, and a final list of subscribers will be printed as soon as these are in hand. With heartfelt gratitude,

(REV.) G. W. O. JENKYN.
RICHARD T. HIBBERT.

A DEVON RESTORATION. WHIMPLE BELLS REDEDICATED.

The rededication of the ring of six bells at Whimble, Devon, took place on Saturday week, and great interest was displayed in the event, both by parishioners and by members of the Devon Guild of Ringers. It was the consummation of several years of earnest effort, particularly on the part of Miss E. Lomas, who is hon. secretary of the Exeter Branch of the Devon Guild, and who has acted as hon. secretary of the Bells Restoration Committee. The bells had not been rung for several years before 1924, but in that year Miss Lomas started a ladies' band of ringers in the village. But their efforts were handicapped by the fact that the bells were badly in need of repair. Instructors of the Devon Guild, who went to the help of the ladies, urged the necessity of a rehanging scheme. Miss Lomas approached the Church Council on the matter, and obtained its consent to getting estimates for the work. A committee of three members of the Church Council was then formed; of this Miss Lomas is now the only representative, one member being deceased, and another having removed from the parish. The amount of the estimates caused a good deal of scepticism on the part of the Church Council, and, indeed, the whole parish, concerning the possibility of raising enough money. However, a fund was started with moneys from jumble sales organised by Miss Lomas and her family, assisted by friends. Early in 1928 the Church Council definitely undertook responsibility for the scheme. A committee, comprising 30 members, was formed, and the money required was eventually raised, from subscriptions, sales of work, fetes, etc., while members of the Devon Guild contributed £22. The total cost of the work has been £306, and it has been carried out by Messrs. Taylor and Co. with their customary efficiency. An entirely new steel frame, carried on girders, has been provided, the old fourth, which was badly out of tune, has been recast, and the others tuned. The ring has been rehung in new fittings, and Whimble has now a greatly improved peal of bells. Of the original six bells, the back four were mediæval, although their actual date was unknown. At first it was hoped to save the fourth, but eventually it had to be recast on account of the additional expense which would have been involved by the provision of a new bell. The trebles were cast in 1886.

WHIMPLE PARISH CHURCH.

Sir Henry Imbert-Terry, who has associations with the parish, put forward a proposal whereby Whimble might have acquired eight bells that were given by members of his family to a London church that has been scheduled for demolition, but the difficulties and delays were regarded as almost insuperable.

There was a large attendance at the special service of dedication which was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. E. A. Jullian). The other clergy present were the Dean of Exeter (Dr. Gamble), the Rev. E. S. Powell (president of the Devon Guild), the Revs. E. V. Cox (chairman of the Exeter District of the Guild), T. Caldwell (Rockbeare), and J. F. Prowse (Luppitt). The processional hymn, 'Angel voices ever singing,' was followed by the 84th Psalm. The lessons were read by the Revs. E. V. Cox and E. S. Powell. The Dean, clergy, and choir proceeded to the ringing chamber, where the Dean, at the invitation of the churchwardens (Messrs. F. W. Dyer and G. M. Steuart), rededicated the bells, and some rounds were rung by local ringers—Misses R. Manley and E. Lomas, Messrs. S. Please, F. Coleman, G. Hamilton, and J. Coleman. A few more prayers were succeeded by the hymn, 'Lift them proudly to the TRAGIC SEQUEL TO A PEAL AT BRISTOL.

SAD DEATH OF MR. ALBERT STOWELL.

Eleven of the hand which took part in the peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol, on Boxing Day, mustered at the appointed time, 11 a.m., and waited for the 12th man (Mr. Albert Stowell) to turn up. As the minutes passed without any sign of the missing man, speculation was rife as to the reason for his non-appearance, and eventually, after waiting half an hour, Mr. Jesse Gillett, who had come over from Gloucester specially to listen to the ringing, was asked to fill the vacant place.

Little did the ringers dream that they would never again see the fellow-ringer for whom they had waited, as he was then lying seriously ill in hospital, within sound of Redcliffe bells, and an operation, which took place the following day, unfortunately proved unavailing.

Only on the preceding Saturday Mr. Stowell took part in a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Clevedon with some of the members of the Cinques band. He was taken ill after raising the bells at Brislington Church on Christmas Eve, in preparation for Christmas Day. His immediate removal to hospital was necessary, but despite all that could be done he succumbed. The news of his death came as a very great shock to his colleagues.

Mr. Stowell was a member of Brislington tower, and he will be sadly missed by all who knew him, as his was a most pleasing personality. He leaves with his friends many happy recollections of hours spent in his company, in and out of the belfry, and of his delightful rendering of tales in the Somersetshire dialect, including his most famous 'Ben and the Butter.'

A relative of Mr. Stowell acted in the capacity of substitute for the Christmas Day ringing at Brislington, and the rope of the bell which he rang broke at almost the first pull. This is, to say the least of it, a very tragic coincidence.

A REGISTER OF COMPOSITIONS WANTED.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Your leader in this week's issue (December 20th) is exactly my hackney, which I have periodically trotted out, both by letters to your valuable paper publicly and by writing to individuals.

There appear to be too many budding composers to-day, having no register to refer to, working upon lines already exhausted, say, half a century ago or more.

It will be a pity if the names of the pioneer composers of our Exercise should be lost sight of. As previously mentioned, I am a firm believer in 'honour to whom honour is due.'

Admittedly, this is a difficult question, but the sooner the Central Council tackle it the better.—Yours truly,

G. E. SYMONDS.

belfry.' Then an address was given by the Dean, and the service concluded with the hymn 'Now thank we all our God.'

The Dean, taking as his text the words 'Praise Him upon the well-tuned cymbals, praise Him upon the loud cymbals,' said cymbals seemed to more nearly resemble bells than any other kind of musical instrument, and they were used in the old days in Egypt to call people to services. He traced the connection of bells with the Church and the many uses to which bells were put. It would, he said, be a thousand pities if bell ringing ceased through carelessness or laziness. Happily, of late years there had been a considerable revival of ringing in Devon. The Cathedral had been presented with two new bells, making a peal of twelve, and many parishes had had rehanging or increase of bells. Ringing was not only an art or amusement, but a religious exercise.

Tea was arranged at the Victory Hall by lady members of the Church Council. A large number attended. The Rector, in welcoming the visitors, said how grateful the parishioners were to all who had helped, and how pleased they were to see so many present.

Mr. F. W. Dyer (Rector's warden) expressed the thanks of the parish to the Devon Guild of Ringers for help and support. He pointed out that bellringers, perhaps beyond any other church-workers, had the non-parochial mind which led them to render help outside their own towers, and from which Whimble had benefited so much. He also spoke of the debt due to Miss Lomas, the bell fund secretary, who had brought about a revival of interest in bellringing in the parish.

Miss Lomas suitably replied, and the Rev. E. S. Powell, on behalf of the Guild, expressed the pleasure all felt that day at the completion of the scheme and the great improvement in the bells. The Rector closed with further thanks to those, including Mr. and Mrs. Lomas and Mrs. Phillips-Browne, who had been mainly instrumental in raising the funds for the work.

During the evening the bells were rung by a large number of hands, including representatives from Winsford, Littleham, Luppitt, Newton St. Cyres, St. Sidwell's and St. David's (Exeter), Heavitree, Kenn, Thorverton, Glast St. George, Ottery St. Mary, Talaton, and Rockbeare. All expressed themselves pleased with the 'go' of the bells.

THE RINGERS' DIRECTORY.

NEW EDITION OF A USEFUL PUBLICATION.

The second edition of the 'Directory of Church Bellringers' has been issued by the Bristol United Ringing Guilds. It is nearly treble the size of the first edition, and it is certainly more than three times as useful.

The alphabetical list of ringers has expanded to twice its previous length—a practical testimony to the value which ringers place upon this work. The classification under associations, which is by no means a simple task in the existing conditions of overlapping among many ringing organisations, has been revised, and in its present arrangement is a considerable improvement upon the former publication, in which the names were arranged under geographical divisions. In a great many cases the number of bells, the weight of the tenor and the name of the tower secretary is given, thus providing a most useful means of reference for a ringer desirous of visiting any place outside his own area. The names of association officials are also given, and in many cases those of the district officials as well, so that the Directory is growing into the complete work of reference which the promoters desire to make it.

A new section gives the numbers of rings of bells in the areas of the various associations, so far as it has been possible to compile them from official returns available. These returns are not quite complete, but so far as they have been compiled it is interesting to learn that there are nearly 3,500 rings of bells, from 5 to 12, coming within the influence of the recognised associations. Accurate statistics of this kind are very difficult to obtain, but with the assistance of association officials doubtless this interesting table will eventually provide us with reliable information.

In the early stages of a venture such as this, many difficulties have to be faced, and while it may be easy to suggest further improvements, it must be recognised that the compilers have placed ringers under a debt of gratitude for the way they have placed the Directory before the Exercise. They are most anxious that the publication should be not only reliable but as comprehensive as possible, and ringers themselves can make it so by giving the venture the support which it deserves.

The Bristol United Guilds Committee, in their preface, ask subscribers to visualise the vast amount of work and time given by six members of the United Guilds to compile the work, and the untiring efforts of the whole committee to bring out a book that must of necessity be extremely useful. We doubt, however, if anyone except those who have applied themselves to the task, will fully realise all that the publication has meant to those who have carried out the task. When the scheme for a Directory was initiated, it was started with a feeling of optimism, and that optimism, we are sure, was not misplaced. The Directory fulfils a most useful purpose, and, with each succeeding edition, will grow more and more indispensable.

Subscribers to the Directory receive a free copy, others can obtain one for a shilling, and no ringer ought to be without a copy. It can be obtained from Mr. E. Guise, 39, Tankard's Close, St. Michael's, Bristol.

DEDICATION OF THATCHAM BELLS.

ANOTHER RING OF EIGHT IN OXFORD DIOCESE.

The dedication of the bells at St. Mary's Church, Thatcham, Berks, took place on Sunday, December 22nd, after the morning service, the ceremony being performed by the Venerable Archdeacon of Berks, Canon R. Wickham Legg. There was a large congregation at the service.

A special ringers' service was held in the afternoon, and was exceptionally well attended. The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, who gave the address, made reference to the number of dedication services held in the diocese since the war. This, in his opinion, was a good sign. It plainly showed that greater interest was being taken in the Church. The speaker addressed encouraging words to the ringers, and outlined their responsibilities. He further urged the congregation to encourage the ringers in their work. The rehanging of Thatcham bells had been carried out exceedingly well, and with the addition of two extra bells a very pretty peal had resulted.

After the service upwards of 70 ringers, churchworkers, etc., sat down to an excellent tea served in the Parish Hall. Mrs. H. Smith, assisted by other ladies, was responsible for the arrangements. The clergy present were the Vicar (Rev. R. C. Moore), Rev. E. Chamberlaine, Rev. A. H. Fergus, Rev. J. F. Hoyle.

The Vicar, in a short speech, referred to the excellent way the work to the bells and church tower had been carried out by the employees of the firm entrusted with the restoration. They had spared no pains in making the work satisfactory.

The cost of the restoration was about £750, which included about £200 spent on the church tower. The amount now required to clear the debt is £180. Two trebles have been added to the old ring of six, and the bells have been rehanging in new fittings in a cast-iron frame. The work was carried out by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, to whom great credit is due. Thatcham now possesses a nice peal of eight.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

MR. J. W. PIKE ELECTED MASTER.

The annual meeting of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association was held at St. Woolos, Newport, on Boxing Day, a large number of members being present from both dioceses. The bells, a fine ring of ten by Taylor, were started early in the afternoon and kept going until 4.30, when service was held, the Vicar (the Ven. Archdeacon D. E. Roberts) officiating. Tea, which had been very kindly provided by the Vicar and churchwardens, followed, the accommodation in the Mission Room being taxed to its utmost, and the churchwardens with their wives were kept busy serving.

The business meeting followed, presided over by the Archdeacon, who at the outset welcomed the association most heartily to Newport.

The hon. secretary's report on augmentations and restorations, and instructors' reports were dealt with, followed by a discussion on the Central Council's constitution.

Various opinions were expressed, and eventually, on the proposition of Mr. W. Pike, it was resolved that in the opinion of this association the election of representatives should take place triennially and not annually.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Mr. J. W. Pike, Master; Mr. J. W. Jones, hon. secretary; Mr. F. Atwell and Mr. C. Greedy, auditors.

The two Central Council representatives were elected.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Llandaff, the next Glamorgan quarterly meeting at Llanbradach, and the next Monmouth quarterly meeting at Abergavenny.

New members were elected, and the usual votes of thanks were passed, which brought to a close a very successful meeting.

The bells were afterwards kept busy in various methods until late in the evening.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT AT WANDSWORTH.

The December meeting of the Southern District of the London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild was held on Dec. 21st, when, perhaps owing to the close proximity of Christmas, it was not too well attended, but those who were present made good use of the opportunities which a sparse attendance affords. Ringing commenced soon after three, and was carried on with varying success until five o'clock, when a service was held, conducted by the curate, after which an adjournment was made to the Parish Hall for tea, about twenty partaking of the good things provided. Mr. Mackrill (treasurer) was voted Master (pro tem.), Mr. Mance being unavoidably absent, and presided over the business meeting and the after-ten ringing with efficiency. During the meeting a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar (Rev. Freeman Irwin) for the use of the bells and Parish Hall, and for arranging the service, to the organist, and to Mr. Gray, of the local band, for his willing help.

The bells were kept moving to, among other things, Cambridge and London during the evening, and were finally silent about nine.

A tablet in the tower records that the bells were put in in 1842, and are reputed to be 15 or 16 cwt. They were in 1822 'rehung and modernised' by Mears and Stainbank at the expense of Mr. W. T. Faulkner, of 'Nosegay' fame. There are, curiously, two towers at Wandsworth Parish Church, one of stone being surrounded by a brick casing, so what is apparently a good-sized structure is really quite small inside. On inquiring as to inscriptions, etc., the writer was invited to content himself among the bells and see. Knowing 'summat,' he didn't go. They are, however, a handy and tuneful ring, and 'go' like the proverbial 'tops,' only more so.

APPEAL FOR A LANCASHIRE RINGER.

Previously acknowledged, £5 4s. 6d.; ringers of St. Michael's Church, Blackburn, 16s.; ringers of Parish Church, Colne, Lancs, 10s.; Anonymous, 5s.; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Moss, Manningtree, 3s. Any further donations to this fund for assisting Mr. Harry Tomlinson, who is totally incapacitated, and has a daughter entirely dependent on him, will be gratefully received by Mr. F. Hindle, hon. secretary, Blackburn Branch, 58, Anvil Street, Blackburn.

THE FIRST BLIND MAN TO RING A PEAL.

The 'Cambridge Chronicle' for Saturday, December 29th, 1770, recorded the following: 'On Monday last was rung at Great St. Mary's Church in this town, on 12 bells, a complete peal of Grandsire Cinques, consisting of 5,610 changes, which was completed with ease in three hours and fifty minutes by Messrs. Young treble, Laughton 2, Saunders 3, Incarsole 4, Gee 5, Robinson 6, Jones 7, Hinkin 8, Groves 9, Crowther 10, Day, who called the bobs, 11, Banyard tenor.'

It is very remarkable that Mr. Incarsole, who rang the 4th bell, is quite blind. The above is a wonderful feat in peal ringing, for a man to be quite blind and to ring a working bell through a peal of Grandsire Cinques. There is a tradition in Cambridge that this most wonderful man, Mr. John Incarsole, was very remarkable for his great talent and hearing powers, both in change ringing and music.

This peal was rung in the same year that the bells of Great St. Mary's were increased to twelve.

SEVEN DIFFERENT 720's.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I am much obliged both to you for your leading article on 'Conditions for peals,' and to Mr. Trollope for his 'Notes by the Way,' dealing with my inquiry as to ringing both Bob Minor and Grandsire Doubles in one peal, but no one has yet replied to my other question as to what actually constitutes 'seven different 720's.' May I repeat the inquiry? Does it mean that there must be seven different compositions, or could the same composition be used, making a different bell the observation, which would thus produce the 720 changes in a different order?

I have discussed the question with two ringers who are looked upon as leading men in our district, and they have given me different answers. One said, 'Seven different 720's' means 'seven different compositions'; the other pointed out, logically I think, that if the changes come up in a different order they must be different 720's, so far as it is possible for one 720 to differ from another. He further argued that if a 720 of Bob Minor called W.R.W. with 4th the observation was the same as a 720 with the 6th called W.R.W., then it was not possible to say that 720 of Bob Minor and 720 of Oxford Bob, both called W.R.W., were different 720's.

If I may venture to put forward my own very humble opinion, 720's in which the same calling is used, but from different observation bells, are as much entitled to be called 'different' as are peals of Doubles to the description of having been rung with 'ten different six-scores,' when actually there are only two sets of calling, begun either at a different place or with a different bell as the observation.

It seems obvious, however, that there is a divergence of opinion on the matter, and our band would like to see it cleared up. It may be that all that is necessary is that those who record peals of Minor should distinguish between 'Seven different 720's' and 'Seven different compositions.'—Yours faithfully,

TYRO.

QUICK PEALS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With regard to a letter in this week's 'Ringing World' signed by 'Tyro II.' I think that the majority of the band who took part in the quick peal at Crayford (and many others) will agree with me that anonymous insinuations of this type are beneath contempt.

All peal bands are open to, and should welcome, sane criticism of their performances, but what a pity that 'Tyro II.' had not the courage to challenge the peal in less than four months, and then not openly, and still further, what a pity that he gave a record of his own achievements in that direction in the same letter, thereby laying himself open to the suspicion of measuring other people's performances with his own yardstick.—Yours faithfully,

T. GROOMBRIDGE, JUN.

Dear Sir,—Why has Tyro II. not had the courage to throw out his poisonous hints of doubt before now? (apparently he lacks the pluck to challenge the peal direct), and why act the doubting Thomas behind a nom de plume? I am very sorry if any peal times of 'Tyro' have been lowered, and also that he did not have a band of supermen, such as he must be, so that they could have put on a little more speed when he made his desperate appeal to them! Has he any reason to doubt the word of such men as E. Barnett, T. Groombridge, J. Cheesman, H. Audsley and C. Roberts? If so, why not come into the open. I had the pleasure of ringing the tenor to this peal, and I think if these men could be persuaded to include 'Tyro' in a band, he would, perhaps, not be ashamed to have his name published, if to a peal of about 2 hrs. 1 min. (that is, if he could stick the pace).—Yours faithfully,

W. R. BOND.

OVER, CAMBS.—At the Parish Church, 720 Annabie's London Surprise: Wm. Bavin 1, C. Robinson 2, B. Wayman 3, F. C. Gleaves 4, A. J. Ginn 5, F. Warrington (conductor) 6. This is the first 720 in the method on the bells and by all the band, and was rung without previous practice.

SILENT VILLAGE BELLS.

On Friday, December 20th, at the Parish Church, Sherborne, near Northleach, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (ten and a half different extents) in 38 mins., by the following members of the St. Lawrence's Society, Bourton-on-the-Water: Mrs. F. A. Clements 1, Bernard T. Phillips 2, Henry Gillatt 3, A. William Wright 4, Fred A. Clements (conductor) 5, Cecil Pradley 6.

After the quarter-peal the band partook of a substantial supper generously provided by Lady Sherborne, whose hospitality was much appreciated. It is a matter for regret that so many fine rings of bells in the villages remain silent for want of ringers.

FIRST 720 AFTER 50 YEARS.

The first 720 of Minor by the ringers at St. Mary's Church, East Haddon, Northants, was rung on December 20th, and was really a family affair. The method was Bob Minor, and the ringers were: J. Cadd 1, J. Cadd, jun., 2, H. Cadd, sen., 3, H. Cadd, jun., 4, T. Beufield (son-in-law) 5, R. Adams (conductor) 6. It was the first 720 by all, and H. Cadd, sen., will shortly complete his 50th year as a ringer.

The bells were increased to six about twelve months ago, when a treble was added by Messrs. Taylor and Co. The tenor is 18 cwt. (approx.) in E.

RINGING IN GERMANY AND SWITZERLAND.

Writing from Lausanne, Switzerland, the Rev. F. L. Edwards, hon. secretary of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, sends greetings:—

'A happy new year to "The Ringing World" and all ringing friends.

'I have done a little ringing in Germany and Switzerland,' he adds, 'and it may amuse your readers to know that here I have had the novel experience of ringing a bell with a leather rope! Yesterday evening I was surprised to hear in a Swiss cafe a gramophone record of Westminster chimes and the back eight of St. Margaret's bells.'

COALBROOKDALE BELLRINGER MARRIED.

A WEDDING PRESENTATION.

On Saturday, December 21st, Mr. Alfred S. Bayley, a ringer of Coalbrookdale, Salop, and Miss Elsie Harrison, were married at St. Michael's Church, Madeley, Shropshire. Mr. Bayley's fellow-ringers, assisted by several visitors, made an unsuccessful attempt for a peal of Grandsire Caters on the bells of Holy Trinity, Coalbrookdale, but after ringing two hours and fifty minutes the bells ran round at hand and the conductor called 'Stand.' The change here should have been 132456789, with nine more courses to ring. However, all taking part kept smiling, and adjourned to the Coalbrookdale Inn, where 'Alf' had very kindly ordered refreshments. The usual social hour was spent. The bridegroom and his gentlemen friends looked in, and readers who know the Dale Inn can guess what sort of reception he had. Not being in the least bashful, he took part in a fine course of Caters on handbells, ringing 3-4 in his usual style. Then he rang the back four of eight very nicely to the 'Blue Bells of Scotland,' much to the astonishment of his wedding friends.

A very pleasing ceremony took place on Sunday morning in the belfry, where the Vicar, the Rev. T. Eland, the churchwardens and the local ringers met to present Mr. Bayley with a solid silver inkstand, suitably inscribed. The Vicar, in making the presentation, spoke of Alfred's good work for the belfry generally, and wished him much happiness and success.

Mr. W. Saunders (head ringer) also spoke of Mr. Bayley's fine work, saying he was always willing to help with anything in connection with the bells, and wished him, on behalf of his colleagues, the very best of luck.—Mr. Bayley suitably replied.

THE LATE MR. J. E. SYKES

HOW MANY PEALS DID HE RING?

A correspondent who rang at the Dockyard Church, Plymouth, with the late Mr. J. E. Sykes a few days before he went to Copenhagen, inquires if it is possible to find out through the columns of 'The Ringing World' how many peals 'Uncle Joe' rang. When ringing at the Dockyard Church on this occasion, he mentioned that it was the 750th tower in which he had rung, and our correspondent thinks it is possible that this was the last time that he rang a bell.

THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at
RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

BELLS AND PUBLIC SENTIMENT.

The old year went out with a rush of peals. We have not got the exact statistics before us of the number rung, but December was almost certainly the record month in 1929, as it has been in many previous years. The reason, of course, is not far to seek. The great festival of the Church, which is celebrated during the month, gives the ringers great opportunities. Bells are as much a feature of the Christmas celebrations as are roast beef or plum pudding. The one thing that thousands in the towns and villages look forward to, either at midnight or in the early morning, are the church bells which herald the coming of Christmas. There is thus a tradition and a duty which ringers have to maintain. And then the holidays, which offer many chances of peals, and the passing of the old year, which again calls for the use of the bells and gives ringers yet another occasion upon which to exercise their art.

That bells make a wide claim upon the imagination of English people at this time of the year cannot be gainsaid, and it was typical that the feature of the British Broadcasting Corporation's special programme for the passing of the old year was the ringing of bells. Listeners were enabled, through the marvellous achievements of wireless, to follow the coming of the new year as it advanced across a large part of the continent of Europe, and everywhere, where the celebrations were picked up, the bells were heard. They may have been somewhat 'shouted down' by the ships' sirens of Rotterdam, but the clanging of many bells in a German town, an hour before 1930 reached England, was a striking demonstration of the part which bells play on such occasions throughout Christendom, and to listening ringers in this country revealed in strong contrast the difference between the clanging of bells on the continent and the rhythmic music which is produced from the towers in our own land, and which was admirably demonstrated by the half-muffled twelve-bell ringing at St. Michael's, Cornhill, before midnight and the open ringing on the twelve at Southwark Cathedral after the hour had struck. For the hundreds of thousands—perhaps millions—of listeners on New Year's Eve, in this land of ours, the bells were not only in evidence—they predominated in the celebration.

And not only over the ether. In every town and village throughout the country where there is a peal of bells, the people were listening for their sounds, either ringing for the watchnight service, or immediately before the witching hour, and again, with even wilder melody, when the new year had come. People talk of church bells becoming out of date and unnecessary in these days of clocks and wire less time signals, but we have only to turn to the important place which bells hold in the sentiments of the public at Christmas and the New Year, to know that, deep down in the hearts of the people of this country, church bells really occupy a warm corner and are cherished with an affectionate regard.

THE TWELVE-BELL RECORD.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I consider your correspondent, Mr. Dyke, who is well known as a good ringer, is a little severe on the band who attempted the long peal of Grandsire Cinques. If the peal had been accomplished, it could not be in competition with any peal of Maximus. In my opinion it would only stand as a record of eleven-bell method ringing. The difficulty is in agreeing what would constitute a standard for peals. I have heard all sorts.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A long-felt want has been removed by a gift of a set of new ropes for the Parish Church, Hagley, Worcs. The generous donor is Mr. Harry Mason, who has become highly popular since coming to reside in the village.

It is never too late to—begin peal ringing. Mr. E. W. Hutchinson has just rung his first peal at the age of 73 years, at Penwortham.

The first peal of Grandsire Caters was rung at St. Bride's Church, Fleet Street, on January 11th, 1716-17, by the London Scholars. In the Osborne MSS. in the British Museum it is recorded that 'the first known performance of the London Scholars was a peal of 5,040 Grandsire Caters, at St. Bride's in Fleet Street, Friday, January 11th, 1716-17. The frame put up was taken down and destroyed when the church was repaired in 1796. This was supposed to be the only peal of Caters rung whilst St. Bride's contained ten bells, and was said to be the first known peal of Caters ever completed by any company in the kingdom; which was probably the case, as no other peal upon ten bells appears upon record to precede this performance.'

The Ancient Ringing Society of Redenhall was established on January 13th, 1736, and the anniversary was celebrated for a long period of time. We do not know whether, like Saffron Walden and Lavenham, the day is still commemorated.

James Barham died on January 14th, 1818, at the age of 93 years. He was buried in the churchyard at Leeds, Kent, and a headstone records something of his ringing prowess.

The two Central Council representatives elected by the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association at their annual meeting on Boxing Day were Messrs. J. W. Jones and John Phillips.

THREE GENERATIONS OF RINGERS.

EDWIN BARNETT I., II., AND III.

We recorded in our issue of December 27th a peal of Grandsire rung on December 20th at Crayford, Kent, in which three generations of one family took part. Edwin A. Barnett, at the age of eleven years, rang his first peal, and with him in this performance was his father, Edwin Barnett, jun., and his grandfather, Edwin Barnett, sen., who was the conductor of the peal.

The name of Barnett has been prominently associated with ringing for nearly fifty years, and the encouragement given to young ringers by Edwin Barnett, sen., throughout his long career has been as great as any man has ever given, for he is as ready to help a youngster through a peal of Grandsire Triples—as he did his grandson on this occasion—as he is to ring a peal in any of the higher methods.

THE THREE GENERATIONS.

Mr. E. Barnett, sen., rang his first peal at West Ham as long ago as April, 1882, and his score is now over 800. His son rang his first peal in 1899, and now, thirty years later, to the great delight of 'grandad,' as well as of his father, Edwin III. has taken his place among peal ringers. He was eleven years of age on October 15th, and with this early start he will have a good chance of beating his grandfather's fine record, if only he can maintain the same interest and enthusiasm and the same will to succeed.

PEAL BOARDS AND A PRESENTATION.

A pleasing little ceremony took place at S. Nicolas' tower, Guildford, on Sunday morning, when the Rector (Rev. G. M. Wheeler) unveiled two peal boards. They are of polished oak and written in gilt letters, one recording the last peal on the bells before their restoration (Grandsire Caters on January 30th, 1926), and the first peal on the bells after rehanging and recasting several of them (Grandsire Caters on January 5th, 1929). The second board records a peal of Bob Royal rung on March 3rd, 1906, and a peal of Stedman Caters on November 12th, 1908.

After the boards had been unveiled, a silver bell inkstand, suitably inscribed (supplied by Mr. T. E. Russell, Woking), was presented by the ringers to the Rector as a parting gift on his shortly leaving the parish to take up a chaplaincy at Mentone.

CLERGY AND RINGING.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Ringers, I am sure, have appreciated the tone and manner of the Rev. F. A. Roughton's letter, and if I add one or two remarks, it is not in the spirit of criticism, but in order to supplement what he says.

In the first place, it is by no means necessary for a clergyman to become an efficient change ringer before he can show an intelligent interest in his band. As soon as he can ring rounds, he will probably be a useful member of the band, even if he is not equal to managing the 'tenor behind,' while it will not take him much longer with a good band to coach him to be able to hunt the treble.

With such an elementary knowledge of the art, he will be able to appreciate many of the ringers' difficulties, and himself avoid so many causes of offence to these, his most faithful churchworkers. In fact, it is quite possible that he may be more thought of if he can only ring a little than if he is 'an efficient change ringer.' We do not expect a parson to be a solo singer himself, but we do expect him to know enough about music to avoid giving offence needlessly to his choir. In the case of the ringers, such an elementary knowledge is even more urgently required. For while the work of the choir is done before everyone, and it is rarely very difficult to get someone who is sufficiently musical to supplement any defects in the parson, neither of these things applies to the ringers.

Some time ago I went up into a belfry, where I was a stranger. After some preliminary difficulties, we had just settled down to a good touch when the parson, who had seen me go up, came in with a number of young fellows—apparently a Confirmation class, or part of one. He waited for some minutes, and then went down looking rather annoyed.

It looked as though he had expected us to stop as soon as he arrived. He would not have expected his choir or an orchestra to stop in the middle of a piece they were rehearsing. What ringers feel, and I think rightly feel, is that a parson ought not to undertake work in a church where there are bells until he has learnt enough about ringing to avoid making such a mistake.

As for preparation before a service, I have found nothing better than the gentle and regular exercise of ringing for the body, or the skill required for easy changes for the mind. If a parson can manage to find time for it, I am sure he will never consider it time ill spent, even in a busy day. Peal ringing on Sunday is quite another matter.

PROPOSED AUGMENTATION OF OVER BELLS.

NEW YEAR'S EVE GATHERING REVEALS SUPPORT FOR SCHEME.

The Over Society of Church Bellringers held their annual supper on New Year's Eve in the schoolroom, about 35 members and friends being present, including the president (Rev. F. G. Weston), Mr. H. Asplin (vice-president), Mr. W. I. Ginn (secretary), Mr. F. C. Ginn (treasurer), Mr. A. J. Ginn (captain), Mr. B. Wayman (vice-captain), Mr. F. G. Gleaves, Mr. F. Warrington (district secretary and Ringing Master of the Ely Archdeaconry). To the general regret, Mr. H. Edwards, Vicar's warden and vice-president, was absent, having been taken ill on the previous Saturday. After supper, Mr. A. J. Ginn spoke of the past year's work, which, he said, had given him satisfaction, and he expressed the hope, that before long Over would have a ring of eight bells.

The Vicar (Rev. F. G. Weston) responded and thanked the ringers for their services during the year, and also promised to support the movement for the peal to be increased to eight.—Mr. H. Asplin supported the Vicar, and added he was pleased to hear the bells rung, specially for service.

Mr. B. Wayman, Mr. F. Warrington and Mr. F. C. Ginn also urged the augmentation. Associating his remarks with Mr. Asplin, Mr. Warrington said Over had a fine church, and was worthy of a peal of eight bells. There were 17 ringing members, about fifty 720's had been rung for service, and about 100 720's rung during the year.

Mr. A. J. Ginn, commenting on Surprise ringing, added yet another surprise when he stated that someone had promised to start an augmentation fund with a gift of £10, and the Vicar and Mr. Asplin promised to bring this before the Church Council at the first opportunity.

During the evening games were indulged in, also handbell ringing, etc., a 720 Cambridge Surprise being rung by A. W. T. Ginn 1, F. C. Ginn 2, B. Wayman 3, F. G. Gleaves 4, A. J. Ginn 5, F. Warrington 6. This was F. Warrington's 133rd 720 during 1929, the 685th since January, 1925, and the 200th of Cambridge Surprise. About 11.45 p.m. the ringers adjourned to the church tower to toll out the old year and ring in the new, when two touches were brought round. The bells having then been lowered, the ringers returned to the schoolroom, where the party, joining crossed hands, sang 'Auld Lang Syne' before finally dispersing about 1 a.m., everyone having had a good time. It is believed this annual supper has, with the exception of war years, been held for nearly a century.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.DEVIZES BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Devizes on Saturday. The bells of St. John's (8), St. Mary's (6) and St. James', Southbroom (6) were all available for ringing, which commenced about 2.45 p.m. At 4.40 p.m. the Guild service was held in St. James' Church, and was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Tudor Jefferys, the lesson being read by the chairman of the branch (Mr. C. D. Heginbotham). Mr. Wicks was the organist, and the service was largely attended. The Vicar spoke a few words of welcome to those present. He expressed his pleasure that a meeting had been arranged at that church, it being the first time during his four years' incumbency that such a gathering had been held there, and spoke of the encouragement it gave one to have a faithful band of ringers such as he was pleased to say he had.

Tea followed, to which between 70 and 80 sat down, including the Rev. Tudor Jefferys, Rev. Tiney Bassett (Rector of Beechingstoke), a former chairman of the branch, Mr. C. F. Johnston (of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, Croydon), the grand old veteran of the branch, Mr. H. Brownlee West, Mrs. C. D. Heginbotham, Mrs. F. Green, Mr. W. Shute and Mr. L. Wilson.

A business meeting followed, Mr. C. D. Heginbotham presiding. At the outset, the Chairman wished all present a happy new year. He drew attention to the leading article in that week's issue of 'The Ringing World' on problems to be faced, and said there were always new ones, and he appealed to all to face them in a spirit of goodwill. In his resumé of the work in the branch during the year, the Chairman thanked the officers for their help, and said the work of restoring the bells at All Cannings and Bishop's Lavington had been completed. Among those which required attention were Edington, Erlestoke, and South Wroxall. He also congratulated those members who had rung peals during the year, and noted with pleasure those who had been 'first pealers.'—The secretary (Mr. F. Green) produced the balance sheet for the past year, which showed a small balance in hand. In his report, the Secretary thanked the incumbents of the parishes for the use of the bells, and the correspondents of the towers for their help during the past year.

The following new members were elected: Mr. C. Springford and Mr. F. Springford, of Devizes, as hon. members; Messrs. F. May, G. F. Mead, Swift, Vincent and C. Drewett as ringing members.

The election of officers for the coming year resulted in the whole of the retiring officers being re-elected, with thanks for their services.

On the motion of the Chairman, a vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar and other incumbents in the town for the use of the bells, to the organist, and to those who prepared the tea. The Vicar acknowledged the vote, and Mr. Johnston and Mr. Shute replied on behalf of the visitors.

This concluded the business.

Ringers were present from Devizes, Bradford-on-Avon, Bromham, Chirton, All Cannings, Bratton, Trowbridge, Melksham and Warminster, Mere, Buckhorn Weston, Wootton Bassett and Swindon.

It would be a very great help indeed to the secretary if the correspondents of towers would try and get the subscriptions in earlier in the year, so as to enable him to complete the balance sheet for audit before the annual meeting.

The Church of St. James, Devizes, is the garrison church of the Wilts Regiment, and contains memorials to officers and men of that regiment, and some old colours. It has a fine perpendicular tower, which, until 22 or 23 years ago, contained only four bells. Then two trebles were added, and the third recast by Messrs. Taylor and Co. The tenor is a bell of about 9 cwt.

Hon. Secretary.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.DERBY DISTRICT DECIDES ON QUARTERLY MEETINGS.

The annual meeting of the Derby District was held on Saturday afternoon in the Cathedral belfry. The splendid ring of ten bells was kept going during the afternoon and evening, touches in a variety of methods being rung, members being present from most of the surrounding belfries. At the business meeting, which was presided over by Mr. H. Fletcher (vice-president), the retiring officers were thanked for their past services and again elected, viz., Mr. H. Fletcher (vice-president), Messrs. C. Draper and E. Clarke (committee), and Mr. George Freebrey (secretary).

Some discussion arose as to whether it was advisable to continue the monthly meetings or to hold meetings once a quarter, and on the proposition of Mr. Draper, seconded by Mr. E. H. Clarke it was decided to hold quarterly meetings, the first to be held in Derby.

A hearty vote of thanks to Canon Ham for the use of the bells, to Mr. James Pagett as Ringing Master, and Mr. George Holmes, towerkeeper, was proposed by Mr. W. Wallace, and carried unanimously.

HOW STAGSDEN RINGERS PATCHED UP THEIR BELLS.

On Thursday evening, January 2nd, the ringers of St. Leonard's Church, Stagdsen, were entertained to supper and a social evening by their Vicar (the Rev. E. E. Nickisson) and Mrs. Nickisson. The meal was partaken of at the residence of Mrs. R. Bonnett, who kindly undertook to prepare the supper, which consisted of good old English fare. After full justice had been done, the company adjourned to the Church Room, where handbells and games passed away a very pleasant evening. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar and Mrs. Nickisson, to Mrs. R. Bonnett, and all those who helped to make the evening so enjoyable.

Stagdsen bells are a poor peal of five, and for some twenty years only the front three were used, chimed by one man. However, when he died, a young hand set to work to improve matters. The clapper staples of the 4th and 5th were broken, making the bells unringable, but the ringers determined to put matters right, spent many hours inside the bells with specially shaped pieces of iron and 'u' bolts, nuts, etc., and in the end successfully fixed in the clappers. The outcome of this is that the bells have been rung ever since—over five years—change ringing is practised, and the bells rung regularly for Sunday service.

The time has now come when a thorough restoration will have to be effected, as the 'go' of the bells is very bad, and the fittings very dilapidated. A fund has been started, and subscriptions will be gratefully received by the Vicar, Stagdsen, Beds.

BICESTER BELLRINGERS' SUPPER.

The annual supper of the Bicester ringers took place on New Year's Eve. After a pull on the bells, the party made their way to the Rose and Crown Inn, where they sat down to an excellent repast, presided over by the Vicar (the Rev. O'Reilly). Those present were Messrs. T. Clifton, E. A. Clifton, J. Evans, L. Evans, W. Scarrott, B. Cox, H. Hatfield, F. Neale, G. Auger, G. Keeves and A. Tuffrey. After the supper, the loyal toast was honoured, and touches and tunes were then rung on the handbells.

The Vicar gave the toast of 'The Bicester Ringers,' which was responded to by Mr. E. A. Clifton.

A vote of condolence was passed with Mr. Cox on the death of his father, the company standing in silence a few moments. Mr. Cox thanked the ringers for their sympathy, and also for the muffled peal which was rung the previous evening.

Community singing was next the order of the evening, and then followed the toast of 'The Vicar,' which was accorded musical honours.

Mr. L. Evans then gave the company a recital of his own composition, entitled 'The Bicester Bellringers,' in which each member of the band came in for his share of criticism or otherwise.

A few tunes on the gramophone, the toast of 'The Hostess,' proposed by Mr. Clifton, who thanked Mrs. Neale for her kind regard for them at all times, a duet by the brothers Evans, followed by Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem, brought an end to the happy proceedings, and the ringers then went to the belfry for muffled ringing until midnight, after which followed open ringing until 12.15 a.m. Thus was the new year ushered in.

NEW BELLS AT TILSWORTH, BEDS.A FINE RING OF SIX.

Sunday, December 29th, was a 'red-letter' day in the history of the hamlet of Tilsworth, Bedfordshire, the recast and augmented peal of bells being on that occasion solemnly dedicated by Bishop Lander, in the presence of a crowded congregation. The service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. E. R. Souper), assisted by the Rev. G. C. Rolfe, Rector of Dunstable (Rural Dean). After the dedication of the bells, rounds were rung, as the Bishop and choir returned to the chancel, by a band from the Priory Church, Dunstable, who had been specially asked to open the bells.

At the close of evensong, the crowded congregation stayed to hear the ringing. Touches of Cambridge Surprise, Double Court, Kent Treble Bob, and Grandsire Doubles were brought round, the ringing concluding with the first 720 on the bells, a well-struck extent of Bob Minor being rung.

Originally a peal of five by Russell, of Wolton, the bells have now been recast, and a new treble added, the whole now making a lovely ring of six, upon which Messrs. Taylor and Co., the founders, are to be heartily congratulated. The whole of the work has been carried out with the well-known thoroughness of the firm, who were represented at the opening by Mr. J. P. Fidler. Everyone was loud in their praise of the beautiful tone of the bells. The 'go,' too, is everything a ringer could desire.

On Tuesday, December 31st, the first peal was rung on the bells.

RE-OPENING OF WHITSTONE CHURCH BELLS.A MIDNIGHT CEREMONY.

The five bells of Whitstone Church, Devon, have been quarter-turned and rehung (two being recast) and a sixth bell added by Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Fry (of Bristol and Bude), to the glory of God, and in loving memory of their son, Dennis Grierson Fry, who entered into rest on St. George's Day, 1929. The new treble bell was anointed and blessed at the Sung Mass on Sunday, November 24th, and was rung for the first time at the elevation of the Host and at the Angelus by Mrs. Fry. The rehanging bells were officially reopened with prayers and a muffled peal at 11.30 p.m. on Christmas Eve, followed by a festal peal at 11.45 p.m. before the Midnight Mass. At this service Mr. and Mrs. Fry were present, and there was a very large congregation. An address was given by the Rector (the Rev. C. D. Kingdon) from the text, Exodus xxviii. 35, 'Bells of gold.' Ninety people made their Christmas Communion.

There were merry peals after the service. The work of the rehanging, etc., has been splendidly executed by the firm of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon. At the close of the service all those present were given a memorial card of the re-opening, and an original poem on the Christmas Bells of St. Anne's, Whitstone.

As there was little opportunity for ringing at the re-opening, the Rector and ringers extended a hearty welcome to the ringers of the neighbouring towers to meet at Whitstone Church on Monday last (Old Christmas Day) for a ringers' gathering. Tea was served in the Church Hall for ringers and friends.

CLAUDE D. KINGDON,

An old 'College Youth.'

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.BEDFORD DISTRICT AT THURLEIGH.

The Bedford District held a meeting at St. Peter's Church, Thurleigh, on Saturday, and about 24 members attended, which was considered quite good for the time of year. The bells at this church are rung in full sight of the congregation, the tower being central. The ringing during the afternoon and evening was of the usual meeting character—some good touches, some indifferent. Nevertheless good spade work was done, some of the members ringing their first touch inside.

Tea was served in the Village Hall, the members being the guests of the Vicar (the Rev. C. Hemsley), who, although unable to be present through indifferent health, sent his best wishes.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for his generosity.

A short business meeting was held, Mr. R. Shimmans being in the chair. Mr. R. Lovell, of Thurleigh, was elected a member of the association, and Mr. W. Whitmore, of Raunds, an hon. resident member. Mr. H. Cockings, of Stagsden, was re-elected a member.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Cardington (8) on February 1st, if the bells are available, Wootton (6) being chosen as an alternative tower.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to the local ringers and their wives for making arrangements and preparing the tea, was heartily accorded.

Ringings in methods from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise was carried on till 8 p.m.

Members were present from Bedford, Bromham, Cardington, Keysoe, Riseley, Clapham, Stagsden, Kempston and the local tower. Other welcome visitors were Mr. and Mrs. H. Chapman and Messrs. W. and E. Whitmore, Raunds.

RINGER'S DEATH AFTER MOTOR ACCIDENT.

It is with very deep regret we have to announce the death of Mr. Thomas William Emsden, of Chislehurst, which occurred on December 20th, the result of a motoring accident, announced in 'The Ringing World' of December 13th. The deceased never fully regained consciousness.

Mr. Emsden was returning from Bromley to Chislehurst on a motor-cycle when he was run into by another machine. No one saw the accident, but both riders were found unconscious in the road, and were removed to hospital. Mr. Emsden's injuries consisted of a fractured skull, a broken leg and a badly lacerated hand.

A native of Barking, near Needham Market, and a carpenter by trade, he had only done a little six-bell ringing before coming to Chislehurst, but he joined the Chislehurst band, and soon made good headway in ringing Grandsire Triples (two peals), Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, and Treble Bob Major, a few touches on ten bells, and rounds on several of the city twelves, his last being at St. Paul's Cathedral.

A man of more lovable and kindly disposition never walked, and he will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

A half-muffled peal was rung on Saturday under the auspices of the two societies, in which he took such an interest—the Kent County Association and the Ancient Society of College Youths.—R.I.P.

SEVEN-BELL METHODS.To the Editor.

Sir,—While thanking those gentlemen who wrote letters on the subject of 'Silvester,' I would point out that I made no claim to originality, and only sent you the figures and the peal, as I wanted to refer to them in a short article on 'Q sets,' intended for beginners, which I hope shortly to publish, if you can find room for them.

Mr. Craven may be interested to know that Silchester is a 'legitimate seven-bell method,' and as such it is docketed in the Central Council Library, where it has been in manuscript form for the last twenty years or more.

It pleased the Central Council to draw a distinction between a 'legitimate seven-bell method' and a 'legitimate Triple method,' which doubtless was the reason that made him think that such methods had been condemned.—Yours truly, E. BANKES JAMES.

THE PEAL AT STONE.STEDMAN DOUBLES COMPLETES INTERESTING SEQUENCE.

The first peal of Stedman Doubles in the county of Worcester was rung on Saturday week for the 69th birthday of Mr. Thomas Pratt, a ringer at Stone for many years. This peal completes the circuit of Doubles, Triples, Caters and Cinques in the Stedman method by T. J. Salter, Clifford Skidmore and Robert Matthews. It also brings to mind the fact that W. Short was the first to achieve this performance. Further, Mr. J. Bass has rung Stedman and Grandsire from Doubles to Cinques, and Plain Bob and Treble Bob from Minor to Maximus. The conductor, Mr. Robert Matthews, has now done the same thing with the addition of Cambridge from Minor to Maximus.

ANOTHER PORTISHEAD LADY RINGER MARRIED.

On Boxing Day, the marriage took place at the Parish Church, Portishead, of Miss Alice Stokes and Mr. Harold E. Gale, the Rector (Preb. H. W. Jukes) and the Rev. H. S. Briggs officiating. The bride had been for ten years a valued member of the Portishead band. She had rung three peals of Grandsire Triples, which she conducted, and one peal of Stedman Triples.

To show their appreciation and esteem, all the members of the local company met in the belfry to send forth their good wishes on the bells. Their present to the bride was a dinner service.

SOUTHGATE RINGERS WEDDED.

At Christ Church, Southgate, on Dec. 28th, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes) in 47 mins.: A. R. Glasscock 1, D. Pink 2, J. Armstrong (conductor) 3, D. Orington 4, H. Miller 5, J. Miller 6, W. Pickworth 7, A. G. Crane 8. Rung in honour of the marriage earlier in the day at All Saints' Church, Edmonton, of Miss Phoebe Ann Upsher to Mr. Norman Tomlinson, both members of the Southgate Society. The Southgate ringers, after the wedding, were the guests of the mother of the bride.

A PINCHBECK RINGER'S WEDDING.

In honour of the wedding of Mr. W. Worthington, of Pinchbeck, and Miss A. G. Overton, of Gosberton, which took place on Boxing Day at Gosberton, the Pinchbeck ringers rang a 720 Bob Minor, also 240 each of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and 120 Double Court. The ringers taking part were W. Hudson, J. Curry, G. Sewell, A. Ground, G. Ladd, Maurice E. Wilson (of Sheffield), F. Dewey (Boston), and H. Nichols (Spalding). The ringers greatly appreciated being allowed to ring.

These bells have recently been rehung in a new iron frame with ball bearings by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and the 'go' of them is all one could wish for. The weight of the tenor has always been given as 21 cwt. The correct weight, however, is 17 cwt. 3 qr. 7 lb.

STANMORE (MIDDLESEX) RINGERS' DINNER.

This annual event took place on Saturday last at the Abercorn Arms, Stanmore. The Rector (Rev. W. A. Hewett) took the chair, and was supported by Mr. G. Hughes (Ringing Master), Mr. E. Heading (vice-president), Mr. F. Hill (hon. secretary) and the local ringers, besides several guests, who included Mr. F. Edwards (Bushey) and Mr. C. T. Coles (hon. secretary, Middlesex Association) and other ringers from Ruislip, Pinner and Harrow Weald. After an excellent dinner, the loyal toast was honoured.

The Hon. Secretary then spoke of the excellent progress made during the year, when the bells were rung at least twice every Sunday without exception. Mr. G. Hughes set a good example by making 109 attendances, being closely followed by his son with 106. Five quarter-peals were rung, and Mr. Hill congratulated the band that had rung the first peal of Stedman Triples on the bells that afternoon.

The Rector then presented a barometer to Mr. R. Wilkinson, as a gift from the Stanmore ringers on the occasion of his marriage. A silver inkstand, in the shape of a bell, was presented to Mr. F. Edwards as a token of appreciation of his services as instructor.

Mr. Edwards, in returning thanks, took occasion to thank the visitors who had stood in the peal that afternoon to enable him to call the first in the method on the Stanmore bells.

Mr. G. A. Hughes proposed the toast of 'The Rector and Churchwardens.' Their Rector, he said, was the best they could have, and was one who took a great interest in the ringers. He (Mr. Hughes) was especially pleased that the bells were rung for all Sunday services without fail, and hoped such a state of affairs would continue. He also spoke a few words of appreciation of the support given by the Middlesex Association, and said they looked forward to the summer meeting of the association at Stanmore.

The Rector, in his reply, took occasion to thank the ringers for their excellent services, for which both he and the churchwardens were grateful.

Mr. Hill toasted 'Our guests,' who included Mr. Bozier, for over 30 years a ringer at Stanmore, but now retired.—Mr. C. T. Coles replied, thanking the Stanmore ringers, on behalf of the visitors, for an excellent dinner. The secret of success at Stanmore was the good fellowship prevailing, and the Rector was fortunate in his ringers. Mr. Coles also thanked Mr. Edwards for the work he put in at Stanmore, which they of the Middlesex Association much appreciated.

A musical programme helped to fill up the evening, which passed all too quickly.

RIVERSIDE CHURCH, New York, U.S.A.

STATISTICS THAT WOULD BE USEFUL

One of the things about which there is no definite statistical information available is the precise number of rings of bells in the country, and it is consequently impossible to arrive at anything like an accurate idea of the percentage of towers in which there are bands of ringers or in which change ringing is practised. The latest edition of 'The Ringers' Directory' contains a table showing the number of towers in the areas of nearly all the associations, and the total given is 3,349, containing peals of from five to twelve bells. But the figures are admittedly incomplete, and the compilers invite the help of subscribers so that in future an authentic total can be given. There ought not to be any great difficulty in getting these statistics completed, although it will require care to ensure that all towers are included and that none are counted twice, through the overlapping of association areas. Correct information would in itself be interesting, but it would also be of considerable value if, in conjunction with it, particulars were available with regard to the number of towers which are fully or undermanned, and the number at which change ringing is practised. In organisation statistics form the basis of operations and a periodical census would provide a guide as to how the Exercise actually stands and whether it is making real progress, both in gaining numbers and in spreading the art of change ringing.

In all probability the records for the year 1929 will show a falling off in the number of peals rung, compared with the preceding year. It would be interesting, if it were possible, to know whether these peals have been rung in as many towers as in the previous year, and by as many different ringers. If they were, there would be no need to regret the falling off in the peal total, but in the absence of such statistics it is impossible to say what has been the reason for the decline. If we may make a suggestion on the subject, we should like to see appointed in every association a statistical officer (where the secretary is unable to undertake the additional work) who would get out all the necessary information, based upon an agreed form. The details would then be available for the use of the association in planning their own campaign and could be sent on also to the Central Council, by whom they could be collated. Ringers would then have comprehensive and reliable information on the general position of the Exercise, which would be available for a variety of purposes. If each association undertook its own portion of the work, it would impose no great burden on anyone, and the resulting statistics would be not only interesting but illuminating. The falling off in peal ringing last year may or may not be symptomatic of a general decline in the art; with the information now available no one can say. If it is, surely it is as well that it should be definitely known, in order that steps may be taken in the right quarters to counter it; but we cannot know without statistics and, in our view, it would be well to lose no time in organising the channels by which the information might be obtained.

GILLINGHAM RINGERS' LOSS.

The many friends of Mr. William Haigh, leader of Rochester Cathedral and Gillingham Parish Church bellringers, will learn with regret of the death of his wife on January 4th, after much suffering patiently borne. The sympathy of the whole Exercise is extended to him and to his family in their bereavement.

The funeral took place on Thursday, January 9th, the first part of the service being held in Gillingham Parish Church, the Vicar, Rev. C. Webb officiating, and the interment at Gillingham Cemetery being conducted by the Rev. Buckingham, a member of the Gillingham band of ringers.

The Kent County Association was represented at the funeral, and among the many beautiful wreaths were three sent by the Rochester District, the Rochester Cathedral, and the Gillingham Parish Church bellringers.

A representative company of the Kent County Association assembled at Gillingham Church in the evening, the bells being half-muffled in memory of the deceased lady. A quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was attempted, but was unfortunately lost.

THE TWELVE-BELL RECORD.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Your anonymous correspondent, who signs himself 'An ordinary ringer' is surely mistaken when he states that had the long peal of Grandsire Cinques been accomplished it could not be in competition with any peal of Maximus. I would refer him to recent issues of 'The Ringing World.' Writing without reference (my copies being at the binders), I have a distinct recollection of it being stated that the Painswick ringers were attempting to achieve the 'greatest number of changes on twelve bells.' Again, in the report of the failure of the attempt there is reference to the twelve-bell record. Further, if the peal was being attempted to beat the existing eleven-bell record—well, the Painswick men already hold that, so why trouble?

As I did not hear any of the ringing at Painswick, I cannot say whether or not Mr. Dyke was justified in his comments, but if he was, I do think something better ought to be put up in an attempt to beat the Ashton peal. And why not ring Maximus to beat Maximus?—Yours faithfully,

C. T. COLES.

21, Vincent Road, E.4.

DEATH OF JOSEPH W. SMITH, OF WORCESTER.

The death took place on Sunday, January 5th, of Mr. Joseph William Smith, at The Limes, Bromyard Road, Worcester. The deceased was well known to Worcestershire ringers, and he will be sadly missed. He has held the position of clerk of the works at Worcester Cathedral for the past 20 years, during which time he has done some valuable work. When the Cathedral bells were recast in 1928 he took quite a lot of interest in their removal and return, and the Dean and Chapter, as a reward for his services, had his name inscribed on one of the bells.

Archdeacon Piele, in his address on Sunday, January 5th, spoke very highly of his valuable work, and the Cathedral Guild of Bell ringers rang the bells muffled for evening service on that date.

The funeral took place on Wednesday, January 8th, the Dean of Worcester (Dr. Moore Ede) being present, together with several clergy and a great number of friends and relatives. On the same date members of the Cathedral Guild rang 593 Grandsire Cinques: F. Neate 1, J. Morris 2, B. Hill 3, W. Powell 4, W. C. Jones 5, D. Morris 6, W. Page 7, A. Hill 8, W. Lewis 9, J. J. Jefferies (conductor) 10, S. T. Holt 11, W. H. Johnson 12. This was followed by 'the whole pull and stand' 59 times, representing the age of the deceased.

'Q SETS' FOR BEGINNERS*To the Editor.*

Dear Sir,—I read with interest that you may publish an article on 'Q sets' from the pen of the Rev. E. Bankes James. This will undoubtedly be welcomed, and should prove to be instructive to those who care to study it. I should, however, like to offer advance comment, if I may.

Firstly, if specific reference is to be made to the figures and peal of 'Silvester,' they should be embodied in the article itself, as many of us do not keep a 'file' of back numbers, and I do not remember that mention was made of the forthcoming article, when the figures were published.

Secondly, some years back I sat long with an article on 'Proof' by the same gentleman, and found complete understanding very difficult, for two reasons:—

(1) Certain figures were printed in 'heavier type,' the 'heaviness' of which did not happen to mature in my copy. I would suggest that any such 'marking' should be done in another manner.

(2) There was an error in the text—an important one—which remained uncorrected in your following issues. In publishing instructive matter, I think that the author should have errors corrected as soon as possible.

I trust that these remarks offer no offence, and apologise for my pseudonym; it is less obscure than my name, and, in any case, should hide nothing from the gentleman mentioned.—Yours sincerely,

MINORMANIA.

COMPLETE RINGERS' DIRECTORY.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As notified on page 329, May 24th, 1929, in 'The Ringing World,' I suggested at the Central Council meeting that a ringers' directory would be useful. The 'Bristol United Ringing Guilds Committee' have provided a very useful directory. The one for 1928 contained 489 names, whereas for 1929 it has 1,005, an increase of 516 in one year. I have therefore decided, with very great pleasure, to withdraw my suggestion to the Council.

Mr. Edgar Guise and others of the committee must have worked very hard to form such a useful and valuable directory, and the thanks of the ringing Exercise is due to them.

In conclusion may I ask each and every ringer to support this valuable and necessary cause. If this is done, I see no reason why the Directory for 1930 should not contain at least 20,000 names.—

JAMES GEORGE,

Hon. Member of the Central Council.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. Tom Lewis has been a ringer at the Parish Church, Eastbourne for 72 years. At the age of 85 years he claims to be one of the oldest, if not the oldest, active bellringers in the country. He rang for the weddings of King Edward VII. and Queen Alexandra, the present King and Queen and the Duke and Duchess of York. He told an interviewer the other day that bells were better than doctor's physic. 'Be a ringer,' he said, 'and you'll never be ill.'

The bells at West Cranmore, Somerset, have been condemned for ringing, and unfortunately it is not likely they will be rehung for a considerable time, as the village is already faced with a big expense in repairing the tower and church.

When the Essex Association met at Bishop's Stortford on December 14th, and nearly 40 ringers were present, ringing in the evening was stopped. The explanation is given in this month's issue of St. Michael's Parish Magazine, which says: 'Owing to a complete misunderstanding on the part of the Vicar as to the object of the gathering, the bells were stopped, and the gentlemen assembled left for home without any further ringing. We hope that next year some amends may be made for a perfectly unintentional discourtesy to our guests.'

After 31 weeks in hospital at Chalfont, Bucks, as a result of a motor-cycle accident, Mr. Bernard Clark, formerly one of the district secretaries of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, has now been able to return to Farnham.

The first peal by a purely local band at Usk, Monmouthshire, was rung last Friday at the ninth attempt. We congratulate the ringers on their success and perseverance.

The first peal on twelve bells was rung at St. Bride's, Fleet Street, London, on January 19th, 1724, when 'the Society of College Youths rung completely a peal of 5,060 Grandsire Cinques, being the first that ever was done.' Benjamin Annable probably called the peal, although the records do not give the name of the conductor, and Matthew East, who rang the 11th, became Master of the Society ten years later.

A peal of Norwich Maximus was rung for the first time on January 20th, 1817, appropriately at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich.

On January 21st, 1788, a peal of 6,600 Bob Maximus was rung at Great St. Mary's, Cambridge.

A peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal was rung at Cheltenham on January 21st, 1898, the first in the method since the peal at Wakefield in 1822.

Harry Bastable, who was Ringing Master at St. Martin's, Birmingham, for eleven years, died on January 19th, 1899; James Motts, of Ipswich, died on January 21st, 1923.

APPEAL FOR A LANCASHIRE RINGER.

Previously acknowledged, £7 17s.; ringers of St. Nicholas' Church, Liverpool, 15s.; S.M.B., 6d. Any further donations to this fund for assisting Mr. Harry Tomlinson will be gratefully received by Mr. F. Hindle, hon. secretary, Blackburn Branch, 58, Anvil Street, Blackburn.

THE ROYAL CUMBERLAND YOUTHS.

PRESENTATION TO THE MASTER.

There was a memorable gathering of members of the Royal Society of Cumberland Youths and friends at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields on Saturday, when, on the occasion of the annual meeting, opportunity was taken to acknowledge the services rendered to the society by the popular Master, Mr. John D. Matthews, who, for twenty years, has been guiding the destinies of the old society, and has, during that time, done a great deal to raise it to its present successful position. Mr. Matthews has been able not only to keep an active interest in the society in the matter of peal ringing, in which recent peals of Cambridge Surprise Maximus have been fine evidence of the consistent work which has been done, but the bells at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, and, in a rather less degree, those at St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, have been rung regularly for the Sunday services. Not only have Mr. Matthews' efforts been appreciated by the society, but also by the authorities at both these churches, and they joined with the members in presenting him with some token of their appreciation. In addition to the presentation on Saturday, there was the unveiling of a marble peal tablet in St. Martin's belfry recording the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus by the society. There was a large gathering of members from far and near for the occasion—men who had grown old in their membership of the society, youths only just on the threshold of their ringing careers, but all assembled for the one purpose of doing honour to the Master, who was accompanied by Mrs. Matthews. It was interesting to note that among those present were three generations of the Barnett family—all members of the society—Mr. E. Barnett, sen., having joined the Royal Cumberlands over 48 years ago. The Master's family was also represented by three generations, but in this case the youngest representative was only able to watch the proceedings from his mother's arms. Another old member present was Mr. Joseph Waghorn, sen., who carries his 88 years with wonderful vigour. Several members of the Ancient Society of College Youths attended, and the company included Mr. C. Clarke (Bedford), Mr. W. Ayre (Hemel Hempstead), Mr. A. H. Pulling (Guildford), and about 50 ringers from churches in the London area. The Rev. Pat McCormick, Vicar of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, came to perform the two ceremonies.

Mr. E. Barnett, as the oldest member of the society present, made an introductory speech. He said they had gathered there primarily for their annual meeting, but they had also assembled for the purpose of doing honour to their worthy Master, Mr. J. D. Matthews, and the band which rang the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus for the society. When he looked back on his nearly fifty years of membership of the society, said Mr. Barnett, and thought of how the society declined after the lamented death of Mr. George Newson, whose name they would always revere, and when he looked at the proud position the society had attained to-day under the leadership of Mr. Matthews, he realised all that their Master had done for them, but he felt incapable of doing justice to that important occasion. Mr. Matthews had been Master for 20 years, and he had raised the society, which was almost dormant at that time, to a most prominent and important position among the London ringing societies. Where at any other tower in London could they find Cambridge Twelve rung for the church services, except at St. Martin's and Shoreditch? And who had made this possible, except their worthy Master? The members were proud of him, and they thanked him heartily for all he had done for them. They hoped he would be spared to them many years to preside over the ringing at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, and to be the leader of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths (hear, hear). Mr. Barnett then asked the Rev. P. McCormick to unveil the peal tablet, and to present to Mr. Matthews a small token of the great esteem in which they held him.

The Rev. Pat McCormick then pulled aside the flags which hitherto had hidden the marble tablet bearing the record of the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus rung by the Royal Cumberlands, and expressed his pleasure at being invited to perform the ceremony. The tablet, he said, recorded a very meritorious achievement, and would take its place among many others on the walls of that tower. They were very proud that the peal should have been rung on the bells of St. Martin's Church, and that it should have been accomplished under the leadership of Mr. Matthews. It gave him great pleasure to be able to say just a word or two to the members of the society, and especially to Mr. and Mrs. Matthews. It was a real joy to find a band who were really working in harmony and living in harmony. Mr. Barnett had told them what Mr. Matthews had done for the Royal Cumberland Youths. It was really a fine record. Mr. Matthews had worked up the society from a more or less dormant state until it had become what it was to-day. They at St. Martin's appreciated what had been done—it meant a great deal to them. He supposed the peal of Maximus was the finest thing the society had done, and it was to Mr. Matthews that they owed this success. They desired to mark that special occasion by presenting him with the fine clock they saw before them, and by giving Mrs. Matthews a nice watch, which he hoped they would both live long and appreciate. They were small things, but they carried with them not only their congratulations and good wishes but their heartfelt thanks for all Mr. Matthews had done, and to Mrs. Matthews for the help she had given him. A man could not do a job like Mr. Matthews had done, said the speaker, unless he had the co-operation of his wife. Without it he would have to stay at home (laughter).

The Rector then, amid applause, presented the clock to Mr. Matthews and the watch to Mrs. Matthews.

Mrs. Matthews first acknowledged her present by expressing thanks, and adding, 'I do not know that I have done anything, except to get up and get Mr. Matthews off in the morning' (laughter and applause).

Mr. J. D. Matthews, in replying, said the members had got him 'out of course,' for he did not anticipate anything of the kind. What he had tried to do in his small way at St. Martin's and for the society had been done wholeheartedly. Mr. Matthews added that that was a very proud moment for himself, and perhaps he might be allowed to tell them a little story which to some extent represented his own feelings. In an old country town they elected a Mayor named Hooley, and when he responded to the toast of his health at the banquet he told the guests that when he started work as a boy on a farm it was 'Hooley this' and 'Hooley that.' Later, when he became a stockman, they called him 'Jack Hooley,' and then, when he became bailiff to the squire, they called him 'Mr. Hooley.' Afterwards, he took a farm himself, and gradually added other farms to it, and in time they called him 'Squire Hooley.' But he had come that day to the proudest moment of his life, for when he went to church at the head of the Corporation he heard all the congregation singing, 'Hooley, Hooley, Hooley, Lord God Almighty' (loud laughter). That, said Mr. Matthews, was somewhat the position he felt in that evening (laughter). He felt that he did not deserve their kindness. If they thought he had endeavoured to do his best, that was his satisfaction. He thanked the members for the spirit in which the gifts had been given, and if they wished it he would be only too glad to continue to do his best for them (applause).

The handsome mantel clock, in mahogany case (supplied by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston), bore, under the dial, the inscription:—

THE SOCIETY OF ROYAL CUMBERLAND YOUTHS.

(Previous to 1745 known as London Scholars.)

Presented to Mr. J. D. Matthews, January 11th, 1930, by the Vicar and Churchwardens of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields and St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, and members of the above society, in recognition of valuable services rendered during his many years as Ringing Master.

The clock strikes the Westminster quarters and the hours.

A musical service being in progress, it was not possible for much ringing to be done until early evening, but in no way did it mar the arrangements which had been made, for the speeches occupied most of the time, and after two courses of Stedman Cinques had been rung for the five o'clock service for the Girls' Friendly Society, the company assembled for tea. This was served in the Fellowship Room, in the crypt, under the supervision of the Misses Magniac and Wise, who received the thanks of the Master for their kind services and tea provided.

The business meeting, which was held in the Vestry Hall, was presided over by the Vicar.

The treasurer (Mr. G. Steere) next presented the balance sheet, which was received with great satisfaction.

The Secretary, in reporting on the society's business for the year, mentioned that subscriptions to various funds during the past three years had amounted to £30 9s. In thanking the members for the splendid response to his appeal for a gift for Mr. Matthews, he said that he had received the sum of £18 14s., of which £18 1s. had been spent. Thus he had in hand the sum of 13s., which he suggested should be held for the purpose of meeting the cost of printing—a suggestion which was favourably received by all present.

The officers for the year were then elected, and, there being no change, they are as follows: Mr. J. D. Matthews, Master; Mr. J. Sparrow, hon. secretary; Mr. G. W. Steere, hon. treasurer; Messrs. T. Newman and R. Bevan, auditors; Messrs. F. Smith and A. Hardy, trustees; and Messrs. C. Matthews and T. Bevan, senior and junior steward respectively.

The members to represent the society on the Central Council are the Master, hon. secretary, Messrs. J. Parker and F. Smith.

New members having been elected, various discussions on items of interest to the society followed, one of which was a request from members that the secretary should see if it were possible to revive the annual cricket match with the College Youths, which had always been looked upon with pleasure and enthusiasm by all London ringers.

The Master thanked the Rev. Pat McCormick for his kindness in unveiling the tablet and presiding over the meeting.

The Vicar, in reply, said that it had given him great pleasure to be with them that day. The duties he had performed had been most pleasing, and he only wished that he had gone into the art of ringing himself, for it seemed to be a most attractive and interesting pastime, and he wished the society continued success.

A vote of thanks to the officers for the services given the society during the past year concluded the meeting, and a return was then made to the belfry, where among the many friends who were waiting to congratulate Mr. Matthews were Messrs. C. Pipe, C. W. Roberts, R. Deal, B. Langdon and W. Hewett, members of the 'rival' London society who had turned up to show what the word 'rival' actually meant. Their presence added greatly to what already had been a most excellent meeting.

EXETER RINGER'S JUBILEE.

MR. EDWIN SHEPHERD'S 50 YEARS AT ST. SIDWELL'S.

The jubilee of Mr. Edwin Shepherd as a ringer at the Parish Church of St. Sidwell, Exeter, was celebrated last week, and at St. Sidwell's Institute about fifty ringers and friends, with their wives, assembled for supper as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd. A good many ringers can point to 50 or more years' service, but very few, in towns at any rate, are able to boast of unbroken connection with one church for half a century. Mr. Shepherd is the survivor of four very capable ringing brothers—Ferris, Alfred, Frank and himself—who played a conspicuous part in the development of scientific ringing in the Exeter district. Mr. Ferris Shepherd was for many years the leading local conductor; in later years Mr. Edwin Shepherd has excelled his brother's achievements, participated in over 100 peals, and 'called' about half of them, including the four standard methods—Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob and Treble Bob—with pronounced success in Stedman. The Shepherd family has had a long association with the parish of St. Sidwell; the brothers were born in it; Ferris and Edwin were partners in a building business there for a good period; later, when Ferris went to Ireland, Edwin carried it on until he retired about five years ago. Mr. Edwin Shepherd, besides being a ringer (and for a long time Ringing Master) at St. Sidwell's Church, was for several years chairman of the Exeter District of the Devonshire Guild; has been churchwarden for two periods, and is still one of the parish feoffees. Both Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd have taken much interest in general church work in the parish. To mark the jubilee the ringers, both ordinary and honorary, subscribed to a silver-mounted umbrella for Mr. Shepherd and a handsome handbag for Mrs. Shepherd. The arrangements for the gifts were carried out by Mr. and Mrs. W. Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. W. Drake, of St. Sidwell's. Mr. C. Panter assisted at the supper as steward.

Mr. Shepherd presided over the company, which included the Rector and Mrs. Lanyon Owen, the Revs. J. Cawley (curate) and T. G. Blackwood-Price (assistant curate), Messrs. J. D. Hellier and S. G. Stanbury (churchwardens), Mrs. Stanbury, Messrs. C. Panter, S. Panter, and D. J. Reed (organist, St. Sidwell's). The ringers consisted mainly of St. Sidwell's band, but there were representatives of St. David's and St. Thomas'.

The Rector, after 'The King' had been honoured, gave the health of Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd. He said it was impossible to pay adequate tribute to all the work that Mr. Shepherd had done in many capacities in the parish during a long period, but all connected with the parish highly appreciated and were thankful for it. They also gladly recognised that in all of it Mr. Shepherd had been ably backed by Mrs. Shepherd (applause). The supper was unique in more than one sense. He supposed that in the many phases of its history St. Sidwell's had never known before the 50th anniversary of the chief ringer. It was also unique in that it was a ladies' night. He (the Rector) thought he could claim to be the first to start a supper for the ringers of the parish; he forgot, however, to include the ringers' better halves. Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd had the loyal friendship of not only the ringers and their wives, but the whole of St. Sidwell's congregation and St. Sidwell's parishioners generally (applause).

The toast was accorded musical honours.

WORK IN THE CHURCH.

Mr. Shepherd, in replying, said that, born in 1862, he went in 1867 to St. Sidwell's Church schools, which were provided through the generosity of the well-to-do people of the parish for the benefit of large families. The rule then was that where there were several children from one family attending the schools, the eldest should pay 2d. per week and the others 1d. each. He had always looked upon the foundation of the schools as one of the finest acts ever accomplished by the better-off parishioners for the benefit of fellow-residents of the parish. St. Sidwell's churchpeople had regarded it as a privilege to keep the schools going to enable children to have a good education that fitted them to go through life with credit to themselves and the community (applause). After being a clerk for six months he entered the building trade. In 1878 he joined St. Sidwell's belfry, and in 1879 qualified as a member of the Devon Guild. In 1890 he became a sidesman, and continued until 1904, when he was elected churchwarden with Mr. Archibald Lucas, and served until 1911, when he retired, but was reappointed in 1918, and continued, with Mr. C. Panter as his colleague, until 1922. It was not so easy a job to be churchwarden as some people imagined; there were many charities, and they often caused trouble. But he had thoroughly enjoyed his association with the ringing, and his wife and himself highly appreciated the presence of so many ringing and other friends and their wives to celebrate with them a great landmark (applause).

Mr. Richardson (hon. secretary of St. Sidwell's Society), who said he started ringing in 1876, then asked the Rector and Mrs. Owen to make the presentations to Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd, and said they represented the kindly feelings and best wishes of the ringers and some friends to the host and hostess. The Rector and Mrs. Owen complied in a few appropriate words, and the recipients made heartfelt acknowledgments.

FIFTY PEALS OF SURPRISE MAXIMUS.

These are days of great records in ringing, and among the first of the noteworthy performances of the new year is the fiftieth peal of Surprise Maximus by Messrs. William Pye and George R. Pye. They completed the achievement on Saturday by taking part in a peal of Spliced Superlative and Cambridge Surprise at Southwark Cathedral. These peals consist of 43 of Cambridge, five of Superlative and two with the two methods spliced. They have been rung in 20 towers, and in 19 of these Mr. William Pye has rung the tenor. They have included some big tasks, among them the 15,312 at Ashton-under-Lyne last August—which constituted the twelve-bell record—and the 7,392 at Bow, Cheapside, where the tenor is 53 cwt. Then there was the herculean task at Worcester and the peal at St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol, while there have been several peals at Southwark, where the tenor is 50 cwt.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION NOTTINGHAM DISTRICT IN THE DOLDRUMS.

The Nottingham District annual meeting was held in St. Mary's belfry, Nottingham, on Saturday last, but was so poorly attended that some ringers went away disgusted. After tea, however, the bells were got going to Stedman and Grandsire Caters, Treble Bob Royal, Double Norwich and Cambridge Major until 7 p.m.

At the business meeting, Mr. L. Chadburn (the vice-president) presided, and after the minutes of the last meeting had been approved, the Vice-President informed those present that he wished to resign office, and the secretary (Mr. F. Bailey), owing to ill-health, also wished to resign.

Mr. W. E. White was elected vice-president, and Mr. E. C. Gobey (Ilkeston) was elected secretary.

Miss I. Thompson and Mr. J. W. Kirton were elected to serve on the committee.

A long discussion took place with regard to continuing the monthly meetings, and eventually it was decided to try and carry on for another year.

The first monthly meeting is to be held on February 1st at Ilkeston.

A hearty vote of thanks to Canon Gordon for the use of the bells, also to the St. Mary's band for having things ready, closed the meeting.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

The annual meeting of the Winchester District was held at Winchester on Saturday. The bells of the Cathedral were set going about three o'clock, and several members made their first attempt with 12 bells. At the same time the bells of St. Maurice were open, and offered an attraction to many. After an hour and a half's practice, service took place at St. Maurice's Church, which was placed at the use of the Guild by the Vicar, who, however, had an appointment elsewhere and could not take the service. The secretary found it very difficult to get a clergyman, but the gap was filled at the last minute by the Rev. W. H. Hellier, Vicar of Micheldever, who is himself a ringer. The secretary presided at the organ.

After service a splendid tea was served at Messrs. Dumper's Restaurant, where 52 members from various towers sat down.

The business meeting followed, the Master of the Guild, Mr. Williams, being elected to the chair.

The officers were re-elected for the coming year.

A letter was received from the general secretary, Mr. Pullinger, stating that through the illness of his wife he was unable to attend. Apologies were also received from Mrs. Farquhar, an hon. member, who has recently lost her husband, and Canon Braithwaite, who was away from Winchester.

The meeting proposed that letters of condolence should be sent to Mr. Pullinger and Mrs. Farquhar. The following new members were elected: Honorary, Mrs. Wynne and Rev. Morley, both of Stockbridge; ringing members, Messrs. W. Lee, S. White, E. Harfield, A. Hutchings, D. Livingstone, C. Pierce, M. Derrick, all of Owslebury; Rev. W. H. Hellier, Vicar of Micheldever; R. Barnes, E. Keith, E. E. Keith, sen., of Bishop's Sutton; and M. Field, of Winchester.

The secretary was unable to present a balance sheet, as there were several outstanding accounts, and it was agreed that it should be completed as early as possible, audited and passed by the Central Committee. The following meetings were arranged: Annual meeting, Winchester, second Saturday in January, 1931; Alresford and Bishop's Sutton, May 3rd, 1930; Owslebury and Twyford, July 12th; Stockbridge and Longstock, October 11th.

After discussing various subjects, a vote of thanks to the Dean and Chapter for the use of the Cathedral bells, Rev. Watson for the use of St. Maurice's Church, the Rev. W. H. Hellier for taking the service, and the chairman, was passed, and a move was then made to the towers, where further ringing was done.

Mr. Shepherd gave some reminiscences of ringing, and claimed that, despite the inroads of death in recent years, the St. Sidwell's band was not excelled by any other tower in Devon as regarded six, eight or ten-bell ringing in scientific methods. He acknowledged the kindness and sympathy of the Rector for the ringers, but pointed out that the mainstays were good attendance, perseverance, and unity. A lot was heard of football, but the kicking of a ball did not require a tenth of the science necessary to properly ring a church bell.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.DATE OF ANNUAL MEETING CHANGED.

The quarterly meeting of the Warwickshire Guild held at Nuneaton on Saturday was well attended by members from Allesley, Bulkington, Chilvers Coton, Croft, Husbands Bosworth, Leamington, Lillington, Rugby, Shilton, Smethwick and Stoke, together with the local and several visiting ringers. The bells were raised in peal at 3.30, and ringing was continued in various methods until 4.30, when a service was held in the Lady Chapel of the Parish Church. This was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. J. L. White), president of the Guild, and the Guild's form of service was used.

About forty members sat down to a splendid tea served in the Old Grammar School, and kindly provided by the president. Upon the suggestion of the local ladies, a collection was taken, resulting in the sum of £1, which was added to the Parish Hall Building Fund, and the Vicar cordially thanked all those who had subscribed.

The business meeting followed the tea, the president taking the chair.

The places for the February and March meetings provided some discussion, but Bulkington for February and Stoke for March were eventually decided upon.

The advisability of altering the date of the annual meeting was then brought up. The third Saturday being Easter Eve, it was thought that a postponement would enable more members to be present, therefore, by consent, the date was altered to May 3rd.

A vote of thanks was proposed to the president for his welcome, for conducting the service, for his generous hospitality, and for presiding at the business meeting; to the ladies for preparing tea; and to the organist for his part in the service.—This was seconded and carried unanimously.—The Vicar suitably responded.

A few of the members stayed in the tearoom to indulge in hand-bell ringing, while the majority returned to the tower, where ringing in most of the standard methods up to and including London and Bristol Surprise Major continued until about 8.30.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.ENTHUSIASTS FACE RAIN AND SNOW.

A meeting of the South and West District was held at St. Andrew's, Hillingdon, on Saturday, when in spite of the heavy rain and the blinding snowstorm 27 ringing enthusiasts attended, and were rewarded by a variety of ringing. The bells pealed forth soon after 3 p.m., Mr. Frank Corke, assistant Ringing Master, being in charge. The methods rung before tea were Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob Major, Double Norwich, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major.

The company adjourned to the Zetland Cafe for refreshments, Mr. C. S. Bird (vice-president) presiding. The other officers present were Messrs. J. H. Hunnisett, W. G. Wilson and Wm. H. Hollier. The Ringing Master (Mr. Fred Goodfellow), arrived after tea, business having prevented his earlier attendance.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, to the vice-president, and to Mr. Frank Corke for making arrangements which ensured success.

The Hon. Secretary thanked the company for their attendance. The annual meeting was announced for February 15th, and the secretary will arrange a meeting for March. Due notice of both meetings will appear in 'The Ringing World.' The tower was again visited, and London and Bristol Surprise Major and other methods were rung until 9 p.m.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A most successful meeting of the Northern District was held at Graveley on Saturday. The peal of six have recently been rehung on ball bearings by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, and they were set going about 3 p.m., various touches being brought round ranging from Grandsire and Stedman Doubles to Cambridge Minor.

Ringers were present from Baldock, Benington, Clifton, Croydon, Graveley, Henlow, Kingswalden, Offley, Hitchin, Southill, Stevenage, Welwyn and Watton-at-Stone. At 5 p.m. the company adjourned to Graveley Bury, where some twenty-six members found themselves the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, who take a keen interest in the local band. After enjoying an excellent tea, the short business meeting was conducted, Mr. T. Gardner being unanimously elected to the chair.

At the conclusion of the meeting a very hearty vote of thanks was passed with applause to Mr. and Mrs. Gardner and family for their hospitality.

Some of the members returned to the tower to continue ringing on the tower bells, whilst others adjourned to the drawing-room with the handbells and 'brought home' several touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples and Grandsire Doubles.

Ringings continued until 8.30 in the tower, when the bells were lowered in peal, bringing a very enjoyable meeting to a close.

NEWDIGATE, SURREY.—At St. Peter's Church, on January 9th, a 720 Bob Minor in 23 mins.: Miss M. Wilkins (first 720) 1, Mrs. W. Spooner 2, W. Spooner 3, Miss H. Darville 4, C. Mitchell 5, R. Brett (conductor) 6.

'ANNABLE AND THE 1689 PEAL.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—A few months ago you were good enough to publish a letter from 'Collegian,' pointing out that Annable only joined the 'College Youths' in 1721, and inferring that the statement in the society's records that he composed and conducted a peal in 1689 was in error. Of course, it may be. The subject is one of difficulty, and, for the benefit of your readers, I give below a few extracts from the peal book containing the record. For myself, I am certain that our predecessors were not wilfully lying.

The book appears to have been compiled about 90 years ago, when it was realised that many MSS. and books had then been lost or stolen, amongst the latter the valuable peal book bound in silver. It is headed thus:—

of the PEALS that have been rung by the
COLLEGE YOUTHS.

The first few pages contain a lengthy statement as to early change ringing and the origin of the society, written in a fair 'long hand,' and from them I abstract the following:—

'On Jan'y. 7th, 1689-90, the whole Peal of Bob Triples was rung at St. Sepulchre's without Newgate, London, in 3 hrs. and 45 minutes (and the first trial), being the first 5,040 that was ever rung, and soon after the ringing of this Peal they began to practice Grandsire Caters, but we have no account of any doing peals of Caters till the London Scholars rung 5,040 at St. Bride's in Fleet Street.'

The above peal follows in the book, and was obviously copied from the foregoing particulars. It reads thus:—

No. 1.
St. Sepulchre's, Snow Hill, on January 7th, 1689.

The Company rung the full peal on eight bells; the method being PLAIN BOB TRIPLES (containing 5,040 changes) with 200 singles; it was accomplished in three hours and forty-five minutes.

Composed and conducted by Mr. Benjamin Annable.

Such is the 'statement.' It will be seen that there are omissions and additions, both instructive, as I have before suggested. Very interesting, too, are the following extracts:—

'It is thought to be about 96 years ago when changes were first attempted to be rung, which was in 1642.'

The original MSS. would thus appear to be one of the year 1738. The copyist ends, however, thus:—

'This account was taken from the Oxford Ringers' Register Book, and communicated by Mr. George Scarsbrook, 1796.'

May I end too long a letter by a suggestion to 'Collegian' that we should be glad to see him in name and person at all our meetings? He could then give us in full the benefit of his knowledge.—Yours faithfully,

E. ALEX YOUNG.

THE WELLINGTON CARILLON.A RINGER'S IMPRESSIONS.

Here are the views of a well-known ringer, Mr. Stafford H. Green, written after hearing the New Year's Day recital of the Wellington carillon, now in London:—

'I spent my luncheon hour to-day,' he says, 'by visiting Hyde Park and listening to the new carillon for New Zealand temporarily erected there, and, for what they are worth, I send you my impressions of what I heard. Imagine, if you will, a very fine grand piano—but spending its last days in the dim parlour of some of the inns we find and love in country towns—the felts very worn by constant thumping, and the loud pedal permanently on owing to the wearing out of its spring, the tuning not too good. That, to my mind, is how harmonised melodies on bells sound—no matter how fine the individual notes. I feel sure that carillon music should be confined to fugues and arpeggios, unless some stopping device has been fitted which will prevent the vibrations of one chord clashing with other chords following, and so producing the horrible flattening of the notes which now mars bell music. It is very much the same with bells in an orchestra—they do not represent bell tones. If the New Zealanders heard Worcester or Cheltenham Mendips or Harlow Common bells they would form a far better opinion of English bell-founding skill.'

'While I am writing this gratuitous criticism of carillons, I would beg you, if you can do so, to try and dissuade the B.B.C. from broadcasting any bellringing except that done by experts. Hymn tunes may suit pianos, but they don't give the bells at St. Martin's a fair show, and do real ringing a grievous wrong.'

THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at
RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

BRISTOL GUILDS' SERVICE TO RINGING.

Bristol has many claims to a place of distinction in connection with ringing, one of which is that it is the home of the oldest ringing Guild, with a more or less continuous existence in the country—although its actual connection with ringing has long since ceased. Another is that, for its size, Bristol probably possesses more rings of bells than any other city. But its strongest claim in recent years lies in the activities of Bristol United Ringing Guilds, originated about ten years ago to draw together the numerous companies of ringers which existed in this city of bells and thus to promote not only the art of ringing, but also a spirit of fraternity among members of the Exercise in the district. Out of this has grown the annual dinner, which now brings together one of the largest and most representative gatherings of ringers that assemble during the year. In this respect the United Guilds have not only done a considerable service to those who appreciate the importance of the social aspect of ringing, but they have also done another important piece of work in the interests of the Exercise, by the publication of the Ringers' Directory. The second edition, which has recently been issued, is a proof of the possibilities of such a publication, yet it needed considerable courage and confidence to undertake such a work and it is doubtful if even the Central Council could have been induced to launch out on such a scheme. But courage and confidence have been characteristic of the actions of the United Guilds. Both these qualities were necessary even for its own institution, and are still necessary for its successful continuation. Yet, despite difficulties, the United Guilds are able to command the support of the majority of the ringers in the Bristol district and to do a definite and substantial work for the Exercise in general, while it has also formed a valuable bulwark for the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association in which it is incorporated. All this, of course, has only been possible by the untiring efforts of the officials. In things of this kind much depends upon the work which the honorary secretary is prepared to put into it and in this respect the United Guilds have been fortunate in keeping at the helm such an indefatigable worker as Mr. Edgar Guise. That his efforts have been appreciated was proved by the very deserved presentation made to him on Saturday, when he was the recipient of a secretaire-bookcase in recognition of his services. The example of the United Guilds in organising in the interests of ringing a social atmosphere among ringers is one that might well be attempted in other large centres of ringing. Only those who are fortunate enough to be able to participate in such gatherings as those arranged at Bristol, and a few other places, can fully appreciate how much they do in promoting goodwill and understanding between ringers of widely separated areas. What, for example, can better cement the spirit of brotherhood than the interchange of visits which takes place between representative ringers of Yorkshire and Bristol, London and the Midlands on the occasion of these big social gatherings? An indefinite number of dinners is, of course, not possible, but each place in which they are now held is becoming the centre of an ever widening circle, and presently we hope to see the whole country more or less covered by a series of such events.

A COLLEGE YOUTH'S DIAMOND WEDDING.

FOUR PEALS TO CELEBRATE AN INTERESTING EVENT.

The diamond wedding of one of the oldest members of the Ancient Society of College Youths, Mr. Harry Henden, and his wife, of Orange, New South Wales, was celebrated on Saturday, when in honour of the event two peals were rung in London by members of the ancient society, one at St. James', Clerkenwell, where Mr. and Mrs. Henden were married on January 19th, 1870, and the other at St. Clement Danes, while the Royal Cumberland Youths rang a peal at Dartford, where Mr. Henden rang his first peal, and the Surrey Association rang one at Beddington. Although separated by so many thousands of miles from the old country, Mr. Henden's interest in ringing has been revived in recent years, and he is kept in touch with events by 'The Ringing World.'

Mr. Henden learnt his ringing at Woolwich under John and William Bannister, and was made a member of the College Youths on February 26th, 1867. His first peal was one of Grandsire Triples, at Dartford, on November 17th, 1873, conducted by John Cox. He rang several peals in various towers, and numbered among his ringing friends Henry Johnson, Matthew Wood, John Cox, and the Bannister family.

On the occasion of his marriage, at Clerkenwell, a mixed band of ringers rang at St. James' Church a date touch of Stedman Triples, composed and conducted by John Cox.

Mr. Henden left England in 1884, and, with the exception of some ringing at Melbourne on his arrival in Australia, he has done no ringing since. For about 20 years he heard nothing of ringing, until he saw in the 'Overseas Daily Mail' an account of the ladies' peal of Stedman Caters at St. Clement Danes. He then wrote to the Ladies' Guild, and since then has been receiving 'The Ringing World,' in which he takes a great interest.

The following extract from one of his letters to the secretary of the Ladies' Guild is interesting: 'I was delighted with "The Ringing Worlds." I take a great interest in them, and they bring back a lot of memories of the years gone by and the ringers whom I knew. I remember being in Fleet Street, and I thought I would go up to St. Bride's, as I thought I might see Mr. John Cox, whom I knew well, and ask him if he would come to lunch with me. When I entered the ringing chamber he was alone laying full length on the floor with a lot of figures before him and a lump of chalk. I said, "What are you up to, Cox?" His reply was, "Ah, I don't mind you, but if I told you, you might tell someone else," so I asked him no more. But I could see he was trying to get a peal of Grandsire Triples without a single. He was then steeplekeeper at St. Bride's. At that time there were several whom I knew trying the same thing.'

The following were the four peals rung in honour of the diamond wedding:—

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT GATESHEAD.

A very successful meeting of the Eastern District of the Durham and Newcastle Association was held at Gateshead on Saturday. Ringers began to meet about 2.30 p.m. at St. Mary's Church, and the bells were kept going until five o'clock. A splendid tea then awaited the party at the Anchorage, a fine old building adjoining the church.

After tea, a short meeting was held, Mr. Burnett, vice-president, being in the chair.

Mr. E. Ferry moved a vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, and the vestry clerk, Mr. Macfarlane, replied on behalf of the incumbent. In the course of his remarks, he said that the ringers might be interested to know that they were having tea in the oldest schoolroom in Gateshead. The Anchorage dated back to 1340, and it was founded for the habitation of an anchoress. It was then the only school in Gateshead. Part of the master's duty was to teach Latin and Greek, together with navigation. It was of interest to know that Lord Joicey and Sir George Kenwick were educated at this school.

Mr. C. L. Routledge moved a vote of thanks to the ladies for providing the tea, and this was carried with acclamation.

The Rector arrived at this juncture, and, apologising for being late, said the football match at Sunderland had delayed him, adding that he had not been present at the match, but about six or seven bus loads of passengers had passed before he managed to get on a vehicle.

Sympathy was expressed with Mr. Stuart, a ringer for 50 years at St. Mary's, who was unable to be present at the meeting owing to illness, but all were pleased to know he was progressing favourably.

It was proposed that the next district meeting be held at Hough-ton-le-Spring on April 12th.

After the meeting, the ringers went back to the tower, and the bells were kept going until 8.30 p.m. The methods rung during the day were Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent, Oxford, Double Norwich, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise.

It was a very happy meeting, and the time passed all too quickly, but it was plainly seen that all the ringers had enjoyed the proceedings, and hopes were expressed by many ringers that the meetings to follow would be as successful.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.SUGGESTED DIVISION OF ARCHDEACONRY OF ELY BRANCH.

A meeting of the Archdeaconry of Ely was held at Fulbourn on Saturday, about 20 ringers being present from Barley, Cherryinton, Cambridge, Dry Drayton, Melbourn, Royston, Sawston, Stapleford, Trumpington, as well as from Fulbourn. Ringing commenced soon after three o'clock, and a short service was conducted by the Rector, Rev. T. H. Hennessey, assisted by the general secretary (Rev. R. Copeman). Afterwards the ringers partook of tea, which was provided at the Six Bells by the Rector. Owing to the absence of the district secretary (Mr. F. Warrington), the minutes of the previous meeting could not be read, but the General Secretary reported that he had received a letter from him stating his inability to be present. The Rector extended a hearty welcome to the visitors, and proposed the toast of 'Success to the ringers in the diocese.'

A suggestion was made that the meeting to be held at Newmarket on February 15th should be a joint meeting of the Suffolk and Ely Associations, and this was agreed to.

A discussion took place as to the desirability of dividing the Archdeaconry of Ely into two districts, with the view, if possible, of attention being paid to some of the places which in the past have been somewhat neglected. Mr. Austin gave notice of his intention to bring the matter up at the annual general meeting.

Mr. Austin proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells and for his generosity in providing tea.

Mr. E. H. Finch, in seconding, pointed out that bellringing was one of the finest physical and mental exercises, and stated that several clergy of his acquaintance instead of going off with their golf clubs, would do better in learning to become proficient bell-ringers and mixing with their own ringers.

The Rector, in reply, humorously remarked that he was a bachelor, had a parish of 1,200 inhabitants, was a Rural Dean, and as such had to look after three parishes at present without an incumbent, consequently his time was fully occupied, and, moreover, he did not play golf. He welcomed the association to Fulbourn whenever they wished to come.

Further ringing took place after tea. The Rector stayed in the belfry for about an hour, and, on leaving, suggested that the association should make their visit a quarterly one.

The methods rung included Bob Minor, Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise Major. A course of London Surprise Major failed to mature by one lead. The arrangements for ringing were in the hands of Mr. B. D. Buttress, of Fulbourn, who saw that everyone was catered for.

THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.JOINT MEETING OF FIVE BRANCHES.

The joint meeting held at Preston on Saturday was an undoubted success, representatives from no less than fourteen Preston Branch towers, as well as ringers from the Blackburn, Fylde, Wigan and Bolton Branches, being present. The usual methods from Plain Bob to Cambridge Surprise Major were rung at Penwortham and Preston Parish Church, and good practice for some of the six-bell ringers was obtained at St. Mark's, Preston.

After the actual ringing was over, a short business meeting was held, and a lecture given in the Parish Church tower, Mr. A. Tomlinson, of Blackburn, the association ringing secretary, presiding.

In opening the meeting, Mr. Tomlinson said how pleased he was to be present at that joint meeting, and the way in which all seemed to have enjoyed themselves augured well for any such meetings in the future. He went on to congratulate Mr. E. W. Hutchinson, of Penwortham, on ringing his first peal at the age of seventy-three.

The meeting confirmed the election of three new Preston Branch members, and also fixed the place and date of the next branch meeting.

Mr. J. R. Taylor expressed the pleasure of the Preston Branch in welcoming the members of the other branches, and proposed that a joint meeting be held annually on the same lines.—This was seconded and carried unanimously.

Mr. J. R. Taylor then moved that the next joint meeting be held at Blackburn Cathedral next January.—Mr. W. Hunter, of Burnley, seconded, Mr. R. Hartley supported, and the motion was carried.

Mr. Tomlinson said he was sure the Blackburn ringers would be only too pleased to welcome all who went to Blackburn.

Mr. Wm. Taylor gave a continuation of his lecture on 'Courseing order.' He went briefly over the chief points of his previous lecture, and referred to the benefits of a knowledge of the courseing order of methods as shown between a 'Bob Caller' and an expert conductor.

With the aid of an improvised blackboard Mr. Taylor gave some illustrations of the effect on courseing order of bobs called at 'Wrong,' 'Middle' and 'Home' positions, showing the various alterations at the course ends caused by the different bobs.

The lecture over, the Chairman moved a cordial vote of thanks to Mr. Taylor for his lecture, which had been given in such an able and clear manner.—Mr. J. Millar seconded, and the motion having been carried Mr. Taylor suitably replied.

Mr. J. R. Taylor then moved a vote of thanks to the different church authorities for the use of bells, to the local ringers for having all in readiness, and to the chairman for presiding.

This concluded what was undoubtedly a splendid meeting.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. F. A. Milne, J.P., president of the Middlesex County Association, a member of the Legal Committee of the Central Council, is seriously ill with inflammation of the liver at his home at Summerhill, Barnet.

A marble tablet is to be erected at Ashton-under-Lyne Parish Church to commemorate the long peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus rung there on August Bank Holiday.

Forty-five years ago to-day the Sussex Association was established, and two days later, John Jay, sen., who will be remembered by many of the older generation of visitors to St. Peter's, Brighton, called the first peal for the association at Cuckfield. Mr. C. Tyler, of Henfield, took part in the peal, and is still actively engaged in ringing. The only other survivor (at least we hope he is still in the land of the living) is Mr. George King, who on that occasion rang his first peal, and who migrated to Canada many years ago.

A peal of 10,386 Grandsire Caters was rung at Kingston-on-Thames, Surrey, on January 27th, 1803, in 6 hrs. 56 mins.

The first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus in London was rung by the College Youths at Cornhill on January 28th, 1911.

5,040 Real Double Eight in, with two bobs in a lead, as many 7ths as 2nds, with bobs behind and before alternately, was rung at Richmond, Surrey, on January 28th, 1816.

January 29th is the anniversary of the 11,232 Superlative Surprise Major, rung at Bolton in 1927.

Two famous old London ringers died on January 29th, John Cox in 1885, and Henry Haley in 1886.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A very successful meeting of the Central Division was held at Crawley on Saturday. The tower was open for ringing at 2.30, and a short service was held in church, conducted by the Rector of Crawley (the Rev. H. A. K. Baynes), who, in his address, traced the subject of attendance at divine service through the Jewish and Christian dispensations.

The next item of interest to the forty-four present was an excellent tea, which had been prepared in the Parish Hall, after which the Rector, supported by the Master (Mr. J. T. Rickman) presided at the business meeting, which was of a routine nature.

Capt. Manley, Turner's Hill, and Mr. J. Merritt, Boincy, were elected members.

At the close of the proceedings, Mr. Rickman, proposing the usual vote of thanks to the Rector, said that this was probably the first time that many of them had the pleasure of meeting him since his appointment to Crawley, and that they wished him all possible happiness and success in this his new sphere of work.

The Rector, having thanked the meeting for this expression of goodwill, the proceedings terminated.

The tower was again visited, and ringing continued until about 8.30, when the bells were lowered in peal. The methods rung were very varied, and included London, Bristol, Norfolk, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise, the striking being above the average for these occasions. The following towers were represented: Balcombe, Boincy, Brighton (St. Peter's, St. Nicholas, The Good Shepherd), Burgess Hill, Crawley, Cuckfield, East Grinstead, Hartfield, Heene, Lindfield, Lower Beeding, Lewes (Southover) and Turner's Hill.

BRISTOL UNITED GUILDS.

A RECORD GATHERING.

There was a record gathering at Bristol on Saturday, on the occasion of the Bristol United Guilds' ninth annual dinner. A company of considerably over two hundred joined in the proceedings, which were marked by a spirit of great cordiality. Visitors were present from many distant places, some having travelled from as far afield as London, Leeds, Sheffield, Manchester, Birmingham, Coventry and Exeter, to say nothing of the many from places within a lesser radius. The organisers left nothing undone which would contribute to the pleasure of their guests, and this year made a new departure by arranging a charabanc tour of the city and neighbourhood during the afternoon. Those who were able to participate in this excursion spent a most enjoyable and instructive time, thanks largely to the efforts of the cicerone, Mr. W. S. Emery, who explained in an interesting manner all the points and features of interest in the itinerary. For those unable to take part in the tour, there was ringing at St. Stephen's and St. Thomas' Churches, and a large number looked in at the 'preliminary' gathering at St. Thomas' Church Room, where tea and buns were dispensed at the end of the afternoon.

The dinner took place at the Grand Hotel, and was presided over by the chairman of the United Guilds, Mr. William H. Thomas. He was supported by Rev. and Mrs. Heber Thomas (St. Stephen's), Rev. M. Paterson (St. Thomas'), Rev. E. S. Saleby (Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association), Rev. R. H. Whitford (Bristol), Mr. C. F. Johnston (Croydon), Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Goldsmith (Woking), Mr. A. Walker (Deputy Ringing Master, St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham), Mrs. Walker, Mr. P. J. Johnson (hon. secretary, Yorkshire Association), Mr. A. A. Hughes (hon. treasurer of the Ancient Society of College Youths), Messrs. S. F. Palmer and J. Holman (Sheffield), A. E. Norman and F. E. Haynes (Birmingham), W. J. Southwood (Exeter), C. Harrison and J. P. Fidler (Loughborough), C. D. Heginbotham (Devizes), Mr. W. H. Shaker (hon. secretary, Lancashire Association) and Mrs. Shaker, Mr. J. T. Dyke (hon. secretary, Bath and Wells Association), F. W. Perrins (Coventry), C. Choctet (Master of the College Youths), J. S. Hawkins, C. W. Pipe and J. Thomas (London), J. George and G. H. Way (Birmingham), J. Austin, J. Gillett, G. Condict (Gloucester), R. G. Beck (Chilcompton), C. Millard (Shepton Mallet), R. C. Rich and T. F. King (Bath), Mr. and Mrs. A. E. W. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. S. Hopper (Swindon), Messrs. C. H. Jennings (Weymouth), E. J. Williams, sen., (H. Harding, W. J. Prescott, Miss N. G. Williams (Bath), Miss I. Hastic (Leatherhead), Messrs. C. R. Lilley and H. W. Knight (Congresbury), F. W. Cannings (Bathford), J. G. Taylor (Bathurst), C. H. Pausey and A. Prince (Bath), A. H. Ball (Corston), F. Lambeth (Chippenham), F. C. Stuckey (Weston-super-Mare), W. H. Court (Burnham-on-Sea), E. Coward and G. D. Thurston (Mere), G. E. Shollish (Banwell), J. Tyler, jun. (Clapton), J. B. Tyler (Four Marks, Hants), S. Jones (Caerleon, Mon.), A. A. Hilliar (Westbury-on-Tyrm), and ringers and friends from the many churches in and around Bristol. The admirable arrangements were made by a committee consisting of the chairman, Mr. P. C. Williams (vice-chairman), Mr. R. Burt (vice-chairman elect), Miss E. Smith, Messrs. W. A. Cave, J. G. Jefferies, W. Knight and H. Way (stewards), Messrs. U. Braven, H. Bennett, J. A. Burford, F. T. Jewell, J. Gould, F. Skidmore, H. Pring, F. G. Leaker, W. H. Parker, R. C. Seager, W. S. Emery and Mr. Edgar Guise, the indefatigable hon. secretary.

A feature of the Bristol gathering is always the entertainment which is given in connection with the dinner, and this year there was the greatest difficulty of getting through, before the hour of parting, the feast of good things provided. The Tyndale Trio (piano, violin and 'cello) provided music during dinner, and subsequently there were songs by Miss Doreen Weeks (gold medallist), Mr. Milton Jones and Mr. L. Tanner, a humorous monologue by Miss Dorothy Hill (gold medallist), selections by St. Thomas' handbell party, with Miss Bishop playing a harp accompaniment, a clever magical entertainment by Mr. E. H. C. Wethered, O.B.E., and, by kind permission of the management of the Prince's Theatre, artistes now appearing in the pantomime lent their assistance in the programme, humorous turns being provided by Mr. Athol Tier and Mr. Fred Wynne, while Mr. Bryn Gwyn sang two songs, one, the 'Cobbler's Song' from 'Chu Chin Chow,' which he sang 1,500 times in the play, and 'The Sergt.-Major.'

RINGERS' SERVICES RECOGNISED.

The Chairman, in opening the post-prandial proceedings, proposed the toast of 'The King,' which was honoured enthusiastically, and the 'National Anthem' sung. The Chairman then went on to say that the Bristol United Guilds had become a sturdy youth. During the past eight or nine years it had shown its usefulness, and it was getting more useful as time went by. He had often wondered at the confidence displayed by the founders of the Guild, because they had no old associations to look back upon like some of the other societies. The College Youths, for instance, had nearly 300 years of existence behind them, and recently held their 292nd annual dinner. St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, kept green the memory of one of their renowned men of the past; the Yorkshire Association commemorated Jasper Snowdon, whose works every ringer knew; and then there was the Crofts memorial dinner at Nottingham. In Bristol they looked back with pride on the ability of J. W. Hinton, a forerunner in the practice of the higher scientific methods and a 'stickler' for good striking; but those who were present that evening were there because they were ringers or were interested in ringing, and as ringers they were part and parcel of the Church. When they joined a band of ringers they recognised they had a duty to perform, and the first duty was to ring for the services. That was a thing which they, as ringers, ought always to remember. If they only carried out those duties as they should do, they would gain a rich blessing, even if only in the knowledge that they had done their duty. He asked them all to rise and drink to the toast of 'The Church,' with which he coupled the name of the Rev. Heber Thomas, Rector of St. Stephen's.

The Rev. Heber Thomas, in replying, said, although not a ringer himself, he yielded to no man in his deep love, from his earliest years, of bells. This love of bells had remained with him all his life and had increased as the years had gone by. Therefore, although he was not a ringer, and disliked public dinners intensely, he looked forward every year to the invitation of their successive chairmen to be present at that annual dinner. One must acknowledge, he continued, the great service which such a body of men and women rendered to their Church throughout the land, and certainly the services they rendered to the Church in Bristol. It would be an unspeakable calamity if, for any reason, the bells in the Bristol churches were to be silenced. It was with a sense of deep sorrow and shame that he sometimes saw an account of a belfry where, for some reason or other, the bells were silent. He believed that the ringers' services to the Church were as heartily recognised by all the other clergy as it was by himself, and he had again and again in his own parish borne witness to the fact that he had never found a more devoted set of churchworkers, quiet as they were, and unobtrusive, but at the same time genial and God-fearing, as they had in St. Stephen's. They always judged the general from the particular, and, judging other ringers from the ringers of St. Stephen's, he assumed other churches found their ringers equally devoted. He sometimes wondered what were the various qualifications required before they entered the belfry. Certainly he saw keenness, enthusiasm, geniality, good temper and comradeship, and also that quiet, unobtrusive service which was so characteristic of their own ringers at St. Stephen's, and he could not help thinking that those who were gathered there that evening were men and women possessed of the characteristics. These qualifications, the speaker went on, must have come down to them through successive generations, for they were the characteristics required three hundred years ago of those who joined the Ancient Guild of St. Stephen's Ringers. The speaker quoted from the rules of the old Guild (recently given in detail in 'The Ringing World') to bear out this contention, and concluded by expressing the hope that the ringing Guilds of Bristol, of Gloucester, and Somerset, and throughout the country would continue to do their work and do it in the same spirit and with the same result to the Church in the years to come as they had done in the generations gone by (applause).

INTERESTING PRESENTATIONS.

A toast of 'Success to the Ringers' Directory' was proposed by Mr. James George, who congratulated the Bristol United Guilds upon having produced such a useful publication for the benefit of the Exercise. He said he had intended to ask the Central Council to publish a directory of this kind, but in view of the splendid advance made in the Bristol Guild's directory he would be pleased to withdraw his proposition. There had been an increase of about 516 names in this edition, and if every ringer supported the directory as he ought to do there was no reason why the next issue should not include forty thousand names, although he would be modest and ask only for not less than twenty thousand. In the same way he asked ringers to support 'The Ringing World.' It was disgraceful that in so many towers only one copy was taken between all the ringers. If only twenty thousand ringers subscribed to 'The Ringing World,' the paper could be published at a penny, and when one thought of the work that was put into 'The Ringing World' for the benefit of ringing, he considered it was a shame that so many ringers were content to share one copy (hear, hear). He hoped the Ringers' Directory would continue to be a success, and that it would grow in size and usefulness.

Mr. F. G. Leaker responded on behalf of the committee responsible for the publication, and paid a warm tribute to the great work done in connection with the directory by their genial hon. secretary, Mr. Edgar Guise. His work for the Bristol United Guilds was only one part of the work which he did for ringing, for he was, as they all knew, also secretary of the Gloucester and Bristol Association.

The Chairman then announced that he had a pleasant duty to perform. They had, he said, a number of ladies, who were always at the beck and call of the Bristol United Guilds when there was anything to be done, and they desired to mark their appreciation of what had been done by two of these ladies. He had a brooch, suitably inscribed, which he was going to ask their vice-chairman to hand to Mrs. Leaker, and another for Miss Smith, who, unfortunately, owing to a family bereavement, could not be with them that evening. These gifts were just an expression of the appreciation of the United Guilds for all the kindnesses which these ladies had shown them (applause). The Chairman went on to refer to the work of Mr. Guise as secretary of the Gloucester and Bristol Association and of the Bristol United Guilds. In addition, he said, Mr. Guise had acted as editor of the popular and valuable 'Ringers' Directory,' and it was his privilege to ask Mr. Guise to accept, on behalf of the members of the Bristol United Guilds, and a few friends, a present in recognition of his great services (applause).

The Chairman then presented to Mr. Guise a handsome walnut secretary-bookcase, in which was a plate bearing the inscription: 'To Mr. Edgar Guise. An appreciation from the Bristol United Ringing Guilds. January 18th, 1930.'

THE GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION.

Mr. Cyril F. Johnston submitted the toast of 'The Gloucester and Bristol Association.' He said to one who was responsible for a toast it was of considerable advantage to know something of the history of those whose health and prosperity he proposed—whether it was to their credit or their detriment, at least he should know something (laughter). It was also an immense help if he could get his speech written for him, so he might as well make a clean breast of it and confess at once that when their indefatigable secretary ordered him on Wednesday to propose the toast of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, he wired asking him for any information concerning the past history of the chairman and his associates that he thought it advisable to disclose (laughter). Mr. Guise promptly sent a most comprehensive and masterly short story of the association's doings both past and present—so complete that he (the speaker) was sorely tempted to learn it by heart and give it them as his own peroration (laughter). Continuing, Mr. Johnston said he was proud to have numbered two principal founders amongst his ringing friends—the late Mr. Phillott and the Rev. C. D. P. Davies. Mr. Davies was the first person in the bell world with whom he ever discussed—in those dark, unenlightened days—the question of bell tuning. They all regretted his absence from that gathering and the ill-health which he had suffered in recent years. That association, he added, had ringers, too, of national repute in Bill Cave, Jack Austin, Friend Thomas, the latter equally at home in Yorkshire or Bristol. The increase in ringing members from 420 in 1914 to 1,000 in 1930, spoke eloquently of the keenness of the officers. Their energies were not confined alone to their own area; the new Ringers' Directory, compiled by their hon. secretary, was surely a welcome addition to every ringers' library. They should be proud of the progress of the Gloucester and Bristol Association. They had, he understood, rung 1,600 peals, and had them all but last year's recorded in albums, and their treasurer was always able apparently to show a satisfactory balance at the bank. Their Master (Mr. Saleby) had told him he was not a proficient change ringer, but he appeared to be fulfilling, in one particular respect, the qualifications peculiar to his order. He was a ringer clergyman with an unringable peal of bells—they rest in the churchyard (laughter). He (the speaker) thought there must be an unwritten law in this matter or a plot amongst the Bishops and patrons of livings, for nearly every ringing parson has a peal of one, or a church without a tower (laughter and 'Shame'). In conclusion, Mr. Johnston asked the company to drink to long life and prosperity to the association of church bellringers for the dioceses of Gloucester and Bristol. Might they double their members each succeeding decade, as they had done in the last ten years; might they coax into the fold those towers that were still without, in the wilderness; and might they bring to a successful issue every record length which they might set out to ring. He coupled with this toast the name of their Master, the Rev. E. S. Saleby.

The Rev. E. S. Saleby, in responding, said they were a very live association. Not very long ago they were a little too lively (laughter), and kicked a little over the traces (laughter). He had gone among the members as much as he could, and he was impressed with the wonderful spirit of keenness and progressiveness, and if they could only get together and make everybody realise that movements and rules and regulations which were framed thirty or forty years ago did not necessarily work in 1930, and if they could show the powers that be that they were alive and very keen, that they wanted to get a move on, that they lived in a democratic age, and wanted to be able to express their opinions and views, then, he thought, the little cloud he had mentioned would quickly pass. They were out for various reforms, and he believed that by working together they would find their efforts had not been in vain and that they would lead to more effective work in the future. He suggested they might well adopt the motto, which was inscribed on a bell, 'Different in size, in tone, in weight, both small and great, we harmonise.' Let them avoid the things which spoil their harmony and made discord, put aside personal feelings and put the association first, then, he was certain, in the exercise of their art and in the spirit of co-operation they would become even more alive and more flourishing in their association in the future than they had been in the past (applause).

Mr. Percy Williams proposed 'The Visitors,' and expressed the gratification of the United Guilds at the presence of so many representatives of other associations from all over England.

Mr. A. A. Hughes first responded, and thanked the Guilds for the wonderful evening which they had given the visitors, and which they had all so much enjoyed. Why, he asked, did they come there? They did not come there just to sit down to dinner. They came because they liked to see old friends and spend a pleasant time with them (applause). Mr. Hughes referred to the wonderful good these gatherings did in enabling ringers to rub shoulders, and he hoped the gathering in Bristol and those in other parts of the country would long continue. They did more to foster the spirit of good feeling and keep going the art of change ringing than almost anything he could think of (hear, hear).

Mr. C. D. Heginbotham also replied. He remarked that he liked the spirit of cheerfulness which surrounded that gathering, and he hoped those present would return to their own associations and carry into the meetings of their branches a little of the good feeling and of the sense of humour that pervaded that gathering (applause).

Mr. H. Burt proposed 'The Ringing World,' to which Mr. J. S. Goldsmith responded, and the toast of 'The Artistes' was submitted by Mr. Colin Harrison, who thanked them heartily for the varied and delightful entertainment they had provided. To this toast Mr. Chas. Reid responded, and the happy proceedings then terminated with 'Auld Lang Syne.'

A further interesting event took place after the dinner, when Mr. W. H. Thomas (the chairman) was presented with an old English silver snuff box as a token of esteem from Mr. Syd Palmer, of Sheffield.

Mr. Palmer expressed a wish that suitable inscriptions should be placed upon the box so that memories of fraternal bondship should be perpetuated. Mr. Thomas responded, and it is regarded by those few present that a link between Bristol and Sheffield has been forged, and that it is one of everlasting strength.

BARNESLEY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

RETIREMENT OF THE HON. SECRETARY.

The annual meeting of the Barnsley and District Society was held at St. Mary's, Barnsley, on Saturday, January 11th, members being present from Ackworth, Darfield, Darton, Felkirk, Ecclesfield, Pontefract, Sandal, Shelley, Wath-on-Dearne and Worthy. The bells were kept going (with difficulty, owing to their need of expert attention) in Minor and Major methods until 4.30 p.m., when the Rector (Canon H. E. Hone) conducted a short service, after which all adjourned to the Parish Room for tea, about thirty sitting down to an excellent meal.

The annual general meeting then took place, with Canon Hone in the chair.

The auditors, Messrs. Chant and Goldthorpe, presented their report, which was accepted and passed as satisfactory.

The officers for the year were elected as follows: President, Mr. A. Nash (re-elected); secretary, Mr. A. Panther; treasurer, Mr. H. Chant.

The late secretary, Mr. C. D. Potter, who has been a tower of strength to the society since its inception in 1910, has been wanting to relinquish office for several months owing, chiefly, to indifferent health. In accepting his resignation with sincere regret, both Mr. Nash and Mr. Reynor eulogised his excellent qualities, and testified to the great value of the work he had done for the society during their long association with him.

It was proposed, seconded and passed unanimously that Mr. Potter should be made a life vice-president as some very slight recognition of his past services.

Five new members were elected, and Mr. S. Roper (of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston's, Croydon) was made an out-of-radius member.

Mr. Lewis (Ecclesfield) thanked the Rector and churchwardens for the use of the bells, etc., and the ladies for their preparations for the comfort of the inner man.

The next monthly meeting will be held at Wath-on-Dearne on Saturday, February 8th.

CLAYBROOKE BELLS AUGMENTED.ANOTHER RING OF EIGHT FOR LEICESTERSHIRE.

On Saturday last, the ancient four bells of Claybrooke Church, Leicestershire, were reopened, and four additional bells dedicated by the Lord Bishop of Leicester (Dr. Bardsley). This work of restoration was entrusted to Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and included the recasting of one of the old bells and retuning the other three, as well as the addition of the four new bells. The peal has been rehung on ball bearings in an iron and steel frame, with all the modern improvements. Everyone present was delighted and

To the gratification of everyone concerned, the founders have returned the ancient tenor (without recasting), and this magnificent old bell fully justifies being retained to cover a beautiful ring. It is one of the few pre-Reformation bells remaining in the county, and is thus inscribed:—

followed by stamps of the heads of King Edward I. and Queen Eleanor, and a floral decoration and cross. This proves it to be a Nottingham casting of about the year 1500. The 7th bell is dated 1672, the 6th 1626, while the 5th was originally 1618, but has been recast to fit in with the above. The tenor, which now gives the full note of E flat, is a magnificent cover, giving the impression of a much heavier bell, although it is actually under 14 cwt.

Immediately at the conclusion of the service, Master Daffern Seal (son of the donor) chimed one of the bells, then the following raised the bells 'in peal,' and rang a splendidly-struck three courses of Stedman Triples: J. H. W. White (Coventry) 1, F. Pervin (Coventry) 2, J. B. Fenton (Rugby) 3, T. W. Chapman (Nuneaton) 4, G. S. Morris (Leicester) 5, J. A. Fenton (Rugby) 6, E. Morris (Leicester) 7, J. Morris (Leicester) 8. Conducted by Ernest Morris, general hon. secretary of the Midland Counties Association, who was entrusted with the ringing arrangements for the day. In the words of one of the well-known visiting ringers present, whatever ringing is done here, none will be better than those three opening courses—they were perfect.

The founders were represented by Messrs. J. Oldham, R. Lane (the veteran bell hanger) and W. Smith, while a host of visitors were present from Croft, Hinckley, Broughton Astley, Wolvey, Rugby, Coventry, Swindon, Nuneaton, Wigston Magna, and other places. During the afternoon, touches and courses of Grandsire, Plain Bob, Double Norwich, Cambridge, Bristol and London Surprise were successfully accomplished.

Refreshments were provided at the Vicarage, and in the evening a 'convivial' was held, thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present. Handbells were prominent, and tunes were played by Messrs. C. H. Webb, J. A. and J. B. Fenton, J. and E. Morris and others, with several courses of change ringing. The special feature was a course of Grandsire Caters by the five 'Joe's,' viz., J. S. Carter 1-2, J. H. W. White 3-4, J. B. Fenton 5-6, J. A. Fenton 7-8, J. Beale 9-10.

'Breaking-up' time came all too soon, but everyone present had a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon, and all were loud in the praise of 'Claybrooke's new peal.' The founders have excelled themselves.

astonished with the tone and tune of this ring, and truly can it be now said that Claybrooke is the proud possessor of one of the very finest rings of eight in the diocese.

The fine old church was filled with an enthusiastic congregation, and the Lord Bishop gave a most inspiring and appropriate address, making special reference to the donor of the four new bells, the treble of which is thus inscribed:—

'To the Praise and Glory of God, and to commemorate the long connection of the Daffern Family with this Parish, this peal was restored and augmented to eight bells in 1929 by the gift of Beatrice Seal (born Daffern), of Ullesthorpe.'

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.THE FIRST YEAR OF THE PEAK DISTRICT.

The first annual meeting of the Peak District of the Midland Counties Association was held at Bakewell on Saturday last, and members were present from Bakewell, Baslow, Castleton, Darley Dale, Dore, Eyam, Hathersage, Hope, Matlock and Tideswell. The fine peal of bells were kept going at intervals from 3 to 7.30 p.m., and a substantial tea was provided at the Wheatshaf shortly after 5 p.m. Following tea, the annual business meeting was held, presided over by the Rev. W. P. Wright, Eyam (vice-president), supported by Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey, Dore (hon. secretary), and Mr. A. G. Wallace, Bakewell.

The Secretary presented a brief report, giving a resume of events in connection with the formation of the district, and of the various meetings which have since taken place. It had to be borne in mind, the report stated, that the district was essentially a 'missionary' one, formed with the idea of trying to rope in and encourage towers where ringing was at a low ebb in a somewhat inaccessible area, and that great results from a change-ringing point of view could not be expected all at once. The meetings had been variable, some very poor with poor ringing, some very good indeed, but in no case had the time been wasted. Some of the poorest meetings had resulted in a quickening of interest in several enthusiastic novices, and in several applications for membership. The district had not received the support that one might have expected from one or two towers where change ringing was in vogue, but, on the other hand, where least expected, support had been forthcoming, a notable case being at Hathersage, from whence that day there was an application from eight of their ringers for membership, and a request for a meeting to be held there. An encouraging fact, too, was that at each tower, however poor the attendance of locals, the branch had always been well received and welcomed by the incumbents. Undoubtedly, the backbone of the branch had been the towers of Eyam and Bakewell, with their enthusiastic leaders, the Rev. W. P. Wright and Mr. A. G. Wallace, without whose support little could have been accomplished. The report also referred with gratitude to the generous and enthusiastic welcome accorded to the branch at the new tower of Tideswell on more than one occasion.

In regard to future policy, the Secretary suggested that each tower should try and bring in its incumbent as an hon. member, or, alternatively, that they should approach their Church Councils, asking them to support the 'nomination' scheme by paying an annual subscription and nominating one or two of their members. Also, that each tower should pay its subscriptions promptly and agree to take a certain number of the M.C.A. reports, which were well worth the money. Further, that if it was decided to carry on with the monthly meetings, each tower should make it a point of honour to send at least one member to each meeting. As to the meetings themselves, it was suggested that the present policy be continued, i.e., that a special eight or six bell method be selected for attention and practice, but at the same time novices were to be given every help and encouragement, and that the young conductors were to be helped as much as possible. The Secretary also suggested as much support as possible should be given to 'The Ringing World.' In conclusion, the Secretary expressed his grateful thanks to all in the district who had extended to him so much courtesy and assistance, and predicted that by working together there would be a bright future for the district.

On the proposition of the Rev. W. P. Wright, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the secretary for his untiring work in the (Continued in next column.)

ADDISCOMBE'S BIG BELL.

The large bell which has been hung in Addiscombe Parish Church tower, Croydon, by John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, is to be dedicated by His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury to-morrow (Saturday), the 25th inst., at 3 p.m.

The bell, which weighs over 50 cwt., is a fine example of the bellfounders' craft and, as will be seen from the photograph, is richly ornamented.

DEATH OF MR. T. J. BRATTON.

The death took place at Birmingham on the 9th inst. of Mr. Thomas J. Bratton, who passed away two days after his 67th birthday.

Mr. Bratton had been in Birmingham for the better part of twenty years, and before that resided at Welshpool.

He was buried on Tuesday of last week, and leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter to mourn their loss.

district, and he was instructed to record this vote on the minutes.

The Rev. W. P. Wright (Eyam) was re-elected vice-president by acclamation, and heartily thanked for all his kindness and help, it being fully realised that without his breezy and cheery disposition the district meetings would not be nearly as happy and cheerful functions as they have been.

Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey (Dore) was re-elected hon. district secretary, and Messrs. A. G. Wallace (Bakewell) and E. H. Holmes (Matlock) as members of the committee, the latter in place of Mr. N. Short, who had resigned on account of ill-health.

It was decided to carry on with the system of monthly meetings, it being considered that taking all in all they had been well worth while.

The next monthly meeting was fixed for Halbersage on February 15th, and it was decided to submit the names of eight ringers from this tower to the next general quarterly meeting for membership.

A hearty vote of thanks to the incumbent and to the local ringers closed the proceedings, adjournment being made to the tower for more ringing on tower and handbells.

RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL'S GESTURE.

A resolution which has been passed by the Executive Committee of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, and sent to all the branches for consideration, opens a way for the return of the Association to affiliation with the Central Council after the shortest possible absence. This resolution expresses general approval of the suggested alterations to the rules of the Council, published in 'The Ringing World' on October 18th last, and recommends the Association to express willingness to reaffiliate if the Council can see its way to placing the suggested alterations upon the agenda for the next meeting. Already two of the branches, including Bristol itself, have confirmed the resolution, and this promises well for the eventual adoption of the motion by the Association. This done, the return of the Association to the ranks of the affiliated societies should be an easy matter, for it will be observed that the resolution does not ask that the proposed alterations shall be carried by the Council, but only that they shall be placed on the agenda. There is a distinct advantage in this, because the condition laid down makes it possible for the Association to reaffiliate and to send its members to the Council meeting to assist in the discussion on the proposed amendments, and place the views of the Gloucester and Bristol Association before the Council. Had the motion required the acceptance of the alteration of the rules as a sine qua non of reaffiliation, the position might have been much more difficult, and the lead which the Executive Committee of the Association has given to the members emphasises that their action in withdrawing from the Council was not dictated by general hostility to the central body, but was based on what was felt to be a grievance, and that when the cause of the grievance is remedied they are ready once more to join hands in promoting the welfare of the Council and, through it, of the Exercise.

The suggestions which were put forward in our columns have already been considered by one or two Associations and seem to have met with approval, except that in two instances, at any rate, it has been held the system of triennial elections should be retained instead of the annual elections provided in the draft amendments. The object of annual elections is to keep the work of the Council more constantly before the Associations, and to endeavour to sustain interest. Instances could be cited of Associations where the Central Council is never mentioned except on the one occasion every three years when the representatives have to be elected. This is neither good for the Council, nor for the objects which it seeks to promote. Continuity of office is in some respects a desirable thing, but when it leads to the extinguishing of interest on the part of the constituent bodies, then it is something to be avoided. Under the present system, there is nothing to compel the Council being brought under the notice of an Association more than once in three years; an annual election would alter this, even though, in those Associations where continuity of office is considered of importance, the same members are re-elected. On the other hand, while uniformity of practice in the matter of elections is desirable, it might be possible to leave it open to Associations to elect annually or triennially, as they please. In any event, whatever views are held on this one point, we hope Associations will devote attention to the other matters raised by the suggested alterations to the rules.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. SUGGESTED CONDITIONS OF REAFFILIATION TO THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

Members of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, who last year seceded from the Central Council, are considering the question of reaffiliating, and in each branch a resolution passed by the Executive Committee is to be discussed. This resolution is as follows:—

'That the Executive Committee of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association at a meeting held this day, December 21st, 1929, generally approve the suggested alterations to the rules of the Central Council contributed to "The Ringing World," October 18th, 1929, No. 969, p. 665. They, the Executive, recommend that the association expresses its willingness to be reaffiliated if the Central Council can see its way to placing the suggested alterations upon their "agenda" at the next meeting.'

It came before the annual meeting of the Bristol Branch, attended by 45 members, on Saturday, and was introduced by the chairman (Mr. J. Gould).

The Vice-President (Rev. M. E. Thorold) proposed that the resolution be passed. He said that there was no good to be done by discussing the secession of the association, except to state that a good deal of stir had been created throughout the Exercise, and that the general opinion was that the Central Council needed remodelling to conform with the present-day needs of associations and guilds. He thought the suggested alterations put forward in 'The Ringing World' on October 18th, 1929, were very fair.

Further comments were made by the members, and it was generally agreed that the Central Council had lacked finality in its work, viz., too much of the work recommended by them was left to associations and guilds to take up, whereas the Central Council might have communicated direct with the church authorities, especially with regard to advisers upon Diocesan Boards.

Two members present suggested that no attempt should be made to reaffiliate under any circumstances.

Upon being put to the vote, these were the only two to vote against the resolution, and it was therefore carried with ease.

It was urged that any useful suggestion from ringers should find its way through the tower, then the branch, and on to the general meeting, to find its way eventually to the Central Council for, at least, their perusal.

The Chairman then asked for opinions upon a second request from the Executive Committee as follows: 'The Executive Committee is also anxious to ascertain the opinion of branches as to the desirability of adding to the rules of our diocesan association, a new rule which shall state what number of members present at a general meeting of the association shall form a quorum.'

The Rev. M. E. Thorold had to leave just as this was being discussed, but he took the opportunity of saying that in his opinion it would be very difficult to fix a quorum for the annual meetings.

The General Secretary, Mr. E. Guise, informed the meeting that during the last twelve years (including the opening of the memorial at Berkeley and the jubilee meeting, at which there were 130 and over 200 present respectively), the average attendance was 62.3. Last year at Chippenham 72 attended, and a few years ago the whole of the business was transacted with an attendance of 28 only. If the meetings were duly convened and every possible effort made to bring to the notice of members important items upon the agenda, the findings of the annual meetings should be accepted as representing the views of the association.

No one suggested a definite number, and eventually the following resolution was carried unanimously: 'That the members of the Bristol Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association at their annual meeting, January 25th, 1930, are unanimous in the opinion that the annual general meetings have been duly convened and the business carried out in a satisfactory manner, and that it would not be practicable to state a quorum necessary for these general meetings.'

At a meeting at Chippenham on January 18th, attended by about 25 members, the resolution with regard to the Central Council's rules and the suggested alterations was carried by a unanimous vote.

BRISTOL BRANCH CHAIRMAN RETIRES.

The annual meeting of the Bristol Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was held at St. Ambrose's on Saturday, when there were 45 members present. The bells were available from three o'clock, and good practice was obtained by the beginners present until 4.30 p.m., when the usual service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. F. G. Walmsley. The organist and choir boys were present, and helped to make the service exceptionally bright.

The Vicar in his address gave the association a very cordial welcome to St. Ambrose's, this being the first meeting the branch has held here. He said he could not help feeling impressed by seeing present such a number of men, who, having only a Saturday afternoon for their recreation, came to church to attend at these meetings.

After the service, the members partook of a very nice tea in the Church Hall, the Vicar, organist, and choir boys, and the Rev. M. E. Thorold (a vice-president of the association) being also present.

WELL ATTENDED MEETING AT BRIERLEY HILL.

The quarterly meeting of the Northern Branch was held at Brierley Hill on Saturday, January 18th. The bells were available to the members from 3 p.m. till 4.30, and a service was then held in the church conducted by the curate (Rev. David Morgan), who also gave the address. Tea was served in the Church Schools, over 100 members partaking of the good things provided.

Rev. D. Morgan presided at the business meeting which followed, and was supported by the Rector's warden (Mr. J. Cox). The Chairman apologised for the absence of the Rector (the Rev. F. A. Smith) through illness, and also conveyed the Rector's best wishes to the gathering.

The Branch introduced the venture of having a collection on behalf of the Belfry Repair Fund, which realised 15s. 6d., and was considered a very good effort.

It was unanimously agreed to hold the next meeting at Chaddeley Corbett.

The Rector of Brierley Hill, the Rev. D. Morgan, and Mr. J. Cox were elected honorary members, and several performing members were also added to the list.

It was decided to attempt the quarterly peal at Brierley Hill, the Ringing Master (Mr. C. Skidmore) being appointed to make the arrangements.

Mr. W. B. Cartwright moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for allowing the meeting to be held at Brierley Hill, for the use of the bells, to him and the churchwardens for providing such a splendid tea, to Mrs. Lloyd and the ladies who had so kindly attended to the wants of the visitors, and Mr. Lloyd on behalf of the local ringers. Mr. H. G. Bird then moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. D. Morgan for presiding at that meeting.

The Chairman, replying, said it had been an afternoon's pleasure to be with the ringers, and he thanked them sincerely for making him an honorary member.—Mr. J. Cox also acknowledged the vote of thanks, and Mr. J. Lloyd replied on behalf of the ladies and local ringers.

The members then returned to the tower, and several touches in Surprise methods were brought round before the close of a very gratifying meeting.

DEVON GUILD.

BRANCH MEETING AT TEIGNMOUTH.

The annual meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch of the Devonshire Guild was held at St. Michael's, East Teignmouth, on Saturday, when ringers were present from Paignton, Cockington, Collaton, Brixham, Buckfastleigh, Kenn, Exeter, Clyst St. George and Newton Abbot.

The fine peal of eight bells were well utilised during the afternoon, and a service was held in church, which was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. W. E. T. Trelawney Ross). An excellent address was given by the Vicar of Bishopsteignton (Rev. J. McIntyre).

The visitors then adjourned to Messrs. Addison's Cafe for tea, which was followed by the business meeting, presided over by the president of the Guild (Rev. E. S. Powell) in the absence of the chairman (Mr. F. J. Laxton) through illness.

The annual report was produced and adopted and showed a decrease in membership. It also showed that Mr. J. S. Collings, a member of Paignton band, had died during the past year, and the meeting stood in silence as a token of respect.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar and organist of St. Michael's and the Vicar of Bishopsteignton were carried.

Messrs. F. J. Laxton and H. J. Hole were re-elected chairman and secretary respectively, and one new honorary member and three associate members were also elected.

For the next meeting, to take place on Saturday, May 10th, Cockington was unanimously chosen.

Other business was transacted, and the visitors afterwards returned to the tower, where touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung.

At the business meeting which followed, Mr. J. Gould, chairman, presided.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar, organist, choir boys and lady helpers who assisted in serving the tea, was proposed by the chairman and seconded by Mr. Howell. The Vicar and organist suitably replied. The secretary and representative on Management Committee were re-elected.

The Chairman, Mr. J. Gould, who wished to resign, asked for nominations for that office, and Mr. F. Skidmore, of St. Ambrose's, was elected.

Mr. W. H. Thomas said they could not let Mr. Gould resign without extending to him their heartiest thanks and appreciation of the work he had so loyally done for the branch, and his successor would find great difficulty in filling his place.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD. ANNUAL MEETING OF PORTSMOUTH DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Portsmouth District was held at Alverstoke on Saturday, when by kind permission of the Rector (the Rev. Canon Guy Landon), the beautiful bells at St. Mary's Church were available to the members during the afternoon and evening. Nearly 50 members and visitors were present from Alverstoke, Bishops Waltham, Bramshott, East Meon, Fareham, Gosport, Portsmouth (St. Thomas' and St. Mary's), Petersfield, Southampton, Ryde, Swanmore, Titchfield, and Wickham, also Messrs. Keith Hart (Brighton) and E. J. Trimmer (Croydon).

Ringling commenced about 3 p.m., and various touches were rung until 4.30 p.m., when the Guild's service was held in the Parish Church. The Rector officiated and gave an excellent address. Tea was served in the Brodrick Hall, over which Canon Landon presided. The Rector again took the chair at the business meeting. The following new members were elected: W. Heyhoe (Wickham), R. Beale, sen., R. Beale, jun., and H. Dyer (Bramshott), and A. G. Dawe (Alverstoke), as ringing members, and Mrs. F. S. Bayley (Titchfield) as hon. member.

The auditor presented the accounts for the year 1929, which showed receipts amounting to £26 4s. 2d., and expenditure £3 18s. 1½d., leaving a balance to the general treasurer of £14 3s. 6d., and to the district £8 2s. 6½d.

The membership of the district was reported as 27 hon. members, 145 ringing members, three unattached, and five compounding members. Votes of thanks were accorded the secretary and auditor for their excellent work during the past year.

All the district officers were re-elected, viz.: Chairman, Mr. R. J. Stone; secretary, Mr. F. W. Rogers; auditor, Mr. H. G. Reynolds; and representatives on the Central Committee, Messrs. F. A. Barnett and R. J. Stone.

It was decided to hold the first quarterly meeting at Hambledon on April 26th.

Votes of thanks were accorded the Rector of Alverstoke for kindly placing the bells at the use of the members, conducting the service, and being with them at the tea and business meeting.

At the conclusion of the meeting the members returned to the tower for further ringing, whilst others remained in the Brodrick Hall and rang Grandsire and Stedman Caters on a fine peal of ten handbells.

The ringing at the Parish Church included the standard methods and also Superlative, Cambridge and Bristol Surprise Major.

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION. SOUND FINANCIAL POSITION.

The annual meeting was held at St. Chad's, Shrewsbury, on Saturday, and was very successful, about sixty members, including two ladies, being present from Shrewsbury, Wem, Whitechurch, Ellesmere, Alberbury, Prees, Moreton Corbet, Wellington, Cheswardine, Market Drayton, Malinslee, Clive, Stanton, Worthen, Coalbrookdale, Sheriffhales, and Church Lawton (Cheshire). A very welcome visitor was Mr. A. E. Pegler, of Bangor.

Ringling commenced on the fine peal of twelve at 2.30, and continued until five o'clock, when a service was held in St. Aiden's Chapel. The association form was used, and an address given by the Rev. A. G. Bradford, who spoke of the relationship between bells and the work of the Church.

The members then adjourned to St. Chad's room, where an excellent tea had been prepared by Mr. Wall.

The business meeting followed, Major E. R. T. Corbett, Master of the association, taking the chair.

The Hon. Secretary read the report for 1929, and presented the balance sheet, which showed a balance in hand of over £50. These were adopted, and all the officers re-elected as follows: Master, Major Corbett; hon. secretary and treasurer, the Rev. F. Tennison; assistant secretary, Mr. A. Pritchard; Central Council representative, Mr. W. Saunders.

Two hon. members and 24 ringing members were elected, and it was decided to hold five meetings during 1930 at the following places: Ellesmere, Worthen, Prees, Moreton Corbet and Much Wenlock.

It was resolved, on the proposition of Mr. F. A. Barnett, to grant the sum of £3 to the fund which is being raised to repair the tower and spire of St. Alkmund's Church, Shrewsbury. A letter was read from the Vicar of Worthen, asking for an instructor, and several members offered their services, the matter being left to the hon. secretary to arrange.

This completed the business, and the meeting closed with a vote of thanks, proposed by Mr. Saunders and seconded by Mr. Pegler, to Major Corbett for presiding at the meeting, and for his many services to the association.—This was carried with applause, and the members then returned to the tower for further ringing until nine o'clock. The methods rung during the day included Grandsire and Stedman from Triples to Cinques, Plain Bob Major and Royal, and Kent Treble Bob Royal.

St. Chad's bells are a fine peal of twelve, tenor 39½ cwt., cast by Messrs. Taylor and Co. in 1914.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

In their endeavours to destroy the symbols of religion in Russia, the Soviet is carrying out a wholesale destruction of church bells, as well as removing all the ornaments from the churches. Thousands of tons of bells are being broken up and melted down.

Benjamin Annable, one of the greatest pioneers of ringing, died on February 1st, 1756. He was buried at St. Bride's, Fleet Street, where some of his performances helped to lay the foundations of ringing history.

On February 4th, 1861, a peal of 10,032 Grandsire Major was rung in 6 hrs. 18 mins. at Walsall. It is years now since a peal of Grandsire Major was rung; it is more effete even than Bob Triples.

Next Wednesday is the anniversary of two long peals. On that day, in the year 1783, a peal of 12,672 Bob Major was rung at Bromley, and in the year 1888 a peal of 12,041 Stedman Caters at Appleton.

The first peal of London Surprise on handbells was rung at Romford on February 6th, 1904.

The 50th anniversary meeting of the Kent Association will be held at Canterbury on Easter Monday, and His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury has promised to give an address at the special service at noon in the Cathedral and to preside at the meeting, which will be of special importance. Will members and visitors who anticipate being present kindly make a note of the date?

The venue of to-morrow's meeting of the Blackburn Branch of the Lancashire Association has been moved to St. Michael's Church, Blackburn.

PROPOSED AUGMENTATION OF BELLS AT MILTON. PARISHIONERS' ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF RINGER'S SERVICES.

It is seldom that any bell restoration takes place to recognise the efforts of an individual ringer, but such a proposal is on foot at Milton-next-Gravesend, Kent.

The Parochial Council of the Parish Church recommended to the annual meeting of parishioners on Friday evening last that the present peal of six be restored, and two trebles added to complete the octave, to commemorate Mr. F. M. Mitchell's 21st anniversary as leader of the ringers at the tower, and also of his appointment as hon. secretary of the Kent County Association.

This recommendation was unanimously adopted, and a restoration fund opened, the estimated sum required being about £300.

The peal of six at this tower are a handy ring, with a tenor of 12½ cwt., and are of fine tone. The back five were cast by John Hodson in 1656, and the present treble added in 1810 by the Whitechapel Foundry, and the whole rehung in a new oak frame, which is now in an extremely good state of preservation.

It is interesting to record that it was in this parish that her late Majesty, Queen Alexandra, first landed on English soil on the way to her wedding with the late King Edward, and it is also supposed that the bells at Milton were the first heard by Queen Alexandra in this country.

Donations to the above fund will be gladly received by the Rector of Milton, the Rev. G. W. Menne, or the hon. secretary, Mr. H. Argent, 45, Rural Vale, Gravesend.

ARCHBISHOP AND CHURCH BELLS.

THEIR IMPORTANCE IN MODERN LIFE.

IMPRESSIVE DEDICATION CEREMONY AT ADDISCOMBE.

An effective answer to those who argue that, in these days, church bells are unnecessary, was given by the Archbishop of Canterbury on Saturday, when he dedicated the new great bell at St. Mary's Parish Church, Addiscombe, Croydon. His Grace pointed out that in these days of restlessness, brought about by the changed conditions of modern life, it was well that the thoughts of people should be directed sometimes to things eternal by the sound of the bell, which will reach them in their homes and at their work. This bell at Addiscombe is to be rung every day for a few moments at noon, and a brief prayer has been composed and widely circulated so that it may be used in the silence of the heart of everyone who hears the sound.

The bell, of which we gave an illustration last week, is one of the largest and certainly one of the finest in Surrey. It weighs over two and a half tons, and its deep, sonorous tones are a delight to the ear. It is the gift of a generous member of the congregation.

The New Tower at Addiscombe Parish Church.

Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, are the founders, and the bell, not only in its perfect harmonic tuning, but in its workmanship and ornamentation, is a beautiful example of the bell founder's art. It is not hung for ringing in the ordinary way, but can be swung just a little more than frame high. It is hung in a new tower, which has been added to complete the building in celebration of the jubilee of the church, which now serves a very populous district.

The dedication service was a most impressive and significant one, for it brought together in an act of praise and thanksgiving not only the members of the congregation, but representatives of other religious bodies of the district, and the civic authorities. There must have been at least two thousand people present at the ceremony, and many were unable to obtain admission. The Mayor of Croydon, in his robes of office, and members of the Corporation, joined with ministers of various denominations in the procession of representative men who accompanied the clergy and the Archbishop to the church, the bell founders being represented by Mr. B. Denton Taylor.

The service was a most inspiring one, the climax of which was reached when, the Archbishop having solemnly dedicated the tower and bell, the latter boomed out its glorious note for the first time in the hearing of the people of Addiscombe. Afterwards, the Archbishop dedicated a new chancel screen and choir desks and some additions to the organ.

THE ARCHBISHOP'S ADDRESS.

The Archbishop, in his address, expressed his joy at being permitted to take part in that occasion, which must mean, he said, so much thanksgiving and praise in so many hearts. They had just completed their church, and it was well that they had done so. Some might ask why, while there were so many pressing needs around them, they should take any of the resources, which were so scanty, for the adornment of their churches? Whenever he saw an unfinished church, standing year by year with something that spoke of the dream of the architect and the early hopes of the people who built it, still uncompleted, it always seemed to him, somehow, that there must have been some arrest in the flow of enthusiasm and faith and hope; and whenever he saw, after whatever lapse of time, a church completed, and, as there in their midst, the tower finished, he seemed to see sign of movement, of life, a time of fresh loyalty to the faith of the Lord on the part of the people, which was, indeed, most welcome. It was well that not only should their church, after more than fifty years, be completed, but also that the tower should have a voice to speak, so that it should be not merely an adornment of the church but also, should he say, a partner with them in the witness and the message which that church was there to give, and when they heard that bell, so generously given to them, speaking its note a short time before, they must have heard in its depth and solemnity a most moving reminder of the things that are unseen and eternal.

The Archbishop went on to thank those who had contributed to the carrying out of the scheme for the completion of the church and to refer to the difficulties which were experienced in creating in the fast-growing outer London suburbs the sense of corporate fellowship. It was a great pleasure, therefore, to him to greet on that occasion the Mayor of Croydon and his colleagues, and to welcome among them their brethren from other communions. He went on to speak of the great and increasing importance of preserving at the heart of our common life in England the remembrance of the living God, and said he would take for his text not any words from Holy Writ, but the word that would be spoken, please God, for generations from the tower of that church and from the bell which they had placed within it. Their bell had received a name, in accordance with an ancient and picturesque custom of those middle ages which they so often misunderstood and which, with all their crudities and superstitions, had the touch of imagination and simple-minded devotion which we did well to remember. In accordance with that spirit the bell had received its name—Gabriel, from the great messenger of the living God, and he understood that upon it was inscribed these words, and he would use these words as his text and let the bell speak to them its message through his lips: 'My name is Gabriel. I bring good tidings from the Lord and remind the inhabitants of him. I call men and women to worship and adore him within these walls or wherever they be at the sound of my voice. The Lord be with you.' It was, said the Archbishop, over fifty years since his revered predecessor, Archbishop Tait, dedicated that church as a parish church. How many and far reaching had been the changes since then? He sometimes wondered whether any generation had seen changes so sudden, so unexpected, so far reaching as this generation, whose life they shared. He was not thinking of the change in outlook wrought by the awful cataclysm of the war, but of the advances of science which had created a revolution in their methods of life—changes such as those brought about in the means of mechanical propulsion and the achievements of wireless. These changes had created a restlessness, a desire for excitement, so that there was a danger of their forgetting the immortal soul and the eternal God, and of their living for the material things of the moment. The problem of our time was how they could use all the wonderful things which had been given to them not only to raise the standard of comfort among our people, but how amidst it all they could remember the immortal soul and the living God. Therefore it was that the dignified, deep voice from the bell of that tower had something to say to Croydon at this present time, and, when those who lived around it heard it, he asked them to listen to their Vicar's plea and make their swift response, their act of reminder, and perhaps those at home would link with it those who had gone forth to the labour and work of the day, so that there might be that instantaneous, habitual link binding their lives to the living God. He prayed with all his heart that that church and the tower, now completed, and pointing upward as a silent witness, might continually fulfil the call of the bell, and to all of them engaged in the work of the Church and the civic life of that town he re-echoed the prayer, 'The Lord be with you.'

OXFORD.—On Sunday, January 5th, for evensong, at St. Ebbe's Parish Church, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples in 42 mins.: J. Harris 1, G. Horwood 2, F. Taylor 3, W. Finch 4, F. Beckett 5, W. Collett 6, W. H. B. Wilkins (conductor) 7, F. A. H. Wilkins 8.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

GUILDFORD DISTRICT'S ACTIVITIES.

The annual meeting of the Guildford District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild was held at Guildford on Saturday, January 18th. The bells of the Cathedral Church and of St. Nicolas' were available, and were kept going in various methods throughout the afternoon. A short service was held at St. Nicolas', at which the Rev. G. M. Wheeler preached a farewell sermon. He has now left to take up a chaplaincy at Mentone, and the support which he has given to the Guild will be missed in the Guildford District. Mr. Cyphus, the organist, very kindly gave his services at the organ.

Representatives, numbering about 70, from the Cathedral Church, St. Nicolas', Shalford, Haslemere, Godalming, Chiddingfold, Shere, Worplesdon, West Clandon, Merrow and Old Woking, and visitors from Dorking, Croydon, Ottershaw, Aldershot, Hawley, Chichester Cathedral, Farnham and St. Clement Dances, attended the tea and business meeting at the Prince of Wales Assembly Rooms.

The chair was taken by Mr. W. Harrison (vice-president), and he was supported by Admiral T. P. Walker, D.S.O. (treasurer) and Major J. H. B. Hesse (Master of the Guild).

Mr. G. Grover, secretary, Mr. A. H. Pulling, Ringing Master, and Mr. N. V. Harding, auditor, were declared elected, as only one nomination for each of these offices had been made.

Messrs. C. Hazelden and S. Radford were elected by ballot as members of the Executive Committee of the Guild.

The balance sheet showing a balance in hand of £8 5s. 9d. was adopted.

After referring in their joint report to the activities of the district during the past year, the Ringing Master and Secretary pointed out that it was dangerous to take a too optimistic view of the future of change ringing in the Guildford District, and they appealed to all members to make a great effort during the coming year to render more support to the district officers, and to make progress in the art of change ringing, which was at many towers in the district only practised in its very elementary stages.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.

The report added: There is a lot to be done before every peal of bells in the district is rung regularly for Sunday services by bands of keen change ringers. Every member must realise that although the success of the district and of the Guild depends, to some extent, on its officers and its efficient management, it depends principally on the individual members, who cannot be too strongly reminded that their duty to the Guild does not end, but only starts, with the payment of their annual subscriptions. The objects of the Guild can never be attained until every member has developed such a sense of loyalty that he is, even at some inconvenience to himself, a regular and punctual attender at service ringing, at practices and at the meetings of his district and the Guild; ever ready to learn some new method to help to keep interested his fellow-ringers, and, above all, perhaps, a persevering recruiting officer for the Exercise. Recruiting ringers and keeping them has always been a difficult task, and probably never more so than it is in these days, when there are so many counter attractions, skill in which is more easily acquired. Do not despair and do not forget that the membership of the Guild must be kept up. The greatest recruiting agency in the world is publicity. Don't lost a single opportunity of finding a learner. Advertise among the choir and congregation at your church, your cricket or football club, your institute and every possible place the fact that change ringing is the most fascinating art that has ever been practised, and always be ready to give anyone who shows the least interest an opportunity of learning to handle a bell. It is useless to sit still and say, 'We can't get any ringers.' They will not come until they are asked, and many will not give ringing a trial unless you convince them beforehand that change ringing is something more than a mere tug-of-war business with a lump of metal.

Admiral T. P. Walker voiced the thanks of the members to Mr. C. Hazelden, the retiring Ringing Master, for his services as Ringing Master of the Guildford District, both for the new Diocesan Guild and the Winchester Guild during the last 12 years, and several other members also expressed their appreciation of Mr. Hazelden's work.

Ewhurst, Witley, Dunsfold, Old Woking and Puttenham were chosen as places for district meetings in 1930.

For the purposes of combined practices it was decided to divide the district into five areas with four towers in each, and Messrs. Whittington, Melville, Hazelden and Hayes, together with the secretary, were chosen as conveners of these practices in their respective districts.

The District renominated as Guild officers for election at the annual meeting of the Guild Mr. W. Harrison (vice-president), Major Hesse (Master), Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (secretary), Admiral Walker (treasurer), and Mr. C. N. Burdock (auditor).

Messrs. A. H. Pulling, C. Hazelden, G. Grover and R. Whittington were all nominated as candidates for the office of representative of the Guild on the Central Council.

Several new members were elected, and the meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the chairman.

The date of next year's annual meeting was left open.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

NORTH-WESTERN DISTRICT ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the North-Western District was held at the Parish Church of All Saints, Kingston-on-Thames, on Saturday, members and friends attending from Ashted, Banstead, Beddington, Chelsea, Croydon (St. John's and St. Peter's), Dorking, Ealing, Epsom, Ewell, Haslemere, Kingston, Leatherhead, Merstham, Mitcham (Christ Church and SS. Peter and Paul's), Thames Ditton, Walton-on-Thames and St. Margaret's, Westminster. Ringing commenced at three o'clock, and the heavy ring were kept going in various methods until 5.30, when tea was served in the Church Hall, 35 members sitting down to a very enjoyable meal.

At the business meeting which followed, the Master of the association (Mr. D. K. C. Birt) presided. Two new members were elected, and the election of three members previous to peal attempts were ratified.

The report and balance sheet for the year was passed without comment.

It was decided to hold six district meetings during the year at the following towers if possible: Leatherhead on Easter Monday, Benhlton in May, Rammore Common in July, Hersham in September, Mitcham in November, and the annual district meeting at St. Peter's, Croydon, in January.

The district officers for the year were elected as follows: Mr. A. W. Clark, Master; Mr. F. G. Woodiss, treasurer; Mr. D. Cooper, secretary; and Mr. A. Gower, auditor. Three members elected on the committee were Messrs. J. Sparrow, A. H. Winch and J. Beams.

Mention was made with regret that the Kingston band had entirely dropped out of the association until that evening, when one of the young Kingston ringers was elected a member.

Major J. H. B. Hesse spoke of the time when Kingston tower was a real centre of change ringing and had a good band belonging to the association, and he thought something ought to be done to persuade them to rejoin.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the retiring officers and committee men for their work during the year, and the secretary was asked to write to those not present and convey to them the meeting's thanks. A cordial vote of thanks was also passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to Mr. J. Howes for making all the necessary arrangements for a successful meeting.

The tower was again visited and the bells kept going until nine o'clock, when a very successful and enjoyable meeting was brought to a close. The methods practised during the day ranged from rounds to London Surprise Major and Cambridge Surprise Royal.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

The annual general meeting of the Southern District was held at Godstone on Saturday, January 18th. The following towers were represented: Kingswood, Merstham, Buckland, Reigate, Limpsfield Chart, Redhill, Horley, and the local band. The bells were set going soon after three o'clock, and at the service held later an appropriate address was given by the Rev. G. E. Hoare, Rector of Godstone. After service, the party adjourned to the Rectory, where tea was kindly provided by the Rev. G. E. and Mrs. Hoare.

At the business meeting which followed, the Rector occupied the chair.

Mr. D. K. C. Birt proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the chairman for presiding at the meeting, for the use of the bells and for his address at the service, and to Mrs. Hoare and Mr. Robert Hoare for making such excellent arrangements. A vote of thanks was also accorded the officers for their services during the past year, and they were reappointed.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT'S ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Southern District was held on Saturday, January 18th, at St. Luke's Church, Chelsea, and during the afternoon and evening some 35 members and friends made use of the ten bells contained in the lofty tower. Three o'clock saw an eight-bell band in attendance, but before they had raised the bells other ringers arrived, and a touch of Grandsire Caters opened the proceedings, several young men and maidens thereby getting an opportunity of practice on ten bells. Stedman Caters followed, some good touches being rung until five o'clock, when an adjournment was made for tea at a neighbouring restaurant, 26 merry souls partaking of the repast, with many a quip and jest, 'midst the clatter of the tea cups.

The business meeting took place immediately on the return to the tower, the Master (Mr. H. Mance) presiding.

The balance sheet was approved and adopted, and the election of officers conclusively proved that the district was in a good and live position, as all the officers were re-elected without any debate, viz.: Master, Mr. H. Mance; treasurer, Mr. R. Mackrill; steward, Mr. W. Essery; and secretary, Mr. J. Herbert.

A vote of thanks was accorded the church authorities for the use of the bells and to Mr. H. Mance for making the arrangements. Ringing was afterwards carried on till some time past eight o'clock, Cambridge Royal being sandwiched between Stedman Caters and other standard methods.

It is hoped to hold the next meeting at Lewisham in March, due notice of which will appear in these columns.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

SONNING DEANERY BRANCH.

The annual general meeting of the Sonning Deanery Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at Wokingham on Saturday, January 18th. Ringing in the local towers took place during the afternoon. Divine service was held in All Saints' Church, at which a very appropriate address was given by the Rev. R. W. H. Acworth, Vicar of Sunningdale, who presided, from Isaiah lxii. 6, 'Ye that make mention of the Lord, keep not silence.' Tea followed in the Church House of All Saints, where a capital spread was ably served by a staff of ladies, who were afterwards thanked, on behalf of those present, by the Rev. Canon Coleridge.

Canon Coleridge presided over the business meeting, at which there were also present the Revs. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Guild), B. Long (R.D.), W. T. Stubbs, A. P. Carr, Mr. A. J. Wright (treasurer of the Guild), Mr. R. T. Hibbert (secretary), Mr. W. J. Paice (hon. secretary and treasurer of the branch) and over 100 ringers.

The Hon. Treasurer reported a small balance in hand, a decrease upon last year's.

As hon. secretary, Mr. Paice reported 20 hon. members and 150 ringing members, practically the same as last year, during which period they had lost by death three of their hon. members—the Rev. Canon Selway, Mrs. R. H. Walker, of Wokingham, and Mr. J. Simonds, of Arborfield. Among the meetings held had been one at Hawley, Hants, where the Guild joined with members of the Guildford Diocesan Guild and the Basingstoke District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild. A good piece of work by the branch had been the overhauling of the Easthampstead bells at a cost of £24, carried out by Messrs. T. Bond, of Burford, Oxon. There were other towers in the branch where similar work would be welcomed. The number of young ringers at Sandhurst and Finchampstead was a very encouraging feature. He hoped the young members would make full use of the meetings and the combined practices. The installation of electric light in Finchampstead Church, including the tower, bell chamber, etc., had proved of great advantage. Mr. Paice thanked all the members for their kind help and co-operation.

The reports were passed unanimously and with expressions of satisfaction.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

The Rev. Canon Coleridge, who vacated the chair pro tem. in favour of the Master of the Guild, was unanimously re-elected chairman, on the motion of Mr. F. Dentry, seconded by Mr. A. J. Wright. The Master congratulated the branch on its chairman, and said no other branch in the whole of the kingdom had such a splendid chairman.—Canon Coleridge expressed his thanks.

Mr. W. J. Paice was unanimously re-elected hon. secretary and treasurer by acclamation and was heartily thanked for his services. He said he would, with their kind co-operation, continue to do his best (applause). The Branch Committee, to serve with the ex-officio members, chairman and hon. secretary, was then re-elected.

Messrs. J. Rance, J. Moth, F. Dentry and Jos. White were unanimously re-elected branch representatives to the Guild Committee.

On the recommendation of the secretary three towers, not yet visited for quarterly meetings, were arranged as under: Easthampstead for March, Hurst for June, and Barkham for September.

Combined practices were left to the secretary to arrange.

This concluded the agenda, and the chairman invited the Master to make a few remarks.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, who was received with applause, said two things made his attendance at their annual meeting a great pleasure—the excellent tea and the fully set out printed statement sent to each tower by their secretary. Printing expenses, though heavy, were all worth while. He referred to the renovation of bells which had taken place in adjacent places—Reading, Newbury, etc., and at Goring, where John Bower had achieved the desire of his lifetime. He had never failed to have a Minor ringing band for one Sunday service, if not both, for the past 50 years. St. Lawrence's, Reading, was a very great achievement, and there was now a very beautiful ring of twelve bells.

The Guild Treasurer, Mr. A. J. Wright, said the Guild finances were in a sound position. He anticipated a balance as large as last year's. The Restoration Fund was, as usual, considerably decreasing. He hoped restorations would not come on very quickly, but he hoped before the end of next year to recommend the grants to all the restorations coming in (hear, hear). He suggested that the branch should form a Guild Restoration Fund, using half the subscriptions of their hon. members for that purpose. He congratulated their secretary upon an excellent balance sheet, the most intelligent balance sheet that, as Guild treasurer, he ever got. It saved a lot of trouble. He congratulated the branch, and hoped they would go on increasing.

JUBILEE OF THE BRANCH.

Mr. R. T. Hibbert referred to the support of other branches of the Oxford Guild to St. Lawrence's restoration, and said Sonning Deanery did a great deal in a quiet way. Mr. Hibbert hoped that with such an excellent chairman and secretary they would 'hang on' to them.

EIGHTY-FIVE, AND STILL RINGING.

FARNHAM VETERAN'S BIRTHDAY QUARTER-PEAL.

On Sunday, at St. Andrew's Church, Farnham, for morning service, a quarter-peal (1,260 changes) of Grandsire Triples was rung in 48 minutes by: G. Upshall 1, T. Upshall 2, C. Wells 3, S. Meadows 4, E. Clapshaw 5, F. Kemp 6, R. Basted (composer and conductor) 7, A. E. King 8. This quarter-peal was arranged as a compliment to Mr. Edward Clapshaw, the ringer of the 5th and captain of the band of ringers at this church, on his 85th birthday, with the congratulations and best wishes of the whole of the members of the band.

Mr. Clapshaw has been a ringer at Farnham Church for 64 years, and is very highly esteemed by the clergy, his brother ringers, and the whole of the churchworkers, whose sincere wish it is that he will be able to continue his work among them for many years yet to come.

Mr. Clapshaw was present at the annual meeting of the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, at Farnham, on the previous day, and received the congratulations and good wishes of the whole of the 60 members present.

He began to ring in the year 1866, when the bells were reopened at Farnham, after the tower had been raised by another storey, and he has continued his loyal service to the Church ever since. He joined the Winchester Diocesan Guild when it was formed over fifty years ago, and he is, of course, a foundation member of the Guildford Diocesan Guild.

He is hale and hearty, keenly interested in ringing, and ever ready to take his place in a touch. He is always present for the Sunday service ringing. When asked on Saturday, by someone not fully aware of his capability, if he thought he would be able to manage the quarter-peal the next day, the veteran replied, 'I shall be all right. It's the others I'm wondering about.' Mr. Clapshaw is a skilled horticulturist, and still works in his large garden.

MR. JOSEPH WAGHORN, AGED 87.

The eighty-seventh birthday of that well-known London veteran, Mr. J. Waghorn, sen., was celebrated by some touches of Grandsire Triples, rung at St. Margaret's, Barking, on Sunday morning, in which Mr. Waghorn took part. Among those who shared in the ringing were R. Courtier, who is only 12 years of age, G. W. Faulkner, E. G. Cottis, W. Beard, E. Lucas, W. Robbins, S. Holgate, E. Moore, R. Fenn and C. Fenn. Mr. Waghorn received the hearty congratulations of the ringers.

FIRST EIGHT-BELL PEAL AT WOKING.

The first peal on the recently augmented ring of bells at Woking, Surrey, was rung on Monday evening. The members of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, who had the privilege of taking part, had the satisfaction of putting up a very fine performance, and afterwards were the guests at supper of Admiral T. P. Walker and Mrs. Walker and the local ringers, to whom cordial thanks were expressed for their kind hospitality and for the very friendly spirit in which the peal had been arranged.

Admiral Walker, who is hon. treasurer of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, has learnt to ring since leaving the Service, and his interest in and enthusiasm for the art of ringing is an example to many a young ringer. It was largely through his initiative and efforts that the bells at Woking Parish Church, where he is also churchwarden, have been increased from six to eight, and the old bells put into new ball bearings. The funds for this purpose have been raised by the local ringers, among whom the Admiral is proud to number himself an A.B.

It was by the help of Admiral Walker and the ready acquiescence of the other members of the band that the peal on Monday was rung, and a special word of thanks must be given to Mr. Strudwick, who 'mounted guard' throughout the peal to prevent any accidental switching off of the electric light, which would have left the ringers in darkness.

Mr. Paice then referred to the jubilee of their branch, started on May 22nd, 1880, the year before the Diocesan Guild, with which it later affiliated. He suggested that the branch be first in the field with its jubilee celebration, to be in the form of a garden fête to be held at Wokingham on or about May 22nd.

After some discussion it was decided provisionally to fix the date as Saturday, May 24th (Empire Day, to which the function would add additional brightness in Wokingham), details to be left with the secretary, Mr. Paice.

Mr. Dentry thanked the Rev. R. W. H. Acworth for his address, the Rector of All Saints', the Rector of St. Paul's (the Rev. H. M. Walter), also the hon. auditor, Mr. Owen Goddard, for their various acts of kind assistance.

The Rev. B. Long briefly and gracefully replied for all.

The Chairman expressed pleasure at being present, and said the number of ringers in the country was 46,083—240 less than last year. The year before that there were 410 more. The diocese of Oxford held second place for numbers, the greatest number being in Exeter Diocese, while Bath and Wells came third.

Mr. Moth thanked the chairman, and the meeting closed. Further ringing afterwards took place.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

LEICESTER DISTRICT PROPOSES PEAL BOOKING FEES.

The annual meeting of the Leicester District was held at the Cathedral, Leicester, on Jan. 18th. Previous to the business meeting the bells were kept going for about 1½ hours to Kent Treble Bob Minor, Stedman Triples and Grandsire and Stedman Caters. The attendance was not all that could be desired, only 18 members being present at the business meeting at 6.30 p.m.

The local vice-president, Mr. A. J. Harris, occupied the chair. The hon. treasurer and general hon. secretary were renominated.

On the proposition of Mr. W. Willson, seconded by Mr. J. Pole, a resolution was passed nominating Mr. J. Griffin, subject to his approval, as president of the association, and the secretary was instructed to write to him immediately to this effect.

The local officers were re-elected en bloc, with the exception of Mr. F. H. Dexter on the committee in place of Mr. J. S. Carter.

On the proposition of Mr. E. F. Payne, seconded by Mr. N. S. Bagworth, it was decided to hold eight meetings this year as last year. Arnesby was chosen as the place for the next meeting, and Kibworth for the spring quarterly meeting.

Owing to the state of the association's finances, a resolution was passed, on the motion of Mr. J. Pole, and seconded by Mr. W. Willson, to bring forward at the next general meeting that in future members should pay 3d. per head per peal.

Mr. A. J. Harris then brought forward the subject of holding an annual dinner in Leicester and reviving the old society of the Leicester Scholars. It was unanimously decided to hold the first of these dinners before long (probably on Saturday, March 1st). The local officers, plus Mr. W. H. Clarke, were chosen to act as a committee in this matter and make the necessary arrangements.

The meeting closed with votes of thanks to the Provost, Ringing Master and local ringers.

YOUNG BRAMSHOTT RINGER'S DEATH.

The funeral took place at Bramshott, Hants, on Saturday, January 11th, of Wm. Thomas Vale, a chorister and ringer at the Parish Church, who died in Haslemere Hospital following an operation after a very short illness.

The service, which was choral, was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. E. A. Berrisford, assisted by Rev. A. H. Taylor and Rev. H. A. Bowles. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung on the handbells at the grave by members of the Haslemere band, Messrs. Furlonger, Overy, Bowden, and Major Hesse, and the tower bells were rung muffled by his colleagues of the Bramshott band.

'Tom' will be greatly missed at Bramshott, where he was most regular both at the Sunday services and practices. He was a frequent visitor to Haslemere for handbell practice, through the kindness of the Rev. O. S. Walford, at whose residence the practices took place, and always received a warm welcome at the Haslemere belfry, where he was always anxious to learn.

The large attendance at the church and the many floral tributes testified to the esteem in which he was held, and much sympathy is felt for his parents at the loss of their only son at the early age of twenty.

DEATH OF HEREFORDSHIRE VETERAN.

Another Herefordshire veteran has answered the 'call.' After only a few weeks' illness, Mr. John Edwards, of Tarrington, died on Monday, January 6th, in his 84th year, and was buried at the Parish Church on Thursday, January 9th, with many tokens of regret and respect by relatives, ringers and other friends.

He was a wonderfully active man for his years, of sturdy build and a happy disposition, with a deep love, since boyhood, for his church bells. He formerly resided at Woolhope for many years, where he acted as foreman of the belfry at St. George's Church under the Vicar, the Rev. T. M. Beavan, and there trained a number of young men of the parish to ring Bob Doubles. These pupils included his three sons, one of whom is well known in the diocese of Hereford.

The writer met the deceased over 40 years ago, and was much impressed by his all-round knowledge of gardening, Herefordshire cattle (the famous white-face breed), and apple culture for cider making. Two outstanding occasions that gave the old gentleman much satisfaction may here be noted: when the Vicar of Woolhope in 1889 presented nine of Mr. Edwards' lads with their certificates as change ringers, and when he dined at the Hereford Festival of the Guild with his son in the chair as Ringing Master.

W. H. F.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

Will secretaries please note that subscriptions on the revised scale were due on January 1st last. Only six associations have paid so far (the first being Lancashire), and it renders the balancing of the accounts very difficult when these subscriptions are delayed.

E. ALEX. YOUNG,

Hon. Sec.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

A successful meeting of the North Notts Association was held at Shireoaks on January 18th, when the attendance numbered forty, members being present from Auston, Barlborough, Creswell, Edwinstowe, Gainsborough, Gamston, Killammarsh, Treeton, Worksop, Sutton-on-Trent and Ordsall. Tea was served in the Parish Hall by the ringers' wives and other helpers in an excellent manner, heartily appreciated by all present.

The meeting was presided over by the Rev. R. V. Dodd, Vicar, supported by the Rev. R. F. Wilkinson, of Ordsall, Mr. H. Caferatta, of Sutton-on-Trent, and Messrs. H. Haigh (hon. treasurer), H. Revill and R. W. Stockdale (hon. secretaries), accompanied by all the members who came for the ringing in the afternoon and evening.

The Rev. R. V. Dodd gave the association a hearty welcome to Shireoaks, and said that he wished there could be more meetings held in his parish if all the gatherings were as great a success as this one. He also mentioned that they had had their bells recently rehung, which was an effort achieved by the ringers themselves and one or two fitters. He hoped that the visiting ringers would find a great improvement.

It was proposed that North Collingham should be visited on Easter Monday for the next meeting, but the Secretary stated that the bells of this church were being rehung, and, in case he could not get permission for their use on that date, Edwinstowe was adopted.

There were no new members to be elected. The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson asked all who were present if they could not bring new life into the association, for it was only the younger generation who could make the association prosper in the years to come. It was said that the society had during the past year been very successful, both in membership and finance, and it was hoped that they would try to keep it at this high standard.

Two applications for grants to bells funds were received, viz., from North Collingham and Shireoaks, but it was decided that their consideration should be held over until the committee meeting.

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for all he had done in connection with making the meeting a success, to the caterers for providing such a splendid tea, and to all who helped with the arrangements of the meeting.

The tower was again visited, and some very good ringing done in methods ranging from Plain Bob to London Surprise. The bells were towered in peal at 9 p.m., bringing to a close a most enjoyable day.

ALDERMAN PRITCHETT'S 75th BIRTHDAY.

CELEBRATED BY A PEAL OF STEPMAN CINQUES.

In celebration of his seventy-fifth birthday, Alderman J. S. Pritchett, presiding Ringing Master of St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, took part on Tuesday of last week in a peal of Stepmen Cinques at St. Martin's Church. The alderman is naturally and justifiably proud at having rung another twelve-bell peal at this advanced age. He has been ringing for more than 60 years, having begun at King's Norton when he was only 14. He has been a member of the College Youths for over 50 years.

An old friend of Birmingham ringers also took part in the peal in the person of Mr. W. T. Pates, of Cheltenham, and next to him was a promising young ringer, George E. Fearn, who rang his bell faultlessly in this, his first attempt for a peal on twelve.

In addition to Alderman Pritchett's birthday, this peal celebrated the 60th birthday of Mr. J. H. Shepherd (Swindon), one of the vice-presidents of St. Martin's Guild, and the 53rd birthday of Mr. F. B. Yates, of King's Norton, another keen supporter of the Guild.

BEWDLEY, WORCS.—On Wednesday, January 8th, at the Parish Church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) in 47 mins.: Mrs. J. Broad 1, G. Davies 2, T. J. Salter 3, J. Broad 4, C. H. Woodberry (conductor) 5, J. Smith 6, J. Woodberry 7, G. Bishop 8. Ringers of 1, 4, 8 are of the local band, the rest from Kidderminster.

THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at
RIVERSIDE CHURCH, New York, U.S.A

'SEVEN DIFFERENT 720's.'

No one has yet ventured to reply to a correspondent who has twice asked the question in our columns, 'What constitutes "seven different 720's" of Minor?' The question, on the face of it, would seem easy to answer, but the apparent reluctance of the pundits to reply to the inquiry seems to indicate that the point is more difficult of satisfactory explanation than appears at first sight. Accepting the expression '720' as meaning the extent of the 'rows' or 'changes' on six bells, and that all extents must contain, somewhere or other, the same rows or changes, it seems to us common sense that, if in each of the extents the rows or changes come up in a different order, then the 720's are 'different.' But it is never safe to make even the simplest assertion in regard to ringing, because someone is nearly sure to contradict it, and we shall not be in the least surprised if, having had the temerity to answer our correspondent's question—because no one else seemed prepared to do so—we are now told that our views on this matter are entirely wrong. It is possible we may be told that it means something totally different to what the words in their ordinary sense convey—as we were, for instance, when it was stated that the apparently simple expression, 'seven 720's' (contained in the definition of a peal of Minor) meant seven different compositions.

If a transposition or a reversal is looked upon as the same composition as the original, it is obvious that, unless the definition of seven different seven-twenties is that which we suggest, a great many reports have been published which could not substantiate the claim made of the peal consisting of 'seven different 720's.' Here is another issue to which the Central Council might turn their attention when they come again to the vexed question of defining a peal of Minor. They might say what shall be understood in future by the expression 'seven different 720's,' and the suggestion by our correspondent might, in the meantime, very well be considered by conductors in reporting their peals—that they should distinguish between seven different 720's, in which the difference lies principally in the sequence of the rows or changes, and those in which there are actually seven different compositions.

The question of peals on five or six bells is a complex problem, upon which there is a widening division of opinion, and the probability is that it will eventually become one of those questions, like the extension of methods, in which the two sides take up an irreconcilable attitude. In all these questions, however, the Council ought to show a mind of its own. It does its prestige in the Exercise no good when it shelves knotty points by passing resolutions that it is 'not competent to express an opinion' upon such things as, for instance, what it will recognise as an extension of a method. When there are two divergent points of view, both cannot be accepted, and even at the risk of offending the susceptibilities of one side or the other, the Council should have the courage to take a stand. Such a position is hardly likely to arise, perhaps, over the question of what constitutes seven different 720's of Minor—but it might.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM.

The annual meeting of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held in the belfry of St. Martin's Church, Mr. Alderman J. S. Pritchett, M.A., Presiding Ringing Master, being in the chair.

Before proceeding with the ordinary business, the Chairman referred to the loss the Guild had sustained by the death of Charles Stanbridge, one of its oldest members, and he asked those present to stand for a moment as a last mark of respect.

On the proposition of the chairman, the president and vice-presidents were re-elected en bloc.

The Secretary, in proposing that Mr. Alderman Pritchett be re-elected Presiding Ringing Master, congratulated him, on behalf of the Guild, on having attained his 75th birthday, and on enjoying such good health and strength.—This was seconded by Mr. James George and carried unanimously.

Mr. Pritchett thanked the members for their renewal of confidence and their good wishes. Although he was 75 years of age, he was thankful to say that he was still actively engaged in all his public and Masonic work, which took up quite a lot of his time. He thanked Mr. Albert Walker for acting as his deputy during the past year, and proposed his re-election for the ensuing year.—This was seconded by Mr. Perrens and carried unanimously.

Mr. Walker, in accepting the office for another year, stated how increasingly difficult it was becoming, owing to business pressure, for him to attend the weekly practices regularly, and that ere long they would have to consider appointing someone else in his stead.

Mr. T. H. Reeves suggested that he should now relinquish the office of trustee, and proposed that as Mr. Paddon Smith had carefully looked after the funds of the Guild during his 20 years as secretary, he should now become a trustee together with Mr. Vice-President Tom Russam.—This was seconded by Mr. Walker and carried unanimously.

The remaining officers were all re-elected, as follows: Auditors, Messrs. J. Preston and E. T. Allaway; librarian, Mr. G. F. Swann; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. T. H. Reeves.

The balance sheet was presented by the secretary and this was adopted on the proposition of Mr. Walker, seconded by Mr. George.

It was decided to hold the Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner on Saturday, March 1st, at the Imperial Hotel, and, on the proposition of Mr. Smith, seconded by Mr. Neal, to ask the Rector of Birmingham to take the chair. The other arrangements in connection with the dinner were left in the hands of the officers.

Several new members were elected, and the next quarterly meeting was fixed for Saturday, April 5th, at Northfield.

Owing to the Saturday activities in the Market Place, only a small amount of ringing could be done. This, however, enabled the members to spend a convivial hour or so together in another place.

FIRST QUARTER-PEAL FOR NEARLY 50 YEARS.

On Saturday, January 18th, at the Church of St. Columba, St. Columb Minor, Cornwall, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes, ten different callings) in 44 mins.: F. W. Marshall 1, R. Dibbs 2, A. S. Roberts 3, F. G. Viles 4, W. H. Southard (conductor) 5, Rev. W. H. R. Trewhella 6. Rung after a peal attempt had failed. The first quarter-peal on the bells, which were hung in 1883 by J. Taylor and Co.

RINGER'S SERVICES RECOGNISED.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Fuller, of the Cedars, Bagshot, Surrey, the Bagshot ringers were entertained to a supper on Friday week. The Vicar, Canon R. W. Stuart, presided.

During the evening Mr. F. Nye, who has been foreman and steeple-keeper for a great number of years, was presented with a case of pipes from the Vicar and the local band to show their appreciation for his help in teaching young ringers and the assistance he has given to the band.

Mr. Nye has been one of those persistent and long-suffering 'spade workers' whose discouragements usually outweigh the permanent gains achieved, but who nevertheless continue to give their time and energies to teaching others in the hope that eventually some young ringer will be added to the ranks of the Exercise. Always cheery and enthusiastic, Mr. Nye is a valued member of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, as he previously was of the Winchester Diocesan Guild.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING.

In delightful weather, the annual meeting of the Yorkshire Association was held at Scarborough on Saturday, January 25th. By the courtesy of the Vicar of Scarborough (Rev. J. W. Capron) and the churchwardens, the peal of eight (tenor 20 cwt.) were available for ringing throughout the day. The day's activities commenced with the audit, which was conducted in the morning at the Church Schools by Messrs. G. B. Bourne and J. R. Fryer. Tea was served in the Arcadian Pavilion at 5 p.m., and was followed immediately by the general meeting. The president (Rev. C. C. Marshall) occupied the chair, supported by the hon. treasurer (Mr. J. Cotterell) and hon. secretary (Mr. J. Johnson).

The President presented the annual report of the committee. In reviewing the report, he drew attention to a regrettable misstatement in the report, which stated that only three new members had been elected in the Western Division in the course of the year. This was quite wrong, as more than thirty new members had joined in that division during the year, and the statement was the result of an error by the district secretary. In presenting the annual peal list of 75 peals, the Sheffield band were congratulated on contributing once more a twelve-bell peal, and the excellent tabulated work by the peal secretary, Mr. W. Barton, was highly commended. The report was adopted on the motion of Mr. G. Halksworth, seconded by Mr. G. B. Bourne.

ANOTHER BEDFORDSHIRE SIX-BELL TOWER.

TILSWORTH CHURCH, BEDS,
where the bells have just been recast and augmented to six.

The balance sheet, which showed a gain of £17 16s. 3d., was passed as read, on the motion of Mr. G. B. Bourne, seconded by Mr. J. R. Fryer. A vote of thanks to the auditors was moved by Mr. J. Cotterell, seconded by Mr. W. Idle, and carried with acclamation.

No other nominations having been received for the office of president, the Rev. C. C. Marshall was declared re-elected. In thanking the members for their appreciation of his work, Mr. Marshall announced that this was his seventeenth year of office, and trusted that he would have the continued support of the members in his efforts for the welfare of the association.

A cordial vote of thanks to the Vicar and wardens of Scarborough for kindly granting the use of the bells and the Church Schools, was moved by the president and supported by Mr. J. H. Blakiston. A special vote of thanks to the local company was moved by the general secretary, who paid a tribute to the efforts of Mr. G. B. Bourne for the comfort of the visitors, and expressed deep regret that so small a gathering had assembled there that day.—This was seconded by Mr. A. Haigh and carried, Mr. G. B. Bourne responding on behalf of the local band.

A prolonged discussion took place as to the most suitable date to hold the Snowdon Dinner, it eventually being decided to hold the dinner this year at York on the second Saturday in October.

The Vicar of Huntingdon (the Rev. R. M. Kelly) was elected as an honorary life member of the association.

A hearty vote of thanks to the president, proposed by the general secretary and seconded by Mr. A. C. Fearnley, brought a most pleasant meeting to a close.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD.
WELLINGBOROUGH BRANCH RECORD MEETING.

On Saturday, January 25th, by the kind permission of the Vicar (the Rev. B. E. Owen), a quarterly meeting of the Wellingborough Branch of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild was held at Higham Ferrers, a thoroughly representative body of ringers being present from Finedon, Irthlingborough, Wellingborough, Wollaston, Borzeat, Earls Barton, Easton Maudit, Yardley Hastings, Mears Ashby, Wilby, Burton Latimer, Cranford, Geddington, Thrapston, Raunds, Titchmarsh, Bedford, and the local company. The fine peal of eight bells were raised about 2.30, and were in great demand during the afternoon and evening. Many methods were rung, ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Superlative, Cambridge, Bristol, and London Surprise Major.

The Guild service was held in the beautiful Church of St. Mary, conducted by the Vicar, who also gave a most appreciative and encouraging address, in which he pointed out that the work of ringers had not always been recognised as it was to-day, and that he looked upon them as a fine body of churchworkers. The address, the music led by the fine organ, and the hearty singing, made the service an inspiration to all.

The party afterwards adjourned to the Old Grammar School close by, where an excellent tea, which had been kindly prepared by the local ringers and their wives, awaited them. The Vicar presided, supported by Mr. W. Webb, churchwarden. Mr. A. E. Wright, organist, and a record attendance of 70 members.

The business meeting followed, the Vicar being in the chair. Wollaston was suggested as the next place of meeting. Mr. W. Webb and Mr. A. E. Wright were elected hon. members, and four ringing members were also elected.

The secretary then presented his report and balance sheet for the past year, which were passed as highly satisfactory, and on the proposition of the Vicar hearty thanks were accorded him for his work.

A comprehensive vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for his address, to the organist, the local ringers, and the ladies who had helped with the tea, was proposed by Mr. T. R. Hensher, and carried with acclamation.

On returning to the tower, a pleasing feature of the gathering was the ringing of a well-struck course of Superlative Surprise Major by eight old veterans who had rung together at Higham Ferrers more than thirty years ago, the band being as follows: H. Chapman 1, A. Perkins 2, J. Garratt 3, A. H. Martin 4, J. J. Mawby 5, C. W. Clarke 6, T. R. Hensher 7, A. Y. Tyler 8. It was generally agreed that the honours of the day rested with these veterans. After the lowering of the bells, about eight o'clock, a well-attended social was held in the clubroom of the Green Dragon Hotel, touches and selections being given on handbells by the Finedon and Irthlingborough ringers, and songs rendered by various members of the company, Mr. A. Perkins being at the piano.

Amongst those present were Mr. R. G. Black (general secretary), Miss Thursfield (secretary of the local branch of the Ladies' Guild), Miss E. Steele, Mr. H. Tysoe and Mr. H. J. Sharp, of Bedford.

SOCIETY FOR THE ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD.
A SUCCESSFUL GATHERING.

A meeting was held at St. Peter's, Wolverhampton, on Saturday, January 25th, which was pleasing both to the promoters and the visitors. Besides those representing towers in the Archdeaconry, others attended from Birmingham, Bromsgrove, Coventry, Crewe, Dudley, Netherton, Oldbury, Smethwick, etc.

A short service was held at 4.45, conducted by the Rev. R. L. Hodson, Rector, who also delivered an interesting address. A move was then made to Lyons' restaurant, where a capital tea was laid, upwards of one hundred taking advantage thereof, including the Revs. R. L. Hodson, L. H. Morgan, F. O. Urwin and C. H. Barker. Apologies for absence were received from Mr. C. H. Clapham, Rector's warden, and Mr. S. H. Tonks, people's warden, both owing to prior engagements; also Mr. Ben Gough, through a serious illness.

A vote of thanks was moved by the Rev. C. H. Barker, viz., to the Rector for his address, use of bells, etc.; to the organist for his kindly assistance; and to the St. Peter's band for providing the splendid tea, which was carried with acclamation. This was briefly acknowledged. Then followed a touch of Stedman Caters on handbells by: E. W. Perrens (conductor), H. Knight, G. F. Swann, J. Perry and R. Pickering. The ringing on the tower bells during the afternoon and evening was varied, and included a well-struck course of Cambridge Royal and a bold attempt at Cambridge Maximus, which, however, did not mature.

SUFFOLK GUILD FINANCES

A well-attended meeting was held at Framlingham on January 11th. Discussion about the forthcoming report showed that the expenditure of the Guild was still more than £6 above the income. It was decided to attempt to get more honorary members, and to ask ringing members to subscribe more than the minimum subscription. Meetings were arranged for February 15th at Hadleigh, for March 15th at Hadleigh, and April 21st at Bury St. Edmunds. There was ringing in all the usual methods, both in the tower and on handbells.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION'S TITLE.To the Editor.

Dear Sir.—I shall be glad if you will allow me, through your 'Ringing World,' to draw the attention of the members of the London County Association to the incorrectness of the last part of the title.

There is no North Southwark Diocese.

If the members wish to mean the northern area of the Southwark Diocese, why not be correct and alter the title to read 'and the Southwark Archdeaconry Guild'?

I think this is the only one of our societies with an incorrect title.

—Yours sincerely,

F. W. RICHARDSON.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.ROCHESTER DISTRICT GROWTH.

A very successful meeting of the Rochester District was held on Saturday at Swanscombe, and in spite of the very wet weather upwards of sixty ringers attended, the following towers being represented: Rochester Cathedral, Frindsbury, Higham, Gravesend, Milton-next-Gravesend, Chatham, Gillingham, Upchurch, Tunstall, Queenborough, together with the local band, and also visitors from Sevenoaks. Some very useful practice was accomplished, especially by the less experienced ringers, during the afternoon. A service was held in the church, attended by the whole of the ringers, and conducted by the Rector, after which tea was served in the Church Hall.

The business meeting was presided over by the Rector, who expressed his pleasure in once again meeting the bellringers. The Rector said that he considered the bellringers were amongst the most loyal and devoted of his churchworkers.

It was very gratifying to see the increase in membership of the association, a total of twenty-two practising members being elected at the meeting. Included in this was the whole of the band from Minster, Isle of Sheppey, where Mr. Exeter has been fighting an uphill task in forming a new band in a very creditable manner. The Vicar of Minster, the Rev. Brazier, was also elected as an honorary member. If Minster proves as loyal to the association as Queenborough, another Sheppey tower, the district will indeed have a very useful extreme wing.

At the conclusion of the meeting a very hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rev. and Mrs. Campbell Ward for so generously entertaining the ringers, also to the Rector's sister for playing the organ, and the ladies who waited upon the ringers at such a splendid tea.

PRESENTATION TO MR. ARTHUR SYMONDS.RECOGNITION OF LONG LEADERSHIP.

A goodly number of the SS. Peter and Paul's band, Lavenham, met at the tower on Thursday, January 23rd, to greet their much esteemed leader and instructor on his 72nd birthday. Mr. Arthur Symonds, the 'G.O.M.' of West Suffolk. Owing to serious illness near the church, the tower bells were silent, but a varied programme was accomplished on the handbells, including Grandsire Doubles and Triples, Bob Major, Double Norwich, Superlative and Stedman Caters.

Mr. W. R. J. Poulson, deputy conductor, in making the presentation on behalf of the Lavenham Society, asked Mr. Symonds to accept their sincere wishes that he might be spared many more years as their leader, and Mr. Symonds suitably responded. The present—a silver bell pendant—takes the form of a badge of office, and is inscribed: 'Instructor of the Lavenham Society of Bellringers,' and on the reverse side: 'Presented to Arthur Symonds on his 72nd birthday by the L.S.B.R., January 23rd, 1930.'

Much could be written on what Mr. Symonds has done in 'spade work' in and around Lavenham. Suffice it to say that upwards of 70 ringers have passed under his guidance, and three other pupils are now under his tuition.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A very successful meeting of the St. Albans District was held at Luton, on January 22nd, about 25 ringers attending. The methods practised were Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, Superlative, Cambridge, Bristol and London Surprise Major.

It was decided that the next meeting should be held at St. Albans at the two six-bell towers of St. Michael's and St. Stephen's.

The thanks of the ringers were accorded to the Vicar for allowing the meeting to be held, and to the local band for their help in making the meeting a success.

BELL BALLADS.

An elegantly got up brochure has been printed containing the bell ballads by 'Cascable' (Major F. A. Yorke). Ringers will have read some of the verse by this author in 'The Ringing World' from time to time, and the ballads are now brought together in a charmingly got up booklet, dedicated to the Exercise in general and the College Youths in particular. 'Bell Ballads' can be obtained post free for 2s. from the printers, Messrs. William Barlow and Sons, Park Road, West Hartlepool.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The bells of St. Botolph's Church, Bishopsgate, now temporarily silent, were opened on February 7th, 1783, when three peals were rung by three different bands—two of Oxford Treble Bob by the College Youths, with a peal of Grandsire Triples sandwiched in between by the Cumberlands.

The first peal of Forward Major was rung on February 8th, 1889, at Deritend, composed and conducted by John Carter.

Eighty years ago, next Sunday, the St. James' Society rang a peal of Superlative Surprise at Bethnal Green—the first Surprise peal in the Metropolis.

Next Tuesday is the 120th anniversary of the collapse of the spire of St. Nicholas' Church, Liverpool, which fell with disastrous results.

A peal of 14,016 Kent Treble Bob Major was rung in 7 hrs. 26 mins. at Oldham on February 12th, 1821.

Mr. Ferris J. Shepherd, of Hershams, Surrey, who has had to forego ringing for some long time, under medical orders, hopes that he may eventually be allowed by the doctor to resume and to meet his old friends again in the belfry.

CHANGE RINGING BROADCASTS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I have sometimes wondered whether in the broadcasting of change ringing the best use is made of a great opportunity. Apart from the immediate purpose with which such ringing is associated, it might be also a means of rousing a greater interest in campanology, or, if need be, instilling a kindlier feeling towards it on the part of those who are not ringers themselves, or of those who have not got beyond round ringing. The question has recently been forced upon me by the remarks of a friend who is not a ringer but who does not dislike bells.

Is it wise to broadcast twelve-bell ringing? Maximus or Cinques may appeal to a ringer, but I cannot help thinking that anything above Triples or Major is rather beyond the general public. They could comprehend an octave, provided the leads were kept well open, but the higher numbers are too much for them. Would it not be better if broadcasts were limited to Major or (perhaps better still) to Triples? This, I may add, is not written in criticism of the excellent ringing of Cinques which we hear on the wireless from time to time. My point is that twelve-bell ringing will never appeal to the public, or help to any appreciation of campanology, to the extent that Major or even Doubles will.

Some time ago the Rev. L. Edwards gave a talk on bell ringing which was, so we were told, greatly appreciated. In his illustrations he used, if I remember rightly, Triples or Minor methods. That was wisdom. I venture to think that if he had used the higher numbers the good results of his talk would have been nullified. An octave of bells can be grasped. Any higher number is, at any rate for non-ringers, too big a proposition.—Yours faithfully,

E. H. WHITFORD.

Bristol.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. CIRENCESTER BRANCH AND CENTRAL COUNCIL AFFILIATION.

The annual meeting of the Cirencester Branch was held at Cirencester on Saturday, January 25th, the following towers being represented: Cirencester, Fairford, Lechlade, Tetbury and South Cerney. Visitors were present from Swindon and Burford. Watermoor bells were rung during the afternoon to Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major. Tea at Messrs. Viners' Restaurant was followed by the business meeting, the Vicar (Rev. Canon Westmacott) taking the chair.

The treasurer's report was considered satisfactory and adopted. One honorary and 12 new performing members were elected.

Cole St. Aldwyn was chosen for the next meeting.

Arising from the circular letter sent out by the executive committee of the association, with regard to re-affiliation with the Central Council, and on the question of providing in the association's rules for a quorum at the annual general meeting, the following resolutions were unanimously agreed to:—

'That this branch, while having no objection to the suggested alterations of the Central Council rules, is of the opinion that re-affiliation with the Central Council is desirable, without any proviso whatever.'

'That this branch is in favour of 8 per cent. of the performing members forming a quorum at the annual general meeting or any specially called general meeting, but suggest that the quorum should not apply to the routine business, viz.: Election of officials, committees, place of next meeting, etc., at the annual general meeting, but should apply to alterations of rules or similar important changes.'

The following branch officers were elected for 1930: Chairman, Mr. F. Edwards; secretary, F. J. Lewis; member on Management Committee, Mr. J. Hope.

A vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for granting permission to hold the meeting and for taking the service.

The service was held at the Parish Church. The organist, Mr. A. H. Gibbons, very kindly accompanied the singing. The Parish Church bells were then open, and a good practice was had in Grandsire Caters and Cinques and Stedman Caters.

STROUD BRANCH APPROVES.

The Stroud Branch, at a meeting held at Painswick on Saturday week, gave unanimous approval to the recommendation of the Executive Committee with regard to representation on the Central Council, after the Master (Rev. E. S. Saleby) had given a full explanation.

On the question of a rule to fix a quorum for the annual general meeting, no proposal was made, and it was felt that a majority vote at the meeting was sufficient.

Twenty-nine members attended the meeting, and ringing in various methods took place from 3 to 5 p.m., when service was conducted by the Vicar, Rev. A. M. Coode.

After tea at the Golden Heart, the Vicar presided at the business meeting, at which the branch officers were re-elected, and thanked for their services.

VIEWS OF THE FOREST BRANCH.

At the annual meeting of the Forest Branch, held at Lydney, consideration of the Executive Committee's recommendation as to re-affiliation with the Central Council resulted in a resolution being passed, expressing appreciation of the effort made with this end in view, but suggesting that the last sentence should read: 'They, the Executive, recommend that the association expresses its willingness to be re-affiliated, hoping that the Central Council may see its way to placing the suggested alterations upon their agenda at the next meeting.'

On the question of fixing a quorum for annual meetings, the opinion was expressed that such a decision would have a tendency to retard progress.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The meeting of the Central Council in London at Whitsun is the first of a new Council, and the period for which the officers and members of the Standing and other committees are elected will expire. Nominations, signed by two members, for the offices of president and hon. secretary and treasurer must be in the hands of the hon. secretary before May 1st next. The present holders are eligible for re-election.

CROFTS MEMORIAL DINNER.

This annual event will take place at Nottingham on Saturday week, and arrangements have been made for a tour of inspection of Nottingham's new Council House on Saturday, February 15th. Will intending visitors who wish to take advantage of this privilege advise Mr. F. Blood by Thursday, February 13th? The party will meet at front entrance at 4.30 p.m. sharp. A notice with regard to the dinner appears in another column.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

ENCOURAGING SIGNS IN NORTH AND EAST DISTRICT.

Although dismal weather prevailed, it was not bad enough to damp the ardour of members of the above association, some seventy of whom attended the annual meeting of the North and East District at Southgate on Saturday last. The meeting was, however, held under a cloud, and it was with deep regret that members heard of the serious illness of their beloved president (Mr. F. A. Milne). Resolutions of sympathy with Mr. Milne and his relatives were passed, which the hon. secretary promised to send on to them.

No time was wasted during the afternoon, and much use was made of the bells between three and five o'clock, when the service was held. At this the Vicar (Rev. C. F. Poploe) officiated, and gave members a very stirring sermon on the lessons to be obtained from the story of the conversion of St. Paul.

After service, tea was served at the Cherry Tree, and this was followed by the business meeting. After reference had been made to the illness of the president, as stated above, routine business was disposed of. The balance sheet, showing a credit on the year's working of £2 9s. 11d., and assets to the value of £99 1s. 2d., was adopted.

Twenty-nine new members were elected, including nine of the St. James', Clerkenwell, band, and a similar number of St. Ann's, Stamford Hill. It was pointed out that the ringers at Clerkenwell are being looked after by a prominent member of the association, and are making good progress.

The election of officers was then proceeded with. The Hon. Secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles) stated that he had been notified by the Master, Mr. N. A. Tomlinson, of his inability to attend most of the meetings, and he therefore regretfully handed in his resignation. Mr. Kilby proposed, and Mr. Lucas seconded, that Mr. A. W. Coles be elected District Master for the ensuing year. This was strongly supported by Mr. G. R. Goodship, and carried with great enthusiasm. Mr. Coles promised members he would do his best for the association.

Mr. F. A. Milne and Mr. C. T. Coles were re-elected hon. treasurer and hon. secretary respectively, whilst Mr. G. R. Goodship was elected assistant hon. secretary, promising his loyal support to the secretary in anything he was asked to do.

Messrs. G. B. Lucas, R. E. Geare and W. H. Oram were re-elected as representatives on the Central Committee, and Messrs. J. E. Miller and W. Pickworth were chosen as auditors.

The Chairman (Mr. Pickworth) proposed a sincere vote of thanks to Mr. Tomlinson, who had served them so well as District Master, in spite of increasingly heavy duties, during the past five years. This was seconded by the hon. secretary, who also congratulated Mr. Tomlinson on his recent marriage, and carried unanimously. Mr. Tomlinson briefly replied, and stated he regretted having to give up his work, but his interest in the society remained.

It was resolved to hold the next meeting at Hornsey on May 22nd, whilst St. Giles-in-the-Fields was chosen for the next annual meeting. Mr. C. H. Martin proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar (Rev. C. F. Poploe) for his very fine address and for the use of the bells, and to the organist (Mr. Conisbee).—This was carried with acclamation.

The Hon. Secretary expressed the thanks of the members to the Southgate ringers for their kindness in assisting financially towards the cost of the tea, which was much appreciated by all present.—This was seconded by Mr. W. Pye and carried. After Mr. Pickworth had briefly acknowledged the thanks of the members, the meeting terminated.

Whilst a few ringers stayed behind to ring touches on handbells, most of the company returned to the tower to support the new Ringing Master, who saw to it that all who wished to ring did so, whether it was rounds or Cambridge Royal. It was gratifying to note the several young enthusiasts who took full advantage of a good opportunity of some ten-bell practice. This was one of the most hopeful signs in a hopeful meeting, which gives great encouragement to officers of the association.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

SOUTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

A successful meeting was held at Broomfield on Saturday, when thirty-eight members, including five ladies, were present from Braintree, Chelmsford, Galleywood, Great Baddow, Boreham, Writtle, Fryerning, and the local band.

Ringings commenced at 2.30. A service was held in the church conducted by Rev. F. A. Roughton (Vicar of Galleywood). The lesson was read by Mr. C. H. Howard (Master of the association), and the address given by the Rev. G. A. Bunbury (Vicar of Broomfield). This was followed by tea in the Parish Hall, Rev. G. A. Bunbury presiding, supported by Rev. F. A. Roughton and Mr. C. H. Howard. Mr. G. Green (District Master) presided over the business meeting, when ten new members were elected, and Springfield was chosen for a by-meeting in March.

Mr. C. H. Howard proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to the organist and all those who helped with the tea.

Ringings continued during the evening, the methods including New London, Cambridge, Treble Bob and Grandsire.

RESTORATION OF GOOLE BELLS. HOW THE YORKSHIRE TOWN RESPONDED TO THE APPEAL.

The bells at Goole Parish Church, Yorks, after being renovated and rehung, were, with the clock, which has been rebuilt and Westminster chimes added, rededicated at an impressive service on Thursday evening, January 23rd. Every sphere of life in the town was represented in the large congregation of nearly a thousand people, and there was further proof that the restoration of the bells has been regarded as an affair affecting the whole town. The dedication was performed by the Vicar, the Rev. H. E. Wall, M.A., the new chimes of the clock were set in motion by Sir John Eaglesome, K.C.M.G., head of the Aire and Calder Navigation, and a sermon was preached by the Rev. Canon E. Arthur Berry, M.A., Vicar of Drypool, Hull.

The processional hymn was 'Great God, to Thee our hearts we raise.' Psalm c. followed, and Canon Berry then gave his address. Preaching from the text, 'The Lord reigneth: let the multitudes of the isles be glad thereof' (Psalm xcvi.), he said the psalmist gave a great challenge and call to everything animate and inanimate to take part in thanksgiving. He prayed that those bells would send out a new message over the Humber and out to sea to welcome men on their return to safety, or bid farewell as they went forth. Their call would go over the waters of the canals into the great West Riding towns.

The hymn, 'Ring forth, holy bells,' was then sung, and the Vicar pronounced the dedicatory prayer. A cord attached to the pendulum of the clock and fastened with white and red silk ribbons, the colours of the church, hung down through the belfry floor to the nave. Sir John pulled on the cord at two minutes to eight o'clock, and immediately the sweet tones of the chimes came floating into the hushed church, followed by the strokes of the hour. The hymns, 'The sacred bells of England' and 'The church bells ringing from the height,' concluded the service.

The National Schools were crowded after the service, when the Vicar, who presided, said they could not allow Sir John to go away without having expressed their thanks to him for helping them and identifying himself with the work of the church. The service had been a moment of great history, rejoicing and gratification for the Parish Church. Those who had taken part would not forget it. They were also extremely grateful to Canon Berry for his fine address.

Sir John spoke of the great interest the Aire and Calder Navigation had in the Parish Church. He was extremely gratified at the evidence that evening of the wonderful hold the Church of England had in Goole. They could not stand still, but must go ahead or go back. That could not be better illustrated than by the bells, and the manner in which they had got the best.

When Goole was asked to subscribe for the bells it promptly got together £400. At a specially convened town's meeting it was decided to make an appeal to the town generally for £300. There was a house to house collection by envelopes, and an appeal made through the local press, and in a remarkably short space of time it was not only met but the fund was over-subscribed to the amount of £100, the actual result of the appeal being £400 5s. 4d.

The restoration and retuning of the bells was entrusted to Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, who carried out the work to the satisfaction of the clergy, ringers and all concerned, the tone and 'go' of the bells now being all that was desired. The bells are not a very old ring. The tenor (16 cwt. 2 qr.), in F sharp, is by Taylors, 1869, the other seven bells by Taylors, 1889. It was decided to lower the tone of the bells by half a note, and this has effected a great improvement to the music of the bells. The efforts of the bell-hangers, both in taking out and putting back the bells to the time specified, ready for ringing for the service on Christmas morning, was greatly appreciated in Goole. The men worked from early morning to late at night in order to keep the promise made. The restoration of the clock and installation of Westminster chimes was carried out by Messrs. Potts and Sons, Ltd., Leeds, and their work has not only given every satisfaction, but it is a most useful and valuable addition to the church and town in general. M. T.

YOUNG LADY RINGER'S DEATH.

We regret to announce the loss to St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, and the band at St. Margaret's, Great Barr, of Miss Blanche Pollington, who passed away after a short illness on January 19th.

Miss Pollington was a keen young ringer, and attended very regularly at both service ringing and practice. She will be sadly missed by all who knew her.

She was laid to rest in the parish churchyard on Thursday, January 23rd, four of the local ringers being the bearers.

The heartfelt sympathy of all is accorded to the parents and members of the family, and to Mr. J. R. Terry, the deceased's fiancé, who is also a member of the band.

As a last tribute, 720 Bob Minor with bells half-muffled was rung on Sunday, January 28th: G. Merriman 1, Miss E. M. Ludlow 2, R. C. Ingram (conductor) 3, E. Terry 4, J. R. Terry 5, W. Terry 6.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

REPRESENTATION WANTED ON DIOCESAN ADVISORY BOARD.

The annual meeting of the Grimsby District was held at St. James', Grimsby, on Saturday, Jan. 25th, when members attended from Bigby, Elsham, Scunthorpe, Burton-on-Stather, Barton-on-Humber, Goxhill, Ulceby and Waltham, with the Rev. J. Barber, Rector of Great Coates, and the local ringers of St. James' and St. Andrew's. The fine ring of eight were kept going during the afternoon, and service was conducted by the Rev. Lindars, Mr. H. Rushby presiding at the organ. Thirty-one members afterwards sat down to an excellent tea in the Church House.

At the business meeting which followed, the president, the Rev. H. T. Parry, Rector of Bigby, presided. The district officers for the year were elected as follows: President, Rev. H. T. Parry; Mr. H. T. Mingay, secretary; Mr. C. W. Taylor, general committee representative; Mr. J. Bray, Ringing Master; Mr. G. Blanchard, Deputy Ringing Master.

Representatives of towers were asked to forward the names of the members elected for the district committee.

Two new members were elected, viz., P.C. Arthur Pashley, of Grimsby, late of Handsworth, Sheffield; and W. Fisher, of Grimsby. Places and dates of meetings in the district were chosen as follows: Thornton Curtis, May 10th; Mablethorpe (Whit Monday), June 9th; Elsham, June 21st; Bigby, July 5th; Claxby (Thursday afternoon), July 17th; Winterton, August 16th; Barrow-on-Humber, September 6th; Scunthorpe, October 18th. Owing to the bad going of Goxhill bells after their rebanging, a resolution was passed, which is to be sent to the annual Guild meeting, that the Guild ask for representation by a competent ringer on the advisory committee, as suggested by the Central Council.

A vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. W. H. Heyhoe to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to the Rev. Lindars for conducting the service, to the caterers for providing the tea, to Mr. Rushby for playing the organ, and to the chairman for presiding.

Members then adjourned to the tower for further ringing, which brought a very pleasant meeting to a close.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

MANCHESTER BRANCH AND ITS FUTURE MEETINGS.

A well-attended meeting of the Manchester Branch was held at the Cathedral on Jan. 18th. Ringing commenced at five o'clock, and continued till 7.10, when the business meeting was held. Canon Elsee, president of the association, was in the chair.

A discussion took place on the best way to create interest in monthly meetings, and after a lengthy discussion, in which various opinions were expressed, it was proposed by Mr. W. W. Wolstencroft, seconded by Mr. J. Shaw, that the following meetings be arranged for the branch: St. John's, Miles Platting, February 15th, tower to be open at 6 p.m.; Ringing Master, Mr. F. Page; March 15th, Christ Church, West Didsbury, tower open 6 p.m.; Ringing Master, Mr. B. Davies; quarterly meeting April 12th, or the first Saturday in May, whichever is most convenient, to be held at Worsley, tower open three o'clock, to be followed by a short service, tea at a reasonable charge, and the business meeting to be held after. It is hoped that members will turn up at these meetings and support the officials in trying to arouse greater interest in the branch.

Votes of thanks to church officials and the local ringers were passed, and further ringing took place in various methods.

FYLDE BRANCH.

A meeting of the Fylde Branch was held at Lytham Parish Church on Saturday, when sixteen members attended, seven of them being from St. John's, Blackpool. The bells were raised in peal shortly after 3 p.m., and a touch of Grandsire Triples brought round with several new members taking part. Courses of Bob Major and Kent Treble Bob Major followed with more new members standing in and trying their hand for the first time on eight bells, at which they acquitted themselves very creditably. A few of the local men tried Double Norwich, a course being brought round with an effort. Stedman Triples and Little Bob concluded the programme of the afternoon's proceedings. Cambridge Surprise Major was left in abeyance owing to one of the 'capables' by mistake going to St. Annes-on-Sea Parish Church instead of Lytham.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Bispham.

A VISIT TO LEIGH COURT.

On Saturday, January 18th, a pleasant afternoon's ringing took place at the Parish Church of Leigh Court (Worces), during which 720 of Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung: J. Woodyatt 1, T. W. Lewis 2, J. Worman 3, D. R. Morris 4, C. Tansill 5, W. Lewis (conductor) 6. Other touches, which included Oxford Bob, College Single, Canterbury Pleasure, Plain Bob and Grandsire Doubles, were also brought round. The band, who included ringers from Bredwardine, Bredonbury, Whitbourne and Bromyard, wish to thank Messrs. J. Worman, T. and J. Weaver for their hospitality afterwards. Touches on handbells were also rung by T. W. Lewis, C. Tansill and D. Morris.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.FARNHAM DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Farnham District was held at Farnham on Saturday, January 25th, when about 60 members and friends attended from Aldershot, Ash, Bagshot, Chertsey, Farnham, Guildford (Cathedral and St. Nicolas'), Seale, Woking and Yorktown.

The Guild's service was conducted by the Rector of Farnham (Canon E. M. Girling), and tea, served in the Church House, was followed by the business meeting, at which Canon Girling took the chair, supported by the District Ringing Master (Mr. R. Hasted), Admiral T. P. Walker, D.S.O. (Guild treasurer), Mr. A. H. Pullen, Major H. M. Gale, and Mr. C. Hazelden.

The hon. secretary's report referred to the successful district meetings held during the year, at which the average attendance had been 37. No organised combined practices had been held, but frequent visits had been exchanged between neighbouring towers on regular practice nights. It was regretted that visits could not be made more often to towers where change ringing was not regularly practised. The number of ringing members in the district was 109, against 104 in 1928, and of hon. members 15, against 16. One tower (Bentley) was still unaffiliated.

The report was adopted and the officers were re-elected, with the addition of Mr. E. J. Bragg as hon. auditor. The balance sheet was presented, and showed a very satisfactory balance in hand of £8 15s. 7d. It was agreed to hold district meetings at Ash, Frensham, Yorktown, Bentley and Farnborough, suitable dates to be fixed by the secretary.

Eleven new members were elected, viz., 6 ringing and 5 honorary.

It was decided to hold the next annual general meeting at Farnham on January 24th, 1931.

A vote of thanks was accorded the Rector and all who had helped to make the meeting so successful, on the proposition of Admiral T. P. Walker, seconded by Major Gale.

The Rector, in reply, said that one of their members, Mr. Clapshaw, would celebrate his 85th birthday on Sunday, and for 64 of the 85 years he had been a ringer at Farnham Parish Church. The members enthusiastically congratulated Mr. Clapshaw.

Major Gale proposed a vote of thanks to the officers of the district for their work during the past year.

The belfry was then revisited, and the bells were kept going until 9 p.m., methods rung ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Double Norwich.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.SOUTHAMPTON DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Southampton District was held at Southampton on Saturday, January 18th. St. Mary's and St. Michael's bells were made good use of during the afternoon and evening, and a service was held in St. Mary's Church, conducted by the Rector (Rev. R. B. Jolly), who also gave an excellent address.

Tea and business meeting took place in the Chantry Hall, the Rector being in the chair, supported by the Rev. R. A. R. Spread (Vicar of St. Michael's), Rev. Evan Jones (Vicar of Hedge End), hon. treasurer, Rev. G. T. Tritton (Rector of Dibden), district chairman, Mr. G. Williams, vice-president, and Mr. F. W. Rogers, district secretary, Portsmouth. The secretary presented the balance sheet, which showed receipts £9 7s. 11d., expenditure £4 0s. 7d., balance paid to treasurer £5, leaving in hand 7s. 4d.

The officers were re-elected en bloc, viz.: Chairman, Rev. G. T. Tritton; Ringing Master, Mr. G. Williams; secretary, W. T. Tucker; auditor, Mr. F. W. Summerfield; representative on Central Committee, Mr. J. W. Faithfull.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Southampton on Saturday, January 17th, 1931, and quarterly meetings at Romsey in April, Sherfield English in July, and Bishopstoke in October, on the first Saturday of the month in each case.

The Rev. R. B. Jolly and the Rev. Evan Jones were elected hon. members, and Upham band, ten in number, were elected members of the Guild.

Apologies for absence were received from Mr. G. Pullinger, general secretary, the Rev. W. Henty Summers, Vicar of Netley, the district auditor, and Mr. J. W. Faithfull.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Rector of St. Mary's and the Vicar of St. Michael's for the use of the bells, and to Mr. D. C. Williams, F.R.C.O., for presiding at the organ.

The towers represented were North Stoneham, Dibden, Twyford, Titchfield, Portsea, Romsey, Salisbury, King's Somborne, Ringwood, Petersfield, Fareham and St. Mary's, Southampton, and the methods rung ranged from Grandsire Triples up to and including London and Bristol Surprise Major.

FIRST 720 AT 13.

At Ash Priors, Taunton, on Sunday, January 19th, 720 Bob Minor for evensong: C. Thomas 1, Edwin Branchflower 2, Frank Branchflower 3, A. Tout 4, H. Sealy 5, B. T. Jeanes (conductor) 6. First 720 by F. Branchflower, aged 13 years. Also a short touch of Grandsire Doubles, in which George Branchflower rang the tenor, being the father of Edwin and grandfather to Frank.

THE OLDEST ACTIVE RINGER.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In the 'Belfry Gossip' column recently there appeared a paragraph about Mr. Tom Lewis, aged 85, of Eastbourne Parish Church.

As I was 87 on Monday, January 27th, and am still going strong, I feel compelled to reply to his claim.

Since commencing at Whitechapel in 1859, I can claim 150 completed peals in various methods. The first was a muffled peal for the Prince Consort in 1861, and the latest a peal of 'Kent Treble Bob' with the St. Nicholas' ringers at Liverpool in 1926.

I had the honour of ringing a peal at Christ Church, Blackfriars, in 1870, to celebrate the opening by Queen Victoria, of Blackfriars Bridge and Holborn Viaduct, and also being in the band which rang the only peal on the day of King Edward's funeral.

In addition, I have rung on every Royal occasion since 1860.

At the age of 87 I am still a member of twenty different associations, and a regular reader of 'The Ringing World.'—Yours fraternally,

J. WAGHORN, SENIOR.

3, Wortley Road, East Ham.

NEW OCTAVE AT WORCESTER.

The bells at St. John's-in-Bedwardine, having been thoroughly restored and rebung with all new fittings of the latest type, and two new bells added to make an octave by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, will be reopened and the new bells dedicated at 7.30 p.m. on Thursday, February 13th. General ringing will take place after the service.

On Saturday, February 15th, the Western Branch of the Worcestershire and Districts Association will hold a quarterly meeting here, at which all ringing friends who are interested in the augmented bells will be welcome. Tea will be provided, and all intending visitors will appreciate the wisdom of sending in their names not later than February 12th.

One of the new bells has been given, and Mr. W. Page, who has taken up ringing again after a few years' absence from the Exercise, collected the money to provide the other. The tenor is about 16 cwt.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.DEVIZES BRANCH AT BRADFORD-ON-AVON.

The monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at the Parish Church of Holy Trinity, Bradford-on-Avon, on Saturday, Christ Church bells being also available during the afternoon. The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Canon Clarke, B.D.), the lesson being read by the chairman of the branch (Mr. C. D. Heginbotham). Tea followed in the Church House, to which 34 sat down.

A short business meeting followed. Mr. C. D. Heginbotham presided, and welcomed the visitors. He also referred to the enjoyable time he had spent at the Bristol United Guilds' dinner. Several questions of interest were discussed, which it was decided to place before the Guild Committee, to be brought forward at the annual meeting of the Guild.

Visitors present included Miss N. G. Williams (Weston, Bath), Mr. W. J. Prescott (Bath), Messrs. W. H. Crocker and H. Ellis (Weston, Bath), Mr. C. Hussey (secretary of the Marlborough Branch), Mr. L. Wilson (secretary of the Caine Branch), and Messrs. E. J. Woodroffe and N. Alnutt (Swindon). Ringers, in addition to those mentioned, were present from Aldbourne, Bradford-on-Avon (Holy Trinity and Christ Church), Bratton, Devizes, St. John's and St. Mary's, St. James', Southbroom, Rowde Holt, Melksham, Trowbridge, Westbury and Warmistone.

Mr. H. Ellis was elected a life member, Mr. H. Ewence an untached member, and fourteen new ringing members were elected.

Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob were rung during the afternoon and evening.

Market Lavington was proposed for the March meeting, and Melksham for the quarterly meeting in April, if the bells are available.

Among the interesting things in the ringing chamber at Holy Trinity Church is the old peal board (which is mentioned by the Rev. W. C. Lukis in his book on 'Church Bells'), which is inscribed as follows: 'On Thursday, the 12th day of September, 1799, was rung in this tower by the celebrated Youths of this Town, that noble Peal of Holt's Grandsire Triples, with two singles, consisting of 5,040 changes, completed in 3 hours and 25 minutes by Mr. David Taylor, who conducted the Peal, 1st, James Batchelor 2nd (or Batchelor), Uriah Jelly 3rd, Robert Collier 4th, John Martin 5th, John Milson 6th, William Gibbs 7th, John Davis and John Mulgrove 8th. Mr. John Renison and Mr. John Saunders, Churchwardens. Clement, Earl Stoke, Fecit.'

Another board records a peal rung in May, 1890, conducted by the late Mr. J. W. Washbrook, on the completion of the work of re-hanging the bells. Another board records a peal rung in 1900 in commemoration of the centenary of the first peal, in which the respected Ringing Master of the branch, Mr. S. Hillier, took part. There are also other peal boards relating to post-war performances.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION. PROPOSED MEMORIAL TO THE LATE PRESIDENT.

The third quarterly meeting of the Midland Counties Association was held on Saturday week at Bolsover, and, as might be expected, that centre of good ringing, possessing a fine ring of eight bells, attracted quite a host of ringers, who came from Burton, Chesterfield, Cotgrave, Derby, Leicester, Nottingham, Sheffield and elsewhere. Good use was made of the bells, and various methods meted out, some being successful and others not!

The committee met in the Church Hall, and in the unavoidable absence of the vice-president (Mr. J. Griffin), owing to the illness of his wife, the Rev. W. Peter Wright, of Eyam, presided. Various routine work was carried out, and suggestions made on several matters to be put before the general meeting which followed tea. In the interim, the Vicar of Bolsover, the Rev. Canon J. E. Paget, dedicated a large and beautifully executed peal tablet, which suitably records the first peals on these bells of Cambridge, New Cambridge, Bristol, London, Superlative, Pudsey, Peterborough, Yorkshire and Norfolk Surprise.

Subsequently, tea was served in the Church Hall, and over 50 members and friends sat down. The meeting followed immediately, and Mr. W. E. White first stated how glad all were to have the Vicar of Bolsover with them, to which Canon Paget suitably replied, giving the members a hearty welcome to Bolsover, and expressing delight at such a goodly number accepting the invitation.

The Rev. W. Peter Wright was then voted to the chair in the absence of Mr. J. Griffin. Arising out of the minutes was the question of the suggested memorial to the late president, Alderman R. B. Chambers, B.A., J.P. The Chairman stated that in committee there had been a long discussion on the matter, and the first proposal to augment the ring of bells at Peatling Magna, Leicester, where the late president had certain property, was felt to be too big an undertaking. Not only would this mean providing a bell or bells, but reconstruction of frames, etc. Another suggestion put forward was the erection of a suitable tablet in a church, and that Mrs. Chambers be asked to decide which she would wish, either St. Peter's, Derby, where Alderman Chambers was churchwarden for over 20 years, or Littleover, where he attended in the latter years of his life, and to which it is understood, he left a certain sum of money for a tower and bells when that project was developed.

The scheme for a tablet receiving the support of all present, it was decided that a committee, consisting of the eight local secretaries and the general hon. secretary, with the hon. treasurer, be appointed to carry out the proposal.

The committee's suggestions for the printing of the annual report, and of the charge of sixpence per copy, was agreed to, and the Chairman urged all members to purchase a copy, as they were receiving three times the value of purchase price. It was a great pity that a surplus of such valuable history was left over, making an extra loss to the association.

New members elected since the last meeting were duly confirmed, viz., 26 ringing, 4 hon., 1 life. It was pleasing to note among the former eight from the new Peak District—the Hathersage ringers.

Two auditors, Messrs. W. E. White and A. H. Ward, were duly elected to audit the 1929 accounts.

The Hon. Secretary pointed out that several nominations for general officers and also representatives for the Central Council had been received, but any others put forward must be in his hands one month prior to the annual meeting on Easter Monday, no one to be nominated unless willing to stand for the office.

Other proposals, for the addition to the association's title and certain rule amendments, were read, but as these matters are to be dealt with at the annual meeting, members were asked to discuss them locally prior to that meeting.

Hearty votes of thanks to the Vicar for use of bells, the local committee for arrangements and catering, closed a very successful meeting. Further ringing, both on hand and tower bells, terminated a very happy afternoon's gathering.

THE 18 1/2 TON RINGING BELL,

RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A

COMING EVENTS

Although it is still four months ahead, signs are not wanting that the Central Council meeting is beginning to occupy attention and, as there are in front of us, between now and Whitsun, many important county and diocesan association meetings it is well that ringers should again be thinking seriously of some of the matters affecting the Exercise which are likely to come up for discussion. Exactly what the agenda will consist of in the way of debatable subjects, it is too early to surmise, but the London meeting, being the triennial gathering at which a considerable amount of routine business has to be disposed of, may possibly provide a long and important programme. A variety of subjects which it would be open to the Council to deal with have been broached during the past year, and if only half of them get on the agenda the members will be in for a long sitting.

The question of what should constitute a six-bell peal, which has occupied attention at the last two meetings of the Council, is not unlikely to be again a bone of contention. The subject, since it was postponed from the Chelmsford meeting last Whitsun, has been simmering below the surface as it were, and elsewhere in our issue to-day a suggestion for a new definition of six and five bell peals comes from the Rev. H. Law James. It is true he does not say that he proposes to put it on the agenda for discussion in London, but it is one of the matters which is not unlikely to appear, and ringers, therefore, should make themselves thoroughly acquainted with what is now put forward.

There are two points in Mr. James' suggestions which deserve special attention. One is that a peal of Minor or Doubles need only consist of 5,000 changes, instead of 5,040, as has hitherto been the practice, thus putting them, he says, on the same basis as peals of Major, Caters, etc., and leaving only Triples at the compulsory length of 5,040. Ringers may or may not be prepared to accept this alteration in principle, but we hardly think it is likely to commend itself generally in practice, as, except in those cases where a band want to ring 'something different,' the seven complete 720's or the 42 six-scores seems so much more a commonsense performance for an ordinary peal length.

Be that as it may, however, the other point in Mr. James' suggestion to which attention will have to be directed is that upon which there is already strongly divided opinion, viz., whether within the limits of each 720 or 120 a repetition of changes is to be permitted. Mr. James' suggestion would open the way to peals in which the repetitions, which must necessarily take place where five thousands are to be rung on five or six bells, could occur at any point, so long as any change is not rung more than seven times in a five thousand of Minor or 42 times in a five thousand of Doubles. It raises afresh the controversy as to whether the 720's or 120's comprised in the peal are to be true in themselves, or not.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Maidstone District was recently held at St. Michael's, Maidstone. Ringing, in the afternoon, was followed by a short service, conducted by the Vicar (Rev. W. D. Bowen), who gave an interesting address. Mr. W. E. Pitman presided at the organ. Tea, kindly provided by Mr. W. J. Day, captain of the local ringers, was afterwards served in the Parish Room, and was much appreciated, nearly 40 members and friends being present.

The usual business meeting followed, the Vicar presiding. Six new members were elected, including the Rev. L. W. Brown (Rector of Ightham), and Hollingbourne tower was brought into union with the association.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Birling. A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, the service and address, also to Mr. Day for his kind hospitality. Thanks were also extended to Mr. Pitman and the choir boys, who contributed so much to the success of the service. Ringing was again resumed both at St. Michael's and All Saints' Churches.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT FEERING.

The Northern Division of the Essex Association opened their first meeting of the year with a record gathering at Feering on Saturday, upwards of 70 members representing 24 parishes being present. During the afternoon and evening methods ranging from Bob Minor to Bristol and London Surprise Major were rung on the bells. A service was held at which Rev. Dalton, Prebendary of Feering, gave an inspiring address on the inscription on some of the bells at Feering and their meaning. Mr. C. H. Howard, Master, Essex Association, read the lesson.

The company afterwards adjourned to the Bell Inn for tea. Mr. Howard was in the chair, supported by the Rev. Dalton, the District Master, and the district secretary.

At the business meeting which followed, Mr. Howard proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. Dalton, to the organist and blower for their services. The speaker continued that he was pleased to see such a large number of ringers at Feering, and he expressed the opinion that this was chiefly due to the untiring energy of Mr. W. Keeble, who had done, and was still doing, so much for the association, and he (the speaker) would certainly have cancelled any other engagement to have been at Feering that day. He also remarked on the fact that of the 62 who sat down to tea 53 had given notice of their intention of doing so. This was certainly a record.

The Chairman then remarked that it was Mr. W. Nevard's 74th birthday. He was pleased to see him amongst them, and wished him 'many happy returns of the day.'—This was loudly applauded.

The Rev. Dalton, in replying to the vote of thanks, said it was a very great pleasure to him to welcome the ringers to Feering, as he took a great interest in the bells and was always pleased to hear them rung. He also wished to endorse the chairman's remarks respecting Mr. Keeble, and was pleased to think he resided with them at Feering.

Mr. Nevard also suitably replied, and said he hoped he should be with them for a few more years yet.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Earls Colne on April 26th.

ELMDON, ESSEX.—On Tuesday, February 4th, 720 Oxford Bob Minor in 26 mins.: Robert J. Negus 1, F. Fox 2, S. Bard 3, E. Hayes 4, J. H. Negus (conductor) 5, G. Hoy 6. First 720 in the method by the local band. Rung as a compliment to the new Vicar.

ROMNEY MARSH AND DISTRICT GUILD.A PROSPEROUS YEAR.

The annual general meeting of the Romney Marsh and District Guild was held at Appledore on Saturday, January 15th. About 50 members attended, and ringing commenced at 2.30 p.m., some good touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples, Oxford and Double Norwich Major being rung. Service was conducted by the Guild president (Rev. M. N. Vischer), the lesson being read by Dr. Cock.

Tea was served at the Swan Hotel, at which the Rev. M. N. Vischer presided, supported by Dr. Cock, Mr. C. W. Player, the Guild Master (Mr. C. W. Everett), and the hon. secretary (Mr. A. Battin).

The business meeting followed, the president taking the chair.

The report and balance sheet showed that the Guild was in a flourishing condition, both financially and in numbers, there being 112 members on the books, the largest number since the foundation of the Guild.

The Rev. M. N. Vischer was again elected president. The Master (Mr. C. W. Everett) and the hon. secretary (Mr. A. Battin) were also re-elected, and the same committee were elected, with the addition of Mr. Button, Rolvenden and Mr. Bryan, Rye.

Other business included the revision of rules, the consideration of the Guild's proposed new form of divine service, and the proposed fixing of the monthly meetings for the third Saturday in each month, which was finally agreed to.

After the usual votes of thanks, harmony was the order of the evening, among those taking part being the Stone Glee Singers, Messrs. Pattinson, Balcombe, Freeman-Mathews, and W. Clifford, the latter keep the company very highly amused with his humorous songs and ditties. The Tenterden band also rang some courses on the handbells.

At 9.50 the whole party joined hands in 'Auld Lang Syne,' and the National Anthem then brought to a close the most successful annual meeting the Guild has held in its 28 years' existence.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. John Smith, a well-known member of the Kidderminster band, was knocked down last week by a motor-car and badly bruised and shaken.

The bells at Windsor Parish Church are to be restored by the Whitechapel Foundry, and it is hoped to have them reopened by Easter.

A Brighton ringer, Mr. Richard Hoather, who is about 60 years of age, has been reported as missing from his home. He disappeared after leaving work on Thursday week.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The half-muffled peal at Monken Hadley was the 150th by Mr. W. Pickworth, vice-president of the Middlesex County Association.

To-day is the anniversary of the longest length of Cinques, 13,001 Grandsire rung at Painswick in 1920, and to-morrow an attempt will be made on the same bells to regain the honour of the longest twelve-bell peal, which last August was taken to Ashton-under-Lyne, where the 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Maximus was rung.

The attempt made at Painswick towards the end of last year was not very long lived, only about two hours' ringing taking place in the effort to break the 12-bell record.

Grandsire Cinques has been a favourite method for record making since the early days of peal ringing. A hundred and ninety-nine years ago to-day the College Youths rang a peal of 7,018 at Cornhill, in which Benjamin Annable called the bobs. It was the longest peal on twelve bells up to that time.

On February 17th, 1883, '6,000 changes in 25 different methods upon six bells' was rung at Tong, Yorkshire. George Bolland was the conductor, and 240 changes of each method was rung. 'This peal,' says the record, 'was accomplished to celebrate the 72nd birthday of the veteran ringer, Mr. George Carter, who has been a ringer at Tong Church for more than 50 years. It was listened to by a goodly number of ringers from Birstal, Liversedge, Bradford, Pudsey, Guiseley, etc., who all acknowledged it to be a masterly performance.' George Carter rang the treble.

Oxford University Guild, which has lost one of its early secretaries by the death of Mr. F. A. Milne, was founded on February 20th, 1872.

A long span in the history of nineteenth-century ringing was covered by the life of George Wilson, of Sheffield. Born in 1809, he rang as his first peal 6,120 Treble Bob Royal at Sheffield on February 19th, 1833, while his last was a peal of Treble Bob Maximus at the same church on December 26th, 1876.

A peal of twelve bells was lost to London on February 17th, 1836, when the ring at Christ Church, Spitalfields, was destroyed by fire. They were replaced by a peal of eight.

A quarter of a century ago, last Tuesday, the longest peal by the Surrey Association was rung at Ashted. This was a 10,208 Bob Major, and except for Edgar Collins, of Debenham fame, who was in the peal, all the band are alive, and, except Harry Last, who is in Canada, still actively interested in ringing. The others were A. H. Winch, J. Hoyle, J. Howes (conductor), F. G. Goddard, J. H. B. Hesse and Arthur Dean. The peal was rung at 'the second time of asking,' the first attempt failing after 8,080 changes had been rung.

Last Saturday was the thirty-fourth anniversary of a peal of London Surprise Major rung at Boyne Hill, Maidenhead (the first in the county of Berks), which was conducted by Mr. John Evans. By a coincidence, four members of this band were ringing together in a peal of Stedman Triples at Hughenden, viz., John Evans, Ralph H. Biggs, Fred Biggs, and William E. Taylor.

In the peal of Bob Major rung at Pontypridd, on January 30th, the ringer of the tenor was Ernest Coombes and not Ernest Stitch, as stated.

DEATH OF MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION'S PRESIDENT.

PASSING OF MR. F. A. MILNE, M.A., J.P.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY RINGER OVER 50 YEARS AGO.

It is our mournful task to record the death, which took place at his residence at Barnet, on Wednesday week, of Mr. Frank Alexander Milne, M.A., J.P., president and hon. treasurer of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild. Born on July 5th, 1854, at Hadley, Middlesex, Mr. Milne had given up a great deal of his long life to useful public work, and his death will be as widely mourned as his service will be greatly missed.

Mr. Milne was educated at Winchester College and Keble College, Oxford, and it was while at the University that his active association with ringing began. The Oxford University Society had been in existence but a year or two, and Mr. Milne became a member. He was secretary of the society in 1876, and it was he who induced Canon G. F. Coleridge to join and take up change ringing. Their contemporaries at Oxford in those days were Messrs. C. D. P. Davies, H. A. Cockey, and Willett, all of whom afterwards rendered great services to the Exercise. Mr. Milne, in 1877, took part in the first peal rung by University men, when seven Oxford men and one Cambridge (C. A. W. Troyte) rang a peal of Grandsire Triples at Appleton: J. R. Keble (Keble) treble, F. A. Milne (Keble) 2, C. D. P. Davies (Pembroke) 3, H. W. Ellicott (Brasenose) 4, G. H. Phillott (Christ Church) 5, Rev. F. E. Robinson (Exeter) 6, C. A. W. Troyte (Trinity Hall, Camb.) 7, W. C. H. Burne (Keble) tenor. Mr. Milne also took part in the first 720 of Bob Minor rung by the Oxford University Society.

While at Oxford, Mr. Milne distinguished himself by being the first in the University to take a first-class in Jurisprudence, and later he was called to the bar and practised at Lincoln's Inn. In 1878 he was mainly instrumental in getting the four bells at Hadley Church rehung, one recast and two added, and at a special service on June 17th in that year the dedication took place and the bells were rung for the first time by H. Haley, sen., H. Haley, jun., Matt. Wood, Geo. Musket, W. Greenleaf and F. A. Milne, all members of the Ancient Society of College Youths.

EARLY MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION DAYS.

On leaving the University, Mr. Milne's interest in ringing continued, and he rang constantly at the towers on the Middlesex and Herts border. In 1887, the 'North Middlesex Association' was formed, combining the three towers of Finchley, Hendon and Edgware. Mr. Milne became interested in this society, and in 1889 its scope was widened and it became 'The Middlesex Association,' with the towers of Barnet, Edgware, Finchley, Hadley, Hendon and Tottenham included. Mr. Milne was the first hon. secretary, an office which afterwards was undertaken by the late Mr. A. T. King, and Mr. Milne became treasurer. In the year 1897 came the amalgamation with the South and West Middlesex Guild under the title of 'The Middlesex County Association.' Mr. Milne became hon. treasurer, which post he held until his death. The added title of 'London Diocesan Guild' was taken in 1903.

In 1924 Mr. Milne was elected president, which office he thus occupied for almost six years. His many duties would not allow him much time for peal ringing, but he had rung in about 30 for the Middlesex Association—Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Plain Bob and Treble Bob Major. Although his peal ringing was limited, he was never happier than when among the members at their meetings, the last occasion on which he thus met them being at Northaw on September 14th, 1929.

A few years ago Mr. Milne gave two new bells to Monken Hadley Parish Church, one in memory of his father and mother, and the other in memory of his son, who was a captain and adjutant of the Hertfordshire Regiment and was killed in action at St. Julien in 1917. This was a great blow to him, and the death of Mrs. Milne in November, 1927, deepened his sorrow.

Mr. Milne had been a member of the Central Council since 1924, and was a member of the Legal Committee, whose report was presented by him at the last meeting at Chelmsford, and which is undoubtedly a most valuable treatise on the law relating to church bells and ringers.

PUBLIC ACTIVITIES.

Few men gave up so much time and energy to voluntary public work as Mr. Milne, who devoted himself with unremitting zeal particularly to education and Church affairs. He held many important appointments on education authorities, he was a member of St. Albans Diocesan Conference, the Diocesan Board of Finance, the Diocesan Education Committee, the Chipping Barnet Parochial Church Council, of which he was vice-chairman for several years; a member of the Barnet Ruri-decanal Conference; a diocesan lay reader, and a sidesman of Chipping Barnet Parish Church.

He was appointed a justice of the peace for Hertfordshire in 1918 and for Middlesex in 1925. He discharged offices in connection with a number of charitable trusts, was secretary of the Folk Lore Society for 40 years, chairman of the district Income Tax Commissioners, a keen member of the Commons and Footpaths Preservation Society, and hon. secretary for Barnet of the Waifs' and Strays' Society. How Mr. Milne was able to carry out all the multifarious (Continued in next column.)

PEALS OF MINOR AND DOUBLES.

SUGGESTED NEW DEFINITIONS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Every definition of peals on five and six bells so far given is open to serious objection. Seven different 720's is not satisfied by a different order of rows, because that statement comes into conflict with the statement that variations of, say, Holt's Ten Part are all the same peal. On the other hand, there are only five possible 720's in any Treble Bob method, and some Treble Bob methods have only one possible composition.

I suggest the following definitions after consideration of the question very carefully, since the last Council meeting:—

'A peal of Minor must consist of 5,000 changes at least, rung in one or more methods, and in order that it may be recognised as true, these changes must be equivalent to six true 720's and one true touch of 680 changes at least.

'Longer peals must be equivalent to seven or more true 720's, with or without one true touch.

'A peal of Doubles must consist of 5,000 changes at least rung in one or more methods, and in order that it may be recognised as true, these changes must be equivalent to forty-one true six-scores and one true touch of 80 changes at least.

'Longer peals must be equivalent to forty-two or more true six-scores with or without one true touch.

These definitions put peals of Minor and Doubles into the same position as peals of Major, Caters, etc.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON GUILD'S SUCCESS.

A well-attended meeting of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association's Wednesday Afternoon Guild was held at Houghton-le-Spring on Wednesday, Feb. 5th, when there was one of the best attendances yet made at these mid-week gatherings. The methods practised were Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major and Plain Bob Major. Double Norwich was also tried, and two of the learners rang their first course of Stedman Triples. Ringers were present from North and South Shields, Sunderland, Chester-le-Street and the local band, and a most enjoyable time was spent.

duties which he undertook, and to do so with such thoroughness and efficiency and attend to his legal practice, was a matter of wonderment to all who knew him. No man ever lived a more active life or was more ready to serve his fellows, and the community is infinitely poorer for his passing.

He had been ill for some time, and gave up many of his duties on account of his failing health in December last, since when he had got slowly weaker. He died from cancer of the liver, but it is comforting to know that the great pain from which he had suffered did not trouble him during the last few days, and he died peacefully.

Mr. Milne leaves one daughter, Mrs. Rowland, whose husband, the Rev. John Rowland, is Vicar of Llanfair, Montgomery, and Rural Dean of Caereinion.

THE FUNERAL.

The funeral took place at Barnet on Saturday, February 8th, the service being held in the Parish Church at noon. The church was almost filled, and among the many clergy officiating were Dr. Fuzze (Bishop of St. Albans), Rev. W. E. Moll (Rector of Barnet), Rev. Ernest Milne (Winchester), a brother of deceased, Canon G. F. Coleridge (president of the Central Council). The family mourners included the daughter (Mrs. John Rowland) and son-in-law, Rev. John Rowland, Mr. Herbert Milne (brother) and other relatives.

Among those also present were Messrs. W. Pickworth (vice-president, Middlesex Association), C. T. Coles (hon. secretary), W. H. Oram (Harrow), H. J. Eldred and R. Roffey (Barnet), G. B. Lucas (Walthamstow), A. G. Crane (Southgate), G. R. Pye (Romford), J. Wicks (Hadley), and Mrs. G. W. Fletcher (Edmonton). The service was conducted by the Rector, the prayers and collects being said by the Bishop. The committal service at the graveside was said by Rev. E. Milne (brother), and afterwards a course of Grandsire Triples on handbells was rung by G. B. Lucas, Mrs. G. W. Fletcher, G. R. Pye, and C. T. Coles.

The Bishop of London, who was a great friend of the late Mr. Milne, sent a letter of condolence to the hon. secretary of the Middlesex Association (Mr. C. T. Coles) on the death of the president, stating that the society will miss very much his valuable help and support.

Amongst the large number of floral tributes was one in the shape of a bell bearing the inscription, 'With deepest sympathy from the members of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild of Change Ringers.'

A half-muffled peal of Stedman Triples was rung at St. Mary's, Monken Hadley, in the afternoon, and is recorded in another column. Barnet tower is at present being strengthened, and the bells are out of the frame, so peal could not be rung there.

An attempt for a peal of Stedman Triples was made at Wraybury with the bells half-muffled, but unfortunately came to grief: W. H. Fussell 1, H. Wingrove 2, W. H. Hollier 3, W. Henley 4, W. Bolwell 5, A. Harding 6, W. Welling 7, F. Corke 8.

SEVEN DIFFERENT 720's.To the Editor.

Sir,—As you yourself suggest, there are different answers to the question put, according to whether it is looked at from the composer's or the practical ringer's point of view.

Presumably, the original inquiry was made in good faith in the desire to know the extent of the alterations required for the purposes of a peal. On this assumption, the reply you give is naturally the only one possible. In fact, it is so obvious that experienced conductors probably thought it hardly worth while to fill your space with the information. The analogy of Grandsire Doubles is conclusive. Everyone recognises '42 six-scores—10 different callings.' And at the same time nearly everyone is also aware that there are only two different compositions with common Grandsire Singles and Bobs.

Of course, the greater practical variety that can be introduced the better, not only as showing the competency of the conductor, but still more, because the variation makes a larger call on the knowledge of the other ringers. At the same time it is impossible to make set rules for this purpose, just as much as it would be ridiculous to lay it down that any particular band of ringers is not to ring the same composition of Grandsire Triples (say, Holt's 10 part) more than a certain number of times, desirable as this last regulation might be in theory.

Further, even to-day we do not know all there is to be known about variation and reversal, and any rule laid down would be out of date almost before it was drawn up.

I fear that your suggestion of distinction in the report of peals—excellent in theory—would be impracticable in fact. How many conductors have the necessary knowledge to discriminate? For example, call the tenor W, R, W with bobs, single half-way and end; or call S1—S2—S3—S4 repeated five times, plain lead half-way and end. There must be a large proportion of conductors who are unaware that these are variations of one another.—Yours, etc.,

E. S. POWELL.

A NUMBER OF DIFFERENT 720's.

Sir,—I quite agree with you in the definition you give of different 720's, and, like you, have been waiting to see if some of the pundits would give their views on the subject. My views are that if you call the 6th without the 5th (or L.O.I.) or the 6th without the 4th (or O.L.O.) they are different 720's. Treating all the bells in a similar way, you get a fair number of 720's, all of which, in my opinion, are different.—Yours truly, Killumars.

C. SEVERN.

THE FUNNY MAN POPS UP.

Sir,—You were quite right in assuming you would be wrong in your definition re seven different 720's.

I had seven dinners last week, each consisted of roast beef, roast potatoes and Yorkshire pudding. I know they were different, because I started and finished seven times.

May I also add, seven indifferent 720's can still be claimed as a peal.—Yours,

A FLAT.

A COUNTRY RINGER'S VIEWS.

Dear Sir,—Your leading article in this week's issue, on what should constitute 'seven different extents,' in my humble opinion, expresses the correct view. I have not rung a great number of six-bell peals, but have taken part in over 200 on 8, 10 and 12. However, I am a country ringer, and knock about a lot amongst six-bell towers, and give what help I can on Sundays and practice nights, and this is what I find.

You get an out-of-the-way village several miles off the main road, the ringers have rung Grandsire Doubles for a number of years, and have got into a rut, then some young enthusiast comes to live in the place. Possibly he is not very advanced himself; the most he has ever done is call a 720 Bob Minor (calling tenor Wrong, Right, Wrong).

Well, he succeeds in persuading the ringers to leave the old Doubles 'track' and venture on to Minor, they find considerable difficulty in getting used to the tenor being rung inside, but after a winter's practising they manage to ring a 720, and this is a great event for them. They write the particulars on some cardboard and hang it on the wall, as it is their first extent of Minor and the first ever rung on the bells.

Then comes the question, 'What about attempting a peal?' Well, if our young enthusiast has got to call seven entirely differently constructed extents and correct all trips, it is very doubtful if they will ever ring their local peal. If, however, he can transpose or vary the calling of two or three of the simpler extents, they will stand a fair chance of success. Take, for instance, what we may term the 'hardy annual' (call tenor W.R.W.); he can get several variations of this simply by calling the Single in a different place—it is all right so long as he doesn't shift the 5th and bring 5-6 up the wrong way—and then the other one, call tenor Twice In, and 4th's. He

CHINGFORD'S NEW BELLS.

At the Chingford Parish Church on Thursday, February 6th, the Bishop of Barking, before a large congregation, dedicated the peal of six new bells. They replace the three old bells, which after being tuned have been returned to the tower of the Old Church on the Mount, from where they were brought in 1844, when the church was abandoned. The new bells are equal in weight to those they replace. The whole cost of their casting and hanging, and the removal, tuning and re-hanging of the old bells has been borne by Miss L. G. Boothby Heathcote.

The new bells have a tenor of 5swt. 13lb., but they are only hung for chiming. Of the three bells that have been removed to their old home, the 2nd was cast in 1826, the 3rd in 1857, and the treble in 1835.

METROPOLITAN POLICE GUILD.INCREASING MEMBERSHIP.

The annual meeting of the Metropolitan Police Guild was held on January 29th, at the Church of St. George-the-Martyr, Southwark.

The business meeting took place in the vestry, and seventeen members attended. The Rector (Rev. Edward Neeps) was also present.

The officers were all re-elected for the ensuing year, and a committee formed.

Inspector Bottrill (Master) thanked the Rector for the facilities he had given the Guild, for practice and peal attempts during the past year.

The Rector thanked the Guild for their Sunday service ringing, and expressed his pleasure at having the Guild attached to his church. He congratulated the Guild on its membership, and said what a good thing it was for ringers who came from all parts of the country to join the London Police Force, to be able to unite and practise their art. He wished the Guild success.

After the business meeting, all adjourned to the tower, where Grandsire Triples, Bob Major, Stedman Triples, and Kent Treble Bob Major were practised.

Several new members have joined during the past year, bring the Guild's membership up to a total of 23.

Will all ringers who join the Metropolitan Police please communicate with Inspector Bottrill, Kentish Town Police Station, London, N., or P.C. F. Digby, 4, Crawford Buildings, Homer Street, London, W.1.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.LEWISHAM DISTRICT.

The quarterly meeting of the Lewisham District of the Kent Association was held at Chislehurst on Saturday, January 25th. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m., and continued throughout the afternoon and evening, touches in several methods, simple and complicated, being successfully brought round. Service was held at 5 p.m., the Rector (Rev. Canon J. E. Dawson) officiating and giving a very interesting address.

After the service, the members adjourned to the Village Hall for tea. A varied and substantial repast was supplied by the generosity of the Rector and churchwardens. The Rector welcomed the association to Chislehurst.

The business meeting followed, Mr. W. A. Jeffries presiding. Six nominees were duly elected members of the association.

Mr. E. Barnett, jun., read a report of the proceedings at the association's committee meeting at Canterbury in November. This report was adopted, the Chairman congratulating Mr. Barnett for a very clear, concise report.

Then followed a discussion on the arrangements for the jubilee of the association. It was announced that this meeting would be held at Canterbury on Easter Monday next. Mr. W. A. Jeffries was selected to represent the district on the sub-committee to be appointed to make arrangements for this event.

Dartford was chosen as the place of the next meeting.

Mr. T. Groombridge moved a vote of condolence with the relatives of the late Mr. T. Emsden, for many years a ringer at Chislehurst. The vote was signified by the members standing in silent remembrance. The secretary was instructed to convey the meeting's sympathy to the relatives.

Mr. F. Richardson moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, for conducting the service and for giving his address, to the organist for her services, to the Rector and churchwardens for their generous hospitality, and to Mr. E. Edwards (Rector's warden) for his presence at the meeting. This was carried with applause. Mr. Edwards briefly responded, this bringing a very well attended and successful meeting to a close.

Then followed some touches on handbells, after which the members returned to the tower for further ringing.

can get enough variations out of those two (both on page 69 of 'Ropesight') to make seven different extents, and, in my humble opinion, they must be different if the changes come up in a different order.—Yours truly,

E. V. RODENHURST.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

LEATHERHEAD DISTRICT HANDICAPPED BY CLOSED TOWERS.

The Leatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild is an area in which the activities of the Guild and those of the Surrey Association overlap, and the friendly spirit existing between the two organisations was again manifested on Saturday week, when the annual meeting of the Leatherhead District of the Guildford Guild was held. Most of the members present were members of the two societies, and the happiest relations prevailed. Members of the Guildford Guild were present from Leatherhead, Newdigate, Dorking, Banstead, St. Martin's, Epsom, Ewell, Cobham, Guildford (S. Nicolas') and Woking, and there were visitors from Croydon, Brockley, Beddington and Hillingdon, among those present being Admiral T. P. Walker (hon. treasurer of the Guildford Guild), Mr. C. F. Johnston, Mr. C. H. Kippen (hon. secretary of the Surrey Association), Mr. D. Cooper (Surrey Association district secretary), and the veteran, Mr. D. Wright, of Croydon. Leatherhead's ten bells are always an attraction, and much ringing was done on them during the afternoon and evening from rounds to London Surprise Major and Cambridge Surprise Royal.

The service was conducted by the Rev. H. V. James (curate), in the absence of the Rector (Rev. G. H. B. Coleridge), who was fulfilling an engagement at his old parish of Erith, by marrying one of the ringers there. The Rector, however, returned in time to preside at the business meeting which followed tea at the Institute, when about 40 were present.

The hon. secretary (Mr. Alan R. Pink) presented the balance sheet, which showed receipts, including 2s. 6d. brought forward, of £12 8s. 9d., and expenditure, including £3 7s. 6d. remitted to the Guild treasurer, of exactly £12, leaving 8s. 9d. carried forward. The Secretary referred to the losses of about a guinea on teas, and said these could be avoided if the meetings were better supported. The balance sheet was adopted.

In his report, the Hon. Secretary said they looked back on the past year with mixed feelings. In some ways they had progressed, but in others they had not made much headway, due, in most cases, to circumstances beyond their control. There was nothing the matter with their advance in the study of the higher methods of change ringing, but they had not been able to make much headway in the six-bell towers. In addition, Capel bells had now become unringable, Christ Church, Epsom, were now silent for want of attention, and Dorking were also not being rung owing to the tower being out of repair. Although fate had dealt them a blow in cutting down the number of their towers from 12 to 9, they felt they had done their best under the circumstances. The average attendance at meetings had been 22, and the committee appealed to the members for better support in this direction in the future. The membership remained about the same, 64 ringing and two honorary, with seven life honorary members. The closing of the bells at Capel had caused the members there to drop from 12 to 2, but increases in other towers had made up the balance. The hon. secretary appealed to the members to obtain the support of more hon. members. The number of peals rung was eleven—one less than last year, but they represented better performances.

Mr. A. Harman, District Ringing Master, presented a report, emphasising the need for better support for the meetings, and Mr. A. H. Winch reported on the combined practices, 35 of which had been held. He put forward a new scheme, in view of the closing of three towers, by which six of the remaining towers were divided into two groups, while of the others Leatherhead and Ashted, which did not need combined practices, would be open every practice night to welcome any visitors who chose to come.—The scheme was adopted.

Messrs. T. Norman (Banstead), G. Lee (Cobham) and G. Fletcher (St. Martin's, Epsom) were elected members and Mr. A. Harman as Ringing Master, and Mr. A. Pink as hon. secretary, being the only nominations, were declared re-elected to their respective offices. The representatives on the Executive Committee (Rev. G. H. B. Coleridge and Messrs. G. Marciner and A. H. Winch) were also re-elected.

Nominations for general officers of the Guild resulted in the same names being again put forward, while the following were nominated for the three places on the Central Council: Messrs. A. Deau, A. Harman, A. H. Pulling and R. Whittington.

The following places were selected for meetings during the coming year: St. Martin's, Epsom, Cobham, Ockley and Leatherhead (annual), with, it is hoped, a joint meeting with the Surrey Association at Ramore and another with the Sussex Association at Warnham.

The General Secretary (Mr. J. S. Goldsmith) asked for expressions of opinion on the verge of the summer festival, and the meeting voted in favour of the Thames-side.

On the question of whether the Guild should organise a dinner next winter, a number of members indicated their willingness to support such a proposal.

Cordial thanks to the officers of the district, Mr. A. H. Winch and to the Rector and the curate, concluded the business, and the ringers then returned to the belfry.

THE COUNCIL AND CONTROVERSIAL QUESTIONS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—May I trespass on your space to offer a few words of comment on two matters arising out of your last issue?

The first is Mr. Whitford's letter. I entirely agree with his contention that change ringing on six or eight bells is far better calculated to appeal to the general public than on ten or twelve. Broadcasts in the higher numbers should, to my mind, be confined to exceptional occasions, such as ringing in the new year, or the broadcast of some special ceremony from a Cathedral or Parish Church. Whenever change ringing is specially to introduce a broadcast service or to illustrate the use of bells according to English methods, the sound of six or eight bells is much more likely to ensure the appreciation of the uninitiated.

The other matter is your leading article. It seems to me that there is sometimes a tendency to show undue impatience with regard to controversial questions submitted to the Central Council. It is all right for the Council 'to show a mind of its own,' when the premises are such as to warrant a definite conclusion, but the subjects under discussion are often in an entirely experimental stage, and it would be premature to attempt any conclusive pronouncement on them, before further light has been thrown on them by research and experience. Change ringing is a progressive science, and it is hoped that it will continue to be so for many generations to come. Just for that reason we must expect at any given time to have open questions awaiting solution, when our knowledge is sufficiently complete. If on a recent occasion the Council had attempted to lay down the law as to the correct extension of Superlative, it would, to my mind, have been much like a board of astronomers in the sixteenth century making a 'final' pronouncement on the number and motion of Jupiter's satellites, while Galileo was still experimenting with his new telescope. In many cases years of discussion and experiment may be required before any satisfactory conclusion can be reached.—Yours faithfully,

F. L. EDWARDS.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

NORTH-EASTERN DISTRICT.

The annual district meeting of the North-Eastern District was held at Colchester on Saturday, Jan. 25th. A service was held in St. Peter's Church. The Lord Bishop of Colchester said the Ringers' Office, the lesson was read by the Master (Mr. C. H. Howard), and the address was given by the Vicar (Rev. C. E. Cardo).

Tea, followed by the meeting, was held in the Parish Room. The Master presided, supported by the Vicar, the Rev. R. B. Vaizey (Vicar of Wormingford), Mr. W. J. Nevard (District Master), Mr. R. W. Stannard (district secretary), Messrs. A. Saunders and F. Ridgewell (Master and secretary respectively of the Northern Division), Messrs. D. Elliot, E. P. Duffield and about sixty other members.

The retiring Master and secretary were thanked for their past services and re-elected.

Votes of condolence were passed with Messrs. Smith, of Langham, and H. Evers, of Colchester, who have recently been bereaved of their wives.—One new ringing member was elected, and it was decided to hold the next meeting at Great Tey, at which members of both Northern and North-Eastern Divisions will be asked to attend.

An invitation from the Vicar of Wormingford to hold a meeting in June in his parish was accepted.

The District Master gave a very interesting account of his peals (21) and ringing during the past year.

Votes of thanks were accorded, upon the proposition of the Master, to the Bishop of Colchester for his attendance, the Vicar for the use of the bells, his excellent address, and the use of the room, to the organist, blower and vergers, and to Mr. F. L. Bumstead, the steeplekeeper, for his assistance in having everything in readiness. Ringing in the following methods took place: Bob Major, Grand sire, Double Norwich, Superlative and other standard methods.

The collection in church for the Association Bell Restoration Fund amounted to £1 0s. 5d.

SURPRISE RINGING AT BATH.

At Twerton-on-Avon, Bath, on Monday, January 13th, at St. Michael's Church, a quarter-peal of Superlative Surprise Major (1,568 changes) was rung in 58 mins.: W. H. Crocker 1. T. F. King 2. Miss N. G. Williams 3. R. J. Cousins 4. T. Grant 5. H. W. Brown 6. W. J. Prescott 7. G. H. Harding (conductor) 8. First quarter-peal in the method by all the band, and the first ever rung in Bath by a local band. Also, on a previous date, and by the same band, a quarter-peal of Cambridge Surprise Major.

London Surprise Major is now being persevered with.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.BEDFORD DISTRICT MEETING AT CARDINGTON.

A most successful and enjoyable meeting of the Bedford District was held at St. Mary's Church, Cardington, on Saturday, February 1st, and was attended by about 40 members and welcome visitors. The church, a well-built structure, was rebuilt, with the exception of the chancel, during the period 1898-1902, and is in the Perpendicular style. It consists of a chancel, nave of four bays with clerestory, aisles, south porch, and a fine western tower containing an excellent peal of eight bells (tenor 21 cwt) by Taylor and Co., which won the admiration of all on Saturday week, both in regard to tone and 'go,' the latter being like the proverbial 'tops.'

The bells were raised at 3 p.m., and kept going constantly until tea time. Mr. E. Freeman was in charge of the ringing, and looked after everybody's wants in a capable manner. Tea was served at the King's Arms, and as such a large meeting had not been anticipated, it kept the waiters going at full pressure, but they eventually overcame this.

At the business meeting, Miss E. Steel was in the chair, and Wootton (6) was chosen for the next meeting on March 1st if the bells are available, with Kempston as an alternative tower.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and the local ringers for making arrangements, was also passed.

Ringing was afterwards indulged in until 8.15 p.m., with varying degrees of success, and ranging from Grandsire Triples to Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major.

Members were present from Bedford (St. Paul's and St. Peter's), Bromham, Clapham, Kempston, Riseley, Keysoe, Harrold, Turvey, Stagsden, Roxton, Biggleswade, Southill, Clifton, with visitors from Offley, Hitchin, Northampton, Wellingborough, Irthlingborough and Raunds, and the local tower.

When these monthly meetings are as well attended and successful as this meeting was, it amply repays the work of arranging them, and it is to be hoped the future meetings throughout the year will be as well attended.

KILLED BY 'THE WALL OF DEATH.'THE FATAL ACCIDENT TO MR. H. COCKINGS, OF STAGSDEN.

It is with profound regret that we have had to record the death of Mr. Bert Cockings, of Stagsden, Beds, which was briefly mentioned last week.

While cycling home on Wednesday evening, January 22nd, from Harrold to Stagsden, Mr. Cockings was passing through Turvey, when a lorry with a trailer attached overtook him. The lorry passed him all right, but, unfortunately, the trailer swerved, knocking him off his bicycle underneath the trailer, the rear wheels of which passed over him, causing serious internal injuries, from which he passed away.

The lorry and trailer contained the 'Wall of Death,' on which trick motor-cycling has been done in Bedford. At the inquest before the borough coroner (Mr. R. C. Rose), a verdict of 'Accidental Death' was returned.

Mr. Cockings was a man of a quiet and genial disposition, with a cheery smile and kindly word for everyone. He was an old member of the Bedfordshire Association, and formerly belonged to the Harrold company. Since residing at Stagsden, he has been the mainstay of the young band there, and was a great help when change ringing was taken up in this tower. He is already keenly missed by his fellow-ringers. Only on the Sunday before his death he was ringing for both services, and little did his fellow-ringers realise that was the last 'touch' they would ring with him (a 360 of Grandsire Doubles) to which he rang the tenor. He had rung several peals, and was a good striker. He was keenly looking forward to the proposed restoration of the bells.

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, January 28th, and was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. E. Nickisson) in the presence of a large company of sympathising parishioners.

A wreath in the shape of a bell was sent from his fellow-ringers, and there was also a wreath from the Bedford District of the Bedfordshire Association. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved wife and daughter in the sudden and tragic loss.

As a token of respect the ringers rang some short 'touches' of Doubles in the evening after the funeral, assisted by the Bromham ringers, the bells being half-muffled.

THE 18 1/2 TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at
RIVERSIDE CHURCH, New York, U.S.A

A RECORD ACHIEVEMENT.

A remarkable record was made during 1929 at Felkirk, Yorks, where the local company for service and practice rang no fewer than 253 720's of Minor and every one of them in a different method. It is a unique achievement, and one which merits more than passing notice. To begin with the number of methods is about a hundred more than in the Central Council's 'Collection,' and to get together such an assortment must have been a business of some magnitude. The fact that some of the methods must have been of the 'irregular' variety does not detract from the greatness of the performance, which represents a wonderful standard of efficiency in the practical mastery of methods, and most ringers who have any idea of what learning new methods means will appreciate what must have been involved in assimilating at least five fresh ones every week throughout the year. And not only were five fresh methods mastered every week—what is more a 720 of each of five methods was rung on an average every week. It is the first time in history that such a thing has been done, and the company that sets out to improve upon this record has got a big task on hand. The Felkirk ringers are to be congratulated upon their achievement, which is one which, we think, most of our ringers will agree should be suitably recorded in their tower.

And what a lesson the year's work at Felkirk is, in many ways, to some of the rest of the Exercise. Not only is it a great example of what can be done in method ringing, but it is a remarkable illustration of team work; of steady perseverance; of genuine loyalty to an ideal and a sacrifice of personal ends to a collective purpose. Of the eight local ringers who took part, four rang in over two hundred of these extents (the conductor, Mr. J. T. White, ringing in and conducting 247 of them), two others rang in over 190 each and another in nearly 150! There is complete harmony in a company such as this—the result could not be achieved without it—there was keenness and enthusiasm—that goes without saying—and there must have been regularity and punctuality, as well as ability and skill. It may not be given to all ringers to learn and ring methods at the same rate as the men of Felkirk, but if, on the one hand, this is an extraordinary example of what can be done, it goes also to emphasise on the other how little some companies endeavour to expand in their method ringing. The Felkirk ringers did not accomplish what they have done at a bound. Their achievement was the outcome of assiduous practice in other years, until they got the knack of assimilating fresh methods with comparative ease. And the same kind of success is open to scores of other bands if only they will put into their ringing the same qualities which have been exhibited by the talented Yorkshiremen.

REDEDICATION OF HEYTESBURY BELLS.

A MEDIAEVAL TENOR.

The rededication of the bells of the Parish Church, Heytesbury, Wilts, after rehanging in a new oak frame by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of the Whitechapel Foundry, took place on Saturday afternoon, February 8th, the ceremony being performed by the Ven. H. W. Carpenter, M.A., Archdeacon of Sarum. The Archdeacon, with the Vicar and surpliced choir, with crossbearer, walked up the central aisle, singing the 122nd Psalm. The Archdeacon took his position under the tower, where the dedicatory prayers were said. The Heytesbury ringers rang the bells for a few minutes, and the Archdeacon then gave a helpful address, taking as his text, 'Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep.' He first congratulated the people of Heytesbury on the work that had been done, and then drew some lessons from the composition of the metals used in the making of a bell, and then on the words of the text as to the use of bells in times of rejoicing and sorrow in the family, parish and nation. The preacher then applied the lesson of the harmony and notes of a ring of bells to the work of a parish.

A collection was taken towards the fund for the rehanging of the bells, and the service closed with the blessing pronounced by the Archdeacon. The local ringers rang the bells for a short time after the service, and the tower was open for visiting ringers. Among those present were Mr. B. Cook, vice-chairman of the Devizes Branch, Mr. F. Green, secretary of the Devizes Branch, Mr. J. Francis, assistant Ringing Master, Messrs. White and Fletcher and other members from the Minster Church, Warminster, Trowbridge and Mere. Mr. C. D. Heginbotham, the chairman of the Devizes Branch, was unavoidably absent owing to attending a meeting of the Marlborough Branch.

Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob were rung during the afternoon and evening, the bells being kept going till after 7 p.m. All were satisfied with the 'go' of the bells.

The work has cost about £450, some portion of which has still to be raised.

Heytesbury has a beautiful church, dedicated to SS Peter and Paul. The tower contains six bells, inscribed:—

- 1st.—Wm. Cockey, Bell Founder, 1739.
- 2nd.—Richard Markes, Edward Brice, C.W., I.L., 1668.
- 3rd.—Mr. Wm. Childs and Mr. Richd. Young, Gh. Wardens + Jas. Burroughs in Devizes, Founder. Fecit 1755.
- 4th.—ANNO-DO-MINI, 1619, R. (bell) P.
- 5th.—Thomas Mears, Founder, London, 1843.
- 6th.—(On shoulder, large shield with coat of arms of Knollys.) + Intonat. E. Celis Vox. Campana Michaelis.

The tenor is a fine mediæval bell, weighing 20 cwt., by Kebyll, of London, about 1460. William Cockey and I.L. (which stand for John Lott) were bell founders of Warminster. In 1553, Heytesbury had iiij bells.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

CHERTSEY DISTRICT.

Those who are seeking to promote change ringing in the Chertsey District are having an uphill fight, but they are to be congratulated upon the determination with which they persevere in the face of difficulties. At the annual meeting of the district on Saturday week, at Chertsey, there was a small attendance, only some 16 members being present. A service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. E. H. W. Leachman), and Admiral T. P. Walker presided over the subsequent business meeting, when the Vicar and organist were thanked for their service.

The Ringing Master (Mr. H. J. Chaffey), in his report, said the meetings had been badly attended by district members, although most of them had been successful from the help received from visiting members. He especially thanked Mr. A. H. Winch, of Leatherhead, for assistance he had given in the district. He hoped in the future that more members in the district would attend the meetings, which were arranged for their benefit.

The balance sheet showed receipts amounting to £6 2s., of which one-half was remitted to the Guild treasurer, and, after paying expenses, last year's balance of £1 6s. 9d. had been increased to £3 3s. The Secretary reported 54 ringing members and 3 hon. members in the district.

Mr. H. J. Chaffey was re-elected District Ringing Master, and Mr. H. Hancock hon. secretary. After a ballot, Mr. F. Hawthorne and Mrs. Beeson were re-elected on the Executive Committee. The Rev. E. H. W. Leachman was elected as the hon. members' representative.

The following were nominated for election as representatives of the Guild on the Central Council: Messrs. Edwards, A. H. Pulling, F. Hawthorne and C. Hazelden.

The places for meetings during the ensuing year were selected as follows: Hershaw, Thames Ditton, Ottershaw, Weybridge, Chobham and Egham (annual).

A vote of thanks to the chairman concluded the business.

The standard methods were practised during the afternoon and evening, and at 8 p.m. the curfew, which is heard daily from this tower, was rung on the bell which is over 600 years old.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.WESTERN DIVISION.

The annual meeting of the Western Division took place at Shipley on Saturday. Although this village is rather out of the way, about a score of good ringers came to ring on this handy little peal of six. Visitors are always sure of a hearty welcome and good ringing. The following towers were represented: Billingshurst, Heene, Lindfield, Brighton, Kirdford, Warnham, West Grinstead and Shipley.

Tea was partaken of at the Village Room, and at the business meeting, with Mr. Walter Charman presiding, the election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: A. W. Groves, hon. district secretary; Messrs. T. Adams, G. Norriss and W. Charman, committee; Messrs. J. Burdfield, E. Lindup and H. Turrell, committee of advice. Only one new member was elected, viz., Mr. R. P. Wood, of Billingshurst.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar, Rev. C. J. Radford, for granting the use of the bells, also to Mr. Charman for presiding, was carried, and another visit to the belfry brought this very enjoyable meeting to a close.

DEATH OF MR. W. W. BONHAM, OF WOLVERTON.

The Oxford Diocesan Guild sustained a sad loss on January 19th, when the death took place of Walter William Bonham, of Stony Stratford, who was 65 years of age, and had been regularly, for the past 36 years, a Sunday service ringer at St. Giles' Church, where he will be sadly missed, and his place difficult to fill. He had rung 55 peals in a variety of methods.

Deceased was taken suddenly ill about a fortnight earlier, and had not regained consciousness once during that time. He leaves a widow and two sons.

Deceased retired from his employment (as a traverse driver for the L.M. and S. Railway Company at their Wolverton Carriage Works, where he was employed for about 38 years) only seven months ago, and was respected by all with whom he came in contact.

The interment took place on Wednesday, January 22nd, and among the many floral tributes sent were wreaths from the Oxford Diocesan Guild and from his fellow-ringers at St. Giles'. Four of his ringing colleagues bore the mortal remains to their last resting place. After the funeral 504 Grandsire Triples was rung with muffled bells by E. Yates 1, W. G. Clarke 2, T. C. Tompkins 3, H. E. Tompkins 4, William Neale 5, E. C. Lambert (conductor) 6, H. C. Edwards 7, T. Trasler 8.

EAST DERBYSHIRE AND NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

A special meeting of the East Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire Association was held on Saturday at the Parish Church of St. Mary, Sutton-in-Ashfield, Notts, which possesses a beautiful ring of six bells, tenor 15½ cwt. The bells were raised about three o'clock, and a goodly number of visitors kept them going to the various standard methods for an hour, when a short service was held in the tower, conducted by the Vicar (Rev. R. P. Tinsley, M.A.). During the service the Vicar dedicated a peal board, the gift of a local ringer, Mr. C. M. Heathcote, which was unveiled by Mrs. Aked. The board was neatly executed in gold lettering on a black surface, and recorded two peals. The first was a peal of Bob Minor (5,040 changes) rung on September 8th, 1923, the first peal on the bells, in which local ringers took part. The second was a peal of Bob Doubles and Grandsire Doubles, rung on October 21st, 1929, and was the first peal of Doubles on the bells.

Immediately after the ceremony, the band which took part in the last peal rang a short touch, and then the company adjourned to the Parish Room at the Vicarage, where a sumptuous tea was provided, 35 persons sitting down.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of bells and the room for tea, also for his kind remarks with reference to the ringers, etc., during the service, on the motion of Mr. J. W. England, seconded by Mr. Joseph Lord. The Vicar suitably replied, giving the ringers a hearty welcome to Sutton-in-Ashfield. Mr. T. Bettison voiced the thanks of the association for the good tea provided by Mr. C. M. Heathcote, which was seconded by Mr. J. Bleby.

Mr. Heathcote responded, and Mrs. Tinsley, the wife of the Vicar, made a happy little speech, reminding the listeners that the sound of the bells reached much further than the tower itself, and brought happiness to numberless people, who, for various reasons, were unable to attend church.

After the good ladies who had prepared the tea had been thanked, the ringers returned to the tower, and good use was made of the bells until eight o'clock, when they were lowered in peal, and this brought to a close an enjoyable gathering. The methods rung varied from Grandsire Doubles to London Surprise Minor, and some very good striking was heard. Ringers attended from Blackwell, Grich, Derby (St. Peter's), Mansfield, Mansfield Woodhouse, Morton, Nottingham (St. Peter's), Ripley, South Normanton, Tibshelf, Worthington, and the local band.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We regret that we are compelled, by pressure on our space, to hold over several letters to the Editor.

The Bishop of Birmingham has promised to attend the Henry Johnson Dinner at Birmingham on March 1st. Early application should be made for tickets in order to avoid disappointment.

The first peal rung at Shelfanger, Norfolk, was scored last week. In this small tower there is a clock case of such liberal proportions that the third and fourth ringers do not see each other during the ringing.

Mr. John Souter, of Diss, in his eightieth year rang a peal of Superlative last Saturday, and received the congratulations of the company on the characteristic excellence of his striking throughout. Mr. Souter rang the tenor at St. Peter Mancroft to Superlative on February 13th, 1902, the heaviest ring of bells on which a peal of Surprise Major had then been rung. A couple of years later, on February 27th, 1904, Mr. H. R. Newton rang the tenor at Southwark Cathedral to a peal in this method.

Another peal rung last week celebrated the 80th birthday of Mr. F. Fraser, who has been a ringer and steeplekeeper at Eltham, Kent, for the long period of 62 years. Despite his years, Mr. Fraser rang the 2nd to the peal of Kent Treble Bob.

In perusing our peal columns, our readers will notice that one of the Painswick 'Youths' who took part in the attempt for the twelve-bell record length, which ended in a peal of 9,000 odd on Saturday, was the gentleman who refuses to grow old—Mr. James George. Fancy a man at 78 years of age having the audacity to stand up to a 16,000 peal attempt! But there, he would be just as ready to make one for 80,000 if it were on.

Mr. Harold Walker, who has recently been stationed at Lincoln, has been transferred to the Carriage and Wagon Department of the L.N.E.R. at Colwick, Notts.

To-day is the anniversary of a peal of 14,016 Kent Treble Bob Major rung at Oldham in 1821.

Cambridge Surprise, now so popular a method, was first rung to a 'peal' on February 23rd, 1783, at St. Giles-in-the-Fields, London—the greatest performance ever achieved in the Campanistean Art.

The record length of Minor, which has stood for well over a hundred years, was rung at Wath, Yorks—where they still know something about Minor ringing—on February 27th, 1816. It consisted of 21 seven-twenties in different methods.

It was described—and, in view of present controversies, the description may well be noted—as 21 peals, making 15,120 changes, 'which were brought round in a grand and masterly style without a man quitting his rope.'

THE TOM BEADLE APPEAL FUND.

Previously acknowledged £18 5s.; Mr. F. Stamp, Brentford, 5s.; collected at the annual meeting, Isleworth, £1 16s., which Mr. Beadle received, making a total of £20 6s. (expenses nil). Mr. Beadle offers his sincere thanks to the editor of 'The Ringing World,' William H. Hollier (hon. secretary of the South and West District of the Middlesex Association, and to all who contributed to the fund, which is now closed.

THE CROFTS MEMORIAL DINNER. SHERWOOD YOUTHS' GATHERING.

The 8th annual dinner, organised by the Sherwood Youths in memory of William Doubleday Crofts, was held at the Welbeck Hotel, Nottingham, on Saturday. The Master, Mr. Albert Coppock, presided over a company of over 60 members and friends. He was supported by the Ven. Archdeacon of Nottingham, Canon Spencer Elliott, Vicar of Mansfield, the Rev. W. K. Gallagher, Rector of Wilford, and Mr. E. Alex. Young, hon. secretary of the Central Council. There were also present Sergt. W. H. Johnson, the only V.C. ringer, Messrs. Colin Harrison, D. Collins, F. H. E. Stubbs and J. H. Wilson (Loughborough), R. H. Dove (Croydon), A. H. Ward and A. Braines (Derby), H. W. Wilde (Chester), S. F. Palmer, W. Bugar, E. Wilson and W. A. Wooler (Sheffield), Councillor J. T. Brown (Spalding), J. Marshall (Cotgrave), H. Walker (Lincoln), A. J. Baker ('Irenaeus Pistor'), Miss I. B. Thompson (treasurer to the society), F. Blood (hon. secretary), and A. R. Hickton (steward). An excellent dinner was served, after which the toast of 'His Majesty the King' was proposed by the Master and loyally honoured by the company.

The Master, in his introductory remarks, said that W. D. Crofts was a man who, when he left this world, left it a little better than he found it, and however trivial his efforts might appear to some people, they, at any rate, secured for him a measure of immortality. On introducing Sergt. Johnson, V.C., to the company, he asked that every person present who wore His Majesty's uniform during the Great War should rise. This they did, and he and the rest of these comrades drank to the health of the recipient of the most coveted decoration in the services.

The toast of 'The Church' was entrusted to Mr. Colin Harrison, who said he thought the best thing he could speak on was loyalty to the Church. For the last 40 to 50 years ringers had had a great heritage to preserve, and had lifted ringing from the lowest depths. We could now include in our ranks all classes of society from dukes and admirals, clergy and judges. Thanks to the loyalty of the clergy of bygone days, we had had handed down to us such piles as York, Selby, Lincoln, Southwell, etc., which were preserved, not so much to reduce the wealthy as to uplift the poor.

Replying to the toast, Canon Spencer Elliott, in a very eloquent and forceful address, made a strong point of the phrase, 'Stick to the Church.' He had heard that ringers never attended the services they rang for, but in actual fact all his ringers not only attended regularly but were also communicants. He related a story of a certain church clock, which received the attentions of the local plumber, wheelwright and other craftsmen until, owing to their inability to get it to function properly, they called in the maker of the clock. He advised them to leave it alone for a period, and all would be well. It was the same with the Church. Leave the Church alone and let it get on with its work in its accustomed way. They should stick to the Church. It was a manly thing to be a Christian, and he did not think it a wise thing to put off the good things in life until a man was at his last gasp. Was it a wise thing to wait until a man was all but unconscious and asking for water to relieve his parched lips before sending for a clergyman to help to get him over the border safely?

The Ven. Archdeacon Conybeare, himself a ringer, proposing the next toast, said the ringing associations had done a great deal to improve the belfries and ringers throughout the kingdom. They were also responsible for such gatherings as these, at which social intercourse enabled them to get to know each other better. He would like to see all the local associations brought together into one diocesan body, and was glad to see so many of the younger generation taking up the art, for, with the presence of such 'Youths,' there was no prospect of change ringing declining. He was proud of one fact, that for the past 14 years he had not missed ringing at 5 a.m. on Christmas morning at Southwell Cathedral.

Mr. E. Alex. Young made a most interesting response, speaking rather as a lover of bell music than as a ringer. He pointed out the influence he assumed that bell music had had over the earlier English composers of music, citing as an instance one number from the Beggar's Opera, which, he was confident, had been inspired by the music of the bells.

The toast of 'The Visitors' gave Mr. F. S. Price opportunity for a very capable speech, which was suitably responded to by Councillor Brown, of Spalding.

The toast of 'The Ladies' created a good deal of diversion owing to the specified proposer having to leave earlier than expected. Eventually, after an arduous task of finding a substitute, Mr. J. W. Kirton proposed the toast in a racy but felicitous manner, to which Miss I. B. Thompson replied in surprisingly concise terms.

The musical programme was, as is usual, excellent and varied. Miss Nellie Alvey, a cultured contralto, contributed two tastefully rendered solos, and left a distinct desire in the minds of the listeners for more, had time permitted. Miss Kathleen Pearce presented three solo dances, of widely different character. Mr. Albert Kent, who had been associated with Mr. Coppock in amateur operatic productions for many years, gave humorous songs cleverly, also a short sketch from one opera assisted by Mr. Coppock. The Welbeck Quartet, Messrs. Warren, Pearce, Coppock and Adkin, sang glees,

NEW TREBLES AT ST. JOHN'S, WORCESTER. RESTORATION AND AUGMENTATION.

The old six bells at St. John's Church, Worcester, having become unsafe and very hard to ring, have been thoroughly reconditioned and retuned, fitted with entirely new fittings of the latest type, and augmented to eight by the addition of two trebles. They were reopened and dedicated at a special service on Thursday evening, February 13th, an event which brought together a large congregation of parishioners. The Vicar read the dedicatory prayers, following which the bells were rung for the first time for a few minutes.

The Rev. J. F. Hastings, Rector of Martley, gave a most interesting and instructive address based on Psalm cl., 'Praise Him upon the well-tuned cymbals, praise Him upon the loud cymbals.'

After the service, there was general ringing by visitors from Crowle, Upton, Snodsbury, Upton-on-Severn, Madresfield, Suckley, Malvern Link, Martley, the Cathedral Guild and the local band, everyone expressing themselves as very highly delighted at the result of the restoration, the 'go' of the bells being excellent, and the tone all that can be desired.

The contract was entrusted to Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, who removed the six old bells to the foundry, sand-blasted them, and took off the canons, retuned them, fitted them with ball bearings and cast the two trebles, which have been tuned to harmonise with the old bells. The tenor is about 16 cwt in P.

The peal have been hung in the old frame, which was in a good condition, and has been thoroughly strengthened with powerful angle plates top and bottom. The result is a thoroughly sound job, the whole cost being about £420. The St. John's Feoffees very kindly undertook the restoration of the old bells and the provision of the Elhambe chiming apparatus. For the additional bells, the parish is very much indebted to a gentleman who is intensely interested in church bells and has done much in the way of adding to and improving bells in this neighbourhood, viz., Mr. E. P. Thomas, of Claines, who very generously offered, through Mr. W. Page, to give one bell if the cost of the other was provided.

The Vicar gave his permission to make the attempt, and Mr. Page set out to get £80, the inclusive cost of one bell. The response was so generous that with the help of members of the C.E.M.S. and the Mothers' Union, Mr. Page was able to raise over £112, and this enabled a few necessary improvements to be made, including a new sound-deadening floor to make ringing more comfortable, and shutters to the louvres to minimise the sound outside the tower when ringing is in progress. These shutters are made to operate from the ringing chamber. The tower is a very low tower, and complaints were frequent in the past.

ST. JOHN'S, WORCESTER.

Inscriptions on the bells are as follows:—
Treble.—Taylor, of Loughborough, cast me in 1929. Given by E. P. Thomas, of Claines. C. T. Powell, Vicar; J. W. Noake, J. Dorrell, Churchwardens.

part-songs, solos and duets. Mr. Fred Blood gave two very fine pianoforte solos, and shared the accompaniments with Madame Raynor, while the handbells were by no means idle.

During the afternoon, through the great courtesy of Councillor Emmony, the party inspected the new Council House, which is decidedly the 'dernier cri' in beauty, comfort and utility in public buildings. The rooms are beautifully lighted with not a lamp to be seen, and the heating apparatus is also totally invisible. The clock and bells naturally came in for expert criticism, the crowd being magnetically attracted to 'Little John,' the deepest-toned hour bell in the Empire.

LONG PEAL—BUT NOT A RECORD.9,261 GRANDSIRE CINQUES AT PAINSWICK.

The attempt at Painswick on Saturday to set up a new twelve-bell length was again unsuccessful, although a long peal of Grandsire Cinques was rung. There was good striking, but after about 8,600 changes had been rung, the tenorman gave warning that he would not be able to complete the full length, and the conductor was able to get the bells into position to come home at 9,261, after 6 hrs. 10 mins. ringing.

The band were by no means downhearted, and consent has been given by the Vicar for another attempt on Easter Monday.

SUGGESTED RESTORATION OF NOTABLE LONDON BELLS

A few days ago the 'Daily Chronicle' commented on the fact that two of the three bells at St. Olave's Church, Tooley Street, were to be removed to St. Olave's, Milham, when the new church is built. The other bell, weighing about 4 cwt. and cast in 1844, is to be given to the Whitechapel Bell Foundry to defray the cost of fitting and erecting the other two. The 'Daily Chronicle' adds: 'To compensate for the silence of Tooley Street, could not funds be raised to repair the belfry of St. John's, Horsleydown, whose bells used to be among the most celebrated in London?'

It was at St. John's, Horsleydown, that the first peal of Stedman Calers was rung, and Mr. F. W. Richardson, of Brockley, writes: 'It would be a most appropriate 150th anniversary to have the Horsleydown "ring" put into ringing order. These bells were cast in 1783, so now is the time to get a move on. It is most regrettable, to say the least, that so many of our London rings are out of order.'

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.
ISLE OF WIGHT DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Isle of Wight District was held at Newport on Saturday last. Ringers were present from Brading, Carisbrooke, Chale, Godshill, Newport, Portsmouth, Portsea, Ryde and Whitwell, and included the Rev. J. C. Orr, of Whitwell, Rev. H. C. Stokes, of Brading, Mr. F. W. Rogers, hon. secretary of Portsmouth District, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Bailey, of Titchfield. The service was conducted by the Vicar of Newport (Rev. Canon C. H. Thompson), who, in the course of a few words of welcome, emphasised the important work of bellringers to-day for the Church in sending forth a message to those indifferent in public worship. The Guild's form of service was used, and Dr. J. B. Williamson kindly presided at the organ.

The ringers were afterwards entertained to tea by the Vicar, who also presided at the business meeting in the absence of the president, the Rev. C. W. Hampton Weekes, who sent a letter of apology. The Rev. H. C. Stokes acknowledged the compliment paid by the members of the Guild, who arranged and rang a peal at Brading Church the previous week in honour of the marriage of his eldest daughter to Lieut. Grey A. Neville, R.N.

The reports of the secretary, auditor and Ringing Master were received and adopted. The accounts showed receipts £3 18s. 9d. (including a credit balance of 9s. 9d. brought forward from 1928). The expenditure included £2 0s. 7d. for the district during 1929, and £4 4s. 6d. sent to the general treasurer of the Guild, leaving a credit balance of £2 15s. 8d. in hand.

The Rev. J. C. Orr was elected district president for 1930, and Messrs. H. Barton (Ringing Master and representative on the Central Committee, B. J. Snow (hon. district secretary and treasurer), and H. Phillips (hon. auditor) were all re-elected and thanked for their past services.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Carisbrooke on January 31st, 1931, and the next quarterly meeting at Freshwater on May 3rd next, with a combined by-practice meeting at Brading on March 29th.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for providing tea and presiding at the meeting. Handbells were then rung, and further ringing indulged in on the tower bells until 8.30 p.m. The methods ranged from Grandsire Triples to Cambridge Surprise.

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting was held at All Saints' Church, Walk-on-Dearne, on Saturday, February 8th. Ringing in various methods was enjoyed by members from Sandal, Felkirk, Ecclesfield, Sholley and Darfield.

Tea was provided in the Church House, after which a short business meeting was held, Mr. Nash presiding.

Congratulations were offered to Mr. C. D. Polter on his recovery from his recent illness, and the hope was expressed that the members would now see him among them more. Mr. Polter thanked all for their kind remarks. He also gave a short resume of the old West Yorkshire Association, whose headquarters were at Barnsley in the year 1879.

Mr. H. Chant, of Felkirk, was deputed to act as penit secretary.

It was agreed that the shield contest be held the second Saturday in July. Darton was selected for next place of meeting.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for use of the bells and Church House.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.TONBRIDGE DISTRICT'S SATISFACTORY YEAR.

There was a large gathering of ringers at the annual meeting of the Kent County Association held at Tonbridge on Saturday, February 8th. There were members present from Tonbridge, Edenbridge, Horsmonden, Chiddingstone, Lamberhurst, Leigh, East Peckham, Penshurst, Sevenoaks, Shipbourne, Speldhurst, Tunbridge Wells, Cranbrook, Westerham, Seal, Lghtham, Wrotham, Bonenden and Plantol, and visitors from East Grinstead, Lewes, Mayfield and Leatherhead.

Service was conducted in the Parish Church by the Vicar (Canon S. H. Clark), Mr. W. E. Pitman, Mus.Bac., being at the organ. The address was given by the Archdeacon of Tonbridge from the text, 'We will go into the House of the Lord.'

After tea at the Carlton Cafe, Canon Clark was thanked for the service and use of the bells. Mr. F. G. P. Neve, Vicar's warden, presided at the business and gave the members a hearty welcome to Tonbridge.

Mr. W. Latter, hon. secretary, presented his report, which stated that although the district had lost one tower, Marden, during the year, he was glad to report that two six-bell towers, Cowden and Shipbourne, and one eight-bell tower, Cranbrook, had joined the association. The number of towers in the Union was now 20. During the year 38 practising members, three non-resident life members, and two honorary members had been elected, and there were now 20 honorary members and 168 practising members. Four district meetings had been held during the year, at Edenbridge, Cranbrook, Westerham, and Shipbourne. A band of young ringers had been formed at Cranbrook under the tuition of Mr. F. White, and these had joined the association. The Secretary thanked the incumbents of the various churches where meetings had been held, for the use of the bells and for helping with the services and meetings. He also thanked Mr. W. E. Pitman, who was ever ready to come any distance to play the organ at the services (applause). During the year 18 peals had been rung on the bells in the towers in the district, and the Horsmonden band were to be congratulated on ringing a peal of London Surprise Minor on New Year's Eve, this being the first peal in this method by any band on the bells in the district (applause). Repairs to the bells at Tonbridge had been done by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank through the efforts of Mr. W. Steed, and they were now in good going order. The rehanging of two back bells and other necessary repairs were being carried out at Chiddingstone.

The following new members were elected: Messrs. G. Singyard, Shipbourne; P. Taylor, Horsmonden; W. Durham and T. Fuller, Lamberhurst; — Igglusden, Westerham; John Saunders, East Peckham; A. H. Jones, A. Bridger and B. Lenningham, Tonbridge. Mr. F. G. P. Neve was elected an hon. member.

Mr. George Edwards gave a report of the Central Committee meeting.

Mr. Latter was unanimously re-elected hon. secretary, and, in reply, said he had forgotten for how many years he had replied to that re-election. He did not like to think about it too much—it made him feel old (laughter). Mr. W. Steed said that Mr. Latter had been hon. secretary for 36 years, and he was first elected at Tonbridge.

Mr. Latter affirmed this, and said he had been a member of the association for 46 years. The last year had been particularly gratifying as the attendances had been so good, and he thanked the members for their support.

Mr. G. Edwards and Mr. Markwell were re-elected delegates to the Central Committee.

It was decided that meetings be held at Marden, Hever and Hawkhurst during the year, with the next annual meeting at Penshurst. It was agreed, after some discussion, that if Marden be found unsuitable for a meeting place the secretary fix up with either Sevenoaks or Westerham.

Votes of thanks to the chairman for presiding and to Mr. Jack Medhurst, scepkeeper, for having everything in readiness for the members, concluded the meeting.

Ringling in a variety of methods took place before and after the meeting.

BULKINGTON RINGERS' SUPPER.

The ringers of Bulkington St. James' Parish Church had their annual supper on Thursday, January 23rd, when an excellent 'spread' was provided by the wives of the ringers and other ladies. There were upwards of 30 present, including the Vicar, churchwardens and sidesmen, a very enjoyable evening being spent.

After supper, the party engaged in various games, including a table tennis tournament, which was won by Miss B. Farndon and Mr. C. Neale, both ringers in the local band.

The cost of the supper was defrayed out of the annual Christmas Box Fund, for which the ringers wish to tender their best thanks to all their many friends, who so liberally contributed.

The annual meeting was held after the supper, when the officers and committee were re-elected en bloc. The funds, after the year's working, show a balance in hand of £3 3s., which was considered good for a village band.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.READING BRANCH'S SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

The annual meeting of the Reading Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at Reading on Saturday, February 8th. The bells of St. Mary's and St. Laurence's were rung during the afternoon. A ringers' service was held at St. Mary's, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. G. Parham), and an appropriate address was given by the Rev. Canon Coleridge. Dr. Daughtry gave his services at the organ.

Seventy-one members from the branch towers, and visitors from Newbury, Maidenhead, Abingdon, Uxbridge and Faringdon attended the tea and business meeting at the Central Cafe.

Mr. L. Joyce presided over the business meeting, at which there were also present the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Guild), Canon Coleridge, Mr. W. P. Routh, Mr. A. J. Wright (treasurer of the Guild), Mr. R. T. Hibbert (general secretary), Rev. St. George-Edwards, and Mr. F. W. Hopgood (hon. secretary and treasurer of the branch).

The Secretary, in presenting his report, said it had been a very successful year, but regretted to say that two members had been lost during the year by death—Mr. A. Brown, of Nettlebed, and Mr. E. Shepherd, of Tilehurst. The quarterly meetings, which had been held at Shiplake, Nettlebed, and Henley, had been very successful and popular.

The election of officers then took place, the retiring officials being in each instance re-elected, viz.: Chairman, Mr. L. Joyce; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. F. W. Hopgood, with his assistant, Miss M. Hopgood; auditors, Messrs. A. Wiggins and E. Foster; committee, Messrs. J. Swain, W. Appleby and H. Tucker. All of these officers were thanked for their services during the past year. The quarterly meetings for 1930 were arranged for Tilehurst, Mortimer, Chesham, and Salford. Satisfactory tower reports were heard from most of the branch towers.

The Master then spoke of the restorations which had taken place in the branch during the year, namely, St. Mary's, Reading, and St. Laurence's, Reading, and mentioned the hope of restoring Tilehurst and Purley.

A vote of thanks, on the proposition of the chairman, was given to the Vicar and organist of St. Mary's for the beautiful service which had been held.

The meeting then concluded, and good ringing was again enjoyed at St. Peter's, Caversham.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

The annual meeting of the Eastern Branch was held at Benington on Saturday, February 8th. Members were present from Boston, Butterwick, Frampton, Freiston, Kirton, Leake, Sibsey, Wrangle and the local band. The Rev. H. Law James, Master of the Guild, Mr. C. T. H. Bradley, hon. secretary, Southern Branch, and Mr. J. T. Brown, Elloe Deaneries Branch, were also present.

Ringing commenced about 2.30 p.m., and divine service was later conducted by the Rev. Canon Hodge, Rector of Benington.

After tea, which was partaken of in the Parish Hall, the business meeting was held, and all the old officers re-elected as follows: President, Rev. J. R. Trotter (Vicar of Freiston-with-Butterwick); hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. J. Phillips (Butterwick); Branch Ringing Master, Mr. W. E. Clarke (Boston); Guild representative, Mr. Alex. Sharp (Freiston).

Three new ringing members were elected, and Kirton was unanimously chosen as the place for holding the next quarterly meeting.

Touches in the following methods were successfully brought round during the afternoon and evening: Grandsire, Single Court, Double Court, Single Oxford, Double Oxford, Plain Bob, Little Bob, Canterbury Pleasure, Kent Treble Bob, Oxford Treble Bob, Spliced Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, and Cambridge Surprise.

ELY AND SUFFOLK JOINT MEETING.

A joint meeting of the Ely Diocesan Association and Suffolk Guild was held at Newmarket on Saturday, when ringers were present from Boxmoor, Cambridge, Cherry Linton, Exning, Fulbourn, Longstanton, Sawston, Trumpington, Stetchworth and Newmarket; Mr. Hunt, of Luton, Mr. G. Dent, Harlow Common, and the general secretary, Rev. R. Copeman. Tea was provided by the Rector, about 25 ringers and friends sitting down. At the conclusion, a short meeting was held, at which ten new members were elected.

Mr. F. Warrington, district secretary, proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector, Rev. J. Pranker, M.A., for allowing the use of the bells and taking the service.—Mr. B. D. Buttress, in seconding, added thanks also for the Rector's generosity in providing tea.—The Rector, in reply, welcomed the association to Newmarket, and hoped they would come again.

Further ringing took place after tea, methods rung including Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Double Court, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge Surprise and Plain Bob. At the service, Mr. H. J. Hazell, A.L.C.M., presided at the organ. Mr. L. Moon and Mr. R. C. Sharpe kindly made arrangements.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.DORCHESTER BRANCH ANNUAL MEETING.

The Dorchester Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild held its annual meeting at Fordington. Members were present from Dorchester, Fordington, West Lulworth, Bere Regis, Abbotsbury, Shaftesbury, Frampton, Bradford Peverell, Sydling, Wool and Charmminster. During the afternoon there was the customary ringing on the bells of Fordington St. George Church, where a service was conducted by the Rev. R. G. Bartolot (Vicar), who gave an interesting account of the history of the Fordington bells. The singing of the hymns was led by the choir boys, Mr. W. R. Hurst being at the organ.

After the service, tea was served in the Moule Institute to a party numbering nearly 60, and a pleasing feature was the decoration of the tables in St. George's colours. Subsequently the annual business meeting of the branch was held under the chairmanship of Mr. R. N. Dawes (chairman of the branch), who tendered thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens of St. George's for their hearty welcome, to the organist and choir, and to the ladies for providing the excellent tea (applause). They were all very sorry that their excellent hon. secretary (Mr. C. H. Jennings, Wyke Regis) was too ill to attend, although he had made all the arrangements for that gathering.

The financial statement showed a balance in hand of £10 3s. 2d., and in addition there are National Savings certificates now worth £9 9s.

The Hon. Secretary, in his annual report, dealt with the activities of the branch. Work of restoration, with the addition of a sixth bell, was to be carried out as soon as funds permitted at Bradford Peverell, Charmminster and Sydling. Regret was felt that there was now no company of ringers at Buckland Newton, and sincere regret was expressed at the departure from St. Peter's, Dorchester, of the Rev. Dr. G. C. Niven, who was always a ringers' friend. The death during the year of Mr. C. B. Hurst, one of their oldest members and a pioneer in change ringing, was regretted by all the members. Thanks were tendered by the secretary to all who had assisted him, and to the Rev. G. Wynne, Mr. W. Bedford, and Col. H. D. Robson for their hospitality. Twelve towers had been visited by the branch during the year. The membership was 105, a decrease of two compared with the previous year.

The April meeting of the branch was fixed to be held at Bradford Peverell.

Mr. R. A. G. Trevett (Bradford Peverell), Col. and Mrs. Gambier Parry (West Lulworth), Mr. F. Legg (Sydling), and the Rev. J. W. Weruineke (Sydling) were elected as members.

Mr. Dawes and Mr. C. H. Jennings were re-elected chairman and hon. secretary respectively, Mr. G. T. White Ringing Master, and Mr. A. Runyard Deputy Ringing Master.

The usual votes of thanks concluded the meeting.

A collection of £1 was taken at the service in the church for the memorial in Salisbury Cathedral to ringers who fell in the late war, and in addition there were donations given by Bradford Peverell (11s.) and Charmminster (5s.).

After the meeting, further ringing took place on St. Peter's Church bells.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.NOTTINGHAM DISTRICT.

On Saturday, Feb. 1st, the first monthly meeting of the Nottingham District was held at Ilkeston, and there was a good attendance, about thirty ringers turning up, most of them in 'ringing uniform.' Stedman, Grandsire, Plain Bob, Double Norwich, Cambridge and Spliced Treble Bob in the Ilkeston Variation were indulged in until about 7.30 p.m., when the bells were rung down in fine style, thus giving the market people a chance to dispose of their goods.

The next monthly meeting was arranged for the first Saturday in March at Ruddington, Notts, where there are eight bells.

NEW RECTOR OF STREATHAM.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the West Norfolk Branch (the first since the recent reorganisation) was held at Dersingham. There was a good attendance of ringers from various towers in the district, and a few visitors from outside, making a total of 24. Under the circumstances this was considered most encouraging, and the ring of six bells, recently tuned and rehung, were kept going to a variety of methods from 2.30 until the last bus at 7.30.

Tea was most generously provided by the Vicar, who is chairman of the branch, and it was decided, subject to permission being obtained, to hold the next gathering at Swaffham on Saturday, April 5th.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.SOUTHERN BRANCH ANNUAL MEETING.

The Southern Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild held the annual meeting at Grantham on Saturday, January 18th. The weather being fine, there was a good attendance, upwards of 30 ringers and friends being present from Spalding, Surfleet, Bourne, Edenham, Rippingale, Folkingham, Bottesford, Hough, Barkston, Melton Mowbray, Stanton-by-Dale, Spondon, Woodford, E. Hitchin, Butterwick, Orston, and the local band. The peal of ten were available during the afternoon and evening, and touches of Treble Ten, Plain Bob Royal, Stedman and Grandsire Caters were successfully brought round. Service was held in St. Wulfram's Church, Canon Markham conducting the service, and giving a very appropriate address to those present.

The tea and business meeting followed, held in St. Wulfram's Church Room, 29 sitting down to the excellent tea provided.

The Rev. H. Law James (Master of the Guild) presided at the meeting, at which the usual business was transacted, there being no change in the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Three new performing members, two from Hough and one from Folkingham were duly elected.

It was gratifying to see ringers attend this meeting from so far afield as Hitchin, Woodford, E., Spondon, and, last but not least, Melton Mowbray, in the person of Mr. Harry Bartram, sen.

A hearty vote of thanks to Canon Markham for the use of the bells, and the service concluded a successful meeting. Further ringing on tower and handbells was continued until about 8.30.

THE 184 TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at
RIVERSIDE CHURCH, New York, U.S.A

THE GIANTS OF THE PAST.

In these days when everyone is concerned with the present and those who have vision also turn their attention to the future, it is sometimes well to pause for a moment or two and think of the past. In ringing, as in most things, the present owes a great deal to the past, and to those who, in days gone by, laid the foundations which have made modern progress possible. There is little doubt even if our forefathers had not discovered some of the fundamental things about our science which they have handed down to us, that others who came after would have done so, but do not let us overlook what the men of the past — giants in the Exercise in their day and generation—have done for us. We could begin with Stedman and come down through a long list of names famous in the annals of ringing, of men who brought great mental capacity and enterprise to bear on the intricate problems which confront those who study the theoretical side of ringing, in order to give us new methods and new peals; and of men whose application to the other phase of the art has advanced the practice of change ringing by their skill in the belfry and the spirit of emulation which they have kindled in others.

To-day is the anniversary of the birth of one of these men—Henry Johnson, whose memory will be honoured in a great gathering of ringers at Birmingham to-morrow. Apart from the value which such events as these have in bringing ringers, from widely scattered places, together in social intercourse, they do definitely serve to remind the present generation of something of their indebtedness to the worthies of the past. Even though a ringer may never have attended one of these functions, the mere fact that there is such a commemoration every year, reminds him that such a man as Henry Johnson lived and that in his day he was a force which had its influence in the Exercise; an explorer who opened up new paths, and who left his mark upon the art. Without this commemoration it is probable that by this time, except in the gradually narrowing circle of those who came into personal contact with him, the name of Henry Johnson would be no more to the ringers of to-day than many a score of others, whose names have deserved a place in the temple of ringing fame. Happily, however, the notable place which Henry Johnson occupied is kept before us in a manner that serves a double purpose. Johnson himself, could he tell us, would no doubt approve of the spirit of the Birmingham gathering, which, apart from preserving his memory, helps to spread, in no uncertain manner, the real feeling of brotherhood which does so much to expand the art of ringing wherever it penetrates and makes the efforts of all so much more worth while.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

BOLTON BRANCH SOCIAL WITH POLICE.

On Saturday last, the Bolton Branch held what is beginning to be looked upon as an annual affair. The Bolton Borough Police Athletic Club had again given an invitation to the ringers to visit their club for a billiards match and social. The arrangements were made in conjunction with the monthly meeting of the Bolton Branch, and the bells of All Souls' were at liberty from 3 p.m. to 5.30 p.m. Over 30 ringers visited the tower and rang touches of Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich Court Bob and Cambridge Surprise Major.

Then an adjournment was made to the Police Club, and here was a real 'gathering of the clans.' Over 100 ringers, wives and friends met and enjoyed a 'free and easy' concert. Mr. John Booth and his daughter were encored again and again for their handbells, and Miss Booth's rendering of 'Londonderry Air' with piano accompaniment was splendid. Miss Annie Potter and Mr. C. Gudgeon gave vocal solos, Mr. A. Sewart was the accompanist, P.C. Hayhurst provided the humour, and Mr. J. P. Fidler was a good story teller. A course of Grandsire Caters was rung on the handbells.

In the billiards match, the police were easy winners.

The appreciation of these events is shown by the way they are patronised by ringers, who come from long distances. The invitation extends beyond members of the Bolton Branch: it is to all ringers, and they are taking advantage of it. The president, Rev. Canon Elsee, and the two general secretaries were present.

At the conclusion, P.C. Hayhurst moved a vote of thanks to the artistes, and, on behalf of the club, gave another cordial invitation to the ringers to come to the bowling green sometime during the summer. He said they looked forward to the ringers coming, as they knew they would have an enjoyable time. He said he would like to couple the name of Sergt. Crook with the success of this evening. He knew that he had gone to a lot of trouble to make the social a success, and he was to be congratulated.—Sergt. Tebbutt seconded this, and supported the invitation.

On behalf of the ringers, Mr. J. P. Fidler thanked the police for their invitation with appropriate remarks.

Sergt. Crook said he was in a peculiar position: he applauded for both sides; but as a ringer his chief object in organising these events was to give the womenfolk an opportunity to meet and enjoy themselves. The menfolk enjoyed ringing, and to some women this was a bore, so he thought it was only fair to consider them.

SPADE WORK BEARING FRUIT.

Another successful meeting of the Preston Branch was held at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Brownedge, on Saturday week, when about forty ringers were present during the day, amongst them being visitors from Lancaster, Blackpool, Standish and Bolton.

The bells were kept going in various methods from 3 p.m. until after eight o'clock, except for a brief interval for tea and the business meeting. It was gratifying to note that the spade work of some of the members was bearing fruit, also that some fresh faces were to be seen.

An unknown non-ringer, who had found his way to the belfry, said, in a conversation with the secretary, that for what it was worth he would like to say how much he had appreciated the beautiful tone and pealing of the bells as he had been cycling towards the church, and he also said how very much he was impressed by the class of men at the meeting, and that, from the attitude and interest of those ringing, it was an 'ideal exercise for team work.'

During a short interval between the tea and meeting a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by F. R. Martin, B. A. Knights, C. Sharples and J. Booth.

The meeting was then held, Mr. Wm. Sharples presiding. The Chairman said how pleased he was to welcome the visitors from the other branches.

The usual routine business having been transacted, one or two suggestions were made as to trying peals in other methods than those usually rung in the branch.

The Secretary said he wished to remind those present that, in ringing the peal of Cambridge Major at Higher Walton recently, Mr. B. A. Knights had completed one hundred peals for the association, and was the first Preston Branch ringer to do so. On behalf of the branch he would like to congratulate Mr. Knights on his performance.—The Chairman also added a few appropriate remarks.

The usual vote of thanks to the church authorities for the use of the bells, and to the local ringers for having all in readiness for the meeting, concluded the business.

A DATE TOUCH.

On Monday, February 17th, at the Church of St. Peter, Goldhanger, Essex, a date touch (1,930 changes) in 1 hr. 3 mins., consisting of 130 Plain Bob, 360 College Exercise and 720 each of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob: S. J. White 1, B. C. Mann 2, J. D. Buckingham (conductor) 3, C. J. Mann 4, G. H. Neville 5, A. Appleton 6. Rung as a mark of appreciation to the conductor on completing 30 years as towerkeeper and conductor at the above church.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.PEAK DISTRICT.

A very successful meeting of the Peak District was held at Hathersage on Saturday, February 15th, when about 40 ringers and friends attended from Bakewell, Baslow, Castleton, Dore, Eyam, Hathersage and other places. The beautiful and historic church of St. Michael, situated in a commanding position amidst the glorious scenery of the Peak, with its many objects of interest, including the grave of 'Little John,' mate of Robin Hood, was a great attraction, apart from the ringing. The bells, a heavy and old ring of six, three of them pre-Reformation, and with a tenor reputed to be 17½ cwt., were raised about 3 p.m., and were kept going in various methods till 8 p.m. A pleasing feature was that the local ringers, who have little knowledge of change ringing, turned up in force, showed themselves keenly interested, and were given all possible encouragement and help.

A splendid tea was provided gratis in the Schools through the kindness of Mr. H. Newbury, of Hathersage, and was presided over by the Rev. J. H. Brooksbank, Vicar and Rural Dean, who welcomed those present in a racy and kindly speech.

The Rev. W. P. Wright (Eyam) presided over an informal business meeting, and expressed great appreciation of the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Newbury, and of the cordial welcome received that day, and voiced the earnest good wishes of all present for the progress and success of the Hathersage ringers.

Mr. Newbury, who was received with great applause, welcomed the M.C.A. to Hathersage, and, although not a ringer himself, expressed his great affection for and interest in their historic bells, and his intention to do all in his power to help and encourage the local ringers.

The next meeting was fixed for March 15th at Matlock, and, after some discussion, it was decided on a vote to limit the length of touches at all meetings to not more than 20 minutes. The methods for special attention remain as before, i.e., Double Norwich on eight and Cambridge Minor on six.

KEYNSHAM RINGERS ENTERTAINED.

On Wednesday, February 12th, the Keynsham ringers were entertained to dinner by the kind invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, a party of 18 sitting down to a splendid spread. The Vicar (Rev. E. Walters) and curate (Rev. S. Hale) were present, and after dinner a few members of the church choir, assisted by the organist (Mr. F. Laurence) rendered songs, etc. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

INTERESTING PEALS RECORDED.

Before morning service, at West Clandon, Surrey, on Sunday, February 16th, the Rev. Sir John Herschel (Rector), in the presence of members of the Parochial Church Council and the ringers, unveiled a peal board. The board, which is, of course, hung in the belfry, commemorates two peals of Surprise Minor in seven methods, one being the last peal rung on the bells before the fire of 1913, and the other the first peal rung on the bells after their restoration. The former was accomplished in 1911 and the latter in November, 1928. The war helped to some extent to fill up the intervening space of 17 years, but it depleted the ranks of the ringers at West Clandon to such an extent that this long period elapsed before a band could be got together sufficiently advanced to attempt a peal of Surprise Minor in seven methods. It is interesting to note that Messrs. F. Bennett, F. Day and J. Goacher took part in both peals. The peal of 1928 was not rung by an entirely local band, as the services of Mr. W. J. Robinson, from the Cathedral Church, Guildford, had to be enlisted. There are great hopes, however, that in the near future a similar peal will be rung by a local band.

After the service the ringers again went to the belfry and rang a short touch, and most of the congregation who were invited to watch the ringing took advantage of the opportunity. Those who did so appeared to be keenly interested, and the ringers were kept busy endeavouring to answer in non-technical terms the many questions which were asked about the bells and change ringing.

The ringers are indebted to the Misses Warren for the painting of the peal board.

After Sunday's experience, the writer of these lines is convinced that, if more opportunities could be found for ringing in front of an audience actually in view of the ropes, the work of ringers and the fact that change ringing in a fascinating and intricate art would be more deeply appreciated by the general public than it is at present. Although many of those who entered the belfry hear the bells Sunday after Sunday, very few had the slightest idea that there was anything in ringing beyond a display of brute force and ignorance to appeal to its devotees.

A UNITED PRACTICE.

At Dunmow Church, on February 15th, for a united practice with members from Great Bardfield and Dunmow, 1,680 Bob Major: A. Ribbans 1, B. Richardson (longest length on an inside bell) 2, A. Smith 3, E. Perry 4, W. Smith 5, E. Townsend 6, E. Richardson 7, J. Jennings (conductor) 8.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We have received from the hon. secretary of the Central Council, for publication, the official minutes of the last meeting. We regret that the pressure on our space will prevent us, for a week or two, from publishing the minutes, but we will do so at the earliest possible moment. We feel this announcement is due to the hon. secretary.

A well-known official of the Surrey Association was nearly hanged the other day—not in an attempt to commit suicide, but in a successful endeavour to save a ringing pupil from an unhappy fate. He still bears the scars upon his neck, but he is Kippin very cheerful over it all.

Two promising ringers rang their first peal of Bob Major on handbells on Sunday, and from the footnote to the report sent by an independent observer, they acquitted themselves well in the performance. By the way, both these ringers took part in the first peals of London, Cambridge and Bristol Surprise on handbells.

A peal of 8,064 Grandsire Caters was rung at Painswick on March 1st, 1734, and on the same day a year later a peal of 10,080 was rung on the same bells.

Another long peal of Grandsire Caters, beating the Painswick length, was rung at Nottingham on March 3rd, 1778. The 'Cambridge Chronicle' of March 7th, 1778, recorded the performance in the following paragraph:—

'On Shrove Tuesday, a complete peal of 10,260 Grandsire Caters was rung upon the deep-toned peal of ten bells at St. Mary's Church in Nottingham, being the first and only attempt ever made for the same. The above performance continued 7 hrs. and 20 mins., and was performed by eleven of the Nottingham Society. The tenor, as customary with bells this weight, was rung by two men, and the other nine singlehanded. St. Mary's bells are the heaviest peal of ten bells within one hundred miles of the place, York Minster excepted.'

On March 6th, 1832, a peal of 7,392 Kent Treble Bob Maximus was rung at Oldham. In 1871, James Mills and Abraham Jackson, two survivors of the band, rang in a commemorative touch.

The peal rung at Shipham, Somerset, was Oxford Bob, not Oxford Treble Bob, as published.

'House Full' is the notice posted for the Leicester dinner to-morrow, which is going to be a great feast day, with the Johnson dinner at Birmingham (a national affair) and other dinners at Gloucester and Appleton.

The meeting of the Fylde Branch of the Lancashire Association at Bispham has been postponed to March 8th.

APPEAL FOR A LANCASHIRE RINGER.

Previously acknowledged, £10 6s. 6d.: W. H. Fussell, Farnburn Avenue, Slough, 5s.; R. Newton, 28, State Street, Boston, Mass., U.S.A., 10s.; Rev. Hindle, hon. secretary, Blackburn Branch, 58, Anvil Street, Blackburn.

THE BELLS OF ST. MARY'S, NOTTINGHAM. WHERE W. D. CROFTS PRACTISED.

The dates of the present ten bells stretch from 1595 to 1856, through the reign of fourteen sovereigns. At least half of the present peal replace earlier bells, since, as early as the end of the 14th century, William Brayser de Nottingham was a prominent bell founder, and there is a record that the clerk was sued for selling a clapper in 1394. The present bells may be grouped into three periods. The 9th, 8th and 6th bells belong roughly to the beginning of the 17th century, and bear the mark of Henry Oldfield, jun. This great firm carried on business in Nottingham for two hundred years; and the 7th and 5th bells, added after the Restoration, have borders and lettering which suggest Oldfield workmanship.

The inscriptions on the bells are as follow:—

Treble.—C. and G. Mears, Founders, London. Recast in 1856. J. W. Brooks, Vicar; W. Dearden, J. Coope, Churchwardens.

(The original inscription would be the same as that on the second bell; and both seem to have been given at the time of the coronation of King George III.)

(Inscription is in small Roman capitals, curiously arranged.)

3rd.—Rev. Scrope Beardmore, D.D., Vicar. G. Brown, H. Ward, J. Burgess, Churchwardens, 1765. By subscription. Sodales Musici Nottinghamienses Restauraverunt. Lester & Pack, of London, fecit. Translation: 'Nottingham friends of music restored me' (supposed to be the Sherwood Youths).

4th.—As the 3rd, except for Latin pentameter: 'Untouched, I silent am; strike, and I sweetly sing.'

ST. MARY'S CHURCH, NOTTINGHAM.

5th.—Inscription translated from Latin: 'When my voice is lifted up, do Thou, O Jesu, direct pious souls. O come, let us sing.' I. Edwardes, I. Sweetapple, Churchwardens.

6th.—Ralph Shawe and Henry Alvie, Wardens, 1613; Robert Aldredg, Vicar.

(This bell bears two founder's marks of Henry Oldfield, jun., the Calvary cross, crescent and star, and H.O., and a fleur-de-lis between the two letters H.O.)

7th.—Translated: 'May this bell be consecrated by the Blessed Trinity.' W. Sturup, T. Graze, Wardens, 1690.

8th.—Translated: 'In the name of Jesus Christ let every knee bow, of things in Heaven, of things in earth and of things just.' R.A.V., M.G., 1605, W.L.

9th.—Translated: 'Thus, O Bell, with thy sound, do thou summon the hosts of the Lord.'

(There are four impressions of the Royal Arms alternating with four founder's marks. This is a magnificent bell: it has three rows of decoration, and lettering finely stamped. The circular mark found on this bell was reserved for Henry Oldfield's more important works, among which was Great Tom, of Lincoln, cast 1610. Names of Mayor, Wardens and Alderman appear on this bell, which is dated 1595.)

Tenor.—Rev. Scrope Beardmore, D.D., Vicar; G. Brown, H. Ward, J. Burgess, Wardens, 1765.

'I will sound and resound unto thy people, O Lord,
With my sweet voice, and call them to thy word
I tole the tune that doleful is to such as live amiss,
But sweet my sound unto them who hope for joyful bliss.'
Lester & Pack, of London, fecit. (Weight 34½ cwt., dia. 57½ in.)

A PEAL OF MINOR.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In a previous issue, I suggested a definition of a 'peal of Minor and Doubles.' It is now necessary to justify the definition.

Many ringers seem to think that it is necessary to ring seven 720's from rounds to rounds to ensure the truth of the peal; but rounds is only one row chosen arbitrarily out of the 720, and if it is necessary to insist that rounds must always come up 720 changes from the previous rounds, it is also necessary that every other row must also come up at the same interval, and this means that we must ring all seven 720's in the same method and call them all exactly alike; for if we ring different methods or call the seven 720's differently, some rows will come up at intervals of less than 720, and some at intervals of more than 720.

The definition says that the peal must consist of 5,000 changes at least equivalent to six or more 720's, etc., in order to get rid of that absurdity.

The truth is that the peal is really one round block and not seven.

Compare the two round blocks A and B. A consists of three 720's beginning and ending with rounds, B is the same round block with three extra bobs marked E put in at the points having a line drawn across in A. This splits A up into three pieces, and joins those pieces up in a different order, in exactly the same way as Reeves' Variation of Holt's Ten-part alters it.

Now everyone admits that A is true, and it follows that B, which is the same thing in a different order, must also be true.

Lastly, the definition admits of the use of compositions which cannot be used as separate 720's, e.g.:—

| X. | Y. | Z. |
|----------------------------------|---------------------|---------|
| 23456 | 45623 | 26435 |
| 23564 + | 52436 | 26354 — |
| 36245 | 52364 + | 26543 — |
| 64352 | | 64235 |
| 64523 — | Four times repeated | 43652 |
| Four times repeated. | | 35426 |
| X and Z are two round blocks | | 35264 + |
| equivalent to a 720. Z is a 720. | | 56342 |
| | | 64523 |
| | | 42635 |
| | | 23456 |

Twice repeated.

Omit the bobs marked + and the whole becomes a round block equivalent to two 720's.

H. LAW JAMES.

This bells seems to be, at least, the fifth of its line. There was, presumably, its predecessor in pre-Reformation times; then, in 1590, the 'greate bell' was set up, which was perhaps the one 'brought from Mr. Quernbe's.' This must have been recast about 50 years later, for Blackner gives the date of the tenor bell as 1637, and states that it was broken in 1757 and recast by Hedderley. Finally, the present tenor bell was cast in 1765.

There is also a priest's bell. It has no inscription, date or decoration.

The great interest of St. Mary's, Nottingham, to ringers is the fact that this was the church where William Doubleday Crofts, the Nottingham solicitor, who was a pioneer of change ringing in the Sherwood Forest district, did most of his ringing. The annual gathering to commemorate him was held at Nottingham on Saturday week.

CROYDON BELLS FOR YORKSHIRE.

Messrs. Gillett and Johnston have been entrusted with supplying three new new octaves of bells for Yorkshire, as follows:—

Giggleswick-in-Graven, near Settle (St. Alkelda's Church).—Peal of six, tenor 12 cwt., to be recast and augmented to peal of eight, tenor 11 cwt., and a rider frame to carry the two extra bells added.

Burley, Leeds (St. Matthias' Church).—Peal of six, tenor 7½ cwt. to be recast and increased to peal of eight, tenor 8½ cwt., and hung with new fittings in a new frame.

Holbeck, Leeds.—Recasting present ring of eight, tenor 16 cwt., into lighter peal, with 12½ cwt. tenor, and equipping with new fittings and installing a new metal frame.

Other current work being carried out at the Croydon Foundry includes: Wootton Bassett, Wilts, peal of eight being rehung; Church Oakley, Hants, peal of six being rehung; Whittlesay, Cambs, peal of six to be rehung with new fittings in new eight-bell frame.

A NEW DEPARTURE AT DORE.EXPERIMENT THAT MAY BECOME HISTORIC.

At a recent lecture at the Mappin Hall at Sheffield University to the Sheffield Trades Technical Societies, by Mr. R. W. Allott, M.A., on 'The nitration process of case hardening,' the lecturer, in commenting upon the many and varied uses to which this wonderful new process of case hardening steel was being applied in this and other countries, remarked that a word of congratulation was due to the authorities of Dore Church on their enterprise in being the possessors of the first church bell in the world to be given 'nitralloy' fittings.

It may be added, in explanation, that all the clappers of the peal of eight at Dore were recently rebushed and fitted with rubber buffers through the kindness of Mr. A. J. Grant, managing director of the great steel firm of John Brown and Company, Ltd., who is a generous supporter of the church, and on his suggestion, and under the supervision of Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey, A.M.I.Mech.E., the tenor was fitted experimentally with a 'nitralloy' clapper, pin and bush, which is so far very successful. It may perhaps be of interest to add further that 'nitrated steel' is a form of super-case hardening being developed by Messrs. John Brown and Co., by means of which a surface hardness approximating to double that previously obtainable, is reached, and a mirror-like surface can be obtained. The steel can be made to scratch glass, is practically rustless, and almost 'unwearable,' and has undoubtedly a great future, so that Dore tenor bell may in time become notable for the experiment.

GREAT BRICKHILL BELFRY IMPROVEMENTS.

It will be of interest, perhaps, to members of the North Bucks Branch (Oxford Diocesan Guild) and other ringers in the district to inform them that considerable improvement has been made to the above following some suggestions that were made at a quarterly meeting which was held at Great Brickhill some six months ago. The ringing chamber was absolutely dark, with no ventilation, the disadvantages for ringing were brought to the notice of the Vicar, and suggestions as to the practicability of having a window placed in the belfry were spoken of to improve conditions to give both light and ventilation. This work has now been carried out satisfactorily, and other belfry improvements are going to be put in hand which will add additional comfort for ringers. Thanks are due to the Rev. D. R. James, Vicar of Great Brickhill, for so kindly taking up this matter, which has made so great an improvement.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.ENCOURAGING SHOP-ASSISTANT RINGERS.

A very successful meeting was held at Harlow on Saturday, February 22nd. Brilliant sunshine prevailed during the afternoon, and no doubt this helped to account for the good attendance. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m., and a service was held in the church. Afterwards 35 members and visitors were served with tea in the adjoining Church Hall. A brief business meeting followed, with Mr. G. Dent (Master of the division) in the chair. Miss Nottage, of Matching, and Mr. F. Munfield, of Epping Upland, were accepted as ringing members of the association.

It was decided to visit Radwinter early in May. This tower has not been visited for a number of years, and the district looks forward to an interesting meeting.

Mr. E. J. Butler moved a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, for his most appropriate address during the service, to the curate who also officiated at the service, to the organist and blower, also to the ladies who prepared and served tea, to the steeple-keeper and local band who had the bells all in readiness, and especially to Mr. G. Dent, who so courteously and generously provided the excellent tea.—Mr. Dent, in replying, said it gave him real satisfaction to see such a large attendance, and he should continue to do his utmost to further the Exercise by visiting isolated towers and to extend to learners all the help that lay in his power. He stated that his especial attention at the moment was centred on 'shop assistant' ringers who could not attend Saturday afternoon meetings, and it is hoped to hold a 'middle-of-the-week' meeting for their benefit in the near future.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.CANTERBURY DISTRICT'S SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

The annual meeting of the Canterbury District was held at Canterbury on Saturday. The meeting was remarkably well attended, 17 towers being represented by 58 members as follows: Ospringe, Sittingbourne, Tunstall, Borden, Dover, Walmer, Wickhambsraux, Littlebourne, Ashford, Wye, Wingham, Canterbury Cathedral and St. Alphege, St. Nicholas-at-Wade, Sturry, St. Peter's Thanet, Brabourne.

Service was held at St. Alphege's Church, at which the Rev. A. H. Taylor, Vicar of Wingham, officiated, Canon Crum, of Canterbury, giving a very instructive address, based on the composition and rhythm of the 119th Psalm.

The ringers adjourned to the Foresters' Hall for tea, at which the Rev. A. H. Taylor presided, and subsequently paid a warm tribute to the services rendered to the association by Canon F. J. O. Helmore, who was unhappily prevented from being present owing to a cold. The chairman also explained the absence of Rev. A. A. Carter, Vicar of St. Alphege's, owing to ill-health, and Rev. C. A. Manley, Vicar of Littlebourne, and went on to thank Canon Crum for his delightful address at the service. The ringers showed their appreciation, and it was regretted that Canon Crum was unable to be with them for the meeting.

The secretary (Mr. P. W. Smith) presented a report for the district for the year ending November, 1929. The report showed that the district had had a very successful year, with an increased balance of £1 0s. 3d. over 1928, and an increase of 14 practising members over 1928. A total of 15 district meetings had been held during the last two years—eight in 1928 and seven in 1929. The report continued: During the year, and perhaps before, the need has been constantly felt that the district should have a Ringing Master. At a quarterly meeting held at Wingham in October, this was proposed and carried, Mr. F. Brett being elected to that office. Although the new office had had but a short trial, it was generally agreed that the step was a wise one, and would ultimately lead to improved and more varied ringing at the meetings. The report concluded with thanks to all who had materially helped to make the meetings successful; particularly, perhaps, might be mentioned the kindly encouragement given by the clergy. This encouragement was very much appreciated, and it was hoped the district might look forward to the same understanding sympathy during 1930.

The report was warmly received by the company, and the chairman later paid a tribute to the secretary for producing a clear and concise account of the working of the Canterbury District.

The election of officers for 1930 resulted in the district secretary and the two representatives being unanimously re-elected, Mr. F. Brett having the added honour of being re-elected Ringing Master.

The arrangements for quarterly meetings for 1930 were decided upon as follows: Summer meeting to be held at Birchington, autumn meeting at Upper Deal, and the annual meeting at Canterbury.

Eight new practising members were elected from Sturry, Deal, Dover, St. Nicholas-at-Wade and St. Alphege, Canterbury, and Mr. A. B. Beresford-Jones as a life member.

Mr. W. Spice, one of the Rochester District representatives, offered the Canterbury District his heartiest congratulations on his great success of all their meetings. He had, he said, been given to understand that some district secretaries had the idea that theirs were the only districts which had successful meetings. In future, he would, he said, remind them that the Canterbury District could always show them what a successful meeting could be. Mr. Spice's remarks were received with much enthusiasm.

The suggestion of a combined meeting with Ashford District, made by the secretary, who intimated that the Ashford District secretary (Mr. A. Kay) was desirous of such a meeting, was discussed, but no definite arrangements were made.

Mr. Cobbold proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. A. H. Taylor for taking the chair at the meeting. This was seconded by Mr. Whitehead, and received the wholehearted support of the meeting.—The Chairman suitably responded.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Vicar of St. Alphege's and the Rector of St. Stephen's for the use of the bells, and to the organist for kindly presiding at the organ during the service.

After the meeting, the ringers adjourned to the three towers available—the Cathedral, St. Stephen's and St. Alphege's.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A very successful meeting of the East Norfolk Branch was held at St. Margaret's, Lowestoft, on Saturday, January 25th. Those present were Mr. A. L. Coleman, general secretary, and about 25 members (including three ladies) from Beccles, Lowestoft, Great Yarmouth, Acle, Loddon, and Wrentham. The musical peal of eight, by Messrs. Taylor and Co., were set going soon after 3 p.m., and various touches of Grandsire, Sledman, Plain Bob, Treble Bob and Double Norwich were brought round, in several of which the veteran ringer, Mr. R. Spalding (in his 80th year) took part. The bells were kept going almost without a break until about 6.30 p.m., when a very enjoyable meeting was brought to a close. The inclement weather was doubtless responsible for the meeting not being even larger. The members wish to accord their thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to Mr. R. T. Woodley for having them in perfect ringing order.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The annual visit paid by the Leeds and District Society to Birstall took place on Saturday. The following methods were rung during the day: Double Norwich, Stedman Triples, Kent Treble Bob, and Plain Bob. Ringers were present from Armley, Almondbury, Batley, Headingley, St. Chad's, Hunslet, Leeds Parish Church, Lindley, Liversedge, Pudsey, Rothwell, and the local company. The business meeting was held in the tower, with the president in the chair. The date of the next meeting was brought forward a week to March 22nd, in order to prevent clashing with the Yorkshire Association meeting. Members are reminded that the Armley meeting is the annual nomination meeting, when all officers retire according to rule 7.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens of Birstall, for allowing the use of the bells, and to the local company for the arrangements, was proposed by Mr. Jackson (Hunslet), and seconded by Mr. Ash (Leeds). Mr. Adams replied on behalf of the local company.

LADIES' GUILD.

The ladies of the Southern District found a very warm welcome awaiting them on their visit to St. Peter's, Old Woking, on Saturday last. Ringing commenced soon after three o'clock, and various methods were rung until 4.30, when the Rev. Canon Askwith conducted the Guild service and delivered a well-chosen address.

After the service, a substantial tea, kindly arranged by Mrs. Edwards, was enjoyed by some 35 ringers.

At the business meeting, it was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting at Aldershot in April.

The belfry was revisited, and the bells were put to good use till nine o'clock. A feature of the ringing was that on two occasions the bells were rung in rounds by eight ladies, Miss Fisher, of Aldershot, mastering the tenor, which is about 20 cwt.

The Guild thank all who assisted in making the meeting go so well, and special thanks are due to the ringers who provided the cigarettes and sweets, and to the kind individual who paid for the hire of the hall and wishes to remain anonymous.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

The practice meeting of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch at Iwer, on Saturday last, was quite a success, some ten different towers being represented by over thirty ringers.

The excellence of the 'go' and tone of the bells was commented upon, and was acknowledged by Mr. C. F. Johnston, who interested the company, after a really good tea, with some tuning details.

The methods rung during the afternoon and evening included Double Norwich, Cambridge and London. Several of the residents have expressed their pleasure and enjoyment of the ringing, and the branch therefore look forward to paying another visit at no distant date.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

SWINDON BRANCH AND CENTRAL COUNCIL AFFILIATION.

A meeting of the Swindon Branch was held at Highworth on Saturday, February 15th, to discuss the circular letter sent out by the executive committee of the association with regard to re-affiliation with the Central Council. A resolution was moved to support the resolution of the Gloucester Branch, as published in 'The Ringing World' of February 7th (page 89). The resolution was in the following terms: 'That this branch, while having no objection to the suggested alterations of the Central Council rules, is of opinion that re-affiliation with the Central Council is desirable without any proviso whatever.'

With regard to the question as to what should form a quorum, this branch moved a resolution that, owing to the vast area covered by the dioceses of the Gloucester and Bristol Association and the inability of a large number of members to be present at the annual meeting of the association, due notice be given to all branch secretaries (say six weeks) previous to the annual meeting of the association of all important alterations of rules, etc., so that a branch meeting can be called and a vote taken by proxy, the total vote to be over twenty-five per cent. of the whole membership before such alterations are carried.

MUFFLED BELLS.

At St. Thomas' Church, Northaw, on February 10th, a quarter-peal of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Minor (1,440 changes): N. Clark and G. Stevens 1, J. North 2, T. Bryant 3, J. Roberts, jun., 4, J. Roberts 5, J. Parker (first quarter-peal as conductor) 6. Rung with the clappers half-muffled as a last token of respect to the late Mr. F. A. Milne, president of the Middlesex County Association, and London Diocesan Guild, the association to which the above tower is affiliated.

THE LATE DEAN FRY.

The Lincoln Diocesan Guild has lost a great friend by the death of the veteran Dean of Lincoln, Dr. T. C. Fry, who was president of the Guild. Dr. Fry had reached the advanced age of 83 years, and his residence at Lincoln had been marked by his efforts in connection with the restoration of the Cathedral, for which he will ever be remembered. On this work he had laboured for seven years, and while he did not live to see its completion he had the satisfaction of knowing that the great task was nearing its conclusion. Even greater, perhaps, than his efforts for the preservation of the Cathedral fabric was his work for the social amelioration and well-being of the people throughout the whole of his 20 years in Lincolnshire, and his death is mourned throughout the county.

Members of the Central Council will recollect his kindly interest when the meeting was held there in 1922, and he personally conducted a party round the Cathedral.

The point of greatest interest to ringers in connection with the restoration of the fabric was the work on St. Hugh's tower. Only those who saw its condition six years ago, when it was in actual danger of collapsing, and who have seen it since its restoration—now one of the finest bell towers in the country and containing probably the finest peal of twelve for their weight—can realise what is owed to Dean Fry and his staff of workers.

At the request of the Sub-Dean, Canon Jewdine, immediately after the funeral service on February 13th, the Cathedral bells were rung open. Three courses of Grandsire Triples on the back eight were rung by: Mrs. East 1, A. Chester 2, G. Chester 3, T. Pyle 4, H. Marcon 5, L. Pask 6, J. A. Freeman 7, A. Marcon 8.

In the evening, with the bells half-muffled, a quarter-peal of Stedman Cinques (1,325 changes) in 1 hr. 4 mins. by: H. Marcon 1, G. Flintham 2, G. Chester 3, C. McGuinness 4, L. Snell 5, B. Chester 6, S. Wolfe 7, F. W. Stokes 8, J. A. Freeman (conductor) 9, L. Pask 10, J. Walden 11, A. Marcon 12.

At Burton-on-Stather, Lincs, on Friday, February 14th, 720 Kent Treble Bob: G. Bray 1, A. Thornton 2, J. Coles 3, G. Habbins 4, B. Gillett, jun., 5, Jack Bray (conductor) 6. Rung with the bells half-muffled as a last token of respect to Dr. Fry, Dean of Lincoln, president of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild.

BRIGHTON RINGER'S TRAGIC DEATH STRUGGLES OF 40 YEARS AGO RECALLED.

There has been a tragic sequel to the report, to which we referred a fortnight ago, that Mr. Richard W. Hoather, a Brighton ringer, was missing from his home. He was afterwards found dead, and at the inquest it was stated that death was due to lysol poisoning. A verdict of 'Suicide while of unsound mind' was returned.

The deceased, who was about 60 years of age, began ringing about the year 1890 at Southover, Lewes. At that time there were no change ringers there. All that could be done was a plain course of Doubles rung from a card. Mr. Hoather was one of about half a dozen youngsters who took up ringing at the same time, and who, having heard about peals of 5,000 changes, soon got the idea that there was something more in it than they were practising. They therefore got into touch with the neighbouring tower of Ringmer, which at that time had a very good band under the Rev. C. D. P. Davies. A visit to the tower one practice night quickly revealed that the youths were on the wrong track, and a talk with the Rev. C. D. P. Davies resulted in them afterwards each becoming a possessor of a copy of 'Rope Sight.' They began to study in the right way. Starting on Bob Singles, they worked through Doubles and Minor to Triples, and could lay claim to being a self-taught band. They could probably claim to be the only self-taught band in Sussex, although they never rang a complete peal. The conductor of this struggling little company was Mr. R. J. Dawe.

About the year 1891, Mr. Hoather removed to London, where he got into touch with the Royal Cumberland Youths, and joined the Fulham Society. While in the Metropolis, he rang a few peals, but he migrated to Brighton about three years later, and joined the St. Nicholas' Society, to which he remained attached to the end of his life. He was never keen on peal ringing, and probably rang only about 30 in all. Another of Mr. Hoather's favourite pastimes was angling, and he was for a time secretary of the Sir Robert Peel Angling Club.

His death came as a great shock to his many friends, and much sympathy has been extended to the widow and daughter, who are left to mourn their loss.

The first part of the service was held at St. Wilfred's Church, and was attended by a large gathering of sympathising friends. In addition to members of the family, the mourners included Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Dawe and Mr. J. Carley, of Lewes, who were lifelong friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rann, Mr. and Mrs. G. Ades. Others present included Mr. J. T. Rickman (Master of the Sussex County Association), Mr. G. B. Bleach, representing St. Nicholas' Society, Brighton, and Mr. K. Hart, representing St. Peter's Society, representatives of the Southern Publishing Company, where deceased was employed, and the Sir Robert Peel Slate and Tontine Clubs, of which deceased was secretary up to about a year ago. The ringers of St. Nicholas' Church sent a wreath, and a muffled peal was rung in his memory.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A GLOUCESTER RINGER.

The death occurred on February 14th of Mr. G. L. Brunsdon, of Gloucester, under tragic circumstances. He had been attended by Dr. Neill during the past fortnight, but had not been confined to his bed, but on the morning of the 14th his daughter (Miss H. Brunsdon) visited his room at 7.30 a.m., and spoke to her father three times, but, failing to receive any response, turned back the bed clothes and found that he had passed away in his sleep. The doctor, who was quickly on the spot, could only pronounce life extinct.

The funeral took place on February 18th. The first portion was held at St. Paul's Church, which the deceased attended, and was fully choral. The hymns were, 'Jesus, the very thought of Thee,' and 'The King of Love my Shepherd is.' Among the large congregation attending were the following members of the Gloucester Branch of the association: Mr. J. Austin (chairman), Mr. W. E. Harris (branch secretary), ex-Sergt. Williams (Newent), Mr. A. A. Waite and Miss Waite, Messrs. B. Etheridge, C. E. Merchant, S. D. Roberts, J. Callender, T. Hawkes, J. Stephens and W. Wasley. At the graveside, two courses of Grandsire Triples by: B. Etheridge 1-2, J. Austin 3-4, ex-Sergt. Williams 5-6, W. H. Harris 7-8. The deepest sympathy goes out to the family and relatives in their sad and sudden bereavement. The late Mr. Brunsdon always took a keen interest in ringing, and his genial disposition will be sadly missed. A muffled peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Quedgley, as reported elsewhere, and at Maisemore, his native parish, the 'whole pull and stand' was also rung. St. Mary de Lode bells and Newent bells were also rung muffled during the evening as a last token of respect, and wreaths were sent from the Crypt Youths and members of the Gloucester Branch and the Maisemore bellringers.

CHANGES IN THE COUNCIL.

Changes, it is understood, are likely to take place in one or two of the important offices in the Central Council at the next triennial meeting. In the nearly forty years of its existence, the Council has been extremely fortunate in those who have voluntarily served it. There have been, up to now, only three Presidents and four Secretaries. Sir Arthur Heywood, who was the virtual founder of the Council in 1891, was the first President, and he held that office until his death in 1917—a period of over 26 years. He was succeeded by the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey, who occupied the position for three years, and Canon Coleridge has filled the office since 1921. And now, it is stated, he contemplates retiring, principally on account of advancing years. In the three presidents, the Council has had not only men of eminence among ringers, but men of wide and varied experience, and in whom the Exercise has had confidence, while there probably has never been a more popular figure connected with our art than the present occupant of the chair, whose urbanity, kindness, common sense, and geniality have endeared him to everyone.

In the secretaryship of the Council, there have been almost equally few changes. After the first year of the central body, during which Mr. F. E. Dawe acted as secretary, the Rev. H. Earle Bulwer filled the office for ten years from 1892, and he was followed by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, who retired after serving the Council with ability and diligence for nearly twenty years. He, in turn, was succeeded by the present occupant of the office, Mr. E. Alexander Young, who, although he came to the task very little known in the Exercise, has done splendid work for the Council since 1921. Both Canon Coleridge and he took office in the same year, and now, it seems, they both propose to resign at the same time. If it is not possible to persuade them to continue, they will depart with the deepest regret of all who have come into contact with them in the Council's affairs, in which they have had the complete confidence of the members.

But is it too late to induce one, if not both, to continue? We venture to put this question now, because when the Council meeting arrives it may be too late. The departure of either will be a loss, the simultaneous exit of both would be doubly regrettable. The knowledge and experience of one would be invaluable to a new occupant of the other office, and while it is true that a double change nine years ago produced perfectly happy results, it might be just as well if only one change were effected at a time. Men who are fitted and able to undertake these tasks are few, and it is essential to the future success of the Council that careful choice should be made.

FIRST VISIT TO BURGHCLERE.

A very successful by-meeting of the Andover District was held at Burghclere on March 1st, about 30 members attending from St. Mary Bourne, Overton, North Stoneham, Winchester (Cathedral), and King Alfred's College, Highclere, Wootton St. Laurence, and Woolton Hill.

The bells were set going about three o'clock, and, later, a service in the church was conducted by the district secretary (Rev. F. C. Sear), with a very interesting address by the Rector of Burghclere (Rev. Canon Medlicott). This was followed by an excellent tea in the Parish Room.

There was no business to be done at this meeting, but Mr. George Williams (Master) thanked Canon Medlicott for the use of the bells and for his interesting address. He also said he was pleased to see that Burghclere bells had been rehung, for when he (Mr. Williams) examined them a year or so ago he found them in a very bad condition.

Votes of thanks were also accorded to the organist and those who were responsible for the tea. A move was then made to the tower for more ringing, which lasted until nine o'clock, the methods rung during the day being Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Minor. Unfortunately, the company was just one short for ringing Surprise methods. This is the first ringing meeting ever held at Burghclere.

DEATH OF MR. GEORGE BOWEN.

Devon has lost a veteran ringer in the person of Mr. George Bowen, of Ilfracombe, who passed away on Saturday last at the advanced age of 84 years. The funeral was to take place yesterday.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.
BEDFORD DISTRICT.

A most successful monthly meeting of the Bedford District was held at the Parish Church of All Saints, Kempston, on Saturday, March 1st, and was attended by about 26 members during the afternoon and evening.

The bells, which were raised in peal and set going to a well-struck touch of Cambridge Surprise, were kept constantly on the move during the afternoon and evening in numerous methods.

A short service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. T. H. W. Barker), who is keenly interested in ringing, and who handles a bell well. Miss E. Steel kindly presided at the harmonium. The service was taken from the 'Manual for Ringers,' and a short address was given by the Vicar based on the text, 'There is one body' (Eph. iv. 4). He said, as a splendid example of team work, ringing reminded him of rowing, for in each case all taking part must keep strict time and work in sympathy one with another, otherwise hopeless confusion would follow. A church possessed of such a fine peal of bells and band of ringers as they had at Kempston was indeed fortunate, and nothing delighted him more than to hear the bells ringing out their invitation on a Sunday, and greater still was his delight as he saw the ringers accepting their own invitation and taking their seats in church as often as they could. In conclusion, the Vicar welcomed the association to Kempston, and wished the members every success in their efforts.

An excellent tea was served in the school, after which a short business meeting was held, when Sharnbrook was chosen for the next meeting on March 29th, with Milton Ernest as an alternative tower. Two new members were elected—Messrs. A. Ford and C. Prindiville, both of Kempston. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, and taking the service and his address, also Mr. P. Inskip for making local arrangements.

The bells were afterwards rung until eight o'clock in the following methods: Grandsire Doubles, Plain Bob, St. Clement's, Double Court, Oxford and Kent, Woodbine, College Exercise, London Scholars', Royal Bob, Cambridge and London Surprise Minor. Members were present from Bedford (St. Paul's and St. Peter's), Bromham, Cardington, Keysoe, Harrold, Clapham, Stagsden, Roxton, Biggleswade, and the local towers, also a welcome visitor, Mr. J. Newington, late district secretary.

The bells are a fine-toned peal of six (tenor about 19 cwt.), and 'go' like the proverbial tops.

PEALS OF MINOR.COUNCIL'S DEFINITION STILL STANDS.

Sir,—I have been interested in the remarks in your leader of February 14th issue, with reference to the suggestions made by Rev. Law James with regard to definition for peals of Minor and Doubles, and it is evident that the argument is still occupying the same ground as was covered by No. 7 on the agenda of the Central Council of 1929: 'That this Council will not recognise as a peal of Minor or Doubles any composition in which the bells do not strike in 720 or 120 different orders respectively, before beginning the next 720 or 120.'

As you say, Mr. James' suggestion raises afresh (I doubt if it has ever abated, at any rate, in certain quarters) the question whether the 720's are to be (complete) true in themselves or not. Mr. James says (in his letter): 'There are only five possible 720's in any Treble Bob method, and some Treble Bob methods have only one possible composition,' and I ask, 'What of it?' According to decisions of Central Council, and the paragraph on 'Six bells' on page 17, if a band rang the Treble Bob method mentioned by Mr. James (which has only one possible composition) seven complete times, striking round only once at the end of each, their performance would be recognised by the Central Council as a peal of Minor, and I contend, Sir, that so long as that decision of the Central Council stands, and it stands yet, that any peal of Minor or Doubles in which the bells do not strike in 720 or 120 different orders before beginning the next 720 or 120 is 'irregular.'

It was with the object of finding out the exact feeling of the Exercise on this critical point that item No. 7 was placed on the agenda last year, but our experts were able to draw so many 'red herrings' across the track that the whole thing became very confused, and it seemed to me that very few in the room really knew what actually they were voting for.

If the Exercise are of the opinion that 720 or 120 different orders should be rung before beginning the next 720 or 120, then a definite vote on a motion such as item 7 on last year's agenda would decide it. If, on the contrary, the Exercise is of opinion that a repetition of changes is to be permitted within the limits of individual 720's or 120's, then a definite vote on a motion embodying Mr. James' suggested new definitions would decide that. I believe, Sir, that it is essential for that critical point to be put and voted on in Council before any satisfactory conclusion will be arrived at, or any headway made on the question.—Yours, etc.,

R. WHITTINGTON.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

His Majesty the King is one of the subscribers to the fund for the restoration of Windsor Parish Church bells. The work is being done by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who are also making a ring of eight for Khartoum Cathedral.

The use of a hall at Lambeth Palace has been secured for the Central Council's meeting at Whitsun. Unfortunately, however, the Archbishop of Canterbury, who had hoped to welcome the members, will be prevented from doing so by an engagement at Portsmouth.

The balance of money required for restoring St. Paul's, Bedford, bells has been generously given by an anonymous donor, amounting to £20, and the work has been put in hand. The work is to be completed before Whitsun.

The next meeting of the Wigan Branch of the Lancashire Association is to be held on March 15th instead of the 8th.

After a lapse of eight years, the Southover (Lewes) Bellringers' Guild revived their annual dinner, when on Wednesday week they met round the festive board with their president (Rev. C. R. Farnsworth), vice-presidents and other friends to the number of 30. The gathering took place at the King's Head, which has been the 'ringers' house' for generations. There were visiting ringers from Brighton, Eastbourne and Uckfield.

Mr. Fred Wilford, Master of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild, is just recovering from a sharp illness. He was to have taken the thanksgiving service and given the address at the reopening after restoration of the bells at Thornby on Saturday, but, of course, was unable to do so. His many friends will wish him a speedy and complete recovery.

A peal of 12,603 Grandsire Caters was rung at Norwich on March 8th, 1737, in 8 hrs. 15 mins.

On March 10th, 1741-2, a peal of 5,040 Richmond Triples was rung by the Richmond Society at Richmond, Surrey. What were Richmond Triples?

VETERAN ESSEX RINGERS DEAD.

The St. Andrew's Guild of Ringers, North Weald, Essex, have sustained a sad loss in the death of their captain, Mr. E. Gridley, on February 24th last. He was 76 years of age, and had been a bell-ringer practically all his life. Chiefly through his efforts, the bells have been kept going for many years at North Weald Parish Church, of which he was clerk for 40 years. He was the first captain of the Guild, and visiting bellringers will all remember the ready welcome he always gave them to the tower.

The funeral took place on Saturday last, when his fellow-ringers acted as bearers, and afterwards rang 360 changes of Grandsire Doubles with the bells muffled.

CELEBRATED TWO SILVER WEDDINGS.

The death of Mr. Alfred Rust, one of the oldest inhabitants of Shalford, Essex, took place on February 26th, aged 88. He resided for the greater part of his life at Wethersfield, where he was for many years the leading bellringer at the Parish Church. Mr. Rust was twice married, and had the unusual experience of celebrating two silver weddings. He leaves three sons and one daughter. The funeral took place at Wethersfield Parish Church on Saturday.

HENRY JOHNSON COMMEMORATION DINNER.

BIRMINGHAM MAINTAINS ITS GREAT TRADITIONS.

Birmingham was a centre of gravity for ringers from many parts of the country on Saturday, when the 42nd 'Henry Johnson commemoration dinner' was held. Complete arrangements for the enjoyment of visitors had been made by the enthusiastic officials of St. Martin's Guild, and Mr. Thomas Reeves, the genial secretary, is especially to be congratulated upon the success of the proceedings. The famous belfry in the Bull Ring became the rallying point during the afternoon. Ringers came from many distant parts of the country once again to join in what is one of the most popular social events of the year in the Exercise. The bells of St. Martin's and of the Cathedral were kept going by numerous bands, and, later, the whole party assembled at the Imperial Hotel, where the dinner was held. The Presiding Ringing Master (Alderman J. S. Pritchett) was in the chair, and was supported by the Lord Bishop of Birmingham (Dr. Barnes). The company, which numbered about 140, also included Canon S. Blofield (Rector of Edgbaston), Rev. B. F. Reiton (Vicar of Walsall), the Deputy Ringing Master of St. Martin's Guild (Mr. A. Walker) and Mrs. Walker, Messrs. T. Russam, A. Paddon Smith, J. H. Shepherd, James George and J. E. Groves (vice-presidents), J. Preston and E. T. Allaway (auditors), Geo. Swann (librarian) and T. H. Reeves (hon. secretary), Mrs. Paddon Smith, Mrs. J. E. Groves, Mr. J. Kendall (churchwarden of St. Martin's), Mr. E. A. Young (hon. secretary of the Central Council), Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Parsons and Dr. Mitchell (Old Hill), Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Goldsmith (Woking), Mr. E. W. and Miss Elwell (Cheshire), Messrs. H. Mason (Hagley), J. Stanley Good (Edgbaston), A. A. Hughes, F. E. Dawe, J. A. Dart (London), S. F. Palmer and H. Naylor (Shelfield), S. T. Holt (Worcester), R. Matthews (Stourbridge), W. Knight and J. Burford (Bristol), T. F. King (Bath), W. T. Pates (Cheltenham), Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Smallwood (Derby), Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Perrens (Coventry), Messrs. R. T. Hibbert (Coventry), W. Hibbert and F. Pervin (Coventry), Mr. W. Griffin and Miss Griffin, Mr. T. J. Elton (Walsall), Messrs. Stevenson and R. Dove (Croydon), C. Harrison and J. P. Fidler (Loughborough), J. W. Pemberton, A. Norman, P. Laffin, Tom Miller, H. Withers, J. Withers, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnson (Birmingham), Messrs. W. Martineau and E. C. Shepherd (Solihull).

Among those who sent apologies for absence were the Lord Mayor of Birmingham, Major J. H. B. Hesse, Messrs. C. F. Johnston (Croydon), P. J. Johnson (Leeds), F. B. Yates (King's Norton), W. H. Thomas (Bristol), J. T. Dyke (Chilcompton), Rev. S. P. Riley (Shirley), Rev. W. O. and Mrs. Wormald (Solihull), Messrs. W. R. Heaton, F. J. Salter (Kidderminster), F. Dickens and J. W. Tilley.

After an excellent repast, the toast of 'The King' was honoured. The Hon. Secretary proposed the toast of 'Church and State' in a felicitous speech. He remarked that in these days, when they heard so much about the empty state of the churches and the continual cry of the younger generation that the theatres and cinemas should be open on Sunday, one sometimes wondered if the Church really was losing its hold upon the people. From a first view it looked very much that way, but if they looked more deeply into the question it was not so certain. There was evidence that the Church was considerably interested in a number of directions in the common life of the people, and that it was still keeping in touch with the needs of to-day. With regard to the State, he thought they must admit that the State was permeated with the spirit of religion. They might not always agree with the amount of money spent on alleviating and uplifting the people, but at the back of it all there was the Christian spirit, the spirit of thinking of one's fellow-men. Therefore the State, at bottom, was Christian, and if it were possible—he did not think it was possible—to eliminate the Church from the common life of the people, the main spring of all their idealism would be broken. The Church and the State ran together, and long might they prosper.

Before calling on the Bishop of Birmingham to respond, the Chairman expressed the pleasure of the Guild and those present that night at the presence of his lordship, and he thanked Canon Blofield, who was to have responded, for having given way to the Bishop as responder to the toast.

ENGLISH CHARACTER NOT CHANGED.

The Bishop, who had a very hearty reception, said he was very glad to be present at that gathering, and he rather wondered why he had not been there before. He believed the fact was he had never been invited (laughter), and, however much one wanted to come to a gathering of that kind, one had to wait for an invitation. Continuing, the Bishop said that, like all clergy, he had an interest in bells and bellringing, even though he knew nothing about its technicalities. It was true that when he was at Cambridge he took mathematics, and there was a time when he really knew a great deal about permutations and combinations, but he never applied his knowledge to those things which ringers themselves did, and whenever he had heard them described he had to admit he was an 'outsider,' and that it all passed over his head (laughter). Proceeding, the Bishop said he agreed entirely with the diagnosis of the proposer of the toast in regard to present tendencies. In spite of all appearances, he did not think the influence of the Church, if they might take the term in its broadest sense, was waning. There was a great deal of confusion, both as regards organisation and as regards the intellectual presentation of religion. They were living through an epoch of extraordinarily rapid intellectual and social change. The discoveries of the last one hundred years were even more remarkable and more fundamental than during any equal period in the history of human civilisation. The formulation of religion always lagged behind the discoveries of secular thought, and it was only now that the new picture of the universe, which men of science had set before them, was filling into shape; only now that they could relate their traditional faith to the new ideas. Many of the younger people felt that the Christian tradition had lost its compelling power—many of them, doubtless, thought it was something that had passed away. They were, of course, wrong. As soon, however, as men began to see that the old ideas and the old principles could be set equally cogently against the background of the new knowledge; as soon as that was perceived, they would get towards the Church once more not only the affection but also the esteem and admiration that it had had in the past (hear, hear). Meanwhile, if only they could preserve in the community the Christian idealism, all would go well. They had to-day a virtually omnipotent State, a valuable, but also, potentially, a most dangerous creation. So long, however, as the State was animated by the right moral and spiritual ideals all would be well, but let the State become an organ of secularism, and there would come at once in the community a lowering of tone and, because of the power of the State, general demoralisation. Personally he saw no reason to fear that. He believed that within the next generation they would see the Church resume its hold on the hearts and minds of the community (hear, hear), and that the Church would continue to work through the State to inspire the State with its own other-worldliness; but, if ever there came a time when religion ceased to have that compelling power, then most certainly they would see the organised State become not a force for good but a force tending to demoralise the community. He liked, for himself, to be living in such a time as the present, when everything was being reshaped, when one could see, as it were, slowly crystallising out of the present chaos the England that was being made. There were those who felt distressed by this chaos around them. If there were any such present that night, he would bid them be of good cheer. The English character had not changed; most certainly it had not changed for the worse during the last two generations. With their universal education, with their growing enthusiasm for knowledge, when attempts were being made in so many ways to create and injustice—with all those things around them they could look with hope to the future (applause).

A DIMINISHING BAND.

Mr. F. E. Dawe, as one of the few now surviving who knew Henry Johnson in the flesh, was entrusted with the toast of 'The Memory of Henry Johnson,' and first asked those present who knew the old worthy to raise their hands. Only twelve responded to this invitation, and Mr. Dawe remarked that the little band was growing small by degrees and beautifully less. Associated on the toast list with the toast was the quotation, 'Concerning the dead, nothing but good shall be spoken,' and Mr. Dawe commented that of Henry Johnson it would be impossible to say anything but good. He was a wonderful man, and those who had not the pleasure of knowing him missed one of the joys of life. Ringers were a very united body of churchmen, who now paid as much attention to the Sunday ringing as they did to their peals. Referring to the reforms that had been carried out in the belfries, Mr. Dawe said he had rung in nearly a thousand belfries, but he knew of no better example of what a belfry should be than that at St. Martin's. The esprit de corps and enthusiasm that characterised St. Martin's Guild was remarkable. It used to be said of St. Martin's ringers that they could ring well in their own tower, but were no good anywhere else, but the present ringers had shown, by their magnificent performances at Exeter, Worcester and elsewhere that that was no longer true, if ever it were. Birmingham had produced many great ringers, and Henry Johnson was one of the most wonderful of them. He never had an enemy in the world; he was a genial character, alert, skilful, full of humour and never failing in anecdote. He was a marvellous composer, and could call and conduct peals, but seldom did so, being always willing to leave that to anyone who wished to do so. He (the speaker) had been visiting Birmingham ever since Johnson's 72nd birthday, when the veteran rang in the peal of 9,348, and that was the first time he met him. On Johnson's 80th birthday they had the first Johnson dinner, and Johnson, despite his great age, was himself in marvellous form. The secretary of St. Martin's company at that time was Alfred Thomas, and ever since those days St. Martin's Guild had continued its success. This was due to the very excellent officers they were able to secure, and while they could do this they would be able to carry on the great traditions that had been handed down to them.

The toast was drunk in silence, and afterwards a course of Stedman Cinques was rung on handbells by Messrs. Pervin, Perrens, Swann, Walker, Norman and George.

A SURVEY.

The Chairman proposed 'Continued prosperity to St. Martin's Guild,' and, following his usual custom, gave a survey of the year. He first of all paid a tribute of respect to the memory of the members they had lost during the year. Happily, he said, their losses were comparatively small—only four had died during the year. They were Mr. William Kent, one of their vice-presidents and one of the oldest members of the society; Mr. Stanbridge, a very old ringer, a model of patience and a great favourite for his many good qualities; Mr. Thomas Bratton; and Miss Pollington. Continuing, the Chairman expressed the great pleasure they all felt at the presence of several old friends, amongst them Mr. Vice-President Russam and Mr. Thomas Miller, who was the last survivor of a band of ringers who visited him (the speaker) at Oxford in 1876. They also had with them the son of Henry Johnson, who with his wife was a most welcome visitor. They also had with them a venerable friend in Mr. Kendall, who had just retired, at the age of 81, from the office of churchwarden at St. Martin's. If he wished to live to be a centenarian, he would advise Mr. Kendall to begin to learn change ringing, which conducted towards longevity. They also had with them Mr. Martineau, of Solihull, who was now recovering from a severe illness, and they trusted he would continue to improve (hear, hear).

Turning next to the progress of St. Martin's Guild, the Chairman said they had gone on very successfully in every way. They had an increasing number of young ringers who were attending the practices and ringing various methods, including Surprise methods. Good work was being done at Erdington under the auspices of Mr. George Swann, and he congratulated the Erdington ringers on ringing a peal of Norfolk Surprise Major, the first in the method in Birmingham. Mr. Webb and Mr. John Neal were doing similar good work at St. John's, Deritend. During the year the Guild had rung 18 peals, in which 62 ringers had taken part, and there had been ten conductors. He heartily congratulated the ringers of St. Martin's on having rung two peals in that extremely difficult method, Cambridge Surprise Maximus, and also the peal of Stedman Cinques at Worcester Cathedral. The tenor was rung by one man throughout—a wonderful performance—and that man was Mr. James George. They all realised, continued the Chairman, that one of their most important functions was to maintain service ringing. They had been able to do this at the various churches except Solihull, where, unfortunately, the tower was in too bad a state of repair to permit of ringing, and at Aston, which was in much the same condition. He believed a movement was to be inaugurated for recasting and rehanging the bells, which would shortly materialise, so that that great breeding ground of ringers, where he himself learnt to ring several methods, would shortly be available to members of the Guild. They wished the church authorities success in their efforts in this most laudable purpose (applause).

In conclusion, the Chairman referred to the service rendered by the other officers during the past year, especially by his deputy, Mr. Albert Walker, who was one of the most able ringers in this country, and one of the most reliable men in every way. He was a tower of strength to the Guild and ringing generally. He coupled with the toast the secretary of the Guild. As they all knew, there had been a change. Mr. Paddon Smith, who had put in 20 years of most excellent service, had relinquished the post. The office of secretary to the Guild was no sinecure; it involved a great amount of work, and, above all, a great amount of tact. Now they had a son of that grand old ringer, Samuel Reeves. During the year he had adequately discharged the duties of the office, and they were sure that, as time went on, he would take the same place in their regard, esteem and admiration as did his predecessor, Mr. Smith. With such officers, said the Chairman, the future prosperity of the Guild was assured (applause).

AN HISTORIC EMBLEM.

The annual meeting of the South and West District was held at Isleworth on Saturday, February 15th. The bells pealed out soon after 3 p.m. under the superintendence of Mr. F. W. Goodfellow (Ringing Master), and the belfry soon filled, as some forty ringers were in the chamber at one time. 'Rounds, Grandsire Triples and methods up to and including Cambridge Surprise Major were rung before service, which was held at 5 p.m., conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. P. W. Shepherd-Smith). The form in the 'Ringers' Manual' was used. The singing was led by the organist, and hymns were heartily sung.

After service, the ringers were entertained to tea by the Vicar and his wardens at the Church Hall. The Vicar presided, supported by the vice-president (Mr. C. S. Bird), the Rev. S. Merrifield, Mr. J. A. Trollope (hon. treasurer), Mr. Edgley (Vicar's warden), the Ringing Master and Mr. Bridges (hon. treasurer to the Isleworth Bell Fund), and 65 signed the attendance book, including Mr. Tom Beadle and Mr. W. H. Fussell. The latter joined the West Middlesex Association (now the present society) over 53 years ago, and he presented to the Vicar, on behalf of the association, his framed certificate, dated 1877, and duly signed. It was the first known society to issue a certificate, with the exception of the Ancient Society of College Youths and the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths. The Vicar, in accepting the gift, heartily thanked the donor on behalf of the Guild and himself for such a valuable and historical emblem, which he would be delighted to place in his church. Before the business meeting commenced, the Chairman asked the company to rise and remain in silence as a token of respect and reverence to the late president, Mr. F. A. Milne.

The balance sheet was presented and adopted, and the report of the year was read. It recorded that eleven meetings were held, with an average attendance of 41. Joint meetings took place with the Oxford Diocesan Guild (S.B. and E.B. Branch), the Guildford Diocesan Guild (Chertsey District), and the London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild (South District), with an average attendance of 44. During the year, 18 ringing members and 5 honorary were elected.

The election of officers resulted in the following appointments being made: Mr. F. Corke, Ringing Master; Mr. J. A. Trollope, hon. treasurer; Mr. Wm. H. Hollier, hon. sec.; Mr. W. Bolwell, Assistant Ringing Master; Mr. W. G. Wilson, assistant hon. secretary; Messrs. J. H. Hunnisett, R. A. Fardon and F. W. Goodfellow, representatives on the Central Committee.

Mr. Bird proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar (Rev. P. W. Shepherd-Smith) and his wardens for their kind hospitality, to the Vicar for conducting the service and presiding at the meeting, to the hon. treasurer of the Bell Fund, and to the organist. This was carried with acclamation.—The Vicar returned thanks on behalf of himself and his colleagues.

Thanks were accorded to the auditors, Messrs. H. W. Lidbetter and R. Hsley, the hostess and her assistants, to all tower secretaries and volunteer instructors, the Isleworth band, and all retiring officers for their past services.

A strong appeal is to be made on behalf of the Isleworth Bell Fund in order that it may be completed.

A vote of condolence was passed with the family of the late president (Mr. Milne).

Handbell ringing was indulged in by several members, after which the tower was again visited, as well as that at Twickenham, where a vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar (the Rev. W. P. Cole-Shearer) for their use, and to Mr. E. A. Morris, the local representative.

A RINGER'S DEATH IN CANADA.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Having seen the name of my cousin, Harry Last, mentioned in 'The Ringing World' in Belfry Gossip as being still alive, I thought his old friends would be interested to hear that he died at Medicine Hat, Alberta, and was buried there on August 4th, 1928. He was brother-in-law to me, as well as cousin, his first and third wives being sisters of mine. His second wife was a Miss Balls, of Cratfield, Suffolk, who died at Kingston-on-Thames in 1903, leaving an infant son who is now carrying on with his father's homestead at Elkwater, Alberta. I don't know how many peals Harry had rung in the London area, but he had twenty peals to his name in the Norwich Diocesan Report, including a 10,080 Bob Major at Helmingham (his native place), on December 26th, 1895. His last peal was a peal of Superlative Surprise Major on April 6th, 1907, at Helmingham, just prior to sailing for Canada. His only regret in living in Canada was being unable to get any bellringing there, and he was always interested in any ringing news I could send him.—Yours sincerely,
T. W. LAST.

INCHBECK, Lincs.—On Monday, January 27th, 720 Cambridge Surprise Minor in 29 mins.: Wm. H. Sutton 1, A. Ground 2, G. Sewell 3, W. Taylor 4, J. Curry 5, G. Ladd (conductor) 6. First 720 in the method by the local band, and first by all except J. Curry and G. Ladd, and the latter's first as conductor.

NEW BELLS FOR CASTLE CARY.

On Sunday, March 2nd, two new bells were consecrated by the Bishop of Bath and Wells in the tower of All Saints', Castle Cary, Somerset, giving the complete peal of eight. The bells are a gift to the church in memory of Mr. Charles Allen, for many years churchwarden of All Saints', by his son and daughter, Mr. Charles Allen, and Miss Allen, and by his nephew, Sir James Allen, G.C.B. He died at the age of 96 in the severe spring of last year, full of memories to the last of the church life of Cary. He could remember the notable work of Canon Meade, who found the church having height without sufficient length. He therefore pulled down the former tower and spire and lengthened the church westwards by an extra pier, and then built the present fine tower and spire, which are of greater height than the former. The present proportions of the building, which has now added a fitting length to the height, satisfy every spectator. The bells were restored under the next Vicar, Prebendary Grafton, and now we have the generous gift of the Allens, who have had the whole bell cage and fittings overhauled and repainted, and provided for a fresh chiming apparatus, and the necessary moving of the position of the clock. The work has been completed under the skilful hands of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

Ringers attended from various towers in the district, including Intobear, Evercreech, West Lydford, North Cadbury, North Chertton, who all commented on the splendid tone and 'go' of the bells, which are now a very nice peal of eight.

Castle Cary is fortunate in having an enthusiastic body of ringers under their captain, Mr. Ernest Creed. When he was absent at the war, his wife stood in and joined in ringing. The team usually take their summer holiday in a tour amongst the towers on their way to the seaside, and get some ringing in each tower. Mr. Creed is secretary of the local branch of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, and is always ready to assist new teams in neighbouring towers. The quarterly gatherings of the branch are happy social occasions, when their part in church work receives expression and encouragement.

FIFTY-SEVEN YEARS A RINGER.

Mr. J. H. Blake, who has been a ringer since the age of 12, has just celebrated his 69th birthday. In honour of the event, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung at the tower of the ancient Church of Bosham, where Mr. Blake has taken in hand the training of a new band of ringers. Those who took part were: T. Duick 1, H. J. Tucker 2, W. Ticehurst 3, G. Marshall 4, J. H. Blake (conductor) 5, A. Tugwell 6.

Mr. Blake was presented with a silver inkstand with the following inscription: 'Presented to J. H. Blake on his 69th birthday by the Bosham Junior Bellringers, 29th January, 1930.'

THE 'FOURTH OF MARCH.'

RECOLLECTIONS OF RECORD MAKING AT APPLETON.

A glorious day, the meeting of old friends, a fine peal of bells, a good dinner, all combined to add one more to the happy and successful celebrations of the 'Fourth of March' at Appleton. The bells were kept going all the afternoon, Grandsire and Stedman Caters being the favourite methods. It was a pleasure to see Canon Coleridge, president of the Central Council, once again ringing the 9th, as he did in the 15,041 peal of 1888, which was the world's record for many years. The unexpected appearance of Mr. Bert Langdon (who conducted the 21,000 at Appleton) and friends for a pull in passing was hailed with delight, and the shortness of his visit was regretted by all.

At 4.30 a company of some 35 ringers gathered at the Thatched Tavern and enjoyed the usual excellent meal.

The meeting which followed was presided over by the Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild (Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), supported by Mr. A. J. Wright (hon. treasurer). The Rector, the Rev. G. E. B. Scanlan, was, to the regret of all present, prevented from coming by illness.

After proposing the opening toast of 'Church and King,' the Master called on Canon Coleridge to give 'The Appleton Society.'

The Canon gave a short summary of record making and record breaking on the Appleton bells, mentioning particularly the record set up on the last day of 1888, when at short notice a band was collected, the tenth man being fetched from his 'showering' in the neighbouring village to take part. With the toast of the society he coupled the names of the two other ringers still in our midst and present at the meeting—George Holifield and F. S. White.

Replying, Mr. Holifield gave a short account of the society enjoying this, the 112th anniversary. He then proposed the health of 'The General Secretary of the Oxford Diocesan Guild,' Mr. E. T. Hibbert, whose absence was regretted by all.

During the evening, the 'White Brothers' gave a display of hand-bell ringing; when the clapper fell out of one of the bells, other 'clappers' wagged valiantly till it was replaced. Several 'old favourites' were sung by the Master, Messrs. White and Bennett and others.

Mr. Holifield proposed 'The Visitors,' to whose advent the meeting owed much of its success, and a hearty vote of thanks to the host and hostess and all who had helped in the arrangements brought a happy evening to a close.

ANCIENT BELLS TO BE RESTORED.

AN APPEAL FOR HARWELL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—An appeal has been launched to raise funds for the restoration of the six bells of Harwell, Berks, believed to be the oldest ring of six in the country, all having been cast between 1580 and 1615. The frame has been in the tower since the end of the sixteenth century, and the bells have been condemned as unsafe for ringing.

It is thought that now is a suitable time to have the bells rehung and two trebles added to complete the octave.

A large sum of money has been raised recently in the parish for roughcasting the tower and the installation of electric lighting in the church, so we feel we are more than justified in making a general appeal outside the parish, the first ever made for the church, which is not a bad record for a village of not more than 700 inhabitants. I have undertaken to try and raise sufficient funds to provide one of the trebles, and so appeal to anyone, ringer or otherwise, for subscriptions, however small, which will be most gratefully received and acknowledged (with the editor's permission) in these columns.—Yours faithfully,

R. G. RICE,

Hon. Secretary,

St. Matthew's (Harwell) Church Belfry and Bell Fund.
Harwell, Didcot, Berks.

THE SURREY ASSOCIATION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In your issue of February 14th, I see the notice that the annual general meeting of the Surrey Association will be held at Beddington on March 22nd. I am surprised that this date has been fixed. Does the general secretary not know that May 21st will be the 50th anniversary of the foundation of the association? That meeting was presided over by the Rev. Canon Bridges, grandfather of the wife of the present Rector of the parish. As the last of the founders, I could wish that the meeting be held on the same date as the original meeting.

I should be pleased to see the amalgamation of Guildford Diocesan Guild and the Surrey County Association, for it seems most absurd that there should be two associations in the one county. Guildford is the county town of Surrey; why, then, should it not be the headquarters of an all-county association? The county will be still there when the diocese is again split up.—Yours faithfully,

J. W. TRAPPITT, SEN.

Dublin.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.SOUTH-WESTERN DIVISION AT LOUGHTON.

There is no doubt that the fine afternoon, together with a chance of having a pull on a recently restored ring, was responsible for the large number of ringers who made their way to Loughton on Saturday to attend the meeting of the South-Western Division of the Essex Association. Amongst those present were Messrs. C. T. Coles and W. Pye, hon. secretary and Master respectively of the Middlesex Association, Mr. J. Waghorn, sen., who, despite his 87 years, is still able to take a rope, Messrs. J. Dale (Hornchurch), W. Watson (Romford), J. Davis (Bishopsgate), etc. The bells were raised by 3 p.m., and kept going till 4.30, when those present attended the service conducted by the Rector, after which tea and business meeting, presided over by the Rector, supported by the District Master (Mr. A. Prior) and Mr. G. Dent (Master of the North-Western Division), was held.

Ten new ringing and three honorary members were elected, and three elections prior to ringing peals were confirmed. Shenfield was decided upon as the place for next meeting, which it is hoped to arrange for May 24th next.

It was mentioned by the Master with regret that one old member, Mr. F. Gridley, for 30 years clerk, sexton and ringer at North Weald, had passed away, and as a mark of respect all stood for a minute in silence.

The meeting closed with a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector, Rev. P. N. Maitland, for allowing use of tower and bells, conducting the service and presiding at tea and meeting; to Mr. Osborne, the organist; to the ladies for preparing and serving the tea; and, last but not least, to the four veteran members of the local band, Messrs. Rann, Carter, Clarke and Bacon, for having everything in readiness. As ringing could not be resumed till 6.15 p.m., the interval was spent listening to Miss Dawson, who once again beautifully rendered one of her well-known solos.

During the afternoon and evening, upwards of 80 members were present, representing 25 different towers, and touches in various methods, ranging from Grandsire Triples to Bristol Surprise, were brought round.

CLEVELAND ASSOCIATION PRE-LENT MEETING.PROPOSED PRESENTATION TO THE HON. SECRETARY.

The pre-Lent meeting of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association was held at Thirsk, on Saturday, February 22nd, when 20 members of the association were present, and the towers represented were Middlesbrough, Ormesby, Northallerton, Sharow, Tadcaster and Thirsk.

Ringing was commenced about three o'clock, and continued till a late hour, Grandsire, Plain Bob, Stedman and Kent Treble Bob being the methods rung.

Tea at the Primrose Cafe was a very homely affair, and everyone was happy. An informal meeting was held at the conclusion of tea, and, after two new members had been elected, the question of a presentation to Mr. Thomas Metcalfe, who has been secretary and treasurer of the association for 21 years, was discussed.

It was decided that the president, together with Vice-Presidents Newton (of Stockton) and Stott (of Thirsk) be appointed a committee to organise the matter. Subscriptions are to be invited from each member of the association and other ringing friends of Mr. Metcalfe, and the presentation is to take place at the annual meeting to be held at Northallerton on Whit Monday.

Back to the tower, more ringing was the order. Everybody got a ring during the day; tyros were well looked after; everybody enjoyed themselves; no ringer can ask for more. J. C. P.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION'S TITLE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As no one else appears to have replied to Mr. F. W. Richardson's criticism, may I, as a member, explain that the phrase 'North Southwark Diocesan Guild' was suggested by the Bishop of Kingston when he met representatives of the association on behalf of the Bishop of Southwark, and that the new title was afterwards approved by the latter, and he consented to become patron. As the association has no desire to extend its existing territory, the term 'Southwark Diocesan Guild' would not have been appropriate, hence the present title.

I am not competent to express an opinion on Mr. Richardson's suggestion of 'Southwark Archdeaconry Guild,' but should have thought that if this description met the case the Bishop himself would have proposed it.—Yours faithfully, A. H. KEIGHLEY.

A quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes) was rung on Thursday, February 6th, at All Saints' Church, Kingston Seymour, Somerset, in commemoration of the Rev. NEW BELLS AT WILTON, TAUNTON.TREBLE GIVEN BY RINGERS.

Two new treble bells, increasing the ring to the full octave, have been added at St. George's Church, Wilton, Taunton, and they were dedicated on Thursday of last week by the Bishop of Taunton, who gave an inspiring address. Being himself a ringer, the Bishop preached a practical sermon, in which he urged all to live and work together in unity. The Vicar (the Rev. A. F. Judd) conducted the service, and there was a large congregation, including the local ringers.

The bells rang out in a touch of Stedman Triples after the service, and their tone was much admired by all.

The scheme for augmenting the bells has been talked about for ten years or so. The local band agreed to subscribe £25, and the Vicar appealed to four previous Vicars of the parish, who agreed with him to give one bell. The ringers then decided to do likewise, and made an appeal, both personally and through 'The Ringing World.' This appeal brought in over £25 from places as far afield as London and mid-Devon. The parishioners, after such a splendid example, followed with the remaining £200 required to complete the job.

The work has been carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, under the supervision of Mr. Jack Thomas (bell hanger). All who have heard the bells are agreed that the 'splice' is perfect. The back six (tenor 9 cwt.) have been on the lathe, and it is difficult to realise that any of them belonged to the old lot. The 'go' and circle are everything a good ringer desires.

Saturday was general ringers' day, when the bells were made full use of from rounds to Cambridge Surprise Major, everyone fully enjoying themselves. A bountiful tea was provided in the Scouts' Hut, presided over by the Vicar (Rev. A. F. Judd), Rev. J. E. G. Sweetman (of St. Mary's), Mr. T. Broomhead and Brig.-Gen. H. C. Frith (churchwardens) being also present. Tea over, a touch was rung on the handbells, and the Vicar then said how glad he was to see so many present. He extended a hearty welcome to all the visitors, and assured the gathering that he was alive to the fact that his ringers were an excellent set of men. Rev. J. E. G. Sweetman also spoke, and the churchwardens gave the ringers an excellent testimonial.

Mr. A. W. Hayward (captain) proposed a vote of thanks to the church authorities, parishioners and ringing friends who had so liberally subscribed to the fund.—Mr. S. G. Coles, the energetic collector, seconded, adding that an excellent feeling existed between the Vicar and churchwardens and the ringers, and it was most appropriate that a Vicars' bell and ringers' bell should hang side by side.

The lettering on the ringers' bell was kindly given by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A

A PEAL OF MINOR.

The question of what should be the conditions governing a peal of Minor is again coming into the arena of controversy, as a result of the suggested definitions put forward by the Rev. H. Law James in recent issues of 'The Ringing World.' Stripped of superfluities Mr. James' proposals are that the changes in a peal of Minor may come up in any order as long as in 5,040 none appears more than seven times, and he puts forward the proposals in order to get rid of what he calls an 'absurdity.' The absurdity is, however, only of his own making. Ringers whose standard for a peal of Minor is that each 720 shall end with rounds will disagree entirely with Mr. James when he says, in effect, that a peal rung with seven different callings or in seven different methods does not come within this standard. To the practical ringer it will sound equally absurd to be told that, because each 720 ends with rounds, each other of the 719 rows must fall in exactly the same place in each extent if it is to come within the limits of the above mentioned standard. Practice does not require it; common sense does not demand it and whatever justification there may be for a definition which permits the repetition of changes within the limits of each 720, let us avoid false reasoning as to the need for it.

In his letter justifying the definition which he puts forward, Mr. James remarks, 'The truth is that the peal is really one round block, not seven.' We do not want to do Mr. James an injustice, but if this statement refers to all peals of Minor, including those in which each 720 ends with rounds, is he not asking the Exercise to stretch its credulity a bit too far? A 'round block' is described in 'The Glossary,' as 'a block which comes round to the same row or point from which it started.' Although Mr. James may think differently, we imagine that the majority of ringers, with this definition before them, will have no hesitation in saying that seven 720's, each beginning from and ending with rounds, constitute seven round blocks. The theory of the 'one round block' is, of course, one of the essentials to Mr. James' proposal to permit the rows to come up in any order, irrespective of the truth of individual 720's. Unless he can convince the Exercise of this, one of his main props goes. If he is correct that seven 720's each ending in rounds is one round block and not seven round blocks, then two 5,040's of Grandsire Triples, rung without interval, would be one round block and not two. If Mr. James' proposals are to be accepted, the Exercise has got to alter its whole conception of a peal of Minor and in this connection it is interesting to recall that it was only about 40 years ago that the term 'peal' was applied to seven 720's.

Just prior to that time these performances were described as '5,040 changes of Minor,' and earlier still as 'seven peals of Minor, 5,040 changes,' showing that our forefathers, at any rate, looked upon the 720, and not the 5,040, as the unit of truth.

SURPRISE PRACTICE IN ELY ASSOCIATION.

A special practice of Ely Diocesan Association members was held at Ickleton on Thursday evening, February 13th, for Surprise Major, and courses of Cambridge, Superlative and London were accomplished. This is the first time a course of London has been rung in the district by a band of local ringers: P. Webb 1, F. Harper 2, E. G. Hibbins 3, R. Howard 4, A. E. Austin 5, C. Cook 6, E. Finch 7, R. King 8. The local men also had good practice for Double Norwich and Stedman Triples. The visitors greatly appreciated the action of the local company in allowing them to practise on their regular practice night.

RESTORATION OF FAVERSHAM BELLS.

The octave at the Parish Church of St. Mary of Charity, Faversham, Kent, have been reopened after a silence of fifteen months. The blessing of the recast bell prior to the ordinary evensong was performed by the Archdeacon of Canterbury, Canon Hardecastle.

Immediately after the dedicatory prayers, visiting ringers from Sittingbourne, Boughton-under-Blean, and other towers in the Ashford District, rang touches of Stedman, Grandsire, Double Norwich and Kent Treble Bob, while the bells were also rung for a short while after the service.

The Archdeacon preached to a large congregation, and referred to the history and uses of bells in general, and particularly to the English science of ringing.

The whole peal has been rehung on ball bearings, the oak frame strengthened, No. 6 bell, which was cracked, having been recast. The work has been carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, who have made an excellent 'splice,' the new bell blending perfectly with the remainder of the peal. Messrs. Gillett and Johnston were represented on the occasion by Mr. R. H. Dove.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

WESTERN DISTRICT'S RESOLUTIONS.

The meeting held at Northchurch on February 22nd was only fairly attended by small numbers from Tring, Berkhamsted, King's Langley, Redbourn, Abbots Langley, Watford, Leighton Buzzard and Hemel Hempstead. The ringing done was of a very low order.

The Rector kindly held a service and used the county association's form, after which he generously invited the members to tea in the Church Room. After tea, the Rector presided over a brisk meeting. One member's election was confirmed, and, providing the bells are ready, Hemel Hempstead was chosen for the next meeting, to be held before Easter.

It was proposed and seconded that, before the district committed itself, full particulars as to the working, etc., of the proposed Necessitous County Members' Fund be obtained.

Another measure carried was that 'a committee meeting be held once in each quarter, and that the agenda for the same be forwarded to each member of the committee before the said meeting.' It was also proposed and seconded that 'a record of compositions rung for the association be kept,' and, in addition, 'a schedule of all peals rung up to date be included in the annual report.'

The following was also passed, that 'the annual reports be issued within a month of the annual meeting.' An additional proposition was carried, that 'the agenda of the annual meeting be sent to each tower prior to that meeting.'

The meeting was unanimous that peal booking fees be paid by all or none.

The question of a new district secretary was left over until the Hemel Hempstead meeting. A very hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector for providing the tea and service, and also for the use of the bells.

The Rector replied and gave the ringers a hearty invitation to come whenever they wished.

This concluded the meeting, and the members adjourned for a little more ringing.

The secretary is very grateful to those members who attended, particularly those who did so at much inconvenience to themselves.

KENT ASSOCIATION'S JUBILEE MEETING.

SPECIAL RAILWAY FACILITIES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In connection with the jubilee meeting of the Kent County Association, which will be held at Canterbury on Easter Monday, and at which His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury will address the members and preside at the luncheon, I should like to bring to the notice of members and intending visitors that the Southern Railway Company have kindly granted concessions for travelling. Tickets for the return journey at single fare can be obtained from any station in Kent, Surrey, Sussex and London on presentation of a voucher, which can be obtained from the hon. secretary on receipt of a stamped envelope.

Trains have been arranged to enable visitors to arrive at Canterbury by 11 o'clock from London stations, viz., Cannon Street 7.26, Charing Cross 8.7, via North Kent, London Bridge 8.30, via Chatham, Charing Cross 8.15, via Ashford, Victoria 9.20, via Faversham. Connections between intermediate stations can be supplied when applying for voucher.

It is hoped a large number will attend and show their appreciation of the Archbishop's presence.

The bells at the Cathedral (12) and outlying districts will be available during the day, and particulars will be announced later.

Luncheon tickets for non-members can also be had on application, with remittance, 3s. each.—Yours faithfully,

FRED M. MITCHELL.

Hon. Secretary.

GUILDFORD RINGER'S SILVER WEDDING.

The silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jelley, of Guildford, was celebrated last week. Twenty-five years ago a peal of Bob Major was rung at what was then Holy Trinity Church, where Mr. Jelley was a ringer, in honour of the marriage. On Tuesday week, the same composition was rung in the same tower. Mr. Jelley has been a ringer for 30 years, and although he has rung only a few peals he has been a valued member of the Holy Trinity, now the Cathedral, Society. Mr. Jelley has also been a prominent Surrey footballer, having gained county honours as a goalkeeper.

On Saturday, at the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Jelley, a gathering of friends, numbering nearly 60, celebrated the silver wedding. The proceedings took place at Holy Trinity Parish Hall, and the company included the Provost of the Cathedral (Canon Kirwan) and the ringers. A most enjoyable evening was spent, the programme including touches on the handbells.

Opportunity was also taken to present Mr. Jelley with a silver bell inkstand, which was inscribed: 'Presented to Mr. W. E. Jelley by the Provost and ringers of the Cathedral Church, Guildford, on the occasion of his silver wedding, March 4th, 1930.' The presentation was made by the Provost, who congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Jelley on the auspicious event which they were celebrating.

OIL MADE THE BELLS GO.

A meeting of the Fylde Branch of the Lancashire Association was held at Bispham on Saturday last in glorious spring-like weather. The bells were set going with a touch of Grandsire Triples for the benefit of new members, followed by Bob Major, Little Bob and Stedman Triples. Through the generosity of the Rector and churchwardens, a substantial tea was provided at Ivy Cottage, the number being augmented by a few late comers, who could not resist watching the football match, Blackpool v. Notts County.

At the business meeting, reference was made to the excellent running of the bells compared with their condition about three months ago. One of the ringers accounted for the bells' good running by the fact that he had given the bells a good oiling previous to the meeting, and suggested that when a team wanted to make use of the bells for practice or a peal they should oil the bells themselves.

This oiling business is one of difficulty, owing to the small size of the tower, which is less than ten feet square, the bells, with a tenor of 10 cwt., being in two tiers. It is a clever engineering feat on the part of the bell hangers to have got the bells in the tower and such a good circle of ropes.

DEVON GUILD.

The spring meeting of the Exeter Branch was held at Whimble on Saturday, March 1st. The Rector, the Rev. E. A. Jullian, conducted a very hearty service in church, at which an interesting address was given by the president of the Guild (Rev. E. S. Powell, of Clyst St. George).

A tea and short business meeting followed in the Victory Hall, between 70 and 80 members and their friends being present. The Rev. E. V. Cox, chairman of the branch, presided, and was supported by the Rev. and Mrs. Powell, the Rev. E. A. Jullian, the Rev. G. E. F. Molineux (chairman of the N.E. Devon Branch), Mr. E. W. Marsh (hon. secretary of the S.W. Devon Branch), Mr. E. Shepherd (late chairman), and many honorary members.

A very hearty vote of thanks was carried, amidst acclamation, to the Rector, the president, the organist, and the ladies who had helped to dispense the tea. The Rector suitably replied, and said Whimble was very honoured to have members of the Guild meeting together in the parish twice within a few weeks, and he hoped they would not stop at that, but would come again.

Miss E. Lomas, hon. secretary of the branch, put forward the names of six new members, who were subsequently elected, and the autumn meeting was fixed for September 6th, at Clyst St. George.

Full use was made of the bells, which have recently been very successfully rehung in a metal frame, with entirely new fittings, by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and all the visitors expressed entire satisfaction with the enormous improvement in the 'go' and tone of the bells.

Members also visited Rockbeare, Lowton, Exminster, Feinton, Payhembury and other towers in the district during the afternoon and evening.

AN OXFORD BIRTHDAY TOUCH.

A novel performance was accomplished on St. Giles' bells, Oxford, on Sunday, February 16th, when seven members of the Oxford Society, all of whose birthdays occur in February, met together and rang a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples in 47 mins. The eighth man, whose little daughter's birthday also occurs in February, rang the tenor, thus making up the band for this unique occasion. Their names and birthdays are as follows: R. Allaworth (February 24th) 1, Miss M. Reynolds (February 23rd) 2, F. Taylor (February 17th) 3, F. Sharpe (February 22nd) 4, J. R. Chaundy (February 25th) 5, V. Bennett (February 25th) 6, R. Post (February 21st, conductor) 7, W. Judge (daughter's birthday, February 19th) 8.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. Harry Withers now holds the record for having attended a greater consecutive number of Johnson dinners than anyone else, viz., 32. And he looks well on it.

The Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild (Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) has promised to preach at the annual meeting of the Guildford Diocesan Guild on March 29th.

The late Mr. George Bowen, of Ilfracombe, was well known to many ringers who visited London for the College Youths' dinner. For something like thirty years—except, of course, during the war—Mr. Bowen made a pilgrimage to the Metropolis to meet his old friends at this gathering.

The six members of the Ladies' Guild who took part in the performance are to be congratulated on ringing a peal in three Minor methods at Gamston, Notts. We have it on the authority of an independent listener that the peal was a particularly good one.

Mr. U. Braven, leader of St. Luke's Church, Bristol, has been appointed pro. vice-chairman of the United Guilds. This will be the first six-bell tower to be represented in the chair of the Bristol United Ringing Guild's annual dinner. Mr. P. C. Williams is chairman and Mr. H. Burt is vice-chairman.

When we observed the other day to a prominent member of the Oxford Guild that it was a pity that 'March the 4th' at Appleton so often clashed with the Johnson dinner, we were reminded that the fault lay with the organisers of the Birmingham feast. March the 4th at Appleton has been celebrated for 112 years.

But the Gloucester and Leicester dinners cannot lay claim to the same antiquity. Perhaps next year the promoters will avoid February 28th.

On this day, 203 years ago, the first peal was rung at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, London, when the London Scholars (now the Royal Cumberland Youths) rang 6,006 Grandsire Cinques. On the following day, the College Youths had the use of the bells and went one better, by ringing 6,314 in the same method.

On March 14th, 1837, a peal of 10,133 Grandsire Caters was rung at Christ Church, Bristol.

A cryptic postcard has reached us from Norwich containing division sums to prove that the peal of Grandsire Caters recorded at St. Peter Mancroft, which stated that 12,603 changes were rung on March 8th, 1737, is three changes over 700 leads—a rather unusual length truly, if the record is correct. Perhaps the peal was actually 12,600.

The attention of Suffolk ringers is called to the alteration of date of the meeting at Ufford. The meeting will be held on March 22nd.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The first session of the Fourteenth Council (38th annual meeting) will be held by the courtesy of the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, at Lambeth Palace, London, on Whitsun Tuesday, June 10th. Full particulars of the meeting will appear later.

Notices of motion should reach me ten weeks beforehand in order that they may be included in the agenda, which, under the rules, has to be published eight weeks before the meeting.

Subscriptions (on the revised scale) are now due.

WRINGTON BELLS. ONE OF THE GLORIES OF SOMERSET.

Somerset is a particularly fortunate county in regard to its rings of bells, for there are many glorious peals within its boundaries. Not far from the foot of the Mendips lies Wrington, a fine old-world village, with a magnificent church, whose tower is said to have formed the model upon which the architect of the Houses of Parliament modelled the Victoria tower. And Wrington has one of the finest rings of bells in all Somerset—a ring of ten with tenor of 37 cwt. in C sharp. The foundation of the peal is some old ones cast by the Bilbies, of Chewstoke, who put the back six into the tower at various dates in the eighteenth century. Treble and tenor were recast in 1845; and in 1911 four trebles were added by the Whitechapel Foundry. Previous to 1845, the treble of the six weighed 10½ cwt., and the tenor 33½ cwt. Recently the bells have been overhauled by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and there is an enthusiastic local band who are making headway in change ringing.

WRINGTON CHURCH.

It is curious that the old bells, while giving the names of the churchwardens of their day, do not give the name of the incumbent. The inscriptions are as follow:—

- Treble.—Mears and Stainbank, 1911.
- 2.—Mears and Stainbank, 1911. The gift of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wills.
- 3.—Mears and Stainbank. The gift of the Rev. G. M. Ashdown and his wife.
- 4.—Mears and Stainbank, 1911. The gift of Mr. E. Hanison.
- 5.—The Rev. John Vane, Rector; James Cockburn, John Young, Churchwardens. Mears, Founder, 1845.
- 6.—Mr. Purnell, Mr. Parsley, Churchwardens. Thomas Bilbie, Founder, 1750.
- 7.—Mr. Peter Hill, Mr. Edward Burrough, Churchwardens. Thomas Bilbie, Founder, 1765.
- 8.—Mr. W. Purnell, Mr. Parsley, Churchwardens. Thomas Bilbie, Founder, 1750.
- 9.—Mr. Walters, Mr. Breane, Churchwardens. Bilbie, Chewstoke, Founder, 1712.
- Tenor.—The Rev. John Vane, Rector; James Cockburn, John Young, Churchwardens. Mears, Founder, 1845.

AN ANCIENT PEAL OF SIX RESTORED

The ancient ring of six bells at Sedlescombe, Sussex, which have been retuned and rehung, were recently dedicated by the Archbishop of Hastings. These bells are one of the oldest rings of six in the country, and came from the Whitechapel Foundry. Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have carried out the work, the cost of which was defrayed by Mr. and Mrs. Kingdon. A special band of members of the Sussex Association did the opening ringing.

LEICESTER SOCIETIES UNITE AT DINNER.

ENJOYABLE FIRST GATHERING.

The first of what is hoped will be a series of many annual dinners held by Leicester and District Societies took place at the King Richard III. Hotel, Higheross Street, Leicester, on Saturday, March 1st. The bells of St. Margaret's (12), the Cathedral (10) and All Saints' (5) were open for ringing from 3.30 till 6 p.m. Unfortunately, the fine peal of ten at St. John's were unavailable owing to serious illness near the church. Visitors to St. Margaret's were very interested in the magnificent peal book at that church. This is a real work of art. It has been beautifully executed in coloured inks, and is the result of many hours' labour on the part of the painstaking Ringing Master of St. Margaret's, Mr. Ernest Morris. The ringing varied from Grandsire Doubles to Stedman Cinques and Cambridge Surprise Royal. Rounds and call changes were also rung on St. Margaret's bells, which gave some of the ringers an opportunity of ringing on 12 bells for the first time.

A company of 58 ringers and friends sat down to dinner, and six or seven more came in for the concert afterwards. The only thing that could be at all regretted was that members were a little pressed for room, but it is hoped that next year, when a still larger gathering is looked for, a more spacious room will be obtained. The following towers in the areas were represented at the dinner: Anstey, Billesdon, Edmondthorpe, Hallaton, Husbands Bosworth, Leicester (St. Margaret's), the Cathedral, St. John's, St. Peter's, Belgrave, and St. Saviour's), Ratby, Rothley, Syston, Thrusington, Waltham, Wigston Magna and Wymondham. Welcome visitors were Mr. Albert H. Ward, of Derby, and Messrs. Edward C. Gobey and James F. George, of Ilkeston.

After the tables had been cleared, the party settled down to a really enjoyable impromptu concert. The following seven tunes were excellently rendered on the handbells (four 'in hand') by Messrs. W. Willson, E. Morris, H. J. Poole and P. Harrison: 'Drink to me only,' 'Blue Bells of Scotland,' 'Annie Laurie,' 'Men of Harlech,' 'Swanee River,' 'Soldier's Joy,' and 'The Bells of St. Mary.' An excellent course of Stedman Caters was also rung by E. Morris 1-2, H. J. Poole 3-4, A. H. Ward 5-6, W. Willson 7-8, R. F. Elkington 9-10. The remainder of the handbell ringing consisted of a course of 'Rugby Triples Major' ('Cag-Mag') by J. Morris 1-2, R. F. Elkington 3-4, E. Morris 5-6, H. J. Poole 7-8; and a course of Grandsire Triples, '4 in hand,' by W. P. Whitehead 1-2-3-4, E. R. Whitehead 5-6-7-8.

Mr. C. Turner entertained those present in his own witty manner, and the following kindly contributed songs: Mr. F. Howe ('The Sentinel'), Mr. J. Morris ('The Coffee Mill'), Mr. H. J. Poole ('Topical Song'), Mr. A. H. Mansfield ('Come landlord, fill the flowing bowl,' and 'Billy Muggins'). The audience wholeheartedly joined in the chorus of the four latter songs. One of the most enjoyable items of the evening was Mr. Harold Poole's 'Topical Song,' in which the bells of local towers and prominent Leicester ringers were skillfully introduced into a rollicking ditty, the chorus of which was sung with considerable vigour.

Previous to the commencement of the concert, the Chairman, Mr. A. J. Harris, submitted the toast of 'The King,' which was duly honoured. Other toasts were given at intervals during the evening. Mr. W. Willson submitted 'The Visitors.' He said that he could remember the time when there were differences of opinion between the ringers of the different churches in Leicester, but these had now happily passed away, and they were that evening all gathered together under one roof as a big united family. He also spoke a word of welcome to those who had come from towers outside the city, mentioning by name Mr. P. Hardy, of Thrusington, with whom he rang over 40 years ago. Mr. Willson went on to say that he hoped that that gathering would be the forerunner of many annual dinners, and that he was pleased to see so many present. He hoped that next year they would have still more there, and that they would hold it in a larger room.

Mr. E. C. Gobey (Ilkeston) responded, and thanked Mr. Willson for his welcome to the visitors. Mr. P. Hardy, of Thrusington (for very many years hon. secretary of the Goscombe Deanery Society of Church Bellringers), supported Mr. Gobey in his remarks. He said that he had had a good many years' experience of ringers, and knew the difficulties that those who held any official position had to contend with. He said how very much he had enjoyed the evening, and expressed thanks for the invitation given to him.

Mr. H. G. Jenney submitted the toast of 'The Leicester and District Societies.' He said this was one of the occasions which helped one to realise what a good thing it was to be a bellringer. He said that other places had these annual gatherings, and he saw no reason why Leicester should not do the same, and that an evening such as they had enjoyed made him realise what they had been missing in the past.

During the last half-hour, those present were given an opportunity of exercising their voices, when they were divided in four groups, and the old 'round song,' 'London's Burning,' was sung with vigour for a few minutes. The singing of 'Auld Lang Syne' a few minutes before 11 p.m. brought a very enjoyable evening to a conclusion.

THE JOHNSON COMMEMORATION DINNER.

In replying to the toast of 'Continued prosperity to St. Martin's Guild,' proposed by the chairman (Alderman J. S. Pritchett), Mr. T. H. Reeves (the hon. secretary) said that prosperity needed fidelity. That was the secret of the whole matter, and they of St. Martin's had been extremely fortunate in the very enthusiastic band of officers they had had. So long as that continued, he was sure the prosperity of the Guild was assured.

Mr. A. Paddon Smith, also called upon to respond, said the Guild was exceedingly fortunate in having the services of Mr. Reeves as secretary, and with him and their esteemed Presiding Ringing Master still holding office, the Guild would go on and prosper.

THE CATHEDRAL BELLS.

Mr. Albert Walker also had to reply, and took the opportunity of impressing on the Bishop the need for a complete restoration of the bells at the Cathedral. It was very regrettable, he said, that when the authorities carried out their recent renovations of the Cathedral and the organ they did not do something to the bells, which ought to come right out and be recast and re-erected in a new frame. They ought to have the best peal of bells possible at the Cathedral, but, unfortunately, they had not only the worst in the diocese, but the worst in the world (laughter and hear, hear). Out of the ten, five were cracked as far as they could tell. The Guild were always impressing on the various authorities the need for putting and keeping these bells in order, equally with any other part of the church property. They were fortunate in that diocese that the bells generally were well looked after, and he hoped the Bishop would use his influence to obtain a thorough restoration of the bells at the Cathedral. It would have an important bearing on the structure of the tower, for a modern framework would strengthen it by one hundred per cent. He hoped before another twelve months had gone by something might be done. He believed if an appeal were made to the citizens of Birmingham for money for the renovation of the Cathedral bells it would come in just as fast as for the fabric and the beautiful organ (applause).

Mr. J. F. Smallwood proposed 'The Visitors,' whom, he said, they were always glad to see and welcome. They valued the presence of those who came from near and far, and they appreciated the honour which the visitors thus conferred upon them.

A RUMOUR.

Mr. E. W. Elwell, who first responded, said it was difficult for visitors, when they came to that gathering, to believe that they were visitors. St. Martin's Guild made them so welcome that they felt completely at home. They were among people they knew; all were friends, and it was a thoroughly pleasant evening. Continuing, Mr. Elwell said he found his name had been associated with rumours that someone was wanted to undertake a certain amount of work in the Exercise. That rumour did not hold the truth that he personally would like it to hold. There were so many calls made upon his time at present that he was unable to do everything he would like to do for the Exercise.

Mr. E. A. Young also replied, and said, in regard to the rumours referred to, if they could only be upheld with truth to Mr. Elwell, the office in question would be filled with the utmost ability. The way in which Mr. Elwell met any emergency and said the right thing at the right time would make him a very useful officer of the Central Council if he was able to add the duties to his many fields of activity.

Mr. F. W. Perrins, in proposing the toast of 'The Ringing World,' said it was now 19 years since the paper began publication. What amount of progress the Exercise had made as a result could not be measured any more than they were able to measure the good done to the Exercise by the man whose memory they were honouring that night. They could not, however, deny for one moment the advantage to ringers of having their own journal. There were, he remarked, no less than 27 ringers' gatherings in various parts of the country that day; without the aid of 'The Ringing World,' through which ringers were able to learn what was taking place, few of those gatherings would be the success that they were. Mr. Perrins urged all those who now supported 'The Ringing World' to do all in their power to get others to support it, so that the circulation might be considerably increased. He suggested that ringers would welcome in the columns of 'The Ringing World' a series of sketches of the lives, with portraits, if possible, of past stalwarts of the Exercise. Those who came to the Henry Johnson dinner, who had seen his portrait regularly on the programme, and had heard the reminiscences of him by people who knew him, really felt as if they had themselves known Henry Johnson, and he felt sure that ringers generally would like to make acquaintance in the same way with many of the other worthies of the past.

With the toast was associated the names of both Mr. and Mrs. Goldsmith, whose health was drunk with musical honours. Mr. Goldsmith replied.

The Chairman thanked those who had contributed to the programme, especially the St. Martin's Quartette, with whom the ringers were co-workers in the church.

PEALS OF MINOR.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I heartily agree with all Mr. Whittington says in your last issue, and unless the Council definitely decides as to what shall constitute peals of Doubles and Minor, this controversy will keep coming up.

Reverting to the definition of peal of Minor as given by Mr. James in your issue of February 28th, I am surprised that Mr. James should take up your valuable space by sending such examples as A and B, especially after condemning so strongly 720's of Cambridge and London which bring up 5-6 at hand. As he rightly says, A consists of three true and complete 720's, containing 9, 12 and 15 bobs, each having nine 5-6's at hand, whilst B contains three 720's, none of them true or complete, and bringing up no less than thirty-six 5-6's at hand, one being rounds. Which would six-bell ringers prefer to ring?

With reference to Mr. James' statement that there are only five possible 720's of Minor, viz., 9, 12, 15, 18 and 21 bobs, I give below four 720's, and would like Mr. James to explain that, if Nos. 1 and 2 are one and the same, what are Nos. 3 and 4?

Killamarsh.

Yours etc.,

C. SEVERN.

Sir,—With reference to Rev. Law James' Bob Minor in 'The Ringing World' of February 28th, surely, with six variations of 18 Bobs, 2 Singles, six variations of 16 Bobs, 2 Singles, and 'unpleen' other 720's in 'Ropesight,' there is no need for anything in the nature of a freak in Bob Minor. I think it is nearly time we got to the definition between a variation of a calling and seven different 720's.

This seems to adhere to my letter some months ago. Once you may have rung the true 720 changes, it matters not an iota as to how the next six come up, provided you repeat nothing more than five times.

I hope when the Central Council meet again they will make this subject a strong point, and state what is legal and what is otherwise.—Yours faithfully, Longstanton.

HAPPY ANYWHERE.

Mr. A. E. Parsons gave 'The Chairman,' and congratulated Alderman Pritchett on having rung a peal of Stedman Cinques to celebrate his 75th birthday. There were, he said, few men in the Exercise who could ring a peal in that method at that age.

The toast was musically honoured.

Alderman Pritchett made a characteristic response. The proposer had asked whether he was happiest in performing his masonic duties or amongst ringers, and had anticipated his reply by suggesting he was equally happy with both. 'I am happy all the time,' said the Chairman, 'whatever I am doing. Under the providence of God, I have good health, as far as I know my mind and body are unimpaired, and that is a condition in which one enjoys life in all circumstances. I am happiest at the moment wherever I happen to be. At the present moment I cannot imagine myself happier than in your company, and responding to this toast. We may pride ourselves on this gathering, and we thank Mr. Reeves for the arrangements made for it.'

The Rector of Birmingham who came in late in the proceedings, then addressed a few words to the company, expressing regret that he had been prevented by another engagement from joining them earlier.

This concluded the proceedings, and the gathering broke up after singing the National Anthem.

The delightful programme of music which interspersed the speeches was sustained by Madame Lilley McCormack, Mr. A. S. Downes, Mr. W. C. Dowding, who contributed songs, and St. Martin's quartette, whose finely rendered glees and part-songs were a feature of the evening's entertainment.

Many of the visitors spent another happy day on Sunday, and a number made an excursion in the morning to Walsall to ring on the new peal of twelve bells there.

THE LATE MR. GEORGE BOWEN.

LIFELONG ASSOCIATION WITH ILFRACOMBE CHURCH.

As briefly recorded in our last issue, Mr. George Bowen, of Ilfracombe, passed away on Saturday week. Mr. Bowen, who was 83 years of age, was a descendant of a famous Ilfracombe family. One of his ancestors, Capt. Richard Bowen, commanded H.M.S. 'Terpsichore' and lost his life at Tenerife in 1797. Capt. Bowen was one of those who were ordered to stay and spike the guns so that they would be useless to the enemy. The task was fulfilled, but all who took part lost their lives.

George Bowen had been associated with Holy Trinity Church, Ilfracombe, practically all his life. He had been a chorister for over 70 years, a ringer for more than 60 years, and parish clerk during nearly as long a period. He served under four incumbents, and literally lived for his church. His life was one of the most selfless and beautiful that a man could live. Thinking always of others and how best he could be of service, Mr. Bowen was loved by all who knew him intimately.

He was not a great ringer as ringers are reckoned in these days, but his whole life and work leave a splendid example. He was responsible for the introduction of change ringing to Ilfracombe when only six bells hung in the tower, and when two trebles were offered in 1893 he undertook to raise the funds for the necessary framework and the hanging. He was ever ready to help young ringers, and those who know the coast hills of North Devon will realise what it meant for him to cycle the 20 miles to Lynton and back every week to give instruction to the local band. It was his efforts, also, which resulted in the only peal that has been rung on Lundy Island. In addition to being a member of the Devon Guild, he was also a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, and he attended the annual dinner in London regularly for about 30 years.

Mr. Bowen was also a Freemason and a member of the Oddfellows' Friendly Society.

The funeral service took place on Thursday of last week, and was conducted by the Vicar, who was assisted by the Revs. F. Nesbit (of Exeter, a former curate at Ilfracombe), W. Pigot (West Down), and N. Phillips. The cortege was met at the lych gate by the choir and clergy, the path being lined by a guard of honour of Oddfellows. The coffin was borne from deceased's residence to the church by Oddfellows. The bearers in church were members of the choir, and the coffin was borne from the porch to the graveside by the following bellringers: Messrs. H. G. Ridge, C. W. Filer, F. Blackmore, A. Turner, J. Sprague, and J. Richards. The 90th Psalm was chanted, and the hymns, 'Nearer, my God, to Thee,' and 'Now the labourer's task is o'er,' were sung. The organist (Mr. R. D. Finch) played appropriate music, and muffled peals were rung on the bells. Mr. W. Butler read the Oddfellows' order of service at the graveside.

The mourners were Mrs. Bowen (widow), Mrs. Vickory (sister-in-law), Mr. Ernest Phillippe and Mr. Charles Belben (nephews), Mrs. E. Hughes, Mr. A. Hughes (London), and Sister Sergeant.

A large congregation assembled to pay their last tribute of respect.

SUFFOLK GUILD VISITED BY ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

SUCCESSFUL JOINT MEETING AT CLARE.

The joint meeting of the Suffolk Guild and the Essex Association was the most successful meeting held at Clare for some years. Over 50 members from 19 parishes (ten from Suffolk and nine from Essex) were present. The Vicar (Canon Vatcher) gave a hearty welcome to the visitors, and at the service gave an inspiring address on the messages of the bells. The Rev. H. Drake (hon. secretary of the Suffolk Guild) also took part in the service.

At the business meeting, Canon Vatcher presided, and was supported by Mr. Chas. Sedgely (Master) and Rev. Drake (secretary of the Suffolk Guild), Mr. C. H. Howard (Master) and Mr. F. Ridge-well (district secretary of the Essex Association).

Mr. Howard spoke of the friendly relations that existed between neighbouring associations, and of the mutual help one could be to the other.

The Chairman spoke of the restoration of the tower at Clare which was carried out some years ago. He said that it was a most wonderful piece of work, and was carried out under the supervision of three famous architects of the day.

Four new members of the Suffolk Guild were elected. Mr. J. Ince was elected secretary of the Clare District. The members adjourned to the tower for further ringing, which included Bob Major, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Stedman, Superlative, Cambridge and London Surprise and Double Norwich.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A very successful meeting of this association was held at Wylam-on-Tyne on Saturday, March 1st, about 20 members from Tanfield, Winton, Newton Hall, Durham, Gateshead, Newcastle, and Sunderland being present. The fine peal of six at St. Oswin's (tenor 22 cwt.) was kept going during the afternoon and evening, and an excellent tea, presided over by Mr. E. E. Ferry, was provided at the Ship Hotel.

THE GLOUCESTER DINNER.

A HAPPY GATHERING.

The annual dinner of the Gloucester Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was held on Saturday, March 1st, at the Park End Hotel. The Rev. H. M. Braithwaite (Rural Dean) presided, supported by Mr. J. Austin (branch chairman), Mr. W. H. Harris (hon. branch secretary), Mr. T. Baldwin, Mr. Sidney Romans, Mr. and Mrs. E. Evans, Mr. Geo. Jackson (churchwarden, St. Mary de Lode), Mr. E. Wilkins (Bristol), ex-Sergt. Williams (Newent), Captain C. Lodge (Quedgeley), Mr. J. Clarke (Ross), and the veteran of the branch, Mr. B. Etheridge (Maisemore), who is in his 83rd year. The visitors included Messrs. Bishop and Kynaston (Swindon), Jeffries (Mangotsfield), Fussell and Burcombe (Dursley), Mr. and Mrs. Clements (Bourton-on-the-Water), and Messrs. Ballinger, Townsend and Waters (Leckhampton). Altogether a party of 50 sat down. After dinner, the loyal toast was duly honoured. Before proceeding further with the programme, the Chairman referred to the loss the branch had sustained by the death of Mr. G. L. Brunsdon, who had been connected with ringing since 1888, and who had been looking forward to the present function. They would, said the Chairman, all miss his genial presence and his willingness to assist the branch and anyone in the art of ringing. The Chairman also made reference to the death of Mr. T. Mansfield, of Quedgeley, and he asked the branch secretary to write to the relatives of both families on behalf of the members, expressing their deepest sympathy with them in their sad bereavement. He asked those present to stand in silence as a last tribute of respect to the departed.

The toast of 'The Church' was proposed by Captain Lodge, who incidentally remarked that they had a nice peal of bells at Quedgeley but did not have a full band of ringers. He wished to thank the Gloucester ringers for coming to their assistance when required. He also apologised for the absence of the Rev. G. H. Hadow, Vicar of Quedgeley.

The Chairman, in responding to the toast, said he was placed in a difficult position as regards St. Michael's bells. Experts had given advice on the matter, and he hoped in the near future something would be done.

The toast of 'The Gloucester and Bristol Association' was submitted by Mr. T. Baldwin, who wished the association every success. Mr. J. Austin, responding, said he was pleased to see such a large gathering that evening, and hoped to see more ladies attending these functions in the future. In the course of his remarks, the speaker said he should like to see more of the younger generation take a greater interest in the art of ringing.

The health of 'The Branch Secretary' was given by Captain C. Lodge, who said there was always a lot of spade work for a secretary to do on such occasions as that, and he was pleased to see it had been carried out in such an efficient manner. The toast was received with musical honours, and the Secretary, in replying, said that without the help of the excellent Dinner Committee he could not have had such a good result.

The toast of 'Kindred Guilds and Associations' was proposed by Mr. Geo. Jackson, and responded to by ex-Sergt. Williams, while that of 'The Visitors' was proposed by Mr. Sidney Romans and acknowledged by Mr. Townsend.

A capital programme of music and songs was given by the Tuffley Revellers' Concert Party, through the kindness of Mr. T. Baldwin, courses of Triples on handbells by Messrs. Baldwin, Etheridge, Williams and Harris, and selection on handbells by Mr. Harold Holford, of Cheltenham.

At the close of the enjoyable evening, Captain C. Lodge proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the chairman for his kindness in presiding. This was endorsed by Mr. J. Austin, and the Chairman (Rev. H. M. Braithwaite), who was received with musical honours, said it was a pleasure to be able to preside over such a large gathering of campanologists and friends, and he trusted next year it would be larger still.

The singing of the 'National Anthem' brought a very happy gathering to an end.

NEWCASTLE CATHEDRAL GUILD.

After the peal of Stedman Cinques rung on January 23th, to celebrate Mr. William Story's 70th birthday, he intimated his intention of giving the whole of the active members of the Guild a dinner. This promise was faithfully and handsomely kept on a subsequent Saturday evening, when twenty members sat down to an excellent meal in the Princess Restaurant. Mr. Story occupied the chair, and was supported by every active member of the Guild except Messrs. J. W. Parker, George Pickering and R. Thompson, sen., who all sent apologies for absence. A varied musical programme was carried out, the treat of the evening being tune ringing by Messrs. Barber, Davidson and R. Anderson 'four in hand.'

The Ringing Master, Mr. Routledge, proposed the health and prosperity of 'The Host,' and wished him many more years of active ringing. The toast was greeted with musical honours, and Mr. Story suitably replied.

The evening finished appropriately with a course of Grandsire Cinques on handbells.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

NORTH BUCKS BRANCH.

A quarterly meeting of the North Bucks Branch was held at Twyford on Saturday, March 1st, and a very representative gathering was present considering that this place is rather wide of the scope of activities in North Bucks. Towers represented were Blechley, Beachampton, Penny Stratford, Stony Stratford, Simpson, Whaddon, and the local ringers, with representatives from the Central Bucks Branch, including the secretary, the Rev. J. F. Amies, of Edgecote. Service was conducted by the Vicar of Twyford (Rev. A. S. St. Ledger Westall), who gave a very interesting address. Tea was provided in the schoolroom, when about 25 sat down.

After tea, the Secretary (Mr. W. Sear) took the opportunity of making reference to the death of an old and very respected member of North Bucks Branch in the person of Mr. W. Bouham, of Stony Stratford. He asked the meeting to show their respect to his memory by standing in silence. This having been done, the Secretary said there was no special business to bring forward, but he welcomed the secretary of Central Bucks Branch and its members to that meeting.

The usual vote of thanks to the Vicar for making the visit to Twyford so pleasant was suitably responded to by the Rev. A. St. L. Westall, who asked the branch to come more frequently. During the day, touches were rung in methods ranging from Grandsire and Stedman Doubles to Cambridge Minor.

NEW CHAIRMAN OF NEWBURY BRANCH.

A successful meeting of the Newbury Branch was held at Chieveley on Saturday, March 1st, when the following towers were represented: Bucklebury, Beeton, Brightwalton, Newbury, Peasemore, Shaw, Thatcham, and the local ringers. Visitors were also present from Binfield. A short service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. Bonsey), who gave a very helpful address. Tea was served in the Vicarage Barn, when 29 sat down to an excellent tea, kindly given by the Rev. H. Bonsey.

The business meeting followed, at which the first item on the agenda was the election of a chairman for the branch, owing to the departure from the district of the Rev. L. R. Majendie.

The Hon. Secretary and Treasurer (Mr. H. W. Curtis), taking the chair for a few moments, proposed the Rev. H. Bonsey as chairman pro. tem., which was seconded by Mr. E. Crocker and carried unanimously. The Vicar, taking the chair, presided over the meeting.

The spring meeting was fixed for Thatcham on Saturday, April 26th. One new ringing member was elected, and a hearty vote of thanks, proposed by the secretary, was accorded to the Rev. H. Bonsey for his kindness in giving the tea, and for his address, and also to the ladies for their services, and carried with applause. The Vicar suitably responded, and thanked the meeting for his election as chairman of the branch.

The tower was again visited, and Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Plain Bob Minor were rung.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

SOUTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

A most successful by-meeting was held at Springfield on Saturday, when 23 members were present from Braintree, Broomfield, Chelmsford, Croydon, Galleywood, Great Baddow, Rettendon and Springfield. After two hours' ringing in the afternoon, a short service was conducted by the Rector (Rev. C. Hargreaves), the lesson being read by Mr. C. H. Howard, Master of the association.

An excellent tea was served in the Women's Institute, presided over by the Rector, supported by Rev. F. A. Roughton (Vicar of Galleywood) and Mr. C. H. Howard. The District Master presided at the business meeting, when it was arranged to hold the next meeting at Boreham on Saturday, April 12th, and also a meeting at Burnham-on-Crouch and Southminster on Saturday, June 21st.

One new ringing member was elected.

Mr. C. H. Howard proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, for taking the service, and for his address, and also to the organist. The Rector, in reply, said he was very pleased to welcome the ringers to Springfield, and hoped he would soon have the pleasure of doing so again.

Some members remained for handbell ringing, while others returned to the tower, where the bells were kept going till 9 p.m. in various methods.

WERE THE UMPIRES QUALIFIED?

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the footnote to the handbell peal of Bob Major at Higham's Park, kindly permit me to offer congratulations to those two promising ringers. But, the umpires. Who are these fellows? Are they themselves ringers? Are they both fully qualified to act in this capacity? Umpires of such peals should be competent ringers. However, I trust these two ringers and umpires, too, will progress sufficiently that ultimately they will each secure a place in the 1st eleven.—Yours sincerely,

F. W. RICHARDSON.

THE MASONIC PEAL BOOK.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—This book is now completed, and as soon as we are satisfied that the records are up to date an early opportunity will be taken of depositing it in the Library and Museum of Grand Lodge. The peals recorded therein are as follows:—

Grandsire Caters at St. Clement Danes on December 4th, 1919.

Kent Treble Bob Major at Garston on March 29th, 1924.

Stedman Triples at Bushey on February 14th, 1925.

Stedman Triples at Erdington on February 27th, 1926.

Stedman Caters at Solihull on April 24th, 1926.

Stedman Cinques at Chelmsford on July 17th, 1926.

Cambridge Major at Crayford on April 9th, 1927.

Kent Treble Bob Royal at Solihull on November 19th, 1927.

Stedman Triples at Chester-le-Street on October 31st, 1927.

If there be other peals I shall be obliged if the conductors will supply me with the usual particulars, as published in 'The Ringing World,' together with the number and name of lodge of each ringer, also whether Bro. or W.Bro. I shall then be pleased to make arrangements for the writing of the peal and insertion in the book. I hope that any omissions will be supplied to me at an early date, but I shall keep it open until the end of March.

For the information of ringing brethren, I give the technical description of the book as given by the maker: 'The leaves are of Jap vellum, gilt edges, book sewn with sutured silk, silk ends, sewn blue silk, and the book bound in Sumach tanned morocco of a Masonic blue, and the lettering of embellishments are of pure gold.'

The book is 11in. x 9in., and on the outside is printed in gold lettering: 'Antient Free and Accepted Masons of England Peal Book,' with the Masonic device of the Square and Compasses above the last two words. The fly leaf contains the same wording within an ornamental border with this further wording: 'An account of peals rung upon bells by hands consisting entirely of Freemasons, presented to Grand Lodge by ringing Brethren.'

The peals are written by the writer who does the entries in the College Youths' Peal Book, and are in his best style.

The Grand Librarian has consented to receive the book for Grand Lodge, but stipulates that it be not removed from the Library when once deposited. The book has, therefore, been made upon the loose-leaf principle, with fly leaves to permit of the insertion of further peals. Accommodation and additional leaves are provided for as many peals as are likely to be rung for many years to come (there are some eighty or so additional leaves). When any further peals fall to be recorded, a sheet may be obtained from the Grand Librarian, who will insert it in the book after the peal is written up. The writer's usual charge is about 7s. each.—Yours, etc.,

F. WHITE.

Westfield, Cranbrook, Kent.

A TENOR WITH A PREFERENCE.

On March 8th a very successful meeting of the Nottingham District of the Midland Counties Association was held at Ruddington. The bells were kept going in various methods from 3 p.m. until 8.30 p.m. About 25 members turned up, and they put their backs into it well, but the tenor would insist on playing nasty tricks, and would not go to Double Norwich. After a time, however, she was coaxed to go to Cambridge and Treble Bob, but she preferred keeping behind in Stedman.

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent looking round this beautiful church, inside and out, but the bells want the bell founders round them. There has never been a peal rung on them yet, and none of the party seemed to be anxious to fix up a peal.

The next monthly meeting of the district is to be held at Southwell, if the bells are available, if not, at Radcliffe-on-Trent (six bells), on the first Saturday in April.

SHIPLAKE RINGERS' LOSS.

On Thursday, March 6th, were laid to rest at Shiplake, Oxon, the mortal remains of Mr. F. W. Nicholson, on the eve of his 80th birthday. He was interred by the side of Mrs. Nicholson, who predeceased him in September, 1928. In August last, Mr. Nicholson gave up the Old Vicarage to live with his son, and he passed away on the 3rd inst. at Wester Close, Withypool, Dulverton, Somerset. It was Mr. Nicholson's wish that the writer of these lines should make his coffin. The wish was carried out, and on Tuesday, March 4th, a distance of 320 miles was covered, and, as the body was reverently being placed in the belfry, the tenor bell singularly started to speak out—it was the hour of 10 p.m.

'The Ringing World' has contained many accounts of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson's hospitality to the Shiplake ringers, who have lost these noble hearts in which 'the milk of human kindness made the whole world kin.'

The funeral service was fully choral; half-muffled touches were rung before and after, and in the evening a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung by: A. Hirstead 1, W. Wicks 2, E. Smith 3, O. W. Porter 4, G. Cleave (conductor) 5, J. Hiscock 6, O. W. Porter, jun., 7, R. Allum, 8. The striking in this touch was of a very high standard. The men at the ropes gave of their best to the glory of God and in memory of a gentleman. O. W. P.

THE 18 TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at
RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A

THE OTHER 25,000.

It is strange that, in spite of all the efforts that are put into the working of ringing associations, a large number of towers and ringers remain outside these organisations. Associations throughout the country have been working for years, some of them for more than half a century, and yet it has to be admitted that there are many towers in which the ringers are content to stand apart from their county or diocesan ringing society. Why is that the long-continued efforts that have been made to reach these 'outsiders' have failed? It may sound an astonishing thing to say, but there are probably more ringers outside the associations than in them. At a meeting a few weeks ago the President of the Central Council stated that last year there were 46,000 ringers in England. His statistics were authoritative, and he was able to give the exact numbers and the decreases in the last two years. The Central Council itself represents practically all the ringing organisations of importance, but we doubt if the whole of the affiliated societies include 20,000 individual ringers, when allowance is made for overlapping. Why is it that 25,000 and more are still outside the 'fold'?

There are probably a number of causes and we doubt if any one of them is more responsible than another. Here, however, are some of the reasons which, we believe, affect the position. There are those who, frankly, do not want to come in, because they cannot see that they are going to get something out of it. They are the people who can only appreciate a spirit of 'brotherhood' if the other man is going to give them something more than they will give him. There are those, also, who, because they are not change ringers at all or are only indifferent change ringers, imagine that a ringing association has no place for them. From their standpoint they cannot appreciate the fact that these organisations are out to promote the progress of such as they are. Then again there are some who, with an eye on 'the loaves and fishes,' set their faces very firmly against the intrusion of strangers into their belfries for fear that they may eventually lose the few pounds that are annually divided among the band. They do not realise that associations do not desire to interfere in their domestic affairs. And beyond these there is still a larger class of 'ringers' who are so lethargic or so indifferent to the art that their interest in it is absolutely nil. No amount of effort would ever drag them into an association. They are the men who, even when a meeting is arranged at their own tower, stay away. They are the 'dead wood' on the tree and so far as they are concerned drastic pruning might make it better for the Exercise. There are other types also, including those bands who deliberately resolve to stay outside, probably under the influence of one man with a grievance, but they all lack the real spirit which makes the brotherhood of the Exercise the great thing that it is, and which has lifted the art of ringing from a secular pastime to a recognised service to the Church. Can anything be done more than is already being done to bring in this other 25,000? It is a problem which the associations have not yet solved.

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting was held at Darton on Saturday, March 8th, when members were present from Cawthorne, Felkirk, Royston, Sandal, Shelley, Wath and local company. Ringing commenced about 3 p.m., and continued in various methods until 5 p.m., when all adjourned to the Church Schools for tea. The Vicar, Rev. C. H. Purser, presided at the business meeting, and gave a hearty welcome to the visitors. He also expressed a wish to be made a member of the society. On the motion of Mr. Broadhead, seconded by Mr. Crowther, he was gladly accepted, together with a new member from Cawthorne (Mr. E. Rusby). South Kirkby was selected for the next meeting, to take place on April 12th.

The usual vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, the local company and the ladies for all arrangements and the splendid tea provided, was passed.

Further ringing was indulged in until about 8.30, when someone lost his rope, and all agreed that it be left to be put right by daylight, and thus avoid any possible accident. This brought a most enjoyable meeting to a sudden termination.

UNVEILING OF PEAL BOARD AT BOTTESFORD.

A beautiful peal board has been placed in the ringing chamber of St. Mary's Church, Bottesford, recording the ringing of a peal of Stedman Triples on Saturday, August 3rd, 1929, by a band of M.C.A. ringers. The unveiling and dedication ceremony took place on Saturday, March 8th, before a good number of ringers and friends from Melton Mowbray, Grantham, Croxton Kerrial, Orston and the local band. Mr. R. H. Bartram (Melton Mowbray), 'Father' of the band which rang the peal, asked the Rev. F. Walford, as Rector, to accept the board as a gift to the church from the ringers. He said the peal was an excellent one, and was worthy of being recorded. He congratulated Mr. S. Proctor, as conductor, also the band that rang the peal. The Rev. F. Walford graciously accepted the board, saying it would be a reminder to future generations as to what had been accomplished.

The unveiling ceremony was performed by a lady member of the Church Council, and the Rector conducted the dedication, after which a splendid touch of Stedman Triples was rung by the same band that rang in the peal, viz.: W. G. Thorpe (Grantham) 1, J. R. Bartram (Melton) 2, A. W. Ward (Bottesford) 3, E. Ridd (Grantham) 4, E. Bartram (Melton) 5, S. Proctor (Grantham) 6, R. H. Bartram (Melton) 7, T. H. Hall (Grantham) 8. Mr. A. W. Ward voiced the thanks of the ringers to the lady for honouring them with her presence, also to the Rev. F. Walford for his service and allowing the use of the bells on this and previous occasions.

The bells were at the disposal of the ringers during the afternoon, when touches in the following methods were brought round: Double Norwich, Kent, and Plain Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples. The bells were lowered in peal at 5 p.m., bringing to a close a most enjoyable afternoon, which will long be remembered.

A. W. W.

MUDDLED MINOR. BY MINORMANIA.

I suppose that quite a number of Minor ringers are taking an interest, passing or otherwise, in the controversy that is likely to rage afresh on the vexed question of 'different 720's.' Always it is profitable to read the views expressed by different writers when they are backed by logical argument, but there is nothing edifying in bald statements which are opposed to common practice, when no effort is made to substantiate them in any shape or form, especially so, when, apparently, they are inconsistent to a degree.

Such a one appeared in 'The Ringing World' of February 14th, where the Rev. H. Law James stated that '... there are only five possible 720's in any Treble Bob method. ...' As usual, the reader is left furiously to think out exactly what is meant; or, at least, as to how one would arrive at such a conclusion. Unfortunately, he generally is thinking furiously (in a different sense of the term) of an opposite point of view. It is left to Mr. Severn to assume that Mr. James implies that 'different' 720's must contain a different number of bobs, viz., 9, 12, 15, 18 or 21. This may, or may not, be the correct reading, I do not know.

I should, however, like to say that there are considerably more than five, or, alternatively, that there are not five! And, unlike Mr. James, I submit reasons.

Let us make a closer acquaintance with the 'mysterious' Colonel (Bogey) Q set, in an endeavour to judge for ourselves how very inconsistent Mr. James' statement appears to be.

Everyone knows that there are 30 lead 'ends' (or lead 'heads,' if you prefer) in a 720 of Treble Bob, and everybody will realise that there are another 30 rows adjoining these; in short, there are 30 possible pairs of rows when the treble makes her full lead. Every one of these 60 rows can be treated in three ways in order to produce its mate, viz., second's-place can be made (a), sixth's-place (b), or fourth's-place (c).

|----------|----------|----------|
| 1(2)4365 | 12436(5) | 124(3)65 |
| 1(2)3456 | 14263(5) | 142(3)56 |

It will be seen, in (a) and (c), that the bells in the 5/6 positions remain undisturbed by either treatment; and, in (b) and (c), that the undisturbed bells are in the 2/3 places. Beyond the fact that the 'sheltered' (or undisturbed) positions are in 5/6 in second's-place methods, and in 2/3 in sixth's-place methods, the effect is exactly similar, and we may choose either for the example which follows. Let it be the former.

In the 60 possible rows there are ten groups of six, each group having the same pair of bells in the sheltered 5/6 places. Take, for example, those rows which have the tenors there—123456, 124365, 134256, 132465, 142356, 143265; and accept, as a fact (and a very concrete fact), that these six rows can be produced in an extent only if they be joined together, in pairs, by the same means. The three pairs of rows all must be 'plained' by using second's-place, or all 'bobbed' by using fourth's-place.

| | | | |
|--------------------------|--------|--------|--------|
| Plained, they pair thus: | 124365 | 132465 | 143265 |
| | 123456 | 134256 | 142356 |

| | | | |
|-------------------|--------|--------|--------|
| And bobbed, thus: | 124365 | 132465 | 143265 |

Here, then, we have a 'q set,' i.e., three pairs of rows with the same pair of bells in the two sheltered positions. The q set must be EITHER plained OR bobbed. This emphasis is important to my point—plained OR bobbed. It follows that any six such rows, with a given pair of bells in the sheltered positions, will form a q set. There are 60 such rows, each q set takes up six rows, and thus an extent comprises ten q sets. Each q set has a different pair of bells in the sheltered positions, and any one q set may be plained OR bobbed.

If we call the tenor W.R.W., twice repeated, we bob all of those pairs of rows wherein the tenor appears in a sheltered position 'without the fifth' being there also. In other words, the rows are bobbed only when 26, 36 and 46 are the bells in the 5/6 places. In short, we bob three of the ten q sets and plain the other seven.

Alternatively, we may bob the fifth R.W.R., twice repeated, thus bobbing the rows when the fifth is 'without the tenor.' In other words, we bob the 25, 35, and 45 q-sets and plain the other seven.

When we realise that we may bob the 'second without the third' with the same effect, and, vice versa, the 'third without the second,' the second without the fourth (both ways), the second without the fifth, and so on, it will readily be seen that we may, with nine bobs alone, produce a fair crop of varying 720's.

But Mr. James' 'five possible' means that all of the above variations are one, in spite of the facts that the rows appear in different orders, the calls appear at different lead-ends, different observation bells are used, and that the combination of q sets differ. And, mark this well, in spite of the fact that certain q sets will be bobbed in one and plained in another.

Now, in London Surprise Minor (for example), we may bob the tenor 1-4th's-O, 1-4th's-O, R, twice repeated, as given by Mr. Severn in his letter; an extent with 21 bobs, wherein we bob every lead except when the tenor is 'without the fifth.' In other words, we plain q sets 26, 36 and 46 and bob the other seven.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD. DEVIZES BRANCH.

The monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at the Parish Church of St. Mary, Market Lavington, on Saturday, March 1st. The Guild service was conducted by the Rev. A. J. Stourton (who is also an enthusiastic ringer, and a former chairman of the branch), the lesson being read by the chairman of the branch, Mr. C. D. Heginbotham. Miss E. Lane was the organist.

Tea followed at the Market Lavington and Easterton Institute, a company of 29 sitting down.

A short business meeting followed, Mr. C. D. Heginbotham presiding.

One new member from the Minster Church, Warminster, and nine from SS. Peter and Paul's, Heytesbury, were elected.

It was decided to recommend that Mr. W. C. West, of Melksham, be added to the list of instructors.

Several items of interest were discussed, with recommendations for the committee of the Guild.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells and conducting the service, to the organist and to those who prepared the tea.

Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Kent, Cambridge and Oxford were rung during the afternoon and evening. Ringers were present from Market Lavington, Devizes St. John and St. Mary's, St. James' Southbroom, Bratton, Aldbourne, Swindon, Rowde, Warminster, Trowbridge and Melksham.

Market Lavington has a beautiful church in the Perpendicular style of architecture. The tower contains six bells, which were rehung by Messrs. Taylor and Co. in 1927, and are inscribed as follows:—

- 1st and 2nd.—Raised by the Parish, 1876.
- 3rd.—In memory of the Honbl. Samuel Hay. Died November 25th, 1847. Dedicated by his widow. Praise be to Thee, O Lord.
- 4th.—Right Honble. E. Pleydell Bouverie gave me. Strike but hear me.
- 5th.—In loving memory of William Fowle. Died October 20th, 1868. Dedicated by his sister.
- Tenor (13½ cwt.).—E. B. Cockayne Frith, Vicar. The Right Honble. E. Pleydell Bouverie and Oliver Grist, Church Wardens. Recast by Llewellyns and James, Bristol, 1876.

These bells replaced an older ring which bore the following inscriptions:—

- 1st.—William Sainsbery, 1656. W.P. IVB. I.S.
- 2nd.—The XXX. IV4 YE 1611. I.W.
- 3rd.—Peace and Good Neighbourhood, 1726 (Rudhall).
- 4th.—A. V. FRANCOIS. HEREWITH. I.TIC. John Tucker, Roger Laesse, Edward Filkes, Churchwardens of Market Lavington (bell). Cleament Tozer cast me in 1680.
- 5th.—As No. 2.
- 6th.—Hen Jackson, Richd. Townsend, Wm. Sloper, Church Wardens, 1713. ABR. RUDHALL, of Gloucester, Bell Founder, Cast me.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

The annual meeting of Elloe Deaneries Branch was held at Spalding on Saturday, March 1st. Members were present from Long Sutton, Fleet, Holbeach, Moulton, Fulney, Market Deeping, Deeping St. Nicholas, Pinchbeck, Surfleet, Gosberton, Donington, Bicker, Butterwick, and the local ringers, and visitors from Sleaford, Folkington, Peterborough, Eye and Sibsey. Service was conducted by the Rev. Canon Nicholas (Vicar of Spalding), and 62 members and friends sat down to tea at the White Hart Hotel. The business meeting was held afterwards, and all the old officers were re-elected as follows: President, Rev. G. H. Clark, Vicar of Bicker; hon. secretary, Mr. G. Ladd, Pinchbeck; hon. treasurer, Mr. R. Smith, Spalding; Guild's representative, Mr. J. T. Brown, Spalding. Three honorary and 15 ringing members were elected, including two lady ringers.

The following places were unanimously selected for meetings during the year: Gosberton, on Whit Monday; Long Sutton, July 19th; Deeping St. Nicholas, October 18th; and Holbeach, January 10th, 1931. The methods rung during the afternoon included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise.

A collection taken for the heltry repairs fund amounted to 20s. 8d., and it was unanimously decided to make a further grant of three guineas to the Gosberton bells repairs fund.

Alternatively, we may plain the fifth R.W.R. twice repeated, thus plaining q sets 25, 35, and 45, and bobbing the other seven.

And Mr. James' 'five possible' presumably means that the 21-bob extents are different from the 9-bob extents first quoted, in spite of the fact that here we plain identical q sets that were then bobbed, and vice versa.

3 q sets bobbed or plained, mean (oppositely) 7 plained or bobbed.

4 q sets bobbed or plained, mean (oppositely) 6 plained or bobbed.

5 q sets bobbed or plained, mean (oppositely) 5 plained or bobbed.

How many 'different' 720's are possible? I do not know? We should choose which we prefer, but not both.

If there are not more than five, there are not five!

THE SURREY ASSOCIATION.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to Mr. Trappitt's letter as to why the annual meeting of the Surrey Association should not be held on Wednesday, May 21st next, the date (March 22nd) was fixed by the committee in accordance with the rules of the association, which state that the annual meeting must be held in March of each year. It was not likely that the rules of the association would be ignored to suit the whim of any one person, even if he does allege himself to be the last surviving foundation member. He and others should come to the annual meeting and put forward practical suggestions in which the members might celebrate the jubilee about the time of the anniversary.

I have a copy of the first report issued by the association, and I am quite aware of the circumstances in which it was formed.

Mr. Trappitt's remark upon the suggested amalgamation between the Surrey Association and Guildford Diocesan Guild really amazes me. He definitely stated at the time amalgamation was suggested that the Surrey Association must never lower its dignity by amalgamating, but should carry on as it always had done. When a plebiscite was taken and the result made known to a special meeting of the association held at Leatherhead in March, 1928, Mr. Trappitt was the very person who proposed that the scheme be dropped, and the motion was carried.

Why the sudden reversal of policy now that the affairs of the association are running so smoothly under the management of a business-like committee?—Yours faithfully,

CHAS. H. KIPPIN,

Hon. Secretary.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

A monthly meeting of the Guild was held at Stoke (Coventry) on Saturday, March 15th, when members attended from Allesley, Bedworth, Bulkington, Coventry, Leamington, Nuneaton, Shilton, Rugby, Warwick, etc. A variety of methods was rung on the church bells from Grandsire Triples to London Surprise Major. Twenty-four members sat down to a good tea in St. Andrew's Parish Hall, and were sorry to hear the hon. secretary (Miss E. Lewis) was indisposed and unable to attend.

The Rector, who was unable to be present, sent a note of welcome to the members of the Guild.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Rector for the use of the church bells and Parish Hall, and to the ladies who prepared and served the tea.

ELECTRIC SHOCKS BRING PEAL TO AN END.

An extraordinary occurrence happened on Saturday last, when a band of ringers from the Northern Branch of the Worcestershire and Districts Association met at Brierley Hill to attempt a peal of London Surprise Major. Before ringing commenced a little oil was given to each bearing, and after this was completed the towerkeeper came down into the belfry, omitting to switch off the electric light in the bell chamber. There had been a heavy fall of snow on the previous night, and some had drifted through the louvres of the tower, thus making the floor very damp.

Everything was in order and ringing commenced. After ringing for 10 minutes, the ringer of the 6th bell felt a sharp twinge of pain in his right arm. Thinking this a small bodily pain, he carried on. The pain came again, but this time in both arms. However, he continued ringing, when, after about 40 minutes, he had a severe pain not only in his arms but throughout his whole body, and at the same time the rope snarled as it went up at handstroke. The ringer then came to the conclusion it was an electric shock, although it was not then known that the light had been left on in the bell chamber.

The ringer of the 6th called a stand, much to the astonishment of the other members of the band, as to them everything seemed to be going well, and they were very surprised to learn the reason a stand had been called, namely, that the ringer of the 6th was occasionally getting an electric shock.

This was due to a 'short' in the electric wire and the dampness of the tower and belfry floor, also to the fact that the bell rope at times came into contact with the electric current, which passed down the rope and into the ringer, who, however, feels no ill effect from his unusual experience. As the ringer of the 7th is an electrician by trade, it may have been had he had the 6th bell he would have known immediately the cause of the twinges of pain.

The unfortunate band was as follows: J. Lloyd 1, W. Short 2, J. Bass 3, W. Brown 4, C. Skidmore 5, H. G. Bird 6, T. Hemming 7, R. Matthews (conductor) 8.

THE LATE VISCOUNT GLADSTONE.

After the funeral-service of the late Viscount Gladstone, whose remains were interred in Little Munden churchyard on March 10th, 720 Woodbine Treble Bob was rung, with the bells muffled: W. Williams 1, S. Carter 2, J. Williams 3, A. Phillips 4, A. Woolston 5, W. H. Lawrence 6. In the evening a quarter-peal was rung, comprising 720 Cambridge Surprise, 360 Kent and 180 Plain Bob: W. Williams 1, S. Carter 2, A. Woolston 3, A. Phillips 4, B. Patmore 5, W. H. Lawrence 6.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Canon H. J. Eisee, M.A., president of the Lancashire Association, has been appointed Rural Dean of Bolton. Canon Eisee has been Vicar of St. George's, Bolton, since 1896, and is the senior incumbent in the deanery.

A band of ringers in the Windermere district met for a peal last Saturday afternoon, and all of them promised to be home for tea. At the tower they visited, the attempt for the peal was given up on account of the heavy going of the tenors.

Nothing daunted, the ringers set out on a 30-mile journey to Melling, Lancs, to see if they could get the bells there. Permission was readily granted, and the peal was rung. The first man to reach home arrived at 10.40 p.m.! Our correspondent asks, 'What did the Windermere wives do?' We give it up.

Mr. Ernest Bishop has been elected president of the Rotary Club of Swindon.

The gentleman who sent us the cryptic postcard, to which we referred last week, now writes: 'I like your "imperence." The record is all right; it's these careless authors and journalists who misquote.' If the writer had only pinned the peal board to his first postcard we should, of course, have seen at once who was wrong. But we forgive him for this omission.

Young 'Jim' George has just done another little job which would beat most men. He has rung the tenor at St. Nicholas' Church, Liverpool, to a peal of Treble Bob Major in 3 hrs. 25 mins. The tenor is 40 cwt., and Mr. George is 76 years old! It will be a long time, we think, before this performance is equalled.

The first peal of Royal by a band of railwaymen has been rung at Crewe by employees of the L.M.S. Railway Company.

The first peal of Bristol Surprise Major was rung on March 22nd, 1901, at St. Peter's, Brighton.

On March 23rd, 1783, a peal of 5,020 Old Double Caters, 'being the first ever rung in that method,' was accomplished at Fulham by the College Youths.

That peal happened to be rung on the anniversary of the first peal of Reverse Bob Major, which was called by James Barham at Harrietsham, Kent, in 1757.

A peal of 'Double Twelve In' was rung by the College Youths at St. Bride's Church, Fleet Street, on March 24th, 1784, and a peal of 'Real Double Twelve In,' two days later at Southwark.

Next Thursday is the anniversary of the first peal of Superlative Surprise Royal, rung at Wakefield on March 27th, 1825, and of the 12,000 of Treble Bob Royal rung by the Royal Cumberland Youths at Shoreditch in 1784. The latter stood as the record for the method until 1914.

OXFORD UNDERGRADUATES' QUARTER-PEAL.

For the first time for very many years a quarter-peal has been rung by undergraduate members only of the Oxford University Society, which has been all but defunct for a long time, and is only now beginning to revive.

This quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung on Friday, at the Church of St. Cross, Holywell, Oxford, by C. E. Wigg (Kebble) 1, W. Warren (Oriol) 2, S. Taylor (Merton) 3, J. B. Howes (Kebble) (conductor) 4, W. Thomas (Lincoln) 5, T. S. Williams (Kebble) 6.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION. GOOLE'S RESTORED BELLS.

The annual meeting of the Eastern Division was held at Goole on Saturday, March 15th, and despite the inclement weather was attended by upwards of 50 members, representing towers in Eastington, Hatfield, Hemingbrough, Howden, Hull, Pontefract (St. Giles' and All Saints'), Selby, Thorne, York, and the local company.

The eight bells of the Parish Church, which were cast in 1890, have recently been retuned and rebung in a new iron frame, fitted with ball bearings, by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., and full advantage was taken by the visitors to test the 'go,' which was pronounced by all and sundry to be excellent.

The church was consecrated in 1848, and was built through the munificence of the Aire and Calder Navigation Co., the tower then containing six bells. Two new trebles were added in 1860, and thus the peal of eight did service up to 1890.

The clock, which had been out of order for two years, has now been thoroughly overhauled and Westminster chimes added by Messrs. Potts and Co., of Leeds, and was started, during the service held for the dedication of the bells, on January 23rd last, by Sir John Eaglesome, K.C.M.G., managing director of the Aire and Calder Navigation.

The visitors on Saturday had tea together in the National Schools, and this was followed by a service in the church, at which a very appropriate sermon was delivered by the Vicar of Goole (the Rev. H. E. Wall, M.A.), who preached from the Ephesians iv. 8: 'Wherefore, he saith, when he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.' Three special hymns used at the dedication service were sung, accompanied on the organ by Mr. C. Brearley, Mus.Bac.

THE PARISH CHURCH OF GOOLE, YORKS.

The business meeting followed in the schools, the Vicar presiding. A letter of thanks from Mrs. Nolloth was read by the secretary, for the vote of condolence, on the death of Canon Nolloth, passed at the Beverley meeting in December last.

Two new members were elected—Mr. W. Sleight, of Hemingbrough, and Mr. A. Strangeward, of Pontefract (St. Giles').

The summer quarterly meeting will be held at Withernsea in June, by kind invitation of the Vicar and local company.

The retiring officers, Mr. F. Cryer (Selby), vice-president, and Messrs. W. Gibson (Beverley), J. Drake (Goole) and A. Walker (Pontefract), committeemen, were all re-elected, the latter also being appointed to serve on the general committee.

A vote of condolence was moved with Mr. F. Cryer, who has suffered bereavement by the death of his wife, all present standing for a few moments in respectful silence.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

AFFILIATION OF MORE TOWERS WANTED.

The annual meeting of the Eastern Division, which was held at Bexhill on Saturday, proved most successful, the following towers being represented: Battle, Bexhill, Brighton (St. Peter's), Hastings (St. Clement's and Christ Church, Blacklands), Eastbourne (St. Saviour's), Heathfield, Lewes (Southover), St. Leonards (Christ Church), Ringmer, Rye, Sedlescombe, and Worthing (St. Botolph's). Ringing in all the standard methods was indulged in during the afternoon. At the service, a most appropriate address was given by the Rector, the Rev. Canon H. W. Maycock, M.A.

A splendid meat tea, to which 36 sat down, was provided at the Bell Hotel, through the kindness of the Rector and churchwardens. As the Rector had to leave prior to the business meeting, Mr. W. D. Smith moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector and churchwardens for their kindness in providing the tea, for the use of the bells, and for the Rector's address. The Rev. H. W. Maycock, in responding, expressed the pleasure it gave the churchwardens and himself to welcome the members of the association there for the annual meeting, and said they were always pleased to do all they could to further the interests of the Sussex County Association.

Mr. E. Heather (churchwarden) occupied the chair at the business meeting, at which Mr. H. Tyrrell, of Sedlescombe, and Mr. R. Taylor, of St. Clement's, Hastings, were elected members of the association.

The election of officers for the ensuing year then took place. Mr. G. W. Stokes was again re-elected as hon. secretary, and Messrs. Miles, Franks and Booth were re-elected on the committee.

Mr. Stokes thanked the members for re-electing him hon. secretary. He stated that during the past year four meetings had been held, with an average attendance of 26, which was not too bad, but he hoped for better results during the coming year. He also hoped that still further towers might be induced to become affiliated to the association.

A collection for the benevolent fund realised 13s. 6d. A vote of thanks to the chairman terminated the meeting. The members returned to the tower and kept the bells going in various methods until about 8.30 p.m.

Special thanks are due to Mr. F. J. Pont for making the necessary arrangements for the meeting.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

MEMBERS OF THREE ASSOCIATIONS MEET AT MARCH.

A record meeting for the Archdeaconry of Wisbech Branch was held at March Parish Church, being attended by over 50 ringing members from five archdeaconries. The arrangements for a quarterly joint meeting were made between the Wisbech and Peterborough Branches, and this excellent gathering was the result. Members of the Elloe Deaneries of the Lincs Association raised the bells, and a course of Cambridge was brought round. Other visitors arrived from Hunts Branch, and were soon joined by members of the Marshland Branch and others from the Wisbech Branch. The Peterborough District Guild was well represented, a lady ringer also being present. The Ringing Master was unable to attend, and Mr. C. Gooker of March, kindly undertook the duties, and saw that everyone had a pull. Various methods were rung, and all spoke highly of the good work carried out by Messrs. Taylor and Co. A new oak frame has been put in, the bells quarter turned and harmonically tuned, and fitted with ball bearings.

A short service was conducted by the Rector (Rev. G. S. Walker), who is an hon. member of the association, and the Peterborough Guild's form of service was used. The Rector gave a splendid address, extending a warm welcome to such a fine gathering. Tea was afterwards generously provided in the Church Room by the Rector, and Mrs. Wooton ably waited on the company.

A business meeting followed, at which two new members were elected, and Whittlesea was chosen for the next meeting.

APPEAL FOR A LANCASHIRE RINGER.

Previously acknowledged, £11 11s. 6d.; Houghton ringers, 10s. Any further donations to this fund for assisting Mr. Harry Tomlinson will be gratefully received by Mr. F. Hindle, hon. secretary, Blackburn Branch, 58, Anvil Street, Blackburn. The above appeal closes on April 5th.

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells, the service and address, to the ladies who served tea, and to Messrs. J. Drake and M. Tate for their unfailing courtesy and attention.—The Vicar, in responding, expressed great pleasure in having the association at Goole, and said how delighted he was with the many complimentary remarks passed about the bells, and the satisfaction they gave the ringers.—Mr. Colin Harrison, the representative of Messrs. Taylor and Co., also spoke, and said he was gratified to hear the appreciation of his firm's work.

The weights of the bells are: Treble, note F, 3cwt. 2qr. 12lb.; 2nd, note E, 3.3.10; 3rd, note D, 4.3.4; 4th, note C, 5.1.2; 5th, note B flat, 8.3.6; 6th, note A, 8.2.1; 7th, note G, 11.1.8; tenor, note F, 15.2.8.

A PEAL OF MINOR.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I am not dealing with theory but with facts.

A round block is a block which comes round to the same row or point from which it started: therefore a 720 consists of 721 rows, of which the first and last are the same. Therefore, seven 720's consist of 5,047 rows, if it consists of seven round blocks.

It is not a theory but a fact, that you can only join round blocks by cutting them open and joining them together by the ends. Seven true and complete 720's is like seven links in a chain, but 5,040 of Minor is like a single ring in which the 720's are incomplete and joined up end to end, so that there are only 5,041 rows in the whole.

Now, if this ring is true and we cut it up again and join it together in any other order, so that we make the same number of changes and produce exactly the same rows in a different order, the result is only a variation, and it must also be true.

Two peals of Grandsire Triples rung as you suggest would be only one round block for the same reason.

The fact is that a peal of Treble Bob Minor containing 5,040 changes must consist of 42 plain courses, and if we insist on this being a perfect seven part, then in justice to the six-bell ringer we ought to insist on all peals of Stedman Triples being seven parts, and all peals of Major also.

What we want is a definition which will ensure that enough changes are made and that the whole is true, and the definition of Minor and Doubles which I have proposed ensure both those points, while leaving the six-bell ringer absolutely free in all other respects just as free as his 8, 10 and 12 bell brethren.

LANTERN SLIDES OF BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—To-day I have been asked whether I know where lantern slides of bells or of change ringing can be obtained, and I have had to answer 'No.' Do any of your readers know of the existence of anything of the kind, and whether they are readily available?

If not, would it be possible to get some made, and either deposited with the librarian of the Central Council, or kept in some place or places with which he would be kept in touch?

Owing to the confined space, it is not very easy to photograph a bell when hanging in the tower, and to take a snap when it is in motion there, would be practically impossible. These things could, however, be done in a bell foundry, and I daresay, if only one knew, have already been done. Perhaps, therefore, our founders would help by supplying suitable prints for taking slides from, or even the slides themselves.

If so, and if there is anyone with the necessary skill to get together such a series, I should be glad to give any help I could.—Yours very faithfully,

HERBERT DRAKE.

[The principal bell founding firms have series of lantern slides, which they are willing to loan to responsible persons.—En., 'R.W.']

CLEVELAND AND NORTH YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—On Whit Monday of this year, Mr. Thomas Metcalfe will have been secretary and treasurer of this association for 21 years.

This is a plain statement of fact, but behind it is the tale of 21 years' hard work given by a busy man to his one and only hobby. There are few towers in the North of England where the name of Tom Metcalfe is not well known and respected, and it can be truthfully stated that he has been instrumental in making more ringers than, perhaps, any man in the North. He has rung too many peals to think of, but his chief forte has been the teaching of ringers. His services have been at all times willingly given to all who requested them in connection with bellringing.

To say that he has carried on the Cleveland Association himself during the last 21 years is not an exaggeration, and it is pretty certain that if he had not been at the head of affairs the association would not have been in existence at the present day.

At the last meeting of the association held at Thirsk on February 22nd, the members decided to appoint Vice-Presidents Newton (of Stockton) and Stott (of Thirsk) and myself a committee for some suitable presentation to Mr. Metcalfe.

I have communicated direct with all the friends of Mr. Metcalfe I know, but if there are any to whom I have not written, may I, through your columns, invite them to join in this presentation?

We do not ask for large subscriptions, but we would like the list of subscribers to contain every ringer who has come in contact with Mr. Metcalfe.

I shall be pleased to receive subscriptions at the above address as soon as possible.—Yours faithfully,

J. C. POLLARD,

President.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

DUNSTER DEANERY ANNUAL MEETING.

About 50 members and friends attended the annual meeting of the Dunster Deanery Branch of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association held at Old Cleeve. They were welcomed by the Rector (Rev. F. V. Dawkins), and the gathering included Rev. R. A. W. Newman, Withypool (chairman), Preb. A. C. Harman, Bicknoller, Mr. H. W. Tomkins, Williton, Mr. A. Tout, Milverton, Mr. G. Stacey, Minehead (hon. secretary). Towers represented were Watchet, Withypool, Chipstable, Carhampton, Timberscombe, Minehead, St. Audries, Huish Champflower, Wootton Courtenay, Bicknoller, Sampford Brett, Monksilver, Skilgate, and Old Cleeve.

The association form of service was held, conducted by the chairman of the branch, and the Rector read the lesson and gave an appropriate address. Afterwards, the company were kindly entertained to tea in the Village Hall by the Rector and the ladies of the committee of the Mothers' Union.

The annual meeting followed, the Rev. R. A. W. Newman presiding. At the outset, Mr. Dawkins, who had to leave early, was heartily thanked for his part in the service, for allowing the use of the bells, and for all that he had done in making the visit such a pleasant one. Mr. Dawkins suitably replied, and said how pleased he was to welcome the association.

The balance-sheet and annual report was presented by Mr. G. Stacey. The accounts showed receipts amounting to £13 2s., including a balance brought forward on the year amounting to £4 6s. 6d., and the net profit for the year amounted to £7 7s. 2d. The report stated that four successful meetings had been held, with an average attendance of 51, as compared with 56 for the previous year. The association heartily thanked all the clergymen and Church Councils for the welcome it had received and for providing tea and room free. Twelve new members had been elected and one re-elected, and two hon. members had been added to the association. The association, however, regretted the loss through death of Mr. Edwin Thorne of Timberscombe, who was a promising young member; also the Rev. E. P. Stanley and Mr. G. H. Taylor, hon. members.

The report was adopted, and the following officers were then re-elected: Rev. R. A. W. Newman, chairman; Mr. G. Stacey, hon. secretary; Mr. W. A. Hawkins, auditor. Mr. J. Pugsley, of Minehead, was elected Ringing Master, in place of Mr. I. Farmer, who, having retired, was heartily thanked for his past services, as was also Mr. H. Phillips, in the place of whom Mr. H. W. Tomkins was elected representative on the general committee.

Five new members were elected, viz., Mr. Ivor Holo, Watchet; Mr. D. Parsons, Wootton Courtenay; Mr. Lewis Eslick, Sampford Brett; Mr. S. Land and Miss Luck Hawkins, Huish Champflower.

Hawkridge was chosen as the next place of meeting, and before the meeting closed the Chairman expressed thanks to the ladies for supplying such a splendid tea and serving it so capably; to the organist, Mr. E. C. Gooding; and to the steeplekeeper, Mr. W. Edwards; and all who had provided for the comfort of the meeting and made it so enjoyable. The chairman's remarks were warmly endorsed.

The chairman was heartily thanked at the instance of Mr. Isaac Farmer, and, in responding, Mr. Newman said he would do his best for the association, but he wanted the members also to do their part, as it was the rank and file who had to carry on the work, and it all depended on them.

AN AUSTRALIAN EXCURSION

MELBOURNE RINGERS VISIT BALLARAT.

On Boxing Day, eight members of the band at St. Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne, Australia, and Mr. F. Crawley, of Crewe, England, whom they had kindly invited to join them, his ship being then in Melbourne, paid a visit to Ballarat. They left on the 8 a.m. train, and, after a three hours' journey beguiled with handbell ringing and reminiscences of the older members, the gold mining town was reached. Here the party were met by several of the Ballarat ringers and conducted to the City Hall, where they were entertained to refreshments by the Mayor, who said how pleased he was to welcome change ringers to Ballarat. He was greatly desirous of hearing them ring, as he had been told by his own ringers how much more musical change ringing was than the rounds and call changes rung by the Ballarat ringers.

The tower, in which there is a peal of eight bells by Mears, tenor 28 cwt., which have been in over sixty years, was then visited. Several touches of Grandsire were rung before lunch, which was provided by the Ballarat ringers in a nearby restaurant.

After lunch a return was made to the tower. The local men showed their paces in call changes, and the visitors, although failing in an attempt for a quarter-peal, brought round several shorter touches of Grandsire until a halt was called for tea at 5 p.m. After tea, thanks were expressed to the local band for having everything in readiness, and an invitation given to them to visit St. Paul's, Melbourne, at an early date. The visitors had to make their departure at 6 p.m., Melbourne being reached at 9.30, after a very enjoyable outing.

Ballarat is an old venue of Melbourne ringers, Mr. J. M. Guest, Master of the St. Paul's Society, having rung there in the gold-digging days of fifty years ago.

RULES FOR RINGING COMPANIES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir.—May I call the attention of the Exercise to the fact that the revised edition of 'Model Rules for a Local Company of Ringers' is now for sale, and may be obtained for sixpence on applying to me?—Yours truly,

CYRIL W. O. JENKYN,
Hon. Librarian, Central Council.

WOOTTON BASSETT BELLS REHUNG.

LOCAL RINGER'S GENEROUS CARE OF WILTSHIRE RING.

Another stage in the history of the bells at the Church of All Saints, Wootton Bassett, was reached on Saturday, when they were reopened after rehanging. The bells are a peal of eight, made up from an old peal of five by the addition of three trebles in the year 1890 by J. Warner and Sons, London. The tenor (19 cwt.), seventh and fourth bear the date 1633, the 5th and 6th were recast at the time of the restoration and addition. The bells are well known throughout the ringing world, as many peals have been rung on them, the outstanding performance being a peal of Superlative Surprise Major, the first by a local band in the West out of Bristol, on March 17th, 1923.

For some time the bells have been rather loose in the frame, and it was therefore decided by the Church Council to call in the bell hangers and have the matter attended to. The result was that Messrs. Gillett and Johnston refitted the ring with new gudgeons and bearings, etc., at a cost of £89.

Ringers from the following towers attended the opening meeting: Swindon, Stratton St. Margaret's, Gloucester, Croydon, Colne, Bromhill, Purton, Broad Hinton, Cliff Pyford, Devizes, etc. A short service was conducted by the Rev. D. Bartlett, assisted by the Rev. Aspinall, after which the ringers adjourned to the Vicarage for tea, to which 42 members sat down. A vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar and Mr. Bartlett for their kind hospitality. Various methods from Grand sire to Cambridge Surprise were afterwards rung, the ringing being of very good quality.

It is interesting to note, in passing, that the writer of the above notes, Mr. L. A. Wilu, has been in charge of these bells for the long period of 32 years, and during that time has borne the whole expense of the upkeep of the bells and of various improvements in the tower. He has now had the pleasure of having the bells made safe for at least another 50 years. Messrs. Gillett and Johnston have designed a special type of solid gun-metal bearings in which the bells are now going nicely. Mr. Wilu was not in love with ball bearings, hence the putting in of plain bearings.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

The Guildford District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild held a meeting at Ewhurst on Saturday, and it proved quite a successful gathering—all things considered. First of all, Ewhurst is three miles from the nearest railway station, but a bus service saves it from complete isolation. Secondly, Saturday afternoon provided a continuous downpour of rain—and here again the 'buses,' public and private, saved the situation. Without them, the meeting might have been a 'wash out' in more senses than one. Ewhurst on a pleasant summer afternoon is a lovely place—on a cold and wet day in March it is anything but that, but ringing visitors found a cordial welcome, first of all in the belfry, where several of the local ringers were present, and, later, from the new Vicar, who conducted the Guild's service and gave an unconventional address, in the course of which he said that he had himself just taken up ringing. The singing was led by the organ and two choirmen, and the little congregation made a valiant vocal show.

The Vicar, unfortunately, was unable to be present at tea, to which 26 sat down, at the Bull's Head Inn, the company including members from Cranleigh, Guildford (Cathedral and St. Nicolas'), Haslemere, Woking, Cobham, West Clandon and Ewhurst, together with a visitor from Rudgwick. The Master (Maj. J. H. B. Hesse) presided over the meeting, but there was little business to transact. The most important was the election as members of seven ringers from Bramley, four from Ewhurst, and the Rev. G. J. G. Mitchell, of Cranleigh. This influx was the result of some splendid spade work done by Mr. R. Whittington and other members of the Cranleigh band, who have been giving valuable aid in both the towers.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar was accorded on the motion of Admiral T. P. Walker.

Afterwards further good work was put in in the tower, where Grand sire and Stedman Doubles and Bob and Treble Bob Minor were rung. The bells are a light ring of six, hanging in a central tower, the two oldest being pre-Reformation bells, bearing the 'R.L.' shield, which points to them having come from Wokingham or Reading in the late fifteenth or early sixteenth century. William Eldridge, of Chertsey, added the two tenors in 1671, and Thomas Mears put in the two trebles in 1839. The ringing chamber is approached from one of the transepts by a long, straight wooden stairway, protected only by a handrail. Strangers negotiate the top steps warily, especially when descending in the dark.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD.

NUMERICALLY AND FINANCIALLY PROSPEROUS.

The annual meeting of the Dudley and District Guild was held at Dudley on Saturday, March 8th in beautiful springlike weather. The bells of the Parish Church were placed at the disposal of the members from three o'clock, and they were kept merrily going in various methods until service was held in church. This was conducted by the Rev. Canon Phelps, Vicar of Dudley, and president of the Guild, who gave the address, the lesson being read by the Rev. Dr. Worger-Slade (assistant priest). After the service, an adjournment was made to the Parish Hall, where a substantial tea was in readiness, provided by funds collected by the secretary (Mr. Herbert Sheppard) from prominent members of St. Thomas' congregation and other friends and supporters of the Guild. It was admirably served by a contingent of ladies, and the following kindly presided at the tables: Mrs. Phelps, Mrs. Worger-Slade, Mrs. Shuttleworth, Mrs. Goodman, and Miss Bessie Sheppard. Over 100 members and friends sat down to tea.

Before the commencement of the business meeting, the Vicar gave a most hearty welcome to the members on behalf of himself, the churchwardens, and Parochial Church Council.

The president was supported by Councillor Shuttleworth (churchwarden), Rev. Dr. Worger-Slade, and Mr. Harry Mason. After business of a routine character had been disposed of, the secretary's annual report of the year's activities was read. It showed an increase in honorary and performing members, and numerically and financially the Guild was still in a prosperous condition.

Mr. Mason congratulated the officials and members on the favourable report and balance sheet, and he formally proposed that they be adopted as read, the proposition being carried unanimously.

The Vicar of Dudley, the Rev. Canon Phelps, M.A., R.D., was again unanimously elected president, and was cordially thanked for his services and support during the past year. The following were elected as vice-presidents: The Revs. F. J. Cheverton (Vicar of Rowley Regis), H. C. Kemp (Vicar of Netherton), Rev. Dr. A. Worger-Slade, Messrs. J. W. Naylor, H. Watson, C. E. Lloyd, F. R. McDowell, Arthur Spittle, Councillor Shuttleworth, Dr. P. S. Blaker, Harry Mason, Mr. John Goodman, jun., was elected Ringing Master, and Mr. Herbert Sheppard (who was also accorded a hearty vote of thanks for his valuable services to the Guild during the past year), hon. secretary. Mr. S. J. Hughes was again elected hon. treasurer and representative of the Guild to the Central Council. The auditors, Messrs. Fred Evans and Thos. Justice, were also re-elected.

Dudley was chosen as the place to attempt the annual peal, the necessary arrangements being left with the Ringing Master. It was proposed to hold the next quarterly meeting at Hagley, subject to the usual permission being obtained. Mr. Mason very generously offered, on behalf of Mrs. Mason, to entertain the members to tea at that meeting. The members greatly appreciated Mr. Mason's offer.

Mr. Shepherd expressed appreciation of the continued confidence of the members towards him, and said that he would do his best in the future as he had tried to do in the past all that he could for the success and welfare of the Guild.

Mr. Mason proposed that the best thanks of the Guild be given to the president for conducting the service, and for his address, for the use of the tower and bells, for the use of the Parish Hall in which to hold the tea and meeting, to the Rev. Dr. Worger-Slade for the part he took in the service. Special thanks were given to the donors to the tea fund, to the ladies for presiding at the tables, and to the ladies who prepared and served the tea and looked after the comfort of the company, to Mr. Fred Cox for the musical part of the service, and to all who had in any way contributed to the success and enjoyment of the proceedings.

This was considered by all to be the best and most successful meeting in the history of the Guild, which speaks volumes for the sociability and friendship among its members. After the meeting, members again kept the bells merrily ringing until it was time to take their several ways home after a very happy and pleasant afternoon.

STAFFORD VETERAN'S BIRTHDAY.

On Tuesday, March 11th, a quarter-peal of Grand sire Triples (1,260 changes) was rung at St. Mary's Church, Stafford, in 49 mins.: W. A. Riddington 1, F. R. Wiggan 2, A. E. Garbett 3, G. Booth 4, H. F. Evans 5, W. G. Curtis 6, J. Warrilow 7, Z. Baker 8. This quarter-peal was rung in honour of Stafford's veteran ringer, Mr. Zadok Baker (who rang the tenor), and who has now attained the age of 77 years.

At the conclusion, Mr. Baker was congratulated by his colleagues upon his achievement, and every good wish was expressed that he would have health and strength to enable him to ring for many more years.

As a youth, Mr. Baker rang at the Parish Church of Over, in Cheshire, and on coming to Stafford as a young man, he became a member of the band at St. Mary's Church, where he has rung ever since. Mr. Baker is a keen and enthusiastic ringer, and very seldom misses the weekly practice, or fails to be present for Sunday service ringing.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION. SOUTHERN DISTRICT AT LAMBETH.

A meeting of the Southern District was held at Lambeth on Saturday last, and was well attended, there being several enthusiasts present before the time of commencement. At three o'clock an opening touch of Stedman Triples was rung under the direction of the District Master (Mr. H. Mance). Subsequently, various methods were attempted with more or less success, several novices getting good practice. During the afternoon a visitor ascended the tower in the person of the Rector (Rev. Llewellyn Jones), who welcomed the members to Lambeth, and conducted prayers in the belfry. This was greatly appreciated, and might be more widely followed by incumbents with bells and ringers.

Tea was taken in the ancient Brew House, attached to Archbishop Tait's Infant School, some 25 members and friends partaking of a substantial meal, good humour being the keynote of the affair. Where do these humorists find their 'stuff,' by the way? After tea, the business was transacted, and the usual routine affairs quickly disposed of. A course of Cambridge Major was rung on handbells by the experts, and a return was then made to the tower for more ringing till 7.30. On the tower bells, methods from Grandsire Triples to London Surprise were rung during the day.

During the visit, the writer came across a cutting in the belfry ancient the 'Pedlar's window' in the church, which runs briefly thus: The pedlar's window in Lambeth Parish Church is one of the curious things found in some of the old London churches, and depicts the figure of a lusty pedlar, which is in striking contrast to the religious subjects of the other windows. It is the gem of the church, of 14th century glass, of very beautiful colouring. The pedlar wears brown boots, blue stockings, yellow coat, and tawny hat. He carries a stout stick and has a dog. It is said to be a painting of a benefactor who gave land to the parish, which is known as the 'Pedlar's Acre.'

During the meeting, a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Rector and to Mr. Hardy, of the local band, for their kindness on this occasion. After the lower bells were silent, an adjournment was made to 'another place,' where handbell ringing and gossip were indulged in, some Cambridge Royal and Bristol being successfully brought round.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

MEETING AT BROXBORNE.

One of the most enjoyable and successful meetings held at Broxbourne took place on March 8th. Friends were present from London, Leytonstone, Long Stanton, Cambs, Cheshunt, Wormley, Hornsey, Edmonton, Walthamstow, Royston, Baldock, Benington, Hertford, Ware, Harlow Common, Barley, Melbourne, Cambs, Stanstead, Little Munden and Hunsdon.

At the service, the Vicar (Rev. A. E. Jenkins) officiated, and offered a hearty welcome to all. The association's form of service was used. Tea was afterwards served at the Welcome Inn, and Mr. G. B. Lucas, an old friend and member, presided over the subsequent business meeting, at which a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for his welcome, also for his address and for the use of the bells.

The ringing during the day was of a high order, and included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge, London and Bristol Surprise Major. It was a most enjoyable time, and the meeting of many old friends was greatly enjoyed.

RE-DEDICATION OF BELLS AT WILLESBOROUGH, KENT.

The bells of Willesborough, Kent, a handy little ring of six, which have been silent for some time, have now been rehung, a new ringing gallery erected, and the old belfry fitted up as a choir vestry. The rededication took place on March 1st, at evensong, at which the Revs. W. H. Symonds (Rector) and L. W. Mudge (assistant priest) officiated, the lessons being read by the Revs. W. H. Blackburne (Vicar of Ashford, R.D. of East Charing) and S. K. Lockyer (Vicar of Brabourne, R.D. of North Lympne). During the singing of the hymn, 'Holy, Holy, Holy! Lord God Almighty,' the choir, preceded by the churchwardens, led the clergy to the new choir vestry, where the dedicatory prayers were read by the Ven. Archdeacon of Canterbury (Canon Hardcastle). The bells were then rung to a few rounds.

The Archdeacon, taking for his text, Exodus xxviii. 34, gave a very interesting address on bells and their uses. He spoke of the way in which ringing had developed, and hoped the ringers would always remember their position with great respect, as it was a real church work.

Ringers were present from Aldington, Ashford, Brabourne, Hythe, Kennington, Sturry and Tenterden.

Mr. A. Bowell, of Ipswich, is to be congratulated on his work of relanging the bells, which 'go' like tops.

A FRATERNAL GATHERING AT SHILDON.

On Saturday, February 1st, a fraternal meeting was held at Shildon, when ringers from Darlington and others were invited to an afternoon's ringing for the benefit of the local company. Several touches of Bob and Treble Bob Major, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, in which the local men took part, as far as possible, some for the first time on this number of bells.

Adjournment was made for tea in the cafe by the church gate, when seventeen sat down, the Vicar (Rev. H. B. Watts) presiding. Mr. T. Clark proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for paying the expenses of the tea, and for the use of the bells. Mr. G. Park seconded the proposition, which Mr. J. Titt supported.

The Vicar, in reply, said he enjoyed the afternoon's ringing, and was very pleased to be present at such a pleasant gathering.

The ringers again went to the tower for more ringing until eight o'clock (except for an half-hour's service), a course of London and Cambridge Surprise Minor by the visitors bringing this interesting social meeting to a close.

THE SURREY ASSOCIATION.

Two more associations this year celebrate their jubilee, the Surrey and the Kent county organisations. Last Saturday the former held its fiftieth annual meeting, and the Kent Association will do likewise on Easter Monday. The Surrey Association, like most of the territorial societies which began round about the same time, has grown from small beginnings, and its path has not been an altogether easy one. On the one hand its area included part of South London, where, at its birth, the towers were already nominally under the influence of the old London ringers; on the other side, the Winchester Diocesan Guild had already been established, and the diocesan area covered a considerable portion of the southern half of the county. There was thus but a strip of territory left, yet, in the interests of belfry reform, it needed an organisation to cover it.

The Surrey Association has striven to unite the towers in this area, but it has often been no easy task to hold the ground and to unite the members, who were scattered over a district which, in the days before the war, had little means of direct communication between east and west. This was a very real handicap, for one end of the county could not be kept in effective touch with the other. The effect of modern transport systems has somewhat overcome this difficulty, and the association has been able, in recent years, to show much greater signs of active life.

The diocesan question, however, still puts something of a stranglehold upon the society. Most of the area in which it works is now in the diocese of Southwark, but Croydon, one of the association's chief centres, remains an isolated part in the diocese of Canterbury. Moreover, the London County Association now includes 'North Southwark Diocese' in its title, so that the opportunity which the Surrey Association has of taking on diocesan status, if it desired to do so, is full of complications, especially as any comprehensive Southwark Diocesan Guild would overlap the area of the Kent County Association. Obviously no rearrangement on the diocesan basis could take place without substantial concessions between the associations concerned, and of this there seems no present likelihood. In the meantime, the Surrey Association is taking on a new lease of life, with young blood as the driving force, and it reaches its jubilee at a time when its activities are as great as at any period of its career. The Exercise will join in congratulating the association upon completing fifty years of work in the cause of belfry reform and change ringing, and in expressing the hope that its future may be even more successful and prosperous than the past has been.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION. BISHOP OF WILLESDEN VISITS DISTRICT MEETING.

Success attended a meeting of the North and East District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild at St. Mary's, Finchley, on Saturday last, when nearly 40 ringers took advantage of a sunny afternoon to pay a visit to this pretty church, with its equally pretty peal of six bells (tenor 9 cwt.). The Rector (Rev. S. F. L. Bernays) cordially welcomed the members at the service, and gave them a very useful message.

During tea, the Rector, accompanied by the Bishop of Willesden, paid a visit, and accepted an invitation to join in the meal. The Bishop showed great interest in the work of the association, and readily remembered ringers at churches where he had at some time officiated, amongst them being Romford and St. John's at Hackney.

Immediately tea was over, the Rector expressed his pleasure at meeting the association, and the Bishop then addressed the members. His description of the varied ways of calling people to worship in different parts of the world was very interesting.

Before the departure of the guests, the Hon. Secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles) conveyed the thanks of the members to the Bishop and Rector for their kind interest in the association, and informed the members that the Bishop had kindly consented to become an hon. vice-president.

At the business meeting, the death of the president and hon. treasurer (Mr. F. A. Milne) was referred to, and the hon. secretary stated that he had received many letters expressing sympathy, including one from the Bishop of London. To show their respect, the members present stood in silence for a few moments.

The Hon. Secretary stated that the district was in the position of having nearly a year to go before the next annual meeting, when they could elect a new treasurer, and he suggested that this office should be filled temporarily. He had much pleasure in proposing that their old friend, Mr. W. H. Oram, be elected hon. treasurer (pro tem.).—This was seconded by Mr. C. H. Martin and carried unanimously.—Mr. Oram expressed his delight at being able to do something useful, and promised to do his best for the welfare of the society. It was also agreed that Mr. Oram should be the third trustee of the invested stock.

Five new ringing members were elected, as well as the Rector of St. Giles-in-the-Fields (the Rev. A. H. Lloyd) as an hon. member.

It was announced that the annual general meeting of the association would be held at Fulham on Saturday, April 26th, when the preacher would be the Rev. W. P. C. Sheane, Vicar of Twickenham and Rural Dean of Hampton.

It was decided that the next district meeting should be held at St. Andrew's, Enfield, on May 17th, jointly with the Ladies' Guild.

The Chairman (Mr. W. Pickworth) proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector for his address at the service, and for the use of the bells, and to the local ringers and their friends for the excellent tea provided. This was seconded by the hon. secretary, and carried unanimously.—Mr. Fred Barker replied, and expressed his pleasure that the meeting had been so much enjoyed.

The Ringing Master (Mr. A. W. Coles) kept everybody busy in the tower, and saw to it that all present had an opportunity to ring. Rounds, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Double Court, Double Oxford, Cambridge and London Surprise were amongst the methods rung.

CHESTER GUILD AT LAWTON.

The Crewe Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild held their monthly meeting at Lawton on Saturday week, when 33 members were present representing Crewe, Alsager, Lawton, Wistaston, Northwich, Macclesfield, Nantwich and Market Drayton. Ringing commenced at about 3.30 and continued until 7.30 p.m., with an interval for tea.

During the afternoon and evening, touches of Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Treble Bob Major, Cambridge and Treble Bob Major were rung.

An excellent tea was served in the Institute, after which the Lawton handbell ringers entertained the visitors with handbell selections. These accomplished ringers consisted of Messrs. Rigby, Arrowsmith, Booth, Harper, Longman and Biddulph. Character sketches by Mr. Sproston were much enjoyed.

At the conclusion, a vote of thanks to the Rector for presiding and for the use of the bells, to Mr. E. Hollinshead for providing such a splendid tea, to the ladies who assisted in this connection (tea), and to the handbell ringers, was proposed by Mr. Wm. Holding, of Crewe. This was seconded by Mr. Longford and carried with acclamation. A very happy meeting was thus brought to a satisfactory conclusion.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION'S TITLE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Thanks to Mr. A. H. Keighley for his letter of explanation. I am glad to know the suggestion came from the Bishop of Kingston. Nevertheless, it is but a phrase, not a correct title, more especially as it is not intended to include the whole of the diocese, and is therefore not diocesan.—Yours sincerely,

F. W. RICHARDSON.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

SOUTHERN DIVISION.

The annual meeting of the Southern District was held at the Church of All Saints, Sheffield, on Saturday, March 15th, and in spite of the wretched weather conditions (it snowed all day) a good attendance was recorded, upwards of 40 members being present from Sheffield Cathedral, St. Marie's, Ramoore, Handsworth, Holsterstone, Wath, Doncaster, Arksey, Ecclesfield, Wortley and Rawmarsh. The bells, a fine peal of eight, were kept very busy until five o'clock, when a short service was conducted by the Vicar. This was followed by tea in the Church Institute.

Owing to a previous engagement, the Vicar was unable to preside at the business meeting, and before leaving he was heartily thanked for his permission for the use of the bells and the Institute, also for his address at the service.

The vice-president (Mr. G. Lewis) occupied the chair, and was supported by Mr. G. Halksworth (Ringing Master). The following were elected members of the association: Messrs. J. Moorhouse, A. Scott, W. Hammond, G. Heald and F. Cockell (all of Wakefield Cathedral), J. Greaves (Ecclesfield), H. Bradley (Doncaster), G. H. Hirst (Sheffield Cathedral), and Miss Doris Turner (Handsworth).

For the annual joint meeting, Crofton, near Wakefield, and Conisborough were nominated, and on a vote being taken Conisborough was chosen, the date fixed being June 21st.

Mr. G. Lewis was re-elected vice-president for three years, and the retiring committee, Messrs. G. Clark (Arksey), W. Wooler (Wortley) and F. C. Wilson (Rawmarsh), were re-elected. To fill a vacancy caused by removal, Mr. A. Gill (Wath) was elected for two years.

Opportunity was taken to congratulate Mr. G. Holmes and Mr. G. Dixon, both of St. Marie's company, on attaining 50 years' membership of the Yorkshire Association. Reference was also made to the loss All Saints' company had sustained by the passing away of three of their members, Messrs. W. T. and T. Chown and E. Willey (late vice-president of the Southern Division), and all present stood for a few moments in silence as a last mark of respect to them.

Mr. R. Harrison proposed that the best thanks of the members be given to the vice-president, committee and secretary for their services during the past year, and urged all members to give them their support by attendance at the meetings. This having been carried, was replied to by the secretary.

Votes of thanks to the local company and to the ladies for the excellent tea provided were passed and acknowledged by Mr. J. W. Smithson, hon. secretary of the local company.

This brought to a close another very enjoyable annual meeting.

Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, deserve hearty congratulations for the very excellent peal they have put in at this church, and which all agree are second to none in the Southern Division.

TREBLE BOB MINOR COMPOSITIONS

To the Editor.

Sir,—I do not propose at this time to take part in the renewed discussion on composite 720's and 120's. Indeed, in my opinion, it is a disservice to the Exercise to do so. At Chelmsford, a reasonable compromise was arrived at under which these compositions were to be published without committing ringers to a decision either in favour of or against their validity for peal ringing. Surely, it is far better that we should wait till they are in the hands of ringers throughout the country so that they can be tried out. The history of the past gives confidence that a sound commonsense conclusion will thus be reached.

As regards the totally different question as to the number of different extents that exist (that is, of course, the number of independent compositions of Treble Bob Minor), 'Minormania' is quite right. Mr. Law James has been caught napping in a small point. All 720's with 9 (or 12, or 15, or 18, or 21) bobs are simple variations or reverses of one another, while those with 21 bobs are what may be called inverses of those with 9, and, similarly, those with 12 and 18.

I think it will be found on examination that every 720 of a method with second's place and lead-head 56342 or 42635, containing 9 (or 12) bobs, can have every bob plain and every plain bobbed, and will thus produce a true 720 with 21 (or 18) bobs. Similarly, for sixth's-place methods, with lead-head 35264 and 64523. The other four groups of methods will not run to 720 changes with either 18 or 21 bobs.

Thus, strictly speaking, there are only three different extents of Treble Bob Minor. It is, of course, unnecessary (or, at least, it should be) to add that a 720 of (say) Kent Treble Bob with 9 bobs is the same composition as one of London Surprise with the same number.—Yours, etc.,

E. S. POWELL.

ASH PRIORS, SOMERSET.—On March 21st, 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor: W. H. Lloyd (conductor) 1, E. Branchflower 2, F. Branchflower 3, A. Tout 4, W. Knight 5, B. T. Jeanes 6. First 720 in the method for ringers of 2, 3, and 5, the ringers of 2 and 3 being father and son. The latter is not yet 14 years of age, and is to be congratulated on the steady way in which he rang his bell and the method.

A ST. PATRICK'S DAY OUTING.

A 350 MILES' JOURNEY FOR A PEAL.

Sunday, March 16th, saw seventeen members of the St. Patrick's Cathedral Society, Dublin, muster at Amiens Street Station, en route for Londonderry by the 7.15 p.m. train. Portsdown was reached at about 10.15, and a halt was called for the night, the Queen Hotel accommodating all the members. At nine o'clock next morning (St. Patrick's Day) they again entrained for the last portion of their journey to Londonderry, which was reached at 11.5 a.m. Here they were met by the Very Rev. Dean King, Mr. J. C. Orr, Mr. Kennedy and other members of St. Columb's Cathedral Society.

The seven members who were not standing in the peal were kindly taken in motors by the Dean and other gentlemen to Portrush, some forty miles distant, and entertained to luncheon. The remaining ten wended their way to the Cathedral, where the principal event of the outing was soon under weigh.

After three hours and fourteen minutes, the bells rolled home, no word having been spoken beyond the necessary calls.

With only an hour remaining before entraining for the one hundred and seventy-five mile homeward journey, it was only possible for the band to obtain light refreshments before getting to the station. Dinner was served on the train.

In bidding 'Good-bye' to all their Derry friends, the president of the visiting society (Mr. R. S. F. Murphy) asked the Dean to accept, for the belfry, a framed photo of the members of St. Patrick's Society who visited Derry and rang for the opening of the bells. He also thanked them all for their kind co-operation in making their present visit such a success.

The Dean, in accepting the photo, congratulated the ringers on their peal, and wished them a safe return.

The Dublin ringers desire, through the medium of 'The Ringing World,' to tender their thanks for all the kindness they experienced on their visit.

THE SPLICING OF PLAIN METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I fear that the third item in your Sunday service touches column of March 21st is slightly misleading. If I had known this extent would be rung, I should have explained to Mr. Relfe before he sent you his report.

The methods, Double Oxford and St. Clement's, have the relationship described on page 14 of 'Method Splicing' in the seventh paragraph below the heading 'Plain Methods.' They can therefore be spliced in blocks of 30 leads, the methods being changed at the Singles, and have probably been rung thus.

The novelty of the Lambethurst 720 lies in the manner in which the methods have been spliced, in 3-lead blocks, irrespective of the Singles. The figures of a typical 720 are given:—

23456 Double Oxford.
42635 St. Clement's.
64523 St. Clement's.
56342 Double Oxford.
— 23564 Double Oxford.
— 45236 Double Oxford.
24653 St. Clement's.
62345 St. Clement's.
36524 Double Oxford.
— 45362 Double Oxford.

Five times repeated, S. halfway and end.

Yours faithfully,

A. G. DRIVER.

THE BELLRINGERS' FAREWELL.

The following lines were inspired by seeing four ringers ring a course of Grandsire Triples over the open grave of the late Mr. F. A. Milne, president of the Middlesex County Association:—

The last word is said; the earth receives her dust.
There is an end of him we knew.
We wait by the open ground, under a careless sky,
And know that we and he are lost and separate.
Sad dust, there is no help for you, no gentle end
That we can make. Impotent, we depart,
With no farewell.

Four-square the ringers stand,
Look down, then lift their bells in salutation
To peal sweet tunes about your earthy bed,
That fall on you and mount to us, and are carried
High in the wind, then drop to you again,
To silence. The ringers stand,
Look down. 'Friend, was it well done?'
They go, with muted bells and lowered faces.
And we go too,
Our tread an echo of your requiem.

FARNHAM DISTRICT MEETING.

A successful meeting of the Farnham District was held at Frensham on Saturday, when about 40 members and friends attended from Aldershot, Ash, Farnham, Frensham, Hawley, Seale, Ottershaw and Woking. Ringing commenced at three o'clock, and, later, the Guild service was conducted by the Vicar of Frensham (Rev. M. C. H. Collet, R.D.), Mr. T. A. Stroud, a member of the local band of ringers presiding at the organ. Tea and business meeting in the Village Hall followed, and, in the absence of the Vicar, Admiral T. P. Walker took the chair. Five new members were elected, viz., Messrs. Case and Ackerman (ringing members), Mr. W. Bolton, of the Llandaff Association (compounding member), and Mrs. C. Edwards and the Rev. M. C. H. Collet (honorary members). Votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells and for conducting the service, the ladies in charge of the tea arrangements, and to Admiral Walker for presiding.

The tower was revisited at the close of the business meeting, and the bells kept going until 8.30 p.m. The methods rung ranged from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION
CHELTENHAM BRANCH.

The spring meeting of the Cheltenham Branch was held at Badgeworth on Saturday, March 15th, and was well attended despite the very heavy rain. This nice ring of six bells was kept going during the afternoon and evening. The service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. Wm. Downes), with Mr. George Cox at the organ and a full choir.

After service all adjourned to the Village Hall, where the members were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd, who, together with their helpers, had arranged a nice tea.

The business meeting followed, with the Vicar in the chair, supported by the Master (Rev. E. S. Saleby), Canon F. W. Sears, Mr. and Mrs. F. Clements and some 35 members representative of the towers in the branch.

The Vicar heartily welcomed the members to his parish, and said he had a lot to thank the secretary for.

One honorary and three performing members were elected, and Dumbleton was chosen for the summer meeting in June.

The Master then fully explained Rule XIV., and it was decided to support the executive with reference to the association's re-affiliation to the Central Council.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard were heartily thanked for their kind hospitality, the Vicar for the use of the bells and for conducting the service, and all who had helped so freely. This concluded the business.

ONE ROUND BLOCK—OR SEVEN?

To the Editor.

Sir,—This problem has been explained to a noted Irish wag, who gave his judgment thus:—

—'Hedad, now, and aren't there two New Year's Days in ivery year—one at the beginning and one at the end? Thin, in seven years, begorra, there must be fourteen New Year's Days!'

Mr. James will agree that Paddy's opinion was the correct one. It was, in effect, precisely what Mr. James wrote in your columns on March 21st.—Yours, etc.,

PEALS AT QUEX PARK.

Two peals, recorded in another column, were rung on the twelve bells at Quex Park, Kent, on Saturday and Sunday week. They were organised by Mr. F. E. Dawe, and the peal of Stedman Cinques on Sunday was a birthday compliment to him. The band, who are indebted to Mr. Graham, agent of Major Powell-Cotton, for granting them the use of the bells, spent a pleasant week-end, and in addition to their double success in the tower, were able to inspect the wonderful natural history museum in the park, thanks to the kindness of the curator, Mr. Pinfold. On Sunday, Mr. Dawe entertained the band to lunch, and received their congratulations upon his birthday.

FELKIRK'S RECORD

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I was very pleased to read your editorial re the Felkirk record of 253 720's and methods. I had the pleasure of congratulating them publicly at a meeting of the Barnsley and District Society held at Wuth-on-Dearne, and I am glad to say details of the record will be inserted in the society's minutes. This record may be beaten, but the band which sets out to beat it will be busy. I had the pleasure of conducting a good many of the 197 720's sung by the Wuth-on-Dearne band in 1927, and I can assure you that that band can ring Treble Bob Minor methods.

Seeing the reference in 'Belfry Gossip' re the 15,120 in 21 Treble Bob Minor methods rung at Waltham-on-Dearne in 1816 and still unbeaten, you may be interested to learn that a few years after I had learnt to ring a little I rang a short touch of Oxford Treble Bob Minor on handbells (one bell each) with the son of the conductor of that long peal and four others.

Round about the years 1908-1910 I got together six Treble Bob Minor ringers to practice with the intention of trying to ring 25 720's, i.e., 18,000, but several things happened to upset the project after we had got to the stage of ringing any of 50 or 60 methods. One ringer left the district, one left the earth and others were not available to fill their places at that period, but I still hope to have a shot at it when I can get the men and a suitable peal of bells, those at Wath-on-Dearne being quite out of the question now.

Also, please note, the record was made at Wath-on-Dearne, Yorkshire, not Wath (Yorks), which is a small town near Ripon, and which also has a peal of six bells.—Yours truly,

A. NASH.

President, Barnsley and District Society.

HIGH WYCOMBE RINGERS.

At the annual meeting of the High Wycombe belfry it was reported that the number of attendances made at Sunday and practice rings totalled 1,325. The officers were re-elected, viz.: President, the Vicar; foreman, Mr. Ralph Coles; deputy, Mr. George White; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. George Twichen. Mr. D. Boreham was elected a member of the belfry. A committee was formed to consider and revise the rules if necessary.

The annual outing was fixed for Whit Monday.

Thanks to officers for service rendered, to the Vicar for the hospitality of a first-class supper, and a discussion on other matters closed the meeting.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The bells of Cransley, near Kettering (an old ring of six by Bagley, all dated 1683), are to be broadcast at 7.55 p.m. on Sunday, March 30th. Until a fortnight ago, they had not been raised for seventeen years, when they were pronounced unsafe by a representative of a firm of bell founders, who inspected them, and they are, in ringers' language, a 'rough lot.' Two of them (treble and fourth) are cracked in the crown, but do not make their defect too plainly heard when rung. Under the circumstances, the band on Sunday may not be able to put up as good a performance as they would like to do.

Mr. James George has had a narrow escape from serious injury. On Monday week he was knocked down by a motor-car, near his home. Fortunately, the brakes of the car acted efficiently, and when Mr. George was pulled out from beneath the vehicle the only damage done was to his hat and clothes, although, of course, he was severely shaken. With his wonderful powers of recuperation, he quickly recovered, and on Saturday rang in a peal of Stedman Cinques at Walsall.

Owing to illness, the meeting of the Ely Diocesan Association at Long Stanton is postponed indefinitely.

Mr. George Pullinger, who has for some years ably filled the office of hon. secretary of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, has resigned office. Mr. F. W. Rogers, Portsmouth District secretary, is acting pro. tem.

A peal of 10,080 Grandsire Caters was rung at Fulham by the College Youths on March 29th, 1762.

At St. Michael Coslany, Norwich, a peal of 10,080 Oxford Treble Bob Major was rung on April 1st, 1727.

The first peal of Grandsire Triples at St. Dunstan's in the West, Fleet Street, London, was rung by the St. Dunstan's Society on April 1st, 1777. These bells are now seldom, if ever, rung.

On April 3rd, 1899, a peal of 15,072 Double Norwich Major was rung at Erith. At that time it was the longest length in the method. It was, however, exceeded by Kidlington peal less than two months later.

A peal of Grandsire Caters (the first on the bells) was rung on Saturday at St. Peter's, Brighton, on the anniversary of the first peal of Bristol Surprise Major rung in the same tower in 1901.

'THE RINGER'S DIRECTORY.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The Bristol United Ringing Guilds' Committee are anxious that the usefulness of 'The Ringer's Directory' shall continue, and they will issue free of cost to all subscribers on July 1st a leaflet showing 'Change of address.' If subscribers have changed their address, or know of any changed address, we should be grateful for a postcard containing the new address.

The committee is anxious to obtain the co-operation of divisional representatives to assist them in their future compilations. Particulars as to nature of help can be obtained from me. Mr. James George has offered his services for Birmingham district, and this has been gratefully accepted.

EDGAR GUISE,

Hon. Secretary.

SURREY ASSOCIATION'S JUBILEE. FIFTIETH ANNUAL MEETING.

This year the Surrey Association reaches its jubilee, having been formally constituted at a meeting held at Beddington on May 21st, 1880. The Rev. Canon Bridges, then Rector of Beddington, was the first chairman, and the Rev. A. S. W. Young, Vicar of Kingston-on-Thames, was elected hon. secretary. Growth was slow in those early days, and when the first report was published in 1883, there were but ten towers in union. The secretary was then Mr. A. W. B. Percival, of Wimbledon, and the Rev. A. S. W. Young was treasurer. On the committee were men whose names have been well known in the Exercise. Representing the hon. members were Dr. A. B. Carpenter, Capt. J. E. Acland-Troyte, Mr. E. F. Cole, Mr. C. E. Malin and the Rev. C. H. Richards. The representatives were Messrs. A. Bruce (Croydon), A. Garrett (Wimbledon), S. Greenwood (Streatham), G. Pell, J. W. Trappitt (Beddington), and J. Wright (Kingston).

On Saturday, the fiftieth annual meeting was held at Beddington, and over a hundred members were present. The bells at the Parish Church were utilised throughout the afternoon, and the Rector of Beddington (Rev. E. V. Bond), whose wife is granddaughter of Canon Bridges, conducted the service. In this connection it is interesting to note that two visiting ringers on this occasion also claim relationship with the principal founder of the association, viz., Major John H. Bridges Hesse (who is Master of the Guildford Diocesan Guild) and Dr. Taylor (of Sevenoaks).

BEDDINGTON CHURCH.

The 'Mother' tower of the Surrey Association.

The following affiliated towers were represented: Ashted, Banstead, Beddington, Buckland, Burstow, St. John's and St. Peter's, Croydon, Ewell, Horley, Kingswood, Leatherhead, Limpsfield Chart, Mersham, St. Peter's and Christ Church, Mitcham, Redhill, Reigate, and St. Leonard's, Streatham. There were also members from Chislehurst, Hendon, Hillingdon, Norwich, Penge, Poole, Guildford, Woking and London, and among the visitors was Mr. George Dent, of Harlow Common.

The service was taken from the Ringers' Manual, and the Rector preached from the words, 'Walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called' (Ephesians iv. 1). After extending a welcome to the association, he remarked upon the fittingness of holding the meeting in the jubilee year at Beddington, and referred to the foundation of the association fifty years ago, and the objects for which it was formed. In those days, he said, abuses of the belfry were common, and drinking, gambling and smoking were often carried on in them, while in many towers the only ringing consisted of rounds or call changes. It was to counteract these abuses and to promote the art of change ringing that the great associations were formed. Method ringing required study and practice, a clear head, close concentration, thought and intelligence, and it involved a sacrifice of time and even of money. It also required the old Christian characteristics of patience and thoroughness. It brought together all classes of people, who united in one fraternity, giving their services to God and the Church. The bells had a message to those outside, and, if the bells had a message, then the ringers were the preachers. Let them, therefore, walk worthy in their vocation; let them do their ringing to the glory of God. There was a danger in thinking too much of practice as an aid to peal ringing, but if they had behind their mind that the object of their practice was to ring the bells better on Sunday, then all would be well. Let them aim high, but let them remember that, as in their ringing they set an example of endurance, patience and reverence, in their daily life they should set an example of true Christian men.

AN ASSOCIATION CERTIFICATE.

After tea, at the Harvest Home Hotel, the business meeting was held, presided over by the Master (Mr. D. Kenneth C. Birt), who at the outset reminded the members that that was the fiftieth annual meeting, and quoted from the first report of the association, which, after referring to the ten peals rung in the first three years, expressed the conviction that not only would the performances increase in numbers, but that they would also grow in variety. That anticipation, said Mr. Birt, had been abundantly fulfilled in the years that had followed.

Mr. C. Dean, as hon. treasurer, presented the financial statement, which showed that the year began with £29 1s. 5d. in hand. The receipts included £3 8s. from the Southern District, £4 19s. 6d. from the North-Western District, £2 2s. from one life hon. member, and £3 5s. from 13 compounding members. The subscriptions were received from 110 ringing and 4 hon. members in the Southern District, and from 142 members in the North-West District. The expenses, including £19 10s. for printing the annual report, amounted to £23 19s. 1d., leaving a balance in hand of £18 3s. 4d., a reduction of nearly £11 on the year.—The report was adopted, with thanks to the treasurer.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. C. H. Kippin) read the committee's report, which stated that 22 peals had been rung by the association in 1929. Four ringing members and an hon. member had been lost by death. In the North-Western District five meetings had been held with an average attendance of 30, and two successful joint meetings with the Guildford Diocesan Guild. There were 109 members attached to 15 towers and 34 unattached. There were 13 towers with 114 members in the Southern District.

An important part of the report dealt with the committee's recommendations as to a new certificate of membership. A design was submitted, and it was recommended that this should be accepted; that a stone be produced and 300 copies printed at a cost of £23 10s., and that members be charged 1s. per copy. The stone would be the property of the association, and further copies could be produced at £1 1s. per 100.

The design was passed round, but several speakers considered that it was not good enough, and Mr. Housden asked if they could not have an alternative design.

The Chairman said the committee had been to some extent tied in their choice of design by a resolution passed two years ago at the meeting at Leatherhead, when it was resolved that the new design should follow the old certificate as nearly as possible. The committee themselves did not like the design, but they felt bound to act upon the instructions given them. The designers had gone to a great deal of trouble to make the most they could of it within these limits.

After considerable discussion, a motion to refer back this part of the report was defeated, and eventually the design and the committee's recommendations were approved.

The remainder of the report was also adopted.

PEAL BOOKING FEES.

The Hon. Secretary moved a resolution to delete rule 21, under which a booking fee of 3d. per rope is charged for peals. He said this rule was introduced when the association was in financial difficulties in order to assist in meeting the cost of printing the annual report. At the present time they were in a better position, and as it was felt the rule penalised peal ringers it was thought they should get rid of the rule as soon as possible.

Mr. M. Northover expressed the opinion that the time was not yet ripe to delete the rule entirely. He agreed that it had its disadvantages, especially in the case of ringers who rang peals for the benefit of young hands. A suggestion that had been carried practically unanimously in the Southern District was a compromise, and he moved that the booking fees be paid by the districts for each ringer after his first three peals.

The difficulties of carrying this out were pointed out by the hon. secretary, and on a vote being taken the amendment was lost by a large majority.

Mr. Northover then said they ought to think carefully before they decided to do away entirely with this source of income. He thought it was too soon, in view of their other commitments.

It was elicited that the amount received from booking fees last year was £1 19s. 6d.

A member asked if 3d. would stop anyone standing in a peal?

The Hon. Secretary replied that he was sure of it. They would ring peals for another association.

On being put to the vote, the motion to delete the rule was defeated by a large majority.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

OFFICIAL MINUTES OF THE MEETING AT CHELMSFORD.

The third session of the thirteenth Council (37th annual meeting) was held in the Cathedral Hall, Chelmsford, on Whitsun Tuesday, May 21st, at 11 a.m.

COUNCIL MEETING.

There were present at the general meeting 78 members (32 guilds and associations being represented).

The chair was taken by the president, who opened the meeting with prayer.

In the unavoidable absence of the Bishop of Chelmsford, the Council was welcomed by Canon Morrow, Sub-Dean and Rector of Chelmsford, and by the Mayor.

Canon Morrow, on behalf of the Church, expressed his appreciation of the work done by the Council, and the high level to which the whole idea of ringing had been brought during the last twenty or thirty years.

The Mayor, on behalf of the city, gave the Council a hearty welcome to what he described as one of the most beautiful of English counties.

The President then thanked the Canon and the Mayor, and the Council proceeded to discuss the business upon the agenda.

The minutes of the last meeting having been published, were taken as read, and duly confirmed and signed.

Apologies for absence for received from the Revs. C. D. P. Davies, A. J. Beeston, H. S. T. Richardson, F. J. O. Helmore, Canon Elsee, E. W. Carpenter, C. C. Marshall, Messrs. J. W. Parker, J. Cotterill, P. J. Johnson, J. S. Pritchett, A. Padden-Smith, H. Knight, E. H. Lewis, H. Haigh, W. Barton, W. Ayre, J. Clark, J. D. Matthews, T. H. Taffender and H. G. Fretwell.

Several of the above were incapacitated by illness, especially the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, and a sympathetic reference was made of the fact by the president.

ACCOUNTS.

The hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. Alex. Young, presented the financial statement, which showed that the year began with a balance at the bank of £26 15s. 6d., and that the balance, after the receipts (which included £5 5s. for the broadcast lecture), and expenditure of the year had been dealt with, was £31 19s. 6d. There was also £100 (nominal) on deposit.

The accounts were adopted on the motion of Mr. Griffin, seconded by Mr. Hughes.

The Hon. Secretary stated that they would hear with regret that the Gloucester and Bristol Association (one of the founders of the Council) had seceded, but two other associations had joined, viz., the Oxford University Guild and the St. Clement's Youths, London.

The Hon. Librarian, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, then read his statement, saying that the amount realised on the sale of publications during the past year was £6 5s. 3d., that is one pound in excess of the previous year, due to the 'on sale or return' agents. He stated that he had received the last instalment of the 'Treble Bob Peals Collection,' most ably typed by Mrs. Fletcher. During the year he had received numerous applications for publications which were now out of print, through members not consulting the Council's weekly advertisements. He had sent the Heywood MSS. to Mr. Trollope. The Hon. Secretary said that he had inspected some of the MSS. with Mr. Trollope, and they had concluded to recommend that the papers be sorted, put into covers and docketed and returned to the library for future use.

Mr. Trollope, in agreeing with the previous speaker, said that though many of the connecting links of the correspondence were missing, it was possible that the papers might be deemed useful in subsequent years.

On the motion of the President, the report was adopted, and the Council decided that the book, 'On the Preservation of Bells, etc.,' should be revised before being republished.

HONORARY MEMBERS.

The following hon. members being due to retire, viz., Mrs. Edwards, Rev. E. W. Carpenter, Mr. Jas. George, and Mr. H. W. Wilde, the President said that the Standing Committee had recommended the election of Mr. W. A. Cave in place of Mrs. Edwards.

Mr. J. Hunt then proposed the election of Mr. Cave, as hon. member of the Council, which was seconded by the Rev. E. S. Powell, and, on the motion of the President, the remaining three outgoing members were re-elected.

The new members attending for the first time were then introduced to and welcomed by the president.

The Hon. Secretary then mentioned the loss by death of Mr. J. D. Drewett (Surrey Association), Mr. R. B. Chambers (Midland Counties Association), and Mr. R. Holloway (Middlesex County Association), and the Council stood in silence as a mark of respect.

STANDING COMMITTEE.

The Hon. Secretary reported that the committee proposed that a letter of congratulation on his recovery from serious illness be sent to the King, after the day of thanksgiving, and also particulars of the peals rung in celebration of the event.—This was unanimously endorsed by the Council.

'ROLL OF HONOUR.'

The Hon. Secretary stated that this book had been brought up to date (as they would observe).

CARTER'S RINGING MACHINE.

He further reported that fair progress in reconditioning the machine had been made, and he hoped at the next meeting to report that it had been completed.

TRAVELLING FACILITIES.

He informed the Council that they had received a revised offer, based on 100 persons using the tickets, and that it was deemed advisable to postpone acceptance until next year's meeting.

PEAL COLLECTION COMMITTEE.

Mrs. Fletcher reported that the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson was proving the peals of Treble Bob with the tenors parted, and the work was still in hand. The report was accepted.

LITERATURE AND PRESS COMMITTEE.

Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, who reported for the committee, said that the year had been remarkable for several good and sympathetic articles on bells, and for the publication of 'Bells Through the Ages'—a great addition to our literature.

He referred to the necessity of keeping a watchful eye in the case of any proposal being brought before Parliament for the prevention of noises, which might include a reference to bells.

The President praised the report, and on his motion it was adopted.

SUB-COMMITTEE.

Sub-Committee.—Mr. E. W. Elwell reported that they had revised the 'Rules for a Local Company,' which they suggested should be published at a cost not exceeding £5, for sale at 6d. per copy. On the motion of the President, the report was adopted.

METHODS COMMITTEE.

Rev. H. Law James, in presenting this committee's report, reminded the Council that they were authorised to publish a new edition of the Minor Methods, but, in view of the controversial issues involved, they had thought it wiser to defer publication until now, when they were prepared to publish a complete book containing the whole of the information which had gradually been gathered together.

Mr. Trollope, in seconding, reminded the Council of the long services of this committee of thirty years' standing, and its undoubted experience. He reviewed the differences of opinion which obtained as to what should be included in the book, or otherwise, and strongly urged the Council to pass the list of compositions as published, and, referring to the arrangements of Morris, Pitman and Bankes James, he advocated that they also should be included in the work.

Mr. W. Willson spoke strongly against the adoption of the report, and proposed that it be deferred back for the deletion of the Morris and Pitman Doubles, the London Minor and the Cambridge Surprise Minor, and Mr. Jas. George formally seconded.

Considerable discussion then ensued, Mr. Coles submitting that much of the argument might be deferred until resolution No. 7 was reached, a view supported by Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake. The Hon. Secretary here interpolated the remark that the compositions might be put into an appendix.

After further remarks by Messrs. Pulling and Cave, the latter proposed that the disputed peals be put in as an appendix to the book.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith protested against the committee publishing the compositions in question, and maintained that the Council's book, when published, should serve practical uses only, and should not include anything merely for historical purposes. He further remarked that, whilst he was not prepared to say that the Bankes James' Cambridge Minor was false, he hoped that the other compositions in dispute would be excluded from the publication.

At this point the Council adjourned for lunch.

After the adjournment, Mr. Pulling suggested that the disputed compositions should be inserted with a footnote that they were not to be rung in peals, whereupon Mr. Coles, on a point of order, asked whether this was not prejudicing Motion No. 7, and the President concurred.

Mr. James Hunt objected to the disputed peals being included in the book, and Mr. H. W. Wilde supported him.

Rev. E. S. Powell, as a member of the Methods Committee, then further explained its views. He suggested that the distinction as to truth which critics of the Methods Committee had tried to draw between various compositions in question was illogical and false. The value of these productions for peal purposes could only be judged by practical experience in the belfry.

Mr. Willson's motion was then taken as an amendment, and after two counts was declared carried by 30 votes to 29.

It was then put by the president as a substantive motion, with the addition of the words, 'because they are all hopelessly false,' which, however, was declared as lost.

A deadlock having arisen, it was, after some discussion, proposed by Mr. W. A. Cave and seconded by Mr. C. Mee, that these peals should be inserted as an appendix under the heading, 'The insertion of these compositions does not commit anybody to the opinion that they are suitable to peal ringing.'

This was carried by 44 votes to 3, and the report adopted accordingly.

PEALS ANALYSIS COMMITTEE.

Mrs. Fletcher formally moved the adoption of the report for this committee, its analysis having already been published, which was seconded by Mr. Geo. Williams and adopted.

The Hon. Secretary then said he regretted to say that Mr. J. W. Parker and Rev. A. T. Beeston had withdrawn from the committee. Mr. J. S. Goldsmith proposed, and Rev. E. S. Powell seconded, that Mr. Jas. George and Mr. Geo. R. Pye be elected to fill the vacancies on the committee. This was carried unanimously.

The report was adopted, and the President, on behalf of the Council, thanked Mrs. Fletcher and Mr. Parker for the enormous amount of work they had done in connection with the interesting report.

TOWERS AND BELFRIES.

Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn reported for this committee. He referred to the report, which had already been published, on belfry acoustics, a subject which he thought deserved serious attention. He moved that the committee's report be adopted. Mr. E. M. Atkins, asking whether anything further had been done regarding the welding of bells, Mr. C. J. Sedgely stated that one at Ipswich had been so treated most satisfactorily.

Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn suggested that the committee should undertake the revision of the book on the preservation of bells. This addition to the report being seconded by Major Hesse, it was adopted and the committee authorised to do the above-mentioned work.

RECORDS COMMITTEE.

Mr. T. H. Beams reported for this committee, and read a list of the first peals and new methods and progressive lengths in others which had been rung since the last report. On the motion of the President, the report was duly adopted.

LEGAL LIABILITY.

Mr. F. A. Milne read an interesting and valuable report dealing with the rights, privileges and liabilities of all those having to do with church bells. After a short discussion, the President said that the Council were very grateful to the members of the committee for their valuable report, which, on his motion, was then adopted.

'BROADCASTING' COMMITTEE.

Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, reporting for the committee, said that the 'talk' on bellringing given on September 19th, 1929, had proved an unqualified success, and he had received many letters from different parts of the country in confirmation of this.

The President said the thanks of the Exercise would be accorded to Mr. Edwards and the ringers who had assisted him, and on his motion the report was adopted.

MOTIONS.

The Council then proceeded to discuss the motions on the agenda.

Mr. R. Whittington moved, and Mr. A. H. Pulling seconded, 'That this Council will not recognise as a peal of Minor or Doubles any compositions in which the bells do not strike in 720 or 120 different orders respectively, before beginning the next 720 or 120,' these members, in briefly asking the Council to support their motion, explained that it was to reinforce the decision passed by the Council at Hereford the year before, and that they desired to emphasise that in both cases referred to the changes should start from and finish at rounds.'

After Rev. E. S. Powell had suggested that the motion could be made more acceptable in its terms, Mr. J. Hunt raised the point as to the actual meaning of the resolution passed at Hereford, following upon which the Rev. E. S. Powell then moved the following amendment: 'That this Council will not recognise as a peal of Minor or Doubles any composition in which the 720's or 120's were not true and complete and which did not start from and end with "rounds,"' and said that he deprecated proceeding any further than the Hereford decision (certainly for a year or two), in order that the pros and cons could be better appreciated. Mr. F. W. Perrius seconded this.

Rev. H. Law James in endeavouring to clear up the position, which was becoming somewhat obscured, then illustrated his views upon the nature of a 'round block' by reference to the clock hanging beside them on the wall, dividing its figures into six divisions, starting at 12 o'clock, or 'rounds,' and proceeding clockwise with the changes until they finished at 12 o'clock with the same 'rounds,' claiming that those at the end were those at the beginning. After considerable further discussion, in which he, the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, and Messrs. W. Wilson, W. A. Cave, and C. T. Coles took part, Mr. R. Whittington then said that he and his seconder were prepared to withdraw their motion and support the amendment. The withdrawal being agreed, Mr. J. A. Trollope then pointed out that the passing of the amendment, which had now become the resolution, would exclude the Bankes James Cambridge which, he thought, many would deem undesirable. There was evidently a wide difference of opinion indeed. It might be better to leave the Hereford resolution as it stood.

Rev. F. Ll. Edwards then proposed as an amendment 'That in view of the fact that the practices affected by this resolution were at present in an entirely experimental stage, further consideration be deferred until a future meeting,' and Mr. C. T. Coles seconded.

After a few further remarks, this amendment was put to the meeting and carried by 34 votes to 24; and, on being put as a substantive motion, the President declared it carried by a large majority. The whole question thus remained to be discussed at some future meeting.

(The discussion, with that on the methods report, occupied several hours.)

In the absence of Mr. E. W. Elwell, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn moved, 'That honorary members pay an affiliation fee of 5s. each per annum; (b) that associations in future pay a fee of 5s. per representative per annum.'

Mr. J. Hunt deprecated the idea that hon. members, who came there at their own expense, be penalised, and moved that the portion of the motion relating to hon. members be deleted. The amendment, seconded by Mr. A. H. Pulling, was carried by a large majority. There was, however, no discussion regarding the increase of affiliation fees of associations from 2s. 6d. to 5s. per annum, and the motion, as amended, on being put to the meeting, was carried by 44 votes to 6.

Mr. Drake proposed that '(a) The Council asks each association to appoint a consultant to the Advisory Committee or Committees in its area; (b) The Council asks each association to make every effort to get as many ringers as possible elected to Parochial Church Councils, to Diocesan Committees and to the Church Assembly.'

The proposer said that he recognised that the Council had already circularised these committees within recent years, but his present motion was that each association be urged to themselves secure the election of someone to the advisory committees. It was an expert ringer that was required in such a case, and he hoped that his motion would be carried. Further, also, that the members would see that their associations put forward ringers as candidates for the Councils, and so on, to the conferences, and then the Church Assembly. Mr. C. J. Sedgely seconded. Mr. C. H. Howard, in supporting the motion, emphasised the fact that a committee member was much stronger than a mere consultant, as he knew from his own experience on the Diocesan Advisory Board at Chelmsford. He said that it was for the associations to approach their Bishops to obtain nomination to these boards. From remarks of subsequent speakers, it appeared that consulting members of these boards were not always invited to attend the meetings, even when their services might have proved useful. But the Rev. H. Law James, speaking to the contrary, said that he was supplied by the Board at Lincoln with all papers connected with bells, and his advice was always faithfully followed. The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn stated that he, too, had had much the same experience.

The proposer, having replied to some of the points which had been raised, the motion was then carried.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith moved, 'That the rules of the Council be amended in order to provide that the notice and agenda of each annual meeting of the Council be published at least eight weeks, instead of twelve weeks, prior to such meeting.'

The proposer having explained his motion, and Mr. C. T. Coles having seconded, it was carried without further discussion.

In the absence of Mr. W. Ayre (through illness), Mr. E. A. Young proposed, 'That a committee be appointed to consider the best method of dealing with cases of extraordinary sickness amongst members of our affiliated change ringing associations, with power to report to the next annual meeting.'

This was seconded by Mr. Jas. George, and, after some discussion, for and against, the motion, on being put, was lost by a very large majority, it being felt that any scheme of this kind should be dealt with by the individual associations.

The President then referred to the next item on the agenda, which was to fix the place of next year's London meeting. The Hon. Secretary stated that he had approached the Archbishop of Canterbury with a view to meeting at Lambeth Palace, and whilst he was speaking a telegram was received from the chaplain saying that, subject to no unforeseen occurrences, the Archbishop was only too pleased to place a room at their disposal and to welcome the Council personally if possible. The procedure was left with the hon. secretary.

This finished the business on the Council's agenda. But Mr. Jas. George then suggested that the Council should issue a book containing the names and addresses of all ringers.

The President, however, stated that this was out of order, and that it should be brought up by way of a resolution to be discussed next year.

Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn proposed, and Mr. T. Faulkner seconded, a hearty vote of thanks to the chairman for presiding that day. Both speakers feelingly referred to the severe illness from which the president had now providentially recovered, and the vote was carried with applause.

The President, having expressed his thanks for their kindness that day and during his late illness, then proposed a vote of thanks to the Mayor and to the Sub-Dean of Chelmsford, and to Mr. C. H. Howard and the Essex Association (whose jubilee had been celebrated the day before) for their kindly welcome of the Council on its visit to Chelmsford, which was carried, and the meeting concluded at about five o'clock.

'USEFUL STATISTICS.' THE BELLS OF LEICESTERSHIRE.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Your leader on 'Useful Statistics' was very appropriate, and—could it be done—such a scheme would prove very useful and illuminating. The difficulty, however, is with the outlying country districts, where one often finds enthusiastic bands of ringers—not always change ringers—but who are outside the pale of Association or Guild activities. Again, in many towers, ringing flourishes for a time, then wanes. Some leader springs into being and revives it once more, and after his departure things go back again.

The following is a complete list of the 'rings' of bells in the Leicester Diocese up to the end of 1927, of which I have a complete history and inscriptions of all possible, having revised, corrected and augmented the late T. North's book on the county:—

| | Towers. | Bells. |
|-----------------|---------|--------|
| Single bells | 84 | 84 |
| Rings of two | 28 | 56 |
| Rings of three | 71 | 213 |
| Rings of four | 25 | 100 |
| Rings of five | 50 | 250 |
| Rings of six | 41 | 246 |
| Rings of eight | 33 | 264 |
| Rings of ten | 3 | 30 |
| Rings of twelve | 1 | 12 |

Total bells ... 1,255

There are also three sets of eight tubular 'bells'. Of the above, 24 are prior to the date of 1500; 90 from 1500-1600; 304 from 1600-1700; 231 from 1700-1800; 257 from 1800-1900; and remainder after 1900.

Personally, I had the ambition to ring a peal of 5,000 on all possible church bells of five and upwards in the diocese, and up to the present have secured 114.

Since 1927, Croft three have been augmented to six, Enderby five made eight, St. John's, Leicester, eight made ten, and, lastly, Claybrooke four made eight, thus adding 12 more bells.

While, writing, I should be grateful if you would kindly mention that my great work, 'The History of the Art of Change Ringing,' is now being printed, and will shortly be published by Messrs. Chapman and Hall, Ltd., of London. The Rev. Canon G. F. Coleridge, president of the Central Council of Bellringers, has kindly written a 'Foreword,' and in the book I have endeavoured to show all phases of our 'art and science.' I herewith thank all those friends who so kindly contributed data and illustrations—too numerous to mention individually—and trust all will do their best to support this work, which is the first of its kind.—Yours sincerely,

ERNEST MORRIS.

A CHANCE FOR THE SEPTUAGENARIANS.

Touches of Oxford Bob and Stedman Triples followed, in which others took part, and all joined in wishing the steeplekeeper 'many of 'em' at the Duke's Head. Edwin Barnett composed the 'quarter,' and Joseph Parker called it, and was 'not out.'

There is an octave of septuagenarians living who should try their fortune in a peal attempt with a record for combined ages.

All the retiring officers were re-elected, no other nominations having been received.

It was resolved to hold the next annual meeting at Kingston-on-Thames.

Mr. C. H. Reading said, as that was their jubilee meeting, he thought they ought to place on record an expression of grateful thanks for all their fathers did for them in founding that society 50 years ago, and a pledge to carry on and fulfil the objects for which the association was started. The association had done a wonderful work for ringing in many ways, and he hoped some resolution might be placed on the minutes.—Mr. Joiner seconded, and the motion, having been endorsed by the chairman, was unanimously carried.

The meeting, which had previously thanked the Rector of Beddington and the organist, concluded with thanks to the Master for presiding and for the services which he had rendered to the association.—Mr. Birt, replying, emphasised the need for bringing on young ringers, upon whom the future of the art depended, and on behalf of the association he thanked those members who had given their time and patience in teaching young ringers, and also the hon. secretary and other officials for the work they had done in the interests of the association during the past year.

A social was afterwards held, at which handbell music and songs brought to a close a very pleasant and successful meeting.

A REPLY TO MR. KIPPIN.

Dear Sir,—With your permission I will reply to Mr. Kippin re the Surrey Association's jubilee year. He says that it is not likely that the rules of the association would be ignored to suit the whim of one person. It is not the whim of myself, but the fact that May 21st is the official date of the association, and I doubt, if the feeling of the members were known, but that the rule would have been set aside for the occasion. He twits me with being the 'alleged' last of the foundation members. If he is honest and knows of any other he will let me know who it is, or withdraw that word 'alleged.' As to his remark about 'he and others should come to the annual meeting,' the journey from Dublin to Surrey is not one that can be made after work hours so that one can be home the same night. He need not be in the least amazed at my remarks about amalgamation, which I should like to see, not, however, with the Surrey Association taking a secondary place, but that there should be a Surrey County Association embracing the whole of the county on the same lines of the Yorkshire, Kent, Sussex and other county associations.—Yours faithfully,

J. W. TRAPPITT, sen.

Dublin.

THE 18 1/2 TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at
RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A

A MENACE TO THE DEVON GUILD.

In an article contributed by a correspondent, a serious warning is given with regard to the state of affairs which is developing in Devon. Two years ago hints were given in these pages that all was not well in that county; the article which appears in another column reveals that the menace to the Devon Guild and to change ringing in that delectable county is a serious one. It is of no use to blink the facts. The Devon Association of Ringers was established in 1925 to encourage rising and falling and round and call change ringing and it promotes these ends by annual competitions. In the year 1929, four years after the foundation, it had 68 affiliated towers—more towers than the Devon Guild which has been established for over 50 years. Devon, although it was one of the first counties in which a change-ringing society was formed, has, of course, always been a stronghold of 'stoney,' but let it not be forgotten that, taken as a whole, there is nowhere in England where rising and falling in peal can be heard in such perfection, or the call changes struck with such measured precision. 'Stoney' in Devon is not 'bell banging' and, because it is only call-change ringing, do not let it be imagined that, speaking generally, it is not well done. It is done better than the average change ringing is done, because of its vastly easier and simpler character and, if the simpler task appeals to the simpler village mind inside the belfry, it also pleases the ear of those outside, who in some of these country places are shrewd critics of good ringing.

There is another direction, too, where the Association has a pull over the Devon Guild. In the latter the members have to pay a subscription of 2/- per annum; in the Devon Association the ringers pay nothing, except entrance fees if they compete in the contests, and apparently they get a free luncheon into the bargain. The funds seem to come from subscriptions of presidents and vice-presidents, and the advertisements in and sale of elaborately prepared programmes of the competitions (a profit of nearly £30 was made on this item alone last year). In addition there are offertories at the festivals and proceeds from other sources, one of which appears to have been a skittles competition. In this way the ringers get all there is to be got out of the association financially, without putting very much into it—which in our opinion is extremely bad in principle, however nice it may be for those who benefit.

Here then are some of the broad facts which face the Devon Guild. Our correspondent suggests that they are actually losing some of their towers to the new organisation, and, if this be so, it is time some serious steps were taken to stem the 'decay' to which he refers, if the Guild is to survive as a live force in the churches of Devon. We do not know of any change ringing organisation which is faced with a more serious menace than the Devon Guild, and it would be interesting to learn what is being done to combat it. In a recent appeal for subscriptions the rival association said: 'There is no other organisation in the county that appeals to the village church belfry. Other forms of ringing may succeed in towns, but will never take on in our scattered villages, and from the excellent ringing on the Cathedral bells we feel that even in towns a return to call-change ringing would be appreciated.' Surely the Devon Guild has some answer to this?

The 6,400 was first rung at Handsworth, Sheffield, by the Y.A. on February 22nd, 1930, conducted by A. Percival Knights.

LOUGHBOROUGH.—On Thursday, March 13th, for Confirmation service, at the Parish Church, 1,259 Grandsire Caters in 54 mins.: J. Onslow 1, C. Ballard 2, D. Collins 3, E. Cartwright 4, C. Allsop 5, J. Saddington 6, J. Hutchby 7, C. Harrison (conductor) 8, E. Reader 9, A. Harrod 10.

A SUSSEX RESTORATION.

FACULTY CASE RECALLED.

The bells of St. Mary's, Washington, Sussex, have been rehung by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and a new treble added to make a peal of six. The fifth has been recast, and the other bells retained. They are hung in a new cast-iron side frame, mounted on four steel girders, running north and south, east and west, and efficiently cross braced, thus binding the four walls of the tower together. The new bell frame is several feet lower in the tower than the old timber frame was, thus allowing the bells to be several feet below the openings.

The bells are as follows:—

Treble: John Taylor, Loughborough, 1830.

2nd and 3rd: Mears and Stainbank, 1878.

4th: Roger Tapsul, 1608.

5th: Recast by John Taylor, 1930. (Formerly by Eldridge, 1614.

This bell has had a ring round the shoulder about 4in. deep cut out and preserved, so as to maintain the old founder's name and inscription, and this is now placed in the church.)

Tenor: Mears and Stainbank, 1878. (Weight 9 cwt. 2 qr. 19 lb. This weight was before tuning, and the bell now weighs a few pounds lighter.)

The canons on the old bells have been retained, and special iron headstocks have been designed and cast to suit these bells. All the fittings are of the very latest pattern, including ball bearings to main bearings and rollers. The whole job is a fine specimen of what bell hanging ought to be—mechanically sound throughout, and the 'go' of the bells is perfection.

The dedication service on Wednesday of last week was a beautiful one owing to its perfect simplicity. It was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. H. S. Patrick), who has been instrumental in getting this work done, and many years ago he did a certain amount of ringing. It was gratifying to note that he had not lost the art of handling a bell, as he raised one before the dedication service, although he is nearer eighty than seventy years of age.

The address was given by Bishop T. C. Twitchell (formerly of Polynesia), who is now Rector of Selsey. During the dedication service the first rounds were rung by: J. H. B. Hesse 1, Miss Irene Hastie 2, G. Ellis 3, R. Swift 4, N. Elliott 5, O. Sippetts 6; and, after the service, the first touch was rung, 288 of Kent Treble Bob Minor, by the following: O. Sippetts (conductor) 1, Miss Irene Hastie 2, G. Ellis 3, R. Swift 4, N. Elliott 5, J. H. B. Hesse 6.

Some of the local ringers then rang some rounds and Grandsire Doubles. Following that, 720 of Cambridge Minor was rung by the visiting ringers mentioned above. During the evening, several of the local ringers took part, and were initiated into Grandsire Doubles, and, considering they had not rung for such a long time, their performance was very creditable. The writer is sorry that he has not got their names.

The whole of the proceedings went off without a hitch, and as the weather was beautiful the day was a most enjoyable one. The Rev. A. H. S. Patrick very kindly provided tea for all the visiting ringers at the Village Hall.

It will be remembered that there was a stiffish fight for the faculty in connection with the carrying out of this restoration, there being opposition to an iron frame and to recasting the 5th (which had been recommended by Major Hesse, who was called in to advise the church authorities), and the preservation of the portion bearing the inscription was the compromise.

FIRST PEAL OF 'SILENT' SURPRISE MINOR.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—April 6th will be the 33rd anniversary of the first 'silent' peal of Surprise Minor ever rung, which took place at St. Mary's Church, Bucknall, Staffs, in seven different methods. As one of the band who rang the above peal, I am wondering how many per cent. of the Exercise have attained to the plural in peals of this calibre. Personally, I should say that the percentage would be very low, not only owing to the rarity with which such bands could be got together, but also to the great strain on the nervous system which it involves owing to the tomb-like silence that prevails for practically three hours, which seems to be interminable. The band at Bucknall was composed of two pairs of brothers, an uncle and a nephew, and all are still alive, with the exception of the uncle, who was one of the pioneers of change ringing in North Staffordshire.—Yours sincerely,

JOHN E. WHEELDON.

VETERAN CROYDON RINGER'S DEATH.

At St. Peter's Church, South Croydon, on Sunday evening, March 30th, with the bells half-muffled as a mark of respect to the memory of Mr. Charles H. Kitching, who passed away on the previous day at the age of 74 years, and who was for over 40 years a ringer at this church, a quarter-peal of Stedman Caters (1,263 changes): David Wright 1, H. Wills 2, C. Dean 3, E. F. Pike 4, W. H. Hewett (conductor) 5, W. Bulpitt 6, B. Newson 7, C. W. Grimwood 8, C. W. Roberts 9, E. Denham 10. H. Wills' first quarter of Stedman Caters.

DECAY!

A WARNING FROM DEVONSHIRE.

Decay is always loathsome in every sphere of life, whether in business, domestic and social affairs, or even in sport. When, however, it touches the more religious side of life and enters into our Exercise of church bellringing, we may well be concerned.

Admitting that every county or district would have some peculiar difficulties and dangers, yet even so, it is a real duty to tackle and overcome these hindrances, especially when a 'dry rot' is apparent. In some counties it is uphill work to avoid 'stagnation,' and no progress is had enough, but when we discover—as is the case in the county of 'glorious Devon'—a Guild that is decreasing in its bands and losing touch with our ringing world, and scientific method ringing is in grave danger of becoming extinct, then surely your warning in last week's issue, entitled 'The Other 25,000,' is not only timely but urgent, and demands deep concern from the Devonshire Guild.

Our county has a large area and is most difficult to work, especially in its heart or centre between Barnstaple and Crediton and Holsworthy to Axminster.

It is in this rural area that the most alarming conditions exist. A Devon association is making rapid strides with some 70 towers, well organised, and led by a most energetic hon. secretary (Rev. A. F. McCarthy), who can capture the village ringer and please the outside listener by his appeals for music versus noise, so often created by inefficient scientific bands who visit the towers and leave behind a bad impression through careless striking.

In this county there are at least 370 rings of bells (from 5 to 12). The Devonshire Guild, after all its years of existence, cannot claim more than 50 towers, and during the past five years have actually lost no less than 10 bands, whilst there are several others on the verge of breaking from the Guild (through despair and lack of progress).

Yet the Round Ringing and Call Change Association is all the time making rapid progress, and its hundreds of members are contented and enthusiastic.

Perhaps the influence of your weekly paper and its excellent editorial will arouse a deep anxiety to probe matters and give Devonshire ringers an opportunity to suggest a remedy when careless ringers and bad striking should in some way be penalised at home, and when scientific bands visit the rural districts only the best should be offered in place of clash and noise, which at present becomes a laughing stock in the villages and a discredit to our science.

Even the Guild ringing at our Exeter Cathedral is of a low order, and does no credit to the science or our city. Often six and eight bells are rung instead of the noble ring of 12.

DISHEARTENING CONDITIONS IN GLOUCESTER.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to your leading article of March 21st, 'The Other 25,000,' your reasons given why a large number of them are outside the fold are, I should say, very near the mark, but they do not quite apply to the city of Gloucester. We are not allowed to ring for practice or the church services, except for one hour a month at the Crypt Church, and at that service I have seen six or seven out of the eight stop to service. I have suggested myself, if we could ring one hour a fortnight at each church for service—St. Michael's and the Crypt alternately—it would keep a band together, and hold the interest. Within this last two or three years the authorities have been approached several times without avail. I think it would be more than Mr. Jim George or even the King of England could do to alter the existing state of affairs. Under the present conditions, Gloucester ringers will, I am sorry to say, gradually join the other 25,000.—Yours faithfully,

G. CONDICK.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

NOMINATION OF OFFICIALS.

A very well-attended meeting was held at Armley on Saturday, March 22nd, for the nomination of officials for the coming year. The business meeting was held in the tower, the president being in the chair. Members were present from Almondbury, Bailley, Calverley, Drighlington, Birstall, Headingley, St. Chad's, Hunslet, Lindley, Leeds Parish Church, Pudsey, Rothwell, and Sharow (Ripon). Three new members were elected.

The following were nominated for 1930 and 1931: President: Mr. C. E. Lawson; vice-presidents, Messrs. T. Strangeway, J. Hey, W. H. Senior; secretary and treasurer, Mr. H. Lofthouse; trustees (for bank account), Messrs. R. C. Squires, G. Moorhouse; Ringing Master, Messrs. W. H. Ash and H. Marsden (this will require a ballot for election); auditors, Messrs. A. Fieldhouse and H. Grimwood.

It was decided to revise the rules of the society, and the committee were asked to do this.

The usual vote of thanks to the Vicar of Upper Armley, for the use of the bells, and to the local company, for the necessary arrangements, was passed. It was proposed that the annual general meeting should be held at Leeds Parish Church on April 26th, bells to be available from 5.30 p.m., and the business meeting held in the tower.

A PEAL OF MINOR.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The last thing we want is the sort of controversy which arose last year upon this question. Now 'Minormania' calls his article of March 21st 'Muddled Minor.' I do not suppose that he intended to do anything unfair when he wrote that title, but the title is simply an appeal to prejudice, and that is the last thing that is wanted. His article is very good as far as it goes, but it wants supplementing at one point.

Take the old nine bob 720 and examine its q sets. They are:—

| | | |
|-------|-------|-------|
| 32546 | 52364 | 53246 |
| 23564 | 25346 | 35264 |
| 24536 | 54263 | 52436 |
| 42563 | 45236 | 25463 |
| 43526 | 53462 | 54326 |
| 34562 | 35426 | 45362 |

Now in the middle one of each of these sets the bells are running the reverse way to what they are running in the first and third.

This point is of the greatest importance because it explains the possibility of adding five plain courses to the original course in Minor methods, and so produce the whole, which you cannot do in Triples.

I have known the connection between 9 bob and 21 bob 720's for forty years, and the same connection exists between 12 bob and 18 bob 720's, but if anyone thinks that they are the same, will he please prove it by producing a 21 bob 720 of Kent Treble Bob Minor?

H. LAW JAMES.

MORE THAN THREE EXTENTS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I should like to explain my reason for assuming that Mr. James meant by different 720's that they must contain a different number of bobs, was assumed on good grounds. Some years ago a conductor asked Mr. James to supply him with all the different ways (not 720's) of London Surprise, and as I was fortunate to get hold of the figures supplied was able to judge what his idea was. They contained seven round blocks containing 720's, with 9, 12, 18 and 21 bobs.

In your issue of March 21st Mr. James persists in saying a 720 consists of 721 rows, of which the first and last are the same. I also notice in the minutes of the last Central Council meeting, published in this week's issue of 'The Ringing World,' he made use of the clock to emphasise his point of a round block. I would like to use the same means. Big Ben booms out 1 a.m., and the minute hand starts out on its 12 part 720 changes (i.e., minutes). It is in the coming home course, and presently booms out 1 p.m. Does Mr. James mean that 1 p.m. is 1 a.m.?

I do not quite agree with Mr. Powell that a 720 of Kent with 9 bobs is a different composition to a 720 of London Surprise with 9 bobs. The Q sets used are exactly the same, viz., 2,6, 3,6, and 4,6, the only difference being their removal from 2-3 places to 5-6 places.

I am also of the opinion that there are more than three different extents of Treble Bob Minor. I give below two 720's of Cambridge Minor:—

| (A) | | | | | (B) | | | | |
|------|-----|---|---|-----|------|-----|---|---|-----|
| 2345 | 4th | W | O | I H | 2345 | 4th | W | O | I H |
| 3542 | — | — | — | — | 3254 | — | — | — | — |
| 5243 | — | — | — | — | 3425 | — | — | — | — |
| 3425 | — | — | — | — | 5243 | — | — | — | — |
| 5324 | — | — | 2 | — | 4235 | — | — | — | — |
| 4235 | — | — | — | — | 3542 | — | — | — | — |
| 3254 | — | — | — | — | 2345 | — | — | — | — |
| 2345 | — | — | — | — | | | | | |

The Q sets in (A) are 35, 52, 45, 23, 46, and may be varied by using Q sets 42, 63, 25, 53, 45, or 35, 26, 54, 34, 25. Now, to produce (B) you have to pick out of these three variations Q set 42, 63, 46, 53, 62, which, in my opinion, produces a different 720.—Yours, etc.,

Killamarsh.

C. SEVERN.

THE SURREY ASSOCIATION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Replying to Mr. Trappitt's letter in your last issue, no doubt he has read the report of the association's annual meeting and observed the number that were present. I can imagine a similar gathering on a Wednesday whatever the occasion—I don't think!

I must confess I did allege Mr. Trappitt was the only foundation member, but would remind him that all people are honest until they are found out. I now say definitely that he is not the only foundation member. Only this week I have been in communication with the representative of Mr. Harry Pates (85), now living at Clacton-on-Sea. I am informed that Mr. Pates was enrolled a member at the Surrey Association's inaugural meeting on May 21st, 1880, at Beddington. If Mr. Trappitt requires further proof, no doubt Mr. Pates himself will rush into print.

I note Mr. Trappitt's remarks re amalgamation. I refer him to the first paragraph of the proposals for amalgamation circulated among the members at the proper time, and remind him that those present at the Leatherhead meeting in March, 1928, are quite aware of his attitude at that meeting, which calls for no further comment from me.—Yours faithfully,

CHAS. H. KIPPIN,

Hon. Secretary.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. BRISTOL BRANCH AT PUCKLECHURCH.

The spring meeting of the Bristol Branch was held on Saturday at Pucklechurch in glorious weather. A record number of members attended, over 50 being present, representing 17 towers. The fine afternoon, coupled with the chance of a ring on this recently restored peal, was no doubt responsible for the number present. The bells, a peal of six, have recently been overhauled and rehung in a new frame by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, whose representative, Mr. F. Stevenson, attended the meeting, Mr. Cyril Johnston being unable to be present through illness.

The bells were made good use of until 4.30, when service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. R. E. Lewis), who gave a very helpful address.

The members then made their way to the 'Fleur-de-Lys,' where tea had been prepared by Mr. Scarretti, the arrangements being due to the kindness of Mr. F. Lewis.

A short business meeting followed, at which the chairman, Mr. F. Skidmore, presided. Five new members were elected, and the secretary was asked to send a letter of congratulation to the Minchinhampton ringers (Stroud Branch) on their ringing the first peal of Cambridge Minor for the association.

The Chairman proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. R. E. Lewis for the use of the bells, and conducting the service, also to the ladies and those who had kindly assisted at tea.—This was seconded by Mr. J. T. Dyke, Chilcompton.

The Vicar, in responding, gave the members some idea of the work and trouble he had had to get the necessary repairs done to the bells to put them in order. He gave the association a hearty welcome, and hoped they would come again.

The tower was again visited, and ringing in the usual methods was continued until 8 p.m., some of the members also going on to Abson to ring.

MUFFLED BELLS.

At All Saints', Sutton-on-Trent, on March 20th, 720 Cambridge Surprise: H. Edwards 1, H. Cafferata 2, Miss K. Burchnall 3, Miss G. Burchnall 4, E. A. Midwinter 5, L. Pierrepont (conductor) 6. Also 720 Oxford Treble Bob: N. Moxon 1, H. Cafferata 2, Miss K. Burchnall 3, H. Edwards (first 720 in the method) 4, Miss G. Burchnall 5, L. Pierrepont (conductor) 6. Rung with the bells half-muffled as a last token of esteem to Miss E. Day and the Rev. F. B. Proctor, who were buried that afternoon.

A DISAPPOINTING EXPERIENCE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Ringers visiting the Newark-on-Trent district would be well advised not to go out of their way to get a ring at Newark Parish Church, as the welcome extended by the local ringers to visitors is not exactly cordial, if I may judge by my own experience.

I happened to be at Newark on Sunday, March 9th, and ascended the tower when ringing commenced, in the hope of getting a pull. Stedman Triples was in progress when I entered the belfry. The 'touch' came round a few minutes after. No one took any notice of me, and after a couple of dozen rounds, 'go' was called again. The bells were then kept going until they were lowered for service time. The conductor then asked me if I had come up to see him. I told him I had hoped for a ring. No one expressed regret at my disappointment. Someone did say, 'Was I coming again?' I politely refrained from saying, 'Not so likely,' said 'Good-night' instead, and descended the tower.

I am pleased to say that this is the first time I have had this experience in fourteen years' activity in the Exercise, and I sincerely hope it will be the last.—Yours faithfully,

FREDERICK E. COLLINS.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

ILLNESS OF CANON G. F. COLERIDGE.

Ringers throughout the country will regret to learn of the illness of Canon G. F. Coleridge, the genial president of the Central Council. Early last week he developed pneumonia in one lung, as the result of a chill, and he has since been attended by two doctors.

The legion of his friends in the Exercise will unite in wishing him a speedy recovery.

On Wednesday, Canon Coleridge's condition was reported to be improving. He had passed a comfortable night, and his strength was maintained.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. C. T. Coles, the popular hon. secretary of the Middlesex County Association, is the third ringer to reach 50 Surprise peals on 12 bells, the other two being Messrs. W. and G. R. Pyc, who reached this total a few weeks ago. Mr. Coles' 50 are made of 43 of Cambridge, 5 of Superlative and 2 of Spliced Superlative and Cambridge. They have been rung in 21 towers for 11 associations, and include the 7,392 at St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheapside, and the 15,312 at Ashdon-under-Lyne.

The Rev. W. H. Pennington Bickford, the popular Rector of St. Clement Danes, has been elected an honorary member of the Ancient Society of College Youths.

The College Youths and the Cumberland Youths are taking steps to appoint an entertainment committee in connection with the Central Council meeting in London at Whitsun.

This next week sees the anniversary of several memorable performances, including the 40,320 Bob Major rung by James Barham and 13 other ringers at Leeds, Kent, on April 7th and 8th, 1761. The peal occupied 27 hours.

A peal board at Shoreditch records: 'This inscription will hand to posterity the unparalleled abilities displayed in the performance of a peal that was rang in this steeple on Tuesday, 7th of April, 1801, 5,220 changes, Court Bob Royal, in 3 hrs. and 37 mins., being the first ever rung by any society in that intricate method.' It was composed and called by George Gross, sen.

On April 8th, 1912, a peal of 12,160 Bristol Surprise Major was rung at Knebworth, Herts, by the Herts Association, and on the same day, ten years later, a 13,440 Bob Major at the Loughborough Bell Foundry by the Midland Counties Association.

One hundred years ago next Wednesday Elijah Roberts 'tapped' a peal of 7,536 Kent Treble Bob Maximus on handbells in 4 hrs. 51 mins. This, like two other peals he had tapped, was performed at Birmingham. Seven years later he tapped a peal of 19,440 of Treble Bob Maximus, which occupied him 13 hrs. 43 mins., and he came to an untimely end by his own hand in 1865.

A peal of 10,272 Kent Treble Bob Major was rung at Liversedge, Yorks, on April 10th, 1871.

The peal of London Surprise Major at Stoke, Coventry, recorded in our last issue, was rung for the Warwickshire Guild.

The peal at Whitwick was rung on March 19th, not February 19th, as reported to us.

Until the next annual meeting, correspondence for the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild should be addressed either to the Rev. Evan Jones, Hedge End Vicarage, Botley, Hants (hon. treasurer), or Mr. F. W. Rogers, 52, Samuel Road, Portsmouth, who is acting as hon. secretary pro. tem.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL'S CONSTITUTION

ASSOCIATIONS ASKED TO CONSIDER PROPOSED CHANGES THIS YEAR.

COUNCIL TO DECIDE NEXT YEAR.

Our contributor, who in several issues last autumn put forward proposals for revising the constitution of the Central Council, writes:

In your issue of October 18th last you printed some suggested alterations to the rules of the Central Council, which it was thought might bring its constitution more closely into line with present day ideas of what it should be. Suggested amendments were set out in definite terms, so that the associations might consider them and put forward any alternative proposals if they desired to do so. It was the intention that these alterations should be submitted to the next meeting of the Council in London, but for the reasons given below it has been thought, after consideration, that it would be well to postpone the question of revision until next year.

First, in order to get the necessary motion on the agenda for this year, it would have to be sent in before Easter, and, therefore, the great majority of the associations would not be able to consider the proposals at their annual general meetings—and it is desirable, above all things, that in this matter the associations should ventilate their views upon it.

Secondly, the Council will have been already elected for three years, so that some part, at any rate, of the proposals could not, even if passed, be put into operation until the end of the triennial period, and it would be much better if the whole change could be introduced at the same time.

Thirdly, the London meeting is usually a full one from the point of view of business, and the discussion which would probably ensue on the proposals might inconveniently congest the proceedings.

If, therefore, the associations will devote their attention to the subject and definitely express their views as to the suggested alterations, which could be made next year and come into operation (if desired) before the next election of members, the ends in view might be better served. But each association ought to consider the proposals this year.

[Briefly, the points upon which alterations are suggested are the following:

(1) That the various associations and guilds should be formally affiliated to the Council, with a certain ratio of representation; instead of the Council consisting merely of a number of private members elected by the associations.

(2) That all the affiliated associations and guilds should undertake to recognise the rulings of the Council.

(3) That the members be elected by the affiliated societies annually, instead of triennially.

(4) That it should be open to the affiliated associations and guilds to make recommendations direct to the Council.

(5) That all resolutions, outside the purely domestic affairs of the Council, should be officially communicated to the affiliated bodies.

Full details of the proposed alterations, set out side by side with the existing rules, were published in 'The Ringing World' on October 18th last.—ED. 'R.W.']

A CITY BELL RESTORATION.

The bells of St. Lawrence Jewry, one of Wren's City churches, are being restored and the bells are now at the Whitechapel Foundry, where they were cast by Bartlett in 1687. The bells have been sand-blasted and retuned, and will be rehung in new fittings. The tenor is 32 cwt., and they are the heaviest ring of eight in the city.

They had not been rung for a number of years owing to their dilapidated condition, and their renovation has been carried out as part of a big scheme for the restoration of the church, the roof of which had suffered badly from the ravages of the 'death watch' beetle.

ST. LAWRENCE JEWRY, where the bells are now being restored.

Very little peal ringing has been done on the bells. On April 30th, 1887, a peal of Grandsire Triples (the fourth peal on the bells) was rung, the previous peal having been 125 years before. The only survivor of the band that rang the peal in Queen Victoria's jubilee year is Mr. James Waghorn, sen. The others who took part were James Haworth, Robt. Jameson, Wm. Weatherstone, Geo. Banks, Richard French (conductor) and Edward Albone.

LADIES' GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Ladies' Guild (Northern District) was held at North Wingfield, on Saturday, March 22nd, when ringers attended from Duffield, Rotherham, Chesterfield, Handsworth and the local band. Although it was a lovely spring day, the attendance was very poor.

A nice tea had been prepared in the Church Hall, where the business meeting was held afterwards, one new member being elected.

Miss Foulk, of Duffield, proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to Miss Taiton for so kindly arranging the meeting, to the ladies for preparing tea, and to the gentlemen who gave such valuable assistance.

Various methods were rung during the afternoon and evening, including Superlative, Cambridge, Duffield, Stedman, Little Bob, Kent and a touch of Grandsire Triples.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

The second annual meeting of the Guildford Diocesan Guild was held at Guildford on Saturday, and drew a large attendance. The bells at the Cathedral and St. Nicolas' Church were kept well employed during the afternoon under the direction of the respective tower masters, and choral service was held in the Cathedral. The Provost (Canon E. C. Kirwan) officiated, and the choir led the singing. The preacher was the Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), who gave an inspiring address.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn preached from the text, 'Let us wait on our ministry' (Rom. xii. 7). He referred to various ministries in connection with the Church of Christ, and said that the ministry of the bellringers was by no means the least important. Despite all that was said in newspapers and elsewhere, there was a demand by the Church for the ministry of church bellringing, and it was by no means less to-day than it was 20 or 30 years ago. There was a demand to have bells put in good order and well rung, and very often there was a demand to have a ring of bells where none existed. In his own diocese of Oxford, bell hangers had been extremely busy since the war, and this was proof that there was a demand by churchpeople that there should be a church ministry of bellringing. That, continued the preacher, was a very different thing to having bells put in good order for various people—good, steady people, no doubt—to exercise themselves in the art of ringing as they would in games, such as golf, or cricket, or football, merely using the bells as a means, and the place as a site in which to take their exercise. He was quite sure that ringers who thought at all would agree with him that the ministry of bellringing in their churches must be clearly a church ministry and not a pastime only. Let them, then, ask themselves this question: Did they wait on their ministry; that was, were they absorbed in it, or did they expect the ministry to wait on them? They ought all to feel the need of waiting on their ministry, and they should try and see how best it could be done. First of all, they ought to engage more in spiritual exercises and make themselves more fitted for their task. They wanted to say more prayers, to be more regular in their Communion, and to look upon attendance at public worship as a duty which they must discharge unless there was good reason to the contrary. He was quite sure himself, after considerable thought and experience, that the idea of making a hard and fast rule as to ringers attending service so often was a mistake, but they should be faithful in the discharge of their duty in regard to public worship. Then, proceeded the preacher, they should adapt themselves to the conditions which they found in the tower to which they were attached. If a man left a tower where there was a good band and found himself in one where there was a struggling band, he must adapt himself. He did not mean by that he must just let things remain as they were, but he must be patient. And while he was patient he must carefully and strenuously insist on progress. If they were a band that 'struck' badly, he must persuade them to concentrate on their striking rather than going on to some other method; if he found that what they rang they rang well, but were content to learn nothing more, he must try and induce them to branch out in something new. That was the way to help their ministry along. It took a great deal of care and patience and prayer. The preacher then had a few words of advice to beginners, urging them to show zeal in the work and to devote themselves to it as they would to any game. Guilds and associations, he said, had also to wait upon their ministry. They existed for the benefit of the ministry. It was for the benefit of good service ringing that there were Guilds at all. Guilds did not exist merely to enable ringers to ring a great number of peals in a number of methods. There should be peals, undoubtedly; and practice, certainly—both did a great deal of good to the ministry if they were done in the right way—but the real ministry of the Guild was to promote good service ringing; to introduce ringers into a fellowship which should help, by instruction in ringing and by leading them to think about their duty in the highest possible way, and inspire them to be good ministers. They should remember that God had called them to this ministry—it was not something which they had done on their own—therefore let them wait on their ministry.

Tea was served in St. Saviour's Church Hall, and at the subsequent business Mr. Walter Harrison (vice-president) presided over an attendance of nearly 140 members and friends. He was supported by the Provost, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Miss Middleton and Mr. W. C. Ryde (life hon. members), Revs. S. Courtney-Smith and Norton (Guildford), G. Mitchell (Cranleigh), Major J. H. B. Heshe (Master), Admiral T. P. Walker, D.S.O. (hon. treasurer) and Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (hon. secretary). Members were present from Aldershot, Ashted, Bagshot, Banstead, Cobham, Cranleigh, Dorking, Ewhurst, Farnham, Farnborough, Godalming, Guildford (Cathedral and St. Nicolas'), Haslemere, Leatherhead, Merrow, Ottershaw, Pirbright, Seale, Shalford, Shere, Thursley, Walton, Witley, Woking, Wotton and Worplesdon. The visitors included Messrs. C. H. Kippen (hon. secretary of the Surrey Association), Mr. F. W. Rogers (acting hon. secretary of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild), Mr. W. Bolton (Cardiff), and ringers from Croydon, Ealing, Petersfield and Crawley.

THE REPORT.

The annual report began with some frank criticism. After the first flush of enthusiasm inspired by the foundation of the new Guild there had been, in some quarters, said the report, a falling-off in interest, and while the officers had been endeavouring to consolidate the position achieved when the Guild started, many of the members had not continued to give that support which might justifiably have been anticipated. This had been noticeable both in the district meetings and in connection with combined practices. Usually these had been attended by the same limited circle of enthusiasts, but if the Guild was to fulfil its functions successfully, support of a much wider kind was not only desirable but essential. The combined practices held in the Leatherhead and Guildford Districts had been attended with varying success, and the committee recorded its thanks to those who had devoted so much time and attention to this part of the work of the Guild. Those who had taken advantage of the facilities provided had profited by the experience. If ringers would realise that by attending these practices they would be helping others as well as probably helping themselves, the reluctance to visit other bellfries, which seemed to exist, would perhaps eventually disappear in the desire to render service. In both the Leatherhead and Guildford Districts new schemes were to be tried this year, and it was hoped the results would be more encouraging to the promoters. There had been no organised combined practices in the Farnham District, but the district officers had done some valuable spade work in visiting several of the towers. In the Chertsey District, also, it had not been possible to arrange combined practices, and there was a regrettable lack of interest among the majority of ringers in this area. The committee appealed to all the members in this district especially to show greater interest, not only in the Guild itself, but in the duties which they are called upon to perform in their own towers and in the meetings which are organised in their interests.

Having referred to the various important events of the year, the report recorded that the committee, under the powers given to them to make grants to towers which are endeavouring to add new bells to the existing ring or are carrying out extensive repairs, had given grants of £2 2s. to West Clandon and £1 1s. to Woking Parish Church. Welcome augmentations to two rings of bells in the diocese had been made during the year. A new bell was added at Farnborough, increasing the peal to six, and two trebles added at Woking Parish Church, and the other bells put on ball bearings, giving another ring of eight in the Guildford District. This latter augmentation was carried through largely by the efforts of the local ringers, who collected most of the necessary funds, and they were to be congratulated on the success of their efforts, in which the hon. treasurer (Admiral T. P. Walker) took a leading part. As a result of a meeting held at Godalming it was hoped that something might be done in the near future to put the ring of bells at the Parish Church in better order. There were several other rings in the diocese which badly required attention. Their present condition was not only an obstacle to the progress of the Guild, but also resulted in valuable property of the Church remaining in a state of disrepair and unfit for use for the purposes for which it was installed by beneficent churchmen in years gone by.

ADVANCE IN PEAL RINGING.

In peal ringing, the Guild made a substantial advance on the preceding year, due in no small measure to the welcome return to the ranks of peal ringers of Mr. A. H. Pulling after his happy recovery from the serious accident which for so long incapacitated him from ringing. The peals numbered 35, against 22 in the previous year. These peals were rung in 21 towers (including four outside the diocese), against 15 in the preceding year. They included the Guild's first peals of Cambridge Surprise Minor and Royal, Stedman Triples and Caters, Canterbury Pleasure Major, College Single Major, Bob Royal, Dublin Surprise Major and Bristol Surprise Major. Other noteworthy peals were the peals of Grandsire Caters at St. Nicolas', Guildford, the first on the bells since rehanging; the first peal of Bob Minor at Esher; a peal of Grandsire Doubles at Ottershaw, in which five of the local ringers rang their first peal; and a peal of Superlative Surprise at Rammore, rung by a resident band of the Leatherhead District. The number of towers which paid their affiliation fee for 1929 was 35, four less than in 1928. The total membership was 559, made up of 19 life hon. members, 38 hon. members, 379 ringing members, and 121 non-resident members. In conclusion, the committee urged that more strenuous efforts should be made by members to bring Sunday service bands up to full strength and to advance the art of change ringing; and that there should be a fuller appreciation of their duties to the Church and their responsibilities to the Guild. This appeal to the members could not be better emphasised than by quoting from the report of the Guildford District secretary presented to the annual meeting of the Guildford District: 'Every member must realise that, although the success of the district and of the Guild depends, to some extent, on its officers and its efficient management, it depends principally on the individual members, who cannot be too strongly reminded that their duty to the Guild does not end, but only starts, with the payment of their annual subscriptions. The objects of the Guild can never be attained until every member has developed such a sense of loyalty that he is, even at some inconvenience to himself, a regular and punctual attender at service ringing, at practices and at the meetings of his district and the Guild; ever ready to learn some new method to help to keep interested his fellow-ringers, and, above all, perhaps, a persevering recruiting officer for the Exercise.

The balance sheet of the general fund showed that the year began with £20 1s. 2d. in hand, and that subscriptions amounting to £36 12s. had been received. The expenses, including the donations to bell funds, were £20 8s. 11d., leaving a balance in hand of £36 12s. 3d. The district balances have increased during the years from £11 0s. 10d. to £18 13s. 1d.

The balance sheet was adopted on the proposition of the chairman, seconded by Mr. F. Nye.

On the proposition of Canon Kirwan, the following officers were re-elected: Vice-president, Mr. Walter Harrison; Master, Major. J. H. B. Hesse (Haslemere); hon. treasurer, Admiral T. P. Walker (Woking); hon. secretary, Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (Woking); hon. auditor, Mr. C. N. Burdock (Guildford). Mr. Goldsmith asked to be allowed to hand in his resignation next year as his interests in ringing extended outside the diocese, and sometimes there was a clash of interests. The suggestion was greeted with cries of 'No.'

A ballot for the election of three representatives on the Central Council resulted as follows: A. H. Pulling, C. Hazelden and G. L. Grover. A vote of thanks was accorded the last three representatives.

Four compounding members, 12 hon. members, two ringing members and one life member were elected.

Alterations were made in the rules to the effect that vice-presidents be ex-officio members of the Executive Committee.

PROTECTION AGAINST FAULTY WORK.

The rule that the Executive Committee may make grants to towers which are endeavouring to add new bells to the existing ring or are carrying out extensive repairs, any such grant not to exceed £3, was amended, so that such grants be not paid until the work has been completed to the satisfaction of the Guild's advisory officer.

The Hon. Secretary, submitting the alteration, said there might be a danger of repairs being done by the village blacksmith, instead of by competent bell hangers, or, failing to raise sufficient money to get a new peal a church might decide to instal a set of tubular bells. He thought the Guild ought to safeguard itself.

Major Hesse seconded.

Admiral Walker and Mr. A. Pulling opposed the alteration on the ground that the grants the Guild could make were only small sums.

Canon Kirwan pointed out that the alteration was exactly the same as that adopted by every Diocesan Board of Finance. No grants were made unless the work was done to the satisfaction of the Board. It was a matter of principle.

The alteration was accepted by 66 votes to five.

The meeting decided to hold their summer festival at Egham on July 5th, and the next annual general meeting at Guildford. The meeting also approved of the suggestion to hold a Guild dinner.

An offer by Mr. J. Beams to enter the peals in the Guild's peal book was accepted with thanks.

Thanks were expressed to Canon Kirwan for the use of the Cathedral, for the service and for his continued interest, and also to the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn for the high ideals expressed in his address at the Cathedral.

Matters concerning the Central Council's constitution which it was proposed to alter, were explained by the secretary, who said that the proposals were that societies should be formally affiliated to the Central Council; that societies should recognise the rulings of the Council; that members should be elected annually instead of for three years; that Guilds should be able to send resolutions direct to the Council; and that resolutions of the Council should be communicated to the various Guilds. The principles involved were accepted by the meeting.

Hearty good wishes were extended to Mr. H. Gardner, of Seale, who was leaving the district for Worthing. He was the oldest member of the band, and had been responsible for the training of many of the younger members.

Thanks were accorded the chairman for presiding, and the new Rector of S. Nicolas for his interest in ringing.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. THE ANNUAL REPORT.

The forty-eighth annual report, covering the 52nd year of the Norwich Diocesan Association, has just been issued. It is mainly a record of the recent reorganisation of the association. The last reorganisation, says the report, took place in the year 1890, when the association was divided up into districts, which were worked single-handed by a district secretary. During this period many of the districts have become far too small in membership to hope for any success, and in others difficulties have been found in the way for the proper organisation of the districts being satisfactorily carried out, with the inevitable result that district meetings had fallen to zero point, followed with an atmosphere of apathy hovering over the work for the future welfare of the association.

The committee recognised this state of affairs and also that the existing arrangements of districts were obviously out of gear and should be overhauled without further delay. The committee's proposals for the reorganisation scheme were considered by all the general meetings in 1928, and were summarised in a circular letter dated February, 1929, to all members residing in Norfolk, with an attached form containing five questions on the proposals of reform for members to answer and return to the general secretary (Mr. Arthur L. Coleman). The returns showed majorities in favour of all the five proposed reforms at the Whit Monday general meeting held at Pulham St. Mary, on May 20th, 1929.

A sub-committee was appointed to deal with the areas of the new branches. Great attention was given to the important matter of easy inter-communication by railways and motor bus routes which was no easy matter with so many of the towers in isolated places. To meet this difficulty it was found necessary to group the eleven existing districts into four branches instead of the three as proposed in the referendum to members, to be called 'The North,' 'The East,' 'The South,' and 'The West' Branches. Particulars with regard to the boundaries of the branches are printed in the annual report for 1929.

The change of title, 'The Norfolk Guild for the Diocese of Norwich' to revert to its original title, 'The Norwich Diocesan Association of Ringers,' was particularly popular, especially among the older members, with remembrances of its brilliant past record, thus bringing it into touch with the present generation.

The unwieldy area of the association covering the diocese of Norwich was far too great to be continued to be administered centrally from Norwich. The committee hope for a real revival in the life of the association by the constitution of four new branches large enough to give ample material for the officers and committees to work and keep the members actively in touch with one and another by frequent meetings and combined practices, and also for members to take the opportunity now offered to them for active work as officers and members of the branch committees.

The committee are pleased to report that members came forward willingly to take up office at the election of the branch committees: The East Norfolk Branch at Great Yarmouth on November 9th, 1929; the West Norfolk Branch at King's Lynn, November 16th, 1929; the South Norfolk Branch at Diss, November 23rd, 1929; the North Norfolk Branch at Norwich, December 7th, 1929.

The committee wish them every success, and trust their efforts will result in a general activity in the work of the association, but let it be remembered that this largely depends upon what support the branch committees get from the members. Service and good fellowship is the key to unlock a successful branch.

The committee also put on record their thanks to all district secretaries for their many years of services, and are sure they will appreciate the mention of the name of their grandfather of district secretaries, Mr. William Ireland, of Diss, who has been district secretary of Diss for 39 years and 52 years a member of the association, and still going strong in his 78th year of age, and adding on peals to his record of 101.

The committee regret the loss by death of nine members and four by resignation. Seven members have lapsed during the year, but they are glad to report the election of 26 new members and the re-election of nine old members, the grand total of members standing at 822 against 806 in 1928. The committee report a small reduction in the amount of outstanding subscriptions for the year ending December 31st, 1929, the amount being £4 10s., against £6 3s. in 1928. They regret to report the falling off in the number of peals during the year. Forty-five peals in 11 different methods were rung, against 50 peals in 1928; 113 members took part in the peals, which were conducted by 13 members.

In conclusion, they wish to thank all the officers and members of the committee for their services during the past year.

The association membership is 7 life members, 263 non-resident life members, 218 Suffolk non-resident life members, 31 hon. members in Norfolk, and 303 performing members, a total of 622.

RINGSTEAD, NORTHANTS.—At St. Mary's Church, on Thursday evening, March 27th, for practice, 720 Bob Minor: H. Peacock 1, G. Whitney 2, E. Whitmore 3, G. Roberts 4, W. Whitmore (conductor) 5, A. Bellamy 6. First 720 by the ringers of treble and second.

ALDERMAN J. S. PRITCHETT HONOURED.JUBILEE AS A FREEMASON.

Alderman J. S. Pritchett, best known among ringers as the Presiding Ringing Master of St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, has had, as most of our readers know, a distinguished career in many departments of life. He is a prominent member of the Bar and Recorder of Lincoln, and, outside his profession, his chief interest, apart from ringing, is Freemasonry, in which he has risen to an exalted position. He has just completed his jubilee in the craft, having been initiated in the 'Alma Mater' Lodge, No. 1844, on March 19th, 1880. This auspicious event was celebrated last Friday, when Wor. Bro. Pritchett was the guest of the evening at a banquet at the Birmingham Masonic Temple.

In the craft, W. Bro. Pritchett has filled the offices of Provincial Grand Deacon, Provincial Grand Senior Warden, and Grand Senior Deacon of England, and in 1925 was appointed Assistant Provincial Grand Master, Warwickshire, which office he still holds. Equally distinguished has been his progress in Royal Arch and Mark Masonry, and in the orders of the Knight Templars, and Rose Croix, as well as in other branches, including holding the office of Provincial Grand Master of the Royal Order of Scotland.

Despite his 75 years, Alderman Pritchett is young in spirit, due to the fact that his outlook on life is always a broad and cheerful one. Asked at the recent Johnson dinner when he was happiest, he replied that he was happiest wherever he happened to be at the moment.

Alderman Pritchett has undoubtedly found the key to true happiness, and it has kept him keenly alert in intellect and active in body, in proof of which we have only to remind our readers that on his 75th birthday he rang in a peal of Stedman Cinques. Alderman Pritchett celebrated his jubilee as a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths some years ago.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.WESTERN DIVISION OFFICERS.

The annual meeting of the Western Division of the Yorkshire Association was held at Lightcliffe on Saturday last. The attendance was very good, members from the following towers being present: Guiseley, Lindley, Longwood, Headingley, Armley, Queensbury, Rothwell, Brighouse, Pudsey, Denholme, Liversedge, Leeds, Mytholmroyd, Keighley, Bradford, Shipley, Birstall, Bingley, Mirfield, Halifax, Batley, Bramley, Northwram, Idle and the local company. During the afternoon the bells were rung to touches of Treble Bob, Plain Bob and Grandsire, and a short church service was held, the address being given by the Rev. H. L. Taylor.

Tea was served in the schools, and the business meeting was held immediately after. Mr. J. Cotterell (vice-president) was in the chair, supported by the Rev. H. L. Taylor and Mr. J. Broadley (Ringing Master). Six new members were elected, viz., W. Bibby, T. B. Worsley, T. Barlow, A. Towend, K. R. Jubb and W. Lawson, the last-named being the grandson of J. Lawson, of Lightcliffe, and as his son is also a member this makes three generations now ringing together in the same band.

The following officers were re-elected: Mr. J. Cotterell, Bradford, vice-president; and Messrs. R. W. Jennison (Keighley) and W. Ambler (Queensbury), committee. Mr. W. E. H. Ash (Leeds) was elected on the committee in the place of Mr. H. Smith (Leeds), who expressed a wish to retire. An invitation to hold the next meeting at Calverley was accepted.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells and address, and also to the organist for presiding at the organ, was moved from the chair, and seconded by Mr. J. Broadley. This was carried, and the Rev. H. L. Taylor responded.

A vote of thanks to the local company for the arrangements made, and to the ladies for presiding at the tea tables, was proposed by Mr. W. Barton, seconded by Mr. V. Bairstow, and passed, and Mr. J. Lawson replied.

The tower was again revisited at the close of the business meeting, and the bells were kept going until 9 p.m.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.CHEAP TRAVELLING FACILITIES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In connection with the forthcoming Whitsuntide meeting, representations have again been made to the railway companies, who have agreed to afford cheap travelling facilities and will issue tickets available from Saturday, June 7th, until Wednesday, June 11th, from any station to London. The fare charged will be single fare and a third. The condition imposed is that at least 100 tickets should be sold. As they will be available for members' wives and friends travelling with them to the meeting, it is hoped that this number will be sold. Those living only a short distance from London may considerably help by using these tickets.

Applications, stating number of tickets, should be made to me, including a stamped addressed envelope.—Yours faithfully,

E. ALEXR. YOUNG,

Hon. Secretary.

HALSALL RINGER'S FUNERAL.

On Saturday, March 15th, the mortal remains of William Huyton were laid to rest in the burial ground of St. Outhbert's, Halsall, Lancashire, at which church for upwards of thirty years he had been one of the most enthusiastic members of the belfry. The service was conducted by the Rector, and four of the Halsall ringers acted as bearers, viz., Messrs. H. Fyles, H. Serjeant, E. Blundell and T. Prescott. At the graveside were Messrs. James Marsh, E. Rothwell, T. Rothwell, John Lunham and John Gardner from Christ Church, Aughton. Shortly after the interment, 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung in 26 minutes with the bells 'half-capped,' by the following: James Marsh (conductor) 1. T. Prescott 2, H. Fyles 3, J. Lunham 4, H. Serjeant 5, E. Blundell 6.

THE 18 1/2 TON RINGING BELL,

RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A

RINGERS' ATTENDANCE AT SERVICE.

From time to time we hear of ringers 'locked out' or 'on strike,' and it always comes as something of a shock, not only to members of the Exercise, but to the public of the place concerned when either of these two things happen. Such an occurrence is always to be regretted. More often than not there are faults on both sides, and sometimes an exhibition of petulance and a lack of toleration add to the difficulties of the situation. At the moment the little Devon village of Exminster is much concerned because its bells have been stopped. The Vicar, according to report, has ordered the ringers to cease their ringing because some of their number, it is alleged, 'have been dilatory in their attendances at worship.' The ringers say there are other reasons, and mention is made of the fact that because the incumbent commenced the service last harvest festival before the choir had entered the church, three choirmen who were also ringers left the choir but continued their ringing. The Vicar, it is said, has declined to talk the matter over with the ringers and there the deadlock remains—with the bells, upon which £500 was spent about five years ago, hanging unring in the tower.

It is not for us to allocate blame in this most recent 'lock-out,' but the incident does give point to the futility of making hard and fast rules as to ringers' attendance at church. Every ringer who approaches his duties in the right spirit will always make it a practice to attend service unless there is reasonable cause for not doing so. Seldom is there a sermon preached at a ringers' gathering when emphasis is not laid upon the duty of the ringer to respond to the call which he has given from the belfry, but is not the part which the ringer plays, as a preliminary to the service, an act of worship in itself? If the ringing is done in the right spirit it constitutes as much a part of the service as that which takes place afterwards in the church; and while we do not say that ringers should not share in the prayer and praise which follow, when the congregation have assembled, those who imagine that the ringers have not fully done their part unless they stay to service overlook the fact that the half hour's ringing, reverently and well done, can in itself be a not unimportant part in that service.

Preaching a fortnight ago at the service in connection with the Guildford Diocesan Guild's annual meeting, the Master of the Oxford Guild, whose experience is as wide as anyone's in this matter, expressed the opinion that hard and fast rules as to ringers attending service are a mistake, and those who really know will agree with him. Where such rules exist they are more honoured in the breach than in the observance, and when one finds an autocratic incumbent who takes an extreme view and insists upon attendance at service his attitude nearly always ends in trouble. Either there is an open breach, or the band gradually breaks up and, anyway, the bells become silent. What is much more effective than rules is the visit of the incumbent to the ringing chamber at frequent intervals. A real interest in the ringers' work is the surest means of getting and maintaining the ringers' interest in the church and in the services for which they ring.

GLOUCESTER'S PLIGHT.

THE VALUE OF HANDBELL RINGING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It is very saddening to read Mr. Condict's account of ringing affairs in Gloucester in this week's issue of 'The Ringing World.' Service ringing is, or should be, the main purpose of all bell-ringing, other things, such as peals and practice meetings, being secondary, but leading up to good service ringing.

In Gloucester, however, the authorities do not seem to favour service ringing very much and practices not at all, if I understand Mr. Condict's letter aright; so that keeping a band together must be an impossible task, unless they are merely to talk about ringing. May I suggest to Mr. Condict, and, indeed, to any other conductor who is similarly situated or short-handed in the tower, that the enthusiastic members should seriously take up handbell ringing. Handbell ringing, although it can never answer the purposes of tower bells, has one or two decided advantages. First, it requires less men; therefore, the enthusiastic ones, who, maybe, rarely hear their full peal in the tower, can gratify their desire to ring on higher numbers. Second, the enthusiastic ones can forge ahead in their own way, without waiting around for the laggards—in several senses.

One more point, handbell ringing has the merit of being good ringing mostly, for it is next to impossible to keep bad striking going at all.

These advantages, and the fact that the ordinary standard methods provide unlimited scope for practice, together with the most decided advantage of all, that four or five can meet almost when and where they like to practise, where seven might wait for the eighth in a tower, must conclude my plea for more evidence of handbell practice.

Finally, let me point out that in this week's issue there are published 26 peals on tower bells and one only 'in hand.'—Yours faithfully,

PETER LAFLIN.

Stockport.

SPLICING PLAIN MAJOR.

PEALS IN 15 AND 21 METHODS.

ANOTHER ARTICLE BY STEPHEN H. WOOD.

At the end of my last article on this subject I spoke of elaborating the calling of the 15-method peal a little bit in order to reduce the number of short courses necessitated by the 'Bobs at Home.' We shall find that we can, in this way, make our 60 courses give us 6,048 instead of under 5,000 changes.

As in the last peal, we have got to select four sets of course-ends which do not show repetition with each other when transposed by any of the eight false course-ends mentioned before, namely:—

| | | | |
|-------|-------|-------|-------|
| 34256 | 35426 | 63254 | 42635 |
| 42356 | 52436 | 43652 | 35264 |

The four sets I have used in this composition are as follows:—

| A. (In-course.) | B. (In-course.) | C. (Out-of-course.) | D. (Out-of-course.) |
|--------------------|--------------------|------------------------|------------------------|
| 23456 | 26354 | 23465 | 25364 |
| 42356 | 46253 | 42365 | 45263 |
| 34256 | 36452 | 34265 | 35462 |
| 42635 | 24536 | 42536 | 24635 |
| 34625 | 43526 | 34526 | 43625 |
| 23645 | 32546 | 23546 | 32645 |
| 36264 | | 36254 | |
| 25463 | | 26453 | |
| 45362 | | 46352 | |
| 62534 | | 52634 | |
| 64523 | | 54623 | |
| 63542 | | 53642 | |
| 56234 | | 55234 | |
| 56423 | | 65423 | |
| 56342 | | 65342 | |
| 25634 | | 26534 | |
| 45623 | | 46523 | |
| 35642 | | 36542 | |
| 26543 | | 25643 | |
| 46532 | | 45632 | |
| 36524 | | 35624 | |
| 23564 | | 23654 | |
| 42563 | | 42653 | |
| 34562 | | 34652 | |

It is interesting to compare these four sets with the symmetrical four which we used for the last peal, and to note the various alterations and their connection with the altered calling.

As in the last case, C and D are the same as A and B with 5 and 6 reversed. The first 15 of A and C are the same as in the last case, and the 6 which are now the only members of B and D appeared in the same places before. We have removed 9 from each of B and D, and added 9 different ones to each of A and C.

This gives us four sets which satisfy the conditions and enable us to join them together into one round block, as in the peal below.

I will give a brief outline of the structure of the peal, so that anyone who is interested and has the time and inclination to do so may pull it to pieces and see how it is built up, and—hence—the reasons for the selection and arrangement of the course-ends in A, B, C, D.

The main basis of the composition is a five-course block similar to the one we used before, and for which we are indebted to the Rev. E. Banks James. It is this:—

|-------|-------|
| H. R. | 23456 |
| x | 42635 |
| x | 64523 |
| — | 56423 |
| x | 45362 |
| x | 34256 |

This, repeated five times, with a Single for the Bob at Right in the 3rd and 6th's parts to turn 5-6, will give us the first 15 course-ends of A and C. The others are then spliced in at various points, thus: Before each of the 6 calls at 'Right' we put in 3 bobs at 'Wrong'; this gives us 6 of the remaining course-ends of each of A and C. The other 6 (3 of A and 3 of C) are spliced in, one in each part, between singles at 'Middle,' after the first of the 3 bobs at Wrong. We are now left with the 12 course-ends which come under B and D; 6 of them are spliced in, one at a time, between 2 singles at 'In,' between the first and 2nd bobs at 'Home' in each part. The other 6 are put in in two chunks of 3; thus, between the 2nd and 3rd bobs at 'Wrong' in 1st and 4th parts, 2 Singles at 'Right' are called, and between these 2 we call 3 bobs at 'Middle.' We have now accounted for all the 60 course-ends, and can proceed to write out the figures and course-ends of the peal; we can then choose which of the four original groups of methods to use for each of A, B, C, D, and then, by observing the natural course-end at any point, and also whether the calling necessitates a 2nd's-place or an 8th's-place method, we can decide which method to ring at any point, there being in general a choice of two (as explained in detail for the last peal).

The following are the figures of the peal:—

By leaving out the three 3-course blocks as shown in square brackets, the peal is reduced to 5,040.

In the cases where the method is changed in the middle of a course I have indicated between the two methods the point where the change-over is made (thus: I for In and M for Middle). It must be understood that in these cases the course-ends do not necessarily come up at equal intervals of seven leads. Perhaps an example will make this point clearer. Take the 2nd course of the peal, for instance: Double Norwich is rung till the 'In' position, which comes up at the first lead-end; a Single is called here and Maidstone is rung. The course-end 32645 will actually come up at the next lead-end, so that the course only contain 2 leads; but the next course will contain 10 leads to make up for it. This is a little muddling at first, but it is really quite simple. The easiest way to look at it is to take the 2nd and 3rd courses together; it is then simply a course of Double Norwich with a bob at 5 (i.e., at 'Home'), with a whole course of Maidstone spliced in between Singles at the In position (wherever it may happen to occur). And so on in a similar way in the other cases. The three pairs of courses where Double Oxford and Double Bob are rung are a little more complicated, owing to the fact that in Double Oxford the Wrong position comes after the Middle position. The result is that the 5th course-end actually comes up before the 4th, but again, provided the calling is carried out without worrying about where the course-ends come up, there is no difficulty. The instructions for the 4th, 5th and 6th courses are simply as the calling says, i.e., Ring Double Oxford till the Wrong position and call a bob; the 5th course-end will actually come up at the next lead, but don't worry about this; go on till the Middle position, call a Single and ring Double Bob; ring this for a whole course (during which the 4th course-end will come up somewhere—it does not matter where), and call another Single at Middle, and then ring Double Oxford again. We next have to call the bob at Wrong in the 6th course, and this position will come up without the intervention of a course-end (the course-end 26543 having already been rung). [The whole business is not nearly as complicated as it sounds; it is exactly similar to the making of Singles in peals of Stedman Triples.]

As regards the omission of the three chunks to reduce the peal to 5,040, there is no difficulty, and I think the placing of the brackets shows just what is meant. For instance, after the 15th course, instead of the next four courses we simply ring one course, the calling being 'Bob at Right' and the method Double Oxford. Similarly for the other cases.

Now that we have got a length of more than 5,000 we can introduce 6 'Little' methods if we want to, thus bringing our number of methods up to 21.

The calling will be exactly the same as the 15-method peal we have just been dealing with, the only difference in the two peals being the methods rung in certain courses. We will, therefore, save space by refraining from writing out the 21-method peal in full, contenting ourselves by merely indicating the courses in which the new methods are rung, thus:—

A SPLICED PEAL OF PLAIN MAJOR IN 21 METHODS. 5,000 CHANGES.

The calling the same as the 15-method peal, and methods the same with the following exceptions:—

- Ring Crayford Little Court for Reverse Bob in course 31.
- Ring Wellington Little Court for Reverse Bob in courses 41, 42, 43.
- Ring Little Bob for Plain Bob from course 57 ('Wrong' position) to course 58 ('Wrong' position).
- Ring Gainsborough Little Bob for Plain Bob from course 48 ('Wrong' position) to course 49 ('Wrong' position).
- Ring Victoria Little Court for Shipway's Court from course 44 ('In' position) to course 45 ('In' position).
- Ring Little Oxford Bob for Winchester Bob from course 38 ('Middle' position) to course 39 ('Middle' position).

This gives 5,672, and the peal is reduced to 5,000 by omitting the first two of the 3-course blocks shown in square brackets; the 3rd block, which was also omitted in reducing the 15-method peal to 5,040, must not be omitted in this case.

May I point out, in conclusion, for the sake of those who may be interested in the practical ringing of these spliced peals, that the methods are all to be found in the 'Central Council Collection of Plain Major and Cater Methods,' and will be quickly mastered by any band that can ring Double Norwich and Double Oxford, which are in construction, if not in symmetry, the most complicated of them all.

I must apologise if my explanation of these peals has made them seem more complicated than they actually are, but it is no new discovery that anything campanological is difficult to explain in a clear and yet concise manner. I hope I have at least been clear. I trust that any conductor who has followed the argument through will be able to make alterations in the arrangement of the methods to suit himself or the ambition of his band without jeopardising the 'truth' of the compositions, but if anyone has any difficulty in following my explanation I shall be only too glad to attempt to make myself clearer if they will write to me.

DEATH OF A STOKE-ON-TRENT RINGER.

It is with deep regret that we have to record the death of Mr. George Bloor, of Stoke-on-Trent, who passed away after a short illness on Thursday, April 3rd. He was out on the Tuesday before his death, which came as a great shock to all his friends. Deceased had been a member of the Stoke tower for 27 years, during a number of which he acted as towerkeeper. He was looking forward to the time when the bells would be reopened on Palm Sunday after rehanging by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough.

The funeral took place on Saturday at Hartshill Cemetery, after a service in St. Barnabas' Church, at which the Rector of Stoke (the Rev. D. H. Crick) officiated. Deceased's brother ringers from Stoke attended, and four of them (Messrs. J. Limister, W. Ball, D. Steel and C. H. Page) acted as bearers. There were a great many floral tributes, including one from the Stoke ringers in the shape of a bell. Mr. Bloor was very regular in his attendance at service and practice ringing, but was not keen on peals, having rung about 12 in all. The deepest sympathy goes out to his widow and relatives in their great sorrow.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

ILLNESS OF CANON G. F. COLERIDGE.

The report on Canon Coleridge's condition on Wednesday was that he was 'going on nicely and was very comfortable.'

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We would emphasise the notice elsewhere in this issue, reminding correspondents that next week 'The Ringing World' will go to press a day earlier, owing to Good Friday. Will secretaries and peal conductors kindly dispatch their reports to reach us on Monday—instead of leaving them until the following week. May we ask those who may be inclined to take the latter course to 'hustle' instead. It will greatly help us.

The Rev. Canon H. R. Jennings, of Madron Vicarage, Cornwall, has resigned the hon. secretaryship of the Truro Diocesan Guild, owing to pressure of work. His successor is the Rev. W. H. R. Trehwella, St. Paul's Vicarage, Truro.

Another attempt on the twelve-bell record length is to be made by the Painswick Youths at Painswick on Easter Monday. The start will be at 8 a.m.

Forty-two years ago to-day a peal of 13,265 Grandsire Caters was rung at Appleton, in a year when no fewer than three ten-bell records were made in the tower.

To-morrow is the anniversary of the 18,027 Stedman Caters, rung at Loughborough in 1909, in 12 hours 18 minutes—the first time that one set of men had rung 'round the clock.'

A new Kent 'Treble Bob Royal' record was set up at Ashton-under-Lyne on April 13th, 1914, when a peal of 14,000 was rung in 9 hours 24 minutes. Three years earlier, viz., on April 17th, 1911, the record of 12,240 Treble Bob Maximus was rung in the same tower.

Probably the longest peal attempt which has been lost was that at Heptonstall on April 14th, 1928, when in an effort to ring 22,086 Double Norwich Major the ringing came to grief after 19 hours 31 minutes' ringing—a considerably longer 'lost peal' than that at Romford on March 26th, 1894, when a rope broke after 8 hours 16 minutes, and the bells were within 400 changes of the end.

What was probably the first 5,040 of Minor was rung on April 16th, 1737. This was at St. Mary's, Whitechapel, and consisted of 'seven complete Surprise six-bell peals, viz., 720 of Oxford Tripple Bob, Cambridge Surprise, Morning Exercise, Bristol Surprise, Worcester Surprise and York Surprise, containing 5,040 changes in 3 hours 15 minutes. By a Society of Compilers.'

The 'performers' of this peal were James Tichbourne, James Stuart, James Forsee, Edward Newton, Thomas Smallshaw and William Barrett (who called the bobs). The treble and second men were Eastern Scholars; third, fourth and fifth London Youths, and tenor a College Youths.

'Many happy returns of the day' to the popular hon. secretary of the Ancient Society of College Youths. Mr. W. T. Cockerill will celebrate his 71st birthday on Sunday.

'A DISAPPOINTING EXPERIENCE.'

We have received letters from Mr. J. F. Smallwood, of Derby, and Mr. H. E. Wills, of Croydon, giving their experiences at Newark, which were quite the opposite to that related by Mr. F. E. Collins last week. These letters will be published in our next issue.

WITHERNSEA BELLS TO BE AUGMENTED.

GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY RAISE THE FUNDS.

Withernsea, a seaside resort on the East Coast of Yorkshire, has a pretty little Parish Church dedicated to St. Nicholas. The church was built in 1484, but in 1609 it was seriously damaged and unroofed by a storm, and was then allowed to fall into decay. For some 250 years the building was a ruin, but was restored in 1858.

In 1894 funds were raised by the ladies of Withernsea for a peal of five bells. They were cast by Messrs. Barwell, of Birmingham. The tenor weighs 13 cwt. and is inscribed:—

'A.D. 1894. FUNDS FOR THESE BELLS RAISED BY LADIES OF WITHERNSEA. LAUS DEO.'

In 1928 the bell frame was strengthened, and the bells resting on ball bearings.

During the year 1929 the Withernsea branch of the Girls' Friendly Society were busy organising concerts, sales of work, etc., for the purpose of raising funds to provide for the addition of a treble bell to complete the ring of six. A faculty has been obtained, and the order for the new bell is now in the hands of Messrs. John Taylor and Co., Loughborough. It is hoped the bell will be placed in the tower this month, and that the dedication will take place early in May. The new bell will be inscribed:—

'THE WITHERNSEA G.F.S. GAVE ME, MAY, 1930. LAUS DEO.'

Amongst an enthusiastic band of ringers are several ladies, members of the Girls' Friendly Society, who have worked so hard to provide the necessary funds for the new bell.

GOOD FRIDAY WEEK.

SEND YOUR COMMUNICATIONS EARLY.

As Good Friday falls in next week, 'The Ringing World' will go to press a day earlier than usual, and all communications intended for insertion must reach us by first post on Monday.

We would specially ask Secretaries, who have meetings to-morrow, and the conductors of peals, to send off their reports at once, so that they may appear next week, and so help to relieve our columns of the congestion which always follows Easter.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

NO SUPPORT FOR QUARTERLY PEAL PROPOSAL.

A quarterly meeting of Southampton District was held at Romsey on Saturday. The bells were available during the afternoon and evening, and service was held in the Abbey at 4.30, conducted by the Vicar of Romsey (the Rev. W. B. Corban). Tea and a short business meeting took place in the Church Hall, Mr. George Williams (vice-president) being in the chair.

Three new members were elected from St. Mary's, Southampton, and Mr. Williams suggested that a quarterly peal should be rung, the band to be selected from the towers in the district. The suggestion, however, got no support from the meeting and, therefore, the matter dropped.

The methods rung during the day were Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative and London Surprise Major. The towers represented were North Stoneham, Bishopstoke, Netley, Brockenhurst, Titchfield, Portsmouth, Croydon, Southampton, Kings Somborne, Ringwood and Romsey.

The next meeting will be held at Sherfield English on Saturday, July 5th.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

DEVIZES BRANCH.

The quarterly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at the Parish Church of St. Michael and All Angels, Melksham, on Saturday, a large number of ringers being present. Ringing commenced about 3 p.m., and at 4.40 p.m. the Guild office was said by the Vicar (the Rev. B. Aston, M.A.), the hymns being sung unaccompanied. In his address, based on the text, 'Their sound went into all the earth,' Romans x., 18 (R.V.), the Vicar, after welcoming the ringers, drew some lessons from the bells and ringing, showing how the material things of the world could be used to convey things spiritual.

Tea followed in the Parish Room, to which 41 sat down, including Mrs. and Miss Green, Mrs. West, Mrs. Swift and Miss Williams. The Vicar was prevented from being present in consequence of another engagement.

A short business meeting followed, the chairman of the branch, Mr. C. D. Heggibothorn, presiding. After welcoming the visitors, he gave a resume of the business at the Guild committee meeting, held at Salisbury.

Mr. W. H. Mills, of Frome, was elected a life ringing member; Mr. D. H. Flower, of Upton Scudamore, as an unattached member; while three ringing members were also elected.

A vote of sympathy was passed to Mr. T. Hervey Beams, of Bradpole, Dorset, assistant secretary to the Guild, in his illness, and the secretary was asked to write a letter to Mr. Beams conveying to him the regret of the members and their good wishes for his recovery.

Heytesbury was selected for the May meeting, Urchfont for June, and for the half-yearly to be held in July, Trowbridge, if the bells are available.

It was announced that the annual festival of the Guild would be held at Calne on Saturday, May 17th.

The usual vote of thanks was passed. Ringers were present from Melksham, Aldbourne, Bratton, Bradford-on-Avon, Chippenham, Calne, Devizes (St. John's and St. Mary's), Swindon, Wootton Bassett, Holt, Trowbridge, Stratton, Weston (Bath) and Warminster.

Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Double Norwich, Kent and Cambridge were rung during the afternoon and evening.

TREBLE BOB MINOR COMPOSITIONS.

ARE THERE FIVE?—OR SIX?—OR MORE?

BY 'THE MAD HATTER.'

To the Editor.

Sir,—Your various correspondents are affording us, little by little, a closer insight into this problem; but, the whole story has not yet been told.

At last, however, the Rev. H. Law James has himself brought forward, in support of his case, just that evidence whereby his contention may be refuted in more details than one.

Mr. James has stated that in no Treble Bob Minor method are more than five compositions possible. It has been pointed out by 'Minormania,' and, later, by the Rev. E. S. Powell, that the compositions, in certain cases, exist in 'pairs.'

Mr. Powell conjectures, rightly, that in four groups of methods, which he specifies, every composition having 9 (or 12) bobs has an 'inverse,' producible by changing every plain to a bob, and every bob to a plain, thus giving a composition having 21 (or 18) bobs. He might have added with respect to the two groups among those four, wherein a 15-bob composition may be had, that such a composition will, by like treatment, yield another composition having (merely by accident) the same number of bobs.

Mr. Powell thinks that if two compositions are 'inverses,' one of the other, they are one. What does Mr. James think? Of the 9 and 21-bob pair, also the 12 and 18-bob pair, he states definitely that they are different compositions, and he puts forward what he considers to be incontrovertible proof of this. But when, of a PAIR, each has the same number of bobs, he counts the pair as one. Let us judge of the correctness of this by Mr. James' own criterion.

Mr. Severn's extent A, published on April 4th, will serve as an illustration. The Q-sets bobbed are:—

(b) 23, 25, 35, 45, 46.

Consequently, those plained, also five in number, are:—

(a) 24, 26, 34, 36, 56.

By bobbing the (a) group of Q-sets, the 'inverse' of this composition will be produced. This 'inverse' will serve for Kent Treble Bob; by which is meant that, in Kent, bobbing Q-sets (a) will produce an extent.

If Mr. James thinks the two compositions are one, will he please prove it by producing a 15-bob 720 of Kent having the (b) group of Q-sets bobbed? Of course, he cannot do so; and if he proved the 9 and 21-bob compositions to be different, then the two 15-bob compositions are proved also to be different.

Thus, Mr. James' 'five' should be six; which is the same thing as Mr. Powell's 'three,' when it is understood that in the latter case 'three pairs' is meant.

But this is not all. Mr. Powell writes that all extents having a given number of bobs are simple variations or reverses of one of another. It has been shown that this is not so in one case. Let us look further. Here are two 12-bob compositions of Cambridge:—

| IV. (a) | | IV. (b) | |
|---------|---|---------|---|
| 23456 | | 23456 | |
| 35642 | 1 | 64235 | 2 |
| 54263 | 1 | 64352 | 3 |
| 32546 | 2 | 45236 | 1 |
| 65324 | 2 | 62453 | 2 |
| 52436 | 1 | 34625 | 2 |
| 52364 | 3 | 42563 | 1 |
| 35264 | 5 | 42635 | 3 |
| 42356 | 2 | 42356 | 3 |
| 42563 | 3 | 63425 | 2 |
| 63542 | 4 | 25483 | 4 |
| 34256 | 1 | 34256 | 2 |
| 23456 | 5 | 23456 | 5 |

The four Q-sets bobbed are:—

(a) in IV. (a) 24, 36, 46, 56.

(b) in IV. (b) 25, 35, 38, 58.

A 720 of Kent may be had by bobbing the (a) group of four Q-sets, but not by bobbing the (b) group. Mr. James must admit that IV. (a) and IV. (b) are different compositions.

Each of these 12-bob compositions gives rise to an 18-bob inverse, VI. (a) and VI. (b), respectively. Can they be the same composition while their inverses are different? Neither will serve for Kent; but as VI. (b) will run in London, while VI. (a) will not, they would seem to be different; yet both run in Cambridge.

It would appear quite plain that there are no less than eight essentially distinct compositions of Treble Bob Minor, or four pairs, and that in some methods all of them can be used.

The possibility of using any of these compositions, in any method, can be exhibited in a concise table, which will be offered for publication if a desire for it is evident.

ADVICE TO MR. SEVERN.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Severn would do well to take an elementary course in composition before taking up your space with letters on the subject. In particular, I would venture to recommend the fifth chapter of Snowden's 'Treble Bob.' As a part of this study he might usefully count the bob distances of case 'A', that he gives in this week's 'Ringing World,' and then write out the composition he gets by starting at the end and working backwards with the same bob intervals.

Also, may I beg him to read the letters of other correspondents before calling them in question?—Yours, etc., E. S. POWELL.

MORE EXPLANATION NEEDED.

Dear Sir,—I can heartily agree with the Rev. H. Law James in that we certainly should avoid the kind of controversy he mentions, and if there is one other of your readers who sees, in 'Muddled Minor,' an unfair appeal to prejudice, I would hasten to apologise. I have read through my article again, and, apart from its title, fail to see anything but appeals to the reader to judge for himself, and to Mr. James to explain his utterances. As 'Minormania,' I care not two straws which way the wind blows, and try to separate my writings under this name from others which appear under my own. 'Minormania' endeavours to take an inexpert view, that is all.

None realises more than I what Mr. James has done for ringing and the depth of his experience, but he will forgive me if I say that I cannot swallow cryptic utterances solely because of their source; and he, I am sure, would be the last to wish anyone so to do.

In commenting upon my article, Mr. James still refrains from explaining his 'five possible,' and it is this lack which is the bone of my contention. I ask for all to have a sporting chance to understand, and 'Muddled Minor' stated no definite view—the reader took his choice.

Finally, Mr. James' last paragraph of his letter of April 4th leaves one to assume that 9-bob and 21-bob extents are different, while 9-bob extents in any method are the same. Very well! Again I appeal to your readers to make a choice.

'Things that are equal to the same thing are equal to one another'; oppositely, two things that are equal must be equal to a similar third. Therefore, if a nine-bob-Kent and a nine-bob-London are the same, and a nine-bob-London bears a certain relationship to a 21-bob-London, it follows that a nine-bob-Kent ought to bear a like relationship to a 21-bob-Kent! What is the answer? I am not splitting straws; it is merely that I had a Minor mania, which is becoming a muddled

MINORMANIA.

A HANDBELL PEAL IN JOHANNESBURG.MISSION SISTERS TAKE PART.

An extremely interesting item of news comes this week from South Africa, and records the first peal in the Transvaal and the first handbell peal in South Africa. It was rung at St. Margaret's Mission House, Johannesburg, on March 6th. Canon Ridout was the conductor and the other ringers were four sisters attached to the Mission. In the following notes, Canon Ridout, who was in England on leave last year, and took part in the Cambridge University Guild's jubilee celebration and also in other peals, gives some brief details of the formation of St. Alban's Ringing Guild, and the persevering efforts which have led up to the successful completion of this peal of Bob Minor.

'On St. Margaret's Day, July 20th, 1926,' writes Canon Ridout, 'some of the sisters of St. Margaret's, Johannesburg, expressed a desire to take up change ringing as a form of recreation: and the project of building the new Church of St. Alban gave an added incentive. Within twelve months the first 720's and quarter-peals had been achieved. Three weeks later, on August Bank Holiday, 1927, seven 720's were accomplished—but with breaks between them. After that a good many peal attempts were made: and the conductor confesses that the failures were more often due to him than to the rest of the band.'

On 10th March, 1929, the new church was dedicated, though the bells are not yet forthcoming. The conductor was then away on furlough for six months; but with his return handbell practice was again resumed. The first success was within a day or two of the church's anniversary.

Three other members of the Guild have scored quarter-peals, Sister Mildred, Sister Josephine and Mr. C. W. Kearns.

'St. John's College, Johannesburg, is building a bell tower, the foundation stone being laid last month. St. Boniface Church at Germiston, seven miles away, is to start building its tower soon after Easter. The question of bells for St. Alban's is at present in the lap of the gods. At all events, we have hopes that when bells are forthcoming they will be turned to good account.'

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.SMALL BUT USEFUL SIX-BELL MEETING.

The Leatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild held its first meeting of the year at Cobham on Saturday. Only 16 ringers attended from Cobham, Leatherhead, Dorking, Woking, Epsom and Guildford, and from this one would deduce that six bells are not a popular number for meetings. It is surely an erroneous point of view that the six-bell meetings are only for the six-bell ringers, and yet one invariably finds that eight-bell ringers will not adequately support six-bell meetings, and that six-bell men do not come to eight-bell meetings. The ideal ringer will attain to ringing on bells of all numbers, and the interest of a six-bell meeting should be just as great as an eight or ten-bell meeting. The average eight-bell man can learn much from the six-bell man, and vice versa.

The ringing started later than usual, and 'Brooklands' had to be blamed for this. It is believed that a bus crew took French leave at that point of their journey, thus causing the 'flower' of the meeting to arrive an hour late. They reached the church just in time to ring a touch of Cambridge Minor for service. The Vicar, the Rev. J. du V. Brunton, officiated, and in the course of his address traced the history of church bells and their uses through the ages. The congregation were informed that the 'Encyclopædia Britannica' positively bristles with information regarding the art.

A welcome feature of the service was the attendance of 13 choir boys. In view of the small number of ringers present, this was a great boon.

Service was followed by tea at the Parish Hall, and a goodly spread it was. Much of the success of a meeting depends upon the quality of the tea, and the Leatherhead District looks specially to this part of the programme. Other districts or associations might make a note of this.

The business meeting was short, consisting chiefly of the ratification of the election of Messrs. W. Poplett and H. Sycamore, of Ewell, prior to a peal attempt; the election of Messrs. Jesse Beams and W. Worsfold, of Ewell, as ringing members; and the election of Mr. William T. Waller, of Dorking, as an honorary member. The hon. secretary explained that Mr. Waller was a churchwarden at Dorking Parish Church, and appealed to the meeting to try to increase the district's honorary membership. He suggested that churchwardens were suitable persons for election in this way.

The meeting then closed with the usual votes of thanks, and the members returned to the tower for further practice. Methods ranging from Bob Minor to Cambridge and London Surprise Minor were practised.

Cobham bells are a nice ring, with a good toned tenor of 9½ cwt. In passing, it may be stated that all strangers would be welcomed at Cobham, whether for practice or service ringing. At 8.30 the bells were lowered in peal in the approved 'West Country' style, and the ringers dispersed, having attended one more enjoyable meeting.

THE DEVON GUILD.SOME SUGGESTIONS.To the Editor.*

Dear Sir,—I am not at all in agreement with the forlorn note struck by your correspondent and emphasised in your leading article concerning the Devon Guild.

True, it is that we are just passing through a reactionary period after several years of excellent progress, but, to some extent, nearly all the associations are experiencing the same.

There are so many counter attractions for young people to-day that it is difficult to get the younger generation to give the time and concentration necessary to learn half-pull change ringing.

But the Devonshire Guild is surely, is slowly, progressing, and I am sure our dear old late president, the Rev. M. Kelly, was happy in his later days in the thought that all the years of labour he had given to advance the aims of our Guild had borne fruit.

If, by our example, we have taught our round ringing friends to copy us by holding meetings and services for ringers and eliminating all that was associated with prize ringing contests, as I remember them a few years ago, then we have at least done something to raise the status of ringers generally.

The Devonshire Guild three years ago passed a resolution by a huge majority prohibiting competitive ringing, and I am of the opinion that if we keep firmly to this principle, the day is not far distant when the rival association, which has been copying our methods of administration, will see that we are right and that we are not in any way antagonistic towards them, but rather that we are prepared to help them.

But have we perfect unanimity in our own ranks?

Have we any members, experienced change ringers, who are quietly giving moral support to our rival round ringing friends in their endeavour to persuade ringers, especially in rural areas, to take up round ringing rather than half-pull ringing?

Perhaps we have not done all that we might to advance the cause of half-pull ringing, and I would suggest that in the first place we should become a diocesan association, with official recognition from the diocesan authorities; secondly, that we advertise ourselves more, letting the clergy and ringers know exactly the aims and objects of the Guild; and, thirdly, that we endeavour to meet the executive officers of the rival association and try to persuade them that in half-pull ringing there is something which stimulates to further effort, which, through mind training and concentration, brings out all the noble qualities of the ringer and encourages him to aspire to higher ideals. As a result, the clergy must recognise that scientific half-pull ringing inevitably brings into the belfry (and the church) the person who can be relied upon as an excellent example of a real church-worker who is prepared to progress on sound principles.—Yours
E. W. MARSH.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.MEETING AT EALING.

A meeting of the South and West District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held at Christ Church, Ealing, by permission of the Rev. H. L. Haynes (Vicar) on Saturday. Touches of Grandrive and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Major were rung before service, which was conducted by the Vicar, who gave a brief but interesting address. Miss Parker, the organist, gave her services, and the hymns were heartily sung.

Tea followed in the Church Hall, and was ably served by Mrs. Wilson. The Vicar presided, supported by Mr. J. A. Trollope and Mr. Herbert, etc. The Vicar, on vacating the chair, was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for allowing the meeting to be held there that day; for conducting the service, and for presiding.—In reply, he said he hoped to again meet the Guild at Christ Church in the near future.

Mr. Trollope was appointed to fill the vacant chair for the business meeting, when it was announced that the annual general meeting of the association would take place at Fulham on April 26th; also that a joint meeting with the London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild (South District) was to be held on the third Saturday in May, and a joint meeting with the Oxford Diocesan Guild (East Berks and South Bucks branch) at Wraysbury and Old Windsor on Saturday, June 28th. Particulars of these meetings will appear in 'The Ringing World' in due time. A course of Kent Treble Bob Royal was rung on handbells by Messrs. E. S. Turner 1-2, A. Diserens 3-4, G. Cross 5-6, J. Herbert 7-8, W. G. Wilson 9-10. Other touches followed.

The hon. secretary proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Trollope, to the organist, to the hostess and her assistants, and to Mr. Harry Burton, who made the necessary arrangements for a most pleasant and enjoyable meeting.—Mr. Trollope, on behalf of the district, gave the visitors a hearty welcome, to which Mr. A. Reeve (Ringing Master of the Northern District, London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild) responded. Other welcome faces at the meeting were Messrs. A. W. Coles, G. R. Pardon, etc.

Business over, the tower was again visited, and methods, including Superlative Surprise, were rung until 8.30, when final 'stand' was called, and a pleasant meeting came to a close.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

After a lapse of four years the Ladies' Guild has published another Report and it is satisfactory to learn that during this period the Guild has slowly but surely grown. One frequently hears the question asked, 'How many lady ringers are there in England?' The report does not, of course, completely answer the question because the Guild does not include all the lady ringers; but it claims a ringing membership of 215, as well as 58 honorary members, so that quite a fair proportion of the lady ringers must be on the roll. This represents no small measure of successful work, when the difficulties attending the organisation of such a widely scattered body are considered. There are few areas where lady ringers are to be found in anything like sufficient numbers even to meet frequently for practice, and even district meetings depend considerably for their success upon the assistance which men are able to give. This, of course, is not the fault of the Ladies' Guild. The same handicap prevents them from making peal attempts, except on rare occasions, and in the last four years ladies' bands have been able to accomplish only four peals.

The services rendered in the belfry by ladies, however, is not to be measured by their achievements as an organisation. The Guild binds them together in a sisterhood which forms a national link between them, but in their individual spheres the ladies, whose 'joining up' in the belfry was greatly stimulated by the war, when they responded to the call to replace the men, are a useful adjunct to many a band. The frequency with which their names appear in peals shows that numbers of them are as keen as the other sex, in proportion to their numbers, on achieving the highest ambitions of a ringer, but it is in the service ringing that the ladies have proved their usefulness and their reliability. The difficulties which the Guild finds in getting adequate support of the members for their district meetings can be realised when it is remembered that the whole country is covered by only six districts and that, for instance, the western and southern districts have to cover nearly all the southern half of England, with the exception of the London area, and that the northern district has to cater for the rest of the country with the exception of Northamptonshire and Lincolnshire, which have their own districts. Whether a district reorganisation with smaller areas would facilitate a larger membership and create a greater interest in the Guild is not easy to determine, but the disappearance of the Midland district has left a gap in the organisation which ought to be filled without undue delay. There must be quite a number of lady ringers in the area west of Northamptonshire and north of Bristol who are sufficiently keen to support the Guild, and we hope to see some effort soon made to re-establish the activities of the Guild in that quarter of England. Despite all drawbacks, however, the Guild has done well, and is officered by some enthusiastic women ringers, several of whom are outstanding figures in the Exercise. But most of all, the Guild owes its success to the labours of Mrs. G. W. Fletcher, who has been its hon. secretary and its inspiration since its foundation in 1912, when she conducted at Cubitt Town the first peal ever rung by a band of ladies.

* A DISAPPOINTING EXPERIENCE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Collins complains of discourteous treatment when he visited Newark recently. In contrast, I would like to give my experience when I visited this tower about two years ago. I was treated with every courtesy and kindness, and was asked to call a touch of Stedman. I think it is only fair to our Newark friends to state this. Probably the fact that Mr. Collins arrived in the belfry after the ringing had commenced had something to do with his failure to obtain a pull. Moral—be early!—Yours faithfully,

J. FRANK SMALLWOOD.

Allenton, Derby.

A CORDIAL WELCOME.

Dear Sir,—I was amazed to see a letter in this week's issue of 'The Ringing World' from Mr. Frederick E. Collins under 'A disappointing experience.' Who for? Mr. Collins or the Newark ringers?

I was living at Brigg, Lincs, for 12 months, and often used to go over to Newark at week-ends, and my experience at Newark Parish Church was totally opposite to that of Mr. Collins. I had a most cordial welcome from the first Sunday I visited the belfry, but I took my usual precaution (which surely Mr. Collins with 14 years' experience should take) of finding out what time Sunday service ringing started. Surely no ringer who values Sunday service ringing should expect to go into a strange belfry where service ringing is only for approximately 20 minutes and expect bells to be stopped, and started again just for him. I feel certain that had Mr. Collins arrived early he would have no cause for complaint.

I have rung both morning and evening (ringers should note that morning service ringing at Newark begins at 9 o'clock), and was often told if I was in Newark on a practice night, to be sure and go, and I am far from what a good ringer and striker should be. The Newark conductor on my first visit asked me to call a touch, but I told him I was only a learner and had not progressed so far. I remember one Sunday evening when there were five visitors in the belfry, and the local ringers most willingly gave way to them. They all came from different parts of the country, but they were all there early. Two of us only had rung at Newark before. The other three were on their first visit. I just point this out, as Mr. Collins might think it was because he was a stranger and was not known. Sometimes in life we are refused because we are known, sometimes because we are not known. But this does not apply to Newark or any other belfry, either in England or Ireland, where I have been. Providing ringers do not expect to do away with local customs, a feeling of fellowship and comradeship has always been my experience of 25 years, during which time I have had the pleasure of ringing in over 360 towers. I believe the Newark people (not the ringers) as soon as they hear the bells stop all make for church, and I expect the Newark ringers would sooner risk disappointing Mr. Collins than fooling the people of Newark. I hope ringers will not take Mr. Collins' advice and keep away from Newark, but go when they can and as often as they can, but go early and they will be happy.—Yours faithfully,

HARRY E. WILLS.

17, Midhurst Avenue, Croydon.

VISITING RINGERS.

Dear Sir,—We was very sorry down in Eresfuthshire to see as 'ow that there mon Collins, from Lundun town, didna get a pull on them bells at Newark-on-Trent, but I 'ave been thinking as 'ow maybe it was his own fault.

You see, Sur, there be all sorts of ringing blokes as gets about. Sometimes there is a mon wot cums and sort of ses: 'That was some poor striking of yours; yo ought to cut yourn backstrokes down; your bells are a poor lot, and ought to be melted down,' etsetra. 'I am a big mon, and likes good striking. I have rung a lot of peels. I am sekretary of Flapdoodle, and I have been to the Sentral Kowncel meetings for years and years.' Well, after he have flapt his wings like this, and put his thumbs into his waistik holes, and blowd his chest out, them there ringers do weigh him up, and with a scale and waits of their own, and when he do have a tuch with them, he do sort of upset the kumpus of the ringing, and when he be gone, what they do say about that mon would fill a good big pamphlet.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

SOUTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

A very successful meeting of the South-Eastern Division was held at Boreham on Saturday last, when 34 members were present from Braintree, Broomfield, Boreham, Chelmsford, Feering, Galleywood, Great Baddow, Great Bentley, Kelvedon, Maldon, Trumington and Witham, including Mr. W. J. Nevard, District Master of the North-Eastern Division, and six lady ringers. After two hours' ringing in the afternoon, a short service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. A. E. Hall) and Rev. D. G. Douglas (Vicar of Great Baddow), the lesson being read by Mr. C. H. Howard, Master of the association. Rev. A. E. Hall gave a most helpful address.

An excellent tea was served at the Queen's Head, presided over by the Rev. D. G. Douglas, supported by Rev. A. E. Hall and Mr. C. H. Howard. The District Master took the chair at the business meeting, at which it was arranged to hold the meeting at Southminster, Burnham-on-Crouch and Tillingham on Saturday, June 28th, instead of June 21st; and also to hold a meeting at Writtle on Saturday, September 6th.

One new ringing member was elected.

Mr. C. H. Howard proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells.—The Vicar, in reply, said he was pleased to welcome the ringers, and was always willing to help the association.—Hand-bell ringing followed, while other members returned to the tower, the bells being kept going until 9 p.m. in Plain and Surprise methods.

ENJOYABLE MEETING AT MALDON.

The ringers of St. Mary's Church, Burnham-on-Crouch, paid a visit on Saturday week to St. Mary's Church, Maldon. There was a company of 18 ringers in the belfry and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Several touches were rung, including 720 Bob Minor (42 singles): A. H. Stebbings 1, T. C. Ringrose 2, S. Bignmore 3, W. G. Gridley 4, H. S. Barker (conductor) 5, H. Stebbings 6. Also 720 Kent Treble Bob: T. C. Ringrose 1, J. H. Waldoock 2, J. D. Buckingham (conductor) 3, F. P. Lewis 4, H. S. Barker 5, H. Stebbings 6; and a very fine touch of Cambridge by a Maldon and Goldhanger band.

Through 'The Ringing World' the Burnham band would like to tender their heartiest thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to Mr. J. H. Waldoock, Mr. Chalk, Mr. Mansfield, Mr. J. D. Buckingham, Mr. Lewis and all the other ringers who attended and gave them such a warm welcome.

And sometimes a mon do come and inquire of church folks or the clerk mon about the ringing, and he do cum upstairs and ask for the kapten, and do say as 'ow the ringing was very good, and as tha was a nice peal of bells, and 'ow as he would like some pulling on 'em. And the fellas do all take to that bloke, and tha do all want to stand out for him, and what a job our forman have got to get enough to stand in to ring a tuch. And when this mon goes, they all do cross arms and tread toes in their eksitement, saying good-bye to him.

And in sum towns and cities so many visitors do go up the towers for vews and to see the ringers pulling, that, wen a shy and scared bloke dunna say as 'ow he be cum for a pull, he sorts of gets missed by not 'nowing he was a ringing mon. You see, Sur, when Stedman is about you must not always be in the Slow, but must be in the Hasty a bit sumtimes.

And we did have a bloke at our place once who did sit down while we was ringing sum armonious chaynges, and most all the time did clap his hands, and holla out, 'Good boys,' 'Well done, boys,' 'Go it, boys,' and when we had finished he did say as 'ow it were a drop of good ringing, and where was the nearest pub, and would all the boys come and have a drink?

No, he wunna a ringer mon, and we didna go to the pub with him. This 'ere sort of a visitor mon be very rare.

Well, Mr. Hediter, we be very busy getting the ground ready for the wurzels, so 'oping this will find you all well, as it leaves us at preasant, I be goin' to stop.—Yours respektfully,

KUNTRYMON.

THE KENT ASSOCIATION'S JUBILEE.

FORMATION AT CANTERBURY IN 1880.

The Kent County Association, which celebrates its jubilee on Monday, was formed at a meeting held in the Chapter House of Canterbury Cathedral on Whit Tuesday, 1880, and made an auspicious start, there being over a hundred ringers present from various parts of the county.

The first hon. secretary was the Rev. R. Knatchbull-Hugessen, of Mersham, Ashford, and the Committee subsequently admitted about a dozen bands to the Society.

By the time the first district meeting was held, five months later at Maidstone, there had been marked progress, there being 159 practising and no fewer than 100 honorary members.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has always been president, and during the history of the association there have been few secretarial changes, for the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, who was elected to the office in 1891, continued to discharge the duties until 1929—a period of 38 years, equalled, we believe, by no other ringing association secretary.

The first peal by the association was rung at St. Mary's, Frittenden, a peal of Bob Major on October 31st, 1881, the conductor being Thomas Daynes. Progress in method ringing was not as fast in those days as now. It was not until 1889 that the association's first peal of Stedman Triples was rung and not until 1893 that the first Surprise Peal was achieved. Since that time a great variety of 'firsts' for the association have been rung and some well known names appear among the conductors of these 'pioneer' performances, among them F. G. Newman, Gabriel Lindoff, William Pye, John H. Cheesman, Frank Bennett and, last, but by no means least, Edwin Barnett, sen., whose name as conductor of first peals for the Association appears nearly 30 times between the years 1890 and the present time.

The Archbishop of Canterbury will preach at next Monday's festival service in the Cathedral, and afterwards preside at the luncheon and business meeting.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

PEAK DISTRICT.

A pleasant meeting of the Peak District was held at the pretty Peakland village of Great Longstone on Saturday. Ringers were present from Bakewell, Darley Dale, Dore, Great Longstone and Hope, and the bells, a nice ring of six, were kept going in the various standard methods from 3.30 p.m. onwards.

A short business meeting was held in the tower during the afternoon, Mr. A. G. Wallace (Bakewell) presiding, in the absence of the Rev. W. P. Wright.

One new member, Mr. G. Buggins, the local schoolmaster, was elected and was welcomed into the fold.

The usual votes of thanks were passed, and it was decided, if possible, to have the next meeting at Youlgreave on May 10th. This is another beautiful Peakland village, and with its fine church and heavy peal of eight (tenor about 27 cwt.), should be an attraction to ringers outside the district. A good meeting, therefore, is expected.

An adjournment to the White Lion and a substantial tea was followed by more ringing till well on in the evening.

LEICESTER DISTRICT.

A quarterly meeting was held at Anstey on Saturday last. Tea was held at a house near to the church, at which a party of 18 (including the Rector) were present. At the business meeting it was decided to hold the next meeting at Kibworth (8) on Saturday, May 17th, and the next quarterly meeting at Hallaton (6) on Saturday, June 21st.

It was hoped that, subject to their approval, a combined meeting with the Hinckley District would be held at South Wigston and Wigston Magna during the latter part of July.

During the afternoon and evening, the bells were kept going to Stedman Doubles, Bob Minor, Grandsire Triples, Bob Major, and London Surprise Major, a full course of this method being successfully accomplished.

RINGERS' EFFORT AT TOTTERNHOE.

NEW TREBLE GIVEN TO THE PARISH CHURCH.

The bells of St. Giles' Church, Totternhoe, a small village, at the foot of the Chilterns, two miles west of Dunstable, have just been augmented to six by the addition of a new treble by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The dedication took place on Wednesday, April 9th, and was performed by Bishop Lander in the presence of a large congregation. At the same time Bishop Lander dedicated new lighting and heating arrangements, electric light having been installed in place of the old oil lamps. The new bell has been given to the parish entirely through the ringers, and is a striking example of what can be done by persistent effort in even a small parish. The whole sum (£94 12s.) has been collected in 15 months.

The old bells were rehung and quarter turned in 1924 by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and shortly afterward a young band was formed, who soon made good progress under the tutelage of Mr. G. Heley, of the Prior Church band, Dunstable. The need for another bell was quickly felt, and Wednesday night's service was the sequel.

The new bell is a perfect splice, and the bells are now a very fine ring of six, as follows:—

Treble.—Gloria in Excelsis Deo. Erected by the ringers, 1930.

Mears and Stainbank, founders.

2.—Chandler made me, 1655.

3.—Recast by Warner and Sons, 1855.

4.—Chandler made me, 1654.

5.—Chandler made me, 1654.

Tenor.—Chandler made me, 1654. Recast by Warner 1892.

The weight of the tenor is approximately 10½ cwt.

The ringers are to be congratulated upon what they have done, and with the wider scope will soon have a flourishing band.

Ringing took place after the dedication, touches of Kent Treble Bob, Bob Minor, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles being rung, local men standing in each of the touches, assisted by visitors from Luton, Dunstable and Linslade.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

PROPOSED ANNUAL DINNER.

AXBRIDGE DEANERY BRANCH TAKES FIRST STEP.

An important quarterly meeting of the Axbridge Deanery Branch of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association was held at Kewstoke on Saturday. The Vicar (the Rev. Doorbar) was at the church to extend a hearty welcome to everyone as they arrived. The bells were kept going from 2.30 till 4.30, when choral service was conducted by the Vicar. The main responsibility of the secretary (Mr. L. G. Tanner) in arranging tea was relieved by the lady church-workers, whose efforts could in no way have been improved upon. Unfortunately, the president (the Rev. Powys David, of Bleadon) lost his way, but arrived in time for tea, and presided at the business meeting. The minutes of the previous meeting, which were confirmed, showed that the branch had a balance of £13 16s. 2d. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Shipham on Saturday, June 28th.

Mr. Tanner then launched a scheme for an annual dinner, remarking that if one association could hold successful annual dinners, why could not the Bath and Wells Association do so? (applause). Though some had tried to damp his enterprise, he was going to push it and, furthermore, make it a success. Some members had remarked that they saw no object in it as an aid to the art of change ringing, but he, as secretary, differed from that view.

Mr. Coles, jun., of Taunton, congratulated the secretary on his enterprise, and said he fully appreciated it would be a keen end to a later established wedge, and might be turned from an Axbridge Deanery dinner to a Bath and Wells Association dinner, and he would promise his support (applause).

The Chairman then asked for replies to the letters Mr. Tanner had written to each tower. This resulted in over 70 promises to attend. With such a prospect, a committee was formed, consisting of Rev. Powys David, Mr. L. G. Tanner (secretary, 51, Locking Road, Weston-super-Mare), Mr. C. R. Lilley (Congresbury) and Mr. F. Hey (Hunts-pill). The date fixed for the first dinner and concert was November 15th, 1930, and it was decided that it be held at Weston-super-Mare, the committee being given power to choose place. The Rev. Doorbar, who had previously been chosen as one of the committee, said he must 'put the bar up' to that, whereon Mr. Tanner retorted, amid laughter, 'Well, gentlemen, that's decided; the Rev. Doorbar will look after the bar.'

Mr. Tanner asked that it be made clear that any friends, ladies or gentlemen, in or outside of the association, might be asked to attend.

The Rev. Doorbar remarked that he thought the idea was great, and though, no doubt, they would find a few who saw no object in such a gathering, he had not the slightest doubt that on the night itself even those would come along and go home wondering why they had ever opposed the idea.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar, who had been the means of giving everyone such an enjoyable time; and to the president, who, since taking office, had shown a keen interest in furthering the art of campanology. The suitable responses of these gentlemen terminated the meeting, and the ringers again enjoyed touches of Grandsire, Stedman, Bob Minor and Oxford till the bells were lowered in peal at 8.30 p.m.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD.SLIGHT DECLINE IN MEMBERSHIP.

In his annual report to the members of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild, the Master (Mr. F. Wilford) says the Guild is making progress in a small way, as far as knowledge of the art goes, and also in repairs and additions to bells, but with the making of members progress is very slow. Restoration work has been completed at Kislbury, Braden and Thornby, and work is either in hand or reports are being made out at Spratton, Irchester, Hazlebeach and Bugbrooke.

The hon. secretary's report records that 50 peals were rung during the year, an increase of seven. Four peals were rung on ten bells, 23 on eight bells, 15 on six bells and eight on five bells. These were rung in 32 different churches, under 24 different conductors, four of whom called their first peal. One hundred and twenty-six ringers took part in these peals, eleven members ringing their first peal and being awarded certificates. Fifty branch meetings were held, and in most branches the attendance was up to the average, but in others an increase in this respect would be appreciated by those responsible for arranging them. There are now 97 towers in union with the Guild—a decrease of one; 81 hon. members, an increase of nine; 595 ringing members (of whom 15 are free life members), a decrease of 29; and 169 non-resident life members, an increase of 7. These together make a grand total of 845, a decrease of 13 on the year, although 62 new members were elected. This, the report adds, is far from satisfactory, and is the first time in the Guild's history that a decreased membership had been recorded. Ten members had been lost by death.

The collections at services for the Belfry Repairs Fund amounted to £18 4s. 3d., including £1 1s. 2d. forwarded from the Northamptonshire Branch of the Ladies' Guild. The balance in this fund is £110 4s. 4d.; an increase on the year of £8 18s. 11d. On the general account the receipts were £43 8s. 6d., and the expenses £41 19s. 7d., leaving a credit balance for the year of £1 8s. 11d.

A LOST LONG PEAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In your issue of the 11th inst., and column Belfry Gossip, respecting the longest peal attempt that had been lost, I would point out that it was not at Romford on March 26th, 1894, after eight hours 18 min. ringing, that a rope broke. This took place at Brentwood on that particular date. The peal was afterwards rung at Romford on April 18th, 1894.—Yours truly,

E. BUTLER.

[We thank Mr. Butler for his letter. The facts were known to us, and in our paragraph 'Romford' was a slip of the pen.—Ed. 'R.W.']

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Will conductors of peals rung on Monday kindly post their reports the same night?

In addition to the bells at the Abbey and various churches in St. Albans, the ring of ten at Hatfield will be open during the morning on Easter Monday in connection with the annual meeting of the Hertford County Association.

A tablet commemorating the record peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus is to be unveiled at Ashton-under-Lyne on Easter Day, after evensong. The whole of the band who took part in that memorable performance hope to be present, and on the following day will attempt peals at Oldham and Macclesfield.

To-day is the anniversary of the 17,824 Oxford Treble Bob Major, rung at Heptonstall, Yorks, in 1927. Three of the band took part in the long peal of Cambridge Maximus.

The greatest number of changes and the longest time ever rung in a peal by one set of men was in the 21,363 Stedman Caters at Appleton. This was on April 22nd, 1922, and occupied 12 hrs. 25 mins. Only one other peal has lasted the clock round (if we exclude the 40,320 at Leeds, Kent, rung by 14 men), and that was the one at Loughborough referred to last week.

On St. George's Day, 1778, a peal of 10,080 Bob Major was rung at Braughing, Herts. On April 24th, 1896, a 10,400 Kent Treble Bob was rung at Shipley, Yorks.

The cheap tickets which will be issued by the railway companies from any station to London, in connection with the Central Council meeting at Whitsun will be available between Saturday and Wednesday on any day.

The balance sheet of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild reveals that in the branch 3 life members, 15 hon. members, and 213 ringing members paid their subscription for 1929, and in addition 23 ringing members paid also for 1928. The balance in hand has been increased from £14 8s. 7½d. to £14 19s. 11d., but on the expenditure side is £11 2s. (half subscriptions) remitted to the general treasurer.

The ringer of the 6th in the peal of Double Norwich at Milnrow, Lancs, on March 29th, was George Staff, and not Walter, as erroneously sent in the report.

Here is a new query for the experts to argue over. A peal of 'New Cambridge Surprise Maximus' was rung at Ipswich on Saturday, the length being 5,040 changes, instead of the customary 5,280, and it was produced by bringing up the 'Wrong' at the first lead-out. If, as we surmise, this was done by omitting 2nd's place, was it all New Cambridge, or was there a lead of 'New Primrose' spliced in?

The question might well be asked, 'Where are our youngsters?' for in a party that met at Thatcham, Berks, last Saturday (and they are not men who are peal ringing every week) it was found that these were the ages of the band: 27, 43, 59, 62, 65, 67, 68, 69, and right well did they accomplish their task. 'Mine host,' the treble man, very kindly entertained the band to tea at his home after the peal. It will only be fair to say that out of a rough old six bells at this tower, which have been tuned and two trebles added, and hung in a steel frame, the firm of Taylor and Co. have again brought credit to their name.

THE LIGHTEST RING OF TWELVE.

QUEX PARK TOWER AND BELLS.

The lightest ring of twelve bells in England, the tenor being only 15½ cwt., is to be found in the Waterloo Tower, Quex Park, Kent, and these bells have the further distinction of being the only peal of this number hung for ringing in a private building—the twelve at Christ Church, Oxford,

WATERLOO TOWER, QUEX PARK, showing the elegant skeleton spire.

are hung in an unconsecrated tower, but they are associated with the College of the Cathedral.

The tower at Quex Park is set among sylvan surroundings and was built by Mr. John P. Powell, the owner of the extensive demesne. According to report, he had the bells cast and hung by Messrs. Mears, of Whitechapel, in order that he might use them for his own amusement. In any case he must have been very much interested in bells, for the 'public opening' was made a great event in 1819, and both the College Youths and the Royal Cumberlands were invited to take part.

The two peals rung there recently are a reminder that from time to time the bells are still an attraction to ringers, and are available for peal ringing. There is no record, as far as we are aware, of all the peals that have been rung on them, but details of the first performance have been preserved.

The following is the report of the 'Grand Opening of a New Peal of Twelve Bells, at Quex House, Thanet, Kent: the seat of John P. Powell, Esq.' :—

'Wednesday, the 4 inst. (August, 1819), was the day announced for the Public Opening of the Bells, which were cast and hung by Messrs. Mears, of Whitechapel, London, and as might be fairly expected from the novelty of the ring, attracted a considerable concourse of fashionables (it being in the vicinity of Margate) and the interest of the scene was considerably enhanced by its having no parallel, that of a gentlemen erecting in his park a tower, with spire, in front of his noble mansion, and placing therein a peal of twelve bells solely for his amusement and to attain the art of change-ringing, having an eminent tutor for the purpose, who, in patronizing this manly art, has evinced a considerable ability in this very abstruse science.

'Two Societies of twelve bell ringers of London (the Cumberland and College Youths) were invited to this festive scene, where booths were erected and the park and pleasure grounds were opened to the assembled auditors.

'The onset commenced by each company giving a specimen in a touch of 900 Cinqs, after which the Cumberland Society rang a fine peal comprising 5,213 Grandsire Cinqs, in three hours and 19 minutes, this was the opening peal. The other Society did not attempt a peal, but contributed alternately to give touches of about an hour's performance on that and the following day, which closed the never-to-be-forgotten treat to the amateurs of the manly art of ringing.

The following persons were the performers and their stations in the peal :—

Mr. George Gross, conductor.'

It would be extremely interesting if we could have had some further particulars of this 'never-to-be-forgotten treat,' to have learned who formed the company of College Youths: how they journeyed from London—and returned; and how they were feasted and feted, for on such an occasion we may be sure they were royally feasted and feted.

The eminent tutor referred to, who assisted Squire Powell to attain the art of change ringing, was, we believe, no less a person than the great William Shipway himself, who three years earlier had completed and published his 'Campanologia.'

The present owner of the estate and the tower is Major Powell-Cotton, one of the world's most renowned big game hunters, whose museum of trophies of the hunt forms one of the largest and finest private collections in the world. It stands in the grounds of Quex Park and many ringing visitors have had the privilege of inspecting it,

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT'S INNOVATION.

There was an interesting innovation at the meeting of the Southern District of the Surrey Association at Mersham, on Saturday, when a 'talk' on conducting was given. About 30 ringers were present from Burstow, Buckland, Charlwood, Croydon, Godstone, Horley, Kingswood, Mersham, Mitcham, Redhill, Reigate and Woking, in the county, and visitors from Crawley, Shoreham and Turner's Hill. St. Katherine's Church stands in a picturesque setting on a hillside, with a churchyard that slopes steeply away from the walls. The tower, capped by a spire, contains a mixed peal of six bells, the number having been increased from five in 1901. The oldest bell is the 3rd, which dates from pre-Reformation times, and is inscribed in block letter, 'Sancta Katerina ora pro nobis.' The founder of this bell is unknown, but Stahlschmidt, in his 'Church Bells of Surrey,' connects it with a group whose founder was not impossibly William Burford, of London, 1371-1392.

The fourth bell was cast by Robert Not in 1597. Two other bells came from the Chertsey Foundry, the tenor in 1640, and the second in 1657. The former bears the inscription, 'Bryan Eldridge made mee,' and the latter, 'Bryanns Eldridge me fecit.' The possibility is that the second was cast by the son of the founder of the tenor, for Bryan the elder died in 1640. The fifth was recast in 1774 by Pack and Chapman.

The service was conducted by the Rector (Bishop Eyre Chatterton), who gave an address on the words, 'Labourers together with God.' He spoke of the service which ringers rendered to the Church, and emphasised the importance of faithfulness to the duties which they undertook. Tea was served in the Parish Room, the ringers being the guests of the Master. The Bishop was present, together with the Master (Mr. Kenneth Birt), Capt. H. Manley, R.N., and Capt. J. D. Manley, of Turner's Hill, and Mr. A. J. Bull, the district secretary.

After tea, the Master explained that he and the secretary had invited Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, editor of 'The Ringing World,' to come that day and give them a talk on 'conducting.' They felt that talks of that kind would be a useful innovation, and would be interesting and instructive to the members.

A TALK ON CONDUCTING.

Mr. Goldsmith devoted about ten minutes to explaining some of the elementary points which would enable the 'bob caller' eventually to become a 'conductor.' There were no insuperable difficulties, he said, and he emphasised the importance of study at home, with practical application in the belfry; the advisability of not attempting too much at a time, which only led to confusion of mind in actual ringing; and the necessity of being able to follow the coursing order of the bells. It was not necessary, he said, to be able to memorise long strings of course ends, which only occurred at intervals, and were not always of practical use to the beginner, except for checking the accuracy of what had been done. Coursing order, on the other hand, helped them all the time. He recommended the beginner to take one method at a time; analyse its coursing order, and then go into the tower and watch the coursing order in operation while ringing was in progress. There were also many simple points which could be picked up by the study of a method, and by gradually storing them in the mind they would eventually become observations that were almost second nature to the conductor. Even if a ringer was not doing the conducting, a knowledge of conducting should make him a better ringer, and enable him to become of assistance when mistakes were made in ringing. A trip by one ringer often became a trap for others, and it was, therefore, necessary to correct a miss before it became a mess. It was the conductor's job to keep the bells right, as well as call the bobs, but many a peal had been saved by a timely word from one of the other ringers.

The Master thanked Mr. Goldsmith for his address, which he was sure would be an encouragement to many of them to go more into the sphere of conducting.

AN APPEAL.

The business meeting of the district followed, the Master presiding.

The Master asked the members to stand in silence for a few moments to mark their regret at the death of the Rev. R. Hoare, of Godstone, who had presided at the last meeting of the district.—Mr. J. Cripps (Shoreham) was elected a non-resident life member, and Capt. J. D. Manley and Capt. H. Manley ringing members.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Horley in June, and to attempt the quarterly peal either at Horley or Redhill, the method to be Grandsire Triples, and the conductor Mr. Clayton.

The Hon. Secretary reported that three peals had been rung since the last quarterly meeting, and the Assistant Secretary said that during the same period 17 720's and three quarter-peals had been rung.

The Master said he had received a letter from Mr. C. F. Johnston stating that information had reached him that Mrs. Ewens (widow of the late Mr. Ewens, the first secretary of the district) and her daughter were in very straitened circumstances, and asking if anything could be done to assist them.

It was stated that Mrs. Ewens had been an invalid for many years, and that the daughter had remained at home to look after her. It was resolved that the committee should investigate the matter and see how best the association could help.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE CENTRAL DIVISION.

About fifty members of the Central Division of the Sussex County Association held their annual meeting at Cuckfield on April 5th. The visitors included Mr. J. Thoruton Rickman (Master and hon. treasurer of the association), Mr. A. D. Stone (hon. secretary of the association and of the Central Division) and several ladies. The towers represented were Balcombe, Bolney, Burgess Hill, Brighton (St. Peter's, St. Nicholas' and the Good Shepherd), Crawley, Cuckfield, Ditchling, East Grinstead, Hurstpierpoint, Heene, Henfield and Lindfield.

The tower of the Parish Church was opened during the afternoon, and touches of various methods, from Grandsire Triples to London Surprise Major were rung.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Canon C. W. G. Wilson (Vicar), who gave a helpful address from the text, 'Do all to the glory of God' (1 Cor. x. 31). The special lesson was read by the Rev. R. Clough, and Mrs. Arman (an honorary member of the association) was at the organ. The hymns sung were, 'Through all the changing scenes of life,' 'Soldiers of Christ, arise,' and 'Praise, my soul, the King of Heaven.'

Tea was served in the Parish Room, where Canon Wilson presided, supported by the Rev. H. J. Scott (Ardingly), Mr. J. T. Rickman, Mr. A. D. Stone and Mr. G. Apps (captain of the local band).

The annual meeting was opened by the chairman extending a hearty welcome to the members of the association. The Vicar said that the last time he welcomed them to Cuckfield was in 1926, and it was a real pleasure to him personally, and to Mr. F. R. Hounsell, the hon. secretary, Mr. G. Apps, the captain, and other members of the local band to see so many present that day. It was a great regret to him that he had never been able to ring, but he did try once in the tower of Hurst Church, and he bore the marks on his fingers for many days (laughter). Nevertheless he appreciated ringing very much, and he realised that ringers played a very useful part in the life of the community and church life. For that reason he was pleased to give them a hearty welcome to Cuckfield (applause).

New members were elected from Burgess Hill (two), the Good Shepherd, Brighton (two), Henfield, Lindfield and Twineham (one each), and Canon H. D. Burton, O.B.E. (Vicar of Burgess Hill), was elected an honorary member of the association. The meeting also confirmed the election of three non-resident members.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

On the motion of Mr. G. Walder (Bolney), seconded by Mr. J. Q. Edwards (the Good Shepherd, Brighton), Mr. A. D. Stone was unanimously re-elected divisional hon. secretary. Messrs. James A. Hart (Uckfield), J. Wren (East Grinstead) and G. Apps (Cuckfield) were reappointed representatives on the committee of the association, and Messrs. Keith Hart (St. Peter's, Brighton), F. Bennett (St. Nicholas', Brighton) and C. Tyler (Henfield) were re-elected the Hon. Committee of Advice.

The question as to whether the October quarterly meeting should be held on a Wednesday was discussed, and the meeting decided in favour. The remaining three quarterly meetings during the ensuing year will be held on Saturdays at Lower Beeding in July by invitation, at Lindfield in January and at Lewes in April, the last mentioned being the annual meeting.

Mr. A. D. Stone, in giving details of the finance during the past year, said the income reached its highest point, a sum of £30 15s. 4d. having been received. The expenditure had been heavy owing to extra railway fares, but after all expenses had been met a sum of £22 10s. 8d. was handed to the treasurer of the association (applause). Mr. Stone called attention to the annual meeting of the association, which would be held in Brighton on Saturday, May 3rd. The towers of St. Peter's, St. Nicholas' and the Good Shepherd would be open for ringing, and the service would be held at St. Nicholas' Church, and it was almost certain that the Bishop of Lewes would give the address. Tea would be served at the Pavilion Creamery.

The Master proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Canon Wilson for allowing the members the use of the bells, for arranging the service and for his helpful address.

The Vicar, in reply, said it had given him great pleasure to do what little he could to make the day one the visitors would not regret and one they could look back on with pleasant memories. It had also given pleasure to his daughter, Mrs. Arman, to play the organ, as although she was not now an active ringer she was during the war, when she filled a gap caused by the absence of men in the Forces. The Chairman concluded by thanking Mr. Rickman for his kind remarks.

The company were then entertained to a course of Grandsire Caters, rung on the handbells by Mr. and Mrs. F. Hairs, Mr. F. Bennett and Mr. F. N. Smeaton (St. Nicholas', Brighton) and Mr. Keith Hart (St. Peter's, Brighton). Several further touches were rung on the Parish Church bells.

On the motion of the hon. secretary, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Master for his kind hospitality, and to Miss Birt, who was responsible for the tea.

This concluded the business and the members then returned to the tower, where, during the day, the ringing ranged from rounds to London Surprise Minor.

ASSOCIATION GUIDE.

SECRETARIES' NAMES AND ADDRESSES.

The following are the names and addresses of the secretaries of the principal associations of ringers. The list will be useful in many ways, but its publication is chiefly in order to facilitate the scheme for keeping ringers, who remove from one area to another, in touch with ringing and bringing them into contact with the tower nearest to their new place of residence. When a ringer goes to live in the area of another association, the local secretary should forward his new address to his general secretary, who will pass it on to the secretary of the association to which the member has gone, and, through him, the ringers in the town to which the member has removed will be able to hunt up the new comer—if he needs it.

THE DEVON GUILD.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—'Decay' is right, and I will give you a few facts. During the past five years we have lost eleven bands, namely: Alphington, Whitestone, Aylesbeare, Woodbury, Exminster, Bradninch, Dartmouth, Littlehempstone, Holberton, Tavistock, Lifton. One writer says: 'Progress, if slowly.' (I doubt it.) In addition, the Exeter District has lost 13 hon. members.

Quarterly meetings were held at country towers in order to get them to join, but this last two years it is made a practice ground for Minor methods, and the banging and clashing is a disgrace to the Guild. Hence no towers join up, and the village is disgusted with the noise.

With regard to the Cathedral, something ought to be done to improve matters. It is true the ringing is of a very low order and not becoming to a city like Exeter.

As to diocesan work, the sec. of Exeter district sent a circular to all incumbents of churches with bells inviting bands to join. I do not think any returns have been made up to now.

The burning question of to-day seems to be, Is the Devon Guild to remain as it is, a churchman's Guild, with no competitions, or is it to be a sporting Guild with competitions on bells dedicated to the glory of God? I, as a churchman, cannot see any instruments in the church used in competition; true, I am only one. I must say, however, that I do not agree with it. Let all the members take the advice of the Rev. Canon Coleridge, given at the Cathedral at our jubilee meeting, 'Handle your rope properly, and strike your bell.'

—Yours faithfully,
EDWIN SHEPHERD.

14, Edgerton Park Road, Exeter.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

A meeting of the Central District of the Ladies' Guild was held at Stanmore on Saturday, March 29th. About 14 members attended, and with the help of the gentlemen visitors methods from Grandsire Triples to Bristol Surprise Major were rung, as well as rounds for the beginners. The short service was conducted by the Rector, who gave the Guild a hearty welcome to Stanmore. After a substantial tea in the Parish Hall, the meeting was held, with Mrs. R. F. Deal, the district vice-president, in the chair. Six new members were elected from Harrow, Weald, Hendon and Stanmore. It was decided to hold the annual district meeting at St. Clement Danes, Strand, in June, as well as a joint meeting with the Middlesex Association at Enfield in May.

Mr. G. A. Hughes, of Stanmore, made all arrangements for the meeting, and a hearty vote of thanks was passed to both the Rector and Mr. Hughes for their kindness.

WEDDING BELLS AT SUNDERLAND.

An interesting wedding took place at St. Ignatius' Church, Sunderland, on Saturday last, when Miss Madge Parker, youngest daughter of that well-known ringer, Mr. J. W. Parker, was married to Mr. Fred Smith, director of physical culture, Manchester.

Mr. Parker's fellow-ringers attempted a peal of Double Norwich to celebrate the event, but unfortunately a hitch occurred after 2 hrs. 50 mins. ringing, and 'rounds' had to be called.

The ringers were afterwards entertained at Mr. Parker's residence, when the health of 'The bride and bridegroom' was proposed by Mr. R. L. Patterson, and received with enthusiasm, and a very pleasant evening was spent.

CHICHESTER CATHEDRAL RINGER'S DEATH.

On Saturday, at Chichester Cathedral, a quarter-peal of Oxford Bob Triples (1,260 changes) was rung in 50 mins. with the bells half-muffled, as a last token of respect to the late Mr. A. Tugwell, who was for many years a member of the Cathedral Society: F. Arthur 1, W. Falconer 2, T. H. Doick 3, H. J. Tucker (composer and conductor) 4, G. Marshall 5, W. E. Ticehurst 6, J. H. Blake 7, C. Smithers 8.

THE 18 1/2 TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at
RIVERSIDE CHURCH, New York, U.S.A

THE ARCHBISHOP AMONG RINGERS.

It was an event of more than passing significance that the Archbishop of Canterbury should, on Monday, have preached in his Cathedral at the Jubilee Meeting of the Kent County Association, and afterwards taken a part in the other proceedings which marked a memorable day. It is true the gathering was held in Canterbury and that the Archbishop is President of the Association, but the demands upon the time and energies of the Primate are so enormous that he has little of either to spare for engagements which do not go necessarily with his official duties and position. His presence at Canterbury, therefore, was a signal honour not only to the Association, but indirectly to the Exercise at large. All who heard his address must have been convinced of His Grace's conviction of what the bells of our English Churches mean to this country and of the importance which he attaches to the ringer's office and art. It was this which doubtless induced the Archbishop to come so willingly among the members of his own association to offer them a message of goodwill and inspiration upon an auspicious occasion.

In addition, however, the Archbishop's presence was also, we imagine, partly prompted by the little ceremony which he undertook to perform of making a presentation to the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, the precentor of the Cathedral, who last year retired from the secretaryship of the Association after 38 years of untiring and successful work. And not only did this play an important part in bringing the Archbishop among the ringers; it was by no means the least of the attractions which drew so large a gathering to the venerable city. Among the members of the Kent County Association there is a deep and abiding love and esteem for the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, not merely for the service he rendered during the 38 years he held the secretarial office, but for the never-failing personal qualities of kindness, gentleness and sincerity which he has displayed. Mr. Helmore can never have had any doubt about the affection in which he is held by the ringers of Kent, but if he had, they were completely dispelled on Monday by the great gathering which assembled to do him honour and the warm expressions of gratitude which were heard on all sides for the lifetime of labour he had given in the cause of ringing in the county of Kent.

The whole of the day's proceedings were signally successful and probably constituted a record for any association meeting, and the ringers who were present will carry away with them lasting memories, not the least of which will be those of the hearty service in the glorious choir of the Cathedral and the sermon of the Archbishop, who, in eloquent phrases, put into proper perspective not only the position of the bells themselves in relation to the services to the church and the life of the people, but of the ringers in relation to their task in the belfry. To all who heard it, the sermon was a great inspiration, and to those still amongst us who can remember the relationship between ringers and the church before the days of the county associations and diocesan guilds, it must have conjured up thoughts of the striking differences between then and now — between the time when few of the clergy considered the ringers as in any sense part of the church organisation, and the belfry was hardly recognised by those who used it as part of God's House, and to-day, when in the mother church of English Christendom the Archbishop of Canterbury publicly acknowledges the importance of the ministry of the bellringer and pronounces his benediction upon their art and their work.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.A BENEVOLENT SCHEME ADOPTED.

The annual meeting of the Hertford County Association was held, as is customary, at St. Albans on Easter Monday, when the bells of the Abbey and other city churches were utilised during the day by visiting ringers, many of whom in the morning had also the opportunity of ringing on the peal of ten at Hatfield. In the afternoon they attended evensong in the choir of the Abbey, and were addressed by the Bishop of St. Albans. They afterwards went to Ver House Hotel for tea and the annual meeting of the association.

In his address, the Bishop said he was grateful to have the opportunity of publicly saying 'Thank you' for the services which the ringers were rendering to the Church, the community and the diocese. The science and art of bellringing was typically English, but it would not go on unless they inspired the younger generation to follow in their footsteps. That was not only true of bellringing but of every other good thing in the life of our nation to-day. It was abundantly true of the Christian faith and of the Christian Church from which bellringing took its origin, and from which all that was best in the life and character of the nation and its history was due, directly or indirectly.

At the annual meeting, Mr. H. W. Golding, of Hemel Hempstead, the retiring president, welcomed the gathering of nearly eighty members, and expressed his pleasure at seeing so many younger members present.

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT.

The hon. secretary's report was again a full and interesting review of the year. He said that throughout the year in the city, towns and villages of the county the members had rung the bells for Sunday divine services and on other special occasions. While this service ringing had emphasised one aspect of their craft, the ringing of peals showed the scientific advancement in another direction. This year they had cause for congratulation, 36 peals having been rung on tower bells and one on handbells in a variety of methods. He mentioned in particular the Spliced Surprise Major at North Mimms and the Double Norwich Royal at Hertford, both records for the association. The peals had been distributed throughout every district, and had been rung in 23 towers with 20 different conductors. They had certainly progressed, and typical instances might be mentioned of the Northern District, where five rang their first in a peal at Hinxworth and six their first peal on eight at Bennington.

A pleasing feature of the year had been the holding of joint meetings with other associations. Herts and Beds met at Dunstable and also at Biggleswade; Herts and Middlesex at Monken Hadley; and Essex, Herts and Middlesex at Hertford. The president had shown the enthusiasm of a young man in attending most of these meetings, arrayed in his chain of office. The Hon. Secretary added that his experience of these gatherings was that they made for progress and sociability, and ringers got to know others who were carrying on the same good work in the neighbouring counties. Bell founders had been fairly busy in the county, he continued. Two trebles had been added to the Hatfield peal, in memory of the late Rupert Edward Gascoigne Cecil, son of the Bishop of Exeter, and the county now possessed four rings of ten. The bells at Graveley and King's Walden had been rehung, and the peal at St. Mary's, Hemel Hempstead, had been quarter turned and rehung, and the chiming put into repair after a silence of twenty-five years; other repairs had also been done. Advice on the condition of various peals of bells in the county had been readily given by members when approached.

In a recent issue of "The Ringing World," the report proceeded, 'the Editor dealt in a trenchant manner with the problem of lapsed ringers, men who after a few years' service became lukewarm or indifferent, or, having conjured up a fancied grievance with their Vicar or ringers, gave up. It is a many-sided problem. Personally, I think the greatest pull will come through the spirit of brotherhood and service. This is assuredly the greatest factor in our associations to-day, and one of its happiest features, and in the exercise of which I venture to suggest we owe much of the success that has been achieved. If our bellringing is regarded as a duty to the Church, and is also undertaken in a spirit of true fellowship with one another, we shall rejoice in the slogan, "Once a ringer, always a ringer." When age or infirmity debars us from actual ringing, we shall consider it a privilege to belong to the association or guild, because we regard it as a lifelong pact. Whilst the task of winning back lukewarm members in any appreciable numbers is great, yet perhaps some may be recovered by a "personal contact campaign," and the ranks of all associations further strengthened.'

A BENEFIT FUND.

Having referred to the losses sustained by the association through death, the Hon. Secretary called attention to the following matters arising out of the committee meeting:—

(1) Peal booking fees. The charge for booking peals, according to rules, is 1d. per head, and the attention of conductors of all peals is directed to this rule.

(2) Necessitous sick benefit fund. This was discussed at some length, and a resolution adopted approving the same. In the discussion it was apparent that an expression of opinion from members attending the various district meetings before Easter would be helpful in any decision that might be made by the general meeting. At some meetings this has been done, and I believe the consensus of opinion is favourable to the idea. The crux of the question is whether it should be voluntary or the funds raised by the imposition of a higher rate of subscription and grants made as occasion arose from the general or a separate fund. By the adoption of a fund on a voluntary basis, it could start from to-day, but the alteration of subscription would require previous notice, and could not be started until a year hence. Personally, I believe the voluntary basis preferable, and that a scheme could be worked by a committee comprising the officers of the association, which would be representative of each district.

(3) Attendance at district meetings. It was felt by the committee that an improvement in the attendance of resident members would be encouraging to those responsible for arranging the meetings, but since our meeting three of our district secretaries report good gatherings.

During the year, a form of service for district meetings, the report adds, has been adopted with the approval of the Bishop of the Diocese, and has been found most helpful. A new certificate of membership has also been approved by your committee, for which I trust there will be a ready sale to all new members, at one shilling each. It has been specially drawn, and is represented by a sketch of a church in each district, and the Abbey, under whose shadow the association was formed.

Thanks were extended to Mr. W. Mercer, chartered accountant, for his gratuitous services in auditing the treasurer's accounts, and also to Mr. Gilbert Debenham for undertaking the services of librarian.

The district secretaries had arranged a full complement of meetings during the year, and cordial thanks were extended to them.

In conclusion, the Hon. Secretary on behalf of the committee, acknowledged the assistance which had been given during the past year by the various incumbents, churchwardens and others, in granting facilities for ringing, arranging services, and in many cases generous hospitality; to the honorary members, for their monetary assistance and interest; and to the members in general for all they had done for the advancement of the association.

FELLOWSHIP NEEDED.

The Dean of St. Albans (the Very Rev. E. L. Henderson), in moving the adoption of the secretary's report, impressed the need 'of the belfry in every town and village being a place of real fellowship. Fellowship was what was needed more and more in this country, and particularly in the Church. 'I cannot tell you how I admire you all as ringers,' he added. 'For bellringing a very high level of intelligence and concentration is required, and my admiration goes out to anyone who is a really tried and passed ringer.'

Mr. E. P. Debenham seconded the adoption of the report, which was approved. On the proposition of Mr. Debenham, seconded by Mr. W. Buckingham, the following resolution was carried unanimously: 'That the Hertford County Association of Change Ringers approves in general the idea of the formation of a benevolent fund in connection with the association, and requests the committee to work out details and forward them to the various towers through the district secretaries.'

The hon. treasurer (Mr. E. P. Debenham) presented the financial statement, which showed a balance in hand of £23 8s. 6d., as against £25 19s. 9d. at the beginning of the year, and a reserve fund of £24 15s.

The following were elected ringing members: Messrs. F. W. Allen (St. Albans Cathedral), R. Bedford and A. Ewer (St. Stephen's, St. Albans), G. W. Marlborough and J. E. Roots (St. Peter's, Bushey Heath), and H. Aldridge (Graveley).

Mr. W. Nash, of North Mimms, was unanimously elected president, and received the silver badge of office presented last year by Mr. G. W. Cartmel, who was then the retiring president. Other officers elected were: Hon. treasurer, Mr. E. P. Debenham; hon. secretary, Mr. G. W. Cartmel; representative on the Central Council, Mr. W. Ayre; hon. librarian, Mr. Gilbert Debenham; hon. auditor, Mr. W. Mercer; district secretaries, Messrs. D. C. Mears (Northern), W. H. Lawrence (Eastern), W. Nash (St. Albans), C. H. Horton (Watford) and J. Pulett (Western).

Thanks were accorded to the Dean, the Vicars of St. Peter's, St. Stephen's and St. Michael's, St. Albans, and the Rector of Hatfield for the use of the bells, and the steeplekeepers for their services.

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

A very successful meeting was held at South Kirkby on Saturday, April 12th, when members attended from Ackworth, Cawthorne, Darfield, Darton, Felkirk, Pontefract, Royston, Sandal, Shelley, Wath and the local company. The fine peal of six bells was kept going during the afternoon, and the business meeting was held after tea in the Parish Hall, the Vicar (Rev. A. L. Brightman) presiding. Wentworth and South Kirkby were put to the vote as the venue for the shield contest, and Wentworth was selected, the meeting to be held in July. Felkirk was chosen for the next meeting.

After the usual vote of thanks the tower was visited, and touches were brought round in Plain, Treble Bob, Delight and Surprise methods, good striking being the general order of the day.

THE TWELVE BELL RECORD.

A reunion of the band that rang the record twelve-bell peal at Ashton-under-Lyne last August Bank Holiday took place during Easter. A tablet commemorating the peal was unveiled on Sunday evening, and on Monday peals of Cambridge Surprise Maximus were rung at Oldham and Macclesfield.

When the record peal was rung circumstances did not permit of the company being photographed, but this meeting of the twelve men has afforded an opportunity, and the picture will, we hope, be reproduced in 'The Ringing World' next week.

At the time of going to press we have had no official intimation with regard to the result of the attempt at Painswick on Monday to ring a longer peal than the one at Ashton-under-Lyne. We understand, however, that the attempt failed after 7 hrs. 52 mins.!

'DECAY' IN DEVONSHIRE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The state of affairs you mention in your leading article of April 4th, is, I much regret to say, very much the position in which we, as members of the Devon Guild, are placed. The menace to the Devon Guild is serious, and likely to become more so, if the flow of the tide is not stemmed, and that as early as possible. But it is of no use to cry over spilt milk. Our chief concern emphatically and immediately should be to see that no more is spilt, and also make every possible endeavour to try and recover some that has been lost. Surely our stout hearts of glorious Devon have not lost the pluck and enthusiasm which they used to possess some thirty or forty years ago, when (so I have been proudly informed) members of our Devon Guild have tramped or cycled over hill and dale in all winds and weathers a considerable distance to ring perhaps just a touch or touches, and perhaps a peal. Some of these men are with us to-day, with probably the addition of grey hairs; others with hair, perhaps, not quite so thick as it used to be; others have passed beyond recall. It is to these few remaining pioneers of our Guild we should naturally turn for some possible remedy, which (yes, I know, wear out the old ones first!) I sincerely think could be found, provided we and they work wholeheartedly in co-operation with each other for the common cause, and for the benefit of all.

May I be allowed to put forward a suggestion which may be the means of adding a few more sheep to our fold: That we have four informal meetings a year in addition to and alternately with our quarterly meetings. Such informal meetings could be arranged at a quarterly meeting, prior to which the secretary should write to various towers, or to such towers where ringers are thought to be interested in change ringing, and acquaint them with the fact that the Guild would be willing to send men there to give an exhibition of the art of change ringing; help them to practise it, and give them all the necessary details they may desire to assist them. Upon the receiving of an invitation from such tower, a qualified number of members, who can rise and fall, and ring 'half pull' well, should be selected (at the quarterly meeting) to visit such tower and give the local band such assistance, and put them on the way that leads to change ringing. The expenses incurred by such visits should be borne by the Guild. Possibly a quarterly meeting could afterwards be held there, or another informal meeting. Surely we could give this a trial?

I may add that at our tower we are doing our little bit for the Guild in bringing on seven keen young men (average age about 16 years) in the art of change ringing. All of them can ring Grand-sire Doubles, and some of them Triples. The question of the noble ring of twelve at our Cathedral has been raised. Like many others I should welcome, and do look forward to, the time when the powers that be will give this matter their keenest attention, and so come to some definite arrangements whereby we may again (and soon) hear the full twelve ringing merrily, and in the method which we love.—Yours, etc.,

E. W. BIFFIN.

'A LOT TO LEARN.'

Sir,—Your remarks are to a certain extent true, but I think half-pull ringers have a lot to learn, as regards striking, from the much abused call-change ringers. A lot of our so-called 'experts' do not know how to handle or strike their bells. So long as they can 'scramble' through London, Bristol or Cambridge, that is all they want; striking is a matter of little consideration. The majority want to 'run before they can walk,' to use an old saying. I spend about a month annually in Devon or Cornwall, and there is nothing I enjoy more than a pull with these 'stone' ringers, and have always met with a very hearty welcome and a request to come again. I was at Hatherleigh last September, and sampled the new peal, and the way these bells were raised and lowered was a real treat. The same remark applies to all the Devon and Cornwall towers I have visited. Two years ago I was staying at another village where a visiting band of half-pull men came along. A day or two afterwards a friend of mine asked the local men what they thought of the ringing. The reply was, 'They can't learn us nothing.'

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

CHANGE IN SECRETARYSHIP.

The annual meeting of the Ely Diocesan Association was held at Cambridge on Easter Monday. Ringing took place at Great St. Mary's, the R.C. Church of St. Mary, and St. Andrew's the Great, also at Old Chesterton.

A short service was held in St. Andrew's at 4 p.m., conducted by the general secretary (Rev. R. Copeman), at which about thirty members were present. An interesting address was given by the Rev. J. Duffil, Vicar of Bourn, in which he pointed out that etymologically the word 'belfry' was not derived from 'bells' but was derived from two words meaning 'guard of peace.' He went on to point out that especially at Easter and Christmas the message which the season gave was associated with 'peace.'

The members then assembled for tea at the Dorothy Cafe. This was followed by the business meeting, Mr. Duffil being voted to the chair.

The general secretary read his report, which was adopted.—The treasurer, Mr. T. R. Dennis, produced a statement of the accounts, which showed a balance in hand of £16 ls. 11d. It was decided to postpone the printing of the annual report, and to print one for the two years.

The officers for the year were then elected: General secretary and treasurer, Mr. T. R. Dennis; auditor, Mr. A. E. Austin; representatives on Central Committee, Mr. T. R. Dennis and the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake; district secretaries, Mr. F. Warrington (Archdeaconry of Ely), Miss D. Clarke (Archdeaconry of Hunts), Mr. H. W. Giddings (Archdeaconry of Wisbech), and Mr. W. G. Cross (Marshland District). For the general committee, in addition to the above, Rev. A. H. F. Boughey, Messrs. H. Fields, E. G. Hibbens, A. G. Rivers and J. Taylor.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting on Easter Monday at Cambridge, and to arrange definite times for ringing at the different churches.

Mr. Dennis proposed, and Mr. Rivers seconded, a vote of thanks to the Rev. J. Duffil for his address, to the incumbents for the use of the bells, and to Mr. H. J. Hazell for accompanying the hymn at the service, also to the district secretaries for their support, and especially to Miss C. Fields for her work in the Archdeaconry of Hunts.

This brought the business to a conclusion, and members returned to the towers for further touches in standard methods.

CLEVELAND ASSOCIATION MOURNS EX-PRESIDENT.

DEATH OF REV. ALBERT SIMPSON.

The Cleveland Association has lost one of its most popular vice-presidents by the death of the Rev. Albert Simpson, M.A., Vicar of Evenwood, County Durham, which occurred on April 13th. Mr. Simpson joined the Cleveland Association in 1907, and was president from 1922-1928. He was always most popular with the members, who felt that in him they had a president who was in the unique position of being able to see both the ringers' and the clerical points of view. His peal list was not large (44 in all for the Cleveland Association), but his ready help and counsel were of great service to the association during the troublesome times of reconstruction after the war.

Mr. Simpson was educated at University College and Wycliffe College, Toronto. He was ordained in 1917, and his first charge was the curacy of St. Peter's, St. Toronto. He remained in Canada until 1919, when he came to Stockton-on-Tees, and was curate of Holy Trinity Church there. He became Vicar of Evenwood in 1929, and during the short time he was there he had endeared himself to all his parishioners. He leaves a widow and one son.

His memory will live with the members of the association for a long time, and the gap left by 'Albert's' death will be very, very hard to fill.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

The meeting of the Chertsey District at Hersham on Saturday week was a disappointment to the officers, especially to the Ringing Master (Mr. H. J. Chaffey), who, on account of the illness of the hon. secretary, had been responsible for the arrangements. The attendance was very small. Only five members residing in the district attended, together with visitors from Woking, Hillingdon and Cambridge. Even the members of the local band were conspicuous by their absence. It is said they all went to the boat race, but even that was over by one o'clock. The officers of the Chertsey District have an uphill task, and the members do not exhibit the loyalty to the Guild in supporting the meetings arranged for them which those who are responsible are entitled to expect.

The Vicar (Rev. E. R. Brittain) conducted service and afterwards presided over the short business meeting, at which the Vicar was elected an hon. member of the Guild.

The ringing during the afternoon and evening included Grand-sire and Bob Doubles, Stedman and Grand-sire Triples.

A DATE TOUCH.

At Brathay, Westmorland, on Saturday, April 12th, in 1 hr. 10 mins., a date touch of Bob Minor (1,930 changes), comprising two 720's and one 490, each called differently: J. Tebay 1, H. Richardson 2, H. Woodburn 3, G. Sutton 4, T. Jefferson (conductor) 5, F. Wilson 6. All are Sunday service ringers at Windermere Parish Church.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM.

The first quarterly meeting of the year was held on Saturday, April 5th, at Northfield Parish Church, near Birmingham. Very little remains of the original building, which dates back to the Norman period. There is, however, still to be seen the leper's window and a fine example of Norman door and arch. The church is wonderfully rich in stained-glass windows, but, strange to say, is extremely poor from a musical point of view. It has no organ; all it can boast of to lead the singing is a small harmonium. The tower contains a nice modern peal of eight by Taylor and Co., and these were kept going on the occasion of the visit in various methods from Grandsire Triples to London Surprise. Tea was partaken of at 5.30, and this was followed by the business meeting presided over by Mr. Vice-President James George in the absence of the Presiding Ringing Master, Alderman J. S. Pritchett.

Several new members were made, including Miss Muriel Sanders, of Moseley, as a full ringing member. The tower elections of Messrs. A. W. Coles and John Armstrong as life members were also duly ratified.

The secretary having referred to Alderman Pritchett's unique record in completing 50 years as a member of the Masonic Craft, and the high position he held in the Order, Mr. George proposed, and it was unanimously decided, that a letter of congratulation should be sent him.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Sutton Coldfield on Saturday, July 5th.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and school-room and to the vergers for arranging the tea brought the meeting to a close.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

It is quick work to begin to handle a bell at the end of January and to ring a peal by the middle of April, yet this is what George and Rex Chapman have accomplished at Banham, Norfolk. What these young men have done in from two to three months has taken many ringers from two to three years.

The number of changes in the peal of Superlative at Redenhall, published in the last issue, was erroneously sent as 5,088. It should have been 5,312.

Two hundred and twenty-five years ago to-morrow the first peal of Bob Major was rung. This was at St. Bride's, Fleet Street, and was accomplished by the College Youths.

The anniversary of two other memorable peals by the Ancient Society occurs on Sunday, one the 8,580 Stedman Cinques at Cornhill in 1861, and the other the 15,840 Kent Treble Bob Major at Bethnal Green.

Forty years ago next Monday the Cambridge University Guild rang their first peal.

The record length of Cambridge Surprise Major (12,896) was rung at Stoney Stanton on April 28th, 1923.

The Royal Cumberland Youths rang a peal of 10,112 Oxford Treble Bob Major at Edmonton, on April 28th, 1800.

We have recently had reference in our columns to long lengths rung in unsuccessful peal attempts. The 'Annual Register,' under date of April 28th, 1800, recorded that in an attempt for a peal of 15,136 Oxford Treble Bob at Edmonton a short time since, 'the ringing had entered the ninth hour when Mr. George Gross, the composer of the peal, made an attempt to slacken his knee buckle, and his leg became entangled in the rope. He was elevated to a considerable height, and, falling on his head, he broke his collar bone.'

Miss Kathleen Jutson, of Peterborough, after passing through a course of training at the Church Army College, has been appointed to St. Aidan's, Leeds. She will carry with her in her new sphere of work the good wishes of her many ringing friends.

Mr. Frank Warrington, district secretary of the Ely Diocesan Association, wishes to thank the several bands of ringers for their kind reception and allowing him to have a pull in Kent during his stay at 'The Bay.'

The Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, who was honoured by his fellow-members of the Kent County Association on Monday, is approaching his 80th birthday. Nevertheless on Sunday he climbed to the Cathedral belfry to take part in the ringing for both services.

London ringers, and College Youths in particular, will regret to learn of the death of Mr. J. C. F. Bayley, the genial steeplekeeper of St. Giles' Church, Cripplegate.

St. Andrew's Church, Rugby, is almost unique in the possession of two towers. In one is a ringing peal of eight, in the other is a ring of five. These latter have now been restored by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and Messrs. J. Smith and Sons, of Derby, have installed a new clock.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Shurtleff, of Boston, U.S.A., will celebrate their silver wedding on Sunday next. Mrs. Shurtleff, who is a daughter of the late Dr. A. H. Nichols, of Boston, is a member of the Boston Guild of Ringers, and on her occasional visits to this country has taken part in ringing with the College Youths, with whom she rang her first peal.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION'S JUBILEE.

ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY'S VISIT.

PRESENTATION TO THE REV. F. J. O. HELMORE.

The Archbishop of Canterbury spent four hours among the members of the Kent County Association, of which he is president, on the occasion of their jubilee celebration on Monday at Canterbury, where in 1880 the association was formed. The Primate not only preached at the festival service in the Cathedral, but presided at the lunch and the subsequent proceedings. The interesting gathering brought together one of the largest assemblies of ringers ever seen at a meeting of this kind, and there must have been well over four hundred seated in the vast choir of the Cathedral when the service began at noon. Earlier in the morning there had been ringing on the Cathedral bells, St. Stephen's, Hackington (eight) and St. Alphege (six).

The Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, Precentor, who for 38 years was hon. secretary of the association, officiated, and the lesson was read by the Archdeacon of Canterbury. The order of service was printed in a 'souvenir' programme, and was followed with great heartiness, which particularly manifested itself in the singing of the hymns, 'Alleluia, Alleluia,' 'Unchanging God' and 'Christ is made the sure Foundation,' and the 'Te Deum.' The Rev. G. C. E. Ryley, Mus.Bac., was at the organ.

A WONDERFUL POWER.

The Archbishop gave a most inspiring address. As Archbishop of the Diocese and Province, and as president of the Kent County Association, it was a great pleasure to him to come there to give them a message, as they celebrated this jubilee year of their association, of congratulation, of gratitude for the service they rendered, and of benediction on their art and their work. 'I want this morning, if I can,' he continued, 'to help you to magnify your office and to realise its special place in the life of the Church and of the people. Let me base what I have to say to you on the words of St. Paul (Romans xii. 6-7): "Having, then, gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us . . . or ministry, let us wait on our ministering." I want you to realise that you have a special vocation and ministry in the Church of Christ. In another Epistle, St. Paul says "there are many kinds of voices in the world and none of them is without signification." The voice of the church bells is among the many voices of the world full of a very special signification and meaning. The ringing of bells is peculiarly a characteristic of England of the English Church. There are, indeed, other countries where the church bell has a great place, but it is very often only a single bell, deep mouthed and solemn, but change ringing appears to be the peculiar possession of the English race and the English Church. The bells express, as no other voice can, the joys and sorrows of the people. What would the commemoration of great events in our nation's life and history mean without the sound of the bells? And as the bells speak out in the life of the whole people, so also they speak out in the lives of the very humblest. It is to the sound of the bells in the village that the young man and woman at their wedding advance to the adventure of their new life, and it is to the sound of the muffled bell or the passing knell that the humblest villager is laid to rest. Again, as you must often have noticed, there is no voice in the world more capable than the voice of the bells in retaining and reminding us of the most sacred associations. I do not think any sound in the same wonderful way opens the doors of memory and brings out its greatest treasures. Only last week I was spending some days in the place for ever sacred to me as the scene of my first prayers and resolutions in preparing for the sacred ministry, and I never hear the familiar sound of the church bells in that quiet village without being at once and constantly reminded of all the associations of that holy time. Whenever I hear the bells of the churches or the cathedrals with which in my life I have been associated, memories of the hopes and the desires of the time spent there come rushing back. Truly you who ring the bells wield a most wonderful power. Some of the deepest associations of human life, most of all, of course, the message of the Church, the voice of the bells speaks out. There are other voices within the Church, of teaching, of worship, and of praise, but the bells always seem to me to be the voice of the Church itself, when the buildings, so many of them old and venerable, try to speak for themselves. The bells, therefore, give their witness of what the churches themselves stand for through all the changes and chances of the generations that have passed, of things that are unseen and eternal. Sunday by Sunday the sounding of the bells reminds the people of God's claim upon their lives. You who wield those bells call to a world that is increasingly indifferent. The bells you make to speak are saying, "O come, let us worship and fall down and kneel before the Lord our Maker."

A GREAT MINISTRY.

'And in the midst of all the many questions and doubts and perplexities there is always to me something joyful and rather assuring in the sound of the bells. They speak of the faith that endures and of the everlasting gospel of the love of God. To make the voice of the bells heard is truly to fulfil a great ministry in the Church of

God. Then, secondly, St. Paul says we must wait upon our ministering, we are to give ourselves to it with care and with zeal, and I would ask you to wait upon this ministry of yours. First of all be eager to be perfect in your art of bellringing. It is a great art, and it belongs to your honour to see that you make it as worthy as you can possibly make it of the high office. Other arts, such as music, of architecture, of painting, have a great place in the life of the Church. When you meet to-day in this choir, almost exactly 750 years after it was built, repaired from the waste of a great fire, when you look round upon it, its pillars and arches and windows, you realise what a place art has in the expression of human worship and devotion and all the revelation of God in beauty. And in its own way your change ringing has its place among the arts that are meant for the glory of God. Therefore, I say, it belongs to your honour that you make it as an art as perfect as you can. You rejoice, I know, in your change ringing and your practice. You get bodily exercise, you get good fellowship, but always remember that the main motive with which you conduct these practices is that you are striving to wait upon your ministry, to make your art a true and worthy offering to God. I rejoice in the immense improvement in the spirit and tone of the belfry chambers, and I trust you will always be zealous when you are there to remember that you are on holy ground, and most of all know you will try yourselves to obey the summons of your bells. There is something extraordinarily unreal if you make the bells speak out a summons to worship and you yourselves are heedless of it in your own lives; something strange if you yourselves do not steadfastly and loyally obey it, if the voice of the bells does not find a sure answer in your hearts and lives. So I congratulate you, and most of all I congratulate your venerable late secretary, to whom presently I hope to present a token of gratitude for his service of 38 years. I wish well to your ministry, and I pray that God's blessing may rest upon it. In these days so full of perplexities and indifference, let me ask you to ring out with gladness and pride the joyful tidings of the unchanged faith in the everlasting love of God. Let your bells Sunday after Sunday proclaim the joyful Easter message, "The Lord is risen and He is in the midst of us." In fulfilling your great calling, wait upon your ministry with pride and thankfulness, and with the deep desire to make it worthy of the glory of God.'

The offertory on behalf of the Cathedral Reparation Fund amounted to £5 4s. 7d.

THE LUNCHEON.

Afterwards the big party were photographed in a group outside the Cathedral, and then proceeded to the County Hall, where they sat down to luncheon. The Archbishop presided, and was supported by the Mayor of Canterbury (Rev. S. Gordon Wilson), the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, the Archdeacon of Canterbury, the Rev. G. C. E. Ryley and other clergy, Mr. F. M. Mitchell (hon. secretary), Mr. G. A. Young (hon. secretary of the Central Council), officials of the Kent Association, and visitors from other ringing organisations. Altogether a company of 350 sat down.

The loyal toast having been honoured, Mr. F. White proposed 'His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishops and the clergy of the county of Kent.' He said it had been the custom in connection with that toast to thank the clergyman who had conducted the service and given the address at their annual meeting. Custom was not to be lightly trifled with. Their association was formed fifty years ago by a meeting of clergy and laity held in that city of Canterbury, and the special object of the association was the cultivation of change ringing and belfry reform. He ventured to think the association had thoroughly justified its existence (hear, hear). Not the least of its achievements had been to bring into closer touch the clergy and ringers, so that ringers were now recognised as having a definite status as churchworkers. Their services and the skill and practice which those services demanded of them were fully recognised by the incumbents throughout the county. They received from them great kindness and encouragement in their work. Many of the clergy were themselves change ringers, notably their dear past secretary, Canon Helmore (applause). They were indebted to the clergy for the opportunities given them for peal ringing and holding meetings, and for the helpful addresses they gave to them at those meetings, as well as for the hospitality that was often extended to the members. For all those kindnesses they accorded them their most hearty thanks (applause). They were specially honoured on that occasion by having the Archbishop with them (applause). The Archbishop was not a visitor; he was their president; he was one of them; he came to them of a right, and they said to him, 'Welcome, sir; here is your place at our head' (applause). They felt that the Archbishop had done them and the association a signal honour in laying aside for a short while the onerous duties of his high office and coming to give them so helpful an address, sharing their meal with them and performing the important duty which would shortly fall upon him. Never before in the history of any ringing association had a meeting been presided over by an Archbishop of Canterbury, and it would always be a proud boast and a happy memory that the honour was first conferred upon the Kent County Association in the city of Canterbury (applause). In the Kent County Association of Change Ringers the Archbishop and clergy had a body of men who had done, were doing, and would continue to do, their best to carry out the purposes for which the association was formed. They welcomed the Archbishop among them, and assured him of their loyalty and thanked him for all he had done for them (applause).

The toast was drunk with musical honours.

THE REV. F. J. O. HELMORE'S 'DAY.'

The Archbishop, in replying, said the members had attended that day in large numbers because it was the jubilee of their association. Fifty years was a long time, and it invested them with a certain stability and respectability, but happily it did not make them old, and he hoped they would never allow themselves to grow stale, and having been allowed to reach 50 years they would become, as future years passed, younger in their enthusiasm, their unity and their devotion to their work. There had been a remarkable increase in their numbers from something like 150 to about 1,000 practising members in the county of Kent, and he liked to think of that great body united in fulfilling what he had elsewhere called their ministry in the Church and in the life of the people. He had, he continued, no right to speak about their art. He knew nothing about it. He once or twice tried to make a beginning, but as he found on the first occasion, and again on the second, and again on the third, that his arms were nearly wrenched from his body, he desisted in any further efforts, but he was told that these were only the frolics by which they were disciplined before they were able properly to manage a bell (laughter). He had often noticed how difficult the act of ringing a bell could be when an incumbent, inducted to the care of a living, tried to ring a bell as a token to the parishioners that he had arrived and taken possession. In order not to give away the secrets of his profession he would not reveal what he had often seen happening in that connection (laughter). Sometimes the new incumbent was apparently being carried up into the heavens instead of being inducted to more earthly things (laughter). He admired what the ringers could do, although he must admit there had been times when he had not spoken so favourably about them as he then was. There had been moments when long peals had been rung in towers under which he had been living, when he could have wished the change ringers and all their works in Jericho or anywhere else (laughter). He was not sure that his feeling about them would not be somewhat different about half-past six that evening than they were just at that moment (laughter), but at that moment he had nothing except praise and gratitude for them.

Another reason, continued the Archbishop, why they were there was that it was Mr. Helmore's 'Day' (applause). He confessed he was glad he was not in Mr. Helmore's shoes—it would be difficult to rise to the height of that great occasion. He could only hope Mr. Helmore would remember for the rest of his days the entire sincerity of the thanks to him which he knew was in all their hearts. It was a remarkable thing for one man as secretary to have guided their work for all those 38 years. He became their secretary the very year in which he (the Archbishop) was ordained in the Church of God, and all that time Mr. Helmore had given himself to their service. They could have had no one more fitted to be their secretary, for he had been for fifty years connected with the Mother Church, not only of Kent but of the whole of English Christendom, and no one could be a more fitting link between the art of music and the art of bellringing and worship than their secretary for these 38 years. Mr. Helmore knew what his (the speaker's) gratitude was to him for the work he had done in the Cathedral, and, that day, for all the work he had done for the association. He knew that he would feel in that company of grateful and affectionate friends that he had received an ample reward for all the labour he had given to this cause, but he (the Archbishop) was permitted in their name to give him some more visible and tangible expression of their gratitude, and he felt it to be a very great honour to be allowed to do so. In the first place, he had to ask Mr. Helmore to accept what in these days, after the recent Budget, was always a very joyful and pleasant thing to receive—a cheque (applause). It was a cheque which went in its amount even beyond the number of years which he had served in the Cathedral or as secretary of that association (applause), and he hoped in the name of those who asked him to receive it that he would make use of it in a thoroughly selfish manner (applause), that he would not attempt to use it to make gifts to the belfry repairs fund or the benevolent fund, but use it to do something to ensure that the comfort and happiness of the years that remained to him might be promoted by the gift (applause). There was another gift which he would ask Mr. Helmore to accept, and in this respect hope passed more into the region of certainty, for he was to ask him to receive a supplementary gift of a case of pipes. If Mr. Helmore would continue to use these opportunities of solace, he would ensure comfort and happiness for a long time to come. Lastly, he had to present to him an address, illuminated suitably and thoughtfully, and, he thought, beautifully, and he must ask Mr. Helmore to conceal his blushes while he read the words (laughter). The Archbishop then read the address, which was worded as follows:—

'Presented to the Rev. Frederick John Ottley Helmore, M.A., by the members of the Kent County Association of Change Ringers, who desire to place on record their warm appreciation of his services as hon. secretary for 38 years, and of the high standard of efficiency attained by the association due to his loving care and devotion. In asking his acceptance of this testimonial, the members of the association express the hope that he may continue to enjoy good health and happiness, and assure him of their very cordial goodwill and affectionate remembrances.'

Turning to Mr. Helmore, the Archbishop added that he had been proud to sign that address, as Mr. White had said, as their head. It was signed also by other most suitable persons, including his revered predecessor, whom they all wished to remember that day, Lord Davidson. It was also signed by Mr. Ryley, the trustees, the secretary and the six district secretaries. He had very great pleasure in presenting this address to Mr. Helmore with every good wish (applause).

MANY TOWERS STILL UNAFFILIATED.

The Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, who was received with tremendous enthusiasm, said he did not know what to say about their gifts, except that he did not expect anything of the sort. He wished to appear as thankful as he could to them for what they had done in this way, and for the expression of feeling towards him. At the same time he would like to say that he considered it unnecessary, because the older members of the association at all events would remember that in the year 1907, at the annual meeting at Rochester, Dean Erle Lane presented him on their behalf with a most charming and most useful gift in the shape of a desk. That had been a great help to him in his secretarial work, so, bearing that in mind, he really thought for one secretary that was quite enough. Mr. Helmore paid a great tribute to the work done by the six district secretaries of the association, whose efforts had greatly lightened his duties, and one of them, his old friend Mr. Fred Mitchell, had taken his (the speaker's) place. Judging from the experience of this year, he felt sure Mr. Mitchell would be able to carry on the work of the association to the satisfaction of them all. In an article which appeared in a recent issue of 'The Ringing World' it was stated that there were about 25,000 ringers outside their associations and guilds. It was for them in Kent to try and bring in some of them, and he hoped the members would combine with the district secretaries to induce outside ringers to come in and form bands in the towns and villages. They wanted to extend the influence of their association. They had 106 towers in union, but there were 215 altogether in the county. That meant they had not got half, and even some of these ought not really to count as being affiliated to the association, because only one or two ringers in the tower were members. They wanted to improve upon that, and he felt sure that Mr. Mitchell and the district secretaries would be able to do something, but the members must not leave it all to the secretaries. They should all put their minds to it so as to influence others to come in and help in the work which they had been trying to do for the last fifty years. 'I thank you all from the bottom of my heart,' concluded Mr. Helmore, amid applause.

Rising again, Mr. Helmore proposed the toast of 'The Right Worshipful Mayor of Canterbury,' and referred to the fact that the Mayor was a beneficed clergyman, and that the three bells in the tower of his church had been recently rebung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and that there had been some talk of adding to them. As they respected their Mayor, said Mr. Helmore, so they, as ringers, expected something from him in this matter, and they hoped they would not be disappointed.

MAYOR SUGGESTS A BADGE.

The Mayor of Canterbury, in the course of his reply, said he did not see the possibility at present of getting any more bells for his church. The three bells had been hung in ball bearings, and, said the Mayor, they look something like a magnificent new motor car in the belfry (laughter). Whether eventually they would be able to get a full peal he did not know. Proceeding, the Mayor submitted the toast of 'The Kent County Association of Change Ringers.' On behalf of Canterbury he welcomed them to the city, and congratulated them upon their jubilee. He hoped the work which they had done during the last fifty years would be continued as successfully during the next half century, and that the silent bells in many steeples of Kent would be restored by the efforts of Kentish clergymen (applause). Campanologists, said the Mayor, seemed to be shy people. He rather wished his Grace would found a badge to be given to ringers after so many years' service. He thought a great many more ringers would roll into the association if they could get a badge for, say, a shilling, and he would be very pleased to design them a badge and present them with the first 300 (applause). On behalf of the citizens of Canterbury, concluded the Mayor, he welcomed them as brethren of the Noble Order of Campanologists.

The Hon. Secretary replied to the toast, and said that he believed their gathering that day was one of the largest association meetings ever held by a single association. There were about 350 present, and among them were four foundation members (applause)—Mr. Philip Hodgkin, of Headcorn, Mr. E. S. Ruck, Willesborough, Mr. Slingsby, of Aldingham, who was 93 years of age, and Mr. J. W. Leonard, of West Malling. Mr. Joseph Waghorn, sen., of West Ham, who had been a life member of 45 years, was also with them. Looking through the records of their progress, said Mr. Mitchell, he found that in 1880 they had 156 practising members and 100 honorary members. In 1890 they had 456 practising and 142 honorary. They had to-day 970 practising and 80 honorary members. He wondered whether the falling off in hon. members indicated a falling off in the interest in their work by those outside, and he hoped the various bands would try and get more honorary members. They welcomed among them that day, said Mr. Mitchell, representatives of other ringing organisations, including Mr. E. A. Young, the hon. secretary of the Central Council, Mr. A. A. Hughes, of the College Youths, visitors from various county associations, and the Editor of 'The Ringing World.'

Mr. Mitchell then read the report for 1929, which showed that the number of towers in union and the number of members remained about the same, and there were the following balances in the various funds: General fund £68 5s. 4d., belfry repairs £123 15s. 3d., benevolent £142 13s. 8d.

Before the business meeting began, the Archbishop and the Mayor took their departure, and the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore presided.

The report and balance sheet were adopted and the officers re-elected. A ballot took place for the election of four Central Council representatives. The Rev. F. J. O. Helmore retired, and the vacancy was filled by the election of Mr. F. Mitchell, the hon. secretary. The other three representatives, Messrs. E. Barnett, sen., J. H. Cheesman and T. Groombridge, sen., were elected, the unsuccessful nominees being Messrs. W. Haigh and T. E. Stone.

Mr. E. A. Young said that outside the walls of one association there was only one body which could speak for the whole Exercise on such an occasion as that, and that was the Central Council of Church Bellringers. It was the mouthpiece for the ringers of the country. Canon Coleridge, the president, had, as they all knew, recently been seriously ill, otherwise he would have been present to convey the good wishes of the Council and the Exercise to the Kent County Association upon its jubilee. In his absence, therefore, he (Mr. Young) desired, on his behalf and of the church bellringers throughout the country to offer the association felicitous greetings, to wish them 'God-speed' in their work, with the hope that they would go on for another fifty years.

A vote of thanks to the organist and to the hon. secretary terminated the proceedings.

In the evening further ringing at the Cathedral and other churches brought to a close a memorable day, upon which all those responsible for its organisation, and especially the hon. secretary, are to be heartily congratulated.

THE GROWTH OF THE ASSOCIATION.

In the fifty years of its history the Kent County Association has had only four general secretaries. The Rev. R. Knatchbull-Hugessen was elected when the association was formed on Whit Monday, May 18th, 1880. He remained in office until 1889, when, having accepted a living in Sussex, he resigned and was succeeded by the Rev. E. W. Carpenter, during whose secretaryship the area of the association was divided into districts. Mr. Carpenter gave up in 1891, and the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore was elected. His tenure of office lasted until 1929, when advancing years led him, much to the regret of the members, to resign, and his work was taken up by Mr. F. M. Mitchell.

One hundred and fifty ringers were present at the inaugural meeting, and the membership has steadily grown until there are now 1,350 life, honorary, practising and non-resident members.

Financially the association is probably better off than any other ringing organisation. Its invested funds have reached £547, and this, together with the balances in various funds, amount to over £880, the interest being mainly devoted to the belfry repairs and benevolent funds. Extremely useful work has been done with these latter funds. The Belfry Repairs Fund was started in 1895, and since then 48 grants, amounting to £163 2s., have been made to churches for the repair of belfries or the addition of new bells. The fund still has a balance in hand of £123. The benevolent fund, to assist aged and disabled members and members' widows, was instituted in 1913. Since that date 31 grants, totalling £113 19s., have been made, and there is a present balance of £142 13s. 8d. to meet deserving cases. This strong and satisfactory financial position is in itself a testimony to the admirable management of the association, which is in the hands of a representative committee and the hon. secretary.

THE REV. F. J. O. HELMORE.

The almost accidental circumstances under which the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore became a ringer are interesting. In the year 1882 a company of amateurs applied to Dean Payne Smith for permission to learn to ring on the Cathedral bells. This the Dean declined to grant unless they could induce one of the Cathedral clergy to superintend their practices, and he recommended them to apply to the junior minor canon. It was not until it had been clearly pointed out that their chance of pulling the Cathedral bells depended entirely upon his consent to join them that Mr. Helmore was prevailed upon to touch a bell rope. For months these amateurs attended a weekly practice, but made very little progress, and by the spring of 1884 Mr. Helmore was so heartily sick of scrambling through a plain course of Grandsire Doubles that he was preparing to give up all idea of becoming a change ringer. Fortunately, however, the then conductor of the Cathedral ringers (Mr. G. Stancombe) interested himself in one or two of the party, and by inducing them to practise with some of the Cathedral men, soon had them ringing Grandsire Triples.

Mr. Helmore rang his first peal at Faversham on November 10th, 1884. He scored his first peal of Stedman Triples with the College Youths (at Bishopsgate, conducted by James Pettit) in 1887. His first peals of Stedman Caters, Double Norwich and Superlative were rung with the Oxford Diocesan Guild, in conjunction with the Rev. E. E. Robinson and James Washbrook. The majority of the Rev.

THE REV. F. J. O. HELMORE, at the desk presented to him by the Kent County Association in 1907.

F. J. O. Helmore's 200 and odd peals have been rung for the Kent County Association, and he has conducted a considerable number in the Grandsire and Stedman methods.

Mr. Helmore was elected president of the Cathedral company in 1885, and he still occupies the position. In July, 1891, he succeeded the Rev. E. W. Carpenter as general hon. secretary of the Kent County Association, and discharged the duties of the office with the utmost efficiency and success until, in 1929, after 38 years' service, advancing age compelled him to relinquish the work. In 1907 the members presented him with a handsome roll-top desk, with a silver bell in the centre internal panel, in recognition of his labours for 25 years in the interests of the association.

Born in London on December 2nd, 1851, the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore celebrated his jubilee in the ministry of the Church in 1925. He was ordained deacon at Hereford in 1875, and priest in 1876, being at the time an assistant Vicar-choral in the Cathedral. After being curate and precentor of Holy Trinity (Shakespeare's Church), Stratford-on-Avon, 1877-78, he was appointed minor Canon of Canterbury Cathedral, and became precentor of the Cathedral in 1883. He has taken part in the enthronement of four Archbishops—Benson, Temple, Davidson, and Lang—and since 1912 he has held the incumbency of Stedmarsh.

BELLS AND PUBLIC OPINION.

'The Church Bell Nuisance' is not infrequently in the public eye in these days, through complaints ventilated in the press, and a handful of vocal objectors can give a seeming importance to a view which, in reality, is held by a very small minority of people. The 'other side,' the people who find no annoyance, or who like to hear the bells rung, are seldom heard, unless it is to correct gross misrepresentation, which protesters seem curiously inclined to make when writing about these things. It is distinctly refreshing, therefore, to find a spirited protest against the banning of church bells being made, not in the press this time, but in the public arena of the council chamber. Salisbury Town Council decided to sell to the Bishop of Salisbury, for the purposes of a church, a site on one of their building estates, and a few of the members endeavoured to insert a condition that there should be no bell ringing in connection with the church. The opposition developed mainly against the use of a single bell, one of the objectors remarking that he would not mind if the church had a peal of bells. Other speakers, however, ridiculed the suggested restriction, and Alderman Wort delivered a slashing attack upon the imposition of any condition with regard to bells. 'Considering the way some people now spent Sunday,' he said, 'they would not know it was Sunday at all but for the bells. It would be a bad day, not only for Salisbury, but for the world if they did away with bells.' The motion, even to debar the use of a single bell, was lost.

To those who are lovers of bells and who have an interest in the art of ringing, this debate and decision of Salisbury Town Council has a wider significance than the mere attempt to prevent the use of a bell in a church on a Salisbury building estate. It is an indication of the spirit in which the people of this land regard their church bells. A few objectors may complain of their use and cynics may sneer, but the vast majority of English men and women would not lightly permit the bells of this country to be silenced, and, as at Salisbury, would be quick and emphatic in quashing any such proposal if the question were raised in a way which gave them the opportunity of expressing an opinion. The real danger to the ringing of bells lies in the 'back door' methods which might at any time be opened for their suppression, through, for instance, a general and innocuous looking clause of an Act of Parliament, which gave power to some departmental chief to make any addition to a schedule of prohibited acts, by which bell ringing might be included (at the instigation of some crank or other), and become debarred by law before its inclusion was realised and there was time for legal objection to be made. The Central Council is fully alive to this risk and its Legal Committee has been kept in being largely to watch this matter. There is no risk of any law-made interference with bell ringing if it is left to the decision of the public, who, at heart, love to hear bells properly rung; but under the present system, by which a great deal of legislation is carried out by delegated authority, the views of an active minority can very easily become the law of the land, unless there is unceasing vigilance.

The annual general meeting of the Norwich Diocesan Association was held at Norwich on Easter Monday. The members began the day by ringing touches in various standard methods at the churches of St. Peter Mancroft (12), St. John de Sepulchre (8), St. Michael at Coslany (8) and All Saints' (5). The executive committee held a meeting in the choir vestry of St. Peter Mancroft at 11.30 a.m. to consider an amendment to association Rule 10, to present to the members at the general meeting in the afternoon. This rule provides that peals shall only be recorded in the annual report at the cost of the association if every ringer taking part in it has paid his or her subscription either for the current year or for the previous year.

Divine service was held in the Church of St. Peter Mancroft at 12.30 p.m., conducted by the Rev. Hugh McMullan, M.A. (Vicar). The address was given by the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake, M.A., Rector of Watlington, Norfolk, who said that the fascination of ringing was the perfect combination of body, mind and soul—body, because you had got to train your muscles and everything to respond to the need of the belfry; mind, because you had got to work with the team, and had to keep your attention the whole time; and soul, because it was done for a religious purpose, to call people to church.

The luncheon was served at the Bell Hotel, Orford Hill. The president, the Archdeacon of Norwich, was in the chair, and among others present were the Rev. H. McMullan, the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake, Mr. P. E. Sewell, Mr. C. E. Borrett (vice-president), Mr. A. L. Coleman (general secretary and treasurer), Mr. G. P. Burton (hon. auditor), Mr. Denison Hayward (chairman, East Norfolk Branch), Messrs. W. B. Duncan, W. J. Lee, F. Nolan Golden, and W. J. Eldred (branch secretaries), and Messrs. J. F. Duffield, W. L. Duffield, W. C. Duffield, R. W. Cooke, W. Clover, J. Taylor, H. R. Heyhoe, C. J. More, C. F. Goodman (members of the committees), besides representatives from all parts of the Diocese of Norwich and from Suffolk, making a total of 57.

The only toast was that of 'The King,' which was proposed by the president and duly honoured.

Then followed the business meeting.

The annual report and balance sheet for the year ending December 31st, 1929, were adopted on the motion of the Vicar of St. Peter Mancroft, seconded by Mr. W. B. Duncan.

GOOD WORK SINCE REORGANISATION.

Mr. A. L. Coleman (general secretary) said that he would like to refer to the splendid work that had been done since the reorganisation of the association into four branches. The scheme had only come into force this year, and they were fortunate in having good secretaries and enthusiastic chairmen. Already this year each branch had held two meetings with one exception. The attendances of members had been above the average, and so also was the ringing. Another good result of these meetings had been the election of twenty-six new members. Mr. Coleman said he felt sure the association would appreciate the good work the branch secretaries had already done in so short a time.

The President said he had been able to help them as editor of the 'Norwich Diocesan Gazette,' and had got Mr. Coleman to write an article for it about bells and belfries. All the clergy were supposed to read it, and he hoped they had noticed what Mr. Coleman had to say. The article was so important that he would be commenting on it in his charge to the Archdeaconry of Norwich. He did not know that they had always done their duty as regards the bells. The secretary thought that those who went to inspect the churches—they had inspected forty churches this year—ought to climb up into the belfry. 'Who is going to insure us,' asked the President, 'and what sort of insurance is it to be? Some of these belfries are terrible places' (laughter). 'I have climbed up a good many,' added the President, 'and have even got amongst the bells; but as I get older I don't feel inclined to climb' (laughter).

The president was re-elected with enthusiasm, the Vicar of St. Peter Mancroft, in proposing the Archdeacon, remarking that he was the only one who could possibly fill the position (applause).—The hon. secretary seconded.

The President, in acknowledging his election, said he regarded it a privilege and honour to hold this office, which he thoroughly enjoyed.—On the motion of Mr. B. S. Thompson, seconded by Mr. A. L. Coleman, the vice-presidents were re-elected with the addition of the name of the Rev. Hugh McMullan, Vicar of St. Peter Mancroft.

On the motion of Mr. G. P. Burton, seconded by Mr. F. N. Golden, Mr. Arthur L. Coleman was re-elected general secretary and treasurer, tributes being paid to his enthusiastic work.

Mr. G. P. Burton was re-elected hon. auditor. Messrs. Charles E. Borrett, Arthur L. Coleman and F. Nolan Golden were appointed representatives to the Central Council.

It was resolved that Miss Helen W. Bill, Mr. H. R. Heyhoe and Mr. James Taylor be elected to fill the vacancies on the Executive Committee, the remaining four being re-elected.

PEAL RINGERS' SUBSCRIPTIONS.

The General Secretary moved the ratification of three belfry elections and the elections of four new members. The Secretary then presented his amendment to Rule 10, and said that it had been considered and passed by the Executive Committee at their meeting.

After a debate, in which several members took part, it was resolved to amend the rule as follows, after the word 'association': 'But no peal shall be admitted unless every ringer taking part in it has paid his or her subscription by January 7th of the year following the date on which the peal was rung, conductors or organisers of peals to be held responsible for the due observance of this condition.'

On the motion of Mr. A. L. Coleman, seconded by Mr. G. P. Burton, it was resolved that standing orders be suspended in order that the amendment may become effective from that day.

Mr. A. L. Coleman moved, and Mr. H. R. Heyhoe seconded, 'That the Branch Rules, as published in the Annual Report for 1929, on page 6, be confirmed.'—The motion was carried.

On the motion of the President, a vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar of St. Peter Mancroft and to the incumbents of the churches of St. John de Sepulchre and St. Michael at Coslany and All Saints for allowing the use of their bells, and also to the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake for his address at the service.—The Rev. Hugh McMullan, in reply, said it had been a great pleasure for him to welcome them that day for the first time as the new Vicar, and he hoped it would not be the last. When they came to St. Peter Mancroft they would always receive the warm welcome they had always had. He hoped they would always look upon it as the home of ringing in Norfolk. He had no technical knowledge of bellringing, but Mancroft bells were to him a tremendous joy.

A suggestion by Mr. F. Nolan Golden, that the tablet recording that the first peal rung by the association was in Redenhall Church should be renovated, was favourably received, and referred for further consideration. The peal recorded was 5,152 changes of Superlative Surprise Major rung on Tuesday, November 6th, 1877.

Mr. G. P. Burton moved a vote of thanks to the president, to which the Archdeacon of Norwich suitably responded, and then declared the meeting closed.

The members afterwards dispersed to the various belfries for further ringing until the evening.

ESENING.—On Tuesday evening, April 22nd, to the memory of the late Lady Glanely, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,320 changes) half-muffled, in 58 mins., at St. Martin's Church: R. C. Sharpe (St. Mary's, Newmarket) 1, S. F. Bunting 2, W. Webb 3, S. Brown (conductor) 4, Ed. Jaggard 5. First quarter-peal by ringers of 2, 3, 4, 5, also first as conductor by S. Brown, and first on the bells.

TOWN COUNCIL IN FAVOUR OF CHURCH BELLS.

'A POOR CITY AND A POOR WORLD WITHOUT THEM.'

Salisbury Town Council last week decided to sell to the Bishop of Salisbury a site for a new church on land in Stratford Road. The land was originally purchased from the Ecclesiastical Commissioners on favourable terms for a housing scheme. The price to be charged is £2 per foot frontage.

An attempt was made to make it a condition of sale that there should be no bellringing in connection with the church. Mr. Lemon, who proposed this condition, said no one objected to a chime of bells, but some stipulation should be made when the land was sold that there should be no bellringing until a proper chime was provided. If they would do this he had no objection, but that a single clang should be rung for half an hour or twenty minutes before a service was an obnoxious thing.

Mr. Hudson said that, having lived near one of these bells, he wanted to have a word on the matter. The value of their property would depreciate through having a church with such a bell near. It was now a peaceable part of the city, but if they were going to have a bell rung like it was at St. Mark's, he was quite sure folks would not go to live there.—Mr. Moore also supported the motion.

Alderman Baker said that during all the 27 years he had been on the Council he had never heard such a ridiculous resolution. One of the traditions of the Church was that there should be a bell to call people together, and he did not see why there should not be one.

Mr. Moore: If they would undertake to have a peal of bells I would not mind.

Alderman Wort said that he had been nearly 21 years on the Council, and he had never heard a more ridiculous stipulation. It was a good thing for everyone that on the Sabbath day they should hear the bells ringing, because, considering the way some people now spent Sunday, they would not know it was Sunday at all but for the bells. It would be a bad day not only for Salisbury, but for the world, if they did away with bells. Mr. Hudson had said that the property would depreciate by having the bells there; he thought it would be a big advantage. Some people had some mad-brained ideas in their heads, but he had no use for agnosticism, and sooner or later they would find there was only one Pilot in this world. It was all very nice for people to talk, but if they debarred a church from being built on the site, and deprived the people of having the pleasure of hearing the bells, it would be a poor city and a poor world.

The motion to debar the use of the single bell was lost.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The men who rang the record twelve-bell peal at Ashton-under-Lyne on August Bank Holiday created another record on Easter Monday, when, meeting again, they were the first band to ring two peals of Cambridge Surprise Maximus in one day—one at Oldham and the other at Macclesfield.

The peal of Cambridge Maximus at Oldham was the first '5,000' rung in the method by Mr. G. Lindoff, although it must be admitted that he had ample practice at Ashton-under-Lyne on August Bank Holiday last!

On Saturday, Mr. G. W. Fletcher was elected one of the representatives of the Middlesex County Association on the Central Council, and with Mrs. Fletcher creates a new record by their being the first instance of a man and wife holding seats together on the Council.

Mrs. Fletcher had some years ago made another record with her father (Mr. James Parker) by their being the first father and daughter to serve together on the Council. Mrs. Fletcher represents the Ladies' Guild, and Mr. Parker is one of the representatives of the Royal Cumberland Youths.

The death has occurred at Stansted, Essex, of Mr. George Gray, who was a ringer at the church there for over 60 years.

Having left the district, Mr. H. G. Fretwell has resigned the secretaryship of the East Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire Association, and Mr. J. W. England, the Common, South Normanton, has been elected to fill the vacancy.

The bells of Broughton Parish Church, near Preston, are being rehung on ball bearings and a rope guide installed by Mr. Jas. E. Groves, of Birmingham.

Next Wednesday, May 7th, is the anniversary of the 10,176 of Kent Treble Bob Major rung at Foxearth, Essex, in 1888. Only two of the band now survive, namely, Messrs. John Lee, of London, and Geo. Maxim, of Cheshunt, both natives of Foxearth.

On Easter Monday, in the year 1889, the Gloucester and Bristol Association rang a peal of 15,227 Grandsire Caters at Cheltenham, the conductor of which, Mr. W. T. Pates, is still, after 41 years, the active head of ringing affairs in Cheltenham tower. Most, if not all, of the others have passed away.

To-day is the 215th anniversary of the first peal of which there is any authentic record. It was a peal of Grandsire Bob Triples, rung at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, on May 2nd, 1715, and the peal board is still preserved in the famous belfry.

On May 5th, 1817, a peal of 12,312 Grandsire Caters was rung at Painswick. There must have been more 'long' peals rung in this famous Gloucestershire tower than anywhere.

One hundred and fifty years ago next Wednesday the first peal (5,040 Bob Major) at Harrow was rung by the London Youths, who included John Reeves.

Many happy returns of the day to Mr. Albert Walker, Deputy ringing Master of St. Martin's Guild, whose birthday is to-morrow, and to Mr. George Williams, Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, who will be 73 next Wednesday.

The peal of London Surprise, reported on page 243 of our issue of April 18th, was rung at St. Lawrence's Church at West Wycombe and not at Hugbenden as sent to us.

THE TWELVE BELL RECORD.

UNVEILING OF PEAL TABLET AT ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE.

A permanent record of the 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Maximus, which was rung under the auspices of the Lancashire Association by a mixed band at St. Michael's Church, Ashton-under-Lyne, on August Bank Holiday last, has been placed in the belfry at that church. The record is in the form of a handsome black marble tablet, framed in oak, with lettering in gold, the size of the tablet being 42 inches by 24 inches.

The unveiling took place on Easter Sunday after evensong, when the whole band were present, besides many members of the local society and a number of friends from the surrounding district. On behalf of the band, Mr. C. T. Coles requested the Rev. S. Lane to accept the tablet, and the latter gentleman, in the unavoidable absence of the Vicar (Canon A. W. Thompson), then dedicated and unveiled the record of the peal. Mr. E. P. Duffield thanked the Rev. S. Lane for taking the service, and once more expressed the gratitude of the band to the Vicar and churchwardens for allowing the peal to be rung.

26½ cwt., recast and rehung in ball bearings in 1923. Compared with the previous task, this was easy, and an excellent peal was ably conducted by that good little man from Bradford, Ted Jenkins. The thanks of the band are especially due to Mr. V. Sykes (Oldham) and Mr. J. Norbury (Macclesfield) for having the bells and ropes ready.

Many old friends were met after the second peal, amongst them being the Rev. A. T. Beeston, J. Fernley, J. P. Fidler, W. Madgwick, etc., and a pleasant evening passed all too quickly.

Finally, the band desire to express sincere gratitude to Mr. Ben Thorp, Mr. S. Thompson, and others at Ashton for the great help rendered in many matters that required attention on the spot.

THE MEN AND THEIR RECORDS.

When the record peal was rung at Ashton-under-Lyne on August Bank Holiday, no opportunity occurred for the company to be photographed together, and within a few hours they were separated by hundreds of miles. It was, therefore, a particularly happy and fortunate event which enabled them to meet again as a complete band

A short touch of 290 Cambridge Maximus was then rung by the long peal band, standing in the same order as they did in the peal.

The tablet, which was made by Mr. C. Mee, of Sproughton, is fixed over the door of the belfry, between very similar tablets recording the Treble Bob Royal and Maximus records, and these three tablets form fitting memorials of three great performances.

Needless to say, the band found it impossible to avoid peal ringing, and two peals of Cambridge Maximus were rung on Easter Monday at Oldham and Macclesfield respectively. The ringers were met at the former place by Mr. J. Mallalieu (churchwarden), who wished them success on behalf of the Vicar and his fellow-warden. The bells, which were recast and rehung in ball bearings by Taylors in 1923, are a very fine peal with a tenor of 35 cwt., but a movement in the tower does not help to make ringing an easy task, especially for the two 'heavy-enders.' However, Messrs. E. P. Duffield and W. Pye kept their bells well in hand, and after four hours' good ringing the bells ran into rounds shortly after noon. Heartly congratulations were received from a large number of friends, and Mr. William Perkins, J.P. (who was treasurer of the restoration fund in 1923), kindly provided very welcome refreshment. Before leaving Oldham, a photograph of the band was taken, and is reproduced on this page.

Macclesfield was reached at 3 p.m., where Mr. W. Walmsley received the band. Here there is one of Taylor's best peals, tenor at Easter at the scene of their great achievement, and to be photographed. One of the remarkable features about the performance was the fact that it was not the achievement of youth—as records usually are. Only one of the twelve is under 30, and only three others under 40. One was over 60 and three others over 50, the average age being 44.

Here are brief particulars of the outstanding individual performances of the ringers:—

Edwin Jenkins (Bradford), treble, age 35, peals rung 323, conducted 122; conducted the 11,232 Superlative Surprise Major at Bolton and the 17,824 Oxford Treble Bob Major at Heptonstall.

Thomas B. Worsley (Bolton), 2nd, age 43, peals rung 206, conducted 36; rang in the 11,232 Superlative Surprise Major at Bolton and the 17,824 Oxford Treble Bob Major at Heptonstall.

George R. Pye (Chadwell Heath), 3rd, age 57, peals rung 1,229, conducted 205; rang in the 15,072 Double Norwich Major at Erith, the 14,112 London Surprise Major at King's Norton, the 11,111 Stedman Cinques at Birmingham, the 13,027 Stedman Caters at Loughborough, the 15,264 Bristol Surprise Major at Hornchurch, the 7,392 Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Bow, and the 10,440 Cambridge Surprise Royal at Walthamstow; also has taken part in peals of 4, 5, 6 and 10 Spliced Surprise Major methods.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

A NEW PRESIDENT.

Canon G. F. Coleridge, who is now recuperating in the West of England after his recent severe illness, has decided not to permit himself to be nominated for re-election as president of the Central Council.

We understand that Mr. Edwin H. Lewis, who is now living at Brasted, Kent, has been nominated as Canon Coleridge's successor.

Until business claimed his whole attention, while occupying an important post in Glasgow, Mr. Lewis did a great deal of work in connection with the Council, particularly on the Methods Committee and in research into the questions of the strains and stresses on bell towers. He is now a member of the Towers and Belfries Committee.

It is probable that Mr. E. A. Young will not now resign the secretaryship, but will again accept office, with a deputy to carry on for him while he is absent from England next autumn and winter.

THE AGENDA.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In view of the fact that I did not receive any notices of motions in time for insertion in the official agenda, which under the amendment of the old rules has to be published two months (instead of three weeks) before the meeting, I beg to call the attention of members to Rule 9, under which it is competent of the Council to discuss any subject not upon the agenda which does not affect the rules of the Council itself, and provided that a motion is passed to that effect.

I am, therefore, still open to receive notices of motions signed by two members, and an agenda will be again published three weeks before the meeting.—Yours faithfully,

E. ALEXR. YOUNG,

Hon. Secretary.

155, Rushey Green, Catford, S.E.5.

Charles T. Coles (Walthamstow), 4th, age 47, peals rung 653, conducted 142; took part in 7,392 Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Bow, 10,440 Cambridge Surprise Royal at Walthamstow, and conducted 7,011 Stedman Caters at Walthamstow; also has taken part in peals of 4, 5, 6 and 10 Spliced Surprises Major methods.

Alfred E. Reeves (Bristol), 5th, age 50, peals rung 344, conducted 42; took part in the 17,024 Double Norwich Major at Kidlington.

Charles W. Roberts (Westminster), 6th, age 25, peals rung 304, conducted 64; rang in the 12,675 Stedman Cinques at Southwark Cathedral, and in a peal of 10,640 Double Norwich Major.

James Bennett (Lewisham), 7th, age 43, peals rung 497, conducted 32; rang over 300 peals while serving in the Royal Marines.

Gabriel Lindoff (Dublin), 8th, age 61, peals rung 262, conducted 101; took part in the 14,112 London Surprise Major at King's Norton, the 11,111 Stedman Cinques at Birmingham, the 18,027 Stedman Caters at Loughborough, 11,232 Superlative Surprise Major at Bolton, and the 17,824 Oxford Treble Bob Major at Heptonstall.

Joseph T. Dyke (Chilcompton), 9th, age 37, peals rung 580, conducted 154; rang Queen Camel tenor (37 cwt.) to a peal of Minor.

James H. Hiding (Crewe), 10th, age 40, peals rung 341, conducted 52; rang in 10,400 Kent Treble Bob Major in Wales, 11,232 Superlative Surprise Major at Bolton, and 17,280 Kent Treble Bob Major at Over, Cheshire.

Edward P. Duffield (Colchester), 11th, age 31, peals rung 173, conducted 18; rang three peals at the age of 12 years, and at the age of 20 rang Southwark Cathedral tenor (50 cwt.) to a peal of Stedman Cinques.

William Pye (Leytonstone), tenor, age 59, peals rung 1,686, conducted 1,259; rang in 11,111 Stedman Cinques at Birmingham, conducted 10,464 Kent Treble Bob Major and 15,072 Double Norwich at Erith, the 14,112 London Surprise Major at King's Norton, the 18,027 Stedman Caters at Loughborough (to which he rang the 30 cwt. tenor in 12 hrs. 18 mins.), the 15,264 Bristol Surprise Major at Hornchurch (to which he rang the 20 cwt. tenor in 9 hrs. 49 mins.), the 10,440 Cambridge Surprise Royal at Walthamstow, the 7,392 Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Bow (to which he rang the 53 cwt. tenor), and he has also conducted peals in 4, 5, 6 and 10 Spliced Surprise Major methods.

ANOTHER GREAT ATTEMPT AT PAINSWICK.

Members of the Ancient Society of Painswick Youths and Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association made another attempt on Easter Monday for the twelve-bell record length. Everything went well until nearly 12,000 changes had been rung, when the tenor man (Mr. Uriah Braven, of Bristol) gave warning that he would be unable to finish the full length of the peal, which was 16,565 changes. He was asked to 'stick it' for another 10 or 15 minutes, which he did, with the result that a peal of 12,221 changes was successfully rung in 8 hrs.

Although complete success did not attend the band's third effort to exceed the previous longest length, this was a great attempt. Particulars of the performance will be found in our peal columns.

OUR 1,000th ISSUE.

The 1,000th issue of 'The Ringing World' will appear on May 23rd, and will be a special number. There are many ringers who do not individually buy a copy of the paper. We feel sure they will want one to themselves on May 23rd, but to secure it they must order at once, either through their newsagent or direct from our office.

Our regular subscribers will be doing us a favour if they will draw the attention of non-subscribers to this announcement. We do not want anyone to be disappointed in securing a copy, but if they 'wait and see' it may be too late, as there can be no reprint.

There will be special articles, with photographs, by leading members of the Exercise, and the 1,000th number will be one that all ringers will desire to keep as marking an interesting and not unimportant event in the Exercise. The price will be 3d. from any newsagent (or 3½d. post free direct from 'The Ringing World' Office, Woking). But place your order at once.

BRISTOL, BY GEORGE!

As will be seen in our peal column, the 'Georges' were successful at St. George's Church, Southwark, on St. George's Day, in ringing George Lewis' composition of Bristol Surprise Major. General George 'Bob' E. (who had a quiet 'week-end' by spending Sunday at Ashton-under-Lyne, and ringing a couple of peals of Cambridge Maximus at Oldham and Macclesfield on Monday, and a peal of Stedman on Tuesday evening) was prevailed upon to call the peal on Wednesday. Appointed times were well kept, for at 5.15 Mr. Spinks (steepkeeper) was on the spot with everything in readiness, and at meeting time, 5.30, the whole band were present (and this on a week-night), ready for the start. The ringers came from Greenwich, Chadwell Heath, Ruislip, Broxbourne, Clapton, Maidenhead, Sutton and Enfield.

St. George's tower, which is the headquarters of the Metropolitan Police Guild (under Insp. W. Bottrill) was very kindly placed at the disposal of the 'Georges,' the Police Guild giving up their practice night in the Georges' favour. A letter to wish the band success was also received from the police 'skipper,' who was prevented by duty from personally delivering it.

After the peal the band (less one who had to scamper for his train) adjourned to the—but that is another question; it may have been the George and Flagon—where a pleasant half an hour was spent. Through the medium of 'The Ringing World' the 'Georges' wish to thank Mr. Bottrill and his Guild for their welcome to the tower, and Mr. Spinks for completing an enjoyable evening by having the bells in excellent going order, everything in readiness, and meeting them both before and after the peal.

G. G.

WEDDING BELLS AT MANCHESTER.

On Wednesday, April 23rd, at St. John-the-Evangelist's Church, Miles Platting, the wedding took place of Miss Mary Alice Shuker, the daughter of Mr. W. H. Shuker, the general secretary of the Lancashire Association, to Mr. James Tonge, brother of Mrs. R. F. Deal. The Rev. Canon Elsee, president of the association, performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rector (the Rev. H. Sheen). Mr. G. H. Shuker acted as best man, and to mark the occasion the ringers attached to the above tower rang the bells in the evening, as both bride and bridegroom have been members of the band. The ringers were Miss Edna Simpson, Miss Elsie Simpson, Mr. A. Saul, Miss Enid Gray, Miss Nellie Coleman, Mr. W. Birles, Mr. I. Simpson, Mr. J. Hall, who wish 'health and prosperity' to the happy couple.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A successful meeting of the Eastern District was held at Houghton-le-Spring on Saturday, April 19th.

Ringing commenced about 2.30 p.m. with a short touch of Kent Treble Bob Minor, and afterwards touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were brought round.

Tea was served in the Kepier School, and a short meeting was held immediately afterwards, Mr. Burrett, vice-president, being in the chair.

Mr. Storey moved a vote of thanks to the clergy for the use of the bells, and Mr. R. Parkinson, replying on behalf of the incumbent, said their Vicar always welcomed the ringers to their belfry.

Mr. J. W. Park proposed a vote of thanks to the ladies for providing tea.

Mr. J. Brown, of Chester-le-Street, was elected a member of the association.

Mr. Burnett, the vice-president, having moved out of the association's area to Kirkby Stephen, asked what steps should be taken to appoint a successor.—Mr. Parker held that he should keep the appointment until the annual meeting, the members present heartily agreeing to that course being taken.

It was proposed to hold the next meeting at Jarrow on Saturday, June 14th.

Ringing was afterwards again indulged in, and the meeting proved a great success, especially considering the inclement weather.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION. ELECTION OF A NEW PRESIDENT.

The Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild held their annual meeting at Fulham on Saturday, and between 60 and 70 members attended. There was ringing on both sides of the Thames in the afternoon, namely, at Fulham (10), Hammersmith, Putney and Wandsworth (all eight-bell towers), and the ringing covered the whole gamut of the generally practised methods. The service took place at All Saints', Fulham, the preacher being the president-elect of the association (the Rev. W. P. Cole Sheane, Vicar of Twickenham), whose practical address was much appreciated. He pointed out that in their association they were banded together in the service of the Lord Jesus Christ, and they should serve Him, not only by the skill with which they rang, but by the example of their lives. He emphasised four steps by which they should seek to achieve their objects, viz., brotherliness, regularity, discipline and charity and forgiveness.

Tea and the annual meeting took place in the Parish Hall, Mr. W. Pickworth (vice-president) being voted to the chair at the beginning of the business. He was supported by the Rev. W. P. Cole Sheane, Mr. C. T. Coles and Mr. W. H. Hollier (joint hon. secretaries), Mr. J. A. Trollope (vice-president) and Mr. W. Pye (Master).

Mr. C. T. Coles, at the outset referred to the loss which the association had sustained by the death of their president, Mr. F. A. Milne, who was one of the founders of the association in the northern part of the county, out of which the present association grew, and who was their treasurer from the formation of the county association in 1897, and president for the last six years. He did a great deal for ringing in the county, but he did it very quietly, and his death was a great loss to them.

The members stood for a few moments in silence as a last mark of respect.

Mr. Hollier then proposed the election, as president, of the Rev. W. P. Cole Sheane, Vicar of Twickenham, Rural Dean of Hampton, and a ringer, who had promised to take office for a year.

Mr. Coles seconded, and said he was sure the members would welcome their new president and make him feel at home among them, so that he would consent to carry on for a longer period.

The motion having been carried amid applause, the Rev. W. P. Cole Sheane, in reply, thanked the members, and said he agreed to take the office for one year to give the members time to look round and find someone more suitable to fill the post. He felt sure there must be a number of persons who could fill the office so much better, but he would do all he could to forward the interests of the association.

The president then nominated Mr. W. Pickworth as vice-president of the North and East District, and Mr. J. A. Trollope as vice-president of the South and West District.

NOTABLE PEALS.

The report, which was taken as read, referred to the death of Mr. Milne, and gave a sketch of his connection with the Exercise and the Middlesex Association. It reviewed the events of the past year, recording a satisfactory attendance at district meetings and successful joint meetings with neighbouring associations. 'During the year,' the report continued, 'we elected one honorary and 78 ringing members in the North and East District, and 5 honorary and 17 ringing members in the South and West District. Despite these exceptional figures, our total membership, which now stands at 839, has not greatly increased. There are, no doubt, many difficulties in the way of retaining members who lack enthusiasm, but we again urge upon local secretaries the need to keep in touch with members of their hands, especially in the case of removals, and of making every effort to keep them in the association. An entirely new band has been formed at Clerkenwell, and is receiving tuition, so far with good results. The band at St. Ann's, Stamford Hill, has been considerably augmented, and is already making progress. We regret, however, that the band at St. Olave's, Hart Street, has withdrawn from membership. The peal list is of greater interest than usual. In all, 70 peals were rung, amongst them being several worthy of more than passing notice. From a purely scientific standpoint, the outstanding performance of the year was the peal of Spiced Surprise Major in ten different methods rung at Willesden on August 13th. The concentration of mental energy necessary to bring this peal to a successful issue was enormous, and it was not accomplished until several attempts had been made. This peal had been preceded on March 19th by one in six Surprise Methods, both being conducted by Mr. W. Pye, and the association can proudly point to having rung peals in four, five, six and ten Surprise methods, far surpassing anything done by any other society. First peals in various methods by the association were rung as follows: Putney Surprise Major at Broxbourne on January 26th; Rutland Surprise Major at Willesden on February 5th; and Double Norwich Court Bob Royal at Westminster on September 7th. Eight policemen rang a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at St. George's, Southwark, on May 25th, the conductor being Det.-Constable H. J. Poole, of Leicester. We congratulate the Force on attaining its ambition of ringing a Surprise peal. The 100th peal by the association on the Willesden bells was rung on April 16th. Of individual performances, mention should be made of a peal of Bob Minor rung at St. Ann's, Stamford Hill, on March 9th, by Mr. T. G. Deal, at the age of 81; and of a peal of Grandsire Triples at Pinner on July 6th, which was the first by Messrs. T. Humphreys and C. Lord, aged 67 and 72 respectively! Sixteen members rang their first peals, and 68 rang new methods to peals. In all some 178 members took part in the peals, which, with the exception of one on handbells, were rung in 36 different towers. Twenty-one members shared in the conducting. The peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus rung at Southwark Cathedral on June 15th was the 1,000th by Mr. W. Pye for the association.

BELL RESTORATION.

As far as bell restoration work is concerned, Messrs. Gillett and Johnston have recast the eight bells at St. James', Clerkenwell, and have rehung them in new fittings with strengthened framework. Clapper controls have been added to the treble, second, and tenor bells. The same firm have recently rehung the whole peal at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, and have rebuilt the iron frame on new steel foundations. Messrs. John Taylor and Co. have rehung the peal of eight at St. Mary Magdalene, Holloway, with new fittings. Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have refitted the eight bells at Heston in ball bearings, and have also added two trebles to the existing six at St. Olave's, Hart Street, the old bells being rehung with completely new fittings. This firm also have in hand the rehanging of the bells at St. Lawrence Jewry, E.C., and St. Dunstan's, Stepney. The fund which is being raised for the augmentation of the Isleworth bells now stands at a total of £140, and further subscriptions are earnestly solicited.

Congratulations were extended to the Rev. A. H. F. Boughay, an esteemed vice-president, on attaining his jubilee in the presidency of the Cambridge University Guild; to Mr. H. A. Barnett, of Tottenham, on reaching his 50th year as a ringer at that church; and to Mr. W. Webb, of Finchley, who in 54 years has not missed ringing in the New Year in his own tower. The failing health of Mr. T. Beadle is still a matter of concern. A practical method of showing sympathy for him in his long illness resulted in a sum of just over £20 being forwarded to him from his many friends, through the hon. secretary of the South and West District.

Sincere thanks were tendered to the many members who have acted as instructors during the past year. This work is of the utmost importance, and members able to assist the association's officers in this respect should get in touch with the hon. secretaries, who would be glad to find them something to do to help forward the progress of the association. The invaluable services rendered to the association by the joint hon. secretaries were also acknowledged. A great deal of their work was done silently and unseen. The members could best show their appreciation of their efforts by supporting them at association meetings and by prompt payment of subscriptions.

In moving the adoption of the report, Mr. Coles called attention to the excellent way in which it had been printed by 'The Ringing World.' He had been able to find only one error in the whole of the 58 pages, and that was a comma in the wrong place (laughter and applause). He also called attention to the reprint of the report of the Central Council's Committee on the law relating to church bells, ringing and ringers. It was a most valuable report, and was drawn up by three legal gentlemen—their late president, the Recorder of Lincoln, and Mr. E. W. Elwell.

The report was adopted, as was also the balance sheet of the central fund, which showed receipts amounting to £24 2s. 11d., and expenditure £23 5s. 6d., the balance of £29 3s. 8d. at the beginning of the year having been increased to £30 1s. 1d.

Mr. W. H. Seabrook, of Fulham, was elected a member, and the officers were elected as follows: Master, Mr. W. Pye; hon. treasurer, Mr. C. T. Coles; joint hon. secretaries, Messrs. C. T. Coles and W. H. Hollier; auditors, Messrs. J. E. Miller and W. Pickworth.

On the election of Central Council representatives, Mr. J. A. Trollope said the committee had gone into the question of the representation of the association. They wanted men for the position who not only had the time and were willing to serve, but men of some standing, both in the association and the Exercise. The committee, therefore, suggested the election of Messrs. C. T. Coles, W. H. Hollier, W. Pickworth and G. W. Fletcher.—This proposal was agreed to without discussion.

It was resolved that the peal books and the bound volumes of 'Bell News' belonging to the association should be transferred from Acton to St. Giles-in-the-Fields.

A MEMORIAL TO THE LATE PRESIDENT.

Mr. Coles brought forward a recommendation by the committee that a memorial to the late Mr. Milne should be placed in Barnet Church, and that it should take the form of a small brass. It could probably be erected very near to the association's memorial in the same church to the earlier president, the late Mr. A. T. King.

The suggestion was agreed to, and the carrying out of the project left to a small committee.

The next business was 'discussion of the Central Council agenda.' Mr. Coles said he did not know whether it was lack of interest or not, but there were only two motions down. That did not mean that the Council had no business to transact. The most important

MR. J. R. NEWMAN'S 25 YEARS' SERVICE.

Notwithstanding a drab and cheerless day devoid of one ray of Easter sunshine, a goodly number met in the 'Faithful City' for the annual meeting and service of the Worcestershire and Districts Association on Bank Holiday.

Bells at the Cathedral and various churches were in use, and at 2.30, instead of 2.15, the Dean (Dr. Moore Ede), as usual, occupied the chair, and the routine business was soon disposed of. President, vice-presidents, lay vice-presidents, to whom was added Mr. W. Page, Master, secretary, treasurer, auditors, Central Committee, and Messrs. R. G. Knowles, J. D. Johnson and H. G. Bird, Central Council representatives, were all elected. Mr. T. J. Salter expressed a desire to retire after 25 years' consistent and faithful service, for which he was thanked.

The report and balance sheet were also adopted. Mr. J. R. Newman then briefly reviewed the progress and work of the association during the last 25 years, as that day completed a quarter of a century of his secretaryship. He gave the following comparisons: Number of members increased from 313 to 578, towers affiliated from 30 to 65, annual report enlarged from 31 to 69 pages, and a credit balance of £8 increased to the much more satisfactory figure of £107, a total of £85 having been subscribed during the past ten years toward the cost of rehanging, etc., at various towers in the area.

Mr. Newman, with that admirable, unostentatious, magnanimous, unselfish and brotherly spirit, of which he is the very essence, thanked the officers and rank and file of the branches who had loyally and unstintingly helped to bring about such progress. One noticed how feelingly he spoke of the many friends he had made after coming among them almost a stranger 25 years ago.

Appreciative comments followed, and a suggestion which, it is hoped, will be executed later.

The sum of £10 was voted to the augmenting and rehanging of the bells of Hinton-on-the-Green—a village of 200 inhabitants situated the vale of Evesham—from the belfry repairs fund. This was generously supplemented by an offer from the Dean of the collection at the subsequent service.

At this point, with half an hour to spare, there was a surprise when the Dean, with a hope of entertaining the members, asked Mr. F. E. Dawe, of London, to give his experiences of Worcester Cathedral bells in the seventies. The Dean himself followed with a talk on the renovation of the tomb of King John.

These two last points were unfortunate, and disappointment prevailed, seeing that two most important matters, namely, the newly-constituted library by Mr. T. J. Salter and a discussion on Central Council matters, were not mentioned.

At the service which followed, the Rev. Canon Cheshire gave an address from Ezekiel ii. 5, and afterwards tea was partaken of at the Co-operative Cafe.

THE BERKSHIRE TWELVE-BELL FUND.

The balance sheet of the Berkshire Twelve-bell Fund, audited by Mr. Arthur J. Wright, has been issued by the joint organisers, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn and Mr. R. T. Hibbert. The total subscriptions received amounted to £192 9s. 3d., and added to this was £1 7s. 2d. interest. The expenditure included £168 4s. on the two new bells, fittings and hanging, in St. Laurence's tower, Reading, and other incidentals amounting to £8 10s. 6d., leaving a balance of £19 1s. 11d., of which £10 will be given to the Bell Restoration Fund of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, and the remainder, after deducting the cost of printing and circulating the balance sheet, to the churchwardens' special fund for the upkeep of St. Laurence's bells.

part of its work was the discussion of the reports of the committee, but the only motions of which notice had been given was that honorary members and the fourth representative member of an association should pay 2s. 6d. per annum. At present hon. members paid nothing, and the association paid 5s. each for representative members. He hardly thought that was worth while discussing at that meeting, but that they should give their representatives a free hand.—This was agreed to.

It was resolved to hold the next annual general meeting at St. James', Clerkenwell, with St. Giles-in-the-Fields as an alternative.

Mr. W. H. Hewett made a suggestion that a joint meeting should be held, if possible, with the Ancient Society of College Youths, the Royal Cumberland Youths, and the London County Association. A discussion ensued, from which it was apparent that members were in favour of such a meeting, if it could be arranged, and it was decided to make inquiries among the other societies to ascertain their feeling in the matter.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Rector of Fulham, Mr. Page and his mother, who had done the catering and made practically all the arrangements at Fulham for the meeting, the incumbents, tower secretaries and towerkeepers at Hammersmith, Wandsworth and Putney, to the president, and to hon. secretaries for their invaluable services during the year. The meeting also extended a welcome to Messrs. Panther and Gill of the Barnsley Association.

THE LATE MR. J. F. C. BAYLEY.

The death of Mr. James C. F. Bayley, briefly recorded in our last issue, removes a well-known figure from London ringing circles. Mr. Bayley, who was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, was for many years steepiekeeper at St. Giles', Cripplegate, where, when the bells were not rung, he regularly chimed for the services. He was a born musician, and had a collection of over 400 hymn tunes, which he played on the twelve bells. The music of these tunes he had written out by hand, and he played them strictly in accordance with the seasons and special days of the Church. His last performance was on Passion Sunday.

Mr. Bayley was formerly a partner in the firm of Smith and Bayley, printers, of Kennington, but retired some years ago. He was a Freeman of the City, a life member of the Guild of Freeman, and a great lover of old buildings.

He was a regular altar server on week days at the Church of St. Magnus-the-Martyr, London Bridge, and made an imposing figure in his robes.

He died, after only a few days' illness, and was buried in the Roman Catholic portion of Streatham Park Cemetery on Maundy Thursday. The Rector of St. Magnus (Rev. Fynes Clinton) officiated, attended by the crossbearer, Mr. Greenwood, a grandson of Mr. Samuel Greenwood, of Stratham ringing fame. The last rites were carried out with impressive ritual, and at the close of the service a party of ringers rang three whole pulls of rounds three times, and followed with a course of Stedman Triples on handbells.

On May 5th, Vespers of the Dead will be said at St. Magnus' Church, and at noon on the following day there will be a Requiem Mass at the same church, which will be attended by the family.

CHURCH BELLS AND FIRE INSURANCE.

From time to time there occur instances of the loss of church bells as the result of the destruction of the tower by fire. Happily, disasters of this sort are rare occurrences, but there has been the recent case at Eaton Socon in Bedfordshire. The loss of a parish church through such a cause, especially when it is an ancient and beautiful building, is always a deplorable thing and very naturally arouses sympathy among churchmen throughout the country. The disaster at Eaton Socon was an almost overwhelming one for the parishioners, for the fabric has been reduced to a ruin. The bells themselves were not altogether destroyed but were very much damaged. The loss was referred to the annual meeting of the Bedfordshire Association, when, very naturally, the question of the restoration of the bells was uppermost in the minds of the ringers. The President (Canon Baker) said that the church was well insured, but 'if they got the whole of the insurance the restoration of the church to anything like its former beauty would cost a very large sum.' He added that there was no immediate prospect of being able to restore the bells and the Vicar had told him that the bells were 'one of the last things that would have to be considered.' Why? Surely the bells should be considered equally with the other furniture and embellishments of the church; they are valuable property and there is no real justification for passing over their restoration. The bells should be dealt with at the same time as all the other things covered by the insurance. We hope that when the scheme to restore the church is really in hand, the tower and bells will find their proper place in it, despite a present tendency to make the bells 'one of the last things to be considered.'

Presumably at Eaton Socon there was no special insurance of the bells. There is, we believe, no obligation on church authorities to do this, but it is done in some parishes and it is a wise provision. An authority on church insurance says, 'It is the paramount duty of Parochial Church Councils to keep the church and all its fittings fully insured against fire. It will generally be proper to insure different portions and articles separately.' If this latter direction were acted upon, when fire overtook a church, the disaster would not leave the bells one of the last things to be considered, and with the example of Eaton Socon before them, ringers would do well to urge, through their Parochial Church Councils, that the bells be specially provided for in the insurance policies. And this gives point to another matter of importance. If the bells are specially included, they are much more likely to be insured at their real replacement value. In churches, especially those with old rings, the amount provided for bells and bell frame in the estimated 'over all' value of the fabric and furnishings is doubtless often only a fractional portion of the replacement cost, and where ringers are sufficiently alive to the importance of this question to raise the matter with their church council, it would be well, even if they cannot get separate provision for the bells in the fire policy, to ascertain whether the contents of the towers are in fact fully covered and to press for their adequate insurance.

WEDDING OF WELL-KNOWN RINGER.

On Easter Saturday a wedding took place at the old Parish Church, Luton, between Mr. Augustin V. E. Good, a well-known ringer, and Miss Eva May Hensbrey, of Luton. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very pretty in white satin, and was attended by three bridesmaids and a page. Mr. H. E. Good, of Sutton, Surrey, brother of the bridegroom, and also a well-known ringer, acted as best man, whilst another campanologist was present in the person of Mr. Wallace Good (the bridegroom's father), captain of the ringers at Charing, Kent.

As the bridal pair left the church, the bells were rung to the tune of Stedman Triples, and later a peal of Double Norwich Major was attempted (conducted by Mr. A. E. Sharman, of Dunstable), which unfortunately came to grief half-way through. After the ceremony nearly a hundred friends, including many ringers, attended a reception at St. Paul's Church Hall, where the festivities were carried on till a late hour, when the happy couple left to take up residence in their new home at Hemel Hempstead.

The bridegroom, who started his ringing career at Charing, and at different times rang at Dunstable, St. Peter's, Brighton, Apsley End and Hemel Hempstead, was the recipient of many presents from his ringing friends.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.EARLS COLNE BELLS TO BE RESTORED.

The picturesque village of Earls Colne was the scene of a very pleasant gathering of ringers on Saturday week, when upwards of 50 members representing 22 parishes attended a meeting of the Northern Division. Ringing commenced about 2.30 p.m., and was continued at intervals until nearly nine o'clock, during which time touches in various methods ranging from Bob Minor to London Surprise Major were successfully brought round.

A service was held at which the Vicar (Rev. O. L. Martin, M.A.) gave an excellent address, and Mr. C. H. Howard, Master of the association, read the lesson. Tea was provided at the Duke of Wellington Inn, where 42 sat down.

At the business meeting which followed, Mr. Howard was supported by the District Master (Mr. A. A. Saunders), the district secretary (Mr. F. Ridgewell), Mr. W. J. Nevard (District Master, North-Eastern Division), and Mr. E. J. Butler (district secretary, South-Western Division). Three new ringing members were elected, and it was decided to hold a joint meeting at Great Tey on May 24th, also a meeting at Wethersfield on June 14th.

Mr. Howard proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar and organist for their services, and remarked on the excellent address the Vicar had given. He was very pleased, he said, that they had paid another visit to delightful parish of Earls Colne, and the beautiful church. He was also pleased the Vicar had in hand the restoration of the church bells, for he had no hesitation in saying that, apart from the loyalty to the Church, Earls Colne possessed one of the best companies of ringers in the diocese for their punctuality, high-class ringing and excellent striking. He also appreciated the progress made at Great Tey. He was pleased to see one ringer, who was only 12 years of age, ringing the treble, and he accorded them a hearty welcome as he did also some members of the Ely Diocese and Messrs. Nevard and Butler.

The Rev. O. L. Martin suitably responded. He extended a warm welcome to the ringers, and thanked Mr. Howard for the kind remarks he had made respecting his ringers. An estimate for £123 for the restoration of the church bells would be accepted as soon as the funds were forthcoming, and he hoped that after the work was completed the ringers would do even better things. Mr. Nevard, in reply, said he rang two peals on Easter Monday. They had a most enjoyable time, but he thought they might have rung a third peal just to finish the day off.

PLESHEY'S OLD BELLS RESTORED.

By kind permission of the Rev. C. H. B. Woodd, Vicar of Pleshey, Essex, six-scores of Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, St. Simon's and Canterbury Doubles were rung upon the bells of the Church of the Holy Trinity on Saturday, May 3rd, by the following members of the Essex Association: H. E. Hammond, C. H. Howard, W. J. Nevard, L. W. Wiffen and W. Keeble.

The bells, a ring of five, which have been recently rehung by Mr. A. Bowell, are in excellent going order, but the tone gives one the impression that they were intended for a ring of six, with the tenor yet to be added.

The 2nd and 4th are 15th century bells by William Dawe; the treble by Miles Gray, 1620; the 3rd was recast in 1752; and the 5th, weighing 12 cwt., recast by Warner, 1854.

Near the church are the remains of a Norman fortification, now known as the Mount. It was from here that the Duke of Gloucester was decoyed from his castle to France and murdered in Paris in 1397.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.DEVIZES BRANCH.

The monthly meeting of the Devizes branch was held at the Parish Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Heytesbury, on Saturday. The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. G. L. Anderson), Mr. Targett being the organist. Twenty-seven sat down to tea at the Angel Hotel, and at the short business meeting which followed Mr. C. D. Heginbotham presided. He congratulated the people of Heytesbury on the work of rehanging the bells and referred to the condition of the bells a few years ago.—The secretary (Mr. F. Green) read a copy of the letter of sympathy sent to Mr. T. Hervey Beams, of Bradpole, Dorset, assistant secretary of the Guild, and the reply received from Mrs. Beams.

On the motion of the chairman, a vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells and conducting the service, to the organist, and to those who prepared the tea.—The Vicar, in reply, gave a hearty welcome to the Guild, and said how pleased the people of Heytesbury were to have the bells in good order again. He hoped the branch would soon pay another visit to Heytesbury.

The ringers, including Mr. A. E. Baverstock (Zeals St. Martin) and Mr. E. Coward (Mere), were present from Heytesbury, Aldbourne, Devizes St. John and St. Mary, Bratton, Melksham, Warminster and Rowde. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, and Cambridge Surprise Minor were rung during the afternoon and evening.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR
PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

'THE RINGING WORLD'S' 1,000th NUMBER.

Special articles and photographs will make our 1,000th number an issue which all ringers will want to read and keep.

It will appear on Friday, May 23rd, but it will then be too late for those who have not ordered their copy to obtain one. There can be no reprint.

Apart from the fact that this issue marks an important event in the history of the ringing Press, its contents will be of special interest to all ringers.

Among the features will be articles specially written for this number by prominent members of the Exercise, and the pictures will include an exclusive photograph of the Rev. Canon G. F. Coleridge, president of the Central Council.

Order at once from your newsgagent, or direct from 'The Ringing World' Office, Woking (post free 3d.). Regular readers will be doing us a favour if they will draw the attention of non-subscribers to this announcement.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Will members of the Middlesex Association and others note that the meeting at St. Mary's, Enfield, will be held on May 17th, and not on the 24th, as advertised last week. The hon. secretary regrets the error made in sending the notice.

Will the gentleman who took the wrong bowler hat from the meeting room at Windsor on Saturday be good enough to return it to Mr. J. A. Dart, of 25, Elm Grove, Crouch End, N.8.

Provincial members of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths visiting London for the Whitsun holiday who may be desirous of standing in a twelve-bell peal on Whit-Monday are invited to communicate with Mr. J. Sparrow, secretary, 5, Bandon Rise, Wallington, Surrey.

On May 10th, 1777, a peal of 10,200 Treble Bob Royal was rung at Shoreditch. It was one of the peals which figured in the competitive lengths between the Royal Cumberlands and College Youths, and this peal went to the credit of the former.

A peal of 12,240 Bob Major was rung at Braughing, Herts, on May 10th, 1779.

Sunday is the anniversary of the 14,112 London Surprise Major rung at King's Norton in 1903. It still is the record length in the method. There are, it is said, two longer compositions of London Major, but they have not yet been rung.

The first peal on the bells of St. Clement Danes, Strand, was a 6,485 rung by the College Youths on May 14th, 1845.

St. James' Society rang a peal of 12,096 Grandsire Caters at Fulham on May 15th, 1837.

'By George! Henry VIII's peal here was a topper. His merry w—no, lassies, are worthy of us raising our hats to such princesses.' Thus a correspondent at Shiplake, anent the peal there last Saturday.

Mr. W. E. Judd, who succeeded the late Mr. W. E. Garrard as conductor of the band at St. Mary Abbot's, Kensington, has been presented by the members with a gold bell pendant, suitably inscribed. The answer to a Midland correspondent is 'No.'

The number of changes in the long peal of Grandsire Cinques at Painswick on Easter Monday was 12,231, and not 12,221, as reported by the conductor.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

MR. E. DENISON TAYLOR ELECTED PRESIDENT.

CONDITIONS FOR PEALS.

The annual meeting of the Midland Counties Association was held (by the usual rotation) at Burton-on-Trent on Easter Monday. The weather, which had previously been very boisterous and wet, did not prove too bad, consequently from an early hour quite a host of ringers assembled at the various churches open for ringing. Every district of the association's activities was represented in force, viz.: Burton, Chesterfield, Derby, Nottingham, Hinckley, Leicester, Loughborough and the Peak of Derbyshire. There were also welcome friends from as far distant as Birmingham and Wellingborough, Dorc, Bottesford, Croydon and other places too numerous to mention. The bells of Burton, St. Paul's (10), St. Modwen (8), Winhill (6) and Rolleston-on-Dove (8) were in great demand, and touches in all sorts of methods more or less successfully rung. The committee met in the afternoon in St. Paul's Institute to discuss and carry out a very heavy programme of routine and other business, and deliberated for over two hours on the various items brought forward. Tea was served at 5 p.m., at which well over 100 ringers and friends were present. The chair was taken by the Vice-President (Mr. Joseph Griffin), supported by the hon. treasurer (Mr. W. Wallace), the hon. secretary (Mr. Ernest Morris), the Rev. H. E. Worthington (Rector of Seals), Mr. E. Denison Taylor (Loughborough), Mr. and Mrs. Mears, the latter being the daughter of the former president (Mr. John W. Taylor, jun.).

Mr. E. DENISON TAYLOR.

Head of the Loughborough Bell Foundry, who has been elected President of the Midland Counties Association.

The business meeting followed immediately after tea, and the vice-president gave a brief resumé of the committee's deliberations before going into full details. The general hon. secretary (Mr. Ernest Morris) read apologies for absence from Sir Percival Heywood, Bt. (son of the late Sir Arthur); Prebendary A. Lowe, Vicar of Rangemore; the Rev. W. G. Clark Maxwell, of Markeaton Hall; and the Rev. W. Peter Wright, the Squire of Eyam.

The report and balance sheet for 1929 were duly passed on the proposition of Mr. William Willson, seconded by Mr. John H. Swinfield, Mr. Willson remarking on the fact that the working expenses had produced a deficit of £18, and urging members to consider this, and a means of altering this adverse balance. New members proposed since the last meeting were duly confirmed, viz., 23 ringings, 2 life and five honorary. The general hon. secretary here complimented the Derby local secretary (Mr. George Freebrey) for his energetic work, especially in assisting him in distributing reports and circulars to hon. members, a work formerly done by the late president, Alderman Chambers; also upon the fact that the five newly elected hon. members were all his (Mr. Freebrey's) work, and included the Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, M.P., Lord Privy Seal. It is hoped that other local secretaries will note this, and thus do their best to get hon. members, whose support so helps the association, both morally and financially.

NEW PRESIDENT ELECTED.

The election of general officers for 1930 was then proceeded with, and the Vice-President stated that no nominations for president had been received, save that of Mr. E. Denison Taylor, whom they were all pleased to welcome. He himself had been approached on the matter, but he felt that as he resided so far out of the centre of the association's sphere, and was getting on in years, someone more able should take on the work. He, therefore, had great pleasure in announcing that Mr. Taylor was elected to the presidency. Needless to say, this was received with acclamation.

Mr. Taylor responded in a very fine and vigorous speech, in which he paid a great tribute to the past presidents of the M.C.A. First was the Rev. J. Fish, Vicar of St. Paul's, Burton-on-Trent, who was a good ringer and energetic worker on their behalf. Next came Mr. A. P. Heywood (afterwards Sir Arthur), whose great deeds not only for this association, but for ringers and ringing generally, were widely known. Following him came his (the speaker's) brother, the late Mr. John W. Taylor, jun., who, not only as a bellfounder, but as an experienced ringer and conductor, did great things for the art. Lastly came the late lamented Alderman R. B. Chambers, of Derby, of whom it was safe to say he raised the association to its present strong financial position more than any other individual, whether ringer or otherwise. Now he himself was chosen, and although to his mind an unworthy successor to a fine set of gentlemen, nevertheless he would do all in his power to follow their good deeds, and give his best efforts to furthering the interests of the association. He paid a striking tribute to the original members of the association, alas, now growing very few, and welcomed at least three that afternoon—Mr. S. Maskery, of Derby; Mr. J. Jagger; and their vice-president, Mr. J. Griffin, of Burton. He also recalled other names of old and respected members, and paid a tribute to the services of the present officers, the treasurer, Mr. W. Wallace, of Derby, who worked incessantly in the good cause, and their painstaking and vigorous hon. secretary, Mr. Ernest Morris. To the latter he was indebted for much of his information, and he knew him not only as a ringer of ability, but as an historian and archaeologist of repute in other spheres outside the ringing association. Both Mr. Morris and he were members of the Leicestershire Archaeological Society. Mr. Taylor further urged all members to do their utmost for the art and the association, as it was only by each individual's effort that they could maintain and carry forward the glorious heritage of the past, and thus make the association one of the best and foremost in the country.

The hon. secretary (Mr. E. Morris) said that as they had had a vice-president on several occasions in the past, he proposed Mr. Joseph Griffin to that office.—This was carried unanimously.

Mr. Walter Wallace was re-elected hon. treasurer and Mr. Ernest Morris hon. secretary for the ensuing year. As there were six names proposed for delegates to the Central Council and four only required for this office, a ballot was taken, which resulted in the following being elected: The Rev. R. P. Farrow (Stoney Stanton), Messrs. John H. Swinfield (Burton), E. Denison Taylor (Loughborough), William Willson (Leicester).

A PROPOSED MEMORIAL.

Regarding the proposed memorial tablet to the late president—Alderman R. B. Chambers, B.A., J.P.—the general hon. secretary had been in communication with Mrs. Chambers, who had selected St. Peter's, Derby, as the most suitable church in which this could be erected, as her late husband had been over 20 years churchwarden there. A letter had also been received from the Vicar and Church Council, asking for fuller details before proceeding with the scheme, and in the committee discussion on the matter it was decided that a deputation visit St. Peter's, Derby, and fully go into the matter of material, size, wording, etc., of the tablet. Those selected were Messrs. Griffin, Wallace, Morris, Webb and Cockey, the first three being the officers of the association and the two latter experts in their respective trades.

Places selected by the committee for the next three quarterly meetings were Duffield (June), Bottesford (September) and Hinckley (January, 1931). These were duly ratified.

Regarding the War Saving Certificates belonging to the association, the hon. treasurer explained that a communication had been received from the solicitors of the estate of the late president (Mr. R. B. Chambers, who had held same on trust) that a new trustee must be appointed before these could be transferred. The committee had, therefore, suggested that Mr. William Willson, of Leicester, and Mr. W. Wallace, of Derby, be trustees, and the general hon. secretary was requested to get the necessary transfer made.—This was agreed to.

Honorariums were granted to the general hon. secretary and the eight local secretaries, but it was pointed out in the committee that these would have to be reviewed another year, as the association had actually worked at a loss during the past year. The hon. treasurer asked each local secretary to do his best to gather in all subscriptions outstanding, as this would then put matters right.

PEAL BOOKING FEES.

Next arose the question of charging for the booking of peals and for printing them in the annual report. Although not the first proposer of this, Mr. William Willson formally proposed that in future all reports of peals be charged at the rate of 3d. per man per peal. He pointed out the deficiency in the association's working funds and supported this measure as a means of getting extra money, and in this he was seconded by Mr. A. J. Harris, who contended that those who rang peals ought to be pleased to pay for the booking of them. Mr. W. E. White also supported this view.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

PRESENTATIONS AT A BRANCH MEETING.

The annual meeting of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch, held at Farnham Royal, was quite a successful one, some dozen or more towers being represented. An excellent address was given by the Rector (the Rev. A. F. G. Farmer) on the text, 'Quit ye like men.' A photograph of the party, taken before sitting down to tea, has turned out a success, and copies will be available for those who require them.

A departure from the usual routine was made directly after tea, when the chairman, on behalf of many friends, presented a handsome clock, with Westminster chimes, in mahogany case, to Mr. C. C. Mayne, and a pair of silver candlesticks to Mrs. C. C. Mayne, as a wedding present and mark of appreciation of services in the past.—Both the recipients replied, thanking their friends for this pleasant surprise.

Several interesting discussions took place during the business meeting, when it was decided to invest some of the branch funds in the Abbey Road Building Society at 5 per cent., also to grant an honorarium of £2 per annum to the branch secretary.

The following officers were elected: Chairman, the Rev. W. S. Riddelsdell, M.A.; branch ringing master, Mr. T. J. Fowler; secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. D. Barker; and five representatives to serve on the General Committee.

Great pleasure was expressed at the presence of the master (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), general secretary (Mr. R. T. Hibbert), and general treasurer (Mr. A. J. Wright), who congratulated the branch on still further progress.

The proposal was strongly condemned by Messrs. T. Vallance, J. Frank Smallwood, M. Swinfield and the general hon. secretary, each of whom emphasised the fact that peal ringers already paid for their peals, and often quite dearly, not only by travelling expenses, but by postages and in making arrangements, and then the sending to the ringing Press and to headquarters.

The general hon. secretary (Ernest Morris) stated that he had rung more peals for the M.C.A. than any other individual member, and that he could honestly say that every one had cost several shillings on an average, and that the idea of penalising peal ringers by this extra charge was certainly not the way to get extra funds. It had been said that all peals were rung for the glorification of individual ringers comprising the bands, but was not the association (as a body) proud of their performances? Would not the association's position be less prominent without their fine peal records?

Mr. Walter White, of Cotgrave, spoke of the pleasure and pride with which he—as a young ringer in the past—had read of the doings and peal records of the 'great ones' of the M.C.A. He contended that the best way to get funds was not to penalise peal ringers, but to raise the annual subscription, and issue a report to all members free. This was supported by Mr. Colin Harrison, who pointed out that this had already been successfully tried in another association.

The discussion became so protracted that many members had to leave the meeting to catch early trains, etc., and Mr. W. Willson finally withdrew the proposition.

Mr. W. E. White then brought forward two motions which had been discussed and passed in committee. The first was: That each acknowledged and recorded peal by the association must comply with the following conditions:—

1. All peals must commence and finish with rounds.
2. On five bells a peal must consist of not less than 42 true and complete 120's, each commencing and finishing with rounds. It may be lengthened by the addition of any number of 120's and for one shorter touch fulfilling the above conditions.
3. On six bells a peal must consist of not less than seven true and complete 720's, each commencing and finishing with rounds. It may be lengthened by the addition of any number of 720's and for one shorter touch fulfilling the above conditions.
4. On seven bells a peal must consist of not less than 5,040 true and complete changes, commencing and finishing with rounds.
5. On eight bells and upwards a peal must consist of not less than 5,000 true and complete changes, commencing and finishing with rounds.
6. Splicing of 5 and 6, 6 and 7, 7 and 8, 8 and 9, etc., bell methods will not be recognised in any peal.

ADDITION TO TITLE OF ASSOCIATION.

Mr. W. E. White then proposed that in future the full title of the association shall be 'The Midland Counties Association of Change Ringers for the Dioceses of Derby, Leicester, Lichfield and Southwell.' This had met with the approval of the Lord Bishops concerned, and was carried by the members remaining.

Later in the evening further ringing was done on both tower and handbells and a convivial hour spent 'in a select spot,' and thus ended a very successful meeting, although to the committee and officers concerned a very tiring one!

THE KING AND WINDSOR BELLS.

LARGE GATHERING OF RINGERS AT REOPENING.

The reopening of the bells at Windsor Parish Church on Saturday proved a great attraction to ringers, many of whom travelled considerable distances to be present on an interesting occasion. Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have had the bells at the foundry, where they were retuned. The old frame has been repaired and the bells have been hung in entirely new fittings. Not only do the bells now go perfectly, but a vast improvement has been effected in their tone, and those who knew the bells before the restoration were greatly pleased at the result. The work has cost about £230, which was raised largely by an appeal in the 'Windsor and Eton Gazette' and the efforts of Mr. E. R. Foreman (churchwarden). The list was headed by His Majesty the King and the Prince of Wales.

The bells were first rung on Easter Day, when the Vicar of Windsor (the Rev. C. H. Hamilton) wrote to Lord Stamfordham requesting him to inform His Majesty that the bells were complete, and that they had been used that day. The Vicar received the following reply:—

'Windsor Castle, April 21st, 1930.

'My Dear Vicar,—Many thanks for your letter of yesterday, which has been read by the King, who was so glad to hear the bells ring again yesterday. His Majesty heartily congratulates you on your successful undertaking for the restoration of the bells.—Yours very truly,
STAMFORDHAM.'

The letter has been framed and hung in the belfry.

The dedication service was conducted by the Vicar in the presence of a large congregation, and the dedicatory prayers were offered by the Bishop of Buckingham, who gave a most appropriate address.

The visiting ringers were afterwards entertained to tea at the Church House by the Vicar and churchwardens, and among those who were present were Mr. S. Oxley (representing the proprietors of the 'Gazette') Mr. J. M. Burne (churchwarden), Mr. A. A. Hughes (Whitechapel Foundry), Mr. J. J. Parker (the veteran composer and ringer, of Farnham Royal), Mr. Tom Benney, of Stepney (one of the oldest members of the College Youths), Mr. W. A. Cave and Mrs. R. J. Wilkins, of Bristol, and ringers from St. Mary Abbot's, Kensington, Southgate, Greenwich, Watford, Poole, Harrow, Camberwell, Slough, Staines, Shrivensham, Hillingdon, Boyne Hill, Old Windsor, Clewer, Beaconsfield, Bletchley, Cookham, High Wycombe and other places, the number being about 80. Much to his regret, Mr. Churchwarden Foreman was unable to be present owing to indisposition.

The Vicar, after tea, voiced the thanks of the church authorities to the local Press for having made the restoration scheme possible, and to the bellfounders for the excellent way in which they had carried out their work.—Mr. Stanley Oxley replied, and thanks were accorded to those who had kindly provided the tea, and to the ringers' wives who had superintended the serving of it.

The evening was spent in ringing touches in a variety of methods on the bells, a notable feature of this part of the proceedings being the excellent striking which predominated. The arrangements were efficiently carried out by Mr. L. Stillwell, who was indefatigable in securing the comfort and enjoyment of the ringers.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

THE IMPROVEMENT IN NORTH COLLINGHAM BELLS.

The North Notts Association held a very enjoyable meeting at North Collingham on Easter Monday, when ringers were present from Anston, Edwinstowe, Gamston, Sutton-on-Trent, Ordsall, Wheatley, Worksop, Nottingham, Lincoln, Great Hale, Eagle, South Collingham and the local company to test the beautiful bells, which have recently been rehung on ball bearings.

After tea the business meeting was presided over by the Vicar, Canon Gould, who was accompanied by Mrs. Gould, and the treasurer and secretary. The Vicar, in giving a hearty welcome to the association, remarked upon the recent overhauling of the bells, and said he hoped that the ringers had found a great improvement. No good ringing could be done before the repairs had been carried out.

The arrangements for the next meeting were left to the committee to decide. The secretary said that it would, as usual, be held at East Retford, and would be the 42nd annual meeting. He hoped that ringers would try and make it a record gathering.

The following members were duly elected: Arthur Jessop and John Day, performing members from North Collingham, and Mrs. P. Humphreys (Folkingham), Mrs. J. Bray (Burton Stather), Mr. R. Richardson (Surfleet), Mr. F. E. Collins (Norwood) as non-resident life members.

In proposing a vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens, caterers and local company for all the privileges and work that had been done in making such an enjoyable day, Mr. C. McGuiness said the 'go' of the bells was considerably improved and an excellent job had been made of them.—Mr. C. F. Fowler seconded the motion, which was unanimously carried.

The methods rung were Plain Bob, Kent, Oxford and Sandal Treble Bob, Stedman Doubles and Cambridge Surprise. The probationary members of North Collingham acquitted themselves admirably.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.INSURANCE OF CHURCH BELLS AGAINST FIRE.

The Bedfordshire Association discussed several matters of importance at their annual meeting on Easter Monday, when they met at Leighton Buzzard. There was ringing on the ten bells at Leighton Buzzard and the eight at Linslade during the day, and after lunch, Canon W. W. C. Baker (president) presided over the business meeting. Explaining why they met in Leighton Buzzard again, the President said they had hoped to meet at Bedford, and their hopes were raised when they heard that the bells of St. Paul's Church were to be put in order, but the work was not yet begun, although it was hoped that by another year the association would be able to resume their meetings there. In the meantime, they were grateful to Leighton Buzzard for providing them with the next best place of meeting. It was not unfitting, however, that they should come to that side of the county, considering the history that had been made in the restoration of the bells at Tilsforth and the addition of a treble bell at Totternhoe. The association congratulated these parishes on the success of their efforts. The Diocesan Advisory Committee had not been able to prevent them doing what they wanted to (hear, hear).

The 47th annual report of the committee stated that that year had been a successful one. There had been a slight increase, both in honorary and ringing members. The peals rung, however, were only 28, against 34 for the previous year, but a good feature was that a number of young members had rung their first peal. The association had lost by death its hon. auditor, Mr. F. T. Tanqueray, of Woburn. He was one of the few members who had remained with the association since its formation. He conducted the first 720 of Bob Minor ever rung in the county. Owing to his departure from Bedford, Mr. J. Newington had had to resign from the secretaryship of the Bedford district. Mr. Bonnett, of Stagsden, had succeeded him. Two important restorations had taken place at Tilsforth and Totternhoe, where there were now rings of six, and both towers had keen bands of young ringers.

MEMBERSHIP SUBSCRIPTION TOO LOW?

The balance sheet showed a balance in hand of slightly over £24, and Canon Baker said that when they started the association the Duke of Bedford gave them a donation of £25. Nearly 50 years after they had still got nearly £25 in hand.

The report and balance sheet were adopted, and a suggestion by Mr. A. Markwell, that the members' subscription of 1s. was too low and should be increased, was referred to the next annual meeting.

On being re-elected president, Canon Baker said there was no honour he appreciated more, but if he lived to meet them another year he would be 70, and it would be time to make way for some younger and more energetic member. He was ringing in defiance of doctor's orders, to which he did not pay much attention, but he was not able to take part in peals now.

Four vice-presidents elected were: Miss E. Steel, Bedford; Mr. A. King, Luton; Mr. C. Herbert, Woburn; and the Rev. A. Rust, Husborne Crawley. Mr. E. Herbert was elected hon. auditor, and Mr. A. E. Sharman, of Dunstable, hon. secretary and treasurer, the Rev. A. Rust paying a warm tribute to Mr. Sharman's work. Canon Baker and Mr. Sharman were re-elected representatives to the Central Council. Canon Baker regretted that an old friend, Canon Coleridge, was resigning from the presidency of the Central Council, owing to advancing age. It was decided to send a message of sympathy to Canon Coleridge in his illness.

When the place for the next meeting was under discussion, Canon Baker said that Leighton Buzzard was a delightful place, but on the edge of a precipice into another county, whereas Bedford, apart from being the county town, had an admirable peal of bells. He proposed that the next annual meeting be held at Bedford. Mr. J. Nicholls, of Leighton Buzzard, seconded, and the meeting agreed.

It was decided to hold the summer meeting at Cardington.

EATON SOCON BELLS.

Canon Baker referred to the disastrous fire at Eaton Socon Church, and said that fortunately they were well insured, but if they got the whole of the insurance, the restoration of the church to anything like its former beauty would cost a very large sum. If the bells were not altogether destroyed, they were very much damaged. They had been taken down for safety, and there was no immediate prospect of being able to restore them. The Vicar told him that the bells would be one of the last things that would have to be considered. He did not know whether it would be possible for the ringers of Bedfordshire, not only the members of the association, to do what they could by small subscriptions, spread over a term of years, to help to get these bells rehung. If they could organise some sort of a subscription from ringers in the county, anything they could give would be very warmly appreciated by the Vicar and churchwardens, and would be earmarked for that purpose. It might result in the bells being got to work again sooner than they otherwise would. He would undertake to communicate with ringers all over the county to see if they could not raise some small sum. It was an overwhelming disaster for the people of Eaton Socon, but on the day after the fire the Vicar received a letter from a gentleman expressing sympathy and enclosing a cheque for £100, and that was a very tangible form of sympathy that the association might try and imitate.

Mr. Markwell suggested that the appeal be made a diocesan affair, and Mr. Sharman was in favour of collecting cards in each tower. A subscription from the association was also suggested, and in the end it was decided to leave the matter in Canon Baker's hands.

The Rev. A. Rust thought that church insurance policies should stipulate separately the things covered by it. At Husborne Crawley they had insured their bells definitely as such, and it should be done in every parish.

Mr. Sharman asked whether it was the duty of the Rural Dean or the Archdeacon to see that the bells were insured.

Canon Baker replied that it was the duty of the Parochial Church Council.

Mr. Sharman said the bells should not be allowed to get into the condition some did. It should be compulsory to keep bells as much in repair as the fabric. At Caddington the wheels were broken, and it was a disgrace to any church.

Mr. King: It's a bird's paradise (laughter).

Canon Baker said they could not now compel people to spend money as in the old days, when there were church rates, and when the churchwardens were ordered to levy a rate and do the work. Since the abolition of church rates, this was no longer possible. That was why there were ruined churches in Bedfordshire. He thought the suggestion that bells should be adequately insured an admirable one.

Mr. Sharman recalled that when the tower at Totternhoe was burned out the bells were rehung as part of the restoration scheme, and nothing was heard about them being provided for separately.

SUGGESTED REVISION OF DISTRICTS.

Mr. Sharman raised the question of revising the districts. He said there was a very wide area in the county that needed 'roping in' by the association. There was a wide area all round Amphill where there was no change ringing, and he wondered whether the association could not form a small committee to re-group the county. There were three districts of Biggleswade, Luton and Bedford, but there was a wide area uncovered, and they did not know whose district it was. Could not the county be re-formed on the rural deanery system?

Miss Steel said it was understood that Amphill, Maulden and Flitwick were in the Luton district.

Mr. Sharman added that they were out to extend change ringing, and this was an opportunity to do it.

The question was referred to the committee.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Vicars of Leighton and Linslade for the use of the church belfries, and to Mr. J. Nicholls for making the arrangements for the visit.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION. WARM WELCOME AT HEDON.

A general meeting of the Yorkshire Association was held at Hedon, near Hull, on Easter Monday. A boisterous and stormy week-end had the effect of substantially reducing the attendance at the gathering. Hedon is situated five miles from Hull, and the magnificent Parish Church of St. Augustine is a tribute to its former commercial importance. Dating from 1185 A.D., the church has cathedral-like proportions, and its elaborate and beautiful examples of styles in various periods of architecture emphasise its claim to be the 'King of Holderness,' as the inhabitants proudly proclaim. The tower contains a splendid new ring of eight bells (tenor 17½ cwt.), and their beautiful tone and perfect 'go' add yet another laurel to the famous Loughborough Foundry.

A meeting of the committee of the association was held in the early afternoon, following which the general meeting was held in the neighbouring schoolroom. Letters of apology for non-attendance were received from the president (the Rev. C. C. Marshall), Messrs. A. Walker, G. Halksworth, G. Lewis and F. Clark.

Mr. Arthur Moody, of Hedon, was elected as a member of the association, and a most hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar of Hedon, the Rev. E. H. M. Ainslie, M.A., for so kindly granting the use of the splendid new ring, was moved by Mr. P. J. Johnson, and seconded by Mr. F. G. Sherwood.

The Vicar of Hedon, in reply, said how delighted he was to have the visitors at Hedon, and also how gratified he was with the admiration which the new bells excited. In a passing word to his own new young band, the Vicar urged them never to forget that they were part of the church organisation, and to let that thought urge them to give of their best to change ringing, and let their example be a worthy one for others to follow.

Mr. S. F. Palmer proposed a vote of thanks to the local company and the ladies for their kind arrangements. This was seconded by Mr. J. Lawson.

In racy replies, Messrs. C. Drescher and G. B. Newton gave promise of great things in the ringing world, and bade the senior members look to their laurels in the near future.

An invitation to hold the next meeting of the association at Calverley in September was accepted on the motion of Mr. S. F. Palmer, seconded by Mr. W. Middleton.

A bountiful tea, served in the same schoolroom, was greatly appreciated by some 40 members, and the reply to a vote of thanks by Mrs. Drescher, of Hedon, proved the village capable of producing excellent speakers, in addition to enthusiastic ringers and first-class cooks.

Ringing continued in the tower until a late hour, many of the local young band being piloted through their first plain courses and touches, and their great keenness is an earnest of brilliant achievements in the future.

This account would be incomplete without a reference to a warm welcome at the church by Alderman Allan Park, and the memory of this delightful village, the magnificent church and the wholehearted welcome will long remain a pleasant recollection with all those who attended this meeting.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD. PORTSMOUTH DISTRICT.

A very successful meeting was held at Hambledon (the birthplace of cricket) on Saturday week, the glorious weather attracting nearly 40 ringers during the afternoon and evening from Bramshott, East Meon, Petersfield, Portsmouth (St. Mary's), Hambledon, Shedfield, Swanmore, Titchfield and visitors from Ryde and Beaconsfield (Bucks). By kind permission of the Vicar, the peal of six were available for ringing, and at the service, conducted by the Rev. E. B. Maynard, in the unavoidable absence of the Vicar, owing to ill-health, the Guild's new form was used.

Tea at the New Inn was followed by the business meeting, at which the Rev. E. B. Maynard presided. Three new members from Hambledon and two from Titchfield were elected.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at East Meon on Saturday, July 19th, and a meeting for combined practice at Curdridge on Saturday, May 31st, due notice of which will appear in 'The Ringing World.'

Votes of thanks were accorded the Rev. E. B. Maynard for his kindness in being present, and also to the lady who presided at the organ. This concluded the meeting, after which a further visit was paid to the tower, where touches were rung, comprising Grandeire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and Treble Bob Minor and Cambridge Surprise.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT.

A meeting of the Winchester District took place at Alresford on Saturday. Ringing commenced on the ring of eight bells at 3 o'clock, and was followed by a service in the church, conducted by the Vicar.

Tea was prepared at the Swan Hotel, to which, however, 14 only sat down. Members present were from Winchester, Bishop's Sutton, Titchfield, Overton, Micheldever, King's Somborne and Alresford.

After the business meeting, the members paid a visit to Old Alresford Church, where there is a pretty ring of six, which were utilised for an hour, and a move was then made to Bishop's Sutton, where there is a ring of five bells. This brought to a close a very enjoyable afternoon and evening.

THE DEVON GUILD.

A LEAN PERIOD.

The position of affairs in Devon was discussed at a meeting of the East Devon Branch at Axminster on Easter Monday. The matter was raised by Mr. H. Skinner, of Honiton, who called attention to the articles which had appeared in 'The Ringing World,' and inquired if any answer could be made to the criticisms.

The President of the Guild (the Rev. E. S. Powell) said the Guild was going through one of the lean periods that occurred in the affairs of every organisation. The position was one that required consideration, but there was no need for alarm. The Guild was undoubtedly in slack water. During the war bands were broken up. Afterwards they increased enormously. Now the number had declined and there was a certain amount of reaction. There had been a slight setback, not only in the East Devon branch, but every other branch. Before the war there were 37 bands, of which not more than 31 were practising change ringing. Last year there were 54 bands, of which 44 were practising change ringing. That comparison was not indicative of decay.

Mr. G. C. Woodley (of Sidmouth, and late of Talaton) said he thought a little more hard work ought to be put into the Guild so as to create enthusiasm, or the competitive ringing connected with the Devon Association would cause bands to lapse from the Guild.

The President: I don't think it will affect change ringers as a whole. A band here and there may drop out, but you will not find many change ringers going back to 'stone.'

Mr. Skinner: How many towers are there in Devon?

The President: Of towers possessing from five to eight bells there are about 300.

Mr. Skinner: You have not got many in the Guild, then?

The President: No. Scientific change ringing is a matter of slow growth, and towers devoted to it are always difficult to increase. Time after time I have had bands, including young men who are sick of round and call change ringing, writing and saying they want to take up half-pull ringing, but they have been miles from any Guild centre and could not get instruction. The only way in which you will get change ringing throughout the county is to push out from change ringing parishes into round ringing parishes. The menace to the Devon Guild is supposed to be the Devon Association. That association now only possesses 70 towers, although it started five years ago. I don't believe there is any great enthusiasm for competitive ringing, even among round ringers, but branches must do everything they can to arouse enthusiasm and to put in more work for the interests of the Guild. It is a job not for one or two, but for all.

The Rev. E. S. Powell presided over the meeting in the absence of the Rev. L. Stallard (Ottery), who was re-elected chairman, with Mr. J. H. Godfrey (Ottery) as hon. secretary and treasurer. Sidmouth was chosen for the next annual meeting, on Easter Monday, and Fenton for a district meeting on September 17th. Hearty thanks were accorded those who assisted at the service, which was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. F. H. Sanders), who also gave an address, to the branch officers, and the local ringers.

Ringing took place at Axminster and other towers during the day.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING OF CLEVELAND ASSOCIATION.

The meetings of the Cleveland Association go on from success to success. The meeting on Easter Monday at Robin Hood's Bay was voted by all who attended to be another triumph for the association. Thirty-four members and friends sat down to dinner, and the towers represented included Darlington, Stockton, Middlesbrough, Ormesby, Sharow, Whitby and, of course, the local tower.

The peal of eight were kept going in Plain Bob, Kent, Grandeire and Stedman from early till about 6 o'clock at night, and everyone had their fill of good ringing, the perfect striking of most of the touches being a feature of the meeting.

The younger members of the association were well represented both by the local band and the visitors. One young enthusiast cycled from Sharow to Robin Hood's Bay, some 60 miles; such is the enthusiasm for the association.

It was a good meeting; the weather was not too favourable, but the happy spirit which pervaded the whole of the gathering made up for the shortcomings of the weather. Another success! Now for a bumper meeting at Northallerton on Whit-Monday! J. C. P.

A LEAD AND A CHALLENGE.

There were many matters discussed at the annual meeting of the Midland Counties Association which made it an important one, but probably the question of most far-reaching effect was that which resulted in placing on the minutes definitions with which all peals must comply in future before they will be acknowledged and recorded by the association. This is at once a lead and a challenge to the Central Council. The actual rules laid down differ little from those of the Council, but the differences are important. Into the merits of these differences we do not propose to enter on this occasion, but the Midland Counties Association give a lead to the Council by showing that a settlement of disputed points is desired among ringers and by demonstrating that there is no valid reason why the question should not be determined—not necessarily on purely scientific lines but on lines which meet with the views of the general body of the Exercise. Those views may change later, and, if they do, the rules can be amended accordingly. The Midland Counties Association knew what they wanted and they have laid down their regulations accordingly. At some other time the members may think it desirable to revise these requirements, and when that time comes they will not, we imagine, hesitate to do so. Rules of this kind are not like the laws of the Medes and Persians—unalterable. They should reflect the highest standard which ringers are prepared to recognise. The Central Council could settle their definitions on precisely the same grounds. Last year they got rid of an awkward question on the subject of peals of Minor and Doubles by indefinitely deferring it.

And here comes the challenge. If the Council is not prepared to settle such questions—and it is to promote uniform recognition and acceptance of decisions on points of this kind that is particularly the Council's business—then the associations are going to settle these matters for themselves, and in doing so they will diminish the authority and prestige of the Council. The Midland Counties Association decided to set up their own definitions of what shall constitute a peal before they will recognise it. These definitions differ in certain particulars from those which now exist in the rules of the Council and if other associations follow suit, there may well be set up a number of varying codes for peal ringing. The difficulty of the Council's position is that, while it has a set of definitions it winks at breaches of its rules, because a section of the Council is not satisfied with the code as it stands. There ought to be only one standard for peals throughout the Exercise, but unless the Council faces the situation, the action of the Midland Counties Association may be followed by others and much that the Council has stood for in the past may be lost. Every association has a right to say what it will admit as a peal, but the whole aim since the Council was founded, nearly forty years ago, has been to unify these various views. It would be a pity if at this stage the Council let slip their recognised authority because, while waiting to see which way the cat jumps, they decline to make up their mind upon the present requirements of the Exercise.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

PRESENTATION TO LEWISHAM DISTRICT SECRETARY.

The quarterly meeting of the Lewisham District was held at Dartford on Saturday, May 3rd. Touches in all the standard methods were accomplished during the afternoon and evening.

The Vicar (Rev. Lempiere D. Hammond) officiated at the service and gave a very interesting address based on a phrase in the association prayer.

After the service the members adjourned to the Church Hall to partake of a substantial spread, generously supplied by the Vicar, who occupied the head of the table, supported by Mr. A. Keyes, churchwarden.

The Vicar welcomed the company to Dartford, and after a short, witty speech, presented the district secretary (Mr. A. G. Hill) with a handsome canteen of cutlery, the gift of the members to mark Mr. Hill's recent marriage.

After a short but sincere expression of thanks and agreeable surprise by the recipient, the business meeting proceeded, the Vicar presiding.

One ringer was elected a member of the association, and the election of three members in the tower before peal attempts was confirmed.

Mr. E. Barnett, jun., (district representative) read a report of the proceedings at the committee meeting held at Canterbury on Easter Monday. This was adopted, and a vote of thanks to Mr. Barnett for an able report was accorded.

As the place of next meeting, Eynsford was most favoured, Farningham being chosen as an alternative should catering difficulties prove insuperable at Eynsford.

Mr. W. J. Jeffries moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, for conducting the service, for his generous hospitality, and for presiding at the business meeting.—The Vicar asked Mr. A. Keyes to respond on behalf of Dartford. Mr. Keyes did so in a few well-chosen words, ending with an invitation to the association to visit Dartford again in the not too distant future.

This concluded a successful and well attended meeting, made more enjoyable by the presence of Mr. F. M. Mitchell, the general secretary of the association. The tower was then visited for further ringing.

MUSICAL ASPECTS OF CHANGE RINGING.FEATURES OF COMPOSITION EXPLAINED TO MUSICIANS.

'Some musical aspects of change ringing' is the title of an interesting and instructive article by the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards in a recent issue of the 'Musical Standard.' After dealing with the distinctive features of bell music and briefly describing the rules and restrictions which govern methods, the writer says:—

'But while change ringers make it their object to ring a definite number of changes according to the rules of a particular method without repetition, they are by no means content to achieve that object without regard to the musical effect. The number of permutations that can be produced on a given number of bells is simply a question of arithmetical progression. The order in which those changes shall be produced is a matter for the composer, first the composer of the method, then the composer of a touch or peal according to the rules of that method. Great care and remarkable ingenuity are exercised in composition to obtain the most musical effects. Changes ending, for instance, with the tonic at the bottom of the scale preceded or followed by the leading note above are avoided as far as possible. Indeed a general principle is adopted of avoiding wide intervals, other than the sixth or octave, and keeping the deeper toned bells in juxtaposition, thus maintaining the traditional character of ecclesiastical music. Naturally, when all the permutations obtainable on a given number of bells are to be rung, even the least euphonious sequences have to be included; but it is just here that the composer exerts his ingenuity to the utmost, in separating the less musical changes from one another by considerable intervals, so as to relieve the ear of any succession of displeasing effects.'

'It is naturally to the practical bellringer that the science of change ringing chiefly appeals,' says Mr. Edwards at the close of his article, 'but the musical aspect of it presents so many points of interest, that any musician, without any such practical experience, might find it quite a fascinating study to make himself acquainted with the rules of one or two methods, master the principles of composition, and then endeavour to work out peals or "touches" containing the fullest proportion of musical effects. A professor of mathematics has ere now found the subject of sufficient interest to co-operate with a committee of change ringers in working out some of the technical problems involved. It may well be that the professional musician may likewise find interest in co-operating with the change ringer in the production of melodious sequences, to the mutual satisfaction of both.'

LEARNERS AND DISTRICT MEETINGS.A YORKSHIRE EXPERIENCE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—We often read in 'The Ringing World' of secretaries of associations and district societies bemoaning the fact that their meetings are poorly attended, and is there any wonder that such is the case, for the way some meetings are carried out is enough to dishearten any learner, no matter how enthusiastic he may be? My experience at the meeting I attended at Rotherham on Easter Monday was that unless you can ring the advanced methods, such as London Surprise, Cambridge Royal, etc., it is no use spending the time and money to go. I was there over two hours, and the ringing I got was to pull a bell up and have a short touch of Kent Royal (which came to grief), and the rest of the time was spent waiting until the higher methods were done with. Someone suggested 'Double Norwich,' but this was soon turned down, and the hand contented themselves waiting for more to turn up, and remarking that there didn't look like being many there. However, there was a fresh arrival, who was evidently welcome by the reception he received, as he had only to get his coat off, pick up his rope, and 'Go next time, Cambridge Royal.' That satisfied me that my room was preferred to my company, and I disappeared, regretting I had spent so much time at a ringers' meeting.

I learnt afterwards that I was not the only unlucky one. Another member of our band, after waiting two hours for pull, had decided to give it up as a bad job, and was preparing to leave when one of the local band asked him where he was going. To this he promptly replied, 'Home, as it doesn't look to be much use staying here,' but he was persuaded to stay, and eventually he got a touch or two after waiting hours. Now, Sir, is there any wonder that young members will not attend meetings? I have frequently asked our members to go, but they say it is a waste of time and money, and when you can hear of those who do attend not having a pull at all, and others waiting for hours for it, my only fear is that, if this treatment of learners continues, in twenty years' time our art will have ceased to exist. I think this is a matter that should be carefully considered by those responsible for organising meetings, etc., who should see that someone is in charge to arrange for the same privileges to be meted out to the learner as well as the expert.

Trusting you will favour me with space in your columns, and thanking you in anticipation, yours faithfully,

S. HARRISON,

Secretary, Conisborough Parish Church ringers.

BELT ROPES MUFFLES, &c.

OUR 1,000th NUMBER.

FEATURES OF A SOUVENIR ISSUE.

The one thousandth issue of 'The Ringing World,' which will appear next Friday, will be a noteworthy event in the long and chequered history of the ringing Press, which began in 1871 with 'Church Bells,' and has seen three other ringing journals, including 'Bell News,' established and disappear.

We intend to make our one thousandth number worthy of the occasion, and in this we have had the kind co-operation of the president of the Central Council, the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, Mr. J. Armiger Trollope and Mr. William Willson. All these names are known wherever ringing literature is read.

Canon Coleridge, although still only in the convalescent stage after his recent serious illness, is, with characteristic kindness, going to redeem a promise made some time ago, and write on 'Forty Years of the Central Council.'

The Rev. C. D. P. Davies' active touch with the ringing Press goes back to the early days of 'Church Bells,' and he will contribute an article on the influence of ringing papers on the Exercise.

Mr. J. Armiger Trollope will deal with the way in which technical questions, leading to the general advance of the art, have been furthered by the aid of the ringing newspapers.

Mr. William Willson, who contributed to the first number of 'The Ringing World,' will take a look back and deal with his subject in light and shade.

Several photographs, including a picture of Canon Coleridge, will illustrate the issue, which will be enlarged for the occasion, and will be one which, as we have pointed out before, ringers will most certainly desire to keep.

There are many who follow ringing affairs who only share a copy of the paper. Next week, we feel sure, everyone will want a copy to himself. Unless these extra copies are ordered TO-DAY, through a newsagent, or by TUESDAY NEXT from the Editorial Office of 'The Ringing World,' there may be disappointment. The edition will be limited, and there can be no reprint. The price will be 3d. through a newsagent, or 3d. post free from the Editorial Office, Woking.

Regular readers will render us a service if they will bring this announcement to the notice of non-subscribers. We intend to make the 1,000th issue a 'bumper' number; will ringers help to make our circulation next week a record?

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Many of our readers will be interested to know that Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, have in hand the recasting of the tenor bell (approximately 20 cwt.) of Limerick Cathedral peal of eight.

A young band is being formed at St. Lawrence Jewry, where there is the heaviest ring of eight in the City of London. Mr. A. A. Hughes has undertaken to instruct them.

It was at St. Lawrence Jewry that the first recorded peal of Court Bob Major was rung. This was by the Ancient Society of College Youths, and is recorded in their peal book as 'a peal of 5,040 Court Bob, being the first that was ever done.'

Thurstans' famous four-part peal was rung for the first time on May 18th, 1846. It was the outcome of years of effort to find the perfect peal of Stedman, and there was the keenest rivalry among composers of that day to get a peal with two singles only. The honour fell to Thomas Thurstans, of Birmingham, and Henry Johnson called it for the first time at St. Martin's Church.

On May 16th, 1883, Sam Wood, of Ashton-under-Lyne, called the peal of 16,608 Kent Treble Bob Major at Mottram-in-Longdendale, Cheshire.

The south-west tower and the ring of ten bells at York Minster were destroyed by fire on May 20th, 1840.

Next Wednesday is also the anniversary of the 13,054 Stedman Caters rung at Cheltenham in 1888, and of the 12,675 Stedman Cinques at St. Saviour's, Southwark, in 1923.

Thursday is the 31st anniversary of the 17,024 Double Norwich Major, at Kidlington, which the late James Washbrook called.

A peal of Grandsire Triples, at Grundisburgh, on April 12th, has been reported twice. Only one peal was rung.

Mr. S. Rowsell, of Staple Fitzpaine, has not missed ringing at his tower on Easter Sunday for 52 years.

BOYS OF THE OLD BRIGADE.

Last week Mr. William Ireland, of Diss, Norfolk, celebrated his 78th birthday by ringing in a peal of Double Norwich Major. Mr. Ireland, who is an original member of the Norwich Diocesan Association (founded 1877), conducted its first peals of Bob Major (March 6th, 1878) and Kent Treble Bob Major (March 19th, 1879). He also called a 7,296 and a 10,272 in the latter method in 1880, which remained the Treble Bob record for the association until it was surpassed on June 6th, 1892.

Another Diss veteran, Mr. John Souter, took part in Mr. Ireland's birthday peal. He is in his 80th year, and is looking forward to taking part in an attempt to raise the association's Double Norwich record, which at present stands at 11,040.

NEW PEAL OF TEN AT BANBURY.

ROUND TOWER DIFFICULTIES SURMOUNTED.

Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, have just completed the recasting of the bells of Banbury, Oxon, and have turned the old ring of eight into a lighter peal of ten.

Late in the year 1928 the bells were condemned as unsafe and ringing had to be stopped. The restoration needed much anxious consideration on the part of the church authorities owing to the unusual construction of the tower, which is circular in plan. One of the defects of the old peal was that, in order to get all the bells into a round tower, they had not been properly hung in a complete bell-frame, but were hung upon baulks of timber, some of which abutted directly on the masonry of the walls, on which they exerted a detrimental thrust. It was, therefore, decided to adopt the custom, practised in some towers, of hanging the new peal in two tiers. Mr. Ernest Ravenscroft, F.R.I.B.A., one of the diocesan surveyors, who has had a very large experience of belfries and towers, had been appointed the architect to supervise the rehanging of the Banbury bells, and after he had inspected the tower and the plan of the two-tier bell frame, he condemned the proposals. Although this expedient is quite acceptable in towers the masonry of which is equally substantial throughout their height, the thrust of the upper tier would, it is said, have come in the Banbury tower against a portion where the louvre openings render the masonry weaker.

The Church Council had several anxious discussions on the matter. The alternatives were to replace the present peal of eight, with two bells recast and such retuning as the varying nature of a mixed peal would render possible, with a new iron frame and modern fittings; or to recast the present peal with one of the semi-tones and a new treble bell into a lighter ringing peal of ten bells, all of which could be hung on one level. The latter course was eventually agreed upon by the Council, and Messrs. Taylor produced a plan which the architeet and the Diocesan Advisory Committee approved. The Chancellor of the Diocese granted an amended faculty on November 11th last and Messrs. Taylor were given instructions to proceed with the work. Although the bells had been with them since June, they had, of course, been unable to move, even with the preparatory work, as the two schemes under consideration were widely different.

Excepting the new treble, the bells have been recast from the old metal, and the identity of each bell has, therefore, been preserved, and the original inscriptions on the individual bells have been retained. Two bells partake of a memorial character: Mr. T. H. Boote and Miss Boote have given the new treble bell in memory of the late Mrs. Boote and the Misses Dorothea and Clarice Boote, and the eighth bell has been given in memory of the late Mrs. Sarah Carter by Mr. George Carter, her husband, and his family and her sister.

The weights and inscriptions are as follow:—

The total weight of the ringing peal will be 80 cwt. 24 lb., against 89 cwt. 2 qr. 2 lb. of the former peal, the weight of the new tenor bell being 17 cwt. 1 qr. 9 lb., against 21 cwt. 2 qr. of the old tenor.

The bells were formally dedicated by Bishop Shaw at an impressive service held on Sunday, April 13th, but at that time the work had not been fully completed, and no change ringing took place, except a course of Stedman Triples.

The cost of the work has been over £200, and it is hoped to complete the fund by a 'bell day,' which the Mayoress of Banbury organised and which was held yesterday week.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION. ANNUAL MEETING.

The proceedings at the annual general meeting of the Sussex County Association at Brighton, on Saturday, May 3rd, commenced with ringing at the towers of St. Peter's and St. Nicholas' from 2 till 3.30, and a good proportion of those attending the meeting—over 80—was in attendance from the commencement. At four o'clock a special service was held at St. Nicholas' Church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. Collinson). The Bishop of Lewes (one of the vice-presidents) gave the address.

'You have a privilege that is not given to the conductor of a band, nor to a famous singer; nor even to a preacher. The sound of your work is heard, but you remain hidden,' said the Bishop. He described change ringing as a science and an art which required entire unselfishness. 'Change ringing itself,' he added, 'requires great skill, memory, and endurance.' It was a work they could not do properly, however, without remembering it was a spiritual work. It was the sight of little villages, with their churches and spires, that made the beauty of Sussex. The church spires were the first things one noticed in any town, and they appealed to the tenderest traits in the human heart. The spires were built to hold bells, and England was a bell ringing island. The bells were bound up with the family, social and national life of the country, and, indeed, it was a well-known fact that in Russia, when they wanted to put down the social life of the country, the first thing they did was to silence the bells. 'You cannot compare the band or orchestra with the music of the bells,' he added; 'but it is not bells generally, but church bells, which appeal to the heart. I think there is some wonderful mystery in the bells, for as soon as the sounds float over the country they assimilate themselves with the surroundings.'

The collection on behalf of the Benevolent Fund amounted to £12s. 6d.

A meat tea was provided at Morley's Pavilion Restaurant, at which the Bishop of Lewes presided, but was unable to remain for the meeting which followed. The Master, Mr. J. Thornton Rickman, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Bishop for his presence with them, also for his address.—The Bishop suitably replied.

The Master presided at the business meeting, at which the following new members were elected: Mr. S. E. Armstrong, Good Shepherd, Brighton; Mr. J. Woolgar, Hurstpierpoint; Mr. A. Bleach, Mr. A. F. Rapley and Mr. T. E. P. Pavey, Steyning.

The report and balance sheet were presented and adopted.

A SOUND FINANCIAL POSITION.

The report showed that the various activities of the association had been maintained. The standard of ringing was satisfactory, and the attendance at the various divisional meetings was fairly good. One particularly pleasing feature was the large proportion of young men at those functions. The hope was expressed that some of them would begin to conduct peals of Grandsire Triples and Bob Major, especially in the country parishes. The association continued to remain in a sound financial position, due in a large measure to invested capital. The balance in hand was £128. The appreciation of the association was expressed to the clergy of affiliated towers for their generous support. In return, the association mentioned that in cases where advice was required as to the condition of existing peals, or of new work, they were prepared to place capable and experienced men at their service. The report appealed to its members to make Sunday service ringing their first object. Fifty-three peals were rung during 1929, which compared favourably with the past four years.

The following officers were elected: President, the Right Rev. G. K. A. Bell, D.D.; vice-presidents re-elected en bloc; Master and hon. treasurer, Mr. J. Thornton Rickman; hon. general secretary, Mr. A. D. Stone; hon. peal secretary, Mr. F. Bennett; hon. auditors, Mr. W. C. Hart and Mr. R. J. Dawes; representative to Central Council, Mr. J. Thornton Rickman.

Brighton and Haywards Heath were proposed for the next annual meeting, a very close vote being in favour of Haywards Heath.

The meeting concluded with a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar of St. Nicholas' for the service and to the various incumbents for the use of the bells, also to the gentleman who kindly presided at the organ.

The towers were again visited for ringing, the methods rung ranging from Grandsire to Surprise Major and Royal. The tower of the Good Shepherd had been obtained for ringing from 7.30 till 9 p.m., but, to the disappointment of many, the tower was closed after half an hour's ringing on account of illness.

The towers represented at the meeting were Battle, Lower Beeding, Burgess Hill, Chichester, Crawley, Cuckfield, Eastbourne (St. Saviour's), East Grinstead, Hastings (St. Clement's), and Christ Church, Blacklands), Horsham, Lewes (Southover), Lindfield, St. Leonards (Christ Church), Rudgwick, Sanford, Shoreham, Steyning, Twineham, and Warnham, together with non-resident members, including an old Sussex friend, Mr. G. Williams, Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild.

WEST CLANDON, SURREY.—For evening service, on Sunday, May 4th, 720 Kent Treble Bob: H. Harding, sen., 1, A. Walker (first extent Treble Bob inside) 2, G. Grover 3, J. Goacher 4, F. Day 5, F. Bennett (conductor) 6.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD. NO CHANGE IN TITLE.

The 23rd annual meeting of the Warwickshire Guild was held at Warwick on Saturday, May 3rd, the majority of the towers being represented. The bells of St. Mary's (10) were raised in peal soon after three o'clock, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Caters were rung. A service was held in the chancel of the beautiful old church, the Vicar, Rev. A. D. Henwood officiating. The Guild's form of service was used, and the hymns, 'Praise, my soul, the King of Heaven,' and 'Soldiers of the Cross, arise,' were sung. The Vicar gave a short and inspiring address, and Mr. H. Argyle, one of the Guild's Central Council representatives, read the lesson.

Tea was partaken of at the Dale Temperance Hotel, 48 members and friends sitting down, including the Vicar and his churchwarden.

The business meeting followed, the Vicar being voted to the chair. Arising out of the minutes, the question which had been deferred for a year was brought up—that of altering the name of the Guild to that of the Coventry Diocesan Guild. The meeting was strongly in favour of the retention of the title the Guild has held for 23 years.

The balance sheet, showing a balance at the beginning of 1930 of £21 10s. 10d. was passed.

The Hon. Secretary (Miss D. E. Lewis) then read a report of the year's activities. Quarterly meetings had been held at Stoke-in-Coventry, Coleshill, and Nuneaton, and monthly meetings at Clifton, Exhall, Fillongley, Brinklow, Arley, Newbold, Bulkington and Stoke. The Guild has a membership of 263, 36 members having been elected during 1929.

Only seven peals were rung in the twelve months following April, 1929—one of Bristol Surprise Major, one of London Surprise Major, one Cambridge Surprise Major, one of London Surprise Minor, and three of Cambridge Surprise Minor. Two were rung at Nuneaton, two at Allesley and one each at Shilton, Fillongley and Stoke, twenty-three members taking part, the conducting being shared among Messrs. F. W. Perrens, J. H. White and H. G. Summers.

The report was adopted.

The election of officers next took place. The following were re-elected: President, Rev. J. L. White (Vicar of Nuneaton); hon. secretary and treasurer, Miss D. E. Lewis; hon. auditor, Mr. O. J. Hunt; representatives on Central Council, Messrs. H. Argyle and F. W. Perrens; and the district secretaries, the latter being elected en bloc.

Mr. T. W. Chapman, who has been Ringing Master for some years past, would not stand again, and Mr. J. H. White was therefore elected to fill the post.

The meeting places for the next three months were selected as follows: Bickenhill for May, Whitnash for June and Southam for the July quarterly.
