Votes of thanks were passed to the Rector of Churchill for the use of the bells and giving the address, to the Churchill ringers for providing the tea, and to Mr. Anson for presiding at the organ.

A special vote of thanks was also passed to the Master of the Guild, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, and to Mr. Hibbert for attending. The Rev. Worthington was elected an hon. member, as also were two unattached life subscribers from Hitchin.

This concluded the meeting, and ringers then returned to Churchill and Kingham towers, where the following methods were practised: Grandsire Doubles and Triples, Stedman Triples and Double Norwich Court Bob Major.

RINGER'S FATAL ACCIDENT.

The band at Hemingbrough, Yorks, has sustained a severe loss by the death of Mr. Matthew Thomas Tune, who died as the result of falling out of a tree. The deceased was only 44 years of age, but for 27 years had been a ringer at St. Mary's Church, where he was also a sidesman and chorister. He had rung six peals of Minor, one of which he conducted. A builder by trade, Mr. Tune was well known in the district, where he will be much missed.

EAST DERBYSHIRE AND NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

A ringing meeting of the East Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire Association was held at Swanwick on Saturday last, and was very well attended. The visitors were given a hearty welcome by the Vicar, the Rev. W. S. Senior, and Mr. Churchwarden Walters. It is very encouraging to see church officials taking an interest in the doings of the ringers, and, no doubt, steps would be taken to augment the five bells were it not for some uncertainty about the tower. The structure appears to be a very substantial building, erected about thirty years ago, but, unfortunately, a few years ago cracks appeared in the masonry, and a large amount of money was expended in grouting the interior of the walls with cement. However, it is hoped the trouble is now at an end, and the five bells would certainly be better with an addition, as the weight of the tenor is nearly 18 cwt.

Service was conducted by the Vicar, who gave an inspiring address, and tea was provided in the Parish Room, situated below the church.

At the request of the Vicar, the company stood in silence for a few moments as a mark of condolence with the president, Mr. W. Dobb, in the great loss he has sustained by the death of his wife. Afterwards, ringing took place until 8.30, most of the recognised methods being brought round. This was a very enjoyable meeting.

A BATH PEAL RINGING WEEK.

The three peals rung by the Bath Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, and recorded in this issue, were the result of a week's peal ringing at various churches in an effort to create interest among members, to encourage those who had never rung a peal, and to induce others, who had, to attempt peals in higher methods. The peal attempts and the methods were as follows: May 1st, Bob Minor at Bathcaston; May 2nd, Stedman Caters at Bristol; May 4th, Grandsire Triples at Twerton; May 5th, Stedman Doubles at Weston; May 6th, Grandsire Triples at St. Andrew's, Bath; May 7th, Stedman Triples at St. Mary's, Bath; May 8th, Cambridge Surprise Minor at Bathford; May 9th, Cambridge Surprise Major at Corston. In addition, a peal of Grandsire, arranged for May 2nd at Corston, had to be postponed owing to sickness.

Although only three peals were rung, there were several excellent attempts, some of which failed after two hours' ringing. The interest shown was very encouraging, and some good work was done. The members specially appreciate the kindness of St. Stephen's Guild, Bristol, in placing their bells at the disposal of the Bath District, as there is not in the latter a ring of ten bells suitable for peal attempts.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

It is never too late in life to begin anything in ringing. Mr. James Norris, of Blackmoor, Hants, has just rung his first peal. He is 76 years of age, and has been a Sunday service ringer for close on fifty years! This must be almost a record, and we congratulate Mr. Norris upon the enthusiasm he has shown at his advanced age.

'Many happy returns of the day' to Mr. E. A. Young, hon. secretary of the Central Council, who was born on May 22nd, 1865.

To-day is the anniversary of the 17,024 Double Norwich rung in 11 hrs. 12 mins. by the Oxford Diocesan Guild and conducted by the late Mr. James Washbrook, in 1899.

Thirty years ago next Sunday the first true peal of Troble Ten was rung in Ireland—at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin. Four days later the first Surprise peal rung out of England was accomplished at Bray, Ireland. It was a peal of Superlative.

May 28th is the anniversary of the first peal of Stedman Caters, rung in 1787 at St. John's, Horsley Down, London, by the College Youths.

Ringers in the diocese of Truro will learn with regret of the great bereavement sustained by the Guild Master, Dr. J. Symons, in the loss of his wife, and the sympathy of all will go out to him.

THE F. A. MILNE MEMORIAL.

The sub-committee appointed by the members of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild to carry out the scheme of erecting a memorial to the late Frank Alexander Milne, president of the association, are anxious to close the subscription list at an early date. Any member of the Exercise who would like to make a small contribution to this memorial is requested to do so without delay, and any such contribution sent to either of the undersigned will be gratefully acknowledged. It is thought that many members of the Central Council might wish to be identified with this scheme.

NEWCASTLE CATHEDRAL GUILD.

SECRETARY MADE A JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

In the recently published list of 'Justices of the Peace' for the Borough of Gateshead the name of Mr. Arthur Payne, M.B.E., appears—a well deserved honour. Mr. Payne has done yeoman service for the St. John Ambulance Brigade for very many years, and he is an honorary officer of the R.A.M.C. He is the present energetic (particularly energetic) secretary of the Newcastle Cathedral Guild, and a past treasurer and editorial secretary of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association. It is mooted that he has further municipal honours before him.

A SOMERSET AUGMENTATION.

KINGSTONE NOW HAS SIX BELLS.

The bells of the little church at Kingstone near Ilminster, Somerset, have been rehung and augmented to six, one bell being recast in memory of a late churchwarden, Miss Emily B. Paull. The two new bells are given by the Rutler family in memory of their late father, who also was churchwarden for many years. One of his ambitions—which he did not live to realise—was to see the bells restored and made into six.

The work was put into the hands of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of Whitechapel Foundry, who have made a thoroughly good job. The bells are hung in a teak frame and on ball bearings. They are brought down into what was the old ringing chamber, and ringing now takes place from the ground floor.

The bells, which had previously been silent for thirty years, were dedicated on Ascension Day evening by the Right Rev. C. F. De Salis, Archdeacon of Taunton, who gave the address. They were rung in rounds for a few moments in the service immediately after the dedication.

After the service, Bishop De Salis joined the ringers and rang the fourth for a few minutes, when he turned over his rope to the change ringers who had met together, two from St. George's, Wilton, Taunton, two from St. James' and one from St. Mary's, Taunton, and four (including one lady) from Ilminster.

A demonstration was given to the assembled congregation of what can be done with six bells—touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor (not Cambridge Sunrise, as was recently reported in 'John Bull').

The ringers finally adjourned to the local hostelry to partake of light refreshment, provided by the kindness of Mr. J. Rutter, who has succeeded his late father as churchwarden.

The inscription on the two new bells reads: 'Dedicated to the glory of God and in loving memory of John Daniel Rutter, C.W., 1903-1929, given by his family, 1931'; and on the recast bell: 'Recast 1931 to the glory of God and in memory of Emily B. Paull, C.W., 1812-1929, together with the names of the Vicar and churchwardens.

THE TERCENTENARY OF FABIAN STEDMAN.

FIRST LIST OF SUBSCRIPTIONS.

FUND REACHES NEARLY £200.

The first generous response made by ringers in all parts of England to the appeal for funds for the restoration of the bells of St. Benet's Church, Cambridge, to commemorate the three hundredth anniversary of the birth of Fabian Stedman, is full of encouragement, and promises an early achievement of the object in view.

There have been few proposals made in the annals of the Exercise which have appealed more keenly to the imagination of ringers as this effort to mark in a fitting manner the tercentenary of one whose genius and enterprise laid the foundations of our art.

Happily we are to-day in possession of five out of the six actual bells upon which Fabian Stedman practised 'the artes and mysteries' which he handed down to us, but for various reasons they have long since been almost silent. If the ringers of England can, by their united efforts, enable those bells once more to fulfil their rightful purpose, no better memorial could be found to the man to whom they owe so much.

The Central Council, when they meet next Tuesday, will be asked to give their official recognition to the scheme and to appoint representatives to act on a committee with the local church authorities. Already Mr. E. H. Lewis, the president of the Council, has made, for the benefit of the parochial authorities, a report upon the condition of the bells and recommendations as to what work should be carried out, and the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild and hon. librarian of the Council) is acting as hon. treasurer of the fund. Many of the County and Diocesan Associations and Guilds have given or promised their support, and others will doubtless do so when the opportunity of their next general meeting occurs. All the important organisations among ringers are thus coming into the scheme with their help, and what is needed now to ensure complete success is the aid of the individual ringers.

The first list of subscriptions and promises which we publish below shows how remarkable has been the reception given to the scheme, and the total now stands at £199 1s. 6d.

There is still a long way to go before the estimated sum required, namely, £350, is reached, but it can be done and done quickly if each ringer will give what he can afford. As we said last week, we need the guineas, but the shillings are equally necessary to success, and even among ringers who can only spare a few pence each much valuable aid can be given. In these cases a collection can be made in the tower on Sunday and forwarded. Already an example in this direction has been set by the Sunday Service band at St. Martin's, Birmingham, and the ringers at Woking Parish Church. Whatever the amount—large or small—it will be welcome.

There are many reasons which make it desirable that the work should be completed and the bells re-opened by the end of the summer—only the prompt raising of the necessary funds can make it possible. We ask all ringers, therefore, to send their contributions without delay.

Appended is the first list of subscriptions:—

THE SAXON ARCH
between the church and tower of St. Benet's.

The proposals which have been made include the following:—

The rehanging of the bells of St. Benet's Church.

The erection of a suitable commemorative tablet.

A gathering of ringers at Cambridge, with a thanksgiving service at St. Benet's.

The details of the restoration scheme, which include reconstructing and strengthening the frame and placing it 12 feet lower in the tower, and cleaning and rehanging the bells, are under consideration, but before anything definite can be done it is necessary to make sure that the money can be raised, and 'The Ringing World,' as announced in our last issue, has opened a fund for the purpose.

The scheme is to be a national scheme, and every ringer, and particularly all those who have found so much pleasure in ringing the ever popular method which bears Stedman's name, will, we feel sure, wish to be identified with it. Donations should be sent to:—

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS FOR LIVERPOOL.

Members of the Central Council will assemble at Liverpool during the coming Whitsun holidays for their annual meeting on Tuesday. They are to be received at the Town Hall by the Lord Mayor, who later in the day will entertain them to tea. They will be the guests of the Lancashire Association at lunch, between the sessions of the Council.

The local Reception Committee, with Mr. Claude I. Davies, have made every arrangement for the comfort and entertainment of the visitors, who are asked to apply at headquarters, which are at the Stork Hotel, for the latest information as to details.

In addition to the programme which has been already published, we are asked to say that there will be a 'gathering of the clans' at the Stork at 8 p.m. on Saturday evening, and visitors who arrive during Sunday are also asked to meet there at 8 p.m.

Details of Sunday service ringing will be available at headquarters. At 11.15 a.m. on Whit Monday, Archdeacon Howson will conduct a party round the Cathedral, and there will be an organ recital at noon on the Cathedral organ.

The afternoon visit to Oxton on Whit Monday will be followed by tea, to which visitors will be entertained by the Warden of St. Nicholas' Church. It would, therefore, be advisable if this party would keep together for the afternoon.

A visit to the White Star liner, 'Adriatic,' has been arranged for 10.30 a.m. on Wednesday. In connection with this there is a nominal charge of 1s. per head, the proceeds being devoted to the local hospitals.

Those members who have written to the local secretary and did not enclose an envelope, are informed that tickets have been reserved for them and can be obtained on application to Mr. Davies at headquarters.

The serious business of the visit begins at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, when the Council meets at the Town Hall. A meeting of the Standing Committee will precede the full Council meeting.

THE METHODS COMMITTEE & THE MINOR COLLECTION.

The following report of the Methods Committee will be presented to the Council next Tuesday:—

At the meeting held last Whitsuntide the Central Council passed a resolution ordering the Collection of Doubles and Minor Methods to be printed, and the manuscripts were accordingly handed to the printer.

Owing to circumstances which have already been made public we felt obliged to suspend the publication of the book, and we regret that up to date a satisfactory solution of the difficulty has not been found.

The facts are as follows:—

(1) We desire that the custom of the Council, which has obtained ever since its foundation, should be followed, and that the names of the Central Council and of the authors of the book should appear on the title page and the outside cover. We may point out that this is the general custom with publications by bodies similar to the Council.

(2) The hon. secretary gave instructions to the printers that the names of the executive officers of the Council should be substituted for those of the authors. He suggested that the latter might or should be mentioned in the preface.

(3) A compromise has recently been proposed by which the names of both the officers of the Council and the authors of the book should appear on the title page and cover, but reserving the question of copyright to be dealt with at the Council meeting.

We are quite unable to see any valid reason why the ordinary custom should be departed from. However, it has been our earnest endeavour in preparing this book to carry out the wishes of the Council, and repeatedly, when any doubt has arisen on a vital point, we have brought the matter before the Council to learn its views.

So long as the ordinary rights of authors are not infringed, we desire to leave the issue of this last controversy to the Council's decision.

ORDERLY RAISING AND LOWERING OF BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I notice that part of the business of the Central Council at Liverpool will be to consider 'motions' which have evidently been framed with the intention of further assisting in putting the 'house in order.'

I like that first one regarding the muffling of bells, and should also like to see another 'motion': 'That it should be the normal procedure to raise and lower the bells singly, commencing with the treble.' Most of your readers know full well what I mean, as I have continuously urged 'good order' in this respect for many years.

It should not be necessary for such a motion, but since there are still many ringers who never think about the nuisance and antagonisms caused in raising and lowering the bells 'all of a heap,' I hope some members of the Central Council will be interested enough to bring this subject forward with a view to giving an influential lead in this respect.—Yours sincerely,

F. W. RICHARDSON.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

IV. THE EASTERN SCHOLARS.

When the split in the College Youths' Society came it was between those members who wanted to ring peals and the older members whose activities were more in the meeting room and the social gatherings. That seems clear, but the evidence necessarily is inconclusive. We know the names of the peal ringers; we do not know the names of the others. The conservative party won. They kept control of the Society, and the opposition party left them and, joining with members of the Eastern Scholars, formed a new company. We have seen in Annable's last peal the beginnings of this movement. I do not now propose to write a history of the Eastern Scholars, but a short sketch is necessary.

The Society was founded in 1733 by a band of young, skilful and energetic ringers. The first peal was 5,040 Grandsire Tribbles at St. Dunstan's-in-the-East on March 13th in that year; and from that time till 1763, seventy peals were scored, many of them of exceptional merit. On November 21st, 1737, the Society rang at West Ham 15,120 changes of Bob Major. This was only twelve years after Annable had called the first peal in the method. It remained the record length in any method till 1793, when it was beaten by 15,360 Bob Major at Aston. It was the record for the London district till the College Youths' 15,840 Kent Treble Bob Major at Bethnal Green in 1868, and, except for that performance, has never been equalled in the metropolitan area. The fifth was rung by Thomas Bennett, whose name we have already come across. He joined the Society in 1733 and rang in thirty-four peals, two of which he conducted. In 1750 he joined the College Youths. After ringing in the two peals of Grandsire Caters which Holt conducted for that society, he went over to the Cumberlands and rang peals with them in 1753, 1754 and 1757. In 1754 he took part in the non-society peal at Shoreditch, and in 1757 he is one of the newly formed company.

On April 7th, 1741, the Eastern Scholars rang at St. Sepulchre's, Holborn, the first peal of Oxford Triple Bob, ten in. This was afterwards said to be false, mainly because, when the College Youths rang another peal in the same method at the same tower, they put on the peal board (still existing) the following couplet:—

"When merit's justly due, a little praise then serveth;

A good peal needs no frame, a bad one none deserveth."

The College Youths did not claim that they had rung the first true peal in the method; and I do not know if there was anything beyond guesswork to connect this couplet with the previous peal.

Bennett rang the eighth to this peal and the fourth was rung by William Lovell. Lovell had joined the Union Scholars in 1740, and rung one peal with them, but, probably not getting on there as quickly as he wanted, he came over to the Eastern Scholars. His first peal with them was one of Double Bob Major (a favourite method in those days), and his name appears in the majority of the succeeding peals. On March 2nd, 1742, the Society rang 6,832 Bob Major at Mortlake, and a fortnight later 10,080 at the same church. In 1746 George Meakins joined the Society and rang his first peal, one of Bob Major. The first he called was also Bob Major, at St. Dunstan's-in-the-West on June 14th, 1749, and in time he became the leading conductor.

On Sunday, December 27th, 1747, the Eastern Scholars rang at Shoreditch '5040 changes compleat of that Excellent new Peal call'd Eastern Bob.' This was the same method as, more than a hundred years later, Henry Hubbard called Yorkshire Court and printed in his book as his own. It was composed by Joseph Prior. Bennett called the peal from the seventh, Lovell rang the tenor and Meakins the fourth. Just over two years later at St. Sepulchre's they rang 5,040 Eastern Bob, ten in, Meakins called this peal and the eighth was rung by John Lokis. Two years later than that the Society rang the peal of Eastern Bob Double which I have already referred to. This, also, was called by George Meakins. In 1752 they rang at St. Giles', Cripplegate, 5,040 Bob Major Royal, otherwise Ten in. Meakins and Jos. Aylin rang the ninth, Lovell the tenor alone. At the foot of the record is this note: "N.B. The Reason of there being 2 Persons to ring the Ninth was on Account of her going so very bad and the Co. being Desirous to Complete the Peal at that Time."

One of the men who rang in many of these peals had the picturesque name of Gabell Estall. I should like to know more of Mr. Estall, but he does not concern our present story. His name does not appear after 1754.

In 1749 Meakins and Lokis went over to the Union Scholars for some reason which does not appear. Each rang a peal with that company, but they were soon back again.

In 1746 Robert Butterworth and James Coxon rang in a peal of Bob Major and in 1754 William Underwood called a peal of Grandsire Trebles at Rumford, Emanuel Crouch ringing the seventh. In 1755 Joseph Monk's name appears for the first time, and in 1756 Robert Bly, James Darquitt, William Moss and John Underwood. All these names are important, for they were the men who formed the backbone of the new company. John Underwood, Bly, Crouch, Butterworth and Monk rang in a peal of Bob Major at St. George's-in-the-East on August 15th, 1756, the last peal by the Eastern Scholars before the College Youths' split.

Joseph Monk, who became a leading member of the new band, is best known to-day as the last editor of the J.D. and C.M. 'Campanalogia.' The book was hopelessly out of date when issued and contained none of the many eighteenth century improvements in ringing, although Monk, himself, took part in several of them. His manuscript peal book is to-day in the possession of the College Youths. When practically all the active members had left the Society of Eastern Scholars to join the new band, the former company became so weak that it ultimately collapsed. Only one more peal was rung: Bob Major in 1763. Soon after, the remaining members apparently joined the old Society of College Youths and took their peal and name book with them.

Fifty years later there was a Society of Eastern Scholars who rang at Greenwich and the neighbouring towers, the leader of which was E. Taylor, the composer of the well known Bob and Single peal of Grandsire Triples. This was a new company and not the survivor of the old society.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

THE ANNUAL FESTIVAL.

The decision of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild to hold its annual festival at Sherborne this year was more than justified by the numbers that attended. Ringers came from all the branches, attracted by the opportunity of visiting the grand old Abbey Church and ringing on its famous bells—the heaviest ring of eight in the country. Quite early in the day visitors began to assemble, and the bells were booming out over the sleepy little Dorset town. Not all who tried them found the weight to their liking, but there were some well-struck touches rung during the day, the methods being limited principally to Grandsire Doubles and Triples and Stedman Triples.

The Guild service, held in the Abbey, was conducted by the Vicar of Sherborne (Canon Wingfield-Digby), and the singing was beautifully led by the choirboys. Canon G. F. Coleridge was the preacher, and took for his text Psalm xl. 2 and 3: 'He brought me up also out of an horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and he set my feet upon a rock and ordered my goings, and he hath put a new song in my mouth, even thanksgiving unto our God.' It gave him, he said, unfeigned pleasure to come there that day, first because it gave him the opportunity of worshipping in that most noble building; secondly, because it gave him the opportunity of addressing a body of church-workers; and, thirdly, and a much smaller reason, that it brought him into the county where he first learned to ring a bell, just sixty years ago this very year. Proceeding, Canon Coleridge drew the analogy of the casting, the tuning and the hanging of a bell with his unusual text, and went on to say that there were in England over forty thousand bellringers, not all of them highly skilled, but all engaged in church work, and, thank God, there were among them not a few highly skilled and most intelligent women who came forward in the war time to take the place of men, many of whom, alas, never came back. The names of some 1,200 of these men, members of the diocesan and county associations, were recorded in a roll of honour in St. Paul's Cathedral. But whether the ringer was skilled or was not, he was one of a large number of earnest churchworkers who gave their talents, such as they were, as an offering to Almighty God. He could look back over sixty years of ringing life, and he had seen what a vast difference there was between the ringers to to-day and the ringers of fifty or sixty years ago. Ringers used to be held in bad repute for the most part, but now all that had changed, and ringers were looked upon as valued workers in the church, on a par with the organist and choirmen and boys. It was highly honourable work, and as much skill was required in ringing a peal as in the performance of some great oratorio. The public did not know, but ringers knew perfectly well, that their art required, above all, perfection of touch and sight and hearing in the higher branches of the art, while on the scientific side comparatively very few brains were able to cope with the intricacies of composition. In their art, ability and intellect were taxed to the utmost. The whole status of the ringer had risen enormously in the last fifty years, and it had got to rise still higher. Each one of them had got to do his best to see that their status was not only maintained, but enlarged and deepened. The diocesan and county associations had done everything they could to raise the status of the ringer. He urged them to be worthy of their calling, so that when they reached their lives' end they would not be ashamed to stand before Christ at His coming, and to join with the angels and archangels and all the company of heaven in a new song which He would put into their mouths.

The service concluded with the hymn, 'Lifted high within the steeple,' during the singing of which a collection was taken for the Hervey Beams Memorial Fund.

MEMORIAL TO THE LATE MR. BEAMS.

A substantial lunch was served in the Church Hall, to which over 160 sat down. At the conclusion, the toast of 'The King' was honoured, and the business meeting followed. The Hon. Secretary (Rev. F. Ll. Edwards) said that illness prevented their president, the Earl of Shaftesbury, from attending or doing any ringing. They trusted his health would soon be completely restored, and that he would again be able to take a full part in their activities. The secretary also regretted that he had received a telegram from the Master (the Rev. R. H. Gundry), who had intended to be present but was unable to attend owing to illness. They would all sympathise with him, and hoped he would soon be well again.

In the absence of the Earl of Shaftesbury and the Rev. R. H. Gundry, the Vicar of Sherborne, Canon Digby, was voted to the chair.

The hon. secretary presented the balance sheet, which showed that the year began with £94 16s. 1d. in hand, £50 of which is on deposit. The receipts amounted to £63 16s. 9d., and the expenses to £61 10s. 2d., the balance thus being increased to £97 2s. 8d. The accounts were adopted, and the officers, including the Master (the Rev. R. H. Gundry), the hon. secretary (Rev. F. Ll. Edwards), and the assistant secretary (Mr. F. Green), were re-elected.

The Hon. Secretary reported that the war memorial scheme was completed at the last annual meeting, and the much lamented death of Mr. Beams took place shortly afterwards. It was a source of great gratification to Mr. Beams, and it would be to members of the Guild, that he just lived to complete the work he undertook. Since then they had added to the memorial screen the handsomely carved copy of the Guild badge, made by Mr. Northover. He had received a letter of grateful thanks and congratulation from the Archdeacon for what the Guild had done.

The Guild then considered the question of a memorial to the late Mr. Beams. The Hon. Secretary said it would be remembered that just before Mr. Beams died a movement was on foot to present a testimonial to him. Consequently the only thing they could now do was to raise some memorial to him. The committee had decided to refer the matter to that meeting, but as far as they could gather the only practicable shape that it could take was a memorial in Bradpole Church, with which Mr. Beams was associated.

Mr. W. S. B. Northover said there were two suitable places in Bradpole Church where a tablet could be erected—one on the south wall and one on the west wall near the door leading from the church into the tower. Anything he could do to assist in the matter he would be glad to do.

Mr. Jennings proposed that a memorial should be erected and the matter left to the officials of the West Dorset Branch, the Rev. C. C. Cox (chairman), Mr. F. Bugler (Ringing Master), Mr. W. S. B. Northover, and the hon. secretary (Mr. E. F. Brooks), to work in conjunction with the Bradpole Church Council. Those on the spot would know best what was wanted, and he thought it should be left entirely in their hands.—Mr. Heginbotham seconded, and said if the matter was left to the committee it would be dealt with at once, instead of being left to hang on for, perhaps, three or four years.

The Hon. Secretary said they already had some money in hand, raised by the branches for the testimonial. They also had the collection taken in the Abbey that day towards it. He had no doubt that when a scheme was prepared they would be able to get the rest of the money to complete it.

The motion was adopted, and a suggestion was made that the memorial might take the form of a gift to the church instead of the erection of a tablet, and this proposal will be considered by the committee.

SUPPORT FOR CENTRAL COUNCIL.

A motion that there should be added to Rule 1 the following, 'The Guild shall be affiliated to the Central Council of Church Bellringers and loyally abide by the rules and decisions thereof,' was proposed by the hon. secretary, who said it would make no practical difference to the Guild, which had been affiliated to the Council for over twenty years, and he had no doubt they had always loyally stood by the Council's decisions. He did not think they had ever given the Council any trouble by ringing freak arrangements as peals. It would also be a very sound thing to have this in their rules. It would prevent their successors from suddenly seceding from the Council owing to some misunderstanding, disagreement, or dissatisfaction. If such a thing occurred it would give them more time to think it over, because notice of motion would have to be given before they could secede.

The proposition was carried.

The Hon. Secretary announced that with the permission and co-operation of the Bath and Wells Association they had printed a number of the latter's very useful pamphlets on Grandsire. A supply of these would be in the hands of the branch secretaries, and any band that wanted to begin change ringing at the beginning could obtain copies. He hoped the leaflets would prove of great use.

The Fabian Stedman commemoration was brought to the notice of the meeting by the hon. secretary, and Mr. J. S. Goldsmith was invited to explain the scheme, which he did.

The Rev. C. C. Cox thought the Guild should vote a sum of £5 to the fund, and this was seconded by Mr. C. H. Jennings and carried unanimously.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks, proposed by the Rev. C. C. Cox, to the Vicar of Sherborne for his welcome and for the service and the use of the bells, to Canon Coleridge for his address, to the organist and choir, to the ladies for preparing the luncheon, and to the incumbents who had placed the bells at their disposal.

The Chairman and Canon Coleridge replied, and the proceedings terminated.

Ringing was resumed at the Abbey, parties visited neighbouring churches, and many spent a pleasant hour out of the rain at the Red Triangle Club, adjoining the Church Hall, which had been placed at the disposal of the visitors, and where the billiards tables and other games were available.

The general secretary, in his report, referred to some of the features of exceptional interest which had marked the past year—the success of the annual festival at Calne, the completion of the Guild's war memorial, the first peal of Major on the bells of Sherborne Abbey. A tribute was paid to the late Mr. T. Hervey Beams, who, as assistant secretary, as an instructor, and as an inspector of bellrics, rendered most valuable service. While the living record of his good work was written in many a tower in West Dorset and in the widespread advance of change ringing, two things especially stood out as lasting memorials to his name—the Guild badge, which was designed and adopted on his initiative, and the noble screen erected in the Cathedral in honour of ringers fallen in the war, the cost of which was raised by his efforts. The reports of the branch secretaries, the General Secretary added, testified to steady progress in change ringing, with a generally high standard in the methods rung. A notable feature of the year's peal record was the large proportion of 'first peals' by one or more of the band.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.FORMATION OF A NEW BRANCH.

By kind permission of the Vicar of Lancaster Priory, the half-yearly meeting of the Lancashire Association was held there on Saturday, about forty ringers and friends arriving from all over the county, together with visitors from Kendal. A short service was held in the Officers' Memorial Chapel, at which the Vicar gave some interesting information of the history of the church, the ground on which it stood being originally a Roman camp.

The churchwardens kindly entertained the ringers to tea in the Church House. Canon Elsee (president) afterwards addressed the gathering on the objects of the association, and after a long discussion it was decided to form a new branch with Lancaster as a centre and thirteen towers for a start, some with bells which need the attention of a bell hanger. Mr. Jennings, of Kendal, undertook the secretaryship, with Mr. Forcett, Lancaster, as assistant. The first meeting of the new branch is to be held at Melling on June 20th.

The Rev. B. Pollard consented to become an hon. member, and two ringing members were elected.

The standard methods were rung during the afternoon and evening, with some rounds for those who were not so far advanced.

A DISSENTIENT VOICE.

The Central Council met at Liverpool on Tuesday, and a summary of the proceedings appears on another page. During the past year the associations who elect representatives have been asked to pass a resolution to add to their rules a clause to the effect that they will loyally abide by the rules and decisions of the Council. As the Council is representative of the whole Exercise, exists by the support and good-will of those who elect the members, and endeavours to guide and co-ordinate the work done in the interests of the art, it was only a reasonable request to make, and its reasonableness is proved by the fact that with, as far as we know, only one exception, all the associations have readily accepted the suggestion, and in future will recognise and act upon the Council's rulings. The majority of the associations and guilds have done so for years, and by incorporating the clause in their rules have merely implemented what they had already observed in the spirit. They have appreciated the value of the Council to the Exercise; they have recognised that without it there would be no cohesion of thought or action in many things which go to produce order and progress in the art. But beyond this, the Council serves as the keystone of the arch which binds together all the units that go to make up the structure of the Exercise. It can never be accused of having done anything hurriedly — indeed, it has not moved fast enough for some. It has always been anxious not to interfere with the privileges of associations or individuals, but it could do a great deal to raise still higher the standards of ringing if it had the guarantee that the associations, abiding by decisions arrived at, would carry into effect any recommendations which might result from the collective wisdom of the Council.

It is a pity, therefore, that the Sussex County Association should have failed to come into line with the rest of the leading organisations which send representatives to the Council. At their annual meeting the association declined to adopt the suggested rule. We have only seen one argument adduced in the course of the discussion, and it would be unfair to say that it was solely this which induced the members to come to the decision they did. But for this one argument it can be said, briefly, that there is not the slightest foundation. According to the report the Master, who presided, said that to undertake loyally to abide by the rules and decisions of the Council 'would be like signing a blank cheque.' This is a curious statement to come from a member of the Council. The rules and decisions of the Council are in black and white for everyone to read and no alterations can be made in them without every representative of every affiliated association having the opportunity of expressing an opinion, of criticising, and, if he can get sufficient support, of amending the proposals. Where is the 'blank cheque' about this? The argument is blank nonsense. Presumably the Sussex Association expects its affiliated members to observe its rules; why then should not the Central Council expect its affiliated societies to do likewise? It is of little use joining in any organisation if one is afraid to accept the ruling of the majority, and we hope that upon a later occasion the Sussex Association will see its way to follow the example of other societies of like importance.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

TUESDAY'S MEETING AT LIVERPOOL.

The second session of the fourteenth Council was held at the Town Hall, Liverpool, on Tuesday, when 79 members, representing 37 associations, attended.

Splendid arrangements had been made by a local committee, of which Archdeacon Howson was chairman. The details were carried out by Mr. Claude I. Davies and Mr. G. R. Newton, who were indefatigable in their efforts to secure the comfort of the visitors. The week-end was spent by many in ringing at various churches and in visits to places of interest. Several peals were rung.

The Council met in the Council Chamber on Tuesday morning, when the Lord Mayor (Alderman Edwin Thompson) took the chair at the outset, supported by the Bishop of Liverpool (Dr. David), the president of the Council (Mr. E. H. Lewis), and the hon. secretary (Mr. E. Alex. Young).

The Lord Mayor extended a cordial welcome to the Council, and said, to his mind, one of the most beautiful sounds was a really good peal of bells on an English countryside. 'I wish,' he said, 'we had more appreciation of bellringing in this country. I hope that as a result of your meeting the art of bellringing may be a little better known in Liverpool than it is at present, and if you can encourage Liverpool to adopt bellringing more generally I think this city will be well served.'

THE NEW SECRETARY OF THE COUNCIL.

The Bishop of Liverpool (Dr. David) expressed the gratitude of the Church to bellringers for their services in administering 'the sacrament of sound.' It was the privilege of bellringers to maintain a peculiarly English tradition and to adapt and even extend it in the changed conditions of to-day. One of the subjects to come up for discussion was the attitude of churchwardens towards church bells. The Bishop was sure that any suggestion which the conference had to make which would tend to increase the practical care of bells by the clergy and churchwardens would be welcome. 'Some of us feel,' added Dr. David, 'that bellringers stand a little outside the fellowship of what we call church work, and some of us are desirous of taking them into the practical fellowship of the Church. I hope you will encourage that harmonious team spirit which is the very essence of your beautiful art.'

The President said that during the past forty or fifty years the position of ringers had entirely changed, and generally now they could consider themselves as effective churchworkers. It had been said 'church ringers would more often make their appearance in church if the clergy more often made their appearance in the belfry.'

HON. SECRETARY RETIRES.

Mr. Young having intimated that he desired to be released from the office of hon. secretary and treasurer, which he had occupied (in succession to the Rev. C. D. P. Davies) for ten years, Mr. G. W. Fletcher, on the nomination of the Standing Committee, was unanimously elected. Mr. Young was cordially thanked for his services.

The balance sheet of the Council was adopted, and for the first time for some years there was a balance on the right side on the sale of publications, there having been a profit of £2 8s. 1d.

The Rev. H. S. T. Richardson was re-elected an hon. member of the Council, and vacancies, two of them caused by death of the Rev. C. D. P. Davies and the resignation of Mr. J. W. Parker, were filled by the election of Mr. Stephen W. Wood, Mr. E. W. Elwell, and Mr. A. A. Hughes.

On behalf of the Standing Committee, Mr. Young reported that certain work had been carried out for the maintenance of the Carter Ringing Machine in the South Kensington Museum, and it was resolved that Mr. A. A. Hughes be appointed a trustee in the place of the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies. Mr. G. R. Fardon and Mr. Sharman were appointed demonstrators, and thanked for their services in connection with the repair of the machine.

THE COUNCIL RULES.

A discussion took place on the amendment of the rules of the Council—a matter which had been referred to the committee at the last annual meeting.

The committee put forward a motion to add a new sub-clause to Rule 2 providing for affiliation of the associations to the Council.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith moved, and Mr. G. Grover seconded, an amendment, which introduced a clause providing that affiliated associations should subscribe to an undertaking loyally to abide by the rules and decisions of the Council, and providing that the basis of representation of territorial associations and guilds should be the number of annual subscribing honorary and ringing members and resident life members.

Mr. E. W. Elwell, on a point of order, moved that the Council proceed to the next business, and this was agreed to, it being understood that the matter would be reconsidered by the Standing Committee and brought up at the next meeting after due notice had been given.

Subsequently, however, it was resolved to appoint a special committee to deal with the matter.

Reporting on the work of the Peal Collection Committee, the Rev. H. G. T. Richardson said the collection of peals of Treble Bob Major with tenors parted had been completed, but were not yet typed. They were waiting to include the peals of Royal and Maximus.

An interesting report, on behalf of the Literature and Press Committee, was presented by the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, and the committee was requested to draw up a brief bibliography of works on bellringing, which would be a guide to ringers desiring to form tower libraries.

The Peals Analysis Committee's report, as already published, was adopted, with a few minor corrections, but no action was taken on a suggestion that a peal of Plain Minor methods rung at Isham should be deleted from the analysis on the ground that it did not comply with the Council's definitions, there being divided opinion as to whether or not it conformed to the decisions of the Council.

THE MINOR METHODS COLLECTION.

The Methods Committee's report led to a discussion on the subject of the delayed publication of the Collection of Minor Methods. The Standing Committee had come to agreement on the subject, but opposition to their proposal was offered by Mr. J. A. Trollope (a member of the committee). Eventually, however, the Council accepted the suggestion of the Standing Committee that the names of both the committee and the officials of the Council should appear on the cover and title page. The issue of the book will now be proceeded with at once.

It was also resolved that the committee should take in hand the work of revising the Collection of Triples Methods, which will appear as a separate publication.

Reports from the members of the Towers and Belfries Committee were presented, and that by the president, relating to the restoration of the bells at St. Benet's, Cambridge, will be found under a separate heading.

No report was forthcoming from the Record Committee, as the papers—which were in the possession of the late Mr. T. Hervey Beams—had not yet come back to the Council.

On the motion of the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, seconded by Mr. W. A. Cave, the following motion was passed: 'When any peal, practice or ringers' meeting previously arranged, happens through unforeseen circumstance to coincide with an occasion of public mourning, whether national or local, it should be the normal procedure to make emergency arrangements with the proper authorities for the muffling of the bells before use, care being taken, unless otherwise directed, to have the muffles removed at the conclusion of the ringing.'

SUGGESTED REGISTER OF COMPOSITIONS.

Mr. G. R. Newton proposed, and Mr. O. E. Sharman seconded, 'That in the interests of the Exercise this Council takes such steps as they deem necessary for the registration of compositions,' but after it had been pointed out that there were great difficulties in the way of what would prove an enormous task, it was resolved that members of the Peals Collection Committee should prepare a pamphlet on peal variations.

The following motion was carried on the proposition of Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, seconded by Mr. A. H. Pulling: 'That this Council deprecates the ringing of peals of Minor with a covering bell or bells and peals of Doubles with more than one covering bell, and recommends guilds and associations to discourage this practice.'

A motion by the Rev. H. Drake in the following terms was defeated: '(a) That the words Reverse, Double, Little or Bob be not used as names of methods, and (b) that the terms "shunt" or "hunting backwards" are not approved.'

The Council decided to meet next year at Plymouth, which secured a narrow majority over Bath.

Mr. Faulkner suggested that in future notice of the meetings of the Council, with the agenda, should be sent to individual members of the Council—at present notice is published only in 'The Ringing World.' The proposal, however, did not find favour, and was defeated.

The President proposed a vote of thanks to the Lord Mayor for his welcome, for placing the Council Chamber at the disposal of the members, and for his hospitality; to the Bishop of Liverpool for his presence; to the Lancashire Association for their welcome and hospitality, and especially to Mr. C. I. Davies and Mr. G. R. Newton for the work they had done in connection with the Council's visit.—Canon Elson replied for the Lancashire Association, and the meeting terminated with a vote of thanks to the president.

The members who had been entertained to luncheon at headquarters, the Stork Hotel, by the Lancashire Association, took tea in the Town Hall at the invitation of the Lord Mayor, who with the Lady Mayoress was present to greet his guests. While tea was in progress selections were given by the Liverpool Police Band. In the evening a social gathering took place at the Stork Hotel.

MASONIC RINGERS AT GATESHEAD-ON-TYNE.

The annual Masonic service, on Sunday, May 17th, in the Durham Province, was held at Gateshead Parish Church, and the ringing was done by an entirely Masonic band—a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples for service and a touch of 252 to ring the brethren out. This was also rung to celebrate the appointing to the Justices of the Peace of the Borough, and his raising to the Master Mason's degree—both occurring on Friday, the 15th—of the treble ringer: A. Payne, M.B.E., J.P. (1626) 1. J. Rowell (3189) 2. G. Pickering (W.M. 406) 3. W. Story (P.P.G.W., 1626) 4. C. L. Routledge (P.P.G. treasurer, 1616) 5. A. Deas (406) 6. Jos. E. Keen (3937) (conductor) 7. W. G. Beardall (3886) 8. Tenor 15 cwt.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

LEICESTER DISTRICT.

A very pleasant and enjoyable meeting was held at Saddington, near Kibworth, on Saturday, May 9th. About 25 ringers were present from Leicester, Husbands Bosworth, Kibworth, Anstey, Wigston Magna, Great Glen, Birmingham and Saddington. The nice-going peal of five (tenor 8 cwt.) was raised at 3.30 p.m., and some good ringing was indulged in, various methods of Doubles being rung during the afternoon and evening. Tea was partaken of at the local hostelry. At the business meeting, two new members were elected, viz., Leonard W. Allen and Alec Arnold, both of Great Glen, and two rejoined. It was an excellent day for a meeting at this rather outlandish place.

BURTON DISTRICT.

A ringing meeting was held at Measham on Saturday, May 2nd, when upwards of fifteen members, representing the towers of Measham, Ashby, Hugglescote, Melbourne, Overseal, St. Paul's, Burton, and four members from Erdington, Birmingham, were present. Excellent use was made of the bells, touches of Stedman and Grand-sire Triples, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Double Norwich being rung.

At the business meeting, held in the schoolroom, it was decided to pay a visit to Rolleston-on-Dove for the next meeting, the date being fixed for June 20th. A vote of thanks to the Vicar of Measham (Rev. J. L. King) concluded the meeting, and also a very enjoyable afternoon.

BOYS BARRED.

In the Kennington (Ashford) Parish Magazine for May the following paragraph appears:—

It has come to the Vicar's knowledge quite recently that one of our boys, aged fourteen, is anxious to learn ringing, and has been permitted, to some extent, to pull the ropes. Bellringing is not an occupation that can be taken in hand quite easily by anyone; a considerable amount of care is needed even by men who are learning. Accidents do sometimes happen to "beginners" getting entangled in the ropes, and the Vicar is naturally anxious that this should not happen in our belfry, especially to a boy. He understands that one or two boys are already learning to ring in neighbouring churches. A promise, however, has been made by the ringers that the greatest of care will be taken by them to see that all goes well with the lad. "In future, no other boys at that age must be allowed to begin ringing"—whatever happens in other parishes. It is a man's job.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Bristol, the city of bells, is to have yet another ring of eight. As the result of a bequest by the late Mr. George Feltham, a former churchwarden, a tower is to be built at the Church of the Holy Nativity, Knowle, and a ring of eight bells and an electric chiming clock installed by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston.

The new hon. secretary of the Central Council (Mr. George Fletcher) began his ringing career before the war at Southgate, and has been ringing at Edmonton for the last ten years.

Thirty years ago to-day the first and only peal ever rung on the sea was accomplished by a band crossing from Dublin to Holyhead. This was a peal of Stedman Caters, rung by Messrs. W. Sharl, W. H. Barber, W. Pye, G. R. Pye and the late Mr. E. Pye. The same day the first Surprise peal in Wales was rung.

A hundred and ninety years ago to-morrow the College Youths rang a 5,000 of Union Bob Royal at St. Sepulchre's, Snow Hill.

On June 1st, 1912, 14,031 Stedman Caters was rung on handbells at Guildford.

THE REMOVAL OF CHURCH BELLS.

WHEN A FACULTY IS NEEDED.

BY THE REV. H. DRAKE.

While it is quite right to say that the removal of bells from a church tower needs a faculty, it must be remembered that the word is used of permanent removal, and not necessarily of temporary removal for purposes of repair, or for similar reasons.

If a bell is cracked, it ought not to be left in its damaged condition, and it is the duty of the Parochial Church Council to place it as soon as possible in a proper state of repair. Otherwise it is failing in its duty of maintenance.

A bell (whether cracked or not) should never be recast without a faculty, for recasting involves the breaking up of a bell into fragments, and molting them down with other metal; so that in the new bell little or none of the old metal may remain. Actually it is safest to consider the recasting of a bell as the selling of the old bell to the founder and the buying from him of a new one.

But whichever way we look at it, these are acts, none of which should be performed without a faculty to legalise them.

However, in welding a bell none of such acts are performed. The crack is merely knit together, and this repair no more requires a faculty than does the repair of a crack in a wall or elsewhere. It is the duty of the Parochial Church Council to repair such cracks, and no faculty can issue to enable anyone to do what is already their duty.

At the same time such repairs, and other repairs requiring serious alteration to the bell frames and fittings, or to the walls, or to the chambers in the tower, should not be undertaken without competent advice. They may be referred to the Bishop (or, at least, to the Archdeacon) for his sanction. This would certainly be readily given, if the work was to be entrusted to trustworthy, efficient and experienced workmen. The Church authorities are always properly anxious that repairs should be promptly executed.

Similar remarks apply to ventilation. All parts of the tower, and especially the beams, and the ringing chamber should be sufficiently, but not excessively, ventilated. Unless this is done, the building cannot be said to be maintained in proper order.

LIGHTING AND PROTECTING THE BELFRY.

While the Factory Acts do not directly apply to bells as being machinery in motion, it is possible that the incumbent might be held liable for injury sustained by neglect to have the bells and belfry properly lighted and guarded. The arrangements for lighting and protecting the belfry need not be either elaborate or costly, but it is possible that the Parochial Church Council or other authorities may object to them being carried out. In that case, they should be asked to undertake to indemnify the incumbent against such claims.

Unless the tower is cleaned from top to bottom each year, and birds absolutely excluded each spring (neither of these cost very much) it cannot be said that the Parochial Church Council are doing their duty in caring for, and maintaining, the church.

DEATH OF MR. A. E. WOODHOUSE

The death occurred of Mr. A. E. Woodhouse, who was a well-known ringer in the Preston area, at Walton-le-Dale on May 18th at the age of 52 years. The bells of St. Leonard's, Walton-le-Dale, were rung fully muffled by the local band on Tuesday evening, and prior to the interment on Wednesday, May 20th. A large and sympathetic company attended the funeral service, which was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. H. D. Benyon, B.A. After the service a 360 Bob Minor was rung with open backstroke, and a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung at Samlesbury, where deceased rang most of his peals, on Saturday, May 23rd. Of a genial and unassuming disposition, 'Albert,' as he was popularly known, was a safe ringer and an accurate striker, was always to be found at the heavy end, and his 36 peals include the first by the Preston Branch of Double Norwich, Superlative and Treble Bob Minor. He joined the Lancs Association in 1900, and had been a service ringer since that year at St. Leonard's, Walton-le-Dale. During the war period he carried on the duties of branch secretary. He leaves a widow, son and two daughters.

THE STEDMAN TERCENTENARY. CENTRAL COUNCIL'S APPROVAL OF THE SCHEME.

The Central Council on Tuesday gave its approval and support to the scheme for commemorating the Tercentenary of Fabian Stedman, on the lines set forth in these columns, which has appealed in so remarkable a fashion to the imagination of the Exercise. By their action the Council have stamped the proposals with the seal of a national scheme, and, in addition to voting a sum of £10 10s. to the fund, have appointed representatives to serve on a committee with the local church authorities to carry out the restoration.

It is essential, however, that the money required shall be given or promised before the work can be put in hand, and we therefore invite ringers individually, or as bands, to send contributions to the fund as quickly as possible. Donations should be sent to:—

The Editor,

'The Ringing World,'

Woking, Surrey,

and will be acknowledged in these columns. The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild) is treasurer of the fund.

The second list of subscriptions will be published next week.

CENTRAL COUNCIL'S VOTE.

The president of the Central Council, speaking on the report of the Towers and Belfries Committee at the Council meeting on Tuesday, referred to the proposals for the restoration of St. Benet's bells.

The Standing Committee, he said, had considered the subject and had recommended that the Council should vote a grant of ten guineas to the commemoration fund; and that they should elect certain members to co-operate with the Parochial Church Council of St. Benet's for the carrying out of the scheme—the Parochial Council, being the people, must get the faculty and be responsible for the work. It was suggested that the selection of members of this committee should be left to the Towers and Belfries Committee.

The Rev. F. L. Edwards seconded the proposal.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith said, as the instigator of the scheme, the proposals put forward by the president of the Council had his approval, and the motion was carried.

Mr. Willson suggested that two more bells should be added, but the President said that the tower itself made this impossible.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn was asked to continue as hon. treasurer of the fund, and Mr. J. S. Goldsmith agreed to continue his efforts as 'publicity agent.'

On Monday, the Essex Association voted £5 5s. to the fund, the Devon Guild £5 5s., and the Hereford Diocesan Guild £3 3s.

A COMMON PURPOSE.

To the Editor.

Sir,—From time to time in the past, those who are practised in the noble art of ringing bells have been moved to criticise severely, or even, it may be said, to attack the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings in regard to its interest in the beautiful instruments from which such giant and melodious music is drawn. Again and again the society has endeavoured to show that its interest in the material beauty and history of bells, bell cages, and bell towers is but another aspect of the pleasure that is the proud possession of the men and women who stand at the swinging ropes and by their means turn full circle the swaying metal that voices our common gladness or our common sorrow.

For many years now, some of those who ring, and of those who love to listen to the sound of bells, and to see the true metal hanging silent or in full motion, have recognised that their interests in the matter rest on the common certainty that the whole business that resides in bells is one of art. They have seen that in the fulfilment of all this word embodies, whether in relation to moving and sound-giving bells, or in relation to the bells themselves while resting silent in potential power, there is but one single ideal—to make and preserve beauty. That beauty rests in all aspects of this art is undoubted. In its central object, the making of vast music, there can be no other purpose. In the formation of the substance of a bell art again floods the perspective. In the body and framing of the cage in which bells are hung to swing with even and mighty motion, there is art; and, finally, in the towers, where such frameworks have their beds, the art of building is pre-eminent. It is an astonishment to those who think of these matters that petty wrangling among men devoted to such art should find any cranny through which to press its evil presence. Yet heated controversy, prejudice, and even anger have been stirred into vigorous life by this poison.

Let us consider how opportunity for dispute arose. As far as members of the ringing fraternity and members of the society, of which I am secretary, are concerned, excuse was found for this almost fierce controversy in some ideas that accompany such words as 'modern methods,' 'ancient beauty,' 'progress,' 'medievalism,' and the like. The mistaken disciples of the 'modern' gave to that work exclusive merit, though in their souls they knew, and by their words they showed, that in the fullness of life they loved the modern of old days as well as the modern of the present moment. They sang the praises of Stedman's 'modern' methods, now old, and by some, no doubt, found 'out of date.' They enjoyed the beauty and full being of Norman castles—the 'modern' means, when they were built, of keeping a subject people in obedience; and they admired the winding lanes shadowed by great elm trees, lanes loved of the modernist, although the many twists and the fallen autumn leaves turned to winter's mud are a hindrance to the means of transit used to-day. None of these modernists, none of these devotees of progress, would have wished all the remains of an ancient modernity to disappear and be no more. And those who stressed the values of antiquity did not fear, or were innocent of, the inconsistency they showed when, on rubber wheels turned by the impulse of refined earth oils, they sped on concrete roads to indulge their sentiment for stones heaped together in old days on mortar beds, or for ploughs and wagons drawn even until yesterday by heavily collared oxen. These people, the one oversteering one aspect of the life they loved, the other insistent that beauty resides alone in works long finished, sought too often no better occupation than to score some verbal point in argument against the theories they themselves assumed held sway in their imagined rivals' minds.

It is the desire of the writer himself to forget all but the art of bellringing, and the bells so rung, and to use his influence that others may be persuaded to forget the poison of controversy, and to put the best of human resources to reach a just appraisal of the noble values that are wrapped up in every ring of bells.

The essence of art and poetry and music lies in sentiment, in an alert sensitiveness for sunshine and shadow, for the transparent green of spring leaves, for the works and thoughts of living men, and of men now dead, for the 'being' of life itself, whether the life of nature uncontrolled by man, or the life that man by his power gives to the product of nature.

I think that none of the readers of these words, even those who are committed to an almost deliberate misunderstanding of the object of the society I serve, will, if they drop their fears that I am laying some controversial trap for them, deny this statement to be true. I do not see how it can be otherwise than true.

Do I venture too far when I express the belief that on such common ground there is no longer cause for petty wrangling; that, in fact, we can leave this heated argument to the past as an evil resultant upon befogged minds, or minds partly inert and only partly used? If I am right, it remains to us, who once perhaps took pleasure in tripping up our neighbours, to use our best powers now to preserve and to create the material bones of poetry.

Fortune has given us the opportunity. In one of the towers most medieval, most out of date, most lacking in the signs of progress—in a word, in the Saxon tower of St. Benedict's at Cambridge are six good bells, all just as they were cast, all but one just as they were rung by the 'father' of the art of bellringing. They hang motionless, and have so hung for too many years. The ringers of England, out of sentiment for their art, and not without sentiment for these very bells and for the tower and the cage in which they hang, desire again to draw music from these metal throats. The men and women who, out of sentiment for old buildings and old crafts, are members of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, desire to hear again from this so English tower the sound of bells once rung aloud by Stedman. Here is common purpose: here is chance for common endeavour. Here is opportunity to give over quarrels. Let us work together for one end. And let us truly hope that in other places and on other occasions a like sentiment and a like sincerity of action may be present. For everywhere, where bells hung and may be rung from towers built in olden time, an honourable sentiment exists. There is no cause for shame in this, but rather cause for pride. In future let our common purposes be served by sanity and no excess; let us do nothing in the false name of progress, nor yet anything in the deceptive name of sentimentality, but with a wise appreciation of the attributes of life in this matter, and not without the proper consideration of a right economy, set about, as occasion arises, the service of bells, bell cages and bell towers. It is the whole 'being' of these that is important—not their looks alone, or their age alone, or their shape alone, or their sound alone, but some common whole, which in the person of a living man is called his soul.—I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

A. R. POWYS,

Secretary of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION. ITS RELATIONS WITH CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The Sussex County Association adopted the unusual procedure this year of holding their annual meeting in a town where there is no peal of bells. The gathering took place at Elfinward, Haywards Heath, the residence of the Bishop of Lewes (the Rt. Rev. Hugh Horden), a vice-president of the association, and the service was held in the chapel, the Bishop giving an interesting historical survey of bells, in the course of which he made particular reference to the old bells at the neighbouring villages of Lindfield, Cuckfield and Bolney, upon which the members had the opportunity of ringing later in the day.

At the annual business meeting, which preceded the service, the Master (Mr. J. Thornton Rickman) presided, and members were present from Aldrington, Balcombe, Battle, Billingshurst, Brighton (St. Peter's, St. Nicholas and the Good Shepherd), Coleman's Hatch, Crawley, East Grinstead, Heathfield, Horsham, Lindfield, Lower Beeding, Shoreham, Upper Beeding and Warnham.

The report stated that the association wished to express its appreciation of the deep interest taken by the Bishop of Lewes in it and its work, and of his continued and valued support. The satisfactory financial position of a year ago had been still further improved; and the advantages which the members derived from this, both in allowances for rail fares and other expenses connected with the meetings compared favourably with those offered to its members by any other association. The question of certificate of membership had for some time past been under consideration by the committee, and it was hoped that the issue of a new certificate or a reissue of the old one might be possible. The work of the association went steadily forward, and the average attendance at district meetings had been satisfactorily maintained. While the present situation gave every ground for encouragement, they would welcome a still further increase of younger members, to whom the association must look for the carrying on of its work in the future. All should do their best to enlist new recruits and spare no pains to bring the association to the highest possible degree of efficiency. In conclusion, the report reminded the members that regular and punctual attendance re service ringing should take the first place in their activities.

The accounts showed that the balance in the general fund had been increased during the year from £128 5s. 8d. to £145 8s. 1d., the total receipts having been £74 11s. 7d., and the expenditure £57 9s. 2d. In addition there was in the reserve fund £50, and in the benevolent fund (from which grants amounting to £6 6s. had been made during the year) a balance of £72 2s. 4d.

The report and accounts were approved.

LOYALTY RESOLUTION REJECTED.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Master, Mr. J. Thornton Rickman; hon. treasurer, Mr. J. Thornton Rickman; hon. general secretary, Mr. A. D. Stone, Brighton; hon. auditors, Messrs. W. C. Hart and F. C. J. Turner, Brighton; hon. peals secretary, Mr. Frank Bennett, Hove; Central Council representative, Mr. J. Thornton Rickman.

The Peals Secretary reported that the number of peals in 1930 was 78—an increase of 24 on the previous year.

The question of a certificate of membership was considered, and the Secretary reported that an effort was being made to discover the old plate. It was decided that a committee, consisting of Mr. F. B. Tompkins, of Chichester (an hon. trustee of funds), Mr. J. Thornton Rickman, and Mr. Stone should deal with the matter.

A communication from the Central Council was read suggesting that the following should be added to the rules of the association: 'This association be affiliated to the Central Council of Church Bell-ringers, and loyally abide by the rules and decisions thereof.'

The Chairman said the real issue lay in the last clause. To agree to that would be like signing a blank cheque. Several other members spoke against the addition, and it was decided, on the motion of Mr. J. Cripps, of Shoreham, seconded by Mr. Keith Hart, of Brighton, to reject it.

The meeting concluded with votes of thanks to Mr. J. Thornton Rickman, to Mr. R. J. Dave (retiring auditor), and to Mr. Turner, who filled the breach.

Tea was enjoyed in the refectory, and in the evening the three eight-bell towers of Bolney, Cuckfield, and Lindfield were visited for ringing, the methods rung ranging from Grandsire Triples to Cambridge, Superlative, Bristol and London Surprise Major.

EASTWOOD'S NEW BAND

A new band of ringers has recently been formed at Eastwood Parish Church, near Rotherham, where the bells have been silent except on the occasions when visiting ringers have had the use of them. The belfry is now spick and span, and new ropes have been provided, for which the ringers have made themselves responsible.

On Saturday week, at the invitation of the band, a special meeting of the Sheffield and District Society was held at Eastwood. All the band were elected members of the society, and the Vicar and churchwardens were elected hon. members. Mr. Silvey (churchwarden), in the absence of the Vicar, who was ill, welcomed the visitors, and Mr. J. E. L. Cockey wished the new company every success. Mr. Colin Ryder thanked the ladies for preparing the splendid tea.

Ringling took place during the afternoon and evening.

YOUNG AMERICA TAKES UP RINGING.

ENTHUSIASM AT KENT SCHOOL.

NEW BELLS OPENED.

The installation of a ring of ten bells at Kent School, Connecticut, one of the public schools of the U.S.A., has led to great enthusiasm among the students. The bells are from the Whitechapel Foundry, and the donor, Mr. Frank G. Humphrey, stipulated that the art of ringing as practised in England should be taught. Mr. Isaac Attwater, of London, was appointed instructor, and as soon as the bells were in order after his arrival he lost no time in selecting the first material to work on. Sixty of the boys handed in their names and twelve were picked out, with the object of getting at least six who would be capable of ringing rounds by Easter, which was only one week ahead. The band was to be made up by Mr. Attwater and Mr. John Thomas, of the Foundry staff, who had been supervising the hanging of the bells.

The instructor had a real stiff week's work, but the youths of 16 to 18 years of age put their enthusiasm, mingled with curiosity, into it, with the result that, after practising with the clapper stays on at any time they could come up to the tower—and they kept Mr. Attwater busy—they were able to practise 'dummy' rounds on the Thursday and Friday evenings following the start, with half a dozen sore hands and three broken stays as casualties. The founders had sent reserve stays for all the bells, and as sore hands and blisters are part of a ringer's glory, the students were all in readiness on Easter Eve to ring at the close of the service, to usher in the Festival in real English style.

The boys came away from the service just before the finish of it, and rushed up into the belfry quite excited, some shaking at the knees and wondering what the result of their week's practice would sound like. As they had never heard these or any other bells in rounds, their feelings can, perhaps, be imagined. Mr. Attwater took the treble, and Mr. Thomas the tenor, and after giving instructions to the boys not to take any notice of the sound of the bells to begin with, but to put their whole mind on following each other by the ropes, as they had in 'dummy' practice, they started when the signal was given, and the bells were heard in rounds for the first time. Although there was room for improvement, the effort was a highly creditable one.

Since Easter the bells have been rung 'open' four half-hours a week, namely, on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings, and Sunday morning, 9.30 to 10 p.m. At present the instructor is sticking to call changes on the back eight and front six until really good striking is obtained. Progress is being made every week. Seventeen of the students can now handle the bell allotted to them quite nicely, and twelve take part in the set changes. At any time in the day after 11 a.m. they come up to the belfry in ones and twos for handbell and 'dummy' practice, with some figuring thrown in for the enthusiasts, as several have already caught the 'disease.'

Plain courses of Grandsire Triples 'double handed' on handbells are now an everyday occurrence. With six more weeks to go before the summer recess begins, Mr. Attwater feels confident that when the boys come back in September they will get a real and progressive move on. The ages of the lads at the school are between 12 and 18 years, while the 17 ringers are between 16 and 18 years, but four of these will be leaving in June. The instructor naturally feels the need of a staid ringer or two to help to steady the practice on the tower bells, but he is training the most reliable ones to adapt themselves to any bell, for bell control is the chief weakness to be overcome before good striking can be attained.

The official opening of the bells took place on May 2nd, and was attended by Mr. A. A. Hughes, of the Whitechapel Foundry. Ringers from Grotton and Boston were also present. Afterwards 'The Kent School Bellringers' Guild' was formed, and a letter of congratulation read from the Ancient Society of College Youths. A cable was received from Lord Rothermere, in which he said, 'My sincere congratulations to Father Sill, yourselves, and all at Kent School, and wishes for infinite pleasure from the ringing of the bells.'

CHANGE RINGING IN THREE WEEKS.

Learning to handle a bell at Grundisburgh during Holy Week, Master Christopher and Master Richard Round-Turner made such satisfactory progress that they were given a farewell practice at Burgh Church on Wednesday evening, April 22nd, and each was successful in scoring a touch of three courses of Bob Minor, in addition to ringing plain courses in the same method. They maintained good striking throughout. They are aged 15 and 13 years respectively, and are to be congratulated on their performance.

Their father, Admiral Round-Turner, was very well known as a ringer at Grundisburgh some twenty years ago, as was also the Rev. Harry Round-Turner, their uncle, and these young gentlemen seem to have inherited the art.

Having now returned to school at Sherborne, their progress at Yeovil will be watched with interest by those who know them.

The same evening 720 Oxford Treble Bob Minor was rung by L. J. Lash 1, F. Crappell 2, F. Clarke 3, J. Bennett, jun., 4, A. Grey (first 720 in the method) 5, G. Bennett (conductor) 6. Kent Treble Bob Minor, with C. W. Pipe taking part, was also rung.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

V. THE NEW COMPANY.

When the split came in the College Youths' Society did the opposition form a new society? The question is important, because if they did the present Society of College Youths was founded not in 1637, but in 1756, nine years after the Cumberlands. Osborn says they did; and Lukis and Ellacombe accepted his conclusions and repeated them. It certainly does look as if it were so. A new band was formed, the majority of which were not College Youths at all. This new company did not meet the old Society; they had, after a little while, if not at first, their own headquarters, their own officers, and their own peal book. The 'Clavis' says twice distinctly that there were two societies of College Youths. Still more significant is the fact that after they had rung a peal of Bob Maximus in 1757, they entered it in their peal book as their 'first peal' (Note 7). And, indeed, it is not easy to see how they could have remained members of the old College Youths' Society.

In early days ringing societies were not like our modern associations, wide and rather loose organisations, which can include any number of independent bands. A society was a close community, consisting of one company only. Its life centred in the meeting room and was largely social as well as for ringing. At the meeting room they kept their property, transacted their business, made up their bands, and went forth to ring at different churches. They had no official connection with any particular church. Some towers were the close preserves of certain societies, some were open to all. It depended, no doubt, on the steeplekeeper. In the College Youths' book of rules, 1894, it is stated that the headquarters of the Society were held at St. Martin-in-the-Fields for about sixty years and were removed to St. Saviour's, Southwark, and then to St. Paul's. I suppose this was to make it look more respectable to modern eyes, but it is not true. The headquarters were 'The Barley Mow,' Salisbury Court, Fleet Street, then 'The Barn,' St. Martin's Lane, then a tavern in Winchester Street, Southwark, and then 'The Goose and Gridiron,' St. Paul's Churchyard. There is nothing whatever to the discredit of the old societies in this. They were frankly secular bodies, they did no service ringing, and the present idea that bell ringers are church workers was quite unknown. Each member of the society was in close personal touch with the rest and was bound to obey instructions when selected for any particular ringing or peal.

Here are some old rules:—

'Imprimis.—That this Society meet at the House of Mr. Hill, the Barn in Saint Martin's Lane, every Thursday evening between the hours of Seven and Eight o'Clock.'

'That the Society do not make it later than Nine o'Clock before they go up to ring.'

'That no Stranger be admitted into the Society without Leave first obtained from either Master or Stewards and, in case the Master and Stewards are not present, then a Majority of Voices from the sitting Members must be had before the Admission of such Stranger.'

'That on any Meeting Night the Society shall think proper to make an Appointment to ring a Peal in any Place in Town or Country, it is desired that no Member will promise to go before he has considered whether he can make good his Promise, a Disappointment of this Nature being the greatest Consequence. And if any Member violate this Rule, unless he can prove that he was indisposed, he must submit to be fined One Shilling to be Spent. It is Expected that this Rule be paid Attention to as no Method of Expulsion can be made use of for this Offence.'

It is true that there were members who lived in the country and could not and did not take any active part in the Society. Now and then there were whole bands in the country who were members. The Norwich band, for instance, in 1777 were all Cumberlands, and there were several College Youths at Twickenham, Isleworth and other places in the Thames Valley. But that was a different thing altogether to a rival band in the heart of London. A London ringer was a member so long as he belonged to the one band. If he went and joined another band he ceased automatically to be a member of the Society. The College Youths have now a rule 'that any member joining the Cumberland Society will cease to belong to this company.'

In the old time there was no such rule; it was unnecessary. No one dreamt that he could belong to two companies at the same time. But they had two stronger rules. One said 'that if any Member of this Society shall meet any other Society with the Intention of becoming a Member thereof, and should be rejected, such Member shall be excluded the Society unless upon his due Submission and acknowledging his Fault, the Society in this Case may think proper to ballot whether he shall continue in this Society a Member as before.' And the other enacted that if a member should revolt and join another society and afterwards want to come back he should not be allowed to do so until he had been balloted for and paid a double fee to the Beadle or Warner of the Society.

These are two of the 'Rules and Orders to be observed by the Ancient and Respectable Society of College Youths, 1735.' As they were in force when the split came, it is difficult to see how the seceders could remain College Youths. And there is this further difficulty that half at least, probably more than half, were Eastern Scholars. How could they be got into the Society, and how could new members be legally elected? In a few years' time there was not one member of the band who had ever been regularly elected by the original Society.

On the other hand, the new band called themselves College Youths, and everybody seems to have looked on them as College Youths. Osborn says they were known as the Junior Society of College Youths. It may be so. People would want some way of distinguishing them from the original—the 'ancient'—society. But I can find no trace of their being so called. On their peal boards and in their peal book they are the Society of College Youths without any qualification. What happened, I believe, was that when the split came they refused to be driven out of the Society and formed a band solely with the idea of getting good ringing and scoring peals. And then later on, more by force of circumstances than by deliberate intention, they assumed the usual organisation of an independent and separate society. Writing in a different connection Osborn says 'they never had any rules, but were guided by a verbal understanding between themselves alterable at any time according to circumstances.' They did not have a peal book until 1773.

NOTE 7.—This is the second peal in the second volume of the College Youths' peal book. There is nothing new about it being the 'first' peal, but the present entry is not original. Osborn had copied the original before it was destroyed. It is, of course, possible that he added the remark about it being the first peal, but not in the least likely. He was very careful to copy old records accurately, and if he had any remark to make he did it by a footnote and signed it 'E. J. O.'

MR. BLACKWELL'S GIFTS TO CIRENCESTER RINGERS.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—When reading Mr. Trollope's interesting history of the College Youths, I noticed the name of Mr. Blackwell, of Ampney Park, Cirencester, mentioned. It may be of interest to your readers to know that the Cirencester ringers still have in their possession the following interesting articles presented to them by Mr. Blackwell: An old peal of handbells; a handsome oak chair with a bell carved on it; and a silver-mounted ram's horn drinking cup, which bears the following inscription on a silver plate:—

'Prosperity to the Cirencester Ringers. In tactum sileo percutit dulce cano 1785.'

The first peal rung on the bells was a peal of Grandsire Cinques by members of the Ancient Society of College Youths on January 7th, 1767, conducted by William Underwood, and the band was evidently invited to come and ring this peal by Mr. Blackwell.

Mr. Blackwell died in 1785, the same year in which he presented the Cirencester ringers with drinking horn.—Yours faithfully,
F. J. LEWIS.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

At the meeting of the Western Division, at Redbourne, on Saturday, May 9th, more than twenty ringers were present from Berkhamsted, Tring, Flamstead, St. Albans, Hitchin, Harpenden, Hemel Hempstead and local band. The methods rung ranged from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor. A short service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. B. Berry), who afterwards very kindly entertained the visitors to tea, and presided at the business meeting which followed. Mr. H. Bishop deputised for Mr. J. Puplett, the district secretary, who was unable to attend through illness. Hemel Hempstead was selected as the place of next meeting in June, and a very hearty vote of thanks was expressed by Mr. W. Ayre to the Vicar for his great help towards the meeting.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.DISCUSSION ON REPRESENTED TOWERS.

A quarterly meeting of the Ely Archdeaconry was held at Soham on Saturday, when members and friends were present from Burwell, Cambridge, Cherryhinton, Dry Drayton, Fulbourne, Harlow, Keystone, Melbourn, Newmarket, Raunds, Royston, Rushden, Sawston, Stapleford, Trumpington and of the local band. Various methods were rung on eight and ten bells. A service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. P. F. Boughiey, assisted by Rev. L. Mason. Mr. H. J. Hazel, A.R.C.O., was at the organ.

Mr. A. E. Austin, District Ringing Master, presided over the business meeting. Mr. E. Cawston, of Cherryhinton, was elected a member. It was decided to hold a by-meeting at Barrington on July 4th. The problem of unrepresented towers was discussed, and as a result it is hoped to hold fortnightly practices at Soham in order to help the local band and ringers from neighbouring towers to learn change ringing. The meeting closed with a very hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for his warm welcome.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.EASTERN BRANCH AND THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY.

The quarterly meeting of the Eastern Branch was held at Swineshead on Saturday, May 9th. Members were present from Alkirk, Benington, Boston, Butterwick, Bicker, Frampton, Leake, Sibsey, and the local band. A short service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. C. J. Gurnhill). Afterwards tea was partaken of at the Griffin, when upwards of forty sat down.

The usual business meeting followed, the president (Rev. J. R. Trotter) taking the chair. Six new ringing members were duly elected, and Old Bolingbroke was selected as the place for holding the summer meeting.

The matter of the Stedman Tercentenary was brought forward by the secretary in accordance with the decision arrived at at the annual meeting of the Guild in Lincoln in April last. It was unanimously decided to subscribe £3 3s. to fund out of the general funds of the branch.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for conducting the service concluded the business. The tower was again visited, and ringing in various standard methods kept up until close upon 9 p.m. Friends from the Elloe Deaneries and Southern Branches were present during the afternoon and evening.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Rochdale Branch was held at St. Thomas' Church, Leesfield, Oldham, on Saturday, April 25th. Members were present from Todmorden, Milnrow, Middleton, Baldersstone, Hamer, Friezland and Oldham, the total attendance being 25.

A service was conducted by the Vicar, after which a tablet commemorating a peal of Bob Major rung by the local band was unveiled. Mr. T. K. Driver presided at the business meeting. Ringing then continued until 8.30 p.m., the methods rung during the day including Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major.

RECORD PEAL ATTEMPT.

On Saturday, June 6th, an attempt will be made at Warnham, Sussex, under the auspices of the Sussex County Association for a record peal of 14,144 London Surprise Major, starting at 10.30 a.m. The present record length in the method is 14,112.

METHOD NO. 67.FALSE COMPOSITIONS.

Mr. George Baker writes that the peals in Treble Bob Method No. 67, which were given by him in the article published in our issue of May 15th, are false. Any peal of Treble Bob Major, with tenors together, is true for the method, but in getting out the figures of the peals specially arranged for the article, Mr. Baker overlooked a fundamental point in the composition of peals in this class of method.

HOW BREAGE GOT 'ONE GREATER BELL.'CORNISH PARISH AFRAID OF 'IDLENESS AND EXPENCE.'

The following interesting extract is from a booklet now being printed, 'Breage in the 18th Century,' by Canon G. H. Doble, of Wendron, Cornwall. Breage is a coast parish in West Cornwall, formerly famous for smuggling and wrecking:—

'In 1770 there is an entry which must be, I should think, almost unique in the history of our ancient parish churches. "At a public Vestry held this 28th of June after due Notice being given on the Occasion . . . Unanimously agreed—that in Consideration of the Parish being at this time Burdened with a Numerous poor & of the Idleness & Expence which a set of Bells would probably introduce among the Parishioners—application be forthwith made by the Church Wardens to the Honble. & Right Revd. the Lord Bishop of this Diocese that he will grant a faculty for Casting the three present Bells into one greater Bell to be erected in the Tower of the Church of Breage. It is farther unanimously agreed that the present Church Wardens do provide a large Clock to be erected in the upper parte of the said Tower to strike on the said great Bell with two handsome Dyal plates, one on the north & the other on the south side of the said Tower as witness our hands—E. Marshall Vicar." (& 10 others).

'It is hard to see how the possession of 3 bells could occasion very much "Idleness & Expence" in the parish of Breage! (This huge bell was melted down in 1928 and a peal of six, cast by Gillett and Johnston, hung in the tower.)'

AN OLD RINGER'S QUIANT WILL.DIRECTIONS FOR FUNERAL CHANGES.

The 'Hertfordshire Mercury' has published the following copy of the quaint will, dated 1809, of John Carrington, a farmer who died in 1810, aged 84, and was buried at Tewin churchyard. He is described as High Constable for the Hundred of Cashio and Assessor and Collector of Taxes for the Parish of Bramfield, and it is stated that his funeral was attended by over one thousand persons:—

'When shall it please God to call me Home let me not be laid out immediately on cold boards but lye in the bed, and James Lawrence or George Hafer to make coffin either as shall be thought, of no plate, no nails, but 6 or 8 handles and good letters J & C ag. 84th year no date and not to be buried under 8 days and to digg down till come to the side of my Dame's coffin, and no lower, and set my coffin on the edge of hers and no lower; no hatbands nor gloves for nobody, except my children choose to provide for themselves and nobody to be asked, but hope all friends and neighbours will come and be made welcome, and to be at church about 3 o'clock afternoon (2 winter) to be carried on the bier, eight persons to be appointed to carry at 2s. 6d. each to have a pall, but nobody appointed to hold up, but if anyone choose so be it. As I have been used to Sing and Ring at Tewin Church give Mr. Pridmore or Singers to sing a psalm at funeral if they choose £10 and Ringers £10 to ring thus

THE LIVERPOOL MEETING.

Another Central Council meeting has come and gone, and ringers will examine the proceedings to see what has been done. Many of those who read the reports of the meetings are apt to judge the results from the standpoint of their own particular interests. This view often leads to the idea that there has been little business transacted, because only those things which make an individual appeal stand out conspicuously in the retrospect. For this reason there may be a good many ringers, and some members of the Council among them, who will not look upon the Liverpool meeting as one of the most interesting of the series or productive of results equal to some other similar gatherings. And yet, on the broader view, while the meeting lacked any great controversial development, we think it will be found that the proceedings were not entirely devoid of usefulness. For instance, definite steps were taken to come to grips with the question of the Council's constitution and a special committee appointed to go into the whole question, after the Standing Committee's vague and half-hearted attempt at revision had been rather badly muddled in its presentation to the Council. Then the difficulties which had held up the publication of the 'Collection of Minor Methods' were smoothed out by a compromise which the Standing Committee had arranged, although at one point it looked as if their efforts in this direction were to be upset by a member of the Methods Committee. If the compromise robbed the meeting of a certain liveliness of debate, it made possible the immediate completion and the early issue of a long awaited and valuable publication. In addition, steps were taken to put in hand the next book of the series, which is to comprise the Triples Methods, and this, in itself, should prove of great practical use to ringers, and should encourage and extend the variety of seven-bell methods rung. Again, for the benefit of ringers, it was decided to prepare a work on the variation of compositions, which, in the absence of a register of these productions—which was generally considered to be impracticable—will be a guide and help especially to young composers venturing into, for them, an unknown field. And last, but not least, we may mention the action of the Council in setting the national seal to the scheme which has been promoted by 'The Ringing World' for the commemoration of the tercentenary of Fabian Stedman. Other matters were discussed and decided, and the routine business of the Council transacted, and if these things were humdrum and unexciting, the work done was nevertheless useful. The Liverpool meeting touched the affairs of the Exercise at many points; it may not have been of outstanding interest, but it was well worth while. For those of the members, however, who found the proceedings duller than they would have liked, there was ample compensation in the manner of their reception and entertainment both by the Lancashire Association and the Lord Mayor of the city. WOOLWICH RINGERS ORGANISE A FETE.

On Whit Monday the ringers of St. Mary's Parish Church, Woolwich, held a fete and gala in the grounds of the Royal Military Repository with the object of raising the money for the recasting of the church bells.

The opening ceremony was performed by Canon A. M. Pickering (Rector of Woolwich), who was supported by Messrs. B. Aldridge (Master of the ringers), C. Palmer (secretary of the fund) and G. Acott (churchwarden of St. Mary's).

Musical selections were rendered by the Deptford Central Hall band, and displays were given by Miss Cassidy's dancing troupe.

There were various competitions, and the culminating event was a fireworks display by Messrs. C. T. Brock.

SWANSEA AND BRECON DIOCESAN GUILD.

SEVENTH ANNUAL RINGING COMPETITION.

The competition organised by the Swansea and Brecon Diocesan Guild, which takes place annually on the Saturday nearest Empire Day, was held at the tower of St. Gwendoline's Church, Talgarth, Breconshire, on Saturday, May 23rd. The fine peal of six bells were well rung, whilst the Union Jack flew gracefully at the mast on the tower. The Guild was fortunate in that Mr. W. H. Fussell, of Slough, was once more able to fill the role of adjudicator, and his duties were carried out in a most satisfactory manner. The order of ringing, and the points obtained by the several bands, out of a possible of 240, were as follows:—

Llanelli, Carmarthen	207
Cadoxton	217
St. Mary's, Brecon	200
Gorseinon	230
Cefn Coed	214
Talgarth	240

Talgarth therefore won the shield, despite the fact that there was a handicap of nine points for the local tower.

There was a company of about eighty ringers present, and all were entertained to a cold luncheon and tea at the Parish Hall. Dr. Gwyn Davies, the Vicar of Talgarth, presided over the gatherings.

Mr. Fussell, in delivering his adjudication after tea, complimented the ringers on such a good muster, and remarked that the standard of ringing was well up to the average of past competitions. The teams were fairly efficient in the methods rung, and kept a fairly good compass. He had much praise for the way the Talgarth band had set about their task in the competition. In the raising of the bells there was no clipping, the changes were rung beautifully with 'hand' leads kept well open, whilst the falling of the bells was well done—the whole a highly satisfactory performance.

Prior to Mr. Fussell's adjudication, Dr. Gwyn Davies extended a very hearty welcome to the ringers to the parish of Talgarth, and expressed the hope that a return visit would not be long delayed. The adjudication over, Mrs. Gwyn Davies very kindly presented the shield to the captain of the Talgarth band (Mr. W. D. Griffiths), also certificates to the captains of Talgarth, Gorseinon (Mr. D. J. Williams) and Nenth (Mr. Harry Boyce) bands. The three captains made suitable acknowledgment, and thanked Mrs. Davies.

The thanks of the ringers were heartily accorded the Vicar, Mrs. Davies, and all the ladies who were responsible for the catering, by Minor Canon H. Gomer Davies (Brecon).—Dr. Gwyn Davies responded on behalf of himself and all who had assisted to make the gathering such a success.

Much credit is due to the parishioners, for through their efforts a sum of £22 2s. 6d. had been collected by various means to meet the expenses connected with the gathering. Warm thanks to Mr. Fussell for the manner he carried out his duties concluded a very happy meeting.

DEPTFORD BELLS HEARD AGAIN.

After remaining silent, with one or two exceptions, for about three years, the fine old bells of St. Nicholas', Deptford, were rung for the Whitsun service on Sunday morning.

The revival of the bells, which came as a surprise to the people living in the neighbourhood, was due in a large measure to Mr. George H. Daynes, of Ashburnham Grove, Greenwich, who is a churchwarden of St. Nicholas' and a keen ringer. He has taken over the task of teaching a new band of ringers the art of change ringing, and Whit Sunday was their first attempt with the bells open.

Mr. Daynes is being assisted by two members of the church, Miss Jessie Colgate, a lady ringer, and Mr. William Marriott, of Deptford, and every endeavour will be used to ensure that this historic peal is regularly rung, especially for Sunday services.

GIRL'S FIRST 720.

Miss F. Humphrey, of Folkingham, Lines, who is only 14 years of age, rang her first 720 of Bob Minor recently, when she took part in an extent rung at St. Andrew's Church. Miss F. Humphrey 1, Mrs. P. Humphrey 2, A. Scott 3, H. Gibbard 4, C. T. H. Bradley (conductor) 5, C. Wilkinson 6.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD.SUBSTANTIAL GRANTS TO BELL RESTORATION.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild was held at Northampton on Whit Monday, and the proceedings were of an enjoyable and successful character. The Guild service was conducted at St. Peter's Church by the Rector, the Rev. E. V. Martin, who also gave a much appreciated address. Over eighty sat down to lunch at the Plough Hotel. The Master, Mr. F. Wilford, presided, and was supported by the Revs. R. C. Thursfield, J.P., E. V. Martin, C. J. Watkins, W. H. Fearis, C. H. L. Hopper, and E. C. Channer, Messrs. W. T. Wilson (treasurer), R. G. Black (secretary), and the following branch secretaries: Rev. R. Howes, Messrs. H. Baxter, T. Tebbutt and W. C. Moore.

The Master gave a hearty welcome to a party of ringers of the Oxford Guild, who were on an outing and ringing in Northampton during their short stay. It was pleasing to see among the other visitors Mr. J. Flint and party from Bolsover, and Mr. O. Sippotts, of Crawley, Sussex.

The report, which was adopted, shows an increase in membership and in funds. There are now 119 towers in union with the Guild, 107 honorary members, 731 ringing members, and 187 non-resident life members, a total of 1,025. There are now nine branches of the Guild. The Central Fund shows a balance on the year of £24 17s. 8d., and was worth at the end of the year £86 13s. 2d.

The Belfry Repairs Fund has a balance of £118 6s. 10d., an increase for the year of £8 2s. 6d. Nine applications for grants from this fund were received, and sums amounting to £62 13s. were granted to Moulton, St. Giles', Northampton, St. Edmund's, Northampton, Harpole, Wicken, Yaxley, St. John's, Peterborough, Corby and Stanwick.

A grant of £5 was also made towards the restoration of St. Benet's, Cambridge, from the Central Fund Account in connection with the Stedman Commemoration.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting in Northampton.

The usual votes of thanks were passed to the various clergy for the use of their bells, and to the Rector of St. Peter's for his address, to the Northampton Branch committee for arrangements made for the meeting, and to the Master for presiding.

All the officers were re-elected with thanks for their past services.

One new rule was passed, viz.: 'That this Guild be affiliated to the Central Council and loyally abide by the rules and decisions thereof.'

Good use was made during the day of the various bells, and some good ringing was enjoyed by the members assembled up to London and Bristol Major and Cambridge Royal.

DEVONSHIRE GUILD.RE-ISSUE OF INSTRUCTION BOOK CONTEMPLATED.

The 57th annual general meeting of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers was held at Plymouth on Whit Monday, when the bells of St. Andrew's, Charles, Emmanuel and Stoke Churches were well employed by members from Bridgerule, Combe Martin, Exeter, Ilfracombe, Kelly, Liffon, Littleham, Marland, Plymouth and Withycombe. A short service was held in St. Andrew's Church, conducted by the Vicar (Ven. Archdeacon Daukes), who, in an address of welcome, mentioned that St. Andrew's bells, when recast 100 years ago, were said to have been augmented with metal from cannon captured from the Spanish Armada, and he thought it rather a pleasing idea that our own and our enemies' metal should be joined in ringing the message of the gospel of peace.

Following the service, luncheon and the business meeting were held at Goodbody's Restaurant, with the Rev. E. S. Powell (president of the Guild) in the chair, and the Bishop of Plymouth, the Revs. E. V. Cox, F. W. Moore, G. T. Trewellha (secretary of Truro Diocesan Guild), the general secretary (Mr. T. Laver), and 120 members present.

The annual report and financial statement for the year 1930, as published, were adopted, and the officers of the Guild re-elected, viz.: Rev. E. S. Powell, president; Mr. T. Laver, general secretary; and Mr. T. G. Bartlett, general treasurer.

It was resolved that the Guild should be officially affiliated to the Central Council of the Church Bellingers, and should subscribe a donation of five guineas to the Stedman Tercentenary Commemoration Fund.

A proposal for the issue of certificates graded according to competency of members fell through for lack of support.

A sub-committee of four was appointed to consider the re-issue of an instruction book for six-bell hands, with power to act if deemed desirable.

For the next annual meeting two places were proposed—Bideford and Oltery St. Mary—and on a show of hands Bideford was selected.

The general secretary was instructed to send a letter of condolence and sympathy with Dr. J. Symons (president of Truro Diocesan Guild) on the loss of his wife, also to the relatives of the late Mr. T. J. Stokes, formerly treasurer of the Guild.

The president voiced the appreciation of the meeting at the presence of the Bishop of Plymouth, who was warmly applauded on leaving.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. J. A. Trollope's next article on the history of the College Youths will appear next week, as will also the report of the annual meeting of the Essex Association, which, owing to pressure on our space, is unavoidably held over.

Mr. Charles Channing, who has been a member of the Pitminster, Somerset, band for 25 years, has rung his first peal at the age of 71. He first learnt to handle a bell, when twelve years of age, at the Church of Hatch Beauchamp, Somerset. Most of his ringing life has been spent with call change bands, but he has ever been a consistent and enthusiastic ringer and a valued member of any company to which he has been attached.

Thirty-nine years ago to-morrow the Norwich Diocesan Association rang the celebrated 16,608 Oxford Treble Bob Major at Debenham in 10 hrs. 32 mins.

On June 8th, 1906, the Chester Guild rang the 16,800 of Kent at Mottram in 9 hrs. 40 mins.

The opening of the bells at Kent School is a reminder that on June 9th, 1850, the first peal was rung on the American continent, when Henry Haley called Holt's ten-part peal of Grandsire Triples at Christ Church, Philadelphia.

ORDERLY RAISING AND LOWERING OF BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I think it is only fair to the many ringers, particularly in the West Country, who take a delight in raising and lowering the bells in peal, and who aim at a high standard in the practice of it, to submit a protest against the suggestion of Mr. F. W. Richardson that any official pronouncement should be sought to discourage it. Rather, one feels bound to ask why rising and falling in rounds is not more universally studied and practised. There is no more beautiful finish to the ringing than a well-struck fall. But, obviously, however perfectly a ringer may be able to handle his bell in rounds or changes, the raising and falling in peal calls for a special concentration and practice.

I do admit that it is preferable for the bells to be raised and let down singly where the band is only likely to produce an unseemly jangle in peal. My object, however, in writing is to advocate strongly that ringers should be urged to master the art of raising and lowering in peal instead of being given an impression that the Exercise looks upon the practice with disfavour, and officially seeks to maintain it as the exception rather than the rule.—Yours faithfully,

C. CAREW COX.

RUNG WITH FIVE GENERATIONS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—That a person should ring with five generations of a family must be so rare an occurrence that it is deserving of record. An instance occurred at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, on Tuesday evening, May 19th, when Mr. Robert H. Brundle rang rounds with Miss Phyllis Tillet, aged twelve, daughter of Mr. John F. Tillet. This makes the fifth generation of the family that Mr. Brundle has rung with, namely, John Nauntou, Sam, Fred J., John F., and Phyllis Tillet. The first Tillet, Sam, was son-in-law of John Nauntou.—Yours truly,

CHAS. J. SEDGLEY.

THE GREATE BELL OF BREAGE, CORNWALL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I was interested in your extract from a book, 'Breage in the Eighteenth Century,' which is being prepared by Canon G. H. Doble, regarding the above. This bell was supposed to weigh about 25 cwt., and was, as you remark, dated 1771. It had the inscription, 'The people desire many bells, but one sufficeth God.' There was also a smaller bell of the same date. The statement, however, that this 'Greate Bell' was recast into a peal of six by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston in 1928 is not correct, as these two bells were recast by these founders into a chime of eight, tenor 6 cwt. 0 gr. 10 lb., note C. It is a great pity that such an interesting bell should have been lost for ever to be replaced by a chime.—Yours faithfully,

A. S. ROBERTS.

SUFFOLK GUILD.

A general meeting of the Suffolk Guild was held at Halesworth on Whit Monday, when upwards of sixty members and friends attended from Beccles, Earl Soham, Stowmarket, Wrentham, Framlingham, Sibton, Bungay, Norwich, Diss, Loddon, Redenhall, Badingham, Ufford, Leiston, Blaxhall, Benhall, Blyford, Henstead, Huntingfield, Wissett, Maldon, Chediston and London, twenty-six towers being represented. The bells were available throughout the day, and ringing also took place at Chediston, Wissett, and Wenhamston, methods from Bob Major and Grandsire Triples to London Surprise Major being rung. Tea was provided at the Swan Hotel, when fifty-two sat down, but some difficulty was experienced owing to the fact that only about twenty-six had sent in their names.

At the business meeting which followed, Mr. Orford, of Halesworth, was voted to the chair, and it was decided to hold a meeting at Beccles on August Bank Holiday. Several new members were elected, and thanks were accorded to the chairman for presiding, to the various clergy for the use of the bells, and to Mr. F. C. Lambert, the energetic district secretary, who made all arrangements for the day.—The chairman and Mr. Lambert suitably responded.

Members then again visited the tower, and the bells were going until a late hour.

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY.

FUND NEARLY £275.

We publish below the second list of donations and promises for the furtherance of the scheme to commemorate this year the tricentenary of Fabian Stedman. A sum of nearly £275 has been reached—a magnificent achievement as the result of about a month's work. But at least £350 will be needed—more could be well and usefully expended—and it will require all the effort of the Exercise to raise the balance so that the work can be completed before the summer is out. Time is pressing and individuals and bands who wish to be identified with the scheme should lose no time in sending in their contributions. It is only when the money has been secured that any definite steps can be taken to put the work in hand—that is why we ask ringers to forward their donations now. Contributions should be sent to:

The Editor,
'The Ringing World,'
Woking, Surrey,

and will be acknowledged in these columns. The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild) is treasurer of the fund.

The management of the scheme will now be in the hands of a committee, and a letter has been addressed by the President of the Central Council to the Rector formally asking for permission to carry out the proposals and inviting the appointment of representatives to act on the committee with the representatives of the Council.

A SUSSEX DISTRICT'S DECISION.

At a meeting of the Western Division of the Sussex County Association, held at Rudge on Saturday, a resolution was unanimously passed that the Division should do all in its power to support the Tricentenary Fund by an appeal to the individual towers.

CHILDREN AND STEDMAN.

At the village church of Kington Magna, Dorset, the custom was established by the present Rector's grandfather of observing Whit Sunday as a Sunday School anniversary, and having recitations and sacred song rendered by the children at the evening service. This year occasion was taken to bring the Stedman Tricentenary to the notice of the village congregation. At one point in the proceedings six boys with handbells took their stand on the chancel steps, three of whom recited in order the following paragraphs:—

(1) England has been called the 'Ringing Isle.' It is only in the British Isles that scientific ringing is regularly practised. Just 300 years ago a famous change ringer was born at Cambridge.

(2) His name was Fabian Stedman. He used to ring at St. Benet's Church. The same bells are still hanging in the tower.

(3) He composed a very musical method. It is called, after his name, 'Stedman's Principle.' On six bells it begins like this.

The opening changes of a course of Stedman Doubles were then rung, a little boy of seven being entrusted with the covering bell, after which the remaining three boys repeated Scriptural references to the golden bells on Aaron's robe.

RINGER'S MOTOR-CYCLE ACCIDENT.

Mr. Alan R. Pink, of Dorking, Surrey, was involved in an accident on Whit Monday in Cornwall. He had attended the annual meeting of the Devon Guild at Plymouth, and was proceeding to St. Merryn to meet the Truro Cathedral ringers, who were on their annual outing, when it appears he ran into the back of a car which pulled up rather quickly. He was unfortunately badly cut and bruised, especially on one leg below the knee, and is at present at the home of his parents, Rosewastis, St. Columb, Cornwall. It will be several days yet before he will be able to return to Dorking.

Mr. Pink was to have taken part in the peal of Grandsire Caters rung at Truro Cathedral on May 29th, and the band have to thank Mr. R. A. Watts for filling the vacancy at short notice.

THE BELLS AT KENT SCHOOL, U.S.A.

RINGERS PRESENT AT THE DEDICATION.

The dedication of the new bells at Kent School, Kent, Connecticut, U.S.A., referred to in our last issue, took place on Saturday, May 2nd, on the occasion of the annual meeting of the Fathers' Association. The service was conducted by the Rev. F. H. Sill, headmaster, and was broadcast by means of a megaphone from the belfry.

The bells, a ring of ten, tenor 25 cwt., in the key of D, are hung for ringing in the tower of the School Chapel. They are the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Humphrey as a thankoffering for God's blessing on their son. When the family were travelling to England two summers ago their boat ran aground within sight of land. It happened that their son was taken ill, and an operation was necessary that could only be performed if he were taken ashore immediately. The accident made this possible.

The ceremony began with the Lord's Prayer, followed by other prayers for blessing on those who ring the bells and those who hear them, and terminated with the Benediction of the bells themselves.

Immediately following the Benediction, the bells were rung by a band from Groton School, Mass., and Boston, and including Mr. A. A. Hughes, of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry.

The ringing consisted of call changes on the ten, and touches of Grandsire Triples conducted by Mr. Isaac Attwater, who has been appointed ringing instructor to the school. The arrangements for the moving greater appreciation of the science and art of change ringing. Father Sill, who presided over the first part of the meeting, temporarily appointed various members of the school to positions on the Guild, which, on the advice of Mr. A. A. Hughes, is to be called 'The Kent School Guild of Bellringers.'

Father Sill then left the meeting in the charge of Mr. Sturgis and Mr. Hughes. Mr. Sturgis addressed the meeting on the advantages and attractions of change ringing, and added that if any member of the group should ever visit England and enter a tower where change ringing was practised, he would be certain of a most hospitable welcome, especially if he said he came from America.

Mr. Hughes also spoke, and extended, on behalf of the College Youths, a hearty welcome to anyone visiting London, and also promised to introduce them wherever it might be most convenient.

The Guild afterwards elected the visiting ringers as honorary members.

A school concert was held later in the auditorium, and some courses of Grandsire Triples on handbells were most enthusiastically received.

The following morning a well-struck touch of 840 of Grandsire Triples was rung on the tower bells, conducted by Mr. Attwater.

Mr. Attwater's pupils are very keen indeed, and have made wonderful progress in the short time they have had for practice. Everything, so far, points to this installation being a live factor in promoting interest in scientific change ringing in New England.

THE BELL TOWER AT KENT SCHOOL, WITH THE CHAPEL AND CLOISTERS.

ringing were made under the direction of Mr. Warren Sturgis, of Groton School, who is well known to ringers in the City of London. The visiting ringers were: From Groton School, S. Warren Sturgis, Master, J. Bingham, W. Sturgis, S. Kelly and D. Carpenter, students; Boston, W. Bashford, J. Goodhead, J. Laker, J. Henson, R. Newton and A. Matthews; London, England, A. A. Hughes.

The following ringers attached to Kent School were also present: J. Park (Master), I. Attwater (instructor), D. Perkins, O. Hammond, J. Elser, H. Jackson, J. Fuller, W. Pickard, A. Field, S. Towle, W. Langford, E. Cressy, C. Goodbody, I. Frenay, S. Ogilvy, W. Watson, L. Baldwin, B. Hall and D. Damrosch.

THE FORMATION OF A RINGERS' GUILD.

Immediately following dinner, with many guests and parents present, Father Sill held a school meeting, and, after speaking of the special occasion, read a letter of congratulation from Mr. W. T. Cockerill on behalf of the Ancient Society of College Youths. The following cablegram from Lord Rothermere was also read:—

'My sincere congratulations to Father Sill, yourselves, and all at Kent School, and wishes for infinite pleasure from the ringing of the bells.'

Subsequently, a meeting of all ringers present was held in the headmaster's study, to organise a Guild to enable them to unite in pro-

The bells are tuned on the five-tone harmonic principle, and are an exceptionally fine peal. They are hung in the most modern type of fittings, and massive steel framework, and perfect satisfaction was expressed by all with the 'tone' and 'go.'

The tower is well and strongly built in stone, and is ideally situated on the banks of the Housatonic river.

The bells were heard by a large audience, and everyone was enthusiastic in their admiration of the tone and the effect in change ringing. The work was carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry, and the erection was supervised by their bell hanger, Mr. John Thomas.

FAREWELL TOUCH AND PRESENTATION.

A 'date' touch of 1,932 Grandsire Triples was rung in the tower of St. Mary's, Tenby, on Thursday, May 21st, by: Miss R. Cecil Williams 1, R. H. Jenkins 2, W. Smith 3, T. Yeomans 4, T. Griffiths 5, Rev. F. A. Oswald 6, H. L. Jenkins 7, J. H. Williams 8. Composed by H. L. Jenkins, conducted by Rev. F. A. Oswald.

After the touch, the captain, Mr. R. H. Jenkins, presented the Rev. F. A. Oswald with a silver inkstand in the shape of a bell on his leaving for the diocese of Monmouth, as a mark of the ringers' appreciation of his five years' association with them in the tower.

Thus thirty-six associations were represented by 71 members, and ten hon. members were present, making a total attendance of 81.

THE LORD MAYOR'S CIVIC WELCOME.

Precisely at eleven o'clock the Lord Mayor of Liverpool (Alderman Edwin Thompson), accompanied by the Bishop of Liverpool (Dr. David), entered the Council Chamber and took the chair amid applause. He was supported by the president of the Council (Mr. E. H. Lewis), the hon. secretary and treasurer (Mr. E. Alex. Young) and the hon. librarian (Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn).

The Lord Mayor, in welcoming the Council to Liverpool, said he was brought up to the old saying that small boys were to be seen and not heard. It seemed to him that campanologists were fated always to be heard and not seen (laughter). There was no body of people in the world who, in his opinion, got less recognition for the work they did than campanologists. It was, he admitted, one of the professions about which he knew lamentably little, but whenever he paid a visit to the belfry as a boy the thing that astonished him most was how the people ringing the bells were not pulled up to the ceiling (laughter). It gave him very much pleasure, as Lord Mayor of Liverpool, to welcome them to the Town Hall, and he was glad to have the privilege of being able to lend them that Council Chamber for their deliberations. Continuing, the Lord Mayor said it had been his privilege to see the largest bell in the world, that at the Kremlin in Moscow, and also the other great bell in that city, which weighed 126 tons. One of the most beautiful sounds which one could hear, however, was a really good peal of bells on the English countryside, while another was the chiming of the carillon at Bruges. English bells, well rung, had always struck him as one of the most beautiful of musical sounds that one could hear, and he wished they had more appreciation of bellringing in this country than they had. He hoped by their deliberations that day, the art of bellringing might be a little better known in Liverpool than it was at the present time, and if they could do anything to encourage Liverpool to adopt bellringing more than it had done in the past, their meeting that day would be well spent. He welcomed them most sincerely, and wished them every success (applause).

ECHOES OF A VANISHED WORLD.

The Bishop of Liverpool said he was grateful for the opportunity allowed him to take a share in the welcome extended to the Council, and at the same time to give some expression to the gratitude that all churchpeople and, indeed, many others, felt to them for their part in the service of administering the 'sacrament of sound.' That gratitude, he felt, was generally taken for granted, and, indeed, in the fellowship of the Church they were not exacting in the giving and receiving of thanks, but there were occasions when it should be recognised, and that, he thought, was one of them. It was in their minds yesterday, when they were listening to the music the ringers were drawing from the tower of St. Nicholas', and which, floating high and strong above the clanging of the trams and the hooting of motor horns, fell upon their battered ears like the echoes of a vanished and quieter world. It was the privilege of ringers to maintain a peculiarly English tradition, and to adopt and even extend it in the changed circumstances and needs of to-day. He was particularly interested in two of the subjects which, he understood, would find places in their deliberations. The first was the care of bells and the education of churchwardens and others in administering that care. Churchwardens were men of goodwill, but they were very busy men, and, for the most part, they were, if he might say so without insult, ignorant in this matter—and so was he, and so were most people. Any suggestions which the Council could make which would tend to increase the practical care of bells by the clergy and churchwardens, he, for his part, would welcome very much and would, in that diocese, draw special attention to them. In the second place, he believed the Council were going to consider the question of making themselves recognised as churchworkers. 'Some of us,' said the Bishop, 'feel that bellringers stand a little bit outside the fellowship of what we call church work, and I and my brother Bishops are anxious to do what we can to improve their status and to take them into the practical fellowship of the Church. I am eager, therefore, to hear what suggestions you have to make to us upon that point. I hope your conference will exhibit that same harmonious team spirit which is the very essence of your beautiful art' (applause).

CHANGED TIMES.

The President thanked the Lord Mayor for his welcome to Liverpool and for the use of that beautiful room in which they had met. That was the first time the Council had met in Liverpool, and they appreciated very much indeed the splendid arrangements which had been made for them and in which the Lord Mayor had taken so noble a part (applause). They were very grateful also that the Lord Bishop should have come there to offer his welcome, although they were beginning to feel that they could demand as a right the presence of the Church authorities at their meetings, because during the last 40 or 50 years the position of ringers had entirely changed. Generally they could consider they were looked upon by the Church authorities as effective churchworkers. If often used to be said in the 'bad old days' that ringers would more often make their appearance in church if the Church authorities more often made their appearance in the belfry. They were thankful that in these days they had quite a number of the clergy who were among their best ringers, and a number were there that day (applause). They felt that they could almost demand as a right that the Church authorities should recognise them and come and look them up in the belfry and at their meetings. They were very grateful to the Bishop for coming among them that day, and felt that he had accorded them a great honour. Continuing, Mr. Lewis said he felt very happy that that meeting was in Liverpool, because his own family had been connected with Liverpool for three generations. His greatgrandfathers used to sail their own ships out of the port of Liverpool, and one of them was married in St. Nicholas' Church. He himself had lived in Liverpool for two years. In those days ringing was very dead in the centre of Liverpool. There was no ringing at St. Nicholas' Church, nor was any ringing allowed on the peal of ten bells then in the old pro-Cathedral of St. Peter. What ringing there was was more in the suburbs. The best ringing was probably at Tuebrook and a certain amount in other towers. To-day they were very thankful that that was changed. There was a splendid band ringing at St. Nicholas' in the centre of the town. That was, he thought, largely due to the great strides which Liverpool ringers had made. It was only fitting, therefore, that the Council should visit Liverpool as some recognition of the enterprise of the local ringers (hear, hear). The President concluded by again thanking the Lord Mayor for his civic welcome and the Lord Bishop for his presence.

The Lord Mayor briefly replied, and left the chamber amid applause.

ELECTION OF A NEW SECRETARY.

The president then took the chair, and, prayer having been offered by the Lord Bishop, the business of the agenda was proceeded with. The first item was the election of an honorary secretary and treasurer. The President said they would remember that last year Mr. Young expressed his desire to retire, but was persuaded to stay on for another year so that there should not be a change of two officials (president and secretary) at one time. They were very grateful indeed to Mr. Young for holding on, but he was anxious now to retire and, although they had pressed him, they felt they could not press him further, and therefore it was their duty to elect an hon. secretary and treasurer in his place. Only one nomination had been received, and that was Mr. G. W. Fletcher (applause). Before putting that to the meeting, he thought they should express their thanks to Mr. Young for the work he had done since the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies retired. They appreciated his work very much indeed. He had been a most efficient secretary, who had done everything he possibly could to further the interests of the Council.

The vote of thanks was carried with applause, as was also the election of Mr. Fletcher as Mr. Young's successor.

Mr. Fletcher thanked the Council for having given him the great privilege of serving them. They must realise that he could do very little unless he had the support of members, and he hoped he would receive the same support as was given to his predecessors. Would they help him to be a worthy successor to them? ('Yes' and applause).

Mr. E. A. Young said it fell to his lot, with the passing of the years, to say farewell to them as their honorary secretary. He had filled the office for ten years, and he had filled it, as far as he was concerned, with great joy and pleasure. That it had received their commendation was a further joy to him. They had always looked upon him as one of their brother ringers, but in spite of his lack of qualifications and skill in the exercise of their art, he had, perhaps, been able to serve them in other ways, and that had been his reward. He extended to his successor a hearty welcome. Mr. Fletcher would have his support as long as he could give it to him. The office had been held by excellent men before them. Their light came down to them, and in it they felt strength and support. He could only conclude by saying 'Farewell and many thanks' (applause).

The minutes, having been printed, were taken as read and approved.

The President referred to the deaths of the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, a former secretary, Canon Baker, one of the first Council, and Mr. T. Hervey Beams, and the members stood in silence for a few seconds as a mark of respect.

Apologies for absence were received from Major J. H. B. Hesse, Rev. W. P. Wright, Messrs. T. Metcalfe, R. G. Black, W. J. Nevard, C. H. Howard, H. G. Bird, W. Storey, W. T. Cockerell, Clark, J. D. Matthews, H. Barton, C. E. Borrett, N. Golden, S. F. Palmer and S. Hillier.

The statement of accounts, presented by the hon. treasurer, showed that the year began with a balance of £54 8s. 11d. The receipts included £14 3s. 6d., contributed towards the cost of publishing the book on 'The Preservation of Bells,' £3 15s. from honorary members, £29 15s. from affiliation fees, £2 8s. 1d. from sale of publications, and £5 from interest. The expenditure, which amounted to £61 15s. 9d., included £52 10s. on account of printing, and £2 14s. 6d. on the Carter Ringing Machine, leaving a balance in hand on general account of £47 14s. 9d.

The accounts were adopted.

THE SALE OF PUBLICATIONS.

The Hon. Librarian reported that during the year Mr. A. J. Trollope had presented to the library the result of some of his historical research work. It dealt with the College Youths, 1756-1788, and gave an account of many famous peals and the making of the 'Clavis.' Mr. W. W. Willson had kindly put the matter into typewritten form. There was still a constant demand upon the historical records of the library, and from time to time upon its other possessions. As regards the sale of publications, it had been the best year since 1926-27. For the first time since then he had a profit to show on the year's working, amounting to £2 8s. 1d. Various things might account for that, and he would put first the appearance in the advertisement in 'The Ringing World' of a certain amount of new stock, which people had been waiting for. When orders came in for this, they usually brought an order for one or other of the older books at the same time. The new stock consisted of the revised book 'On the preservation of bells,' and also sheets of certain methods in large type, which were sent to him from the secretary's office with certain other things. These sheets of Grandsire, Stedman and Cambridge were quickly sold, and with the president's leave he had some more printed. Another reason for their comparative prosperity was the action of the Guildford Diocesan Guild in purchasing outright over two pounds' worth of publications. He trusted this lead might be followed by other societies. It was for members of ringing societies that these works were published, and it was perhaps not realised that, apart from the contents of the library and such things as cards of instruction and methods sheets, his house contained between three and four thousand books for sale. On this point he wished to say that he was approached by the secretary of the London County Association with a view to advertising the Council's publications in the new Rule Book which the association was issuing. He had, of course, to reply that he had no authority to do this. He thought it was a matter that the Council should consider with reference to the future.

The Librarian added that there had been placed in his hands that morning the report on 'The law affecting church bells,' which was prepared by Mr. Pritchett, the late Mr. Milne and Mr. Elwell. The printing was authorised at the last meeting, and for this they were indebted to the generosity of Mr. Drake. In presenting the statement of account of the sales of publications, showing a profit of £2 8s. 1d., the Librarian said the amount received from the associations who had publications 'on sale or return' was 14s. 3d. With regard to the method sheets, the Librarian said he had been asked by a ringer for Double Norwich printed in the same way. As two plain methods could be put on one sheet, the Standing Committee suggested they should also include Cambridge Court. With regard to the question of advertising in the London County Association's rule book, he did not know what the Council felt about it, but he did not think it was for the Council to advertise in Guild reports; it was rather for the Guilds to help the sale of publications by putting in an advertisement free, as some associations already did. With regard to the action of the Guildford Guild, he hoped it might be generally followed by other societies, because it would enable them to get their publications circulated more than they did and bring out further publications for the benefit of the Exercise.

The President said he authorised the printing of the method sheets, and they seemed to have met with a ready sale.

Mr. P. J. Johnson said he spoke with some diffidence, but he wondered why they proposed to print a little known method like Cambridge Court. It was very little practised, and the sheets might become another burden on the Librarian.

The President said it was more economical in printing these sheets to print two plain methods on one sheet, and to add Cambridge Court would probably cost very little more than to print Double Norwich alone, and there was a demand for the Double Norwich. The reasons Mr. Johnson advanced were the very reasons for printing Cambridge Court. It was a method that deserved to be much better known than it was.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith endorsed the remarks of the Librarian with regard to the advantages to be gained by associations purchasing the publications outright. The Guildford Guild looked upon their purchase as an investment of capital for educational purposes. The publications were for the education of ringers, and they would find a more ready sale if they were actually shown to the ringers at meetings. The purchase outright by the associations would reimburse the Council and enable other similar work to be taken in hand. He proposed that a discount of one penny in the shilling be allowed to associations on the purchase at one time of not less than one dozen copies of the Council's publications.—Mr. W. A. Cave seconded, and said the Council would save this in postage.—The suggestion was adopted, and the action of the president in authorising the printing of method sheets confirmed.

The report of the Librarian was then received and adopted.

The Rev. H. Drake said he had written a short article, which was to appear in 'The Ringing World' that week regarding the liability of church authorities to obtain faculties for the moving of bells. If the Council would give him permission, he would like to have these notes reprinted, and he would ask the Librarian to slip them into the copies of the book on 'The law affecting church bells.' He would be happy to hear the cost.

The President said they were grateful to Mr. Drake for his offer, which he was sure the Council would accept with thanks.

This was agreed to.

SUSSEX ASSOCIATION AND CENTRAL COUNCIL.

To the Editor.

Sir,—The circular of the Central Council, dated July, 1930, which was read to the meeting of the Sussex Association, stated: 'Of course, it is not mandatory, and if one or more societies prefer to differ from the majority of their fellows it would not necessarily mean severance from the Council.' It is obvious, then, that the Council acknowledges the right of the members of the Sussex County Association to decide against the suggested addition to their rules if they prefer to do so. Then why should they be taken to task by the editor of 'The Ringing World,' who also styles the Master's remarks as 'blank nonsense.' The editor, as a representative of the Central Council, ought to have more wisdom.

A. D. STONE,

Hon. General Secretary.

[The Sussex Association has, and doubtless will continue to exercise, the right to decide what it shall do, but 'The Ringing World' also claims a right to comment upon matters of public interest to ringers. The 'blank cheque' argument was described as 'blank nonsense' because, in our view, it was—just blank nonsense.—Ed., 'R.W.']

GIFT OF HANDBELLS.

On Whit Sunday, in the tower of St. Mark's Church, Glodwick, Oldham, twenty handbells, formerly belonging to the late Mr. Isaac Schofield, who passed away just twelve months ago in the above tower, were dedicated to his memory by the Vicar (Rev. W. Sellers), who spoke a few appropriate words about Mr. Schofield's life. He hoped the handbells would be a useful asset to the tower, and would be used by the young ringers for years to come.

ASSOCIATIONS SHOULD HELP.

Of all the things in which it is admitted the Central Council has done well for the Exercise that of its publications probably takes first place. The Council has made available for ringers books which it is most unlikely would ever have been produced by private enterprise. Those who have had any experience of the printing of works for ringers have discovered the risks inseparable from such an undertaking, and it is only a body like the Council, with funds at its command, that can afford to publish books of the kind referred to. Much of what the Council has done has been at a loss, and it has a good deal of capital locked up in stock, some of which moves very slowly if at all. But the Council does this work in the interests of the Exercise; it spends its funds in providing for ringers that which would not otherwise be available for them. The work involved in compiling the books is given as a labour of love, no one makes a profit. The only cost passed on to the purchaser is the actual net cost of printing, and ringers cannot expect to get their text books on better terms than these. And yet the Council's publications do not sell as they ought to do. This may not be entirely the fault of the ringing public. People do not care about buying something which they have not seen; if it be only a book they like to get a look inside it to see what it contains before they part with their money.

It is here that the associations can give valuable aid to the Council. Many of them have considerable sums of money held in reserve. A small portion of this might be usefully invested by purchasing some of the Council's publications for re-sale. Such procedure has several advantages to recommend it. Many more ringers are likely to buy the books if they can see them and have not got to go to the trouble of sending by post for them. In this way the associations would be promoting one of their principal objects, that of furthering the art of change ringing. The purchase outright by an association, instead of obtaining goods 'on sale or return,' makes for more pushful methods and the quicker disposal of the wares. But one of the greatest advantages to be gained is that the Council would be more quickly reimbursed, and thus be able to put in hand other publications which from time to time have to wait until sufficient funds have been accumulated to print them. The associations, in the interests of their own members, as well as those of the Council, ought to act as distributors of the publications, and the Council would not then be left, as we recorded last week, with over 3,000 books in the retail department. Two new publications have just been included in

THE RINGERS' DIRECTORY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The committee of the Bristol United Ringing Guilds wish to thank the many readers of 'The Ringing World' for the congratulations and best wishes extended to them in their compilation of the third edition of the Directory.

Many useful suggestions have been received, and, while it is not possible to adopt the majority of these, they are carefully filed for adoption in later editions.

The committee are encouraged by the wishes accorded and by the valuable help of Mr. Fussell, who will edit the Empire Section, and Mr. Gabriel Lindoff, who is contributing 'Short touches for Sunday service ringing.'—Yours faithfully,

EDGAR GUISE,

Hon. Secretary.

GAINSBOROUGH RINGERS' EXCURSION.

The eleventh annual outing of the Gainsborough Parish Church bellringers was held on Whit Monday, the places visited being Market Deeping, Deeping St. James, Oakham and Melton Mowbray. A start was made at 7 a.m., and, after a brief stop at Sleaford, Market Deeping was reached at 10 a.m. Owing to a service at 10.30, the ringing was of short duration, but at Deeping St. James ringing on the glorious ring of six (tenor 19 cwt.) was kept up in various methods until one o'clock. The next halt was made at Oakham, where most of the afternoon was spent in the belfry, where there is a splendid peal of eight (tenor 28 cwt.). At Melton Mowbray tea was served on arrival, after which the ringers climbed the steps to the ringing chamber, and rang touches of Royal and Caters on the peal of ten (tenor 25½ cwt.), while the ladies and non-ringers walked round the gardens and visited the fair. On the homeward journey a call was made at Newark and Gainsborough was reached about 10.30 p.m., after a most enjoyable outing.

E. D.

CLEVELAND AND NORTH YORKS ASSOCIATION.

A RINGING COMPETITION TO BE ORGANISED.

The annual meeting of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association, held on Whit Monday at Thirsk, was a great success. Members attended from Middlesbrough, Ormesby, Northallerton, Ripon, Sharow, Kirby Wiske, Felixkirke, and Selby, whilst the local band were in full attendance. Ringing was commenced at an early hour, and continued until eight o'clock at night. Everybody voted it to be a good day from every standpoint—even the weather.

A short bright service, conducted by the Rev. H. G. Metcalfe, Vicar of Felixkirke, was held before lunch, and in his address Mr. Metcalfe gave some very interesting details of ringing, much of which was new to his hearers. He mentioned, amongst other things, the founders' window at York Minster, dedicated to bell founders, and gave many instructive facts as to the old Yorkshire founders.

Lunch was held in the Golden Lion Inn, and was attended by some forty members. The annual meeting was held immediately after lunch, at which the president (Mr. J. C. Pollard) presided, supported by Vice-Presidents Stott (Thirsk) and Tingle (Ripon), and the hon. secretary (Mr. T. Metcalfe, of Middlesbrough). The company was honoured by the presence of the Vicar of Felixkirke.

The secretary's report on the work of the association during the year was received with acclamation, and the balance sheet accepted nem. con.

The President, in referring to the secretary's report, mentioned the hopes of a better understanding being arrived at with the Yorkshire Association consequent on the Easter meeting at Tadcaster. The report of the Sunday service Ringing Scheme Committee, stating that Middlesbrough had again won the first certificate, and that Whitby had been successful in gaining the second certificate, was read, and the committee were complimented on the enthusiasm with which the scheme had met.

The officers were re-elected, and several new members (including the whole of the newly-formed Kirby Wiske band and Felixkirke band) were elected, and the Vicar of Felixkirke and the Rector of Kirby Wiske were elected hon. members.

The meetings for the next year were reported to have been fixed as follows: September, Kirby Wiske; pre-Lent, Darlington (joint meeting with the Durham and Newcastle Association); Easter Monday, Richmond; and annual Whit Monday meeting, Tees-side.

A discussion took place on the president's suggestion that a ringing competition be held, which was adjourned from the last annual meeting, and it was decided that, at the September meeting of the association, to be held at Kirby Wiske, a ringing competition be held. The arrangements were left in the hands of a committee consisting of the president, secretary Vice-President Stott, and Messrs. Hudson (Sharow) and Pickering (Tadcaster). Several bands intimated their desire to compete.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells, to the local ringers for their very successful arrangements, and to the Vicar of Felixkirke for his conducting the service and his inspiring address, were passed with acclamation. The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the president for the expeditious manner in which the heavy business had been disposed of, and the ringers returned to the tower for further ringing.

During the afternoon a party visited Felixkirke, and touches of Stedman Doubles, Kent Treble Bob Minor, and Bob Minor were rung, much to the pleasure of the villagers.

The ringing at Thirsk was of a very high standard, touches of all the usual methods being obtained with very good striking. Everybody got a ring, and many rang their first touches of new methods under the guidance of more experienced ringers. A special feature of all Cleveland-meetings is that the learner is especially catered for, and this meeting was no exception.

A meeting of the Competition Committee was held in the evening, and details were settled as to the method of organising the competition. It is intended to issue particulars to all towers as soon as possible in order that entries may be made and the necessary practice put in. It may be mentioned here that, with a view to encouraging the Felixkirke and Kirby Wiske ringers, the competition will consist of raising, ringing rounds, and lowering the bells. No change ringing is to be done. The judge will be the ever-popular secretary of the association (Mr. Metcalfe).

Altogether, it was a very successful annual meeting, and every credit is due to the officers for their work in connection with it.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING AT CHELMSFORD.

The 52nd annual meeting of the Essex Association was held at Chelmsford on Whit Monday, when there was a large attendance of members from all parts of the diocese, which again testified to the popularity of Chelmsford as the Essex meeting place. In the morning, service was held at the Cathedral, conducted by the Sub-Dean, Canon W. E. R. Morrow, and Mr. C. H. Howard, J.P., Master of the Association, read the lesson. The association's form of service, with the special hymns, was used. The address was given by Canon F. W. Galpin, M.A., F.L.S., Rector of Faulkbourne, who, basing his address on the motto in the tower at Hatfield Broad Oak Parish Church (where he was Vicar for 25 years), 'Ears open, eyes wide, feet steady, tongue tied,' spoke in appreciation of the work of ringers.

Luncheon was afterwards held at the County Hotel, the Master presiding over a company of eighty ringers, and being supported by Canon Galpin and Canon Morrow. The annual business meeting followed. The Master reported that Mr. F. J. Pitstow, Saffron Walden, the hon. secretary and treasurer to the association, was unfortunately too ill to attend the annual meeting, and the members would regret his enforced absence very much. Mr. E. J. Butler read the minutes, and, with the assistance of Mr. F. Ridgwell, discharged the secretarial duties of the meeting in the absence of the hon. secretary.

A SUCCESSFUL AND PROGRESSIVE YEAR.

The Master then presented his report for 1930 as follows: Again I am able to report a very successful and progressive year's work. Our membership has increased beyond the record of last year to 1,167, showing an increase of twenty-seven after removing a very considerable number of names from the list for various causes such as deaths, removals and lapses. This steady increase has been general for several years, and is due to the persistency of our district secretaries in their endeavour to extend the influence of the association to all the towers within their areas. Notwithstanding the very frequent meetings, in every district the attendances have been exceptionally good. Castle Hedingham, Ingrave, Little Bromley, Terling, Wickham St. Paul's, Great Totham and Chirshall have affiliated, making a total of 110 towers in union. After referring to the losses by death, the report proceeded: In bell restorations we have to record the ring of eight at Earls Colne, and the musical peal of six at Greensted Green have been rehung. At Coggeshall the once noted tower for peal ringing, the eight bells are to be rehung at an early date. The Cathedral bells have been rehung with ball bearings, and are now in excellent peal ringing order. At Woodford the tower has been strengthened, the bells rehung in a new steel frame on ball bearings and augmented from six to eight. The five bells at Ingrave have been completely overhauled and rehung with new wheels and fittings, and a promising young band has been formed there. The memorial bells at Great Holland, erected to the memory of the late Miss Emma Barron, founder of the Barron Bell Trust, are a very musical peal of eight. The total number of peals rung for the year is 110, exceeding all previous figures. Of these 97 were rung on tower bells and thirteen upon handbells. The peals were rung in thirty-six parishes, and with one exception all in the county. Thirty-four members acted as conductors; four acted for the first time as conductors; eleven rang their first peal; and in 62 cases it was the first peal in the method. Special mention should be made of the peals of Spliced Major in two and four methods; these are the first of their kind by the association and are very fine performances. The peal of Spliced Surprise Minor in twenty-three methods is the largest number of Surprise methods ever rung in one peal. To accomplish such a feat enormous concentration of mind is needed, and the fact that it was rung at the first attempt demonstrates the abilities of all those who took part in it. Mr. W. Keeble, who conducted 45 peals, rang in 54 peals during the year—52 of which were under the heading of our association. Every attempt for a peal by him was successful except one, which was stopped owing to illness near the church. This is certainly a most remarkable achievement. We owe to him a debt of gratitude for his services so freely given. The long list of peals is largely due to his exceptional abilities as a conductor. The peal book has again been written up by Mr. E. J. Butler, the district secretary of the South-Eastern Division. This voluntary work on his part is a considerable financial saving to the association, and we extend to him our warmest thanks.

The statements of accounts shows a very satisfactory financial position. The income from subscriptions and booking fees amount to £71 19s. 4d., and expenses to £54 5s. 4d., leaving a credit balance on the year's working of £17 14s. We commenced the year with a balance in hand on the Bell Restoration Fund of £27 12s. 5d. The church collections at the annual and district meetings amounted to £7 2s. 10d., and interest on War Loan £7 12s. 6d., making a total income of £14 15s. 4d. Grants have been made of £3 3s. each to Boeking and Earls Colne, and £5 5s. towards rehanging the Cathedral bells, leaving a balance in hand of £30 16s. 9d.

The report and balance sheet were adopted.

The Master said the association had had a very satisfactory year's working. The membership had increased, exceeding the record number last year; there were more towers in the union than ever before, and the accounts were in a very satisfactory position. There was a credit reserve fund from which the bells restoration fund was being assisted, and, after making grants of eleven guineas to assist various restorations, a balance of £30 16s. 9d. remained in hand on that account. But in years to come there might be applications which would exceed the income.

RESTORATION GRANTS.

Mr. Butler presented the report of the general committee, which recommended the following grants to bell restorations: Great Coggeshall and Ford End, three guineas each; Woodford, a further grant of two guineas, making a total of five guineas. It was also recommended to make a grant of five guineas from the general fund to the proposed restoration of St. Benet's bells at Cambridge in connection with the commemoration of Fabian Stedman.

The committee also recommended that the following founder members of the association be made life members: Messrs. B. Keeble (Romford), T. Edwards and T. Watson (Braintree), and W. E. Bearman (Bocking). The Master explained that when the association celebrated its jubilee two years ago, two founder members were made life members, and the names of the above four founder members were overlooked. The committee also recommended that Messrs. H. E. Hammond (Braintree), F. Dale and H. Ewers (Kelvedon) and W. Hobbs (Harlow), who have been members for a long period of years, should be made life members. The report was adopted.

For the election of Master, Canon Morrow took the chair. Dr. Spencer-Phillips, Great Baddow, proposed, and Mr. F. G. Ringe, Brentwood, seconded, that Mr. C. H. Howard, J.P., be re-elected Master of the association. There was no other other nomination, and this was carried unanimously. The Master thanked the members of the association for the honour done him, and said he would do his best to carry on the duties of the office for another year. Since the last annual meeting he had accepted another responsible position at Braintree, but that would not in any way interfere with his duties as Master.

Mr. F. J. Pitstow, in his absence, was unanimously re-elected hon. secretary and treasurer. The Master said Mr. Pitstow had suggested a readiness to retire, but the association could not afford to lose his services. Mr. Pitstow belonged to a noted family of ringers at Saffron Walden, and he had made a very efficient officer of the association.—It was decided to send a letter to Mr. Pitstow, regretting the cause of his absence, and hoping he might soon be restored to health again.

The following officers were re-elected: General committee, Dr. Spencer-Phillips, Messrs. W. Keeble, W. Lincoln, T. Faulkner, E. Dench, with the Master, secretary, District Masters, secretaries and auditor; Peal Committee, Messrs. G. Joyce, T. Faulkner, G. R. Pye, W. Keeble; auditors, Messrs. W. H. Theobald and G. W. Faulkner.

The Master proposed that Canon Galpin, Rector of Faulkbourne, be elected an hon. member of the association, and this was carried, as was also the election of Messrs. R. Plumber and N. Belcham, Shenfield, ringing members.

SUPPORT FOR COUNCIL MOTIONS.

Mr. Butler raised the question of the motion to be brought before the Central Council the following day re the ringing of peals of Minor with a covering bell or bells, and peals of Doubles with more than one covering bell, and asked for an expression of opinion from the meeting, as a guidance to the representatives.

After considerable discussion, they were requested to record their votes in favour of discouraging such practices.

It was unanimously decided to incorporate the following in the rules: 'That this association be affiliated to the Central Council of Church Bellringers, and loyally abide by the rules and decisions thereof.'

Mr. Ringe (Brentwood) suggested there should be again printed in the report a list of towers of five bells and upwards in the country, and times of practice and ringing for divine service of all affiliated towers, which was discontinued owing to the excessive cost during the war.—This was agreed to.

The Master proposed thanks to Canon Galpin for his helpful address, and mentioned that he had heard 45 out of the last 46 addresses at the annual meetings of the association. He said the ringers would go away fortified and encouraged by the Canon's words.—Canon Galpin suitably replied.—Thanks were also accorded the Cathedral authorities for the service, and the various incumbents for the use of the bells.—Mr. Butler proposed the closing vote of thanks to the Master for presiding.

The bells at the following churches were at the disposal of the association: Cathedral (12), Writtle (8), Widford (8), Galleywood (8), Great Baddow (8), Great Waltham (8), Springfield (6), Broomfield (6), and Boreham (8), and excellent touches were rung in all the standard methods.

WILTON'S OCTOGENARIAN RINGER.

At St. George's Church, Wilton, Taunton, on Sunday, June 7th, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples: S. Wyatt 1, A. W. Hayward 2, S. G. Coles 3, H. E. Causley 4, S. A. Wyatt 5, D. F. Sheldon 6, A. J. Wyatt (conductor) 7, H. J. Mogridge 8. This was rung to celebrate the 80th birthday of Mr. John Wyatt, who is the oldest member of the Wilton Guild, and father of the ringers of the treble and 7th, and grandfather of the ringer of the 5th.

LINCOLN GUILD'S GAIN.FIRST RING OF EIGHT IN SOUTH LINCOLNSHIRE BRANCH.

Edenham, a picturesque village in South Lincolnshire, had a red-letter day on Saturday, May 23rd, when the augmented peal of eight bells were dedicated by the Rev. H. Law James, Master of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild. In the presence of a large congregation, including the Earl of Ancaster, the people of Edenham, and ringers and friends from the surrounding district, the service opened with the hymn, 'All people that on earth do dwell.' The lessons were read by the Vicar (the Rev. J. S. Rowlands), after which the Rev. H. Law James, accompanied by the Rural Dean, Canon J. Grinter, and Rev. J. S. Rowlands, proceeded to the west end of the church, and the dedicatory prayers were said, after which two whole pulls were rung on the two new trebles and recast tenor, followed by a few well-struck rounds by the local band.

In the course of his address, the Rev. H. Law James congratulated the people of Edenham on the big work they had completed, and went on to explain the real use of church bells, and said they were not merely hung in our towers to remind us when it was time for service, but chiefly they were put there to remind us of our Lord's resurrection Sunday by Sunday.

During the singing of the last hymn, 'The Church's one foundation,' a collection was made, and amounted to £5 12s. 7d., which went towards the expense of recasting the tenor bell.

The work of augmenting the peal to eight by the addition of two new trebles has been carried out by the Loughborough firm, and they are to be congratulated on the excellent splice they have made. The two new bells bear the following inscriptions:—

Treble.—'Come hither and harken all ye that fear God.' Given by the Parishioners, 1931.

2nd.—'Ring we merrily unto God our strength.' Given by the Parishioners, 1931.

The tenor, which was cast by Thos. Norris in 1636, was unfortunately found to have a small crack in the crown, and has been recast with a quantity of new metal added, and now weighs 16 cwt. It bears the following inscription: 'Thos. Norris made me 1636. Recast 1931.'

It was certainly a great day for the Southern Branch of the Guild, as this is the first peal of eight that the branch possesses.

Tea was served in the Vicarage grounds, but was somewhat spoilt by the continuous rain, although it was estimated that over eighty ringers were present, including Mr. J. O. Oldham, representing Messrs. Taylor and Co., and Mr. D. S. Collins. During the evening the bells were again heard to good advantage, and a variety of methods were rung, including Cambridge Surprise Major. The bells were lowered in peal at 9 p.m., when a very happy day ended.

C. T. H. B.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

The May meeting was held at Bickenhill, and was well attended, members being present from Allesley, Bulkington, Chilvers Coton, Clifton, King's Norton, Lillington, Solihull and Warwick. The six bells of the old 12th century church were kept going in various methods until 5.30 (720 of London Surprise being the longest length), when a halt was called for tea. This was a sumptuous meal prepared by ladies of the parish.

The Vicar (Rev. G. Hood) presided over a gathering of some 25 members and friends, and after tea said how pleased he was to welcome the Guild once more, as the last visit encouraged the local ringers to progress. He expressed the wish that the Guild would provide an instructor to enable them to gain an insight into the art of change ringing.

Mr. J. H. W. White (Ringing Master) proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for his splendid welcome, and to the ladies for the tea they had provided. Referring to the request of the Vicar for an instructor, he said he felt he could not undertake the task himself, but he had no doubt that the Guild would arrange for a younger man to visit Bickenhill weekly or fortnightly to instruct the ringers, but he stressed the point that all the ringers must turn up for practice unless prevented by illness, in order to make the visits worth while for both instructor and instructed.

Upon returning to the belfry, ringing was resumed until about 7.30, when the bells were lowered in peal, thus ending a very pleasant meeting.

An incident of the afternoon will not be forgotten by those who witnessed it. One of the visiting ringers endeavoured to enter the churchyard on a motor-cycle, up a few steps and through a latched gate, the latter, by resisting, suffering most. Memories of Bickenhill will return to him when the bill for repairs arrives.

HONOURING A CENTENARIAN.

On Tuesday evening, May 19th, in honour of the birthday of the Rev. D. R. Norman, a former Rector of St. Mary's Church, Stafford, who on that day attained the great age of 103 years, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters (1,259 changes) was rung on the bells of St. Mary's Church, Stafford, by the following members of St. Mary's band: W. Cowan 1, R. J. Warrilow 2, F. R. Wiggin 3, A. E. Garbett 4, W. H. Jones 5, G. Booth 6, H. F. Evans 7, W. G. Curtis 8, J. Warrilow (conductor) 9, W. A. Riddington 10.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Although the size of 'The Ringing World' is increased by four pages this week, we regret that the appearance of Mr. Trollope's next article on the College Youths has again to be postponed. Other contributions are also unavoidably held over.

Work on the restoration of Yeovil bells has been begun. The frame is to be strengthened and partly reconstructed, and the bells are to be retuned. They are now at the Whitechapel Foundry.

There will shortly be a new ring of eight bells in Guildford Diocese. A faculty has been granted for the provision of a light peal at Grayshott, in the picturesque Hindhead district, and Messrs. Mears and Stainbank now have the work in hand. Up to the present Grayshott has had three bells only.

The attempt for the long peal of London Surprise Major at Warham, on Saturday, came to grief through a trip in the 12th course, after an hour and 40 minutes' ringing.

The earthquake shock which occurred early on Sunday morning damaged the tower at Hemmingford Abbots, Hunts, and consequently the meeting of the Ely Association, which was to have been held there on Saturday, has been cancelled.

Mr. T. E. Slater, of Glemsford, who is so well known in Suffolk ringing circles, last Saturday rang his first peal as conductor. He called a peal of Minor from the tenor at his parish church, and is the third generation of his family to ring this bell to a peal.

The Early English Parish Church of Kilsby, near Rugby, has just been saved from collapse. Cracks and fissures appeared in the walls, the pillars began to lean and plaster fell from the roof. The diocesan architect was called in, and expressed the opinion that the church would collapse in three weeks unless something was done. The walls have been shored up with stout timbers set in concrete, and it is estimated that the restoration will cost £4,000. Kilsby has a ring of five bells.

What is believed to be the first peal ever rung in which mother and daughter have taken part together was scored on Whit Monday at Folkestone, Kent, when Mrs. Phillis Humphrey and her daughter Frances (aged 14) rang in a peal of Minor in four methods. Miss Humphrey only learnt to handle a bell four months ago.

The peal of Stedman Triples rung on May 23rd, and recorded as having been rung at St. Barnabas', Liverpool, was actually rung at St. Barnabas' Church, Bromborough, Cheshire.

BRISTOL RINGER'S CAR SMASH.

FAMILY OF FOUR TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

Mr. Percy Williams, of 34, Victoria Park, Fishponds, Bristol, who was last year's Master of Bristol United Guilds, and members of his family were involved in a serious motor accident on Saturday. Near the Fairland Hill cross-roads, between Bristol and Portishead, the car he was driving was run into by another coming out of a side turning. Mr. Williams' car was struck in the rear wheel, causing it to spin round and topple over on its side. Mr. Williams received injuries to his head, ribs, right arm and right leg. Mrs. Williams was seriously injured about the head, left arm and shoulder, and Mr. Donald Williams, their 18-year-old son, and Miss Esme Williams, aged 20, their daughter, received cuts and bruises about the legs, and suffered from shock. All were removed by ambulance to Bristol General Hospital. Mr. Williams and the son and daughter, after careful medical examination and attention, were allowed to go home, but Mrs. Williams' injuries necessitated her detention.

Mr. Williams' car was wrecked. The occupants of the second car escaped serious hurt.

The injured are progressing satisfactorily, and Mr. Williams desires to express gratitude to the many friends who have made kind inquiries.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

ARCHDEACONRY OF WISBECH AND MARSHLAND BRANCH.

The annual meeting was held at Wisbech on Saturday, May 23rd. Despite the inclement weather, a large number of ringers attended from Shouldham, Finesham, Wallington, Marham, Long Sutton, Over, Willingham, Leverington, Newton, Elm, Somersham, March, and Chatteris. The members also visited the towers of Leverington and Newton, where very good ringing took place, the methods rung being Grandsire, Plain Bob, Oxford Bob, Oxford and Kent Treble and Cambridge Surprise.

Service was held at Wisbech, the Guild's special form being used, and an inspiring and eloquent address given to the ringers by Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake, general secretary of the association.

At the business meeting, over which the general secretary presided, the following officers were elected: President, Archdeacon Ward (Rector of Kilgay); Ringing Master, Mr. Alfred E. Bacon; committee, Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake, Messrs. Buckenham, Croft, Abrams and Smith.

Several new members joined the association, and Ely and Littleport were proposed for the next meeting.

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY. ST. BENET'S CHURCH COUNCIL ACCEPT THE SCHEME.

With the admirable response which is being made to the appeal, promoted by 'The Ringing World,' for funds for the restoration of the bells of St. Benet's Church, Cambridge, to commemorate the tercentenary of Fabian Stedman's birth, preliminaries are now in hand for the carrying out of the scheme.

The formal application, addressed by the President of the Central Council to the Rector, for permission to carry out the work, has been considered by the Parochial Church Council, and the offer has been gratefully accepted by them. The matter has now gone forward to the Ely Diocesan Advisory Committee.

In the meantime four members of the Parochial Church Council have been nominated to act with the committee of the Central Council to carry out the details of the scheme.

The raising of the money remains to be completed. Time is the essence of this part of the project, if the work is to be finished by the end of the summer. No order can be placed until the necessary funds are forthcoming, and ringers who wish to be personally associated with this national memorial to the real founder of their art, and bands who desire to make collective contributions, should send in their donations at once to:—

The Editor,
'The Ringing World,'

Woking, Surrey.

All contributions will be acknowledged through these columns, and the third list will appear in our next issue.

Last Saturday the Northern Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, at a meeting at Sleaford, voted ten guineas to the fund. Other associations who have made grants, since the last list was published, are the Sherwood Youths, the Halifax and District Association, the Dudley and District Guild, the North Bucks Branch of the Oxford Guild, the North-West District of the Surrey Association and the Romney Marsh and District Guild. The last named also made a collection on the occasion of the ringers' party held to celebrate the 94th birthday of Mr. C. Slingsby, the oldest member, and a sum of £2 was the result.

THE USE OF GUILDS' FINANCIAL BALANCES.

To the Editor.

Sir,—At a certain district meeting held recently the restoration of a peal of bells in a small village was discussed. The tower is unaffiliated; in fact, very little ringing has been done there for years, and, consequently, it follows that there is no band of ringers. However, the parishioners have been working hard for some years to raise funds to restore the peal of five bells, and to add an additional one. A motion was carried that the Central Committee of the Guild should be asked to assist, and as a gesture of practical sympathy it was proposed that a guinea should be sent from the district funds, which have risen substantially every year, but it was finally decided that the guinea should only be subscribed on condition that the Rector gave the assurance that his band would join the Guild if and when the band is formed. This, considering that the parish had never sought help from the Guild, and probably did not know of its existence, seems to me a most niggardly and humiliating way of showing sympathy, and it has forced upon me the thought of what can be the purpose of building up unnecessary balances in Guild finances in general. It is well known that some associations have accumulated hundreds of pounds, and even use it for investment, but I am completely at a loss to understand what the ultimate aim can be. This is a plain simple question, honestly propounded. It affects the well-being of every Guild in the kingdom, and it would be extremely helpful if some experienced officials could be induced to offer a little enlightenment. For myself, I cannot think the limit has been reached in propaganda methods, and certainly a more lively interest ought to be taken wherever restoration work is contemplated.

—Yours faithfully,
PLAIN BOB.

HERTFORDSHIRE AND MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATIONS.

JOINT MEETING AT BARNET.

The first meeting at Barnet after the underpinning of the tower and the rehanging of the bells, took place on Saturday last, and, appropriately enough, was jointly held by the two associations of which the local ringers are members. The moving of the bells so that the ropes of the 7th and 8th are now away from an inconveniently placed clock case, make it a much easier job to ring these bells, and is an improvement much appreciated by ringers.

Ringing commenced a few minutes after the advertised time, and throughout the afternoon was in charge of the District Master of the Middlesex Association (Mr. A. W. Coles), who, as usual, gave everybody an opportunity of ringing just what they wanted from Grandsire Triples to Spliced Surprise Major of the four methods variety.

Owing to the absence of the Rector on holidays, no service was held, consequently tea was served at 5 p.m. Mr. W. Pickworth presided, and was supported by Messrs. W. Nash and C. T. Coles (secretaries), W. Pye, A. W. Coles, G. R. Pye and a good company.

Mr. C. T. Coles (Middlesex Association), in welcoming the many ringers present, explained that it had been the original intention to hold this meeting at Hadley, in Middlesex, but as that tower was at present under repair, a quick change had to be made, and Barnet was chosen for the meeting. Thus he was placed in the position of being able to welcome Hertfordshire ringers to Hertfordshire. There was something appropriate in this, however, as Barnet was virtually the birthplace of this district of the Middlesex Association. It was in 1899 that a deputation waited on the then Rector of Barnet (Dr. Barrett), and as a result the Middlesex Association was formed. This association, by amalgamation with the S. and W. Middlesex Guild, ultimately became the present county organisation.

Mr. W. Nash (Hertfordshire Association) said that they of Hertfordshire were glad to be present, and he thanked Mr. Coles for his welcome. He added that they were all working with one object, and the two associations would always work together for the good of ringing. As regarded next year's joint meeting, he suggested that this should be held at St. Albans. If it was decided to hold a meeting there in the summer of next year he was sure they would have a good time.—Mr. Nash's suggestion, being taken as a proposal and duly seconded, was carried unanimously.

Mr. W. Pickworth (Middlesex Association) proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector (Rev. W. E. Moll) for the use of the bells, and to Mrs. Chandler, Mrs. Eldred, and friends for arranging an excellent tea. This was carried with acclamation.

Some handbell ringing, Bristol and Cambridge Surprise, by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Mayne and Messrs. W. and G. R. Pye, followed, and afterwards a further visit was made to the belfry. The attendance during the afternoon and evening reached well above fifty, a few arriving after tea to help swell the total.

BUGLERS OF THE CHURCH.

Addressing the spring meeting of the Witney and Woodstock Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild at Eynsham, the Vicar of Tackley (Rev. E. J. Lee) described bellringers as the buglers of the church.

At the business meeting, when among those present were four undergraduate members, the Rev. F. R. Marriott, who presided, thanked the Vicar of Eynsham and the organist (Mr. W. Bond) for their help in the service, and the ladies of Eynsham (under Mrs. Owen) for providing tea.

The Secretary reported a balance in hand of £19 4s., out of which it was agreed to contribute £1 1s. to the Fabian Stedman memorial.

Three honorary and five ringing members were accepted, and Mr. Everts, appealing for more hon. members, pointed out that their subscription was devoted to the Diocesan Bell Restoration Fund.

Replying to a vote of thanks proposed by Mr. John Monk, the Rev. E. J. Lee said that in his address he had tried to emphasise that bellringers should always do all they could to second the efforts of the priest.

During the afternoon and evening the towers of Eynsham, Freeland, Cassington and Handborough were visited.

The autumn meeting was fixed for October 3rd at Northmoor.

THE PEAL OF BOB ROYAL AT NOTTINGHAM.

Several correspondents have written pointing out that the peal of Bob Royal at St. Peter's, Nottingham, was not first in the method in the county on tower bells.

Mr. Harold Walker, the conductor, says he has now been advised that two peals of Bob Royal have been previously rung at St. Mary's, one of them as long ago as 1786. Apart from the peal being the first of Bob Royal on the bells, the band, therefore, claim no further credit.

The peal in 1786 was called by W. D. Crofts. The other was rung in 1912. In addition to these, Mr. H. Haigh, of Worksope, points out that a peal of Bob Royal was rung at East Retford on November 9th, 1900, conducted by J. B. Joyes, by a band born in the borough of East Retford.

MEMORIAL TO THE LATE MR. PRYCE TAYLOR.

RINGERS' CHAPEL AT LOUGHBOROUGH.

DEDICATION OF SCREEN AND PAVEMENT.

In Memory of Pryce Taylor,
1891—1927.

Erected by his widow, Kathleen, 1931.

This simple inscription, cast in bell metal, adorns the gateway of a handsome wrought-iron screen which now encloses the space at the foot of the tower of Loughborough Parish Church, and sets it apart for all time as a ringers' chapel.

THE RINGERS' CHAPEL AND MEMORIAL SCREEN.

Pryce Taylor's death in Canada in 1927, while on a business tour, robbed the bell founding industry of one who would have been destined to play a great part in its future progress and development and the ringing Exercise of a well-known and popular figure. Loughborough, which to ringers is synonymous with Taylors, where Pryce was born and where he was laid to rest, now possesses a noble memorial to this young spirit, cut off on the threshold of his prime, and while the church has been beautified, the art which was part of Pryce Taylor's life will be elevated by the existence of a hallowed spot which ringers may call their own through all the time to come.

It was, indeed, a happy thought which inspired the conception of this unusual yet singularly appropriate memorial to one whose whole existence had been inextricably associated with bells; its development was artistically worked out by Mr. A. Herbert, a Leicester architect, and its execution is a lasting credit to all the craftsmen employed.

The memorial screen in wrought iron is 15ft. in height and 12ft. wide, formed in three panels, there being a central gateway surmounted by coats of arms in heraldic colours, one being the foundry mark of the Newcombes, predecessors, in the long line of founders to Messrs. John Taylor and Co., and the other the arms of St. Neots, where Robert, the first of the Taylors who became bell founders, born in 1760, succeeded to the business of Edward Arnold, with whom he had been apprenticed.

The floor of the chapel has been decorated with some beautiful work cast in bell metal. The foundry mark of the Newcombes occupies the centre, and round it is the text, 'Their sound is gone out into all lands.' Surrounding this and having a diameter of ten feet is a richly ornamented broad riband of metal covered with a design, of which the most conspicuous feature is four medallions representing the book of seals, the crosskeys and sword of SS. Peter and Paul, to whom the church was originally dedicated, the fisherman's boat, and the arms of St. Augustine, the first missionary to England.

On one wall of the chapel hang the bronze plaques of John William Taylor, who died in 1906, and John William Taylor, the younger, who died in 1919—the grandfather and father respectively of Pryce Taylor. The opposite wall is reserved for ringing memorials, and already the tablets relating to the 18,027 Stedman Caters, rung on the bells in 1909, and the Victory peal rung on July 26th, 1919, find a place of honour there.

The dedication of the memorial took place on Saturday at an impressive service, when there was a great gathering of ringers and other friends of Pryce Taylor. The ceremony was performed by the Bishop of Leicester. Mrs. Pryce Taylor, the widow, and Mr. Denison Taylor (uncle) were present, and other members and friends of the family who attended were Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Taylor (uncle and aunt), Mr. Owen Taylor (uncle), Mr. and Mrs. Mears (brother-in-law and sister), Mrs. Backhouse (sister), Miss Margaret Taylor (step-sister), Mr. Paul Taylor (step-brother), Mr. Crofton, Mr. and Mrs. Statham, Mr. Lea and Miss Lea, Mrs. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. A. Herbert, Miss Herbert, and the Rev. R. A. and Mrs. Jones. Members of the 'Howe and Charnwood' Lodge of Freemasons, of which Mr. Pryce Taylor was a member, were present, and ringers came from many parts of Leicestershire, Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire, and from as far away as London, Birmingham and Lincoln, to do honour to the memory of one whom they were proud to have known and to call a friend.

The service was conducted by Rev. F. W. Pratt (curate), owing to the Rector's ill-health, but Canon Briggs was present, and with the churchwardens attended the Bishop as he moved from the chancel to the west end of the church to offer the dedicatory prayers. As soon as these had ended there fell upon the hushed gathering the sound of the glorious bells in the tower ringing half-muffled to a perfect beat, the measured rounds being followed by three leads of Grand-sire Triples, while the procession returned to the chancel. The ringing was done by the Loughborough Parish Church band.

The Bishop of Leicester, in his address, first referred to the origin and development of bells and their introduction into the Christian Church, quoting many interesting facts which, he said, he had culled from the book of a Leicestershire campanologist, Mr. Ernest Morris, 'The History and Art of Change Ringing.' In bell founding and bellringing, said Dr. Bardsley, England had always in the past been, and was to-day, far ahead of other countries. In no part of England had there been a greater love of bells and bellringing than in the county of Leicestershire, and in connection with bells no place had become more world-famed than that town of Loughborough. It was a happy and noble proposal that, just as in the past, parts of their cathedrals and parish churches had been associated with different crafts and trades, so there in that Parish Church there should be set apart under the great tower a part of the church which in all the coming days would be associated with the craft of bellringing. They greatly appreciated the generosity of those who had made this possible, and the skill and art of those who had carried out the work. Members of the Taylor family had been famous not only as bell founders, but as bellringers. Their name was known throughout the world, and their bells, founded there in Loughborough, not only throughout the length and breadth of this country, but in many other lands. He thanked Mrs. Pryce Taylor and Mr. Denison Taylor for the offering they had made, and which it had been his privilege to dedicate, and he was sure there were many present who, in their hearts, associated themselves with him in thanking these two benefactors.

A BIG GATHERING.

After the service, the ringers and Masonic brethren were the guests of Mr. Denison Taylor, who entertained them to a sumptuous tea in the Fearon Hall, where a company numbering over 260 sat down, with the Bishop presiding, supported by Mrs. Pryce Taylor, Mr. Denison Taylor and the other members of the family. The tea was admirably served by a band of ladies, under the direction of Mrs. Hickling (wife of one of the churchwardens).

During an interval, a bouquet of carnations was handed to Mrs. Pryce Taylor by little Miss Mitchell, the daughter of one of the foundry employees.

Afterwards, the Bishop explained the absence of the Rector from the gathering and, amid applause, wished Canon Briggs a speedy restoration to health. Proceeding, he thanked Mr. Denison Taylor for the hospitality extended to that large company. One of the characteristics of those who were interested in bells and bellringing was, he said, their enthusiasm, and another was their spirit of comradeship. Some of them, however, might not know the extremely interesting story of Mr. Taylor's firm. Its history must be almost unique in the history of firms. The story of this concern went back to the fourteenth century, to the year 1336. All down the centuries since then this firm had been carrying on the work of bell founding, and it was about the middle of the 18th century that the name of Taylor became associated with it, while in the middle of the last century the foundry was started in Loughborough. This was a record of which the firm might well be proud, and of which he ventured to say those who were associated with Loughborough and with Leicestershire were proud, too (applause). There was a good sound to the name of Taylor all over the world (laughter and applause). Having extended a welcome to all the visitors to Loughborough, the Bishop went on to refer to the special purpose of the service and of that gathering. Mr. Pryce Taylor, he said, passed over quite a young man. He had already become associated with that firm, and was full of promise to maintain and carry on with others the traditions of the firm. But that was not to be, for he was taken ill in America and died. The very beautiful gate and the very beautiful pavement which they had dedicated that day had been given by Mrs. Pryce Taylor, his widow, and his uncle, Mr. Denison Taylor, in his memory, and the Rector, with a very happy thought, had arranged that the bottom of the tower should be set apart to be always associated with bells and bellringing. That seemed to him to be peculiarly suitable in Loughborough, which was the very Mecca of their craft. He was sure it would be appreciated by all of them, and it had been made possible by the generosity of Mrs. Pryce Taylor and Mr. Denison Taylor. There was in his own heart, and he was sure in the hearts of all present, sympathy with those who had made those gifts because of their sacred character, and when they acknowledged with thankfulness the gift, they did so with true sympathy and sincere respect. That was the true purpose of their gathering in Loughborough that day, and he would like to say that they appreciated the presence of so many ringers, especially of those who came from a distance to be with them. He also thanked personally Mrs. Pryce Taylor and Mr. Denison Taylor for the privilege which they had given him that afternoon (applause).

CHARACTERISTIC TRAITS.

Mr. Denison Taylor, who was received with applause, said they were met that day, as the Bishop had reminded them, to do honour to the memory of his very dear nephew, Pryce Taylor. The beautiful service and the dedication of the tower screen had indeed been most impressive to all of them, and especially to those who knew the dear lad. They all were very honoured and were grateful to the Lord Bishop for his kindness in being present with them and for performing the dedication. He hoped that his lordship's kind words with reference to the firm were well deserved; they were certainly very kind, and he appreciated them highly. He felt that this service must have been very touching to Mrs. Pryce Taylor, whose very happy but distressingly short married life was brought to an end by the death of her husband. It was most touching to himself also. He was associated with Pryce in business for many years, and he still felt, and always would feel, the loss of his cheery and optimistic outlook and his bright and encouraging presence. His heart and soul were in his work, and he was ever studying how to make a better and still better job. He had a fine business personality, which ensured him a welcome wherever he went and made him welcome on every occasion. He possessed the spirit which characterised the men who fought in France; he called it the N.E.I. and the N.E.D., the first meaning 'Not easily impressed,' the second 'Not easily depressed.' Whatever the reports, whether good or bad, they just said, 'Oh, yes,' and carried on. The same imperturbable spirit was characteristic of Pryce Taylor. Another slogan which he brought back with him from France was 'Don't grouse,' and he wondered whether some of them might not take a lesson from the fine spirit which was manifested by those who won through. Of course, there was no place like England—it was a wonderful country; but when some super-optimist made claims such as one Englishman being as good as ten foreigners, he thought the response was a bright 'Oh, yes.' On the other hand, when the super-pessimist said England was played out, gone to the dogs, done for—again they could say, 'Oh, yes' (laughter and applause). That was the attitude of the men who won through by ceaseless hard work and dogged determination. Pryce Taylor was of this type, and England would not go far wrong while this spirit pervaded her young men. In conclusion, Mr. Taylor said Mrs. Pryce Taylor wished him to express her thanks to Mr. Herbert for his most artistically conceived design for the memorial, and to those craftsmen who had so ably carried out the architect's plan, and he would also like to add his own word of thanks for the decorative work in the tower chamber. Mr. Herbert had spared no time or trouble to bring to a satisfactory conclusion the whole of this beautiful work, and they were deeply indebted to him. After expressing regret at the absence of the Rector from that gathering, Mr. Taylor said they thought it was very kind of so many of Pryce's ringing and other friends to attend on that occasion, and they were proud to see them there in such goodly numbers to honour his memory (applause).

Thanks were expressed to Mrs. Pryce Taylor and to Mr. Denison Taylor for the hospitality, and to the ladies who had prepared and served the tea, and the proceedings terminated with a brief speech by Mrs. Pryce Taylor, who gracefully thanked those who had come there that afternoon, many of whom knew her husband and were his friends.

IN THE FOUNDRY.

The ringing visitors afterwards made good use of the Parish Church and Foundry bells, and found a great deal to interest them in the works. Chief among the attractions was the great carillon of 48 bells, with tenor of 5 tons, for the Duke University Cathedral, Durham, North Carolina. This carillon can be operated by a piano keyboard or by means of electrically controlled music rolls, as simply as a pianola. It is the last word in carillon perfection, not only in the tones of its bells from the smallest to the largest, but in its ingenious operation. Another carillon in process of manufacture was one of 66 bells with a 5 ton tenor for the World War Memorial tower which is being built at Richmond, Virginia, and yet another set of 30, with 50 cwt. tenor, for Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut.

Waiting in the foundry for removal to their new home on Monday last were the eight bells, recast from the old six, which came to grief in the disastrous fire at Eaton Socon Church, Bedfordshire. Among other numerous and interesting jobs, which could be seen passing through the works were the ring of six for Great Budeaux, Cornwall, which are to be rehung in a new frame, the peal of eight for Bollington, Cheshire, the ring of six for Moulton, Northants, which are to go into a new frame with space for eight, the five for Fobbing, Essex, which are likewise to be provided with a frame for eight, and the ring of five for Culworth, near Banbury, which includes two of Newcombe's old bells.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A CITY MEETING.

A meeting of the Northern District of the London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild was held on Saturday, May 30th. Ringing commenced soon after 3 p.m. at the eight-bell tower of St. Dunstan-in-the-East, and continued until 5.30 p.m., when the company present adjourned to a nearby Lyons for a well-earned tea. This important item having been disposed of, a move was made to the ten-bell tower of St. Magnus-the-Martyr, where a short business meeting was held. One new member was elected, and Woodford chosen as the place of the next meeting. Votes of thanks to the Rectors of St. Dunstan's and St. Magnus', and also to Mr. W. D. Grainger for having everything ready at St. Dunstan's, brought the business to a close, and ringing was then resumed until 8.45 p.m.

Methods rung during the day were Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Caters, Kent Major and Royal, Plain Bob, Double Norwich, Cambridge, Superlative and London Surprise Major.

The attendance at this meeting was comparatively poor, and it is hoped that the next meeting will draw a much larger number.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

NEW HONORARY MEMBERS.

On the election of honorary members, the President said the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson and Mr. J. W. Parker retired this year. In addition, they had lost the Rev. C. D. P. Davies by death, while the hon. secretary had received a letter from the Rev. E. W. Carpenter saying that, although he had not been able to attend any meetings for some time, he had hoped to attend one more meeting to say a few words of farewell, because he felt he must give up the work. Mr. Carpenter had not, however, been able to come to that meeting, and he (the president) thought they must regretfully accept his resignation. Mr. Parker had also expressed a wish not to be re-elected, as he found it difficult to get to the meetings. They had thus four vacancies altogether. As they knew, it had been the practice of the Council to leave one position vacant in case they desired to elect anyone in a hurry. The Standing Committee had considered the question, and there were four names which they wished to put forward, and, in view of the fact that they would all be very useful to the Council, the committee thought the four places should be filled. The names suggested were Mr. Stephen H. Wood, Mr. E. W. Elwell, who had dropped out from the representation of the Chester Diocesan Guild, on account of resigning the secretaryship, and Mr. A. A. Hughes, who did not now represent the College Youths, with, of course, Mr. Richardson. They would all regret the severance of the Rev. E. W. Carpenter's connection with the Council, as he was one of the founding members.

Replying to a question, the President said it was not absolutely necessary to accept Mr. Carpenter's resignation that day, but if they did not do so they would have no vacancy for emergencies. The resignation could be left over for another year.

Mr. Newton said in view of a notice of motion standing in his name he had been going to suggest the election of one or two names as hon. members, but he would be quite satisfied with one. If all the places were filled, it would preclude his proposing any other name later.

The President said it would be in order to accept Mr. Carpenter's resignation later in the day if they found it necessary; in the meantime they need take no action.

On the motion of the Rev. Canon Elsee, seconded by Mr. A. E. Sharman, the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson was re-elected, and vacancies were filled by the election of Messrs. S. H. Wood, E. W. Elwell and A. A. Hughes.

THE CARTER RINGING MACHINE.

The reports of committees were then considered by the Council, the hon. secretary first making a verbal report on behalf of the Standing Committee, which had met earlier in the day. The committee were given authority at the last meeting, he said, to go into the question of the rules and make recommendations. This matter would come before the Council later. In his (the speaker's) absence from the country, Mr. Cave had done what he could towards getting cheaper travelling facilities for the members of the Council, but had met with very little success. It was a story twenty years old, and he had come to the conclusion that it would be wise if the Council only made an effort for reduced fares for the members on the occasion of the London meetings, when they had more members travelling. With regard to the Carter ringing machine, of which the Council were trustees, the Standing Committee thought it would be a graceful act if the work of the two gentlemen, Mr. Fardon and Mr. Sharman, who had been overhauling the machine at a great deal of expense of time to themselves, were recognised by some little gift, such as one or other of the new books on bells and ringing that had recently been published. They had made probably 15 or 20 journeys to South Kensington in connection with the work, and they had charged for nothing except the actual material that they had used. These two gentlemen now probably knew more about the machine than anyone since Mr. Carter himself, and it was suggested that the Council should appoint them as demonstrators, and that they should be allowed to charge a fee for demonstrating the machine of, say, half a guinea. By the death of Mr. Davies, they had lost one of the two trustees who were appointed by Mr. Carter's own desire. There was only himself (the hon. sec.) left, and it was for the Council to appoint a colleague to act with him. The Standing Committee thought it should be someone living in London, and they unanimously recommended Mr. A. A. Hughes, who had kindly given the set of bells which were now operated by the machine.

The President suggested that the Council should pass a resolution to present to each of the two gentlemen who had recently overhauled the machine a copy of Mr. Morris' 'History and Art of Change Ringing,' or a book of similar value, as a mark of their appreciation, and with the thanks of the Council for what they had done; also that they appoint them officially as demonstrators of the machine; and, thirdly, that the Standing Committee's action be confirmed in appointing Mr. Hughes as trustee.

This was agreed to.

THE REVISION OF RULES.

The Hon. Secretary said just before he left for South Africa the Standing Committee considered the question of the rules, referred to them from the last Council meeting. It arose out of some suggested amendments put forward anonymously in 'The Ringing World,' in which the idea of having the associations in affiliation with the Council was apparently the chief notion. The committee came to the conclusion that this could be done by the addition of a sub-clause to Rule 1 and an alteration to Rule 2. The existing rules were as follows:—

1. That the Council be known as the 'Central Council of Church Bellringers.'

2. That the Council consist of:—

(1) Representative members from all recognised societies, associations, and guilds of church bellringers (hereinafter referred to under the general term 'Societies'), numbering not less than seventy-five members. The representation to be in the following proportion:—

For a society the number of whose members exceeds:

75, but does not exceed 150, one representative.

150, but does not exceed 300, two representatives.

300, but does not exceed 450, three representatives.

450, four representatives.

Four representatives to be the limit of representation allowed to any one society.

The committee proposed that Rule 2 should be amended by the insertion of sub-clause:—

1. (a) That any recognised society, association or guild (hereinafter referred to under the general term 'societies'), numbering not less than seventy-five members, should be eligible for affiliation to the Council.

2. That the Council consist of representative members from all affiliated societies. The representation to be in the following proportion (as set out in the original rule).

On behalf of the committee, he moved the adoption of the recommendation.—The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn seconded.

Mr. J. S. Pritchett suggested that in 1 (a), instead of the words 'should be eligible for affiliation,' there should be substituted the words 'shall on application be affiliated.'

The Rev. H. Law James asked how many copies of 'Rules and Decisions' there were at present unsold.

The Librarian: Ninety-five.

The Rev. H. Law James: And if we proceed to make these alterations we may as well put these 95 copies on the fire; they will be unsalable.

The Hon. Secretary said that had been considered by the Standing Committee, and it was decided that, if any alterations were made, they should be printed on slips and inserted in the books.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith raised the question as to what procedure the Council were to adopt with regard to amendments to this report, and whether the alterations could be moved without due notice having been given.

The President said he was doubtful whether, without notice in writing, they could alter their rules, but he thought there was no reason why they should not thrash out the question of these suggested alterations.

Mr. W. Willson pointed out the inequality of the representation under the rules, by which a society of 75 members got one vote, but a society with a thousand or even two thousand members got only four votes. Under such conditions there must be occasions when the minority ruled.

OTHER SUGGESTED AMENDMENTS.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, who had circulated a series of suggested amendments among the members, moved that Rule 2 should be altered as follows:—

That any recognised society, association or guild of church bellringers (hereinafter referred to under the general term 'society'), numbering not less than seventy-five members, shall be eligible to apply for affiliation to the Council, and, upon admission, shall subscribe to an undertaking loyally to abide by the rules and decisions of the Council.

That the Council shall consist:—

(1) Of representative members elected by affiliated societies.

(2) Of honorary members, not exceeding fifteen in number, elected by the Council.

Affiliated societies shall be entitled to elect representatives in the following proportion:—

A society, the number of whose members is 75 or over, but does not exceed 150, one representative; exceeds 150 but does not exceed 300, two representatives; exceeds 300 but does not exceed 450, three representatives; exceeds 450, four representatives.

Four representatives to be the limit of representation allowed to any one society.

For the purpose of this rule the basis of the calculation of membership for territorial societies shall be the number of annual subscribing honorary and ringing members and resident life members, the figures to be those presented to the society at its last annual meeting.

He said, in support of the principle that the associations should be directly affiliated to the Council, instead of merely having the duty of electing the members of which the Council was constituted, that last year the Council asked the associations to pass a resolution to include in their rules one under which they should be affiliated to the Council and loyally abide by the Council's decisions. The Council must, therefore, make provision for accepting that affiliation, and, in his view, it was only right that the Council should be entitled to ask the associations to give an undertaking of loyalty. With regard to the paragraph relating to the basis of calculation of membership, this would to some extent prevent overlapping in representation, but the proposal excluded such societies as the College Youths, the Cumberland Youths, the Ladies' Guild and the Cambridge University Guild, which, from their nature, seemed to require special treatment.

Mr. G. Grover, who seconded, said there was a strong feeling in some quarters that the Central Council was a sort of misty body which wished to dictate to the associations and guilds and yet did not want the associations to take a direct interest in the constitution of the Council. The alterations to the rules, as drafted by Mr. Goldsmith, would give the associations a more direct interest in the business of the Council, because they would give associations the right to send in motions in their own names. In the Guildford Guild they felt that if they were going to ask associations and guilds to loyally abide by the rules and decisions, they must amend their rules to give the associations a more direct interest in the Council.

The Rev. E. S. Powell asked whether the single alteration proposed by the Standing Committee would give the associations the right to send in motions to the Council.

The President said they could get their representatives to put on the agenda any motion they wished to have considered.

Mr. W. A. Cave said he had every justification for his decision to support Mr. Goldsmith's amendment, because the alteration put forward that day on behalf of the Standing Committee was not correct. In committee he made a strong point that, in any alterations, the constitution should provide that the Council consist of associations. In the rule, as drafted on behalf of the committee, the members were placed first and the associations second; the associations should have been named first and the representatives second.

The President said it was certainly their intention that the name of the association should be mentioned first, and that was largely why they included the suggestion under 1 (a), so that first the recognised societies should become affiliated, and then the Council should consist of elected members.

Mr. J. Parker asked whether, without returns as to membership, it was possible to know what number of members a society was entitled to elect?

The Hon. Secretary: No, sir.

Mr. E. W. Elwell said the propositions as now brought before them were not in accordance with the rules of the Council as they at present stood, and it was most undesirable that the Council should place on its minute book any decisions obviously abortive or on which it could not possibly act. He, therefore, moved that the Council proceed to the next business.

The President: Because of not giving notice?

Mr. Elwell: Yes.

One or two members suggested that the feeling of the Council with regard to the alterations should be obtained, but the motion to pass on to the next business, on being put, was carried, the President remarking that the whole matter would now have to stand over until next year.

A member asked what became of the Standing Committee's report? Mr. Willson moved that it be referred back on the question of the rules, and this was agreed to.

A SPECIAL COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

Canon Elseo said the Standing Committee were present that day, and he suggested they should meet in the evening to consider the list of amendments so that they would have something to put before next year's meeting.

The President said he thought that would be rather difficult, but they could try.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn said he would like to know whether Mr. Goldsmith's suggestions would be likely to satisfy the Council on this eternal question of the relations between the Council and the guilds and associations, and did they think if the Standing Committee proceeded along these lines they could settle the question once for all?

Mr. C. T. Coles drew attention to what he termed as an anomaly in the amendment submitted by Mr. Goldsmith. He was seeking to prevent overlapping in representation, and yet, if a person belonged to the College Youths, the Cumberlands, the Ladies' Guild or the Cambridge University Guild, as well as a territorial society, he or she would get double representation and thus get an advantage over the person who belonged only to a territorial association. Mr. Goldsmith was creating an anomaly which he was seeking to get rid of.

The President said this point could be considered by the Standing Committee.

At the end of the day's sitting the President said the members would recollect that the question of the rules was left in a rather unsatisfactory position, and during the lunch interval members of the Standing Committee had discussed it and suggested that a small special committee should be appointed to go into this question of the revision, draw up something to satisfy all parties if possible, and give due notice in time for next year's meeting. The committee suggested was Messrs. J. S. Goldsmith, W. A. Cave, C. T. Coles, E. W. Elwell, with the now hon. secretary, Mr. G. W. Fletcher.—The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn seconded, and the motion was carried.

A very successful meeting of the Peak District was held on Saturday week at Dore, between 25 and 30 ringers of both sexes assembling from Bakewell, Cresswell, Dore, Eyam, Exeter, Killamarsh, London, Norton, Old Whittington, Retford, Sheffield Cathedral and Tideswell. The beautiful peal of eight bells at Christ Church were kept going at intervals from 3 to 8 p.m. in Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Little Bob, Kent, Oxford and Double Norwich Major, some good striking being accomplished, the most interesting touch of the day being 168 Stedman Triples by the following: W. Bugar (Sheffield) 1, J. Thomas (Edmonton) 2 and 3, M. Wilson (Sheffield) 4, A. G. Wallace (Bakewell) 5, W. Alexander (Bakewell) 6, J. E. Lewis Cockey (Dore) (conductor) 7, Miss J. Davenport (Dore) 8. Mr. Thomas received a well-deserved round of applause at the close of his feat of mental and physical dexterity, the striking of his two bells being perfect. The feat is the more remarkable as both Mr. Thomas' arms were badly damaged during his service in the war. This is the first time that such a peal has been accomplished at Dore.

Owing to unforeseen circumstances, two parties had to be made up for tea, one going to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, of Kilmar, nearby, and the other to the Schools.

A short business meeting was held in the vestry after tea, presided over by the Rev. W. P. Wright (Eyam). It was decided to hold the next meeting at Hathersage, probably on June 20th. A cordial invitation had been received from Mr. Newbery, in which he stated his intention of providing tea for all, and it had been intended to arrange this meeting for May, but to suit his convenience Dore was substituted and Hathersage arranged for June.

A cordial welcome was accorded to the Rev. E. S. Powell, president of the Devon Guild, and to Mrs. E. S. Powell, who was formerly a valued member of the Dore branch, the Rev. E. S. Powell being elected a life member of the M.C.A.

After the meeting further ringing was indulged in till 8 p.m. Mr. E. Morris' wonderful 'History' was on view in the tower during the day, and was scanned with interest by most of those present.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

NORTH-WESTERN DISTRICT AND THE STEDMAN FUND.

A very enjoyable meeting was held at St. Mary's, Beddington, on Saturday, May 30th, about 33 members and friends attending during the afternoon and evening from Banstead, Beckenham, Beddington, Chelsea, Croydon (St. John's and St. Peter's), Dorking, Erith, London, Mitcham and Streatham. The bells were kept going in various methods during the afternoon, and tea was served in the White Post Tea Rooms, and 24 sat down to a very enjoyable meal.

At the business meeting that followed, the general secretary of the association (Mr. C. H. Kippin) read a letter from the editor of 'The Ringing World' re the proposal for commemorating the tercentenary of Fabian Stedman. He explained that his reason for bringing the matter up at the district meeting was because the next annual meeting of the association would be too late for this scheme, and he put forward a suggestion that the association subscribe £3 3s., to be paid in equal proportions out of the two district funds.

This suggestion was unanimously agreed to, and the meeting voted one and a half guineas out of that district's fund.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Rector for the use of the bells, and to Mr. C. H. Kippin for making all necessary arrangements. The tower was again visited, and ringing continued until nine o'clock. The methods ranged from Grandsire Triples and Caters to Bristol Surprise Major and Cambridge Surprise Royal, and also included a touch of Spliced Cambridge, Superlative, London and Bristol Surprise Major. A feature of this meeting was that the majority of the company were Surprise ringers, and though this is very encouraging, the officers would like to see more beginners at these gatherings, so that as much help as possible might be given to them.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

A very enjoyable meeting was held at Leigh on Saturday, May 30th. There were a good number of ringers waiting for the tower to be opened at three o'clock, from which hour touches in the standard methods were indulged in, members taking part from Buckland, Reigate, Limpsfield Chart, Westerham, Turner's Hill, Swindon, Horley, Charlwood, Redhill, and the local band. A short and interesting service was conducted in the church, the Vicar of Leigh (the Rev. H. T. Kane) officiating. The company then adjourned to the Plough Inn, where 29 members partook of tea.

The business meeting followed, the Rev. H. T. Kane presiding. The next meeting is to be held at Burstow in July, and the next quarterly peal is to be attempted at Godstone, the method being Stedman Triples, to be conducted by Mr. Geo. F. Hoad.

Two ringing members were elected, viz. Mr. Frank Burnell, of St. John's, Redhill, and Mr. Wm. Cullen, of Leigh.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, for his address at the service, and for presiding at the meeting. Votes of thanks were also accorded Mr. E. Pescud, the local captain, for his assistance in the arrangements for the meeting, and Mr. Bashford, jun., for his services at the organ.

This concluded the meeting, the ringers returning to the tower, where the bells were kept going till nine o'clock, all agreeing that it was a good meeting in spite of a wet afternoon.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.AN IMPROVED RING AT MUCH WENLOCK.

One of the most successful meetings of the Bridgnorth District was held at Much Wenlock on Saturday, May 30th. The Rev. J. W. Isherwood and the Rev. J. M. Wale met the visitors and gave them a most hearty welcome. The Rev. J. M. Wale conducted the service in the beautiful old church. The towers represented were St. Leonard's and St. Mary's, Bridgnorth, including Mr. John Overton, whom all were delighted to see, Coalbrookdale, Malinslee, Stockton, Sutton Maddock, Glaverley, St. Peter's, Wolverhampton, also Mr. J. P. Fidler, representing Messrs. John Taylor and Co., and Mr. W. Short. About seventy sat down to a substantial tea at the Stork Hotel.

At the business meeting, the Rev. J. M. Wale presided, owing to the unavoidable absence of the Rev. J. W. Isherwood.

About fifteen new members joined the Guild from Much Wenlock tower, the Rev. J. M. Wale acting as local secretary for them. They have fixed Monday evenings for practice. It is hoped in the near future to get a good change ringing band there. The bells are now one of the finest peals of eight in the county, having recently been completely restored. The old six were by Rudhall, and two new trebles have been added by Messrs. Taylor and Co., who have carried out the whole of the work most successfully. The old six still have their cannons, and have been very nicely retuned, but not on Simpson lines. The two trebles were cast to match the old six as near as possible. Ringers interested should make a point of visiting Much Wenlock and compare this ring of eight with some of the modern eights, weight for weight.

The bells were kept going in the four standard methods with rounds and set changes for learners. The Rev. J. W. Isherwood (Vicar) very willingly gave permission for a peal to be attempted on Wednesday, June 3rd, for the King's birthday. If successful, this will be the first peal rung at Much Wenlock, which is the second oldest borough in England.

A very hearty vote of thanks was proposed to all concerned for making arrangements for such a record meeting. The ringers also expressed a wish that the Rev. J. M. Wale would convey to Alderman T. Cooke, the donor of the trebles, and who had also borne the whole cost of the bells' restoration, etc., their gratitude and thanks for such a handsome gift, making another glorious peal of eight in the county of Shropshire and the Hereford Diocese. Wonderful restoration work has been carried out to the grand old twelfth-century tower. An eighteenth-century spire had been erected on the tower. Expert advice was sought, and it was found absolutely necessary to do away with the spire to save the tower. The whole work has been most successfully carried out, and an improved louvre roof added by Messrs. Taylor and Co. The acoustic result is wonderful in the immediate vicinity of the church. The bells have now a very soft effect. There is room for improvement in the ringing chamber, as the lowering of the bells in the tower has rather increased the noise in the ringing room. Mr. J. P. Fidler explained how this could be easily and cheaply improved by felting the floors above.

ENTHRONEMENT OF A NEW BISHOP.
IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY AT GLASGOW.

Pictureque and impressive ceremonial marked the consecration and enthronement in the Cathedral Church of St. Mary, Glasgow, of the Venerable John Russell Darbyshire, Archdeacon of Sheffield, as Bishop of Glasgow and Galloway.

All the Scottish Bishops took part in the solemn service of consecration, which was conducted by the Primus of the Church, the Most Rev. W. J. F. Robbards, D.D., and they were assisted by the Right Rev. L. H. Burrows, D.D., Bishop of Sheffield.

The enthronement of Bishop Darbyshire took place in the evening, when he was inducted into all the rights and privileges of the Cathedral by the Very Rev. A. G. Seymour, Provost of the Cathedral.

Every seat in the Cathedral was occupied, and large crowds gathered outside the building to watch the picturesque processions of the Bishops and clergy, who had come together to welcome Bishop Darbyshire to his new diocese.

It is pleasant to record that the bells played their proper part in the proceedings, especially in a city where there has been so little ringing in the past, and in which the only peal of bells hung for ringing has until recently been for so many years silent.

The Cathedral bells were rung both before and after the consecration service by the young band which has recently been formed there, and prior to the enthronement service in the evening a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung in 50 mins. by the following: J. Adam (Edinburgh) 1, Stephen H. Wood (Glasgow) 2, H. Mann (Edinburgh) 3, R. F. G. Thom (Paisley) 4, W. C. G. Jinks (Edinburgh) 5, A. E. Wrecks (Paisley) 6, W. C. S. Heathcote (Edinburgh) 7, J. Marshall (Edinburgh) 8. Conducted by Stephen H. Wood and believed to be the first quarter-peal on the bells.

FAREWELL TO LADY RINGER.

At Harrow Weald, on May 31st, 1,440 Bob Minor for evensong: F. Wilcox 1, G. R. Goodship (conductor) 2, Miss Freda Clayton 3, Miss Elsie K. Fulton 4, H. O. Holmes 5, W. Horrod 6. Rung as a farewell to Miss Freda Clayton, who is leaving the district to take up hospital work at Margate.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION.NEW RINGING MASTER APPOINTED.

The annual meeting of the North Wales Association was held at Hope, near Caergrwle, on Whit Monday, there being about thirty members present, representing Portmadoc, Llandudno, Wrexham, Rhyl, Gresford, Buckley, and the local band. A most enjoyable service was conducted by the curate, who extended a hearty welcome to the members.

The business meeting was presided over by the Vicar of Tryddyn, who, although not having a peal of bells in his own church, takes a keen interest in the work of the association.

The president officers were re-elected, with one exception, namely, that Mr. A. E. Pegler, Bangor, was elected Ringing Master in place of Mr. W. Jones, Wrexham, who expressed his regret at having to resign.

The following new ringing members were elected: Mr. S. Randler, Gresford; Mr. J. Hapgood and Mr. A. Hapgood, Rhyl; Mr. E. Millington, Wrexham; and Mr. Goodwin, Flint.

It was decided to hold the next half-yearly meeting at Buckley and the annual meeting at Llandudno.

Sympathy was expressed with the Rev. W. M. Morgan-Jones (president of the association) and the Rector of Hope, who were unable to be present at the meeting owing to indisposition.

Hearty votes of thanks were accorded the Rev. C. Williams for presiding at the meeting, also the curate for the service and his address, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis and their helpers for arranging such a splendid tea.

The tower was afterwards visited, and some good practice was obtained in various methods.

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY.

On June 3rd, in honour of the King's birthday, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung at Ashford Parish Church, Kent: E. S. Ruck 1, H. C. Castle 2, W. Nicholls 3, J. Parsons 4, G. Swaffer 5, P. Page 6, C. W. Everett (conductor) 7, T. Tahrett 8.

His Majesty's birthday was celebrated at St. Mary's, Lewisham, with two quarter-peals of Grandsire Triples, one begun at 6 a.m. This was rung by H. Warnett (conductor) 1, C. H. Walker 2, H. James 3, W. W. Fox 4, H. Warnett, jun., 5, G. R. Simmonds 6, J. Dafters 7, H. Goodwin 8. The other quarter-peal was rung in the evening by: H. Warnett 1, C. H. Walker 2, H. James 3, A. E. Darvell 4, W. W. Fox 5, J. Bennett (conductor) 6, J. Dafters 7, C. Manton 8.

At Tattenhall, Cheshire, on Wednesday, June 3rd, in honour of the 66th birthday of His Majesty the King, 120 each of Stedman Doubles, Grandsire Doubles, Bob Doubles and 'Grandma' Doubles: G. Jones 1, R. Sperring 2, J. W. Clarke 3, H. W. Wilde (conductor) 4, J. Morgan 5, A. E. Richards 6. Also a touch of London Surprise Minor, being the first in the method on the bells.

At Loughton, Essex, on June 3rd, in honour of His Majesty the King's birthday, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) in 46 mins.: J. Rann, jun., 1, G. Perry 2, E. A. Bacon (conductor) 3, H. W. Hayes 4, J. Rann, sen., 5, P. S. J. Thorpe 6, G. Carter 7, W. Clark 8. This was also the 43rd anniversary of the weddings of E. A. Bacon and J. Rann, sen., and the 14th of J. Rann, jun.

At Croydon, Surrey, on Wednesday, June 3rd, in honour of the birthday of H.M. the King, at the Church of St. John-the-Baptist, a quarter-peal of Cambridge Surprise Major in 50 mins.: H. J. All the band are regular service ringers at the above church.

BATS, BIRDS AND CATS.

Probably one of the strangest texts from which a sermon to ringers has ever been preached was that upon which the honorary secretary of the Truro Diocesan Guild addressed the members on Saturday, but, unusual as it was, the Rev. W. H. R. Trehwella drew from it some very pointed lessons applicable to ringers. It was the basis of a sermon in striking contrast to the sort of thing to which ringers are so often compelled to listen when they attend a ringers' service—a sermon which those who have striven to keep a company, and particularly a Sunday service band, together will applaud. The 'bats,' the 'birds' and the 'cats' of the belfry are types which are frequently met with—the ringer who is half-hearted and neither one thing nor the other; the ringer who flits from tower to tower if he thinks he may gain some personal advantage; the ringer who, by his lack of tact or by objectionable manners drives others away. It is not often that these are so frankly described as they were by Mr. Trehwella, and if any there be who feel a pricking of conscience when they think over the preacher's application of his text, let them take to heart the lessons and resolve in future to think more of the ringing and its main object; more of their fellow ringers and less of self; more of the feelings and susceptibilities of others and less of their own importance.

Only a preacher closely acquainted with the difficulties of the belfry could have delivered this sermon, and coming from such a one it will have a great deal more weight and influence than the platitudes which frequently fall from the pulpit wherever ringers are gathered for a service. Incidentally, it would be well if preachers would realise that the subject of churchgoing among ringers has been flogged to death; that ringers have grown somewhat tired of hearing a rehash of the history of the church bell, as outlined in the 'Encyclopædia Britannica' and similar works—but that by the way. When they attend their association services ringers appreciate something off this well beaten track and real home truths, however unpleasantly they may strike some people, come as a welcome and refreshing breeze to those whose work has been constantly hampered by the 'bats,' the 'birds' and the 'cats.' Ringing without team work is almost, if not quite, impossible; and team work is out of the question where men cannot be depended on in attendance, in effort, or in demeanour. The Secretary of the Truro Guild's apt application of his text is one which ought to be taken to heart by ringers everywhere, and if it leads to a greater appreciation, among the classes to which he referred, of the duties which they owe to the church and to the other members of their particular towers, his sermon will certainly not have been preached in vain.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD.

THE BATS, BIRDS AND CATS OF THE BELFRY.

A splendidly attended meeting of the Truro Diocesan Guild was held at Manaccan on Saturday, in connection with the Penzance District. There were present Dr. J. Symons (president), Major C. F. Jerram (Master), Rev. W. H. R. Trowhella (secretary), and ringers from St. Keverne, Zennor, Illogan, Ludgvan, Gulval, Helston, Phillack and Truro Cathedral, as well as the local ringers of Manaccan and St. Anthony, the total number present being about ninety. The livings of these two parishes are held jointly by the Rev. E. Ormerod, M.A., and each church contains six bells cast by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston. The six at Manaccan (tenor 8 cwt.) were cast in 1902, and were at first only hung for chiming, but in 1912 the present Vicar had them hung for ringing, when they were tuned on the Simpson five-tone principle. Incidentally, these were the first ringing peal that Messrs. Gillett and Johnston tuned on this system. St. Anthony's Church, about 1½ miles distant, is situated on the edge of Gillan Creek. The tenor of the six bells is 12 cwt., and they are a beautiful ring, which were hung in 1924. Needless to say, during the afternoon and evening there was plenty of ringing, and the bells were made full use of. It is through the enthusiasm of the present Vicar that these two rings were provided.

The usual service was held and was conducted by the diocesan secretary, the Rev. W. H. R. Trowhella, who based his address on Baruch vi. 22, 'Upon their bodies and heads sit bats, swallows and birds, and the cats also.' The preacher said his text was no doubt strange, and was taken from one of the books of the Apocrypha. It referred to the things which came and sat upon the idols. He compared some ringers with bats, swallows, birds and cats. The bats—of the belfry—were neither one thing nor the other, and were half-hearted, the bat being neither mouse nor bird. The swallows were birds which were with us for a season and soon departed. There were ringers who often depleted a band, for instance, during the summer, through the call of a motor-bike, tennis, bathing and even through courting. Then the birds—those ringers who were never satisfied. As birds move from place to place, so some ringers go from tower to tower. But when the cats come and sit on the idols, everything else flies away. Was it not true that when certain bells were silent one would ask, 'Why are the bells not ringing?' and the answer was, 'Because so-and-so has come; they don't get on.' All these things were true.

It was a splendid address, and very much to the point.

A bountiful tea was provided, and on the proposition of Dr. J. Symons, seconded by Major Jerram, a vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar and lady helpers.

A business meeting followed, and Mr. W. Wood was elected district secretary and Mr. A. Hitchens (Ludgvan) chairman for the ensuing year. Ludgvan was selected for the next meeting on September 26th, with Gulval (eight bells) tower also open.

After the branch meeting, a general meeting was held, when it was decided to forward £5 5s. to the Stedman Perpetual Fund.

As two vacancies for vice-presidents had occurred, Major Jerram proposed that the Rev. R. Hocking (Pillaton) and Mr. W. H. Southard (Truro) be elected to fill the vacancies, and this was carried.

Mr. W. Wood, the smiling secretary of the branch, is to be heartily congratulated on the splendid gathering.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

The monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at All Saints' Church, West Lavington, on Saturday, June 6th. The weather was fine, and there was a very good gathering when ringing commenced at 3 p.m. This was the first branch meeting to be held at West Lavington since the repairs to the tower and the rehanging of the bells have been completed. The ringers were delighted with the 'go' of the peal, which are a musical ring of six with a tenor about 13 cwt. The Vicar, the Rev. P. Sexty, conducted the Guild service at 4.40, and gave a short address of welcome to the branch. Tea, in the school, was followed by the usual business meeting, the chair being taken by Mr. E. F. White, vice-chairman (as Mr. Heginbotham was away on holiday). The Rev. P. Sexty was elected an associate member of the Guild.

It was announced that arrangements had been made with Mr. C. F. Andrews, of Trowbridge, for the 'second' of the branch 'lectures' on ringing to be given at the half-yearly meeting at Trowbridge on Saturday, July 4th. The usual vote of thanks to the Vicar, organist and the ladies who had so kindly prepared the tea, brought the meeting to a close.

The following towers were represented at the meeting: Devizes (St. John's and St. Mary's), Bradford-on-Avon, Holt, Bishops Cannings, Market Lavington, Potterne, Rowde, Trowbridge, Melksham and Warminster.

The following methods were rung during the afternoon and evening: Cambridge Surprise, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Plain Bob Minor, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles, and, on the return journey, ringers from Devizes and Melksham visited Urchfont tower and rang a touch of 480 Grandsire Triples.

DEATH OF VETERAN M.C.A. RINGER.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Thomas A. Meredith, of Barton-under-Needwood, at the age of 72. He died after only a few days' illness from heart failure following bronchitis. He was for about thirty years a postman at Barton, and in the earlier part of his life he used to walk to Alrewas every day carrying the mail. He retired about seven years ago.

The deceased was also a well-known change ringer in the district, and was captain of the local band. He was highly respected in the village, and will be greatly missed. He leaves a widow, son and daughter.

Mr. Meredith's membership certificate to the M.C.A. dates back to 1884. He had rung 26 peals for the M.C.A., the last being on the occasion of the reopening of the bells at Barton-under-Needwood after being rehung on May 21st, 1930.

He was buried in Greenhill Churchyard, Lichfield, amongst the bells he used to ring as a boy of eight or nine, the funeral service being conducted by the Vicar of Barton-under-Needwood (Rev. W. Quibell).

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting of the Western Division of the Sussex Association was held at Rudgwick on Saturday, May 30th. Although a difficult place to get at, and only a six-bell tower, quite a good number were present, the following towers being represented: Heene, Horsham, Kirdford, Billingshurst, Itchingfield, Slinfold, Pulborough, Warnham, Wisborough Green, Woking, and members of the local band.

A short service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. W. Wynn).

Tea was partaken of at the local inn, where between 20 and 30 put in an appearance, although only about a dozen had notified their intention of being present.

A short business meeting followed, with the Vicar presiding, the following new members being elected: J. Tansom (Heene), W. Holden (Billingshurst), Norman Hedger (Rudgwick), C. Stevenson (Itchingfield), and Norman Harding as a non-resident member. The question of the Fabian Stedman Tercentenary was discussed, and it was unanimously agreed to support the fund.

A vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for granting the use of the bells, for his address and for presiding at the meeting, and the members wish to thank Mr. S. D. Secretan (churchwarden) for contributing towards the cost of the tea. The belfry was again visited and the bells kept going to rounds and plain courses for the young members, and Cambridge, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Minor for others.

YORKSHIRE RINGERS' JOINT MEETING.

The annual joint meeting of the societies in the area of the Southern Division of the Yorks Association was held at Whiston, near Rotherham, on Saturday, when members were present from Sheffield Cathedral, Ranmoor, Ecclesfield, Wortley, Conisborough, Arksey, Rotherham, Eastwood, Handsforth and Killamarsh.

Tea was served in the Village Institute, and the business meeting of the Southern District was held in the same place, Mr. G. Lewis, vice-president, being in the chair. An apology for non-attendance from Mr. Halksworth (Ringing Master) was received. Owing to illness, the Rector was prevented from joining the ringers, and a vote of sympathy with him was passed, and hopes entertained for his speedy recovery.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Bolsterstone in September, if the necessary permission can be obtained.

Eight new members were elected, viz., Mr. E. C. Kettell, of Rotherham, and Messrs. A. G. Measures, J. Harvey, E. Williams, L. Parkin, G. Lee, J. Coad and A. Coad, of St. Stephen's, Eastwood.

Votes of thanks to the Rector and churchwardens and to the local company for the excellent arrangements made were heartily carried, and a vote of thanks to the chairman for presiding concluded the meeting.

WESTERN DIVISION AT EAST ARDSLEY.

The quarterly meeting of the Western Division of the Yorkshire Association was held at East Ardsley on Saturday last, when members from the following towers were present: Birstall, Leeds, Pudsey, Armley, Queensbury, Keighley, Ripon, Bradford, Holbeck, Headingley, Far Headingley, Batley, Rothwell, Earlsheaton, Shipley, Drighlington, Denholme and the local company. During the afternoon the bells of St. Michael's were rung to Plain Bob. Treble Bob and Stedman. Tea was served in the schools, and at the business meeting which followed, Mr. J. Broadley (Ringing Master) was in the chair. Seven new members were elected: W. L. Toogood, A. Teale, W. Burgess, R. Clark, W. Draper (Holbeck), G. Bromley (Birstall), W. Jackson (St. Chad's). The place of the next meeting was discussed, and it was decided to endeavour to arrange a joint meeting with the Northern District at Knaresborough. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells on the motion of Mr. P. J. Johnson, seconded by Mr. H. Lofthouse.—Canon Young in responding said he had been waiting two and a half years for the association to hold a meeting there, and he would be very grateful for any help that could be given to the band at East Ardsley.—A vote of thanks to the local company for the excellent tea provided was also passed.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The pilgrimage to Menin Gate is maturing well. Twenty-four ringers are pledged to go to Belgium on Saturday, August 1st. They will leave Victoria, London, by the Dover boat train at 11.30 a.m., and should be 'over there' by 6 p.m. The burgomaster of Ypres has given permission for the handbell service at Menin Gate on Monday, August 3rd, and Rev. Cyril W. O. Jenkyn, M.A., M.C., will be chaplain.

Mr. F. E. Dawe, who is as skilful with a rifle as he is with a bell rope, has just won the Donegal badge at Bisley which qualifies him to compete for the famous Donegal Cup at the forthcoming rifle meeting at Bisley.

Mr. William Short, one of the best known ringers in the Midlands, rang his 800th peal on Saturday. For some years he has been living in Worcestershire, and his activities have been largely confined to that county. His 800 peals have, however, been spread over 22 counties in England, Ireland and Wales, and one was rung on the sea. The peals have been rung in 197 towers, and 389 of them have been rung in 50 towers in Worcestershire, where he has conducted 135 in 36 towers. Altogether he has conducted 319 peals in 132 towers.

The Rev. Noel E. Hope, of Hastings, has been ordained priest.

The death watch beetle has been discovered in Saffron Walden Church and has attacked one of the main supporting beams of the bell frame. It has been thought advisable to put in steel girders to take the weight from this beam, and Saffron Walden's annual 'Great Ringing Day' is postponed until the work is completed.

Messrs. Mears and Stainbank are restoring the bells at Stratton St. Margaret, near Swindon, and adding two trebles to complete the octave. They are also rehanging and augmenting to five the three bells at Lytchett Matravers, Dorset.

Last Saturday, two treble bells, added to the existing ring of eight by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, were dedicated at Isleworth, Middlesex, by the Bishop of Kensington. They make an excellent ring of ten. A report of the opening will appear in our next issue.

It is interesting to find a peal recorded by the Oxford University Society, who on May 30th rang a peal of Stedman Triples at Draxton, where in 1882 the society scored the first University peal, also Stedman Triples.

ASSOCIATIONS' FUNDS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the enquiry in last week's 'Ringing World,' may I present a few figures to your correspondent. If an association has, say, £200 invested at 5 per cent., thus bringing in £10 per annum, it can, in the course of thirty years, spend £300, and still have the £200 invested. This is surely more prudent than spending the £200 capital in a short period.

Take, for instance, the Sussex County Benevolent Fund for 1929. The income to this fund was £3 5s. 9d., but as interest on War stock was £2 12s. 7d., grants totalling £6 6s. were made, and the balance on hand reduced by 7s. 8d. only. In 1930, the Middlesex County Association (North-East District) balance sheet shows a donation to the Isleworth bell fund of £5, but here, again, interest on War stock brings in £3 13s. 8d., and on treasurer's account 6s. 5d., so with satisfactory subscriptions the balance remaining is increased by 13s. 9d., but had there been no capital from which interest could accrue, it would have decreased by £3 6s. 4d., or the grant not made at all. Now refer to the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild treasurer's balance sheet, 1929. With no special items of expenditure and no interest on capital, the balance decreases by 3s. 7d. There is a special purposes fund of £23 16s., but as this is probably earmarked already for a Guild certificate, there appears to be little funds to raid here for bell restoration work and propaganda as suggested.

Apart from being good finance, however, I think a good bank balance commands respect for any kind of society, and this is particularly necessary to ringing associations, who must have the moral support of Church authorities when any criticism of ringing activities comes from the public.

I write this, not as an experienced official, but merely as one of the many who, although holding no office whatever, either in tower or association, take an appreciative interest in the work done by our honorary officers.—Yours faithfully,

Shoreham-by-Sea.

EAST HERTS MEETING AT BENINGTON.

The spring meeting on June 6th, at Benington, was again well attended, and much enjoyed by all. The old-world village was at its best in the lovely spring sunshine, with the historical church amidst the leafy elm trees that have cast their shadows around for many a year, whilst the old bells have sent out their music for generations. London Surprise was rung here for service 60 years ago.

The Rector kindly provided tea and extended a warm welcome to the ringers, with an invitation for another year. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded him for his generosity.

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY.

WITHIN SIGHT OF THE GOAL.

The third list of subscriptions to the fund for commemorating the tricentenary of the birth of Fabian Stedman, by restoring the bells at St. Benet's Church, Cambridge, where Stedman learned to ring and first introduced method ringing as we know it to-day, is published below. The total has now reached £335, so that the goal at which we aimed is now within sight. It has to be remembered, however, that £350 was only a tentative figure and it may be that more will be wanted. In any case, apart from the actual restoration of the bells, a commemorative tablet, worthy of the event, and incidental expenses, such as faculty fees, have to be provided. There is therefore still room for all who desire to be associated with this national memorial, whether as individuals or as bands, to have their share in the scheme, and contributions should be sent at once to

The Editor,

All subscriptions will be acknowledged in these columns. The Hon. Treasurer of the fund is the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild.

FABIAN STEDMAN'S CAREER.

To the Editor.

Sir,—It is long since I trespassed on the attention of the Exercise, but if you are kindly disposed to allow me the privilege, I should like to offer some observations on Stedman's career as it seems to me. I still think, as I did when a contribution of mine appeared in 'The Bell News' of November 7th, 1903, that Fabian Stedman, the ringer, was the same person as Fabian Stedman who made his will on October 17th, 1713, and was shortly afterwards buried at St. Andrew Undershaf, in the City of London. The will appears to be that of an old man, of a kindly nature and in comfortable circumstances, who held an appointment in the office of the auditor of Excise.

Of course, I accept Stedman's connection with Cambridge, and Mr. Morris' discovery of the accounts of the visits to Leicester carries on that connection till 1669.

I have not said that Stedman was a civil servant. As the institution we now know as the Civil Service is not yet a hundred years old, no man in the seventeenth century could be a member of it or subject to its regulations and restrictions.

But to indicate the standing of a man who held an appointment in a Government office in Stedman's day, I said, 'He was what we should now call a civil servant.' The nature of his service to the State was the same as that now rendered by those whom we now call civil servants.

In Stedman's day each Government office worked independently. All appointments were made by patronage; that is, by nomination by the head of the office or some other highly placed personage, who nominated whom he would. There was no age limit for appointment, and men were nominated at any age. So Stedman could have obtained an appointment at any time after 1669.

There is no reason why, under these conditions, Stedman should not have obtained an appointment as well as any other man. Indeed, judging by the characteristics he displayed at Leicester, he would seem specially qualified to secure friends and backers and good introductions.

There was no age limit for retirement. The appointments were usually held for life. If, then, Stedman obtained one, we need feel no surprise that he should still be holding it at an advanced age.

The pay of these appointments was satisfactory. They were considered desirable positions to obtain, and active efforts were made to secure them. The diary of Samuel Pepys survives to show us, among other things, that in Stedman's day a conscientious and hard-working Government official could give himself a very good time and enjoy to the full his intellectual and social interests.

As the desire to settle in London was common enough among able and energetic men in the last forty years of the seventeenth century, it does not seem worth while to speculate about Stedman's probable motives. But if the chance of a comfortable Government appointment opened before him, which would free him from all financial anxiety for the rest of his life, he may well have welcomed it, especially as it would settle him at the headquarters of change ringing.

Now as to identity. It must be remembered that the identification of Fabian Stedman, the ringer, with 'Fabian Stedman of the parish of St. Andrew Undershaf, London, Gent,' who made his will in 1713, was no haphazard guess of mine or of any member of the Exercise. This identification was made by Mr. Owden Stedman, as a result of his genealogical researches. As such it is entitled to our attentive consideration, and if we are to reject it we should have some sufficient reason for doing so. What reason have we? I do not see any.

We cannot say that it was impossible for Fabian Stedman, the ringer, to live to a ripe old age. We cannot say that it was impossible, or, indeed, unlikely, that he should, after 1669, obtain an appointment in the office of the auditor of Excise, and hold it till his death. We cannot contradict Mr. Owden Stedman by such a device as the invention of a second Fabian Stedman, for whose existence we have no evidence. How long after 1669 did Fabian Stedman continue a printer at Cambridge? We don't know. If he was not in his later life connected with the office of the auditor of Excise, what was he doing? We don't know. If he was not the Fabian Stedman, who, on November 16th, 1713, was buried at St. Andrew Undershaf, in the City of London, when did he die and where was he buried? We don't know.

If we reject Mr. Owden Stedman's identification, we know nothing about Fabian Stedman after 1669 except the publication of 'Campanologia' and the Mastership of the College Youths.

If we accept Mr. Owden Stedman's identification, we have a satisfactory outline of the full career of Fabian Stedman, consistent with the customs of his time, which conflicts with nothing, so far as I am aware, that we otherwise know about him.

A SUGGESTION.

Dear Sir,—As the bells of St. Benedict's, Cambridge, will, in all probability, soon be removed from the tower, may I suggest that when they are at the foundry and have been cleaned, sandblasted and refitted, some close up photographs may be taken of them, so

PEALS OF TREBLE BOB ROYAL AND MAXIMUS.

Only a brief report was presented on behalf of the Peal Collection Committee. The Rev. H. S. T. Richardson said he reported last year that they had dealt with the peals of Major with the tenors purged. The reason why these had not yet been typed and placed in the library was that they were waiting for the peals of Royal and Maximus to be included, and this he hoped would be done soon.

The report was accepted on the motion of the president.

LITERATURE AND PRESS COMMITTEE.

The report of the Literature and Press Committee was presented by the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards as follows:—

The outstanding literary event of the period under review is naturally the appearance of Mr. E. Morris' great book, 'The History and Art of Change Ringing.' This treatise, the result of 25 years' labour and research, is in truth a monumental work. Nothing approaching such a complete history of our art has ever been attempted before. While on the one hand the mass of technical information brought together in such compendious form renders it an invaluable work of reference for ringers, on the other hand it abounds in such a wealth of interesting facts with reference to bells and bellringing in all parts of the world, that it cannot fail to make a wide appeal to the general public. The book has been extensively reviewed in a large number of journals. In the 'Church Times' it occupied the place of honour on 'The Editor's Table'; the 'Morning Post' and several other newspapers allocated to it a considerable amount of space. It is admirably illustrated and most attractively produced by Messrs. Chapman and Hall, and should find a place in every public library.

Both Mr. Morris and Mr. J. R. Nicholls have also contributed numerous articles, both to the religious and the secular press, including even trade journals. Special interest attaches to two valuable articles in the 'Musical Standard,' one on 'The Music Bell of Oxford,' published on August 23rd, 1930, and another on 'Musical Aspects of Changeringing,' which appeared on September 6th.

Another book of considerable value to ringers is a volume produced by Mr. H. C. Andrews, of the East Herts Archaeological Society, on John Briant, the celebrated Hertfordshire bell founder. This work is published by Messrs. Cartmel and Sons, of St. Albans, and brings to light many facts of great interest with reference to the life and work of this master craftsman.

A report of the Central Council for the Care of Churches, issued last autumn, is of more doubtful value, so far as ringers are concerned. It recommends that 'in all cases where alterations to bells, bell frames or their supports are concerned... the advice of an architect skilled in work of this kind be sought in the first instance, before any bell founder is asked to visit the church.' On the face of it this is a perfectly sound recommendation, but experience scarcely warrants the assumption that the supply of architects 'skilled in work of this kind' would be equal to the demand.

The broadcast of a harvest thanksgiving service from a Somerset church occupied a whole column in the Bristol 'Evening World,' in which prominence was given to the delight of an invalid parishioner on hearing the eight fine bells by wireless.

The 'Southport Visitor' had a full report last December of a lecture on 'Bells and Carillons' given by the well-known Liverpool musician, Mr. W. A. Roberts, to the Southport Organists' Association. Referring to the English practice of change ringing, the lecturer said: 'Bellringing is certainly a healthy exercise and gives pleasure to a great number of worthy ringers.' He added that he would desire it to be encouraged, though he regarded the music of a carillon as on a higher plane.

Just recently there has been evidence in more than one quarter of journalists looking upon the subject of bellringing as one likely to afford 'good copy.' In 'John Bull,' on April 25th, a full-page article appeared under the imposing headline, 'Fifty Thousand Rope-pullers'—quite an illuminating article, written with accuracy and intelligent appreciation. It was probably due to a typographical error rather than to poetic fancy that the name of a familiar method assumed the romantic form of 'Cambridge Sunrise.'

In regard to that aspect of their duties, which concerns the defence of ringers' interests, the committee have not been inactive. Some months ago an agitation was raised in a Surrey village for the discontinuance of the bell customarily tolled on the death of a parishioner. The agitators seemed to have the incumbent's sympathy. The church possesses a peal of eight bells, and a well-known change ringer, sensing the thin end of the proverbial wedge, took the wise course of applying to this committee for advice. Fortified with due information and references to ecclesiastical authority, he was able to prove, much to the surprise of the Church Council and, apparently, of the parish priest, that the suppression of this ancient use of the bell would be a direct violation of the canon law. At the same time, useful suggestions were made with a view to mitigating the cause of the complaint. A satisfactory conclusion was reached, and a dangerous movement thus nipped in the bud.

During last summer the correspondence column of the 'Daily Mirror' was the scene of one of those periodic complaints against church bells. A member of the committee took a hand in the correspondence, but the editor gave the advantage of the last word to the author of the original complaint, whose concluding argument was to the effect that it is unchristian to do anything that causes annoyance to any person. This argument would tend to prove rather too much. It would, at any rate, put the Chancellor of the Exchequer, permanently out of action.

Last Christmas it was observed that, while the programmes of very many foreign stations included broadcasts of bells, the B.B.C. had no mention of bells whatever. Several members of the committee wrote to Savoy Hill calling attention to this anomaly, and a favourable reply was received.

A LIBRARY LIST.

The President proposed that the report be accepted with thanks. It was, he said, an excellent report showing what was going on. He would like to make one suggestion to the Literature Committee which had been put up to him by a Cheshire ringer. It was this, in view of the fact that tower libraries were catching on, it would be very desirable if the Central Council would take steps to publish a short bibliography of ringing books in such a form that any tower who thought they would like to start a library could see from the list which books it would be most desirable to spend their first £1 on, and the second £1, and so on. He thought it was rather a good suggestion, and perhaps the Literature Committee would undertake the work of preparing such a list.

Alderman Pritchett, in seconding the acceptance of the report, suggested that the bibliography should relate purely to ringing books, and should not include books on bells, apart from the use that could be made of them for the purpose of ringing.

The report was accepted and the suggestion adopted.

THE PEALS ANALYSIS.

Mrs. Fletcher moved the adoption of the report of the Analysis Committee, which has already appeared, with the analysis tables, in 'The Ringing World.' She pointed out that there were two slight corrections to the published tables. In the peals rung by the Middlesex Association, the figure 7 was omitted by a printer's error under the heading of Cambridge Surprise Major, and in the footnote relating to the eleven-method spliced Surprise peal, Lincolnshire Surprise Major was omitted from the details of the methods rung.—Mr. C. T. Coles seconded.

Mr. J. Hunt referred to the decline in peals of the ringing of such arrangements of Doubles as Morris' 240's of Grandsire. He thought it showed plainly that the views of that Council had some influence among ringers. After their discussion on the subject, there was only about one society that had rung peals in which this type of calling had been used. Another thing to which he would like to draw attention was to the so-called spliced peals, in which, say, half a peal of Bob Royal and half a peal of Grandsire Caters were rung. His view and that of hundreds of ringers in his part of the country was that that was not spliced ringing at all. He was pleased to see that these things were dropping out, and that ringers were not taking part in such performances.

Mr. Trollope said Morris' arrangement of Doubles was not discouraged by the Council, and he hoped it would not go out that it was. The figures would be included in the collection that was shortly to be published without any expression of opinion as to whether they should or should not be rung as part of a peal. When the matter was discussed at least half the Council was not in favour of discouraging them.

THE ISHAM PEAL.

Mr. A. H. Pulling asked if the Analysis Committee had included in the analysis the peal rung at Isham, in which seven Plain Minor methods were rung in 360's, repeated after a single, and brought round at the end by another single.

Mrs. Fletcher said the analysis included every peal the report of which had been published, except those which were afterwards reported false.

Mr. Pulling said had he known that before he should have brought forward a motion to exclude all peals which did not conform to the rules of the Council. This peal did not, in his opinion, conform to the rules, and he was surprised that a member of the Council should have conducted a peal of this kind. The rule definitely stated that a peal of Minor should be rung in complete 720's, and the peal at Isham was a direct challenge to the Council. It was time the Council recognised in the analysis only those peals which conformed to its rules, and next year he would give notice of a motion to this effect.

Mr. G. W. Fletcher (a member of the committee) said he thought they could say the committee endeavoured to carry out the rules of the Council. He was not aware of any rule which debarred the Isham peal from the analysis. There were certain decisions of the Council with regard to peals, but they were only decisions, and he did not think they could take them as rules.

The Rev. H. Law James said that peal came within the rules absolutely as seven 720's. Years ago, when he used to ring peals of Minor, he invariably tried to reduce the number of singles to the smallest possible, and he never called more than two in a 720. He must admit that it never occurred to him to be content with two in the whole peal; he only wished he had (laughter). What was there to be said against it? There was this: Great-grandfather never did such a thing, therefore I mustn't. What was to be said in favour

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD. ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING AT KINGSWINFORD.

The quarterly meeting of the Dudley and District Guild was held on Saturday, June 6th, at St. Mary's Church, Kingswinford. There was a very good muster, and the peal of eight bells were placed at the disposal of the members from three o'clock. The Guild's service was conducted by the Vicar of Kingswinford (the Rev. A. H. Messiter), who also gave an interesting address, and extended a cordial welcome to the members of the Guild to his church and parish. After the service, a bountiful tea was served in St. Mary's Parish Hall, and, later, the business meeting was presided over by the Vicar, supported by the Ringing Master, Mr. John Goodman, jun., and Mr. S. J. Hughes, hon. treasurer. After the routine business had been disposed of, Mr. S. J. Hughes, representative to the Central Council, gave his report on the business transacted, and was heartily thanked.

It was arranged to hold the next quarterly meeting at Tipton, subject to the usual permission being obtained, and to attempt the quarterly peal at Kingswinford, the Ringing Master, Mr. John Goodman, jun., being asked to make the necessary arrangements.

On the proposition of Mr. Colclough, seconded by Mr. Holloway, the secretary was instructed to send a letter of condolence and sympathy from the members of the Guild to the family of the late Mr. Fred Evans, of Sedgley, one of the auditors.

Mr. Hughes brought forward the circular from the editor of 'The Ringing World' regarding the tercentenary of the birth of Fabian Stedman, and after a pleasant discussion it was unanimously decided to send a donation of two guineas to the fund.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar, for his kindness shown in many ways, to those who had provided and served the tea, to the assistant organist (Mr. Frank Dodd), and all who had helped to make that meeting a success.

The Vicar briefly replied, and closed the meeting with prayer. Further ringing then took place and closed a very enjoyable gathering.

of it? A great deal. In every plain method on six bells, when they called a single, four of the six stand still, and that was a hideous blot, and anything that was going to remove that was a move up and not down.

At this stage the Council adjourned for lunch, at which they were the guests of the Lancashire Association.

On resuming, the President said, whether or not peals of the kind referred to should be actively discouraged, there was nothing definitely to rule them out so far as the Analysis Committee was concerned.

Mr. P. J. Johnson asked whether the peal in question was or was not rung in complete 720's.

The President said as far as he could make out it was rung in twelve 560's, one 719 and one 1 (laughter).

Mr. Johnson said there were mathematicians who told them in regard to Doubles they could get 240 changes where they knew there were only 120, and he believed it was in the rules, or in their decisions, that a peal must consist of complete 720's, and the Council ought not to be asked to accept that report containing a peal of the description referred to. He would suggest they accept the report with the omission of that peal.

Mr. E. M. Atkins (who was the conductor of the peal in question) said it was true, in a way, to say that this peal was rung as a challenge to the Council. The reason it was rung was because it came within the terms of the Council's decision which said that a peal must contain seven true and complete 720's. The 720's might not have been continuous; nevertheless they were seven true and complete 720's. The 720's were each cut into two halves, and the two halves of each 720 were rung in the two halves of the peal.

The President said he did not think there was any rule which would bar the Analysis Committee from accepting this particular 5,040.

The report, on being put, was adopted with several dissentients.

RIGHTS TO METHOD NAMES.

Mr. E. Barnett raised the question of the title of 'Double Little Bob,' under which a peal had been included in the analysis. This method had been named Erith Little Bob. He said the committee had no right to alter the name of a method. It had always been a rule that the people who rang the first peal in a new method should have the privilege of naming it. That had been so with the Minor methods. If other people were to be allowed to alter the names, he did not know where they would stop—some people would be wanting to alter the names of the standard methods if they allowed this kind of thing to go on.

The Rev. H. Law James said the method referred to could not be Double Little Bob.

Mr. G. Cross said he published in 'The Ringing World' a letter in which he stated that the method had been properly named 'Erith Little Bob.' There had been no reply, and he thought the Analysis Committee would have put the matter right.

Mr. P. J. Johnson said they had the same difficulty in the Yorkshire Association in deciding whether a method had been properly named.

The President said these were doubtful points, which would probably right themselves, but he did not think they could discuss them that day. (To be continued.)

TRURO CATHEDRAL. COMING-OF-AGE OF THE BELLS.

Sunday, June 21st, is the 'coming-of-age' of Truro Cathedral bells—that is, the ringing peal of ten. The jubilee of the Cathedral was celebrated last year, the foundation stone having been laid on May 20th, 1880. The choir and transepts were consecrated on November 3rd, 1887, the nave on July 15th, 1903, the central tower and spire on January 22nd, 1904, and the two western towers and spires in 1910. The ring of ten bells, tenor 33 cwt. 3 qr. 10 lb. in C sharp, were dedicated on June 21st, 1910, and are in the north-west tower. They were an entirely new ring, cast by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., and were given by various donors. The legend from a canticle is inscribed on the first band of each bell, the name of the saint to which it is dedicated on the second, the date, A.D. MCMIX., and donor's name on the 'waist.' In three cases there is a special motto added.

The bells were opened by a life members' band from Plymouth and a representative band of Cornish ringers. Some of the noteworthy ringers present were the Revs. J. F. Hastings and E. V.

TRURO CATHEDRAL.

Cox, Messrs. J. R. Newman, C. H. Hattersley, B. Prewett and R. Stavert. The methods rung on that occasion were Stedman and Grandsire Caters, Kent Treble Bob Royal and Bob Royal.

The small tower on the south side of the Cathedral contains the clock, with Westminster chimes, and six bells. The hour bell, cast in 1770 by Pack and Chapman, is a good bell weighing 17 cwt., and is hung for ringing. The four-chime bells were cast in 1904 by Messrs. Taylor and Co. The other, cast in 1771 by Pack and Chapman, is unused.

The peals to date at Truro are as follows:—

- Boxing Day, 1910. Grandsire Caters, 3 hrs. 45 mins.
- Sept. 17th, 1926. Kent Treble Bob Royal, 3 hrs. 31 mins.
- April 27th, 1927. Grandsire Triples, 3 hrs. 19 mins.
- November 11th, 1927. Grandsire Triples, 3 hrs. 26 mins.
- May 3rd, 1929. Grandsire Caters, 3 hrs. 22 mins.
- May 29th, 1931. Grandsire Caters, 3 hrs. 22 mins.

The present Cathedral company is very keen, and is setting a lead to other bands in the county of Cornwall in change ringing. They are backed up by a Dean and Chapter ever willing to assist and encourage the furtherance of the art.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A very enjoyable meeting of the South-Eastern Division was held at Burnham-on-Crouch on Saturday, June 13th, when 27 members and friends attended during the afternoon and evening from Braintree, Broomfield, Great Baddow, Galleywood, Great Totham, Maldon (All Saints'), Springfield, Rettendon and the local band.

A peal board in the tower was dedicated by the Vicar (the Rev. D. L. Williams), who also conducted a service and gave a most helpful address. The lesson was read by the Master of the association (Mr. C. H. Howard).

An enjoyable tea was served at the Railway Hotel, the Vicar presiding, supported by the Master and District Master.

At the business meeting which followed it was arranged to hold the next meeting at Great Waltham on Saturday, August 15th.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, for his address and for presiding at the tea. Votes of thanks were also accorded the organist for her services, and to the local band for their assistance in arranging for the meeting and tea.

The ringers afterward returned to the tower, where the bells were kept going till nine o'clock.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

VI. PEAL RINGING.

If the new company were formed for the purpose of ringing peals, it was not long before they accomplished their intention.

'S. Saviour's, Southwark, April 19th, 1757. This Society of College Youths rang their first peal, which was 5,280 Changes of Bob Maximus, in 4 hrs. and 21 minutes, and was call'd by Mr. Geo. Meakins.

William Griffiths	1	Williams Lovell	7
James Coxon	2	Stephon Pickhaver	8
Edward Powell	3	Robert Mortimer	9
Geo. Meakins	4	Robert Bly	10
James Darquitt	5	John Lokis	11
Thomas Bennett	6	Joseph Monk	Tenor.

What strikes us at once is the preponderance of Eastern Scholars in this band. Meakins, Darquitt, Lovell, Bly, Lokis, and Monk were all ringing peals with that society only a short time before, and it is difficult to see how they could have become legally College Youths. Bennett, after belonging to both societies in turn, had joined the Cumberlands and rang peals with them in 1757, both before and after this peal of Maximus. Coxon (1752), Powell (1751) and Pickhaver (1749) were College Youths, and had rung in John Holt's two peals in 1752. Griffin (1749) and Mortimer (1750) were also College Youths. Coxon had been an Eastern Scholar and Pickhaver and Mortimer Union Scholars.

A month later the company rang a peal of Treble Bob at Ealing on the present ring of bells, but in the old tower. Bennett called this. During 1757 they rang six peals mostly Treble Bob Major. They began the next year with 5,280 Double Bob Maximus at Southwark, and in March of the same year they rang the first peal of Treble Twelve ever accomplished. Ten of this band had been Eastern Scholars.

Up to 1771 seventy-six peals were scored, the majority of which were conducted by George Meakins. They included, besides common methods, Plain, Double, and Reverse Bob Maximus, Reverse and Double Bob Royal, Grandsire Cinques, Double Grandsire Triples, Caters and Cinques; Morning Exercise Major; and College Exercise Major. There are several six thousands and one ten thousand. Bennett called a few of these peals; Monk and Roberts and John Underwood each one or two. All the while William Underwood seems to have been watching for the opportunity to supersede Meakins. Once he got his chance. In 1764-6 he called nine peals straight off (all the society rang), nearly all of them Grandsire Caters.

In 1759 we come across a peal of Grandsire Caters at Fulham, called by George Partrick with Samuel Muggeridge on the tenor. 'What the devil are they doing in this galley?' Partrick was the virtual founder of the Cumberland Society, the first master, and for many years the conductor and leading member. Samuel Muggeridge was not the afterwards famous College Youths' tenor ringer, but his father. He had belonged to the Union Scholars, and afterwards was a leading member of the Cumberlands.

Was this a friendly visit to the rival company, or does it mean that there had been trouble and dissensions among the Cumberlands? It looks like the latter. Partrick had dominated the society and called almost every peal from the start until 1757. Then his name disappears from the peal book, and we do not find it again till 1761. It was Annable's case over again.

EASTERN SCHOLARS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In the last paragraph of the fourth of his most interesting articles, Mr. Armiger Trollope makes reference to 'a Society of Eastern Scholars who rang at Greenwich and neighbouring towers.' Through the kindness of the friend of a former 'set change' ringer at Greenwich Parish Church, who died many years ago, there has recently come into my possession, bearing evidence of time's ravages, but intact, the original 'Minutes of the several peals of changes rang by the Society of Eastern Scholars of Greenwich.'

I append a list of the 29 performances, which are neatly recorded, some in colour by T. Smythers, who took part in several of them. In due course I shall have pleasure in asking the Central Council's acceptance of same for preservation in the Council's library.—Yours faithfully,

FREDERICK W. THORNTON.

OLD RINGER'S DEATH.

The Preston Branch of the Lancashire Association have recently lost their oldest ringing member in the person of Mr. Richard Rigbye, of Eccleston.

Mr. Rigbye, who passed away on June 4th, at the ripe age of 83, was one of the oldest, if not the oldest, members in the association. He began to ring at Eccleston when he was seventeen years of age, and had rung there ever since, except for the last twelve months or so.

The funeral took place at Eccleston on June 8th, when Mr. Rigbye's brother ringers bore him to his last resting place. Amongst those present were ringers from Leyland St. James and Chorley.

Amongst the floral tributes was one from the ringers in the form of a bell.

that the quaint inscriptions, etc. (particularly on the 3rd and tenor) may be read by those who are interested in such things? I well remember some years back trying to decipher them in a bad light, and, incidentally, getting in a terribly dirty state as a consequence, but I quite enjoyed it all the same. I also hope the actual weights of the bells will be noted. I was told the tenor was about 18 cwt., but this may be exaggerated, although I found it wanted some pulling when raising it. I have much pleasure in enclosing my humble mite towards this excellent restoration.—Yours faithfully,

F. C. TURNER.

THE RINGERS' DIRECTORY.

There is shortly to be published the third edition of the 'Directory of Church Bell Ringers,' which is issued by the Bristol United Ringing Guilds. The Directory has passed its first experimental stage, and is becoming established as one of the most handy works of reference to the Exercise. It began in quite a modest way, in an endeavour to supply what many believed to be a real need among ringers. The second edition indicated by the number of names it included how much the value of the publication had been appreciated. The next issue promises to show a still greater advance in size, and therefore in usefulness, and, in addition, will include 'features' which will add to its interest and value. For those not cognisant with the manner in which the Directory is run, it may be pointed out that a ringer's name and address is printed in alphabetical order in the book on payment of one shilling, which fee also includes a copy of the Directory. But beyond the alphabetical list, there is a section in which the names are placed under their respective associations and towers, to which latter, incidentally, are added the number and weight of the bells where the information is available.

The Directory is already useful to ringers in many ways; and the support given to it has only to be sufficiently increased to enable it to be made of utility in other directions. The more names that are included the greater the service which the publication will provide. Like 'the quality of mercy,' the humble shilling paid by the subscriber to the Directory will be 'twice blessed.' At any rate, not only will he who gives get the benefit of all the advantages which the Directory has to offer, but he will be adding to the benefits which it will confer on every other subscriber, for the longer the list of names—and it ought to run to thousands—the more useful the publication. Indeed, the gain to other people from having one's name included is almost more important than it is to the subscriber himself. It is other people's names and addresses that you want to find when you look in the Directory, and it is astonishing how often in the course of a year the Directory can be useful. It can be useful, even, when it is desired to communicate with another ringer within the limits of one's own association; when one wants to get into touch with those outside these limits it is still more valuable—and no one knows better than the Editor of 'The Ringing World' how constantly ringers desire to get into communication with others whose addresses they have not got, for this office is constantly used as a medium for forwarding letters. The ideal arrangement, of course, would be that the Directory should contain the address of every ringer, but its service to the Exercise will increase as the number of subscribers increases, and a shilling each is not too much to pay for all the advantage and convenience that is offered, primarily to the subscriber himself, but ultimately to every other member of the Exercise.

It has been suggested that this Directory is a work which the Central Council should undertake. As the central authority in ringing affairs it would seem to be the Council's task, but it was initiated by the enterprise of Bristol United Guilds, and until the latter express a desire to hand over the work, it can, we think, be best left in their hands. The United Guilds are making good with the experiment; they still have officers with sufficient enthusiasm to carry on. When this enthusiasm evaporates it might be time to talk of the Council taking over the publication; until then we hope to see the United Guilds meet with expanding success in their venture.

HONOURING KENT'S 'GRAND OLD MAN.'

ROMNEY MARSH MEETING AT ALDINGTON.

On the invitation of the Rev. G. S. and Mrs. Long, the Romney Marsh District Guild met at Aldington to celebrate the 94th birthday of Mr. C. Slingsby. The weather being favourable, eighty members from Ashford, Canterbury, Cheriton, Headcorn, Hythe, Tenterden, New Romney, Kennington, Rolvenden, Stone, Willesborough, Sturry, and Wickhambreau, turned up to do honour to Kent's 'grand old man.' The capacity of the belfry was severely taxed, and short touches were the order, so that all might have a chance to ring. Mr. Slingsby, who has only just recovered from a severe illness, sat at the bottom of the tower and received the good wishes of the visitors. This is the first occasion that he has failed to climb the tower for a pull. A short service was held in the church, conducted by the Rector, who gave an address. The lesson was read by Mr. Anderson (New Romney), and Mr. C. Coleman (Stone) presided at the organ. Tea was served at the Rectory. The Rector presided, supported by Mr. Slingsby, Mr. Wanstat (churchwarden), the Guild Master (Mr. C. W. Everett), and the hon. secretary (Mr. A. J. Battin). A large iced cake in the centre of the table turned out to be not a birthday cake, but in honour of the silver wedding of the Guild Master and Mrs. Everett, who later cut and distributed it to the company. The Rector welcomed the Guild to Aldington, and the Master congratulated Mr. Slingsby on attaining his 94th birthday. He hoped he would be spared, so that they could celebrate his 95th anniversary. Mr. Tribe also spoke, and mentioned that he had the pleasure of ringing on Mr. Slingsby's father's 100th birthday, and he hoped to celebrate the double century. Mr. E. Ruck also recalled a peal in 1893 in which he and Mr. Slingsby took part, as also did Mr. P. Hodgkin, who was with them that day.

The Hon. Secretary mentioned that at the last monthly meeting it was decided to send two guineas out of Guild funds to the Stedman Tercentenary Fund, and he suggested that it would be very fitting if they had a collection that afternoon and sent it up as collected at Mr. Slingsby's 94th birthday party. This was heartily agreed to, and the sum of £2 was collected.

A very hearty vote of thanks to the Rector and Mrs. Long for their kindness in inviting the Guild there every May was carried with acclamation. The Rector replied, and regretted that owing to a passing shower they were unable to have tea on the terrace as in past years, but he hoped as many as wished would take a walk round the grounds, an offer which many took advantage of.

Ringling was continued for some time, and all were satisfied that this was indeed a 'happy return.'

A NORTHAMPTONSHIRE RESTORATION.

THREE GENERATIONS TAKE PART IN DEDICATION.

The ravages of time and the death watch beetle made it necessary to provide a new frame for the bells at Wicken Church, Northants. The restoration was carried out by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., who at the same time recast the treble, second and fourth bells of the octave. The dedication of the new bells was performed by the Bishop of Peterborough on Saturday week, and an interesting part of the ceremony was the placing in the hands of the Bishop the ropes of the three recast bells by three generations of one family, which has provided six generations of ringers for the church. The ringers who thus shared in the service were Messrs. G. Green (father), A. J. Green (son), and J. A. Green (grandson). Prior to this, the Rector had addressed the Bishop in the following terms:—

'Right Reverend Father in God, we, the Rector, churchwardens, bellringers, sidesmen and parishioners of this parish of Wicken in your lordship's diocese of Peterborough, do make our humble petition that you will be pleased to consecrate, hallow and set aside from all secular and profane uses, the three bells that have been newly cast, and to dedicate the frame in which all the nine bells have now been set, the original frame having perished through the decay of over three hundred years. The ropes of the three newly cast bells will be placed in your lordship's hands by three representatives of one family, who for six generations have all in their days been ringers in this belfry; three generations still are ringers: three rest from their labours in the shadow of the tower that they loved and served. These bells have been restored and rehung to the greater glory of God, and in honoured memory of Edward Sholto Douglas Pennant, III, Baron Penrhyn of Penrhyn Castle, in the county of Carnarvon, and the Principality of Wales, and of Wicken Park in this county and parish, for which he did so much. The rehanging and retuning of the bells is but the beginning of a larger scheme of memorial, which is to set in order the ancient carillon by which the clock has played a tune every four hours, for several centuries. We shall remember before God, as we hear the familiar tunes, the life and name of a good, just, and high-souled man, and trust that he may find mercy, rest and peace in the nearer presence of God, while his body rests beneath the tower of the church in which on earth he was so regular a worshipper.'

At the conclusion of the service the bells were opened in peal, the local band being assisted by the Master of the Peterborough Diocesan Association and two other members of the Towcester Branch, the annual festival of which was held in conjunction with the reopening of the bells. The restoration has been splendidly carried out by the Loughborough firm, who were represented at the dedication by Messrs. J. Oldham and D. S. Collins.

The tower of the present church was built in 1617 by Robert Lord Spencer, as appears by a date over the ringing loft. On the south side are the arms and quarterings of Spencer with the supporters and helmet. The bells, now eight in number, were originally only two, but three were brought from St. James' and Wyke Hamon, when the Church of St. James was pulled down in 1619, thirty-three years after the union of the parish with Wyke Dyve. The inscriptions are of considerable interest, and show that there was a good deal of recasting, probably carried out in the churchyard, as was usual in those days of difficult transport.

The tenor of the ring of eight weighs 15 cwt. 1 qr. 20 lb., and has this inscription:—

Laudo Deum Verum.

Plebem Voco Convoce Clerum.

Defunctos Ploro Pestem Fugo Festa Decoro.

Its date is 1619.

7th.—Four bells turned into one,
Yet less the church received none,
Three hundred weight was added more
And paid by Wickens patrons score. 1619.

6th.—Two hundred weight was I before,
Added to me eight hundred more.
This is no robbing of a kirke
But accounted a good werke. 1620.

5th.—John Briant, Hertford. Fecit 1798. C. Bradbury, C. Warden.

4th.—Dedit Hanc Campanam Robertus Spencer Miles Baro Spencer de Wormleighton ad Honorem Dei et Exemplem Aliorum. 1620. Reproduced from the old bell with the following addition: Quod Exemplum Prosequentes Wickenses Refundendam Curaverunt Anno Salvit. MDCCCLXXXI. W. A. Carroll, Rector.

3rd.—In memoriam Edward, Dorothea. 1898. John Taylor, Loughborough.

2nd.—Venite Exultemus Domino. H. Nelson Ward, Rector. Cast 1922. Recast, 1931. W. A. Carroll, Rector.

'Treble.—O go your way into His gates with thanksgiving and into His courts with praise. Ps. C. Cast 1922. H. Nelson Ward, Rector. Recast 1931. W. A. Carroll, Rector.

The Sanctus bell is inscribed: 'Chandeler made me, 1686.'

The original five bells are now represented by the three largest bells. Robert, Lord Spencer, gave a fourth in 1619, the year he built the tower. The recasting was carried out in 1619 and 1620, and the ring remained at the number of four until 1798, when the fifth was made by John Briant, of Hertford, a noted founder of his day.

The ring was made up to six in 1898, and the octave was completed in 1922.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

The June meeting of the Warwickshire Guild, held on Saturday, June 20th, at Wolvey, was favoured with fine weather. There was a good attendance of members and friends from Allesley, Arley, Brinklow, Bulkington, Chilvers Coton, Clifton, Croft, Leicester, Lillington, Nuneaton, Shilton, Stoke, Stoney Stanton and Warwick, together with members of the local band. The bells were rung in various Minor methods until five o'clock, when ten, kindly provided by the Vicar, was served in the schools. The Vicar (Rev. S. Morris) welcomed the ringers, and invited them to walk in his garden during the evening. Handbell ringing was indulged in after tea for a further half-hour or so by a few enthusiasts, while others returned to the belfry, where ringing continued until about eight o'clock.

AN ACTIVE CHURCHWORKER.

At Eastwood Parish Church, Rotherham, for evening service, on Sunday, June 21st, 720 Bob Minor: T. Cooper 1, A. Coad 2, J. Harvey 3, E. Williams 4, J. Coad 5, A. G. W. Measures (conductor) 6, with G. Lee 7 and T. Tomlinson 8 covering. This was rung with the bells half-muffled as a last tribute to the memory of Mrs. Davy, who died with tragic suddenness on Tuesday morning, June 16th. Mrs. Davy was an active worker on behalf of Eastwood Parish Church, and was extremely well known in the district.

Also for Sunday morning service, 360 Bob Minor, with the bells half-muffled.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

A meeting of the Farnham District, held at Crondall on Saturday, June 13th, was enjoyed by all the 25 members and friends who attended from the district. Unfortunately the bad state of the bells, together with the fact that they 'run backwards,' made ringing difficult. The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar of Crondall, Rev. C. Balmer, who gave a very interesting address from the records of the church. Mr. T. A. Stroud, of Frensham, presided at the organ.

An excellent tea was partaken of in the Castle Inn, and after tea the Vicar presided over the business meeting, at which one new member, Master Roy Cox, of Aldershot, was elected. Admiral T. P. Walker, of Woking, on behalf of all present, sincerely thanked the Vicar for the use of the bells, for his inspiring address, and for taking the chair at the business meeting, to the organist, the blower, the local band and to all who had helped in the arrangements. The tower was then revisited, and the bells kept going until 8.30 p.m.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The Barnett family of Kent propose to attempt a peal of 'Royal' shortly in London, when Barnett Maximus will take part in a peal composed by Barnett Major, the hobs to be called by Barnett Minor.

The Ringing Master of the Hereford Diocesan Guild has conducted a peal of Caters on each of the ten-bell towers in the diocese, and has rung 100 peals in all for the Guild. He has yet to 'capture' one or two towers before claiming to have rung a peal in all the diocesan churches with a ring of six bells and upwards.

Some years ago the Rector of St. Clement Danes Church, Strand, jokingly said of a well-known London ringer that 'his bark was worse than his bite.' Soon afterwards he retired into Bucks, where the Berks and Bucks ringers are bucking up their Barker.

The Vicar of Iwer, Bucks, kindly allowed a combined practice at his tower on Tuesday, June 16th, when a double team of ringers met and enjoyed touches of Triples and Major to compliment Miss E. Gudgeon on her birthday. Representatives from Hillingdon, Uxbridge, Iwer, Fulmer, Farnham, Stoke, Windsor and Slough enjoyed the privilege and fully realised that no bell could be rung without the 'gudgeon.'

By taking part in a peal of Bob Major at Titchmarsh on June 20th, J. D. Bell, a young member of the Kettering band, has now a peal of Double, Minor, Major and Caters to his credit. His first peal was rung exactly twelve weeks previously.

One of the most interesting family peals yet recorded is that rung last week at Offenham, Worcestershire, by Mr. F. J. Johnson, of Hinton-on-the-Green, with two sons and three daughters. Mr. Johnson and some of his children have rung 'family' handbell peals, but we believe this is the first tower bell peal which they have accomplished.

'Silent' peals of Stedman Triples are no ordinary achievement, and the band that rang a strictly non-conducted peal in the method at Walkden on Saturday are to be congratulated. The umpire, Mr. F. Frankland Rigby, certifies that during the peal no word was spoken nor any sign given by or to any member of the band. Further, all the sixty course-ends were checked and found to be correct.

ASSOCIATION FUNDS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—With your permission I would like to correct a slight error by Mr. J. M. Cripps, under the above heading in your last issue. It is in the twelfth line of the second paragraph, in a reference to the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, 'with no special items of expenditure' the balance is reduced by 3s. 7d. This is incorrect. Perhaps Mr. Cripps overlooked the fact that the annual meeting, quite separate from the jubilee expenses, were not fully given in detail. The jubilee festival was an 'extra' expense for 'hire of Masonic Hall and cost of teas' to about a hundred members who were present. With regard to his remark re 'Special Purposes Fund,' this is misleading, as none of this fund is earmarked for new certificates. Therefore, I hope Mr. Cripps did not quote our Guild's balance sheet as a specimen of 'bad finance,' as I find on looking at the figures we had a working balance of over £90, and at December 31st, 1930, over £105. In addition to this, perhaps I may be allowed to add that the Guild increased the ring of ten at the Cathedral to twelve as a war memorial to its members who gave their lives in the Great War, restored the Raynor tomb in the Isle of Wight in Arretton Churchyard, as well as giving £100 towards the augmentation of the ring of five at Milford-on-Sea to eight in memory of their late vice-president, the Rev. C. E. Matthews, who was Vicar there at the time of his death.

I hope Mr. Cripps will not mind my comments, but I could not understand why our balance sheet was criticised. We are not a provident society, but if we had not expended our funds in the way I have mentioned we should have had a substantial amount on deposit at the present moment.

GEORGE WILLIAMS,

Master, Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild.

ORDERLY RAISING AND LOWERING OF BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I was pleased to read the letter from the Rev. C. Carew Cox, and wish to assure him that I do not seek an official pronouncement, which would have the effect of discouraging any orderly method of raising and lowering bells. Raising and falling 'in peal' is orderly, but when and where this is not done, the bells should be raised and lowered singly.

I do protest and object most strongly to ringers entering a ringing chamber, clutching any rope, and pulling up the bells anyhow without the least consideration for the listeners. This action is right out of order. The proper way is to ask the person in charge how the bells are to be raised.

Some ringers will say there isn't time, but I am not accepting that plea; it absolutely will not do.

I earnestly appeal to all those in charge—steeplekeepers, secretaries, captains, etc.—to insist that the bells are raised and lowered in an orderly manner.—Yours faithfully,

F. W. RICHARDSON.

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY.

RESTORATION FUND STILL GROWING.

The wonderful response which has been made to 'The Ringing World' appeal for funds for the restoration of the bells of St. Benet's Church, Cambridge, to commemorate the tricentenary of the birth of Fabian Stedman is a practical proof of the popularity of the proposal and of the interest of the Exercise in the event, which has fully realised the desire that it should become a national scheme. Indeed, it has become more than this, for the contributions which have been received have come not only from England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland, but from the United States of America and from South Africa as well.

Among the associations who have this week voted donations to the fund are the Norwich Diocesan Association, the Society for the Archdeaconry of Staffs, Cambridge University Guild, Oxford University Society and the Leeds and District Amalgamated Society.

Apart from the actual restoration of the bells, there is much that can usefully be done in the tower of St. Benet's to improve the general conditions for ringing so that even if the provisional sum asked for should be more than subscribed it can be well spent. Those who desire to be associated with the scheme—and there must be hundreds of ringers who delight in ringing Stedman's method who will desire to have 'a finger in the pie,' however small the contribution may be—should send in their donations at once to

DEATH OF MR. T. T. GOFTON.

We are sorely grieved to announce the passing of Mr. Thomas T. Gofton, of Whitley Bay, Northumberland, the senior brother of a band of ringers who have made themselves famous in ringing the country over. Mr. Gofton was taken suddenly ill on Saturday morning, and breathed his last at half-past eight the same evening. He was 58 years of age.

His loss is keenly felt by all members of the Durham and Newcastle Association, of which body he had been a mainstay for over forty years.

Only on the preceding Monday Mr. Gofton took part in a peal of Superlative at Whitley Bay, when he appeared to be in the best of health.

The funeral took place on Tuesday.

A further appreciation of Mr. Gofton's work and of his staunch loving companionship will appear in another issue.

ANOTHER NEW CORNISH RING.

DEDICATION OF SIX BELLS AT TUCKINGMILL.

The dedication took place on Thursday, June 18th, by Canon Maddrell, Vicar of Gulval, of a new ring of six bells at All Saints' Church, Tuckingmill, a village a mile from Camborne. The church was built in 1844, and since then one solitary bell has called the worshippers together. About four years ago the Vicar, the Rev. J. J. Haworth, appealed for funds to provide a ring of bells. He has been most generously assisted by Mrs. Williams, of Trevor, Camborne, who has subscribed altogether £410 out of the £500 which the scheme has cost. The bells are hung in a frame for eight, and it is hoped that the two trebles will soon be added to complete the octave. The tenor is 10½ cwt. in G. The contract has been carried out by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., who have done the work very efficiently. A ringing chamber has been fixed above the vestry, and the bells are very pleasing to ring. Sliding shutters have been provided so that the sound can be regulated.

The opening touch was rung by the Camborne band, who have been teaching the newly-formed company, and during the afternoon and evening the bells were thoroughly tested by ringers from Gulval, Penzance, Mogan, Phillach, Redruth, Gwennap and Truro Cathedral. Mr. J. P. Fidler represented the founders at the dedication service.

THE AUTHOR OF GRANDSIRE DOUBLES.

MR. J. A. TROLLOPE'S DISCOVERY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—You may be interested to know that I have discovered the name of the man who composed Grandsire Doubles and the old 'standard' seven hundred and twenty of Bob Minor.

In the 'Tintinnalogia' there are printed some lines signed by R. R., 'Upon the Presentation of Grandsire Bob to the Colledge-Youths by the Author of that peal.' Mr. Ellacombe (quoted by Snowden in 'Grandsire') says, 'One would like to find out who R. R. was,' and suggests Richard Rock, who was admitted a member of the Schollers of Chepeyside in 1632. But in the dedication of the 'Campanalogia' Stedman reminds the 'Colledge Youths' that 'a worthy and knowing Member of your Society pricketh those much applauded Peals of Grandsire and Grandsire Bob.' This rules out Rock, for, according to available evidence, he never was a member of the Colledge Youths, and, besides, the dates do not agree. Both compositions are printed in the 'Tintinnalogia,' so they cannot be later than a few years before 1668. On the other hand, what we know of the rise and progress of change ringing forbids us to think that they can be earlier than somewhere about 1650.

With these facts in mind, I set myself to try and find a man whose initials were R. R., who about that time was a prominent and influential member of the Colledge Youths, and who probably at some time held office in the society. I found him in Robert Roan, who was elected in 1647, and was Master in 1652. Roan is entirely unknown, yet his compositions are not only practised far more than any other composer's, but they formed the basis of a very large proportion of all the peals and methods which have been rung. Their practical value is many times more than that of all the compositions that Stedman left put together. Roan is not only the earliest but one of the greatest of our composers.

It is interesting to know how he composed his 720. He first wrote out a six-score of Grandsire Doubles on 23458 backwards. Then he put a 1 in front of every row, and these were all the hand and back changes of his 720. This is not merely how I think he may have composed it, but how he actually did so.

Some years ago I found out from a letter in the 'Norwich Gazette' of 1732 that the J. D. of J. D. and C. M., the authors of the 1703 'Campanalogia,' was John Doleman. I have now some reason to think that C. M. may have been Charles Mason, afterwards Fellow of Trinity, Cambridge, and Doctor of Divinity. But of that I have nothing like proof.—Yours sincerely,

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

P.S.—I do not mean that Roan was a greater member of the Exercise than Stedman, or that we owe more to him. I meant exactly what I said.

The quaint lines to which Mr. Trollope refers are as follows:—

Gentlemen of the Noble Crew
Of Colledge-Youths, there lately blew
A wind, which to my Noddle flew (Upon a day when as it snow),
Which to my Brains the vapors drew,
And there began to work and brew,
Till in my Pericranium grew
Conundrums, how some Peal that's new Might he compos'd? and to pursue
These thoughts (which did so what an hew
My flat invention) and to shew
What might be done, I straight withdrew
Myself to ponder—whence did accrue
This Grandsire Bob, which unto you
I Dedicate, as being due
Most properly; for there's but few
Besides, so ready at their Q—
(Especially at the first view)
To apprehend a thing that's new;
Though they'll pretend and make a shew,
As if the intricat'st they knew
What Bob doth mean, and Grandsire True,
And read the course without a clue
Of this new Peal: yet though they screw
Their shallow Brains, they'll ne're unglue
The method on't (and I am a Jew)
If I don't think this to be true,
They see no more on't than blind Hugh.
Well, let their tongues run Titere in,
Drink muddy Ale, or else French Lieue,
Whilst we our Sport and Art renew,
And drink good Sack till Sky looks blew,
So Grandsire bids you All adieu.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

THE MINOR METHODS COLLECTION.

The Rev. H. Law James, on behalf of the Methods Committee, proposed the adoption of the report which had been published. He did not wish to say much about the Minor Methods Collection for the simple reason it had been discussed in print, and they did not want a great deal of further talk about it. From the discussion that had already taken place among the Standing Committee, he thought they could take it that the Collection would be published straight away. He wanted, however, to ask the Council one or two things with regard to the future. The Collection of Minor Methods was confined to Doubles and Minor methods, and Triples, which appeared in the original edition, had been omitted. The book was intended for the six-bell towers, and he would like to know if the Council desired the committee to reproduce the methods for seven bells. His own opinion was that it should be reprinted and brought up to date. Then, with regard to the future, were they to go forward and publish next of all a book of Surprise methods, or did the Council think, as he was bound to think himself, that the proper thing to do was to deal with the plain methods of Royal, Cinques and Maximus? With regard to the outside cover of the Minor Collection, the committee would, as mentioned in the report, leave it to the Council.

Mr. Hunt asked if the Council were to understand that the Methods Committee and the Standing Committee had come to an amicable settlement with regard to the Minor Collection?

Mr. James: Quite a satisfactory decision as far as I am concerned. I want to vote upon it.

Mr. A. Paddon Smith, on behalf of the Standing Committee, moved that the Minor Methods Collection be printed, and, so far as the names on the cover and title page were concerned, that they should be the names of the Council and its officers and the members of the committee. An agreement had been reached on that point.

Mr. C. T. Coles seconded, and said he thought they had reached a pleasant end to the controversy which they had had.

A QUESTION OF PRINCIPLE.

Mr. J. A. Trollope said Mr. Smith talked about an agreement, but he would say now what he had said all along, that he could not see the slightest reason for departing from the practice of the Council. For the last 35 years until recently the books that had been published by the Council had been published with a certain formula, and he could not see the slightest reason why that formula should be departed from. He could not see why they should put any names on the outside of the book other than the names of those people who had produced the book. They might say it was a small matter. It was a small matter in a way, but there was a certain amount of principle behind it. When the committee refused to accept the names of the officials of the Council on the outside of the cover they were fighting for the liberty of a committee against the interference of the officials of the Council. When the Council appointed a committee to do any work, the committee was responsible to the Council and not to the officials. In almost the last thing that the late Mr. Davies wrote to 'The Ringing World' he laid it down that the various committees were responsible to the Council, and it was up to them to see that their rights were not infringed. The second point was that if they got people to do work for them, they were bound to give them the ordinary consideration that these people would get at the hands of any similar body. It was the ordinary, common or garden kind of right. He had no personal feeling in the matter, and he had no doubt whatever that what Mr. Young did he did with the sole intention of promoting the welfare of the Council. But in this matter he disagreed with Mr. Young, and it was his duty to express that disagreement. They had had placed in their hands that day a new book on 'The Law of Church Bells.' They appointed a committee of three persons, three members of the legal profession, to draw up the report, and it had been printed. That book would be a standard book for many years, but if in twenty years' time someone picked up that book and looked at the names on the front of the cover they would get not the slightest idea who the men were who really did the work. That was not fair to those who did the work. In the future they would probably have other people who they would ask to do work for them. Would they say to them that they were prepared to accept what they did, to accept their time, money and brains, and when that was done give the credit to someone else? That was what it amounted to (hear, hear). It might look like blowing his own trumpet, but he was standing up for a principle. The committee left it to the Council, and if they saw any reason why an old custom should be departed from, they would vote for it, but his own opinion was as he had stated.

Mr. Young: Did you read the preface of the new book?

Mr. Trollope: Yes, sir. May I point out that Mr. Davies issued a book on the Surprise methods. My name is mentioned in that preface much in the same way as the members of the Legal Committee are mentioned in this book. Does anyone think I had the same work to do with the Surprise methods?

THE DEPARTING RON. SECRETARY'S VIEWS.

Mr. E. A. Young said he did not wish to say very much on the subject because he was anxious to go out of office with all the smiles he could. He was away from the country last winter; if he had been at home they could probably have settled the question by a talk round the table, but he was told by their late secretary, Mr. Davies, that he was responsible for the issuing of the books published by the Council—cover, printing and price—and when the manuscript came to him he had to see that it agreed with what was passed by the Council. When they published 'Rules and Decisions' in 1927, he pointed out that he thought on all the books and papers which they placed before the public and the Exercise the name of the Council should be placed in the forefront; in fact, that he would like to see the name of the Council always in gold letters and the names of the officers with it, not because he was an officer of the Council, but because he thought prominence should be given to them. The names were printed on the cover in 'Rules and Decisions,' and he thought how nice it looked, and he tried to follow the arrangement in other volumes. He was quite prepared, if the proposal now before the Council went forward, to go a little further to meet the Methods Committee and have the names of the officials of the Council put on the cover in a minor position.

Mr. Trollope asked why the names of the officials of the Council should be on the book at all? The committee were appointed to represent the Council in this matter and to produce the book.

Mr. Young said he thought by having the names of the officials as well as that of the Council anyone picking up the book would say, 'This Council is a body that takes things seriously; the Council is a body of note and no hole-and-corner affair.' The Council must forgive him if he had stepped too far.

Mr. A. P. Smith said when he proposed his motion he had no idea it was going to be opposed, but it did appear to him that Mr. Trollope was still not satisfied, although he (the speaker) had been given to understand that he was. That being the case, he wanted to put the matter more strongly. He who paid the piper should call the tune. The Council had to pay for this publication, and in his opinion the Council, and not the committee, should decide what went on the cover and title page. The committee had only carried out instructions, or, if they did not like that word, request. They were servants of the Council, and in any society worthy of its name the names of its officers should be on all its papers.

Mr. W. Willson said it was not often he agreed with Mr. Trollope—perhaps that was his (Mr. Willson's) fault (laughter)—but he thought he was in the right on this occasion. The Council did not pay the piper in this case. These men had worked for nothing for years. The names of the officials might go on the back page, but not on the front. The committee had done the job and done it well. If he had been one of the committee and had done this service, if the name of anyone else went on the title page he would have torn up the proofs.

Mr. Coles, as seconder, said, like Mr. Paddon Smith, he had hoped this thing was going through unopposed. No doubt many of the Council felt in sympathy with Mr. Trollope and his friends on the committee, and he had intended, so far as he was concerned, not to agree to any modification until he learned that what was proposed would be accepted. To his surprise, it was not. Since he had listened to the explanation of the secretary he found himself driven to support Mr. Trollope. The committee should be considered in this matter. They had given years of work to the book, and even if the Council paid for the printing they got the money back. Mr. Trollope and his friends did not get their money back.

The motion, on being put, was declared carried nem con.

A BOOK ON TRIPLES.

The Rev. H. Law James asked for a motion on the question of whether the committee should now proceed with the Triples methods.

Mr. Faulkner: Is that going to hold up the publication of this book still further?

The President: Not at all.

The Rev. H. Drake proposed that the Triples methods section be revised and reprinted.

Mr. Trollope said the idea would be to make a book for Grandsire and Stedman largely, not merely give just a lead, but give something that would be of real use to ringers, including peals and touches. Mr. Davies' book on Stedman was really a book for composers and experts. What they wanted was a book that the ordinary man in the tower could put in his pocket and use. In addition to Grandsire and Stedman, methods like Double Court should be included, and methods which had one hunt and six working bells. It would be very much smaller than the Minor Collection, and rather smaller than the Major.

Mr. W. Ayre seconded Mr. Drake's motion.

The Rev. H. Law James said he thought they could present it ready for printing at the next meeting of the Council.

Mr. Trollope: Don't you be so sure (laughter).

The motion was carried.

WORK FOR THE FUTURE.

The President said the committee wanted to know whether they should have in mind as the next subject a collection of Surprise methods or a collection of Plain Royal, Cinques and Maximus methods.

Mr. Trollope said he thought the book wanted now was a book on the Major Surprise methods. That was going to be a very big thing, because, if they were going to have it done, it should be done so that it was as nearly a final book on that section as they could get. It would be easy to print a book of 20 or 30 methods, with compositions, worth ringing, but that was hardly what they wanted.

What they wanted was the whole ground surveyed, if it could be surveyed, in the same way that they did in the case of the Plain Major Methods. At least, when he said the whole ground surveyed like the Plain Major Methods, he meant give a selection, because if they were going to do the Surprise methods exhaustively, and had started before the world was made, they would scarcely have scratched the surface by this time, for the number of methods ran to something like 13 trillions. But they could do a good deal, although it would be a long job, and they must not expect to see the results for some time. With regard to the Plain Royal, Cinques and Maximus, he did not think the time was ripe for anything like that. People would not ring them at present.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith said he thought it would be of more practical use if the committee, instead of starting to explore a field which was going to take years of labour and probably not result in the publication of the work in the lifetime of many of those present, would first take in hand a selection of Treble Bob methods. There were plenty of first-class methods of this type to be obtained, some of them more difficult to ring than many Surprise methods. A comparatively small volume of methods with a treble bob hunt, published at a reasonable figure, without undue delay, would serve a far more practical purpose than aiming at something which would take years to produce and publish, probably, at a cost prohibitive to the ordinary ringer.

The Rev. H. Law James said they all had their own opinions, and he thought they should publish a small collection of Royal, Cinques and Maximus methods, thus finishing off the plain methods before they started on Treble Bob. If they started on the Treble Bob, this generation would be past and gone before the thing was done anything like exhaustively.

The President said they could only print one book next year, if the Plain Triples was ready. If it could be done, it would be most desirable. In the meantime, Mr. James might prepare the one he suggested, and Mr. Trollope the other, and in that way they might get both (laughter).

IN THE MELTING POT.

Mr. Trollope said the Council referred to them last year the revision of the report on regular methods. They had had the matter under consideration, but had nothing to report. The question was to some extent in the melting pot. It was so easy to make a definition, but so extraordinarily difficult to make a definition worth having. Look at the peal rules. Everybody had been trying to make rules for six-bell peals, but there was not one that they could not drive a coach and horses through. And they were faced with the same thing when they came to the revision of the method report. That report was never claimed to be a final statement on the matter, and since it was drawn up they had learnt a tremendous lot. The chief thing they had learned was how little they knew about the whole thing. When they drew up that report they thought they knew everything, but they were not quite so sure now, and just at present they were not prepared to make any definite statement on the point that was raised, and the committee asked to be allowed to leave the matter in abeyance.

The Rev. E. S. Powell said if people had been content to go on ringing peals in one method only it might have been possible to draw up something on the terms of the resolution put to them last year, but all this multiplication of methods in one peal had thrown ringing into the melting pot. Nothing of the kind was contemplated when the report was drawn up, and it was only one of the many changes that were taking place at the present time. If they were to attempt to draw up some hard and fast rules they would probably be making a statement which, in a couple of years' time, they might be sorry should have been made.

The President: The matter will be left over until next year.

TOWERS AND BELFRIES.

The reports of members of the Towers and Belfries Committee were next presented, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, one of the members, stating that in his own diocese a certain amount of work had been going on.

The hon. secretary read a report received from Major J. H. B. Hesse, who was unable to be present. Major Hesse wrote that he understood that at Solihull, where he inspected the bells and advised that the whole peal be recast, the work was to be carried out, providing they got the faculty. It was the only thing to do there, as they are very keen on having a really good peal of bells, which the present lot could never be, no matter how carefully tuned. There was only one bell, namely the ninth, that could be retained, and, in his report, he advised this bell being retained as a relic.

Another case in which he had been called in was at Grayshott, quite near Haslemere, where there were three modern bells, tenor about 8½ cwt., all poor. He made an inspection and report on the tower, as they were anxious to know if the tower was capable of carrying a peal of eight bells with a tenor of about 8½ cwt. or 9 cwt. The tower, in his opinion, was of ample strength for this and could safely carry a peal twice the weight. He had also advised that the three old bells be recast, which was to be carried out. His other job, although the smallest of the lot, was by no means the least to him, namely, the recasting of the fifth bell at Wrington, which was the only poor bell in the peal. This had been done, and the new bell matched the old bells beautifully and was exceptionally good. A 'deadening' floor had been put in the ringing chamber, and the belfry now was, from a sound point of view, all that could be desired.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

NORTHERN BRANCH AND CENTRAL COUNCIL.

A meeting of the Grimsby District was held at Louth on Saturday, June 13th, when, with the lovely peal of eight with its 30 cwt. tenor, and a beautiful church and spire, members were attracted from Bigby, Elsham, Scunthorpe, Burton-on-Stather, Uleaby, Thornton Curtis, Barrow-in-Humber, Grimsby St. James, Grimsby St. Andrew's, and friends from Branston, Mablethorpe, Lincoln Cathedral, including the president of the Lincoln District, Mr. G. Chester, also Mr. D. Collins, of Gillett and Johnston, who is at present engaged on the renovation of Thornton Curtis bells. The service was conducted by the president (the Rev. H. T. Parry). Mr. H. Carter presided at the organ.

Twenty-seven sat down to a splendid tea at the Victoria Rooms, and the president presided over the meeting which followed.

The president gave a short account of the Central Council's meeting at Liverpool, and referred especially to the manner in which the Council was received by the Lord Mayor of Liverpool, and the civic authorities and the Lancashire Association, which went to show that ringers were going up in the estimation not only of the Church but also of the civic authorities, which was all to the good, and was the result of the efforts of the ringers themselves.

Mr. G. Chester spoke on the value of the Central Council in the untiring efforts they made on behalf of ringers, especially their publications, which he thought should be in the hands of ringers much more than at present. He had brought with him a collection of publications for sale to the ringers.

A recommendation was made that the Northern Branch be asked to buy all the copies to be sold at the various district meetings.

Votes of thanks to the president for conducting the service and for presiding over the meeting, to the organist and caterers, brought a very pleasant meeting to a close. Members then adjourned to the tower again. Methods rung ranged from Grandsire Triples to Cambridge Major.

The next meeting is to be held at Bigby on Saturday, July 18th, which will be combined with the Lincoln District of the Ladies' Guild, of which due notice will appear in 'The Ringing World.'

DEVON GUILD.

Members of the Aylesbeare Deanery Branch of the Devon Guild were singularly fortunate in having such a beautiful day for their meeting at Sowton on June 20th. By the kindness of the Rev. W. H. A. and Mrs. Cullin, the Rectory garden was open to ringers, and many took advantage of this opportunity to enjoy a game of bowls or 'Kum-Bak' and to have a touch on the handbells in the glorious sunshine. The tower bells were not neglected, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman were rung during the afternoon and evening.

A service was held in the church, when the Rector, in the course of his address, gave a warm welcome to the branch. Tea was served in the school, where Mrs. Cullin and a band of lady helpers (wives of the local ringers) had everything in readiness.

At the subsequent business meeting (presided over by the president of the Guild in the unavoidable absence of the branch chairman), the Rector was proposed as an honorary member by Mr. A. G. Betts, and his election carried with acclamation.

The next meeting was fixed for September 26th at Pinhoe, subject to the Rector's approval. The meeting closed with a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Cullin and their helpers, to which Mr. Cullin gave an appropriate and amusing reply.

BERKSHIRE RINGERS IN SUSSEX.

The ringers of St. Laurence's, Reading, made a journey by road through 'leafy Surrey' and 'sylvan Sussex' to Lewes and Brighton for their annual outing. A neat little bus, marked 'X.L.C.R.' picked us up (with our Vicar) at 7.30 a.m., and off we went. A halt was made at Horsham for tea and sandwiches, then on to Lewes, where at 11 o'clock we were met by Mr. R. J. Dawe, and a good touch each of Stedman and Grandsire Caters was rung on this pleasing little peal of ten. Some of the adult members could not leave this place without a short visit to the King's Head, the birthplace of the Editor of 'The Ringing World,' otherwise known as one of those wicked Guild secretaries who go and ring peals on meeting days. A good dinner was thoroughly enjoyed at Morley's Hotel, Brighton, then to St. Nicholas' Church, more good Stedman and Grandsire Caters being rung. Next to St. Peter's, where Mr. Keith Hart and several other ringers were awaiting the visitors, and two touches of Stedman Caters and two courses of Grandsire Caters were rung on this fine ten. After tea, the Vicar and some of the youngsters went to 'see the sea,' whilst the old 'uns, with Mr. Hart, journeyed to the Church of the Good Shepherd, where touches of Stedman Triples were brought round. A pleasant half-hour was spent in comfortable style nearby, while the remainder of the company drifted in one or two at a time. 'All aboard' was called at seven o'clock, and after a four hours' run St. Laurence's was reached again, everyone agreeing that it had been a fine outing. The weather was glorious, the food was good, and the ringing was good throughout the day. The kindness of Messrs. Keith Hart, R. J. Dawe, F. Bennett and J. Edwards will long be remembered with gratitude by all concerned, and especially by

The 'OWD 'UN.'

A THAMESIDE TEN.

NEW TREBLES OPENED AT ISLEWORTH.

The result of more than six years' labour was seen in Isleworth, Middlesex, on Saturday week, when two new treble bells, to make a ring of ten, were dedicated at the parish church by the Bishop of Kensington. At a meeting of the Middlesex County Association in February, 1925, a scheme was launched to raise funds to achieve this object, and by dogged perseverance and tenacity of purpose, Mr. W. H. Hollier, the district secretary of the association, has been able to accomplish the project, and the bells were opened free of debt.

The church overlooks the River Thames, and formerly had a ring of eight bells, tenor 16½ cwt., cast in 1767 by Lester and Pack. They were restored and retuned in 1903, and the two new bells have now been added by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of Whitechapel, who have made a splendid splice. The bells can be heard admirably in the ringing chamber, while outside there is perfect balance. The treble is inscribed 'Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus, Dominus Deus Sabaoth' (Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Hosts), and the second, 'Pleni sunt Caeli, et Terra Gloria Tua' (Heaven and Earth are full of Thy Glory). The second and third of the ten are carried on girders above the other eight. The whole framework has been painted and the belfry cleaned, while the ringing chamber has been made spick and span by the efforts of the local ringers.

The dedication of the bells took place in the presence of a numerous congregation on Saturday, June 13th. The service, which began with the hymn, 'All people that on earth do dwell,' was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. P. W. Shepherd-Smith, the lesson being read by Mr. J. A. Trollope, vice-president of the association. During the singing of the hymn, 'We love the place, O God,' the choir, clergy, churchwardens and Bishop proceeded to the tower, where the dedicatory prayer was said, and as the procession returned to the chancel the bells were rung for about a minute by the local ringers.

The Bishop of Kensington preached an inspiring sermon from Eccles. xlv. 9: 'He compassed him with many bells round about to send forth a sound that might be heard in the temple for a memorial to His people.' The Bishop said that ceremony was an unusual one in that diocese, where only the old parish churches possessed rings of bells. The dedication of material things for the service of God, whilst they had their outward aspects, was sacramental, and had a great spiritual meaning to those who could understand. God spoke to his children in many ways, and the consecration of those bells was the consecration of a means by which God could get at men's hearts through their ears. The bells were God's love made vocal. God's love spoke in many different tones. There was the tone of warning—prepare to meet thy God, whilst time is thine. There was the tone of welcome—calling His children together and welcoming them to His house. In the future these bells would play their part in joyous thanksgivings for deliverance. They would ring for the festivals. In his own old parish church of St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol, they used to ring at five o'clock in the morning on some of the festivals, and on days when they remembered past benefactors—people who built the church and gave them a rich inheritance. The Bishop recalled instances in which people who had once said they hated the bells had learned to love them, because on sick beds they were reminded by the bells that they were being prayed for. 'You will sometimes have complaints,' said the preacher, 'from people who want to have the bells stopped—we are very familiar with that—but they are thinking of their own convenience, those who do not like to be woken up early on Sunday morning. But we know that the day will come when they won't hate the sound of the bells, but will say, "I love to hear them. I know they are praying for me there." Though the notes are the same, what a wonderful variety of sound there is from the bells. They will fit every occasion in life—the great joys, the great thanksgivings for deliverance when our hearts are too full for words; in days of great sorrow, again when our hearts are too full for words, then the bells will tell, in their ministry of sound and wonderful complexity, of the infinite mystery of the love of God. If our hearts respond to God's love there will be music in our lives, there will be no false notes, and our lives will give out a sound for a memorial to the children of God's people. So may this interesting and happy ceremony to-day,' he concluded, 'strike that note in all hearts in this parish so that more and more they will respond to the summons of God's love.'

At the conclusion of the service, a collection for the fund for the repair of the tower was taken.

The opening touch on the bells was Grandsire Caters, rung by: Miss D. E. Lidbetter (first touch of Caters) 1, W. Pickworth (vice-president of the Middlesex Association) 2, W. A. Cave (Bristol) (conductor) 3, C. T. Coles (hon. secretary, Middlesex Association) 4, J. S. Goldsmith (Woking) 5, H. W. Lidbetter (Isleworth) 6, A. W. Coles (Ringing Master, North and East District) 7, J. Bennett (Lewisham) 8, W. Pye (Master of the association) 9, A. A. Hughes (Whitechapel) 10.

Afterwards, a party numbering about 75 sat down to tea in the Church Hall, and congratulatory speeches were made. The Vicar thanked the association for what had been done towards providing the new bells, and especially Mr. Hollier for his efforts in raising the

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

NORTH BUCKS BRANCH.

The annual festival of the North Bucks Branch, which took place at Shenley on Saturday, June 6th, was well attended, about 70 members being present, representing Bletchley, Beachampton, Bradwell, Fenny Stratford, Great Brickhill, Hanslope, Loughton, Milton Keynes, Newport Pagnell, Stony Stratford, Simpson, Whaddon, Woughton and the local tower. A fully choral service was held, conducted by the Rev. W. E. Boys, Vicar of Shenley. Owing to the very unsettled state of the weather earlier in the day, tea was prepared in the reading room instead of on the Rectory lawn, but, thanks to an improvement, it was possible to adjourn to the Rectory grounds to hold the business meeting.

The secretary (Mr. W. Sear) presented a statement of accounts and explained the work of the branch during the past year. The branch was in a good financial position, having a balance in hand of £11 19s. and £10 invested.

The Rev. L. Moxon, of Newport Pagnell, was again elected chairman of the branch, and Mr. W. Sear secretary and treasurer.

The Guild Master, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, addressed the meeting, giving a brief report of the Central Council meeting held at Liverpool, and explaining fully the object of the Stedman Commemoration Fund. He expressed his appreciation of the healthy condition of the North Bucks Branch.

On the proposition of the secretary, a grant of £3 3s. was voted to the Stedman Tercentenary from the North Bucks Branch.

Both the Guild treasurer (Mr. A. J. Wright) and secretary (Mr. R. T. Hibbert) spoke on various matters relating to the Guild, and expressed their appreciation of the good work done.

Two new honorary members and six ringing members were elected. The membership for 1930 was 175 ringing members and 19 hon. members.

The Chairman proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar of Shenley for making all arrangements, and this was suitably responded to. Ringing during the day ranged from Grandsire and Stedman Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor.

CHORISTERS RING FAREWELL TO CHOIRMASTER.

At the Parish Church at Shalford, Surrey, on Sunday, June 14th, for morning service, 720 Grandsire Doubles: B. E. Martin 1, H. O. Schupke 2, H. E. Schupke 3, A. Lambkin 4, L. C. W. Hunter (conductor) 5, K. A. Girdler 6. First 720 by the treble ringer, and rung as a farewell to him on his leaving the parish. Also as a farewell to his father, Mr. E. G. Martin, who has been organist and choirmaster at Shalford Church for the past twelve years. All the above ringers have served in the choir under Mr. Martin.

On Sunday, June 21st, for morning service, 720 Grandsire Doubles: A. E. Hunter 1, W. Pullen 2, H. E. Schupke 3, H. O. Schupke 4, L. C. W. Hunter (conductor) 5, H. G. Foster 6. First 720 by the ringers of the treble and tenor. Rung as a 15th birthday compliment to the treble ringer (June 23rd).

funds. He also thanked the local ringers for their work in doing up the ringing chamber.

The President of the Middlesex Association (Rev. W. P. Cole Shene) thanked the Vicar and churchwardens of Isleworth for arranging the service, and jokingly remarked that at Twickenham they would be envious of Isleworth's two extra bells, although they were very proud of their own, and especially of one which was cast about the year 1549.

Mr. Hollier expressed thanks to the churchwardens and to Mr. W. T. Bridges, the hon. treasurer of the bell fund. He also acknowledged indebtedness to 'The Ringing World' for publishing the lists of subscribers.

Mr. C. T. Coles proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Hollier for his work in connection with the bell fund, the success of which was due to his sustained enthusiasm. Mr. Hollier, during the last six years, had had to struggle hard to get the money, and the association as a whole was greatly indebted to him (applause). Mr. Coles added that that was the first he had heard of any rivalry between Isleworth and Twickenham, and he was inclined to suggest that Twickenham might score over their neighbours by having a peal of twelve (hear, hear). No doubt, if Mr. Hughes were asked to provide the other four bells he would be able to overcome any difficulties there might be about getting them into the tower. As far as Isleworth was concerned, he had only heard the new bells from inside the tower, and they were certainly very satisfactory from the ringers' point of view. They must congratulate Mr. Hughes on the very successful job he had carried out.

After listening to some handbell ringing, the ringers returned to the tower, where in a variety of methods they enjoyed the use of this newly acquired ring of ten, which will provide a long-felt want in this part of the county. Among those present at the opening were Mr. A. A. Hughes and Mr. A. R. Macdonald, representing the founders, visiting ringers from Bristol, Brentwood, Romford, Bishopsgate, Beaconsfield, East Ham, Lewisham, Leytonstone, and many towers in the area of the Middlesex Association.

WORK BEFORE THE METHODS COMMITTEE

The discussion by the Central Council on the Methods Committee's report revealed more than one interesting fact, apart from the settlement of the vexed question of the title page of the 'Collection of Minor Methods.' That particular undertaking, so far as the Committee are concerned, is now out of the way, after many delays, and the Committee are free to turn attention to further work—not that they have been idle during the period when the Minor Collection was held up. The members of this Committee are constantly at work and, if truth be known, are, in a sense, years ahead of their report to the Council. For instance, the publication of a Collection of Surprise Methods is a task for the Council in the future. It was mentioned at Liverpool, and it was pointed out that it must be some time before the issue of a volume covering a survey of the whole ground could be ready. But let it not be imagined that such a collection is only just being visualised. Mr. Trollope has already produced thousands of Surprise Methods. A great deal would still have to be done, even with this material, before any of it could be used in a work such as is contemplated, but there it is—the basis of the future publication has been laid, quietly and unobtrusively, over a period of years in all probability, before the Council hears a sound of it. That is but one example of what is constantly going on behind the scenes. The book which is to appear next is one dealing with Triples Methods. The Rev. H. Law James said he thought it could be ready by next year's meeting. That means that already a great deal of the work must have been done. And so these men go on, using their time and their knowledge that ringers in general may profit, but their efforts would be largely unavailing if there were not some body behind them like the Council to place the results of their work in the hands of the Exercise.

The Committee are intent on doing their work exhaustively, and in as far as this means that they seek to explore the ground to its utmost limits, and so carry their labours as nearly as possible to finality, they are to be applauded. But it will be a mistake, if for the sake of an ideal the Exercise is to be robbed for years of any advantage that is to be gained from their work. Ringers are not concerned about an exhaustive treatise which may make its appearance when many of them are dead; they will not even desire to wait for years while the surface of a vast field is scratched. What they will want to see is an instalment on account. Give them, say, fifty good methods to get on with, and peal compositions which can be used, and they will be grateful. Fifty methods plainly printed in a book are worth more than fifty million in formulae to the man in the belfry—something that he can buy for a shilling now is of infinitely more use to him than something which may be obtainable for five shillings after he has gone. The Committee have produced an exhaustive book on Minor because its scope is limited; the Collection of Plain Major Methods was the result of a complete survey, for the same reason: on the Committee's own admission the Surprise Methods are almost limitless; let them not make the mistake that the Exercise desires to wait indefinitely while they carry their investigations through to the bitter end. A small section every two or three years would be of far greater value to the ordinary ringer.

ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD SOCIETY.

FEWER PEALS RUNG.

Favoured with fine weather, the annual meeting of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford, held at Lichfield on Saturday, June 20th, might be termed a success, both from numerical and social standpoints. Visitors arrived from places as far away as Preston, Northampton, Leicester, Birmingham, etc., and affiliated towers in the archdeaconry were well represented.

The Cathedral bells were raised at three o'clock, and kept going during the three-quarters of an hour allotted, another similar period being allowed in the evening. The eight at St. Mary's and six at St. Michael's, being free from restriction of time, were made good use of.

Those who attended the service in the Cathedral were well repaid, even if only for the beautiful singing. By the kind invitation of the Archdeacon, the Ven. Hugh Bright (president), tea was laid at Lloyd's Restaurant, to which more than eighty sat down, with the Archdeacon presiding.

The general meeting followed, and the president, who was in the chair, remarked how pleased he was to welcome such a gathering. An apology for being unable to stay to the tea and meeting was received from Mr. W. W. Worthington, who, however, managed to get a 'pull' during his short stay in the city.

The treasurer submitted a statement of accounts, which showed a balance of 10s. 9d. on the year's working. The committee's report was then read, and after being approved was ordered to be printed.

The report of the committee stated that meetings had been held during the past year at Lichfield, Enville, All Saints, West Bromwich, and St. Paul's, Burton-on-Trent, each of which was fairly well attended. The financial position of the society was firm, there being a balance of 10s. 9d. on the year's working. Twenty-nine new members had been admitted during the past twelve months. The number of peals rung during the year was 51, against 58 last year, those in the Grandsire method again greatly predominating, while Surprise peals were conspicuous by their absence, there having been only one rung, viz., Cambridge Surprise Minor. One performance stood out prominently, and that was the peal of Stedman Triples rung at Brewwood, unconduted. Out of a total number of 14 conductors, no less than four had each conducted their first peal, and two others had each conducted their first peal of Stedman Cinques. The peals were as follows: Doubles (two methods on handbells) 2, Grandsire Doubles 3, Grandsire Doubles (on handbells) 2, Grandsire Triples 27, Grandsire Caters 1, Stedman Triples 4, Stedman Caters 1, Stedman Cinques 3, Bob Minor 4, Bob Major 2, Kent Treble Bob Major 1, Cambridge Surprise Minor 1; total 51. The committee regretted to record the loss the society had sustained through the death of Mr. Thomas Meredith, of Barton-under-Needwood, and Mr. Alfred Fallon and Mr. Sydney Levett, both of St. Luke's company, Wolverhampton.

The election of officers included the appointment of Mr. J. Warriow, of Stafford, as Ringing Master, in the place of Mr. W. A. Cooper, retired, and Mr. W. Evans, Tipton, as auditor. The remaining officials were re-elected.

The following places have been chosen to hold meetings during the coming year: Colwich in September, Wood Green in January, Pattingham in April, and Lichfield (annual) in June. It was resolved that the society be affiliated to the Central Council of Church Bell-ringers, and loyally abide by the rules and decisions thereof.

It was proposed that the following should be added to Rule 6: 'and not more than three co-opted by the committee.' After some discussion, this was agreed to.

It was resolved that the sum of £3 3s. be subscribed to the Stedman Tercentenary Fund.

Several new members were enrolled.

A vote of thanks to the Archdeacon for his kindness in providing tea and for his presence was read with applause.

RINGERS WEDDING.

MR. ALBAN DISNEY AND MISS MARY L. CUFFLIN.

An interesting ceremony took place at the Church of St. Mary, Anstey, Leicester, on Saturday, June 20th, when two members of the Midland Counties Association were married. The bridegroom was Mr. Alban Disney, son of the Rev. R. B. Disney, Rector of Eydon, Northants, who was for many years Vicar of Belgrave, Leicester, and the bride Miss Mary Louise Cufflin, daughter of Mr. Alfred Cufflin, the well-known towerkeeper of Anstey Church. The service was fully choral, the bridegroom's father performing the ceremony, assisted by the Rector of Anstey (the Rev. John Stewart). The hymns, 'The Voice that breathed o'er Eden' and 'Lead us, Heavenly Father, lead us,' were sung. The bridesmaids were the Misses Hester and Mary Disney, sisters of the bridegroom, and the Misses Eileen and Nancy Cufflin, sister and niece respectively of the bride. The best man was Mr. Michael Disney, brother of the bridegroom.

Mr. Alban Disney was for several years secretary of the Leicester District of the M.C.A., and is a ringer and sidesman at Anstey Church. The bride is also a ringer and chorister at Anstey, and both are well known in the Leicester district, having taken part in a number of peals.

'DOWN IN ZUMMERSET.'

TEN TOWERS, TWENTY METHODS, FOUR HUNDRED MILES.

For many months past a few ringing enthusiasts of the Chester Branch of the Chester Guild had been looking forward to their annual ringing week-end. This year Bath was chosen as the venue, and on Friday, June 12th, the following set forth from Chester: Messrs. J. Morgan, H. W. Wilde, R. Sperring, J. Swindley, W. Bibby, J. W. Clarke, and A. E. Richards. Much to the regret of all, Messrs. W. Thomas and G. Jones, companions in many ringing 'outs,' were unable to accompany the party.

The trip down south, made in two cars, was all that could be desired, the weather that day being on its best behaviour. Bath was reached early in the evening, and after depositing luggage and giving some attention to the 'inner man' at the Angel in Westgate Street, the party were taken under the wing of Mr. Prescott and were soon among the ropes of the beautiful light eight at Corston. A very pleasant evening was spent with London, Cambridge and Stedman, followed by one or two 'rounds' in the open-air in front of the village hostelry.

The weather remained favourable during Saturday, and an early start was made for Bathampton, where the programme was opened with 720 Cambridge Minor followed by a course of Chester Surprise. Mention must also be made of the successful accomplishment of that 'intricate' method known as 'Grandma Doubles,' ably conducted by Mr. H. W. Wilde! No doubt this is the first time it has been rung in Somerset. The remainder of the morning was divided between Bathaston and Bathford, a 720 of Oxford Treble Bob being scored at the latter place.

After lunch, and a short visit to the world-famous baths, the ringers went to the Abbey, where they were met by the Ven. Archdeacon Boyd, who gave them a hearty welcome and personally conducted them round the famous Abbey, an act which was greatly appreciated. The belfry was reached after a hard climb, and, the party now being augmented by several of the Bath ringers, including Miss N. Williams, and also by Miss Hastie, of Guildford, the ten (tenor 35 cwt.) were soon going to Stedman and Grandsire.

Fortunately, a third car was available, and quite a 'young army' of ringers arrived at Beckington for tea and a pleasant hour in the belfry. The heavy eight at Frome provided some good ringing, and the finishing touches of the day were rung at Norton St. Philip.

Quite a large gathering sat in the lounge of the Angel that evening, and the usual ringers' stories went round as well as a little argument about 'Grandma Doubles'!

Some good ringing was enjoyed at Twerton on Sunday morning, and then farewells were taken before beginning the homeward journey, which was made via Bristol and Gloucester. In the afternoon torrential rain set in, and the last hundred miles became almost a series of 'water jumps,' flooded roads being encountered every few miles. However, a halt was made at Bridgnorth, where Stedman and Kent were rung for evening service, the local ringers kindly handing over the ropes to the visitors.

Chester was eventually reached about 9 p.m., after a most enjoyable week-end, during which ten towers were visited, twenty methods rung, four hundred miles traversed, and a host of ringing friendships made. Thanks are due to all who helped to make the outing such a success, particularly to Miss Williams, Mr. Prescott, Mr. King, and the various incumbents and ringers of the churches visited.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

NEWBURY BRANCH AT EAST ISLEY.

A very successful meeting of the Newbury Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at East Isley on Saturday, June 20th, when the following towers were represented: Bucklebury, Brightwalton, Beeton, Compton, Hampstead Norris, Newbury, Overton and East Isley. Visitors, including Mr. and Mrs. G. Williams, were present from Abingdon, Basingstoke, Coventry, Eastleigh, Chidrey, Oxford and Reading. Service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. A. Ogle), who gave a very interesting address. Mrs. East presided at the organ.

A marble peal tablet was dedicated at the conclusion of the service recording a peal of Grandsire Triples rung by East Isley ringers.

Tea was served at the Rectory by Mrs. Ogle and her helpers, when over forty sat down. The business meeting followed, over which the Rev. A. Ogle presided, in the absence of the chairman (the Rev. H. Bonsey).

The next meeting was fixed for Brightwalton on Saturday, September 5th, and a combined practice will be held at Highclere on Saturday, July 4th.

Five new members were elected, and it was proposed to send two guineas to the Stedman Memorial Fund. Hearty votes of thanks were accorded to the Rev. A. Ogle for his address and welcome, to Mrs. East for presiding at the organ, and to Mrs. Ogle and her helpers for providing the tea, which was carried with applause.

The tower was again visited, and the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyns (Master of the Guild) and several other visitors having turned up, some good touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Cambridge Surprise Major were rung.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday, June 20th, the Liverpool Branch held its usual monthly meeting at Huyton. It is several years since this old church, with its six bells, has been visited. The ravages of the death watch beetle have been the main cause. First the church roof was attacked, and then the bell frame. However, both have now been put in order, the bells having been rehung in a new iron frame last autumn.

A few of the members who had gathered early witnessed a very pretty and impressive ceremony in connection with the village rose queen celebrations, which were in full swing about 3 p.m.

The bells were set going soon after to various methods, and quite a good muster of members found their way to the tower during the afternoon. In the absence of the Vicar, the curate took the usual form of service at 5.30 p.m., and welcomed the branch to Huyton.

Twenty-two members and friends partook of tea, which was ably arranged at a nearby cafe by Mr. J. Tickle, the leader of the local band. The meeting was held in the schoolroom, with Mr. Tickle as chairman.

Three new members were elected, including Mrs. Claude Davies, the assistant branch secretary, who was elected an hon. life member. The meeting concluded with hearty votes of thanks to the Vicar and curate and to Mr. Tickle for so admirably making all the arrangements for the meeting, which all agreed was a highly successful one.

EXCURSION TO CHESTER.

The ringers of the Brookfield (Gorton) Church held their annual picnic on June 20th, the venue being Chester, where ringing had been arranged at St. Mary's-without-the-Walls and Eccleston. At the latter church 336 Stedman Triples was rung. Blessed with splendid weather, everyone had a thoroughly enjoyable day, and the ringers would like to take this opportunity of thanking Mr. H. W. Wilde and Mr. J. Swindley for arranging for them to ring at both churches. It was unanimously decided to give a donation of 10s. to the Stedman Tercentenary Fund.

WEDDING BELLS.

On Wednesday, June 10th, at Reigate Parish Church, on the occasion of the marriage of Mr. L. B. Eley and Miss M. C. Hartwell, 1,274 and 1,260 Grandsire Triples: *R. Tuffin 1, *W. Wells 2, *C. Hygate 3, A. Bashford 4, J. Foster 5, M. Northover 6, G. Hoad (conductor) 7, A. Peck and G. Stemp 8. * First quarter-peal.

WORCESTERSHIRE AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION.HANDBELLS FOR MOST PROGRESSIVE BAND.

The quarterly meeting of the Northern Branch was held at Harborne on Saturday, June 20th. There was a fairly large attendance of members, considering the fact that the tower is on the border of the district. The following towers were represented: Brierley Hill, Smethwick, King's Norton, Erdington, Bromsgrove, Kidderminster, Stourbridge, Old Hill, Oldswinford, Hagley, Clent and Harborne. The Vicar (Canon O. S. Petit) welcomed the visitors, conducted the service, and gave a splendid address on the message that the bells often conveyed to the outsider. The association form of service was used, and Mr. E. Cairns, of the local company, presided at the organ. The collection at the service for the belfry repair fund realised 10s. 9d.

Tea was served in the Vicarage, at which the Vicar presided, and at the close welcomed the association to Harborne. He placed his grounds at the disposal of all present.—Mr. C. Skidmore moved a very hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for arranging the service and for the address, for the use of the bells, and so kindly placing his gardens at the visitors' disposal.—The vote was carried with applause.

The business meeting followed, at which the Rev. E. B. Farnicombe presided. Apologies were announced from Mr. H. Sheppard and Mr. H. Mason, who is staying at Colwyn Bay after an eye operation.

It was decided to send a suggestion from one of the members that a badge or some kind of insignia should be provided for the Ringing Master, to be worn when on official duty, to the Central Committee for consideration.

Several new members were elected to the roll, including the Vicar and his colleagues.

The quarterly peal is to be attempted at Harborne, the arrangements to be in the hands of the Ringing Master.

Mr. H. G. Bird said he was very sorry he was unable to attend the Central Council meeting.

Mr. W. Short explained the rules governing the forthcoming competition for the peal of handbells, which has been kindly given for the most progressive ringers within a stated period.

Mr. W. B. Cartwright moved a very hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. E. B. Farnicombe for presiding at the meeting, also to Mr. F. H. Hawkins for his kindly help, and to Miss Hawkins who, with her lady helpers, looked after the members' wants admirably.—The Rev. E. B. Farnicombe briefly replied.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The widow and relatives of the late Mr. T. T. Goflon desire to express their grateful thanks to Mr. C. L. Routledge, and the ringers of Newcastle Cathedral, Gosforth, Sunderland, North Shields, Tynfield and Chester-le-Street for their kind expressions of sympathy in their sad bereavement.

Among the many distinguished subscribers to Mr. Ernest Morris' new book, 'History and Art of Change Ringing' is His Grace the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury. Recently the Lord Archbishop of Dublin ordered two copies, one for each of the Cathedrals in Dublin.

The many ringing friends of Mr. J. Burge will regret to learn that he has undergone an operation in the Avenue Nursing Home, Taunton, but will be pleased to know that he is making satisfactory progress.

Mr. Stephen H. Wood is to be congratulated upon the success which has attended his efforts to start a change ringing band, in connection with St. Mary's Cathedral, Glasgow. He has not waited until his young ringers could handle the heavy ten bells in the tower before giving them an insight into the art. He has been instructing them on handbells, and to-day we record a handbell peal of Bob Major, in which three of his pupils rang a pair and scored at the first attempt. It is a fine achievement for these youths.

Service ringing at Glasgow Cathedral has been confined to the top six until last Sunday, when for the first time the back eight were rung open. We are going to hear more of ringing in the West of Scotland in the future than we have in the past.

Capt. J. H. R. Freeborn, who has recently been working for the Norwich City Council, in his capacity as a chartered surveyor, has been appointed to a post in London, and his address is The Dell, Little Chalfont, Amersham.

Previous to the peal of Stedman Cinques, at Southwark, on June 20th, Mr. J. G. Nash had not struck a blow on twelve bells, and had only once before seen twelve ropes hanging in a tower.

On Sunday last Mr. W. J. Gilbert, the veteran ringer of Raunds, Northamptonshire, attained his 80th birthday. A peal of Bob Major, to celebrate the occasion, was attempted the day previous, but came to grief after nearly three hours' ringing.

A peal of Treble Bob Major, which it was reported was rung at Burslem on June 13th, was rung at Longton. At present Burslem can boast of only six bells.

Mr. T. E. Slater, of Glensford, desires to thank his friends for their congratulations on his recent peal at Glensford. Last week he rang his one thousandth 720. His father rang considerably over this number. There can be but few instances of both father and son carrying their total of Minor extents into four figures.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

The twelfth annual meeting of the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild was held at Horsell, Surrey, on Saturday, in conjunction with the Chertsey District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild. Ringing commenced about 3.30, and continued till 4.30, when a very welcome tea was enjoyed.

The ladies then held their business meeting, Miss Fisher (Aldershot) being in the chair.

The following were all re-elected: Vice-president, Mrs. Bruce; secretary, Miss H. Mills; committee, Mrs. Melville, Mrs. Hazelden, Mrs. Whittington and Miss Fisher.

It was proposed to hold the next annual meeting at Wokingham.

The Secretary reported that a letter of condolence had been sent to the vice-president on the sad death of her husband, Rev. J. C. G. Bruce.

The tower was revisited and the bells kept going till nine o'clock. The ringers afterward joined in evensong at the church, when they were welcomed by the Vicar (Canon Pares), who conducted the service and gave an address.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

A most enjoyable meeting of the Leatherhead District was held at Newdigate on Saturday week. The 'early birds' arrived in time to help ring, as the Rector said at tea, to cheer up a wedding couple as they left the church.

Ringings are done from the ground floor, and with the doors open to the road the ringers had many spectators. The church itself is of great interest to visitors, being very old, and the tower, built of massive oak timbers, is quite an unusual feature.

Service, with a 'straight from the shoulder' address, was given by the Rev. J. W. Ward, after which the ringers, numbering twenty-two, from Cobham, Dorking, Capel, Leatherhead, Newdigate and one visitor from Uckfield, Sussex, adjourned to the other Six Bells across the road for tea.

The Vicar presided, and, at the business meeting which followed, one new member, Mr. Richard Orchard, of Dorking, was elected.

The Vicar then expressed his pleasure at the Guild's visit, and wished they could come more often, and the meeting closed with a hearty vote of thanks to him for the use of the bells and for the service.

Ringings were then resumed, Oxford Treble Bob being in great demand, and the bells were finally lowered in peal just before nine o'clock.

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY. SUBSCRIPTIONS FROM FOUR CONTINENTS.

A very interesting feature of the contributions which have been received during the past week towards the Stedman Tercentenary Fund has been the donations from ringers overseas—from South Africa, from the United States, from India and from South America.

The Society of Cambridge Youths, the East Derbyshire & Nottinghamshire Association, Surrey Association (Southern Branch), and Oxford Diocesan Guild (Newbury and North Berks Branches) are among the organisations which have voted contributions since our last issue.

A further list of donations will be published next week. In the meantime bands and individuals who wish to take a share in this national memorial to one of the earliest and greatest figures in the Exercise should forward their subscriptions without delay to:—

The Editor,
'The Ringing World,'
Woking, Surrey.

Readers will see a good many details of the commemoration scheme in the report of the Central Council's proceedings on another page in this issue.

One indirect outcome of the scheme seems to have been the formation of a South American Society of Change Ringers! The following letter reached us by air mail from Maracaibo, Venezuela, and speaks for itself:—

Dear Sir,—I have just received your issue of May 15th, 1931, outlining the scheme to commemorate the tercentenary of the founder of the 'Exercise.'

It is an object that, I am sure, will receive the whole-hearted support of all societies and associations, even the 'Secretaries' Association,' who will without doubt, do 'their bit' in the gathering of funds. In spite of the 'quibbling' that has been a topic in the last issues that I have received, I have just formed myself into the 'South American Society of Change Ringers,' appointed myself secretary and treasurer, and am herewith enclosing the subscription of this 'society,' namely, one guinea.—Yours faithfully,

B. A. SWINSON.

PORTSMOUTH RINGERS GO WEST.

The ringers of St. Mary's, Portsmouth, held their annual outing on Saturday, June 20th. Leaving headquarters shortly after 8 a.m. by the trusty 'Triumph' coach, the open road was soon in evidence, and a splendid run through the New Forest by way of Cadnam and Ringwood brought the party to the delightful harbour of Poole. On arriving at the church tower, Mr. Townsend and a friend were there to meet the visitors, and a well-struck course of London Surprise Major was rung, which was followed by touches of Stedman Triples and a course of Cambridge in which the Poole men took part. Bidding farewell to this fine ring of eight, another delightful run by way of Bere Regis brought the company to Dorchester, where the Vicar of Fordington St. George welcomed the ringers. A nice-toned ring of six were soon going to Doubles and Cambridge Surprise Minor, whilst the ladies had a stroll round the delightful Vicarage grounds. Once again aboard the motor coach and the company were soon on the open Dorset road to Sherborne, which was reached about 3.30 p.m. Here they were met by Mr. E. Coward, of Mere, and a move was then made to the Abbey, where one of the local band led the way to the 'great ascent' to the ringing chamber. This noble ring of eight (tenor 47 cwt.) were soon going, and an excellent touch of Bob Major was brought round (the tenorman quite appreciating 'Joe's' effort in ringing her to a peal recently). Some touches of Stedman Triples were also rung, in which Mr. Uriah Braven, of Bristol, took part. Reluctantly, the ringers left, and another delightful run brought them to Mere, where an excellent tea was partaken of at the Angel. Afterwards, at the tower, some good touches of London, Superlative, Double Norwich, Stedman and Grandire Triples brought the ringing to a conclusion. Shortly after 8 p.m. the return journey was commenced by way of Stonehenge and Salisbury. A short halt at this latter city was made, when the last lap was commenced, and home reached shortly after midnight. The thanks of all are due to the Vicars and local ringers who helped so much to the success of the day.

IONA CATHEDRAL'S NEW BELL.

FOUR HUNDRED JOURNEY TO SACRED ISLE FOR DEDICATION SERVICE.

'We dedicate this bell to the glory and service of God.'

As these words, spoken by the Rt. Rev. Dr. J. A. Graham, of Kalimpung, Moderator of the General Assembly, died away in the Cathedral at Iona, the first chimes of the newly-gifted bell rang over the waters from the tower.

Its deeply reverberating notes stirred not only the hearts of the hundreds gathered reverently in the building, but the many who listened from ships and shore.

For many years this famous Cathedral has been without a proper bell to summon worshippers—an old ship's bell, cracked in note, having been used, as the trustees could not afford one befitting the dignity of the place.

Recently a young man, a visitor to the island in his childhood, offered to purchase a suitable bell for the Cathedral, and, yesterday, the dedicatory service was held.

Visitors from Glasgow and Edinburgh and the West of Scotland made a special trip to Iona, and assembled in the Cathedral.

They rose to sing the one hundredth Psalm, which opened the service—metley figures in tweeds, kilts, berets and hiking costume; old, young, and, in some cases, far from well; and they joined in the Lord's Prayer with the same profound feeling.

IONA CATHEDRAL.

They were gathered, as Dr. Graham said in his address, in a building which was specially sacred to them and their Scottish Church, as well as the Church of Christ throughout the world, as that of St. Columba, through whose apostolic zeal the Gospel was first proclaimed in that island and the mainland of Scotland, as well as other lands.

He then dedicated the bell to the service of God, and the congregation listened in silence to the first sound of its voice.

Rev. Neil Ross, of Kingussie, president of An Comunn Gaidhealach, gave a short address in Gaelic.

A prayer by Dr. Graham and the singing of the Doxology and the 18th Psalm completed the simple service; and, as the visitors made their way back through the rain to the ship, they heard again the triumphant chime.

400 VOYAGE TO IONA.

The bell is from the foundry of Messrs. John Taylor and Co., Loughborough, weighs 22 cwt., and sounds in the note of E flat.

Four hundred people journeyed from Glasgow for the dedication, leaving the city at the early hour of six, to make a special journey to Oban.

From that town the new MacBrayne steamer, Lochfyne, sailed to Iona by the south end of Mull, turning by Staffa.

The first part of the journey was made in excellent weather, but the landing and re-embarking at Iona were done in small boats in squalls of rain—rather like a modern version of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers.

WEDDING BELLS.

THE STEDMAN COMMEMORATION.

Mr. E. A. Young, speaking as a member of the Towers and Belfries Committee, said as far as his activities were concerned, they had been confined to giving some advice in connection with the tower at Howden Church, Yorkshire, which had been badly damaged by fire.

The President said his portion of the report would be the peg on which to hang some remarks respecting the question of the bells of St. Benet's, Cambridge. They had all seen in 'The Ringing World' the proposal that St. Benet's bells should once more be put into ringing order to commemorate the tercentenary year of Stedman, and the members would know most of the details of the scheme. What it was proposed to do was to rebang the bells as far as possible in the present frame and with the present style of hanging, so that the bells should remain as nearly as they could in Stedman's day. In order to modify the sound in the immediate neighbourhood—the tower was right in the midst of Corpus College and business premises, and it was no good doing anything to the bells unless they could be rung afterwards—it was suggested that they should drop them twelve feet in the tower. Further, as the tower was one of great national interest, being one of the few complete pre-Norman Conquest towers, the building must be safeguarded, and by dropping the bells twelve feet they would reduce the bending moment of the tower by 25 per cent.; further, by slightly modifying the position of the ropes with regard to the wheels, the strain on the tower could be further reduced. As the Council would know, the matter was raised by Mr. Goldsmith, and it had obviously caught the imagination of the ringers of the country from the way the money had been coming in so far, but it would be very desirable, from the point of view of the Standing Committee, who had discussed the matter that morning, that the appeal to the ringers of the country should be given final sanction by the Council. That could be done in two ways. One was that the Council should contribute a sum to the list of subscriptions, and he was going to suggest that they give a grant of ten guineas towards the fund. The other was that they should elect certain of their members to co-operate with the Parochial Church Council of St. Benet's in carrying out the scheme. The Parochial Church Council were the people who must get the faculty and who must be responsible. The Council would have to approach them officially as to whether they would accept the gift. If they were willing to accept it, he suggested they should appoint certain of their members to carry out the scheme with them and see the whole thing through. Proceeding, the President said another slight change which they suggested should be made in the belfry was that the ringers should ring from the ground floor instead of going up a vertical steel ladder, as they did at present, to ring on the floor above. Further, the scheme would include the provision of a tablet recording the fact that the restoration of the bells was carried out in commemoration of Fabian Stedman. With regard to the names of the committee to co-operate with the Parochial Church Council, he thought it would be wise if the Council would leave that to the Towers and Belfries Committee. The Council could trust the Committee to appoint suitable people. He proposed the adoption of the verbal reports of the members of the committee, including the recommendations that the Council make a grant of ten guineas towards the Stedman Commemoration Fund, that the Council officially offer the gift to the Parochial Church Council of St. Benet's, and that they leave it to the Towers and Belfries Committee to appoint two or three members of the Council to co-operate with the Church Council.

The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards said as one who many years ago had the privilege of ringing on these bells, he would like to second the motion.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith said, as instigator of the scheme, the proposals put forward by the president had his full approval. He was anxious that the commemoration should be a national one, and for that reason he desired to see the Council taking official part in it. He would be only too glad to continue to act as 'publicity agent' (applause).

NO ROOM FOR MORE BELLS.

Mr. W. Willson said it appeared to him that the money they were asking for ought to be sufficient to restore the bells and provide two trebles. He thought two new bells should be put in as a memorial to Stedman, otherwise 50 years hence the work of this generation would be forgotten. Why not go the 'whole hog'?

The President said his answer to that was to ask Mr. Willson if he had seen the tower; did he know the tower?

Mr. Willson said he did not know the tower.

The President said it would be impossible to put two more trebles in the tower with any sort of satisfaction. There was only just room for the existing six. The President added that the proposed scheme would involve some work to the tower, because it would be necessary to put in a concrete beam round the walls to take the beams of the dropped frame. The amount which had been mentioned was only a rough estimate. Although the frame was old, it seemed perfectly sound as far as one could see from a hurried inspection. There was practically no movement of the frame—it was not more than one-sixteenth of an inch when any of the bells were rung singly. They felt that it would be far more appropriate that the bells should be hung as far as possible as they were in Stedman's time. If they tried to put them in modern hangings they might get various authorities up against them as well as the opposition of the local authorities. It was a delightful old tower, the bells were hung in the old-fashioned way, and, personally, he should prefer to see them hung in the same manner as an historical memorial. Mr. Lewis said there was one other point. He thought they should formally appoint a treasurer of the fund.

Mr. A. Paddon Smith proposed that the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn should continue in office.—Mr. Young seconded, and the motion was carried.

The President said he thought they ought to thank Mr. Goldsmith and say how much they owed to him for having made the suggestion and having carried it as far as he had done (applause). Mr. Lewis added that when he and Mr. Goldsmith went to Cambridge to inspect the tower they took along with them the secretary of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings. The result was that they had got him entirely on their side, provided they carried out the scheme on the lines he had mentioned; in fact, Mr. Powys went so far as to say he would be prepared, if they wished it, to issue an appeal to his members for funds (hear, hear).

Mr. Young: Of course, we would rather do it ourselves.

MISSING RECORDS.

The next report should have been that of the Records Committee, but the Rev. H. Law James said he was sorry he had nothing to report. The Rev. A. T. Beeston used to do this work, but when he retired last year the records were handed to Mr. T. Hervey Beams, who, as they knew, had since died, and where the records were to-day he (the speaker) did not know. Not having the previous records to work from, it was impossible to carry them forward. Although he was put on this committee, it was not the sort of work that appealed to him in any way, and he would be glad to be released.

Mr. G. L. Grover said he must apologise and plead guilty for the non-appearance of the report, but he recommended himself to mercy with a certain amount of confidence (laughter). He thought that as the junior member of the committee his only duty would be formally to approve of the report (laughter). If, however, he could get hold of the papers which had been before the Council on previous occasions, and it would relieve Mr. James to any extent, he would be pleased to present a report covering the whole of the two years at the next meeting of the Council (applause).

The President said the hon. secretary would endeavour to discover where the records were and hand them over to the committee.

The Council then proceeded to consider the motions on the agenda.

MUFFLED RINGING.

The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards moved: 'When any peal, practice or ringers' meeting previously arranged happens through unforeseen circumstances to coincide with an occasion of public mourning, whether national or local, it should be the normal procedure to make emergency arrangements with the proper authorities for the muffling of the bells before use, care being taken, unless otherwise directed, to have the muffles removed at the conclusion of the ringing.' Nothing that he was going to say, he remarked, was intended to apply to any Sunday, festival or occasion of public rejoicing, but, apart from that, the motion would not have been necessary, or hardly necessary, if all the clergy in charge of churches with peals of bells were well instructed in the use of bells and thoroughly alive to their responsibility. But at present, unfortunately, the care and use of bells was not a subject that found a place in the curriculum of theological colleges, and he had never heard of any Bishop including questions on the subject in the examination of candidates for the ministry. That being the case, ringers must be prepared to act on their own initiative, and he had put this motion on the agenda with a view, if possible, to avoiding unfortunate and regrettable occurrences in future. On almost any Saturday in the year there were a large number of ringers' fixtures previously arranged—sometimes peals and in other cases meetings of associations and, in a few instances, perhaps, ordinary practices. They never knew when they arranged anything on a particular day what might happen. The King or the Queen might die, or the Vicar of the parish or his wife or child. In such a case ringing would not be done with open bells—of course, it would not; but there were many more instances, which people did not always think of, when it would be entirely inappropriate to ring the bells open. The greatest care should be taken that ringers did not get a bad name by ringing with open bells when the feelings of the parishioners were out of harmony with it. For example, the churchwarden of the parish, or his wife, might have died and been buried perhaps that very day. If a body of ringers went to the parish and rang the bells open for several hours—with the best of intentions—it would jar on the feelings of the parishioners, and the ringers would get a bad name. It was to meet cases like that that there should be a regular understanding that those who arranged such meetings or practices should be prepared to get the bells muffled and ring them muffled or cancel the ringing altogether. In the case of a peal, it was more or less easy to cancel it, but in the case of a general meeting they could not cancel it without putting some people to inconvenience. The best way to deal with it was to muffle the bells. That would give the ringers a good name. Mr.

Edwards went on to quote some specific instances where local or national feeling had been disregarded by the ringing of open bells, one being the ringing of open bells on the day of the burial of the victims of the R101 disaster. By ignoring public feeling on occasions such as this ringers were doing themselves great harm, for the sound of open bells at such a time only caused indignation. Again, it was not very long since the Princess Royal died. Her funeral took place on a Saturday. There, again, probably a great many bells were rung open, because meetings had been previously arranged, though in some cases muffled peals were rung, but it was most inappropriate that bells should be rung open when any member of the royal family was being interred, except if it happened to be on a festival. The Council could give guidance in this matter, and those who arranged any sort of ringing should be prepared in any case like that to arrange with the proper authorities, the Vicar or the steeplekeeper, to get the bells muffled and use them muffled, and any association should be prepared to pay a small fee, if necessary, for having the muffles put on and removed. He put in the last proviso, so that if muffles were put on, the local ringers should not find, when they began to use the bells for the church services on Sunday, that the muffles had not been removed. He thought it was advisable that the Council should give general advice to those making ringing fixtures to be prepared to act in such a way in case of emergency.

Mr. Cave seconded, and the President said he thought they would all agree with the sentiments of the motion.

The Rev. H. Law James said muffled bells on Saturday afternoon or Sunday seemed to him to be a denial of the doctrine of the Resurrection.

The Rev. W. P. Farrow said in this resolution lay a great opportunity for the Council. It was a splendid chance for them to show that they desired to do nothing against public feeling. In his own parish they would be delighted to hear that the Church Council had done such a thing, and respected the sorrow of the poor as well as of the rich. He thought this was a great opportunity to call the attention of incumbents to the work of the Central Council.

The motion was carried.

SUGGESTED REGISTER OF COMPOSITIONS.

Mr. G. R. Newton moved: 'That in the interests of the Exercise this Council takes such steps as they deem necessary for the registration of compositions.' This was a matter, he said, which should have been tackled years ago by the Council; it was something that had been constantly cropping up on the question of claiming other people's peals. After he had put his motion forward, he saw an article by Mr. Trollope in 'The Ringing World' which stated that it was impossible for a register of compositions to be established. That was a debatable point, but his first impulse was to withdraw the motion. However, he thought it was only right that the Council should have a chance to discuss the facts and express their opinion with regard to it. Mr. Newton proceeded to read an article which appeared in 'The Ringing World' in October, 1928, advocating the provision of such a register, and Mr. Trollope's article saying that it was practically impossible. In spite of what Mr. Trollope said, added Mr. Newton, he still maintained it was possible, if they got the right men, to set up this register. He realised that it would be a colossal task and would require a young and enthusiastic man to take it up. A year ago he was speaking to a certain ringer with regard to it, and asked him if, in the event of the Council deciding to set up this register, he would take part in the work, and only recently he had received a card from him saying he would be pleased to assist in any way he could if the resolution was passed by the Council. If it could be done it would be a big step towards establishing the authorship of peals, and would be of great benefit to the Exercise. The young man he had in mind was one of the cleverest young men in the Exercise, and he believed others would come forward and assist in compiling the register.

Mr. A. E. Sharman formally seconded the motion.

Rev. H. Law James said the Council had already published a collection of Plain Major peals; they had also got a collection of Treble Bob peals, but there had never been a collection of Surprise compositions published, and if only these collections could be carried on he thought there would be some good come of it.

Mr. Trollope said, as his article had been quoted, he could only say that in his opinion it was absolutely impossible to get a register of compositions to decide what should be called original. It could not be done. If a man were to start now and work for a hundred years working out the variations of different peals and filing them he would hardly have touched the thing. The only thing would be to set up a low standard. When a man knew anything about how figures ran, and understood the working of Q sets, he could sit down and write out peals as fast as he liked, and in that case there was no such thing as original composition as they understood it in the old style. He did not mean to say that there was no scope at all for composition. In the case of a composition like Mr. Law James' spliced Surprise peal, that was something a man could call his own, because he had done something no one else had done, but when they got hold of original peals they had got a certain formula which would provide them with so many variations that if they tried to file them, even in the case of Bob Major, which was the simplest of things, they would find it absolutely impossible. The only thing they would do would be to set up a low standard of composition. What they had to do was to get people to realise that the old idea of composition, with its reverse and variations as an independent thing, no longer held good. They had got to get rid of the idea of putting a name at the bottom of every composition, for it was hardly likely in these days that anyone could get a composition of the ordinary sort that was original.

A PAMPHLET ON 'VARIATIONS'

The Rev. H. S. T. Richardson said he had a great deal of sympathy with the article in 'The Ringing World' which was quoted by Mr. Newton, and with what Mr. Newton said. If they could contrive something of the sort it would be extremely useful. He thought, however, there was something in the view which Mr. Trollope expressed that it would tend to set up a low standard. What would happen, probably, was that a composition would be produced, and if the exact figures were not found in the register, that composition would be labelled original. Mr. Trollope had told them something about variations; he had suffered a great deal in the last ten or fifteen years in hunting out variations, and he could assure them that even by ordinary rule-of-thumb variations compositions were innumerable, and the labour when this register existed, if some composition was submitted, might be considerable. It might require several days before it could be said with any sort of confidence whether the composition was in the register already or whether it was not. The thing really was very difficult. He thought it was a good thing the subject had been ventilated, but he did not think the way out of it was by setting up the suggested register of compositions; he was quite sure from his own experience that it would not have the desired effect. It would not prevent compositions which were not original from being published as original compositions. What, however, he thought was emphatically worth while was that something should go down among the decisions of the Council as to the great desirability of taking all possible steps to consult the collections, to find out if a composition was original before being claimed as such. It was all to the good that attention should be drawn to the matter and a sort of warning sounded. He wondered whether it would be of value to have some little pamphlet, simply and solely on variations, produced by the Council. It would not meet the exact difficulty, but it would help to instruct ringers generally.

The President asked if Mr. Richardson thought good might be served by having a small committee to explore the subject and possibly bring out the pamphlet he had suggested, while carefully considering the pros and cons of the proposed register, and possibly bring the matter forward again. He did not think it was fair, so late in the afternoon, to turn down such a proposal as had been made, for it was quite clear the experts were not entirely agreed. They all had a great deal of sympathy with what Mr. Newton had proposed. He suggested that possibly the Peals Collection Committee would do what had been suggested.

Mr. Newton said he would agree with this course being taken.

Mr. Elwell said they ought to add Mr. Newton to the committee.

Mr. Newton: That is not quite in my province. I have in mind someone, but he is not on the Council.

The President said the committee would be only too glad to have the co-operation of someone who was not on the Council, and if it was desired they could arrange later to get him on the Council as an hon. member.

Mr. Newton said the gentleman he had in mind was Mr. C. W. Roberts, of London.

The Rev. E. S. Powell, who is a member of the committee, said he did not wish to serve on it for this purpose. He was quite sure that the attempt to form anything in the nature of a register would ultimately do distinctly more harm than good. If they could go on collecting and printing selected useful compositions in various methods they would be getting a standard and showing conductors the standard of what had been produced in the past. He was quite sure it would be a sheer waste of time and labour on the part of the committee to try and set about forming a register. Actually, when they got down to brass tacks, they would find that it could not be done.

It was mentioned that at present the Peals Collection Committee consisted of the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, Rev. E. S. Powell, Mrs. Fletcher, Messrs. J. A. Trollope, H. W. Wilde and J. W. Parker.

Mr. Trollope said it would hardly be fair for him to continue on the committee, having already committed himself to an opinion.

It was ultimately resolved that the matter be referred to a committee consisting of the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, Mr. Wilde and Mrs. Fletcher, with power to add to their number, including Mr. J. W. Parker if he would serve, it being left with them, if they could draw up the suggested pamphlet, to get on with that part of the work.

A DATE TOUCH.

DEDICATION OF NEW CHURCH AND BELLS.

RINGING OCTAVE AND CARILLON IN NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.

On Saturday, June 6th, the recently built Church of SS. James and Basil, Fenham, Newcastle, was dedicated by the Bishop of Newcastle, Dr. Bilbrough. Unfortunately, the inclement weather put a stop to the grand civic and clerical procession arranged to precede the ceremony, but the Bishop dedicated the tower, bells and clock from the outside in a downpour. The church was packed to overflowing as the new bells struck out in rounds while the Bishop and the procession of clergy, etc., moved round to the west porch to demand admittance.

The bells are a very fine, melodious peal of eight, with tenor 14½ cwt. in F, hung for ringing, with nine other smaller bells fixed to act as a carillon of seventeen bells, complete with clavier. The lightest bell weighs only 2 cwt. 14 lb., and the tenor is inscribed, 'We ring in memory of James and Basil Knott; God knows.' Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of the Whitechapel Foundry, have almost excelled themselves in producing a thoroughly tuneful peal with workmanlike frames for the ring of eight, the carillon bells having been arranged so that they are heard to the best advantage.

The bells were opened by a representative band of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association, the first touch being rung as the congregation left the church, a 504 of Stedman Triples by: C. L. Routledge 1, W. Story 2, A. Payne 3, G. W. Park 4, J. W. Parker 5, W. H. Barber 6, T. T. Gofton 7, E. E. Ferry 8. This was followed by touches of Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise, in which Messrs. A. A. Hughes (of the Whitechapel Foundry), G. S. Taylor (hon. secretary of the association), J. E. Keen and G. A. Pickering took part.

The church, bells, organ, vicarage and surrounding gardens, with a parish hall (in the process of building), are the gifts of Sir James Knott, Bart., who has built them to the memory of his two sons, James and Basil, who laid down their lives in the Great War.

On Saturday, June 20th, the bells were thrown open to the members of the association, and there was a good attendance, about forty sitting down to a sumptuous tea, at which the Vicar, the Rev. S. Redman, presided.

The president, Mr. Ernest Ferry, proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and the helpers, to which the Vicar responded, saying he thought the vote of thanks should have come from him to the association for the good work they had put in at the dedication of the church.

Mr. Routledge struck a sad note at the meeting in announcing the sudden illness of Mr. Tom Gofton, who had a seizure that morning.

The members passed a vote of condolence to Mrs. Gofton, and hoped that he would soon be restored to his usual good health. Unhappily, Mr. Gofton passed away later. Throughout the day, touches of Stedman Triples, Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise, with some Grandsire Triples as well, were rung with excellent striking. Among those present was Mr. Hessian, of Rugby.

'STEEPLECHASING' IN THREE COUNTIES.

On Saturday, June 13th, Swindon Parish Church ringers held their annual outing, and were accompanied by several friends, the party numbering twenty. The birthplace of the 'Kings' was left at 7.45 a.m., en route for Gloucester, where the iron road was forsaken for the King's highway, and here Mr. and Mrs. J. Austin joined the party. At Ross, Mr. J. Clark met the party, and the good bells of this church were soon set going. Owing to a full programme, the stops were rather brief, and Herefordshire was shortly left behind, Monmouth being the next step. Here a disappointment was in store. Owing to the Assizes being in progress, no ringing was allowed, so after a brief inspection of the interesting church a move was made towards Usk, where an excellent lunch was provided at the Three Salmons Hotel. Mr. Clift was in attendance at the church, and the excellent light peal of eight were fully employed for the time allowed. A pleasant run next brought the party to Newport, where Messrs. J. W. Jones and C. Greedy extended a welcome, and after a pull on the beautiful peal at St. Woolos', Mr. Jones acted as pilot to All Saints' Church, where only a short stay was possible before going on to Chepstow, where Mr. Simms met the party. After a welcome 'cup that cheers', St. Mary's bells were set going. All too soon the clock pointed the hour of departure, and Monmouthshire was left behind for the county where hats are lost, and it was noticed that a furtive inspection of headgear was taking place. Lydney was the last call, and here Mr. Oliver Thomas was waiting, and the bells were utilised for about half-an-hour. The final run from Lydney to Gloucester was done in excellent time, the scheduled train being boarded with about three minutes in hand. Swindon was reached at 11.25 p.m., and it was unanimously agreed that it was 'the end of a perfect day.' Thanks are accorded the gentlemen named above, whose co-operation helped to make the outing such a success, and the respective incumbents for the use of the bells. The clerk of the weather also must not be forgotten. All the arrangements in connection with the outing were made by Mr. W. B. Kynaston, while Mr. R. Townsend acted as chancellor of the exchequer. Methods rung during the day were Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Cambridge, Superlative, Double Norwich and Plain Bob Major, Stedman Caters and Cambridge Surprise Royal.

ERDINGTON RINGERS' OUTING.

The twenty-sixth annual outing of the ringers of the Erdington Parish Church, Birmingham, took place on Saturday, June 20th. The party left Erdington at 8 a.m. by motor-coach and proceeded to Evesham, where a short time was spent before going on to Hinton-on-the-Green, at which place arrangements had been made for ringing. The party was met by the Vicar, Rev. V. Blythe, who gave them a very hearty welcome to his church. The visitors then made their way to the belfry, where they found Miss Johnson (who had come in place of her father) waiting to greet them. The bells were raised in peal, and various methods were rung, including a fine course of Cambridge Surprise, in which two ladies, Miss O. M. Sanders, Erdington, and Miss R. Johnson, Hinton, took part. Proceeding via Winchcombe to Cheltenham, where a good repast was served at the Royal Hotel, the visitors had a look round the town before going to Bourton-on-the-Water, where, at the Parish Church, they were met by the local band. After ringing various methods with the home ringers, the visitors rang a course of Cambridge before leaving for Stow-on-the-Wold, where tea was partaken of at the White Hart Hotel. Leaving Stow-on-the-Wold, they passed through Chipping Campden and visited the old church, where the vergier showed them many interesting items. Stratford-on-Avon was the next calling place, before passing on to Warwick and Kenilworth en route to Erdington, which was reached at 10.30 p.m. During the tea Mr. F. V. Jephcott proposed a vote of thanks in very happy vein to the secretary for the way he had made the arrangements for the day.—This was seconded by Mr. J. W. Pemberton, and the secretary replied. The weather was favourable, and the party spent a very enjoyable time.

COMPOSERS AND THEIR WORK.

On many occasions we have advocated the setting up of a register of compositions and now, at length, the Central Council, the only body that could really shoulder such a task, has discussed the question and heard the views of some of those competent to give an opinion on the subject. Obviously there are great difficulties in the way of forming the register, and there seems little real hope of its ever being undertaken, so that the Exercise will go on with future composers claiming as original the work which has already been produced by others. It is to be regretted, but at the moment it appears to be inevitable. Let us hope that some good may come of the decision of the Council to provide a pamphlet on 'variation of peals' for the benefit of budding composers and others. It will probably be of considerable advantage, but it can never, of course, wholly prevent the reproduction of peals already obtained by authors living and dead.

The chief obstacles to the register are, first, the heavy work that would be involved in making it up, and, secondly, the labour of checking new compositions, for, in these days, the great difficulty is to find men with the necessary knowledge and time to do the work. The complications, of course, have not been minimised by the 'mass production' methods which have been applied to composition by such men as the late Mr. John Carter and Mr. Gabriel Lindoff, but we do not think that the argument that a register would tend to reduce the standard of composition need be regarded as of any weight—especially in view of the present tendency in some quarters to undermine the standards of peal ringing—neither need there be any heed paid to the suggestion that the setting up of the register would involve the working out of every possible composition in every known method. The idea was to make, as far as possible, a register of compositions which already exist and arrange them so that new compositions could be checked against them. The real stumbling block seems to us to be the latter part of the proposal, namely, the finding of a suitable method of reference arising from the multiplicity of possible variations of a peal.

Compared with even 30 years ago, composition to-day is on an entirely different footing. From being a problem involving solution in the case of each separate peal, peal production has been reduced in certain of its phases merely to mathematical formulæ, and when it reaches this stage compositions cease, as Mr. J. A. Trollope has pointed out, to be the purely personal property such as once they were regarded. That, however, does not alter the claim which composers of peals with special qualities have to call them their own, and unless every composer is prepared to waive his right to a proprietary interest in his work—there are some still living who would not be prepared to do this, and manifest injustice would be done to composers who have now gone from us—there will always be the risk of piracy, deliberate or unintentional, if some way cannot be devised of protecting the rightful interests of those who have in the past given their work to the Exercise. We hope the committee which the Central Council appointed will not abandon the question until every possible avenue of overcoming the difficulties—admittedly great—has been explored.

DEATH OF MR TOM BEADLE.

A VETERAN MIDDLESEX RINGER.

West Middlesex has lost a well-known figure in ringing circles by the death of Mr. Tom Beadle, of Isleworth, who passed away at an advanced age after a long illness. He had been actively identified with the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild from its foundation, and just lived to see the completion of the association's scheme to add two trebles at his tower.

The funeral service was conducted by the Vicar of Isleworth (Rev. P. W. Shepherd Smith), the first portion being held in the Parish Church, and the interment taking place at the cemetery. Mr. J. A. Trollope (vice-president) represented the association, and other ringers present included the following, who rang a short touch of Grandsire Triples with the bells half-muffled: Messrs. G. R. Pye (conductor), W. H. Fussell, G. Lucas, H. W. Lidbetter, A. Sheard, W. H. Stevens, G. Spencer and W. Ellingham. The mourners included ten members of the family, and at the graveside a course of Grandsire Triples was rung at the close of the service. Further half-muffled ringing took place in the evening. Among the many wreaths were tributes from the members of the South and West District of the association, the Isleworth band and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hollier.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The May meeting was held at Guiseley, and members were present from Armley, Batley, Holbeck, Rothwell, Headingley St. Chad's, Headingley St. Michael's, Burley, Calverley, Sharrow and the local company, also friends from Bradford and Rotherham.

Among other business, the Stedman Memorial was discussed, and it was decided to send a donation.

The Ringers' Directory was also discussed. A vote of thanks to the Rector of Guiseley, the churchwardens, and the local company was proposed by the president, and seconded by Mr. Morris.—Mr. F. W. Dixon replied on behalf of the local ringers.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

VII. THE ANNUAL OUTING.

Two of the most important institutions of the old London societies were the annual outing and the annual feast. Both were established by the beginning of the eighteenth century, perhaps before. The Cumberlands had a rule 'that the Master once a year shall have power to command the Society ten Miles out of London, and he that refuses to go shall pay 2s. 6d.'

The College Youths from the beginning were great travellers. As early as 1657 they visited Cambridge and rang with Fabian Stedman, who gave them some new five and six bell methods, but not (as Shipway says) his Principle. That was not composed till later. Once in Annable's time they went to Dover and rang a peal of Bob Major at St. Mary's and touches at other places. Then they went over to Calais, and on the way rang some Cinques on handbells, the first recorded change ringing outside England. At another time they attempted peals at Christ Church, Magdalen, and New Colleges in Oxford. I have elsewhere told the story of this visit.

The new company kept up the old custom. In 1759 they rang Bob Major at Ware; in 1760 Treble Bob at Wrotham; in 1761 Bob Major at Bolney; in 1762 they went to Leeds in Kent and rang a peal of Grandsire Caters. James Barham and his band were then in their prime. In 1763 the company visited St. Albans and rang Treble Bob at St. Peter's. The next year they were at Oxford, and this time they scored a peal at Magdalen College. In 1765 they rang Grandsire Caters at St. Mary's, Cambridge.

In those days means of communication between different places were very poor. The roads were bad and often dangerous. Great people travelled in their carriages with retinues of armed servants; lesser men who could afford it rode horseback. But the main roads out of London there were lonely stretches which had evil reputations, where my lord's carriage might be held up by masked and armed highwaymen, and even the humble wayfarer might meet footpads lurking in thievish places. On Hounslow Heath and Crack Skull Common and such-like places the gibbet with its dead and rotting bodies told what end such gentry sometimes came to. Our ringers were a stout lot of fellows. They travelled in company and were more than a match for any sturdy ruffians they might meet.

In 1767 the outing was to Cirencester, where they rang the first peal on the twelve bells—5,082 Grandsire Cinques. Change ringing was very popular with all classes in Cirencester from very early times. The bells cast by Rudhall are the oldest twelve in England.

At Ampney Park nearby, there lived a Mr. Blackwell, a member of the College Youths, who probably invited them down. About 1754 this gentleman had a copy made of the College Youths' name and peal book. It was in his library till 1839, when his books were sold by auction and dispersed. This book was afterwards bought from Mr. Strong, bookseller, of Bristol, for six and a half guineas. It is now in the possession of the Society of College Youths. It has been suggested that this is not a copy but the old book itself, and that when the trouble occurred in 1756 it was entrusted to Mr. Blackwell for safety. But that cannot be for at least three reasons.

Even if it had been handed to Mr. Blackwell for safety (which is extremely unlikely), he would not have kept it; the society would have wanted it back. Secondly, when it was bought the leaves were fresh, and the book evidently had not been much handled. And, thirdly, all the entries except one peal were in the handwriting of James Albion. It is true that a large part of the records of all the old societies was written by the same man, but they cover only comparatively few years. The College Youths' name book covers from 1637 to 1754.

In 1770 the outing was to the Isle of Wight, where a new ring of bells was to be opened at Carisbrooke. An account of this visit, written by Joseph Monk, one of the band, has come down to us, and it is worth reproducing.

Carisbrooke, Monday, October 1st, 1770. The Society rang a peal of 5,040 changes Bob Major in 3 hrs. and 10 minutes. Call'd by Mr. Geo. Meakins. Joseph Monk 1. Samuel Adams 2. John Cadman 3. George Meakins 4. Thomas Bennett 5. Edmund Sylvester 6. William Mills 7. Thomas Sylvester, Tenor. On Friday evening, September 28th, 1770, the above written Members of the Society of College Youths left London, arrived at Portsmouth on Saturday afternoon, and the next morning embarked for the Island on board a Vessel provided by the Gentlemen of the Isle, where (after ringing a Course of Cinques on the sea) they safely arrived and proceeded to Newport; where they were met by a hearty welcome. Monday morning, October 1st, being appointed for celebrating the opening of the new Bells, they proceeded to Carisbrooke, found the steeple decorated with Flags and Streamers and booths erected to accommodate the numerous concourse of people who had assembled from all parts of the Island to partake of the Festivities of the day. After dining with the principal Gentlemen of the Isle (under a large temporary building erected for that purpose in the garden) they again proceeded to the Steeple and rang the above peal, receiving the highest acclamations from all the hearers, spent the evening in high glee, and next day, taking leave of Gentl (from whom they recd. the utmost polite attention), went to Cowes, took the Packet boat for Southampton and (after ringing another Course of Cinques on the Sea) arrived safe at the Port. Wednesday morning set out for London and arrived the same evening at the Barley Mow in Salisbury Court, Fleet Street (the then club house). The satisfaction this Society gave to all persons was genteely acknowledged by the Gentlemen of the Wight, who expressed a strong desire to detain their visitors a longer time and by sending to Town a handsome basket of Game.

This is a good picture of the opening of a new ring of bells in the eighteenth century. What strikes us at once is the purely secular spirit of it all. Everything is done well, generously and with dignity. But there is no mention of any dedication or religious service. The concourse of people who came from all parts, came to the festivities held in the booths, not to any service in church. The clergy, as clergy, do not seem to have had any part; probably they were included in the gentlemen of the Isle.

The spirit was common everywhere in that century. In the whole history of these old London societies I have not come across a single thing to show they had any connection with the Church. The College Youths did, indeed, at one time go once a year in state to church, but that was as any of the City Companies or suchlike bodies went. They did not go as if they themselves were officers and servants of the Church.

In 1791 the society again visited Carisbrooke and rang a peal of Treble Bob. None of the first band was in the second.

In the College Youths' Book of Rules, 1894, it is stated that 'the Company have had the honour of being professionally engaged in various places.' The implication, so far as the eighteenth century is concerned, is quite wrong. These men did not hire out their services or accept engagements for payment (Note 8). They had their annual outing, and if it coincided with the opening of a new ring, so much the better. They were invited to different places and accepted hospitality and 'a present of a handsome basket of game,' as from gentlemen to gentlemen. But the offer of money was resented and re-

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD. SUMMER FESTIVAL.

The summer festival of the Guildford Diocesan Guild was held on Saturday at Farnham, and proved a great attraction. The festival is an occasion when formal business is dispensed with and the members spend their time in ringing and fraternal intercourse. Over eighty ringers from all parts of the diocese took a share in the proceedings, and spent a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon and evening. Farnham Parish Church bells were kept busily employed, while another eight at Aldershot came in for special attention, and six at Bentley were also available for any who desired to use them. The bells at Farnham had also been secured, but at the last minute ringing there had to be cancelled on account of a death in the parish.

Service was held in Farnham Church, when, in the absence, owing to illness, of the Bishop of Guildford, who had promised to preach, the Archdeacon of Surrey gave the address. The Guild's form of service was used, and was conducted by the Rev. J. E. Price, while the assistance of the organist and choirboys made the singing a feature.

The Archdeacon's address was prefaced by regret at the Bishop's absence and a message from his Lordship conveying his good wishes to the Guild, and expressing his keen interest in their work. Basing his remarks on words from the Epistle for the next day, 'Be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous,' the Archdeacon delivered a striking address, in which he appealed to churchworkers not to move in isolated departments in Church life, whether in the parish or diocese, but to mingle with other sections of workers. Churchworkers were too prone to keep their interests in one groove, with the result that there was a loss of effectiveness; churchmen were inclined sometimes to think too much of their differences and to waste their time in criticism of one another, whereas by unity of action and purpose they would open up a new and splendid prospect of work in the cause for which the Church was founded.

After tea at the Church Institute, thanks were expressed to all who had helped to make the day's proceedings enjoyable—the Archdeacon, the Rev. J. E. Price (who acted for the Rector, who was away on holiday), the organist, the incumbents of the churches who had put the bells at the disposal of the members, the Farnham ringers, and particularly Mr. R. Hasted, who had made the successful local arrangements.

The greetings of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild, from which the Guildford Guild sprang, were received and heartily reciprocated, but a note of sadness was touched when the members were asked to stand in silence for a few moments as a mark of respect to the late Rev. J. C. G. Bruce, a life member who had recently died.

Sympathy with the Lord Bishop in his illness, and the hope for his speedy and complete recovery, was expressed.

Afterwards a large party visited the grounds of Farnham Castle, where, until the separation of the diocese, the Bishops of Winchester had resided for hundreds of years. The interesting features of the building were pointed out by Capt. Stroud, and the grounds, which include a lovely rose garden on top of the ruins of the old keep, were much admired.

Altogether it was a pleasant and happy reunion.

LAVENHAM RINGING ANNIVERSARY.

On Saturday, June 20th, the 120th ringing anniversary was held at SS. Peter and Paul's Church, Lavenham. Many touches were rung in the following methods: Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Double Norwich, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Superlative. Upwards of thirty ringers were present, including one of the gentler sex in Miss Waldoek, of Maldon, Essex. Other places represented were Bury St. Edmunds, Sudbury, Long Melford, Colchester, Hesselton, Farnham, St. Martin's, Little Walsingham, Holbrook, Goldhanger, and the local band.

fused even if it came from so great a person as an Archbishop. This sort of thing would have been quite unintelligible to the College Youths of a century later.

The present official handbook mentions a visit to Sonning in 1783, where a silver cup was won in competition, and goes on to suggest that this 'professionalism' may have led to the decay of the next century. It did not. The decline thirty or forty years later was due to entirely different causes and persons. And the last word to apply to these men is 'professional.' We have now definite views about the suitability of ringing competitions, but people in the eighteenth century thought otherwise. The College Youths were as free to compete for a cup without any loss of dignity as any amateur sportsman would be to-day. It was precisely the same thing as if the Corinthians won the Association football cup.

NOTE 8.—In the records of the Hertford College Youths there is an account of a member being expelled the society because he had rung for money.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association was held at Bath on Saturday, when the bells at Twerton, Weston, St. Mary's and the Abbey were available. The association's form of service was held at St. Mary's, and conducted by the Rev. Preb. G. Ruck, assisted by the Rev. Preb. D. M. Ross. Fifty members from twenty-three towers were present at the church. The address, by the Rev. Preb. G. Ruck struck a new note in ringers' addresses, and was highly appreciated by those who heard it.

The subsequent business meeting was held in St. Mary's Church House, with the Master, the Rev. E. S. C. Lock, in the chair. The attendance of seventy or so at this meeting was somewhat low, due, no doubt, to the bad weather.

Fourteen new members were elected, and the election of the officials of the association then took place, the Master, the hon. secretary and treasurer and the hon. auditor (Mr. D. G. Taylor) being re-elected, while on the proposition of Mr. Hunt, seconded by Mr. Merson, the hon. secretary was voted the usual honorarium.

Mr. J. Hunt gave his report of the meeting of the Central Council at Liverpool in his usual lucid and breezy manner.

The Stedman Tercentenary Fund next received consideration. A proposal to vote five guineas to this cause was followed by amendments urging three and two guineas respectively. The original proposition being withdrawn, voting on the two amendments resulted in the latter being carried.

Some correspondence from an insurance company concerning insurance for ringers was read and discussed, but no decision was reached, it being left to individual companies to avail themselves, or otherwise, of the proposal.

It was decided to hold the quarterly meetings at Dunster, Ditchet and Bridgwater respectively. Some doubts being expressed of the stability of Ditchet tower at the moment, it was resolved to go to Wrington if the state of Ditchet tower be found to preclude the possibility of ringing there.

Votes of thanks were expressed to the various incumbents who had allowed the use of their bells, to Preb. Ruck for conducting the service, and to the choir. The meeting then adjourned, dispersing to the various towers, where methods up to Cambridge Major were rung.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

'SPLICED' SURPRISE AT DISTRICT MEETINGS.

The North and East District midsummer meeting was held at Stanmore on Saturday last, and was, as usual, well attended. Punctually at 3 p.m. ringing commenced, and under the leadership of the District Master (Mr. A. W. Coles) touches to suit all tastes were rung.

The Rector (Rev. W. A. Hewitt) welcomed the members in the fine old Parish Church, where a bright service was enjoyed. After tea, at the business meeting, a vote of condolence with the relatives of the late Mr. Tom Beadle, of Isleworth, and of Mr. T. T. Goffon, of Whitley Bay, was passed in silence. In moving the vote, the hon. secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles) referred to the early days of the association, when Mr. Tom Beadle was one of those mainly instrumental in forming the society. For that he was entitled to their gratitude. Of Mr. Goffon, the hon. secretary said he was a man whom everybody respected, and he was a real loss to the Exercise.

After four new members had been elected, the hon. secretary gave a report of the proceedings at the Central Council meeting at Liverpool.

Hendon was chosen for the next meeting on August 8th. A vote of thanks to the Rector and to Mr. G. Hughes was carried with acclamation, to which the latter replied.

A number of Central Council publications were on sale, and several members took the opportunity of purchasing copies of books in which they were interested.

Subsequently further ringing took place, and included touches of Spliced Surprise Major, but it was a matter for regret that an attempt for a touch in six different methods was lost near the end through a misunderstanding as to the method being rung. Spliced Surprise is becoming quite a feature at these meetings, but we fancy that six methods would have constituted a record.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A well-attended meeting of the Ely Archdeaconry was held at Barrington on Saturday, when members were present from Barley, Cambridge, Cherryhinton, Chrishall, Elmdon, Fulbourne, Great Staughton, Melbourn, Newton, Sawston, Stapleford, Stetchworth and Trumpington.

The Rev. G. E. Childs, of Foxton, kindly presided at the tea table in the Vicar's absence.

It was a very great pleasure to elect Mr. G. R. Pye a life member of the association.

Sawston was chosen for the next by-meeting on August 15th.

Various methods from Bob Minor to Spliced York and Durham Surprise were rung, and during the evening the five-bell tower of Foxton was visited.

HALIFAX ASSOCIATION'S CONTEST.

BATLEY'S SUCCESS.

The Halifax and District Association held their annual meeting, and a six bell contest, at Elland Church on Saturday. Eight sets had entered for the competition, and the draw resulted in ringing taking place in the following order: 1 Holmfirth (Oxford), 2 Friezland (Oxford), 3 Low Moor (Oxford), 4 Meltham (Oxford), 5 Halifax (Kent), 6 Batley (Oxford), 7 Stainland (Oxford), 8 Shelley (Oxford).

It was decided at the committee meeting to ring 600 changes, any method, with three leads, or one plain course, allowed for practice.

A large number of ringers were present, and those waiting passed a pleasant time in the Parochial Hall, which is one of the best in the country. A party of about 100 sat down to an excellent tea, which was much enjoyed.

Ringling ceased about nine o'clock, and the meeting was held immediately after, Mr. E. Earnshaw (Meltham) presiding. The balance sheet was read and unanimously adopted. Mr. Senior (Batley) proposed, and Mr. Marsden (Batley) seconded, that the president, Mr. E. Earnshaw (Meltham), Mr. F. Salmons (Halifax), treasurer, with Mr. L. Hargreaves (Halifax), secretary, be re-elected, and this was carried.

Mr. S. Gibson (Batley) proposed, and Mr. E. Earnshaw (Meltham) seconded, a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector and churchwardens for use of the bells, also to the ladies and the Elland ringers for making the contest a success.—Rev. M. A. Maddocks (Rector) in reply, said he was pleased to welcome the ringers to Elland, and hoped they would pay another visit in the near future. The auditors, Messrs. E. Whitely (Meltham) and Mr. Walter Ainley (Elland), were accorded a vote of thanks on the motion of Mr. F. Salmons (Halifax), seconded by Mr. Bentley (Elland).

Friezland: 290 faults, 30 penalty; total 320.
Low Moor: 401 faults, 20 penalty; total 421.
Meltham: 182 faults, 10 penalty; total 192.
Halifax: Rung out.
Batley: 128 faults; total 128.
Stainland: 162 faults; total 162.
Shelley: 169 faults; total 169.

Batley were therefore declared winners of the cup.

The Rector, in presenting the cup to Mr. S. Gibson (conductor), congratulated them on their ringing. He was very proud of their young ringers at Elland for the way they had stuck together. He remembered an appeal being made for £300, and he was told three weeks after the appeal was made that it was oversubscribed. In his opinion he thought it went to show how much the ringing was appreciated in Elland. He hoped the ringers who had not been successful that day would try harder and fare better another time.—Mr. Gibson suitably replied.

A vote of thanks was accorded retiring officers, and thanks to the judges and chairman closed a very enjoyable meeting.

CORBY BELLS RESTORED.

REDEDICATION OF A NORTANT'S RING.

After a silence of 33 years, the bells of Corby, near Kettering, are now in a condition that they can be rung. The rededication took place on Tuesday, June 30th, by the Right Rev. C. M. Blagden, the Lord Bishop of Peterborough, who also preached a forceful sermon to a large congregation. The clergy present included Rev. Canon Rubie (Cottingham), Rev. R. C. Thurstfield, J.P. (Cranford), president of the Kettering Branch of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild, Rev. A. Westcott (Deene) and the Rev. A. B. Westcott, the Rector of Corby.

Immediately following the dedication, the bells were rung to a well-struck course of Minor, and after the service to a 240 Kent Treble Bob by the following members of the Peterborough Guild: R. G. Black (general secretary) 1, B. P. Morris 2, R. F. Turner 3, C. W. Bird 4, H. Baxter (Kettering Branch secretary) 5, F. Wilford (Master) 6.

The bells were open to visiting ringers after the service, and some various methods of Minor and Doubles were rung.

The bells, an old ring of four by Henry Penn, of Peterborough, cast in 1722, were returned, and two new ones added in memory of Mr. and Mrs. James Pain, of Corby, by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, who have hung the six in new fittings in a new two-tier frame. The weights are:—

The bells 'go' splendidly and run very steadily for so light a ring, being quite easy to handle. The bell foundries were represented at the dedication by Mr. F. C. W. Stevenson.

DEATH OF MR. PERCY O. LAFLIN.

We deeply regret to announce the death of Mr. Percy O. Laflin, of King's Norton, who passed away in the early hours of Monday morning. He had been in indifferent health for a considerable period.

Mr. Laflin was an accomplished ringer on both tower and hand-bells. An excellent striker himself, he had little patience with the indifferent ringer, and he was an outspoken critic. He was a tower of strength to the King's Norton band, and a valued member of St. Martin's Guild, with whom he rang a large number of twelve-bell peals.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.EASTERN DIVISION.

A quarterly meeting of the Eastern Division was held at Alfriston on Saturday, July 4th, members attending from Brighton (St. Nicholas' and the Church of the Good Shepherd), Eastbourne (St. Saviour's), Heathfield, Hellingly, Horsmonden, Southover, Lewes, Mayfield, St. Lawrence Jewry, St. Leonard's (Christ Church), Seaford, Uckfield, together with members of the Alfriston band. Ringing commenced at three o'clock, and the bells were kept going merrily during the afternoon and evening in all methods up to Cambridge Minor.

At the service the Vicar, the Rev. Marchant-Pearson, gave a most interesting address. He also presided at the tea which followed, about thirty members and friends being present.

At the conclusion of the tea, Mr. A. A. Hughes proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, for his address at the service, and also for kindly presiding at the tea. This was supported by Mr. A. R. Miles.

The Vicar, in responding, stated that he had been delighted to welcome the members of the association to Alfriston, and hoped that another meeting might be arranged at no distant date.

At the business meeting which followed, Mr. W. D. Smith occupied the chair. After reading the minutes of the last meeting, the divisional secretary announced that he had received an appeal from the editor of 'The Ringing World' regarding the Stedman Tercentenary Fund. He (the local secretary) had sent out to the affiliated towers in the division copies of that appeal, and he hoped that all members would do their utmost to support the fund.

There being no further business to transact, the meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the chairman.

Members then returned to the tower, keeping the bells going until well after 8 p.m.

THE LADIES' GUILD.NORTHERN DISTRICT OFFICERS.

The annual meeting of the district was held at Handsworth, Sheffield, when ringers attended from Leeds, Norton, Nottingham, Thurgroft, Rotherham, Freeton, Grimsby, and the local band.

A choral service was conducted by the Rev. W. A. Baker, Mrs. Baker presiding at the organ. Tea was served in the schoolroom prepared by members and friends.

Miss Thompson, of Nottingham, proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. and Mrs. Baker, to the ladies for preparing tea, and to all who had helped with the arrangements for the meeting.

The gentlemen then adjourned to the belfry, while the ladies held their business meeting, Mrs. Baker, an hon. member, being voted to the chair. The officers for the year were elected as follows: Vice-president, Mrs. Ryder (Rotherham); hon. secretary, Miss Cawthorne (Handsworth); committee, Mrs. Wolstencroft (Ashton-under-Lyne), Miss G. Burchnall (Sutton-on-Trent), Mrs. Scott (Thurgroft), and Miss Leach (Bramley, Leeds); Central Committee, Miss Lewis (Nuneaton), and Miss Thompson (Nottingham).

The following new ringing members were elected: Miss L. Kelly and Miss J. Flack, of Handsworth, Miss E. Coad, of Rotherham, Miss Harrison and Miss Smith, of Barton-in-Fabis. Mrs. H. Oldfield, of Darnell, was elected an hon. non-ringing member.

The meetings proposed for the ensuing year are: September at Bramley, Leeds, December at Eastwood, Rotherham, March in Manchester district, and the annual at Nottingham.

The meeting was closed with a vote of thanks to Mrs. Baker and the district secretary.

During the afternoon and evening there was ringing in various methods, including Plain Bob, Kent, Spliced Treble Bob Major, Grandsire and Stedman Triples.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

A very successful meeting of the Peak District was held at Hathersage on Saturday, June 20th, about thirty ringers being present from Baslow, Bakewell, Castleton, Darley Dale, Ecclesfield, Handsworth, Manchester and Sheffield. The very old and interesting, but not too easy-going peal of six bells, were kept going in the various standard methods during the afternoon and evening.

A substantial tea was provided free, through the kindness of Mr. H. Newbery, and a short business meeting followed. Apologies for absence were received from the Rev. W. P. Wright and from the secretary, who was laid up with tonsillitis.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Castleton on July 18th.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

One hundred and eighty years ago last Tuesday Holt's famous 'Original' peal of Grandsire Triples was rung for the first time. Holt himself called it from manuscript at St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, and it was rung by the Union Scholars.

The performance is recorded on a board in the belfry as follows: 'Sunday, July 7th, 1751. The Society of Union Scholars rang in this steeple with two singles the first true and complete peal of 5,040 Grandsire Triples, which peal was performed in 3 hours and 15 minutes by the following persons: James Davis treble, James Albion 2, Jacob Hall 3, Thomas Jackson 4, James Vickers 5, James Newby 6, John Lloyd 7, Geo. Henry and Ed. Davis tenor. The peal was composed and call'd by John Holt, Captain Nicholas Spencer and Mr. William Goff, Church Wardens.'

This historic peal board has recently been thoroughly cleaned and revarnished, and is in perfect condition. Visitors are invited to inspect it, and will be welcome this evening (Friday) at 7.30, and on Sunday at 5.30 p.m., when there will be ringing at St. Margaret's.

Trowell, where the Nottingham District of the Midland Counties Association will hold a meeting to-morrow, and where the tenor used to be half a note flat, is the town where Mr. E. H. Lewis (president of the Central Council) and Mr. E. C. Gobey (secretary of the Nottingham District) spent their early ringing days. The bells have now been recast by Taylors.

SPICED SURPRISE MAJOR.

A PEAL RUNG IN TWELVE METHODS.

On December 26th last a peal of Spiced Surprise Major in seven to sixteen methods was published in 'The Ringing World' by Mr. A. J. Pitman, of Port Talbot. Twelve of these methods have now been rung in one peal by members of the Middlesex County Association by the same band that had previously rung peals in three, five, six, ten and eleven methods.

The latest achievement of this company entailed a considerable number of meetings, and several attempts failed before success was attained. Only a week previously, at St. Giles-in-the-Fields, an attempt 'went west' within seven leads from rounds after 2 hours 50 minutes' ringing.

The composition is appended, and a brief examination of the figures will show that whilst there are 160 leads in the peal, the changes of method are made so frequently that on only 20 occasions are two leads in any one method rung consecutively. Thus there are actually 139 changes of method in the peal! As the composition will admit of 16 methods being rung, there is ample opportunity yet for an ambitious band to make more ringing history.

It is necessary to add a word of appreciation of the kindness of the ringers at Willesden and Ealing (Christ Church) for postponing practices to enable several of the attempts to be made, and to thank Mr. R. E. Geare (St. Giles-in-the-Fields) and Mr. J. H. Hunnisett (Ealing St. Mary's) for arranging the last two attempts at those churches.

Strangely enough, this is the first time that a Surprise peal has been rung at St. Mary's, Ealing.

THE RINGERS' DIRECTORY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The committee of the Bristol United Ringing Guilds are very grateful to you for your appealing article in 'The Ringing World' of June 26th. More than 100 new subscribers have come forward since your leader appeared.

The committee are also very grateful to the new subscribers and the renewal subscribers. There are, however, former subscribers who have not responded to date, and the committee make this final appeal to them now to send in as soon as possible before July 20th, 1931, upon which date the list is closing.

The Empire section by Mr. Fussell should be an interesting feature, and the Sunday service touches by Mr. Gabriel Lindoff are alone worth the shilling.—Yours faithfully,

EDGAR GUISE

(on behalf of the committee).

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY.

FOURTH LIST OF SUBSCRIPTIONS.

FUND NOW OVER £420.

We print below the fourth list of contributions to the Stedman Tercentenary Fund, which was opened by 'The Ringing World' to restore the bells of St. Bene't's Church, Cambridge, to commemorate the three hundredth anniversary of the birth of Fabian Stedman.

The marvellous response that has been made will enable the work that is necessary in this historic tower—historic in itself, for it has stood nearly a thousand years, and historic in its association with ringing—to be efficiently and completely carried out. The amount originally asked for was an estimated sum to put the bells in ringing order and to alter their position in the tower so that the building might be further safeguarded and the bells rung in future with the least disturbance to the public living round the church, and especially to the activities of Corpus Christi College, which it adjoins.

It is hoped that the amount which will eventually be raised will enable certain other details to be carried out, so that the restoration may be full and thorough. Therefore, although the sum originally asked for has already been oversubscribed, and this in less than two months, the fund is still open for further contributions in order that the scheme may be carried out in a manner fully worthy of the great Exercise in which Stedman has been so notable a figure.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, is hon. treasurer of the fund, and donations should be sent to

The Editor,
'The Ringing World,'
Woking, Surrey.

There is a special interest in the donation given by the Ancient Society of College Youths, for it was to this society that Stedman dedicated both 'Tintinnologia' in 1668, and 'Campanologia' in 1677. He was elected a member of the society in 1664, was appointed steward in 1677 and became Master in 1682. It was at St. Bene't's Church, Cambridge, too, that, according to tradition, certain visiting members of the College Youths first became acquainted with Stedman's famous method.

Other associations who have now voted contributions to the fund are the Yorkshire Association, St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, whose members for 160 years have been among the greatest exponents in the ringing of Stedman's method, Midland Counties Association, Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, East Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire Association, the Society of Cambridge Youths, North Notts Association, North Staffs and District Association, the Worcestershire Association, and last, but by no means least, the Ladies' Guild.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The June meeting was held at Liversedge. Ringing took place during the afternoon and evening with a break for the business meeting, which was held in the tower. The president (Mr. W. H. Senior) was in the chair, and four new members were elected, viz., Miss V. Holmes (unattached), Messrs. H. Dransfield, of Earlsheaton, T. Smith, of Queensbury, and G. Jones, of Liversedge. Numerous learners were given an opportunity to try courses of whatever method they had learned.

The next meeting is due to be held at Calverley on July 25th.

COVERING BELLS IN PEALS.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith moved: 'That this Council deprecates the ringing of peals of Minor with a covering bell or bells, and peals of Doubles with more than one covering bell, and recommends guilds and associations to discourage this practice.' He said that to ring Minor with covering bells was against the canons of the art. It was never intended that even-bell methods should be rung with covers. With regard to peals of Doubles which were sometimes rung with three covering bells, it could not be said, he claimed, that the ringers of the two extra covers had rung a peal; the best that could be said for their performance was that they had rung rounds 5,040 times. Peal ringing had reached such a standard in these days that the Council should now definitely discourage such performances as were included in this motion, and he hoped the associations would in the same way discourage their members from ringing peals of the kind referred to.—Mr. A. H. Pulling seconded.

The President, in putting the motion, said another reason against ringing peals with two or three covers was the effect on the nerves of those outside who had to listen to the bells. It was one of the duties of the Council to see that ringing was made such as would be appreciated by the parishioners.

The proposition was carried unanimously.

RINGING TERMS.

The Rev. H. Drake next moved: "(a) That the words, Reverse, Double, Little or Bob be not used as names of methods, and (b) that the terms 'shunt' and 'hunting backwards' are not approved." Dealing first with (a), he said the terms should be applied only to classes of methods and not to the methods themselves. The question had already been discussed in correspondence that appeared some time ago over a method that was called 'Double Little Bob' by some, and others wanted to call it 'Erith Little Bob.' His point was Erith Little Bob was a name, but Double Little Bob was not. The terms described classes and ought not to be used as names of methods. He was not asking the Council to decide whether such methods were double or little; the point was whether they should use Double or Little as a name of a method. He contended that they should not call methods by these particular words, but use them as descriptions and not as names.

Mr. C. Mee formally seconded the motion.

The Rev. H. Law James asked Mr. Drake to tell them who used these categories as names.

Mr. Trollope said when they talked about Bob Major, that was what they called a method; it was not the name of it. If they looked at it from that point of view they would see it was quite all right.

The Rev. H. Drake said in Suffolk they always called it 'Plain'; they did not call it Bob at all. Plain was the name of it, and they said, 'Go, Plain,' not 'Go, Bob.' They ought to call the method 'Plain,' and if they had the reverse of it they should call it 'Reverse Plain' and not 'Reverse Bob' ('Oh' and laughter). His motion did not refer to the past; it referred to the future.

The Rev. H. Law James said Mr. Drake had raised another point, that what was commonly called 'Bob' was 'Plain.' 'Plain' was a category, and if they went back to the edition of 'Campanalogia' in 1677 they would find it had got a name, and the name was 'Grandsire Bob.' In practice the name had been dropped. Grandsire Doubles was Doubles with two plain hunts, and Grandsire Bob was Bob Minor; and that was its name.

The Rev. H. Drake said it did not matter whether they called it Plain or Grandsire; neither of these words occurred in his resolution.

Mr. Pulling said some years ago Mr. Lindoff published a method which he called Dublin; Mr. Bankes James, shortly after, published the double method, which he called Double Dublin. Mr. Goldsmith turned the original method round and called it Reverse Dublin. Could Mr. Drake suggest any better way of describing these methods?

Mr. Drake said the descriptions were all right. The terms should be used as descriptions of classes. If they had Dublin and reversed it they did not call it 'Reverse' without the Dublin (laughter).

A member said that, in this year of Stedman's tercentenary, when the Council had just voted ten guineas to the Tercentenary Fund, for a representative of the eastern counties—Stedman's own district—to come there and try to abolish the terms that Stedman himself had used, was indeed very, very sad (laughter).

The motion, on being put, was lost by an overwhelming majority.

'SHUNT' NOT SHUNTED.

The Rev. H. Drake then moved the second part of his motion. 'Shunt,' he said, was a word which they used in the wrong place. It did not mean what it was intended to imply. The right word to use was 'move.' With regard to 'hunting backwards,' he did not know what it meant, and no one had been able to tell him. It had been said that a quick six in Stedman was hunting forward, and a slow six was hunting backward, but a slow six was not hunting, and it was not backwards. Of the sixes, one was even work and the other odd work.

Mr. Mee was the formal seconder of this motion.

The Rev. H. Law James said he believed he was responsible for the use of both these terms.

Mr. T. Faulkner: I shouldn't be surprised (laughter).

Mr. James said the word 'shunt' was a word adopted to deal with three-bell Q sets, simply because Thompson used it in his pamphlet on Grandsire Triples. That was where it came from. Thompson used it, and he (Mr. James) considered he was justified in using the same term to express the same thing. With regard to hunting backwards, it was quite right to say that a slow six was hunting backwards. In Minor they normally started 214365, but in London Surprise they began 213546; 21 were hunting forward, 3456 were hunting backwards; then (he treble dodged, and the whole six bells were hunting backwards. A dodge was nothing on earth but hunting backwards, and he did not know any other way of expressing it.

Mr. Trollope said the term hunting backwards was a proper use of English language. They all knew what hunting was as applied to ringing, and hunting backwards was—well, simply hunting backwards (laughter). If they could get a handbell band after that meeting to ring a course of Bob Major backwards, they would have plenty of fun, and they would know what hunting backwards was. They could not stop people using the English language.

Mr. Drake said he had no objection to using the English language if it was used so that it could be understood.

Mr. Trollope: That is the fault of the people, not the fault of the language.

The motion was lost by a large majority.

NEXT YEAR'S MEETING.

The Council was next called upon to consider the place of next year's meeting, which is due to be held in the South. The President said the Standing Committee recommended Wells.

Mr. J. Hunt said, on behalf of the Bath and Wells Association, he was requested to invite the Council to Bath. They would have liked the Council to visit Wells, but from inquiries they had made they found it was doubtful if there would be accommodation there for all the members. The Theological College would be in session, and at Whitsun there were always a large number of visiting friends of the students, and all the accommodation in the city was full up. The association would give the Council a hearty welcome to Bath. They asked the Council to come there eight or nine years ago, and hoped they would visit there next year. The Council had never paid a visit to Somerset, and the association would be very pleased to see them there, and would do everything they could to make the visit a happy one.

Mr. J. Parker said he did not see how they could go to Bath and call it South. He proposed they visit Portsmouth.

The Rev. E. S. Powell said the Council had several times been invited to visit Plymouth, and once actually decided to go there, but the war caused the meeting to be cancelled. Plymouth was South. Bath or Wells was distinctly west (laughter). The Devon Guild would welcome them very cordially if they would go to Plymouth and fulfil this long-standing promise.

Mr. Coles seconded, and said one good reason for visiting Plymouth was that it was within reach of that most beautiful Abbey at Buckfastleigh, which would be a source of interest to everyone, and he did not think there would be any great difficulty in the Council obtaining permission to ring on the peal of twelve bells at that place.

The Rev. H. Law James pointed out that while they had never yet visited the Bath and Wells Association, they had visited the Devon ringers, for one meeting had been held at Exeter.

Mr. C. H. Jennings suggested that the Council should go to Bournemouth for the next meeting, and Mr. Parker withdrew Portsmouth in favour of this.

On being put to the vote, Plymouth was declared selected, the voting being Plymouth 35, Bath 31, and Bournemouth 6.

On the item of 'other business,' Mr. T. Faulkner suggested that in future the members of the Council should be individually summoned to the meetings by notice, and that a copy of the agenda should be sent out at least 10 days before the meeting. He moved that this be done.

Mr. Young pointed out that the agenda was published beforehand in 'The Ringing World.'

Mr. C. H. Kippin seconded Mr. Faulkner's proposal.

Alderman Pritchett, as an old member of the Council, pointed out that a similar motion had been brought forward at least twice in his own recollection. There were several difficulties in the way, one of which was in keeping a correct register of the names and addresses of the members, in whose personnel there were constant changes. The labour involved was another objection. There was another difficulty that the whole of the business of the Council was not always completely ascertained a month before the meeting. He did not see why the practice of publishing the notice and agenda in 'The Ringing World' should not continue. It was good for ringers generally to know what was coming before the Council, and this would be impossible unless the agenda was published in 'The Ringing World.'

Mr. James George said everything should be done through 'The Ringing World.' It was only right that the ringing public should know what was going on.

Mr. Faulkner's motion was lost.

WHEN RIGHTS ARE THREATENED.

The Rev. F. L. Edwards said the Literature Committee was charged with the defence of ringers' rights, and he asked, wherever they were threatened and it was thought the services of the committee could be of use, that those concerned should at once communicate with the secretary of the Council or one of the members of the committee. In one case which occurred last year they were able to do useful work.

VOTES OF THANKS.

The President proposed a vote of thanks to the local committee of the Lancashire Association, who had made the most successful arrangements for the meeting, and in that connection, he said, they specially thanked Canon Elsee (the president of the association), Mr. G. R. Newton, and Mr. Claude Davies, who had done so much of

ST. NICHOLAS' CHURCH, LIVERPOOL.

The bells of St. Nicholas' Church offered a great attraction to many of the ringers who visited Liverpool for the Central Council meeting, and, in addition to the peal rung on them on Monday, they were well utilised on Tuesday evening.

St. Nicholas' bells have an interesting history. In 1552 there was one large bell, but in 1625 it was decided 'that all the fines for this year shall be collected and payed to the towne for and towards a ringe of bells.' The Corporation bought four bells that had been confiscated at Drogheda, and had them recast, but evidently they were not a very musical ring, for they were recast again in 1636 by Thomas Hancock, of Walsall. In 1649 Scott, of Wigan, provided two more trebles, and the whole of them were recast with additional metal by Rudhall, of Gloucester, in 1724. On February 11th, 1810, occurred the calamity when the spire fell and many people in the church were killed, as well as one man in the tower, who, it is said, returned for his watch after the first ominous sign of disaster which had caused the ringers to bolt 'like rabbits from a dangerous hole.'

The first stone of the present tower was laid on September 25th, 1811, and a ring of twelve bells ordered from W. Dobson, of Downham, Norfolk, and these were rung on June 4th, 1814, although the steeple was not completed until August 4th, 1815. The 2nd, 3rd, 6th and 8th are survivals of the former ring of 1724, of which the 2nd was the treble and the 8th the tenor. The present tenor was recast in 1911 by Warner, and weighs 39 cwt. 3 qr. 10 lb.

the detailed work, and done it exceedingly well (applause). Mr. Lewis also proposed that a formal letter of thanks be sent to the Lord Mayor for his kindness in placing at their disposal the Council Chamber, which, he thought, was one of the best rooms in which they had ever met. The Council were not only grateful to the Lord Mayor for this kindness, but also for meeting them that morning and for his hospitality which they were to enjoy (applause). They also had to thank the Bishop for his presence and his words of en-

THE LATE MR. TOM GOFTON.
A VERSATILE AND MASTERLY RINGER.

[CONTRIBUTED.]

We laid the remains of our dear old friend to rest on Tuesday, June 23rd, and a sad procession it was. Besides the relatives and friends who followed on foot and in coaches to the church, his oldest ringing companions walked on each side of the hearse—Mr. Ernest Ferry (president of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association), Mr. George Taylor (hon. secretary), Mr. J. W. Parker (treasurer), Mr. J. E. Keen (vice-president), Mr. W. Story and Mr. C. L. Routledge (ex-presidents), and Messrs. J. M. Whitfield and H. Tyson (old committee men)—while Mr. W. H. Barber took charge of the muffled ringing in the belfry. A very impressive and beautiful service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. T. Dowland, assisted by the choir and wardens, in the Church of St. Paul, where our departed friend had spent forty odd years of his life in ringing and in teaching others. After the Vicar had pronounced the committal sentences and the Benediction at the graveside, a course of Grandsire Triples was rung over the grave, and ceased one by one in rounds by C. L. Routledge 1-2, W. H. Barber 3-4, J. E. Keen 5-6, E. Ferry 7-8.

This was followed by the whole pull and stand on the tower bells, and after tea a 5,000 of Double Norwich Major was rung to the memory of our old friend—a method of which he was particularly fond on account of its musical qualities, and many peals of which he had called both on tower and handbells.

And thus closed the career of one of the most brilliant ringers and conductors in the kingdom, as well as one of the finest natured and most lovable men one could wish to meet.

It would take volumes to tell of his achievements in the art of ringing, of his grasp of methods innumerable at a glance, and the calling thereof, of his placidity at moments of crisis in a peal, and prompt correction of the recalcitrant brother. Heavy bell or light was handled in equally masterly style, a rhythm of motion rarely seen in any belfry.

His patience in teaching youngsters was wonderful, and he has taught almost more ringers than any other man in the association.

Of his versatility the writer well remembers him calling a peal of Stedman Cinques at Sheffield Cathedral in 1919, when he certainly had only rung a touch of Cinques before and had never called a bob on twelve bells till then, ringing a working bell, too (the 4th).

He has rung over 300 peals with the Durham and Newcastle Association alone, besides over 100 with other associations, while taking part in ringing tours and visiting other associations' territory. We shall never see his like again, and we mourn his loss more deeply than can be expressed on paper.

couragement, the incumbents of the various churches where the members of the Council had had the use of the bells, and also Mr. Lange, churchwarden of St. Nicholas', who kindly entertained members and their friends, to the number of 62, after ringing at Oxtan on the previous day. In addition, he thanked Archdeacon Howson for taking parties over the Cathedral (applause).

Canon Elsee, in acknowledging the vote of thanks, said the Council's thanks were due, not so much to the Lancashire Association as to Mr. Davies, who had really done the work. He was glad to see that his figure had not diminished as the result of his efforts (laughter and applause). Canon Elsee concluded by proposing a vote of thanks to the president for his services in the chair, and, this having been carried with applause, the meeting terminated.

The members, joined by numerous friends, were then the guests of the Lord Mayor at tea, which was served in one of the magnificent reception rooms. The Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress mingled freely with their guests and were photographed with a company who rang a handbell touch for their edification. During the proceedings, the Liverpool Police Orchestra discoursed a selection of music.

Many ringers afterwards took the opportunity of ringing on the twelve bells of St. Nicholas' Church, and subsequently at headquarters, the Stork Hotel, an enjoyable social was held. There was an excellent entertainment of vocal and instrumental music, a professor of sleight of hand mystified the company, handbell ringing, including the backward course of Bob Major, was indulged in, glasses clinked and tongues wagged, and the time for separation came all too soon. Socially, at any rate, the Liverpool meeting has never been exceeded in its success in the history of the Council.

MASONIC GATHERING.

On the Wednesday evening several Masonic members of the Central Council were, on the invitation of Bro. C. I. Davies, the guests of the Lancastrian Lodge. At the banquet following the ceremony, the Worshipful Master made reference to their presence, and their health was proposed by the Provincial Grand Chaplain of West Lancashire and enthusiastically honoured.

Wor. Bro. J. S. Pritchett, Assistant Prov. G.M. (Warws), in response, expressed the great pleasure of all the visitors at the warm welcome extended to them.

Courses of Grandsire were rung on handbells, in which Wor. Bro. F. Ll. Edwards, Prov. G. Chaplain (Dorset) and Bros. E. Barker, F. Perrins, C. I. Davies and G. R. Newton took part. An attempt at a Masonic peal during the afternoon had unfortunately to be abandoned owing to the heavy 'go' of the bells.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD. NORTHERN BRANCH ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Northern Branch was held at Sleaford and was well attended by members and friends from Bardney, Barrow-on-Humber, Bassingham, Blankney, Branston, Burton-on-Stather, Ewerby, Gainsborough, Grimsby (St. Andrew's), Heckington, Leasingham, Lincoln (Cathedral), Scothorne, Scotter and Scunthorpe, in addition to the local company. The Rev. H. Law James (Master of the Guild), Mr. Geo. Ladd and Mr. R. Richardson from the Elloe Deaneries Branch and a visitor from Wymondham, were also present.

The fine peal of eight bells were available during the afternoon and evening, and kept going in various methods ranging from Grandsire Triples to London Surprise Major.

Evensong was held in the side chapel, at which the Vicar (Rev. W. Norton-Howe) officiated, Mr. R. Scott (Sleaford district secretary) presiding at the organ. An instructive address was given to the large number present by the Rev. A. R. Tucker (Rector of Leasingham). An excellent tea was provided in the Church Room, to which fifty-six sat down, including the Vicar, who had to leave immediately afterwards.

Mr. F. F. Linley (president of the branch) presided over the business meeting.

The whole of the officers were re-elected as follows: President and treasurer, Mr. F. F. Linley; hon. secretary, Mr. F. S. W. Butler; hon. auditors, Messrs. F. W. Stokes and J. R. Sharpe; Ringing Master, Mr. J. A. Freeman; two representatives to serve on the Guild Committee, Messrs. Geo. Chester and J. A. Freeman. Four new performing members were elected: Messrs. Wm. Sergeant and T. Clark (Scothorne), and Messrs. W. F. Wescombe and R. M. Wescombe (Bassingham), also one hon. member, Rev. A. R. Tucker (Leasingham).

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Lincoln, the arrangements being left in the hands of the general secretary and Lincoln members of the committee.

A grant of ten guineas was made to the Stedman Tercentenary Fund, also an honorarium of two guineas to the general secretary.

Mr. Chester made reference to the recent Central Council meeting at Liverpool, and suggested that the branch should purchase or take on approval some of the Council's publications. At the same time he very kindly offered to relieve the general secretary by taking the responsibility of carrying the matter through.—Mr. F. A. Holden and the Rev. H. Law James both spoke in favour of the suggestion.

The best thanks of the members were extended to Mr. Chester and the Rev. H. T. Parry for their interest on behalf of the branch at the Central Council meetings.

A cordial welcome was offered to the visitors, who were thanked for their presence.

The Rev. A. R. Tucker interested those present by having brought for inspection a bell clapper, dated 1605, belonging to a bell of the same date which hung in the tower of North Thoresby at the time of the Gunpowder Plot, and which was in use until the year 1905.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells, to the organist and organ blower for their services, to the Rev. A. R. Tucker for his address, to the caterers for the splendid tea provided, and to Mr. Linley for presiding at the meeting.

This concluded the business, after which some of the members took part in handbell ringing, while others returned to the church for further ringing until about nine o'clock, when a most successful and enjoyable meeting was brought to a close.

FABIAN STEDMAN.

The attention that is being focussed upon Fabian Stedman in this year of the tercentenary of his birth, which by a national effort members of the Exercise propose to celebrate by the restoration of the bells at St. Benedict's Church, Cambridge, makes additionally interesting anything which may help to throw light upon the man and his work. The established facts about his life are actually very few, and the meagre personal history which comes down to us through various agencies cannot to-day be corroborated by documentary evidence in all its details. But whether or not he was actually a printer, which the Rev. Herbert Drake seriously questions in his article in another column; whether or not he finished his days as a government servant in London, as Mr. R. A. Daniell maintains, there is no difficulty in assigning to Stedman a place in the very forefront of the Exercise. His 'Tintinnalogia' was the first book ever published on ringing; his 'Campanalogia' was in some senses the greatest. In the former he brought together such material as existed at the time; in the latter he sets out to give a clear and elaborate exposition of the art—and he succeeded in a marvellous degree. Other writers have since said the same things in other language; few, if any, have excelled him in the skill with which the task has been done. There were men before Stedman who had made their individual contributions to the art. Robert Roan, for instance, had been the first to compose Grandsire Doubles, and was the first to obtain the extent of Bob Minor, which extent he termed 'Grandsire Bob,' but except for these and one or two other methods, change ringing in the manner in which it is understood to-day was unknown. It was the labours of Fabian Stedman which transformed all this. Had he given us nothing else but the method which bears his name—a method which, through the centuries, has given delight to generations of ringers, and to-day still provides pleasure for thousands—he would have earned the eternal gratitude of the Exercise. But Stedman did far more than this. He gave us Grandsire Triples (which he called 'Colledge Bob'), he extended Bob Minor to Major; he produced, among other Minor methods, the first with a treble bob hunt; he was the first to show how methods on five bells could be extended to seven, and, in these days when 'splicing' is considered something new, it is interesting to know that Stedman evolved a system of method splicing on eight bells which he called 'The Grand Experiment.' Many of the methods which he composed have long since gone out of use because they do not accord with modern practice, but some have stood the test of time, and others have been the foundation upon which subsequent authors improved and gave us many of the methods of to-day. Stedman's personal history may be to some extent a matter of speculation; his contribution to the art, when change ringing was but a cradled infant, is concrete and indisputable.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM.

The usually quarterly meeting of the Guild was held at Coleshill, Warwickshire, on Saturday, July 4th. Although only a few miles from Birmingham, Coleshill is still an old unspoilt country town. The Parish Church, with its fine tower and ornamented spire, stands on a high eminence, and is a well-known landmark for miles around.

In spite of the inclement weather during the earlier part of the afternoon, about thirty members sat down to a good tea nicely served at the Swan Hotel. This was followed by the business meeting, the Presiding Ringing Master, Alderman J. S. Pritchett, M.A., being in the chair.

Mr. A. Paddon Smith, in moving a resolution, 'That the Guild subscribe £5 5s. to the Stedman Tercentenary Fund,' said that Fabian Stedman was virtually the father of the Exercise, and that his particular method must have given hours and hours of pleasure to all ringers who practised it. This particularly applied to members of St. Martin's Guild, who probably had rung more Stedman than any other company. It was, therefore, fitting that the Guild should support such a worthy object.—The proposition was seconded by Mr. G. F. Swann, and supported by the chairman, Mr. Albert Walker, and Mr. James George, and carried unanimously.

In giving his report of the proceedings of the Central Council meeting at Liverpool, Mr. Smith remarked that it was an excellent meeting, and he advised everyone to read carefully the very full report now appearing in 'The Ringing World.'

Mr. A. E. W. Smith, of Swindon, was elected a life member, and the tower election of Mr. A. C. Hazelden, Guildford, Surrey, was duly ratified.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Boldmere on Saturday, October 3rd.

The bells, a nice peal of eight, which run round the opposite way, viz., from left to right, were kept going in various methods from Grandsire Triples to Cambridge Major during the afternoon, and again after the business meeting.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

THE COMING JUBILEE.

A quarterly meeting of the Midland Counties Association was held at Syston, the place recently brought into prominence by a famous turkey which met a very sad and sudden end to satisfy the duplicitous of certain Leicester and Loughborough 'betting' men. Certain it was on Saturday, July 4th, a large number of visiting ringers came from every centre of the association's activity to see if there were any 'wish bones' left, and though not the sort mentioned above, none went away disappointed. It was noticeable that the Leicester men were conspicuous by their absence, and it was found that the annual meeting of the Ladies' Guild was held that day at St. John's, Leicester, and some facetious person wondered if they were attracted there to hear 'bells' or see 'bellies' ring. Still, things went well, and in spite of the very bad storm some forty members enjoyed ringing on the newly rebung bells, which are now so different since they came back from Loughborough.

The committee met in the Church Hall and did their duty in their usual workmanlike style, and later the whole of the visitors assembled in the large hall for tea. This was followed by the general meeting, at which the president, Mr. E. Denison Taylor, presided, supported by the hon. treasurer, Mr. W. E. White, and general hon. secretary, Mr. Ernest Morris.

The president gave a brief resume of the quarter's work, and made a few witty remarks on a 'turkey' (turquoise) ring which turned out to be but 'glass.' The hon. secretary read the minutes of the annual meeting, which were duly passed, and explained that the question of the Chambers memorial had been dealt with. A letter had been received from Mrs. Chambers stating that the memorial is now ready, but dedication is held up owing to the Vicar of Littleover being ill.

It was proposed, if possible, to get the dedication fixed for July 25th, but this entirely depends on local circumstances. The secretary will give due notice when final arrangements are settled.

Mr. J. Swinfield, one of the delegates to the Central Council, gave an outline of the proceedings of the Liverpool meeting, which was appreciated.

New members elected since the last meeting were duly confirmed, viz.: Ringing, eight; honorary, one; life, seven; rejoined, four.

It was decided to grant £5 5s. to the Stedman Tercentenary Fund.

As next year (1932) will see the 50th anniversary of the founding of the association, it was thought fitting that this should be marked by some special features. Suggestions are asked from the local districts, and all secretaries are requested to bring this matter before their members, so that the committee can decide what form the jubilee shall take.

Hearty votes of thanks to the Vicar for use of the bells, the local committee for arranging the meeting, and especially to the ladies for getting up such a splendid tea at so small a cost, were proposed by Mr. W. E. White, seconded by Mr. R. H. Bartram, and carried with acclamation. E. M.

YEovil TREBLES TO BE RECAST.

TWO INDIFFERENT BELLS.

The Parochial Church Council of Yeovil have decided to recast the two trebles of the ring of ten. They had previously undertaken a scheme of restoration, and the bells had been removed to the White-chapel Foundry for tuning and other attention. Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have now reported that it has been found almost impossible to tune the first and second bells of the peal of ten to the other eight, and they were bound to advise the Council that unless those two bells were recast they could not guarantee the work to be satisfactory. The letter added that from their inspection of the structural work of the tower, already completed, they could assure the Council that the restoration would be satisfactory.

At the meeting of the Council, Mr. John Goodchild, steward of the belfry, moved that the two bells should be recast. He pointed out that they had never been regarded as good bells ever since they were first cast in 1891, and satisfactory restoration of the peal could not be made without the recasting of them. It was quite possible that their defects, which had been apparent to everyone with a tuneful ear, would be emphasised now the bottom eight had been tuned. He thought they would be lacking in their duty as custodians of the bells if now that the work was in hand they neglected the opportunity of making it thorough and complete.

The motion was seconded by Mr. J. H. Austin, who agreed that it would be wrong to disregard the advice of the bell founders. They should, he thought, find no difficulty in raising the extra money needed.

It was stated, in answer to a question, that the cost of recasting the two bells would be about £70, in addition to the £400 which had been mentioned as the sum necessary for the other work.

Alderman W. E. Tucker (parish warden) said up to date they had received subscriptions to the amount of about £225.

It was resolved that the recasting should be carried out, and also that the attention of the Town Council be drawn to the need of overhauling the clock, which, although placed in the church tower and chiming on the church bells, is the property of the Corporation.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

A SECOND LADY FOR THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The annual general meeting of the Ladies' Guild was held at Leicester on July 4th, when twenty members attended. The bells of St. John's Church were rung during the afternoon and evening in various methods to suit all visitors.

A short service was held by the Vicar, who gave the Guild a hearty welcome. Thirty-eight members were present at tea. Before the members adjourned for the business meeting, Miss Steel, the president, proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for allowing the Guild to visit his church, and for the service and address, to Mr. W. Willson, who made all arrangements for the meeting, and to the organist for his services.

At the business meeting the president, Miss Steel, presided.

The accounts were presented, and showed a surplus of income amounting to £5 9s. 11d., which was considered very satisfactory. The secretary reported that the membership of the Guild had not fallen away, and new members were continually being elected. She asked members to support the district secretaries by attending the meetings so regularly arranged.

The president (Miss Steel) and the honorary secretary and treasurer (Mrs. Fletcher) were unanimously re-elected.

It was decided to send a second representative to the Central Council, and Mrs. R. Richardson, of Surfleet, was elected.

A sum of £2 2s. was voted to the Stedman Tercentenary Fund. London was chosen for the next annual meeting, which will be the 20th anniversary of the Guild's formation.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

DEVIZES BRANCH 'LECTURES.'

The half-yearly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held, as usual, at the Parish Church of St. James, Trowbridge, on Saturday, July 4th. Ringing commenced shortly after 3 p.m., and some good practice in Caters and Major of various methods was got through. The Guild service was conducted by the Rector of Trowbridge (the Rev. S. R. Nesbit-Wallace), and tea, at Smith and King's Restaurant, was followed by the business meeting, the chair being taken by Mr. C. D. Heginbotham. The usual welcome was extended to all from the chair.

The Rev. M. W. Wilson, of St. Denys', Warminster, was elected a ringing member.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Upavon on August 1st, when it is hoped the bells of Netheravon, Fittleton and Enford will be available during the afternoon.

It was proposed that a memorial tablet should be fixed in Bratton Church recording a muffled peal that was rung by the branch members in Warminster tower to the memory of the late Mr. B. L. Cook (vice-chairman).

Unfortunately Mr. C. F. Andrews was unable to be present at the meeting to give the 'second' of the series of lectures on 'Ringing,' but he and Mr. J. T. Dyke (Bath and Wells) had between them prepared a very excellent paper, which was read by Mr. Norman Andrews. The members present were delighted with the paper, and are so enthusiastic about its usefulness that the branch secretary was asked to arrange a special meeting for the next lecture about the middle of August, when ringing practice can follow the lecture.

The branch offer their hearty thanks to Mr. Dyke and Mr. Andrews for the great help they are giving to its members.

The usual vote of thanks brought the meeting to a close, and the Rector very kindly invited any of the ringers to take a stroll through the Rectory gardens.

The following towers were represented at the meeting. Devizes (St. John's, St. Mary's and St. James', Southbroom), Warminster, Holt, Melksham, Rowde, Bradford-on-Avon (Holy Trinity), Mere and Trowbridge.

Ringling was continued till 8.15, the following methods being rung during the afternoon and evening: Bob Royal, Oxford Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Caters and Triples.

DEATH OF AN EVERCREECH RINGER.

'Happy' Osment! He was rightly named. Suffering for years from a painful and incurable disease, he never complained. The surgical dressing that covered the seat of his affliction in the neighbourhood of the ear grew monthly larger, and all who knew him realised that the end was not far away. But his indomitable will took him to Sunday and practice ringing right to the end.

As a ringer, he was of the best. He conducted his first peal, Grandsire Triples, from a non-observation bell, when six others of the local band rang their first, too—a notable performance. Even then, seven years ago, the fell disease had its hold on him.

He died on Friday, July 3rd, and was buried on the 6th. Ringers from Somerset, Wilts and Dorset assembled in the evening of that day and rang muffled touches to his memory on the bells in the beautiful tower of Evercreech.

Churchman, ringer, pal, 'Happy' Osment, you will be missed by all who knew you! R.I.P.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION. PROPOSED JOINT MEETING OF NOTTINGHAMSHIRE ASSOCIATIONS.

A very enjoyable day was spent by members of the North Notts Association at Barlborough on Saturday, June 27th, when about forty ringers from Brunston, Killamarsh, Sutton-on-Trent, Shireoaks, Cuckney, Edwinstowe, Staveley, Cresswell, Ordsall, and a full muster of the local band were present.

The ringing was very good, and all members were highly delighted to meet for the first time the Rector (Rev. Walmsley), who gave the society a hearty welcome.

Tea was served in an excellent manner by the lady workers, who were thanked for their part in making the meeting a success.

The Rector presided at the business meeting, and was elected a vice-president, while Messrs. Herbert Hudson and Percy Gaunt, of Barlborough were elected performing members.

The place of the next meeting was left in the hands of the Cup Committee, on the suggestion of the secretary.

It was agreed that every member should try and get to a joint meeting which is being arranged by the associations and guilds of Nottinghamshire, and that the association should help in every way with the arrangements.

A grant of £1 1s. was made to the Stedman Terecentenary Fund. Mr. Hargreaves, in proposing this, said that the Guild would have helped more, only the funds are not too high, and it is expected that grants would be asked for in North Notts before long by several towers.

Votes of thanks were accorded, and, with further ringing in the evening, quite an enjoyable day was spent.

A SAFFRON WALDEN FESTIVAL.

'Great Ringing Day' at Saffron Walden, the well-known meeting of ringers usually held on June 27th, has this year been postponed. For nearly two years the church has been in the hands of workmen, who have been engaged in renewing the roof beams where damaged by the death watch beetle. Unfortunately, this trouble has been located in the beams supporting the bell frame, and so all ringing is suspended.

On the festival day, the local society celebrated its 308th anniversary by ringing a touch of Stedman Caters at noon, and then attended a service, at which the Vicar (Rev. Dr. Hughes) preached an interesting sermon on the development of church bells.

It is hoped to hold the festival later in the year as soon as the repairs to the frame are completed.

BARNSELEY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION. SMALL ENTRY FOR SHIELD CONTEST.

The shield contest and monthly meeting of the Barnsley and District Association were held at Crofton on Saturday, July 4th. Only three bands entered, who rang in the following order: 1. Wath-on-Dearne, 2. Cawthorne, 3. Darfield. The test was a true 720 of any method.

After these had rung, tea was served in the Church Schools, about thirty being present. At the business meeting, which followed, the Vicar, Rev. H. Brownrigg, presiding, the judge (Mr. J. R. Brearley) gave his adjudication as follows:—

Wath-on-Dearne, 108 faults.

Cawthorne, rung out.

Darfield, 161 faults.

Wath-on-Dearne were therefore declared the winners of the shield.

Mrs. Brownrigg presented the trophy with congratulations to the winning team, and hoped the others would try again and be more successful the next time.

Mr. J. W. Champion, who replied, said he would have liked to see more bands entered, and 1st and 2nd prizes given to encourage others to join.

Penistone was selected for the next place of meeting.

Mr. C. D. Potter moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Brownrigg, the Rev. H. Brownrigg, the judge (Mr. J. R. Brearley), the ladies for providing tea, and the local company for the arrangements.—Mr. R. J. Ricketts seconded, and the Vicar replied, saying he hoped to see a larger crowd there in the future.

Further ringing was then continued until about 9 p.m.

WORCESTERSHIRE AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday, July 11th, the Western Branch of the Worcester and Districts Association held their quarterly meeting at Wychbold by kind invitation of the Vicar, the Rev. E. C. Owen. The service was attended by about fifty ringers and friends, representing thirteen towers in the branch. Visitors from Bromsgrove, Hagley, Kidderminster and Smethwick were also present.

Afterwards tea, kindly given by the Wychbold Social Society, was partaken of at the Crown Hotel.

At the business meeting, which followed, it was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting at Hallow.

The meeting concluded, the ringers again adjourned to the tower, when touches in methods from Grandsire to Cambridge Surprise were successfully brought round.

Another wife will be able to accompany her husband officially to the Central Council meetings in future. Mrs. Rupert Richardson has been elected as the second representative of the Ladies' Guild: her husband is one of the representatives of the Lincoln Guild. Mrs. George W. Fletcher has represented the Ladies' Guild ever since they have had representation, and her husband (now hon. sec. of the Council) is one of the representatives of the Middlesex County Association.

A correspondent informs us that if the lady who took a fancy to an enamelled mug (imperial pint size) at the Green Dragon in an old-world town in Norfolk cares to have the aforementioned article, will she please inform the proprietor, enclosing a fee of half a crown?

We are glad to state that Mr. P. C. Williams and his son and daughter have quite recovered from their recent motoring accident, and that Mrs. Williams, who fared worst in the smash, is making satisfactory progress towards recovery.

The Vicar of Cardiff, Dr. Morgan Jones Powell, is leaving the busy Welsh city for a country parish—Peterston-super-Ely. As an appreciation for his many kindnesses to ringers, a peal of Stedman Caters was attempted on the bells of St. John's, Cardiff, on Saturday last. Not a trip or hitch occurred for three hours and ten minutes, when, with only three courses to ring, something happened (probably over-gratified), and in about a dozen blows the bells were all of a heap, and 'stand' called much to the disappointment of all.

The ring of twelve bells at St. Chad's, Shrewsbury, were opened with a peal of Grandsire Cinques by the College Youths on July 18th, 1798.

The first peal by a band of ladies was rung at Cubitt Town, London, on July 20th, 1912, conducted by the lady who is still the hon. secretary of the Ladies' Guild, which was formed as the direct result of this performance.

The 17,280 Kent Treble Bob Major was rung at Over, Cheshire, on July 21st, 1923, in ten hours.

THE LATE MR. T. T. GOFTON PASSING OF A GREAT RINGER.

To the Editor.

Sir,—The sudden passing of Tom Gofton removes from our ranks not only one of the finest ringers and conductors on tower and handbells, but one of the best fellows one could ever wish to meet.

Having known him for nearly thirty years, and rung 75 peals with him in almost all methods on all numbers of bells nearly all over England, I probably know him better than anyone outside his own district.

He was one of the few ringers who was never spoiled by success. Considering his ability he was a most quiet, unassuming fellow, who thought first and spoke after, and seldom used two words when one would do. Despite his quiet manner, he was a very far-seeing man, and a most interesting companion. I shall always cherish the many happy days I have spent in his company. May he rest in peace.

IN MEMORIAM.

WILLIAM POLE ROUTH

The news of the sudden death of Mr. William Pole Routh, at Reading on July 4th, came as a shock to all who knew him. He had walked into the town in the morning to transact some business, and almost at the foot of St. Mary's tower—his well-loved tower—he collapsed and died. A doctor was able to certify the cause of death, so no inquest was necessary. He had reached the age of 82, and, although a few years ago the state of his health caused his friends some anxiety, he had made a remarkable recovery, and was really wonderfully well. It was doubtless wise that he had given up ringing, but he was still able to carry on with and enjoy his gardening.

In his younger days Mr. Routh had rung a fair number of peals, and was a member of the College Youths, St. James' Society, the Surrey Association, and the Oxford Diocesan Guild, of which he was a vice-president; for some years also he was chairman of the Reading Branch of the Guild. He was a good ringer, though not a master of many methods. Stedman Triples was his great delight, and with him in the band there was always an additional incentive to the rest to give of their best. He possessed a quiet charm of manner, peculiarly his own, which may perhaps best be described by saying that he appeared always to be prepared to find every man what he was himself—a Christian gentleman.

He was laid to rest on Tuesday in the churchyard of Tilehurst, where his father was for some time Rector. The first part of the burial service was at Christ Church, Reading, where he had been for many years a faithful worshipper. The Diocesan Guild was represented by the Master (Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), who took part in the service, and Canon Coleridge. In the evening, at St. Mary's, a touch of Stedman Triples was rung with the bells half-muffled by some of his ringing friends of bygone years. May he rest in peace.

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY. GREAT FESTIVAL FOR RE-OPENING OF ST. BENET'S BELLS.

Subject to no unforeseen hitch occurring, it has been decided that the re-opening of the bells of St. Benedict's Church, Cambridge, shall take place on Saturday, September 26th. It will be a great ringing festival and it is expected it will bring together one of the largest gatherings of ringers that have ever assembled for a church ceremony. Full details of the arrangements will, of course, be published in these columns in good time, but meanwhile ringers should reserve this date. There will be much to do and see in Cambridge on this occasion and it will make an ideal venue for an excursion. A full day's programme is in contemplation.

Swansea and Brecon Diocesan Guild, and Bristol United Guilds are among the organisations which have this week added their contributions to the Tercentenary fund. Subscriptions should be forwarded to FABIAN STEDMAN'S PROFESSION. BY THE REV. HERBERT DRAKE.

It was with the greatest pleasure that I saw the signature R. A. Daniell at the foot of a letter in your columns, and I hope that we may read much more from his pen.

I was also glad to read all he says about Fabian Stedman. But why does he mention his being a printer, without qualification, as though the fact were unquestioned?

Let us see what is the evidence. On the one side there is the tradition in the Exercise; and this can be traced back to the statement which Mr. Ernest Morris has discovered, that one of the ringers who recorded his visit to Leicester calls him a printer.

Now the ordinary man, even to-day, and much less in those illiterate days, does not as a rule appreciate the difference between a printer and a publisher. Both have to do with the making of books, and that is as far as most people go.

We are told that Stedman told the Leicester ringers about the book he was preparing ('Campanologia'). It is fairly probable (the fact that he was afterwards called a printer makes it almost certain) that he used the word 'print' in some way. He may have said that he would print this or that method or principle, just as a publisher or printer would do to-day, as then. Some of his hearers (including, perhaps, our narrator) would jump to the conclusion that he was a printer.

Of course, all things are possible to those who give their imagination free rein, and it is possible Fabian Stedman definitely told his hearers that he was a printer, or that our narrator obtained his information in some other definite way. But that either of these things are so, we have no evidence whatever.

This is all the evidence we have in favour of the usual statement, and if anyone wishes to believe it is a fact on such evidence, well, he must do so.

On the other hand we have no doubtful hearsay, but the clear printed fact in the 'Tintinnalogia,' and that, too, on the title page, without any question of error, that he was not the printer but the publisher. The title page ends with the statement that the book was printed by so and so in London for Fabian Stedman. And to make the matter even more certain, on the next page is the censor's name in extra large type, 'Roger l'Estrange.'

Now at that time—the period of the publication of Titus Oates' 'Plots'—a very strict watch was kept on all publications, and to pass the censor, the printer and the publisher had both to be known to him. If the ordinary citizen did not see much difference between a printer and a publisher, the censor certainly did—it was his job. It has been suggested that Stedman, a printer, at Cambridge of all places, had not the facilities for printing such a book, and got a brother printer in London to print it. This seems most unlikely, but it is not even possible, when we see that the censor has passed Stedman as the publisher. For one printer to vouch as publisher for another printer would be too glaring a piece of jobbery for any censor to pass. And, moreover, it would not be an easy thing in any case for a book with so many figures, with none or few predecessors, and therefore an easy subject for a hidden cypher, to pass the censor.

A much more probable explanation is the simple one that there were no ringers, or none suitable, who were printers in Cambridge, but that there was a suitable ringer in London, and that Stedman employed him. This solution will certainly appeal to those of us who have tried to get non-ringers to set up ringing figures in type. For the 'Tintinnalogia' is remarkably free from printers' errors, especially if it had no forerunners. I can only remember one, in which a section consisting of several pages has been displaced; and this may have been in the arrangement of the original 'copy.'

There is one way in which these two statements may be reconciled. That is that, after the publication of the 'Tintinnalogia,' Stedman may have become a printer in order to print his 'Campanologia.' It seems most unlikely, but the latter book itself should tell us. I have for some years been hoping to get to the British Museum to see this book, but I doubt now if I ever shall. Will not Mr. Trollope, or someone who has a reader's ticket, look at the book for us and tell us if it has the name of the printer, the publisher or the censor in it?

Failing any such corroboration, I think we must conclude quite certainly that Fabian Stedman was not a printer but a publisher. Moreover, such a man would be far more likely to hold an appointment in the office of the auditor of the Excise than a printer, whose qualifications for such a post are not self-evident.

The duty of a publisher in those days was to 'stand the racket' if anything treasonable or otherwise wrong were published. If Stedman were already a Government official he would be a suitable person to be a publisher. On the other hand, if he were a person influential enough to publish 'Tintinnalogia,' he would probably be influential enough to get a Government appointment.

If, however, there were two men of the same name, one a publisher and one a printer, where are we?

Are any copies to be had now of the transcription of Stedman's will, which Mr. Daniell had printed—although he is not a printer—some thirty years ago?

HERBERT DRAKE.

The note on the title page of the 1677 'Campanologia' is 'London. Printed by W. Godbid, for W. S., and are to be sold by Langley Curtis in Goat Court on Ludgate Hill, 1677.'

W. Godbid is obviously the 'W. G.' who printed 'Tintinnalogia' for Fabian Stedman at his shop in St. Dunstan's Churchyard in Fleet Street, 1668.

It will be noted that 'Campanologia' was printed for 'W. S.,' which, however, may possibly have been a misprint for 'F. S.,' although rather an unlikely error for an important matter of this kind. The initials appended to 'The Epistle Dedicatory' are 'F. S.,' and page 117 has the heading, 'Fifty-three London-Peals upon Five, Six, Seven and Eight Bells, composed by F. S.—Ed., 'R.W.''

STEDMAN AND THE COLLEGE YOUTHS. To the Editor.

Dear Sir.—In my 'College Youths, 1750-1788,' I wrote that the society visited Cambridge in 1657 and rang with Stedman, who gave them some five and six bell peals. In saying that, I was copying the received tradition as given by Shipway, but later investigations incline me to doubt the tale. I think it certain that Stedman had not composed anything so early as 1657. If the College Youths went to Cambridge in 1657, I do not think they met Stedman, and if they did meet Stedman it was not till much later than 1657. He was elected a member of the society in 1661, and composed his Principle some time between 1668 and 1677.—Yours truly,

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

DEATH OF MR. C. CLEVELAND ELLIS.

LOSS TO EDINBURGH RINGING.

We regret to announce the death at his home, 14, Comiston Drive, Edinburgh, of Mr. C. Cleveland Ellis, O.B.E.

Of a gentlemanly disposition, Mr. Ellis will be sadly missed among his friends and Scottish ringers.

He was one of the kindest of men, and was always a willing helper in anything pertaining to bells or ringing, and one of the first to encourage and maintain change ringing in Scotland.

It is a pity he has not lived long to enjoy the honour conferred on him by His Majesty the King at the beginning of this year, being at that time very dangerously ill. It was only a fortnight before his death that he was able to be invested with the honour so richly deserved.

The change ringing societies of St. Mary's Cathedral and St. Cuthbert's Parish Church, Edinburgh, of the latter of which he was vice-president, and also all other ringers who have come in contact with him, will deeply mourn his death.

DEATH OF A DORCHESTER STALWART.

It is with deep regret that we have to report the sudden passing of Mr. W. John Benger, captain of St. Peter's band, Dorchester, and one of the finest stalwarts in ringing circles in Dorset, which occurred with tragic suddenness last Tuesday week. When in the midst of his ordinary duties he suddenly collapsed and died.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

ANNUAL FESTIVAL AT CARISBROOKE.

The annual general meeting was held at Carisbrooke, Isle of Wight, on Saturday, July 4th, when nearly 100 members and visitors were present. The visitors included Mr. and Mrs. R. Richardson (Surbeat), Messrs. W. J. Rawlings (Beckenham) and E. A. Young (London). The annual meeting was held in the Sunday School under the chairmanship of the Master (Mr. G. Williams), who was supported by the Rev. Evan Jones (treasurer) and Mr. F. W. Rogers (general secretary).

In presenting his report, the Master said that on the whole the year 1930 should be considered satisfactory, both as regards finance and membership. According to the district reports, 91 honorary and 626 performing members have paid during the year. It will be seen the sum of £43 8s. 9d. has been received by the treasurer, whilst a sum of over £30 is shown as balance in district secretary's hands.

The annual district meetings have been exceptionally well attended, and it has been most gratifying to see such a large number of young ringers coming on.

Regarding progress in change ringing, this should be shown in the peal recorder's report, but he added that, according to their numbers, they should show a much larger number of peal ringers, as it is the most enthusiastic peal ringer whose aim is good striking, and who makes the most reliable Sunday service ringer; the continuity of practice and learning new methods lead up to this.

He was glad to see such enthusiasm amongst the six-bell ringers in the Alton District, and congratulated them on scoring several 5,000's on six bells, and it had occurred to him that as this district has had an uphill struggle since its formation three years ago, it may be worth the Guild's consideration whether the towers of Petersfield, Steep, East and West Meon and Bramshot can be added with advantage, without being any detriment to the huge Portsmouth District.

Very little bell restoration had taken place during the year, beyond the rehangings (and a new 6th bell) in ball bearings of the noble ring at Christchurch Priory, and the overhauling of the six at Bishop's Waltham, both by Taylor and Co. It was a matter of regret the project to add two trebles to the latter was not pushed forward, as the frame is already constructed to receive them.

The Guild's thanks were especially due to the hon. and life members for their support, and to the officers for their co-operation during the year.

The treasurer's report and balance sheet and the peal recorder's report were unanimously adopted and each thanked for his services.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Master, Mr. G. Williams; secretary, Mr. F. W. Rogers; treasurer, Rev. Evan Jones; recorder of peals, Mr. C. E. Bassett; auditor, Mr. G. Smith; Central Council representatives, the Master and Mr. H. Barton.

NEW GUILD CERTIFICATE.

A draft copy and enlarged drawing of the proposed new certificate, designed by Mr. W. H. Fussell (Slough), was submitted to the members. It contains the photos of the two cathedrals in separate panels and the coats of arms of the cities of Winchester and Portsmouth (revised), also the arms of the sees of the two dioceses. It was agreed that it was indeed an elaborate design, and it was unanimously decided to adopt the same, and that Mr. Fussell be heartily thanked for his splendid work.

On the recommendation of the committee, it was agreed to vote a sum of £2 2s. to the Stedman Tercentenary Fund. Mr. W. J. Rawlings (Beckenham) was elected a compounding member, and Messrs. A. Butler and F. Sibley (Southampton) full members.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Christchurch on Saturday, July 2nd, 1932.

Votes of thanks to the Vicars of Carisbrooke and Newport for the use of their bells, and for the use of the Church Hall were accorded unanimously.

After the meeting, the members of the Guild, to the number of about 100, proceeded to Carisbrooke Parish Church for service. While the congregation were assembling, a touch of 252 changes of Stedman Triples was rung as a welcome to the Bishop of Portsmouth (Dr. Neville Lovett, C.B.E.), who addressed the congregation.

The Bishop and clergy joined the ringers at tea at the Waverley Hotel, and the choirboys were also entertained by the ringers.

After tea, both the towers of Newport and Carisbrooke were open, and the ringers made good use of the bells in all methods, including Superlative, Cambridge and London Surprise Major.

A GOLDEN WEDDING.

In honour of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Read, of Buckhorn Weston, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung at Kingston Magna Church on June 28th: L. Cockerell 1, H. J. Ralph 2, E. T. Griffin 3, W. C. Shute (conductor) 4, T. J. Seth 5. Mr. and Mrs. Read attended the choral Eucharist at Kingston Magna Church, where they were married by the Rev. T. H. Edwards, father of the present Rector (the Rev. W. I. Edwards), on June 28th, 1881.

'OUR LAURA'

CLEVELAND'S PREMIER LADY RINGER.

The Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association are proud of their premier lady ringer. They boast of quite a number of ringers of the fair sex, but there is no doubt that Miss Laura Lancaster, of Middlesbrough, ranks as the 'premier' among them in the northern part of the county of broad acres.

She commenced her ringing in 1925, when she was 18 years old, and so apt a pupil did she prove that in the same year she scored her first peal of Bob Major, ringing the third. She comes from a family of ringers—her father is the vice-captain of the Middlesbrough tower, and her grandfather was a prominent ringer in his time at Tadcaster (Yorkshire).

MISS L. LANCASTER.

[By Courtesy of 'North Eastern Daily Gazette']

She is well known and respected in ringing circles in the North, her cheery disposition and good humour often proving a welcome addition to a meeting of her association. She is a capable and steady ringer in all methods up to Superlative.

Her latest feat was that of banding together a set of the younger ringers of the association to score a peal without the aid of the senior members.

This was accomplished after much disappointment; one time the band turned up one short; next time a rope broke; another time a single was called too soon; and so on. But at last success came their way, and Miss Lancaster and her 'youngsters' had the honour of scoring a really good peal of Grandsire Triples.

Up to now Miss Lancaster has rung some 25 peals, and is eagerly looking forward to the time when she can conduct a peal for her young band.

All her friends (and they are legion) wish her best success in this laudible endeavour.

MALDON RINGERS IN CAMBRIDGESHIRE.

On Saturday, June 20th, the ringers of All Saints' Church, Maldon, had their annual outing. The party, numbering twenty, including wives and friends, travelled by charabanc, the first stop being at Saffron Walden, where ringing is now suspended owing to the presence of the death watch beetle in the church. The party breakfasted in the town, and then proceeded to Trumpington, where they were met by the Vicar (himself a ringer), and good use was made of the nice peal of six bells, the Vicar helping in some of the touches. A few hours were spent in Cambridge before proceeding to Ely, where the fine peal of eight at St. Mary's Church (through the kindness of the Vicar) were at the ringers' disposal. After some enjoyable ringing, tea was welcome at Fore Hill on a spacious lawn. The inspiration of strawberries (an idea of the ladies, this) was a very happy one, and they were purchased and contributed to by several of the members. After tea, a far too brief inspection of the Cathedral was made, time being too short to do justice to this gem of architecture, and so on to Soham, where hang a ring of ten bells. Ringing was enjoyed here for upwards of an hour, which brought to a close a very delightful day.

Thanks are due to the respective incumbents for the use of the bells, and others who met the party at the towers, and so contributed to making the day a success.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION. EASTERN DISTRICT.

The quarterly meeting of the Eastern District was held at Eserick on Saturday, July 4th. By the kindness of the Vicar, Rev. C. H. B. Trollope, M.A., the ring of eight was at the disposal of the members, and was very much enjoyed by all. A service was held at three o'clock in the church, when the Vicar addressed the company. Forty-five members sat down to tea in the Village Institute. At the business meeting, which followed, presided over by Rev. C. H. B. Trollope, M.A., supported by the vice-president, Mr. F. Cryer, a letter of sympathy to the hon. district secretary, Mr. A. B. Cook, in his illness, was moved and carried. An invitation from Scarborough to hold the next meeting there, in conjunction with the Northern District, was accepted. A vote of thanks to the Vicar for his kindness and address, to the local band for their efforts to provide a successful meeting, and also to the organist and the ladies who presided over the tea tables, was carried unanimously. Mr. Cryer moved, and Mr. Fairlam seconded, that a letter of condolence from the district be sent to Mrs. Tunc, of Hemmingbrough, on the sad death of her husband. This concluded the business meeting, and the members then adjourned, some to the gardens of the Vicarage and others to the tower for further ringing in the standard methods, to bring a most enjoyable meeting to a close.

Will members please note that the date of the informal meeting to be held at Wilbersea has been altered from August 15th to August 22nd.

DEATH OF MRS. BILLENNESS. RINGERS' BEREAVEMENT.

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth Billenness, of 3, Grasmere Terrace, Hawkhurst, Kent, has removed from our midst a lady who devoted many years of voluntary service in entertaining ringers. Considerably more than a quarter of a century ago her two sons (Mr. William Billenness and Mr. George Billenness) commenced their ringing career at Rye, Sussex. In those days the 'seed' of change ringing had only just begun to 'sprout' in the ancient town. The harvests of subsequent years brought fruit more abundantly and of richer quality, both at Rye and in other parishes on the Sussex and Kentish borders. Visitors often came to Rye, and were entertained by the late Mrs. Billenness in her abode. Her house had an ever-open door for ringers, who received a homely welcome from their hostess. She made no distinction. Great men of the Exercise down to young beginners enjoyed her hospitality. Ringers from many parts of the country stayed at her residence.

On going to live at Hawkhurst, Kent, Mrs. Billenness acted as hostess there, but her health in recent years rendered it necessary for her to take life quietly. She passed to the 'Great Unknown' on the last Saturday afternoon in last month, at the age of 79 years. The funeral took place at Hawkhurst Parish Churchyard on the following Wednesday afternoon. At matins, on the Sunday after interment, the service included the hymn, 'Let saints on earth in concert sing with those whose work is done.' The voluntary work of the deceased lady in entertaining members of the Exercise will be called to mind by many present-day ringers, who will read of her passing with much regret.

ROTHERHAM RINGERS VISIT CHESTER.

On Saturday, June 27th, ten Rotherham Parish Church ringers and eight friends set off by motor bus at 6.35 a.m. en route for Chester. A glorious run on a beautiful morning brought them to Buxton by eight o'clock, and thence over the Pennines via the Cat and Fiddle, several hundred feet higher, and amidst mist and cloud, followed by a steady fall via Middlewich to Chester, where they arrived just after 10 a.m. A splendid breakfast by Host F. Weston (a ringer) of the City Arms Hotel satisfied the inner man, and the party split up to ring and see the sights. A walk along the top of the city wall and alongside it brought them to the Church of St. Mary-within-the-Wall, where they rang touches of Stedman Triples and Bob Major, finding it warm work, not owing to the bells, which go well, but to atmospheric conditions. Leaving here, they wandered across the Dee to St. Mary-without-the-Walls, where they were met by some of the local band, as they had experienced at the first church, and soon had the bells going to Stedman Triples, followed by four good courses of Double Norwich. As the visitors had to finish ringing at the Cathedral by 3.45 p.m., they left this splendid peal of St. Mary's-without-the-Walls, and went back to the city, calling to look at the ancient Cathedral Church of St. John on the way. At the Cathedral were rung Stedman and Double Norwich, after which all who had helped to make the day so pleasant were invited to join the company at a substantial tea served by the same author as the breakfast. This over, a move was made to Eccleston, another St. Mary's, built by the Duke of Westminster, some of the party going by bus and some by boat up the Dee. Here Treble Bob, Stedman, Grandsire, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise were rung, also a course of Bob Royal 'in hand,' on the site of the old church, pulled down about thirty years ago. Then loading up for home, and dropping the Chester friends at various spots on the way, the party returned via Northwich, Congleton and Buxton, after an extremely enjoyable day, due in large measure to those Chester ringers who met the visitors and gave their assistance so willingly. All are most heartily thanked, and the Doncaster ringers will be very glad to have a visit from them at some future time.

A TRIP INTO ESSEX

AND WHAT BEFEL A HERTFORDSHIRE PARTY.

The annual outing of the Apsley and Hempstead ringers, accompanied by friends from King's Langley, Rickmansworth and Watford, took place on a recent Saturday. Leaving the Ringers' Rest at 7 a.m., the journey was made via St. Albans to Epping, and from there on to the first port of call—Epping Upland. Owing to a slight misunderstanding, nobody arrived with the key of the belfry, but after a few search parties had been out it was eventually found and a start made. The treble, on being raised, was thought to set a long way back, but it was found in a few seconds that it had no stay on it! Naturally it went right over, but was brought back by four worthy men pulling her over from rope's end! After these little difficulties, the peal of six were rung in several methods for about an hour. A rather interesting feature here is a small bell hung in the louvres, half inside and half outside. The 'National'—and a good one at that—moved on to Epping, where a halt had to be called for postcards. At the third stop the necessary views were found, almost causing the assistant to order a new stock! The morning, now brightening up a little after being rather a doubtful case, caused a much more cheerful outlook on things in general, and the run to Writtle, where there is a fine peal of eight, was made in good time—in fact, with 15 minutes to the good, causing remarks from the ringer who was meeting the party, about having 'ordered one and put some salt by it until he got back.' However, just over an hour was spent at Writtle, good use being made of the bells. Quite a good circular stairway leads to the belfry, but it was thought by a few that it was as well that it was previous to dinner, as one was seen trying sideways! Dinner was the next object in view on arriving at Chelmsford, a splendid meal being made at Cannon's Restaurant. Everybody having had his fill, the journey was resumed to Maldon. For an hour the bells of All Saints' (a peal of eight) were rung to various methods. A curious feature here is that the tower is three-cornered, the bells being rung from the ground floor. Leaving All Saints', a short walk brought in view the tower of St. Mary's, where hangs a peal of six. Several remarks were heard regarding the quaint old staircase—too quaint for some. After ringing for the best part of an hour, an excellent tea was partaken of at the Promenade Restaurant. Leaving Maldon just before six o'clock, a return was made towards Chelmsford, to drop the friend for Writtle to see if his salt was still there! Before arriving there, however, the annual photograph had to be taken, and it turned out splendidly.

Bishop's Stortford was the next and last stop. The peal of ten were greatly appreciated, and several rang their first courses or touches on ten. The ringing terminated with a good course of Grandsire Caters, and a move was then made to talk over the happenings of the day. Another treat was yet in store for those who gathered round, for 'father' sang his well-known song of 'Martha,' which was enjoyed by one and all. After 'Auld Lang Syne' the coach once more moved off, home being reached about midnight, after a most enjoyable day. The methods rung during the day were Bob Minor, Major and Royal, Oxford Bob Minor, Kent Treble Bob Minor and Major, Cambridge Surprise Minor, Grandsire Triples and Caters and Stedman Triples.

The party take this opportunity of thanking the various incumbents for the use of the bells, the towerkeepers for having everything in readiness, and the friend from Writtle for his help in the arrangements, all of which combined to make the day so successful.

A TOUR IN THE CHELMSFORD DISTRICT.

On Saturday, June 27th, the Helmingham and Otley bellringers went for their annual outing in the Chelmsford district, where bells are plentiful. An early start was made by motor bus, the first call being at Boreham, where the party were met by Mr. Lincoln, of Chelmsford, who acted as pilot for the day. A course each of London Surprise, Double Norwich and Bob Major was rung here. At Great Baddow the musical peal was enjoyed by all, a course each of Bristol Surprise, Premier and Cambridge Surprise and Bob Major being rung. Another short run brought the party to Galleywood, where some enjoyed themselves on the common, while others were ringing. The methods were Superlative Surprise, Double Norwich and Kent Treble Bob Major. A snap was taken of the party before starting for Writtle, where it was hoped to get another kind of snap (namely, dinner), for which the journey had provided an appetite. Being unable, owing to a funeral, to ring at Writtle, directly after dinner a move was first made to Widford, where Mr. J. Bennett, of London, met the party, his brother and nephew being with the company. Bristol and Bob Major were rung at this tower before going back to Writtle, where Double Norwich, London Surprise and Stedman Triples were rung. Then on to Chelmsford, the main objective, where, after tea, the Cathedral bells were set going to Kent Treble Bob Royal and Maximus, with an attempt at Stedman Cinques, which proved too much for some. On the return journey, a call was made at Bocking, where Bob Major, Double Norwich and Cambridge were achieved. The party would like to thank their pilot, who made the arrangements and helped to make the outing such an enjoyable one, and also the others, who met them and rang with them.

ASSOCIATION FUNDS AND THEIR USES.

To the Editor.

Sir,—The question ament the above subject, which I propounded for consideration some weeks ago through the medium of your valued journal, does not appear to have attracted much attention, despite the fact that it is a subject of vital importance to every member of the Exercise who takes a real interest in the working of his own particular association. Considering the simple and direct objects for which diocesan associations have been formed, it is absolutely inconceivable what can be the ultimate use for such balances as some associations have accumulated. Mr. Jack Cripps, in a nicely reasoned reply, regards it as good finance, which commands respect, to be able to work mainly on interest from invested funds, and, of course, it is a very happy state. But although it is excellent in business and personal affairs, it ought not to be the system on which institutions like our diocesan ringing associations, with their limited and definite objects, ought to exist. No doubt these balances have grown imperceptibly during years of working, but it is quite evident that some are out of all proportion to their present needs, and it cannot be right that the associations to whom it applies should take money annually from hon. members, for instance, when they have absolutely no legitimate use for it. Quite recently a clerical ringer was asked whether certain of his parishioners would become hon. members of the Diocesan Guild to which he is attached, and his reply was, 'How can I reasonably ask them when you already have a balance of over £50?'

There are still many ways in which money could be usefully expended. First and foremost, restoration work could be more liberally subscribed to, for nothing creates more mutually sympathetic feelings than help in necessity, and in the case of a non-affiliated tower a judicious subscription might bring lasting returns by a desire for affiliation. Publications could be purchased from the Central Council and other agencies and sold to members at a discount. Method sheets, with explanatory notes, would be most useful in all towers with five or more bells, and many more expert instructors are required. The subscriptions of performing members might also be brought under consideration with a view to reduction, especially in these serious times of trade depression. These are a few lines along which many of our associations might still find a way to advance. Doubtless, many others would occur if a real forward movement was started. I have not alluded to the Benevolent Fund mentioned by Mr. Cripps, as I regard such a fund as quite outside the proper aims of our associations. With Mr. Williams, I agree they ought not to be used as provident societies. In conclusion, may I just assure my fellow-ringers that in this matter I have no special axe to grind, but as a ringer and a member of associations for over forty years my one desire is to see them progress, and more and more fulfil the purpose for which they were instituted.—Yours faithfully,

PLAIN BOB.

FISHY!

All ringers should avail themselves of salmon and trout (not peas) by coming to King's Chapel and Sellack on Saturday, July 25th, and fish from suspension bridge while bells are ringing on either side. Ringing commences at three o'clock, fish mobilise immediately on hearing bells; rods provided. Tea, with fish, will be served on the beautiful lawn (if fine) at Sellack Vicarage, only notify (with or without fish) J. Clark by the 22nd (Chase Road, Ross, Herefordshire).

MIDDLESEX RINGERS IN ESSEX.

The ringers of St. Mary's Parish Church, Finchley, and friends—a party of sixteen—made a journey by road to Great Horkesley, Essex, for their annual outing on Saturday, June 27th. Traveling through Epping Forest, the first halt was called at Witham, where a good two hours' ringing was done in various Minor methods. An enjoyable lunch was partaken of at the roadside on the way to Great Totham, where afterwards all the party took part in ringing. At Wormingford, the ringers were met by the Vicar, who made them welcome. While some visited the tower, others went round the Vicarage grounds. On reaching Great Horkesley, the visitors were met by Mr. W. J. Nevard. A good meal was enjoyed before visiting the tower. After tea, a vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. F. Barker to the Vicars and steeplekeepers of the various churches, also to Mr. Nevard, who had helped to make the outing a success. This was acknowledged by Mr. Nevard. Touches of Double Oxford, Double Court, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and Plain Bob were rung. Courses of Grandsire Triples on the handbells were rung in the village before the return journey was commenced.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

The Chertsey District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild held a meeting at Horsell on June 27th, in conjunction with the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild. A good number of members from the district were present, also visitors from Guildford (Cathedral), Ockham, Farnham, Pirbright, Worplesdon, Woking and Cranleigh, the total attendance being 27. Ringing commenced at 3.30, and after tea in the Institute, Miss Fisher, of Aldershot, was in the chair at the short business meeting. The Guild service was held at six, when the Vicar, Canon N. Pares, gave an interesting address.

A hearty vote of thanks was afterwards passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and for the keen interest he takes in the ringers. He showed the ringers several interesting things in the church, and some of the visitors went exploring even to the top of the tower, while others watched the bells swinging while a band of ladies were ringing Kent Treble Bob. Methods rung during the afternoon were Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Double Oxford, and Oxford Single Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob. The bells were kept going till nine, when they were lowered in peal, and a very successful meeting came to an end, thanks to the joint help of the Ladies' Guild.

SURPLUS FUNDS.

We have a good deal of sympathy with the sentiments expressed in recent letters by 'Plain Bob,' on the subject of the surplus funds of the associations. There are several of the larger ringing organisations which, gradually, have built up very substantial reserves running in more than one case into hundreds of pounds, and on the present basis of income and expenditure the balances are likely to go on increasing. Prudence demands that, wherever possible, associations should have behind them a nest egg against a rainy day, and the wealthy organisations must be the envy of those of their poorer brethren, who year after year have a struggle to make ends meet. Beyond certain limits, however, there is little real object to be served in accumulating funds, and even if these fortunate associations already offer extra advantages to their members as the result of their satisfactory position, there is no reason why they should not further utilise their resources in advancing the objects for which they exist.

One of the directions in which, we think, many associations could render even greater service than they give at present is by training instructors and then sending them out to the help of other towers. It is true that a good deal of elementary instruction is already given, much of it of a voluntary nature, but it is generally limited to rudimentary change ringing and the course is usually a comparatively short one. We are quite convinced that much more might be done in this direction, particularly in extending the instruction beyond the stage of one plain method, where it so often stops. Associations that can afford it could find a wide field for useful work in this direction.

In recent years there has been a growing disposition on the part of associations to contribute to bell restoration funds, but even here there are some with substantial resources who might help even more liberally than they do. There can be no question that money spent in this direction gives valuable results, and indirectly brings gain to the association by demonstrating its practical sympathy with the preservation and improvement of bells, and providing increased facilities for ringing. Another way of utilising surplus funds is by setting up a library which, run on right lines, can be of distinctly educative value, while some of the big reserves might also be usefully employed in placing ringing books, such as the Snowdon series, and those published by the Central Council, in the hands of members at a reduced rate.

Many other ways of usefully employing accumulated cash will suggest themselves to those who think about the subject; and unquestionably there is much to say in favour of spending the money on the objects for which the associations are established rather than hoarding it indefinitely; always, of course, observing the dictates of prudence in keeping in reserve a sum for emergencies. The treasurer of one of the most successful guilds—a shrewd business man—holds that a balance equal to two years' average expenditure is ample for any ringing society, and those who give the matter serious thought will doubtless agree with him. When funds have reached this stage there is no need to hoard—the propagation of the art of ringing should get the benefit of any surplus.

CHARLWOOD AND BUCKLAND RINGERS IN KENT

On a not too promising morning in June a happy party set off in a 'chary.' They were the Charlwood and Buckland ringers (who had wisely joined forces for the day) off for a tour of the Maidstone district of Kent. After an hour and a half's ride through winding lanes and leafy bowers, the little village of Shipbourne was reached, the bells soon being raised and set going to 'Woodbine, Cambridge, Kent and College Exercise. A move was next made to Mereworth, where the party were welcomed by one of the local ringers. This church, with its 'wedding cake' spire and huge portico, compels the traveller's attention, reminding him of Wren's city churches, only it nestles in orchards instead. After tapping out some well-struck Violet, Woodbine, London Scholars, Kent and College Exercise, the 'chary' was once again loaded, this time for Wateringbury. The interior of this tower is most peculiar, as all ringers who have rung there can testify. The fourth ringer has to stand partly up the stairs, while the 5th and 6th stand on about six inches of flooring, with a fall at their backs to the bottom of the tower, so instead of pealing the bells there were peals of laughter—peals and peals of it. However, one touch was brought round and the ringers were then welcomed by the Vicar outside. Next on the list was Yalding, but dinner first—dinner such as only Mr. 'Bert' Elliss can conceive. He and Mr. Edwards (both of Charlwood) had motored to Yalding some weeks previously and found an old friend in the landlord of the Two Brewers. These three conspirators produced between them a dinner calculated to make one's mouth water. After dinner, the tower was visited for an hour, and then on to East Farleigh. Here the Vicar is very keen on his bells, and for his benefit, and much to his admiration, they were lowered in peal at the finish of the stay. The grand embattled church of East Malling was next on the list. The touches, the party were informed, were the first change ringing heard on these bells for three years. After tea, the last tower on the list, Ightham, was visited, and here the ringing was finished very appropriately with some splendid striking of Plain Bob, Cambridge and College Exercise, etc., a local ringer taking part in the Plain Bob. The ringing throughout the day was a quite a good standard, the conducting being shared by Messrs. Bert Elliss, Edwards and Thorpe. The outing was the first the two villages have had together, and was an unqualified success. This was in no small measure due to the indefatigable Mr. Horace Edwards, who went over the ground previously, mapped the programme, and acted as guide, philosopher and friend throughout the day. The band would like to take this opportunity of thanking him and also the incumbents of the various churches for granting permission to use their bells and for welcoming the visitors. Even the weather did its bit, and cleared up into a glorious summer day.

EDGBASTON RINGERS' OUTING.

INCIDENTS OF AN ENJOYABLE DAY.

The ringers of Edgbaston Old Church had their outing on Saturday, July 4th. The weather at 8 a.m. gave reasonable promise of a fine day, and the party, about seventeen strong, started off in high spirits Coventrywards, on the way to that fine peal of bells at Monk's Kirby. Here some Stedman Triples and Bob Major were enjoyed before the party re-embarked for the next port of call, Hazelbeech, Northants. On the way the ringers came to the small village of Husbands Bosworth. On seeing a clerical gentleman in the road, it was decided to seek permission to sample the bells there. The aforesaid gentleman turned out to be the Rector, who readily gave the required leave. There was a ring of five, and some of the ringers rang their first 'peal' on five bells! After taking leave of the Rector, the programme was proceeded with, and Market Harborough reached about 12.45, when lunch was partaken of. Hazelbeech was ultimately reached at about three o'clock. There is a fine peal of eight, with a tenor of 15 cwt, in F sharp. After an inspection of the bells themselves, it was decided to attempt a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples. This was accomplished in 43 minutes by: G. Pigott 1, J. F. Atkins 2, H. Williams 3, W. Mumford 4, Wm. B. Cartwright (conductor) 5, H. Withers 6, C. Webb 7, W. Dowler 8. There were originally four old bells in this tower, but in July, 1930, Messrs. Gillett and Johnston recast the treble and second and added four new bells, relanging and tuning the old third and fourth, and making a very satisfactory job. Proceeding to Northampton, tea was partaken of, and half an hour spent in looking round the town. The next port of call was Southam, where permission had to be obtained to ring. Fortunately, the charabanc gave a lift to some young fellows on the way, who had been left behind by their motor, and who turned out to be some of the local ringers of Southam. One good turn deserving another, the bells at Southam were soon raised and ringing out Bob Major and Stedman Triples. The homeward journey was begun via Leamington, Warwick and Stratford-on-Avon, a stop at the latter place being made for refreshments, and also for the purpose of having a look round the town of Shakespeare. The real excitement of the day did not commence until the party were on their way home. In the first place, the worthy sexton lost his hat, which somehow was pushed against a window of the bus, which window happened not to be there. It should at once be explained that the head of the gentleman concerned was perfectly clear! Then, passing along Colebath Road, King's Heath, it was discovered that a barn and some other buildings had caught fire and were blazing furiously. However, there was no need for the ringers to convert themselves into firemen, as the fire brigade was soon on the scene. The ringers wish to take this opportunity of thanking all the clergy and others concerned for the use of the bells, and for helping to make the outing the success it was.

CRAWLEY RINGERS IN HERTS AND BUCKS.

On Saturday, July 4th, Crawley ringers with friends from Charlwood, Horley and Reigate, had their annual outing. Mr. K. Hart, of Brighton, and Mr. J. M. Cripps, of Shoreham, who were week-ending at Crawley, also joined the party. This year Herts and Bucks were the counties chosen, and it was also hoped to have rung in Middlesex, but the selected tower, Pinner, had to refuse owing to illness. At the last moment Watford tower, through the kindness of the Vicar, was substituted. A start was made at 7 a.m. from Crawley, and passengers were picked up en route, and the following towers visited during the day: Watford, Rickmansworth, Amersham, High Wycombe, Beaconsfield and Slough. The ringing throughout the day was up to a good standard, the following methods generally being rung in the eight-bell towers: Bristol, London, Cambridge and Superlative, Double Norwich and Plain Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples. In the six-bell tower, London and Cambridge Surprise, Kent Treble Bob and Plain Bob Minor and Stedman. In the twelve-bell tower an attempt for a course of Stedman Cinques came round in some sort of fashion, but, considering that about three only had ever rung on twelve bells, it was, perhaps, excusable. However, three leads of Treble Ten and a course of London Surprise Major were successfully brought round. Rounds were also rung for others to have a pull. Dinner was taken at Rickmansworth and tea at Beaconsfield, and justice was done to both these meals. Ringing friends met the party at all towers, and gave them a good welcome. At Slough, where ringing for the day ceased at 8.45 p.m., they had the pleasure of Mr. Fussell's company. A rest from labour was then ordered, various parts of the town visited, and finally, at 10.15, the company left for home. Another successful outing was thus accomplished, and the organiser thanks all local ringers and clergy for the kindness in giving permission to ring. At Crawley, the following day, advantage was taken of the help of Mr. K. Hart and Mr. J. M. Cripps, and a good peal of Bristol was rung.

WICKEN, NORTHANTS.—On July 19th, for evensong, 1,260 Stedman Triples in 47½ mins.: F. Case 1, E. C. Lambert 2, A. N. Wood 3, T. Read 4, L. Smith 5, T. Roberts 6, A. J. Green (conductor) 7, G. Foddy 8. First quarter-peal on the bells since their restoration by Messrs. Taylor.

VIII. SOCIAL LIFE.

As I have already remarked, it is pretty certain that there was in 1756 no intention of starting a new society. A number of young and energetic ringers got together for the purpose of ringing peals and escaping the domination of other people. What society the peals were booked by, or whether they were booked at all, was not a great matter to them. No doubt at first the members of the Society of Eastern Scholars considered themselves still Eastern Scholars, and the members of the Society of College Youths considered themselves still College Youths. One of the band, Thomas Bennett, rang a peal with the Cumberlands two months before the Bob Maximus at Southwark, and another a month after. Non-society and 'friendly' peals were not uncommon at the time; Annable's last peal is an example. Some of them, like the Court Bob Royal in 1801, were sufficiently interesting to be remembered, some were recorded on peal boards. But, necessarily, the majority of these performances have been forgotten, and this was likely to be the fate of the Bob Maximus, but for the extraordinary success of the new band and the genius of George Meakins as leader. As peal after peal was rung they were almost compelled to organise themselves as a separate and independent society.

Four things seem to have been usually necessary in these old societies. The first was a meeting place, the second officers, the third a peal and name book, and the fourth a set of rules. The new company did not set up a peal book till 1773, and they did without any formal rules altogether; but the other two conditions were fulfilled quite early. Their headquarters were the Barley Mow, Salisbury Court, Fleet Street (No. 9), which was very handily situated for practice at St. Bride's. It was kept (if not then, later on) by a ringer named Winstanley Richardson (Note 10). Richardson had been elected a member of the Union Scholars in 1757, and in 1765 he joined the new company. From then till 1805 he rang in many of their peals, usually on the treble.

The old society had a rule 'that no Landlord of any House where the Company or Society shall think proper to meet be admitted a Member.' This was, of course, to make sure that the dignity and independence of the society should not be encroached on.

The Junior Society was carried on with spirit and great splendour, admitting none but experienced ringers and persons of the highest respectability as honorary members or visitors, and the Society was regulated by a Master and Stewards chosen annually. The Beadle, when elected, was permanent, with certain perquisites and emoluments for his services in office, who appeared upon all great occasions in a black silk gown and gold laced hat. It was with this Society an ancient custom on the morning of the annual feast to attend divine service (for which a Guinea was allow'd to the officiating Clergyman for his attendance) and to walk in procession from the Club house to the Church, preceded by the Beadle in full dress, carrying a Staff surmounted with a massive silver head, consisting of a silver bell, beautifully ornamented. This richly chased emblem of their fraternity had the views of three of their favourite Ringing Churches engraved upon it, and when fixed upon the staff head had a prepossessing appearance. This information was supplied by Mr. Wm. Eversfield, late of Gravesend (Note 11), who (to use his own words) said in the early part of his life he once had the honour to dine with those Gentlemen. The Festival that year was held at the Paul's Head Tavern, Cateaton Street, in the City of London—and the cause from which he so well remembered it was that 'there was not a joint of Meat upon the Table, all poultry; and the number that dined (that year) was just above 200. Tickets 15s. each' (Note 12).

The annual feast was the great event in the life of all these old societies. One of the rules of the Union Scholars runs thus:—

'On the first Monday in May Yearly and every Year the Company meet together at such Convenient time and in such place (within the City of London) as to them shall seem most proper; the Stewards to provide a Dinner, and in Order to Defray the Charges of this Dinner the Stewards shall receive of each Member Two Shillings and Six Pence; and for the better hindering of Excess it is further Order'd that the Year's forfeits be disbursed towards the Overplus, if any such be, of the Expense. The Stewards shall expend no more than any other member.'

The old Society of College Youths' rule was as follows:—

'That a general Meeting of the Society be held at least Five weeks before the Feast to take into Consideration and examine the Abilities of the Master and Stewards whether they be able and willing to bear the Expense attending such Feast; and in the Failure of one or more of the Stewards, for the remaining Master and Stewards to provide accordingly, and so judiciously that no Debt may be contracted to fall on the Society.'

All the societies had elaborately engraved dinner tickets usually of great artistic merit. There are copies of three different tickets issued by the Cumberlands, and two by the London Youths in the British Museum. The official handbook of the College Youths (1928) has reproductions of two of their tickets. One of these was issued by the Junior Society, and there are of it only two impressions extant, one in the Guildhall Library and the other in the British Museum. The latter is filled in with the particulars of the dinner of 1763. From it we learn that it was held on Monday, November 7th, at the Half Moon Tavern, Cheapside. It is signed by Thos. Lowe, Master, and six stewards.

The other dinner ticket is the well known engraving by Bartolozzi, which is now used as a membership certificate. How early the custom arose of issuing certificates of membership I have no information; probably not till the latter part of the nineteenth century. The earliest dated one I have any trace of is that of the late Mr. J. R. Haworth. The date on it is August 13th, 1839, the name of the Master is Richard Mills, and the hon. secretary John Cooper. I imagine that this was not issued to Mr. Haworth till years afterwards, because Cooper was not secretary, but held the old office of beadle.

The peal book was bought by subscription among the members, and was the most magnificent in the history of ringing. It was large folio size, handsomely gilt and bound in crimson morocco. It had many massive silver ornaments about it, and on the front was a silver plate engraved, 'This Book, belonging to the Society of College Youths, London, containing the Members' Names and a recital of the several Performances by them since the year MDCCLVII., was procured by the Voluntary Subscriptions of the Members at Large in the year MDCCLXXIII.'

The later story of this book, and how it was stolen and partly destroyed in 1833, belongs to the history of the next century.

NOTE 9.—There is now no tavern of that name in Salisbury Court.

NOTE 10.—I deduce Richardson's connection with the Barley Mow from his address given in a contemporary document at one time in the possession of the St. Martin's Society, Birmingham. He died in his seventy-seventh year and was buried at St. Catherine Cree in the City of London.

NOTE 11.—Eversfield died September 9th, 1847, in his eightieth year.

THE LATE MR. T. T. GOFTON.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I would like to endorse every word of Mr. William Pye's letter, and to add that, although Mr. Gofton was such a good ringer and conductor on higher methods, he was never more happy than when ringing Grandsire or Plain Bob to help the beginner. He has told me many times, when we have been away for some first peals of either Plain Bob and Treble Bob, that he enjoyed it as much as ringing Bristol and London Surprise. Men who are so willing to help the young ringers are sadly missed when they depart. May many follow the good example of dear old Tom. We are grateful to our London friends for ringing the muffled peal to his memory.

MANCHESTER BRANCH SECRETARY'S APPEAL.

The quarterly meeting of the Manchester Branch was held at the Old Church, Radcliffe, and was attended by thirty ringers and friends. A short service was held. The Vicar gave an address, which, though humorous, was delightful to listen to. Tea was served in the Institute, the ringers sitting down to a splendid repast. Their wants were attended to by ladies, to whom best thanks are due.

After tea, the business meeting was held. A vote of condolence was passed to the wife and family of the late Mr. R. H. Cammedge, one of the local band, who came to an untimely end and was buried during the week.

Flixton was selected for the August meeting, St. John's, Miles Platting, for September, and Brookfield for the quarterly meeting in October.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar, the organist, the local ringers and to the ladies were passed, the ringers expressing the opinion that they could not have been treated better.

Further ringing afterwards took place on the splendid bells till close on nine o'clock. Although the numbers were above the average, the branch secretary would like to see more at these meetings. There are some towers which are not represented, and he hopes that efforts will be made to bring the Manchester Branch up to what it used to be—a real, live, go-ahead one.

ELY DIOCESAN AND ESSEX ASSOCIATIONS.

A very successful joint mid-week meeting of the above associations was held at Fulbourne on St. Swithin's Day. In spite of the heavy rain, members were present from Blackheath, Brockley (Kent), Cambridge, Dry Drayton, Fulbourne, Great Staughton, Harlow, Harlow Common, Melbourn, Newton, Saffron Walden, Sawston, Trumpington and Walthamstow.

A service was conducted by the Rev. R. Machon, in the absence of the Rector. Mr. F. Richardson very kindly presided at the organ, with Mr. B. D. Buttress as blower. The company afterwards adjourned to the Six Bells for tea. It is hoped to hold the next mid-week meeting at Enfield, combining the Essex, Hertfordshire and Middlesex Associations.

Mr. G. Dent proposed a vote of thanks to all who had helped to make the meeting such a success.

The tower was again visited and the bells kept going until 8.30 p.m. During the afternoon and evening, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge, Ipswich and Bristol Surprise Major were rung. Unfortunately a course of London failed to come round.

Correspondents are again requested to note that the address of 'The Ringing World' is not 63, Commercial Road, Woking, and has not been for more than two years past. 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, is all that is needed. Any other address may lead to delay.

The peal of Minor at Wistaston on June 27th consisted of eight 720's, and the length was accordingly 5,760 changes. It was made up of four extents of Kent Treble Bob, and two each of Oxford Treble Bob and Plain Bob.

Roy Woodward, of Leiston, has now rung four peals. They have been in the following order: London, Cambridge, Superlative and Bristol Surprise. This is an extremely creditable performance; has it ever been accomplished before?

Mr. Joseph Griffin, who helped to make ringing history at Burton-on-Trent forty or fifty years ago, and who has done great work for the Midland Counties Association, of which he is vice-president, has recently taken up residence at Bournemouth.

There is a movement on foot which, it is hoped, may culminate in Hampshire getting another ring of twelve bells. There is ample room for them in the massive tower at Christchurch, where there is already a peal of ten with tenor of 30 cwt., and where Mr. George Preston has got together an enthusiastic band of ringers.

Waterford Cathedral bells were opened on July 26th, 1872, and the first peal in Ireland rung on them the next day.

The faculty is granted for the addition of two trebles at Over, Cambs, and it is hoped an early start will be made. The order has been placed with Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of Whitechapel. Messrs. Gillett and Johnston are repairing the clock.

John Gilbert, a young member of the band at Handsworth, Sheffield, celebrated his thirteenth birthday on Saturday by ringing an 'inside' bell to a peal of Double Norwich Major.

CENTRAL COUNCIL PUBLICATIONS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I draw the attention of your readers to the following announcements?—

1. The leaflet promised by the Rev. H. Drake at Liverpool, entitled 'Note on Faculties, etc.', is now in print, and will be included in future in copies of 'The Law Affecting Church Bells.' It will also be forwarded to anyone who sends me an application for the same together with an addressed envelope and half-penny stamp.

2. The sheet containing the Major methods of Double Norwich and Cambridge Court is now for sale.

3. The pamphlet containing the Report of the Conference between the Council and the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings is now almost sold out. The remaining copies will be retained for professional use only.—Yours truly,

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

AN INTERESTING CHIDDINGSTONE 'FIND.'

The spring meeting of the Tonbridge District was held at Chiddingstone on Saturday, May 9th. A beautiful afternoon, a good peal of bells, and a fine old-world village, are attractions which might reasonably be expected to ensure a large influx of visitors. Unfortunately, they did not, for only about a dozen (beside the local members) turned up.

The usual service was conducted by the Rector (Rev. R. C. Salmon). There were also present Col. Sir Henry Streatfield, K.C.V.O., Mr. Mervyn A. Streatfield, and the two churchwardens, Messrs. H. G. Birt and G. Hale.

After the service, the members were kindly entertained to tea at the Castle Inn by Col. Sir Henry Streatfield. The Rector presided over the business meeting, at which seven new practising and one non-resident life member were elected.

Mr. G. Edwards (Penshurst) reported that he attended the dedication of the new treble bell at Leigh Church, presented by Sir Robert Gower, of Tunbridge Wells, and said that the founders, Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, had made a perfect 'splice,' and the church now possessed a handy ring of six bells. Mr. Edwards also read a report (taken from an old newspaper and sent to him) of a peal of Grandsire Triples rung on Chiddingstone bells in 1824, which was about twenty years previous to the earliest previously recorded peal on these bells. An interesting discussion ensued on the probability of the descendants of some of the ringers of the peal still residing in the village. The Rector and churchwardens promised to bring the matter before the Church Council at their next meeting with a view to having the peal recorded in the belfry.

The District Secretary reported that he had received a prospectus of Mr. Morris' book, and suggested ways whereby each band might procure a copy. A copy belonging to Mr. Edwards was handed round for inspection.

Votes of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, etc., to Col. Sir Henry Streatfield for kindly entertaining them to tea, and to the other gentlemen for their attendance, were passed, and the members adjourned to the tower.

THE STEDMAN TERCENTENARY.

FUND REACHING ITS CLOSE.

We are getting now towards the close of the fund which we set out to raise in order that the tercentenary of the birth of Fabian Stedman may be fittingly commemorated. The total amount subscribed has exceeded expectations, but it is not more than can be usefully spent in carrying out a complete restoration of the bells at St. Bene't's Church, Cambridge, where Stedman rang, and putting the tower into efficient condition, in addition to providing a suitable memorial tablet and paying the expenses incidental to such a scheme.

The preliminaries involved in preparing for the work are now almost concluded, and Saturday, September 26th, as announced last week, has been provisionally fixed for the reopening of the bells and the commemorative festival. This event is likely to be a memorable one, and already ringers in many parts of England are contemplating a pilgrimage to Cambridge for the occasion. With all the facilities which are offered by motor coach and rail in these days, parties of ringers from any point within a radius of a hundred miles of Cambridge could easily make the excursion, and it is hoped arrangements will be possible for a full and interesting day's programme.

In the meantime ringers should reserve the date. In many towers they may also like to adopt a plan, which is already being followed in one or two places, of forming a 'club' into which weekly sums can be paid toward the cost of the excursion.

Those who wish to be personally, or through their towers, associated with the commemoration scheme, should send their donations without delay to:

The Editor,
'The Ringing World,'
Woking, Surrey.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Broadlands, Caversham, Reading, is the Hon. Treasurer of the Fund, and all contributions will be acknowledged in 'The Ringing World.'

The Lancashire Association, the Warwickshire Guild, the London County Association and the Cumberland Association are among the contributors to the Fund during the past week.

STEDMAN'S BOOKS.

WHY HE DID NOT PRINT THEM.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I am afraid Mr. Drake's argument is not good enough. If there is one thing about Stedman (outside his books) which has been proved, it is that he was a printer by trade. That was the tradition of the Exercise preserved by Shipway, and Mr. Morris has discovered contemporary corroboration. To say that the tradition is founded on the mistake of a Leicester ringer will not do.

And Stedman could not have been a publisher because that trade did not exist in the seventeenth century, nor till well on in the nineteenth. What publishing there was, was done by booksellers, and Stedman was not a bookseller.

But, it is argued, if he were a printer, why did he go to W. Godbid in London to get his books printed? Why did he not do it himself in Cambridge? Why he went to London we perhaps might know if we knew who financed the books. Presumably they were not published by subscription. The College Youths may have found the money, but we don't know, and it is futile to try and guess. But we do know why he did not print them himself. The sufficient reason is that he was not allowed to. In those days a man could not print and publish a book just as he pleased. A Licensing Act (13 and 14 Car. II. c. 33) was passed in 1662 which limited the number of master printers and type foundrymen, and forbade any printing press to be set up without notice to the Stationers' Company. Sir Roger L'Estrange was appointed licenser under this Act, or, as he was called, 'surveyor of the imprimery.' He had advocated in a published pamphlet that the number of master printers should be limited to twenty, but whether that was the actual number allowed

I cannot say. His powers were most extensive. All printing presses in England, and all sellers of books and papers were under his control. He alone had authority to write, print, or publish anything in the nature of a newspaper. He had the right to enter and search premises for unlicensed presses and books. His subordinates found a man, named John Twyn, in Clothfair, with a book in process of being printed. Twyn was tried, convicted and executed. The Act was in force until 1679, when it expired and was not at the time renewed. It covered the period during which Stedman's two works were published. Here is sufficient reason why Stedman did not print his own books. It has never been suggested that he was a master printer; probably he was employed in some way by University or College authorities.

On the 'Tintinnalogia' you will find L'Estrange's name and his license dated Novemb. 1, 1667; but though the Act was still in force and he was still licenser, it does not appear in the 'Campanalogia.' There is a reason. The year 1677 was the time when there was a great agitation against Roman Catholics, which culminated in the supposed Popish Plot, which the notorious Titus Oates pretended to have discovered. L'Estrange, who, as might be expected, had made himself very unpopular, was accused (unjustly) of being a Papist, and thought it safest to flee the country for a time. And so Stedman's book appeared without his license.

Roger L'Estrange filled quite a large place in the history of the time. He came of an old Norfolk family, and it is interesting to know that one of his descendants, direct or collateral, I am not sure which, was the author of 'Bells of Norfolk.'

A good deal may yet come to light about Stedman and his books, but guessing only confuses the issue.—Yours truly,

J. A. TROLLOPE.

SHAKESPEARE AND STEDMAN—A PARALLEL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I am profoundly interested in the Stedman Tercentenary, and particularly in the correspondence that is appearing in your columns in connection with it.

It is singular that no one has pointed out the curious parallel between what we know and can conjecture of the life of Fabian Stedman and that of William Shakespeare. Only one solid fact seems to emerge incontrovertible in connection with each, namely, that there are immortal works existing in their respective names. The strange obscurity that envelopes the life history of Shakespeare has led to the theory that the masterpieces generally attributed to him were not really his. A similar supposition with regard to Fabian Stedman would solve many of the difficulties which have occurred to Mr. R. A. Daniell and the Rev. Herbert Drake. I venture to put forward, and with confidence assert, that the real author of both the 'Tintinnalogia' and the 'Campanalogia' was not Fabian Stedman but—Francis Bacon.—Yours faithfully,

J. S. PRITCHETT.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

QUARTERLY MEETING.

The July quarterly meeting was held at Monk's Kirby on Saturday. There was a poor attendance, only fourteen sitting down to tea, which was served at the Denbigh Arms, while a few others arrived later. The counter attractions of Nuneaton and Rugby carnivals evidently proved too strong.

Monk's Kirby, though but a village of few inhabitants, boasts a large and imposing church, big and beautiful enough to grace a city, while its bells are renowned in the Midlands. The Earls of Denbigh have been associated with the place for many generations, their country seat (Newnham Paddox) having one entrance in the village.

Guild members from Allesley, Brinklow, Chilvers Coton, Clifton, Leicester, Nuneaton, Shilton, Stoke and Wolvey, were present at the meeting. Following tea, came the business meeting. Mr. J. H. W. White (Ringing Master) was elected to the chair, and apologies were received from the president (Rev. J. A. B. Davies) and Mr. F. W. Perrens.

Upon a proposition made by Mr. A. W. Bond, seconded by Mr. A. N. Beamish, it was unanimously decided to send two guineas to the Stedman Tercentenary Fund.

The following places were decided upon for the next three meetings: Allesley for August, Allesley for September, and Warwick for October (quarterly), the date for which was altered from October 17th to 24th.

The election of two members prior to a peal was ratified—Mr. E. Pearson, of Deddington, Oxon, as a non-resident life member, and Mr. G. Robins, of Coventry, as a resident ringing member.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells.

Ringing continued during the evening, in various methods, until eight o'clock. Ringing on handbells included a course of Grandsire Triples by: W. A. Stote 1-2, A. W. Bond 3-4, F. R. Whitehead 5-6-7-8; and a course of Cambridge Minor by: C. Wildsmith 1, A. W. Bond 2, F. R. Whitehead 3-4, W. A. Stote 5-6.

THE OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD, 1881—1931.

BY CANON G. F. COLERIDGE.

To-morrow the Oxford Diocesan Guild will celebrate its Jubilee—the late Rev. F. E. Robinson and the Rev. Cyril W. O. Jenkyn. Few of the original members now survive, but among them are the Rev. Canon G. F. Coleridge, and his recollections of the early days of the Guild and some of the men who helped to build up its success will be read with interest.

A boy in a Berkshire elementary school, at the time of the second jubilee of Queen Victoria, after writing an account of the doings on the day of jubilee, concluded his effort with the statement: 'The Queen have sat on her throne for 60 years, but is still healthy and in good condition.' If his son were writing to-day on the jubilee of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, he might well conclude with the same words: 'Still healthy and in good condition.' And if we should ask, 'Why is the Guild keeping its 50th year, after all that lapse of time, still healthy and in good condition?' we should truly answer that it is in this happy state because the tender child which first saw light 50 years ago was so skilfully nurtured and set on its feet by those who fostered its early years, that from its birth it has conway, that from that day to this the Guild has prospered and spread its influence throughout the diocese.

With no recollection as to the precise number of members in 1881, we find that a year or so later the Guild had enrolled 188 members, viz., 9 life, 55 honorary and 124 ringing members, with five branches attached, including the 'East Berks and South Bucks' and 'Sonning Deanery' associations, formed a year or more previously. These two organisations promptly threw in their lot with the Guild, making one diocesan body. Compare these numbers with those of last year—honorary 302, ringing members 2,176, with 15 branches, not including the University Society recently come to the front again in the 60th year of its age—and it will be appreciated how great are the strides the Guild has made from its infant days.

THE LATE REV. F. E. ROBINSON.

tinued to grow strong and virile during its 50 years of life, bidding fair to attain to a hoary old age of vigour and usefulness.

The recollections of a member from the beginning, residing in the diocese at the time the Guild was first talked about and constituted, and who took a rope in the first Guild peal, November 27th, 1881, may be of interest to members of less standing, and, possibly, to ringers in other parts of the country. The Guild may be said to have sprung out of a paper read by the Rev. R. H. Hart-Davis, Vicar of Dunsden, before the members of the Wokingham Clerical Society; the Rector of Bearwood, the Rev. Dolben Paul, was present as a fellow-member; the idea of starting a Diocesan Guild caught on, and these two incumbents, neither of them ringers, and having only one and two bells in their churches, set to work and arranged a preliminary meeting at Reading late in 1880, when it was decided to found a Guild for the whole diocese of Oxford, containing some 650 parishes in the three archdeaconries of Oxon, Berks and Bucks. The actual date of the foundation of the Guild was January 17th, 1881, when the Rev. F. E. Robinson was elected Master and the Rev. Dolben Paul secretary. So well were the foundations laid, so good were the rules as drawn up, so keen and energetic were the founders in making the Guild known and in furthering its interests in every

THE REV. CYRIL W. O. JENKYN.
Present Master of the Guild.

Of course, the excellent rules as at first drawn up have had to be amended and revised from time to time, as necessity and new problems demanded. The very first alteration in the original draft was made by the president, Bishop Mackarness, who objected to the term, 'performing member,' saying that 'it savoured of a monkey and organ.' 'Ringing member' was substituted in deference to his criticism, and has so remained ever since. He it was, the first of the six episcopal presidents, who preached at an early festival held at Abingdon, and was astounded at the presence of over 300 ringers at the service, never thinking there were so many in his diocese. Ringers in those days were but little accounted of. Recollection goes back and brings Bishop Paget to mind—his preaching at the festival held at Chipping Norton, where, unable to remain for the meeting and dinner, he hurried round from the vestry to the south door in his robes and shook hands with every ringer, with kindly words, as they left the church. Appreciated as he was in the University, he was no less revered by railway employees, and by the simple folk in country parishes, always having a kindly word for the humblest inhabitant. One little story we may give. Visiting a tiny parish, with some twelve children in the village school, just

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION. INTERESTED VISITORS AT CASTLETON.

A very pleasant meeting of the Peak District was held at Castleton on Saturday, about sixteen members turning up from Bakewell, Castleton, Darley Dale, Dore, Eyam, Heanor, Rotherham and Sheffield. The bells were kept going at intervals from 3.30 to 8 p.m. in Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Plain Bob, and Stedman and Grand-sire Triples, some very creditable touches being brought round. A very enjoyable tea was arranged at the residence of Mr. Payne, and was followed by a short business meeting presided over by the Rev. W. P. Wright.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Fairfield (Buxton) on Saturday, August 27th.

The question of the jubilee meeting of the M.C.A. was brought forward by the secretary, and suggestions invited.

The usual votes of thanks were carried, and were suitably responded to by Mr. J. W. Payne. Afterwards, a little handbell ringing was indulged in by some members, others going to the church for more ringing, and others proceeding to explore the many interesting caverns and other places of interest which abound nearby.

It might be mentioned that most of the ringing during the day was accomplished before a large number of interested visitors, some of them of foreign origin, who had obviously never seen anything of the kind before. A sudden breakdown and a tendency to a little back-chat caused obvious amusement, while the final touch of 672 Grandsire Triples, in which Miss M. Benton, of Dore, the only lady present, rang the 5th, caused very great interest among the many lady spectators. Altogether a very pleasant and interesting meeting.

before an occasion of national rejoicing, probably the coronation day of King Edward, he was told of the arrangements made for its due observance in the village, and was asked for his opinion on them. He highly commended the scheme proposed, but added, 'Of course, you will roast the fowl whole.' Of his successor, Bishop Gore, and his impromptu Latin epitaph on a deceased worthy, delivered to a few clergy round him at the head of the table, at a festival held at Christ Church, one of the wittiest things imaginable, we cannot now speak, nor of the other three presidents, Dr. Stubbs, Dr. Burge, and Dr. Strong, the present diocesan, who is to preach at the jubilee festival. Enough to say that none have been mere figure heads, but have been ever ready to preach for the Guild or for bell dedications. So, too, have the late Bishop of Reading, the Bishop of Buckingham, and Bishop Shaw, the Assistant Bishop, to say nothing of the Archdeacons, all showing a deep interest in the Guild. While six Bishops have been presidents during the last fifty years, the Guild has only had two Masters, the late Rev. F. L. Robinson and the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, the one holding office for 28 years, the other for 22. Long may the term be extended! The old Master, as is well known, laid great store on peal ringing, always, if in any way possible, getting together a picked band of peal ringers for a peal on the morning of the annual festival, that those who came for the service might have a demonstration of ringing at its best. It was his belief that the art could be best furthered by ringing as many peals as possible in as many towers as were obtainable in the diocese. His successor, however, has always felt that more good would be done by his personal attendance at branch and even smaller meetings, for business counsel rather than ringing. But few Saturdays must there be in the year which do not see him setting forth, generally having the Guild secretary and treasurer as companions, en route for some branch meeting in the huge diocese—a thing, of course, impossible in early days before the coming of the motor-car. Both Masters have ever been in great requisition as preachers on many a ringing occasion.

Admirable secretaries, and equally admirable treasurers, have from the beginning served the Guild faithfully and proved their more than ordinary worth. With the three trustees, twelve elected members, and 44 representatives of the 15 branches on the committee, the Guild cannot be styled 'a one-man job'—all are keenly interested in the working and good government of the Guild, and do their level best to keep it in a high state of efficiency.

In the early days there was much peal ringing under the chief instructor, Mr. J. W. Washbrook, who, in conjunction with the Master, amassed a great number of peals, placing the Guild for many years near the head of the list in peal ringing. With the departure of these two, far fewer peals were rung, but it is satisfactory to note that many young conductors have come to the front fully qualified to take the place of the heroes of the past. It is most satisfactory also to note that the great majority of the members put service ringing first, as holding a more important place than mere pleasure peals. These may well be rung, but the scoring of peals is not so much the object of the Guild as the attachment of men and women to a definite service for God and His Church. This the Guild has ever fostered. Most of its early members have passed away, few only remain. May many of the younger members have the privilege of taking part in the centenary festival fifty years hence, and find as much satisfaction therein as the few old stagers do on the present occasion.

A REGISTER OF COMPOSITIONS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I do not think that people understand the difficulties of making and using a register of compositions. On the face of it there seems no reason why every extant peal cannot be collected, classified and published, so that when a man has composed (say) a three-part peal of Bob Major all he would need do would be to turn up Bob Major in the register, find the three-parts, and then, if the peal were there, it would not be his; but if it were not there, he could claim it as original. It seems quite simple, but in practice it would not be so easy, nor anything like so easy. Let me give an instance of what could and would happen.

Already there is in existence a complete register of one of the most important methods. Years ago I collected every available peal of Treble Bob, from every conceivable source. The number ran into thousands. These were classified according to a comprehensive system. The Rev. H. S. T. Richardson undertook the immense task of proving them, and Mrs. Fletcher typed them. They are now available for anyone to consult. There have been a few published since, but for all intents and purposes the register is complete.

Now suppose anybody takes any one of these peals, reverses it, starts at a different course-end, puts the alternative calling to some of the courses (thus altering the number of changes), and calls it a peal of Bristol Surprise. What are the chances (do you think) that it would be recognised as identical with one of these old compositions? I should say the chances would be very small indeed. An expert would be able to see it if he took enough trouble. When I was making the collection and had everything at my finger tips, I dare say I could have told you in a few minutes, but certainly not now. And the register would be no good unless any ordinary person could use it.

Or, again, suppose you took Penning's one-part peal of Grandsire Triples, reversed it, put in the singled-in block with H's instead of S's, and then applied it to St. Clement's Bob Triples by bobbing the same Q sets. How long do you think it would take another person to find out that the compositions were the same?

In other words, although you might have a complete register it would not give you the information you want. What would happen would be that a lot of peals would stand as original that could be got from older ones by the simplest processes of variation. That is what I meant when I said the standard would be lowered.

What register would tell an average person that the following are the same composition?

23456	M.	B.	W.	R.	23456	M.	B.	W.	R.
52364	2		2	2	36452	1			2
24365	2	—	1	2	34562			1	2
62453	2		2	2	63425	—			2
56234	2		2	2	35426	1			2
56342	2		2	1	65243	1		2	1
23645	2	—	1	1	24653			1	1
52436	—		2	2	52436	—			2
54326	1	—	2	2	35264	—			2
25463	2		2	2	63542	—			2
53462	2	—	1	2	65432			1	2
54632	1	—	2	2	36524	—			2
25346	2		1	2	64523	1			2
23456	1	—	2	2	23456	2	—		2

And if you gave the second set of figures to an expert, how long would it take him to check them against thousands of other compositions? I could give you some easy variations much more difficult to detect than this one, but they would take up too much room.—Yours sincerely,

J. A. TROLLOPE.

CUMBERLAND RINGERS' OUTING.

The ringers of St. Mary's, Egremont, Cumberland, held their annual outing on Saturday, July 4th. Leaving Egremont at 1.30 p.m. in an 'Austin 12,' the weather being all that could be desired, the run to Millom was thoroughly enjoyed. On arriving at the church tower, Mr. Slater was there to meet the visitors. The bells were soon going to London Surprise Minor, and a well-struck 720 was brought round, followed by 240 Cambridge Minor. At Broughton-in-Furness the party were met by Mr. Barker, who had everything in readiness. The bells, a nice ring of eight, were set going to Stedman and Grand-sire Triples. After tea, a delightful run of 9½ miles brought the excursionists to Ulverston, where Mr. Walker conducted the party to the church. The bells, a handy ring of six, were set going to Cambridge Surprise Minor, and a very nice 720 was brought round. Afterwards a 360 Bob Minor was rung with some of the local men. Home was eventually reached at 11.30, and the order, 'No one to be late for service ringing in the morning,' was given out and had the desired effect. All turned out for service, and a 564 Grandsire Triples was successfully brought round. The thanks of all are due to the Vicars and local ringers who helped so much to the success of the day.

RECOGNITION OF LONG SERVICE.

AN INTERESTING PRESENTATION.

The monthly meeting of the Wirral Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild, held at St. Oswald's, Bidston, on Saturday last, was made the occasion of a very interesting presentation, Mr. William Wilcox being the recipient of a bell-shaped inkstand. Mr. Wilcox has been a ringer at Bidston for the past forty-eight years, and now feels it incumbent on him to retire from active participation in bell-ringing.

At the meeting which followed an excellent tea, to which about thirty sat down, Mr. H. S. Brocklebank (secretary) called upon Mr. J. W. Milner (branch patron) to make the presentation.

Mr. Milner spoke of the long time during which Mr. Wilcox had belonged to that tower, and said that in these days of restlessness it was good to find one who had stayed in one place and at one church for so long a period. At the same time, such consistency in service carried with it a sense of responsibility which those who moved about more or less escaped. He appealed to the younger members—of whom he was pleased to see so many present—to endeavour to follow the example of Mr. Wilcox, so that they, too, in years to come, could look back on as splendid a record. He then, in a few well-chosen words, asked Mr. Wilcox to accept the gift as a small token of the appreciation of the branch for his work on behalf of change ringing in the district.

The inscription on the inkstand read: 'Presented to William Wilcox, Esq., in appreciation of his valuable services to change ringing, by members of the Wirral Branch, July 18th, 1931.'

Mr. Wilcox briefly replied, thanking the ringers for their kindness. He would always cherish the gift, and would be reminded, on looking at it, of the many pleasant hours he had spent in the belfry and out of it—studying, walking to and from practices and meetings, etc.—and of the many friends he had made during that time. He felt that the time had arrived when he must curtail his activities, and wished the Guild every success in the future.

The Rev. T. M. Standing (Vicar) said how pleased he was to be at such a unique gathering, and spoke very highly of Mr. Wilcox's services to the belfry.

Mr. Geo. R. Newton (vice-president of the Lancashire Association) said that on behalf of the Liverpool ringers he would like to add his testimony to Mr. Wilcox's sterling qualities. When he (the speaker) commenced bellringing, Mr. Wilcox was looked upon as one of their 'heroes,' and there was no doubt that he had done much for the art in the Wirral district, by attending practices at various churches and helping in every possible way.

Messrs. J. Walters and S. Strong (Wallasey) and Geo. Phillips (Woodchurch) also added their testimony to the worth of Mr. Wilcox. Mr. Walters recalling some amusing episodes of their walks together to various churches on dark winter nights.

During the afternoon and evening the six bells were kept going in a variety of methods, all present being catered for, and the meeting was voted most enjoyable by all.

THE LATE MR. PERCY O. LAFLIN.

FUNERAL AT KING'S NORTON.

The funeral of the late Mr. Percy O. Laflin, of King's Norton, took place on Thursday, July 9th. The Rev. T. S. Dunn, Vicar of King's Norton, officiated at the service both in church and at the grave, situated quite close to the tower and bells which Mr. Laflin loved so well. There was a numerous congregation present, including members of the British Legion, who saluted the coffin as it was borne from the church. Members of St. Martin's Guild were represented by Messrs. F. B. Yates, J. George, C. Webb, J. Betterton, H. Williams, A. P. Smith, T. Russam, A. Walker and J. Neal, the four last-named ringing a course of Triples over the grave, while afterwards a short muffled touch was rung on the tower bells. In the evening a muffled quarter-peat of Grandsire Caters was rung by the King's Norton St. Nicholas' Guild, conducted by A. Chambers. There were wreaths from the widow and two sons; the British Legion; St. Martin's and King's Norton ringers; and others.

On Tuesday evening of last week the bells of St. Martin's Church, Birmingham, were rung half-muffled.

The late Mr. Laflin was born at Bury St. Edmunds, Suffolk, on April 5th, 1837, and went to Birmingham early in 1869. For four years he worked with the late Mr. John Carter at Wobley and Scott's revolver works, Birmingham. Early in 1914 he found a post at King's Norton with the Prudential Assurance Co. He served overseas during the Great War, 1915 to 1918, and then resumed his duties at King's Norton, but a seizure early this year compelled him to resign from the Prudential. His end was sudden, but not unexpected by those who knew him so well. He was actively interested in the belfry of King's Norton, and was mainly responsible for the recasting of the old eight bells and the present grand ring of ten bells by Taylor and Co., Loughborough. His love of bells was kept alive to the last, and though he was largely confined to his bedroom he found means to be taken to hear the bells at King's Norton and other towers, and to meet his friends for a short chat. He rang altogether 114 peals, ranging from Minor to Sextuples. An excellent ringer and conductor, he was satisfied with nothing but the best. May he rest in peace. A. W.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting of the Central Division was held at the eight-bell tower of Bolney on Saturday, July 11th, and though there were not so many present as expected, several late arrivals brought the number to about 35 or 40 for the occasion. Ringing commenced at 2.45, and continued until 4.30, when a short service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. W. Michell). Afterwards a capital tea in the garden of the Eight Bells Inn, opposite the church, was followed by the usual business meeting, the Vicar presiding. The following new members were elected: Mrs. A. Diserens, F. Rowsell, J. A. W. Pittfield and T. H. I. Pittfield, and Mrs. F. Bennett (hon. annual member). The election of Mr. Arthur Markwell, Bletchley, Bucks, was confirmed. By the kindness of the Rev. S. Swan, Vicar of Lindfield, and of the Bolney Branch, the cost of the tea was 9d. each instead of the advertised price of 1s. 3d.

The Master (Mr. J. T. Rickman) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar of Bolney for the use of the bells, and the service, and to the Vicar of Lindfield and the Bolney Branch for their kindness in contributing towards the cost of the tea.

Ringling was again resumed, and continued until about 7.30. It was much regretted that Mr. Geo. Walder, secretary of the Bolney Branch, was prevented by illness from being present. He was visited by the divisional secretary, who expressed the hope of a speedy recovery. Ringling during the day ranged from Grandsire to London Surprise Major.

The following towers were represented: Bolney, Brighton (St. Peter's and the Good Shepherd), Crawley, Cuckfield, East Grinstead, Lewes (Southover), Lindfield, Lower Beeding, Seaford, Turner's Hill, Uckfield and Warnham. Mr. D. Cooper (Beddington) and Mr. Swift (Devises) were present as visitors.

HERTFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

A meeting of the St. Albans District was held at Harpenden on July 4th, and was attended by ringers from St. Albans, Luton, Hitchin, Kimpton, North Mimms and members of the local band. A variety of methods was rung up to Superlative and Cambridge Surprise. A service was held at 5 p.m., at which the Rev. S. W. Veitch (the new Rector of Harpenden) gave an interesting address, in which he pointed out that in ringing the bells there must be absolute concord among the ringers, which should be applied to the lives of everyone. The association's form of service was used, and the organist also gave his services.

Tea was followed by the business meeting, at which one hon. member was elected, and it was decided to hold the next meeting at Hatfield.

The usual vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector for use of bells and his address, to the organist for his services, to the organiser of the tea, and to Mr. Ben Jarman for making all arrangements.

YEOVIL RINGERS' OUTING.

Yeoovil Parish Church Guild had their annual ringing tour on Saturday, June 27th. They made the first stop in the charabanc journey at Winscombe, where they were heartily welcomed, and rang the bells of the church. They then went on to Wrington, and rang touches there. Lunch was partaken of at Bristol, where the Vicar of Yeoovil (Rev. J. E. S. Harrison) met them and presided, and expressed his thanks to the ringers for their services during the year. He also outlined the work which was being done to the bells in the Parish Church tower, and said he hoped when it was completed all their difficulties would be gone. After visiting the various places of interest in Bristol, the party were entertained to tea by the Parish Warden (Alderman W. E. Tucker) and Mr. John Goodchild (steward of the Guild). The members spent some considerable time ringing at St. Stephen's, Bristol, and then left for home after a most enjoyable day.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

A meeting of the Guildford District was held at Haslemere on Saturday, July 11th, when 28 members and visitors attended from the local band, Aldershot, Portsmouth, Grayshott, Petersfield, Guildford Cathedral, Lichfield and Witley, but of these only thirteen were actually district members, and this number included the Master, six of the local band, the District Ringing Master and Secretary. It was rather disappointing that more district members did not take advantage of the opportunity of ringing on this first-class ten, but the smallness of the number attending was no doubt largely accounted for by the fact that all the ten-bell ringers in the district (other than the local band) were away on their annual outing.

The Rev. Newton gave an excellent address as part of the usual service.

The Master presided at the business meeting, at which the district secretary read the representatives' report of the Central Council meeting.

Messrs. G. Joy and E. Balchin, of Chiddingfold, were elected ringing members, Mr. A. J. Sowerbutts, of Guildford, an honorary member, and the election of Mr. Robert Swift, at St. Martin's belfry, Epsom, as a compounding member was confirmed. The bells were kept going in various methods, including Bristol Surprise Major, until eight o'clock in the evening, in spite of the verbal protests of an individual, who has recently taken up residence at Haslemere, and who, it is understood, attends at the church promptly on the first note of the treble to express his personal opinion of bell-ringers in general and the local band in particular.

DISTRICT REARRANGEMENT SUGGESTED.

The Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild met at Hawley on Saturday, when it was decided to ask the executive committee of the Guild to reconsider the boundaries of the Guildford and Farnham Districts, particularly in view of a new tower—Grayshott—shortly coming into the Guild. Geographically, Grayshott is connected with the towers of the Guildford District, which already has twice as many as the Farnham District, and while recognising that Grayshott is much more conveniently situated for joining the Guildford District, it was thought some rearrangement might be made.

Mr. A. R. Powys, secretary of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, was elected an hon. member of the Guild, and Mrs. G. L. Grover, wife of the hon. secretary of the Guildford District, was elected an hon. life member—both on the motion of the hon. treasurer (Admiral T. P. Walker).

Fawley is a tower on the extreme border of the diocese, and the meeting was not largely attended, but some excellent ringing practice was put in in the standard methods, while after tea the arrival of additional visitors from Portsmouth, who had been attending a Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild meeting in the neighbouring tower of Yateley, added to the belfry activities.

A service was conducted in the afternoon by Canon Parsons (in the absence of the Vicar), who gave a welcome to the Guild and an interesting address.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar, Canon Parsons, the organist, and the caterers.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

CANTERBURY DISTRICT

Although the weather in the early afternoon was not on its best behaviour, the summer meeting of the Canterbury District, held at St. Peter's, Thanet, on Saturday, was a great success. Forty-one members attended, representing Canterbury (Cathedral and St. Alphege), Deal, Herne, Littlebourne, St. Lawrence, St. Nicholas-at-Wade, Margate, Sturry, Wickhambreau, Walmer and Brabourne. The Vicar of St. Peter's (Rev. K. Percival Smith, M.C.) had placed the bells at the disposal of the ringers from 2.30 p.m., and full advantage was taken of the early start. The Vicar officiated at the association service, and gave an address, commencing with a message of welcome to the ringers, and continuing by reminding the ringers of their part in the service of the church. He remarked that he considered they were a definite link between worship in the church and the public outside.

Mr. Tatham presided at the organ, and the splendid music was greatly appreciated. Afterwards the ringers adjourned to the Red Lion Hotel, where the church authorities had provided an excellent meat tea. The Vicar presided, and was supported at the head of the table by Mr. W. Fairhead (the local secretary), Messrs. F. Brett and H. Smith (district representatives) and Mr. Percy W. Smith (district secretary).

The business meeting which followed was of short duration. Three names were proposed for the next by-meeting, Chilham, St. Lawrence and Herne, and St. Lawrence was chosen by a very small margin of two votes.

In replying to a vote of thanks for his entertainment and help, proposed by Mr. F. Brett, the Vicar said that apparently the rain had the same effect on the meeting as upon a stream—it caused it to swell gradually.

Ringing was afterwards continued until 8.30 p.m.

UNIVERSITY RINGING ORGANISATIONS

One of the most interesting facts recalled at the Oxford Diocesan Guild's jubilee celebration last Saturday was the part which members of the Oxford University Society of fifty and more years ago played in the formation of several of the great diocesan and county ringing organisations. Canon Coleridge was able to point to the share taken by Oxford men in the establishment of the Devon Guild, the Gloucester and Bristol Association, the Essex Association, the Winchester Guild, the Oxford Guild and the Salisbury Guild. On such an occasion, with a Cambridge Master in the chair and a Cambridge President of the Central Council also present, this gave the opportunity for some pleasantries which the large company fully enjoyed, but Canon Coleridge had a right to be proud of the work done in those now distant days by the University Society of which he himself was a distinguished member.

As a matter of fact, the Exercise owes a great deal to the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge. Both have given us ringers who have, for half a century, been leaders in the Art, and have played an important part in promoting the advance of change ringing. The Oxford Society, which is just now taking on a new lease of life, has not been so consistently active as the ringing guild of the sister University, but the latter has been favoured by the services of the same President for over fifty years. The Oxford Society, however, has sent out many men famous in ringing and more than justified its existence by the part its members played in setting up those organisations which have gone on to do so much for the art in the last half century.

Cambridge University has given us many brilliant men and have supplied not only the present occupant of the Presidential chair of the Central Council, but men who are at this moment guiding the destinies of, among other organisations, the Lancashire Association, the Oxford Guild, the Lincoln Guild, the Chester Guild, the Sussex Association, the Hereford Guild and the Ely Association. In other organisations there are to be found a number who occupy less conspicuous positions but are doing no less good work, and are able to give valuable help in raising the services of ringers to a higher plane. Those who have watched the progress of the associations through the last half century have had opportunities to observe the influence which some of the men from the Universities have been able to exert; but beyond this there has been an incalculable good done indirectly through those who have learned their ringing or had their appetite for it whetted by their connection with the Oxford University Society or the Cambridge University Guild. could only wish that there were even more men from these seats of learning—especially among the many who intend to enter the church—who could be induced to take up ringing in their undergraduate days. That it is possible to find time for the art amid their other studies at the Universities is obvious from the men who have come into the Exercise through this channel. If their numbers could be multiplied it would be all to the gain of the Art. In any case we hope the activities of both will never diminish, but go on gathering strength and usefulness through the years.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

DORCHESTER BRANCH AT UPWEY.

The summer meeting of the Dorchester Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild was held at Upwey on Saturday, the towers represented being Bradford Peverell, Bere Regis, Dorchester, Fordington St. George, Frampton, Sydling, Upwey and Wyke Regis. The Wimborne Branch were represented by Bourne-mouth St. Peter's and St. John's, Poole and Wareham, and North Dorset Branch by Kington Magna, Mere (Wilts), and the West Dorset Branch by Evershot, while visitors came from Ycovil, Newcastle, and Leamington. The bells (also Abbotsbury) were available for ringing until 4.30 p.m., when the Guild office was held in the church, conducted by the Rev. A. S. Bryant (Rector), assisted by the Master (the Rev. R. H. Gundry), who gave an address which was most inspiring, taking as his text, 'He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.' Following the service it was arranged to adjourn to the Rectory lawn for tea and meeting, but owing to a shower this had to be transferred, to the regret of all, to the schoolroom, where a bounteous tea was partaken of, members and friends to the number of 92 being waited upon by a willing band of ladies under Mrs. Bryant (wife of the Rector). After tea, a business meeting was held. The chairman (Mr. R. N. Dawes) sent a telegram stating that he was unable to be present owing to indisposition, and the Master presided.

Sympathetic reference was made by the chairman and secretary to the sudden passing of Mr. W. 'John' Benger, captain of St. Peter's ringers, Dorchester, one of the finest stalwarts in ringing circles in Dorset. Both paid a very high tribute to him, and the hon. secretary read letters from the general secretary (Rev. C. A. Phillips) and the Ringing Master of the West Dorset Branch (Mr. F. Bugler), both paying tribute to the fine services of such a loyal and zealous member of the Guild. The company then stood in respectful silence.

Mr. S. G. Dubben, of Sydling, was elected an associate member, and it was resolved to hold the next quarterly meeting at Wool.

Reference was made by the hon. secretary to the way the members were taking interest in their meetings, and especially the way the Bere Regis ringers attended, this being due to the keen interest in the Guild and through the generosity of Mr. William Bedford, of the Manor House.

The Chairman proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector for his kindness and keen interest, for taking the service, the use of the bells and the schoolroom. A vote of thanks was also carried to the Master for giving such an excellent address and for presiding, to the organist, to the ladies who had waited upon them at tea, and to the secretary for the time and interest he devoted to organising their excellent meetings.—The Rev. A. S. Bryant suitably replied. A warm welcome was given to the visitors, and the meeting being concluded, the members visited the Wishing Well. Others rang on the church bells, and visited Abbotsbury to ring there, while a large number went on to Wyke Regis to put in some good practice.

The ringing at Upwey and Abbotsbury ranged from call changes to Cambridge and London Minor, first in the method on the bells, and at Wyke Regis Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Kent and Oxford and Double Norwich Major.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

SUGGESTED GRANTS FOR INSTRUCTION BOOKS.

Despite the inclement weather, there was a good muster at the meeting of the South-Western Division at Leyton.

The bells were raised by 3 p.m., and ringing in various methods took place. During a service conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Robert Brent) a parchment, giving the history of the bells, was unveiled by Mrs. C. Hughes, wife of the Master of the Leyton band. Owing to the rain, the tea, originally intended to be partaken of on the Vicarage lawn, was given in the Old Vicarage, fifty-five sitting down. At the usual business meeting, four new members were elected, and North Weald selected as the place for the next meeting.

A recommendation was made that the association consider the advisability of making small grants to needy towers with the object of purchasing instruction books, it being thought that by so doing the art of campanology would be advanced.

The meeting concluded with a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for allowing the use of tower and bells, to Mrs. Brent for kindly providing the tea, the ladies for their help and waiting at the tables, the organist and choir for accompanying the hymns, etc., Miss Dawson for her splendidly rendered solo, and to Mr. C. Hughes (Master) and the members of the Leyton band for having everything in readiness.

Those present also greatly appreciated the kindness of the Vicar in conducting them round and explaining the various objects of interest in this old and historical church. Tracks were then again made to the tower, and the bells kept going to various methods till 8.30 p.m., a most enjoyable afternoon having been spent once again at the Parish Church of St. Mary, Leyton.

TIPTON, STAFFS.—On Sunday afternoon, July 26th, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes) at St. Martin's Church, in 42 mins.: B. Windsor 1, G. Hughes 2, H. Goodman 3, T. W. Cattell 4, H. Griffiths 5, E. Williams 6, C. N. Winwood (conductor) 7, R. Morton 8.

THE PILGRIMAGE TO YPRES.

PROGRAMME OF THE VISIT TO MENIN GATE.

To-morrow a party of ringers, including a number who served in the Great War, will leave England on a pilgrimage to the Menin Gate, at Ypres, where, on Monday, a brief memorial service is to be held. The arrangements for the trip have been made by Mr. William Willson, of Leicester, and, while some of the party will return to England on Tuesday, others will spend the remainder of the week in Belgium. There has been a keen desire at the last moment to join the Pilgrimage, but, unfortunately, it has been necessary to refuse the latest applications, as the time was too short and the accommodation limited.

The members of the party will meet at Victoria Station (London) to-morrow at 11 a.m., and will travel by the Dover boat train at 11.30. The headquarters for the week will be: The Pension Myra, 4, Rue de la Plate Forme, Ostend, Belgium.

THE MENIN GATE.

where the memorial service is to be held on Monday.

On Monday a motor conveyance will take the party through the chief battlefields of the famous Salient, reaching Ypres at 12 noon, when, by permission of the Burgomaster, a short service will be conducted at the Menin Gate by the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, M.A., M.C. The prayers will be followed by a course of Caters on handbells, and a chapel will be deposited at the memorial. The chapel, of evergreens and poppies, has a metal bell inset, bearing in gold letters the inscription:—

YPRES.

To

Our Immortal Dead.
'The Ringers of England.'

Those who are taking part in the pilgrimage are informed that Sir Henry Lunn's representative will be in attendance at the barrier at Victoria Station, and another representative will meet the party at Ostend. Passports have to be shown at Dover, and baggage is examined, as a rule, at Ostend Customs. Correspondence for members should be sent to headquarters. The Belgian representative is Mr. J. L. Hancock.

NEW GUILD FORMED IN BRISTOL.

At a meeting held at Knowle Vicarage, Bristol, on July 22nd, it was decided to form a Guild of ringers under the title of 'The Holy Nativity Guild of Church Bellringers.' The Vicar (Rev. G. W. L. Wynne) is to be the ex-officio president; the churchwarden, Mr. W. Evans, was elected treasurer; Mr. Sidney Evans was elected hon. secretary; and Mr. W. A. Cave conductor.

Ten lads, all about the age of fifteen (nine of whom are members of the troop of Scouts connected with the church), were enrolled as members. Silent practice is to commence next month, and by kind permission of the Rev. E. L. A. Hertslet, this will take place at St. Mary Redcliffe.

A library is to be started, and an order for the first instalment of books has been sent to the hon. librarian of the Central Council.

The question of affiliation to any association was deferred to a later date. One application for membership was received from a ringer who wrote to say he had a certificate for ringing, but it was decided to restrict the membership to the ten already enrolled.

Work on the tower is proceeding, and the top is now level with the eaves. The faculty for the bells has been granted, and the order for both clock and bells has been placed with Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, and by Christmas Day it is hoped that all will be in full working order.

A GLOUCESTERSHIRE EXPEDITION.

A VISIT TO FAMOUS TOWERS.

The ringers of St. John-the-Baptist's, Hillingdon, held their sixth annual outing on a recent Saturday. Leaving the church at 7.30 a.m., the party, which included the Vicar of Hillingdon, the secretary of the Church Council, and a few ringing friends, proceeded by motor coach to Slough and Maidenhead. Passing through Dorchester and Abingdon, Appleton was reached at 9.30 a.m. Appleton is a small village some six miles south of Oxford, but the fame of its bells has spread far and wide amongst ringers. The bells are ten in number, with a tenor 14½ cwt. It was on these bells that the longest peal ever rung by one set of ringers, 21,363 changes of Stedman Caters, was accomplished in twelve hours and twenty-five minutes on April 22nd, 1922. The visitors had the privilege of meeting Richard White, who rang the 9th in the peal, and also rang Stedman and Grandsire Caters on the bells. A pleasant hour having been spent, the coach and party continued their way through Lechlade and Fairford. By far the most interesting feature in Fairford Church (excepting its bells, of course!) is the famous sixteenth-century stained-glass windows. There are twenty-one of these windows altogether, and they are said to be of English design and workmanship.

The next halt was made at the Roman Corinium, now known as Cirencester (but not so pronounced!). It was a place of considerable importance until the end of the mediæval era. Considering its fame and fortunes, it is odd that so little in the way of tangible evidences of its greatness remains. But its castle was destroyed in the eleventh century, and its splendid mitred abbey demolished at the time of the Dissolution, so that of its ancient splendour there is little to show but the Parish Church. But what a church it is, of the dimensions of a minor cathedral and the possessor of a magnificent tower and south porch, which is one of the architectural treasures of the country. The bells, of which there are thirteen, are worthy of their tower. The tenor weighs 29 cwt. The thirteenth bell was added by Taylor's to serve as a 'fire' bell, to be rung only by the police. However, by the time the gates were unlocked, the ninety odd steps to the ringing chamber ascended, and the warning given, the conflagration had usually gained a good hold. The system proved too expensive, and a hooter was substituted for the bell. The latter is a semi-tone, and being hung for ringing provides an extra ring of eight. Messrs. Lewis and Bond welcomed the visitors, and rounds, Stedman Caters and Cinques were rung on the bells. A tasty lunch had been prepared at Viner's Restaurant, and many hearty appetites were thereupon appeased! Rain commenced to fall at this period, and continued to do so in no uncertain fashion until the home area was reached in the evening. Although it soaked most things, it failed to even dampen the high spirits that defied it! Minchinhampton Common was crossed, but the wonderful views that can be seen from that delightful spot were hidden by a grey pall of rain and cloud. A somewhat precipitous descent led into the town of Stroud. No time was lost in seeking St. Lawrence's Church, it being drier in the ringing chamber! The ten bells, with a tenor of 21 cwt., were raised, and touches of Stedman and Grandsire Caters rung. Some difficulty was experienced in locating the coach when ringing was finished, and a search party scoured the town. When the coach was found, the driver was indulging in a very pleasant nap, and Stroud was eventually left some twenty minutes behind time!

Painswick, the next stop, is memorable not only for the beauty of its situation, but for the distinction of its old-world houses and cottages, its fine Perpendicular church, and the fact that Charles I. once slept in its interesting Court House. In its churchyard is a famous assembly of yew trees, which, incidentally, no one seems able to count properly, for the number varies in every account. The only thing certain is the falsity of an ancient tradition that there are ninety-nine, and that every attempt to complete the number up to the round hundred has always been frustrated. The bells of Painswick have long been famous for the extraordinary number of long peals that have been rung on them. They are a twelve that are a pleasure to ring and listen to, and it was a surprise to many of the visitors that the tenor is only 26 cwt. Stedman Cinques, Grandsire and Stedman Caters were rung, and it was with regret that the bells were lowered and the coach sought once more.

Between Cirencester and Gloucester lies the full width of the Cotswolds, a name which reduces the plain writer to a numb silence. For there is hardly a hill region in Great Britain which has inspired such a torrent of rhapsodical prose, verse and song. And even the most unemotional of Anglo-Saxons must admit that, to say the least, these fair green slopes certainly stimulate any inborn tendency to lyricism. It is not merely that they produce an endless succession of highly characteristic and charming landscapes; their atmosphere of peace and colour seems to have infected the villages, the farms and cottages, and even the very roads, which become avenues of enchantment instead of merely utilitarian channels of communication. Unfortunately, the drive to Cheltenham was marred by heavy rain, and the hills round were wrapped in driving masses of cloud. Even these had a beauty which is peculiar to these hills.

On arrival at Cheltenham, the Parish Church was sought out at once, and the visitors were quickly in the ringing chamber. The bells were raised, and time permitted of but one touch of Grandsire Cinques. In the open air again, a hasty inspection of the promenade

A DEVON EXCURSION.

On Saturday, July 18th, the ringers of Paignton Parish Church held their annual outing. Leaving at about 8.30 a.m., they proceeded via Totnes, Buckfastleigh (where they were joined by Mr. A. L. Bennett) and Ashburton to Buckland-in-the-Moor, where two capital touches of Grandsire Triples were rung on this handy little eight. The next move was to Widdicombe-in-the-Moor, where, unfortunately, the party found they were unable to do any ringing owing to broken stays. However, a short time was spent looking around the church, during which a musical member of the party played an anthem on the organ. Incidentally, a party of ringers from Beaminster arrived at the same time, and expressed regret at being unable to ring. The party moved on to Moretonhampstead, and it was thought that there might be a chance to ring here. It was learnt that someone working in the churchyard was in possession of the key, but as the individual could not be found the idea was, perforce, abandoned. The party, however, did full justice to an excellent lunch which had been provided at the Ring of Bells Inn, and after a little sing-song the journey was continued. An hour's run via Okehampton brought the party to North Tawton, and here some good touches of Grandsire Triples and Stedman Doubles were rung on these excellent going bells. The party then went on to Exeter via Crediton, and, after a short stay for tea at Deller's Cafe, made for home, which was reached at about 9.30, all having spent an enjoyable day.

was made, and Neptune and his fountain much admired. A stampede was made to the Cadena Cafe, and full justice done to the excellent tea that was awaiting the party. These Middlesex folk do like their grub!

Everybody having gathered themselves into the coach again, the homeward trek was commenced. Passing through Northbleach and Burford, a short halt was made at Witney for exercise (if necessary!) and refreshment. Nobody apparently wanting any blankets, a move was made once more. Incidentally, it was still raining! However, the 'Hillingdon Wind Band' gave selections en route to cheer everybody up; whether they succeeded remains a moot point! Possibly the wonderful melodies (sic) drove away the rain, for it had ceased when High Wycombe was reached. Hillingdon Church was arrived at at 10.20 p.m., when the party broke up, tired but happy. Some even fell to discussing where they should go next year!

Through the medium of 'The Ringing World' the best thanks of the ringers are extended to Messrs. White, Lewis, Wright and Pates for their kind assistance, which contributed in no small measure to the success of the outing, and to the various incumbents for their kindness in permitting their bells to be rung.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.PORTSMOUTH DISTRICT AT SOBERTON.

A quarterly meeting of the Portsmouth District was held at Soberton on Saturday last, when nearly 30 ringers and friends were present from Bishopstoke, Portsmouth (Cathedral and St. Mary's), Ryde, Swanmore, Titchfield, Twyford and Wickham. The bells were available from three o'clock, and, after some rope-splicing had been accomplished, they were set going until 4.30 p.m. The Guild's form of service was conducted by the Rector of Exton, in the unavoidable absence of the Rector of Soberton, who had recently undergone a serious operation. An inspiring address was also given by him, which was somewhat off the 'beaten track.'

An excellent tea was partaken of in the Girl Guides' Hut, after which the usual business meeting was held, the Rector of Exton occupying the chair.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Bishop's Waltham on Saturday, October 24th next; also a mid-week practice at Havant at a date to be decided by the secretary. Mr. G. H. Childs, J.P., a former ringer at Soberton, who was a member with Mr. G. Williams when the bells were augmented from six to eight in 1884, was elected, subject to his consent, an honorary member, as was also the Rector of Exton.

Votes of thanks were accorded the Rectors of Soberton and Exton and also the organist for their kindnesses, after which another visit was paid to the tower for further ringing, which, during the day, ranged from the standard methods to Cambridge, London and Bristol Surprise Major.

WEDDING OF A LEIGHTON BUZZARD RINGER.

A wedding was solemnised, on Tuesday, July 14th, between Mr. Albert E. Butcher, a ringer at All Saints' Church, Leighton Buzzard, and Miss Sybil K. Burns, of Bedford, the ceremony taking place at St. Martin's Church, Bedford.

The bridegroom has been a member of the belfry for fourteen years, and was previously a choirboy for eight years. He was presented with a dinner wagon and table bell by his friends in the Leighton Buzzard and Linslade belfries.

The happy couple left for their honeymoon at Torquay during the course of the afternoon.

The following band drawn from the two belfries rang a quarter-peal of Bob Major in 46 mins., at All Saints' Church, Leighton Buzzard, during the same evening: L. Lee 1, F. Jeffs 2, H. B. Whitney 3, F. Plummer 4, W. Jeffs 5, F. Vickers 6, J. Nicholls 7, J. E. Arnold (conductor) 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. William Pyc, who conducted last Saturday the first peal of Spliced Surprise Royal, also called the first peal of Spliced Surprise Maximus, as well as having conducted peals of Spliced Surprise Major up to twelve methods.

How many who were present at the Oxford Guild's jubilee celebration on Saturday will, we wonder, live to see the centenary? There certainly ought to be some, for there was no lack of 'young blood' present, including the 14-year-old son of Mr. A. D. Cullum, of Caversham, who was probably the youngest ringer there.

ANOTHER LIGHT PEAL OF TEN.

Two treble bells are to be added to the existing ring of eight at North Stoneham, Hants, in the near future. A generous offer to give the two bells has been accepted by the Parochial Church Council.

This augmentation will provide one of the lightest rings of ten in the country, as the tenor is only 9 cwt. 25 lb.

A 'CAMBRIDGE' WEEK.

Ringings 'weeks' will soon be in full swing. The first begins tomorrow, when, with Cambridge as headquarters, peals will be attempted as follows:—

	Morning.	Afternoon.
Saturday, August 1st ...	Ickleton.	Sawston.
Sunday, August 2nd ...		Fulbourne.
Monday, August 3rd ...	Great St. Mary's.	Bourn.
Tuesday, August 4th ...	Soham.	Mildenhall.
Wednesday, August 5th	Barkway.	Braughing.
Thursday, August 6th...	St. Ives.	Royston.
Friday, August 7th ...	Clare.	Long Melford.
Saturday, August 8th...	Littleport.

The headquarters will be at the Glengarry Hotel, 41, Regent Street, Cambridge.

A PROBLEM.

To the Editor.

Sir,—As I sat meditating, half-awake and half-asleep, the shades of four composers of Stedman Triples passed before my eyes, carrying manuscript copies of their peals, which will be found in the historic peals collection of the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies' 'Stedman.'

I noticed, in my dreams, that the sum of the number of calls in the four peals equalled 1,482, and that the sum of the number of calls in the second and third totalled 612; further, five times the number of calls in the third was greater by 74 than seven times the number of calls in the first. I desire to know the names of the four composers.

Now then, you mathematicians! Remember, it can be solved!—Yours faithfully,

ALBERT E. PARKER.

ANCIENT BEDFORDSHIRE BELL WELDED.

A Bedfordshire church bell, which was cracked more than 150 years ago, has just been successfully repaired by a modern scientific welding process. This bell belongs to Shelton Church, and was cast as long ago as 1634. The founder's name is not on the bell, but the design of a small shield cast in the inscription and the wording of the inscription show that it was made by Hugh Watts, of Leicester, who in the year that the bell was cast was Mayor of Leicester. The repairs were carried out by Barimar, Ltd., of Holborn, London.

The bell is in a remarkably fine state of preservation, the lettering being unusually well proportioned and regular, and the decorations are very beautiful. It is, indeed, one of the well-known Watts' Nazarene bells, of which there are said to be about 90 in Leicester-shire. The inscription on the bell is as follows:—

'1634.—Ihs Nazarene Rex Ivdeorum Fili Dei Miserere Mei.'

When the bell was made the iron clapper bolt was cast into it, and in the course of time expansion of the bolt through rust cracked the bell. The clapper bolt has now been removed, so that there is no fear of the bell cracking again.

Shelton Church is very old, and is now undergoing extensive restoration. There are some serious fissures in the tower, which will have to be repaired before the bell is rebung, but it is pleasant to know that after such a long silence, the bell should shortly be ringing again.

A READING COMMEMORATION.

At St. Laurence's Church, Reading, for evensong, on Sunday, July 26th, to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the Reading Blue Coat School, and also the 50th year of the Oxford Guild, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters (1,259 changes) in 55 mins.: A. D. Cullum (aged 14) 1, Miss D. Blencowe 2, Miss V. Robinson 3, C. Pullen 4, Miss P. Holloway 5, R. T. Hibbert (conductor) 6, L. Sadler 7, H. Smith 8, E. G. Foster 9, G. Holloway 10.

THE STEDMAN TERCENTENARY. SAFEGUARDING THE SAXON TOWER.

The committee who are responsible for carrying out the restoration of the bells at St. Bene't's Church, Cambridge, to commemorate the tercentenary of the birth of Fabian Stedman have engaged the services of Mr. F. W. Troup, F.S.A., F.R.I.B.A., of London, an architect of great experience in dealing with ancient buildings, and the work connected with the tower itself will be carried out under his advice and supervision. The old building has to be very carefully dealt with, but its security will be amply safeguarded by the steps which it is proposed to take, and which include the provision of a continuous reinforced concrete beam all round the tower to carry the main timbers supporting the bell frame and to spread the strain equally over the walls.

The generous response which has been made to the appeal will enable the scheme to be carried out in the most efficient manner possible, and the memorial to the man, to whom the art of ringing owes so much will be one fully worthy of the Exercise.

As we pointed out last week, the fund, organised by 'The Ringing World,' is reaching its close, and all who wish to be associated with the commemoration scheme should send their donations at once to:

The Editor,
'The Ringing World,'
Woking, Surrey.

The Hon. Treasurer of the fund is the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Broadlands, Caversham, Reading, and all contributions will be acknowledged in 'The Ringing World.'

At the jubilee meeting of the Oxford Diocesan Guild at Oxford on Saturday £10 was voted to the Stedman Tercentenary Fund, and the Shropshire Association, at their quarterly meeting the same day, made a grant of two guineas.

Saturday, September 26th, has been fixed as the date of the commemoration festival, and already there is the certainty of a memorable gathering for the unique event. Canon G. F. Coleridge has accepted the committee's invitation to preach at the thanksgiving service at St. Bene't's Church, where Stedman not only rang and first introduced his method, but where undoubtedly he worshipped, for he was parish clerk in 1670.

WHAT WAS STEDMAN'S PROFESSION?

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Trollope has not read my letter very carefully. I did not argue on one side or the other. I simply summed up the arguments on both sides, as they appeared to me. And while I pointed out that the facts in favour of Stedman being a printer are not as numerous as those on the other side, I hope I made it clear that neither side is proved, nor can be until we find more evidence. Certainly, to say now, as Mr. Trollope does, that it is proved that Stedman was a printer, is merely futile. I do not think I said anything about the mistake of a Leicester ringer. All I meant was, that it is not certain that when we say 'Stedman was a printer,' we are meaning the same thing as a Leicester ringer did when he used those words at that time.

It is not necessary for me to go into the question that Mr. Trollope raises, between publishers and booksellers. On the title page of 'Tintinnalogia' are the words: 'London. Printed by W. G. for Fabian Stedman, at his shop in St. Dunstan's Churchyard in Fleet Street. 1668.' And (over the page) there immediately follows: 'Licensed Novemb. 1, 1667. Roger L'Estrange.' I said that this shows that Stedman was the man who was prepared to 'stand the racket.' Mr. Trollope calls such a man a bookseller. And then immediately adds, 'Stedman was not a bookseller.' The printed book, licensed in the most formal and careful way, says he was. Which is most likely to be right?

Mr. Trollope says that Stedman could not print his own book because he was not allowed to. This is not a mere guess; it is a statement absolutely contrary to the evidence. Mr. Trollope shows very well, and we are grateful to him for what he writes here, that printers in those days had to be licensed. But in no way does he prove that Stedman was not licensed. Therefore, if he were a printer and were licensed, there was no reason why he should not have printed his books at Cambridge. Now the words that I have quoted prove (actually prove in this case, for there is no getting over them) that Stedman was licensed. And that he was licensed not as a printer, but as a publisher, or, as Mr. Trollope calls it, a bookseller. Is it in the least likely, that a printer at Cambridge (who, Mr. Trollope suggests, may not have been a master printer) would have been accepted by such a man as Mr. Trollope describes the licenser to have been, as a publisher or bookseller?

Mr. Trollope says that presumably these books were not published by subscription. This presumption is a mere guess on his part; but if it is correct, it makes it probable that Stedman was a man of some means, or was in touch with someone who was.

Mr. Trollope's guess that Stedman was employed in some way by the University or College authorities is a very wild one, if he were a printer. Colleges would not, and the University could not, employ a printer then. As a business man, he might have had work to do for a college, which would have taken him to London and Leicester, and have brought him into contact with printers. Any such guess seems more probable than that he was a printer himself.

I am glad to read that Alderman Pritchett is so interested in this correspondence. Besides the curious parallel to which he draws attention, there is another. I have, some years ago, shown how that much of Stedman's books were compilations of existing matter. Others have done the same with much of what Shakespeare wrote. In both cases it was the hand of the master who put in a new and valuable way things that were already known, as well as introducing new things of their own making. Further, who knows, if Mr. Trollope and Alderman Pritchett put their heads together, whether they may find out for us who is Mr. W. H., 'the onlie begetter of the Sonnets,' or T. T., 'the well-wishing adventurer.' They might even find the cypher of a new Principle, hidden in the Sonnets, or the cypher of a new play in the Stedman-Bacon books!

I must thank you for giving us the imprint from the title page of the 'Campanalogia.' Would it be possible for us altogether to join and get you to reprint the whole work, in this tercentenary year?

Woodbridge, Suffolk.

HERBERT DRAKE.

A SORRY STORY.

SILENT BELLS IN SUDBURY DISTRICT.

On Saturday week the Suffolk Guild, together with some friends from Essex, sat down to tea at the Parish Hall, Sudbury, to the number of fifty-nine. The Rector of St. Gregory's, the Rev. J. F. Hughes, in welcoming them, spoke of the fortunate position for musical representation in which Sudbury was. He referred humorously to his own attempts at ringing, and expressed the appreciation which Sudbury people felt for the good work the Guild was doing.

Mr. P. O. Bixby, of Long Melford, was then elected to the chair, and Mr. A. Alington's resignation having been accepted with regret, and thanks for his efficient services, Mr. Harold Herbert was elected in his place as district secretary. He was also asked by the meeting to act as secretary for the Clare District until another should be found to succeed him.

It was decided to hold a meeting at Cavendish and Glemsford on the first Saturday in October, and if the annual meeting could not be held in Bury next Easter, it was decided to hold it in Sudbury.

Both before and after the meeting touches in many different methods were rung on the three peals of eight bells in St. Gregory's, St. Peter's, and All Saints' Churches. Ringers from Earls Colne and from Cambridge were on their excursions that day, and joined with the Suffolk men in their ringing.

In connection with the Rector's remarks about Sudbury being especially favoured from a musical point of view, it was remarked that not only has the town three fine peals of bells in excellent condition, but that in the neighbourhood there are an unusually fine number of bells in the churches. Yet these instruments of music, the most costly things as a rule in a church, are rarely heard in this part of the country. For some strange reason few of the bells in the district are rung. In some cases someone has said that the tower is not safe. In others, the bells are 'clocked,' and subsequently cracked. 'Clocking' a bell means that the rope or a cord has been passed round the clapper in order that it may be rung quickly. Two quick blows on a large bell will crack it like glass. Yet in spite of the fact that many of these bells are already cracked, this pernicious practice is still pursued in the churches hereabouts. In no other neighbourhood are so many bells out of order as here. The towers that were mentioned at the meeting as being silent, or not having their bells properly rung, were Groton, Boxford, Korse, Edwardstone, Great Waldingfield, Great Cornard, Little Cornard, Newton, Bilsdon, in addition to Lavenham, where the bell frame has just been struck by lightning. The other churches do not seem to trouble at all about their bells, for they have not even asked the Suffolk Guild for advice, although that is what the Guild is for, and though it would cost them nothing. Is there anything sweeter than tuneful country bells, when they are well rung?

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD JUBILEE.

GREAT GATHERING OF RINGERS. INTERESTING SPEECHES.

The jubilee festival of the Oxford Diocesan Guild at Oxford on Saturday was marked with great enthusiasm. A gathering of over 350 ringers and friends assembled from all parts of the wide area of the diocese, which includes the three counties of Oxford, Berks and Bucks. They made an imposing congregation when they gathered in the Cathedral for the festival service, and they filled the great dining hall at Christ Church when they sat down together at luncheon. The history of the Oxford Diocesan Guild has been one of progress. There are now 209 towers in affiliation, 2,176 ringing members, and 302 honorary members. The total funds are now £266 2s. 6d., and during the fifty years £434 has been spent on instruction, and £184 on the restoration of bells.

The service in the Cathedral was conducted by the Master (Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn), and the lesson was read by Canon G. F. Coleridge. Bishop Shaw was also present.

The Bishop of Oxford was the preacher, and he took as his text the words, 'I was glad when they said unto me we will go into the House of the Lord.' He referred to the part which bells played in the service of the Christian Church, and pointed out that their call to the people applied as much to the ringers as to those outside. The Diocesan Guild, he said, recognised that its work contributed to the true and successful practice of the Christian religion throughout the diocese. Ringers were not merely a body of people interested in change ringing, but were definitely connected with the church and ought to be devout men and women, who obeyed the call as much as others outside. He took it that one reason for the existence of such a Guild as theirs was to promote the appreciation of this view, and it had helped to consecrate the work of ringers. He wished the Guild all possible success in their work in the future, and he congratulated them upon their long service in the diocese.

An offertory was taken for the Guild Bell Restoration Fund, and the service concluded with the 'Te Deum.' The collection amounted to £7 6s.

On account of the large number present—every one of the 15 branches of the Guild was represented—it was not possible to hold the business meeting in the Chapter House, as has been the custom, and the members proceeded to the Town Hall, where the Master expeditiously conducted this part of the proceedings. He was supported on the platform by Mr. A. J. Wright (hon. treasurer), Mr. R. T. Hibbert (general secretary), Canon G. F. Coleridge and Sir George Dashwood, Bart. (one of the trustees).

The Master first referred to the sudden death on July 4th of Mr. William Pole Routh, of Reading. He was an old and honoured member of the Guild, and a good ringer. He was a member of other societies besides the Oxford Diocesan Guild, including the Ancient Society of College Youths, and would certainly have been there with them that day had he been spared.

The members stood in silence for a few moments as a mark of respect, and it was resolved that a letter of sympathy be sent to Miss Routh and her sister in the great loss they had sustained.

THE MASTER'S REPORT.

The Master in his report said: It is perhaps too much to expect that restoration work can proceed year by year at the rate at which it has been going during the last ten years, if only for the reason that the number of towers in need of the bell hanger must be somewhat lessened. So while my advice has been asked in minor matters to a considerable extent during the year, there are only two towers concerning which I have made a report for entire rehanging, namely, Stevenston and Swalcliffe. Following on reports made in previous years, the rings of six at Deddington and Somerton have been rehanging on new frames, and in each case new trebles are contemplated. At Hampstead Norreys a cracked bell has been recast, and the ring of six has been rehanging in the old frame; and at Oakley the three bells have been rehanging in a new frame. Work of a minor character has also been carried out at Finchampstead and Windsor. There are several important schemes still 'pending,' and in this connection I should like to point out that when it is reported on good authority that bells are unfit to be rung, it is not very wise to go on ringing them, still less to force them through a peal, otherwise the parishioners are justified in saying, 'Why worry about the state of the bells?' Perhaps it is partly due to the better condition of our bells generally that the total number of peals rung is about half as high again as last year, and while the honours again rest with the East Berks and South Bucks Branch, yet good contributions have been made in many other parts of the diocese. Oxford, both City and University, is showing the result of the patient work through many years of Harry Miles and Victor Bennett, and the coming to the front of a conductor in Walter Judge; the same may be said of the North Berkshire Branch and Albert Lock. The Guild secretary is to be congratulated on calling the first peal of Cinques at St. Laurence's, Reading, being the first in his native county. So, too, is Harry Curtis, for calling the four peals rung by the Newbury Branch. The Vale of White Horse Branch, where recently change ringing was hardly known, has now put up two peals and two conductors, C. Pearce and H. Taylor.

A peal of Grandsire Caters has been rung on the fine new ten at Banbury, in which seven of the local band—to their credit—took part. The Guild has also held some splendid meetings; perhaps the outstanding ones were the jubilee meeting of the Sonning Deanery Branch at Wokingham in May, and the annual meeting of the North Bucks Branch in the fine grounds of Whaddon Manor in June. These and like considerations inspire one to enter upon the Guild jubilee year with courage and hope.

RECORD OF PEAL ATTEMPTS.

In proposing the adoption of his report, the Master added that he had been able to make arrangements for the chronicling in future of all peal attempts which were not successful. He thought it would be a very good thing if they could keep some register of these attempts. A member had been good enough to undertake it, and reports of attempts should be sent to Mr. Gordon Cauldwell, 49, Lonsdale Road, Oxford. Conductors should send notice of all bona-fide peal attempts which were lost, and the reason, if they liked, of the breakdown. Sometimes a peal attempt which only lasted twenty minutes was a matter of great self-sacrifice by the ringers who came long distances.—The report was adopted.

The treasurer's report, presented by Mr. A. J. Wright, stated that the accounts showed a balance of £160 12s. 2d., as compared with £158 4s. 11d. the previous year. The total income was £126 15s. 11d., and the expenditure £95. The amount received from the branches was £86 3s. 3d., being £3 4s. 9d. less than last year. This was the first time since 1924 that he had had to report a reduction. He could only account for this by the fact that there appeared to be a general shortage of young ringers coming on to take the places of those who were retiring. He was certain of one thing, and that was that the branch treasurers were doing their best in every direction to encourage young boys and girls to take up change ringing, and they were worthy of the best thanks of the Guild for the services they gladly rendered. The balances held by the branches showed a decrease of £10. This amount had possibly been given in grants towards restorations. During the year grants from the restoration fund had been given to Banbury, Hampstead Norris and Somerton. This being the jubilee of the Guild, the treasurer gave the following interesting facts to compare with the present position: The first balance sheet available showed that there were 188 members, 9 life, 55 hon. and 124 ringing; five local branches, the membership of which was not stated. The income was £67 11s., and the balance of £39 was brought forward. The expenditure amounted to £51 12s., and 170 attended the annual dinner. During the past 50 years £434 had been expended on instruction and £103 on restorations. These amounts did not include what was given by the branches, so the total amount must be nearly double this sum.

The report, which included the balance sheet, was adopted.

THE MEMBERSHIP.

The secretary's report submitted by Mr. R. T. Hibbert said the Guild was served in all parts of the diocese by most energetic and efficient branch secretaries who had to devote a great deal of time and patience to keep things moving in the right direction. He said this from first-hand experience, having visited all the fifteen branches once or more during the year. Membership in 1930 compared with 1929 was as follows: Hon. members, 302, a loss of 15; ringing and unattached members, 2,176, a loss of 46; towers in affiliation, 209, a gain of 4. The number of peals rung during the year was almost double the number rung in the two previous years respectively. From what the Master and himself heard at all branch meetings, Sunday service ringing was well maintained in all parts of the Guild, so that they had more to be thankful for than they had to cry about. The secretary concluded with thanks to all for their many kindnesses to him.

The report was adopted.

On the motion of the Master, it was resolved 'that the rules "to assist the clergy" be removed from the report, and that a list of the publications of the Central Council be printed there instead, with a note calling the attention of members to the "Revised Rules for a Local Company." The Master explained that the rules in the report were drawn up a long time ago, and he did not think they met the case at the present day. Personally he did not agree with all of them, and it was a pity that they should be taken, sometimes by those in high authority, as the rules of the Guild—they were not; they were suggested to those who wanted suggestion. Recently the whole question of rules for local companies had been gone into by a committee of the Central Council composed of clergy and laity; the rules were now published and could be had for a few pence. His opinion was it was about time the Guild published in the report the list of the Central Council's publications, and it would include these rules, to which, he suggested they should call special attention as being a sort of standard which could be used when rules were wanted in a parish.

Mr. Paice seconded the motion, which was carried without discussion.

The Master was re-elected with acclamation, on the motion of Canon Coleridge, and the treasurer and general secretary were also unanimously re-elected.

The twelve elected members of the committee were reappointed, and the election during the year of 175 members was confirmed.

The recommendation of the general committee that the festival in 1932 should be held in Oxford was opposed by an amendment in favour of Reading, but Oxford was carried by an overwhelming majority.

RESTORATION GRANTS.

The question of restoration grants was next considered. The Hon. Treasurer explained that there was a balance in hand of £31 15s., and grants were now recommended or fell due to be paid amounting to £28 10s. This left only about £3 in hand, and they had a new application from Stevenston. This fund was made up principally of 25 per cent. of the amount received from hon. members' subscriptions, and he hoped every effort would be made to get more hon. members, so that the fund could be replenished. He thought if it were pointed out that a portion of the hon. members' subscriptions went towards the restoration of bells instead of all to the ordinary funds hon. members would be more ready to join.

A grant of £7 7s. was made to Steeple Claydon, and on the motion of Canon Coleridge £10 was voted to the Stedman Tercentenary Fund, in accordance with the recommendation of the committee. Stevenston's application was then considered, and £5 5s. voted, the treasurer intimating that the collection that day would enable them to give this sum.

On the motion of the Master, seconded by Mr. Sear, it was resolved to add to the rules the following: 'That this Guild be affiliated to the Central Council of Church Bellringers and loyally abide by the rules and decisions thereof.'

The treasurer moved an amendment to the rules for local branches, to provide that one copy of the annual report be supplied free to the branches for each hon. member and each tower, and a charge of 4d. made for all extra copies.—Mr. Paice seconded, and expressed the hope that it would not be long before reports would be cheaper still.

Mr. A. D. Barker said at the last annual meeting it was resolved that this matter should be discussed by the committee, and he thought he ought to propose a vote of censure on the committee because they did not discuss it. They had a statement read to them by the treasurer. There was the question also of estimates, but as to discussion, he did not think the committee had discussed the matter at all.

The Master asked Mr. Barker if he was aware that any matter that came before the committee had to be introduced by a motion. On this question the treasurer proposed a motion, and it was open to Mr. Barker to discuss it until he was black in the face if he desired to do so or propose another motion. He (the Master) could not understand Mr. Barker's reason for bringing forward a motion of censure.

Mr. W. Sear said he agreed the matter was discussed in brief form, but it was open to discussion if anyone had anything to say about it.

No one seconded Mr. Barker's motion, and the original proposal was therefore put and carried.

The Secretary proposed that Rule XVIII. be amended to provide that 21 days' notice of motion for committee business be given instead of 10 days as at present.—Mr. Cullum seconded, and the motion was carried without discussion.

Canon Coleridge then gave a resume of the proceedings at the last meeting of the Central Council, with breezy comments upon the various items of business transacted, and he was thanked for his report.

THE LUNCHEON.

This concluded the business, and the members returned to Christ Church for luncheon, which was served in the magnificent dining hall by the authorities of 'The House.' Over 350 sat down to a sumptuous repast, the Master presiding at the head table, supported by the Lord Bishop of Oxford, the Mayor and Mayoress of Oxford (Dr. and Mrs. Stobie), the Rt. Rev. Bishop Shaw, Mr. E. H. Lewis (president of the Central Council), Canon G. F. Coleridge, Sir George Dashwood, Alderman J. S. Pritchett (Presiding Ringing Master of St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham), Rev. F. L. Edwards (hon. secretary of Salisbury Diocesan Guild), Rev. E. S. Powell (president of the Devon Guild) and Mrs. Powell, Miss Vera Robinson (daughter of the first Master of the Guild), Canon E. J. Norris and Miss Norris (Reading), Mr. A. J. Wright and Mr. R. T. Hibbert. Among the general company were Mr. George Williams (Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild), and it is interesting to note that five of the original members of the Guild attended: Canon Coleridge, Mr. J. Jagger (formerly of Oxford and now of Old Hill), Mr. G. Holifield, sen. (Appleton), Mr. J. A. Dart (London), and Mr. W. H. Fussell (Slough).

After lunch, the Master submitted 'Church and King,' which was enthusiastically honoured, and the privilege, very rarely granted in that hall, was then accorded of permitting the visitors to smoke.

FIFTY EVENTFUL YEARS.

The Bishop proposed the toast of 'The Oxford Diocesan Guild of Church Bellringers,' and remarked that he was interested to see, in the first peal that was rung, the name of a friend of his, Mr. C. C. Child, who lived in those days on his (the Bishop's) staircase and used to have his friends in to ring peals on handbells, which were rather surprising to the other denizens of that stair (laughter). Continuing, the Bishop recalled many of the great events in the life of the nation which had occurred during the 50 years that the Guild had been in existence—fifty eventful years in the history of this country. He imagined the Guild must have had a good deal to do in 1887, at the time of Queen Victoria's first jubilee, and again ten years later at the second jubilee. Then there was also the change of sovereigns in 1901, and, later, the accession of King George. In these and other things the Diocesan Guild was called upon to express their rather venemant and not altogether articulate feelings through the bells. In addition to that they had passed through the war, when there were occasions for muffled peals, and there were other occasions when they were called upon to express national feeling through the bells. He did not suppose there had been in the history of England any period of fifty years more full of strange, startling and unexpected events than the fifty years since 1881, and in many of these the members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild would have been called upon to play their part in their particular sphere. It was a very great pleasure to see such a large number assembled in that hall; it was one of the largest parties ever entertained there in the long history of the building (applause). He was glad, as a member of Christ Church, to welcome them to that hall and to see present such a large number of people engaged in their particular work. He hoped in the future things would go on as well as they had done in the past, and that their work would become increasingly important and effective, because he did not think the future of the country was likely to be deficient either in surprising or interesting events which would require to be marked by ringing in the towers throughout the country, and he was sure that in the three counties, which went to make up the diocese of Oxford, they would be prepared to express the feelings of the nation in their usual way (applause).

The Master, who was received with applause, replied to the toast. It was, indeed, he said, a proud position which he was, unworthily, occupying that day. He was filled with the thoughts of the great work of those who had gone before, and especially of their first great Master, the Rev. F. E. Robinson (applause), to whom he owed more than he could ever really say. He believed it was wrong for one man or one woman who succeeded another to think that they must do exactly as their predecessor did, especially if they found they had not the gifts to do those things as well as those who went before them. Therefore he had endeavoured to offer to that Guild and diocese just those gifts which he felt he had, and which he wanted to use in some right way. He was not a great conductor—he did not pretend to be, and he never wished to be—but there were those in that Guild who were conductors, and they were by no means entirely among the oldest of their members. He was glad to see that there were young conductors really coming on (applause). Continuing, the Master said he wanted to pay a great tribute to one who was with them that day, and that was their old friend Canon Coleridge (applause). They would find his name recorded in the peal book, which was in the centre of the hall, in the first peal that was rung by the Guild. There he was described as G. F. Coleridge, Esquire, of Keble College, and they were very delighted to have him with them that day. That gathering, concluded the Master, would go down not only in the records of their Guild, but also in the records of that house—he understood he must not call it college—as one of the greatest entertainments in that famous hall (applause).

OXFORD UNIVERSITY SOCIETY'S PART.

Canon Coleridge submitted the toast of 'The Visitors.' He saw round him, he said, many whom they were delighted to welcome, among them their old and revered friend, Alderman Pritchett, from Birmingham, the Rev. E. S. Powell, president of the first ringers' Guild that was ever started, the Devon Guild of Ringers (applause), and Mrs. Powell, the Rev. F. L. Edwards, secretary of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, and others. Theirs was the sixth Guild in the South of England to celebrate their jubilee. The Devon Guild was the first. It was established in 1874, and he was one of the first members of it. The Gloucester and Bristol came next, and celebrated its jubilee two years after the Devon Guild. Then came the Winchester Guild and the Essex Association; next year the Salisbury Guild would celebrate its jubilee, and he wanted those present to notice something about some of them. The Devon Guild was started by a Cambridge man, Colonel Troyte (applause). He was greatly assisted by his two brothers, who were Oxford men (hear, hear), the Rev. Reginald Troyte and Capt. John Troyte, both of whom were undergraduates at Oxford. Both these were also members of the Oxford University Society of Change Ringers (hear, hear). The Gloucester and Bristol Association was started by George Henry Phillott, a graduate of the house, who left Oxford to become an articled clerk to an architect at Cheltenham. There he soon made the acquaintance of Charles Douglas Percy Davies, who later was for many years secretary of the Central Council. He was a Pembroke man, and these two founded the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association (applause)—another feather in the cap of the Oxford University Society. The next of the associations to keep its jubilee was the Essex Association, founded by an old Essex boy, who lived with his father in the Vicarage of Retford. He was at Whaddon when he (the speaker) was at Keble. Afterwards he obtained a curacy in Essex, and started the Essex Association. One of those who took part in the founding of the Winchester Diocesan Guild was Arthur De Boulay Hill, then a master at Winchester. He was a leading spirit, and he (the speaker) believed, although he could not be sure on the point, W. H. Poole, a master at Charterhouse, had also a good deal to do with the starting of the Guild. Both these men were members of the old University Society (applause). Going on to the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, which would keep its jubilee next year, one of the leading spirits at its founding was again Arthur De Boulay Hill. All those he had mentioned were members of the Oxford University Society, which was founded on February 2nd, 1872 and he claimed that if the University Society had never done anything else, or had never rung a peal, it proved its worth by sending out such men who had founded these great associations and guilds. Coming to the names which he had to couple with the toast, Canon Coleridge said if the present Mayor had been Mayor of Oxford in the late seventies, he (the speaker) might have had the felicity of ringing in his honour on November 9th. In those days there were certain old town ringers who did not like to lose a day's work, and who used to be glad to get members of the University Society to ring at St. Mary's for them, so that they might draw the pay both for their day's work and for ringing for the Mayor. All he could say was that he was only too pleased to do it, and although Dr. Stobie was not thus honoured, he hoped they might honour him directly after lunch by ringing a touch with six or eight clerical ringers at one of the city churches (applause). They had with them, also, that day, Mr. Lewis, who was president of the Central Council. The Council had been going on for over 40 years, and it had had four presidents, Sir Arthur Heywood, Mr. Boughey, Dean of Trinity—

The Master (with emphasis): Cambridge (laughter and applause). Canon Coleridge: Yes, Cambridge. I was president for nine years, and actually took the chair on ten occasions, once in the absence of Mr. Boughey, and now we have Mr. Lewis. No representative body of men in England could possibly be more worthily presided over than by Mr. Lewis. He is a great engineer. Anything he has to say about architecture in its relation to church bells is listened to with profound attention and respect by the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings (hear, hear). As a result we have come to a great understanding between the two bodies in regard to towers and the way to hang bells, and we hope it will long continue (hear, hear). Mr. Lewis, as president of the Central Council, and Mr. Goldsmith, editor of 'The Ringing World,' have been very much to the fore in connection with the Fabian Stedman Tercentenary, which is to be celebrated on September 26th at the Church of St. Benet, Cambridge. Your Master is also a member of the committee. I do not know whether I am giving away any secret, but I should like to do so, to show that Cambridge is still indebted to Oxford (laughter). Only yesterday, I received a telephone message from the committee asking me to preach on that historical occasion at Cambridge (loud applause). I not only take that as a great honour to myself, but I take it as a still greater honour to the members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild (applause).

The Mayor of Oxford (who is a member of the medical profession) said he was in an unusual position that day. Generally, in the practice of his profession, he was succeeded by the parson; that day he found the parson had got in front of him (laughter). He also felt in a rather unusual position in having to try to keep the peace between the two rival universities (laughter), and he could only say he was grateful that he belonged to another, the University of Edinburgh, which was famous as a medical school (hear, hear). He knew nothing about bellringing, he added, and he hesitated whether to stay in Oxford that afternoon or whether to leave it (laughter). On the whole, he thought he would take the safe line and, like the Sassenach who got out of the sound of the bagpipes, go away into the country and read what was said about the bells in the morrow's papers (laughter). As a medical man, he was interested to read in their programme that the first peal they rang in 1881 was something to do with Grandsire triplets (laughter). His only connection with ringing was through his wife, whose cousin was Rector of Martley, Worcestershire, the Rev. James Hastings, who, he believed, was a very well-known ringer (applause).

RECOLLECTIONS OF THE FIRST MASTER.

Mr. E. H. Lewis said as president of the Central Council, which represented the 46,000 ringers of England, he offered congratulations to the Oxford Diocesan Guild, which was, he believed, the largest of all the Guilds. It was certainly one in the very forefront in ringing, particularly in service ringing and in the way in which the proper objects of the Guild were maintained (applause). That had been largely due to the two Masters that they had had—one was an Oxford man, and the other a Cambridge man, so that there the honours were divided (laughter and applause). The favourite method of their first Master was Stedman. Stedman, who was looked upon as the father of change ringing, was born in Cambridge, though he was not, so far as they knew, a member of the University. It was his (the speaker's) privilege to know the late Master of the Oxford Guild, and to arrange several ringing weeks for him. He found he had had the privilege of ringing fifteen peals with him, all of them, of course, Stedman Triples, Thurstans' four-part. These fifteen successful peals involved a few unsuccessful attempts, and in connection with these were some interesting incidents. In one such attempt there were among the band two Masters of the Oxford Guild and two presidents of the Central Council. They were ringing at the time in a tower where the belfry was somewhat like that at Merton College, Oxford, only more so (laughter), and during the progress of the ringing there was a loud thump on the frame overhead, and all the ringers except the ringer of the bell concerned and the conductor realised that the second clapper had come out. They continued to ring and they proceeded through three courses, while one Master of the Oxford Guild was trying to explain to the other Master that it was not much good going on, and, at the same time, while the two presidents of the Central Council were doing a long dodge behind for a 3.4.5.6, there were strange and wild gesticulations on the part of one president, who wanted the other to dodge with him, while the other did not see the point of working to put a bell with a clapper round one which had not got a clapper (laughter). Eventually the conductor realised what had happened, and they set up. They met again some weeks later and rang the peal (applause). He did not know whether he need say more about the Stedman commemoration, but, speaking for the Cambridge University Guild and for Cambridge University, he hoped they would see at least as many present on September 26th as they had there that day. They hoped to give them a hearty welcome to Cambridge on that occasion. There were not so many bells in Cambridge as there were in Oxford, for none of the colleges had bells, but there were many interesting things to see, although people in Oxford did not realise it (laughter).

Sir Charles Dashwood proposed 'The Dean and Chapter of Christ Church, the organist and steward,' all of whom he cordially thanked for their respective services in connection with the jubilee celebration.

Bishop Shaw replied and said he was very glad to hear Canon Coleridge's references to the University Society, which at present was doing excellent work under Mr. Miles and Mr. Bennett. He did not disguise the fact that bells did not appeal to everybody, and that there were times when those who desired to study found them, to say the least, disturbing, but he did believe there were many people in that city who really appreciated and valued bellringing when it did not interfere with serious study or commercial activity. He hoped the University Guild would continue to have a worthy place as one of their affiliated associations, and that they would always have among the undergraduates sufficient who were interested in the art to maintain a strong band, and who would eventually go out and take as useful a part in promoting ringing as those who had been referred to by Canon Coleridge (applause).

After luncheon, the visitors dispersed to the many churches in Oxford, where ringing was enjoyed for some hours. Two interesting bands were made up in All Saints' Church, where six clerical members rang 120 Grandsire Doubles, and seven ladies, with a tenorman, rang a particularly well-struck touch of Stedman Triples.

AN ESCAPE OF 61 YEARS AGO.

HOW A GREAT RINGER CAME INTO THE EXERCISE.

It seems to me but yesterday
Since we were boys together.

Among the 'original' members of the Oxford Guild who were present at the jubilee was Mr. John Jagger, who had his first lesson in ringing on May 6th, 1867, at St. Thomas' Church, his tutor being his father, Mr. Charles Jagger, Master Cooper and Freeman of the City of Oxford, who was a ringer and chorister.

It is extremely interesting to learn that a boyish escapade, that took place exactly 61 years ago last Saturday, was the first step that led to the introduction into ringing of one of the greatest ringers who ever lived. On July 25th, 1870, John Jagger, then a lad of 9½ years, conspired with another boy, Jim Washbrook, aged six, to climb up into St. Thomas' tower, and get into the belfry. There, on the spot, Jim Washbrook received his first lesson in pulling a bell from Jack Jagger, and history records what these two boys afterwards did in their respective spheres in ringing.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday last a well-attended meeting of the Western Division was held at Flamstead. Ringers attended from Apsley, Dunstable, Hemel Hempstead, Berkhamsted, Tring, King's Langley, Luton, Totternhoe, St. Albans, Harpenden, and the local company. Ringing on the fine peal of six ranged from Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor.

The Vicar, the Rev. T. C. Clare, held a short service, and gave an impressive address. After service, an adjournment was made to the village for tea. Afterwards, with the Vicar in the chair, the meeting was held in the Vicarage. A good deal of discussion took place upon inaccuracies which appeared in the association's 'Annual Report,' and the matter was referred to the general secretary.

Apsley was chosen as the next place of meeting the first Saturday in September. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells and all he had done to make the meeting a success.

GREAT TOTTHAM, ESSEX.—On Sunday, July 26th, at the Parish Church, a quarter-peal of Minor (1,260 changes), consisting of 720 Kent Treble Bob, 360 Oxford Treble Bob, 180 Plain Bob: F. W. Shynn 1, W. G. Gridley 2, A. Appleton 3, H. Stebbings 4, H. S. Barker 5, E. J. Shynn (first quarter-peal as conductor) 6. Also rung as a 21st birthday compliment to the conductor.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD FESTIVAL.THIRTY BELLS AND EIGHTY RINGERS.

The annual festival of the Truro Diocesan Guild was held at Launceston on Saturday, July 25th, and was splendidly attended, about eighty ringers being present from Launceston, Landulph, Lezant, South Petherwin, Truro Cathedral, St. Gluvias, Gulval, St. Agnes, Werrington, Plymouth, and Launceston. The bells in the three towers were available, viz., at St. Mary Magdalene's (eight), St. Stephen's (eight), and St. Thomas' (six). Werrington (eight), two miles' distant, was also available, and during the afternoon and evening all were made full use of.

The service was held at St. Mary Magdalene's, and was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. N. A. Rivers-Tippett), and another practical address was given by the diocesan secretary, the Rev. W. H. R. Trewella. The church was beautifully decorated, it being within the octave of the Patronal Festival.

Tea was partaken of at the White Hart Hotel, and was provided out of the Guild funds.

The business meeting followed, at which the chair was taken by the president (Dr. J. Symons). As there was entirely no life in the Bodmin District, it was decided to add the five towers in that area to the Truro District, by which means it is hoped to revive interest, and, in time, set it aside once more as a separate district.

A little dissatisfaction had arisen in the Launceston Branch as no branch meetings had been held lately, but matters were settled very amicably, the Rev. Moyses, Vicar of Werrington, being elected chairman of the branch, and Mr. J. Edmunds secretary.

The usual votes of thanks were passed, and the Vicar of Launceston, in replying, said how pleased he was to welcome the Guild.

When the writer left at 8.25 p.m., the two rings of eight and the six at St. Thomas' were still going in full swing. A. S. R.

MEMORIAL TO THE LATE REV. A. C. R. FREEBORN.FIRST RESIDENT VICAR OF KIDLINGTON SINCE 1545.

On Friday afternoon, July 24th, the Bishop of Oxford unveiled a tablet to the memory of the late Vicar, Rev. A. C. R. Freeborn (1887-1925). The Bishop was accompanied by the Revs. Lloyd-Jones (Vicar of Kidlington), W. M. Aste (Rector of Hampton Poyle), A. M. Littichale (formerly curate), and C. W. O. Jenkyn, representing the Oxford Diocesan Guild.

In the course of his address, the Bishop said, 'I can remember when there was a long distance between the last house in the parish and Oxford, but now it is being gradually drawn into the city. All this means constant adaptation, constant effort to meet new conditions and build up a new life corresponding to the changes that have come about. Your late Vicar had a great deal to do with these changes. I am quite sure that he was adapting himself and his work to the changes that were gradually growing up around him. It is, therefore, with a very great sense of gratitude for what he has done that we should come here and dedicate a monument to this man.'

In spite of the hour (3.30 p.m.) the church was full, parishioners, friends and relations coming to do honour to their late Vicar.

As the late Mr. Freeborn was for many years chairman of the Witney and Woodstock Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, half-muffled touches were rung before and after the dedication service, in which the following members of the Guild took part: Before service (300 Grandsire Triples): A. Ivins 1, J. Monk (late branch secretary) 2, R. Coombes 3, V. Webb 4, E. Bennett 5, W. Bennett 6, C. Bennett 7, S. Franklin 8. After service (168 Grandsire Triples): W. Fretts (branch secretary) 1, J. Monk 2, R. Coombes 3, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master) 4, E. Bennett 5, V. Webb 6, C. Bennett 7, A. Ivins 8.

The tablet, which is of Caen stone, was designed by Mr. R. F. Dodd, and erected by Messrs. Knowles and Sons, of Oxford. It bears the following inscription: 'Albert Corsellis Richard Freeborn, M.A., Priest. Born 13th April, 1860. Died 10th July, 1930. Curate-in-charge of this parish, September, 1886. Vicar, April, 1887, to November, 1925. First resident Vicar since 1545. This tablet was placed here by past and present parishioners of Kidlington and Water Eaton and other friends.'

WREXHAM BELLRINGER DEAD.

The many friends of Mr. Samuel Meadows will regret to hear of his death, which occurred at Wrexham War Memorial Hospital on Saturday, July 18th, after a short illness. The funeral took place at Ellesmere, Salop, on July 21st, and touches of Treble Bob, Stedman and Grandsire were rung by the Wrexham band in the evening on the Wrexham bells, which were half-muffled.

The late Mr. Meadows was 67 years of age, and was a member of the Wrexham band for about thirty years, and had rung at many churches throughout the country.

At Ellesmere, Shropshire, on Sunday, July 26th, for morning service, with the bells half-muffled, as a last token of respect to the late Mr. S. Meadows, 360 Stedman Doubles, with 7.5.8 covering: R. Riggs 1, A. Allen 2, T. R. Butler (conductor) 3, A. Haynes 4, W. S. Higginson 5, J. Lloyd 6, W. Higginson 7, J. Beddows 8. Also 360 Stedman Doubles for evening service, with 4.5.8 covering, and T. Butler, sen., taking part.

A JOINT MEETING.

A joint meeting of the Leatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild and the North-Western District of the Surrey Association was held at Rammore Common on Saturday, July 25th, and a very enjoyable time was spent by those who were present. The attendance was somewhat smaller than expected, but rainy weather, no doubt, accounted for this, as a two-mile walk uphill from the railway station is not very inviting in the pouring rain. Ringing commenced at 3.30 p.m. with rounds and Grandsire for the beginners, and various methods were practised during the afternoon. Twenty-one ringers and friends sat down to tea, including Admiral T. P. Walker (hon. treasurer of the Guildford Guild) and Mrs. Walker, Mr. C. H. Kippin (hon. general secretary of the Surrey Association), and also Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pitman, of Canterbury, who had motor-cycled over in spite of the rain. The tower was again visited after tea, and the number was strengthened by the arrival of the Master and secretary of the Leatherhead District, who had unavoidably been delayed. Ringing continued throughout the evening until eight o'clock, when the bells were lowered in peal.

The methods practised ranged from rounds and Grandsire Triples to London and Bristol Surprise Major. A course of Bob Triples was rung by special request of the Admiral, who thought he might catch the experts napping with this simple method, but it came round in good style. The striking throughout the meeting was very good, and the only thing wrong was the weather. D. C.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.BOLTON BRANCH'S 'ROUND-UP' MEETING.

On Saturday last, what might be described as the Bolton Branch's 'round-up' meeting was held at St. Paul's, Walkden. Shortly after 3 p.m., the bells (a grand new peal by Taylor) were set going, and were kept going with touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Oxford Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Cambridge Surprise and Superlative Surprise Major until 9.30 p.m. There was a crowded belfry, and one had difficulty in registering the towers represented. Many members got touches in some new method to them, and the striking was good throughout the day.

At the business meeting the newly-appointed Vicar (the Rev. H. R. Bailey, M.A.) welcomed the ringers to his church in very encouraging words, and extended a hearty invitation to come again either for meetings or to ring peals. He said he felt proud that the 'silent' peal of Stedman had been rung at his church, and promised to take steps to provide a permanent record by having a tablet fixed in the tower.

For the association's annual meeting, the following nominations were put forward, viz.: Vice-president, Mr. Peter Crook; ringing secretary, Mr. Arthur Tomlinson; auditors, Mr. S. Greenhalgh and Mr. A. Barnes. For the branch, Mr. T. B. Worsley was appointed to serve on the general committee for the next two years, and Mr. Peter Crook was again elected as secretary.

Congratulations were extended to the band who rang the 'silent' peal of Stedman Triples in Walkden tower.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for his hearty welcome; also to the ringers for their preparations.

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD

A quarterly meeting of the Southampton District was held at Dibley on Saturday, July 18th. Touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major were rung on the bells. Service was conducted by the Rector, Rev. G. T. Tritton, who also gave a short address, after which tea and the business meeting took place in the Old School. The Rector presided, supported by Mr. Geo. Williams (vice-president), Commander Hamilton and Mr. Geo. Pullinger.

Commander Hamilton and Mrs. Geo. Pullinger were elected as hon. members. Five ringers were elected members, two from Bishopstoke, two from Dibley and one from North Stencham.

The towers represented were Dibley, Bishopstoke, St. Mary's Southampton, Lynton, King's Somborne, and North Stencham. It was decided to hold a combined practice at Southampton in the evening of Tuesday, August 18th.

A SERIOUS PLEASURE.

This is the holiday season, and ringers everywhere are taking part in outings and tours; and ringing 'weeks' have begun. It has been said of Englishmen that they take their pleasures sadly; it is perhaps hardly true of them in these days, but it is characteristic of ringers that they take their pleasures seriously. Ringers find no pleasure like that of the practice of their art, and yet you will find no more serious a company in any pursuit than a band engaged in ringing a peal. Certainly there is no pastime where so much concentrated mental and physical co-operation is essential as in change ringing. The art is a serious art and, apart from its application to the higher purposes of service ringing, its practice cannot be other than a serious occupation.

And yet ringers, if they go out in parties for a holiday, find their greatest pleasure when they are at the rope end, exercising their skill with even more deadly earnestness than many people put into the real business of life. In this spirit a company of ringers will set out on a day's excursion, to spend half the day in the towers en route, while others will take a week's relaxation in a peal ringing tour which generally involves keeping to a strict time table and often an expenditure of mental and physical energy which leaves one, at the end of it all, tired out, but thoroughly satisfied that the holiday has been enjoyable and well spent. Such is the fascination of ringing.

Ringling excursions are no modern innovation; they began in the days of Fabian Stedman—if not before—for it is on record that a company of College Youths paid a visit to Cambridge round about 1660. There are many other records of excursions in days now far distant, when men had to travel on foot or by coach, and when an expedition of this kind usually occupied the better part of a week. They were nearly all of them in connection with events of importance, such as the opening of a new ring of bells, and on more than one occasion there were celebrations on the grand scale by the people in the neighbourhood. Nowadays, however, an excursion of a hundred or more miles in a day is no uncommon thing, with ringing at half a dozen towers thrown in—thanks to the speedy and convenient means of transport which we now enjoy. It is this latter which has given ringers the great opportunity which they are not slow to seize, and by it they widen their experience as well as enjoy the delights of constantly breaking new ground and mixing with fellow members of their craft to an extent undreamt of even fifty years ago. It is all to the good, both of ringers and ringing, that this ever expanding intercourse should take place, and it is no drawback that our art is a pleasure to be taken seriously.

DEVONSHIRE GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Exeter District was held on Saturday, June 6th, when visits were paid to Stoke Canon, Rewe and Brampford Speke, where use of the church bells was kindly granted by the respective incumbents, who personally welcomed the visitors. Service was conducted in Stoke Canon church by the Rev. S. Heal (Vicar), who, in an address, said he regarded ringing as a test of character and as requiring team work above everything else.

Tea followed in the Jubilee Hall, 48 members being present. At a business meeting, with Mr. A. W. Searle in the chair, a statement was made on the subject of propaganda and instruction, and it was resolved that application be made to the Guild for a grant for specific purposes.

The next quarterly meeting was fixed for Christow and district on the first Saturday in October.

The Rev. E. V. Cox expressed appreciation of the district's welcome on his becoming associated with the area, and thanks to the Rev. S. Heal and other incumbents, and to the ladies for arranging and serving tea, concluded the meeting.

The Rev. S. Heal threw open the Vicarage grounds to the visitors.

WEDDING BELLS.

At Paignton Parish Church, on Monday evening, July 27th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), by numerous authors, was rung in 50 mins. by: W. H. Lewis 1, A. L. Bennett (conductor) 2, H. G. Lewis 3, T. Collings 4, A. L. Pope 5, C. F. Austin 6, H. J. Hole 7, C. Boyce 8. First quarter-peal on eight bells by Mr. W. H. Lewis, and rung for the wedding of Commander R. S. J. Nicholson, commander of the Royal Naval College, Dartmouth, and Miss Cecily Georgina Drake, daughter of the Rev. Prob. and Mrs. H. Mackworth Drake, of the Vicarage, Paignton, which took place at the College Church, Dartmouth, earlier in the day. Ringing also took place at the time of the ceremony.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

IX. THE ANCIENT SOCIETY.

Meanwhile the old Society still continued. Though deserted by the more active members and diminished in numbers, it held its meetings and conducted its business with great dignity and decorum. But experience shows that no company can exist indefinitely unless it either rings peals or teaches new members. The peal ringers were gone, and societies like the College Youths did not teach; they got their recruits ready made from lesser bands. And now there was nothing much to attract such. As the old members died off there were none to take their places, and it might easily have happened that the Society got weaker and weaker till at last it faded away unnoticed and unrecorded. This has happened to many a company, both in London and elsewhere. The Society of Norwich Scholars was once the foremost in the country, the equal of either Cumberlands or College Youths. Within the last three or four years, after a history which stretches almost across the whole story of the Exercise, it has disappeared without so much as a ripple on the surface of ringing. The old Society of College Youths was saved from a like fate by its outside members.

Once in 1771 it looked as if there was to be a revival of peal ringing at headquarters. With the help of some ringers from other societies a peal of Real Double Bob Maximus was rung at St. Martin's, but it stands quite alone. Charles Purser came over from the Cumberlands and the Sylvesters from the junior company; probably they joined the Society for the peal, but they soon left it again. As this peal was the first one of Real Double Bob Maximus ever rung, and as there is no record of it on any peal board or in any peal book I give the details.

Ancient Society of College Youths. On March 4th, 1771, at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, in 4 hrs. 16 minutes, a peal of Double Bob Maximus (5,280 changes) with as many bobs before as behind. John Sylvester 1, Saml. Adams 2, Geo. Byers 3, S. Hawkes 4, R. Moore 5, C. Purser 6, T. Jackson 7, R. Berridge 8, W. Jakins 9, E. Sylvester 10, R. James 11, T. Sylvester Tenor. Call'd by Mr. Byers.

This band rang no more peals and the next for the Ancient Society were by outside members.

From early times there were College Youths scattered over what is now West London and West London suburbs, but then was country villages. Twickenham was one of the earliest centres of ringing in the country. As early as 1733 a peal of Middlesex Triples was rung there, a variation of Bob Triples composed by Annable. The band called themselves the Twickenham Scholars and during the eighteenth century they scored several peals at Isleworth and Ealing and over the river at Richmond and Mortlake. Many of them were College Youths; a Twickenham man rang in Annable's last peal, another was among the subscribers to Holt's broadsheet, and the Society's book contains the names of several others. (Note 13.) All their later peals were rung for the College Youths. (Note 14.)

Closer in, but still out in the country, there were College Youths at Fulham and St. Mary Abbot's, Kensington. These men were simply College Youths; the trouble and split at headquarters were nothing to them, and they still remained with the old Society. One of them was a man named James Worster, a keen and ambitious ringer who lived at Chelsea. He and his band rang 6,000 Bob Major at Mortlake in 1775, and they followed it up next year with three peals in the same method, one a 10,640. John Cole, who rang the sixth to that peal, belonged to a family whose names appear frequently on peal boards in the district.

With these performances the old Society was once more making history, but in themselves they had little permanent effect. Worster found the place too strait for him and went over to the junior company. He rang in many of their peals and called some.

It was another and a much more notable man who put the Ancient Society once more among the leading peal ringing companies. William Jones is probably quite unknown to the great majority of ringers to-day. Even to those who are well acquainted with the history of ringing he is little more than a name. Yet the chief author of the 'Clavis' has earned an honourable place on the roll of leading ringers, and in his own generation he was a very influential person indeed.

Like all these old ringers, the materials for an account of him and his doings are of the barest description. There is, I think, only one actual sentence of narrative which refers to him, and that in manuscript. But his name is frequent in peal books and name books, and his influence is clearly discernible in the events of the time. He was a man rather better to do than the rest; of no more than average ability as a ringer and composer; he had considerable literary gifts and a distinct capacity for leadership. He was one of those men who, without being themselves brilliant, have the gift of attracting brilliant men and getting the best out of them.

A remarkable proof still exists of the outstanding position he held among his contemporaries. In 1787, when he was at the height of his career and just before he published the 'Clavis,' the 'ancient' Society of College Youths rang a peal of Stedman Caters at St. John's, Horsleydown. As this was the first peal of Stedman Caters and, except for the Norwich peals, the first on any number in the method, it was a notable performance, and a board was put up to record it. Jones did not ring in the peal. After describing the performance the inscription goes on:—'May this panel transmit their names to posterity with that of the ingenious Mr. W. Jones, on whose abilities his inimitable commentaries so happily concludes with: Here the Cynic and the Panegyrist stop and join in eulogiums to such distinguished merits.'

The inflated style and the whole eulogy sound to our modern ears in rather questionable taste; but eighteenth century standards were not as ours are, and there is no doubt that this is a quite sincere tribute of admiration and esteem.

William Jones first appears as a Cumberland Youth. A man of that name joined the Society in 1754 and it may be he. But I think not. If so, as his last peal was in 1812, his active ringing career extended over nearly sixty years, which is not impossible but rather improbable. In 1767 the name again appears, and this time it is certainly our man. The other was probably a relative, possibly his father. In making investigations into old records we can easily be led astray by the similarity of names. There were many ringing families and fathers, then as now, frequently called their eldest son by their own Christian name. Thus we have two William Underwoods, both notable ringers, two Samuel Mugeridges, both notable tenor men, two George Gross', both notable conductors. Their ringing careers overlapped and sometimes it is very difficult to know which is which.

William Jones rang no peals with the Cumberlands in his early days. The Society's headquarters were 'The Sun' in Shoreditch. He lived in the western suburbs, at Kensington or near by, and got his ringing in the district. About 1775 John Worster formed his band and naturally Jones joined him. He rang in the 6,000 at Mortlake and the 5,264 at St. Mary Abbot's next year. This brought him in touch with the old College Youths' Society's headquarters at 'The Barn.' He was Senior Steward in 1776, and during his term of office the rules were revised. A finely printed copy of them, the only one extant, is in the British Museum. It ends with the following verse:—

'Friends and Brothers to these Rules adhere
Then Spleen and Rancour you need not fear;
These Rules observed for ever will prevent Commotions and promote your chief Content.'

In 1776 Jones called two peals for the Society, one Grandsire Triples at Bermondsey, the other Grandsire Caters at St. Sepulchre's, Holborn.

How soon he formed the intention of writing a book on ringing we cannot, of course, know. Probably quite early; for it takes a long time, years in fact, to collect the necessary material for such a work. There was a great need for it at the time. Fabian Stedman had published his 'Tintinnalogia' and his 'Campanalogia' more than a hundred years before. The J.D. and C.M. 'Campanalogia,' largely copied from Stedman, was quite a good book when issued in 1702; but the advance in ringing during the eighteenth century was so rapid that it quickly was out of date. It was reprinted four times in 1705, 1733, 1753 and 1766. The last edition—Monk's—was about as much use to a London ringer of 1766 as a treatise on bows and arrows would be to a modern soldier. For a long time, both in London and the country, new methods and new peals had been continually rung. But information about them was hard to get. Except for Holt's peals there was nothing in print, and bands and composers were very loth to part with their figures. Perhaps because they did not want their performances beaten; perhaps because other people might find them false; or from mere conservatism or because means of communication were small.

It is remarkable how very few of the early compositions have survived. In Holt's time the Union Scholars adopted the laudable practice of putting the figures in their peal books, and the London Youths to some extent copied them. But except in rare cases these examples were not followed and much valuable and interesting information has been lost.

The writing of a new book on ringing, therefore, meant a lot of careful and patient collecting of material, and also an immense amount of new work in the way of composition.

In some respects William Jones was well qualified for the task. He knew a good deal about composing and conducting, and he was a fluent writer in the grandiloquent style of the period. But he was wise enough to know that if the book was to be a really good one, he needed the help of someone with far greater technical knowledge and bigger skill in composition than he himself possessed. He was fortunate enough to find such a one in John Reeves, a clever young ringer, and one who bade fair to become the equal or superior in composition of John Holt himself.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

PROGRESS AT BARDFIELD.

A meeting of the Northern Division was held at Great Bardfield on Saturday, July 25th, and although the weather conditions were very unfavourable, 32 members attended from 14 parishes. Ringing commenced shortly after 2.30, and, later, a service was held in the church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Russell), Mr. C. H. Howard (Master of the association) reading the lesson.

Arrangements had been made for tea on the Vicarage lawn, but owing to the weather it was provided in the schoolroom, the Vicar taking the chair. At the business meeting, which followed, four new ringing members were elected. It was also decided to hold a meeting at Foxearth on September 19th.

Mr. Howard thanked the Vicar for his excellent and encouraging address; he also thanked the organist, the churchwarden (Mr. Smith), and the ladies who had assisted at the tea. He complimented the Bardfield ringers on the progress they had made. When the peal was augmented to eight, he said, the ringers also advanced, and to-day there was a very good local band there. Some of the older ringers were making way for the benefit of the younger men, which was the proper spirit. Mr. Jennings had interested himself in calling, and he had recently conducted a peal of Double Norwich Major, which was a credit to him (hear, hear).

The Vicar, in reply, thanked Mr. Howard on behalf of the ringers for the compliment he had paid them.

Touches in various methods, including Cambridge Surprise Major, were rung during the afternoon and evening, and it was a great pleasure to see four lads hardly in their teens making splendid headway in change ringing.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

A Grimsby District meeting, combined with the Lincoln Ladies' Guild, was held at Bigby on Saturday, July 18th. Members attended from Burton-on-Stather, Ulceby, Elsham, Thornton Curtis, Grimsby, Barrow, and the local members, also ringing friends from Lincoln. Mrs. R. Richardson, of Surfleet, secretary of the Lincoln Ladies' Guild, and Mr. Richardson, also Mr. G. W. Fletcher, secretary of the Central Council, and Mrs. Fletcher, the secretary and treasurer of the Ladies' Guild. The bells were kept going during the afternoon. The service was conducted by the president and Rector of the parish, the Rev. H. T. Parry. Mr. H. Rushby presided at the organ.

During the service a peal board was unveiled by Mr. G. Blanchard, conductor of Bigby tower, and dedicated by the Rector, the Rev. H. J. Parry. It is a beautiful work of art on vellum, given and designed by the Rector, being his first peal, and the first peal on the bells. Mr. G. Blanchard conducted the peal.

Thirty-four members and friends sat down to a splendid tea, very kindly provided by the president and Mrs. Parry. The president presided at the business meeting. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. Two new members were elected. A collection for the district bell fund amounted to 15s. 7d. It was decided to cancel the Thursday, July 30th, meeting at Burton-on-Stather, also the Claxby, Thursday, September 10th, meeting. It was decided through an invitation to arrange a meeting at Thornton Curtis during September. Mr. H. Rushby proposed, and Mr. G. Atkinson seconded, a hearty vote of thanks to the president and Mrs. Parry for the splendid tea they had provided, also to the Rev. Parry for the use of the bells and conducting the service, and for his excellent address.

Reeves played a large part, indeed a decisive part, in the story of the College Youths, but his ringing career was chiefly elsewhere, and an account of it will come better in another connection. He joined the Cumberland Society on February 21st, 1761, being then about twenty years old. He was elected to the usual minor offices in due course and rang in many peals. In time there came to him, as to other young and ambitious ringers, the desire to lead and to call peals. The Cumberlands had no lack either of leaders or conductors. George Gross was then at the height of his career and, besides him, there were Samuel Wood and others. Reeves had therefore to go elsewhere, and in 1774 he joined the London Youths.

This society now comes into the story, and a short sketch of them is necessary.

NOTE 13.—Between 1735 and 1752 there are twenty-five names of Twickenham men in the College Youths' name book.

NOTE 14.—Not all these peals are in the College Youths' peal book. I have come across instances of peals rung for the society and recorded on boards which were not entered at headquarters.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Southern District of the Surrey Association was held at Burstow on Saturday, July 25th, when, despite the heavy showers, about thirty ringers put in an appearance at this little church. They came from Buckland, Charlwood, East Grinstead, Horley, Reigate, Redhill, Turner's Hill, and the local band. There was some good ringing during the day. At the service an interesting address was given by the Rector of Burstow (the Rev. A. Bradley), who afterwards kindly entertained the ringers to tea in the Institute. After ten, the business meeting was proceeded with, the Rector occupying the chair. Three new ringing members were elected from the Reigate tower, viz., Cyril Hygate, Ronald Tuffin, and George Swallow.

The next meeting is to be held at Linspsfield Chart in September. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector for the use of the bells, for his welcome, and address at the service, and for his hospitality in providing the tea. Thanks were also accorded to the ladies for waiting at the tables, and to Mr. John Bradley for presiding at the organ during the service.

The ringers made another visit to the tower and kept the bells going from rounds to Cambridge Surprise Minor till about nine o'clock.

A LAST TRIBUTE.

At Ellesmere, Salop, on Sunday, July 26th, the bell's of the Parish Church were rung half-muffled for the morning service as a last tribute of respect to the late veteran ringer, Mr. Samuel Meadows, of Wrexham, who died suddenly at the age of 67 years on Saturday, July 18th, and was interred by his own request at Ellesmere Cemetery. 360 of Stedman Doubles were rung by the following: A. Biggs 1, A. Allen 2, T. R. Butler (conductor) 3, A. Haynes 4, W. S. Higginson 5, J. Lloyd 6, W. Higginson 7 and J. Beddows 8. Up to about thirty years ago deceased was a prominent member of the Ellesmere band of ringers, and almost until his death took an active part in the ringing of St. Giles' Parish Church, Wrexham, where he will be greatly missed. He will also be missed by the fraternity of ringers throughout the whole country, by whom he was well known and esteemed.

LADIES' FIRST 720.

At All Saints' Church, Hartford, Hunts, on Tuesday, July 28th, 720 Bob Minor: Miss J. Shepherd 1, C. Pannell 2, E. Pannell 3, Miss H. Hibberd 4, J. Smart (conductor) 5, R. Hibberd 6. This was the first 720 rung by the Misses Shepherd and Hibberd, and the first 720 away from the treble by C. Pannell.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.

The summer meeting of the association at Consett and Blackhill, on Saturday, July 25th, was well attended and successful in every way. After about an hour's ringing on the fine peal of Christ Church, Consett, one of the ropes broke, and another showed signs of following suit, so the party made tracks for St. Aidan's, Blackhill, where the light peal of eight was kept going until teatime, when a further move was made to the Parish Room, where a sumptuous meal had been prepared.

Thanks were then accorded to the clergy for the use of the bells, and to Mr. W. F. Macfeggan, the local secretary, for the excellent arrangements he had made.

An invitation had been received to try the six bells of the Blackhill Roman Catholic Church, and most of the party accepted it, but, with a tenor of 22 cwt. and the bells very hard going, the striking was far from perfect. The belfry contains a board and several cards recording 720's rung in different methods. These are all called 'peals.' Afterwards, there was further ringing at St. Aidan's.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The Leeds and District Society's annual visit to Calverley took place on July 25th. Except for a break for tea and the business meeting, ringing was continuous from 3.30 until 9 p.m. The business meeting was held in the tower, Mr. J. Hey (vice-president) being in the chair. Members were present from Armley, Batley, Bramley, Rothwell, Headingley (St. Michael's and St. Chad's), Burley, Pudsey, Queensbury, Idle and the local company. The following resolution was passed: 'That all members are asked to observe the fixed meeting dates and not fix other ringing on these dates.'

Mr. Jackson (St. Chad's), proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells, and to the local company for the arrangements. Mr. P. J. Johnson (St. Michael's) seconded, and Mr. C. Pratt replied on behalf of the local company. The methods rung were Grandsire Triples, Plain Bob Major, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich, Stedman Triples, Superlative and Cambridge Surprise.

NETHERTON.—At St. Andrew's Church, on Sunday, July 26th, for evening service, a quarter-peal of Plain Bob Major (1,264 changes) in 46 mins.: B. Prestidge 1, H. Hill 2, B. Boote 3, A. Round 4, T. A. Townsend 5, A. Prestidge, son, 6, A. Prestidge, jun., 7, H. Hubbard (conductor) 8. First quarter-peal in the method as conductor. All are members of the local band.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The Masonic peal of Kent Treble Bob Maximus recorded last week was also rung under the auspices of the Kent County Association. It was arranged as a compliment to W. Bro. White, on his installation as W.M. of 'Holmesdale' Lodge, No. 874.

Roy Woodward's performance at Leiston in ringing four Surprise methods in his first four peals gave rise to the inquiry whether this had been previously done. Mr. Walter Perkins informs us that Fred Palmer, of Irthlingborough, rang, in 1930, four peals, viz., Cambridge, London, Bristol and Superlative Surprise. In this year he has rung Irchester and Superlative—all inside and at the first attempt.

There is not much that is new now left for a beginner to do, apparently, except to ring Spliced Surprise for his first peal!

EIGHT BELLS.

PEAL FOR HUSBORNE CRAWLEY CHURCH NOW COMPLETED.

Last year's patronal festival at Husborne Crawley was notable for the fact that over £100 was raised, which saw the completion of the tower restoration fund. This year the Vicar was able to state on Sunday that the two new bells wanted so badly to make a peal of eight for the church belfry had been ordered and would be delivered in a few weeks. The money to meet the expense would be forthcoming, so that no debt on the parish would be incurred. The announcement came as a great surprise and caused lively satisfaction. When the big church restoration scheme of twenty years ago was carried out and the beautiful peal of six was renovated and rehung, the frame was made for a complete peal of eight. The Vicar and his band of ringers make no secret of their delight that their cherished dream of this result will so soon be realised.

A QUICK SOLUTION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The solution of Mr. A. E. Parker's problem in to-day's 'Ringing World' is:—

1. J. J. B. Lates, 248 calls, p. 133 in 'Stedman.'
2. T. Thorstans, 250 calls, p. 128 in 'Stedman.'
3. Wm. Shipway, 362 calls, p. 124 in 'Stedman.'
4. Jos. Tehhs, 622 calls, p. 121 in 'Stedman.'

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

The monthly branch meeting of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, Devizes Branch, was held at Upavon on Saturday last. During the afternoon the towers of Netheravon, Fittleton and Enford were visited, and, as they are all six-bell towers in good condition, some good ringing practice was got through. Thanks are due to those ringers with private cars who so loyally assisted by taking the members around. The first two cars arrived back at Upavon in time for a short touch on that beautiful peal, while the remaining cars and motor-cycles completed their journey, and all assembled for the Guild service. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. A. J. Watson, who extended a hearty welcome to the visitors. Tea was followed by a short business meeting, Mr. C. D. Heginbotham presiding. The chairman spoke with pleasure of the activities of the branch members, special mention being made of Bradford-on-Avon (Christ Church), where Mr. Norman Andrews, of Trowbridge, has been teaching an entirely new band with excellent results. He also congratulated the members who had taken part in the two branch peals rung since the July meeting, at Urchfont and All Cannings. The following were elected members: The Rev. J. O. Thompson, Rural Dean of Urchfont, associate member, and Mr. N. G. Kuce, of Warminster, ringing member. The next meeting will be held at Rowde on September 5th, with ringing at Bromham in the evening, also there will be an evening practice at Heytesbury on Wednesday, August 19th, at 7 p.m. The next lecture on 'Ringing' will be given early in September. The usual vote of thanks brought the meeting to a close, and ringing at Upavon was continued till 8.15. The following methods were rung both afternoon and evening: Cambridge Surprise, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Plain Bob Minor, Stedman, Grandsire and Plain Bob Doubles. The following towers were represented at the meeting: Devizes St. John's, St. Mary's and St. James', Southbroom, Rowde, Warminster, Upavon, Mere, Kingston Magna, Swindon, and St. Andrew's, Uxbridge. Mr. J. T. Dyke, Chilcompton, took part in the ringing during the evening.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A summer meeting was held at Ely on Saturday, July 25th. This new venture was in the nature of an experiment, and proved a great success, as about 40 ringers came from as far as Croydon (or Surbiton, besides local centres. The bells of St. Mary's, Ely, are unfortunately the only ones in the town, so that Littleport and Sutton in the Isle were secured for the use of those coming from the north or south. The special ringers' service was held at 4.30 p.m., when the Bishop of Ely, who has recently become president of this association, gave an excellent address. After tea and meeting, a photograph was taken. This turned out a very fine group, copies of which can be had from Starr and Rignall, City Studio, Ely. Several young ringers took their part well in eight-bell work.

THE STEDMAN TERCENTENARY.

BELL RESTORATION CONTRACT.

The Committee responsible for carrying into effect the restoration of the bells of St. Bene't's Church, Cambridge, in celebration of the Stedman Tercentenary, have placed the contract with Messrs. Taylor & Co., of Loughborough. Their work will be confined exclusively to the bells and frame; the work in connection with the tower, which includes, as mentioned last week, a reinforced concrete beam entirely round the structure, will be entrusted to a firm of builders who specialise in work on old buildings.

The two contracts involve an expenditure of considerably over £400, so that, despite the generous response that has been made, there is still more money required to enable all the subsidiary details, such as the faculty and architect's fees, the memorial tablet, etc., to be adequately provided for.

Contributions should be sent to:

FABIAN STEDMAN.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I appreciate the humour of Mr. Pritchett's letter, but I do not admit a resemblance between the Shakespeare-Bacon controversy and anything I have ever written about Stedman. I have never attributed his books to any other person or questioned his ability to write them, though, likely enough, he got the benefit of advice and assistance from friends, as writers on technical subjects still do. I have always accepted the traditions about Stedman, but I do not know of any that constrains us to assume that his entire life was spent at Cambridge. In reality our knowledge of his later life was a blank, and when Mr. Owden Stedman communicated the 1713 will to the College Youths I considered that he had satisfactorily filled that blank, and in the thirty years that have since elapsed nothing has been established to confute him. Of course, future discovery may throw further light on this subject one way or the other, and I should not have troubled you with any communication about it had it not been that it has seemed to me that my use of the word 'civil servant' without explanation has latterly caused some misunderstanding and so raised a quite unnecessary difficulty which I wished, if possible, to remove. As what I wrote to 'The Bell News' in 1903 cannot now be readily accessible to the majority of your readers, I thought it the best course to restate the matter at length.

Mr. Trollope has answered for me Mr. Drake's question why I said Stedman was a printer. I accept the tradition and regard the Leicester account as a confirmation. It is no disparagement to Stedman so to call him. In the seventeenth century plenty of the sons of the gentry were apprenticed to trades, and I believe Stedman came of a family of respectable standing. As to publishing, I suppose him to have adopted the best means open to him at the time to get his books circulated.

Mr. Drake is in error in thinking I had copies of the will printed, except the one I sent to 'The Bell News.'

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting was held at Usk on Saturday, August 1st. There was a very good muster of representatives from both dioceses. The bells, a lovely ring of eight by Taylor, were set going early in the afternoon. Various methods were rung until 4.30, when service was held in the Parish Church, the Vicar, the Rev. Canon Edward Morgan, M.A., officiating. The address was most interesting. Tea was most generously provided by the Vicar and Mrs. Morgan. At the business meeting, presided over by the Vicar, the minutes of the previous meeting were read, and various items commented on. The report of the representatives to the Central Council meeting held at Liverpool was given by the hon. secretary, Mr. J. W. Jones. Reports of instructors and bell restorations were dealt with, and new members elected. It was decided to hold the next Monmouthshire meeting at Shirenewton, and the next Glamorganshire meeting at Cowbridge. Votes of thanks to the Vicar and his wife and to the ladies for serving at the tables were passed. The bells were kept going until late in the evening.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

The 44th annual festival was held at Macclesfield on July 25th. The proceedings commenced with the Guild service, held in the Parish Church of St. Michael at 3.30 p.m. The Guild sermon was preached by the Bishop of Chester, who gave a most interesting and useful address on the relation between ringers and the Church. The service was followed by tea, at which fifty were present, most of whom attended the meeting afterwards.

The chief feature of the meeting was probably the confirmation of four grants—one each of £5 and £5 5s., and two of £7 10s., to Kidsgrove Church, the Stedman Tercentenary Fund, and the churches at Market Drayton and Rosilverne respectively.

The officers for 1931-1932 were re-elected to their positions, with the exception of that of general secretary. As Mr. J. C. E. Simpson had expressed his inability to continue in that office, the Guild were fortunate in securing the services of two of its members, Rev. W. R. Ingham, of Middlewich, the new general secretary, and Mr. H. Parker, of Northwich, the report secretary. The duties of secretaryship were by this means divided and made less onerous.

On the proposition of Mr. E. W. Elwell, it was decided to hold the annual meetings in future alternately on August Bank Holiday and on the last Saturday but one before the same, in order to secure more time for the preparation of the annual report, the publication of which by Easter Monday, the date on which the Guild have recently been meeting in alternate years, is not always possible.

It was also decided, on the proposition of Mr. A. Crawley, to print and issue a broadsheet of the Guild rules to each tower in union, as this had not been done for some years, and there were therefore many members at present in ignorance of these rules.

A motion to the effect that the words 'and loyally carry out the rules and decisions thereof' be added to Rule 18, which reads: 'The Guild shall be affiliated to the Central Council of Bellingers,' was by a large majority postponed for discussion till the next annual meeting (although carried by the committee meeting), on the grounds that the rules and decisions of the Council were about to undergo extensive revision.

Other business which was transacted included (a) the passing of a resolution proposing the transference to the list of life honorary members of the names of ringing members who had been in the Guild 40 or more years, and (b) a decision that in future any member of the Guild of five or more years' standing who leaves the diocese shall without further payment become a non-resident life member of the Guild, provided he claim the privilege at the time of leaving in writing to the general secretary.

BLACKPOOL'S WELCOME.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—On Sunday, June 28th, I happened to be spending part of my holiday in Blackpool, and, as is usual on these occasions, turned up at St. John's to ring for morning service. On arrival at the tower I found about five other South Lancashire ringers, who with myself were invited to take hold, and with the aid of the local ringers enjoyed ringing Grandsire and Stedman Triples, followed by a grand touch of Double Norwich. In the evening, some of the visitors even got in a touch of Cambridge Surprise Major. After this the holiday makers were informed by that genial veteran of the Fylde district, Mr. Chas. Sharples, that he had arranged for a peal attempt at St. Cuthbert's, Lytham, for the following Wednesday. The band, which included Mr. Sharples and two other Blackpool men, decided to ring Stedman. Unfortunately, the attempt came to grief through a shift just short of half-way.

I would like, on behalf of the visitors, to thank the Vicar and sexton at St. Cuthbert's, Lytham, for their kindness in allowing us to use the bells. Also, we wish to thank Mr. Sharples and the Blackpool ringers, who are to be commended for the way in which they arrange their service ringing.—Yours truly,

R. L.

ESSEX RINGERS IN SURREY.

The ringers of Shenfield and South Weald had their annual outing on Saturday, June 20th, and spent a most enjoyable day in Surrey. Calling first at Croydon, the party were shown over Messrs. Gillott and Johnston's Bell Foundry, and amongst the many interesting things to be seen was the carillon of 72 bells (the largest number of bells ever cast for one tower), with a tenor of 17 tons, for the University of Chicago, the guide demonstrating the many octaves and their splendid tone. The next stop was at Merstham, where the ring of six were kept busy for a short time, before the party went on to Buckland, where they were met and welcomed by the Vicar to the beautiful old church, parts of which date back to the eleventh century. On a light peal of six (tenor 6½ cwt.) some good ringing was enjoyed by all. At Leigh the visit was cut short in order not to be late for lunch at the Queen's Head Hotel, Nutfield. After this the handbells were brought into use, and much appreciated by all present. Then a delightful hour was spent with the tower bells before proceeding to Godstone for tea and an evening with the local band and some old friends. Home was reached about 11.30, all agreeing that it had been the best outing the combined towers had ever had.

THE RINGERS' PILGRIMAGE TO THE MENIN GATE.

A NEW PAGE WRITTEN IN THE ANNALS OF THE EXERCISE.

MEMORABLE TRIP TO BELGIUM.

'They shall not grow old, as we who are left grow old,
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn,
At the going down of the Sun—and in the Morning
We will remember them.'

'Some years ago a course of Stedman Caters was rung in Westminster Abbey over the grave of the Unknown Warrior. Why not a ringers' pilgrimage to the Menin Gate.' Thus wrote Mr. William Willson, of Leicester, in the one thousandth number of 'The Ringing World.'

The pilgrimage has been made and a new page has been written in the annals of ringing.

Mr. Willson's thoughtful suggestion materialised sooner than most people imagined. With characteristic initiative he set to work to investigate the possibilities of such an undertaking; he shouldered the business of prospecting the field and arranging the details, and the result has been that during this week a party of thirty, representing the ringers of Great Britain, has made the trip to Belgium and solemnly and reverently at the Menin Gate, on the road which so many trod never to return, remembered their fallen comrades of the belfry and all the rest of that heroic host who found their journey's end in the garden of God.

The pilgrimage has been an education and an inspiration to those privileged to take part in it, and it was a pity that a number, who made last-minute applications to accompany the party, could not be included on account of lack of time and accommodation. The 'pilgrims' who made up the little company consisted of the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, M.A., M.C. (Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild), who acted as chaplain, Mr. Wm. Willson (Leicester), Mr. H. Barton (Ventnor, Isle of Wight), Mr. Wm. Bibby and Mr. J. E. Bibby (Frodsham, Cheshire), Mr. W. H. Biggs (Twickenham), Mr. E. W. Button (Rolvenden, Kent), Mr. J. W. Cotton (Overseale), Mr. W. H. Curson (Netherseale), Mr. W. H. Dove (Northampton), Mrs. L. East (North Collingham, Notts), Mr. R. F. Elkington (Austey, Leicestershire), Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (Woking, Surrey), Mr. G. Harden (Rolvenden, Kent), Mr. H. D. Harris (Woburn, Beds), Mr. L. W. Jacques (Mansfield Woodhouse, Notts), Mr. C. H. Jennings and Mr. P. A. Jennings (Wyke Regis, Dorset), Mr. Johnson (Austey, Leicestershire), Mr. H. W. Lidbetter (Isleworth, Middlesex), Mr. R. Overy (Haslemere, Surrey), Mr. R. Philpott (Guildford, Surrey), Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Pulling (Guildford), Mr. H. J. Poole (Leicester), Mr. R. A. Post (Oxford), Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rodger (Paisley, Scotland), and Mr. J. H. Wildman (Grantham). Of these, the chaplain, Messrs. Curson, Jacques, C. H. Jennings, Pulling and Rodger actually saw service on the Ypres salient. Mrs. East lost her husband on the French front, and was able to visit his grave at Arras, and Mr. Elkington was able to find the name of his brother Ernest inscribed on the Menin Gate.

Multiplication of trains and the general confusion inseparable from August Bank Holiday traffic resulted in the failure of the 'pilgrims' to make their prearranged common rendezvous at Victoria Station on Saturday morning. Some travelled by one train, some by another; some by one boat, some by another, and it was not until they arrived at Pension Myra, Ostend, that eventually they all met. The trains were crammed, the boats packed to capacity with holiday makers, but happily the sea was on its best behaviour, and a perfect crossing was made. The second party, 'chaperoned' by the 'commanding officer,' had the handbells with them, and these were brought into play both on train and steamer, but the only thing that really remains to be recorded in this direction is the first course of 'keg-meg' on the North Sea. The ringing was never of the serious type, but, if truth be told, it was only 'put on' to divert the thoughts of certain ringers from anticipation of mal-de-mer. Dinner and the gay and brilliant promenade of Ostend were the distractions of the evening. The strange coinage was a constant source of amusement at this early stage. Having persuaded an honest Belgian to give one as many francs as possible for a Belgian note, if one made a purchase the only thing to do seemed to be to lay on the counter a handful of money and permit the shopkeeper to help himself, and it was astonishing how rapidly a handful of Belgian money melted. In trying to check up on the rate of exchange, one well-known ringer was heard to ask, 'How many of those millimetres do you get for a franc?' 'It isn't "millimetres" at all,' said his companion. 'Millimetres mean feet. What you mean is "centipedes." There's a hundred of them to a franc.'

The thunder of the guns round Ypres must have been recalled to those who served in the Salient when they were awakened about 4 a.m. on Sunday by a violent storm which passed over the town, but it did not bring the pilgrims to breakfast any earlier. The day was more or less a free one, but advantage was taken of the morning to endeavour to ring on handbells the first peal in Belgium. Complete with umpire and witness, a band of five took their places under a spreading vine which adorns one of the dining-rooms of the Myra, and launched straight into a peal of Stedman Caters, with Harold Poole at the helm, Alf Pulling as look-out man, and three others in the crew, who carried out the orders from the bridge. There were numerous spectators at the start, who afterwards drifted away—and wisely, too—to enjoy the charms of Ostend's sea front. When they returned, probably from curiosity to know how the peal was faring, but more likely to discuss the luncheon fare, they found the ringing still in progress, and heard the only serious trip. A pretty big sea was shipped when the look-out man's warning was misunderstood by one of the crew, but the helmsman brought the boat back on to her course, and she ran into harbour safely after a voyage of 2 hrs. 56 mins., amid the plaudits of the spectators and the deep relief of 'Madame,' who was anxiously waiting to lay the tables for lunch. The first peal had been rung in Belgium—a land of bells—and the first peal on ten bells on the continent of Europe. It was not the first peal on the Continent, for it is on record that four members of the College Youths rang Holt's ten-part peal of Grandsire at Calais. But ringing history had been made, and the first of a series of 'adventures' had been safely negotiated.

In the afternoon the 'week-end' members of the party made a non-conducted visit to Zeebrugge, which will for ever be remembered for one of the most daring and glorious episodes in British history—the storming of the Mole and the blocking of the Bruges canal. To the visitors the walk along the Mole to the spot where the great epic was enacted and the visit to the war museum was full of thrilling interest, and one stood in reverence before the towering memorial on which St. George stands, with his sword transfixing the dragon, and read the names of 'Vindictive' and those other vessels whose names stand out in letters of blood on that great page in the annals of the fighting services. Never was story told more succinctly or adequately than in the brief inscription which records that the memorial was erected 'In memory of St. George's Day, 1918, when every moment had its deed and every deed its hero.'

Monday was a day of great experiences, and will long leave among the party stirring recollections. The central act of the pilgrimage was performed, a tour was made of the Ypres salient whose defence by the British Army was one of the most heroic epics of the war, and cost us a quarter of a million lives, and a visit was paid to Bruges to listen to the most famous of all the Belgian carillons. It was a day crowded with interest; for some it recalled vividly the tragedy and comedy of many personal experiences; for others it put numerous well-remembered events into a new perspective, and corrected those indefinite notions which so often arise when knowledge is not gained at first hand.

The service at the Menin Gate will remain an ineffaceable memory. The Burgomaster of the proud city of Ypres, which has arisen phoenix-like out of the ashes of the war, had given his official sanction to the ceremony, and attended in person to meet the 'pilgrims.' Traffic was diverted, so that the proceedings might not be interrupted, and when the chaplain took his place in the centre of the roadway that passes through the great gateway, noble in its massive proportions and simple design, a hush fell upon the great assembly of visitors—people of many nations—who silently took their places along the sidewalks, and, bareheaded, watched with reverent interest the ceremony which, amid all the many scenes that have been witnessed at the Menin Gate, was unique in at least one respect.

Behind the chaplain stood Messrs. Jennings and Jacques bearing the chaplet, and, forming a semi-circle round them, were the handbell band, behind whom stood the other members of the pilgrimage. A hush fell over the assembly, which must have numbered nearly, if not quite, a thousand persons.

Then the chaplain spoke, his clear voice coming distinctly to all who stood within the confines of the gate. He began with a short exhortation:—

'Mr. Burgomaster, citizens of Ypres, brothers and sisters from the British Isles,' he said. 'There have been many British people who have stood here since the Armistice and paid their respects to the memory of the illustrious dead who gave their lives in the Great War. We, to-day, represent the church bellringers of Great Britain to the number of some forty thousand. Of that number, 1,071 gave their lives in the war, and some of them have their names on the Menin Gate. We are here to-day to pay our tribute of respect in a way which brings back a memory of a great science and art, in which we, with them, engaged in the days gone by, and in which we are still engaged. We propose to ring for a short space handbells after the manner in which our church bells are rung in our home land, and at the conclusion to deposit at the Menin Gate a chaplet which is significant of that science and art and music which we love and they love with us.'

He then asked the assembly to join with him in spirit in short prayers. The first was in remembrance of those who fell in the war:—

'O Heavenly Father, we bless Thy Holy Name for the memory of our brethren who fell in the Great War; do Thou, we pray Thee, crown the gift of their matchless courage with the gift of eternal peace, and grant that we, encouraged by their example and strengthened by their fellowship, may with them be found meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light, through the merits of Jesus Christ our Lord.'

Then, after a prayer for union and concord within the nations, came the collect so often associated with ringers' services:—

'Grant, O Lord, that all they for whose passing away from this world these bells shall sound, may enjoy mercy, light and everlasting rest in the Paradise of Thine elect; through Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom with Thee and the Holy Ghost be all honour and glory, world without end.'

The prayers concluded, the handbells spoke. A whole pull in rounds—then silence; complete and absolute, throughout the gateway, which lasted for the space which another whole pull in rounds would have encompassed. The second whole pull, and again silence; a third, and once more silence. Then the bells struck into a course of Grandsire Caters, which was beautifully rung at a stately pace, but it is safe to say that never was a course rung under more trying conditions for the ringers. Remember the place; remember the circumstances; remember the watchful interest of a thousand pairs of eyes; remember the anxiety of the ringers that nothing should mar the solemnity of the occasion, and you can imagine the strain which these five men must have felt as they discharged the duty entrusted to them. It was magnificently done, and this record would not be complete without their names: Raymond Philpott 1-2, Redvers F. Elkington 3-4, Alfred H. Pulling 5-6, Harold J. Poole 7-8, Henry D. Harris 9-10.

At the conclusion of the ringing, the chaplain, as the senior in rank of the ex-Service men present, deposited the chaplet, and, returning to the centre, brought the deeply impressive ceremony to a close by reciting the Ascription.

The chaplet occupies a conspicuous position among many hundreds which line the sides of the memorial, and was inspected with interest by a large number of visitors.

Afterwards the pilgrims were snapshotted on the ramparts by the Gate, and a large number of the public followed them apparently in the hope of hearing some further ringing, which, to them, was an entirely novel thing.

The massive splendour of the Menin Gate, and the noble dignity of its proportions, have to be seen to be realised. It contains the names, cut in the stone, of nearly sixty thousand British officers and men, 'who fell in the Ypres Salient, but to whom the fortune of war denied the known and honoured burial given to their comrades in death,' and over the entrance at either end, surmounted by the British lion, is inscribed: 'To the armies of the British Empire who stood here from 1914 to 1918, and to those of their dead who have no known grave.' As one stands and looks for the first time on this great memorial and scans these dedicatory words, involuntarily there comes a catch in the throat when one reads that last sentence. They passed out of sight, British soldiers, 'known to God,' but a proud and grateful nation has seen to it that their names shall be for ever remembered.

En route to Ypres, a diversion was made to inspect the monster gun, now derelict, known as 'Long Max,' which, during the war, from the seclusion of a great wood, shelled Dunkirk, 28 miles distant. This enormous engine of destruction was made by Krupp before the war, and is said to have been one of fifteen prepared for the bombardment of Dover from the French coast. Along the road towards Ypres was Houthulst Forest, of evil memory. This has now given place very largely to fair farm lands, but there still remains a portion where, above the new undergrowth, blackened and perished tree stumps are still a reminder of the war. It was a curious coincidence that at the very time the 'pilgrims' were passing this spot, clearing operations were in progress, and several explosions, sending up great showers of earth and tree roots, were witnessed.

Poelcapelle, with the Guynemer monument to that famous French air 'ace' who finally crashed at this spot, and the striking Canadian memorial in the St. Julien cemetery, where rest the two thousand men of the Dominion who lost their lives in the first gas attack launched by the Germans, were the next main points of interest. Then Hill 60, where, from the summit with a panorama laid out on both sides of the ridge, the party listened to a short but graphic story of the struggle which ebbed and flowed over this historic ground, where Mr. Rodger had himself fought with the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, and in the storming of which he took part. The itinerary then took the party past 'Hell Fire Corner' to the great objective of the tour, the Menin Gate.

Ypres itself is a new city—a great testimony to the courage and the resource of the Belgians. It is no collection of cheap and shoddy buildings erected amid the debris of its former self. With wise vision the authorities insisted upon the rebuilding of the town with some resemblance to its former picturesqueness; hence its architecture is varied and typical of the days before its destruction. A magnificent cathedral, a delight to the eye, both internally and externally, and worthy of the faith for which it stands, rears itself above the city, while close beside it remains the only substantial evidence of the ruthless fate which overtook the old town. A portion of a wall of the famous thirteenth-century Cloth Hall and the heavily-shored remains of the ancient tower still stand as a reminder; but for the rest Ypres is a city of substantial appearance and, at this season of the year at all events, considerable activity.

It was with interest that the padre pointed out the route by which he once entered the ruined city on a visit prompted by curiosity early one morning, and by which he and his companions much more quickly decamped when the Germans resumed their bombardment at an unexpectedly early hour.

A place of conspicuous interest is St. George's Memorial Church, the English Church of Ypres, in which the regiments who fought on the Salient are commemorated, together with their first commander-in-chief, Lord French of Ypres. The interior is light and cheerful, and yet strikes a note of solemnity. There is said to be a desire to place a ring of six bells in the square tower.

After Ypres came Steenstrate, Dixmude, Pervyse and Nieuport, inseparably connected with countless deeds of valour in the holding up of the invader in his rush to the Channel ports. It was in this area that the sluice gates of the Yser canal were opened, and miles of country flooded, and the first serious check offered to the Germans in their endeavour to reach Dunkirk and Calais.

While touring through this section the pilgrims stopped and inspected a typical British cemetery, at Essex Farm. There are 177 of the hallowed plots 'which are for ever England' dotted along the battle front. They are beautiful spots, cared for by the British War Graves Commission. Every grave is marked with a stone, most of them recording the name and regiment of the soldier who lies beneath, and, where known, the date of his death. His regimental badge is carved at the head, except in the case of those who have been unidentified, and these, which, like the rest, bear the insignia of the Cross, are engraved with the simple inscription: 'A soldier of the Great War. Known to God.'

Those who have loved ones lying in any of these cemeteries, and who are unable to visit these hallowed places, can take comfort from the fact that the graves and all the surroundings are beautifully kept and cared for. On every grave flowers bloom, and to walk through one of these cemeteries is like walking through a glorious garden tended by loving hands. The British cemeteries on the battle front are a revelation to those who have not seen them before. The first resting place of untold thousands of these men was often in a shell-swept desert; their last resting place is a beautiful and holy spot.

At Nieuport there is preserved a section of the Belgian trenches and dugouts, which have now been made permanent in concrete, and have become a show place for excursionists. They lined the southern bank of the Yser canal near the sea, while the Germans were similarly entrenched on the other side of the narrow strip of water. While the pilgrims were inspecting this last point of interest of the excursion, a terrific thunderstorm broke and drove them hurriedly to the shelter of the coaches. The rain came down in a deluge before Ostend was reached, but the storm had passed by the time dinner was over, and the party set out upon their second excursion of the day.

Twice a week during the summer the famous carillon at Bruges is played. Monday was one of the occasions, and it was seized upon by the pilgrims to gain yet another new experience—and it is an experience to hear a continental carillon. Bruges is perhaps the most celebrated of all the Flanders bell towers, and Longfellow has stirred the imaginations of thousands by his poem describing the bells of this quaint old Flemish city. Night was falling as the pilgrims set foot in the ancient market square. From far above them came the strange, ethereal music. Seated in front of the cafes on two sides of the square, standing in groups about the spacious market place, where the flower-decked pylons raise their slender stems, or wandering aimlessly to and fro, were hundreds of the citizens of Bruges, and visitors listening to the playing of M. Nauwelaerts, the carillonneur of the city. It seemed weird, and almost mysterious music, but the carillon is different to the bells which we delight to ring. It is an instrument like a piano, which must be heard as a whole, and when played by the deft hands of a master it has a charm all its own—a charm which is very dear to the heart of the Belgian. And while the audience listened, suddenly the tower was illuminated by spot lights. The whole setting was transformed. The delicate tracery of the beautiful tower was thrown out in bright relief against the dark background of the sky. It was a piece of fairyland dropped into the middle of a commonplace continental scene. It was wonderful. And long after the bell music had ceased and the pilgrims were speeding on their way to Ostend, this white pillar could be seen rearing itself to the sky and standing out in the blackness of the night like a beacon.

On Tuesday came the parting of the ways, and duty called ten of the pilgrims back to England. They left with great reluctance, but with the happiest of memories. What has befallen the remainder since Tuesday morning will be told later. But even in this review the whole has not been told of the events which filled three days, packed from beginning to end with incident and interest.

The expedition was carried out through the organisation of the Free Church Touring Guild, of which Sir Henry Lunn, Ltd., act as agents, and by this means the comfort and convenience of the party were secured in every detail. It has been a tour without worry, and much of its smooth working, and certainly a large part of its interest, has been made possible by Sir Henry Lunn, Ltd.'s, two representatives, Mr. J. L. Hancock, who acted as guide on the battlefields, and Dr. P. L. Collignon. Nor must the indebtedness of the pilgrims be overlooked to Mme. Janhere, of the Pension Myra, Ostend, which has been the headquarters for the week, for her attention to the needs of the party.

SAFFRON WALDEN SOCIETY.

The Saffron Walden Society were once again favoured with fine weather on their annual outing, held on Monday, July 6th. Leaving at 9 a.m., they first visited Royston, where the bells were set going to Stedman Triples. After a few changes had been rung in a touch of London, the fifth rope broke, and this stopped further ringing here. After a look round the interesting old caves, the party moved on to Baldock, where London and Cambridge Surprise, Stedman and Grandsire Triples were rung. Going on to Hitchin, the society was met by the Vicar, Rev. R. F. R. Routh, and some of the local band. They were especially pleased to meet the Vicar, who so often visited the Saffron Walden tower whilst he was Vicar of Castle Camps. The methods rung at Hitchin were Stedman Triples, London, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise, the Vicar and members of his band taking part.

Lunch was then taken at the Sun Hotel, the Rev. R. F. R. Routh being present. Subsequently, the journey was continued to Cardington, but owing to illness near the church, no ringing could be done here, and, after inspecting the church and the grave of the victims of the R101 disaster, a move was made for Bedford, which was reached at 4.15 p.m. This gave ample time to look round the town and have tea, before meeting at the tower at 6 p.m., where members of the local band were waiting to meet the visitors. The methods rung here were Stedman Caters, London and Cambridge Surprise.

The homeward journey was commenced at 8 p.m., and Saffron Walden reached at 10.15 p.m., all agreeing that a very enjoyable day had been spent. The society would like to take this opportunity of thanking the incumbents for the use of the bells, and the steeple-keepers for having everything ready.

VISIT TO WELLS.

The ringers of St. Thomas' Church, Stourbridge, had their annual outing on July 18th, when, with their wives and friends, and accompanied by the Rev. W. Smith, they journeyed by coach to Wells, Somerset. They started at 6 a.m., and after a delightful run through Worcester, Tewkesbury, Cheltenham and Cirencester, a halt was made at Malmesbury for refreshments and a view of the old Abbey. Leaving Malmesbury at 9.30 via Chippenham and Bath, Wells was reached soon after 11 o'clock, and a little later the party were met by the Bishop of Taunton, who kindly acted as guide on a tour of the Cathedral, which was much enjoyed. After dinner, the ringers adjourned to the tower to ring on the Cathedral's celebrated bells. The party then made a tour of the Palace grounds, which are very beautiful and were much admired. Leaving Wells, a glorious run through Chewton Mendip in beautiful sunshine brought them to Bristol, where tea was served. The ringers then made a move to St. Stephen's Church, where they were met by Mr. Wm. Knight and Mr. John Burford, secretary and conductor respectively of St. Stephen's band, and touches of Stedman and Grandsire Caters were brought round and much appreciated by the visitors. A start for home was made at 7.30, and, after a short stay at Tewkesbury to have a peep at the pageant being held there, the party arrived home safely at 11.15 p.m., with the unanimous feeling that it had been a very enjoyable day. Mr. W. Farley was responsible for the major part of the arrangements, assisted by Messrs. A. E. Whatmore and C. W. Cooper, to whom a vote of thanks was accorded.

EARLS COLNE RINGERS VISIT SUFFOLK TOWERS.

The St. Andrew's Guild, Earls Colne, held their annual outing on Saturday, July 18th, when 16 members travelled by motor coach to various parts of Suffolk. Leaving home at 8 a.m., the first call was made at Long Melford, where, after inspecting the church, ringing commenced for the day. Leaving Melford, the next halt was made at Bury St. Edmunds. Here the company had a fine opportunity of seeing some of the historical parts of the town, including St. James' Church and the Norman tower. The next call was made at Elveden, where they received a great welcome from the Vicar, who conducted them over this beautiful little church with its exquisite carvings. A cloister, leading from the church to a beautiful tower erected in 1922 and containing an excellent peal of eight bells, adjoins Elveden Park, the country seat of Lord and Lady Iveagh. Going into the tower the company was met by some of the local ringers, and a well-struck course of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung. Everyone regretted that time would not allow a longer stay, and away the party sped to Mildenhall, where they found an excellent lunch awaiting them at the High Street Cafe. Lunch over, they were joined by some of the local band, and enjoyed some very good striking on the fine peal of eight. Away again to Newmarket, where, as before, they received a very warm welcome. This being a six-bell tower, the young members of the company soon distinguished themselves. Twenty-five miles now separated them from Sudbury, where they were due for tea, and, arriving there at 5.30, they were delighted to meet the Vicar of Earls Colne (the Rev. O. L. Martin), who is president of the Guild. All took tea together with members of the Suffolk Guild. After tea, all three towers in Sudbury were visited, and a most enjoyable time was spent. Home was reached at 9.30, everyone agreeing that the excellent organisation had given them a most enjoyable day. The secretary (Mr. F. Ridgwell), as well as the company, is grateful to all the ringers they met en route and for the great welcome that was accorded them, which was the means of making the outing such a success.

DARLEY DALE RINGERS' OUTING.

A party of Darley Dale ringers and their friends visited various towers in Staffs and Cheshire on July 25th. Proceeding by way of the Via Gellia to Ashbourne, a brief halt was made to view the beautiful old church, but as it is now under repair it was not seen at its best. Leek was the next stopping place, and here the ringers had the use of the Parish Church bells for about an hour, when touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung. The journey was then resumed by way of Congleton, Middlewich and Northwich to Great Budworth, an old-world village having a high situation overlooking Northwich. It has a fine old church with a peal of eight bells, which were rung to Grandsire Triples, Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major. Here the party partook of lunch, after which they continued the tour to Cheadle, near Stockport, passing through Altrincham en route. At Cheadle the ringers were again permitted to use the bells, and the methods rung were Grandsire Triples, Plain Bob and Kent Minor. After tea, they resumed the journey to Hazel Grove, which was to be the final stopping place of the tour, and here, again, the ringers had the use of the bells of St. Thomas' tower for touches of Grandsire Triples, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob Major and Cambridge Surprise Major. At about 8 p.m. the last stage of the journey was begun, and Darley Dale—by way of New Mills and Buxton—was reached about 10 p.m., at the end of a 'perfect day.' The ringers wish to express their thanks to the local men at the various towers who gave them a helping hand to assist them over the difficulty of being somewhat shorthanded.

LAVENHAM RINGERS' OUTING.

The SS. Peter and Paul's Guild of ringers held their tenth annual outing on Saturday, July 25th. The party proceeded by motor coach to Beccles via Stowmarket and Bungay. The first ringing of the day was a course of Grandsire Caters on handbells by the roadside. Reaching Beccles, the party were conducted to the detached campanile of St. Michael's Church by Messrs. Goate, sen., and Goate, jun. Grandsire Triples and Caters, Stedman Triples, and Kent Major were tapped off in style on this fine peal. The next halt was St. Margaret's Church, Lowestoft, where courses of Grandsire Triples, Double Norwich and Oxford Treble Bob Major were brought home. After lunch the journey was continued to St. Nicholas' Church, Great Yarmouth. This church, the largest in England, having an area of 25,023 square feet, was much admired by the visitors. The ringers were greeted by members of the St. Nicholas' Guild. The following methods were rung: Stedman Triples, Kent Major, Grandsire Triples and Caters, also a well-struck course of Grandsire Cinques by members of the two Guilds. The ringers wish to take this opportunity of thanking Messrs. Goate (2), Woodley, Haywood and Harwood, and all others for their kind help, also the incumbents of the three churches visited.

YARMOUTH RINGERS' OUTING.

The annual outing of St. Nicholas' company, Great Yarmouth, was held on Saturday, June 27th, and was favoured with excellent weather. A start was made from Yarmouth at 8 a.m. in a 14-seater saloon coach, and, after a fine run, Bury St. Edmunds was reached, where, at the Norman tower, a touch of Grandsire Caters and Stedman Triples were rung on the fine peal. Members of the local company were present. The visitors proceeded to Lavenham for dinner, which was served at the Swan Hotel and greatly enjoyed. At the tower of SS. Peter and Paul's Church they were met by members of the local company, and touches of Stedman and Double Norwich were rung before departing for Wymondham, where tea was awaiting the party. On the fine peal of eight at St. Mary's, touches of Kent, Double Norwich, and Stedman were rung. This brought ringing for the day to a finish. The journey home was broken by a short stop at Norwich, and Yarmouth reached at 10.30 p.m., after a most enjoyable day. The company take this opportunity of thanking the incumbents for their kindness in granting permission to ring at their respective churches, also Mr. Chinery and the other ringers at Bury, Mr. A. Symonds and his sons at Lavenham, Mr. W. Clover and others at Wymondham for their kindness and the hospitality shown to everyone. J. H.

THE 18 TON RINGING BELL, the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

AT THE MENIN GATE.

A new page, as was said last week, has been written in the history of ringing. By the pilgrimage to the Menin Gate at Ypres ringers have paid their tribute to the great host of the heroic dead, who gave up their lives in the war, in a manner characteristic of their craft and unique among all the scenes of homage that have been witnessed at this historic spot. It was no casual thing this visit. It was deliberately planned as a tribute to the men who fell in Flanders; it was carried out with reverence and solemnity. Prompted by the brief ceremony and the ringing of handbells round the grave of the unknown warrior in Westminster Abbey seven years ago, it has set the seal to the desire that representatives of the Exercise should do homage at the greatest British war shrine outside these isles. But it has done more than that. It has carried the English art of ringing beyond our shores and given a new standing to the Exercise in a land of bells. The pilgrimage was given official recognition by the Burgomaster of Ypres; it was reported in the Belgian newspapers. Many hundreds of visitors to the Gate witnessed the impressive little service, reverently shared in it, heard the handbell ringing, and, to whatever nationality they belonged, must have gone away impressed with the fact that the church bell ringers of the British Isles were a body of no mean importance.

That is one side of the pilgrimage. There was another side to it, which added something further to the performances which will go down in history. The first peal was rung in Belgium, which was also the first ten-bell peal on the Continent, and the first ten-bell peal in France was also rung, in addition to a peal of Triples in Belgium. This was by no means the least interesting feature of the trip, and it serves to recall the fact that the only previous peal on the Continent was rung nearly seventy years ago in Paris by a visiting company of Cumberland Youths. Moreover, the pilgrimage was the most ambitious excursion of the kind ever organised among ringers. It may be that others in future will be tempted, by the success of this excursion, to go abroad and ring peals in other countries. Travel—apart from any ringing that may be done—broadens vision and educates the mind, and now that it has been shown that such expeditions can be made a success, we hope others will show a desire to follow in the steps of the pioneers. But no succeeding trip can have a greater significance than the one just concluded; and none can touch the imagination more than this one. It was an extremely enjoyable excursion for all who took part in it, but the central act of the pilgrimage was an inspiration. When every other recollection has faded, the service at the Menin Gate will remain a great and lasting memory.

* First handbell peal and first attempt. Rung as a birthday compliment to Miss Helen M. Shanks, who was elected a member of the association previous to the peal.

The handbell peals rung on the Continent are recorded on page 527.

BIG MEETING AT PETERBOROUGH.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Branch of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild took place at Peterborough on Monday, August 3rd, and was well attended by ringers from various parts of the country, about one hundred being present. The bells of St. John's and St. Mary's were fully utilised, and some good ringing was done, one feature of the ringing being a touch spliced, London, Bristol, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major, which was much appreciated by all who heard it. Service was held in St. John's Church, conducted by the Rev. A. Inglis, the Guild form being used. Tea was provided at the Dujon Cafe, and 70 sat down to an excellent meal.

At the business meeting, presided over by the Master of the Guild (Mr. F. Wilford), the officers were elected for the year. The towers were again visited, and some good ringing was done, a most enjoyable day being spent by all.

BRAINTREE RINGERS' OUTING.

The annual outing of the ringers of St. Michael's, Braintree, took place on Saturday, July 4th. Leaving Braintree at 7 a.m. by coach, a pleasant run of two hours took them to Elveden, and this fine ring was soon set going to Bristol Surprise.

Thetford and Diss were next visited, and, after lunch at Diss, calls were made at Redenhall, Fressingfield and Peasenhall. Tea was partaken of at Ipswich, and afterwards St. Mary-le-Tower was visited, where the party were met by several members of the local company. Braintree was finally reached again about 11 p.m., a very happy time having been spent by all.

The methods rung during the day were Bristol, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich, and at St. Mary-le-Tower, Grandsire and Stedman Caters. The company wish to take this opportunity of thanking the incumbents of the various churches for the use of the bells, and also the steeplekeepers for having everything ready for them.

GUILDFORD S. NICOLAS' OUTING.

The S. Nicolas' Guild, Guildford, ringers enjoyed another pleasant half-day outing on July 11th, thus adding the ninth to a series of annual trips all favoured by fine weather. The outing took the form of a return visit to the High Wycombe ringers who visited Guildford on Whit Monday.

The party of 21 members and friends, on arriving at High Wycombe, were welcomed by members of the local band, and very soon the visitors, many for the first time, were trying their hands on a peal of twelve bells. Although not used to the weight of metal, they acquitted themselves well.

After tea, a visit to West Wycombe was made for the peal of eight bells. The return journey included Windsor Great Park, and the Thames was crossed by Cookham Bridge. The company wish to record their thanks to the Vicar and his band of ringers for their personal welcome, and for their assistance with the local arrangements for the trip.

THE BUCK, THE BOAR, AND THE OX.
PAROCHIAL HOLIDAY AND DIOCESAN FESTIVAL.

For their fourth annual outing, St. Mary's Society, Slough, decided to attend the jubilee festival of the Oxford Guild, and, notwithstanding the violent rainstorms experienced during the journey, made good use of the conveyance kindly lent to them for the day by the Parochial Church Council. The towers of Goring-on-Thames and Wantage were visited on the outward journey, and those of East Ilsley and Bucklebury on the return, the bells having been placed at their disposal by courtesy of the respective clergy.

Starting from 'Churchgate' at 8.30 a.m., with a 'send off' by the Rector, the course of the Thames was followed via Windsor, Reading and Pangbourne. Here a cosy little car was standing by the roadside, its owner, the editor of the 'Ringing Empire,' taking an early 'snack' on the pilgrim's way. Our crossing the railway bridge recalled a carving on the stone parapet in the shape of a coffin that records the death of the father of one of the party, whom he never saw, Mr. Smith, accidentally killed at his work on the line. The river bridge connecting Streatley (six bells) with Goring is in a picturesque situation, equalling the famous Marlow section of the river, and we were able to view it whilst the internal regions of the 'infernal' engine of the car were adjusted by the driver. At Goring Mr. Bower kindly shewed us the way to his Norman tower and its belfry, without windows, a glass ceiling affording a borrowed light, and the ancient 13th century bell preserved in the nave of the church. The restoration of the bells in 1929 was the result of a legacy left by the late Mr. H. A. Lacey-Smith, churchwarden in 1925. The tenor is 8 cwt. 21 lb., and the bells sound like flutes, both within and outside the tower. This is a good example of a valuable bequest being faithfully and properly employed, but there are instances on record in the past where the money has been diverted to other purposes; in several cases where the testator's wishes have not been respected, and a valuable specimen of the founder's craft sadly destroyed.

Passing through Blewbury, a stop at Upton Lodge, with its 1,000 acres of fine Berkshire farm land to be bought cheap to-day, was ordered for our 'eleven's,' and Wantage was duly reached to time. A very fine Cruciform church, with central tower, a lumpy ring of bells (tenor 22 cwt. 12 lb. in E flat) restored in 1892 by Mears and Stainbank. Mr. F. May, of Capetown, South Africa, will be interested to hear that his name is perpetuated by a brass plate on the staircase wall in this church to the memory of Fred May, who died in 1904, 'for 46 years a bellringer in this tower.' Near it is another plate in memory of the Kent family of three generations, who were parish clerks here—John (33 years), his son John (17), and his son A. John Kent (35), in 1918. Not a bad record. Holding office in the church often runs in families like wooden legs. Resuming our drive over the rolling downs, Oxford and its Tom tower was reached in time to join in the record gathering of the Guild, and dine with the Lord Bishop in Christ Church Hall. A tropical downpour about three o'clock drove some 300 ringers to the friendly shelter of one or other of the many towers in this city. Most of the Slough band visited St. Ebbe's Church, and returned to their coach on the 'ebb tide,' the programme naming 4 p.m. for the home start. East Ilsley was reached at 5 p.m., and the ropes were at once manned, as another company from Swindon had not kept their appointment. We found a contrast from the mighty Tom of Oxford in Tom's tiny trebles at Ilsley. They, however, made a good octave (tenor 8 cwt. 2 qr. 23 lb.), the old bells, dating from 1589 by Carter, having been reinforced by the use of rubber stops let into the balls of the clappers, thus producing a pleasing hum when the bells are rung. Lost in the folds of the Berkshire downs, Ilsley is a secluded village, past its prime when the flocks of sheep in thousands were brought to the now decayed sheep pens for sale. There were formerly 13 licensed houses in one street, I believe, at one time, and the dear old Cathedral of the downs shows its former importance by having north and south aisles as well as the usual chancel, nave and western tower. On the tower pier is carved 'W.A.S. 1625.' Was that a premonition of 'has been' in regard to its agricultural importance in the days of King Charles? The belfry walls tell us that members of the Hibbert family were mostly born with a rope in their hands, and a patent 'reversible' peal board has records on each side giving their names. They have saved a length of the old 1589 bell frame for a hat and coat rail, and provided half the band for the first local peal on the octave by 'scratching' about for three generations. Of course, the local company were all in Oxford and not expected back before ten. This did not deprive us of an excellent Berkshire tea at 6.30, which Tom's sister bountifully spread before twelve hefty 'strings.'

Bucklebury was reached at 8 p.m. Some of the narrow lanes being difficult to negotiate, we slowed up for a unit of artillery on manoeuvres, and at last found a 'pilot' with a small car to lead us into the village, after several miles of inquiry. The pilot proved of value afterwards in a course of Double Norwich on the bells in 'her' home tower. Three Bucklebury ladies, including 'Stella,' joined in our touches, and Mr. Matthews, who does not ring by 'rope sight,' for the simple reason he is unable to see. There is a fine oak chest, iron bound, in the church, probably fourteenth century. The belfry still preserves its tall-boy candlestick, now superseded by an 'oil'

PUTNEY MEN IN KENT.A HUSTLING 'O.S.'

The annual outing of the St. Mary's, Putney, ringers took place on July 18th and 19th, a tour of the Maidstone district having been arranged at long range by the 'outing secretary.' Punctually at 7 a.m., a party of stalwarts (eh!) met at Cannon Street and proceeded to headquarters at Maidstone via Strood, thereby obtaining a good view of Rochester Cathedral and Castle, reaching the said headquarters a bit late, but quite ready for the topping breakfast provided at the Central Temperance Hotel. This outing secretary (hereinafter called the O.S.), odious person, hounded the company out at the double, for he had a bus waiting, he said, and 'don't waste the clock' (apologies to H.M.). The bus took the party via Linton to Marden, where no ringing was possible owing to the opposition of a well-known contributor to the 'News Chronicle.' As a solatium, a prominent member was photographed in the ancient stocks, and it is hoped a 'fiver' will be forthcoming from the 'Chronicle's' snapshot competition as a result. The party were conducted round the church, and the points of interest well expounded by the Vicar. Being over schedule time, we proceeded to Staplehurst, where Mr. Wenban was in attendance, and some good touches were rung on a very good old style eight. Still this outing man harped on the said clock, so we had perforce to hop on to Frittenden, being received there by Mr. and Mrs. Baker. Several touches on these nice light and very ultra modern eight bells were rung in good style. 'Do you know,' quoth the O.S., 'lunch awaits us at Headlamp, which requires a blowpipe to extinguish it. The veteran tower-keeper, Mr. Wignore, waited upon us, as he has done for others before during the past 55 years. We started at 9 p.m. to wind our way out of the maze of country lanes in this part of the county, eventually getting a good road at the Bladestone Inn, with its fossilised history of 1666, and so on to Reading and Slough, reaching St. Mary's Church at midnight. All the members agreed that the combined 'parochial holiday' and 'diocesan festival' was a real treat, and wish to thank, through the press, all those who so kindly aided their day's tour of Bucks, Berks and Oxon. It afforded an opportunity for our coachman to see friends at Isley, and Messrs. Smith, of Pangbourne, Barkus, of Goring, and Hudson, of Wantage, to ring in their native parishes.

corn, so get aboard, and never mind looking for postcards, "youse fellars." So we waved adieu, and midway to Headcorn pulled up and rescued Mr. Sone, of Linton, from a jaywalker's fate. Lunch was impromptu and welcome, but still this O.S. persisted we were behind schedule time. Consequently, we hied us to the waiting Mr. Hodgkin, who gave us a hearty welcome, and we soon had his bells going to some lively touches. Sneaking the said Mr. Hodgkin into the bus, we ran for Harrietsham, through some of the loveliest and narrowest country lanes, glimpsing glorious views of the Weald of Kent. A handy light eight was here made good use of, and we pushed on for Leeds. ('Sort of a machine-gun outing,' someone muttered under what breath he had left.) Arrived! Saw grave of the great Barham! Rang! Inspected the new style 'pencil work' peal boards on the walls. 'Parti-ed' for tea at the George ('Good old George!'), left for Maidstone and more ringing at All Saints', several local men and one lost soul of ours meeting us there. Stedman and Grandsire Caters brought the day's ringing to a close, and the kind O.S. gave leave for all to have the remaining twenty minutes to themselves. 'You wanted a ringing outing,' he said, 'and, well, by Heck, you've had it.' Supper, a pipe, a rousing welcome for some late arrivals, a good bed, and up betimes, for the O.S. wanted us at Linton for morning service. A larger bus having been put on specially, we arrived and did our best with a nice eight, one touch of Stedman Triples being quite the outstanding effort of the whole trip. A walk (beautiful, but somewhat marred by showers) to Boughton-mon-Chelsea, and round and back under the guidance of Mr. Sone, and, ah! here's the bus home to dinner, up to time. The afternoon; a band to Leeds on the off-chance, for the Saturday night arrivals. No off-chance; hard luck! Remainder, boating and swimming party on the Medway. Evening, Grandsire and Stedman Caters at All Saints', a try at Double Norwich (why didn't Charlie do his near places!), and a train just before 8 p.m. for home. During the day a well-known member was presented with a medal for his assiduous attempts to keep things merry and bright all the year. It was regretted that he of the 'Thousand Initials' could not be with us on this occasion. The outing secretary would like to thank all the gentlemen who gave permission to ring, and those who met us and gave us such a welcome, and especially Mr. Sone, through whom most of the work of organisation was done. BELL ROPES MUFFLES, &c.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Five members of the Hertford County Association took part in three peals of Minor on Bank Holiday, and one of them, Mr. Robert Howard, cycled over 50 miles into the bargain. Not a bad day's pleasure—or was it work?

A copy of Mr. Morris' 'History and Art of Change Ringing' has been presented by the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards and Rev. C. A. Phillips to the library of Salisbury Theological College, where a lecture on bell-ringing, with handbell illustrations, was given by them during the summer term. The book is inscribed in Latin as a gift to the students, 'future colleagues alike in the service of the sanctuary and in the ministry of the tower.'

The band who rang the peal of Treble Ten at Brighton, recorded in another column, represented ten towers. They were mostly visitors spending their holidays in the town. Two other peals arranged for the visitors were rung last week in Sussex.

Mr. William Pye celebrates his 61st birthday to-day, and his friends and admirers throughout the country will wish him 'many happy returns.'

A hundred and twenty years ago next Tuesday 5,376 'Cambridge Surprise 8-in, the first in the North of England,' was rung at Keighley.

The ring of ten bells, which replaced the original peal of twelve at York Minster, was opened on August 19th, 1765.

The handbell peal rung at Campsie, Stile Heddingham, on July 3rd, is believed to be the first peal ever rung in a caravan and in which a Scotch lass has taken part. Miss Shanks, who rang the treble, is from Glasgow, and was an absolute stranger to the art of change ringing two months before the peal.

It has been found necessary to cancel the meeting of the Bristol Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, which was to have been held at Dyrham.

A FALSE PEAL OF SUPERLATIVE.

DISCOVERED TWO YEARS AFTER PUBLICATION.

After ringing a peal of Superlative Surprise Major at Bourn, Cambs, on the afternoon of August Bank Holiday, the 'Cambridge week' tourists discovered that the composition was false.

It is a three-part 5,088 by Arthur Craven, and has been rung a number of times. The figures appear in the Peterborough Diocesan Guild's annual report for 1929 (No. 299), it having been called in that year at Rothwell, Northants, by Mr. E. Jenkins. Mr. Frank Bennett called it at Speldhurst, Sussex, on May 2nd this year, and Mr. George Williams has also called it. It has been rung to Yorkshire Surprise, but in that method the peal is true.

It is somewhat strange that more than two years should have elapsed since its publication before the falseness of the figures, as a peal of Superlative, was found out.

DEATH OF MR. FREDERICK A. HOLDEN.

WELL-KNOWN RINGER AND COMPOSER.

We much regret to record the death of Mr. Frederick A. Holden, of Ewerby, Lincs, who passed away on Thursday of last week, leaving a widow and five children to mourn their loss.

Mr. Holden was well known both as a ringer and composer. He began his ringing career in Surrey, but, joining the Royal Marines, his service movements took him to many places. In the course of the war, during which he was present at the landing at the Dardanelles, he transferred to the Royal Naval Air Service, which was later absorbed in the Royal Air Force, in which Mr. Holden completed his service. After his retirement, he took over the Post Office Stores at Ewerby, Lincs.

Mr. Holden had taken part in a considerable number of peals, including one rung by Service men, and he had numerous compositions in various methods, including Treble Bob. It was one of his peals of Maximus that was rung at Shoreditch by the Freemasons three weeks ago. He had been invited to take part in the original peal attempt, but was unable to do so on account of his health. Shortly before his death he went into a sanatorium at Bourn, Lincs, but the dread disease of tuberculosis had him too firmly in its grip. He had many friends throughout the Exercise who will deeply regret his death, and whose sympathy and condolence will go out to the bereaved family. Mr. Holden was about 48 years of age.

The funeral took place on Monday. In the evening an attempt for a half-muffled peal of London Surprise Major was unfortunately lost at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, London, after which touches to the memory of the deceased were rung. Among those taking part were Messrs. W. Pye, J. E. Davis, J. Bennett, C. W. Roberts, J. Nash, J. H. Crampin, J. Waghorn, E. Brett, F. Digby and W. Madgwick, most of whom had known and rung peals with Mr. Holden.

A FAMILY TOUCH.

Six members of one family rang six six-scores of Grandsire Doubles at St. Nicholas' Church, Kemerton, Gloucestershire, on August 3rd. They were Stedman Devereux 1, Arthur Devereux 2, Edwin Devereux (conductor) (aged 78) 3, Thomas Devereux 4, Harry Devereux 5, Ernest Devereux 6. Ringers of 2, 3 and 4 are brothers, 5 and 6 are sons of the ringer of the 4th, and treble the son of the conductor. He was christened Stedman in memory of the great Fabian, whose tercentenary is being celebrated this year.

THE STEDMAN TERCENTENARY.

PROBABLE COST OF SCHEME NEARLY £500.

Those who wish to have a personal part in the restoration of St. Bene't's bells, Cambridge, should send in their contributions at once, in order that the committee may know exactly what sum is at their disposal. In addition to the main scheme there are various incidental items which have to be met, and it is above all essential that the amount necessary should be assured before the work is completed.

The rehanging of the bells in new fittings, on the reconstructed frame erected at a lower level in the tower, necessitates the insertion in the building of a reinforced concrete beam round all four walls—a somewhat expensive but very important safeguard for the future stability of the ancient tower.

Among the other items which have to be provided for are the memorial tablet, a chiming apparatus, and architect's and faculty fees. The total cost is likely to be little less than £500.

Contributions should be forwarded to

FABIAN STEDMAN'S LONDON FRIENDS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I say that, after making some investigations into seventeenth-century ringing, I agree with Mr. Daniell that the Fabian Stedman who died in London was most probably the same man as the Cambridge printer who wrote the 'Tintinnologia.' Direct proof is still lacking, but among other things I have discovered that he had many friends in London who had quite sufficient influence to get him a post in the Audit of Exchequer, and who, doubtless, had the will to do so. Among them was Francis Wythens, who was knighted by Charles II. for loyalty, who was 'with one consent kicked out of the House of Commons as not fit for gentlemen's company,' who was the judge that sentenced Algernon Sidney, Lord William Russell, Titus Oates, and most of the other prisoners in the famous political trials of the time, and who was the colleague of the infamous Lord Chief Justice Jeffreys on the Bloody Assize in 1685. Another was Sir Henry Chauncey, who was the magistrate under whose warrant the last arrest and conviction for witchcraft was made in England. Another was Sir Christopher Milton, brother of the author of 'Paradise Lost,' but, unlike John Milton, a royalist and a papist. Another was the fourth Lord Breton, grandson of the first Master of the College Youths, and himself a ringer. And others.

I wrote in my 'College Youths' that the 'J.D. and C.M. Campanalogia' was largely copied from Stedman. I ought to say that the authors 'hope and are assured that the Courteous Reader will not think that we have borrowed any other thing but the name from so Unnecessary a Book as the same is now,' and they explain that it was 'at the request and desire of the Book seller' that they called their book the 'Campanalogia.'

With reference to the peal of Real Double Bob Maximus rung by the Ancient Society of College Youths at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields in 1771, it is interesting that the 'Clavis' says the first true peal of the method was rung by the Society of College Youths in 1784, and the longest peal by the ancient Society of College Youths in the same year. The words 'true' and 'ancient' are in italics. This looks as if the 1771 peal was false.—Yours truly,

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

SURREY RINGERS' WEDDING.

An extremely interesting wedding took place on Saturday, August 1st, when two ringing members of the band at All Saints', Benhiton, Sutton, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The bride was Miss E. Stevenson, who has been a ringer for several years, and the bridegroom Mr. E. Enticknap, vice-captain of the local band. The 'Wedding March' was played after the ceremony by Mr. C. S. Poole, the organist, who is also one of the ringers. To celebrate the occasion, a quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob Major (1,280 changes) was rung: G. Burrows 1, H. E. Good 2, E. G. Talbot 3, F. Woodiss 4, W. C. Smith 5, Roy Davies 6, D. Cooper 7, C. H. Kippin (conductor) 8. This followed an attempt for a peal of Stedman Triples, which unfortunately came to grief after an hour's ringing.

RESTORATION OF COGGESHALL BELLS.

FUNDS RAISED BY CHURCHWORKER.

The bells of Coggeshall Church, which had for some time been silent for want of repair, have now been restored. Thanks to the unflagging zeal of Miss Margaret Gardner, a lifelong churchworker, something like £250 has been raised during the past six months to put the bells in order. A very gratifying feature is that the money has by no means been confined to the present congregation. Varying amounts have been received from ministers who had previously held the benefice, friends who had worshipped in the old church, Non-conformists who rightly regarded the church as a parish church, and those without any definite church, who gave out of regard for the organiser. The restoration work, which has been carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, includes the recasting of the 3rd bell, the rehanging of the other seven bells with various new fittings, including ball bearings. These bells have also been quarter turned. The oak frame has been strengthened by means of angle brackets and vertical bolts. Most appropriately, the bells were ready for a service of dedication by the Bishop of Colchester on Sunday, August 2nd, the patronal festival of the Parish Church, when a large congregation was present at the service conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. F. Lickford, assisted by the curate, the Rev. L. W. Davey. After the recast bell had been dedicated by the Bishop, a few rounds were rung by members of the Essex Association.

In the course of an eloquent discourse upon music, his lordship said there was nothing more beautiful or effective than the ringing of the church bells; they were the voice of the Church. Addressing a few words to the ringers, the Bishop said he had been connected with ringers for over 40 years. He noticed how keen they always were; they went on ringing as long as health and strength permitted, and they enjoyed a great privilege in so doing. As to those who had contributed so willingly and so liberally to the cost of the bells, thanks be to God for the part they had played. He earnestly prayed that God's blessing might for ever rest on all those who had had any share in that splendid effort.

The collection for the bell fund realised £10.

Following the service, a touch of Double Norwich Court Bob Major was rung by the following: F. Ridgwell 1, C. H. Howard 2, W. Keeble 3, F. Clayton 4, A. Saunders 5, W. Arnold 6, C. P. Duffield 7, D. Elliott 8.

About 50 members were present from four counties and 16 parishes, and were generously entertained to tea at the Woolpack Inn by Miss Gardner.

Preaching at the evensong, the Vicar expressed his gratitude for the generous support given to the bells fund. He also thanked the visiting ringers for their services.

There was some excellent ringing during the afternoon and evening in various methods, including Cambridge, Superlative and London Surprise Major. A local band of probationers are eager to acquire the art of change ringing, and various members have promised to give them every possible assistance.

SUFFOLK GUILD.

On Bank Holiday, a general meeting of the Suffolk Guild was held at Beccles. The bells started about eleven in the morning, and were kept going for the rest of the day by visitors from Leiston, Loddon, Lowestoft, Stowmarket, Framlingham, Ufford, Grundisburgh, as well as many ringers on holiday from more distant parts of the country. A short business meeting was held after tea, at which it was decided to hold a meeting at Fressingfield at the end of August and at Woodbridge later in the autumn.

One new member was elected, and the Guild secretary called attention to the scarcity of hon. members of the Guild, and the fact that half of the present hon. members were from one parish. He appealed to the ringers to endeavour to get more hon. members to help the Guild's financial position.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Rector of Beccles for granting permission for the meeting to be held there, after which the company adjourned to the church for more ringing.

A variety of methods were rung during the day, many ringing their first touch on ten bells, and some their first courses in the four standard Surprise Major methods.

HALESWORTH DISTRICT.

A very useful practice meeting in connection with the Halesworth District was held on Tuesday evening, August 4th, at Wissett Church (six bells), with a view to helping the young ringers of the district. Members attended from Halesworth, London, Chediston, Wissett, Huntingfield, Heveningham and Wenhamston. Many touches of Grand-sire Doubles and Bob Minor were brought round, in which several beginners took part, and 360 Grand-sire Doubles was rung by: Miss Roe (first 360) 1, F. C. Lambert (conductor) 2, E. Garrard 3, R. Bullen 4, L. Hamond 5, J. Nunn 6. A 360 Bob Minor—J. Nunn 1, F. C. Lambert 2, E. Garrard 3, G. Gown (first 360) 4, W. Kerrison 5, R. Bullen (conductor) 6—and some excellent rounds with learners from Heveningham and Huntingfield were rung.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar, Rev. A. Trousdale, for the use of the bells, at the close of a most enjoyable meeting.

THE RINGERS' PILGRIMAGE TO THE CONTINENT.

THE END OF A HECTIC WEEK.

The chief scribe left for Woking on Tuesday morning with instructions to carry on with the story and to 'make it snappy.' Here I take up the threads. It has been a hectic week. Every day has been filled to overflowing. Tuesday found us again at old Bruges, that quaint old Flemish city of bells, churches and waterways. Our guide took us through the Church of the Holy Blood, with its historical relics of Corpus Christi. This was followed by a visit to Notre Dame, where the paintings and sculptures of old masters were described by a Belgian artist. Here is a 'Madonna and Child' by Michael Angelo, one that our American cousins would give untold wealth to possess; here is a Van Dyck 'Crucifixion' of 1626, before which few can stand unmoved. The atmosphere of sacred art is indeed found in such places, and one can only deplore the decadence of the modern in comparison.

After lunch, several members of the company, out for freak records, climbed to the top of Bruges bell tower and rang a course of Stedman Caters, undoubtedly the first ever rung there. Their names warnings fitfully until the fog lifted. Some of us went along the coast to the snug hamlet of Brecedene-sur-Mer, where we dug ourselves into the sandhills overlooking the North Sea, and started for a peal of Triples. A seat on sand is comfortable for a time, but it has its limits, and, after 1,500 had been rung, the 'seats of the mighty' began to feel very unstable, and the attempt went into the limbo of lost peals.

Thursday was more propitious, and the peal was got in 2 hrs. 31 mins. This was rung in the large bathroom of the hotel, and every precaution was taken that no one would want to use the bath while we were ringing the peal. This recalls to mind another incident of a bath. A certain well-known ringer who attends the Central Council tried to obtain a bed at a hotel in Chelmsford very late, and when there were no rooms to be had. At breakfast next morning he turned up looking rather mouldy, and when asked where he was staying, whispered, 'I'm sleeping in the bath on a rug, but don't tell anyone. If the water is turned on, I'll be drowned.'

THE 'PILGRIMS' AT THE MENIN GATE.

In the background can be seen some of the panels on which are recorded the names of the thousands who died in the Salient and have no known grave.

must be handed down to posterity: R. Philpott 1-2, R. Elkington 3-4, H. J. Poole 5-6, H. D. Harris 7-8, L. W. Jacques 9-10.

In the afternoon we motored to the Mole, Zeebrugge, where, on the spot, we were treated to a thrilling account of the landing and bombardment of April 23rd, 1918, by Major Clegg, whose personal knowledge of the historic epic carried his hearers away with enthusiasm.

On Wednesday, several made the journey to Brussels, while H. J. Poole went on to Cologne to find his brother's grave in the British cemetery there. This he succeeded in doing. Those at Brussels had a glorious day in the capital of Belgium. Anyone who has seen the Grand Place will admit that there is no finer square in Europe, its ancient buildings dating back six hundred years. Some of these with colonnaded balconies are decorated with old gold and colours, while the chief of them, the Hotel de Ville, the Town Hall, or Mansion House, must be seen to realise their beauty. The Germans never touched anything here, probably thinking they were in Belgium for good; hence its splendid condition. Although the motor 'konked out' several miles away, the company safely returned about 11 p.m.

Those who remained on the sands realised what sea fog means to those 'who go down to the sea in ships.' Throughout the night and until mid-day the bell-buoy and siren were tolling and calling their

In the afternoon we went on the sands, and again dug ourselves in. Soon we were surrounded by a 'skade' of bare legs, and the ringing highly amused their owners, who thought we were doing it for a living. Although Ostend is the hub of continental holiday makers, one can occasionally hear English spoken, and among the various foreign tongues, a cockney voice cried, 'Wot abaught it, cockies?'

There are several hand kiosks in the centre of Ostend, and one not far from our hotel. It seemed an ideal place to ring, and someone dared us to take possession. Although the police are rather small in stature and are somewhat suggestive of a famous film comedian, they are armed with a staff and 'shooting iron,' so it is wise to give them plenty of room. We discussed the possibilities, and at 11 p.m. four men might have been seen skulking along towards the bandstand, each with two bells. The band platform was quite four feet high, but we went over the top and started a course of Triples. The place was about empty when we began, but in ten seconds folks were running towards us in swarms. They came from all quarters—estaminets, shops, houses and adjoining streets. Dogs commenced howling at what one called the 'moosic,' but we decided to stick to it. Then amid all the uproar, a policeman appeared and gesticulated towards us. We finished the course, however, and jumped for it. I don't quite know how we got back to our 'trenches,' but I do know who was the first to get there, though modestly forbids me to mention his name. Ahem! It shows what Britons will do when dared. After this, no one can say that we dare not perform in public.

Friday was our last day, and we hoped to score two peals in two different countries. We crossed the French frontier at 10 a.m. and reached Dunkerque. This ancient city has a fine public square dedicated to 'Au Brave Jean Bart.' Who Jean Bart was or what he had done, we had not time to enquire. We wanted a room for about three hours, and experienced some difficulty at first, but the sight of English money smoothed the path somewhat, and ultimately we got an ideal room near the great Cathedral and in the square (or place). We got going as soon as possible, and without a trip the first ten-bell peal in France was accomplished in 2 hrs. 51 mins.

Back to lunch, within two hours we were rushing towards Holland. I knew a place at Sluis, and had carefully earmarked it for a possible peal long ago. We reached the frontier and crossed after showing our passports and the inside of the handbell bag. The Dutch police have a sword as well as a 'shooter,' so it is unhealthy to give them any back-chat. The sight of a handbell seemed to amuse the official, especially when rung near his ear.

Soon we reached the cafe near the canal, and started for Stedman Triples. The band was: R. Philpott 1-2, A. H. Pulling 3-4, H. J. Poole 5-6, L. W. Jacques 7-8. The halfway came up at 1 hr. 12 mins., after which a few trips occurred. They were got over. At the beginning of the last quarter-peal the tapping was good, but the air was getting somewhat electric. Handbell ringers will understand. More than one of the band was beginning to feel nervy, and when that happens it is usually the end. As umpire, I affirm that the bells were all right, but the climax came about 600 changes from home, when the conductor stopped, thinking they were wrong. It was perhaps as well to do so, as it was fine practice for a better peal next time. Thus ended the ringing, although at night at our hotel five men were busy on the carpet 'lapping' Caters and Royal. At midnight we joined hands around the room and sang 'Auld Lang Syne,' passed a vote of thanks to Madam de Janhere, the hostess, for her admirable hospitality, and to our guide, philosopher and friend, Dr. P. L. Collignon, and 'so to bed.'

Every one of the party was emphatic in describing the tour as 'the best ever,' and hoped for an annual reunion. We shall see.

I ought to mention that a course of Triples was rung on both the Holland-Belgium and Belgium-France frontiers, with 1-2 and 3-4 in Holland and 5-6 and 7-8 in Belgium, also 1-2 and 3-4 in France and 5-6 and 7-8 in Belgium, by standing across the frontier line. We leave to future record breakers the stunt of standing astride the line, with half a man in one country and half of him in another!

PRESENTATION TO THE ORGANISER.

With the midnight votes of thanks on Friday came a surprise for the organiser of the pilgrimage, Mr. Wm. Willson. The party had assembled in the lounge, together with all the other visitors in the hotel, who, by the way, had been not uninterested spectators at various times of some of the handbell ringing that filled the brief intervals between eating and expeditions. When Mr. Willson had thanked all those who had helped in making the pilgrimage such a pronounced success, Mr. C. H. Jennings said he had a very pleasant duty to perform. It was to make a little gift to their friend, Mr. Willson, as a small token of the appreciation of the 'pilgrims' for making it possible for them all to visit Belgium. The pilgrimage to Menin Gate was his original idea; the service had been most inspiring, and was another mark in the annals of his ringing career. They must not forget also that the trip had been an enjoyable holiday, and they had all gained new experiences by it. They had all been a very happy family, and history had been made by ringing handbell peals in Belgium and France. They owed Mr. Willson a great debt of gratitude for having made the pilgrimage such a success. On behalf of all those who had taken part in the pilgrimage he asked him to accept a smoker's companion, and trusted that every time he used it he would think of the happy time they had all had together in Belgium (applause).

The gift consisted of a cigar case, ash tray and novelty cigarette case. The latter caused great amusement. By pressing a button, a stick dips its beak and brings up a cigarette.

Mr. Willson, who had been taken completely by surprise, thanked the givers most heartily. Anything, he said, he had done or could do for ringers and ringing he would always be pleased to do. He was delighted that they had held the service at the Menin Gate, the idea of which occurred to him after the ringing over the grave in Westminster Abbey (applause).

Madame de Janhere then presented Mr. Willson with a handsome bouquet, and in characteristic continental fashion kissed him on both cheeks.

The return passage on Saturday was not entirely a pleasant one. After being out two hours, a gale sprang up with heavy seas. Some of the party got drenched and had to seek what shelter they could on the crowded boat, while, to make things worse, the boat had to wait outside Dover harbour in a choppy sea for about an hour. But over this picture it might be as well to draw a veil. In the rush on landing, the party became separated, and so there were no final farewells, but the pilgrimage was a great and happy experience.

PILGRIMITEMS.

Mr. A. J. Rodger found his brother's name on the Menin Gate.

The principal streets of Ostend were gaily illuminated with festoons of many-coloured electric lamps every evening during the week. It must have been in honour of the pilgrims.

It was a great deal further from Ostend to Dover last Saturday than from Dover to Ostend the week before, and the route had a lot more lumps on it.

The pilgrims returned, as they went, in two boats, but both 'got it in the neck.' All those who returned on Saturday will vote unanimously for a Channel tunnel.

The handbell bag was a source of suspicion every time it was taken through the customs—and it had to pass through several times, for it went into and out of France and Holland as well as Belgium and England.

The vacant handstand near Hotel Myra was a great temptation to the handbell ringers all the week—it was not surprising that they succumbed on the last night of their stay. It might have been awkward if they had been locked up for a breach of local regulations, but perhaps some of them might not have been altogether sorry if it had resulted in their escaping the ordeal of the next day's crossing.

It would be interesting to know exactly how many rolls and bottles of bok were consumed by the pilgrims during the week.

THE FIRST PEAL ON THE CONTINENT.

The first peal rung on the Continent was accomplished nearly 76 years ago—it was rung by the Royal Cumberland Youths and not the Ancient Society of College Youths, as stated in the article last week. The following is the entry in the society's copy peal book:—

Boulevard Bonne Neuville, a Paris.

On Sunday, July 15th, 1855, the under-mentioned members of this society rang at the above establishment, upon the handbells retained in hand throughout, Mr. John Holt's Ten-part peal of Grandsire Triples, consisting of 5,040 changes, in 2 hrs. 35 mins. They sat thus:—

Edwards Sawyer 1-2.
John Cox 3-4
Cornelius Andrew 5-6
George Banks 7-8

The above peal was the first ever accomplished on the Continent of Europe. It was conducted by John Cox.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

X. THE LONDON YOUTHS.

The Society of London Youths was founded in or just before 1753. The headquarters were 'The Three Goats Heads' in Whitechapel, and they practised at St. Mary Matfelon and St. George's-in-the-East, or, as they called it, St. George's in Middlesex. The whole district has, of course, utterly changed since then. The Society's history was much the same as the other companies. They paid the usual visits to outlying towers, and they had their annual feast. The dinner ticket was an engraving with the arms of the City of London and two views of St. Mary's and St. George's surrounded with decoration. The early peals were mostly in the plain methods, Bob Major and Bob Triples, but two were of unusual interest. One was 5,200 Court Bob Major in 1764, the other a 'Compleat Peal of 5,012 Tichborne's Invention' in 1768. This consisted of one course of Bob Triples and forty-four of Bob Major, and is the first 'spliced' peal on record.

In 1766 Christopher Wells joined the Society. Wells was a clever and brilliant young ringer, but a somewhat flighty and unreliable person (Note 15). His first peal was with the junior Society of College Youths at St. Magnus' in 1761, and the following year he rang a peal of Grandsire Caters with the same society at Fulham. This peal is not in the College Youths' book. He joined the Cumberlands on November 5th, 1763, and rang four peals with them. His first peal with the London Youths was one of Grandsire Caters (5,435 changes) at St. Leonard's on June 29th, 1766, which he composed and conducted, and he became the leading man of the Society. Under his influence they reorganised themselves into a sort of parody of freemasonry. They called themselves 'Brethren of the Most Noble Order of the Bell'; they had their 'Grand Master,' 'Senior Deputy,' 'Tyler,' and other officers; they probably had (though of this there is no direct evidence) their secret meetings and cabalistic signs. They dated their peals 'in the year of Bells, 3256.' This they got from the reference in the Pentateuch to the golden bells on the robe of the High Priest; for, according to Archbishop Ussher's Chronology, the Mosaic Law was given in B.C. 1490. The following is from their peal book:—

'St. Mary Whitechapel. By Order of the Grand Master. The United Society of London Youths, Brethren of the Most Noble Order of the Bell, Did ring on Saturday, Dec. 27th, 1766, in the year of Bells 3256, a Compleat Peal of 5,040 Plain Bob Triples without a Single, in 3 hrs. and 10 mts. Being the first Peal since the Constitution. The Performers were: Br. Isaac Simpson 1, Br. James Brown 2, Br. Joshua Brotherton G.M. 3, Br. Henry Yarley 4, Br. Robert Reynolds T. 5, Br. Christopher Wells S. 6, Br. Thomas Harrison 7, Br. John Clark A. Tenor. Compd. and Calld. by Br. Chris. Wells S.J.'

Another peal was rung 'by direction of the Senior Deputy.' This went on for about three years till 1769, when Wells ceased for a time to meet the Society and all this frippery was dropped. It is noteworthy that one or two peals rung in 1767, in which Wells did not take part, are booked in the ordinary way.

Many of the peals rung during these three years were composed by Wells, who did know a great deal about composition. It was he who first found out in 1768 that Treble Bob Major can be false with the treble in 1-2 without showing at the lead end. 'The rumour of this discovery,' says the 'Clavis,' 'soon spread a general alarm throughout the whole art, scarcely a peal being rung but its truth was now suspected; and, indeed, many of their fears were but too well founded, for on a strict investigation of the peals then rung two out of three were absolutely false.'

This knowledge did not save Wells from calling a false peal of Treble Bob Royal in 1767.

In 1769 a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Stepney. This peal was call'd from the Scale of the late Mr. Jno. Holt by Bro. Chris. Wells, who Reversed the Courses by calling the Left Half method first, and the first Last; never done before.'

In 1769 Wells ceased to meet the Society. This time the reason was not the usual one of either ambition or disagreement, for his name does not reappear in any of the other societies' records. Probably it was the same cause as has interrupted many a young ringer's career, both then and now. I suspect he was courting.

John Reeves joined in 1774 and at once began to call peals. They were mostly Treble Bob Major, Bob Major, and Grandsire Caters, his own compositions. Unfortunately, the custom of putting the figures in the peal book, which was usual with Wells, was dropped, and we have no means of comparing them with the 'Clavis.' One was a peal of Grandsire 8-in, the earliest, I believe, recorded. It is not in 'Snowdon.'

Wells turned up again in 1776, and, with his help, 5,236 Grandsire Cinques was rung at Southwark; and about the same time William Jones joined the Society. The next year the Company rang 5,280 Bob Maximus at St. Bride's. Wells called this. (Reeves, Treble; Jones 2.) A month later Jones called 5,201 Grandsire Caters at Cripplegate.

At this time we may be sure that active work was done on the new book and many of Reeves' best compositions date from these years. In 1780 the necessity of proving Treble Bob when the treble is dodging in 3-4 and 5-6 was discovered and more of the old peals were found to be false.

On February 11th, 1778, Jones joined the Cumberlands, no doubt with the idea of getting further support for his book. There he enlisted the help of another colleague, Thomas Blakemore, and sent him to join Reeves. Soon after, they rang at St. Giles' in the Fields the first Major Surprise peal ever accomplished. 'Jany 30 1780 at St. Giles in the Fields a peal of Cambridge Surprise 5088 changes in 3hrs. 26mts. T. Bulgin 1, R. Wilson 2, R. P. Donkin 3, T. Blakemore 4, W. West 5, J. Anderson 6, J. Reeves 7, Allen Grant Tenor. Composed and Conducted by J. Reeves.'

The composition was false, and indeed, when we remember that it was rung before the necessity of testing the truth of Treble Bob Major with the treble in 3-4 and 5-6 was discovered, it is scarcely to be wondered at. The performance, of course, cannot stand as a peal, but in general interest and as a landmark in the history of ringing it stands before the great majority of true peals.

In 1783 the whole band and William Jones joined the 'ancient' Society of College Youths. This secession led directly to the lapse of the London Youths.

At this time there was another and distinct Society of London Youths, which was founded in 1776 and met at the 'Whittington and Cat,' Church Row, Bethnal Green. They continued for some years and became extinct soon after 1803.

NOTE 15. Wells' signature, large and bold with plenty of swagger and flourish, is very characteristic.

WELSH CATHEDRAL'S NEW BELLS.MAGNIFICENT PEAL OF EIGHT IN ANCIENT GATEWAY TOWER.

The dedication took place on Thursday, July 30th, at St. David's Cathedral, Pembrokeshire, of a new peal of bells, the gift of an anonymous donor. The bells are a ring of eight (tenor 25 cwt. in the key of D), from the Whitechapel Foundry. They hang, not in the Cathedral tower, but in the 13th century octagonal tower at the south-east gateway entrance to the Close.

The tower is unusual in its proportions, its height from ground to top of parapet being about 46ft.; the internal span of belfry about 28ft., and from the belfry floor to the ground is about 20ft. The ringing chamber, on the ground floor, is heavily vaulted, and impressive.

The louvers have been completely closed on the inside, and the sound escapes through a lantern which has been built on the roof. The result is that, although the bells are so close to the ground, the effect outside is very fine.

The bells hang in a very heavy teak frame, and are fitted with the most modern type of fittings.

The bells were dedicated by the Bishop of St. David's. A very large assembly attended the service in the Cathedral, following which a procession was formed to the octagonal tower, where the ceremony took place. The bells were rung by the St. Mary's, Haverfordwest, band, and were kept going after the service until about 8 p.m.

ST. DAVID'S CATHEDRAL.

The top of the octagonal tower, containing the new ring of bells, can be seen above the roof of the Cathedral.

The tone of the bells was much admired, and it was considered that a finer eight for the weight could not be cast. The ringers were enthusiastic over the perfect 'go' of the new ring.

A Cathedral band is to be formed, and arrangements are being made for instruction to be given by Mr. T. Rogers, leader of the Haverfordwest band, assisted by members of his own company.

ST. DAVID'S BELL.

The tenor has the name 'Dewi Sant,' and bears the following inscription: 'Cyflwynyd y Clychau Hyn er Gogoniant Duw ac er Anrhyddedd Dewi Gan un o Garedigion yr Eglwys Gadeiriol, 1928.'

The others are named: 7th, Sant Mihangel; 6th, Sant Iago; 5th, Doon; 4th, Esgob; 3rd, Sant Andreas; 2nd, Sant Stinaw; treble, Mair Fendigaid.

The Cathedral is of unusual interest, and has an exceptionally beautiful setting in a hollow surrounded by hills. It is 16 miles from Haverfordwest, and is reached by motor bus. The route is a heavy one, covering 17 hills.

MIDDLESEX MEETING AT SIX-BELL TOWER.AN OLD STEDMAN METHOD RUNG.

Some forty ringers in all attended the meeting of the North and East District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild at Hendon on Saturday, and among those present were a number of visitors, including Mr. George Mayers, of Norwich, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wolstencroft, of Ashton-under-Lyne, Mr. K. C. Davis, of Blagdon, Somerset, and Mr. L. Allington, of Sudbury, Suffolk. Owing to the absence of the Vicar, the usual service was not held. Tea was served in the Church Hall, the vice-president, Mr. W. Pickworth, presiding, supported by the hon. secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles) and the District Ringing Master (Mr. A. W. Coles).

The business meeting was brief, but included the election of quite a number of new members.

It was announced that the next meeting would be a joint gathering with the Essex and Herts Associations on September 5th, and it was decided that the meeting in October should take place at Barnet, on the 10th, when the memorial to the late president of the association (Mr. F. A. Milne) would be unveiled.

The hon. secretary extended a very hearty welcome to all the visitors, and congratulated George B. Collins, a young member of the Enfield band, on having rung the tenors to a handbell peal of Bob Royal for his first peal. The business concluded with a vote of thanks to the Vicar (Rev. R. N. Boyd) for the use of the bells, and to the vergers (Mr. Hardy) for the excellent tea which he provided.

There are six bells in Hendon tower with a tenor of about 16½ cwt. Three of them were recast in 1924 by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, the treble having been originally cast by Lester and Pack in 1759, the 2nd by Bryan Eldridge, of Chertsey, in 1837, and the 4th by Thomas Mears in 1802. The present tenor is a bell by Lester and Pack, the 3rd was cast in 1638 by Ellis Knight, of Reading, and the 5th by James Bartlett, of Whitechapel, in 1860. They make quite a nice peal, and, rehung in 1924, go well. The ringing on them on Saturday, under the direction of the Ringing Master, was of a very varied character, a number of methods, including Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Oxford Bob, Double Court, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge and London Surprise, being rung, while special mention must be made of a 120 of 'Ophelia' which was brought round. 'Ophelia' was one of the methods of which Stedman was the author, and which he published in 'Campanalogia' in 1677. It consists of 'singles and doubles' in which the Stedman Slow and Quick work is done in whole pulls, while the bells behind dodge. It would not be accepted in these days, but was rung as a novelty, by a band, all of whom have rung spliced Surprise peals, in this year of Stedman's tercentenary.

Hendon Parish Church, dedicated to St. Mary, is one of not very many churches in Greater London whose history goes back to pre-Conquest days. There was probably a church on the same site in Saxon times, foundations of a Norman chancel have been disclosed, and it has been proved that the east wall and adjacent parts of the north and south walls are those of the chancel rebuilt in the 13th century. Some portions of the nave also belong to this period, while the tower was built in the 15th century. Ringing is done from the ground floor, but it can hardly be said that the boarded partition, with which the arch leading into the church has been closed, is either an ornament or in keeping with the rest of the internal furnishings of the church. It is largely hidden from the view of the congregation by a curtain, but it is none the less a hideous thing in an otherwise beautiful church.

MR. F. DENCH'S PEAL OF CAMBRIDGE.

In the figures of the composition of Cambridge Surprise Major, by Mr. F. Dench, published last week, bobs at H. were omitted in the courses with tenors parted.

The beginnings of the Cathedral go back to the 6th century, and it is considered that in this remote corner of Wales an ecclesiastic establishment was formed by Saint Dewi, the David of later times.

It is believed that St. David was born about A.D. 530, and that the earliest church was destroyed by fire in 645.

The greater part of the existing Cathedral is Transitional Norman, and contains some beautiful work. The 15th century roof to the nave is remarkable for its beautiful composition of sculptured beams and wonderfully fretted pendants.

The present state of restoration commenced in Bishop Thirlwall's time (1862), and was carried out under the direction of Sir Gilbert Scott.

The gateway entrance to the Close is the only survivor of the four which once pierced the mile long enclosing wall built by Bishop Gower in the early 14th century.

After passing through the gateway (which adjoins the octagonal tower now containing the bells), descent is made to the Cathedral by 39 steps, christened by some 'the 39 articles.'

Until 1928, the gateway tower was in ruins, but has been restored to carry the bells, as the Cathedral tower is not considered strong enough to withstand the strain.

LOST PEALS.

A new departure, as far as we are aware, has been embarked upon by the Oxford Diocesan Guild. It is the recording of peal attempts as well as of peals which are successful. If the members of the Guild will seriously act up to the decision and carry out the proposal to the letter, there is no doubt that much interesting material may be added to the records of the Guild and hitherto unobtainable statistics will be available. In these days of prolific peal ringing, we are apt to forget the efforts of some of the less successful and less prominent ringers, who have a real struggle for every peal that they score, and whose perseverance in face of difficulties and constant failures is often worthy of higher praise than the achievements of others who, highly accomplished, go on from peal to peal with few losses to break the sequence, and seldom a disappointment to leaven the run of successes. Even among the more skilful of bands, however, there are occasions when a lost peal, by the sacrifice of time or energy that has been called forth, may be counted a greater effort than many another attempt which has ended successfully.

Associations as well as individuals are perhaps inclined to set undue store upon the peals rung; peals lost are in many respects often just as interesting; and, in course of time, if accurately maintained, the record of these attempts would prove no less valuable from their historical standpoint. There are individuals in the Exercise who have religiously kept a record of losses as well as gains, and those who have done so are able to look back over this reminder of thwarted hopes and draw from it a variety of recollections, which, if not entirely pleasant, often contain a spice of humour. Association records will serve a somewhat different purpose. They will, to a certain extent, be a recognition of efforts which have failed entirely to materialise, just as the peal records are a recognition of successful achievement. They will also form the basis of interesting comparisons. For instance, an association may ring less peals in one year than another. If a record of all attempts is kept, it will be possible to say whether this is due to a falling-off in peal ringing energies or to a greater proportion of peals lost. Even an analysis of the losses may be interesting in showing the causes of breakdown, such as the failure of the human element or the intervention of some cause outside the control of the ringers. We fully believe that the experiment of the Oxford Guild will prove to be of real interest, and, if it is, doubtless other associations will adopt the idea. The value of it will be in the loyalty of the members in communicating all their failures as faithfully as they now chronicle their successes. The record will lose much of its usefulness if only a part of the failures are notified. Occasionally the loss of the peal may be a thing about which the less said the better, but even these exceptional occurrences must not be allowed to spoil the completeness of the list of 'unfulfilled hopes and disappointed ambitions.' Otherwise the co-operation of the rest will be largely wasted.

A WEEK IN NORTH SOMERSET.

INCIDENTS OF AN ENJOYABLE EXCURSION.

'Harewith programme for week August 10th-15th. Headquarters, Grosvenor Hotel, Bristol. Conveyance to towers by public services' (and, we might add, by the renowned Chilcompton bus, two private motors and two motor-cycles). This intimation to hand, who would not be pleased to join the party?—knowing well that all would run without a hitch and strictly up to time, seeing that the arrangements were made by that prince of organisers, Mr. J. T. Dyke, secretary of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, Mr. W. A. Cave giving valuable assistance in the case of towers in Bristol—a city and county divided by the river, part being in Somerset and part in Gloucestershire. Peals were therefore rung under the two associations concerned. The party having assembled, it was found that Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fletcher were unable to come owing to pressure of business. There were, however, plenty to ring, to the satisfaction of some who would feel it a hardship not to ring two peals a day.

A short account of the doings day by day may prove of interest.

Monday.—Wroxall, 9.15 a.m., a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major. Clevedon, 3 p.m., a peal of Superlative Surprise Major.

Tuesday.—Chewton Mendip, 10 a.m., a peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major. The bells are believed to be the best for their size in all England. Mr. Dyke had long desired to conduct a peal of Double Norwich here, and now had his desire gratified.

In the evening a peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal was rung at St. Stephen's, Bristol.

Wednesday.—Before ringing came an instructive visit to Somerdale, Messrs. Fry's chocolate factory, entailing a two hours' walk, while viewing everything from the raw cocoa bean to the perfect product full of taste in the mouth. Having viewed this most interesting factory, a move was made to Keynsham, where an attempt was made on 'Thurstans' peal of Stedman. The horrible noise outside quickly caused the three outstanding ones to bundle into a motor and take a drive to Downside Abbey, a most perfect specimen of Gothic architecture. On returning to hear the end of the peal, silence reigned supreme, and the ringers had departed with only a course to their credit. It appeared that no intimation had been given to the steeple-keeper. After obtaining the key and pulling off the chimes as well as tying back a clock hammer, a start was made, no one ever dreaming there were several other wires concealed in a cupboard. The chimes went as usual at the hour, with results which all can imagine. One result, however, must be noted—many inhabitants near the church took it as a slight on the town that the visiting party had been ignored by those in authority and no preparations made for their reception. In the evening a peal of Stedman Caters was rung at St. Nicholas', Bristol, a good peal, but not good enough to cover the disappointment of the morning.

Thursday.—Barrow Gurney, a peal of New Cambridge Surprise; a peal of Stedman Triples in the evening at Long Ashton—a heavy job and all the more so because between the two peals was sandwiched in a visit to W. D. and H. O. Wills' great tobacco factory. As this entailed a perambulation of some two hours, much of it in great heat engendered by the baking of Cavendish, all in the steamy odours of nicotine, most were agreed that it was harder work than ringing a peal. As the equivalent of three peals, with only a hasty snack of bread and cheese, it speaks well for the grit of those who started tired, but hung on to the last welcome call, 'This is all.'

Friday.—Burnham-on-Sea; method, Cambridge. A shift course after half an hour, but an excellent peal followed, to the great satisfaction of several local ringers, who assembled to hear the last part. One, indeed, put in the whole morning to listen, giving over his work of sterilising milk bottles to other hands. Mr. Evans, a local man, who rang the treble, his 50th peal for the association, was revenged for what happened at Weston-super-Mare last year. From Burnham to Bridgwater, the route was a road in rain—three distinct cloudbursts flooding the countryside. On arrival at Bridgwater an evil omen was given by way of warning. The ringer of the treble, who had hurried on to get the bells up, in an idle moment put a penny in the slot of an automatic weighing machine; the pointer spun round to over 20 stone with a mighty crash in the interior. A similar crash in the peal occurred after 50 minutes. Possibly the knowledge that the last bus was due to leave before the peal could be finished had something to do with it. It transpired later that the machine was not in fault, for 20 stone 4 lb. was registered on the following day on another machine—proving that ringing is a healthy exercise—5 lb. having been put on in five peals, upsetting the theories of medical men and certain of the ignorant and uninstructed world.

Saturday.—St. Ambrose, Bristol, a lively little peal on ball bearings. An early start at 8 a.m. was necessary, as a wedding was to be solemnised at 11 a.m. The peal was rung with nearly 20 minutes to spare, too fast to please the writer, but 'necessity knows no laws.' Three o'clock saw the band augmented by Mr. Stafford Green, from London, ready to pluck the plum of the week—Stedman Cinques at St. Mary's, Redcliffe. Here the architect responsible for the restoration work on the tower, rendered possible by the princely gift of £60,000 by one of the Wills family, telephoned forbidding the use of the bells—by no means an unreasonable order, seeing that the steeple was surrounded by scaffolding. With much loose stonework and statuary not thoroughly set, it was evident that much damage from vibration might be done. Glum looks were soon dispersed by Mr. Cave, over ready in an emergency, who said, 'Why not go to St. Stephen's? We can always ring there.' Bristolians are proud of their bells, so a second peal in the week would be welcomed, though rung in the very heart of the commercial life of the city. Cambridge Surprise Royal was soon under way, but failed after 1 hour 20 minutes. Thus the week ended with 12 peals attempted, with two failures, putting aside the hopeless if abortive attempt at Keynsham; in all, nine successful.

As a small token of gratitude to Mr. Dyke and acknowledgment of all the trouble he had taken in arranging the tour, a small present of a pipe and pouch was tendered outside St. Stephen's, with sufficient tobacco to ensure calm repose and sweet satisfaction for many an evening as he calls to mind the details of the tour and its great success, with good fellowship all round.

The writer of these notes had to leave before the last attempted peal. The members of the band took such kindly interest in him from day to day that he thinks they may like to know how he fared on his way to Exeter. To begin with, a mackintosh was left in the cab which took his heavy baggage to the station. This was retrieved from the cab rank in ample time, for the North Express (?) was 1½ hours late in starting, and lost another 1½ hours ere it arrived at Exeter at 8.15 p.m. instead of 5.45. A bag with Sunday clothes, pyjamas, shaving tackle, etc., was put out in error at Taunton, but turned up by the next train, while starvation was warded off by recourse to the souvenir box of chocolates presented by Frys and the tin of 'Gold Bar' presented by the firm of Wills—no refreshment being obtainable at the many wayside halts at which this noted express frequently pulled up. It is to be hoped that all the band will find these gifts as truly acceptable, though they probably intended to give them away to some favoured claimant, as was the intention of

KENSINGTON GUILD'S EXCURSION.

On Saturday, July 18th, St. Mary Abbots' Guild held their annual summer outing. Starting from the church at 1.30 p.m., they motored first by way of Kingston and Newlands Corner to Shere, where they stopped for a ring at the church. From Shere they went to Haslemere, and again rang some short touches on the ten bells of Haslemere Church. After an excellent tea in Haslemere, they made their final halt at Farnham Parish Church. The homeward journey was made through Aldershot, Sunningdale, and Virginia Water. It was a most successful and enjoyable expedition, and the Guild are greatly indebted to those officials who not only permitted them the use of their towers but showed them so much that was of historical interest and beauty in their churches.

BOLSOVER RINGERS' 180 MILES TRIP.

The Bolsover ringers had a red letter day when they embarked upon their 32nd annual outing. It had been planned on rather a large scale and proved to be a heavy but interesting excursion. Twenty ringers, wives and friends met at the Parish Church gates at 6.15 a.m. and in the course of the day travelled 180 miles by motor-coach through five counties and rang at six churches. Peterborough, 75 miles distant, was the first stop. Here Mr. Davis and others of the local band gave them a real good welcome and had the bells of St. John's Church up ready. These were soon going to Double Norwich, Plain Bob, Superlative and Cambridge, apparently much to the annoyance of the market people and other tradesmen, but to the pleasure of the visitors and their ringing friends, who told some of the tradespeople that they had no ear for music. The party were fortunate to have a word with Canon Gibson and to thank him for the use of the bells.

Going on to Whittlesey with Mr. W. Rose, of Peterborough, as pilot, they were welcomed by Mr. W. Smith and Mr. Newman, and Norfolk, Superlative, Cambridge, Double Norwich, Little Bob, Plain Bob and Treble Bob were tapped off in fine style on the bells of SS. Mary and Andrew's Church, and rarely if ever had ringing like this been heard at Whittlesey. After lunch at the Falcon Hotel, the company moved off to Crowland Abbey. The peal of six were set going to Treble Bob and Plain Bob Minor. The 90ft. of rope frightened some a bit at first, but this difficulty was overcome and some good ringing took place. Following the ringing, the party had a hurried look round this interesting place before going on to Spalding, where they were met by Mr. A. Farr, Mr. Brown and others. The bells here are worth a visit and made the ringers loth to leave them. Touches in all the Surprise methods of which they were capable, as well as other methods, were brought round with great satisfaction. The ringers of Spalding are very fortunate and should be grateful for the possession of such a splendid peal—one of Taylor's best. After a bountiful tea at the Red Lion, the party went on to Surfleet, and were met by the Rev. H. Law James, Mr. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. R. Richardson, who joined the visitors in ringing Treble Bob Royal, Little Bob Royal, Plain Bob, Superlative and Cambridge. Most of the visitors were by this time tired and had the courage to own up to it and left at 8.30 on their 65 miles' journey for home. They desire to tender their grateful thanks to all the incumbents for the use of the bells, to those who met them at the various towers and all others, especially Mr. Rose, who helped to make the outing a huge success.

FUNERAL OF MR. F. A. HOLDEN.

The mortal remains of the late Mr. Frederick A. Holden, whose death we recorded last week, were laid to rest on the 10th inst. at Ewerby, Lincs, where he had been living for the last few years, and of which village he had been postmaster. Since coming to reside in Ewerby he had formed a band of ringers at the Parish Church. Most of them he taught to handle a bell, and they had progressed as far as being able to ring Grandsire Caters.

The funeral service was fully choral and was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. J. Stephens). The family mourners were the widow, three sons and a daughter, and Mr. William Haigh (father-in-law), who until a year or so ago was tower keeper at Rochester Cathedral. Among those present were representatives of the deceased's Masonic Lodge and many ringers from surrounding towers, in addition to the local band, and many of the inhabitants of Ewerby. Immediately after the interment a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells over the grave by Mrs. R. Richardson 1-2, S. Proctor 3-4, R. Richardson 5-6, W. H. Hewett 7-8. This was followed by three courses of Grandsire Caters on the tower bells, which were half-muffled: R. Scott 1, W. H. Hewett (conductor) 2, Mrs. R. Richardson 3, S. Proctor 4, C. T. H. Bradley 5, J. Wilson 6, G. Robinson 7, F. J. Hairs 8, R. Richardson 9, R. Pick 10.

VETERAN YORKSHIRE RINGER'S DEATH.

The death occurred suddenly on Monday, August 10th, of Mr. Fredk. Schofield, a prominent and much esteemed ringer in the Huddersfield district. Mr. Schofield, who was 73 years of age, began his ringing career when the bells were installed at St. Stephen's, Lindley, in 1874, and was the last surviving member of the original company. He was an exemplary conductor, and, a good striker himself, he always insisted on good striking, as the many pupils who have come under his tuition can testify. Though not a great peal scorer, he had rung about 17 peals, several of them having been with the late Jasper Snowdon in the early days of the Yorkshire Association. Mr. Schofield had also acted as judge at the Halifax and District Association's contests on many occasions.

The interment took place at Lindley on Thursday, August 13th, when, owing to it being the local holidays, all but three of the local company were away on vacation, but a course of Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung at the graveside by J. E. Carter 1-2, C. H. Craven 3-4, H. H. Smith 5-6. Prior to evening service on Sunday, August 16th, 608 Kent Treble Bob Major was rung with the bells fully muffled: J. C. Meller 1, J. Turner 2, J. Berry 3, J. Craven 4, G. T. Turner 5, D. Snowball 6, C. H. Craven (conductor) 7, H. H. Smith 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. G. H. Pagett, who has been a ringer and chorister at St. Thomas' Church, Stourbridge, for upward of 50 years, has met with an accident. He had a nasty fall in the street and is confined to bed, but we are pleased to say he is progressing favourably.

Alderman J. S. Pritchett, presiding ringing master of St. Martin's Guild, his 76 years sitting lightly upon him, has just climbed Cader Idris for about the 20th time, the journey occupying something like ten hours. During August the alderman is sitting as deputy for Judge Reeve in a County Court circuit, and in September is acting as deputy Stipendiary for Birmingham in place of Lord Ilkeston. Such activities are a wonderful tribute to both the physical and mental fitness of Alderman Pritchett, who, it will be remembered, scored a peal of Stedman Cinques on both his 75th and 76th birthdays.

We mentioned in connection with the Oxford Diocesan Guild's jubilee that the 14-year-old son of Mr. A. D. Cullum was among those who took part in the festival. There was a still younger member present in the 13-year-old son of Mr. J. Keyte, who is hon. secretary of the Chipping Norton Deanery Branch. Master Keyte has attended the annual festival of the Guild for the last three years.

In the peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal rung at Brighton, Sussex, on Saturday, August 1st, 1931, the ringer of the 9th was given as Henry Page, which should have been Charles H. Page.

The peal rung at All Souls' Church, Bolton, on August 1st, was Aspinwall's six-part, and the ringer of the 5th was W. Pennington. Messrs. Gillett and Johnston are to add two bells to the three existing ones at Stanwick, Northants. The old bells are to be rehung in an iron and steel frame.

It is hoped that the new edition of the 'Ringers' Directory,' which is being prepared by Bristol United Ringing Guilds, will be ready for issue by the end of September. It will include an Empire section and several pages of Sunday service touches, and altogether will run to 100 or 120 pages.

Readers will be interested to learn that a Vicar not 100 miles from Leeds, having a complaint from a parishioner to the effect that the bells in the Parish Church were distressing to his illness, very kindly had the bells rung fully muffled the following week, since when no further complaints have been received.

Few can equal the record of Mr. D. Brownlow, of Horwich, Lanes. He has just completed 71 years as a ringer and is still active and regular in taking part in service ringing. He looks good for many more years of usefulness in the belfry, and everyone will hope that this may prove to be the case. Last Saturday a peal was rung at Horwich in his honour.

THE RINGERS' PILGRIMAGE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I have read with interest the articles in 'The Ringing World' regarding the Ringers' Pilgrimage to Ypres. Like many more, I lost my sons in the war, the name of the elder being inscribed at Menin Gate. To the chaplain, organiser and all who took part in the pilgrimage I sincerely say 'Thank you.'

HANDBELL RINGING ON THE CONTINENT.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—There was a considerable amount of handbell ringing at Ronet during the war, 1915 to 1917, and various touches were published in 'The Ringing World' at the time. I have not the copies by me, but I remember the names of those taking part. They are as follows: Messrs. C. Glenn, A. Hague, C. I. Davies (of Liverpool), Bert Cryer (Selby) and — Blake. This information may be of interest to your readers.—Yours faithfully,

SUPERLATIVE OR 'REAL' SUPERLATIVE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I was very interested to read the account of a peal rung at Wymondham, Norfolk, on August 1st, and published as Superlative Surprise. On reading the footnote it stated that '... is the first to be rung in Norfolk with two bobs in a lead.' This means to say that this lead was 'Real Superlative,' and I fail to see how the peal can be claimed as 'Superlative' when in reality it is 'Spliced Superlative and Real Superlative.' Where is the Central Council ruling on this? If this is to become the fashion we shall see every double method such as Double Norwich, Bristol Surprise and others being trotted out in this fashion for the simple reason of shortening existing peals.—Yours truly,

F. W. ROGERS.

BIRKENHEAD.—On Monday, July 27th, for practice, 720 Plain Bob Minor by the following: W. Goodwin 1, J. Gibb 2, G. W. Battle 3, W. Battle 4, W. J. Battle 5, J. Cooke (conductor) 6. This is the first 720 'inside' in any method by the ringer of the second, who hails from Kilkenny, Ireland.

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY. DIOCESAN AUTHORITIES' DELAY.

Unexpected delay on the part of the diocesan authorities is holding up the commencement of the work in St. Bene't's tower. For nearly a month the committee have been waiting to give the word 'go' both to the bell founders and the builders, but despite letters and telegrams pointing out the urgency of the matter, if the scheme is to be carried through in the time arranged, the final authority of the Chancellor is still awaited. The delay is seriously jeopardising the proposal for the reopening of the bells on September 26th—the last Saturday before the commencement of the Cambridge Term, after which Corpus Christi Hall will not be available for serving luncheon and tea, for which purpose it had been kindly offered by the College authorities. If, before these lines actually appear in print, the official sanction to the scheme is forthcoming, it is just possible that the work will be sufficiently forward to carry out the reopening on the date arranged.

Meanwhile, those who wish to contribute to the fund should send their donations to PROTEST AGAINST A CHIMING APPARATUS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I could hardly believe my eyes when I read in 'The Ringing World' that it was proposed to include in the scheme for the restoration of St. Bene't's bells—of all monstrosities imaginable—a chiming apparatus! Sunday in Cambridge is already made hideous by the use of these mechanical contraptions. Why on earth introduce another to add to the cacophony? Doubtless the bells will be needed for use at times when a band of ringers is not available, but I, for one, would far rather hear two of them raised and lowered, as at Magdalen College, Oxford, than any number thumped with chiming hammers, and I suggest that any money forthcoming would be far better spent in employing a couple of choirboys at 3d. a time to ring two of the lighter bells up and down, or even to assist the vergers in the legitimate chiming—on the swing—of three or four. If anything could be calculated to make the late Fabian Stedman turn indignantly in his grave it would be the thought of his historic bells being subjected to the indignity of a mechanical apparatus. Anything more flagrantly out of keeping with a Stedman commemoration it would be hard to conceive.—Yours faithfully,

F. LL. EDWARDS.

STEDMAN'S PROFESSION.

Sir,—Tradition seems to arouse strange feelings in people's minds. Some think that if a thing is a tradition, it means that it never happened. Others seem to treat tradition as more valuable than proved facts. They even speak of a tradition being proved, forgetting that if a thing is proved it can no longer be a tradition. The truth, of course, is that tradition is a valuable aid to obtaining the exact facts, but it must always be used carefully, or it may easily lead us astray.

We cannot do wrong if we say with Mr. Daniell that we accept a tradition. He adds that he regards the Leicester account as a confirmation. I wish he would tell us why. Of course, it is possible; just as it is possible, on the other hand, that it is the source of the tradition. I cannot see that we have anything to guide us as to which of these we believe. In any case the tradition is as yet no more than a tradition. We may believe with Mr. Daniell that it is confirmed. We cannot believe with Mr. Trollope that it is proved.

The further facts discovered by Mr. Trollope are most interesting. If he would also give us his authorities it would increase the value of what he tells us. At present it is not clear whether these facts apply to Stedman the ringer, or to Stedman whose will has been published. When I wrote that the publisher of 'Tintinnalogia' must have been either a man of some means or have had access to those who had, I did not expect my statement to be so soon supported in this way. These statements make it difficult to believe that Stedman worked as a Cambridge printer, but fit in very well with Mr. Daniell's suggestion that he was a son of the gentry, apprenticed to that trade.

HERBERT DRAKE.

ONE OF STEDMAN'S CONTEMPORARIES.

A FORGOTTEN WORTHY.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

In his 'Campanalogia' (1677) Stedman gives 53 London peals composed by F. S. and 17 peals composed at Cambridge by Mr. S. S. F. S. is, of course, Fabian Stedman himself, but who is S. S.? From the similarity of initials and the connection with Cambridge we are tempted to conclude that there was another Stedman, a relative; and Benjamin Annable and the rest of the London ringers evidently thought that all the 'peals' that came out of Cambridge were the work of Fabian. Both conjectures are wrong. S. S. stands for a man who was quite a considerable person in his own day, and, though quickly and completely forgotten by ringers, deserves to be remembered as one of the early composers.

Among the leading divines of the Church of England in the 17th century was a man named Antony Scattergood. He was the son of a Derbyshire gentleman, was educated at Trinity College, Cambridge, took orders, and held many preferments in the Church, including prebends at both Lincoln and Lichfield Cathedrals. He was a friend of Sancroft, afterwards the non-juring Archbishop of Canterbury, and his position among his fellows is shown by the fact that he was the person who was directed by Convocation to see the revised Book of Common Prayer through the press in 1662.

His eldest son was named Samuel. He was born in 1646 at Winwick, Northamptonshire, where his father was Rector. There are three bells at Winwick, which were already old when he was born. Like his father, Samuel was educated at Trinity, Cambridge, being entered there on May 20th, 1662. On April 29th, 1664, he was admitted a scholar at the same time as Isaac Newton. Newton is said (on what authority I know not) to have taken some interest in ringing. If he did, this was the time. It is permissible to suppose that he and Scattergood were acquainted, and the latter certainly got to know Fabian Stedman and practised ringing with him at St. Bene't's.

Another man who may have belonged to the same company was Joseph Holland, a clergyman of the Church of England and a Doctor of Divinity. He joined the College Youths in 1668 and served the society as steward in 1675. Of him at present I have no further information.

What a band that must have been which included three such men as Stedman, Newton and Scattergood! Newton, who was beginning to lay the foundations of his reputation as one of the greatest mathematicians of all time; Scattergood, who was to become famous as a leading preacher and churchman; and Stedman, whose mental abilities made him a worthy companion of the other two. Stedman published his 'Tintinnalogia' in 1669. It contains, I think, nothing which is his own composition. It is an attempt to explain the whole art and science as it existed in his day. In its style and the grasp of the subject it is worthy of a man who (possibly) was on terms of intimacy with Sir Isaac Newton. It strikes me as being a much greater book than the 'Campanalogia,' Stedman's later effort, though necessarily much more elementary.

If Newton was ever a ringer, he did not maintain his interest in it for long. Samuel Scattergood did. When, following the publication of the 'Tintinnalogia,' cross peals began to be more commonly rung, he was one of the new composers. Here are the names of some of his peals—'My Honey,' 'The Whirligigge,' 'Jack on Both Sides,' 'Non-such,' 'The Dream,' 'The Contention,' 'The Cheat,' 'Topie-turvie,' 'Symphonies.' They are good evidence that he looked on ringing as a pleasant diversion from the more serious things of life. As names they are not nearly so good as those Stedman gave to his methods. One of his methods is Jumping Doubles, an experiment in which a bell passes over two other bells at the same time—an innovation which, happily, did not take on in the Exercise. He may have got the idea from 'Grandsire True,' by Robert Roan, in the 'Tintinnalogia.'

Perhaps the most interesting of Scattergood's names is 'Winwick Doubles,' which he called after his birthplace, and which enables us to identify him without a shadow of doubt.

For some years he remained at Cambridge, spending, no doubt, his vacations at Winwick or at Lichfield. He graduated B.A. in 1665 and M.A. in 1669, and at the same time he was made a fellow of his college. In this same year the Sheldonian Theatre was opened at Oxford, and on that occasion both he and his father were incorporated members of the university, a pretty good proof that he had already made a name.

In 1672 he joined the Society of College Youths, necessarily as an honorary and non-resident member, like Fabian Stedman before him. It may have been on a visit to London or it may have been when the College Youths visited Cambridge. If ever that society did visit Cambridge and ring Stedman's Principle for the first time at St. Bene't's, this was about the date; 1657, the year given by Shipway, is certainly too early.

In 1676 Scattergood took orders. From 1678 to 1681 he was Vicar of St. Mary's, Lichfield; in 1681 he was presented to the living of Ware, but in the same year he resigned it and accepted the Vicarage

PEAL BOARD UNVEILED AT STOURBRIDGE

RECORD OF LOCAL BAND'S PERFORMANCE.

The peal of Grandsire Triples rung at St. Thomas' Church, Stourbridge, on January 26th, the first on the bells by a local band, has been permanently recorded in the belfry on a board given by Mr. G. H. Bateman. The unveiling took place after evensong on Sunday, August 9th. The Vicar referred to the event in the course of his sermon and afterwards, in the presence of many members of the congregation, performed the ceremony.

Mr. Walter Farley, conductor of the peal, presented the board to the Vicar as representing the parish. He said he was pleased to see such a good attendance of members of the congregation to see the ringers do a bit of work (laughter). The ringers were usually unseen, but were heard, and he thought that those present often wished the ringers were somewhere else (laughter). As the conductor of the peal he felt very proud to be there and ask the Vicar to unveil the board. It was the ambition of every band of ringers to ring a peal of that description, without outside help, and it was the first time that the local band had done it.

The band then rang a short touch of Grandsire Triples (which was the method rung in the peal), standing in the same positions as when they rang the peal on January 26th, and afterwards the Vicar accepted the board on behalf of the parish. He said it was a red letter day in the history of the local ringers, and they thanked God for the spirit that existed in the belfry. There was ordered decency and reverence, and a splendid spirit among the ringers as worshippers. He thanked God from his heart for that, and that peal board would bring happy memories of ringing in the town.

The Vicar then unveiled the board, which is lettered in gold on black. Mr. Whatmore proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and the churchwardens and others who attended.

The Vicar said those present would see that ringing was pretty stiff work, and he did not think ringers gained the recognition that they should. They owed a great deal to Mr. Cooper, the secretary of the band, and to Mr. Farley.

It was stated by Mr. Farley that Mr. Leech, who rang the treble bell in the peal, had been ringing for only twelve months.

The Vicar referred to a complaint which he received, in an anonymous letter, as to the ringing of the bells of the church, and said the writer was going to shoot him at sight, and hoped all sorts of evil things would happen to him (laughter).

Mr. H. Mason (Hagley), who is a member of the Advisory Committee of the Northern Branch of the Worcestershire and Districts Association, congratulated the congregation on the enthusiasm of the ringers. He rang on those bells nearly 50 years ago, and rang with Mr. Whatmore (father of Mr. A. E. Whatmore) 40 years ago. He wished to congratulate the band on their achievement.

The bells were rung again, in touches of Bob Major.

of Blockley, which he held to his death. In 1682 he succeeded his father as Prebendary of Lichfield, and the following year in his other prebend at Lincoln.

How far he kept up his active connection with ringing is doubtful, but he never lost his interest in the art. In 1676 he served in the office as steward to the College Youths in succession to Joseph Holland, and in 1685 he was Master of the society. The question arises with him, as with Fabian Stedman, how could he discharge the duties of those offices when, obviously, almost all his time was spent away from London? The answer is that in the old days the duties of these officers were concerned almost entirely with the annual feast. The duty of the steward was to guarantee the cost: the duty of the Master was to preside at the function. The man who managed the ordinary routine business of the society was the Beadle, who was a paid official.

Thus in the list of Masters of the College Youths between 1637 and 1755 there are men who were active ringing members, and men who were really honorary members and not necessarily ringers at all. Prominent among the first class are Robert Roan, John Tending, John Patrick, Matthew East, Benjamin Annable and John Cundell; while the other class includes, besides Stedman and Scattergood, men like Sir Henry Tulse, who the same year was Lord Mayor, Henry Brett, of Cowley, Sir Henry Hicks and others.

Samuel Scattergood died at Blockley in 1696 and was buried there. He left some money to the poor of the parish—a charity which is still administered. He gained a great reputation as a preacher and a volume of his sermons was published. In the College Youths' list of members' names he is given as D.D., but that, I think, is a mistake, probably caused by confusing him with his father.

The above account is the result of a very interesting little bit of historical investigation. The initials 'S. S.' in Stedman's book were all I had to start on. The appearance of the name Samuel Scattergood in the College Youths' list of names and their mistake of adding D.D. suggested that he might possibly be the man. When I found that there was a clergyman who was born at Winwick and that S. S. had called one of his methods Winwick Doubles there was no room for doubt that they were the same.

RINGERS AND POLICE.

AN ENJOYABLE LANCASHIRE SOCIAL.

On Saturday last, ringers, their wives and friends were invited to the Athletic Ground of the Bolton Borough Police to have what has now become their annual gathering, and many accepted the invitation, although some who sent their names did not turn up, probably on account of the uncertainty of the weather.

A bowling match had been arranged with the police, but owing to special duties, it had to be cancelled. The weather during the afternoon was very kind and some old scores were wiped off by trundlers on the bowling green, while the ladies and younger members enjoyed a game of rounders on the football ground.

About 40 sat down to tea, after which more outdoor games were enjoyed until about 6.45 p.m., when a shower sent all into the pavilion, where a 'free and easy' social was at once set going, and kept up until 10.15 p.m. Artists galore, all bubbling over to give a turn, were ready to assist. Mr. and Miss Booth gave selections on their handbells; Miss Annie Potter, Miss Esther Bell, Mr. Brown of Walkden, and Mr. N. Brown, of Wigau, were the vocalists in solos and duets; Miss Hannah Sandiford delighted the audience with her elocution; and Messrs. A. Stewart, A. Sandiford and J. Sandiford provided music with violin and piano for singing and dancing. There were also touches on the handbells. With Sergt. Peter Crook at the helm, there was never a dull or idle moment.

At the conclusion Mr. W. H. Shaker (hon. secretary of the Lancashire Association) proposed a vote of thanks to the police for their invitation. He said it had given the ringers an opportunity to meet under very pleasant conditions, and he hoped they would be able to pay another visit.—Chief Inspector Tootell, in replying, said they had all enjoyed the evening, especially the handbells, and extended a hearty invitation to come again.—Inspector Rostron supported him.

Although what appeared at first (owing to the weather) to be a disappointing day, it had turned out to be one of the best socials held at the club.

LONDON RINGERS' EXCURSION.

A visit to towers in Berkshire and Oxfordshire formed the annual outing of St. Andrew's, Holborn, Guild. A party of 23 members and friends journeyed to Reading by train and were there joined by Messrs. Boreham (2) and F. West, of High Wycombe, and G. Martin, of Bayne Hill. The excursion was then continued by motor-coach, and the first call made at Goring, where the bells were soon going to various methods. Goring Church has a light and most musical peal of eight, with the 'go' of which everyone was delighted. The next move was to Appleton, safely reached after a most pleasant drive through Dorchester and Abingdon. The party were met by Mr. G. Holfield, and Cambridge Royal, Grandsire and Stedman Caters were brought round. It was on these bells that the longest peal of Stedman Caters was rung. At The Tavern a most excellent lunch was laid out under the spreading chestnut trees, and, as is customary on these occasions, full justice was done to all the good things provided.

The journey was then resumed to Wantage, where there is a delightful old church and a fine old peal of bells, on which touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major and Double Norwich were rung. The next call was East Hagbourne, where Mr. T. East was awaiting the party. Various methods were rung on a peal, splendid alike in 'go' and tone. After tea at the Fleur-de-Lys, the party made for Blewbury, where the bells were soon rolling to Grandsire, Stedman, Double Norwich and Cambridge. These bells are of good tone, but the 'go' could be better. After a little delay owing to two of the party being absent in search of 'stable secrets,' the excursionists started on their journey over those glorious downs to Reading, where they had to say good-bye to their Wycombe friends. The rest of the party wended their way to The Shades, where they were joined by Messrs. Tom Hibbert and Bert Cullum, and a most enjoyable 1½ hours was spent in music and song, the organ solos by Norman Bagworth and James Bullock being much enjoyed.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Rector and churchwardens of St. Andrew's, Holborn, for their kind generosity towards the outing, also to the secretary, to whom musical honours were accorded for the excellent arrangements he had made. Paddington was eventually reached just after 11 p.m. This opportunity is taken of thanking the various incumbents for the use of their bells and the towerkeepers for their help, which all combined to make the day so successful.

ON THE SUFFOLK AND NORFOLK BORDER.

For their annual outing the ringers of Beccles Parish Church, Suffolk, with one or two friends from adjoining towers, made a trip along the Norfolk and Suffolk border. The towers visited were Fressingfield, Stradbroke, Wilby, Eyc, Diss and Saxlingham. The weather for this event was, for a change, fine, and everyone agreed that it was a most enjoyable day. The best thanks of the company are tendered to the incumbents of the churches visited for permission to ring, and to the local ringers for their help in making arrangements, and having everything in readiness for the visitors' arrival.

THE SURFLEET 'ANNUAL.'TOO MANY CONDUCTORS SPOIL THE PEAL.

'The annual gathering of the non-shaving brigade.'—This was the event to which Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Richardson, of Surfleet, sent out invitations this year. Whether the wording had an effect on the peal ringing or whether the beards of the ringers obscured their ringing vision cannot be said with certainty, but the fact remains that very few peals were rung. The company this year were joined by Claude and Mrs. Davies, of Liverpool, but much to the disappointment of everybody, Mrs. 'F. I.' was unavoidably absent, owing to the indisposition of her daughter.

The first peal attempt on Saturday came to an end through the conductor missing a bob, the attempt on Sunday was brought to a finish owing to a bob being called instead of a single and on Monday a peal 'went west' by two of the band calling a bob where the conductor did not want one! The absence of the usual 1-2 'man' was by now very evident. A second attempt was more successful, and Claude scored his 'first' in hand.

Monday night saw the arrival of the 'Penny-in-the-slot' trunk, which had discovered a cheap means of travel, namely, by taking a cheap ticket to Peterborough and then hiring a car to Surfleet, paying the driver in 'kind' by inviting him to supper at Glyn Garth. The driver, however, turned out to be a handbell ringer, so several methods up to Grandfire Cinques were rung, Albert, of Derby, eventually taking the road again about midnight.

After a day at market on Tuesday, the evening was devoted to bowls, in which there were some very good 'woods,' but whether by good play or good luck it is hard to say.

On Wednesday the hostess threatened to lock up the bowls and reduce the rations if more attention was not paid to ringing, but it had no effect, as an attempt for Cambridge Major on the tower bells came to a sudden end after nearly two hours. Then after two blank days Friday was spent at Skegness for the 'annual.' Only two of the party ventured into the water. The owner of the 'trunk' intended to bath, but Rupert's costume was rather a bad fit for 'Ole Bill,' as he could not stop in it, there being too much costume at backstroke!

Kent Treble Bob was attempted on Saturday, but joined the great majority—cause unknown! Plain Bob was then again brought forward with better success. Saturday also saw the departure of the Liverpool section.

Cambridge Major and Stedman Triples were rung for morning service on Sunday, and after dinner another 5040 of Bob Major was recorded.

All hands and the car were needed on Monday to carry the 'luggage specialist' to Spalding, thus bringing to a finish another very enjoyable ringing week, for which the party once again thank their very entertaining host and hostess.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the South-Eastern Division was held at Great Waltham on Saturday, when 21 members attended from ten parishes. Ringing commenced at 2.30, and later a service was held in the church, conducted by the Rev. Stanley Gresham, the Vicar (the Rev. C. W. Allington) being away. Mr. C. H. Howard (Master of the association) read the lesson. Tea was served at the Six Bells and was followed by the usual business meeting.

It was arranged to hold the next meeting at Ford End on Saturday, October 3rd.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, to the Rev. Stanley Gresham for conducting the service and his helpful address, and also for accompanying the hymns on the organ. The ringers made another visit to the tower and kept the bells going till 9 p.m.

WORSLEY RINGERS VISIT SHREWSBURY.

On Saturday, August 1st, the ringers of St. Mark's, Worsley, with their wives and friends, together with the Vicar (the Rev. I. Renshaw), set out for Shrewsbury. Leaving Worsley at 7.10 a.m., in somewhat damp weather, they proceeded via Barton, Altrincham and Northwich to Hartford, where at the Red Lion Hotel, tea and sandwiches were served. Visiting the church with its peal of six bells, they found a wedding in progress, and had the pleasure of ringing the bride and bridegroom out of church after the ceremony. Touches of Stedman, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob were brought round, and the journey was resumed through beautiful country to Shrewsbury, which was reached at 11.45. A little later the party sat down to a hot luncheon, and it was 'a right good do.' At St. Chad's Church there hangs a beautiful peal of twelve bells by Taylors, and these were at the disposal of the party for an hour. They were set going to Stedman Triples, after which the twelve were put into motion with the help of the local company, and the ringing finished with a touch of Kent Treble Bob Major. Afterwards some went for a sail on the Severn, others sightseeing and rambling in the quarry, where the great show is held, until the party assembled for tea. The journey home was commenced about 7 p.m., and home was reached at 10 p.m., after a long and very enjoyable day.

The ringers wish to thank all those responsible at Hartford and St. Chad's, Shrewsbury, for the use of the bells, and the ringers for having everything ready.

WEDDING BELLS.WARWICKSHIRE GUILD SECRETARY MARRIED.

Ringers will be most interested to hear of the wedding on August 3rd at All Saints' Church, Chilvers Coton, Nuneaton, of two of the most popular and well-known ringers in Warwickshire, namely, Miss Dorothy Eva Lewis and Mr. Arthur Henry Beamish. They have been members of the Chilvers Coton band for a number of years, the bride being one of the first lady bellringers in Nuneaton. For two and a half years she has been the very able secretary of the Warwickshire Guild, and her expert ringing has won golden opinions in many churches throughout the Midland Counties. Mr. Beamish is also a keen and expert ringer, and it is mainly due to his enthusiasm that the band at Chilvers Coton Church is becoming more and more efficient.

The wedding service, which was fully choral, was attended by many guests and wellwishers, and crowds lined the church walk to catch a glimpse of the bride and her groom. The Rev. J. A. B. Davies, M.A. (Vicar of Chilvers Coton and president of the Warwickshire Guild), conducted the service, at which Mr. Norman Dodds (organist) played the Cantique d'Amour (Lemare), Serenata (E. Markham Lee), Andantino in D flat (Lemare) and Mendelssohn's Wedding March. The hymns sung were 'The Voice that breathed o'er Eden' and 'O perfect love.'

The bride was an exquisite figure in parchment satin with orange blossom headdress and long embroidered veil. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and roses and wore a double rope of pearls, with jewelled clasp, the gift of the bridegroom. The two bridesmaids (the Misses May and Phyllis Godderidge, friends) were charmingly attired in ankle-length delphinium blue flowered georgette, with black crinoline hats, trimmed with pink and blue, and they carried pink carnations and delphiniums.

Mr. George Lewis gave his daughter away and Mr. Reginald Morgan (Birmingham) was best man. The ushers were Mr. Albert Beamish and Mr. William Crabtree.

As the happy couple left the church the bells rang out merrily, the following ringers taking part: T. W. Chapman, E. Stone, J. E. Moreton, C. Rayson, J. Draycott, H. Harris, A. Haswell and G. Yeasey. Afterwards they joined the other guests at the reception, which was held in the Mascric Hall. There were many allusions to ringing in the various speeches, one guest saying that they all hoped the married life of the newly-wedded couple would be like a peal of good change ringing, even and in tune, whilst another humorously remarked that Miss Lewis had exchanged 'ringing round' for a 'round ring.' During the reception tunes on the handbells were rung by the bride and bridegroom and one of the bridesmaids, and 'the wedding peal' was rung by six of the ringers, led by Mr. T. W. Chapman, including again the bride and bridegroom. This was heartily applauded, and non-ringers were surprised and delighted by the performances.

After the reception the guests went to the bride's home to see the presents, which were numerous and beautiful, and included a case of stainless cutlery from the Chilvers Coton ringers. Other ringers who sent gifts were Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Chapman (Nuneaton), cut-glass salad bowl; Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Perrens (Coventry), pewter cake basket; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. W. White (Coventry), cut-glass salad bowl; Mr. C. Rayson (Burslem), black Wedgwood bowl and ornament; Miss M. V. Godderidge (Folkestone), table lamp.

The honeymoon is being spent in touring the West and South of England.

Mr. and Mrs. Beamish's future address is Green Ways, Gipsy Lane, Attleborough, Nuneaton. Everyone will join in wishing them a long and happy married life, and the ringing world in general may rest assured that it has not lost two of its keenest ringers.

DOVER SECRETARY WEDS.

On Saturday, August 15th, Mr. J. Eagles, secretary of Dover St. Mary's ringers, was married to Miss I. G. Wickes, and a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes, Haley's) was rung for the occasion in 44 minutes by S. A. Wells 1, W. Frigate (Hythe) 2, H. J. Saunders 3, R. T. Clark 4, C. R. Millway 5, H. Whitehead 6, C. Turner (conductor) 7, C. Hardeman 8.

EAST DERBYSHIRE AND NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

The members of the East Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire Association held an enjoyable meeting at Crich, Derbyshire, on Saturday, and there was an attendance of about 50. Crich is always a popular venue for a summer meeting, and, excepting for one shower, the weather was on its best behaviour. Ringing commenced about 3 p.m. and a service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. E. Jones). Several visitors were present in church during the service and were greatly impressed by the address.

A substantial tea followed, and votes of thanks to the Vicar and those who had arranged the tea were proposed by Mr. W. Dobbs and seconded by Mr. H. Fretwell, who congratulated the Vicar on his excellent address and his departure from the usual custom of chastising ringers who do not attend service regularly.

In reply, the Vicar said he did not believe in the practice of 'rowing' those who were present for the faults of those who were not, and, therefore, he got on very well with his parishioners.

Further ringing was indulged in until 8.45, when the bells were lowered in peal, and another good meeting brought to a close.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

XI. 1771-1787.

After the death or retirement of George Meakins in 1771, the junior society of College Youths had four or five years when little peal ringing was done. E. Rumball called a couple of peals, and Thomas Sylvester five; but the company evidently lacked an energetic leader. They found one in 1776 in Charles Purser. Purser was one of a family of ringers, and is an early example of what are sometimes called 'peal snatchers.' That is to say, he was continually going from society to society, if only he could ring or call peals.

Samuel Austin, at one time secretary to the College Youths, writing to the Rev. C. W. Lukis on June 17th, 1865, said he had often rung with Purser, and goes on: 'Mr. Purser, a respectable Inhabitant of the parish, was proprietor of the Ben Jonson Tavern, Booth Street, Spitalfields, a House resorted to by the Gentry of the parish, and he had for several years the Care of the Bells.'

Purser began as a Cumberland, and left and rejoined that society several times. At other times he belonged to the London Youths, and twice he joined and left the 'ancient' Society of College Youths. From 1776 to 1779 he was with the junior company, calling all their peals except one. Those years are memorable as being the time when the famous long peal duel with the Cumberlands was at its height. Jasper Snowden, in his 'Treble Bob,' has given most of the particulars, and I need not repeat them here, but a list of the performances in the order they were rung will be interesting:—

- 1741. 5,200 Royal, St. Sepulchre's, 32 cwt., Eastern Scholars.
- 1758. 5,040 Maximus, Southwark, 52 cwt., College Youths.
- 1758. 5,400 Royal, West Ham, 28 cwt., Cumberlands.
- 1766. 6,000 Royal, Shoreditch, 31 cwt., College Youths.
- 1766. 5,136 Maximus, Southwark, 52 cwt., Cumberlands.
- 1767. 6,200 Royal, Shoreditch, 31 cwt., London Youths.
- 1767. 7,080 Royal, Shoreditch, Cumberlands.
- 1777. 6,240 Royal, Shoreditch, Cumberlands.
- 1777. 5,232 Maximus, St. Bride's, 28 cwt., College Youths.
- 1777. 10,000 Royal, Shoreditch, 31 cwt., College Youths.
- 1777. 6,000 Maximus, Southwark, 52 cwt., College Youths.
- 1777. 10,200 Royal, Shoreditch, 31 cwt., Cumberlands.
- 1777. 11,080 Royal, Shoreditch, College Youths.
- 1778. 6,240 Maximus, Norwich, 41 cwt., Cumberlands.
- 1784. 7,008 Maximus, Southwark, 52 cwt., College Youths.
- 1784. 12,000, Royal, Shoreditch, 31 cwt., Cumberlands.
- 1802. 7,104 Maximus, Southwark, 52 cwt., Cumberlands.

The London Youths' 6,200 of Royal, rung in 1767, was called by Christopher Wells, and is false. The 7,080 Royal, rung in the same year by the Cumberlands, was conducted and probably composed by John Reeves. It was not booked by the Cumberlands, and evidently was false also, for that society claimed the 6,240 rung in 1777 as 'the first true 6,000 and the most ever rung.' The wording seems to cast doubts on the performance as well as the figures of the 7,080. Snowden does not include that peal in his account.

Purser composed and conducted the two long peals of Royal and the two peals of Maximus rung in 1777; but no figures known to be his have come down to us, and we cannot judge of his merits as a composer. In 1779 he quarrelled with the College Youths, and went back to the Cumberlands. In 1783 he joined the old society, and after that did little more peal ringing; but in 1791 he was once more a College Youth. In January and February of that year he rang two peals with them. The second, one of Treble Bob Major, at Battersea, he called, and that was his last.

After the Cumberlands had rung the 12,000, 'it was mooted by some of the College Youths to endeavour to eclipse that number, but not enough of them could be found to attempt such an undertaking.' 'Mr. William Lyford, a College Youth, has often said that the height of his ambition was to stand the dial around.'

The double victory was with the Cumberlands, and that, after all, was only fair, for they had to fight not only the College Youths but the men whom they themselves had trained and brought out. Charles Purser and John Povey, who called the College Youths' peals, and Samuel Muggeridge, their tenor ringer, had all started and rung their early peals as Cumberlands.

On March 12th, 1778, Charles Purser called at St. Dunstan's, Fleet Street, '5,184 Double Bob Major in 3 hrs. 24 minutes, With 2 Bobs in a lead one before and one behind. Being the first peal of the kind ever completed.'

When Purser left, the leadership of the junior society fell to John Povey. In 1779 he called 5,126 Grandsire Cinques at St. Martin's. This was Thomas Bennett's final peal. In 1782 he made the last of his many changes and rejoined the Cumberlands. It was forty-nine years since he first rang with the Eastern Scholars, and during that time he had played a big part in the life of most of the London societies. His name appears no more.

In 1780 Povey called 5,360 Grandsire Tittum ten in at Fulham. In the next year the society went to Ware and rang a peal of Bob Major. They had to put two of their best men on the second, as the gudgeon was broken.

On January 18th, 1783, Povey called 5,214 Grandsire Cinques at St. Michael's, Cornhill. Two were needed for the tenor, and this was 'the first peal ever rung there by 13 men only.' When the London Scholars rang their 6,204 Grandsire Cinques in 1729 they had two to the tenor and two 'assistants' as well, whose duties, apparently, were to give help in turn to any of the other ringers who needed it. In the olden times the go of some of the bells must have been very bad indeed, and ringers attempted and scored peals under conditions in which nowadays no one would think of starting.

An unusual and interesting peal was rung in the same year at Fulham by the West London members of the society, 5,220 Old Double Caters, conducted by E. Simmons.

A few years later—1787—the first single-handed peal was rung at St. Mary-le-Bow. This was Grandsire Caters, and the tenor man was Philip Pilgrim. In the same year a peal of Grandsire Triples on the heavy eight at Windsor Castle took two men to the seventh and two to the tenor.

The 'ancient' Society of College Youths had now once more a first-class peal-ringing band at headquarters. In fact, for a few years—1783-1787—it was the best company in London, although both the junior society and the Cumberlands had excellent bands. In Reeves, Wells and Blakemore it had probably the three cleverest and most brilliant ringers and composers. The first performance was to repeat the Cambridge Surprise Major. As the first had been found to be false, Reeves composed another, and the same band, except for the treble man, rang it at the same church on February 23rd, 1783. The 'Clavis' says, 'It was rung by the "ancient" Society of College Youths at St. Giles-in-the-Fields, on Sunday, February 23rd, 1783, being deemed the greatest performance ever achieved in the Campanistanean Art, as so intricate a method was never practised by any other set of men whatever.' The word 'ancient' is spelt with a small 'a,' and is in inverted commas, and at the foot of the page there is this note: 'There were two Societies of College Youths at that time' (Note 16). Charles Purser rang the treble to this peal.

On March 24th, 1784, the junior society rang at St. Bride's 5,160 'Real Double Bob Maximus with 2 Bobs in a lead, one before and one behind, Being the first ever rung.' The ancient Society had rung thirteen years earlier a peal of Double Bob Maximus 'with as many bobs before as behind,' but possibly the bobs were not in pairs, for Edmund Sylvester rang in both peals, and would have known if the junior society's claim was unfounded. Anyhow the St. Bride's peal, if it were the first 'real' Double Bob Maximus, did not long remain the record, for two days later the ancient Society rang 6,048 at Southwark. John Reeves rang the treble and conducted, Blakemore rang the fifth, and Wells the seventh (Note 17).

The next year Blakemore called the first peal of Oxford Treble Bob Maximus at St. Martin's. Reeves rang the treble and Wells the second, and that was the last peal in which those three rang together.

NOTE 16. 'Clavis,' 1788 Edition, page 176.

NOTE 17. There is a reference to this peal in the 'Clavis,' page 252, with a footnote almost identical with that of the Cambridge Surprise Major.

WOOLWICH BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I beg a small space in 'The Ringing World' to make an appeal on behalf of the bells of the Woolwich Parish Church? The ringers have set out gallantly to raise the necessary sum (approximately £250) required to do what is necessary. The work will consist of the recasting of the 5th and tenor, tuning the other bells, tightening up the frame and rehanging the peal. Of the amount required, the ringers have raised £105. Ringers desirous of helping them should send their donations, however small, to the undersigned or direct to the treasurer, Mr. E. G. Dixon, J.P., O.B.E. Barclays Bank, Wellington Street, Woolwich, S.E.18. All donations will be gratefully acknowledged in 'The Ringing World' at the completion of the fund.

CYRIL E. PALMER,

Hon. Secretary, Appeal Committee.

LEYTONSTONE ASSOCIATION VISIT THE MIDLANDS. TWO CROWDED DAYS.

The annual outing of St. John the Baptist's Association, Leytonstone, was, in accordance with custom, spread over two days, the centre this year being Leicester, which they reached on Friday evening in time for the practice at St. Margaret's tower and to spend a social hour with the Leicester ringers. Four of the visitors were 'billeted' at the Fox Hotel and the other eight at the Three Cranes, where they were surprised to find that their host was Mr. Harry Gumsley, who entertained them so well last year at the Park Hotel, Blakeney.

Saturday, after early breakfast, was spent in a charabanc tour through Leicestershire, with Mr. Ernest Morris as pilot. A visit was first paid to Ratby, where, on the handy ring of six, 720 Beverley Surprise was rung, followed by 240 Cambridge to enable all the party to have a pull. A move was then made to Groby, where 720 Wells and 240 Kent Treble Bob was rung. The journey was continued through some pleasant Leicestershire scenery, through Markfield, Swithland and part of Sharnwood Forest to the Church of Woodhouse Eaves standing in very picturesque surroundings. The bells here are a jubilee peal by the well-known firm of Taylor and Co., and 'go' like tops. Here 720 of Cambridge and Ipswich were tapped off, and afterwards all enjoyed the lunch at the Pear Tree Inn. Woodhouse-in-the-Elms was next on the list. Here 720 of Norwich was lost owing to a change course. A touch of 240 York followed, and the party then got on the road again to visit the famous bell foundry at Loughborough, which proved both instructive and very interesting, especially with Mr. Colin Harrison as guide. The inspection of the foundry and all things appertaining to the making and tuning of bells proved a great attraction, as did also the great carillon of 48 bells which will shortly be shipped to North Carolina. Tunes were played on this for the benefit of the visitors, which was greatly appreciated. They then tried their hand on the light ring of ten at the foundry, with a tenor only 6½ cwt., and the first item was 720 London Surprise on the front six (tenor 2½ cwt.), a fairly good touch being the result. A touch of Grandsire Caters followed, but the striking was not perfect. This over, the party were kindly entertained to tea, which was greatly appreciated. Before leaving Loughborough, they were invited to ring on the grand ring of ten at the Parish Church. Here Stedman Caters, Treble Ten and a course of Cambridge Major were rung. Thurmaston was last on the list for Saturday, and on this well-going ring of six 720 each of Cambridge and York Surprise was rung. On returning to headquarters a social hour was spent with local ringers. Touches of Minor were rung on the middle six at St. Margaret's Church for 8 a.m. service, and the bells of St. Martin's Cathedral were placed at their disposal from 10 till 11. Good use was made of them, Grandsire and Stedman Caters and a course of Cambridge Major being rung. After lunch the party paid a visit to Thurlston, with its modern ring of six by Taylor (tenor 15 cwt.). The Vicar kindly put off the children's service and a good 720 Cambridge was brought round. Earls Shilton was the last place on the list, and on this handy ring of eight Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich and a course of London Surprise was rung, with the assistance of Mr. E. Morris. A drive back to Leicester brought about train time, and Marylebone was reached at 10.20 p.m., with pleasant recollections of the association's first visit to the Midlands. The company wish to thank all the local ringers who welcomed them and gave up their own ringing for the visitors' benefit. They also desire to thank Mr. Harrison for making their visit to the bell foundry so enjoyable, and Mr. E. Morris, who made arrangements and acted as pilot throughout the visit.

ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE.—On Tuesday, July 28th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters in 50 mins.: B. Thorp (conductor) 1, Mrs. R. Deal (London) 2, J. Rawlinson 3, Mrs. Tonge 4, C. Bower 5, W. W. Wolstencroft 6, S. Marshall 7, W. H. Shaker 8, J. Carter 9, J. Tonge 10.

THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

THE REVISED 'COLLECTION.'

When, in 1907, the Central Council published the 'Collection of Legitimate Methods' it rendered one of its greatest services to the advancement of the art of ringing. It was the first attempt to give ringers a book of methods which covered anything like a complete field; but it went a good deal further than this, it set up a new standard. At the time of its appearance more or less any kind of method of Doubles or Minor, which would produce the extent of changes on five or six bells, was accepted and practised. The 'Collection of Legitimate Methods' gave ringers for the first time that which was best and most worth practising in this direction, a great deal of it also being entirely new. Moreover, it demonstrated that in the realm of 'regular' methods there was ample scope for ringers without having to resort to others which were imperfect in structure or produced features, such as the tenors the wrong way in the plain course, which made them much less worth ringing or, indeed, put them into a category that should be actually discouraged. The appearance of the 'Collection of Legitimate Methods' marked a definite stage in the advancement of the art, and six-bell ringing particularly has risen as a result to a higher standard of quality and variety, so far as the methods generally practised are concerned, than ever before.

To-day there is offered to the Exercise a new edition of the 'Collection.' It is more than five years since the old issue went out of print, and ringers have waited long and patiently for its reproduction. In recompense they have now at their command a volume much more extensive in its proportions. It covers nearly 150 pages, gives all the 'regular' methods of Doubles and Minor; and offers a wider field to five-bell ringers by including a number of 'irregular' methods. For all these methods—and there are over 200—it shows how bobs and, where necessary, singles should be made and its completeness is rounded off by compositions for every one of them. In these two respects it goes beyond what was attempted in the first edition and the book is consequently of infinitely greater value in its usefulness than its predecessor.

Ringers will probably differ in opinion as to whether the same utility has been served by the inclusion of an exhaustive collection of 'Alliance' Minor methods, which will not produce an extent unless spliced with a Little method, and they will also be divided upon the still more vexed question of printing a dozen pages of compositions which produce repetitions within the limits of an 'extent.' The Methods Committee's desire to explore the whole ground was unquestionably laudable, but their insistence upon including the entire product of their researches in the present volume has added very materially to the cost of production—which will not, we think, be so completely appreciated by those who will want to buy the volume. Nevertheless, the new edition of this collection, which no practical five or six-bell ringer can afford to be without, and which every ringer—whether six or twelve-bell—ought to study if he would improve his knowledge of the art, is more than value for the three shillings at which it is sold. The Methods Committee—the Rev. H. Law James, the Rev. E. S. Powell, and Mr. J. Armiger Trollope—deserve the cordial thanks of the Exercise for what they have done in the revision and expansion of the volume, and although we have at times been critical of some of it, we say without hesitation that by their work they have contributed permanently and in no small measure to the progress of ringing on five and six bells.

OLD RAYLEIGH RINGER'S DEATH.

George Neville, one of the old Rayleigh ringers, was buried on August 15th. He will be sadly missed. He rang in the first peal on the bells, was most regular in his attendance for service ringing, was always cheerful and obliging, he loved the bells and his jolly face beamed with contentment when a touch came home.

As the muffled bells rang out their solemn message one could but think—we lose the old ringers one by one and the youngsters do not come on as they should. What of the future in these country towers?

A 'UNITED' OUTING.

Two Bristol Guilds were undecided about their annual outing, and it appeared that one at least would not be held. The two, however, were brought together, and with a few more ringers enlisted to swell the party, an extensive motor tour of Gloucestershire and Worcestershire was carried out. At Tewkesbury they visited the Abbey and at Worcester stopped first for lunch (kindly arranged by Mr. S. Holt) at the Swan Hotel. They were met by Mr. Dennis Morris and afterwards inspected the Cathedral. They then did some ringing on the light peal of eight at Claines and next stopped at the R.C. Church of the Golden Heart to view the wonderful mosaic interior, which alone was well worth the trip. Here they were met by Mr. Holt, who escorted them to Droitwich. Although no longer busy in the salt industry, the town still exhibits some of the effects of pumping, and it was the intention of the party to view the 'Crooked House,' where 'specific gravity' is apparently defied. Sad to relate, time did not permit of this, and there was a further disappointment at Old Dodderhill, where the bells were not available. At St. Peter-de-Wilton, however, the visitors had a pull on the light ring of six, even Cambridge Surprise Minor being rung. This was the furthest point of the circular journey and the return was made through Pershore, Eckington, Tewkesbury and Cheltenham to the Golden Hart at Painswick. Here they were overtaken by a violent thunderstorm, and, although the sight of it in the Cotswolds was spectacular, the bravery of the party seemed doubtful (in any case they could not be dragged away until the storm had subsided). St. Matthew's, St. Michael's, St. Thomas', St. Stephen's and Mangotsfield Guilds were represented on the tour, and all enjoyed the long and interesting journey. Their thanks are extended to Mr. S. Holt, Mr. Morris and Mr. Smith (Droitwich).

BELFRY GOSSIP.

At long last the 'Collection of Doubles and Minor Methods' makes its reappearance. For over five years the Exercise, and especially the five and six-bell ringers, have awaited its issue. Now that it is here we shall be surprised if the whole edition is not quickly sold out. Readers will find further reference to the volume in our leading article, and an advertisement gives particulars as to how it may be obtained.

The peal of Doubles at Overbury was arranged for Mr. A. J. Whittle, of Donnington, Berks, who was on a visit to his native village. The treble and tenor ringers are local men, the former scoring his first peal. The three others are from Bredons-Norton and kindly made up the band at short notice.

The earliest portions of the present church at Overbury date from about 1150. The bells, although a mixed lot, are quite tuneful. The second is over 400 years old, the third was cast at Leicester about 1550, the 4th and 5th by Roger Purdue in 1641, and the tenor by Rudhall in 1719.

The bells of St. Mary's, Finchley, are being removed to be retuned and rehanging in new steel frame. There will, consequently, be no ringing at this tower until further notice.

The bells of St. John's Church, Yeovil, which are being restored by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, are to be reopened on Thursday, September 24th, at 7 p.m.

Messrs. Mears and Stainbank are rehanging the bells at Henlow, Beds, and adding a treble to make a ring of six.

The Suffolk Guild meeting at Fressingfield, arranged for to-morrow, has been postponed. The East Grinstead Guild meeting on September 5th has been transferred to Hartfield.

We recently received the report of a Lincoln Guild peal rung on June 28th and conducted by J. W. Lake. The name of the place where the peal was rung is not mentioned. Will the sender of the report please supply the missing information.

METHOD SPLICING.

In the preface to the new edition of the 'Collection of Doubles and Minor Methods,' the Methods Committee say: 'It was suggested that we should give some rules for splicing methods. . . . We found, however, that the space at our disposal did not admit of our dealing adequately with the subject.'

There is no need, however, for ringers to be at a loss on this very interesting phase of ringing. Method splicing is the newest field of advance and interest in the art, and a lucid explanation of the principle and exhaustive practical hints on the subject can be found in the book, 'Method Splicing,' published by 'The Ringing World,' price, post free, 1s. 3d. The 'Collection' gives you the methods. 'Method Splicing' shows how as many as six methods may be introduced into a single 720.

THE FALSE PEAL OF SUPERLATIVE.

To the Editor.

Sir.—The peal of Superlative rung at Great Baddow on February 7th, 1931, for the Essex Association was the false composition as reported in your issue of the 14th. I must apologise to those who took part in the peal and also to others, as it was not only a birthday peal for one of the band, but also a silver wedding peal for an hon. member of the association and a wedding peal for another ringer's son.—Yours truly,

W. KEEBLE.

DEATH OF MR. JIM BLACKMORE.

A POPULAR SOMERSET RINGER.

Ringers generally, and especially those of the Bath and Wells Diocese, will be sorry to learn of the passing of Mr. J. Blackmore, for twelve years captain of the ringers at the Parish Church, Weston-super-Mare. He was 63 years of age and had been a ringer for close on 50 years. During part of that time he resided at Congresbury. He was enthusiastic and keen on good striking. Let there be the faintest suspicion of clanging and 'Jim' would at once call 'Rounds'! He was most popular with everyone, especially those interested in the art of ringing. Of slight build and anything but robust in appearance, he would, at the annual outings, insist on 'sampling' the tenors at the different towers visited.

The funeral took place on Monday, August 17th, at the Weston-super-Mare Cemetery, his body being taken to the Parish Church on the previous day. Subsequently his comrades rang a muffled touch, and, according to his wishes, they also acted as bearers. In addition to the family mourners and friends who were present at the graveside were his brother ringers from the Parish Church, viz., Messrs. E. Parker, W. Popham, W. Crandon, J. Jones, W. Pitman, L. Tanner (secretary, Axbridge Deanery), H. Minifie, W. Tanner, H. Parsons, A. Wilkerson and P. Hey (Burnham-on-Sea). Amongst the numerous floral tokens sent was one 'In loving memory of dear "Jim," from his brother ringers.'

The Rev. Preb. G. L. Porcher conducted the memorial service, which was held preparatory to the interment. This was largely attended and was a tribute to the deceased's likeable personal qualities and of the esteem in which he was held by his fellow-ringers.

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY. DELAYED FACULTY CAUSES POSTPONEMENT OF RE-OPENING.

As we foreshadowed last week, the delay in the issue of the necessary faculty for the restoration of the bells of St. Bene't's Church, Cambridge, has rendered inevitable the postponement of the date of re-opening, which had been fixed for September 26th.

For a month the Committee waited for the Chancellor's sanction. At the end of last week his approval of the petition was given, but other formalities have to be complied with. The citation was posted on the church door on Sunday and has to remain there until after next Sunday, when, if no appearance is entered in opposition, 'the faculty will be passed and sealed as prayed.' After that the work can be commenced, but too late to complete it by the end of September.

This delay is much to be regretted for many reasons. It has totally upset the plans for the re-opening of the bells, but the work will be pressed forward with all speed, and the announcement of the new date for the ringers' gathering will be made at the earliest possible moment. It is a great disappointment to those responsible for carrying out the scheme that it has been held up in this manner, but the Committee were powerless in the matter.

FIFTH LIST OF SUBSCRIPTIONS.

As will be seen by the list given below, the donations given or promised towards the Commemoration now amount to £481 12s. 6d. Contributions should be sent to:

SAMUEL SCATTERGOOD.

To the Editor.

Sir,—To Mr. J. Armiger Trollope's account of Samuel Scattergood might be added the following record of him, quoted in my 'History and Art of Change Ringing' (p. 251), where, after reviewing Stedman's visit to Leicester (1669), I say: 'Thus were the Leicester Scholars established, and the seed which Stedman planted evidently grew, for we find the Leicester men travelling as far as Solihull, Birmingham, in 1686 to try the new eight bells. The following quaint certificate is to be seen in the Parish Records:—

27th day August 1686

These are to certify whom it may concern: that I Samuel Scattergood, Minister of Blockley in the County of Worcester, having several times viewed and tried ye sound of ye new bells lately cast by Mr. Henry Bagley Bellfounder of ye Parish Church of Solihull in ye County of Warw: and now hung in ye sd Church: especially at ye ringing thereof ye day and yeare above sd by myself and about 20 other skillful psions accompanying me from LEICESTER to that purpose doe with ye genl approbation and consent of ye said Persons, judge all ye sd 8 bells to be well and workmanlike made, every way right for tone and Metal ye chearfullest and best Ring of Bells for their weight that I ever heard. And also that ye clappers and other iron work and tackle with which ye aforesd 8 Bells are hung, are now made quite good, so as to need no further alteracon, that I know of. In witness whereof I have hereunto sett my hand this aforesd 27th day of August and dni 1686 Sam. Scattergood.'

The latter extract is culled from the 'History of Solihull Parish Church,' by Edgar C. Shepherd, and, in view of Mr. Trollope's remarks, is interesting, because it shows that Scattergood ACTUALLY RANG THESE BELLS, and, further, the Leicester men evidently (as I remark in my book) were considered a good set of ringers. This visit with Scattergood to Solihull would be natural in view of the latter's association with Stedman and Stedman's visit to Leicester. I may add that the 3rd bell at Blockley bears the name 'Samuell Scattergood Rector 1683.' He was here 1681-1696.—Yours faithfully,

ERNEST MORRIS.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A successful meeting of the Southern District of the London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild was held at St. Paul's Church, Bath Road, Hounslow, members and friends to the number of 25 or so putting in an appearance on one of the very few fine Saturday afternoons of this summer. Ringing commenced promptly at 4 and was continued until 5.30, when a break was made for tea. The business was soon dispensed with, the Master, Mr. H. Mance, presiding, and ringing was resumed till 8 p.m. During the afternoon and evening touches in various methods were rung on this light peal by Warner (tenor 8½ cwt.), which go like the proverbial tops. After reaching Superlative and Cambridge, the ringing concluded with a touch of 'Grandsire'! Someone said it was a pity to entirely neglect it, as it had been a good servant in the past. A social hour was held at a 'place' where the handbells were made good use of, several novices having the pleasure of ringing their first touches. Messrs. Goddard, Tricker, Milner and Ellingham delighted the company with tunes. In looking round, the writer observed representatives of the College Youths, the Royal Cumberlands, the Oxford Diocesan Guild, the Middlesex Association and the Guildford Diocesan Guild. Thanks were returned to the Vicar and to Messrs. Tricker and Gash for their help.

NEW RING OF EIGHT AT GRAYSHOTT.

SPLENDID LIGHT OCTAVE FOR GUILDFORD DIOCESE.

The dedication of the new ring of eight bells, erected by Messrs. Meas and Stainbank, at Grayshott, in the Guildford Diocese, took place on Wednesday of last week, the ceremony being performed by the Assistant Bishop, Dr. Golding-Bird. The church stands in a very charming position on the gentler slope leading up to Hindhead, which is one of the most picturesque points in South-Eastern England. The parish and the church, dedicated to St. Luke, are both modern, the parish being formed in 1898, and the main part of the existing church being completed about ten years later. The tower and spire were finished in 1910, in which year also the clock and three bells were given. The hours and quarters were struck on the bells, but only the hour-bell was capable of being swung. It was proposed in 1910 that the number of bells should be increased to six, and Messrs. Warner and Sons (who cast the three bells) were asked to give an estimate for such a ring, but the proposal was allowed to drop, the expense being considered too great for a parish which had just built a new church.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH, GRAYSHOTT.

In the summer of 1930 the question was raised at a meeting of the Parochial Church Council whether something more could be done with the existing bells, and it was resolved to make an attempt to increase the number to six, or, if sufficient funds could be raised, to eight. Within a year of the scheme being launched it has been carried through successfully, and Grayshott possesses a wonderful little octave in the key of A flat. The tenor is less than 8½ cwt., but the whole peal is a well-balanced and musical ring. Both in the tower and outside from all positions they can be heard admirably and are a great credit to the founders. The bells are hung on ball bearings in an iron frame, and, although the tower, internally, is of small dimensions, they are all hung on one level.

Some of our readers will doubtless be interested in the weights of the bells.

Treble, bearing the names of the Vicar, the Rev. E. Garth Ireland, and the churchwardens, V. S. Woods and Walter C. Ryde, 2 cwt. 3 qr. 27 lb.

2nd, inscribed 'The parishioners gave me, "Sing, rejoice and give thanks,"' 3 cwt. 1 qr. 8 lb.

3rd, 3 cwt. 3 qr. 8 lb.

4th, 4 cwt. 1 qr. 9 lb.

5th, 'Kathleen Vance gave me, "Come, all ye faithful,"' 4 cwt. 3 qr. 2 lb.

6th, 5 cwt. 1 qr. 1 lb.

7th, 'Walter C. Ryde and Eleanor Ryde gave me, "Lift up your hearts,"' 7 cwt. 0 qr. 21 lb.

Tenor, 'This clock and bell were given in 1910 to the memory of G.S., 1824-1910,' 8 cwt. 1 qr. 9 lb.

The three old bells have, of course, been recast so that they may be completely in harmony with the rest. All the bells bear the names of the bellfounders and the date 1931.

THE DEDICATION.

A large congregation attended the dedication service, among the clergy present being the Rev. J. M. Jeakes, the first Vicar of Grayshott. Immediately following the dedicatory prayers and while the procession was returning from the tower to the chancel, a few rounds were rung.

The Bishop preached a homely sermon, in the course of which he said they had given to God that day something which, every time they heard it, they knew other people would hear and would be told that God was thinking about them. The sound of those bells would remind them that someone was ringing for them and that there was Someone Who cared about them. He wanted them to resolve that on the occasion of the dedication of those bells they would dedicate themselves afresh to God's service—give a little more of their hearts to God for Christ's sake. He added that the amount required to complete the payment for the bells was only £45, and he asked them to extinguish the debt that day. The bells had rung out, and they were quite in tune, but perhaps people would feel a little self-conscious if they were not quite paid for.

During the singing of the last hymn, one well known to many ringers, 'Unchanging God, Who livest,' a collection for the bells fund was taken.

As the congregation left the church 504 Stedman Triples was rung in splendid fashion by J. H. B. Hesse (Haslemere) 1, R. Hayes (Haslemere) 2, A. H. Pilling (Guildford) 3, R. Overy (Haslemere) 4, M. Smither (Chiddingfold) 5, C. E. Smith (Godalming) 6, R. Philpott (Guildford) 7, A. J. Bartlett (Chiddingfold) 8. The bells gave great pleasure to the many listeners, and Mr. A. A. Hughes, who, with Mr. A. R. Macdonald, was present to represent the founders, received many congratulations upon having produced a very fine peal.

It was intended that the service should be followed by a garden party at the Vicarage, to which the parishioners and visitors were invited, but, owing to the wet weather, tea was served instead in the Village Hall, where Mrs. Ryde, assisted by Mrs. Ireland and Mrs. Woods, was the hostess.

The Vicar extended a welcome to many visiting friends, and, in reviewing the scheme for the provision of the bells, said the suggestion for a full peal was made at one of their Parochial Church Council meetings less than a year ago, and it might have fallen to the ground if it had not been taken up with characteristic enthusiasm by their friend, Mr. Ryde. Mr. Ryde was an old ringer, and it had been his secret ambition, ever since he had been connected with the church, to see a peal of bells in the tower. Now he could not only see them, but hear them, and he believed this was one of the great days of his life. Certainly if it had not been for Mr. Ryde they would not have had this peal of bells that day (applause). The Vicar added that they had got a young band of ringers together. They had 17 altogether and 13 of them had been in diligent practice for some months past. They had women ringers as well as men, and he believed they were going to have an enthusiastic band of unpaid ringers who were going to be true churchmen and members of the Diocesan Guild. He proposed a hearty vote of thanks to all those who had helped to bring this scheme to fruition, and especially to Mr. Ryde for his magnificent services.

Mr. V. S. Woods seconded the motion, which was carried by acclamation.

Mr. Ryde, who was received with loud cheers, said the remarks which had been made about him were very much exaggerated. The people who had brought this scheme to success were the people who had contributed to the fund. In proposing a vote of thanks to various people who had helped them in connection with their scheme, Mr. Ryde said among those who had helped them most were the people connected with the Haslemere band of ringers. First of all, Major Hesse had been of great assistance to them. He was of great assistance to them when the question was raised as to whether the tower was strong enough to carry the bells which had been installed in it, and he had visited the belfry on several occasions since. He also wanted to thank the other members of the Haslemere band who had taught the learners of the Grayshott band the rudiments of the art. Among those he would specially like to mention was Mr. Richard Hayes, who at once volunteered to give instruction to those who knew (Continued in next column.)

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION. PRESTON BRANCH ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Preston Branch was held at Browndale R.C. Church on Saturday. The attendance was not as large as usual, owing, no doubt, to counter-attractions at Chorley and Hoghton, but about 30 ringers were present, including visitors from Church and Glossop. The bells were raised shortly before 3 o'clock and were rung in various methods, from Plain Bob Minor to Cambridge Surprise Major, until nearly 9 o'clock, with an interval for tea and the business meeting.

Mr. William Sharples presided at the business meeting, which was rather a lengthy one, as there were several matters out of the ordinary routine to be dealt with.

The branch secretary presented a report on the past year's activity in the branch: Since our last annual meeting we have held meetings at Croston, Eccleston, Brindle, Preston Parish and St. Mark's, Walton-le-Dale, Hoghton, Tarleton and Goosnargh, as well as a joint meeting at Blackburn, with an average attendance of 25. The standard of ringing in the branch generally is rather better, judging by the methods which members from various towers can ring, compared with twelve months ago, although advancement in the Surprise methods is rather slow, except perhaps in the Brindle tower, where, one is pleased to note, they keep up to their high standard, as proved by their ringing the first peal of London Surprise Minor for the association. The number of branch peals is less than last year, the total being ten, compared with 13. These have been rung in six different towers. Three of the peals were rung with bells half-muffled, the two at Samlesbury and Eccleston being rung as a last token of respect for two well-known branch members, Messrs. A. E. Woodhouse, of Walton-le-Dale, and R. Rigby, of Eccleston. Thirty-one members took part in one or more peals, three ringing their first peal, eleven their first in a particular method, one his first as conductor, and one first as conductor in a certain method. The bells at Goosnargh, after being unused for years, have been overhauled, retuned and relunged by Messrs. Taylor and Co., and are now in good condition. Subscriptions are up to the average, although some members leave them rather late in the year. The membership is very little different to last year. Six new members have been elected, which will balance the losses through death and other causes.—The secretary was then thanked for his report.

Correspondence was then read from the Lancaster Branch secretary and also from Mr. Marsh, of the Wigan Branch, with regard to joint meetings with those branches. The Lancaster secretary having intimated that it was not opportune to hold a joint meeting at Scorton in September, as had been suggested, it was decided to defer the matter to a later date.

With respect to the suggestion to hold a joint meeting at Ormskirk between the Preston, Wigan and Liverpool Branches, it was thought after discussion that, seeing that the annual association meeting at Manchester would only be a fortnight before the date suggested, the attendance of members from the Preston Branch would, perhaps, not be very representative, but in order to give any who desired to go to Ormskirk an opportunity of doing so, it was decided to hold the Preston Branch meeting for October at a later date than the one at Ormskirk.

The place and date of next meeting having been decided upon, the election of a branch committeeman took place, Mr. William Sharples, the retiring member, being re-elected unanimously.

Mr. Sharples, in thanking the members for their renewed confidence and for their help at the meetings, said the branch ought to do more and better ringing, and he would like to see the time when every tower in the branch had rung a peal during the year.—Other members spoke in a similar strain, while Mr. William Taylor thought the branch ought to spend a part of their next meeting in discussing how to promote and get good striking.—Another member then suggested that Mr. Taylor should prepare a paper on the subject, to be followed by open discussion.

After other important business had been discussed, the usual votes of thanks were accorded to the church authorities for the use of bells, the local ringers for having all in readiness, and to the chairman for his services during the year.

nothing about the art of ringing. He also wanted to include in the vote of thanks those eight members of the Guildford Diocesan Guild who were showing them how bells could be rung.

Mr. Hawkins seconded the motion, which was carried by acclamation. Bishop Golding-Bird thanked Mrs. Ryde and her co-hostesses for the charming manner in which they had served the tea.

It was announced that Mr. Ryde had been appointed captain of the tower. Mr. F. Upperton hon. secretary of the ringers, and Mr. Hawkins steeplekeeper.

At the conclusion of the meeting a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung by the ringers already mentioned, and, subsequently, the few others who were present rang Grandsire Triples, a touch of Stedman and a course of Treble Bob. A course of Bob Major was made possible by Mr. John Thomas, who carried out the hanging of the bells, ringing two. Some of the new local band also took part in ringing rounds.

LOST PEALS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the article on 'Lost Peals' in this week's 'Ringing World,' the main idea behind the suggested record in the Oxford Guild is that, if a society or guild has a record at the end of the year of these 'lost peals,' it gives that society an idea of the attempted progress which is being made in various districts.

I had thought for several years that a record should be made each year and embodied in the Master's or secretary's report. When I mentioned it to our Master (the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) he asked me if I would undertake the receiving of reports of 'lost peals,' and this I was very willing to do. We quite realised that it remained with conductors of lost peals to make the scheme a success. The idea of my receiving the reports was that the scheme should not inflict more work on our already busy secretary.

What I want to emphasise is the amount of ringing these 'lost peals' indicate to the officers of the society and the progress attempted.—Yours truly,
GORDON CAUDWELL.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

TONBRIDGE DISTRICT.

A meeting of the Tonbridge District was held at Shipbourne on Saturday week, by invitation of the Vicar, the Rev. F. L. Schreiber, and in connection with the jubilee of the church celebrated the previous week. About 30 members were present from Chiddingstone, Lamberhurst, East Peckham, Ponshurst, Seal Chart, Sevenoaks, Tunbridge wells, Shipbourne, Mayfield and Crawley (Sussex). The usual service was conducted by the Vicar. The lesson was read by the district secretary, Mr. W. Latter, and the Vicar gave a short address. He thanked the members for coming to take part in the jubilee celebrations, and accorded them a hearty welcome. The event, he added, was an important one in the history of the church.

After the service the members were entertained to tea by the Vicar in the Church Room.

The business meeting followed, over which the Rev. F. L. Schreiber presided. He apologised for the absence of the churchwardens, and announced that the local members on the previous Saturday had succeeded in ringing a peal.

The district secretary, and the general secretary, Mr. F. M. Mitchell, of Gravesend, who was also present, congratulated the ringers on their achievement. One new member was elected, and it was decided that the next meeting should be held at Seal Chart on September 26th.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar, organist and the ladies who waited at tea concluded the meeting, and the members adjourned to the tower for further ringing.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The annual visit to Withernsea of the Eastern District of the Yorkshire Association was made on Saturday in fine weather. There was a good attendance of members representing the following towers: Hull, Howden, Selby, Beverley Minster, Sulton-on-Hull, Patrington, Barrow-on-Humber and the local company.

On arrival at the church, however, a disappointment was in store, for, owing to a case of illness, no ringing could take place at Withernsea. The afternoon was therefore spent on the promenade, beach, etc., some of the members being accompanied by their wives and families. After tea several of the ringers left by bus for Patrington Church, where arrangements had been made for the use of the fine peal of six. After a short look round this magnificent church, with its lovely spire, known as the 'Queen of Holderness,' the bells were raised and kept going in various methods until 8.30 p.m.

A VISIT TO SOMERSET TOWERS.

On Saturday, August 22nd, East Brent ringers and friends had their third annual outing. The weather was all that could be desired and the party of 12 had a splendid run by coach through the beautiful scenery of Somerset. The first stopping place was Kingston Seymour, where the party were met by and had the pleasure of ringing with the winner of a first prize for long service, this local ringer having spent nearly 50 years on the same farm. Going on to Tickenham, the party were met by the Vicar, himself a ringer, who took a rope in some of the touches. At Nailsea touches were rung with the assistance of a lady ringer, who met the party, and after lunch the journey was continued to Buckwell, Winford, Chew Stoke, Ubley and Compton-Martin for tea. Afterwards the bells were soon sending forth their music, the party being met by several members of the local band. Ringing for the day concluded at East Harptree, where the Vicar welcomed the visitors. In all, nine towers were visited, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles being rung in every tower, with a touch of Bob Minor with three members of the local band at Compton-Martin. Rounds were also rung in each tower for the beginners. The ringers wish to thank the Vicars of the churches visited for the use of the bells, also all those who met them and helped to make this outing such a splendid success.

A BERKSHIRE RESTORATION.

The bells of Waltham St. Lawrence, Berks, a peal of six, are now being put in order by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston. The 4th and tenor are to be recast, the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 5th tuned and quarter turned, and the whole ring rehung in ball bearings with new clappers and staples. The old wood frame is to be braced with corner clamps. The whole cost of the work is being borne by Mr. Monkhouse, to whom the ringers and all concerned are greatly indebted. The work is to be finished by September 20th, when the bells will be dedicated at the morning service at 11 a.m.

UNVEILING OF A PEAL BOARD.

On Saturday a peal board was unveiled in the tower of St. John the Baptist Church, Tuebrook, Liverpool, recording the first peal of London Surprise Major in the city. The board was unveiled by the Vicar (the Rev. T. Brancker), who expressed his pleasure at the peal having been rung in his tower. The peal was rung on June 30th, 1928.

To mark the occasion a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major was attempted, but after ringing three hours one minute, four leads from the finish, one of the ringers missed his grip on the rope, his bell set and he could not pull it off until it was too late. Those taking part in the ringing were: G. R. Edwards 1, J. Brown 2, T. Hammond 3, E. C. Birckett 4, G. R. Newton (conductor) 5, A. Lintott 6, L. L. Gray 7, E. Counce 8. Apart from other considerations, it was disappointing to lose this peal, because it was the 30th anniversary of the first peal rung together by G. R. Newton and E. Counce.

SALISBURY RINGER'S MARRIAGE.

The wedding of Miss M. E. Romaine and Mr. E. J. Maidment, both of whom are ringers at St. Martin's Church, Salisbury, took place at St. Martin's on Saturday, August 15th. The service was conducted by the Rev. C. A. Plaxton, chairman of the Salisbury Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, of which both the bride and bridegroom are members. As the couple left the church the bells were rung by St. Martin's ringers and other ringing friends in Salisbury. In the evening a touch of 504 Grandsire Triples was rung: A. Fry 1, J. Daniels 2, S. Macey 3, R. P. Knight 4, W. A. Romaine 5, F. C. Smith 6, F. W. Romaine (conductor) 7, A. Southey 8.

After ringing on the previous Sunday evening the bride was presented with a silver-mounted oak biscuit barrel, suitably inscribed, as a wedding present from St. Martin's and other ringing friends in the district.

RUISLIP RINGER'S WEDDING.

On Saturday, August 22nd, Mr. Reg Snelling, a member of the Ruislip band of ringers, was married to Miss Edith Doe, daughter of Mr. Edward Doe, for many years a choirman at St. Martin's, Ruislip, and a previous ringer. The ceremony was preceded by 536 Grandsire Triples on the bells by C. Poulter 1, A. Hunter 2, W. Bunce, jun., 3, W. Bunce, sen. (conductor) 4, P. Thrift 5, H. Ive 6, T. Collins 7, F. W. Collins 8. After the service, which was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. Cornwall-Jones), and was fully choral, the Wedding March pealed forth from the organ and the bells again rang out in a well-struck 360 of Bob Minor, with tenor covering. The ringers afterwards attended the reception, at the invitation of the bride and bridegroom.

LIVERPOOL RINGERS' OUTING.

The ringers of St. Nicholas', Liverpool, accompanied by their wives and lady friends, had a most enjoyable trip through Lancashire to Gisburn, Yorkshire. On the way a call was made at Penwortham, where permission to ring had been obtained by Mr. J. R. Taylor. These are a light peal of eight, recently augmented by Mears and Stainbank. Lunch was partaken of at the White Bull Hotel at Gisburn. Afterwards at the Parish Church several touches were rung on the six bells, which, although light (tenor 9 cwt.), go very heavily. Clitheroe was the next place of call, where Mr. A. Tomlinson met the visitors. Several touches were rung on this fine peal (tenor 18 cwt.), recently hung by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston. Several of the party took advantage of the opportunity to visit the ruins of the old castle. Whalley was next on the programme and the old church was viewed with much interest. Several touches were rung on the grand ring of eight (tenor 22 cwt.) by Taylor. After tea several of the party paid a visit to the famous old Abbey. The last but not the least interesting old tower to be visited was Samlesbury. Here on a very pleasant peal of eight (tenor 13 cwt.), by Taylor and Co., several touches were rung, and features of interest in the old church were pointed out to the visitors by the caretaker. A start was then made for home, calling at Penwortham, but not at the church this time. Thanks were accorded to Mr. Tomlinson for his efforts in helping to make the outing so successful, and thanks are also due to the various clergy and sleep-keepers for their kindness in allowing the party the use of the bells and facilitating access to the towers.

DARLEY DALE.—On the occasion of the choir and ringers' Sunday, at St. Helen's, on August 2nd, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples in 44 mins. was rung by the local band standing as follows: J. Taylor 1, W. Blagshaw 2, F. Paulson 3, E. Blackwell 4, H. Taylor 5, B. Allsop 6, G. H. Paulson (conductor) 7, R. Allsop 8.

SUNDAY SERVICE TOUCHES.

OXFORDSHIRE RINGERS OUTING.

On Saturday, August 8th, the ringers of Lower Heyford, together with their wives and friends, held their annual outing, journeying by bus to Wootton, Stonesfield, Spelsbury and Churchill, where several excellent touches of Grandsire Doubles were rung. They proceeded to Chipping Norton, where an excellent tea was enjoyed, and afterwards travelled to Hook Norton, where they were met by the local band and their secretary, Mr. Pearson, of Deddington. After several good touches of Grandsire Doubles, members of the local band, with one of the visitors and Mr. Pearson, rang a course of Triples. Afterwards the homeward journey was commenced, calling at Great Tew and Sandford St. Martin, where further ringing took place. The arrangements for this very pleasant outing were in the hands of their captain, Mr. F. W. Fritchett. The ringers wish to thank all those who so kindly met them at the various towers.

KEYS TO PROGRESS.

The publication of the revised edition of 'The Collection of Doubles and Minor Methods' once more makes available for five and six-bell ringers a wide field for their activities. It is something like twenty-five years since the first edition of that book was presented to the Exercise, and at that time it was a case of educating ringers up to the standard which the work set before them. That the standard was by degrees raised, is unquestionable, but it is doubtful if all the advance was made that was possible. 'Irregular' methods have, it is true, dropped into disuse, but the number of bands who utilised all the facilities which this book offered, of extending their knowledge and practice beyond a very limited sphere, is comparatively few. Not all the peals of Grandsire Doubles, or in two or three elementary Minor methods, are necessitated by 'first peals' for someone or other, and there has hardly been the general advance in ringing on five and six bells that might reasonably have been hoped for over so long a period. It is possible, of course, to point to some exceptionally enterprising companies, but, taken in the mass, six-bell ringers confine their activities to a very limited field. It may be that only a small proportion of them really trouble to explore the ground which the Central Council's publication gave them; in fact, the scope of the work may not be really known to many of them because it is a quarter of a century since the book made its appearance, and a new generation of ringers has since grown up.

The new edition of the 'Collection' which has now appeared should give a fresh impetus to progress in six-bell ringing. One key to advancement is in the completed work of the Methods Committee; another is in the little volume, 'Method Splicing,' which, based on the methods to be found in the 'Collection,' carries ringers to a further and fascinating stage of ringing. We all admire the men who can ring a peal in twenty or thirty Minor methods; there is no reason why every competent six-bell band should not do so. 'Splicing' makes method ringing more than doubly interesting and adds to it a variety that cannot be obtained in any other way. In combination, the 'Collection' and 'Method Splicing' can lead any band of ringers with the least desire to advance to unexpected interests and new enthusiasm. The long evenings are approaching, when renewed activity will begin in the towers, and there could be no more opportune time than this for every ringer to equip himself with a copy of the two books and begin to lay the foundation of new delights in the pursuit of the art. The books only need to be studied to give ringers a new vision of the possibilities presented by six bells.

A THOUSAND PEALS.

MR. A. H. PULLING'S ACHIEVEMENT.

With 'This is all' at the end of a peal of Stedman Triples at Holy Trinity Cathedral Church, Guildford, last Wednesday week, Mr. Alfred H. Pulling completed his one thousandth peal. It is a remarkable record and Mr. Pulling is only the ninth ringer to reach this gigantic total. The others who had previously got into four figures were the late Rev. F. E. Robinson, Mr. William Pye, the late Mr. Ernest Pye, the late Mr. I. G. Shade, Messrs. G. Williams, G. R. Pye, F. Bennett and J. George.

Having rung his 999th peal on the previous Sunday, Mr. Pulling hastily arranged for the eventful attempt, and selected Stedman Triples, because it is one of the methods that gives him the greatest pleasure. And he gladly admits that he did get a great deal of delight out of this particular performance, for, coupled with the fact that it was rung on one of the best rings of eight in the South of England, it was one of those peals which are as near perfection in striking as human agency can make them. At its conclusion he received the hearty congratulations of all the company. It was his 128th peal in the tower, 115 of which he has conducted. Of the 1,000 peals rung, Mr. Pulling has conducted no fewer than 907, a larger proportion than either of those who had previously reached this total. His handbell peals, too, are greater in number than any other ringer's, and it is a singular fact that, until he visited Belgium at the beginning of last month, he had called every handbell peal of Stedman Caters he had rung. A member of 20 associations, his 565 tower bell peals have been rung in 142 towers in 22 counties, while he has now added Belgium and France to the countries in which he has rung a peal.

Among his best performances Mr. Pulling counts the first 'local' peal of London Surprise, at Holy Trinity, Guildford; his first peal in seven Surprise Minor methods at West Clandon, Surrey, and his first handbell peal of Stedman Triples. All these needed great perseverance on the part of the bands concerned. It was Mr. Pulling's great ambition, when they made him conductor, to see his band score a peal of London Surprise. There is not much difficulty in getting mixed hands to ring a peal of London, but to raise a local company to that standard requires a lot of work. 'It is all right after you have broken the ice,' Mr. Pulling says, 'but the ice takes a lot of breaking at times.'

Mr. Pulling, who was born at Petworth, Sussex, where his grandfather was a ringer for over 60 years, was taken quite early in life to Guildford, and at 13 years of age began ringing at Holy Trinity Church, where only call-changes were at that time practised. When the bells were relung in 1899, change ringing was taken up under the instructorship of Mr. Charles Willshire (now residing in Canada), and Mr. Pulling was an apt pupil. He rang his first peal in October of that year at Hawley, Hants, and in December took part in the first peal by a local society at Guildford. In that peal Mr. Henry Hutton, who took part last week in the 1,000th peal, also rang. Progress was rapid and Mr. Pulling's first peal of Grandsire as conductor was Holt's Original in 1902, while Thurstan's one-part in 1904 was the first peal of Stedman he called. Thus, quite early in his career, he gave evidence of the talent which has since marked his performances. In 1905 he was elected conductor of Holy Trinity Society, a position he has ever since retained, and under his direction the society has occupied a foremost position among local companies. Surprise peals in many methods have been rung, but more important still has been the standard of striking which Mr. Pulling has successfully striven to obtain among those under his direction.

Mr. Pulling is a brilliant conductor of any method, but if there is one department more than another in which his genius for ringing excels it is in conducting Stedman on handbells. It will be seen from the appended list what a large number of his peals have been made up of Stedman 'in hand,' and they have included a great variety of compositions, including Carter's Odd-Bob peal. In the years just before the war Mr. Pulling had a number of handbell ringers round him who could ring Stedman Caters like 'shelling peas.' One week they rang six peals of Stedman Caters on six successive evenings, and in 1912, after ringing a peal of 14,031, Mr. Pulling conducted the still existing handbell record of 19,738 Stedman Caters in 9 hours 32 minutes. Apart from more than four years' peal ringing lost through the war, Mr. Pulling in 1927 had a serious motoring accident which kept him out of ringing for over a year, and out of peals for nearly a further year. His recovery, indeed, was almost a miracle, but he has 'come back' with all his old vigour and enthusiasm and little, if any, impairment of those wonderful talents which have raised him to so distinguished a place in the Exercise.

The list of his peals is as follows:—

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

SUCCESSFUL WEDNESDAY MEETING.

A mid-week meeting of the North-Western Division was held at St. Mary's Church, Hatfield Broad Oak, on Wednesday, August 26th. Summer weather prevailed and a large number attended, the towers represented being Harlow Common, Sawbridgworth, Bishops Stortford, Fulbourne, Walthamstow, Dunmow, Eriki, Chadwell Heath and Crawley. Some very good ringing was indulged in.

At these mid-week meetings no business is transacted, but a general discussion is usually indulged in after tea. It is proposed to hold another meeting at Hunsdon some time in October. The date will be published later, and it is hoped there will be a record gathering. The primary idea of these meetings is to give facilities to shop assistants and others who are unable to attend the Saturday meetings.

A TOUR IN ESSEX.

INTERESTING FEATURES OF A LONG DAY'S TRIP.

Fine weather favoured the Loughton and Woodford ringers on Saturday, August 22nd, when a party of nearly fifty toured the north-eastern and eastern parts of Essex. A ring-up by 'Teddle' was sounded at 8 o'clock, and a few minutes later the 'Carey' coaches were plying their way up Alderton's Hill en route for Harwich. Chigwell Lane, Rolls Park, Abridge and Ongar were soon left behind, and Chelmsford reached in good time.

The first halt was made at St. Mary's, Kelvedon, where the party was welcomed by Mr. William Elliott, an old ringing enthusiast, and his son, Mr. J. Elliott. No time was lost in getting the bells going to Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Grandsire Doubles on a well-sounding peal of six (tenor 21 cwt.), hung in a battlemented tower built chiefly of large pebbles and flints. Early English workmanship is in evidence in the nave and aisles, while interesting historical demi-figures are fixed to the nave roof.

By ten-thirty the party was away, passing through the mile-long street towards Colchester, viewing with delight the many acres of flowers that are grown for seed in the vicinity of Marks Tey. Colchester was soon left behind, and the usual route taken to Harwich, via Ardleigh, Mistley, Bradfield, Ramsey and Dovercourt.

Mr. C. Ellis and Mr. G. Thompson extended a hearty welcome to the party, and soon the bells of St. Nicholas' (tenor 14 cwt.) were pealing forth touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major. The present edifice, rebuilt by the Duke of Norfolk in 1821 on the site of a previous building, has still spacious galleries in use. A very fine oil painting behind the altar depicts the carrying of the Ten Commandments.

A special word of praise is due to Mr. C. Ellis and his colleagues for the excellent decorative state of the belfry and the easy running of the bells. Dinner was served at the 'Milton Hall,' Dovercourt. A stroll along the front was followed by a visit to the Harwich-Zeebrugge Ferry Boat quay, where a boat was preparing for the outward journey. It was obvious that the railway companies concerned had made a success of this service.

Then followed a long ride through to Burnham-on-Crouch, via Great Oakley, Thorpe-le-Soken, Weeley, Colchester, Abberton Peldon, Tolleshunt D'Arcy, Maldon and Althorne, much of the journey being along winding roads not designed for super coaches. A typical Burnham tea was well served at the Railway Hotel, the fresh shrimps claiming the renewed attention of all.

At the conclusion of the meal a hearty vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. J. Chalk (Wanstead) and carried with acclamation, to Mr. J. Rann (Loughton) and Mr. C. Morss (Woodford), organisers of the outing, and to Sergt. Thorpe (Loughton), who had so energetically guided the party over the long route, and who had deputised for Mr. Morss, who, unfortunately, was unable to accompany the party. In reply, Mr. J. Rann expressed his great delight in the work he had undertaken, and his willingness to assist on future occasions.

Mr. T. C. Ringrose then led the way to the Parish Church of St. Mary, situated on the outskirts of the parish. A real treat was in store, the 'gc' of the bells being perfect, thanks to the engineering genius of Mr. Ringrose. Mr. A. Rutland, of Sunbury, and Mr. W. Gridley, of the local band, joined in the touches, which included Plain Bob, Grandsire Doubles and Kent Treble Bob Minor. An interesting history is associated with the church, built in the time of Edward III. The upper part of the tower was demolished by the great storm of November 23rd, 1703, and the tower was not restored to its original height. The catastrophe was followed by another one in the early part of last century, when the roof of the nave was destroyed by fire, and the pillars forced from the perpendicular. Some interesting armorials are on the south porch, built by Sir John Harvey, Vicar, at the end of the fifteenth century. Also fame is attached to the inscription of Alexander John Scott, D.D., on an iron chest in the vestry. He was a former curate of Burnham and became chaplain to Lord Nelson, and was near the Admiral when he received his mortal wound.

Very reluctantly did one and all leave such a fine-going peal of six, but the sun had set, and a good run was in store. Wickford, Billericay and Hutton were left in darkness, and by ten-fifteen the Woodford members were home again, bidding adieu to those of Loughton with the parting echo of 'Many returns of the day!'

All offer their sincere thanks to the incumbents of the parishes for the use of the bells, and to the ringers who greeted the party.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The composition of the peal of Oxford Treble Bob Royal rung at Ipswich on Saturday was taken from John Carter's broadsheet, and the peal is claimed as the first of Treble Bob Royal ever rung containing only seven courses. The conductor (Mr. G. E. Symonds) has now called peals of Treble Bob Royal consisting of 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 courses.

Mr. W. T. Elliott, of Kelvedon, has just completed 50 years of service as a ringer at St. Mary's Parish Church. This event and the birthdays of his wife and himself were fittingly celebrated by a peal of Minor last Saturday, after which Mr. and Mrs. Elliott entertained the ringers to tea.

Members of the Cambridge University Guild are having their annual ringing tour this week in the Hereford district.

Mr. F. White, of Cranbrook, has just rung his 150th peal. The peals, which include the 12,160 Bristol Surprise Major, have been rung in 68 towers in 14 counties and with 283 ringers.

Will Mr. J. Lord, of Mablethorpe, kindly communicate with Mr. F. Lord, of 195, Mary Street, Scunthorpe, Lincs.

Six-bell companies are reminded that parcels of ten copies of the 'Collection of Doubles and Minor Methods' can be obtained for 27s. 6d. post free. This is a saving of 5d. per copy.

A LOST PEAL.

WHAT HAPPENED IN THE 'WEE SMA' 'OURS.'

During the morning of August 24th a certain lady, who was hoping to have a peaceful day before losing her company, suddenly discovered she wanted one more peal to make 50. As her husband was working the 2 to 10 shift, it was suggested that she 'rested' in the afternoon while the visitors and 'extras' went for a walk, then an attempt should be made round about 11 p.m. for the coveted peal.

At the appointed time (which had then reached 11.40 p.m.) four mentally unbalanced individuals set off for Bob Major, the other lady of the party 'witnessing' (?) the same between the sheets.

Course after course rolled along in perfect time until suddenly the 'luggage specialist' felt uneasy about the composition, but, being assured with 'All right,' he carried on apparently satisfied. At 2.10 a.m. came—'Single,' 'That's all'; with congratulations from the conductor to his wife.

The uneasy individual, however, disappeared for pencil and paper, then—after a moment's mental energy—calmly announced the peal was 'false.'

The shock prevented the expected flow of words! The 7-8 man crept silently away (he had to be at work five miles away at 7.30 a.m.). Explanations and investigations revealed the fact that 'hubby' had called the Singles two courses too late in each half!!!!

His wife now asserts she will insist on him 'knowing' the peal, even if she has to put his nose in the book.

A disappointing, though humorous, ending to a very enjoyable and successful 'rest cure.'

THE STEDMAN TERCENTENARY.RESTORATION WORK TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK.

The disappointment of the committee in the compulsory postponement of the reopening of St. Bene't's bells is shared by a large number of ringers, who had been looking forward to and planning a great day at Cambridge at the end of this month. Despite all the efforts that were made and the assistance given by the Vicar of St. Bene't's, the diocesan office refused to be hurried, and not until the faculty itself issues can anything be done in the tower. It is hoped, however, that the work of dismantling the bells may be begun next Monday.

The date of the reopening will be fixed as soon as it is safe to do so, and we hope to be able to make a definite announcement next week.

To have to push the event out of the summer season is, of course, a distinct drawback, but ringers are not easily deterred where the pursuit of anything appertaining to their art is concerned, and we feel confident that they will be just as keen to share in the unique celebration whenever it takes place as they would have been in September.

Contributions to the fund should be sent to—

DEATH OF AN OLD PRESTON RINGER.FIFTY YEARS AT THE PARISH CHURCH.

The Preston Branch has recently suffered the loss of an old member through the death of Mr. William Heald, of Preston. Mr. Heald, who was the captain of the Preston Parish Church band, had been in indifferent health for some time, but his passing away on August 24th was rather unexpected. Mr. Heald had just completed 50 years' service as a ringer at the Parish Church, and, although not a great peal ringer, could always be relied on for service and national occasions.

Mr. Heald was one of the few remaining old ringers who were members of the now defunct Lancashire Six Bell Ringers' Association in its early days, and which was ultimately absorbed by the present association.

Amongst those present at the funeral service held in the Parish Church were ringers from Brindle, Chorley, St. James', Leyland, as well as present and past members of the local band, the last named including Mr. T. H. Brewer, of Ottawa, Canada, who is on a visit to England, and who claims to have helped Mr. Heald to learn to ring 50 years ago.

Members of the Preston Branch acted as bearers at the church and cemetery, and a wreath was sent from his brother ringers. Muffled touches were rung on Preston bells before and after the funeral service, whilst an attempt for a peal of Treble Bob the next day was brought round after two hours and ten minutes' ringing, owing to the bad going of the bells.

Mr. Heald, or 'Bill,' as he was known to his intimates, will be sadly missed, especially by those who knew him best.

SOUTH DEVON TOWERS VISITED.

St. Sidwell's (Exeter) ringers visited South Devon towers for their annual outing, and were accompanied by the Rector (the Rev. Lanyon Owen). After stopping at Ashburton to pick up an old friend (Mr. A. L. Bennett), they proceeded to Ugborough, where there is a splendid church, with a beautifully built and lofty granite tower. Here they were met by Messrs. E. and A. Truman, of Kenu. The ring of eight bells is something of the weight of St. Sidwell's. Good touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung. Ermington, with a spire three feet out of upright and a ring of six, was next visited, and the bells were well rung by juniors and seniors, and a very old peal of handbells belonging to the tower were put in use. Tea followed at Ivybridge, where the Erme was an attraction. At Plympton St. Maurice, which has a nice ring of eight, capital touches of Grandsire and Kent Treble Bob Major were rung. The homeward journey was via Totnes, Teignmouth and Dawlish, with a stop at a wayside hostelry to take supper as the guests of Mr. W. Drake (hon. treasurer of the society), after which the song, 'Glorious Devon,' was sung by the Rector. Exeter was reached at 10.30—all well pleased with the day's outing. Thanks are due to Mr. Edwin Shepherd (the Ringing Master) for making the arrangements.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.SOUTH AND WEST DISTRICT.

A most enjoyable meeting of the South and West District was held at St. Peter's, Staines, on Saturday. The Ringing Master (Mr. Goodfellow) was in charge of the ringing and the methods practised before service were Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Double Norwich and London Surprise Major. The service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. W. H. Flecker (Vicar), the office from the 'Ringers' Manual' being used. The singing was led by the organist (Mr. David Willard), who has been organist of St. Peter's for 36 years, having commenced his duties there 16 months after the church was dedicated.

After service the company adjourned to the Church Hall for tea, ably served by Miss Riggs. The Vicar presided, supported by Mrs. Flecker and the Ringing Master. The vice-president unfortunately took the wrong train, and instead of landing at Staines found himself at Slough. Dashing back, he arrived breathless, but just in time for a cup of refreshing tea and to preside at the business meeting.

Mr. Willard was elected an honorary and Master Jolley a ringing member. Both belong to St. Peter's, Staines. The usual vote of thanks was accorded to Dr. and Mrs. Flecker, to the hostess (Miss Riggs), who has attended to the wants of the ringers at the meetings at Staines for the last ten years, and to her assistants, to the organist, to Messrs. G. Walmsley (who kindly arranged the meeting), W. E. Parker and E. Goater of the local band.

Handbell ringing was indulged in by Messrs. J. A. Trollope, F. W. Goodfellow, J. Herbert, E. Goater, F. Baldwin and R. Lathbury, the last named, with Miss V. Shorter, being on a visit from Cambridge. Other well-known ringers present were W. Welling, J. R. Mackman, F. Corke, G. and W. Gutteridge and Misses K. E. Fletcher, of Beaconsfield, and K. M. Bradford, of Twickenham, etc.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar of St. Mary (Rev. James) for the use of St. Mary's bells, and Mr. Butler, the steeplekeeper, brought a pleasant afternoon to a close, everyone present having had an opportunity of ample ringing.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A very successful quarterly meeting of the Western Division was held at Arundel on Saturday. Ringing commenced soon after 3 o'clock and the bells were kept going in various methods until 5 o'clock, when the members, their wives and friends, to the number of 41, partook of tea at Owen's Tea Rooms, after which a short business meeting was held, with Mr. W. Charman presiding. The following new members were elected through the instrumentality of Mr. Percy Doick: Messrs. W. G. Settatre, R. Settatre, J. Puttick, F. Willard, sen., P. Willard, jun., C. Whittington, A. Goatcher and J. Goatcher, all of Washington.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar of Arundel for the use of the bells and to Mr. Charman for presiding.

Subsequently further ringing was enjoyed, the methods including Stedman, Superlative, London and Bristol Surprise. Members were present from Arundel, Billingshurst, Chichester, Heene, Lymington, Brighton, Shoreham, Crawley, Pulborough, Slinfold, Uckfield, Warham and Itchingfield, and Messrs. Pasmore (London) and J. H. B. Hesse (Haslemere), a most enjoyable afternoon being spent.

WESTON RINGERS' EXCURSION.

All Saints', Weston, Bath, bellringers held their seventh annual outing on August 22nd last, when, accompanied by the Vicar and several churchworkers, they visited Puckle Church, Stone, Berkeley and Dursley, and at each tower the bells were raised in peal and rung to various methods.

Tea was served at the White Hart Hotel, Berkeley, in company with the Fairford ringers, who had already been ringing at the tower. Some rounds were rung for the younger members, who thus had their first ring on ten bells, and a touch of Triples. At Dursley they again joined forces with the Fairford men in ringing various methods. Thanks are extended (through 'The Ringing World') to the incumbents and tower masters who met the visitors at the churches, also to Mr. A. Lewis, Mr. H. W. Jussell and Mr. J. Hope for their kindness in helping to make the outing a success.

GLOUCESTERSHIRE RINGERS' OUTING.

Fairford (Glos) ringers had their annual outing on August 22nd in glorious weather. They first visited Bristol, where they rang at St. Peter's Church and later at St. Stephen's. Sight seeing and lunch occupied some part of their stay in the city, after which they went on to Thornbury, where they found new ropes made the bells difficult to handle. They rang next on the ten at Berkeley, where they were joined by the Bath ringers, and the two companies had tea together. Going on to Dursley, the Fairford company enjoyed three-quarters of an hour's ringing with the local men on a peal of bells just suited to them, and were then joined once more by the Bath ringers, with whom a very pleasant time was spent. During the day touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major and Grandsire Caters were rung. After supper at Dursley the journey home was commenced and completed about 11.30 after a very enjoyable day.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

XII. THE VISIT TO NORWICH.

About 1785 the old society paid their famous visit to Norwich. The tradition, as Ellacombe gives it, was that 'on this occasion the Norwich ringers performed a touch of Stedman Cinques, a method which the College Youths had not heard before; being very desirous of acquiring the method, they made arrangements for leaving one of their number, Mr. Blakemore, at Norwich in order that he might, at the expense of the society, qualify himself for teaching it to his fellow College Youths. Blakemore remained for six months at Norwich and acquired the method, which was afterwards successfully rung by the College Youths in London' (Note 18). During his stay, Blakemore lodged with Christopher Lindsay, who was writing a book on ringing. He secretly copied his host's papers, and on his return to London these formed the basis of the 'Clavis.'

Jasper Snowdon calls this an absurd legend, and certainly it does not sound correct. Christopher Wells, John Reeves and Thomas Blakemore were acquainted with Stedman Doubles, and men of their stamp would not need six months to find out how to practice the method on nine and eleven bells. Six minutes would have been enough. And a book like the 'Clavis' is not written by stealing another man's notes. But, almost always, these traditions have a body of truth, and in this case it needs only a little rearranging of known facts to say what did happen.

William Jones was collecting material for his book, and there was no place in England where there was better ringing or more methods practised than Norwich. Clearly, if his book was to be complete he must go down there and pick up as much information as he could. Besides, the new ring of twelve had just been put up at St. Peter Mancroft (1775), and glowing accounts of their grandeur had reached London. The Norwich Scholars were in close touch with the London ringers. In 1777 some of the Cumberlands went down to Norwich and rang a peal at St. Michael's Coslany, and later in the year, apparently, the Norwich company returned the visit, though there is no record of what ringing they did. So that there was a good opportunity for William Jones and his band to have a pleasant outing, hear and ring on the Mancroft twelve, and, incidentally, pick up what they could for the new book. Accordingly to Norwich they went.

But they were not received very cordially. From some statement or other that Christopher Wells had incautiously let drop the Norwich ringers suspected that the College Youths intended to try and beat their 6,240 of Treble Bob Maximus. It was the time of the long peal duel between the College Youths and the Cumberlands. The Norwich men were all Cumberlands and keen partisans. In fact, their 6,000 had given the latter society the twelve-bell record. Of course, it was the junior company of College Youths, not Jones' band, which had fought that fight; but the Norwich men took no account of such distinctions, and to them they were all College Youths. So when the visitors arrived they were met with a demand for an explanation and apology. It was given, and the two bands associated with apparent harmony and friendship.

Notwithstanding this, so men said afterwards, the College Youths did intend to try and beat the record; but after ringing about a thousand changes the attempt failed. No cause is given for the failure. Perhaps they started with the tenor single handed, and neither then nor for many years after was one man able to ring her to a peal. When we are comparing heavy bell peals of old times, either with each other or with modern performances, we must remember that the go of the big bells varied to an extraordinary degree. The modern bell hanger's scientific methods were then unknown, and it seems to have been sheer luck whether a bell could be turned in single handed to a seven thousand, like St. Saviour's, or took two and sometimes three men to ring behind to a five thousand, like St. Mary-le-Bow. Mancroft tenor was never an easy bell, and only once, till recent times, was she rung single handed to a peal.

When the London men stopped, the local men came up into the tower, and to show their skill rang some Stedman Cinques. This was a new thing to the visitors, and they straightway determined to practise the method.

Meanwhile Jones had been making his enquiries. Probably, as at Birmingham in the next year, he was not himself one of the peal band. No doubt he heard a lot about the peals the Norwich Scholars had rung, but he did not find it easy to get the figures he wanted. Lindsay and Barton were thinking of writing a book themselves, and they were not likely to give away their material to anyone who chose to ask for it, least of all to a rival. Jones had, therefore, either to give up any hopes of getting the Norwich figures, or to leave someone behind to find out things as opportunity might arise. Thomas Blakemore was the obvious man. Besides being one of Jones' two collaborators he was friendly with the Norwich men. He was one of the band who rang the peal of Bob Major at St. Giles' in 1777, and had belonged to the Cumberland Society when the Norwich men paid their return visit. He stayed for a time (perhaps a good deal shorter than six months) with Lindsay and did the job he stayed for. William Jones, probably, and not the society, paid his expenses.

Of course, some reason had to be given for his remaining behind when the others returned home. The truth could not be told so the excuse was made that he wanted to learn Stedman Cinques. It was quite as good an excuse as any other. It flattered the vanity of the Norwich Scholars, and it diverted attention from his real object.

He certainly took some things back with him besides Stedman Cinques, for there are things in the 'Clavis' which must have come from Norwich and nowhere else. Imperial the Third is one, and Norwich Court Bob another. Osborn, quoting some Norwich informant, says that Superlative was a Norwich method; but there, I think, he is wrong. There is no evidence that Superlative was known to the Mancroft men, and the authors of the 'Clavis' distinctly say that it is 'our own.' There is not the least reason to think they were either liars or thieves. But in Norwich Blakemore's activities were strongly resented. 'The College Youths were never noticed by the Norwich Company with anything like confidence or respect afterwards. No Norwich man subscribed to the "Clavis," and the book was totally ignored in the city' (Note 19).

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD AT ARLEY.

Members from Allesley, Chilvers Coton, Fillongley, Lillington, Manchester, Nuncaton and Warwick attended the meeting held at Arley on Saturday, August 22nd. Arley Parish Church is dedicated to St. Wilfrid and tradition has it that from St. Wilfrid's time (i.e., 1,200 years ago) there has been a church on this site. First built of wood, in 1280 the present building of local sandstone was erected. Richard de Covintre was the first Rector in 1287 and the list includes 44 others up to the present day. There are six bells in the tower, three old and three new, with the following inscriptions:—

Treble: 'Given by George Hazel, A.D. 1929, Church Warden from 1903.'

2nd: 'To the Glory of God and in remembrance of J. and S. Stain, from their sons, 1929.'

3rd: 'To the Praise of God, from the Parishioners, 1929.'

4th: 'Robert Newcome' (date about 1590).

5th: 'Ihs Nazareus Rex Judeorum Fili Dei Misere Mi, 1625.'

Tenor: 'Edward Arnold, Leicester, Fecit, 1760.'

These interesting bells were rung in various methods up to Cambridge Surprise on Saturday, and the local ringers were assisted by the more proficient to ring Grandsire Doubles, some showing great promise.

IRTHLINGBOROUGH RINGERS' FINE PERFORMANCE.

PEAL BOARD UNVEILED.

Five peals in as many different Surprise methods, viz., Cambridge, London, Bristol, Superlative and Irchester (the first in the method), rung between April, 1930, and February, 1931, at Irthlingborough, and all conducted by Mr. A. Y. Tyler, have been recorded on a handsome tablet in the belfry of St. Peter's Church. The unveiling of the board took place at a special meeting of the Wellingborough Branch of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild on Saturday week. At the Guild service, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. P. Lidster), there were representatives present from 18 Guilds. In his address the Rector welcomed the members of the Guild and said they were present to dedicate a peal board to commemorate a stupendous feat by the local band of ringers. They had successfully rung five peals in one year. Their art required faith—faith in their own powers, faith in their direction, faith in the universality of their art, for campanology was revered all over the world, and, finally, faith in God. To the ordinary lay person bellringing was an exceedingly difficult and puzzling art. When he watched ringing he was struck with the ease with which they rang. When a man was an easy ringer then he had perfect control of himself. They should apply their art to themselves, to their souls. They were about to dedicate a visible sign of triumph of the bellringers' art, and he thanked all for their attendance. Finally, the reverend gentleman asked them to remember Irthlingborough when holding their quarterly meeting.

At the close of the address the congregation moved to the belfry, and Mr. A. Y. Tyler, captain of the local band of ringers, unveiled, and the Rev. P. Lidster dedicated the tablet, 'To the glory of God, and in memory of the triumph of consecrated faith.'

At the close of the service the ringers adjourned for tea, served by the local ringers' wives and the wives of members of the Church Council.

After tea the branch secretary (Mr. F. Barber) said he was sure that those present would wish him to offer to all those who had taken part in the ringing of those peals, recorded on the beautiful peal board just unveiled, and dedicated by the Rector of Irthlingborough, the heartiest congratulations. It was indeed a memorable performance and one of which they could all be justly proud. But it was not only in peal ringing that these men excelled. He was thankful to say that they were always to be found at their post for the Sunday service ringing, and he complimented the Rector and the good people of Irthlingborough on having such a fine band of ringers. He also said he was sure they were all delighted to have with them that afternoon Mr. Ernest Tippler, of Luttworth, the composer of the peal of Irchester Surprise recorded on the board, and offered him a most hearty welcome amongst them.

Mr. R. G. Black (the general secretary of the Guild) and Mrs. Black being present, good wishes for their future happiness were expressed, and Mr. Black, in replying, thanked the members of the branch for the beautiful clock they had given him. He assured them he should treasure it very much. He also said that great credit was due to all who had taken part in those peals, and it was an honour to the Guild.

METHOD SPLICING.

It is interesting to record this week another performance by some of the men associated with the historical method-splicing peals at Norbury, Cheshire, and to see that although they now have eight bells in their own tower, on which they have done some excellent work in Surprise Major ringing, they have not given up entirely their practice of six-bell methods and particularly of Spliced Minor. It was the Norbury band that first put thirty-five six-bell methods into the seven extents of one peal, and, while their latest performance has not equalled this, their peal last week should be a further incentive to six-bell bands in other parts of the country to give more serious attention to this very fascinating phase of ringing. It is certainly a more interesting and creditable performance to put even two methods into one extent, provided there are constant switches from one to the other, than it is to change over only at the end of each 720. Splicing, in the true sense, is not, perhaps, a job for the mental slow-coach. It requires alertness and quick-thinking, but given these qualities and a knowledge of the methods to be rung, any ringer should be able rapidly to master the principles and enjoy the practice of this phase of the art. Those who would take up this form of ringing should get the little book published on the subject by 'The Ringing World,' which deals in detail with splicing as applied to normal Minor methods.

It is possible that in the near future the Central Council will be asked to lay down some definite ruling as to what shall be recognised as a 'spliced' peal. In recent years there have been a number of 'freak' peals rung, in which, for instance, odd-bell methods have been joined with even-bell methods. As a curiosity, perhaps, such splicing may be pardoned, but it is hardly the sort of ringing to be encouraged, especially when it is merely half a peal of one method joined to half a peal of another. Indeed, except on the same ground of curiosity there is little point in ringing any peal in which there is but one 'splice.' Real distinction is given only to the performance—at any rate from the ringing point of view—when constant changes of method are made, and it ought to be a recognised practice that at least two methods should be included in every course. That, in our opinion, is the lowest standard that should be aimed at in 'splicing,' particularly on numbers above six, and it would soon become the recognised qualification for a spliced peal if the Central Council and the associations were to discourage anything which fell below this level, for splicing is now getting well through its experimental stage. On six and eight bells it has reached a high degree of performance, and peals have been rung on seven, ten and twelve bells which have also set a practical standard far above the mere joining of two methods in half peals. LEICESTER RINGERS' VISIT TO BEDFORDSHIRE.

The annual outing of 1931 of the Leicester Cathedral ringers must be written down as a most successful one in every way. There were the usual latecomers who caused some slight delay in making a start on the journey to Newport Pagnall; consequently, at the behest of the R.S.M., the route was slightly amended, and full speed ahead ordered. This was apparently due to the fact that at a certain place en route the cafes remained open until 2.30 p.m. The mission was successful, and the R.S.M. lost all his ferocity. We howled along in glorious sunshine to Northampton, amidst the aroma of 'corona-coronas,' due to the kindly thought of Mr. J. Harris. Arriving at Northampton, a halt was made for a pull at St. Giles'. Mr. W. Rogers was there to give us a hearty welcome, and the ring of ten was soon set going to Stedman Caters and Cambridge Royal. Our host joined us on our making tracks for Newport, and on the way the handbell experts gave a full and varied entertainment. We arrived in time for tea, and were joined by Mr. C. Clarke, of Bedford, and Mr. H. D. Harris and the Herbert Brothers, of Woburn, and, of course, the local ringers. The tea was served on the lawn, amidst ideal surroundings, and, after justice had been done to the repast, an adjournment was made to the belfry. Good use was made of the fine peal of bells, the ringing including London, Bristol, Superlative and Cambridge Major, Double Norwich, Stedman and Grandsire Triples. Mr. Smith had kindly arranged for a room for a convivial evening, and this was enjoyed by all. The handbells played a large part in the entertainment, but other notable items were 'Charlie's Tales' and Mr. W. Bebb's 'Drunken Episode.' The latter, by the way, is one of Newport's natives. The cafe had an extra half-hour to that enjoyed by Leicester, and no doubt this was a deciding factor when the arrangements were made. With four members of the Leicester City Police Force present, however, it was obvious that no attempt would be made to abuse the law. The usual thanks were tendered to those who contributed in various ways to the pleasures of the outing, especially to the friends at Newport. The return journey was made under the silvery moon to the accompaniment of 'Spanish Chants' and other romantic melodies on the handbells. For his efforts on this and other occasions, the worthy secretary of the Guild of Police Ringers has been promoted to detective sergeant. He will receive the wholehearted congratulations of the ringing fraternity.

TILEHURST RINGERS IN HERTS.

On a recent Saturday the Tilehurst band held their annual outing, when a party of 14 ringers and friends proceeded by motor coach to Bishop's Stortford. Leaving Tilehurst at 8.30 a.m., the first stop was at Bushey, reached after a pleasant run of two hours, via Slough and Rickmansworth. Here they were welcomed by Mr. M. Hibbert, and several short touches of Grandsire Triples were rung and rounds for the beginners on this handy ring. Bishop's Stortford was reached in time for lunch, very kindly provided by the Rev. Dr. Cooper-Smith, Rector of Tilehurst, to whom a hearty vote of thanks was accorded. They were welcomed by the Rev. F. W. Lane, a former curate of Tilehurst and an enthusiastic ringer. A move was made to the tower after lunch, and with the help of some of the local ringers Stedman Triples and Grandsire Caters and Bob Major were rung. Sawbridgeworth was visited during the late afternoon, but, as time was pressing, only a short touch of Grandsire Triples was rung on this noisy and heavy-going peal. Tea was very kindly provided by the Rev. F. W. and Mrs. Lane, and they were accorded a hearty vote of thanks for their kindness.

Watford was the last tower on the programme. Unfortunately, a late arrival somewhat curtailed the ringing, but everyone enjoyed a pull on this fine peal.

Tilehurst was reached at 11 p.m., everyone having spent a happy day, although the weather was showery. The ringers wish to thank the incumbents for the use of the bells and the ringers who met them and helped in the ringing. Much regret was expressed that Mr. Barnes was unable, through an accident, to take part in the outing.

'THE GOOD OLD DAYS.'

There are still some quaint ideas about with regard to bellringers. In an article in a recent issue of 'The Motor-Cycle and Trader' on 'Bellringers, Ancient and Modern,' in which 'a contributor deals with some modern examples of this ancient craft as encountered by the cycle dealer,' we learn that 'in the good old days every village had its collection of staid old men who, for a small fee, used to go every time the church opened to pull on some ropes as hard as they could and kick up a fearful din. Sometimes they would pull steadily at only one rope and sometimes at several, sometimes for half an hour at a stretch, and sometimes for only five minutes. Of course, these old men still exist now, but in diminished numbers, for the modern trend is to lessen manual labour. Everyone is a bellringer in these days, for all one has to do is to open a shop door.'

Strange it is that such illusions are to be found in these enlightened days, but the forty thousand 'old men' who ring the church bells of this land will read this with an indulgent smile.

ONE THOUSAND PEALS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I have read with much interest the wonderful record of Mr. A. H. Pulling's 1,000 peals. Could you be good enough to tell us, through the medium of 'The Ringing World,' whether the late Rev. F. E. Robinson holds the 'record' for the greatest number of peals ever rung, and, if so, what the actual number was?—Yours truly,

Y. Z.

[The Rev. F. E. Robinson rang 1,250 peals. Mr. William Pye has rung some hundreds more than this number; Mr. L. G. Shade had rung 1,450 when he met with his fatal accident. Mr. G. R. Pye has also passed the total of the former Master of the Oxford Guild.—Ed. 'R.W.']

OLD BURTON RINGERS MEET.

At the invitation of Mr. W. W. Worthington, a party of ringers, including a few 'old perticks,' met at St. Paul's, Burton-on-Trent, on Saturday afternoon, and after an hour's ringing on this splendid peal of ten (which are a striking contrast to the terrible old eight which some of the company remembered), went on a short but enjoyable ringing tour. At Rolleston, only a short run by motor-car, ringing from the ground floor was appreciated by the 'old 'uns,' for there was no panting for breath, such as is the case after the climb to the ringing chamber at St. Paul's. After Rolleston the route lay through and about the Needwood Forest, where numerous places of interest were passed, including Byrkley Lodge, the home of Sir William Bass, Rangemore, the lovely estate of the late Lord Burton, and others which closed at 2 p.m. At Alrewas they found a jolly little peal of bells, easy to ring, and on which touches in different methods were enjoyed. Loading up again, it was not long before Lichfield spires ('the Ladies of the Vale') were in sight and Maple Hayes, Mr. Worthington's home, was reached about 6.30 p.m. A walk through the lovely rose gardens, on the lawns and by the lakes was greatly enjoyed, and the ringers received a hearty welcome from Lady Muriel Worthington, before sitting down to a sumptuous dinner of old English fare. Then after the toast of 'The King,' the party retired to the spacious drawing-room, where the remainder of the evening was spent in handbell ringing and a touch of Stedman on the piano by Maurice Swinfield. Lady Muriel and her other guests joined the party and took much interest in the handbell ringing. Thanks were accorded to Mr. Worthington for his hospitality, and to Mr. Swinfield for the excellent arrangements made for the gathering.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The peal of Double Norwich Major at Headingley, Yorks, on Saturday, was preceded by an attempt at Armley which terminated with the breaking of a rope after 2 hrs. 15 mins. ringing. Mr. and Mrs. T. Colin Ryder, who were in both these attempts, also rang a peal of Bob Royal on handbells the same day.

The first peal on the bells for over 30 years was rung at Bulwick, Northants, on Saturday week, and the ringers had no small task, for the bells went very badly. Mr. Arthur Cox came into the band at a minute's notice. Previously he had not rung a bell for nearly three years.

A peal of Stedman Triples was rung at Cuckfield, Sussex, on Wednesday in last week, after the band had met one short for London Surprise. At Lindfield, four miles away, one man met seven short for a peal of London.

The many ringing friends of Mr. Harold J. Poole, of Leicester, will no doubt be pleased to hear that he has recently been promoted to the rank of detective sergeant in the Leicester City Police Force. Mr. Poole is the hon. secretary of the National Police Guild of Ringers.

A Rochdale member of the Lancashire Association writes to point out that, contrary to the heading of the peal rung at Moorside on August 13th, there is no Oldham Branch of the Association, according to the report, and peals ought not to be thus recorded.

The first peal of Superlative Surprise in Wales was conducted by the late Bertram Prewett at Llangollen on September 13th, 1907.

Charles Middleton, of Norwich, whose name will for ever be associated with Cambridge Surprise Major from the fact that his composition is the only peal with the tenors unparted that will run true to the method, died on September 14th, 1886.

The Society of St. Martin's Youths, out of which sprang St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, rang their first peal (Bob Major) on September 16th, 1755, at St. Philip's, Birmingham.

THE MINOR 'COLLECTION.'

FALSE ALLIANCE METHODS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Attention has been called to the fact that the last five Alliance methods in the Collection (viz., Nos. 66 to 70) will not run true. On investigation it will be found that repetition is unavoidable when the treble is in fifth's place. Those who have purchased copies of the book are requested to strike out these five methods in order to prevent the possibility of their being rung in peals at some future date.

It is due to the other members of the Methods Committee to state that these methods were inserted at my instance at the last moment during the final proof reading. An ill-judged anxiety to make sure that there were no accidental omissions such as occurred in the first edition resulted in their slipping in without sufficient investigation into their truth.—Yours faithfully,

E. S. POWELL.

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY.

WORK BEGUN ON ST. BENE'T'S BELLS.

Work on the restoration of St. Bene't's bells, Cambridge, commenced on Tuesday. The faculty was received by the Vicar (the Rev. W. Greenwood) on Monday, the necessary tackle was already on the spot, and Messrs. Taylor and Co.'s workmen began operations the next day.

In about a fortnight the bells and frame will have been dismantled and taken to Loughborough, and the builders (Messrs. Sindall, of Cambridge), under the supervision of Mr. F. W. Troup, the architect, will then proceed with the construction of the reinforced concrete corbel course, which is to carry the reconstructed bell frame at about 12 feet lower than the old level at which the bells swung. The concrete which is to be used is of a specially quick drying and hardening description which within a week of its construction will allow the frame to be placed on it. The concrete has been generously given by the Tunnel Cement Company, Ltd., with which Mr. E. H. Lewis, President of the Central Council, is associated.

The fine old oak frame in which the bells hang is of massive construction, and is almost certainly the frame that was in the tower in Stedman's time. With the exception of one or two members, which will have to be renewed, it is apparently in a splendid state of preservation, and, when rebuilt, there is no reason why it should not last for at least another two hundred years. The bells are to be cleaned and the 'tap' notes brought into closer harmony. Five of them will be quarter turned, and they are all to have entirely new fittings, but the stocks are to be of wood and the bells hung from them by iron straps in the old way.

New oak beams of large section will carry the cage, and the turning of the whole frame through a right angle, so that the thrust caused by the ringing is taken on the strongest walls of the tower, coupled with the introduction of the reinforced corbel course, will add to the stability of the building, which, as our readers already know, is a fine example of Saxon craftsmanship. The beams on which the bells are at present carried will be left in position for a dual reason. Any risk attaching to removing them from the walls will be obviated, and by leaving them as they are they will add to the strength of the tower.

The ropes are to be brought down to the ground floor, which will add greatly to the convenience of ringing, for the present ringing chamber is approached by a straight steel ladder, about 22 feet high, negotiable only by agile and steady-nerved people.

In addition to the restoration of the bells, an explanatory commemorative tablet is to be provided in bell-metal, and will be placed where all can see it on one of the interior walls of the tower.

Everything is now set fair for the fulfilment of the scheme to celebrate the tricentenary of Fabian Stedman, and we hope to be able to announce next week the date of the commemoration and reopening of the bells.

Now that the scheme has been officially sanctioned by the Diocesan Authorities, and the work is in hand, subscribers who have not yet sent their contributions will oblige the committee if they will forward them to the Editor of 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, or the Hon. Treasurer, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Broadlands, Caversham, Reading.

AN AUSTRALIAN LADY RINGER.

A QUARTER-PEAL AT MELBOURNE CATHEDRAL.

It is gratifying to be able to record a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples rung at St. Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne, Australia. Six of the ringers are from the mother country, but special interest attaches to the performance of Miss Frey Shimmin, a native of the Commonwealth, who is the first Australian-born lady to ring a quarter-peal. Miss Shimmin is a schoolgirl of 15 years of age, and she came into the band about twelve months ago. She has excellent bell control, and throughout the quarter-peal her striking was good. She is to be congratulated upon a very creditable achievement. The quarter-peal was rung on Wednesday evening, July 1st, in 50 mins. by: Miss Frey Shimmin (Melbourne) 1, W. H. Preston (Kent) 2, J. L. Murray (Melbourne) 3, G. H. Wheeler (Cheshire) 4, A. A. Savage (Bedfordshire) 5, J. M. Guest (Staffordshire) 6, F. Boughton (Warwickshire) (conductor) 7, J. Badley (Lincolnshire) (first quarter-peal) 8. The tenor is 5¼ cwt.

MISS FREY SHIMMIN.

About twelve months ago an appeal was made for bellringers for Melbourne Cathedral to ensure that there should be no lack of continuity in filling vacant places that occur from time to time, from one cause or another, in the ranks of the Cathedral bellringers. Several men, and ladies too, answered the appeal, and it is hoped to record other performances by these ringers in the near future. The success of these new ringers is entirely due to the untiring efforts of Messrs. Guest and Preston.

Occasionally a ringer from home will visit St. Paul's belfry, where they are always welcome. Some excellent ringers have paid visits in this way, among them Mrs. T. C. Lumley, of Twyford, Berks, who did some ringing on her way through the city, and Miss D. D. Steel, of Bedford, the lady champion croquet player, when visiting Australia with the English croquet team four years ago. Miss Steel was the first lady to ring a quarter-peal in Australia, ringing the second bell on that occasion.

A most pleasing feature in connection with the ringing at St. Paul's Cathedral is the occasional visit to the belfry of Archbishop Head and the Rev. R. Sherwood (Precentor), the latter being among the new ringers.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

XIII. ATTEMPTS AT REUNION.

The Norwich visit was followed by two important results. One, immediately, that Stedman was practised in London and thence the method spread over the country; the other, more remotely, the extinction of the old Society of College Youths.

As soon as Jones and his band got back they began to ring Stedman Caters, and now we begin to see signs of disagreement between John Reeves and Thomas Blakemore. Blakemore, when he came home, had brought a good deal of information about the method—peals and touches and so forth—and on the strength of that, like as not, he thought he was entitled to call the peal. Reeves thought otherwise, and so Blakemore went off and made friends with the junior company. They, too, were anxious to ring Stedman Caters and Cinques; and this led to members of the two bands becoming friendly and ringing together for the first time since 1757. Soon there were suggestions to heal the thirty years' old schism and unite the two societies into one. This did not suit everyone. There were men in both companies who knew well enough that in one band there would not be room enough for all, and they had no wish to be squeezed out. But the leaders of the junior company were anxious for it, and William Jones was favourable. Presently there occurred an opportunity of making a big practical step towards reunion.

In 1771 two trebles were added to St. Martin's, Birmingham, to make a ring of twelve. A peal of Grandsire Cinques was rung on them in 1773, and Plain Bob Maximus in 1779. But as yet no peal of Treble Twelve had been scored there. So the junior society proposed to go down for their 1786 outing, and, not being able to get together by themselves a band strong enough, they invited the old society to come too. About half a dozen joined them, including William Jones. On October 24th, 1786, they started for Oxford Treble Bob Maximus, but after ringing over two hours the tenor clapper broke.

Next day the damage was put right, and they made another attempt. The band was made up of Winstanley Richardson, Donkin, Povey, Patrick, the bell founder, Lyford, Sylvester, Holdsworth and Muggeridge from the junior society; and Adams, John Reeves, Inville and Williamson from the old society. No conductor is mentioned, but probably John Povey called the bobs. According to Mr. Hassell, a very old member of the St. Martin's company, who in 1849 recollected the visit very well, the ringing was excellent.

A peal was almost a certainty, but a little more than half an hour from the end Samuel Muggeridge, who was ringing the tenor, without any warning set his bell and went and sat down, saying he was tired and would ring no more. Some of the band knew he did not want to ring with the old company, and were sure he stopped because he did not want to score a peal with them. A heated altercation followed, in the midst of which, Jones, who had been listening to the ringing outside, came up to know the cause of failure. He walked into the belfry and, as a ringer would, put his hand on the treble rope. When he heard the reason, in his excitement and anger he pulled the rope so hard that the bell went over, smashing the stay and ceasing herself, nobody paying attention to the flying rope.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD.

A TOUR IN THE WEST.

The annual tour of the Cambridge University Guild, an old-established custom of 21 years, was held this year in Herefordshire, with headquarters at St. Nicholas' Rectory, Hereford, the residence of Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, who made all the arrangements. Eleven members were able to come, but of these Rev. H. L. James and Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn were not well enough to take part in any peal attempts. There was also one beginner, so no choice of the peal band was possible. Ringing began on Monday night, August 31st, at St. Nicholas' Church in Hereford.

On Tuesday the towers of Colwall and Ledbury were used for short touches, and then a peal of Double Norwich was attempted at Lugwardine, but unfortunately it came to grief, after excellent ringing, owing to a miscall. On Wednesday, the journey was southward. Ruardean, in Gloucestershire, was first visited in pouring rain, then Ross, but a funeral was in progress. So after lunch a move was made to Bridstow, where Cambridge Surprise was rung for an hour and a half, only to end in failure, but it was good practice. Returning to Ross, we were able to ring for a short time, and then in the evening were welcomed by Mr. Edwards and the Cathedral band to their practice night. Here four methods were rung on the fine ring of ten.

On Thursday the route was north, to Pembridge with its quaint campanile (five bells); then to Presteigne, in Radnorshire. Here an excellent peal of Cambridge Surprise, the first in the county, was rung, as shown amongst the peal records. At Ludlow and Leominster, the magnificent churches were admired, and short touches rung on the bells. In the evening, All Saints', Hereford, gave us the hospitality always shown to visiting ringers.

It was decided not to try for a peal on Friday, but to visit more towers instead. So Burghill, Glasbury-on-Wye, Clifford, Peterchurch, Abbotsey and Madley were all in turn made use of. The last three of these are such glorious specimens of architecture that time was needed to view them. The old Norman Church of Kilpeck, although without a ring of bells, was not omitted. A visit to Bulmer's cider works in Hereford had been made earlier in the week, but without any ill-effects. The beauty of the Herefordshire scenery could not be fully appreciated because of the rain, but no one could help admiring the rich tones of the Rudhall bells, which are almost universal in these parts.

It ought to be stated that in each tower one or more well-struck touches, usually in the 'higher methods,' were first rung, and afterwards practice given in plainer methods to a beginner, when the striking was not so good.

WESTHOUGHTON RINGER'S RETIREMENT.

At Westhoughton, Lancashire, on Friday evening, September 4th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung by members of the local band: F. Frankland Rigby (conductor) 1, R. V. Hart 2, T. Smith 3, A. W. Leigh 4, A. Greenhalgh 5, J. L. Marsh 6. Rung in honour of Mr. John Greenhalgh, who has just retired after 30 years' service as a ringer.

After the ringing, a social was held, and Mr. Greenhalgh was presented with a clock by the Vicar, churchwardens and ringers.

RINGER'S SILVER WEDDING.

On the occasion of the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Rowe on Tuesday, August 26th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at All Saints' Church, King's Langley, Herts, by members of the local band: H. D. Butler 1, A. E. Dollimore 2, A. Rogers 3, A. G. Cook 4, J. W. Lane 5, E. J. Rowe 6, R. S. Cook (conductor) 7, J. Hayward 8.

MISCELLANEOUS PERFORMANCES.

SELBY ABBEY, YORKSHIRE.—On Thursday, August 20th, in 28 mins., on the front six bells, 720 Bob Minor: T. H. Foster 1, H. S. Morley (conductor) 2, W. A. Hall 3, H. Fairlam 4, F. Cryer 5, R. Warford 6. Arranged and rung for T. H. Foster, whose first 720 it was.

MEON, HANTS.—On Monday, August 24th, at Bay Tree Cottage, 1,344 Bob Major in 38 minutes: Mrs. E. K. Fletcher (conductor) 1-2, G. W. Fletcher 3-4, F. S. Bayley 5-6, F. W. Rogers 7-8. Also course of Cambridge Surprise Major.

This incident put an end to all hopes of a formal union of the two societies. Jones and Reeves felt they had been insulted, and turned away from the members of the junior society. They, too, were angry with Muggeridge, and left him out of their band in the next peals. Except when he was wanted at the heavy end at York Minster in 1787, and one other peal at Richmond, he did not ring another till 1790, and only four more after that. He died in 1825, and was buried at Southwark.

AN OLD GLOUCESTERSHIRE RING.LITTLE PARISH'S GREAT RESTORATION EFFORT.

The little parish of Bledington, in Gloucestershire, with a population of less than 350, has undertaken a big task in the restoration of its bells, a ring of five, all of the seventeenth century. Two of these old bells, and probably the other three, were cast at a long-forgotten foundry at Woodstock. The earliest bell is dated 1630, and two others 1639. The two last-named are respectively inscribed: 'We are the Bells of Bledington, 1639,' 'And Charles he is our King, 1639.'

The decay of the bell frame has prevented any proper ringing on the bells for many years. It is now proposed to recast the tenor into two smaller bells to make a ring of six and to provide a new bell in place of one of the older ones (temp. Charles I.), which it was originally intended to recast, but which is now, at the suggestion of the Diocesan Advisory Committee, to be preserved for its historical interest as a relic in the church. This modification will doubtless be acceptable both to those who are concerned for the preservation of historical memories and to those who are more interested in the tune of the ring, for the old bell is really past work. The necessary new material, however, will involve an additional cost of £40, making the total estimate for the new iron and steel framework, and the reconstituted ring of six up to £292, this being exclusive of a ringing floor, which is really desirable for the completion of the scheme, though the parish is willing to wait till funds allow of its erection.

The fund, up to date, stands at about £225, of which £175 has been raised by the parishioners themselves, and £50 has been generously subscribed so far from outside in response to an appeal. It is earnestly hoped that the need may now become known to others, who might be willing to supplement the efforts of the parishioners with substantial support, either towards the new bell (a gift of £40 would be treated as the gift of the bell), or to enable a satisfactory floor to be erected for the ringers.

For the information of those interested in bellringing it may be added that the work of restoration has been entrusted to Messrs. Thos. Bond and Sons, of the Burford foundry, and that the notes of the new ring will be: 1, D sharp (new); 2, C sharp (new); 3, B (old); 4, A sharp (new); 5, G sharp (old); 6 F sharp (old).

There should be many ringers who would like to assist in this praiseworthy restoration work, and contributions to the fund may be sent either to the Rev. S. Liberty, Vicar of Bledington, Kingham, Oxon, or to Lieut.-Col. S. M. Rice, hon. treasurer of the fund, Ivy Hall, Bledington.

Bledington Church, dating from the twelfth century, is well known to ecclesiologists for its preservation, unspoilt, of many interesting architectural features and mediæval adornments; the village gives its name to several of the folk dances and tunes now being revived by antiquaries; and it is no mere fancy to suppose that the sound of Bledington bells mingled with the day dream (see Macaulay's famous Essay) and memories of Warren Hastings, whose father was actually Vicar of Bledington at the time of the former's birth at Churchill in 1732. The parish has also had a long and close connection with Christ Church, Oxford, as landowners and patrons.

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.MR. C. D. POTTER'S BIG BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A very successful meeting of the Barnsley and District Association was held at Barnsley on Saturday, when members attended from Wath, Hoylandswaine, Penistone, Cawthorne, Friesland, Earlsheaton, Horbury, Sandal, Felkirk, Auston, Aston-under-Lyne, Ecclesfield, Rotherham, Royston and the local company, and the bells were kept going during the afternoon. Tea was served in the Parish Room, about 60 members and friends being present, by the kind invitation of Mr. C. D. Potter, to celebrate his birthday, which was on Wednesday, September 2nd.

At the business meeting held afterwards, Rev. Canon Hone (Rector of Barnsley) presided, and gave the members a hearty welcome. He added that he was pleased to say the ringing at St. Mary's (which had been very slack of late) was improving greatly, thanks to the energy of Mr. W. Farmer (late of Salisbury), who was working very hard to get a company together.

Five new members were elected, viz., one from Horbury and four from Barnsley.

Sandal and Wath were suggested for the next meeting, Sandal being chosen by a large majority.

Mr. Potter said he was pleased that so many had accepted his invitation, and he congratulated the Barnsley ringers on their progress.

Mr. Thickett (Horbury) moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Potter for entertaining the association in the way he had done, and also wished him 'many happy returns' of his birthday.—Mr. Wolstencroft, in seconding, said it was the first time he had been to Barnsley, and he was very pleased he had managed to be at such a gathering. He also extended thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, and the ladies who served the tea.—The thanks were suitably acknowledged.

Mr. W. Farmer thanked all who had helped him at Barnsley, and hoped they would continue to give him their assistance when it was convenient to do so, practice being on Friday evenings at 7.30.

During the evening, touches were rung on handbells in Major, Triples and Minor methods, and the tower bells were also kept going in various methods until about 9 p.m.

ESSEX, HERTS & MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATIONS.SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT WALTHAMSTOW.

The usual annual joint meeting of the neighbouring districts of the Essex, Herts and Middlesex Associations was held at St. Mary's Church, Walthamstow, on Saturday, and proved an attraction to ringers from near and far. The weather was none too kind, otherwise the attendance, which, as it was, exceeded 50, would probably have been greater. Ringing commenced about 3 p.m. at St. Mary's, and continued until the service at 4.30. The Vicar (Rev. G. D. Oakley), before a very helpful address, welcomed the many visitors. He said that whilst in the Chester diocese he was connected with the Diocesan Guild there, and it was very gratifying to him to find that similar Guilds existed in his new district.

After the service the whole company was entertained to tea in the Church House by Mr. and Mrs. Oakley, with the assistance of several friends to see that the wants of the visitors were satisfied.

Mr. E. J. Butler (district secretary, Essex Association) read a letter from Mr. W. Lawrence (Hertford Association), who was unable to be present owing to being away holiday making. Mr. Butler proposed a vote of thanks to the several clergy who had given the use of their bells for that afternoon's meeting; to the various towerkeepers; to Mr. Fred Maynard for arrangements at Walthamstow; to Mr. Erskine (organist); and last, but by no means least, to Mr. and Mrs. Oakley and their several friends for the excellent tea provided.

This was seconded by Mr. C. T. Coles (district secretary, Middlesex Association), who said that Mr. Oakley had met them very handsomely on an exceedingly busy day. There was a big wedding function at the Parochial Hall next door, another much more important wedding at the Vicarage itself, the Vicar's youngest son having been married that morning, and it was very kind of Mr. and Mrs. Oakley to spare the time to meet them.

The vote of thanks, on being put to the meeting, was carried with enthusiasm, and Mr. Oakley, in a humorous speech, replied. He repeated the welcome given in church, and expressed a hope that he would meet all present on future occasions.

A great deal of ringing took place during the afternoon and evening at St. Mary's and St. Saviour's Churches, Walthamstow, and also at Woodford, but disappointment met the few ringers who visited Leyton in the afternoon, where insufficient attended to ring the bells. Those present represented many towers in Essex, Herts and Middlesex, besides visitors from other parts, including an old friend from Cambridge.

Altogether this was a very pleasant meeting, quite up to the standard of the series, but it was to be regretted that the well-known London ringer who first suggested these joint meetings was again conspicuous by his absence.

CAMBRIDGE YOUTHS IN SUFFOLK.

Last year's successful half-day outing of the Cambridge Youths was extended this year to a whole day, and was spent in visiting various churches in West Suffolk. Favoured by fine weather, the party, 18 strong, left headquarters soon after 8.30 a.m. The first objective was Clare, which was reached by 10 a.m. A spare rope had to be requisitioned before ringing could be commenced owing to the heavyweights putting too much on the tenor. However, Mr. Ince came to the rescue, and Grandsire, Stedman and a course of Cambridge Surprise were rolled off before leaving for Long Melford. The cigarette and tobacco department having been replenished by the president, Clare was soon left behind a cloud of smoke. At Long Melford the visitors were met by Messrs. Ambrose and Richold, and touches of Stedman and Double Norwich were brought round on these melodious bells. After a damp course, the bus was steered towards Sudbury for lunch at the Bull Hotel. Soon after 2 p.m. the party ascended All Saints' tower, and the bells were set going to Grandsire and Stedman Triples. A move was then made to St. Gregory's, where Grandsire, Stedman and Superlative were tried with varying success. At St. Peter's, a meeting of the Suffolk Guild was in progress, and a course of Cambridge Surprise was brought round by the courtesy of those present. A call was made at Lavenham, where the beauties of the interior of the church were much admired, but the bells remained silent owing to the ravages of recent storms. A hunt round for tea eventually resulted in locating the Guildhall tearooms, where the host kindly accommodated the party with tea at very short notice. After friendly exchanges with the St. Peter Mancroft ringers, who were also on their outing, a move was made towards Bury St. Edmunds, where Mr. Goodship met the company in the Norman tower. A pleasant hour's ringing was indulged in here on the fine peal of ten. A final call was made at Kentford for a damp course and demolition of the copious supply of sandwiches which Mr. T. Cheney and his wife had prepared for use in emergency. The Vicar and president (Rev. E. C. Essex) here expressed his thanks to the organisers, and hoped that many more happy outings would take place during his presidency. Cambridge was reached punctually at 10 p.m., all agreeing that the second annual outing of the society had been a most enjoyable one. Thanks are also due to those Suffolk friends who assisted in the arrangements, and the Vicars for the use of the bells.

RINGERS' PRESENTATION TO RECTOR. 'WEDDING BELL WISHES.'

When the Rector of Southover Church, Lewes (the Rev. D. G. Matthews), and his wife returned from their honeymoon last week they had a cordial reception from their friends connected with the church and were welcomed by the ringing of the bells of the Parish Church.

The bellringers, of whom the Rector is justly proud, were anxious that they should be the first to officially greet him and his own charming 'belle,' and a little ceremony took place in the belfry. It was quite an informal affair, but it, nevertheless, showed the great affection which already exists between the Rector and his workers. As a permanent mark of the happy event the Rev. D. G. Matthews and his wife were presented with a handsome silver ink-stand fashioned in the shape of a bell, which was inscribed as follows: 'With wedding bell wishes, to the Rev. D. G. Matthews, M.A.; 12.8.31. From the Southover Ringers.'

In addition to the bellringers there was also present Mr. J. T. Glandfield.

The Rector and his wife were greeted with hearty applause as they entered the belfry, and the Rev. D. G. Matthews said it was nice to be back again after 'a jolly good honeymoon, in spite of the weather.' He wished, on behalf of his wife and himself, to thank them for ringing the bells. They had not been quite prepared for such a reception, and they were delighted to hear the bells as they came along. In his last parish (Mitcham, Surrey) he held great affection for his ringers, and one of his regrets at leaving was because he would sever that connection. He had found, however, that the Southover ringers were quite as good. He could not express what his wife and he felt on an occasion like that.

Mr. J. C. Rugg (hon. secretary) said the meeting that evening was rather an informal affair, but the ringers felt they would like to be the first to welcome the Rector and his wife. They offered them both their most hearty congratulations and best wishes for every possible success in the future.

Mr. R. J. Dawe, in handing over the gift, said it gave him great pleasure to make the presentation on behalf of the bellringers, and he wished the Rector and his wife good health and happiness through life.

The Rev. D. G. Matthews, in returning thanks, said no more suitable gift could have been chosen. It was a souvenir of their real and happy friendship, and he really did appreciate friendship. It was one of the greatest things in life, and they could show it to one another in a variety of ways. It would always remind them of a very happy occasion—one of the happiest in their lives. He wished the people of Southover and of Lewes generally to know that his wife and he tremendously appreciated that welcome back, and he was sure they were all going to have very happy times together.

Mr. J. T. Glandfield also spoke briefly, and said he hoped the Rector would transfer some of the affection he held for his former bellringers to those at Southover.

Earlier in the evening a quarter-peat of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) was rung in forty-four mins.: J. E. A. Wilmshurst 1, A. J. Morris 2, C. J. Rugg 3, A. J. Turner 4, D. H. S. White 5, R. C. Hide 6, R. J. Dawe (conductor) 7, G. P. Elphick 8.

ST. CLEMENT'S, IPSWICH.

OFFER OF TREBLES REFUSED THROUGH TOWER WEAKNESS.

Although ringing has been suspended since June, 1930, owing to the defective tower, the ringers of St. Clement's, Ipswich, decided to keep together for the usual outing, which took the form of a tour in Essex. They were accompanied by two members of the Rushmere company, who have kindly placed their tower at the disposal of the Ipswich band during repairs to St. Clement's tower. The party, numbering fifteen, first called at St. Leonard's, Colchester (6), then on to Great Tey, where the two visitors had their first ring on eight and rang Bob Major well. After ringing on the heavy six (tenor 21 cwt.) at Kelvedon and dinner at Feering, they were met at the tower by those well-known ringers, Messrs. W. Keeble and W. Newman, and ringing took place on the peal of eight. Ingrave (5) was the next stop for a pull on the good but very noisy peal. Other towers visited were Great Totham and Goldhanger, and tea followed at Tollesbury. This is a little fishing town at the mouth of the River Blackwater, and the views out to sea and of the river were enjoyed, as were also the shrimps caught that morning for tea. The light ring of six (tenor 6 cwt.) were afterwards set going, the 'go' being excellent. Starting for home again, a call was made at Tolleshunt D'Arcy—a light ring of six with long draft and no guides. The return was made via Peldon, Wigborough, Aberton to Colchester, which was reached at 8 o'clock. Here Mr. Bumpstead was waiting to welcome the party at St. Peter's, but a broken rope soon ended a good day's ringing. However, all had a pull before leaving. The journey to Ipswich was continued via Ardleigh, Lawford, Manningtree, everyone agreeing it had been the best outing they had had.

It is hoped that the extensive repairs to the tower will be completed and the bells ringing again early in the new year, if not before. It is to be regretted that owing to the weak state of the tower the two trebles offered by an outside benefactor cannot be accepted, although the frame for eight is already installed.

A HUNDRED MILES THROUGH HAMPSHIRE.

The ringers of St. Andrew's Church, Farnham, had their ninth annual outing on Saturday, August 22nd, and made a ringing tour through part of Hampshire. The party, including Messrs. Dwyer (2), of Aldershot, Mr. Alexander, of the Farnborough band, and a number of friends, totalling in all 27, left Farnham at 8 a.m. in a motor bus for Basingstoke, where at All Saints' Church the peal of eight (tenor 12 cwt.) were set going to Stedman Triples. Short touches of Grandsire, Plain Bob and Double Norwich were also brought round. Whitchurch was the next call. On the peal of eight (tenor 16½ cwt.) Kent and Oxford Treble Bob were rung, also a short touch of Grandsire for the younger hands. The deadening of the sound of the bells in the ringing chamber at this church is ideal, and all the ringers present said it was the quietest place in which they had ever rung. The party then proceeded to Andover, and a half-hour was spent ringing on the bells (tenor 15 cwt.) at St. Mary's Church. Here some difficulty was at first experienced by the party, owing to the bells running backward, and the clock case, which is in the middle of the circle, obstructing the view of the ropes, but touches of Stedman and Double Norwich were eventually brought round successfully. A move was then made for the Western Cafe, where the party were met by the Rector of Farnham, Canon Girling, and Miss Girling, who joined them at lunch.

After justice had been done to the good fare provided, the Rector, in a brief speech, said how much he appreciated the service the ringers rendered to the church, and especially in connection with the extra 8 o'clock Sunday evening services which preceded the one which was broadcast on Trinity Sunday. He was sorry the bells could not be included on that occasion, but the B.H.C. would not include the ringing until their engineers had heard and were satisfied with the bells for broadcasting purposes, but he could now assure the ringers that when the next service from Farnham Church was broadcast the bells would be included. In conclusion, he said he was sorry he could not join the party for the whole of the trip, but he was short-handed and could not spare the time, so the best he could do was to join them at lunch, which had been a great pleasure to both himself and Miss Girling.

After the Rector had taken his leave, the party made for Romsey, where a pleasant hour was spent by the ringers in ringing the Abbey bells (tenor 25½ cwt.), whilst the rest of the party inspected the grand old building. Hursley was the next 'port of call,' and here the handy little peal of eight were kept going to short touches in different methods for about 40 minutes, which finished the ringing for the day. From here the journey was continued to Winchester, which was reached at 5.45 p.m., and a halt of 2 hours was made for tea and a general look round, the Cathedral being the object of interest to most of the party. The journey home was through Alresford and Aiton, and Farnham was reached safely at 9.30 p.m.

The party was favoured with a fine day, a good conveyance and a good driver, which, together with the scenery through which the tour of about 100 miles was made, contributed to a very pleasant day, everybody in the party having thoroughly enjoyed themselves and voted it the best outing the Farnham band have ever had. The party would like, through the columns of 'The Ringing World,' to thank the incumbents of the churches for giving them permission to use the bells, also the members of the local bands who met them and had everything in readiness, thus helping to make the outing the success it was. THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL, the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

AN ASTOUNDING PROPOSAL.

Nearly two centuries ago, in the year 1741, to be exact, two peals of Treble Bob Royal were rung at St. Sepulchre's Church, London, the first by the Eastern Scholars, the second by the College Youths. For each of these performances a board was erected, but on that which commemorated the College Youths' peal this couplet was added:—

'When merit's justly due, a little praise then serveth;

Whether the implication concerns a false peal, as was for long generally supposed, or a badly struck one, as some later historians have thought to be the case, is of no particular consequence, but this ancient rhyme is brought to mind by the astounding proposal that a tablet should be erected by public subscription at Painswick 'to commemorate the ringing of 17,687 changes of Grandsire Cinques in 11 hrs. 36 mins. on November 8th, 1930.' A faculty has been granted to two Painswick gentlemen in order that the tablet may be placed on the south wall of the Parish Church. Unless the tablet is to record the true facts of what happened, in order that future generations may commiserate with the band who performed this great but wasted feat of endurance, the proposal is surely a crowning folly to a fiasco which would be better buried in the limbo of the forgotten past. There was a point up to which the Exercise at large sympathised to the full with those who had taken part in this greatest of all false peals. The claim afterwards made that it still stood as the greatest number of changes rung on twelve bells caused some of that sympathy to evaporate, but the whole thing will be brought to ridicule if this suggestion, to commemorate it by a tablet in a conspicuous part of the church, is carried through.

Until the actual wording of the tablet is known, criticism must be restricted, because it may be the intention of the promoters to record the real facts, but no condemnation from ringers will be severe enough if an attempt is made to represent this false peal as a performance which has any merit in the history and records of the art. To commemorate it as such by 'public' subscription would be an imposition on the ignorance and generosity of the public which nothing could justify. The thing to do with a false peal is to expunge the record, not perpetuate it, and, whatever may be the actual form of the ultimate wording on the tablet, we doubt if a false peal, whatever its length, can justify a commemorative stone. The faculty has been granted to Mr. S. G. Goulding and Mr. H. J. Birt. If these gentlemen are ringers, they should know what the opinion of the Exercise would be; for our part we cannot imagine that the majority of those who took part in the 'peal' can have acquiesced in the proposal. Would it not be better to drop the idea at once, and leave the '17,687 Grandsire Cinques' as an unpleasant memory? If the people of Painswick are so intensely interested as to be desirous of providing a tablet for a false peal, they ought to be sufficiently keen to see a true one of the same or a longer length rung. There would then be something really worth commemorating, but unless the tablet concerning last year's peal is worded strictly in accordance with the facts, even the record of a wonderful feat of physical endurance would not justify it, for it would be misleading to future generations.

THE NEW 'COLLECTION.'

CARTER'S PRINCIPLE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Many years ago I pointed out in the 'Bell News' that Carter's Principle, when correctly given, has coursing order division heads. As lately as 24th August, 1928, I gave in 'The Ringing World' the first divisions of Carter's Doubles, Triples, Caters and Cinques, and the figures I gave agreed with the method given in the 1907 book as CARTER'S DOUBLES.

In the new book just issued the Reverse of 1907 is given as the method, and the method of 1907 is given as the Reverse. Why this alteration? Perhaps the committee will kindly enlighten us and also say why they give the one in its correct form and not the other.

Below I give the method and its reverse in the form that I have known it for very many years.—Yours faithfully,

GEORGE BAKER.

Carter's Principle as in 1907 Collection, but given correctly:—

The Method.	Reverse.
12345	12345
21354	21354
12534	23145
15243	32415
51234	23451
15324	24315
51342	42351
15432	43215
51423	34251
54132	43521
45312	45312

N.B.—It should be obvious to everyone that Carter's Principle is REVERSE STEDMAN DOUBLES by altering head from 53412 to 45231, and the Reverse of Carter's Principle is Stedman Doubles by altering head from 45231 to 53412.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD.MEMBERS ENTERTAINED AT TIPTON.

The quarterly meeting of the Dudley and District Guild was held on Saturday, September 5th, at St. Martin's Church, Tipton (Staffs), the bells being at the disposal of the members from 3 o'clock. The Guild's beautiful form of service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. G. R. Mortimore), who also gave a very interesting and helpful address. At the close of the service an adjournment was made to the schoolroom, where a bounteous tea was in readiness.

The usual business meeting followed, at which the chair was taken by the Vicar, who gave a right cordial welcome to the members on behalf of himself, the churchwardens and other church officials. Mr. Harry Mason wrote regretting his inability to be present. Several new members were added to the roll, including the Vicar as an honorary member.

It was resolved to hold the next meeting at Sedgley, subject to the usual permission being obtained. It was also decided to attempt the quarterly peal at Tipton, the date and arrangements being left in the hands of the ringing master (Mr. John Goodman, jun.).

At the close of the meeting, on the proposition of Mr. S. J. Hughes, seconded by Mr. Parley, a hearty vote of thanks was given to the Vicar of Tipton for his warm welcome, for his kindness in granting permission to hold this meeting at his church, for conducting the service and his eloquent address, for the use of the tower and bells, and the schoolroom in which to hold the tea and meeting. Thanks were also accorded to the organist for the musical part of the service, and special thanks were given to the donors of the tea and to the ladies who had kindly prepared and served the meal. Thanks were also extended to Mr. Geo. Hughes, the energetic secretary of the local band, for making the necessary arrangements, and to his willing band of helpers, also to everyone who had in any way assisted in making the meeting a happy and successful one.—The Vicar briefly replied on behalf of himself and all concerned.

Those present then joined in singing the National Anthem and the meeting closed with prayer. Afterwards the members kept the bells merrily going until nearly 9 o'clock.

FIRST QUARTER OF STEDMAN AT 74.

Mr. W. Pittman, of Weston-super-Mare, has rung his first quarter-peal of Stedman at the age of 74 years, and he is to be congratulated on such a performance. The quarter-peal was rung at St. John's Church, Weston, on September 10th, by A. E. Parsons (Old Hill) 1, H. G. Bird (Worcester) 2, J. Preston (Erdington) 3, A. Wilkerson 4, E. B. Crouder (St. John's, Deptford) 5, E. Parker (conductor) 6, W. Pittman 7, J. R. Jones 8.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

No doubt the inclement weather had an effect on the attendance at the meeting of the South-Western Division at North Weald on Saturday, only 14 stalwarts from Bentley, Barking, Romford, Leytonstone and Sible Hedingham braving the elements. However, those who did attend made the best of it and it enabled several to enjoy their first touches of various Minor methods, the bells being kept going till the service, which was conducted by the Vicar, who gave an inspiring address. Tea followed in a well-known cottage near by, thus bringing back to several present the memory of many pleasant hours spent therein on previous visits.

At the meeting three new members were elected and Romford chosen for the next meeting (the district annual), to be held, if possible, on Saturday, November 21st next.

The proceedings terminated with a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar (the Rev. O. Gosney) for kindly granting use of tower and bells and for conducting the service and presiding at the meeting, Miss Brown for kindly playing the organ, Mrs. and Miss Gridley for arranging the tea, and last, but not least, to the local secretary, Mr. S. Blatch, for having everything in readiness.

The Vicar, in replying, said how pleased they all were to welcome the association to North Weald again, and, despite the miserable weather, he hoped that it would not damp their spirits, but that they should arrange to pay another visit as soon as possible, when, perhaps, the weather would be a trifle kinder.

After the meeting the bells were made use of till 8 p.m., when those of the stalwarts who had arrived by train were given a hearty send off to cheer them on their mile and a half tramp across the fields to North Weald Station, which was accomplished with a few minutes to spare.

MUFFLED BELLS.

With the bells half-muffled in memory of Mr. E. Murgatroyd, late a member of the local company, touches were rung at the Parish Church, Shipley, on Sunday, August 30th, as follows: 504 Stedman Triples: H. Foster 1, J. Briggs 2, E. H. Simpson 3, E. Jenkins 4, H. Stott 5, F. Seager 6, T. B. Kendall (conductor) 7, A. Trotter 8. 672 Double Norwich Major: H. Foster 1, T. King 2, H. Haigh 3, T. B. Kendall 4, H. Stott 5, F. Seager 6, E. Jenkins 7, E. H. Simpson (conductor) 8.

CRANBROOK, KENT.—On Sunday, August 30th, for morning service, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes): F. White 1, C. W. A. Brown 2, F. J. Lambert 3, F. Bennett 4, W. Button 5, T. E. Sone 6, C. W. Player (conductor) 7, F. Parker (first quarter-peal) 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The Irish tour finished last Saturday in Dublin. Six counties were visited and a peal rung in each, there being in all nine successful attempts out of twelve.

In the report of the peal at Great Addington in our last issue, an asterisk, denoting the first peal of Surprise Minor, was placed against the ringer of the treble instead of the 2nd (Mr. A. E. Bull).

The meeting of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford on September 26th is at Ponkridge, not Pembridge, as stated in the notice last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Budd, of Grimsby, have just celebrated their silver wedding, and their ringing friends will join in wishing them many future years of happiness. A peal in honour of the event was rung at St. James' Church, Grimsby, on Thursday week, and the ringers were afterwards entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Budd.

The many friends of Mr. G. R. Fardon, of London, will regret to learn that he is in hospital, with two fractured ribs, as the result of a fall from a step-ladder.

The dedication of two new treble bells at Husbome Crawley, Beds, is to take place on Sunday, October 4th, at 3 p.m. They will raise the existing ring (tenor 18½ cwt.) to an octave. The work has been carried out by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and the dedication will be performed by the Assistant Bishop, the Right Rev. G. H. Lander.

The peal at Willey, Salop, recorded last week, was not the first on five bells in the county. A peal on the ring of five at Leaton was rung on July 1st, 1922.

Ten Nottingham and three Newark men opened the new peal of ten bells at Grantham on September 19th, 1925. It took all 13 of them to get the bells through a peal of Grandsire Caters, there being two men on the 9th and three on the tenor. What would be said of bellhangers in these days if a new ring of bells took that amount of handling?

The first peal of Double Norwich Caters was rung at St. Stephen's, Bristol, on September 22nd, 1894.

CLAIMS SURRENDERED.

Of the three peals of Grandsire Triples by Mr. G. Lindoff, published in our issue of August 21st, Nos. 1 and 2 had been previously obtained by Mr. J. Pigott, of Birmingham, and Mr. Lindoff renounces his claim to them, retaining No. 3 as his composition.

Mr. J. W. Moorhouse writes that he is informed by Mr. W. Willson, of Leicester, that the four-part peal of Bob Royal published in our issue of September 4th was published by Mr. Willson on September 17th, 1898. Mr. Moorhouse, therefore, surrenders his claim to this composition, but in fairness to himself he wishes to add that he carefully looked through the Collection of Peals before publishing.

PROPOSED TABLET FOR FALSE PEAL.

Under the heading of 'Painswick Record Peal: Memorial Tablet in Parish Church,' the following paragraph appeared in the 'Gloucester Citizen':—

'A faculty has been granted to Mr. S. G. Goulding, of Butt Green, Painswick, and Mr. H. J. Birt, of Tibiwell Gardens, Painswick, for the erection on the south wall of the Parish Church of a Painswick stone tablet, to commemorate the ringing of 17,687 changes of Grandsire Cinques in 11 hours 36 minutes on November 8th, 1930. The cost, £25 12s., will be defrayed by public subscription.'

The proposal is dealt with in our leading article.

A FOUNDER OF THE NORTH STAFFS ASSOCIATION.

The 70th birthday of Mr. George Walker, of Norton-le-Moors, Staffs, a native of the village, was celebrated on Saturday, September 12th. Mr. Walker was one of the founders of the North Staffordshire Association in the year 1883, and he is one of the old school of ringers who were attached to the Parish Church of St. Bartholomew. Apart from his ringing, Mr. Walker faithfully served his beloved church in other capacities, both in service and in kind. A very substantial sum was received from him towards the recent recasting of Norton bells.

The new school of ringers to honour Mr. Walker's birthday rang for divine service in the evening on Sunday, September 13th, a 720 of Biddulph Double Surprise Minor: O. Williams 1, J. W. Walker 2, F. Triner (a former ringer at Norton and who was on a visit) 3, J. E. Wheelodon (conductor) 4, W. C. Lawrence 5, J. Walley 6. A message was afterwards conveyed to Mr. Walker from the ringers expressing the hope that he may yet enjoy many more happy returns of his birthday.

A HALF PEAL.

On Friday evening, September 11th, the Claines ringers rang a half-peal of Grandsire Triples (2,520 changes) in 1 hour 37 minutes. The bells were rung half-muffled as a last tribute of respect to the late Mrs. Whinfield, who was interred on this date. The deceased was the widow of the late Mr. A. H. Whinfield, who was organist at Claines Church from 1898 to 1917. The ringers were: E. Wilson 1, G. Checketts (conductor) 2, L. Dowdeswell 3, A. Barton 4, R. Sayers 5, W. Lawrence 6, R. Woodyatt 7, F. Yates 8. This was the longest length of Triples by W. Lawrence, also the first half-peal on the bells.

THE STEDMAN TERCENTENARY.

ST. BENE'T'S BELLS TO BE REOPENED ON DECEMBER 5th.

The dismantling of the bells at St. Bene't's Church, Cambridge, will be completed in a few days, and the bells and frame removed to the Loughborough Foundry for refitting. While these are in the hands of Messrs. Taylor and Co. the builders will be busy in constructing the reinforced concrete corbel course, which is to carry the frame when it is re-erected in the tower, and every effort is being made to get the work completed as expeditiously as possible.

The date of the reopening is tentatively fixed for Saturday, December 5th. Several factors make it necessary to carry the date as far forward as this, chief among them being that the contractors shall have ample time to complete their work, and that the great gathering of ringers which will assemble for the commemoration of Stedman's Tercentenary will not find the facilities for ringing in Cambridge hampered by any restrictions necessitated by the University term.

It is hoped that the delay which has been forced upon the committee will not greatly affect the attendance at the ceremony. In these days of comfortable travel by train or coach, to say nothing of the unquenchable enthusiasm of ringers, the gathering is likely to lose little of its size or representative nature by the postponement, and the plans which were being made for the end of September can be adapted to the beginning of December.

Ringers and those responsible for ringing arrangements are asked to reserve the date, and details of the programme will be announced as soon as possible.

Contributions to the fund which have been promised but not yet forwarded should be sent without delay to or to the hon. treasurer, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Broadlands, Caversham, Reading. It is not too late for any who have not yet subscribed, and who would like to be identified with the scheme, to contribute to the fund.
The Editor,

'The Ringing World,'

Woking, Surrey,

SURREY ASSOCIATION.SOUTHERN DISTRICT MEMBERS DEFY THE RAIN.

A meeting of the Southern District was held on Saturday at Limpsfield Chart. The ringers who put in an appearance rather surprised those responsible for the arrangements, some presenting themselves after one and a half miles' walk from the bus across the common in pouring rain and wet through. Even the downpour did not damp the spirits of those 28 ringers who journeyed from Buckland, St. John's, Croydon, Deal, East Grinstead, Godstone, Horley, Hartfield, Reigate, Redhill, Turners Hill and Westerham, and the bells were rung in the standard methods. At the service the Rev. Melville Williams (curate-in-charge at Limpsfield Chart) welcomed the association to Limpsfield.

After the service the party adjourned to the Village Hall for tea. The business followed, the Master of the Southern District (Mr. R. Thorpe) occupying the chair.

The ratification of Mr. J. Edwards and Mr. E. Everest as members was confirmed, they having been proposed previous to a peal at Limpsfield Chart.

The next meeting is to be held at Redhill in November.

The meeting terminated with a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. Melville Williams for the use of the bells and for his address at the service. A hearty vote of thanks was also accorded Mrs. Leonard Tidy for undertaking the catering, and to the ladies for waiting at the tea table.

The ringers returned to the tower once again in the rain and kept the bells going till about 8 o'clock. The five that were left indulged in some handbell ringing, and after some Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Minor had been brought round, they also departed for home.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD'S HISTORY.AN INTERESTING JUBILEE VOLUME.

Cambridge University Guild has given many distinguished ringers to the Exercise, and the art owes a great deal in many ways to men who received their initiation into ringing or had their interest stimulated by joining its ranks during their sojourn at the University. Two years ago the Guild celebrated its jubilee, and there has now been published a most interesting history of this first 50 years of the Guild's existence. The work of collecting the material and writing the book was undertaken by the Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake, M.A., Rector of Watlington, Norfolk, and now general secretary of the Ely Diocesan Association, and he completed his task with an obvious keenness and enthusiasm. And what is more, he is not only author, but printer as well, and those who peruse this little volume of 85 octavo pages will do so not only with delight, but with a ready indulgence of any shortcomings on the technical side of the production.

Bound in a cover of Cambridge blue, the history is divided into periods, each recording the ups and downs inseparable from a society carried on under such conditions, and the first of these is by no means the least interesting. In it we learn how Mr. W. C. Pearson, of Clare College (now Vicar of Henley, near Ipswich), having begun to ring at home, attempted to form a ringing society, and succeeded, with the aid of A. C. Holthouse (Clare), in making a start. At a meeting in Clare College with five present on February 4th, 1879, it was resolved 'to form a society for the purpose of practising change ringing.' Originally the title was 'The Clare Association of Ringers,' but within a week it was changed to 'The University Guild of Change Ringers.' The rules made it open only to members of the university, but a little later its scope was extended to embrace as life members all who were active members at the time of going down.

The history takes up step by step through the good years and the 'lean' years, reminding us sometimes of peals, sometimes of touches which marked advances in the activities of the Guild, and shows also that the members often set a lead to the Exercise, as, for instance, when they rang in 1891 the first peal of Double Norwich Major on handbells. And through all this long period of 50 years the devoted enthusiasm and guiding and encouraging spirit of the Rev. A. H. Boughey is noticeable. He has been the mainstay; indeed, one might almost say the bedrock on which the Guild has been built up until, in influence, it occupies an almost unexampled position in the Exercise.

The Guild's annual tours naturally receive much attention, and many amusing experiences are recounted, such, for instance, as that at Dunstable, during one of these tours, when the curate endeavoured to push on the trap door to enter the ringing room, and the 7th man jumped off his box on to the rising trap; and again at Middlewich, when the ringing is reported to have called out the fire brigade. At one period, when much handbell ringing was being done in term time, there was a conveniently undated authority in use, for display on the doorway, permitting 'music,' in order to prevent interruptions by college authorities. In the graver side of the history we learn that 118 members of the Guild served in the war; of these, six were killed in action and nine more died of wounds.

The volume, published at 5s. and obtainable only from the author, will interest ringers generally as well as members of the Guild, and is a valuable contribution to the modern history of ringing. Mr. Tyrwhitt-Drake tells us in the preface that the work was undertaken because it was generally felt that an attempt ought to be made to put on record the 50 years' history of the Guild whilst the founder and other original members are still with us. It would be well if other ringing organisations, with their roots half a century deep in the soil of ringing, would follow the example of the Cambridge University Guild, and particularly would we commend this to the Oxford University Society, about whose early history Canon Coleridge whetted our appetites at the Oxford Guild jubilee gathering.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.ARCHDEACONRY OF ELY.

The quarterly meeting for the Archdeaconry of Ely was held at Ickleton on Saturday, when members were present from Cambridge, Chrishall, Elmdon, Fulbourne, Melbourn, Over, Sawston, Stapleford, Trumpington and the local band. A service was conducted by the Vicar, who gave a very helpful address on perseverance. Mr. H. J. Hazel, A.L.C.M., was at the organ.

Mr. A. E. Austin, district ringing master, presided over the business. It was decided to visit Sawston in October if possible. Regret was expressed that a peal attempt clashed with this meeting, thus rendering the attendance somewhat small.

Messrs. R. C. Sharpe and L. Warner, of Newmarket, and S. Brown, of Exning, were elected non-resident life members.

The district secretary was asked to send a letter of sympathy to the relatives of the late Mr. E. Izzard, a member of the Bourn band, who was killed while motor-cycling, and the company stood in silence as a mark of respect.

The bells were kept going until 8.40 p.m., the methods being Grand-sire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Double Norwich, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

XIV. THE END OF THE ANCIENT SOCIETY.

On Monday, May 28th, 1787, the old Society rang the first peal of Stedman Caters ever accomplished. This was at St. John's, Horsleydown, a new church in the borough of Southwark, where four years before William Mears, of Whitechapel, had put up a ring of ten. These bells have been unringable now for many years, and there are very few living ringers who have heard them.

A peal of Stedman Caters is no great thing nowadays; but we must remember that the first performance is always much more difficult than any other. We find it so in our own peal ringing, and what is true of us individually is true of the Exercise as a whole; the more peals are rung in any method the easier they become.

The board which records this peal is the first which calls the society the ancient Society of College Youths. The adjective is not merely decorative or honorific. It means that the peal was rung by the old, original society and not by the other one which was using the same title.

John Reeves composed the peal and called it from the treble. The other bells were rung by Anderson, Jenkins, Inville, Heap, Williamson, Grant, Christopher Wells, Loundes and Webb. Blakemore did not ring. Although still a member of the old society, he was philandering with the junior company. Later on in the year he called some peals for them.

Having rung Caters, the next thing to be done was Stedman Cinques, and this was the rock on which the Society split. For some time members of the junior society had been coming to the practices at St. Martin's. Some of the band were glad to see them, some were not, and Jones and Reeves had not forgotten or forgiven the Birmingham incident. Disputes followed, and over all was the rivalry between Jones and Blakemore for the conductorship. The dispute took the usual course and ended in a row and secession. Curiously enough Blakemore was the first to go. He joined the Cumberlands on June 25th, 1787, and called a peal of Grandsire Caters for them at Spitalfields. They, too, were practising Stedman, and so long as he could call the peal, it was all the same to him which company it was with. His departure was the signal for a general scuttle. On July 14th Reeves went over to the Cumberlands and his old society received him with open arms. He had only been a member for a month when John Frazier, the Warner, resigned so that he could take office, and in a year's time he called their first peals of Stedman Caters and Norwich Court Bob Major.

Blakemore had left the College Youths because there was not room enough for him and Reeves, and now the latter had followed him to the Cumberlands. That by no means suited Blakemore's views, and so he speedily forsook his new companions and went back to the junior College Youths, where he was made welcome. Seeing that both Cumberlands and College Youths had already experienced conductors among them, it seems rather strange that these two men could walk into a new society and at once take over the calling. The truth was that there were no peals of Stedman for the others to call. Reeves and Blakemore were the only men who knew anything about Stedman composition, and the recent experience of Treble Bob had taught men to be wary of making experiments in methods they did not fully understand.

Anderson and Allen Grant joined the Cumberlands; Christopher Wells and the rank and file of the old Society threw in their lot with the junior society. With them went the practice at St. Martin's. So that in a month or two the band which William Jones had got together, and for long kept together, was shattered to bits.

Soon after this the junior society received an invitation to pay a visit to Yorkshire and assist at the opening of the new ring of bells at Halifax. They made up a band and asked some of their new recruits to go with them. The party included, among others, Donkin, Monk, Lyford, Holdsworth, Inville, Muggeridge and Blakemore. On the way they were joined by William Doubleday Crofts, the Nottingham attorney. Two years before Crofts had been up in town and rung a peal of Grandsire Caters at Horsleydown. The following is from the peal book:—

'Hallifax in Yorkshire. October 10, 1787.

The succeeding day of opening the new Bells, was rung by the College Youths, a complete peal of 5088. Treble Bob in 15 Courses with the 6th at home nine times wrong and 12 times right, the bobs all call'd while the Tenors were above 4th place and was the first peal ever rung in that county. Time 3 hrs. and 15 mts. (Clavis, p. 128). Robert Pye Donkin 1. Thomas Blakemore 2. John Inville 3. Joseph Monk 4. William Lyford 5. George Webb 6. Joseph Holdsworth 7. Samuel Muggeridge Tenor. Composed and Call'd by Mr. Thomas Blakemore.' (Note 20.)

From Halifax they went on to York, where, on the 12th, they rang 5,185 Grandsire Caters. Blakemore called this, too, from the second. Three men were required to ring the tenor, Crofts being one. Muggeridge rang the ninth.

The ringing attracted a lot of attention in the city, and the news soon got spread about that an extraordinary performance had been done on the Minster bells by the celebrated College Youths of London. The Archbishop heard of it and sent them a couple of guineas. 'They very kindly thanked his Lordship for this mark of esteem, but refused to accept his money, which was directly returned to his Lordship, at the same time giving him to understand in a very polite manner that they were not of that class of ringers who practised ringing for the sake of what they could get by it.' (Note 21.)

The old Society was now in a desperate condition. The leaders had forsaken it, the rank and file had gone, the tower was lost. Early in 1788, when the weekly meetings at The Barn came round, only two or three members turned up. What was to be done? The scene is rather dramatic. Two or three obscure and disappointed men had to decide the fate of the oldest and proudest society in the Exercise. There were two things they could have done. They could have gone over to the junior society and formally joined with them. Or they could have done as their predecessors of 1756 did—sit still and wait for better times, hoping that the Society's prestige and its outside members would in time save it. They did neither. Personal feeling was far too strong for the first, and they were not big enough men for the other. After all, it was a pretty hopeless task to

SWANSEA AND BRECON DIOCESAN GUILD.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT MEETING AT FIVE-BELL TOWER.

A meeting of the Southern District of the Swansea and Brecon Guild was held at Burryport, a five-bell tower, on Saturday, September 5th, when members attended from Aberavon, Llangelfolach, Gorseinon, Llanelly, Llanstephen and the local band. A short service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. D. J. Morgan), assisted by the curate (the Rev. D. J. Evans). A very hearty welcome was extended to the Guild on their first visit to the parish by the Vicar, who also gave a very helpful address. Tea, at Howo's Cafe, had been very kindly provided by the church members, and their hospitality was very much appreciated and enjoyed.

The Vicar took the chair at the short business meeting, when Neath was chosen for the next meeting in December.

The bells of Burryport are in much need of the bellhanger and an extra bell or three bells to make a peal of six or eight. Little hope for this, however, was given by the Vicar, who said that funds were low and that a new organ was before the bells.

Five new members were made from Burryport, including the Vicar and curate, and it was hoped that the other three ringers who were not at the meeting would join as well.

A vote of thanks was proposed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, conducting the service, taking the chair at the meeting and for his kind welcome to members of the Guild, to the curate for his part in the service and his presence, and to the church members for the tea.—The Vicar, in reply, said he was very pleased to have the Guild there and to make their visit a pleasant one, and he would convey the ringers' thanks to the church members for the tea. He would be pleased to extend a welcome to them again at any time they cared to come, but he would not promise that another bell would be there on the next visit.

Some of the ringers went on to Pembley to have a ring on the three bells there.

FATHER AND SON'S RECORD.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY PEALS TOGETHER.

A peal of Bristol Surprise Major rung at Westerham, Kent, on Saturday, was the 150th in which Mr. T. Groombridge, sen., and his son, Mr. T. Groombridge, jun., have rung together. It is a record which has seldom been equalled. Of the total, 43 peals have been conducted by the father and 44 by the son, and the list is as follows:—

On tower bells: Grandsire Triples 15, Grandsire Caters 1, Stedman Triples *31, Stedman Caters 1, Stedman Cinques 14, Plain Bob Major 6, Plain Bob Maximus 1, Oxford Treble Bob Major 1, Treble Bob Minor 1, Kent Treble Bob Major 9, Kent Treble Bob Royal 2, Kent Treble Bob Maximus 1, Hereward Major 1, Double Oxford Major 1, Double Norwich Major *16, Duffield Royal 1, New Cumberland Surprise Major 1, Superlative Surprise Major *4, London Surprise Major 6, Bristol Surprise Major 6, Cambridge Surprise Minor 1, Cambridge Surprise Major *20, Cambridge Surprise Royal 2, Cambridge Surprise Maximus 7.

On handbells: Grandsire Triples 2, Plain Bob Major 5, Plain Bob Royal 3, Granta Treble Bob Major 1; total 150.

try and run a ringing society with about three members and no tower. The fate of all London societies was, sooner or later, to expire. The London Scholars were gone, and the Union Scholars, and the British Scholars, and the Eastern Scholars, and only just recently the London Youths. It was now the turn of the College Youths.

The Master that year was William Irons. Of him little or nothing is known, for he did not ring peals and his name appears in no records. The Society owed a few small debts, and Irons offered to pay them if he could have the property. The offer was accepted and the Society wound up.

The property consisted of a set of handbells, a small peal book recording performances from 1776, a name book, and the records of the Eastern Scholars. To mark his ownership Irons wrote his name on the front page of each of these books. The Eastern Scholars' book is the only one of them which has survived intact, and in it you may still read 'Mr. William Irons, Hiss Book.' (Note 22).

NOTE 20. There is a peal board at Sheffield, dated March 8th, 1785, recording a peal of 5,120 Union Treble Bob.

NOTE 21. The A.S.C.Y. official book, 1928, says 'they were entertained by the Archbishop of York.' The 1894 edition says 'they were received and entertained with marked distinction by the Archbishop of York.'

NORTH NOTTS RINGING CONTEST.

ORDSALL AGAIN WINNERS.

A large number of ringers visited East Markham on Saturday week to ring in and witness the fourth contest for the Crawford Silver Cup. This cup was presented to the North Notts Association in 1928, to be competed for each year by the affiliated towers. The donor of this trophy, Mr. A. Crawford, of Rampton, gave the cup in memory of his father, Mr. C. Crawford, of East Markham, who was one of the most enthusiastic men in North Nottinghamshire in the advancement of the art of change ringing, and was well known throughout the bounds of the society.

Ringers were present from Anston, Bolsover, Collingham, Edwinstowe, Gamston, Ordsall, Sutton-on-Trent, Shireoaks, Worksop, Wheatley and Treeton, with a full band of local ringers. Mr. J. R. Brearly again officiated as judge.

A short service was held at 5.20 p.m., the Rev. R. E. Rogerson, Vicar of East Markham, officiating.

Tea was taken in the Parish Hall and was followed by a business meeting, presided over by the Vicar, supported by the Rev. R. F. Wilkinson, Mrs. C. Crawford, Mrs. A. E. Rowsell, Miss M. Rowsell, Mr. C. J. Hemsall and Mr. G. Booth (churchwardens), the judge, Mr. J. R. Brearly, Mr. M. Haigh (hon. treasurer) and Mr. R. W. Stockdale (hon. secretary), with all the hands who had competed and visitors.

The result of the contest was announced as follows, the bands being given in the order in which they rang: 1 Ordsall (102 faults, 10 penalties, a total of 112); 2 Gamston (185, 10, 205); 3 East Markham (174, 10, 184); 4 Sutton-on-Trent (101, 20, 121); 5 Anston (114, 20, 134); 6 Shireoaks (123, nil, 123); therefore, Ordsall, the holders, were again declared the winners.

Miss M. Rowsell, in presenting the cup, said that the contest seemed to be improving, for never before had six teams competed, and she welcomed Gamston into the competition. She hoped that in another year's time the number of bands taking part would be much larger.

Mr. R. W. Stockdale received the cup for Ordsall and suitably replied.

The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson, in a short speech, said that he thought this cup should keep moving year by year from one tower to another, and he thought it would then give more encouragement.

The Judge (Mr. J. R. Brearly) then made his comments on the ringing. His general opinion was that there was still room for improvement, but, on the whole, the ringing had been of a much higher standard than in previous years, and he hoped to see twice the number of entries next year.

South Anston was selected for the next meeting on October 10th. Mr. H. Haigh asked the secretary if any more had been done regarding the joint meeting with the Nottingham Sherwood Youths' Society at Newark, but the reply was that the permission for the use of the bells had not yet been obtained, and both associations were awaiting a reply from the Vicar of Newark through the Rev. R. F. Wilkinson.

The Rev. R. E. Rogerson thanked the caterers, Miss M. Rowsell for presenting the cup, and the judge.

The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson thanked the Rev. R. E. Rogerson and all who had taken a helping hand for giving the association the welcome year after year to their pretty village with its beautiful church and splendid bells.

Mr. R. Daniels, of Wheatley, thanked the hon. secretary for carrying out his duties so well, and for the general arrangements of the day. The tower was again visited and some good ringing was done on the eight bells.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

NEWBURY BRANCH.

A meeting of the Newbury Branch was held at Brightwalton on Saturday, September 5th, when members were present from Bucklebury, Compton, East Isley, Newbury, Overton, Peasmore, Thatcham and Brightwalton. Service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. H. F. Howard), Miss N. Howard presiding at the organ. Tea, served in the Village Hall, was kindly given by the honorary members of Brightwalton, and 30 sat down to an excellent meal, the company including the Rev. and Mrs. H. F. Howard, Miss N. Howard, the Rev. H. J. Puxley, the Rev. Gage Hall, the Rev. A. H. Caldicott, Miss Caldicott, Dr. Abraham, etc.

The business meeting followed, over which the Rev. H. Howard presided in the absence of the Rev. H. Bonsey (chairman of the branch), and was supported by the branch secretary and treasurer (Mr. H. W. Curtis).

The annual meeting was fixed for Newbury on Saturday, November 14th. Hearty votes of thanks were accorded to the Rev. H. Howard, to Miss N. Howard for presiding at the organ, and to the honorary members for kindly giving the tea, on the proposition of Mr. W. Matthews, seconded by Miss S. Davis, and carried with applause.

The tower was again visited and the following methods rung: Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Oxford Treble Bob Minor.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.THE BAD CONDITION OF COWBRIDGE BELLS.

A quarterly meeting of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association was held on Saturday last in the old world borough of Cowbridge, situated in the agricultural portion of Glamorganshire. The tower contains a ring of eight bells by Evans, of Chepstow, cast about 1726, with a tenor approximately 18 cwt. It is a very musical ring and worthy of better conditions. The bells go, as all of Evans' bells were hung, left handed, and are hanging to-day in the same frame and fittings as when placed there. For many years suggestions have been made to rehang the bells, but other things which in the opinion of the local church authorities were needed first have precluded any action being taken. The roof of the nave has been entirely renewed; at the present time the aisle requires entire renewing, and until this is done there is little hope of the bells being rehung. Call changes are rung by the local ringers, who appear to have no ambition to remedy things. The bells were raised about 3 o'clock, and it was found almost impossible to get change ringing even by those who have had a life experience. A few plain courses of Stedman were rung or rather struggled through.

Service was held in the church at 4.30, conducted by the Rev. C. W. Buckley, assistant curate, in the absence of the Vicar. On behalf of the Vicar and churchwardens, Mr. Buckley welcomed the association to Cowbridge, and hoped, after the remarks made in regard to the bells, that when the association next visited Cowbridge the bells would go easier.

Following the service the business meeting took place, presided over by the Rev. C. W. Buckley. Various items in regard to proposed restorations were discussed and instructors' reports were presented. Several new members were elected, and after a further expression of opinion in regard to the bells, it was unanimously resolved that the association, through the hon. secretary, should send a report to the Vicar pointing out the difficulty and danger of ringing the bells, and suggesting that every effort should be made to restore such a fine old ring of eight.

After the usual votes of thanks, the meeting closed, and a move was then made to Llanblethian Church, about a mile distant, which is also under the same Vicar. This tower contains a ring of six, restored in a new iron frame some 20 years ago. No ringing is done here, and when Llanblethian was suggested to be available a week or two ago, it was discovered there were no ropes and that only chiming was done. The Pentre band were good enough to offer six discarded ropes, and these were actually taken there by one of the Pentre band the day before the meeting, with the result that after a few minor repairs and adjustments the bells were rung in various methods. It is hoped this will stimulate the Cowbridge ringers to get practice at Llanblethian.

The meeting was well attended by members from both Glamorganshire and Monmouthshire. Fortunately, Cowbridge is about the only ring of eight which is not pealable in both counties.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.MEETING AT ROWDE.

The monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Rowde on Saturday, September 5th. This tower contains a handy ring of six bells, with tenor of 11½ cwt., which were rehung by Taylor and Co. in 1928. Some good ringing in various methods was carried out during the afternoon, and the Guild service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. H. Opperman). The singing was bright, thanks to the choir, who attended in nearly full strength under Miss E. T. Wright, the organist.

At the close of the service a peal board was dedicated in the ringing chamber. This tablet records a peal of Grandsire Doubles (the first peal on the bells) rung in 1929, and in which the local captain, Mr. E. A. Perrett, rang his first peal.

Tea followed in the Institute, to which 43 sat down. The Rector, addressing the meeting, extended a hearty welcome to the branch and said they felt honoured that the Guild had chosen Rowde for their meeting.

The business meeting followed, Mr. C. D. Heginbotham presiding. It was decided to hold a practice meeting at Melksham on Monday, September 21st, at 7 p.m., when Mr. C. F. Andrews, of Trowbridge, will give the 'third' of his lectures on 'Ringing.'

Mr. William J. Whiting, of Leatherhead, was elected a life ringing member of the Guild.

The next meeting (quarterly) will be held at Bradford-on-Avon on October 3rd, when it is hoped both Holy Trinity (8) and Christ Church (8) bells will be available for ringing. The usual votes of thanks brought the meeting to a close.

Ringing was continued at Rowde till about 7.30, and after tea a good number also visited Bromham tower, where ringing finished soon after 8 p.m.

The towers represented were Devizes (St. John's, St. Mary's and St. James'), Southbroom, Westbury, Bratton, Bishops Cannings, Bromham, Rowde, Urchfont Holt, North Bradley, Melksham and Trowbridge, and the following methods were rung during the afternoon and evening: Cambridge Surprise, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Plain Bob Minor, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles.

CLAIMS TO COMPOSITIONS.

A correspondent, who is not without some knowledge of the subject, referring to the fact that in our last issue composers renounced their claim to three peals, ventures the opinion that if it were possible to publish the figures of all the peals composed during the last decade or so, perhaps not five per cent. of them would be found original. While some ringers may not be prepared to put the figure quite so low, there can be no question that a very considerable proportion of the compositions produced in these days have been obtained before. There are some plans in some methods that are completely worked out, but would-be composers do not know it. They belong to a new generation and the work of men that have gone is unknown to them. In due course another new generation will spring up, and they will reproduce the work of those now living. It must inevitably be so all the while there is no complete record of compositions to which reference can be made. For the time being, at any rate, the Central Council cannot see its way to forming such a register as would be required. The difficulty is not so much in getting the material together, as in making effectual use of it when it has been compiled, and yet the need of such a thing becomes more and more apparent as time goes on.

Our correspondent points out that the disclaimers of last week were brought about by the publication of the figures and, obviously, publicity is one of the best means of ascertaining whether a composer is entitled to claim a composition. There are, however, two very strong reasons against it. In the first place the obligation of proving the right to a composition should rest upon the composer and his right should not stand merely by default of a counterclaim. Secondly, the publication of compositions on any large scale is a costly matter, and it cannot be expected that others should bear the expense of printing figures merely in order that someone may be satisfied, not necessarily that a composition had not been obtained before, but that at the date of its publication no one else claimed it. When a man puts together the figures of a peal it should be his responsibility to show that he has the right to call it an original production, but how can he do that unless there is available for his use some record of what has gone before? Constantly composers, who are just making their first groping efforts in this branch, send their figures to 'The Ringing World,' asking if they are original, so that we know there is a real desire among this class of beginners to do the right thing and not claim as their own anything which has been previously produced. But in the absence of definite information, what is more natural than for a budding aspirant to claim his work as something new even though its plan may be so obvious that scores of his predecessors may have obtained the same peal. The time is certainly coming when the word 'composed' will lose a lot of its significance. In regard to a great many modern productions 'arranged' is already a more appropriate description, and there would be good ground for using this term in all cases where the plan of composition or the requirements of the method were not entirely new.

BELLRINGERS GO FOX HUNTING.

There was a very pleasant gathering of ringers at Foxearth on Saturday, when the Northern Division held a meeting at this place, the first since 1924. Although the parish is somewhat isolated from the rest of the county, a number took advantage of the ideal autumn afternoon and proceeded there by bicycle. A warm welcome was extended to all by Mr. Sam Evans, the leader of the local band, who had everything in readiness, and touches of Stedman; Double Norwich and Superlative Surprise Major were rung before the service.

The service was taken by the Rector (the Rev. G. H. Bassett), Mr. C. H. Howard, Master of the Association, read the lesson, whilst the Rural Dean, Dr. Young, of Birdbrook, gave a most helpful and enlightening address. This was followed by an excellent tea at the Village Hall, which had been arranged by Mr. S. Evans, and about thirty sat down. The Rural Dean, the Rector and organist attended, whilst Mrs. and Miss Evans and a friend waited at table. A business meeting followed, at which one non-resident life member was elected, and it was decided to hold the annual district meeting at Bocking on November 14th.

Mr. Howard, in proposing a very hearty vote of thanks to the Rector, said he hoped that some membership would be retained at Foxearth after all the association had done. He thanked the organist for his services, also Dr. Young for his helpful address and advice, and assured him that his words would long be remembered. He also thanked the ladies who had assisted at the tea.

The Rev. G. H. Bassett, in replying, said the ringers were always welcome. He was very pleased to meet them, and hoped they would soon pay another visit.—Dr. Young also acknowledged the vote of thanks, and said it gave him the greatest pleasure to meet a company of ringers.

After other touches on the bells, some of the cyclists decided to make for home. They had left a Fox in the earth, and decided to explore new roads on their return in search of another. All went well until Borley Church was passed, when some of the leaders headed for the Belchamps, whilst the remainder kept to the proper road and finally found the 'Fox' at Bulmer. The others, being somewhat dissatisfied with the state of the Belchamp roads, took to the fields and, after encountering hurdles and footbridges, arrived at a farmhouse. Night was falling, and the thought of home greatly impressed them. Having inquired of the farmer's wife for the 'Fox,' they were politely told there were plenty in the district, but they were greatly relieved when she directed them to the one at Bulmer, which they reached after covering about four miles in one hour and twenty minutes. By this time the other members had seen sufficient of Bulmer, and, although the chief whip gave a loud blast, there was no response from the missing few, so they headed for their own village, which was safely reached. After partaking of reasonable refreshment and discussing the formation of a search party, the last huntsman returned weary and worn, but in good spirits, and although the price of refreshment had been advanced one penny per pint, he said he would have one 'if it cost him a bob.' And he did!

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The meeting of the Western Division, held at Apsley on September 12th, was not so well attended as in previous years, owing to the weather. Ringers came from Hemel Hempstead, King's Langley, Watford, Willesden, Berkhamstead and Tring, and members of the local company were present. The methods rung ranged from Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor. The Rev. C. B. Goodwin held a short service, and very kindly entertained the ringers to tea. At the business meeting, Mr. H. Bishop acted as secretary in the absence of Mr. J. Puplett. The president, Mr. F. J. Reeves, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for his generosity in providing tea, and to all those who had helped in making this meeting a success.

DEATH OF DR. EUSTACE HARWOOD. A FORMER RINGER AT OLD WINDSOR.

The mortal remains of the late Dr. T. Eustace Harwood were laid to rest in the family grave at Old Windsor Church on Saturday, September 5th, the Vicar, the Rev. A. E. McCaig, lately from Cornwall, officiating. The service was choral, and many of the deceased's medical friends and brother bellringers were present. At the conclusion of the sad rites a muffled peal was rung on the tower bells. A memorial service was held on Sunday, September 6th, when the Vicar gave a brief address based on the text, 'The memory of the just is blessed,' in the course of which he mentioned the long connection with the parish of deceased and his father, and referred to the former's literary gifts.

For many years Dr. Harwood resided at Hampstead, but he always maintained his interest in the parish of his birth and its bells. He devoted much time to historical research for his valuable work on 'Windsor Old and New,' a recently published volume, which reveals deep insight into the customs and traffic on the Thames before the days of railroads. This work was dedicated in 1929 to the memory of his father, the Rev. T. E. Harwood, M.A., who was curate of Old Windsor 1862-1873, and Vicar from 1876 to 1911.

Dr. Harwood, in his younger days, became interested in bellringing under the foreman, Mr. J. Gutteridge, who is now 84 years old, and had rung about a dozen peals of Grandsire Triples for the Oxford Diocesan Guild. His first was in January, 1893, conducted by Mr. J. J. Parker, followed by several with the Rev. J. H. Hindson, then Vicar of Wraysbury, just over the river. He had called Parker's Twelve-part peal of Grandsire Triples, and was one of the team which scored the 'first local' peal, conducted by Mr. Wm. Welling.

Dr. Harwood's medical studies were carried out at Edinburgh, and whilst there he rang in a peal at the Cathedral of St. Mary, one of the band being the first lady to score a peal in Scotland.

During the war period, Dr. Harwood did strenuous and valuable work at St. George's Hospital, London, and recently he was in private practice. He was of a genial, kind and reserved disposition, much like his father, who died in 1911, and who the writer had the pleasure of knowing personally from 1878. Only last June Dr. Eustace Harwood called to see him and handed him No. 333 of his book—the issue was limited to 400 copies—and had a long chat over the tencups about the old days at Old Windsor when there were only five bells in the tower. Even the possibility of a band of M.D.'s attempting a peal in the near future was discussed, but a greater conductor has called 'Stand.'

DOUBLE GRANDSIRE DOUBLES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In view of the fact that there are only two TRUE PLAIN courses of this method, it would be interesting to the Exercise if we could see the actual figures of the six-score, a description of which is given in the new 'Collection of Doubles and Minor Methods.' Perhaps the committee will oblige.—Yours faithfully,

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A number of inscribed ships' bells from British warships, many with war-time associations, are for sale, the most expensive being one from H.M.S. 'Tiger,' priced £10.

Family peals and 'name' peals we have had, railwaymen's and gardeners' peals, but the latest is a 'colour' peal. Last Sunday there were as many tints in a belfry at Brith as you would find on an artist's palette—Gray, White, Green, Brown, Hazell, Rose, Golden and Pink, and between them they rang a peal of Superlative.

Congratulations to that fine old Ipswich ringer, Mr. Robert H. Brundle, who reached the age of 80 years on Friday, and celebrated the event by ringing a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus on Saturday. Mr. Brundle is the oldest ringer to ring a peal of Surprise Maximus, and we hope he will be spared with strength for many years yet to continue the art he loves so well.

The bells at Henlow, Beds, have been restored by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who have added a treble to increase the ring to six. The dedication took place last Saturday.

Owing to a misunderstanding about the membership of one of the ringers, the peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal, rung at Prittlewell on August 8th last, cannot be credited to the Essex Association, and consequently is to become a peal for the Kent County Association.

FRAGMENT FROM KINGTON MAGNA.

AFTER PEPYS, AND RECENTLY DISCOVERED.

July 4th (Eve of Lord's Day). Did decide to go to Aquae Sulis to ring at the annual meeting of the ringers of Somerset. Took Gryph on the pillion—a stout fellow. Did encounter much rain and mist, but did ring on the bells there. Mighty pleased with the sermon, for the Rector there did not tell us what naughty men the ringers of old were. Nor did he tell us that we should attend the services for which we did ring, that being mighty difficult for some of the ringers there, who did work on farms. But he did speak some common sense. At 8 p.m., did start back, still raining. Radstock in fine style, but missed petrol cap. Gryph would go and search for it. Half an hour, but no cap. Four shillings. Did hold hand on tank, mighty uncomfortable. Stratton-on-Avon, petrol pipe broke, so mended same with tubing from the lamp, and so on to two miles from Shepton. No petrol, much having run out unperceived when the pipe broke. Now dark, and having no carbide must needs push to Shepton. Garage man mightily astonished, but did fill us up with petrol and carbide and give us a cork. 11 p.m. and on our way. Two miles and lost nut of mag. chain case, this falling off with a great clatter. Gryph said he would carry the case, so away again. 12.30 a.m., the timing chain broke. Memo: must get new one. Mended chain, still raining, and timed up the mag.—not easy, but Gryph struck matches and away again. 2 a.m., lamp went out and had to refill it with carbide and water. Strange it should be short of water, seeing we had had so much. 2.45 a.m., left Gryph and so home to bed, 16 miles, 3.30 a.m.

July 11th. A Dorset meeting, with some keen fellows. New chain to mag., fourteen shillings. Did take Gryph, the new chain working well, albeit somewhat noisy. Started back late. Mag. chain broke. Did decide to push, putting new chain on handle bar. Five miles and Gryph asked if chain was all right. Could not feel it, so must needs return to search for it. Had to push bike back for the sake of the light. Went back and found chain. Fourteen shillings. Five miles. (A fragment is missing here.) Resolved to buy a new machine, though mightily disturbed about it, for must needs attend Sanger's practices, Double Norwich. Copper bath rung London and is highly excited. Must not let him leave me so far behind. So to bed early, nothing but scurvy punctures in the new machine. Some say the tyres be perished. Fourteen punctures in eight days. Methinks the devil be in the bike.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

EASTERN DIVISION.

A quarterly meeting of the Eastern Division was held at Heathfield on Saturday, September 19th, when 35 members and friends attended from the following towers: Battle, Brighton (St. Nicholas'), Burwash, Crawley, Eastbourne (St. Saviour's), Hawkhurst, Heene, Lewes, Mayfield, St. Leonards (Christ Church), and Uckfield, together with members of the local band. Mr. W. Haigh, of Etchingam, and Mr. John Evans, of Hughenden, Bucks, were also present.

The bells were kept well going in all methods from Grandsire to Cambridge during the afternoon and evening, and several young ringers obtained their first touches in various methods.

Owing to the unavoidable absence of the Vicar (the Rev. Grahame Clarke), no service was held.

A splendid tea was provided at the Star Inn. The Rev. F. N. Hope presided at the tea, and at the business meeting which followed Mr. W. D. Smith occupied the chair.

Mr. W. Haigh, of Etchingam, and Mr. Arthur Field, of Pevensey, were elected members.

There being no further business, the meeting closed with the usual vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwarden for the use of the bells, etc.

THE STEDMAN TERCENTENARY.BELLS NOW AT LOUGHBOROUGH FOUNDRY.

At the end of last week St. Bene't's historic bells were lowered to the ground and were removed on Saturday to the Loughborough Foundry. Our photograph shows them outside the church just before they were loaded on to the waiting lorry.

At the Foundry the bells are to be sandblasted and cleaned, the rap notes corrected, new independent crown staples fitted, ball bearings and new clappers provided, and all the other fittings, including headstocks, replaced by new. The frame has also been dismantled, and will be reconstructed and strengthened.

WEDDING BELLS.

At St. Mary's, Rye, on Saturday, September 12th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung to celebrate the marriage of Mr. Cyril Wenham to Miss Nellie Gain. Mrs. Pattenden 1, K. Pattenden 2, W. Button 3, A. Daw 4, F. Burt 5, C. W. Player 6, H. Wood (conductor) 7, C. Coleman 8. Ringers of 1st, 2nd, 4th, 5th, 6th and 8th hail from Stone-in-Oxney, where the bridegroom is a member of the local band.

A BERKSHIRE RESTORATION.THE BELLS OF WALTHAM ST. LAWRENCE.

Last Sunday was a memorable day in the history of the parish of Waltham St. Lawrence, Berks, for during the morning service the ring of six bells was dedicated after complete restoration and the recasting of the 4th and 6th. For some time past it was known that the fittings of the bells were in a bad state, and this summer, through the generosity of a parishioner, Mr. C. A. Monkhouse, the work of rehanging was put in the hands of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon. Fortunately the old timber frame was in good condition, but, after removing the headstocks, the 4th and 6th were both found to be cracked in the crown. This necessitated recasting, and the whole ring was removed to the foundry so that the other four bells could be tuned. This additional expense was generously borne by the same gentleman.

A good congregation assembled in the fine old church for the morning service, which commenced with the processional hymn, 'We love the place, O God.' After the second lesson the clergy proceeded to the ringing chamber, accompanied by the ringers (four of whom were choirmen), Mr. Churchwarden J. J. Warren, Mr. Cyril Johnston and Mr. W. J. Paice, hon. secretary of the Sonning Deanery Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild. The actual dedication ceremony was performed by the Master of the Guild, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn. Mr. Johnston handed a rope to the churchwarden, asking him to accept the completed work, and Mr. Warren in turn passed the rope to the Master, and called upon him to dedicate the work to the glory of God. The Master then gathered all the ropes together, and in the sight of the whole congregation blessed the work 'in the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost.' After the ringers' collects the ropes were placed in the hands of the Vicar, the Rev. F. D. Browne, with a solemn charge to keep the bells from all profane and unhallowed uses. The bells were then rung in rounds by the local ringers, and the great improvement in the tone of the ring was at once appreciated. The whole ceremony was most impressive, and must long remain in the minds of those who witnessed it. The service was then proceeded with, the Master giving a practical address, during which he touched upon the urgency and the nature of the work completed in their tower, the self-sacrificing task of the ringers in that parish and elsewhere, and appealed to young people to come forward and offer themselves as ringers, acquiring that love of bells and the art of changering which alone could make them proficient.

After the service, some short touches of Bob Doubles and Bob Minor were rung by the local ringers, assisted by Mr. Johnston and Mr. W. J. Paice.

The bells, which are now fitted with ball bearings and go perfectly, were originally cast in 1808 by T. Mears and Son. The tenor is 12 cwt. in F, and the total weight of the peal is 45 cwt. 18 lb.

STAVELEY RINGER'S DEATH.

The Staveley company has suffered a severe loss by the death of Mr. Alfred Markwell, which occurred on September 7th, after only three days' illness. He was at work on the 3rd, and, being a goods guard on the L.N.E.R., was getting ready for duty on the 4th when he had a seizure and lapsed into unconsciousness, from which he never recovered. He passed away on the 7th, and was laid to rest on the 10th, several of his workmates and ringing friends being present at the funeral service.

Mr. Markwell was never a great peal ringer, only having rung one peal, but he was a most regular and consistent Sunday service ringer, and always ready on all occasions to 'do his bit' to keep the bells going. His pleasant face will be sadly missed, and his place will be hard to fill. Only the Sunday evening before his death he took part in the service ringing.

He joined the Staveley company at the outbreak of the Great War when the younger men of the company had to join up. Having years before been a six-bell ringer at Wilburton, he proved a valuable addition to the depleted company. He was also a chorister, having been a member of the Staveley Church choir over 20 years, and before that was a member of Bulwell and Stockport choirs. He was an ideal churchman. He loved his church and tried to serve her at all times. He ever did his duty to the best of his ability.

Mr. Markwell, who was 62 years of age, leaves to mourn their loss a widow and one son, to whom the deepest sympathy goes out. The son is following in his father's footsteps, being ringer, chorister and deputy organist at Staveley.

The deceased was a member of the Midland Counties Association and three other societies, and was Staveley's representative on the committee of the Sheffield District Society.

The bells were rung half-muffled after the funeral, also at both services the following Sunday. The ringing for the morning service consisted of 720 Bob Major, and in the evening a quarter-peal of Bob Major was rung, followed by 'the whole pull and stand,' by the following members of the Staveley company, as a tribute to his memory: H. Stow 1, L. G. Palmer 2, W. T. Palmer 3, A. Steward 4, F. E. Parsons 5, N. C. Lewis 6, A. E. Parsons (conductor) 7, J. Knott 8.

SCOTLAND'S GREATEST RING. INVERARAY TOWER AND BELLS NEARING COMPLETION.

CAMPBELL CLANSMEN'S GENEROSITY.

The greatest ring of bells in the Highlands and the finest north of the English border has, within the last few days, found its permanent home in the new tower of the church of All Saints, Inveraray, Argyllshire. These bells, from the Loughborough Foundry, are a magnificent peal, with a tenor of $41\frac{1}{2}$ cwt. in C. Their installation is almost entirely due to the interest and enthusiasm of His Grace the Duke of Argyll, whose ancestral home is Inveraray Castle. The scheme to provide a noble tower for the church and an equally noble ring of bells was originally conceived before the outbreak of war in 1914, and gradually the bells were secured through the generosity of various donors, headed by the Duke, who gave the first seven bells. The eighth was given by his neighbour and vassal, Sir John Noble, Laird of Ardkinglass; the ninth by 80 of the Duke's friends and clansmen of the Campbell name, and the tenor (in honour of S. Molaise) by two Campbells. Gifts by many others provided the frame and fittings, and in November, 1920, the whole of the ten bells were cast.

At this time the tower was not even begun, so the bells were taken to Inveraray and erected in their frame in a temporary wooden 'Cloichtrach' (the Gaelic word for Bell House), and they have been chimed by means of a clavier, so that their glorious tones are already familiar over the countryside. The bells and their fittings cost over £24,000.

Having got the bells, the next effort was devoted to raising the massive tower. The first stage was up to the 73ft. level, where the bell frame was eventually to be placed. The walls of this portion are between 8 and 9 feet thick, and, internally, the tower is 22ft. 9in. square. This part of the building cost £9,750, and when it had been completed there was a pause of two years while further funds were raised, for another £8,000 was required to finish the structure. By this summer the walls were completed with fine strong battlements, the tops of which are 126ft. above the ground. A turret takes the stair up at one corner of the tower, and its top, capped by a pointed pignon, reaches a height of 138ft. The roof is of strong oak and lead. The floor of the ringing room is of oak, and there are two cement floors above it, forming a 'silence' chamber. The walls above the bells are 4ft. 6in. thick, and pierced by seven high sound windows, with fine stone tracery, such as is found in many Somerset towers. The ground floor, lit by big windows on the west and south sides, will some day be linked up to the church by an aisle—at present the tower is separated from the rest of the building. The ringing room has four windows, and the silence chamber four slits which display the thickness of the walls very well. The tower was built without any exterior scaffolding.

The bell frame rests on immense steel girders built into the walls and, like the bells which it carries, is a worthy specimen of Taylor craftsmanship.

The dedications, weights and diameters of the bells are as follows:—

Name of Saint.	Weight of bell. cwt. qr. lb.	Diameter of bell. ft. in.
1. S. Maluag	6 0 14	2 5
2. S. Columba	6 1 26	2 6½
3. S. Mund	7 1 6	2 9
4. S. Brendan	8 2 2	2 10
5. S. Maclrubha	10 1 5	3 1½
6. S. Blaane	13 0 8	3 5
7. Our Lady	17 0 22	3 9½
8. S. Murdouch	20 1 21	4 0
9. S. Brigid	28 3 0	4 6
10. S. Molaise	41 2 8	5 0½

Total weight, 159 cwt. 3 qr.

The dedications are to ancient Celtic saints 'who, in their earthly lives, founded Parish Churches, Chapels, or Monasteries, in the immediate neighbourhood, and planted the Rood of the Redeemer on many storm-sick headlands, or in smiling glens or in lonely forests, where in the sixth and seventh centuries they did great Wonders amongst the Children of the Gael for which they are kept in unfading remembrance.'

The following are the inscriptions and translations:—

(S. Maluag pray for us.)
2. SANCTE COLUMBA ORA PRO NOBIS
3. MUNDI PRO MERITIS MEREAMUR GAUDIA COELI

During the past few weeks the bells have been taken from the bell house and raised to their proper place in the new tower by Messrs. Taylor's bell hangers, and a few days since the last of them, the tenor, was hoisted in the presence of the Duke of Argyll, Lady Mary Carr-Glyn of Argyll, Lady Elspeth Campbell of Argyll and Dr. Campbell. Soon all the fittings will be complete, and the bells will then be used by means of the clavier. But £1,300 is still required before the great scheme is free of debt, and until that time the consecration and hallowing of both the bells and the tower by the Bishop of Argyll and the Isles cannot take place.

The munificence of the Campbells—the clan of which the Duke of Argyll is chief—may be gauged from the fact that, apart from the bells, members in this country, the United States and the Dominions have contributed over £7,000 towards the tower alone. Inveraray tower and bells, begun from a desire to beautify and adorn the church, are now to serve another purpose. They form a memorial, and each bell is in memory of those who fell in the Great War or in former wars, who came from the parishes or glens where the saints named on the bells laboured, or to whom one of those parishes was dedicated.

THE IRISH TOUR.

BY W. H. F.

'England and Ireland, though the seas divide,
Are kissing each other at every tide.'

Who is for Ireland next year? was the question amongst the members of Mr. Williams' party touring North Wales in 1929, when several replied favourably, but the suggestion fell through, and it was Wales again for the 1930 outing. Once more the question was put, and with Mr. Lindoff's enticing 'blarney,' fresh from Dublin, this visit became an accomplished fact in 1931, and herewith are a few notes of the tour by special request. There are now quite a number of English ringers who have crossed the Channel in the past—notably the Pye brothers, 1909—who well know, by experience, the hearty welcome to be met with at the hands of our Hibernian brothers. To those who have never 'cuddled' an Irish Sally, I would mention a further inducement to go over. Good Dublin stout can be bought for sixpence a pint, when once you have made the heaving passage of Edwin Barnett's 'ditch.' I remember, after a visit in 1907, Tom Faulkner, of Barking, writing me in a very sad strain asking why we did not take him with us? I hope my readers will not trouble me with similar inquiries.

Our route was 'Go Great Western to Liverpool, then British and Irish Steam Packet to Dublin, at a cost of only 46s. return ticket, available for 16 days.' Messrs. Newton and Davis kindly dispatched our 'freight' from Liverpool landing stage at 10 p.m. on Saturday, September 5th, and Messrs. Lindoff and Murphy hauled it on to the Dublin North Wall with a hearty welcome at 3 a.m. on Sunday, the 6th, omitting the physical act of affection mentioned at the head of this article.

We had a most comfortable crossing. No one attempted to do an 'odd place last' in his neighbour's bunk. It is quite astonishing what a boat steward can do for a passenger when one has learnt his language; we even envied the Menin Gate travellers their seaworthiness when every man made a 'whole turn' in crossing the English Channel last August. The River Liffey looked its best, a bright sunrise, shining through the mist of morning, being reflected in the ripples on the water as we glided upstream from Dublin Bay. Numerous seagulls wheeling overhead seemed to be united in screaming to our party in Erse, 'Cead Mile Fáille.'

Named after King George V., the George housed us till Monday. This boarding house may well be termed the ringers' rest; its bed linen has sweetly covered the sleeping forms of a whole band of Georges—Messrs. Pye, Williams, Price, Newton, Dent, Fletcher and Martin—to say nothing about the Great George of Rugby—when they slept on Irish soil for the first time.

On Sunday, there was ringing at St. Patrick's Cathedral at 10.30 and 2.30. The visitors' book received new entries, and the Irish Association five new members, who were ably 'branded' by the president with the 'Shamrock' for life. It is worth the journey to be made a member of this society—you cannot be elected in England—and in the belfry was assembled a strong muster of local ringers who held the novices whilst the iron was heated. Among those present were Mr. M. J. Hogan (president), Mr. R. S. F. Murphy, P.C. (ex-president), Messrs. J. A. Atkinson, W. H. Wilson (hon. secretary), Robt. Tait, T. MacMorrán, E. Lutman, G. G. Lindoff, J. W. Townley, A. L. Murray, E. George, G. Lindoff, and several others, including Mr. James Trappitt, of Beddington, in his 78th year, just out of hospital.

Touches of Caters and Cinques were rung, all the bells being brought into play at one time or another according to the particular 'set' we wished to hear. The conductor, like a magician, simply removed a rope to the background and brought forward another, and, 'heigh presto,' a new ring of bells was heard to suit the note of the tenor as required.

Here is a 'belfry' of all the belfries. I have not seen a better in England. Spacious, well fitted and furnished, ample windows and ventilation, good circle and draft of rope; its dark grey stone walls, relieved with white cement pointing, form an excellent background for the coloured sallies, and the plain oak peel boards that reveal the ringing progress of the St. Patrick's Guild for the past 30 years. Since Armistice Day a custom has been carefully maintained at this tower. All ex-Service ringers meet annually and ring an open peel at St. Patrick's, without notice or reminder, until they die out. There are nine—'lucky nine'—left to carry on for 1931.

The evening was spent at Bray, a fashionable seaside town twelve miles out, with a fine bay and esplanade, sheltered by Bray Head, which our tenor lad climbed on foot to balance the extra strain on his upper limbs. Touches for service were rung on the Taylor peel, the local company, some 24 strong, turning up to greet us. I may just mention that they are after the Irish shield for Sunday service ringing. Mr. J. B. Tough, the foreman, is keeping well, and the Rector, the Rev. Chancellor G. D. Scott, still doing duty after 38 years' residence. Alas, Bray and its Vicar sadly reminds me of another Bray and its late Vicar, in Berkshire, who was called from his life work at an early age only a year ago to the regret of all the neighbouring ringers.

Stormy August weather has not been confined to England. Just previous to our landing in Ireland, four inches of rain fell in two

M.P. AND RINGERS.

A DEVON EXCURSION.

Members of the Exeter District of the Devon Guild and their wives mustered strongly on Saturday, September 12th, for a visit to Mamhead Park by invitation of Sir Robert Newman, M.P., who has a long honorary connection with the Guild. Eight societies were represented, and the company totalled between 60 and 70. Sir Robert received his guests with his customary cordiality, and with the assistance of his brother-in-law (Mr. F. R. Lumley) and the Rector of Mamhead (the Rev. W. Greener, hon. chaplain to the Forces) showed them over the gardens and grounds (which are famous for their cork, ilex and other trees) and the Parish Church (which is close to the Park and has memorials and gifts that are linked with the Newman family). The tower contains a ring of five bells, all cast by Thomas Bilbie, of Culmpton, in 1763. Three have inscriptions showing that James Davis and William Braddon were churchwardens at that time; another bears the name of 'The Honourable William Vaughan, Esq.,' and the remaining bell records the name of the founder. One bell was 'crazed' as long ago as 1884, and at the present time only chiming can be done. Several enthusiastic members of the party examined the bells and fittings, and by tapping the bells found they were of agreeable tone. Subsequently the visitors were taken to the clock tower (which commands some of the most charming views of the Exe Estuary and East Devon coast) and shown the gateway and castle keep (a copy of one in the northern part of the country). As the weather was breaking, tea was provided in the great corridor with its fine collection of statuary. Here handbells, available by the forethought of Mr. W. Howe (hon. secretary), were brought into use, and then the visitors were conducted over the house and shown some of its treasures, which include wonderful tapestries (representing Europe, Asia, Africa and America), Japanese art, Dresden china, and so on. The company grouped outside the entrance for photographing by Mr. H. V. Richards, and the opportunity was taken by Mr. A. W. Searle (chairman of the district) to tender to Sir Robert Newman, Mr. Lumley, and lady relatives the sincere thanks of the visitors for the kindness of the welcome, the hospitality and the courtesies extended in explaining features of the church and house. He remarked that every guest deeply appreciated the kindness of Sir Robert in extending an invitation to visit his beautiful home, and, in expressing a general hope that it might be repeated, suggested, amid much applause, that great pleasure would be felt if by that time Sir Robert had become Lord Mamhead.—Sir Robert, in reply, said he had happy recollections of gatherings of the Guild as a guest, and that it was a great pleasure to act as host on this occasion. He could not hazard any opinion about future events, but trusted that the ringers, having found their way to Mamhead now, would possibly be able to do so again.

From Mamhead one section proceeded to Kenton and Powderham, and another to Kenn and Exminster, where, by the kindness of the incumbents, they were able to have a pull on the bells.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

The quarterly meeting of the Northern District of the Ladies' Guild was held at St. Peter's, Bramley, Leeds. About thirty-six ringers and friends partook of an excellent tea, which had been prepared in the school. The Vicar and churchwarden extended a hearty welcome to all the ringers, to which Mrs. Ryder, the vice-president of the district, suitably replied, according votes of thanks to all who had in any way helped to make the meeting such a success.

A choral service was held in the church, conducted by the Vicar. After service the ladies held their meeting, at which two new members were elected—Miss Ashton, of Headingley, and Miss V. Holmes, of Dewsbury. Ringers attended from Essex, Rotherham, Rothwell, Bramley, Headingley, Armley, Bailey, Burnley, and Handsworth, Sheffield, and various methods were rung during the afternoon and evening on both tower and handbells.

days, and it rained for 42 hours continually. Much damage was done to houses in and near Dublin, and the Lord Mayor's Fund to relieve distress is now nearing the £1,000 mark. It was very doubtful whether we could get to Bray by train, Ballisbridge, crossing the river Dodder, being half demolished, and heavy lattice girders torn from the buttresses. A single track relief line rigged up showed the 'directors' of our party what an Irish 'gang' can do in a very short time. Whilst writing on the weather, it is well to be able to state that our stay of a week was one long spell of sunshine, excepting a few hours on Friday night, and we saw everything with those 'violet coloured eyes and dark sweeping eyelashes' that spell beauty for the colleen as well as her admirers.

In Ireland there are very few 'pussyfoots.' The Irish Free State can offer England a lesson on licensing laws. Our humble Sunday needs were met by special permit from the chief constable, and how we fared at the O'Connell Statue is the private concern of Mr. Murphy. Certainly the sparkling mineral waters matched the wonderful array of jewellery that surrounded our kind host.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.ANDOVER DISTRICT ORGANISES COMBINED PRACTICES.

The Andover District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild decided, at the quarterly meeting on Saturday week at Abbott's Ann, to divide the district into three areas for the purpose of organising combined practices. In the course of an interesting discussion two points were emphasised, namely, the necessity of instructors and the desirability of experienced ringers visiting towers in their area, especially where there is a young band. The hope was expressed that the second point particularly would be taken to heart by the older and more experienced members of the Guild. The charge was levelled that many were unwilling to visit strange towers, more especially those with only five bells, and it was pointed out that visits to other bellfries increased a ringer's experience, whatever number of bells he was used to ringing, while those who had only five bells to ring often needed more encouragement. To visit and help them made them feel that they were members of a Guild and not isolated units left to get on as best they could. The Guild would like to see every tower possess six bells at least, and it was urged that ringers should do their best to foster the idea, as it was felt that where the ringers themselves were keen, the parishioners would back them up.

As a result of the discussion combined practice areas were arranged as follows: Whitechurch area: St. Mary Bourne, Laverstoke, Longparish and Hurstbourne Priors. Andover area: Over Wallop, Nether Wallop, Abbott's Ann, Wherwell, Tangle, Thruxton and Ampert. Highclere area: East Woodhay, Woolton Hill, Burchclere, Newtown and Sydmonton. The instructors appointed were: Whitechurch area, Mr. F. Cluett; Andover area, Mr. O. Smart, sen.; and Highclere area, Mr. H. Knapp. The first practices will be at Whitechurch on October 10th, Andover November 7th, Highclere December 5th, all at 5.30, and it is hoped that all who can will attend. The instructors will do all they can to help towers in their respective areas when asked, and it is felt that if the plan is well backed up, great improvement in ringing in the district will result.

The meeting at which these arrangements were made was attended by nearly thirty ringers from Basingstoke, Bishopstoke, Andover, Abbott's Ann, Highclere, Newtown, Nether Wallop, Over Wallop, Wootton, Whitechurch and Winchester. Service was conducted by the hon. secretary (Rev. F. S. H. Marle), and tea in the Village Hall was followed by the business meeting, at which, in the absence of the Vicar, Mrs. Steedman took the chair.

Abbott's Ann tower was affiliated as from January 1st, 1922, and the following members of the tower elected: Messrs. E. W. Chaplin, R. H. Annetts, S. Fry, D. Oram and H. H. Warwick. Miss Cross, Miss Roxburgh and Mr. F. Cluett, of Whitechurch, were also elected members of the Guild.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD.
TOWCESTER BRANCH.

The quarterly meeting of the Towcester Branch was held on Saturday at Cold Higham. Ringers were present from most of the towers in the branch with a few visitors. The branch's form of service was used, with the ringers' hymn, 'Unchanging God,' sung to the original tune. Tea was partaken of in the Rectory, and thanks are due to the energetic secretary (Rev. R. Howes) and his helpers. The ringing was very encouraging. Several Minor methods were rung for the first time, and several ringers had their first attempt at Stedman. Methods included Grandsire, Bob, St. Simon's and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Double Court, Double Oxford, Double Bob, St. Clement's and Cambridge Surprise Minor.

LADY'S FIRST QUARTER AS CONDUCTOR.

At St. Mary's Church, Twickenham, on Saturday, September 19th, in 45 mins., a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: Miss E. Rabbitts 1, A. Cutmore 2, M. N. Haines 3, W. Daniell 4, Miss K. Bradford (conductor) 5, E. Goater 6, C. W. Pipe 7, P. E. Hawthorne 8. Miss Bradford's first quarter-peal as conductor. It was rung as a twenty-first birthday compliment to Mr. Edward A. Morris, captain of the local band, after an unsuccessful attempt for a peal of Bob Major.

A QUERY.

To the Editor.

Sir,—On perusing the columns of 'The Ringing World' for September 18th I read an account of a peal of Grandsire Triples having been rung at Thatcham, Berks, on Saturday, September 12th. When reading the 'Reading Mercury' and Oxford Gazette' for September 19th I found the same peal reported as a peal of Stedman Triples under Thatcham news. Which is correct?

If our official organ, 'The Ringing World,' is correct, the latter report may be very misleading to many ringers, as the 'Reading Mercury' is widely read in Berks, Bucks, Hants, Oxon, Somerset, Surrey, Sussex, Middlesex and Wilts.

Thanking you for finding space for this, yours etc.,

GEORGE GILBERT.

Maidenhead.

[We think our report is probably the correct one. The composition was given as 'Holt's Ten Part.'—Ed., 'R.W.']

DEATH OF OLD WALSALL RINGER.

With the passing of Frank Hallsworth, whose death occurred on September 10th at the age of 79 years, Walsall has lost its oldest ringer. He became a member of St. Matthew's band in 1870, and in 1887 succeeded his father, Mr. William Hallsworth, as steeplekeeper, and held that position for about 40 years, when he retired owing to increasing infirmity. His last peal, one of Stedman Caters, was rung on his birthday in 1913. He was one of the two honorary life members of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford.

He leaves three sons and one daughter, the eldest son, Major W. Hallsworth, who is in India, being a ringer. The interment at Queen Street Cemetery, where his wife was buried 40 years ago, was preceded by a service in St. Matthew's Church. As a last tribute a half-muffled peal of Stedman Cinques was attempted by the local band, but it unfortunately came to grief shortly after half-way.

THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

A MISTAKE!

The tablet to commemorate the Grandsire Cinques rung at Painswick on November 8th last year has been unveiled. The wording has been carefully drafted, but, even so, we venture to suggest that the record may be open to misapprehension in future. It is true that the performance is not described as a peal, but in generations to come, when actual recollections of the event have vanished and people turn to this commemorative tablet for what they will believe to be the best evidence of what was done on that day in 1931, it may well be that it will create the impression that this was a true peal, 'otherwise,' we can imagine them asking, 'why should it be recorded?' Everyone who understands ringing gives the band credit for their feat of endurance, but endurance by itself is not even the first essential of a peal. The primary essential is that it shall be true, and no effort in change ringing is really worth placing on permanent record unless, first and foremost, it is true.

Writing when the falseness of the composition was first revealed, the conductor said the Painswick Youths made their own rules and still claimed to have rung the greatest number of true changes on twelve bells, because more than sixteen thousand had been rung before the repetition occurred. We pointed out at the time that, from the beginning of ringing history, falseness in a peal irretrievably condemned the whole, and no portion picked out from the remainder was entitled to a claim to any honour. The Painswick Youths have, apparently, a different standard, a standard which, we think, the Exercise at large will not envy. In these days, when everyone knows what happened, ringers can, perhaps, afford to smile at the erection of this tablet, but future generations may be misled by it, not by what is recorded on it—although even in that respect it may be open to criticism—but by what it omits to say.

If this tablet is to be any more than a passing compliment to the twelve men who rang Painswick bells for over 11½ hours on end, if it is to stand as a record for posterity to read and by it to judge rightly the merits of the performance, it should have been frankly stated that the composition was false. That would not have taken away the 'endurance' credit, but it would have put the achievement in the place it ought to occupy. There is nothing in the wording to lead future ringers to suppose that it was anything but a true peal, and it gives to the composer a credit which, in the light of the actual facts, is not deserved. We are sorry that any of the Painswick Youths should have assented to the erection of this tablet, which seems to have been due to a misdirected sense of admiration on the part of the public, who, of course, only appreciate the physical aspect of such a performance and are entirely ignorant of all the recognised canons of the art of ringing. In our opinion the erection of this tablet is a mistake. We are afraid it will be a laughing stock for living ringers and misleading to those who read it in the years to come.

THE PAINSWICK 'PEAL.'

A TABLET UNVEILED.

The 224th anniversary of the Ancient Society of Painswick Youths was celebrated on Saturday week, on which occasion a tablet to commemorate 'the ringing of 17,687 changes of Grandsire Cinques in 11 hours 35 minutes, on Saturday, 8th, November, 1930,' was unveiled and dedicated. The story of this 'peal' is well known. In February, 1920, a peal of 13,001 Grandsire Cinques was rung in Painswick and remained the record length on twelve bells until on August Bank Holiday, 1929, the 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Maximus was rung at Ashton-under-Lyne. Thereafter the Painswick men made a series of attempts to regain the record, which culminated on November 8th, 1930, in a 'peal' of 17,687 Grandsire Cinques. When, however, in the following January, the figures of the composition were published in 'The Ringing World,' it was quickly discovered that they contained a false lead, and the record went by the board.

The unsuccessful performance, nevertheless, has been permanently recorded in Painswick Church, and it was unveiled by the conductor of the peal, Mr. Albert Wright.

According to the Gloucester 'Citizen,' the tablet bears the following inscription: 'This tablet commemorates the ringing of 17,686 changes of Grandsire Cinques in 11 hours 32 (35) minutes on Saturday, 8th November, 1930.' Then follow the names of the ringers: H. Phelps (treble), T. Baldwin, W. Ireland, E. H. Stoneley, L. Barry, A. Wright, S. T. Price, W. Staite, A. G. Hannis, J. D. G. Harris, J. F. Ballinger, J. George (tenor). The tablet adds: 'Weight of tenor, 25 cwt. Composed and conducted by Albert Wright.'

The Vicar, before dedicating the tablet, said they had come together that day to unveil a tablet which was to commemorate a great feat of endurance. This was not done in pride, but as an act of justice. They realised that even the best they could do always had its faults, but they tried to tell the truth as it stood, believing that God desired mercy and not sacrifice, and so they were ready to commit themselves and their deeds into His keeping, knowing that the Almighty was also the All merciful.

The Vicar afterwards dedicated the tablet with the prayer: 'Accept, O Lord, this memorial of endurance and skill and deliver us from all pride and uncharitableness, for Jesus Christ's sake.'

The Gloucester 'Citizen' adds:

'Many of the ringers who assisted in the establishment of the record were present, and later the annual dinner of the society took place at the Golden Hart Inn, when members from many parts of the country assembled. Mr. Albert Wright presided, and among those replying to the toast of "The Ancient Society of Painswick Youths" was Mr. James George (Birmingham), who is nearing his 80th birthday, and who was the ringer of the tenor bell in the record created last November, since when he has suffered a serious illness in no way connected with that feat of endurance. He pronounced himself fit to stand at the ropes for another twelve hours if called upon to do so!'

A 'SILENT' 720.

At Lavenham, Suffolk, on September 11th, on handbells, 720 Bob Minor (non-conducted): A. Symonds 1-2, S. H. Symonds 3-4, M. T. Symonds 5-6. These three ringers have now rung, non-conducted, the extent of Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Minor.

KNOWLE BELLS AUGMENTED TO EIGHT.WARWICKSHIRE RING IMPROVED.

A visitor to the village of Knowle can scarcely believe he is but a stepping-stone from the great commercial city of Birmingham, for this village endeavours to retain all its old-world associations; its Guild Hall, adjacent to the church, dates back a great many years, whilst the wrought iron sign outside the Swan Inn, near to the church, is of the early 15th century. The church was founded in 1402 and is famous for its statuary and wood carvings. It occupies a commanding position abutting the main road.

Whilst retaining its old-fashionedness in many ways, Knowle has seen that, so far as its bells are concerned, it has moved with the times. To celebrate the Diamond Jubilee of Queen Victoria in 1897 the three bells were recast and three new bells added, making a ring of six, James Barwell, of Birmingham, carrying out this work. Some few months ago the 5th bell cracked, so Taylors were called in.

It was decided to have the cracked bell recast, also to hang the peal with new gudgeons and ball bearings. Mr. Williams, one of the churchwardens, then offered to give a new bell, and eventually two new trebles to complete the ring of eight were ordered, and the dedication of these took place on Saturday, September 19th, by the Ven. Archdeacon of Aston, who preached a most homely and interesting sermon. Mr. E. Denison Taylor was present as founder of the recast 5th and two new trebles, and besides a quartet of lieutenants from Loughborough, there were visitors from the Birmingham and Coventry districts and neighbouring towers, in addition to Mr. Harry Webb, of Croft, and Mr. R. F. Deal, of London.

Some excellent ringing took place, and it was surprising to note how the recast and new bells, with their wonderful carrying power, seemed to wrap up the deficiencies which previously were so noticeable to those who had formerly known the old peal of six. The three 'Taylor' bells have certainly made a splendid improvement, and Knowle Parish Church now possesses a very handy and most pleasing ring of eight bells.

Through the generosity of the Vicar, the Rev. Canon Downing, and the churchwardens, the clergy and visitors were invited to tea, and, with the weather on its best behaviour, everyone present had a most enjoyable time.

FULHAM.—At All Saints' Church, for evening service, Sunday, September 20th, 1,239 Stedman Caters: H. M. Page 1, A. Cutmore 2, W. H. Hollier 3, C. Winney 4, E. R. Mackrill 5, H. Cook 6, F. Skevington (conductor) 7, J. W. Driver 8, C. F. Hunt 9, William Butler 10.

THE BELLS OF BULWICK.

One hears so much to-day of complaints about the ringing of bells that it is quite refreshing and decidedly encouraging to read that occasionally a peal—be it ever so humble—meets with appreciation. The following notice respecting a peal of Grandsire Doubles at Bulwick (near Stamford), Northamptonshire, recorded in a recent issue of 'The Ringing World,' appeared in various local papers:—

'Ringers rang a special peal of bells in the Parish Church on Saturday last in 2 hours and 40 minutes. The accomplishment was 5,040 Grandsire Doubles (42 six-score with ten different callings). According to records kept, this is the first occasion for 30 years that the above result has been attained. . . . We should like to congratulate those five gentlemen (i.e., the ringers) on their performance, also to state how much their efforts were appreciated. May we, like Oliver Twist, ask for more?'

While the opening phrase may, perhaps, exaggerate the merits of the performance, there is no doubt about the enthusiasm expressed in the concluding line.

The five bells in this tower are inscribed as follows:—

- 1 + OMNIA FIANT AD GLORIAM DEI. 1629.
- 2 + NON CLAMOR SED AMOR CANTAT IN AVRE DEI. 1629.
- 3 + OMNIA FIANT AD GLORIAM DEI. 1630.
- 4 + JOHN TAYLOR & CO., FOUNDERS, LOUGHBOROUGH. A.D. 1859.
- 5 JOHN MASON W BELLEMIE CH. WA. 1648.

The treble is hung above the other bells and the whole ring sadly needs the attention of the bellhanger.

The treble, 2nd and 3rd bells are from the old Stamford Foundry of the Norrisses, who had a habit of reversing the N's in their inscriptions.

The bench ends in the church were carved by a former Rector, this task occupying his leisure hours for many years. Each is different and one represents King David playing on bells, while another shows a bell in a circle which bears the inscription and date seen on the treble bell. It would be interesting to know if any readers are aware of other carvings showing bells or ringing, apart from the carvings of campanarii at Belton (Lines), Winwick (Lancs) and Stoke Dry (Rutland).

As the inhabitants of Bulwick are so appreciative as to 'ask for more,' may one venture to hope that such interest has been aroused as will prompt them to have their bells overhauled and add a treble, so that the next peal may be one of Minor? F. R. N.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

With the idea of attempting a 'Percy peal,' Mr. P. Amos, of 13, Bedale Road, Wellingborough, would be pleased to hear from any ringer who is interested, and with the Christian name Percy. Three others are still required to complete the team, for either Grandsire Triples or Bob Major.

The peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal rung at Dudley on September 19th should have been credited to the Dudley and District Guild, whose name ought to have appeared above that of the Worcestershire Association in the report printed in our last issue.

Is it true, as reported in a Gloucester paper, that Mr. James George has said he is fit for another twelve hours at the rope end?

On Wednesday in last week Mr. C. R. Lilley rang his 150th peal of Grandsire Triples, of which he has conducted 130 in 100 different towers and in 24 counties. He has actually rung peals of Grandsire Triples in 25 counties and Holt's Ten-part in 91 towers. He has called this composition 82 times. He has called Holt's Original from every bell and a number of other compositions in this method.

The tour in the North of England, which concluded on Saturday, was highly successful. Thirteen peals were rung, which, with the exception of one of Stedman Cinques, were all in Surprise methods, viz.: Cambridge Maximus 2, Cambridge Royal 3, Cambridge Major 1, London 3, Superlative 1, Bristol 2. Six counties were visited.

Some well-known ringers, says a correspondent, who recently 'lost' the 12-bell record, are contemplating a 'peal' of 20,000 rounds, and intend suitably recording same if successful. Will anybody volunteer to count the rows to ensure the TRUTH of the peal?

THE MINOR METHODS 'COLLECTION.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Referring to the letter of the Rev. E. S. Powell in your issue of September 11th, I have now the authority of the members of the Methods Committee to mark the Alliance Methods, Nos. 66-70, 'cancelled' in all copies that I send out.

Will those who have already purchased copies take notice of this, as the significance of the word 'cancelled' is not exactly that of 'false'?—Yours truly,

CYRIL W. O. JENKYN,

Hon. Librarian, Central Council.

CLEVELAND ASSOCIATION'S RINGING COMPETITION. GREAT SUCCESS OF THE FIRST VENTURE.

The Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association held their first ringing competition at Kirkby Wiske, near Northallerton, on Saturday, September 19th, this being the autumn meeting of the association. It was with much trepidation that the officers arranged this contest, but it was such a huge success that there is not the slightest doubt that others will follow.

Over 60 members attended the meeting, which is a record number since pre-war days, the towers represented being Middlesbrough, Ormesby, Ripon, Thirsk, Sharow, Felixkirke, Richmond, Darlington (Holy Trinity and St. John's) and Kirkby Stephen. The local band were, of course, in full attendance. A pleasing feature of the meeting was the visit made to it by the Helmsley band, who were on their annual outing, and, judging from their remarks, it will not be the last meeting of the Cleveland Association they will attend.

Five teams from towers were entered for the competition, which consisted only of raising, rounds and lowering. This stipulation was made to encourage struggling bands and to increase the interest taken in good raising and falling. The association feels that these two sections of ringing are often neglected, in spite of the fact that they are the most important from the point of view of the listener. In addition to teams from Thirsk, Felixkirke, Richmond, Middlesbrough and Helmsley towers, teams were entered by Messrs. Burnett and Hudson. The judge was Mr. T. Metcalfe, the secretary of the association.

After tea, to which over 60 members and friends sat down, the judge gave his criticisms of the ringing. He said that he was delighted with the good quality of the ringing and surprised at the high standard of it. He urged the importance of good raising and lowering, as these were the first and last sounds the congregation heard of the bells. He gave tips and hints, and pointed out improvements which could be made in the ringing of each team, and showed faults which should be eradicated. He finally declared that Middlesbrough were the first and Thirsk the second in order of merit of the tower teams.

His remarks and hints were received with much approbation from the competitors.

Several new members were elected, and after votes of thanks had been passed to the churchwardens for their kindness in granting the use of the bells, and to the Kirkby Wiske ringers and their helpers in providing such a bountiful tea, the ringers adjourned to the tower for further ringing.

Touches of London, Cambridge, Kent and Plain Bob Minor were rung at various times during the day, and when the ringers finally dispersed to their several homes all felt that still another successful and happy meeting of the Cleveland Association had taken place.

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY.

Subscribers to the fund for the restoration of St. Bene't's bells, who have not yet forwarded their subscriptions are asked to do so without delay. They should be sent either to or to the hon. treasurer of the fund, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Broadlands, Caversham, Reading.

The Editor,

'The Ringing World,'

Woking, Surrey,

The reopening of the bells and the celebration of the tricentenary of Fabian Stedman is tentatively fixed for Saturday, December 5th.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The quarterly meeting of the Southern Division was held at Bolsterstone on Saturday, when members were present from Ranmoor and St. Marie's, Sheffield, Ecclesfield, Arksey, Wortley, Handsworth and the local company, with a visitor from Essex. Owing to a funeral at the church, ringing was delayed, but a few good touches were brought round before tea.

At the business meeting Mr. G. Lewis (vice-president) occupied the chair, and one new member, Mr. J. H. Sykes, of Penistone, was elected.

For the next quarterly meeting in December the secretary suggested that he should try and arrange a joint meeting with the Barnsley and Doncaster Societies at Rawmarsh if possible, and it was left in his hands to make the necessary arrangements.

Votes of thanks to the local company and to the chairman for presiding concluded the meeting.

A HINT TO WESTERN DIVISION TOWERS.

The quarterly meeting of the Western Division of the Yorkshire Association was held at Otley on Saturday last, when members attended from Guiseley, Headingley, Far Headingley, Keighley, Bradford, Armley, Calverley, Leeds, Shipley, Ilkley, Denholme, Holbeck, Burley and the local company. During the afternoon the bells were rung in various methods, and tea was partaken of in the Red Lion Hotel.

The business meeting was held in the Church Schools, Mr. J. Cotterell (vice-president) being in the chair, supported by the Rev. C. C. Marshall, president of the association. Three new members were elected—G. W. Hewitt, J. Hewitt (Earlsheaton) and A. S. Hick (Tadcaster). The clashing of the meeting with the Leeds and District meeting at Idle was discussed, and it was suggested that to avoid this in future an endeavour should be made to arrange a joint meeting.

Lindley was chosen for the next meeting, if it could be arranged.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells was proposed by the Rev. C. C. Marshall, seconded by Mr. R. Thomas, and carried. In proposing a vote of thanks to the local company for the arrangements made, Mr. P. J. Johnson said he regretted that the visits of the Yorkshire Association were not taken as seriously as they used to be by the local companies, who in days gone by went to considerable trouble and expense to welcome the members not as visitors, but as friends.—The chairman seconded the proposition and this was also carried.

The Rev. C. C. Marshall, in reminding the members of the Snowdon dinner, to be held in Leeds on Saturday, October 24th, said that the president of Central Council and the Vicar of Leeds would be present and asked for the full support of the members.

Mr. P. J. Johnson said that the support of the Western District members at these dinners in the past had been very disappointing, and hoped that at least one member from every tower would be present.

This concluded the meeting, and the tower was again visited for further ringing.

THE PEAL AT THATCHAM, BERKS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I can hardly imagine my old friend, Mr. George Gilbert, doubting the correctness of the above peal as appearing in 'The Ringing World.'

Yes, George! the official organ is correct; the peal was Grandsire and was sent in by the conductor in the usual way. Undoubtedly the report appearing in the 'Reading Mercury' was collected by one who was no authority on ringing.

I once saw Grandsire Triples described in a local paper as 'Grandsires Triples.'

Surely ringers in the places mentioned take in 'The Ringing World' and look to that as containing the correct description.

As this peal was arranged for me whilst visiting the district, I should not like my first peal for the Oxford Guild to be wrongly interpreted, and advise ringers to look to 'The Ringing World' as the proper authority in the matter of peal ringing.—Yours faithfully,
FRED M. MITCHELL.

HENLOW BELLS AUGMENTED.

BEDFORDSHIRE NOW HAS ANOTHER RING OF SIX.

A new treble bell has been added to the ring at Henlow, Beds, and was dedicated on Saturday week by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Lander. The other five bells have been put in repair. The work was entrusted to Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who have carried out the contract with their customary efficiency. The bells have a very pleasant tone and make a very nice peal of six. They are hung on ball bearings.

HENLOW CHURCH, BEDS.

The new treble is inscribed, 'A.M.D.G. George William Sanctuary, Schoolmaster 37 years, Churchwarden 21 years, of Henlow. Died December 19th, 1930. Youth, Manhood, Old Age Past, Come to Thy God at last.'

Three other bells by Miles Gray are inscribed:—

2nd: Miles Gray made me 1630.

3rd: God save our King 1628.

4th: Miles Graie fecit 1638.

The 5th, cast at St. Neots foundry by J. Eayre in 1750, bears the inscription 'Cum Voco venite Thomas Tristram Church Warden.'

The tenor was originally made or recast in 1638 with the 2nd and 4th, but was recast in 1877, and bears the name of the Rev. W. Holesworth, the late Vicar.

A good company of ringers assembled for the dedication, upwards of 30 being present from the following towers: Biggleswade, Clifton, Arlesey, Southill, Sandy, Bedford, Northill, Bromham, Keysoe and Henlow.

After the local company had opened the bells some very good touches were brought round, Plain Bob, Oxford Treble Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Woodbine and Cambridge Minor, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles all being rung. The bells were kept going till late in the evening and were very much appreciated by the parishioners.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

XV. THE CLAVIS.

After the trouble of 1787, William Jones left the St. Martin's band and took refuge with the ringers of his own district, with whom he seems to have kept in pretty close touch throughout his life. He rang three or four peals in 1787 and 1788 at Fulham, Battersea and Kensington. Probably he hoped with their aid to revive the fortunes of the old society, but Irons' action put an end to that hope. There was now only one Society of College Youths, and so Jones went over to the Cumberlands. He joined them on February 10th, 1789, and in that year and 1791 he called a couple of peals of Bob Major for them, one his own composition. In 1791 he returned finally to his own district and made no more changes. He was now once more a College Youth, but he seems to have had nothing to do with headquarters. He continued peal ringing for the next twenty years, scoring his last in 1812, when he must have been getting an old man.

William Irons joined the Cumberlands on August 4th, 1788. In 1790 he was elected Master, and when he died he left that society the property he had brought from the College Youths. What happened to it afterwards is a story which can be told later.

In the midst of these stirring times the 'Clavis' was born. It came out in the early part of 1788, and on the title page were the names of William Jones, John Reeves, and Thomas Blakemore (Note 23). These three had been pulling different ways for a long time and were now hopelessly divided. Although all three were, according to the standard of the times, great peal ringers, there was only one five thousand in which all of them took part. This was a peal of Bob Major at St. Giles-in-the-Fields on August 28th, 1785. It was composed and conducted by Reeves. The composition was a one-part in forty-three courses (fourteen bobs Before) and has the Sixth twelve times each way. It is given in Shipway's book.

The Norwich visit closely followed this peal, and the rivalry between Reeves and Blakemore soon came to a head. Blakemore appears to have been conscious of his own great abilities as composer and conductor, and was jealous of his colleague's still greater abilities. It is impossible now to judge between the two, but posterity has done Blakemore something less than justice. His name is unknown to present-day ringers, and his compositions do not appear in any ringing books, while Reeves is universally acknowledged as one of the great ringers of all time and his peals are still rung. Yet it would be surprising if some of the peals in the 'Clavis' were not the work of the lesser known man. The rivalry between these two was, as we have seen, the factor which decided the fate of the old Society of College Youths.

For the moment Blakemore has got everything his own way. At St. Martin's he was supreme. His rival was gone. The most active and skilful members of both societies of College Youths were at his disposal, and on October 6th, 1788, he achieved his ambition and called the first peal of Stedman Cinques, his own composition. The length was 6,204. In addition to Blakemore, the band included Christopher Wells, Inville and Williamson, from the old society; and Donkin, Povey, Worster, Lyford, Sylvester and Pilgrim from the junior society. Hammett and Lawrence were members of a band which was ringing peals at Fulham and the district. Almost as interesting are the names of those who did not ring. Besides Reeves and the tenor man, five of the 1787 Stedman Caters band were not included. Of the junior company, Holdsworth (Note 24) and Monk and Samuel Muggeridge and Winstanley Richardson were dropped. Monk had been ringing peals regularly since 1755. He rang one on July 12th, 1788, and then no more till a peal of Treble Bob Major in 1792, the first on Leatherhead bells. This was his last peal. He died in his seventyninth year and was buried at Camberwell.

The collapse of the ancient society left the ground clear for the junior company. They removed their headquarters and belongings from the Barley Mow to the Barn (Note 25) and assumed the rights and traditions of the old Society of College Youths. Presently they added the word Ancient to their title. Up till then the title had been the Society of College Youths, whether borne by the old or the junior company. As was the custom in the eighteenth century, people sometimes added fancy or complimentary adjectives. Thus Stedman calls them the 'noble' society and the 'honoured' society, and elsewhere they are the 'ancient' and 'respectable' society. As the survival of a similar thing, there are still the Worshipful Company of Spectacle Makers and the Honourable Society of Lincoln's Inn, and suchlike.

When the adjective 'ancient' is used of the society between the years 1756 and 1788 it always means, as in the 'Clavis,' the original society, which afterwards lapsed, in contradistinction to the other and newer company which was using the same name.

NOTE 23. Blakemore was a bookseller of 4, Dorby Court, Piccadilly.

NOTE 24. Joseph Holdsworth held a position in the Post Office.

NOTE 25. 'The Barn' was pulled down when Trafalgar Square was laid out and the National Gallery built.

RESTORATION OF BELLS AT GODALMING.

The rehanging of the bells of the Parish Church, Godalming, Surrey, has just been completed by Mr. R. White, of Appleton, and on Monday evening of last week a service of rededication was held in the belfry. The Vicar (Canon G. S. Richards) officiated, assisted by the Rev. T. B. Eddrup (curate). The ringers attended. Hymns were sung and the Vicar gave an address.

After the service the bells were rung to Grandsire Triples by the members of the local company, with the addition of Mr. R. White.

Following the ringing, the ringers were entertained to supper by the Vicar at the Angel Hotel, the guests also including the Rev. W. Havard-Jones and Mr. W. T. Ruck (churchwarden).

Mr. C. Childs, captain of the Godalming company of ringers, thanked the Vicar on behalf of the ringers, and remarked that they were pleased to receive the report of Mr. White that none of the bells is cracked.

The Vicar said that in 1741 the bells were newly cast and hung, and increased from five to their present number of eight in 1799.

The bells have been quarter turned and rehung on ball bearings, with new clappers, wheels and headstocks. The frame has also been strengthened.

MR. M. SWINFELD'S GREAT RECORD.ONE HUNDRED DIFFERENT PEALS OF STEDMAN TRIPLES.

Mr. Maurice Swinfield's great forte is conducting Stedman Triples, and almost every week we record a peal by the 'Wednesday' band which he has called, and every time it is a fresh composition. Last week he called his one hundredth different composition for the Midland Counties Association, and he has called only 108 in all. Of the remaining eight, only three were duplicated, as four of them were the reverse of others, although claimed by different composers, and one was Brooks' variation of Thurstans'. Moreover, many of the compositions have been very involved, and would probably defy the efforts of many Stedman conductors; yet Mr. Swinfield comes up with a fresh one every week! We suppose there must come a time when he has no new worlds left to conquer, but till then—well, more power to his brain and elbow.

YEOVIL BELLS REOPENED.

WONDERFUL IMPROVEMENT IN HISTORIC PEAL.

Yeoil's historic peal of bells are once more in sound order and in better tone than ever before. The trebles have been recast, the rest tuned and in the opinion of those who have since heard them among the finest rings in a county of many glorious peals. The bells have the advantage of weight—the tenor is over two tons—and balance, and a marvellous improvement has been effected.

The work has been splendidly carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of the Whitechapel Foundry. The upper tier framework, which carries the second and fifth bells, has been refitted on a steel girder foundation, and new and heavier sides have been fitted to the main frame to carry the eighth and ninth bells. The rest of the framework has been refitted and the whole frame and supporting beams tied together with bolts. All the ten bells have been rehung in ball bearings, new clapper staples have been fitted and the clappers readjusted. Those on the ninth and tenor are fitted with counter-balances to ensure the bells being pulled up 'clapper right side.' New rollers have been fitted, and these run on ball bearings.

Originally the tenor was said to weigh 44½ cwt., but the removal of the heavy cacons, when the bells were rehung in 1891, have reduced it considerably. The net weights of the bells are now:—

The dedication of the work by the Rt. Rev. Bishop De Salis, the former Bishop of Taunton, took place on Thursday of last week in the presence of a congregation that filled the great church in every part. The service, says the 'Western Gazette' (to which we are indebted for the report of the proceedings), was a wonderfully impressive one. Thanksgiving was the keynote, and two special hymns, written for the occasion by the Vicar (the Rev. J. E. S. Harrison), were sung. The first was 'From our ancient belfry, joyful bells now ring,' which was sung in procession. The other, a hymn of dedication, was on the theme, 'Praise ye the Lord—Praise Him and magnify Him for ever.'

The Psalms chosen were the 29th, 'Afferte Domino' and the age-old song of praise, 'O Praise God in His holiness.' The choir also sang the anthem, 'Come, let us sing.'

Every phase of life in the town was represented at the service. Clergy and ringers came from far afield. Among them were the Rev. E. S. Lock (Master of the Bath and Wells Association), the Rev. F. L. Edwards (Rector of Kingston Magna and hon. secretary of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild), Mr. J. T. Dyke (hon. secretary of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association), and Mr. F. Farrant (Ilchester Deanery Branch). An interesting feature was the presence at the ceremony of a representative of the Church of Japan, in the person of the Rev. P. Y. Mori, from Fukuoka, a priest in the Japanese Church.

With the clergy standing around at the west end of the church, the Vicar asked the Bishop to rededicate the bells.

The Bishop, in reply, 'by virtue of his office,' solemnly rededicated the bells. 'Receive these bells, Mr. Vicar,' he said, 'as a sacred trust, as the appointed minister of Christ in this church and parish. Take heed they are only used in God's service and for His greater glory. Let the bells now ring loud.'

The bells were then rung by ringers drawn from the Parish Church Guild of Ringers, which includes Messrs. J. E. Baker (conductor), C. Norman, F. Hunt, W. Fry, H. Batty, E. T. Griffin, F. Smith, C. Jeans, T. J. Setter, S. Ricketts, F. Padwick, J. Lukins and T. Marks.

To the singing of the hymn, 'From our ancient belfry,' the Bishop, clergy and choir then walked in procession through the church.

TOWN'S INTEREST IN THE BELLS.

The Vicar, during the service, said he would like to express his deep gratitude to those who had given so liberally to the Bell Restoration Fund. The number of subscriptions, including many small subscriptions, and also subscriptions from members of many other churches in the town, had really been most extraordinary. It showed very clearly the great interest they all had in the beautiful peal of bells. The total cost of the whole work was about £470, and voluntary contributions so far amounted to about £350, leaving about a little over £100 to raise.

The Bishop, in his sermon, said a text was unnecessary, but he could not help referring to the words they had heard read in the First Lesson that evening, 'Let the people rejoice, for that they offered willingly.' He thought a wonderful response had been made to the appeal for the restoration of the bells by all sorts and conditions of people in and outside the parish. This was the Mother Church, he said, and apparently Free Church people had been glad to subscribe. Nothing could be too good for that glorious church, which spoke of the glory of Almighty God. It was matter for con-

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL MEETING.

It is 23 years since the Lancashire Association favoured Manchester with an annual meeting, so this year they decided to revisit 'Cottonopolis.' Owing to a choral wedding at the Cathedral, there was only a short service touch before 3.30, when the association service began. The organist altered the usual anthem to what is known as the Bell Anthem. Owing to a clash of dates, the Archdeacon of Manchester could not give the address, but sent a good deputy in Canon Peter Green, Hon. Chaplain to the King and Canon in Residence. As the Cathedral has no schools, tea was served at the Mitre Hotel, when over 100 taxed the caterers, who had only orders for 54.

The business meeting was held at Cheatham's Hospital, a Blue-coast school, dating back to 1300. A party was taken through the hospital earlier in the afternoon and shown some of the treasures there, including the 110,000 volumes in the library and 'the cock which crows when it smells roast beef' in the Board Room.

Canon Elsee, president of the association, took the chair at the business meeting. There was only one nomination for ringing secretary (Mr. A. Tomlinson), and this, with the two nominations for auditors (Messrs. S. Greenhalgh and A. Barnes), was confirmed. There were two nominations for vice-president, and, on a card vote, Mr. P. Crook was elected for two years.

The committee's suggested alteration to rule 3 was accepted, and Chorley was chosen for next year's venue.

A discussion on 'Shall we have an annual dinner?' followed, and it was decided to pass the question on to the committee for consideration. The new Dean of Manchester sent a message that he would try to visit the ringers, but as he had only been inducted on the previous Monday, the members were not surprised that he could not manage it.

The usual votes of thanks to those who helped to make the day a success was carried, and the meeting closed.

READING SOCIETY'S TRIO OF OUTINGS.

St. Giles' Society, Reading, have just terminated their usual annual ringing outings. Although these excursions were only half-day events, they were all very successful and enjoyable to the ringers, their wives and others who were privileged to take part in them. The first trip was a visit to Highclere, Hants, where some capital ringing on the delightful octave was indulged in, after which a visit was paid to Thatcham, Berks, and touches on this capital peal of eight bells, the clapping of which is simply perfect since their rehanging. The ringing included three courses of Oxford Treble Bob Major and, without setting the bells, three courses of Double Norwich without a false blow being struck, which was enjoyed by those ringing and listening. On the second outing a visit was paid to Marlborough, Wilts, where ringing was done on the peal of six first, which, by the way, would make a grand eight if two trebles were added. After some capital touches, the eight-bell tower in the same town was visited, and here the bellhanger ought to be a found a job before very long. Some ringing was indulged in for nearly an hour and the visitors were congratulated by the local foreman on the striking, especially of a touch of Stedman Triples. The concluding excursion took place on Saturday last, when Sonning-on-Thames and Shipplake were visited, and some good striking enjoyed at both towers. The methods rung on these tours were Grandshire Doubles and Triples, Stedman Doubles and Triples, Bob Minor and Major, Oxford Treble Bob Minor and Major, and, on each occasion, Double Norwich. The conductors were A. Bailey, J. Swain, A. Jeffery, E. Humphrey, L. T. Osborne, H. Osborne and A. W. Osborne. The ringers wish to take this opportunity, through the medium of 'The Ringing World,' of thanking the incumbents and foreman of the towers mentioned for permission to ring and for having the bells ready. On each occasion a motor-coach was the means of conveyance, and the lovely scenery on the various routes was very much enjoyed.

gratulation that the work of restoration had been started before the great financial crisis through which they were passing. There were some who would, perhaps, regard church bells as rather a luxury, but he asked them to think of the bells, not as a luxury, but as a means of lifting their hearts Godward and giving greater glory to God.

It was an interesting coincidence, the Bishop continued, that the tercentenary was being kept of Stedman, who might be regarded as the father of change ringing. It was change ringing that had helped them to go forward so much in the care and proper use of church bells. The Bishop went on to speak of the appeal that bell music had. Personally, he thought it had a very real part in their religion. In times of sorrow it did seem to express something of their feelings, while in times of gladness the bells seemed to lift up their hearts and sound out a message of joy. The bells entered their lives very much, and especially in that dear county of Somerset. The message of the bells in the present time of crisis should surely be, 'Be not alarmed, be not afraid; keep firm and steady.'

The recessional hymn was 'Now thank we all our God,' and at the conclusion of the service several touches on the bells were rung by members of the Yeoil Guild and a number of visiting ringers.

The collection amounted to £16 18s. 1d.

The visiting clergy and ringers were entertained to refreshments in the Schoolroom by ladies of the congregation.

THE IRISH TOUR.

'Wid me bundle on me shoulder,
Faith, there's no man could be bolder,
For, I'm off to Ballymena in the morning.'

Monday.—We were all about in good time for our strenuous week, with glorious sunshine, some of our members finding their 'holiday' baggage a little cumbersome. The late Isaac Shade never carried much when on tour, and, therefore, never came late to the belfry or the dinner table—his overcoat pocket was his 'holdall.' Going to the other extreme I recollect three members of the Surrey tour, 1913, turning up with large bulky cases suitable for a month's tour in America, but they have since grown wiser. To those who have never enjoyed a ringing tour I can recommend Mr. Bankes James' practice—just a simple 'rucksack.'

St. George's Church, Dublin, stands at the junction of several bold thoroughfares. It is of classical design in stone, by Wren, and resembles several of his churches in the city of London. It is surrounded by high iron railings, the ancient headstones of the departed being levelled. With its central tower and spire, the west front matches St. Giles-in-the-Fields, Bloomsbury. The bells—the oldest ring of eight in Ireland—were cast by Mears in 1820 (tenor 20 cwt.). They are a sister peal to the octave at Waterford Cathedral by the same founder in 1872. Rehung in 1928 by Messrs. Taylor and Co., we had a unique experience of good music and good going for our first peal attempt, thanks to Mr. Dukes and several of the home band, who met us and raised the bells for us. The ground floor of the tower forms a porch entrance, and stairs up to the galleries lead out on either side. With the belfry door open can be seen a bell of about 24 in. diameter standing on the floor, which seems to appeal to one 'to come in and ring me.' Its inscription is interesting, viz.:

Gift to St. George's Church 1719.
JAN ALBERT DE GRAVE ME FECIT
AMSTELODAM ANNO DOMIE 1719.

The performance finished at 2.20 p.m., and, with Amiens Street Railway Station nearly a mile away and the 3 o'clock express to catch for Drogheda, dinner was out of the question. Everybody 'scroured' for himself and again to find a seat on the train. However, all got aboard with their baggage somehow. On the run to Drogheda—35 miles—the line skirts the Irish Sea and crosses several inlets with a good view of Lambay Island and the coastal scenery. At Drogheda there are two churches dedicated to St. Peter—each crowned with lofty tower and spire—Roman Catholic and Protestant. Both have rings of eight bells each. The one set are 'chimed' by carillon and the other 'rung' by hand. After inquiry we found the belfry we wanted—a cool and comfortable octagonal room, its windows, very high up, are restful to the eyes; a good circle and draft of rope, but the bells 'lumpy' in their going. There are 11 men in the local company. Mr. Burrows, the hon. secretary, and the Vicar, the Rev. W. B. Allman, M.A., met us and also kindly came to congratulate us after the peal, in which both our tenor and treble men proved themselves 'worthy' hands. The bells are by Rudhall, tenor reputed to be 22½ cwt. in E flat. Several of the team agreed the weight of metal was there, but that was 'after' the ringing.

A fine portrait of Sandy Milne, a Glasgow N.P. banker, who was foreman for 23 years, hangs on the belfry wall, whilst the present Vicar was president of the I.A.C.R. for 1929-30. The town is a large and important trade centre, and the high level viaduct across the River Boyne gives a good view of its many spires and the old castle mound, now a barracks.

Hungry and weary at 9 o'clock at night, we were like one of the lost tribes of Israel, saved only by the tiny tinkling of a little bell, which gleefully responded to the call, 'Are you there?' It was the White Horse Hotel and its never to be forgotten landlady that gave us dinner and bed at 'telephone' notice. Yes, we were there, instead of being at Lurgan 70 miles on.

Tuesday.—No need to say, 'Call me early.' 'Mr. Someone' did it, and at 6 a.m. all were stirring and the breakfast ready; our only train, the Portadown Express, due out at 7.17 a.m. if we were not to addle the pair of Irish eggs on our programme for this day. In glorious weather we left the Irish Free State and entered Ulster, or Northern Ireland, at a place called Adavoyle, where the customs officers carefully examined our baggage. As we were separated on the train, I do not know if anyone was 'surcharged.' In my own bag the officer found a bottle—it was Jules Freres' hair 'ointment.'

Christ Church, Lurgan, was erected in 1862, and is the largest Parish Church in Ireland, in the decorated Gothic style, with a very open, light and bright interior. Like those of many of our Victorian architects, the planning of the tower and its rooms is seriously at fault. It sounds like an Irish yarn, but I've heard of more than one house of two storeys being erected in England without a staircase, and this is a case where a church tower is without one. The tower, with very fine spire, is at the west end of the nave. There are lobbies each side with stairs leading to the galleries, that on the right, or south side, being used by the ringers. A short step ladder, in a dangerous position, gives access to a low opening cut through

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

SIX-BELL MEETING AT SEALE.

Seale, one of the tiny villages lying between Farnham and Guildford, on the Pilgrim's Way, was visited on Saturday by the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild. Time was when Seale lay in a quiet backwater, far from the madding crowd, and it is still, by comparison, a peaceful spot, and very little spoiled by the hand of 'progress.' The picturesque church, with a central tower, stands in a beautifully kept churchyard, and even under the grey skies of Saturday presented a charming picture amid the trees. Seale has six light bells and a struggling band, depleted in the last year or so by the departure of some of its main bulwarks, and Saturday's gathering, it is hoped, gave some encouragement and help to the local ringers.

The customary service was held, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. R. S. Arrowsmith), and the organist was also present to give his help. The Rector, in his address, welcomed the Guild and gave a brief review of the history of bells.

The Rector also presided at the tea and business meeting; those also present among the company of 30 being Mrs. Arrowsmith, Admiral T. P. Walker (hon. treasurer of the Guild) and Mrs. Walker, Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (general secretary) and Mrs. Goldsmith, Mr. R. Hasted (District Ringing Master) and Mrs. Hasted, Mr. C. W. Denyer (district secretary), Mr. W. Melville (Guildford District Ringing Master), Mr. G. Grover (Guildford District secretary), and ringers from Aldershot, Farnborough, Farnham, Ash, Seale, Guildford (Cathedral and St. Nicolas') and Woking.

The Aldershot band, already 20 strong, received two additional members by the election of G. Challen and S. Gill.

The general secretary drew attention to the forthcoming celebration at Cambridge in connection with Stedman's Tercentenary. It is hoped to make up a motor-coach party from the Guild (fare 8s.), and those who would like to join in this excursion were asked to communicate with Mr. Melville.

The next meeting of the District, to be held at Aldershot on October 31st, is to be a joint gathering with the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild.

Mr. Goldsmith proposed a comprehensive vote of thanks to the Rector, the organist, the blower (in this case a lady, Miss Dodd), Mr. Gardner and the local band, and Mr. Barnard, the caterer.—Admiral Walker seconded and the motion was carried by acclamation, the Rector replying.

The ringing during the afternoon and evening included Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain and Treble Bob Minor and Cambridge Surprise, while rounds were rung for beginners, including one bright boy, who had to stand on a 14 in. box to reach the rope end.

the tower wall to the ringing room. The captain of the local band and the steeplekeeper met us, and one hand came from his work to oil the bells, but this had already been kindly done. In the belfry is a model of the bell frame—a two-tier, weak arrangement—its original giving us a 'handful' before 'that's all' was sounded to a well-earned peal. Framed and hung in the belfry is an antiquarian document, dated 18th January, 1675, respecting a sum to be paid into the hands of a local trustee for a bell to weigh 100 lb., 'which bell wee also agree shall be got up in the Market House of Lurgan until a suitable steeple for containing ye said bell is erected.'

One o'clock and no dinner ordered. Messrs. Wooler and Barnett were hailed before the captain and reprimanded for neglect of duty. A neighbouring cafe supplied our wants and a cup of tea, and the tour was resumed by the 2.20 train to Lisburn, where a local bus service landed the party at Hillsborough Church at 3.30.

Dedicated to St. Malachi, this church with lofty spire stands on an eminence well back from the road, with entrance gates and a double avenue of trees on either side of the approach, very much resembling Kettering. We found the Rector (the Rev. F. Matchett) and his band of ringers waiting to greet us and do anything needful to assist. The bells are an ancient ring of eight by Rudhall, of Gloucester (tenor 20 cwt. in E), but several have since been recast. The plan of the old frame gives a complete and true circle of ropes for seven men, the tenor rope falls directly in the centre of the room, and whoever rings this bell should have his head 'swivelled.' This same fault exists at St. Paul's belfry at Dundee, and both form a serious handicap to our brothers' progress in Ireland and Scotland. It was proposed to try Cambridge Surprise, but we hadn't a Pye with us, and Treble Bob was rung instead, as the bells had not improved in 'go' since 1909, when the Pye party made their Surprise tour of Ireland, and Ernest turned this tenor in to London.

On leaving the tower the Rector and a few ladies very hospitably entertained us to a substantial meat tea, for which we were quite ready and most thankful. Time passed quickly, Mr. Hughes offering our thanks for the kindness, and the Rector wishing us a fair journey and every success on the tour. Bus and train took us to Belfast (14 miles), and we arrived at the Kensington Hotel at 10.30 quite ready for bed.

PEAL CREDIT.

Although the competitive spirit between associations has been eliminated from peal ringing by the abandonment of point values in the analysis tables, there is a great deal to be said in favour of the practice, as old as peal ringing itself, of associating with the performance the name of the society to which the members belong. Ringers, as a whole, are proud of their associations and delight to pass on to the credit of their societies any honour which attaches to their achievements. The recording of a peal in the name of an association is by no means an empty formality, and there are few things which ringers dislike so much as to ring a peal which can be credited to no recognised organisation. Occasionally, circumstances render it impossible, but for the most part ringers are particularly careful before beginning a peal to ensure that it shall be rung under the auspices of some association or other. More than a century ago the St. James' Society was formed in London for the express purpose of enabling members of the College Youths and the Royal Cumberlands to ring peals together, and credit them to a recognised society, a proceeding which otherwise would have been impossible on account of the inflexible rule which prevents any man from being a member of these two societies at the same time.

From time to time there appear in our columns reports of peals in which the names of two associations are given. It is an established practice that the credit for the peal in the Central Council's records shall go to the first mentioned of the organisations, and we suggest that the time has now arrived when no peal should be recorded in the name of more than one association. When the names of two ringing societies appear in the report it is the obvious intention that both shall take credit for it in their respective records; but in these days when peals are rung in such considerable numbers there is little justification for giving the benefit of a performance to two associations. It is true that dual titles appear in only a few instances, but were the practice to be encouraged there are some hands who almost every week could credit their peals to half a dozen or even more associations. Ringers ought to be content to name one society and one only in each peal, even if that society is not one affiliated to the Central Council. They are not entitled to a double credit, and as the first-named organisation takes the official precedence in the national record, the inclusion of a second is unnecessary. If there is special reason for associating another society with the performance, it could be done in a footnote to the peal, but even this we should deem undesirable unless the circumstances were really exceptional.
