THE 18 1/2 TON RINGING BELL,

RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A

THE FUTURE.

Our first privilege and pleasure at the opening of the New Year is to wish all our readers health, happiness and prosperity throughout 1931. In the depression and gloom which spread over the year that has just closed many ringers, unfortunately, shared, and the prevailing industrial conditions have hit them severely. We hope that for all the members of the Exercise who have thus suffered and for their families the coming year will bring a speedy return to better fortune and a brighter future.

Broadly surveyed, the year 1930 was no less progressive from a ringing point of view than its predecessor, although in some respects the general condition of affairs throughout the country and the financial straits of many ringers have restricted their participation in the art in various directions. We hope, however, that the 'turning course' has been reached and that with returning prosperity they will soon be able to participate as fully in ringing as their hearts desire.

Except for the lessons that may be learned from it, there is little to be gained from a contemplation of the past. It will serve a better purpose if we look to the future and plan for the days to come. Ringers, individually, and as bands and associations, can do this, and there is useful work at hand in all directions. The determination to progress and to make, and not to wait for, the opportunities to advance; the filling of gaps where companies are not up to full strength; the widening of the scope of methods practised; more efficient service ringing; more regular practice; more loyalty to one's association or guild. These are some of the ways in which ringers can help. There is room for improvement everywhere; let 1931 see a determination made and acted on to effect it.

And while all this is being done, what about the social side? Sometimes we wonder whether ringers make enough of this phase of their association one with another. It is usually in those districts where ringers enjoy fraternal intercourse outside as well as inside the tower that the relations are happiest and the wheels of progress turn fastest. Those who know nothing of the social side of ringing, have missed half the pleasure which the art can provide. The man whose only connection with the Exercise is to rush into the belfry, ring and rush off again, may find a satisfaction in his achievement at the rope-end, but he does not enter fully into the pleasures which ringing can give, and which are got from the more intimate association with kindred spirits by a half-hour spent, after ringing, over a cup of coffee or a glass of something more potent, or by rubbing shoulders with scores of others like minded at one or other of the great gatherings held from time to time in various parts of the country. Let one of the new year's resolutions be an endeavour on the part of all to extend the fraternal spirit among ringers outside as well as inside the belfry, and the art, as well as the brotherhood of the Exercise, will be the better for it in the days to come.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Our best thanks to all the many correspondents who have sent us their good wishes for Christmas and the New Year.

Since we went to press last week we have received reports of over 90 peals. We have devoted as much space as possible to them, and the rest will appear in due course.

On Sunday evening, Mr. F. Warrington, of Over, Cambs, rang his 235th 720 for the year.

At Kington Magna Church, Dorset, on Christmas Day, a selection of carols was played by little boys on handbells at evensong, and handbells were used with the organ to accompany the singing of the Magnificat.

An interesting lecture on 'Bells, their uses and abuses, legends and traditions,' was given to Earl Shilton C.E.M.S. on December 16th by Mr. Ernest Morris, of Leicester. Handbell selections were given by the Earl Shilton quartette, who are to broadcast on December 31st.

On January 4th, 1784, a peal of 14,480 Bob Major was rung at St. Paul's, Oldham, in 8 hrs. 24 mins.

Eighty years ago next Tuesday, a peal of 7,524 Stedman Cinques was rung at Cripplegate. At that time it was the longest peal in the method.

Henry Johnson, the famous old Birmingham ringer and composer, died on January 7th, 1890, at the age of 80 years.

The first peal of Grandsire Cinques at Cirencester, where the second peal of twelve bells in the country—York being the first—was installed, was rung on January 7th, 1767.

The delays in the Christmas posts caused several notices of meetings to reach us too late for last week's issue. To-morrow's meetings include the following:—

Sheffield and District Society at Killamarsh.

Bath and Wells Diocesan Association at Curry Rivel.

Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association (Bristol Branch) at Brislington.

The report of a peal of Bob Major rung at Crayford appears elsewhere. There is no footnote to it, but readers will probably look twice at the time occupied. Two hours seventeen minutes is good going for 5,008 Bob Major on a 12½ cwt. peal.

Nine peals were rung at St. Mary-le-Tower Church, Ipswich, in 1929, viz.: Stedman 3, Oxford Treble Bob 1, Cambridge Surprise 1, New Cambridge Surprise 2, Forward 1, Yorkshire Surprise 1. In 1930 also nine peals were rung, viz.: Stedman 2, Cambridge Surprise 1, New Cambridge Surprise 1, Yorkshire Surprise 2, Pudsey Surprise 3. In addition three peals were rung on handbells. Is eighteen peals in two years a record for a 12-bell tower?

A FIRST 720.

On December 23rd for practice, at St. John's, Bournemouth, a 720 Bob Minor: Miss F. M. Childs (first 720) 1, Miss M. White 2, H. R. Bennett 3, F. Frampton 4, H. Mitchell 5, F. Cole (conductor) 6. This is the first 720 Bob Minor on the bells. All are local ringers with the exception of the conductor, who comes from North Stoneham.

SYSTON BELLS RESTORED.

ANOTHER LEICESTERSHIRE RING MADE PEALABLE.

Syston bells rang out once more on Monday, December 22nd, after their temporary silence. Their voices are no longer hard and harsh as hitherto, but have a sweeter and mellower tone after their rejuvenation at Messrs. Taylor's Loughborough bell foundry, where they had been for retuning and rehanging.

The old order of things left much to be desired, the bells being hung in an old wood frame with one above the others. In the ringing chamber a huge clock case formed an admirable knuckle-cracker for the tenor man, who stood beneath it, and the second rope went up an inclined spout which tended to pull the ringer backwards. For several years ringing on them was a question of grit and stamina, and 'one' declared a peal impossible. To prove him wrong, the then 'Leicester firsts' went and rang 5,040 Stedman Triples, whereupon he felt he must come personally and congratulate the local ringers on their fine achievement, and heartily shook hands with Mr. E. Payne, the leader, on behalf of the band. He also shook hands with 'Mary,' on behalf of the ladies, and wished them all God-speed, a happy Christmas and a glad New Year.

Ringling over, the party adjourned to try another 'bell,' according to the sign over the door, a 'blue' one, owned by one of the local celebrities, Mr. A. Mansfield. A certain well-known tenor man was overheard to remark, 'This is the sort of peal I like. Where's the bell?' The Croftonian had brought his handbells, which were soon in requisition, and selections by Messrs. C. H. Webb, H. J. Poole and E. Morris were boisterously encored. 'J. O.,' by special request, then joined in and gave his famous 'Grandsire quick Triples,' and also a course of Rugby Triples Major!

Everyone was delighted with the restoration of Syston bells, and it was suggested that in the near future an open ringing meeting should be held, which will be duly advertised in these columns.

SYSTON CHURCH.

'one' exclaimed, 'I meant Major!' Then the aforesaid team went again and rang an excellent peal of Bristol, and the writer thus had the pleasure (?) of ringing the tenor to the only Surprise peal on the bells. It was not done without severe pains—both internally and externally—and had not another 'Payne' taken pity at the conclusion, one might have 'collapsed.' Nevertheless, they were a rough handful, but now, in their new iron and steel frame and ball bearings, they are a delight to ring on, and the circle of ropes all that can be desired.

The service of rededication was performed by Dr. Cyril Bardsley, Lord Bishop of Leicester, assisted by the Rev. Avery, Vicar of Syston, and a fairly large congregation assembled for the occasion. Visiting ringers were present from Leicester Cathedral and St. Margaret's, Anstey, Belgrave, Croft, Loughborough, Melton, and elsewhere, among them being Mr. Philip Hardy, the veteran secretary of the Goscote Society.

The founders were represented by Messrs. J. Oldham, C. Harrison and J. P. Fidler. The Lord Bishop, after the dedication ceremony, gave an appropriate address, touching upon the historic side of bells. He said that, through the ages, Leicestershire had always been well known for its bells and bell founders, and the present firm of Taylor was a descendant of a long line of honoured members of the craft. He congratulated Syston people on this restoration of their bells, and especially so in getting them completed before the festival of Christmas.

Immediately before the address and after the rededication, a few rounds were rung by the local ringers: G. Walker 1, S. Payne 2, T. Payne 3, A. Mansfield 4, H. Humphreys 5, H. Lewin 6, E. Payne 7, W. Wright 8.

After the service the visitors crowded into the belfry, and various touches of Cambridge Surprise, Stedman and Grandsire were rung, as well as 'rounds and crosses' for the lady ringers. All were delighted when the Lord Bishop ascended the dark and rather awkward stairway and visited the ringers. He said—rather breathlessly—that

LEICESTER MEN VISIT SYSTON. (WITH APOLOGIES TO 'KING WEN'.)

When Jack Oldham last looked out

On the Syston Station,
Saw the Le'ster men steam out,
Filled with exultation.

Oh how neatly they were plucked,

When the London Scottish

Sent the Le'ster train on first,

Syston is a place for bells,

Also beer and skittles,

But with Le'ster men about,

Never mention victuals!

Loughboro's got a mighty name

For their bells and bounty;

If that turkey isn't prime,

We shall tell the county.

Send me Colin, then said John,

Send me Fidler's plenty,

For those concrete Le'ster men

Never go back empty.

Get that gobbler then rehung

On the red bus bearings.

We will Simpson tunc, and then

You can have the parings.

The moral of this little yarn

Doesn't want much spinning.

Jack is looking rather glum,

While Jimmy still is grinning.

If the stake of that rash bet

Isn't soon broadcasted,

Jack can bet his last new hat

He'll be soon sand-blasted.

A FLAT.

VARIATION AND TRANSPOSITION.

By J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

First of all it must be understood that the great majority of peal compositions are Round Blocks. The exceptions are peals that come home at hand stroke (these are almost invariably in Triples, Caters, or Cinques), and a few peals in such methods as Stedman and Duffield, where the bells come home at a change in the division or six different to that in which they come home in the plain course. [Where I speak of a peal, any touch of any length must also be understood.]

A 'Round Block' is a course, touch or peal which, provided the conductor does not say 'That's all,' can be repeated ad infinitum. Thus, you could keep on ringing a course of Bob Major for ever simply by keeping on with your regular work. But if the touch came round at hand and you went on, immediately you will get changes in a different order to what you have already rung. Suppose you could write out a peal of Bob Major on a long slip of paper and paste it on a drum just the right size, so that the final rounds would come on the top of the first rounds, you have a good illustration of what a round block is. You have five thousand true changes written on your strip of paper, and if you start from rounds and follow your drum round till you come to rounds again, you will have all the five thousand true changes, and you will have passed a certain number of bobs at certain intervals. If you start at any other point, say, at 164235578, and follow the drum round till you come back to 164235578, you will equally have five thousand true changes (for it is the same drum) and the same bobs, and at the same intervals. The only difference is that, as we started at a later point, we shall get those changes and bobs now at the end, which before we got at the beginning.

But we must realise that the figures 12345678 are symbols. We call the treble 1 and the second bell 2 because it is convenient. For no other reason. We could call them anything we pleased—A.B.C., etc., for instance. Now suppose we call rounds 164235 instead of 123456, why then we could start our peal where 164235 comes on the drum, and go on till 164235 comes up again and have a true peal. It must be true, because it is the same peal we wrote on the drum, and that, we know at the start, is true. What we have done is not to vary the peal, but to vary the musical notes we give to the symbols 1234, etc.

It is but a step further to alter the symbols themselves. We can call 2 in the original 6; 4, 3; 2, 4; 3, 5; and 5 we can call 6. Making these alterations we can write our peal out afresh. It is still the same peal, but we are now producing different rows.

Up to now we have followed the different rows written on our drum in one direction, but it is obvious that if you start from rounds and follow them the other way you will equally reach rounds again and have all the five thousand true changes. It would be exactly the same peal, but backwards. It is equally clear that if you write 12345678 in place of the handstroke row that comes before it (whether it be 123456587 or 12346587 or 13246587) and follow the peal backwards, you will have a true peal. This is the reverse variation, the same peal, but again producing different rows. It is also clear that if we start from 86745231 and go backwards we shall still have a true peal. This is another form of reversal, and by it we can reverse the bobs at the Wrongs and Homes. Thus:—

23456 W. R.

Each twice repeated.

From our drum we see that any true peal can be begun from any lead-end and still remain the same true peal; or it can be reversed and still be the same, and the reversal can be begun from any lead-end and still be the same. All these variations will give different lead-ends, and, of course, different qualities. Take the following example:—

A is a quarter-peal of Bob Major.

B is the same begun at a different course-end.

C is the same reversed and begun at a different course-end.

A.	B.	C.
23456 W. B. M. R.	23456 W. B. M. R.	23456 W. B. M. R.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT HASTINGS.

A quarterly meeting of the Eastern Division was held at St. Clement's, Hastings, where there is a ring of steel bells, on Saturday, December 13th, when members were present from Brighton (St. Peter's, St. Nicholas' and the Church of the Good Shepherd), Battle, Eastbourne, All Saints' and St. Saviour's, Hastings, Christ Church, Blacklands, and All Saints', Lewes, Rye, Christ Church St. Leonards, Sedlescombe, Stone-in-Oxhey, Kent, Uckfield and Waldron, together with the members of the local band. Mr. J. H. Shepherd, of Swindon, was also present. Plenty of ringing in various methods was indulged in during the afternoon.

The Rector, the Rev. H. B. Cole, conducted the service, and the Rev. N. E. Hope, who is a ringer himself, delivered a most interesting address. Although he had only recently been ordained, he had been a ringer for a number of years. Ringing, he said, taught duty towards our neighbours, and he touched on the necessity for good striking, and striving to learn new and more difficult methods. Effort was needed in ringing, and change ringing was not learnt in the belfry. Younger ringers should submit to the authority of older ringers, and ringers should also be churchgoers, and should create a friendly feeling with the Vicar and churchwardens. There was also the duty to our fellow-ringers, to attend ringing on every possible occasion. Nothing was more annoying than when only seven ringers turned up and so prevented the full octave from being rung. We call our associations 'Guilds of Ringers,' he added. Guilds in the old days were to further the arts and work of the particular trades, and it should be the same in ringing. The brotherhood of ringers should extend in every local band.

Through the kindness of the Rector and churchwardens, a splendid tea was provided in the Church House, to which sixty members and friends sat down.

At the business meeting which followed, the Rector occupied the chair, and extended a hearty welcome to the ringers. He was delighted to see such a large number present, and stated that if any member knew of a spare peal of bells to send them along to St. Clement's.

The following members were elected: Messrs. J. Farrow, W. J. Garner, G. Newman, C. Robey, H. Read, W. Smith, H. Tyrrell, J. Wood, all of Sedlescombe; Messrs. H. Childs, D. Cleaver, G. Portland, F. Chapman, H. Franks, of Battle; and Mr. J. White, of St. Clement's, Hastings. The election of the following members was also confirmed: Mr. A. Stevens, of Benenden, and Mr. W. Gorrings, of Hawkhurst, as non-resident life, and Mr. J. Powell a yearly member.

Mr. Walter Franks proposed a hearty vote of thanks, firstly to the Rector for the use of the bells, and to the Rev. N. G. Hope for his excellent address at the service. He also thanked the organist and choir for their services, and, last but not least, he wished to offer special thanks to Mrs. Walker and the numerous lady helpers who had so kindly waited upon them at tea.—Mr. A. Gowers supported the motion, and suggested that the young band of ringers at St. Clement's would find a good reserve in the choir boys, who should be taught to ring when they left the choir. He wished the St. Clement's band every success, and hoped that they would in the near future have a new peal of bells to practise upon.

The Rector expressed thanks for all that had been said, but pointed out that it was the ladies of the parish who had so kindly arranged the tea, and therefore they should receive all the praise for the good things which had been provided.

This terminated the meeting. During the evening good ringing was had at St. Leonard's, Christ Church, touches and courses in all the methods up to Cambridge Surprise being rung. The Rev. N. G. Hope took part in several touches during the evening, and quite a number of young ringers were piloted through their first courses in different methods. Taken altogether, it was a most successful meeting.

ACCIDENT TO MR. J. HEMMING.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION BRANCH SECRETARY IN HOSPITAL.

His many friends will learn with regret of a rather nasty accident which befell Mr. J. Hemming, of Evesham, the popular local branch secretary of the Worcestershire Association, on Christmas Eve. He had left his home about 7 p.m. to walk to the bell tower for the usual Christmas Eve ringing, when, after he had gone about a hundred yards from home, he was run into from behind and knocked down by a bicycle. He was taken home by passers-by and admitted to hospital on Boxing morning with a broken ankle and torn and twisted ligaments of the leg.

For a long time he had been ambitious to take part in the first peal of Oxford Treble Ten on the bells at Evesham, and he had been to a great deal of trouble in making all the arrangements for an attempt on Saturday last, the peal to be rung as a compliment to Councillor Richard White, the Mayor of Evesham, of whom he had been a lifelong friend. In view of the unfortunate occurrence which prevented his taking part, and in deference to his ambition, the band substituted Kent Treble Bob.

At the time of writing, Mr. Hemming is as comfortable and going on as satisfactorily as can be expected.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting was held at Llandaff on Boxing Day. The Cathedral bells (ten) were available, and were off into various methods early in the afternoon. Service took place in the Cathedral and was very well attended. The Dean gave an exceedingly interesting address, which was much appreciated. He specially wished all present to feel that they were heartily welcomed, that there would always be a welcome for them, and that the Cathedral Church was their spiritual home.

Following the service, all sat down to a bountiful tea, which had been generously provided by the Dean.

The business meeting followed, the Dean taking the chair, and made a few welcoming remarks. Instructors' reports, restorations and augmentations were dealt with.

The places at which to hold the next meetings were selected: Glamorgan quarterly meeting at Whitechurch, the Monmouthshire meeting at Usk, and the annual meeting at All Saints, Newport.

Mr. J. Phillips, now of Abergavenny, was elected Master for the year, and the re-election of the hon. secretary and auditor was carried.

It was unanimously decided that when the next set of rules is printed a new rule be inserted that this association shall be affiliated to the Central Council of church bell ringers.

A number of new members were elected, and after the best thanks of the meeting had been accorded the Dean for his exceeding kindness, the meeting terminated.

The bells of both the Cathedral and those of St. John's, Cardiff, were afterwards rung during the evening.

THE PEAL OF MAJOR AT SHERBORNE.

A GREAT PERFORMANCE.

The peal which we recorded last week rung at Sherborne Abbey was really a great performance. It is only those who have rung there who can properly appreciate its merit. Apart altogether from the question of weight, the conditions are all against peal ringing, notably in the noise of the bells immediately overhead and the absence of any proper ventilation of the ringing chamber. Mr. J. T. Dyke, by doing what most people imagined was impossible, in turning the tenor in to a peal of Major, has added another to his great performances in this direction, which have included the tenor at Queen Camel (37 cwt.) to a peal of Minor and the tenor at Redcliffe (50 cwt.) to a peal of Cambridge Major.

On this subject, Mr. A. H. Pulling writes: 'The peal recorded in your last issue rung at Sherborne Abbey deserves more than a passing notice. The tenor man has done some big jobs in the past, Queen Camel and the peal at Bristol on December 13th, but Sherborne is the "tit-bit." Only those who have rung there know the difficulties, and Mr. Dyke has done what we all thought was impossible, and he deserves public congratulation. It is certainly a good advertisement for the Somerset beverage.'

It is worthy of note that the band was welcomed by the Bishop of Sherborne and by Canon Wingfield Digby. The latter said the Belfry Office, and the Bishop pronounced the Blessing before the peal.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

DUNSTER DEANERY BRANCH.

There was an attendance of about a hundred from twenty parishes at the annual meeting of the Dunster Deanery of the Bath and Wells Association. The address at the service was given by Preb. Harman.

The balance sheet showed a balance in hand of £5 19s. 7d., and the secretary's report revealed that there were 21 towers affiliated and 174 active members, and six unattached.

The Rev. R. A. W. Newman (Withypool), who was absent on account of illness, was re-elected president of the branch, and Mr. G. Stacey hon. secretary. Mr. Hawkins was re-elected hon. auditor, Mr. H. W. Tomkins (Old Cleve) deanery representative on the diocesan committee, and Mr. J. Pugsley Ringing Master.

Mr. Stacey referred to the fact that some of the towers were drifting back to the old school of call changes, but now that the clergy were taking such an interest in the welfare of the ringers he hoped they would try and put matters right.

The usual votes of thanks were passed. During the afternoon and evening, touches of Grandisle and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Treble Bob Major were rung.

WEDDING BELLS.

At Edgbaston, Birmingham, on Saturday, December 20th, at the Old Church, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples: W. Dowler 1, J. Atkins 2, E. J. Cole 3, C. Webb 4, Geo. Pigott 5, E. Boyling 6, H. Withers (conductor) 1, R. Russell 2.

Rung on the occasion of the wedding of Mr. Kenneth Macdonald, of Glasgow, and Miss Kathleen Jackson, of Edgbaston. Also to celebrate the silver wedding of the Vicar, Canon Stuart Blofeld, and to mark the silver wedding of Mr. S. W. Freeman, for 22 years beadle at the above church. It was also a compliment to Mr. H. Withers on the completion of 25 years' service as Sunday ringer at the church.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION. THE SPIRIT OF LOYALTY.

The last meeting of the year in the North and East District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held on December 20th at the Church of St. John of Jerusalem, South Hackney. Christmas shopping kept many away, albeit some thirty or more ringers paid a visit during the afternoon and evening. The Rector (Rev. H. Cecil) preached at the service, and urged on his listeners the necessity of cultivating a spirit of loyalty to their leader, both in ringing and in their everyday life. A spirit of loyalty to Christ was necessary to lead a useful life, just as such a spirit to their leader was necessary in ringing.

After an excellent tea, the usual business meeting was held. The district vice-president (Mr. W. Pickworth), in the chair, was supported by Messrs. A. W. Coles (District Master), G. R. Goodship (assistant hon. secretary), W. H. Hollier (hon. secretary, South and West District), W. Pye (Master), etc., etc.

To show their sympathy with two of their colleagues, Messrs. M. F. R. Hibbert and W. J. Nudds, who had suffered family bereavements, all present stood in silence for a few moments.

Seven new members were admitted, including the Rector as an hon. member.

It was announced that the annual meeting of the district was arranged to be held at St. Giles-in-the-Fields on January 31st. The hon. secretary welcomed the visitors to the meeting, including Mr. R. Smith (Northfleet) and Mr. G. Freebrey (Derby), both of whom they were very pleased to see.

The Chairman proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. H. Cecil for his very helpful address and for the use of the bells; to the tower-keeper, Mr. A. Riley, for the excellent arrangements made; and to all others who had helped in any way.

The Hon. Secretary, in seconding, referred to the sermon they had heard and the good advice which it contained. He said he would like members to read very carefully the excellent letter in that week's issue of 'The Ringing World' from Mr. J. T. Dyke, who gave a list of the attributes necessary to make a good ringer. It would be well to couple the advice given in this letter with that given in the address at the service.

The vote of thanks was carried, and the Rector, in replying, not only gave the association a very hearty welcome, but expressed a sincere hope that members would come again at an early date. He promised to do all he could to help forward the association's work.

Ringling took place after the meeting until about 9 p.m. Most of the standard methods, including four Surprise methods, were rung.

RUTLAND SURPRISE MAJOR.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I was interested to see the letter of my old friend, Mr. George Baker, criticising the use of bobs Before in Rutland Surprise and other methods.

For the sake of those ringers and conductors who are interested in this method, I should like to point out that there is considerable advantage to be got in this class of composition.

The bob Before shortens the course by one lead, cutting out some of the work of the tenors on the front; it also cuts out all the falseness in Rutland Surprise, making it possible to use courses having the bells in 5-6 reversed; therefore, you may have a composition having all the combinations of 4.5.6 in 5.6 at the course ends (a rare feature in Surprise methods), and the 2nd and 3rd never behind with the tenor.

When this class of composition is used for Double Oxford Major, or St. Clement's College Bob Major, the lead cut out by the bob at Before is the one when the tenor and 7th would be making a five pull dodge on the front.

Of course, Mr. Baker is quite entitled to the opinion expressed in his letter, but, personally, I cannot see why the bob Before should not be used, even if it does upset the symmetry of the work of the tenors, and I should like to remind him that bobs at 'In' and 'Fifth's' are very much used in London Surprise Major, also that there are a large number of methods, including Treble Bob and Bristol Surprise, in which you cannot have any bobs at Middle, Wrong and Home without upsetting the symmetry of the courses.

SPliced METHODS.

THREE VALUELESS FOR PEALS WITH TENORS TOGETHER.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It should be known to the Exercise that whatever value methods A.B.C. in your last issue may have for splicing purposes, they are valueless as methods for producing peals tenors together.

Method A has seven false course-ends tenors together, i.e., 32465, 43265, 53624, 65432, 26545, 36245 and 42563.

Method B has five false course-ends tenors together, i.e., 24365, 46532, 52643, 65243 and 36524.

Method C has four false course-ends tenors together, i.e., 46325, 62315, 54263 and 34562.

There are twenty-four true plain courses of Method C, but it is impossible to produce a peal tenors together from this material.—Yours faithfully, GEORGE BAKER.

THE TWELVE-BELL RECORD.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Thank you for your reply to my question, which leads to the further one, already asked, 'What is the use of the Council's definition of an eleven-bell peal?' Surely the fact that such a definition exists means that the Council recognises a peal on eleven bells, in spite of the necessity of a covering bell, as being quite apart from a peal in a twelve-bell method.

The Painswick peal did not contain one twelve-bell change, and for that reason I submit that it comes within the Council's definition of an eleven-bell peal, and is therefore the eleven-bell record.

Further, it should not even be recognised as that if the composition is not quickly sent you for publication, in accordance with the Council's rules.—Yours faithfully,

C. T. COLES.

ROMNEY MARSH & DISTRICT GUILD.

The monthly meeting of the Guild was held at Charing on December 20th, but, owing to the proximity of Christmas, was rather poorly attended. Some good touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and of Minor were brought round, and the Vicar conducted the Guild service, after which all repaired to Feakins' tea rooms, where a substantial meat tea, kindly provided by the Vicar, was partaken of.

The Vicar presided at the business meeting which followed, and welcomed the Guild to Charing. Arrangements were made for the annual general meeting at Appledore on January 17th.

The Guild Master expressed his appreciation of the way the members had supported the meetings during the past year, and Mr. Franklin also spoke of the progress of the Guild. A very hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for his hospitality and for conducting the service.

Some courses of Grandsire on the handbells were then rung, after which a return was made to the tower until eight o'clock, when the bells were lowered in peal. The towers represented were Ashford, Kennington, Egerton, Tenterden, Benenden, Hothfield and the local band.

CHELMSFORD CATHEDRAL BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It will be of interest to the readers of 'The Ringing World' to know that the Chelmsford Cathedral bells are to be rehung on ball bearings, the rope pulleys repaired, and the clappers of the 11th and tenor fitted with counter-balances. The work is being put in hand at once, and will be carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, Ltd., the total cost being £161.

Although the bells are at the Cathedral, the whole expense will fall on the parish funds, which are already heavily overdrawn, and no help is expected from the diocesan authorities.

The writer is endeavouring to raise the sum required, and feels that there may be among your readers some who would like to contribute to the fund.

Applications for the use of the bells by visiting bands are always granted, and permission for peal attempts is given when possible, although they are necessarily limited to three or four in a year, so that any amounts received, however small, will tend to show the authorities how much the ringers appreciate efforts made to improve ringing facilities and also the ready approval given to any reasonable requests for permission to ring.

Any contributions sent to the undersigned will be gratefully acknowledged.—Yours faithfully, 38, Lynmouth Avenue, Chelmsford.

L. J. CLARK.

INSTRUCTION OF RINGERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Having read with much interest Mr. Dyke's article in your issue of December 19th re instruction of ringers (he puts it very clearly and plainly), I wonder what his opinion is of the styles of ringers he has seen, as he says nine-tenths of the ringers hold the tail end of the rope wrongly, and one-fifth do not allow their hands at hand-stroke to rise above the chin, and no doubt this may cause bad striking. What is nicer to see than a band of graceful styled ringers in a tower. If I were anything of a cartoonist (unfortunately I am not), I would send you a cartoon of a band of ringers I saw a few weeks ago, and would amuse you with their styles. While we have clumsy-styled ringers, we have need for such valuable articles as the one of Mr. J. T. Dyke. Soldiers on church parade have a graceful style in their marching. Why should not the ringer have a graceful style of handling his bell rope? My opinion is we want more straight-from-the-shoulder talks.—Yours truly,

A. W. F.

RINGERS' WEDDINGS.

A very interesting event took place at Woolton Parish Church, Liverpool, on Saturday, December 27th, when the marriage of Mr. E. T. Humphriss to Miss Cecelia Broadbent was solemnised. The bridegroom has taken a prominent part in the ringing of Woolton bells for some years, and is deservedly held in high esteem by his colleagues. The officiating minister was the Rector (Rev. J. B. Hadow). The bride was given away by her father, and the best man was the bridegroom's brother, Mr. S. G. Humphriss. Before and after the ceremony, the bells were rung by the local band, assisted by Messrs. H. Hudson, C. I. Davies and G. R. Newton.

The reception was held at the Parish Hall, and a large gathering of friends were sumptuously entertained. Afterwards the bride and bridegroom left for their honeymoon at Blackpool to the tune of Bob Major, a peal of which was successfully accomplished and is recorded in its proper place.

The thanks of the band are extended to the parents of the bride for their lavish hospitality before and after the peal.

POPULAR WYMONDHAM RINGER MARRIED.

A pretty wedding took place at Wymondham (Norfolk) on Saturday last between Mr. William Clover and Miss Hartie Rebecca Elvin. The ceremony, which was fully choral, was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. S. Martin Jones. The bridegroom's brother, Mr. F. Clover, acted as best man, while the bride was given away by Mr. Cubitt Elvin. The bridesmaids were the Misses Betty Elvin and Beattie Hurrell.

The bridegroom is a popular ringer, well known in both Norfolk and Suffolk for his genial and unassuming disposition. He learnt his ringing at Thornham Magna and took part in most of the multi-method Minor peals with which that company distinguished itself before the war. As a token of appreciation and as an expression of good wishes for the continued health and happiness of the bride and bridegroom, his beloved bells rang for almost three hours and a half in the afternoon through the medium of a representative company of Norwich Diocesan Association ringers. Mr. and Mrs. Clover's address is now Belmont, Wymondham. Wedding peals were also rung at Thornham Magna and Fakenham.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL MEETING AT LIVERPOOL.SUGGESTED MASONIC PEAL.

In connection with the meeting of the Central Council in Liverpool next Whitsun, the W.M. of the Lancastrian Lodge No. 3631 will be pleased to invite any Masonic brethren to the usual meeting of the Lodge on Wednesday, May 27th.

It has also been suggested that an attempt be made for a Masonic peal during the afternoon of Wednesday, May 27th, prior to visiting the Lodge.

Will any brother who desires to stand in the peal attempt and/or desires an invitation to the Lodge please communicate with Bro. Claude I. Davies (Lancastrian Lodge), Caerleon, Dunbabin Road, Waverice, Liverpool?

QUANTITY AND QUALITY OF PEALS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I heartily congratulate my brother Fellow of the Royal College of Organists, Mr. D. Cecil Williams, on scoring 100 peals. He has certainly beaten me in quality, if not in quantity (my number up to date being 145). The humble writer of this epistle, though a graduate of Oxford, has not yet got beyond Cambridge in the peal ringing line. A big step to London and Bristol, is it not? Secondly, in the conducting or bob calling, this humble scribe has barely called half the number Mr. Williams has called, the stock of W. E. P. being only 'the Original.' Such is the interesting rare comparison between two Fellows of the Royal College of Organists in the campanological world.

CHRISTMAS MUSINGS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I would like to thank your various correspondents for their delightful articles. First, Mr. J. T. Dyke. This is an essential 'top line,' particularly for those who have ears to hear and eyes to read. Then, secondly, 'O.P.Q.'s' very amusing contribution, particularly about the ten youths. I hope to give this at our annual new year's party. They do not all take 'The Ringing World'; some do, some don't, some cannot, and some won't; it's not for me to say why. Thirdly, we have Mr. Trollope's brilliant contribution. Another 'top line.' Here we have a writer who knows what he is writing about from experience. If Mr. Trollope will only continue on the same 'top line' he will do a vast amount of good. Should he desire a fresh term in place of 'composed by,' I suggest he adopts the words 'compiled by.' SIMPLEX COMPLEX.

THE 18 1/2 TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

BREAD CAST UPON THE WATERS.

Many a ringer has unselfishly striven, in the face of all kinds of difficulties and disappointments, to do his bit to extend the art by training young ringers, or trying to get older ringers to advance. Often the labour has appeared to be entirely unfruitful and the task, if not given up in disgust, has had to be abandoned because the material has been, apparently, unproductive, or because, even if promising, has removed beyond reach. There are ringers who have grown old in the Exercise, who have spent their years in the endeavour to interest and teach others, and who, after all their loyal service to the art and to the Church, can point actually only to one here and there who has really repaid the time and pains spent upon him. And yet one never can tell where any of the seed that is sown may one day germinate and flourish. There are many excellent ringers to-day who, having received their first instruction in some village tower or with some obscure company, and having passed on to another district, have been counted at the time as 'another wasted effort'; but who have afterwards more than made good in their own ringing and in the help they have given to others. Few efforts which seek to spread the art of ringing need, therefore, be counted as definitely lost, even though immediate results may not be obvious.

On the other hand, however, there are cases where the work of a man has laid a foundation upon which a substantial edifice has been built and he has seen it grow. In such instances there must be intense satisfaction to the individual when he sees such a result of his handiwork. Especially must this be the case when he afterwards becomes separated from the scene of his labours. The story which is told elsewhere in this issue of the achievements at Hazel Grove, Cheshire, is a case in point. Separated by half the circumference of the earth from the old country, Mr. James S. Wilde, of Dunedin, New Zealand, must have watched with justifiable pride the progress made at the tower where he was the first to put change ringing on its feet, a tower where six-bell ringing achieved the acme of performance and where, on the present eight, Surprise method ringing is being developed by a very able band. When Mr. Wilde left this country many years ago, he could not have anticipated the extent of the progress which would be made at this spot, nor the influence which would radiate through the Exercise as a result of the performances at Hazel Grove, for it is largely the success achieved there in the ringing of multi-method peals that created the interest in this phase of ringing which has since developed. There was no such thing as spliced-method ringing when Mr. Wilde left this country, but the interest in ringing which he created at Hazel Grove was the inspiration which later led the enthusiastic band at that tower to go on from triumph to triumph, until they succeeded in ringing a peal in which thirty-five methods were incorporated. Mr. Wilde, although so far from any centre of ringing, has never lost touch with the art, but follows the doings of the Exercise with the keenest interest, and still finds recreation in the theoretical side of the science, while keeping up a correspondence with many ringing friends in England. Truly can it be said that the bread which he cast upon the waters has been found after many days.

SUPPER AND PRESENTATION.

On Tuesday evening, December 23rd, in the presence of the Rector (the Rev. G. B. Vaux) and friends, the ringers of Lower Heyford, Oxon, held a most successful evening when they held a supper, and there was a presentation to Mr. E. J. Pritchett, who before leaving the parish was foreman at this tower. After a most enjoyable repast, the Rector, on behalf of himself and the ringers, made the presentation, which consisted of a bell model inkstand suitably inscribed. The Rector said it was with the greatest of pleasure that he was with them that evening to make such a gift to Mr. Pritchett. He spoke of the way Mr. Pritchett had taught the ringers at their tower the art of change ringing, and of the excellent team spirit that prevailed among the ringers.

Mr. Pritchett, receiving the gift, thanked the Rector and ringers for such a valuable gift, and said it would always remind him of the pleasant times they had had together.

Afterwards a discussion took place on change ringing till the time came, all too soon, to draw the pleasant proceedings to a close.

VISIT TO A MOORLAND PARISH.

Several individual members of the Devon Guild, comprising Messrs. E. Shepherd, W. J. Southwood, W. Richardson, W. Drake, A. Monkley, F. J. Davey, H. Richards, E. W. Biffen, W. Wills, A. W. Searle, A. L. Bennett, and Miss G. Davey, together with the wives of a few of the party, visited Buckland-in-the-Moor Church, Ashburton, on Saturday, where the bells have been increased from five to eight by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, through the generosity of Mr. W. H. Whitley, of Welstor. The bells are a light and very handy peal, and a unique feature is the clock chimes and dials. Arriving at the church shortly before four o'clock, the party were welcomed by Mr. A. H. Perkins, one of the churchwardens, and after a look around the church the bells were raised in peal, and some capital touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung. The conducting was shared by Messrs. A. L. Bennett and E. W. Biffen, and all were delighted with the 'go' of the bells. Incidentally this was the first time that any half-pull ringing had been done on them.

The bells were eventually lowered, and the party returned to Ashburton for tea at Barnes' Cafe. Ringing afterwards took place at Ashburton Parish Church, where the party were met by some of the local ringers, and here further touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung.

Prior to the conclusion of the ringing, Mr. E. Shepherd voiced the thanks of the party to Mr. A. L. Bennett for making the necessary arrangements, and thanks are also given to Mr. Perkins, of Buckland, and Mr. H. Warren, of Ashburton, for meeting the party and having everything in readiness. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent by all.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Chesterfield District of the Midland Counties Association was held at North Wingfield on December 20th. It was not well attended, only about 16 members turning up, but there was a very good practice in the higher methods. Touches were brought round in Bob Major, Stedman, Double Norwich, and attempts made for Cambridge, Superlative and London Surprise.

At the meeting, after tea, with the president in the chair, the following officers were elected: Mr. F. E. Parsons, president; Mr. J. P. Tarlton, hon. secretary; Mr. A. Knights and Mr. W. Palmer representatives on the committee.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Rector, the local company, and to the ladies for providing the tea. The bells were kept going until about 8 p.m.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We have received many letters of appreciation of Mr. J. A. Trollope's articles on 'Variation and Transposition.' The lucid explanations are such that what many have hitherto thought to be an abstruse subject is readily understandable.

'Many happy returns of the day' to Alderman J. S. Pritchett, Presiding Ringing Master of St. Martin's Guild, who celebrated his 76th birthday yesterday.

We learn that nine twelve-bell peals a year for two years is not a new record for a tower. This has been done before at Birmingham.

Those who attended the service at the annual meeting of the Devizes Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild on Saturday at Devizes are still wondering why the preacher selected the parable of the Last Judgment as the basis for his address to ringers.

Mr. William Keeble, of Kelvedon, Essex, had a remarkable run of peal successes during 1930. He rang 54 peals with only one break, when the bells had to be stopped owing to a death. The peals were rung with 93 ringers, and Mr. Keeble has now rung peals with 486 ringers in all.

After a lapse of 78 years, members of the Society of Cambridge Youths have rung on a peal at the Church of St. Mary-the-Great. The last was in the same method (Grandsire Caters) in February, 1852.

The name of the ringer in the peal of Stedman Triples at Bingham on December 13th was Ralph Narborough, not Marlborough as sent.

The name of the ringer in the peal of Bob Major, rung at Galleywood on December 26th, should read John Mason, not Nason, as published.

Twenty years ago, on Sunday next, a peal of London Surprise Major was rung on the back eight bells of Bow, Cheapside, the heaviest tenor yet rung to a peal of Major.

The first peal of London Surprise Major in the City of London was rung by the Brighton St. Peter's Society on January 14th, 1899.

James Barham, the famous old ringer of Leeds, Kent, died at the age of 93 years on January 14th, 1818.

One hundred and sixty years ago next Thursday a peal of 6,720 Norwich Court Bob was rung at St. Michael's Coslany, Norwich, by the Norwich Scholars.

Communications from Mr. George Baker and Mr. A. J. Pitman on peals with bobs 'Before' are held over until next week.

For the twenty-fifth time, Mr. John Jagger arranged a handbell ringing party to assist in the Christmas festivities at West Bromwich and District General Hospital. On this occasion the party included, in addition to Mr. Jagger, Mr. Jesse Screen and his two sons, Messrs. William and Leonard Screen, and they played selections of carols and ballads.

ST. PATRICK'S CATHEDRAL BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—St. Patrick's Cathedral contains a run of thirteen bells in 'C,' with the addition of a B flat, which gives a light ten in 'F.' It was upon this ten that the recent 5.111 was rung.—Yours, etc.,

G. LINDOFF.

ST. MARGARET'S CHURCH, IPSWICH

The first peal on the bells of St. Margaret's, Ipswich, by an entirely local company was rung on Saturday, December 27th, and all the band were Sunday service ringers at this church. It is particularly interesting to note that the ringer of the treble, Mr. James Smith, is now over 70 years of age and had not rung a peal for 38 years.

The church, which is situated on the north side of the town, is built chiefly in the Perpendicular and Decorated styles. It has a very fine roof and is well worth a visit.

In the tower, which was thoroughly restored in 1870, hangs a good peal of eight bells with a tenor weighing 15½ cwt. Until 1899 there were only six bells, but in 1899

ST. MARGARET'S CHURCH, IPSWICH.

two trebles were added by Mears and Stainbank, and the whole peal rehung in oak frames by Mr. Alfred Bowell, of Ipswich. In 1926 the 4th became cracked and was recast, the treble was also recast, and the 2nd tuned by Mr. A. Bowell. They are now a nice handy ring.

The inscriptions are:—

- Treble, Recast by Bowell of Ipswich 1926,
- 2nd, Mears and Stainbank 1899;
- 3rd; Miles Graye 1630;
- 4th, Miles Graye 1630. Recast by Bowell of Ipswich 1926;
- 5th, 6th, 7th, Tenor, Miles Graye 1630.

Until 1926 there was never a change-ringing company, but since then the old chiming band has ceased and there is now a regular Sunday service band. The methods chiefly rung are Bob Major, Bob Triples, Grandsire Triples and Treble Bob.

A NEW RING OF SIX IN YORKSHIRE.

In the presence of a crowded congregation the Bishop of Ripon dedicated a new peal of bells in Kirkby Wiske Church, Yorkshire. Of the three original bells one has been recast, and the others retuned. Three new bells have been added; the treble (Magnificat) has been given by Miss H. I. Pick and Miss A. H. Illingworth, the second by Mr. W. H. O. Pick in memory of the late schoolmaster (1883-1920), the third (Emmanuel) by the present Rector, the Rev. A. L. E. Williams. The bells have been hung in a new steel frame. Among the many clergy present were the Archdeacon of Richmond (the Ven. A. H. Watson, a former Rector) and the Rural Dean, Canon Beresford-Pearse. A sum of £350 has been raised since July, including the gifts of the new bells.

NEW YEAR AT NORBURY.

INTERESTING EVENTS RECALLED.

The old bells of Norbury (Hazel Grove), Cheshire, cast-offs from a neighbouring parish, suffering from shortness of breath and possessing defects peculiar to the ringing fraternity, had one good point in their favour, and that is they did not suffer from idleness. They carried on bravely; there were times, certainly, when they were moody like the rest of their sex, and there were times when they were just as nice, as witness their attitude when the thirty-five-method peal was rung. They could do no wrong that night. Even after that fine performance they did not get uppish, but they needed much 'lubricant' and, until 1925, when four of them had the worst of an argument with a bell smasher's sledge hammer, and two of them 'entered the church,' were game to the last, and none shall say, 'Ichabod!' Their spirit seems to have been infused in the noble peal which replaces them, as the reported performances upon them testify, and there they hang in the tower 'just asking for it.'

Like all bells faithful to their calling, they 'toll'd the knell of departing 'thirty,' and when he'd gone gave the newcomer 'a gradely welcome.' Since the present Vicar (Rev. A. J. Humphreys, B.A., B.D.) came to the parish in 1919, the ringing 'out' and 'in' has been done in conjunction with a watchnight service, at the conclusion of which the Vicar, accompanied by as many of the congregation as can squeeze in, holds a short service in the belfry and takes the opportunity of personally thanking the ringers for their services. On this particular occasion he had a pleasant task to perform—the dedication of a peal board on which the thirty-five method peal, rung on December 4th, 1923, has the place of honour. It has been a long time finding a permanent record for all and sundry to see, but at last it has been 'put on the wall.'

Occupying a prominent place on the board, one is pleased to see the particulars of a seven-method peal rung on November 10th, 1900. It was the first in seven methods on the bells, and for the Stockport and Bowdon Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild, and its accomplishment was chiefly through the tuition of that former giant amongst ringers, Mr. James S. Wilde, at that time of Hyde, Cheshire, now of Dunedin, New Zealand. Poor chap! There he is out in that place, a one-man band and very active, too, as his mails to England testify. One might say with safety 'each letter to some one contains a peal or a new method.' Some few years ago an incident happened in connection with one of his letters that is worth telling to the 'world.'

Jim Wilde sent the figures and composition of a new Surprise peal to a friend (a non-ringer), with a request that it should be handed over to his nephew, and at the handing over the following was heard: 'Here are some figures for you, Tom. I have added them up, and they come to an awful lot.'

The method in question was Clarendon Surprise Major, and was first rung at Norbury on August 30th, 1926.

This little incident is mentioned just to show that those who give a hand a helping hand at the start never know where it ends. Thirty years ago Norbury had an obscure company struggling in the dark until they 'got a lift' which put them on the right track, and, although they have had some rough passages, still carry on. It must be very gratifying to that gentleman in Dunedin who patiently awaits 'The Ringing World' week by week to see that his former pupils have in turn handed on the benefit of his advice. Now you who have the chance 'go and do likewise.'

On the board are also recorded the peal of Clarendon, already mentioned, Cambridge (May 16th, 1927), Superlative (August 25th, 1928), Bristol (November 25th, 1929), Pudsey (January 6th, 1930), Yorkshire (February 1st, 1930), and Rutland (March 31st, 1930), with the number of changes rung. Following the peals are the names of the ringers. Each peal is prefixed by a letter, A, B, C, etc., and, by the ringers' names, corresponding letters are placed to denote in which of the peals they rang.

At the top of the board is a brief inscription recording the rehanging of the bells in 1900, and lower down is a note describing the work of restoration carried out by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, in 1925.

Visitors to the tower will see a blank space on the board, and in case they want to know the why and wherefore of it—Ssh! Jim might be listening, and it's a secret—it's for London when it comes off.

The board has been neatly painted by one of the ringers, Mr. David Gosling, a name new to the ringing Exercise. He is a learner of great promise, and we trust he will soon be looking for suitable sites for peal boards on the outside of the tower, seeing the belfry is now almost full.

VARIATION AND TRANSPOSITION.

THE LAW OF Q-SETS.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

Before you can understand very much of the problems of composition, you must know something of the Law of Q-Sets. When we talk about 'law' in this connection, we do not mean some rule that an authority has laid down, and which you are expected to observe, but what the Oxford Dictionary calls 'invariable sequence between certain conditions and phenomena'—that is to say, in certain circumstances certain things always happen. Just as when we talk of the law of gravity, we do not mean that once upon a time Parliament passed an Act ordering that all stones which are dropped should fall to the ground, but that so far as we know all stones which have been dropped in the past, have fallen; and so far as we are concerned, all stones which will be dropped in the future will fall.

In early days of composition there were one or two problems which composers had to face, and the most interesting and important of these was: Is it possible to get a peal of Grandsire Triples with ordinary bobs only? On the face of it, there seemed no reason why it was not possible. John Holt got as far as three leads short of the total, and there he stuck; nor could anyone else put those three leads in. Still, it was argued, because it was a difficult task, that was no proof that it was an impossible task; and because no one had ever done it was no reason for saying that no one ever would do it. Men worked, as I have said, by experimental methods, by trial and error, but one fact early forced itself on their attention, which, used by a man belonging to a later and different school of composition, was to supply the solution of the problem. The fact is this: If you call a bob at the first lead-end of Grandsire Triples and bring up 1752634, you may not bring up 1253746 at a plain lead-end, because you would have to ring the same lead you have already had to bring up 1752634. You would get these changes:—

1752634	1253746

And if you bring up 1253746 at a bobbed lead-end, you cannot bring up 1354267 at a plain lead-end.

Again, and for the same reason, if 1354267 is bobbed, 1456372 must not be plain;

And if 1456372 is bobbed, 1657423 must not be plain;

And if 1657423 is bobbed, 1752364 must not be plain.

This has brought us back to where we started from, and we find we have got a group of five lead-ends—1752634, 1253746, 1354267, 1456372 and 1657423—all of which, if they come in our composition, must come up bobbed, or else all must come up plain. In the same way every lead-end of Grandsire Triples is a member of a group of five, and if a peal of Grandsire Triples were possible with bobs only they would have to be in sets of five.

By making a mathematical use of this fact, Mr. W. H. Thompson was able to prove that a peal of Grandsire Triples with common bobs only is not possible. He showed that the 360 in-course lead-ends of the method divide into 72 of these groups, and he called them the 'Q sets.'

Composers and the Exercise generally have accepted Mr. Thompson's conclusions, but I do not think that it is generally known what a 'Q set' really is. Mr. Thompson worked out his argument in terms of the lead-ends, and gave his 'Q sets' as lead-ends, as I have done above. But the actual bob is made before that. Now if we write out the rows (back and hand) where the bobs are made in a 'Q set' we get this block:—

5172634	making bells. If you write out the back and hand
1576243	rows of the lead-ends of a plain course you will get
5167423	an exactly similar block.

1564732	Now write out the 'Q set' of Bob Major and the
5146372	lead-ends of the plain course and you will get a similar
1543627	result. And, further, we shall find that every bit of
5134267	work in every composition and every method is a part
1532476	of some such movement. The law does not always
5123746	work quite so simply as in these cases, but it always
1527364	does work. We will not go into that further now.

It is enough for our present purposes to know that in any extent produced by bobs only, they must be in 'Q sets,' that in any composition where one member of a 'Q set' is brought up bobbed and another plain, there is a third which cannot be had at all; and that in any composition the great majority of the bobs will be in 'Q sets.'

When I talk about extents in this last paragraph, I do not include the extents in methods on the Treble Bob Principle which are restricted by false course-ends, and the last sentence hardly applies to peals of such methods as Kent, where you have a 'lengthening' lead-end.

A knowledge of the law of 'Q sets' gives us at once one way of varying peals. In any composition in any method which contains all the members of a 'Q set,' if they are bobbed you can plain them; and if they are plain, you can bob them. The result will have exactly the same rows as the original, and therefore will not affect the truth. But it may result in resolving the composition into separate parts. If the original is only a few changes over the 5,000, of course, the parts will be of no practical use. But suppose your peal is 5376 of, say, Double Norwich, and it contains these course-ends:—

26354	—	—	—

You can plain the bobbed 'Q set' I have bracketed and so reduce the peal to 5152. In many cases, if you bob a plain 'Q set' you will still get the same number of changes, but they will come in a different order.

Reeves' Variation of Holt's Ten Part is an example of this. In any three (or six) part peal of Bob Major or Double Norwich you can call or omit any bobs which do not affect the 'Part Bells,' i.e., those which come home at the part end, provided that all parts are called alike and the bells do not come home at the first part-end.

A knowledge of the law of 'Q sets' will also enable you to apply the composition of one method to another. I take at random a three-part peal of Double Norwich and I want to apply it to Bob Major. I see at once that to call bobs in the same order will not give me the same peal. I look through the composition and I find that all the members of the different 'Q sets' are there, and that makes my task simple. Then I write out my peal of Bob Major. Whenever I come to a change which is bobbed in the Double Norwich, I bob it in the Bob Major. Here are the two side by side:—

Double Norwich.				Bob Major.

23564	—	—	—	23645	—	—	—

Each twice repeated.

These two compositions look quite different; actually they are the same, and they contain exactly the same lead-ends, but in different order. The first by N. J. Pitstow is No. 88 in the Double Norwich Collection, and was rung in 1892. The second, with a little alteration of the bobs which do not affect the 'part' bells, is No. 87 in the Bob Major Collection, and was composed in 1894 by Mr. Lindoff. According to the old standards, these are distinct and original compositions.

In the same way peals of Grandsire Triples can be applied to St. Clement's and College Triples. The order in which the bobs come will be different, but every lead-end which is brought up bobbed in the Grandsire will be brought up bobbed in the others. A warning must be given here. Every peal of Grandsire will produce all the lead-ends in these other methods, but if you use common singles they will run false in the interior of the leads. Holt's in-course singles must be used, and the Ten-part is a very suitable composition for these methods. (To be continued.)

A LINCOLNSHIRE CENTENARY.

At St. Andrew's Church, Rippingale, Lines, the centenary of the bells was recently celebrated. A peal of Grandsire Doubles was attempted, but owing to the fraying of a rope the bells were brought round at 3,000 changes, after 1 hour 42 mins.: N. Atkinson 1, S. Laxton 2, A. Willson 3, H. Gibbard (conductor) 4, C. Challand 5.

The bells were hung in 1830 by William Dobson, of Downham Market, Norfolk, and dedicated on December 6th, 1830, the tenor being 15 cwt. The bell frame was made by a Surfleet carpenter. Prior to 1830, there were three bells in the tower, dated 1620. Dobson recast the old metal, and towards the augmentation Mrs. Casswell, of Rippingale, gave £200. The inscription on the 3rd is 'Long live William the Fourth.'

The one desire of Mr. H. Gibbard, the conductor of the local band, is to get another treble.

THE BAND'S CLAIM.

Mr. Albert Wright, in sending the above figures for publication, says: 'I should like to thank you and all who have so kindly sent congratulations to myself and the rest of the band. Mr. Coles writes: "I have not changed my mind on this subject." Neither have the Painswick band in claiming the record on twelve bells.'

HOW WILL IT BE RECORDED?

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In whose hands does finality rest concerning the 'twelve-bell record' at Painswick, viz., the Central Council of Church Bellringers or the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, seeing that the latter is not affiliated to the former?

How will the record be placed in the records of the association if such recordings are made?—Yours faithfully,

VERY INTERESTED.

'LEAVE THE REST TO THE VICAR.'

The annual dinner of the South Molton ringers was held on Monday week, when a company of over seventy was presided over by the Mayor (Mr. Altree Powell), who wore his chain of office.

In submitting the toast of 'The Bellringers,' the Vicar (Rev. H. P. F. Scott) said one thing which surprised him more and more every Sunday was why the ringers did not attend the services. In the tower week by week they had eight stalwart fellows who pulled for all they were worth; but in spite of it all there were some who did not come to church. Of all people in the town, the bellringers did their duty (hear, hear). People hardly ever saw the ringers at work, but they might very well take the trouble to visit the belfry now and then. The captain would be very glad to see them.

Mr. W. Tapp, captain of the ringers, in responding, said they had been told the ringers went to the tower but did not go to church. He considered that when they had rung they had done their bit, and they left it to the Vicar to do the rest. It was true the team rang 'year in and year out,' and rarely saw anyone else, but they had a liking for the work. At present he had ten of the best possible juniors coming on; they were better than any he had had for a very long time, for they put their hearts into the practices. Of late, the ringing had improved.

During the evening an excellent musical programme was carried out.

RINGING IN STEDMAN'S TOWER.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION AT CAMBRIDGE.

A meeting of the Ely Diocesan Association was held in Cambridge on Saturday, when members were present from Barley, Birmingham, Bourn, Cambridge, Chatteris, Cherryhinton, Dry Drayton, Exning, Fulbourne, Histon, Ickleton, Ipswich, London, Melbourn, Newton, Over, Royston, Great Shelford, Stapleford, Stetchworth and Trumpington. Various methods were practised at the Church of St. Andrew the Great during the early afternoon.

A service, conducted by the Revs. R. Copeman and A. C. Moulle, and preceded by a touch of Stedman Doubles, was held at St. Benedict's Church, where Fabian Stedman rang. In the course of his address the Rev. R. Copeman said it was of special interest to meet in that church, as the year 1931 is the tercentenary of Fabian Stedman's birth.

At the conclusion of the service the bells were again available for a short time, thus enabling everyone who so desired to have a 'pull.' The ringing room is reached by a perpendicular iron ladder, and has to be lighted by candles.

The tea and business meeting was held at the Dorothy Cafe, the Rev. A. C. Moulle presiding.—Mr. S. Blunt, of Trumpington, was elected a member of the association.—The district committee were re-elected.

It was decided to adopt the use of special ringers' hymns.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the three incumbents for the use of the bells, especially to the Rev. W. Greenwood for allowing the service and ringing at St. Benedict's.

A course of Grandsire Caters was rung on handbells, and the company then adjourned to the Church of St. Mary-the-Great and enjoyed further ringing.

Five of the present bells at St. Benedict's are those on which Stedman, the father of change ringing, practised. The fourth was recast in 1825. The bells are inscribed:—

1. Robard Gurney made me 1633. Thomas Graves, Tho. Fox, Churchwardens.
2. 1588.
3. Of all the bells in Bennet I am the best and yet for my casting the parish paid least. 1607. T.W., W.B., C.B., N.S., T.W., R.S., M.C., T.N.
4. Henry Marshall, jun., and William W. Hayward, Churchwardens. 1825.
5. + Non. Nomen. Fero. Ficti. Sed. Nomen. Benedicti. 1610. R.S.
6. John Draper made me in 1618.

THE RINGERS' JIG-SAW.

SOLUTION.

Many ringers found amusement in solving the jig-saw in our Christmas week issue.

The figures were those of a 720 of Cambridge Surprise Minor with tenors the right way.

At least one lady, who is not a ringer, successfully applied herself to the task, and here is the correct solution shown by the bob leads:—

(c)	2	34256
(b)	3	34562
(e)	2	23456

It may interest conductors of Cambridge to know that 720's in the method with tenors the right way can also be obtained by commencing at (a), (b), (c), (d) or (e), and placing the bobs at the same intervals. In the case of (a) and (b) the intervals are in the same order forward; in the case of (c), (d) and (e) the intervals are in reverse order, and in none of the 720's, of course, do the changes come up in the same sequence.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD. DEVIZES BRANCH OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

The annual meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Devizes on Saturday. The bells of St. John's (eight), St. Mary's (six), and St. James', Southbroom (six) were all available, and ringing commenced about 3 p.m. Service was held at St. John's Church, and was conducted by the Rector of Devizes, the Rev. A. H. T. Clarke, who also gave a short address based on the 34th and following verses of St. Matthew xxv. Mr. H. H. Baker was the organist.

Tea followed at the Parish Room, 73 sitting down, including the Rev. Canon Kewley (Vicar of Potterne and Rural Dean), the Rector of Devizes, Rev. G. G. Morris (Vicar of Chittoe), Mrs. C. D. Heginbotham, Mrs. and Miss Green, Mr. L. Green and others.

The business meeting followed, the chairman, Mr. C. D. Heginbotham, presiding. He wished all 'a happy New Year,' and gave a resume of the work done in the branch, and the advance made during the past year. He also thanked the officers of the branch for their assistance, and made special mention of the work done by the esteemed secretary, Mr. F. Green. He referred to the loss which the Guild had sustained by the death of Lord Radnor, of Longford Castle, Salisbury, Mr. T. Hervey Beams, of Bradpole, Dorset, assistant secretary of the Guild, Dr. T. Wood Locket, and Mr. H. J. Mead, of Bratton, the last-named being one of the first members of the Guild.—All present stood in silence as a mark of respect.

The secretary (Mr. F. Green) presented his report and the balance sheet for the past year.

On the motion of Mr. F. F. White, Warminster, seconded by the Rev. Canon Kewley, the officers were re-elected en bloc with thanks for their past services, viz.: Mr. C. D. Heginbotham, Devizes, chairman; Mr. B. Cook, Bratton, vice-chairman; Mr. F. Green, Devizes, secretary; Messrs. S. Hillier, Devizes, and J. Francis, Trowbridge, as Ringing Masters. All returned thanks for their election and the confidence reposed in them.

The following were elected members of the Guild, viz.: Mr. W. Andrews, Winchester, life member; Messrs. P. M. Sturgess, F. Friehence, R. Taylor and F. Buckland (Upavon), F. May (Steeple Ashton), F. H. Reynolds (Heytesbury), and R. Huxtable (Market Lavington), ringing members.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Rector, the organist, and to Mr. Stone for providing the tea, the Rector replying.

Mr. W. Swift was thanked for auditing the accounts.

The following places were selected for the next meetings: Bishop's Lavington (February), Hilberton (March), and Melksham for the next quarterly in April, if the bells are available.

The visitors included Miss N. G. Williams (Weston, Bath), Mr. H. Ellis (Weston, Bath), and Mr. G. C. Gardiner (Swindon). Ringers were present from Devizes (St. John's and St. Mary's), St. James', Southbroom, Potterne, Bromham, Bishop's Cannings, Rowde, Urchfont, Trowbridge, Melksham, Market Lavington, Bradford-on-Avon, Bratton, Chirton and Holt.

The following methods were rung during the day: Cambridge Surprise, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob and Plain Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples, Bob Minor, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles.

BICESTER RINGERS' ANNUAL DINNER.

The annual dinner of the Bicester ringers took place on New Year's Eve. After a pull on the bells, the ringers made their way to the Rose and Crown, where they sat down to an excellent repast, at which the Vicar (Rev. O'Reilly) presided. Those present were Messrs. T. Clifton (captain), W. Scarrott, H. Hatfield, B. Cox, L. Evans, F. Neale, W. Keays, W. Constable, T. Ward, G. Auger and the vergier (Mr. Bert Walker).

After the dinner the loyal toast was honoured, and then came touches on the handbells.

Mr. T. Clifton proposed the toast of 'The Chairman,' and the Vicar, in responding, said there were several fresh faces in the room, and he was pleased to see young men of the town taking interest in church bellringing. He also congratulated Mr. T. Clifton on being awarded the 'long service medal' for postmen, Mr. Clifton having been a postman for about forty years.

The chairman asked the company to drink the toast of 'Absent ringers,' Messrs. A. Clifton and J. Evans, who unfortunately were unable to attend. The only other toast was 'The Ladies,' the Vicar thanking Mrs. Neale, Mrs. Cox and Miss Neale for the excellent spread they had provided.—Mrs. Cox suitably responded.—During the evening songs and community singing were enjoyed, and, after 'Auld Lang Syne' and 'God save the King,' the ringers went to the belfry and rang the Old Year out and the New Year in.

ABBOTS LEIGH RINGER'S DEATH.

The death of Mr. John Ackerman, a ringer of Abbots Leigh, Bristol, and for many years a member of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, took place on Christmas Eve. The deceased was also a churchwarden.

THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

STEDMAN'S TERCENTENARY.

This year is the tercentenary of the 'father' of change ringing. As far as the most authoritative research has been able to carry us, Fabian Stedman was born in the year 1631, and his name has always been associated with Cambridge, where he carried on the business of a printer. It is established that he was a ringer at St. Benedict's Church, Cambridge, and it was there, in all probability, that change ringing, as we know it to-day, had its birth, or, at any rate, saw its first development. In the history of change ringing Stedman's name stands first; he was the author of the first treatise on the art and was its first 'missionary'; three hundred years ago this year he was born, and the Exercise ought to celebrate the event in some appropriate manner.

St. Benedict's should be the 'mother church' of ringers the world over; instead, the bells—five of which are still the same as in Stedman's days—remain silent and neglected, and, until the Ely Diocesan Association specially visited the tower a fortnight ago, had not been touched since 1924. How long it is since they were regularly rung for the church services it is impossible for us to say. The present conditions in the tower are detrimental to any attempt being made in this direction, but what a glorious opportunity now occurs to do something to put these bells in order and get them regularly rung again! Would it be possible for the Exercise to undertake this task to mark the tercentenary of Stedman and then hold a great ringers' rally in Cambridge, with a thanksgiving service at St. Benedict's when the bells are re-opened? Such a scheme for celebrating this three-hundredth anniversary ought not to be beyond the powers of the ringers of this country, and the occasion should not be allowed to pass by. With the goodwill of the church authorities and the whole-hearted support of the associations and the leaders of the Exercise it could, we are convinced, be brought to a successful issue.

Many schemes have been carried through by ringers in the past to commemorate some one of their number whose memory they have delighted to honour, but never, we think, has such an opportunity occurred for a really national effort to commemorate a national figure—and Stedman stands out as a national figure if ever there was one associated with our art. There may be some who will say that Stedman's memory is already perpetuated in the method which bears his name. That is true, but St. Benedict's ought to be a shrine for ringers. As the first real home of change ringing the maintenance of its bells and bell-fry deserves to be a matter for the special care and consideration of the Exercise, now that it is effectually established in every corner of the land. The tower itself is said to be the oldest in East Anglia and is the only one existent of pre-Conquest date, being of Saxon origin. It goes back, therefore, almost to the days of the first introduction of bells into this country; just as the bells themselves were among the first to be used for change ringing. Never was there, therefore, such a blend of circumstances as that offered to ringers in the present year, and we hope that not only may a commemoration of the tercentenary be carried out, but that the opportunity may be seized to mark the event in a fitting way.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM.OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

The annual meeting of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held on Saturday, January 3rd, at St. Martin's Hotel, Mr. Alderman J. S. Pritchett, M.A., Presiding Ringing Master, being in the chair.

The first business was the election of officers, and, on the proposition of the chairman, the president and vice-presidents were re-elected on bloc.

The Secretary proposed the re-election of Mr. Alderman Pritchett as Presiding Ringing Master, and in doing so congratulated him on behalf of the Guild on having reached his 76th birthday, full of vigour and continuing his many activities with undiminished enthusiasm. This was seconded by Mr. A. Walker and carried unanimously.

Mr. Pritchett, in acknowledging his election, thanked the members for their continued good wishes, and stated that he was happy to preside over them and do all he could in the interests of the Guild. He had a most capable deputy in Mr. Albert Walker, and would like to take that opportunity of thanking him for his many services.

Mr. Walker was re-elected Deputy Ringing Master on the proposition of Mr. F. W. Perrens, seconded by Mr. G. F. Swann, and supported by Mr. J. W. Pemberton, Mr. Swann remarking that he thought more of the older members of the Guild should turn up at the Tuesday night practices and support Mr. Walker in instructing the younger members.—Mr. Walker thanked the members for his election. He added that several young twelve-bell ringers were progressing nicely, and he had every confidence in the future.

Messrs. Tom Russam and A. Paddon Smith were re-elected trustees, and Messrs. Jonathan Preston and Ernest T. Allaway auditors.

In proposing Mr. G. F. Swann be re-elected librarians, Mr. Walker stated that this office entailed quite a lot of work in getting out statistics regarding peals rung by the Guild.—The motion was seconded by Mr. F. W. Rishworth and carried unanimously.

The hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. T. H. Reeves, was also re-elected.

The balance sheet was presented by the treasurer and duly adopted on the proposition of Mr. A. P. Smith, seconded by Mr. A. Walker.

The Henry Johnson Dinner was fixed for Saturday, February 28th, at the Imperial Hotel as usual, and on the proposition of the chairman, seconded by Mr. J. H. Shepherd, it was unanimously agreed that the Rector of Birmingham, Canon T. Guy Rogers, be asked to preside. The other arrangements in connection with the dinner were left in the hands of the officers.

It was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting at King's Norton on Saturday, March 28th, if possible.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Something new in dishes for ringers' dinners was suggested at Guildford on Saturday. A well-known ringing clergyman had been sitting all the evening in close proximity to a gas fire, and when he rose to propose a toast he informed the company that they would soon be able to have a cut of 'roast parson.'

The Guildford Cathedral band intended to ring the 'extent' of Guildford Surprise Major for their customary 'old year' peal, but a few minutes before starting they learned that there was in existence a composition with three more leads.

The Metropolitan Police Guild have rung a peal of Bob Major at St. George's, Southwark, the band consisting of two inspectors, two sergeants and four constables.

At Handsworth, Sheffield, where the first peal of Major by a ladies' band was rung, a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major has now been scored by members of the Ladies' Guild.

Members of the Devon Guild should note that to-morrow's meeting at Payhembury has been cancelled.

The annual meeting of the Romney Marsh and District Guild is to be held at Appledore to-morrow, January 17th, and not on the 24th as announced in the notices last week.

The first peal of Grandsire Cinques, conducted by Benjamin Annable, was rung at St. Bride's, Fleet Street, on January 19th, 1725.

The 'London Youths'—a long defunct society—rang a peal of 6,200 Oxford Treble Bob Royal at Shoreditch on January 19th, 1767.

Performances by the Cambridge Youths at Great St. Mary's recalls the fact that they are one of the oldest ringing societies. On January 21st, 1788, they rang a peal of 6,600 Bob Maximus at Great St. Mary's.

A correspondent writes: 'Don't you think it is a good job Grandsire Triples does not run to more than 5,040? If it did, the result would be that more eight-bell record lengths would go west.'

A peal by a local band at Ewerby, Lincs, included no fewer than six 'firsts' as well as one 'first away from the tenor.' Change ringing is encouraged at this tower by a generous yearly gift from the beneficence of the late Earl of Winchelsea and Nottingham, who was himself a ringer and donor of the new bells. The Dowager Countess still shows interest in the progress by many acts of kindness.

CAMBRIDGE YOUTHS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In reference to the note in last week's issue of 'The Ringing World' that the Society of Cambridge Youths had not rung a peal on the bells of St. Mary-the-Great for 78 years, a peal of Grandsire Caters was rung there on Thursday, August 28th, 1924, which I conducted, the band at that time being all members of the Society of Cambridge Youths.

WHERE STEDMAN RANG. ST. BENEDICT'S, CAMBRIDGE.

There is a special interest to ringers in the tower and bells of St. Benedict's Church, Cambridge, for it was here that Fabian Stedman rang and developed in Doubles the method for ever associated with his name. It was Stedman who first really visualised the possibilities of half-pull change ringing as it is practised to-day, and although he was probably not the originator of the system, which came by the process of evolution, it was he who really gave it the first great push that sent it on its ever-expanding course.

ST. BENEDICT'S, CAMBRIDGE.

In the 'Tintinnalogia,' published in 1668, the first book on the art of ringing, Stedman says:—

'Within these fifty or sixty years changes were not known or thought possible to be rung. Then were invented the Sixes, being the very ground of a six-score; then the "twenty" and "twenty-four," and several other changes.'

There we have a statement of the very beginnings of our art, which Stedman did so much to develop. This year is the tercentenary of Stedman's birth, and a suggestion is made in our leading article for its fitting celebration.

As to the tower and bells of St. Benedict's Church, they are extremely interesting in themselves, apart from Stedman's association with them. The tower is claimed to be the oldest building in the country, and, indeed, in all East Anglia, being the only one now standing of pre-Conquest date. The building is Saxon, and contains fine examples of the 'long and short work' of that period.

Early records show that in 1273 a composition was made between the Rector and the University for the use of the church bell, and for this the University paid 6s. 8d. annually until 1683.

In 1491 the bell was repaired, at the expense of the University.

Thomas Hobson, the famous carrier and originator of 'Hobson's choice,' was buried in the chancel in the year 1632. It is recorded that in 1667 a bell was tolled as the body of Matthew Wren, Bishop of Ely (grandfather or father of Sir Christopher Wren) passed through the parish.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION. SWINDON BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Swindon Branch was held at Christ Church, Swindon, on Saturday, January 10th. The bells were raised about 3 p.m. Service was held in church at 4.30, conducted by the Rev. Spence, curate of Christ Church, and the Rev. N. S. Willis, Vicar of Purton, who presided at the organ and gave a short address, in the absence of the Rev. J. Gilbert, Vicar of Swindon, who was on the sick list.

Tea was taken at Elma House, Hunt Street, and was followed by the business meeting, Mr. E. Bishop being in the chair.

Mr. W. B. Kynaston was elected a representative on the management committee, in succession to Mr. E. Bishop, who wished to resign. Mr. C. J. Gardiner was appointed chairman for the ensuing year. There being no rush for the post of hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. S. Hopper accepted the office for another year, and asked for the support of the members, especially in tea arrangements at meetings in country places.

Messrs. S. Palmer, G. Lancaster and N. Allnott were elected as Branch Committee.

Highworth was chosen for the quarterly meeting in March, South Marston for a monthly meeting in February, the meetings to be on the third Saturdays in the months if possible. Due notice will be given in 'The Ringing World.'

A vote of thanks was proposed to the clergy who took part in the service and gave the address. This concluded the business, and a return to the tower was made for further ringing.

The following towers were represented: Brinkworth, Faringdon, Fairford, Purton, Minchinhampton, Shrivenham, Wootton Bassett, and the two local towers.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

THE YEAR'S ACTIVITIES IN THE BEDFORD DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Bedford District of the Bedfordshire Association was held on Saturday, January 3rd, at the Parish Church of All Saints, Kempston, and was attended by 33 members, although the afternoon was anything but pleasant. The bells were available for the afternoon and evening, and were raised in peal about 3 p.m., some good ringing being done in methods from London Surprise to Grandsire Doubles. Mr. H. Stapleton, of Turvey, was in charge of the ringing, and saw that all ringers present were 'fixed up' for the methods wanted.

A short service was held at which the Vicar, the Rev. T. H. W. Barker, gave an interesting and inspiring address that was greatly appreciated. Miss E. Steel (vice-president) was at the organ, and accompanied the hymns.

An excellent tea was served in the schoolroom, after which followed the business meeting, the Vicar being in the chair.

The Secretary (Mr. P. C. Bonnett) presented a report of the past year. The report stated that meetings had been held at thirteen towers—Thurleigh, Cardington, Kempston, Sharnbrook, Milton Ernest, Keysoe and Riseley, Stagsden, Bromham, Biddenham, Turvey, Willington and Elstow, and the majority had been well attended. Eight new members had been elected, and nine peals had been rung, including the first peal for the association of Stedman Doubles at St. Peter's, Bedford. It was here that Mr. W. Stapleton has just rung his 50th peal on the bells, and the members congratulated him. During the year the bells of St. Paul's Church, Bedford, had been rehung and overhauled by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and were now in excellent going order. Funds were being raised for the restoration of the bells at Stagsden, and it was hoped that before long they, also, would be in a good state of repair. The deaths of three members had occurred during the past year, including the president, Canon W. W. C. Baker, and the association missed them all tremendously.

The balance sheet was next dealt with, and this showed that expenses were £1 14s. 11½d., receipts £5 9s., leaving a balance in hand of £3 14s. 0½d., which was considered very satisfactory.

The election of officers resulted in the following: District Committee, Messrs. E. Freeman, H. Stapleton, P. Inskip, L. Williams and W. Addington, Messrs. P. Inskip and L. Williams to attend general committee meeting; Mr. P. C. Bonnett was re-elected district secretary, and was thanked for his past services.

The next meeting will be held at Blestoe, if the bells are available, with Sharnbrook as an alternative.

The election of two new members, who were proposed before peals, was also confirmed, viz., Messrs. R. West and J. J. Partridge, of Bozeat, Northants.

Hearty votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, for the service and his address, also to the ladies who had arranged the tea, and to all who had assisted to make the meeting a success.

The bells were made good use of afterwards, a variety of methods being rung until 8.30 p.m., when they were lowered in peal. Members were present from Bedford (St. Peter's and St. Paul's), Bromham, Biddenham, Cardington, Clapham, Clifton, Turvey, Keysoe, Wilden, Wellingborough, Southill, Stagsden and the local company.

Except for the fourth bell, which was recast in 1825, the bells in the tower are those upon which Stedman and his band practised. The inscriptions on them were given in our last issue.

VARIATION AND TRANSPOSITION.

'COMPOSE' AS YOU RING.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

When you are comparing two compositions the easiest mistake you can make is to judge from apparent similarity or dissimilarity. It by no means follows that two peals are variations of each other because they look alike; or that two peals are distinct and separate because they do not look alike.

Two good examples of the first occur to me, both of which have been debated in years gone by.

Five times repeated, Single half-way and end. Four times repeated.

The first is by Annable; the second by D. Prentice, of Ipswich. Up to a point these two compositions are identical—the course-ends, the bobs, the actual changes are the same. And yet the whole peals are quite distinct and independent.

Four times repeated. Four times repeated.

The first, by Henry Hubbard, appears in his 'Campanologia,' A.D. 1876; the second was, I believe, rung at Ipswich, the first in the method.

In these two the course-ends throughout are the same, and the incidence of the bobs much the same, but the general conditions of the two methods are so unlike that we cannot call these variations.

In its simplest and most general form, composition consists of joining together a number of separate courses by bobs and singles, usually arranged in 'Q sets.' In Double Norwich or Bob Major or any of the Plain Major methods there are one hundred and twenty course-ends. From each of these a course of 112 rows can be written out, and as, in a course, 1,78 never fall twice into the same relative positions, these one hundred and twenty courses will contain 13,440 true rows. If you start with the plain course and call three 'Homes' you will join together three complete courses into one round block. Anywhere in this block you can call three 'Middles,' and that will add two more courses. So you can go on adding courses till you have got the total number available or as many as you want. Bobs and Singles are links in a chain which binds separate courses into one whole.

But it is obvious that if a set of bobs will link up a number of courses, it will also link up the same number of any sort of round blocks, provided that you have the necessary positions to call the bobs. And if you have conditions similar to those of a course, the result will be true. For instance, here are three round blocks:—

		56234	—	56342	—
		23456	—	23456	—

In these 1-6-7-8 never fall into the same relative positions, so we can take any touch with the sixth never moved, and in place of the courses put one of these blocks, and get a true composition. We cannot call a bob 'Wrong' in the third block, but if we call a 'Home' in the fourth course the result is the same. If we take any block which has twenty-four courses with the sixth at home, and use the second or third block, we get the full extent of the method with 7-8 together. If we use the first we have a peal with the sixth its extent each way. And if we care to work out the different combinations and variations of these we shall get several peals which have passed as the original work of different composers.

We could also use the same block to link up a mixture of courses and different sorts of blocks, providing we pay regard to the truth of the result. There is a further useful way of linking up round blocks. In Double Norwich (and in Bob Major and the rest) there are a number of touches to be had by bobs only of different lengths without moving the sixth. Actually their number is small, but by beginning at different course-ends, by reversal, and by reduction, we can get for practical purposes quite a good number. There will be the same number out-of-course touches, and the same with the Fourth a sixth's-place bell, and the Fifth a sixth's place bell. Now, provided each has a position where a bob may be called on 4-5-6, you can take six of these blocks (one from every group), and by four bobs and two singles make them into one block. According to the lengths of the different blocks, so will the length of your peal be. The result will look like an irregular one-part, but all the conductor has to do is to call six easy touches, all of which probably are familiar to him. There are a quite a large number of peals to be had like this, and any conductor who knows this plan need never be at a loss for a peal if he is called on at a minute's notice.

In Bob Major I use a somewhat similar plan. Personally, I always have had a liking for Bob Major. I think that, next to Spiced Surprise, I get more enjoyment out of ringing that method than any other, and I am always quite ready for a peal of it. What I do is this. First I take a block of twenty-four courses with the sixth at home. There are, I think, three of such blocks; but by variation and reversal they become a fair number for practical purposes. And there are others if you use short courses. Then I have a number of blocks with the sixth in Fifth's place. I start my first block. At a point I switch into one of the others; finish that; go back to the first block; then again into one of the others; finish that; back to the first block, and so to the end of the peal. I have two ways of switching from block to block:—

23456	—	63254	—

It does not matter a bit which I use, what course I put it in, or what particular blocks I use with the Sixth in fifth's place provided that one of them is 'In Course' and one 'Out of Course.' Usually when I call a peal of Bob Major we have met short for something else, and I have worked this dodge quite a number of times, perhaps twenty, perhaps more. And so far as I am aware I always use a different variation. I have heard people talk about composing peals as you ring them. If you use some sort of plan as this it is quite easy. But you might get let down if you take it too cheap. Once I made a mistake and rang a course longer than I intended. It might have been a course too short.

TAUNTON RINGER'S FATALITY.

A distressing accident occurred at noon on Saturday, January 3rd, as a result of which Mr. George Frederick A. Reeves, of Toneside, Priory Avenue, Taunton, died in the Taunton and Somerset Hospital at 1.30 a.m. on Sunday. The unfortunate man, who was married and was aged 25 years, was working at F. G. Halliday, Ltd.'s, shops planning the edge of a round table. As it revolved on a lathe it parted and struck deceased on the forehead. He fell to the ground unconscious, and later passed away.

The deceased was a valued member of St. Mary's Guild, and also a member of the Taunton Ambulance Brigade. He leaves a widow and infant child.

The funeral took place at Taunton on Thursday last week, the service at St. Mary's Church being conducted by the Rev. A. F. Judd, Vicar of St. George's, Wilton, assisted by the Rev. P. Cowley, curate of St. Mary's. The interment followed at St. Mary's cemetery. The bells were rung muffled by St. Mary's Guild, three courses of Grand-sire Cinques (528 changes) being brought round by F. Chedgoy 1, W. Millard 2, S. A. Wyatt 3, A. Wyatt 4, E. Lloyd 5, J. Burge (conductor) 6, W. H. Tarr 7, W. Lloyd 8, J. A. Grant 9, F. Sudd 10, E. Wyatt 11, P. Merson 12.

NORFOLK RINGER'S DEATH.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Jim Ashby, of Terrington St. Clement, Norfolk, who passed away on Tuesday, January 6th, at the age of 53 years. Deceased was a member of the local band for many years. For some time he had not enjoyed the best of health, but he attended the choir and ringers' supper on New Year's Eve, and assisted in ringing the old year out and new year in.

He was interred at the Parish Church on Saturday afternoon, January 10th. In the evening, 720 Bob Minor were rung with bells muffled as a last token of respect and esteem, with 6-8 covering, by the following: J. Josh 1, A. Hodgson 2, G. Howling 3, G. Burton 4, E. Easter 5, J. Moore 6, J. W. T. Wright (conductor) 7, W. Howling 8.

CUMBERLAND BAND'S FIRST LONDON SURPRISE.

At the Parish Church, Egremont, Cumberland, on Wednesday, January 7th, 720 London Surprise Minor: J. Spedding 1, W. H. Cook 2, W. Norman 3, A. Elibeck 4, J. H. Botherly 5, G. W. Tembey (conductor) 6. First 720 in the method by all.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

A SUCCESSFUL INNOVATION.

The experiment of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, in holding a dinner and social, proved a great success, and a party of over ninety spent a very enjoyable evening at the Prince of Wales Hotel, Guildford, on Saturday. Visitors were accorded the privilege during the afternoon of ringing on the Cathedral bells, which were half-muffled on account of the funeral of the Princess Royal, and also at S. Nicolas' Church.

The dinner was presided over by the Provost of the Cathedral (Rev. Canon E. C. Kirwan), who was supported by Mr. W. Harrison (vice-president of the Guild), Mr. W. C. Ryde, K.C., Admiral T. P. Walker, D.S.O. (hon. treasurer), Canon G. F. Coleridge (late president of the Central Council), Major J. H. B. Hesse (Master of the Guild), Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild), Rev. J. M. La F. McNally (Haslemere), Mr. N. Vincent (Guildford), and Mr. S. Marshall (Puttenham). Other visitors included Mr. A. Hughes (Ancient Society of College Youths, London), Mr. C. H. Kippin (hon. secretary of the Surrey Association), and Mr. R. H. Dove (Croydon). Members of the Guild were present from the Cathedral and S. Nicolas', Guildford, Aldershot, Bagshot, Cranleigh, Farnham, Farnham, Godalming, Haslemere, Leatherhead, Dorking, Ottershaw, Thames Ditton, West Clandon, Witley, Woking, etc. After an excellent repast, served by Messrs. Boyce and Son, the loyal toast was honoured.

Mr. W. C. Ryde proposed 'The Church,' but first took the opportunity to express indebtedness for what members of the Guild had done in connection with the scheme for providing a new peal of bells at his own church at Grayshott, where the Master of the Guild had given them expert and valued advice, while the ringers at Haslemere and Woking had come forward with help. Dealing with the toast, he referred to the Archbishop of Canterbury's utterance at the Kent Association's jubilee, in which he publicly recognised church bell-ringers as servants of the Church, and spoke of the interest which the Bishop of Guildford took in the Diocesan Guild. He also referred to the indebtedness of the members to the Provost and the parochial clergy for their interest and assistance in forwarding the Guild's objects.—The toast was responded to by the Provost, who said that at the Cathedral he looked upon the ringers as his fellow-workers in the church, and he felt that that was the attitude adopted in this diocese to the ringers at other churches. As long as they had bodies of loyal workers in the church like the ringers they could look forward with confidence to the future.

OVER 46,000 RINGERS IN ENGLAND.

Canon Coleridge proposed the toast of 'The Guildford Diocesan Guild.' He said that, having been present at the inaugural meeting and tea at Guildford when the Guild was started, he was proud to be there on the occasion of the first dinner, because there were two things in the activities of a ringer which were doing an enormous lot of good. One was the friendship he made in the belfry, and the other was the cementing of those friendships at a joyous and convivial gathering like that. He congratulated the Guild on the progress it had made, and said they were fortunate in having a strong combination of officers to carry it through. Continuing, Canon Coleridge said the latest available figures given in the Church Year Book, compiled from the annual parochial statistical returns, showed that there were in the Guildford diocese, in the year 1929, 619 ringers. He did not know whether they all belonged to the Guild; if not, why not? Of this number, 152 were paid ringers, and 467 were voluntary workers doing it for the love of the thing and the glory of God. Guildford was a small diocese compared with his own, the Oxford diocese, where they had 2,987 ringers. There were some dioceses where they had even more in proportion to the size. If they went to Devon or Cornwall, they might find small parishes of, perhaps, 600 inhabitants where there were 70 ringers. At one parish he knew of there were six different bands of ringers, and they were always ringing—three times a week at least, and as much on Sundays as they could manage. They were not all change ringers, but they were intensely keen, and they did not find the same keenness in this part of the country. The total number of ringers in the whole of England in 1929 amounted to 46,270, which was an increase of 187 over the previous year. It was not a large increase, perhaps, but it showed that ringing was still alive, and he had no doubt it would continue to grow and increase as time went on. The Guildford Diocesan Guild was doing its part nobly in carrying on that great work for the Church, and he wished it all prosperity and great success, both in their Sunday service ringing and in their peal-ringing efforts. In the past he had been indebted to the ringers both at the Cathedral and S. Nicolas' for opportunities to ring peals, but he was not able to take part in peals so often now. As they got older they did not feel the same boyish enthusiasm, and, while the spirit might be willing, the flesh was weak. With all his heart he wished the Guild success in the future, and he hoped that God would bless their work (applause).

The Master, who responded, said the Guild had been wonderfully well supported by the clergy of the diocese: all the officers had worked together in unity and had done their best. Major Hesse referred to the achievements of the Cathedral band, and congratulated Mr. Pulling upon all that he had been able to do since recovering from his serious accident. He thought that on the whole Sunday ringing throughout the Guild had improved, but he would remind the members that wherever there were eight bells, eight bells should be rung for the services, and where there were ten, ten should be rung (hear, hear). It was a duty that every ringer owed to the church to turn up for the service ringing. He congratulated the band who on Boxing Day rang a peal at Chiddingfold. There were five first peals, and they were all local ringers. This success had been due to the efforts of Mr. 'Jimmy' Bartlett (hear, hear).

THE BISHOP'S APPRECIATION.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. J. S. Goldsmith) proposed 'The president, vice-president and hon. members,' and read a letter from the president in which the Lord Bishop expressed regret at being unable to attend because his important Sunday work necessitated his taking Saturday evening quite quietly. He extended to the members his cordial greetings and best wishes, and added: 'I hope that they will not only have a good and pleasant reunion, but that the work of the ringers of the diocese may go on with ever increasing vigour, and that the services done to God and the cause of the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ in the belfries of the diocese will increase, not diminish, as the years go by. I value this work very much, and I am glad to find, wherever I go, that this branch of Church work, at all events, is receiving a considerable number of recruits among the younger men and women.' Mr. Goldsmith referred to the interest which the Bishop had always shown in the Guild, thanked the hon. members for their support, and spoke of the extremely valued services rendered to them by Mr. Harrison as vice-president and chairman of the executive committee. Although not a ringer, Mr. Harrison had the greatest interest in and sympathy with their objects, and he served them further as a sort of liaison officer between the Guild and the ecclesiastical authorities.

Replying to the toast, Mr. Harrison said they were extremely lucky to have as president a Bishop who took so much interest in their work. He recalled the occasion when a small deputation met the Bishop, soon after his arrival in the diocese, to discuss various matters with him in connection with the formation of the Guild. They were received with the utmost courtesy and cordiality, and ever since that time the Bishop had taken a keen interest in the Guild and had accorded it full recognition as part and parcel of the Church organisation in the diocese. Continuing, Mr. Harrison said they were continually receiving as a Guild pats on the back, and he was not sure they might not be in danger of getting too self-satisfied. He thought there were still places where missionary work was necessary, and he hoped this might be undertaken. Mr. Harrison added that he thought the vice-president of the Guild should be a ringer, but when he had mentioned it he had been told that the members wanted him to remain in office. As that was their desire, he was quite willing to remain as long as he could be of real use to the Guild (applause).

Mr. George Grover submitted 'Kindred Guilds and Associations,' and welcomed the visitors. He said he was convinced that the social side was a great help to the scientific side of ringing, for it helped to keep the members of bands together, and gave them something to meet for beside the actual ringing. In the villages particularly, there was an absence of social activity, and if they could, in connection with ringing, offer young men something of interest on the social side, he believed they would be better able to keep them while they were learning the art of ringing.

The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, who first responded, said the suggestion thrown out by the proposer of the toast had certain points about it which might be considered by associations, especially in regard to young ringers. He congratulated those responsible for that inaugural dinner, and added that between his own Guild and the new Guild there were strong links which went back to the days when the area covered by the Guildford diocese was a branch of the old Winchester Guild. A spirit of great fraternity existed between them, and he hoped it would long continue (applause).

Mr. A. A. Hughes also replied, remarking that he could foresee that dinner was going to be the beginning of many happy gatherings in the future of the Guild. He brought greetings from the Ancient Society of College Youths, and said it was to the interest of these older societies to do all they could to welcome the inauguration of the younger Guilds. Many of the Guildford Diocesan Guild were members of the old London Society, but all would find a welcome if at any time they were able to join the College Youths at any of their practices.

Admiral Walker proposed 'The health of the chairman,' who, he said, they regarded with affection, and looked upon as a splendid friend of ringers and of the Guild.—The Provost replied, and appreciation having been expressed to those who had worked to make the evening a success, the proceedings terminated with the National Anthem.

The 'community singing' which was indulged in was a great feature of the musical programme, this being led by Mr. T. Stroud, organist at Farnham Church, who is a member of the Guild, and who acted as accompanist. The party much enjoyed the songs of Madame Welbrock Smith (Guildford) and Miss Kathleen Corbett (Bagshot), and were delighted with the artistically rendered handbell solos contributed by Mrs. Hughes (London), who was loudly escorted on each occasion. The change ringing element was in evidence in a well-struck touch of Stedman Triples rung on handbells by Messrs. R. Philpott, A. H. Pulling, C. H. Kippin and W. Melville.

PROPOSED MEMORIAL TO THE LATE MR. F. A. MILNE

At the annual general meeting of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild it was agreed that a memorial to the late Mr. F. A. Milne, president and treasurer of the association, should be erected in the Parish Church at Barnet.

The sub-committee set up to carry out the scheme have obtained plans and estimates for a mural tablet, and are now awaiting the granting of a faculty before proceeding further.

In his early days, Mr. Milne was hon. secretary of the Cambridge University Guild; later on he helped to form the Middlesex Association, being for some time hon. secretary of this society prior to the formation of the present county association.

His work on the Central Council is well known: he was a member of the 'Legal Liability Committee,' whose valuable report was submitted at the 1929 meeting of the Council only a few months before his death.

It is felt that, besides members of the Middlesex County Association, many members of the Exercise in general would wish to subscribe to this memorial, and any ringers desiring to do so should send their donations to either of the undersigned, who will gratefully acknowledge same:—

*W. Pickworth, 2, Balaam's Lane, Southgate, N.14.

*J. A. Trollope, 52, Laminas Park Road, Ealing, W.5.

*C. T. Coles, 21, Vincent Road, Highams Park, E.4.

W. H. Hollier, 21, Duke Road, Chiswick, W.4.

RUTLAND SURPRISE.

Mr. H. W. Wilde points out that the statement that any peal of London Surprise will be true for Rutland is not correct. The majority of peals of London are on the 'In and 5th's' plan, and if 'In and 5th's' is used for Rutland there are four false course-ends to contend with. If it is used in every course, three are cut out, but there is still one to deal with, so that many peals of London on this plan would be false for Rutland. With regard to bobs 'Before' breaking up the symmetry of the courses, it does cut out one lead in Rutland, but 'In and Fifth's' cuts out three leads of the plain course, and parts the tenor for two leads.

SUNDAY SERVICE TOUCHES.

DOVER, KENT.—On Sunday, January 11th, for the evening service, at St. Mary's Church, by St. Mary's Society, a quarter peal of Stedman Triples (Brooks') in 45 mins.: S. A. Wells 1, J. Eagles 2, H. J. DINNER AND PRESENTATION AT STANMORE.

The annual dinner of the Stanmore (Middlesex) ringers took place on Saturday week, when some 31 members and guests attended. The Rector (Rev. W. A. Hewitt) presided, with Mr. E. Heading in the vice-chair. After an excellent meal had been partaken of, the loyal toast was honoured. This was followed by a musical programme and several toasts.

Mr. G. A. Hughes (Master) proposed the toast of 'The Rector and churchwardens.'—The Rev. W. A. Hewitt, in reply, apologised for the unavoidable absence of the churchwardens, and took the opportunity afforded him of thanking the ringers for their services to the church. He also, on behalf of the Stanmore band, presented to Mr. F. Edwards a very fine barometer in acknowledgment of the services so kindly rendered.—Mr. Edwards, in returning thanks for the gift, urged the ringers to greater efforts at their practices, which showed signs of falling off. Practice was very necessary in ringing, and he hoped for improvement in this respect.

Mr. F. Hill (hon. secretary) proposed the toast of 'The Visitors,' coupling with it the names of Mr. C. T. Coles (hon. secretary, Middlesex Association) and Mr. G. R. Goodship (Harrow Weald).

The former first replied, and took occasion to thank Mr. Edwards for his services to the Stanmore band.—Mr. Goodship gave some sound advice when he urged ringers to attend association meetings, where, he said, they could practise any method they desired.

The musical programme, which was provided by Miss Atkinson and Master B. Holliday (songs), Mr. Wood (violinist) and Mr. Springott (piano) was much enjoyed and altogether a very pleasant evening was spent.

PAINSWICK AND ITS LESSONS.

Whatever views may be held by our readers on the question of what constitutes a twelve-bell peal, we are confident that every member of the Exercise will feel extremely sorry for all the band who rang in what now proves to have been the abortive peal at Painswick on November 8th last. It is disappointing enough to find out after the completion of an ordinary five thousand that the peal is false; to discover that there has been a repetition in a peal of nearly 18,000 changes, which has occupied within a few minutes of twelve hours, must be a staggering disappointment for all concerned, and they will have the sympathy of everyone.

A number of points emerge as a result of the discovery that Mr. Albert Wright's 17,687 Grandsire Cinques has turned out to be false. In the first place we think it is a great pity that, before venturing at any time upon a performance such as this, the composer does not get his figures checked by some other competent person. It seems to us that this is an elementary precaution that should be taken. A composer may have every confidence in his own ability, but—and Painswick is not the only example—a slip can easily be made, and often the more obvious it is the more likely is it to pass unnoticed by the author. We realise there may be instances in which a composer might be very loth to submit his figures to anyone but the conductor before the peal is rung, especially where he has exercised his ingenuity and produced something longer than had been previously recognised as the extent obtainable in a method; but even so, unless one has lost all faith in the honesty of his fellows, it would be well if the composer had sufficient courage to get the truth of his figures verified. At any rate, registration of the composition with the Central Council, with an undertaking by the officials of that body that it should remain a confidential document until a certain date or until released by the author, should fully protect his interests, even if he had to submit the figures to his keenest rival. But in cases, like that at Painswick, where the extent of the method is not involved, there seems to be no reason whatever why figures should not be checked before they are rung.

The inclusion of the false lead in the Painswick peal was an obvious oversight on the part of the composer and no one sympathises with him more than we do, but in order that any breath of suspicion may be removed from previous long peals at Painswick, particularly in regard to the 13,001 rung in 1920 (which was a record length), and the 9,000 and 12,000 rung last year, we suggest, in the friendliest spirit possible, that Mr. Wright

A YOUNG RINGER'S RECORD.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I wonder how many young ringers in the Exercise could beat the peal list for 1930 of my nephew, James Bennett, jun., of Otley, Suffolk, who is 18 years of age? During the year he rang 27 peals, 17 of which were Surprise Major in eight different methods, made up as follows: London 1, Bristol 1, Pudsey 1, Lincoln 1, Rutland 1, Cambridge 6, New Cambridge 1, Superlative 5. In addition, he rang Double Norwich 2, Kent Treble Bob 1, Bob Major 2, Stedman Triples 1, Grandsire Triples 1, Minor 2, Kent Treble Bob Royal 1. This performance seems worthy of note, especially as he lives in the dead of the country.—Yours truly,

JAMES BENNETT.

METROPOLITAN POLICE GUILD. OFFICERS FOR THE COMING YEAR.

The annual meeting of the Metropolitan Police Guild was held in the vestry of the headquarters church of the Guild, St. George-the-Martyr, Southwark, S.E., on Wednesday, January 14th, when thirteen members attended.

Inspector William Bottrill, 'Y' Division, was re-elected Master, but owing to the impending resignation from the Force of the secretary, P.C. Fred Digby, 'L' Division, P.C. Norman S. Bagworth, 'A' Division, was elected secretary. The following were elected as members of the committee: Inspector Fred Porter, 'L' Division, P.S. George Schleuter, 'H' Division, P.C.'s Tom Bannister, 'S' Division, and Wilmington, 'C' Division, with P.C. Charles Davis, 'R' Division, as treasurer.

Then followed discussions, and various motions were passed on certain matters connected with the Guild and its work.

A vote of thanks was passed to the late secretary for his services, to which he suitably replied.

The Master asked the members to maintain, and, if possible, strengthen their interest in the work of the Guild and ringing, and particularly to turn up after previously promising to do so to ring for Sunday services.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Rector of St. George's for his help to, and interest in, the Guild in the past, and to Mr. Herbert Spink (steplekeeper) for his services. Included in this vote of thanks was a motion that Mr. James E. Davis, of St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, E.C., be asked to accept the thanks of the Guild for his invaluable assistance.

A move was then made to the tower, where a number of visitors had assembled, including Mr. C. W. Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. George Cross, and ringing took place until 9 p.m., all having a pull at something they could ring. Various methods were rung more or less successfully, including Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich, Cambridge, London and Bristol Surprise Major.

OXFORD GUILD'S JUBILEE.

The Oxford Diocesan Guild was inaugurated on January 17th, 1881, at a meeting held in Oxford. To commemorate the jubilee, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Cinques (1,430 changes) was rung for evensong on Sunday, January 18th, at St. Laurence's, Reading, in 62 mins.: G. Holloway 1, Miss N. Belcher 2, R. T. Hibbert (conductor) 3, S. C. Davis 4, C. J. Watts 5, C. Pullen 6, Miss P. Holloway 7, J. W. Higgs 8, H. W. Smith 9, W. Hensley 10, E. G. Foster 11, W. Rampton 12. This touch was taken from the 'Clavis.' All are Sunday service ringers.

DEATH OF BANGOR'S OLDEST RINGER.

MR. WILLIAM CRANE'S SERVICES TO THE CHURCH.

The death occurred on Tuesday, December 30th, of Mr. William Crane, late carriage department foreman, L.M.S. Railway, Bangor Station, from which post he retired nine years ago. Mr. Crane, who was 74 years old, was a native of Bletchley, Bucks, and had lived in Bangor for the last 50 years. His wife predeceased him four years ago, and since then he had resided with his daughter. He was a staunch churchman and had been churchwarden, sidesman and bell-ringer at St. David's Church. He was one of the first band of ringers formed after the church was built in 1888. He kept no record of his peals, but he must have rung 100 or more of Grandsire, Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich, and Superlative. He was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths and North Wales Association.

Mr. Crane was of a reserved and quiet disposition, and was greatly esteemed by his fellow-ringers and friends. Through ill-health he had been confined to the house for a considerable time.

The interment took place at Glanadda Cemetery, the first part of the service taking place at St. David's Church. There was a large attendance of railway men and friends. The Rev. W. Lewis, curate of St. David's, officiated at the church and cemetery. The staff of the carriage department were bearers to the church, and the following ringers acted as bearers from the church to the cemetery: Messrs. J. H. Midwinter, V. Child, W. T. and A. E. Pegler, who also rang two courses of Grandsire on handbells over the open grave. Afterwards the tower bells were rung half-muffled to touches of Grandsire, and also the whole pull and stand 74 times. The bells were rung muffled for services the following Sunday. At seven o'clock English service a memorial service was held, the preacher being the Rev. W. Lewis, who prefaced his sermon with a tribute to the work Mr. Crane had done for the Church. The 'Dead March' in Saul was played by the organist, after which a short touch was rung on the bells. By his death, the oldest of St. David's bellringers is lost.

A HALF-PEAL.

On Monday evening, January 5th, a half-peal of Treble Bob Minor (2,520 changes) was rung at the Parish Church of All Saints, Kempston, by members of the Bedfordshire Association in 1 hour 33 mins. It consisted of 360 College Exercise and 720 each of Woodbine, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob: S. L. Knott 1, N. Inskip 2, F. C. Tysoe 3, C. Prindiville 4, P. Inskip 5, P. C. Bonnett 6. Conducted by Percy C. Bonnett. Arranged for Mr. S. L. Knott, of Stagsden, who was home on holiday.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress of Birmingham have accepted invitations to be present at the Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner on February 28th.

Owing to the pressure on our space, a number of letters and reports are unavoidably held over.

As will be noticed in the peal reports, Mrs. Harold J. Poole has made a welcome reappearance in the activities of peal ringing. By the peal rung at Austey on January 17th, she completed a century of peals on tower bells. This is her first peal since her wedding just over three years ago.

A correspondent writes, with reference to the most excellent articles on Variation and Transposition, by Mr. J. A. Trollope, it would be interesting for him to see the figures of the peal of Yorkshire Surprise Royal, the report of which was published in 'The Ringing World' of January 18th, and to say if they are a variation of a previous composition.

The first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus in London was rung twenty years ago next Wednesday by the College Youths at Cornhill.

A peal of '5,040 real Double Eight-in, with two bobs in a lead, as many 7th's as 2nd's, with bobs behind and before alternately,' was rung at Richmond, Surrey, on January 28th, 1816.

VARIATION AND TRANSPOSITION.

The next instalment of Mr. Trollope's instructive article will appear in our next issue.

HOLDING THE ROPE. WHICH IS THE CORRECT WAY?

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—After reading Mr. Dyke's article and the comments by A. W. F. re the teaching of would-be ringers. I must confess to being rather startled. In more than 60 years' experience of ringing, and having taught many bands and individuals, I have seen many awkward ringers. I also have seen and rung with some of the finest ringers the Exercise has had, and sir, some held the rope one way and some the other, meaning left or right hand, but when I read that out of a band starting for a ten-bell peal nine do not hold the rope correctly, I am constrained to ask, Will one of the gentlemen tell me which is the correct way and give me their authority?—Yours faithfully,

TOM RUSSAM.

Birmingham.

'IN AND FIFTH'S.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I am always willing to be corrected, and I thank Mr. Wilde for pointing out the slip on my part in saying that any peal of 'London' would be applicable to 'Rutland,' but in writing of 'Rutland' I expressly mentioned tenors together and In and Fifth's is not tenors together in 'London,' 'Rutland,' or any other method.—Yours faithfully,

GEORGE BAKER.

REUNION OF OLD FRIENDS.

On Saturday, January 10th, a few old friends met together at St. Peter's Church, Earlsheaton, to ring 66 leads of Kent Treble Bob Major, in honour of Mr. Walter Idle's 66th birthday, the band being as follows: Walter Idle (Dewsbury) 1, Joseph Broadley (Shipley) 2, James Cotterell (Bradford) 3, Harry Armitage (Huddersfield) 4, Ernest Betts (Liversedge) 5, Fred Hodgson (Liversedge) 6, William Frith (Huddersfield) 7, Thomas Kendall (Shipley) 8. At the conclusion of the well-struck touch, the ringers adjourned to the Park Hotel, where they were met by other friends from Elland, Batley and the local company. After doing full justice to an excellent tea provided by Mr. Walter Idle, the evening was spent in handbell ringing and reminiscences of old times spent together, some very amusing anecdotes being related. One incident of years ago is well worth recording.

The Dewsbury company of that time went to Huddersfield to ring. One of the party was the verger at Dewsbury, who wished to be home early. After having rung and spent a short time with the rest of the party at a neighbouring hostel, he wished them all 'Good-night,' and went to catch the train for Dewsbury. Having caught the train all right, he settled himself down and fell asleep, passed through Dewsbury, and woke up to find himself at Leeds, eight miles beyond. Boarding another train for Dewsbury, he once more fell asleep, and on again waking up he was surprised to find himself back at Huddersfield. He therefore rejoined his friends at the hostel, and in response to the remark, 'We thought you had gone home,' he related his experience to their great amusement.

At the conclusion of a very pleasant time, Mr. Broadley proposed a vote of thanks on behalf of all present to Mr. Idle for his kind hospitality, and wished him 'many happy returns.'—This was seconded by Mr. G. H. Hardy and carried unanimously, and Mr. Idle suitably replied.

STEDMAN'S TERCENTENARY. SUPPORT FOR SUGGESTED COMMEMORATION.

The suggestion made in 'The Ringing World' last week that there should be a fitting commemoration this year at Cambridge of the 300th anniversary of the birth of Fabian Stedman has met with support in many influential quarters of the Exercise. No steps, of course, can be taken, at any rate with regard to the restoration of the bells at St. Benedict's Church where Stedman himself rang, until the approval of the church authorities has been obtained. The proposals have been put before the Vicar and his reply is now awaited.

CENTRAL COUNCIL PRESIDENT'S VIEWS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The Exercise should be grateful to you for the suggestion made in last Friday's issue with regard to the bells of St. Benet's, Cambridge. It would certainly be very appropriate that the bells should be put into ringing order to commemorate the tercentenary of Stedman's birth.

It does not seem to me that there should be a great deal of difficulty in raising the necessary funds. Before any definite steps were taken, however, it would be necessary to be assured that the parish authorities would appreciate the action contemplated, and some assurance should be forthcoming that the bells would be maintained in good order with reasonable facilities for their being rung.—Yours faithfully,

EDWIN H. LEWIS.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Sonning Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild on Saturday, the Master (Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) mentioned the suggested Stedman commemoration and the scheme put forward in these columns last week. The restoration of the old bells at St. Benet's Church, Cambridge, should, he said, be done by the ringers of England as a thankoffering for the life of Stedman. He would give that proposal his own warmest support, as it would contribute something to one who had been really great.

The Editor of 'The Ringing World,' at the Bristol United Guilds' dinner on Saturday, when ringers were present from many parts of England, referred to the great opportunity which was presented to the Exercise this year to do something of practical value in recognition of what Stedman did, and what his work had meant to succeeding generations of ringers. Anything in the nature of the restoration of the bells at St. Benet's Church must, of course, depend upon the sanction of the church authorities and their sympathy with the scheme. If that were forthcoming, as he hoped it would be, he appealed to ringers of England to do something worthy of the great name of Stedman and the honour of the Exercise.

Immediately afterwards, one gentleman present promised a donation of £5 for the restoration fund if the work is undertaken.

THE BELLS OF ST. BENEDICT'S, CAMBRIDGE.

Sir,—Your suggestion that steps should, if possible, be taken to commemorate the tercentenary of the birth of Fabian Stedman, whom you rightly look upon as the father of modern change ringing, seems to me to be in every way admirable. In contemplating some of the forms which the commemoration might take, nothing, I think, could be more suitable than the thorough repair of the bells in the tower of St. Benedict's, Cambridge, the very same, save one, on which he used to ring, and I most earnestly hope that the scheme may meet with full success.

CHARLES D. P. DAVIES.

Kemerton, Tewkesbury.

WAS FABIAN STEDMAN A PRINTER?

Dear Sir,—In your leading article of January 16th you write as if there were absolute proof that Stedman was a Cambridge printer. I would point out that this matter is by no means certain. In support of it there is only hearsay, and that of the Leicester ringers (Leicester is a long way from Cambridge). Thus this is a most unsatisfactory form of support for any statement. On the other side we have the positive printed statement on the title page of 'Tintinologia,' that that book was printed for him by a printer in London. This is not absolute proof that he was not a printer, but it certainly implies that he was not; while a careless reading of these same words may have provided that very hearsay we have already referred to. The statement that he was a printer, when some of us believe he was not, should always be qualified by mentioning that fact.

Ufford Rectory, Woodbridge, Suffolk.

HERBERT DRAKE.

'THE GRANDSIRE' OF THE ART.

Sir,—I read with great interest your leading article in 'The Ringing World' of last week, re the 'Stedman Tercentenary.' Personally I feel that we as ringers owe much to Fabian Stedman, who surely is 'The Grandsire' of our art, and that we as an Exercise ought to celebrate the event in 1931 in some appropriate manner. Trusting this will be one of many letters that will reach you on the subject, yours faithfully, Folkingham, Lincs.

PAINSWICK PEAL COMPOSITION FALSE.

GREAT PERFORMANCE PUT OUT OF COURT.

The publication in 'The Ringing World' of the figures of the peal of 17,687 Grandsire Cinques, rung on November 8th last at Painswick, has revealed that the composition was false, the rows in the first treble lead of the peal being repeated in reverse order in the seventh lead after the third course in the last part.

The ringing at Painswick was a supreme effort on the part of the band, and occupied 11 hrs. 36 mins. The peal took just as much ringing as a true one, but it can no longer stand as a peal or as a record length. It must be a great blow to the ringers to find that their great achievement is all in vain for the purpose for which it was rung, and ringers throughout the country will have the greatest sympathy with all the band.

A number of correspondents have written to us calling attention to the falseness of the peal, and public reference was made to it by the chairman at the annual dinner of the Bristol United Guilds on Saturday. It will be sufficient here if we give the letter received from Mr. Albert Wright, the composer and conductor.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Mr. A. Knights and Mr. G. Lindoff have pointed out to me that we rang through a lead that was rung previously in the peal, viz., one of the leads after the course-end 543628708e, repeated with the first lead. I wish to apologise to the band for doing so, but that does not alter the fact that we rang the greatest number of changes on twelve bells, and, when the mistake was made, the greatest number of true changes for twelve bells had been rung.

'Coles' of fire have been poured on the peal ever since it was rung. The Painswick Youths, not being affiliated to the Central Council, make their own 'Rules and Decisions,' and still claim to have rung the greatest number of true changes on twelve bells.—Yours truly,

ALBERT WRIGHT.

FULMER RINGER'S DEATH.

On Friday, January 9th, the death occurred at Windsor Hospital after only a few days' illness of Mr. Frederick Clarke, one of the Sunday service ringers of Fulmer Parish Church, Bucks. Deceased, who was 45 years of age, was a member of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, and had been a ringer since 1901.

He rang his first 720 of Minor on June 1st, 1902, and took part in a peal of Minor at Fulmer in January, 1903, which is recorded in the belfry. Two years ago, with Mr. Harding, the belfry foreman, he helped to get together the present Sunday service band, the old band having broken up under war time stress.

The deceased was laid to rest on Wednesday, January 14th, the Rev. R. F. Lee (in the unavoidable absence of the Rector) conducting the burial service, at the conclusion of which he gave a short address, speaking of deceased's good example by taking an interest in the church's work, also of his somewhat sudden passing away, which emphasised the necessity for all to be ever prepared.

Several of the ringers were at the graveside, and the floral tributes included wreaths from the Rector, the ringers and churchworkers, his employer, and the staff with whom he worked. There, on that lovely January afternoon, hard by the little church, where in the days gone by, they had rung together, and worshipped many times, the ringers bade Fred Clarke farewell, 'until the day breaks and the shadows flee away.'

THE PEAL AT SOUTHWARK CATHEDRAL.

The first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus in London has been rung by members of the Middlesex County Association, which society also rang the first peals of Superlative and Spliced Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Maximus in the Metropolis.

The latest peal was rung at the first attempt, after two practices. It was the first peal of Yorkshire on any number by six of the band, whilst Messrs. Williams, Roberts, Hewett and Sanders completed the trio of Major, Royal and Maximus in the method.

It was Mr. E. P. Duffield's 50th peal on twelve bells, and it was rung as a compliment to Mr. and Mrs. R. Sanders on the birth of a daughter, as well as being a birthday peal for the 'happy father.'

A RECORD GATHERING.

Ringers from places as far apart as Sheffield and Truro, London and Manchester were among those present at the tenth annual dinner of the Bristol United Guilds on Saturday. Elaborate arrangements had been made for the entertainment of the visitors, the feature of the afternoon programme being an inspection of Bristol University and 'Great George,' the fine 9½ ton bell which hangs in the tower. Various churches were also open for ringing, and afternoon tea was provided for all. A record company of considerably over 200 assembled for dinner, which was served in the ballroom of the Grand Hotel. The chairman of the United Guilds (Mr. Percy C. Williams) presided, the vice-chairman being Mr. Harry Burt. Among the company were the Rev. D. A. and Mrs. Jaquet (St. James, Bristol), Rev. F. G. Walsley (St. Ambrose), Rev. M. Paterson (St. Thomas), Rev. W. G. Heber Thomas (St. Stephen's), Rev. A. H. D. Allan, Rev. F. L. Edwards (hon. secretary of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild), Messrs. A. Walker (Deputy Ringing Master, St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham) and Mrs. Walker, Mr. W. H. Shuker (hon. secretary, Lancashire Association) and Mrs. Shuker, Mr. J. W. Jones (hon. secretary, Llandaff and Monmouth Association), Mr. J. T. Dyke (hon. secretary, Bath and Wells Diocesan Association), Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (hon. secretary, Guildford Diocesan Guild) and Mrs. Goldsmith, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hawkins (London), Miss I. Hastie (West Clandon, Surrey), Messrs. C. D. Heginbotham (Devizes), A. A. Hughes (London), R. H. Dove (Croydon), J. P. Fidler (Loughborough), J. A. Dart and J. Thomas (London), S. Palmer, J. Holman and K. S. Long (Sheffield), G. F. Swann (Sutton Coldfield), G. E. Fearn and H. H. Fearn (Birmingham), A. S. Roberts (Truro), E. Stitch (Port Talbot), contingents from Gloucester and Bath, and ringers from nearly all the towers in and around Bristol. The excellent arrangements were carried out under a committee consisting of the chairman, vice-chairman, prospective chairman (Mr. U. Braven), Miss E. Smith, Miss F. G. Leaker, Messrs. F. G. Leaker, J. G. Jeffries, J. Gould, H. Way, W. Knight, W. H. Skidmore, J. Burford, H. Bennett, H. Pring, W. Parker, W. S. Emory, F. Jewell and R. Seager, while Mr. Edgar Guise again discharged the onerous duties of hon. secretary with conspicuous efficiency. After an admirably served meal, during which selections of music were played by the Tyndale Trio, the toast of 'The King' was honoured, and the company settled down to enjoy an entertainment of the same excellence and diversity that has characterised these gatherings from the first, thanks to the good offices of Mr. Emery and Mr. Charles Read, I.S.M. The toast of 'The Church' was proposed by the chairman. They met there that night, he said, in a spirit of brotherliness, and they all had one end in view, that of promoting the interest of their particular form of church work. If the same spirit of brotherliness which prevailed in the belfry was always present in every other corner of the Church it would be a great blessing. The Church was the mainstay of them all, in their daily, moral and spiritual life. They hoped she would be healed of all her troubles and would continue in the future, as she had done in the past, to give a clear and definite witness for the honour and glory of God (applause).

The Rev. D. A. Jaquet responded and had some amusing anecdotes to tell of his connection with bells before coming to his present parish of St. James. One was of the occasion when he was being inducted into a new living and had to toll the bell. He found he could get no sound from it, and then discovered he was pulling the window cord instead of the bell rope. At St. James' they had a fine peal of bells, and were very proud of their ringers, he said. The ringing of the bells in other churches Sunday by Sunday was a constant witness to the world that that particular day was a holy day, and they were a witness to the service and worship of God. It was very definitely a church art, like the playing of the organ, in which people must take pains. As the younger folk grew up and learned to ring, he hoped they would realise that anything done in the service of God and His Church, as of anything that was worth doing in the world, needed the taking of infinite pains. He hoped as the years rolled on, more and more people would feel that there was a call for their talent and time and work in the service of God and the Church.

A RULE FULFILLED.

Mr. J. W. Jones proposed 'The Gloucester and Bristol Association and the Bristol United Ringing Guilds.' He said it would have been a great joy to those who formed the association 53 years ago if they could have seen that great gathering. It was a fine answer to their first endeavours. The first portion of the first rule of the association was intended to set up a standard of character among ringers, and if they could see that assembled company they would be sufficiently satisfied with the result of their efforts to promote belfry reform. He thought the time had now arrived when there was no need to insert in their rules the object of belfry reform. It had already been achieved (hear, hear). He was the son of an old Gloucestershire ringer in whose days the ringing started in November and ended about February. They were out for records in those days, but not for records of Grandsire Cinques or Cambridge Maximus. At Christmas they visited the farmers, and the records they tried to set up was to see how many gallons of cider they could get given to them (laughter). That was one of the reasons why the founders of the association found it necessary to introduce a rule about belfry reform. In regard to the other part of the rule, the promotion of change ringing, success in that direction had been amply proved. Among other peals rung during the past year had been Cambridge Major at St. Mary Redcliffe and the long peals of Grandsire Cinques. In all the advancement that had taken place in the last few years, they had had a fine answer to the association's efforts to promote change ringing. Mr. Jones went on to refer to the help which members of the association had given to others outside their own territory, and especially to what was done by Mr. F. E. Ward, a former Master, whose work at Caerleon and elsewhere, in conjunction with Mr. C. E. Boufflower, was one of the inducements which led to the formation of the Llandaff Association. He spoke of the work of such men as Jim Hinton, Sam Phillips and others to uplift ringing in Bristol, of the services rendered to ringing by such members of the association as the Rev. C. D. P. Davies and the Revs. H. L. and F. B. James and others, and of the work done by stalwarts like John Austin, William Cave, Edgar Guise, William Knight, John Burford, Albert Wright and a host of others. He raised his hat also to members of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, because they were always ready, however well they could ring themselves, to give a man a helping hand, and he had personally experienced many such kindnesses (applause). It was a spirit which he would like to see exercised throughout the country (hear, hear). He congratulated the Bristol United Guilds upon the success of that splendid gathering, which he hoped might be long continued (applause).

Mr. F. Skidmore (Bristol Branch chairman), who responded, agreed with Mr. Jones that the first rule of the association needed revising. That gathering proved that the morale of ringers in the diocese had vastly improved. Bristol, he said, had always been a great ringing centre, and he trusted always would be. They had had some wonderful ringers in Bristol, and they all wanted to see them helping one another and especially the younger ringers. They had a great deal to be proud of in belonging to such an association. Their first duty was to ring for the services of the church, and he was glad to see that the clergy were taking a far greater interest in ringers' work than they did in times gone by. Their frequent visits to the belfry were a great encouragement to the ringers, and much appreciated. In Bristol he hoped the ringers would be entirely united as one great family. On the social side they had a great deal to be proud of. They had a number of friends ready to come to their aid on occasions like that, and he specially thanked Mr. Emery, Mr. Spurrier and Mr. Read for the excellent programme provided for their entertainment that evening and on similar occasions in the past ten years.

PRESENTATION.

The Chairman endorsed what Mr. Skidmore had said with regard to their indebtedness to the three gentlemen named, and requested Mr. Emery to present a silver bell in stand to Mr. Read in recognition of the services so willingly given for the past ten years.

Mr. Emery said it had been a great pleasure to do what he could for the United Guilds, but they were specially indebted to Mr. Read, who was a great asset to the Guild (applause). He hoped the spirit of friendship kindled ten years ago would long continue. The in-stand, said Mr. Emery, was inscribed, 'Charles Read, I.S.M.: in grateful appreciation, from Bristol United Ringing Guilds, 1931.'

Mr. Read, in acknowledging the gift, said what a pleasure it was to give his assistance at those gatherings, at which such a wonderful spirit of friendship prevailed.

A course of Stedman Cinques was then rung on handbells by Messrs. G. F. Swann, J. Thomas, S. Palmer, A. Walker, J. Burford and W. Cave.

Afterwards Mr. Burt submitted 'The Visitors' in felicitous terms, welcoming the presence of the representatives of so many associations. (Continued column 2, next page.)

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.SONNING DEANERY'S ANNUAL MEETING.

One of the most thriving branches of the Oxford Diocesan Guild is that in the Sonning Deanery, and about a hundred members were present on Saturday last at the annual meeting, which, as usual, was held at Wokingham. Ringing took place during the afternoon at All Saints' and St. Paul's, and service was held at the latter church. The Rector, the Rev. H. M. Walter, officiated, and the organist, Mr. A. H. Lusty, A.R.C.O., was in attendance. The singing of the hymns was an inspiration. These included the ringers' anthem, 'Belfry Praise,' the Old Hundredth (adapted) and 'Praise my soul the King of Heaven' (Goss).

The Rev. W. H. Bayley, Rector of Bearwood, preached an appropriate sermon from Isaiah lxi. 6, 'Men shall call you the ministers of our God,' in which he dealt with the history of bells and ringers, and concluded with a review of the position of the Guild of Church Bellringers, their duties and privileges. 'Undoubtedly, you are among the priests of the laity,' he said, 'whose duty it is to call God's servants to worship.' The preacher strongly exhorted ringers to let the call be also for themselves.

Tea was served in the Parish Room, where, under the direction of Mrs. Boulton, a band of St. Paul's churchworkers undertook the carving and waiting. These volunteers included the Mayor and Mayoress of Wokingham (Alderman and Mrs. A. E. Priest), his Worship being a churchwarden of the church, Mr. A. Newbury (churchwarden), Messdames Barry, Newbury, Hyde, Parker, Eamer, Miss Spiers, Miss Webb, and Mr. E. W. Youdell.

A YEAR OF USEFUL WORK.

Canon Coleridge presided at the business meeting, when the hon. secretary (Mr. W. J. Paice) reported a quiet year of useful work. The membership stood at 23 honorary and 155 ringing members, as against 21 and 150 respectively for the previous year. He referred with regret to the loss of the Rev. P. H. Ditchfield and the Rev. F. Egerton Corfield by death during the year. Both were staunch friends of the Guild. The jubilee gathering last May was a great success. Two peals had been rung during the year—one at Sonning (5,088 Kent Treble Bob Major, by members of the East Berks Branch) and the other at Twyford. The continued appearance of young ringers was encouraging. Sonning men were congratulated upon a praiseworthy effort to master the Stedman method. The report closed with a warm tribute to the good feeling between ringers and the clergy.

The balance sheet showed but a small margin of £1 3s. in hand, and discussion ensued as to possible economy, the secretary explaining several items.

The report and balance sheet were passed, with thanks to Mr. Paice. Canon G. F. Coleridge was unanimously re-elected, with hearty thanks, as chairman of branch.

Mr. W. J. Paice, as hon. secretary and hon. treasurer, was accorded similar recognition of his valued services.

The branch committee (foremen of towers) was re-elected, with the exception that Mr. E. Allen succeeds Mr. Jos. White as foreman of Hurst tower. The branch representatives to the Guild committee were also re-elected, viz., Messrs. F. Dentry, J. Moth, J. Wright and J. White. Quarterly meetings and combined practices were arranged for (by invitation) Sandhurst, Twyford, Waltham St. Lawrence and Sonning. The Secretary said he valued 'The Ringing World' as a medium in which to advertise meetings.

The following recommendations by the branch committee were adopted: That the present charge of 6d. per member for the annual tea be increased to 1s. per member; that a collection be taken at the annual service for the Branch Restoration Fund.

MASTER'S SUGGESTIONS.

The Master (Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn) remarked that that day was the very jubilee day of their Guild, January 17th, 1881, being the day of its foundation, which took place at Oxford. Discussing quarterly meetings, the Master said that it was not so much expected to have a preacher on those occasions as a short service. He would really like to see some more peals; there must be some younger members anxious to take part in them. Of several attempts last year, there were not many successful. He mentioned the suggested Stedman celebration of this year, as announced in 'The Ringing World,' and his scheme for restoring the old bells in St. Benet's Church, Cambridge.

Mr. A. J. Wright (Guild treasurer) spoke on Guild finance, especially the Branch Restoration Fund. As the money was spent in grants, he had to make a new start. This year there was a balance forward of £26. Last year £158 was paid away in grants. He hoped all branch representatives would be present when the Guild committee would discuss the matter at Reading. He looked upon Sonning Branch as one of the most prosperous in the Guild. There was no great use in holding balances in the branches. Some £190 was (thus held in the Guild. He advised putting it into the structures and into improved ringing.

The Rev. A. P. Carr proposed a hearty vote of thanks to many friends to whom they were indebted—the Rev. W. H. Bayley for his excellent sermon, the Rector of St. Paul's for the use of his church and Parish Room, the Rectors of All Saints' and St. Paul's for the

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

The first meeting of the year of the South-Western Division at West Ham on Saturday last was a very successful one, and augurs well for the coming year. Between 40 and 50 members and friends were present, and all spent a most enjoyable afternoon. The bells were raised and kept going in various methods till 5 p.m., when a break was made for the service, conducted by the Rev. Minn, who gave an inspiring address. Tea was partaken of in the Meeson Hall, thirty-nine being present. The meeting followed, at which two resident ringers, three non-resident life, and one honorary member were elected, and Woodford decided upon for the place of next meeting, to be held, if possible, on March 14th.

The Secretary reported that one of the oldest members, Mr. Nelson Hawkins, had been accidentally killed by a motor, and as a mark of respect to his memory those present stood in silence for a minute or two.

During the afternoon and evening, members and friends were present from Leytonstone, Bishopsgate (St. Botolph's), Hertford, Ealing, Southgate, Bentley, Harlow, Brentwood, Romford, Loughton, Barking, Walthamstow, Leyton, Gillingham (Kent), Stowmarket, and the local band, and touches of Grandfire Triples and Caters, Stedman Caters, Treble Ten and Bob Royal were rung.

MR. JAMES GEORGE'S LATEST ACHIEVEMENT.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—On January 3rd, 1931, I was successful in completing the ringing of a peal on tower bells on every date in the year (including February 29th and December 25th), these peals being rung on either 8, 10 or 12 bells. Being the first person ever to accomplish this, I desire through your valuable paper to express my sincere gratitude and thanks to Mr. J. H. Cheesman (Greenhithe, Kent), Mr. W. Whitehead (Leicester), and Mr. M. Swinfield (Burton-on-Trent) for the great and genuine help they have given me to obtain this record. I also desire to thank Messrs. John Taylor and Co., Loughborough, for the frequent free use of their foundry bell tower for this purpose.—Yours truly,

JAMES GEORGE.

NAVAL FUNERAL HONOURS FOR PLYMOUTH RINGER.

On Monday, December 29th, Mr. Reginald John Beer, chief writer, H.M. Navy, died suddenly in the street at Plymouth at the early age of 36 years. For a long time he was the leader of the Emmanuel band, which office he was compelled to resign on going abroad in 1916.

He returned to Plymouth in 1918, and became an unattached member of the South-West District Branch.

He took part in several peals for the Devonshire Guild, and was one of the band chosen for a peal attempt at Plympton two days after his death.

He was laid to rest with naval honours in the Corporation Cemetery, Plymouth, on Friday, January 2nd. A beautiful wreath was sent from the South-West District Branch, and the secretary, Mr. E. W. Marsh, together with Mr. W. G. Hiscott and J. Pook, represented the branch. Mr. H. T. Westcott represented Charles Church, and Messrs. J. Symons and A. T. Baldry the Emmanuel band.

BRISTOL UNITED GUILDS.

The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards first replied, and spoke of the splendid arrangements made to entertain and interest the visitors throughout the day. They had thoroughly enjoyed every moment spent in Bristol.

Mr. Albert Walker also replied, and said that in the arrangements for the entertainment of visitors, Bristol United Guilds set an example to all the other societies who organised similar gatherings. The visit to Bristol University had been particularly interesting with such a cicerone as Mr. Emery.

Mr. Braven proposed 'The Press,' to which the Editor of 'The Ringing World' replied, and the remaining toast was that of 'The Artists,' submitted by Mr. H. Bennett, and acknowledged by Mr. Read.

The programme included songs by Mr. E. H. Cooke and Miss Winifred Rodd; an extremely amusing pianoforte recital by Mr. Laurence, who impersonated the chief characters as well as the whole orchestra in an opera; a magical turn by Mr. W. Baker, whose 'experiments' were extremely mystifying; a ventriloquial sketch by Mr. Ken Kennedy, and selections by St. Thomas' handbell ringers.

Many of the visitors stayed the night at Bristol, and were able to ring for service at various churches on Sunday.

use of their belfries, the organist, and the honorary auditor of the branch accounts, Mr. Owen Goddard (applause).

On the motion of Mr. F. Dentry, Canon Coleridge was thanked by acclamation for presiding. In reply, Canon Coleridge said there were 2,897 ringers in the Oxford Diocese, of which over 2,000 were in their Guild—very creditable, everything considered. An increase of 187 upon the previous year was shown for all England at the end of 1929, when the ringers numbered 46,270.

BOBS BEFORE AND METHOD 'B.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir.—The fact that I made use of bobs Before in the peals of Rutland (that I gave is proof that I do not object to Befores, but only to the wholesale use of them.

Supposing it were possible to compose and ring the extent of sixty six-lead-courses of 'Rutland,' tenors together, the time occupied would be well over six hours, and at the end of that time the tenor man would have rung six-sevenths of the method only! and some of the six-sevenths would have been different in each case from the other.

Could the tenor men at the finish honestly say that they had rung a peal in the method?

There are certain circumstances in which a bob Before in every course is not only justifiable but is the only means of obtaining a peal in a method, and this brings me to what I am more particularly writing about.

In my letter in your last issue I gave the false course-ends of methods A, B and C published in your previous issue.

The false course-ends of 'C' were a known quantity, and will permit of twenty-four true plain courses only, tenors together, as I pointed out.

This week I have tested 'A' and 'B.'

The false course-ends of 'A' will permit of fifteen true plain courses only, tenors together, and there is not a true lead in the method.

The false course-ends of 'B' will permit of twenty true plain courses only, tenors together.

But now I have to correct a statement I made last week, i.e., although there are only twenty true plain courses of 'B' method, tenors together, yet, if we use a bob Before in each course, the falseness of the method is cut out, and the peals mentioned by Mr. Wilde will be applicable to 'B' method.—Yours faithfully,

GEORGE BAKER.

Mr. A. J. Pitman writes pointing out that Mr. Baker's statement was incorrect, and he sends the composition of a peal in each of the methods A and C. With regard to B, he points out that peals can easily be obtained, as the falseness is cut out by bobs Before. The compositions will be published as soon as space permits.

AN ICKLETON VETERAN.

MR. JESSE WEBB AND HIS WIFE DIE ON THE SAME DAY.

Mr. Jesse Webb and his wife, Mrs. Rebecca Webb, of Ickleton, Cambs (father and mother of Mr. Percy Webb, leader of the Ickleton ringers), both passed away on Thursday, January 8th, within a few hours of each other. They had both been ill for several months, and their end was very peaceful. The interment took place on Tuesday, January 13th. Four of the local ringers were bearers, and there was a large congregation, for Mr. and Mrs. Webb were much respected. The choir were also present, Mr. Jesse Webb having been a chorister as well as a ringer for about sixty years, although he had not been able to attend church for about a year. Both Mr. Webb and his wife were 78 years of age.

Amongst the large number of wreaths was one from the local ringers, who also rang a course of Grandsire Triples on handbells over the grave. The hymn sung was 'Now the labourer's task is o'er.'

As a young man, Mr. Jesse Webb started ringing at Burwell (Cambs), where he, two of his brothers and an uncle (all now passed away) took up method ringing on the five bells at the Parish Church, Grandsire being their favourite method.

About forty years ago Mr. Jesse Webb moved to Ickleton, where there was a good peal of six, but they had not been rung for several years, as the band could only muster five men. He offered to take the vacant rope, and so a start was made, but all the locals could ring was one lead of Bob Minor. After a time Mr. Webb took in hand some lads, including his two sons (one of whom was killed in the war), but it was an uphill task. However, his son soon made headway and got over to Saffron Walden, where he was made welcome and told to come whenever he could. In the year 1897 most of the band joined the Ely Diocesan Association, and in the year 1900 the first peal on Ickleton bells was rung, Mr. Webb and his two sons taking part. Mr. Webb, however, had not taken part in many peals, but what he had rung consisted of Minor and Doubles.

About three years ago, when the new eight were put in Ickleton tower, he rang his first touch of Grandsire Triples and Bob Major when he was in his 75th year. He had not been able to ring for the last year through ill-health, but the ringers always knew he was listening and would tell them if the striking was good or not.

THE FIRST PEAL OF GRANDSIRE CINQUES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I correct a slight misstatement in this week's 'Belfry Gossip'? The first peal of Grandsire Cinques was not conducted by Annable. It was rung at St. Bride's on January 19th, 1724 (not 1725), and was composed by William Jackson, who rang the 9th, and conducted by Matthew East, who rang the 11th. Annable, a young man of about 21, rang the second. It was the first peal rung by the College Youths.—Yours sincerely, J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

THE 18½ TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, New York, U.S.A.

IRRETRIEVABLY CONDEMNED.

We refrained last week from commenting on the conclusion of Mr. Albert Wright's letter, wherein, after explaining that the 17,687 Grandsire Cinques rung at Painswick contained the repetition of one lead, he went on to say that the Painswick Youths, not being affiliated to the Central Council, make their own 'Rules and Decisions' and still claim to have rung the greatest number of true changes on twelve bells. At the time when Mr. Wright wrote his letter he must doubtless have been suffering under a sense of keen disappointment and we feel sure that on reflection he has realised that any such claim cannot possibly be substantiated. We feel, therefore, that we may now say a word without risk of adding to the 'coals of fire.' From the beginning of peal ringing history falseness in a peal has irretrievably condemned the complete performance, and no portion picked out from the whole has ever been recognised as entitled to a claim of any sort. It has not needed any rule or decision of the Central Council to establish that practice. It has existed ever since the first false peal was rung, and so thoroughly established is it that the Council have not even thought it necessary to provide for such a contingency as a claim for recognition of a portion of a false peal, although it deals specifically with any 'shift or error in ringing,' and provides also that on eight bells and upwards there shall be not less than 5,000 true changes rung without interval. Mr. Wright does not, of course, claim that what is left out of the 17,687 constitutes a peal, and, after further consideration, we think he will realise that he should not make any other kind of claim for it. The verdict of the whole Exercise will be against anything of the sort.

Incidentally this emphasises one of the points we endeavoured to make in the discussion which ranged round the question of what should constitute a peal of Minor. We pointed out then that to admit anything but true extents would open the door to claims being made for peals in the course of which, to counteract, for instance, a mis-call by the conductor, a couple of extra courses were put in. Under conditions which were advocated it would be possible to claim as genuine peals 'cooked' by this means, and while the Minor question has no direct relationship to the false composition rung at Painswick, we see here how principles in one phase of ringing are linked with another. Once a beginning is made to interfere with certain very definite standards, one gets on to the slippery slope which leads eventually to disaster. Common sense, as well as age-long practice, will defeat any claim such as that suggested by Mr. Wright on behalf of the Painswick Youths, but if once the door is opened, it would not be a very big step from having to recognise a peal of 5,160 Bob Minor, in which two courses had been added in the middle of one of the 720's, to the compulsory recognition of a 17,665 of Grandsire Cinques through the discovery that in a 17,687 one lead had been rung twice. Let those who think that these are imaginary fears remember that part of a false peal has now been seriously claimed as the greatest number of true changes rung on twelve bells.

DEVON GUILD.

CHURCH COLLECTIONS FOR INSTRUCTION FUND.

The annual meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch of the Devon Guild was held at Kingsteignton on Saturday, and was attended by ringers from Cockington, Paignton, Churston, Brixham, Buckfastleigh, Kenn, Exeter, Clist St. George, etc. The bells were kept going to the Grandsire method during the afternoon, and a service in church was conducted by the Rev. E. S. Powell, president of the Guild, the lesson being read by Mr. F. J. Laxton (Torquay), chairman of the branch.

After tea in the schoolroom, the business meeting took place, Mr. Laxton presiding. The annual report of the branch was produced and adopted, and was considered satisfactory. It showed that there had been an increase in membership, and that Sunday service ringing had been maintained.

Messrs. F. J. Laxton and H. J. Hole were re-elected chairman and secretary respectively, and both suitably returned thanks. Stoke Gabriel was chosen for the next quarterly meeting, the date being left in the hands of the secretary.

A vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar of Kingsteignton for the use of the bells, and the meeting expressed regret at his illness. The organist was also thanked for assisting at the service. The visitors were also welcomed, and the president was thanked for his address in church.

The question of having collections at the services was again discussed, and it was decided to adopt this procedure, commencing at the next meeting, these collections to go towards the Instruction Fund.

This ended the business, and the party adjourned to the tower again, where touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday a meeting of the North Notts Association was held at Sutton-on-Trent, when members from East Markham, Edwinstowe, Billingham, Folkingham, Gamston, Peterborough, Ordsall and Orston were heartily welcomed by a full company of local ringers. During the afternoon and evening everybody had an enjoyable ring at methods ranging from Plain Bob to London Surprise. Tea was served in a most excellent manner by a few lady workers, who were afterwards thanked for their admirable work.

The Rev. J. H. Elling, Vicar of Sutton-on-Trent, presided over the meeting, and in welcoming the association to Sutton wished them the best success during this year and the years to come.—The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson, of Ordsall, replied, and said that Sutton had a fine ring of six, but he would like to see them made into a complete octave in the near future.

The Rev. J. M. Elling was elected a vice-president, while the following new members were elected: Miss Elling, Mr. and Mrs. Underwood, of Sutton-on-Trent, and Mr. M. Pollard, of North Anston.

It was decided to leave the place and date of the next meeting to the committee, as it was the general opinion that the annual meeting should be held a little earlier than in previous years.

The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson thanked the Vicar for the use of the bells and presiding over the meeting. He also thanked the caterers and ringers for making such splendid arrangements, which he was sure everyone had fully enjoyed.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

NORTH-WESTERN DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the North-Western District was held at St. Martin's, Epsom, on Saturday, January 24th, when about 35 ringers attended from Banstead, Beddington, Benhilton, Croydon, Dorking, Epsom, Ewell, Leatherhead, London, Mersham, Mitcham and Sreatham. Ringing commenced shortly after three o'clock and some good practice was obtained in various methods until five o'clock, when a short and enjoyable service was conducted by the curate. A very enjoyable tea had been arranged at Wright's Tea Rooms, followed by the business meeting, which was presided over by the District Master (Mr. A. W. Clark). Five new ringing members were elected, which is a good start for the new year.

The annual report and balance sheet proved very satisfactory, and were passed by the meeting.

It was decided to hold meetings during the year at the following towers, if possible, viz.: Dorking on Easter Monday, Beddington May 23rd, Ranmore Common July 25th (this to be a joint meeting with the Leatherhead District of the Guildford Guild, if possible), Guildford September 26th, Benhilton November 28th, and the annual district meeting at St. Peter's, Croydon, on January 23rd, 1932.

The present officers were re-elected, as were the committee representatives, with one exception, Mr. A. H. Winch resigning, and Mr. A. R. Pink being elected to fill the vacancy.

A very hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to the curate for conducting the service, to the organist for his services, and, last but not least, to Mr. Percy Cooper, the local steeplekeeper, for the excellent arrangements he had made.

The tower was again visited, and ringing continued until nine o'clock, everybody being catered for from beginners to experts. The methods practised during the afternoon and evening ranged from call changes to Bristol Surprise Major and Cambridge Surprise Royal.

WORCESTERSHIRE AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION.MEETING OF NORTHERN BRANCH AT WORDSLEY.

The quarterly meeting of the Northern Branch of the Worcestershire and Districts Association was held at Wordsley on Saturday. In the afternoon the bells of the Parish Church were rung, after which they attended a special service, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. R. H. Fowler), who was also the preacher. Mr. Simpkins was at the organ. The members were the guests of the Wordsley Parochial Church Council at tea in the Church School, and the Rector presided at the meeting which followed. Among those present were Messrs. H. Quarry and D. E. Cooper (wardens), T. J. Salter (Kidderminster), and A. E. Parsons (Old Hill), members of the Central Committee of the association, H. Skidmore (Brierley Hill) Ringing Master, A. J. Skelding (secretary and treasurer), and representatives of the following bellfries: Brierley Hill, Oldbury, Netherton, Old Hill, Cradley, Oldswinford, Bromsgrove, Kidderminster, Kinver, Wordsley, St. Thomas', Dudley, Selly Oak, Halesowen, St. Thomas', Stourbridge and Clent.

The Rector expressed the appreciation of all associated with the Wordsley Parish Church that the branch had chosen Wordsley as their place of meeting, because it gave them the opportunity of coupling up with the work of the association the fine work done by their own bellringers.

The Rector was unanimously elected an hon. member of the association, and the following were elected ordinary members: Messrs. Frank Jones (Kinver), Kenneth Pardoe (Stourbridge) and Henry Goodman (Dudley). The next quarterly meeting was arranged to be held at Harborne in June. Mr. Harold Cooper (Wordsley) was appointed to conduct the quarterly peal, which will be rung at Wordsley.

The members discussed at some length proposals for the celebration of the jubilee of the association in 1932. At a previous meeting a suggestion by Mr. Salter that the bells at Bromsgrove or Kidderminster should be augmented to twelve bells was adopted, and it was decided to request the Central Committee to give this further consideration at the annual meeting on Easter Monday.

The branch accepted with thanks the gift of a large number of volumes of 'Bell News,' offered by Mr. Harry Mason (Hagley). They will be in the care of Mr. Cooper, librarian of the branch, and will be for the use of the whole of the association.

Thanks were accorded the Rector, and organist, the donors of the tea, and the ladies who had done the catering.

HOW TO HOLD A BELL ROPE.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Russam's letter shows me that I did not quite make myself clear in my letter of December 19th, in regard to the correct way to hold the tail end of the rope. He will agree with me that a correct hold will do two things. It will interfere the least possible amount with the grip on the sally, and it will cause no annoyance to one's immediate neighbours in the tower. Obviously then, the tail end should lie in the crutch of the thumb, transversely across the sally, allowing four fingers to grip the sally unimpeded by the rope's end. The tendency for every learner, without exception, that I have seen is to hold the tail between the four fingers and the sally. This has the effect of reducing the power of the grip and also throws the loop of the rope out and away from the ringer. This can be a nuisance, and, indeed, a positive danger, in a confined space. Whether the tail end be held in the right or left hand, or above or below the other hand on the sally, does not appear to matter.—Yours faithfully,
J. T. DYKE.

THE ROYAL CUMBERLAND YOUTHS.RESIGNATION OF THE HON. SECRETARY.

The annual general meeting of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths was held at the headquarters, St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, on Saturday, January 24th, and was attended by about 40 members. Ringing commenced about 4 p.m., and at 5 p.m. an adjournment was made to the crypt for tea, kindly provided by the Vicar (the Rev. Pat McCormick), who was present, together with the newly-appointed Vicar of Shoreditch. After full justice had been done to the good things provided, the business meeting was held in the Church Hall. Here the Vicar welcomed the members in a very cordial speech, as did also the Vicar of Shoreditch.

The balance sheet was presented and passed. It showed a good surplus on the year's working, indicating that the society has not been inactive during the past year. Mr. J. D. Matthews was re-elected Master, Mr. G. Steere was re-elected treasurer, Mr. F. Smith and Mr. A. Hardy trustees, Mr. C. J. Matthews and Mr. T. Bevan stewards, and Mr. R. Bevan and Mr. T. Newman re-elected auditors. Mr. G. A. Card was elected hon. secretary in place of Mr. J. Sparrow, who resigned.

After the meeting, a return was made to the tower, and ringing kept going until 9 p.m. Methods rung were Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Sledman Cinques, Treble Ten, and a course of Cambridge Maximus.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A National Guild of Police Ringers was formed at Leicester last Saturday, with Inspector William Bottrill, of the Metropolitan Police, as the first president.

Benjamin Annable, who joined the College Youths about the year 1721, was Master in 1746, and was one of the greatest among pioneers of the art of ringing, died on February 1st, 1756, and was buried at St. Bride's, Fleet Street.

Forty years ago next Monday, Harrison's 10,176 of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung at Warnham, Sussex. Last Saturday, a peal in the same method was rung at the same tower. Mr. Walter Charman, now leader of the Warnham band, was in both peals.

February 5th is the anniversary of two long peals. On that day in 1783 a peal of 12,672 Bob Major was rung at Bromley, and in 1888 12,041 Stedman Caters at Appleton.

Peal ringing at St. Michael's, Cornhill, is now an infrequent occurrence, but lest they may have overlooked it, we would remind the Ancient Society of College Youths that their society rang a peal of 7,018 Grandsire Cinques, 'being the longest that was ever done,' on the famous bells exactly 200 years ago on February 14th next. The event ought not to pass without a commemorative peal.

It is interesting to note that at least five of the band of two centuries ago afterwards became Masters of the society—Matthew East (1734), Samuel Jeacocke (1737), William Pickard (1740), Benjamin Annable (1746), and John Cundell (1753). Others of the band may have been Masters at some time or other, but the records between 1703 and 1731 are not complete.

The peal at Hallow, recorded in our last issue, was rung on January 17th, not January 10th as printed.

The restoration of the tower of Dunstable Priory Church has now been completed, and largely attended thanksgiving services were held on Sunday week.

Members of Oxford University Society will hold their annual commemorative lunch on February 7th.

Mr. Harry Mason, of Hagley, Worcestershire, has presented the complete copies of 'The Bell News' to the Worcestershire Association. Mr. Mason has always been pleased, in the past, to make any search through the pages of that journal for information desired by ringers, but, having now parted with the volumes, he will not, in future, be able to do so.

CENTRAL COUNCIL PUBLICATIONS.

REVISED ISSUE OF VALUABLE WORK.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I wish to draw the attention of the Exercise to the two additional Central Council publications which appear this week in the advertisement.

The first is the revised issue of the book on 'The preservation of bells, etc.,' which is to be sold at ninepence, and the second, 'Method sheets,' refers to the plain courses of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Cambridge Surprise Major, which were printed in large type for the Council a few years ago, when a certain number were sold. There are two sheets, measuring 21 x 16 inches, one of which contains Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and the other Cambridge Surprise Major. They are printed thus for the purpose of instruction in the ringing room. They are to be sold at threepence per sheet.

When I received the above sheets recently from Mr. Young, he also sent me a parcel of 'Circuits of Stedman Caters' by John Carter, known to the Exercise as 'Carter's Broadsheet.' This is not a Council publication, but for the benefit of the Exercise I am prepared to send a copy to any member on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope; one 9 x 4 inches, with a halfpenny stamp, would meet the case.—Yours truly,

CYRIL W. O. JENKYN.

THE CAMBRIDGE YOUTHS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. E. G. Hibbins' letter, it is quite true he published what was thought to be a Cambridge Youths' peal in August, 1924. It should, however, be unnecessary to remind him, as a former member of the society, that the belfry election of Mr. A. G. Rivers as an hon. member of the society needed confirmation at a subsequent meeting, as is the usual practice throughout the country.

The rules in force at the time of the 1924 peal, as Mr. Hibbins well knows, did not provide for the election of hon. members unless balloted for at a monthly meeting, and accompanied by the appropriate fee for election.

It was confidently hoped, after the 1924 peal, that the rules would be revised so as to include Mr. Rivers' nomination and duly elect him at a reasonable subscription rate. Unfortunately, the matter drifted on till December, 1926, when the question was brought to a head by the rejection of Mr. Rivers, with others, as members.

In the circumstances the 1924 peal must be credited to the Ely Diocesan Association only, and the particulars quoted in 'The Ringing World' of January 9th, 1931, stand as correct.

PORTSMOUTH CATHEDRAL.

AN ANCIENT CHURCH.

Dedicated to St. Thomas of Canterbury, who before his assassination in 1170 A.D. presented the land for this purpose of the church, St. Thomas', Portsmouth, now the Cathedral of the new diocese, was completed and opened in 1180 A.D. It is a cruciform building with tower originally at the intersection of the transepts, but when the tower fell in the Middle Ages, it was rebuilt at the west end and the two cupolas of wood added. The bells (originally six) were cast from a ring of five presented by Queen Anne's Consort, and came from a Roman pharos off Deal. They were eventually cast into eight, with a 25½ cwt. tenor. These were recast and rehung by Taylor in 1912. An ancient peal board is in the tower as follows:—

On July 30th, 1749, was rung by Ebanr. Hoare 1, T. Valentine 2, James Keel 3, Wm. Palmer 4, T. Wynn 5, T. Barlow 6, Wm. Bedford 7, Wm. Crocker 8. The whole peal of Grandsire Triples in

THE CATHEDRAL OF ST. THOMAS, PORTSMOUTH.

3 hours and 10 minutes, being ye first 5,040 that ever was complicated here. Mr. G. Antram, Mr. Jas. Deacon, Churchwarden.

The bells, as a ring of eight, were first rung on December 21st, 1703.

Catherine of Braganza was married to her Royal Spouse in this church, and the original certificate is still to be seen. The beautiful stained glass was destroyed by the Cromwellian soldiery, and the architecture suffered somewhat by 'improvements' by the Puritans.

The tower was originally used as a watch and beacon tower, so that the appearance of pirates could be quickly communicated via Portchester Castle to Winchester, then the capital of England, and traces of the watchman's habitation may still be seen.

The heart of the Duke of Buckingham, assassinated by John Felton in the old High Street, is supposed to be preserved in a monument to his memory in the church.

PORTSMOUTH DISTRICT SECRETARY RETIRES.

It was at the Cathedral that the annual meeting of the Portsmouth District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild was held on Saturday, when over 40 members were present from Alverstoke, Bramshott, Gosport, Petersfield, Portsmouth (Cathedral and St. Mary's), Swanmore, Titchfield, Ryde and Wickham, also the Master (Mr. G. Williams). The bells were available during the afternoon and evening, and the Guild's service was held in the Cathedral. (Continued in next column.)

THE STEDMAN TERCENTENARY.

ST. BENEDICT'S TOWER A PRECIOUS RELIC.

The proposals put forward in our columns for a celebration of Stedman's Tercentenary at Cambridge during this year and, if possible, the restoration of the bells on which Stedman himself used to ring at St. Benedict's Church, Cambridge, to mark the event, have evoked a favourable reply from the Vicar, the Rev. W. Greenwood, and Mr. E. H. Lewis, the president of the Central Council, who is well known as one of the greatest authorities on the subject, has very kindly undertaken to make an independent inspection and report.

In the past ringing has been restricted at St. Benedict's Church with the one object of maintaining the stability of the Saxon tower—a very precious relic—and any scheme of bell restoration will necessarily require very careful thought. It would, however, be a great thing to accomplish, if the Exercise could restore the bells and safeguard the tower where the 'father' of change ringing did most of his practical work for the art.

As soon as there is any outcome of the steps now being taken, our readers will be informed, and we look forward to the possibility of something being done to mark fittingly the very interesting event. Already promises of support are forthcoming in many quarters, and the suggestions we have made have met with general approval.

MORE THAN ONE GOOD PURPOSE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Please give me the opportunity of supporting with the utmost enthusiasm your splendid suggestion for the celebration of Stedman's tercentenary. I remember ringing on the historic bells of St. Benedict's Church on Ascension Day, 1897. The restoration of these bells may well serve more than one good purpose. At present, unless any change has been made within the last year or two, there is not a single church in Cambridge where the bells are rung for the Sunday services. After such a reopening of these famous bells as you have in view, there will most likely be a six-bell band ready to undertake their regular ringing at once, as well as to train any young band that may be formed in the parish. With a small beginning thus made, Sunday ringing may in due time become the established usage in Cambridge, as in Oxford, and this will be the finest tribute of all to that illustrious Cantabrian whose memory we are exhorted to honour.—Yours truly, dral, at which the Rev. A. F. Smethurst officiated and the Provost (Canon T. H. Masters) preached.

An excellent tea was served in the Green Row Rooms, after which the business meeting was held, the Provost being voted to the chair. The balance sheet showed receipts amounting to £30 5s. 6d., and expenditure £8 2s. 8d., leaving a credit balance of £22 2s. 10d., and was accepted.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. F. W. Rogers) reminded the members that as he was also holding the office of general secretary he felt it impossible to carry on in both capacities, and left it to the wish of the members which post he should give up. As it was felt that the district should not create any difficulty to the Guild as a whole, it was finally resolved to relieve him of the office of district secretary. Mr. A. T. Greenwood (Portsmouth) was invited to accept this position, which he consented to do.

The election of district officers resulted as under: Chairman, Mr. R. J. Stone; secretary, Mr. A. T. Greenwood, 14, Cohourg Street, Portsmouth; auditor, Mr. H. G. Reynolds; representatives on committee, Messrs. F. A. Burnett and R. J. Stone. The Rev. S. Cumpsty (Cathedral) was elected a ringing member.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Petersfield and Steep on Saturday, April 25th.

Votes of thanks were accorded the Provost for the use of the bells and for presiding at the meeting, also the organist. Afterwards the members returned to the tower for further ringing, which during the day ranged from the standard methods to Superlative, Cambridge and London Surprise Major.

VARIATION AND TRANSPOSITION. A CONCRETE EXAMPLE.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

The following is a very good example of what transposition and variation is, and how it can be useful in ordinary practical circumstances. Some years ago I had the job of calling a peal of Double Oxford Bob Major, and I wanted a peal for the purpose. There are several very good compositions in the 'Central Council Collection,' but what I wanted was one which, besides being musical, would let me see what every bell was doing right through without putting very much tax on an elusive memory. Perhaps, in case anyone may think I am claiming to be a smart conductor, I ought to say, would let me know throughout if every bell was in its right place. I argued it out something like this. I said: If I take the 'old' nine courses (Wrong and three Homes, twice repeated), and if I call a bob on 4-5-6 that will give me twenty-seven courses and, doubled by singles, fifty-four courses or a peal of 6,048 changes. This is a very old and well-known composition, and who the original composer was (if there were one) I should not like to say. If in this I call the bobs at the Wrong when the second is a fourth's-place bell, I shall very much improve the music, for that will keep the second out of both fifth's and sixth's at a course-end. As the single is called half-way and end, and the half-way is 32456, the second half of the peal will look different to the first, but actually will be the same composition. But the peal is too long; I only want a 5,000. I can reduce it by omitting three consecutive bobs at 'Home,' and if I do this four times I shall have a 5,152. But I do not like that number. I want something nearer 5,000. There is another way I can reduce the peal. Every course in which the second is a Second's-place bell ends with a 'Home.' If I call any one of these courses 'Middle,' 'Before,' 'Wrong' and 'Home,' I shall have the same course-end and reduce the length by one lead. And it cannot be false. Because the Middle will make the Second a sixth's-place bell, the Before will make her a fifth's-place bell, and the Wrong will bring her back to a second's-place bell. And in none of the courses of our original is the second either a sixth's or a fifth's-place bell. Notice that in this course, although the second is a sixth's and a fifth's-place bell, she does not get away from the lead, and so we do not have any 8-2's.

If I omit three consecutive bobs at Home four times, and call the short course nine times I shall have a 5,008. That is what I did. I dropped my 'Homes' at irregular intervals, and I put in my 'M.B.W.' where I thought fit; and we rang the peal. It looked like a very irregular one-part composition. I showed it to several of my friends, and none saw the secret of it, though I told them there was a catch in it. They only expressed surprise that I should have chosen such a peal to call from an inside bell, and in a method, too, we had not practised. I will let my readers into my secret now—I rang the second.

I had produced the peal from an old composition by very simple means of variation and transposition, and now here are a few questions which the curious may answer if they can:—

1. Was I justified in saying the peal was composed and conducted by me?

2. If not, whose composition was it?

3. How much 'originality' was there about it in any case?

4. And if this will not stand any real test of originality, how many of the compositions that people put their name to can?

If we examine any peal which contains some particular extent or some particular qualities, we shall generally find that it has a group of bobs which form the key of the composition. These bobs usually produce a Round Block, and it is they which make possible the extent or the qualities. Let us look at an example of this.

The extent of Bob Major with the tenors together and without singles is fifty-nine courses or 6,608 changes. There are sixty full courses (6,720 changes) to select from, but it is a general law of all methods that an even number of full courses cannot be joined together by bobs. All this is true of Double Norwich. The number of peals (whatever the number actually is) which will produce a 6,608, is the same in Double Norwich as in Bob Major, and, indeed, in every one of the eight hundred odd methods on the Plain Principle. But, by using three short courses, Mr. Lindoff was able to get a peal of sixty courses in Double Norwich containing 6,624 changes. Here is the key of the composition:—

23456	—	—

This group of bobs joins together six courses, an even number, but to do so six leads have to be cut out. When we have got these six courses it is quite easy to add the other fifty-four to them by bobbing 'Q sets.' It can be done so as to produce a one-part peal or (since this touch is in three parts) as a three-part peal, and there are many scores of ways in which it can be done.

THE PAINSWICK PEAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Re Mr. Wright's letter, it was not the 'Coles' of fire that he states were poured on the peal that 'put it out.' The 'Coles,' like good fuel, kept it going, and in the public eye. It was the 'water' in the figures that finally quenched the peal, and that is where 'Wright' was 'wrong.'

Joking apart, however, Mr. Wright's preposterous and childish claim that part of a false peal is a record surprises me, and I was about to refute it. But I feel so sorry for him, as well as for his band that I will leave him with his 'record.' He is apparently very easily satisfied.—Yours faithfully,

C. T. COLES.

A RIDICULOUS CLAIM.

Sir,—I have tried to keep out of this twelve-bell record business, realising that an abler pen than mine was dealing with the matter. I had had no particular thoughts on the question, except that I considered it a little unsporting to attempt to 'beat' a record in one of the most difficult methods on twelve bells with a peal in the easiest method on eleven bells. I heard rather more than two hours of the ringing on November 8th, and have very little to say against it—1, 2, 11 and 12 were being rung magnificently, and the whole had an excellent heat.

No one sympathised with Mr. Wright more than I, and I wrote and told him so, but his present claim is ridiculous, and alienates my sympathy. What an excellent idea for a football team to adopt similar tactics! Let them make their own rules, and we should see Chilcompton Rangers at Wembley! I wonder if all the band subscribers to this idea? I should imagine not.

Concerning the falsity, the change 213547698e0 turned up. This I should consider to be one of the most easily recognised changes. One is forced to one of two conclusions: either the band was stone deaf, or the change was so badly struck as to pass unnoticed. There is no other explanation.—Yours truly,

J. T. DYKE.

ANOTHER FALSE PEAL.

Last week we suggested that the figures of the 13,001 and of the 9,000 and 12,000 Grandsire Cinques, rung last year, should be published to allay any suspicion that might be entertained of their truth. The figures of the 13,001 were published in the annual report of the Gloucester and Bristol Association for 1921, and can thus be accepted as true. It has been pointed out, however, that peal number 1,133 in the Gloucester and Bristol Report (rung on March 28th, 1921, at Painswick) is false for the same reason as the 17,687.

DEATH OF MR. W. J. HAZELL.

A WELL-KNOWN EDMONTON RINGER.

With much regret we announce the death of Mr. Wilby J. Hazell, of Edmonton, who passed away on Monday, January 19th, at the age of 62 years, after an illness of 15 weeks. The deceased had been in the employ of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry for about twenty years, and was a reliable, trustworthy workman, as well as being well known in ringing circles.

He was a native of Little Bentley, where he started ringing and obtained further practice in adjoining parishes. His first 720 of Bob Minor was rung at Great Bromley on February 6th, 1889, when he rang the treble. His first peal on eight bells was 5,024 Kent Treble Bob Major at Foxcarth, Essex, rung in the morning. He then walked to Walter Belchamp and rang a peal of 5,040 Bob Major (3 hours) in the afternoon. These two first peals were rung with that well-known ringer, the late C. Sillitoe, of Sudbury. The deceased afterwards took part in several peals of Minor at Great Horkesley, Great Bromley, Great Bentley, Wivenhoe, etc. Removing to London, he joined the Edmonton company and rang a lot of peals in all the Surprise methods on tower bells, and in addition he rang many peals on handbells. He was a very good striker and sure ringer. The funeral took place on Saturday at Little Bentley, and was attended by many parishioners and friends from adjoining parishes. Among the ringers present were Messrs. A. Saunders (Grinstead Green), F. Claydon, F. Rigwell (Earls Colne), D. Elliott (Boxford), G. Jennings (Weeley), H. Wright (Clacton), G. A. Andrews and A. Andrews (Thorington), P. Almond, W. J. Nevard (Great Bentley), C. Marvern (Tendring), E. Durrant (Thorpe), J. Bowell (Great Bromley), W. Honeywood (Mistley) and E. King (Edmonton). Letters of sympathy were received from Mr. C. H. Howard (Master of the Essex Association), Mr. E. J. Butler (Chadwell Heath), and Mr. H. E. Bowers (Broomfield), who were unable to attend. Four members acted as bearers—Messrs. P. Almond, G. Andrews, C. Marvern and E. Durrant. The wreaths numbered over twenty, and included one from the Bell Foundry and one from Mr. C. H. Howard for the Essex Association.

W. J. N.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

FINANCIAL MATTERS DISCUSSED AT HINCKLEY.

Hinckley—in the language of the classics called 'Tin Hat,' for some obscure reason which the writer deponeth not—was the scene of the quarterly meeting of the Midland Counties Association on Saturday, January 17th. The large square tower of the Parish Church—one of the largest in Leicestershire—with its lumpy spire, contains a magnificent ring of eight bells, hung in the old frame, but with all the latest improvements in hall bearings, new fittings, etc., and from a ringer's point of view excellent in every way. The belfry, open at one side to the church, and lighted on the other by a huge plain-glass window, is ideal, airy, and with plenty of room to move about. Good use was made of the bells during the afternoon and evening by some sixty or more visitors, who came from far and near.

The committee met at 3.15 p.m. in the adjoining Church Hut, and deliberated at length on several important items, viz., the Chambers memorial, the annual report and subscriptions, investment of funds, etc., and made suggestions to bring before the general meeting later. The president, Mr. E. Denison Taylor, was unfortunately absent through illness, and Mr. Wm. Willson deputised for him at the committee meeting.

Tea followed, and was announced in an unusual way by the 'Clarke,' who upset a table, causing a terrific din and the scattering of crockery, buns, milk, etc. This was soon rectified, and no one lost any of their appetite through the incident. Some sixty or more members and friends sat down, and six of the eight branches of the association were represented, viz., Burton, Hinckley, Leicester, Loughborough, Derby and Nottingham, and the members were pleased to welcome a number of visitors from Coventry, Chivers Coton, Nuneaton, including Miss E. D. Lewis, the hon. secretary of the Warwickshire Guild.

In the unavoidable absence of the president, the Vicar of Hinckley, Rev. H. J. T. Eacot, was voted to the chair, and a most excellent job he made of it, promising in his opening remarks to get through the business quickly, which he certainly did. He welcomed a very large number of visitors, especially mentioning the Rector of Stoney Stanton (the Rev. R. P. Farrow, M.A.), who is a keen ringer, and the Rector of Seals (the Rev. Fitzherbert, M.A.).

THE CHAMBERS MEMORIAL.

Arising out of the minutes of the last meeting was the question of the memorial to the late president, Alderman R. B. Chambers, B.A., J.P. The Secretary explained that appeals had been circularised through all the districts and a certain amount of money received in response. It was necessary to close this fund as soon as possible and so get the memorial finally settled, and the committee asked all local secretaries to send in to the hon. treasurer forms (whether with subscriptions entered or not) with all moneys received not later than January 31st.—It was unanimously agreed that, should the occasion arise, the committee be empowered to grant expenditure up to £25 for the purpose of the memorial, and any balance required to make up this amount beyond subscriptions received, same to be taken from the general funds.

As the transfer of funds held by the late president in trust had been completed, it was suggested by the committee, and authorised by the general meeting, that a sum of £100 be invested in the Church of England Building Society, which at present yields a 5 per cent. dividend. The small balance over is to be left in the general funds.

New members elected since the last meeting were duly confirmed, viz., 19 ringing, 3 honorary, 1 life. The auditors were reappointed.

The question of annual subscriptions and payment for reports was left over until the annual meeting, when the matter will be settled. Therefore the motion passed at Bottesford remains, that the annual subscription be 1s. 6d., and report issued free to fully-paid members, this to be retrospective as from January 1st, 1931. In the meantime, each local secretary and committee should get their members' views on the proposal, so that this rule may either be made absolute or otherwise at the annual meeting which will be held at Derby on Easter Monday.

No other business arising, the Vicar of Hinckley then invited the members to a short service in the church, during which he gave a very appropriate address on the significance and the call of the bells in the Church of England. No other country in the world, he said, had quite the same historic and beautiful associations in this direction as we had.

Further ringing on Hinckley bells took place until 8 p.m., when many adjourned to an impromptu 'convivial,' which terminated a most successful meeting.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

FARNHAM DISTRICT ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild was held at Farnham on Saturday, and in conjunction with it the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild held their quarterly meeting. Altogether over seventy ringers and friends assembled, among the visitors being Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Johnston, of Croydon. The service was conducted by the Rector (Rev. Canon Girling), who was formerly Vicar of Leiston, Suffolk. In his practical address he referred to the attractions of ringers as a physical pursuit, a mental exercise and an opportunity for service. He described ringers as missionaries, and asked them to practise in their lives what they urged upon others by their message.

The catering arrangements at the Church House were considerably strained by the unexpectedly large party at tea. Canon Girling presided, and before leaving was thanked for the service, for his address and for the use of the bells on the motion of Major Gale, who afterwards took the chair for the business meeting.

The district officers were all re-elected, viz.: Ringing Master, Mr. R. Hasted; hon. secretary, Mr. C. W. Denyer; hon. auditor, Mr. E. L. Aldridge; members of the executive committee, Mr. F. Nye and Major Gale, representing the ringing members, and Mr. W. J. Francis representing the hon. members.

The balance sheet showed a very successful year, the balance in hand in the district funds having been increased from £6 15s. 7d. to £11 9s. 8d.

The Ringing Master's report stated that there had been progress in most towers, but he regretted there were one or two towers where they could not get the local men to attend when they held meetings there. Four peals had been rung in the district during the year.

HON. MEMBERSHIP DOUBLED.

The Hon. Secretary reported that the year 1930 was on the whole very successful. Six district meetings were held with an average attendance of 37 (the same as in 1929). The thanks of the district were due to Mr. T. A. Stroud, of Frensham, whose services as organist are always available for meetings. Three organised combined practices were held, at which the attendances were large and valuable work was done. The district, and Seale in particular, was unfortunate in losing the valued services of Mr. H. Gardner and Mr. H. Tinsey, who left for Sussex and Norfolk respectively. The district had been well represented at most Guild meetings, including the summer festival at Egham and Staines on July 5th. The number of ringing members for 1930 showed an increase of ten over 1929. The total was now 119. The number of honorary members for 1930 was more than double that of 1929, being now 32, made up as follows: Farnham 11, Aldershot 6, Hawley 6, Bagshot 3, Seale 2, Yorktown 2, Ash 1, Frensham 1. In conclusion, the secretary thanked all members and friends who had assisted him in any way during the past year.

The report was adopted, the General Hon. Secretary (Mr. J. S. Goldsmith) complimenting the district, and particularly the hon. secretary, upon the very successful year, and especially upon doubling the number of hon. members.

Towers selected for meetings during the coming year were Crondall, Bagshot, Hawley, Aldershot and Seale, with Farnham for the next annual meeting.

At this meeting, nomination of the Guild officers had to be made, and the following now serving were renominated: Vice-president, Mr. W. Harrison; Master, Major J. H. B. Hesse; hon. treasurer, Admiral T. P. Walker; hon. auditor, Mr. C. N. Burdock. Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, having intimated that he wished to retire from the office of hon. secretary owing to pressure of other duties, persuaded the meeting to nominate Mr. G. Grover, the present secretary of the Guildford District, for the office. The district resolved to place on record appreciation of the services rendered to the Guild by Mr. Goldsmith.

Three new members were elected.

The general secretary welcomed to the meeting Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Johnston, who were making their first public appearance at a ringing gathering since their marriage, and wished them, on behalf of the Guild, health, happiness and long life.—Mr. Johnston acknowledged the good wishes.

The meeting terminated with a vote of thanks to the chairman, and ringing was then resumed at the tower, where in the course of the afternoon and evening touches in the standard methods were rung.

THE LADIES' MEETING.

Members attended the Ladies' Guild meeting from Aldershot, Ash, Bagshot, Blackmoor, Chertsey, Farnham and Maidenhead. The following new members were elected: Hon. members, Mrs. J. Parker (Enfield), Mrs. Cyril Johnston (Croydon), Mrs. J. S. Goldsmith (Woking); ringing members, Miss Norah Hodge (Parkstone, Dorset), the Hon. Barbara Gibbs (Hunsdon, Herts), Miss Ellen Chitty (Hunsdon, Herts), and Mrs. Read (Blackmoor, Liss).

For the first time Farnham bells were rung by a band of eight ladies, Miss Fisher, of Aldershot, mastering the tenor, which is a bell of 20½ cwt.

It is hoped to hold the next meeting at Cranleigh in May.

DEATH OF MRS. W. D. SMITH.A LADY WELL KNOWN TO OLD LONDON RINGERS.

Ringers, particularly among the older generation in London, will regret to learn of the bereavement suffered by Mr. William D. Smith, of Polegate, Sussex, and formerly an active member of the College Youths, by the death of his wife, who passed away on Wednesday week at the Whitechapel Bell Foundry, at the age of 74 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith had been staying since just before Christmas with their son-in-law and daughter (Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hughes) at Whitechapel, where their son and his wife, who were over from Australia on a holiday, were also on a visit. Within a few days after their arrival, Mrs. Smith was confined to bed with plebitis, but was apparently getting better. Last Wednesday week, however, she had an unexpected relapse, under which she succumbed.

The funeral took place at Ilford on Saturday.

In the days when Mr. and Mrs. Smith resided at Hackney many ringers enjoyed their hospitality, and the sympathy of a large circle of friends will go out to Mr. Smith and his family in their bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. Smith celebrated their golden wedding nearly four years ago, and it is interesting to note that the deceased lady was a great-niece of Sir William Cubitt, who built the present Houses of Parliament.

SUDDEN DEATH IN THE BELFRY.COLLAPSE WHILE RINGING WEDDING BELLS.

There was a tragic occurrence in the belfry at St. Helen's Church, Abingdon, on Thursday evening, January 15th. Mr. Thomas Short was ringing the eighth when he collapsed and fell backwards dead.

Mr. Short's first peal was rung in 1884 (the treble to Grandire Triples at Drayton, Berks, conducted by the late J. W. Washbrook), and in the same tower in 1888 he took part in three peals in one day, viz., 5,056 Cambridge Surprise, 5,088 Superlative Surprise, and 5,184 Double Norwich, and during the same year he also rang in the first peal of Cambridge on St. Helen's bells, Abingdon, and the first in the same method rung in Oxfordshire, at Dorchester Abbey. Another notable peal was one of Stedman Triples at Merton College, Oxford.

He did little ringing for ten or more years before the war, but after this he again took it up, and rang quite a number of peals with his old friend, the late Mr. H. Holifield, their last together being in 1923, when Mr. Short rang the bell which he was ringing at his death.

Since then he had done little ringing, but on this occasion he was filling a gap. There had been a wedding in the afternoon, and as the company were short-handed, Mr. Short rang in the afternoon and again in the evening, and the bells had been going about half an hour when he collapsed.

The deceased, who was 67 years of age, leaves a widow.

The funeral took place on Tuesday week, and in the evening, as a last mark of respect, a muffled quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung at Abingdon Church by F. Barrett 1, T. Juggins 2, Mrs. A. E. Lock 3, J. Honey 4, A. E. Lock 5, H. Humfrey 6, G. Caudwell (conductor) 7, J. Geering 8.

'COPYRIGHT' IN COUNCIL PUBLICATIONS

It is now about five years since the Central Council's 'Collection of Doubles and Minor Methods' went out of print. A revision of the work was completed long ago by the Methods Committee and, after various delays, the Exercise was promised the publication of the book as the result of the meeting in London last Whitsun. Now, however, there is further delay, due to disagreement between the Honorary Secretary of the Council, who is almost as if another Council meeting may come and go before the question at issue can be settled. In view of this further apparently inevitable delay the Committee have issued a statement explaining their position. Briefly, it is this: The Honorary Secretary wants the names of the officials of the Council printed on the cover of the book; the Committee insist that their own names, as authors, and no others, shall appear. To the outsider it seems to be a small point to quibble about and one which ought not to be allowed to hold up the publication of a work that is long overdue. There is, however, more behind the disagreement than the bare facts indicate. The Committee take their stand on the question of 'copyright,' and decline to be interfered with in regard to what shall be printed on the cover. The Secretary's attitude is based on a desire to make all the publications of the Council uniform in their style and in other recently revised books the officers' names have appeared on the covers and the names of the responsible Committee in each case on the title page.

There can be no question that established custom is on the side of the Committee. It was usual in the earlier Council publications, and it is customary in the case of books in general, to find the author or authors' names on the cover, and we think that in the case of the revised edition of the Minor Collection the men who have done the work are entitled to whatever distinction attaches to the appearance of their names on the outside of the book. Neither is it particularly clear why the names of the officials of the Council, who change from time to time, need take precedence over those of the individuals who have given their time and labour to the task. The question of the Committee's claim to the 'copyright,' however, does involve a serious matter of principle. It may be that, in the absence of a definite assignment of title, the Committee can claim a legal copyright in the book, but we feel quite sure that up to this moment the Council, as a corporate body, have looked upon all their publications as being in their sole right, the Committees who have done the work being in the position of agents appointed for the specific purpose. The Committee are not even in quite the same position as an author, who, having written a text book on his own initiative, offers his work to the Council for the benefit of the Exercise. The Methods Committee were definitely requested to revise an existing work. They may have added to it, but they have gone to the Council from time to time for confirmation of certain of their actions, and the Council have got to meet whatever financial responsibility is involved. Many members of the Council will, therefore, be surprised to learn that they have no rights in the book which they are issuing and that the Committee can, as it were, hold a pistol to their heads and say in effect, 'Unless we have our own way you shall not publish this book.' If the Committee are legally right it will be as well if the Council, before embarking on publications in future, made their position secure by obtaining the assignment of the copyright. In the meantime it is a great pity that so useful and badly-wanted a publication as the Minor Methods Collection should be held up for what, to most people, will appear to be a matter of no great consequence.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

MEETING OF CENTRAL DIVISION AT LINDFIELD.

The meeting of the Central Division at Lindfield on Saturday, January 24th, should be recorded as very successful from the point of view of numbers present, methods rung, and from a social standpoint. Nearly fifty attended. A special service was held in church, the Vicar (Rev. S. Swan) officiating and delivering the address. A collection taken on behalf of the Benevolent Fund amounted to 15s. 6d.

Those present then adjourned to the Tiger, where an excellent tea had been provided by the kindness of the Vicar and Lady Bagot, who were there to welcome the members on their arrival.

At the conclusion of tea, and before Lady Bagot left the room, the Master (Mr. J. T. Rickman) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to her and to the Vicar for their generous hospitality, and this was acknowledged in an excellent speech by Lady Bagot.

The usual business meeting followed, mostly of a routine nature, the Vicar presiding, supported by the Master.—Frederick Roy Langford (Seaford) and Alfred Morris (Lewes) were elected members. The election of Mr. F. W. Burnett (Portsmouth) and Mr. J. O. Weller (Westerham, Kent) as non-resident members was confirmed.

At the close of the meeting the Vicar, who is an 'Old Blue,' gave an interesting account of his historic row from Dover to Calais in 3 hrs. 50 mins.—a record for pair-oared craft which has not been broken.

The company returned to the tower, where ringing was again resumed till eight o'clock, the methods brought round ranging from Grandsire to Cambridge, Bristol and London Surprise Major.

Mention should be made of the valuable support of the local members, to whose endeavours much of the success of the meeting was due. The towers represented were Brighton (St. Peter's, St. Nicholas' and The Good Shepherd), Balcombe, Bolney, Coleman's Hatch, Crawley, Cuckfield, East Grinstead, Heene, Lindfield, Lower Beeding, Seaford, Shoreham, Lewes (Southover), Tunner's Hill.

'In Memory of
who died November 13th, 1763,
aged 21 years.

Long was my Pain, Great was my Grief,
Surgeons I'd many, but no relief.
I trust through Christ to rise with the Just.
My Leg and Thigh was hurried fast.'

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.
BRISTOL BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Bristol Branch was held on Saturday at St. Stephen's, City, and despite the unfavourable weather a good number of ringers and friends were present. Ringing commenced shortly after 3 p.m., and some of the members had their first pull on ten bells, rounds and 'Queen's' being mainly the order. The usual service was conducted by the Rev. S. R. Worters, of Brislington, who stepped into the breach at very short notice, owing to the indisposition of the Rector (the Rev. W. G. H. Thomas). The organist and choir boys were in attendance. Tea was afterwards excellently served by the ladies at St. Thomas' Parish Hall. The Master of the association (Rev. E. S. Saleby) was present, and afterwards presided over the business meeting.

The annual report and balance sheet showed an increase of performing members, and was passed by the meeting as satisfactory. Places for four quarterly meetings during the year were selected as follows: March, St. James', Bristol; June, Abbots Leigh; September, Westbury-on-Trym and Henbury combined; December, Brislington. St. Luke's, Badminton, was chosen for the next monthly meeting.

All the officers were re-elected, and votes of thanks were accorded the Rev. S. R. Worters for taking the service, to the organist and choir boys, and to the ladies for waiting at tea.

SOCIETY FOR THE ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD.

A meeting was held at All Saints' Church, West Bromwich, on Saturday, Jan. 24th, with a fairly good attendance. The bells were raised soon after three o'clock, and touches in various methods were brought round. A short service was held in church, which was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. P. Harill, with the Rev. C. H. Barker at the organ. A capital tea was laid in the schoolroom.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar for his helpful and inspiring address, use of bells, etc., and to the ladies who attended to the wants of those at the tea tables, was moved by the Rev. C. H. Barker and carried with applause.

In response, the Vicar said how pleased he was to welcome the members, and expressed the hope that they would come again in the near future. Handbells were brought into use, and Messrs. J. Jaggard and J. Screen delighted the audience with a well-worn but ever welcome tune, followed by touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and a course of Grandsire Caters.

The next meeting is provisionally fixed to take place at St. Paul's, Burton-on-Trent, on April 18th.

BELL SOLD TO PAY WATER CHARGES.WHY GATESHEAD HAS A LIGHT PEAL.

The Eastern District of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association had a very enjoyable meeting at Gateshead-on-Pyne on Saturday, January 17th. About twenty members attended from Newcastle, South Shields, Sunderland, Houghton-le-Spring, Chester-le-Street, etc., and after some excellent touches of Grandsire, Stedman, Kent Treble Bob Major, Cambridge Surprise, etc., during the afternoon, the party adjourned to the Anchorage, an old schoolroom near the church, for tea.

Mr. Wm. Story, of Newcastle, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector and churchwardens for the use of the bells, and said it was always a pleasure to come to Gateshead, as the association were always made welcome.—Canon Stephenson, in responding, told a humorous story which had been dug out of the old records of the church. It appears that in the olden days the water supply for the parish was got from the little village of Heworth, and on one occasion the churchwardens of Gateshead were hard up and unable to meet the water bill. To settle the matter they gave Heworth one of their bells, and it is hanging in the tower of that church to this day. The churchwardens were left with seven bells, a very awkward number for ringing, and to get over this further difficulty they had the bells recast into eight, which accounted for the comparatively light weight of the peal now in the tower.

Thanks were accorded, on the motion of the president (Mr. E. E. Ferry) to the ladies for providing such an excellent tea, and it was decided, on the suggestion of the chairman, Mr. R. L. Patterson, Sunderland, to write Mr. F. Robson, West Hartlepool, the secretary for the district, expressing sympathy with him in his illness.

Messrs. Barber, Davidson, Anderson and Parker rang a touch of Bob Major on handbells, and some tune ringing by Messrs. Barber and Davidson with four bells each was loudly applauded.

The tower was then revisited, and the bells kept going until after eight o'clock.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Jarrow on March 7th.

A GOOD RECORD.

At Shouldham, Norfolk, on Sunday, December 28th, for morning service, 720 Bob Minor in 26 mins.: W. Stewart 1, A. V. Bowen 2, G. Placco 3, A. Kirchen 4, B. Malby 5, E. Barker (conductor) 6. Also 360 Oxford Bob by the same band for morning service on Christmas Day. This band, with the addition of K. Porter, G. Rudd, and Miss E. H. J. Price, have rung for every service on Sundays throughout the whole year, which is a record for the village. All the ringers are residents in the parish.

WELL-KNOWN LADY RINGER MARRIED.CEREMONY AT ISHAM

A wedding of considerable interest to ringers in all districts took place at St. Peter's Church, Isham, on Saturday, January 17th, the bride being Miss Cecil E. Hepburn, niece and adopted daughter of Mr. Walter T. Wilson, the treasurer of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild. She was one of the pioneers of lady ringers in Northamptonshire, and was the first secretary of the Northamptonshire District of the Ladies' Guild. Miss Hepburn has taken part in many peals in various belfries, and is life member of several other societies. The bride rang her first peal at the age of 14, and conducted from the tenor the ladies' peal at Isham in 1923. The bridegroom was Mr. R. Geoffrey Sandifer, who is a member of the East Haddon belfry. Owing to the serious illness of Mr. Walter T. Wilson, the wedding was of a very quiet nature, and the reception already arranged for had to be cancelled at the last moment. The church had been beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers, and the officiating clergyman was the Rev. E. J. Atkins, R.D. Many well-known ringers were present, including Mr. Fred Wilford, Master of the Peterborough Guild, Miss Thursfield, secretary of the Ladies' Guild, and Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Richardson, of Surfleet. As the bridal party left the church, to walk through an archway of copies of the newspapers, 'Kettering Leader' and 'Evening Telegraph,' with which the bride has been associated during the whole of her business career, the bells were 'fired' and rung by the following lady ringers, all of whom are friends of the bride: Miss D. M. Atkins, Miss Mary Randall and Miss Dorothy Lewis (of Isham), Miss Kittie Moore (Weekley), Miss S. Thursfield (Cranford) and Mrs. Norman (Rothwell). No peal had been arranged owing to Mr. Wilson's illness.

Many messages of congratulations and good wishes were received from ringers from all parts of the country. Mr. and Mrs. Sandifer received many beautiful and valuable presents, including a breakfast service from the Isham belfry and a gift from the Rothwell members of the Ladies' Guild.

A THRIVING HUNTS BAND.

At the Parish Church of All Saints, Hartford, Hunts, on Sunday, January 25th, 720's of Bob Minor were rung by the regular Sunday service ringers at both morning and evening services: C. Pannell 1, E. Pannell 2, H. Lindford 3, J. M. Pannell 4, J. Smart 5, R. Hibberd 6. The band, which has been learning method ringing since March, 1930, under Mr. J. Smart, is now in a thriving condition, five new ringers having joined in the new year.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mansfield Ginn, of Over, Cambs, who is 18 years of age and the son of Mr. A. J. Ginn, captain of Over ringers, took part in more than one hundred 720's in the year 1930, nearly 80 of which were rung for church services.

The vacant space on the fine peal board at Norbury (Hazel Grove), Cheshire, is soon to be filled up. The peal of London Surprise, for which space was left, has been rung, and is the eighth Surprise method of which a peal has been rung on the bells since August, 1926.

The peal of London on Saturday was the first in which Mr. Harry Langley has taken part since his serious illness two years ago, and the band were delighted to have him back again in apparently complete health.

One hundred and thirty years ago to-day the Society of London Youths rang a peal of Grandsire Triples at Whitechapel. It was 'composed and called' by John Reeves.

The first Surprise peal in the Metropolis was a 5,600 Superlative rung at Bethnal Green on February 9th, 1850.

One hundred and ten years ago next Thursday a peal of 14,016 Kent Treble Bob Major was rung at Oldham in 7 hrs. 26 mins.

The peal of Bob Major at Crayford, reported in last week's issue, was rung on Friday, January 16th, not Saturday, the 17th.

In Parliamentary language, the reply to an inquiry made by the Helmingham ringers is in the affirmative. The first peal of Kent Surprise Major was called by Mr. George Dent, of Harlow, very shortly after the publication of the method.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

Will secretaries please note that subscriptions on the revised scale became due on January 1st last, and should be sent to the honorary secretary, 165, Rushey Green, Catford, S.E.6. Honorary members are also invited to subscribe towards the funds.

LOCAL ARRANGEMENTS.

The local committee of the Lancashire Association (with Mr. C. I. Davies as hon. secretary), who are making preparations for the Council's visit to Liverpool at Whitsun, have been able to arrange for headquarters at the Stork Hotel, where special terms will be granted to members.

The Lord Mayor has granted the use of the Town Hall for the meeting on Tuesday, May 26th, and although he may be on holiday himself he will, if absent from the city, arrange for an official welcome to the Council by the Deputy Lord Mayor.

The Council's visit to Liverpool promises to be an interesting and memorable one.

THE COLLECTION OF MINOR METHODS. COMMITTEE EXPLAIN FURTHER DELAY.

To the Editor.

Sir,—We shall be glad if you will publish the following statement. Last Whitsuntide, at its meeting at Lambeth, the Central Council approved the publication of 'Doubles and Minor Methods' and voted a sufficient sum to defray the cost.

The MSS. were accordingly sent to the printer. The book has been in type for some months, and the final correction of proofs made. The Council is committed to an expenditure of over £70, a substantial part of which, we believe, has been paid on account. After the book was already in print, the hon. secretary informed us that instructions had been given by him that the names of the executive officers of the Council were to appear on the cover instead of those of the authors, as had always been done before, and announced just before leaving for South Africa that, unless his instructions were carried out, he would not pass the account.

To this demand we objected on the following grounds among others:—

(1) It is a departure from the thirty-five years' old custom of the Council and is entirely unauthorised.

(2) It is a breach of the tacit agreement between us and the Council, under which we gave our time and labour but surrendered no rights in our property.

(3) It is an infringement of our legal copyright. This, indeed, is the root of the matter.

The Council has never made any claim to the ownership of copyright of books produced by its members and published by it, and we feel bound to resist on behalf of others as well as ourselves this unprecedented demand of the hon. secretary that we should surrender our rights.

We greatly regret the disappointment caused to members of the Exercise who have been anxiously awaiting the issue of the book, but at the same time we have no alternative to withholding publication until this untenable claim to ownership of copyright (implied and expressed) be definitely withdrawn.

THE BELLS OF NORBURY, CHESHIRE

A CELEBRATED TOWER.

'Norbury (Hazel Grove), Cheshire,' is a place known, at any rate by name, to a large number of ringers, for it was here that the possibilities of method splicing were first so completely demonstrated. Prior to 1925, many six-bell peals were rung culminating in the peal of 35 methods rung in December, 1923. Soon after that a great scheme of church restoration was embarked upon, including the recasting of four of the six bells and the addition of four new ones, the two oldest of the six, which came originally from Disley Church and bear the date 1617, being preserved in the church. Since then the Norbury ringers have done much to justify the possession of an octave, and last Saturday saw the culmination of their aspirations in the ringing of a peal of London Surprise Major, the eighth Surprise method in which a peal on the new bells has been rung.

ST. PETER'S CHURCH, NORBURY, CHESHIRE.

The two ancient bells which have now gone into honoured retirement were cast by Henry Oldfield, of Nottingham, and hung in Disley Church. These two, with three others, were at a later date brought to Norbury, when Disley got a new ring of six, and Norbury's bells were also made into a peal of six. They were rehung by William Greenleaf, of Hereford, about the year 1900, and it was in 1925 that the present peal came from the Loughborough Foundry. The old and new inscriptions are as follows:—

Treble.—(Peter Lee, Esq., 1750.) Recast 1925, as the Gift of the Nonconformists of Hazel Grove.

'Behold how good and joyful a thing it is,
Brethren to dwell together in unity.'

Weight 3 cwt. 2 qr. 7 lb.

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY.

WAS STEDMAN A CAMBRIDGE GRADUATE?

To the Editor.

Sir,—While we are thinking of the tricentenary of Fabian Stedman, there is one factor in his little known history that it would prove interesting to explore. 'Tintinnalogia' stands by itself as a book on ringing, and bears many marks that suggest the academical rather than the tradesman.

His residence in Cambridge, coupled with our lack of knowledge of his activities, seems to hint at the possibility that he may have been connected with one of the colleges. Is it too much to hope that some resident member of the Cambridge University Guild will make a search of University records on the off chance of discovering that he may have been at least a graduate of Cambridge?—Yours truly,

E. S. POWELL.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

HARROW WEALD BELLS TO BE AUGMENTED.

The annual meeting of the North and East District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild, which was held at St. Giles-in-the-Fields on Saturday last, was noticeable for the enthusiasm displayed by the large number of members present. The Rector (Rev. A. H. Lloyd), who is an hon. member, gave the association a cordial welcome to that ancient and historic church, and treated his hearers to an illuminating address. Some 75 members and friends sat down to an excellent tea, at the close of which Mr. W. Pickworth (vice-president) thanked the Rector and Mrs. Lloyd, the Rev. L. C. and Mrs. Loveless, Mr. R. E. Geare (churchwardens), and several others for the splendid welcome given to the association that afternoon, and for a tea worth much more than the small sum charged for it. The Rector, in a witty speech, replied, and it is certain that it will not be long before his invitation to come again will be accepted.

After some handbell ringing by Messrs. Trollope, Cross, Thomas and the brothers Pye, the usual business meeting was held. Mr. W. Pickworth (vice-president) took the chair, being supported by Messrs. A. W. Coles (District Master), W. H. Oram (hon. treasurer), G. R. Goodship (assistant hon. secretary), W. Pye (Association Master), and C. T. Coles (hon. secretary). Amongst the many welcome 'visitors' present were Messrs. W. H. Hollier and J. A. Trollope, hon. secretary and vice-president of the South and West District. A letter from the president, the Rev. W. P. Cole-Sheane, regretting his inability to attend, was read by the hon. secretary.

After the minutes had been passed, the members present stood in silence for a few moments as a mark of respect to the late Mr. Wilby J. Hazell, of Edmonton, who had been a member for about 23 years, and to the late Mrs. Smith, wife of Mr. W. D. Smith, a most respected member since the association was formed.

The balance sheet, which showed a credit balance on the year's working as well as a sum of £5 paid to the Isleworth bell augmentation fund, was adopted, and it was noted that the assets of the district amount to the sum of £99 14s. 11d.

Twenty-eight new members were elected, including the Rev. L. C. Loveless (St. Giles-in-the-Fields) as an hon. member.

The whole of the officers were re-elected, and a vacancy on the Central Committee, which arose during the year, was filled by the election of Mr. H. Kilby (Willesden).

All Saints', Edmonton, was chosen for the next annual meeting, and St. Mark's, Dalston, for the next district meeting for March 7th.

The hon. secretary drew the attention of members to the appeal made for the erection of a memorial to the late Mr. F. A. Milne, one of the founders and late president of the association. A sum of about £15 was needed to carry out the scheme to place a mural tablet in Barnet Parish Church, and members were urged to support this.

Mr. W. H. Oram (hon. treasurer), on behalf of the committee, moved that a donation of £5 be given to the Harrow Weald band towards the cost of adding two bells to the existing six. It was intended to rehang the present peal, and the local ringers had undertaken to raise the sum of £100 for two new bells, and it was towards this that the sum voted was to be placed.—Mr. G. B. Lucas seconded, and the proposal was carried unanimously.—Mr. G. R. Goodship thanked the members for their generosity.

Votes of thanks were unanimously accorded the Rev. A. H. Lloyd (St. Giles') and the Rev. W. Pennington Bickford (St. Clement Danes) for the use of the bells at those churches, and to many others for valuable help rendered.

Ringing in a great variety of methods, ranging from Grandsire Triples to Spliced Surprise Major, and Stedman Caters to Cambridge Royal, besides rounds for several learners present, took place at the two churches named above during the afternoon and evening, and it was estimated that upwards of 80 members took part.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

Now suppose one of my readers sits down and, taking the hint I have given him, writes out some of these peals. The chances are that he will get a peal which has never before been written out. Whose peal will that be? He has got the key of the composition from Mr. Lindoff. If he does not know how to bob his 'Q sets,' so as to add the other courses, he can find out from articles I have written from time to time in the ringing papers. According to recognised standards, he could call the peal his own, but, surely, he has done nothing except follow instructions given him by other people. Shall we, then, say that all these compositions are Mr. Lindoff's, since his peal contains the key of them all? I am afraid that that will not quite do.

I turn to 'The Clavis' and I find there a peal of Bob Major. Except that it is a three-part and has the sixty course-ends, it is apparently as unlike Mr. Lindoff's as any peal could well be. We look for the key of it, and we find it in the following set of bobs:—

Not very much like the key of the Double Norwich, you may say at first sight, but if you look closer you will see that, allowing for the differences of the bob making in the two methods, one is the almost exact equivalent of the other. They both have the effect of joining together an even number of full and short courses, and they are able to do so for the same reason. Both make peals with the sixty course-ends possible.

Now I do not suppose for one minute that Mr. Lindoff copied his peal from Reeves. Nor, if he had, would he have been doing anything other than competent composers continually do. But I do think it quite possible that a man having found the key of Reeves' peal might have thought something like it was possible in Double Norwich. And once he started to look for it he could hardly miss it. Anyhow, we do know of these keys in Bob Major and Double Norwich, and we will ask: Are there any equivalents in any of the other groups of Plain Methods? What of Double Bob, for instance? We turn to the tables of lead-ends in 'Major Methods' and we do not need to search very long. Here it is:—

To this we can easily add the other fifty-four courses by bobbing 'Q sets.' We can do as John Reeves did and try and make our peal as near 5,000 as possible; or we can do as Mr. Lindoff did and try and make our peal as long as is possible. This has not yet been done, so I will leave off writing this article and work it out:—

The curious may settle, if they can, how far this is an original peal and who the author is, if there be one. Meanwhile, we have a good instance of how compositions, apparently quite dissimilar, are really related to each other.

DEATH OF THE VICAR OF BRAY.

Ringers in the Oxford Diocese have lost a good friend by the death of the Rev. W. S. Riddelsdale, M.A., Vicar of Bray and chairman of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, who died at the Vicarage on Saturday. Mr. Riddelsdale was taken ill on Thursday, January 22nd, after conducting the funeral of an old inhabitant.

The Rev. W. S. Riddelsdale had for some years presided at the various meetings of the branch, and one could not but be impressed by his sound advice and sincere sympathy in various matters which arose for discussion. His services in the branch will be greatly missed, and the sympathy of the members goes out to those who are left in bereavement.

THE RULES OF TRUTH.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—When you say it would not be a very big step from having to recognise a peal of 5,160 Bob Minor, in which two courses had been added in the middle of one of the 720's, to the recognition of the attempted long peal at Painswick, you are comparing two incommensurable things.

If a peal, or, indeed, any change ringing, is attempted, and in the course of it any change, or changes, are repeated, that ringing is false. It is not recorded, not because of any rules, but because it is false. Nothing that the Central Council, or any other body could do, could ever make it anything else. It does not matter a bit whether the Painswick ringers are affiliated to the Central Council, or to any other body, they cannot make their 17,665 true, if any changes are repeated. If they were to attempt to record it as a peal, they would cease to be change ringers. They might call the ringing glorified call changes, but they could not call it true changes, because they obviously are not true.

Now there are other attempts which fail, not because they are in themselves wrong, but because conventions or rules have been made to shut them out. Thus an attempt at a long peal may break down after 5,000 changes have been rung, but it cannot be recorded as a peal, although it may have been quite true as far as it went, and may have included the necessary number of changes. This is a mere convention, which has been handed down to us. The Central Council could change this if it seemed good to do so, though it is not likely to, nor is any other body of change ringers.

In the case of five and six bells, there is a further convention. Because the extent does not run to 5,000 changes, repetitions are allowed. The way in which these repetitions are made is subject to rules, arbitrarily made. We may agree with these rules, or disagree, and want them altered. But we cannot say that it is impossible to alter them. In short, there is no inflexible truth in a 5,040 of Double or Minor. There cannot be, as the extent of true changes is not great enough.

It is not a fair argument for either side, in the proposals still before us, to say that the other side are lowering the standard of ringing, or that if one takes a step in one direction, one is therefore bound, or even likely, to take a step in quite another direction.

One may say that in Minor, each 720 must be true and complete in itself, and must be completed before beginning another. This is quite a good argument, but it bears with it the implication that it would be a step in advance, if a few rounds were rung between each 720.

Others may say that two or more 720's may well be intertwined. We may not like this, but there is no real argument in saying that it is a retrograde suggestion, especially as it is in that way that progress is now being made, e.g., in splicing methods. Nor is it right to assume that those who adopt this position may not also hold the opinion that no 'peal' of Minor should exceed 5,040 changes.

Arguments should be used for what they are worth, neither more nor less.

HERBERT DRAKE.

DEATH OF AN OLD BOLSTERSTONE RINGER.

The death occurred on Tuesday, January 20th, of Mr. Jas. T. Shaw, of Deepcar, who passed away at the age of 66 years.

Mr. Shaw had not been well for some time, and had not worked, but the end came very suddenly and unexpectedly. He was one of the original band who learnt to ring at Bolsterstone, under the tuition of the late Mr. David Brearley, when the bells were hung in 1892. He was a safe ringer and a good striker, and had rung about twenty peals for the Yorkshire Association. For several years, however, he had not rung, as the climb up to Bolsterstone, which is a thousand feet above sea level, was too much for him.

He was buried on Saturday, January 24th, when the local ringers, together with Mr. Samuel Harrison, of Conisborough, and Mr. W. A. Wooler, of Wortley, rang the tower bells, deeply muffled, as the funeral procession came up the hill and again as they went to the graveside for the committal service.

DEATH OF MRS. PRINCE, OF GRESFORD.

At the advanced age of 96 years, Mrs. Prince, of Gresford, mother of Mr. Arthur Prince, of Bath, passed away on January 22nd. On the previous Monday evening she was taking a walk when she unfortunately slipped and broke her right thigh.

The interment took place at Gresford Parish Church on Monday week, the service being conducted, in the absence of the Vicar (Ven. Archdeacon J. E. Williams), by the Rev. J. H. Barker-Owen, Rector of Isy-Coed, a very close friend.

Mrs. Prince was well known to many ringing visitors to Gresford, where her husband, who died in 1923 at the age of 90, was at one time a member of the band, and where, also, Mr. Arthur Prince commenced his ringing career.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.LEATHERHEAD DISTRICT.

The Leatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild held their annual meeting on Saturday at Leatherhead, there being an attendance of about thirty, who in the afternoon and evening participated in ringing at the Parish Church, the methods ranging from Grandsire Triples to London and Bristol Surprise Major and Cambridge Surprise Royal. The Vicar, the Rev. G. H. B. Coleridge, conducted the Guild's service, and subsequently presided over the tea and meeting held at the Institute. He was supported by the Master of the Guild (Major J. H. B. Hesse), the general secretary (Mr. J. S. Goldsmith), the District Ringing Master (Mr. A. Harman), the district hon. secretary (Mr. A. H. Smith), Mr. C. H. Kippen (hon. secretary of the Surrey Association), Mr. D. Cooper (hon. secretary of the North-Western District of the Surrey Association) Mr. D. Wright (Croydon), and members of the Guild from Ashted, Banstead, Cobham, Dorking, Epsom, Guildford, Leatherhead and Newdigate and visitors from Croydon and Benhillton.

The balance sheet showed that the subscriptions from members amounted to £26 13s., and the balance in hand had been increased from 8s. 9d. to £2 3s. This was considered most satisfactory, and was adopted, as was also the officers' report, which stated that 61 ringing and four hon. members paid subscriptions. Although ringing in the district had not entirely reached the standard hoped for, yet in some towers steady progress had been made. The bells at Christ Church, Epsom, had been restored during the year, but nothing had yet been done to Chapel bells, which were out of commission. The reorganised scheme of combined practices had been carried out with varying success, and the officers appealed to the members for better support in this direction. They would like to see more members visiting other towers than their own.

Four new members were elected, and the election of four others in a tower confirmed.

The District Ringing Master and hon. secretary were re-elected. There were four nominations for two places on the executive committee, but two candidates having withdrawn, Messrs. G. Marriner and W. Newberry were returned unopposed. The Rev. G. H. B. Coleridge was re-elected as an hon. members' representative.

Although the general secretary intimated that he desired to resign at the next annual meeting of the Guild, all the retiring general officers were re-nominated.

Christ Church, Epsom, Newdigate, and Banstead were chosen for district meetings during the year, with a joint meeting with the Surrey Association at Ramore on July 25th, and the annual meeting of the district at Leatherhead in January, 1932. It was decided to provide an instructor for Dorking tower, the arrangements being left to the district committee.

The business concluded with a vote of thanks to the district officers (including Mr. Alan Pink, whose removal from the district caused him to resign the secretaryship in the course of the year), and to the Vicar and the Leatherhead ringers, particularly Mr. Arthur Dean, for their assistance in making the meeting a success. The members then returned to the belfry.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.SOUTHERN BRANCH ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild (Southern Branch) was held at Folkingham on Saturday, January 24th, when a very good attendance was made, ringers being present from Surfleet, Spalding, Peterborough, Bourne, Grantham, Nottingham, Whittlesey, Market Deeping, Edenham, Morton, Rippingale, Hough, and the local band. The Rector (the Rev. F. V. Heath) kindly allowed the use of bells during the afternoon and evening, and a good variety of Minor methods were successfully brought round, ranging from Plain Bob to London Surprise. It was also pleasing to see a number of young ringers scoring their first touch in different methods, and also those ringing rounds for the first time.

Service was held in the fine old church, which is of the Perpendicular period. The Rev. H. Law James (Master of the Guild) officiated in the unavoidable absence of the Rector.

The tea and business meeting were held at the Greyhound Hotel, an historical old coaching inn, which was a favourite midway calling place for coaches bound from Peterborough to Lincoln. A most sumptuous tea was provided, 27 sitting down.

At the business meeting the Rev. H. Law James presided, and the usual routine was transacted. There were no changes made in the officers for the ensuing year. Messrs. T. Kew, W. Exton and G. Beever, of Rippingale, were elected as performing members; Mr. J. Gibbard, jun., of Rippingale, and Miss F. Humphrey, of Folkingham, were accepted as probationers of the Southern Branch.

It was decided to hold the April meeting at Edenham, when it is hoped that the work being done by Messrs. Taylor and Co. will have been completed at this tower by the adding of two new trebles, and so making a peal of eight.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector for the use of bells, to the Rev. H. Law James for conducting the service, and to all who had made the necessary arrangements for a successful meeting. The tower was then again visited and ringing continued until 9 p.m.

POLICE RINGERS.A NATIONAL GUILD FORMED.

Thanks to the initiative of Inspector W. Bottrill, of the Metropolitan Force, and the able co-operation of Detective-Constable Poole, of Leicester, a raid was made on the latter city on Saturday, January 24th, by police ringers from various parts of the country, including splendid musters from London and Manchester.

A company of nearly forty adjourned to the Police Recreation Rooms on arrival, owing to the Cathedral bells not being available during the morning. Whilst some refreshed the inner man, others endeavoured to emulate the prowess of Lindrum at billiards and Davis at snooker, with varying degrees of efficiency. Inspector Bottrill made use of the occasion to call an impromptu meeting to discuss the possibility of forming a National Guild of Police Ringers. The idea was received with enthusiasm and adopted forthwith. Inspector Bottrill was unanimously elected the first president, and Detective-Constable Harold Poole secretary and treasurer.

The President said he hoped the formation of the Guild would be the means of bringing all police ringers throughout the country in contact and lead to the arrangement of many successful social and ringing gatherings. It would probably also add to the interest taken in ringing by heads of forces, who would, perhaps, be induced to join the Guild as hon. members, and by their interest do all they could to facilitate the bringing together of members of the forces who became members.

In the afternoon the bells of St. John-the-Divine and St. Margaret's Churches were available for ringing, and full use was made of these splendid peals of ten and twelve respectively, even to the extent of trying 'Cambridge Maximus.'

Tea was taken at the Co-operative Society's cafe, and the company then again adjourned to the Recreation Rooms, where a hearty welcome was extended to the visitors by the chief constable of Leicester City, Mr. Oswald J. B. Cole, who was formerly chief constable of Worcester, and who had lived under the shadow of Worcester Cathedral, and therefore appreciated a good peal of bells. He promised to use his influence with the Dean of Worcester should a band of police ringers ever aspire to attempt a peal on those famous bells.

Thanks were accorded to the chief constable for his kindness in attending, to Sergt. Jenney, of Leicester City, and Detective-Constable Poole for local arrangements, and to ringers who assisted in providing an entertainment of handbell music, which was greatly appreciated by all.

Everyone voted the day a most successful one, and returned home full of confidence as to the success of the newly-formed Guild, which received an excellent start in membership.

All police ringers are cordially invited to become members of the Guild, and will be duly enrolled on forwarding the first annual subscription of 1s. to the secretary at 326, Netherborough Road, Leicester. He will also be pleased to welcome hon. members, whose annual subscription has been fixed at 2s. 6d.

OLD SUFFOLK RINGER'S DEATH.

The death of Mr. Joseph Last has removed from the parish of Grundisburgh, Suffolk, another of 'the boys of the Old Brigade.' His association with the ringers was of long standing, and being both a splendid conductor and a patient instructor, he will be greatly missed.

At about the age of 18, he joined the company of ringers, and very quickly repaid the labours of his tutors. In company with Mr. Frederick Clarke, who is the only survivor of the old band, he used to walk many miles to various churches for a pull, and many were the nights he came home with feelings of satisfaction and victory over a new peal which had been scored. From the time when the village bells were in an unringable condition he joined the Hasketon company and was a most regular member, and many young men, including the writer, did he put on the right road to the science of ringing. Ill-health during the past two years compelled him to curtail his activities as a campanologist, and he passed away on January 9th, at the age of 75 years. The funeral took place on January 12th, and sympathy was shown to the widow and family by the many friends who followed him to his resting place. In the evening eight members of the Suffolk Guild rang a half-muffled peal as a last token of respect and to his memory.

A PEAL WITHDRAWN.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—My attention has been drawn to the number of changes in the peal rung at Alburgh, Norfolk, on March 29th last, said to contain 5,104 changes of Double Norwich, and composed and conducted by me. I regret that only 4,992 changes were rung on this occasion; how the error was made is not clear to me, since a 5,104 can be obtained from this composition in several ways without much variation in the calling, and at the time, and since Friday last, I was convinced that the peal conformed to the usually accepted standards of our art. In withdrawing this peal, I have to thank the band for the sporting way in which my apology has been accepted.—Yours faithfully,

NOLAN GOLDEN.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

By kind permission of the Rector, a successful combined practice was held at the picturesque little village of Chenies (near Chalfont Road station), on Saturday, by members of the Misbourne Valley towers in the East Berks and South Bucks Branch. Eighteen ringers attended from Chalfont St. Peter, Amersham, Chalfont St. Giles, Fulmer, Hillingdon and Iver Heath. The appearance of Chenies church inside and out is quite in keeping with the trim little village. The sweet-toned peal of six bells by Mears are in first-class ringing order, and were kept busy until 8.45, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Plain Bob and Oxford Bob Minor, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles being rung.

The ringers were warmly welcomed by the local band, who said they had enjoyed listening to the method ringing, and extended an invitation to the visitors to come again when possible.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The annual general meeting of the Northern District of the London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild was held at the Church of St. John of Jerusalem, South Hackney, on Saturday, January 24th. Ringing commenced at 4.15 p.m., and continued until 5.30 p.m., when an adjournment was made to St. Andrew's Hall, Wells Street, where a substantial tea was soon disposed of.

At the business meeting which followed, Mr. J. A. Waugh, of Woodford, was elected Master and Mr. J. G. A. Prior, of St. George-in-the-East, secretary for the ensuing year. Mr. P. D. Roberts was elected treasurer, Mr. A. E. Reeve re-elected steward, and Messrs. E. D. Smith and W. Hewson committee members.

Votes of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, and to the steeplekeeper for having everything in readiness, concluded the business, and a return was then made to the tower for further ringing.

DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN DARLINGTON RINGER.

The death occurred at Darlington, on Sunday, January 25th, of Mr. William D. Lister, who was a ringer at St. John's Church for 42 years. He joined the Durham and Newcastle Association in 1885, and was also a member of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association. He rang regularly for service and practice from 1885 to 1927, when he was compelled to retire owing to failing health. He always retained great interest in ringing generally, and particularly in the progress of the company and tower of which he was a member for so many years. He was not a great peal ringer, his number being about 22. He took part in a peal by railwaymen to celebrate the centenary of the Stockton and Darlington Railway in 1925 at Shildon, that being his last peal. Of a very genial disposition, he was greatly respected by a large number of ringers in Durham and Yorkshire, and by all who knew him.

The bells in the three Darlington towers were rung half-muffled for evening service on January 25th as a token of respect and esteem.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

VISIT TO CHURCH WITH TWO PEALS OF BELLS.

The January quarterly meeting of the Warwickshire Guild was held on Saturday, January 24th, at Rugby. There was a fairly good attendance of members from Allesley, Brinklow, Chilvers Coton, Husbands Bosworth, Leamington, Lillington, Stoke, Warwick and Willoughby, together with the local band, while two visitors from the Peterborough Diocesan Guild were welcomed.

Various methods were rung on the eight bells of St. Andrew's Church from three o'clock until 4.30. A service was then held in the choir of the church, conducted by the Archdeacon of Coventry (Rev. J. W. Hunkin), who is also Rector of Rugby, and who gave a splendid address.

Tea was then partaken of at the Corner House Cafe, and the business meeting followed. The Ringing Master (Mr. J. H. W. White) presided in the absence of the president. Apologies were received from the president (Rev. J. L. White), Rev. J. A. B. Davies and Rev. J. H. Dingley.

Brinklow was decided upon for the February meeting, and Bedworth for March.

The question as to whether there should be reports issued covering the two years 1929-30 was discussed, and, the secretary having reported the balance in hand and the estimated cost, it was decided to proceed with the printing of the reports.

Six new members were elected, three from Brinklow, one from Chilvers Coton, and two from Rugby.

It was announced that the annual meeting would be held at Birmingham on April 18th, Mr. James George promising to make arrangements for the use of the bells of Bishop Ryder's Church and St. Chad's Cathedral.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Rector, the organist and Mr. J. A. Fenton, who had made the necessary arrangements for the tea and meeting.

The members then returned to the church and ascended to the belfry in the old tower, where the five bells were rung for about half an hour before a return was made to the newer tower for ringing on eight bells, which continued until about eight o'clock. D. E. L.

YOUNG RINGER'S GREAT YEAR.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Please let me offer congratulations to Mr. James Bennett, jun., on his splendid record of 27 peals rung during 1930.

The record of his namesake, Ernest Bennett, of Norbury, Cheshire, is also worth mentioning. He also is 18 years of age, and his record for last year is 37 peals, 14 of which were Surprise Major peals in seven different methods: Bristol 2, Cambridge 4, New Cambridge 1, Superlative 3, Pudsey 2, Rutland 1, Yorkshire 1. He also rang Kent Treble Bob Royal 1, Stedman Caters 1, Double Norwich 4 (conducted two, one of which he also composed), Kent Treble Bob Major 2 (both conducted), Stedman Triples 3, Grandsire Triples 2, Minor in 1, 3, 4 and 7 methods 8 (conducted 3). On handbells: Bob Royal 1, Bob Major 2; total 37 (conducted 7). I may also mention that twelve peals were rung within eight days, and two ten-bell peals on the same day.

May both these young ringers and many other youngsters surpass their 1930 records during 1931.—Yours truly,

TOM WILDE.

BARNSELEY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

The annual meeting of the Barnsley and District Association was held at Barnsley. The service was conducted by Rev. Canon H. E. Hone (Rector of St. Mary's, Barnsley) in the absence of the Rev. H. R. H. Coney, Vicar of Felkirk, who had been appointed, but was called away at the last moment to visit a sick relative.

Tea was served in the Parish Room, followed by the business meeting, Canon Hone presiding.

The auditors, Messrs. P. Hawthorthwaite and M. Perry, presented their report of balance sheet, which showed a balance in hand on the year's work of £2 19s. 1d., and was considered most satisfactory.

The retiring officers were Mr. A. Nash (president), Mr. H. Chant (treasurer), and Mr. A. Panther (secretary), and the whole were re-elected for another year.

Mr. J. Major, of Felkirk, and Mr. C. Ryder, of Rotherham, were elected members.

Horbury was selected for the next place of meeting. Mr. A. Nash put before the members a suggestion that the quarterly meeting be a joint meeting of the local associations.—It was finally agreed that it be left over for the representatives of each tower to consult their members and report at next meeting.

A hearty vote of thanks was given to the Rector for his address and use of the bells, and also to Mrs. Hone and helpers for the splendid tea served. Ringing, which took place in the afternoon, was continued after the meeting.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

DEANERY CONTRIBUTIONS FOR INSTRUCTIONAL PURPOSES.

The annual meeting of the Castle Cary Deanery Branch of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association was held on Saturday, January 24th, at Castle Cary. Touches of Grandsire Triples were indulged in during the afternoon, and a choral service was held in the Parish Church, the Rev. Preb. Ross, of Claverton, Bath (former Vicar and president of the Cary Deanery) being the preacher. After referring to the great pleasure it gave him to again address the ringers of the Cary Deanery, he gave an interesting address on the use of church bells, and mentioned some other early methods of calling people to worship. Tea was then partaken of in the Schoolroom by about 45 members, after which the business meeting followed.

The Rev. R. Moline, of North Cadbury, was unanimously re-elected president, and Mr. E. F. Creed secretary, despite the fact that he wished to relinquish office owing to not having the time necessary to keep in close touch with the towers in the deanery.

To assist Mr. Creed, Mr. H. Sanger, of Evercreech, was appointed Ringing Master of the Deanery. Mr. E. F. Creed was also elected representative on the general committee.

Arising out of the minutes of the previous meeting, a letter was read from Mr. J. T. Dyke, hon. secretary of the association, explaining what portion of the deanery contribution can be used for instructional purposes. It was considered that the explanation given did not satisfactorily clear the matter up, and a representative committee was appointed to go into the subject and get a clearer ruling and to deal with other deanery matters. The committee elected was Mr. E. Creed (Castle Cary), Mr. H. Sanger (Evercreech), Mr. W. Tiley (Bruton), Mr. W. Osborn (North Cadbury), Mr. R. Look (Ditchat), Mr. Rainey (Marston Magna).

Hearty votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar, the Rev. R. Lupton, for the use of the bells and for asking the chair, to the Rev. Preb. Ross for his attendance and his address, to the choir and organist for their services, and to Mr. E. F. Creed for his untiring services in the past, and the ladies who so kindly waited upon the ringers at tea.

A return was afterwards made to the tower, where a busy and pleasant time was spent by members from Evercreech, Ditchat, Bruton, Babecary, Barton St. David, Henstridge, West Lydford, North Cadbury, Marston Magna, Yeovil and Castle Cary.

A SERVANT OF THE EXERCISE.

The death of the Rev. C. D. P. Davies removes from the Exercise one of its most outstanding figures and a charming personality. Few men have served the art of ringing as he has done, and none has brought to bear upon the science a greater intellect. Very much of the knowledge possessed by ringers of to-day is the result of his work, begun over fifty years ago. A scholar of Pembroke College, Oxford, his mathematical mind was early directed to the investigation of the construction of peals of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and for his labours in this direction alone the Exercise will remain permanently indebted to him. In those early days Mr. Davies was associated with investigators like Jasper Snowdon, Sir Arthur Heywood, the Rev. H. Earle Bulwer and that non-ringing but eminent campanological mathematician, Mr. W. H. Thompson. Before their time composition in both these methods had been to some extent haphazard. Men had obtained peals largely by trial and error; but these investigators reduced the subject to an exact science. By their work they were able to prove that certain natural laws operated in the production of peals, and thus they made the way far easier for those who have followed them, by laying down well defined paths which it is necessary to follow to reach certain desired ends. They eliminated, as it were, many of the 'blind alleys' into which composers used to stumble and grope in search of peals, and by the publication of the results of their labours they saved others that fruitless wandering in the wilderness which earlier lack of knowledge made almost inevitable.

But there are other directions in which Mr. Davies laid the Exercise under a debt to him. It was he who, after the death of Jasper Snowdon, completed the work which Snowdon began. He was the author of 'Stedman,' and only four years ago finished off the 'Snowdon Series' with a work on the Surprise methods, which had been continued by the late Mr. William Snowdon from the earlier writings and notes by his brother Jasper. Wherever, indeed, there was work to be done in the cause of ringing Mr. Davies was ready to shoulder a task, and not the least onerous of those he undertook was the office of hon. secretary of the Central Council, which he so ably filled for twenty years. But he did not despise the humbler duties. He had, at various times, filled a district secretaryship in the Winchester Guild, and been twice Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, of which he was one of the founders, while one of the first offices he filled was that of hon. secretary of the Oxford University Society.

No one man that we can recall has filled so many parts in the Exercise and filled them so successfully, and yet ringing was not his only pursuit. The claims of his clerical duties always, of course, came first, but, outside these, in addition to his interests in ringing, he was actively identified with the work of the Royal Astronomical Society, of which he was a Fellow, and was, indeed, one of the foremost members. His full and active life is now ended. We mourn his death; and the Exercise is honoured that a man of such talents and one prepared to give so generously of his time and ability has passed across the campanological stage and left behind him not only so much evidence of his service to the advancement of the art, but memories that will be cherished by all who knew him.

THE GIFT TO WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With regard to the splendid gift by Mr. H. Mason, of Hagley, to the Northern Branch of the Worcestershire and Districts Association of all the beautifully bound volumes of 'Bell News,' our librarian, Mr. C. W. Cooper, 34, Wheeler Street, Stourbridge, will be only too pleased to give any information required in the future that has been so readily given in the past by Mr. Mason. I hope the books will be in his possession directly after the annual meeting to be held at Worcester on Easter Monday.—Yours faithfully,

A. J. SKELDING.
Secretary, Northern Branch.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Luton District of the Bedfordshire Association was held at Dunstable on Saturday last, about 40 members and friends being present during the afternoon and evening from Bedford, Barton, Boughton Regis, Luton, Leighton, Linslade, Woburn, Harpenden, Hitchin, Husbome Crawley, and the local tower. A welcome visitor was Mr. W. H. Coles, of Taunton, Somerset.

The bells were kept going in many methods from London Surprise Major to Plain Bob. During a break, owing to a baptism taking place, a good course of Grandsire Cinques was rung on handbells.

Tea took place at the C.E.M.S. Rooms, and was followed by the usual business meeting, the chair being taken by the Rev. G. C. Rolfe (Rector), supported by the Rev. A. Rust, Miss Steel, Mr. C. Herbert, and Mr. A. King (vice-presidents).

Before the election of officers took place, the Rev. A. Rust proposed, in a moving speech, that a letter of sympathy be sent to Mrs. Baker with the expression of the great loss felt by the district at the passing of Canon W. W. C. Baker.

The officers were all re-elected. The Hon. Secretary pointed out that he had been secretary for eleven years, and thought someone else should be elected. However members would not hear of it.

Mr. W. H. Coles was elected an honorary life member of the association.

Long and interesting discussions on various matters took place, some of which may be heard of at a future date.

After the usual votes of thanks had been passed, the tower was again visited until 8 p.m. It was proposed to hold the next meeting at Tilsforth on March 8th.

BISHOP AND RINGERS.

On Sunday week, the Bishop of Guildford dedicated at Haslemere a portion of the Parish Church set aside for a 'Children's Corner' and a new oak belfry screen, presented by Sir Richard Garton, and embracing a new oak peal board, the last gift to the church before his death of the Rev. O. S. Walford, who in his early days was himself a ringer, and always took a keen interest in ringing at Haslemere, where he gave a good deal of instruction on handbells to young members of the band.

In the course of the dedication service a few rounds were rung on the ten bells. After the service, the Bishop visited the belfry, and had a word with all the ringers, saying how much he appreciated the work of ringers generally, and laying emphasis on the importance of service ringing and the ringing of all the bells for the purpose.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.DEVIZES BRANCH.

The monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Hilpert on Saturday, February 7th. The bells were raised about 3 p.m., and ringing in various methods was carried on. The Guild service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. R. S. B. Proby). The branch chairman read the lesson, and Mr. L. Watts presided at the organ.

Tea was very kindly provided by Major and Mrs. E. A. Mackay at Hilpert House, and here a party of 35 gathered around the tables, the following towers being represented: Devizes (St. John's and St. Mary's), Holt, Bradford-on-Avon, Seend, Rowde, Warminster, North Bradley, Bratton, Trowbridge, Melksham and Hilpert.

A short business meeting followed the tea, Mr. C. D. Heginbotham presiding. After extending a hearty welcome to all, the Chairman spoke of the sadness which had been felt throughout the branch by the very sudden death of the vice-chairman, Mr. B. L. Cook, of Bratton. As they all knew, Mr. Cook was a man of exceptionally fine character, a thorough churchman and a pillar of strength for the Devizes Branch and the Salisbury Guild.

Those present stood in silence for a few moments in honour to his memory, and the secretary was asked to send a letter of condolence and sympathy from the branch to the widow and family of the late Mr. Cook. Messages of sympathy were also received from the general secretary of the Salisbury Guild, the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards and Mr. C. H. Jennings, secretary of the Dorchester Branch.

Two new ringing members were elected, viz., Mr. J. Merritt, Urchfont, and Mr. G. Sandford, Seend. It was decided to hold the next monthly meeting at Kevil on March 7th, as West Lavington bells will not be available.

A letter was read from Mr. C. F. Andrews, Trowbridge, who suggested that a series of lectures should be given at the branch meetings on 'change ringing.' After some discussion, it was decided to give it a trial, and the secretary was instructed to arrange with Mr. Andrews, if possible, for the first lecture to be given at the midsummer meeting at Trowbridge.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Rector of Hilpert and to Major Mackay for so kindly entertaining the ringers. Both gentlemen replied, assuring the branch of a hearty welcome to Hilpert at all times.

Ringings, which was continued during the evening, included Cambridge Surprise, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, and Plain Bob Minor, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

During the year 1930 there was a large increase in the number of peals rung, compared with 1929, the total being 2,015, against 1,665.

Messrs. John Tayler and Co., of Loughborough, are to recast the bells for Eaton Socon Church, Bedfordshire, which was destroyed by fire last year. The remains of the old ring of six are to be made into a lighter peal of eight.

No fewer than sixteen towers were represented at a monthly combined practice at Horsham on Saturday. This shows something like enthusiasm.

A peal is to be attempted at Cornhill, London, to-morrow to commemorate the bi-centenary of a peal of Grandsire Cuiques rung at this famous church on February 14th, 1731. It was the longest that had been rung on twelve bells up to that time and occupied five hours and 19 minutes. 'B. Annable call'd bobs,' and was one of the three men who rang the tenor.

On February 16th, 1789, a peal of 14,224 Bob Major was rung by St. Martin's Youths at Aston.

Ten thousand of Oxford Treble Bob Royal was rung by the Cumberland Youths at Shoreditch on February 18th, 1777.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL'S PUBLICATIONS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I have little fault to find with your criticism of our statement on the Minor Method Collection, but perhaps you will allow me to stress one or two points so as to avoid misunderstanding.

1. The question of copyright amounts to this and no more, that the people who do the work for the Council are entitled to the credit for it.

2. We have no desire or intention to dispute any of the Council's rights in the book. The question has never risen before, because the respective rights of authors and Council have hitherto been scrupulously respected.

3. We desire that no change shall be made in the thirty-five-year-old custom, under which this and similar books are published. We want 'Minor Methods' to be uniform with 'Major Methods.'

4. The statement that 'the Council has got to meet whatever financial liability is incurred' is not quite correct, and likely to be misleading. The Council does not pay one penny towards the cost of the production of the book. All the expenditure involved in that, whether of time, brains or money, is met by the authors. For it they get no return whatever, except the credit of having done the work. The Council pays for the publication of the book (another matter). In return, it has the property of the printed books, and can recover its outlay, and, if it pleases, even make a profit by selling them.

5.—We should be quite willing to surrender the copyright to the Council if it is for the good of the Exercise. It is another thing, however, for our rights to be infringed by the unauthorised action of the Council's officials.—Yours truly,

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

'COPYRIGHT.'

Dear Sir,—I have always understood that the great essential for obtaining copyright, or for patenting, is proof of originality.

The various Method Committees, from time to time, have collected and issued in different books, touches, peals and methods by unknown, known, and living authors, in addition to what they have supplied themselves, and I should be glad to learn by what right the present Methods Committee can claim copyright of a book, containing such diversified material, which they as instruments of the Central Council have collected for publication.

One of the members of the present committee is constantly trying to make us believe that no one has any right, or property, in any touch, peal or method he may have composed, and yet this gentleman is one of the signatories to the letter from the Methods Committee which appeared in your last issue claiming copyright of books containing compositions of authors other than themselves!

On the part of this gentleman in particular, it appears to be another flagrant case of 'don't do as I do, but do as I tell you'!—Yours faithfully,

GEORGE BAKER.

Joyce and Co., Ltd., the well-known church, turret and house clock manufacturers, of Whitechurch, Shropshire, have received instructions to make a new Westminster chime clock for the tower of Ludlow Church, Salop, and also another for Banstead Church, Surrey. They have also a large striking clock with four dials in hand for Brixham Church, Devon, and recently completed a Westminster chime clock with four dials for Whitslabe Parish Church.

They have just shipped a Westminster chime clock with four dials to Brakpan Town Hall, South Africa, a four-dial striking clock for Dar-es-Salaam, a chiming clock for Drifontein, Southern Rhodesia, and two four-dial striking clocks for the Canadian Government.

DEATH OF THE REV. C. D. P. DAVIES.SCHOLAR, INVESTIGATOR AND AUTHOR.

We deeply regret to record the death of the Rev. Charles D. P. Davies, M.A., of Kemerton, Tewkesbury, who passed away at a Cheltenham Nursing Home on Thursday of last week at the age of 74 years. He had never been really well since he underwent an operation about three years ago, and his death followed a second operation performed on Saturday week.

By the death of the Rev. C. D. P. Davies the Exercise has sustained a great loss. His services to ringing can never be fully gauged, and by his work as an investigator and author, as well as by his labours as hon. secretary of the Central Council for twenty years, he has laid the Exercise under a perpetual obligation to him.

REV. C. D. P. DAVIES.

The Rev. C. D. P. Davies' ringing career began early. His father, Canon C. G. Davies, was Vicar of Tewkesbury, and here he first learned to ring a bell. The Abbey company found progress very slow, but they got on to Grandsire Doubles and Triples. On going to Oxford University, Mr. Davies joined the then new-formed University Society, of which he became hon. secretary and afterwards Master, being succeeded in the latter office by his life-long friend, Canon G. F. Coleridge. At that time there were in residence, in addition to Mr. Davies and Mr. Coleridge (as they then were), H. A. Cockey, W. G. Willett and J. F. Hastings, and all later entered the Church and became prominent in the Exercise. Mr. Davies was ordained in 1880 at Lichfield Cathedral to the curacy of Whitechurch, Salop, where he worked up the local company to ring Stedman Triples. Afterwards, while at Chaceley, in Worcestershire, he completed and published his work on Grandsire, which was afterwards incorporated in Snowdon's standard work on this method. After filling curacies at Redmarley, Worcestershire, and Whiteshill, Gloucestershire, he went to Ringmer, Sussex, where at a church with eight bells he was again able to coach a band, who, before he left, could ring Stedman Triples. It was at Ringmer Church that Mr. Davies was married.

His appointment to the living of East Marden, a village among the Sussex Downs, once more took him to a church without a ring of bells, but his activities in the interests of the Exercise were increased by his being elected, in 1901, hon. secretary and treasurer of the Central Council, on the death of the Rev. H. Earle Bulwer. He discharged the duties of this important office for twenty years with great ability and courtesy, and on his retirement in 1921 he was presented by the Council with a 'loving cup' as a small token of their appreciation of his long services.

In 1902 Mr. Davies took the living of Frotherne, Gloucestershire, where he remained for many years, during which time he became Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, of which he was one of the founders. He was in office when the association celebrated its 25th year, and it was a happy thought which again led to his election to the office in the association's jubilee year in 1928. After a long residence at Frotherne, Mr. Davies occupied for a few years the living of Deane, near Andover, and on his retirement he returned to his native Tewkesbury.

While incumbent of the fine old Abbey, Mr. Davies' father initiated a great restoration scheme, which, however, he did not live to see finished, but it is interesting to note that the son was one of the preachers at the jubilee celebration of the completion of the work.

Mr. Davies had rung a great many peals on eight and ten bells, including the 13,054 Stedman Caters at Cheltenham, but what his exact total was it is impossible to say, as he kept no record. His great contribution to ringing, however, has been his researches into the mathematical problems involved in the science, and he was the author of a great deal of valuable material upon which much modern knowledge has been built up. After the death of Jasper Snowdon he collaborated in completing the work which the former had begun. His researches into Grandsire Triples are incorporated in Snowdon's book on that method, his work on Stedman is an even more prodigious study. Mr. Davies undertook the authorship of the 'Stedman' of the Snowdon series, and he completed it with that precise attention to detail which characterises all his writing. 'Stedman,' with the historical details compiled by Jasper Snowdon, and an important and valuable appendix by Sir Arthur Heywood, Rev. H. Earle Bulwer and Mr. W. H. Thompson, is one of the greatest text books ever printed on a ringing subject. Subsequently, Mr. Davies completed for the Snowdon series the book on Surprise methods. He also wrote various pamphlets which he published himself, including one entitled 'Odds and Ends of Grandsire Triples.' He was a frequent contributor to the Ringing Press, having himself edited the ringing columns of 'Church Bells' for some four or five years. Among his contributions to 'The Ringing World' was a valuable article elaborating proof that Middleton's peal of Cambridge is the only possible one in the method with tenors together, while it was only three weeks ago that he penned a short letter giving his support to our suggested scheme for celebrating Stedman's Tercentenary.

Little need be said here about Mr. Davies' abilities as a composer. His productions will stand for all time; some of them, indeed, are classics.

To the very end Mr. Davies, although for some time he had been debilitated by physical infirmity from taking active part in ringing, retained his keen interest in the art, and by his passing the Exercise has lost not only an able and loyal servant, but one of the greatest figures that has ever adorned its ranks.

Of his interests in astronomy, which was an equally absorbing study to him, we have no need here to speak, except to say that Mr. Davies was one of the most honoured Fellows of the Royal Astronomical Society.

The funeral took place at Tewkesbury on Monday, and during this week bells at many places throughout the country have been rung in muffled to the memory of the deceased.

SUGGESTED MEMORIAL TO REV. H. B. WOOLLEY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As some know of the augmentation of Over (Cambs) church bells to the octave, it occurred to me one might be put up in memory of the late Rev. H. B. Woolley, first Vicar and Rector of the united benefices of Longstunton, who died two years ago, and to whom we as ringers have not as yet put up a memorial.

A proposal was made to erect a tablet of the muffled peal rung to mark the respect shown to him, but, unfortunately, this proposal did not meet with the approval of the Church Council at All Saints', Longstunton, of which I was then secretary.

Mr. Woolley was untiring in his efforts in the cause of ringers, and he it was who helped the Over band from 'stone' to method ringing. At the meeting held at Chatteris the ringers present supported the idea. I would like, firstly, to ask the Cambridge University Guild for a lead, and I am sure we ringers of England, for the Rev. H. B. Woolley was known in every county, would soon follow.

—Yours truly,

FRANK WARRINGTON.

LEICESTER RINGING SOCIETIES.

ENJOYABLE GATHERING OF THE CLANS.

Emulating the example set by Bristol, the Leicester ringing societies have in the last two years successfully combined to establish an annual dinner, and their efforts have resulted in bringing together the ringers of Leicester and neighbouring towers in an evening of happy social enjoyment. Last Saturday a company of about eighty sat down to dinner at the Victoria Hotel, after having, during the afternoon, enjoyed ringing at the various towers in the city. The chair was taken by Mr. A. J. Harris, who was supported by the Bishop of Leicester (Dr. Bardsley), the Revs. R. C. Johnson (St. Saviour's), H. Hurst (St. Margaret's), H. V. Williams (St. John-the-Divine), and D. E. K. Llewellyn (St. Peter's, Belgrave), Mr. W. Willson and Mr. William Miller, 'father' of the Leicester ringers, who is eighty-two years of age, and has been a ringer at St. Mary's for about sixty years. Among the visitors were Mr. J. Oldham, Mr. C. Harrison and Mr. D. Collins (Loughborough), Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Goldsmith (Woking), Mr. A. Coppock and Miss I. Thompson (Nottingham), Mr. R. F. Deal (London), Mr. E. C. Gobey (Ilkeston) and Mr. S. Proctor (Grantham), and ringers from the following Leicestershire towers: Cathedral, St. Margaret's, St. John-the-Divine and St. Saviour's, Leicester; Belgrave, Anstey, Cossington, Thrusington, Husbands Bosworth, Croft, Peckleton, Melton Mowbray, Belledon, Earl Shilton and Waltham. The excellent arrangements had been carried out by a committee consisting of the chairman and Messrs. W. Willson, F. H. Dexter, J. Grant and W. H. Clarke, with Mr. A. Disney, who ably discharged the secretarial duties.

After an admirably served meal, the loyal toast was submitted from the chair, and the National Anthem sung.

THE STRENGTH OF THE CHURCH.

Mr. W. Willson proposed the toast of 'The Church of England' in a characteristically outspoken speech. Look where they would, he said, in countries where there was no national church they found religion at a low ebb and the morale of the people in the same category. He trusted the time would never come when, in this country, the Church was separated from the State. There were 'wreckers' in the Church of England, let them make no mistake about that, and it behoved all who loved the Church to constitute themselves stalwarts and sentinels. There were those in the Church who talked of reunion. Reunion with those who agreed with them—yes; but with those who would make the Church of England the vassal of another nation—ten thousand times 'no' (hear, hear). A religion that called for the abdication of your reason bordered upon the superstitious, and superstition in the twentieth century was a very poor substitute for sincerity. He thanked God that they had at the head of their diocese a 'white man' (applause). Their Bishop was a strong man, who would be stronger still for their support. He was not afraid to say, 'So far and no further' (hear, hear). Let them give him their support. Mr. Willson added that he was glad that both inside the Church and outside of it there were organisations doing Christ's own work. He referred to the Church Army and the Salvation Army, for whose efforts he had warm praise.

The Bishop of Leicester, in responding to the toast, thanked Mr. Willson for his kind reference to himself, and also for the other words he had uttered. When a man spoke like that, they knew that he cared for the Church, and that he loved the Church. Such men were the strength of the Church (applause). The Bishop touched briefly upon what the nation owed to the Church, not only in regard to religion, but in art and in education through the centuries, and in all she had done in raising the standard of life, both moral and spiritual, among the people. Times changed, and the Church's ministry must change in some respects, although he sometimes thought it was possibly changing a little too fast. The strength of the Church to-day lay very largely in the faithful, humble, devoted men, the clergy, who in their own parishes were serving God and mankind with wonderful sacrifice. Knowing what he did about the Church and about the clergy, he honoured and respected his brethren, the clergy (applause). There were others whom he honoured and respected, and they were the wives of the clergy (applause). The men and women who were the strength of the Church to-day were the men and women who in parish after parish took some share in the life and work of the Church, who were faithful to it and gave their best to the Church, and who could be relied upon to give it. There were a number of such men in that room that night (applause). He thanked the ringers for what they were doing. The days were fast receding when, after ringing for service, the ringers retired elsewhere than to the nave of the church. More and more those whose ministry was in the belfry practised it in their lives, and one of the great influences for good in this direction had been their association. The association did good in many ways. It was good for comradeship; it was doing much to promote all that was best in their craft—and it was a great and noble craft. As loyal churchmen, he knew they all loved the old Church, and if ever the time came when they had to defend the Church, they would be ready to defend it with all their strength (applause).

INTERESTING FACTS FROM HISTORY.

The Chairman submitted the toast of 'The Leicester Societies of Ringers,' and passed in review many interesting historical facts in connection with ringing in Leicestershire from the time when, in 1616, six gentlemen went to Loughborough to ring the bells of the Parish Church, and rang changes 'greatly to the satisfaction of the townsfolk.' Moreover, the local ringers 'did ring them on their coming and on their departure,' and the churchwardens expended ten shillings on their entertainment. As in those days, said Mr. Harris, a sheep could be bought for sixpence, they had 9s. 6d. left, and he left it to his hearers to imagine what was done with the rest of the money (laughter). The chairman went on to refer to the visit which Fabian Stedman paid to Leicester in 1669, in which year the Leicester Scholars' Society was founded, and added that Mr. Willson had possession of the old record books of that period and down to the formation of the Midland Counties Association in 1882. About 1776 Squire Fortrey, of Norton-cum-Galby, gave two bells to St. Margaret's Church, Leicester, to make them into a peal of ten, and a friendly rivalry existed between the Leicester and Nottingham ringers, of whom Wm. Doubleday Crofts was the leader. Squire Fortrey offered a set of cup handbells to whichever of the two bands should first ring a peal of 10,000 or over, and the Leicester Scholars agreed to start for the peal every Monday morning. Four times they rang eight thousand, and once they rang nine thousand, on which occasion the peal was lost because the third man missed the sally. They had to remember that in those days the bells were rung without stays, so that if a man missed the sally the bell went right over. On February 25th, 1777, the Leicester Scholars made an attempt in the morning, and rang five thousand changes, and broke down. They started again in the afternoon of the same day, and completed a peal of 10,080 Grandsire Caters in 7 hrs. 12 mins. The next day a collection was made for the ringers, and amounted to £33, which was a considerable sum in those days. Squire Fortrey gave them the peal of handbells, and these were still in the possession of Mr. Joseph Needham. There were originally 20 of them, but some got cracked or broken, and Mr. Needham had had them put into good order. In 1778 the Nottingham men rang their peal, which was 10,260 (about 200 changes longer than the Leicester peal), and Squire Fortrey gave them also a set of handbells, which were still in existence to-day. The Chairman went on to refer to other events in connection with Leicester ringing during the last century, and spoke of the founding of the Goscoe Society, of which Mr. P. Hardy, who was present that night, had been secretary for over 30 years, and of the Midland Counties Association, which was formed in Leicester in 1882. He alluded to the many great performances which had been achieved since that time. The seed which Stedman planted in 1669, he said, had flourished and grown into a magnificent tree. Ringing in and around Leicester had gone forward ever since, and, looking round, he could say they need have no fear for the future (applause).

A TRAINING GROUND FOR SERGEANT-MAJORS.

Mr. H. Jenny replied to the toast in a humorous speech. His connection with ringing in Leicester, he said, extended over about twenty years. It had been a very pleasant association, for there was amongst the ringers a spirit of comradeship that one rarely found among other bodies of men. But that, he added, only applied outside the belfry (laughter). Inside the belfry it was, he always thought, a wonderful training ground for regimental sergeant-majors (laughter). It had been a pleasure to him to be associated in Leicester with some of the men who had contributed largely to the making of history, and whose names would be written on the pages of peal ringing for all time. There were two or three who had passed beyond—the late Mr. George Cleal, Mr. Charles Fowler and Mr. Bultery. There were some famous ringers still with them, in Mr. Colton, Mr. Wm. Willson, Mr. Fred Dexter, Mr. Ernest Morris, and, last but not least, Mr. Harold Poole, all of whom had done a great deal towards the success of ringing in Leicester and the surrounding districts. He had thought of including himself among the list (laughter), because on a recent occasion when they had in Leicester a gathering of police ringers, and he induced the chief constable to welcome them, he (the chief constable) said he had two expert ringers in his force, Detective-Constable Poole and Sergt. Jenny. He was just beginning to think about the next size in hats (laughter) when he remembered that, after ringing something or other, something went wrong, and one of the regimental sergeant-majors came across to him and said, 'Call yourself a ringer? We can buy ringers like you at ten a penny' (loud laughter). A gathering like that, concluded Mr. Jenny, showed that the Leicester ringing societies were alive, and while they had among them such men as those he had mentioned they would continue to thrive and enjoy evenings such as that.

The toast of 'The Visitors' was proposed by Mr. Hardy and acknowledged by Mr. E. C. Gobey.

A welcome was extended to the Editor of 'The Ringing World,' whose health was proposed by Mr. W. Willson and duly acknowledged; and Mr. H. Jenny thanked the members of the organising committee for their work and the artists who had contributed to the programme.

A feature of the evening was the very enjoyable musical entertainment. Earl Shilton ringers, who have recently given performances in front of the microphone, played a number of popular tunes in fine style. The quartettes and duets of the St. John-the-Divine Male Voice Quartette were greatly appreciated, as were the songs (Continued in next column.)

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION. THE ANNUAL MEETING.

The historic city of Wakefield woke with a knowledge that a strange visitation was being paid to it by the Yorkshire Association on Saturday, January 31st, when members gathered for their annual general meeting. The day's proceedings commenced with the audit, and it was with heartfelt thanks to the other general officials that the president found his way thither. Early in the afternoon the fine ring of twelve bells at the Cathedral were set going to various methods.

Mention is made of bells at the Cathedral of Wakefield as early as 1470. There have been at least four different rings of bells here. A church record speaks of Pack and Chapman replacing in 1778 a peal placed in the tower in 1739 by a peal of eight bells, which latter were replaced in 1817 by the present back ten, these being rebung in 1892, and two trebles added at that time to make up the present ring of twelve, tenor 51 cwt. in C. As one hears the splendid back ten, which are the product of the famous Whitechapel Foundry, the thought is aroused as to how the product of modern foundries will stand such a test of time.

The bellry has many famous records, the most interesting probably being the one in 1822 relating to the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal ever rung, to the dismay of ringers who, some eighty years afterwards, claimed that distinction for their own performance.

There are evidences of a Saxon church and a Norman church having stood on the site of the present Cathedral, which building dates back to the early 15th century and is full of interest to the antiquarian. The commanding tower, with its splendid crocketed spire, is a landmark for miles around.

Divine service was held in the Cathedral, to the sharp ringing accompaniment of a pianoforte, the organ being undergoing repairs. In the unavoidable absence of the Vicar of Wakefield (Rev. Canon Macleod), a most helpful and encouraging sermon was preached by the Rev. Canon J. Young, the Vicar of East Ardsley (himself a ringer), from 3 Colossians 23.

A bountiful tea was served in the Wakefield Co-operative Cafe, at which some eighty members foregathered. The business meeting was held in the Cathedral Boys' School with the president (Rev. C. C. Marshall) in the chair, supported by the principal officers of the association.

The report of the committee was passed on the motion of Mr. H. Lofthouse, seconded by Mr. F. Newsholme. The balance sheet, which showed a gain of £14 13s. 8d. for the year, was adopted on the proposition of Mr. Reynier, seconded by Mr. H. Grimwood.

Mr. J. Cotterell was elected as hon. treasurer for the ensuing three years on the motion of Mr. J. Moxon, seconded by Mr. F. Salmon, and cordially thanked for his many services to the association during his twenty-four years of office.

Notice of motion was given by the president on behalf of the general committee for the decision of the next general meeting to make the two following alterations to rule 2: 'Delete the figures 1885 in line two, paragraph four, and substitute the figures 1895.' Add to paragraph two: 'New ringing members who so desire can compound their subscriptions and qualify for life membership, by a single payment of the sum of two pounds ten shillings, this to be paid in their first year of membership, and other ringing members may qualify for the same privilege by the payment of a similar sum in any one year.'

A cordial vote of thanks to the Vicar of Wakefield was moved by Mr. C. D. Potter, seconded by Mr. H. Grimwood, and a vote of thanks to the local band for their great efforts for the comfort of the visitors was replied to by Mr. A. Scott.

A special vote of thanks was accorded to the Cathedral organist and choir and carried.

An invitation to hold the May meeting at Arksey, near Doncaster, was duly accepted, after which thirteen new members were elected. A vote of thanks to the chairman, more ringing, and a snowy journey home, brought a most pleasant meeting to a close.

SURPRISE RINGING IN LONDON.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I hope you will not mind my correcting another of the statements in 'Bellry Gossip.' The first Surprise peal in the Metropolitan was not the 5,600 Superlative at Bethnal Green in 1850. Seven Surprise Minor Methods were rung at Whitechapel in 1737 by a mixed band of two Eastern Scholars, three London Youths, and one College Youth. I do not know if every one of the methods would now rank as Surprise, probably not. I am writing from memory, but I think the methods included Cambridge, London, Bristol, Chester and Rochester.

Reeves called two peals of Cambridge Surprise Major at St. Giles-in-the-Fields, but both were false.

by individual members of the party. Miss C. Elkington played violin solos very effectively, and Mrs. L. A. Hardy, A.V.C.M. (elder daughter of Mr. W. Willson, and herself a ringer), was the pianist. In addition, a touch of Stedman Caters was rung on handbells. Altogether, a very delightful evening was spent.

FAREWELL TO A 'PIONEER.'

DEPARTURE OF MR. WILLIAM HAIGH FROM GILLINGHAM.

For nearly fifty years Mr. William Haigh has been a bellringer at Gillingham Parish Church, Kent, the earlier period being in association with Mr. Gabriel Lindoff, and at that time many first peals in various methods and for the association were scored. The latter part of his service, however, has been spent in a long struggle to keep scientific change ringing alive in the district, and no pioneer ever worked against greater odds.

Mr. Haigh is now leaving the district to take up residence at Etchingham, Sussex, and on Sunday morning, Feb. 1st, after ringing had ceased, the Rochester Cathedral bellringers and other members of the Rochester District of the Kent County Association assembled by kind invitation of the Dean, Dr. Talbot, in his dining-room to bid farewell to Mr. Haigh, who has carried the banner of campanology for so many years in the district. A generous response to an appeal by the district secretary enabled a beautiful gold watch, suitably inscribed, to be the combined parting gift from the Dean and Chapter and bellringers of the Rochester District as a token of their appreciation of a life's work.

The presentation was made by the Dean, and in asking Mr. Haigh to accept the watch, he said that in no way did it represent any payment for his services, that being impossible. On behalf of himself and the Chapter, he thanked Mr. Haigh for his services, particularly in connection with the Cathedral, and, in wishing him good health and long life, said he was sure he was expressing the sentiments of the whole of his colleagues. The Dean recounted the fact that Mr. Haigh had been a ringer at Gillingham for 49 years, and during that time had held the office of leader at the Cathedral for 26 years. Other offices he held were nine years on the Central Council of Church Bellringers, and 38 years as district representative on the committee of the Kent County Association, an office which he relinquished only as recently as November last, when he realised his impending departure.

Mr. Haigh, replying, thanked the Dean for his kind words, and remarked on the many kindnesses shown by the Dean and Chapter during his association with the Cathedral. He also thanked the ringers, and assured them that he would always prize such a manifestation of their appreciation of his work among them.

THORNHAM RINGER'S DEATH. A NORFOLK ENTHUSIAST.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. George Cattermole, of Thornham Magna, Norfolk, who passed away at his home on January 24th, after some weeks' illness, at the age of 62 years.

George Cattermole was a peal ringer of real worth, and, further, he was a teacher of the art with as much enthusiasm. His first peal, which he himself conducted, was rung on December 16th, 1893, at Wickham Skeith, and was the first peal by all. His company went on to ring peals in 14 Minor methods in 1903, and, finally, on December 26th, 1912, a peal containing 14 Treble Bob extents was completed, George Cattermole ringing the tenor and calling the peal. In 1923, a peal of 10,080 in 14 Surprise methods was successfully accomplished at St. Mary's, Thornham Magna, at which church the previous 10,080 was also rung. His last peal was rung nearly two years ago. Altogether he had scored 154 for the Norwich Association and 15 for the Suffolk Guild.

The funeral took place on Wednesday, January 28th, when the Rev. the Hon. Victor Henniker, officiated, and four brother ringers (Messrs. A. J. Berry, H. Collins, A. Cattermole and H. Moss) bore the remains to their last resting place. It was found impossible to ring handbells over the grave, but immediately following the interment a 360 of Treble Bob was rung on the tower bells by: G. Kemp 1, A. J. Berry 2, H. Moss 3, D. Whiting 4, F. Hayward 5, and E. E. Poppy (conductor) 6. In the evening a representative company of Norwich Diocesan and Suffolk Guild ringers paid their humble tribute to George Cattermole's memory with a muffled peal on his beloved bells.

N. G.

THE NEW ZEALAND EARTHQUAKE.

The bells at Hensfield, Sussex, were rung half-muffled for the evening service in sympathy for the victims of the New Zealand earthquake disaster, and a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was brought round, in which two of the lads now being instructed by the veteran Mr. Charles Tyler made their first attempt for a quarter-peal in the method, and rang without a mistake: A. Crutenden 1, Eric Morey (first quarter-peal) 2, F. Parsons 3, William Morey (first quarter-peal) 4, A. E. Baker 5, W. J. Alliss 6, C. Tyler (conductor) 7, G. Payne 8.

Mr. G. E. Symonds, of Ipswich, writes that many ringers I sides himself will doubtless be grateful to know as early as possible whether Mr. J. S. Wilde is safe or in any way affected by the terrible catastrophe.

While we have no information on the subject, we think that Mr. Wilde may be considered safe, as his home is in Dunedin, in the South Island, and there have been, so far, no reports of any loss of life in that part of New Zealand.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.SOUTHERN DISTRICT'S SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

The annual general meeting of the Southern District of the Surrey Association was held at Reigate on Saturday, January 31st. The members met in the belfry of the Parish Church at 4 p.m., and the bells were rung until five o'clock, when a service was held in the church.

The Rev. R. Talbot, Vicar of Reigate, gave the address, and he was assisted in the service by the Rev. O. C. McD. Morgan. The Mayor of Reigate (Mr. Temple Newell) read the lesson, and Mr. H. Bashford presided at the organ.

Tea was provided at the Tudor Cafe, Bell Street, and the Rev. R. Talbot presided over the business meeting.

The treasurer, Mr. Maurice A. Northover, presented the annual report and balance sheet. The balance for the year ending December 31st, 1930, was £22 11s. 7d., an increase of £6 4s. 9d. on the previous year.

The Secretary reported that during the past year, 20 peals had been rung, and the membership numbered 111, including two hon. members. He also reported that the standard of ringing generally had improved throughout the district, although in one or two cases improvement was not so marked as the committee would have desired.

The following new members were elected: Reigate, Mr. Frank Linter; Godstone, Messrs. F. Hall, E. Lawrence, J. Hoare, and F. Bird; Burstow, Mr. A. Kenward; Leigh, Messrs. Eric Bright and George Winchester. The Mayor of Reigate and the Rev. R. Talbot were elected honorary members.

Mr. R. Thorpe was elected Master for the ensuing year, Mr. Maurice A. Northover treasurer, Mr. A. Bull secretary, and Mr. A. Gear auditor. Mr. L. Tidy, of Limpsfield Chart, Mr. E. Razzell, Horley, and Mr. F. Jeal, of Redhill, were elected on the committee.

It was resolved that the next annual general meeting be held at Horley. The following places were approved for the bi-monthly meetings for 1931: Charlwood, Leigh, Burstow, Limpsfield Chart and Redhill. It was resolved that the quarterly peal be rung at Bletchingley, Mr. G. Hoad to be the conductor.

Mr. B. Wells reported that during 1930 85 touches of 720 changes and eight quarter-peals were rung.

The meeting then closed with a vote of thanks to the Vicar, the Mayor of Reigate, Rev. O. C. McD. Morgan, Mr. Bashford and the churchwardens of Reigate Parish Church.

DEATH OF MR. B. L. COOK.LOSS TO A WILTSHIRE PARISH.

The parish of Bratton, Wilts, has sustained a severe loss in the sudden death, on January 30th, of Benjamin Lewis Cook, churchwarden of the parish. His was a character of great charm and originality. All his life he had been a devoted son of the Church. On his retirement from the police force nearly ten years ago, he returned to his native village, where he spent the last years of his life in loyal service to the Church. He was an enthusiastic bell-ringer, inspiring others with his enthusiasm, and was a prominent member of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild. No incumbent ever had a more faithful and zealous churchwarden, or a more loyal and sympathetic friend. For one whose only schooling had been at a little village school, he was remarkably well-informed, being a keen student of Church history, local history and archaeology. He died at the age of fifty-eight, in the full vigour of life, quite suddenly and unexpectedly, engaged in the work of clearing away the last of the autumn leaves in the churchyard of Bratton, near the church at whose altar he knelt Sunday by Sunday.

The interment took place at Bratton Church on Wednesday of last week. The Rev. S. Collett officiated, and the large gathering testified to the respect and esteem in which Mr. Cook was held. The remains were borne to their last resting place by eight members of the Wiltshire Constabulary. The service at the church was choral. The hymns, 'Brief life is here our portion' and 'Glory to Thee, my God this night' (Mr. Cook's favourite hymn) were sung. The Vicar, in addressing the congregation said: 'You would wish me, I know, to voice your feelings, and mine, too, in this our hour of sadness. Speaking first for myself, I can truly say that I have lost one of the most loyal and faithful friends I ever possessed, one whose friendship I shall look back upon as one of the inspirations of my life. And I know that all of you who were brought into close touch with him could see the fine lines of his character, his gracious courtesy, his absolute sincerity, his steadfast zeal, his strong and simple faith, his great love of God and his church. To know Ben Cook was to love him, and to feel that the world is indeed the poorer for his passing.'

The Salisbury Diocesan Guild were represented by Messrs. C. D. Heginbotham (branch chairman), Mr. F. Green (branch secretary), Messrs. S. Hillier and J. Francis (Ringing Masters), E. A. Perrett, E. F. White, G. H. Archard, W. C. West and Mrs. West, Messrs. J. H. White, W. Hart, etc. (all from various towers in the Devizes Branch), and the local ringers. The bells at Bratton were rung muffled after the service and again in the evening, and also at Devizes by the combined ringers of St. John's and St. Mary's.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.RECORD MEETING OF WINCHESTER DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Winchester District was held at Winchester. As it was on the day of the funeral of the Princess Royal, the Cathedral bells were rung half-muffled during the afternoon and evening, a touch of Grandsire Cinques just previous to the service being much admired. The service was held at St. Maurice's Church, by kind permission of the Rector (Rev. S. M. Watson), and a very striking address was given by the Rev. E. M. Thomas, curate of Romsey.

A record party assembled at Messrs. Dumpers, High Street, for tea, the towers represented including Bishop's Sutton, Hursley, King's Somborne, Lymington, Micheldever, North Stoneham, Overton, Petersfield, Romsey, Stockbridge, Titchfield, Twyford, Wonston, Wallop and Winchester. The business meeting followed, at which Mr. G. Williams, Master of the Guild, was voted to the chair. He was supported by Mr. W. H. Loveland. Apologies for absence were read from the Rev. Canon Braithwaite, Minor Canon Woods, and the Rev. S. M. Watson.

The Chairman extended a welcome to all present, and said he was particularly pleased to see so many young ringers.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. Cyril Smith, King's Somborne) read a brief report of year's working.—The report and accounts were adopted.

The secretary was directed to send a letter of sincere sympathy to Mrs. Briggs on the sad loss of her husband (the late Rev. A. E. Briggs, Vicar of Owlesbury). Several new members were elected, among them the Rev. G. M. Elliott and Miss Noice, hon. members, and ringers from Wallop, Twyford and Hursley.

All the officers were re-elected, with the exception of the hon. secretary, who wished to resign: The Rev. Canon Braithwaite, chairman; Mr. Wilfred Andrews, representative; Mr. George Smith, auditor; Mr. George Noice, 6, Cathedral View, Winchester, was elected hon. secretary.

On the proposition of Mr. Andrews, the next annual meeting will be held at Winchester, on January 2nd, 1932, and quarterly meetings at Fitchborne, Twyford, Stockbridge and King's Somborne.

A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Cyril Smith for his past services as hon. secretary for several years, also to the Dean and Chapter for the use of the Cathedral bells. The bells of St. Maurice's Church were not available owing to the tower being unsafe.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.LEWISHAM DISTRICT MEETING AT BROMLEY.

The quarterly meeting of the Lewisham District was held at SS. Peter and Paul's Church, Bromley, on Saturday, January 24th. The bells were kept going throughout the afternoon and evening to rounds for beginners and touches of Grandsire, Stedman, Treble Bob, Double Norwich and several Surprise methods for the initiated. The association form of service was conducted by the Vicar (Prebendary B. E. Relton), who gave an interesting address on 'Worship, what it is and what it stands for.'

After the service a substantial tea was provided in the Church Institute, some seventy members of the association being the guests of the churchwardens (Messrs. S. G. Beer and H. G. Dunn). Immediately following the tea, handbell ringing was much appreciated.

At the business meeting four honorary members and twelve practising members were elected, including the band at Cudham, where the bells were recently augmented to a peal of ten.

Mr. E. Barnett, jun., read a report of the proceedings of the association's committee meeting held at Tonbridge in November. This was adopted, with a vote of thanks to Mr. Barnett for a clear and concise report.

St. Mary Cray and Cudham were suggested as the place of next meeting, St. Mary Cray being chosen on being put to the vote.

Mr. Jeffries proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, for his address, and for presiding, to the organist (Mr. F. Fertel), to the churchwardens for their generous hospitality, and to the ladies for their help in making the gathering such a success. He congratulated Bromley on possessing a fine peal of bells.—The motion was carried with applause.—The Vicar responded, saying that he thought bellringers performed a very essential work in the church. Their own bellringers at Bromley had made a very considerable effort to raise funds towards the expenses incurred in re-hanging the bells, and had raised £37 18s., mostly in quite small sums. He was glad to know that the job had been carried out satisfactorily.—Mr. H. G. Dunn (churchwarden) expressed his pleasure at again meeting the members at Bromley.

This concluded the meeting, the company returning to the tower for further ringing.

JOINT MID-WEEK MEETING.

A very successful joint meeting of the Herts and Essex Associations was held at Ware on Wednesday of last week. Members were present from Edmonton, Enfield, Bishop's Stortford, Melbourn (Cambs), Harlow, Harlow Common, Benington, Hertford, Ware, Hunsdon, Widford and Little Munden.

The Vicar conducted the service, and in the course of a very appropriate address offered a hearty welcome to all assembled.

Methods were rung from Grandsire to Cambridge Major, and a very helpful and enjoyable time was spent.

GOOD WORK IN THE PEAK DISTRICT. MONTHLY MEETINGS 'WELL WORTH WHILE.'

The annual meeting of the Peak District of the Midland Counties Association was held at Bakewell on Saturday, January 24th, when members were present from Bakewell, Baslow, Darley Dale, Derby, Dore, Duffield, Eyam and Fairfield. The fine peal of eight bells (tenor about 18 cwt.) were kept going at intervals during the afternoon and evening in the various standard methods. A substantial tea was provided at the Wheatsheaf, and the annual business meeting was presided over by the Rev. W. P. Wright, of Eyam (vice-president), supported by Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey (hon. secretary), Mr. W. A. Wallace, Derby (general treasurer), and Messrs. A. G. Wallace (Bakewell) and Mr. C. Draper (Duffield), of the general committee.

The secretary gave a brief report on the work of the past year, which had generally been a year of progress. Eleven meetings had been held, with an average attendance of between 25 and 30, and the ringing at all of them showed an upward tendency. At all the meetings a cordial welcome had been received, and on several occasions a substantial tea had been provided gratis. At each meeting, too, one or more new members had been elected, so that the holding of these meetings each month had been well worth while. A hearty welcome was extended to the new members, and especially to the Fairfield tower, who had joined up en bloc. The secretary again referred to the enthusiasm and hard work of the Rev. W. P. Wright and Mr. A. G. Wallace, without whose support much less would have been accomplished. In regard to future policy, the Secretary, as last year, suggested that much could be done by interesting incumbents and Church Councils in the society, and instanced his own tower at Dore, where all subscriptions and a nomination fee are paid each year by the Church Council as a matter of course. It was again suggested that an eight or six-bell method should be selected for special attention at each meeting, Double Norwich being suggested for eight-bell towers and Cambridge Minor for six bells. In conclusion, the Secretary expressed his grateful thanks to all in the district who had shown him so much courtesy and kindness, and stated his belief that this year would see even better meetings. The glorious Peak district of Derbyshire, its beautiful historic churches, such as Hathersage and Tideswell, and two splendid peals of eight bells recently installed by Messrs. Taylor and Co. at Hope and Tideswell, should make it an ideal area for spring and summer meetings.

On the proposition of the Rev. W. P. Wright, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the secretary for his report and for his work during the year, to which Mr. Lewis Cockey suitably responded.

THE SUGGESTED INCREASE OF ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTION.

The Rev. W. P. Wright (Eyam), who expressed a strong wish to retire, had to be almost forcibly prevented, and was unanimously re-elected, the members deciding to grant him dispensation regarding meetings which he could not attend.—Mr. J. A. Lewis Cockey (Dore) was re-elected hon. district secretary, and Messrs. A. G. Wallace (Bakewell) and E. H. Holmes (Matlock) were re-elected members of committee.

The question of the possible raising of the subscription was discussed, and the position was explained to Members by Messrs. W. A. Wallace (Derby) and C. Draper (Duffield). It was decided to ask the secretary to represent the district and to vote at his discretion, which he agreed to do, but suggested that as many members as possible should attend the annual meeting at Derby and vote at the general meeting.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Darley Dale, probably on February 28th. It was mentioned by the secretary that a cordial invitation had been received from Mr. H. Newbury, of Hathersage, and that he would, as last year, provide tea for all members. The meeting gratefully accepted the invitation, and the hope was expressed that it might be possible to pay a visit a little later in the year, when the weather might be expected to aid in the enjoyment of this beautiful and historic place.

A hearty vote of thanks to all who had helped to organise a very joyful meeting closed the proceedings.

Harrison, sen. 2, George Lewis (conductor) 3, R. Harrison, jun., 4, Jas. A. Dixon 5, L. E. Last 6, Thos. E. Lee 7, Harry Hurst 8. THE 18 1/2 TON RINGING BELL, the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, New York, U.S.A.

THE DRAG ON THE WHEEL.

There is a good deal of truth in the statement made by the Hon. Secretary of the Guildford District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild on Saturday when he said: 'One usually finds that where the appointed head ringer has no ambition to make progress he usually takes good care that no one else shall beat him.' He was referring to the difficulty with which the Guild is confronted in getting certain towers to show any interest in ringing, either by joining the Guild, or participating in combined practices or meetings. Most ringing organisations find this same difficulty somewhere in their area, and there seems no way of overcoming it except by persistent effort; and even that is often unproductive. The obstacles which are presented to ringing associations in towers of this description are largely responsible for the big discrepancy between the return of the number of ringers shown in the Church Year Book at over 46,000 and the numbers who actually belong to the county and diocesan bodies.

Those who have had any experience in the organising of ringing associations have met the type of head ringer referred to. He either has not the inclination or the ability to get on himself; therefore he will not or cannot help others, and for fear of loss of prestige he sees to it that the rest of the band are not given any facilities to progress. The ringers in their turn, having no encouragement, are content to 'stick' where they are, but it is seldom that a band without ambition can long be kept together, and one result is that very often slackness creeps in and even Sunday service ringing is not efficiently maintained. The best remedy is the drastic one of asking the 'head ringer' to resign, but only the incumbent or the ringers themselves can do this, and it is seldom that either can be influenced to take action in this direction.

For those who are endeavouring to extend the work of ringing organisations the task of trying to 'rope in' such hands is well-nigh heartbreaking, and when in any such case they are successful they deserve all the congratulations that can be offered to them. Associations can do something by way of getting bells and belfries put into decent order by tactful approach through diocesan authorities, if direct representation fails, but there is little means open to them to combat the influence of the man who poses as a leader, but is in reality acting as a drag on the wheel of progress. The problem is not easy of solution—in that respect it is like some other of the difficulties which confront those who are anxious to further the continued expansion of the Exercise and the advancement of the art. You cannot make men attend meetings or join an association, and when they carefully stay away

DEVON GUILD.

SUCCESSFUL FIRST MEETING OF NEW BRANCH.

The newly-formed Aylesbeare Deanery Branch of the Devon Guild held its first meeting at Rockbeare on Saturday, February 14th. The numbers were most encouraging, some 45 ringers being present. The six bells were kept going during the afternoon and evening, and some good touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Bob Minor were rung, also some call changes with the local men.

The Vicar gave a most interesting address on his experience of bells in China, West Africa and elsewhere, and offered a very warm welcome to the Guild.

After service, a sumptuous tea was provided in the Village Hall, and the grateful thanks of the branch were expressed to Mrs. Hill and the other ladies who had made such comfortable arrangements.

At the business meeting, presided over by the Rev. E. A. Julian (chairman of the branch), the president paid tribute to the memory of the late treasurer of the Guild, Mr. John Stokes, and those present stood for a moment in silence.

Eight new members were elected, and the next meeting fixed for April 25th at East Budleigh. The meeting concluded with a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, the Rev. T. Caldwell, for his kind welcome and hospitality.

BRISTOL OPTIMISTS.UNITED GUILDS TO ISSUE REVISED DIRECTORY.

The annual meeting of the Bristol United Ringing Guilds took place at St. Thomas' Church Room on January 31st. Under a new rule, passed in 1930, out-district members at 1s. per annum are eligible to occupy the chair of the Guilds. Mr. J. T. Dyke, Mr. H. Knight and Mr. H. Babb were honoured as members by election upon the proposal of the chairman.

Mr. F. Skidmore was elected as pro-vice-chairman.

The balance sheet showed a profit of 2s. 10d. upon the year's work, but there was still nearly £6 due to the hon. treasurer for the previous year. The Guilds, however, have willing friends who easily raise from £4 to £5 at one effort, and so in this optimistic spirit it was agreed to send an official representative to the Birmingham, Yorkshire and College Youths dinners in future. Mr. J. A. Burford (conductor of St. Stephen's, Bristol) was appointed as representative for the Birmingham gathering. Mr. W. S. Emery was a very popular choice, but he withdrew his nomination. Regret was felt, however, that both could not be sent as representatives, as both are very popular with friends at Birmingham.

The 'staid' officials were re-elected. The Directory Committee gave an outline of the third edition, which is to be inaugurated this year, and readers of 'The Ringing World' should watch the columns for a notice to this effect in April or May.

Experienced church bellringers in various parts of England had been co-opted to help the Guilds in their third edition, and success was assured. The forthcoming edition would contain classifications as hitherto, and, in addition, an Empire section and topical touches for Sunday service ringing by a well-known author. Other attractive items would appear according to the support financially given, and it is assured that even if 300 pages are involved (if such support be given) this volume will be issued at the same subscription as before, viz., 1s. In any case a guarantee will be made of a volume not less than the second edition, and beyond that, entirely upon the support given.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the chairman invested the incoming chairman with the chain of office, Mr. P. C. Williams relinquishing his office to Mr. H. Burt. Mr. Williams, a chairman and hon. treasurer, has occupied a unique position by holding dual office, and, although realising the honour extended to him, appeared quite relieved to get back to 'normal life' (one office).

The Guilds have, at the end of their first decade, enjoyed a 'smiling year,' for which they had their smiling treasurer as chairman.

BELL ROPES MUFFLES, &c.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A new Guild, to operate within a twelve-mile radius of Hastings, has been started, with the object of stimulating further interest in change ringing in that part of Sussex. There is to be a meeting once a month, and the first is at Battle on Saturday week.

Mr. R. J. Dawe, well known in Sussex ringing circles, underwent an operation in the Victoria Hospital, Lewes, on Saturday, and is, we are glad to say, making satisfactory progress. His many friends will wish him a speedy recovery.

On an average two 720's a week were rung at Wickham, Hants, during 1930. In all the local band rang 105 extents, made up of College Single 34, Kent Treble Bob 32, Oxford Bob 22, Bob Minor 8, Double Oxford 5, Oxford Treble Bob 2, and Grandsire 2.

Death has removed a great lover of bells in the person of the Rev. Frank Roughton Wilson, who died on February 5th. He was formerly Vicar of Brixham, Devon, where he restored the bells.

The report of a handbell peal at Sible Hedingham has been sent without mention of the time.

The hoped-for attempt for a peal at St. Michael's, Cornhill, last Saturday, to celebrate the bi-centenary of the 7,018 Grandsire Cinques, had to be postponed.

London lost a peal of twelve bells when the ring at Christ Church, Spitalfields, was destroyed by fire on February 17th, 1836.

Oxford University Guild, of which the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies was one of the early presidents, was founded 59 years ago to-day.

A hundred and ten years ago to-morrow a peal of 14,016 Treble Bob Major was rung at Oldham in 7 hrs. 26 mins.

The first peal of Double Norwich Major rung on handbells was accomplished at Cambridge forty years ago next Monday. And the Rev. A. H. F. Boughey is still carrying on the good work among the undergraduates.

SOMERSET'S GLORY.

NOVELIST RECTOR'S PRAISE OF BELLS AND TOWERS.

At the annual dinner of the Society of Somerset Folk, held in Bristol, Canon J. O. Hannay, the novelist Rector of Wells, spoke of the glory of the bells of Somerset in the following beautiful phrases:—

'Of all the delights I have experienced since I came to Somerset, there is none which has given me so much keen and exquisite pleasure as the ringing of bells in the towers of our churches.

'I know of no sweeter sound on a summer's day than the bells.

'In winter time, when fumbling along lanes in the darkness, suddenly the air grows glad with the great ringing of these bells with their Christmas message coming through the winter night.

'Far off, in the grey tower, you see the glimmering light through the narrow window where the ringers are.

'These bells—these towers—

'Have you anything in your county more glorious—more beautiful than these?'

REMINISCENCES OF BIRMINGHAM RINGERS.

TOM MILLER'S RECOLLECTIONS.

On Monday, February 9th, the ringers and campanological friends of the R.C. Cathedral of St. Chad's, Birmingham, spent a very happy evening as the guests of Canon Roskell at the Bishop's house. The Canon carved the boiled beef with a masterly hand, and upon the word 'go' knives and forks were busily engaged in supplying the needs of the 'inner man.' The chief guest was, of course, Mr. Thomas Miller, who has been a ringer at this tower for over 53 years. Looking round him, at the theological books in the library, Tom remarked that St. Paul must have been a very clever man, but he (Tom) doubted if he had ever heard a decent course-end in his life.

Mr. Miller said that since the death of his wife his domestic duties had kept him away from Sunday ringing, and this compelled him to resign the office of towerkeeper. Then he told us in his inimitable manner some interesting yarns of old Birmingham ringers. He told the company how John Banister came from London, and, after listening to a peal being rung at St. Philip's (now the Cathedral) told the band exactly where the conductor had 'cooked' it.

John Banister, said Mr. Miller, was a man with a magnetic personality, who declared that the best ten years of his life were spent in Birmingham. To prove that his memory is still as retentive as ever, Mr. Miller went on to say that John Banister died on August 10th, 1880, and was buried on the 15th at Wotton Cemetery—grave number 49721.

He referred to William Chattell, well known as 'Billy the Baker,' and the ringers of the old St. Philip's Society, then known as 'the Forty Thieves.' This is Chattell's description of St. Philip's bells:—

'The tenor is a good bell, the ninth is cracked, the eighth is out of the peal, the seventh is a "tub," the sixth is flat, the fifth is a "blarney," the fourth is "false-gaited," the third is "muddled," the second has no cannons, and the treble is a "makeshift."'

Unfortunately, they are still the same, and show no signs of improving with age.

Someone must persuade 'Old Tom' to write his reminiscences; they will make interesting reading.

G. E. F.

THE LATE REV. C. D. P. DAVIES.

BY CANON G. F. COLERIDGE.

While travelling to Tewkesbury by train for the funeral of my old friend, I ventured to put a few notes on paper recalling memories of my oldest and earliest ringing friend, tried and proved, and never once found wanting—the Rev. Charles Douglas Percy Davies, M.A., F.R.A.S.

Coming up to Oxford in 1876 as a scholar of Pembroke College from his beloved Tewkesbury, where his father was Vicar, we first met in the Rose Lane Schoolroom, where the University Society of Change Ringers was wont to gather for handbell practice weekly. From that day, nearly 55 years ago, a close and intimate friendship has existed between us. Having learnt the art at Tewkesbury, and adding to his knowledge in the belfry at Cheltenham, where his schooldays were passed, he proved a most valuable recruit to the University Society; soon leading its members through Doubles and Minor, on to Triples, he was quickly able to steer them through the first peal rung by the society, with never a bad blow in it. F. A. Milne, W. C. H. Burne, H. A. Cockey and W. Saltren-Willett were contemporaries of C. D. P. Davies, joined in the next two years by A. B. Perceval, F. A. H. Du Boulay, C. C. Child and J. F. Hastings—all ringers of repute, though the names of some may be forgotten. Seven of these took Holy Orders, and did good work wherever they were, Davies himself being Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, an honour repeated in the jubilee year to his great satisfaction.

On taking Holy Orders, our friend (I say 'our friend,' for I am sure he never made an enemy) served as curate at Whitchurch (Salop), Claceley and Redmarley (Glos), Ringmer (Sussex), becoming later Rector of East and West Marden—where a family of two sons and two daughters were born—Fretherne (Glos) and Deane (Hants), where he restored the ring of five bells and added a treble in memory of a beloved grandson, then living with him, the parents being in the Straits Settlements. He conducted the first 720 on the bells at their dedication.

A serious operation, from which he never wholly recovered, compelled him to resign the living and retire to Kemerton, near Tewkesbury, where he had always desired to end his days, and, if possible, to be laid to rest under the shadow of the grand old Norman fane, which was dear to him from boyhood.

Here at Kemerton, though leading a semi-invalid life, and largely dependent on others to take him out in a bath chair, his main delight was to welcome his numerous friends and spend his hours in writing on matters pertaining to ringing, and in reading and study, for his mind never lost its acumen. A great pleasure came to him when invited to preach in the Abbey on the occasion of the jubilee of its restoration—begun by his venerable father and finished by his successor, the late Archdeacon Robeson. With assistance he mounted the pulpit and delivered his sermon seated on a chair. None the worse for his effort, he looked back to it with supreme satisfaction as a crowning event in his life.

During one of Canon Wigram's ringing tours in Herts our friend read a letter to us at breakfast, received from Jasper Snowdon, complaining of a cold in the head; in the afternoon a telegram, 'Jasper is dead,' caused the evening peal at All Saints', Hertford, to be rung muffled to his memory. An instinctive feeling came over some of us that Jasper's mantle was destined to fall on our friend. The future did not belie our expectations, for works on Grandsire and Stedman were in due course to make their appearance, with others of great interest, written or edited, all showing a master mind, including numerous letters and articles to the ringing Press.

For many years he was ringing editor of 'Church Bells.' On the death of the Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, secretary of the Central Council, who so fitted as our friend to succeed him in that important post? For 19 years he carried on the duties of secretary to the greatest satisfaction of the members, and not least the president, Sir A. P. Heywood, whose sole comment was, 'I have nothing to do but preside; Davies arranges everything.' No wonder the Council gave tangible proof of their appreciation of gratitude on his retirement from office.

A born mathematician and scientist, he was elected a Fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society at the early age of 33, and later occupied the proud position of president of the British Astronomical Society, an honour highly prized by him. Visits to Spain and other countries to observe total eclipses of the sun took him from time to time from an occupation in which he excelled—the grinding and polishing of telescopic lenses—a difficult work, not often undertaken by amateurs.

Of his home life there is no need to write (for some it would be an impertinence to do it). Enough to say that all who came into contact with it could not fail to be influenced for good—father, mother, sons, daughters and grandchildren, all bound together in one perfect bond of love. Not a few felt the inspiration of that beautiful home of family life, lived 'in the very bond of peace and of all virtues.'

Of late the regular weekly visits of the Rev. E. G. Benson, curate of Tewkesbury, and member of the Cambridge University Guild, were a source of unbounded pleasure. With his help, all ringing literature in the house was newly got together and arranged; much done in the way of tabulating, etc. Nor did these visits cease till a few hours before death, when Mr. Benson took him the Reserved Sacrament from the Abbey to the Cheltenham Nursing Home—his last communion on earth.

His last homecoming to the Abbey—the stately ceremonial of the Requiem, the beautiful singing of the Abbey choir, with the lovely solo from Schubert's Litany, sung by his son, 'because his father would have wished it'—not only reverberated among the massive Norman columns, but filled all hearts—and there were many—with a sense of triumph rather than of sorrow; of gladness rather than gloom. The committal was taken by his oldest friend of Oxford days—and of every day since—in the cloister garth, hard by the south-east corner of the Abbey, whose services and fabric were the ruling and dominant passion of his life.

And so we left him in God's safe keeping, with the sound of the handbells over his open grave, and the majestic notes of the muffled bells in the tower, as the grave closed over one 'true and just in all his dealings'—one that did good in his generation among his fellow-men, and not least among those he loved as fellow-members in the great ringing fraternity. R.I.P.

THE FUNERAL.

INTERMENT AT TEWKESBURY ABBEY.

The funeral of the Rev. C. D. P. Davies at Tewkesbury Abbey was a deeply impressive one, and the large and representative assembly was a testimony to the love and esteem in which he was held. While the mourners were assembling, the Abbey organist (Capt. P. Baker, M.C., F.R.C.O.), played Coleridge-Taylor's 'Lament' and 'The Sorrow Song' by Rowley. The Abbey choir attended, and the cortege was met at the north porch of the Abbey by the Vicar of Tewkesbury (Rev. E. P. Gough), the Abbey curate (Rev. E. G. Benson), and the Rector of Ashchurch (Rev. C. M. Napier Sharpe), the other robed clergy being the Revs. J. A. B. Mercier (Rector of Kemerton), Canon W. Lea and Rev. J. H. T. O'Connor (Vicar and curate of Overbury), and Canon G. F. Coleridge.

Full choral Eucharist was conducted by the Abbey clergy, the hymns being 'Praise to the Holiest in the height,' 'The King of Love my Shepherd is,' and 'For all the Saints.' Towards the close of the communion service, Lieut.-Commander J. D. R. Davies sang Schubert's 'Litany.'

Mr. Davies was interred in the Abbey Cloister Garth on the south side of the edifice, the committal being read by Canon G. F. Coleridge.

The family mourners were Mrs. C. D. P. Davies (widow), Mrs. F. W. Cole, of Benson (daughter), Lieut.-Commander J. D. R. Davies, of Guildford (son), Major F. W. Cole (son-in-law), Mrs. J. D. P. Davies (daughter-in-law), and Mrs. Hancock (cousin).

Among the large congregation were representatives of the parish of Fretherne, where Mr. Davies was Vicar for 16 years, and of other parishes where he had been priest; the Royal Astronomical Society and the British Astronomical Association were represented, and among the ringers present were Rev. R. H. Whitford (Bristol), Messrs. W. A. Cave (acting hon. secretary of the Central Council), W. Yeend (hon. secretary, Cheltenham Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association), W. Dyson (chairman, Tewkesbury Branch), A. Wright (hon. secretary, Stroud Branch), J. Austin (Gloucester), etc.

Three of the bearers were Tewkesbury bellringers (Messrs. E. and H. Deveraux and H. Fellowes), the fourth being Mr. Davies' gardener (Mr. Hall).

At the conclusion of the interment, a course of Grandsire Triples on handbells was rung over the grave by Messrs. J. Austin, A. Wright, W. A. Cave and Rev. R. H. Whitford.

A muffled peal was rung on the Abbey bells in the afternoon.

Among the beautiful tributes sent were wreaths from 'The Central Council of Church Bellringers'; 'in memory of our vice-president, Tewkesbury Abbey bellringers'; 'The Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association of Church Bellringers, in memory of our founder, vice-president and Master for 15 years intermittently'; 'Members and Council of the British Astronomical Association'; and Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association of Church Bellringers (Cheltenham Branch).

A number of peals, recorded in their proper place, were rung muffled in memory of one who did so much for the science and art of ringing, while at many places where peals were not possible, muffled touches were rung.

A muffled peal at Tewkesbury Abbey was unfortunately lost after 1 hr. 40 mins.

Officials of the Gloucester and Bristol Association resident in Bristol attempted a peal of Stedman Triples at St. Ambrose's Church, a change course after 1,344 changes excellently struck ending the attempt: Edgar Guise (hon. secretary) 1, F. G. Leaker (adviser) 2, P. C. Williams (hon. treasurer) 3, J. G. Jeffries (committeé), 4, W. Knight (hon. secretary, St. Stephen's) 5, L. Gale (Portishead) 6, A. E. Reeves (conductor) 7, F. Skidmore (chairman of Bristol Branch and pro-vice-chairman of Bristol United Ringing Guilds) 8.

A GROUP OF PIONEERS.

This group, from a photograph taken in 1878 at Huntsham Court, Devon, is of particular interest at the present moment.

Standing in the back row are: Mr. G. H. Phillott, of Cheltenham, who, with the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, founded the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association in 1878; Mr. C. A. W. Troyte, of Huntsham Court, the author of the well-known text book on change ringing; and Jasper W. Snowdon, of Leeds, whose work in connection with publications on ringing matters is so well known that it need not be referred to here. At the time of this photograph he had just been instrumental in forming the Yorkshire Association, of which he was first president.

Seated in the middle row are: The Rev. A. Du Boulay Hill, Master of Winchester College, who in his young days did so much for ringing, and was one of the founders of the Winchester Diocesan Guild in 1879; 'Squire' Leonard Proctor, of Benington fame, whose band of village residents made history in Surprise ringing at the little Hertfordshire Church, where they rang what is believed to be the first true peal of Cambridge Major; Rev. R. H. Dyke Acland Troyte, brother of Mr. C. A. W. Troyte. In front are Mr. C. D. P. Davies (he had not then taken Holy Orders) and Mr. W. P. Fulford, of Exeter.

The ringers were the guests of Mr. C. A. W. Troyte, and it was mainly as the result of this gathering, at which the possibilities of ringing associations were largely discussed, that the Rev. C. D. P. Davies and Mr. Phillott decided to call a meeting to form the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association. It was Mr. Troyte's brother, Mr. J. E. Acland Troyte, who, while at Oxford, established the University Society in 1872.

Muffled ringing also took place at Cheltenham Parish Church, where in 1888 the Rev. C. D. P. Davies was one of a band that rang a peal of 13,054 Stedman Caters.

On Monday, February 9th, eight members of the local band at Presbury, Glos. rang a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) with the bells half-muffled, in 40 mins., as a last token of respect to the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies: W. Newman 1, J. Causon 2, H. Halford 3, W. Rose 4, W. Hale 5, C. Tovey 6, T. Pendry (conductor) 7, J. Harrison 8. The deceased gentleman on October 14th, 1886, conducted the first peal (Grandsire Triples) on these bells after their restoration and augmentation to eight. This peal was rung by seven clergymen, with the assistance of the late Mr. G. H. Phillott, M.A., who rang the tenor.

At the Church of St. Giles-in-the-Fields, London, on February 9th, the bells were rung half-muffled by the local members of the Middlesex County Association.

On Tuesday evening, February 10th, at the Church of St. Nicholas, Liverpool, touches of Plain Bob, Treble Bob and Grandsire Caters, concluding with a course of Cambridge Surprise Royal, with the bells half-muffled. Those taking part in the ringing were Miss L. Chapman, G. R. Edwards, J. F. Smith, J. Martin, J. Brown, T. W. Gilmore, T. Hammond, E. Counce, G. R. Newton, W. Fisher and L. L. Gray.

At the College Youths' practice at St. Magnus', City, on February 12th, the bells were half-muffled. The 'whole pull and stand' was rung and the De Profundis recited. The Rev. C. D. P. Davies was an old member of the College Youths, and was the 'pioneer' of the ringing of Holt's Original non-conducted at St. Giles' in 1883, the band being made up by Mr. James Pettitt.

At St. Martin's Church, Salisbury, on Thursday, February 12th, with the bells half-muffled, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples in 48 mins.: Miss M. E. Romaine 1, C. F. Smith 2, W. A. Romaine 3, L. Harris 4, S. Macey 5, A. Bennett 6, F. W. Romaine (conductor) 7, W. Chalk 8.

At St. Peter's Church, Wolverhampton, on Saturday last, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters was rung, with half-muffled clappers: G. A. Baker 1, H. Knight (conductor) 2, T. Roden 3, T. Smith 4, E. F.

Mitchell 5, F. Brotherton 6, W. H. Lawley 7, H. Boswell 8, W. A. Cooper 9, G. Langley 10.

At Maisemore, Glos. on Sunday, February 15th, with the bells half-muffled, six six-scores of Stedman Doubles and four of Grandsire Doubles (1,200 changes) by the following: B. Etheridge, J. Austin (conductor), W. H. Harris, J. Gough, W. B. Etheridge, E. Nemes and H. Austin (Matlock). It was also rung as a last token of respect to Mrs. Wyburn, mother-in-law of the hon. secretary of the Gloucester Branch of the Diocesan Association, and on the anniversary of the death of Mr. G. L. Brundon.

EAST DERBYSHIRE AND NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the members of the East Derbyshire and Notts Association was held on Saturday, February 14th, at Sutton-in-Ashfield, Notts, and attracted upwards of thirty ringers. The bells were raised shortly after three o'clock, and service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. R. P. Tinsley, who delivered an interesting address. The company adjourned to the Parish Room adjoining the Vicarage for a substantial tea, provided by the local band.

The Vicar gave a hearty welcome to the visitors, and also joined the association as an honorary member. Four new ringing members were made, and the meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Vicar, organist and the ladies who had made such a success of the tea. Further ringing took place until 8.30, several members ringing their first touches in some of the more intricate methods. The methods rung ranged from Grandsire and Stedman Doubles to London Surprise, and some good striking was heard.

Sutton-in-Ashfield tower contains a splendid ring of six bells by Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, the weight of the tenor being 15 cwt. 1 qr. 18 lb. in F. The back three were added to an existing three in 1921 as part of a war memorial, and recently, through the generosity of a Sutton churchman interested in the bells, the three old bells have been placed on ball bearings, and other minor improvements effected.

Members were present from Blackwell, Mansfield, Mansfield Woodhouse, Morton, Polesley, Ripley, South Normanton, Tibshelf, Worksop and the local band, and the attendance of friends from the Bolsover district was greatly appreciated. This was one of the best meetings held recently.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

We have seen that after Jasper Snowden's time composers recognised that a peal could be varied in two ways—by beginning at a different lead-end and by reversal. It was a great advance on the older ideas, but it had the result also, that people were inclined to think and argue that if a peal was not related to another in one of these two ways it must be a distinct and original composition.

Much the same thing happened regarding methods. From the time of Fabian Stedman, ringers recognised that there are three variations of Plain Bob—Single, Reverse and Double. William Shipway, who was a thorough, systematic and methodical worker in all that he did, sought to make this a general rule and to apply it to the majority of methods. He also showed that there is a general rule for getting the odd-bell variations of even-bell methods on the Plain Principle—Bob Minor, Reverse Bob Minor, Double Bob Minor, Grand-sire Triples, Reverse Grandsire Triples and Double Grandsire Triples are all variations of one method. So, too, are Single, Reverse and Double Norwich Court Major and Caters. And all six variations should be called by the same name. It was not possible to alter the name of a method like Grandsire, but it was possible in the case of less-known methods, and he did it. The old Nottingham Single became Single Court, the old Court Bob became Double Court. Norwich Court Bob became Double Norwich Court, and a new Single Norwich was supplied; and so on.

The Exercise generally has accepted Shipway's rule, and with one slight exception it has been adopted by the Central Council; and we now divide methods where possible into their Single, Reverse and Double Variations. But, again, people are inclined to think that outside these variations methods are distinct and independent things. It is not so. Methods have variations just as close as these others, and one set actually more important. This Shipway could just as easily have got from Single, Reverse and Double Bob. Every six-bell method (with treble and working bells) has two variations, one with second's at the lead-end and the other with sixth's. And wherever the bells are in natural coursing order at the half lead-end, each of these has two variations, one with first's and the other with fifth's. Some of these variations will not be of any practical value. Some will run round at the first lead-end, and some will have a bell lying in the same position for more than two consecutive blows.

The same rule is true for eight bells or any other number. Thus, Double Oxford is as nearly related to Double Norwich as Single Norwich is, and Hereward and Pershore are equally variations. They are variations not merely constructionally, they are variations for practical ringing purposes. You will find this explained and illustrated in Major Methods.

Those ringers who have practised Norfolk Surprise (and nowadays they are many) will recognise the great similarity between that method and Double Norwich. The work is very similar, the sequence of the work is the same, the calling is the same, the lead-ends and course-ends are the same, and the actual rows are very nearly the same. Let us look and see what the exact relationship between these two is.

21436587	21436587	21436587
	12345678	12346578
	21436587	21435687
24135678	24135678	24136578
42316587	42316587	42315687
	24135678	24135678
	42316587	42316587
24361578	24361578	24361578

A is Double Norwich.

B is the same thing, but with every pair of rows written out twice. You will notice that this gives us a Treble Bob Method, a Surprise Method, except that it has repetition of rows.

In C the fifth and sixth lie still in the first section, and again in the second section, and these Oxford places take away the falseness and give us Norfolk Surprise.

Thus the relationship between Double Norwich and Norfolk is that first each pair of rows is doubled to give the treble a dodging hunt, and then additional shunts are added to take away the repetition of rows.

A DATE TOUCH.

At St. Peter's Church, Goldhanger, Essex, on Saturday, February 14th, in 1 hr. 2 mins., a date touch (1,931 changes), consisting of 131 Plain Bob, 360 College Exercise and 720 each of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob: S. J. White 1, B. C. Mann 2, A. Appleton 3, J. B. Buckingham (conductor) 4, J. R. Owen 5, H. B. Gardner 6. Rung as a welcome to the Rector on his return from Ceylon, and as a birthday compliment to the ringers of 2 and 3.

LEWES RINGERS' DINNER.

SUSSEX ASSOCIATION AND THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

Members of the Southover (Lewes) Bellringers' Guild, who were joined by many of the church officials and other friends, spent an enjoyable time on Wednesday evening of last week on the occasion of their annual dinner, held at the King's Head Inn, which has long been the 'ringers' house' at Southover, and is well known to scores of visitors. The new Rector of the parish (the Rev. D. G. Matthews) occupied the chair in his capacity as president of the Guild for the first part of the evening, and as he then had to leave for another engagement his place was taken by Mr. W. Townend (a vice-president).

After the loyal toast, Mr. R. Hide proposed 'The presidents and vice-presidents,' and expressed appreciation of the support which the Guild received from these gentlemen.

The Rector, as president, first responded, and said he was very pleased to occupy that position.

Mr. W. Townend also replied, and said they all owed a great debt of gratitude to the bellringers for coming along and ringing the bells Sunday after Sunday (applause).

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith submitted the toast of 'The Southover Bellringers' Guild,' and said it was a peculiar pleasure for him to be present. One of the reasons was that when he came to Southover he was coming home. He recalled the time about 35 years ago when the Guild was first founded, and he occupied the office of secretary. Throughout the intervening years the Guild had continued, despite many vicissitudes, and its success had been largely due to the continued work of several stalwarts, particularly Mr. A. J. Turner and Mr. R. J. Dawe. The present Rector was the sixth incumbent of the parish who had been president of the Guild, but while Rectors came and went, Mr. Turner and Mr. Dawe seemed to go on for ever. He wondered if many people realised what it meant to struggle on year after year keeping the ringers together. Disappointments came, and sometimes they were sufficient to make men give up the work altogether. He congratulated the Southover ringers on keeping together so well, and they now had one of the best bands they had had for many years. It only showed what could be done, and he hoped the members would continue to rally round and help in the good work that was being done (applause). He hoped the Guild would go on and flourish.

Mr. C. J. Rugg (secretary), who responded, said he was very pleased to see such a large and representative gathering. He proceeded to give a short resume of the year's work, which, he thought, had been fairly satisfactory, not so much on account of peal ringing but with regard to what, after all, was their most important work, that of satisfactory Sunday ringing. During the year one member had made 150 attendances, four had made over 140 and nine over 100. He thought that was remarkably good (hear, hear, and applause). Time was when they had difficulty in finding sufficient members present to ring, but during the past year the attendance had been very satisfactory. He would like to especially mention the work of Mr. Dawe (their captain) and Mr. Turner (the vice-captain). It was he who had made 150 attendances (applause). They had rung two quarter-peals, one of which was in honour of the Rev. C. R. Farnsworth's birthday. They were sorry to lose the Rev. C. R. Farnsworth, but it was evident that their new Rector intended to give them every encouragement (applause). Continuing, Mr. Rugg said he hoped they would be able to make the members of the congregation a little more 'ringer conscious.' Because their work was done before services started the congregation did not appreciate it like they should do, and it was not even mentioned in their annual report.

Mr. R. J. Dawe next proposed the toast of 'The Sussex County Association.' He said it had been in existence for 46 years, and had done an immense amount of good amongst ringers, as also with regard to the restoration of bells and bellfries. It had brought them into closer touch with the clergy. He regretted, however, that the association did not have its full representation on the Central Council. They were entitled to four members, but only elected one, and he very seldom attended. He thought it was a great pity that the association did not join with other similar organisations and take its share in the work of the Council.

Mr. J. T. Rickman, Master of the Sussex County Association, who responded, remarked that, although the association had not put up many sensational records, they had done several things of which they might well be proud. The objects of the association were first the cultivation of the art of scientific ringing, secondly the care of the bells and bellfries, and thirdly, the recognition of ringers as church officials. There were three classes of ringers, he continued. The first were certain to be present, the second those who might not be present, and the third those who were almost sure not to be present (laughter). He was very gratified to find that the Southover ringers all belonged to the first class. He saw men present with whom he rang ten, twenty, thirty and even forty years ago, but although they were still able to carry on, they had to look to the younger men in the future.

Mr. H. E. White proposed 'The Visitors,' to which Mr. G. W. Stokes responded.—The concluding toast was that of 'The Hostess.'

Several of the company contributed songs during the evening, and courses of Grandsire Triples were rung on handbells.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.THE G.O.M. OF BRAINTREE ELECTED HON. LIFE MEMBER.

The Northern Division of the Essex Association had a most enjoyable meeting at Rayne on Saturday, February 14th, when 31 members, representing 14 towers, were present. This is the first meeting to be held at Rayne since 1924, and it was the first time that several of those present had visited this tower. Ringing commenced at 2.45 with a well-struck touch of Oxford Treble Bob Minor, followed by touches of Cambridge and London Surprise.

A service was conducted by the Rector (Rev. C. Hutchinson, M.A.), in which he referred to the valuable assistance the ringers gave to the church by ringing the bells and reminding not only those who attended the services, but others who were unable to attend, that it was the time for prayer. Mr. Howard (Master of the Association) read the lesson, and Miss Hawkes kindly officiated at the organ.

An excellent tea was provided at the Old School House, the Rector taking the chair.

At the business meeting which followed, Mr. Howard proposed the election of Mr. G. T. Bartram, J.P., C.A., of Braintree, as an hon. life member of the association, and this was unanimously carried. Mr. Howard spoke of the excellent work Mr. Bartram had done for the Church and the ringers. He had completed 50 years of public work, and a peal had been rung at Braintree Church in honour of this unique occasion. To show his appreciation of their kindly thought, he (Mr. Bartram) kindly entertained the band, together with other ringers, to an excellent dinner. He also placed a peal board in the belfry commemorating the peal.

One other ringing member was elected, and it was decided to hold the next meeting at Kelvedon on May 2nd.

The Master thanked the Rector for the warm welcome he had given them, and he was sure they all appreciated his presence at tea. He also thanked the organist for her services, and the ladies who had prepared the tea. Continuing, Mr. Howard said he must compliment the ringers of Rayne on the condition of their belfry. Everything was spotlessly clean, and it was a great credit to them.—The Rector, in reply, thanked all the ringers, and said he was very pleased to see them there.

Handbells were then brought into prominence, and touches of Grandire Triples, Bob Major and Bob Royal were brought round. Some of the members then paid a visit to Braintree Church, where touches of Cambridge and London Surprise Major were rung.

BARNESLEY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.THE SUGGESTED QUARTERLY JOINT MEETINGS.

The monthly meeting was held at Horbury on Saturday, February 14th. The towers represented were Cawthorne, Crofton, Felkirk, Hoylandswaine, Lindley, Pontefract, Royston, Sandal, Wortley, Wath and the local company.

Ringling commenced early in the afternoon, and continued in various Minor and Major methods until 5.30 p.m., when tea was served in the Co-operative Cafe, after which the business meeting followed. In the absence of the president, Mr. R. Thickett, of Horbury, occupied the chair.

A discussion arose on the suggested joint quarterly meeting of the local associations. Some opposition was raised, but it was finally agreed to give it a trial for two years, providing each district has a meeting in turn, and that that district chooses its tower. There were five towers selected for the shield contest to be voted for at the next meeting, namely, Crofton, Darfield, Cawthorne, Penistone and Horbury.

Royston was selected for next place of meeting. Five new members were elected, and, after the usual vote of thanks, further ringling followed.

THE BELLS OF BURNHAM, BUCKS.

The tower at Burnham, Bucks, has in the past been a happy hunting ground for many peal ringers, and, without a doubt, this will catch the eye of many who can look back with pleasure to their visits to this church.

Time came when the bells became absolutely unringable, and by a superhuman effort on the part of the villagers, sufficient funds were raised to get the bells in peal ringing form again. The job has been completed, and two bands have already attempted peals there. There is still an outstanding debt, and it was thought that by this means it would probably be wiped off. The local ringers have subscribed very liberally, as have all parishioners. Will ringers please help? Donations, however small, will be very gratefully accepted by the Vicar, the Rev. Percy Nott, The Vicarage, Burnham, Bucks.

A HALF PEAL.

At All Saints' Church, Clipston, Northants, on Saturday, February 14th, a half-peal of Grandire Doubles (2,520 changes) in 1 hr. 35 mins.: Edwin Bott 1, Fred Maguire 2, George Hollick 3, Ernest Marsh 4, Maurice Wilford (conductor) 5. Rung after an unsuccessful attempt for a peal. Longest length as conductor, and believed to be the longest length on the bells.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.A CENTRAL RESERVE FUND SUGGESTED.

About fifty members and friends attended the annual meeting of the Guildford District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, held at Guildford on Saturday. Ringing took place at the Cathedral and St. Nicolas' Churches, and a choral service was held at the former, where, in the unexpected absence of the pre-arranged preacher, the Provost (Canon Kirwan) gave a brief address. He referred to the work being done by the Guild, and said he looked upon the members of the Cathedral band not only as ringers and churchworkers but as his friends. He went on to allude to the forthcoming season of Lent, and pointed to some of its lessons, urging that it should be a period for self-knowledge, self-discipline and self-culture.

The Provost presided at the tea and meeting held at the Prince of Wales Hotel, and was supported by Rev. Sir John Herschel (Rector of West Clandon), Mr. Walter Ryde, K.C. (who is a ringer and now endeavouring to raise funds for a peal of bells at his own church at Grayshott), Major J. H. B. Hesse (Master of the Guild), Admiral T. P. Walker, D.S.O. (treasurer), Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (general secretary), and Mr. G. Grover (district secretary).

The towers represented were the Cathedral and St. Nicolas', Guildford, Haslemere, West Clandon, Old Woking, Cranleigh, Witley, Wonerst, Chiddingfold, Godalming, Worplesdon, Ewhurst and Shere, while there were visitors from Biddington, Walton, Farnham, Aldershot and Leatherhead.

The following district officers, nominated at the previous meeting, were declared elected: District Ringing Master, Mr. W. R. Melville; district secretary, Mr. G. Grover; auditor, Mr. C. Hazelden; hon. member of the executive committee, Mr. S. Marshall. A ballot for two ringing members on the executive committee resulted in the election of Messrs. R. Whittington and S. Petter. The balance sheet, which was adopted and considered very satisfactory, showed receipts amounting to £27 7s. 6d., and, after paying over £9 6s. 9d. to the Guild treasurer, a balance in hand of £14 6s. 7d., as compared with £8 5s. 9d. at the beginning of the year. There were in the district 149 ringing members, against 144 in the previous year, and 25 hon. members against 15.

In his report the Hon. Secretary said that although in some cases as a result of combined practices new life had been put into several hands and new members obtained for the Guild, the position of the district, so far as the support of district meetings was concerned, was about the same as last year. As in previous years, the meetings had been attended by the same small number of loyal members, and he was afraid that his appeal of last year for better support of these meetings had not been answered to any appreciable extent. The increase in ringing members was accounted for by the number of new members who had been enrolled through the efforts of Mr. Whittington in his combined practice area, and the very sincere thanks of the district were due to him in this respect. As against the increase from Mr. Whittington's district, in his own area Albury (8) and Shere (3) had dropped out. The increase in the number of honorary members was almost entirely due to direct action from the quarterdeck (laughter and applause). The Secretary regretted to say that his efforts to stir up interest in the Guild and to promote joint practices in his own area, comprising Albury, Shere, Merrow and Clandon, had failed completely. Albury band refused quite definitely to entertain the idea of combined practices, and, in the words of the captain there, 'There was job enough to get them there on Sundays without worrying about practices.' His efforts at Shere and Merrow had also been without success. What was really wrong with all these towers, the secretary added, was that they each lacked one ringer sufficiently commanding and keen to push the others on. One usually found that where the appointed head ringer had no ambition to make progress he usually took good care that no one else should beat him. With regard to the balance in hand of £14 6s. 7d., he was of the opinion that some part of this might be used to start a central reserve fund for the Guild. He quite expected someone would suggest raiding this balance for teas, but at present that was quite out of the question. In the first place, if this were done the balance would in a few years' time have vanished, and, in the second place, at least two of the other districts in the Guild would, if they attempted to make an allowance for teas, be bankrupt within two years. It was not fair for one district to make an allowance to members unless all the districts could do so, and he did not see that this would ever be done unless the Guild could, out of income from invested funds, finance the districts to some extent. Perhaps that district was in a better position that some of its neighbours, but the time had not yet come when any one of them could rest on its oars. Sometimes, after a few years of smooth running, members of an organisation such as that thought everything was all right, and they need not bother, and slackness began to creep in. They must avoid this danger, and remember that the efforts and support of every member were needed just as much now as they were when the Guild was founded. Let them try to make this, the fourth year of the Guild's existence, the most successful one the district had seen, both in the quality and quantity of the Sunday service ringing, in the number, variety and quality of the peals rung, in the frictionless running of the district, in the spade work and in the attendance at meetings.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

The quarterly meeting of the Lincolnshire District of the Ladies' Guild was held on Saturday last at Lincoln. The bells of St. Peter at Gowts were kept going in methods from Stedman Doubles to London Surprise during the afternoon and early evening. Afterwards St. Botolph's bells were at the disposal of the ringers.

The service was conducted by Canon Townoe, who gave the Guild a hearty welcome to St. Peter at Gowts. St. Peter's Institute had very kindly been put at the disposal of the branch, and tea had been arranged by the local ladies. These included Mesdames McGuinness, Walden, Freeman and Chester. The ladies, together with several lady ringers, gave most of the tea. After making a moderate charge, the proceeds were handed over to the secretary to be put to the branch funds.

The Vicar, organist and ladies who arranged tea were thanked by the secretary (Mrs. B. Richardson) before the gentlemen adjourned to the belfry or indulged in the ringing of handbells.

At the business meeting which followed, the chair was taken by Mrs. J. Bray. The Misses Atkinson and N. Atkinson, of Spalding, F. Humphrey, Folkingham, and M. Taylor, Bassingham, were elected ringing members, and Mesdames Freeman and Chester hon. members.

Surfleet was proposed by Mrs. McGuinness, and seconded by Mrs. East, as the place for the next meeting, and this is to be held as a joint meeting with the Elloe Deanery Branch of the Lincoln Guild on May 2nd.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.
NORTHERN BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Grimsby District was held at St. Andrew's, Grimsby, on Saturday, January 31st, when ringers were present from Bigby, Elsham, Scunthorpe, Burton-on-Stather, Ulceby, Thornton Curtis, Mablethorpe, and Mr. Hobson, of Hull. The Vicar, the Rev. T. Russell Warrilow, kindly allowed the use of the bells during the afternoon and evening. A short service was held, at which, in the absence of the Vicar, the Rev. Hedley Burrows, Vicar of St. James', officiated and gave an address.

The tea and business meeting were held in the Church Hall, 29 members sitting down to a good meal provided by Mrs. H. Migay, assisted by ringers' wives and friends.

At the business meeting which followed the president, the Rev. H. T. Parry, presided, and the officers were re-elected.

The secretary's report for the year was presented, and a vote of thanks passed to him. Names of representatives on the district committee should be forwarded to the secretary at once.

The district bell fund accounts were presented by the president and Mr. W. H. Heyhoe, and the collection for the bell fund amounted to 13s.

Places and dates of meetings were chosen as follows: Winterlton, Saturday, April 11th; Caistor, May 16th; Louth, June 13th; Bigby, July 18th; Burton-on-Stather, Thursday, July 30th; Laceby, Saturday, August 15th; Claxby, Thursday, September 10th; Barton-on-Humber, Saturday, October 17th.

A hearty vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. G. Atkinson and seconded by Mr. J. Kennington to the Vicar for the use of the bells and arranging the service, and for the use of the hall, and to Mr. A. Rushby for presiding at the organ, to the caterer and helpers at the tea, and those who had made the arrangements. A hearty vote of thanks was also accorded the president for presiding, who suitably responded.

NORWICH DIOCESAN GUILD.

The annual meeting of the North Norfolk Branch was held at Fakenham on February 7th. Mr. A. L. Coleman was elected to the chair. Letters of apology were received from Mr. G. Burton, branch chairman, and Mr. W. Clover, a member of committee.

All the existing officers of the branch were re-elected with the exception of Mr. B. Thompson (hon. secretary), and Mr. C. E. Lovett, of Norwich, was elected in his place.

About 25 members attended the meeting, and the bells were kept going during the afternoon to Stedman, Double Norwich, Oxford and Bob Major, also Minor for the beginners, and everyone agreed that the meeting was quite enjoyable and a great success.

The secretary was congratulated upon his report, which was adopted. The Hon. Treasurer said he was not in favour of a central reserve fund, and suggested that if there were any surplus fund the Guild might print a more detailed annual report.

From the other conveners of combined practices who were present satisfactory reports were received concerning each area.

It was resolved that meetings be held at the following places during the ensuing year: Shere (8), Bramley (6), Womersley (6), Haslemere (10), Pirbright (6), and Godalming (8), the dates to be arranged by the secretary. The annual district meeting will be held at Guildford on February 13th, 1932.

All the retiring Guild officers were renominated, and three hon. and one ringing members were elected.

It was resolved to recommend to the annual general meeting of the Guild that a sum of three guineas be given to the Grayshott bell fund.

The meeting terminated with a vote of thanks to the chairman.

EXTRA-TERRITORIAL PEALS.

A correspondent raises in a letter elsewhere in this issue a subject of general interest to peal ringers and to associations—that of a band visiting another association's territory and ringing a peal, which they put to the credit, not of the association into whose area they have come, but of their own 'home' organisation. It is not an uncommon practice, but it is one which sometimes raises a little feeling. Without inquiring too closely into the facts of the peal particularly mentioned by our correspondent, there is a strong case to be made out why a band, when ringing a peal, should, unless the circumstances are exceptional, credit the performance to the association or guild in whose area it has been rung. As a rule, it can be said that this practice is fairly generally carried out, and, where it is not observed, we have no doubt there is, in the great majority of cases, a perfectly valid reason in explanation.

Some years ago a motion was brought before the Central Council with the object of ensuring that peals should be rung for the associations in whose area the attempts were made, but so many obvious obstacles to such a scheme were forthcoming that the proposition was defeated. The activities of peal ringers cannot be controlled by the Council, and a matter of this kind, especially, must be left to the good feeling of those who take part. It may be somewhat galling to an association, under certain circumstances, to see ringers from another area using their towers for peal ringing without giving them whatever credit there may be, but the only remedy seems to be by gentle persuasion, to get those who are looked on as offenders to mend their ways.

If our correspondent is right, however, the action of the band in the peal in question was prompted by a very definite reason—the objection to paying a booking fee for the peal. There are many ringers who dislike paying booking fees, in the same way that there are many who object to paying steepleage. They object, not to the amount, but on principle. We must say, however, that where they take this line it would show more regard for the association which finds it necessary or desirable to charge a fee, if, while declining to pay the fees, the ringers also abstained from ringing peals in the towers attached to that association. This, perhaps, is a counsel of perfection, but it does seem to us that, unless the circumstances are exceptional, it is only an act of courtesy to give the credit to the association or guild in whose territory the peals are rung. It would be a pity if, as our correspondent suggests, any unpleasant feeling should arise between ringers on the Surrey and Sussex border, but the point which concerns the Exercise most is the general principle of whether the territorial organisation ought to be entitled to the credit of a peal—especially when it is rung by a band who are already members.

ISLE OF WIGHT DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Island District was held at Carisbrooke and good use was made of the beautiful peal of bells at this old and historical church. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. S. Footman, R.D.), and Dr. J. B. Williamson, of Ventnor, presided at the organ. The Rural Dean afterwards kindly entertained the ringers to tea, and at the business meeting which followed he was elected district president in place of the Rev. J. C. Orr, who, much to the regret of all Island ringers, is leaving the district at the end of February.

The statement of accounts showed receipts £10 15s. 8d., against expenditure £7 6s. 5d. (including £4 3s. 6d. sent to the headquarters of the Guild), leaving a credit balance of £3 9s. 3d. to the district.

Messrs. H. Barton, Ventnor (Ringing Master), B. J. Snow, Ryde (hon. secretary and treasurer), and H. A. Phillips, Godshill (hon. auditor), were re-elected and thanked for their past services.

Messrs. F. Wake and E. T. Drake, of Carisbrooke, were elected members of the Guild, and it was resolved to hold the next annual district meeting at Newport on January 30th, also a quarterly meeting at Brading on Saturday, April 25th.

Thanks were accorded the Vicar for his kind hospitality, also for the use of the bells. The methods rung during the afternoon and evening included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob Major and Kent Treble Bob Major.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

NEWBURY BRANCH.

A meeting of the Newbury Branch was held at Beedon on Saturday, February 7th, when thirty ringers attended from Brightwalton, Compton, East Ilsley, Newbury, Peasemore, Thatcham, and the Beedon ringers. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. L. H. Coles), who gave a very interesting address. Mrs. W. Wells presided at the organ.

Tea was served in the Vicarage by Mrs. L. H. Coles. The business meeting followed, over which the Rev. H. Bonsey (chairman of the branch) presided, supported by the hon. secretary and treasurer (Mr. H. W. Curtis). The next meeting was fixed for Kintbury in April. Heartly votes of thanks were accorded to the Rev. L. H. Coles for his address and welcome to the ringers, to Mrs. Wells for presiding at the organ, and to Mrs. L. H. Coles for providing the tea.

The Secretary proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. H. Bonsey for presiding at the meeting, which was carried with applause. The tower was again visited, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Plain Bob Minor rung.

FROM 'STONE' TO METHOD RINGING.

A desire by the Cottenham, Cambs. ringers to be helped by the men of Over from 'Stone' to method ringing has resulted in two of the band scoring their first 720. This was a 720 of Plain Bob rung at Cottenham on February 12th by: W. Gifford (first 720) 1. O. Robinson 2. F. G. Gleaves 3. F. Gifford 4. A. J. Ginn (conductor) 5. F. Warrington 6.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.ROCHESTER DISTRICT ENTERTAINED AT MILTON.

A well-attended quarterly meeting of the Rochester District of the Kent Association was held at Milton-next-Gravesend, the following towers being represented: Rochester, Frindsbury, Chatham, Gillingham, Queenborough, Borden, Upchurch, Lewisham, Crayford, Gravesend and Prittlewell.

The bells were available from 3 p.m., and at 5 p.m. the association service was conducted in the church by the Rector, Rev. G. W. Mennie, who gave an interesting and instructive address, particularly emphasising the vast audience which the bellringers had. This had recently been brought to his notice by people who were not regular attendants at church, but who had remarked how much they had missed the bells during the period they were silent recently whilst being augmented and rehung.

After service, a company upwards of seventy assembled in the Johnston Institute for tea, provided by the generosity of the general secretary, who is leader at Milton, and his wife (Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell). Mrs. Mitchell is indeed to be particularly commended on the manner she herself had prepared for so large a gathering, and the thanks of all are extended to her and the ladies who waited at the tables.

At the business meeting which followed, the Rector, who presided, was elected an honorary member of the association, and several new practising members were also made. Mr. Churchwarden Knowles, who gave one of the new bells, voiced the pleasure he had derived from the service, the tea, and also the meeting, and hoped another visit would be paid by the association to Milton.

Every advantage was taken to enjoy a pull on the bells, it being the unanimous opinion that a thoroughly good and pleasing peal of eight was the proud possession of the people of Milton.

RINGER'S EARLY DEATH.

At Goldhanger, Essex, on February 4th, at the Church of St. Peter, 720 Kent Treble Bob: W. J. White 1, B. C. Mann 2, J. D. Buckingham (conductor) 3, J. R. Owers 4, G. H. Neville 5, A. Appleton 6. Rung with half-muffled clappers as a token of sympathy on the death of Mr. G. H. Southgate, who, to the great regret of the band, passed away in Ipswich Hospital on January 30th, at the early age of forty years, leaving a widow and five children (the youngest being only two months old) in bereavement.

George Southgate went to Goldhanger about twenty years ago and rang his first 720 on September 30th, 1911. He remained with the band about four years, leaving, on his marriage, to reside in Suffolk. He was a member of the Suffolk Guild.

EIGHTY—AND STILL GOING STRONG.

The annual meeting of Bridgnorth Branch of the Hereford Diocesan Guild took place at Bridgnorth on Saturday, February 14th, and was a very happy gathering, notable for the presence of Mr. John Overton, who completed his 80th year on the 15th. Ringing took place at St. Mary's in the afternoon and St. Leonard's in the evening. Mr. John Overton visited St. Mary's during the afternoon, and took part in the ringing, and at St. Leonard's he raised the treble in peal as only John Overton can do. A special touch of Stedman Triples was especially arranged with Mr. Overton ringing the treble, two of his sons, Horace and Wilfred, also taking part, the latter conducting. A beautiful 'run down,' with Mr. Overton on the treble, was brought to a perfect chime, and his usual 'That will do' brought to a close a delightful gathering.

At St. Leonard's Church, on Sunday evening, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung in honour of Mr. Overton's 80th birthday, and at Coalbrookdale on Sunday, for evensong, 768 of Bob Major: Fred Jones 1, Joe Stanier 2, W. Saunders 3, Alf Bayley 4, W. Lago 5, J. Hanley 6, L. Jones 7, Len Hewitt (conductor) 8.

The quarter-peal of Stedman Triples at Bridgnorth was rung by B. Head 1, H. Thomas 2, C. Pointon (first quarter of Stedman) 3, E. Foxall 4, J. Elcock 5, W. Overton (conductor) 6, H. W. Overton 7, G. Oliver 8. It was intended to attempt a 5,040, but owing to a serious case of illness near the church the attempt had to be abandoned.

On Monday, February 16th, at the Church of St. Mary, Ripple, Worcestershire, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung in 45 mins.: C. Haylings 1, H. Smith 2, E. Maund 3, S. Jakeman 4, F. Hawkes (conductor) 5, J. Hill 6. This was arranged specially for the ringer of the 2nd, who is in his 84th year, and is a regular ringer in the local band.

BANBURY RINGER'S 'JUBILEE.'

On Sunday, February 15th, at the Parish Church of St. Mary, Banbury, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters in 54 mins.: R. Highan (first quarter-peal away from tenor) 1, R. R. Lewis 2, J. Simons 3, F. E. Taylor 4, F. Baldwin 5, F. Selwyn 6, T. Impey 7, W. F. Judge 8, H. Impey 9, G. Bliss (first quarter-peal) 10. Conducted by W. F. Judge. The above are all regular service ringers of St. Mary's except Messrs. Judge and Taylor, who come from Oxford. Rung as a compliment to the ringer of tenor who has completed fifty years as a ringer at Banbury Church, and was 72 years of age on Thursday, February 19th. The band wish to thank Mr. Judge and Mr. Taylor for coming to assist on this and previous occasions.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The history of the Oxford Society of Change Ringers, who revived their annual dinner the other day, goes back two centuries. The first peal which they rang was a peal of 5,040 Grandsire Caters at Christ Church on New Year's Day, 1733.

Some promising young ringers have found their way to St. Martin's, Birmingham, in recent years. Among the latest of the recruits to be developed in the famous Bull Ring tower is E. J. Cole, who last week rang a peal of Stedman Cinques, his only previous peal having been one of Grandsire Triples.

Another promising youth to step into the limelight in Birmingham last week was E. Sibley, who rang a pair of handbells to Stedman Cinques—his first peal on twelve bells—his previous performances having been two peals on handbells, and about ten on tower bells. All the while St. Martin's Guild can find such excellent material as these and the other young men who have 'made good' recently, there need be little fear for the future of ringing at St. Martin's.

Henry Johnson, whose memory will be honoured to-morrow at Birmingham, was born on February 28th, 1809. He died at Aston in 1890. The 'Johnson dinner' originated in 1882 with a supper party of 25 at the Dog and Partridge, after a peal of Stedman Cinques in honour of Johnson's 73rd birthday.

Some famous ringers took part in that peal, the band being William Hayward, Job Joynes, Charles H. Hattersley, Wm. Rock Small, Samuel Reeves, Henry Johnson, sen., Henry Johnson, jun., John Buffery, John James, Thomas Hattersley, Wm. Hollisworth and Thomas Reynolds.

'Many happy returns of the day' to the Midland veteran, Mr. John Jagger, who was born on March 3rd, 1861.

The peal at St. Luke's, Blakenhall, Wolverhampton, on February 6th, was Mr. Abraham Greenfield's 50th peal of Grandsire Triples, not his 50th peal for the Archdeaconry of Stafford Society. He rang his 100th peal for the society on January 31st.

THE LATE REV. C. D. P. DAVIES.

THE FAMILY'S THANKS.

Mrs. Davies has written to Mr. W. A. Cave, acting secretary of the Central Council, conveying thanks for the sympathy which the Council and ringers in various parts of the country have expressed in the great loss which she and her family have sustained by the death of the Rev. C. D. P. Davies. 'I feel,' she writes, 'that you all knew and loved my dear husband, and to the very end of his life he kept up his deep and true interest in all that concerned bells and ringers. I know how you will all miss him, not only his great knowledge of the art, but his anxiety that every matter connected with the Exercise should be carried out in the best way possible, so as to keep the whole Exercise united. You know that, and do please convey to all who have written such kindly words about him how deeply grateful I and our children are for the esteem and affection which they have shown his memory. We were specially touched by the peal of handbells over the grave.'

ALDERMAN PRITCHETT'S TRIBUTE.

Among the ringers who were contemporary with the Rev. C. D. P. Davies in his Oxford days was Alderman J. S. Pritchett, of Birmingham. 'I rang with him,' Alderman Pritchett writes, 'for two years (1876-1878) as a member of the University Guild, and thus formed a friendship which endured till his death. I should like to add my tribute of respect to his memory. Apart from his services to campanology, he won my esteem and regard as one of the most unselfish and benevolent men it has ever been my good fortune to know.'

At St. James' Church, Poole, on Sunday, February 15th, for morning service, 504 Grandsire Triples was rung with the bells half-muffled in memory of the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies: P. Davis 1, F. W. Townsend 2, Miss N. M. Hodge 3, V. Young 4, I. Davis 5, H. Baverstock (conductor) 6, J. P. Vetcher 7, E. J. Doel 8.

'SHUNTS' AGAIN.

To the Editor

Dear Sir,—One had thought that we had heard the last of this horrible word. But here in this wonderfully lucid article on 'Variation and Transposition' it occurs again. Everything in the article is quite clear, till one gets to the last line. Then, unless one knows the peculiar predilection of the writer for this word, when he cannot find any other word to describe what he wants, one must be quite unaware what the writer was driving at. However, if your younger readers will substitute the word 'moves' for 'shunts,' all will be clear.

RINGERS OF ST. MARTIN'S SOCIETY SIXTY YEARS AGO.

To-morrow's commemoration of Henry Johnson at Birmingham inevitably recalls memories of past days and other celebrated men who were associated with him. We have records of their performances—these are treasured in the peal books of St. Martin's Guild—but what were these men like in themselves? They were unknown to all but a few living men, but here in this photograph ringers of to-day can glimpse some of the ringers of St. Martin's Society of 1868.

In front: Thomas Day, Henry Johnson (secretary), William Haywood, John Perks, Job Joynes.

The old picture has come into possession of the successors of the society, St. Martin's Guild, to be added to their many interesting reminders of the past. We are indebted to the Guild for the opportunity of reproducing this photograph. We regret that its arrangement prevents us giving the picture in its entirety; to do so would have meant reducing the size until all detail would have been lost, but in the portion of the group which is here printed are some men who were leading lights in their day, and who helped in the accomplishment of great performances.

Of Henry Johnson, who was secretary of the society in 1868, nothing need here be said—his services to ringing and the veneration in which his memory is held are too well known—but among the others, John Day was president of the society at the time the picture was taken. Thomas Day was a composer of repute. It was his composition of 15,840 Treble Bob that was rung at Bethnal Green on April 27th, 1868, a peal which he subsequently lengthened to 16,603—the longest length which was obtained until comparatively recent years.

The photograph also takes us back to much earlier days than 1868. For three of those included—Henry Johnson, William Haywood and John James—took part in the then longest peal of Stedman Cinques (7,392) rung at Birmingham on December 12th, 1848, while Johnson and James make a connecting link with another record length, the 9,238 rung at St. Martin's on February 28th, 1881 (Johnson's 72nd birthday), in which they both took part.

ESSEX VETERAN DEAD.

AN ORIGINAL MEMBER OF THE COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The death occurred on Friday, February 13th, of Mr. William Hawkes, at the age of 85 years. He had been a member of the Essex Association since its formation on Whit Monday, 1879, by the Rev. J. B. Seaman. He was one of the first to join, and was one of six survivors at the jubilee gathering held in Chelmsford on Whit Monday, 1929. He was also a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths for 56 years. He joined the Springfield company (Chelmsford) in 1879, and was connected with it up to the time of its disbandment owing to the deaths of two or three of its members in 1915.

On the formation of a new company in 1919, under the leadership of Mr. E. Buckingham, he again took up ringing and attended practices and Sunday service ringing until he finally took to his bed some weeks ago.

In his young days Mr. Hawkes would think lightly of walking to one or other of the towers in the district, a distance of ten or twelve miles each night in the week for practice, to help other young ones to learn the art of change ringing. He rang several peals in various towers in Essex, but at that time peals were few and far between. He was always noted for his excellent striking, and has been known to set his bell rather than carry on when the ringing has been bad.

Two days after his 80th birthday, on July 11th, 1925, he rang the third bell at All Saints', Springfield, to a 5,040 of Cambridge Surprise Minor in 2 hours 40 mins., conducted by Mr. W. Keeble, and was congratulated by him for the way in which he rang his bells.

Deceased was a bachelor and lived with his sister, Miss Hawkes, in Lawn Lane, Springfield, all his life. He carried out his duties as stockman to Mr. Herbert Gray until his retirement. He was of most amiable disposition, and liked by everyone.

The first part of the burial service was held in All Saints' Church on Wednesday of last week, and as the cortege left the church for the interment at the burial ground at Trinity Church a muffled touch of 240 Oxford Treble Bob (deceased's favourite method) was rung upon the bells by his colleagues: J. Myhill 1, J. Longley 2, 1. Poulton 3, A. E. Davis 4, E. Kemp 5, E. Buckingham (conductor) 6.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

ELLOE DEANERIES BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Elloe Deaneries Branch was held at Spalding on Saturday, February 14th, and was well attended, 17 towers being represented.

The bells were raised at 2.30 p.m., and kept going in various methods until 3.30, when a short service was held, conducted by the Rev. H. Law James (Master of the Guild) in the unavoidable absence of the Vicar of Spalding owing to illness. Tea was provided at Barker's Restaurant, to which 44 sat down, and at the business meeting afterwards held the officers were all re-elected.

The following places and dates of meeting were fixed for 1931: Surfleet, May 2nd; Tydd St. Mary, July 18th; Lutton, October 10th; Donington, January 9th, 1932.

The usual votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar for use of the bells, to the Rev. H. Law James for conducting the service, and to the officers for their services.

Afterwards the bells were kept going in the standard methods from Bob Major to Cambridge Surprise.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

Now it is pretty obvious that there are other ways than C, given in the last article, of doing away with the falseness in B. If we take the first section by itself we shall find that there is only one way, thus:—

12345678	12345678
12345678	12345678
21436587	21436587

We have made Kent places in 5-6. We could make Kent places in 3-4, but then the 3rd would lie three blows in Fourth's. And we could make the Kent places in 7-8, but that would turn the tenors the wrong way.

If we take the first and second sections together we find we can get besides C the following:—

21436587	21436587
12345678	12345678
21436587	21436587
24135678	24135678
42316587	42316587
24135678	24135678
42316587	42316587
24361578	24361578

If we use this we shall have to make second's at the lead-end, otherwise a bell will lie for four blows in eighth's, and if we take these two sections as the quarter of a double method we have Peterborough Surprise.

It follows that Peterborough is constructionally just as simple a variation of Double Oxford as Norfolk is of Double Norwich.

If we take the first six rows of B, we find we can do away with the falseness in two ways, thus:—

12345678	12345678	12345678
21436587	21436587	21436587
12345678	12346857	12346578
21436587	21438675	21435897

Then take the part of the course with the treble in 5-6 and 7-8, and see how the repetition may be done away with. You will find there are a great many more ways there than in the first two sections, especially when seventh's is made at the half lead-end. Each one of these additional shunts, of course, must bring the bells back again to the rows of B.

Now work out all the combinations of these additional shunts, which will do away with all the repetition in the lead, and you will be surprised how many Surprise Major methods you have got. They number many hundred, and they are all variations of Double Norwich in the same way that Norfolk is.

That is not all. If in B you let 3-4 lie still in the first section, you will remove the repetition, but there is no other place in the lead where you can turn them back again, as 5-6 are done in Norfolk. But you can get the same result by rather more complicated means, thus:—

12345678	12435678
21436587	21346587
24135678	23145678
42316587	32416587
24135678	32145678
42316587	23416587
24361578	24361578

And into this you can work the combinations of the other additional shunts, giving you many more methods. And there are other similar dodges, each of them giving a group of methods.

We need not carry the argument further and show how other methods grow out of these. The point I want to make is this: Given Double Norwich and its three variations (with second's place added, seventh's place added, and second's and seventh's added), we can turn it into a Surprise Method, and then, by means of additional shunts, most of which are quite simple and obvious, produce thousands of methods which are just as much variations of Double Norwich as Norfolk is. And again the question arises: What room is there here for originality or authorship?

SUSSEX PEALS IN SURREY TOWERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Recorded in the issue of 'The Ringing World' for February 20th is a peal of Bristol Surprise Major rung at Godstone, Surrey, for the Sussex County Association. The whole of the band that took part are members of the Surrey Association as well as of the Sussex Association, and it leads me to ask: 'Why ring the peal for the Sussex?' (all due respect to the Sussex Association). It is fairly well known, I think, that owing to the financial position of the Surrey Association we have found it necessary for a year or two to level a small charge of 3d. per rope per peal. Should it not be a matter of common courtesy for visitors from one county who visit another county's tower to ring a peal, to ring the peal for the county whose hospitality they are enjoying? At any rate, when three-quarters of the band (or more, as in this instance the entire band) are members of the visited county! The conductor of this peal (Mr. Sippetts) has told me himself, on more than one occasion, that he refuses to pay the peal charge referred to above, and so he rings the peal for a different association on principle. Yet he, or one of his ringers, did not scruple to apply for and get one of our rings of bells here in Surrey and then slight our hospitality by ringing the peal for another association! A band that spends several shillings in getting to a tower quibbles over a 3d. peal tax. Is this not being rather narrow-minded? I can assure Mr. Sippetts and his ringers that we Surrey ringers, and especially my own Southern District, feel this very warmly, more especially as this is not the first time his band have done this. Further, they do not now come and support our meetings. Writing from memory, I believe I am right in saying that it is over a year since we have seen any of that band at our meetings, although most of them only live just over the border. They even arrange peals on our ringing meeting days. There is no peal tax at our ringing meetings. We are always pleased to see Mr. Sippetts and his ringers in our district, at meetings or for peals, but we shall be much more pleased if they will be a little more public spirited and ring Surrey peals in Surrey.—Yours faithfully,

BERNARD H. WELLS.

South Mersham, Surrey.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SATISFACTORY FINANCIAL POSITION.

The annual meeting of the London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild was held on Saturday, February 14th. A large number of ringers met at St. Lawrence Jewry, nearby the Guildhall, and had much pleasure in ringing the recently restored bells. At the same time many gathered at the headquarters Church of St. Clement Danes, Strand, where some excellent ringing took place. Service in St. Clement Danes Church was well attended. The lessons were read by Messrs. C. O. Moore and A. H. Keighley, and a most appropriate address on the subject, 'Bells,' was delivered by the Rector (Rev. W. Pennington Bickford, hon. chaplain of the association). The members took tea at the Willow Restaurant close by, afterwards adjourning to the Parish House for the business meeting.

The Master (Mr. T. H. Taffender) took the chair, and over fifty members attended. Several ratifications and election of new members took place.

The balance sheet for the year ending December 31st, 1930, was presented by the auditor, Mr. J. G. O. Prior, and showed an increase to the funds of £5 1s. 2d. The assets of the association include War Savings Certificates £42 1s. 3d., cash in bank £1 6s. 4d., and cash in hand £2 6s. 1d., making a total of £45 13s. 8d., which was considered excellent, as the association's funds had never been so large. However, it was stated that certain expenditure would be incurred during 1931 for such items of new rule books, printed notice forms, etc.

The report of the past year showed that a good number of ringers had been elected members, and almost twice the number of peals had been rung as in the year 1929. The practices had also been maintained.

There was a certain amount of criticism as to the working of one of the offices of the association, and an independent committee was formed to enquire into the matter and report.

The peals rung during the year were accepted and authorised for writing in the peal book.

The four officers of each, the northern and southern districts, were ratified to serve on the general committee, and the following officers were elected for the present year: Master, Mr. Thomas H. Taffender; hon. secretary, Mr. Charles O. Moore; first assistant secretary, Mr. A. H. Keighley; second assistant secretary, Mr. T. W. Taffender; hon. treasurer, Mr. E. A. Young; senior steward, Mr. T. W. Wyatt; junior steward, Mr. W. Batton; trustees, Mr. F. E. Dawe and Mr. J. George.

A vote of thanks was accorded for the splendid assistance given by the Rector and chaplain in arranging the service, choir, organist, etc., and for the use of the Parish Hall. The verger, Mr. Harris, was also thanked for his assistance.

The meeting terminated with touches on handbells.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.

An enjoyable practice meeting of the Warwickshire Guild was held at Brinklow, near Rugby, on Saturday, February 21st. The musical ring of six was set going soon after three o'clock to touches of Cambridge Surprise and Kent Treble Bob. York Surprise followed, and then touches of Plain Bob and Grandsire for those not so proficient.

Before tea, some of the energetic ones climbed the hill behind the church for a view of the surrounding country, which presented a very beautiful picture in the rays of the setting sun.

The hill is cone-shaped with a number of trees set in a ring at the apex. It is believed to be a 'barrow,' the burial place of an old British chieftain.

Tea, which was served in the Church Rooms, was enlivened by the presence of Mr. J. H. Shepherd, of Swindon, who is residing in this district for a time.

There was no business meeting, but Mr. E. H. Adams (Warwick) spoke feelingly of the loss the Exercise has sustained in the death of Rev. C. D. P. Davies, and of his personal association with him. All the members stood in silence for a few moments as a mark of respect to his memory.

Upon returning to the belfry, London Surprise was rung, followed by Stedman and the easier methods, some of those present scoring their first 'touch.' The members attending represented the following towers: Allesley, Bulkington, Chilvers Coton, Clifton, Higham, Leamington, Lillington, Shilton, Warwick and Monk's Kirby.

THE SYSTON TURKEY.

Now the turkey's put to rest,
None can stale he weren't the best.
What a cry of exultation
When we smelt him at the station!

Home for heroes, sight of beauty,
To see Jim stand and do his duty,
While John goes round with gleaming tankard.
Never had we better anchored.

Soon we six-and-twenty diners
Felt as big as ocean liners,
As we sat about the carcass,
Mansfield's Bell could scarcely park us.

Memories of that night will linger
In the mind of every ringer.
Should that turkey have some chicks,
Critics need not throw their bricks.

A FLAT.

And thereby hangs a tale—we suppose turkeys do have tails. It all arose from a long wait on a foggy night on a railway platform after the reopening of Syston bells. Guesses were hazarded as to which train would first depart—that for Leicester or that for Loughborough—and eventually the excitement grew so intense that in a rash moment someone 'backed his fancy' with a turkey supper. The bet was taken. The Loughborough train steamed in. The Leicester train was not in sight. The Loughborough train waited. The Leicester train arrived—and departed. And Loughborough had to pay for the supper.

HARWELL CHURCH BELLS.

A BERKSHIRE RESTORATION FUND.

Proceeds of fete and concert, £45 8s. 6d.; per general appeal, £19 0s. 6d.; per Rev. J. C. Cohen, £7 13s.; per Mr. H. J. Balcombe, £3 12s. 11d.; per Misses Day, £2 17s.; per Mr. W. Hitchman, £2 5s.; per Mr. R. G. Rice, £3 13s.; Oxford Diocesan Guild Restoration Fund, £5 5s.; North Berkshire Branch, £5; North Bucks Branch, £2 2s.; Banbury Branch, £1; Abingdon ringers, 11s.; Childrey, Berks, ringers, 12s. 6d.; Shiplake, Oxon, ringers, 10s.; collecting boxes in village, £7 13s. 10d.; various donations in village, 18s.; proceeds of carols by church choir, £3 3s.; organ recital, £4 10s. 6d.; allocated by Church Council from offertories for 1930, £50; bank interest to December, 1930, 14s. 5d.; total to January 31st, 1931, £166 0s. 2d.

During the last three years the congregation has contributed £160 towards repairs to the fabric, and the installation of electric light throughout the church, so it can be realised that an appeal outside the parish (the first for a hundred years) is quite justified, as there are no wealthy people living in or owning land in this parish of 800 population. Any subscription, however small, will be gratefully received and acknowledged by the hon. secretary, R. G. Rice, Harwell, Didcot, Berkshire.

The present ring of six (tenor approximately 19 cwt.) at St. Matthew's Church, Harwell, is the oldest in England, and the bells have hung in the tower in the present frame since 1615. They are now quite unringable, and have been silent for 18 months.

The proposal is to tune and one-eighth turn the present six, add two trebles and rehang the whole in a new frame with new fittings. The cost will be about £500.

RINGERS 'TOO ALOOF'

A BODY NOT TO BE DESPISED.

Interesting speeches were made at the dinner held by the Oxford Society at the Greyhound Hotel, Oxford, on Saturday week. The chair was taken by Mr. W. Collett, the president. The Mayor of Oxford (Ald. W. Stobie) and Ald. C. H. Brown, who is a member of the society, were among those present, and the company included Miss M. Reynolds, Oxford's first resident lady ringer.

Mr. Collett, in welcoming the Mayor and Ald. Brown, said the society was glad of any recognition it could get.

'There is,' he said, 'a danger nowadays of the man in the street looking on bellringers with a supercilious and patronising air and a smile of contempt. The bellringer is the butt of the novelist and comedian as is the plumber and policeman. Unfortunately the people who make jokes about us don't know as much about us as they do about plumbers and policemen. Any contempt or derision we receive is due to ignorance. The authors of these jokes don't know what they're talking about, and we've got to show them. We're not a body of men to be despised at all, and if people knew what we had done they would have more respect for us. Ald. Brown is opening Carfax tower on certain days of the year to the public, and it would repay him and us if we were to organise parties of competent ringers to go to the tower on those days. We should be teaching the public something we want them to know and also helping Ald. Brown.'

'I wish every association in the city was as pleased with us as you appear to be,' replied the Mayor, to the toast of 'The Mayor and Corporation.' 'I hope your faith won't be disturbed during the next nine months I am still in office.'

Ald. Brown, who proposed the toast of 'The Society,' said that in his opinion the reason why they were not appreciated as they should be was largely their own fault. 'We keep ourselves too aloof,' he said.

'If the public knew more about us they would appreciate not only the privileges and opportunities of listening to the bells, but also, more and more, the very intricate work we have to put in to produce that beautiful ringing.'

'Oxford is the Mecca for ringers, inasmuch as there is no other city in the kingdom where there are more peals of bells, of different numbers, as there are here. Therefore we have exceptional facilities for introducing the general public to ringing that other towns and cities do not enjoy, and I think, seeing that Oxford is what it is, the public should know more about bellringing.'

'We are just beginning to make headway again after the chaos of the war,' said the secretary, Mr. V. J. F. Bennett, 'and we have the material to do some really good work. I hope that in a few years we shall have as good a ringing company as any in the country.'

EXETER RINGERS ENTERTAINED.

AN APPEAL FOR YOUNG MEN.

St. Sidwell's Society, Exeter, together with friends, were entertained on February 16th to their annual supper at the Institute by the Rector (the Rev. H. Lanyon-Owen). Among those present were the Revs. T. G. Blackwood-Price and R. R. Walker, Messrs. J. D. Hellier (senior churchwarden), C. Panter, and C. Yeo (ex-wardens).

Following the loyal toast, the Rector proposed 'Success to the ringers,' and spoke of the courtesy he had received from them during the seven years he had been Rector of St. Sidwell's.

Reference was made to the death of Mr. T. J. Stokes, treasurer of the Devonshire Guild, whose funeral accounted for the absence of some guests who were usually present.

Mr. Edwin Shepherd (Ringing Master) responded for the ringers. He mentioned that St. Sidwell's was the oldest society in the city, dating back to 1865. Difficulties had been met and overcome, and the ringers were never downhearted. During the last few years the society had lost several members by death, and he appealed to any young men willing to learn ringing to come forward. He thanked the Rector for his kindness in inviting the ringers to supper, and stated that, although the bells were under the control of the Rector, he gave the ringers an entirely free hand, for which they were very grateful.

Response for the visitors was made by the Rev. T. G. Blackwood-Price. The Rev. R. R. Walker and Messrs. J. D. Hellier and W. J. Richardson also spoke. The greater part of the evening was given up to songs, etc., to which the Rector, the Rev. R. R. Walker and Messrs. J. D. Hellier, C. Yeo and A. Hunt contributed. The ringers rang changes on handbells. Messrs. Dennis Reed and T. Tuckett assisted at the piano.

The Rector, on behalf of the ringers, handed to Mr. A. G. Betts, one of their members, a handsome barometer, suitably inscribed, with best wishes for health and happiness on his recent marriage.

A very enjoyable evening ended by Mr. Panter proposing, on behalf of all present, a vote of thanks to the Rector for his welcome, and expressing the hope that Mrs. Lanyon-Owen would be speedily restored to health. This was heartily endorsed.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION. CANTERBURY DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Canterbury District of the Kent County Association was held at Canterbury on Saturday, February 14th, 51 members being present, representing Deal, Elham, Sturry, Dover, Herne, Faversham, Lyminge, St. Peter's Thanet, St. Nicholas-at-Wade, Ashford, Headcorn, Littlebourne, Wickhambreaux, Wingham, and the two local towers, Canterbury Cathedral and St. Alphege.

A number of ringers attended evensong in the Cathedral, and subsequently all the members met at the Mercery Lane Dining Rooms for tea, which was provided by the association. Rev. Canon F. J. O. Helmore, a vice-president of the association, presided, supported by the general secretary (Mr. F. Mitchell), the district secretary (Mr. Percy W. Smith), and the two district representatives (Mr. F. Brett and Mr. H. Smith).

At the business meeting the District Secretary read his report for 1930, and the balance sheet. The report showed that a very successful year had been experienced by the district, and pointed out that the members were in a large measure indebted to many of the clergy and church officials for their ready hospitality and encouragement. The report also showed that the Canterbury District had 22 towers in union with the association, with a total membership of 190.

The district officers were re-elected en bloc, with thanks for their services.

Meetings for 1931 were arranged as follows: Summer meeting at St. Peter's Thanet, autumn meeting at Wingham, annual meeting at Canterbury, and the next by-meeting at Whitstable.

Four new hon. members were accepted, viz., Rev. W. N. Westmore, Canterbury; Rev. J. P. Smith, St. Peter's Thanet; Mr. H. Jarvis and Mr. P. Duthoit, Littlebourne; and eleven practising members; while eight members of Whitstable were accepted as probationers.

Owing to St. Alphege bells being in the hands of the bell hangers, only two towers were available for ringing after the meeting, namely, the Cathedral and St. Stephen's. At St. Stephen's, ringing was delayed owing to the tenor being thrown out of its bearings while being raised, because of an obstruction that had been blown across the bell during the gales. However, three or four of the ringers, with the help of levers, etc., soon replaced the bell, and ringing continued undisturbed.

PROGRESS OF THE TONBRIDGE DISTRICT.

About seventy members were present at the annual meeting of the Tonbridge District of the Kent County Association at Penshurst on February 7th. The following bands were represented: Penshurst, Tonbridge, Leigh, Shipbourne, Cranbrook, Lamberhurst, Tunbridge Wells, Sevenoaks, Seal Chart, Beckenham, Westerham and Edenbridge.

The meeting was preceded by a service in the Parish Church, the Rector (the Rev. James Cropper) officiating, and later presiding over the tea and meeting held in the Village Hall.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. W. Latter), in his annual report, expressed his pleasure that after an absence of two years the Marden band had rejoined. The district now had 20 towers in union, with 192 practising members, as against 168 last year. Forty-three new members were elected, and three non-resident life members. The seventh and tenor bells at Chiddingstone had been rehung with ball bearings by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, and the 'go' of them was all that could be desired. There was a probability of the five bells at Leigh being increased by one.

Mr. Latter gave details of the various peals that had been rung during the year, and congratulated Lamberhurst upon their excellent ringing, with three members only 15 years of age in their band.

Receipts for the year totalled £26 2s., there being a balance in hand of £18 13s. 6d.

The report was adopted.

Mr. George Edwards reported on the activities of the Central Committee, to which he is a delegate.

Mr. F. White (Cranbrook), moving Mr. Latter's re-election, said there was no association with a better secretary (hear, hear).—Mr. F. Waters (Westerham) seconded, and this was carried with acclamation.

In response, Mr. Latter said it was his 36th year of office, but as long as they were satisfied he was.

Messrs. G. Edwards and H. Markwell were re-elected as delegates to the Central Committee.

The following new members were elected: Miss Joan Baker (Sevenoaks), Mr. Frank Pannell (Edenbridge), Messrs. V. Maynard, S. Maddocks, J. Still and A. Moon (Speldhurst), Messrs. W. Matthews and W. Cosgrove (Westerham), Messrs. C. Vickery and F. Bailey (Seal Chart), Mr. A. Aylward (Chiddingstone), and the Misses D. and C. Orlebar (non-resident life members).

It was decided to hold meetings during the year at Sevenoaks, Seal Chart, Chiddingstone and Tunbridge Wells (annual).

The Rev. F. L. Schreiber (Shipbourne) invited them to come to his parish, where the jubilee was being celebrated on August 7th and 9th.

It was resolved to hold a special meeting there, probably on Saturday, August 15th.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

The South-Eastern Division of the Essex Association had an enjoyable meeting at Rettendon on Saturday last. Ringing from 2.30 to 4.30 p.m. was followed by a service conducted by the Rector (Rev. W. Norman), who gave a most helpful address. Twenty-one members sat down to tea, served in the Parish Hall, and presided over by the Rector, who was supported by the Master of the association (Mr. C. H. Howard).

The District Master presided at the business meeting, at which one non-resident life member and three ringing members were elected. It was arranged to hold the next meeting at Great Totham on Saturday, April 25th.

Mr. C. H. Howard referred to the death of Mr. W. Hawkes, an old member, of Springfield, and spoke of the great help that he had given to the association in past years. He also referred to the loss of Mr. Head, of Writtle, and the members stood in silence as a token of respect to these two members.

Mr. N. J. Nevard, of Great Bentley, who was present at the meeting, said that the last time he was at Rettendon was in 1884. Since then he has rung in 687 towers, 135 of which were in Essex.

Mr. C. H. Howard proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells and for conducting the service, also to the organist.—The Rector, in reply, said he was always glad to welcome the ringers to Rettendon.—Ringing afterwards continued until 9 p.m. in various methods.

ROMNEY MARSH & DISTRICT GUILD. STILL ADVANCING.

The annual meeting of the Romney Marsh and District Guild was held at Appledore recently, when a service was held in church conducted by the Vicar, Rev. M. M. Vischer, president of the Guild, assisted by the Rev. G. S. Long, Vicar of Aldington. Mr. C. Coleman ably presided at the organ. Tea was served at the Swan Hotel, about fifty being present. The Rev. M. M. Vischer presided, supported by Rev. G. S. Long, Mr. C. W. Everett (Guild Master), Mr. A. J. Battin (hon. secretary and treasurer), while among those present were the veteran of the Guild, Mr. C. Slingsby, who is 93½ years of age, and still ringing, and members from Hythe, Ashford, Benenden, Rolvenden, Egerton, Tenterden, Rye, Stone Eastwell, Kennington and Appledore.

The president took the chair at the business meeting which followed.

The hon. secretary gave a report of his attendance at the Central Council meeting as Guild representative, pointing out the value of affiliation, and emphasising the importance of sending only really experience ringers as representatives.

The report and balance sheet were next presented, and showed that the Guild was still advancing, not only in point of numbers and financially, but also in regard to its primary object, the advancement of change ringing. Fifteen peals were rung for the Guild against nine in 1929, and in those peals there were 16 first peal stars. The conductors were C. W. Player (4), K. Pattenden (4), E. Ruck (2), T. Sone (2), E. Buesden (2), H. Parkes (1). Membership has increased from 112 to 136, and the balance in hand from £6 8s. 5d. to £7 8s. 9d. The average attendance at the monthly meetings had increased from 18 in 1929 to 29 in 1930. In concluding his report, the secretary thanked the steeplekeepers and secretary for their assistance in arranging the meetings, and also the members for their support, which made a secretary feel his work was really appreciated. The report and balance sheet were passed unanimously, the chairman congratulating the hon. secretary on such a record, considering the heavy expenditure which had been incurred. The president was unanimously re-elected, as was also the Guild Master and hon. secretary and treasurer. The committee were re-elected en bloc, with the addition of Mr. C. Slingsby (Aldington) and Mr. R. Burch (Hythe). Mr. P. Page was elected in place of Mr. H. Parkes, who has left the district. Benenden was chosen for the next meeting on February 21st.

A discussion then ensued on the resolution of the Central Council, viz., 'That in order to bring ringing societies into closer communion and co-operation with the Central Council of Church Bellringers, every affiliated society be requested to include in its rules words to the following effect: "That this society be affiliated to the Central Council of Church Bellringers and loyally abide by the rules and decisions thereof."' The unanimous opinion was expressed that it was useless to be affiliated to the Council and send a representative to the meetings and then not abide by their decisions.

The secretary was instructed to send to the Council an affirmative reply.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar and the organist.

This concluded the business, and the remainder of the evening was spent in harmony.

A vote of thanks was accorded the Rector of Penshurst on the motion of Mr. G. Edwards, seconded by Mr. F. White.

Thanks were also accorded Mr. W. Meade and Mr. George Edwards, the latter for making the necessary arrangements and for augmenting the tea fare.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD. CHERTSEY DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Chertsey District was held at St. John's, Egham, there being an attendance of twenty-two. During the afternoon and evening, Bob Minor and Major, Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung. Service was conducted by Canon H. J. F. Tringham (Rural Dean), Mr. Geo. Copland, F.R.C.O., being at the organ. The preacher and organist both came from Longcross, as the Vicar of Egham was away. Tea was partaken of in the Church Room.

The business was presided over by Admiral Walker, who thanked Canon Tringham and the organist for their services.

The District Secretary unfortunately was unable to attend owing to indisposition.

The balance sheet showed subscriptions £4 4s. 6d., and a balance on the year of 5s. 3d. The membership showed a falling-off from the previous year of about ten.

The Ringing Master reported that things were rather slack among the members of the district. Although the average attendance at the meetings was 18, the members of the district present only averaged 6, but at the present meeting there were 14 present. He hoped that this was the turning point. He pointed out that a new Ringing Master of the district was to be elected, and he hoped they would all help him as much as they could. He also recommended ringers not to stay at their home towers so much, but get out to other towers and help themselves.

The district hon. secretary (Mr. H. Hancock) was re-elected, Mr. F. Hawthorne elected Ringing Master, Mrs. Beeson and Mr. H. J. Chaffey elected on the executive committee, and Rev. F. T. Robinson, of Chobham, as the hon. members' representative. With the exception of Mr. G. Grover as hon. secretary, all the retiring general officers were re-nominated.

The places for meeting chosen for 1931 were Thames Ditton, Horsell, East Molesey, Oatlands Park and Weybridge, with Chertsey for the annual meeting.

The business concluded with a vote of thanks to Admiral Walker for taking the chair and to the Vicar for use of the bells and the Parish Room. The bells were lowered at eight o'clock, and brought to a close one of the best meetings of the Chertsey District for the year.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The Leeds and District Society held a well-attended meeting at Pudsey, on Saturday, February 7th, when members were present from Armley, Batley, Bramley, Burley, Calverley, Drighlington, Headingley St. Chad's, Headingley St. Michael's, Holbeck, Idle, Leeds Parish Church, Liversedge, Pudsey, Queensbury, Rothwell and Rotherham.

The business meeting was held in the Park Hotel, immediately after tea. The president was unavoidably absent owing to illness, and Mr. T. Strangeway, vice-president, occupied the chair.

The date of the next meeting was February 28th, at Birstall.

Mr. P. J. Johnson proposed the vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens of Pudsey, and to the local company for the arrangements. Mr. Johnson said that he would specially like to couple the name of Mr. P. Cordingley with the vote of thanks.—Mr. G. Barraclough seconded.—Mr. W. H. Senior supported, and said he would like to place on record the assistance the members of the Pudsey company had given to the visitors that afternoon in helping them to ring higher methods.—Mr. Procter replied on behalf of the local company. The handbells were again well struck in various methods. The tower bells were rung during the day to the following methods: London, Superlative, Cambridge, Bristol, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, Bob Major and Stedman Triples.

A YEAR'S GOOD WORK.

No fewer than 163 720's of Minor were rung on the bells of St. Mary's Church, Fryerning, Essex, during 1930. These extents included 21 Surprise methods, 12 Treble Bob methods, and 7 plain methods. Surprise methods: London 6, Cambridge 11, Ipswich 8, Beverley 3, Carlisle 3, Wells 4, York 5, Norwich 7, Chester 3, Canterbury 3, Annable's London 3, Southwell 4, Cuneacastle 3, Surfleet 3, Westminster 3, Durham 4, Norfolk 2, Bourne 3, Hull 2, Allendale 2, Northumberland 2; total 720's in Surprise methods 84. Treble Bob methods: Oxford 8, Kent 7, Woodbine 10, Duke of York 5, New London Pleasure 7, London Scholars' Pleasure 5, Kingston 4, College Bob IV. 2, College Exercise 4, Cambridge Delight 2, Braintree Delight 2, St. Albans Delight 2; total 720's in Treble Bob methods, 58. Plain methods: Plain Bob 5, Double Court 7, Double Oxford 2, St. Clement's 2, College Single 2, Double Bob 2, Canterbury Pleasure 1; total 720's in plain methods, 21. Of these 720's, 124 were rung for Sunday services, and 39 on practice nights. Mr. Arthur Bradley, who is the leader at the tower, was the principal conductor, and the company is greatly indebted to him. For most of the year, St. Mary's could boast of only six ringers, and had it not been for the visits of Mr. J. Sitch, of Sheffield, the company would often have been short-handed. Their sincere thanks are, therefore, extended to him for his assistance. The other ringers taking part were Messrs. L. Camp, G. Camp, H. Wright, C. Harrington and E. Sitch.

THE 18 1/2 TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.,

THE FIRST RINGING 'HISTORY.'

This week there has been published by Messrs. Chapman and Hall, Ltd., a new volume concerning bells and bell ringing, which we hope will find a large sale among members of the Exercise. It is the first real attempt which has been made to incorporate in one book anything like a comprehensive history of the art of ringing. The author is Mr. Ernest Morris, of Leicester, and the work is the outcome of years of patient labour in collecting material and of strenuous, concentrated effort in extracting from the mass all that is of value and importance to enable the reader to get something like a complete view of the many phases of the art through the centuries. Mr. Morris is to be heartily congratulated upon the result. He passes in review or sets out in tabulated form a vast amount of information on all sorts of matters which have gone to make up the history and tradition of bell ringing, and he has done the work well.

This volume will be of intense interest to all ringers, and although the price is 25s., it is wonderful value for the money. It ought to find a place on the bookshelf of every ringer, but that, perhaps, is too much to hope for. Every ringer, we are sure, would like to possess a copy, but the hard fact remains that not all can afford to spend this sum for such a purpose. Many members of the Exercise will, of course, secure their personal copy, but in addition to that we would suggest that every band in the country might, out of their funds, or by pooling their own resources, purchase a copy for the use of all the members. It would form a valuable addition to those tower libraries which, some time ago, we suggested should be formed in every belfry, and, where one has not yet been formed, it might become the beginning round which a library could be built up. Not every ringer, admittedly, can afford 25s. for a book, but collective effort could put this new volume at the disposal of most of the bands in the kingdom. In some cases, perhaps, the church authorities might be induced to assist, but whatever steps are taken, we have no hesitation in saying that any ringer or band of ringers with this volume at their disposal will find in it many hours of instructive and profitable study, as well as of interesting reading. And in this connection we would emphasise the value of placing in every tower copies of the many useful modern text books on ringing which are obtainable, from the Central Council, the Snowdon series and elsewhere. No belfry can be considered as properly equipped which does not possess a library of ringing books, and in the establishment of this the church authorities can justifiably be asked to assist.

EDINBURGH SOCIETY'S BIG GATHERING.

St. Cuthbert's Society, Edinburgh, held their annual dinner in the Caledonian Station Hotel on Tuesday evening, February 17th, when about 100 ladies and gentlemen were present. It was regrettable that, owing to indisposition, Mr. C. Cleveland Ellis, O.B.E., the vice-president of the society, was unable to be present. This is the first occasion on which Mr. Ellis has been absent from the function since its inception 29 years ago.

During the evening five members of the society delighted the company with a short touch of Grandsire Caters on handbells, conducted by Mr. W. C. S. Heathcote.

All the arrangements were in the hands of Mr. W. C. G. Jenkins, the hon. secretary.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

READING BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Reading Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at Reading on Saturday, February 14th. Proceedings commenced at 3 p.m., when excellent touches in various methods were rung on the bells of St. Mary's, St. Giles', and St. Laurence's, until 6 p.m. A ringers' service was then held at St. Laurence's Church, conducted by the Rev. J. N. Raper, who gave an appropriate address. Mr. S. Lodge, one of the ringers, gave his services at the organ. Seventy-three members from the branch towers, including visitors from Englefield, Newbury, Bushey, Crouch End, Wealdstone, Thatcham, Iwer, and Goring, assembled for the and the business meeting, at the Central Girls' Club Hall, Chain Street. Mr. L. Joyce presided over the business meeting, at which there were also present the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (Master of the Guild), Canon G. F. Coleridge, Mr. A. J. Wright (treasurer of the Guild), Mr. R. T. Hibbert (secretary of the Guild), Rev. St. George Edwards, Rev. E. G. Beckwith, Mr. W. S. Pearson, and Mr. F. W. Hopgood (hon. branch secretary and treasurer).

The chairman having welcomed the visitors, the secretary's report, which showed that the branch had once more had a successful year, was read. Mention was made of three members the branch had lost during the year by death. The quarterly meetings had been held at Tilehurst, Mortimer and Checkendon.

The officers were all re-elected, viz.: Chairman, Mr. L. Joyce; honorary secretary and treasurer, Mr. F. W. Hopgood, with his assistant Miss M. Hopgood; auditors, Messrs. A. Wiggins and E. G. Foster; committee, Messrs. J. Swain, W. Appleby and H. Tucker, and all were thanked for their services.

The quarterly meetings for 1931 were arranged for Shiplake, Nettlebed and Mortimer. Satisfactory tower reports were heard from most of the branch towers.

The Master then spoke some encouraging words upon the healthy state of the branch, after which a vote of thanks was passed, on the motion of the chairman, to the Vicar and organist of St. Laurence's for the beautiful service which had been held.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

The annual meeting held at Alton was not very largely attended, but this was probably to be accounted for by the general prevalence of influenza and also by the fact that the Guildford District's postponed meeting was being held on the same date. The chairman (Rev. F. G. Eyres) presided, and the company of twenty-four included Mr. George Williams (Master), the Vicars of Alton and Binsted, Mr. Wilfrid Andrews (Winchester), Mr. G. Pullinger (Bishopstoke), Mr. and Mrs. R. Hasted (Farnham) and other ringers from Blackmoor, Farnborough, Privett and Ropley.

The election of officers resulted in the re-election of those already serving, viz.: Chairman, Rev. F. G. Eyres (Blackmoor); hon. secretary, Rev. B. C. Taylor (Binsted); hon. auditor, Rev. T. N. R. Griffin (Alton); representative on Central Committee, Mr. W. Read (Blackmoor).

The hon. secretary's report for last year showed that the membership of the district is: Hon. members 6, full members 21, unattached 1; but there are good prospects of these numbers being increased in the near future.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The meeting of the Western Division of the Herts County Association at Berkhamsted was attended by more than twenty ringers from Apsley, Berkhamsted, Hemel Hempstead, Tring, King's Langley, Chertsey, Ellesborough, Linslade. Various methods were rung in Minor, Triples and Major. The Vicar (Rev. F. Stainsby) conducted the service, and in his address, which was based on the text, 'He endureth to the end,' he mentioned that one of the oldest of the local ringers was Mr. F. Norris, who for 53 years had rung Sunday after Sunday, until illness kept him away.

The Vicar kindly entertained the ringers to tea, and presided at the business meeting which followed, when six new members were elected, including two ladies from Berkhamsted.

The Secretary (Mr. J. Puppelt), on behalf of all present, thanked the Vicar for all he had done in helping to make the meeting such a success.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Ely Archdeaconry was held at Fulbourn on Saturday, when, in spite of the wintry weather, there was an excellent attendance, members being present from Cambridge, Cherryhinton, Dry Drayton, Exning, Fulbourn, Ickleton, Newmarket, Newton, Sawston, Stapleford, Stetchworth and Trumpington.

Ringling commenced at 3 p.m., the methods ranging from Bob Minor to Cambridge Surprise Major.

A service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. T. H. Hennessey), who gave a very helpful address. Mr. Austin presided at the organ, and Mr. Finch read the lesson. The Rector very kindly invited the company to tea at the Six Bells Inn, and presided over the business meeting which followed.

Mr. P. Amos, of Wellingborough, was elected a non-resident life member of the association, and Mr. Brookes, of Fulbourn, was re-elected.

It was decided to hold a by-meeting at Stetchworth on March 28th. The committee have arranged the quarterly meetings as follows: Soham, May 23rd; Bourn, September 12th; Longstanton or Over, December 5th.

Mr. A. E. Austin kindly consented to accept the office of District Ringing Master.

The meeting concluded with a very hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells and for his hospitality.

WOOLWICH RINGERS' SUPPER.

At the annual supper of the ringers of the Parish Church of St. Mary Magdalene, Woolwich, at which numerous guests were entertained, and the Rector (Canon Pickering) was the chairman, Mr. Cyril Palmer (hon. secretary) spoke encouragingly of the work of the band during the past year. The training of beginners, he said, was of special importance. It was fallacious to imagine that as long as the band was at full strength all was well. A constant supply of new material was needed to fill gaps caused by retirement and illness. The present members were united not only by a strong bond of loyalty to their band but by active churchmanship.

On behalf of the ringers, Mr. Sales welcomed the visitors and ladies, and replies were made by Mr. Falconer and Mrs. Gribben.

After supper the guests were entertained with an amusing sketch, 'The Love Potion,' performed by members of the 2nd Woolwich (St. Mary's) Company of Rangers. Songs by Miss Winifred M. Crussell and piano music by Miss B. Elliot and Mr. R. Sales ended a pleasant evening.

A SPADE WORKER.

The death occurred on Wednesday, February 18th, of Mr. G. Packer, of Minchinhampton, who passed away at the age of 67 years. Although not figuring extensively in peal ringing, the deceased was known to have done much spade work in the district, and 25 years ago formed the nucleus of the present band at Minchinhampton, the bells having then been silent for a long period. Mr. Packer was an enthusiastic member of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, and relished nothing more than a ringing meeting and a push bike for transport. His fellow-ringers acted as funeral bearers, four of whom rang a course of Grandsire Triples on handbells over the grave. The 'whole pull and stand' was then rung by the local band on the tower bells. Further ringing took place, but owing to a large company being present nothing more definite was attempted. Among many who attended was Mr. A. Wright, secretary of the Stroud Branch of the Association.

RINGING INSTRUCTOR IN AMERICA.

On Sunday evening, at the Church of St. Matthew, Bethnal Green, London, members of the local Guild rang a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) in 44 mins.: J. Martin 1, J. F. Parrott 2, J. H. Parrott 3, I. J. Attwater (conductor) 4, S. Penfold 5, H. Hills 6, F. Smith 7, H. C. Taylor 8.

This was rung as a farewell to Mr. I. J. Attwater, who is leaving for America to take up an appointment as ringing instructor.

On the conclusion of the ringing, the steeplekeeper, Mr. W. Stevens, asked Mr. Attwater to accept a case of pipes as a parting gift from the members, and, in wishing him a safe voyage and success in his new sphere, spoke of the valuable assistance he (Mr. Attwater) had given to the members in their efforts to master the art of change ringing.

DONCASTER RINGERS ENTERTAINED.

On February 26th Mr. George Halksworth, the Ringing Master of the Southern District of the Yorkshire Association, and vice-president of the Doncaster and District Society, celebrated his retirement from work and his 65th birthday by giving his loyal band at St. George's Church, Doncaster, a sumptuous supper at 30, Auckland Road, Doncaster. The company were entertained by Mrs. and Miss Dora Halksworth at the piano, the party, after an enjoyable evening, breaking up at midnight. Mr. Halksworth has been a ringer at Doncaster Parish Church, 35 years.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Attention is called to the reduced prices advertised by Mr. T. E. Russell for the bell inkstands. An interesting departure is made in the 5in. size, which can now be obtained adapted for holding fifty cigarettes.

Mr. Harry Withers upheld his record on Saturday by attending his 34th consecutive Johnson dinner at Birmingham. Mr. A. Paddon Smith, whose 'first in any method' coincided with that of Mr. Withers, has missed only one (when business took him to India), whilst Mr. A. A. Hughes, of the Whitechapel Foundry, was present on Saturday for the 25th time. There is evidently nothing in a Johnson dinner to interfere with a man's constitution.

This year's event was, as usual, spread over two days, and 'Nelson' winked his blind eye upon a very hospitable gathering on Sunday.

We understand there is no foundation for the rumour that a search party went out from Birmingham on Sunday morning to look for the travellers who set off in the snowstorm at 12.30 a.m. to drive to Surfleet, Lincs.

They are a hardy race, these Lincolnshire folk, but even they took Coles with them as a precaution on such a night.

It is suggested by a humorist that the best way out of the present impasse over the publication of the Minor Methods Collection is that it should be issued without a cover!

A hundred and forty years ago to-morrow a peal of '5,040 Double Bob Royal 10-in' was rung at St. Mary's, Nottingham, conducted by William Doubleday Crofts. There were two men on the ninth and two on the tenor.

On March 8th, 1737—only a little more than twenty years after the first recorded peal—the Norwich men rang a peal of 12,603 Grandsire Caters at St. Peter Mancroft, a performance that occupied 8 hrs. 15 mins.

Exactly 130 years ago next Tuesday, a peal of 7,001 Grandsire Caters was rung at Kingston-on-Thames, a peal of 5,040 having been rung on the same bells by the same band a month before.

The Bedfordshire Association was founded on March 13th, 1882, so that next year will be the jubilee.

ALDERMAN J. S. PRITCHETT.

At a meeting of the Board of Governors of King Edward's School, Birmingham, on February 17th, Alderman J. S. Pritchett was unanimously elected bailiff.

Alderman Pritchett entered the school in 1864 at the age of nine. In 1870 he was first in all England of the juniors in the Oxford Local Examination, a fellow pupil, Sir W. Napier Shaw, a former head of the Meteorological Office, being first of the seniors in the same examination, thus constituting a notable record for the school.

Mr. Pritchett went up to Balliol College, Oxford, as exhibitioner in 1873, and four years later obtained a first-class in the final Mathematical School, graduating B.A. in 1877, M.A. in 1880, and taking the Bachelor of Civil Law degree in 1887. He was called to the Bar in 1881, appointed Recorder of Lincoln in 1920, and Hon. Legal Adviser to the Library Association last year. His duties as bailiff commence at the end of March.

Alderman Pritchett, who is Presiding Ringing Master of St. Martin's Guild, rang a peal of Stedman Cinques for his 76th birthday a week or two ago.

HIGH WYCOMBE BELLS TO BE OVERHAULED.

At the annual meeting of the members of the High Wycombe belfry, the Vicar presiding, the officers for the year were re-elected, viz.: President, the Vicar; foreman, Mr. Ralph Coles; deputy, Mr. George White; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. George Twitchen. One new member was elected.

The president alluded to the work that was being carried out with reference to the overhauling of the bells; the eleventh and tenor had been put in good order, with new bearings, etc., and the scheme for overhauling the whole of the bells had been accepted by the churchwardens.

The annual outing was fixed for May 25th.

The Secretary reported that 1,431 attendances had been put in for Sunday, special and practice ringing. The methods rung for services were: Stedman Cinques 38, Grandsire Cinques 1, Bob Royal 15, Kent Royal 2, Stedman Caters 30, Grandsire Caters 2, Bob Major 8, Stedman Triples 3, Grandsire Triples 3. The above included two quarter-peals of Bob Royal and three of Stedman Cinques. The conducting of the service touches was shared by Messrs. F. Hayes (45), G. W. Wilkins (23), G. Twitchen (17), G. White (10), R. Coles (4), and E. R. Coles (4).

The treasurer presented a detailed balance sheet of the accounts; these were considered and unanimously accepted.

At the conclusion of the business the ringers were hospitably entertained to supper by the Vicar and Mrs. Float. The meal was heartily enjoyed, as also were the 'yarns' told between the various courses. Mr. G. White voiced the gratitude of the members to the Rev. W. L. Float and his mother for their kindness; Mr. J. W. Wilkin supported, and the vote of thanks was enthusiastically accorded.

HENRY JOHNSON COMMEMORATION DINNER.

NOTABLE GATHERING AT BIRMINGHAM.

Saturday's gathering at Birmingham for the 43rd annual Henry Johnson commemoration dinner was a notable one. Not only was there an attendance of over 150 representative ringers, but for the first time the proceedings were honoured by the presence of the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress of Birmingham. The 'clans' gathered during the afternoon at the various belfries of the city, the headquarters of St. Martin's Guild being, of course, the chief centre of attraction. Most of the visitors took the opportunity of ringing on this fine peal of twelve, and some took their 'hors d'œuvre' at the Cathedral, where ringing at the back end is a real 'man's' job.

Dinner was served at the Imperial Hotel, where excellent arrangements for the comfort of the guests had been made by Mr. Thos. H. Reeves, the genial hon. secretary of St. Martin's Guild. Canon T. Guy Rogers, B.D., M.C., Rector of Birmingham, presided, and he was supported by the Lady Mayoress (Mrs. Saunders), Alderman J. S. Pritchett, M.A., B.C.L. (Presiding Ringing Master), Mrs. Guy Rogers, the Lord Mayor (Alderman W. W. Saunders, who wore his chain of office), Mrs. Pritchett, Mr. E. H. Lewis (president of the Central Council), Mr. T. H. Reeves (hon. secretary), Mr. A. Walker (Deputy Ringing Master) and Mrs. Walker, Mr. A. Paddon Smith (vice-president) and Mrs. Smith, Mr. W. R. Heaton, of Solihull, who was one of the first two churchwardens to ring a peal together during their term of office. Among others present were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Parsons (Old Hill), Mr. H. Mason (Hagley), Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hughes (London), Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Goldsmith (Woking), Mr. W. D. Smith and Mr. F. E. Dawe (London), Messrs. Cusworth and Robinson (churchwardens of St. Martin's), Messrs. J. J. Kendall and F. W. Blake (ex-churchwardens), and Dr. Mitchell. The officers of the Guild present, who are not already mentioned, were Messrs. J. H. Shepherd, T. Russam and J. E. Groves (vice-presidents), J. Preston and E. T. Allaway (auditors), G. F. Swann (librarian). Mr. Joseph Johnson (son of Henry Johnson) and his wife were there, and among visitors from a distance were Mr. P. J. Johnson (hon. secretary of the Yorkshire Association), Mr. J. Burford (representing Bristol United Guilds), Mr. C. T. Coles (hon. secretary of the Middlesex Association) and Mrs. Coles, Messrs. S. F. Palmer and J. Holman (Sheffield), A. C. Fearnley and G. Richardson (Surfleet), Mr. T. Ladd (Spalding), Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Smallwood (Ipswich), Mr. and Mrs. Perrins, Mr. and Mrs. Pervin and Mr. W. Hibbert (Coventry), Mr. Jefferies (Worcester), Mr. G. Hollifield, sen., and Mr. G. Hollifield, jun. (Appleton), and ringers from many towers within a large radius of the city. An excellent meal was enjoyed, after which the loyal toast was honoured.

In proposing the toast of 'The Church and State,' Mr. Harry Mason said the Rector of Birmingham was lucky to have such an enthusiastic band of ringers as that at St. Martin's. It was always a pleasure to come in contact with them. The Church, he continued, had to meet many vicissitudes, but the Church was a great heritage of which they were all proud, and it was their duty as churchmen to serve and help it in every way they could (applause). There were difficulties, too, in front of the State, and they could only hope that they would be successfully surmounted. Their earnest prayer was that Church and State in this country might long be united (applause).

RECTOR'S TRIBUTE TO HIS RINGERS.

The Chairman, who responded, said there were different views on the relation of Church and State. There was one view which represented the unity of the Church and State as of so close a nature that they might be regarded as the reverse and obverse sides of a penny—one side the Church and the other side the State—one the 'head' and the other the 'tail,' but he would not suggest which was which (laughter). Another view was that the relationship was a kind of working partnership, where they might have two horses drawing one carriage. If necessary, they could take one horse out, and the other could still carry on. There was a third view, where the Church regarded itself as entirely separate, carrying on its own spiritual life and activities, and, although it might be friendly with the State, preserving its independence. The Church of England, in his opinion, stood for the second view, the working partnership, and he thought this view could be sustained just as long as they succeeded, not in making the Church political, but in helping to make the State religious (hear, hear). Continuing, the Chairman said he was tremendously proud to be Rector of a church where the belfry was filled by members of that magnificent Guild, and he was highly honoured to be one of their vice-presidents. The Church owed a great debt to the bellringers of St. Martin's, and he would like to take that opportunity of expressing his gratitude to them, not only for the regular performance of their duties, but also for the ready response which they were always prepared to make for any special occasion on which their services were desired. He had known men give up their dinner hour in order to sustain the reputation of St. Martin's and add that extra dignity to the service which bellringing provided. He congratulated Mr. Walker upon the splendid spirit which was to be found among the members of the Guild (applause). Whenever he visited the ringing chamber he always felt that spirit of fellowship which counted so much in any church or association for success. He appreciated the welcome he always got, and if all through the country there could be found the same happy relationship between bellringers and Rectors that there was at St. Martin's, the Church of England would be able to discharge its duties and perform its services to the nation better even than it did (applause). The success of the Church depended upon the relationship between all the institutions that contributed to its activities, and if all could work in harmony they need have no fear of Church life dying out, and they need fear no attack upon the institutions of the Church if they could present throughout the country just that united service and work that he was proud to think was really characteristic of the church which he represented (applause). If they could present that all over the country they would find the Church enshrined in the love and affection of the people. The Chairman went on to say that they received from all parts of the country testimony to the beauty of the ringing of the bells of St. Martin's when they were broadcast. The ringing of the bells for these services touched the hearts of the people, just as did the preacher's word, and in that respect it was a contribution to the religious life of the nation (applause). The speaker added that that was a very special occasion for them that night, for they had with them the Lord Mayor and the Lady Mayoress of Birmingham (applause). The Lady Mayoress had told him that that was the most friendly and the most homely public dinner and the one she had most enjoyed since she became Lady Mayoress (applause). He desired to express the great appreciation of everyone present that the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress had honoured them by coming among them, and it was typical of the unity of Church and State that they found the Lord Mayor of Birmingham and the Rector of Birmingham united at that great gathering (applause).

A NOBLE CITIZEN.

To Mr. John Jaggard, of Oldbury, was entrusted the toast of 'The Memory of Henry Johnson,' whom he described as one of the noblest citizens that Birmingham ever had. His name would last as long as bellringing existed. He was a true and devout churchman, a faithful and loyal citizen. He was a 'champion' among ringers of his day. Mr. Jaggard referred to the origin of the Johnson dinners, which really began with the gathering at the Dog and Partridge after a peal in honour of Johnson's 73rd birthday. One of the inscriptions on the bells, he said, was this: 'Ye ringers all who prize your health and happiness, be sober, merry, wise, and you'll have the same possess.' All good ringers, he added, were sober ringers—soberminded, sober in speech and sober in habit. They had only to look round that room to see how merry they could be, and they could tell that they were wise ringers because many of them had brought their wives with them (laughter and applause). Mr. Jaggard concluded with an amusing story of one of Johnson's experiences while calling a peal at Willenhall on August 10th, 1888, when a chorus of small boys on the belfry steps interpolated bobs and were eventually chased by a 'bobby.'

The toast was drunk in silence, and the chairman then asked those who knew Henry Johnson to stand up. They totalled 14, and all, of course, have reached the 'sere and yellow leaf,' though most of them appeared still to be young in spirit.

A well-high perfect course of Stedman Cinques was next rung on handbells by Messrs. F. Pervin, F. Perrins, A. Walker, G. F. Swann, A. E. Norman and M. J. Morris.

PRESIDING RINGING MASTER'S REVIEW.

Alderman J. S. Pritchett performed his customary task of reviewing the work of the Guild when proposing the toast to its continued prosperity. That evening they had, he said, a record gathering in many respects. They did not, perhaps, exceed in numbers those of former banquets, but in its representative character and the quality of those present he thought it was the finest meeting they had. He missed scarcely anyone whom he would have expected to be there, except Mr. James George, who was passing through an illness. There was one subject of congratulation for the Guild. During the year that had passed—and he did not think he had ever been able to say this before—death had not deprived them of any of their comrades, unless, perhaps, the term 'comrade' applied to the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies, who was a life member of the Guild. He was indeed a comrade of every ringer throughout the country, and in common with ringers all over the world they sincerely deplored his death. He

HODNET BELLS RESTORED.

RUDHALL'S RING RETURNED.

On Saturday last the rededication of the peal of six bells at Hodnet, Shropshire, took place, the ceremony being performed by the Bishop of Stafford.

The service commenced at 3 p.m., and in spite of the snowstorm which raged during the afternoon, the large church was well filled. The Bishop gave an inspiring and instructive address, and spoke on the message sent out by the fine-tuned bells in many towers all over the country.

Immediately after the hymn, 'Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty' (which was written by the late Bishop Heber when he lived at Hodnet Rectory), the Bishop rededicated the bells and dedicated the new chiming apparatus, and a picked band of ringers then rang a short touch of Grandsire Doubles and lowered the bells in peal. At the conclusion of the service the hymn, 'Abide with me,' was played on the chiming apparatus by Mr. J. P. Fidler (who represented Messrs. Taylor and Co.), and as the congregation were leaving the church the same band of ringers raised the bells in peal and rang a 240 of Grandsire Doubles.

Afterwards the Bishop and Rector visited the ringing chamber and were photographed with the ringers.

The tower was then thrown open to all visitors, and the bells were kept going merrily till 5.30, when tea was partaken of in the Lyon Memorial Hall, there being 36 ringers present from most of the change-ringing towers in the district, some of the places represented being Coalbrookdale, Market Drayton, Shrewsbury, Malins Lee, Moreton Corbet, Stanton, Whitchurch and the local band. After tea, a well-struck course of Grandsire Caters was rung on handbells by the Coalbrookdale men. The ringers then returned to the tower, and the bells were kept going till nine o'clock in the following methods: Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Minor, and call changes for the local men, several of whom rang the tenor to their first six-score of Doubles.

The bells at Hodnet were cast by Thomas Rudhall, of Gloucester, in 1769, but had been unringable for some years. They have now been tuned and rehung in a cast-iron frame for eight by Messrs. Taylor and Co. The bells have been much improved by the tuning; they are much softer in tone, and are now a really mellow old six, and give the impression outside the tower of being a heavier peal than they really are.

Hodnet now possesses one of the best peals of six in the county. The 'go' is perfection, and on Saturday nothing but praise was heard on all sides. A new set of guides has been put in, as the bells are rung from the ground floor, and a chiming apparatus (the gift of Mr. A. H. Heber Percy) has also been installed. The following are the inscriptions and weights of the bells:—

3rd.—Prosperity to this Parish. T. R., 1769. (Weight 6 cwt. 3 qr. 10 lb.)

4th.—Thos. Rudhall, Gloucester, Founder, 1769. (Weight 7 cwt. 3 qr. 15 lb.)

5th.—Mr. Rowland Dicken, Richd. Wood, Chwardens. T. R., 1769. (Weight 9 cwt. 2 qr. 23 lb.)

Tenor.—I to the church the living call and to the grave do summon all. T. R., 1769. (Weight 12 cwt. 24 lb.)

DEATH OF AN EXETER RINGER.

By the death of Mr. T. John Stokes, of the St. Thomas' band, Exeter, which occurred on Wednesday, Feb. 11th, at the age of 52, after a short but painful illness, Exeter ringers have lost a popular and much respected friend. He was a staunch churchman, having been connected with St. Thomas' Church practically all his life, first as a chorister, then a bellringer, and, later, a sidesman. As a ringer he joined the Devonshire Guild in 1895, and held the office of secretary and treasurer of St. Thomas' band for over thirty years. He was also secretary and treasurer of the Exeter Branch of the Devon Guild from 1926 to 1928. At the annual meeting last year he was elected general treasurer of the Guild.

Mr. Stokes loved his ringing, was regular in his attendance at practice, as he always was on Sundays, both morning and evening. He was ever ready to help to instruct and impart the method of ringing to any beginner. He was at one time one of a cycle party that used to go on ringing expeditions, sometimes miles away from home, and would often be away over the week-end, such was his delight in ringing. He was not a great peal ringer, having rung only seven peals, viz., one of Stedman and six of Grandsire Triples, but in taking part he was always a safe and reliable performer. His loss will be a great setback to St. Thomas' band.

The interment took place at Exwick Cemetery, the first part of the service being held at St. Thomas' Church. The obsequies were attended by a large number of friends and parishioners, and ringers were present from St. Thomas', St. Sidwell's, St. David's, Heavitree and Clyst St. George. The Rev. E. S. Powell, president of the Guild, assisted in the service, and among the large number of beautiful floral tributes were wreaths from the Devon Guild of Ringers and St. Thomas' band. The bells of St. Thomas' were rung muffled after the interment, and again in the evening by St. Thomas' band and other members of the Guild.

was a great ringer, a great authority on ringing, a most kindly and benevolent man. It was a great privilege to be acquainted with him, as he (the speaker) was for two years at Oxford, when they were students at that great University. Continuing, Ald. Pritchett said that during the year the Guild had rung 19 peals, including nine peals of Stedman Cinques and two of Cambridge Maximus. There had taken part in these 19 peals 66 ringers, and there had been seven conductors. The ringers of Birmingham extended their influence, and had given their help in neighbouring churches, and there were healthy bands in surrounding places such as King's Norton, Erdington and elsewhere, all of whom looked upon St. Martin's Church as their headquarters. During the year several young ringers of bright promise had come forward. It was, perhaps, invidious to mention names, but there were three which came into his mind; they were the brothers G. and H. Fearn and Mr. E. Cole, while another who proved his mettle in a remarkable way was Mr. Sibley, of Coventry, who, at the first attempt, rang a peal of Stedman Cinques on handbells, and they cordially congratulated him upon that excellent performance. St. Martin's Guild had always prospered; it had gone on step by step ringing peals in new methods, and enlisting new members, and he hoped it would continue to do so. The spirit that animated the Guild was one of continued progress, and the future was certain to be one of continued prosperity. He expressed his personal thanks to the members of the Guild who took part in the peal of Stedman Cinques for his 76th birthday (applause). He was deeply grateful to them, and he was grateful that he was able to take part in peal ringing at his age (applause). He had close to him Mr. Kendall, ex-churchwarden of St. Martin's, who had never rung a peal or even rung a bell, and he (the speaker) could not understand why the Rector should appoint a man who could not ring a bell (laughter). On the previous Friday Mr. Kendall celebrated his 82nd birthday (applause). Had he been a ringer, like himself, he might now have been ninety (laughter). St. Martin's Guild, proceeded Ald. Pritchett, could not have prospered as it had done but for the zealous and faithful services of its officers, chief of whom was Mr. Reeves, their hon. secretary (applause). They were not insensible of their great indebtedness to his predecessor, Mr. Paddon Smith (applause), and the best tribute he could pay to Mr. Reeves was that he was very ably following in the footsteps of his illustrious predecessor (applause).

Mr. Reeves, who was cordially received, responded to the toast. He said the Guild, as the Presiding Master had just observed, had prospered, and they prospered because they had such a wonderful band of officers. All the officers were present that night except Mr. George, and they knew that he would have been present if he had not been confined to bed. When he saw that large company so happy and comfortable it was full compensation for the labour involved in arranging the dinner. When he saw how much they enjoyed it, he felt it was worth it all (applause). The wonderful team spirit which they got in the Guild made them a very happy band, and while it existed the Guild would continue to prosper and continue to be the force it was in the ringing world (applause).

Further toasts were honoured, and the reports of the speeches will appear in our next issue.

'THE HISTORY AND ART OF RINGING'COMPLETION OF A GREAT WORK.

The story of the birth and development of the art of change ringing has been chronicled by many writers, from Fabian Stedman, who in his 'Tintinnalogia' in 1668 put it on record that 'within these fifty or sixty years last past changes were not known,' down to Snowden, who concentrated on individual methods, and others who are still with us. The history, however, has been, in a sense, fragmentary. Here the story of early peals of Grandsire; there the biography of some famous ringer; elsewhere a review of the development of composition in Stedman, and so on, covering most of the known ground. Now, however, for the first time the art of ringing has got a comprehensive history between the covers of one book: 'The History and Art of Change Ringing,' published by Messrs. Chapman and Hall. The historian is Mr. Ernest Morris, of Leicester, hon. secretary of the Midland Counties Association, and well known throughout the Exercise.

A glance at the volume, which covers nearly 700 pages, shows that Mr. Morris has accomplished a stupendous task. Those who know him know the enthusiasm and keenness with which, for many years, he has collected information about bells and bellringing, and now, from a great mass of material accumulated by his own painstaking efforts and supplemented by information placed at his disposal by other collectors, he has given the public at large, and the Exercise in particular, a history which deals with practically every phase of campanology, from a brief outline of the origin and development of bells themselves down to Spliced Surprise ringing. The range of his subjects is complete. He deals not only with the history of the art itself, but devotes much space to the ancient ringing societies, to famous ringers and composers of the past and present, and many other subjects which will interest and enlighten ringers and public alike. Mr. Morris has sifted his material with an accomplished hand and discerning eye, and offers it to his readers in an attractive form. The volume is crammed full of information and interest; it will not only be read with pleasure, but will become a book of reference.

MR. ERNEST MORRIS.

By the same publishers as 'Bells Through the Ages,' the volume has been splendidly produced by Messrs. Chapman and Hall, and the addition of over 120 illustrations on art paper adds materially to its value. There are many photographs of celebrated ringers and groups, and the utility of the book is enhanced by a full index of names, places and subjects to facilitate ready reference. The volume is published at 25s. net.

THE AUTHOR.

Mr. Ernest Morris is not new to work of this kind. He is the author of 'History of St. Margaret's, Leicester,' and has completely revised the 'Church Bells of Leicester.' In this connection he has obtained the history and inscription of every bell in the county. This work is at present only in manuscript. Mr. Morris also assisted in transcribing St. Margaret's parish registers from the year 1604. In addition to being general hon. secretary of the Midland Counties Association, a member of twenty-five other ringing guilds and associations, and Master of St. Margaret's, Leicester, he is a member of Leicestershire Archaeological Society.

By a coincidence, Mr. Morris has just rung his 600th peal, and in this performance he has created a record by having rung 503 for the Midland Counties Association in more methods and places than any other member. He has rung peals in 116 towers in Leicestershire alone on all numbers of bells from 5 to 12—a record unequalled by any one ringer in any single county. Many of his peals have been rung on handbells, and he called the only 'Ernest' peal ever rung.

WORCESTERSHIRE AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday, Feb. 28th, the members of the Western Branch of the Worcestershire and Districts Association held their quarterly meeting at Powyke by the kind invitation of the Vicar, Rev. F. C. Champion. The following towers were represented: Claines, Crowle, Droitwich (St. Peter's), Grimley, Hallow, Madresfield, Malvern Link, Powyke, Ripple, Suckley, Upton-on-Severn, Worcester (Cathedral, All Saints' and St. John's), and Wychbold, with visitors from Bromsgrove and Bredonbury. About forty members attended the service, at which the Vicar gave an excellent address. Tea was afterwards partaken of at the Coventry Arms Hotel, kindly provided by the Vicar and friends.

This was immediately followed by the business meeting, at which several items were discussed, and a hearty vote of thanks accorded to the Vicar and those who helped to make the meeting a success.

Afterwards the ringers returned to the tower, where several touches of Minor, including London and Cambridge Surprise, Double Oxford and Double Bob were successfully brought round.

A LECTURE ON BELLS.

On Monday evening, February 16th, a lecture on 'English bells, ancient and modern,' illustrated by lantern slides, was given in the Church House, Totnes, Devonshire, by Mr. F. Murray Roberts, to the Totnes Branch of the Church of England Men's Society, and by special invitation the Totnes Parish Church ringers attended. The lecturer kept those present keenly interested, and showed an extensive knowledge of church bells.

The Vicar moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Roberts, which was carried with acclamation.

The slides were kindly lent by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., Loughborough, and proved a most interesting set, showing some old and some modern bells, also carillons and ringing peals in various stages of construction.

SUSSEX PEALS IN SURREY TOWERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I feel I ought to reply to the letter and your leading article upon the above subject. Both the letter and the article are, of course, the opinion of two separate persons, and doubtless there are many who agree with them and many who do not. I am one of those persons who do not. The matter has been discussed many times between myself and the secretary of the Southern District of the Surrey Association, and the only argument that I can find advanced is the fact that certain sums of money may be lost to the association in new membership fees if peals are rung by outside associations. I fail to see how I can slight the hospitality of the Surrey Association, as they have no control of the towers, and they, like myself, enjoy the hospitality of the local bands and incumbent when they visit these towers for meetings, etc. I regret, however, that there should be any ill-feeling in this matter, as I have many ringing friends in the Southern District. I do not think there is very much ill-feeling, as I have invitations to visit three towers in Surrey immediately after Lent.

Now a few words as to the peal and the composition of the band. The peal was one of Bristol Surprise, incidentally the first in the method on the bells, and the band were all Sussex residents and active members of the Sussex County Association. Would it not have been ridiculous to have published this as a Surrey Association peal? It would have been something like the Arsenal team turning out as Aston Villa. Therefore, my decision to publish this peal as a Sussex peal.

The peal 'tax' has no bearing upon the matter. I do object to this tax, as being a tax on progress, and consequently for a period of nine months I refused to ring peals in Surrey towers. I have, however, since rung Surrey peals with the assistance of the district secretary and other officials with the plain understanding that I should not pay this tax.

Finally, upon this subject, let me say that in ringing a Sussex peal in Surrey, I am only in line with the Surrey Association themselves. Within recent years peals have been rung by this association at Warnham, Rasper and Crawley in Sussex, and at Epsom, Woking and Ramore in the Guildford territory.

If your correspondent had confined himself to the question of the peal, all would have been well, as it is a matter of interest, and gives food for thought. He, however, launches a personal attack upon myself, which I do not intend to leave unanswered.

First, with regard to meetings attended by myself, although as a Sussex man I am under no obligation to attend Surrey meetings, during the past twelve months I have attended meetings at Mersham, Horley and Oxted. Mr. B. H. Wells should remember all these.

Originally a member of the Mersham band, a difference of opinion apparently found Mr. Wells outside, and he became 'a bird of passage,' getting his ringing where he could. As such he found his way to Crawley, and his help for service ringing and practice was appreciated, particularly as, upon occasion, Sunday ringers were scarce owing to duties in gardens, etc. Appreciating his services, I gave him every opportunity for peal ringing that I could, and brought him along from a Bob Major ringer to Surprise. During this period he took part in no less than 54 peals, all arranged and conducted by myself. His penchant, however, for finding fault asserted itself, and relations between himself and my band became somewhat strained. Finally, and to cut a long story short, he objected to a system of practices which I had to adopt, and threatened to cause trouble in the tower. I had, therefore, no other alternative but to request him not to continue his visits.—Yours faithfully,

Crawley.

OLIVER SIPPETTS.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Western Division was held at Pulborough on Saturday, February 21st. Service was conducted by the Rev. T. E. Williams, curate, in the absence of the Rector of Pulborough. Tea at the Chequers Inn was attended by 29 members and friends.

The business meeting followed, with Canon Edward C. Corfe presiding, supported by the Rev. T. E. Williams and Churchwarden Deudney. Only one new member was elected, viz., John Ashstead, of Heene.

Mr. A. W. Groves was again elected as hon. district secretary, Messrs. G. Norriss, W. Charman and T. Adams representatives on the general committee, whilst Messrs. E. Lindup, J. Burdfield and C. Greenfield were appointed as the Committee of Advice.

The following towers were selected for quarterly meetings: Rudgwick, Arundel, Washington and Heene. Votes of thanks were accorded to Canon Corfe for presiding, and to the Rector for granting the use of the bells, also to Mr. P. Doick for making the local arrangements.

Ringers were present from the following towers: St. Peter's, Brighton, Shoreham, Horsham, Billingshurst, Uchingfield, Heene, Rudgwick, Warnham, Sleyning, Chichester, Kirdford, Slinfold, Fittleworth and members of the local band.

Some very good practice in the standard methods was obtained during the afternoon and evening.

THE CONSTRUCTION OF METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The writer on Variation and Transposition, I notice, is still trying to make your readers believe that the places, or moves, at the cross-sections are the only ones that count in the construction of methods.

I know it is quite useless to try to convince him, but I think I can prove to your readers that there is another and a truer way of explaining the construction of any method, be it Plain, Treble Bob, or Surprise, and they will be able, if they care to take the trouble, to prove the truth of my statement that every place, or move, counts.

Following is a Treble Bob Method, and except that there are no moves at the cross-sections, of the moves used four are found in Norfolk Surprise, and six in Superlative Surprise, and these are also used in many other methods as well.

As a Treble Bob Method it is remarkably good in the coursing order of the bells in front and behind, and there are only two false course-ends, tenors together—32465 and 43265.

The lead-heads resulting from the individual moves and the transpositions are given at the side.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

Owing to the very severe snowstorm which fell in that part of the world on Saturday, the younger members of the Leeds and District Society had the field to themselves at the periodical meeting. The average age of those present was well under 35. Members travelled to Birstall from Armley, Burley, Batley, Holbeck, Liversedge, Lindley and Drighlington. A pleasing feature of the meeting was the way in which the learners handled the bells, and the attention paid to the striking, which speaks volumes for the tutors at Burley and Holbeck, and augurs well for the future ringing at these newly restarted towers. Methods rung during the meeting were Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich, Stedman Triples, and Superlative.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens of Birstall for the use of the bells, and to the local company for the arrangements, was proposed by Mr. L. W. Morris and seconded by Mr. T. Strangway.—Mr. Herbert Peel replied on behalf of the local ringers.

Four new members were elected.

The secretary would like all members to note that the next meeting is the nomination meeting, and will be held at Armley. All nominations must be sent in before the last Saturday in this month.

CHURCH CLOCKS.

Messrs. J. B. Joyce and Co., Ltd., Whitechurch, Salop, are making a new striking clock for Bressingham Church, Norfolk, and also adding the Westminster chimes to the clock at St. John's Church, Worcester. They have also in hand a four-dial striking clock for St. Stephen's College, Auckland, New Zealand.

In addition to fixing a new chiming clock at Ludlow Parish Church they are thoroughly overhauling and repairing the carillon machine.

ROMNEY MARSH & DISTRICT GUILD.

The monthly meeting of the Guild was held at Benenden on February 21st, and was attended by about thirty members from Ashford, Egerton, Kennington, Tenterden, Rolvenden, Aldington, Lamberhurst, Hawkhurst, Stone, Frittenden, and the local band. The ringing included Stedman, Grandsire, Kent and rounds for the learners. At the Guild service the address was given by the Rector (the Rev. C. H. Bailey). Mr. C. Coleman ably presided at the organ. Tea, very generously supplied by the Rector (who also presided at the business meeting which followed), was served in the Assembly Rooms.

Eastwell was chosen for the next meeting on March 21st, and Hawkhurst for the meeting on April 18th.

Seven new members were elected.

The Guild Master proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for his hospitality, for the use of the bells, and for conducting the service. This having been carried, the Rector replied, and extended a hearty welcome to the Guild to Benenden. Touches of Grandsire were rung on the handbells, and some returned to the tower for further ringing until 8.30, when the meeting was brought to a close.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.SUGGESTED AMALGAMATION OF NORTHERN AND EASTERN BRANCHES.

The annual meeting of the Eastern Branch of the Norwich Diocesan Association was held at St. Margaret's Church, Lowestoft, on Saturday, February 21st. There were over twenty members present from Yarmouth, Norwich, Loddon, Beccles and adjoining villages, and the musical ring of eight bells were kept busy in touches of the standard methods.

At the business meeting held in the belfry during the afternoon the ringers were welcomed by the curate, who presided in place of the Rector, who was unable to be present.

Mr. W. Lee intimated that he wished to resign the secretaryship of the branch, and after some discussion it was decided to recommend to the association annual meeting on Easter Monday that the branch be amalgamated with the Northern Branch owing to the small number of ringers and towers in the Eastern District.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Rector for permission to hold the meeting at Lowestoft, and to the curate for coming to preside, and for his welcome.

ANOTHER TOWER FOR M.C.A.

A most successful meeting at the Chesterfield District of the Midland Counties Association was held at Old Whittington on Saturday, February 21st. These bells have recently been made into five.

After tea, the Rector, who was voted to the chair, welcomed the members. He said that if they had not quite so many bells as in some towers, they had something other villages had not—the Old Revolution House. He hoped it would be possible to raise funds for another bell shortly.

Old Whittington possesses a promising young band, able to ring all kinds of five-bell methods. These have all promised to join the Midland Counties Association.

Members were present from Blackwell, Chesterfield, Norton, North Wingfield, Sheffield and Staveley.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

The Vale of White Horse Deanery Branch held a meeting at Buckland on Saturday, February 14th. Ringing in various methods was carried on during the afternoon, and the Guild service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. R. C. L. Newhouse).

Tea was provided at the Lamb Inn, and here a party of thirty gathered around the tables, the following towers being represented: Buckland, Faringdon, Hinton Waldrist, and Shillingford. Visitors were present from Aldbourne, Burford, Stanton Harcourt, Swindon Parish Church and Swindon St. Mark's Church.

A short business meeting followed the tea, the chair being taken by the Rev. A. J. De Denne. Two new ringing members were elected (Mr. M. Felling and Mr. H. Timmes) from Faringdon tower.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Faringdon on the 2nd Saturday in May.

Ringings, which was continued during the evening, included Grandsire Doubles, Bob Major, Stedman Triples and Grandsire Triples, with round ringing for beginners.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The thoughts of ringers will soon be turning again to the Central Council, whose meeting, to be held at Liverpool next Whitsuntide, is less than three months ahead. It is at about this time of the year that those who are interested in the Council's proceedings begin to talk about the matters that may come up for discussion. There are likely to be several questions of general interest to the Exercise on the agenda, and, unless some solution of the present impasse over the publication of the Collection of Minor Methods can be found, there is promise of a lively debate on the question of principle which the Council may desire to settle once and for all. It is unfortunate that the Methods Committee and the Hon. Secretary have for so long been separated by a distance of some thousands of miles, for it has prevented them coming to close grips over their differences of opinion. It is, as far as we are aware, the first time in the history of the Council that there has been any breach of this kind, and it is a pity that it should have happened just at the period when the Hon. Secretary should be out of the country, seeking well earned rest and change after relinquishing his professional work. Meantime, the new edition of the 'Collection,' for which the Exercise has long been waiting, is still held up.

Speaking at the Johnson Commemoration Dinner, the President of the Council, with an inner knowledge, testified to the good work which the Council has done for the Exercise, and said the quality of the Council depended upon the quality of the representatives sent by the associations. We might add to this that the associations could increase the usefulness of the Council by providing them with subjects for discussion. One thing that will be watched with the greatest interest at the next meeting is the attitude to be adopted towards the suggested readjustment of the constitution of the Council itself. Discussion on this matter has been dominant since the last meeting of the Council, but the Standing Committee are expected to report upon the subject. Whether, however, they will favour the changes put forward in the columns of 'The Ringing World' about 18 months ago remains to be seen, but these or something upon the same lines will, we believe, be necessary, before the reaffiliation of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association is likely to take place. Most of the associations have shown themselves ready to adopt the recommendation of the Council that they shall insert in their rules a clause that they will abide by the rules and decisions of the Council, and, that being so, the Council ought to ensure, by its constitution, that the associations should have a more direct voice in its affairs. At present they have none. Having elected the members and paid the fee, their interest in the Council—as far as the rules imply—is at an end. It ought, at least, to be possible for an association officially to send a recommendation to the Council; and the associations have the right to be informed officially of the decisions taken by the Council. This is an important issue which the associations at their forthcoming annual meetings would do well to consider, for it is probable that the question will come up for decision at the next meeting, and, unless representatives know something of the feeling of their members, there is a risk of another twelve months' delay while that opinion is being obtained.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

We have seen that you can take Double Norwich and turn it into a Treble Bob Method and then get from it many hundreds of Surprise Methods. The same thing is true of every method on the Plain Principle. Indeed, with comparatively few exceptions every Treble Bob Method is based on a Plain Method. I do not propose to go into this in any detail, but I will give one instance which will show the relationship between a group of Surprise Methods, some of which have been rung and some of which have been claimed as the property of different composers.

A.	B.
21436587	21436587
	12345678
	21436587
	24135678
	42315768
24135678	24135678 (a)
42315768	42315768
	24351786
24351786	24351786
23457168	23457168
	32547618
	23457168
	32547618
32547618	32547618
23457168	23457168

A is Coslany Court Major (Central Council Collection, No. 21).

B is the same turned into a Treble Bob Method (false) by repeating certain rows.

This is the basis of a large and important group of Surprise Methods.

First notice that there are three alternative positions to which you can move the fifth's place (which I have marked (a)) and still get the same result. They are:—

21435768	21436587	21436587
12347586	12345678	12345678
21435768	21435768	21436587
24137586	24137586	24135678
42315768	42315768	42315768

Similarly there are four alternative positions for fourth's place below the treble, and the combinations of these with the others will give sixteen leads (still false) on which to base methods.

Now take B, and see (as we did with Double Norwich) what additional shunts can be put in to remove the repetition of rows. We will not go into this in detail, but we can see at a glance that there are at least two above the treble. They are:—

	6857	5678
	8675	6587
	6857	5678
	6587	6587
2.	5678	5678
	6587	6587
	6578	5678
	5687	6587
	6587	6587

Below the treble there are three similar ones, viz:—

3.	4.	5.
5342	3245	2354	2345
5342	2354	3245	of 3254
3254	3254	3254	3254

The combinations of these will give us ten Surprise Methods, and, if we add second's and seventh's when the treble is leading and lying behind, we have ten more. They are all good methods. Speaking from memory, all twenty have clear proof scales with the tenors together. (I am sure that those which have shunts 3 and 5 have.)

Among these twenty are Bristol, Dublin and Premier.

There are other additional shunts which can be used in lead B, and I have before me ninety-three methods produced from that lead alone.

Take the other fifteen leads and treat them similarly, and you will get many more good methods. For instance, if you add additional shunt 1 to lead C and No. 3 below the treble you get:—

Rochester Surprise.

21435768
12347586
21437586

24138765
42317856
24137586
42315768

24351786
42537168
45231786
54327168

45237618
42536781
24357618

And from this several other good methods at once suggest themselves. For instance:—

In these methods, when Dublin is used, second's (or seventh's) must be added.

From the few words I have written above anybody can write out several scores of good Surprise Methods. Every one of them will be a variation of Coslany Court in the same way that Norfolk is a variation of Double Norwich.

I suppose that, if the question were asked, everyone would say that Bristol, at any rate, is an original method. And yet we see it is not. Happily, in its case no dispute as to authorship will arise, since Mr. Bankes James was also the first to publish Coslany. I do not think, however, he knew the connection between the two.

ANOTHER HERTFORDSHIRE PEAL REHUNG.

On Saturday, February 28th, a very successful meeting of the Herts County Association took place at Ashwell, being the first held there since the restoration of the tower and the bells. The tower, which has for some years been in a pitiful state of repair, has been thoroughly renovated at a cost of about £2,000, and the fine peal of bells rehung by Messrs. White, of Appleton.

About forty-five members attended the meeting and represented eighteen towers. The local band opened the meeting with a course of 'Churchyard Bob,' which was followed by method ringing by the visitors. Practically all the standard methods were rung, including York, Cambridge and London Surprise.

The Rector (the Rev. H. A. Griffiths) conducted a short service from the service papers of the association. He also gave a short but very interesting address, the subject being 'Ashwell bells—their dates, inscriptions and founders.' The treble, 3rd, 4th and 6th were cast by John Briant, of Hertford, in 1791, 1817, 1789 and 1787 respectively. Remarks in 'The Ringing World' some time ago of 'a man ringing a bell for twelve hours on end' were referred to. This feat was performed by an Ashwell man ringing the 4th bell on March 16th, 1811, and he was the grandfather of one of the oldest members of the local band.

At 5 p.m. the company were entertained to tea by the Rector.

After tea a short business meeting followed, the Rector of Ashwell, Rev. H. A. Griffiths, in the chair.

During the course of the meeting the Rector was unanimously elected an hon. member of the association. Replying to the applause, the Rector said he felt too old to take up change ringing himself, but he was very keen for the present young band at Ashwell to master the art.

After the meeting, handbells were brought into action, and some amused themselves in this way, while others returned to the tower.

It was the general opinion of the meeting that the bell founders were to be congratulated on their work, and that with a keen and interested Rector, plenty of young blood and a beautiful peal, Ashwell will soon be producing some useful members of the Hertford County Association of Change Ringers.

D. C. M.

SUFFOLK VETERAN'S BIRTHDAY.

At Worlingworth, Suffolk, on Friday, February 27th, touches of Oxford and Bob Triples were rung in honour of Mr. D. Collins' 83rd birthday. Mr. Collins was the conductor, and the other ringers were B. C. Ellis, H. Hall, J. Hall, W. G. Crickmer, E. Curtis, D. Cracknell and J. Fairhead.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Ashford District was held at Willesborough on Saturday, February 28th, which was the anniversary of the opening of the bells. Methods up to Cambridge Surprise Minor were rung, with Bob Doubles and Rounds for beginners. Service was conducted by Rev. L. W. Mudge, the address being given by the Rector (Rev. W. H. Symonds). Tea, partaken of in the Old Schoolrooms, to which forty members and friends sat down, was kindly provided by the local band. The Rector presided, and at the business meeting the secretary and Mr. E. Ruck gave the members a resume of the committee meeting in November.

A record number of new members (22) were elected, including three ladies.

The meeting in May will be held at Hythe.

Ringers attended from Ashford, Brabourne, Benenden, Canterbury, Eastwell, Hythe, Headcorn, Kennington, Sturry, Tenterden and Wye and the local band. Ringing was continued in the evening.

MUFFLED BELLS.

At Holmer, Herefordshire, on February 19th, a quarter-peal of Bob Minor was rung half-muffled as a last token of respect to Mr. James Henry Lovesay, whose funeral took place the same day. He was sexton at Holmer Parish Church for many years: G. Soley 1, W. J. Downes 2, A. Harcombe 3, F. Downes 4, W. Duggan 5, W. Evans (conductor) 6.

A CREDITABLE PERFORMANCE.

On Sunday, February 22nd, was rung at Halesowen Parish Church a course each of London Surprise Major, Cambridge Surprise Major and Superlative Surprise Major for the evening service by the following members of the local band: A. H. Harris 1, E. H. Forrest 2, T. Greenhall 3, W. Coley 4, H. G. Bird 5, J. H. Cox 6, W. H. Webb 7, A. Hackett (conductor) 8. The above is a very creditable performance inasmuch as the men are all local Sunday service ringers at the church. There can be few churches in Worcestershire that could equal this with a purely local band.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. I. J. Attwater, of South Hackney, sailed on Wednesday for America, where he is to take up an appointment as ringing instructor at Kent Schools, Kent, Connecticut. This will be the first appointment of its kind ever made—that of ringing instructor at a public school. The bells at Kent Schools were installed by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

The Rev. John Cobbe Pitman, son of the organist of St. George's, Canterbury, and Stodmarsh, was admitted to the priesthood by the Bishop of Lichfield in his Cathedral on Sunday. He is a grandson of the Rev. G. Hughes, of the Primitive Methodist Church. Mr. Pitman's parents were present at his ordination.

A loud speaker has been installed in the belfry of Totteridge Church, Hertfordshire, and bells of famous churches are broadcast by means of a radio-gramophone in the church.

Mr. James George is, we are glad to say, slowly recovering from his serious illness, but it will probably be some months before he is fit for peal ringing again. Everyone will wish him a speedy and complete return to health and activity.

The first peal at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields was 6,008 Grandsire Cinques rung by the London Scholars on March 14th, 1727, and on the following day 6,314 in the same method was rung by the College Youths.

Sixty years ago to-morrow, 10,176 Oxford Treble Bob Major was rung at Kenninghall, and forty years ago next Tuesday the first peal of Duffield Maximus was rung at Birmingham.

'Maily happy returns' to Mr. Challis F. Winney, who celebrates his birthday on Tuesday, having been born at Nayland, Suffolk, on March 17th, 1858.

Have you a 'colour' surname? Messrs. A. R. Pink, of the Railway Hotel, Dorking, or N. Golden, of Diss, Norfolk, will be pleased to hear from any who would care to take part in a 'colours' peal in a Norfolk, Suffolk or Cambridgeshire tower. The 'colours' already available are Brown, Black, Green, White, Pink and Golden.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

Will secretaries please note that subscriptions on the revised scale became due on January 1st inst, and should be sent to the honorary secretary, 165, Rushey Green, Catford, S.E.6? Hon. members are also invited to subscribe towards the funds.

All notices of motion should be received by the hon. secretary not later than March 31st next.

Per pro E. Alex. Young,
W. A. CAVE, Acting Hon. Secretary.

HAPPY FAMILY 'QUARTER.'

On Sunday, March 1st, for divine service at the Parish Church of St. John-the-Baptist, Tunstall, Kent, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,280 changes) was rung by a father, four sons, one grandson and two daughters-in-law, as follows: Mrs. G. H. Spice 1. W. Spice, jun., 2. Mrs. E. H. Spice 3. G. H. Spice 4. P. J. Spice 5. E. H. Spice 6. W. Spice, sen., 7. W. H. Spice (grandson) 8. The touch was conducted by W. Spice, sen., and arranged to celebrate his seventieth birthday. All the band are regular Sunday service ringers, one is the lady organist at Tunstall, and father, three sons and grandson are members of the choir, in which there are also two other grandsons, while Messrs. W. Spice, sen. and jun., are members of the Parochial Church Council.

THE JOHNSON COMMEMORATION DINNER.

The presence of the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress of Birmingham and the president of the Central Council at the Johnson commemoration dinner lent special importance to the toast of 'The Visitors,' and Mr. Albert Walker (Deputy Ringing Master), in proposing the toast, expressed the appreciation which everyone felt at having these distinguished guests with them. St. Martin's Church, he said, was bound up with the civic life of the city, and it was therefore fitting that the Lord Mayor should, when possible, be present at those gatherings. The Lord Mayor recently attended service at St. Martin's in his official capacity, and he (the speaker) hoped they would see him there on many future Sunday mornings, whether he was in office or not (laughter and hear, hear). He trusted the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress would look back upon that evening as one of the most pleasant of their official year (applause). Mr. Walker also referred to the pleasure it gave the members to have with them Mrs. Guy Rogers (who took such a great interest in every phase of church work), the churchwardens and the ex-churchwardens. No 'Johnson' dinner would seem complete without the presence of their old friends, Mr. Kendall and Mr. Blake, who, they hoped, would be spared for many years to join them at those gatherings. They were very real friends of St. Martin's Guild. Mr. Walker extended a cordial welcome to the members of the many kindred ringing associations represented that evening, and said they were especially pleased to have with them Mr. E. H. Lewis, the president of the Central Council. There could have been no better choice than Mr. Lewis to succeed Canon Coleridge. He was known throughout the country, and would, he was sure, guide the Central Council to wise decisions in the various matters that came before it. He hoped Mr. Lewis would have a happy term of office, and that the associations throughout the country would rally round the Council and support it (applause).

THE SPIRIT OF HAPPINESS AND GOOD FELLOWSHIP.

The Lord Mayor, who had an enthusiastic reception, first responded. He said that bells had always had an attraction for him, not least for the sense of happiness and good fellowship associated with their sound. He did not, therefore, need much pressing to come there that night in response to their kind invitation, for he knew he would find that same happy sort of spirit amongst those who created the music of the bells (applause). In Birmingham they heard a good deal of 'Triple Bob Majors' (laughter). He understood the carillon was one form of bells for which they had to thank Belgium. There was room for both, and there was no reason why one should dispossess the other. So far as their Guild was concerned, he understood everything went with a swing (applause), and he was sure the Lady Mayoress would agree with him when he said everything had gone with a swing that evening (applause). He was proud to be there in company with his old friend, Alderman Pritchett, a worthy representative of the City of Birmingham, and he understood that, notwithstanding his age, he was the chief bellringer. He was told that the art of change ringing was a somewhat exclusive and intricate study, and little known except to those who practised it. He believed that 'ringing the changes' was also an art, confined to a small and exclusive coterie (laughter). He believed it was true that for many years the Belgians held the lead in bell casting, but that to-day Great Britain stood foremost in this craft, and led that particular trade throughout the world (applause). If his quotations were not strictly correct, it was due to the authors of the books he had consulted on the subject (laughter). Speaking for Birmingham, in his opinion there was no place like it. They claimed to be second only to London as a city, and for intelligent and progressive statesmanship and for public services they said in Birmingham that there was no city to beat them (applause). He welcomed the visitors to the city of Birmingham, and added that if there was anything he could do to make their visit more interesting he would be only too delighted to do it (applause).

THE WORK OF THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

Mr. E. H. Lewis, who also responded to the toast, said if the Lord Mayor had responded for the 'laity,' he felt he was responding for the 'ministry,' because he considered the bellringers of this country were a definite ministry in the Church (hear, hear). When he came there that day from London he certainly felt he was coming as a visitor. Although he did his first ringing with the Midland Counties Association not far away, he had never had the opportunity of ringing in Birmingham until that day. Also he felt somewhat as a visitor because he had been 'exiled' for fifteen years in Scotland, and during that time a new generation of ringers had sprung up in this country, and there were many of the younger faces he did not know. In Scotland he had very little opportunity for ringing. There were only one or two churches where any serious change ringing was practised, and only about ten peals of bells in the whole country. After spending such a pleasant time with them in Birmingham, and having rung in their towers, he did not now feel like a visitor at all (applause). They had probably asked him to respond to the toast as president of the Central Council, and he felt it a great honour to represent those 46,000 other ringers who were not present that night. A few years ago there was a certain amount of criticism of the Central Council, but he would like to say that, having seen a good deal of the inner working of the Council for 22 years, and a good deal of the valuable work of its committees, he was of opinion that no apology for the Council was necessary, but if the Council was to continue to make good, as it had made good in the past, they must remember that the quality of the Council depended on the quality of the representatives sent by the associations affiliated to it (hear, hear). The Council would only do good work if they sent good men to the Council (applause). Mr. Lewis added that he would like to add his tribute to what Alderman Pritchett had said about the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies. Mr. Davies was a most charming man and a most efficient secretary of the Council, and he held that post for practically half the Council's life. He was sure that all ringers would feel the loss very much indeed because, even though of recent years through failing health Mr. Davies was not able to get about among ringers as much as previously, he continued to do good work, and quite recently published in a new book his notes on Grandfire Triples, which he (the speaker) recommended them all to read if they had not already read it. Continuing, Mr. Lewis said Birmingham was the real home of Stedman ringing. Apart, possibly, from the Sunday ringing at St. Paul's Cathedral, he did not think that anywhere they got such good Stedman ringing as in Birmingham, both on handbells and tower bells. He mentioned this because this year was the 300th anniversary of the birth of Fabian Stedman, who, as they knew, was a Cambridge man. The Editor of 'The Ringing World' had made a suggestion that some steps should be taken to commemorate this 300th anniversary, and that a suitable means of marking the commemoration would be to put in order the bells of St. Benet's Church, Cambridge, upon which Stedman used to ring, only one of them having since been recast. He would like them all to think about that suggestion, because he hoped that later in the year some definite steps might be taken to do something on the lines suggested (applause).

A 'RIDICULOUS CLAIM.'

Mr. A. Paddon Smith, in proposing the toast of 'The Ringing World,' spoke of its importance in welding the Exeise together, and said without it it would be almost impossible to carry on. They had 46,000 ringers in this country, and it was a standing disgrace that so few of them, comparatively, purchased the paper. He knew that in that room he was 'preaching' to the 'converted,' because he did not think that there was a lady or gentleman there, seriously interested in ringing, who did not support 'The Ringing World,' but they all ought to do their best to extend the circulation. If they could increase the sale to any considerable extent they would get a better journal and probably a cheaper one. Referring to some recent matters which had appeared in 'The Ringing World,' Mr. Smith said they were all extremely sorry for the band that took part in the long peal at Painswick, and, after having rung nearly twelve hours, discovered that the peal was false. He was particularly sorry for Mr. James George who rang the tenor, and he put it down in no small measure to that sustained effort and the subsequent disappointment that he was at that moment ill in bed. It was a tremendous performance for a man of his years, and to find it was all in vain was extremely disappointing. Upon the top of that they had Mr. Albert Wright making the absurd claim that, notwithstanding the fact that the peal was false, it would still be considered by him—he (Mr. Smith) was sure not by anyone else—as a record length on twelve bells. He did not think Mr. Wright could be serious, for it was a ridiculous claim. Mr. Smith went on to refer to the action of the Methods Committee in holding up the publication of the Minor Collection. He said they wished to dictate the form in which the book should appear, and what should be printed upon its cover and title page. They ought to remember the old saying, that he who pays the piper should call the tune. Here the Central Council was going to pay for the publication, and it ought to dictate the form in which it should be issued, and what was printed on the title page. He thought Mr. Young had taken the correct standpoint in saying that if the book was not printed in accordance with the wishes of the Council he would not authorise payment (hear, hear).

The toast having been honoured, Mr. J. S. Goldsmith responded, and, referring to the Stedman Tercentenary, said if it was decided to do anything by way of celebration, he hoped Birmingham, whose ringing reputation had been largely built up on the method given to the world by Stedman, would give a lead to the Exeise, which would ensure the success of any scheme undertaken.

The concluding toast was that of 'The Chairman,' proposed in felicitous terms by Mr. J. J. Kendall, and acknowledged by Canon Guy Rogers.

The speeches were interspersed with music, the programme being an exceptionally good one. St. Martin's Quartette (Messrs. Hales, Chapman, Bayliss and Gorman) once more delighted the company with their part-songs. They sang 'Jolly Roger' (Candish), 'Passing By' (Purcell), 'There's music in the air' and 'Doan ye cry' (Noll). Miss D. E. Griffin, aptly described by the chairman as 'the singing daughter of a ringing father,' displayed a charming voice in 'The Flower Song' from 'Faust' and 'The Lament of Isis' (Granville Bantock), while Mr. A. S. Downes gave a fine rendering of 'In summer time on Bredon' (Graham Peck) and 'Mountain Lovers'.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

OFFICIAL MINUTES OF THE LAMBETH MEETING.

The first session of the fourteenth Council (38th annual meeting) was held in the Guard Room at Lambeth Palace, London, on Whit-sun Tuesday, June 10th, 1930, at 11 a.m. The chair was taken by the president, Canon G. F. Coleridge, who opened the meeting with prayer. There were present 96 members, 39 guilds and associations being represented.

The President then introduced the Rev. A. Sargent, the Archbishop's secretary, and said that the Council were greatly indebted to the Archbishop for his permission to hold their meeting there. The Rev. A. Sargent then formally welcomed the Council on the Archbishop's behalf, and, after referring to the historic associations of Lambeth Palace, thanked them, as ringers, for the work they did for the Church.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

This being next upon the agenda, the President said that he felt the time had now come when, for the reasons of advancing age and the strain of recent illnesses, he should give way for a younger member. As a matter of fact, only one nomination, that for Mr. E. H. Lewis, had been received, but he thought they had found in that gentleman one both highly respected and one who would worthily carry on the traditions of the Council. Canon Coleridge then inducted Mr. Lewis into the presidential chair, and his election was ratified with acclamation, the outgoing president being also most heartily cheered.

The President, having thanked those present and warmly eulogised his predecessor, said that there was only one nomination for the post of hon. secretary and treasurer, that of Mr. E. Alexr. Young, who was declared to be again duly re-elected. The Hon. Secretary, in returning thanks, said that he would do his best to carry on for another year, when they would probably find a younger man to take his place.

The President then said that similarly there was only one nomination for the post of honorary librarian, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, and he also was declared to be duly re-elected to that office, and Mr. Jenkyn briefly thanked those present.

The Hon. Secretary then said that the minutes of the last meeting had been published, but that his attention had been called to an alleged inaccuracy. Mr. C. T. Coles asked that the words in Mr. Willson's amendment relating to certain compositions, i.e., 'on the ground that they are hopelessly false,' should be included. This being agreed, the minutes, on the motion of Mr. P. J. Johnston, seconded by Mr. W. T. Cockerill, were adopted.

APOLOGIES FOR ABSENCE.

Apologies for absence were received from Revs. C. D. P. Davies, A. T. Beeston, E. W. Carpenter, C. C. Marshall, H. T. Parry and W. T. Wright, Messrs. W. Ayre, T. Hervey Beams, C. E. Barrett, G. Chester, J. Clarke, T. R. Dennis, J. W. England, N. Golden, T. Metcalfe and W. Storey.

ACCOUNTS.

The Hon. Treasurer next presented his statement of accounts, and showed that the year started with a balance in hand of £31 19s. 6d. The receipts included a donation from Rev. Teape of £1 1s., affiliation fees £30 2s. 6d., interest on stock £5. The expenditure was £13 14s. 1d., leaving a balance at bank of £38 5s. 6d., and cash in hand £16 3s. 5d. The Hon. Secretary said that two new Guilds had joined the Council, i.e., the Romney Marsh and District Guild and the Oxford Society. The accounts were adopted on the motion of Mr. A. A. Hughes, seconded by Mr. A. Paddon Smith. The auditors were also thanked for their services.

The Hon. Librarian then presented his report (as previously published). He said that books were sent on sale or return, and with the help of the associations there should be a larger scale. 'Rules for a local company' was now reprinted, and soon the 'Care and preservation of bells' would be also reprinted. The receipts for the year were £4 16s. 5d., but the expenditure (largely advertising) was £9 10s. 6d., leaving a considerable adverse balance.

ELECTION OF HONORARY MEMBERS.

The following hon. members retire this year, and on the motion of Mr. A. L. Coleman, seconded by Mr. James George, were duly re-elected: Rev. C. D. P. Davies, Alderman J. S. Pritchett, Major J. H. B. Hesse, and Messrs. J. S. Goldsmith, J. Griffin, C. F. Johnston, J. A. Trollope and E. Alexr. Young. This being carried, it was agreed to leave one vacancy, i.e., that caused by the withdrawal of Rev. A. T. Beeston after many years of valuable service on the Council.

STANDING COMMITTEE.

The Hon. Secretary reported generally, and, referring to travelling facilities, said that these had been obtained that year, but that less than the stipulated 100 tickets had been issued. In regard to the Carter ringing machine, he stated that a demonstration for members of the Council had been given the previous Sunday afternoon. The machine had been adjusted and was in fair order, for which they had to thank Messrs. Fardon and Sharman, and also Mr. A. A. Hughes for his gift of a new set of bells for it. On the motion of Canon Baker, seconded by Canon H. J. Elsee, the report was adopted.

On the motion of Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, seconded by Mr. W. Willson, the outgoing committee (with the exception of Rev. A. T. Beeston) were re-elected: Canon G. F. Coleridge, Canon H. J. Elsee, Revs. C. D. P. Davies, C. W. O. Jenkyn, H. Law James, Alderman J. S. Pritchett, Messrs. J. D. Matthews, W. T. Cockerill, W. A. Cave, C. T. Coles, J. Griffin, A. A. Hughes, C. F. Johnston, A. Paddon Smith and E. Alexr. Young, together with the conveners of all committees, ex officio.

PEAL COLLECTION COMMITTEE.

The Rev. H. S. T. Richardson reported the proving of Treble Bob Major peals, with tenors parted, as nearly complete for typing. In reply to a communication forwarded to him from the Suffolk Guild, he thought it impracticable for the Council to publish Mr. Carter's peals, however otherwise desirable. Mr. C. J. Sedgely and Rev. E. S. Powell having spoken in reference to this, Mr. G. R. Newton urged that the typed peals of Treble Bob, now in the library, should be printed. On the motion of the honorary secretary, seconded by Mr. C. T. Coles, the report was adopted.

On the motion of Mr. J. Hunt, seconded by Mr. A. A. Hughes, the committee were re-elected as follows: Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, Rev. E. S. Powell, Mrs. Fletcher, Messrs. J. A. Trollope, H. W. Wilde and J. W. Parker.

LITERATURE AND PRESS COMMITTEE.

Rev. F. L. Edwards, reporting, said that the previous year had been remarkable for the many articles relating to bells and ringing which had appeared, and that, too, in unexpected quarters such as trade journals. The committee observed that 'The Ringing World' had attained its thousandth issue, and might now look forward to its jubilee. The usual crop of complaints, he thought, had been satisfactorily dealt with. The year had also been remarkable for the Hyde Park carillon, which they had visited the previous day at the invitation of Mr. C. F. Johnston, and which had stimulated many articles in the public Press.

Mr. C. H. Howard took the opportunity to inform the Council that a trust had been formed, under the will of a Miss Barron, having in view bell restoration, and established by a fund producing some £2,000 a year. Canon Coleridge said that Mr. Morris' valuable new work on ringing would shortly appear, and he recommended it to ringers and libraries.

On the motion of Mr. P. J. Johnson, seconded by Mr. James George, the report was adopted, and the committee—Rev. F. L. Edwards, Messrs. A. Paddon Smith, J. S. Goldsmith and W. Willson—re-elected, and Mr. C. H. Howard added to the same (in lieu of Rev. A. T. Beeston and Mr. G. P. Burton, retired).

METHODS COMMITTEE.

The Rev. H. Law James, in reporting, said that the printing of the new edition of the 'Collection of Doubles and Minor Methods,' authorised last year had been held up on account of the heavy outlay involved, i.e., some £68. They felt that the possibility of dividing the book should be discussed. Mr. J. A. Trollope, in reply to a question as to the alternative cost, pointed out that estimates were not in their province, but the book was, and they presented one which was complete and exhaustive. They were, if necessary, prepared to divide the book, and the parts came at about the two-thirds and one-third, but they could not recommend the least omission from the work.

Mr. Willson suggested some guarantee being obtained from the affiliated societies, whilst Mr. P. J. Johnson thought it might be as well to publish all the Council's publications serially, and considerable discussion followed upon proposals to reduce the work. After Messrs. J. S. Goldsmith, A. D. Barker, J. Hunt, E. M. Atkins, Rev. E. S. Powell and others had spoken, the President suggested that it be left with the Standing Committee to print a section with a money limit of, say, £40, and the Rev. H. Drake that it be 2s. per copy.

Mr. T. Faulkner having pressed for the full book, Canon Coleridge moved that its publication in full be proceeded with, stock being sold out as necessary to meet the cost, and this being seconded by Mr. Faulkner, Mr. P. J. Johnson moved an amendment that such publication should be done serially. This being duly seconded, was put and lost.

Canon Elsee favoured two volumes, one at 2s. and one at 1s. 6d., instead of one at 3s., which was supported by Mr. Drake, but Mr. Faulkner, now pressing for the original motion to be put, this was done and declared carried by a large majority.

On the motion of Rev. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake, seconded by Mr. C. T. Coles, the report was adopted, and the committee, consisting of Rev. H. Law James, Rev. E. S. Powell, and Messrs. J. A. Trollope and E. H. Lewis, were re-elected and thanked by the Council.

The Council then adjourned for the luncheon interval.

ANALYSIS COMMITTEE.

Mrs. Fletcher reported for the committee, and said its tabulated statement had already been published. Mr. A. F. Sharman raised a point as to an apparently small error, and was promised that it would be investigated. (See explanatory letter from the convener in 'The Ringing World,' July 4th, 1930, p. 430.) On the withdrawal of Mr. James George, the committee had co-opted Mr. C. Dean in his stead, and, after many years' valuable service, Mr. G. Williams was also withdrawing from it. On the motion of the president, the committee, consisting of the following, Mrs. G. Fletcher, Messrs. G. R. Pye, C. Dean and G. W. Fletcher, were re-elected and thanked for their services.

TOWERS AND BELFRIES COMMITTEE.

Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, in reporting for the committee, said that the new edition of the 'Preservation of bells, frames and fittings' was now in typescript. The original edition of 1891 (the compilers of which had all passed away, with the exception of Mr. F. E. Dawe, who was with them that day), had been extended and improved; they had, however, eliminated Section 5, the schedule of prices. The work would be found to contain most useful knowledge and all the latest information upon the subject. He, Mr. Jenkyn, must leave it to the Council as to whether it could see its way to publish the book at once.

The Convener, in continuing, said that both he and some other members of the committee had made various inspections and reports, and things generally seemed to be in a healthier state than was the case a few years ago. Major J. H. B. Hesse and Mr. E. Alexr. Young (hon. secretary) both referred also to cases which had come within their purview during the year.

The President then said that he had made some further investigations and had conferred with the architect at Barnet, where a reinforced concrete band had been let in within the tower, and had also been approached by the S.P.A.B. in regard to swinging bells diagonally. Mr. Lewis explained to the meeting that, in towers of perfectly equal strength and uniform section, stiffness to resist thrusts would be equal in either or any direction. He said, however, that such perfect towers did not exist, and gave illustrations from practical examples of the remarkable variations in the stiffness of towers, due to openings and the disposition of the walls, and particularly buttresses. The traditional tower, with its west window and nave arch, should have its heaviest thrusts arranged to occur east and west; there were other examples, such as in the case of Northaw, where the thrust should be north-west to south-east, but they were all capable of calculation. The thing to be done was to be sure that the forces were arranged so as to be in the line of the greatest stiffness of the tower.

Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn then proposed the adoption of the report, and moved that the new edition of the 'Preservation of bells' be printed as soon as possible; this was seconded by Canon H. J. Elsee and carried. On the motion of Rev. H. Drake, seconded by Rev. E. S. Powell, the committee, consisting of Rev. C. D. P. Davies, C. W. O. Jenkyn, Major J. H. B. Hesse and Messrs. E. H. Lewis and E. Alexr. Young, were re-elected.

Mr. F. E. Dawe said that he thought the book should be published now, and that part of the expense might be met by subscriptions from the members themselves. He would be pleased to start such a fund with a couple of guineas. Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn said that he was glad to hear the previous speaker's proposal, and would also subscribe a similar amount for such a useful book. Several other members expressed their concurrence, and the proposal taken as a motion was carried.

RECORDS COMMITTEE.

The report of this committee, not having been published, was read by the hon. secretary (it has since been printed in 'The Ringing World'). Rev. A. T. Beeston, who had been a member of the committee many years, having resigned, the remaining members were, on the motion of the president, re-elected as follow: Rev. H. Law James and Mr. T. Harvey Beams, with the addition of Mr. G. Grover.

LEGAL COMMITTEE.

Alderman J. S. Pritchett, reporting, said that, their work having been completed by their report last year, he moved that the committee be discharged, and Mr. A. Paddon Smith seconded. Rev. H. Drake was dubious as to this course, but in any case he would be pleased to pay for the publication of its report. After some remarks by Rev. F. L. Edwards, the President said that the committee had lost a valuable member in the person of the late Mr. F. A. Milne, and he would ask those present to stand in silence as a last token of respect, which was done. He added that he would propose that the committee be discharged with thanks, but that Alderman Pritchett be asked kindly to retain a watching brief on their behalf, and that they should thankfully accept Rev. H. Drake's generous offer. The formal motion was then substituted and carried, Alderman Pritchett saying that he was happy to be of assistance.

The Council proceeded to the consideration of the motions upon the agenda.

The Hon. Secretary proposed that the scale of the yearly subscriptions arranged last year be again reconsidered, and moved that affiliated societies pay 2s. 6d. only for their 3rd and 4th representatives, also that hon. members pay 5s. each. He thought that it would prove a fair arrangement and would leave the Council's income much as now. Rev. F. L. Edwards seconded. Alderman Pritchett, whilst concurring in principle, moved as an amendment 'that hon. members be invited to subscribe not less than 5s. in each year.' The word 'invited' would not necessitate an alteration in the rules, for the attention of hon. members could be called to it every year, when he was sure they would give 5s. or more. Mr. W. Willson, having seconded the amendment, the Hon. Secretary said that he was prepared to accept it, and Rev. F. L. Edwards concurred.

Rev. E. S. Powell moved that, re societies, no alteration be made. Mr. Sedgeley seconded, and, after some further discussion, the situation was clarified by the motion of the president, that the alterations proposed should be divided into two parts and voted upon successively, and, this being so agreed, the motion to increase representatives' subscriptions was lost, and the motion to invite hon. members to pay 5s. or more was carried.

The Hon. Secretary then initiated a discussion upon suggested alterations of the Council's rules, following upon an anonymous article which had appeared in 'The Ringing World' of October 18th, 1929. After reviewing the position, Mr. Young said that as Mr. Cave had an allied motion now on the agenda, it would be as well to pass on to it. Mr. Cave was then asked to propose his motion. That, in order to bring ringing societies into closer co-operation with the Council, every affiliated society be requested to incorporate in its rules words to the following effect: 'That this society be affiliated to the Central Council of Church Bellringers, and loyally carry out the rules and decisions thereof.' On Mr. Cave proposing this and explaining at some length both a series of misapprehensions and a mistake which appeared to have arisen in interpreting the rules, the Hon. Secretary, in seconding, said that alterations of the rules could only be effected by proper procedure, but they could pass advisory resolutions or requests such as the one proposed, a course which would probably be helpful. Rev. H. Law James moved, and Mr. J. A. Trollope seconded, to leave out the words 'and decisions.' Considerable discussion then ensued in which Messrs. C. T. Coles, W. Willson, P. J. Johnson, J. W. Jones, Revs. Canon Elsee and E. S. Powell took part. But the motion was carried as proposed, except that, at the suggestion of Alderman Pritchett (accepted by the sponsors) the words 'loyally abide by' were substituted for 'loyally carry out.'

Mr. W. Cave then moved: 'That a committee be appointed to consider, and, if thought necessary, to revise the rules of the Council and report at the next meeting,' which Mr. J. S. Goldsmith seconded, but Alderman J. S. Pritchett then proposed that the motion be amended to read 'That the Standing Committee be requested to consider,' etc., which, being accepted, was carried.

The foregoing concluded the motions proper to the list, and the Council then proceeded to select the place of next year's meeting. This being by rota due to be held in the North, the Standing Committee supported Ripon. Mr. P. J. Johnson urged Leeds, and Mr. R. Murphy, who had come over especially from Ireland, offered the Council a cordial invite to Dublin. Mr. G. R. Newton gave many reasons why Liverpool should be chosen. The President said that, whilst they all appreciated very highly the invitation of the Irish Association to visit Dublin, he felt that it should fall in a Western group of visits, and be the subject of considerable pre-arrangement. In view of this, voting was confined to the three Northern cities, the numbers being, Ripon and Leeds 23 each and Liverpool 34, which was declared selected for next year's meeting.

The President said that there were two other late motions which they had still time to consider, and called upon Rev. H. Drake to move: (1) 'That a collection of lantern slides be formed by the Council to illustrate ringing in its various aspects,' and (2) 'That notices of motions shall be sent in the names of either individual members or of affiliated societies, for a preliminary agenda, before Easter, but in the names of societies only if sent in for a later agenda after Easter.' Mr. Drake suggested that these proposals might be considered by the Standing Committee. This was agreed to.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith then called attention to the statement in Regular Methods appearing in 'Rules and Decisions,' which, as regards 'Little' methods and spiced ringing, appeared to be out of date, and moved: 'That the Methods Committee be requested to review the points and report at the next meeting as to what action, if any, should be taken.' The motion, being seconded by Mr. G. Grover, was carried.

The President proposed a vote of thanks to the Archbishop of Canterbury for according them the use of Lambeth Palace, which was carried by acclamation. A cordial greeting, at the instance of Canon Elsee, seconded by Rev. Jenkyn, was also directed to be sent to the late hon. secretary, Rev. C. D. P. Davies, who was unable to be with them. The President referred to the fact that several of the original members were there that day, viz., Canon Coleridge, Canon Elsee, Canon Baker and Messrs. F. Griffin and F. E. Dawe.

Canon Coleridge having proposed a vote of thanks to the president (carried by acclamation), and the latter having briefly replied, the meeting closed at about five o'clock.

(Squire). A welcome addition to the programme was again the handbell solos executed with characteristic grace and effect by Mrs. A. A. Hughes, who played 'Promise of Life' (Cowen) and 'Until' (Sanderson), and, in response to request, gave as an encore the ever popular 'Land of Hope and Glory.' An extremely enjoyable evening terminated with the National Anthem.

Many visitors remained in Birmingham until Sunday. A large number took part in the service ringing at St. Martin's Church, others visited St. Chad's, West Bromwich, and Walsall, and an informal but very pleasant gathering took place later at the Nelson Hotel.

THE PASSING OF THE SYSTON TURKEY.

Syston, as all the world knows, is noted for plums, but according to 'A Flat poet' also bells and other things. An old adage says it's an all wind that blows no one any good, and evidently Syston fogs have the same reputation—see 'The Ringing World.' As a result of the aforesaid fog, following a Christmessy dirge, entitled 'The song of the Syston turkey' by that un-put-up-able A Flat, the bell opening party again assembled there to digest this mysterious bird.

First showing their prowess by joining the M.C.A. meeting and ringing some 'surprising' methods on the newly retuned and rebung bells, with more or less (a lot less) acumen, especially when the C.O. turned the tenor in to the accompaniment of the Sergeant-major's usual sarcastic remarks, they adjourned to the place where the 'landlord fills the flowing bowl until it doth run over.' Some thirty managed to squeeze in, and it is quite certain 'A Flat' was 'B flat' as he sat humped like Jack Horner in his corner. All eyes gleamed as they watched the V.P., coat off and duly armed, curve the aforesaid Syston turkey as to manner born. H.P. sauce(ily) tried to 'detect' what the Clarke was Fidlering about with as he Dexterously attempted to remove the stuffing off Collins' Barrow. This sort of thing went on till William the axtieth declared he had had an excellent sufficiency of a superfluity, and any further par-taken would prove an encumbrance to his overburdened interior. Syston has many Paynes, and would have more if they did not desist.

The coroner's officer held an inquest on the skeleton of the Syston turkey, and declared it had had a good upbringing in A. Mansfield, but had been slaughtered in a good cause. He ordered its immediate cremation. Fred II. then tried his hand with fireworks, and now we all know why he made such a mess of things in Flanders in 1916. It's a Dicky Lane that has no turning, so all turned to gather a 'Blue Bell.'

J. O. (no connection with Lanes) instituted himself chairman, and ordered each present to do something—either sing, recite, or be heavily fined. J. G. (not 'he' of England) led off with the 'ode to the Syston turkey,' and its author encouraged him with his 'gobble, gobble here, and cluck, cluck there,' accompanied on the 'wireless pole.' The chairman had great difficulty in keeping the Sergeant-major in his place, for he proved himself most ambi-Dexter-ous with the glasses, using either hand with equal ability. Indeed he had to call the coroner's officer to aid him with threats of immediate extinction. H. P. (the saucy one) gave a version of his now famous lyric, and each one had to suffer from his sauce. The V. P. (with portfolio) gave a second version of the 'Syston turkey ode,' and then tried to coerce 'J. O.' and 'W. W.' into a second turkey bet on a musical monologue, which unfortunately ended in a draw—not the 'draw' Jim hoped for. At this point William was conquered, and begged leave to retire. Phillip evidently thought he was Konnerley Rumford, for he sang his song—the ringers' in a Hardy style. Colin, who would have been accompanied by the Fidler had he not lost his 'beau,' rendered—very heartrendingly—'Come and have a drink,' to which the Sergeant-major responded with alacrity, joined by the chairman, who ought to have known better. Indeed, had it not been for Mary Cufflin then, the C.O. would have had another job. J. G. did yeoman service with the 'flowing bowl' (or rather bucket), and the Clarke kept Kitty in hand. It is rumoured Snowdon is seeking his aid to help balance the budget. Frederick II. obliged by giving an elaborate exposition explicitly of 'a blush,' whereon there was an influx of the 'feminine gender' into the room, which caused 'J. O.' to do some extraordinary passages and contortions on 5 x 6 handbells, a cross between a Morris dance and Grecian bend. Time came all too soon to close the merry party, but it is suggested that this become a monthly affair, so will all get their digestive organs in order and a goodly supply of Andrews!

DOUBLE LITTLE BOB.

To the Editor.

Sir,—In your issue of February 27th last there appears a peal of Double Little Bob Major rung at North Lopham and conducted by Nolan Golden.

If the method is the same as that given by Mr. G. Lewis in 'The Ringing World' of July 11th, 1930, the name should have been Erith Little Bob, that being the name given to it when it was first rung at Crayford on March 11th, 1930.—Yours faithfully,

E. BARNETT.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

The February meeting of the Peak District was held at Darley Dale on Saturday, February 28th, but the attendance was ruined by the heavy rainfall. About sixteen ringers, however, were present from Bakewell, Darley Dale, Leicester, Matlock and Sandiacre, and some creditable ringing was accomplished in the various standard methods till about 8 p.m. The Vicar was present at tea, and afterwards the handbells were brought into use.

It was decided, if possible, to hold the next meeting on March 28th at Baslow, where it is hoped to arrange tea, and afterwards to go on to Edensor for the evening ringing—two very good peals of six, which should afford ample scope for a good meeting.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

MEETING AT DALSTON.

Some excellent ringing practice was obtained at the meeting of the North and East District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild, held at St. Mark's, Dalston, on Saturday last. The bells, a peal of eight, with a 20 cwt. tenor, require a certain amount of skill to ring properly, owing to a movement in the tower. Up to a few years ago they had been silent for nearly fifty years, but under the skilful care of Mr. J. E. Davis they have been got into good going order, and but for the oscillation of the tower there is little fault to be found. During the afternoon some fifty members attended, and the Master (Mr. A. W. Coles), by a skilful mixing of the methods, gave everybody present plenty of opportunities to take part in the ringing.

At the service, which was held in the vestry, the Vicar (Rev. J. O. Vince) gave the members a very cordial welcome, as well as a helpful address.

The Vicar also presided at tea, and at the subsequent business meeting. He expressed his pleasure at the large muster, and a count up of members from different towers showed that twenty were represented.

To show their respect for the late Mr. William Miller, of Leytonstone, who had been a member for over thirty years, all present stood in silence for a few moments.

Edgware was chosen as the place of the next meeting. The vice-president (Mr. W. Pickworth) proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for his address at the service, and for the use of the bells, as well as to Mr. C. Randall for the arrangements made.—This was seconded by the hon. secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles), who congratulated Mr. Randall on the progress his ringers were making after the series of difficulties they had been through.

A further visit was paid to the tower after the meeting, and a great variety of methods, from Grandsire Triples to Spliced Surprise Major, were rung.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

DEVIZES BRANCH.

The monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at St. Leonard's Church, Keevil, on Saturday, March 7th. Although the weather was very cold, a fair number of ringers attended. The bells, a nice toned peal of six, with a tenor 21 cwt. in E, were raised shortly after 3 p.m., and, after ringing in various methods, the Guild service was held in the church. Unfortunately the Vicar, the Rev. F. M. Weller, was unable, through illness, to attend, and the service was conducted by the branch chairman, Mr. C. D. Heginbotham. The choirboys very kindly led the singing. After tea at the Beach Arms, a short business meeting was held, Mr. C. D. Heginbotham presiding.

The chairman gave a brief report on the Guild committee meeting held at Salisbury on February 17th.

It was decided to arrange for the first of the 'branch lectures on change ringing' to be given at the quarterly meeting at Melksham on April 11th. These lectures were suggested by Mr. C. F. Andrews, Trowbridge.

An application from the Keevil ringers for a course of instruction was recommended by the meeting.

The usual votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to the organist, brought the meeting to a close.

The following towers were represented: Devizes (St. John's and St. Mary's), St. James', Southbroom, Bratton, Melksham, Trowbridge, Rowde and Keevil.

More ringing followed till about 8 p.m., touches of Cambridge Surprise, Kent Treble Bob and Plain Bob Minor, Stedman and Grandsire being rung during the afternoon and evening.

DEATH OF AN OLD COVENTRY RINGER

RECOLLECTIONS OF A 2 A.M. PEAL.

The death occurred in Coventry on February 20th of Mr. William H. Brunsden at the age of 67 after a short illness.

'Billy,' as he was known to his associates, was one of the old school of ringers, a good striker, and sound method ringer. His early ringing, also most of his peals, took place in Gloucestershire, and he would spin many yarns of his ringing experiences in that district. One peal he particularly remembered, finished at 2 a.m., following an 'inquest' held in the village hostelry until closing time (11 p.m. in those days) on a failure earlier in the evening.

Deceased rang several peals for the Midland Counties Association and one or two in the Newcastle district before settling down in Coventry just over twenty years ago. For the Warwickshire Guild he rang 18 peals, of which he conducted four. Of late years fortune did not smile on him, but whatever the circumstances, 'Billy' remained cheerful. May he rest in peace.

The following ringers took part in a half-muffled quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples at Stoke Church, Coventry, on Monday, February 23rd, the day of the funeral: G. Robins (first quarter-peal) 1, F. THE 18 1/2 TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

AN INTERESTING EXPERIMENT.

The announcement that a ringing instructor is on his way to America to take up an appointment as tutor of the art at one of the big public schools of the United States is, we hope, the opening of a new chapter in the history of ringing abroad. Hitherto, 'missionary' work overseas has been of a casual kind, and bands have been established largely by 'importation' rather than by local product. But with all that has been done, in Boston by the late Dr. Nichols, who established the Boston Guild; at Groton, by Mr. Warren Sturgess; in Vancouver, by Mr. A. C. Limpus; in South Africa—both at Woodstock and Durban—in Australia and in New Zealand, change ringing has had a very precarious existence, like a flickering flame that dies down almost as soon as it springs to life. Apparently indigenous to the British Isles, the art has failed to thrive on any other soil, as much, perhaps, from the lack of bell towers as from the absence of ringers. In the case of Boston, two or three rings are within reach, but peals of bells in the British Dominions are so exceptional that they are hundreds if not thousands of miles apart, and the number of ringers who settle near any one of them is, naturally, extremely small. The art has really had no chance to flourish.

But there is something new, and, we hope, more promising, in the development which is beginning at Kent, Connecticut. The bell tower is attached to the great public school in that city, and the donor of the bells has made it a stipulation that the art of ringing shall be taught there. It was while on a visit to this country that this gentleman heard and admired the ringing of bells in the traditional English manner and learned of the way in which ringers in this country are organised. In the hope that, by teaching the art of ringing to the students, there may gradually be spread in America a love of bells rung in English fashion he has made his gift to the school. His desire also is to see established in connection with it an organisation like the Oxford University Society and the Cambridge University Guild, which will provide a permanent link between all those who take up a study of the art while under the ægis of the school, from which the members will go out to their homes in the States as 'missionaries' of, to them, the new art, thus creating an interest which, in course of time, may lead to the provision of other towers and bells. If ever this vision should be realised, the art will owe a great deal to the inspiration and generosity of the donor of these bells, who is not content merely to provide the instruments, but to do what is humanly possible to ensure that they shall be used for the special purpose for which they are designed. Only the future can tell what success will attend this step. Will young America take to this fresh pastime with any interest or zest? If, before they leave the school, the students can get to the stage when method ringing has become something of the fascination which it is to the real enthusiast, there may be great possibilities before the scheme, especially if there can be developed with it that spirit of service, in which, as church workers, English ringers find so much incentive. The experiment at Kent School will be watched with great interest by members of the Exercise at home, and no small responsibility for its success rests upon the shoulders of the first instructor, Mr. Isaac Attwater, who has just gone from London to take up the appointment.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

I could go on giving examples of variation and adaptation almost indefinitely, but it is not necessary. It will be clear, even to those who have only cursorily followed my articles, that the two ideas on which the old standards were based cannot stand. No composition or method can possibly be original in the old sense of the word. Each is related to others in many ways, and even in the case of the most striking and outstanding peals the composition is largely the same as that of other peals. Nor can we say that the composer of the most original peal really creates anything which did not exist before. Peals and methods are the expression of certain mathematical laws, and the job of the composer is to find out how these laws work.

It follows that even if a complete register of compositions were possible it would not do away with the difficulty, and certainly such a register is not possible. No one can possibly know what peals have been composed. The old idea was to take into account only those which had been published or rung. That idea is really an absurd one, and no one can be sure what has been rung and what not. I was turning over the pages of 'The Bell News' of about thirty years ago. In the correspondence column all the leading composers of the day were discussing the originality and qualities of a method lately published. None of them knew that it had been rung nearly two hundred years before, or that Benjamin Annable had said exactly the same thing against it that Mr. Bankes James was now saying.

The conclusion of the matter seems to be that for ordinary peals strict originality need not be insisted on. If a man wants to call a certain class of peal and is able to put it together, I do not think he is bound to go to any great amount of trouble to find out whether or no it has ever been published. He may be pretty sure that it is more or less a variation of an old peal, but that need not stop him using it. Whether he puts his own name to it or not, is a matter in which he would be well to use some discretion. Young composers should remember that it is still true what Jasper Snowden wrote over fifty years ago: 'That a man may put himself to much trouble and make himself the laughing stock of the Exercise by reproducing a variation of some well known peal and putting it forth as an original composition.' In doubtful cases I should not blame the young composer who gave himself the benefit of the doubt, but the best plan would be to put no composer's name at all. In the early days they did not, except in special cases, and we could very well follow their example.

Of course, when a man is able to get something really new like Mr. Law James' Spliced Surprise he is entitled to call it his own and to have all the credit for it.

ROCHESTER SURPRISE.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Whilst taking a glance through 'The Ringing World' of March 13th I find in Mr. Trollope's remarks upon 'Transpositions and Variations' a method under the heading 'Rochester Surprise.' This, I believe, is an error, or, may be, a slip of memory, but I think I am correct when I say that the method published is not 'Rochester.' I will admit that it was rung by the Leiston band as such on October 6th, 1923, but Mr. Craven claimed the method as his under the title of 'Lancashire.' Later, the same band rang another method by Mr. Lindoff, and this was called 'Rochester,' and as such it has stood until now. Perhaps Mr. Trollope has overlooked this. I have appended the method 'Rochester,' which he may have mislaid.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD.

THRIVING ON AN ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTION OF SIXPENCE.

The annual meeting of the Dudley and District Guild was held at Dudley on Saturday, March 7th, when there was an attendance of about 100. Service was conducted at St. Thomas' Church by the Vicar (Canon A. H. Phelps), the address being given by the Rev. A. H. Messiter (Vicar of Kingswinford). After tea, prepared by the ringers' wives, and served in the Church Hall, Canon Phelps, who is president of the Guild, presided over the first part of the annual meeting, and when he had to leave the chair was taken by Mr. Harry Mason, one of the vice-presidents.

The President (Canon Phelps) voiced the regret of the Guild that Mrs. Sheppard, the wife of their excellent secretary, was prevented being with them owing to a serious illness, and on behalf of the members he asked Mr. Sheppard to convey their sympathy to her, together with hopes for restored health. After expressing regret that Councillor Shuttleworth was not able to be with them, Canon Phelps extended to all the members of the Guild and their friends a hearty welcome to Dudley.

The Secretary, in his annual report, reviewed at considerable length the activities of the Guild during the past year. It was pleasing to report that the Guild still kept up its average performing members, and that the finances remained satisfactory. Regret was recorded that the quarterly assemblies were not so largely attended as could be wished. They trusted that the coming year would witness more peals attempted, additional meetings for general practice, the spread of good fellowship among the members, and that the work of the Church would prosper in every way (applause).

Mr. Harry Mason, moving the adoption of the report, offered congratulations to the secretary upon the excellent resume he had furnished of the Guild's activities throughout the year.—This was seconded and carried.

The balance sheet showed a credit balance of £7 6s. 4d., against £7 4s. 12d. a year ago; and Mr. Mason, in moving its acceptance, said it was extremely satisfactory that they had been able not only to hold a credit balance, but to increase this to a slight extent. He imagined there was no other ringers' association in the land able to meet their liabilities and to have an effective and live organisation upon a membership fee of 6d. That they did so was a very great compliment to their secretary (hear, hear).—The balance sheet was approved.

Canon Phelps was re-elected president, the vice-presidents, with the addition of Mr. A. Winbow, were re-elected, and the following officers were also reappointed: Ringing Master, Mr. John Goodman, junior; hon. secretary, Mr. H. Sheppard; hon. treasurer, Mr. S. J. Hughes; auditors, Messrs. F. Evans and T. H. Justice.

The following were elected members of the Guild: Mr. J. H. Cox (Halesowen), Messrs. Andrew Round and Leslie Prestidge (Nether-ton), Messrs. D. Roberts, A. Turley, F. Austin, V. Holloway, S. Holloway, and F. Padbury (Smethwick), and Mr. J. B. Court (Sedgley).

The Rev. A. H. Messiter (Vicar of Kingswinford) was elected an hon. member of the Guild.

The ensuing quarterly meeting was fixed to be held at Kingswinford, and the Ringing Master was authorised to make arrangements for the annual peal to be attempted in Dudley.

AFFILIATION WITH CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The Secretary read a communication from the Central Council of Church Bellringers on the subject of the affiliation of guilds of church bellringers.

The Chairman (Mr. H. Mason) said the communication was important, and he hoped that Guild would accord it the consideration it merited. The Central Council was the recognised official body for regulating affairs associated with ringers, and his own view was that it was very desirable the Dudley and District Guild should be affiliated with it. As that Guild had hitherto had representation on the Central Council, he asked that meeting to consider the desirability of going a step further and becoming affiliated.

Mr. S. J. Hughes (treasurer) said he was one of the Central Council representatives. This question had previously been before that Guild for consideration, and his view was that it was advisable to accept the invitation to affiliate.

The Chairman later proposed that the Guild affiliate with the Central Council of Church Bellringers and loyally abide by the rules and decisions thereof.

Mr. W. Farley seconded, and the proposition was unanimously carried.

On the motion of the chairman, thanks were accorded to Canon Phelps for his continued interest in the ringers, to the Rev. A. H. Messiter for the address given to the Guild that afternoon, to the assistant organist (Mr. F. Cox), to their friends for the generous hospitality shown to them, and to the ladies who had prepared and served the tea; and also to their secretary for the hard work he did.

Mr. Hughes seconded the chairman's words of appreciation, and the resolution having been carried the meeting terminated.

During the day ringing took place at St. Thomas' Church, and ringers were present from Dudley, Stourbridge, Wollaston, Oldswinford, Kingswinford, Kidderminster, Netherton, Lye, Cradley, Rowley, Halesowen, Bromsgrove, Bradley, Bilston, Cosley, Sedgley, Wolverhampton, Smethwick, etc.

SWANSEA AND BRECON DIOCESAN GUILD.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

The quarterly meeting of the Southern District of the Swansea and Brecon Guild was held at Aberavon on Saturday, March 7th, when members attended from Cadoxton, Gorscmon, Llanelly, Swansea, and the local band, and visitors from Pembrey, Bridgend and Newport, Mon. The Vicar (Rev. W. H. Jones) conducted a short service and gave a very helpful address containing much good advice. A meat tea was served in the schoolroom, kindly provided by the churchwardens and a few ladies of the church, and was very much appreciated and enjoyed by all.

At the business meeting, with the Vicar in the chair, the secretary presented the balance sheet, which was adopted. This showed that the year 1930 had been a good one. After two-thirds of the balance had been sent to the general fund, £9 9s. 5d. was left to the credit of the district.

It was decided to go to Burryport for the next meeting, with a view to encouraging change ringing there. It was also thought it might help towards getting another bell to make a ring of six. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar for conducting the service, taking the chair, and for the use of the bells, to the organist for presiding at the organ, and to the churchwardens and ladies for the tea and their kindness in waiting at the tea tables.

The Vicar, in reply, said how pleased he was to have the ringers there, and to do what little he had done to make the visit a pleasant one.

The bells were kept going in various methods until about 7.30 p.m., when they were lowered in peal, bringing to a close a very happy meeting.

A FINE RECORD.

Fifty-two years as a bellringer—and still going strong—is a record of which Mr. Alfred Hugh Garner, of Leverington, is justifiably proud. Mr. Garner, who recently celebrated his 67th birthday, resides in Leverington, where he has been a ringer for 32 years.

His early days were spent in Wisbech St. Mary, where his grandfather was sexton, and at the age of 15 he had his first lesson in bell-ringing. He has been ringing ever since, and he says he intends not to give up while he can swing a bell.

Mr. Garner, as one of the Wisbech band, rang for the celebrations of Queen Victoria's jubilee in 1887. For the past thirty years he has lived in Leverington, and during that time he has not missed the opportunity of indulging in his hobby.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

A Special Investigator has this week dealt with the inquiries of correspondents. We accept no responsibility for his replies.

'Eggs.'—We do not as a rule deal with poultry problems in these columns, but we have it on very good authority that hens in certain parts of Gloucestershire lay very much better when the church bells are rung regularly. We fully appreciate the Mayor of Gloucester's feelings when the bells of St. Michael's are rung for his benefit.

'Sir Thomas.'—The problem you present to us is rather a tricky one, and has been submitted to our very Special Investigation Department. We do not think you can claim the four shillings from 'the man from Taylor's'; even if your claim were valid, we doubt very much whether you would get it. After going very carefully into the whole question, we are of the opinion that you are in his debt to the extent of sixpence. Our advice is, 'Pay up' and 'Smile.'

Numerous Enquirers, Bristol.—The most simple way (but not the cheapest) of getting a bottle of Scotch 'broth' in a Birmingham temperance hotel is to get a 'Wilbers,' soak it well and allow time to mature. When ready, serve in glasses, and add water as found necessary.

'Austin,' Glos.—We are sorry to learn of the loss of your hat, and can only advise that you use a much better quality of glue in order to keep it firm on the head. We sincerely hope that the one you 'found' is of much better quality. The driver of the taxi who took you home has been interviewed, and wants to know 'what about the empties?'

'Novice.'—The term 'pulling off the eleventh' is the 'deaf and dumb' sign for 'What's yours?'

'Perplexed.'—No, the damage to the Fidler's face was not caused by the 'Syston' turkey, or any other bird, but is the result of an accidental discovery. He found another way of dismounting from a bicycle.

'Curate.'—As far as we know the 'Bishops' of Swindon have not the influence you desire. Yes, there is another Shepherd to that flock, and he has been known to ring with his hat on during a rainy period.

'Supper Bar.'—There have not, as far as we know, been any invitations to fish and chip saloon proprietors for tenders for the discarded outer covers of the new 'Collection of Minor Methods.'

'Anxious,' Bristol.—We cannot answer your enquiry in this column regarding the dilemma of the damsels in blue.

'Antiquarian.'—Yes, the 'Syston' turkey is gone, but not forgotten.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. Stephen H. Wood, who is now residing in Glasgow, has been the 'victim' of appendicitis, but we are glad to say he is progressing satisfactorily after an operation.

Mr. D. K. C. Birt, the popular Master of the Surrey Association, is leaving within the next few weeks for a prolonged holiday in South Africa with his wife and daughter.

Exactly thirty years ago on Sunday, the band at St. Peter's, Brighton, rang the first peal of Bristol Surprise Major. It is the only new Surprise Major method that has really 'caught on' and achieved any real popularity out of the many that have been rung.

James Barham conducted at Harrietsham, Kent, the first peal of Reverse Bob Major 180 years ago next Monday.

A peal of 5,020 Old Double Caters, 'being the first peal ever rung in that method,' was accomplished at Fulham by the College Youths on March 23rd, 1783. What exactly was 'Old Double Caters'?

Will Mr. Maude please write again to the Forge, Handbridge, Chester, on behalf of ringers, his letter having been mislaid.

Owing to the illness of the Vicar of Upper Armley, the meeting of the Leeds and District Society which was to have been held there to-morrow has been postponed for a week, and will be held on the 28th inst. at Holbeck.

THE COLLECTION OF MINOR METHODS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Mr. Paddon Smith is mistaken in thinking that the Methods Committee has made any attempt to dictate to the Central Council the form its publications should take. Obviously this is a matter for the Council and not for the committee. It will be in the recollection of all members of the Central Council that the particular point at issue has not been decided, nor even discussed, at any meeting of the Council.

Our stand is taken on the principle that in the absence of a direct vote precedent must be followed, and that no official is entitled to depart from this without authority. In other words, we hold that, in effect, it is the secretary, and not we, who is dictating the form of the book. The last precedent that is parallel to the present one is the publication of 'Plain Major Methods,' and we have asked that that example should be followed now. I understand that Mr. Young claims the latest edition of 'Rules and Decisions of the Council,' as an argument for supporting his view, but surely there is no true comparison. For this last book the officers are clearly responsible, and it is more than difficult to see whose names it should bear if not theirs.

Unfortunately the question has been complicated by the raising (by Mr. Young) of the thorny problem of copyright. I do not wish to go into this point at this moment, but, speaking purely for myself, I feel there is a good deal to be said on both sides. On the whole, my opinion is that, in the Council's interest, it would be better for it to disclaim any rights and consequent responsibility that ownership of copyright would involve.

However that be, I would express the hope that this copyright problem be decided judicially and without heat, and, above all, apart from the controversies that have recently centred round the Methods Committee.—Yours, etc.,

E. S. POWELL.

A 15th CENTURY TOWER.

THE HISTORY OF GAINSBOROUGH BELLS.

The early history of Gainsborough Church is unknown, but about the year 1180 the Church of Gainsborough, with its endowments, was given by Sir Roger Talbot to the Preceptory of the Knights Templars at Willoughton.

The church was doubtless served by their chaplains until 1220, when the perpetual Vicarage of Gainsborough was ordained by Bishop Hugh of Wells, and a house and competent endowment provided by the Knights, who remained Rectors and owners of the advowson and probably of the major part of the endowment.

These they retained until 1311, when the Order was dissolved and their place taken by the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, who presented to the Vicarage until their Order in England was dissolved by Henry VIII. in 1540.

In 1545 the next presentation was made by Nicholas Sutton 'by grant hac vice' from Bro. William Weston, late prior of the dissolved Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem, and the next but one by the Bishop of Lincoln.

The Bishops of Lincoln appear to have become Rectors in the place of the Knights and owners of the advowson.

The present tower belonged to a church built probably in the 15th century, being Perpendicular in style, and having some features in common with the Parish Church of Althorpe, said to have been built in 1483, and to the Vicarage of which the Knights of St. John presented alternately with the Master of St. Leonard's Hospital, York.

In 1748 the church itself was replaced by a building in Renaissance style, the architect being James Gibbs, who was consulting architect to the Chapter of Lincoln Cathedral and architect of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields and other well-known buildings. The Perpendicular tower was retained, but internally cut off from the main building, and serves the purpose of a somewhat dismal porch.

The ground floor and west doorway were raised, the west windows shortened, a ringing floor was inserted, the fan vaulting removed, and two new doorways broken through the wall of the turret stairs. No provision was made for vestries until about 1900, when adequate vestries were erected on either side of the tower in a somewhat composite style.

Of the early bells nothing is known, but in 1553 there were five great bells and one sanctus bell. There existed many years ago, of which all trace has now been lost, a charge on certain lands in East Stockwith (which a hundred years ago formed part of the ecclesiastical parish of Gainsborough) for the provision of ropes for the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th bells.

When the new church was completed and furnished, a ring of eight bells from the foundry of Messrs. Lester and Pack was hung in the tower hearing, except the 5th and 6th, the names of the founders and the date 1764.

The inscription on the 5th bell is: 'In wedlock's bands all ye who join with hands your hearts unite; so shall our tuneful tongues combine to laud the nuptial rite.'

The tenor, in addition to the names of the founders and the date 1764, bears the names of the churchwardens, Joseph Hornby and John Coats. The 6th bell was recast in 1856 by Messrs. C. and G. Mears, and bears the names of the churchwardens, William Stanwell and John Ferris Marshall.

This bell may have suffered owing to the fact that its particular pit was of irregular shape to admit of entrance to the bell chamber, necessitating a short stay and a block slider running in a groove attached to the side of the frame and exerting a special strain on the head stock, which at a later date collapsed and caused the bell to fall, fortunately without injury.

In 1856 the new bell cost £76 8s. 7d., and the founders allowed £62 13s. 6d. for the old one, while £9 15s. 10d. was paid 'for taking down and refixing Bell, etc., etc.' The freight to and from London was 17s. 8d. The bell weighed approximately 11 cwt.

The 6th and 7th bells were recast by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. in 1883, and in the year 1908 extensive improvements were made in the tower. The bells were taken down, quarter turned and tuned, a steel frame was erected, the bells were supplied with new fittings and steel stocks, the camions removed, and new louvres inserted in the windows, which were partially blocked. The tone of the bells as well as the hanging is now excellent, and the ring has a high reputation among ringers. The weight of the bells varies from 5½ cwt. to 20 cwt.

DOUBLE LITTLE BOB.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I notice Mr. Barnett objects to the title of 'Double Little Bob' on the ground that the method was first rung at Crayford, under the name of Erith.

Given that, with the treble as far as fourth's and treble bob above fourth's, the method is 'Little Bob,' then the method we rang with three pull dodging in 5-6 and 7-8 and places in 3-4 down, is Double Little Bob—call it Erith, Wigan or Timbuctoo, if you will—just as 'Dartford' Little Bob is Little Oxford Bob.—Yours faithfully,
NOLAN GOLDEN.

RINGER'S DIAMOND WEDDING.

To celebrate the diamond wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. Champness, of Bishop's Stortford, on March 9th, two quarter-peals were rung at St. Michael's Church. The first was for morning service on Sunday, March 8th, a quarter of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) in 46 mins. by: Harold Wacey 1, R. Hayden 2, W. T. Prior 3, H. A. Wacey 4, H. Bull 5, H. M. White 6, F. Bird (conductor) 7, E. Ansell 8. On Monday, March 9th, a quarter of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) in 45 mins.: Miss D. Wacey 1, F. Springham 2, H. M. White 3, Rev. F. W. Lane 4, F. Bird (conductor) 5, W. W. Tucker 6, W. T. Prior 7, P. Springham 8.

Mr. Champness is the oldest member of the Bishop's Stortford hand.

LOST! FIVE SURPRISE RINGERS.

Much concern is being felt in ringing circles in the West Riding of Yorkshire, writes a correspondent, regarding the whereabouts of five 'Surprise ringers,' who, it is believed, set out from various districts in the counties of 'clogs' and 'broad acres' to visit a certain Yorkshire tower to attempt a peal of Surprise on Saturday last, but who, up to the time of going to press, have never been seen there. Exhaustive enquiries at Old Trafford and Elland Road have proved unavailing, and it is thought possible that the party may have journeyed to Wembley to ensure adequate accommodation for the pending F.A. Cup final.

Should this be the case, it may be possible that the 'cinquettette' may be detected by the 'Cinques,' and, providing they are able to 'call round,' may thus be 'roped in' for 3s. 6d. instead of 7s. 6d., and that gruesome qualification of a course of Stedman Cinques on a concertina.

Even the 'Gold Dust Twins,' whom it was thought inseparable, failed to function in that capacity; and thus the 'High Jenks' it was hoped to pull off was converted into a peal of 'Solo Singles,' which was brought round in 1 hour 30 mins., with an interval of eighty minutes between the going off and homing courses. As neither the method nor this mode of peal ringing conform to the rules laid down by the Central Council, the ringers' names had best remain secret.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.

PEAL BOOKING FEES.

The annual meeting of the Surrey County Association, held on Saturday at Kingston-on-Thames, was attended by about 90 ringers. Although it is the administrative centre of the county, Kingston is not easy of access from the eastern parts of Surrey, and it speaks well for the interest of the members that so large a number were present. Kingston is full of historical interest, and among its treasures is the King's Stone upon which several Saxon monarchs were crowned. The ancient church has a peal of ten bells, a mixed lot of indifferent quality, but they were kept busily engaged during Saturday afternoon in touches and attempts in a variety of methods. Nearly twice as many ringers turned up at the Church Hall for tea as had intimated their intention of coming, but the caterers eventually surmounted the difficulties.

The business meeting was presided over by the Master (Mr. D. K. C. Birt), who was supported by the hon. secretary (Mr. C. H. Kippin), the hon. treasurer (Mr. C. Dean), and the district officers.

The treasurer's statement showed that receipts in the general fund during the year amounted to £15 11s. including £4 2s. from the Southern District, £6 4s. from the North-Western District, and £3 5s. from compounding members' subscriptions. The expenditure was £17 8s. 6d., leaving a balance of £14 5s. 10d., against £18 3s. 4d. at the end of the previous year.

Mr. Dean moved the adoption of the accounts, and Mr. F. G. Woodiss, in seconding, pointed out that the statement did not show the real position of the association, as the treasurer's balance sheet contained no details of the financial position of the districts. He suggested that in future there should be either three balance sheets presented to the meeting, or one comprehensive statement.

The Chairman said that if Mr. Woodiss' suggestion was carried out they would have to alter the rules under which the districts had the right to deal with their own money subject to the payment of a certain proportion to the general treasurer. It might or might not be desirable to have a comprehensive balance sheet, and perhaps the committee might consider the matter.

The Hon. Secretary pointed out that the three financial statements appeared in the annual report, and it only needed a little simple arithmetic to calculate how the association was getting on.

The balance sheet was then adopted.

A NEW PRESIDENT.

The committee, in their report, stated that 41 peals were rung during 1930, an increase of 18 on the previous year, 104 members having taken part. The financial position of the association was also sound, the balances on December 31st amounting to £60 5s. 2d., as against £47 7s. 8d. at the end of 1929. The new certificates had been paid for since—an item of £21—but it was hoped that members who had not obtained certificates would do so, so that the funds might be reimbursed. It was the desire of the committee that the official peal record should be brought up to date. It was now several years in arrear, the last volume having been completed, and it was recommended that another book be purchased in order that the writing up of the peals might be continued. The report added that Sunday service ringing would be improved if the jangling of single bells before and after ringing were eliminated. The committee recommended that raising and falling in peal should be practised and carried out as far as possible. For several years the association had been without a president, and, representations to Dr. Garbutt (Bishop of Southwark) to occupy the position having been without effect, the committee were pleased to announce that the Bishop of Croydon had kindly consented to become president. During the year the association had lost two members by death, viz., Messrs. P. Tidy (Limpsfield Chart) and J. D. Talbot (Croydon). In the North-Western District five district meetings had been held during the year, with an average attendance of 32, and two joint meetings, one with the Guildford Diocesan Guild and the other with the London County Association. One fresh tower (Benhillon) had come into the association, and 23 new members had joined. There were now 113 attached and 46 unattached members, a total of 159, in the district—an increase of 10. In the Southern District there were 109 ringing and two hon. members. At the six district meetings there had been an average attendance of 26, and 20 peals had been rung against ten in the previous year. The bells and belfries were in good condition, and most hands had made good progress.

Mr. W. Hewell raised the question as to whether it was worth while going to the expense of having another peal book, in view of the fact that the details of the peals were published in the annual report. An amendment that no further book should be purchased, however, found no seconded.

It was stated that the last volume of peals brought the record only up to August, 1923, and that the outstanding peals would probably fill the new book. It was also mentioned that if the association purchased the book now required, a further book would probably be presented to the association.

It was agreed that the committee should proceed with the purchase of a new book and the writing up of the peals.

UNPAID BOOKING FEES.

The Hon. Secretary then moved that four peals rung in the Southern District, for which no booking fees had been paid, should be deleted from the records of the association. He pointed out that the rule of the association was that a booking fee should be paid of 3d. per popo for all peals, but there were four peals for which the fees had not been paid. All these peals were conducted by Mr. Oliver Sippetts. A few years ago the association was well on the way to bankruptcy. They had a reorganisation, and as one means of assisting their funds they decided to charge a booking fee for their peals. They had to thank the rules and the officers for bringing the association back to a more satisfactory position, until now they had a balance of about £60. They could not, however, allow a member to break the rules after they had been made. If one person could do without paying booking fees, they must license others to do the same; and if they broke one rule they could break another. He proposed, therefore, that the four peals be deleted.—Mr. F. E. Darby seconded.

Mr. A. J. Bull (hon. secretary of the Southern District) said he thought they should approach Mr. Sippetts on this matter before finally deleting the peals.

The Hon. Secretary said he was prepared to incorporate that suggestion in his amendment, so that Mr. Sippetts should have the opportunity of paying the fees. If, however, he did not do so the peals should be automatically taken out.

In reply to a question, Mr. Bull said that none of the ringers paid the fees for the four peals in question, and the hon. secretary pointed out that it was the conductor's duty to collect and forward the money.

A member said he would pay the fees for one of the peals—rung at Reigate.

The Master said they would all be sorry to delete the peals, but they must abide by the rules (hear, hear). Last year they discussed the question of abolishing the booking fees, but did not see their way to doing so. Perhaps now they had got over the expense of providing the new certificate they might in the near future be in sufficient funds to enable them to abolish the fee once for all. In the meantime there seemed no option but to delete those peals unless the rules were complied with. He suggested that, in regard to the three remaining peals, the time for the payment of the fees should be extended to Easter.

The motion was carried, and Mr. Bull then stated that the secretary need not take any further action, as he would pay for the three peals.

This offer led to objection in several quarters and further discussion, the view being taken that the motion having been carried, the application for the fees should be made to the conductor.

The report with this proviso was then adopted.

The following new members were elected: Messrs. H. C. Duffell and H. S. Barber (Kingston), J. A. Cook (Merton), W. Sparkes (Mitcham), F. Bell (Streatham) and Miss Ivy Kippin (Beddington), Mr. James Parker and Mrs. E. K. Fletcher (Edmonton), and Mr. E. S. Turner (Falling) were elected compounding members.

Four places were proposed for the next annual general meeting, but, it being pointed out that it was the turn of the Southern District next year, three were withdrawn, leaving Reigate without opposition.

No other nominations having been received, the election of the following officers was confirmed with acclamation: President, the Bishop of Croydon; Master, Mr. D. K. C. Birt; hon. treasurer, Mr. C. Dean; hon. secretary, Mr. C. H. Kippin; assistant secretary, Mr. F. E. Darby; auditor, Mr. E. G. Talbot.

Thanks were accorded to Mr. Housden, the retiring auditor, who has removed to Grays, for his services.

On the motion of Mr. Northover, cordial thanks were given to the Master and the hon. secretary for their services, and Mr. Kippin having replied, the Master thanked the treasurer and the district officers for their work during the past year.

Thanks to the Rector of Kingston for the use of the bells, and to Mr. J. Howes, of the local band, for his share in the arrangements, brought the meeting to a close, and the majority of the ringers then returned to the tower.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In a review of Mr. Ernest Morris' new book, 'The Sunday Times' of March 8th says that the Ancient Society of College Youths derives its name from the College of the Holy Ghost and Hospital of God's House, founded by Dick Whittington. This, of course, is a repetition of the statement in the society's official hand-book, but it cannot possibly be true. The College Youths had no more to do with Whittington and his college than they had with the Man in the Moon, and it is not in the least likely that they got their name from any church on College Hill. It is not a tradition of the Exercise, but a myth which has grown up on very slender foundations. No one knows or ever will know how they did get their name, but I think we can make a guess somewhat nearer the truth.—Yours truly,

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

DEATH OF MR. W. MILLER.THIRTY-THREE YEARS MASTER OF LEYTONSTONE SOCIETY.

It is with regret that we have to record the death of Mr. William Miller, of Leytonstone, who passed away suddenly on Wednesday, March 4th. About two years ago he had a severe illness, from which he never completely recovered, it having left him with a weak heart which ultimately caused his sudden demise, much to the sorrow of all who knew him, especially his ringing friends in London, Essex and Suffolk.

Mr. Miller was a native of Pakenham (Suffolk), where he first learned to handle a bell on the ring of five at the Parish Church, after which he used to walk to Bury and back regularly in order to obtain practice on the eight and ten bell peals at St. Mary's and the Norman tower. After a time he migrated to Leytonstone, where he had resided since 1894. At that time all changes only were rung at St. John's, but on January 20th, 1898, the Leytonstone (St. John's) Society was formed by Mr. Miller, the late Mr. T. Hervey Beams and Mr. J. Moule, the latter now being the only surviving member of the original band. Mr. Miller was elected Master, a position he retained till his death (thirty-three years). Change ringing was then taken up, and several notable exponents of the Exercise have from time to time belonged to the Leytonstone company, amongst whom may be mentioned the late Sam Hayes, W. Doran, H. Torble, etc., all contemporaries of Mr. Miller. It was mainly through the efforts of the late Mr. Edgar Wightman that Surprise Minor was practised in this tower, and he with the Leytonstone band at that time, together with those previously named, with the addition of Messrs. W. Keeble and G. Dawson, and a few others, raised the standard of ringing at St. John's to a high degree, which has been maintained ever since.

Mr. Miller's peals total 208, of which he conducted 35, amongst them being 62 peals of Surprise Minor in seven methods, one in 22 methods, and one in 23 methods of Spliced Surprise Minor, a peal of Stedman Caters at the Imperial Institute, the band for which was drawn from ten different counties, the William peal of London Surprise at St. Giles-in-the-Fields, and the two peals of Middlesex Surprise Royal.

On Sunday week a memorial service, conducted by the Vicar, Canon Brown, was held at St. John's Church, a large number attending, amongst whom were the members of deceased's family and the present Leytonstone company, the bells being rung muffled both for this and also the evening service. The Vicar paid a high tribute to Mr. Miller's capabilities as a ringer, and also to the great interest he took in the Church's work generally.

The funeral took place on Monday, March 9th, at the City of London Cemetery (Ilford), a large number of ringers and friends being present, amongst whom were Messrs. W. Pye (Master, representing the Middlesex Association), E. J. Buller (the Essex Association), T. H. Tuffender (the London County Association), C. Hayden (the Royal Cumberlands), Messrs. Petty and Chalk (the Wanstead band), and Mr. G. R. Pye (the Romford band). The service was conducted by Canon Brown, and after the interment a course of Grandsire Triples was rung over the open grave by Messrs. G. Dawson 1-2, T. H. Tuffender 3-4, G. R. Pye 5-6, W. Pye 7-8. Amongst the 47 wreaths were those from the clergy and churchwardens of St. John's, the Leytonstone band, and Mr. W. J. Nevard, Mr. G. A. Black, Mr. D. Vincent (Sunderland), Mr. and Mrs. Moule, and also the Wanstead band. After the funeral, a muffled peal of seven Surprise Minor methods was rung by members of the Leytonstone band, and also one of Superlative Surprise at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, which appear in their appropriate place in the peal columns.

This brief account of the passing of William Miller is but a slight appreciation of the esteem in which an old friend was held by all who knew him, and his passing will leave a gap amongst ringers, especially in the south-western portion of Essex, which will be hard to fill. One of his chief delights was looking forward to the time for the Leytonstone band's outing, every one of which he had attended since their inauguration. His delightful demeanour and cheery smile will be sadly missed. E. J. B.

BELBROUGHTON RINGER'S DEATH.SIXTY YEARS AT ONE CHURCH.

The death occurred on Friday, March 6th, of Mr. Henry Martin, of Belbroughton, Worcestershire, at the age of 86 years. He was one of the founders of the Worcestershire Association, formed in 1882. He did a great deal of spade work for the association in its early days, often walking miles to the neighbouring towns and villages on practice nights to help other members to learn the art of change ringing. Not a great peal ringer, he rang 17 for the association and conducted 4. He started ringing at the age of 16, and was made conductor when he was 25. He was a ringer at Belbroughton Church for more than 60 years.

The funeral took place on Wednesday, March 11th, when the bells were rung half-muffled. In the evening the local ringers rang 720 Grandsire Doubles.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.STANDING COMMITTEE'S RECOMMENDATIONS.

A meeting of the Standing Committee was held, by kind permission of the president, at his office in London on Tuesday, October 21st, 1930, when there were present Mr. E. H. Lewis (president) in the chair, Mr. E. Alex. Young (hon. secretary), Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn (hon. librarian), Mrs. E. K. Fletcher, Mr. A. A. Hughes and Mr. W. A. Cave. Mr. C. T. Coles regretted he could not be present, and Mr. C. F. Johnston telephoned to say that a heavy cold prevented his attendance.

The suggested new rules, as published in 'The Ringing World,' were gone through, and it was agreed that the suggested Rule 2 might be adopted, as seeming to give more prominence to the associations than to the representatives thereof. The only other suggestion that seemed to call for discussion was the second part of Rule 2: 'That the Council shall consist of (1) representative members elected annually.' The committee were unanimous against any alteration in the three-year system.

It was agreed that any alteration that might be made in the rules at the Liverpool meeting should be printed on a slip and inserted in the copies of 'Rules and Decisions of the Council' in the same way as the corrigenda of peals has been done.

Lantern slides.—A register of those in existence (that are known) to be made, and report to be made to the Liverpool meeting.

The other resolution of the Rev. H. Drake, 'That notices of motions shall be sent in the names of either of individual members or of affiliated societies, and shall reach the secretary in time for them to be published a week before Easter as a preliminary agenda. Within a fortnight after Easter other resolutions may be sent to him, but in this case only in the names of the societies,' was approved.

At the conclusion of the business for which the meeting was called, Mr. Young informed the members that he was very pleased to report that at last he had been successful in getting someone to master the Carter ringing machine. In fact, there were two gentlemen now who were capable of demonstrating the machine to interested people.

He also mentioned that he had been successful in his quest for a successor to himself in the post of hon. secretary to the Council.

TREBLE BOB METHODS.

Since his letter on the 'Construction of Methods' appeared in our columns a fortnight ago, Mr. George Baker has been investigating 'Treble Bob' methods. He has discovered a great many which are based on no plain method, and some of them are more intricate than most Surprise methods. 'This,' he says, 'shows how ridiculous it is to lay down arbitrary rules.'

The following is his latest production on these lines, and it will run true to Middleton's peal of Cambridge—and will want a great deal more ringing than that method:—

MISCELLANEOUS PERFORMANCES.

SOUTHGATE.—At Christ Church, on March 13th, for Confirmation service, by the Bishop of Willesden, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples in 48 mins.: J. Armstrong (conductor) 1, D. Pink 2, G. Plater 3, D. RESTORATION OF INGRAVE BELLS.

The five bells at Ingrave, Essex, having recently been restored by Messrs. Bowell and Sons, a good attendance of members of the South-Western Division of the Essex Association and friends gathered there on Saturday for a pull on this handy ring. Soon after 3 p.m., the bells were going to Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, everybody expressing pleasure at the splendid 'go' of this rather heavy peal. The association service was conducted by the Vicar, and it was most gratifying to have the full choir, and also a large number of the villagers present. After service all present were invited by the Rector to the tea kindly provided for them in the Parish Hall.

At the business meeting the whole of the Ingrave band were elected members, and the Rector himself an honorary member. In addition, two other ringing and two honorary members were also elected.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Woodford on Saturday, May 9th, the district secretary having previously made the arrangements.

The meeting closed with a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector (Rev. W. Lindsay) for kindly allowing use of tower and bells and for his hearty welcome, to the organist, Miss Boardman, and to the choir, to the members of the congregation for waiting at the tea, and to the Ingrave band for having everything in readiness.—This was responded to by the Rector, who expressed the hope that the association would endeavour to pay another visit to Ingrave as soon as possible, and also by Mr. W. F. R. Boardman on behalf of the choir.

Before commencing the meeting, the members stood in silence for a minute as a mark of respect to the late Mr. William Miller, of the Leytonstone band, who had passed away the previous week.

During the afternoon, between 20 and 30 members were present from Brentwood, Braintree, Romford, Leytonstone, South Weald, Maldon, All Saints', Bentley, together with the local men, and six-scores of various methods were rung, the bells being lowered in peal at 8.30 p.m., all agreeing that most enjoyable and profitable afternoon had been spent.

AN INTERESTING MASONIC PEAL.

A Masonic peal of special interest was rung at St. Dunstan's, Stepney, on Saturday week, when five members of the Ancient Society of College Youths and five members of the Royal Cumberlanders stood side by side as brothers of the craft, and accomplished a 5,000 of Kent Treble Bob Royal. In that respect the performance was unique.

It was the first peal on the bells since they were rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and it speaks volumes for the way the work has been done that it was possible to turn the bells with a 31 cwt. tenor to a peal of Treble Ten in 3 hrs. 16 mins.

The local company gave up their privilege of ringing the first peal to enable the Masons to make this attempt, and their action was, naturally, very much appreciated.

DEATH OF A MERROW RINGER.

The band at Merrow, Surrey, has lost by death Mr. Adolphus John Boniface, who for many years was captain of the local company. Mr. Boniface's ringing was not of the spectacular kind, but he kept the Sunday service ringing going at his own church in face of many difficulties. He was a member of the Winchester Diocesan Guild and of the Guildford Diocesan Guild from its formation.

He was a member of the choir for 34 years, and he took an active part in friendly society work in the village. He had been ill for a considerable period, and passed away in the Royal Surrey County Hospital on Sunday week at the age of 60 years.

The funeral on Wednesday of last week was choral, the Nunc Dimittis and the hymns, 'Now the labourer's task is o'er' and 'On the Resurrection morning,' being sung, while after the committal prayers a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells over the open grave by C. Hazelden, A. H. Pulling, R. Philpott and J. S. Goldsmith. The church bells were rung muffled before the service.

STEDMAN RINGING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Mr. E. H. Lewis, in the course of his speech at the Johnson Commemoration Dinner, remarked that he had been 'exiled' for fifteen years in Scotland, and that a new generation of ringers had sprung up during that time, many of whom he did not know. With all due respect to the popular president of the Central Council, it would interest me to know on what source of information he bases his conclusion that (with one possible exception) nowhere did we get such good Stedman ringing as in Birmingham both on handbells and tower bells.—Yours faithfully,

H. JACKSON.

Stockport.

NORTON, STAFFORDSHIRE.—On Sunday, February 8th, for divine service in the evening at St. Bartholemew's Church, 720 Hanley Double Surprise Minor: J. W. Walker 1, C. S. Ryles 2, J. E. Wheeldon (conductor) 3, W. Corfield 4, W. C. Lawrence 5, J. Walley 6.

BELLS OF THE CHANNEL ISLANDS.

THE FIRST CHANGE RINGING IN GUERNSEY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In your issue of November 21st, 1930, I note that Mr. F. W. Richardson is under the impression that no change ringing has ever taken place in either of the Islands. For the information of ringers generally, I draw attention to the fact that some time prior to 1914 (I forget the exact year) the St. Nicholas' Guild of Ringers, Bristol, chose the Islands for their annual outing, with the view of trying to ring a peal of Stedman Triples on the bells of St. Peter Port Church, Guernsey, which had, at that time, been rehung by a French firm of bellhangers. On arrival we found that the bells were almost unringable, and it was only through the labour of our steeple-keeper, Mr. J. Richmond, that we managed to ring them. Not to be deprived of the opportunity of recording what probably would be the first change ringing on the bells, Mr. J. Richmond spent most of the Sunday morning greasing and adjusting the stays and sliders, whilst his colleagues were paying a visit to the Vale Church and rang a 720 Kent Treble Bob Minor for morning service, this being the first completed attempt of change ringing in the Islands.

On our return to the Parish Church, we found a lot of improvement in the 'go' of the bells, and we started for a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples, which did not succeed owing to insufficient time to ring it, but we had the undisputed satisfaction of knowing that we had made the first attempt at change ringing on St. Peter Port bells. The report of our visit to the Islands was published in 'The Ringing World.' As regards Jersey bells, we visited that Island also, but it was unknown to the Bristol ringers that there were ringable bells there, or we should certainly have tried to ring there also.—Yours truly,

F. G. MAY.

THE INSTRUCTION OF BEGINNERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Referring to a recent leading article in 'The Ringing World' on 'What is the best way to teach the art of change ringing?' I must say that I was rather disappointed that some experienced instructors have not given us more helpful information on the subject, although we have been told the correct way to hold the rope.

To say that ringers must possess certain qualities, and that nine-tenths hold the rope end wrongly, and that one-fifth are wrong at hand stroke, is somewhat disheartening, and not at all helpful, although I notice the writer thinks it safe to apply this to country ringers only.

Personally, I should imagine that one good quality a ringer or learner may possess would be 'enthusiasm,' and the instructor should certainly possess a knowledge of teaching on correct lines, so that learners are put on the way to grasp ropesight.

I notice that according to Mr. Dyke's letter, in which he told us how to hold a bell rope, the illustrations in 'Troyte's Change Ringing' and 'Snowdon's Ropesight' on the position of the tail end are incorrect, as they both show the rope end held with the 'sally' by the four fingers. I have used these books for instruction, and think they must be badly in need of revision if these incorrect illustrations have been allowed to stand for so long.

There is no doubt that proper instruction is badly needed, and I think the associations should do more to supply it. I believe some associations have one or two instructors and assistants, while others have none at all. I should like to suggest that there should be a qualified teacher present at ringing meetings as often as possible, and that occasional meetings be held for tower instructors only, where the technique as well as the science of ringing could be taught, and thus handed on. This would surely be real good work.

W. A. OSBORN.

THE 18 1/2 TON RINGING BELL,
the Bourdon of the Carillon of 64 Bells, about to be installed at RIVERSIDE CHURCH, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

THE STEDMAN COMMEMORATION.

The proposal which was made in this column a few weeks ago that something should be done in this year of 1931 to commemorate Fabian Stedman, who was born exactly three centuries ago, is now beginning to take definite shape. The suggestion was that funds should be raised to put into ringing order the bells of St. Benet's Church, Cambridge, where Stedman himself rang and where there are still five of the actual bells upon which he and his band used to practise. It was pointed out that the tower in which the bells hang is a very precious relic—one of the oldest buildings in East Anglia. It is of Saxon origin, and dates from somewhere round about the year 1000 A.D. Obviously nothing which would in the slightest degree involve a risk to the stability of this venerable pile could be dreamt of, and it is the safety of the tower which must dominate any scheme in which the bells are concerned. Further, as the object of any restoration work which might be carried out is the commemoration of the 'father' of change ringing, it must naturally be an essential part of the scheme to preserve as far as possible that with which Stedman was personally identified, and, in this instance, there is only one line to take, and that is to keep intact, with any imperfections that cannot be removed without recasting, the bells of Stedman's days.

These are the primary conditions upon which any commemoration scheme which includes a work of restoration must be based, and there is good ground for hoping that the ringers of England will have the opportunity of taking in hand a renovation which will be a practical memorial to the man to whose genius the Exercise owes so much—owes, indeed, the foundation of its art. The Saxon tower and the bells have been carefully inspected by Mr. E. H. Lewis, president of the Central Council, than whom no greater authority on questions of the stresses set up by bells on towers exists, and by Mr. A. R. Powys, architect and secretary of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings. There is every prospect of an agreement between the 'ringing' and the 'antiquarian' views as represented by these experts, and, what is more, their proposals are likely to meet with sympathetic consideration on the part of the church authorities.

We cannot anticipate their report, but we think there is little doubt that it will open the way for the Exercise to commemorate one of its first and most famous members, and of doing so by a practical act which will bring back into use some of its most historic bells, for what bells could be of more historic interest from the ringers' point of view than those upon which Fabian Stedman first rang his own incomparable method? No time could be more appropriate than the 300th anniversary of his birth; no opportunity more unique, nor the practical value of the proposals more advantageous. We hope the scheme will become national in character; and that associations collectively and ringers individually will give in accordance with their means when the time comes to ask for their assistance.

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM REYNER.

CHORISTER AND RINGER FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS.

One of the best-known and most highly respected residents in the Sandal district has passed away in the person of Mr. William Reyner, whose death took place suddenly at his residence, Hill Top, Newmillerdam, on March 10th, at the age of 71 years, after a full and active life. A lifelong abstainer and non-smoker, for 62 years the deceased was a chorister, and for over 52 years a change ringer at the Parish Church of Sandal, which he dearly loved, and where he was a communicant. It was one of his proud boasts that never was there a disagreement between the ringers and the clergy in the history of the bells. Of his ringing abilities it could not be said that he was a 'globe trotter.' He confined himself to Minor on the six bells of his own tower, and was seldom absent except on holiday. He was a great supporter of the Yorkshire Association, which he joined in 1879. He was the very life and soul of Barnsley and District Association from its beginning. A past-president and vice-president, his enthusiasm for its welfare knew no bounds. He was always eager to join hands in unity. He was always anxious that ringers should stand well in the opinion of the Bishop and clergy of the diocese.

At the funeral, which took place on the 13th at Sandal Church, the service was fully choral, and was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. A. Audley Parry). The Rev. Canon Hone (hon. president of the Barnsley and District Association) and the Rev. E. C. Hamer were also present. The hymns, 'Peace, perfect peace,' and 'On the resurrection morning,' were effectively rendered. The Oddfellows' funeral service was read at the graveside, and the committal prayers were said by the Vicar. Representatives from the many societies of which Mr. Reyner was a member were present, including Wakefield Oddfellows, Barnsley and District Association of Change Ringers, Sandal Property Owners' Association, the Paxton Society, Sandal Church bellringers and choir, and the officials and workmen of the Wakefield Golf Club, where he was last employed.

The bells were muffled and rung for both services on Sunday, the tenor having one side 'open.' For all he did Mr. Reyner had a reason, and for everyone he had a word in season.

MUFFLED BELLS.

On Wednesday evening, March 18th, with bells half-muffled, a quarter-peal of Grandshire Triples (1,260 changes) was rung at the Parish Church, Milnrow, Lancs, in memory of Mr. Clifton Fielding, who was interred earlier in the day in the parish churchyard. Mr. C. Fielding was formerly a member of the local band, but had to resign owing to ill-health: S. Parry 1, J. H. C. Massey 2, W. Staff 3, G. Staff (conductor) 4, J. B. Shaw 5, J. C. Bennett 6, A. Buckley 7, A. Sidebottom 8.

On Wednesday, March 4th, at SS. Peter and Paul's Church, Lavenham, a quarter-peal of Grandshire Triples (1,260 changes) in 56 mins.: F. A. Turner 1, M. T. Symonds 2, A. Symonds 3, S. H. Symonds (conductor) 4, W. Jarvis 5, L. Pryke 6, W. R. Poulson 7, F. F. Mortlock 8. Rung with half-muffled clappers as a mark of respect for Miss Boby, a churchworker for fifty years, who was interred that day.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

SOUTHERN DIVISION.

The annual meeting of the Southern Division was held at Hands-worth, Sheffield, on Saturday last. For an annual meeting, the attendance was only moderate, the towers represented being St. Marie's and the Cathedral, Sheffield, Rammoor, Ecclesfield, Darfield, Doncaster, Arksey, Wortley, Rawmarsh and Wath, with visitors from Leeds, Dore, Grimsby, Ordsall and Norton bringing the number up to nearly forty. Ringing in various methods was carried on up to 4.30, when a service was held, at which the preacher was the Rev. R. F. Wilkinson, Vicar of Ordsall, Notis, and a well-known member of the Exercise. At a later stage in the day's proceedings, the rev. gentleman said he always knew beforehand what he was going to read in 'The Ringing World' about the service: 'The preacher gave a very inspiring and helpful address.' He could not say that about his own, as he was afraid it was neither.

As it would not be polite to contradict a parson (the use of his bells might be wanted at some time), it might be let go at that (verb. sap.).

A splendid tea was provided by the local company in the Schools, and the business was transacted in the same place, the Rector presiding.

The secretary read correspondence received from the societies in the southern area of the county with regard to the quarterly meetings being joint ones, but from the views expressed in the letters it was decided not to proceed with the matter further, but to still have the one annual joint meeting. The secretary was instructed to try and arrange this at Whiston, near Rotherham, on either the second or fourth Saturday in June next.

Four new members were elected, viz., Messrs. R. Payne and J. Hoywood, of Treeton, J. Gilbert and Miss M. Higgins, of Handsworth.

Mr. G. Halksworth, of Doncaster, the retiring Ringing Master, was elected for a further term of three years, and, in returning thanks for his re-election, said that it would be his last term. He had held the office from the formation of the district in 1914, and as this term would make his period of office up to twenty years, he thought it was time they found a fresh Ringing Master. He hoped they would give his successor (whoever he might be) the same support as he had received.

Mr. Halksworth was heartily thanked for his services. Mr. S. F. Palmer (Sheffield Cathedral), Mr. A. Panther (Wath) and Mr. T. C. Ryder (Rotherham) were elected to the committee, Mr. Ryder taking the place of Mr. A. Hill, of Tickhill, who had resigned on account of business reasons. Mr. Palmer was further elected to service on the general committee for a period of three years.

Votes of thanks to the preacher, the Rector, the local company, and to the 'wenches' (this was the Rector's word for the ladies who attended to the ringers' wants at tea) were heartily carried and replied to by the Rector, who gave the association a cordial invitation to pay another visit in the near future.

WESTERN DIVISION OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

The annual meeting of the Western Division of the Yorkshire Association was held at Queensbury on Saturday last, when members from the following towers were present: Keighley, Headingley, Far Headingley, Guiseley, Halifax, Bradford, Pudsey, Batley, Bramley, Armley, Idle, Brighouse, Leeds, Lindley, Ripon, Shipley, Donholme, Northowram and the local company. During the afternoon the bells at Holy Trinity were rung to Treble Bob, Plain Bob and Stedman, and a short service was held, the address being given by the Rev. F. C. Foote. Tea was served in the Schools, and at the business meeting which followed, Mr. J. Cotterell, vice-president, was in the chair, supported by the Rev. C. C. Marshall (president of the association).

The following officers were re-elected for a further term of three years: J. Broadley (Ringing Master), F. W. Dixon, J. Hardcastle and R. Umpleby (committee). A vote of thanks to the retiring officers was moved from the chair, and seconded by Mr. J. Woodhead.

Seven new members were elected: M. Ryder (Idle), Miss Mary Jagger, E. Sandland, G. Pitt (Northowram), F. Carter, F. Dalby (Donholme), R. Greaves (Bramley).

The place of the next meeting was discussed, and it was decided to endeavour to arrange one at East Ardsley.

The Rev. C. C. Marshall proposed, and Mr. Greenwood seconded, a vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells and address, and to the organist and choir for their services. This was carried, and Mr. Craven responded. A vote of thanks to the ladies for presiding at the tea tables, and to the local company for the arrangements made, was proposed by the chairman and seconded by Mr. J. Woodhead. This was also carried, and Mr. Gregson and Mr. Whiteley responded. A vote of thanks to the chairman concluded the business meeting. The tower was again visited, and further ringing indulged in.

STEVENAGE, HERTS.—On Sunday, March 22nd, for evening service, 720 Oxford Treble Bob in 23 mins.: G. Johnson 1, H. Withering 2, W. Brown 3, F. Turner 4, W. H. Coles (Taunton) 5, W. Lawrence (conductor) 6.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday last, a very successful meeting was held at Barkway. About thirty-five members were present, and represented the following towers: Anstey, Barkway, Barley, Braughing, Chrishall, Hitchin, Little Mundeu, Molbourn, Meldreth, Taunton (Somerset) and Trumpington.

The standard of ringing was good, and methods ranged from Grandsire Triples to Cambridge Surprise. An excellent tea was served at the Wheatsheaf, and a short business meeting followed with Mr. W. H. Lawrence in the chair.

The two outstanding events of the meeting were undoubtedly performed by Mr. W. H. Lawrence—that of ringing 3-4 on the tower bells to a course of Grandsire Triples, and after tea accompanying some tune playing on handbells, with '9-10-11-12' in hand, and, considering the size of the tenor was 18 in G, he had literally got a 'handful'!

Ringling continued until about 9 p.m. As this was the last meeting of the ringing year, the secretary would like to thank the many friends who attended this and all the other meetings during the past year, and trusts that they will continue to do so, as, after all, the secretary merely arranges the meetings—the ringers make them either a success or a failure.

DOUBLE LITTLE BOB.To the Editor.

Sir,—Mr. Nolan Golden's undignified and sarcastic manner of expressing himself does not commend itself to me. He has apparently, in spite of the correspondence in 'The Ringing World' between Mr. G. Lewis and myself, deliberately altered the name of the method he rang at North Lopham, on February 15th last, from Erith Little Bob to Double Little Bob. If the attitude he adopts is allowed to go unchallenged, we shall find him one day trying to alter the names of some of the standard methods just because he may think they do not conform to his ideas of what is right or wrong. It has always been recognised by the Exercise that the band who first ring a peal in an unnamed method have the privilege of naming it, and no amount of explanation can alter the fact that the band who rang the first peal in the method under discussion named it Erith Little Bob, and they have no intention of altering its name.

I hope the Peal Analysis Committee will take notice of my objection.—Yours faithfully,

E. BARNETT.

BARNSELEY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting of this association was held at Royston on Saturday, March 14th, when the towers represented were Badsworth, Cawthorne, Darfield, Felkirk, Hoylandswaine, Horbury, Penistone, Sandal, Wath, and the local company. After ringing during the afternoon, tea was served in the schoolroom, thirty-one being present. At the business meeting which followed, the Vicar, Rev. E. Walker, presided, and referred to the death of Mr. William Reynier, of Sandal. He moved a vote of condolence to the widow and relatives, and all present stood in silence.

Crofton was selected for the shield contest to be held on July 4th. Two new members were elected, and Darfield was chosen for the next place of meeting.

The usual vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells and to the ladies for providing tea. The Vicar, in reply, gave a hearty welcome to the ringers, and said he would like to have the bells overhauled, but financial difficulties would not allow it at present.

Further ringing continued until 9 p.m., various methods being practised.

'FATHER' OF ISLAND RINGERS.EIGHTY-EIGHT AND STILL RINGING REGULARLY.

The veteran Isle of Wight ringer and 'father' of the Ryde band (Mr. George Henry Coombes) will celebrate the eighty-eighth year of his birth to-morrow.

For 45 years he has been a member of Ryde All Saints' Parish Church bellringers, having joined the band in 1886, soon after the bells were installed there by Taylor and Co. He was then 43 years old (no 'chick' to commence change ringing), but he soon mastered his bell and method ringing, and has since been a most regular service ringer. He has rung several peals of Grandsire Triples, his last peal being in honour of his seventieth birthday in 1913. In addition to ringing regularly for Sunday service, he still attends and takes an active part in the weekly practices, and is, we believe, the oldest active ringer in the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild.

A horticulturist by profession, Mr. Coombes is still as keen as ever, and his flower beds at his residence, 25, Swanmore Road, Ryde, are greatly admired by both residents and visitors during the summer months, and are worthy of inspection. A lover of football, he is also a keen follower and supporter of the local team, and only very severe weather prevents his attendance at every match.

In the name of the Exercise we extend to Mr. Coombes hearty greetings and congratulations upon his birthday.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

In response to the paragraph in this column last week, we are to say that T. Maude (Yorks) cannot recall having written to the Forge, Handbridge, Chester.

To-day is the anniversary of the 12,000 of Treble Rob Royal rung by the Royal Cumberland Youths at Shoreditch in 1784, and which stood as a record until 1911.

A hundred and five years ago to-day the first peal of Superlative Surprise Royal was rung at Wakefield.

His many friends, both in and outside the Dudley and District Guild, will extend heartfelt sympathy to the hon. secretary, Mr. Herbert Sheppard, whose wife passed away on Wednesday week after a long illness.

Mr. Maurice E. Wilson, of 221, Hanover Street, Sheffield, was on Saturday elected hon. secretary of the Sheffield and District Society to succeed Mr. H. Thorpe.

The death has occurred at Hemel Hempstead of Mr. J. Floyd, who was for forty years a ringer at St. Mary's Church.

We are glad to be able to state that Mr. James George is making good progress towards recovery after his recent bad attack of influenza and bronchitis. He sends his kind regards to all old friends, and desires to express his thanks to those who have made kind inquiries during his illness.

SURREY ASSOCIATION PEALS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Will you please note that the undermentioned peals rung during 1930, conducted by Mr. O. Sippetts, have been deleted from the Surrey Association's records owing to non-payment of the booking fee in accordance with the rules:—

Horley, May 18th, Double Norwich Major.

Reigate, May 31st, Superlative Surprise.

Godstone, June 11th, Cambridge Surprise Major.

Leigh, June 22nd, Minor in seven methods.

Yours faithfully,

CHAS. H. KIPPIN,

Hon. Secretary.

THANKS TO OUR 'SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Thanks very much to your 'Special Investigator.' His note had the desired effect. A certain gentleman, not many miles from Gloucester, who specialises in umbrellas, on looking through 'The Ringing World' last Saturday morning suddenly realised he had got the wrong hat.

To catch the first bus to Gloucester and restore it to the rightful owner was his first thought, and eventually the exchange was made, much to the comfort of the owner, who was about to buy a new one. Needless to say, a few more empties had to be moved after the happy reunion.—Yours truly, Gloucester.

JOHN AUSTIN.

A PILGRIMAGE TO YPRES? SUGGESTED RINGERS' VISIT TO BELGIUM.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Several ringers have written me regarding the proposal, mooted in the 1,000th number of 'The Ringing World,' to promote an outing to Belgium with a view to a pilgrimage to the Menin Gate. The most suitable time for such an undertaking is naturally in the August holidays, and the anniversary of the outbreak of the Great War.

The suggested plan is as follows:—

To leave London on Saturday, August 1st, for Ostend.
Sunday, a free day (or otherwise as the company decide).
Monday, to tour the battlefields, visiting Ypres, with a short service at Menin Gate, with handbells. At night, Bruges carillon.
Tuesday, return.

THE MENIN GATE, YPRES.

The above is for those who cannot stay for the 'week' of eight days. For those who can stay, it is proposed to visit Lille or Arras (France), and, if possible, Cologne (Germany).

Now the cost. For the week-end tour: To travel London-Dover-Ostend out and home, with three full days' board and accommodation at Hotel Pension Myra, including all charges and a guide, is £3 15s. The battlefields trip is 7s., and the Bruges one 5s.

The cost for the week of eight days is £5 8s. 9d. per head 'all in,' but the charges for Ypres and Bruges as above are extra. There are numerous firms of 'chairs' transport running trips every day in all directions, and a visit to Brussels or Cologne can be fixed up by rail on the spot.

I have been over some of the ground and consider that a visit such as is contemplated would be remembered with pleasure for a lifetime. It is proposed to attempt handbell peals if the scheme matures. For those who do not ring there are sights that will sink into the soul. They can stand on the spot where their friends or relatives laid down their lives for posterity.

"In the land where poppies grow,

Where graves are white in the fading light
As flakes of falling snow."

Will those who are willing to join such a party send me a postcard with their name and address. Later it will be necessary to deposit five shillings; the remainder can be paid a month before the date.

No passports are necessary for the short date tour, but for those who stay the full week they are compulsory. I will do all the correspondence of organisation willingly, and free of charge. Send your postcard to me

HOW A NEW ASSOCIATION WAS FORMED.

TEN SECRETARIES RING A PEAL.

An event took place at Beddington, Surrey, last Saturday, unique in the annals of ringing. The general secretaries of ten associations and guilds met and rang a peal together. Some of them came long distances, and, as all good secretaries should, they were punctually at the meeting place. The last to arrive was the man on the spot, but even he was not late. The question of the society to which the peal should be credited was a perplexing one, but the secretaries even found a way out of this difficulty—good secretaries are expected to find a way out of all difficulties. The solution of the problem in this case, seeing that they belonged to so many different societies without all belonging to any one society, was to form a new society and elect themselves as members. Quite a simple and cheap procedure when you think about it and know how to go about the job! And secretaries are supposed to know—it's their business, and they know a good deal. For instance, they know the trouble it is to get in subscriptions; they know what a bore it is to have to write up minutes—you who propose and second all sorts of motions and amendments know nothing of the days of worry and the sleepless nights you sometimes give your over-worked and under-paid secretaries. Yes, secretaries know something, and in drawing up the constitution of their new society they were careful to eliminate anything that would be likely to create work. So this is the resolution which was solemnly proposed, seconded by everyone, and carried with acclamation, unanimity, nem con, nem dis, and any other old thing by, on or with which resolutions are carried. It was put to the meeting by the self-constituted chairman, and the words in parentheses show how it was greeted with a crescendo of approval:—

'That an association, to be known as the Secretaries' Association, be and the same is hereby formed (hear, hear); that those here present become its first members (applause); that it be open to secretaries of recognised ringing guilds and associations (loud applause); that there be no entrance fee or annual subscription (loud cheers), and that no minutes of its proceedings be kept' (loud and prolonged cheers).

After that, of course, all that remained was to ring the peal and record it for the Secretaries' Association in the columns of 'The Ringing World.' At least, it wasn't quite all. At the 'Harvest Home' there was another small formality. The president—the chairman had, in the meantime, been raised a step in the peerage—was authorised to spend the entrance fees and subscriptions due to date for the refreshment of himself and the rest of the company. This he did, with the result that he found himself with a deficit in the balance sheet—which no good secretary ought to have.

By the way, Beddington is not quite in the centre of the map for the secretaries of ten associations who have to come from such uncivilised places as Yorkshire, South Wales, Somerset, Portsmouth, Berkshire and some others that could, but need not, be mentioned. As a consequence, various means of transport had to be employed, and a system of collection and delivery organised. The collection was all right, but in one case the delivery agent failed in his contract. The Chilcompton 'busman' was entrusted with the delivery of the goods for Reading at Guildford Railway Station not later than 9.40 p.m., and left in good time—that is to say, good time for him, for in the ordinary course he needs only about half the time that any other equally careful driver would require. When he 'treads on the gas' the policeman does not even have time to gasp, 'Crikey, that's Joe, that was!' But the trouble about Joe is, apparently, that at night, when he can't read the sign posts he navigates by the stars, and on this occasion a horrible cloud overspread the heavens soon after he set out, and he lost his bearings. When at last the stars reappeared, the pilot found the Pole Star to the south, and Orion's Belt to the west, or east or north—or somewhere where it ought not to be—and so he decided to get out and ask where he was. He wasn't on the road from Beddington to Guildford—not by a long chalk. He was nearer Reigate on the other side of the county. And so 'Old Tom' enjoyed a tour round half Surrey, missed his train and got home at heaven knows what hour. But all's well that ends well; and when you have helped to form a new association and have rung in its first peal, both in one day, what does it matter what time you get home?

But now from the gay to the grave, for there was a sad side to an otherwise delightful gathering of friends. Mr. John W. Jones, of Newport, Mon, was one of the band. He had reluctantly left the sick-bed of his wife, who urged him to come in order to 'keep his promise and not 'let down' the rest of the company. As soon as the peal was over, he made a dash by car to catch a train to South Wales from Paddington. With only a minute to spare—thanks to the admirable driving of his son—he caught the express and reached home after midnight. At nine o'clock in the morning his wife died. The tragedy of it! On behalf of the other members of the band and himself, the writer of these notes tenders to Mr. Jones the deepest sympathy of them all.

THE GLOUCESTER DINNER. THIRD SUCCESSFUL REUNION.

The third annual dinner of the Gloucester Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was held on Saturday, March 14th, at the Spread Eagle Hotel, when 97 members and friends sat down. The Mayor of Gloucester (Councillor W. R. Eggleton) presided, and was supported by the Rev. E. G. Saleby (Vicar of Leonard Stanley and Master of the association) and the Rev. E. D. S. Camus (Vicar of St. Mary de Crypt), Mr. Sidney Romans (chairman of the branch), Mr. W. H. Harris (branch secretary), Mr. J. Austin and Mr. Geo. Jackson. Apologies for absence were received from Rev. Canon Brathwaite, Rev. H. G. Hadow and the Rev. W. G. Pritchard. The visitors included Mr. and Mrs. E. Guise and a party from Bristol, Mr. C. Gardiner and party from Swindon, Mr. Holt and party from Worcester, Mr. Cam and party from Upton-on-Severn, Mr. A. Wright, Stroud, also several ringing friends from Cheltenham district, Lydney and Westbury-on-Severn. Messrs. Taylor and Co. were represented by Mr. J. P. Fidler, and Messrs. Gillett and Johnston by Mr. S. Roper.

After an excellent repast, served under the direction of Mrs. Stanley Smith, the loyal toast was honoured on the call of the chairman.

In proposing the toast of 'The Church,' the Mayor said he was proud to think that his education was started at a church school. He wanted to acknowledge the very great debt of gratitude that was due to the women for the work they were doing for the Church. He saw a large number of men present that night, and he wanted to tell them that in that respect the women were ahead of them every time. At the early morning service they found a preponderance of women, and he hoped that the men would take that as an example to follow. The men might say that they had had a hard week's work, and wanted a bit of sport on Sundays, but he could assure those present that it was nothing as compared with the old days. The toast of 'The Church,' concluded the Mayor, covered very wide ground. It referred to the life of the Church at home, in the Army, in the Navy, in the hospitals, and in foreign fields, and if everyone took the Church into their lives he believed that half their troubles would be solved (applause).

In response, the Rev. E. D. S. Camus said that bellringers were very much concerned with the Church, and there should be a closer connection between them. Continuing, he said there never was a time when the churches, and what the churches stood for, were more discussed than at present. Once upon a time it was rather rare to find anything about religion in the morning newspapers, but now there was always something somewhere. That spoke for itself of the influence of the Church among men. In these days, when the question arose as to whether theatres or cinemas should be opened on Sunday, one felt a strong debt of gratitude for those who climbed the church towers and rang the bells, for those at all events would be heard outside the churches, whereas the voice of the preacher would be confined to the inside for those who attended. Reference had been made to the work of the women, and a good many men thought that womenfolk could do all there was to do in the church. That was not so. There was a lot of work in the church that could be done by men. They wanted to encourage that feeling of brotherhood, so that they could all work together in the service of the Father of them all (applause).

APPEAL FOR YOUNG MEMBERS.

The Rev. E. S. Saleby proposed 'The Gloucester and Bristol Association and Kindred Societies,' and said he thought they should all encourage team work. Everyone who pulled bells knew how necessary team work was. Regarding the association, he was glad to say the finances were satisfactory, and wherever he went he was impressed by the wonderful spirit that was to be found at all the branch meetings. He appealed to the young men to take up bellringing and join the association, and so help to maintain the position they now held.

Mr. J. Austin, in reply, also referred to the shortage of young members, and said it was on them that the future of the association depended. Some young men joined, got to a certain stage, and then left, but he thought that if they once got over the early difficulties it was a life membership for them. In conclusion, he paid a tribute to the work of the officers of the Gloucester Branch.

Captain Lodge proposed 'The Visitors,' and Mr. E. Guise (Bristol) replied.

During the evening the Tuffley Revellers gave an entertainment, and selections on handbells were rendered by Mr. and Miss H. Holford (Cheltenham) and other members of the association.

VETERAN WEM RINGER.

An attempt was made for a half-muffled peal of Grandsire Triples at Wem, Shropshire, on Saturday, as a token of respect for the late Mr. George James Moore, who died suddenly on the previous Thursday. Mr. Moore was in his 80th year, and had been a ringer for about 57 years, having learnt to handle a bell when at Adderley at the age of twelve. Before going to Wem, he had resided in Birmingham and at Wellington, Salop, and was a ringer at Wem up to the time of his death. He was towerkeeper there for many years.

The peal attempt failed through the clapper of one of the bells coming out towards the end.

DEATH OF MRS. E. GOLDSMITH, LEWES.

At the advanced age of 84 years, the death took place at Southover, Lewes, Sussex, on Sunday, of Mrs. Emma Goldsmith, widow of the late Mr. John Goldsmith, and thus was peacefully closed a long life characterised by many Christian virtues.

Daughter, wife and mother of church bellringers, Mrs. Goldsmith was well known to many members of the Exercise who had visited Lewes, where the King's Head, of which she had held the license since the death of her husband in 1884, has been the scene of many happy gatherings of ringers. Although knowing nothing of the art itself, Mrs. Goldsmith took an immense interest in all things appertaining to ringing, and nothing gave her greater pleasure than the success of a peal attempt on the bells of her beloved parish church, where for sixty years she had been a worshipper, and which she had served faithfully as an office bearer for many years.

Her interest in ringing developed through the activities of her husband, who, in his day, thought lightly of walking fourteen or sixteen miles to practise Grandsire Triples, and who taught change ringing to more than one band in the district. One of her most cherished possessions was a framed portrait of her husband, presented to her in recognition of what he voluntarily did to instruct a band of ringers at Seaford in the late '70's.

At the time of his death in 1884, Mr. John Goldsmith was parish clerk of Southover, and the office passed to his widow, who filled this post—an unusual one for a woman—until 1900, when she retired and was presented with a silver tea and coffee service by the parishioners. It was her instigation, in the desire to see the connection with ringing, which had been handed on for three or four generations, continued in the family, that prompted her son, the editor of 'The Ringing World,' first to take up the art. For many years she was treasurer of the Southover Church Bellringers' Guild, and under her roof many ringers' dinners have been held, and many ringing friends, first of her husband and afterwards of her son, have enjoyed her hospitality.

Mrs. Goldsmith was widely known and greatly respected in Lewes, where she endeared herself by many acts of kindness. It is interesting to note that the license of the King's Head was held by her husband and herself for the unbroken period of over 72 years.

The funeral took place at Southover yesterday.

LLANDAFF SECRETARY'S BEREAVEMENT.

The deepest sympathy of his many ringing friends throughout the country will be extended to Mr. John W. Jones, of Newport, Mon., hon. secretary of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association, in the irreparable loss which has overtaken him by the death of his wife.

Mrs. Jones developed a serious illness last week, which caused much anxiety to her family, but despite her condition she urged her husband to fulfil an engagement of long standing which he had made to take part in a peal at Beddington, Surrey, on Saturday, with nine other association secretaries. The bells came round about 7.5 p.m., and Mr. Jones' son, who lives at Wraybury, was waiting to take him by car to Paddington, where by the narrowest margin they caught the 7.55 to Newport. Reaching home after midnight, Mr. Jones unhappily found his wife worse, and she passed away about 9 a.m. on Sunday.

Of gentle nature and sweet disposition, Mrs. Jones shared her husband's interest in ringing, and it was only by her persuasion, when she urged him not to disappoint anyone, that he left the sick bedside on Saturday.

A son and three grown-up daughters are left, with Mr. Jones, to mourn their loss.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

The first Guildford District meeting of the year was held at Shere on Saturday, when the peal of eight were kept going to various touches throughout the afternoon and evening. Members and visitors attended from the Guildford towers, Cranleigh, Buckland, Witley, Aldershot, Seale, Old Woking, Clandon and Baldock.

In spite of a special appeal from the secretary, the members of the local band (with the exception of one old stalwart) and those from the neighbouring parish of Albury were conspicuous by their absence. In the case of the local men no apology for absence was received, but the Albury secretary wrote regretting that the members of his band were too busy to attend, and that the bell ropes were in too bad a condition to permit of any ringing there.

The Guild's form of service was conducted, and an 'out of the ordinary' address given by the Rector of Shere, the Rev. Sir Paget Bowman. The Rector also presided at the business meeting after tea.

Six new members, including two ladies, one of whom comes from Handsworth, Yorkshire, and the other from Bath, were elected.

On the proposition of Admiral T. P. Walker, votes of thanks to the Rector and the organist were carried with applause, and in acknowledging this the Rector said how sorry he was that only one of his ringers was a member of the Guild, that he did not know why none of the others would join, and that he had always been anxious that they should support the Guild.

EARLY PRESS OPINIONS

"For the first time the art of ringing has got a comprehensive history between the covers of one book . . . Mr. Morris has accomplished a stupendous task . . . he has given the public at large, and the Exercise in particular, a history which deals with practically every phase of campanology . . . Mr. Morris has sifted his material with an accomplished hand and discerning eye, and offers it to his readers in an attractive form. The volume is crammed full of information and interest ; it will not only be read with pleasure, but it will become a book of reference."—The Ringing World.
 "There has been nothing quite like it in comprehensive treatment . . . Indeed, no book has yet been devoted to the history and art of change ringing."—J. M. BULLOCH, Sunday Times.

"IS FULL OF INTERESTING INFORMATION"BELLS THRO' THE AGES*THE FOUNDERS' CRAFT AND RINGERS' ART*By J. R. NICHOLS

Member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, the Lincoln Diocesan Guild and other Ringing Associations. Demy 8vo., illustrated. 21s. net. "His book takes its place at once as the best short survey of 'The Founders' Craft and Ringers' Art,' published for many years : besides being authoritative, it is entertaining. We recommend it to those who would like to know something about a very fascinating and very English art."—The Spectator. "The bibliography of bells has received a significant addition in the new volume just published under the title of 'Bells Through the Ages.' Few people realise fully the manysidedness of the subject of bells ; but this book touches every phase and is a perfect storehouse of information. The uninitiated reader can gain an insight into the subject such as was not previously possible except to those who had special facilities or an unlimited purse."—Ringing World. "Is full of interesting information . . . will doubtless be freely consulted as a work of reference."—Manchester Guardian. "The literature of bells and bell founders is none too large, and a cordial welcome should be extended to Mr. Nichols's book—a work as remarkable for the wideness of its historical research as for its enthusiasm and knowledge."—Musical Opinion.

BEDWORTH BELLS IMPROVED.

The meeting of the Warwickshire Guild, held at Bedworth on Saturday, March 21st, was very well attended by members from Allesley, Bulkington, Chilvers Coton, Lillington, Nuneaton, Shilton, Stoke and Warwick, together with the local band.

During the afternoon Grandsire and Plain Bob were the only methods rung, some useful work being put in on behalf of those on the threshold of change ringing.

Tea was served in the schools, and afterwards Mr. H. Argyle proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells and to the ladies for preparing the tea. Some of the members then stayed in the tea room to ring Stedman and Kent Treble Bob on handbells, while the majority returned to the church for further ringing on the tower bells. The methods rung during the evening were Stedman, Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge, London and Bristol. This was the first meeting at Bedworth since the bells have been overhauled by Messrs. Taylor and Co., and they were pronounced by all to be much improved.

SUDDEN DEATH IN A BELFRY.

While practice was in progress at Southover Church, Lewes, Sussex, on Tuesday of last week, the death took place in the ringing chamber of Mr. John Farncombe Stedman, the oldest member of the band and a ringer at Southover Church for about forty years. Mr. Stedman, who was 69 years of age, had rung the tenor to a touch of Grandsire Triples, and had sat down in a chair, when, without warning, he collapsed and fell to the floor. The other ringers went immediately to his aid, and a doctor was summoned, but life was found to be extinct. The body was reverently removed from the church, but an inquest was not considered necessary, the doctor being able to certify that death was due to heart disease.

John Stedman's ringing was confined to covering, but he rang a few peals on the tenor of his own church, his first being in 1904. He also rang the tenor to the first 'local' peal on the bells.

The funeral took place on Saturday, when the bells were rung muffled while the cortege was proceeding from the church to the cemetery, and again in the evening. Among the wreaths was one from the Guild.

Much sympathy has been extended to the widow and family in their sudden bereavement.

LEWISHAM DISTRICT'S LOSS.

The Lewisham District has lost one of its oldest members of the Exercise by the death of Mr. John Crowder, of Lee.

John Crowder was twenty-five years with the late Rev. F. Law, M.A., Rector of Lee, during which period he was steeplekeeper, the peal having been augmented from three bells to six. For the past thirty years he was keeper of the Parish Schools, where he passed peacefully away on Saturday, March 14th, at the age of 78 years. He was laid to rest in Lee Cemetery on Thursday, March 19th. He was for several years a member of St. John's Society, which was represented at the graveside by its oldest member, Mr. W. A. Martin. A half-muffled peal was rung at St. John's on Saturday, March 21st, to his memory.

DEATH OF A RINGER AT WINDERMERE.

Members of the Exercise in the Lake District have sustained a loss by the death of Mr. Thomas Bell, of Bowness who expired during Saturday night, March 14th. Mr. Bell was forty years of age, and is survived by a widow and two daughters.

Decensed joined the Windermere Parish Church band at its formation just about three years ago, and had taken part in only one peal, a peal of Doubles, the only one rung in Windermere.

The funeral took place at Bowness-on-Windermere on March 17th, when a large number of ringers, friends and members of the British Legion attended the last sad rites.

After the funeral a half-muffled peal was rung.

BIG INCREASE IN PEAL RINGING.

The peals analysis, which is published this week, reveals a big increase in the number of peals rung during 1930 compared with the preceding year. For the second time only in the annals of ringing the total has passed two thousand. The one previous occasion where this happened was in 1913, when the total reached 2,358. Last year the figure was 2,014. To the extent that peal ringing represents the efficiency of ringers, the rise of 349 in the number of peals is a very satisfactory mark of progress. There are many factors which enter into success in peal ringing and too much importance must not be attached to any increase or decrease in the aggregate of peals rung, but an examination of the details, so carefully compiled by the Analysis Committee, will reveal features which are not only interesting, but which are, we think, a real indication of progress. For instance, the number of ringers who scored their first peal was 96 more than in the preceding year, and the number who rang their first peal in a new method or in a method on a different number of bells was 345 more. There were a greater number of new conductors, and among the increases in the peals themselves it will be found that out of the 104 additional peals of Major no fewer than 93 were Surprise peals.

These facts point to an increasing interest and desire to advance; they indicate that peal ringing made a wider appeal than for many years past and in so far as this encourages a better standard of service ringing, it is all to the good. There are, of course, some people who consider that peal ringing serves very little purpose except to satisfy personal ambition. It is true that success in peal ringing provides the ringers with a good deal of individual gratification and pleasure; but it is also true, as a general rule, that peal ringers are better ringers than those who never seek to go beyond short touches, for the simple reason that the longer practice and the greater concentration necessary for peal ringing has its effect upon the 'training' of the ringer. Nor is this the only justification for peal ringing. At its best it is the highest form of the art and brings out in the fullest degree mental and physical qualities which are, in comparison, very lightly called upon in the ringing of lesser lengths.

It is, of course, impossible to say precisely to what reason or reasons the sudden jump of 349 peals in one year is due. The two preceding years had shown distinct declines; 1930 made a new spring forward. Undoubtedly it is partly accounted for by a fairly general increase of ambition in peal ringing, but it would be interesting to know if it was also in any way due to a more 'successful' year than usual; whether, that is to say, fewer peals were lost. It would be easier to judge the measure of progress if we had, in addition to the records of successes, some indication of the proportion of failures. If associations could induce their members to keep count of their failures, as well as recording the peals actually rung, the information which would then be available over a series of years would be even more conclusive of progress, or otherwise, than the figures at present available, which record only the completed achievements. But, whatever the reason, 1930 must go down in history as one of the greatest of peal ringing years, not only in the number, but in the quality of the methods rung and in the encouragement which has obviously been given to young and aspiring ringers. For the knowledge which the Exercise is able to gain year by year from the interesting tables, which have been compiled now for exactly fifty years, they have to thank a little body of ringers—who may change in personnel but not in the spirit of willingness to give time and infinite labour—who work week in, week out, with punctilious care to ensure that the analysis shall faithfully and accurately record for all time what the Exercise throughout the world is doing in the way of peal ringing.

A YOUNG FAMILY OF RINGERS. PROMISING DARLINGTON CHILDREN.

There is a family of young ringers of great promise in Darlington. The children of Mr. H. Taylor—whose ages range from six to twelve years—are assiduously practising on handbells and making great headway under the instruction of their father. They have only been seriously tackling the job for about six months, but lady ringers and look forward to the time when they, too, may take part in peals for the Ladies' Guild. As to the boys, they have their eyes on the exploits of such men as William Pye and James George, and are determined not to be satisfied until they can emulate their example. In addition to their change ringing they ring tunes very nicely.

Mr. Taylor is naturally proud of his children's progress, for he is both father and 'mother' to them. Un-already the elder ones can ring Grandsire and Stedman Triples 'double-handed' and an independent witness informs us that he has seen the four oldest with their father ring a perfect course of Grandsire Caters.

Even the six-year-old can ring the treble to Grandsire, and they are all of them intensely interested in all that is going on in the Exercise and follow the doings of some of their campanological 'heroes' with great zest. The girls are keen on the successes that attend the efforts of happily, Mrs. Taylor has been a helpless invalid for some years, suffering from rheumatoid arthritis, and Mr. Taylor has done everything for the children before and after his own day's work, while the eldest children take their important share in caring for the home and the other members of the family. They are a fine quintet of boys and girls, with a brave father and patient mother, and the children's progress in the art of ringing will be watched with interest.

SIXTY YEARS A RINGER.

One of the best known and most highly respected residents of Ringstead, near Thrapston, Kettering, Mr. Ebenezer Mayes, passed away at Northampton Hospital on March 7th, after an operation for cancer of the mouth.

Mr. Mayes, who had lived at Ringstead all his life, was 78 years of age, and celebrated his golden wedding about four years ago. A lifelong abstainer and non-smoker, he had been wonderfully active up to the last.

Mr. Mayes had been a handsewing craftsman in the boot and shoe trade. He had been a school manager and a member of the Ringstead Temperance Band, and a sacristan. He had been a ringer for upwards of sixty years. The funeral took place on March 11th, after which a muffled 720 of Bob Major was rung by: H. Peacock 1, A. Baxter 2, S. G. Robinson 3, E. Whitmore 4, W. Whitmore 5, F. H. Chapman 6. Many beautiful floral tributes were sent from friends, including one from the ringers. Many friends were at the church and also at the cemetery to pay a last mark of respect, but Mr. G. H. Roberts, a particular friend of the deceased, was unable to be present on account of illness.

ARKSEY CHURCH'S LOSS.

At Arksey, Doncaster, on Sunday, March 22nd, for evensong, a quarter-peal of Oxford Bob Triples (1,288 changes) was rung with the bells half-muffled as a last token of respect to Miss Edith Dunhill, for twelve years Vicar's warden, and a devoted churchworker for close on fifty years. The esteem in which she was held in the village of Arksey was shown by the great number of people who attended the funeral on Saturday, March 21st. The choir and clergy led the procession to the cemetery, and the service was conducted by the Vicar of Arksey (the Rev. J. Pierce Price) and the Vicar of Bentley (the Rev. A. E. B. Wade).

The death of Miss Dunhill, who passed away suddenly at the age of 62 years, leaves a gap in the church life of Arksey that will be exceedingly difficult to fill. She was a great friend of the ringers, and had, a few years ago, replaced the old 'ding dong' chimes with full Cambridge chimes for the clock, in memory of her father and mother.

The quarter-peal was rung by: F. Garner 1, G. Clark 2, E. Lea 3, E. Cooper (conductor) 4, H. Arrand 5, J. McCluskey 6, T. Revill 7, T. Bysouth 8.

Repeated, omitting the bob at 1, gives:—

First rung on February 28th, 1931, at St. Stephen's, Bristol, by the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, conducted by W. A. Cave. This composition contains a large number of calls, most of them 'twin-bobs'; in fact, it looks at first sight more like a peal of Stedman Triples. Perhaps a few words on its construction and musical qualities will be of interest.

If you start from 123456789 and call 2 bobs each time the 5th, 7th, 8th or 9th is behind with one of the other bells, then each of these 4 will be retarded 2 sizes in their work, and they will all come back into their home positions after 20 sixes (i.e., 2 more than an ordinary course). The bobs will have been called at 4, 5, 8, 9, 14, 15, 18, 19, and the course-end produced is 241653789, which repeats 4 times to give a round block of 5 courses. This block is the basis on which the peal is founded.

Now let us look at the musical advantages made possible by its use. If we put the big bells into the 'titlums' position and fix the 5th in 5th's place, we shall get the usual titlums music at the course-end, and we shall also get an —8975 in the middle of the course, and —78 and —59 will come up together behind twice in every course instead of once. Similarly, if we put the bells into the 'handstroke-home' position and fix the 6th in 5th's place, we shall get, in addition to the usual course-end music, a —9876 in the middle of every course, with —79 and —68 dodging together behind twice instead of once. So that really we may say that we are getting twice as much good music in a course only 2 sizes longer than usual.

When we come to putting these courses together into peal form we are at once faced with a difficulty, because when we have called the 4 pairs of twin-bobs at 4-5, 8-9, 14-15 and 18-19 we find that there is no other place in the course where we can make another call without disturbing the fixed bells, so that we can get our 5 courses, but we can get no further. The solution to this difficulty lies in the simple manner in which the bells can be turned from one position to the other and back again. Thus it will be found that if the heavy bells are in the titlums then by calling a 'bob at 2' and omitting the usual bobs at 4-5 and 8-9 they will fall into the handstroke-home position half-way through the course, and vice versa. And if we arrange to do this after the course-end at which the 6th is in treble's place, then it will fall into the correct position in which it has to be fixed when 7, 8, 9 are in the handstroke-home position; and similarly for the 5th when we turn the heavy bells back again. Thus we have a 5-course block of titlums and a 5-course block of handstroke-home linked up into one round block of 10 courses, thus:—

THE COLLECTION OF MINOR METHODS.

PRESENTATION TO MR. T. H. VALLANCE.
LEICESTER RINGERS' PARTING GIFT.

Force of circumstances and an opportunity to start in business for himself combined to induce Mr. T. H. Vallance, a well-known Leicester ringer, to seek fresh fields and pastures new and old, for he returns to his own particular place whence he came some twenty years ago.

A native of Stoke Golding, he was bred and fed on six-bell methods, but when he migrated to Leicester he rapidly digested eight and ten bell methods, and thrived on them.

Tom was the first of St. John's company to join up in the Great War, and saw it through to the end. There is another side to his nature. He is a rough diamond in unconscious humour, and when he effervesces and can no longer keep his bottle of fun corked, the readers of this journal inhale the bubbles signed 'A Flat.'

So it was with mixed feelings that a goodly company of ringers from several Leicester churches met at St. John-the-Divine's belfry on Monday night of last week to wish him the best of luck. Touches of Grandshire and Stedman Caters, also a course of Cambridge Royal, were rung, and, after the bells had been lowered, Mr. W. Willson, on behalf of the company, asked Mr. Vallance to accept a polished mahogany mantel clock, on which was inscribed: 'Presented to T. H. Vallance by St. John-the-Divine Society of Ringers, March 23rd, 1931.'

In making the gift, Mr. Willson expressed the regret of all that the severance was to occur, but they all realised that 'there comes a time in the affairs of man,' and they trusted that this effort would carry Mr. Vallance on the tide to success. There would always be a niche and a welcome for him.

Tom, in his reply, was visibly affected, but said that he did not intend to give up ringing; on the contrary, he would return to his old haunts on every opportunity.

Tom Vallance starts in his new sphere with the sincere good wishes of all who know him, and his business career will be followed by his friends with the greatest interest.

By the introduction of 6 singles operating on the little bells, 1, 2 and 3, 4, we can now extend this to give a block of 40 courses, or 4,800 changes, and this is then spliced in between 3 bobs at 1 to give the peal. Thus, we start with a bob at 1 which puts the bells straight into the body of the peal, ring through the 40 courses till we come round to the same position again, and then call 2 more bobs at 1 to bring the bells round. This gives a length of 5,016, finishing with the plain course.

It may be noted that with the exception of the 8 'bobs at 2' and the 2 'bobs at 1' at the end all the calls are either 'twin-bobs' or singles, so that with these few exceptions all the bells go in alternately 'quick' and 'slow' throughout the peal (as in an ordinary peal of Stedman Triples).

But it is in the music produced in this peal that its chief claim to attention lies, and it is dedicated in particular to those members of the Exercise who argue (and with some reason) that Stedman Caters in the ordinary titlums and handstroke-home positions is 'all right at the course-ends but not very musical in the middle of the courses.'

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

The committee of the Norwich Diocesan Association, in their forty-ninth annual report of the fifty-third year of the association, to be presented to the annual meeting on Easter Monday, state that the twelve months that have elapsed since the last annual report have been distinguished by the satisfactory results brought about by the reorganisation of the association into four branches. Eleven branch meetings and two joint meetings were arranged during the year by four branch secretaries. Their reports on the work of the branches may be regarded as a record of progress which may be looked upon with satisfaction and encouragement for the future.

The committee wished to record their thanks to Messrs. W. B. Duncan, W. J. Leo, F. Nolan Golden and W. J. Eldred for their generous services and excellent work rendered for the welfare of all. They regretted the loss by death of six members and fourteen members by resignation. Fifteen members had lapsed during the year by non-payment of their subscriptions, but the election of forty new members and the re-election of three old members made the total membership of the association 830, as against 822 in 1929.

Attention of members was called to one item in the balance sheet and that of the petty cash account, which again for the third year in succession appeared on the credit side of the balance sheet as unpaid and due to the treasurer, and this tended to make such balance sheet misleading as to real balance in hand. The committee earnestly urged all members whose subscriptions were outstanding to pay more promptly in the future and before Christmas of each year to enable the general secretary and treasurer to discharge all debts before December 31st of each year. The outstanding subscriptions on December 31st, 1930, amounted to £4 10s., and should be nearly all recoverable by the collectors. The committee were glad to report an increase in the number of peals rung during the year, the total being 73 peals in 16 different methods, against 45 peals in 11 different methods in 1929. 120 members took part in the peals, which were conducted by 15 members. Amongst the peals rung to be noted were a peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major, 8,096 changes, composed and conducted by F. Nolan Golden, and rung at St. Andrew, Quidenham, on March 15th, 1930, and also the peal of Spliced Treble Bob Major, 5,280 changes, composed by H. W. Wilde and conducted by William Clover, and rung at SS. Peter and Paul's, Salle, on May 3rd, 1930, this being the first peal of Spliced Treble Bob Major by all the band and by the association.

The committee concluded their report by expressing thanks to all officers, branch secretaries and committees, for their generous services during the past year for the welfare of the Norwich Diocesan Association of Ringers.

DEATH OF MR. C. W. ALLEN, OF HAGBOURNE.A PUPIL OF J. W. WASHBROOK.

On Monday, March 16th, Mr. C. W. Allen, of Down Farm, West Hagbourne, Berks, passed away at the age of 76 years.

Mr. Allen, who was very well known in Berkshire, and was a prominent member until a year ago of the Wallingford Urban District Council, was one of the original band of ringers taught early in the 'eighties' by the late Mr. J. W. Washbrook, and he rang some fifteen peals chiefly at East Hagbourne, where the funeral took place on Thursday week.

The bells were rung half-muffled before and after the ceremony, and in the evening a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung by: A. W. Cox 1, G. F. James 2, H. K. White 3, A. H. Webb (conductor) 4, W. V. Webb 5, J. Sawyer 6, R. G. Rice 7, W. Lambell 8.

'STONY' MEN'S QUARTER-PEAL.

At Old Knebworth, Herts, on March 23rd, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes, with ten callings) was rung in 43 mins., the ringers being: Arthur Turner 1, Walter Scott 2, Arthur Childs 3, William Scott 4, John Ferris 5, Frank Towers 6. Conducted by W. Lawrence, who stood in the tower. The first five ringers are Knebworth service ringers, who have only been change ringing for three months, and it was their first attempt for a quarter-peal. They had been 'stony' ringers several years, but have been learning the art of change ringing under Mr. W. Lawrence and Mr. E. Turner (who covered in their quarter-peal, and who belongs to Stevenage). The striking was very good.

PLAYING THE GAME ?To the Editor.

Sir,—At a service specially arranged for sportsmen in Irchester Parish Church, on Sunday, March 22nd, the Vicar (the Rev. A. W. Laws, M.A.), in the course of his address, asked the question, 'Does everyone play the game?' to which the answer, he said, was 'No.' Some always wanted to win, and, when losing, exhibited bad grace and made excuses. There was no discredit in losing fairly, said the Vicar, but much in winning unfairly. He appealed for all sportsmen to 'play the game.' Having read various arguments in 'The Ringing World' at different times, I think ringers might well take these words to heart.—Yours sincerely,

P. AMOS.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic post-cards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Conductors of peals rung on Easter Monday should post off the reports to reach 'The Ringing World' on Tuesday morning.

The first 'silent' peal of Surprise Minor ever rung took place at St. Mary's Church, Bucknall, Staffordshire, and was rung on Saturday, April 6th, 1897, in seven different methods by: George Clarkson 1, William Wheeldon 2, John E. Wheeldon 3, Charles Preston 4, Daniel Preston 5, William Twigg 6. The band consisted of two pairs of brothers, an uncle and a nephew. The two latter are now deceased.

Mrs. Barton, the wife of Mr. Harry Barton, of Ventnor, I.O.W., sailed on Tuesday last for Australia accompanied by her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. T. F. Brown. She had recently contracted a complaint which entailed absolute rest and quiet. All who know her will wish her bon voyage and a safe return completely restored to health.

The Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, of Canterbury, has been laid up with an attack of bronchitis, and, much to his disappointment, will be unable to attend the Kent County Association's general meeting at Tonbridge on Easter Monday.

Only six Surprise Major peals are recorded in our columns this week, but these half-dozen are in no less than five different methods.

RINGERS' MEETING IN AUSTRALIA.

A GATHERING OF THIRTY AT MELBOURNE.

At the invitation of the ringers of St. Paul's Cathedral, the ringers of Ballarat paid a visit to Melbourne on January 26th (Foundation Day). Eight members of Ballarat took the journey and were met by members of St. Paul's at 10 a.m. The Precentor (Rev. R. Sherwood) welcomed the ringers at the Cathedral entrance. Ascending to the belfry, the bells were given a busy time during the day. Luncheon and tea were provided in the city, a party of twenty-four sitting down to luncheon and thirty to tea—all ringers.

During the day the Precentor, five ladies and five young men, 'recruits' of St. Paul's, took part in the ringing. These recruits have been learning the art since August last, and can now manage a bell quite well, and it is hoped to have them taking part in 'touches' at an early date.

Unfortunately, the Ballarat ringers do not have much opportunity to practise change ringing, as their bells are situated in the City Hall, and when meetings are held there ringing cannot take place. This is a great handicap, as the men manage their bells well, and there is a fine peal of eight at Ballarat.

Touches of Plain Bob Minor, Grandsire Triples and Caters were rung, and wherever possible a Ballarat ringer was put in with the Melbourne ringers.

Altogether a most enjoyable day was spent, and it is hoped to make these visits more frequent. St. Paul's ringers are most fortunate in having the Precentor at their head. Not only does he take a great interest in the ringers and ringing, but is keen on learning the art himself, and spent the whole of the day with the ringers.

At St. Paul's, Melbourne, there is a very fine peal of thirteen bells, tenor 31½ cwt.

SUDBURY.—On Sunday, March 22nd, a quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob Major (1,280 changes) for evensong: H. Herbert 1, L. Allington 2, C. Woodcock 3, S. Gridley 4, A. Fitch 5, L. Johnson 6, D. Elliott (conductor) 7, T. E. Slater 8. First quarter-peal in this method by the 5th and 6th men.

REPORT OF THE ANALYSIS COMMITTEE.

There has been a remarkable increase in the number of peals rung during 1930 as compared with 1929. In fact, this is only the second time since 1881, when the first Analysis was compiled, that the total has been over 2,000. In 1913 the number of peals rung was 2,358, and in 1930, the year under review, the Analysis shows a total of 2,014. As compared with 1929 the increase is 349, which is shown by the following summary:—

	1930		1929
	Tower.	Hand.	Tower.	Hand.
Maximum	25	—	23	—
Cinques	30	4	23	3
Royal	57	13	49	4
Caters	100	10	83	9
Major	733	42	629	31
Triples	450	7	359	5
Minor	360	8	318	3
Doubles	162	13	126	—
Total	1,917	97	1,610	55

TOWER BELLS.—The peals of Surprise Maximums remain the same, the decrease in peals of Cambridge being offset by those of Pudsey. Treble Bob Maximums have increased by 5 and other Maximum methods have decreased by 3. Stedman Cinques have increased by 4 and Grandsire Cinques by 3. Surprise Royal show 6 more, all of Cambridge. Treble Bob Royal have increased by 6. Other Royal methods have decreased by 4. In Caters the increases are Stedman 5 and Grandsire 11.

In Major methods the increase is 104 peals, and it is pleasing to note that peals in Surprise methods account for 93 of this number. Superlative alone showing 49 more. Triples show an increase of 91 peals, all Grandsire. Minor peals are 42 more and Doubles 36 more.

HANDBELLS.—The number of handbell peals rung was 42 more than last year, the increases being—Cinques 1, Royal 9, Caters 1, Major 11, Triples 2, Minor 5 and Doubles 13.

NEW METHODS.—Pudsey Surprise Maximums, Double Dublin Surprise Major, Surrey Surprise Major, Reverse Dublin Surprise Major, Double Little Bob Major and Erith Little Bob Major are recorded as having been rung for the first time.

ASSOCIATIONS.—The Lancashire Association this year has rung the greatest number of peals, viz., 135, followed by the Kent County Association with 134, the Chester Diocesan Guild with 114, the Midland Counties Association with 113, and the Essex Association with 110. No other Association reached 100 peals. Thirty-one Societies show an increase, headed by the Bath and Wells with 43 peals, the Kent County Association with 34, the Oxford Guild 32, the Lancashire Association 31, and the Lincoln Guild 30. Twelve Societies show decreases, the chief of which is the Midland Counties with 15 peals less than last year.

GENERALLY.—Long lengths rung during the year are as follows:—12,221 and 9,261 Grandsire Cinques by an unaffiliated Society; 8,096 Double Norwich Court Bob Major by the Norwich Diocesan Association; 7,200 Minor in 10 methods, and 6,400 Oxford Treble Bob Major by the Yorkshire Association; 6,144 Guildford Surprise Major by the Guildford Diocesan Guild; and 6,048 Kent Treble Bob Major by the Sussex County Association.

Performances worthy of note are a peal of Spliced Surprise Major in 11 methods by the Middlesex Association; Spliced Surprise Minor in 26 methods and 21 methods by the Kent County Association; and one of Surprise Minor in 23 methods by the Essex Association. Two peals of Minor on handbells were rung in the Transvaal. A 'George' peal of Bristol Surprise Major and a 'William' peal of Double Norwich were rung by the Middlesex Association, whilst an 'Edwin' peal of Grandsire Triples was rung for the Kent County Association. In the latter peal three generations of one family took part.

Three non-conducted peals were rung, one of Cambridge Surprise Major by the Bath and Wells Association, one of Stedman Triples by the Stafford Archdeaconry, and one of Grandsire Triples (Holt's Original) by the Kent County Association. A Boy Scouts' peal was rung for the Chester Guild, and a handbell peal of Grandsire Caters for the Durham and Newcastle Association was rung in a coal mine.

The following are the number of peals rung during each month in 1930 and 1929:—

January	129	113	July	117	118
February	171	118	August	192	148
March	144	92	September	154	137
April	133	141	October	177	150
May	193	148	November	237	197
June	147	132	December	220	171

An analysis of the footnotes shows that the number of ringers who have scored their first peal has increased. This year there are 595, as compared with 499 in 1929. There is also a considerable increase in the number who have rung their first peal in a new method, or method on a different number of bells. Last year's total was 869—this year it is 1,214. ERITH LITTLE BOB.To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I add a few words to the discussion that is going on about the above method?

If you write out the simplest possible method with the treble hunting up to 4th's place, and nothing else but plain hunting (except the dodging above 4th's caused by the treble making 4th's place), you will have written out 'Little Court Bob,' and nobody is likely to dispute it. If you add 2nd's place when the treble leads, you will get 'Little Bob,' and no one will dispute this.

If, now, you add 3rd's place while the treble makes 4th's, you might conceivably call it 'Double Little Bob,' on the analogy of Double Bob (Major) being produced from Plain Bob by adding 7th's place while the treble makes 8th's; but this would require a modification of the generally accepted meaning of the term 'Double' as applied to methods; in any case, it does not give a 'Bob Major lead-end,' and is therefore not a regular method at all.

If, however, we add 4th's place when the treble is in 2-3, EITHER up OR down but not both, we get in each case a regular method with lead-end 14263857. Here we have two methods, one of which is the method in question.

Neither of them is a 'Double' method, as the work on the way up is different from that on the way down. They are both equally entitled to the terms 'Little' and 'Bob,' and it is therefore necessary that they should be given further names to differentiate them from each other and other Little Bob methods.

The names given by the bands who rang the first peals in these methods were 'Erith' and 'Dartford,' and there seems no reason why subsequent bands should ring them under any other titles.

In any case, I submit that there is no such thing as 'Double Little Bob.'—Yours faithfully, STEPHEN H. WOOD.

Cold Ashton Rectory, Chippenham.

DOUBLE LITTLE BOB.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Barnett unfortunately misinterprets my attitude, which is that a method that has been familiar to ringers for two hundred years or more needs no other further designation than 'Little' to indicate the shortened hunt of the treble.

And when Mr. Barnett warns the Exercise of a 'dictator' in their midst, is he not projecting his own complex?—Yours faithfully,

NOLAN GOLDEN.

BOB MINIMUS WITH MAJOR LEAD-ENDS.

Sir,—With regard to the correspondence between Mr. E. Barnett and Mr. N. Golden re the above, I did not wish to again open up the subject of what is, or is not, the proper name for the method under discussion, but seeing that my name is being mentioned again in the controversy I feel I must trouble you for a little space in case your readers should think I have altered my opinion. After the publication of the diagrams in 'The Ringing World' of February last year, I still maintain that the method rung as Erith is nothing but Double Bob Minimus with Major lead-ends, and I may add that the peal rung at Sheffield has been published by the Yorkshire Association in their annual report as Double Little Bob. With my kindest regards to both Mr. Barnett and Mr. Golden,—Yours,

The Cross, Ecclesfield, Sheffield.

A social evening is arranged at headquarters for the Tuesday evening.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

One of the most successful meetings of the Northern District was held at Daybrook, Notts, on Saturday, when ringers attended from Sutton-on-Trent, St. Mary's and St. Peter's, Nottingham, North Collingham, Ilkeston, Rotherham, Sheffield, Treeton, Bolsover, Basford, Cotgrave, Sandiacre, Beeston, and the local tower.

A choral service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Everitt, who gave the ringers a most hearty welcome to the church.

An excellent tea, prepared by the ladies, was served in the Social Centre, presided over by the curate. Afterwards a short business meeting took place, Miss Thompson, of Nottingham, taking the chair. Miss Thompson was appointed a member of the committee, and two new members were elected.

The usual vote of thanks was given to Miss Thompson.

The ladies then adjourned to the belfry, where a plain course of Bob Major was rung by ladies. All were very sorry when a rope broke and ended the ringing earlier than usual.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.POSSIBLE CHANGE IN TREASURERSHIP.

A quarterly meeting of the Leicester District was held at Enderby on Saturday. Touches in various methods were rung during the afternoon, and tea was served in the Institute.

At the business meeting, which followed, Mr. Ernest Morris (general secretary) mentioned that if Mr. W. Wallace gave up the treasurership of the association, Mr. W. White, of Cotgrave, would be willing to accept the office.

For the mid-quarterly meeting, Hallaton was unanimously agreed upon. Great Easton was also suggested, but was considered too far away, and not easily accessible from Leicester. The secretary was asked to invite the Vicar of Great Easton to attend.

For the half-yearly meeting, Saddington, near Kibworth, was decided upon. It was also proposed to hold a joint meeting with the Hinckley District, it being left to the secretary to arrange the date and place with the secretary of the Hinckley District.

The meeting closed with the usual vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to Mr. Clarence Jesson and his wife for arranging such an excellent tea. The tower was then again visited, and the bells kept going up to 8.30 p.m.

PEAK DISTRICT.

A very pleasant meeting of the Peak District was held at Baslow and Edensor on Saturday last, when about sixteen ringers were present from Bakewell, Baslow, Bolsover, Chesterfield, Darley Dale, Dore, Edensor and Eyam. The pretty peal of six (tenor about 12 cwt.) at Baslow were raised soon after 3 p.m., and some creditable ringing was indulged in, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Bob Minor, Oxford Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise all being brought round. A very enjoyable tea was partaken of at the Rutland Arms, during which, in order to save time, an informal business meeting was held, presided over by the Rev. W. P. Wright (Eyam).

The secretary apologised for his absence from the previous meeting at Darley Dale, stating that the car in which he was travelling was held up by the heavy snow which fell that day. It was decided, if possible, to have the next meeting at Youlgrove on April 18th, when the grand old church, fine heavy peal of eight and beautiful surroundings, should prove an attraction.

The secretary announced that the new Vicar of Dore, the Rev. J. D. W. Dawson, M.A., at present Rector of Stoke Dry, Uppingham, and sometime curate of Rawmarsh, Rotherham, would be inducted on Friday, April 24th, at 7.30 p.m., and extended a cordial invitation to any ringer who cared to do so to join in the ringing before and after the service. Mr. Dawson has done a little ringing himself, and it was hoped to interest him in the belfry. One new member, Mr. W. Hawksworth, of Baslow, was elected.

At 5.45 p.m. a move was made to Edensor, about two miles away, whose beautiful church, standing within Chatsworth Park, possesses a very fine ring of six bells, tenor about 15 cwt. These were kept going till about 7.15 p.m. in Grandsire, Plain Bob and Cambridge, a good 'fall' at the above-mentioned time bringing a very pleasant meeting to a close.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.THREE FIVE-BELL TOWERS VISITED.

A successful meeting of the Ely Archdeaconry was held at Stetchworth on Saturday. Members were present from Exning, Fulbourne, Newmarket, Over, Sawston, Stapleford, Trumpington, Willingham and Wood Ditton, and the local band turned out in full force to welcome the visitors.

A service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. S. V. Wylie), and tea was very kindly provided by the inhabitants of Stetchworth at the White Horse Hotel. As this was a by-meeting, no formal business had to be transacted, but several new members were elected, including two clergymen, the Rev. S. V. Wylie, of Stetchworth, and the Rev. Austin, of Wood Ditton, also Messrs. L. Brown, R. Cater, F. Dean, J. Dean and J. Starling, all of Wood Ditton.

It was decided to hold another by-meeting at Gamlingay on April 25th. Mr. A. E. Austin, District Ringing Master, expressed grateful thanks on behalf of the visitors for the very generous hospitality and hearty welcome given to the association.

The neighbouring towers of Wood Ditton and Dullingham were visited in turn. It was very pleasing and encouraging to see the keenness displayed by a number of promising young ringers.

Everyone spent a very happy afternoon and evening, and one ringer was overheard to remark that it was the best five-bell meeting he had ever attended, and he had been to many.

ROMNEY MARSH & DISTRICT GUILD.

The monthly meeting of the Guild was held at Eastwell on Saturday, March 21st, and was attended by about twenty members from other towers, but, for some reason unknown, the local band were not represented. The bells were kept going from 2.30 to 4.30, when the Rector conducted the Guild service, and Mr. C. Coleman presided at the organ. Then a walk across Eastwell Park to the Flying Horse, where a substantial tea was in readiness.

The Rector took the chair at the business meeting which followed, when Hawkhurst was confirmed for the next meeting on April 18th.

Two new members were elected, and a vote of thanks was passed to the Rector for the use of the bells and for conducting the service.

Some then returned to the tower for more ringing, which continued to 8.30 p.m.

THE MASONIC PEAL AT STEPNEY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With the association's rule, No. 15, as it is, I do not see how the Masonic peal, rung at Stepney and recorded in 'The Ringing World' of March 20th, can be claimed as a Kent County Association peal.

The rule states that, 'previous to starting for a peal, a band may elect not more than two as members of the association,' and according to the footnote three were so elected.—Yours truly,

A. H. SMITH.

RINGING IN THE CHANNEL ISLANDS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It is always a pleasure to read in 'The Ringing World' letters from ringers abroad, and I was very pleased to read the letter from Mr. F. G. May, in which he relates experiences in Guernsey, but I was not under the impression expressed in the first sentence of his letter.

The explanation is this: The last paragraph of my letter in November 21st issue should read '... parish church in the island.'

You will notice in my first paragraph I wrote 'particularly in Jersey,' and I purposely refrained from mentioning Guernsey in my letter as I knew of the Bristol ringers' visit.

Referring to the last sentence of Mr. May's letter, if he will read my fifth paragraph he will notice the 1844 ring at St. Mark's has been 'pushed into the corner,' presumably at the time of the hanging of the 1881 Taylor clock bell, which put the peal of six out of action as regards ringing.

The 'tapping' was done on the ropes, which come down together against the wall into the ringing chamber.

I am very glad to know others are interested in the bells of the Channel Islands, and would like to know that change ringing is to be practised.

It must be a source of great pleasure to you, Mr. Editor, to receive these letters from ringers abroad, and to know that 'The Ringing World' has such a world-wide circulation. I earnestly hope that the increased circulation at home, for which you have so long striven, will, in the near future, be realised.

I would also like, with your courtesy, through 'The Ringing World,' to send to Mr. F. G. May my best wishes, with many thanks for his interesting letter.—Yours sincerely,

F. W. RICHARDSON.

MORE HISTORY.

The history of the three hundred years or so of change ringing is being gradually pieced together and no more valuable contribution to this end has been made than by the recently published volume by Mr. Ernest Morris. Hitherto what has been known of the past has been contained in a vast quantity of scattered facts, and it was to bring many of these together in some semblance of order that Mr. Morris set about the task and has achieved so large a measure of success. But despite this, there still remains a great deal of material hitherto untouched by the historian, and there may yet be, indeed there probably is, other information existent but as yet hidden by the 'dust of ages.' A recent investigation by Mr. J. Armiger Trollope has yielded evidence of this. An exploration of material in the British Museum and elsewhere has revealed some extremely interesting facts about old London ringing societies and ringers of the eighteenth century and, for the benefit of the Exercise, Mr. Trollope has written a series of articles for 'The Ringing World' which will throw a new light upon the relationship between these ancient organisations.

Mr. Trollope has built up, upon this freshly discovered information, what really amounts to a new history of probably the most interesting period of old London ringing societies, in which the central theme is the Ancient Society of College Youths. Setting out to re-investigate the claim of the society to continuity of existence since 1637, he explored new fields, dug up long since forgotten details, and pieced them together with the sole desire of writing an authentic story. The facts which he has adduced and the conclusions at which he has arrived will be of great interest to our readers, and they are of no little importance in settling once and for all a question which has been raised at various times and by more than one writer as to the unbroken existence of the original society.

In addition to the main question, many interesting sidelights on some of the leading figures in London ringing circles in those far off days illumine the articles, which form one of the most interesting series of historical sketches which have been penned in connection with ringing. To men like Mr. Trollope, who give their time and their talent to instructing ringers, the Exercise owes a great debt. When they write on technical subjects, as Mr. Trollope did in his series on 'Variation and Transposition,' they draw upon a knowledge accumulated only by years of patient study; when, as in this new series, and in the case of such writers as Jasper Snowdon, they give us 'original' history of some phase of ringing, it is the result of long and painstaking research. The Exercise is richer for their work and is under an obligation to them which cannot easily be repaid.

THE STEDMAN TWINS.

A BRIEF SKETCH OF AN INSEPARABLE PAIR.

BY 'Quick Six.'

Of course you have all heard of the Stedman Twins, at any rate all who have rung peals of Stedman Triples have met them. They are a most delightful pair, so attached to one another, so obliging and, like all twins in devoted families, well-nigh inseparable. They are so much alike that when they are apart even their most intimate friends have a difficulty in distinguishing one from the other, for they answer to the same name—both being called 'Bob' for short.

To some, of course, the Twins, their habits and their idiosyncrasies are quite well known, but there are doubtless many who will be interested to learn why this devoted couple play so conspicuous a part in the peals of Stedman Triples that are most generally rung, and the object of this little sketch is to give ringers not otherwise familiar with them a closer acquaintance with the pair.

These bobbed twins, or, as they are also known, twin bobs, are, for all their modern appearances, not quite so young as they look. To be perfectly truthful they were born just about a hundred years ago, their father being a gentleman named William Hudson, of Sheffield.

Stedman Triples had been rung for considerably more than a century before the birth of the twins, but the compositions were, from the present-day standpoint, execrable things, although, to do the old composers justice, they were the product of a great deal of painstaking effort, and with the little material they had to work on reflect a great deal of credit upon them. These compositions contained a multitude of calls, some of them of the 'legitimate' order and some 'illegitimate,' but they produced a 5,040 containing as many changes strictly on Stedman's principle as the composers could work in.

To realise something of the problem which these old composers set out to solve, put yourself in their position. Remember they had no text books; no one had gone before them and left a legacy of results of investigations. They had got the method, bequeathed to them by Stedman, which lends itself to repetition probably as easily as any method under the sun, and they knew that there were 5,040 possible changes—and that is about all. Can you wonder that the initial efforts were, to modern eyes, crude and cumbersome affairs? George Stephenson's 'Rocket' could not be compared with a modern railway express engine.

But these old explorers, as they groped about in the darkness of ignorance, were always seeking to improve upon what had gone before; they aimed at eliminating the 'illegitimate' calls and reducing the number of Singles, and the system they worked upon was the plan of utilising courses of continuous bobbed sixes, that is to say, they kept the same bells dodging behind as long as possible in each course by calling bobs at consecutive sixes, and when it was necessary to change the pair behind they let one slip away and another come up by missing out a bob. As this is not intended to be really a technical article, there is no need to go into reasons which doubtless prompted the old composers to use this plan of bobbed courses 'plained' together in preference to the one using plain courses, bobbed together, except to say that it eliminated a great deal of the risk of repetition.

Well, some time round about 1830 Will Hudson, who was the 'big noise' in Sheffield in composition about that time, did two things which entitle him to a place in history. He produced his famous 'Sixty course-ends' of Stedman Triples and the first peal in which twin bobs were employed. It is true that he also utilised in this peal twenty-two calls which were known as 'Doubles,' but he had laid the foundation on which Lates and Thurstans, of Birmingham, worked to produce peals with bobs and two regular Singles only. And Hudson's sixty course-ends are the real secret of the whole business. How he found them, whether by luck or judgment, does not matter for our purpose; it is sufficient that he did find them, and probably as the result of immense labour and the burning of a good deal of midnight oil.

These sixty courses, if pricked to their extents, are the nearest possible approach to sixty true plain courses, that is to say sixty separate full courses without bobs. So beautifully adopted for the purpose are the relationships between these sixty courses, and so impossible does it appear to obtain any other effective set, that upon these sixty courses every subsequent twin-bob peal has been constructed. There is the authority of Sir Arthur Heywood for saying that no matter what variation, reversal, or transposition is attempted by starting in different ways or in different parts, by change of observation bell or the use of singles, the sixty course-ends of a twin-bob peal having a fixed observation bell will always bear precisely the same relation to one another, as do the course-ends which Hudson discovered.

And now, what about his famous Twins? A peal of Stedman Triples consists, of course, of 840 sixes, divided, if one bell follows a fixed path undisturbed by bobs, into sixty courses. It is, however, impossible to obtain more than forty true plain courses, and in Hudson's sixty the repetitions occur at the 3rd, 5th, 7th and 12th sixes. If the observation bell is to remain undisturbed it is at these or at corresponding places, together with the 4th, 6th, 8th and 13th or corresponding sixes that the bobs must be called. The reader is not asked to analyse Hudson's sixty courses, although a study of them will well repay the trouble, but he can take it for granted that every 3rd six of a course has its repetition elsewhere in a 7th six, and every 7th six, consequently, its repetition elsewhere in a 3rd six. Similarly every 5th six of a course appears as the 12th six of some other course, and every 12th six, consequently, as the 5th six elsewhere. Thus there are 120 sixes that occur in duplicate, and 120 sixes which do not occur at all. Now comes an extraordinarily curious and interesting fact. If every one of the sixes which occur in duplicate are bobbed, instead of coming up plain, the 120 missing sixes appear in duplicate in place of the 120 which came up in the plain courses. Then comes the problem of how to get rid of the 120 duplicate plain sixes and substitute the 120 bobbed sixes. This proves to have a simple solution. If, instead of bobbing all the sixes which duplicate, only half of them are bobbed, the missing sixes will be substituted for the repeating ones. Thus every bobbed 3rd six entails plaining a 7th six, and vice versa; and every bobbed 5th six necessitates a plain 12th six, and vice versa; so that if you have, for example, 40 courses with the 3rd six bobbed, leaving 20 with this six plain, there must be 20 plain 7th sixes and 40 bobbed; or, if you have 30 bobbed and 30 plain 5th sixes, you must have 30 plain and 30 bobbed 12th sixes.

But here comes the 'snag.' Having bobbed away one of the 'regular' sixes to get hold of one of the missing sixes, the thread of Hudson's sixty courses is lost, and it is essential, for various reasons, that a quick return to them should be made. Here again, Hudson's marvellously adjusted plan of courses comes into play, for the thread which is broken by a bob at the 3rd six, is by a bob at the next six taken up again at the 4th six in another course; a bob at the sixth six restores the thread in a corresponding position elsewhere, when it has been broken by a bob at the fifth six; and so with a bob at 8 after a bob at 7; and a bob at 13 after a bob at 12.

Thus you will see the very important part played by the Stedman Twins in the scheme of peal composition (the wonderfully skillful odd bob peals by the late Mr. John Carter and Mr. Joseph W. Parker are not concerned in this article). The business of the twins is twofold—one of the pair brings in a six which could not otherwise be introduced: the other restores the thread of Hudson's sixty courses upon which the truth of the peal depends. If William Hudson had not discovered his sixty courses, probably someone after him would have done so, but his researches and discoveries revolutionised the composition of Stedman Triples, and his work deserves to be better known among ringers than it is. Thurstans is one of the names which will ever be on the lips of Stedman ringers, but let us not forget the man who made his famous masterpiece possible—William Hudson, 'father' of the Stedman Twins.

For the benefit of those who have not the figures by them, here are Hudson's 60 course-ends, and those who wish to go further into what is really a fascinating subject will find that if they are pricked with bobs at 3.4.5.6 throughout they give the 840 true six-ends:—

DEDICATION OF MARKET DRAYTON BELLS.

RING OF EIGHT RECAST AND REHUNG.

Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, have just recast the ring of eight bells at Market Drayton, Shropshire, and rehung them in a new iron and steel frame. They have carried out the work with their customary skill, and not only is the 'go' all that can be desired, but Market Drayton possesses a ring of bells among the best for their weight in the country.

The dedication of the bells took place on Sunday week, the ceremony being performed by the Bishop of Stafford. The founders were represented at the service by Messrs. C. Harrison and J. P. Fidler.

After the Bishop had dedicated the bells, the local band of ringers rang a short touch, and after the morning service the same ringers rang a touch of Grandsire Triples, and further touches of the same method were rung up to mid-day.

In the afternoon there were visitors from Eccleston, Pulford, Farndon, Stanton-on-Hine Heath, and Hodnet, who with the local ringers rang touches of Kent Treble Bob Major, Stedman Triples and Bob Major. The local ringers rang for the evening service. During the day the tower was thrown open to visitors, and many took the opportunity of inspecting the bells.

The bells and the inscriptions are as follow:—

Treble.—'Gloria in Excelsis Deo. Church Restoration commenced 1881, Geo. S. Cuthbert, Vicar; Frs. R. Twemlow, Geo. Lashmore, churchwardens, John Warner and Sons 1887. MUFFLED BELLS.

On Monday, March 23rd, at Heston, Middlesex, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples in 50 mins.: W. F. Ellingham 1, W. Bolwell 2, H. C. Chandler 3, W. H. Stevens 4, W. Lewis 5, E. R. Gladman 6, C. S. Bird (conductor) 7, F. Cattermole 8. Rung with the bells half-muffled as a mark of respect to Mrs. Carter, wife of Mr. S. Carter, who was interred the same day. Mrs. Carter at one time was a chorister and Sunday School worker, while for many years Mr. Carter was leader of the local band of ringers, churchwarden, and treasurer of the Middlesex County Association (South and West District).

On Tuesday, March 31st, at Heston, Middlesex, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples in 50 mins.: H. C. Chandler 1, W. Lewis 2, W. F. Ellingham 3, W. H. Stevens 4, H. C. Cooper 5, C. S. Rung with the bells half-muffled as a mark of respect to Lady Becker, wife of Sir Frederick Becker, of Sutton Hall, Heston, who was interred the same day. Sir Frederick was a generous contributor to the funds when the bells were increased to the octave in 1908.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM.

SUPPORT FOR CENTRAL COUNCIL.

A quarterly meeting of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held on Saturday, March 28th, at King's Norton, which was originally a royal borough and known as the King's North Town. It belonged to the Crown from the time of the Conquest up to the reign of Henry III., and again from the reign of Edward IV. onwards until October, 1804, when it passed by purchase into private possession. The ancient Manor Court survived till 1876, when it was discontinued. It is interesting to note that from 1845 to the extinction of the Court, one John Suckling Pritchett held the office of bailiff, and his namesake is now Presiding Ringing Master of the Guild. King's Norton was originally in Worcestershire, but came into Warwickshire when the Birmingham Extension Act of 1911 was passed, and it became part of the city.

Up to the year 1846 the church was a chapel of ease to the mother church of Bromsgrove. Very little remains of the original building, the church having been completely restored and reopened in 1872. It stands on a high eminence, and its tower and spire are a landmark for miles around. The tower originally contained a peal of eight bells, which were recast by Taylor and Co. in 1924, with tenor about 17 cwt. In 1927 two trebles were added from the same foundry, the gift of Mr. F. B. Yates, who for several years was a churchwarden, and at the present time is an active and regular Sunday service ringer.

The Guild's form of service was conducted by the Rector, who also gave an interesting and instructive address. This was followed by tea at the Saracens Head, an old 16th century coaching house that was de-licensed some little time ago, and was presented as a free gift to the church by the brewery company. The building is in perfect condition, and is a great acquisition to the parish.

At the business meeting, presided over by Alderman J. S. Pritchett, sympathy was extended to Mr. J. E. Groves, who has not been well for some time, and the secretary was instructed to write him with the Guild's best wishes for a speedy recovery to good health. Mr. James George also wrote stating that he was making sure, if slow, progress, and that he was looking forward to meeting his ringing friends again shortly.

The Chairman stated he was sure they would all regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Goldsmith, the mother of the Editor of 'The Ringing World.' She was a dear lady of a genial disposition, and he moved 'That the secretary be instructed to send a letter to Mr. J. S. Goldsmith expressing the sympathy of the Guild with him and his family in their bereavement.' This was seconded by Mr. Walker and carried unanimously.

The question of loyalty to the Central Council was discussed at some length, and it was unanimously decided on the proposition of the chairman, seconded by Mr. A. Walker, 'That the Guild be affiliated to the Central Council of Church Bellringers, and loyally abide by the rules and decisions thereof.'

Mr. Ernest Morris' new book, 'The History and Art of Change Ringing,' was also referred to, and on the proposition of the librarian Mr. G. F. Swann, seconded by Mr. Walker, it was unanimously agreed that the Guild purchase a copy for its library. Several members present who already have copies expressed their appreciation of its value.

The Chairman stated that two copies were already in the Birmingham Library, one in the lending department and the other in the Reference Library, also that he hoped to get a copy into the Coventry Library.

Mr. J. Holman, of Sheffield, and Mr. G. R. Newton, of Liverpool, were duly elected life members, and Mr. E. Sibley's election previous to starting for a handbell peal was also ratified.

On the proposition of Mr. A. P. Smith, seconded by Mr. W. C. Dowding, it was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting at Coleshill on Saturday, July 4th, if the necessary arrangements can be made.

Mr. A. P. Smith, in a humorous speech, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, his address in church, and for the use of that building, in which he had been on many previous occasions under somewhat different management. He congratulated the Vicar and parish on having such a fine place in which to carry on its work. He also thanked the ladies for their services in providing such a nice tea.—This was seconded by the chairman and carried with applause.

This completed the business, and a return was made to the belfry, where further ringing took place.

WEDDING BELLS.

At St. John-the-Baptist Church, Womersley, on Saturday, on the occasion of the wedding of Miss O. Voller, daughter of Mr. G. Voller, captain of the Womersley band, 720 of Grandsire Doubles: A. Rooke 1, W. Enticknap 2, L. Hunter (conductor) 3, G. Voller 4, R. Skinner 5, F. Rooke 6. Thanks are due to Mr. Hunter for standing in and conducting at short notice.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.SUCCESSFUL BANK HOLIDAY MEETING.

A meeting of the North-Western District was held at St. Martin's, Dorking, on Easter Monday, and despite the unsettled weather proved a great attraction, members and friends attending from Ashstead, Banstead, Beddington, Benhilton, Brockley, Buckland, Cambridge, Carshalton, Chelsea, Croydon (St. John's and St. Peter's), Dorking, Epsom (St. Martin's), Guildford (Cathedral and St. Nicolas'), London, Mitcham (Parish Church), Newdigate, Putney, Reigate, Walton-on-Thames and Wandsworth. Ringing commenced at three o'clock, and the bells were kept doing until service time.

A short and enjoyable service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. E. J. Newill), and the curate kindly presided at the organ. Tea followed at the Commercial Hotel, and 45 members and friends sat down to a very enjoyable meal, though perhaps a trifle congested in some parts of the room.

The District Ringing Master (Mr. A. W. Clark) presided at the business meeting, which was short and of a routine nature.

The Secretary reported the death of a member, Mr. R. J. Loveland, of St. John's, Croydon, since the last meeting, and the members endorsed his action in sending a wreath and the sympathy of the association to his relatives.

Only one new member was elected, viz., Miss I. Shorter, of Cambridge.

A very hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells and conducting the service, and to the curate for playing the organ, also to the steepiekeeper for having everything in readiness. Several touches were then rung on handbells, and much appreciated by those present, before a move was again made to the tower for further ringing, which continued until nine o'clock, when the bells were lowered in peal and a very enjoyable meeting terminated. Methods practised during the afternoon and evening ranged from rounds and Grandsire Triples to London and Bristol Surprise Major.

The next district meeting will be held at Beddington on Saturday, May 16th.

CHEPSTOW.—On Saturday, March 28th, at the Parish Church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes), rung after an attempt for a peal of Grandsire Triples had failed owing to a shift course: E. H. Luff 1, E. H. Stradling 2, G. Hawkins 3, A. Hawkins 4, G. Popnell 5, S. T. Rackham 6, J. Phillips (conductor) 7, H. Sims 8. The thanks of the band are tendered to Mr. H. Sims, of Chepstow, who rang at short notice instead of Mr. D. G. Clift, who was indisposed.

FORMER LADY RINGER MARRIED.

An extremely pretty wedding took place at St. Ann's Church, Bagshot, Surrey, on Saturday, when a large congregation assembled to witness the marriage of Mr. Hugh Black, of Camberley, son of Mrs. Black, of Austruther, Scotland, and Miss Alice Kathleen Corbett, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Corbett, of Bagshot. Mr. Corbett has been secretary of the local ringers for many years, and Miss Corbett was one of a party of young girls who, in war time, took the place of the men in the belfry. She became quite a competent ringer, although she did not follow up the art after the reconstruction of the band.

Saturday's ceremony was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. Canon Stuart), and the singing was led by the choir. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a dress of cream satin, with old Brussels lace train, and was attended by six bridesmaids, attired in mauve crepe-de-chine and carrying baskets of violets. There was also a tiny page in Highland costume, and he and the youngest bridesmaid acted as train bearers. The happy couple left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's 'Wedding March' and the pealing of the bells rung by the local ringers. The reception at the Parish Hall was attended by a large number of guests, and Mr. and Mrs. Black left by car for their honeymoon to the strains of the bells, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples being rung by A. E. Clarke (Bagshot) (first quarter-peal) 1, W. Viggers (Aldershot) 2, C. W. Denyer (Aldershot) 3, H. J. Chaffey (Ottershaw) 4, F. Nye (Bagshot) (conductor) 5, J. S. Goldsmith (Woking) 6, H. Hunt (Bagshot) 7, H. Hunt, sen. (Yorktown) 8.

THRAPSTON WEDDING BELLS.

The wedding took place on Easter Eve, April 4th, at Thrapston Parish Church, of Miss K. Nickerson and Mr. E. Lingard. The bride, herself an hon. member of the Ladies' Guild, is the only daughter of Mr. James M. Nickerson, the captain of the Thrapston belfry, and the popular secretary of the Thrapston Branch of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild. As the newly-married pair left the church, the bells were rung in 'matrimonial order' by ringers from the neighbouring towers, and, later, a quarter-peal of Bob Major (1,264 changes) was rung in 45 mins.: E. E. Whitmore 1, W. Copperwheat 2, W. J. Whitmore 3, F. Kirk 4, H. William Cheney 5, F. Stubbs 6, C. M. Whitney 7, G. W. Jeffs (conductor) 8. The band were afterwards entertained to tea at the home of the bride, and their congratulations and best wishes were expressed by one of the members.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED.

PICTURES OF CHURCH TOWERS FOR PUBLICATION IN 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The Editor of 'The Ringing World' will be glad to receive photographs of churches, with a view to their future publication when suitable occasion arises.

The photographs should be accompanied by brief particulars of the bells, with their inscriptions and dates if possible, and any other interesting information about them.

Pictures should, for preference, be photographic postcards, and, where there is any choice, the tower should be a feature.

Obviously, of course, all the pictures cannot be published at once, the object of getting a collection being that the photographs may be ready at hand for use when fitting opportunity occurs.

Will each tower secretary be good enough to send a photograph of his own tower? It should be forwarded in an envelope for protection, and addressed to The Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woking, Surrey, and the sender should enclose his name and address.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The peal of ten bells of Solihull Parish Church, near Birmingham, are being removed by Messrs. John Taylor and Company to their foundry at Loughborough for recasting.

Five ringers have been elected to the new Parochial Church Council of Over, Cambs—Messrs. A. J. Ginn, F. Warrington, C. Robinson, H. Robinson and G. Whybrow. A bell fund has been opened, but unfortunately the clock and organ have gone wrong, and must be attended to first. Mr. Alfred Bowell, of Ipswich, is, we understand, repairing the clock.

We understand a move is being made at All Saints', Longstanton, to provide a memorial to the late Rev. H. B. Woolley.

The good wishes of the Exercise will go out to Mr. W. T. Cockerill, the genial hon. secretary of the College Youths, who will be 72 on Monday.

An interesting peal was rung at Kettering exactly 200 years ago next Sunday. It was the result of a challenge to the local ringers, who in 1729 had rung a peal of Grandsire Triples in 3 hrs. 18 mins. Some unbeliever evidently questioned whether all the peal had been rung in this space of time, so with one exception, that of the tenor-man, the same band set about proving not only could it be done in the time occupied in 1729, but also in a good deal less.

The peal board which recorded the first peal also has the following added: 'Since it was asserted our first performance could not be rung in less than 3 hours and a half, for an experiment, and before skilful judges, on ye 12th of April, 1731, ye whole peal of 5,040 was completed at 30 changes each minute, in 2 hours and 48 minutes, by the persons underwritten: Tho. Howard, 1; Tho. Woodford, 2; John Law, 3; G. Eayre, 4; Hen. Parker, 5; Rob. Booth, 6; Jno. Carley, 7; Jona Barlow, 8.'

Sunday is also the anniversary of the famous peal of 18,027 Stedman Caters rung in 12 hrs. 18 mins. at Loughborough on April 12th, 1909.

The anniversary of another long peal occurs on Monday, that of the 14,000 Kent Treble Bob Royal, rung at Ashton-under-Lyne in 1914.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL MEETING.

In the particulars of the arrangements made for the Central Council meeting at Liverpool, published last week, the name and address of Mr. Claude I. Davies, of Caerleon, Dunbabin Road, Wavertree, Liverpool, who is acting as secretary of the local reception committee, was omitted. Members requiring tickets for luncheon, which will be provided by the Lancashire Association, and those who desire to take part in the proposed Masonic peal, should apply to him.

PEAL BOARD UNVEILED.

On the morning of Easter Day, at St. Olave's Church, Hart Street, City of London, a tablet recording a peal of Grandsire Triples rung on St. Olaf's Day, July 19th, 1930, by members of the Kent County Association, was, at the invitation of the conductor (Mr. F. W. Thornton), unveiled and dedicated by the Rector, Prebendary Tom Wellard, B.A., B.D. At the conclusion of the interesting ceremony several touches of Grandsire were rung enabling four of the young local band to make their initial effort in Triples on working bells.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

MR. J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE has just completed some original research into the history of an interesting period of the Ancient Society of College Youths, and the result of his investigations, bringing to light a great deal of hitherto unpublished information, is to appear in our columns in a series of articles, of which the following is the first.

I. INTRODUCTION.

The Ancient Society of College Youths claims to be the oldest ringing society with an unbroken corporate existence since 1637. This claim has generally been allowed by the Exercise; but now and then, at very wide intervals, we come across doubts expressed and statements made that at a particular time there was a definite breach and that the present society is not the real successor of the society founded by my Lord Brereton and his aristocratic companions in the reign of Charles I. A year or two ago, when collecting materials for some historical notes on ringing, I came across one of these statements, and I promised to try and find out the truth and see what evidence there is behind these rumours.

Sixty or seventy years ago there were a number of men who started an interest in the archæology of bells. By a vast expenditure of time, patience and learning, they got together an immense amount of information relating to bell inscriptions, bell lore and legend, and bell founders. Some of them added inquiries into the history of early bell ringing and bell ringers. Two of the best known of these men were the Rev. C. W. Lukis, Rector of Wath, near Ripon, and the Rev. H. T. Ellacombe, Rector of Clyst St. George, near Exeter. It was these two men, I believe, who first published any doubts of the continuity of the College Youths.

Writing in 1855, Mr. Lukis says: 'There is in London a society of College Youths, but it is said not to be descended from the ancient society, which became extinct in 1788' (Note 1).

Mr. Ellacombe, in 1872, in 'Bells of the Church,' says: 'It would be pleasant if we could reject the hypothesis of the ancient society's extinction; but the probability, it cannot be denied, is in this direction.'

I know of no other published statement on the subject.

Neither Lukis nor Ellacombe could have had any information from anyone who had personal knowledge of the matter, and by 1872, at any rate, all memory of it had faded out of the Exercise. It is, therefore, certain that both got their information from Osborn and from Osborn alone.

Edward John Osborn was a London ringer, a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths about 1840, who formed the intention of writing a history of change ringing, and collected a large quantity of information about the early societies. He wrote an account of most of the London companies, but his book was never completed and never published. After his death his widow presented his manuscripts and the material he had collected to the British Museum, where they now are. This was on February 12th, 1853.

The books which Lukis and Ellacombe and such like wrote were for antiquarians. They were expensive, with a limited number of copies, and, as a rule, published by subscription. They were little likely to be read by ringers, and these statements attracted no attention and passed almost unnoticed. But Ellacombe (Note 2) was on friendly terms with the College Youths of his day and no doubt brought the matter to their notice. Their reply, in so many words, was that Osborn was a liar, who, because he had quarrelled with the society, made up this tale out of spite. Their actual words are as follows:— 'Some years ago a gentleman named Osborne, on leaving the society, deposited a manuscript history in the British Museum, in which he tries to make out that the Company became extinct once or twice since its formation. The documents of the society prove the contrary, and that its continuity is a matter beyond doubt.'

This is the concluding paragraph of 'An Historical Account of the rise and progress of the Ancient Society of College Youths, compiled from the Company's records' (Note 3), but I do not think the writer knew very much about the society's real history. That short paragraph has three mistakes. Osborn did not deposit anything in the British Museum either on leaving the society or at any other time; his statements of fact are amply corroborated by the Company's peal books; and his name is incorrectly spelt.

In a letter dated June 17th, 1761, addressed to Mr. Lukis, Samuel Austin, then secretary of the society, refers to the former gentleman's statement, and says: 'Now this is a mistake of which I trust I shall be able to satisfy you.' He proceeds to give long extracts from the society's name and peal books, and argues that, as they cover the whole of the years in question, there could have been no breach of continuity. Apparently this is what is meant when the society says that their documents 'prove the contrary and its continuity is a matter beyond doubt.'

There is in existence a considerable amount of material for writing an account of what took place, and I have been at some trouble to find it and sort it out. Having done so, I am not quite of the same opinion as Lukis and Ellacombe. It is certain that there was a technical

THE LADIES' GUILD.

BISHOP OF PETERBOROUGH ATTENDS NORTHAMPTONSHIRE DISTRICT MEETING.

A meeting of the Northamptonshire District of the Ladies' Guild, at Cranford, on Saturday, March 28th, proved a notable occasion, the members having the pleasure of welcoming the Bishop of Peterborough (Dr. Claude Blagden). A large number assembled at St. John's Church for the Guild service at four o'clock, conducted by the Rector, the Rev. R. C. Thursfield. The address, given by the Bishop, was most thoroughly appreciated, as was his interest in the Guild.

Tea was afterwards served in the school, when there were present, in addition to the Bishop, the churchwardens of the parish, the Rev. R. C. Thursfield, the Rev. E. J. Atkins (Rector of Isham), Miss Steel (president of the Ladies' Guild), Mrs. G. W. Fletcher (general secretary), Miss Atkins (vice-president, Northamptonshire District), Mr. F. Wilford (Master of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild) and Mrs. Wilford, Mr. E. G. Black (general secretary, Peterborough Diocesan Guild), Mr. G. W. Fletcher, Mr. E. M. Atkins, and ringers from a wide area.

The Hon. Secretary of the Northamptonshire District (Miss S. Thursfield) expressed, on behalf of the members, their appreciation of the Bishop's kindness in coming to the meeting.—The Rev. R. C. Thursfield welcomed the Bishop to Cranford, and his lordship briefly replied.

At the business meeting of the Ladies' Guild the chair was taken by the president. The Hon. Secretary said how extremely pleased all the members were to be able to welcome Mrs. Fletcher once again to the district.

Two new ringing members were elected, and it was decided to hold the next meeting at East Haddon.

The bells were rung in various Minor methods during the afternoon and evening, including touches by a band of members of the Guild.

breach of continuity, but I think that sufficient corporate continuity can be proved to justify the society's claim that they are essentially the same society, which was founded in 1637.

The facts, briefly stated, are as follows. After the death of Annable in 1756 a number of the members broke away from the society, and, joining with others from the Eastern Scholars, formed a new company. This company prospered exceedingly and rang some of the best peals credited to the College Youths. The old society also prospered and rang some notable performances. So that for thirty-two years, from 1756 to 1788, there were two societies of College Youths who did not ring together or meet each other at social or business gatherings.

In 1787 the old society was apparently strong and prosperous, and then suddenly and almost without warning it collapsed and expired. Some of its members joined the new society, some joined the Cumberlands, and some gave up ringing altogether. The peal book, etc., passed into the possession of the Cumberland Society. Thereupon the new company moved its quarters to the old society's meeting place and took the name of Ancient Society of College Youths, and has continued to the present day.

This is the story I am going to tell in detail. My authorities are—the records of the College Youths, Cumberlands, Eastern Scholars and London Youths; Osborn's MSS.; some peal boards; the 'Clavis'; and Shipway's book. Nearly all is contemporary evidence.

Perhaps it may be necessary to say that my account is written entirely without bias either way. I am concerned neither to prove the society's continuity, nor to disprove it. All I have tried to do is to set down the truth of what really occurred.

NOTE 1. 'The Wiltshire Magazine,' 1855.

NOTE 2. Ellacombe was elected a member of the College Youths in 1861. He was 'well acquainted with the late Mr. Osborn' (see 'Notes and Queries,' July 10th, 1869).

NOTE 3. This is from the College Youths' official handbook, 1894 ed. The 1928 also contains an account of the society. That must be regarded in many respects as idealised legend rather than sober history.

ERITH AND DARTFORD LITTLE BOB.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the correspondence which has recently appeared in your paper regarding the above methods, may I be allowed to say a few words?

In 1924 or 1925 I passed to Mr. E. Barnett, sen., through Mr. James Bennett, two Little methods for Major, Royal or Maximus. Each of these methods had three pull dodging above fourth's place, and produced the same lead-ends. The only difference between these two methods was that one commenced with the bells above fourth's place dodging, whereas the other started with the bells hunting.

During my residence in Norwich I also gave these methods to some of my ringing friends in Norfolk and Suffolk, and maybe it was from one of these ringers that Mr. Golden obtained the figures.

These methods were first rung by the Kent County Association, conducted by Mr. E. Barnett, sen., under the titles of Dartford Little Bob and Erith Little Bob respectively. I therefore fail to see any reason why they should now be allowed to be rung under any other names. (Perhaps the Central Council Analysis Committee will be good enough to amend their table accordingly.)

Having now settled the correct titles of these methods, I come to the point raised by Messrs. Golden and Lewis, and that is 'Double.' How on earth they can be by any rule at present in existence make these 'double' methods I fail to see, as the tieble only hunts to fourth's place. If they are so keen on ringing a double method, why not ring the proper thing, which, in my opinion, for what it is worth, is 'Double Oxford'?—Yours faithfully,

GEORGE H. CROSS.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

EASTERN DIVISION MEETING.

The annual meeting was held at St. Saviour's, Eastbourne, on Saturday, March 21st. Ringing took place at intervals between 2.30 and 4.30 p.m.

At the service, which followed, the Vicar, the Rev. Claude Williams, M.A., gave an excellent address.

Through his kindness, the members sat down to a splendid tea at the Church House, South Street, the Vicar presiding, supported by Mr. C. M. Taylor, churchwarden, and Mr. A. Cain. The Master of the Association, Mr. J. T. Rickman, was present, and Mr. A. A. Hughes, of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry, and Mr. W. D. Smith among others. The Vicar gave a warm welcome to the members, close on seventy attending, representing the following towers: Brighton (St. Peter's, St. Nicholas' and the Church of the Good Shepherd), Hastings (All Saints' and St. Clement's), St. Leonards (Christ Church), Hecne, Mayfield, Southover, Lindfield, Battle, Shoreham, Uckfield, Heathfield, Eastbourne (All Saints', St. Mary's and St. Saviour's).

Mr. Rickman thanked the Vicar for the use of the bells, for his splendid address at the service, and also for the excellent tea. The Vicar, in responding, thanked the company present for their kind expressions, and wished the Sussex County Association every success.

At the business meeting, which followed, the Vicar occupied the chair.

The following members were elected: Messrs. W. T. Bradfield, A. J. Clift, S. C. Driver, E. A. Easton, C. A. Levitt, F. H. J. Pilbeam, G. F. Piper, G. S. Piper, F. Tollett, J. D. White, J. R. Wise and Mrs. G. Levitt, all of All Saints', Hastings. The election of Mr. J. Bromley, Horsmonden, Kent, as a non-resident life member, and Mr. J. Powell as a yearly member, was also confirmed.

At the election of officers which followed, Mr. G. W. Stokes, of St. Saviour's, Eastbourne, was re-elected as hon. secretary, and Messrs. W. Franks, A. R. Miles and W. Booth were re-elected to the committee. Mr. A. C. Pankhurst was elected to serve on the Committee of Advice.

Mr. A. A. Hughes proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for presiding. The bells of St. Saviour's, All Saints', and of the Parish Church were rung until 8 p.m.

RINGERS TRY GAS FITTING.

A quarterly meeting of the Swindon Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association was held at Highworth on Saturday, March 21st, with a small attendance. Swindon Branch, with a membership of fifty, and an average of twelve at meetings! It is not good enough. Even the gas in the belfry was, like the local ringers, missing, so after a few amateurs had tried their hand at gas fitting, a member of the party visited the gasworks to see what could be done. As this gentleman had lost his hat on the previous Saturday at a ringers' dinner, perhaps he thought a little light on the subject would be an advantage. After a visit of the gasman, who said the pipes would have to be cleaned out, Mr. Bond, of Burford, came to the rescue with a packet of candles, with the aid of which a touch of Stedman was managed. It is hoped, therefore, that the visit to Highworth has done a little good in 'belfry reform' if nothing else.

A meeting at Brinkworth was arranged for April 18th and Rodbourne Cheney for May 16th. Due notice will appear in 'The Ringing World.'

EARLY PRESS OPINIONS

"For the first time the art of ringing has got a comprehensive history between the covers of one book . . . Mr. Morris has accomplished a stupendous task . . . he has given the public at large, and the Exercise in particular, a history which deals with practically every phase of campanology . . . Mr. Morris has sifted his material with an accomplished hand and discerning eye, and offers it to his readers in an attractive form. The volume is crammed full of information and interest ; it will not only be read with pleasure, but it will become a book of reference."—The Ringing World.
 "There has been nothing quite like it in comprehensive treatment . . . Indeed, no book has yet been devoted to the history and art of change ringing."—J. M. BULLOCK, Sunday Times.

"His book takes its place at once as the best short survey of 'The Founders' Craft and Ringers' Art,' published for many years : besides being authoritative, it is entertaining. We recommend it to those who would like to know something about a very fascinating and very English art."—The Spectator. "The bibliography of bells has received a significant addition in the new volume just published under the title of 'Bells Through the Ages.' Few people realise fully the manysidedness of the subject of bells ; but this book touches every phase and is a perfect storehouse of information. The uninitiated reader can gain an insight into the subject such as was not previously possible except to those who had special facilities or an unlimited purse."—Ringing World. "Is full of interesting information . . . will doubtless be freely consulted as a work of reference."—Manchester Guardian. SECRETARIES' DERELICTION OF DUTY.'CALLED OVER THE COALS.'

The ten secretaries who took part in the peal at Beddington on March 21st learnt years ago that it is impossible to please everyone, so that they will not be surprised to hear that there is a critic even of their innocent proceedings. A correspondent signing himself 'W. S.' has two 'bones of contention.' 'It is not appreciated,' he writes, 'that C. T. Coles is general secretary of the Middlesex County Association. He is a joint secretary.'

A little while ago we heard something about 'tunnel vision' in regard to ringing. There would seem to be some people who have not got even that limited outlook. If Mr. Coles is not a 'general' secretary of the Middlesex Association, even though he may share the duties jointly with Mr. Hollier, then no ringer has ever qualified for such a title.

Then, says 'W. S.', 'the peal was rung on a meeting day. . . Have not the Guild officers asked and appealed for loyal support at meetings? If you must have peals to encourage the forward work of the Guild, why not put meeting attendances first and the peal ringing second? Before accusing others of non-support at meetings, peal ringers should put their own house in order first.'

Now, all you secretaries who came from Guilds and associations where meetings were being held that day, just sit up and take notice of this! It does not matter that you were general secretaries and the meetings were district meetings, for which district secretaries, and not you, were responsible; it does not matter that this event was unique; that you came from ten different areas as wide apart as Leeds and Portsmouth, Cardiff and Gravesend, and that the selection of a convenient date for all of you was no easy thing, or that the peal was arranged before the district meetings; in fact, nothing matters but that some of you failed to be present at district meetings in your own associations. Fie on you!

'W. S.' does not actually say so, but rather obviously the secretary of the Guildford Diocesan Guild is the chief offender, as the Guildford District is mentioned by him in another connection. We have interviewed the secretary of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, and he says he must, of course, plead guilty. He was caught red-handed, so he cannot put up an alibi. He can only plead in extenuation that in the last twelve months he has attended nearly twenty district meetings of his own Guild, and 'umpteenth meetings of other people's guilds; that he had not previously rung a peal this year on anybody's meeting day, and that, if he is permitted to escape this time, under the 'First Offenders' Act, he won't do it again—when anyone is looking.

By the way, we understand that the secretary of the Midland Counties Association has applied for membership of the Secretaries' Association, and has forwarded a life subscription, which, there being no auditors to look after the accounts, the president proposes to spend next time he has a summer holiday.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.THE NOMINATION MEETING.

Owing to unforeseen circumstances, the nomination meeting of the Leeds and District Society could not be held at Armley, and a continuous run for over twenty years came to an end. The meeting was held instead at Holbeck Parish Church, and was very well attended, members being present from Armley, Batley, Bramley, Burley, Drighlington, Hunslet, Headingley St. Chad's, Headingley St. Michael's, Lindley, Rothwell, Ripon, Pudsey, Leeds Parish Church, Sharow, and the local company.

Two new members were elected, and it was decided (after a vote) to hold the annual meeting at Burley on April 25th.

The nominations provided some surprises. All towers are requested to send representatives to the annual meeting at Burley to cast their votes on the many important questions which will be brought forward, one of which specially concerns the older members of the society, whose more frequent presence at the meetings would be welcome.

In an able speech Mr. Barton proposed: 'That the best thanks of our society be accorded the Vicar of Holbeck for the use of the bells, and to the local company for the arrangements,' and Mr. L. Morris replied on behalf of the ringers.

An invitation was given to all the members who would like to learn Surprise ringing to communicate with Mr. George Slack, of Burley, who was desirous of starting a class at Burley Parish Church.

The attention of members was drawn to the new book, written by Mr. Ernest Morris, on 'The history and art of change ringing.'

AFFILIATION AND ALLEGIANCE.

It is quite certain that almost, if not quite all, the associations and guilds who send representatives to the Central Council will adopt the suggested rule 'loyally to abide by the rules and decisions of the Council.' As a matter of fact, this is the only logical course that a society which professes 'membership' of the Council can take. What is the use of supporting an organisation, the object of which is to further the cause of ringing, unless those who join it are prepared to accept its decisions? The Council may, for the most part, be able only to act in an advisory capacity; it may have no powers to enforce any of its decisions, but that does not alter the fact that any association which affiliates to it would place itself in an absurd position if it declined to accept the rulings of the Council and remained a member of it. And yet an effort made some years ago to get this same recognition of the position of the Council failed. The result which is now being achieved has come about by a changed view of the value of the Council. From being looked upon as merely a debating society, the Council now occupies a position of recognised importance in the organisation of ringing. It is a cohesive force, which aims at drawing together into one whole the many associations and guilds which cover the country; it can speak with a collective voice and it is composed of some of the best brains in the Exercise. The Council is what the associations like to make it; and they are making it an organisation of increasing use and greater guidance. Loyalty to its rulings is the first essential to its being, and we are glad to see that all over the country associations are coming into line and are not merely doing lip service to an ideal, but are definitely accepting the position by adopting, in cases where it had not already been done, a rule governing their relation with the Council.

But while the associations are now prepared to give an undertaking loyally to abide by the rules and decisions of the Council, the Council, on its part, must be prepared to recognise the associations. Hitherto, only the individual representatives of the societies have had recognition—the societies have had none, beyond the right to elect the members and to pay the fees. A society, as a society, has no locus standi with the Council—it cannot even send up a motion in its own name. There has got to be a closer unity between the Council and the associations in future, and it is possible that the Standing Committee may find a way to establish this when they report on the suggested alterations in the constitution of the Council at the next meeting. Affiliation with the Council is often spoken of, but actually there has been no such thing, and it is not mentioned in the rules. The Council merely consists of a certain number of members, whom associations are entitled to elect; it is not the central organisation of the societies themselves. That, in our opinion, is a distinction with a real difference. The Council has now asked the societies to include in their rules a stipulation that they shall be 'affiliated' to the Council; that being so, the Council as a corporate body must provide for effective contact with them. If the societies are to give allegiance to the Council, the Council will owe them something in return.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION. CONTRIBUTION TO THE STEDMAN COMMEMORATION SCHEME.

Nearly 100 members of the Hertford County Association attended the 46th annual meeting of the association, which was held at St. Albans on Monday, under the chairmanship of the president (Mr. W. Nash).

Prior to the meeting, a service was held in the St. Albans Cathedral, when an address was given by the Vicar of Hitchin (Rev. R. F. E. Routh). Tea was provided at Ver House, where the business meeting also took place.

After a welcome had been extended to the visitors by the president, the financial statement for the year ended Easter, 1931, was presented and adopted. In presenting the report and moving its adoption, Mr. H. G. Lowe stated that the treasurer (Mr. E. P. Debenham) was unable to be present owing to indisposition, but he was making satisfactory progress towards recovery. The report showed that the income, which totalled £59 16s. 8d., included £18 17s. derived from ringing members, £9 18s. from hon. members, and 15s. from life members. The expenditure amounted to £41 14s. 11d., leaving a credit balance on the year's working of £18 1s. 9d.

RINGING ON A HIGH LEVEL.

In presenting his annual report, Mr. G. W. Cartmel (hon. secretary) stated: Another year has passed, and from our towers, on every Sunday, the bells have called the people to worship in the House of God. It is a point of honour we cherish. Many people would forget it was Sunday, but for the bells. They have a message at all times, whether of cheer or sorrow. The standard of ringing of our association to-day is on a very high level, probably the highest of any period of its existence. Many of us can remember when Squire Proctor's band was the only one in the county which could ring Surprise methods. To-day, we have many bands, scattered throughout the county, who successfully practise such methods, and ere long we can confidently expect records. We congratulate the Luton band upon their peal of London (all service ringers), and specially mentioning Mr. Lewis Goodenough, the conductor. Several new towers have been added to our strength. Thirty-six meetings have been held, at most of which a service with address has been arranged. The ringers have entered heartily into these services, and they appreciate the readiness of the various incumbents in making the arrangements. Joint association meetings have been continued, and have proved pleasurable and profitable functions in every way. Mr. W. H. Lawrence has been inspired to arrange mid-week district meetings, which have been very successful. By catering for those who only get a mid-week holiday, he has supplied a real want, which the ringers of his district have appreciated. It does not necessarily follow that the mid-week meeting would be successful in every district. Thirty-three peals have been rung on tower bells and three on handbells, making a total of thirty-six, the same as last year. The methods rung range from Surprise to Grandsire Doubles. The peals have been rung in twenty-three different towers, distributed throughout the county, and there have been twenty-one different conductors.

BENEVOLENT FUND STARTED.

The Benevolent Fund was brought into existence by resolution at the last Easter meeting, and in accordance with powers delegated to the treasurer and secretary, rules were drafted and circulated to the district secretaries, asking for an opinion upon them. This consideration called forth a wide divergence of thought, and it was found useful for the committee's consideration. With the exception of the Western District, the districts were favourable, and, support having since been forthcoming, an account has been opened at the Westminster Bank, at St. Albans. At the annual committee meeting in February last, the rules were discussed and finally agreed. Rule 2 was drastically altered, the meeting being unanimous in their opinion that only those members who contributed to the fund should be eligible for benefit. Another important addition was that towers outside the county, who were affiliated to the association, were brought within the scope of benefit. The committee do not suggest that the scheme is perfect, experience will decide that, but they do say that the effort is an honest attempt to help an unfortunate brother or sister in distress, and to put to practical test the reality of the brotherhood of ringers. I appeal personally to every member to give the scheme a chance, and by so doing to realise that you have a share in the Divine promise, 'Inasmuch as ye did unto the least of one of these my brethren, ye did it unto Me.' This, and this alone, is the ideal basis of the benevolent scheme.

INSURANCE AND PRESERVATION OF BELLS.

Reference was made to the death during the year of Canon Baker, president of the Bedfordshire Association, the Rev. G. Edmonds, of St. Albans, the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, a member of the Herts County Association from its earliest days, Mr. W. J. Hazell, of Edmonton, and Mr. J. Floyd, of Hemel Hempstead, who was for forty years a ringer at St. Mary's Church. The report then proceeded: The disastrous fire at Eaton Socon Church draws attention to the insurance of church bells. Whilst there may not be any obligation resting upon Church authorities to insure their bells, it would be wise procedure to do so. At a trifling cost, a policy could be procured which would indemnify against a great loss, in case of destruction, and ensure restoration. We all know that the bells are nearer Heaven than the fittings below, yet it is common knowledge they are the last to receive consideration as regards insurance. Of course, all ringers are on the electoral roll, if not on the P.C.C., and I would suggest that they raise the question of insurance at the first opportunity. Akin to the insurance of bells, is their preservation. It is doubtful whether church authorities have any systematic or competent inspection of belfries, the job is usually left to the ringers. A body called the St. Albans Advisory Committee function for this Diocese, and information is sought from the assessors, who, whilst possessing accurate knowledge of the fabric, probably know very little about bells and fittings. If this committee would be willing to co-opt a ringer or ringers to assist them, I know we could find the men to render valuable service.

After referring to the work done in the various districts, and expressing thanks to the district secretaries, the auditor, the treasurer and the librarian, the hon. secretary thanked the Dean of St. Albans for his kindly sympathy and interest in the association's work, and concluded by asking the members to take an inspiration from that meeting. 'Would it not be fitting,' he said, 'to regard this meeting as an association dedication day, a day on which we dedicate our services as bellringers in the House of God for another year. Let us see to it that our recognition as churchworkers is never forfeited by any indifference, and by our Christian standard of living, and efficiency in our bellringing, prove to the world "that old things have passed away, and all things have become new." Lastly, I would add my personal tribute to all those who have helped to uphold the traditions of change ringing in our county.'

RAVAGES OF DEATH WATCH BEETLE.

The Dean of St. Albans, in moving the adoption of the report, said he had noticed that bellringers seemed to live to a great age, and added that he thought that bellringing must have something to do with it. He referred to the ravages which the death watch beetle had done in St. Albans Cathedral, and added that they were fortunate to have come so lightly out of such an expensive and anxious trial as the last six months had been. He impressed upon his listeners the importance of having their towers inspected without delay to see whether old timbers were what they seemed to be, or decayed pieces of wood, eaten away by the beetle. He added that they had been fortunate to save in the Cathedral timbers that were erected when the tower was built in 1066. Continuing, he said ringing had a tremendous educational value. Ringers had to possess accuracy, concentration and perseverance, and what three finer qualities could they want, he asked.

The election of officers followed, when Mr. F. J. Reeve, of Tring, was appointed president. The hon. treasurer and hon. secretary were both re-elected as also was Mr. G. Debenham as hon. librarian. The district secretaries for the Northern, Eastern, St. Albans, Watford and Western Divisions were all re-elected.

The Hon. Secretary reported that he had received a letter from the editor of 'The Ringing World,' stating that an effort was being made to restore the bells on which Fabian Stedman rang at Cambridge, and that an appeal was being made to all the associations in the country for contributions. The meeting unanimously decided to contribute a sum of three guineas to the scheme.

The meeting concluded with the usual votes of thanks.

EAST DERBYSHIRE AND NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the East Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire Association was held on Easter Monday at Ripley, Derbyshire, and was favoured with fine weather and a good attendance. Ringing commenced shortly before three o'clock, and continued until five, when the company adjourned for tea.

The business meeting was afterwards held with the president (Mr. W. Dobb) in the chair. The members evinced a keen interest in the affairs of the association and showed their confidence in the officials by re-electing the president (Mr. W. Dobb), treasurer (Mr. T. Stimpson) and secretary (Mr. J. W. England). Mr. Melville Slater was elected vice-president, Messrs. Jos. Machin and G. H. Jolland, auditors, and Messrs. C. Rogers, C. J. Partridge, F. Knowles and E. Ashman on the executive committee.

The balance sheet and auditors' report were accepted as satisfactory. A proposal to increase the annual subscription to one shilling was carried by a large majority.

Correspondence was read from the editor of 'The Ringing World' and the secretary of the Central Council, and a resolution was passed that the association loyally abide by the rules and decisions of the Central Council.

The venue of the next annual meeting is Tibshelf, and quarterlies were arranged at Pleasley, Old Bampton and Morton, the dates to be arranged by the executive committee.

Five new members were elected.

Members were present from Alfreton, Blackwell, Crich, Denby, Mansfield, Mansfield Woodhouse, Morton, Pleasley, Ripley, Selston, Sutton-in-Ashfield, South Normanton, Tibshelf, Kirkby-in-Ashfield and Hencor.

RESTORATION WORK AT SADDLEWORTH. BELLS IN A 'NO-MAN'S-LAND' GIVEN NEW LIFE.

Saddleworth, a place famous in the days that are no more and an arena for former six-bell contests, was the scene of renewed activity on Saturday, April 4th, when the restoration of the bells was celebrated in traditional style. The special service was very well attended, and the Rural Dean of Oldham, Canon A. R. Mackintosh, duly dedicated the bells at a service conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. W. Hudson.

Despite the uncertain weather and the position of the church, many visitors, including Mr. J. P. Fidler, of Loughborough, joined with the Saddleworth men in the pleasures of the day and enjoyed themselves to the 'full.'

The bells are a peal of eight, tenor weighing approximately 11 cwt. The back six were cast by Rudhall in 1781, and these were augmented by two trebles by Mears in 1884. A wonderful transformation has taken place in their tonal effect and carrying power, the falseness in tune having been corrected by the 'Taylor' system of tuning. The old timber frame was built in two levels, and for many years made strenuous efforts to make its escape from the tower when the bells were rung. At last its wishes have been realised, but it made a most ignominious descent from the tower; whether by design or accident, it remained in the churchyard to witness the triumphant entry of its successor, a monster of iron and steel, which now sits snugly in the tower, fitting it like a glove and all on one level. At the call of the bells the new frame acts as the true gentleman it is, so that the former, resplendent in their new rig out, can show off at their best without any unnecessary coaxing. To ring in the tower is now a treat, the handling of the bells is 'it,' and their sound in the ringing chamber is ideal—two combinations which make for nice 'tapping'—and some of the six-bell 'stuff' demonstrated this in no mean manner.

The Church authorities deserve every praise for the manner in which they have tackled this restoration, for, despite heavy financial burdens in other directions, they bravely set their shoulders to the wheel and made a job of it. We believe that Mr. Burridge, one of the wardens, greatly interested himself in the bell scheme, and has been a tower of strength towards its fulfilment. Great thanks are due to him and all those who assisted in attaining such a splendid result. The proof of the pudding is in the eating of it, and there is no doubt that Taylors have done this job 'to a turn,' and those who ring at Saddleworth can do so to their hearts' content.

The original Church of Saddleworth was founded in 1200 by William de Stapleton, who made it subordinate to the mother church of St. Chad, Rochdale, but of this nothing now remains, the present building being a comparatively modern structure, while the tower was rebuilt some time during the middle of last century.

To reach the church, one must first get to Uppermill, which can be reached either by train or bus, then a nice long climb awaits the pilgrim. Like many churches in this locality, that of Saddleworth stands on an eminence on the western slopes of the Pennines, placed well away from the village, which, although it is in the county of Yorkshire, is very close to the borders of Lancashire, Cheshire and Derbyshire, thus making it a sort of no-man's-land. Yet it retains the grand virtue of hospitality. A large portion of the surrounding country is in a barren state and mountainous, which makes it a favourite spot with 'hikers.' The industrial part of the district is well away from the church, and thus, in its immediate vicinity, the population is very sparse, and on this further comment is unnecessary.

Despite this out-of-the-way situation, the visitor is well catered for, as there is a very good 'rest house' quite handy. Here the visiting ringers were entertained in a most excellent manner, and between thirty and forty did ample justice to a 'gradely' meat tea. 'Hey by gum, it were champion and cost nowt!' The very best thanks of all the ringers who attended are due to the good people of Saddleworth for the excellent fare provided, and for the manner in which they received the visitors.

To Mr. Jonathan Pilling and his merry men we extend our very best wishes, and trust they will have very many years' enjoyment with the bells of Saddleworth.

CUMBERLAND ASSOCIATION. COCKERMOUTH WIN RINGING CONTEST.

The annual ringing contest and general meeting of the Cumberland Association was held on Easter Monday at Bridekirk Parish Church, when five teams competed representing Bridekirk, Cockermouth, Egremont, Keswick and Workington. The judge was Mr. J. H. Banks, of Helmshore, who placed Cockermouth as winners. They rang 720 Cambridge Minor in 28 minutes with 23 faults. Keswick rang 720 Kent Minor in 30 minutes with 21 faults. The other teams failed to complete the peal.

At a subsequent meeting, which was presided over by the Vicar, Rev. Canon Sutton, the 'Rawnsley' shield was presented to the conductor of the winning team (Mr. W. T. Holmes).

Votes of thanks to the Vicar for use of bells, etc., also to Mr. Banks for judging, brought the meeting to a close.

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY.

COMMEMORATION FUND OPENED.
FIRST GRANTS FROM ASSOCIATIONS.

Although the actual details of the scheme for the restoration of the bells of St. Benedict's Church, Cambridge, in commemoration of the tricentenary of the birth of Fabian Stedman, have not yet been settled and consequently the cost is not yet known, it was felt that, with so many of the annual meetings of associations being held at Easter, the opportunity ought not to be missed of bringing the general idea of the commemoration to the notice of these gatherings. A tentative appeal was therefore addressed by the editor of 'The Ringing World' to those associations who were holding their annual meeting, and, wherever it was discussed, it met with widespread approval.

The circular, in asking for a provisional grant, pointed out that the cost might be in the region of £350, so that it would need the fullest support of the Exercise to carry it to a successful issue. It was added that the general outlines of the restoration proposals had the support of the Rector of St. Benet's and his churchwardens, and also of the secretary of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, and further that the Rector had given his promise that, should the bells be restored, reasonable facilities will be given for their use in the future.

The result of this first tentative appeal has been most gratifying and encouraging, the following sums having been actually or provisionally voted:—

Kent County Association	5	5	0
Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association	3	3	0
Hertford County Association	3	3	0
Middlesex County Association	5	0	0

in addition to which the committee of the Oxford Diocesan Guild proposes to recommend to the Guild that a grant of £10 be made to the fund.

Here is a splendid start, and we believe the whole Exercise will follow this lead in a similarly generous spirit. The appeal is to be a national one, and individuals as well as organisations will have the opportunity of subscribing.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The two treble bells which are to augment the ring of eight at Isleworth, Middlesex, are to be cast to-day at the Whitechapel Foundry. The dedication will probably take place next month.

The bells at Ashbourne, Derbyshire, a ring of eight, are to be rehanging in new framework by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who have returned the four bells at Kingstone, Somerset, and augmented them to six.

It is now said that the peal of Stedman Caters at Beddington on March 21st was rung by only nine and a half secretaries! Sooner or later, we suppose, we shall get to the truth of this affair.

Twenty years ago to-day the Treble Bob Maximus record was set up at Ashton-under-Lyne, 12,240 being rung in 8 hrs. 39 mins. The tenor was rung by Mr. James George.

To-morrow is the anniversary of three long peals, 12,006 Grandsire Caters at Painswick on April 18th, 1737, 13,440 Double Norwich Major at Romford in 1894, and 17,824 Oxford Treble Bob Major at Hoptonstall, rung in 10 hrs. 51 mins., in 1927.

April 22nd is the anniversary of two other memorable peals, 15,227 Grandsire Caters at Cheltenham in 1889, and, the longest length ever rung by one set of men, 21,363 Stedman Caters at Appleton, which occupied 12 hrs. 25 mins. in 1922.

Who holds the record for being first out of the belfry after a peal? A West Country ringer was twice beaten in one day on Easter Monday, and admitted that on only six occasions had he ever failed to be out of the belfry first. As on three of these occasions it was by the same ringer, we would suggest that the latter is the record holder. If you want to know who he is, ask the ringer of the treble in the peal at Buckfast Abbey last October.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

II. BENJAMIN ANNABLE.

The story begins about the year 1750. For more than a hundred years the Society had been the foremost in London, perhaps in England. Founded in 1637, at a time when ringing was a fashionable sport, its members comprised the social and intellectual aristocracy of the Exercise. This is not just the exaggerated rumour of later ages. Among the two hundred and forty-three members between 1637 and 1700 there are one lord, nine sirs, six esquires, two Doctors of Divinity, two captains, and one colonel.

During the closing years of the seventeenth century, method ringing, as we know it now, became common and in the early years of the eighteenth century people began to ring peals. Which band it was that first rang five thousand changes we do not know, but the first true peal was accomplished at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, in 1715, and it was quickly followed by others in different parts of the country. In London the first peal was rung by the London Scholars in 1717—one of Grandsire Caters at St. Bride's, Fleet Street.

The College Youths did not ring their first peal till January 19th, 1724, but it was one of Grandsire Cinques (Note 4), and they quickly took the lead in peal ringing and held it for several years. This predominance was largely due to one man.

Benjamin Annable was born in 1703 and joined the Society in 1721 in his nineteenth year. He soon made his influence felt. He neither composed nor called the first peal, but in the next month he called a peal of Grandsire Caters at St. Magnus', and from that time he was the recognised conductor of the Society. He called the next seventeen peals, and out of a total of sixty-four rung before his death he took part in all but ten, and called all he took part in except four. His ascendancy was due to his great ability as a ringer and composer and to his masterful personality.

Jasper Snowden prints a letter which throws light on his position and reputation among the College Youths and ringers generally. Dr. Mason, of Cambridge, had written to Norwich asking for subscribers for John Holt's broadsheet, and in reply John Webster says that the Norwich Scholars will not do so because 'that Ingenious Ringer Mr. Annable's not Encouraging of it, had he Approved of it, his influence on the Colledge Youths would have been sufficient to have sent it to the Press without any Further Subscription.'

And the following is another rather similar incident. On January 12th, 1752, the Eastern Scholars rang at St. Margaret's, Westminster, a peal of a method they called Eastern Bob Double. It was the composition of Joseph Prior and is the same method which Shipway printed as Double Court Bob Major, but with second's and seventh's added. Henry Hubbard gives it in his book as Double Yorkshire Court Bob and as his own composition. The Eastern Scholars were very proud of their peal and their method, and claimed (with reason) that it was very musical.

But underneath the entry in their peal book they added this couplet—

'Unparalleled for Musick tho' derided
By B——n, who tells us—'Tis lopsided.'

This is very interesting. Prior anticipated Shipway by sixty years; both in his method and his rule for double methods; and Annable is insisting on the need for symmetry which has only of late years been accepted by the Exercise as a whole.

Annable was not elected a Steward of the Society till he had been a member for sixteen years, and was not made Master till he had been a Member for twenty-one years; which shows there were many older men who claimed precedence at the social meetings and the annual dinner. But in the tower he was the recognised if unofficial leader.

It is hardly likely, however, that his position was not sometimes challenged. In 1730-1 we find some signs of dissension. John Cundell called three peals and Loughton one, in none of which Annable took part. Annable, however, was soon back again as leader, but from that time there were occasional peals in which either he did not ring, or let someone else call. Probably his masterful manner did not agree with the younger ringers, and Cundell, likely enough, was his rival both as composer and conductor. Evidently, however, he was not big enough a man.

There was only one ringer at that time in London who could be said to be in any way Annable's equal. That was John Holt. Holt was leader of the Union Scholars, a man inferior to Annable socially and in education, but probably superior intellectually; and between the two there was keen rivalry and no great amount of love lost. For some reason or other, coolness arose between Holt and the Union Scholars. Osborn suggests it was because they did not book his peal of Grandsire Triples rung at Westminster in 1751. Anyhow, he was invited to join the College Youths, probably by the Cundell party, and as a rival to Annable. He joined them in 1752, and in that year called two peals of Grandsire Caters for them. Annable rang in neither.

OXFORD GUILD AND THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

At Reading, on Saturday, April 11th, the general committee of the Guild, amongst other business, unanimously recommended to the annual meeting that Rule 1 shall read: 'This society shall be called "The Oxford Diocesan Guild of Church Bellringers," and shall be affiliated to the Central Council of Church Bellringers and loyally abide by the rules and decisions thereof.'

The committee also recommended that £10 be granted from the Guild's Restoration Fund to the restoration of the six bells of St. Benet's, Cambridge, the tower in which Fabian Stedman actually rang.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

THE MEMORIAL TO THE LATE PRESIDENT.

The annual meeting of the above was held at Derby on Easter Monday, April 6th, when the bells of the Cathedral (10), St. Andrew's (10), St. Peter's (8), St. Luke's (8) were open at intervals during the day, and made good use of by members and friends from a large area. Some of the committee visited Littleover Parish Church, and were met by the Vicar and Mrs. Chambers to view and discuss final arrangements for the memorial to the late president, Alderman R. B. Chambers, B.A., J.P. This is to take the form of a silver chalice and brass tablet, the former of which is already completed. It is a replica of the ancient silver chalice, and inscribed to match the old inscription, which reads:—

'The gift of John Harpur, Esqr.
For the use of the Chappell of Littleover.
Anno Dom. 1687.'

The new memorial chalice, which is beautifully executed, is inscribed:—

'For the Church of Saint Peter, Littleover.

In memory of Robert Baker Chambers, A.D. 1929.

A tribute to their President from the Midland Counties Association of Change Ringers.'

Two estimates were considered and one finally decided upon for the brass tablet, and the place for its erection chosen exactly opposite a window which Mrs. Chambers is having replaced in stained glass to her late husband's memory, and is therefore a most suitable spot.

The Vicar of Littleover is now proceeding with the arrangements, and when completed a meeting will be arranged and service of dedication.

The committee met at 3.15 p.m. and carried out a heavy (too heavy) programme of routine work, making a number of suggestions for ratification by the members at the subsequent meeting. Tea was partaken of in King's Cafe, St. Peter's Street, and well over 100 members and friends sat down, and these represented every branch of the association's area, viz., Burton-on-Trent, Chesterfield, Derby, Hinckley, Leicester, Loughborough, Nottingham, and the Peak. Visitors also came from as far apart as Nuneaton and Leeds, Stoke-on-Trent and places too numerous to mention. The meeting followed immediately after tea, the chair being taken by the president, Mr. E. Denison Taylor, who was supported by the hon. treasurer, Mr. W. Wallace, the hon. sec., Mr. Ernest Morris, and Mrs. Chambers.

The president gave a resume of the year's work and a number of reminiscences, and congratulated Mr. Maurice Swinfield on his splendid peal performances, with the many new compositions of Stedman Triples he has conducted. He also congratulated the general hon. secretary, Mr. Ernest Morris, on the successful issue of his fine book, 'History and art of change ringing,' which he described as a veritable encyclopædia of ringing history and knowledge. He also referred to the same author's ringing feats, he having passed the 500-peal mark for the M.C.A., which no other member yet had reached.

Mr. W. Wallace then explained to the members what had been done regarding the Chambers memorial, and Mrs. Chambers very feelingly thanked the members and all concerned for their kindness and sympathy. She thought the memorials chosen to her late husband were most beautiful, and would ever be a source of help and comfort to her and an inspiring memory to the members of their late president, who had always had the association's welfare at heart. The members then stood in silence for one moment to the respected memory of their late president.

CHANGE IN FINANCIAL ARRANGEMENTS.

New members elected since the last meeting, viz., 24 ringing and 2 honorary, were duly confirmed.

The meeting also confirmed the election of the president (Mr. E. Denison Taylor) and hon. secretary (Mr. Ernest Morris) as before, but as the vice-president (Mr. J. Griffin) had left the district and had asked to be relieved, Mr. Wm. Willson was duly elected to the office. Mr. W. Wallace wished to retire from the position of hon. treasurer owing to domestic ties and removal of residence, and Mr. W. E. White, of Cotgrave, was duly elected in his place. The retiring officers were thanked for their services.

The committee's selected places for next quarterly meetings were confirmed, viz.: June, Syston; September, Staveley; January, 1932, Beeston; and the proposal to hold the next annual meeting—which will celebrate the jubilee of the association, which was formed in 1882—at Derby—its birthplace—was approved.

The report and balance sheet were passed on the proposition of Mr. W. E. White (one of the auditors), who remarked that everything was well kept, and the books all correct, the hon. treasurer and secretary having done their work well.

The question of the annual subscription and reports received a lengthy discussion, and each district sent in a report. Although the majority were in favour of a subscription of 1s. 6d. per annum and a free report, some districts were against it. A difficulty also arose of members paying 1s. as hitherto against the retrospective proposition, and it was finally proposed and carried that for 1931 subscriptions be as before, 1s., and 6d. charged for reports, but altered in (Continued in next column.)

HALSALL BELLS RECAST.

IMPROVEMENTS AT A LANCASHIRE TOWER.

The ring of six bells at St. Cuthbert's Parish Church, Halsall, Lancs., have been recast, with the addition of some 4 cwt. of metal, into a most musical ring perfectly tuned on the five-tone harmonic principle, and were rededicated on the day before Easter. The cost of the bells has been borne by the Rector, the Rev. E. L. Mather, in memory of his brother, who was killed at Ypres in 1917. In addition to the bell restoration, the old clock has been repaired and augmented to strike the Westminster quarters, a new tune playing machine installed, and the dial restored, this being the gift of Sir Wroth and Lady Lethbridge, the latter being the daughter of the late Canon Blundell, for many years the loved and respected Rector of the parish. The old clock is almost unique of its kind, having a pendulum 15 feet long, suspended at a distance from the clock itself and connected by a thin iron bar to the escapement.

The rededication of the bells and clock was performed by the Ven. Archdeacon Hawson, of Warrington, assisted by the Rector, Rev. E. L. Mather, Rev. Dr. Hayes, of Melling, the curate of Halsall (Rev. Leslie Hart), Mr. A. B. Service (licensed lay reader), etc. The service commenced at 2.45 p.m., and just before 3 p.m. the Archdeacon, clergy and choir proceeded to the tower, where the wardens requested the Archdeacon to dedicate the gifts. The actual ceremony was just completed when the beautiful Westminster chimes were heard, followed by the striking of the hour and the playing of the carillon. After a short address by the Archdeacon, the service closed with the hymn, 'Hark, hark, my soul.'

The local ringers then ascended the tower and rang a few touches, and visitors from Aughton, Southport, Sefton, Liverpool, Standish, Middleton, Penwortham and Blackburn also joined in. Tea had been provided at the Scarisbrick Arms by the kind generosity of Sir Wroth and Lady Lethbridge and the Rector. Mr. Cyril F. Johnston (of the firm of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, Croydon, who have carried out the whole of the work in connection with the bells and clock) entered the room just as tea was concluded, and gave an interesting account of the new carillon which the firm are installing at River Side Church, New York, U.S.A.

Mr. Johnston's health was drunk with musical honours, and a hearty vote of thanks to the donors of the tea was, needless to say, carried with acclamation.

Afterwards ringing was carried on by different bands till 9.30, and it was the unanimous opinion of all present that the tone and 'go' of the bells were excellent, and reflected great credit on the firm of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston and their employees. The methods rung were Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise. The weight and inscription on the bells are as follows:—

	cwt. qr. lb.
Treble.—Excito Lentus (I hurry up the slow)	4 1 9
2.—Laudo Deum Verum (I praise the true God).	4 3 23
3.—Festa, Decoro (I honour the Feast).	6 1 9
4.—Dissipo Ventos (I scatter the Winds).	7 0 3
5.—In Memoriam, Alfred Lushington Mather, Ypres, 1917.	8 0 9
6.—Defunctos Ploro (I mourn for the departed).	10 3 19

41 2 16

These inscriptions are taken from a poem by Coleridge, 'The Bells,' A.D. 1772.

On the clock dial a new inscription which mystified the parish has been written in gold letters: 'Prætereunt Imputantur.' This motto is taken from an old sundial at All Souls' College, Oxford. It means, 'They pass by and will be summed up.'

On April 8th, 720 Plain Bob Minor was rung by the following: J. Hadcock 1, T. Prescott 2, E. Blundell 3, A. J. Trappitt 4, H. Serjeant 5, A. Mawdesley (conductor) 6. The ringers of the treble and 4th are employees of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston.

The bell founders were confronted with many difficulties in their task because the ringing chamber not only housed the ringers and the ancient clock, but is now called upon to accommodate a new Westminster quarter chime mechanism and also a tune playing machine. These difficulties were surmounted by lowering the ringing room floor by 4 feet, hoisting the clock and chime mechanism on to brackets as near the ceiling as possible, and fitting winding platforms, which are hinged and can be pulled up and out of the way when not in use. The original disposition of the rope circle could not be altered as the existing bell frame is used again, and its space in the heltry is quite restricted. The ringers, however, have an excellent circle of ropes, and are not in any way hampered by the mechanical additions in the tower.

1932 to 1s. 6d. with a free report. This will come into force in January, 1932.

Mr. Wm. E. White then proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the president for presiding and for the interest he displays in the association; also to the local committee for arrangements made that day; and to Mrs. Chambers for so kindly coming to their meeting.

Further ringing and a pleasant convivial with handbells terminated a successful and pleasant meeting.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.HITCH IN REAFFILIATION WITH CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The annual meeting of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was held at Leckhampton, Cheltenham, on April 6th, nearly 100 members attending. Proceedings commenced with some ringing, and afterwards tea was served at the Malvern Inn.

The Ven. Archdeacon of Cheltenham gave the address at the service, taking for his text one which he had heard taken by the Rev. H. A. Cockey many years ago. He also read extracts from the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies' retrospect in the jubilee number of the Report.

After the service the meeting was held in the church schoolroom, the Master (Rev. E. S. Saleby) being in the chair.

The annual report of the association was in circulation on March 13th, and it is believed that this constitutes a record for its appearance so soon after the end of the financial year.

The Master's report and the secretary's report were unanimously adopted, as was the hon. treasurer's statement of accounts. The latter was very satisfactory, showing an increase throughout all sections.

The committee appointed to deal with future affiliation to the Central Council gave their report, which was referred back. This arose through the agenda of the Central Council not having appeared in 'The Ringing World' in accordance with the rules of that body, viz., approximately eight weeks before the meeting. A member of the Central Council present stated that the Council must not be 'dictated to.'

The Master said he would not permit the word 'dictated,' as there was every indication that good was being done by the association in discussing and ventilating the question of the rules of the Central Council; after all, they were suggestions.

It was decided that a peal rung at Thornbury in February, 1930, and not yet published in 'The Ringing World,' was not in accordance with the rules and could not be recorded. It was decided to form a committee to deal with the question of a national ringers' memorial to the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies.

All the officials were re-elected for the ensuing year, except the hon. secretary, whose duties are temporary until reaffiliation to the Central Council has been carried out.

The Hon. Secretary, in asking that he should not be re-elected, stated that he had done all in reason to make it possible for reaffiliation, and there was no reason why any attempt was made that day to discuss the question, as it had already been decided, and probably but for the fact that the Council's agenda had not appeared in accordance with the Council's rules, affiliation would have been established before that meeting.

All the other business was quickly disposed of, and a donation of £5 3s. was voted to the Stedman Tercentenary Fund.

This concluded the business, and the association then entertained the members to tea at the Malvern Inn, which is situated in a delightful part of Gloucestershire, and, although the weather was not of the best, to the writer and, doubtless, to all those at the meeting, it was a wonderful sight. Never before had the hills behind Leckhampton been seen by the majority of the party.

The Bristol contingent had a very happy day in spite of the inclement weather. Leaving Bristol (and a couple of their party behind), they travelled by motor coach through the gorgeous valley of Stroud, stopping for a 'pull' at Horsley, a delightfully pretty church, and then for a 'feed' and some fun at the Golden Hart, Painswick, proceeding in good time to Leckhampton.

The return journey was made through Gloucester, and home reached in good time. E. G.

KIDSGROVE BELLS RECAST.ROOM FOR TWO TREBLES.

After recasting and rehanging by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, the six bells of St. Thomas' Church, Kidsgrove, near Stoke-on-Trent, have been rededicated. The bells were originally installed soon after the accession of Queen Victoria. They have now passed once more through the furnace, and have been rehung in a cast-iron frame of steel girders, with space left for two trebles. The whole of the money required for the work was raised before the dedication service.

There was a large attendance at the ceremony, the service being conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. F. C. Llewellyn, and the rededication performed by the Rural Dean of Newcastle (Rev. J. H. L. Edwards). Immediately afterwards, the bells were rung by the local ringers, and the Doxology followed. The sermon was preached by the Rev. E. W. Hadmen (Vicar of Cobridge), who spoke of the important part bells had played in English Church life from the sixth century. Mr. J. P. Fidler represented the founders at the service. After the service, touches were rung by visiting ringers from Crewe, Chester, Farrdon, Wistaston, Pulford, Stoke, Kingsley, Bidulph, Loughborough, Lawton, Norton-in-Hales and Norton-in-the-Moors.

A public tea and meeting was afterwards held, attended by over 200 parishioners and friends, when congratulatory speeches were made and votes of thanks passed.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.REARRANGEMENT OF DISTRICTS DEFERRED.

The annual general meeting of the Norwich Diocesan Association was held at Norwich on Easter Monday. The members began the day by ringing touches in various standard methods at the Churches of St. Peter Mancroft (12), St. John de Sepulchre (8), St. Michael at Coslany (8), and All Saints (5). The executive committee held a meeting in the choir vestry of St. Peter Mancroft in the morning, when the general secretary laid before the committee suggestions that he had received for a rearrangement in the areas of the branches. The committee were of the opinion, in view of the present scheme having been in force for such a short time, that it should be given a further trial, and in the meantime the matter be referred back to the area committee to report upon.

Divine service was held in the Church of St. Peter Mancroft at 12.30 p.m., conducted by the Rev. Hugh McMullan, M.A. (Vicar). The address was given by the Rev. Canon Charles Compton Lanchester, M.A., Vicar of St. Barnabas', Heigham, who gave an interesting discourse based on Psalm xix. 3-4, 'There is neither speech nor language: but their voices are heard among them, their sound is gone out into all lands: and their words into the ends of the world.'

The luncheon was served at the Bell Hotel, the president (the Archdeacon of Norwich) being in the chair. Among those present were the Rev. R. H. O. Bankes, Mr. P. E. Sowell, Mr. Charles E. Borrett (a vice-president), Mr. Arthur L. Coleman (general secretary and treasurer), Mr. G. P. Burton (hon. auditor), Messrs. William J. Lee, F. Nolan Golden (branch secretaries), Miss Helen W. Bill, Messrs. J. F. W. C. and W. L. Duffield (members of the executive committee), and also Messrs. R. W. Cooke, Eric G. Bennett and C. E. Lovett (members of branch committees), besides representatives from Norfolk and Suffolk, making a total of 53 members.

Immediately after luncheon, there followed the business meeting. The president, in his introductory remarks before the commencement of business, quoted the following quaint eulogy of bellringing by the writers of the 'Clavis' (1788): 'Of all the athletic exercises or amusements now in practice, there are none so ranked in the circle of sciences of so noble a nature, so conducive to health, and employing so many faculties, both mental and corporeal, as that of the art of ringing. . . . And, moreover, at this time, to our knowledge there are several learned and eminent persons, both clergy and laymen of good estates, that are members of several societies of ringers, and think themselves very highly favoured that they can arrive at so great an happiness and honour.'

The Archdeacon, in moving the adoption of the annual report and balance sheet, said the association had 830 members. There were something like 40,000 bellringers in the country, so they belonged to a very noble army. There was a very privileged position, and he wanted them to be proud of it.

Mr. G. P. Burton moved the re-election of the Archdeacon of Norwich as president, and the motion, on being put to the meeting, was carried with enthusiasm.

The vice-presidents were all re-elected, as were Mr. Arthur L. Coleman (as general secretary and treasurer), and Mr. G. P. Burton (as hon. auditor). Messrs. George Bailey, William E. Bason and Chas. E. Lovett were elected to fill the vacancies on the executive committee, the remaining members being re-elected.

The General Secretary moved the election of six new members, the re-election of three old members, and the ratification of one belfry election.

On the motion of the President, a vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar of St. Peter Mancroft and to the incumbents of St. John de Sepulchre, St. Michael at Coslany, and All Saints for allowing the use of their bells, and also to the Rev. Canon C. E. Lanchester for his address at the service.

This concluded the business meeting. The members afterwards dispersed to the various belfries for further ringing until the evening. The day being gloriously fine added much to the enjoyment of those attending, a total of between 70 and 80 members being present during the day.

OLD HALESWORTH RINGER'S DEATH.

The death occurred on March 26th of Mr. James Howard, of Halesworth, Suffolk, who passed away at the age of 71 years. He had spent all his life in the town, and had been a member of the Church Council and a sidesman at the Parish Church for many years past. He had belonged to the Halesworth Ringers Society since 1878, and been its treasurer for 35 years. He had assisted on over fifty occasions in the ringing for the birthdays of the sovereigns of England and had taken part in 38 peals. Mr. Howard was also for a long period a member of the Halesworth Company of the 1st Volunteer Battalion Suffolk Regt., in which he was for many years an N.C.O., attaining the rank of colour-sergeant, and for some time being its secretary.

There was a large and representative gathering at the funeral, which took place amid many marks of respect. The Halesworth ringers, who also sent a wreath, were represented by Messrs. F. C. Lambert (secretary), W. Pierce, L. Hammond, A. H. Took, J. O'Neill and K. Kemp. In the evening the bells of the Parish Church were rung muffled.

A WRINGTON BELL RECAST.IMPROVEMENTS IN A FAMOUS SOMERSET TOWER

The fifth bell in the peal (the treble in the old six) at Wrington, Somerset, had for some time been cracked in the crown, and was very dull in tone compared with the others. The bell has now been recast, making a big improvement in the peal. The new bell is a perfect splice with the others. Visitors to this glorious tower will recall the excessive volume of sound in the ringing chamber, which is immediately below the bells. This has now been cured by fitting a deadening ceiling and sound absorbent material, while movable hatches have been fitted in the weight shaft. The sound in the ringing chamber is now all that can be wished.

The cost of the work has been borne by Mrs. R. E. Marshall, of Pierce Hay, Wrington, and her brother, Major J. H. B. Hesse. The local ringers also made a substantial contribution towards the cost of the sound deadening.

A bronze inscription plate at the foot of the tower records the recasting as follows:—

'The 5th bell in the peal of ten was recast A.D. 1931 as the gift of Rose Ethilend Marshall and John Harley Bridges Hesse to the loved and honoured memory of Lieut.-Col John Valentine Hesse, J.P., late 58th Regt. Foot, and his wife, Ellen McGhie (Bridges), also Edward Dowell Marshall, M.A., I.E.S., late Principal, Rangoon College, Burma, of Pierce Hay, Wrington, and son-in-law of the above. 1890-1927.'

On Easter Monday afternoon the bells were reopened by the local band, assisted by Major Hesse and Mr. A. A. Hughes, and the ringers were afterwards very kindly entertained to tea at the Golden Lion (of happy memory) by Mrs. Marshall. The local ringers are very enthusiastic, and are to be congratulated on the good progress they have made in change ringing.

The work of recasting and the fitting of the new deadening floor has been carried out by Mears and Stainbank, of the Whitechapel Foundry.

WORCESTERSHIRE AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION.NEXT YEAR'S JUBILEE CELEBRATION.

The attendance at the annual meeting at Worcester on Easter Monday was very good, in fact, larger than for some years, and the number of young members was very noticeable and encouraging. The various rings in the city were set going early in the morning to the tune of methods ranging from Grandsire Doubles to London Surprise Major, Cambridge Royal and Stedman Cinques, but the opportunity of ringing at St. Helen's Church was much missed, the bells there being unringable with a badly cracked tenor.

The business meeting in the Cathedral Chapter House was presided over, as for many years past, by the Dean, the Very Rev. W. Moore Ede, D.D., who always extends a cordial welcome to the association.

It was decided to make a new form of membership, to be called honorary life, and to consist of those who, in the opinion of the committee, had done good service, either in office or in long and hard-working membership, and who would then be free of any further subscription.

An addition to the rules on the lines of the Central Council resolution was unanimously agreed to.

A satisfactory report was received from the librarian, Mr. C. W. Cooper, and Mr. H. Mason, having kindly offered to present copies of 'The Bell News' covering 36 years, was sincerely thanked.

Considerable discussion took place in regard to the best way to celebrate the jubilee of this association next year, the first meeting having been held at Bromsgrove on April 10th, 1882. It was eventually decided to arrange a jubilee festival on Saturday, April 9th, at Bromsgrove, the annual meeting to be held as usual at Worcester on Easter Monday.

A proposal by Mr. T. J. Salter to increase the bells at Bromsgrove to a peal of twelve was not carried.

The officers were all re-elected, although the secretary, having completed 25 years in that office, tendered his resignation. Mr. F. J. Johnson, of Hinton, was elected a vice-president.

Owing to the meeting not starting on time, it had to be adjourned until after the service (which was held in the Cathedral, and an excellent address given by the Rev. G. W. Webb) and the tea, when a sub-committee was appointed to arrange a competition for a set of ten handbells, which was most generously offered for that purpose by a member.

A grant of £5 was made towards the cost of re-hanging the bells at Grimley Parish Church, and the meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Dean and the various incumbents who, by kindly allowing the use of their bells, had materially assisted in making the occasion both successful and enjoyable.

EGERTON, KENT.—On Thursday, April 9th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes) in 43½ mins.: W. Missing 1, F. Good (Charing) 2, L. Homewood 3, A. Waddington 4, A. Missing 5, C. Rains 6. A DELAYED AGENDA.

It is a little unfortunate that the agenda of the next meeting of the Central Council, which should have been published in the week before Easter, has not yet made its appearance. The rules provide that it shall be advertised at least eight weeks before the meeting, the object being that the many associations which hold their annual meetings between that time and Whitsun Tuesday may have the opportunity of considering and expressing an opinion upon any of the matters which are likely to come before the Council. No reason has been made public why the course prescribed by the rules has not been followed this year, and associations and members of the Council await with interest an explanation of the delay. Consideration of the Central Council's agenda has appeared as an item in the business of more than one association since Easter, but it has had to be passed over for lack of information.

The rule providing for the early publication of the agenda is a good one, if the Council really desires the associations to take an interest in its work. The majority of the more important associations hold their annual meetings between Easter and Whitsun Tuesday, and unless they can know what the Council propose to do, so that they can discuss it beforehand, the greater part of their interest is lost, because it is nearly twelve months before they can consider any of the subjects, however important these may be. Moreover, though the representatives are free agents to vote as they please in the Council, there are many of them who like to know beforehand what their members think on leading questions.

There is one other matter to which in this connection we should like to refer. In view of the importance of the question, it would have been a good plan if the Standing Committee had been able to publish before the meeting the exact amendments to the Council's rules which it is proposed to recommend, under the resolution passed last year. The minutes of a meeting of the Standing Committee have been published in our columns, from which it appears that the revision of rules has been discussed, but the conclusions arrived at were expressed in such general terms that the extent of the committee's recommendations is hardly clear, and unless the Council has before it specific amendments it is not likely to carry the matter much further at its next meeting. There are some associations, at any rate, who want to see the relationship between the Council and those who have been asked to pass resolutions of 'affiliation' put on to a proper footing, and any suggested changes in constitution cannot be adequately discussed without definite recommendations which the members ought to have the opportunity of considering before the meeting.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

MEMORIAL TO MR. F. A. MILNE—CHANGE OF PLAN.

The annual meeting of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held on Saturday week, at St. James', Clerkenwell, London. In the afternoon, ringing took place at St. Giles', Cripplegate, as well as at St. James' Church, and a hearty service was conducted by the Rector of Clerkenwell, who gave an excellent address which he based generally upon the special lesson from the 33rd chapter of Ezekiel, comparing the warning of the bells in these days with the warning of the trumpets of old, and the ringers with the watchmen. He paid a tribute to the work done by members of the Middlesex County Association in instructing the young ringers at St. James' Church. The lesson was read by Mr. J. A. Trollope.

Tea was served in the Crypt, and was followed by the business meeting, at which, in the absence of the president (Rev. W. P. Cole-Sheane), who is abroad, the chair was taken by Mr. W. Pickworth (vice-president), who was supported by Mr. J. A. Trollope (vice-president), Messrs. C. T. Coles and W. H. Hollier (joint hon. secretaries), the Master (Mr. W. Pye), the district officers and members of the committee, and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Johnston (Croydon).

The committee's report was adopted, as was also the balance sheet, which showed receipts amounting to £25 5s., and expenditure to £24 15s. 5d., leaving a balance at the end of the year of £30 10s. 8d., compared with £30 1s. 1d. on January 1st.

In their annual report the committee said that in electing a successor to the late Mr. F. A. Milne, the members, in unanimously choosing the Rev. W. P. Cole-Sheane as their president, had done well for the association. Since his ringers at Twickenham became affiliated he had taken a great interest in the art, and in this he set an excellent example to the clergy generally. 'As Rural Dean of Hampton,' says the report, 'we may confidently rely on him to look after the bells in his deanery, and as our president we may rest assured that the interests of the association will be his first consideration. The revival of interest shown in the meetings in recent years continued during 1930, which is most encouraging to those responsible for arranging them.'

HIGHEST YET.

'We are glad to record,' continued the report, 'a satisfactory increase in our membership, which now stands at 875, the highest number yet attained by the association. During the year we elected 3 honorary and 73 ringing members in the N. and E. District, and 1 honorary and 32 ringing members in the S. and W. District. An entirely new band has been formed at St. Andrew's, Enfield, and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fletcher are acting as instructors with satisfactory results. This tower has become affiliated to the association, as also has the tower of St. Lawrence, Brentford. The band at St. Mark's, Dalston, after an anxious time, has now become firmly established under the leadership of Mr. C. Randall. The efforts of Mr. G. Kilby are bearing fruit at Ruislip, where progress is being made. The ringers at All Saints', Poplar, have, however, signified their desire to withdraw from membership, and that tower has consequently been withdrawn from the list of affiliated towers. The total number of peals rung was 69, six of which were rung on hand-bells. The peals on church bells were rung in 33 different towers. In all, some 187 members took part in the peals, ten of whom rang their first peals, whilst there were 84 other members who accomplished something new. The number of conductors was 25, a rather higher figure than usual, and Mr. G. R. Goodship appeared in this list for the first time. The usual record of bell restoration work is a small one. The ten bells at St. Dunstan's, Stepney, have been rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who have also returned and rehung the peal of eight bells at St. Lawrence Jewry. The contract for the augmentation of the Isclworth bells has been placed with the Whitechapel firm, and we have every reason to hope that the long looked for peal of ten in that part of the county will soon be in existence. A movement is also on foot to add two trebles to the Harrow Weald peal of six bells. Grateful thanks are given to all whose work as instructors is doing so much to keep the association going. This sort of work goes on apparently unnoticed, but it is none the less appreciated in spite of that. The self-imposed task brings its own reward, the goodwill of one's friends. We once more thank our hon. secretaries for their untiring work on behalf of the association. To repay them, let us not forget that they, who arrange the many meetings, also appreciate a good attendance, and then let us do our best to attend.'

The officers were re-elected, and Master Ernest W. Pye, son of Mr. William Pye, was elected a member of the association.

The Central Council's resolution inviting all associations to embody in their rules a rule to the effect that they should be affiliated to the Council and loyally abide by the rules and decisions of the Council, was considered, and its acceptance was proposed by Mr. Trollope. The association, he said, was already affiliated, and the question of abiding by its rules and decisions really meant very little. There was little that the Council could do that was in any way mandatory. It did not tell the associations that they should or should not do this, that or the other, but what the Council really did was to set standards, and there was evidence that its recommendations were accepted, in the long run, by the Exercise, and they were entirely for the good of the Exercise.—Mr. J. Parker seconded the motion, which was agreed to.

MEMORIAL TO THE LATE PRESIDENT.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles) reminded the members that at the last annual meeting it was decided to erect a memorial to the late president, Mr. F. A. Milne. The matter was referred to the committee, who in turn appointed a sub-committee to deal with it. They approached the Rector of Barnet with the idea of placing a mural tablet in that church, somewhat similar to the one placed there in memory of Mr. A. T. King a few years ago. The Rector fell in with their wishes, and drafted the inscription. A design and estimate were obtained from a sculptor, but when the faculty was applied for the Diocesan Art Advisory Committee withheld their consent to it unless the whole thing was recast, in wording, design, and lettering by 'a competent craftsman.' As it was impossible to get a faculty without the consent of the Advisory Committee, and as they did not feel inclined to pay fees for 'a competent craftsman' as well as the cost of the tablet and faculty, they felt compelled to find some other way out of the difficulty. The Rector had now agreed to a proposal to place in the tower a peal tablet recording the last peal rung by Mr. Milne, almost exactly eight years before his death, with a footnote to say that the tablet was placed there to his memory. Such a tablet would not require the sanction of the Advisory Committee.

The suggestion was agreed to, and the sub-committee empowered to get on with the work.

The hon. secretary appealed to those members who had not already subscribed to the fund to do so, and it was resolved that any balance needed should come out of the central fund of the association.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Twickenham, where the president of the association is Vicar.

The next business was to have been a discussion on the Central Council's agenda for the Liverpool meeting, but, as this has not yet been published, although according to rule it was due in the week before Easter, nothing could be done in the matter.

One or two points were, however, raised. Mr. Mayno suggested that the Council should distinguish between record peals of Maximus and Cinques, but it was pointed out that this was already done in the Council's Analysis of Peals. Mr. Roberts urged that some rule should be introduced to ensure that before record peals were attempted steps should be taken to check the composition to avoid another fiasco like that at Painewick.

Mr. J. Parker pointed out that no one could force a composer or conductor to reveal his figures, but it was up to the conductor to make sure the peal was true. If he was silly enough to ring twelve hours and then find out it was false, that was his fault.

Mr. Roberts said in the interests of the rest of the band he thought the figures should be submitted to a competent authority.

Mr. Parker: If I composed a twenty thousand of Cambridge Maximus I should not let Mr. Pye see it (laughter).

Mr. Coles: It may be news to Mr. Parker to know that we have already got a 24,000 (renewed laughter). Mr. Coles added that if a band liked to chance a composition and run the risk of finding out afterwards that it was false, that was their 'funeral'—the humiliation and disappointment were theirs.

No action was taken on the suggestion.

The hon. secretary read a letter from the Editor of 'The Ringing World' with regard to the Stedman Tercentenary, and Mr. J. S. Goldsmith spoke upon the subject. The meeting, on the motion of Mr. J. Parker, seconded by Mr. E. Maurice Atkins, voted a sum of £5 towards the fund for the restoration of St. Benet's bells, the central fund to be reimbursed from the district funds.

The proceedings concluded with a vote of thanks to the officers, proposed by Mr. J. Parker, and, on the motion of the chairman, a vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens of Clerkenwell, the Rector of St. Giles', Cripplegate, the Rector of St. Sepulchre's, Holborn, the organist, the ringers and steeplekeeper at Clerkenwell, and the caterers.

Many of those present then enjoyed further ringing at St. James' Church, while others visited St. Sepulchre's. The ringing at the various churches during the afternoon and evening included London, Bristol, Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Major, Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Major and Royal and Cambridge Surprise Royal and Maximus.

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

The members of the Barnsley and District Association held their monthly meeting at Darfield on Saturday, April 11th. Considering the lovely weather and the good 'go' of these beautiful bells, the attendance was very poor. Only Cawthorne, Ecclesfield, Felkirk, Wath and Darfield were represented, but those present were able to put in some good practice in various methods.

After tea, served in schoolroom, the business meeting was presided over by the curate (Rev. H. Y. Nacker). Three new members were elected, and Felkirk chosen for next place of meeting.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and to the ladies for the excellent tea served concluded the business. Ringing was then continued.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.AFFILIATION WITH CENTRAL COUNCIL APPROVED.

The annual meeting held in Birmingham on Saturday was sparsely attended by members from Allesley, Chilvers Coton, Lillington, Nuncaton and Warwick. The bells of St. Chad's Cathedral and Bishop Ryder's Church were available during the afternoon, and ringing in various methods was accomplished before tea. This was partaken of in the school attached to Bishop Ryder's Church. The Guild was pleased to welcome Mr. T. H. Reeves and Mr. W. C. Dowding, of St. Martin's Guild, to tea.

The business meeting followed the tea, and Mr. H. Argyle was voted to the chair. The reports for the years 1929-30 were distributed, and the balance sheet shown therein was passed. The hon. secretary's report, giving the Guild's total membership as 287, was taken as read.

The question as to the Guild's affiliation to the Central Council was brought up, and Mr. F. W. Perrens proposed that a new rule be added, viz.: 'That this Guild be affiliated to the Central Council of Church Bellringers, and loyally abide by the rules and decisions thereof.'—This was seconded by Mr. W. Stote and carried unanimously.

With regard to Stedman's tercentenary, all the members were in favour of making a grant towards the restoration of the bells of St. Benet's Church, Cambridge, but in order to adhere to Rule 16 ('That all members moving resolutions having a call upon the funds of the Guild for outside objects shall give at least three months' notice'), Mr. F. W. Perrens gave notice of motion that he would bring the question up at the July quarterly meeting, when it is hoped that a definite sum will be allocated.

The officers were re-elected en bloc, except the president, Rev. J. L. White, who desired to be relieved of the position, as he could not devote as much time as he would like to the Guild.—Rev. J. A. B. Davies, Vicar of Chilvers Coton, was elected to the office.

The July quarterly meeting was fixed for Stratford-on-Avon, and the May and June monthly meetings for Bickenhill and Wolvey respectively.

Four new members were elected, and the election of one prior to a peal was ratified.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Vicar, to the ladies who prepared the tea, and to Mr. James George, who had made all the arrangements for the use of the bells and for tea.

Ringling was resumed at Bishop Ryder's Church for a short time during the evening. D. E. L.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.DEVIZES BRANCH BEGIN SERIES OF LECTURES.

The Devizes Branch quarterly meeting was held at the Church of St. Michael and All Angels, Melksham, on Saturday, April 11th. This tower contains a very fine peal of eight bells, which were recast and rehung in 1925. The tenor weighs about 18 cwt. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m. The business meeting was held in the Parish Hall. The chair was taken by Mr. C. D. Heginbotham, who gave a hearty welcome to all and especially the visitors. Three new members from Melksham were elected to the Guild.

It was provisionally decided to hold the next three meetings as follows: At West Lavington in May, Steeple Ashton in June, and the half-yearly at Trowbridge first Saturday in July, but Steeple Ashton is now being substituted for West Lavington.

Mr. E. F. White, of Warminster, was unanimously elected as vice-chairman of the branch, the vacancy being caused by the death of Mr. B. L. Cook, of Bratton, in January last.

The chairman reminded those present that the annual festival of the Guild would be held at Sherborne on Saturday, May 16th.

The usual vote of thanks to the Vicar brought the meeting to a close, and the tea followed, the following towers being represented at the tables: Devizes (St. John's, St. Mary's and St. James'), Southbroom, Warminster, Rowde, Bratton, Bradford-on-Avon (Holy Trinity), Trowbridge and Melksham. Ringing visitors were also present from Swindon, Bathford, Weston and Bath.

After the tea, the first of the branch lectures on 'Ringing' was given by Mr. C. F. Andrews, of Trowbridge. Mr. Andrews suggested these lectures to the branch at the beginning of the year, and this one, being the first of a series, was of special interest to the young ringers. It was very evident, however, that all were deeply interested, everyone being of the opinion that this departure is decidedly a step in the right direction. Mr. Andrews was heartily thanked for his very interesting lecture, and arrangements will be made for the next of the series to be given as early as possible.

It was the wish of the Vicar, the Rev. B. Aston, that the Guild service should be held with the usual evening service at 6 p.m. This was conducted by the Vicar, who gave a short address to the ringers. The singing was hearty; in fact, the whole service was one that made ringers feel proud that they were privileged to take part in it.

After the service, ringing was continued till about 8 p.m. Touches of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Plain Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples were rung during the afternoon and evening.

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY. MORE SUPPORT FROM GUILDS.

The proposal to celebrate the tricentenary of Fabian Stedman's birth by restoring the bells on which he rang at St. Benet's Church, Cambridge, is meeting with widespread approval. Wherever the subject is mentioned ringers hail with pleasure the opportunity of doing something to commemorate the interesting event, on the lines suggested in 'The Ringing World.'

In addition to the grants and provisional votes by associations announced last week towards the fund for the restoration of St. Benet's bells, the Guildford Diocesan Guild, at their annual meeting on Saturday, voted £5 5s., and the Warwickshire Guild, which also met on Saturday, accepted notice of a motion to make a grant at the next quarterly meeting. In addition, the Suffolk Guild has requested the hon. secretary to take steps to assist the fund among Suffolk towers when the time arrives to take action.

In the meantime, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn has kindly undertaken to act as hon. treasurer of the fund until the meeting of the Central Council.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The report of the annual meeting of the Guildford Diocesan Guild will appear in our next issue.

Two additional bells are to be placed in the tower of Dunstable, Beds, as a memorial to the late Canon W. W. C. Baker, president of the Bedfordshire Association.

The third instalment of Mr. J. A. Trollope's history of the College Youths will be published next week.

Next Monday is the anniversary of three noteworthy events in the history of the College Youths. Seventy years ago on that day, they rang the celebrated 8,580 Stedman Cinques at Cornhill, in 1868 they rang the 15,840 Kent Treble Bob Major at Bethnal Green, and in 1901 St. Stephen's, Westminster, band scored, for the first time, three Surprise peals in one day.

In this connection it is interesting to note that in April, 1800 (we have not got the exact date), the Cumberland Youths attempted to ring 15,136 Oxford Treble Bob at Edmonton. In the ninth hour, 'an unlucky accident befel Mr. George Gross, the composer of the peal. When making an attempt to slacken his knee-buckle his leg entangled in the coil of the rope, by which he was elevated to a considerable height and, thence falling down on his head, he broke his collar bone. Had it not been for this accident, no doubt the feat would have been accomplished, and the performers crowned with perpetual honour.'

The peal of Minor at Macclesfield, Cheshire, on April 18th, was the outcome of a quick change of venue. The peal was started at St. James' Church, Sutton, but owing to illness nearby ringing had to be stopped. The Vicar of Christ Church, Macclesfield, was approached and readily granted permission, with the result that another and successful attempt was made. The band are indebted to the Rev. S. J. F. Sharples for allowing the use of the bells at a moment's notice.

Mr. J. A. Trollope has been appointed one of the churchwardens of Christ Church, Ealing.

Mr. E. A. Young, hon. secretary of the Central Council, who has been spending the winter in South Africa, is expected to arrive in England about May 1st. He is returning via Egypt and the Mediterranean.

Two young people have scored their first peal at Handsworth, Sheffield, where they took part in a peal of Bob Major. They were Miss Mildred Higgins, aged 15, who rang the treble, and John Gilbert, who is only 12, and rang the 2nd. They both performed well.

We understand that as a result of the dedication and ringers' opening of Hinton bells last Saturday, a new menu is suggested for future Johnson dinners. It runs something like this: Syson turkey, Loughborough salmon, banana sandwich, and—it's a secret, but it's a beverage, and the two Johns (of the aforesaid turkey and Spiced Minor fame respectively) will probably tell you if you apply to them.

Is it a fact that Hinton 2nd (the ringer's bell) is in danger of a fate similar to that which befel a former Worcester Cathedral treble? Someone fell in love with it as being a perfect little bell, but was informed he was only entitled to his particular share of it. (Apologies to Mr. F. E. Dawe.)

And what about those coats? In spite of last Saturday's large gathering, Hinton is too small a place in which to lose things—in fact, it is without precedent. But if any gentleman who arrived home with the wrong coat will communicate with any other in a like predicament, perhaps a satisfactory exchange can be effected.

FOUNDER OF THE BARRON BELL TRUST.

MEMORIAL BELLS AT GREAT HOLLAND.

Last Saturday will be remembered as a red-letter day in the history of Great Holland, Essex. It was the occasion of the dedication by the Lord Bishop of Chelmsford of a new ring of eight bells placed in the tower of the Parish Church in memory of Miss Emma Barron, who by a bequest founded a trust for the provision and restoration of church bells. Long before the time fixed for service, 3 p.m., the church was filled to its full capacity. Many were unable to gain admittance, and remained standing in the porch. The service commenced with 'The Old Hundredth' as a processional. The service was taken by the Rev. J. B. Barton, M.A., Rector. Canon R. B. Tollington, D.D., Rural Dean, read the lesson from Numbers x. 1-10. Immediately after the dedication by the Bishop, a few rounds were rung by eight officers of the Essex Association as the Bishop and clergy returned to the chancel. The hymn, 'Lifted high within the steeple, all our bells a-set on high,' was then sung.

The Bishop, in his sermon, referred to the use of bells, and expressed a hope that their message would have an inspiring effect upon all who heard them. He thanked from the pulpit the trustees of the Barron Bell Trust for their splendid gift to the church and parish.

'Hark on high the joyful music! Hark the concert of the bells!' was sung as the collection was taken.

As the large congregation were leaving, a touch of 448 Superlative Surprise Major was rung by: R. W. Stannard 1, C. H. Howard 2, W. J. Nevard 3, E. J. Butler 4, F. Ridgwell 5, G. Green 6, W. Keeble (conductor) 7, A. A. Saunders 8. For the first time in its history, from the massive and lofty Tudor tower a peal of bells rung in changes was pouring out its music to the village and fields around and the wide expanse of surging sea.

The ninety visiting ringers, representing thirty-nine parishes, were entertained to tea in the Parish Hall. The Bishop and Rector were present and expressed their pleasure and thanks to all who had come, some from very long distances, to make the day a success.

Mr. A. W. Eldred, a trustee of the Barron Bell Trust, was also present, and expressed his appreciation of the Essex Association and its work in the diocese.

Mr. C. H. Howard (Master) thanked the Bishop for his encouraging references to the ringers in his sermon, and to the Rector for his invitation and warm welcome to the ringers, and for the gentlemen who so kindly provided the tea.

The new bells are a very musical ring, with a tenor of 15 cwt. hung in an iron frame, with ball bearings and the latest improved fittings. The tone and 'go' were considered by all to be perfect, and reflect great credit on the firm of Messrs. J. Taylor and Co. Mr. Denison Taylor, the head of the firm, was present, and not a few took the opportunity of congratulating him on his success in producing such an excellent peal.

The name of the founders appears on each bell, with the following lettering on the tenor:—

Glory to God in the Highest. The peal of eight bells is placed in the Tower of Great Holland Church by the Barron Bell Trust in memory of the Founder of this Trust, Miss Emma Barron, of Great Holland, who died March 1st, 1930, aged 93 years.

The two mediæval bells which hung in the old frame are being retained. One is still used as the five-minute bell. It is hoped that a band of ringers will shortly be formed in the parish, several ringers in the adjoining parishes having expressed their willingness to help.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

NEWBURY BRANCH.

The spring meeting of the Newbury Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at Kintbury on Saturday, April 18th, when, despite the weather, about twenty members attended during the afternoon and evening from Bucklebury, Brightwalton, Highclere, Newbury, Oxford, Thatcham and Kintbury. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. R. G. Hughes), who gave a very interesting address, Mrs. Hughes presiding at the organ.

Tea was served at the Dundas Arms by Mr. Godson, and the business meeting followed, over which the Rev. C. R. G. Hughes presided in the absence of the chairman of the branch (the Rev. H. Bonsey). The summer meeting was fixed for East Isley on Saturday, June 20th, a combined practice to be held at Thatcham on Saturday, May 2nd.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rev. Hughes for his address and welcome to the ringers, to Mrs. Hughes for presiding at the organ, and to Mr. Godson for providing the tea, on the motion of the hon. secretary (Mr. H. W. Curtis), seconded by Mr. W. Mathews. The tower was again visited, and the following methods rung: Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Minor.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

THE RESTORATION OF STEDMAN'S BELLS.

The annual meeting of the Ely Diocesan Association took place at Cambridge on Easter Monday, when the bells of Great St. Mary's (12), the Church of Our Lady (8), Great St. Andrew's (8) and the Church of St. Benedict (Stedman's tower) (6), were kindly placed at the disposal of the members. Divine service, which was well attended, was held in Great St. Mary's Church, and conducted by the Vicar, Rev. E. C. Essex, who gave an excellent address.

The annual meeting was held prior to the service in the vestry of Great St. Mary's, and presided over by the Vicar. Although poorly attended, a good deal of useful business was transacted in the limited time allowed for the meeting. A letter of apology was read from Rev. A. H. F. Boughey regretting his inability to attend, and expressing his best wishes for a successful meeting.

The secretary's annual report and balance sheet, which showed a balance in hand of £22 10s. 7d., was adopted. Among the items mentioned in the report were the recasting and rehanging of the old peal at All Saints', St. Ives, Hunts, and the rehanging and augmentation of the peal at St. Andrew's, Whittlesey. There were 29 peals rung during the year, 4 in Major methods and 25 in Minor methods.

Special reference was also made to the proposed scheme to restore St. Benet's bells in connection with Fabian Stedman's tercentenary.

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: General secretary and treasurer, Rev. B. H. T. Drake; district secretaries, Archdeaconry of Wisbech and Marshland Branch E. Barker, Archdeaconry of Ely Miss K. Willers, Archdeaconry of Huntingdon Miss D. Clarke; and auditor, Mr. T. R. Dennis.

Certain rules were amended, and in future the district branches will elect their officers prior to the annual meeting.

A proposal to erect a memorial to the late Rev. H. B. Woolley, for many years district secretary of the Hunts Archdeaconry, in Longstanton Church, was discussed, and it was agreed to act jointly with the Cambridge University Guild. A small sub-committee was appointed to report at a later date, when the fund was complete. Mr. C. W. Woolley expressed his thanks to the association, and generously offered on behalf of his family to defray the cost of the necessary faculty.

Rev. E. C. Essex was elected as an hon. member of the association.

A letter from the Editor of 'The Ringing World' was read concerning the proposed restoration of the bells of St. Benedict's, Cambridge, and the sum of £10 was voted from the association funds for this purpose when the scheme is launched.

Special reference was made to the serious illness of Mr. John Taylor, who has served on the Diocesan Committee for over thirty years, and has seen service in Great St. Mary's choir for over forty years, and the chairman promised to convey the meeting's good wishes for his recovery when he next visited him in Addenbrooke's Hospital.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the incumbents for the use of the bells, the chairman, steeplekeeper, and officers of the association. During the morning, afternoon and evening the bells were kept going to Stedman Triples and Caters and Major methods at the 8 and 12 bell towers, and Stedman Doubles and Cambridge Minor at St. Benet's.

The next annual meeting will be held at Cambridge on Easter Monday, 1932.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

BELL RESTORATIONS IN GRIMSBY DISTRICT.

A summer-like day brought together a very good gathering of the Grimsby District at Winterton on Saturday, April 11th. Towers represented were Bigby, Barrow-on-Humber, Thornton-Curtis, Scunthorpe, Burton-on-Stather, Elsham, Uleby, and St. Andrew's, Grimsby, the Rev. J. H. Park, of Thornton-Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Bramwell, of Grimsby, and the local ringers being also present. Rev. H. Malkinson, the Vicar, conducted the service, and gave a hearty welcome to the members.

The peal of six bells in Winterton tower badly needs restoration, and an effort is to be made during the year to carry this into effect.

Twenty-six members and friends sat down to tea at a local hotel. Owing to the unfortunate illness of the president (the Rev. H. T. Parry), the Vicar of Winterton presided over the business meeting. A collection for the Grimsby District bell fund amounted to 9s.

If the next meeting, which should be held at Caistor on Saturday, May 16th, cannot be arranged, it was decided to hold it at Burton-on-Stather on that date.

A proposal was carried that the district meetings should be advertised in 'The Ringing World.'

The Rev. J. H. Park, of Thornton-Curtis, spoke of the great help the members had given him in starting the fund for the restoration of Thornton-Curtis bells, which work is to be put in hand at once.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, for conducting the service, and for his very welcome and instructive address; to Mr. H. Hall for presiding at the organ; to Mr. H. Rushby, of Grimsby, for reading the lesson; to the caterers and to those who had made arrangements, concluded the meeting, after which members returned to the belfry, when members from Lincoln Cathedral joined them.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION. GRATIFYING FINANCIAL POSITION.

There was a large gathering of ringers at Tonbridge on Easter Monday, on the occasion of the annual meeting of the Kent County Association. The service, held at noon, was conducted by the Vicar of Tonbridge (Rev. Canon Stuart H. Clark), and the lesson was read by the Rev. J. Cropper (Penshurst). The preacher was the Lord Bishop of Rochester, whose address was based on the words, 'Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together' (Hebrews x. 25).

After the service a company numbering about 200 sat down to luncheon at the Carlton Cafe, the Bishop presiding, supported by Canon Clark, the Rev. J. Cropper and the Rev. F. L. Schreiber (Shipbourne).

Mr. F. White (Cranbrook) proposed 'The health of the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishops and clergy of the county.' They were, Mr. White said, very glad to have the Bishop of Rochester present with them, and hoped that the hearty reception he had received would encourage his Lordship to visit them again. They also welcomed the Vicar of Tonbridge, Mr. Cropper and Mr. Schreiber. The clergy, continued Mr. White, took a keen interest in the association. They never neglected bellfries. The relationships between the clergy and the bellringers were invariably happy.

The Bishop of Rochester, replying, said he could not speak to them as a bellringer, for he had never had the opportunity of learning that art. He was, however, keenly interested in campanology. The Archbishop of Canterbury had expressed his gratification at being able to be present with them at their last annual gathering, which showed he was interested in the association. Mr. White had referred to the excellent relationship which existed between the clergy and the bellringers. He (the speaker) was sure that this was so. The clergy knew what great work the bellringers were performing. The Church owed a very great debt of gratitude to her bellringers. Whenever it was possible, he made a point of visiting the belfry to speak to the ringers (applause). He wanted the people of the Church to realise what good the bellringers were doing. They wanted to do all they could to further the cause of bellringing. He thanked them for the fine reception they had given him, and wished the association every success (loud applause).

The Rev. J. Cropper, responding for the clergy, said he had one advantage over the Bishop, for he (the speaker) had been a bellringer. He was quite certain that he was expressing the wish of all the clergy when he said the bellringers were welcome to visit all the towers in the county (hear, hear).

THE BUSINESS MEETING.

Following the luncheon, the business meeting was held, the Rev. J. Cropper presiding. The Bishop of Rochester was compelled to leave early, and made his exit amid musical honours.

Mr. F. M. Mitchell, honorary secretary, read a list of apologies for absence, which included one from the late hon. secretary, the Rev. Canon Helmore.

In submitting the annual report, Mr. Mitchell said the jubilee gathering, held at Canterbury last year, was a red-letter day in the history of the association. They had lost several prominent members through death. Their membership was being well maintained, there being two life members, fourteen honorary members and twenty honorary life members added during the year. The number of peals rung in 1930 on six, eight and ten bells was 134—a big increase on last year's total. The association was in a satisfactory financial position. The statement of accounts showed a credit balance of £47 6s. The belfry repairs account showed a balance of £117 17s. 8d., and £25 had been paid to five churches during the year. Out of the Benevolent Fund £16 was paid for distressed cases during the year, and there was a credit balance of £158 2s. 6d. The invested funds amounted to £547 3s. 8d.

The report and accounts were adopted.

The Rev. F. L. Schreiber said that the Bishop was very much interested in the Twelve Churches Fund. As the association was in such a flourishing financial condition, he thought they could make a grant towards the Twelve Churches Fund.

It was decided to refer the matter to a future meeting.

On the proposition of Mr. W. Steed (Tonbridge) all the officers were unanimously re-elected.

Mr. J. Steddy (Edenbridge) proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Mitchell, who, he said, had put in a great amount of work for the association during the past year. The large gathering they had present was proof of some of his activities. Their thanks were also due to the other officials (applause).

The motion was carried with enthusiasm, the secretary briefly replying. It was resolved that the secretary should write to Canon Helmore expressing regret at his absence.

Mr. E. H. Lewis, president of the Central Council, spoke of the proposed memorial to Fabian Stedman. The committee earlier in the day had voted £5 5s. provisionally to the Memorial Fund.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the clergy who had placed their towers at the disposal of members for ringing that day. These churches were SS. Peter and Paul's, Tonbridge, St. Peter's, Tunbridge Wells, St. Mary's, Chiddingstone, St. John-the-Baptist's, Penshurst, St. Nicholas', Sevenoaks, St. Mary's, Speldhurst, and St. Giles', Shipbourne.

A FRIENDLY INVASION.

CLEVELAND ASSOCIATION'S SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT TADCASTER.

The Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association held their Easter Monday meeting at Tadcaster, and a very successful gathering it proved to be. Tadcaster is rather a long way from the Cleveland area, but the excursion from the usual haunts proved to be a very fortunate innovation. The Middlesbrough ringers attended in force, the occasion being their annual outing. Members and friends also attended from Sharrow, Ripon, Thirsk, Headingley (Leeds), Armley (Leeds), Bradford, Pontefract, York Minster and Huntingdon. The local band were, of course, in full attendance.

The Middlesbrough band had the pleasure of a tour through John Smith's breweries (and, incidentally, of sampling the brews) before lunch.

The bells were raised in peal at 2.30, and were kept going to touches of Superlative, Double Norwich, Stedman Triples, Treble Bob, Plain Bob and Grandfire Triples.

A short meeting was held in the belfry with the president (Mr. J. C. Pollard) in the chair, supported by the secretary (Mr. T. Metcalfe). The president welcomed Mr. Percy Johnson (secretary), Mr. Cotterill (treasurer), Mrs. Cotterill, and the numerous other friends from the Yorkshire Association who attended. A letter was read from the Rev. C. C. Marshall, president of the Yorkshire Association, welcoming the meeting to Tadcaster, and it was resolved that the president write thanking Mr. Marshall for his letter. The President explained that one reason for the Cleveland Association holding their meeting at Tadcaster was that the Yorkshire Association and the Cleveland Association officials and members could meet each other with a view to a better understanding being reached as to the aims of the two associations, and it is felt that this object has been achieved.

The Vicar and churchwardens were thanked for the use of the bells, and the local band were accorded the applause of the meeting for their success in making the day such a happy one.

Several ringers (including Mr. Johnson) were elected members of the Cleveland Association.

The weather was fine, the meals excellent, the company good, the ringing and striking grand, and the bells went 'a treat.' The Cleveland Association tradition that every ringer present be asked and urged to ring, and any ringer who desired to practise another method be encouraged, was kept up.

It is certain that this departure from the usual haunts of the Cleveland Association was such a huge success that it will not be the last of its kind.

BRAUGHING'S INTERESTING TOWER.

A very enjoyable meeting of the Herts County Association was held at Braughing on Saturday last, when thirty members and friends paid a visit to this interesting and historical tower, made noteworthy not only by the long peal of Bob Major rung there, but also by its long connection with change ringing and by the fact that the Benington band, famous at that time for their Surprise ringing, visited Braughing on May 10th for forty years without a break. Very little change has taken place in the village, for the old cottages nestle round the church in their simple rustic style, as they have for centuries past.

A service was held in the church, the Vicar giving the address and offering a very hearty welcome to those present. The singing of the hymns was remarkably hearty, and was accompanied by the organ, at which the schoolmaster, Mr. Ruckland, kindly presided. Old Braughing is well worth a visit by anyone at any time.

ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD SOCIETY.

PROPOSED ALTERATION OF RULES.

The attendance at the quarterly meeting held at St. Paul's, Burton-on-Trent, on Saturday last was not up to the customary strength, partly due to the fact that Burton is situated at the extreme north of the archdeaconry, away from the more thickly studded towers of the Black Country, and partly on account of the inclement weather, but those who did attend had the pleasure of listening to and having a pull on the fine ring of ten during the afternoon and evening.

At the service, the Rev. John Goodacre (Vicar) gave an inspiring address, and prefaced his remarks by giving the members a hearty welcome. An adjournment was then made to the Institute, where a capital tea was laid, arranged by Miss Irwell and lady friends, to whom, later, a vote of thanks was accorded. In her reply, Miss Irwell said it was a pleasure to do anything for ringers.

A summary of the business transacted at the committee meeting was given, including that a resolution will be moved at the annual meeting to alter Rule 6, also one to the effect of abiding by the rules and decisions of the Central Council. A vote of thanks to the Vicar, the organist and the local band was carried with applause.

The next meeting (annual) is arranged to take place at Lichfield on June 20th.

SUFFOLK GUILD.BELL RESTORATIONS DESIRED IN THE DIOCESE.

The annual meeting of the Suffolk Guild was held at Ipswich on Saturday, April 11th. This was a departure from the usual date of the meeting on Easter Monday, and was evidently appreciated by the numbers present, as over 60 sat down to tea in the Co-operative Hall, and there were a number of other ringers in the towers for the day. There had been a service in St. Mary-le-Tower, with a sermon by the Rev. C. S. Scott, incumbent of the new Church of All Hallows, Ipswich. This was of a very practical character, for, being a ringer himself, he could tell his hearers of the work that ringers are doing for the Church, and that which they could do.

At the meeting which followed, the chair was taken by the Rev. R. Sinker, Rector of St. Matthew's, Ipswich. There was a balance in the accounts of £23, which, the report stated, was not enough to carry on with, as the income remained £5 less than the expenses. Mr. Mee and several others promised to raise some funds in the autumn.

Canon Goldsmith was elected president, the Rev. Robert Sinker was added to the vice-presidents; all the other officers and committee were re-elected. The secretary referred to the 'History of Change Ringing' by Mr. E. Morris, which had just been published, saying it would be called the 'Ringers' Bible.' The secretary also read a letter from the Editor of 'The Ringing World,' outlining a scheme for restoring the bells in the Saxon tower of St. Benet's, Cambridge, on which Stedman rang, as a memorial of the tercentenary of the birth of Fabian Stedman.

Mr. George Symonds said that he was convinced that every ringer would wish to be connected with such a memorial, and the secretary was empowered to take the necessary steps to collect for this memorial from each member when the time came.

There was much discussion on the repairs necessary to bells, and the additions to rings which were desired in the diocese. The bells at St. Matthew's, St. Peter's and St. Mary at Quay in Ipswich were especially referred to, and the Chairman made an especial appeal for a sixth bell for St. Matthew's, which would cost £55. Great sympathy was expressed with this, and a collection amounting to £22 was made among those present.

At the request of the Central Council, it was unanimously decided to add to the rules words which showed that they would loyally abide by the rules and decisions of that Council.

The meeting also unanimously supported the proposal that associations should be allowed to send in notices of motion after their Easter meetings.

Halesworth, Coddanham and Hissett were chosen as places for future meetings, and the meeting closed with votes of thanks. The members then returned to the towers for the ringing of many and difficult methods.

DEWSBURY RINGER MARRIED.

The wedding took place on April 4th of a well-known West Riding ringer, Mr. Walter Idle, who was married to Mrs. Margaret Birch at Dewsbury Parish Church. Many of Mr. Idle's old ringing friends turned up to witness the ceremony and to ring the bridal couple out of church. Owing to the bells at Dewsbury being in bad order, only a short touch was rung. In the afternoon a peal was attempted at Earlsheaton, but unfortunately came to grief.

Afterwards ringers and friends assembled at the Park Hotel for tea. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Idle visited the function and were the recipients of many good wishes. Mr. Idle was presented with a ringer's gold badge, the presentation being made by Mr. J. Broadley, Mr. G. H. Hardy being in the chair. Mr. Idle suitably replied, and at his request a good touch of Grandsire was rung on the handbells by the 'old uns': G. H. Hardy 1-2, J. Ruddleaden 3-4, W. Idle 5-6, J. Broadley 7-8. The party broke up later after having spent a very pleasant evening.

THE LIVERPOOL MEETING.

The agenda of the Liverpool meeting of the Central Council is published in this issue. Its belated appearance is, we learn, due to the absence of Mr. Young, the hon. secretary, from this country, which resulted in a certain amount of dual responsibility in regard to it. On the face of it, the agenda is much like that of many previous provincial meetings, except that it contains an item which, for more than a quarter of a century at any rate, has been found only in the business of the London meetings—the election of an honorary secretary and treasurer. This indicates that Mr. Young, who has served the Council so zealously for ten years, is seeking relief from office. He wanted to retire last year, but gave way to the pressure put upon him to remain so that a double change of president and secretary might be avoided. Now, apparently, Mr. Young thinks that the time has come when he might conveniently lay down the burden of office, and he can do so in the knowledge that his work has been well done and his services highly appreciated by the Council.

The rest of the agenda looks, to some extent, commonplace; but it is possible that the meeting may prove of more than ordinary interest. The Standing Committee will have to report on the suggested amendment of rules, which in effect means an amendment of the constitution of the Council; the Methods Committee will have something to say on the delayed publication of the Minor Collection; and on the report of the Analysis Committee there is likely to be a challenge to the admission of peals of a certain type. Here are three subjects, at least, which may lift the discussions out of a humdrum atmosphere and perhaps give rise to a certain amount of liveliness in the debates. In addition, the Council are to be asked to give their official support to the scheme for commemorating the Stedman Tercentenary on the lines suggested by 'The Ringing World'; and there may be divided opinion among the members upon some of the other motions of which notice has been given.

The Council's business proceedings have the promise, therefore, of providing a full day's work, but this will be pleasantly sandwiched between a reception by the Lord Mayor; a lunch given by the Lancashire Association, and a tea at which the members will be the guests of Liverpool's chief magistrate. Many other social arrangements have been made by the local committee, extending from Saturday until Wednesday. There is, however, one detail in the arrangements which it has not yet been possible to settle satisfactorily, and that is the question of railway fares. The best conditions which any special point of interest they would like to see. For instance, if they would like to join a party to go over the Cathedral, or any other public building, or even a liner, it might be arranged, but the committee would like to know beforehand. All the ringing arrangements are in the hands of Mr. G. R. Newton, 3, Langham Avenue, Liverpool, S., to whom communications on that point should be addressed.

Mr. Cave, the acting secretary, has so far been able to obtain, are tickets at a fare and a third for parties of not less than the equivalent of four adults, travelling together. As, with few exceptions, there are no centres from which even four members are likely to travel together this concession is unlikely to be of much real benefit. If the Railway Clearing House could make their conditions a little more elastic, they would gather most of the traffic that this meeting provides, but unless the acting secretary is successful in this direction, many ringers will doubtless avail themselves of the cheaper motor coach facilities which, while taking more time, afford a more pleasant and often a less crowded mode of transport.

PROPOSED MEMORIAL TO THE LATE REV. H. B. WOOLLEY

At the annual general meeting of the Ely Diocesan Association it was agreed that a memorial to the late Rev. H. B. Woolley, district secretary for many years in the Hunts Archdeaconry, should be erected in Loughstanton Church, where he, as Vicar, had the three bells augmented to the present musical ring of eight, which were always available to ringers.

A small joint committee of members of the Cambridge University Guild and Ely Diocesan Association has been set up to carry out the scheme and obtain estimates for a stone tablet.

It is felt that, besides members of the Ely Diocesan Association, many members of the Exercise in general would wish to give a small donation to this memorial, and any ringers desiring to do so should send their donations to Mr. T. R. Dennis, 33, Clarendon Street, Cambridge, who will gratefully acknowledge same. The other members of the Memorial Committee are Rev. A. H. F. Boughey, Messrs. C. W. Woolley, W. H. J. Hooton, A. G. Rivers and C. W. Cooke.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

A meeting of the Southampton District was held at East Tytherley on Saturday, April 18th, when the fine peal of eight by Taylor and Co. were kept going during the afternoon. Tea and the business meeting were held at the Star Inn. Rev. G. T. Tritton, Rector of Dibden, presided, supported by Mr. G. Williams, vice-president, Mr. F. W. Rogers, general secretary, and Rev. Thomas (Romsey Abbey). Messrs. G. Cooper and A. Cerriman, Bishopstoke, were elected members of the Guild, and it was decided to hold a combined practice at St. Michael's, Southampton, on May 19th, at 6.30 p.m.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicars of East Tytherley and Lockerley for the use of the bells.

Towers represented at the meeting were Bishopstoke, Dibden, Romsey, Stockbridge, Titchfield, Portsea, North Stoneham, Winchester and Tytherley.

The next meeting will be held at Dibden on Saturday, July 18th, notice of which will be given in 'The Ringing World.'

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

BRISTOL BRANCH AND THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

The monthly meeting of the Bristol Branch was held at Winterbourne on Saturday, April 25th, and despite the wretched conditions of the weather was fairly well attended, twelve towers being represented. Good use was made of the bells, and service was conducted by the Rev. G. Coulson, in the unavoidable absence of the Vicar, and gave a most interesting address, in the course of which he reviewed the history of bells and referred to the reform which had taken place in the belfries during the last 25 years. Tea was nicely served in the schoolroom, and at the business meeting which followed the Rev. G. Coulson presided.

A discussion took place on the leading articles appearing in the two preceding weeks' issues of 'The Ringing World,' which were read to the members present by the branch chairman (Mr. F. Skidmore). A resolution was unanimously passed, to be sent to the Master of the association, to the effect that the members of the Bristol Branch unanimously uphold the action of the association in regard to re-affiliation with the Central Council, and asking, in view of the fact that the agenda for the forthcoming meeting of the Council had not been issued in accordance with the rules, how could the association agree to pledge its allegiance to a body which failed to carry out its own rules?

The Chairman remarked that, as an outsider and unbiassed observer, brought into touch with the matter for the first time, it seemed to him there was room for improvement in the method of contact between the associations and the Council. The obvious remedy, and one which he thought would allay feeling in the associations, was to alter matters so that associations, as such, could send up their resolutions to the Central Council. In order to give them an opportunity of discussing resolutions, it was highly important that the agenda of the Council should be published unflinchingly some time beforehand. It was difficult for associations to be loyal to a body to which, as an association, they could send no resolution. It was an unhappy position for a representative to have to bring forward, in his own name, a matter with which, possibly, he might be out of sympathy as an individual, just because his association desired it. He would be an unwilling and, therefore, half-hearted advocate. Again, acting individually, he might support a proposal which did not commend itself to the association he represented.

The Bristol United Ringing Guilds' chairman, Mr. H. Burt, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of bells, and to the ladies for waiting at tea, and this concluded the meeting.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Members of the Llandaff and Mounmouth Diocesan Association are reminded that a meeting will be held at Whitechurch, near Cardiff, to-morrow.

To score his first peal after having been a ringer for fifty years is the unusual record of Mr. Thomas Tattersall, of Ribchester.

Peals at Wakefield Cathedral are a very rare occurrence. The first peal of Maximus on the bells was rung last Saturday, and it is interesting to note that the only previous peal on the twelve bells was Steidman Cinques on December 26th, 1908.

The lost coats at Hinton, referred to in this column last week, have been duly restored to their rightful owners. The parties concerned offer apologies to Hinton for creating precedent, and thus rudely shocking the peaceful bliss of the village. Says our correspondent: 'Roland found his Oliver (or was it Fred?), and the exchange duly made. As no Coppers were present, no Notes were taken, fares paid, and the return journey was enlivened by music and song.'

'THE ENGLISH PARISH CHURCH.'

AN INTERESTING VOLUME.

Ringers, as a whole, have an intense interest in their parish churches, and many of them have a fair knowledge of the history of their own particular church. How many, however, really know the origin of the parish or how the parish church, as such, has developed? 'Lost in the mists of antiquity,' is the way in which the layman generally sums up the position in explanation of his ignorance. Actually, of course, the mists, if they existed, have long since melted under the sun of historical research and antiquarian investigation, and there are numerous books on the subject. The latest, and one within the reach of all, has been written by Mr. A. R. Powys, secretary of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, under the title of 'The English Parish Church,' and published by Longmans, Green and Co. at 3s. 6d. in the English Heritage Series. The volume covers the subject in a very readable form; it is an admirable survey of the growth of the parish church from the earliest days, viewed from the spiritual, ecclesiastical, secular and architectural aspects, which are treated in a manner that recaptures something of the varying 'atmosphere' of the ages and enables the reader to appreciate the changing setting of parochial life, centring round the church through the passing centuries, and its influence upon the development of the church.

'The material manifestation of the activity of the village people,' says the author in his 'foreword,' 'are the buildings which housed them, sheltered their beasts and gave storeroom to their goods. . . . The beauty given to farm lands and woods and the gracious quality of the buildings that served these find their truest expression in the parish churches that are among them. The country parish church rests against such a background, draws life from it, and returns to those who live beside it a gentle pervading incentive to remember that the fulness of life cannot be enjoyed unless the simple acts necessary to existence are ennobled by the poetry of skilful achievement—that is, of Art.'

'The study of the older churches,' he says, 'is of great interest. From them we may learn, without turning to other buildings, the development of mediæval and later architecture, the changing emphasis laid on different parts of the church services, something of the education of the common people, and much of the state of the arts.' And Mr. Powys proceeds to his task with the skill of one who is master of his subject.

The field which Mr. Powys covers includes the origin of the parish and the provision made for the cure of souls in it; the plans of parish churches and their architecture; the furniture and fitting of a parish church. He devotes an interesting chapter to secular and unusual uses of churches, and another to chantries and chantry priests. The author devotes a few pages to bells as part of the essential equipment of churches. 'Bell cages built at the end of the fifteenth century, and in the first years of the sixteenth,' he reminds us, 'still here and there have escaped the ardour of some modern bellringers, who associate with the word "mediæval" things out of date, clumsy and inefficient.' As an antiquarian, Mr. Powys may be forgiven if he does not agree with these modern bellringers, but we would remind him that it is not only modern bellringers who have considered it necessary to replace 'out-of-date, clumsy and inefficient' equipment in the belfry. This has been going on all through the ages. There is a greater desire in these days to preserve what is worth preserving than ever there was, but when, for instance, a bell frame becomes inefficient and beyond effective repair, ringers cannot be blamed for advocating that the old timbers should come right out of the tower. This, however, is not the place where we need discuss the matter. Mr. Powys has written a delightful book, both interesting and instructive, which should be in the possession of every ringer who loves his parish church and all that it stands and has stood for.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD. ANNUAL MEETING AT LINCOLN.

Considerably over 100 ringers assembled at Lincoln on Saturday last for the annual meeting of the Diocesan Guild. They were able to take part in ringing at the Cathedral, where, in St. Hugh's tower, hang a very fine ring of twelve, the product of the Loughborough Foundry. Not only are the bells themselves an example of modern excellence, but both inside and out of the tower the sound has been modulated so that the ringers can hear every bell perfectly, and the public suffer not the slightest annoyance. In fact, the acoustical arrangements are a perfect example of what every bell tower ought to be. Many of the visiting ringers rang on twelve bells for the first time, and went away highly gratified with a new experience, but naturally under such conditions the twelve-bell ringing was not always characterised by good striking. At the two six-bell towers of St. Peter-at-Gowt's and St. Botolph's touches in many Minor methods were rung.

Service, brief but inspiring, was conducted by the Bishop of Grantham in one of the Cathedral chapels, and the address on the witness of the ringers through the bells was eloquent and uplifting, and its lessons likely to be long remembered by all who heard it.

Tea was served in the Co-operative Hall, after which the annual business meeting was held, over which the president (Sub-Dean Jeddwine) presided, supported by the Master (the Rev. H. Law James), who is only just recovering from a rather prolonged illness, Mr. F. W. Stokes (hon. secretary), Mr. E. F. Linley (hon. treasurer), Mr. F. S. W. Butler (Northern Branch secretary), Rev. H. T. Parry and Messrs. G. Chester, J. A. Freeman, F. Dewey and J. T. Brown (members of the committee). An apology for absence was received from the Recorder of Lincoln (Alderman J. S. Pritchett), who said that at his suggestion a copy of Mr. Ernest Morris' book, 'The History and Art of Change Ringing,' had been placed in Lincoln Public Library.

The President said that the Dean of Lincoln had been president of the Guild for a great many years, and he had approached the present Dean, suggesting that he was the right and proper person to be nominated for the office. He had pointed out that the ringers would greatly appreciate his acceptance of the office, but the Dean, on each occasion that the matter had been mentioned, had given the same answer, that he would rather not be nominated at present.

The Master said he thought he could guess the reason why the Dean did not desire to be nominated at present. The Sub-Dean had been, as Dean Fry was, a great friend to the ringers, and he proposed his re-election as president for the ensuing year.

The motion was carried with applause, and the Sub-Dean said in reply that he would do anything he could to promote the objects of the Guild.

MORE CAREFUL INSTRUCTION NEEDED.

The Rev. H. Law James was unanimously re-elected Master, and the Sub-Dean expressed the hope that he would soon be entirely restored to health.

Mr. Stokes was re-elected hon. secretary, and Mr. Linley hon. treasurer.

The Master presented a report, in which he congratulated the Cathedral band on the peal of Stedman Cinques. The eighty-seven peals rung in the year were the largest number that the Guild had reached so far. Sixteen Surprise methods in a peal of Minor was a great credit to the Southern Branch. 'These three items,' added the report, 'are very encouraging, and the various meetings which I have attended during the year all show signs of progress, and the appearance of young ringers at these meetings is very satisfactory; but I wish that those who initiate young ringers into the art would be much more careful in instructing them in the proper way to handle a bell rope. It is far easier to teach a beginner to handle his rope properly at once, than it is to eradicate faults afterwards, and a slack rope invariably produces bad striking.'

The report was received and the balance sheet of the Diocesan Guild was adopted. The receipts had been £28 2s. 4d., and the expenditure £27 3s.

The Diocesan Advisory Committee having intimated, in reply to a resolution passed at the last annual meeting of the Guild, that they would welcome a representative of the Guild to give them advice on matters connected with bells, the Master was unanimously appointed.

A letter from the Editor of 'The Ringing World,' drawing attention to the proposed commemoration of the Stedman Tercentenary, having been received, Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, who was present, was invited to speak on the subject. He explained the scheme, and outlined the proposals for the restoration of the bells. The probable cost, he said, was £350, and this would mean a big effort, but he believed, if the Exercise would enter wholeheartedly into the project, it could be carried through. The opportunity was unique, and he hoped that the associations and ringers of this country would do something worthy of the opportunity.

The proposal was favourably received, and the Master suggested that it should be brought before the branch meetings for the branches to deal with.

Thanks to the chairman and to the authorities who had placed their bells at the disposal of the ringers concluded the business, and ringing then occupied attention at the three towers.

THE BELLS OF A WORCESTERSHIRE VILLAGE. HOW RINGERS HELPED TO PROVIDE A RING OF EIGHT.

The little parish of Hinton-on-the-Green, near Evesham, is now in proud possession of a handy and musical octave of bells, with a tenor of 10½ cwt. in G. For over 200 years five bells had done duty, these having been cast by Messrs. Clarke and Bushell at Evesham, and in spite of the fact that the frame was constructed for six, and space left in the tower for two extra trebles on the same level, a move could not be made until the old ones became unsafe to ring just over a year ago. The old oak frame, which is in good condition, has been considerably strengthened by massive angle plates and tie bolts, and secured to a supporting beam underneath. The extension to the frame is also of oak. The old five were removed to Messrs. John Taylor and Co.'s Loughborough Foundry, where a complete clearance of the old fittings was made and the bells tuned, sandblasted and quarter-turned. They were fitted with canon-retaining headstocks, ball bearings and new fittings throughout. Thanks to the generosity of Mr. E. P. Thomas and his mother, of Claines, and to the efforts and subscriptions of ringers, three new trebles were cast (the casting being the occasion for an outing to the foundry). The result is a first-class job, the tone and blending of the new bells being all that can be desired, and the 'go' excellent. In the ringing chamber, which is also the vestry, the church, and on all sides of the tower outside, every bell is clearly heard and balanced to perfection.

The bells bear the following inscriptions:—

Treble.—This bell was given by Mrs. E. Thomas and her son, E. P. Thomas, of Claines, Worcester, 1931.

2nd.—Ringers and Friends of the Diocese gave me, 1931.

3rd.—Serve God and be cheerful. V. C. Blyth, Rector; J. Newman, F. Sheaf, Wardens.

These three also 'Taylor, Loughborough, 1931.'

5th.—Magdelene Campana.

6th.—Iohannis Campana.

Each of the five old bells also have an inscription on the waist, and chiefly of interest is the method adopted in dating the bells. The Roman numerals are inscribed in large capitals, and the sum of each line added together gives the year 1705.

The Dean of Worcester, the Very Rev. W. Moore Ede, D.D., had kindly consented to dedicate the bells, and to enable them to be rung for Easter Sunday the ceremony took place on Wednesday, April 1st. In his address, the Dean said it gave him very great pleasure to come to Hinton, and although he was not himself a ringer he was closely connected with them, as each year he presided over the annual meeting of the Worcestershire Association. Last year at the meeting reference was made to the efforts being made; on the following Easter Monday he would be able to tell his friends, the ringers, that the Hinton peal was complete. The bells just dedicated would serve to call them, their children and grandchildren to prayer, for just as in Mohammedan countries the faithful were called to worship from the minarets of the mosque, so in Christian countries the bells said, 'Come to church, come to pray.'

During the service a few rounds were rung by the local band, all of whom with one exception had been taught by Mr. F. J. Johnson on the old five, but, being Holy Week, general ringing was curtailed to two short touches of Stedman Triples, Messrs. J. Oldham and J. P. Fidler, who were present to represent the founders, taking part.

On Saturday, April 14th, the bells were open to visitors, and a large gathering of between 80 and 90 assembled from a wide area. A short service was held, at which the Rector, the Rev. V. C. Blyth, gave the ringers a hearty welcome. He briefly reviewed the steps leading to the completion of the peal, how the Church Council had, with faith and hope, set about the (to their tiny parish) stupendous task of raising over £200 to thoroughly restore their five bells and augment them to six. Then the generous offer of Mr. Thomas of a treble bell towards the completion of the octave. That seemed too good to be true, and too much to hope for, but ringers had stepped into the breach and subscribed or collected the cost of the 2nd bell. On behalf of the parish, which was now delighted and proud of its bells, he thanks most sincerely both Mr. Thomas and the ringers, and trusted they would take away with them pleasant memories of their visit.

Tea was served in the School, and, immediately after, Mr. J. J. Johnson said they had one pleasant piece of business to transact. The Rector had thanked them on behalf of the parish; he wished to do so on behalf of the local band. Mr. Thomas had unfortunately to leave early that afternoon, but he had assured him of their deep sense of gratitude for first bringing the peal of eight within the bounds of possibility. Referring to the ringers' bell, he had already sent a personal letter of thanks to each subscriber, but he wished to

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

II. BENJAMIN ANNABLE (continued).

About this time Holt was preparing the broadsheet of his peals for publication. Among the subscribers there are seventeen London College Youths, but not Annable. The names of these subscribers, so far as I can trace them, are interesting. Samuel Killican had joined the Society at the same time as Holt and rang in both the peals he called. John Hardham had ceased to take an active part in ringing and was busy with other things, theatres and snuff-making. His last peal was thirteen years before. William Underwood had belonged to the London Scholars, the old rivals of the College Youths, and had rung in two of the three peals by the former of which the record has come down to us, Grandsire Cinques at St. Martin's, in 1727, and 6,204 in the same method at Cornhill in 1729. In 1750 he joined the Union Scholars and rang in two or three peals with Holt, including Grandsire Cinques and Court Bob Major. Samuel Thompson (or Tomson) had belonged to the City Scholars and rang in their 6,012 Grandsire Caters at Cripplegate in 1732, the only peal by that society we have any record of, except one of Bob Major at Bermondsey in the same year, reported without particulars by 'The Norwich Gazette.' Thomas Bennett was a keen ringer, who started with the Eastern Scholars, and changed from society to society as suited his purpose or fancy. Most of the others were well-to-do members who did no peal ringing, like Thomas Lester, the Whitechapel bell founder, William Oram, and William Skelton. Skelton was Registrar to the Bishop of London and a proctor in the Court of Arches.

The man who managed the whole affair was John Cundell. It was he who got the subscriptions and it was at his address, 'Ye Golden Eagle,' in Duke's Court, Covent Garden, that the broadsheet might be bought. Cundell was Master of the Society in 1753.

Whether there would have been a struggle between Annable and Holt within the Company for the leadership we cannot say, for Holt died before his broadsheet appeared.

These things very much weakened the Society for peal ringing, and probably diminished Annable's authority. He rang only one more College Youth peal, which was on May 3rd, 1753, 6,080 Union Bob at St. George's-in-the-East. Union Bob is an old name for Oxford Treble Bob. Bennett and Thompson rang in this peal. There is a record of another peal which, if genuine, throws a lot of light on the situation. Somewhere about 1840, John Cooper, then beadle of the College Youths, came across an account of a peal, and as the books were being rebound, he suggested that it should be included. But it was objected that it could not have been rung or it would have been booked at the time. There is a much better reason for its not being booked, and that is because more than half the band were not College Youths.

'St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, 1754. The Company rang a peal of 5040 changes of Bob Major in 3 hours 28 minutes. John Underwood 1, Thomas Bennett 2, Benjamin Annable 3, Robert Holmes 4, William Underwood 5, Emanuel Crouch 6, Robert Bly 7, Joseph Monk Tenor. William Underwood call'd Bobs.'

The two Underwoods, Bly, and Monk were at that time ringing peals with the Eastern Scholars. Bennett had belonged to that society before 1750 and was now a member of the Cumberlands Society. Holmes was one of the Twickenham Scholars, churchwarden, and a country member of the College Youths. William Underwood was not the man who had subscribed to Holt's broadsheet, but his son, and probably the brother of John Underwood.

The peal was not booked by any society, and the first notice of it is eighty years later; but it looks to me like genuine. If so, it shows the College Youths as a divided house and Annable looking for support outside. He would not leave the society he had led for so long, but he would ring with other people. They were waiting and watching for an opportunity to profit by the old Company's troubles, and were ready to welcome the great man, although he had derided their cherished method a few years before.

Annable did not ring another peal. He died early in 1756, and was buried inside the tower where he had rung his first peal and which was the scene of so many of his ringing triumphs. He left behind him one of the biggest reputations in change ringing. As an all-round man—ringer, composer, conductor and leader—he has had few equals and no superior. His is the greatest name on the College Youths' roll and the Society has a right to be proud of him, for he stuck to them from first to last. In this he differed from all the leading ringers of the eighteenth century. They passed from one Society to another as ambition or pique moved them. All of them changed once, some many times, and it is almost bewildering to try and follow them through their changes. Jasper Snowden, in his list of composers, gives John Reeves as a College Youth. He was a College Youth at one time, but the name of almost any other London society would have done as well. He started as a Cumberland, then he joined the London Youths, then the 'ancient' society of College Youths, then the Cumberlands, and finally the second society of London Youths. His fellow authors of the 'Clavis,' William Jones and Thomas Blakemore, had as many changes.

NOTE 4. When I said that the first College Youths peal was the Grandsire Cinques in 1724 I did not forget the entry in the peal book which professes to record a peal of Bob Triples rung at St. Sepulchre's in 1689. That record is manifestly spurious. Annable, who was born in 1703, can hardly have called a peal fourteen years earlier; and there is sufficient evidence that he and his contemporaries knew nothing of any such performance. The entry is a late insertion.

THE BELLS OF A WORCESTERSHIRE VILLAGE.

thank them all once again, not only for their generous assistance but for the many kind letters of encouragement he had received. He also wished to publicly thank the Editor of 'The Ringing World,' who had presented their case and backed up their needs so strongly. It not only gave him very great pleasure, but to him it was a proud moment to be able to hand over a cheque for £84 4s. 9d.

In acknowledging this, the Rector said it was an equally proud moment to him to receive it. He had already thanked them, but one thing he must add. It seemed to him that to achieve such a splendid result, not only the ringers of the diocese and their friends, but a wide circle of ringers throughout the country must have stood solidly together, aptly illustrating the motto, 'Unity is strength.'

Mr. J. Hall, in moving a vote of thanks to the Rector for his hearty welcome, said he took that opportunity of congratulating him and his Church Council on the courage with which they undertook a thorough restoration, and also on the successful completion of the scheme. He also congratulated Messrs. Taylor and Co. on the excellent job, everyone being well satisfied with the tone and 'go' of the bells.

During the afternoon and evening the bells were kept going to cater for all tastes from rounds to Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.GUILD LIBRARY TO BE ESTABLISHED

A very satisfactory financial position was revealed at the annual general meeting of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, held at Guildford on Saturday week and attended by nearly a hundred members. After having first attended a special service in the Cathedral, tea was served in Holy Trinity Parish Hall, where subsequently Mr. Walter Harrison (vice-president) presided over the business meeting. He was supported by the Provost (Canon E. C. Kirwan), Mr. W. H. Ryde, K.C., the Master (Major J. R. B. Hesse), the hon. treasurer (Admiral T. P. Walker) and the hon. secretary (Mr. J. S. Goldsmith).

At the commencement of the meeting a short silence was observed in memory of Archdeacon Irwin.

The committee, in their annual report, said they looked back on 1930 with mixed feelings. The Guild's activities were fully maintained, and in some directions extended, but they had experienced increasing difficulty of obtaining the support of some of the ringers which they felt they ought to receive. The ringing membership of the Guild remained almost the same as at the end of last year. The influx of 57 new members was more than discounted by lapses and deaths, so that there was actually a loss of four ringing members. It was gratifying to record a growing interest in the Guild by church-people, with the result that the honorary members increased from 38 to 65 during the year. Two new life hon. members were elected, but three were lost by death. Eight compounding members brought the total membership of the Guild to 587, as compared with 559 in 1929. The committee did not think the position was entirely satisfactory. There were in the Guild 375 resident ringing members, but, according to the Church Year Book, there were in the Diocese of Guildford in 1929 619 ringers, 467 being voluntary and 152 paid. Allowing for the fact that some of these were 'ringers' at churches which had no ringable peals of bells, there would seem to be a considerable margin of ringers in the diocese who ought to be in the Guild, but were not. The Guild was constantly endeavouring to bring the advantages of membership before the ringers of the diocese by frequent meetings and combined practices, but there was need for greater effort by all officers and members of the Guild. The committee felt that incumbents and church authorities in parishes where the ringers were not members of the Guild should do their utmost to induce them to join to assist in promoting the objects of the Guild and to increase their efficiency as churchworkers through the facilities which the Guild was ready to provide by way of practice and instruction.

The Guild was gaining a sound financial position. The balance in the general fund at the end of 1929 was increased at the end of 1930 by £15 9s. 9d. to a total of £52 2s., and the balances in the district funds had risen by £12 9s. 6d. to £31 2s. 5d.

The summer festival at Egham was attended by eighty ringers, and the programme of district meetings had provided a series of enjoyable gatherings. At most of them the numbers attending were very satisfactory, but they regretted that more ringers did not take advantage of the meetings. Thanks were due to a certain number of members who loyally supported the work of the Guild in that direction, and they hoped that in the coming year more members would support the meetings. The combined practices, organised in different areas, had met with varying success, a valuable addition to the membership having resulted from work done in the Cranleigh area.

In peal ringing the Guild had had a successful year, ringing 47 peals, an advance of twelve on the preceding year. The success was largely due to the energies of Mr. A. H. Pulling, who conducted 26 peals for the Guild during the year, including the first peals of Surrey Surprise, Double Dublin Surprise and Reverse Dublin Surprise Major ever rung, the first peals of Guildford Surprise and Norfolk Surprise, and the first peal on handbells by the Guild. Mr. A. Harman conducted six peals during the year, and did valuable work in the Leatherhead district.

The committee emphasised that the primary duty of the ringers' office was the efficient ringing of the bells for Sunday services, and every effort should be made, where hands were below full strength, to seek out suitable recruits. There were a number of bands in the diocese without sufficient numbers to ring all the bells for the church services, and they appealed for renewed energy in remedying that serious defect.

The report and the treasurer's statement of accounts were adopted.

On the proposition of Mr. G. L. Grover it was agreed that a sum not exceeding £5 should be expended upon the purchase of Central Council publications for resale to members of the Guild, and a sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. A. H. Pulling, A. C. Hazelden, G. L. Grover, J. S. Goldsmith and Major Hesse, was appointed with power to purchase the publications.

A GUILD LIBRARY

Mr. Hazelden, in proposing that a Guild Library be established, remarked that many old books were lost to the ringers when their members died, and he thought that if a guild library could be set up it would serve a very useful purpose. Major Hesse spoke in favour of the proposal to form a library, and offered to give Morris' 'History and Art and Change Ringing'. Mr. Goldsmith offered the bound volumes of 'The Ringing World' for the years since the Guild was founded, and a copy of Sir Arthur Heywood's 'Towers and Belfries' was also offered by Mr. C. Hazelden. After some discussion it was agreed to approach the authorities of S. Nicolas' Church to obtain permission to accommodate the library in that belfry, there being no room for it in the Cathedral Church belfry. A sub-committee consisting of Mr. Harrison, Mr. Hazelden, Major Hesse, Admiral Walker and Mr. J. S. Goldsmith was appointed to deal with the matter, and Mr. Hazelden was appointed librarian. Canon Kirwan offered to provide a cupboard for the books, and it was agreed that the sub-committee should be authorised to spend a sum not exceeding £5 on the purchase of books, and to draw up by-laws to be confirmed at the next annual meeting.

Mr. Pulling proposed that a record be kept of peal compositions rung by the Guild, and this was agreed to. Mr. G. L. Grover undertook the duties of recorder, and the record will be kept in the library.

It was agreed to hold the summer festival at Farnham on July 4th, when it was hoped the Bishop of Guildford would be present. Guildford was appointed as the venue for the next annual meeting, and it was agreed to hold a second annual dinner.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith gave an outline of the proposed Stedman Tercentenary Commemoration, and asked the Guild to give a donation to the funds. On the proposition of Mr. R. Whittington, it was agreed to vote £5 5s. to the fund.

The meeting concluded with votes of thanks to Bishop Golding-Bird (who was elected a life member), Mr. W. Harrison, Canon E. C. Kirwan, the Rev. E. de G. Lucas and Mr. J. S. Goldsmith.

During the afternoon, touches were rung on the bells of the Cathedral Church and S. Nicolas' Church, and a service was held at the Cathedral Church, at which the preacher was Bishop C. H. Golding-Bird, Archdeacon of Dorking, who was assisted by the Provost (Canon E. C. Kirwan), the Rev. S. H. Courtney-Smith and the Rev. H. D. Pilcher.

MISSIONARIES OF CHRIST.

In his address the Archdeacon said he was going to call them a name which he did not think many of them would claim, but nevertheless it was true. He was going to call them 'fellow missionaries.' They were hopelessly compromised as missionaries of Christ's Church because the whole excuse or explanation of the ringing of the bells was calling men and women to church to worship Jesus Christ. That was exactly what he and every other clergyman did. He knew that bellringing had been elaborated and had become a musical art, but primarily the bells were rung to remind people of Christ and His Church. There were a great many of them who were worthy of the name of missionaries of Christ, but he was equally sure that there were some of them who did not practise what they practised. The one thing that mattered in the world to-day was whether they believed that Christ was the one cure for the evils of to-day.

There were three kinds of worship. They worshipped God with their body, brain and soul. Did they realise that every time they rang a bell in God's name and to His glory they were worshipping Him just as when they bent their knee in prayer? Everything offered to God and done in His service was service to Him, and even the humblest work they did could thus become sacramental. If they realised that when they rang their bell, it would add romance to the work.

DEVON GUILD.

The Aylesbeare Deanery Branch held a well-attended meeting at East Budleigh on Saturday, April 25th. Good use was made of the handy peal of six at this church during the afternoon and evening, and also of the bells in the neighbouring towers of Otterton and Colaton Raleigh. In the course of his address during the service, the Vicar of East Budleigh, the Rev. H. W. Gardiner, offered a warm welcome to the Guild, and spoke of his association with its president many years ago at Bradfield College.

Tea was partaken of in the Institute, and at the subsequent meeting, presided over by Rev. E. A. Jullian (chairman of the branch), it was decided to hold a by-meeting on June 20th in addition to the usual autumn meeting, the place being left to the discretion of the secretary.

Two new members were elected, and the meeting closed with a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, to whom the branch was indebted for a particularly delightful service, and to the organist, blower, and those ringers and their wives who provided the tea.

NORTHAMPTON RINGER'S DEATH.

The death took place suddenly on April 18th of Mr. Arthur O. Stewart, of Northampton, who was particularly active as a ringer in the district some years ago. The deceased, who was 59 years of age, was one of a band of young men who learned to ring when the peal of bells was first installed at St. Edmund's Church by the late Mr. Wm. Tomes. When the bells of St. Giles' Church were augmented into a peal of ten in 1896, Mr. Stewart was appointed leader of the belfry, and did valuable work, teaching young aspirants and helping others to advance in the art. He rang altogether about 20 peals.

The funeral took place on April 22nd, the service being conducted by the Rev. J. H. N. Hill, and the lesson read by Mr. F. Wilford (lay reader and Master of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild). Muffled touches were rung in the evening at St. Giles' Church.

A TRIP TO SOMERSET.

OR HOW A REPUTATION WAS LOST.

That ringers do read their 'Ringing World' is proved by the great reputation that Joe, the 'Chilcompton busman,' has as a speed merchant. His exploits in the wilds of Surrey recently have caused heated discussion (P) in ringing circles in all parts of the country. So that when a party of ringers gathered together on Easter Sunday at Wells, the conversation at supper turned to the aforesaid reputation, so much so, indeed, that we did not hear all that was being said about the latest peals of Double Norwich with some bell or other the extent in sixth's, or some other place.

The upshot was that the man from Coventry expressed his doubts about the speed. It should be explained that Coventry is the place where cars that really do go are built, and where men to make them go are born. So Joe said, 'Let's go to Wrington and see who can get there first.'

'What's at Wrington at nine o'clock at night?' said the doubtful one.

'Some good cider and some good company,' said Joe, although we really believe he put the company before the cider. That settled it, and off we went. Joe's party got well away, and as the Coventry man didn't know the road to Wrington from the road to Mars, his little lot nearly missed the trip (and the cider). A small red light in the darkness, far ahead, saved the situation, and we all got to Wrington together. So far Joe had done very well, and we found that he was quite correct about the company and the cider being of the best. Reminiscences of a previous visit to Wrington 18 years before, and other matters, might have kept us going all night, but the speed test was still on. Joe kept just in front all the way back to Wells, but the Coventry man complained that his brakes had to be kept hard down to prevent him bumping Joe's rear light. A sudden stop, too, by a chap who ought to know his way about his own native county (even without the stars to steer by) is a bit thick—but that was put down to the cider.

The question of speed superiority, even after these happenings, was still unsettled, and came up for discussion at breakfast the next morning (after the bar had been definitely put up against Double Norwich). So it came about that after the first peal of the day, rung at Wells Cathedral—quite a detail, of course—and some dinner, the real tussle began. Twenty-eight miles to Taunton, and Joe with a good start. Bang went the reputation! As we caught him up, somebody said, 'This is Joe, that was,' and the race was over. Although the Coventry man took the wrong turning, and got held up at a toll bridge whilst he searched his pockets for threepence (which sum Joe had ready in his hand), we did not see Joe again until we had got the bells up at Taunton. Even some of the party in a hired car arrived before him—but Joe said that this was due to one member of his party being thirsty.

Perhaps Joe was right when he said that the Coventry man ought to have gone into the ditch as he rounded certain corners, and we must admit that we had to hold on to the sides of the car. But as we got to Taunton first, we do not admit the need of any further discussion; the reputation had 'gone west.'

The second peal of the day, another mere detail, having been disposed of, it must be said of Joe that he is a great organiser. The difficult task of fitting in two peals in towers 28 miles apart, with little more than ten hours to do it in, might have beaten most people—but he did it. Later in the day (or next morning) he and the Coventry man went off to Chilcompton for the night, but we do not yet know if they tried any more racing. Perhaps they talked about ringing for a change! Oh, yes, the towerkeepers, of course, and everybody else who helped us to carry out this trip. Our very sincere thanks to them all. Without them these things could never have happened.

LAMBERHURST RINGER'S DEATH.

On Wednesday, April 8th, Mr. G. Fuller, of Lamberhurst, Kent, passed away at the age of 47 years. Mr. Fuller had been a member of the band of ringers for nearly thirty years. He had also been a member of the Church Council since it started, and was on the committee of the local branch of the British Legion. He was badly gassed in the Great War, and had suffered from the effects ever since.

On Sunday, April 12th, for a memorial service, 720 Kent Treble Bob was rung half-muffled by: T. Fuller 1, W. Marshall 2, J. J. Bassett 3, A. Marshall (conductor) 4, W. Durham 5, J. Bassett 6.—On Monday, April 13th, after the funeral, at which members of the British Legion acted as bearers, 720 Cambridge Surprise: A. Marshall 1, T. Fuller 2, A. Rolfe (conductor) 3, W. Marshall 4, W. Durham 5, J. Bassett 6.

WEDDING BELLS.

On Wednesday, April 15th, on the occasion of the wedding of Miss Lilian Peggy Sidebolham, of Farnham, and Capt. Herbert Alexander McPherson, East Yorks Regt., at Farnham Parish Church, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes): C. Edwards 1, J. Read 2, C. Wells 3, S. Meadows 4, T. Unshell (conductor) 5, F. Kemp 6, R. Hasted 7, A. N. King 8. Also 672 in the same method conducted by R. Hasted.

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM R. NASH.

A VALUED INSTRUCTOR OF RINGING.

It is with regret we announce the death of Mr. William R. Nash, of Ludlow, Shropshire. He had been in failing health for some time, and passed peacefully away on Saturday morning, April 18th, at the early age of 58 years.

By trade a master cabinet maker and antique dealer, he was an expert in the restoration of old furniture. As an enthusiastic ringer and lover of bells, his passing leaves a gap which will be hard to fill. He had been a ringer at St. Lawrence's Church for over forty years, and carried on the duties of sexton at the same church for twenty years, following in the footsteps of his father before him, who held the same office for thirty-nine years. It was only natural that his sons should follow him in ringing, and of his son John's progress in campanology he was justly proud. A younger son, Percy, is carrying on the good work at Ludlow. With beginners Mr. Nash was a patient instructor, and spent many hours after his usual work was over in teaching 'the young idea.' He had often remarked it was a heart-breaking job, and teachers of the art of ringing no doubt agree. A presentation walking stick, which he prized highly, was given him as a token of appreciation by the Stokesay ringers for his having taught them the art.

After his death his body was taken to St. Lawrence's Church, and remained in the Lady Chapel until Tuesday, the day of the funeral, when it was placed between the choir stalls under the tower for the service. Before the service, the organist played 'O rest in the Lord.' The opening prayers were read by the Rev. F. G. Shepherd (Rector) and the lesson by the Rev. G. R. Channer (reader). The hymn, 'Now the labourer's task is o'er,' was sung, and, as the cortege left the church, the organist (Mr. R. Bastick) played the Funeral March. In the church were Mr. R. Poyner (Mayor of Ludlow), Messrs. P. J. W. Wynn and A. C. Telfer (churchwardens), and many others. Following to the cemetery were members of 'Court Whitelife,' A.O.F., of which deceased held the offices of Past Chief Ranger and Trustee, the Amalgamated Society of Woodworkers (of which he was a member for over thirty-five years), the local band of bellringers (of which he was conductor for many years), and many old friends. The Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, representing the Hereford Diocesan Guild, was unfortunately delayed, and arrived just after the committal service (which was conducted by the Rev. C. E. M. Butler). A course of Grandire Triples was rung round the open grave on deceased's beautiful handbells by: P. R. Nash 1-2, J. G. Nash 3-4, W. J. Beniams 5-6, A. C. Nason 7-8—a last farewell to one to whom ringing was a great joy. Among the beautiful floral tributes was one in the shape of a bell, and wreaths from the Hereford Diocesan Guild, the local ringers, Bromfield ringers, A.O.F., A.S.W., etc. The deceased's peals numbered over a hundred, but as no record was kept it is difficult to estimate exactly how many he had rung. In the evening, at the Parish Church, on half-muffled bells, 720 Grandire Doubles, with 4.6.8 covering, was rung by the following: P. R. Nash 1, W. J. Beniams (conductor) 2, J. G. Nash 3, E. R. Baldwin 4, F. T. Massey 5, A. Jones 6, H. Jones 7, A. C. Nason 8. An attempt for a muffled peal of Grandire Triples on Saturday, April 25th, unfortunately came to grief after 1 hour 57 minutes' ringing.

A CANTERBURY RESTORATION.

The bells of St. Alphege's Church, Canterbury, have been restored, and on April 23rd were rededicated by the Archdeacon of Canterbury (Canon E. H. Hardcastle). The frame has been strengthened and crossbraced, and the bells rebung with new fittings. The work has been carried out by Mr. A. Howell, of Ipswich, and Mr. G. E. Dashwood, of Canterbury, with admirable results. The bell repair fund was opened in January, 1927, and, thanks to the untiring efforts of Miss E. M. Chambers and the many friends of bellringers who have assisted in raising the £100 required, the work has now been completed.

The service of rededication was conducted by Canon T. G. Crosse, in the absence of the Rector, the Rev. W. N. Westmore, who is indisposed. A unique feature of the rededication service was the fact that Canon Cross was Rector of St. Alphege when the bells were originally hung forty years ago.

The following towers were represented at the dedication service: Wickhambreaux, Birchington, Littlebourne, St. Nicholas-at-Wade, Sturry, Canterbury Cathedral and St. Alphege, Canterbury. Touches in various methods were rung on the bells at the close of the service.

THE COUNCIL'S CONSTITUTION.

The business of the Central Council meeting, as we indicated last week, is likely to be made as interesting from what does not appear in the agenda as from what is actually printed in it, and one of the items which may lead to considerable debate is the suggested revision of the Council's rules governing its constitution and management. The present rules were formulated when the Council was first established forty years ago and they may have been well adapted to the conditions then prevailing. The majority of the territorial associations and guilds were themselves quite young and were only just beginning to make their influence felt. It would have been impossible to ask of the associations more than they could obtain from the ringers in their own areas, and the Council had to be somewhat delicately poised. Its formation resulted from a representative meeting held in 1889 in Birmingham in connection with a celebration of the birthday of Henry Johnson and presided over by Sir Arthur Heywood, when a resolution in the following terms was passed: 'That this meeting, whilst failing to see the advantages of a National Ringers' Association, is of opinion that great benefit would accrue to the Exercise if a committee consisting of one or more selected members from each association could meet from time to time to consider and decide such ringing matters as are a cause of perplexity.' Here, at any rate, was the intention of the promoters: it was to 'consider and decide.' But the fact that the associations themselves represented at that time but a small proportion of the ringers of the country made it necessary to begin warily; hence a constitution based not upon the ringing societies, but upon a body of individuals which the societies were invited to appoint.

The times have changed since those days. There are comparatively few change ringers who really matter who are outside the associations, and, with one notable exception, no associations with the promotion of change ringing as one of their cardinal objects who remain outside the Council. The Exercise is a much more closely knit body to-day than it was forty years ago; the Council has proved its value to ringing and it has no need to be apologetic for any action it takes. It consists of some of the best brains of the Exercise and its work has been approved. The fact that practically every association of importance has within the last twelve months readily adopted a rule to become affiliated to the Council and loyally abide by its rules and decisions is proof that the Council is to-day recognised as the central authority on matters relating to ringing—as distinct from the purely domestic affairs of the societies themselves. This, therefore, is the time for the Council to recognise the associations in a more formal way than has hitherto been done, by forging a link with them in its own rules and adapting its procedure so that the Council and the associations may deal direct with one another.

THE POTTERIES OUSTS ITS 'POTS.'
ACTIVITY IN THE STOKE-ON-TRENT DISTRICT.
BY 'ROAMER.'

For many years a large number of the bells in Stoke-on-Trent and district have had a most unenviable reputation, but 1930 appears to have been a turning point. With Easter of that year came the re-opening of the bells of Stoke Parish Church, which for many years had been a very 'lumpy' lot. The eight bells, with a tenor, were cast by Taylor in 1831, and after a long period of service the same firm was called in to give their attention, and once again Stoke has a complete 'Taylor' job.

Whitsuntide of that year saw the finish of the rehanging of the bells at St. John's, Longton, after having paid a visit to Loughborough. These are a peal of eight by Rudhall, 1834, and have a tenor weighing 15½ cwt. For a long time they had been in a deplorable condition, but things have been made shipshape in a most thorough manner.

During the time the work on the foregoing was well under way, the bells at Norton-in-the-Moors, a peal of six cast by Dobson in 1826, were 'in the soup,' and they deserved it. The sequel was 'a nice handy peal by Taylor,' with a tenor of 12½ cwt. completed in August.

Without any blaring of trumpets, the peal of six at Madeley was re-opened in September, after having been on a picnic to Loughborough, and, as the result of the visit, are now in much better condition, the 'wash and brush up' and new 'fal de lals' having given them a fresh lease of life to the satisfaction of everyone concerned. These bells are a peal of six with a tenor weighing about 11 cwt., and were all cast at Gloucester, the second, third, fourth and fifth in 1711, the treble in 1753, and the tenor in 1808.

This, however, did not end the ousting of the 'pots' from the Potteries. The epidemic still spread, the authorities of Church Lawton taking the opportunity of the bell hangers being in the district, had the bell fittings overhauled and trued up whilst the bearings were 'decarbonised.' In other districts the church authorities were going at it 'hammer and tongs,' and, judging from the results, so were Taylors. Tunstall, with its small slender spire which appears to be all window openings and gives the impression that a puff of wind would blow it away, was having trouble with its bells. Originally a ring of six by Mears, 1856, with a tenor about 14 cwt., they were augmented by Warner in 1901 by the addition of two trebles, and on this octave the late James Washbrook spent many happy hours during his life in the Potteries. That this peal was too big for the tower was without question; the experts from Loughborough were called in, and without any unnecessary delay their advice was acted upon, and soon after the bells arrived at the famous Midland town they looked like pots in a china shop after a bull had had an afternoon out. The rejuvenation has been complete, and a most extraordinary job has been successfully accomplished; the octave is most musical, and, although the tenor now weighs only 10½ cwt., there is a wonderful depth of tone which gives one the impression that their weight has been increased and not reduced. A visit into the tower gives one a good idea of the difficulties under which the hangers had to work; the new framework is a neat job, and its construction is most ingenious.

Of the Hodnet bells little need be said here, as a full report has appeared in these columns recently. The octave at Market Drayton has had its long promised 'birthday,' and is now completely 'Taylorised,' as also is the six at Kids Grove, full particulars of which have already been given. At this latter church the authorities are to be complimented on their fine achievement. Previously, the sound which came from the tower was a splendid imitation of kitchen utensils being thrown about by an angry ringer's wife on his return home from a 'ringing tour,' but now all is harmony, the peal having been recast and increased in weight.

As the Bishop of Stafford said at Market Drayton, 'the Lichfield Diocese is rich in bells,' but it is also richer by the fact that its bells are looked after, as this short review of work carried out in twelve months in such a small area shows, and indicates quite clearly what can be done by a determined effort.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting was held at Gamlingay on Saturday week. There was a very poor attendance from the Ely Archdeaconry, but members from the Huntingdon District and friends from Bedfordshire saved the situation. The following towers were represented: Biggleswade, Clifton, Fulbourn, Gamlingay, Great Staughton, Haslow, Kempston, Potton, Sawston and Trumpington.

A service was conducted by Mr. Daniels (lay reader, in the absence of the Vicar), who gave a very interesting address. The services of the organist and choir were greatly appreciated.

Tea followed at the Cock Hotel, and, as this was a by-meeting, no business had to be transacted. Mr. Hurry proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Daniels for conducting the service, also to the organist and choir.

The tower was again visited, various methods being rung, in the course of which one ringer scored his first course of Cambridge Surprise, and another his first touch of Woodbine.

THAT SECRETARIES' PEAL!'W.S.' IS ANNOYED WITH 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

'W.S.', who called over the coals those secretaries who rang a peal together on March 21st, when, in the areas of some of them, district meetings were being held, is obviously annoyed with 'The Ringing World.' 'It is tragic,' he writes, 'when the editor of a paper devoted to Church work descends to such piffle about "tunnel vision" and "limited outlook." Abuse is no argument, and the Church teaching behoves its members to set a better standard than the so-called reply in yours of the 10th. It is a good specimen of a "twist" and an attempt to side track, but it will not alter facts. I pointed out quite fairly, with (sic) any uncalled for remarks, things that were justified, and they were backed up by extracts from your own paper. Your reply only dealt with part, and you preferred to give a distorted view of the subject rather than print the whole. I do not expect anyone in the peal ringing portion of the Exercise to give up their peals, but I do expect them to refrain from telling the others what they should or should not do,' . . . and so on.

We do not think we twisted any facts when we pointed out that Mr. C. T. Coles is as much a general secretary of his association as any secretary of an association can well be, and whether our reply was 'tragic' and 'piffle' depends, in our view, upon how you look at it: whether you look at it, as it were, as part of the general landscape, or whether you look at it through a tunnel.

If only a portion of the original letter from 'W. S.' was dealt with it was because it was really the only germane part. The complaint was against Guild officers who had 'asked and appealed for loyal support at meetings,' and who 'should put their own house in order first.' The fact that other ringers rang peals on the days when their associations were holding district meetings was in the mind of 'W. S.' when he wrote his first letter—the cuttings which he sent with it proved this—but as these ringers have never, as far as we know, made any appeal for loyal support at meetings, they were hardly the culprits—it was the secretaries who were the real offenders. And, as for our reply, did we not tell them to sit up and take notice of 'W. S.'s' complaint? And have they not sat up and taken notice? The offender-in-chief tells us that he nearly sat up all one night to take notice of it, but thought better of it and went to bed. He also tells us that if he guesses aright the identity of 'W. S.' (this secret is locked securely in the editorial bosom), then 'W. S.' does not attend the meetings of the Guild, in whose area he lives, even when he has not got a peal on.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.PRESENTATION TO MR. WILLIAM ELLIOTT.

A meeting of the Northern Division of the Essex Association was held at Kelvedon on Saturday, May 2nd. An ideal spring day encouraged members from near and far, and they enjoyed some excellent striking on the fine old peal of six (tenor 21 cwt.), the heaviest in the county. A service was held in the church at 4.30 p.m., conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. R. W. Croft, who gave a very interesting address. Mr. C. H. Howard (Master) read the lesson. After the service, the Vicar kindly invited all ringers to an excellent tea at the Vicarage, and 52 took advantage of his kind hospitality.

At the business meeting which followed, the District Master (Mr. A. A. Saunders) took the chair. Mr. F. Hunt, Earls Colne, was unanimously elected an hon. life member of the association. Two ringing members and two probationers were also elected from Dunmow. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Great Bardfield on July 25th.

After thanking the Vicar for his excellent address, and the organist for his services, Mr. Howard thanked the Vicar for the bountiful tea, and wished his thanks to be extended to Mrs. Croft and the ladies who had assisted in preparing it. Continuing, Mr. Howard said the association always got a good reception at Kelvedon, and they were all most grateful for what had been done for them. They were also indebted to Mr. Elliott for the arrangements he had made (applause). He was pleased to see Mr. Moss there from Mistley. He had been indisposed for some long time, and they hoped he would soon be restored to his normal health. He was also glad to see Mr. W. Keeble, who had not enjoyed the best of health lately. They had missed his name in the peal reports, but now that he had improved they hoped he would be able to carry on the good work for a considerable time.—Mr. Moss and Mr. Keeble returned thanks.

The Vicar, in reply, acknowledged the thanks, and added a little testimony to Mr. Elliott for all he had done in the belfry and teaching a young band. Mr. Elliott was then handed a copy of 'The history and art of change ringing' (by Ernest Morris), with the following inscribed therein: 'To William Elliott, as a small but grateful recognition for his splendid work for the Church as a bellringer for over 50 years. A. W. Croft, Vicar, May 2nd, 1931.'—Mr. Elliott suitably replied amid loud applause.

Fearing bells were available during the evening, and various touches were rung, including London Surprise Major.

OVER, CAMBS.—For morning service, Sunday, May 3rd, at the Parish Church, 720 Kent Treble Bob: M. Ginn 1, G. Whybrow 2, D. Adams 3, R. Thoday 4, C. Robinson 5, F. Warrington 6.

THE STEDMAN TRICENTENARY.

PROGRESS OF THE RESTORATION FUND.

The fund for the restoration of the bells of St. Benet's Church, Cambridge, to commemorate the tricentenary of the birth of Fabian Stedman is already making good headway, and the appeal to the Exercise will be formally launched in a few days. It is expected that a sum in the neighbourhood of £350 will be required to put the bells in order, and the money will have to be raised quickly if the work is to be carried through and the re-opening is to take place by the end of the summer. The amount required must be promised before any order for the work can be given, for, obviously, no one in a scheme of this description can undertake a guarantee. The campaign to raise the funds, therefore, will have to be an intensive one. The preliminaries are being arranged, and we hope to make a full announcement next week.

Meanwhile, the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association last Saturday voted three guineas, which brings the amount promised by associations up to £34 19s., in addition to which the committee of the Oxford Diocesan Guild will recommend a grant of £10; and the Suffolk, Warwickshire and Lincoln Diocesan Guilds propose to take action to subscribe to the fund.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The five bells at Broadwoodkelly, Devon, have been recast into a ring of six by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston and were rededicated on Saturday.

His many friends will regret to learn that Mr. James George, who has been unwell for some months, has had a relapse, having been attacked by influenza. His name is being missed from our peal columns, and everyone will hope that he may soon be fully restored to health and once more at work at the rope end.

Mr. George Williams, the popular Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, was 74 yesterday.

Next Monday is the anniversary of the 14,112 London Surprise Major rung at King's Norton in 8 hrs. 40 mins. in 1903.

The ringers of Over, Cambs, are raising funds for one bell in the coming augmentation, and hope to dedicate it to the memory of the late Rev. H. B. Woolley. To save any misunderstanding that may arise, this is purely a local effort and should in no way affect the official scheme.

A grandfathers' attempt for a peal of Stedman Triples was lost at Irthingborough on Saturday week in the 59th course. Doubtless, however, these eight 'grandads' will have another shot and show that there's life in the old boys yet.

Little Girl (telling her parents about party): 'And then Mr. Morris recited "Curse you." Mother: "'Curse you"?' Little Girl: 'Yes. "Curse you shall not ring to-night."'

THE PROPOSED OUTING TO BELGIUM.

Will those ringers who are still considering the above outing to Ypres in August, please make their decision now and notify me at once, and oblige.—W. Willson, 3, Winchester Avenue, Leicester.

RINGER'S GIFT TO HIS PARISH CHURCH.

A NEW CLOCK FOR BANSTEAD, SURREY.

A new church clock is now being fixed in the tower of Banstead Church, Surrey, which is to be dedicated on May 23rd. The clock strikes the hours on the tenor bell and chimes the Cambridge chime quarters on four other bells of the peal of eight.

The time is shown on three skeleton dials of a special design, made of solid bronze, the whole of which is gilt with best English transfer gold leaf, together with the hands, which are also of a special design.

Owing to the construction of the tower a special chamber for the clock had to be made above the bells, leading down to the dials below, which are fixed in front of the lancet windows.

The donor of the clock is a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, of the Surrey Association and of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, and is a regular member of the band at Banstead Parish Church.

Everything in connection with the clock is of the highest possible quality and workmanship, and has been made by J. B. Joyce and Co., Ltd., Whitchurch, Shropshire.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS, 1750-1788.

BY J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

III. THE SOCIETY'S RECORDS.

Annabie was scarcely in his grave before the trouble which had long been brewing came to a head. Divisions arose which split the Society in two and came nigh to wrecking it entirely. Osborn says the cause is unknown, but there is evidence enough for us to make a pretty accurate guess. We know enough of human nature in general and ringers in particular to be sure that there was in these old societies a good deal of rivalry and clash of personal ambition. The many times men changed from one company to another shows that.

When I find that after Annabie has called every peal during six years, John Cundell called three in which Annabie did not ring, and, later on, Annabie called several in which Cundell did not ring, I suspect rivalry between the two. Then I find John Holt, Annabie's biggest rival, joining the Society and Cundell as his chief supporter. Holt prepares to issue his broadsheet by subscription from the College Youths in the face of Annabie's opposition and disapproval, and Cundell's is the address where it may be bought. I look through the subscription list and I find the names, so far as I can trace them, are either those of old and well-to-do members who have ceased to take any active part in ringing, like Thomas Lester, the bell founder, William Skelton, the lawyer, John Hardham, and William Oram; or else they are men like William Underwood, who have been with Holt in the Union Scholars' Company, or Killican, who had joined the College Youths with him.

Here is evidence of division among the members, and all the time another and more active society was watching and waiting to profit by any dissensions among them. Then Annabie dies, his strong control has ceased, there is no man big enough to take his place, and in the struggle that follows the Society is split in twain.

Two important results followed. One was the formation of one of the most brilliant companies in the history of ringing; and the other that the College Youths lost all their old peal books and records. The Society has been very unfortunate in the matter of its records. The peal books of most of the other old London societies — the Union Scholars, the Eastern Scholars, the London Youths, and the Cumberland Youths—have come down to us intact. But all the old College Youths books are gone. The Society possesses a book with a register of names from 1637 and a record of peals from 1724 to 1753. It is an old document, but not the original. It is a copy made for a Mr. Blackwell, of Ampney Park, near Cirencester, a member of the Society. Dr. Raven, in his 'Bells of England,' says the list of names is in the British Museum; but on turning it up I find that it, too, is a copy; in fact, a copy of the Society's copy.

The peal book which contains the records of the years about which I am going to write dates only from 1843. It consists partly of sheets from two old books (contemporary with the peals rung) and partly of newly written sheets to replace destroyed ones. There is no question that the records are accurate, but they are not always first hand contemporary evidence. There is only one book, and that a fragment, which still exists of those belonging to the College Youths of Annabie's time. This is possibly the book to which Shipway refers when he wrote—"a book containing memorials of the society in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries after escaping the ravages of the fire of London has been unaccountably lost" (Note 5).

The book (it is before me as I write) is in manuscript, folio size, and consists of twenty-six leaves, some badly damaged and not always bound up in the right order. It is obviously the remains of a larger book. It contains seventy-six Four-and-Twenties on four bells and ten Six-scores in different methods of Doubles; but no Six-bell methods. Then follow the records of peals rung from 1726 to 1745 numbered 9 to 57. Then some touches of Grandsire Triples and then the second half of Holt's Ten-part written out in full by the lead-ends. The page with the first half has disappeared. The appearance of this peal here is interesting. It clearly shows that Annabie's 'not Encouraging' of Holt's broadsheet was not (as usually said) because he objected to the peals, but because he objected to Holt's presence in the College Youths' Society.

The book has leads and touches of Grandsire Caters, Union Triples and Caters, a lead of College Triples and two 5,040's of Bob Major. One is a Three-part with every lead written out in full. This was the Sixth twelve times home. The other is Annabie's well-known Three-part. There are also directions how to get a 40,320 of Bob Major. After giving the last four methods on four bells, there is this note, 'These four (which are the last I shall prick) Mr. Annabie says he prickt to make up just 120; and although this number is much greater than has been generally allowed by most Ringers, yet he further says he believe's there may be prickt, by various Methods with one plain Hunt in them 192, without those which every Bell are alike' (Note 6).

When I first inspected the book I thought it might be the work of Annabie, but this note proves that it is not his. It is evidently the official book kept by the Society to record their performances and methods. The peals were afterwards written into a formal peal book by a man named James Albion, who did this work for most of the London societies at that time.

Albion was elected a member of the Union Scholars in 1747 and rang in several of their peals, including the 'Original' at Westminster. In 1754 he left London and went and lived at Bath, where he was appointed master of a large school. He probably took this book with him, for it was found there many years later. On December 9th, 1754, he rang a peal of 'Union Tripples' with the Bath ringers.

This manuscript seems to have been unknown to Jasper Snowden and the other people who have written on the history of ringing.

NOTE 5. Shipway obviously means the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, not the sixteenth and seventeenth. This book, or what remains of it, is certainly not so old as the fire of London, 1666.

NOTE 6. It is interesting to compare this note with the following entry in Annabie's own notebook: 'These four I prickt to Make up Just 120 which has Convinced me that there are a Great Many More prickt then (sic) there has been allow'd by Most of the Ringers in London, and I do believe there is to be prickt by Methods with one Plain hunt in them 192 without those which every Bell are alike.'

NATIONAL GUILD OF POLICE RINGERS.

After an unsuccessful attempt for a peal of Bob Major at St. George-the-Martyr, Southwark, on St. George's Day, April 23rd, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (1,260 changes) was rung in 42 mins. by the following members of the National Guild of Police Ringers: P.C. Thomas Bannister (Metropolitan Police) 1, ex-P.O. Ernest Brett (Metropolitan Police) 2, Sergt. George Schleuter (Metropolitan Police) 3, P.C. Frederick Digby (Metropolitan Police) 4, P.C. Edward Holt (Metropolitan Police) 5, Sergt. Albert Lawrence (Herts Constabulary) 6, P.C. Walter Claydon (Reigate Borough Police) (conductor) 7, P.C. Norman Bagworth (Metropolitan Police) 8.

A DIAMOND JUBILEE.

OPENING OF SAWBRIDGEWORTH BELLS COMMEMORATED.

The Parish Church of Great St. Mary, Sawbridgeworth, Herts, has a grand peal of eight bells, tenor 25 cwt. When the church inventory was taken in 1552, Sawbridgeworth possessed 'five great bells,' the 2nd and 4th probably having been cast by John Tonne in London about 1510. The treble of the old five was recast by Phelps in 1728, and the 3rd by Phelps in 1733. A new treble was added in 1749 by Thos. Lester, making a peal of six, and in 1795 the famous John Briant, of Hertford, recast the tenor.

In 1870, Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, were called in to put the peal in order. The old 2, 3, 4 and 5 were recast, and in 1871 two new trebles were added to complete the octave, the bells now being dated: Treble and 2nd, Taylor, 1871; 3rd, T. Lester, 1749; 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th, Taylor, 1870; tenor, J. Briant, 1795.

This augmented peal was opened on April 11th, 1871, with a 'great ringing day' by Squire Leonard Proctor and his famous band, who rang on the bells Grandsire Tripples, Bob Major, Oxford Treble Bob, Kent Treble Bob Major, Stedman Tripples, Superlative Surprise, Double Norwich and London Surprise Major, which is recorded on a board in the ringing chamber.

The Church of Great St. Mary, Sawbridgeworth.

The first peal rung on the octave was in 1881, this being a peal of Grandsire Tripples.

Church bells are specially for the purpose of calling people to worship, but there are other suitable times for the ringing of church bells. Saturday, April 11th, 1931, was such an appropriate occasion, it being the 60th anniversary of the opening of the peal.

Sawbridgeworth is fortunate in having a very distinguished Vicar, the Rev. T. S. Goudge, M.A., D.S.O., who, on being approached with regard to the ringing of the bells in a peal to celebrate the 'diamond jubilee,' readily gave consent, and put a notice of the anniversary and peal attempt in his parish magazine, while Mr. Harris, one of the oldest residents, whose father was largely instrumental in having the peal augmented sixty years ago, expressed a wish to entertain the ringers to supper after the peal attempt.

Ringers from Essex, Herts and Kent were welcomed in the belfry by the Vicar and the churchwarden, Mr. Morris (also a ringer), who wished success to the attempt.

A good start was made for the 'Original' under the conductorship of the 'Kentish man.' Unfortunately, the peal came to grief after ringing 3,260 changes in 2 hrs. 10 mins., but great credit is due to the local man, A. Levey, in his first attempt.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

GRANT TO STEDMAN TERCENTENARY FUND.

A very pleasant and enjoyable meeting was held at Whitechurch, near Cardiff, on Saturday last. The bells, a ring of six, were raised about three o'clock, and kept going in various methods until 4.30, when service was held, the curate (the Rev. C. G. Jones Evans), in the unavoidable absence of the Vicar, officiating and giving a very interesting address. Immediately following the service, tea, generously provided by the Vicar and churchwardens, was served. The Rev. C. G. Jones Evans presided over the business meeting, and at the outset, on behalf of the Vicar, heartily welcomed the association to the parish.

Various items were discussed arising out of the minutes, chiefly in reference to proposed restorations and instruction. It was stated that owing to the tower having large louvres, thus causing the sound of the bells to be rather deafening, a gentleman had promised to give ten pounds towards remedying this, if it was possible. It was therefore recommended to the Vicar that the louvres should be bricked up.

The hon. secretary read the letters he had received and the prospectus describing the interesting work by Mr. Ernest Morris, 'The history and art of change ringing,' and it was unanimously decided that the association purchase a copy.

The hon. secretary also explained the proposal to celebrate the tercentenary of Fabian Stedman's birth by restoring the bells on which he rang at St. Benet's Church, Cambridge. It was then unanimously resolved that the association subscribe three guineas to the fund.

It was decided to hold the next Glamorgan meeting at Cowbridge. Quite a number of new members were elected from Abergavenny, Blenavon, Trevechin, Newport, Chepstow and Llanarth.

A letter was read from Pentre tower in reference to ringing at the Cathedral on the day of the enthronement of the new Bishop, and after discussion it was left in the hands of Mr. E. Coombes to arrange with the Dean. Various minor items were discussed, and after the usual votes of thanks the meeting closed, and the bells afterwards rung, bringing to a close a very successful meeting.

ROMNEY MARSH & DISTRICT GUILD.

The April meeting of the Guild was held at Hawkhurst, which proved a very popular venue. The local band had everything in readiness, and ringing in most of the standard methods was carried on until 4.30, when the Guild service was conducted by the Vicar, who also gave an address, and extended a hearty welcome to the Guild. Tea was served at the Eight Bells Hotel, the well-laden tables proving welcome in contrast to the cold wind and rain outdoors. Owing to the unavoidable absence of the Vicar, the Guild Master presided at the business meeting.

Woodchurch was chosen for the next meeting on May 16th, and an invitation from the Rev. G. S. Long to visit Aldington on May 30th for Mr. Slingsby's 94th birthday was accepted with thanks.

Mr. C. Tribe extended a hearty welcome to members of the Hastings and District Guild, and hoped that at some future date a joint meeting of the two Guilds would be held, when opinions could be exchanged, which would perhaps be of great benefit to the Guilds and also to the objects they stood for.—The Rev. N. E. Hope briefly replied.

Seven new members were elected. The Guild Master congratulated Mr. Cyril Brown on conducting his first peal, and also the conductor and the whole band who rang the first peal of Grandsire Cinques for the Kent County and the Guild at Quex Park.—The hon. secretary thanked the local secretary for the arrangements made, and said that the tea was one of the best they had had at a Guild meeting.

The towers represented by the thirty members presente were Ashford, Kennington, Egerton, Tenterden, Stone, Frittenden, Rolvenden, Beenden, Lamberhurst, Salehurst, Hastings, and the local band. Grandsire Triples and Doubles were rung on handbells, and further ringing afterwards took place in the tower.

After the failure, the band were met by Mr. Morris, Mr. W. Turling and the local ringers, and sat down to a splendid supper, Mr. Morris presiding.

At the conclusion the conductor proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Harris for his kindly thought and interest in the ringers and ringing, and expressed regret at his inability to be present. The conductor also asked that an appeal be made to the young men of Sawbridgeworth to come forward, and hoped that some would respond in order to keep the art alive in the town, especially with such a grand ring of bells.

Mr. Churchwarden Morris said he would be pleased to convey the thanks of the ringers to Mr. Harris, who was now 80 years of age, and remembered well the opening of the bells. Mr. Morris added that he and the Vicar would do everything possible to get the young men to learn change ringing.

All good things come to an end, and, train time having arrived all too quickly, the two Essex men and the Kentish man bade farewell to the company, after spending a most enjoyable time.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.THE NEW PRESIDENT.

The Rev. A. Rust, of Husborne Crawley, was elected president of the Bedfordshire Association on Easter Monday, in succession to the late Canon W. W. C. Baker. The occasion was the 49th annual meeting, held at Bedford, when there was a representative gathering of ringers present from the county and surrounding districts.

In proposing the Rev. A. Rust as president, Miss Steel (one of the vice-presidents) said the association had lost a valuable president and friend in Canon Baker, but she hoped Mr. Rust would prove a worthy successor.—Mr. Herbert seconded, and it was carried unanimously.

The Rev. A. Rust, in returning thanks for his election, said it was a tremendous compliment to ask him to fill the place left vacant by the death of their old friend, Canon Baker. It was not mock modesty on his part when he said he did not feel qualified to step into his place. Mr. Rust said he had not lost his interest in ringing, or in the association, of which he had been a member for 28 years, but he felt he had a difficult part to play in following such a man as the late Canon Baker, but he would do his best to justify their confidence in him (applause).

The following were elected as vice-presidents: Miss Evelyn Steel (Bedford), Mr. A. King (Luton), Mr. C. Herbert (Woburn), Mr. J. Nicholls (Leighton Buzzard); auditor, Mr. E. Herbert; secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. E. Sharnian; representatives on Central Council, Messrs. A. E. Sharnian and A. King.

THE LATE CANON BAKER'S WORK.

The following report was submitted by the Rev. A. Rust on behalf of the committee: 'In presenting this our 48th annual report, the thought uppermost in our minds is the irreparable loss this association has sustained during the past year by the passing of Canon W. W. C. Baker, our president. It seems almost impossible to imagine the Beds. Association without him to help to guide its destinies, as we find his name in every report hitherto issued by the association. The first as an undergraduate on the committee, afterwards many years secretary, and since April 17th, 1911, president. A wonderful record of unbroken and unselfish service to the members of your association. Many members attended the funeral at Southill. Your association sent a wreath. Muffled peals were also rung at several churches in the county. We also regret to record the deaths of Mr. H. Cockings, of Stagsden, and Mr. W. Cooper, of Sharnbrook. May they rest in peace. The year has otherwise been marked by much good work in all districts. Over thirty meetings have been held in different towers in the county. It is most gratifying to record that for the first time ringing members have topped the 200 mark. The peals rung show a slight decrease on the previous year. It is pleasing to note though, that many first peals and first in various methods have been scored by the younger members. This speaks of progress. The summer festival was held at Cardington, where we received a warm welcome, a good attendance spending an enjoyable afternoon. In conclusion, we again wish to thank the clergy for so readily granting members the use of bells for meetings and peals; our hon. members for their valued help and support. And would once again emphasise to all members the importance of loyalty in the success of the association. No society can prosper without the loyalty of its members. It is the secret where success depends on co-operation.'

SUGGESTED MEMORIAL.

In proposing the adoption of the report, the President again referred to the loss sustained by the death of Canon Baker. He said it was not possible to express in words what the loss meant to the association. His work was well done, and they should think of him now as enjoying a well-earned rest. He suggested that the secretary should write to Mrs. Baker expressing the sorrow of the association at his death.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Sharnian said it had been suggested that the association should try to raise a memorial to their late president, and he thought a suitable one would be to raise sufficient money to place two additional bells in the tower at Dunstable. The probable cost would be about £200.

This was seconded and carried.

As next March would be the 50th anniversary of the formation of the association, it was decided to leave a suitable form of commemoration to be arranged by the committee.

A resolution was passed that the association should be affiliated with the Central Council and loyally abide by its rules and decisions.

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Rev. Canon Robins (St. Paul's) and the Rev. F. M. Squibb (St. Peter's) for the use of the towers.

During the day ringing in various methods was enjoyed by the members on the bells at St. Paul's and St. Peter's Churches.

First quarter-peal of Doubles on the bells. First quarter-peal by ringers of 1, 2, 3 and 4, who are Sunday ringers at the above church. Ringers of 5 and 6 are from Egremont.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A successful meeting of the South and West District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held at Heston on Saturday, when a company of 34 assembled, representing eleven towers. Mr. Goodfellow (Ringing Master) set the bells going shortly after 3 p.m., and methods practised during the meeting were Grandsire, Stedman, and Oxford Bob Triples, Crayford, College, Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge and London Surprise Major.

The visitors were entertained to an excellent tea by the Heston band in the Church Hall. The Rev. George Craggs (Vicar) presided, supported by Mr. J. A. Trollope (vice-president), the Ringing Master, and an old and esteemed member of the Heston band, Mr. Carter. The Vicar gave the association a hearty welcome, and said how pleased he would be to welcome them there at any time.

Business followed tea, when the Vicar vacated the chair in favour of the vice-president.

It was announced that the dedication of the two new bells at Isleworth would take place on June 13th by the Bishop of Kensington, details as to which will appear in 'The Ringing World' later. The July meeting is to be held at Ruislip.

The hon. secretary was requested to send letters of sympathy to Mr. Hunnisett, of Ealing, and Mr. Baldwin, of St. John's, Hillingdon, the former being seriously ill at home, and the latter awaiting an operation in King Edward's Hospital, Ealing. The company wished them both a speedy recovery. A vote of condolence and sympathy was offered to Lady Clarke and family in their bereavement by the death of Sir Edward Clarke, who gave the bells at St. Peter's, Staines.

A vote of congratulation was accorded to Mr. Tom Beadle on his 81st birthday, and, a plate being placed on the table on his behalf, 14s. was deposited therein.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar, to the Heston band for their kind hospitality, which was much appreciated by all, and to their wives, viz., Mrs. Bird, Mrs. Chandler, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Gladman and Mrs. Cattermole, for their untiring efforts in doing all they possibly could for the comfort of the company.

The tower was again visited, and ringing indulged in till 9 p.m., when a pleasant and enjoyable meeting came to an end.

A CURTAILED MEETING.

The North and East District meeting, held at Pinner on Saturday week, might have been a great success, but circumstances were against it. First, the rain! This undoubtedly kept many away, and consequently the attendance only just reached the thirty mark. Then just before tea time a request came that the bells should cease ringing because of illness near by. As it was elicited that this was a genuine case, no more ringing was done. Up to this point matters had gone very well, and several good touches, from Grandsire Triples to Spliced Surprise Major, had been rung. The few minutes before tea time were spent in ringing a course of London Surprise Major on the handbells, in which a very welcome visitor, Mr. T. T. Gofton, of Whitley Bay, took part. No doubt even such good ringers as the brothers Pye find it difficult to ring London double-handed, when out of practice, but it was a good course until the last few changes. Mr. C. C. Mayne rang the tenors quite well, and should do better with a little practice.

After a good tea, the company attended evensong, which was taken by the Vicar (Rev. C. E. A. Rowland). Afterwards the usual business meeting was held. Two members were elected, and it was announced that the new trebles at Isleworth would be dedicated on Saturday, June 13th. The arrangements for the next district meeting were left in the hands of the hon. secretary.

After the usual votes of thanks to the Vicar, and to Mr. R. H. Colyer for arranging the meeting, the proceedings terminated, and members went home early for a change!

METHOD EXTENSIONS.To the Editor.

Sir,—The correctness or otherwise of extensions continues to be purely a matter of individual opinion, generally of a contradictory nature.

The time has long been ripe for the Central Council to, at least, consider formulating rules and regulations to which such extensions as do conform to them will be officially recognised.

At the forthcoming annual meeting of the Central Council opportunity might be taken to give this matter a practical turn with a view to its ultimate settlement, by the setting up of a small committee empowered to collect, analyse, and report upon such evidence as is available to the next annual meeting. While unanimity may not be a feature of the report, we, of the rank and file, would at least feel that representatives had at least made an honest effort to put this debatable subject on a basis of common understanding.

Yours truly,

Dunedin, New Zealand.

JAMES S. WILDE.

HOUSLOW.—On Sunday, May 3rd, for evening service, 720 Bob Minor in 24 mins.: C. Gash 1, E. Lubbock 2, W. H. Stevens, I.S.O., 3, W. F. Ellingham 4, C. J. Tricker (conductor) 5, J. P. Kent 6.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.A MEMORIAL GIFT TO THE DERBY DISTRICT.

Ockbrook is a village situated some five or six miles east of Derby in the southern division of the county, and the Church of All Saints is a building of stone, consisting of chancel, nave, and a western tower with low octagonal spire, restored in 1894, which contains six bells, one of which is dated 1653, and two others 1664, the three trebles being a recent addition. A new font was placed in the church in 1878, although an older one of the 12th century exists. The stained east window represents the four Evangelists, and was brought from the Wigston Hospital, Leicestershire.

Such is the place chosen by members of the Derby District of the M.C.A. for their first quarterly meeting of the year, members being present from the various towers to keep the bells going to different methods, including Bob Minor, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Cambridge and London Surprise.

At the tea and business meeting, which was held in the Church Room presided over by Mr. Henry Fletcher, the members were pleased to welcome Mrs. R. B. Chambers and Rev. F. C. Bayliss, her brother. Tea being disposed of, a very pleasing ceremony took place. Mrs. Chambers presented to the members of the district a copy of the book, 'The history and art of change ringing,' by Ernest Morris, of Leicester, the general hon. secretary of the M.C.A., asking them to accept the same in memory of her late husband, Ald. R. B. Chambers. She had written a suitable inscription in the book as follows:—

'The Midland Counties Association of Change Ringers (Derby Branch).
In Memoriam.

Robert Baker Chambers.

President 1920. At rest 1928.

Ring in the valiant man and true,
The larger heart, the kindlier hand,
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ that is to be.

Presented by Mrs. Chambers, May 2nd, 1931.

In a few suitable words, Mr. C. Draper, on behalf of the members, thanked Mrs. Chambers for her kindness in providing the district with so valuable a gift.

PEAK DISTRICT.

A very pleasant meeting of the Peak District was held at Youlgreave on Saturday, April 18th. About eighteen ringers were present from Baslow, Bakewell, Chester, Darley Dale, Dore, Eyam, Farndon, Pulford, and Youlgreave. The fine peal of eight bells (tenor 27 cwt.) were raised at 3 p.m., and some good ringing was accomplished in Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, and Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Major.

A substantial tea at an inn nearby was followed by an informal business meeting presided over by the Rev. W. P. Wright, of Eyam. It was arranged, if possible, to hold the next meeting at Hathersage on May 23rd, where an invitation to tea has been kindly extended to all members by Mr. H. Newbery. One new member, Miss J. Dugdell, of Dore, was elected, and the usual votes of thanks closed the proceedings.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

The spring meeting of the Cheltenham Branch was held at Withington on Saturday, April 25th, in very inclement weather. Mr. Jesse Gillot, who has been resident in Gloucester for forty years, took this opportunity to visit his native Cotswold village. Mr. J. H. Shepherd, of Swindon, was also a welcome visitor.

The members were welcomed at the church by the Rector (Rev. D. Austin Fisher) and the local ringers, and the bells were set going in various methods, everyone being agreeably surprised at the 'go' of the bells.

The Rector conducted the service, and gave an excellent address. Mr. John Harper, of Cheltenham, kindly presided at the organ. Tea was served at the Mill Inn, an old-fashioned hostelry, with its wide open fireplace, and an array of churchwarden pipes hung on the walls.

At the business meeting the Rector presided over a gathering of some 26 members, representing the following towers of the branch: Cheltenham (St. Mark's), Badgeworth, Elkstone, Prestbury, Swindon, Leckhampton and Withington.

Rev. D. Austin Fisher was elected an hon. member, and Mr. T. S. Williams a performing member.

Members stood for a few moments in silence as a mark of respect to the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies.

Winchcombe was selected for the next meeting. A hearty vote of thanks was given to the Rector and to the local ringers for their hearty welcome. The Rector expressed his pleasure at having the members at Withington.

The tower was again visited, when the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clements, of Bourton, was more than welcome. The meeting proved most enjoyable, despite the bad weather.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Central Division was held at Southover, Lewes, on Saturday, April 25th, and, although the weather was very unsettled, the numbers steadily increased until the company numbered over forty. The tower of St. John-the-Baptist's Church was open at 2.30, and ringing continued until 4.30, when a special service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. D. G. Matthews, who gave a most excellent discourse on 'Manliness,' illustrated by various notable examples. The company then adjourned to the Church Hall, where an excellent tea had been provided. The usual business meeting followed, the Rector presiding, supported by the Master, Mr. J. Thornton Rickman. One new tower (Upper Beeding) having become affiliated, the whole of the members were elected to membership. The election of Mr. W. J. Rawlings, Beckingham, Kent, as a non-resident member was confirmed.

All the officers of the division were re-elected, viz.: Hon. secretary, Mr. A. D. Stone; committee, Messrs. J. A. Hart, J. Wren, and G. Apps; Committee of Advice, Messrs. Keith Hart, F. Bennett and C. Tyler. The meeting concluded with the Master proposing a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, the service and address, and to the organist who so ably accompanied the singing. Thanks are also due to the Southover Branch for their kind assistance in arranging the meeting.

The ringing ranged from Grandsire Triples to London Surprise Major and Cambridge Royal, and a very fair standard of ringing was maintained. The following towers were represented: Boxhill, Brighton (St. Peter's, St. Nicholas), The Good Shepherd, Crawley, Cuckfield, Eastbourne, East Grinstead, Hurstpierpoint, Keymer, Lindfield, Seaford and Lewes (Southover).

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.JUDGE ELECTED BRANCH CHAIRMAN.

The annual meeting of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch seems to lose none of its attractions, for, although the weather was most unkind, over seventy persons attended the Guild service at Windsor Parish Church on Saturday week, when the Vicar, Rev. C. H. Hamilton, M.A., welcomed the branch and gave an interesting address from the text, 'Make ye two trumpets of silver.'

An excellent tea was enjoyed by all, and about 100 were present for the business meeting, which was preceded by some Stedman Triples on handbells. The Master of the Guild, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, M.A., M.C., made a short reference to the loss that the branch had sustained by the death of the chairman, Rev. W. S. Riddelsdell, M.A., the whole gathering standing in silence for a few moments.

The election of a chairman for the meeting was combined with that of chairman of the branch for the ensuing year, a unanimous vote being accorded to the Hon. Sir Charles A. Bennett, one of His Majesty's judges, who has been an interested member of the branch for many years. The other officers were re-elected, viz., Branch secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. D. Barker; Branch Ringing Master, Mr. T. J. Fowler; branch representatives for general committee, Mrs. A. D. Barker and Messrs. T. J. Fowler, J. L. Kirk, W. E. Taylor and J. C. Truss.

The statement of accounts showed a balance in hand of £17 17s. 10d., an increase on the year's working of £2 17s. 11d.

The election of a goodly number of new members during the year was confirmed, and a new band from Braywood, together with their Vicar, were elected. The Master, general secretary and general treasurer all thanked the members of the branch for their welcome, and congratulated them on their many successes and speedy conclusion of the business.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar, organist, chairman and Mr. T. Smith, who were responsible for the excellent arrangements.

A large number enjoyed touches in various methods, including London, Bristol and Cambridge, ringing being continued up to 9 p.m.

DEATH OF AN OLD SUSSEX RINGER.AN ORIGINAL MEMBER OF THE COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The Sussex County Association has lost, through the death of Mr. William Short, another of its original members. As captain of the Warnham band when the association was formed in 1835, Mr. Short at once became a most active leader in the north-western area, taking part in a large number of the early peals, and also giving assistance to other towers in the neighbourhood. Though prevented for some years, by a painful illness, from taking any active part in ringing, his interest in the art retained its keenness to the last, and any ringing information was always appreciated. He was also a member of the Winchester Diocesan Guild, the Surrey County Association, and the Ancient Society of College Youths, and took part in about 170 peals, including 10,176 Kent Treble Bob, 6,720 Bob Major, 6,720 Canterbury Pleasure, and the record length 13,440 in that method.

The interment took place on Monday in the shadow of the tower where he had taken part in so many peals. As the mourners left the graveside, the bells pealed out in muffled tones, members of the local band and representatives from Slinfield, Horsham, Lower Beeding and Itchingfield taking part in several touches.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.DORCHESTER BRANCH MEETING IN THE FROME VALLEY.

The quarterly meeting of the Dorchester Branch was held at Sydling on Saturday last, the towers represented being Bradford Peverell, Dorchester (St. Peter's), Frampton, Sydling, Wool, Wyke Regis, Upwey and Maiden Newton. The North Dorset Branch was also represented by Kingston Magna and Mere and the West Dorset Branch by Evershot. A number of ringers and friends took advantage of the motor coach that was run from Weymouth, and stepped for a short ring at Stratton on the way.

On arrival at Sydling the party were met by the Vicar (the Rev. Wynn Werninck) and given a warm welcome. The bells were then made good use of until 4.30, when the Guild Office was conducted in the church by the Vicar, assisted by the Rev. A. S. Bryant (Rector of Upwey), several of the parishioners attending the service. The Vicar gave a most inspiring address, taking as his text, 'Whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.' Following the service, the ringers adjourned to the Parish Hall, where a bounteous tea (kindly provided by the Vicar) was partaken of, members and friends to the number of sixty being waited on by a willing band of ladies under Mrs. E. Ashburnham and Miss Wynn Werninck. After tea, a short business meeting was held, presided over by the chairman of the branch (Mr. R. N. Dawes), who was supported by the Rector of Maiden Newton (Rev. B. L. Langham), the Rev. Wynn Werninck and the Rev. A. S. Bryant. Others present included Mr. J. T. Godwin (churchwarden, St. Peter's, Dorchester) and Captain A. Wheeler (churchwarden, Wyke Regis). Sympathetic reference was made by the chairman to the death of an old member, namely, Mr. Harry Cozens, who had been a ringer at Abbotsbury for over fifty years, and who passed away on Palm Sunday. The company then stood in respectful silence.

Six new members were elected, and it was resolved to hold the next quarterly meeting at Upwey and also a combined summer gathering with the Wimborne Branch at Milton Abbey.

A comprehensive vote of thanks was proposed by the chairman, and seconded by the Rev. A. S. Bryant, to the Vicar for so kindly taking the service and giving such a splendid address, also for providing such a sumptuous tea, and for the use of the bells. A vote of thanks was also accorded to the organist, and to ladies who waited on them at tea, and to the chairman for presiding at the meeting, and reference was also made to the admirable way in which the hon. secretary had organised the meeting and arranged the ringing at five towers.

The meeting being concluded, some of the members again repaired to the tower and rang on the fine mellow toned bells which Sydling possesses. Although only five in number (the tenor weighing 20 cwt.), the general opinion was that they would make a splendid peal if augmented to the octave. It is of interest to note that the three largest bells in the tower date from 1600. In passing, it should be mentioned that Sydling can boast of a very enthusiastic band of lady ringers, which speaks well for the interest taken by the ladies of that village in campanology.

Other members proceeded to Maiden Newton, and rang on the lately restored peal of six, which now go splendidly. Frampton and Bradford Peverell were the two final calls of the day, and at the former place the Vicar (Rev. G. Wynn) very kindly conducted the ringers over his beautiful church. Everywhere the members were given a most cordial welcome, and thus it may be said that the music of the bells was heard through the Frome Valley throughout the afternoon and evening.

A PROBLEM FOR THE COUNCIL?

Is there going to be another verbal battle over the question of peals of Minor, when the Central Council meets at Liverpool? A 5040 of Minor in seven plain methods with only two singles was rung at Isham last October, and the question which the Council may be asked to decide is whether such a performance shall be recognised by the Council and included in the official Peals Analysis. The definition for a peal on six bells, adopted by the Council at the Hereford meeting in 1928, is that it shall consist of at least seven true and complete 720's rung without interval and without rounds or any other row being included or rung more than once in any 720. How far does the Isham performance conform to this decision? The seven methods were rung in 360's, the second half of the changes to make up the full extent of each method being produced after the first single. In this way, between the two halves of an extent there were 2160 changes. We do not think that this can be said to comply either with the letter or the spirit of the rule, although there may be some who will attempt to argue otherwise.

There is nothing to compel anyone to conform with any of the Council's definitions of a peal, but the Council is quite within its rights in deciding whether or not it will recognise such a performance and, refusing to recognise it, excluding it from its official records. Things are often done from notions of novelty, and it was either from this motive, or as a direct challenge to the Council, that the mode of ringing a 5040 of Plain Minor was adopted on this occasion. Happily, whatever view the Council may take, performances of this sort are never likely to become a popular practice, for there is nothing in them worth practising. Such a 'peal' advances no standard of ringing; it teaches nothing; it opens no new avenue. It is a very poor substitute for 'splicing' and has not even all the virtues of fourteen 360's in different methods which once used to rank as a peal, but have long since been abandoned as worthy of being given that title.

The Council, however, will, if called upon, have to deal with this question in a judicial manner and decide whether or not the performance comes within its own definition of a peal. The members cannot cast it aside merely because they do not like it, but if they accept this performance as a peal they will find they have stepped upon a slippery slope, which will lead them to the enforced recognition of other things even more retrogressive than this, such, for instance, as forty-two six-scores of Grand-sire or Stedman Doubles with only two singles, or 5040's of Bob Minor with every pair of courses rung seven times before going on to the next pair. It is of no use to say these things will not be done; no one ever anticipated that 5040 in Plain methods would be rung with only two singles. If, as a result of their deliberations the Council find that they must admit the Isham performance as a peal, they will be well advised at once to devise a rule which will check any further backward trend in the standard required for five and six bell peals. There is plenty of opportunity and scope for progress and ringing has reached a stage when even novelties, if they are retrogressive, should be entirely taboo.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

MORE INTEREST WANTED IN CUP CONTEST.

The annual meeting of the North Notts Association was held at Retford on Saturday, May 2nd. A service was held in East Retford Church, at which the Vicar (Rev. A. Parkinson) officiated, and the address was given by the Rev. A. J. Linsell, Rector of West Retford. After tea, the Vicar presided at the business meeting, supported by the Revs. R. F. Wilkinson (Ordsall), representative on the Central Council, A. J. Linsell (West Retford), A. Doney (curate of Ordsall), Mrs. Crawford, Lancham, and Mrs. A. E. Rowsell, Lancham, hon. life member, Mr. R. W. Stockdale, hon. secretary, and Mr. H. Haigh, hon. treasurer.

The Chairman said it was a real pleasure to have the association at Retford for the annual meeting, and he assured members that a warm welcome always awaited them when they visited Retford. It was also a pleasure to have Mrs. Crawford and her daughter amongst them (applause).

A kindly message was received from the Archdeacon of Newark (the Ven. Egbert Hacking), who wished the association every success. The financial statement showed a loss on the year of £1 18s. 5d. The balance in the Workshop Savings Bank is £38 10s., and in hand £2 3s. 1d.

In his report the Hon. Secretary explained that the loss on the year's working could be explained by two grants to bell funds, and in having no hon. life members' subscriptions. The membership had increased by twenty-seven, and all the meetings were a success. Six peals were rung during the year, the first being at Gamston by a band of ladies, to whom great credit was due. It was the first ladies' peal for the association, and was conducted by Mrs. R. Richardson. In the other peals that were rung, all of which were conducted by Mr. L. Pierrepont, members of Sutton-on-Trent tower made up the majority of the bands, and the Misses K. and G. Burchall took part in all six peals. Sutton-on-Trent band had therefore made great progress in peal ringing, and were to be congratulated upon their performance. It was also pleasing to know that they rang the association's 100th peal early in 1931. Mr. H. Denman and Mr. H. Rooke had helped the Sutton-on-Trent band to score this success. Several vice-presidents had been lost during the year by death or removal. Four vice-presidents, four non-resident life-members, and 19 performing members were elected during the year, but the secretary expressed the opinion that the association needed more young blood, as they would in years to come require them to fill the positions held by their older members to-day. In bell restoration they could not say great things had happened, but North Collingham had had their bells rehung, which had made a great improvement. Shircoaks bells had also been rehung, and a grant of £2 10s. had been made from the funds for each of these. Still more peals, however, required attention; some were making progress towards getting the work done, but in other places no trouble was being taken. Harthill and Blyth had commenced their respective tasks.

STRIKING SACRIFICED FOR METHODS.

The Crawford silver cup contest was not quite the success it was in 1929, and they ought to get more companies to join the contest for this beautiful trophy. The Secretary added: 'Whilst the progress of the association is gratifying to all, may I remind you that a considerable number of our church bells are frequently only chimed and some not rung at all; some are only able to ring for Sunday service rounds and a few call changes. It can hardly be said that the art of change ringing in some places is making the progress desired. We know our meetings should help on the learners, but one case I have in mind now has not helped on the learners, but has driven them out of our reach. We know good ringers should have a good ring, but I think everyone should have a ring, and I appeal to good ringers to help on the learner. The public in general do not know anything about the art but are swift to complain, this making rather an awkward position; but the public does subscribe well to bell funds, so I think with the exception of one or two they like to hear the bells rung and rung well. The matter of striking, I am afraid, in some places is sacrificed for the method; we all know that this is a mistake, so I appeal to every company to advance in the methods as fast as possible but keep the striking good, then the public will have no cause to complain. I also appeal to everyone to help forward our object towards the Church and belfry, and to carry on with a good spirit of fellowship always.'

The membership roll up to the end of the year contained 3 life members, 25 vice-presidents, 67 non-resident life members, 145 performing members, and 12 unattached members, 252 in all.

The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson congratulated the hon. secretary on his excellent report, and on his motion, seconded by Mr. C. F. Fowler, it was adopted.

The Chairman expressed thanks to the officials for their services during the past year. A great deal of work had been carried out, especially by Mr. Stockdale, hon. secretary.

Mr. G. W. Metcalfe supported the chairman in his remarks. The Hon. Secretary reported the resignation of Mr. O. Levick, Norton Cuckney, as a vice-president, and said that during the past year the association had also lost by death Mr. Robert Evers, Norton Cuckney, who been a vice-president for nearly 20 years. Norton Cuckney had been one of the outstanding places in the association, and he was sorry they were not well off for ringers.

The following officers were re-elected: Mr. H. Haigh, Worksop, hon. treasurer; Mr. R. W. Stookdale East Markham, hon. secretary; Mr. R. Revill, Ordsall, assistant hon. secretary; Mr. H. Rooke, Warsop, hon. secretary of the Crawford Silver Cup competition; and Mr. A. Johnson and Mr. D. A. Piercy, auditors.

Working committee: Anston, Mr. C. F. Fowler; Barlborough, Mr. Percy Morris; Blyth, Mr. A. Eastland; North Collingham, Mr. J. H. Clayton; Cuckney, Mr. Wm. Smith; Edwinstowe, Mr. F. Martin; Everton, Mr. G. Swindin; Gamston, Mr. Harold Denman, Rockley; Harthill, Mr. T. Laking; East Markham, Mr. W. J. Bowman, jun.; Misson, Mr. S. W. Law; Ordsall, Mr. H. Revill; East Retford, Mr. H. Blagg; West Retford, Mr. J. L. Blagg; Shireoaks, Mr. F. Hargreaves; Sutton-on-Trent, Mr. E. A. Midwinter; Tuxford, Mr. J. H. Smith; Wheatley, Mr. J. Wright; Warsop, Mr. H. Rooke; Worksop, Mr. A. Johnson.

The following new members were elected: Miss Mary May, North Muskham; Mr. L. W. Bacon and Mr. G. L. Chambers, Creswell; Mr. Denis Towler and Mr. R. Ahy, East Retford.

STEDMAN TRICENTENARY.

The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson spoke of the tricentenary of the birth of Fabian Stedman, of Cambridge. He said that the anniversary was to be commemorated throughout England, and thought they ought to honour Stedman's memory by ringing his method in the towers of North Notts.

The Chairman referred to the bells in East Retford Church tower, and said the Parochial Church Council had considered a report recommending that the back six bells should be put on ball bearings. The Rector of Ordsall, with his experience of church bells, had been asked to advise them, and if any member of the association had any observation to make he asked that it should be made to Mr. Wilkinson.

Mr. Haigh remarked that nothing had been done to the bearings since the bells were hung in 1890, and the larger bells did not go as well as they might.

The next meeting was fixed to take place at Barlborough on Saturday, June 27th.

The meeting closed with thanks to all who had taken part in the service and the meeting.

Ringings took place at the towers of East and West Retford during the afternoon and evening.

PINNER, MIDDLESEX.—On Tuesday, May 5th, for Confirmation service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples in 51 mins.: K. Guyler 1, C. Lord 2, P. M. Mayne 3, G. C. Mayne (conductor) 4, H. Pendry 5, R. Colyer 6, J. Dolymore 7, T. Humphreys 8.

THE NEW VICAR OF BRAY.

The induction of the Rev. Canon Arthur John Jones, M.A., as Vicar of St. Michael's, Bray, took place on Tuesday, April 28th, the service being at 5.30 p.m., and the actual ceremony performed by the Bishop of Oxford (the Rt. Rev. Dr. Thomas Banks Strong), assisted by the Ven. Archdeacon of Berks (the Rev. Wickham-Legg, Vicar of Sonning), and the Rev. A. Keeble (curate-in-charge, St. Michael's). Visitors from the new Vicar's former incumbency at Banbury, who had travelled in four motor coaches, attended the service, which was of a very impressive character, and was followed with great reverence. The visiting clergy were entertained to tea by Lady Benson at Chantry House, and the lay visitors from Banbury had tea in the old schoolroom. Whilst the congregation were assembling, the Bray band rang some excellent Grandsire and Bob Doubles on this fine heavy ring of six, with its 27 cwt. tenor, the ringers taking part being Messrs. E. J. Russell (conductor), H. Russell, H. Pickles, W. Blackall, J. Fuller, B. Ludlow and J. Russell.

As the congregation left the church after the induction service a representative band of the Oxford Diocesan Guild commenced a quarter-peal of Minor in eight methods, which was rung and brought round in fine style in just fifty minutes. The methods from which the quarter-peal was made up were Double Oxford, St. Clement's, Cambridge Surprise, Canterbury, Oxford Treble Bob, Single Oxford, Kent Treble Bob and Plain Bob. The ringers were W. E. Taylor (Maidenhead) 1, Miss S. Davis (Buckbury) 2, G. H. Gutteridge (Iver) 3, L. Stilwell (Windsor) 4, W. Henley (Farnham Royal) 5, G. Gilbert (Maidenhead) (conductor) 6. A peal is to be attempted by the same band on the day that Canon Jones takes up residence on or about May 19th.

Canon Jones officiated for the last time at St. Mary's, Banbury (where he had been Vicar for 25 years) on Sunday, April 19th, when a congregation of about 2,000 was present. Only last January, to commemorate his 25 years as their Vicar, the parishioners presented him with a silver coffee set and tray. On Monday evening the town's presentation took the form of a motor-car. There were also presentations from the children of the National Schools and Sunday Schools. Canon Jones (who is a bachelor) was born on January 27th, 1871, and was educated privately and at Lincoln College, Oxford, where he took the degrees of B.A. in 1893 and M.A. in 1897; later he proceeded to Cuddesdon College. He was ordained in 1894, and from that year and until 1906 he was assistant curate at Aylesbury. In January, 1906, he was appointed to the Vicarage of Banbury. In 1912 he was appointed the Rural Dean of Deddington, and in 1919 became an hon. Canon of Christ Church, Oxford.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. J. A. Trollope's fourth article on the history of the College Youths will be published next week.

Mr. C. H. Howard, Master of the Essex Association, has been elected chairman of Braintree Urban District Council for the fifth time.

Mr. E. A. Young, hon. secretary of the Central Council, reached England last Thursday, after his long tour, which has taken him to South Africa and home via Egypt.

Martley, in Worcestershire, has a peal of six bells all cast by Richard Keene and dated 1673. Is there any older original and complete ring of six in England?

The peal at High Wycombe on May 2nd was rung in 3 hrs. 39 mins., not 29 mins. as reported. The peal at Birchington on April 25th was rung in 3 hrs. 35 mins., not 2.25 as printed.

A band, consisting mostly of young ladies who are all very keen churchworkers, are now ringing the bells at Christ Church, Bradford-on-Avon, which have been silent for over a year.

Thurstan's famous four-part peal of Stedman Triples was rung for the first time on May 18th, 1846.

Mr. Sam Woods, of Ashton-under-Lyne, called the 16,608 of Kent Treble Bob Major at Mottram on May 18th, 1883.

On May 20th, 1840, the south-west tower of York Minster and the ten bells in it were destroyed by fire.

Mr. W. T. Pates (the conductor) and Canon Coleridge, who rang the 8th and 9th respectively, are, we believe, the only survivors of the 13,054 Stedman Caters rung at Cheltenham on May 21st, 1888.

May 21st is also the anniversary of that great performance, the 12,875 Stedman Cinques at St. Saviour's Cathedral, Southwark (tenor 50 cwt.) rung in 1923.

Mr. Harry Mason, of Goodrest, Hagley, has recently undergone an operation to one of his eyes, which has been most successful. He is progressing satisfactorily, and hopes to be home for Whitsunide. Mrs. Mason desires to thank all those friends who have made kind enquiries concerning her husband.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL MEETING. MEMBERS TO ENJOY HOSPITALITY OF LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION AND LORD MAYOR.

Members of the Central Council who propose to attend the meeting at Liverpool should at once notify the local secretary, Mr. C. I. Davies, of Caerleon, Dunabin Road, Wavertree, Liverpool, if they desire to accept the hospitality of the Lancashire Association at lunch and of the Lord Mayor at tea. Applications for tickets must reach him not later than the first post on Tuesday next, the 19th. Visitors accompanying members can join them at lunch, and visitors and members alike will be welcome at the Town Hall for the reception and tea, and at the social at the Stork Hotel on Tuesday evening.

The headquarters of the Council will be at the Stork Hotel, which is about three minutes' walk from Lime Street Station, five minutes from Central Station, and ten minutes from Exchange Station. Those who travel by G.W.R. will arrive in Birkenhead, and must cross by the ferry to Liverpool landing stage.

If visitors will write to the local secretary, giving time and place of arrival, arrangements will be made to meet them, and members of the reception committee will wear small white rosettes for identification.

Archdeacon Howson has kindly offered to conduct a party round the Cathedral, and it may be possible to arrange a visit to a liner on Wednesday morning, but those who wish to take part in either of these visits should communicate with Mr. Davies as soon as possible. Above all, members are asked to assist the local arrangements by an intimation whether they will be present at lunch and tea on Tuesday. The last day for obtaining tickets for lunch is Tuesday next.

The Standing Committee of the Council will meet at 9.45 a.m. on Tuesday, and the Council itself at 11 a.m., when a welcome to the city will be given by the Lord Mayor.

The full programme was printed in our issue of May 1st.

WORCESTER BELLS. SINGERS' DIFFICULTIES.

'Many poems have been written about the beauty of chimes, the joyous ringing from hill and valley, or the faint sweet vibrations borne on still summer air, but bells, like most other things,' says a writer in a Worcester newspaper, 'have their disadvantages. The Cathedral bells, for instance, beautifully sweet and true since they have been tuned, are doubtless delightful to hear from a distance, especially along the Severn; but citizens of College Yard and High Street find them rather too loud for perfect enjoyment. The Festival Choral Society, at their rehearsals in the Chapter House, find the tinnabulation quite disconcerting. Only those who have tried can tell how difficult it is to sing in tune against pealing bells in another key! An amusing instance of this kind of difficulty occurred at a concert in a Worcester school adjacent to a church. Children were giving a concert, and singing their very best—while just across the road the church bells were ringing exuberantly half a tone above the pitch of the piano. It was difficult for the small singers and discordant for the big listeners. But one must propitiate bellringers by relating a compliment which was lately paid them. A bus-load of hop-pickers was passing a church on the outskirts of the City, when one particularly ragged individual said to her companion: "Ever heard the bells ringin' up there on a summer night? It's a bit of 'eaven; that it is."

TERCENTENARY OF FABIAN STEDMAN.

THE RINGERS' NATIONAL COMMEMORATION.

OPENING OF THE RESTORATION FUND.

Subject to the final approval of the parochial and diocesan authorities, the scheme for commemorating the tercentenary of Fabian Stedman, the 'father' of the art of change ringing, is to go forward. There are three main proposals:

(1). The restoration of the bells at St. Benet's Church, Cambridge, where Stedman learned to ring and where his method was first practised.

(2). The erection in the tower of a suitable commemorative tablet.

(3). The holding of a gathering of ringers in Cambridge at the end of the summer, with a thanksgiving service at St. Benet's Church.

Fabian Stedman is one of the greatest national figures in connection with the Exercise; his efforts laid the foundations of our art as we know it to-day. He printed the first book on ringing and he was its first missionary; for he travelled to Leicester the better to explain to the bell ringers of that town, as we are informed by an old diarist, 'ye desirabilite of establishinge a societie of scholars for setting forth ye "artes and mysteries" of change ringing not onlie for ye edifyings of their minds, but also for their enjoyment and the healthfull exercise of their bodies.'

To vast numbers of ringers Stedman's method has been for more than two centuries and still is a source of great delight, and there are few things in ringing, even to-day, more worth doing than a peal of Stedman Triples well rung. Ringers owe a great deal of the pleasure which they enjoy from their pursuit to the legacy which Stedman left them, and we feel sure that they will heartily unite in seizing a unique opportunity to honour the name and the genius of a man who did so much for the art.

To carry out the first two items in the commemoration scheme, 'The Ringing World' now appeals to ringers throughout the country for their support, and it believes that the necessary money will be forthcoming. Every ringer, we feel sure, will desire to be associated with this national project, and the fund, which is now inaugurated, is open for contributions. They may be sent to:—

The Editor,
'The Ringing World,' Woking,
Surrey,

and will be acknowledged in these columns. The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, has kindly consented to act as hon. treasurer.

Already, of course, promises of support of a most practical and encouraging kind have come in from ringing associations and a direct appeal is being made to these organisations. But it will require the fullest possible effort on the part of the whole Exercise to carry the scheme through successfully, for a sum of money estimated at about £350 will be needed. Moreover, it has got to be raised in a short time, if the restoration is to be carried out and the bells reopened this year.

Mr. E. H. Lewis, the President of the Central Council and an eminent authority on the subject, has kindly inspected the tower and drawn up a report of what is required. This and his specification will be the basis upon which the faculty will be applied for and the tenders for the work obtained. Briefly, it is hoped to bring the bells 12 feet lower in the tower, strengthen and restore the old oak frame, provide all the necessary new fittings, clean the bells and replace them on ball bearings, shutter the louvres, and bring the ropes down to the ground floor, thus obviating the present necessity of climbing a straight iron ladder for 22 feet to reach the ringing room.

This restoration is to be a work of commemoration and it is therefore an essential part of the scheme that the bells themselves shall be preserved, because five of the six are the identical bells upon which Stedman himself rang. In addition, it is hoped to utilise much, if not all, of the oak frame, which appears to be in excellent condition.

Obviously the work cannot be put in hand until the money is secured, and it is for this reason that the appeal is being launched while the details have still to be settled. To delay the raising of the funds would jeopardise the completion of the scheme this year, and for this reason we ask the ringers of England to subscribe quickly.

At the numerous meetings at which the proposed commemoration has been ventilated there has been the greatest approval expressed in its favour, and the editor of 'The Ringing World,' in bringing the subject to the notice of his many friends, has received the utmost encouragement. Here is one example: Mr. W. W. Worthington, of Maple Hayes, Lichfield, a vice-president of the Midland Counties Association, writes: 'As a humble member of the Exercise, who has derived enormous pleasure from change ringing and from friendships made in the belfry, I cannot imagine any object with more appeal to ringers than the celebration of the tercentenary of Fabian Stedman's birth by the restoration of the bells upon which he rang the superb method called after his name. If I am allowed to subscribe £50 to this object I shall consider myself honoured.'

Here is a magnificent start, which, with the donations already voted or promised by various associations, gives

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Portsmouth District was held at Petersfield on Saturday, May 2nd, when the following towers were represented: Alverstoke, Bramshott, East Meon, Gosport, Hambledon, Portsmouth (Cathedral and St. Mary's), Petersfield, Steep, Swanmore, Titchfield, and visitors from Blackmoor, Dorking, King's Somborne, North Stoneham, Rogate and Winchester. The Guild's service was conducted by the Vicar of Petersfield (Rev. E. G. A. Kent), who also gave an address.

Tea was served in St. Peter's Hall, and the business meeting followed, the Vicar taking the chair.

New members were elected, including the Vicar as an honorary member, and Rev. A. V. Wardle, Messrs. E. T. Chantry, A. Fisher, P. Fisher, P. Strugnell, C. James and A. James as ringing members.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Soberton on July 25th, with a by-meeting at Titchfield on a Wednesday evening.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicars of Petersfield and Steep for the use of the bells and to the organist.

The members then returned to the tower for further ringing, which ranged from Grandsire and Stedman Triples to London and Bristol Surprise Major.

SUFFOLK GUILD.

A meeting of the Suffolk Guild was held at Newmarket on May 2nd, but was very poorly attended, not a single member being present from Mildenhall or Elveden. A service was held at All Saints' conducted by the Vicar (Rev. C. A. Barnes), and after tea the business meeting was presided over by Rev. R. L. Gardner.

Mr. R. Sharpe was elected secretary in place of Mr. P. Fordham, who wished to resign. As the district is on the borders of two counties, Mr. F. C. Turner proposed that a joint meeting be held in the summer with the Ely Association, and that it be left with the secretaries to arrange a date.

One new member, Kenneth Tufts, of St. Mary's, was elected. A vote of thanks was accorded to the Rev. R. L. Gardner for taking the chair. Various methods were rung at St. Mary's and All Saints' Churches during the afternoon and evening, but owing to illness near the church Exning bells were not available.

MUFFLED BELLS.

An old member of the band at St. Andrew's Church, Limpsfield Chart, Surrey, has passed away in the person of Mr. James Knight, sen. He was buried on April 7th, and in the evening members of the local company rang a half-peal of Minor with the bells muffled, as a last token of respect: E. N. Tidy 1, W. G. Paternoster 2, C. W. Clinch 3, E. E. Tidy 4, H. F. H. Tidy 5, L. A. Tidy (conductor) 6. The half-peal was made up of 720 of Woodbine, 720 of Oxford and 1,080 Kent Treble Bob.

early evidence of success for the scheme, and will, surely, induce a generous and prompt response. The guineas will be needed, but the shillings and even the pence will be equally welcome, for they will help to swell the total and make the fund really national in its scope.

In addition to the associations who have already promised support for the scheme, the Ancient Society of College Youths, at their meeting last week, unanimously decided to give a donation to the fund, and the Elloe Deaneries Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild on Saturday voted a subscription of three guineas.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD.APPEAL FOR MORE CONDUCTORS.

A splendid number attended a meeting of the Truro District of the Truro Diocesan Guild on Saturday, May 9th. There were about sixty present from St. Gluvias, St. Budock, St. Mabe, St. Agnes, Gwennap, Redruth, Gulval and Truro Cathedral, also Dr. J. Symons (president), Major C. F. Jerram, C.M.G., D.S.O. (Ringing Master), Rev. W. H. R. Trewhella (general secretary), Rev. H. C. Thompson (Redruth), and Mr. W. Wood (secretary, Penzance District).

The campanile, which stands about fifty yards north-west of the church, contains a ring of six bells (tenor 7½ cwt.), all cast in 1889 by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. Last September they were rehung on ball bearings and quarter-turned, etc., by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, the ringers themselves collecting the whole of the money required for the purpose.

The service was conducted and the address given by the Rev. Harry Oxland, who has been Rector of Mogan since 1884. An excellent tea was provided in the Mission Room, and a hearty vote of thanks was proposed by Dr. Symons to the Rector, the local ringers and the lady helpers. He also thanked the choir for attending the service, which was fully choral. Dr. Symons then spoke of the splendid restoration which had been carried out in the tower, and said the 'go' of the bells was now perfect.—In seconding the vote of thanks, Major Jerram appealed to captains of towers to encourage others to take up conducting, if only in call changes, and not to rely, as was so often done, on one man, it being often the case that when the leader removed, by death or otherwise, the band fell to pieces.

Ringing took place during the afternoon and evening, and the rehanging bells were fully tested.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.NEED FOR THE SUPERVISION OF BELLS.

The monthly meeting of Devizes Branch was held at the Church of St. Mary, Steeple Ashton, on Saturday, May 2nd, when there was a very good attendance. The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Canon Knubley. Tea in the Village Hall was followed by a short business meeting. Mr. C. D. Heginbotham being in the chair, supported by the Rev. Canon Knubley (hon. member), the vice-chairman (Mr. E. F. White), and representatives from Warminster, Trowbridge, North Bradley, Melksham, Bishop's Cunnings, Rowde, Devizes (St. John's and St. Mary's), Southbroom and Steeple Ashton, numbering in all 32.

Mr. Heginbotham extended his usual welcome to all present, and reminded them of the date of the annual festival to be held at Sherborne on Saturday, May 16th. He hoped they would make a special effort to attend this Guild gathering. The chairman also spoke on the great need of supervision of bell towers, periodical inspections by experts, etc., on similar lines to those adopted by the Church authorities in charge of organs, and other valuable appliances, when often a minor repair or adjustment, if carried out in good time, would save a considerable outlay.

It was decided to have the second of the series of branch lectures on 'Ringing' at the half-yearly meeting to be held at Trowbridge on Saturday, July 4th. The branch secretary was instructed to make arrangements with Mr. C. F. Andrews, Trowbridge, for this date if possible.

The next monthly meeting will be held at West Lavington on Saturday, June 6th.

Hearty thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and conducting the service, to the organist and those who had prepared the tea, were acknowledged by Canon Knubley. He spoke of the pleasure it gave him to have the branch meeting at Steeple Ashton, and assured them of a hearty welcome at all times. He invited any of those present to take a stroll through the Vicarage gardens after the meeting.

Ringing was continued till 8 p.m., the following methods being rung during the afternoon and evening: Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Plain Bob Minor, Stedman and Grandsire Doubles.

PENDLEBURY RINGER'S GOLDEN WEDDING.

On Saturday, May 2nd, Mr. and Mrs. T. Lingard, of 11, Fraser Street, Pendlebury, celebrated their golden wedding. The bells of Christ Church, Pendlebury, were set going to a touch of 688 Grandsire Triples (from Holt's ten-part), rung by the following ringers: R. Lambert 1, T. Lingard (conductor) 2, A. Wallwork 3, S. Bradley 4, C. Seddon 5, T. Howard 6, F. Grundy 7, N. Bryan 8. After the ringing Mr. Lingard was presented by Mr. C. Seddon with an oak smoking cabinet from his ringing friends, which Mr. Lingard suitably acknowledged.

Afterwards, at the Church Brigade Institute, an excellent tea, attended by about 120 persons, was served. The toast of 'The bride and bridegroom' was proposed by the Vicar (the Rev. E. D. Butters), and speeches were made by Mr. Lingard's fellow-ringers. At the reception, handbell ringing, singing, dancing and numerous other items added to the success of the jolly occasion, and touches were also rung on the tower bells. At the conclusion of the evening, the Vicar, having formed a circle of members and friends round the happy couple, gave his blessing, and wished Mr. and Mrs. Lingard many more years of success and happiness.

A NEW DEVON RING.BROADWOODKELLY BELLS RECAST INTO SIX.

Broadwoodkelly was invaded on Saturday afternoon, May 2nd, by ringers from many parts of Devon between Exeter and Combe Martin for the dedication and opening of the recast and rehung ring of bells in the tower of the Parish Church of Allhallows. Previously there were five bells cast by Abraham Rudhall, of Gloucester, in 1705, when the Rev. T. Allen was Rector, and Messrs. R. Hewitt and J. Poulson were wardens. They had of late years got into a very dilapidated state, and it was eventually decided to recast the five bells into a ring of six, with a tenor of 9 cwt. 3 qr. 14 lb. in A, and have a new iron frame and new fittings. The total weight of the bells is 36 cwt. 1 qr. 3 lb. The tenor bears an inscription giving the names of the Rector and the churchwardens (Messrs. C. H. Green and E. J. Davey), and the names of the founders and date. The contract was entrusted to Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, of Croydon, the well-known bell founders and clockmakers, and they have carried it out without their customary skill and success. The cost has been between £350 and £400. This represents a big undertaking for the parish, but much enthusiasm has been shown in appealing for funds, to which many ringers and prominent churchpeople outside the area have subscribed. Up to Saturday about £85 remained to be raised. A collection of £5 16s. 8d., profit on tea (for which all provisions were given by parishioners and friends), attended by about 300, and proceeds of a concert by Mr. W. Cotton's party from Exeter, considerably reduced the debt.

The church, calculated to seat 200, was filled to overflowing for the service, which was attended by the Lord Bishop of Exeter (Lord William Cecil). The Rector (the Rev. E. W. Perry) conducted the service, and the Revs. H. B. Burnaby (Sampford Courtenay, who also officiated as chaplain) and E. J. White (Exbourne) read the lessons. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Thomas (Exeter), Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Johnston (Croydon), Mr. A. W. Searle (chairman of the Exeter District, Guild of Devonshire Ringers) and Mrs. Searle, Messrs. R. C. Copleston (Clannaborough), E. Shepherd (one of Devon Guild's representatives on the Central Council), W. Fowings (North Tawton, honorary secretary) and R. G. Pidler (High Bickington, representing the Devon Association), Miss D. Harris presided at the organ. The hymns were, 'Sing to the Lord a joyful song,' 'Praise the Lord, ye heavens adore Him,' and 'Great God, to Thee our hearts we raise.' During the singing of the second hymn the Bishop, clergy and wardens proceeded to the belfry, where the Bishop performed the dedication of the bells, and a few rounds were rung by the local men. The Bishop, in an address, touched on the ancient and modern uses of bells.

After service the bells were rung for several hours by complete or mixed bands from Ilfracombe, Braunton, Combe Martin, Crediton, Christow, Exeter, Silverton, Stowford, Petrockstow, and the neighbourhood of Broadwoodkelly. The tone and 'go' of the bells were highly praised, and the striking of call and scientific changes was, with a few exceptions, quite good.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.THE 'HOLD-UP' OF THE MINOR METHODS BOOK.

The fine summer day, coupled with a chance of a pull on the newly-restored ring at Woodford, no doubt accounted for the large gathering at the meeting there of the South-Western Division on Saturday last, between 90 and 100 members and friends putting in an appearance during the afternoon and evening. Amongst those present were Messrs. C. H. Howard (Master), A. Prior (District Master), G. Dent (District Master, North-Eastern Division), A. W. Coles (District Master, North and East Division, Middlesex Association), C. T. Coles (the 'half' secretary of the Middlesex Association, who, by the way, arrived somewhat late). The bells were going soon after three o'clock, but, owing to the large number present, the Master restricted the ringing to short touches to enable all to have the chance of a pull.

The service, conducted by the Rector, was held, over eighty being present. Tea followed, and at the usual business meeting one hon. and two ringing members were elected, and Leyton chosen for the next meeting on July 18th.

A discussion was initiated by Mr. G. L. Joyce, respecting the publication of the Minor Methods, who stressed the point that it was a great pity the book had been held up owing to a dispute between the Methods Committee and the hon. secretary of the Central Council, and the association representatives were urged to do all possible at the Liverpool meeting to get the book into sale.

A hearty vote of thanks, proposed by the Master to the Rector for allowing the use of the tower and bells, conducting the service and presiding at the meeting, to the churchwardens for their assistance, the organist for accompanying the hymns, etc., Mr. Morss and the local band for having everything in readiness, was carried with acclamation and responded to by the Rector, who said how pleased all were that the association had paid another visit to Woodford. He hoped all had enjoyed themselves, and assured them that if at any future time another visit was paid, he could guarantee them another hearty welcome.

During the day, members were present representing 27 towers, and touches of Grandsire, Stedman, Kent Treble Bob, Bob Major, Cambridge, Superlative, London, Bristol and Spiced Surprise Major were rung, the bells being made full use of till 9 p.m., but at a much later hour one could have seen several well-known campanologists wending their way along Woodford High Road happy, but tired, after a rather strenuous afternoon, but no doubt looking forward to another such gathering in the near future.

DEVON GUILD.BRANCH MEETING AT STOKE GABRIEL.

A quarterly meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch of the Devonshire Guild was held at Stoke Gabriel on Saturday. The weather was fine, and there was a very good attendance of ringers from Exeter, Whimble, Topsham, Christow, Torquay, Cockington, Paignton, Collaton, Brixham, Buckfastleigh, etc. The bells were well utilised during the afternoon, touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles being rung. A service was later held in church, which was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. H. Beaumont), the lesson being read by Mr. F. J. Laxton (branch chairman). In his address, the Vicar extended a hearty welcome to the visitors, and he paid a tribute to the work of the ringers, especially those in his own parish.

A collection was afterwards taken on behalf of the Instruction Fund, a substantial sum being collected.

After tea in the Parish Hall, the business meeting followed, presided over by Mr. F. J. Laxton (chairman). It was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting at Ashburton on Saturday, October 17th. It was also decided to hold an informal meeting at Staverton and Littlehempstone on Saturday, August 22nd. The secretary read a circular which he had received from the general secretary, giving particulars of the annual general meeting which is being held in Plymouth on Whit Monday.

Votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar of Stoke Gabriel for the use of the bells, for conducting the service, and for his address, and also to the organist and choir for their assistance.

This ended the business, and the visitors returned to the tower for further ringing.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Ely Association was held at Hartford (Hunts) Church on Saturday week, when ringers from Huntingdon, Godmanchester, St. Neots, Somersham, Hartford, Keynton, and Great Stanglton were present. Touches of Plain Bob, Oxford Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise were enjoyed. A service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. E. G. Alderson, who presided at the tea, which he kindly provided.

The following new members were elected: Miss B. Hibberd, Miss J. Shepherd, Miss E. Pannell, Messrs. H. Linford, E. Jones, G. E. Fisher, B. Bull and G. Manser. Arrangements were made for the next meeting to be held at Hemingford Abbots on June 13th.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar for his hospitality was proposed by Mr. H. Fields, of St. Neots, and the ringers returned to the church to enjoy a few touches of Bob Minor.

JOINT RINGERS' GATHERING AT SURFLEET.

LINCOLN AND LADIES' GUILDS MEET.

A well-attended meeting was held at Surfleet on Saturday, May 2nd, when the Elloe Deanery Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild and the Lincolnshire Branch of the Ladies' Guild held a joint meeting. Besides ringers from Lincolnshire, there were present visitors from Cambridge, Rotherham, Handsworth, London, Treeton, Derby and Peterborough.

The bells were raised in peal about 1.30 p.m., and kept going until late in the evening, touches being rung in methods from Bob Minor to Cambridge Surprise Royal, including London and Bristol Surprise Major.

Choral evensong was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. H. Law James), and afterwards the whole assembly adjourned to the Fraiser Room, where tea had been provided. In all 83 sat down, and, unlike most meetings, the majority had sent in their names, which certainly eased the work of the caterers.

At the Elloe Deanery meeting which followed, the Rev. G. H. Clark, of Bicker, as president, was in the chair. After some discussion had taken place, it was proposed to promise three guineas, to be taken from the general funds, towards the Stedman tercentenary memorial.

Thanks were then accorded by Mr. Ladd to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to Mr. and Mrs. R. Richardson and the other ladies who had helped to prepare the tea. The gentlemen then adjourned to the belfry, while the ladies held their meeting.

Mrs. Jack Bray presided over a good gathering of ladies. Mrs. C. T. Coles was elected a life member of the Guild, and Miss Esme Stokes a ringing member.

The next meeting is to be held at Bigby on July 18th, and will be a joint meeting with the Grimsby District.

DEATH OF A COTGRAVE RINGER.

The village of Cotgrave, Notts, has lost one of the most respected of its inhabitants, and the ringers one of the most valued and able of their band, by the death of Mr. Thomas Squires, who passed away on Saturday, May 2nd, in his 75th year.

Tom Squires began his ringing career at Cotgrave in 1887 on a bad-going peal of five bells, and with a band of novices, who by dint of determination and perseverance rang their first 120 changes (Grand-sire Doubles) on Good Friday, March 30th, 1888.

He joined the Midland Counties Association in 1899, and rang in 34 peals, ranging from Doubles to Major, in addition to 7 or 8 peals for other associations, but of which no definite record has been kept by him. His first peal was a peal of Doubles in two methods at Cotgrave on June 5th, 1900.

The deceased was laid to rest in the new churchyard on Tuesday, May 5th, many neighbours and friends from near and far being present in church and at the graveside. Immediately before the funeral 240 Oxford Bob Minor was rung with the bells half-muffled by: W. E. White 1, J. J. Jackson 2, G. H. Footitt 3, J. Oldham 4, R. Mount 5, W. White (conductor) 6, and in the evening a 5,040 was rung, which will be found recorded on another page.

THE LAST OF A PIONEER BAND.

BE IT REMEMBERED.

That on Saturday, January 21st, 1865, was rung on these bells by the undermentioned members of the Kelly Society of Change Ringers a true and complete peal, consisting of three six-scores of Grand-sire Doubles, being the greatest number of changes in the scientific or half-pull system ever rung in Devonshire by men of the county.

A board with this inscription hangs in the tower of Kelly Church, Devon, and all those who took part in that performance have passed away. The last to be called home was Edwin Yole, who was laid to rest in Milton Abbot Churchyard on April 19th last. That evening, in Kelly Church, was rung a plain course of Grand-sire Doubles with bells half-muffled in his memory by Wilfred Boucher 1, Roy Johns 2, George Fitze 3, H. Boucher 4, Abel Johns 5, George Hill 6, members of the Devon Guild.

THE LATE SIR EDWARD CLARKE, K.C.

On Sunday evening, May 3rd, before the memorial service to the late Sir Edward Clarke, K.C., at St. Peter's Church, Staines, a quarter-peal of Grand-sire Triples, with the bells half-muffled: G. Walmsley 1, W. E. Butler 2, A. J. Hiscock 3, W. G. Shorter 4, W. A. Peck 5, W. C. Parker 6, E. J. Goater 7, W. Jolley (first quarter-peal) 8.

On Friday evening, May 1st, after the funeral service, a quarter-peal of Grand-sire Triples with half-muffled bells: G. Walmsley 1, W. E. Butler 2, W. R. Shorter 3, A. J. Hiscock 4, W. A. Peck 5, E. J. Goater 6, W. C. Parker (conductor) 7, G. Hain 8. Sir Edward Clarke was the donor of the bells at this church, which his house adjoined.

WHAT IS A TREBLE BOB METHOD?

BY GEORGE BAKER.

Since the publication of the first 'Treble Bob' method in these columns on March 6th last, I have discovered in all, with variations, seventy other 'Treble Bob' methods, many of which are more intricate than any known Surprise method.

The only conclusion that can be drawn from this fact is that the arbitrary definition laid down as to what constitutes a Surprise method is worthless.

I am as much to blame as anyone else in this matter, as I accepted the arbitrary definition laid down, in good faith, not realising that a 'so-called' Treble Bob method could possibly be more intricate than a 'so-called' Surprise method, of which the method published in these columns on March 20th is a good illustration.

The very fact that intricate methods can be obtained without places at the cross sections shows the fallacy of the theory that these places are the only moves that count in method construction, and on looking over old papers I found that as long ago as June, 1912, I possessed a Treble Bob method with clean proof which would have given the lie to this theory, but evidently I ignored the method at the time because, according to arbitrary definition, it was only a 'Treble Bob' method.

Now I want to add a short description of the method which follows.

In the first place I must explain that the placemaking of this method is three-fourths Albion Treble Bob and one-fourth Cambridge Surprise, plus central fifth's as in London Surprise.

It will be seen that the bells are in Bob Major coursing order in front and behind.

There is only one false course-end, 24365, tenors together, but the method being on the lengthening lead plan, if a Bob Before is used there is an extra false course-end, i.e., 32546.

Any peal of Treble Bob Major tenors together will be true for this method.

The 'Albion' moves break and restore the coursing order in each section where used, leaving only the 'Cambridge' moves, and central fifth's to produce the lead-head.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.'LITERATURE DEPARTMENT' OPENED.

The meeting of the Leatherhead District held at Ewell on May 2nd was the first district meeting the Guild had held at this tower, and the Vicar, the Rev. E. C. Usherwood, extended a warm welcome, and a practical one, too, by the attendance of his churchwardens, who became honorary members.

The attendance was not very large, but with visitors, including Admiral T. P. and Mrs. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Goldsmith, and Mr. and Mrs. Greenhill from Woking, and Mrs. C. Hazeldene and Miss I. L. Hastio from Guildford, it was quite an enjoyable gathering. The Rev. E. C. Usherwood conducted the Guild's service and gave an address. He afterwards presided at the tea and took the chair for the business meeting, which was not very lengthy, but included the election of Mr. Humphrey Ryde, of Woking (proposed by Admiral Walker) as an hon. life member, and the Rev. A. E. Robins, of Dorking, Mr. S. M. Wood and Mr. C. C. Buxton, of Ewell, as hon. members, and the ratification of the election of Messrs. L. Cooper and A. L. Brown, of Epsom, G. Read, of Sutton, and J. A. Hobson, of Banstead, as ringing members, and Messrs. A. Nash, Rotherham, W. Green, A. Gill and A. Panlher, of Waltham-Dearne, Yorks, and E. Bernard Wells, of Merstham, Surrey, as compounding members.

In proposing a vote of thanks to the Vicar, Admiral Walker said how encouraging it was to find the Vicar and the churchwardens present to show their interest in the Guild.

The tower was again visited, and the bells kept going until the visitors had to leave.

At the meeting a 'literature department' was opened and a start made by selling some of the copies of the Central Council publications. In future, publications of the Central Council will be on sale through all the district secretaries of the Guild.

SERVICE RINGING AT OXFORD CATHEDRAL.

The Oxford Society, in conjunction with some members of the University Society, have been ringing the Cathedral bells on Sunday mornings during the last three terms, and as a memento of their appreciation the Dean and Chapter of Christ Church have presented the society with Mr. Morris' new book on 'The history and art of ringing.'

On Sunday week, on the occasion of a visit of the Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, an excellent touch of 921 Stedman Cinques was rung in 40 mins.: Miss M. Reynolds 1, S. Taylor 2, W. Simmonds 3, W. Brigham 4, J. R. Chaundy 5, W. Blake 6, F. Taylor 7, R. Post 8, W. F. Judge (conductor) 9, V. Bennett 10, Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn 11, H. Miles 12. The Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn expressed great pleasure with the ringing, and congratulated the society on their efforts in getting a band together to ring for the Cathedral service. It was, he said, the first occasion that he had had the pleasure of ringing Stedman Cinques at Christ Church for the Sunday morning service.

ACCESSION DAY.

On Wednesday, May 6th, at St. Andrew's Church, Farnham, Surrey, in celebration of the 21st anniversary of the accession of H.M. the King, a quarter-peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major (1,232 changes) in 48 mins.: S. Meadows 1, J. Beagley 2, G. Upshall 3, C. Wells 4, H. Kemp 5, F. Kemp 6, R. Hasted 7, T. Upshall 8. Composition arranged by R. Hasted, conducted by T. Upshall, and rung by an entirely local band, all of whom are regular Sunday service ringers. The longest length yet rung in the method by all the band.

THE MINOR METHODS 'COLLECTION.'

The position of the Methods Committee in regard to the 'Collection of Minor Methods,' and their action in holding up the publication of this long overdue volume, is one of the matters which will exercise the attention of the Central Council next Tuesday. We are not sure how many years it is since the work on the volume was practically completed; or how long it is since the last edition was sold out; but first, one obstacle and then another has intervened to delay its appearance until ringers have got rather weary of waiting. Many people have expressed the opinion that the last cause of delay has been the least justifiable. Valuable months have been lost for want of agreement between the committee and the hon. secretary as to what should appear on the title page. The Standing Committee were consulted and expressed their opinion, but their views were not acted on, and so the matter has drifted back to the Council, and the committee, in their report, conclude their review of the matter by saying 'so long as the ordinary rights of authors are not infringed we desire to leave the issue of this last controversy to the Council's decision.' There are two rival views, one that the revisers of the book are entitled to have their names on the cover; the other that the Council, who 'pay the piper,' have the right to put the names of the officials on the title page. Those who have sought a compromise suggest that both the names of the authors and of the officials should appear. The majority of ringers, we think, will look upon the whole matter as a rather frivolous disputation.

The disagreement has, however, brought to the front another question which, in our view, is of far more importance, namely, that of the 'copyright' in the Council's publications, and this, presumably, is also to be dealt with next Tuesday. The issue raised here, leaving out the purely legal aspect, is whether the Council has a right to say what shall and what shall not appear in its publications. When it appoints a committee, as it does the Methods Committee, for a certain purpose and with a specific reference, can the committee turn round and dictate to the Council on the ground that its work is the copyright of the members of the committee? We may be wrong, but we think not. In 1927 the committee were instructed to revise and reissue the 'Collection of Minor Methods.' They have been acting for the Council, with delegated powers, and it appears to us that anything which they have done in carrying out the instructions of the Council remains the property of the Council. There is also, of course, the fact that the basis of the revised 'Collection,' the methods themselves—at any rate, the whole of them which will produce an extent—was already in existence and had previously been published. Can it be said that the committee have the copyright in these; or indeed in any methods when, as recent articles in our columns have shown, they are merely the product of mathematical formulæ? But, whatever may be the strictly legal position, we think that the Methods Committee would be performing a sensible and a graceful act if they abandoned at once any claim to copyright in a work which they carried out on behalf of the Council.

The monthly meeting was held at Felkirk on Saturday, May 9th, when members attended from Crofton, Darfield, Royston, Sandal, Shelley, South Kirby, Wath, and the local company, and the fine peal of six bells were kept going during the afternoon.

At the short business meeting, held after tea in the Church School, the Vicar, Rev. H. R. H. Coney, who presided, gave all ringers a hearty welcome to Felkirk.—Cawthorne was selected for next meeting. After the usual vote of thanks, ringing was continued in various methods.

ANOTHER PEAL AT WORCESTER CATHEDRAL.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

On Saturday, the magnificent and majestic ring of twelve in the ever beautiful central tower of Worcester Cathedral were heard to advantage, when another ambition of Mr. Frank Dawe, of London, was achieved. Permission, originally granted by the then Dean, Lord Alwyn Compton, in conjunction with Canon Cattley, had been held by him for over 48 years, and his success, after this lapse of time, and in the face of many persistent difficulties, shows that perseverance does have its final reward! Only one previous attempt (18 years ago) had been made, for, until the bells were recast and rehung three years ago, the 'go' left a very great deal to be desired.

On Saturday, friends from Birmingham and surrounding districts met at Worcester, and, having partaken of a sumptuous tea at the George's, kindly provided by Mr. Percy Thomas, of Windy Ridge, Fernhill Heath, whose birthday the peal also celebrated, the ringers wishing him many happy returns, the party ascended the tower and started. All went well for three and a half hours, when the electric lights suddenly went out, but, thanks to the Daylight Saving Bill, sufficient light penetrated the darkened chamber through the narrow windows to enable them just to carry on. Mr. Albert Walker shouted, 'Keep on, stick to it everybody'—which they did for another two courses, when the lights came on again as unexpectedly as they went, and the peal was finished in perfect ringing in 4 hrs. 1 min. Besides the conductor, there were others who had now accomplished a peal in one of the most beautiful and stately cathedrals in the land, and afterwards very hearty congratulations were expressed by many critics of the Cathedral band and other listeners from surrounding districts. A peal here is, however, in the opinion of all the band, still a 'man's job'!

During the night it was noticed that when the 'quarters' sounded one bell was missing, and this recalled the fact that in 1868 the treble bell was stolen. The conductor was in the tower again by eight o'clock, and found that one of the bells had been left 'up'. The omission was quickly rectified, and thereafter the famous chimes every three hours were once more perfect.

Mr. Dawe desires heartily to thank the Dean (the Very Rev. W. Moore-Ede) for so kindly and readily renewing permission, and Mr. R. Smith, the Cathedral clerk of works, for his kind attention and assistance, and Mr. Albert Walker, of Birmingham, without whose help the project could not have been undertaken.

ESSEX BELLS RESTORED.

REOPENING SERVICE AT GREENSTEAD GREEN.

Despite the dreary weather conditions, a large gathering of ringers attended the reopening of the bells and thanksgiving service at Greenstead Green on Saturday last. There were representatives from all parts of the county, and visitors from Suffolk and Cambridgeshire. Ringing commenced at 2 p.m., and the beautiful peal of six (tenor 12½ cwt.), which have recently been rehung by Mr. A. Bowell, Ipswich, were much admired, the only obstacle being the poor circle, which is entirely due to lack of room. The church was crowded when the service commenced, and the Vicar (the Rev. W. W. Duckworth) warmly thanked the congregation for turning out in such large numbers, and also the ringers, some of whom had come such long distances.

The Lord Bishop of Chelmsford, before his address, associated himself with the Vicar's remarks, saying how gratifying it was to see such a splendid congregation in a little country village like Greenstead Green. Looking at the beautiful work which had just been completed, it was proof that at this village the parishioners were preserving that which had been left by their ancestors.

A collection in aid of the restoration fund amounted to over £7.

Thanks to the arrangements made by the District Master (Mr. A. A. Saunders), forty ringers sat down to an excellent tea at the Plough Inn, Mr. C. H. Howard, Master of the association, being in the chair. The Vicar also paid a visit at the conclusion of the tea, and gave all the visitors a hearty welcome. He could not help admiring, he said, the unity and good feeling that existed amongst them, and at any time, if they wanted a little outing, they should come to Greenstead Green, where the bells would be at their disposal, and they could have a good time. He then paid a high tribute to the District Master for his work in the parish, and hoped there would soon be a local company to ring the bells.

Mr. Howard, in reply, added testimony to Mr. Saunders, who, he said, was a capable ringer and a good instructor. He had held the office of District Master for a number of years to the satisfaction of all, and he was sure he would not be satisfied until he had achieved his aim by instructing a local band.—Mr. Saunders, in returning thanks, said he should make every effort to get together a local band, but if he did not succeed it would not be his fault.

Mr. W. J. Nevard, of Great Bentley, a pioneer of the art and a live wire of the association, in relating some of his ringing reminiscences, said he had rung in about 150 churches in Essex, and over 690 throughout England, Scotland and Wales. He wanted a few more to make the 700, and he hoped to reach that number before long.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.BIG MEETING OF CHIPPING NORTON DEANERY BRANCH.

The Chipping Norton Deanery Branch held their spring meeting in very inclement weather at Churchill on Saturday last. Ringing commenced at 1.45 p.m., and continued until 4 p.m., when a service was held in the Parish Church. The Guild's special form of service was used, and was conducted by the Rev. Martin Spearing, who gave a most eloquent address.

After the service a splendid tea was served in the Schoolroom, when upwards of 78 sat down, as the guests of the Churchill bell-ringers. There were present the branch chairman (the Rev. E. C. Freeman), the Rev. J. A. Burnley, the Master of the Guild, and the Guild general secretary, also visiting ringers from Abingdon, Bourton-on-the-Water, and Hitchin.

At the business meeting the following officers were re-elected: The Rev. E. C. Freeman, chairman; Mr. J. Keyte, secretary; Miss Webb and Mr. Miles, Guild committee representatives.

The branch made a grant of £1 Is. to the Stedman Tercentenary Fund.

The place for the autumn meeting was next discussed, and Enstone and Kingham proposed. Upon being put to the vote it was decided to go to Kingham.
