DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

PLANS FOR THE FUTURE.

There are many towers in which, for various reasons, practice is suspended during the summer months. With the near approach of dark evenings, making outdoor occupation and pastimes impossible, ringers will once more be turning their attention more seriously to the belfry, and those who are renewing their week-night operations will, we hope, be coming back with a fresh zest. In country churches particularly it is very difficult to maintain practice during the summer, and the problem is likely to be accentuated in the future, with the growing desire of the rising generation for outdoor pursuits, which in these days are so many and varied. Those who are responsible for maintaining efficiency in the towers will thus find it necessary to concentrate upon a more intensive effort, if they are to secure in eight months what they previously spread over a whole year. They will have to make a fuller use of the time at their disposal.

There are, we are afraid, a great many towers where practice is a very haphazard affair, with little or no set purpose; certainly no preconceived plan of action and an absence of ambition. If real progress is to be made every band, when they begin their 'winter' operations, should set some definite goal before them. They may find setbacks which will prevent that goal being reached, but to have had an object in view will, they will find, have taken them a step forward. The band that has no ambition never gets anywhere; and there is nothing more discouraging to the enthusiastic ringer than to find himself among colleagues who are content to 'mark time.' There are scores of belfries where no effort is made collectively to get beyond, say, Grandsire or Plain Bob as a band. The ringers 'sit' on these methods for years, without effort to get beyond them. Is it any wonder, therefore, that sooner or later the company drops to pieces from sheer evaporation of interest? The keen ones, if there are any, go elsewhere.

The risk of this could often be avoided by setting out each autumn with a definite plan of progress, which the band should strive by every effort to achieve. There is now such a large field through which ringers of every class can wander at will that there is absolutely no excuse for stagnation. Fifty years ago the scope for expansion was extremely limited. Not so to-day. Neither is it necessary to take steps of progress as big as once seemed necessary. To the man of little experience it was a big jump from Plain Bob to Double Norwich, or from Treble Bob to Superlative. The ringer to-day, whatever his limitations, will find his path to progress made easy. The methods available for his study go on in simple stages, and he has a wealth of text-books to help him, whether he rings on six or on eight bells, or on ten for that matter. What is needed is initiative on the part of the ringers themselves, and particularly on the part of the leaders of towers. If they will make up their minds that before the end of the coming winter they will be masters of at least one new method, they will retain interest and have taken a valuable step forward from the dangers of stagnation. But it needs determination now.

THE GREAT NESS DISPUTE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Incidents such as that reported in your last issue are very regrettable, but there is no need for us to give them an importance they do not deserve. They are really inevitable incidents in the life of the Exercise, and are due to the conditions under which ringing was practised for several centuries. For those conditions the Church was as much responsible (more in fact) than the ringers themselves. If ringers as a body were not conspicuous by their attendance at church that was the fault of the Church authorities: for ringing (as distinct from chiming) was a purely secular thing, and the ringers stood and always had stood even from pre-Reformation times outside the Church organisation.

What we want to do is to impress on the clergy that things are infinitely better now than they were in the middle of the last century and that the improvement is due to the ringers themselves. The improvement is a slow process and is only hindered by such drastic if well-meaning action as that by the Rector of Great Ness. On the other hand, ringers should realise that the future of change ringing depends entirely on how far the Exercise can co-operate with the Church authorities.—Yours truly,

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

INITIAL INSTRUCTION.

To the Editor.

Sir,—When pupils are being taught they find their greatest difficulty is in holding the tail end properly between the forefinger and thumb, and I have come across a great number who have never got over this fault, thereby losing the power of one hand.

I teach a pupil on the tail end first in the usual manner, and, after he has got the idea of pull and control, I let him catch the sally while I look after the tail end. But, before starting to catch the sally, I give him a piece of bell rope about 20-in. long and doubled same as the tail, and he must catch the sally with this rope between the forefinger and thumb, and I insist that all fingers must circle the sally. In this way he learns without the worry of dropping the tail end, and as a result does not hold the tail so viciously when he comes to actual ringing.

This may not be new to the older ringers, but to the young instructor I can vouch for its success.—Yours truly,

HENRY SARGENT.

26, Otago Street, Hillhead, Glasgow.

NEWS FROM NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE.

A meeting of the North Staffordshire Association was held at Uttoxeter on September 24th, when a company of 45 attended from Brown Edge, Burslem, Cheadle, Draycott, Leek, Lullington, Longton, Measham, Newcastle, Overseale, Uttoxeter, Roslestone, Stafford, Stoke-on-Trent and Wellington. The Rev. W. W. Sutton (curate), in the absence of the Vicar, conducted the service.

Tea was in a nearby cafe, where the curate welcomed the association to Uttoxeter. He was supported by Mr. E. Roberts, leader of the ringers at Uttoxeter. Mr. E. A. Ridgway thanked the Vicar and the ringers for the use of the bells, and the splendid welcome they had given the association. Thanks were also accorded the organist and the churchwarden for coming along to show their interest in the service.

PEAL NOTES.

The peal of Minor at Llanfrecfha on Sept. 20th was arranged in honour of the wedding of the Rev. Ivor J. Richards and Miss Irene Powell, which took place on the same day at Llanhennock Parish Church, where the bridegroom is priest-in-charge. Mr. Richards was Master of the association last year and is a very keen ringer, but unfortunately has no bells at his church. He had modestly requested that no ringing should be done, but his friends held him in too much esteem to regard that request.

The first peal for the Huddersfield and District Association was rung at Elland on September 11th, and the band came from eight different towers.

The peal of Grandsire Triples at Beckington on September 18th completed Mr. S. J. Hector's circuit of the tower. It was rung for the harvest thanksgiving, and afterwards the band were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Biggs.

On September 20th Mr. Kenneth Lewis called at Miles Platting the same composition as was rung by the Union Scholars at St. Dunstan's-in-the-East, London, on December 27th, 1718. It was the very first peal of Major of any sort ever accomplished. The figures of the peal were printed in the Clavis, and the composer of it is generally said to be unknown, but there can be little doubt that it was the work of Robert Baldwin, who about the same time composed Union Triples, evidently in an endeavour to simplify the extent of Grandsire Triples which John Garthorn, of Norwich, had recently composed.

The calling of the Treble Bob is 4B., 2W., 2R., four times repeated, and it is true; notwithstanding that it was not until the year 1768 that ringers realised the necessity for testing the rows in the interior of the loads of Treble Bob Major.

Yet another Surprise Major method has been rung by Mr. H. G. Cashmore and his talented band. It was the same as Sedburgh Surprise, but with the addition of 7th place when the treble lies its whole pull behind.

The peal of Minor at Biddenham on September 20th was rung on the second anniversary of the induction of the Vicar, the Rev. Mr. Carey. Mr. R. West has now twice circled the tower, and Mr. P. Inskip has rung 25 peals in the steeple.

Mr. E. A. Barnett reached his fiftieth peal during the present year when he took part in the 5,056 Yorkshire Surprise Major at Northfleet last Saturday. It was Mr. P. A. Corby's first in the method as conductor, and the first in the method on the bells.

The peal of Stedman at Dartford on September 19th was arranged and rung for Mr. Reginald H. Jarvis, of Chipping Norton, who was spending a holiday in London. He was elected a member of the Kent County Association before starting for the peal, which was the first he has rung outside his native county.

The peal of Kent Treble Bob Major at Lowestoft on the 22nd was the one hundredth that Mr. E. R. Goate has rung for the Norwich Diocesan Association. It was a birthday compliment to Miss Dorothy Constance, the ringer of the third.

At Warnham in Sussex some years ago the local company rang eight peals within one week, which seems to show that ringing was not very unpopular among the village people. There are still peals rung there, though usually by visiting bands, and on the 24th Mr. A. H. Pulling called 5,088 changes of Kent Treble Bob. The peal was specially arranged to celebrate the birthdays of Messrs. Walter Charman and Thomas Adams, the ringers of the treble and third; and the silver wedding of the Vicar of Warnham, the Rev. F. D. Farebrother.

Mr. Robert Sperring has now rung a peal in every tower in the Crewe District of the Cheshire Association which has eight bells or more. The peal at Lawton on Saturday was a birthday compliment to Messrs. George A. Packer and A. Crawley, the ringers of the fourth and sixth.

The peal of Spliced Minor at Stisted on the 17th, in which 25 methods were introduced, involving 156 changes of method, was of particular interest. It marked the 25th peal together of three couples participating, viz., Mr. V. Morley and Mr. R. Bird, Mr. Reginald G. Simmonds and Mr. A. L. Dixey, and Mr. A. M. Genery and Mr. R. Bird. It is an example of friendship engendered by peal ringing. The peal was rung as a welcome to the new Rector of Stisted (the Rev. V. H. A. Charles), and was the first peal in 25 methods by all and for the association.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Ashford District was held at Ashford on Saturday, September 24th. Forty-four members were present from Aldington, Bethersden, Brabourne, Hythe, New Romney, Staplehurst, Tenterden, Throwley, Willesborough and the local band. Ringing in various methods was carried on during the afternoon and evening. The association service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. H. Duncan S. Bowen.

Tea was served in the Parish Room, followed by the business meeting, at which the Vicar presided. All the district officers were unanimously re-elected. Quarterly meetings were proposed to be held at Hythe in December, Wye in March, and Biddenden in June.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar and organist, and members then returned to the tower, ringing continuing until 8.30 p.m.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION AT RAWMARSH.*RINGERS' REPRESENTATIVE ON ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

An announcement was made at the quarterly meeting of the Southern Division of the Yorkshire Association at Rawmarsh on September 17th that as a result of the Central Council's efforts to have a representative from the ringers on every Diocesan Advisory Committee of the Sheffield Diocese.

About 35 members attended, the following towers being represented: Sheffield Cathedral and St. Marie's, Ranmoor, Handsworth, Rotherham, Eastwood, Wortley, Doncaster, Arksey, Felkirk, Warth and the local company. The ringing included touches of Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Little Bob and Kent, and the service was conducted by the Rector (Canon F. G. Scovell), who gave a much appreciated address.

A feature of the Rawmarsh meetings is the excellent teas. Local ringers' wives and sweethearts surpassed themselves on this occasion, and the voices which were so much in evidence at the service were conspicuous by their absence during the meal. While the ladies cleared the tea tables a well-struck course of Grandsire Caters was rung on handbells by Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Ryder, Messrs. G. Lewis, S. F. Palmer and J. J. L. Gilbert.

Canon Scovell, who presided at the business meeting, welcomed the association to Rawmarsh, and Mr. Lewis accorded a hearty welcome to Mr. J. J. L. Gilbert, the new divisional secretary, who has succeeded the late Mr. F. Clark. Five new members were elected, viz., Messrs. B. White (Rawmarsh), H. Rusby, F. Rusby, N. Moxon and W. Broadhead (Cawthorne). Arksey was chosen for the December meeting, the opinion being that it would be a gracious act to visit the tower where Mr. F. Clark, the late divisional secretary, did most of his work.

Announcing that the annual Snowden Commemoration Dinner would be held at Ye Olde Castle Restaurant, Exchange Street, Sheffield, Mr. S. F. Palmer said there was no reason why the dinner should not be better than any before, and he hoped all members would make a special effort to attend. Votes of thanks were passed to the Rector, to Mr. Blyth (the organist) and the ladies. Ringing continued in various methods, including Oxford, Double Norwich and Superlative, until 8.30 p.m.

BLETCHLEY, BUCKS.—To celebrate the centenary of the London and Birmingham Railway, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes) was rung on September 17th by the following band: W. French 1, E. Whitlock 2, R. G. Abrahams 3, H. Ridgway 4, H. C. Edwards 5, R. Hall 6, H. Sear (conductor) 7, E. Lathall 8. First quarter-peal by ringers of 3 and 6. All the above band are employed in the L.M.S. Works, Wolverton.

A NEW TOWER FOR THE GUILDFORD GUILD.*SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT BRAMLEY.

There was an atmosphere of youth about the meeting of the Guildford District at Bramley on Saturday, which augurs well for the future of the Exercise. An attendance of 45 for a light six-bell tower is very creditable, and with the addition of Womersley bells some two miles distant, the tastes of the company were well catered for.

Probably the most gratifying feature of all was the election of eight new members from Bramley. A new band of young ringers has been assembled, with Mr. C. M. Martin as the hon. secretary and Mr. L. G. Hyde as captain. In the opinion of the Ringing Master of the district, the material of the new band is very promising. The secret of success, he emphasised at the meeting, was to 'stick it.' Nobody is more pleased at the new turn of events than the Vicar (the Rev. G. N. Selby-Lowndes), who presided at the meeting and conducted the Guild service in the Parish Church. 'People in the parish,' he said, 'have remarked to me how pleased they are to hear the bells ringing again.' The welcome back into the Guild of Bramley ringers was voiced by Mr. R. Whittington. 'I have been in the habit of coming here for over 50 years,' he said, and recalled the days when Bramley had a good band.

There was, however, a sad side to the proceedings. The meeting heard with regret of the death of Mr. Cole (Old Woking) and Mr. D. Cheeseman (Pirbright). Sympathy was expressed with Miss Avenell (Worpleston) in the death of her mother. A report was received from Albury of a restriction of the number of Guild members from eight to four. Mr. W. F. J. Cope (the hon. secretary) is personally investigating the matter.

An appeal was made by the hon. secretary for tower secretaries to increase their number of honorary members. In connection with this forward drive, the Vicar of Bramley associated himself with the idea and was elected to honorary membership. The next meeting will be held at Old Woking on November 26th.

The ringers did not leave Bramley without expressing their thanks to the Vicar, to Mr. C. M. Martin, who made the local arrangements, and all others who contributed to the success of the meeting. As to the ringing, it embodied a very full compass. There was some good ringing and other of an indifferent character.

LINCOLN.—On September 18th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at St. Giles' Church as a 21st birthday compliment to Mr. Sydney Chambers: Percy Holmes 1, John Walden 2, John Freeman 3, Noel Chambers (first quarter-peal) 4, Sydney Chambers (first quarter-peal) 5, Jack Millhouse 6, Harold Marcon (conductor) 7, George Flintham 8. First quarter-peal as conductor.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The Editor, who has been on a short holiday to Egypt, is due home at the beginning of next week.

The many friends of Mr. James H. Riding will join us in expressing our sympathy with him on the occasion of the death of his mother, which took place on Sunday, September 18th, at Wistaston. Mr. Riding also has lost his father within the last twelve months.

Two bell 'opens' take place in Cornwall next Thursday. In the afternoon the Bishop of Truro is to rededicate a restored ring of six at Marhamchurch, and in the evening his lordship will perform the rededication of a recast peal of eight at St. Mary's, Launceston. In both cases the work has been carried out by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co.

To-day is the one hundred and seventy-eighth anniversary of the birth of William Shipway, which took place in Bath. Shipway came up to London as a young man and joined first the Junior Society of Cumberland Youths and then the senior society. For many years he was one of the leading Metropolitan ringers, but to-day is best remembered as the author of 'Campanalogia or the Art of Ringing,' one of the best books which has ever been written on the art and science.

September 29th is the date of the first peal on the ten bells at St. Leonard's, Skoreditch. It was one of Grandsire Caters, rung in 1765 and by the College Youths. The belfry was for many years the principal meeting place of the Cumberlands, but just then they were having a slack time and did not ring a peal during the year.

The claim that the peal at Hemingford Abbots, Hunts, on September 2nd, was the first in seven methods is refuted by Mr. Charles R. Lilley, who sends us particulars of a peal he called there 35 years previously on December 5th, 1903. The peal consisted of 720 changes each of Woodbine, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Double Court, Oxford Bob, Grandsire and Plain Bob.

On Saturday, September 28th, 1734, the College Youths rang the first peal at St. Dunstan's, Stepney. There were then eight bells in the tower said to be the heaviest ring of eight in England, the tenor weighing 49 cwt. The method was Bob Major, Annable conducted and two men, John Cundell and John Trenell, rang the tenor.

This month the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards joins the ranks of those ringers who have more than 50 years to their credit. He was taught to handle a bell on Thursday, September 13th, 1888, and rang in rounds on the following Sunday. Mr. Edwards has made a record of his own, for he has rung or chimed bells in eleven different lands.

While we thoroughly appreciate the motives of the band who recently rang a muffled quarter-peal before Sunday evening service for a very respected ringer who has recently passed away, we should like to point out that bells should never be muffled before any regular Sunday service unless it is in the nature of a requiem or memorial service. This is the recommendation of the Central Council and is in accordance with ecclesiastical usage.

The peal of Royal at Beccles on September 14th, reported in our last issue, was the first on ten bells by Mr. R. W. Coates, the ringer of the seventh, not by Mr. Stanley Fenn as reported.

The peal rung by the Cambridge University Guild at St. Briavels, Gloucestershire, on September 6th, contained 5,184 changes, not 5,040 as published.

The date of the meeting of the Essex Association to be held at Springfield is October 8th, not October 18th as advertised in our last issue.

We are asked to remind our Cornish tourists that the peal at Lanhydrock, Cornwall, was not the first peal of Surprise on the bells. A peal of Superlative was rung there on October 6th, 1897, conducted by J. W. Washbrook. This was the first peal on the bells and of Surprise in the county.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION AT DUNMOW.

Forty-six ringers attended a meeting of the Northern Division of the Essex Association at Dunmow on September 17th, the parishes represented being Halstead, Dunmow, Earls Colne, Greentead Green, Hatfield, Sudbury, Hornchurch, Fobbing, Leytonstone, Bishopsgate, Stebbing, Great Bardfield, Braintree, Sawston, Coggeshall, Sawbridge-worth, Wanstead, Cambridge, Newmarket and Little Munden.

The Vicar (the Rev. E. N. Mellish, V.C.) gave an appropriate address at the service, and the tea was provided by local ringers, their ladies serving. Thanking them for their hospitality, Mr. F. Ridgwell (District Master) mentioned that it was typical of the welcome the association always received at Dunmow.

At the business meeting, Mr. N. Vagg (Sible Hedingham) was elected a ringing member of the association, and Mr. J. Redgwell (Witham) was re-elected a member. It was decided to hold the next meeting, which will be the annual district meeting, at Braintree, on November 19th. The District Master thanked the Vicar for his address and for the use of the bells, and expressed thanks to the organist and the ladies who had served the tea.

During the afternoon and evening methods ranging from Grandsire Triples to London and Bristol Surprise Major were rung on the Parish Church bells.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—38.*JOSEPH T. DYKE.

Comparisons are odious and we should not like to say who is the leading conductor in the West; but if we had to name the first three or four, the list would certainly include the name of Mr. J. T. Dyke.

And yet one does not think of him especially as a conductor; at least not in the same way one does so of some other men. Rather we look on him as typical of the very best class of all-round ringers who can ring methods, call bobs, turn in tenors, teach learners, run an association and set a high standard of striking. And incidentally make a host of friends in the process.

Mr. Dyke was born in 1892 at Burton-on-Trent, where there was then a company which had ranked as the foremost in England, the first band to ring the standard Surprise Major methods as part of their regular repertoire, and here, 17 years later at St. Paul's Church, he rang his first peal, one of Grandsire Triples. During the next year he conducted a five thousand in two methods of Doubles at the neighbouring tower of Horninglow. In 1914 he joined H.M. Forces, and from 1915 to 1919 he was overseas in France, Belgium and Germany.

Altogether he has rung 562 peals, of which he called 237. They were performed in 214 towers and in 26 counties, and included the 15,312 of Cambridge Maximus at Ashton-under-Lyne in 1929, which many people think is the greatest of all long peals, all things considered.

Twice he has rung in two peals of Cambridge Maximus in one day, and he took part in the only peal of York Surprise (not Yorkshire Surprise) Royal ever rung, in a non-conducted peal of Cambridge Maximus, a silent peal of Cambridge Major and an all-conducted six-bell peal in seven methods.

He called 10,032 changes of Bob Major at Bradford-on-Avon, and the first peals of Surprise Major and London Surprise by a resident Somerset band.

Mr. Dyke is well known as an outstanding tenor ringer. He rang the tenor at Sherborne and the tenor at St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol, to Major, and the tenors at Queen Camel and Hoar Cross to Minor; in each case shortly before the bells were rehung, and later the Queen Camel tenor to seven Surprise Minor methods.

During the course of a twelve-month Mr. Dyke travels about 5,000 miles in pursuit of ringing, and at least half of them when he is engaged in instructing. This is one of his strong points and on which he has very definite views. He was the author (in collaboration with Canon Coleridge) of the 'Hints for Instructors and Beginners,' which is published by the Central Council, and of which many hundred copies have been sold. It is the work of a man who has not only had a great deal of experience in teaching, but has used his experience to discover the best ways of instructing; and here no doubt Mr. Dyke's profession is a great help to him, for he is a schoolmaster. He says himself that he is intolerant of the bad striker. Perhaps it would be more correct to say that he is intolerant of bad striking—which is not quite the same thing.

Mr. Dyke was a branch secretary of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association from 1920 and general secretary from 1925, and he represents that association on the Central Council.

PROFITABLE MEETING AT BANSTEAD.

Banstead, one of the extremes of the Guildford District, was the venue of a meeting of the Leatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild on September 10th. A party of 26 sat down to tea at the Victoria Hotel. Mr. A. Harman (Ringing Master) presided at the business meeting, when Mr. D. J. Donohoe, of Banstead, was elected a ringing member, Mr. A. J. Peacock, of Badsworth, Somerset, a compounding member, and the election of Mr. H. A. Holden, of Bexley, Kent, as a compounding member previous to a peal at Leatherhead was confirmed. The business ended with a vote of thanks to Canon Skene for the use of the bells, and to Mr. F. G. Woodiss, who had made all the arrangements.

During the day, two Triples, two Plain Bob, two Treble Bob and five Surprise Major methods were rung by members from Banstead, Cobham, Epsom and Leatherhead, with visitors from Chertsey, Cranleigh, Kingston, London and Sutton.

MR. JOSEPH T. DYKE.*THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.*EIGHTY PEALS RUNG DURING PAST YEAR.

The annual meeting of the Lancashire Association was held at Wigan on Saturday, when a membership of 1,466 was reported.

Ringing took place previous to the service at the Parish Church. Dr. David, the Lord Bishop of Liverpool, was the preacher and expressed the hope that the members would return to their different parishes strengthened after participating in the service. Assisting in the service were the Rector of Wigan and the Rev. A. Scott (president of the Guild).

There was an attendance of 54 at the tea in Lee's Cafe. The annual meeting was held at the Blue Coat School. The committee's report stated that the association had a membership of 1,466, of whom 1,030 lived in the county. Seventy new members were enrolled and 69 removed from the books for arrears. Twenty members had passed away, among them being an original member of the association, which was formed in 1876, two others who had served on the committee and as branch secretaries for 26 years, and life members who joined round about 1890. There had been four bell restorations. During the year 80 peals had been rung, which was not so many as last year, but a good average of methods had been maintained. There had been heavy calls on the balance sheet, but the association nevertheless concluded the year with a balance. The report and accounts were adopted.

The resolution, 'That each branch of the association be allowed to elect one member for the Central Council in rotation,' was discussed from both sides, and, as the matter was not pressing, it was put back for twelve months with instructions to the branch secretaries to discuss it at their meetings. There were eight nominations for the Central Council, the voting being in favour of Messrs. P. Crook, G. R. Newton, W. H. Shaker and T. B. Worsley. Seven hundred and sixty-seven voting papers were sent out and 497 returned. Blackpool and St. Helens were both proposed for the next annual meeting, and Blackpool was selected.

The president voiced the best thanks of the association to the Rector of Wigan for arranging the service, use of his church, bells and organ; the Vicar of Poolstock for his bells; the Lord Bishop for his address; the organist and choirboys for their assistance, and the branch secretary and the two towerkeepers for their help in the towers, cafe and schools.

One dear old lady thought the Wigan ringers should have rung for the occasion. When it was explained to her that it was a ringers' festival, she added, 'You should not let the visitors do the work.'

LEEDS SOCIETY VISIT ROTHWELL.

On September 17th, the Leeds Society held another successful meeting at Rothwell. Fine weather tempted ringers out early, and the bells were raised in peal at 3.15 p.m. Ringing continued in various methods (and rounds for learners from the nearby church of Woodlesford) until 5 p.m., when some 25 ringers enjoyed a very good tea, provided in the Church Institute by the local company.

At the business meeting the president (the Rev. J. H. B. Andrews) presided, and members were present from Armley, Burley, Birstall, Batley, East Ardsley, Headingley St. Chad's, Idle, Leeds Parish Church, Pudsey, Sherburn, Selby, Woodlesford and the local company.

Nine new members were elected, viz., Messrs. H. Cowling, S. Grubb, B. Nicholson, F. Watson, A. Emmett, A. Thorpe, W. Kilmister, L. Hobkinson, J. A. Madeley, all of the Woodlesford company. The usual vote of thanks to the Vicar, wardens and the local company was proposed by Mr. Watson and seconded by Mr. H. Morley. Mr. Wormald (Vicar's warden), in reply, said that they were only too well pleased in anything to help their bellringers, who were such an asset to their church, not only in the tower, but in all branches of their church work.

The society's jubilee will be next year, and a proposal was put to the meeting that a sub-committee be appointed to consider the best method of celebrating the jubilee. The following were appointed to serve: The Rev. J. A. B. Andrews (president), Messrs. W. H. Senior and T. W. Strangeway and the secretary (Mr. H. Lofthouse).

DEATH OF NOTED BERKSHIRE RINGER.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. George Holifield, sen., who passed away peacefully at Appleton, Berks, on Sunday morning. Mr. Holifield was 80 years old and had taken part in more than one record length of Caters rung at Appleton, including three of Stedman Caters—12,041 and 15,041 in 1888, and 21,363 in 1922. The funeral took place on Tuesday.

HARVEST FESTIVAL RINGING.

SEVENOAKS.—At the Parish Church on September 25th for the harvest festival, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: E. Andrews 1, Miss O. Matthews (first quarter-peal 'inside') 2, L. Turley (conductor) 3, P. Turley 4, Miss D. Colgate 5, H. J. Ford 6, W. Turley 7, S. Comber 8. At the evening service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: E. Andrews 1, Miss O. Matthews 2, L. Turley (conductor) 3, P. Turley 4, Miss D. Colgate 5, H. J. Ford 6, R. Collins 7, F. Paige 8.

SAFFRON WALDEN.—On September 22nd, 1,500 London Surprise Major: N. Shorter 1, A. Pitstow 2, A. Austin 3, F. Dench (conductor) 4, L. Pitstow 5, R. Knights 6, R. Lathbury 7, J. Ward 8. Also in honour of the birth of a son to Roland Ridgwell, a local ringer, and a birthday compliment to the ringer of the treble.

THE GLOUCESTERSHIRE TOUR.

A Tewkesbury Disappointment.

The afternoon brought the party to Tewkesbury, where they arrived at the Abbey in good time. It was a long climb up to the belfry in the enormous central tower, in one corner of which the bells are situated, a part being boarded off to make a convenient ringing chamber. Several of the ropes needed attention and quite a bit of binding up was necessary. The bells are a good peal of 12, the two trebles having been added in 1934 as a memorial to the Rev. C. D. P. Davies and the whole peal retuned by Taylors. Eventually a start was made for Yorkshire Surprise Royal on the back ten. However, it did not go so well as had been anticipated, and stand was called after an hour owing to the bad 'go' of the tenor. It was discovered that the back ten are on plain bearings, the tenor had a little oil, but no grease. Workmen are busy on scaffolding around the tower working on the outside stonework, and chips and stonedust must get in the bearings. We were given to understand there is now no local band at the Abbey and that the bells are rung only when visitors arrive. It seems a great pity that such fine bells should be left neglected and not rung. They are worthy of the fine building and should be rung for service. Fred Rogers was again the unlucky conductor. He was calling all three of the efforts which came to grief, neither of them any fault of the conductor or the band. After bidding farewell to W. F. Judge, who had to leave for home at Oxford, the party turned back to Gloucester to have half an hour's pull on the bells at Barnwood.

The road was very winding when we went to Longney on Saturday morning, 6½ miles through the heart of the country. A small church, dwarfed by an enormous yew tree, six houses and a farm constituted the village, an ideal spot for peal ringing. Ex-Sergt. J. Williams came along to spend the day with us and to listen to some good ringing. The bells are a very handy and pleasant peal of eight, with tenor 14 cwt. in F, rung from the ground floor. Rudhalls were the founders, and the whole peal were rehung on ball bearings by Taylors a few years ago. A peal board records a peal of Stedman Triples rung on the bells on January 16th, 1931, in 2 hours and 36 minutes, conducted by William Longney, sen. We were told this was the first peal of Stedman Triples rung. Spliced London, Bristol, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major went very well indeed and was successful in 3 hours and 7 minutes, conducted by O. Sippetts, the first of 'spliced' on the bells. After the peal the party returned to Gloucester for lunch, then, in the afternoon, a mile on the Cirencester road to Barnwood for the final attempt of the week. Mr. Harry Newman was waiting to let us into the belfry. The square tower contains a musical octave with tenor 10 cwt.—a nice handy ring on which to complete the week. The back six are by Rudhall, the two trebles having been added by Taylors in 1912. A good peal of Cambridge was tapped out in 2 hours and 57 minutes and was George Poppnell's 250th peal.

A SATISFACTORY TOUR.

The band were naturally highly satisfied with the week's results, 11 peals rung out of 14 attempts, with four conductors, and all rung for the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association.

Several local ringers, together with Mr. J. Austin and ex-Sergt. Williams, joined the party at headquarters for a social evening, in which the handbells, to change and tune ringing, played a prominent part, and it was very late before the party broke up.

With a few words, the organiser, Mr. J. M. Cripps, voiced the band's great appreciation of the great help rendered by Mr. J. Austin in arranging and carrying out the programme. His local knowledge was unrivalled, and it was good to see how welcome he was everywhere they went. Mr. Austin was with us from 9 in the morning until 11 or after at night, every day; he knew everyone and exactly what to do. Without his great help the tour could not have been carried through so smoothly, and his cheery company was greatly enjoyed by all. A suitable presentation was made and acknowledged. Mr. Austin said anyone who came to Gloucester would receive the same help and welcome. It had been a real pleasure to him to help organise and arrange, and if the tourists got the same pleasure out of it as he did, he was well satisfied.

Spliced Surprise was called by Mr. Austin, 'London, Brighton and South Coast Railway,' for it appeared on the programme as Spliced L.B.S. and C. This was a great joke, but he knew and found it could be rung well. Mr. Austin joined in one peal during the week, at Cheltenham, but could not be persuaded to stand in another, he was content to come along and listen.

Having completed the peal programme, service ringing was not forgotten. On the day of departure we rang for an hour in the morning at St. Mary-de-Crypt, Gloucester, ringing Spliced Surprise, Cambridge and Stedman Triples. The coach was directed towards home at 2.30, and after a pretty run along high ground, a call was made at Bourton-on-the-Water at last year's headquarters, the New Inn, where Mr. Morriss expressed great pleasure in meeting us again, as we were pleased to see him. Only a short stay was possible, and the 35-mile journey to Drayton, Berks, to ring London Surprise and Stedman Triples for service on the light octave, tenor 9 cwt. Then home, the coach dropping the various members of the party between Guildford

SURREY ASSOCIATION AT EPSOM.

CHANGING CONDITIONS IMPEDE PEAL RINGING.

A meeting of the North-Western District of the Surrey Association was held at Epsom Parish Church on September 24th, and was attended by 30 members representing Ashted, Baustead, Beddington, Bishopsgate, Croydon (St. John's), Chelsea, Epsom (Christ Church), Ewell, Kingston-on-Thames, Leatherhead and Mitcham.

Ringling commenced at 3.30 p.m. and continued until 5.15, when an adjournment was made to the Church Room for tea. The business meeting followed and was presided over by Mr. D. Cooper, the District Ringing Master. The chairman welcomed Mr. R. F. Roe, of Wigston, Leicestershire, who was spending a holiday in the district. In replying, Mr. Roe thanked the Surrey Association for their hospitality and invited them to attend meetings of the Midland Counties Association should they at any time happen to be in the Leicester District.

One new member was elected, and the ratification of the elections of two other members, which had taken place in belfries prior to ringing, were confirmed.

The gradual closing of towers in the district for peal attempts was discussed. It was pointed out that, in nearly every case, the present state of affairs had been brought about by alterations in local conditions over which the association had no control. Churches which 20 years ago were situated in rural areas and at which peal attempts were fairly frequent were now, owing to the growth of population, in the midst of urban districts. A proportion of the new inhabitants were unsympathetic towards bells and bellringers, and some of these people voiced their opinions in no uncertain manner, with the result that peal attempts had become restricted.

No other business being forthcoming, a vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells and to the captain of the local ringers, Mr. P. T. Cooper, for arranging the meeting. Members then returned to the tower, where ringing continued till 8.30 p.m.

LADIES' GUILD.

FIRST MEETING IN BEDFORDSHIRE.

The first meeting of the Ladies' Guild in Bedfordshire, held at Dunstable on September 17th, was a great success. Twenty-six members of the Guild attended, the majority of whom came from the South Midland District, but the London District was represented by eight members.

After a short service, conducted by the Rector, tea was served in the Parish Hall, to which 73 ringers and friends sat down. The Mayor and Mayoress of Dunstable were present and the Rector of Dunstable and Mrs. Griffiths.

There being no business meeting, the president (Miss Steel) welcomed the visitors and proposed a hearty vote of thanks to all who had helped to make the meeting so enjoyable.

Ringling took place during the afternoon and evening, and a course of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung by eight members of the Guild. Some of the visitors adjourned to a nearby six-bell tower and enjoyed an hour's ringing.

SUNDAY SERVICE TOUCHES

CROYDON, SURREY.—At the Parish Church of St. John the Baptist on Sunday, September 4th, for evensong, a quarter-peal of Grand-sire Triples: Miss D. Williams 1, Mrs. F. E. Collins 2, R. Davies 3, F. E. Mitchell 4, J. Cawley 5, L. G. Pratt 6, D. D. Cooper (conductor) 7, F. E. Collins 8. First attempt for a quarter-peal by the ringer of the treble, and first quarter-peal on an 'inside' bell by the ringer of the 2nd.

HESTON, MIDDLESEX.—On Sunday, September 4th, for morning service, a quarter-peal of Oxford Bob Triples: H. G. Cooper 1, H. C. Chandler 2, C. J. Tricker 3, W. F. Ellingham (conductor) 4, A. Jones 5, G. W. Morris 6, E. R. Gladman 7, W. W. Webb 8. For evensong, a quarter-peal of Bob Major: W. F. Ellingham 1, H. C. Chandler 2, G. C. Goodman 3, W. W. Webb 4, C. J. Tricker 5, G. W. (Continued from previous column.)

and Brighton, after having spent a very enjoyable week in Gloucestershire, both the ringing and the social side being excellent, and the band look forward to another successful tour next year.

Thanks must be tendered to the various incumbents for their ready permission, also to the various tower captains for getting things ready, and last, but not least, the fact that the tour was made possible by the great work put in by the organiser, Mr. J. M. Cripps, who arranged all the details in conjunction with Mr. J. Austin. The band are deeply grateful for the work put in by these two, who did not meet until the first day of the tour. Our host at The Kimbrose, Mr. A. Timmes, and his daughter, Mrs. Pritchard, made us very comfortable all the week. Here's to the next time! C. E. S.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION.*A YEAR OF PROGRESS.

The sixty-first annual meeting of the association was held in Newcastle-upon-Tyne on September 24th. The bells of the Cathedral and St. John-the-Baptist were kindly placed at the disposal of the members from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., and ringing took place in both towers.

The service was held in the choir of the Cathedral, by permission of the Provost (the Rev. G. E. Brigstocke, M.A.), and was well attended. In an informal address the Provost, who was only recently inducted to the benefice, welcomed the association to Newcastle, saying how pleased he was to have the opportunity of meeting the members. He took as his theme St. Paul's mention of the components of the Body of Christ, and said that although bellringers were not mentioned specifically, he thought they could be included as helpers. He believed that if ringers were sincere in their work of calling people to church and set an example by attending services themselves, they could exercise a good influence on other people. He hoped that none of the ringers present rang the bells and did not attend service! He went on to say that he had no knowledge of change ringing, but from a recent visit to the Cathedral belfry he judged that a good deal of patience and skill were required to become proficient, even though he had an unmathematical mind. The Provost gave an instance of what he termed the trend of modern times when he said he had recently asked a young man why he did not attend church, and received the reply that his (the young man's) Sunday would be spoilt. He thought Sunday should be set aside for worship, and that the sound of the bells each Sunday served to remind those who were unmindful that the worship of God was taking place. A collection, the proceeds of which are intended to form the nucleus of a bell restoration fund, realised £1 6s. 6d. At the conclusion of the service prayer was offered at the Association War Memorial by Canon Stephenson (Rector of Gateshead), and a course of Grand sire Triples was rung on handbells by Messrs. J. Anderson, C. L. Routledge, J. E. R. Keen and R. Park. Dinner was served in the Crown Hotel, followed by the general meeting.

The president (Mr. M. D. Oubridge) was in the chair, supported by Mr. R. Park (hon. secretary), Mr. W. N. Park (hon. treasurer), Mr. C. L. Routledge (hon. editorial secretary), Canon Stephenson, the Rev. J. Hudson Barker (Vicar of Northam-on-Tweed), Mr. A. Payne, O.B.E., J.P. (immediate past president) and Mr. J. Anderson (a former president). The loyal toast, given by the president, was accorded musical honours.

Apologies for absence were received from the Rev. G. E. Brigstocke, the Rev. W. S. Baker (Vicar of St. John's), Messrs. R. A. Gofton, K. Arthur, T. W. Crowe, F. Robson, W. H. Barber and W. J. Davidson. The secretary's annual report, the peal report and the treasurer's statement were unanimously adopted.

A PLEA FOR HIGHER METHODS.

In his report, the secretary stated that the meetings held during the year had been more successful than those held in the previous year, but there was still room for improvement. He called upon members to attend all the meetings they possibly could, and support the endeavours of the officers to place the association second to none. The records of the association showed that ringing history had been made in the past by its members, and could be repeated, but a great effort would be necessary to accomplish this. This could not be accomplished by the officials alone, and it was up to each member to 'pull his weight.' The secretary also said that the number of peals rung during the year (numbering 26), as set out in Mr. Routledge's peal report, could be considerably increased, and, whilst not in the least disparaging the peals rung as a rule, suggested that attempts to ring peals in higher methods might be organised by the officials so that the record of the association in the Central Council Analysis may look a little more impressive than of late. The report made reference to the passing of one of the patrons of the association—the Rt. Rev. J. G. Gordon, D.D., Bishop of Jarrow, who, although he did not take an active interest in the affairs of the association, endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact by reason of his gentle and kindly manner. The Diocese of Durham has suffered a great loss by his passing. Reference was also made to the passing of Mr. R. A. Johnson, of Durham Cathedral, Mr. J. Stuart, of Gateshead, Mr. J. W. Foster, of Benfieldside, and the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, a life member for many years.

The number of peals rung during the year was 26, which was two more than in the previous year. There were eight first peal men, and Mr. W. Robson, of South Shields, entered the list of conductors for the first time. The two outstanding peals of the year were probably a peal of Stedman Cinques rung at Newcastle Cathedral to commemorate the diamond jubilee of the association, and a peal of Surprise Minor rung half-muffled at Holy Trinity, Darlington, as a mark of respect to the late Dr. Gordon.

In the Sunday service ringing scheme, St. Ignatius', Sunderland, took the first certificate in the section for eight, ten and twelve bell towers, with a score of 1,216 points, having returned an excellent record. North Shields were placed second and Whitley Bay third. North Shields would undoubtedly have had a much higher score but for the fact that their bells were in the hands of the bellhangers for several weeks for retuning and rehanging. In the six-bell section Holy Trinity, Darlington, took the first certificate with a score of 1,405 points, Benfieldside remaining second and Benwell third.

The hon. treasurer's statement showed a balance in hand of £71 15s. 9d., and although this was £5 less than last year, it was considered satisfactory when it was recalled that £10 had been donated to bell restoration funds.

WELCOME TO CANON STEPHENSON.

The president addressed words of welcome to Canon Stephenson and the Rev. J. Hudson Barker, expressing pleasure at their presence. In responding, Canon Stephenson referred to his 31 years' membership of the association, and said he looked forward to attending the annual dinner as often as possible. He spoke at length, and, amongst other things, said that of all the organisations connected with his church, none could surpass the belfry in their unanimity. The Rev. J. Hudson Barker also responded, and said that although it was some years since he was able to attend annual meetings owing to the fact that he always took his holiday in September, he had not lost touch. In a passing reference to the political situation, he recalled that during the last war two bands of ringers at his church in Consett were called to the Colours and very few returned. He prayed that disaster might be averted and that all present would be able to attend the meeting next year.

The president thanked the Rev. G. E. Brigstocke for the use of the Cathedral bells and for conducting the service, the organist and the Rev. W. S. Baker for the use of St. John's bells. He said how greatly the association valued the interest of the clergy, especially for their readiness in granting the use of the bells for meetings and peal attempts.

Mr. J. Anderson proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the retiring officers, and, on behalf of the members, thanked them for their excellent work during the year.

THE NEW OFFICERS.

The election of officers then took place as follows: President, Mr. M. D. Oubridge; hon. secretary, Mr. R. Park; hon. treasurer, Mr. W. N. Park; hon. editorial secretary, Mr. C. L. Routledge; hon. auditor, Mr. J. F. Bird; Peal Referees Committee, Messrs. W. H. Barber, W. J. Davidson, J. E. R. Keen and J. W. Parker; Central Council representatives, Messrs. W. H. Barber, W. J. Davidson and J. W. Parker. District officers were elected as follows: Northern District: Vice-president, Mr. E. Wallace; district secretary, Mr. J. Roach. Southern District: Vice-president, Mr. R. Jeff; district secretary, Mr. J. T. Titt. Eastern District: Vice-president, Mr. R. L. Patterson; district secretary, Mr. F. Robson. Western District: Vice-president, Mr. F. Sheraton; district secretary, Mr. J. A. Brown. Wednesday Guild: Vice-president, Mr. W. Sheraton; secretary, Miss M. A. P. Bertie.

The president submitted the suggestions of the committee regarding meetings to be held during the ensuing year, and these were adopted as follows: December 3rd, 1938, special meeting at North Shields; February 18th, 1939, pre-Lent meeting at West Hartlepool; May 20th, 1939, pre-Whitsun meeting at Hexham; July 8th, 1939, summer meeting at Morpeth; and September 30th, 1939, annual meeting at Durham.

REORGANISATION SUGGESTIONS.

Whilst speaking on the subject of meetings, the President said Mr. G. W. Park had placed a suggestion before the committee to the effect that the association meetings, other than the annual meeting, should be cancelled and that all meetings should be arranged and held as district meetings in view of the small attendances. He said that discussion had been postponed until a later meeting, but he asked members to attend the intervening meetings because the committee did not wish to take any drastic step and the attendances would act as a guide in their decision.

A suggestion formulated by Mr. K. Arthur and placed before the meeting on his behalf by Mr. C. L. Routledge to the effect that the districts as at present constituted should be disbanded and the territory covered by the association divided into a Northern, Central and Southern Division met with considerable opposition. Messrs. J. Anderson, R. L. Patterson, T. W. Dodd, S. Thompson and J. A. Brown all spoke against it, and in view of the fact that Mr. Arthur was not there to defend his proposal, discussion was deferred until the Hexham meeting.

The toast, 'The continued and increased prosperity of the association,' given by Mr. W. Storey, was received with acclamation.

Mr. E. A. Gallimore, of Durham Cathedral choir, again entertained the company with songs and monologues which were greatly appreciated by all, and a vote of thanks to Mr. Gallimore and the accompanist, Mr. Sullivan, brought an enjoyable gathering to a close.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

YOUTH AND THE FUTURE.

At the annual dinner of the Worcestershire Association, one of the more recently established among these interesting social events, and one which is growing into a gathering of some importance, speakers made an appeal to the younger members to take upon themselves responsibilities as officers and as conductors. The future of ringing, as with other things, rests with the youth of to-day. To-morrow, those who now keep the machinery of the Exercise running smoothly will no longer be able to bear the burden of the task, and it is never too early for the younger members to take a share in the affairs of their association, or to learn the lessons which will turn them into competent conductors. One of the mistakes sometimes made is to leave the responsibilities to the old heads. Experience is a valuable and essential asset to the successful conduct of any organisations, but it is of greatest advantage when it can be coupled with the enthusiasm and imagination of youth. The management of an association is liable to become 'stodgy' when it remains in the unbroken care of a set of officials who, with the passing years, lose keenness and initiative. The lassitude which grows on them does so unsuspected by them, and experiment and change are not welcome. The young members are encouraged in the idea that only the seniors are capable of carrying on the affairs efficiently, but there can be no greater mistake than this. Young blood can bring a new enthusiasm to bear, and is necessary to the life of every organisation. When it can also be tempered by the experience of age, there is a combination which makes for success. The important thing is to encourage capable young ringers to interest themselves in association affairs and to take office.

In the tower, too, there should be every inducement to the younger members to take up conducting. All too often the master of a tower imagines that he is the only one who should conduct the touch or peal, whereas, while he is responsible for the ringing, it should be his first concern to see, not only that the men under his direction ring well, but that the more capable of them at least are given opportunities to learn and practise conducting. The conductor, with an eye on the future of ringing generally and in his own tower in particular, will not monopolise the conducting. If he does, there comes a time when, he himself failing, the band is left without anyone to do the calling, and, for a time at least, the bottom falls out of the structure that has been built up. It is, indeed, a short-sighted policy that makes a man, however competent, an autocrat who never gives others a chance—and yet there are many such. There are cases, of course, where the ringers are quite content to leave it all to the tower master, but the latter should make it a part of his duty to ensure that others beside himself are able to conduct touches and peals; he should give them his aid and advice, and see that facilities are provided for them to get the practice by which alone they can become efficient. A man who does this loses nothing of his prestige, but he adds very materially to the success of his band and the future progress of the art. Again, it is youth that should be encouraged to take its part; if it is there is not much doubt that it will respond.

NEWCASTLE MEN'S PEAL AT RIPON.

The Newcastle Cathedral Guild spent a most enjoyable time at Ripon, Yorks, on Saturday and Sunday, September 17th and 18th. After a hurried lunch at headquarters (The Black Bull), a move was made to the Cathedral, and a peal of Stedman Caters, conducted by Bill Barber, was rung. In this two of the youngest members rang their first peal, and the Deputy Master, Mr. Keen, scored his 300th peal. The Ringing Master, Mr. C. L. Routledge, made his first peal attempt for over two years, and the band enjoyed the help of their old friend, Mr. Percy Johnson, who tried to reduce his weight on the ninth.

The members wish sincerely to thank the Cathedral authorities for the use of the bells for the peal, also Mr. Tingle and the steeplekeeper for seeing that all was ready. Without their kind help the attempt would have been impossible.

After an excellent dinner the visitors made their way to Sharow and enjoyed more ringing. Still they were not satisfied, and, after seeing the ancient custom of the curfew, the hornblower at the market cross, further ringing was indulged in on handbells.

Sunday found them again at the Cathedral for morning service ringing, and after lunch they had a very enjoyable motor run, which eventually took them as far as Birstwith, where, after disturbing Mr. Ewhank's 'forty winks,' permission was granted by the Vicar for a ring on this lovely peal of eight. This was quite an unexpected treat and made a very enjoyable finishing touch to a most successful weekend outing.

In connection with the peal at Ripon, it should be noted that the name of the ringer of the 7th was Charles E. Lawson.

DEATH OF MR. GEORGE HOLIFIELD

PASSING OF AN APPLETON VETERAN.

An interesting personality has been removed from the Exercise by the death (as reported briefly in our last issue) of Mr. George Holifield, sen., of Appleton, Berks. He passed away on September 24th at the advanced age of 80 years.

Throughout the long ringing history of the little Berkshire village, where many records have been made, two names stand out conspicuously, White and Holifield. Appleton got its bells in 1818, and the name of White has been associated with them ever since, but George Holifield has been a living link with that distant event, for, born in 1858, he knew personally villagers who were present at the opening of the bells 40 years before.

Every year since 1818 Appleton ringers have celebrated 'March the 4th,' and the story is interesting. It is said that under the land enclosure of 1815 the then Lord of the Manor of Appleton took more than he was entitled to. There was an outcry against his action, and to appease the villagers he presented a ring of six bells to the Parish Church, and on the day they were opened, March 4th, 1818, he gave a feast to all the parishioners, and this event has been annually commemorated with a dinner.

George Holifield began his connection with ringing at Appleton something like 65 years ago, and he rang with some of the men who in 1821 rang the first 720 on the bells. As can be imagined, he was a storehouse of information and anecdote, and it was not only interesting but a real entertainment to listen to him when he was in a reminiscent mood.

Appleton saw some of its palmiest ringing days in the years when the late Rev. F. E. Robinson and James Washbrook were at the zenith of their powers. A number of records were made at Appleton, which by that time had had its bells increased to ten, and George Holifield was one of those who shared in these great performances. In the year 1838 they rang 12,041 Stedman Caters in February, 13,265 Grandsire Caters in April, and 15,041 Stedman Caters on the last day of the year, while, in addition to other peals, they scored a 10,080 of Double Norwich Major.

At the age of 64 Mr. Holifield once more helped to create a record at Appleton, when he took part in what is still the longest length by one set of men, 21,363 Stedman Caters, rung in 12 hours 25 minutes. This, also, was at Appleton.

Mr. Holifield rang, in all, something over 400 peals, his last being in February, 1936. In addition he was the composer of several peals, and the record of 16,271 Grandsire Caters at Appleton in 1932 was his composition, although he did not take part in the ringing.

Throughout the Oxford Diocesan Guild, of which he was one of the oldest members, he was highly esteemed and respected, and, although advancing age had recently curtailed his activities, he will be remembered for his cheery nature, his great enthusiasm for ringing, and particularly for his great pride in Appleton bells.

The funeral took place on Tuesday of last week at Appleton, the family mourners being Messrs. G. Holifield and W. Holifield (sons), Mrs. C. G. White (daughter), Kathleen, Eileen, Doreen, Yoland and Tony Holifield and Dorothy White (grandchildren), Mr. A. E. Lock and Mrs. Lock (niece). Four ringers, Messrs. R. White, F. White, A. H. White and F. C. White, acted as bearers, and other ringers present were Messrs. R. T. Hibbert (secretary of the Oxford Diocesan Guild), E. Humfrey and H. Smith (Reading), H. C. White and F. Messenger (Appleton). The Rev. C. E. Wigg (Deputy Master of the Oxford Guild) and the Rev. Thorne (Rector of Appleton) conducted the service, before and after which the bells were rung fully muffled.

In the evening a half-muffled peal of Grandsire Caters was rung, in which eight members of the White family took part.

MR. G. HOLIFIELD.

THANKSGIVING TOUCH.

A quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Great Baddow, Essex, on Sunday evening, October 2nd, by Don Green (first quarter-peal and first attempt) 1, George Green (conductor) 2, Miss D. K. French 3, P. Green 4, Pat Spencer Phillips (first quarter-peal and first attempt) 5, H. Carter 6, Dr. Spencer Phillips 7, L. Castleton (first quarter-peal and first attempt) 8. This quarter-peal was arranged and rung as a thankoffering for the preservation of peace.

PEAL NOTES.

A peal of 5,088 Kent Treble Bob Maximus, with the tenors in the tittums position, was rung at Oldham on Saturday. The composition, by the conductor, Mr. John Worth, was rung for the first time and he has now scored peals of Kent from Minor to Maximus.

The following are the figures of the peal. The bells are put into the tittums by calling a bob on 10-11-12 in the first course, and back into the rounds position by calling two bobs on the same bells in the last course. The first bob is made by the tenth, the second by the tenor and the third by the eleventh.

Mr. Arthur Knights is still finding some of his oldest compositions and ringing them for the first time. At Eckington, Derbyshire, on September 20th, he called a peal of Kent Treble Bob, which he composed in 1888, but which had never been rung.

The Rector of St. Nicholas', Liverpool, and his ringers showed intelligent anticipation of events when, with the former's permission, a peal of Stedman Caters was rung on Wednesday, September 28th, as a thanksgiving for peace.

Other thanksgiving peals for the maintenance of peace have been rung, including a peal of Superlative Surprise at Bocking, Essex, and a peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor at Huyton, Lancashire. The bells at Huyton are the heaviest six in the county (the tenor is 19 cwt.), and this was only the second peal rung on them.

Mr. J. R. Hayman rang his sixtieth peal when he called Holt's Ten-Part peal of Grandsire at Witheycombe Raleigh, Devon, on September 24th.

The 'coming of age' of All Saints' Church, Basingstoke, was celebrated on Saturday by a peal of Grandsire Triples. The church was dedicated 21 years ago.

As a birthday compliment to Mr. G. W. Cartmel, hon. secretary of the Hertford County Association, a peal of Minsmere Surprise Major was rung at Oxhey on Saturday. It was the first in the method by the association and all the band, and was rung without previous practice.

The peal of Treble Bob Maximus at Southwark on Saturday week was rung on the 31st birthday of Mr. T. W. Taffender, the hon. secretary of the association, and was also a birthday compliment to Mr. H. G. Miles, of St. Paul's Cathedral company, and Mr. F. Donald Boreham. It was the first twelve-bell peal by the ringers of the 6th and 8th, Messrs. W. J. Rawlings and Norman H. Manning.

Mr. Gabriel Lindoff has been spending a few days in Lincolnshire, and two peals, Treble Bob Royal at Wisbech and Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Spalding, were arranged for him. The Royal was also rung for the harvest festival, and the Major was Mrs. R. Richardson's one hundredth peal for the Lincoln Diocesan Guild.

On Thursday week, Mr. Cecil Ebberson rang at Attleborough his one hundredth peal for the Norwich Diocesan Association. It is 40 years since a peal was rung in this tower, where the ropes fall in a very bad circle. The ringers of the treble, third and fourth belong to the local band, and this was their first attempt for a peal.

The peal of Bob Minor at Harston, Sept. 26th, was rung on the 11th anniversary of the induction of the Vicar, the Rev. P. G. Ward, who afterwards entertained the ringers at the Vicarage.

Mrs. Frederick W. Housden was elected a member of the Essex Association before starting for the peal at Leytonstone on September 26th, which was rung as a birthday compliment to Mr. P. H. Avey.

Mr. D. H. Bennett rang in his one hundredth tower when he took part in the first peal in seven Doubles methods on the bells at Madley, Herefordshire, on Sunday.

The peal of Bob Doubles at Bosley, Cheshire, on Saturday, the first in the method for all the band, was a joint thanksgiving for the preservation of peace and the ingathering of the harvest.

A thanksgiving peal was rung in seven Minor methods at Henlow, Beds, on Saturday last.

On Thursday, September 29th, there was some really 'nice tapping' when a peal of Minor in three methods was beautifully rung at Groby, Leicestershire. The peal was arranged for Mr. Ronald Swann, who is to be congratulated upon capturing his first peal; incidentally this was his first touch of Oxford Treble Bob. Mr. Swann's name will, we hope, often be appearing among peal bands, and we wish him the success his enthusiasm deserves.

THE WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION SUCCESSFUL ANNUAL DINNER.

An Appeal to Young Ringers and Conductors.

Worcester, the 'Faithful City,' was the venue of one hundred ringers and friends when the seventh annual dinner of the Worcestershire Association took place at the Saracen's Head Hotel, Tything, on Saturday, September 24th. In the afternoon members and visitors availed themselves of the opportunity to ring at All Saints' (10 bells), St. John's (8) and St. Nicholas' (6). Just before dinner commenced reference was made to the sad loss sustained during the week by the host, Mr. Higgins, in the death of his wife.

The chair was taken by the Rev. G. W. Webb (clerical secretary of the association) in the unavoidable absence of the Dean of Worcester (the Very Rev. Arthur Davies), who, however, was able to be present for a short time later in the evening. With the chairman were Mrs. Webb, the Rev. F. C. Champion (Vicar of Powick), Mr. S. T. Holt (Master), Miss M. Carpenter, Mr. J. D. Johnson (general secretary) and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. J. R. Newman (vice-president) and Mrs. Newman, Mr. W. H. Johnson (treasurer) and Mrs. Johnson, Messrs. W. Short and R. G. Knowles (freemen).

After dinner the Chairman submitted 'The King,' and then followed the time-honoured toast of 'Church and State.' This was proposed by Mr. J. R. Newman, who said that in view of the international situation he had acquired a somewhat different outlook on the toast. All those who were churchmen and who took Christ's teaching to heart believed those two bodies were sincerely going to do more for international peace than anything that had been done. It was their sincere wish as ringers and churchworkers that the association of Church and State (separate in a sense yet bound together) would find their influence steadily increased. It gave him particularly great pleasure to propose the toast that night and to wish continued association of Church and State.

The Rev. F. C. Champion (hon. member), who responded, said there was a sadness in these days to find a certain section within the Church who would like to see it separated from the State. The Church gave a dignity to all State occasions and functions, and he was personally sorry to see how to a great extent the bellringing part had, in what was known as State ringing, passed out. Mr. Champion instanced how State ringing used to be carried out at his own church at Powick, and supposed that the reasons for so little State ringing in the country to-day was due to the fact that the money left for such purposes had given out. He did not suggest that ringers wanted money for ringing on those occasions, but they needed some compensation for the loss of time from work. Concluding, the speaker said Church and State ought to work together in close harmony, for there was a special unity in that binding up.

RECORD MEMBERSHIP.

The toast, 'Worcestershire and Districts Association,' was proposed by the Master (Mr. S. T. Holt), who referred to the men who founded the association and those who carried it on in its infancy. 'Are we carrying on with the good work?' he asked. He thought they were holding their own with other organisations. Although their peals were down in the last two or three years, he had noticed in the peal columns of 'The Ringing World' what appeared to be a general depression. Mr. Holt said he agreed with a leading article in that paper regarding lost peals and thought it would be a good idea if their association kept a record of all peals lost. He would go further by suggesting that, with the co-operation of conductors in towers, a record be kept of all Sunday service touches, as this would indicate what progress was being made. They could not put all this extra work on their already over-burdened secretary, but they could appoint someone as lost peals secretary, or if that title implied that the secretary was lost, then perhaps secretary for lost peals would be more suitable (laughter).

Continuing, Mr. Holt said their membership had increased by nearly one hundred that year, and constituted a record both in members gained in any one year and total membership. It was pleasing to note that most of those new members had youth on their side, and he appealed to them to copy the methods of the stalwarts of the past by giving of their best. If they did that the association would have nothing to fear for its future. The Master said he would like to see a little more enthusiasm among budding conductors. They need not be afraid of missing a bob, as most successful conductors could truthfully say it had happened to them. 'Have a shot at it,' said the speaker; they could always get any desired information from good and tried conductors.

Concluding, Mr. Holt appealed to all members, young and old, to bear in mind that their association stood for duty to the Church and all that the Church stood for. They were all small parts that went towards the assembling of the association machine. The individual, the tower, the three branches all made one smooth running machine. Their work must not be for themselves alone, nor for their particular tower alone, but for the association.

Mr. J. D. Johnson (general secretary), in responding, said that the Master had spoken so much of what he wanted to say himself that he had a suspicion that Mr. Holt had been looking at his (Mr. Johnson's) notes (laughter). It was gratifying to the Dinner Committee to see such a large gathering assembled, the numbers having doubled themselves in the past three or four years. He thought they could congratulate themselves on the year's work, since something like 90 new members had been enrolled, spread fairly evenly over the three branches. These new members had, however, created a problem on how best they could be served, since so many of them were new bands in new towers. He could not go into details there on how best this might be done, but they would bear it in mind and consider what were the best steps to take. He would make one suggestion, and that was for the budding conductors (mentioned by the Master) to go out to the isolated bands and teach them Grandsire Doubles; it would be a valuable experience.

BRANCH SECRETARYSHIP CHANGES.

Referring to the branches, Mr. Johnson remarked on the changes in branch secretaries which had occurred during the last two or three years. These secretaries had found that they required more and more time for the work and had less and less time in which to do it. The Northern Branch had already elected a new secretary for the ensuing year and another branch would be doing likewise at its next meeting. It took at least twelve months for a secretary to get used to the work, and he hoped the new secretaries would keep office for a longer time. The retiring secretaries had very good reasons for giving up and had done their work extremely well, but it made his (Mr. Johnson's) work very difficult with such quick changes. He advocated as a policy for the association that branch secretaries keep office for a longer number of years.

Mr. W. C. Dowding, proposing the toast 'Kindred Associations and Visitors,' said the wonderful spirit and comradeship exhibited at such dinners, if present in national and international relations, would find the world in a better position than it was in to-day. They were pleased to see so many of the St. Martin's Guild members present: William Davies and Fred Price, from Aston, though in the case of Mr. Davies it looked at one time as if there was not a chair in the room to hold him. (The speaker was referring to an amusing incident earlier on, in which the chair Mr. Davies sat on collapsed and another broke when he tried to save himself. A stronger chair was procured and the evening passed off without further ado.) Continuing, Mr. Dowding referred to Mr. Dan Matkin, and congratulated him on his appointment as Ringing Master of Edgbaston Parish Church. With him was Mr. Sidney Freemantle, who was vicar, verger and everything else at the same church (laughter), and whose cheerful, smiling countenance spoke of one used to the Royal Navy. They had also with them Mr. Colclough, of the Dudley and District Guild, and Mrs. Colclough, and that old stalwart, William H. Barber (Durham and Newcastle Association), who had brought with him another well-known ringer, W. J. Davidson. Then there were Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas, of the Middlesex Association, but, continued Mr. Dowding, 'as they travel so extensively it is difficult to know exactly where they come from' (laughter). Messrs. Taylor's, of Loughborough, were represented by Mr. J. P. Fidler, and the Midland Counties Association were represented by Mr. C. A. Manning. The Gloucester and Bristol Association had one member in Mr. L. Sheasby, and last, but not least, there was Mr. John W. Jones, the hon. secretary of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association, without whom no dinner would be complete. Mr. Dowding remarked that when they first formed the Police Guild of Ringers they wondered how they could get Mr. Jones in as a member, but realised there was no hope unless they made him a special constable (laughter). On behalf of the Worcestershire Association he extended a hearty welcome to the visitors.

AN APPEAL TO YOUNG MEN.

Mr. J. W. Jones, who replied, on behalf of kindred associations, extended hearty greetings. 'Long may the Worcestershire Association flourish,' he added. Mr. Jones said he had that afternoon been ringing on a peal of ten (All Saints'), where, he had been told, the bells were only rung once in three or four months, and he thought it a pity that sufficient ringers could not be found in the city to ring even the front six for Sunday services. He laid emphasis on the need for getting bells rung for Sunday services, and asked those present to read the leading article in that week's issue of 'The Ringing World' on Band Building, if they had not already done so, for he felt sure that if the suggestions contained in it were carried out there would be very few idle bells in the country. Referring to all that Mr. W. Short and other stalwarts had done for the association, he exhorted the young men in the room to carry on the good work they had done. 'Never mind Cambridge, ring Grandsire Doubles,' said Mr. Jones, and he asked them to remember that the association was formed for the promotion of change ringing and to get their bells rung for the Sunday services.

The Chairman, who at this stage was preparing to depart, gave one of his characteristic speeches, in which he said he was pleased to see so many of the fair sex present. He was particularly pleased at having brought his own wife with him, as he had long wanted to introduce her to them. He had told her what a jolly set of men the ringers were and he hoped they would make her an honorary member (applause). When the Western Branch visited Longdon she would do her best to entertain them. Continuing, Mr. Webb said he was proud of his position as clerical secretary to the association and would serve it to the best of his ability. He had long taken a keen interest in its activities and placed the association in the front of his interests. These dinners bound them together in a brotherhood and fellowship, and he was glad to see the interest in them increasing.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A quarterly meeting of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association was held at Trevethin, Pontypool, on Saturday. There was a splendid attendance from both dioceses, and visitors from Bristol. The bells, a light ring of eight installed 50 years ago, were raised about 3 o'clock and were kept busy until service was held, the Vicar (the Archdeacon of Newport) officiating, assisted by his curate.

Following the service a bountiful tea was enjoyed in the Schoolroom. The Archdeacon took the chair at the business meeting and extended a cordial welcome to all. He gave a brief history of the bells, with the ringing done on the opening day and since.

Before the minutes of the previous meeting were read, it was unanimously decided to send a letter of best wishes to last year's Master, the Rev. Ivor J. Richards, on the occasion of his recent marriage.

Instructors' reports were received and a place for the next Monmouth meeting decided upon. Bedwellty was proposed and an invitation from Ebbw Vale received. On going to the vote, the majority were in favour of Ebbw Vale.

The next Glamorgan quarterly meeting is fixed for Merthyr.

It was decided to send to send a letter of sympathy to the Lord Bishop of Llandaff (one of the presidents), who is ill, wishing him speedy recovery.

After the usual votes of thanks, the bells were again rung in various standard methods, including Double Norwich and Cambridge. It was a most pleasant and enjoyable afternoon and evening.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION DINNER.

Mr. W. B. Cartwright briefly thanked the chairman and Mrs. Webb, after which the company drank their health with musical honours.

The musical programme was made up of songs by Messrs. W. C. Dowding and G. J. Hemming, piano accordion solos by Miss C. Heath, and tunes on handbells by Mr. W. Short and party, and later by Mr. G. Leech and party. Change ringing consisted of two excellent courses of Stedman Triples (non-conducted), rung by J. Thomas 1-2, W. H. Barber 3-4, J. D. Johnson 5-6, W. Short 7-8. The evening ended with the singing of 'Auld Lang Syne' and the National Anthem. The accompanist was Mr. J. W. C. Corbett, organist of Shirley Parish Church.

The association's annual dinner is like a child with growing pains. With a larger room next year the Dinner Committee can confidently look towards a still further increase in numbers.

A MEETING AT PAINSWICK.*VILLAGE HAS DIFFICULTY IN GETTING RINGERS.

The Stroud Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association held a monthly meeting at Painswick on Saturday, September 24th, which coincided with the 252nd anniversary of the Ancient Society of Painswick Youths. Thirty ringers attended from Bradford, Yorks, Cheltenham, Charlton Kings, Cirencester, Frocester, Gloucester, Leckhampton, Lyme Regis, Minchinhampton, Meyshampton, Painswick, Poole, Randwick, Swindon, Stonehouse and Stroud.

After prayer in the belfry, the bells were raised in peal and kept going for two hours to Grandsire Triples, Caters and Cinques, Stedman Triples and Caters and Bob Royal. By kind invitation of the Vicar of Painswick (the Rev. H. Craven), all adjourned to a nearby cafe for tea. Afterwards, in the absence of the Vicar (who was conducting a service in church), Mr. T. Price, branch hon. secretary, extended a very hearty welcome to the visiting ringers and said how pleased he and all members in the branch were to welcome them to the meeting.—Mr. Yeend, of Cheltenham, and Mr. Hayward, of Cirencester, responded.

A short discussion on the history of the Ancient Society of Painswick Youths started. Unfortunately, nobody knew much about it.

To the pleasure of all present the Vicar came into the room. He was given a very warm welcome, and thanked for the use of the bells and for providing tea. In reply, he said he was very pleased to welcome the association to Painswick, and added that they were having a difficult job to get young men to take up ringing. They were doing their utmost to get a band. At one time people complained that they were getting too much ringing. Now, however, it was the other way; there was not enough.

A discussion on the insurance of bellringers was brought up. After the Vicar and several ringers had given their views, it was decided to leave the subject till some future meeting.

The tower was again visited and the famous peal of twelve was kept going till 8.45 p.m., when a very successful meeting came to an end.

NOTTINGHAM RECRUITS.

At St. Mary's, Nottingham, a number of youthful recruits between the ages of 15 and 19 are being trained, and the first results of some months of work have been the two following 720's of Bob Minor: For evensong on Sunday, September 25th, 720 Bob Minor: H. Everitt 1, W. Nichols 2, Miss I. B. Thompson 3, F. Blood 4, H. Brown 5, R. Narborough (conductor) 6. First 720 by ringers of 1 and 5. On Monday, September 26th, 720 Bob Minor: L. Holland (first 720) 1, R. Narborough 2, F. Bradley 3, J. A. Barratt 4, H. Brown 5, F. A. Salter (conductor) 6.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The ringers of St. John's, Surrey Road, Bournemouth, have been reinstated by the Vicar, and the usual practice and Sunday ringing continue as before.

Mr. James George, we regret to say, is not making the progress that could be wished. He is still under treatment in his home, and his many friends will wish him a more speedy recovery.

Two members of the Central Council made a pilgrimage to Bethnal Green last Saturday to drink beer in the Whittington and Cat in Church Row, a house which in the eighteenth century was the headquarters of the London Youths and where in 1854 the College Youths rang the first true handbell peal of Stedman Triples. They found the name of the street changed and no trace of the public-house. So another historic London landmark has disappeared. However, M. A. Wood's name is still on the door of the house where he and his father and his grandfather lived for so many years.

It is usually said that the modern tuning of bells was introduced by Canon Simpson, and certainly his pamphlet had a great effect on the matter; but in a book published in 1828 W. L. Bowles says that Mr. Lawson Huddleston, of Shaftesbury, tuned several peals 'according to the chords—namely, keynote, third, fifth and eighth.' They included St. Cuthbert's at Wells.

BAD STYLES IN RINGING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In 'The Ringing World' of September 30th Mr. Sargent explains his way of teaching beginners how to handle and control a bell, and his method is undoubtedly a very good idea. Some considerable time ago, Mr. Storey, of Newcastle, wrote in 'The Ringing World' on how to hold the rope, and also referred to the stance of the ringer. The Lancashire Association has issued a small booklet on how to hold the rope the right way and the wrong way. The way some ringers do it is, in my opinion, ridiculous. We see ringers, 6ft. in height, as well as ringers of shorter stature, who do not reach up enough, either at hand or back, thereby impeding the command of their bell, probably because they think they may touch the belfry ceiling or feel a bit out of place in being next to a smaller ringer. Here are a few of the bad habits which I have noticed:—

(1) Standing with feet about 18 inches apart at times instead of having one foot slightly in advance of the other, and so retaining better balance of the body and command of the bell.

(2) Ringing too erect, more like a mechanical toy, and pulling only from the shoulders instead of the whole body being in action.

(3) Leaning against the belfry wall, as if they are tired. That, I consider, is lazy ringing.

(4) Ringing with the first finger pointing up the rope at backstroke.

(5) Holding the rope with the hands too far apart instead of close together.

These are bad habits one sees during one's ringing career. Can anyone wonder at the bad striking, referred to many times in 'The Ringing World,' which causes much annoyance to the public, who know nothing about the art of campanology? The sooner ringers get out of such bad habits and acquire a more graceful style of ringing the sooner we may get better striking, which should be everyone's aim.

THE PEAL AT LANHYDROCK.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Your reference in last week's Belfry Gossip to the peal of Superlative Surprise at Lanhydrock, Cornwall, was of special interest to myself. When I read the reported result of the recent Cornish tour, I felt convinced that I had rung a peal of Superlative at Lanhydrock when I was a member of a touring party in Cornwall. I could not, however, substantiate this, having lost my record of peals while in South Africa. I do not know how many of the party are now living. I only know of the Rev. G. F. Coleridge and myself. I remember among those taking part in the tour were J. W. Washbrook, the Rev. F. E. Robinson, the Rev. G. F. Coleridge, the Rev. Willett, Charles Hounslow, W. W. Gifford, N. J. Pitstow, the Rev. Maitland Kelly. N. J. Pitstow did not take part in the peal in question, for I remember him remarking after the peal that it was the best ringing he had had the pleasure of listening to.

LADY RINGER'S WEDDING.

On Saturday, September 24th, the wedding of Miss Doris E. Blencowe and Mr. S. G. Catherall was solemnised at St. Laurence's Church, Reading, Berks. The Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild (Canon G. F. Coleridge) officiated, assisted by the Rev. N. J. Raper, of St. Laurence's. Two courses of Stedman Cinques were rung and the bells fired as the happy pair left the church, the ringers wishing them a life of happiness and prosperity.

The reception at St. Laurence's Hall was attended by approximately 100 guests, including Guides and Rangers, Sunday School teachers and ringers, to all of which organisations Miss Blencowe belonged. Grandfire Triples, Caters and Cinques.

Miss Blencowe has been a most punctual and regular attendant for service ringing and practice for some 16 years and will be missed. She is one of the few ringers of the gentle sex who have rung Stedman and

LEADING CONDUCTORS—39.

WALTER AYRE.

Mr. Walter Ayre is a Lincolnshire man, born at Barton-on-Humber on December 4th, 1891, but for some years he has been living at Leverstock Green, near Hemel Hempstead, in Hertfordshire.

His first peal was one of Minor in three methods rung at Barton on April 22nd, 1911, one of the band being Charles Jackson, who for so long was the leading ringer at Hull just across the Humber.

Mr. Ayre's first peal as conductor was one of Bob Minor on October 19th, 1912, and since then he has taken part in 476 peals, of which 166 were on handbells and 223 conducted by him. These show an extraordinary amount of variety, and it would take a page of 'The Ringing World' to describe them all. They include the first peals of Eyrie, Bushey and Aldenham Surprise Major, Double Court Royal and Shipway's Court Major, and on handbells the first peals of Spliced Plain and Little Bob Maximus, Wellington Little Court, Little Oxford Bob and Richmond Bob Major. The handbell peals were called by Mr. Ayre.

After ringing his first peal of Major at Hull in 1911, and of Triples at Grimsby in 1912, he removed to Nottingham for a time, and when there rang his first peals of Royal (Treble Bob at Chesterfield), Caters (Grand-sire at St. Mary's, Beverley), and Superlative at Nottingham. He joined the Army very soon after war broke out, and served with the R.F.A. in France and Belgium. Discharged in 1917, he entered a training college in London, and while there took part in a handbell peal of Bob Royal, conducted by John D. Matthews. In 1920 he rang his first twelve-bell peal—Bob Maximus on the tenor at St. Saviour's, Southwark.

It was in 1922 that he went to live at Leverstock Green, where there are only two bells, so he had to travel for his ringing. Peals in all the standard methods and many others followed—London in 1922 without previous practice. In 1924 he rang with a band of Royal Cumberland Youths in a peal of Stedman Caters at the Imperial Institute. He also rang in the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus—which completed his sequence in the method—for the same society.

In 1932 Mr. Ayre joined the band at Apsley End, where he rings twice on Sundays, as he does not consider that a man is justified in ringing peals unless he is a service ringer, but he returns to Leverstock Green to sing in the choir. In 1932 the Apsley band rang very few methods, but last year they rang over 50 fresh Minor methods. Mr. Ayre has conducted peals at Apsley in 16 Surprise methods (February 26th, 1938), 25 Minor methods (May 2nd, 1938), and 24 Surprise methods (September 5th, 1938). His other six-bell performances include a peal on the heavy ring at Bray in Berkshire, in which he rang the tenor.

Mr. Ayre lives not far from Bushey, and he is a member of the very talented band there. He has taken part with them in many performances of new Surprise methods.

He was a district secretary of the Hertford Association from 1923 to 1930, and from 1932 to the present time; was president of the association in 1935, and has been one of its representatives on the Central Council from 1937.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

NORTHERN BRANCH AT WESLEY'S BIRTHPLACE.

The half-yearly meeting of the Northern Branch was held at Epworth on Saturday, September 24th. Over 80 members and friends made good use of the beautiful new ring of eight bells, the ringing extending from rounds to Spliced Surprise.

All present were delighted to see the president, the Ven. Archdeacon Parry, back again after his long illness.

Epworth is the birthplace of John Wesley, and after the formal business had been dealt with, the president gave interesting facts about Wesley's life and read extracts from his journal.

The Vicar of Epworth, and others who had assisted, were warmly thanked for the welcome and efficient arrangements which made the meeting so successful.

MR. WALTER AYRE.

A PRESIDENTIAL CHAIN OF OFFICE.

A general meeting of the Yorkshire Association was held at York on Saturday, September 24th, when, by kind permission of the Dean (the Very Rev. H. N. Bate), the splendid ring of 12 bells at the Minster was available, and also the light ring of six at SS. Philip and James, Clifton. In spite of the uncertainty of the weather, upwards of 100 members and friends were present in the course of the afternoon and evening, some viewing the ancient beauties of this historic city, while others sampled the splendour of the mighty bells.

The official proceedings commenced with a meeting of the General Committee in the Flower Vestry at 3.15 p.m. Most of the members were punctual, but owing to the bus in which he was travelling stopping at every point en route to pick up and set down passengers, and several other times for no apparent reason, the general secretary arrived 35 minutes late, someone being so unkind as to suggest it was time he got married!

Most of the members attended evensong in the Minster at 4 p.m. at the special invitation of the Dean. An excellent tea followed at the Feasegate Cafe and Restaurant, at which approximately 90 sat down.

The general meeting followed, presided over by the president, Canon C. C. Marshall, supported by the general secretary (Mr. L. W. G. Morris), the hon. treasurer (Mr. S. F. Palmer), the peal secretary (Mr. W. Barton), and the vice-presidents (Messrs. G. Lewis, F. Cryer and H. Gibson). At the outset, the President, in welcoming the Dean, said how pleased they were to be honoured with his presence at their meeting for a few moments, and wished to express to him their grateful thanks for allowing them to hold their meeting at York.

The Dean, in reply, said he was exceedingly happy to welcome them to York, and added that the relations between the clergy and ringers at the Minster were of the best. They had a good and loyal team of ringers and valued their services highly. He hoped everyone present would enjoy their visit to York and particularly to the Minster.

Before proceeding with the business, the President announced that the association had lost by death one of its stalwarts, Mr. A. E. West, of Sutton-on-Hull. Mr. West had worked hard to promote progress in the Eastern District, and not only his valued services, but his cheery face would be sadly missed by all. As a tribute of respect, the members stood in silence. A hearty vote of thanks to the Dean of York and the Minster authorities for the use of the Minster bells, and to the Vicar and churchwardens of Clifton for the use of their bells, was moved by the president, seconded by Mr. G. Lewis and carried unanimously.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the ringers of York and Clifton for welcoming the association to their towers and for their kind arrangements.

Mr. G. Horner replied and added that the task of arranging for tea had been considerably mitigated by the satisfactory manner in which the members had applied for their tickets. He hoped that state of affairs would continue.

On the proposition of Mr. G. Halkesworth, seconded by Mr. J. Holman, it was unanimously agreed to try and arrange the next meeting at Leeds. It was pointed out that it would be the annual general meeting, and that it was desirable to hold this in a good centre, affording easy access to members from all the districts.

QUESTION OF BELL RESTORATION GRANT.

An appeal from the Ripponden ringers for a grant in connection with the rehanging of the Ripponden Church bells was then reported upon. The President announced that the committee had already carefully considered the matter, and were unanimously agreed that as no fund existed specifically for this purpose, they could not accede to the request on the grounds that it would create a precedent, the outcome of which it would be difficult to tell.—This was endorsed.

Mr. F. Rayment, in proposing they should have a 'whip round,' said he thought that in principle most of them present would agree to do what they could unofficially. This was seconded by Mr. H. Gibson. A collection was taken and realised the sum of 36s.

The President reported that an appeal had been received from the Rev. R. H. B. Staveley asking for an instructor or assistance from the association to teach the ringers of his church change ringing. He pointed out that this matter had also been discussed in committee, the Northern District secretary, Mr. E. Hudson, offering to look into the matter and do what he could to help.

The next item on the agenda was the suggestion of instituting a presidential chain of office. Mr. F. G. Sherwood reported that he had been in touch with a firm of jewellers and submitted a suggested design. A lengthy discussion ensued, humour striking the predominant note. It was eventually moved by Mr. F. G. Sherwood, seconded by Mr. S. F. Palmer, that a chain be purchased. It was also moved by Mr. E. Hudson, seconded by Mr. J. Ambler, that a sub-committee, consisting of the president, the general secretary, the peal secretary, the treasurer and Mr. F. G. Sherwood, be set up to deal with the matter.

Mr. W. Barton then gave notice of motion affecting the rules appertaining to finance (particulars of which will be published on the circular advertising the next general meeting). He pointed out, in briefly prefacing the circumstances which had decided him to bring the matter forward, that the existing rules were not only ambiguous, but conflicting, and it was very necessary that they should be clarified.

Further ringing at the Minster afterwards took place.

SURREY ASSOCIATION PRESENTATION TO HON. SECRETARY AT ANNUAL DINNER.

More About Broadcasting Bells.

'I hope to-morrow the bells of England will ring out more merrily than ever before, to mark what, pray God, may be the start of a new age of friendship between the nations of the earth.' This appropriate sentiment was expressed by the Bishop of Croydon, who presided at the third annual dinner of the Surrey Association at the Greyhound Hotel, Croydon, on Saturday. Reference to the feelings of thankfulness and gratitude also found expression in the drinking of the toast of 'Mr. Neville Chamberlain' after that of 'The King.' The company numbered about 60, and included Mr. H. K. C. Birt (Master), Mr. E. H. Lewis (president of the Central Council), Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Johnston, Mr. A. A. Hughes, Mr. E. G. Talbot (hon. secretary) and Mr. J. Hobden (assistant hon. secretary).

Proposing the toast of 'The Church,' Mr. C. F. Johnston said the ringers of England had a very intimate touch with their national Church. In the anxious times they had all been through they knew that masses of people had turned to the Church for support and guidance. Even while the Prime Minister was flying to foreign lands in his efforts to preserve the peace, they knew that thousands, including his wife, were praying daily at the Abbey. In the times of crisis the association of ringers with the Church was most marked because peace bells ringing out from the church were the most coherent means they had of expressing the thanksgiving of the nation. Coupling the name of the Bishop of Croydon with the toast, Mr. Johnston referred to the many threes in the Bishop's life. He was Bishop, Archdeacon and Vicar of Croydon, and had served in the Army, Navy and Air Force. They had had a succession of remarkable men as the 53 Vicars of Croydon during the past 659 years. He doubted whether any predecessor of their Vicar had ever been an ex-sergeant-major in the British Cavalry!

THE BELLS OF CROYDON.

The Bishop, in his reply, said from time to time he climbed the tower of the Parish Church to say a prayer with the ringers, and he heard strange grunts coming from the captain (laughter). He heard strange names as Stedman Triples and Treble Bob Major that left him rather bewildered. They who were in a position of responsibility in the Church were very conscious of what they owed to the bells. He would never forget his first entry into Croydon Parish Church on the night of his institution as a stranger to succeed a very great man. As he passed under the tower he was welcomed by the bells, which made him feel at home. He knew from his experience of broadcasting how much those bells of Croydon meant to people in the far ends of the earth. After a broadcast a few months ago he had 20 or 30 letters from Australia and New Zealand, and the thing which touched them most was the old bells of Croydon, which brought back memories of the place in which they lived. His first act was to thank them for the part they played in their worship of God.

The second thing he would stress was the quite amazing freemasonry which existed among the ringers. This freemasonry ought to exist among all Christian people. He would like to see choristers when on holiday go and take their place in the choir as ringers frequently did in the visiting belfry, and churchwardens go and make themselves known to other churchwardens. He felt that there was a great deal they could do to get outside their parochial bond, and ringers gave the Church a great lead in that direction.

ASSOCIATION WITH SOUTHWARK CATHEDRAL.

The toast of 'The Surrey Association' was proposed by Mr. A. A. Hughes, who said they all knew what fine work had been done by the Surrey Association since its formation 57 years ago. He remembered the old stalwarts of the association in Dr. Carpenter, Mr. Drewitt and Mr. Edgar Hallam, but that was in the past, and no association or guild could live on its past. They had to think of to-day and the future. Happily, to-day the Association was fortunate in having enthusiastic and active officers. It was invidious to mention names, but from his limited experience he knew what the association owed to its Master and secretary, and men like Mr. Charlie Kippin and Mr. Dan Cooper, and while the association had active officers it would always prosper.

There was another phase of the Surrey Association of which it could be proud, and that was its care of the bells. That was evident by the number of bell restorations which had been carried through in the last 20 years. He was rather sad when he heard that the association had to give up monthly Sunday ringing at Southwark Cathedral. He knew the reason that most of their ringers were attached to local towers and their first duty was to their own church. At the same time, if by matter of organisation it could be brought into being again, it would be doing a very great work. In the old-fashioned formula of another society, might he give the toast of 'The Surrey Association, by root and branch may it prosper for ever' (applause).

The Master, in reply, said he had two letters of apology—one from Mr. Goldsmith, who at that moment was in the Bay of Biscay—he hoped he was not tossing too much! (laughter). The other was from the treasurer of the Southern District, Mr. M. Northover, who was in Scotland.

Mr. Birt said he was glad Mr. Hughes had referred to the excellent work done by the officers of the association, as they owed a great deal to them for their keenness and capacity. He was glad to think that the association was on the up-grade. In the North-Western District there was a record in membership, and this year there would be 11 meetings, counting the joint meetings, as against seven last year. In the Southern District the ringing for the most part had been kept up to the standard. He made particular reference to the peal at Limsfield Chart, which included five young ringers, whose average age was only 17 years (applause).

Change ringing originated from the days when the Church played a much more important part in a man's life than to-day, and in the early part of the 17th century the idea of worship as a necessary part of man's life was much stronger than now. He believed the pendulum must swing back and worship would play a much larger part. The tragedy of the world in these days of wars and crises would force man to realise that this world was God's world and would only work as he designed it on the basis of love and not of hatred, fear and greed. Ringers by the bells could keep reminding people that this was God's world.

SECRETARY'S APPROACHING MARRIAGE.

At the conclusion of the speech the Master presented from the association a clock to Mr. Edward Talbot, the hon. secretary, in view of his approaching marriage to Miss Dora Clayton, and wished them every happiness in their new life.

Mr. Talbot, in acknowledging the present, remarked that it was exactly the thing they wanted. 'There must be fairies at the bottom of the garden,' he added, amid the applause of the company.

The toast of 'The Ringing World' was presented by Mr. C. Parks, who paid a tribute to Mr. Goldsmith's service to the Exercise, and acknowledged by Mr. T. W. White.

The Rev. Gerald Hart submitted 'The Visitors,' to which the Rev. R. Talbot, Vicar of Reigate, replied. Mr. E. H. Lewis, president of the Central Council, also responded, and said although he lived 2½ miles outside the association's area, he had never had occasion to join the association for peal ringing. He was very pleased it was to be rectified within three weeks (applause). 'I have said some hard things about broadcasting and the ringing in broadcasting,' said Mr. Lewis, reverting to a favourite theme. 'Every time I have turned on Croydon I have always heard good ringing. I am very pleased that for broadcasting you ring ten bells and not twelve bells. Ten bells are very much more suitable for broadcasting than twelve bells. The public do not understand twelve bells. The Croydon broadcasting was excellent, and was just what is wanted and not like some of the recent broadcasting in my own county, Kent, which was a perfect disgrace.'

Mr. Lewis reiterated his appeal for the younger clergy to take up ringing. Twenty or thirty years ago there was a number of clergy ringers who were prominent conductors and composers, and some had contributed to the standard literature of ringing. They had lost a great many in the last 10 or 15 years. As they knew, students in two of the theological colleges were being taught ringing. He wanted to congratulate Croydon because he understood the whole of the clergy staff took a practical interest in ringing.

During the evening handbell ringing was given by members of the Croydon band and the Banstead band. Mr. Horace Brend entertained with magic and a ventriloquist sketch, and a happy evening concluded with the singing of 'Auld Lang Syne.'

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

A 'PATHFINDER' SECRETARY.

A joint meeting of the Stockport and Macclesfield Branches was held at Disley on September 24th, when about 45 members and friends were present. The bells were busily employed during the afternoon until service, which was conducted by the Rev. E. O. A. Thomas, who also gave a very fine address. Tea was served in the nearby schools, and an excellent repast was enjoyed by all.

The business meeting followed under the chairmanship of the branch chairman, Mr. Wolstencroft. In his opening remarks, the Chairman made reference to the pleasure always felt in coming to Disley, and said his remembrances of this pretty village went back for over 50 years, yet he never tired of visiting it. The business was of a routine nature. The election prior to peal attempts of Alan Beeley, Jocelyn B. Gardiner, Ivan B. Gardiner and Eric B. Hartley were confirmed. The death of Mr. Pierce, of Cheadle, an old and well-respected member of the branch, was reported, and the members stood for a moment in silence. Mr. T. Taylor expressed the thanks and pleasure of the Macclesfield Branch at being able to join with the Stockport Branch, and Mr. J. Whittaker supported his remarks. The secretary proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar and wardens for permission to hold the meeting, to the Rev. E. O. A. Thomas for his address, the organist, the local ringers, the ladies who prepared tea, the Vicar of New Mills for permission to use his bells in the evening, and to all who in any way assisted to make the meeting a success. Mr. Hough seconded the resolution, which was carried with acclamation.

Further ringing took place on the bells at Disley, on handbells and also on the eight bells at New Mills, and a large variety of methods were rung, particular attention being given to the learners.

A party under the direction of the Stockport Branch secretary, a Rover Scout holding the Pathfinder badge, had a very exciting time trying to get to New Mills Church, and finally arrived in the middle of a large field before he discovered they were off the track. Happily they finally arrived at the church, but the secretary's reputation as a pathfinder has vanished (if it ever existed). The only thing he had to say in extenuation of his conduct was it was very dark and he never did know much about New Mills!

RINGING TOUR IN CORNWALL.

FIFTEEN PEALS OUT OF SEVENTEEN ATTEMPTS.

As will have been seen by the peals already published, this tour met with a considerable amount of success. Apart from this success, however, it was generally felt that some good work was done in a 'backward' area, and that the idea which caused this tour to be arranged on somewhat fresh lines was quite a good one. The virtues ascribed to the tourists in the leading article on September 9th were placed at a very high standard, but every effort was made to live up to them.

By devious routes and methods of travel the band, or nearly all of it, had met at the Castle Hotel at Launceston by tea time on September 10th. One member of the party, however, who had a rendezvous with Rupert, kept it just 24 hours late. Consequently he found a new route from Worcester to Launceston, which took him via Oxford, Reading and several other places. We can understand railwaymen going wrong, but do not expect it of anybody else.

The first peal of the tour was rung at Stokeclimsland, a few miles away from Launceston. It was difficult to obtain much information about these bells, but it would appear that some of them, perhaps all, were by Pennington. They were rehung in 1922, since which date the seventh became cracked and was recast by Taylors. The first peal of Major on the bells, Cambridge Surprise, was conducted by the organiser of the tour, C. T. Coles, and it was Mrs. E. Richardson's 200th peal. Thus a promise made four years ago, when the 100th was called by the same conductor at Harmston, Lincolnshire, was redeemed. The occasion was later on celebrated in fine style, with the usual generosity displayed by Rupert and his lady. The 200 peals constitute an interesting record, and have been rung in 28 English counties, in Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Australia, Tasmania and on the high sea.

Ring on Sunday morning was arranged at St. Stephen's-by-Launceston, where in the afternoon the first peal of Major on the bells was conducted by the youngest member of the party, Ernest Turner. These bells were rehung and augmented by Taylors in 1923, and are a very pleasing peal. The weight of the tenor is 15 cwt. 1 qr. 20 lb., not 18 cwt. as shown in the peal report. Tenors have a habit of growing in Cornwall as elsewhere, but this one has since been found out! Some members of the party did evening service ringing at St. Thomas', Launceston, six bells. The ringing room at this tower is surely the smallest anywhere! It would be interesting to know where J. H. S. got to during Sunday. He disappeared quite early, and although he came in to lunch, he went off again until late in the evening. Last year, at Chester, a mysterious telephone message, appearing to come from a lady, was left for him at the hotel, and we wonder if his disappearance from Launceston was in any way connected with that incident. The worst of these bachelors is that they are so reticent, and, therefore, we can only make guesses.

'CATHEDRAL OF THE MOORS.'

On Monday morning a move further west was made. At St. Non, Altarnon, the first peal of Yorkshire Surprise in Cornwall was rung, the conductor being Frank Bennett. This church is known as the 'Cathedral of the Moors.' The tower, a very fine edifice, contains eight bells, tenor 11½ cwt., on which is inscribed, 'These eight bells replace five cast A.D. 1736 by John Pennington. Mears and Stainbank, 1923.'

At St. Meubredus, Cardynham, Cambridge Surprise was rung, conducted by Rupert Richardson. This turned out to be the most difficult job so far undertaken, and the ladies in the band are to be congratulated on sticking to their task so well. Three of the bells were in the tower prior to 1896 when Messrs. Mears and Stainbank completed the octave. The Rector at that time was the Rev. Athelstan Coode, himself a change ringer, and he rang the tenor to the first peal on the bells, Grandsire Triples. After the peal the tourists were entertained to tea by the local ringers, a kindness that was much appreciated, especially as it would have been quite impossible for so large a party to obtain anything in so remote a part of Cornwall. The Cardynham ringers were greatly interested, and there appears to be some fertile ground for change ringing at this tower.

Truro was reached late that same evening, with everybody very tired, but arrangements had to be made for an early start next morning. Cyril Lanxon, of Truro, who had arranged the programme for the tour, here joined the party, and early on Tuesday conducted the tourists to St. Anthony-in-Meneage, situated on the edge of the sea in a beautiful wooded creek. Leslie Morris conducted the first peal of Superlative on these bells, and Cyril Lanxon rang his first peal (incidentally his first blow) in the method. These bells are a mixed peal. Three of them were dated 1674, these were recast and augmented to six in 1924 by Gillett and Johnston, when a frame for eight was provided. The two trebles were added by Taylors in 1935.

During the first part of the peal, Col. Jerram, who had previously welcomed the tourists, conducted some of them to Dennis Head, a local beauty spot, where the echo of the bells could be heard from across the creek, whilst the headland itself shut out the actual sound of the bells. The name of St. Anthony is derived from Lantunney, the place of Sacred Fire, which is pre-Christian.

AN INTERESTING 720.

Whilst the peal was in progress, too, four members of the party made a hurried visit to Manaccan Church, where a 720 of Bob Minor was rung for the benefit of E. Cossentine and Col. Jerram, which for both of whom was the first in the method. As showing the great difficulties for change ringers in such out of the way places in Cornwall, it might be mentioned that for both these gentlemen very many years had elapsed since their first attempt for a 720 of Minor, and their gratification at at last succeeding was a joy to behold.

At St. Michael's, Helston, the first failure of the tour occurred, Bristol being lost through a shift course after 1½ hours' ringing. The attempt afforded Cyril Lanxon an opportunity for some good practice, however, with a satisfactory sequel the next day. The Helston bells are a Taylor peal, dated 1904, the tenor weighing 12½ cwt. At All Hallows', St. Kea, the same evening, a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung for the benefit of two Cornish ringers, and Mr. A. W. Brighton, who was in the district, also took part. Jim Bennett, of Lewisham, was the conductor, and it was a source of satisfaction that the 'extra' peal was successfully brought round.

THREE PEALS IN A DAY.

On Wednesday three peals were rung. The first, at the Church of SS. Mauganus and Nicholas, St. Mawgan, was a peal of London Surprise called by Ernest Turner, it being the first peal rung on the bells. No information regarding these bells could be obtained, they are apparently 'wropt in mystery.' In the evening, at St. Petroc's, Bodmin, Bristol Surprise was rung, conducted by Leslie Wightman, on an octave by Rudhall, rehung in 1910 by Taylors. This peal was the first of Major on the bells, and it was Cyril Lanxon's first in the method. At St. Nyvett's, Lanivet, the same evening, a peal of Stedman Triples was rung for the benefit of Messrs. F. H. Harris and P. R. C. Williams, of Redruth. Mr. Harris, who rang the sixth, did exceptionally well considering the few opportunities for practising this method in Cornwall. It was his first peal in the method. Five of the bells are said to have been bought from an old priory at Bodmin in 1538 for less than £40. Two trebles were added and the peal restored by Taylors in 1924. The tenor is also from Loughborough.

Next day another three peals were arranged. At All Saints', Tucknham, near Camborne, Yorkshire Surprise was rung, conducted by Frank Bennett, this peal being the first on the eight bells, which were augmented by Taylors in 1931. At the conclusion of the peal it was found that Dr. Symons and Miss Symons, of Penzance, and Mr. Wood, of Gulval, had come up from far west to meet the tourists, and whilst old friends met old friends, there were several introductions to be made. A pleasant meeting passed all too quickly, but it ended with Dr. Symons' very cordial invitation to pay another visit.

In the evening, at St. Enodrus', St. Enoder, a peal of Double Norwich was rung to enable Cyril Lanxon to secure his first in this method. The Rev. C. E. Wigg paid a flying visit to Truro and rang in this peal.

At St. Martin's, Camborne, the same evening, an attempt for Bob Major was lost through a shift course after 1½ hours' ringing. This was the third of the peals arranged for Cornish ringers, and four took part in the attempt. It was regretted that the result was that no peal could be recorded. The bells are not easy to ring, the 5th and 6th especially being false. The 3rd of the original six is by Rudhall, 1767; the other five of the old six by Mears and Stainbank, 1894; and the two trebles by Taylors, 1934. Whilst ringing was in progress two ladies of the party, taking tea in a Camborne cafe, were interested to hear that the reason the bells were ringing was because war had been declared!

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

THAT OUTWORN TRADITION.

It is, we think, a hopeful sign that one of the old London societies, the Royal Cumberland Youths, took part recently in a joint meeting with two of the modern territorial associations that function in and around Greater London. It will be all for the good of ringing in the metropolis when such gatherings become a feature, instead of an exception, in the proceedings of the London societies. Meetings in which the associations officially share not only help to break down artificial barriers but emphasise the common purpose of all the organisations within the Exercise; and yet, in London, where we might look for a lead, the oldest of the societies have been the last to take advantage of the opportunities thus offered. One could, perhaps, have understood such an attitude in the old days, when jealousies and selfish ambitions kept them in rival camps, but this spirit should now have no place in the ranks of ringers if, as we are encouraged to believe, the promotion of the art of change ringing and service to the Church are the two great aims of ringing organisations.

The first step towards this happier relationship might well be the abolition of the rule which excludes a member of one of these old societies from membership of the other. A plea for this was put forward at the meeting at Shore-ditch, and we know there are many members of both societies who would like to see such action taken. The tradition behind this attempted exclusiveness may be of long standing, but its incorporation in the rules dates back to more recent times. Ever since the days when the St. James' Society came into being, the custom of preventing a man joining any other society failed to be really effective, and with the growth of the territorial associations and the expansion of the old London societies to include provincial members, the barrier has simply developed into an absurdity. If the College Youths and the Cumberlands were merely what they were originally, two rival London companies, adherence to the rules might have some justification, but in the present circumstances the inhibition is not only outworn but useless; not because there would be so many ringers who might want to join both societies, but because it tends to harbour rivalries of the wrong kind, sets up false conceits, and prevents that co-operation which might be turned to most valuable purpose in setting right some of the things which obviously need taking in hand in connection with London bells and bell-ringing.

It is to the younger generation that the Exercise must look for a change in the present policy. It is hardly to be expected that the men who have grown up steeped in a tradition, which they have accepted as a matter of course, are likely readily to listen to the voice of reform; but until there is a more amicable official relationship among all the ringing societies that operate in the London area, little can be hoped for in the improvement which is so badly needed in the scores of neglected towers. A custom which had the purpose knocked out of it a hundred years ago, and from which the usefulness, if ever any existed, vanished long before that, ought not to be allowed to stand in the way of action which, let it not be forgotten, will yet be needed to save the bells of London for the art of ringing.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD.*A MEETING AT BIRMINGHAM CATHEDRAL.

The quarterly meeting of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held at the Cathedral Church of St. Philip on Saturday, October 1st. Instead of the usual Guild service, members and friends attended the choral evensong held at 6 p.m., in which the special prayers of the Guild service were incorporated. In the course of the service, the Provost, the Very Rev. J. H. Richards, M.A., made special reference to the ringers being present and to the value of their services in the belfry.

In the absence of the Master, Alderman J. S. Pritchett, M.A., the vice-president, Councillor A. Paddon Smith, presided at the business meeting.

The secretary reported that on applying for the Connaught Room at the Imperial Hotel for the Henry Johnson Commemoration Dinner, he was informed that Saturday, March 4th, was already booked. He had, therefore, booked the previous Saturday, February 25th, for the dinner.—This arrangement was confirmed, and it was unanimously agreed to invite the Rev. Canon Stuart Blofeld, Vicar of Edgbaston, to preside at the dinner.

The following new members were elected: Messrs. H. King and T. H. Gostling, of Hampton-in-Arden, Messrs. J. T. Atkins, E. Boylin, W. Mumford, T. Russell, of the Parish Church, Edgbaston.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting at headquarters on January 7th, 1939, and the bi-quarterly meeting at Rowley Regis on Saturday, November 12th.

Reference was made to the illness of Mr. James George and Mr. Tom Miller. It was reported that Mr. George's leg was still giving him considerable pain and that Mr. Miller had now been discharged from the hospital and was continuing to make good progress.

HUDDERSFIELD AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

The September meeting of the Huddersfield and District Association was held at Lindley, when members attended from Longwood, Meltham, Elland, Brighouse, Ripponden, Halifax Parish Church, All Souls', Halifax, and Lindley. The bells were kept going throughout the day, and the methods included Kent, Oxford, Grandsire, Plain Bob, Little Bob and Stedman.

The business meeting took place after tea with the joint president (the Rev. A. L. Minns) in the chair. The practice meetings for the Halifax District were changed to All Souls', Halifax, on Wednesday evenings, and it is hoped that they will prove more successful than they have done in the past.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar and the local ringers was proposed by Mr. F. Rhodes and seconded by Mr. S. Manchester.—Mr. W. Hargreaves replied on behalf of the local company.

There was some excellent Minor ringing, and one ringer from a certain six-bell tower said that he was yet to be convinced of the superiority of Major ringing. If he had paid a visit to Elland on the occasion of the inauguration peal on September 11th he would most certainly have been won over.

LONDON RINGERS' COMBINED MEETING.

STEP TOWARDS GREATER HARMONY.

A joint meeting of the Royal Cumberland Youths, the Essex Association and the Middlesex Association was held at Shoreditch on October 1st and was attended by a large number of well-known London ringers. The ringing at St. Leonard's was under the direction of Mr. A. E. Coles, Master of the Middlesex Association, and the service in the church was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. R. Cecil, the lesson being read by Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey.

In his address, the Rector said how pleased he was that the meeting had coincided with the news that peace had been preserved. People had asked him that morning why the bells were not ringing, and he had been happy to be able to reply, 'Wait till this afternoon.'

The preacher then referred to several things for which Shoreditch Church is famous, but what makes it best known to people all over the world is, he said, its bells. He gave a short account of them, but unfortunately he took as his authority a history of Shoreditch Church, where legend and fable are pushed to the utmost limits, and beyond. As a matter of fact, the Duke of Cumberland never had anything to do with Shoreditch, he was not a ringer, and he did not give the two trebles which made the ring of ten. There is not the least bit of truth in the story that his portrait once hung in the vestibule of the church and was removed to St. Martin-in-the-Fields, where it now is. We imagine that this tale arose from the fact that the medallion worn by the Master of the Cumberlands Society bears the duke's portrait and that the society moved some peal boards from St. Leonard's to St. Martin's when they changed their headquarters.

Tea was served at the depot of the Express Dairy Company to about 70 people. Afterwards Mr. George Steere, on behalf of the Cumberlands, in the absence of the Master, welcomed the two other associations. It was the first time the Cumberlands had taken part in a joint meeting and he hoped it would not be the last. He added that he could assure the Rector that if a picture was taken from St. Leonard's, the present members were not responsible for the theft.

Mr. C. T. Coles, speaking for the Middlesex Association, said it was a red letter day, for it was one step further in the movement for bringing all the ringers of London into greater harmony and concord, and he hoped that it would do much to remove misunderstandings which ought never to exist. The societies had everything in common, and existed for one aim—the advancement of ringing and there was no reason for rivalry. Speaking as a Cumberland Youth, he hoped that the society would repeal the rule which forbade its members to join another society. It was said that this rule promoted healthy rivalry, but in his opinion it promoted much more undesirable feelings.

Mr. E. J. Butler spoke for the Essex Association. He considered that joint meetings would do an immense amount of good, and he did not see why their scope should not be considerably enlarged.

Mr. Summerhayes moved a vote of thanks to the incumbents who had placed their bells at the disposal of the ringers, and to others who had contributed to the afternoon's enjoyment.

During the evening there was ringing at St. Matthew's, Bethnal Green, and St. Olave's, Hart Street.

SALISBURY GUILD'S LOSS.

DEATH OF MR. R. N. DAWES AT DORCHESTER.

Branch Chairman for Twenty Years.

It is with deep regret that we announce the death of Councillor R. N. Dawes, of Dorchester, who died on September 29th at the age of 71 years. By his death Dorchester has lost one who, for 42 years, had been prominently associated with the life of the town and who had given of his best to public service in many ways. For two years, in 1933 and 1934, he was accorded the highest honour that the town could confer on him, that of the Mayoralty, and both he and Mrs. Dawes filled the respective offices of Mayor and Mayoress with dignity and distinction.

In 1910, when the present hon. secretary of the Dorchester Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild called the first meeting to inaugurate the branch, Mr. Dawes, who was then churchwarden at St. Peter's, Dorchester, was elected chairman. This office he held for 20 years. His efficiency and good humour at the meetings, his great interest in the Guild, in ringers and in ringing endeared him to the members and won him the highest respect.

Of the many meetings held, one in particular he used to look forward to, the annual gathering at his own church, St. Peter's, Dorchester. When he relinquished his office (owing to pressure of other duties), a very high tribute was paid to him at the annual meeting for his devoted work, and he was elected a vice-president of the Guild.

Mr. Dawes held other public offices, and the large gathering, which included the Mayor, aldermen, councillors, Corporation officials, Freemasons (he was P.M. of his lodge), Fire Brigade, etc., that attended the funeral on Saturday week testified to the high esteem in which he was held by his fellow-townsmen. The chairman of the Dorchester branch (the Rev. A. W. Markby) officiated at the service, and the Salisbury Guild was represented by the Master (the Rev. R. H. Gundry), while members from Dorchester, Bournemouth, Poole, Wimborne and Wyke Regis rang a special half-muffled touch as the cortege left St. Peter's Church as a last tribute to his memory. Among the many wreaths was one from the ringers of St. Peter's, Dorchester, and a floral bell from the Dorchester Branch of the Salisbury Guild.

ANOTHER HAMPSHIRE TOUR.

There was a peal ringing tour in Hampshire last week, in the course of which nine peals were rung. It was not all 'highbrow' stuff, but it was, we feel sure, none the less enjoyable for that.

Some of the 'old stagers' formed the backbone of the company. George Williams, at 81, was in eight of the peals, Bill Fussell, at 77, stood in all nine. Frank Bennett, Sam Hector and Jim Shepherd, all rapidly approaching 'the allotted span,' took part, the two first named ringing in all the peals and the last in seven of them. The older they get the worse they get, these boys.

The methods they rang were Bob Major (2), Bob Royal, Kent Treble Bob Major, Stedman Triples, Double Norwich Major (2) and Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major.

A footnote to the peal at West Meon, the second of the tour, says it was rung on the eve of the 40th anniversary of the first peal on the bells. Mr. Williams was in both peals. The only other survivors of that first peal—also rung during a Hampshire 'tour'—are Messrs. Keith Hart and J. S. Goldsmith.

The peal of Superlative at Southampton was a noteworthy performance for Mr. John Faithfull. On the previous evening the Hastings stay of the 3rd had been broken while a learner was practising, but, despite this, Mr. Faithfull, who has only one arm, rang the bell to the peal.

Mr. Ernest J. Munday had a good week. The seven peals in which he took part included his first peal on ten bells and his first of Cambridge and Double Norwich, while the peal of Kent Treble Bob at East Tytherleigh on October 4th was rung on the third anniversary of his wedding.

The final peal of the tour, Bob Major, at Curdridge, was the fiftieth peal which Mr. George Williams and Mr. Reginald A. Reed, his pupil, had rung together. Mr. Williams has called 28 of these.

Mr. C. Ernest Smith, of Godalming, Surrey, rang his 350th peal on Saturday, when a peal of Yorkshire Surprise was rung at Warnham.

The peal at Edgbaston on September 29th was rung to mark the 30th anniversary of the appointment of Mr. Sidney W. Freemantle as beadle of the Parish Church.

A peal in yet another new method has been rung by the Hertfordshire band, under Mr. Harold Cashmore. At King's Langley on Saturday they knocked off without previous practice the first peal of Woodston Surprise Major.

The method is a combination of Ashtead and London Surprise, with 7th's place, instead of 5th's, when the treble lies behind. But while the place-making in the sections follows these two methods—Ashtead with the treble below 5th's and London when it is above 4th's—the ringing of it, of course, is altogether different.

Apart from the amazing variety that can be used in the place-making in Surprise methods, this arrangement is another example of the wide combination of sections that can be introduced. For the benefit of those readers who may not know what a 'section' is, we may explain that it is the four rows with the treble in any one of its dodging places, that is, either 1-2, 3-4, 5-6 or 7-8.

BLIND RINGER'S ACHIEVEMENT.

Mr. John Shephard-Walwyn, a member of Oxford University Society, who learned to ring while an undergraduate, has rung his first peal. What makes his achievement noteworthy is that he is blind.

The peal, in which he rang the second, consisted of three 720's of Kent Treble Bob and four of Plain Bob and was rung at Purleigh, Essex. Those who have seen Mr. Shephard-Walwyn ring know how well he has overcome his affliction. He strikes, of course, entirely by ear, and rings methods by counting the places.

After a peal of Grandsire Triples at Drayton, Somerset, on Saturday, when Mr. Jack Roy rang his fiftieth peal, the visitors were entertained by the local men, and wish to thank them for their hospitality.

The peal of Stedman Triples at Heavitree, Devon, on Saturday, was rung as a thankoffering for the maintenance of peace.

A new Rector, the Rev. Leslie Hook, was welcomed to All Saints' Church, Hastings, on October 5th, with a peal of Oxford Bob Triples; he had been inducted by the Bishop of Chichester on the previous day. The peal composition was J. J. Parker's Ten-Part, No. 1, from the 'Collection of Triples Methods.'

Three ladies took part in a peal of Stedman Cinques at Lincoln Cathedral on Oct. 1st. Their respective husbands were 'also present.'

Some of the band who rang in this peal had another burst of energy on the following day, when, after ringing a peal of Bob Major on handbells, they went on to Bassingham and scored a peal in seven Minor methods.

Llanely Parish Church ringers rang a peal of Grandsire Doubles at Llandovery on September 24th as a birthday compliment to one of their number, Mr. W. Robbins.

Several members of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild from Lincoln visited Nottingham on Saturday and rang a peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal at St. Mary's Church. It was the first peal in the method on the bells. It was conducted by the Master of the Lincoln Cathedral band, Mr. John A. Freeman, who has now called peals of Cambridge from Minor to Maximus. At the same time Mr. G. W. Creasey completed peals in the method from six to twelve bells.

The quarterly peal of the Dudley and District Guild, rung at Bilston, Staffs, on Saturday, was the 140th for the Guild by Mr. John Goodman, the conductor.

The peal of Stedman Triples at Chislehurst on Saturday was arranged specially as a birthday compliment to Messrs. Thomas Groombridge, sen., and Ernest Brett. It was intended to ring a Surprise peal, but owing to shortage of time, Triples was substituted and brought round just, and only just, in time for the evening service.

At the hotel facing the church a 'surprise' awaited the party in the shape of a meat tea, a double, kindly provided by the honoured two. What a feast! Whilst ample justice was done to the goodies provided, another peal would be required to enable the tables to be cleared. Congratulations and thanks were accorded to Tom and Ernie, and once again 'time' was a factor in terminating the happy evening, although it does not appear to dampen the spirit of those two College 'Youths.'

The first peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Royal was rung at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, on the old ten bells, in the year 1769. In 1775 the bells were recast, and the tenor again in 1814. No other peal of Double Norwich Royal had been rung in the tower since that time until last week. It can thus be claimed to be 'the first on the bells.'

Mr. Charles Sharples, of Blackpool, vice-president of the Lancashire Association, rang his first peal of London Surprise Major on Saturday. He has been trying since 1914 to score a peal in this method, and his success came at Hazel Grove, Cheshire, 70 miles away from his home. But it still required considerable effort, for four starts had to be made for the peal, involving 4½ hours' ringing, the peal itself taking three minutes over three hours.

To celebrate the centenary of the granting of the Charter of Incorporation to Bolton, Lancs, a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at St. Peter's Church on Saturday by a band unique in its composition inasmuch as it consisted of one representative from each of the eight towers in Bolton.

Another peal, completed at Holy Trinity, Bolton, on the previous day, and conducted by Miss Annie Crook, was rung as a thanksgiving for the maintenance of peace.

The peal of Grandsire Triples rung at Stanmore, Middlesex, on Saturday, was arranged as a farewell to the Rev. H. Lawrence (curate), who left that day for New Zealand.

WEDDING BELLS.

On the occasion of the wedding of a local ringer, Mr. C. Bates, and Miss A. Roberts, at Ardley, Warwickshire, on September 24th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles: *O. Harris 1, W. O. Rhodes 2, *A. Stain 3, *A. T. Hands 4, A. T. Scriven (conductor) 5, G. Crofts 6. * First quarter-peal.

SUSSEX ASSOCIATION AND HAWKHURST GUILD.

A joint meeting of the Sussex County Association and Hawkhurst and District Guild was held at Rye on Saturday, October 1st, when about 40 members attended from Eastbourne, Hastings, Battle, Hailsham, Brede, Northiam, Etchingham, Tenterden, Benenden and Hawkhurst, together with members of the local band. Good ringing was done in the afternoon and evening, and it was most gratifying to see that nearly half the members present were young beginners, many of whom rang their first touch in a fresh method.

In the absence of the Vicar, the service was conducted by the curate, who gave an interesting address.

The tea and business meeting which followed was presided over by Mr. W. Franks, of Battle.

The election of Mr. Charles A. Bassett, of Wadhurst, was confirmed, and Miss Peggy Buller, of Christ Church, Eastbourne, was elected a member of the Sussex Association.

Mr. A. C. Pankhurst (Sussex Eastern divisional secretary) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, the curate for conducting the service, and to Mr. G. H. Hodson for making arrangements for the meeting. He remarked how pleased he was to welcome the Hawkhurst and District Guild to the meeting.

SOUTHERN DIVISION AT MARESFIELD.

On Saturday, October 1st, a meeting of the Southern Division of the Sussex County Association was held at Maresfield, to take the place of one arranged there last year which had to be transferred owing to illness.

The six bells were kept going continuously from three o'clock in methods ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Minor, although the 'go' of the bells was rather poor with the tenor turned in. The peal is by Rudhall, with a tenor of 15 cwt., of a sufficiently pleasant tone, but with a weak frame suffering from the passage of time.

It was hoped that after tea Buxted bells would be available, but here the death-watch beetle had been discovered in the belfry, which, combined with the feared weakness of the ornamental plaster roof in the chancel, had put a stop to both the bells and the organ. Fortunately the Vicar of Fairwarp offered the use of his tower at short notice, and there, although the bells seemed familiar enough with Cambridge, they would not respond to Little Bob.

The welcome change in the national situation caused a greater attendance than was expected, and in the evening about 30 ringers were present, including the Master of the association, Mr. H. R. Butcher.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

At Keresley, a Warwickshire five-bell tower, where a young band is making excellent progress and rang three quarter-peals of Grandsire Doubles on Sunday week for the harvest festival and services of thanksgiving for the maintenance of peace, it is hoped shortly to augment the bells by the addition of a treble.

It is said that the Olde Castle Restaurant, Sheffield, had to be enlarged to accommodate the company at the Yorkshire Association's commemoration dinner on Saturday. Certain it is that a new dining room had been added at the top of the building, and this was the first public dinner held in it.

Mr. Sidney Palmer, who so ably and energetically discharged the local secretarial duties for the event, had an interesting souvenir of the occasion. It was a lapel badge, made of stainless steel, bell shaped, and containing in the centre a miniature photograph of Jasper Snowden. It was made by an old Sheffield ringer, Mr. William Bugar, and nothing could have been more appropriate.

Mr. Palmer has been co-opted on the Sheffield Diocesan Advisory Committee, and has already been doing useful work in reporting upon proposed bell restorations.

Those who, on the strength of previous information, have reserved March 4th for the Henry Johnson dinner at Birmingham, are asked to note that circumstances have compelled changing the date for this event to February 25th.

Two errors crept into the report of the Gloucestershire tour. In the report of the peal board at Longney (on page 638) the date of the first peal of Stedman should have been January 16th, 1831, and not 1931 as printed, and the conductor of the peal of Spliced Surprise on Longney bells was F. W. Rogers and not O. Sippetts as printed.

The death has occurred at Glossop of Mr. Henry Cooper, a ringer who has been connected with the Parish Church belfry for 60 years.

CAMBORNE BELLS.

The writer of the article on the recent Cornwall tour has been informed that the particulars of the bells at SS. Martin and Meriadoc's Church, Camborne, as given in last week's instalment, are incorrect. The facts relating to them are as follow:—

Before 1882 there was a ring of six by Rudhall. In 1882 Messrs. Taylor and Co. augmented them to eight by adding a treble and tenor and by recasting the old fourth (now the fifth) a semi-tone lower. The 5th is 2 qr. 9 lb. heavier than the 6th, and, while the 7th is 9 cwt. 3 qr. 11 lb., the tenor is 17 cwt. 2 qr. The bells were also hung in an iron frame in 1882. They were rebung on ball bearings, in the same frame, with various other new fittings, in 1934 at the expense of the Barron Bell Trust.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

A PLEA FOR YOUNG ASPIRANTS.

A very successful meeting of the Midland Counties Association was held at Wirksworth, Derbyshire, on Saturday, September 24th. The eight bells, which have recently been overhauled, were kept going all the afternoon to various methods up to London Surprise, and, generally speaking, the striking was good. The committee met in the Parish Hall and carried through their usual routine business. Arising from this, an appeal for help to the Bell Repair Fund at Langer, Notts, was heard, and when this suggested scheme is put in hand help will be given.

Mr. Over, of Loughborough District, brought forward the matter of ringers' badges for association members, and this was left in his hands to find out costs, etc., in bronze and silver. Local secretaries are asked to get to know approximately how many will be required in each district and then to inform the general hon. secretary.

At the tea, to which about 30 members and friends sat down, the Vicar of Wirksworth was present and extended a hearty welcome.

The general meeting followed. Mr. J. Oldham, vice-president, took the chair, supported by Mr. W. E. White (hon. treasurer), Mr. Ernest Morris (hon. secretary) and members from Burton, Derby, Chesterfield, Hinckley, Loughborough and Nottingham. Leicester was not represented, as unfortunately a local meeting clashed owing to dates being uncertain. In this connection, will all local secretaries and members note that the next general meeting is provisionally fixed for January 28th, 1939, at Hugglescote?

The Chairman, in opening the proceedings, said they were meeting at a very critical moment in the country's history, and—with all members—he prayed that the issue would be a peaceful one. He gave a review of the past quarter's work, commenting on various interesting aspects of the 32 peals rung during that period. He referred also to the great loss the Hinckley District had sustained in the tragic death of Mr. Percy Aldham, son of the late Mr. Arthur Aldham. The deceased was a very keen ringer and had rung over 100 association peals. He asked members to stand in silence for a moment to his respected memory.

A number of life, honorary and ringing members were elected.

Mr. Ferguson, of Repton, voiced the grievance of the beginner, especially at meetings such as that, and stressed the need of looking after their interests by giving them every encouragement in asking them to have a ring. 'Let us ring the higher methods by all means,' he said, 'but also give younger aspirants a chance too.'

Mr. W. E. White proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and local committee for arrangements made to carry out a very happy meeting.

MAURICE SWINFIELD.

Genius in conducting develops on different lines in different ringers. Mr. Maurice Swinfield, of Burton-on-Trent, has demonstrated his penchant by calling a great variety of peals of Stedman Triples. The compositions which he has conducted number well over a hundred, some of them of great complexity and calling for great mental effort. Peals of Stedman Triples on almost every conceivable plan have been called by Mr. Swinfield, and seldom from an 'observation' bell, which makes his performances all the more remarkable.

Son of a highly esteemed Midland ringer, Mr. J. H. Swinfield, Mr. Maurice Swinfield was born at Earl Shilton, Leicestershire, on February 14th, 1898, and began his ringing at the celebrated tower of St. Paul's, Burton-on-Trent, to which he is still attached. His first peal was Stedman Triples at Burton on December 27th, 1920, and just two years later, on Boxing Day, 1922, he conducted a peal for the first time, when he called J. O. Lancashire's variation of Washbrook's Four-part peal of Stedman Triples at Overseal.

Most of his peals have been rung with the 'Wednesday' band, which, including several veterans, made a practice of meeting nearly every Wednesday for a considerable period. Among other things which this little company did was to ring peals of Stedman Triples in all possible numbers of equal parts up to twenty, and many of the compositions which have been rung have been an exacting task for the ringers as well as for the conductor.

Strangely enough, Mr. Swinfield has not yet rung a Surprise peal 'inside,' but of his total of 237 peals he has conducted 208. Included in the peals which he has called have been the longest length of Duffield Major, 5,760, the longest length of Forward Major, 5,728, thirteen peals of Grandsire Triples, eight of Stedman Caters, one of Grandsire Caters, two of Duffield and Forward and one of Little Bob Major. All the rest have been Stedman Triples, 54 of them odd bob, odd and even bob, and odd and even bob and single peals, one with twin bobs and twin singles. The rest have been twin bob peals.

Among the interesting peals which Mr. Swinfield has called have been one of Grandsire Triples and two of Stedman with all the 4-6's, 6-7's and 7-4's at backstroke.

With the exception of five compositions, the reverse of others, although claimed by different composers, two variations of Thurstans', one of Brooks' and one of his own, with 42 singles and all the 6-7's at backstroke, all the peals of Stedman Triples have been different compositions, and Mr. Swinfield acknowledges his indebtedness to Mr. J. W. Parker, Mr. A. J. Pitman and the late Mr. J. J. Parker for their patience and kindness in helping him to master the plans and calling of the different peals.

ENGLISH VISITORS' ENTHUSIASM.

The half-yearly meeting of the Scottish Association was held at St. John's, Alloa, on Saturday, October 8th. The attendance was smaller than usual for this meeting, about 30 members being present. They were pleased to have with them two visitors from England, Mr. and Miss Rawlings, of Beckenham, Kent. Mr. Rawlings and his daughter travelled from London on Friday night and proceeded to Alloa to attend the meeting on Saturday and returned south the same evening. Such enthusiasm for ringing made a great impression on the young Scottish ringers.

Mr. and Miss Rawlings were elected life members, and the election of the eleven ringers who toured Scotland in August and rang four peals for the association was confirmed.

The ringing at the meeting was of a good standard, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob and Kent Major were brought round.

A short service was conducted by the Rev. J. S. Wilson, and, after tea, the bells were kept going until train time.

ADVOCATED AT COMBINED MEETING AT KINGSTON.

Kingston-on-Thames was chosen for a friendly gathering of members of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild with the Surrey County Association and Guildford Diocesan Guild on Saturday last. Fifty-four ringers attended from a wide area, and included Mr. J. A. Trollope (vice-president, Middlesex Association), Mr. C. T. Coles (general secretary, Middlesex Association) and Mr. G. L. Grover (general secretary, Guildford Guild).

Ringings commenced at 2.30 p.m. and continued till 4.30, when those present adjourned to the Parish Hall for tea, at which the Rev. T. B. Scrutton (Vicar of Kingston) presided. He extended a hearty welcome to the ringers of Surrey and Middlesex and hoped they would all enjoy their visit to Kingston. He then left the meeting to prepare for the service, saying that he would have more to say to them then and promising that his address would not be lengthy.

Mr. D. Cooper then took the chair, and in the name of the Surrey Association welcomed the Middlesex Association and Guildford Guild to Kingston. 'We are,' he said, 'in this district now quite familiar with joint and combined meetings. They are always well attended and are very popular. I think we may regard them as now firmly established. I hope they will live and grow in popularity and will be used to foster good fellowship and comradeship amongst all ringers in the neighbourhood.'

Mr. Trollope, replying on behalf of the Middlesex Association, thanked Mr. Cooper for his remarks, and said that if these meetings were to become more useful and effective they would have to do their best, as individuals, to overcome the isolation and detachment which existed amongst some bands and certain groups of ringers. He suggested a complete breaking away from the old spirit of rivalry, which still existed in certain quarters, and the burying of some of the old traditions, which had long since outlived their usefulness. He thought these things could best be brought about by encouraging their younger members, who had learned their ringing in a much more healthy atmosphere, and who had little respect for some of the hoary old traditions of the past.

REMEDY FOR OVERLAPPING.

Mr. F. E. Hawthorne spoke for the Guildford Diocesan Guild, and prefaced his remarks by giving a welcome to individual ringers to attend Kingston tower on practice nights (Tuesdays) or on Sunday mornings. Continuing, he advocated the formation of a National Guild of Ringers, to which all ringers could belong upon payment of one inclusive annual subscription. He was of the opinion that such a Guild would be better able to deal with questions affecting the future and welfare of the Exercise as a whole than 30 or 40 different county, diocesan or territorial associations as they had at present. Such a guild, with a membership of some thousands, would be able to deal authoritatively with complaints made by the general public, especially with regard to noise, and at the same time provide a remedy for overlapping and the needless waste of effort occasioned by having two or more sets of officers in an area (each set working for a different society) and carrying out duties which could more effectively be handled by one group of officials. He thought it was a question which might well be referred to the Central Council for debate.

After the usual votes of thanks were passed, those present went back to the Church for the service.

The Vicar, in his address at the service, dealt with the subject of conceit. 'Conceit,' he said, 'was the sin of over-estimating our worth or ability and led to the worship of a god called "me." It was a common weakness of our human nature, but it was a thing to fight against and overcome. The snare to admire ourselves, our knowledge or our achievements was always there, and God, our Creator, was forgotten. I have even known a woman to take credit for having a pretty face,' he said, 'and I have often heard a man or woman complain because someone else does not think enough of them. I do not know the first thing about bellringing, but I expect that, even in your bellfries, you have people who are so convinced of their own importance that they cannot get past themselves.'

He asked his hearers to imagine a blackboard in the centre of which is written the letter 'I.' 'The cure for conceit,' he said, 'is to put a cross through that letter "I." You then have a crucifix.'

After the service the tower was again visited and the bells were kept going till 9 p.m.

ARUNDEL BELLS.

EFFORTS TO RESTORE A SUSSEX PEAL.

Whilst we have recently read with regret of the closing of towers through the lack of co-operation between ringers and clergy, a different report comes from Arundel, in Sussex. The Vicar, the Rev. C. H. Vincent Brown, inducted to the living last May, is doing his utmost to restore the bells, now silent owing to the ravages of the death-watch beetle. 'Not only do we love to hear the sound of the bells,' he remarked to the Parochial Church Council, 'but we must not forget the ringers have been deprived of their work for the church.' On November 2nd (All Souls' Day) he is remaining in church for the whole day to receive donations towards this cause. There may be some ringers who would like to be associated with this restoration; any donation sent to the Vicarage will be gratefully acknowledged.

The bells, a ring of eight (tenor 14½ cwt.), were presented to the Parish Church in 1855 by the 14th Duke of Norfolk (the present Duke's grandfather), and it is hoped sufficient money will be received to enable a complete restoration to be made.

YORKSHIRE COMMEMORATION DINNER. REPRESENTATIVE GATHERING AT SHEFFIELD. The Services of Past Officers.

Although not quite a record in point of numbers, the Yorkshire Association's seventeenth annual commemoration dinner held at Sheffield on Saturday almost touched high water mark in attendance, and it was notable for the fact that, for the first time, the Bishop of Sheffield was present. Ringing took place during the afternoon at the Cathedral (12), Ranmoor (10), St. Marie's and Handsworth (8), and a jovial company spent an enjoyable evening at the Olde Castle Restaurant, under the genial chairmanship of the president (Canon C. C. Marshall), who was supported by the Bishop of Sheffield (the Rt. Rev. L. H. Burrows), Mr. E. H. Lewis (president of the Central Council), Councillor A. Paddon Smith (vice-president, St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham), the Archdeacon of Sheffield (the Ven. W. E. Baker) and Mrs. Baker, the Rev. Fr. Bradley (St. Marie's), the Rev. E. St. Leger Blakeney (Sheffield Cathedral), Mr. W. H. Jenkinson and Mr. F. Mason (churchwardens, Sheffield Cathedral) and Mrs. Mason, Canon F. C. Scovell and the Rev. O. A. E. Comely (Rawmarsh), Canon H. C. Foster (Ranmoor), etc. Among those present were Mr. S. F. Palmer (hon. treasurer of the Yorkshire Association) and Mrs. Palmer, Mr. L. W. G. Morris (hon. secretary of the association), Mr. P. J. Johnson (vice-president, Western District) and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. George Lewis (vice-president, Southern District) and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (vice-president, Guildford Diocesan Guild), Mr. W. H. Shuker (hon. secretary, Lancashire Association) and Mrs. Shuker, Miss L. K. Bowling (vice-president, Ladies' Guild) and Mrs. Cotterell (Leeds), Mr. W. H. Thomas (Bristol United Guilds), Mr. F. E. Dawe (Woking), Mr. and Mrs. C. Harrison and Master Geoffrey Harrison (Loughborough), Mr. J. W. Ward, Mr. C. W. Pipe and Miss Sylvia Bowyer (Ipswich), Mr. G. E. Fearn (Birmingham) and members of the Yorkshire Association in large numbers, from Sheffield and district and from York, Leeds, Rotherham, Bradford, Arksey, Doncaster, Eastwood, Bolsterstone, etc.

After dinner an interesting programme of toasts and musical items was enjoyed, the chairman opening this part of the proceedings by proposing 'The King.'

Mr. E. H. Lewis, in proposing 'Church and State,' first expressed his pleasure at being back again in Yorkshire. The Yorkshire Association, he said, gave them such a wonderful time when the Central Council met at Leeds last Whitsun that when Mr. Palmer asked him to join them that night he felt he could not possibly refuse. Ten days ago he did not see any prospect of that dinner being held; he thought it was ninety-nine to one against it, but they were happy to meet with the crisis past (applause).

RINGERS IN CHURCH AND STATE.

Continuing, Mr. Lewis said 'Church and State' was a good old-fashioned toast, which probably dated back to the time when everybody who was a member of the State was, nominally at any rate, also a member of the Church. Times had changed and that could no longer be said. There were many people to-day who were members of the State, but not members of the Church, while the passing of the Education Acts had resulted in a great many people being brought up without any education in religious matters at all, and there were many who, although their lives were more or less ruled by the ethical standards and moral codes which the Church had developed in this country, could scarcely be called Christians in the proper sense of the term. Luckily for this country, Church and State were still closely tied together, although for a considerable time, as far as doctrine and order were concerned, the Church was almost entirely ruled by Parliament. Convocation was silenced and the Church had no means of deliberating on those questions. Convocation was, however, re-established and the Church got more control of doctrine and order, but it was still a curious position that, in the final appeal on these questions, they had to go to Parliament, the members of which need not be members of the Church at all. They saw the effect of this about eleven years ago, when the Church decided it wanted certain changes in the Prayer Book and Parliament said 'No.' The curious fact about it was that it was lost by the vote of the Scottish members, whose Kirk was entirely independent of the State in all matters of doctrine and order. This was a question that had got to be thrashed out fairly soon, after we had got rid of certain international complications and had a little time to look into our own affairs.

Proceeding, Mr. Lewis referred to the relation of ringers to both Church and State. The art of change ringing, which they valued so highly and which they thought was the best possible means of getting music out of bells, was invented, he said, at a time when ringing had practically no connection whatever with the Church. Before the Reformation bells were rung for the services of the Church, and there was a direct connection between ringers and the Church, but in the days of the Puritans, ringing, as ringing, was entirely divorced from the services; in fact, he believed an Act of Parliament was passed forbidding any ringing on Sundays. The peculiarly English art of change ringing was invented and first practised at a time when most ringing was done as a matter of sport or pastime by young members of the aristocratic families. Ringing was more or less in the hands of two groups; the paid ringers, who rang rounds and call changes, presumably, for State and civic occasions; and the young members of the Universities and the Inns of Court, who rang changes, which were invented about that time, as a matter of sport, because the Church would have nothing to do with ringing. Everything of beauty had been swept out of the services of the Church. Times had, happily, changed and ringers had forced their way back into the Church and the Church had recognised them and appreciated their bringing back this beautiful art into the services of the Church. It was fair to say that to-day nearly all the ringing done was looked upon by those who did it as service to the Church (applause).

He knew they still rang peals, and in the ringing of peals and the creating of records there was a certain amount of sporting competition, but, at the same time, at the back of the minds of most of them ringing was the performance of service to the Church. There was no doubt that peal ringing made for good service ringing, and in by far the larger proportion of churches the bells were rung, and rung well, for Sunday services as their main object.

Mr. Lewis went on to refer to the recent crisis and said that at the present moment they all felt, whatever their political opinions, most deeply grateful to the Prime Minister for what he had done for them (applause), and in drinking that toast he would like them to remember the name of Mr. Neville Chamberlain (applause). Mr. Lewis coupled with the toast the name of the Bishop of Sheffield, who, he said, he first heard preach about 45 years ago when the Bishop was Vicar of Godalming and he, Mr. Lewis, was at Charterhouse. They had seen, said Mr. Lewis, the excellent work which the Bishop had done in the diocese of Sheffield and how well under his guidance the problems confronting the diocese were being solved.

LADIES BRING BRIGHTNESS TO BELFRY.

The Bishop of Sheffield, who had a cordial reception, said he was always keen to meet the bellringers on every possible occasion, especially when it was a dinner (laughter). He had been intensely interested in what the proposer of the toast had to say at the beginning of his speech, and he felt he was one among all the laymen he had met who ought to be in the Assembly of the Church of England (applause). That was his proper place because he was full of plans and proposals which would be of advantage to both Church and State. It was true that at one time bells were used for more secular purposes, but Mr. Lewis was right in saying that ringers were now looked upon as churchworkers. They formed a very important part of that body. The Bishop said he was very interested to see the large number of lady ringers there appeared to be. He was quite sure they added brightness to the belfry and that they always came to church when they had done their ringing (laughter). Continuing, he said there were things necessary to bellringing which were also necessary in Church and State, if they were to be kept in their proper place and relationship. First they should be kept in tune, which sometimes they were not. In some countries Church and State were in a very difficult position and did not at all keep in tune. That, however, could not be said in their own country. In ringing they had to pull together as a team; unless they did so the result was disastrous. That was what those concerned with Church and State had to do in trying to enable our nation to take its place in the world and maintain those principles, which were so dear to them, of justice, freedom and righteousness, which were the basis of Christianity and which they hoped would flourish long after the terrors of war had passed away (applause). The close relationship between Church and State, concluded the Bishop, had more advantages than disadvantages, even as it was now, and as long as Church and State existed in their present relation, the dear old towers of England would still stand and the bells ring to show to the world around them the triumph, the brightness and joy of real Christianity (applause).

JASPER SNOWDON'S GREAT WORK.

Mr. Colin Harrison gave the toast of the evening, 'The memory of the late Jasper Whitfield Snowdon and past officers of the association.' Those who were at the inaugural dinner in 1922, said Mr. Harrison, would recall the address given by their president, Canon Marshall, when he gave in a most lucid and meticulous manner a history of Jasper Whitfield Snowdon and other past officers of the association who had been called to higher service. It was a wonderful speech and was most fitting for that great occasion. If this gathering, continued Mr. Harrison, consisted solely of bellringers it was probable that the proposing of this toast would now take a more formal course, perhaps rivaling in its brevity that of 'The King,' so well known was the name of Jasper Whitfield Snowdon and all that it had meant to the ringing Exercise. But, quite rightly, there were many visitors present and they were entitled to some explanation as to why that gathering was held and to know something about those to whom reference was made in that toast, and it was his duty as well as his great privilege to attempt to supply that information.

Their visitors might wonder why the name of Jasper Whitfield Snowdon was specifically mentioned in connection with the toast. The answer was quite simple—he was not only their first president, his work for the benefit of the ringing fraternity throughout the country was such as to place him head and shoulders above any of his contemporaries. The son of a clergyman, he was born in Ilkley in 1844 and died in 1885—at the early age of 41. He rang and conducted his first peal in 1872 and in the following 12 years rang in all 129 peals, an achievement in itself worthy of the highest praise, especially when taking into account the difficulties of getting hands together in those distant days. Let them remember that the telephone did not come into being until 1876 and the petrol motor-car was not invented until 1884—the year before Jasper Snowdon's death. But in addition to ringing peals, he made time to write numerous articles to various sections of the Press on the subject of change ringing and also to produce books dealing with our art in all its spheres. These books were written in such a simple and instructive way that they have been regarded ever since as a sure foundation upon which all ringers can safely place their faith, whether as learners, conductors or composers. Fortunately Jasper Snowdon's talents were appreciated in his own lifetime, a presentation being made to him in that very city shortly before his death, when over 300 members of the association were present to do him honour.

THE SNOWDON PUBLICATIONS.

At Jasper Snowdon's death, it was indeed fortunate for the art of change ringing that there was a brother in William Snowdon, who most unselfishly carried on the work which Jasper had left uncompleted; manuscripts were put into book form and found a ready sale, for nothing had previously been obtainable by ringers which possessed the same easy, fluent style. Recently, said Mr. Harrison, he had occasion to be in communication with Miss Margaret E. Snowdon, William's daughter, and inquired if she would kindly tell him how many books of the Snowdon series had been published. He was so agreeably surprised at the answer that he decided to ask three well-known ringers present that day what number they thought had been published. The first said about 4,000, the next 20,000 or 30,000, and the last said he was unable to estimate it. The number, said Mr. Harrison, was nearly 48,000, which was a fine tribute to the praiseworthy work begun by Jasper and continued by William with the help of a few friends (applause).

Jasper Snowdon was president of the Yorkshire Association for ten years and was followed by William, who held the office for 25 years and never missed a single meeting. 'Would that some of us,' added the speaker, 'were as conscientious in performing our duty.' He hoped that their third president, Canon Marshall, who has been in office for 27 years, might be spared to serve them for a long time to come (applause).

The association had also been most fortunate in those who had served it in other capacities, vice-presidents, secretaries, treasurers and committee men. Amongst these were William Horner Howard, of York, their first vice-president; William Whitaker, of Leeds, their first secretary; the Lockwoods, father and son, of Otley and Leeds; Charles Jackson, of Hull, specially remembered for the many and varied compositions of Grandsire Triples which he conducted; Tom and Charles Henry Hattersley, of Sheffield—how the name of Hattersley conjured before one's eyes the picture of a dapper little gentleman in frock coat and silk hat; truly that was Charles Henry Hattersley, famous for his many compositions—George Bolland, of Tong, that well-known six-bell enthusiast; Frank Willey, of Sheffield—hale fellow well met; James Cotterell, of Bradford, a man with a most lovable personality (for whom it gave him great pleasure to call his first peal of Stedman Cinques on the bells of the Cathedral in that city); Fred Clark, of Arksey, quiet and unassuming, but one of nature's best; Arthur West, of Sutton-on-Hull; Firth Hopwood, of Bradford; and Bernard Webb, of Headingley. There might be others whom he had unwittingly omitted to mention, but all the past officers had undoubtedly served them to the best of their ability, and, in helping to raise and maintain the Yorkshire Association to the proud position which it holds to-day, they had also helped forward the work of the Exercise as a whole.

After that brief survey he hoped the visitors would realise the true purpose behind that gathering, which was that they were met to do honour to the memory of those who had served the association in the past and from their service to gain inspiration for the future.

The toast was drunk in silence.

Other toasts were 'Kindred Societies and Visitors,' 'Continued prosperity to the Yorkshire Association' and 'The Chairman.' The report of the speeches made in connection with these will appear in our next issue.

THANKSGIVING RINGING.

Three quarter-peals of Grandsire Doubles were rung on Sunday, October 2nd, at Keresley, Warwickshire, for the harvest festival and thanksgiving services. Before 8 a.m. Holy Communion, by W. J. ## RINGING TOUR IN CORNWALL.

At St. Columba, St. Columb Major, on Friday, Superlative Surprise was rung. It was the first peal of Major on the bells and the 200th peal by the conductor, Ernest Turner. The bells, some of which appear to have been cast by Warners, were rebung a few years ago by Messrs. Aggett, of Chagford, Devon. They are not particularly comfortable to ring, some having a tendency to 'slip wheel,' but fortunately the peal was completed. Leslie Morris did exceptionally well on the tenor, which was 'turned in' in great style in five minutes under three hours.

St. Columb Major was the birthplace of the Rev. R. H. Whitford, who died at Bristol in 1932. In May, 1931, he rang his last peal (Grandsire Triples) at St. Columba's Church, thus fulfilling an ambition by many years standing. He left a wish that a peal board should be erected, and this, carved in oak, has since been placed on the west wall of the church.

On the way back to Truro a visit was made to the Church of St. Stephen-in-Brannel, where, in 1934, the late William Pye rang his last peal as conductor. A tablet recording this peal, erected as a memorial to William Pye, has been placed in the belfry by the Truro Diocesan Guild, and five of the ringers in the peal, with several others, paid a tribute to the memory of that great ringer. Unfortunately time, and a funeral, would not allow of any lengthy ringing, consequently the bells were partly pulled up in peal and lowered again. This visit brought back many memories, as indeed did many of the places visited during the week, for it was in Cornwall that William Pye enjoyed his last ringing tour.

BENEFIT OF TOUR TO LOCAL RINGERS.

The big event of the week, a peal at Truro Cathedral, took place in the evening. Care was taken that as many as possible of those who had previously rung on these bells were omitted from the band, to enable as many as wished to get a peal in the Cathedral. In just under 3½ hours a peal of Stedman Caters was rung.

After this peal the whole party, with Messrs. W. H. Southard and C. E. Lanxon, were 'rushed off' to Redruth, at the invitation of Mr. P. R. O. Williams, to supper. On arrival it was found that Mrs. Williams had prepared an excellent meal, to which no mercy was shown. Handbells provided amusement for some time, after which Mr. Southard, Master of the Truro Diocesan Guild, welcomed the tourists to Cornwall. He said that their tour would no doubt do a great deal of good in the diocese. One of the difficulties they in Cornwall had was to convince the 'rounds' ringers, who were real experts at striking, that it was possible to be a change ringer and a first-class striker at the same time. After the tour in 1934 there was much interest shown in change ringing by 'rounds' ringers at places then visited, and he was sure that the present visit would give further stimulus to change ringing. Mr. Southard thanked the visitors for the 'local' peals arranged, which would give much encouragement to those who took part in them. Mr. C. E. Lanxon also thanked the visitors for the opportunities given to him to ring in some of their peals.

Mr. C. T. Coles, on behalf of the touring party, acknowledged the welcome given by Mr. Southard. He said that after the tour of four years ago he felt that some day another visit might be made to Cornwall, and on this occasion, with a larger party than usual, it had been decided to arrange a few peals for the benefit of Cornish ringers. Out of three so arranged, two had been rung, one of Kent Treble Bob Major and one of Stedman Triples. The other attempt, although unsuccessful, afforded an opportunity for some good practice, which he hoped would be beneficial. Mr. Lanxon, whom he thanked for arranging the tour, had rung in four peals with them, and had obtained his first peals of Bristol and Superlative Surprise and Double Norwich. In conclusion, Mr. Coles thanked Mr. and Mrs. Williams for their very kind hospitality, which, he said, they would remember for a long time. Afterwards Mr. Coles was the recipient of a memento of the tour in the shape of a silver bell, the badge of the Truro Diocesan Guild, which Mr. Southard presented to him. Master Williams, age 12, son of Mr. P. R. O. Williams, was much interested in the handbell ringing. He has already made his mark in ringing, having rung several peals of Doubles, conducting one of them.

On Saturday, at St. Bryveth, Lanlivery, a peal of Bristol Surprise was conducted by Frank Bennett. These bells are a mixed peal, the first three by Mears and Stainbank, 1890, the others mostly by Phelps.

At Lanhydrock (St. Hydrock's), the last peal of the tour, Cambridge Surprise, was called by James Bennett, this, as well as the peal at Lanlivery, being the first of Cambridge on the bells. The bells at Lanhydrock are by Taylors, the trebles dated 1892, the others 1888.

Thus ended a memorable week. Fifteen peals were rung out of 17 attempts, and, therefore, as a ringing tour, it can be claimed that it was successful. As a holiday it was certainly most enjoyable. As a missionary effort we hope it did some good that will be lasting, and that it will give some encouragement to those who are making such brave efforts to spread the art in Cornwall.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

NORTH STAFFS ASSOCIATION'S STAND

The North Staffordshire Association has been faced with an unfortunate division of opinion on the subject of its annual dinner, so successfully inaugurated last February. It is not a question of whether the dinner shall be continued, but of where it shall be held. The Rector of Bucknall, who is the clerical secretary, and the Vicar of Biddulph, who is an honorary member, have protested against the holding of the dinner on licensed premises, and the latter coupled with his protest the intimation that he would withdraw his membership of the association and request his ringers to do likewise if licensed premises are selected. The committee, who manage the affairs of the association, nevertheless decided by thirteen votes to three to hold the dinner on licensed premises, and we think most ringers will congratulate them upon the stand they have made. While everyone should respect the conscientious views which a man may hold upon such subjects as temperance, however extreme they may be, there seems to us very little of the Christian spirit of brotherliness in an attempt to dictate by a threat of secession what a large majority of members, holding other opinions, should or should not do on an occasion of this kind. Those who object to dining on licensed premises can quite well stay away, and their action would be respected, but pressure to prevent others from gathering round the festive board in a well-conducted hotel surely savours of intolerance.

There are many dinners held by ringing organisations every year, and all of them, without exception, take place on licensed premises. They are attended by Bishops and many clergy, and the behaviour of those present is always unexceptionable. That there should be also a festive spirit is natural; the events themselves are festivals, but that does not make them undesirable. After all, most ringers are men, and should be treated and trusted as men, and when men do meet round the festive board, as is the wont of Englishmen, when they wish to celebrate an occasion, they do it in a place where they can obtain the sort of refreshment they like best. If they cannot do that, they will not go, and in such circumstances the North Staffordshire Association might just as well abandon its annual dinner right away.

What is more important, however, is the implied stigma cast upon ringers, that they cannot be trusted to regale themselves on licensed premises without risk to their reputations. At the Yorkshire dinner a fortnight ago, Mr. A. Paddon Smith demolished the myth that ringers in the olden days, because they consumed beer in the belfry, were any worse in that respect than the parson who consumed some equally, or even more, potent beverage in the vestry. And if the parsons have improved since that time, so have the ringers, and there is no more fear of excesses among them at a dinner on licensed premises than there is among their clerical guests.

THE PEAL AT LANHYDROCK.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Having read with interest Mr. Pitstow's letter re the peal of Superlative Surprise at Lanhydrock, Cornwall, the particulars, which he has lost, may be of interest: October 6th, 1897, 5,088 changes in 3 hours and 7 minutes by Rev. W. S. Willett treble, Rev. (now Canon) G. F. Coleridge 2, C. Hounslow 3, A. W. Pike 4, A. Pitstow 5, Rev. F. E. Robinson 6, W. W. Gifford 7, J. W. Washbrook tenor. Composed and conducted by J. W. Washbrook.

This was the first peal on the bells and first peal in the method in the county. It was rung for the Devon Guild, as the Truro Diocesan Guild was not in existence then.

A. S. ROBERTS.

Similar information has been sent by the Rev. J. Maurice Turner, Rector of Washfield, Devon, and Mr. G. Worth, of York.

EDGBASTON'S BEADLE.

MR. S. W. FREEMANTLE CELEBRATES 30 YEARS OF OFFICE.

If you visit the Old Church, Edgbaston, Birmingham, you will find a man dressed in a picturesque old-time costume—high collared blue coat, bright with gleaming brass buttons and vivid red braid, shining top hat and a long historic staff. He is the Edgbaston Parish Church beadle, Mr. Sidney W. Freemantle.

There are only three such beadles left in the Diocese of Birmingham, those at St. Martin's, in the Bull Ring (Birmingham's Parish Church), and Sheldon Old Church, Warwickshire, being the other two. Over 1,000 years have passed since the first beadle entered his church, and, though the years have robbed the office of most of its authority, the beadles themselves are as picturesque as ever. In former days, before Robert Peel's 'Bobbies,' a beadle's powers were considerable. Disturbances in the village and cases of petty theft and drunkenness were dealt with by him, but to-day they are glorified vergers.

Mr. Freemantle's ancestors were beadles; his father was at a church in Southampton for 46 years and was followed by his son for a brief period. An uncle was verger at another Southampton church, and a third relative was head verger at Salisbury Cathedral for 51 years.

At an early age Mr. Freemantle joined the Navy and was in action during the 'Boxer' riots in China, about 1900; he also served in the Navy in the last war.

On September 29th, 1908, he was appointed beadle of the Old Church, Edgbaston, a position he has held ever since.

His duties, as beadle to a very busy city church, have never permitted him to take up change ringing seriously. He can, however, ring the tenor 'behind,' and takes a very keen interest in all matters connected with rings and ringing. He is a fully paid up member of the St. Martin's Guild.

It was mainly through his efforts that the old ring of six bells were recast and augmented to the present eight by the Loughborough Foundry; incidentally they are considered to be the best-eight, for their weight, in the district.

Thursday, September 29th, 1938, was the 30th anniversary of 'Sid's' arrival at Edgbaston, and the event was duly celebrated with a peal of Bob Major (recorded in our last issue), in which six of the local band took part, the other two being absent through illness and work respectively. After the peal the band were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Freemantle at their home, an old-world cottage which has been the home of the Edgbaston beadles for centuries. Their health was toasted in 'liquid' form, the band wishing them many years of happiness and good health.

THE LATE MR. GEORGE HUGHES.

MEMORIAL AT WEDNESBURY CHURCH.

The dedication of a memorial tablet to the memory of the late Mr. George Hughes took place on Saturday at Wednesbury Parish Church, the Vicar (the Rev. Prebendary H. W. Jones) performing the ceremony in the presence of a good number of ringers, including Mr. Herbert Knight, hon. secretary of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford, and many old ringing friends of Mr. Hughes, who was for many years leader of the Wednesbury band. A record of the wonderful work done by him was published in 'The Ringing World' at the time of his death.

The Vicar, Mr. H. Knight and Mr. W. E. Brittan all spoke of the love Mr. Hughes had for change ringing and of the work he did in training young ringers. Reference was also made to the loss the church sustained when he passed away.

Apologies for absence were received from the Rev. C. H. Barker, hon. treasurer of the society, and Mr. A. Madeley, of Preston.

MR. S. W. FREEMANTLE.

PEAL NOTES.

A JUBILEE PEAL AT TREVETHIN.

The peal rung at Trevethin, Pontypool, on Saturday, was to commemorate the jubilee of the bells. On Whit Monday, 1888, thousands wended their way to Trevethin Church, situated on a hill, to listen to the opening of the bells, a somewhat rare event in Wales in those days. The opening ringing was done by members of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association. Of that band there is now only one survivor, Mr. Sidney E. Romans, of Gloucester. The peal was successful, the composition being Holt's Original. After the peal the bells were kept going to Grandsire Triples, etc., by the Caerleon band of ringers for the remainder of the day. The present hon. secretary of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association (Mr. J. W. Jones) was one of that band, hence the reason for arranging the jubilee peal, the same method and same composition.

Twice only has Holt's Original been rung on these bells, and between the peals has been a space of 50 years. The ringers of the treble and tenor (Messrs. T. Lade and H. Jones) are local men. Mr. W. Townsend, of Cheltenham, on holiday in the district, hearing there was to be a peal attempt, put in an appearance, and one of the selected band readily offered him a rope, thus providing another instance of good fellowship amongst ringers.

A jubilee supper was served in the Schoolroom, at which the Vicar of the parish, the Archdeacon of Monmouth, and one of the wardens were present. An invitation was extended to all ringers, past and present, of Trevethin, including the ladies who rang during the Great War and those who took part in the peal. A most enjoyable time was spent.

The quarterly peal of the Hereford District of the Hereford Diocesan Guild was rung at Fownhope on October 12th, when two members scored their first peal at the first attempt.

The first peal of Minor on the bells at Almeley, Herefordshire, was called by Mr. E. F. Salmons on Saturday.

OLDEST TWELVE-BELL PEAL RINGER.

We do not know who was the oldest man ever to ring a peal, but Mr. Bob Brundle, of Ipswich, has, at any rate, made a new record for the oldest man to ring a twelve-bell peal. Last Saturday he took part in a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, in celebration of his 87th birthday. He was born on September 18th, 1851.

This performance is a marvellous tribute to his vitality and to his mental activity. In 1933, when the 'old men's' record was made with a peal of Stedman Triples at St. Olave's, London, and the ringers' united ages approximated 612 years, an average of 76½, Mr. Brundle was the oldest of the band by nearly 18 months.

The peal of Maximus last Saturday was also a birthday compliment to Mr. Fred Tillet (aged 71) and Mr. Hobart E. Smith. Mr. Tillet is a grandfather, whose son and granddaughter have taken part in peals with him. On this occasion the 'old uns' seem to have rung most of the odd bells, for the average age of the ringers of 1, 3, 5, 7, 9 and 11 was no less than 67 years.

Nine members of the Lancashire Association out of a band of ten rang their first peal on Royal on October 11th, when the first peal of Bob Royal was rung at St. Mark's Church, Worsley, conducted by Mr. J. H. Ridyard. One of those taking part was Mr. J. B. Budd, who has recently settled in Eccles after having lived many years in Grimsby.

The band also included Mr. W. H. Shuker, the hon. secretary of the Lancashire Association, and Mr. Percy Derbyshire, who has been a member of the association since 1896. It seems strange that these two veterans should only now have rung their first peal of Royal. Mr. Robert Allred, who also took part, completed the circle of the tower with this peal.

THE THIRD GENERATION.

Edwin A. Barnett, of Crayford, Kent, whose ringing career has been so phenomenal, celebrated his 20th birthday on Saturday with a peal of Superlative Surprise, which he both composed and conducted.

He is the third generation of the family to make a name in peal ringing, his grandfather, Mr. Edwin Barnett, sen., who died a few years ago, being the first of the conspicuous trio. The three generations rang a number of peals together.

Only a short time since Edwin A. rang his 300th peal: easily a record for his years. Last Saturday's peal was his fiftieth as conductor. The composition, of 5,056 changes, which has six pairs of bells reversed in 5-6—an unusual quality for Superlative—was as follows:—

23456	M	W	H	Continued	B	M	W	H
63254	—	3		62345	—	2
24536	—		2	43526	—		3
32546	3	—		52436	—	—	—
36524	—		3	23456	—

A peal in seven Minor methods was rung at Tilsforth, Beds, on October 11th, the first in the Luton district for a number of years.

Mr. A. S. Fernhead has now 'circled the tower' in peals at the Unitarian Church, Brookfield, Gorton, Lancs, with a peal of Bob Major on October 8th, which was also the 25th peal by A. J. Brown. Brookfield and Todmorden, both in Lancashire and both possessing rings of eight, are, we believe, the only Unitarian churches with peals of bells.

TWO HUNDRED PEALS TOGETHER.

Mr. Robert Sperring and Mr. James Morgan rang their two hundredth peal together, when they took part in a peal of Superlative Surprise Major at Frodsham on October 8th.

The band who rang a peal of Bob Major at Gilmorton, Leicestershire, on Sunday, October 9th, included that old stalwart, Mr. John Clarke, who very kindly consented to stand in at the last minute. The peal was rung before evening service as a thanksgiving for the preservation of peace and for the ingathering of the harvest. The ringers desire to thank Mr. George Broughton, who is one of the local ringers, for kindly having everything in readiness for the attempt.

Another peal for the preservation of peace was that rung at Broughton, Staffs, on October 1st. As in many other cases, it happily coincided with the harvest festival.

Mr. T. H. Reeves, hon. secretary of St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, took part in a peal of Stedman Caters at Newcastle Cathedral on Saturday, during one of his periodical visits to that city. It was the fiftieth peal rung by Mr. H. P. Cliff, of the Cathedral company.

At Rainham, Kent, a peal of Bob Major on Saturday week welcomed a new curate, the Rev. H. N. Gutteridge.

Two peals, one of Doubles and the other of Bob Minor, rung at Aymestrey and Kingsland, Herefordshire, respectively, on October 9th and 10th, were arranged for Mr. D. H. Bennett, of Talgarth.

The report of another peal at Aymestrey, rung on June 8th, accompanied the details. May we again ask those responsible for sending reports to do so promptly—for everybody's convenience? The peal in June was the first peal on Aymestrey bells.

Miss Constance Sybil Kingdon, formerly a ringer at St. Andrew's Church, Bishop Auckland, was married on Saturday to the Rev. Outhbert J. Parry-Evans, Vicar of Fatfield, Co. Durham, and son of the present Vicar of St. Andrew's, Canon A. B. Parry-Evans. Miss Kingdon has also been the organist at St. Andrew's Church. After the wedding a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung in honour of the occasion.

Another wedding compliment was paid on October 12th at Ashburton, Devon, when a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung in honour of the marriage of Mr. L. J. Murray Stallard, son of the Vicar (the Rev. A. B. Stallard) and Mrs. Stallard, and Miss Parker C. Allen, which took place on October 8th.

The band were entertained to refreshments by the Vicar and Mrs. Stallard, who congratulated them on their success. Five of the ringers were from Ottery St. Mary, one from Sidmouth and two from Highweek, while Mr. J. H. Godfrey, sen., stood by as spare man. The peal was the first on the bells since they were rehung by Messrs. Taylor and Co.

A LANCASHIRE OCTAVE.*AUGHTON BELLS RESTORED.

Last Sunday afternoon, in the presence of a large congregation, which included Mr. J. H. Shepherd, of Swindon, the eight bells of Aughton Church, Lancashire, were rededicated by the Rector of Liverpool, the Rev. D. Railton. These bells had for the last two or three years been in anything but a good, ringable condition, and it is entirely due to the zeal and enthusiasm of Mr. J. Brown, who, as well as being a ringer at this church, is also churchwarden, that they have now been restored. The Vicar of Christ Church (the Rev. J. P. Hobson) conducted the service, the lesson was read by the Rev. F. A. Redwood (Vicar of Ormskirk), and, the dedication ceremony having been performed, the Rev. D. Railton preached an eloquent and appropriate sermon.

After the concluding hymn the bells were rung by the local band to a course of Stedman Triples. A course of Bob Major was then rung, followed by two courses of Stedman with mixed companies.

The bells have been returned and rehung by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., and an excellent job has been made of them.

There were quite a few visiting ringers from Southport, Wigan, Liverpool, Birkenhead, etc., and some remained to ring for evening service. It is hoped that a Ringers' Saturday will be arranged in the near future to give those who were unable to get to the dedication service an opportunity of hearing the bells.

It is interesting to note that the Rector of Liverpool has been appointed by the Bishop of Liverpool to the office of Warden of the Liverpool Diocesan Guild, which comprises the Liverpool and Wigan Branches of the Lancashire Association. That one of his first duties should have been to rededicate the bells of Christ Church, Aughton, gave great satisfaction to all concerned.

Mr. Charles Poulteney completed the 'circle' of his tower, St. Stephen's, Eastwood, Rotherham, by ringing the treble to a peal of Bob Major on Saturday.

Three ringers, Messrs. C. H. Harding, C. E. Jeffries and R. J. Houghton, of Tempsford, 'completed the circle' at the six-bell tower of Maulden, Beds, when they took part in a peal in seven Minor methods on October 4th, as a compliment to Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Sinfield, of Maulden, on the birth of their son and heir. Mr. Sinfield also rang in the peal.

Bernard C. Castle, of Hurst, Berks, and W. H. J. Parker, of Sandhurst, rang their first peal of Triples when they took part in a peal of Grandsire Triples, specially arranged for them at Burnham, Bucks, on Saturday, October 15th.

The first peal on the five bells at Fyfield, Essex, was rung on Saturday week.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Before the news, here is an S.O.S. message. Missing from its home at Coalbrookdale, Salop, a belfry key. If any ringing friend who took part in the recent Staffordshire and Shropshire tour has got it, will he please return it to Mr. William Saunders, Institution House, Coalbrookdale.

Mr. Rupert Richardson has now qualified for membership of the National Police Guild. During the recent crisis he was sworn in as a special constable.

Messrs. W. Honor and J. J. Pratt, of the Hillingdon tower, have recently completed over 50 years' service there. This fine record will be suitably recognised at the ringers' meeting to be held at Hillingdon to-morrow, when friends are cordially invited to be present.

Ring in the Thames-side towers on the borders of Middlesex, Berks, Bucks and Surrey will miss Mr. Alan Pink, who, on Monday, was transferred from Ealing to the Oxford branch of the Westminster Bank. Mr. Pink's enthusiasm was responsible for much peal ringing activity while he was residing in the area, first at Windsor and then at Hanwell, and the band that he had round him rang many peals in new Surprise methods. Oxford, however, should gain by his transfer.

We learn that Mr. Walter Judge has severed his connection with the tower at All Saints', Oxford. This will be a severe setback to the excellent band that was being built up there, and which, on practice nights, with some augmentation from outside, was able to ring Spliced Surprise Major.

Members of the Leeds and District Society are reminded that the October meeting, to be held on the 29th, is at St. Michael's, Headingley, and not at Bradford Cathedral.

Mr. John Bartter, of the Cheriton, Kent, band, has just undergone a serious operation at Dover Hospital. His many friends will be glad to know that he is progressing satisfactorily, although he will be in hospital for some time yet.

ON THE ROAD AGAIN.

Ringers are once more warned against the approaches of a man presumably the 'James Green' to whom we referred a few weeks ago. This individual or someone closely resembling him, has been imposing upon people in the neighbourhood of Kettering and endeavouring to obtain loans. A description of him has been given as apparently about 56 years of age, with two prominent teeth only in the front of his upper jaw.

EARLY COLLEGE YOUTHS' PEAL RECORDED.

INTERESTING PEAL BOARD AT DOVER.

A peal board has recently been placed in the belfry of St. Mary's, Dover, recording a peal rung there over 200 years ago, being the first peal on the bells. The ringers were members of the Ancient Society of College Youths, London, being entered as No. 32, as follows:—

A peal of Bob Major, 5,040 changes (June 1st, 1732), in 3 hours and 2 minutes: John Cundell 1, John Ward 2, Benjamin Annable 3, Samuel Jeacocke 4, Wm. Pickard 5, John Dearmor 6, James Richardson 7, Richard Spicer 8. Composed and conducted by B. Annable.

The enthusiasm of these ringers can be judged, as, according to history, the same band rang a peal the day before at Canterbury Cathedral, and, following the Dover peal, crossed the Channel and rang handbells in France. Probably these were the first ringers to ring handbells from England in France.

SURREY ASSOCIATION SECRETARY MARRIED.

BRIDE THE DAUGHTER OF SOUTHERN DISTRICT RINGING MASTER.

The wedding took place at Reigate Parish Church on Saturday of Mr. Edward George Talbot, only son of Mr. T. A. Talbot, of The Ridgeway, Croydon, and Miss Dora Claydon, youngest daughter of Mr. W. Claydon, of Reigate, Master of the Southern District of the Surrey Association. The bridegroom is the hon. secretary of the Surrey Association, an office to which he succeeded last year, after having been assistant secretary.

The ceremony was performed by the Vicar of Reigate (the Rev. R. Talbot), and the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in white velvet, with short train, and carried white lilies and carnations. The two bridesmaids wore violet velvet and carried gold chrysanthemums. The best man was Mr. Harry W. Simmons (leader of St. Peter's, Croydon, band), and the guests, numbering over 70, included the following ringers: Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kippin, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Collins, Messrs. D. Cooper, F. G. Woodiss, C. Parks, R. Tuffin, A. J. Bull, A. Willett and G. Jennings.

After the ceremony Grandsire Caters were rung on the Parish Church bells.

The honeymoon is being spent at Torquay, and among the many presents received by the happy couple were a striking clock from the Surrey Association and a bedside lamp from St. Mary's Society, Beddington, of which the bridegroom is a member.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—41.*RUPERT RICHARDSON.

There is no more popular ringer in the country than Mr. Rupert Richardson, of Surfleet, Lincs, alike for his genial personality as for the generous hospitality which he and his wife have extended in their home to large numbers of ringers. His claim to distinction, however, lies beyond this and his familiar portly figure of 20 stones or thereabouts. No one has done more for ringing in his own county of Lincolnshire than he has, and it was natural that the office of Master of the Diocesan Guild should descend to him on the death of the Rev. H. Law James, who was his Vicar and his tutor in ringing matters. Mr. Richardson's long and practical services to the Lincoln Guild have been inestimable, for nothing is too much trouble and no service too great for him to give in its interests. Not only has Mr. Richardson also travelled the country extensively in connection with ringing, but he helped to make history by the part he played in the success of the tour to Australia in 1934.

Mr. Richardson, who was born at Meanwood, Leeds, began ringing at Surfleet in February, 1898, under the tuition of the late Rev. H. Law James, and rang his first peal, Grandsire Triples, at St. Mary's, Swineshead, on September 14th, 1901. His first peal as conductor, Bob Major, at St. Paul's, Fulney, came on February 14th, 1903. He took part in the first peal of Stedman Triples by a band of residents in Lincolnshire, also in the only peals of Surfleet Treble Bob Caters ever rung. Another and perhaps more notable contribution to ringing was that he was one of the band which, under the leadership of the Rev. H. Law James, first introduced spliced ringing to the Exercise, and rang the first peal in 14 methods in seven complete 720's ever rung.

He has several times rung three peals in one day, including Double Norwich Major, Stedman Triples and Caters 'in hand' and Bristol, London and Superlative Surprise Major on tower bells. He has also taken part in two peals of Cambridge Surprise Maximus in one day, in addition to driving a car over 200 miles, and he rang in the first peal of Cambridge Maximus in Ireland. He has shared in several unusual performances, having conducted the only peal rung in bed and the only peal rung by a band of churchwardens. The former was a comedy turn during one of the Surfleet ringing weeks some years ago, while the latter was rung as a birthday compliment to the oldest churchwarden, Mr. George Jarvis, of Spalding, who had attained his 100th birthday a few days previously. He has also conducted two peals, one Minor and one Major, the rest of the band being all ladies. Mr. Richardson rang in all the 13 peals on the Australian tour in 1934, conducting eight, including all the handbell peals rung at sea.

He has now rung 695 peals, of which 184 have been on handbells, and he has conducted 170. In addition to having rung peals on five seas, and in Australia and Tasmania, he has taken part in peals in 34 English, one Scottish, five Irish and five Welsh counties, in 213 towers, for 39 guilds or associations.

He was elected Master of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild in 1932, and he has served the Guild on the Central Council continuously since 1903.

TILEHURST RINGER AND CHORISTER.*SIXTY YEARS' SERVICE TO ONE CHURCH.

To commemorate the harvest festival and as a compliment to Mr. H. Goodger on his completion of 60 years' membership of St. Michael's choir, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Tilehurst, Berks, on October 9th, by the local band: P. Jarvis (first quarter-peal and first attempt) 1, H. Hunt 2, A. Haines 3, H. Goodger 4, E. Langley 5, R. W. Runham (conductor) 6, P. Dyke 7, J. Lewenden 8. Mr. Goodger, who has been the local captain for a great many years, was the recipient of an armchair presented by the Rector, the Rev. F. J. Sherwood.

MR. RUPERT RICHARDSON.NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.'SPLIT' OVER ANNUAL DINNER ARRANGEMENTS.*Clergy Threaten Secession.

An excellent meeting of the North Staffordshire Association was held at Tunstall on Saturday, when 46 were present from Brown Edge, Burslem, Bucknall, Biddulph, Burton-on-Trent, Cheadle, Derby, Draycott, Hanley, Kingsley, Kidsgrove, Leek, Longton, Newcastle, Stone, Stafford, Stoke-on-Trent, Silverdale, Tunstall, Uttoxeter and Wolstanton.

Tea was served in the Church Hall, where the Rev. S. F. Linsley (Vicar of Tunstall) extended a hearty welcome, and especially to the many young ringers present.

Mr. S. Churton thanked the Vicar and ringers for allowing them to hold another meeting at Tunstall, which it was always a pleasure to visit. This was supported by Mr. H. Carnwell, and Mr. E. Steele thanked the ladies for preparing the tea.

The Vicar congratulated Mr. Henry Carnwell upon reaching his 50th year as a bellringer, and this was heartily endorsed by all present.

Subsequently, upon the invitation of the Vicar, evensong was attended in place of the usual ringers' service.

A committee meeting was held after evensong, which was called to discuss the annual dinner. The secretary read letters which he had received from the president (the Archdeacon of Stoke, the Ven. P. Hartill) enclosing letters from the Rector of Bucknall (the Rev. F. D. Gardner), clerical secretary to the association, and the Vicar of Biddulph (the Rev. S. Myers-Bridge), protesting against the dinner being held on licensed premises.

The Rector of Bucknall stated that, if secession did not take place, the members of these towers would not be able to accept the invitation to the dinner.

The Vicar of Biddulph would also withdraw his honorary membership and request the withdrawal of his ringers from the association.

The president wrote that he felt the policy of any association must be decided by the majority vote, and not forced by a minority, by the threat of secession; and that if the majority decided in favour of a dinner on licensed premises, he, as president, would not feel called upon to try to veto that decision.

He also suggested that it might be wisest to leave the question over until the annual meeting at Stoke, when he would be in the chair.

It was decided that the matter could not be held over until December, and that, as they had the largest representative committee meeting the association had ever held, it should be decided at that meeting.

It was proposed by Mr. C. H. Page, seconded by Mr. G. Holbrook, that the dinner be held again on licensed premises.

An amendment was proposed by Mr. H. Billings, seconded by Mr. J. Cottrell, that the dinner be abandoned.

A vote was taken, which resulted in 13 being in favour of the dinner and three against it.

Biddulph and Bucknall representatives then left the meeting, and the chairman of the committee offered his resignation.

The meeting in November will be at Burslem, on November 12th, and not the 5th as previously arranged.

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION.*COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER GREAT NESS DISPUTE.

Market Drayton ringers entertained members of the Shropshire Association when they attended a meeting there recently. Ringing before and after tea was followed by a service conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. L. M. Charles-Edwards), who gave the association a hearty welcome, and spoke with real appreciation of the work of ringers generally.

The business meeting was held in the belfry, presided over by Mr. F. Colclough.

A letter was read from the Vicar of Ryton (near Shifnal) asking for a grant from the association towards the cost of restoring the five bells in that tower. Mr. A. Pritchard explained the circumstances, and after discussion the sum of one guinea was granted.

It was reported that the peal book was now nearly full, and the question was raised whether it would be best to obtain a new one and carry on as at present, or issue a printed report to include details of peals rung. Eventually it was decided to ask the committee to prepare two schemes with an estimate of the cost of each, and to report at the Shifnal meeting.

A long discussion took place with regard to the dispute at Great Ness between the incumbent and ringers. Mr. A. Pritchard pointed out that the members were not yet in possession of all the facts of the case, and finally Mr. W. Weatherby proposed that the matter be referred to the committee.—This was seconded by Mr. T. Price and carried.

It was unanimously agreed that the next meeting be held at Shifnal on November 5th.

Four new members were elected, viz., Messrs. P. Price, K. Hill and A. Jackson, of Market Drayton, and S. Birch, of Dawley.

The meeting closed with a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. L. M. Charles-Edwards for the use of the bells and for conducting the service, also to Mr. Weatherby and the local ringers for the arrangements made and for their generosity in providing the tea.

Further ringing took place until 9.30, there being some good striking, while methods ranged from rounds to London Surprise Major.

AUSTRALIAN TOURISTS' REUNION. 'FAMILY' GATHERING AT SURFLEET.

Two Peals in One Day.

Four years ago last Saturday the little company who set out on the 'great adventure' to visit towers in the Antipodes first set foot on Australian soil, when they landed at Freemantle and at Perth began that round of receptions, hospitality and ringing successes which made the trip the most memorable in the history of the Exercise and one which will never be forgotten by those who were privileged to take part in it.

Each year since then the majority of the party have contrived to hold a reunion, and they gathered again last week-end at that delectable spot, with the ever-open door, Glyn Garth, Surfleet, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Richardson. This year, unfortunately, there were some absentees from the party. Mr. W. Linter, of Fareham, was prevented by ill-health from joining them; the Rev. E. Bankes James was detained by scholastic duties, and Mrs. Sharples, also, was unable to be present. But nine out of the dozen made up a happy company. With Mr. and Mrs. Richardson and Enid, they included Messrs. W. H. Fussell (Slough), G. Martin (Maidenhead), C. Sharples (Blackpool), J. Hardcastle (Bradford), R. Maude (Pudsey) and J. S. Goldsmith (Woking).

All the visitors arrived at Surfleet on Friday evening, and it was Monday before the last of them reluctantly departed. The gathering was more in the nature of a family reunion, for their common art and long travel together has knit this party with very strong personal ties.

At dinner on Friday night they were joined by the Vicar of Surfleet and Mrs. Clark, and tongues again wagged in reminiscences, while there were eager ears to listen to the recent adventures of two of the party in Egypt.

A PEAL FOR THE HOBART SOCIETY.

The absence of Messrs. James and Linter made it impossible to ring a tower-bell peal with a complete band of tourists, but Rupert, determined not to let the opportunity pass without an effort to score a peal for one of the Australian societies of which all were members, decided that a handbell peal was imperative. So on Saturday morning four of them sat down to attempt the job. The captain had only an untrained crew, but his good seamanship and the dour determination of the rest overcame the obstacles, and, despite some bad weather at times and shipping one or two heavy seas, the peal of Bob Major was brought round to everyone's delight.

It was rung for the Holy Trinity Society, Hobart, Tasmania, and was the first handbell peal to be credited to it. Mr. J. S. Goldsmith was particularly glad to ring it for the Holy Trinity Society, as he was the only one of the band that went out to Australia who had not rung a peal under its auspices. He was in the attempt that failed through a rope slipping wheel at Holy Trinity Church after 2 hours 50 minutes, but when the two peals, which were successful afterwards, were rung, he was confined to bed with influenza. He was elected a member of the society in Tasmania; he rang his first peal for it eleven thousand miles away!

The afternoon had been earmarked for a peal at Pinchbeck, two miles distant. Messrs. G. Ladd, the Pinchbeck veteran, and J. W. Carter, of Surfleet, made up the band and George Martin called one of Arthur Knight's peals of Treble Bob, which was knocked off without any trouble. Pinchbeck has not long had a ring of eight, but more than 250 years ago it had a ring of five. One cast in 1624 bears the name of Tobie Norris, of Stamford, and three of them, including the tenor, were cast in 1677 by Tobie Norris II.

Pinchbeck Church contains many interesting relics, one of them a wooden hut, like a sentry-box, which was once used by the parson for his personal protection from the elements when he was called upon to conduct a funeral in bad weather. Mr. Fussell, who has visited and inspected probably as many churches as any ringer, says he knows of only one other such provision and that is at Beaumaris, in the island of Anglesey.

Although it has nothing to do with the peal or the Australian tour, readers will probably be interested in the following rhyming bill, presented by the village carpenter for work done at Pinchbeck. It is dated December 20th, 1769.

A CORNISH AUGMENTATION.

NEW TREBLES ADDED TO RESTORED RING.

Saturday, October 8th, was a day of great rejoicing in the parish of St. Denys, Cornwall, mentioned in Domesday as Lan Dines, the Church on the Hill. It was the eve of the patronal festival and harvest thanksgiving, and the occasion of the rededication by the Assistant Bishop of Truro, the Right Rev. John Holden, D.D., of the peal of six bells, after restoration and rehanging, and two new bells and a tower screen.

Of the eight bells, the sixth is the most interesting, it having been cast by Henry Jordan, circa 1450. This bell is to be preserved. The fifth and seventh were originally Pennington bells of 1687 and 1738 respectively, but were recast by Taylor in 1909. New the Loughborough founders have cast two trebles, one being the gift of the Rector, the Rev. G. C. Sara, and the other of the parishioners. The weight of the treble is 3 cwt. 14 lb., and of the tenor 9 cwt. 1 qr. 27 lb., note G.

Ringling was enjoyed for several hours by ringers from Roche, Ladock, St. Kew, St. Stephen's, St. Columb, St. Enoder, St. Denys, Truro, Redruth and St. Austell.

The only complaints one heard were that the ropes of the back six were too heavy and the sallies too big. These were kindly sold by Gorran, as they were too heavy for their bells. But Gorran bells are much heavier than St. Denys! However, although £500 has been spent on the tower restoration and bells, the Rector promises a new set of ropes in the near future.

DEATH OF A GLOSSOP RINGER.

MR. HENRY COOPER.

The death occurred on September 21st of Mr. Henry Cooper, of Glossop, after a brief illness. He was 75 years of age and was the oldest active ringer in the district, having been attached to Glossop belfry for 60 years. He was fulfilling his duties at the Parish Church only a few weeks before his death.

He took part in many peals under the old Northern Counties Association, his proudest achievement being a 10,000 of Kent Treble Bob; and, under the Glossop Association, of which he was president, was one to take part in a peal of Stedman at St. James', Whitfield, Glossop, the first in the district.

In his younger days Mr. Cooper was a member of the old Glossop junior handbell ringers, and was one of the band to take first prize at Belle Vue, Manchester, two years in succession about the late '70's.

Many of his friends in the Manchester area will be sorry to hear of his death, and the members of the Glossop Association feel they have lost a good leader.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

HELP FOR ARUNDEL BELL FUND.

A meeting of the Western Division of the Sussex County Association was held at Shipley on Saturday, when 30 members attended from eleven towers. Touches in several methods were rung during the afternoon and evening. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. A. Sumner), who gave the ringers a cordial welcome.

The tea and business meeting was presided over by the Vicar. Eleven members were elected from Goring and one from Chichester.

On the proposition of Mr. H. J. Tucker, a collection was made towards the restoration of Arundel bells, and this amounted to 30s.

A vote of thanks was proposed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to Mr. Walter Charman for playing the organ at the service, and to Mr. R. Stredwick for the arrangements made for the meeting.

PRESENTATION TO MRS. RICHARDSON.

When such hot and bitter folks

Pay me for my deals and oaks

I know no more than Joney Noakes.

THOMAS STILES.

There had apparently been objections to the payment of the account, but the village carpenter ultimately obtained his money.

It was a perfectly satisfied party that once more gathered round the festive board on Saturday evening, and Mrs. Richardson, who had given up her opportunity for the peal to prepare the creature comforts for her guests, was made the recipient of a fitting memento, in the shape of a bell fruit dish, one of those charming and well-modelled articles manufactured by the Compton Potters' Guild. Mrs. Richardson was thanked for her many kindnesses to the Australian party, to whom it was said she had often acted as both sister and mother.

After dinner no one was prepared to accept Rupert's invitation to start another handbell peal, and Bill got well away into the land of nod in the depths of a comfortable armchair before other sleepy heads went to their beds.

On Sunday morning there was service ringing to be done at Surfleet, a helping hand being given to some of Rupert's pupils, while Enid rang a touch of Stedman Triples under the conductorship of the Deputy Father whom she acquired during the Australian tour. It is notable that everything attempted, both in touches and peals on handbells and church bells, was brought round.

The party began to break up on Sunday afternoon, when the Southerners left on their car run to Berks, Bucks and Surrey. They regretted leaving such congenial company, but duty called and had to be obeyed. Before separating, however, the invitation was gratefully accepted to meet again, if all's well, next year at Surfleet.

THE YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

'BEST' AND 'WORST' BELLS IN THE COUNTRY.

Mr. Sidney Palmer submitted the toast of 'Kindred Societies and Visitors,' and announced apologies from, among others, the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress of Sheffield, the Provost of Sheffield, Mr. G. W. Fletcher (hon. secretary, Central Council), Mrs. Fletcher (hon. secretary, Ladies' Guild), Mr. T. Maude (Pudsey), etc. It was the first time the last-named had missed the Yorkshire dinner, but he was suffering from a 'Pudsey cowl.' Mr. Palmer extended a hearty welcome to the representatives of kindred societies, and said they were highly honoured by having so many present. There would have been more but for the uncertainty which was created by the recent crisis. It was, said Mr. Palmer, such gatherings as that which upheld the standard of good fellowship among the great associations. There were members who went in for peal ringing, and yet more peal ringing, and whose only interest was on the peal ringing side—he was as bad himself once; but some of them as they grew older found their interest increasing on the social side, and it was the social side, such as they saw that night, that helped the traditions of the art throughout the country. In referring to the visitors, Mr. Palmer expressed great pleasure at the presence of the Bishop of Sheffield, who was attending their dinner that night for the first time, and he welcomed the Archdeacon of Sheffield, who, he said, was held in high esteem by the ringers. Mr. Palmer spoke of the excellent feeling that existed between the clergy and ringers at the Sheffield churches, a relationship which he hoped would long continue (applause).

A PROBLEM SOLVED.

The Archdeacon, in a humorous reply, said he had been delighted to hear Mr. Lewis say that, at one time, ringers had nothing to do with the Church. It had solved a problem that had been a bit of a worry to him. What Mr. Lewis had said accounted for the fact that in the past some church towers had been full of beer bottles (laughter). That must have been a relic of the times when ringers had nothing to do with the Church. They did not find beer bottles in the tower today; that was because the ringers were closely connected with the workers for the Church. The Archdeacon concluded by saying that at Handsworth he had a fine Guild as ringers, which was due to the labours of Mr. Watkinson (applause), who had so ably trained them and had produced such excellent ringers as John Gilbert (applause).

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith acknowledged the toast on behalf of kindred societies, thanking the Yorkshire Association for their hospitality and all that had been done for the visitors' enjoyment. He said the modern territorial ringing associations and guilds owed a great deal to Yorkshire. Jasper Snowdon and those associated with him built so well when they founded the association that many others were modelled upon the Yorkshire basis and it had successfully stood the test of time.

Mr. A. Paddon Smith proposed 'Continued Prosperity to the Yorkshire Association.' As a Birmingham man, he said, he liked to think, and he was sure they would all agree with him, that it was due to one Birmingham man almost entirely that they were sitting there that night enjoying themselves (applause). They did indeed feel proud of Neville Chamberlain (applause). Mr. Smith, proceeding, recalled that he rang a peal of Stedman Cinques in Sheffield 31 years ago, and the next peal he rang in Yorkshire was Stedman Cinques at Leeds twelve months ago. There had in the past been many interchanges of visits between Birmingham and Sheffield ringers, and he recalled that Mr. Harry Hattersley had said that at St. Marie's, Sheffield, they had the finest peal of eight bells in the world. He was not going to dispute that, but he could tell them where there was the rottenest peal of bells in the world, and they came from St. Marie's. The Roman Catholics did not like them very much, but they did not like to give them away, so they advertised them for sale. At that time a church in Mosley, Birmingham, was thinking of filling its tower with a peal of bells. The churchwardens happened to notice the advertisement, and came, with others, to hear the bells at St. Marie's. It was long before his day, but he understood the churchwardens and clergyman were taken round, about a mile and a half from the church, while the bells were rung, and they were treated to liberal quantities of what was known as 'Tenants' (laughter), with the result that they struck a bargain and these absolutely putrid bells, cast from steel, were bought by one of the wealthiest churches in Birmingham, where they hung at this moment. Peals had been rung on them, but they were now hung dead. As a business man he wondered if he could do a deal and send the old bells back in exchange for the ones St. Marie's now had (laughter).

OLD RINGERS AS GOOD AS THEIR CONTEMPORARIES.

Commenting on the Archdeacon's references to beer bottles in the belfry, Mr. Smith said he would remind the Archdeacon that ringers in those days were just as good as their contemporaries. While it was true that in the past the bellringers had beer in the belfry—he had seen leathern beer jacks that had been presented by a rector and churchwardens for the very purpose—let it not be forgotten that the parsons drank gin in the vestry (laughter). They were all the same sort, parsons and ringers, 'so,' added Mr. Smith, 'don't blame the bellringers if they did have a spot of beer in the belfry' (laughter and applause).

In wishing continued prosperity to the Yorkshire Association, Mr. Smith said it was the largest ringing association in the country and covered the largest area, and many famous ringers had been born and bred in Yorkshire. He recalled some of the interesting old peal records to be found in Yorkshire belfries, and said he hoped these old boards would be preserved. They were of far more value than present tablets. Mr. Smith concluded by referring to the lavish hospitality extended by the Yorkshire Association on the occasion of the visit of the Central Council to Leeds, which made it the finest Council gathering ever held. After that it was not fair to Yorkshire to say in the words of the old Yorkshire toast, 'If ye do owt for nowt do it for this'en.'

Mr. R. Harrison, sen., in giving the toast of 'The Chairman,' said if the peaceful solution of the recent crisis had been brought about by the efforts of one Birmingham man, it was because he was supported by battleships of Sheffield steel (applause). The combination of Birmingham and Sheffield had been very well worked up and brought them to a solution which had enabled them to enjoy that evening (applause). In the past, too, there had been a happy combination between Birmingham and Sheffield ringers, who used to ring 'inter-company' peals. On one occasion John Carter presented a gold scarf pin to Harry Hattersley, and that pin was now in possession of a gentleman who was present that evening. Mr. Harrison added that Yorkshire had always been able to tell a good president when they had got one. Canon Marshall had been a worthy successor to Jasper Snowdon, a founder of the society and its first president, and of William Snowdon, who followed him. Canon Marshall took the greatest interest in the progress and stability of their society, and he would like to thank the committee and Canon Marshall for all they did to promote its interests (applause).

The toast was drunk with musical honours.

In replying, Canon Marshall said he confessed that when he was asked to undertake the office of president in succession to the first two presidents, who had done such yeoman work for the association and for ringing in general, he was filled with a great fear, but one thing he had learned was that he never could have done this work unless he had had all along the extraordinarily good and loyal support of the various officers who had served under him and of the general rank and file of the members of the association. His connection with the ringers of Yorkshire, as he had said often before, had brought him some of the best friends of his life (applause), and he would always look back to the extraordinary pleasure which holding that office had brought him in various ways. It was not easy to be president of an association of that size, which, he had been told that night, covered an area almost as large as the Kingdom of Denmark, but those who did try to cover it found it was extraordinarily difficult. Those who really knew the size of Yorkshire would sympathise with the officers in their efforts. It was very difficult indeed, and he said that particularly to those in the north, whom they were so seldom able to go to see. The size of the association made one of its greatest difficulties. He especially thanked the officers of the association for their great loyalty and help, and he expressed his grateful thanks to the Bishop and other visitors that night who had stayed with them to the end (applause).

The very enjoyable musical programme was provided by the Hallam Octet, of four ladies and four gentlemen, who rendered a number of glees and part songs. Another interesting feature was the tune ringing of the St. Marie's handbell party, consisting of Messrs. Holmes, Burgar and Dixon, whose average age is 75 years. Their performances won loud applause. Five officers of the association rang a fine course of Grandsire Caters on handbells, Messrs. S. F. Palmer, G. Lewis, P. J. Johnson, W. Barton and W. Ambler.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

PRESENTATION TO RETIRING BRANCH CHAIRMAN.

A meeting of the North Norfolk Branch was held at Buxton on October 8th for the purpose of presenting the branch chairman (the Rev. H. W. Benson) with a silver bell inkstand, subscribed by the members of the branch.

There was a good attendance, and supporting the president (the Rev. H. McMullan) were the Rev. H. W. Benson (chairman), Mr. F. Nolan Golden (general secretary and treasurer), Mr. H. Tooke (branch secretary), and members from Aylsham, Hevingham, Norwich, Scottow, Wiveton, Wroxham, Wymondham and the local company. Other branches were represented by Mr. W. J. Lee and Mr. J. G. W. Harwood (chairman and secretary, East Norfolk Branch), Mr. W. L. Duffield (chairman, South Norfolk Branch), and members from Acle, Gressenhall, Halvergate, Happisburgh, Mulbarton, North Elmham, Reedham and Great Yarmouth.

Tea was held in the Village Hall, where about 40 members were the guests of Mr. W. C. Duffield and Mr. F. A. Bainbridge (churchwardens of St. Andrew's, Buxton).

Afterwards the President reminded the members of the business of the meeting and said it was with regret he had learned that the North Norfolk Branch was losing its chairman.

Mr. W. C. Duffield, Mr. H. Tooke and Mr. Nolan Golden also spoke of the regret felt at the resignation of Mr. Benson.

The president then presented him with a silver bell inkstand, which was inscribed: 'Presented by the members of the North Norfolk Branch to the Rev. H. W. Benson, chairman 1935-1938.'

The Rev. H. W. Benson suitably acknowledged the gift and said it had always been a pleasure to do what he could for the branch. He hoped he would be able to come along to their annual meeting.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the president, to Mr. W. C. Duffield and Mr. Bainbridge for entertaining the ringers to tea, and to the Rev. H. W. Benson for the use of the bells.

DEVIZES BRANCH DISCUSS ANNUAL MEETING VENUE.

The quarterly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Melksham on Saturday, October 1st, when ringers to the number of 44 attended, including visitors from Milverton (Mr. A. Tout) and Cirencester (Mr. H. C. Bond). The Vicar (the Rev. Canon F. H. Sangster), who is an honorary member of the Guild, conducted the service and Miss E. M. Wright officiated at the organ. Tea, served in the Parish Hall, had been arranged by Mrs. West, with the help of other lady ringers and friends.

Mr. E. F. White presided at the business meeting, at which one new member from Market Lavington was elected.

A discussion took place regarding the fixing of the branch annual meeting, and, after a vote had been taken, Devizes was decided upon.

A number of prominent members spoke on this matter, suggesting that other parts of the branch should be allowed to receive the branch on the occasion of its annual meeting and that Devizes should be visited every third year. If favourably received, a rule will be made to this effect in January.

Bradford was decided upon for the November meeting and Market Lavington for December.

Votes of thanks were passed to those concerned in the arrangements and the members then returned to the tower. Good practice was put in, in methods up to Double Norwich. Representatives from 16 branch towers attended the tea and meeting.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

BROADCASTS.

The position with regard to the broadcasting of bells prior to services relayed from churches on Sundays is still unsatisfactory, mainly from two points of view. In some cases the ringing itself is not good enough; in others, the programme arrangements treat the ringers badly. There was another instance of this latter on Sunday evening, when the bells of St. Olave's, Hart Street, London, were heard, prior to the customary service at eight o'clock. They should have been on the air for five minutes, but most of this time was taken up with a description of the church itself, and the bells came in at the close for about one minute and a half. No one complains when the story of an interesting church and its associations is briefly told, but it ought not to break into the time allotted to the bells. It has happened before, but it is a poor acknowledgment, to say the least, of the services of the ringers, which in most cases are given voluntarily and often at great inconvenience. Broadcast ringing, when done properly, requires organisation and preparation; in the case of Hart Street it must have meant bringing eight men from considerable distances, and the giving up of their Sunday evening to the work. The ringing that was heard made it obvious that it was in the hands of a competent band. It is a matter worthy of protest that they should receive such scant treatment. To cut the time for the bells down to five minutes may be reasonable, and it is long enough if the ringing is not of the best, but to tune the bells in for a bare minute and a half, makes the effort involved not worth while, for, in addition to the actual broadcast, it often means also that the band has to be in attendance much earlier in order that the positions of the microphones and other mechanical details may be tried out.

On the other hand it is equally unsatisfactory when the ringing itself is bad—and it is the irony of coincidence that generally, when this is the case, the bells are on the air for the full allotted period. Comments upon the poor displays that are often put up have frequently been made, but it cannot be too constantly repeated that only the very best ringing should be broadcast. We are aware there is a certain amount of pride among a company of ringers when they know that their bells are to be included as a preliminary to a service broadcast from their own church, and we are quite sure that they determine to give of their best. Unfortunately, however, their best may not be of a standard that should be sent out to, perhaps, millions of listeners, and unfortunately, also, they may not be capable of judging their own standard. The inclusion of the bells seems to be decided in a very haphazard way, and in view of the vast sums that are now spent in the organising of broadcasts, the B.B.C. ought to go a step further and appoint some competent 'observer' to attend a preliminary audition. It seems to us that only in this way can a good standard of broadcast ringing be ensured. It might mean the elimination of the bells before some of the services, but that which would be heard would be worthy of the occasion and the audience. Then, having ensured this, the ringing should be put on for the full advertised time and not cut to the few final changes and some rounds at the end. It is only ringers' enthusiasm for their art and their desire to help which makes them silent under what is really a slight.

ANOTHER REAL DOUBLE.

A peal of 'Real Double' Superlative was rung at Pulham, Norfolk, on October 19th. The method, of course, is our old friend; the doubling is in the bobs, which are called when the treble is both in front and behind.

Why the two words 'Real Double' are applied to a peal of this kind we don't know, except that it is to distinguish it from the common or garden peal. But Superlative is already double and nothing more can be done about that. It is the bobs that are doubled, not the method. But there it is; or, should we say, here it is, for below is given Mr. Nolan Golden's composition, which runs to 5,280 changes:—

34256		x	x
23564		x	x	x

Twice repeated.

A=Tenor Wrong from behind, followed by three consecutive bobs at the half-leads.

B=Tenor 5th's from before, 4th's from behind.

C=Tenor 5th's from behind, 4th's from before.

D=Tenor Middle from behind, Home from before.

Seven of the band rang their first peal of Bob Major and the other his first peal as conductor when Annable's composition was rung at St. Lawrence, Thanet, Kent, on October 20th. This old composition, which is the foundation of many modern ones, is in nine blocks of five courses each. The courses are all called Wrong and Middle, except that the Wrong is omitted from the first course of each block and a Home is added at the end of the third, sixth and ninth blocks.

The Bishop of Chichester (Dr. Bell) visited Rotherfield to preach on Sunday. In honour of his coming to this Sussex village a peal of Double Norwich Major was rung on the fine ring of bells at the Parish Church on the previous day. It was the 25th peal rung together by Messrs. Albert Relfe and William A. Kitchenside, and enabled the latter to complete the circle of the tower.

The wedding of Mr. Leslie Davies, of Cardiff, and Miss Dorothy May Orchard, of Marshfield, on Saturday, was celebrated by a peal of Grandsire Triples at Marshfield Church the same day.

It is no mean performance to ring a hundred peals in one tower, but Mr. Herbert E. Audsley, of Crayford, has done more than that. On Friday he rang his one hundredth peal on the fifth bell in Crayford tower, when he called a peal of Stedman Triples. Bert must know every little idiosyncrasy of that bell, if it has any, and the bell must know Bert's—if he has any. It was on this bell that he rang his first peal.

The peal last Friday was Derek Sharp's one hundredth for the Kent County Association.

A wedding compliment to a ringer was a peal of Double Norwich at Husbome Crawley, Bedfordshire, on Saturday, when Mr. Albert Fleet, until recently one of the local band, was married at Wargrave, Berks. Coupled with their good wishes for his future happiness, the band regret that he has left the district for Ickleton, Cambs.

The peal of Minor rung at Willesborough, Kent, on Saturday, for the wedding of Mr. P. J. W. Farham, of Ashford, and Miss Gladys Hyland, of Willesborough, was also a birthday compliment to Mr. W. J. Lancefield.

FATHERS' AND SONS' PEAL.

There was an interesting performance at Great Baddow on Saturday, when four fathers with four sons rang a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major. It was called by the Master of the Essex Association, Dr. P. T. Spencer-Phillips, to whom it must have been a great additional pleasure to conduct, under such conditions, his own son's first peal. It was the first peal by four fathers and four sons for the Essex Association and was rung on the 51st anniversary of the day that George Green began ringing at Great Baddow Church.

The first peal on the bells at Monk Sherborne, Hants, was rung on Saturday. They are a ring of five, with tenor of 10 cwt., hung backward. They are rung from the ground floor of the church.

A peal of Stedman Cinques at Walsall, on Saturday, was arranged for Mr. John Worth, of Macclesfield, and to enable Mr. Andrew Thompson, hon. secretary of the North Staffordshire Association, to ring his first peal of Stedman Cinques. It was also a birthday compliment to Mr. Howard Howell.

At Draycott on Saturday, Mr. J. G. Cartlidge rang his 25th peal when he took part in seven 720's in three Minor methods.

The composition of Kent Treble Bob Major by Henry Johnson, which Mr. Kenneth Lewis called at Reddish, Lancashire, on Saturday, has the sixth the extent Wrong at four course ends and the extent right at twelve course ends, hobs being called at every position.

Gippeswyck Surprise Major was rung for the first time at Helmingham, Suffolk, on October 17th. It is a method produced by Mr. C. J. Sedgley, of Ipswich.

Mr. Charles Ollier kindly completed the band at the last minute when the rest had met short. His action was greatly appreciated and he is to be complimented upon his performance, as the peal was rung within a week of his 75th birthday.

Mr. John Goodman, Master of the Dudley tower, has now 'completed the circle' no fewer than nine times in this belfry. On Saturday he rang the treble to a peal of Grandsire Caters.

The peal was arranged as a birthday compliment to Mr. Herbert Sheppard, the hon. secretary of the Dudley and District Guild, and as a congratulatory peal to the conductor, Mr. Norman G. Leech, who was recently married to Miss Hilda Jeavons, a member of St. Thomas' Junior Church.

The composition was one by the late Mr. William Micklewright, who was for so long connected with ringing in and around Dudley. We wonder how many times Dudley bells have been heard to the music of this composition?

AFTER MANY YEARS.

Seven or eight years ago a peal of Stedman Caters was lost at Beddington, Surrey, in the last course but one. It was then decided that another attempt should be made to ring it.

It was not until last Saturday that the peal was put on again. In the meantime circumstances had changed; removals and other causes prevented half of the band from taking part, but the remaining half, with the five vacant places competently filled, met again, and the peal was rung.

Afterwards they were very kindly entertained to tea by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kippin, and with other ringers who came to swell the party spent a very enjoyable hour under their hospitable roof.

Mr. Ernest Morris, hon. secretary of the Midland Counties Association, rang his 777th peal on October 20th when he called a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Royal at St. Peter's, Nottingham. Except for Mr. R. H. Dove, it was the first peal of Oxford Royal for all the band and the first on the bells. The composition, by Mr. Morris, was rung for the first time.

Bosbury, Herefordshire, is one of those rare places where the tower is detached from the church, and there on October 15th a seven-method peal of Minor was rung in 3 hours and 5 minutes. The bells, of good tone, were rehung and a new frame installed last year by Mears and Stainbank, the weight of the tenor being 18 cwt. 'Bill' Ranford, who lives at Suckley (just over the border in Worcestershire), and 'Geoff' Lewis (a native of the nearby village of Cradley, now residing at Powick, Worcestershire) were thus able once again to visit the 'happy hunting grounds' of years ago. 'Bill' and 'Tom' Lewis (father and son) and 'Large' George, three other Worcestershire ringers, each 'bagged' a fresh tower, while 'Bill' Nutt, a local man, piloted the treble in his usual efficient way. The peal was rung for the Hereford Guild.

A birthday compliment to the hon. secretary of the Yorkshire Association, Mr. Leslie W. G. Morris, was rung at Heptonstall on October 15th, when a peal of Superlative Surprise Major was brought round.

The Ringing Master of the Warwickshire Guild, Mr. Joe White, of Coventry, celebrated his 60th birthday on Saturday with a peal of London Surprise Major at Nuneaton. Leicester and Bath, as well as Coventry and Nuneaton, contributed to the band.

Kenneth J. Jones, who rang the 13 cwt. tenor behind to a peal of Doubles, at Abbots Langley, Herts, on Saturday, is only 14½ years of age. The six ringers came from as many different parishes.

There were some young ringers, also, in the peal of Grandsire Doubles rung on October 8th at Shroton, Dorset. Eric Harvey, who is 15, rang his first peal, as did Reginald Woodland, who is 17. Donald Harvey is also only 17. With W. G. Damen and G. W. Dennis they belong to the local band, and the peal, rung as a farewell to the Rector (the Rev. V. E. B. Norton), who has left Shroton for a village near Marlborough, was conducted by W. C. Shute.

Yet another! The Hertfordshire band, who are now making an almost weekly habit of ringing new Surprise methods, rang a peal of 'Delrow' at Aldenham on Saturday without previous practice. It is a method which enables peals to be obtained with only the 4th, 5th and 6th in sixth's place at course ends.

The peal was rung as a birthday compliment to Mr. Henry Hodgetts and was the one hundredth peal which Messrs. Fred Brinklow and Maurice Hibbert have rung together.

The first peal in four Minor methods by the local band at Deeping St. Nicholas, Lincolnshire, was rung on Saturday as a birthday compliment to the conductor, Mr. Frank Taylor.

A 'silent' peal of Stedman Triples was rung at Erdington on Saturday by members of St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham. The referee, Mr. J. S. Mason, checked the six-ends throughout the peal. Mr. George Fearn rang the tenor and it was his 150th peal.

Silent peals are not very frequently rung. They require a good band and every man has to keep himself keyed up all the time. All the same, we would like to see more such performances.

A peal of Bob Minor was rung at Llanfihangel Rhydieithon, Radnorshire, by special request of the Rector, to celebrate the centenary of the church and bells. The Rector helped to raise and lower the bells in peal by taking the treble, and after the peal kindly provided the ringers with refreshments. He congratulated the band on their ringing.

The first peal on the bells, a ring of five, at Pakefield, Suffolk, was rung on October 20th, when all the band rang their first peal in seven methods and Mr. G. Lee rang his first peal as conductor.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.*EASTERN DISTRICT'S NEW MEMBERS.

The quarterly meeting of the Yorkshire Association (Eastern District) was held on Saturday, October 15th, at Sutton-on-Hull, by invitation of the Vicar (Rev. C. Paley) and the local company. There was an attendance of over 50 ringers, on a fine autumn day, the towers represented being Beverley Minster, Cottingham, Goole, Hemmingbrough, Hessle, Hull, Howden, Kirk Ella, Market Weighton, Nunburnholme, Pontefract, Selby Abbey, Sherburn-in-Elmet, Silsden, Sutton-on-Hull and visitors from Barton-on-Humber and Ulceby, Lincolnshire. At the service Mr. A. B. Cook, a former district secretary, deputised on the organ, the church organist being away, and the Vicar gave an inspiring address. Tea, which was generously provided by the ladies of the parish, was served in the new Church Hall and was followed by the business meeting, over which the Vicar presided.

Six new members were elected, Mr. L. Butler and Mr. and Mrs. W. Kelly, of Goole, and Messrs. J. S. Thompson, B.Sc., and F. R. Pearson and Miss Patricia Henri, of Kirk Ella, making a total of 20 new members elected at Eastern District meetings during the past year.

Selby was chosen as the next place of meeting in December.

Mr. R. B. Smith, of Howden, was elected on the General Committee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. A. E. West, and Messrs. E. Bradley, of Sherburn-in-Elmet, and C. Hill, of Goole, were elected to vacant seats on the District Committee.

The secretary was asked to write to Mr. J. Drake, of Goole, on his resigning his seat on the District Committee on account of advancing years, expressing gratitude to him for all he had done in the cause of ringing.

Votes of thanks to the Vicar and local company and the ladies were passed, and the Vicar, in his reply, warmly welcomed the association to Sutton and said they were not to wait to be asked to come again, but to come again soon.

Further ringing on tower and handbells concluded a very enjoyable meeting, after which some found their way to Hull Fair which was being held.

LINK WITH FORMER LONDON RINGERS.*DEATH OF MR. ALFRED LINSTED.

There recently passed away at the advanced age of 82 years Mr. Alfred Linsted, who was well known and highly respected as the tower-keeper of St. Sepulchre's, Holborn. Although not a great ringer, he was a highly proficient tune player on handbells. In his day he knew most of the old London ringers, such as Cox, Haley, etc., and could tell many stories about them. His death severs another link with the past.

MISS DOROTHY SAYERS A RINGER.*GRANDSIRE DOUBLES AT ISLE OF WIGHT MEETING.

Miss Dorothy Sayers, authoress of 'The Nine Tailors,' attended a meeting of the Isle of Wight District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, held at Brading recently. She was accompanied by another writer, her friend, Mrs. Denis Browne (Miss Helen Simpson, the novelist and historian), who is the prospective Liberal candidate for the Isle of Wight. After tea, at which the members were guests of the Archdeacon, Miss Sayers astonished the meeting by ringing the treble on handbells to a six-score of Grandsire Doubles, which was the more amazing as she declared she had never rung handbells before. But then, Miss Sayers wrote 'The Nine Tailors' without ever having been into a belfry.

At the subsequent business meeting, presided over by Dr. J. Bruce Williamson, Miss Sayers and Mrs. Denis Browne were elected non-resident members of the Guild, and the Vicar of Newport and Mr. W. Rowntree, of Ventnor, were elected hon. members.

The service in the afternoon was conducted by the Archdeacon of the Isle of Wight. Among the hymns sung was 'There is a land of pure delight,' which the Archdeacon announced as 'the Isle of Wight hymn,' saying that it had been written by Dr. Watts whilst seated on the shore of Southampton Water looking towards the Island.

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The October meeting of the Barnsley and District Society was held on Saturday week at the beautiful old-world village of Cawthorne. The weather was ideal and members were present from Earlsheaton, Felkirk, Horbury, Hoylandswaine, Sandal, Wath and Wentworth, with a good muster of the local company. Tea was served at the Spencer's Arms, 16 sitting down. After tea the ringers adjourned to the Old Parish Room to hold the business meeting.

The Vicar (the Rev. F. A. Greenwood) presided and was thanked for the use of the bells and also for acting as chairman.

The Vicar, in reply, said ringers were always welcome at Cawthorne, and he was also pleased to be with the ringers of the district once more.

Crofton was chosen next place of meeting, to be held on November 12th. Ringing took place during the afternoon and evening in a great variety of Minor methods, ranging from Original to London Surprise.

SOUTHAMPTON.—For evensong at St. Michael's Church on October 2nd, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: Mrs. Melville 1, G. Pullinger 2, F. Glasspool 3, W. Andrews 4, G. Noice 5, W. Melville 6, R. Reed (conductor) 7, S. Hector 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We are glad to be able to state that Mr. Walter Judge has not entirely severed his connection with All Saints' tower, Oxford. All he has done is to relinquish the office of captain of the tower, his reason being that he is now unable to give full-time service. He will, however, retain his membership.

The Ladies' Guild will inaugurate the newly-constituted Eastern District, formed as part of the reorganisation scheme, at a meeting at Stowmarket, Suffolk, to be held on November 12th.

Leicester and Hinckley Districts of the Midland Counties Association are to hold a joint meeting with the Warwickshire Guild at Lutterworth on November 5th.

The peal rung at Barton-on-Humber and recorded in our issue of October 14th was claimed to be the first peal of Superlative on the bells. Mr. F. H. Dexter points out that a peal of Superlative was rung there on June 8th, 1924, conducted by J. T. Dyke.

GRANDSIRE TRIPLES IN VANCOUVER.

Visitors from Victoria and Dunstable, Alberta, were present at a ringing practice at the Cathedral of the Holy Rosary, Vancouver, on September 28th. They rang several touches of Grandsire Triples, including 212, 168, another 212 and 336. Those who took part in the last touch were R. H. Tapper 1, A. C. Limpus 2, R. Pitman 3, F. Hird 4, G. Roberts 5, — Guest 6, — Watts 7, T. Silvester 8. Others who took part in the ringing were M. Bennett and W. Bond.

Five of the band between them totalled 366 years. They were Messrs. Guest, aged 72, from Leigh, Lancashire; W. Bond, 76, from Cheltenham, Glos.; T. Silvester, 76, from Sheffield; Watts, 72, from Wigan; and A. C. Limpus, 70, from Windsor. Mr. Silvester is expecting to remain in Vancouver.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS' DINNER.

In order that the seating at the College Youths' dinner may be adequately arranged, all names of those intending to be present should be sent in by Tuesday morning, November 1st.

The preacher at the service at St. Michael's, College Hill, will be Canon C. C. Marshall, president of the Yorkshire Association.

HOLIDAY GUIDES.

A SUGGESTION TO HEAD RINGERS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—When one seeks pastures new for his holidays, he first takes steps to provide himself with an 'Illustrated Guide' to some particular district. Next he turns up the 'Ringers' Directory,' which, unfortunately, does not contain all the names of the towers or particulars needed. If you are fortunate enough to possess an old copy of a report which covers the district, it will help a little, but I would like to suggest that the head ringers of the churches situate at seaside towns and spas get in touch with the authorities concerned with the issue of the local 'guide' (usually the town clerk) and ask them to insert the number of bells with the name of the church. There is usually a section devoted to 'places of worship' in the guide. Perhaps with a little persuasion 'practice night' could be included.

I had it in mind that the Central Council might do something in this line, but the next meeting will be too late for next season, and then again, if the head ringers take it up, none will be overlooked.

P. CROOK.

HERTFORD RINGER'S SUDDEN DEATH.

MR. G. GRAY'S VALUED SERVICES TO RINGING.

It is with deep regret that we have to record the sudden death, from heart failure, of Mr. G. Gray, who passed away on Monday, October 17th, at the age of 54 years. His death came as a great shock to all, as he was ringing at both services on the previous day.

He was a pillar of strength to the Hertford company and a regular attendant at all meetings of the Eastern District of the Hertford County Association. One of his chief delights was the tuition of young ringers and to watch them making progress. He will be greatly missed in the towers of All Saints' and St. Andrew's Churches. The funeral took place on Thursday, October 20th, at St. Andrew's Church, and was attended by a large number of ringing friends and townspeople.

As the cortege left the church the bells were rung half-muffled by his colleagues, and a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells at the graveside, by Mrs. Fletcher and Messrs. G. Radley, Sidney Carter and A. Lawrence. There were many wreaths, including one from the Eastern District of the association, and a beautiful bell with the words, 'That's all,' from his colleagues.

Mr. Gray rang his first peal at Hertford in 1909, and his total was 69. Among them were a colour peal, in which the names of all the band were colours, a Royal Jubilee and two Coronation peals. Mr. Gray leaves a widow, to whom the sympathy of all goes out to her in her sad bereavement.

On Sunday for morning service, 700 Grandsire Caters was rung at All Saints' Church with the bells half-muffled by the following members of the Herts County Association: Miss C. Ditton 1, A. J. House 2, G. E. Debenham 3, A. Lawrence 4, R. Dore 5, G. Freestone 6, S. Carter. (conductor) 7, A. Wright 8, J. Ladley 9, P. Saunders 10.

PERCY J. JOHNSON.

One of the modern 'pillars of the Exercise' in Yorkshire is Mr. Percy J. Johnson, who has served his association in many capacities, including 15 years as its honorary secretary, an exacting position in a county of such a size. Mr. Johnson is often mistaken for a Yorkshireman born and bred, but while it is true he has lived most of his life in the county of broad acres, he is proud of the fact that he is a Londoner by birth, having been born at Bethnal Green in 1882. He began his ringing as a youth in 1898 at Holbeck, and between that tower and St. Michael's, Headingley, he has shared his ringing career. He first joined St. Michael's band in 1903, and after three years went back to Holbeck, where he remained a member until 1914. In that year he returned to the Headingley band, to which he has been attached ever since.

It was in 1914 that he also first took office in the association, becoming in that year Ringing Master of the Western Division and continuing until 1917, when he became hon. secretary of the association and served it in that capacity with efficiency until 1932. On his relinquishing this post he was elected vice-president of the Western Division and still fills that office.

Mr. Johnson rang his first peal in 1903 and since then has rung 260 peals, of which he has conducted 114, about 240 having been rung and over a hundred called for the Yorkshire Association. He took part in the first peal of London Surprise in Yorkshire, rung in March, 1904, and was one of the band that rang the only peal of Double Norwich Major 'silent' on handbells. This was in October, 1932. Mr. Johnson has taken part in many interesting handbell performances and has helped to raise handbell ringing in Yorkshire to a high level. In addition to his interest in the Yorkshire Association, which he has served for so long, Mr. Johnson has taken an active part in the affairs of the Leeds and District Society, and it was as the representative of this organisation that he was first elected to the Central Council in 1912, and served until 1920. In 1921 he was elected one of the representatives of the Yorkshire Association and he has continued a member up to the present time.

MR. PERCY J. JOHNSON.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.
THE RESTORED BATTERSEA BELLS.

A very successful meeting of the Southern District of the London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild was held at Battersea on Saturday week, when some 60 members and friends attended to try the bells of St. Mary's Church, which have been recently retuned and rehung by Messrs. Taylor and Co. The general opinion was that the 'go' and the tone of the peal left nothing to be desired.

Ringing commenced promptly at 3 p.m. with a touch of Grandsire Triples, and, with a short break for tea and business meeting, continued till just before 8 o'clock, when, owing to illness in the neighbourhood, proceedings were brought to a premature conclusion. The methods rung ranged from Grandsire Triples to Cambridge, London, Bristol, Yorkshire and Spliced Surprise Major.

A company of 42 sat down to tea, and the business meeting followed with the District Master (Mr. P. A. Corby) in the chair. Two new members were elected—Mr. Frederick C. Pearmain, of Wimbledon, and Mr. Dennis G. Brown, of Penge.

The Master stated that arrangements were being made to hold the next district meeting on December 17th at St. George's, Camberwell, and St. John's, Vassall Road, Brixton.

The meeting terminated with votes of thanks to the Vicar for permission to hold the meeting, and to Messrs. G. Barber and W. Essery for their help in making the arrangements.

THE NORTH STAFFS INCIDENT.

RINGERS' MEETINGS ON LICENSED PREMISES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I am partially in agreement with your article of last week's issue, but the last paragraph is most distressing. Having read your report of the meeting on page 685, I fail to see 'the implied stigma cast upon ringers that they cannot be trusted to regale themselves on licensed premises without risk to their reputations.' I feel somewhat confident, sir, that you have never met the gentlemen you condemn, or you would never have applied such uncharitable words in your article, words capable of being construed harmfully. I have met and known something of the spiritual work of Mr. Gardner, and the stigma you suggest that was contained in his protest is unworthy of your Christian reputation. Mr. Gardner is a man of high Christian principles, with a character based upon discipleship of Jesus Christ. His bone of contention was a principle, which I suggest could have been better and more successfully considered at the annual meeting of the association, when an opportunity could have been given for both sides to express their views in a Christian spirit of brotherhood.

In days long ago the only place for meetings was chiefly upon licensed premises, and thither our great friendly societies met, and probably many do so now. But with many it has been found advantageous to move into unlicensed premises, because it was found with changing times that, if the membership and success of these societies was to continue, unlicensed premises must be secured. This has been done without inflicting any hardship upon the member who wanted his beverage of ale. There is no reason to draw comparisons between the ringer who drank in the belfry and the parson in the vestry; these things have passed away, never to return. The past history of ringers is still recorded upon public-house signboards, and that is enough.

But the North Staffs incident leads me to express views which I have held for many a day, and that is, could not the College Youths find an unlicensed meeting place? I shall never forget my first introduction to the Coffee Pot, with its grand array of churchwarden pipes, etc. It is certainly reminiscent of the past and that is all; but it was no encouragement for me to attend future meetings. We are recognised now as churchworkers, chiefly owing to the ringers themselves, through the medium and pertinacity of the ringing associations, not forgetting 'The Ringing World.' If we are churchworkers we should be invited to meet upon church premises the same as other church organisations.

It would add greatly to the prestige of the College Youths if they could hold their business meetings at the Church House, when rebuilt, or some such similar institution.

Don't misunderstand me, sir, for I think the licensed house at the moment is a necessity, and always will be. As a College Youth for many years I should like my vision of this great ringing society an actual fact. But when all is said about being churchworkers, let us remember that we don't gain entrance into the heavenly mansions by merit. We must be workers together with Jesus Christ in a spiritual sense, which will place a new complexion upon all our ringing. When this is done (and why not?) we shall better understand the principles set forth by the Rector of Bucknall and the Vicar of Biddulph in the fullest Christian spirit.

Duffield, St. Albans.

G. W. CARTMEL.

A FIRST—AND LAST—QUARTER PEAL.

BERKSHIRE RINGER'S SUDDEN DEATH.

There is a pathetic interest in the following record of a quarter-peal of Bob Doubles rung at Brightwell, Berks, on Sunday, October 2nd, for the harvest festival. The ringers were F. Brooker 1, J. R. Pease 2, O. G. Barnard (conductor) 3, F. Castell 4, J. Castell 5, G. Burnham 6, and it was the first quarter by ringers of 2nd and tenor.

Mr. G. Burnham, the ringer of the tenor in this quarter-peal, was also a highly esteemed member of the choir, a parochial church councillor and associated in many ways with the social life of the village. We much regret to record that he died suddenly on October 13th at the early age of 25. He will be greatly missed.

He was laid to rest on Saturday, October 15th, and as a tribute to his memory a quarter-peal was rung in the evening, with the bells half-muffled, in four methods, viz., Grandsire, St. Simon's, Canterbury Pleasure and Plain Bob Doubles, by J. R. Pease 1, J. Castell 2, E. V. Naish 3, F. Castell 4, O. G. Barnard (conductor) 5, F. Brooker 6.

SHEPshed RINGER'S DEATH.

On Wednesday, October 19th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung with bells half-muffled at Shepshed Parish Church as a last token of respect to Mr. Thomas Hill, one of the local ringers. His services as well as his cheery personality will be missed in the tower he loved so well. The quarter-peal was rung by H. Lacey (Shepshed) 1, J. Saddington (Loughborough) 2, G. Butler (Shepshed) 3, G. H. Grundy (Loughborough) 4, R. Edwards (Loughborough) 5, H. Kirby (Shepshed) 6, L. Stevens (Loughborough) (conductor) 7, B. Quemby (Shepshed) 8.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD. SUCCESS OF FIRST ANNUAL DINNER.

Ringers and Churchgoing.

The first venture of the Chester Diocesan Guild to hold an annual dinner met with marked success, when at Kettell's Restaurant, Crewe, on Saturday, October 15th, some 100 ringers and friends thoroughly enjoyed the event. Among those present were Mr. J. W. Milner (Master of the Guild), the Rev. M. H. Ridgway (hon. secretary), the Archdeacon of Chester, the Rev. S. T. Stevens, the Rev. C. G. Dickson, the Rev. Parry Williams and Alderman T. H. Kelsall and Mrs. Kelsall, the Mayor and Mayoress of Crewe.

Among those who sent apologies were the Bishop of Chester, the Dean of Chester, the Archdeacon of Macclesfield, the Rev. W. R. Ingham, Mr. E. H. Lewis, Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, Mr. G. R. Newton, Mr. Evetts and Mr. A. Thompson.

The proceedings were opened by the chairman, who addressed a few words of welcome to the guests and said how pleased he was with the decision of the Guild to hold an annual dinner.

After an excellent repast, the Chairman proposed the toast of His Majesty the King. The company was then immediately put into the right 'atmosphere' with a course of Grandsire Caters on handbells by the talented Frodsham ringers, augmented by Mr. A. Barnes, of Stockport, and a humorous sketch, by a member of the concert party, entitled 'The Cautious Curate.'

The toast of 'The Chester Diocesan Guild' was proposed by the Archdeacon of Chester, who first thanked the Guild. He went on to say that he was present last year at the jubilee dinner at Chester, which was his first public function after having been appointed Archdeacon, and he carried from that dinner very pleasant memories of the happy evening. He, too, was very glad that it was decided that the dinner should be an annual one. He was sorry he came alone from his parish that night, but he expressed the hope that by next year Tattenhall ringers would be members of the Guild.

Continuing, the Archdeacon spoke of the recruiting of ringers and said how glad he was to see so many young ringers present. He himself had learned to ring when an undergraduate, but regretted he had never really mastered the art, but he had not given up hope that some day he would have time to go on with the study. The Archdeacon said that since the jubilee dinner he had taken unto himself a wife, and caused much laughter by adding that a certain person, on hearing of the engagement, told his future wife that the first seven years were the worst and after that it brightened up a bit. He concluded by saying that they were deeply indebted to all who rang the bells because he did not know what would happen to the congregations if there were no bellringers.

DECLINE IN HONORARY MEMBERS.

The hon. secretary of the Guild (the Rev. M. H. Ridgway) responded. He said he was very glad that the effort to establish an annual dinner had met with such success. Their Guild was one of the foremost in the country and held the record performance of a peal in 84 methods. One thing he did regret, and that was the gradual decline in honorary members, and he took the opportunity of hinting to clergy and churchwardens that they should become honorary members. He knew the Archdeacon would make a mental note of his suggestion so that he could supplement it when on his annual trot round the diocese at Easter time. The speaker caused amusement by his reference to the habits of ringers with regard to attending service after ringing. He knew ringers who were past masters in the art of slipping through a door only 3in. open and he did not know how on earth they did it (laughter). He personally did not expect them to attend every service, but it would be nice if sometimes the ringers would send a representative, if only to be able to tell the others what the Vicar had said.

The Mayor of Crewe, who was the next speaker, said he was sorry he had not been able to get to the dinner owing to having been to another one immediately previous, and he had no room for two (laughter). Even a Mayor's capacity was limited. However, he could assure them that he was delighted to be present. He had attended all sorts of dinners and social functions, but it was the first time he had had the pleasure of attending a bellringers' dinner. The Mayor pictured a snow scene, with the bells pealing out from the tower, and there came to his mind that delightful poem, 'Ring out the old, Ring in the new.' Although ringers were isolated in the belfry, they were performing a very essential public service in the life of the community in calling people to church. He thought it very nice to have such a thing as a Guild whereby they could all join together. Continuing, he said that as the civic representative he was very glad to welcome them to Crewe. H. G. Wells, that great imaginative writer, in one of his books had visualised the time when the material side would outdistance the moral and spiritual side of life, but it was such organisations as their Guild that had a steady influence.

The Rev. S. T. Stevens, of Crewe, thanked the Mayor and Mayoress for honouring them with their presence. Incidentally he quickly had his hearers roaring with laughter with several good stories, and he reminded the company that he and the Rev. C. G. Dickson, Vicar of the neighbouring parish of Marbury, were both bachelors. He, however, assured those present that it was not their fault. They had on several occasions been taken down from the shelf and dusted, only to be put back again (laughter).

A most enjoyable entertainment was provided by the concert party and there were splendid exhibitions from the Lawton and Frodsham handbell ringers.

This report would be incomplete without paying tribute to the splendid work of the local committee who were responsible for the arrangements, and the writer feels that special mention ought to be made of Mr. R. D. Langford, the indefatigable hon. secretary of the Crewe Branch, and Mr. H. Parker, who holds a similar position with the Northwich Branch. As one speaker so aptly put it, the annual dinner has been well and truly launched, and the Crewe Branch has set the other branches a very high standard to emulate.

NEW BELLS AT SHOTWICK, CHESHIRE. AN INTERESTING HISTORY.

Seventeenth Century Churchwarden's Lapse.

Standing on the edge of the Dee marshes is the ancient Cheshire village of Shotwick. Even in these days it has managed to remain in its peaceful backwater without apparent disturbance, and the sturdy tower of its picturesque church looks out, as it has done for many centuries, across the wide estuary to the Welsh mountains beyond.

Three bells must have hung in the tower as far back as the 16th century, and an interesting light is thrown on the affairs of the time by a record of the proceedings of the Consistory Court in 1629, when Richard Chamberlain, churchwarden, appeared at the Court 'for taking and not accepting to the parish in his time for 32 lbs. Bell-metal worth xxiijs.' The theft was made in 1610, nineteen years previously, when 'the middle bell' was recast and arrived at the church 'not tunable.' The founder, in an effort to put matters right,

SHOTWICK CHURCH, CHESHIRE.

'did hewe the same thinner and did take out metal which he caused to be weighed by one John Caldey, who said it was 30 lbs. or thereabouts.' As the bell was doubtless not very large, its condition after this treatment can easily be imagined, and evidently gave the church cause to be dissatisfied with its bells generally, for four years later they were disposed of.

William Clibury, who owned a foundry of considerable importance at Wellington, in the neighbouring county of Shropshire, supplied Shotwick with a new bell in 1616. The bell weighed about 9 cwt. and was inscribed in good Roman letters, 'Iesvs be ovr speed,' an inscription which the founder frequently made use of. His initials, neatly arranged in a plain shield, also appeared on the waist. The bell evidently gave considerable satisfaction, for a second was ordered in 1621 and was duly delivered and hung. Its inscription, 'Gloria in Excelsis Deo,' had an elaborate ornamental border in the spaces between the words—a special feature of many of Clibury's bells—and was no doubt gazed on with some feeling of pride when the wagon bearing it lumbered to the church gates. At any rate, these two bells seem to have been deemed sufficient for nearly half a century.

In 1664 it was decided to add a third bell. The Clibury foundry had by this time lost much of its original fame, and several bells in the neighbourhood had lately been supplied by John Scott, of Wigan, Lancs. Scott started his foundry in 1656, and it is of perhaps more than passing interest to note that his foundry is the only one that has ever existed in this industrial county. Bells were cast there until 1750, but not many of them now remain.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

CANTERBURY DISTRICT'S SUBSTANTIAL BALANCE.

The annual meeting of the Canterbury District of the Kent County Association was held at Canterbury on Saturday, October 15th. An attendance of 91 was recorded, representing 25 towers and four districts of the association. The bells of St. Stephen's, St. Dunstan's and St. Alphege's were available to members during the afternoon and good use was made of the bells in various methods. Service was held at St. Alphege's Church, conducted by the Rector (Rev. W. H. Hodges), and an interesting and helpful address was given by the Archdeacon of Maidstone (the Rev. T. K. Sopwith). At the organ was Mr. W. E. Pitman, Mus.Bac.

Tea, provided by the association, was served in Gaywood's Rooms, amongst those present being the Archdeacon of Maidstone, the Revs. A. R. Barnes, E. A. Miller, C. A. Manley and J. W. Horsley (all honorary members) and the Rev. W. H. Hodges.

At the business meeting which followed, the chair was occupied by the Rev. A. R. Barnes. The hon. secretary's annual report and balance sheet were adopted, the latter showing a balance on the year's working of £27 (less the cost of the day's tea).

For meetings during the coming year, Walmer was selected, after a vote against Selling, as the venue of the spring meeting, but the proposer of Selling had his own way later when that tower was chosen for the summer meeting. St. Lawrence (Thanet) was selected for the next meeting of the district.

For the first time the district decided the election of its officers by nomination and ballot. Mr. B. J. Luck was re-elected as district secretary, his being the only nomination received. Mr. E. Trendell was elected as Ringing Master, also unopposed. For the two committee representatives three members stood for election, Messrs. F. G. Brett, H. R. French and H. Whitehead, the resulting ballot deciding that Messrs. Brett and Whitehead 'carry on.'

Mr. Brett was cordially thanked for his services as Ringing Master over a number of years.

It was unanimously decided that a message of congratulation be sent to the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore on his recovery from a serious illness, together with the meeting's greetings and best wishes.

Votes of thanks were passed to all who had helped in making the meeting a success, and the members then returned to the towers for further ringing, the bells of the Cathedral being also available.

SHERWOOD YOUTHS.

CROFTS MEMORIAL DINNER TO BE REVIVED.

By kind permission of the Vicar, a meeting of the Society of Sherwood Youths (Nottingham) was held on Saturday last at the Church of St. John the Baptist, Beeston.

During the afternoon some good practice was obtained in many methods from Grandsire to Cambridge, including some spliced ringing; the handbells were also brought into action.

After tea a meeting was held, at which a committee was formed to carry out the arrangements for reviving the Crofts Memorial Dinner, to be held in February next.

A suggestion that a mid-week meeting be held met with general approval, and the first of these will take place at St. Peter's, Nottingham, on Thursday, November 24th.

Returning to the tower, further ringing was enjoyed until 8 p.m.

The society desires to record appreciation of the visit of the churchwarden to the tower during the ringing and his manifest interest in the work; also thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and to the local ringers for their kindly welcome.

The Shotwick bell cannot have done the foundry much credit, for it was very much out of tune and of inferior quality. However, together with the two Clibury bells, it did duty—with doubtless one or two rehauings—until a few months ago. It then became possible, through the generosity of the late Vicar, the Rev. F. R. Wansbrough, who left a sum of money for the purpose to provide, among other things, a ring of six bells and execute considerable repairs to the ancient tower.

The two Clibury bells have been retained and form the fifth and tenor of the ring, four new trebles being added. The Scott bell now stands in the church, where it remains as an example—although perhaps not a very good one—of a founder whose work has almost disappeared. The restoration has been carried out by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, who are deserving of congratulation on the excellence of the job. Shotwick now possesses a delightful ring of six with a tenor of 8½ cwt. in F sharp, hung in an iron frame on steel girders.

The little church, with its quaint box pews and 'three-decker' pulpit, was filled to overflowing on Sunday afternoon, October 2nd, when the bells were dedicated by the Rural Dean of South Wirral, the Rev. E. G. Auden. The customary rounds were rung as the clergy walked back from the belfry to the chancel, and at the conclusion of the service 720 of Bob Minor was rung by Messrs. R. Sperring, A. E. Richards, J. Hughes, C. Dryland, J. Morgan and J. W. Clarke. Touches of Cambridge and Kent followed, several members of the Chester Guild taking part.

We are indebted to Mr. J. W. Clarke both for the excellent drawing of the church and this interesting history of Shotwick bells.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.*JOINT MEETINGS DISCUSSED.

The quarterly meeting at Bedworth on Saturday, October 15th, was favoured with beautiful weather and a company of nearly 40 met together. After about an hour's ringing in various methods, a short service was held in the church, conducted by the curate, from the Guild's form of service. Tea in the school followed and the business meeting afterwards took place, Mr. J. H. White, Ringing Master, taking the chair. First he heartily welcomed the Rev. E. S. and Mrs. Powell from Staverton, whose first visit it was to Bedworth.

Apologies for non-attendance were received from the Rev. W. H. Trickett (Rector of Church Lawford), Messrs. D. H. Argyle (Nuneaton) and H. C. Burt (Lillington).

Arising out of the minutes of the meeting at Monk's Kirby in July, the question of a combined meeting at Claybrook with the Hinckley District of the Midland Counties Association was brought up. Mr. Webb inquired why the meeting had not taken place.

The hon. secretary read a letter from Mr. W. A. Wood, the hon. secretary of the Hinckley District, explaining that Claybrook bells were not available, therefore the proposed meeting could not take place. However, a letter had been received from Mr. Perkins, hon. secretary of the Leicester District, inviting the Guild to a meeting at Lutterworth on November 5th. This was well received and the members promised to do their best to attend.

The meeting places for the next three months were then fixed: Allesley for November, Shilton for December, and Nuneaton for January.

One new member, Arthur R. Webb, of Keresley, was admitted. Votes of thanks were proposed by Mr. E. Stone to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to the curate for conducting the service, to Mr. M. Melville, who officiated at the organ, and to Mr. R. Lydster (local captain) for having everything in readiness and for arranging the tea.

Mr. Webb, with his handbell ringers, delighted the company with a number of well-known tunes. A return was then made to the belfry, where ringing continued until 8 o'clock.

'YOUTH' IN LANCASHIRE.*LEARNERS' EXCELLENT PROGRESS.

Another successful meeting of the Bolton Branch of the Lancashire Association was held at Westhoughton on Saturday last. At the advertised time for the bells to be available (3 p.m.) there was a band waiting to start, and before 4 p.m. touches in five methods had been brought round, with the striking, on the whole, very good. The youthful learners of a year ago have come on in leaps and bounds, thanks to a few old stalwarts who answered the call.

A service had been arranged, but had to be cut out, owing to another urgent engagement of the Vicar, who sent an apology.

At the business meeting Mr. Wright, of Westhoughton, took the chair. Three new members were elected, and a resolution referred back from the annual meeting to branches with regard to the Central Council was discussed.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to the local ringers for their welcome and preparation, and to the ladies for providing tea, followed by more ringing, brought a very successful meeting to a close.

Double Norwich Court Bob Major was the favourite method of the day.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.*WELL ATTENDED MEETING AT DEEPIING ST. JAMES.

A quarterly meeting of the Southern Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild was held at Deeping St. James on Saturday week. With perfect weather conditions, about 30 ringers were present from Peterborough, Market Deeping, West Deeping, Deeping St. Nicholas, Bourne, Edenhall, Morton, Rippingale, Billingborough, Folkingham and Deeping St. James. The Rector (the Rev. T. Williams) kindly allowed the use of this grand peal of six, with tenor 19½ cwt., during the afternoon and evening, and the bells were kept going to a large variety of Minor methods, including Plain, Treble Bob and Surprise.

A short service was conducted by the Rector in the ancient and interesting church, and a splendid tea was served in the school, 23 sitting down.

At the business meeting which followed, the Rev. T. Williams presided. A proposition was made to hold the next meeting (the annual meeting) at Edenhall. An amendment was made in favour of Grantham, but, on being put to vote, Edenhall secured the majority.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector for the use of the bells and the service, and coupled with this was a special vote of thanks to the Church Workers' Guild for providing such an excellent tea. The Rev. T. Williams suitably replied, saying he welcomed the Guild to Deeping St. James and hoped they would again visit there on a future occasion.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

A NATIONAL ASSOCIATION?

The formation of a National Guild of Ringers, which was advocated at a recent meeting of three associations at Kingston, is no new proposal, but it has never yet met with any wide acceptance. Fifty years ago it was discussed in influential quarters and indirectly produced the Central Council. At intervals since that time a national association has found advocates, but there has never been any serious effort made to organise a guild upon such a widespread basis. Nor do we think in these days it would meet with any general support. There are, of course, arguments that can be put in favour of a national association, otherwise supporters of the scheme would have no ground for the project, but we think there are many more reasons for favouring the present system, which has grown up out of the experience of years. There is little that a national association could do that cannot already be done, and done at least as effectively.

We think it is very doubtful if a national association could create or maintain the same interest in the art of ringing or give it the place it now occupies in connection with the Church, as do the diocesan guilds and the county associations. It is admitted that there are already difficulties in interesting the individual ringer in the existing organisations which are more or less decentralised; it would be infinitely more difficult to retain his interest in an organisation in whose welfare he would feel much more remotely concerned, and in whose affairs he could have so little voice. A territorial or diocesan organisation provides a kind of local connection for the ringer which would be almost entirely absent if it had a national basis. We think it would loosen rather than strengthen the ties which now exist among ringers, and we doubt if a national association would ever be strong enough to represent ringers in the same numbers that the Central Council can now do, and its voice would therefore be no more authoritative than that of the Council.

The one advantage which a national association would provide would be its avoidance of that overlapping which now exists in some areas, although this seems, in these days, to present few difficulties. If the country could be parcelled out so that no ringing organisation overlapped its neighbour, a certain amount of organisation would probably be saved; and a small individual gain might be the saving to some ringers of a subscription to another society when visiting a new area for a peal. The true test, however, of whether a national society would be likely to be a success is whether there is any desire for it. Up to the present such a proposal has never got beyond the stage of suggestion; and we think ringers would re-

'CATHEDRAL CHIMES.'

ARCHDEACON'S DISLIKE OF SUBSTITUTION FOR REAL BELLS.

'Synthetic bells' have been installed at Holy Trinity Church, Cheltenham. The installation is the gift of the Vicar (the Rev. J. Mervyn Glass) and Mrs. Glass as a token of their happy association with the parish extending over many years and in thankfulness for the peaceful outcome of the recent international crisis.

In his sermon following the dedication, the Archdeacon of Cheltenham (the Ven. F. W. Sears), who is a ringer at his own church at Leckhampton, spoke of 'synthetic bells' as a very uncomfortable name, saying he preferred the more pleasant term 'cathedral chimes.' Remarking on its being the first installation of its kind in the diocese of Gloucester, he said that as a bellringer and chairman of the Cheltenham Branch of the Diocesan Association, he had to confess he did not like the substitution of synthetic bells for the real article.

'At the same time,' he said, 'I recognise quite fully it is impossible to install bells in every church, not only by reason of the costliness of the work, but because in very many cases the towers were not built for bells and would not stand the installation.'

'It would be impossible here, and it is good in cases such as this that this wonderful modern invention should make it possible for people to be summoned to church by the musical and cheerful sound of chimes rather than by the doleful and often unmusical sound of a single bell being tolled.'

'At the same time, as a ringer, I do hope that this wonderful invention may not in course of time supplant the more ancient craft of bellringing, which is a fine English possession. The art of change ringing is indeed an art which demands a great deal of time, hard work, discipline and practice. It is not every man who can ring changes, any more than play the organ or piano. Change ringing was discovered in England and is to be found, I believe, in no other country.'

Canon Sears contrasted that service with one for the dedication of returned and rehung bells in a little Cotswold church in which he had been engaged on the previous evening. But there was in common the connection with the thought of peace, for the old bells, cast in 1697 and 1707, bore the respective inscriptions, 'God grant us peace' and 'God send us peace.'

Those inscriptions and others throughout the Cotswolds and the country were evidence that the English, although in the past so often at war, were really a peaceful people.

'May it be,' he said, 'we are at the beginning of a new era, when disputes may be settled round the conference table and not by the slaughter of innocent and helpless people. Nothing is ever settled by force. War never settles anything, but breeds more war in the long run.'

At present recordings are to be used of St. Margaret's, Westminster, York Minster, Bow Bells, St. Martin's, and other chimes. These will be added to, with bell recordings of such well-known hymns as 'Abide with me.' The present proposal is that after the 'repertoire' has been demonstrated each selected record should be used as standard over a considerable period.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

EAST NORFOLK BRANCH AT YARMOUTH.

A meeting of the East Norfolk Branch was held at St. Nicholas' Church, Great Yarmouth, on Saturday, October 22nd. There was a very good attendance of members. Ringing was delayed at the outset owing to the tenor rope breaking while the bell was being pulled up, much to the disgust of 'Herbert,' the steeplekeeper. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. R. A. Aitken), with Dr. Hayden Hare at the organ. The Vicar, in his address, asked all ringers to attend the church services more regularly.

Tea was held at Hill's Restaurant, 35 members being present. A short business meeting followed, with the Vicar in the chair, supported by Mr. J. W. Lee (branch chairman), Mr. J. G. W. Harwood (branch secretary) and Mr. H. Tooke (secretary of North Norfolk Branch).

It was decided to hold the next meeting, which is the branch annual meeting, at Lowestoft on the last Saturday in February.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for all the kindness he has always given to the association and for the use of the bells for the meeting, also to Dr. Hayden Hare for his services at the organ.

Ringling was afterwards resumed, the methods rung being Kent Maximus, Stedman and Grandsire Cinques, Caters and Triples, Double Norwich Royal and Major, Kent and Plain Bob Royal and Major, and Cambridge Major. Members attended from Norwich, Great Yarmouth, Wymondham, Beccles, Thetford, Lowestoft, Barsham, Reedham, Norton, Acle, Happisburgh, Gressenhall and Gorleston.

PEAL NOTES.

A NEW SURPRISE ROYAL METHOD.

Peals in new Surprise Royal methods are not very frequently rung, but last Saturday another was added to the list when Painswick, a method by the Rev. E. Banks James, was attempted for the first time. It is an extension of the Major of the same name, of which only two or three peals have been rung.

It is a method which Mr. Alan Pink was responsible for 'putting on the map,' and it was to his enterprise that last Saturday's peal of Royal was attempted. He made all the arrangements and then was moved to Oxford, so that he was unable to take part. Nevertheless, he completed the band, supplied the necessary diagrams and handed the conducting over to Mr. Bert Harman, Ringing Master of the Leatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, under whose auspices the peal was rung. It was a matter of real regret to everyone concerned that Mr. Pink was not in the peal.

It was no mean performance, for it was rung at the first attempt without previous practice. Moreover, only two of the band had rung the Major—and they had forgotten all about it. In general construction the Major and Royal have a strong resemblance, but in detail they differ considerably, as, of course, they must do when two extra bells are introduced.

At Gresford, Denbighshire, on Saturday, a peal of Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major was rung in memory of the late Mr. Henry W. Wilde, of Pulford, Cheshire, on the sixth anniversary of his death. One of his compositions, which contains no bobs, was rung, the interchange of the methods while the treble is above fourth's place effecting the transposition of the bells.

Mr. Wilde, who at the time of his death was 63 years of age, was among the most enterprising of ringers and composers. He rang and called peals in a great variety of methods from five to twelve bells, but he had a special interest in Minor methods, and for the last ten years before his death he and a small band of fellow-ringers from the Chester Branch of the Chester Guild met every Tuesday for Minor ringing. When he was smitten by his final illness, the band were intent upon ringing an extent of each of the Surprise methods in the Central Council Collection.

Mr. Wilde was a member of the Central Council for the 20 years before his death.

After the peal on Saturday, the ringers were kindly provided with tea by Mr. and Mrs. George Williams.

The first peal of Treble Twelve in Wiltshire and by the Salisbury Diocesan Guild was rung at Trowbridge on October 26th by a mixed band, including four members of the local company. It was called by Mr. George Williams, Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild, and Mr. Sam Hector, who was one of six who rang their first peal of Treble Twelve, has now rung peals of Kent from Minor to Maximus.

After many years' absence from the peal columns, the name of Mr. James Pagett, of Derby, appears again as the treble ringer to a peal of Grandsire Triples at Netherseale on October 25th. The peal was a birthday compliment to Mr. J. W. Cotton's daughter, Joan.

Mr. Harry Gregson, a member of the company at Holy Trinity Church, Queensbury, Bradford, has just attained his 80th birthday, and a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung as a compliment to him on October 26th.

In honour of the visit of their Majesties the King and Queen to Norwich on Saturday, a peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Royal was rung at St. Peter Mancroft, whose bells could be heard in the background on the 'wireless' during talks given in the evening upon the day's events in the East Anglian city.

A royal visit to High Wycombe on Saturday was celebrated by a peal of Stedman Cinques at All Saints' Church, where only three days before Mr. Fred Hayes called the first peal of Royal in Buckinghamshire, and all the ringers except Mr. W. H. Fussell, who rang the treble, got a 'decoration' of some kind for a 'first.'

Bill had a good week last week—he has had several this year. On Tuesday he rang a peal of Cambridge Minor, on Wednesday a peal of Bob Royal, on Saturday a peal of Stedman Cinques. By the way, it seems almost incredible that no peal of Royal should have been rung in Bucks until last week.

A peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at St. Margaret's, Ipswich, on Saturday, was a compliment to Dennis Bowyer, brother of Miss Sylvia Bowyer, on his fifteenth birthday.

A peal of Kent Treble Bob at Anstey last Saturday, arranged to enable Messrs. J. E. Adams and J. T. Smith to ring their first peal of Major, was made possible by the kindness of Mr. W. E. Rawson, who stood in at the last moment.

THE LATE MR. H. W. WILDE.

After having been 'out of business' for three to four months, the Western Branch of the Worcestershire Association opened up again on Saturday with a peal of St. Clement's Bob Triples at St. John's, Worcester. It was the first in the method by all the band and on the bells, and was rung to Holt's Ten-part composition of Grandsire. The only other peal of St. Clement's Triples rung by the association was at Upton-on-Severn in 1932.

This peal is an interesting reminder that even Triples ringers need not stagnate. At St. John's, Worcester, and at Claines they ring, besides Grandsire and Stedman, Oxford Bob, St. Clement's, Court Bob and Darlaston Bob Triples.

An Oxford Guild band went down to Stow-on-the-Wold, Gloucestershire, on Saturday, and brought back a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major.

A GLORIOUS FAILURE RECALLED.

The jubilee of the bells at Brentwood, Essex, erected in 1888, was celebrated with a peal of Bristol Surprise Major on Saturday.

It was at Brentwood on March 26th, 1894, that a band of Royal Cumberland Youths lost a peal of Double Norwich Major after ringing 13,072 changes, out of 13,440, in 8 hours 15 minutes. It was a broken rope that put an end to the performance. Three weeks later, however, they rang the peal at Romford in 8 hours 16 minutes. Messrs. Charles Wilkins and Albert Pittam survive out of that band.

The first peal of Oxford Treble Bob Minor for the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford was rung at Trysull on Thursday week. It was also the first peal of Oxford Treble Bob Minor by all the band.

On Saturday four of them took part in a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major at Broughton, and two of this number, including the conductor, Mr. B. G. Key, rang their first peal of Oxford Treble Eight.

The peal at Woodbridge on October 22nd was Yorkshire Surprise Major, not Superlative as published in our last issue.

Mr. Pat Cannon is pushing on with his 'tower grabbing.' At Hemel Hempstead on October 20th he rang a peal in his one hundredth tower, spread over twenty counties.

Northop, where, as recorded in our last issue, a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung on October 22nd, is in Flintshire, and not Cheshire as printed.

Mr. Peter Laffin, of Stockport, rang his 200th peal on October 27th when he took part in a handbell peal of Oxford Treble Bob Royal. A brother of the late Mr. Percy Laffin, of Birmingham, Mr. Peter Laffin is hon. librarian of the Chester Diocesan Guild, and his peals include a notable number of handbell performances.

Mr. Henry Carnwell last month completed 50 years as a regular Sunday service ringer at Kingsley, Staffs. At Uttroeter, on Saturday, colleagues in the North Staffs Association rang a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major in his honour.

A peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal at Isleworth on Saturday enabled Mr. Donald Boreham, of High Wycombe, to complete the series in the method from Minor to Maximus. The peal was a birthday compliment to Miss Olive Ashbrook, who took part in it, and also to another member of the local band, Mr. Geoffrey Dodds.

In a note in this column recently, it was stated that Mr. C. Sharples, of Blackpool, had been trying since 1914 to get a peal of London Surprise Major. That was not correct. Although he memorised the method as long ago as 1914, he had never tried to ring a course of it until March of last year, and he rang the peal at the first attempt at Hazel Grove, Cheshire, on October 7th.

SUFFOLK GUILD.

A CONTRAST IN MEETINGS.

A very gratifying meeting of the Eye Branch of the Suffolk Guild was held at Redgrave, by kind invitation of the Rev. G. C. N. Stevens. Ringers attended from the following parishes: Diss, Garboldisham, Winfarthing, Shelfanger, Ufford, Yaxley, Redgrave, Rickinghall, Wattisfield, Gressenhall, Earl Stouham, Mendlesham, Stowupland, Thorndon, Palgrave, Maldon (Essex), Stoke Ash, Chevington, Fornham All Saints', Great Barton, Hepworth, Marlesford, Great Glemham, Hacheston and Mistley.

A short service was held in the Parish Church, conducted by the Rector, who gave an interesting address. Between forty and fifty ringers sat down to a bountiful tea, provided by the Rector and Mrs. Stevens, and a short meeting followed, at which the Rector was elected an honorary member.

A vote of thanks was proposed by the Rev. H. Drake, of Ufford, who said how pleased he was to see so many young ringers present. He thought this was a good augury for the district.

A correspondent contrasts this successful meeting with the last branch meeting held at Eye some six years ago. Then, there were not sufficient ringers present to ring the eight bells. On this occasion, however, with only three rings of six available, 45 ringers attended from 21 parishes, and with no train or bus service to help them.

It was decided that the next meeting should be held at Eye, in January—providing the bells are available.

CENTENARIAN'S DEATH.

A quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung with the bells muffled at St. Gregory's Church, Beckington, on October 7th, in memory of the late Miss L. Aldis, who passed away at the age of 103 years: C. V. Wingrove 1, E. H. Nash 2, W. J. Biggs 3, H. G. Warry 4, K. E. Moon (conductor) 5, E. J. Humphries 6.

A VILLAGE EFFORT.*CHAWTON PEOPLE RESTORE THE CHURCH BELLS.

A quarterly meeting of the Alton and Petersfield District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild was held at Chawton on October 22nd. The Rector of Chawton (the Rev. H. White) attended and showed the party the interesting things connecting Jane Austen, the authoress, with the old-world village. Ringers were present from Alton, Aldershot, Blackmoor, Bramley, Liss, Petersfield, Privett and Steep. The bells were rung during the afternoon and evening to the standard methods, and the Guild's service was held in church.

Tea in the Village Hall was followed by a short business meeting, at which the Rector presided. He extended a welcome to the company and told them how the people of the Village Hall recently collected over £83 to have the bells restored and the frame made safe. The whole of the amount was given locally, although the inhabitants number something under 300. He thought this was an achievement to be proud of, and it had made a fitting memorial to the late King George V. A tablet suitably inscribed is in the church porch.

The Rector of Chawton and the Rev. H. W. Gooch (Rector of Liss) were elected honorary members of the Guild.

It was announced that the annual meeting would take place at Petersfield on January 28th, and that an evening meeting would be arranged before then to take place at St. Peter's Church, Liss.

Votes of thanks were accorded the Rector of Chawton, the organist and the caterers.

ST. ANDREW'S, HOLBORN, GUILD.

The 15th annual meeting of St. Andrew's, Holborn, Guild was held on Saturday, October 22nd. Tea, served in the Court House, was kindly provided by the Rector and Mrs. Howden. In the absence of the Rector, who was unable to be present, the business meeting was presided over by the Rev. G. H. Perman, who welcomed the ringers on behalf of the Rector.

The financial statement was adopted and the officers elected as follows: Ringing Master, Mr. Ernest Brett; hon. secretary, Mr. J. S. Hawkins; hon. treasurer, Mr. W. J. Norton.

After the business meeting some wonderful Bob Major was rung on handbells, and tune ringing by Messrs. H. Alford and J. S. Hawkins was much enjoyed.

On Sunday evening, October 16th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at St. Andrew's as a birthday compliment to Mrs. W. Pennington Bickford, wife of the Rector of St. Clement Danes: J. S. Hawkins 1, H. C. Alford 2, R. W. Green 3, P. E. Clark 4, E. F. Pryor 5, A. C. Darnell (conductor) 6, E. Brett 7, U. W. Wildney 8.

A NEW PEAL AT NORTHREPPS.*PEAL INCREASED TO SIX.

There was a large congregation at Northrepps Church on Sunday morning, October 23rd, for the dedication of the new treble bell which has been added to the peal of five. This is the completion of the work begun by the Rev. C. H. Winter in 1936, which involved the rehanging of the bells on a steel frame, the addition of a new treble, both the work of Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., and sundry repairs to the tower. The total cost has been £407 4s.

In his sermon, the Rector (the Rev. E. W. Blyth), after referring to the part which bells play in the various services of the church, said that though change ringing was a most fascinating hobby, it must not stop there. Ringers, like the organist, give their time, their skill and their knowledge of the art to the glory of God and the services of His Church. The new bell bears the name 'Gabriel,' for as the Archangel brought the message of the Incarnation to the Mother of our Lord, so the church bells give to all who hear them the same message that 'God hath visited His people,' and call them to lift up their hearts in worship.

The Rector, the churchwardens and the Church Council, led by the crossbearer and choir, proceeded to the tower, where the new bell was dedicated and special prayers offered. Then the bell was raised and the six were rung in rounds by the local band, while the procession returned to their places.

After service the first 720 of Bob Minor was rung by C. Pooley (Northrepps) 1, W. Holden (Cromer) 2, the Rev. E. W. Blyth (Northrepps) 3, H. Carter (Aylsham) 4, W. R. West (Blandford) 5, G. Bailey (Wroxham) (conductor) 6. In the afternoon the local ringers were joined by ringers from Glandford, Wroxham, Hevingham, Newmarket, Paston, Norwich, Mulbarton, Aylsham, Buxton, Cromer, Aylmerton and Espirigam, and touches of Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Cambridge Surprise and Double Court were rung, and all expressed pleasure at the smooth running of the bells.

SOUTHAMPTON DOCKS CENTENARY.

To celebrate the centenary of the Southampton Docks, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters (1,295 changes) was rung at St. Mary's Church, Southampton, at noon on Wednesday, October 12th, by a band representing the towers of North Stoneham, Bishopstoke and St. Mary's, Southampton: J. Faithfull, jun. 1, J. Faithfull, sen. (conductor) 2, L. M. Squires 3, G. Pullinger 4, C. Fray 5, R. Linter 6, G. Williams 7, R. A. Reed 8, H. P. Reed 9, J. Elliott 10. It was the first attempt for a quarter-peal of Caters by the ringers of treble and 6th.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

To-morrow is the 301st anniversary of the foundation of the Ancient Society of College Youths. Mr. J. A. Trollope's book, 'The College Youths,' is the fascinating story of this old society and should be read by every ringer. It can be obtained post free for 5s. 6d. from the office of 'The Ringing World.'

It is reported that two light peals of bells are to be placed in churches in the neighbourhood of Sydney, Australia—a ring of six at St. James' Church, Turramurra; and a peal of eight (tenor 7½ cwt.) at St. Michael's Church, Vancjause.

Mr. Melcolm R. Taylor, a Hobart ringer, who returned to Tasmania earlier this year after a business stay of about three years in this country, was married on September 24th to Miss Belle Cameron, of Hobart.

During the earlier part of his stay in England, Mr. Taylor rang at Crayford and took part in one peal there.

Doncaster Parish Church bells are now silent, and no further ringing will take place on them until they have been repaired. The local ringers will be glad if any of our readers can inform them if their bells are the last of Lord Grimthorpe's design to be restored to perfect tune.

RINGING FOR BROADCAST SERVICES.

B.B.C.'s REPLY TO PROTEST.

The B.B.C. have explained their attitude with regard to the ringing before a broadcast service in a letter, written on behalf of the North Regional Director, to Mr. S. Harrison, of Leicester, in reply to his protest against the curtailment of the period allotted to ringing before a service at Macclesfield Church on October 16th. Mr. Harrison says: 'Nearly half the time allotted to the bells was interrupted by the announcer's remarks on the history of the church. I immediately sent a protest to the B.B.C. In my letter I made the suggestion that announcements such as these could quite easily be made after the service, as there is nearly always an interlude of several minutes. I also asked for a ten-minute broadcast of bells before religious services. The B.B.C. have sent me the letter enclosed, which may be interesting to your readers.'

'In the last issue of "The Ringing World" there is an account of the same thing happening at St. Olave's, Hart Street. I think the only way to get over this trouble is for ringers to send a mass protest to the B.B.C. every time this happens.'

B.B.C.'s VIEW.

The reply from the North Regional Director on October 28th was as follows:—

'With reference to your letter of October 16th about the bells preceding the Macclesfield service. The circumstances were that a new type of announcement (giving some details about the church—in the case of the more interesting churches) was being tried. This took about 45 seconds, leaving four and a half minutes for the bells before the service began. This preliminary period, whether it be the ringing of the bells or an organ voluntary, is meant to be, not a demonstration of bellringing nor a broadcast of organ playing, but to produce a proper atmosphere for the service. We have had broadcasts of bells as such quite separately. Nobody could pretend that justice could be done to them in these few introductory moments.'

'With regard to getting into the method, there is, of course, no reason why the ringing should not start before the time of the broadcast and be taken in full swing—as long as it ends at the agreed time.'

We regret you should feel that justice was not done to the bellringers on this occasion, but this will explain how we view the matter.'

LIVERPOOL CATHEDRAL BELLS.

FOUNDERS' DESCRIPTION.

The Liverpool Cathedral Committee in their current 'Quarterly Bulletin' publish an article by Mr. A. A. Hughes, of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who have been entrusted with the task of casting the Cathedral bells. In this he says:—

'Now that the great tower is nearing completion, thoughts turn to the bells which it will house 235ft. above street level. No tower in the world contains a ring of bells so high above the ground. Further, it will be the largest tower in the world to contain a ringing peal of bells.'

The ringing peal will consist of 13 bells, the tenor being 80 cwt. in A flat and the treble 10 cwt. The tenor will be 6ft. 4in. in diameter and its wheel 9ft. 8in. The total weight of the bells will be 330½ cwt., say 16½ tons. The reason for the thirteenth bell, a sharp second, is that it will make practice ringing possible on a correct octave in a lighter key, E flat. It would not always be possible to ring the larger eight on a practice night.

These bells will form the greatest ringing peal in the world, the next three heaviest twelve-bell rings being at Exeter Cathedral, tenor about 72 cwt.; St. Paul's Cathedral, tenor about 62 cwt.; York Minster, tenor about 60 cwt. They will be hung in specially made self-aligning ball bearings and it will be possible to ring the tenor single-handed.

The bells will hang in a reinforced concrete radial frame, in which each bell swings to the centre, the ropes falling direct in a perfect circle of minimum diameter.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—43.*FREDERICK J. CULLUM.

Coming of ringing stock, Mr. Frederick J. Cullum, of Erith, Kent, took to the art as a duck takes to water. His grandfather was tower-keeper and captain at St. John-the-Baptist's Church for many years, and so was his father. Upon the latter's death in 1931 Mr. F. J. Cullum succeeded him and carries on the good work in the third generation. Born on March 17th, 1899, Mr. Cullum was taught to ring during the war years, and the late Mr. Edwin Barnett called his first peal, Grandsire Triples, at Crayford, on December 26th, 1917. In March of the next year Mr. Cullum joined the Royal Navy as an electrical artificer and served until February, 1919. Then in March, 1920, he went to sea in the Merchant Service and served for four and a half years.

At the beginning of his career, therefore, Mr. Cullum had few opportunities for peal ringing, but in February, 1919, he rang his first peal as conductor, calling Holt's ten-part. It was his fifth peal in all and five of the party rang their first peal, it being also the first peal by the local band. In subsequent years his ringing was confined to the short periods he was home from sea, but his time was not wasted. He studied the art in theory, and such was his keenness that, in his spare time, he pricked out from start to finish Davies' Transposition of Thurstans' four-part peal of Stedman Triples. He owes a lot of his early knowledge to his father, who would spend hours in the evenings pricking out touches with him.

Mr. Cullum in later years has taken an active part in ringing many new methods for the first time or for the first time for the Kent County Association. Among the first peals for the Kent Association in which he has rung have been College Major, Spliced Plain Bob and Double Oxford, Spliced Canterbury Pleasure and Bob Major, Cam Treble Bob Royal, Little Bob Maximus, Yorkshire Surprise Major, Pudsey Surprise Major, Rutland Surprise Major, Premier Surprise Major, Painswick Surprise Major and Crayford Surprise Major, and he called for the Kent County Association for the first time Ipswich Surprise Major, Staffordshire Surprise Major, Erith Surprise Major, Wheatley Surprise Major and Lessness Surprise Major. He also called the first and up to now the only peal of Spliced Surprise Major (London, Bristol, Cambridge and Superlative) for the Society of the Royal Cumberland Youths.

Among other interesting performances have been an 11,008 Double Norwich Major at Erith on February 26th, 1927, and a 'Frederick' peal of Stedman Triples, which he called at Rainham, Kent, on September 8th, 1928. Mr. Cullum has rung altogether 295 peals on eight, ten and twelve bells, of which he has called 102; and of these 268 have been for the Kent County Association, of which he has conducted 98. No fewer than 130 of his peals have been rung on the bells of St. John-the-Baptist, Erith, and he has called exactly half of these.

Mr. Cullum is one of the representatives of the Lewisham District on the Central Committee of the Kent Association.

PEALS AT MARKSBURY, SOMERSET.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In the leading article of 'The Ringing World,' published on August 26th, 1938, under the heading 'Belfry Records,' is the following: 'Frequently it happens that a claim is made for some first performance upon a ring of bells, only to find it promptly demolished by the discovery that the thing had already been done by an earlier band.' A peal of Grandsire Doubles rung at Marksbury, Somerset, on May 18th, 1937, is claimed as the first peal on the bells. I find from the 'Bell News' that a peal of Bob Minor, seven different 720's, was rung there just over 28 years ago, namely, on October 16th, 1909. It was conducted by Albert E. Seers and rung for the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association. The above will help the conductor to correct the 1937 peal.

THE NORTH STAFFS INCIDENT.*CLERICAL SECRETARY'S REPLY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As my name has been mentioned in your paper, may I ask the courtesy of your columns to place a few facts before your readers with regard to the question which has arisen in the North Staffordshire Association. About two years ago I was approached by the lay secretary, who asked my advice as the clerical secretary, with regard to holding an annual dinner. My advice to him then was, by all means hold the dinner, but under no circumstances should intoxicants be permitted, as this would cause grave concern and possible disruption in the association, as some of the clergy held very strong views with regard to this matter. My advice, if it had been taken, would have prevented the present situation. The lay secretary never approached me again on this matter until last week, when he told me of the decision of his committee. As the clerical secretary of the association, I should, at least, have had the opportunity of placing my views before the committee. I have never received any notification of a committee meeting, and the two letters that I wrote to him have never been answered or acknowledged, and no invitation was given to me last year to the annual dinner, which was held on licensed premises.

To say the least of it, this is very discourteous to the representative of the clergy. As I have not had the opportunity of meeting the committee or discussing the matter with the members of the association, how can I be called a dictator? Surely the dictatorship is on the other side. The only information of what was taking place was received through the complaints of a local incumbent. So as to be in a position to express the opinion of the clergy of the association, I wrote a fortnight ago to them all and asked their opinion as to whether they were in favour of the annual dinner being held on licensed premises or no. The voting was as follows: 13 were against, three were for and three were willing to vote either way. The remaining three out of the total of 22 have not answered. I think that you will agree with me that the advice I tendered to the lay secretary was the correct one. I am quite certain that every bellringer in the association, who now realises the opinion of the incumbents concerned, will gladly follow their lead and abide by their wishes in the matter.

The clergy feel that the annual dinner must be one in which all sections of the association can conscientiously take part, otherwise it loses its value and breaks up the fellowship that ought to be found in every association. They feel, too, it should be an occasion at which the youngest bellringer would be able to meet the other members under the happiest circumstances and so be encouraged to become a regular ringer. If licensed premises were used, the clergy are strongly of the opinion that many parents would object, and they themselves, because of their spiritual responsibilities over their flock, could not give their permission for it.

My own personal experience as a prison chaplain has assured me of the wisdom of their opinion, as I found many young delinquents' first beginnings of crime have been due to such gatherings in licensed houses. Surely our work, as a Church, must never be one in which temptation is put before our young members, and may we always remember that it is our duty, as bellringers, to call men to Christ and to put the highest ideals before them. I trust that this will end the controversy.

A ROYAL COMMEMORATION.*NEW BELL AT ST. PAUL'S WALDEN.

The installation of a new bell augmenting a peal from a ring of five to a ring of six is very often only of local interest, but the installation of a new treble at St. Paul's Walden, Herts, can truly be said to have a wider significance, for the bell in question commemorates the Coronation of their Majesties the King and Queen, and it was at this church that Queen Elizabeth was baptised.

The new bell was dedicated during morning service on Sunday last by the Bishop of Bedford, who, at the same time, dedicated a British Legion banner and consecrated the churchyard extension—the lesson was read by the Hon. David Bowes-Lyon, brother of the Queen, who was also christened at the church. Amongst those present were the Rev. H. T. Valentine, who was Vicar at St. Paul's Walden from 1889-1906; Major Guy M. Kindersley, O.B.E., M.P. for Hitchin, churchwarden, and Mrs. Kindersley; the Rural Dean, and Mr. Paul L. Taylor, representing John Taylor and Co., to whom was entrusted the work of augmenting the peal.

ET ELIZABETHÆ R. 12.V.1937 A.D.

The royal cipher GR and ER, in between which is an ornamental cross, appears on the waist.

Alterations and additions have been made to the existing oak bell-frame so that the new bell could be accommodated at the same level as the old five, and everyone present at the opening was delighted with the results achieved.

The former peal of five consisted of two bells by Briant, of Hertford, and three by Chandler, of Drayton Parslow, Bucks, the tenor weighing approximately 12 cwt.

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL BELLS.

DIAMOND JUBILEE OF FAMOUS RING.

Dedication Ceremony Recalled.

Last Tuesday, November 1st, was the sixtieth anniversary of the opening of the ring of twelve bells at St. Paul's Cathedral. Very few there are to-day who were present on that memorable occasion, but one of them was Mr. F. E. Dawe, now residing at Woking, who at that time was just entering upon his long and, for many years, energetic career as a ringer. Just ten years after the events recalled below he was elected Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths, and he is the only member who has served in that office five times. In the following article, Mr. Dawe retells the story of that eventful day, when St. Paul's Cathedral bells first sounded over the city of London:—

Sixty years ago! Yes, I well remember standing in St. Paul's Churchyard, at the corner of Ludgate Hill, on that Friday afternoon, All Saints' Day, November 1st, 1878. I was then just learning to handle a bell, and it afterwards transpired that Mr. Challis F. Winney must at that moment have been very near me in the crowd. We were then almost unknown to each other, for we were both learning on the light ring of eight at St. John-the-Evangelist's Church, Wilton Road, Pimlico, the dedication of which had taken place a month before, viz., Wednesday, October 2nd, 1878. Mr. W. D. Smith, who later on succeeded me in the chair of the College Youths, was also outside St. Paul's Cathedral, and we are, I think, the only three ringers surviving who were there on that great occasion.

COLLEGE YOUTHS CONSULTED.

But let me start at the beginning. The 16 bells (with their famous 15th century lettering) in the central tower of Worcester Cathedral were put up in 1869, and shortly afterwards—early in the seventies—a project was put forward for a ring of 10 or 12 for St. Paul's Cathedral. The then Sir Edmund Beckett (previously Mr. E. B. Denison), who afterwards became Lord Grimthorpe, was chosen as chairman of the Bells Committee, and towards the end of 1877 this committee—or, at least, a portion of it, which included Dr. John Stainer, the Cathedral organist—met at the King's Head, Winchester Street, Southwark, to confer at the headquarters of the Ancient Society of College Youths with a select few of the most prominent members of that society.

Sir Edmund Beckett was always opposed to rings of twelve, but greatly in favour of ten, as he considered the two extra trebles a mistake, and openly declared that all peals sounded better without them. He further maintained that the 'lower ten' at Worcester Cathedral (tenor 50 cwt. in D flat) were the grandest ringing peal in England.

It was at this meeting that Canon Cattley, who was present from Worcester Cathedral, asked the question: 'If we give you a ring of twelve, with a tenor bell of three tons, will you guarantee the men to ring them?' This was instantly answered in the affirmative by Matthew A. Wood, George A. Muskett (the then secretary) and others, and Sir Edmund, as chairman, caused the order to be given to Messrs. J. W. Taylor and Sons, of Loughborough, for the present ring of twelve, with a three-ton tenor in D flat! Mr. Taylor, sen., told me personally five years afterwards that although the firm let Sir Edmund have his own way with the Burton-on-Trent bells and those at other places, knowing full well St. Paul's bells would be much too heavy for D flat, he (Mr. Taylor) purposely 'made a mistake' and altered the key to B flat! Sir Edmund was very wroth about it, and announced something to the effect that 'the bells were not according to contract, and would be thrown back on the founders' hands'! However, science, reason and commonsense prevailed, and they were accepted. I am indebted to Mr. Taylor, sen., and the late Mr. John W. Taylor for this information, as for many other particulars as to cost, etc.

THE COST.

The bells were erected in the north-west tower of the Cathedral during the year 1878, at a cost of a little over £2,800. In addition, there was a large amount spent in preparing the tower to receive the bells. According to the paper, the 'Builder,' this amounted to exactly £1,000. The ringing chamber and additional staircase, together with the flooring in the apartment beneath, probably amounted to another £300 or £400.

Each bell was the gift of a different city company, together with the late Baroness Burdett-Coutts, who joined in the donation, the tenor bell of 62 cwt. in B flat being given by the Corporation. Each bell bears the name of the master of the company who gave it at the time of vote. The Ellacombe chiming hammers were also installed.

In September of that year one of two short 'touches' of Stedman Cinques were brought round on the bells before the clappers were put in to see if everything was correct, and then one evening in October, without any notification to the outer world, a few 'rounds' were rung after the clappers were fixed, and as a further test the same evening Mr. J. W. Taylor, sen., turned all the clappers over on the wrong side in order to note the effect! Finally, the bells were officially opened on All Saints' Day, Friday, November 1st, 1878, by a picked band of 13 men of the College Youths, with two 'reserves,' of whom the ringer of the 9th and the 'strapper' for the tenor (S. Reeves) were the last survivors, Edwin Horrex (9th man) actually being the last to depart from us some 13 years ago.

Drawings were made in the ringing chamber and other parts of the Cathedral at the moment of dedication by special artists of the 'Illustrated London News,' the 'Graphic' and other well-known picture papers, and of these I still have copies in my possession—the striking figure of George Muskett being well in the foreground! Flash lamps had not been invented in those days! Of course, the daily and weekly newspapers were full of such an historic event, but I think the 'Times' and the 'Guardian' gave the best reports. The latter had a graphic account of the scene, from which I take the following:—

THE SERVICE.

The November air was cold and chill, yet anyone approaching St. Paul's on All Saints' afternoon would have been struck with the unwonted stir in the open space around the Cathedral, and on entering the church itself, not only the vast area under the dome, but almost the whole length of the nave, was seen to be closely packed with people. It was evident that the dedication of the bells had interest not only for Londoners, but very many had travelled up from long distances to hear the bells ring out for the first time from the Cathedral of the Metropolis.

In his sermon upon the first verse of the last of the Psalms, the Rev. J. Povah mentioned the influence bells had upon the architecture of churches, the omission for 200 years to realise Wren's design of placing a ring in one of the western towers, and the consequent inability of the Cathedral authorities, even when the news came of Nelson's great victory and death at Trafalgar, to give voice to the nation's joy or sorrow except by the tolling of a single great bell.

Considering the thousands in sight who could not hear a word of the sermon, it might, perhaps, have been 'taken as read,' but that did not seem to occur to the preacher, though an occasional note from the belfry, where the bells were being pulled up with the clappers lashed, and set at backstroke ready for the opening peal, might have reminded him. The thought occurred that the bells might have spoken with fine and solemn effect during the service itself had it been so ordered, and the immense congregation might thus have been made participators in their solemn dedication.

But a less ceremonial was decided on. Evensong concluded, the choir, the Cathedral clergy and the Bishop of London made their way in procession through the dense mass of people to the south-western corner of the building, Dr. Stainer, the organist, leading the way, and Mr. Hodge playing the 'War March of the Priests' in Mendelssohn's music to 'Athalie.' The procession passed through the door and wended their way up what is known as the 'geometrical staircase,' and thence across to the north-west tower, there to be lost to sight or hearing of all but a few privileged persons, who followed the choir and clergy, not, indeed, to the ringing chamber, where the dedication took place, but to an ante-chamber immediately below, and separated from it by a wooden floor; through which the prayers and hymns were audible.

IN THE RINGING CHAMBER.

The Bishop of London, with the Rev. F. H. Fisher (Vicar of Fulham, a well-known ringer) as his chaplain, Dean Church, Bishop Piers Cloughton (Archdeacon of London) and eight other Reverend Canons, with organist and choristers, threaded their way in surplices up the narrow winding staircase, and, forming a group in the centre of the ringing chamber, took their appointed part in a form of service which had been printed and circulated.

This was much in the usual form now used on such occasions.

Many bellringers were present from great distances, and amongst them were Mr. Charles A. W. Troyte, of Huntsham Court, Devon; the Rev. H. A. Ellacombe, of Clyst St. George, Devon; the Rev. Canon Cattley, of Worcester Cathedral; the Rev. Augustus Sutton and Sir Edmund Beckett; also the Rev. H. E. Haweis, LL.D., a great advocate for the continental system of carillons, and well known as a writer of letters to papers that admitted of no controversy!

A hymn was then sung, 'When morning gilds the skies.' There is an allusion to 'the sweet church bell' in its second stanza, and its tune, if not actually bell-like, has an exceptionally constant motion of the parts which might bear distant comparison to the rhythm of chimes. The Collect for St. Paul's Day having been read, the Bishop of London gave the usual blessing to the little kneeling congregation, above which rose the stalwart forms of the ringers leaning on their ropes.

There was a moment's pause, then the Bishop of London gave the word 'Go!' to the circle of ringers; thirteen pairs of strong arms began to pull in concert, and down came a shower of music, bright, soft and mellow. The bells had spoken. In and around the ringing chamber, to which the few persons invited were now admitted, men's tongues were loosened in delight, as the twelve bells, swinging this way and that, again and again ran down the gamut, not as yet disporting in changes, but trying their voices in a plain round peal. The ringers were thirteen men of the College Youths, two to the tenor bell; stalwart fellows all, many well advanced in years, and visibly possessed of that power of concentrated attention to work in hand, without which a man cannot be a good bellringer, and by means of which alone great and pleasing results can be achieved by a plurality of workers. Each man, stripped to his shirt, stood on a small square platform with his foot in a leathern strap; to the tenor there was a branched rope, and one of its ringers stood on the platform, and the other on the floor of the chamber. Up rushed the ropes through the ceiling for the back-strokes; and down again danced the coloured 'sallies' for the hand-strokes, each rope having a red cushion on the floor for it to fall upon. In a few minutes the head ringer gave a word of command, and the ringing came to a first period. 'Well stopped!' exclaimed Dr. Stainer with delight; but it was a premature congratulation, for the tenor hesitated in the hands of his two ringers, and instead of leaning to rest on his stay, as a good bell should, came swinging round again, and spoke twice alone, thus breaking the neatness of the first performance, but giving the thousands of listeners an opportunity of hearing his voice clear of competition. He is a rich, sonorous fellow, filling the air with his big B flat, and fit in every way to play the part of a perpetual pedal to the ever-varying melodies of his lighter companions in ringing, or to be 'turned in' for a 'touch' of a more advanced character.

After the first stop a consultation between Dr. Stainer and the chief ringer resulted in fixing the programme of 'changes.'

Then followed in the report an explanation to the public as to change ringing, which finished by saying that from the great mental application required it is always sure to lead to steady and quiet behaviour, and that one mistake generally brings the whole thing to grief, it being almost impossible for the conductor to put a careless ringer in his place again.

THE FIRST RINGERS.

The ringing went on for over an hour. The air was clear, and the night fine; hundreds stood in St. Paul's Churchyard listening.

The names of the first ringers, who stood in the following order, were: H. W. Haley, sen. 1, H. C. Haley, jun. 2, W. Cooter 3, J. Pettit 4, G. Mash 5, J. R. Haworth 6, G. Ferris 7, J. Dwight 8, E. Horrex 9, G. A. Muskett 10, M. A. Wood 11, J. M. Hayes with S. Reeves 12. G. Dorrington and W. Jones were the reserves. I personally knew and respected every one of these splendid old fellows, and my old friends, C. F. Winney and W. D. Smith, shared the same pleasure and privilege.

On that occasion a splendid clock, striking the half-hours, and still a valuable asset to the ringing chamber, was given by the Rev. Robert R. Green, the then Dean's verger.

The last touch of that historic evening was about 1,000 changes of Stedman Cinques, and it was during this that an amusing thing happened. An excellent 'spread' had been provided for the ringers, but, tell it not in Gath, publish it not in the streets of Ascalon, the choir found their way thither, and fondly imagined that it was for them! When the ringers came down it was 'all gone'—another example of how we used to be 'pushed out' in days gone by.

One interesting fact remains on record, that when the bells were 'fired' on that important occasion, the striking was 'true as a hair,' and not the careless and ragged exhibition to which we are so often treated at various places nowadays. The 'opening' into rounds again was most accurately done, and it was justly admitted by all the critics outside to be of 'the very best'! This shows how easily heavy bells can be handled by good and experienced ringers.

I well recollect the ropes used there during the first twelve months. They were very bad, coarse and unsuitable—certainly some of the worst I have ever seen or handled!

At first the bells were only rung on special occasions, and nearly two years elapsed before the Dean and Chapter entered into an arrangement with the College Youths to have them rung regularly for divine service twice every Sunday, as at present.

The first occasion on which I rang at St. Paul's was on Christmas Day, 1879, when I deputised for Henry Haley.

It is also noteworthy that for months after the dedication, the usual mass of correspondence continued to appear in the newspapers about the 'new bells,' both 'for' and 'against,' mainly by that class of well-to-do 'know nothings' who usually wish to air and ventilate their opinion on matters they do not quite understand. Thank goodness, discussions on 'Simpson tuning' did not exist then. I well remember that at all the subsequent practice nights (once a month) Lord Tom Noddy was sure to be present in some shape or form!

PEALS AT ST. PAUL'S.

During these 60 years, 14 peals have been rung on the bells, all by the Ancient Society of College Youths, viz., ten of Stedman Cinques, three of Kent Treble Bob Maximus, and one of Cambridge Surprise Maximus, this last having been called by Mr. Alfred Peck, the present secretary of the society, who rang the tenor single-handed! The first peal was a 5,014 of Stedman Cinques on December 10th, 1881, in 4 hours 17 minutes, conducted by the late Mr. James Pettit, and I have never heard better ringing than in this peal.

No further peal was rung on the bells until 1894, when a peal of Kent Treble Bob Maximus was rung, with Messrs. W. T. Cockerill and W. Prime ringing the tenor. Mr. Cockerill was the first to turn the tenor in alone, this being in 1896. Mr. E. P. O'Meara kept the bell lubricated during this peal. Sir Arthur Heywood afterwards gave a dinner at the Champion Hotel, Aldersgate Street, for all those who had taken part in the first three peals, the principal toast being 'The single-handed tenorman.' Mr. Bob Newton was the first to ring St. Paul's tenor to a peal of Maximus single-handed and call the peal as well.

All the peals have been recorded by the authorities in the ringing chamber in a manner never observed in the other 1,100 towers I have visited. The walls are prepared in 'panel' fashion, and the records are painted thereon. I rang the 9th in the first peal of Maximus, and Messrs. C. F. Winney and W. D. Smith also took part in this peal. Mention may also be made of the ill-fated attempt for a peal of Stedman Cinques, which I was calling on April 13th, 1912, and which for some unknown reason was never allowed to be completed. After 3 hours 55 minutes, and only the last course to ring, the tenor dropped in amongst the others and caused disaster, when success seemed assured.

A CONTRAST IN BELL OPENINGS.

The above story of the dedication of St. Paul's bells clearly depicts what an impressive ceremony a properly constituted 'opening' should be. Since that event I have taken part in or been present on several such occasions, but have noticed with regret that in later years there has been a tendency to do the thing on more 'up-to-date' lines—especially as a result of the unfortunate 'notices' in your valuable paper, which read 'all ringers heartily welcome.' This remark, however kindly intended, ought to read 'All competent bellringers welcome,' for we have had most distressing instances where the inhabitants near at hand have been rendered absolutely frantic by the outrageous din they have had to endure for three or four hours after the service, tending to make the parishioners regret the installation of new bells rather than to receive them rapturously!

The last and most glaring instance I remember was at the opening of an important ring of twelve, when the Cathedral was crowded to overflowing by a gigantic congregation, and the only decent ringing was a very short touch by the Cathedral band during the service! After that we had better draw a heavy veil over the 'ringing' during the afternoon and evening. Over 300 'ringers' answered the invitation to be present from all the eight, six, five and four-bell towers for many miles round. How some such people can have the nerve to 'lay-hold,' anywhere from treble to tenor, on a heavy ring of twelve, when they are utterly unable to ring rounds properly at home, leaves me entirely speechless. Young lads and even girls, who have never yet managed to 'master' a bell properly at home, thrust themselves well forward when the order is 'a few rounds'! Again, you have ringers who, perchance, ring fairly well on six and eight at their home tower, who turn up in large numbers with the open avowal that they have come to 'ave a pull.' When you hear that remark it is always the signal for displaying all the sympathy good strikers can offer towards the heavily taxed residents near at hand! What should be an impressive ceremony is thus turned into an objectionable fiasco.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.*LEWISHAM DISTRICT'S PROTEST TO THE B.B.O.

The annual meeting of the Lewisham District of the Kent County Association was held at Holy Trinity, Dartford, on October 22nd. The bells were kept in motion from 3 p.m. until 8.30, except for an interval for service, tea and business meeting. The service was conducted by the Rev. G. T. Prentice (curate), and Mr. E. Arnold was the organist.

Tea was served in Sutton's Hall, where 56 ringers did justice to the good things provided by their generous hosts, the Holy Trinity (Dartford) band. Other guests included the churchwardens, the secretary of the Parochial Council and that good friend of the Dartford ringers, Mr. J. Lack, who had been invited to preside by the Vicar (the Rev. C. Elliot-Mitchell).

The Rev. G. T. Prentice extended to the association the Vicar's, churchwardens' and ringers' welcome to Dartford in a happy speech that delighted his listeners.

The election of six members was ratified and the annual report and financial statement adopted. A request that this report be made available for circulation among the members led the chairman to ask if these district meetings were empowered to incur the expense of printing them.

Learning that they were not, Mr. Lack thereupon undertook to prepare 100 copies for free distribution to interested members—a generous offer that received enthusiastic acceptance and sincere thanks.

Messrs. A. G. Hill and T. Groombridge, sen., were re-elected district secretary and Ringing Master respectively, without other nominations. The selection of two representatives on the Management Committee necessitated a ballot, Messrs. F. J. Cullum (Erith), E. Barnett (Crayford) and W. J. Rawlings (Beckenham) being the nominations. Voting resulted in the reappointment of the retiring members, Messrs. F. J. Cullum and E. Barnett.

St. Luke's, Bromley Common, was selected as the place of next meeting.

It was unanimously decided that a letter be sent to the B.B.O. protesting against that body's disdainful attitude towards the ringing arranged to introduce their broadcast church services.

The district secretary was also instructed to convey to Mr. J. H. Cheesman (Greenhithe) the members' sympathy and concern at his indisposition.

A cordial vote of thanks was proposed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to the Rev. G. T. Prentice for the service, the churchwardens for their welcome and presence at the meeting, to the organist for his services, to the local ringers for their generous hospitality, and to Mr. R. A. Jenkins (local secretary) for his ready aid in arranging for the tea and meeting.—This was carried with applause.

Mr. Powell (churchwarden) replied on behalf of Holy Trinity's clergy and congregation, Mr. Nettlingham (secretary) on behalf of the Parochial Church Council, and Mr. J. E. Bailey on behalf of the ringers.

The chairman was accorded a vociferous vote of thanks for his genial presidential labours.

The members indulged in further ringing on handbells and in the tower, and all the 65 who attended were in full agreement that a happy conjunction of men (and women!), time, place and chairman had resulted in a very successful meeting.

A 'RINGER'S DAY' AT GAINSBOROUGH.*BELL RESTORATION CELEBRATED.

To celebrate the recent restoration of the Parish Church bells, a 'ringers' day' was held at Gainsborough on Saturday, October 22nd. The bells, a fine ring of eight, with tenor 19 cwt. 1 qr. 24 lb. in E, have been recently rehung on ball bearings, with new fittings, by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. New ropes have also been provided and the ringing room redecorated. About 30 ringers were present from Blyton, Doncaster, Lea, Lincoln, Retford, Sheffield, Treeton, Upton and Willingham, together with the local ringers, and the bells were utilised throughout the afternoon and evening.

The Guild form of service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Canon G. E. A. Whitworth), who gave a short address.

Among the visitors present were Mr. J. H. Brothwell, of Treeton, Mr. S. F. Palmer and Mr. J. Thorpe, from Sheffield Cathedral, and two former Gainsborough ringers, Mr. C. A. Hewitt and Mr. E. Dalingwater.

A broken stay on the third bell caused a short halt during the evening, but several of the experts rang the bell to various touches minus this fitting. The ringing ranged from rounds to London Surprise Major.

BOURNEMOUTH RINGER CELEBRATES 76th BIRTHDAY.

Mr. Charles Forfitt, of the St. Peter's company, Bournemouth, celebrated his 76th birthday by ringing the 5th to a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples before evensong on October 23rd: P. W. Witham 1, F. S. Bacon 2, F. S. Beaumont 3, E. S. Warner 4, C. R. Forfitt 5, H. Roberts 6, A. V. Davis (conductor) 7, H. Osborne 8. Mr. Bacon hails from Kent and Mr. Warner from Portsmouth Cathedral, members of the service band standing out to enable them to ring.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS.

The annual dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths keeps its distinctive place among the social events of the ringers' year, and, just as it is the oldest of all the many gatherings of this kind, so it is still the most representative. This annual feast is probably as old as the society itself, and its continuity has seldom, if ever, been broken. It has had its vicissitudes, and its proportions have no doubt varied with the fortunes of the society, but, if in the old days it had a dignity of its own, it has never had greater popularity than since the public revival of the event after the war. It reached its zenith last year in the celebration of the tercentenary and the interest of that great occasion could hardly have been expected to be maintained. Nevertheless, the officers must feel highly gratified with the success achieved last Saturday, when the attendance was well over two hundred and the occasion proved to be a veritable 'gathering of the clans.' The opportunity of meeting friends from all parts of the country is not the least happy feature of this festival, and we should imagine that half of the company could be termed 'provincials,' come to town to share in the proceedings with their London brethren.

Since the tercentenary celebration last November, the society has lost, as all our readers know, its most outstanding figure in Mr. William Cockerill. After forty-six years' service as hon. secretary he handed over the reins of office in the week following the festival, but lived only a few short months. It was natural that there should be sympathetic references on Saturday to the loss which the society thus sustained, but there was on the following day a little ceremony in the belfry of St. Paul's Cathedral which further marked the position which Mr. Cockerill held in the esteem and admiration of the members. A bust of the late secretary, modelled about nine years ago, was placed in the ringing chamber, together with a bookcase as a memorial to a cherished leader. That memorial will long remain as a reminder to future generations of College Youths of loyal service and sterling character. It will require no little effort to live up to the ideals which Mr. Cockerill set before himself and which he so successfully maintained, and it is a signal of well deserved honour accorded to his memory that his bust should find a place in the belfry where for so long he served the Church and acted as leader of the ringers. It was the forethought of Mr. E. Alex Young that made this thing possible. Mr. Cockerill always shrank from any kind of self advertisement, and it was only with the greatest difficulty that he was persuaded to sit for this portrait. That he eventually did so and that the bust,

THE LATE MR. W. T. COCKERILL.

MEMORIALS IN ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL BELFRY.

A fitting memorial to the late Mr. William T. Cockerill, for 46 years hon. secretary of the Ancient Society of College Youths, has been placed in the ringing chamber of St. Paul's Cathedral, where for so long he was the 'skipper.' About nine years ago, at the request of Mr. E. Alexander Young, Mr. Cockerill sat to Miss Hiley for a bust of himself. This, when completed, was exhibited at the Royal Academy and won for the sculptor high encomiums, for it was the first work that she had submitted. After the exhibition, the bronze remained in the possession of Mr. Cockerill, and now, with the permission of the Cathedral authorities, it has found a permanent place in the Cathedral belfry. The bust is life-size, upon a pedestal of Hoptonwood marble, designed by Mr. Young. It stands in the belfry upon a corbel placed in the wall just above a seat which Mr. Cockerill so often used to occupy near the boxes of the tenth and eleventh. In addition to the bust is a fine polished oak bookcase of exquisite workmanship, which has been presented by Mr. W. S. B. Northover, of Bridport, Dorset.

The gifts were handed over on Sunday morning, before the usual service ringing. The Archdeacon of London represented the Cathedral authorities, and those present, in addition to Mr. Young and Mr. Northover, were Miss Hiley, the Master of the College Youths (Mr.

THE BUST OF THE LATE MR. W. T. COCKERILL.

E. H. Lewis), Mr. A. B. Peck (hon. secretary), Mr. A. A. Hughes (hon. treasurer), Mr. J. Waugh (junior steward), Mr. A. Paddon Smith and Mr. and Mrs. A. Walker (Birmingham), Mr. J. T. Dyke (Chilcompton), Mr. W. A. Osborn (North Cadbury) and, of course, the Cathedral ringers.

The Master explained the object of the ceremony and said the memorials were being placed in the belfry by the permission of the Dean and Chapter.

Mr. Young, in handing over the bust, said the thought occurred to him some years ago that they ought to preserve some tangible recollection of Mr. Cockerill, and he thought of the idea of a bust. He had great difficulty in persuading Mr. Cockerill to sit to an artist, but eventually Miss Hiley produced the very lifelike piece of sculpture which they saw. The idea at the time was that it should remain the property of Mr. Cockerill during his life and afterwards pass into the possession of the society, and he (Mr. Young) was there that day formally to hand it over.

In presenting the bookcase, Mr. Northover said he offered it as a small tribute of his esteem and affection for Mr. Cockerill. It was a privilege to claim acquaintance with Mr. Cockerill, and any man who could do so was the better for it.

The Archdeacon expressed his pleasure at being able to take part in the ceremony and said how pleased, also, the Dean and Chapter were to do anything for the society. He (the Archdeacon) knew Mr. Cockerill for many years and he knew what a sterling man he was. He took the opportunity of saying how much the Dean and Chapter appreciated all that the ringers of St. Paul's Cathedral were doing.

The ceremony concluded with the Master thanking the Archdeacon for his kindness in coming up into the tower, and the Dean and Chapter for permission to place the memorials in the belfry.

The bookcase, which is combined with a table, will stand in the centre of the belfry and house some of the society's old peal and name books.

PEAL NOTES.

ONE HUNDRED ONE-PART PEALS.

Mr. T. E. Sone, one of the Kent County Association's leading conductors, makes a hobby of calling new compositions, and he has completed an interesting achievement in having now conducted 100 different one-part peals. They are made up of Grandsire Triples (Holt's Original 33 times) 1, Grandsire Caters 5, Double Norwich 1, Bob Major 2, Bob Royal 1, Treble Bob Maximus 1, Treble Bob Royal 14, Treble Bob Major 75.

It was Arthur Knight's composition of Treble Bob, No. 425, rung for the first time, on October 29th, that completed the century of one-parts, and it was the 75th different composition by Mr. Knights that Mr. Sone has called, 72 of them having been rung for the first time.

The peal which made up this total was rung at Frittenden, Kent, and was Mr. Sone's 199th as conductor. It was a birthday compliment to Messrs. C. H. Sone (71), L. W. Jarvis, W. A. Kitchenside and B. J. Baker. It was Mr. Kitchenside's 75th peal and Mr. F. H. Hicks' 50th. The bells at St. Agatha's Church, Brightwell, Berkshire, were installed 130 years ago, but it was not until last Saturday week that the first peal was rung on them. Four methods of Doubles were rung, and it was the first attempt for a peal made by three of the band.

To enable Mr. Fred Brightman to ring a peal in his native village of Morton, Lincolnshire, a peal in seven Minor methods, ranging from London to Plain Bob, was rung on October 29th.

As a farewell to the Vicar of Hartlip, Kent, Canon C. G. Mutter, a peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung on October 29th. The band included two ladies, one of whom rang her first peal, and it was the first peal of Doubles by all the ringers.

A LADY'S ACHIEVEMENT.

By calling a peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, on November 5th, Miss Sylvia R. E. Bowyer has now conducted peals in this method on six, eight, ten and twelve bells this year. She is the first lady to call peals of Cambridge from Minor to Maximus.

Her total peals this year have considerably exceeded the lady's record set up by herself in 1937, and the peal on Saturday was the 25th which she and Mr. Cecil Pipe have rung together this year.

She had added Cambridge Surprise Minor to the peals which she has conducted only the previous week, when she called seven 720's at Stutton, Suffolk, the first peal of Surprise on the bells and also the quickest. The tenor is 12 cwt. and the peal was rung in 2 hours 43 minutes.

A band should have met at Sprooughton, Ipswich, on Sunday, October 30th, for a peal in four Minor methods. Five of them turned up, but one was absent. Mr. Fred Mee stepped into the breach and a peal in three methods was rung. The rest are especially grateful to him for helping them out, as Messrs. Alan Andrews and Harry J. Millatt had cycled 20 miles in the rain from Thorington, Essex, for the peal.

Another peal made possible at the last minute by a willing substitute was rung at Rainham, Kent, where on Saturday Mr. Walter Dobbie, of Sittingbourne, made up a band for Superlative at a few hours' notice in response to a series of telegrams.

A peal of Grandsire Triples was rung for evening service at Clifford, Herefordshire, on Sunday, October 30th. It was the 49th peal in the tower and Mr. J. P. Hyett's 249th peal. He has now rung each bell in this tower to a peal of Grandsire Triples.

A peal of Bob Minor was rung at St. John-the-Evangelist's Church, Penge, Kent, on November 2nd, in honour of the Feasts of All Saints and All Souls, and of the Gift Day at St. John's on the previous Sunday. It was also rung to mark the completion of two years' very successful ministry in the parish by the Vicar, the Rev. B. P. Mohan.

Four ladies took part in a peal of Minor at Polstead, Suffolk, on Friday, the first in four methods by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wright. It was the first peal on the bells for the Suffolk Guild.

A band of Sunday service ringers at Chipping Norton, Oxfordshire, rang a peal of Grandsire Triples on Saturday. Mr. Albert Newman has been captain of the tower for 35 years, and it is 30 years since he rang his previous peal. We hope, however, that it will not be long before he rings another.

Forty years ago last Saturday, Mr. George R. Newton, of Liverpool, rang his first peal. This was at Woodchurch, Cheshire. He celebrated the anniversary by calling a peal of Stedman Caters at St. Nicholas', Liverpool, and it happily coincided with the twentieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Claude I. Davies. Mr. Davies is now hon. treasurer of the Lancs. Association, and he took part in the peal.

In memory of the men of Coalbrookdale who fell in the Great War, a half-muffled peal of Bob Royal was rung on Saturday.

Another half-muffled peal, to commemorate the Armistice, was that rung at Longton, Staffs, on Saturday. It had been arranged for Nov. 12th, but had to be brought forward, owing to circumstances.

Although only 19 years of age, Geoffrey Murphy, of Crayford, has just rung his one hundredth peal. There is no holding these Crayford youngsters. Teddy Barnett III. set the pace and the others are trying to live up to it.

The first peal of Belgrave Surprise Major by all the band and for the Norwich Diocesan Association was rung at Pulham on Saturday.

Ickleton Church, where a peal of Double Norwich was rung on Saturday is one of the few which have a sanctus bell hung outside the spire. Saturday's peal was a birthday compliment to Mr. E. Lilley, who was for many years a ringer at this church.

The peal of 5,040 Bob Major at Bromley, Kent, on October 31st, was rung on the 57th anniversary of the first peal rung for the Kent County Association, a peal of Bob Major, 5,040 changes, in 2 hours 50 minutes, at St. Mary's, Prittenden. It was conducted by Thomas Daynes, grandfather of Mr. G. H. Daynes, the conductor of the commemorative peal, last week. Incidentally it was also the 51st anniversary of the first time Mr. I. Emery rang at Bromley. The conductor would like to take this opportunity of thanking the Vicar and the Bromley ringers for making this peal possible, and also all those who so kindly took part in it.

When Mr. Daniel Smith, of Felkirk, rang his one hundredth peal on Saturday at Arksey he called a new composition of Treble Bob Major by Mr. George Lewis, of Sheffield, which contains the 6th its extent in 5-6, in 13 courses.

The peal was rung to commemorate the patronal festival of All Saints' Church, and also in honour of the 21st birthday (on November 1st) of Mr. G. W. Clark, the youngest son of Mr. G. Clark, the ringer of the treble. The ringers were entertained to tea after the peal by Mr. G. Clark and his family.

The peal of Minor in seven Surprise methods at Maulden, Bedfordshire, was rung on All Saints' Day at the request of the Rector.

The first peal on the bells at Brentwood, Essex, was Kent Treble Bob Major on November 3rd, 1888. A jubilee peal was rung last week in the same method. It had been hoped to ring the same composition, but all attempts to obtain the 1888 figures were unsuccessful.

A peal of Minor in three methods was rung on Oct. 29th at West Hallam, Derbyshire, as a welcome to the new Rector, the Rev. W. R. Lloyd Jones, who was inducted on the previous day. It had been intended to ring a peal of Major, but the band met short. When they did start, however, they pushed the bells along at speed and completed the seven 720's in exactly two hours and a half, thus ringing the quickest peal on the bells. The tenor is 9 cwt.

Mr. T. G. Myers, who called a peal of Bob Major at St. George's Church, Stonehouse, Plymouth, on Saturday, has now rung each bell in the tower to a peal.

Coalpit Heath, Gloucestershire, has lost a valued churchworker by the death of Mr. George E. Newman, who was an associate member of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association. He was connected with the church for 50 years and while a churchwarden started a fund to provide the bells as a 'thankoffering for peace after war, 1914-18' as the inscription on the tenor says. He also gave the third bell in memory of his wife, who died in 1920. On November 2nd, a half-muffled peal of Minor was rung in his memory.

HUDDERSFIELD AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.*SPECIAL METHODS FOR MONTHLY MEETINGS.

A very enjoyable meeting of the Huddersfield and District Association was held at Armitage Bridge, near Huddersfield, on Saturday, October 29th. Members attended from a wide area, representing the following towers: Almondbury, Lindley, Longwood, Meltham, Huddersfield, Elland, Brighouse, Heptonstall, Northowram, Halifax (All Souls') and Armitage Bridge.

There was some good ringing throughout the day, including Kent, Oxford, Plain Bob, Grandsire and Stedman, but the pleasure was marred to some extent owing to the 3rd bell causing much trouble. The rope kept jumping from the wheel and some ringers found it entirely unmanageable.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, who was assisted by the joint presidents of the association, and he accompanied on the organ, as he later remarked, the finest congregational singing ever heard in the church.

After tea, which was held in the Parish Room, Mr. W. Hargreaves, of Lindley, proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for playing the organ, to the ladies for making tea, and to the local ringers for making the arrangements.—The Rev. T. Mathieson seconded and the Vicar responded.

At the business meeting, the Rev. A. L. Minns took the chair. Four new members were elected, and Brighouse was announced as the venue for the November meeting.

Mr. G. H. Turner, of Northowram, proposed that a special method be studied, to be practised at the monthly meetings. This was carried and the method for the November meeting will be Double Norwich.

The Chairman stressed the point that the special method would on no account dominate the day's programme, and any ringer who did not feel inclined to practise the method would have ample opportunity of ringing the usual methods. This new venture should be very popular, because there are a number of ringers in the district who are desirous of practising the higher methods, but who have had but little opportunity.

Mr. J. Turner, Lindley, was appointed Deputy Ringing Master to relieve the official Ringing Master, or to take charge should the latter be unable to attend.

Ringing was resumed after the meeting, and the offending bell continued to give trouble until, rather late in the evening, a superman arrived, and showed everyone how the bell should be rung. Needless to say, everything followed smoothly and there was a perfect ending to a most enjoyable day.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Members of the Ladies' Guild will join in congratulations to their hon. secretary, Mrs. E. K. Fletcher, to-morrow on the occasion of her birthday.

At the age of 90, Mr. George F. Margetson, of Thundersley, Essex, has had under doctor's orders, but much against his will, to give up active ringing. Mr. Margetson was an enthusiastic leader among ringers in the Essex suburbs of London, in the days when he was at Cligwell Row, and many will remember him for the poetical effusions which he formerly published in the ringing papers.

The peal of eight at Sandbach, Cheshire, have just been retuned and rehung in a new steel frame by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. They were rededicated on Sunday by the Ven. Archdeacon Armitstead, Rector of Sandbach. A meeting of the Chester Diocesan Guild is to be held there on Saturday week.

The annual meeting of the Bristol City Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, which was to have been held at Brislington to-morrow, has been transferred to St. Matthew's, Cotham.

DIAMOND JUBILEE OF ST. PAUL'S BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The account of the opening of St. Paul's Cathedral bells 60 years ago, given in the last issue of 'The Ringing World' by Mr. F. E. Dawe, is interesting, especially to one who rang with most of the worthies mentioned by him over 40 years ago at Sunday service ringing at St. Paul's.

But this is not my reason for writing to you. I want to take objection to Mr. Dawe's remarks in his last two paragraphs (the last especially), which is so glaringly expressed, that it could not be mistaken as referring to the dedication and opening of Winchester Cathedral bells last year.

In these remarks Mr. Dawe has gone quite beyond his depths. As far as I know, he is not in touch with a territorial guild or association as an officer, and therefore is not in a position to judge or criticise, especially our Guild, which has always treated him with the greatest hospitality and respect. If Mr. Dawe wishes to compare the openings of bells 60 years ago with the present day, he is much behind the times. I recollect, before our Guild was formed, the opening of the new eight at Privett by a band of College Youths from London. I wonder what members of our Guild would say to our 'Executive' if such a thing was attempted now?

The Winchester Cathedral opening was a very dignified event in our history, and the majority of our members attended, not to show off their prowess, but just to have a ring on the opening day of their Cathedral bells—to many the event of a lifetime. I hope Mr. Dawe will take these few remarks in the spirit in which they are written and consider his remarks unjustified.

GEORGE WILLIAMS, Master,
Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild.

THE MEMORIAL TO THE LATE MR. J. J. PARKER.

To the Editor.

Sir,—The memorial to the late Mr. J. J. Parker, the well-known composer, which was proposed in February last, has received a great response. The memorial has taken the form of retuning and rehangng all the eight bells in the tower of St. Mary's, Farnham Royal, by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. During the work a crack was discovered in the fifth bell and recasting was necessary. The work was taken in hand soon after Easter and the bells were back again by the end of July. The peal is now in very good condition and the sound is much more mellow than before. The work has been done very well.

The actual cost of the work done by the founders was £238, but extra costs have been incurred by the necessary blocking up of part of the louvres and the redecoration of the belfry and the tablet to be placed in the church. Up to date we have received £215, and if we receive the donation promised by the Oxford Diocesan Guild the £238 will be very nearly reached.

May we take this opportunity of thanking all those associations and individual bellringers all over the country who have contributed to the fund?

The Oxford Diocesan Guild are holding a meeting at St. Mary's, Farnham Royal, to-morrow (Saturday), and at 4.30 there will be a short thanksgiving service. A notice of the meeting will be found in the 'Notices' column. We will be glad to see any who wish to come.

R. A. CRAWLEY-BOEVEY, Hon. Treasurer.

BIRTHDAY COMPLIMENT.

As a birthday compliment to Miss Kathleen Hughes, of the White-chapel Foundry, daughter of the Master of St. Lawrence Jewry Guild, the members on Sunday, Oct. 30th, rang a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: W. Murrell 1, A. Allen 2, E. Murrell 3, F. C. Shorter (conductor) 4, M. Hodgson 5, R. Allen 6, A. A. Hughes 7, E. Owen 8.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—44.

DANIEL SMITH.

For the past three or four years Mr. Daniel Smith, of Shafton, Barnsley, has headed the list of conductors for the Yorkshire Association, although only last Saturday he rang his one hundredth peal, sixty-two of which he has called.

Attached to the six-bell band at Felkirk, Yorkshire, Mr. Smith has naturally devoted most of his attention to Minor ringing, in which he has achieved some noteworthy successes, for among the peals which he has called have been one in 35 spliced methods, two in 25, two in 20, three in 14 and one in 10 methods, and 11 peals consisting of seven Surprise methods.

Mr. Smith is a native of Gloucestershire, having been born at Ruardean on November 8th, 1896, but he did not begin ringing until early in 1925, when he learned to handle a bell at Felkirk. Previous to that he had not the slightest idea what bellringing was, and the only thing he regrets is that he did not take it up earlier in life, for he feels he missed a lot of pleasure.

His first peal was one of Bob Minor at Felkirk, rung on February 26th, 1927, and it was, for the ringers, a memorable performance. It was the first attempt for a peal by all the band and the first by a local band on the bells. There had been no change ringing by local ringers at Felkirk until about 1921, and when it was started none of them understood much about it, but by assiduous study of Snowdon's 'Ropesight' and knowledge gained by attending the monthly meetings of the Barnsley and District Society, the band soon made headway.

Mr. Smith rang his first peal as conductor on March 5th, 1932, when he called seven 720's in seven Treble Bob methods at Felkirk. Naturally he values the spliced peals, as they have been rung by mixed bands from various towers in the district and without practice. His record also includes a non-conducted peal at Felkirk in seven Treble Bob Minor methods.

Mr. Smith was appointed hon. secretary of the Barnsley and District Society in January, 1937, and last June was elected on the General Committee of the Yorkshire Association.

MR. DANIEL SMITH.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION'S DINNER.

ENJOYABLE EVENING AT CHORLEY.

The seventh annual dinner of the Lancashire Association was held on October 29th, Chorley Town Hall being the venue. The chair was taken by the president (the Rev. A. Scott), who was supported by the Mayor of Chorley, the Rev. T. C. Porteus (Vicar of St. George's, Chorley), the Rev. W. S. Mellor (Rector of Standish), Mr. C. I. Davies (hon. treasurer of the association), Mr. W. H. Shuker and Mr. T. Wilson (hon. secretaries), and several members of the committee. Although the company was not as large as in former years, it was a happy gathering. The dinner, admirably served by Messrs. J. Booth and Son, was cooked twelve miles away and brought to the Town Hall in containers, but it came to the tables as if prepared on the spot.

After the toast of 'The King,' the Rev. T. C. Porteus proposed 'Prosperity to the Lancashire Association,' to which Mr. G. R. Newton (Liverpool) responded.

Mr. F. G. Bradley (Whittle-le-Woods) gave the toast of 'Our Guests,' which was acknowledged by the Mayor of Chorley.

The health of the Chairman /was drunk on the call of the Rev. W. S. Mellor.

The Revellers' Concert Party entertained the company between the speeches, and Mr. and Miss Booth contributed selections of old and new tunes on their handbells.

A very enjoyable evening was spent, although there was deep regret that the Rector of Chorley had recently died.

During the afternoon visitors had had the opportunity of ringing at both the Parish Church and the Roman Catholic Church, each of which has a ring of eight bells.

THE ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS

ANNUAL GATHERING IN LONDON.

Yorkshire President on Ringers' 'Inheritance.'

Although it was not to be expected that the enthusiasm and interest aroused last year in the College Youths' annual gathering by the tercentenary celebrations could be repeated this year, Saturday's proceedings in London proved highly successful and brought together a representative company from all parts of the country. Ringing took place at a number of city churches during the afternoon, service was held in the Church of St. Michael, Paternoster Royal, on College Hill, and afterwards a company numbering nearly 220 dined together at Cannon Street Hotel.

The service at St. Michael's was largely attended. The Rector (the Rev. Canon Douglas) officiated, the lesson from Ecclesiasticus xlv., beginning 'Let us now praise famous men,' was read by the Master of the Society (Mr. E. H. Lewis), and the sermon was preached by the Rev. Canon C. C. Marshall (president of the Yorkshire Association). The hymns were 'O God, our help in ages past' and 'We love the place.' Before the address five Stepney ringers rang a perfect course of Grandsire Cateters on handbells: H. E. Thompson 1-2, J. A. Waugh 3-4, L. J. Fox 5-6, G. W. Cecil 7-8, T. G. Fox 9-10.

Canon Marshall based his address upon the words, 'As poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing and yet possessing all things' (II. Corinthians, vi., 10). Having had a fairly long connection with bellringing in Yorkshire, he said, he felt, in speaking at that annual service of the Ancient Society, he was somehow getting back to deep foundations; getting in touch with the society which was actually concerned with the birth of change ringing just over 300 years ago. The child which was then born had had a rather chequered career, and the Exercise, to use a good old word, had passed through many phases, some good and some not so good. They stood to-day as inheritors of the past, which had been handed down to them. Their inheritance was not just those things which, for a time, they had gathered round them, as a child sitting on the floor gathered all its toys around it, but which in time must be taken from them. Real possessions were those things which were part of themselves, something which no one could take from them, not even death, and something, correspondingly, which, because it was part of themselves, they could really share with others—patience, long suffering, pureness, kindness and truth. He bade his hearers think of the inheritance which they possessed in their art of change ringing as members of that Ancient Society. If that possession was to be real it must be part of themselves, and not just some pastime, which they had added to their life, and which they enjoyed, but something which, because it was of value, they had tried to build into their life. One or two things surely followed from this. First, and he admitted they were truisms, they should always give their best to this inheritance. Nothing less than that must suffice; no careless slipshod ringing, but good striking, good raising and falling; their best whatever it might be; no unpunctuality, no failure to turn up. All those things were ways in which they could add to the real value of their inheritance. Secondly, because this inheritance was really part of themselves, it was something which could and must be shared with others—'as poor, but making many rich.' There were ringers who were not sharers. They thought only of getting peals and would not share in what was often the drudgery of teaching others. What they possessed, if it were really part of themselves, they must always be ready to share to the utmost with others, otherwise it was not true possession. Among the other wonderful possessions which ringing gave them were their own memories, their fellowships, their visits to other churches. He urged them to value these possessions to the utmost and hand on their gifts to those who follow. Above all else their inheritance must be for the service which they were privileged to give to the church of Christ. As they all knew, that had not always been the thought behind bellringing, and he was afraid it was not always so to-day, although, of course, a tremendous change had come about. But if their possession was to be held most truly valuable, it must be the service which they were privileged to render in the Church.

THE DINNER.

The Master (Mr. E. H. Lewis) presided at the dinner, and Mr. E. P. Duffield (the immediate past master) was in the vice-chair. Among those present were the Ven. Archdeacon of London, the Rev. Canon C. C. Marshall, the Rev. Canon G. F. Coleridge (Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild), Major J. H. B. Hesse (Master of the Guildford Diocesan Guild), the Rev. H. H. Longuet-Higgins, M.C. (Rector of Brasted), Capt. Cann (Brookwood), the Rev. Canon Douglas (St. Michael's), the Rev. A. Lombardini (St. Lawrence Jewry), the Rev. H. J. Fynes-Clinton (St. Magnus'), the Rev. W. Pennington-Bickford (St. Clement Danes), the Rev. A. A. G. Thurlow (Wokingham), Major F. A. Yorke (Durham), Mr. G. W. Fletcher (hon. secretary of the Central Council), Messrs. A. A. Hughes (hon. treasurer of the society), A. B. Peck (hon. secretary), C. F. Winney and H. R. Newton (trustees), L. R. Porter and J. Waugh (stewards). Ringers were present from many parts of the country, especially the home counties, and many came from distant places such as Bath, Birmingham, Bridport, Brighton, Bristol, Cardiff, Coventry, Eastbourne, Ipswich, Kettering, Manchester, Newcastle-under-Lyme, Newbury, Newport, Plymouth, Portsmouth, Reading, Salisbury, Sheffield, Somerset, Winchester, etc.—a testimony to the widespread interest which is taken in this annual gathering.

VETERAN COLLEGE YOUTHS.

MEMBERS FOR OVER HALF A CENTURY.

During dinner, the Master 'took wine' with those who had been members of the society for 60 years, and to this Messrs. W. D. Smith, F. E. Dawe and C. F. Winney responded. He then 'took wine' with those who had been members over 50 years, and three others joined the little group, Canon G. F. Coleridge and Messrs. H. R. Newton and R. T. Hibbert. These veterans were received with loud applause.

The Master, in discharging what he described as a traditional duty at these gatherings of the society, proposed the toast of 'The Church,' and said he would like to continue a little bit the argument which he started four weeks earlier at Sheffield, when he had to propose the toast of 'Church and State.' On that occasion he finished by pointing out that it was a rather curious position in which the Church found itself, that the last word in the matters of order and the church services had to be settled by Parliament, of which none of the members need necessarily be members of the Church. He suggested that before long, when they had tidied up international affairs, this was one of the things that would have to be settled in this country. That night he would like to go a little further and to suggest that, curious as was the position at present, it might be of some good after all. He remembered when, before the war, a certain politician was trying to disestablish the Welsh Church and doing other things, for which purpose he thought it would be useful to get rid of the House of Lords, a political meeting was held in his (the speaker's) old parish of Frodsham, and the chairman, referring to the question of the House of Lords, asked the audience, what was the most important part of a motor-car. One or two suggestions came from the back of the hall, but the chairman explained that he considered the most important part of the car was the brake. He (Mr. Lewis) was quite sure that was not a bad thing in the case of the new Prayer Book. He was not sure that churchpeople as a whole were ready for the change when it was proposed, and he was not sure they had sufficiently got used to the machinery for expressing themselves, so as to convey a fair general opinion of the Church, through the Church Assembly. That would come as they got educated to it. He felt that the Church in this country, and very much more so in other countries, was going to be 'up against it' in the next few years, and it was most important that they, as a Church, should be united, know what they wanted and say so authoritatively through the Church Assembly (applause).

KING'S MAN AND CHURCHMAN.

Continuing, the Master returned to the subject of ringers and beer bottles, which had been mentioned at the Yorkshire dinner. The Archdeacon of Sheffield said he was glad to hear that at the time their Ancient Society was founded ringers had nothing to do with the Church, and, therefore, he was less disturbed at hearing that beer bottles were occasionally found in belfries in those bad old days. He (Mr. Lewis) did not quite say that. What he did say was that at the time their society was founded the Church did not allow any bell-ringing in connection with her services, and, therefore, all ringing that was done, was done more or less for secular purposes, national occasions and as a pastime; but it was not true to say that ringers had nothing to do with the Church. He was sure their founder (Lord Brereton), who suffered severely a few years later for his views, was a keen churchman. They knew he was a keen King's man, and for that reason it was fair to assume that he was a keen churchman.

On the wider question of the position of the Church, Mr. Lewis said he was sure the various branches of the Catholic Church, while retaining their separate identities, could co-operate, and must co-operate very much more than they had done, if they were to meet the terrible menace of the various ideologies, which were definitely anti-Church and definitely anti-Christian, on the Continent of Europe to-day. When he said the Churches should co-operate, he did not suggest physical amalgamation, and there came to his mind the parallel which he could not help mentioning, because he felt quite certain it was possible that their friends, the Cumberland Youths and other ringing societies, could retain their identity absolutely and completely and yet co-operate in furthering the art which they all had so close at heart to-day (applause).

At the close of his speech Mr. Lewis said he had been handed a note telling him that beer was never bottled before 1788 (laughter).

He coupled with the toast the name of the Archdeacon of London, at whose suggestion, said Mr. Lewis, the splendid service in St. Paul's Cathedral on the occasion of their tercentenary last year was held.

The Archdeacon of London, in reply to the toast, said he was sure they were all with the Master in the great desire he had expressed that in these days, with all the evil they had to fight against, they should have as much unity as they could among all branches of the great Church (applause). They could not expect to have uniformity; but they must work and pray for unity. He laid emphasis on the point that the Church did not consist merely of the parsons; it was the people, as well, who were the Church. The more the members of that old society, and everyone, could bring themselves to realise that they were part and parcel of the Church, their work for the Church would be happier and better done.

ST. PAUL'S BELLS HEARD IN ARCTIC CIRCLE.

He felt that they owed a tremendous debt to the bellringers. Once a month they had at St. Paul's Cathedral a Sunday evening service that was broadcast to the world. One month it so happened that he was taking the service and he sent a message to all those who were listening in different parts of the world and said he hoped he might send a special message to his own relatives. His daughter was listening to it in Madras, his brother in New Zealand, and his cousins in Australia were listening. He had two hundred letters from all parts of the world referring to that service, and in letter after letter mention was made of the joy and happiness of hearing the bells, with which they always began the service at St. Paul's (applause). A lady writing from the Arctic Circle, who would not receive any letters for months from home, was listening to the service, and she wrote, 'You cannot tell what it was for us to hear those bells. We never hear a bell here, and to hear the old chimes and the old bells ringing out brought one home at once.'

'I want you to think of that message reaching hearts all over the world, when it is broadcast, as it is month by month at St. Paul's,' continued the Archdeacon, 'and when you think of the message, think of it as work you are doing for the Church and for our Lord. I want you to feel encouraged that your work is far more appreciated than many of you suppose. You may not hear about it, but it is from occasions such as I have spoken of that we do get to find out what is being felt all over the world by our English-speaking people about the blessing of the bells. Those of you who ring the bells are sending out the message in our country parishes and in our great cities, a message which has been ringing out year after year for hundreds of years. Think of what those towers and those bells could tell us if they could only speak; what they could tell us of all the history of our Church during these last three hundred years and more; what they could tell us of the great Evangelical revival; what they could tell us about the Oxford Movement and about all that is happening to-day. What a wonderful history it would be if we could realise all that the bells could tell us about our Church.'

They had a marvellous opportunity to-day, continued the Archdeacon, of realising that they were workers together in the Church, each doing their particular part not only for the good of the Church, but for the good of the world. If they wanted a Christian world to-day it must come from the work of the Church, the Body of Christ, of which they were all members. They had each their own responsibility and privilege of taking part in the work of the Church, which had been a blessing to the country in the past and which, with God's help, would be a greater blessing in the future. For that end they must each do their little bit, otherwise their part would be missing. There was a place for them all. Let them go from that happy gathering back again to the places to which they belonged in the Church, there to fulfil their duties which would make the Church a blessing, not only to this country, but to the world (applause).

CANON COLERIDGE'S ADVICE TO YOUNG RINGERS.

Canon Coleridge, who proposed the toast of the Ancient Society of College Youths, began with what he termed his 'annual complaint' of delay in the proceedings, which prevented the members who came from the country sharing in as much of the programme as they might otherwise do. They wasted a quarter of an hour at the outset, because dinner did not begin at the appointed time, and another quarter of an hour by an interval after dinner. Did they suppose, he asked, that any guest invited to the Lord Mayor's banquet would dare to come a quarter of an hour late and keep the proceedings waiting, or that the Lord Mayor would announce a quarter of an hour's interval before calling on the Prime Minister? (laughter). The delay made it impossible for him to hear anything of the third page of the programme, for he had to be home to get a night's rest before an arduous Sunday.

He was grateful to those who had shown so much solicitude for his well-being on that occasion, but he assured them that he was still able to travel alone and look after himself.

'You will expert me,' said Canon Coleridge, 'to say a few words about our late beloved secretary. We all loved him; we all had the greatest admiration for the way in which he handled the affairs of this old society. We looked upon him as a true friend and a very wise counsellor. The large number of ringers who turned up at that great service in St. Paul's Cathedral for his funeral, and again at the cemetery, showed the affection and esteem in which he was held. Personally, I feel I have lost a very dear friend, indeed.'

Continuing, Canon Coleridge referred to the serious times through which the country had recently passed, when they were within a few hours of possibly the bloodiest war in the world's history. That by the grace of God through, he verily believed, the prayers of the multitudes who gathered together during those conversations, was staved off. If it had been otherwise not one of them would have been there that night.

He had heard, he went on, that there was a very smart young band coming on in London. They not only handled their own ten bells in masterly style, but attended the College Youths' practices as often as they could. Some of those young men had shown them a sample of what they could do at the service which they had attended that evening, when they rang a course of Grandsire Caters exceedingly well. He asked them, in all seriousness, not to let any female attractions take them away from their job (laughter). There was plenty of time to get married later on (laughter). A former well-known College Youth told him that when he married he made a bargain with his wife. He told her he would not marry her unless she allowed him out three nights a week for ringing (laughter). She looked rather astonished, but agreed to it, and that ringer always had his three nights a week (laughter and applause). 'Bide a bit,' said Canon Coleridge. 'Stick to it and show what you can really do; stick together with one intention and purpose to do your very best, not only in the matter of excellency of striking, but also of goodwill one to another' (applause).

INSPIRATION OF MR. COCKERILL'S EXAMPLE.

Mr. A. B. Peck said he responded to the toast with mixed feelings, sadness that their beloved 'skipper' was not with them that night, but gladness because he realised his spirit was with them. His wonderful example was ever before them; he was an inspiration to the younger men to carry on. He felt personally he could not do better than follow Mr. Cockerill's example and work for the society as the 'skipper' did all his life (applause). When he (Mr. Peck) was elected secretary twelve months ago, Mr. Cockerill told him he would help him all he could, and that was the principal reason that induced him to take on the job; but alas, it was not to be; Mr. Cockerill was soon taken from them.

The society, said Mr. Peck, had had a very quiet year, as they might expect after their wonderful tercentenary year. They had elected 33 new members and held 77 practices, which were attended by 121 different members. Some had attended only once, but one attended 64 times. They had rung 18 peals—two of Minor, two of Bob Major, one of Double Norwich, one of Cambridge Major, three of London Surprise, one of Grandsire Caters, one of Treble Bob Royal, three of Stedman Triples, one of Stedman Caters and three of Stedman Cinques. The most outstanding peal was the half-muffled peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Paul's to Mr. Cockerill's memory; the first half-muffled peal on the bells and a last tribute to their beloved secretary.

The Hon. Secretary went on to announce messages of apology and good wishes from Mr. James George (Birmingham), Mr. M. Northover (Reigate), Mr. S. F. Palmer (Sheffield), Alderman J. S. Pritchett, of Birmingham, wrote that old age (he is 83½) and increasing infirmities prevented him attending. He must be, he said, the 'father' of the society, having been elected on November 10th, 1874. He had always been proud of his membership, and his certificate, framed and glazed, was before him as he wrote. He hoped they would have a record attendance (applause).

A message had also been received from Miss Daisy E. Cockerill, wishing the members a successful and happy evening in the name of her brother and herself. She was very thankful that her father was able to be at the tercentenary dinner last year, as he had been looking forward to it for so long.

Other apologies had been received from the Revs. J. H. Ellison, J. B. Howden, E. G. Turner and R. French, and Messrs. S. H. Wood (Bristol), W. C. Dowding (Birmingham) and E. F. Poppy (Stoke Ash).

The list of members who had passed away during the year was then read by the hon. secretary, while the members remained standing: Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, Messrs. W. Cross, W. T. Pates, A. Riley, W. H. Hollier, W. A. Cooke, George Smith, George Holifield, E. E. Phillips, W. Hughes, G. T. Daltry and W. T. Cockerill; to whom had to be added the Rev. Canon Haldane, who died the previous day.

Continuing, Mr. Peck thanked the various city incumbents for kindly allowing the facilities for practice, and the officers and members for their loyal support during the year.

Mr. Peck concluded by saying that the officers intended to do their best to carry on the traditions of the society, so that they could hand them down to posterity in as good condition as they found them (applause).

MR. L. B. PORTER BECOMES MASTER.

On Tuesday evening the society met at headquarters, the Coffee Pot, Warwick Lane, after ringing practice at St. Paul's Cathedral, to elect officers. The retiring Master, Mr. E. H. Lewis, who has served for two years, was unable to be present, as he had to leave England for Denmark, on business, on Monday.

There had only been one nomination for the respective offices, and the following were duly elected: Master, Mr. Lawrence B. Porter; senior steward, Mr. Jack Waugh; junior steward, Mr. George W. Cecil; hon. treasurer, Mr. A. A. Hughes; hon. secretary, Mr. A. B. Peck; trustees, Messrs. C. F. Winney and H. R. Newton.

SUNDAY SERVICE TOUCHES.

First quarter-peal of Grandsire with a working bell by the ringer of the 2nd, and first quarter-peal in the method by the ringer of the 6th.

HILLINGDON VETERANS HONOURED.

FIFTY YEARS' SERVICE IN ONE TOWER.

Presentations at Ringers' Social.

Two members of the band at St. John's, Hillingdon, Middlesex, have each completed 50 years' service as ringers at their parish church. These are Messrs. J. J. Pratt and W. Honor, born and bred in Hillingdon, when it was a peaceful country village. To-day Hillingdon is swallowed up in that network of great towns that have stretched themselves round the outer fringe of London. But 'through all the changing scenes of life,' Messrs. Pratt and Honor have loyally given their services to their church and the art of ringing, and at a meeting held at Hillingdon on Saturday, October 22nd, presentations were made to them to mark the auspicious anniversary.

The occasion was a very successful joint meeting of the Middlesex County Association, the Oxford Guild and the Ladies' Guild. About 80 members and friends were present from Bayswater, Belvedere,

MR. J. J. PRATT AND MR. W. HONOR.

Billingham, Boyne Hill, Brentford, Camberwell, Clewer (St. Andrew's), Cookham, Ealing (Christ Church and St. Stephen's), Edmonton, Farnham Royal, Harrow, Hillingdon (St. Andrew's and St. John's), Isleworth, Kensington (St. Mary Abbot's), Leytonstone, Prittlewell, Ruislip, Slough, Stoke Poges, Sunbury, Uxbridge, West Grinstead, Westminster (St. Margaret's and St. Stephen's), Willesden, Windsor and Woodburn.

At St. John's, Hillingdon, the ringing was under the supervision of Mr. J. Herbert (Ringing Master). Grandsire Triples, the first touch, was followed by rounds for learners, and subsequently, other standard methods were rung, as well as a course of Cambridge Royal and a course of Kent Treble Bob Royal. As a service touch Stedman Caters were brought round. After tea the ringing included a plain course of Grandsire Caters by ladies only, and Bob Royal. At St. Andrew's, Hillingdon, ringing was delayed until 3.30 p.m. owing to a service, but rounds and all standard methods up to and including Cambridge Surprise were rung under the supervision of Mr. F. Corke, about 25 ringers being present.

Evensong was conducted by the Vicar at St. John's, who gave an eloquent address, stressing the need of putting one's best into everything. He remarked on the need for well-attended practices, so that

MEN WHO TYPIFY THE OLD SPIRIT.

Sunday ringing should be of the best, and said that outsiders, even though ignorant of ringing matters, noticed if the bells were not rung properly and if only six were going where there was a peal of eight.

Following the usual substantial tea, always so well arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Goodfellow, the vice-president (Mr. J. A. Trollope) referred to the recent remarks in 'The Ringing World' on the question of joint meetings which were now being so successfully held. With regard to the suggestion made at a meeting at Kingston for a national association of ringers, he did not think this was necessary, providing the districts were well organised and that they cultivated co-operation between themselves and with the Church authorities.

The presentations were made prior to a 'social,' arranged by Mr. F. W. Goodfellow and his colleagues, with Mr. W. H. Coles as M.C.

The Vicar of St. John's (the Rev. A. M. Bashford) said it was a very great occasion for Hillingdon Church and the parish, the achievement of their two ringers was a wonderful record indeed. It reflected tremendous credit on those who had given such loyal and splendid service.

Alderman Craig said Mr. Honor and Mr. Pratt had been stalwarts of the village for very many years. The Hillingdon of to-day had lost its old entity, and little of the old village or its spirit, which many of them remembered with so much pleasure, remained. 'In those days,' said Mr. Craig, 'everyone knew everyone else and we called each other by our Christian names. To-day we are entirely submerged. There is very little of the old Hillingdon village, or the old Hillingdon spirit best represented by the service of Mr. Honor and Mr. Pratt left.'

He welcomed the opportunity to pay tribute to these two men who typified that old spirit of service, cheerfully and loyally rendered, the spirit which was so much needed to-day.

On behalf of the churchwardens and the people of Hillingdon, he associated himself with the presentation. He hoped Hillingdon would never lack such men of spirit.

Mr. W. H. Coles added a word of congratulation from the bell-ringers.

Mr. Pratt was presented with a lounge chair and Mr. Honor with a handsome chiming clock, tobacco pouch and pipe, and both made brief but suitable responses.

Dancing, to the strains of the 'Lambeth Walk' and other popular numbers, was much enjoyed. A 'serious operation' took place in full view of the audience and caused much amusement and some trepidation. The victim, however, soon recovered and seemed pleased to have got off for 'five bob.' A number of amusing games followed, including variations of 'Oranges and Lemons,' the 'Wedding Night' and others, and a well-conducted spelling bee contest between the Middlesex, Oxford and Ladies' Guild was won, amid much applause, by the ladies with 13 points, Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. Botham and Mrs. Housden winning full marks.

A hearty vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. G. W. Fletcher and carried with acclamation to the Vicar of Hillingdon (the Rev. A. M. Bashford, M.A.), the Vicar of St. Andrew's (the Rev. R. Home), Alderman G. G. Craig and Mr. J. H. Coleman (churchwardens), Mr. Sayer (organist), Messrs. F. F. Smith and F. Corke (steeplekeepers) and to all those who made the arrangements for the tea and social, viz., Mr. and Mrs. Goodfellow, the Misses Darvill, Coles, Haynes, Barker, Gutteridge and Dean, and to the secretary.

Coffee and light refreshments were served during the evening and the proceedings terminated about 11 p.m.

JOY BELLS AT TUNSTALL.

The ringers at Tunstall, Kent, assembled at 1 p.m. on Friday, September 30th, to proclaim the joy and thanks of the parish for the preservation of peace by ringing touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Cambridge Surprise.

On Thanksgiving Sunday, they rang a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples. The ringers taking part were Miss B. Spice, J. Spice, Mrs. G. H. Spice, G. H. Spice, W. E. Spice, Mrs. E. H. Spice, W. Spice, sen. (conductor), G. Webb, J. Webb, Miss F. Hollands and G. Kenward.

THANKSGIVING TOUCHES.

At Coseley, Staffs, for harvest festival evensong, on Sunday, October 2nd, at Christ Church, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: W. A. Jeavons 1, J. Holden (first quarter-peal) 2, W. Fisher 3, A. Cope 4, W. Grinsell 5, S. Baker 6, J. D. Holden (first quarter-peal as conductor) 7, F. Holden 8. All are members of the local band.

On Wednesday evening, October 5th, at Rainham Parish Church, for harvest festival, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: H. Morris 1, Miss J. Naylor 2, Miss K. Cheal 3, F. Cheal 4, C. Belsey 5, W. Walker 6, G. Naylor (conductor) 7, R. Edwards 8. On Sunday evening, October 9th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: R. Edwards (first quarter-peal away from tenor) 1, Miss K. Cheal 2, Miss J. Naylor 3, C. Belsey 4, F. Cheal (conductor) 5, W. Walker 6, G. Naylor 7, C. Webb 8.

At Great Baddow, Essex, on Sunday, October 9th, for the harvest thanksgiving service, 1,280 Kent Treble Bob Major: L. Ainger (first quarter-peal of Major) 1, G. Green 2, Miss D. K. French 3, P. Felton 4, Pat Spencer Phillips (first quarter-peal of Major) 5, H. Carter 6, P. Green (composer and conductor) 7, Dr. Spencer Phillips 8.

NOTICES.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.—Preston Branch.—The next meeting will be held at Brownedge (St. Mary's R.C.) on Saturday, November 12th. Eight bells. Tower open 2 p.m.—A. Blogg, Branch Sec., 2, Oak Cottages, Coupe's Fold, Clayton-le-Woods.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.—Northern District.—St. Paul's, Walden. The peal, recently augmented to six by Messrs. ## DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

NEW METHODS AND PROGRESS.

Throughout this year there has been no lack of new methods rung, and the possibility is that, at the present rate of progress, a new record in this direction will be produced. It is due in very large measure to the activities of the Hertfordshire Surprise company, whose efforts in scoring peals in new Surprise methods have been phenomenal in recent months. They are, of course, not the only band to put new names into the peal columns of 'The Ringing World,' but at the moment they seem to have taken the lead from the Framlingham company, who were, just previously, the predominating experts in this direction.

To some people, content with ringing the well-worn methods, this constant breaking of new ground may make little appeal; indeed, some look upon it with an unfavourable eye, because they imagine that only by constant practice at one thing can a method be properly rung. In this, however, they make a profound mistake. Bands who, like the Hertfordshire men, ring a peal in a new Surprise method on an average, say, once a month, are masters of the art, and there is no method, old or new, which they could not ring well, for, unless they rang well, they would fail. They are helping to raise the standard of striking just as much as those old-fashioned ringers who are content all their lives to stick to just one or two methods. But, more than this, they are showing the world the vast possibilities that are to be found in our art, and while no one is compelled to follow them, and few could follow them in the pace they have set, these achievements are an inducement to all ringers to get away from the stagnation that marks all too many bands.

It is not entirely in the Surprise field that this applies, either. There is plenty of opportunity in the plain methods. There is an idea abroad that it is only the Surprise ringers who have any scope. Nothing could be wider of the mark. There may be a more extensive range in Surprise methods—for an obvious reason—but plain methods are to be had in large numbers, and there are many of them worthy of wide practice; indeed, some of them, if studied, will be found to require as much ringing as many in the Surprise class. 'Surprise' is really an overrated word. In these days it refers only to a 'class' of methods; many of them no more difficult to ring than plain methods like Double Norwich, and far less musical. Surprise ringing is not necessarily the only indication of progress. There are many good plain methods that ought to be in more general use, and yet there are not in the plain Major methods, five that are rung as frequently as London, Cambridge, Superlative, Bristol and

MORE NEW METHODS.

At Isleworth, on Saturday, another method was added to the peals of Royal. We have refrained from calling it a 'new' method, although it had never previously been rung, because its existence has long been known. The only surprising thing about it is that such an excellent method has not been in general practice.

Verulam Surprise has now been added to the methods rung for the first time by the Hertfordshire band, whose activities in this direction seem unending. The peal was rung at Bushey on Nov. 5th. Unfortunately, they have had to wipe one off the slate; the composition which was used for Newbury Surprise last July having been found false for that method.

Verulam is a name which comes from an old Roman source. St. Albans stands on the site of the old Roman city of that name.

Mr. Maurice Hibbert, of Bushey, is the first to ring 200 tower-bell peals for the Hertford County Association. He reached this total on November 10th, when the first peal of Deben Surprise was rung for the association, as well as by all the band.

Two days later they added yet another to their many new Surprise methods, when, without previous practice, they scored a peal of Tilehurst Surprise Major at Tilehurst, Berks. It was rung as a compliment to Mr. H. Goodger, who has been a ringer at Tilehurst for 53 years.

As a compliment to Mr. Ladds, vergor and parish clerk of St. Peter's, Tempsford, Beds, on his 76th birthday, the lads of the belfry rang a peal of Kent Treble Bob Minor on Nov. 8th. We say the 'lads' because we are informed that they are all single young men. It was the first peal of Kent by all of them.

The ringers of a wedding peal of Doubles at Dilwyn, Herefordshire, had a narrow escape on November 7th. As the bells were being lowered in peal at the finish, the 2nd rope broke!

The peal had been rung after the marriage of Miss Margaret Eckley and Mr. David Barrar, of Eardisland, the bride's father ringing the tenor. The ringers were afterwards entertained by the bride's parents. Messrs. A. T. Wingate and E. F. Salmon rang their 25th peal together.

Arranged to celebrate the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. C. Longden, of Macclesfield, a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Gawsorth, Cheshire, on November 9th, by Sunday service ringers from Christ Church, Macclesfield. Two grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. Longden, Messrs. Harry and Gerald Farrer, took part in the peal, which was also a birthday compliment to William Gayes.

FORTY YEARS ON.

A peal of Stedman Triples was rung at St. Michael and All Angels' Church, Bishopwearmouth, on Saturday, on the 40th anniversary of the first peal of Stedman in the county of Durham, which was rung at this church on Saturday, November 12th, 1898, by R. G. Chichester 1, Thomas Hudson 2, William T. Robson 3, William Storey 4, Robert C. Hudson 5, Robert Richards 6, Frederick J. Harrison (conductor) 7, Robert L. Patterson 8.

Of this band only Mr. Patterson took part in the commemorative performance, and before the peal the Rev. J. P. Pelloe led the company in prayers to the memory of ringers of the 2nd, 3rd, 5th, 6th and 7th, in the peal of 40 years ago, who have since passed on.

Mr. Maurice G. Turner celebrated his twenty-first birthday by calling Holt's Original at All Saints', West Bromwich, on November 5th. It was his first peal as conductor, and the way in which he called the peal left no doubt as to his ability. Those who know the Original will best appreciate the merit of this performance.

A peal of Grandsire Doubles at Wootton, Oxfordshire, on November 5th, which is also recorded this week, is another meritorious performance. It was rung by the Sunday service ringers at this church and was the first peal and first attempt by all the band except the conductor.

Three peals of Bob Major were rung in three days at Surfleet last week, two on handbells, with one on tower bells sandwiched between. Mr. A. F. Sargent, of Kelham Theological College, Notts, was on a visit to Lincolnshire, and he rang his first peal on tower bells. The first of the handbell peals was Mr. Rupert Richardson's 450th peal for the Lincoln Diocesan Guild.

The anniversary of the dedication of the bells at Christ Church, Bradford-on-Avon, was celebrated by a peal of Grandsire Triples on Saturday.

An Armistice commemoration peal of Superlative was rung at Wilton, Taunton, on November 10th. This was a thoughtful action on the part of the ringers, who felt that prolonged ringing on Armistice night might be a source of disturbance to nearby residents, who desired to listen to the broadcast of the Festival of Remembrance.

The conductor (Mr. W. H. Lloyd) and Messrs. A. H. Reed and W. G. Gigg rang their first peal of Superlative, and Mr. Gigg rang his sixtieth peal. The conductor took part in a peal of Superlative at Loughborough Bell Foundry as long ago as 1924, but the composition afterwards turned out to be false.

The first peal on the bells at Goodnestone, near Canterbury, was rung on Nov. 5th. It was in three Minor methods, and Mr. Harry Stringer rang his first peal. Afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Stringer extended their hospitality to the ringers, who much appreciate the kindness thus shown to them.

Mr. James P. Hyett, of Hay, Herefordshire, rang his 250th peal on Nov. 5th, when at the five-bell tower of Whitney-on-Wye he called a peal in five Doubles methods.

FORMER ESSEX MASTER HONOURED.

Mr. C. H. Howard, of Braintree, who was Master of the Essex Association for 25 years up to 1934, reached his 70th birthday on Saturday week. In his honour 22 members of the association went peal ringing and three peals were rung, Superlative Surprise at St. Michael's, Braintree, where he rang for so many years and was at one time churchwarden, Kent Treble Bob Major at Feering, and seven Minor methods at Belchamp St. Paul's.

The six-bell peal was Mr. Ralph Bird's fortieth peal of Minor. The peal at Feering was, in addition to the birthday compliment, a welcome to the new Vicar, the Rev. C. W. Gibleon.

A band of ex-Service men rang a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Ashted, Surrey, on Saturday, to commemorate the 20th anniversary of the Armistice. With one exception, the same band rang a peal ten years ago. We hope they will be able to repeat the performance in ten years' time.

An ex-Service men's Armistice peal was also rung at Beaconsfield, Bucks, on Saturday, by four East Berks and four South Bucks members of the Oxford Guild. The bells were half-muffled in memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice.

The Leicester 'Thursday' band scored yet another peal when at Oadby on November 10th a four-method peal of Minor was tapped off. The party again included Mr. John Clarke, who, for his age, is doing himself well in the peal world this year. The peal at Oadby was his tenth this year—not bad for 'nearly three score years—and a little bit more.' The Thursday band has been very successful since it was formed in April, having rung 16 peals out of 22 attempts, including four Sunday peals which were attempted on that day instead of on a Thursday.

A peal of Bob Minor was rung at Thorner, Yorkshire, on November 5th, by members of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, as a birthday compliment to the mother of Mr. Joseph Dixon, who has reached the grand old age of 87 years. She lives in the village of Thorner, and it was here that Mr. Joe Dixon, who is now at Gainsborough, learned to handle a bell 25 years ago.

On November 1st a peal in four Doubles methods was rung on the five bells at Eythorne, Kent. It was the first in four methods on the bells and by all the band, who were local ringers and included two ladies. It was rung for the 27th wedding anniversary of the Rector (the Rev. J. W. Horsley) and Mrs. Horsley, and as a birthday compliment to Mr. E. T. Ellender, who rang the tenor.

The peal of Stedman Triples at Erdington, on November 5th, was arranged as a birthday compliment to Mr. Norman S. Power, eldest son of the Vicar, who kindly entertained the ringers to tea in the Vicarage after the peal.

THE J. J. PARKER MEMORIAL.*THANKSGIVING AT FARNHAM ROYAL.

A suitable conclusion to a week of memories was provided when members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild met on Saturday at St. Mary's Church, Farnham Royal, to ring on the bells recently restored in memory of Joseph J. Parker, author of the famous twelve-part peal of Grandsire Triples and many other compositions. We venture to say that Mr. Parker would have been pleased with 'his bells' and the improvement in tone.

Parishioners and ringers joined together in the service, conducted by the Rev. R. A. Crawley-Boevey (curate and ringer), which had 'Thanksgiving' for its theme. The lesson, 'Let us now praise famous men,' was read by one of the ringers.

Tea was enjoyed at the Jolly Butchers, the party including the Master (the Rev. Canon G. F. Coleridge), the general secretary (Mr. R. T. Hibbert), Mr. A. D. Barker (hon. treasurer), Mr. John Evans, Mr. A. Parker (son of the late Mr. Parker) and Miss F. Parker (daughter).

Votes of thanks were passed for the use of the bells and to the unknown donor of the tea. Then, a few words from the Master and Tom Hibbert, and the bells were set going again until 8 p.m.

The bell fund is almost complete, and anyone wishing to contribute should lose no time in sending their donation.

Four Honiton Clist (Devon) men took part in a peal of Grandsire Triples on their own bells on November 4th. Great credit is due to them for the progress they have made. It was much regretted that another of the local band, Mr. E. Retter, could not take part, owing to his not feeling fit.

The secretary of the Elloe Deaneries Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, who will always be a Ladd, however old he may be, began his ringing career on November 5th, 1885, fifty-three years ago. Last Saturday week a complimentary peal was rung at Pinchbeck, where he has so long served the church in many capacities, including those of ringer and churchwarden.

He told us recently that the 60 steps up to the ringing chamber seem about 20 more than was once the case. We only hope that, in their Stygian darkness, he will never fall down their precipitous length.

A band met one short at Glinton, Northamptonshire, on Nov. 5th, when a peal in 14 spliced Surprise methods was to have been attempted, under Mr. Horace Day's conductorship. It looked hopeless, but, nothing daunted, Mr. C. W. Woods set off on a nine-mile cycle ride, found the conductor's son in his garden, persuaded him to 'come along,' and the result was he rang his first peal at the first attempt and a really good one at that. Few ringers can have so unexpectedly rung their first peal.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Hearty congratulations will go out to-morrow to Mr. and Mrs. James Parker, of 45, Walsingham Road, Enfield, upon their golden wedding. They were married at Storrington, Sussex, on November 19th, 1888.

Mr. Parker was leader of the band at Crawley, Sussex, in the early days of Surprise ringing there, and called the record peal of 9,312 Superlative, rung on December 26th, 1894.

On migrating to London, he became Master of the Royal Cumberland Youths, and he still represents them on the Central Council, as he has done, with one interval, since 1897. His daughter is Mrs. E. K. Fletcher, hon. secretary of the Ladies' Guild.

Next Sunday week (November 27th), Mr. James George, 'of England,' whose home is at 44, Cuckoo Road, Nechells, Birmingham, will reach the age of 85 years. Unfortunately, his indisposition, which still painfully persists at times, will prevent him taking any part in ringing for the occasion. He wishes sincerely to thank all those who have called upon him, or written to him, or made inquiries during his illness.

Combined with their good wishes for his birthday, his many friends will hope for Mr. George's speedy return to health and the belfry.

The death of the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, for 38 years hon. secretary of the Kent County Association, is a reminder of the fact that in the 58 years of its existence, the association has had only four general secretaries: The Rev. R. Knatchbull-Hugessen, 1880-1889; the Rev. E. W. Carpenter, 1889-1891; the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, 1891-1929; Mr. F. M. Mitchell, 1929 to the present time.

The clerical peal of Stedman Caters, in which the late Mr. Helmore took part, at Warwick in 1910, was rung by the Revs. H. S. T. Richardson, E. V. Cox, J. F. Hastings, C. W. O. Jenkyn, C. C. Cox, H. A. Cockey, H. L. James, G. F. Coleridge, C. D. P. Davies and F. J. O. Helmore.

The report of the committee of the Lancashire Association states that there are now 1,466 members, of whom 92 were elected in the preceding year. Of the 1,042 resident ringing members, however, only 679 paid their subscriptions. Sixty members are two years in arrears, and 69, who had exceeded this period allowed by the rules, were struck off the roll.

On Thursday week, a mixed band, including visitors from Leicester and Leeds, started for a peal at St. Mary's, Nottingham. After 2½ hours' excellent ringing there was a loud 'thud' and the 8th bell went silent. Examination revealed that the clapper had snapped across 'like a carrot.' The observations of the Leeds visitor, who faced the prospect of arriving home about 2 a.m. with no peal, are unprintable.

At a meeting of the Grimsby District of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild at Scunthorpe, Archdeacon Parry, president of the Northern Branch, was welcomed back after his long illness. A grant of £10 was made to the Burton-on-Stather Bell Fund.

It has been found necessary to postpone the joint meeting of the London County Association and Royal Cumberland Youths, at Hampstead and other North London towers, to December 3rd.

The Sherwood Youths are to have a mid-week meeting next Thursday at St. Peter's, Nottingham.

BELLS BEFORE BROADCAST SERVICES.

B.B.C. TO LOOK INTO QUESTION.

After the broadcast from St. Mary's, Portsea, on October 30th, Mr. E. Barnett, of Crayford, wrote to the B.B.C. protesting against the time taken out of the five minutes allotted to the bells by a description of the church. He added:—

'Surely, if it is necessary to describe the church, you could allot two or three minutes to this beforehand (especially as there is usually an interval of some minutes) and not deprive many people in England of the opportunity of hearing the whole of the ringing, instead of the last few changes, to say nothing of English people abroad to whom the sound of church bells means so much.'

The Director of Religion replied from Broadcasting House: 'The question which you raise will be looked into carefully; but you may have noticed that we deliberately keep notices about the churches from which we broadcast as short as possible; nor is more than half of them noticed in this way. This leaves time for two or three minutes of the bells; and we feel that those who take an interest in church buildings should be considered as well as those who are expert in bellringing.'

EYNESBURY BELLS REHUNG.

On the evening of Remembrance Day, the bells of St. Mary's Church, Eynesbury, St. Neots, Hunts, rang out again to the tune of Grandsire Doubles and Bob Minor after a silence of about three months. The bell frame had become unstable and the gudgeons and bearings were badly worn. The bells also required quarter-turning.

Mr. Alfred Bowell, of Ipswich, was commissioned to do the work, and he and his workmen, Messrs. H. Wellham and V. Waters, are to be congratulated on the result, as after the touches rung on Friday the ringers considered the bells had never gone so well within memory. In addition to strengthening the timber frame with bolts, etc., quarter-turning the bells, and providing new gudgeons and bearings (the 5th and tenor being placed on self-aligning bearings), careful attention has been paid to clappering, with the result that the tone of the bells is much better.

There will probably be a meeting of the Ely Association at Eynesbury in due course.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—45.*ERNEST STITCH.

Master of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association for this year and Southern District secretary of the Swansea and Brecon Diocesan Guild since 1926, Mr. Ernest Stitch, of Port Talbot, Glam., is one of the most active workers in the cause of ringing in those dioceses. He was born at Biddisham, Somerset, on August 4th, 1884, but began his ringing career at St. Mary's, Aberavon, Glam., in 1914. He has been a Sunday service ringer there ever since and has been captain of the tower for the past twelve years.

Mr. Stitch comes of ringing stock. His grandfather was a ringer in Somerset about 80 years ago, and his father and four brothers all learnt to ring, although none of his brothers ring now.

He rang his first peal (Grandsire Triples) at the first attempt at Aberavon on July 5th, 1919, while his first peal as conductor was one of Grandsire Doubles rung at Baglan, Glam., on February 18th, 1926. In November of the same year he called his first peal of Grandsire Triples. He conducted Holt's Original from the 7th at the first attempt at Aberavon in 1931, and has since conducted it 18 times in 15 towers.

He has rung peals in the four standard methods up to ten bells, except Treble Bob Royal and Stedman Doubles, and among the interesting performances in which he has shared have been the only peal at his own tower by a local band, the first peal of London Bob Triples ever rung and peals of St. Clement's Triples, Little Bob Major, Forward Major and Erin Caters when they were rung for the first time in Wales.

His 248 peals, of which he has conducted 56, have been rung in 46 towers in nine counties and for six associations, while he has rung to peals all the bells in one six, one ten and five eight-bell towers.

MR. ERNEST STITCH.*SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. J. W. HOBSON.*A POPULAR HULL RINGER.

The sudden death of John William Hobson, of Hull, on October 21st, at the age of 49 years, came as a great shock to ringing circles on both sides of the River Humber. For a considerable number of years he had been attached to Holy Trinity Church, Hull, where he was a regular member of the company. A very competent and keen exponent of the art, his passing will be a great loss to the neighbouring towers. Of a very genial disposition and very popular wherever he went, he was usually present at the ringing meetings.

On the Saturday previous to his death he was present at the meeting of the Eastern District of the Yorkshire Association held at Sutton-Hull and appeared to be in his usual good health and spirits, while he also rang at Hull the next day.

Although opportunities for peals were not very frequent for him, he had rung peals in most towers in the district. He was a very reliable ringer and generally to be found excelling himself at the heavy end. His last peal was at his own tower last August, when he rang the 9th to Stedman Caters.

On Monday, October 24th, some of his ringing friends met at Holy Trinity Church and rang a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters with the bells half-muffled.

He was a popular figure in North Lincolnshire and was a non-resident member of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild. To pay a tribute to his memory, six members of the Lincoln Guild rang a peal of Minor in seven methods, with the bells half-muffled, at St. Peter's Church, Barton-on-Humber.

A FALSE PEAL.*To the Editor.

Dear Sir.—I regret to say that the peal of Newbury Surprise Major rung at St. James', Bushey, on July 14th, 1938, was false.

The composition, one of Treble Bob by Arthur Knights, is true as such, but is false to Newbury.

I offer my sincere apologies to those who rang in the peal.

H. G. CASHMORE.

LADIES' GUILD.*SUCCESSFUL INAUGURATION OF THE EASTERN DISTRICT.

The inaugural meeting of the new Eastern District of the Ladies' Guild was held at Stowmarket, Suffolk, on Saturday, November 12th. This was a most fitting date, as it coincided with the birthday of Mrs. G. W. Fletcher, hon. secretary and treasurer of the Guild.

In all, 24 ladies attended, including Miss E. Steel, the president of the Guild, Mrs. G. W. Fletcher, Mrs. Massey (Surrey), Mrs. Housden, Mrs. Humphrey and Miss P. Humphrey (London), and ladies from Norfolk, Suffolk and Essex. The gentlemen also availed themselves of the cordial invitation which had been extended to them and turned up in force.

The meeting began with ringing on the bells of the Parish Church. These are a good peal of eight, with a tenor of 24 cwt., but eight ladies rang a good course of Bob Major prior to the service, which was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. F. Tucker-Harvey. In his address he gave the ladies a warm welcome to Stowmarket. Afterwards he was a guest at tea in the Church Hall, where 41 sat down to the meal, which was very kindly served by some of the lady churchworkers.

After tea, Miss Steel proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for allowing the use of the bells and for his kind words of welcome.

The Vicar, in reply, said he was very pleased to see the ladies at Stowmarket, and hoped that in time they would have some lady ringers of their own. He also made special mention of Mr. W. J. Nevard, of Great Bentley, who was present and who has rung in every county in England and in over 800 towers.

Finally Mr. C. J. Sedgley, in his capacity as Ringing Master, welcomed the Ladies' Guild on behalf of the Suffolk Guild.

Mrs. Fletcher then told the men that they were going to turn them out while they held their business meeting, as the ladies seemed to be shy when the men were present.

Before the business meeting commenced, Miss Steel read a telegram of good wishes from the Northampton District of the Guild. The election of new members then took place to enable them to vote in the subsequent proceedings. These included 12 ringing members and two honorary members. The following officials were elected: Vice-president, Miss Hilda G. Snowden (Halstead); hon. secretary, Miss Sylvia R. E. Bowyer (Ipswich); committee, the Misses Helen W. Bill (Norwich), Lilian D. Le Beau (Bocking), Dorothy F. Woolston (Ipswich) and Vera Wooderham (Stoke Ash); Central Committee representatives, in addition to the vice-president and secretary, Miss H. W. Bill and Miss L. D. Le Beau.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Diss, Norfolk, in January or February of next year, the date to be settled by the secretary.

As there was no further business, the meeting was declared closed and the ladies adjourned to the belfry for more ringing. In the meantime, some of the gentlemen had already adjourned elsewhere to do some 'shopping,' and although Stowmarket is a small town, they found their needs were well catered for.

A highly successful meeting was brought to a close at about 8 p.m. The methods rung during the afternoon and evening included Grandsire, Stedman and Bob Triples, Bob Major and Kent Treble Bob Major, Cambridge, Superlative and London Surprise Major.

ARMISTICE COMMEMORATION.*RINGING FOR 'REMEMBRANCE DAY.'

Much ringing was, as usual, done in churches throughout the country in connection with the observation of the twentieth anniversary of the Armistice. We record elsewhere the peals rung—two of them by bands of ex-Service men.

Touches, with half-muffled bells, were rung on Armistice Day and on the preceding and following Sundays in connection with the services of remembrance.

At St. Giles', Desborough, on Armistice Night, a half-muffled quarter-peal of Bob Major was rung, the first by a local band at this church and by all the ringers: Leonard Brown 1, Raymond Law 2, Raymond Idle 3, Fred Kilborn 4, Dennis Yeomans 5, Arthur Idle 6, Alfred Tailby 7, L. W. Kilborn (conductor) 8. Great credit is due to the ringers of the treble, 2, 3 and 5, whose ages are 16, 14, 13 and 14 years respectively.

Touches of 336 Grandsire Triples and 630 Oxford Bob Triples were rung on Armistice night at Bishop's Stortford, Herts, those taking part being Miss D. Wacey, E. Ansell, R. Wood, T. Ward, W. T. Prior, H. Bird, W. Wilkinson, H. M. White and F. Bird (conductor).

A quarter-peal of Bob Major was rung for the Remembrance Day service at St. James', Milnrow, Lancs, on November 6th: A. Withnell 1, A. Buersil 2, D. Hollos 3, S. H. Dearden 4, S. L. Parry 5, G. Staff (conductor) 6, H. Homer 7, J. H. C. Massey 8.

On Saturday, November 12th, at Leicester, with bells half-muffled, an attempt for a memorial Armistice peal was lost after three hours' excellent ringing owing to the indisposition of one of the ringers. The following ten ex-Service men took part: R. Narborough (Cams) treble, F. Bradley (R.E.) 2, E. Morris (R.A.S.C.) 3, J. L. Willers (Leicesters) 4, W. Nichols (Leicesters) 5, W. A. Wood (M.T., R.A.S.C.) 6, F. A. Salter (M.G.C.) 7, W. H. Clarke (Tank Corps) 8, W. Bottrill (Mounted Military Police) 9, C. Harrison (R.A.) 10. Composed by ex-Corpl. Edgar Shepherd, M.M. Conducted by ex-Staff-Sergt. Ernest Morris.

DEATH OF REV. F. J. O. HELMORE. HIS LONG SERVICE TO KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

Hon. Secretary for 38 Years.

We much regret to record the death of Minor-Canon F. J. O. Helmore, at Canterbury, on Tuesday of last week. He was nearly 87 years of age, but up to about a year ago had continued to lead a fairly active life, and when the Central Council met at Whitsun, 1937, he it was who, on behalf of the Church, welcomed the members to Canterbury. Advancing age had, of course, considerably curtailed his ringing activities, and his last peal was rung ten years ago. Nevertheless, he continued to take the liveliest interest in ringing affairs and particularly in the Kent County Association, of which he was hon. secretary for the long period of 38 years.

Born in London on December 2nd, 1851, Frederick John Ottley Helmore was educated at St. Paul's School, where he gained one of the Mercers Company's exhibitions in 1870 and went up to Oriel College, Oxford, taking his B.A. in 1874 and M.A. in 1877. He was ordained, at Hereford, deacon 1875, priest 1876, being at the time an assistant Vicar choral in the Cathedral. After serving at Stratford-on-Avon (1877-1878) as curate and precentor of Holy Trinity (where Shakespeare lies buried), he was appointed a Minor Canon of Canterbury Cathedral in 1878 and precentor of the Cathedral in 1883. Later, from 1912 to 1927, he held, in conjunction with these offices, the living of Stodmarsh. Advancing age compelled him to resign the office of Minor Canon last year.

For 60 years he had resided in Canterbury, most of the time in the Precincts, and it can almost be said that he knew, as well as loved, every stone of this old Cathedral. He had taken part in the enthronement of four Archbishops—Benson, Temple, Davidson and Lang—and in the installation of six Deans. Payne Smith, Farrar, Wace, Bell, Sheppard and Hewlett Johnson, while he had shared in all the other memorable services held during his long residence.

THE LATE REV. F. J. O. HELMORE.

EARLY RINGING CAREER.

The almost accidental circumstances under which the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore became a ringer are interesting. In the year 1882 a company of amateurs applied to Dean Payne Smith for permission to learn to ring on the Cathedral bells. This the Dean declined to grant unless they could induce one of the Cathedral clergy to superintend their practices, and he recommended them to apply to the junior minor canon. It was not until it had been clearly pointed out that their chance of pulling the Cathedral bells depended entirely upon his consent to join them that Mr. Helmore was prevailed upon to touch a bell rope. For months these amateurs attended a weekly practice, but made very little progress, and by the spring of 1884 Mr. Helmore was so heartily sick of scrambling through a plain course of Grandsire Doubles that he was preparing to give up all idea of becoming a change ringer. Fortunately, however, the then conductor of the Cathedral ringers (Mr. G. Stancombe) interested himself in some of the party, and by inducing them to practise with some of the Cathedral men, soon had them ringing Grandsire Triples.

Mr. Helmore was elected president of the Cathedral company in 1885, and occupied the position to the last. In July, 1891, he succeeded the Rev. E. W. Carpenter as general hon. secretary of the Kent County Association, and discharged the duties of the office with the utmost efficiency and success until, in 1929, after 38 years' service, advancing age compelled him to relinquish the work. In 1907 the members presented him with a handsome roll-top desk, with a silver bell in the centre internal panel, in recognition of his labours for 25 years in the interests of the association.

On the occasion of the jubilee of the association, a year after his retirement, a further presentation was made to Mr. Helmore. It was a memorable occasion, at which 350 members of the association were present and the Archbishop of Canterbury presided. Mr. Helmore received at the hands of the Archbishop a cheque, a case of pipes and an illuminated address, recording the members' warm appreciation of his services as honorary secretary for 38 years and the high standard of efficiency attained by the association due to his loving care and devotion.

The address was not only signed by the officers of the association, but was unique in that it also bore the signatures of two Archbishops, Lord Davidson and Archbishop Lang.

The Archbishop, in making the presentation, said he could only hope Mr. Helmore would remember for the rest of his days the entire sincerity of the thanks to him which he knew was in all their hearts. It was a remarkable thing for one man as secretary to have guided their work for all those 38 years. He became their secretary the very year in which he (the Archbishop) was ordained in the Church of God, and all that time Mr. Helmore had given himself to their service. They could have had no one more fitted to be their secretary, for he had been for fifty years connected with the Mother Church, not only of Kent but of the whole of English Christendom, and no one could be a more fitting link between the art of music and the art of bellringing and worship than their secretary for these 38 years. Mr. Helmore knew what his (the speaker's) gratitude was to him for the work he had done in the Cathedral, and, that day, for all the work he had done for the association. He knew that he would feel in that company of grateful and affectionate friends that he had received an ample reward for all the labour he had given to this cause, but he (the Archbishop) was permitted in their name to give him some more visible and tangible expression of their gratitude, and he felt it to be a very great honour to be allowed to do so.

ASSOCIATION'S GROWTH UNDER MR. HELMORE.

It is not too much to say that the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore was responsible more than any other man for the building up of the Kent Association to its present high level among the ringing organisations of this country, and giving it a financial standing beyond that of any other similar society.

The remarkable growth of the association during Mr. Helmore's term of office may be judged from the fact that when he took over the duties in 1901 the association had a membership of about 400 and a balance in hand of £90. When he retired the resident membership was nearly one thousand, non-resident members had increased from 13 to nearly 250, and the funds had risen to £620; in addition to which a belfry repairs fund, started in 1904, had paid out £143 and had a balance of £101; and the Benevolent Fund, set up in 1912, had paid out £85 and had a balance in hand of £131.

Mr. Helmore represented the Kent County Association on the Central Council from 1894 to 1929, and he was a member of the College Youths, the Oxford, Salisbury and Winchester Diocesan Guilds, the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, the Devon Guild, the Surrey Association and the London County Association.

Mr. Helmore rang his first peal at Faversham on November 10th, 1884, and scored his first peal of Stedman Triples with the College Youths (at Bishopsgate, conducted by James Pettit) in 1887. His first peals of Stedman Caters, Double Norwich and Superlative were rung with the Oxford Diocesan Guild, in conjunction with the Rev. F. E. Robinson and James Washbrook. The majority of Mr. Helmore's peals, which numbered 205, were rung for the Kent County Association, his last being the 'Frederick' peal of Stedman Triples rung at Rainham on September 8th, 1928. A 'name' peal had long been one of his desires, and it gave him the greatest pleasure, especially to know that the band were all men of Kent, or Kentish men. Mr. Helmore's 200th peal was a peal of Stedman Caters at Canterbury Cathedral in 1923, which he conducted and which is suitably recorded in the belfry. Another notable peal in which he took part was a clerical peal of Stedman Caters at Warwick on October 11th, 1910, and in the following year he was one of a band of parsons who attempted a peal of Stedman Cinques at High Wycombe, which unfortunately failed.

THE FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Rev. F. J. O. Helmore took place at Canterbury on Saturday, and among the large number who attended were Messrs. F. M. Mitchell (hon. general secretary), W. J. Jeffries (trustee), B. Luck, A. G. Hill, P. Page and G. H. Spice (district secretaries), W. Haigh, W. Spice, T. E. Sone and F. Brett, representing the other officers, and about 20 members of the Kent County Association.

The first part of the service was held in the Lady Chapel, and, as wished by Mr. Helmore, was simple in character, there being no music. Resting on the coffin, which bore the inscription, 'Frederick John Ottley Helmore, Priest, born 2nd December, 1851, died 8th November, 1938,' was a beautiful cross of flowers, 'In affectionate remembrance, from the Kent County Association of Change Ringers.'

The opening prayers were read by the Ven. the Archdeacon of Maidstone (Canon Sopwith), the lesson was read by the Ven. the Archdeacon of Canterbury, and the concluding prayers by the Rev. Canon G. C. E. Ryley (a life-long friend of Canon Helmore).

The interment took place at the cemetery, and, in a drizzle of rain, the committal prayers were read by Canon Potter. Thus passed from sight one who had endeared himself in the hearts of all Kent ringers.

The photograph, given above, is by W. Fisk-Moore, Canterbury, and was taken at the desk presented to the late Rev. F. J. O. Helmore by the Kent County Association.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS' DINNER.

PROBLEM CLERGY CAN HELP TO SOLVE.

Mr. J. Waugh, in submitting the toast of 'The Visitors,' welcomed on behalf of the society the clerical guests. It was a fact, he said, that the support of the clergy was an accepted, and indeed, a welcome, feature of that gathering. That support had the two-fold effect of being at once a reminder of the religious significance of the society's work and an encouraging sign of the Church authorities' interest in the society's welfare. Nowadays it was acknowledged on all hands that the interest and active support of the clergy were absolutely essential to the well-being of the ringing Exercise, even though it was also recognised that bellringing, as a branch of church work, should derive a sufficiency of inherent driving power from that fact alone. Actually it did do so; but only to a limited extent. The difficulty was that ringing was a highly technical art which was organised and practised on a purely voluntary basis, so that it was easy enough to set a standard of excellency, but extremely difficult to attain it. One would always find plenty of people who were both able and willing to make some sort of bell noises, but the training of them into a band of really competent ringers was a matter requiring much time and patience. There was only one royal road to success in that direction; only one way in which ultimate efficiency could be secured, and that was by the plentiful use of that peculiar mixture of personality and enthusiasm which men called 'leadership,' and that leadership must be exerted to the full in each one of the numerous local centres which go to make up the ringing world as they knew it to-day, for it is there that the true strength of the movement lay. Unfortunately, however, it was just in these local centres, where any form of leadership was frequently found to be utterly lacking, with the consequent result of stagnation. It was this stagnation, this weakness at the roots, or, rather, the avoidance of it, which was the chief of the many problems which confronted the organisers of the Exercise to-day. The associations, of course, could do a little about it; they could recognise the danger and they could point it out, but beyond that they could do nothing. It was only when the clergy came to the rescue with their right of saying who should or who should not be in charge of their belfries that any real progress could be made and the bogey of stagnation forced into the background at last. That was only one case where the co-operation of the clergy affected the life blood of the movement, and, of course, there were many others, for their work had the same ultimate object (applause).

The Rev. A. Lombardini, in replying to the toast, expressed his warm appreciation of the help which was given at St. Lawrence Jewry by Mr. A. A. Hughes in connection with the bells. Mr. Hughes, he said, took the greatest interest in the ringers, and Mrs. Hughes was also always ready to come and delight them with her handbells. Mr. Hughes was a kind of fairy 'godfather' to their young ringers, who were getting along splendidly and endeavouring to carry on the traditions of the older generation in the belfry. The Ancient Society ought to be tremendously proud and happy to think of the influence they held in London. He liked to see the friendship which existed among them all and which was demonstrated by that gathering. The way they greeted their old friend Canon Coleridge must have given him great joy. He congratulated Mr. Jack Waugh on his speech. He felt Mr. Waugh had almost missed his vocation. He ought to have been a parson (laughter and applause). Mr. Lombardini went on to say that they had had a little difficulty with the bells at St. Lawrence Jewry, owing to the noise, of which the inhabitants complained, but Mr. Hughes had helped them by louvring up the openings, and the people now loved to hear the bells on Sunday evenings. Some even said that they could not hear the bells, but he had told them that, while they might not be able to do so, the angels could. The part the ringers played in the belfries was one not only of delight to the people who lived around their steeples, but it was a work for God, and the angels heard their efforts and appreciated them (applause).

A toast to 'Absent Friends' was drunk on the call of the Master, who asked the company to remember specially Mr. C. S. Burden, who had just come out of hospital, after a serious illness, and Mr. Bert Langdon, whose wife had that morning undergone a serious operation.

COLLEGE YOUTHS AND LADIES.

Mr. E. P. Duffield proposed 'Kindred Associations.' There was a time, he said, not so many years ago, when, under the leadership and inspiration of that great ringer, no longer with them, William Pye, to whose greatness he would never weary of paying testimony, he would and did go to any part of the country. During those trips he made many friends and had received many favours at the hands of the officers of local associations—he believed some thirty or more of them had extended to him their non-resident life membership. It, therefore, gave him tremendous pleasure, for the second year in succession, to propose the toast of kindred societies. The officers of kindred societies got, as they got in the College Youths, an occasional brickbat thrown at them on various subjects. Their old society received one or two favourite missiles, but something, he did not know whether it was 300 years' existence, gave them a fairly tough skin (laughter). One of the favourite missiles hurled at the society was that it did not choose to reopen its membership to the fair sex. He would like to ask those who made the complaint whether they would, for the sake of consistency, advocate the Ladies' Guild opening its membership to Youths, Youths of school age or even up to nonagenarianism? It would be just as reasonable as to ask the College Youths to open their membership to ladies. Then there were those who would like to see the society brush aside the old rule preventing dual membership. Had they ever known a visitor who attended a College Youths' meeting or practice who was not received with every cordiality, whether or not a member of the Royal Cumberlands, or for that matter of the Ladies' Guild? (hear, hear). Their old society had never, as far as he knew, made any pretence at being a territorial society. They lived in the midst of territorial societies, and very live ones, and they were happy to welcome them that night in large numbers (applause). Their society had its job to do and it was a pretty considerable job—it provided the ringing at certain of the London churches. More than that, it provided also about 70 practices in the course of the year. That alone, he thought, justified the existence of the society, and they owed a tremendous debt to the officers for the work which they did in keeping those practices going. Reference had been made to the amazing progress of the Stepney ringers. These men would tell them that they owed a great deal to being able to get to the ten and twelve bell practices of the society, where experienced ringers gave them every opportunity of becoming proficient in striking on all numbers of bells. The society did something else which other societies could not very well do. It was situated at that great metropolis and did what it could to make itself a social centre of ringing, and its work on the social side, which was fostered in addition to practical ringing, was appreciated.

A WISE CHOICE.

In coupling the name of Mr. G. H. Cross, Master of the Royal Cumberland Youths, with the toast, Mr. Duffield said it was a particular pleasure to him when Mr. Cross was elected to that office during his (Mr. Duffield's) mastership of the College Youths, for Mr. Cross was one of his oldest ringing acquaintances; they rang their first peal together nearly 25 years ago and they were natives of the same city. He regretted the absence of their old friend, Mr. Sidney Palmer, who was also to have responded to the toast, but he was very glad to welcome Mr. Albert Walker after his illness. They rejoiced to know he was again restored to health (applause).

Mr. Cross, who first responded, congratulated the society upon its 301st anniversary, and said he was pleased to see the dinner so well attended and to see so many of the old members present. Such gatherings did much for the welfare of ringing and he hoped they might long continue.

Mr. Albert Walker, who also replied, joined in the regret felt at the absence of Mr. Palmer, who was one of the most regular provincial attendants at that dinner. He congratulated the society upon having found in Mr. Peck such an excellent successor to Mr. Cockerill, for during the latter years of Mr. Cockerill's life there had, he knew, been a feeling of anxiety as to how the office of secretary could be worthily filled. In choosing Mr. Peck, the society had chosen well (applause). Mr. Walker said he first met the College Youths in 1896 and could speak from personal experience of the kindly treatment provincial ringers always received. Referring to a recent suggestion that a national association of ringers should be formed, Mr. Walker said he hoped the county and diocesan associations would continue to exist. If they had a national association he supposed they would have only one dinner a year—and that would never do (laughter and applause). Each association had its traditions and its work to do, and he was certain the best way of carrying on the art of ringing was through associations such as they had to-day. Without these associations ringing would lose its individuality.

Mr. G. Cecil proposed 'The Press.' He remarked that they were all pleased to see so much regarding the Exercise appearing in the daily papers from time to time, and it was gratifying to feel they had the support of the Press which the Exercise rightly deserved, but it was a pity that inaccurate reports sometimes appeared, which led to misunderstandings and reflected upon their activities. It was important, therefore, that ringers should take care that any information they gave should be absolutely accurate. Mr. Cecil went on to refer to the important place which 'The Ringing World' occupied in the Exercise. Without it, he said, they would be at a great loss. Its articles dealt with many of their problems, and, while they did not all necessarily agree with what was said, they knew they were written in good faith (applause).

The toast was acknowledged by Mr. J. S. Goldsmith.

During the evening an excellent course of Stedman Cinques was rung on handbells by Messrs. W. Williams, F. Pervin, A. Walker, F. J. Smallwood, J. Thomas and E. P. Duffield. Mrs. A. A. Hughes played handbell solos with all her customary art and charm, and was presented by the Master with a bouquet of pink roses and carnations, which she gracefully acknowledged.

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Which of the following statements am I to accept as truth?

Mr. F. E. Dawe, in 'The Ringing World,' page 718, 1938:—

'... and Sir Edmund, as chairman, caused the order to be given to Messrs. J. W. Taylor and Sons, of Loughborough, for the present ring of twelve with a three-ton tenor in D flat!' 'Clocks, Watches and Bells,' Sir Edmund Beckett, Bart., 1874, page 340:—

'There is a project for a large peal of 10 or 12 bells for St. Paul's Cathedral, and I have recommended a B tenor of three tons for that.'

H. WALKER.

Monkseaton, Northumberland.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.*TONBRIDGE DISTRICT MEMBERSHIP.

The annual meeting of the Tonbridge District of the Kent County Association was held at Tonbridge on October 29th, when over 70 members attended. The bells were put to good use during the afternoon and evening, under the direction of the Master, Mr. E. J. Ladd.

Service was held in the Parish Church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Frank Child), assisted by his curates (the Revs. P. Gillingham and W. H. Parsons). The collection, in aid of the Church Restoration Fund, realised 25s. The Vicar presided at tea, at Carlton Cafe.

At the business meeting which followed, Mr. E. H. Lewis was in the chair, and those present included Mr. T. Groombridge, sen., Major F. A. Yorke (Durham), Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Housden, Mr. T. Saunders, Mr. E. Everest and Mr. E. J. Ladd.

In presenting his annual report, the secretary (Mr. A. E. Richardson) said that the thing uppermost in his mind was the great success of the quarterly meetings. The total attendance at the meetings had been 294. With regard to membership, in spite of 24 new members during the year, the figure was the lowest since 1920.

'I should like to stress the need for a great effort by ringers and clergy in the district to prevent a further decrease in the coming year,' said the secretary. This year, he stated, they had lost three friends in the departure from the district of the Rev. E. L. M. Allen, from Edenbridge, and the Rev. Langston from Sevenoaks, while the Rev. F. L. Schreiber, late Vicar of Shipbourne, had also retired from the active list owing to ill-health.

Mr. Richardson thanked the local secretaries who had helped him in various ways, and the clergy who had kindly allowed the use of the bells and who had conducted the ringers' services; also Mr. E. H. Lewis for his great help as chairman during the year, Mr. G. Edwards for his work at the Hever meeting, Major the Hon. J. J. Astor, Mr. Chapman, of Edenbridge, and Mr. E. J. Ladd for his work as Ringing Master. The report, together with the balance sheet, was adopted.

The Ringing Master's report, an innovation, it having been the first year the district has had a ringing master, was presented by Mr. E. J. Ladd, who said that at the meeting at Goudhurst, 15 touches in eight methods were brought round, and rounds for beginners; at Hever, 20 touches in various methods had been rung, and at Brasted standard methods up to London Surprise were brought round. Mr. Ladd pointed out that although, on the whole, the striking had not been too bad at the meetings, the need for putting the striking first could not be too strongly emphasised.

Two new honorary members were elected, the Rev. F. W. Argyle, Rector of Sevenoaks, and Mr. B. C. Flemons, a churchwarden.

Mr. A. E. Richardson was unanimously re-elected secretary, and, in acknowledging his election, said it gave him great pleasure to carry on the office, but he would like to see several things 'boosted' up a little more, including reports from tower secretaries, in regard to their activities at home, whether the towers were holding regular practices and maintaining a fair amount of service ringing.

Mr. T. Saunders and Mr. E. Everest were elected to the committee. Mr. E. J. Ladd was unanimously re-elected Ringing Master.

It was decided that the towers for next year's meetings should be Speldhurst (February), East Peckham (May), and Penshurst (July).

A vote of thanks was passed to the Rev. Frank Child for the use of the bells and conducting the service.

In replying to the vote of thanks accorded to him, Mr. E. H. Lewis said he would always have the welfare of the association at heart, and particularly the Tonbridge District members.

Other votes of thanks were passed, and the meeting closed with change ringing on the handbells.

A NEW TYPE OF 'SILENCER.'
TRIAL ON A HEAVY SIX.

The peal at Bray, Berkshire, on November 5th, provided a good test for a new type of silencer, the invention of Mr. Sharpe, of Launton, Oxon. Peal ringing on this fine ring of bells, the heaviest six in the county (the tenor is 25 cwt.), has always been very much curtailed owing to the excessive noise in the vicinity of the tower. On this occasion, however, several visitors, including Mr. George Gilbert, of Burnham, were present in the churchyard during the ringing, and were able to testify to the fact that the sound was so much diminished that no objection could possibly have been made. Inside the tower the bells could be heard clearly, and striking could be judged as readily as under normal conditions.

This type of silencer marks a complete departure from all previously designed types, and requires no special fitting to individual bells. It will fit any weight of bell within wide limits, and is so simply adjusted that after the first application it can be put on and taken off literally with two turns of the hand. A further advantage is the fact that the silencer can be adjusted to give any desired strength of tone.

After the peal at Bray the silencers were carefully inspected and showed no sign of frictional wearing, so they are likely to prove very economical in use.

We much regret that, owing to pressure on our space, many reports are unavoidably held over.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

SECRETARIAL POSTS.

The difficulties of the Western Branch of the Worcestershire Association in securing a successor to their secretary, who finds it necessary to give up the reins of office, is no new thing in ringing organisations, although in this case the 'disease' seems to have appeared in an aggravated form. Those who will readily accept honorary secretarial office are very rarely, if ever, to be found; rather is it necessary to bring heavy pressure to bear to fill these posts when occasion arises. To follow a man of exceptional ability and enthusiasm is, of course, always a difficult task, and it is probably the fear of comparative failure of achievement that, in such cases, influences many men in rejecting election. That may be the reason why the Worcestershire district referred to has not been able to find a member ready to step into the shoes of Mr. G. E. Large. And yet there is every inducement to a new secretary. He would have an excellent start; the branch is in an efficient and flourishing condition, and has gathered a momentum which should carry a new official with it if he is prepared to do the work. It might be different if the branch had fallen to low water mark and needed an extraordinary effort of initiative and energy to get it going. It does seem surprising that, even in face of a possibility of being left without a secretary, a branch of twenty-six towers with some 200 members cannot produce one member ready to shoulder the work and responsibility of such an office.

But the Worcestershire Association is not the only one in which there is, from time to time, difficulty in finding officers for the executive posts. Many secretaries, and other officers for that matter, carry on from year to year simply from loyalty to their association, and, because they are ready to do this, sometimes against their private inclinations, members find it easier to press them to continue than to persuade someone else to take up the office. But this is not to say that the best interests of an association would be served by pitchforking into the duties an individual without any sort of qualifications. There have been instances where this kind of action has had rather dire results. The things most needed in a secretary are intelligence, tact and a reasonable aptitude for conducting business affairs. There can be no association that has not, in every district, some few members qualified for such work, and they ought to consider it a duty, if not a privilege, to undertake it when necessity arises. Personal reluctance to assume responsibility ought not always to be allowed to stand in the way. The more ringers know about the methods of running their own ringing organisation, the better it must be for their association. and while criticism is seldom heard of the way in which affairs are handled — the criticisms, if any, usually come from the secretaries upon the apathetic attitude of members—a good deal more might be done for the good of ringing if a greater number of ringers had a more intimate knowledge of association work. It is easy to let the 'willing horses' carry on, but it shows a lack of appreciation of responsibility when no one can be found to shoulder a job that means giving up a little time and thought, but which, in the end, often provides a great deal of pleasure and the making of many friends.

KENT RINGERS IN DEVON.

On Saturday, October 15th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at the Parish Church, Honiton Clist, Devon, by F. W. Budgen 1, A. C. Selley 2, D. M. Sharp (conductor) 3, E. H. Oxenham 4, A. Lovering 5, G. V. Murphy 6, H. Pook 7, V. N. Burrow 8. One half of the band were from Crayford and Brasted, Kent, and it was rung previous to a visit to Exeter Cathedral for practice.

BELL DEDICATIONS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In answer to the letter from my friend, Mr. Williams, in your issue of the 11th inst., I am still on the surface, but certainly am of opinion that he is the one 'out of his depth.' Any criticism of the Winchester Guild or of himself was the very last of my thoughts, so I am sure he will read this in the same friendly spirit in which he has written. If he reads the last paragraph of my account of St. Paul's bells opening again, he will see that I purposely refrained from mentioning where the opening took place, and there appears no reflection in any shape or form upon the Guild, of which he is the able Master, or upon any of its officers, for what I was speaking about is not the fault of any guild or association, but depicts events in the 'up-to-date' age we are now in. There are plenty of chances afforded to the learners nowadays, but surely not on such a great and important occasion, when a large congregation would expect to hear good ringing.

Mr. Williams seems to hint that I am speaking disparagingly of the Guild. Nothing of the kind; also he infers that I am unmindful of the kindly manner in which I have always been received. I need hardly assure you that that is distinctly not the case. Surely any reasonable criticism is not a debatable matter in such a case. Some of the rising generation have, I know, openly declared their intention of 'showing the old 'uns how things should be done'!

For a long time past I have consulted some of the older and prominent members of the Exercise, and the general opinion is that, with a few splendid exceptions, the high standard of correct and accurate 'striking' has not been maintained in recent years. Surely there was no harm in making a comparison between what an 'opening' should be like and the reverse?

I have, for well over half a century, been delighted to number Mr. Williams amongst my very best and staunchest of friends, and surely he remembers that I am still an official in a large and well-known association. The magnificent service held at the opening of Winchester Cathedral bells, together with the stately procession of every branch concerned in the work, the Bishop, the Dean and Chapter, choir, Mayor, town councillors, representatives of ringing, the bell founders and all others, was certainly by far the most impressive, dignified and most stately I ever remember! With the exception of the ringing during the service by the Cathedral band, neither I nor anyone else could have said one word in praise of the remainder, for good ringing was conspicuous by its absence. Why spoil a grand occasion? Even Mr. Williams remains silent on this important point. My only object in mentioning it was simply an endeavour to avoid a repetition in the future, and any fair-minded person would surely think the same. Certainly by all means give every member a chance of ringing, but only when capable of doing so, then receive them all heartily. I was grateful to Mr. Williams for so kindly inviting me to take part, but I could not see the slightest chance of a successful touch, so respectfully declined. Was I right or wrong in doing so? If wrong, well then, 'let 'em all come'!

My account of St. Paul's opening was correct in every detail, and so becomes interesting ringing history.

F. E. DAWES.

A BOURNEMOUTH CEREMONY,

INTERESTING PEALS RECORDED.

The first anniversary of the rededication of the ring of eight bells at St. Peter's Church, Bournemouth, after their complete restoration in 1937 by Messrs. Taylor and Co., was marked on Sunday, November 20th, by the dedication of two peal tablets during evensong.

The ceremony was performed by the Vicar (Canon Hedley Burrows), who afterwards addressed the congregation, taking for his text the inscription he placed on the 'Peace Bell'—No. 5—'Peace from Him, Which was, Which is and Which is to come.' Special prayers were offered prior to the dedication, which was concluded with the singing of one of the hymns used at the rededication of the peal a year ago.

The first tablet recorded the first peal rung in Bournemouth—5,040 Grandsire Triples—in three hours on December 26th, 1891. Of the band which rang this peal, Messrs. George Presten and James G. Bennett were present. The late Mr. John W. Whiting, of Fareham, conducted Holt's Ten-Part peal on that occasion. The second tablet recorded the first peal on the restored bells, rung by the local company on May 28th of this year. Ringing took place both before and after evensong in methods up to Double Norwich Major.

ALDERSHOT LADY RINGER BEREAVED.

A popular lady member of the Aldershot company, Miss Betty Stewart has been bereaved by the death of her father, Mr. C. J. Stewart, who passed away on November 12th and was buried on November 16th.

At the meeting of the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild and the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild at Yorktown on Saturday, a vote of sympathy was passed with Mrs. Stewart, Miss Stewart and the family, and on Sunday evening a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung at Aldershot Parish Church in memory of Mr. Stewart, who for many years had lived within sound of the bells. At the request of the family the bells were rung open: Miss B. Stewart 1, W. H. Viggers 2, Miss E. Southby 3, W. G. Challen 4, W. Denyer 5, E. J. Bragg 6, C. W. Denyer (conductor) 7, R. Whitford 8.

PEAL NOTES.

SUNDAY PEALS.

Sunday peal ringing is not a very general practice, and it is somewhat noteworthy that we record this week four six-bell peals rung on November 13th.

The North-Western District supplied half the band for the quarterly peal of the Southern District of the Surrey Association on November 5th at Redhill. Mrs. C. H. Kippin rang her first true peal of Kent Treble Bob Major, her previous peals in this method having been the unfortunate variation of F. Robinson's composition, which, after it had been rung many times, turned out to be false.

The quarterly peal for the Western Branch of the Worcestershire Association was an almost 'local' peal of Grandsire Doubles, at Ripple, only the treble man coming from outside the home tower. Ripple is an isolated spot, and it is encouraging to know that a band for change ringing, even if it is only Doubles, can be mustered here.

The heaviest ring of six in Sussex is at Goring-by-Sea, where the tenor is reputed to be 17½ cwt. They were cast in 1837. A peal of Minor was rung on them on November 12th, the only previous peal there having been rung in 1891.

A peal of Grandsire Triples, specially arranged as a wedding compliment to Mr. T. Whitehouse and Miss L. Pearsall, was rung on November 12th at Oldswinford, Worcestershire, where Mr. Whitehouse is a member of the local band.

Mr. William Wilkinson rang his fiftieth peal on November 12th when he took part in a peal of Bob Major at Pinchbeck, Lincs.

There were 108 changes of method in the seven extents in 14 methods rung at Stisted, Essex, on November 13th. That is quite enough to make it a busy job. It averages a switch over in less than every 50 changes.

CELEBRATIONS.

The centenary of St. Peter's Church, Glasbury-on-Wye, has been celebrated. When the church was built in 1838 six bells were placed in the tower, and the 'one hundred years' was celebrated by a peal of Grandsire Doubles on these same bells, rung, at the request of the Vicar (the Rev. R. W. Lockyer) before the centenary service on Sunday, November 13th.

Mr. Charles Ollier, aged 75, and Frank Reynolds, aged 19, jointly celebrated their birthdays on November 12th, when they took part in a peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Gorton Unitarian Church.

The appointment of Canon D. M. Jones as Archdeacon of Carmarthen was celebrated at St. Elli's Church, Llanelly, on November 10th, by a peal of Grandsire Doubles. Miss R. O. Roberts rang her first peal at the first attempt and is to be congratulated on her success. The peal was also a birthday compliment to Mr. E. Parmenter, who took part.

Mr. J. E. Bailey paid for his first Surprise peal as conductor with some sore hands. Ringing the 18½ cwt. tenor at Dartford on Nov. 14th to Cambridge, the tail of the rope became untucked after 20 minutes. Instead of stopping to put matters right, he went on, with dire results to his hands. He won't do it again, we think.

Mr. F. J. Cullum, calling a peal of Cambridge from the treble at Erith, Kent, on Saturday, finished the interesting feat of conducting a peal from every bell in the tower.

The first peal on the bells at Kewstoke, Somerset, was rung on November 12th. It consisted of 42 six-scores of Grandsire Doubles and was the first peal in the method by four of the band.

A half-muffled peal of Grandsire Doubles in commemoration of Armistice Day was rung at Neath, Glamorganshire, on November 12th. Raymond Grant and Fred Symons, who rang treble and tenor respectively, have been ringing for only nine months, and the former is not yet 17 years old. This was their first attempt for a peal.

After several unsuccessful previous attempts, Mr. Harry Boyce rang the second to a peal and thus completed the circle of the tower. Messrs. W. J. Gear and W. Lewis rang their first peal of Grandsire Doubles, and the conductor 'bagged' what has been, up to now, a very 'elusive' tower.

So, one way or another, all the band had records, and they are hoping that the day is not far distant when Triples will be the order, by the addition of two more bells.

At St. Albans Abbey, where four trebles were added to celebrate the jubilee of the Hertford County Association, the first peal of Stedman Caters on the bells was rung on Saturday by members of the Cathedral Society. With the great old beams fixed in the ringing chamber in all sorts of inconvenient places (for the ringers), the belfry is not an easy place to ring in, but two of the band rang their first peal and four their first of Stedman Caters.

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James Parker, of Enfield, was celebrated on Saturday with a peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Mary-le-Bow Church, Cheapside, London. It was conducted by their daughter, Mrs. E. K. Fletcher.

On the same day other of Mr. Parker's old friends rang a peal of Bob Major at Warnham, Sussex, in honour of the auspicious event. Mr. and Mrs. Parker are both natives of Sussex and were married at the little village of Storrington on November 19th, 1888.

Painswick Surprise Major was added to the methods rung by the Norwich Diocesan Association on Saturday, when a peal was rung at Pulham. Only Mr. Nolan Golden, out of the band, had previously rung a peal in the method.

DORSET VILLAGERS' GOOD PERFORMANCE.

No fewer than 21 methods of Doubles, rung in complete extents, were put into a peal at Evershot, Dorset, on Nov. 12th. It is believed to be the greatest number ever included in a peal of Doubles, and it was rung, at the first attempt, by an entirely local band, as a compliment to one of their members, Mr. William Ruttley, on completion of 50 years' unbroken service as a ringer at Evershot Church.

Evershot has a population of less than 300, but there are ten ringers. Seven years ago only stoney was rung there, and the success which has since been achieved in change ringing is due to Mr. W. Shute, who acted as voluntary instructor and travelled many miles every week to do so.

This peal in 21 methods is a real achievement, and the band would once more like to thank Mr. Shute for what he did for them, and is still doing among other bands, for the promotion of the art and the betterment of the Exercise.

Mr. Andrew Thompson, hon. secretary of the North Staffordshire Association, took part in a peal of Stedman Caters at Manchester Cathedral on Saturday, and has now rung peals of Stedman from Doubles to Cinques.

The peal of Grandsire Triples at Salehurst, Sussex, on November 5th, was rung for the ringing jubilee of Mr. Archibald Stevenson, who began ringing on November 5th, 1888, when he was given a lesson on the 2nd bell. He rang this same bell to his first peal and his first as conductor, and has now called his jubilee peal from it.

The Sunday service ringers at Leek, Staffordshire, rang a peal of Stedman Caters on November 10th.

Thirty-two Surprise Minor methods were spliced into seven extents at Folkingham, Lincs, on Nov. 12th, and conducted by Mr. Horace Day. It is the greatest number of Surprise methods in seven 720's rung in Lincolnshire and for the Lincoln Diocesan Guild.

Mr. Arthur G. Bason, who rang the tenor to the peal of Kent Treble Bob Minor at Marham on Nov. 12th, has now rung peals in this method from Minor to Maximus.

Peals are in these days few and far between at Sheffield Cathedral, but we recorded a peal of Stedman Cinques rung there on Saturday week, conducted by Mr. John Thorpe, who has now twice completed the circle in this tower.

Peals of Oxford Treble Bob Maximus are few and far between, but last Saturday members of the Norwich Diocesan Association rang one at Great Yarmouth, the first by all the band and on the bells. The peal was a birthday compliment to Mr. Arthur G. King, his father and his daughter. The birthdays of all three were celebrated during the week-end.

The peal ran to 5,376 changes and was the longest on the bells. It was Mr. J. G. W. Harwood's fiftieth peal.

LEICESTERSHIRE'S KING'S NORTON.*THE FIRST PEAL OF MAJOR ON THE BELLS.

Leicestershire, like Worcestershire, has a King's Norton. Its bells, however, seem to have been sadly neglected, and although there has been at least eight there for the better part of two centuries, it was not until November 6th that, as recorded last week, a peal of Major was rung on them.

Previous to the attempt, the Whitehead party made a special journey to King's Norton to make the acquaintance of the new Rector, the Rev. W. R. Davis, who has come from Canada, and who was inducted the previous week; also to seek his permission to use the bells.

Mr. Davies said he would be delighted, but first of all he would have to seek information from an architect, living in the parish, to make certain that the bells were safe to ring. When the day arrived for the attempt, viewed by many as being a 'mad idea,' some hiked, some biked and the rest went by 'mobile.' It was not pleasant to hear from one of the local ringers that the whole frame housing the bells 'walked about' immediately ringing began. Undaunted by this, however, the bells were pulled up in peal, but this was not concluded without the treble rope 'casting wheel.'

A start was made one hour late, and Arthur Debenham (or 'stout-hearted Arthur' as he is known to his ringing friends) turned the tenor in beautifully, putting the whole of his 14 stone of muscle and brawn into the effort, which terminated with the bells coming into rounds at 1.45 p.m. Three cheers for Arthur, for it must have required a big heart to do it.

Lunch was very acceptable and was kindly provided by Mrs. Davis, to whom one of the party, on behalf of the whole band, expressed thanks.

The next move was to Gaulby, a stone's throw away, for a peal of Minor, which unfortunately was unsuccessful, owing to the poor condition of the ropes and the blisters from the Norton peal.

Tea was taken at the Old Manor House, now occupied by Mr. E. Norrish, to whom further thanks were recorded, and the day was finally wound up, after service ringing, by touches on handbells. All journeyed home in a happy mood, including the hikers, content with scoring the first peal of Major on Leicestershire's maiden peal of bells.

According to North, in his 'Church Bells of Leicestershire,' King's Norton once had a peal of ten bells. William Fortrey rebuilt the church at Galby and erected a ring of six bells in 1741. He gave the ten bells to King's Norton some time later, but the ring had to be reduced to eight owing to the strain on the tower. The King's Norton peal contains one bell of the date 1641, the others, cast by the Eayres, of St. Neots, are dated between 1760 and 1764. Fortrey also gave two new bells to St. Margaret's, Leicester, in 1738, and his name is mentioned in connection with other bells in the county.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Over 80 years of age, Mr. Dalton, one of the ringers at Chiswick Parish Church, has just retired after 60 years' service in that capacity. Good wishes will be extended to Mr. John Austin, of Gloucester, who was 75 last Saturday.

To-day is the anniversary of one of the great performances of the early days of ringing. On November 25th, 1737, the Eastern Scholars rang a 15,120 of Bob Major at West Ham, in 8 hours 40 minutes.

Ringers at Wye, Kent, have the opportunity of celebrating an interesting anniversary next Wednesday, for exactly 200 years ago that day a 5,040 of Grandsire Triples was rung in their tower 'by ye men of this town.'

It was not, however, the first peal that had been rung there. Two and a half years earlier a peal of Grandsire had been rung there by 'ye first set of men that ever rang it in the county without the assistance of Londoners or others.'

A band from St. Martin's, Birmingham, went to Manchester last Saturday and brought away a peal of Stedman Cinques from the Town Hall. Some of them got lost on the way home. But that is another story.

There will be a College Youths' practice at St. Andrew's, Holborn, on December 1st.

HOBART ASSOCIATION.

REHANGING OF BELLS DISCUSSED.

At the annual meeting of the Holy Trinity Association, Hobart, Tasmania, all the officers were re-elected except that Mr. P. Broughton replaces Mr. S. Taylor as hon. treasurer. The latter has, unfortunately, had to undergo an operation, and will be out of ringing for some weeks.

The active membership of the association in Hobart is 16, and in England, of course, there are nine life ringing members. The local members include several promising young ringers.

The officials of the association re-elected are: Patron, the Lord Bishop of Tasmania; president, Ven. Archdeacon Blackwood (who was in England last year); Ringing Master, Mr. J. W. Quarmby; Deputy Ringing Master, Mr. S. Smith; hon. secretary, Mr. A. R. Wilson.

At the meeting the question of providing a new bell frame, for the centenary of the bells in 1946, was discussed. Afterwards Mr. Wilson gave an address on 'Brotherhood among ringers.'

Archdeacon Blackwood presided, and the churchwardens were represented by Mr. M. Crawford. The bell in stand which the English tourists presented to the hon. secretary on the occasion of their visit four years ago, occupied a conspicuous place in the ringing chamber.

It will be remembered that on the occasion of their reunion on October 15th, at Surfleet, members of the Holy Trinity Association rang the first handbell peal for the society.

BRAY BELLS AND THE NEW 'SILENCER.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In your last issue my name was mentioned in relation to the above. My chief reason for writing is regarding the weight of the tenor (shown last week as 25 cwt. in D). As I rang this bell to a peal of Minor (four 720's of Treble Bob and three 720's of Plain) on August 3rd, 1929, I ascertained the weight of this bell as given by the foundry. The bells went to the foundry in 1914, and the local ringers asked specially for the tenor weight and key. This information, which is still held by Bray captain (Mr. F. J. Russell), was returned by the foundry as 26½ cwt. in B. Her lip measurement does not give true weight, as she is rather long in the waist, similar to the tenor of the old eight that were in St. John's Parish Church, Croydon.

I might agree that the new type of silencer used on November 5th of this year would take more than 1½ cwt. off in the course of a peal, as far as exertion by the ringer is concerned. I can certainly testify to the effectiveness of these silencers, having used them at Launton, by permission of Mr. F. Sharpe (the inventor), some 18 months back, but as there is naturally secrecy about them until such time as they are patented, I can say but very little. In any case they could well be used in cases where there are objections to ringing, as volume can be brought down practically to 'nil.'

Whether the Central Council would recognise a peal rung with these adapted must remain to be seen, but for my own part (with all due respect to my friends who took part in the Bray peal), I should not attempt a peal in which they were to be used until I was sure it would be recognised. With Mr. F. Sharpe's permission, I should like to say more on this. The only thing that grieved me was that a noble bell like Bray tenor should have to be 'muzzled,' for I went over specially to Bray to listen to her beauty.

PERFECT STRIKING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—A year ago there was some discussion in your columns as to what should be regarded as 'perfect' striking.

At the opening of Parliament recently I was close to the tower of St. Margaret's, Westminster, and I heard a touch of Stedman Triples rung from start to finish with the most faultless rhythm imaginable. A record of it could well have served as a standard example of perfect striking.

F. LL. EDWARDS.

HORACE M. DAY.

Among the men who are leaders of six-bell ringing, Mr. Horace M. Day, of Market Deeping, Lincolnshire, can be reckoned in the forefront. In conducting peals of Minor he has shown himself eminently capable and he has been one of the pioneers of multi-method peals in Lincolnshire, where the practice has spread among a number of bands.

Born at Tallington, Lincolnshire, on September 4th, 1881, Mr. Day moved to Market Deeping in 1896 and there he learned his ringing. Ever since the war he has been captain of the tower. His first peal was in five Minor methods at Edenham in February, 1914. During the war he spent sixteen months at Bristol and rang with the band at St. Stephen's Church. His second peal was 5,019 Stedman Caters at Christ Church, Bristol, the first peal in that city after the Armistice in 1918.

Returning to his home in Lincolnshire, Mr. Day rang his first peal as conductor at Market Deeping on July 1st, 1920, when he called seven Minor methods. Since then he has conducted peals of Minor from each bell in each of the towers in the three Deepings—Market Deeping, Deeping St. James and Deeping St. Nicholas.

He conducted the only 10,080 of Minor that has been rung in Lincolnshire, took part in the only peal of Double Norwich Royal in the county, and the only peal of Primrose Surprise Major yet rung. His great forte, however, is Minor, and in this department he excels as a conductor. He has helped a goodly number of ringers through their first peal and he has called a great number of peals in multi-methods, including 32 Surprise methods, which is the largest number that has been included in a peal. Mr. Day has not got a full record of all his peals, but, omitting a number of which he is not certain, rung for the Peterborough Diocesan Guild, he has compiled a total of 241, of which he has conducted 176. His peals of Triples, Major, Caters and Royal number only about 30.

Mr. Day has been Ringing Master of the Southern Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild since 1925.

HER MAJESTY INSPECTS COMMEMORATIVE BELL.

The King and Queen, who spent the week-end with the Queen's brother, the Hon. David Bowes-Lyon, at St. Paul's, Walden Bury, attended morning service on Sunday at St. Paul's Church, where Her Majesty was christened.

Afterwards the King and Queen went up to the ringing chamber, and Her Majesty afterwards went on up into the belfry to see the new 'Elizabeth' bell.

Mr. Ernest East, one of the ringers, accompanied the Queen and explained how the bell is rung.

The new treble bell, installed by Messrs. Taylor and Co., was added to the old five to make a ring of six to commemorate the Coronation of their Majesties. A Latin inscription round the shoulder records the purpose of the bell; and the royal ciphers GR and ER, in between which is an ornamental cross, appear on the waist. The bell was dedicated on Sunday, October 30th.

MESSRS. TAYLOR & CO.'S CALENDAR.

Messrs. John Taylor and Co. wish to remind those who have not yet returned their 'calendar cards' that calendars cannot be sent unless notification is received that one is desired.

The card is enclosed with the idea of ascertaining the number of calendars required to be printed, and Messrs. Taylor would be grateful for the co-operation of those wishing to receive a calendar for 1939 by sending a notification not later than December 1st next. This will save the disappointment which each year is caused in numerous instances to those who, whilst wishing to receive a calendar, yet by oversight omit to return their card.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A SECRETARIAL DIFFICULTY.

Western Branch Unable to Find Successor to Mr. Large.

The insuperable difficulty of finding a successor to the retiring secretary was the only disturbing feature in an otherwise highly successful meeting at Upton-on-Severn on November 12th, when the Western Branch of the Worcestershire and Districts Association held its annual meeting there. In spite of rain and wintry conditions, over 60 ringers attended, 18 towers of the branch being represented as well as members from the Northern and Southern Branches. Visitors included the Revs. I. J. Richards (Mon.) and H. Benson (Quinton, Stratford-on-Avon), Mr. William Dyer and friends (Cheltenham), Mr. A. Jones (hon. secretary of the Ledbury District, Hereford Guild). The bells of the Parish Church, which recently were rehung by Mears and Stainbank, found their tongues at 3 p.m. and were kept going until 4.15, when a short service (partly choral) was held in church (a modern building, little over half a century old), and an interesting address delivered by the Rector, the Rev. S. F. Lloyd, who is an hon. member of the association.

In his address the Rector referred to the words in St. Matthew: 'He sent his servants to call them,' and said he would like to adapt those words to ringers. When they rang the bells their voices went out to all houses in the parish, even more so than his voice did in church. He asked them to take as their personal motto, 'Doing it as His servant,' as they were just as much God's servants as others in the church.

Tea was ably served in the Working Men's Club at 5 o'clock by a band of ladies, who have an affinity with ringers and ringing, after which the business meeting was held, with the Rev. G. W. Webb (clerical secretary) in the chair. Supporting him were Messrs. S. T. Holt (Master), J. D. Johnson (general secretary), R. G. Knowles (vice-president), C. Camm (Branch Ringing Master) and G. E. Large (branch secretary). It was reported that the quarterly peal had been rung at Ripple the previous Saturday, a peal of Grandsire Doubles by the local band.

Mr. C. Camm was again re-elected Branch Ringing Master, he having held this position for many years.—Mr. Camm thanked the members for again electing him, and said he hoped to see more enthusiasm in the branch than of late.

The nomination of Mr. S. T. Holt as representative to the Central Council was unanimously approved, and Mr. W. Ranford was once again re-elected as branch representative to the Central Committee.

NO SUCCESSOR FOR SECRETARY.

Mr. G. E. Large, who, at a previous meeting at Ripple, had intimated that he would not seek re-election at this meeting, said he regretted he had not found anyone to nominate as his successor, though he would be relinquishing the branch secretaryship at the end of the year. All those who had been approached had said they had not the necessary leisure time.

Mr. Holt and Mr. Johnson told the meeting that Mr. Large had very good reasons for giving up the secretaryship, and the former asked Mr. E. F. Cubberley (Kempsey), who was present, if he would reconsider his refusal to take the job on. Mr. Cubberley said he regretted he could not change his mind, as, though he had given the matter careful thought, his work presented him from accepting.

Many members were then called upon to ascertain their 'ayes' or 'noes,' but no one could see their way clear to say 'Yes.' Much time was spent on this vexed matter and many resolutions framed (some conflicting with the rules) until it looked as if the meeting would still be there at that time next year. The situation was saved by Mr. Johnson (general secretary), who advised them to re-elect Mr. Large, if he was agreeable, so that it would give them a respite in which to find a successor. He (Mr. Johnson) thought no one should be asked to take on the work haphazardly, as it required careful thought, and he would like to see someone take it on for a number of years, which did not necessarily mean for life.

Mr. Large said he did not wish to have the books again after the auditors had had them, but as no one could be found to take on the job he would continue in office until the next meeting (some time in February or March), when he would then definitely resign.

Mr. Johnson remarked that if by that time no successor had been found to Mr. Large, he himself would take over the books and arrange one meeting, but only one. Accordingly the retiring secretary was re-elected with thanks and for the time being the difficulty of a successor postponed.

Hallow was proposed as the place for the next meeting, subject to the consent of the Vicar there.—Thirteen new members were enrolled, nine of these from Shelsley Beauchamp, a tower which is now affiliated for the first time.

The secretary reported that he expected an increase by the end of the year of over 30 new members (applause). In the last four years their branch had each year showed an increase, approximately 66 new members having been accepted. This, he said, proved they were on the right side, and he hoped all in the room would do something to keep these members and to render any assistance required.

On the chairman's call 'Any other business,' the secretary said he had been asked to thank all those who had (independently of the association's grant) subscribed to the Hanbury Bell Restoration Fund. They were going to have a good job done at Hanbury by having

GUILDFORD AND LADIES GUILDS.

SUCCESSFUL JOINT MEETING AT YORKTOWN.

It has become a frequent custom for the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild to arrange a meeting jointly with the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild and with happy results. Last Saturday a combined meeting was held at Yorktown and brought together a gathering of some 50 ringers, of which Aldershot, as usual, supplied a strong contingent. Yorktown has a comparatively modern but beautiful church, and the bells have recently been rehung. Ringing took place during the afternoon and evening, and although the methods did not reach any flights of fancy, some good, solid practice was put in.

Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. F. W. T. Waithman) and the address given by the Rev. L. B. Towner (curate). Miss Maries, at the organ, and the choirboys led the singing.

Tea in the Church Room was a happy affair, in which the choirboys joined, and conversation, at any rate in one corner, touched politics as well as ringing. The Vicar presided over the gathering, and among those present, in addition to the representatives of the towers, and the members of the Ladies' Guild, all of whom, by the way, were members also of the Guildford Guild, were Miss Middleton (a life member), the Rev. Towner, the hon. treasurer of the Guildford Guild (Mr. J. Corbett), the hon. secretary (Mr. G. L. Grover), Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (vice-president), Mr. W. F. J. Cope (Guildford District secretary), Mr. R. Hasted (Farnham District Ringing Master), Mr. C. W. Denyer (district secretary), Miss H. F. Mills (Southern District secretary of the Ladies' Guild) and Mr. R. Whittington (Cranleigh).

Mr. Goldsmith welcomed to their first meeting new members of the Hawley and Seale bands, and said how pleased they all were to have Miss Middleton among them again. Miss Middleton was a warm supporter of the old Winchester Guild, and on the formation of the Guildford Diocesan Guild became one of the first life members. Mr. Goldsmith went on to thank the Vicar, the curate, Miss Maries, the choir, Mr. Evens and the local ringers, and the ladies who had served tea, each for their part in making the meeting a success.—Mr. Evens and Mr. W. Gillians replied.

Mr. W. Gillians and his son and daughter, Mr. R. Gillians and Miss K. Gillians (Seale) and Mr. R. Wake (Bagshot) were elected ringing members of the Guild, and Mr. A. J. Harding (Yorktown) an honorary member.

The general hon. secretary reminded the members of the annual dinner of the Guild, to be held on January 14th, and pointed out the importance of the event receiving the support of every tower if it was to be made a success.

The retiring officers of the district were renominated, with Mr. Evens as an additional name for the committee, after Mr. F. Nye had urged that some of the younger men should take a share in the management of the Guild.

At the close of the meeting the Vicar replied to the vote of thanks to himself, and said how pleased he was to welcome the Guild to Yorktown again.

In the afternoon the Vicar dedicated in the belfry a peal board recording a peal of Grandsire Triples rung on April 20th.

Mrs. Cope presided at the business meeting of the Ladies' Guild, held after that of the Guildford Guild and when the men had been 'cleared out.' Miss Middleton, of Camberley, was elected an honorary member and Miss K. Gillians, of Seale, a ringing member.

It was decided to hold a meeting in the Basingstoke District in February.

Apologies for absence were received from Mrs. Bruce (vice-president), Mrs. Hazelden, Mrs. Steedman and Miss Stewart.

CURATE AND CHURCHWARDEN'S DAUGHTER MARRIED.

At St. Andrew's Church, Cobham, Surrey, on November 14th, on the occasion of the wedding of the Rev. B. A. Whitehead (curate of the parish and priest in charge of St. John's Church) and Miss Margaret Spencer, daughter of Mr. A. C. Spencer (churchwarden) and Mrs. Spencer, of Fairview, Cobham, 720 each of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung by A. Winch (Leatherhead) 1, A. Roberts 2, A. H. Smith (Leatherhead) (conductor) 3, J. Mills 4, G. Shotton 5, E. Matthews 6.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

their bells recast and rehung, and further subscriptions would be welcome.

Before the collection for the Belfry Repairs Fund, which realised £1, a discussion took place on this fund, and it was decided that whatever the other two branches did, the Western Branch would stick to its original rule made at Hallow on November 7th, 1931, 'That all collections made at these meetings be given to the Belfry Repairs Fund.'

A comprehensive vote of thanks to the Rector, to their chairman, the organist and choirboys, brought the meeting to a close, after which the bells were again made use of until a late hour. Hanley Castle (St. Mary) six bells had been kindly placed at members' disposal and several made the short journey there to wind up a successful outing.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

QUARTERLY MEETING IN THE WELSH HILLS.

Merthyr Tydfil, situated well up in the Welsh hills, at the top end of the Taff Valley, was the scene on Saturday of a good muster of ringers who attended the quarterly meeting of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association. The bells, a lovely ring of eight, with a tenor a ton, erected 42 years ago by Taylor and Co., are, perhaps, one of very few installed under similar circumstances. The late Sir William Thomas Lewis influenced seven other old Merthyr boys to give a bell each, contributing the tenor bell himself. Those who had never visited Merthyr before were delighted with the fine tone and the easy running of the bells.

Service was taken by two of the assistant clergy in the unavoidable absence of the Vicar (Canon Pugh), who was away in residence for a month at Llandaff Cathedral.

A sumptuous tea was afterwards served in the Church Hall, which had been very kindly provided by the Church authorities and ladies.

The business meeting which followed was presided over by the Rev. J. D. Llewellyn Jones (curate). Various reports were dealt with and several new members elected. The very best thanks, ably proposed by the Master, Mr. E. Stitch, were accorded to all who had contributed to make the meeting such a success. The bells were afterwards rung in various methods, including Double Norwich and Cambridge Major. It was pleasing to see such a number of young ringers present, among them several of the young band from Ebbw Vale, who took part in the ringing of Grandsire Triples. It was a most pleasant meeting and an enjoyable afternoon and evening.

The next meeting of the association is to be held at Ebbw Vale.

RINGING IN FRONT OF CHANCEL STEPS.

BARNESLEY SOCIETY AT CROFTON.

The November meeting of the Barnesley and District Society was held at Crofton, members being present from Arksey, Adwick-le-Street, Burgwallis, Cawthorne, Earlsheaton, Felkirk, Sandal, South Kirkby, Wath and the local company and one out-radius member from Ashford, Kent. The bells are a beautiful peal of six, with tenor 15 cwt. 1 qr. 21 lb. in F. Three of the bells are old, the other three having been added in 1915, and the ropes fall in a good circle in front of the chancel steps, thus doing away with stair climbing. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m. and continued until 5 p.m., when tea was served in the new Parochial Hall, 17 being present.

The business meeting followed, under the chairmanship of Mr. W. Moxon, of Sandal (vice-president).

One new member, Mr. F. Vallance, of Burgwallis, was elected. Ecclesfield was chosen for the next meeting, to be held on December 10th.

After the usual votes of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells, to the local company for the arrangements made and to the ladies for providing such a good tea, further ringing followed in a great variety of Minor methods and also Grandsire and Stedman Doubles. The bells were lowered in peal to bring to a close a very good meeting.

HALIFAX AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

NEW MILL WIN CONTEST AT SHELLEY.

The quarterly meeting and six-bell contest of the Halifax and District Association was held at Shelley on Saturday, November 5th. Four teams entered the contest, to ring 600 changes, with a plain course for practice. The draw for the order of ringing was as follows: (1) Friesland; (2) Meltham; (3) New Mill; (4) Liversedge. Liversedge rang Plain Bob and the others rang Oxford.

Tea, to which about 30 sat down, was served in the Gardeners Arms. The meeting which followed the ringing was held in the Mothers' Union Room, the president (Mr. Earnshaw) being in the chair, supported by the Vicar of Shelley (the Rev. — Broadbent).

It was decided that, subject to permission being granted, the next committee meeting be held at Kirkburton on March 11th.

The judge, Mr. A. Hoyle, of Shelley, gave his decision as follows: Friesland, 110 faults; Meltham, 80 faults; New Mill, 77 faults; Liversedge, 222 faults. New Mill were, therefore, declared winners, and the cup was presented to the conductor (Mr. H. Biltcliffe) by the Vicar of Shelley.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

CREWE BRANCH TRY SANDBACH'S RESTORED BELLS.

A most enjoyable meeting of the Crewe Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild was held on November 19th at Sandbach, where the peal of eight bells has recently been returned and put in a new steel frame by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough. The cost of this work has been defrayed by a local lady, Mrs. Poole, of Sandbach, in memory of her husband.

Ringings during the day ranged from Grandsire Triples to Cambridge Surprise Major.

Tea was kindly given by Archdeacon Armitstead, Rector of Sandbach, and there were 42 members present, representing 17 towers.

DONINGTON RINGER'S LONG RECORD.

DEATH OF MR. HERBERT WOODS.

It is with great regret we record the death of Mr. Herbert Woods, of Donington, Lincolnshire, at the age of 73 years. He passed away at his residence on Tuesday, November 15th, after only a few months' illness.

The interment took place in Donington Cemetery on Saturday, the funeral service being conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. G. A. Elson). As a last token of respect Mr. Rupert Richardson (Ringing Master of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild) and Mrs. Richardson (Surfleet), Mr. George Ladd (Pinchbeck) and Mr. Cyril Burrell (Gosberton) rang a course of Grandsire Triples on handbells at the graveside. Six of deceased's fellow-ringers acted as bearers and in the evening they rang the tower bells half-muffled.

THE LATE MR. WOODS AND HIS RINGING FAMILY.

In this picture, with the Vicar of Donington, is the late Mr. Herbert Woods, with his four ringing sons and grandson.

Mr. Woods had had a long association with Donington Church, having been a bellringer there for nearly 50 years, during most of which time he had been captain of the band. He was also a chorister in his early days, and in September of this year he completed 37 years as vergers and cemetery keeper. He was also one of the oldest members of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild.

On November 21st, 1937, he created something of a record, as he, together with four of his sons and a grandson, rang a quarter-peal on the six bells.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

ROCHESTER DISTRICT ON THE UP-GRADE.

The annual meeting of the Rochester District of the Kent County Association was held at Rochester. About 80 members attended and the meeting was in all respects a complete success.

Ringing on the Cathedral bells took place for an hour in the afternoon, and evensong was attended by most of the ringers. Tea was served at the City Cafe, the cost being borne by the association.

The business meeting was presided over by the Dean of Rochester, Bishop Blackie, who extended a very hearty welcome to the ringers to the city of Rochester, which, he felt, was the home of the District. He emphasised his admiration of the spirit of comradeship and good feeling which usually existed among the ringers, and he said it gave him very much pleasure to be with such a happy and genial gathering of churchworkers. He also expressed his great pleasure in seeing so many young ringers and ladies at the meeting, and made amusing references to his earlier association with the ringers when ringing by the ladies was regarded with a certain apprehension.

The district representatives, Messrs. W. Spice and E. A. G. Allen, were re-elected, as was also the district secretary, Mr. George H. Spice.

The secretary read his annual report of the activities of the District since the last annual meeting and other matters of interest to the members. It was gratifying to note that the district continued to flourish and that the membership was on the up-grade. Of the total of 182 members of the Rochester District, 26 were under 16 years of age and eight were non-paying members over the age of 65. It was noted that there was also an increase in the number of peals rung during the past twelve months, but it was emphasised that the time had arrived when the six-bell towers should contribute a bigger share to the total and that they should make a special effort in this direction during the coming year.

Gillingham was decided upon as the place for the first meeting of the new year, to be held in January.

Ringing on the Cathedral and St. Margaret's bells was afterwards resumed.

EAST DERBYSHIRE & NOTTS ASSOCIATION

SUCCESSFUL FIRST DINNER.

The first dinner promoted by the East Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire Association was held on Saturday, November 5th, at Alfreton. The bells of the Parish Church were available during the afternoon and at 5 o'clock, a well-attended service was conducted by the Rev. L. H. de Cas, Vicar of Alfreton. The address was given by the Rev. T. H. Evans, Rector of South Normanton, and the lessons read by Mr. J. W. England, hon. secretary of the association.

A company, numbering 74 ringers and friends, gathered in the evening at the King Alfred Hotel for dinner. The vice-president (Mr. John Hobbs) occupied the chair, supported by the president (Mr. Wilson Dobb), the Revs. L. H. de Cas, T. H. Evans and H. W. Schofield (Selston), Mr. Tom Clarke (Ringing Master), Messrs. E. A. Ashman, A. Elliott, H. Doughty, T. Jennings (members of Executive) and Mr. J. W. England. There were also present Mr. W. E. White (hon. treasurer of the Midland Counties Association), Miss I. Thompson (hon. secretary of the District Ladies' Guild), Mr. R. Walker (churchwarden, South Normanton) and Mr. W. Ainsworth (churchwarden, Tibshelf). Apologies for absence were received from the Lord Bishop of Derby, Bishop Neville Talbot (St. Mary's, Nottingham), the Revs. R. F. Wilkinson, Canon Paget, the Rev. D. G. Smith, R.D., Messrs. W. F. Croft, C. Harrison, A. Brown, J. Swinfield, James Rawson, W. P. Deane, Sydney Palmer, R. Richardson and E. H. Lewis (president, Central Council).

Following the loyal toast, Mr. Tom Clarke proposed 'The Church and State,' and made reference to the great national figures who had made an indelible impression on this country.

In reply, the Rev. L. H. de Cas expressed his personal gratification and that of the town of Alfreton at the association's visit to that place. The association, he said, was engaged in valuable work, and he wished it continued activity and prosperity. It was a pleasing sign that ladies were taking a part in this work, and possibly their æsthetic tastes would have a chastening effect on the appearance of some ringing chambers (laughter). Bellringing should induce a tremendous feeling of loyalty to the Church and promote fellowship. As to the State, whatever mistakes democracy had made, and, possibly, one was that of 'muddling through,' they would never make the mistake of exchanging their own freedom for what other dictator powers considered a 'greater state of efficiency.'

Mr. E. A. Ashman, toasting 'The Association,' said he had been ringing for about 50 years, and in his early days it took about an hour to ring 120 changes of Grandsire Doubles, each change being called by the ringer who was leading and repeated several times. He attributed the progress made to the work of the associations. Better belfry conditions all round prevailed to-day.

At this juncture a splendid course of Grandsire Triples on handbells was rung by Miss I. Thompson and Messrs. Clarke, Salter and Bradley.

THE ASSOCIATION'S AIMS.

Mr. J. W. England replied to the toast and reminded the company that last year they celebrated the jubilee of the association. The hope was then expressed that they would have an annual dinner and convivial reunion. The success or otherwise of that evening's gathering would determine the future policy. Such gatherings would undoubtedly increase the bond of fellowship in the association. Although over 50 years old, the association was very young in comparison with some. He reminded the company that bellringing in its early days was indulged in more as a pastime for the sons of the wealthy than an act of service. While a small minority still practised the art merely as a hobby, the object of the majority, and the object of ringing associations, was to produce the best in their power to the glory of God. The aims of the association were efficiency and loyalty to the Church. That evening, he reminded the gathering, they had with them Mr. H. Draycott, of Tibshelf, who the following day, November 6th, would complete 50 years' service as ringer in one church; also Mr. J. Swain, who had rung for 49 years. If the association could retain the interest of such members for so long and in conscientious service, then its work was worth while (applause). He appealed for 100 per cent. membership and pointed out that where ringing was regular and efficient, the ringers were invariably members of an association. They must, he said, do their utmost to prevent the substitution of mechanical means for beautiful bells. He had heard of ringers being described as a nuisance. Ringers could be a nuisance, but so could some clergy (laughter). He concluded by appealing for closer co-operation between clergy and ringers.

Mr. Wilson Dobb submitted 'The Visitors and Kindred Societies,' and particularly welcomed Miss Thompson and Mr. W. E. White, the genial treasurer of the Midland Counties Association.—Mr. R. Walker responded.

The musical programme was well sustained by Mr. J. Wright (bass), Mr. W. Haig (tenor) and Mr. A. E. Coupe (humorist), while Mr. A. Lane was the accompanist.

The Chairman, in his concluding remarks, stressed the importance of striking, and said 'every ringer is a soloist.' He asked every ringer at all times to remember this.

The singing of the National Anthem concluded the enjoyable proceedings.

ANOTHER FINE OCTAVE FOR DEVON.

TWELVE TEAMS OF RINGERS AT TAWSTOCK OPENING.

Due to the enterprise of the Vicar of Tawstock, the Rev. Sir A. Bouchier Wrey, Bt., the old six bells in the Parish Church have been returned, quarter-turned and rehung with new iron headstocks and ball bearings. Two new treble bells to complete the octave have been added and the complete peal has been hung in a new iron frame. The tenor turns the scale at 16 cwt. 3 qr. 20 lb.

The dedication of the bells took place on Saturday, November 19th, the ceremony being performed by the Rural Dean of Barnstaple (the Rev. H. P. T. Scott).

In view of heavy rain and the remote position of the church, the number who attended the service was surprising. Some twelve complete teams of ringers were present, and each team was allowed 20 minutes' ringing, including rising and falling in peal. The turns for ringing were decided by ballot.

Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., Loughborough, have been responsible for the complete work and they have provided a delightful peal. Mr. J. P. Fidler represented them at the service of dedication.

ARMISTICE COMMEMORATION.

With the bells half-muffled in memory of the fallen, a quarter-peal of Doubles (four extents of Plain Bob and six and a half of Grandsire) was rung for evensong on November 13th at Pytchley, Northants: S. Sargent 1, G. Brown 2, C. Brown 3, R. Coleman 4, S. Munton (conductor) 5.

The Sunday service band at Ross-on-Wye, Herefordshire, rang a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples for the special service of remembrance on November 13th: A. G. Hazelden 1, W. T. Poston (conductor) 2, K. C. Bridges 3, A. H. Wheelwright 4, J. D. Morris 5, H. H. Winney 6, J. J. Webb 7, R. Taylor 8. First quarter-peal by ringers of 1 and 3.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

RECORDS AND ENTHUSIASM.

There are records, and records; and it is astonishing in what a variety of ways ringers are able to gratify legitimate ambition—it may be in ringing the longest length, or the greatest number of changes in a method; it may be in achieving peals in new methods, or of ringing peals in more methods than anyone else; it may be in ringing heavy bells, or quick peals, or in ringing a large number of peals or in a large number of towers, or even in 'circling' a tower, or in ringing a lot of tenors to peals. There are many ways in which a man may gratify his tastes, and, if he is so minded, set himself out to do something more than others have done. And provided he does not seek to do it by exploiting his friends, a ringer has every right to pursue his particular interest.

Mostly, however, individual ringing records do not come by a sudden burst of energy. A new length may perhaps be a 'flash in the pan,' but usually records are set up by the steady application of the ringer himself over a long period. It involves a sustained enthusiasm, which is not only a merit in itself, but is to be praised because it results in carrying others on the tide of interest. Ringing is not a thing which a man can practise by himself, it is a team job. No man can make records unless all the time he has others sufficiently keen and interested to do their share in making these things possible, and though the records which may be growing may be of no special personal concern of theirs, their share in them, small or large, sustained or intermittent, has done something at least to kindle an interest in the art, improve their knowledge, and probably arouse a greater enthusiasm for it.

Some records are made which are the outcome of years of patient endeavour; have had their origin, not in any desire to achieve fame, but in the slow growth of separate and perhaps unimportant performances. They have been made possible, perhaps, by a fortuitous combination of circumstances which has brought together a company of ringers, not only capable when they are in the belfry, but loyal to each other; sticking together through the years and eventually reaching achievements far beyond any early dreams. The late Mr. William Pye had the gift of drawing round him such men. He had no place for the indifferent or the slack ringer, but he kept round him, through a long period, the nucleus of a band as proficient as any in England. And in the later years of his leadership these men travelled with him to every part of England where there was a ring of twelve bells that was available for a peal. They went to many distant places and, we believe, never once on these long journeys did they return unsuccessful. It was not all luck; it was the hall-mark of a band well built and loyal. The result of these excursions was that these men accumulated a great record of twelve-bell towers. When he died, Mr. William Pye had rung peals in more such towers than any other man, but since then those he left behind have gone on adding to their records until last Saturday two of them, Mr. G. R. Pye and Mr. C. T. Coles, both achieved the remarkable record of having rung twelve-bell peals in fifty twelve-bell towers. It is not only a great performance, but a great example of perseverance and enthusiasm which others could emulate, if not in twelve-bell ringing, at least in other directions.

NEWBURY BRANCH SECRETARY RETIRES.

But Elected Ringing Master.

After having served the Newbury Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild for 13 years in the capacity of hon. secretary, Mr. H. W. Curtis retired from that office at the annual meeting of the branch, held at Newbury on November 19th. He took this decision much to the regret of the members, for he has been a most efficient officer, and during the past 24 years has missed only one meeting of the branch. The services of Mr. Curtis are not, however, to be entirely lost, for the post of Ringing Master was created and he was elected to fill it.

The meeting was preceded by a service in the Newbury Parish Church, conducted by the Rector, Canon W. L. Cooper, an address being given by the Master of the Guild, Canon G. F. Coleridge, Vicar of Crowthorne. Afterwards tea was served in the Parish Room, followed by the business meeting, over which the Rev. W. Kingsley Kefford, chairman of the branch, presided, supported by the Master, the Rev. C. E. Wigg (Deputy Master), Canon W. L. Cooper, Mr. Curtis and Mr. R. T. Hibbert (general secretary of the Guild).

In his report, Mr. Curtis said five meetings were held during the year with an average attendance of 44. The membership of the branch was 188, consisting of 20 honorary members, 160 ringing members and eight life subscribers.

Mr. Curtis went on to say that having served the branch for 13 years as secretary, he felt the time had come when he should make room for a younger man. The reasons for this decision were illness and having to do many jobs which filled his spare time.

Presenting the balance sheet, he said the total receipts were £34 0s. 10d., which included a balance from last year of £17 5s. 1d. and subscriptions amounting to £16 11s. The expenses were £16 19s. 8d., a balance in hand remaining of £17 1s. 2d.

The Rev. W. Kingsley Kefford was re-elected chairman, and, after acknowledging his appointment, paid a tribute to the work Mr. Curtis had put in on behalf of the branch.

Mr. T. J. Fisher, of Thatcham tower, was then appointed hon. secretary, and Mr. Curtis elected Ringing Master. The following were re-elected as representatives on the general committee of the Guild: Messrs. T. Curtis, S. Quinton, H. Smith and F. J. Owen.

The Master urged towers to make use of the facilities offered by the Guild with regard to instructors, while a suggestion, put forward by Mr. G. E. Hedges (Brightwalton), that towers should arrange combined practices, was well received.

The next meeting of the branch was fixed for Shaw-cum-Donnington in February, and the spring meeting for Shefford.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks, proposed by Mr. Kefford, to the Master for his address, the Rector for allowing the meeting to be held in Newbury and Mrs. Curtis and helpers for arranging the tea.

The address of the new hon. secretary and treasurer of the branch is Arniston, Manor Lane, Newbury.

PEAL NOTES.*TWO BIG JOBS COMPLETED.

Members of St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham, made amends for their previous loss at Manchester Town Hall by scoring an excellent peal of Stedman Cinques on this new Taylor ring on November 19th. A few months ago they visited Manchester and rang over three hours, but the tenorman had to give up.

The journey home after the successful visit was more trouble than the peal itself. At Stoke the vice-president left the train in search of 'provender.' Just before the train was due to restart, as he had not returned, two others of the party went in search of him. When they got back, the vice-president, the provender and the train had all gone.

Three others of the party, who had stayed until a later hour in Manchester to hear the end of a peal of Stedman Caters at the Cathedral and attend a Lancashire meeting at Salford, reached Birmingham about 2.30 a.m., and were surprised to see two of their friends, whom they thought to be safely home and asleep, rushing for a late bus outside Snow Hill Station, where they should have been four hours before.

The peal itself was particularly interesting, in that it was the 300th peal of Stedman Cinques rung by St. Martin's Guild since the amalgamation of Birmingham societies about 50 years ago.

Before that time St. Martin's Society had rung 17 and the Holt Society two, so that the total is 319, which is, of course, many more than any other society has rung.

The 300 peals for the Guild have been rung in 17 towers, and 170 have been rung in St. Martin's belfry. The others have been as follows: West Bromwich and Wolverhampton, 8 each; Aston, 3; Painswick, Walsall, Worcester, 2 each; Bristol, Canterbury, Cheltenham, Cirencester, Exeter, Leicester, Manchester, Sheffield, Shrewsbury and Southwark, 1 each: on handbells, 95.

Beverley Minster tenor was turned in to a peal of Bob Royal on November 19th by Mr. Pat Cannon, who called a composition by Mr. James George as a birthday compliment to the Birmingham veteran. This is only the third occasion on which Beverley Minster tenor has been turned in.

Both these performances are a tribute to the excellence of the work done by Messrs. Taylor and Co. in the hanging of these heavy peals.

At Hughenden on November 19th the first peal of Cranbourne Surprise Major for the Oxford Guild was rung. It was the first peal in the method by all the band and was rung without practice. Only one previous peal had been rung in the method. This was at Egham, Surrey, last June for the Middlesex Association.

The new Vicar of Flitton, Beds, was welcomed with a peal in seven Minor methods on November 21st.

The first peal on the bells at Woolton, Liverpool, was rung on November 19th, 1888, and the jubilee was suitably commemorated with a peal of Grandsire Triples last Saturday week.

Two ladies took part in a handbell peal of Bob Major at Pudsey on November 22nd, when a composition by Mr. George Lewis, of Sheffield, was rung for the first time. It contains the full combination of 4, 5 and 6 in 5-6 in thirty-six, the minimum number of courses.

Another composition by Mr. Lewis was rung for the first time at Eastwood, Yorkshire, on November 19th. It is a peal of Treble Bob with the sixth the extent in 5-6 in thirteen courses and was rung to Oxford. Mr. Sid Briggs, who took part, finished the 'circle' of the tower, where he has now rung every bell to a peal.

Mr. J. E. Hobbs rang his fiftieth peal when he took part in a peal of Double Norwich Major at Ilkeston on November 21st.

A peal of Double Norwich Major at Diss on November 22nd was a birthday compliment to Mr. Albert Harrison, hon. secretary of the South Norfolk Branch of the Norwich Diocesan Association.

A DIAMOND WEDDING.

A diamond wedding was celebrated on Saturday week, when at Creswell, Derbyshire, a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major was rung in honour of the 60th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Moss, of Ipswich.

The diamond wedding of Mr. and Mrs. I. Moss was also celebrated by a peal in seven Minor methods at Mistley, Essex, on Nov. 21st. Mr. and Mrs. Moss are the parents of Mr. G. W. Moss, who is steeple-keeper at Mistley. It was the first peal in seven methods that Mr. George Waterman had rung for 33 years.

The bells at Aughton, Lancashire, were recently restored by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., and the first peal on them since the reopening was rung on Nov. 16th. Messrs. W. Daniels and J. E. Wilson rang their first peal, appropriately a birthday compliment to the latter.

Another 'birthday' peal was that rung at Horsham St. Faith, Norfolk, on Nov. 14th, as a compliment to Mr. A. J. Smalls.

Mr. T. Cullingworth learned to ring at Crofton, Yorks. He is now serving in the R.A.F., but while home on leave scored his first peal in seven Treble Bob methods. The peal, rung on November 18th, was specially arranged for him.

The peal of Bob Major 'in hand' at Leicester on November 23rd was arranged for Mr. Ralph Narborough, of Nottingham. The general hon. secretary of the Midland Counties Association rang his fiftieth peal on handbells. Over a decade has passed since Messrs. W. and E. R. Whitehead rang a peal 'in hand.'

The ringers at Leicester Cathedral very kindly placed the bells at St. Martin's on Saturday at the disposal of visitors who, coming from nearly a dozen different places, rang a peal of Stedman Cinques. The ringers were from Birmingham, Coventry, Derby, Romford, Walthamstow, Woking, Loughborough, Bath, Earl Shilton, Lewisham and Swindon.

Those who had not been to the tower since the days before the 'reformation' were struck by the change in the conditions. Instead of a rough going ring of ten in an uncomfortable tower, they found a new peal of twelve going so perfectly that they 'ring themselves,' and a chamber floored and panelled in oak, with oak furnishings, and a soft but effective lighting.

The story of how these bells were obtained for the Coronation sounds almost fantastic. Provost McNutt went out one morning with a list of names in his pocket. He came back at lunch time with the promise of eight bells from the first eight people he approached. Afterwards folk almost fell over each other to give the other five (there is an additional half-tone for a light eight). Mr. Fred Dexter says they could have got 24 bells instead of 12 if they could have done with them.

The peal that was rung on Saturday was specially interesting in view of the fact that, as recorded elsewhere, it made the fiftieth twelve-bell tower in which Messrs. C. T. Coles and G. R. Pye had rung a twelve-bell peal. George Newton, of Earl Shilton, rang his first peal of Stedman Cinques at the first attempt without having rung a touch of it before, and J. S. Goldsmith made his peal towers up to 150. There was a large gathering of Leicester ringers afterwards to meet the visitors, and things went very merrily under the watchful eyes of a couple of police inspectors.

In a peal of Bob Minor at Alderley, Cheshire, the conducting was shared by two of the ringers. It was a birthday compliment to Mr. Fethers, whose sister took part; the peal was rung on Nov. 19th.

A peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Llanfrechfa, Mon., on November 12th, on the occasion of a visit of Mr. George John, who was formerly a ringer at this church.

The first peal on the six bells at Bardwell, Suffolk, was rung on Saturday week.

Mr. Sidney Hough rang the 3rd at Knutsford, Cheshire, on Nov. 19th to a peal of Minor, and thus completed the circle of the tower.

Composed by Mr. Arthur Knights in September, 1882, a composition of 5,184 Treble Bob Major was rung for the first time on Nov. 19th at Wath-on-Dearne, Yorkshire. Mr. Knights seems to have an inexhaustible supply of peals in this method. Mr. Harold Chant, who rang the treble, has now rung all the bells at Wath to a peal.

The peal of Pudsey Surprise Maximus rung at St. Mary-le-Tower Church, Ipswich, on Saturday, is the fourth in the method on twelve bells. The other three were rung at Ipswich on September 13th, October 11th and November 22nd, 1930, so eight years have elapsed since the previous peal of Pudsey Maximus. There were five 'first peals' in this performance.

It was the 80th peal in which G. E. Symonds has rung the eleventh, 74 of them being Maximus. Mr. W. P. Garrett joined the St. Mary-le-Tower Society just over 50 years ago, and has taken part in all the first peals rung in Surprise Maximus methods.

The peal of Minor at Milton Regis, Kent, although rung with the bells open, was rung in thankful remembrance of the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, who was for 38 years the hon. secretary of the County Association. It was F. J. Cheal's 25th peal and the first peal in three methods by Miss Joan Naylor. It was also the first time a peal in three Minor methods had been rung on the bells. It was rung on November 16th.

What is believed to be the first peal on the five bells at Brafield, Northamptonshire, was rung on November 15th as a farewell to the Vicar, who held the joint living of Little Houghton and Brafield.

Two of the bells at Brafield are by Henry Bagley in 1699, the second was cast by 'Thomas Russell, of Wootton, in the County of Bedford,' in 1732. The two largest bells were cast in 1676 and the tenor bears the inscription, 'When I do ring or tole my voyce is spent that men may com to here Gods word adn so repent.' A short time ago the bells were tuned and rehung by Messrs. Taylor and Co.

Another peal of farewell to the departing Vicar (the Rev. A. C. Nugee) was rung at Little Houghton on Nov. 19th. He is going to Eckington, Derbyshire, where he will find eight bells. At the two five-bell towers in his Northamptonshire parishes he has been fortunate in having a strong band of ringers, and the farewell peals were rung by companies from both.

Mr. T. E. Sone, of Paddock Wood, rang his 275th peal for the Kent County Association on Saturday week, when he took part in a peal of Double Norwich Major at Staplehurst, which was a birthday compliment to his fourteen-year-old son, C. T. G. Sone.

LEICESTER VICAR'S INDUCTION.

On Tuesday, November 8th, at St. Margaret's, for the induction of the new Vicar, the Rev. E. N. Ducker, M.A., a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples (1,260 changes) by R. W. Swann 1, T. Bent 2, J. Morris 3, A. Debenham 4, W. H. Clarke 5, A. Cattell 6, G. S. Morris (conductor) 7, C. R. Hill 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Next Monday, Mr. John W. Jones, hon. secretary of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association, will celebrate his 73rd birthday. He has rung nearly five hundred peals and thinks of giving up! But he's only a youngster yet, compared with some, and everyone will wish him still many happy returns of the day and many more years of peal ringing.

Three correspondents have written to point out that the peal of Doubles at Evershot, Dorset, recorded last week, was not the first in 21 methods. Three peals, in which this number of methods was used, have been rung at Cretingham, Suffolk.

The first was in 1883, conducted by D. G. Wightman. Mr. James Betts informs us that in this peal only seven of the methods rung at Evershot were employed.

The second peal was on March 10th, 1887, and was rung, Mr. E. F. Poppy tells us, by Stephen Wightman and his four sons, conducted by Alfred Wightman. Mr. Ronald Steward, however, sends the information that this peal was called by D. G. Wightman, and adds the date of the third peal, April 30th, 1887, conducted by A. S. Wightman. All the peals were rung for the Norwich Diocesan Association.

Mr. D. Hollos, a member of the Lancashire Association, delivered a lecture on campanology to a number of boys of Bury School recently. He traced the development of bells from the Bronze Age and illustrated his talk by excellent sketches which he rapidly drew on the blackboard. The lecture was both interesting and instructive.

LORD GRIMTHORPE'S DESIGN DISREGARDED.

Mr. F. E. Dawe informs us that correspondence with Mr. E. Denison Taylor confirms his statement, in the article recalling the opening of St. Paul's Cathedral bells 60 years ago, that Lord Grimthorpe intended the tenor of the peal to be a bell which would give a note of D flat, but that, in view of all the circumstances, the founder took it upon his own responsibility to cast it as a B flat bell.

Lord Grimthorpe's design was for a tenor having a thickness at the soundbow of one-thirteenth of the diameter, and a note by the late Mr. John Taylor, among the memoranda made at the time, makes manifest the founder's strong disapproval of this enormous thickness. He points out that a bell of the size of St. Paul's tenor, viz., 5ft. 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ in., having a thickness at soundbow equal to one-thirteenth of diameter, would have the note D flat.

The one-thirteenth scale was not adhered to, and it is quite probable that the fact of this diminishment was not broken to Lord Grimthorpe until very much too late for anything to be done about it, but when he was informed he told the founder he had run a great risk of having the whole peal thrown back on his hands.

However, the matter was amicably settled, although Lord Grimthorpe apparently never surrendered his views, for in the eighth edition of 'Clocks, Watches and Bells' (1903) he wrote: 'All the five largest bells at St. Paul's are only on the 14 scale of thickness, and they would have been better on the 13 scale, but the tenor inconveniently heavy to ring.'

Mr. Dawe adds: 'I hope this will finally set at rest any doubts existing in the minds of some of the 'doubting Thomases,' and that they will see 'which to believe as truth,' and that all I have stated is strictly correct.'

A 'NUISANCE' THAT WASN'T.

AN OBJECTOR CAUGHT OUT.

With how little real cause some people complain of bells is illustrated by the following paragraph taken from 'The Star' of Saturday last, headed 'Baker Street Chimes.'

'The tower of Abbey House has a clock whose bells ring the Guildford Chimes hourly.'

'A musician living in the locality wrote to Sir Harold Bellman protesting that the bells kept him awake all night. Sir Harold promptly replied that they could not because the Chimes stopped at 10 p.m. and did not start again until 8 a.m.'

'It seems that the people of Baker Street and district like the Chimes, for whenever they are silenced for readjustment, shoals of letters are sent asking why. And the tower itself is so impressive at night that the young ladies of Bedford College in Regent's Park nearby sometimes write sonnets to its nocturnal beauty.'

A DIAMOND WEDDING.

We have recorded two peals rung for the diamond wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Moss, of Ipswich. In addition the auspicious event was celebrated at Yaxley, Suffolk, where they formerly lived, by touches in various methods rung on the bells of the Parish Church. Mr. and Mrs. Moss have three sons who are ringers, Mr. G. Moss, of Mistley, Essex, Mr. Jesse J. Moss, of Bolsover, Derbyshire, and Mr. Harry Moss, of Braisworth, Suffolk, who took part in the diamond wedding ringing with three members of the Lock family, of Yaxley, and two Poppys from Stoke Ash. It is noteworthy that quite recently these ringers rang for the golden wedding of the parents of the brothers Lock.

JAMES E. DAVIS.

Among the few men who have rung over a thousand peals is Mr. James E. Davis, whose whole ringing career has been spent in London. Mr. Davis has been associated with various towers, but for some years now he has been Bell Warden at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate.

He was born in the parish of St. James, Bermondsey, on May 1st, 1867, and learnt to handle a bell at St. George's, Camberwell. Going shortly afterwards to live in Deptford, he joined the band at St. John's Church, and there learnt the rudiments of change ringing. There, too, he rang his first peal, Grandsire Triples, on April 19th, 1891. His first peal as conductor was rung at Putney on January 5th, 1893, when he called Holt's Original.

Later Mr. Davis served as secretary of the old Waterloo Society, of which he was also the last elected Master. But although the society itself expired, Mr. Davis did not let the practices at St. John's, Waterloo Road, lapse. A band that met there regularly made rapid progress in the higher methods and rang many peals until the war put an end to church bellringing in London. One memorable peal was, however, rung there at a much earlier date. On June 4th, 1898, Mr. Davis took part at this tower in Holt's Original non-conducted, a performance that can still rank high in peal ringing annals.

Mr. Davis had a long connection with ringing at St. Margaret's, Westminster, where for a time he was steeplekeeper. At the Coronation of King George V. he was one of the band selected to ring at Westminster Abbey, and he holds the medal given to all, from the late Archbishop of Canterbury downwards, who took part in the historic ceremony.

After the restoration of Bishopsgate bells Mr. Davis was appointed bell warden, and a great many peals have been rung there during his tenure of office. The tower is in the heart of London and it was in his endeavour to minimise annoyance to the public that Mr. Davis produced the 'silencer,' which is now being used with advantage at many noisy towers and which was first applied to the bells at Bishopsgate.

Mr. Davis has now rung 1,122 peals, in 217 towers, of which he has conducted 265. Of this number 152 have been rung at Bishopsgate, 117 at St. John's, Waterloo Road, and 71 at St. Margaret's, Westminster. He took part in the record length of 10,400 of Cambridge Surprise Royal at Walthamstow on December 26th, 1923, and that great performance, the 7,392 Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Bow Church, Cheapside, on December 19th, 1925.

Many ringers, of course, served in His Majesty's Forces during the Great War, but few have served in two campaigns. Mr. Davis, however, did so. In the South African War he served with the East Surrey Regiment, mostly under General Sir Redvers Buller, and in the Great War he served with the Royal Engineers.

THE KING AND QUEEN IN WALDEN BELFRY.

THEIR MAJESTIES CHAT WITH RINGERS.

When their Majesties the King and Queen visited St. Paul's Walden belfry on Sunday week, as recorded in our last issue, they chatted for some time with the ringers.

Mr. Ernest East, captain of the local band, was presented to the King and Queen, and he afterwards presented to Her Majesty a photograph of the new 'Elizabeth' bell, which commemorates the Coronation of their Majesties.

After staying for about five minutes watching the ringers at work, their Majesties ascended the narrow staircase to the bell chamber, the bells, meantime, for the sake of safety, having been lowered.

The new 'Elizabeth' bell was then raised, in order that the royal party could observe the normal working of a bell. The Queen remarked, on descending the stairs, that she considered the new bell was of exceptionally sweet tone.

The bell was then raised again, and several touches of Grandsire Doubles rung as the royal party left the church.

MR. JAMES E. DAVIS.

B.B.C.'s FURTHER EXPLANATION.

The action of the B.B.C. in several recent instances of curtailing very considerably the actual time allotted to the broadcasting of bells before the Sunday evening services has led to further correspondence.

Writing to Mr. F. W. Rogers, hon. secretary of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, who had called attention to the cutting down of the time by the introduction of a description of the church, and had suggested that this description should begin about three minutes earlier, the Controller of Public Relations said:—

We fully understand your regret that occasionally it has been found desirable to devote part of the time hitherto allowed (in some churches) for the ringing of bells to a short descriptive notice of the church's history and/or surroundings. But in reply I would ask you to consider that—

(1) A very much larger number of listeners prefer to hear something of the history of the church than the ringing of the bells; and we are in duty bound to take this preference into account.

(2) The number of churches about which these short descriptive notices are broadcast is comparatively small. Thus, in the three months July, August and September, out of a total of 37 services, only nine were preceded by such notices.

(3) We must face the fact that bells do not make a very effective broadcast. Please believe that we realise the fascination of the art, and the interest which it has for a number of its devotees; but to the ordinary listener, who knows nothing of its intricacies, and, therefore, is without this interest, it tends to become monotonous after a very short time.

We would not, however, have you think that we disregard your appeal; and there are two ways in which we may possibly be able to meet—in part at least—your request.

We will endeavour to keep such notices as we broadcast as short as possible, so as to allow a little longer time for the bells, and we will also make sure that we broadcast a notice about a church only when it has some features of historic or architectural interest. But we fear we cannot undertake to omit such notices altogether from our programmes.

A LOSS TO THE SUFFOLK GUILD.

DEATH OF MR. C. JOHN TROTMAN.

By the death of Mr. C. John Trotman, the Suffolk Guild has lost a very keen and devoted member. His untimely end, at the early age of 48, was the result of an accident, sustained whilst engaged in his duties in connection with water and sewerage.

A native of Swinbrook, Gloucester, the deceased went to Woodbridge some ten years ago, and straightway endeavoured to foster the art of campanology among a band of youths in the town. It was mainly through his enthusiasm and endless efforts that the lovely old peal of St. Mary's were rehung in January, 1934. He rang his first peal with five of his pupils on Jubilee Day, this being the only peal rung in the county of Suffolk that day. Although his duties did not permit much time for peal ringing, he attended regularly for service ringing and practices, and, as leader of the company, made many friends.

Apart from his ringing services, he was also a member of the Parochial Church Council and the choir.

On his removal to Ipswich in August, 1937, Mr. Trotman continued his ringing activities at St. Margaret's and frequently he revisited Woodbridge, where he was held in high esteem, for Sunday service ringing.

The funeral took place at Woodbridge on Friday last, the Suffolk Guild being represented at the service by the Rev. H. Drake and Mr. Charles E. Fisher. In the evening a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (the deceased's favourite method) was rung with the bells half-muffled by Miss Janet Grayston (first quarter-peal) 1, George W. Warner 2, William A. Woods 3, James W. Woodruffe 4, A. Stanley Woodard 5, Frank L. Fisher (conductor) 6, Charles E. Fisher 7, James Sawyer 8.

This band included five of the deceased's own pupils, the remainder being those who had spent many hours ringing in his company.

CAMBRIDGE CHORISTERS LEARNING TO RING.

BOYS FROM GREAT ST. MARY'S AT LITTLE SHELFORD.

There was a very good attendance at the Ely Branch meeting of the Ely Diocesan Association at Little Shelford on Saturday, an encouraging feature being the number of young ringers present.

At the service, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. E. B. H. Berwick), the singing was much helped by the choirboys from Great St. Mary's, Cambridge, who are being taught ringing by Mr. J. Quinney. It is to be hoped they will stick to bellringing when their choirboy days are over; anyway Mr. Quinney is doing the right thing in getting them interested while they are still actively connected with the church.

After service the ringers found a bountiful tea provided by the Rector and the Little Shelford ringers in the Village Hall, with Mrs. Berwick and other ladies to wait upon them. There being no business to transact, no official meeting was held, but the thanks of the visitors to the Little Shelford people were expressed by the Vicar of Harston (the Rev. P. G. Ward), who also invited any of the ringers to visit his tower to ring before going on to the other six-bell tower of Stapleford.

While perhaps some of the older ringers did not get very much in the way of interesting ringing, it is felt they will be amply repaid in the knowledge that they put in some good work on behalf of the younger generation.

A VILLAGE BELL RESTORATION.

SOBERTON BELLS RETUNED AND REHUNG.

The little village of Soberton, in Hampshire, has just had its church bells put in order and the tower and clock restored. The bells have been done partly by a substantial grant from the Barron Bell Trust, but, even so, the parish has raised something like £400 for the work. It was a great and praiseworthy effort, and on Sunday morning the Bishop of Portsmouth attended a thanksgiving service. There was a large congregation, including the local and a few visiting ringers. The bells were rung before the service, which was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. Godefroy), and in the course of which the verses from Tennyson's 'In Memoriam,' 'Ring out, wild bells,' were sung.

The Bishop, going to the west end of the church, offered special prayers and afterwards preached from the words, 'The multitudes that went before and that followed, burst into a shout, saying, Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord' (Matt. xxi., 9). Having spoken on the importance of Advent, the Bishop congratulated the parish upon the completion of the restoration of the tower and bells. Men of Soberton had through the centuries, he said, delighted in their church. As he looked upon pillar and memorial, the arched of the roof, as he looked upon hatchment and tomb and ancient doorway, he said to himself, all down the centuries the men of Soberton had loved and cherished that place. Their sons to-day were doing precisely the same thing. It was the most ancient building in the place and the most thrilling; the stones inside and out told their own story. The Church was the embodiment of England and the English spirit, and they were rejoicing that day because they had done their part in that twentieth century in keeping the building, which enshrined everything that was best in their Christian character, in a worthy condition.

The Bishop went on to remind the congregation of the uses of bells and laid special emphasis on the marriage bell and the passing bell. The homes of England created by marriage were, he said, the foundation of our society. When they heard the bells let them ask themselves how things were going in their own homes, and if they were not going right they should get them put right by kindness, gentleness and courtesy to one another. The passing bell was a reminder that death must come to all. Let them see to it that they were making their own path so clear of evil and wickedness that when the call came to them they could go with joyful heart.

After the service a 504 Stedman Triples was conducted by Mr. George Williams (Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild), who rang his first peal in this tower when the bells were increased to eight in 1883. Other touches followed in which visiting ringers took part.

The restoration of the bells, which has been carried out by Messrs. Taylor and Co., has consisted of retuning and rehanging in a new iron frame all on one level; the trebles in the old wooden frame were mounted above the rest. The bells are now a pleasant ring with a tenor of 13 cwt. 1 qr. 24 lb., and vastly improved in tone.

The sixth and seventh are pre-Reformation bells, the tenor was cast in 1623 and the 5th in 1649. The 4th was cast in 1878 and the 3rd in 1881.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

ENERGETIC AT IDLE.

The Leeds and District Society's November meeting was held at Idle on Saturday. Travellers to this tower can see the church standing on the top of the hill, but, when one approaches nearer, the tower is lost to view and none of the roads seem to lead direct to the church, and various ringers seem to have been in difficulty as to the correct turning that they should have taken in order to arrive at the church and inside the tower away from the wretched weather which always seems to be reserved for the society when they visit Idle.

The business meeting was held in the tower, when owing to the president (the Rev. Andrews) having to take a service at home and being, therefore, unable to stay until the business meeting, Mr. W. H. Senior (vice-president) occupied the chair.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and the local company was proposed by Mr. W. H. Senior and seconded by Mr. P. J. Johnson. The Rev. Bennett replied for the clergy, and Mr. T. Hill (churchwarden and ringer) spoke for the local company. Mr. Bennett is hoping to learn to ring in company with three or four others.

Further details of the society's jubilee in March, 1939, were announced. It was also stated that the next meeting would be in January at Pudsey.

Members were present from Armley, Batley, Birstall, Bradford Cathedral, Bramley, Burley, Calverley, Guiseley, Headingley (St. Chad's and St. Michael's), Leeds Parish Church, Pudsey, Shipley and the local company, and much energy was put into the ringing.

DEATH OF MASTER OF COLLEGE YOUTHS.

IN OFFICE ONLY SEVENTEEN DAYS.

We deeply regret to announce the death of Mr. Lawrence B. Porter, who was installed as Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths only on November 8th. Mr. Porter was found ill in the street on Monday of last week and taken to Middlesex Hospital, where he died on Friday. Mr. Porter had recently gone to live at Wembley Park; formerly he resided in Putney.

For many years Mr. Porter was out of ringing, after having been associated with it at Islington and Hackney. But about five years ago he came back to it and attended the meetings of the College Youths, in whose proceedings he took great interest. In 1935 he was elected Junior Steward of the society, served as Senior Steward for two years under Mr. E. H. Lewis' Mastership, and came to the chair at the beginning of this month.

Of late he had been in rather indifferent health and at the last minute was somewhat reluctant to take office, but consented when his nomination was unanimously approved.

Mr. Porter leaves a widow in bereavement. His only child, a daughter, had predeceased him. The funeral took place at Willesden on Wednesday.

Mr. Porter is the first Master of the College Youths to die in office within living memory. The only record of two Masters serving in one year is in 1738.

RESTORATION OF A CHESHIRE PEAL.

OVER BELLS IN A NEW FRAME.

During the early part of this year trouble was being experienced in the handling of the famous bells of St. Chad's Church, Over, Cheshire, where in July, 1923, the record length of 'Treble Bob' (17,280 of Kent Major) was rung. Expert opinion was obtained, and it transpired that the death-watch beetle had played havoc with the main timbers to such an extent that the bell frame was on the verge of collapse. The Vicar, wardens and Church Council, although faced with a big task, did not wring their hands, but lost no time in getting matters put right. The work to the bells was entrusted to Messrs. John Taylor and Co., Loughborough, who have replaced the old oak frame with a new one of massive proportions and constructed of teak. The old plain bearings have been replaced with new ones of ball-bearing type, and the bells are now not only in a safe condition for many years to come, but in excellent ringing order.

In conjunction with the rehanging of the bells, a new floor to the bell chamber has been put in, a new sound-deadening ceiling has been fixed in the ringing room, and the windows of the bell chamber have been completely covered with strong copper-wire guards to keep out the birds.

At morning service on Sunday, the completed work was hallowed by the Archdeacon of Chester, the Ven. R. H. V. Burne. The service was conducted by the Rev. J. R. Spencer, Vicar of Over, and the Archdeacon gave the address.

In spite of the awkward hour, a number of ringers turned up after ringing at their own churches, and Davenham, Crewe, Great Budworth, Northwich and several other neighbouring towers were represented. There was not a lot of time allowed for ringing, but all who visited Over managed to get a pull and everybody was delighted with the complete installation. Messrs. Taylor and Co. are to be congratulated on their work. They were represented at the service by Mr. J. P. Fidler.

RUARDEAN RINGER'S DEATH.

It is with deep regret that we record the unexpected death of Mr. Howard Reid, of Ruardean, Glos., who passed away on Friday, November 18th, at the age of 55 years. He was a member of the South Forest Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association up to the time of his death. For several years he was also a member of the Hereford Diocesan Guild. He was an extremely useful member of the Ruardean band and acted as their treasurer for over 30 years.

Being a keen ringer, he readily advanced the necessary money to have the 6th bell recast when the bells of the Parish Church were rehung in 1929. He rang in the first peal on the octave on the occasion of the funeral of King Edward VII., the peal being conducted by Mr. W. Short.

Mr. Reid was also treasurer of the Ruardean handbell ringers and often assisted at Christmas time to raise funds for the old people.

A very representative band of ringers attended the funeral, which took place at the Ruardean Parish Church on Wednesday, November 23rd, and a muffled peal was rung by the local ringers.

TWELVE-BELL TOWER RECORD. RINGERS' UNIQUE ACHIEVEMENT.

An interesting record has been set up by Messrs. G. R. Pye and C. T. Coles. On Saturday they rang a peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Martin's Cathedral, Leicester—the fiftieth tower in which each of them had rung a twelve-bell peal. It is a remarkable achievement, especially when it is remembered that there are only 57 twelve-bell towers in the British Isles. There is one other, in Melbourne, Australia.

It is a unique thing, too, that these two ringers should reach this total together and that it should be the same 50 towers, because their visits have not always been made jointly, although it now happens that they have rung a peal together in every one of the towers.

The interesting list is given below in county classification:—

Berkshire: St. Laurence's, Reading.
Buckinghamshire: All Saints', High Wycombe.
Cambridgeshire: St. Mary the Great, Cambridge.
Cheshire: St. Michael's, Macclesfield.
Devonshire: Buckfast Abbey; Exeter Cathedral.
Essex: Chelmsford Cathedral; St. Mary's, Saffron Walden; St. Lawrence's, Waltham Abbey.
Gloucestershire: St. Mary's, Cheltenham; St. John the Baptist's, Cirencester; St. Mary's, Painswick; Tewkesbury Abbey.
Hampshire: Christchurch Priory; Winchester Cathedral.
Hertfordshire: St. Albans Abbey.
Kent: Canterbury Cathedral; Waterloo Tower (Quex Park).
Lancashire: St. Michael's, Ashton-under-Lyne; St. Nicholas', Liverpool; St. Mary's, Oldham.
Leicestershire: St. Margaret's, Leicester; St. Martin's Cathedral, Leicester.
Lincolnshire: Lincoln Cathedral; St. Laurence's, Surfleet.
Middlesex: St. Giles', Cripplegate; St. Michael's, Cornhill; St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheapside; St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, London.
Norfolk: St. Nicholas', Great Yarmouth; St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich.
Northumberland: Newcastle Cathedral.
Oxfordshire: Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford.
Somerset: St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol; St. Mary Magdalen, Taunton.
Staffordshire: St. Matthew's, Walsall; Christ Church, West Bromwich; St. Peter's, Wolverhampton.
Suffolk: St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich.
Surrey: Southwark Cathedral.
Warwickshire: SS. Peter and Paul's, Aston; St. Martin's, Birmingham.
Wiltshire: St. James', Trowbridge.
Worcestershire: St. Mary's, Kidderminster; St. Mary's Cathedral, Worcester.
Yorkshire: St. John's, Halifax; St. Peter's, Leeds; Sheffield Cathedral; Wakefield Cathedral.
Ireland: St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin.
The only twelve-bell towers in which they have not rung peals are St. Paul's Cathedral; St. Bride's, Fleet Street; St. Martin-in-the-Fields, London; York, Shrewsbury, Croydon, Manchester Town Hall, and, of course, Melbourne.

The peals which Messrs. Pye and Coles have rung in the 50 towers are interesting. Mr. Pye's list on tower bells comprises the following: Cambridge Surprise Maximus, 76 (conducted 2), including the 7,392 at Bow, Cheapside, and the record 15,312 at Ashton-under-Lyne; Superlative Surprise Maximus, 5; Spliced Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Maximus, 2; Yorkshire Surprise Maximus, 1; Kent Treble Bob Maximus, 8 (conducted 2); Stedman Cinques, 139 (conducted 11), including the 11,111 at St. Martin's, Birmingham, the longest true peal of Stedman Cinques; Grandsire Cinques, 1; Erin Cinques, 1; total 233.

Mr. Coles' total is 190, made up of Cambridge Surprise Maximus, 74 (conducted 4), including the 7,392 and 15,312; Superlative Surprise Maximus, 5; Spliced Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Maximus, 2; Yorkshire Surprise Maximus, 1; Kent Treble Bob Maximus, 3 (conducted 1); Stedman Cinques, 104 (conducted 38); Erin Cinques, 1.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Towcester Branch of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild was held at Alderton on Saturday. Ringing commenced about 3 p.m., and at 3.30 a service, conducted by the Rev. E. V. Fenn, hon. secretary of the branch, was held in the 14th century church. The Rural Dean (the Rev. Canon Martin) addressed the ringers and spoke of the good work being done by guilds such as theirs.

Tea was provided at the farmhouse of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fountaine, no other place being available, and thanks were given to Mrs. Fountaine for kindly arranging tea and also to her willing helpers and to the local ringers.

Handbells were then brought into use, and Grandsire, Plain Bob and Stedman were rung by mixed bands, and selections of old tunes by members of a well-known Kentish family of ringers. Further ringing afterwards took place on the five bells in the old tower, which dates from the 13th century.

SURREY ASSOCIATION. NORTH-WESTERN DISTRICT SECRETARY'S COMING RETIREMENT.

A happy gathering of ringers took place at Wimbledon Parish Church on Saturday, when the North-Western District of the Surrey Association held their last meeting of the year. Towers represented were Banstead, Beddington, Buckland, Camberwell, Chertsey, Croydon (Parish Church and St. Peter's), Epsom (Christ Church), Kingston, Leatherhead, Merton, Mitcham (Parish Church and Christ Church), Putney and the local ringers. Mr. W. A. Stote, of Coventry, was a welcome visitor. There was a total attendance of 40.

Ringings commenced at 3 o'clock, and later a shortened form of even-song was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Canon A. H. Phelps), assisted by the curate (the Rev. W. R. Flex), who also read the lesson and gave the address. Taking his text from Zechariah, xiv., 20, 'In that day there shall be upon the bells of the horses "Holiness unto the Lord,"' the Rev. W. R. Flex described the use of bells through the ages.

The ringers then went to the Parish Hall, where they were entertained to tea by the Vicar and churchwardens, at which the curate and Mr. A. J. Castle (churchwarden) were present. After tea a hearty vote of thanks was passed to Canon Phelps for the use of the bells and for conducting the service, to the Rev. W. R. Flex for his address, to the Vicar and churchwardens for providing the tea, and to Mr. W. Arthur Taylor (captain of the local band) for making all arrangements for the meeting.

The Rev. W. R. Flex, in replying, apologised for the absence of the Vicar at tea, saying that he (the Vicar) would have liked very much to have been able to join them, but parochial duties prevented his attendance. He thanked the association for coming to Wimbledon, and said they could be assured of a hearty welcome on future occasions.

The business meeting followed, presided over by the District Master, Mr. Daniel Cooper. Mr. T. A. Blow, of Sanderstead, was elected a ringing member, and the elections of the following members, made in the belfry previous to a peal at Beddington, were ratified: Messrs. C. Hazelden (Guildford), ringing member; E. H. Lewis (Brasted), and R. Reed (Eastleigh), compounding members.

Mr. W. H. Hewett, of Camberwell, having expressed his regret at being unable to serve on the District Committee for a further period, the following members were nominated for election as district officers for 1939: Mr. D. D. Cooper (Master), Mr. H. W. Simmons (treasurer), Mr. F. G. Woodiss (secretary), Mr. R. A. Simmons (auditor), Mrs. C. H. Kippin and Messrs. C. Potheary and H. V. Young (committee).

The district secretary announced his decision to retire at the end of next year, explaining that by informing them now it would give members ample time in which to find a successor for election in 1940.

Mr. Castle (churchwarden), after a few words of welcome, thanked the association for coming to Wimbledon, and expressed, on behalf of his colleague as well as for himself, their pleasure at entertaining them.

Members were then conducted by Mr. A. J. Cook (local captain at Merton) to Merton Parish Church, where the bells (a peal of five, which require a good deal of handling) were available for ringing in the evening. There the party were met by the Vicar of Merton, who showed them round the church, explaining the various items of architectural and historical interest, with which this church abounds; also matters relating to the former Abbey.

After eight, ten and twelve bell ringers had had some much needed practice on five bells, the meeting dispersed.

RINGERS WEDDED AT SHEFFIELD.

MR. LESLIE HAYWOOD AND MISS NOEL CAWTHORNE.

The wedding took place at St. Mary's Church, Handsworth, Sheffield, on Nov. 19th, of Mr. Leslie Haywood and Miss Noel Cawthorne. Both the bride and bridegroom are well known in ringing circles in the North, being members of the Handsworth Guild. The bride was formerly hon. secretary of the Northern District of the Ladies' Guild for a number of years and she has also excelled herself in peal ringing, having rung 98 peals.

The Vicar of Woodhouse (the Rev. E. Snell) officiated in the absence of the Archdeacon of Sheffield, who was unavoidably unable to be present. Miss Lucy Kelly, also of the Handsworth Guild, was the bride's only attendant, and Mr. Reginald Payne, another well-known ringer, from Rotherham, was best man.

The bride was dressed in a petrel-blue three-piece costume with hat and shoes to match. The bridesmaid wore a dress of navy blue silk, trimmed with velvet, with hat and shoes to match. Both wore sprays of pink carnations. The bride's grandfather, Mr. J. Bate, gave her away. Mr. Bate, although he is not a ringer, has rung the curfew at Handsworth at 8 o'clock every night without fail for more years than many people live.

The bells were rung for about ten minutes as the bride and bridegroom left the church, and after a short halt a start was made for a peal of Little Bob Major, which unfortunately came to grief after about half an hour's ringing. The ringers were: F. Watkinson 1, J. G. Brothwell 2, R. Birch 3, Mrs. J. E. Turley 4, J. Garth 5, J. J. L. Gilbert 6, E. Thorpe 7, J. E. Turley 8. The members of the Handsworth Ringers' Guild presented the bride and bridegroom with an electric chiming clock. The future residence of Mr. and Mrs. Haywood is Maple Grove, Aston, near Sheffield.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.*SPADE WORK IN MACCLESFIELD BRANCH.

The Macclesfield Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild held a ringing meeting at Chelford on Saturday, November 12th. Although sparsely attended, it provided an opportunity for some good spade work to be put in, and the 'learners' had a very good time. The early arrivals were met at the church by Mr. C. H. Taylor, who has been a ringer at Chelford for 48 years, and the bells were soon going to rounds, Doubles and Minor. A course of Treble Bob Minor provided Mr. Taylor with his first touch in the method, which surely has been long waited for.

The Guild service was conducted by the Rev. W. H. Parkes. It was regretted that the Vicar could not be present at tea owing to a prior engagement. He, however, took the opportunity of having a word with the ringers and proved to have a knowledge of ringing, so much so that a prominent conductor was caught napping on the number of changes that could be rung on eight bells.

At the short business meeting which followed, the Vicar was elected an honorary member of the branch. It was agreed that the date of the branch general meeting be January 14th, 1939, subject to confirmation.

The business concluded with a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the service and the use of the bells, and to Mr. Taylor for so kindly making all the arrangements.

A wish was expressed that the young band at present at Chelford will shortly be ringing changes and that any ringer in this area on Thursday evening of any week will call and give a hand in the tutoring of the pupils.

Further use was made of this grand little peal of six by Mears and Stainbank until 8 p.m., when the homeward journey commenced.

WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL BELLS OPENING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—We are indebted to our Ringing Master, Mr. George Williams, for his spirited reply to Mr. F. E. Dawe's remarks concerning the ringing at the rededication of Winchester Cathedral bells last year. I was one of those who caused some had striking on that occasion, until I had got the 'feel' of my bell, but, if I remember rightly, it was a ringer who should have been accustomed to the larger compass who first got himself 'embrangled' (as we read in 'The Nine Tailors') to bring the subsequent course of Cinques to grief.

The belfry was crowded with ringers and it took some little courage to stand in for a ring, whilst the very determination to do well seemed to encompass one's destruction. I do not believe the novice takes a rope on such occasions, unless persuaded to under the guidance of a competent ringer.

When St. Peter's bells, Bournemouth, were rededicated a year ago I insisted on the old ropes being fitted for the occasion, and I am convinced that this went far to ensure the good ringing we enjoyed. A new rope can be troublesome to the best of ringers, even if well stretched beforehand, and especially on new bells.

Mr. Williams' letter shows his characteristic understanding of the feelings and difficulties of our young ringers and, after a long and meritorious ringing career, a realisation that the future of the Exercise depends upon the amount of help, encouragement and sympathy they receive.

ARTHUR V. DAVIS, Tower Captain, St. Peter's, Bournemouth.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

TECHNICAL TERMS.

There may be, at first sight, a certain amount of sympathy with the views of the writer of a letter, printed elsewhere, who asks for the omission of technical words in the instruction of beginners and the substitution of 'words in ordinary everyday use' as being more conducive to the progress of the learner, who has, at the outset, the double difficulty, as our correspondent puts it, of learning both to ring and to understand. But is this use of technical words so great an obstacle to the progress of a beginner, after all? Is it not more apparent than real? There has always been a kind of mystery made of the 'jargon of the belfry,' which renders conversation among ringers unintelligible to the uninitiated, but in ringing, as in any other study, the use of technical terms is unavoidable.

The technical words are used in ringing because there are no words 'in ordinary everyday use' which concisely express their meaning. These technical words were not invented by the writers of books, but grew up naturally among ringers in the towers and we cannot do without them. The fault really lies with the instructor, whether he be the writer of a book or a man in the tower, if he does not perform the elementary duty to his pupil of explaining at the outset what these technical terms mean. When, for instance, ringing is in progress, the employment of words 'in ordinary use' to put the beginner right when he makes a mistake would be impossible and, if it had to be done, would probably only make confusion worse confounded. Moreover, every instructor would develop his only vocabulary and new sets of terms would grow up. The technical words which we use are by this time pretty well standardised and, although we agree it is useless to hurl them at beginners without any previous explanation, in elementary matters at any rate they are not difficult to grasp. It is quite true that some instructors, not realising the importance of making the language of ringing clear to their pupils, fail to give adequate explanations and leave the beginner to find out for himself exactly what is meant by certain terms; equally true it is that some so-called instructors are incapable of lucidly explaining by 'words in ordinary use' exactly what they mean by technical terms they employ. But that is not the defect of the terms themselves. Anyone who begins the study of a science or an art will find himself at once faced with technical terms which he will have to understand before he can make progress, and ringing is no exception. These terms in ringing cannot be done without and beginners must put themselves to the trouble of understanding them. The learner who finds himself confronted with unfamiliar expressions would, we should have thought, have had his interest quickened rather than find discouragement in the fact. If he does not understand a term when he hears it for the first time, he can always ask its meaning. Up till recently the Central Council published a 'Glossary' of technical terms used in connection with bells and ringing. They have just given away all the hundreds of copies they had on hand because nobody seemed to want them. Actually the Glossary was one of the first things which a person who intended seriously to take up ringing might have studied with advantage.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.*NORTHERN DIVISION'S PROGRESS.

The annual meeting of the Northern Division of the Essex Association was held at Braintree on November 26th, when 44 ringers attended from 18 parishes: Halstead, Earls Colne, Braintree, Feering, Bocking, Witham, Kelvedon, Wickham St. Paul's, Sible Hedingham, Great Bardfield, Dunmow, Coggeshall, Sawbridgeworth, Colne Engaine, Great Tey, Stebbing, Ufford and Holborn. A service was held in the Parish Church and was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. S. Brook). A collection on behalf of the Bell Restoration Fund amounted to £1.

Tea was partaken of in the Church Hall, the District Master (Mr. F. Ridgwell) presiding. Before the business the District Master referred to the death of Mr. H. Coote (Braintree), an old ringer and former member of the association.

A message of good wishes was received from the Dean of Bocking (the Very Rev. E. Rogers), who also invited the ringers to the tower at Bocking that evening if they so desired.

A report of the year's activities was presented by the district secretary (Miss H. G. Snowden), and showed that meetings had been held at Earls Colne, Halstead, Stebbing, Dunmow and Braintree, there having been an average attendance of 42. Six ringing members and one non-resident life member had been elected and two had passed away. Thirty-eight peals had been rung, compared with 30 last year. All these had been rung on tower bells, and were conducted by R. Bird 17, L. W. Wiffen 9, W. Arnold and R. Suckling 3 each, Miss H. G. Snowden 2, A. Wiffen, Mrs. E. K. Fletcher, J. W. Ward and J. Jennings one each. It was very gratifying to see the number of young ringers taking part, some in a first peal and others who had conducted for the first time. Thirty-six of the 38 peals had been conducted by members of that division. Miss Snowden expressed thanks to all who had attended the meetings, and specially the correspondents of each company, whose assistance in collecting the subscriptions had been a great help.

The report was adopted, and the District Master (Mr. F. Ridgwell) and district secretary (Miss Snowden) were re-elected for the ensuing year. Ten new ringing members and one probationer were elected, and Coggeshall was chosen as the next place of meeting, the date being left for the secretary to fix.

The District Master thanked the Vicar for his helpful address and the use of the bells, the organist, Mr. Davidson (churchwarden), and also the sub-dean of Bocking.—The Vicar briefly replied.

During the afternoon and evening methods ranging from Bob Minor to London and Bristol Surprise Major were rung on the bells.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.*SUCCESSFUL MEETING OF GUILDFORD DISTRICT.

Despite the counter-attraction of a F.A. Cup-tie between Guildford and Aldershot, the Guildford District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild held a successful meeting at Old Woking on Saturday week. Over 40 members and visitors attended. They included the Guild secretary (Mr. G. L. Grover), Mr. A. Harman (Leatherhead District Ringing Master), Mr. C. W. Denyer (Farnham District secretary) and Mr. P. Cannon (Bexhill-on-Sea).

Mr. O. E. Smith (District Ringing Master) was in charge of the ringing, and saw to it that everyone was catered for. Rounds and touches in various methods up to London Surprise Major were rung during the afternoon and evening.

The Vicar of Woking (Canon G. Askwith) conducted the Guild's form of service, and at the commencement of his address extended a hearty welcome to the ringers. He expressed his regret that an unexpected call would prevent him from sharing in the remainder of the programme.

An enjoyable tea was followed by the usual business meeting, at which the Ringing Master presided.

It was reported that as a result of the recent circular appeal to clergy in the district, the Rev. A. L. Brown, of Womersley, had joined the Guild as a life member.

Mr. C. A. B. Girdler, of Shalford, was also elected as a ringing member.

Retiring district officers were, on the proposition of Mr. A. H. Pulling, renominated en bloc.

The Guild secretary took the opportunity of reminding those present that the annual dinner of the Guild (to be held on January 14th) needed their support if it was to continue as a successful event.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mr. A. C. Hazelden expressed the thanks of all present to the Vicar, organist, verger, and to Mr. D. Munday, of the local band, for kindly making arrangements for tea.

EGHAM STEEPLEKEEPER'S DEATH.

It is with much regret we record the loss to Egham tower, Surrey, of Mr. William S. Perry, who had been ringer and steeplekeeper there for over 20 years. 'Old Bill,' as he was affectionately known, passed away suddenly on Sunday, November 27th, at the age of 68. The interment took place on Friday, when a muffled quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung in the evening by A. Clark 1, E. Armstrong 2, W. Parker 3, W. Peck 4, L. Scammell 5, E. Burley 6, J. Hessey (conductor) 7, J. Greenough 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The ten bells of Wisbech Parish Church were broadcast on Sunday evening before the service in the Regional programme. They were heard for just 1 minute 15 seconds. The rest of the allotted five minutes was taken up with the reading of a description of the church and an organ voluntary.

The annual meeting of the Northern District of the Hertford County Association, which was to have been held at Hitchin to-morrow, has been transferred to Knebworth, as, owing to the condition of the bells, prolonged ringing at Hitchin is not permitted.

Mr. William Boughton, of Clent, Worcestershire, who has just celebrated his 82nd birthday, has sung in the choir at his Parish Church for 72 years and been a bellringer for over 50 years. He is still happy when working at his trade with bricks and mortar, and in his leisure hours is fond of gardening.

His son, Mr. Frank Boughton, who also learned to ring at Clent, is living in Melbourne, and took part in the peal of Grandsire Cinques at St. Paul's Cathedral during the visit of the English ringers to Australia in 1934.

We are sorry to say that Mr. James George, who has been incapacitated for some months, has had to return to Dudley Road Hospital, Birmingham, for further treatment. He is a patient in Ward 7A. His many friends will hope for a speedy improvement in his condition.

Mr. Bill Barber, of Newcastle, after having been for some weeks in hospital, is now in a convalescent home at West Wylam, Co. Durham, recovering from the effects of a burn on the knee, received during his work, and anaemia. Happily he is making excellent progress.

'By ringing a peal of call changes on eight bells for 3 hours 36 minutes on Saturday (November 19th), the Iver (Bucks) bellringers created a record for the parish. The previous record stood at 3 hours 21 minutes.' Thus the local newspaper.

It is said that over 4,000 changes were rung, although there is no information as to who counted them. But the reporter recording the achievement waxed eloquent to the extent of nearly a full column.

'Every few moments,' we are told, 'the captain called the changes and faultlessly the tune of the bells changed without any noticeable alteration in the rhythm of the ringers' arms.'

'The peal was executed with only one hitch during 4,000 or so changes,' the captain, pulling treble, and one of the team nearly coincided with their pulls. Had their respective bells sounded together the rest of the team would have been thrown out of order and the record would never have been achieved.'

We wonder whether the Iver giants will now permit some common or garden band to attempt a modest performance of real change ringing on the bells?

BEGINNERS HAMPERED BY TECHNICAL TERMS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—It would, I think, be a help to those who are beginning to learn bellringing if a short booklet could be written explaining, say, Grandsire Doubles, omitting, as far as possible, the technical words used in bellringing, and employing instead words in ordinary everyday use. Such a book would, I am sure, be more widely used than are the books at present in use.

To begin with technical words, as both books and instructors do, raise an unnecessary barrier for the learner. The same remark applies to the use of technical phrases. It is not easy for the average person to assimilate the words and phrases which are used in the early stages of learning, and many learners are discouraged by the double difficulty of learning (1) to ring and (2) to understand technical words and phrases at the same time.

The technicalities can, of course, be explained, but it would make bellringing easier to learn if, in teaching, ordinary words and phrases were used for beginners. The writer of books for beginners and also the instructors have, of course, become familiar with all the technical words and phrases, and they hurl them at the beginner—often without any explanation at all. This does not make the learning easy. On the contrary, it actually has a discouraging effect, and learners drop out in consequence.

HAMPSHIRE OCTOGENARIANS.

MR. W. LINTER CELEBRATES HIS BIRTHDAY.

Two octogenarians took part in a 720 of Kent Treble Bob Minor at Swanmore, Hants, on Wednesday, Nov. 23rd, Mr. W. Linter, sen., and Mr. G. Williams. The ringing was in honour of the birthday of Mr. Linter, who was 81 on the Monday. He has been a ringer at Swanmore for more than 50 years and is one of the oldest members of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild. The 720 was rung by W. Linter, sen. 1, G. Williams (conductor) 2, W. Linter, jun. 3, Walter Linter 4, F. S. Bayley 5, E. J. Harding 6. Touches in other methods were rung, in which Mrs. J. Hall, Col. Clutterbuck, Major Bickford and Messrs. R. Linter, E. Whiteman, H. Beckett, W. Ryves, L. Page, W. Hayhoe and A. Millard took part. Mrs. Bayley kindly provided an iced birthday cake for tea.

CHARLES W. CLARKE.

Although he does not figure so often among the conductors in these days as he once did, Mr. Charles W. Clarke, of Bedford, is a ringer whom many will remember for his consistent peal ringing and his ability as a conductor. For many years he was the leading figure in ringing in Bedfordshire, doing a great deal in the six-bell towers, as well as ringing peals on the higher numbers. Born at Oundle, Northants, on May 8th, 1864, Mr. Clarke rang his first peal before he was 20 years old, and his first peal as conductor was the first peal by the Bedfordshire Association. It was seven different 720's at Biddenham. In those days Mr. Clarke gave much attention to Minor ringing, and his peals in seven methods alone number 361, of which he has called 252, in addition to which he has rung and conducted peals consisting of all London (2) and Cambridge (4), as well as sixteen peals in less than seven methods. One of his earlier peals of Minor was rung in fourteen 360's, and he has also rung peals consisting of fourteen and ten extents of Minor.

His ringing on higher numbers extends from Triples to Cinques and includes one peal of 10.176 of Treble Bob Major, as well as 66 peals of Surprise Major and Royal. Altogether Mr. Clarke has rung 718 peals and conducted 432, in 131 towers for nine associations.

He has served on the committee of the Bedfordshire Association and was one of their instructors.

MR. CHARLES W. CLARKE.

BELL WEIGHTS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As reporter of the peal at Bray on November 5th, I should like to explain to my friends, Messrs. George Gilbert and Fred Russell, why I published the weight of the tenor as 25 cwt. First it is definitely a D bell, and obviously not a B bell, 50 cwt. being required for B bells (examples, Southwark and Bow). I have measured tenors for years now and collected weights and key notes, and have not found that my estimates are far out.

Roughly, this is how a bell weight is estimated: The sound-bow is a thick ring of metal giving out the main note of the bell, the waist being very much thinner, and acting, in bells like Miles Graye's, as not much more than a means of suspension from the crown. A sound-bow of given thickness and diameter will vibrate at a certain speed, and, therefore, gives out a certain note. If the diameter is increased, but not the thickness, it will vibrate slower and give a lower note. If the diameter remains the same and the thickness is reduced, it will also vibrate slower and give a lower note. Obviously to reverse these processes a decrease in diameter or an increase in the thickness will result in a quicker speed of vibration and give a higher note. It will thus be seen that, if a bell has a moderate diameter for the note given, it cannot vary much as regards the amount of metal in the sound-bow, which is the bulk of the weight.

Bray tenor is 52½ inches in diameter and the note D, and, while it is fairly long in the waist, it is also fairly narrow, and with the cannons cut off, I cannot bring myself to believe that there is any more than 25 cwt. in this bell. If the note were B, as Mr. Gilbert says the foundry informed him, then the weight would be about 16 cwt. However, no such bell exists in this country.

I was very interested in Mr. Gilbert's misgiving as to whether the Central Council would recognise a peal rung with these silencers, but as it is a step in the right direction, and no rule at present exists by which it could be turned down, I think it would be a great mistake to refuse to recognise peals so rung. We certainly had no complaints about excessive noise, though I certainly do agree that a fine tenor and a good peal were just wasted.

COLLEGE YOUTHS' MASTERSHIP.

MR. E. G. FENN APPOINTED ACTING MASTER

The vacancy in the Mastership of the College Youths caused by the regretted death of Mr. Lawrence B. Porter was considered by the society at their meeting on Tuesday night.

There was a large attendance of members, presided over by Mr. E. H. Lewis, who was voted to the chair. At the outset he referred to the tragedy of Mr. Porter's death, and expressed sympathy with the bereaved. The members then stood in silence as a tribute to the memory of the late Master.

The Chairman pointed out that the situation as far as could be ascertained was without precedent in the history of the society, and that it was a traditional custom in the City, not only in the Corporation in connection with the post of Lord Mayor, but also in the City Companies in similar circumstances, to appoint an acting Lord Mayor or Master for the remainder of the year. The usual procedure was to appoint someone who had previously held office.

Mr. A. A. Hughes (hon. treasurer) endorsed the chairman's remarks as to the custom which existed in London and elsewhere, and suggested that the society should take this course. He hoped they would have a unanimous vote, as it would be undignified under the circumstances to make it the occasion of a competitive election.

The Chairman asked for a proposition for an Acting Master, and the name of Mr. Ernest G. Fenn was proposed. Mr. Fenn, it was pointed out, had in the past served more than once in the office of junior and senior steward, but had never passed through the chair.

Mr. Fenn was unanimously appointed, and, having been invested by Mr. Lewis, took the chair and expressed his thanks for the honour conferred upon him, although he regretted the circumstances which made it necessary.

As a mark of respect of respect to the late Master, the remainder of the official business was adjourned until the next meeting.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MR. L. B. PORTER.

'WHOLE PULL AND STAND' RUNG AT CRIPPLEGATE.

The funeral of the late Mr. Lawrence Beardsley Porter, Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths, whose death we recorded last week, took place at Willesden on Wednesday, November 30th. The first part of the service was held in St. Mary's Church, and among those present, representing the society, were Messrs. A. A. Hughes (hon. treasurer), E. A. Young, H. Miles, H. Langdon, W. Judd, T. H. Taffender, H. Hoskins, J. E. L. Cockey, J. E. Davis and R. Deal.

The interment took place at Willesden Cemetery, where, after the committal, a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells, in slow time, by Messrs. H. Langdon 1-2, T. H. Taffender 3-4, W. Judd 5-6, A. A. Hughes 7-8.

On the previous evening the bells of St. Giles', Cripplegate, were rung half-muffled to the memory of the late Master. The 'whole pull and stand' was rung by E. G. Fenn, E. H. Lewis, H. Hoskins, T. G. Fowler, H. G. Miles, G. W. Cecil, R. W. Green, R. Fenn, A. A. Hughes, W. H. Pasmore, A. B. Peck and J. G. A. Prior. Touches of Stedman Cinques were afterwards rung, in which S. H. Green, L. Fox, T. Fox, J. E. Lewis Cockey, E. A. Young, E. F. Pike, F. M. Butler, H. Warboys, R. G. Cousins, A. P. Cannon, J. A. Waugh and R. F. Deal took part.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SOUTH AND WEST DISTRICT AT TWICKENHAM.

A meeting of the South and West District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held at St. Mary's, Twickenham, on Saturday week, about 30 members and friends being present from Bishopsgate, Brentford, Ealing (Christ Church and St. Stephen's), Heston, Hillingdon (St. John's), Isleworth, Leighton Buzzard, North Mimms, Prittlewell, Ruislip, Twickenham and Westminster (St. Margaret's). The bells were kept going in various standard methods during the afternoon, and again after the meeting, under the supervision of Mr. J. Herbert, Ringing Master. A short service was conducted by the Rev. S. C. T. Hoyal (curate), in the absence of the Vicar and president, Preb. Cole Sheane.

A substantial tea, arranged by the local ringers, and a short business meeting followed. One new member, Mr. F. W. Garner, a promising learner at Ealing, was elected.

The secretary gave notice that the annual supper had been arranged at Heston on January 14th, and appealed to all towers for their support.

It was also announced that the annual meeting of the district had been fixed for Isleworth on February 4th.

The secretary also appealed to members to take up the new edition of 'Stedman,' written by Mr. J. A. Trollope, and an appeal was also made to all tower secretaries to clear off outstanding subscriptions for 1938; to send in as soon as possible information relating to peals and quarter-peals rung during the year, and information relating to lapses, removals or deaths of members for inclusion in the next report.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, to the Rev. S. C. T. Hoyal, the organist, the local company and to the lady helpers at tea was proposed by Mr. F. W. Goodfellow, seconded by Mr. T. Lock and carried with acclamation.

AN OXFORD PROPOSAL.

SUGGESTED THANKSGIVING DAY.

The City and District Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild held their annual meeting on Saturday, November 26th, at All Saints' Church. The service, which was well attended, was conducted by the City Rector, who gave an inspiring address.

At the business meeting after tea, Mr. W. Collett was re-elected chairman, and Mr. E. J. Morton hon. secretary and treasurer.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the proposition of Alderman Brown that this branch should set an example to the Exercise by a special observance of September 29th each year as a day of thanksgiving to Almighty God for the preservation of peace.

The proposer expressed the hope that the whole Exercise would follow such a lead, and that this important event in history should be for ever commemorated.

Although most of the members were in sympathy with the idea, opinion was sharply divided as to whether it was practicable or advisable. Political motives might be suspected; and it was pointed out that the anniversary was bound to be remembered by peal ringers in any case.

Eventually it was decided to reconsider the question at the next general meeting, and the chairman was asked to send a report to 'The Ringing World' to see if any general interest was aroused.

DEVON GUILD.

BRANCH MEETING AT STOKE GABRIEL.

The Mid-Devon Branch of the Devon Guild held a meeting at Stoke Gabriel, near Totnes, on Monday evening (November 21st), when ringers were present from Paignton, Collaton St. Mary, Totnes and Buckfastleigh. The bells were well utilised during the early evening, touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles being rung.

The chairman (the Rev. W. R. D. Mills, of Collaton) presided at the business meeting which followed, and the company stood in silence as a token of respect to the late Mr. George Browning, of Cockington, who had passed away since the last meeting.

The secretary (Mr. A. L. Bennett) reported that the meeting arranged to take place at Cockington in October had to be cancelled.

A letter was read from Mr. P. Amos, of Northampton, asking for help towards a fund for the provision of a peal of bells at St. Andrew's, Northampton, and it was resolved to devote the collection which will be taken at the annual meeting to this object.

The election of Messrs. E. H. Nash and K. Moon, of Frome, as non-resident members, prior to starting for a peal, was confirmed, and the Rev. O. L. Willmott, of Totnes, was elected a performing member.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting of the branch on Saturday, February 11th, and Totnes was chosen, subject to the necessary permission being obtained.

The secretary reported that the Cockington band had been disbanded, and he was instructed to make inquiries regarding their future membership with the branch. The chairman also promised to make inquiries regarding another band.

Hearty votes of thanks were accorded the Vicar of Stoke Gabriel for the use of his bells and the Church Hall, and some of the members returned to the tower for further ringing.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

STOCKPORT BRANCH FIX NEXT YEAR'S MEETINGS.

The last meeting of the year of the Stockport Branch was held on Saturday week at Hyde, when, in spite of the inclement weather, some 50 members and friends were present. The bells, a handy peal of eight by Taylors, were made full use of during the afternoon. The usual Guild service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. Victor Dawson), who also gave a very inspiring address. He took no particular text as basis for his remarks, but simply gave a few thoughts based on bells and their uses, which he hoped would be helpful.

Following the service, tea was served in the nearby Parish Hall under the direction of local ringers' wives, and all partook of an excellent repast.

The subsequent business meeting was held under the chairmanship of the Vicar, supported by the Rev. F. Bonner, branch vice-chairman.

The Chairman assured the members that they were very welcome at Hyde. An apology was received from Mr. Wolstencroft, the branch chairman, who was unfortunately not able to be present owing to indisposition.

Three new members were elected, Benjamin Clarkson (Stockport St. George's), Frederick A. Adams and Albert Ford (non-resident). The meetings for 1939 were arranged as follows, subject to the permission of the respective authorities: Annual meeting, January 28th, Stockport St. George; April 22nd, New Mills; July 1st, Northenden; September 23rd, Bowdon; November 25th, Stalybridge Holy Trinity. The Bowdon meeting is, if possible, to be made a joint meeting with the Manchester Branch of the Lancashire Association. After instructing the secretary to write to Mr. Wolstencroft expressing the regret of the meeting at his absence and their best wishes for his speedy recovery, the meeting closed with a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar and wardens for their assistance, the local ringers, the ladies who prepared tea and all who contributed to the success of the meeting.

HUDDERSFIELD AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

FUTURE MEETINGS.

The Huddersfield and District Association held a record meeting at Brighouse on Saturday, November 26th. There was a very good attendance, and members came from the following towers: Lindley, Longwood, Huddersfield, Meltham, Elland, Rippenden, Sowerby, Northowram, All Souls, Halifax, Halifax Parish Church, Heptonstall and Brighouse. The Vicar of Brighouse conducted a short service and gave an inspiring address. Afterwards he accompanied the ringers to the Co-operative Cafe, where an excellent tea was enjoyed.

The business meeting was held in the Church House, the Rev. A. L. Minns presiding.

It was arranged that the next meeting should be held in the Halifax district on January 7th, and Mytholmroyd was decided upon as a suitable tower. This date was originally fixed for the Longwood meeting, but the latter has been thrown back till the first week in February, and Mr. A. Rothery, of the Longwood band, informed the meeting that they were arranging a free tea for all who attend.

It will not be out of place here to say that all who wish to take advantage of this generosity should notify the local band at least a week before the meeting, so that they can make proper arrangements.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar and to the local ringers was proposed by Mr. N. Smith, of Sowerby, and seconded by Mr. R. Squires, of Halifax.

Since the meeting it has been discovered that it is not possible to visit Mytholmroyd on January 7th, and steps are, therefore, being made to obtain the use of the bells at Northowram.

WANTAGE BELLS RESTORED.

After nearly four months' silence, the bells of SS. Peter and Paul's Church, Wantage, rang out again on Saturday, November 19th. Messrs. John Taylor and Son have carried out the rehanging of the peal with their usual efficiency.

The rededication was performed by the Rt. Rev. Roscoe Shedden, Vicar of Wantage, and the sermon was preached by the Rev. C. Elliot Wigg, Deputy Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild. A large congregation was present, including ringers from some 33 towers. The festival service commenced with the choir singing Cesar Franck's setting of the 150th Psalm, and ended with the ringers' hymn, 'Unchanging God, who livest.' The collection amounted to £5 10s. and was devoted to the Repair Fund.

About 120 sat down to an excellent tea, served by the wives of the local ringers. The Bishop presided and welcomed the visitors. He said it was a matter of great regret that the tower foreman (Mr. F. Gregory) was prevented from being with them that day owing to illness.

After tea some excellent touches were brought round, one of Bristol being very favourably commented on. Other methods rung were London, Cambridge, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples, and a touch of Spliced London, Cambridge and Bristol Surprise. Mr. A. E. Lock, secretary of the North Berks Branch, was in charge of the ringing. Handbell ringing, both in changes and tunes, was afterwards enjoyed at the Swan Hotel, with Mr. W. J. Avery, the organist, at the piano, and brought a memorable day to a close.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION'S REPORT.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Will you allow me to point out two errors which appear under the heading of 'Compositions' on page 69 of the above report, which has just been published?

The peal of Double Norwich by Edwin Timbrell is a 5,152 and not a 5,162 as printed; and the peal of Treble Bob Royal, 5,080 (No. 275), by Arthur Knights, in the last course should read 2 M. 2 H. and not 2 H. as printed.

Perhaps ringers in whose possession this report now is will make the necessary corrections.

THOMAS WILSON, Ringing Secretary.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting was held at Attleborough on Saturday, November 26th. The bells of the Parish Church were rung during the afternoon and evening to various methods from Bob Minor to Cambridge and London Surprise Minor. Service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. F. H. Smith), who also gave an excellent address. The lesson was read by the Rev. M. Mills (curate).

The tea and meeting took place at the Angel Hotel. Mr. W. L. Duffield (Saxlingham) was in the chair, supported by the Rev. F. H. Smith and the Rev. A. St. J. Heard, Bergh Apton (honorary members), Mr. Nolan Golden (general secretary and treasurer), Mr. A. G. Harrison (branch secretary), Mr. E. G. Bennett (committee), and ringers from Attleborough, Bergh Apton, Caston, Diss, Garboldisham, Gressenhall, Norwich, Saxlingham, Shelfanger, Winfarthing and Wymondham.

Five new members were elected, and it was decided to visit Saxlingham Nethergate on Saturday, February 4th, for the annual general meeting of the branch.

At the close of the meeting votes of thanks were accorded to the Rector and the Rev. Mills, and also to the organist.

PEAL NOTES.

SOME NOTABLE PERFORMANCES.

There has been a spate of peal ringing in the last two months, and it has abnormally congested our peal columns. December 3rd produced an equally high proportion, and we regret that we are compelled to hold over many of the reports. As far as we know, October produced 169 peals and November 168.

In this connection may we once more urge those responsible for sending in reports to forward them immediately the peals are rung. When, as not infrequently happens, they are held up for a week or ten days, and sometimes more, it means either that they have to be held over for yet another week, or those who ring later peals and send their reports in promptly have to be disappointed by delay in their appearance.

Our post bag on Monday evening provided an extraordinary contribution in the way of peals—the sort of thing which 40 years ago would not have been dreamed of, even in a nightmare. This is what the peals consisted of: Bristol Surprise on handbells; two peals of Spliced Surprise Major, one in four and the other in six methods; Cambridge Surprise Royal, Cambridge Surprise Major, London Surprise Major, seven Surprise Minor methods, three Minor methods on handbells, Stedman Triples and Bob Major.

The peal in six Spliced Surprise Major methods at Harnston, on Dec. 3rd, was rung by members of the Lincoln Cathedral band and is a performance of which they may well be proud. Spliced Surprise ringing is widespread in these days, but there are few towers that can provide the whole of a band for a peal in six Major methods. The composition which they rang was an adaptation by Mr. G. R. Pye of the late Rev. H. Law James' peal in four methods.

Although they have included Bristol Surprise in their handbell peals of Spliced Surprise Major, it was not until last Friday that the talented Hertfordshire band rang a handbell peal entirely in this method.

The peal was rung at Oxhey, and on the previous day in the neighbouring tower at Bushey a peal of Spliced Surprise was rung in four methods. Both peals were conducted by Mr. Harold Cashmore.

LIVERPOOL RINGER'S 500 PEALS.

Mr. George R. Newton, of Liverpool, on Saturday rang his 500th peal. He is only the second member of the Lancashire Association to reach this total, the first having been Mr. Harry Chapman, who is now living at Keyston, Huntingdonshire. Mr. Chapman, unfortunately, has had to give up peal ringing, as his 'legs won't stand it.'

Mr. Newton's 500th peal was rung at Tarleton, where he called a peal of Stedman Triples, and afterwards Mr. William Dickenson extended generous hospitality to the band, which was greatly appreciated.

The peal of Grandsire Triples at St. James', Taunton, on December 3rd, was the ringers' contribution to an interesting ceremony, at which the Rt. Rev. Bishop de Salis (himself a ringer) was presented with his portrait in oils by the Taunton Deanery in recognition of his work for the church.

SALISBURY GUILD SECRETARY'S RINGING JUBILEE.

The Rev. F. Llewellyn Edwards recently completed his fiftieth year of active service as a ringer, and to mark the event the officers of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild rang a peal of Grandsire Triples at St. Martin's, Salisbury, on November 26th. Mr. Edwards' services to the Exercise, generally in connection with broadcasting and the Press, are well known to our readers, who will add their congratulations. It was William C. West's hundredth peal.

On his retirement from the L.M. and S. Railway, two or three years ago, Mr. Ernest Gale went to live at St. Albans and joined the St. Peter's band. He had been out of ringing for a number of years and had had little or no experience of ten bells, but he quickly picked it up and has now rung his first peal on that number. If his memory has not deceived him, his last peal was one of Kent Treble Bob Major at Market Harborough on Boxing Day, 1903.

The peal of Cambridge Major rung at Romsey Abbey on Saturday was the first in the method by Frederick A. Munday, of Basingstoke, and Arthur V. Davis, of Bournemouth. It was also Harold P. Reed's 50th peal.

To commemorate the consecration of the new Church of SS. Mary and George, at Sands, in the parish of West Wycombe, a peal of Stedman Triples was rung at the Parish Church of St. Lawrence. West Wycombe Church stands at the top of a high hill, and its tower, surmounted by a large and curious ball, is a conspicuous feature of the neighbourhood. It is said to have been built by Sir Francis Dashwood, a notorious 18th century rake and a member of the 'Hell Fire' Club, as an expiation of the irregularities of his early life. The peal was rung on December 3rd.

The first peal on the bells at South Petherton, Somerset, since they were rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, to the satisfaction of all, was rung on Saturday, November 26th, when three ringers from Taunton, three from Yeovil and two of the local band, one of whom rang his first peal and the other his first on eight bells, scored a peal of Grandsire Triples. Mr. A. Beale kindly dispensed hospitality to the band after the peal.

The one hundredth birthday of Mrs. Liller, of Churchill, Somerset, was fittingly celebrated on November 14th by a peal of Doubles on the bells of her Parish Church. It was the first peal on the bells since the tenor was recast by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

A NEW 720 IN TEN METHODS.

The North Lincolnshire band, who are putting so much energy into their Spliced Minor ringing, now that the opportunities of the South Lincolnshire men seem to have very largely disappeared, owing to the dispersal of the band, have gone a stage further and rung a peal in 49 methods.

The peal was rung at Elsham on Saturday and was Jack L. Millhouse's one hundredth peal.

A new 720, in ten methods, arranged by Mr. A. G. Driver, was included:

23456	Walsingham	S 62453	Cromer
56342		25634
S 46235	Little Bob	S 53426	Little Bob
S 53246	Chalfont*	64253
46325		45632
S 62543	Crayford L. Ct.	S 23645	Fulmer†
43256		45362
56324		62534
24635
35462		34256

Twice repeated, substituting Stevenston and Tibenham at * and Lammass and Olney at † in the 2nd and 3rd parts respectively.

Two new Vicars were welcomed by peals last week, the Rev. J. C. Hawthorne, to Chatteris, Cambridgeshire, and the Rev. T. W. Coombe, to Wraybury, Bucks.

In these days of prolific peal ringing many ringers score one or more peals in every month throughout a year, so that the performance is not exceptional. But it is, perhaps, not uninteresting that Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, vice-president of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, has accomplished it this year, repeating the achievement for the first time, after a lapse of 39 years; the last year in which he did it being 1899.

December's peal was rung at S. Nicolas', Guildford, on Saturday, and was a birthday compliment to Major J. H. B. Hesse, Master of the Guildford Guild. It also enabled the general secretary of the Guild to ring his first peal on ten bells and the Guildford district secretary his first peal, except one in which he rang the tenor behind.

To celebrate the sixtieth birthday on the preceding Wednesday of Mr. Harry Hancock, a peal of Minor in seven methods was rung at West Derby, Liverpool, on November 26th. It was also a compliment to Mr. Ernest F. Bennett, who has just become a proud grandfather of twin boys.

The William peal at Debenham was the first of the kind in Suffolk. Four of the band belonged to that county and four to Norfolk. The latter had not taken part in a name peal before.

The peal of Bob Major at Mayfield, Sussex, on November 26th, was the twenty-fifth peal which Messrs. L. W. Jarvis and W. A. Kitchen-side have rung together.

GLOUCESTERSHIRE'S G.O.M.

As the birthdays of three or four Gloucester ringers come close together in October and November, it was decided to attempt a peal at Barnwood to commemorate them. Illness caused it to be postponed, and it was on November 29th at St. Mary de Crypt, Gloucester, that it was completed. The ringers were Sydney E. Romans, who rang the second; John Austin, who rang the third and called the bobs; Thos. H. Harris, seventh, and ex-Sergt. J. Williams, who was at the fourth. The sergeant, who is in his 87th year, is still going strong. He went to Cheltenham the other day and rang the tenor to some Caters. He is Gloucestershire's Grand Old Man of ringing.

The peal of Minor at Maxey, Northants, rung on December 3rd by the Lincolnshire Diocesan Guild, was the first Surprise peal on the bells.

The first peal on the bells at Northowram, Yorkshire, since they were rehung by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, was rung on November 26th, when in a peal of Double Norwich the band found the go of the bells to be excellent.

The death has recently taken place of Mr. J. Preston, who was a ringer at St. Mary's, Whalley, Lancashire, for 45 years. In his memory, a fully muffled peal of Bob Major was rung at Whalley on November 26th.

The peal of Bob Major rung by the Sheffield District Society at Handsworth on November 30th was to celebrate the wedding of two of the local ringers, Miss Noel Cawthorne and Leslie Hayward, which took place on November 19th. The ringers of the treble and tenor, Messrs. Norman Chaddock and John E. Turley, have now circled the tower.

The 5,000 Kent Treble Bob Royal on handbells at Stockport was the one hundredth peal that Allen F. Bailey and Harold Jackson had rung together. It was a birthday compliment to two others of the band—Alfred Barnes and Peter Laffin.

In the 18th century, Double Bob was one of the most popular methods among advanced bands, but nowadays very few peals of it are rung. However, we record two performances this week, one on handbells and the other at Crayford in Kent. Double Bob is one of the most suitable of all methods for handbell ringing.

The peal of Doubles at Brightwell, Berks, on October 29th, was claimed to be the first on the bells. Information has now been received that a peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung on them on February 20th, 1909, conducted by Mr. Gordon Caudwell. The peal in October, however, was the first in four methods on the bells.

THE BETTERMENT OF THE EXERCISE.

S. MENDAX MAKES A SUGGESTION.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Some time ago a correspondent stated that the art of ringing was slowly but surely dying. I would not go so far as that, but I think that everyone will agree that there are many things connected with the Exercise which are not as they should be. Finance, for instance. I doubt if you could find a single association secretary or treasurer who, if he is honest, would admit that he can pick up enough for himself to make it worth while. I myself was for long the treasurer of an important society, and throughout the time of my office there was not one year when I could make enough to justify me in altering my income tax returns.

A friend says something about balance sheets. Of course, there are balance sheets; but, as any accountant will tell you, there is a right way of preparing a balance sheet and a wrong. You would not show an item like, 'Whisky and soda for the secretary, 5s.,' or 'Bottled Bass for the ringing master, 7s. 6d.' These things would appear under the heading of 'postages.' The secretary's holiday would show as 'incidental expenses,' and his wife's doctor's bill as 'transferred to Belle Restoration Fund.'

But as we have all found out to our cost, it is useless to put your fingers into an empty till; and it is useless to talk about these things so long as there are no funds. The first thing we want is financial improvement; and, having given the matter no small amount of careful consideration, I think the best plan would be to have a system of transfer fees something like that used by professional football clubs.

If we look round the Exercise we shall come to the conclusion that there is no shortage of ringers. Forty thousand men, if they put their minds to it, can make as much noise and be quite as big a nuisance as will satisfy the most exacting conditions. The trouble is that these men are not just where they are wanted. There are too many square pegs in round holes. Some bands have many conductors and not enough ringers to man all the ropes. Some bands have many ringers and no conductors. The obvious remedy is for associations to sell the men they do not want and buy the men they do want. Concomitantly there would have to be a free transfer list, and societies would sometimes find it to their interest to offer a bonus with some of their members. An advertisement might read as follows: 'The association, having no further use for Mr. Pistol, will give him to any band offering him a good home; and on completion of the transaction a packet of Woodbines will be given to each of the captain and secretary of the band.'

But there are many ringers who would prove to have great financial value. Men like Albert Walker, Gabriel Lindoff and C. T. Coles would fetch high prices in the open market, not to mention others younger and not quite so well known. For example, I am sure that the College Youths would jump at the chance of securing Mr. Coles and would not boggle at having to pay a transfer fee of five and twenty pounds or so.

I do not suggest that £25 would be the standard price for a really first-class ringer. That would be decided by the laws of barter and supply and demand. The vendors naturally would ask as much as they could—£30 or even £35. The buyers would offer as little as they dared—£15 or £20. And the conclusion would be a compromise, with, perhaps, one or two ordinary ringers thrown in as a make-weight.

This plan would give the College Youths an opportunity of disposing of some of their crooked stars, and, provided the matter was handled properly and with business acumen, quite good prices could be realised; from say 5s. up to as much as £5 apiece. It would need a business man and one who understands advertising to carry it out; and no one will suggest that the College Youths lack such.

It would be useless, of course, to circularise the incumbents of the London city churches with a proposal to sell them a band of College Youths; but there must be many places in the remoter districts of the country—Cornwall, for instance, the wilder parts of Wales, and my own county—where the reputation of the society still stands extremely high and where people would be willing to make real financial sacrifices for the sake of having a band of genuine College Youths.

But the most promising part of the scheme would be a plan by which an association could employ an agent to go about and find promising youngsters. These would be secured at a nominal figure. They would then be sent up to headquarters, given instructions and practice with skilled bands, and, after careful training, should fetch high prices in the open market. A proposal to breed ringers cannot be considered until the Eugenic Society has reported on the matter, but the other is so hopeful a scheme that I wonder no one has thought of it before. It would take a little care and thought, some business skill, and a certain (though not excessive) outlay of capital. But it would pay. Believe me, there is money in it.

S. MENDAX.

P.S.—It seems that the idea is not so original as I thought it was. I understand that the Birmingham men are in treaty with another band to sell them one of their leading members. The others have agreed willingly and are doing their best to raise the sum required, but although they have sold their vicar, one churchwarden and a couple of sidesmen, they are still a long way below the amount.

ISLEWORTH BOB ROYAL.

A MUSICAL METHOD.

We have been asked for further information about the method Isleworth Bob Royal, the first peal of which was rung on November 12th.

It is more musical than Plain Bob Royal, although there may be some who will say that is impossible, far more interesting than Treble Bob, and keeps the bells in regular coursing order infinitely more than Cambridge. It is a double method, with 6th's and 5th's as the treble goes up through 5-6, and 5th's as she comes down; 2nd's when she leads, and 9th's when she lies. Perfectly simple in construction, yet sufficiently tricky in practice to require constant concentration.

It is one of those methods best learnt by knowing when not to dodge; for it is these omitted dodges that form the catch in it. Mr. J. A. Trollope had been waiting more than 30 years to ring a peal in this method and now he has had his wish gratified. He thinks it is the best ten-bell plain method that there is. Plain and Treble Bob ringers should certainly try it, and even Surprise Royal men would find it an agreeable change.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

THE GREATEST RINGING PEAL.

Last Friday a privileged few saw the birth of what is to be the tenor of the largest ringing peal in the world. The casting of such a bell is not only an historic occasion, but one of some importance to ringers, for it marks a new departure in weights which they will be called upon to handle. Hitherto the heaviest peals have been at Exeter, St. Paul's Cathedral and York Minster, with tenors of 72, 62, and 60 cwt. respectively. The bell just cast for Liverpool Cathedral will turn the scale at 80 cwt. With the modern improvements in bell hanging it is confidently expected that it will be possible to ring it single handed, but even so, to ring this peal of bells properly is going to be a giant's task. The trebles are going to be heavier than a good many present day tenors, and both the tenth and the eleventh will be over two tons; the eleventh in fact being nearly three tons in weight. It will need all the skill of the bell-hanger and the cream of the ringers of England to make a peal on these bells ever possible.

Of the completeness and the efficiency of the job that is being done there can be no doubt. Apart from the question of the weight of the bells, the scheme involves two new departures in bell hanging of exceptional interest to ringers. The first is the radial 'frame,' a series of pillars arranged in a circle to carry the bells, and the second the fact that it is to be built of reinforced concrete, both wood and metal having been discarded for good and sufficient reasons. Radial bell frames are, of course, unlikely ever to be in general use. They require a tower of considerable dimensions to accommodate them, but Liverpool Cathedral is to have the largest tower in this country—internally it will be over seventy feet square—so that no question of space entered there into the calculation of the designers. The use of reinforced concrete frames, however, may well be developed in course of time. In certain areas, particularly by the sea, metal is subject to rapid corrosion unless constantly painted, while suitable well-seasoned timber is, we believe, becoming more and more difficult to obtain. The modern adaptability of concrete would seem to offer a new material for the purpose, which may well find its way into the towers of the future. At any rate, Liverpool is showing the way in this direction, and from the engineering aspect the experiment, we are told, is certain of success. The conditions at the Cathedral are unique and unique means are being adopted to meet them. The opening of these bells will be one of the greatest events in ringing history and the occasion, which it is hoped will take place in 1940 but may be delayed until the following year, will be looked forward to with ever growing interest.

PEAL NOTES.

Numerous reports of peals reach us deficient in one or more of the customary particulars. Ringers who send in peal reports are requested to do so in the form in which they are printed in 'The Ringing World.' It will save omissions, delay in publication, and labour in our own office.

PEALS IN FORTY-SIX METHODS AT HELMINGHAM.

A peal of Framdsen Surprise Major has been rung for the first time. It is Gabriel Lindoff's method No. 3 and was rung at Helmingham on December 5th. It is the forty-sixth method of which a peal has been rung in this Suffolk tower.

Until November 26th no peal had been rung at Holy Trinity Church, Old Hill, Staffs, for ten years, and no peal by the local Sunday service ringers there for 32 years. Now the Old Hill men have rung a peal of Grandsire Triples, the more meritorious for the fact that it was the first peal by all except the conductor and the tenor ringer.

Seven 720's of Bob Minor were rung in a peal at Horton, Staffs, on December 3rd. What makes it interesting is that we are told that the first of the seven different callings used was first rung in 1741, and the fourth was published in 'Clavis Campanologia' in 1788. Good compositions are never out of date.

On December 3rd, Mr. Horace J. Mansfield had the gratification of calling a peal of Minor in three methods at Purleigh in Essex to celebrate the wedding of his son, Mr. W. C. Mansfield, to Miss B. A. Thorogood, which took place at the same church. One of the band, Arthur Hubble, scored his first five thousand of Minor.

BIRTHDAY PEALS.

The first peal of Stedman Doubles for the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association was rung at Tredunnoch on December 3rd. It was a birthday compliment to the genial hon. secretary of the association, Mr. J. W. Jones, who celebrated his 73rd birthday two days later. It was his 497th peal, but his first of Stedman Doubles, as it also was of all the rest of the band.

Ringling at Tredunnoch is done from the ground floor, and the persistency of one of the enthusiastic young local band, by his continuous hammering on the door, might have cost the ringers the peal had they not ignored the demands for entry. When the peal had been successfully concluded, however, and the door opened, instead of the young man being rebuked, he was congratulated upon being such an enthusiast, but was warned never to do it again when he found the door locked. We wonder if he would have had a similar kindly reception had the peal been lost.

Another association secretary who had his birthday honoured on the same day was Mr. Herbert Knight, who has served the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford so long and so enthusiastically. He rang the treble to a peal of Stedman Triples at Tettenhall, conducted by Mr. John Perry, whose 200th peal it was for the society.

Although unable to take part himself in any birthday peal, Mr. James George's achievement in reaching 85 years has been celebrated in various places. At Walsall on December 3rd his friends of St. Martin's Guild rang a peal of Stedman Cinques, while a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major was rung on December 1st at Loughborough Bell Foundry.

The latter was also a 21st birthday compliment to Miss Mavis Riddington, sister of the ringer of the same name, who took part. Although it required three attempts, this peal was well struck and fully bears out the old legend, 'Try, try, try again.' The third time it was successful. In parts, this method was very musical on this light peal.

The birthday of another veteran ringer was celebrated on December 3rd, when a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Chaddeley, Worcestershire, in honour of Mr. Edwin Gilbert, of the local band, who reached his 79th anniversary that day. Afterwards he extended hospitality to the ringers and received their congratulations and good wishes.

A handbell peal of Minor at Leverstock Green, Herts, on December 4th, arranged and rung as a birthday compliment to the conductor, Mr. Walter Ayre, and Miss Enid Richardson, of Surfleet, was to have been in seven methods, but owing to lack of practice the band contented themselves with ringing three only. It was W. J. Randall's fiftieth peal.

At Frdsham, Cheshire, on December 2nd, Mr. Chris. Gudgeon conducted his own birthday peal of Double Norwich Major; and the first peal in seven Surprise methods on the bells at Redbourn, Herts, rung on December 3rd, was a birthday compliment to Mr. H. Golding, of Hemel Hempstead.

A mixed band rang a peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal at St. Peter's, Brighton, on December 3rd, on the fourth birthday of Bryan Darby, of Croydon, son of the conductor.

Other birthday peals have been rung at Sible Hedingham, Essex, on December 3rd, for Mr. Bernard Pettit, who took part in the peal of Bob Major; at Hintlesham, Suffolk, on December 5th, for Mr. R. W. Steward, who unfortunately was unable to stand in the peal in seven Minor methods; at Maulden, Beds, where seven Minor methods were rung on December 5th as a birthday compliment to Mr. Churchwarden C. W. Swinfield, and at Crimplesham, Norfolk, on December 3rd, when a peal of Doubles was rung in celebration of the birthday of Mrs. W. Buckenham. This peal was the first on the bells and the first of Doubles by all the band.

WARWICKSHIRE'S YOUNGEST PEAL RINGER.

Frederick Stone, of Nuneaton, who is only 12 years of age, rang his first peal, the treble to Grandsire Doubles, on December 3rd, at Shilton. He is now the youngest member of the Warwickshire Guild to ring a peal, and great credit is due to him for the way he rang. His father and brother both took part in the peal.

John Faithfull, jun., of Southampton, whose father is secretary of the ringers at St. Mary's, rang his first peal on December 3rd at the age of only 13 years. It was the treble to Cambridge Surprise Major at North Stoneham.

After the peal at Longton, Staffs, rung half-muffled on November 26th in memory of the late Basil Holland, the ringers were kindly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Holland, the parents of the deceased, whose brother, Neville, took part in the peal.

The peal at Crayford, Kent, on December 7th, was E. A. Barnett's fiftieth of Cambridge Surprise Major.

Mr. Bill Hewett rang his fiftieth peal of Stedman Caters on Saturday, when he called a peal in this method at St. Peter's Church, Croydon.

Two peals of Bob Doubles on handbells have been rung at Nottingham, in which three of the four ringers who shared in them rang their first peal.

Another band has rung a six-method Surprise Major peal. This was at Brierley Hill, Staffs, on December 3rd, for the Worcestershire Association, and was the first by all the ringers. Mr. William Short, the association Master, rang the treble, and, by a coincidence, the peal was rung on the fiftieth anniversary of his first peal.

Mr. Harry Middleton, of Norton, celebrated his 72nd birthday by taking part in a peal of Minor at Bishampton on Dec. 3rd, which was rung as the quarterly peal of the Southern Branch of the Worcestershire Association. Among Mr. Middleton's claims to distinction is the fact that he rang in what is still the record peal of Stedman Cinques, the 11,111 rung at St. Martin's, Birmingham, on Boxing Day, 1911, in 8 hours 2 minutes. Others of that band are still actively engaged in peal ringing, and two of them, Messrs. W. Short and G. R. Pye, rang peals on Saturday.

The first peal of Stedman Caters on the bells of St. Giles' Church, Newcastle, Staffordshire, was rung on Saturday in honour of the new Mayor and Mayoress of the borough, Ald. and Mrs. G. A. Heywood.

Eight bachelors rang a peal of Bob Major at Boreham, Essex, on St. Andrew's Day, December 1st. St. Andrew is the patron saint of the church.

The first 'bachelors' peal recorded for the Hereford Diocesan Guild was rung on December 8th at Holme Lacey. We are not quite sure whether these two bands ought to be commiserated with or are to be congratulated. It probably depends upon the point of view.

DEVON GUILD.*THE BAR AGAINST COMPETITIVE RINGING.*President To Propose Removal.

The annual meeting of the Exeter Branch of the Devon Guild was held at St. Sidwell's, Exeter, on Saturday. The Rector (the Rev. H. Lanyon-Owen) conducted the usual Guild service, and in course of his address made sympathetic reference to the loss sustained by one of the local ringers in the death of his wife.

After a tea in St. Sidwell's Institute, at which were present the Bishop of Crediton, the Rev. E. V. Cox (president of the Guild), the Rev. H. Lanyon-Owen and about 60 members and visitors, the business meeting was held, with Mr. C. R. Lilley in the chair.

For the office of chairman two members were nominated, Mr. E. J. Ryal and Mr. A. W. Searle, and Mr. Ryal was elected by the narrow majority of one vote. Mr. W. H. Howe was re-elected secretary and Mr. W. Richardson as Ringing Master. Messrs. E. W. Biffin, H. J. Rowe and T. H. Pook were elected representatives on the General Committee.

It was resolved to hold the next meeting at Exminster on February 18th, visiting also Powderham and Kenton.

The President mentioned that at the next General Committee meeting he would move the elimination of Guild Rule 12, which debar members from being associated with any competitive ringing, as, in his opinion, that rule had now served its purpose.

The President moved a vote of thanks to Mr. C. R. Lilley for his services as past chairman.—Mr. Lilley, in reply, thanked the members for the support they had given him and hoped the branch would continue to make good.

Ringing was carried on during the evening at St. Sidwell's, St. David's, St. Thomas' and Heavitree.

ANSTEY RINGER'S WEDDING.

The wedding took place at St. Mary's, Anstey, Leicestershire, on Saturday, December 10th, of Mr. R. S. William Smith and Miss Frances Mary Langstaff. The bridegroom had been a keen and regular ringer at St. Mary's since he learnt to ring there eight years ago.

In honour of the event, Thurstans' quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung by eight of his fellow-ringers: Mrs. A. Disney 1, H. B. Bowley 2, G. E. Bowler 3, J. E. Adams 4, J. T. Smith 5, A. Disney 6, R. F. Elkington (conductor) 7, Miss E. H. Cufflin 8. Mr. William Smith now lives in Leicester, but the Anstey band hope they will often have the pleasure of his ringing with him.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

In the B.B.C.'s West Regional programme next Wednesday, commencing at 9.15, is to be a broadcast featuring Old Bristol, called 'From Temple to Redcliffe.' Redcliffe bells will be on the air for a few minutes about 9.45, and the commentator may be heard having a chat with the steeplekeeper shortly after the bells stop.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Walker, of Birmingham, celebrated the fortieth anniversary of their wedding on Monday and received the congratulations of many friends.

Certain ringing activities are in progress by way of commemorating the auspicious occasion and we hope to record them next week.

Sympathy will be extended to Mr. Charles Edwards, of Fownhope, both by his Herefordshire colleagues and his old friends in Surrey, upon the death of his wife, who passed away on November 26th. Mr. Edwards, who was formerly a District Ringing Master in the old Winchester Guild, has been Master of the Hereford Diocesan Guild for a good many years.

NOTICES and other matter intended for our issue of Dec. 30th should reach us as early as possible and not later than Friday, Dec. 23rd.

Lightning struck the Parish Church at Axbridge, Somerset, during a violent storm about a fortnight ago and did considerable damage, including splitting the tower. There is a fine peal of six at Axbridge, but it will be some time before it will be possible to ring them again.

Owing to the construction of a new organ at Lydney, the meeting of the South Forest Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, which was to have been held there to-morrow has been postponed. The annual meeting of the branch will now be held there on December 31st.

The meeting of the Bolton Branch of the Lancashire Association to-morrow has also been cancelled.

Will Mr. A. P. Cannon please send his permanent address to Mr. Walter Ayre, Leverstock Green, Hemel Hempstead, Herts?

We have been compelled, through pressure on our space, to hold over numerous reports this week and letters upon the weights of tenors.

A CRAYFORD CELEBRATION.

On Wednesday, December 7th, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Audsley, of High Street, Crayford, Kent, celebrated their diamond wedding day. Both are not only natives of Crayford, but have lived all their lives in the street in which they were born. Mr. Audsley was never himself a ringer, although he and Mrs. Audsley have always been interested in ringing, but when in 1876 Crayford bells were augmented from five to eight, Mr. Audsley was responsible for transporting the old five from the church to Crayford Station and the new peal from the station to the church.

Four of their sons have been ringers, but of them, one was killed in the Great War, another emigrated to Canada, and a third, Mr. Edward Audsley, ceased to take an active part in the art after the war. A few months ago, however, he resumed practice with the object of taking part in the peals arranged in honour of the diamond wedding, but, unfortunately, the state of his health prevented him from doing so.

The youngest son, Mr. Herbert E. Audsley, is, of course, a well-known and particularly able ringer, and he conducted peals at Crayford on the anniversary of the wedding on December 7th, and at St. Mary's, Bexley, where Mr. and Mrs. Audsley were married, on December 8th.

BELLS OF ST. PETER'S, COLCHESTER.

FUNDS NEEDED FOR RESTORATION.

The bells of St. Peter's Church, Colchester, which have been silent since last March, have now been removed to Loughborough for an entire refit, comprising new iron headstocks, ball bearings, new wheels, etc., at an estimated cost of £250. At the same time the parish has a further scheme on hand for raising £1,200 for a new organ.

The Vicar, churchwardens and ringers of St. Peter's would like to see the bells opened free of debt in the New Year. Any contributions for the Bells Fund, large and small, from any ringing friends, will, therefore, be gratefully received by the company and acknowledged by the secretary, Mr. H. T. Pye, Fernbank, 118, Maldon Road, Colchester.

FRANK WARRINGTON.

The Ely Diocesan Association has an able leader among its conductors in Mr. Frank Warrington, of Over, Cambs. He has served the association in various capacities and has been for some time among the foremost of its peal ringers. Formerly he was hon. secretary of the Archdeaconry of Ely Branch and now occupies a similar office in the Central Branch. He was also the first Ringing Master of the Ely Archdeaconry and now represents the association on the Central Council. He also serves on the Bishop's Advisory Committee for the diocese.

Mr. Warrington was born at Over on May 24th, 1894, and it would seem to have been a happy augury that, immediately afterwards, the bells of the Parish Church began to ring, in honour of Queen Victoria's birthday. At any rate, Mr. Warrington's interest in Over bells has been long and practical, for although he learned to ring at Long Stanton, he joined the Over company later and is now captain of the Over Society.

Always ready, when time permits, for a peal, he nevertheless makes Sunday service ringing his chief concern, and, in addition to ringing, he serves as a sidesman and a member of the Parochial Church Council in his own parish.

He rang his first peal on September 19th, 1923, at Over, when he took part in seven 720's of Bob Minor. His first peal as conductor was Bob Doubles at Fenstanton, Hunts. He took part in his first peal of Cambridge Surprise Major in 1927 at Debenham, and the comments afterwards gave him food for thought. Remarks on the peal by the band were 'not too bad'; by the conductor 'not too good.'

Mr. Warrington conducted his first peal of Major from an inside bell, and he has since called a peal from each bell in the following towers: St. Ives, Bourn, Willingham and Hemingford Abbots. He called the first peal of Cambridge and Superlative Major rung by a local company resident in Cambridgeshire, and turned in the tenor to the first peal of Surprise Major on the back eight at Great St. Mary's, Cambridge. Among the many peals of Minor which he has called have been the Rev. E. Bankes James' Cambridge about twenty times. Altogether Mr. Warrington has rung 254 peals, of which he has conducted 171. They have been rung in 70 towers in ten counties.

LONDON SOCIETIES' JOINT MEETING.

'FRESH SPIRIT OF CO-OPERATION.'

The Royal Cumberland Youths and members of the Northern District of the London County Association staged a 'get-together' meeting on Saturday, December 3rd, at Highgate. About 25 members from the two societies turned up and took part in ringing in most of the standard methods on the bells of St. Ann's, Highgate. At 4.30 a short service was conducted by the curate, the hymns being vigorously, if not tunelessly, sung by the small congregation, unassisted by an organ.

After service, the company hiked across to Hampstead and partook of a substantial tea at the White Horse Hotel, the only incident of note being the production of a large 'piece of artillery' by a gentleman of synonymous name.

Mr. Jack Waugh, in opening the business meeting of the London County Association, made a brief reference to the useful purpose served by joint meetings, and pointed out that they typified a fresh spirit of co-operation between the societies.

The arrangement of the place of the next meeting for the district was left to the secretary.

No further business remaining to be transacted, the secretary of the Cumberland Youths proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Tom Bevan, who had made the arrangements for the meeting, and this was carried with applause.

Following a course of Grandsire Caters on Mr. C. W. Taylor's musical handbells, ringing took place on the 27 cwt. peal of ten at St. Stephen's, Hampstead, methods up to Cambridge Royal being rung.

Further ringing was enjoyed at St. Martin's, Gospel Oak (six bells) until nine o'clock.

MR. FRANK WARRINGTON.

A GLOSSARY IS NECESSARY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I write to support the letter to the Rector of Drayton Parslow? Of course, there is a good deal in what you say on the other side, but it is unfortunately too true that technical terms are far too much used by ringers. Some technical terms must exist and be in use, but undoubtedly there are too many, and the usual excessive use of them is really the result of laziness. If people would take the trouble to make themselves understood in ordinary language (as we ought to do from the pulpit), they would be surprised how many times technical terms can be avoided.

At the same time I should like to say how heartily I agree with what you say about the 'Glossary.' This is a book which ought always to be kept up to date and in print. It was—quite rightly—the first publication of the Central Council. We have learnt now not to make the two mistakes it showed. It was made too large, through the insertion of other matter (however valuable that might be). And we arranged to print too large an edition. The result was that many copies remained in hand long after it was out of date.

When it was suggested that the remaining copies be given away, I proposed that they should be destroyed. I took for granted that a new edition would be immediately put into preparation, and if these copies were no longer in existence, they would not be hindering the sale of the new edition. However, the Council listened to the curious argument that as one of the added articles was valuable, therefore (save the mark), the books had better be given away!

The Glossary should be as short and simple as possible (providing nothing is left out unexplained), and it should be revised every five or ten years.

HERBERT DRAKE.

Ufford Rectory, Suffolk.

MISUSE OF TERMS.

Dear Sir,—Having had quite a lot of experience in teaching learners, and I may add with considerable success, I would be very interested to hear what technical terms there are in Grandsire Mr. Lucas finds too deep for learners to understand. 'Hunting up,' 'coming in,' 'dodging in 4-5 down,' 'making third's place,' etc., are surely not difficult to grasp.

The trouble is, it seems to me, ringers misuse the terms when teaching. For instance, not long ago I went to a tower to help with learners and heard the instructor carefully explaining to his pupil that pulling his bell at handstroke was going up and pulling it at backstroke was coming down! Another time I was 'standing behind' the treble for his first try at Bob Minor, and before we started I gave him the tip that he had five bells to hunt up, and an 'old hand' corrected me, saying he had six!

Another example I had was more advanced. I had 'caught hold' for a course of Cambridge Royal and chose the 4th. On the 3rd was a very well-known ringer, and, just to see what he would say, I turned to him and said, 'Let's see, I'm 3-4 places in and treble work on the front,' to which he replied with some force, 'No, Treble Bob!' I smiled and let it go at that. Now 'Treble Bob' is certainly a misnomer for that work, as not a single working bell in Kent or Oxford ever does it. The treble, however, always does, and that is why it is called treble work in the text books.

'Fourth's and back' is another thing I hear when 'Fourths and in' is meant (a bob in Plain Bob). Little wonder that that same ringer gets into a muddle when told to make 'third's and back' at a single.

But to return to Mr. Lucas' difficulties. How would he better explain the terms 'pass the treble in 4-5 up and dodge 6-7 down' or 'pass the treble in 2-3 (bob), make third's and go into the hunt'?

No, sir, as you put it in your leading article, it is not the 'terms' that are wrong, but it is up to the instructor to use them properly and see that the pupil will know what to do when he has to do it.

A. REEVE.

Fobbing, Essex.

A USEFUL PAMPHLET.

Dear Sir,—I was very interested to read Mr. Lucas' letter and your excellent 'leader' on technical terms. But those of us who are learning to ring are not faced with such words as those who are 'learning to garden.' I have just been listening to Mr. Middleton and his friend, A. E. Bunyard, explaining the meaning of gardeners' Latin words. Thank goodness we do not get such words in ringers' language, or spelling bees would be a necessity, and wouldn't there be some 'gonging'!

But, joking apart, I have had considerable experience of teaching Grandsire Doubles (the method referred to), and am glad to have had the advantage of the use of such a splendid little pamphlet as Mr. Fred Sharpe's 'Rules and diagrams for ringing Grandsire Doubles.' If Mr. Lucas will get a supply of this excellent paper for the use of his learners and use the blackboard for further explanation (if necessary), his difficulties will soon end. The pamphlet can be obtained from Mr. Fred Sharpe, Launton, Bicester, Oxon, for one half-penny and stamped addressed envelope.

CASTING OF THE FOUR-TON TENOR.

The Novel Concrete Bell Frame.

An historic bell casting took place last Friday at the Whitechapel Foundry, when a little company witnessed the running of the metal into the mould of the four-ton bell which is to be the tenor of the peal at the new Liverpool Cathedral.

It is the first of what is to be the biggest ringing peal in the world, and, as this bell is the largest of them all, the casting was an event of exceptional interest. Among those who were present to witness it were the Ven. G. J. Howson (Archdeacon of Liverpool), Sir Giles Gilbert Scott (the architect of the Cathedral), Col. V. Cotton and other members of the Cathedral Committee.

The furnace, into which about five tons of metal was eventually placed, was lighted at midnight, and just before noon, the ingots of Cornish tin having been added to the molten copper, two or three of the visitors threw in silver coins 'for luck'; the crucible was tapped and a steady stream of metal, like liquid gold, flowed for nearly ten on the other, 'Thomas Bartlett, Who Died 4th September, 1912, By his Will left Money to Provide this Ring of 13 Bells, which were Cast by Mears and Stainbank at Whitechapel 1938 and 1939.'

The massiveness of the reinforced concrete structure to carry the great weight of swinging metal is almost unbelievable. It is in one enormous unit extending across the huge tower (which itself is 72ft. square internally), and is built up from the floor of the ringing chamber, which is to be some feet in thickness, to the bearings of the bells nearly 40ft. above. It will be the most wonderful piece of engineering work ever introduced into a church tower in this or any other country.

Reinforced concrete has been employed partly on account of the unusual span of the tower and partly because of the location. Iron and steel were considered unsuitable because of the effects of corrosion and the frequent painting that would be necessary; timber was discarded because of the difficulty of obtaining the necessary large sections sufficiently seasoned. The ample space available has made possible a design never before used, viz., a radial frame, in which each of the 13 bells swings to the centre, in which will hang the bourdon bell.

The novel construction of the frame can be seen from our picture of a scale model, prepared by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The pillars carrying the bells stand upon a massive concrete ring, some 30ft. in minutes through the channel which led it to the mouth of the mould buried in the earth. Then, as it bubbled from the top, the stream was diverted to another channel, prepared ready to receive the surplus alloy. The interesting operation, which had been so expectantly awaited by newspapermen and photographers, was successfully over. Some part of it, however, may shortly be seen on the screen in one of the news films.

This bell is to be the tenor of a ring of twelve, together with a sharp second to provide a light eight, which Messrs. Mears and Stainbank are to instal at the Cathedral in the great tower now rising over the transepts. There is also to be a 14½ ton bourdon bell.

The tower is being built by the generosity of Lord Vestey and his brother, Sir Edmund Vestey, who are also giving the bourdon bell, and will be of a total height of over 300ft. It is hoped this structure may be completed in 1940, and the bells will then be hung in the massive reinforced concrete frame built as part of the tower some 235ft. above ground level.

The ringing peal is being provided by a bequest of the late Mr. Thomas Bartlett, a rich Liverpool merchant, who died in 1912. The new tenor records this fact. It bears a religious inscription on the shoulder, and on one side, 'The Lord Bishop of Liverpool, the Right Reverend Albert Augustus David, D.D., Named Me Emmanuel,' and diameter. It can be seen that the 13 pits are arranged in a perfect circle and that the stanchions will vary in size according to the weight of the bells they will have to carry. Some idea of the dimensions of this bell 'frame' can be obtained from the fact that these pillars are 7ft. high and that the 'tails' run back 10ft. and vary in thickness from 6in. (for the trebles) to 12in. for the tenors. The actual carrying surface on top of the pillars is more than 2ft. from front to back.

Bolted into the top of the stanchions will be bed plates, on which will be mounted the actual bearings of the bells, and this will provide the means of bringing the bearings into true adjustment.

Concrete floors, as many know, have poor acoustic properties and detract from the effect of the sound in the ringing room. To obviate this the big foundation concrete ring is to be placed on insulating material, and the ringing room is to be enclosed by wood partitions, making a spacious apartment, but one more convenient and comfortable than the whole expanse of the great tower would provide.

The height of the ringing chamber will be 21ft. Over this will be an intervening space of 10ft., and the height from the floor above to the top of the frame will be 7ft., so that the length of rope will be just under 40ft. The ropes themselves will drop straight from the wheels, and will form in the ringing room a perfect circle 17ft. 6in. across.

INTERESTING EVENT AT SURFLEET.

An interesting double event was connected with the peal of Stedman Cinques rung at Surfleet on Saturday. The peal was the two hundredth which Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Richardson have rung together and Mr. Richardson's 700th peal. It was only a few weeks ago they realised that the two achievements could be made to coincide, but once it was seen to be possible it was natural that nothing should be done in the meantime to upset the chances.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson are the second husband and wife to ring 200 peals together, and their record began in the days before their wedding, when Mrs. Richardson was Miss Annie Parkin, of Peterborough. They rang their first peal together on December 20th, 1919, at Surfleet, while, after their marriage in July, 1923, their first peal together was on November 1st, 1923, several previous attempts having met with failure.

Their 200 peals have been rung together on all numbers of bells from six to twelve and in 26 English counties, in Wales, Ireland, Scotland, Tasmania and Australia, and on the high seas. They have been made up as follows: Minor (in one to seven methods) 11, Stedman Triples 8, Bob Major 19, Double Norwich 11, Kent Treble Bob Major 7, Cambridge Surprise Major 15, Superlative 11, London Surprise Major 12, Bristol Surprise Major 6, Yorkshire Surprise Major 1, Grandsire Caters 1, Stedman Caters 10, Bob Royal 9, Kent Treble Bob Royal 4, Cambridge Surprise Royal 6, Grandsire Cinques 2, Stedman Cinques 24, Bob Maximus 2, Cambridge Surprise Maximus 4; on handbells, Bob Major 33, Grandsire Triples 3, Stedman 1, Bob Royal 1. Mr. Richardson, who has been Master of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild since 1932, began his peal ringing in September, 1901, so that it has taken him just over 37 years to reach his total of 700. These, which include all the 13 peals rung on the Australian tour, six of them being on handbells on five seas, have been rung in 213 towers, in 34

English, one Scottish, five Irish and five Welsh counties, and also in Australia and Tasmania.

Mr. Richardson on Saturday completed the 'circle of the tower' at Surfleet in the first twelve peals rung on the twelve bells and only one attempt failed. It is interesting also to recall that he rang all the bells to a peal in the first ten peals on the ten bells prior to their augmentation to twelve.

The peal on Saturday was suitably celebrated at Mr. and Mrs. Richardson's home, where the band were entertained with 'sumptuous hospitality'. When the birthday 'cake, made by the hostess' own hands and heavily iced as well as artistically decorated, was cut, the twelve tinkling little bells with which it was surmounted were distributed among the ringers as souvenirs of a happy, notable event.

Among other married couples who have rung many peals together are Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fletcher, of Enfield, Mr. and Mrs. H. Baker, of Frittenden, Kent, and Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Hairs, of Burgess Hill, Sussex. Mr. and Mrs. Hairs were the first couple to ring 200 peals together, which total they reached about six years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher's joint total is 183 peals.

MR. AND MRS. RUPERT RICHARDSON.

A RINGER FOR SIXTY YEARS.

East Hertfordshire ringing has suffered another blow in the loss of an old and well-known friend, Mr. G. Maxim, of Waltham Cross. Mr. Maxim started his ringing some 60 years ago at his birthplace, Foxearth, Essex, and, although not a prolific peal ringer, had rung quite a number in the simpler methods. He was the only surviving member of the band who rang the ten thousand odd of Kent Treble Bob for the Essex Association.

Although prevented by ill-health from taking any active part in local ringing for the last year, he maintained his interest up to the end, which came peacefully on Saturday, December 10th. He will be greatly missed by all, and another link in the chain of those who knew the famous men of a past generation is broken.

LIVERPOOL CATHEDRAL BELLS.

The Liverpool Cathedral Committee's 'Quarterly Bulletin' recently gave the approximate weights of the 13 bells as follows:—

Tenor	80 cwt.	A flat
11th	53 cwt.	B flat
10th	41 cwt.	O
9th	35 cwt.	D flat
8th	24 cwt.	E flat
7th	17½ cwt.	F
6th	14 cwt.	G
5th	12½ cwt.	A flat
4th	11½ cwt.	B flat
3rd	11 cwt.	C
2nd	10½ cwt.	D flat
Sharp 2nd	10½ cwt.	D
Treble	10 cwt.	E flat

The total weight of the bells will thus be about 16½ tons. The tenor will be approximately 6ft. 4in. in diameter and its wheel 9ft. 8in.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

NORTH SHIELDS BELLS RESTORED.

A special meeting of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association was held at North Shields on Saturday, December 3rd, when, through the courtesy of the Vicar (Canon C. Milner) and churchwardens, the bells of Christ Church were placed at the disposal of the members. Christ Church possesses a ring of ten with a tenor about 19 cwt., which have recently been retuned and rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who are to be commended on a very satisfactory piece of work. North Shields has always been a stronghold of the association, and it is interesting to note that the first peal ever rung for the association was rung on these bells, when Holt's Ten-Part was brought round in 1878.

A short service was conducted by the Vicar, during which a stone tablet commemorating the reconditioning of the bells was unveiled by the president (Mr. M. D. Oubridge). The tablet is the gift of the churchwardens and will eventually be placed in the tower. Following the dedication, a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells in the chancel.

Tea was served in the Parish Hall, presided over by the president, supported by Mr. R. Park (hon. secretary) and Canon Milner, together with the churchwardens and a representative gathering. The visitors included Mr. A. Hughes, of London, and Mr. F. G. Sherwood, of Leeds.

The President thanked the Vicar for the use of the bells, and the latter responded, saying how pleased he was to welcome the members to his church.

During the proceedings a presentation in the form of an easy chair was made by the Vicar to Mr. G. W. Dix, who has completed 50 years as a ringer at North Shields. Mr. Dix was accorded a musical reception and thanked everyone concerned for the gift.

Four of the 'younger generation' showed their prowess with handbells by ringing an excellent course of Grandsire Triples. It is gratifying to observe the obvious enthusiasm of the younger members, and it is to be hoped that it will be maintained.

NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

THE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

The Dinner Question.

The annual meeting of the North Staffordshire Association was held at Stoke-on-Trent on Saturday, December 3rd. Tea was served in the Church Institute, where 69 sat down. Ringers came from Burslem, Bucknall, Biddulph, Brown Edge, Cheadle, Cheddleton, Derby, Draycott, Fenton, Hanley, Kingsley, Leek, Longton, Lawton, Norton, Newcastle, Repton, Stoke-on-Trent, Stone, Stafford, Tunstall, Uttoxeter, Wistaston and Wolstanton.

The Ven. Archdeacon Hartill, Rector of Stoke, extended a hearty welcome to all present, and said he looked forward to being amongst them many times.

Mr. T. Hurd proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector of Stoke for the use of the bells and the excellent tea he had given them.—Mr. S. Churton supported the motion.

Mr. A. D. Steel proposed a vote of thanks to the visitors, whom they were always pleased to see, and hoped they would enjoy their visit to Stoke-on-Trent.

The business meeting followed, with the president (the Rector of Stoke) in the chair, supported by Mr. Andrew Thompson (hon. secretary) and the Rev. F. D. Gardner (former clerical secretary), the Rev. C. J. Watkins, the Rev. H. H. Treacher, the Rev. J. Howse and the Rev. S. Myers-Bridge.

The committee reported that at their annual meeting held at Burslem on November 12th the following report was presented by the hon. secretary: During the past year 13 meetings had been held, one each month excepting July, when two were held; two having been at ten-bell towers, five at eight, and six at six-bell towers. The average attendance had been 38 per meeting, which was a decrease of one on last year, but the extra meeting should be taken into consideration. It was interesting to note that four members had attended all the meetings, viz., Messrs. Thomas Hurd, Edward Steele, William Perkins and Andrew Thompson. Twelve meetings were attended by Messrs. Sidney Thompson and Neville R. Holland, while 128 ringing members have attended at least one meeting during the year, an increase of two on last year. Fifteen non-resident and 61 visitors had also attended meetings during the year. Twenty-five new members were elected, consisting of three honorary, three non-resident and 19 ringing members. Cheddleton tower had returned to the association after an absence of 20 years.

RESIGNATION OF CHAIRMAN.

Three committee meetings had been held, all concerning the annual dinner, one held at Leek, one at Draycott (where only eight representatives were present, and it was proposed to hold the dinner on unlicensed premises, this being withdrawn as the secretary pointed out that he was not prepared to organise a dinner on unlicensed premises), and one at Tunstall, where 16 representatives were present, the largest representative meeting ever held. This meeting decided to hold the dinner on licensed premises.

Although the clergy of Bucknall and Biddulph threatened secession if the dinner was held on licensed premises, support came from the Archdeacon of Stoke, and a full report of the Tunstall meeting appeared in 'The Ringing World,' which in its leading article supported the committee.

The clerical secretary supported himself by saying that he had not been invited to the committee meeting, but as he is not a member of the association, he could not be invited to take part.

An unfortunate incident was the resignation of the chairman of committee through his views of the dinner. His presence would be greatly missed.

The resignation of the Ringing Master for six-bell towers owing to the illness of his wife was received, but an acting Ringing Master was elected until he was in a position to attend.

Twenty peals had been rung during the year, a decrease of 10 on last year. They consisted of Bob Royal 1, Kent Treble Bob Major 3, Oxford Treble Bob Major 1, Plain Bob 2, Stedman Triples 2, Grandsire Triples 3, Bob Minor 3, in two minor methods 1, in three methods 1, Stedman Doubles 1, Grandsire Doubles 2. The number of conductors for the year was seven, six having called their first peal. The most interesting peal footnotes were Stedman Triples at Stone in honour of the golden wedding of the Earl and Countess of Harrowley; Bob Royal at Leek for the induction of the Rev. G. W. Millward, this being the first peal of Bob Royal for the association; Bob Major at Longton rung on the 123rd anniversary of the opening of the bells; Stedman Triples at Broughton in honour of Miss J. L. G. Hall's presentation to the first Court of the season at Buckingham Palace. Out of the six peals rung at Draycott, one was for the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. Perkins, one rung half-muffled for the late Mrs. M. Shelley, and one to welcome the new Rector (the Rev. A. Stanley). Bob Major was rung at Longton to celebrate the attainment of 50 years as a ringer of Mr. J. E. Wheeldon; Grandsire Triples at Newcastle in honour of the wedding of a Newcastle ringer, Mr. G. A. Moore, to Miss D. Coomer; and Kent Treble Bob Major at Uttoxeter as a compliment to Mr. H. Carnwell, who has completed 50 years as a ringer. The association was again represented at the Central Council meeting held at Leeds.

The adoption of the report was moved by Mr. W. P. Deane, supported by Mr. S. Churton.

RINGERS' PATRON SAINT.

VICAR'S SUGGESTION AT MIDDLESEX MEETING.

St. John the Baptist was suggested as the ringers' patron saint by the Vicar of Southgate at a meeting of the North and East District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild on December 3rd.

Southgate is always a popular meeting place, because of its very fine peal of bells, and during the afternoon nearly 50 ringers attended, and the Master (Mr. T. J. Lock) continually changed the methods, and included touches of 'rounds,' to suit everybody.

The service was well attended. The Vicar (the Rev. G. W. Stainsby), after welcoming the association, said he had been searching for a ringers' patron saint. He thought St. John the Baptist was the most suitable. Just as he prepared the way of the Lord in his day, so do ringers call people to God in these days.

It was a very encouraging and helpful sermon for a ringers' service.

An excellent tea was served in the Walker Hall, adjoining Southgate cricket field—the name of Walker is always connected with Middlesex cricket—after which a short business meeting was held.

Apologies for his absence were made on behalf of Mr. G. W. Fletcher (vice-president), away on business, and the Vicar was elected to take the chair. Two ringers from St. Augustine's, Kilburn, were admitted to membership.

Extracts were read from letters received by the general secretary from Messrs. James George, J. H. Cheesman and E. Brett, and a resolution of sympathy and good wishes for their early recovery was passed.

The secretary's action in conveying the congratulations of the members to Mr. and Mrs. James Parker on the occasion of their golden wedding was endorsed.

A resolution of sympathy with the Ancient Society of College Youths at the loss of the Master of that society, Mr. L. B. Porter, in sad and tragic circumstances, was carried by all present standing for a few moments in silence, broken only by the Vicar saying a short prayer.

It was announced that the next meeting, which will be the annual meeting of the district, would be held at Edmonton on January 28th.

Votes of thanks were unanimously accorded to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for his address at the service, to Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Tomlinson for arranging a very nice tea, and to Mr. J. E. Miller for making all necessary arrangements for the meeting. It was added that the tea, being served by ringers for ringers, was just what it should be.

The Rev. G. W. Stainsby replied to the vote of thanks, and added an invitation to the association to 'come again,' which will doubtless be accepted.

Further ringing took place afterwards in most of the standard methods.

NORTH STAFFS OFFICIALS.

The statement of accounts was read and accepted on the proposition of Mr. S. Dutton, seconded by Mr. H. Carnwell. The auditor's report stated that there was a gain on the year of £9 0s. 9½d., which made a total balance of £34 19s. 0½d., consisting of £20 4s. in the Post Office and £14 15s. 0½d. in the hands of the secretary. The accounts of the first annual dinner were presented, in which a balance of 3s. 1d. was in the hands of the secretary.

The Rev. S. F. Linsley was elected clerical secretary, Mr. Andrew Thompson hon. secretary, Mr. Kenneth Thacker assistant hon. secretary, Mr. Arthur W. Hall chairman of committee, Mr. Alan D. Steel Ringing Master for eight-bell towers, Mr. John E. Wheeldon Ringing Master for six-bell towers, Mr. Edward Steele auditor, Mr. William F. Deane adviser, and Messrs. Andrew Thompson and Kenneth Thacker were again elected to represent the association on the Central Council.

It was decided that in future the Ringing Masters should give an annual report.

The following list of meetings was proposed for 1939: January, Newcastle; February, Longton; March, Fenton; April, Brown Edge; May, Leek; June, Kingsley; July, Stone and Cheddleton; August, Draycott; September, Uttoxeter; October, Tunstall; November, Hanley; December, Stoke-on-Trent.

Before the minutes were passed, the Rev. F. D. Gardner asked that the words in the secretary's report, 'threaten us with secession,' be altered to 'suggest the possibility of secession.'

The secretary, on reading his letters, found the wording of his report to be correct.

A vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. C. H. Page to the Editor of 'The Ringing World' for the meeting reports he had published during the year, and also the 'Evening Sentinel' and 'City Times,' which publish the ringing activities of North Staffordshire.—This was supported by Mr. E. Roberts.

Thanks were also proposed to the former chairman of the committee and the assistant secretary.

Mr. C. H. Page, on behalf of the association, congratulated the hon. secretary upon ringing a peal of Stedman Cinques.

The secretary replied by saying that Mr. Page and himself were the only members of the association who had rung peals of Cinques. Mr. C. H. Page was the first to ring Grandsire from Doubles to Cinques, and he (the secretary) was the first to ring Stedman.

The ringers of Wolstanton were elected members of the association, as were also Mrs. Miles and Messrs. N. Snape and F. Hulse, of Fenton.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

SILVER JUBILEE OF CHELMSFORD'S TWELVE BELLS.

To celebrate the silver jubilee of the rehanging and augmentation of the bells at Chelmsford Cathedral, the South-Eastern Division of the Essex Association were invited to hold their annual meeting at Chelmsford. Ringers were present from Great Baddow, Boreham, Broomfield, Chelmsford, Danbury, Ford End, Fryerning, Galleywood, Goldhanger, Maldon (2), Springfield, Great Waltham, Little Waltham, Widford, Writtle and visitors from Harwich, Bardfield, Dunmow, St. Osyth, Newmarket, Great Bentley, Beckenham, Prittlewell, Colchester, Great Holland, Kirby and Coggeshall. The service was conducted by the Rev. — Noakes. The Master (Dr. P. T. Spencer-Phillips) read the lesson, and Mr. Frye was at the organ. The collection for the Association Bell Restoration Fund amounted to 19s. 1d.

An abundant tea was partaken of in the Cathedral Hall, kindly provided by the Cathedral ringers and served by their wives and friends.

The Master, who presided at the business meeting, reported the death of the Rev. F. R. Thurlow, an honorary member, of Widford, and all present stood in silence as a mark of respect and esteem.

The hon. secretary reported that five meetings had been held with an average attendance of 30. One honorary, ten ringing and four probationary members had been elected. Twenty-one peals, against fifteen for 1937, had been rung. Six new members had rung their first peal, 18 their first in the method and one his first as conductor. The peal of Crayford College Major was the first in the method for the association.

The District Master (Mr. H. Mansfield) and the hon. secretary (Mr. H. W. Shadrack) were re-elected, and Mr. J. Rawlings, of Beckenham, Kent, was elected a member.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Danbury on February 4th.

The question of renewing the monthly practices at the Cathedral (on the last Saturday in the month) was raised, and it was suggested that a definite method be practised. It was, therefore, decided to resume these practices on the last Saturday in January, and that the method be Cambridge, up to and including Royal. It is hoped that these practices will be well supported.

A letter from Miss Snowden, the hon. secretary of the Northern Division, was received apologising for having to hold the annual meeting of that district on the same day and conveying wishes for a good meeting.

The thanks of the meeting to the Provost of Chelmsford Cathedral for allowing the use of the bells, to the Rev. Noakes for taking the service and giving the address, to Mr. Frye, the organist, to the local company for providing and the ladies for serving the tea, were expressed by Dr. Spencer-Phillips, who extended a warm welcome to the visitors.

Mr. L. J. Clark, in replying, apologised for the absence of the Provost and the Rev. Noakes, and on behalf of the Provost welcomed the association to Chelmsford. He also gave a short account of the history of the Cathedral bells.

NORTH STAFFS ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the North Staffordshire Association was held at Burslem on Nov. 19th, when 45 members were present from Bucknall, Biddulph, Brown Edge, Burslem, Cheadle, Draycott, Hanley, Fenton, Kingsley, Longton, Leek, Norton, Newcastle, Stone, Stoke-on-Trent, Stafford, Silverdale, Tunstall, Uttoxeter, Wistaston and Wolstanton.

Tea was served in the Church Schools, and a service was conducted by the Rev. W. Morris-Edge (Rector of Burslem), assisted by the Rev. J. Roderick Jones. The Rector, in his address, welcomed the association to St. John's Church on behalf of the Church Council and churchwardens.

At the meeting which followed, Mr. J. Hurd welcomed the members on behalf of Burslem ringers, and in this was supported by Mr. T. Hurd, who said he had served under seven Rectors. He asked the young ringers to attend the association's meetings, as they were the place where ringing was learnt.

A vote of thanks to the Rector and ringers was proposed by Mr. A. D. Steel, seconded by Mr. A. W. Hall; while Mr. E. Steele thanked the ladies for preparing tea for the ringers.

The ringers of Leek were congratulated upon the ringing of a peal of Stedman Caters by a local band, and Mr. G. E. Plant in acknowledging the congratulations, said that it was a beautiful peal.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

CHELTHENHAM BRANCH'S MOST SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Cheltenham Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association took place at the Parish Church, Cheltenham, on Saturday, December 3rd. It was the first meeting held at the Parish Church since the formation of the branch in 1922 and attracted a record attendance. The well-known peal of bells were set going at 3 o'clock to Stedman Caters under Mr. William Dyer, captain of the tower.

Service was well attended and was conducted by the Rector of Cheltenham (the Rev. J. B. Goodliffe), whose fine address was greatly appreciated.

The tea, kindly given by friends of the Parish Church, was partaken of in the Parish Hall, the latter being specially decorated and containing a number of imitation bells as part of the scheme. Those present were entertained after tea to selections, etc., on handbells by ex-Sgt. J. Williams, Mr. J. Austin and Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas.

The business meeting was presided over by the Ven. Archdeacon of Cheltenham (Canon F. W. Sears), chairman of the branch, supported by the Rector of Cheltenham, the Rev. H. D. Walmsley and the Rev. S. B. Freeman (curates of St. Mary's), the Rev. A. M. Hollis (Vicar of Charlton Kings), the Rev. S. J. Richards (Vicar of St. Peter's, Cheltenham), the Rev. H. Benson (Rector of Quinton), the churchwardens of the Parish Church, Mr. J. T. Dyke (hon. secretary of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association), Mr. Percy Williams (treasurer of the association), Mr. C. Camm and members from a wide area. Most of the local towers were also represented.

Several new members were elected.

It was proposed to hold Saturday evening beginners' practices at the towers near Cheltenham under the direction of the hon. secretary (Mr. W. Yeend).

The secretary reported on the unqualified success of the dinner held in Cheltenham in October, and it was decided to hold another next year; also to hold the annual outing as usual in June, the arrangements being left in the hands of Mr. C. W. Martin.

The Archdeacon of Cheltenham was again re-elected chairman of the branch and thanked for his past services. Mr. W. Dyer, of the St. Mary's company, was elected branch representative in place of Mr. G. H. Walters, who had removed out of the district. The latter was warmly thanked for his past services. Mr. W. Yeend was re-elected hon. secretary, an office he has held since 1922.

Cowley was selected for the next meeting in March.

Mr. Walter Rose, who had specially journeyed from Southampton, voiced the thanks of the meeting to the Rector and all the kind friends who had given valued help in all departments.—This was seconded by Mr. J. K. Armstrong and carried with applause.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

THE LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION

At a meeting of the Southern District of the London County Association on Saturday, reference was made to the printed report, in which a 'List of Towers' is included, and the question was asked whether all the towers belonged to the Association. The reply forthcoming was that no towers belonged to any association and the list was intended for the information of ringers as to where ringing could be obtained. The first part of the reply was obvious 'side stepping.' When reference is made, in connection with ringing, to towers 'belonging' to an association there is only one meaning. It refers to the ringers attached to the tower, and not to the structure. However, many societies include in their reports the full list of towers in their own area, and it is a helpful addition to the other information, but it is not usual to include the towers in other associations' areas, unless there is some kind of real affiliation.

The point raised directs attention to the London County Association's curious position. If its published list is intended to be a directory of towers in its area, it will be found on the one hand to be markedly deficient and, on the other, to stretch beyond its territorial boundaries. If, however, all the towers included can be claimed to be within the limits of the Association, then its title is a misnomer. The administrative County of London is a well defined area, within which the Association was supposed to operate when it first staked a claim to territorial recognition. Then, ignoring its title, it enlarged its area to the London Postal District, a policy of doubtful wisdom, in that it encroached upon other active organisations. It has also made further claim to a vague area by adding to its title 'the North Southwark Diocesan Guild.' Now, presumably, the Association reaches out even beyond, and takes in such places as Kingston, in Surrey, in the South-Western corner of the diocese of Southwark, Barking in Essex, Isleworth in Middlesex, and others.

This expansion may suit the immediate purpose of the Association, but we cannot think it adds to its real strength, when so much remains to be done in the County of London. Would it not strengthen its position if, having set itself up to be a territorial association, it modelled itself entirely on territorial lines, instead of persisting in wrapping the skeleton of the old St. James' Society in a territorial cloak. For example, the association follows the practice of the St. James' Society, from which it emanated, and, like the older London Societies, admits members on a 'life' subscription. It thus deprives itself of a regular source of revenue and becomes dependent largely for its income upon the influx of new members. There is also another anomaly arising from this position. As a territorial association its representation on the Central Council should be based upon its resident membership, but hitherto it has not been possible to enumerate with accuracy the number of members who come into this category. Thus the association cannot conform to the rules which govern all the other territorial societies affiliated to the Council. The Association has in its ranks some energetic young men capable of doing good work in the organisation of ringing in London. We believe they would give their association a much more solid foundation if they reorganised it on the real basis of what its title purports it to be.

LADIES' GUILD.

A WELCOME TO STAPLETON.

The Western District of the Ladies' Guild held a quarterly meeting at Stapleton, Bristol, on December 12th, there being an excellent attendance, 22 ladies being present. Ringing started very punctually, and Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Kent and Cambridge were rung during the afternoon and evening. The Guild service was held, very cosily, in the choir stalls, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. J. E. Staley), who also accompanied the singing.

Mrs. Staley very kindly provided the visitors with tea at the Memorial Hall, at the conclusion of which a collection was made, on the proposal of Miss Orchard, for the non-Aryan German refugees, and a hearty vote of thanks passed to the Rector for the use of the bells and taking the service, and to Mrs. Staley for her kind hospitality.

The Rector, replying, said that it gave him great pleasure to welcome the Guild on the occasion of their first visit to Stapleton, and he very much hoped they would come again, but that when they did the Bath members would not think it necessary to bring their river with them, as they had a perfectly good stream of their own in Stapleton!

At the business meeting which followed, one new member was elected, Miss Olive Willmott, of Frome.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at St. Saviour's, Bath, if permission could be obtained.

The members then returned to the tower, and ringing continued until 8 o'clock.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD.*THE CONDITION OF OLD HILL BELLS.

The quarterly meeting of the Dudley and District Guild was held at Holy Trinity Church, Old Hill, Staffs, on Saturday, December 3rd. After ringing during the afternoon, the usual service was held and was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. L. Wilson), who also gave a very interesting address. A pleasing feature of the service was the hymns chosen by the Vicar to take the place of those in the service form, which made a welcome change.

A bounteous tea had been provided in the Schoolroom, but it was very discouraging that there were not many more to take advantage of Old Hill's hospitality.

The business meeting was attended by upwards of 70 members and friends. The Vicar occupied the chair, supported by Mr. T. Baker and Mr. G. F. Shaw (churchwardens), Mr. A. Davies (Ringing Master), Mr. John Goodman (treasurer) and the secretary (Mr. H. Sheppard).

The chairman extended a hearty welcome to the members to the church and parish. Several new members were added to the roll, including the Vicar as a vice-president, and the churchwardens as honorary members.

It was proposed that the quarterly peal be attempted at Old Hill, subject to the consent of the Vicar, which was readily given, the arrangements being left with Messrs. W. Fendall and J. Goodman.

The next meeting, which is the annual meeting, will be held at Dudley on Saturday, March 5th, 1939. Members are asked to note the date and to make it a record gathering.

It was proposed by Mr. Churchwarden Baker that the appreciation of the Guild be recorded on the minutes of a peal of Grandsire Triples rung at Old Hill on Saturday, November 26th, by the young service ringers attached to Holy Trinity Church.—Mr. S. J. Hughes, in seconding, said it was a great credit to the band to ring a peal on those bells, which were a heavy peal and badly required the services of a bellfounder.—Mr. W. Fendall suitably replied on behalf of the band.

On the proposition of Mr. Herbert Sheppard, seconded by Mr. S. J. Hughes, the best thanks of the Guild were given to the Vicar of Old Hill, to the churchwardens for their presence and support, to the organist, to the donor of the tea, and especially to the ladies for preparing and serving the meal. Thanks were also given to Mr. Eric Fletcher for the work he had done in making the necessary arrangements and to all who had assisted in any way to make the meeting a happy and successful one.—The Vicar replied on behalf of all concerned and closed the meeting with prayer.

Further ringing afterwards took place.

Dear Sir,—On Sunday afternoon, December 4th, it was my privilege to be present at the dedication service in connection with four bells, at the Holy Roman Church of St. Edmund, at Oak Park, Illinois, a village of 60,000 people and a suburb of Chicago. This ceremony took the ancient form of naming, washing, blessing and sanctifying the bells.

These bells are a fine example of the founder's art, and they are a product of the Neneely foundry of Troy, in New York State, who have been engaged in the casting of bells for over 100 years. The bells are highly polished, and it is the writer's first observation of tower bells being polished.

They are intended to be used to sound the Angelus three times daily by electrical power, and they will be the crowning glory of a fine parish church; and Chicago is a city of beautiful churches.

As the ritual was performed on each bell separately, I was for the moment kind of glad it was for only four bells and not a great carillon such as the English founders from time to time ship to America.

The authorities of St. Edmund's are to be congratulated on selecting bells and not tubes, as some of the churches in Chicago have done.

The Pastor of the parish, in his sermon on this occasion, gave one of the best discourses on bells and the ancient ritual of bell dedication in use by his Church that it has ever been my pleasure to listen to, and I felt amply repaid for the 20-mile journey from this address to the fair village of Oak Park.

There is, however, one disturbing thought that comes to my mind when I see the worship of the Most High taking a mechanical form. Whither are we drifting? We can reproduce better music than the average church choir; we can broadcast a better sermon than the average preacher can deliver; are the inventions of this modern age to supplant public worship?

If this mechanical worship is to continue, will a great bishop say Mass into a microphone and a learned divine preach from his study?

It is my humble opinion that praise and worship of the great Creator should be performed by the creatures of his creation and not by intricate machines devised by man. I would rather have children ring rounds and call changes than have someone push a button and let her go.

As the church has always made use of all the arts, architecture, carving, tapestry, music, let us use our bells in the way they can best be used and ring them in changes.

F. J. RUMENS.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

'A Merry Christmas' to all our readers.

Mr. Reg. Fuller, late of Reigate and Aldershot, is sailing for the United States. The good wishes of his friends will accompany him to the land of his adoption. Communications after January 7th may be sent to him at 34, Risedale Road, Hemel Hempstead, Herts, and will be forwarded.

An old member of the Godalming Parish Church company of ringers, and a member of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, Mr. Robert Henry Pamment died on December 14th at the age of 64 years. In his younger days he served in Godalming Fire Brigade and helped in the formation of Godalming Temperance Band.

The band who rang the bachelors' peal for the Hereford Guild, as reported last week, have resolved to repeat the performance each year. We wonder! At least one of the company is, we hear, already showing signs of 'falling' for a member of the fair sex. He departs from ringing in a hurry on the pretext that he has to 'see a man about a dog.'

About a fortnight ago Geoffrey Harrison, the promising son of Mr. Colin Harrison, fell down in the playing ground of Loughborough College and fractured his wrist. Plaster of Paris now encircles his right arm and wrist, and we are afraid Geoffrey's name will be missing from our peal columns for some time to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Richardson were the third married couple to reach 200 peals together, and not the second, as we stated last week. We mentioned that Mr. and Mrs. H. Baker, of Frittenden, Kent, had rung a large number of peals together. They actually reached their 200th on February 3rd, 1934, having rung their first together on October 21st, 1922, and their 100th on December 8th, 1928.

Several members of the Chester Diocesan Guild have recently completed a task which, under the leadership of the late Mr. Harry Wilde, they began some years ago. They set out to ring at least one 720 in each of the methods in the Central Council's Minor Collection. Mr. James Morgan has been the 'father' of the band and has called at least one extent of each method. Others who have taken part in all the methods are Messrs. R. Sperring, W. Thomas, A. E. Richards, J. Swindley and J. W. Clarke.

We regret to say that Mr. Tom Maude, of Pudsey, is ill and confined to bed. As a result, he will not be able to write to his many ringing friends this Christmas, and he asks them to accept his good wishes.

Mr. Maude has for years been a popular figure among Yorkshire ringers, in whom he has always taken the greatest interest, although not a ringer himself. He was always at their meetings, visited many parts of the country with those who attended the Central Council meetings, and was never seen without a flower in his buttonhole. Everyone will wish Mr. Maude a speedy return to health.

We are asked to state for the information of probable visitors that there will be no ringing at Manchester Cathedral on Christmas Day for the 3.30 and 7.30 p.m. services.

A RINGER IN INDIA.

WHERE BROADCAST RINGING IS WELCOMED.

Dear Sir,—On behalf of my family and myself, I send 'greetings and good wishes' to you and all ringers for Christmas and the New Year.

I have been very interested in the correspondence in your columns re broadcasting, and I only wish the time could be extended beyond the usual five minutes. After all, what would a singer feel like if half of his song was cut out every time? All the same, I feel very thankful to the B.B.C. for small mercies. For instance, I can tune in to London Regional and get St. Martin-in-the-Fields and hear what my old friends are putting over, or to St. Paul's on the short waves on the second Sunday of the month at 1.25 a.m. I.S.T. The striking is good, as also is that of our Croydon friends on what sounds a lovely peal of bells. A few months ago I heard some Minor being put over from a certain tower, and from start to finish there was not a single hand-stroke open lead. This is against all our teachings, and, therefore, ruined decent change ringing.

On Tuesday, December 6th, I gave a lecture on 'Campanology' to the Kashmir Science Club, at the invitation of Lt.-Col. G. S. Skinner, its hon. treasurer. By the aid of the epidiascope, a blackboard and handbells, I set before the audience, to the best of my ability, our art. It gave me much pleasure to see how great an interest was shown by them. I have to thank Mr. G. W. Steere for so kindly sending me a fine selection of photos, as also my wife and daughters for assisting me with handbells. Demonstrations, including Grandsire Doubles and Bob Minor, were greatly appreciated.

On the 13th inst., I am giving another lecture, and I propose to conclude it thus: 'On behalf of "The Ringing World" that ringers are proud of, the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths that I am proud of, and the ringers of the British Isles we all should be proud of, I wish all members of the Kashmir Science Club a merry Christmas and continued prosperity.'

JOHN FLINT.

Ringers for more than a generation have been familiar with the name of John Flint, of Bolsover. He has been a tower of strength to ringing in that part of the country. Although living in Derbyshire, he is one of the most valued members of the Yorkshire Association and has been a vice-president of the Sheffield and District Society for a number of years.

Mr. Flint was born at Woolley Moor, near Ashover, in Derbyshire, on August 29th, 1871, and has lived in Bolsover since 1892. He learned to ring there, and has always been attached to this tower. In 1897 the church and bells were destroyed by fire, but when the new peal was installed in 1898 he was made Ringing Master of the tower, and has held borough Surprise Major the post ever since. He has rung no fewer than 167 peals at Bolsover and conducted 105 of them.

His first peal was in two plain Minor methods on October 6th, 1900, and on January 26th, 1901, he rang his first peal as conductor, when he called seven 720's of Plain Bob Minor, with the bells fully muffled for the death of Queen Victoria, the first peal by a local band at Bolsover. He has put in a life's work in training young ringers at this tower and elsewhere, and at Bolsover they now have a band of 14, nearly all young men.

Mr. Flint has taken part in several interesting first performances. He conducted first peals of Pudsey, Rutland and Whitminster Surprise Major ever rung, and took part in the first peals of Peter-and Yorkshire Surprise Royal. He conducted the first peals of Pudsey, Rutland, Hinton, Belgrave, Whitminster and Norfolk Surprise for the Yorkshire Association, and took part in the first peals of Bristol and New Cambridge Major, Cambridge and Double Norwich Royal, and Double Norwich Caters for the association, as well as in the first peals of Bristol and Cambridge Surprise in Ireland. His peals on all numbers of bells from six to twelve now number 511, of which he has conducted 180, and they have been rung in 152 towers, in 35 counties, with 348 different ringers. Mr. Flint is a member of 19 different associations.

WESTERN DIVISION MEETS AT SIX-BELL TOWER.

A meeting of the Western Division of the Sussex County Association was held at Goring, a six-bell tower, on Saturday, December 10th, when the attendance was again good, 35 members being present from twelve towers.

Owing to the illness of the Vicar, the service was conducted by the Rev. S. W. Balmier, who gave the ringers an interesting address and a cordial welcome.

Afterwards he presided over the tea and business meeting. One new member, Mr. A. C. Bryder, of Goring, was elected, and a letter of thanks was read from the Vicar of Arundel for the collection which was made for the bells at the last meeting.

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar of Goring for the use of the bells, also to the Rev. T. W. Balmier.

In the evening some members went to Heene Church to ring on the eight bells, the others remaining at Goring, where the ringing ranged from rounds to Cambridge Surprise.

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY.

At Croydon, Surrey, in honour of the birthday of His Majesty the King, on Wednesday, December 14th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Croydon Parish Church: E. Acock 1, Miss D. Williams (first quarter-peal on an 'inside' bell) 2, H. J. Skelt 3, D. L. P. Buxton 4, F. E. Mitchell 5, A. W. Clark 6, D. D. Cooper (conductor) 7, F. E. Collins 8.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

THE LIST OF TOWERS.

A meeting of the Southern District of the London County Association and North Southwark Diocesan Guild was held on Saturday, ringing taking place at St. George's, Camberwell, in the afternoon, and at St. John's, Kennington, in the evening. Some 30 members and friends attended and took part in ringing Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Double Oxford, Double Norwich, Cambridge, Superlative and London Surprise Major.

A substantial tea was served in St. John's Parish Hall and was followed by the business meeting, with the District Master (Mr. P. A. Corby) in the chair. In announcing that the annual general meeting would be held at St. Luke's, Chelsea, on Saturday, January 21st, the Master urged all members to be present and to bring their friends.

Two names were put forward for the office of auditor, and, on a show of hands, Mr. F. D. Bishop was elected.

Some discussion took place regarding the list of towers given in the association's report, and it was suggested that some of the towers did not belong to the association. The Master said that no tower belonged to any association. The list that was printed included towers in the association's territory for the benefit of those people who wished to visit them for practice and service ringing. In order to keep the list up to date and correct, he asked members to advise him of any alterations or corrections.

The meeting terminated with the usual votes of thanks for those responsible for making the arrangements.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

LEATHERHEAD DISTRICT AT EWELL.

Speaking in terms of numbers and methods rung, the meeting of the Leatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild at Ewell on December 10th was a good one, but the drawback was the fact that only five district towers were represented, and nine ringers were from Leatherhead.

The Vicar (the Rev. C. G. Holland) conducted the Guild's service, after which he presided over tea in the Church Room, when 27 sat down, and took the chair at the business meeting.

The elections, as compounding members, of Messrs. D. H. P. Buxton and T. J. Lock, previous to peals, were duly ratified, and the following officers were nominated for 1939: Ringing Master, Mr. A. Harman; district secretary, Mr. A. H. Smith; while for the three district representatives on the general committee the Rev. G. H. B. Coleridge and Messrs. A. J. Adams, W. James and G. Marriner were nominated.

The General Secretary (Mr. G. L. Grover) reminded members of the Guild's annual dinner on January 14th, and Major J. H. B. Hesse (Master) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, the organist, and Mr. C. E. Read, who made the arrangements.

This concluded the business and the members again made full use of the bells, the early goers' places being taken by late comers. Altogether 39 ringers had a 'pull' in the course of the afternoon in a wide range of methods from rounds and Triples to no less than seven Surprise methods.

Visitors were present from Clandon, Guildford, Haslemere, Kingston, Putney, Stepney and Sutton, the district towers represented being Ashted, Banstead, Epsom (Christ Church), Ewell and Leatherhead.

DISAPPOINTING ATTENDANCE AT ECCLESFIELD.

The Barnsley and District Society held their December meeting at Ecclesfield, near Sheffield. Members were present from Felkirk, Sandal, Wath, Wortley and the local company. Ringing took place in the afternoon and tea was served in the Church Hall. At the business meeting which followed, Mr. Nisbitt (churchwarden) presided. He hoped all would enjoy their visit and offered them a hearty welcome to the tower at any time.

One new member was elected, and Mr. Moxon (Sandal) moved, Mr. Panther (Wath) seconded, a vote of thanks to the Vicar and chairman and to the local company for providing teas and arranging for the meeting. The only thing to regret was that there were not more present to enjoy the excellent tea that had been prepared. It was not very encouraging to the caterers to find the attendance below the average.

Further ringing followed in Minor methods and one or two touches of Major until about 8.30 p.m.

The bells at Ecclesfield are a peal of eight with a tenor of approximately 19 cwt. Although the 'go' is not bad, they need 'ringing.'

The next meeting will be the annual general meeting at Barnsley on Saturday, January 14th.

FIRST IN LIVING MEMORY.

A band of local Sunday service ringers at St. Peter's Church, Ightham, Kent, on December 6th, rang, for the first time in living memory in the parish, a 720 of Bob Minor. It is the reward of much perseverance. The ringers were *W. Smart 1, *H. Woolley 2, R. Rayfield 3, *F. Smart 4, F. Woolway (first 720 as conductor) 5, F. Paige 6. *First 720.

THE BIRTH OF CHANGE RINGING. DEVELOPMENT OF MEDIÆVAL PRACTICE.

By J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

We ringers take our art very much as a matter of course. It has existed for some hundreds of years, it is deeply rooted in the traditions of the English people, and we do not see why it should not be so. And yet the whole thing is altogether illogical. The bells are hung in the steeples of churches, they are cast and used for the purposes of religion, but change ringing and especially peal ringing, is a sport, and one of the oldest and most characteristic of English sports, frankly and openly recognised as such in bygone days. How did it all come about?

Bells in mediæval times were very important things, with very important uses. Some of these uses were secular and some religious. The bells were regarded as the 'trumpets of the heavenly King,' and were rung in the processions which were held before high mass 'for to fraye the devylls away.' The care and use of them were entrusted to the clerks, who had to ring before services, at the Sanctus, for knells and for curfew. Most of this they could do themselves, for, when a bell had to be rung during service, they used a small bell, called a saunce bell, which could be rung from the floor of the church. But the ringing at the processions they could not do themselves; then they had other duties to discharge, so what they did was to pick out some strong, lusty young fellows from the parish and send them up into the belfry to do the work for them. As an old French proverb says (it may date from this time), 'You cannot ring the bells and walk in the procession.'

The healthy young Englishman has never been a particularly religious person. No doubt the ringing at the processions was a part (and supposed to be a very important part) of divine service, but since the bells were swung, and swung as high as the crude fittings of the time allowed, they found it good sport and so presently they were ringing the bells because they liked doing it and for no other reason. Thus was introduced what was called 'pleasure' ringing.

Exactly when this happened is not clear, but I think the following may throw some light on it. About the beginning of the sixteenth century the monks in abbeys all over England were complaining of bell ringing at night time and many petitions were sent to the Pope to stop the nuisance. Sometimes the monks said it hindered the saying of the night offices in the church. Sometimes they were more honest and said that they did not like their sleep being disturbed. The papal archives at Rome contain several instances of injunctions forbidding ringing at places after curfew and before prime.

But what was this night ringing done for? There were occasions, and notably on All Hallows' Eve, when the bells were rung all night long, but that was 'for all Christian souls.' It was a Catholic custom and to it the monks could not reasonably object. The ringing they objected to was done 'without any evident necessity,' and the only conclusion we can come to is that this was the beginnings of pleasure ringing.

The monks were important people whose wishes were not likely to be disregarded, and so evidently the ringers had the backing of the principal men of the parish, and very shortly afterwards we find that parishes were drawing up rules regulating 'pleasure' ringing and making special concessions in favour of gentlemen and worshipful persons.

Meanwhile, the changes at the time of the Reformation had curtailed and very largely abolished ringing for religious purposes, so that what was left was ringing done for national, civic and social purposes, and this 'pleasure' ringing. It was out of this that the Exercise and our modern change ringing were born.

The amount of 'pleasure' ringing was extraordinary. In many places the bells were rung practically every evening and I have come across several cases where it was necessary to regulate and to limit it. At St. Margaret's, Westminster, no ringing for pleasure was allowed before eight in the morning or after eight at night. At Ashby-de-la-Zouch no single person was allowed to ring on more than two evenings a week; at Stepney a fee of 2s. 6d. was charged; at Twickenham there was to be no ringing when the Rector was in residence, after nine at night and on not more than two evenings a week. At Preston only worshipful persons were allowed to ring for pleasure, and so on.

All this was raising and ceasing and round ringing. There was a lot of ringing at the two Universities and the Inns of Court, and it was among the people there that change ringing was first invented and developed. As change ringing became more advanced and complicated the number of ringers became restricted to those who seriously practised the art. In the older times any strong young fellow who could pull a rope and had a sense of rhythm thought himself qualified to be a ringer.

MR. I. SIDEBOTHAM'S LONG SERVICE. PRESENTATION AT MOTTRAM.

A presentation has been made to Mr. Isaac Sidebotham, of Mottram-in-Longderdale, in recognition of his completion of 50 years' service as a ringer at St. Michael's Parish Church. The gift was a gold watch and guard, and was handed to him at a parochial gathering, which began with a potato pie supper and resolved itself into a concert and dance, the proceeds of which went to the ringers' fund.

Mr. J. Heap, who has been ringing under Mr. Sidebotham for about 20 years, described Mr. Sidebotham as one of the finest ringers in the world. The ringers appreciated all that Mr. Sidebotham had done for them, and they hoped he would ring for a long time yet; they could not afford to lose ringers like Mr. Sidebotham.

Mr. Sidebotham, he said, walked to and fro from Broadbottom twice each Sunday, and Mr. Heap estimated that he walked five miles. 'And,' he added, 'he is never late.'

Mr. Percy Birch, churchwarden, said Mottram had been very fortunate in its bells; they had some very good friends who had never hesitated to come forward and put the bells in sound condition. If anything had gone wrong, they had no need to ask twice for assistance.

Referring directly to ringers, Mr. Birch described them as modest people and said Mr. Sidebotham had always been very helpful.

'If you want to know anything about the bells, he will tell you,' said Mr. Birch. 'His heart and soul are in Mottram bells, and it is fitting that, after all these years, we should make him some recognition of the splendid services he has given in good report and ill report, year in, year out, and I am happy to take a part in this historic occasion in the annals of our church.'

Paying his tribute to Mr. Sidebotham, Canon Power said he was not modern; he despised motor-cars and buses. He added that he could set his clock by Mr. Sidebotham passing along Broadbottom Road, every Sunday morning and evening, on his way to the church. Canon Power declared that Mottram's bells were the sweetest he had heard. They all hoped, he said, Mr. Sidebotham, who had a wonderful interest and a wonderful knowledge of the bells, would be spared many years to carry on his good work. Their gift, said the Canon, was a token of the affection and esteem in which Mr. Sidebotham was held by all associated with the Mottram church.

'For he's a jolly good fellow,' was lustily sung, and three cheers were given for Mr. Sidebotham.

The inscription on the watch read: 'Presented to Isaac Sidebotham by past and present members of Mottram Parish Church to commemorate 50 years as a ringer, 1888-1938.'

Mr. Sidebotham was much affected by the occasion, and found difficulty in expressing his thanks. He gave a brief history of the bells and showed that, with a little addition to the metal, the bells had been there for nearly 400 years.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

SUGGESTED BELFRY REPAIRS FUND.

The Western Division of the Yorkshire Association held a very successful meeting at Calverley on Saturday, December 10th, when upwards of sixty members attended. The bells were raised in peal early in the afternoon, and, excepting for brief intervals for the service and tea, were kept moving in a variety of methods.

A well-attended service was held, at which the Vicar (the Rev. J. Calderbank) gave a most interesting and helpful address, in the course of which he reminded his hearers of the importance of the work which they were doing for the Church, and hoped that they would carry out their calling to the fullest degree by attending the services whenever possible. He assured them that their presence was all the more appreciated when it was remembered that they had many a time to carry out their duties almost an hour previous to the service.

A sumptuous tea was provided by the local company in the schools, and although the ringers did 'full justice,' only a slight impression could be made on the well-laden tables.

At the business meeting which followed, the vice-president (Mr. P. J. Johnson) was in the chair, supported by the association's president (Canon Marshall, M.A.). One new member, Mr. Frank Midgley, of Keighley, was elected.

The Chairman briefly outlined a suggestion which had been brought forward by a member of the association concerning the forming of a Bell Repairs Fund by means of taking collections at all meetings of the association.

Several members expressed their views briefly, but as it was evident that no concrete proposals were forthcoming, the chairman decided that it would be advisable to discuss this at greater length at the next meeting, when everyone had had time to think more about it.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for kindly granting the use of the bells was proposed by Mr. J. W. T. Holgate, and seconded by Canon Marshall, who spoke appreciatively of the services rendered. He thanked the Vicar for his very helpful address during the service, and also spoke very enviously of a remarkable font cover which he had noticed in the church.—The Chairman, in putting this vote to the meeting, coupled with it thanks to the organist who so kindly officiated during the service.

The Rev. J. Calderbank, in replying, expressed his pleasure at being able to welcome the association to Calverley, and hoped that he would be able to do the same again on future occasions. He greatly appreciated the services which ringers were doing for the Church, and he hoped that when the association came to Calverley again it would be in the summer time, when they would be able to enjoy the beauty of the district and the gardens, etc.

A vote of thanks to the local company for their splendid arrangements was moved by Mr. J. Benten, seconded by Mr. F. G. Sherwood, and, in putting this to the meeting, the chairman spoke of the hearty welcome which was always found. He mentioned a few humorous incidents connected with his early visits, and commented on the state of the belfry steps, which are now becoming quite notorious.

Mr. Pratt, in replying for the local company, thought that the meetings at the present day were not attended so well as in the past, in spite of the greatly improved travelling facilities. He urged all ringers to get about to the various meetings and make a host of friends as he had done.

As no new invitation for the next quarterly meeting had been received, the chairman mentioned that it was proposed to hold this at Elland as a joint meeting with the Huddersfield and District Association.

The motion was carried and the date provisionally fixed for March 11th. This meeting will be the annual divisional meeting, when election of various officers is confirmed. Members are, therefore, asked to keep this date in mind and look out for the circulars which will be issued early in February.

A vote of thanks to the chairman was proposed by Mr. Holgate, seconded by Mr. Dixon, and Mr. Johnson, in replying, expressed his pleasure at being able to officiate, even though they sometimes did not see eve to eve together.

This concluded the business and numerous touches were rung on the handbells, whilst the tower bells were also enjoyed until a late hour. A noticeable feature was the number of older ringers present—young men of 70 or so were quite common, and the evergreen Bradford veteran was there, as usual, looking as fit as ever.

The towers represented were as follows: Armley, Batley, Birstall, Bolton (Bradford), Bradford Cathedral, Bramley, Calverley, Denholme, Guiselev Halifax (All Son's), Haworth, Headingley (St. Chad's and St. Michael's), Huddersfield, Idle, Keighley, Pudsey, Rothwell and Silsden.

THE GREAT NESS 'STRIKE'

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION'S ACTION.

The Shropshire Association visited Worthen on December 10th. This is an outpost, geographically, but the satisfactory attendance of 25 resulted. It was essentially a practice for six-bell ringers, and Grandsire Doubles, Stedman and Bob Minor were the order of the day.

A report upon the position at Great Ness was received, and authority given to the committee to arrange a meeting with the Great Ness band, with a view to composing differences and starting the ringing once again.

FIFTY YEARS OF PEAL RINGING.

MR. R. G. KNOWLES' RECORD.

West Worcestershire's G.O.M., Mr. Robert G. Knowles, of Madresfield, Malvern, has just celebrated the 50th anniversary of his first peal by taking part in a seven-method peal of Minor at the Church of St. Mary, Hanley Castle (recorded elsewhere), on December 8th. It was at this same church, on December 8th, 1888, that Mr. Knowles' first peal was rung, Grandsire Doubles with extremes, which he conducted, and was the first peal on the bells and by all the band. During the next ten years he rang only six peals, and some of the difficulties which had to be overcome in those days may be realised from the fact that he had no means of getting to towers with bells higher than six except by walking to Worcester ten miles away, and this he sometimes did.

When he returned to his native village of Madresfield, in 1899, better opportunities occurred for ringing, for in the next year a new peal of eight was installed at Malvern Link and a progressive band formed. By this time he had also learned to ride a bicycle, though in those days, what with solid tyres and bad roads, cycling was not so easy as it is to-day.

On December 8th, 1913, the 25th anniversary of his first peal, 'Bob' called a peal of Minor in seven methods at St. Mary's, Hanley Castle, it being his 50th peal. Thus it had taken him 25 years to ring 50 peals. Then came the war years, during which time he rang only five peals.

It was after the Great War that he got into his stride, and his peals began to mount. There were several factors contributing to this, among them being the advent of buses to almost anywhere, and the rise of some of the younger generation, notably Messrs. Charles Camm and Sidney T. Holt. First, under the conductorship of the former, and later Mr. Holt, his total of peals in one decade amounted to 148, while to-day it stands at 333, of which he has conducted 38. He has rung peals from Doubles to Cinques and Minor to Maximus, as well as most of the standard Surprise Major methods. A glance through his records reveals many interesting and unique features.

It has not, however, been 'Bob's' ambition to pile up a large total of peals. He has always valued most highly the social side of the art and has made many friends over a wide area. He has ably served the Worcestershire Association in a number of ways, first as Western Branch secretary for 15 years and later as its representative to the Central Council for nine years. From 1928 to 1932 he was Master of the association, and his services have been recognised by his being elected a freeman and vice-president, while he has been retained on the Central Committee.

Mr. Knowles, who is 72 years of age, retired from work some two years ago and still retains much of his vigour and good health. Though peal ringing has of late been quiet in West Worcestershire, 'Bob' still gives a hand in helping others, dividing his time between the towers of Madresfield, Malvern Link and Upton-on-Severn, while every fortnight he goes to Worcester to attend the All Saints' practice.

If advancing age slows down 'Bob's' activities in the future, the wisdom of the years will still be available to those of the younger generation who have contact with him. One could not, perhaps, describe Mr. Robert G. Knowles better than 'Grand old man; guide, philosopher and friend.'

A CHURCH CENTENARY.

BELL LEGACY IN CHANCERY.

The ringers of Holy Trinity Church, Darlington, marked the centenary of the consecration of the church by ringing two peals of Surprise Minor. The church was consecrated on December 6th, 1838, and old prints depict it standing in the fields, in a quiet country lane with a stream flowing leisurely by. Holy Trinity Church is now situated in a residential area on the main road leading from the town to the north-west, and the vast difference between modern conditions and those shown on prints of former years can well be imagined. Although the history of Darlington can be traced back for several centuries, Holy Trinity is the second oldest church in the town, the Parish Church of St. Cuthbert, dating from the twelfth century, being the oldest.

The church possesses a ring of six bells, with a 7½ cwt. tenor, which were cast by Messrs. John Warner and Sons in 1891, and ever since their installation have been rung regularly, with the exception of the war years. A legacy was bequeathed to the church to provide a ring of bells, but there was considerable opposition by influential people living in the neighbourhood, and eventually the money got into Chancery. A number of years elapsed before a movement was again started to obtain a ring of bells, but it was then found that only half the money was available, and instead of a ring of eight with a 12 cwt. tenor, which would have been possible had the legacy been intact, the church had to be content with the present ring of six. It is hoped, however, that in due course a ring of eight may be an accomplished fact.

Mr. G. W. Park is the only original member now taking an active part in ringing, and for well over 30 years has been captain of the belfry. Since the earliest days Surprise methods have been practised and rung regularly for service, and it is in no small measure due to the efforts of Mr. Park that Holy Trinity has, for a good many years now, been one of the leading towers in the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association.

RINGERS' EXTRAORDINARY RECORDS.

An extraordinary record has been made by three ringers at Heptonstall, Yorkshire, who between them have an aggregate of 174 years' service in the tower. Mr. J. Robertshaw has completed 63 years, Mr. T. Robertshaw 61 years and Mr. F. Robertshaw 50 years. On December 10th a peal of Superlative Surprise Major was rung at Heptonstall to commemorate their long service.

Mr. James Harvey, one of the ringers, rang his first peal of Superlative and his first peal for 18 years.

The peal of Stedman Triples rung at Penarth on December 10th was arranged in honour of Mr. David Thomas, who has been a ringer in this tower for 65 years and a chorister in the church for nearly 70 years. Mr. Thomas is now 79 years of age and still rings for Sunday services.

The peal was also rung as a compliment to Mr. John W. Jones, who has just celebrated his 73rd birthday, and as a birthday compliment to Mr. Bert Weaver, one of the local ringers, who kindly gave up his rope to a visitor.

The eight bells at Sandbach, Cheshire, have recently been rehung by Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., and on December 10th the first peal was rung on them since the rededication.

At Tideswell Church, in Derbyshire, known as the 'Cathedral of the Peak,' the first peal in a Surprise method on the bells was rung on December 10th, when the Yorkshire Association and the Sheffield District Society shared the honours of a peal of Superlative Surprise Major.

A 'BOGEY' LAID.

Hartlebury had been a 'bogey' tower to two of the ringers in a peal rung there on December 11th. During the past five years the conductor (Mr. G. E. Large) and tenor man (Mr. F. G. Yates) have been in seven abortive attempts. On Sunday, December 11th (the eighth attempt), the 'bogey' was laid and a peal of Oxford Bob Triples accomplished. It was a near thing, however, as the two ringers mentioned missed their bus and walked four miles before getting a lift in a private car. (N.B.: Can one get 'pinched' for begging a lift?) Some useful work was done in this peal, which included a 'first' on eight, a 'first' of Triples 'inside' and a 'first' in the method. Hartlebury bells are a grand peal, but their 'go' leaves much to be desired.

At Leiston, Suffolk, at one time famous for the wonderful peal ringing performances of the Bailey brothers, who had a family Surprise band, and then some left over, Holt's Original was rung on December 10th. The same composition was rung on these bells nearly 50 years ago. It was called there by Mr. Gabriel Lindoff on January 5th, 1889.

Four plain methods were spliced into a peal at Marsham, Norfolk, on December 11th, the first time that four Major methods have been rung in a peal by the Norwich Diocesan Association and by all the band. The peal was composed and conducted by Mr. Nolan Golden, and Mr. George Sayer had never before rung a touch in three of the methods—Double Bob, Hereford and Double Oxford.

Five of the same band, on December 8th, rang the first peal in 18 Minor methods by the association.

Another who rang three methods in a peal without having previously tried them is Mr. Joe Hobbs, who took part in a peal in seven Minor methods at Apsley End, Herts, on December 5th. The tenor was rung by Mr. W. J. Randall, who is the first to 'circle' this tower.

When Mr. Frank Luffin, of Prittlewell, Essex, called a peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal at Hertford on December 10th, he rang his 50th peal and his 25th as conductor.

A band of Cheshire and Lancashire men rang their first peal of Little Bob Major at Brookfield Church, Gorton, Manchester, on December 10th, for the 235th anniversary of the Old Gorton Chapel. The composition, arranged by the conductor, Mr. C. Kenneth Lewis, contains the 4th, 5th and 6th their extent in 6th's place.

Mr. Syd. Riddell, whose heart and soul is in his beloved bells at Yateley, Hants, has recently had one of the happiest moments of his life; that was when, on December 1st, he heard 'this is all' at the end of a peal of Stedman Triples rung by a band, all of whom he had taught to ring. It was also called by one of his pupils, and the band included Mr. Cyril Bunch, one of Bisley's finest rifle shots, who this year won the Grand Aggregate prize.

Yateley has a wooden tower, said, we believe, to have been built of old ship's timbers. Time was when the structure permitted the frame to 'walk about,' but Mr. Riddell, with his own hands, braced and cross-braced the tower with iron plates, so that to-day it stands rigid.

By a happy coincidence the peal, as it was afterwards discovered, was rung 50 years to the very day on which Mr. Riddell started ringing in Yateley belfry.

A half-muffled peal of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung at Hawkhurst, Kent, on December 3rd, in memory of Canon F. J. O. Helmore, former hon. secretary of the Kent County Association, and the late Mr. L. B. Porter, Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths.

Our note recently about the 'William' peal at Debenham was not quite accurate. It was the first name peal by the four Suffolk men, but the others had already rung a William peal at North Lopham.

Miss Grace Alloway, whose age is only 16, scored her first peal on December 10th, when she rang the treble to Grandsire Triples at Great Stanmore, Middlesex. In this peal also, Edward Leversuch rang his first as conductor.

The handbell peal of Bob Royal at Brasted on December 10th was rung by five members of a band who met for a tower-bell peal to be rung for the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Budgen. Owing to a death in the village a tower-bell peal was not possible. The band were afterwards entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Budgen. F. W. Budgen has now rung peals of Plain Bob 'in hand' from Minor to Maximus.

Mr. Ernest Lock, who has been a ringer at Heathfield, Taunton, Somerset, for 40 years, having started there when the bells were rehung in 1898, rang his first peal on December 10th, when the second peal on the bells was rung, the first having been soon after the bells were restored. We understand, however, it was never recorded.

The bells of St. Catherine's Church, Pontypidd, were opened in the year 1913, and a peal of Grandsire Triples to celebrate their silver jubilee was rung on December 13th.

MR. AND MRS. ALBERT WALKER'S 40th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

The celebration of the 40th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Walker, of Birmingham, has been a 'spread over.' It began with a peal of Stedman Cinques rung at Bow Church, Cheap-side, London, on December 10th, became a family affair on the 12th, concentrated at Baker Street, Sparkhill, with a peal of Stedman Cinques on handbells on Friday, and was to have been completed in the Bull Ring on Tuesday with another peal of Stedman Cinques.

As to the success of the latter we do not know, but the peal at Bow and the peal on handbells are recorded in this issue. At the festivities after the peals the ringers enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Walker, to whom cordial congratulations were extended.

The peal at Hallow, Worcestershire, on December 10th, was arranged as a birthday compliment to Mr. George Colley and to mark his retirement, at the age of 65, from service as engine driver on the L.M. and S. Railway. Mr. Colley is a member of the Worcester Cathedral band.

A birthday peal for the Rector's warden at Tilehurst, Berks (Alderman T. Mason), was rung on December 10th, when the local band scored a peal of Grandsire Triples.

The first peal on the bells at Ashover, Derbyshire, since they were rehung in 1937 was rung on December 10th. The members of the Midland Counties Association, who rang the peal, which was Bob Major, were also members of the Peak District Society, and Mr. A. W. H. Bowler called a peal for the first time and at the first attempt.

FIRST PEAL BEFORE HIS THIRD BIRTHDAY!

The peal of Stedman Caters at St. Magnus', Thames Street, London, on December 17th, was rung on the 35th anniversary of Mr. Maurice Hibbert's first peal. Mr. Hibbert's first peal was rung before he celebrated his third birthday! His birthday falls on February 29th and in the year 1900 leap year did not occur. Surely no other ringer can claim to have rung a peal before his third birthday?

It is not often that the composer of a peal and the conductor (when they are different individuals) celebrate their birthday together, but Mr. John Burford, as the former, and Mr. Alfred Reeves, as the latter, did so in a peal of Stedman Caters at St. Stephen's, Bristol, on December 17th.

A peal of Newbury Surprise Major, to replace the false one rung on July 14th at the same church, was rung on December 15th at Bushey, Herts, by the same band. The peal was rung for Mr. F. A. Smith's 74th birthday, and was the one hundredth which Messrs. Harold Cashmore and Maurice Hibbert have rung together.

The first peal on the bells at Shotwick, which were recently augmented, was rung on December 6th, and was the first peal in seven Treble Bob methods by the Chester Branch of the Diocesan Guild. The peal was a compliment to Mr. W. Thomas, one of the oldest ringing members of the Guild.

A peal of Grandsire Caters at Great Yarmouth, on December 10th, celebrated the 70th birthday of Mr. William J. Lee, chairman of the East Norfolk Branch of the Norwich Diocesan Association. It was also a birthday peal for his daughter. Mr. Lee took part in the peal and afterwards the ringers enjoyed his kind hospitality.

A handbell peal of Bob Major was rung at Rotherham, Yorks, on December 15th. It was called by Mr. Albert Nash, of Rotherham, and Mr. S. F. Palmer, of Sheffield, rang the tenors. The last handbell peal these two rang together was at Gainsborough, Lincs, in October, 1909.

The second anniversary of the dedication of the ring of twelve bells at Croydon Parish Church was commemorated on December 17th with a peal of Stedman Cinques.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of Swindon Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was held at Christ Church, Swindon, on Saturday, December 10th, with a good attendance of members and visitors. A short service was conducted by the Vicar (Canon J. Gilbert).

At the business meeting all the officers of the branch were re-elected, and a 'whip round' in aid of Brondbys (Breconshire) Bell Fund realised 7s.

Places of next meetings were provisionally fixed as Stratton St. Margaret, Blunsdon and Rodbourne Cheney.

Good use was made of the bells during the afternoon and evening, the ringing ranging from Grandsire Triples to Kent Treble Bob Royal. Local towers were well represented, with visitors from Aldbourne, Cirencester, Melksham, Oxford, Maisey Hampton, Sunderland, Calne, Wootton Bassett, etc.

THE WEIGHTS OF TENORS.

SOME INTERESTING COMPARISONS.

To the Editor.

Sir.—The matter about which Mr. Tony Price writes to your columns is but another of those interesting sides to our art, and one to which, like Mr. Price, I have given a fair amount of study. Mr. Price is certainly correct in saying that if the diameter of a bell is increased, but not the thickness, it will sound a lower note (as happens in the case of tuning); but when he speaks of 50 cwt. being required for B bells, this does not always follow. Thus it will be seen that one cannot always judge the weight by the key or pitch of the bell. To ascertain the weight, the two principal guides are the diameter and the quality of note. If a bell has a dull note, it is usually a thick bell and fairly heavy for the key in which it is pitched. But if a bell sounds a bright note and the over tones are easily heard, it can generally be taken for granted that it is normal or light according to the key. For instance, if I remember rightly, the note of the new tenor at Winchester Cathedral was stated in 'The Ringing World' after the dedication to be in key B, the same as Southwark and Bow. Yet there is nearly a ton difference in the weights—Winchester being 35 cwt., Southwark 50 cwt. and Bow 54 cwt. 12 lb.

Here are a few more examples, which might interest Mr. Price, which go to prove that the key cannot always be a guide to the weight. Tenor bells in key E flat: King's Norton, Leicestershire, 21 cwt. (8 bells); All Saints', Northampton, 23 cwt. (8 bells); St. Saviour's, Leicester, 25½ cwt. (8 bells, tenor measures 4ft. 3in.). Against this we come to Claybrook, Leicestershire, 13 cwt. 3 qr. 7 lb. (8 bells, tenor E flat measures 3ft. 10in.). Many might think this a 'tinny' bell, but, having rung three peals there, I can testify, as can anyone else who has heard them, that they are one of the finest octaves in the country. Wootton, Northants, where there are five bells, also has a tenor 13½ cwt. in E flat, measuring 3ft. 10in. diameter. Bells in key F sharp: St. Sepulchre's, Northampton (8, tenor 14 cwt. 3 qr. 7 lb.); Hazelbeech, Northants (8, tenor 15 cwt. 12 lb.); Empingham, Rutland (6, tenor 15 cwt. 2 qr. 9 lb.); Burton Latimer, Northants (8, tenor 10½ cwt.); Sharnbrook, Beds (6, tenor 9½ cwt.). Bells in key G: Belton, Rutland (6, tenor 10 cwt. 24 lb.); Isham, Northants (6, tenor 9½ cwt.); Mears Ashby, Northants (6, tenor 11 cwt. 3 qr. 2 lb.); Whaddon, Bucks (6, tenor 14½ cwt.); Hitcham, Bucks (6, tenor 6 cwt. 11 lb.). Another comparison is the treble of St. Sepulchre's, Northampton, and the sixth at the Foundry Campanile, Loughborough. Both of these are the same note, yet one is 3 cwt. 3 qr. 17 lb., and the other 2 cwt. 1 qr. 5 lb.

All of these with the exception of Hitcham (which is always reported in the peal columns as stated) I have inspected personally, as well as had verified to me by the various founders.

Another weight which I would like to correct is the tenor at Oakham. There is an impression among ringers that this bell is 28 cwt.—she is nothing of the sort. I have a letter in my possession from the founders, written two years ago, determining the weight of the present tenor as 22 cwt. 3 qr. 8 lb.

Village bells are notorious for 'growing' in weight and for nearly always weighing '19 cwt.' Why 19 seems a favourite figure I can never understand! Here are three more interesting stories. Several years ago, Piddington, Northants, tenor was stated by local men to me to be 19 cwt. This bell was in key G. Several days after its weight was verified to me by the founders as 11 cwt. 1 qr. 6 lb. It has since been reduced by tuning to 10 cwt. 3 qr. 8 lb. At Arthingworth, Northants, an aged ringer, who, according to his story, 'helped get the bells up in the tower in 1878,' swore that the weight of the tenor was 19 cwt. This, too, is a G bell, and its weight verified to me by the founders is 11 cwt. 3 qr. 24 lb. At Brafield, Northants, local tradition always had it that the tenor was 17 cwt. Three years ago I measured it and informed one of the ringers that judging from the class of note, the thickness and the diameter, it could not possibly weigh more than 13 cwt. It has since turned out to be only just over 12 cwt., the bells having been rehung. Another comparison is St. Peter's, Northampton, and St. Edmund's, Northampton. Both these tenors are in F. St. Peter's is 12½ cwt. and St. Edmund's 18 cwt. Northampton. P. AMOS.

BRAY TENOR.

Dear Sir.—Mr. F. J. Russell wishes me to apologise on his behalf regarding the key of the tenor at Bray, which he passed on as B. Below is a copy of weights and key supplied by Messrs. Warner in 1914 when the Bray bells were at the foundry:—

- Treble.—B. 7 cwt. 1 qr. 15 lb. Date 1678.
 2nd.—A. 8 cwt. 1 qr. 20 lb. 1612.
 4th.—F sharp. 13 cwt. 2 qr. 14 lb. Recast 1914.
 5th.—E. 16 cwt. 2 qr. 6 lb. 1777.
 Tenor.—D. 26 cwt. 3 qr. 8 lb. 1656.

I am very grateful to Mr. Price for technical description, for I could hardly believe that Bray tenor was actually in B. All the same, I should like to know if I am right in stating that the tenor of the old ring at St. John's, Croydon, was 31 cwt. 21 lb. in E flat, for if such was the case it might in some way account for the difference in 'measure' and 'foundry' weight of Bray tenor.

THE WEIGHT OF BRAY TENOR.

Regarding the ingenious 'silencer' that was used, Mr. Price himself agrees that the bell is a fine tenor and a good peal was just wasted, and I am of the same opinion. As a member of the Central Council, I should not like to see more peals wasted, and I only hope that Mr. Sharpe will soon let us say what we like about his device, for I still have some 'misgiving' about using them for peals. In a locality where practice is practically forbidden, they would be the very thing. Bray was a fine test and the 'silencer' came through 'smiling.'

The reason for my 'misgiving' must remain (at the present) like the silencer, a secret shared by a very few. If my reason is stated, it would at once give the whole idea away (which idea, I believe, has not before been tried out). The peal at Bray was a fine performance, in which a Central Council member rang the tenor.

Once again, through the medium of 'The Ringing World,' I wish all my ringing friends 'A Merry Christmas and a Prosperous New Year.'—A. B. PECK, Hon. Secretary, Ancient Society of College Youths.

DEVON GUILD.

BRANCH MEETING AT TOPSHAM.

The annual meeting of the Aylesbeare Deanery Branch of the Devonshire Guild was held at Topsham, near Exeter, on Saturday week, with an attendance of about 40 members, including members from adjacent branches. A service in St. Margaret's Church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. W. Guy Halliday), included an address by the Rev. J. D. F. Woodhouse, Rector of Clyst St. George. After tea in the Salutation Hotel Assembly Room, the Rev. E. C. Grimaldi presided over the business meeting.

The secretary (Mr. R. Brook) reported that four branch meetings had been held during the year, with an average attendance of 40 members, and the total membership of the branch was now 102, practically the same as in 1938.

The financial statement showed a balance in hand of £10 17s.

The chairman (the Rev. E. C. Grimaldi) and secretary (Mr. R. Brook) were re-elected, as also were the three representatives on the General Committee and the Ringing Master, Mr. J. Brealy.

Five new members of Colaton Raleigh band were elected, and it was decided to hold the next meeting on February 4th, 1939, at Whimble. A collection taken at the meeting in aid of the Bells Restoration Fund amounted to 10s. 1d.

A comprehensive vote of thanks, moved by the chairman, to the Vicar of Topsham, the Rev. J. D. F. Woodhouse, the organist and choir, and lady helpers in providing the tea, was carried with acclamation.

by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

THE NEW LEAF.

To-morrow night the bells in most of the towers and steeples of England will be bidding farewell to the old year and ushering in the new. The old year has been one which, in our national life, has been full of great anxieties; what everyone will pray for is that the coming year may be one of peace. The outlook is far from propitious, but we all must earnestly hope that the bells will herald a year that will be happier than the one now closing; that they will indeed 'Ring out the thousand wars of old, Ring in the thousand years of peace.' New year is a time for 'turning over a new leaf.' We could wish that governments as well as individuals could be persuaded to turn over a leaf which will open a page of peace in all the world.

But while, as ringers, we can do nothing to turn the page of history, there are other directions in which it may be possible for us to 'turn over a new leaf.' There is still in places and among individuals a prevalence of apathy and indifference which is hindering progress. These faults seem inherent among a certain class of ringers, who fail to take seriously their obligations, either to the Church, their colleagues or their association, if they have one. Unfortunately, these men can mar a band. Generally, they are of the type who imagine that their presence in the belfry confers a favour on the rest, instead of realising what they owe to the other members of the company. Irregularity and unpunctuality on the part of even one member may make service ringing but a half-hearted and unworthy affair, or ruin a practice. Attempts at persuasion seldom have much effect; it is only a personal realisation of their shortcomings that can change the habits of ringers of this type. We hope that with the new year they will turn over a new leaf.

There can be indifference and apathy, too, in other directions. The omission to maintain the strength of a band, so that in the end it is impossible to ring all the bells for service, is a frequent failing, and one that is sometimes to be found among companies who think themselves well off in personnel. They may be too engrossed with their own immediate success, or too lazy to train new hands against the time when vacancies may come, as sooner or later they inevitably will, and often unexpectedly sooner than later. From whatever cause, the constant reports of bands which are deficient in numbers are discouraging, and there is little compensation that elsewhere a company may be above strength. In every case where there is a shortage of ringers, the cause of change ringing suffers, the service of the church suffers and, very frequently, the reputation of the ringers suffers among the parishioners. It is a setback to every association when a tower lowers its standard of efficiency, and with the coming of the new year it is not out of place to suggest that in the many quarters where bands are below full strength those who are left should 'turn over a new leaf' and bring in new blood.

These are two of the most important directions in which individual ringers can make a new start in the new year, but there are other ways where they can, if they be honest with themselves, find ways in which they may do something more for the art they profess to love—a more active support to their association, a more prompt payment of subscriptions, a more willing hand in helping others. Every one of us, indeed, can, if we look, find some direction in which we fail to come up to the best which is demanded of us. Let us take the opportunity, now, of turning over a new leaf.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.
TOWERS FAIL TO HAVE REGULAR PRACTICES.

The Eastern District of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association held a meeting at Sunderland on Saturday week. There was only a fair attendance. Ringing took place in the afternoon at Bishopwearmouth Church.

Tea was served in St. Ignatius' Institute, and afterwards a short meeting was held, Mr. R. L. Patterson being in the chair, supported by the Vicar.

After the loyal toast was honoured, the Chairman said he regretted there were so few members present, and particularly as it was the new Vicar's first meeting with ringers, but he (the Vicar) would see that though they were that day lacking in numbers, the enthusiasm was still there.

The Chairman welcomed the president, Mr. M. D. Oubridge, and said it was a great pleasure to see him there, as it had been such a rare occurrence for a president to be present at the Eastern meetings in the last few years.

Mr. J. A. Brown moved a vote of thanks to the clergy for use of the bells, and the Vicar of St. Ignatius', replying for both churches, said he was very pleased to be with the ringers. He certainly appreciated all that they did for the church.

The President moved a vote of thanks to the ladies for providing the tea and went on to say he had visited some belfries lately and found they were not having regular practices. He said it was detrimental to Sunday ringing and that it was not doing justice to the Exercise. He hoped that every belfry possible would keep their practice nights going.

It was proposed that the next district meeting be held at Jarrow on Saturday, January 28th.

After the meeting, further ringing took place at St. Ignatius', the methods rung being Bob Major, Grandsire, Stedman Triples and Double Norwich. Although so few attended, it was agreed that the meeting had been a very happy one.

INCUMBENT'S INDUCTION.

At St. Saviour's Church, Oxtou, Birkenhead, on December 17th, previous to the induction of the Rev. J. L. Crawley, M.A., to the benefice, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (from the Clavies): Miss D. Battle (first quarter-peal in the method) 1, W. J. Battle 2, W. O. Wharton 3, S. Mostin 4, H. S. Brocklebank 5, J. W. Evans 6, H. Martin (conductor) 7, F. Thomas 8. The ringers of the treble and second belong to Lower Bebington, the rest to the Oxtou band.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.*ENCOURAGEMENT AND HELP FOR BUDDING COMPOSERS.

The quarterly meeting of the Southern District of the Yorkshire Association was held at All Saints', Arksey, on Saturday, December 17th. About 30 members attended, the following towers being represented: Sheffield Cathedral and St. Marie's, Rawmarsh, Eastwood, Felkirk, Wortley, Wath, Doncaster, Selby, Conisborough, Sprotborough, Whitley Bay, Handsworth and the local company.

Some good ringing in various plain and Surprise methods was indulged in during the afternoon and evening on the light and easy going peal of eight bells.

A sumptuous tea was served in the Church Hall by local ladies, everyone thoroughly enjoying the meal, except the district secretary, who could not forgive himself for having had his top teeth extracted the week previously.

Courses of Bob Royal, Grandsire Caters and Bob Major were rung on handbells after tea by several of those present.

The general meeting followed, at which the chair was taken by the vice-president, Mr. G. Lewis, in the absence of the Vicar, who was prevented from attending owing to other pressing engagements.

Miss Sylvia R. E. Bowyer, of Ipswich, was elected an out-county member of the association.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting of the district at St. Stephen's, Eastwood, on Saturday, March 18th.

Mr. Lewis said that in view of the fact that several young ringers were anxious to learn the rudiments of composing or to be able to prove a peal before conducting it, he would be at anyone's disposal after any district meeting to give advice on these subjects.

Mr. Lewis' abilities as a composer being well known, this offer met with the approval of all present and led to discussions on a few intricate problems relating to composition.

TOWERKEEPER'S 70th BIRTHDAY.

At Eccleston, Cheshire, on December 10th, after an attempt for a peal of Bob Major had failed, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung. The peal was to celebrate the 70th birthday of Mr. S. Jones, sen., towerkeeper at Eccleston, and the 21st birthday of Mr. A. E. Pegler, jun., of Bangor, Caernarvon: F. Jones 1, Sam Jones, jun. (conductor) 2, R. Sperring 3, T. Pugh 4, C. Dryland 5, W. Hopwood 6, A. E. Pegler, sen. 7, H. Thomas 8.

TECHNICAL TERMS.

Dear Sir,—May I, please, be allowed to thank your correspondents whose letters appeared in your issue of December 16th, written in reply to my suggestion that the rules for Grandsire Doubles might be written in ordinary English, with necessary technical words put in brackets or as footnotes? I am sending for copies of the book which Mr. T. J. Fowler recommended.

In reply to Mr. A. Reeves, I would suggest that the word 'follow' be used instead of 'take' or 'hit'; that 'strike' be used instead of 'blow'; that for 'pass' a difference be made in going up and coming down, for in one case the word 'precede' would be more explanatory. Instead of 'making a place,' why not say striking twice in that place? The expression 'coming in' is not in the 'Glossary,' neither is the expression 'hit.' In the 'Glossary' two meanings are given for 'dodge'; those should be carefully and clearly explained, and it should be known, in any case, in which sense the word is used, i.e., whether the bells passing each other three times, or the retrograde movement of the bells. 'Hunt' also has two meanings. I prefer 'last place' (or 6th place) to 'behind.'

If the same amount of ardour were put into explanations and simplifications as is put into issuing instructional commands, I think ringing would, for learners, especially for those who are not quick learners, be a pleasanter and more encouraging experience. It is not, of course, any one technical word which makes learning difficult. It is the prevalence of such expressions. I thank the Rev. Herbert Drake for his letter.

THE KING'S ACCESSION.

At Farnham, Surrey, on December 12th, to celebrate the second anniversary of the accession of H.M. the King, a quarter-peal of Oxford Bob Triples: L. Kenward 1, C. Denyer 2, G. Upshall 3, S. Meadows 4, H. Kemp 5, T. Upshall 6, R. Hasted (conductor) 7, A. E. King 8. This was the first touch in the method by ringers of 1 and 2 and the longest length by ringers of 4, 5 and 7. On Wednesday, December 14th, in commemoration of the 43rd birthday of His Majesty, a quarter-peal of Bob Major (1,264 changes): F. Hammett 1, A. Hardiman 2, G. Upshall 3, J. Read 4, H. Kemp 5, S. Meadows 6, R. Hasted (conductor) 7, T. Upshall 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

There can be few societies that can claim the record made by St. Martin's Society, Leicester, as revealed in this week's article on leading conductors. On the Coronation Day of King Edward VII. they rang a peal of Grandsire Caters, on the Coronation Day of King George V. a peal of Stedman Caters, and on the Coronation Day of King George VI. a peal of Stedman Cinques.

The peals were rung entirely by St. Martin's ringers, and all of them in St. Martin's tower, and they were conducted by the Ringing Masters of the time, George Cleal, Fred Dexter and Harold Poole respectively.

Three of the present members of the society rang in all three peals, Samuel Cotton, Fred Dexter and Thomas Taylor. Mr. Taylor is now 80 years young and can and does still raise the tenor. On the recent visit of a band from various parts of the country, Mr. Taylor was found in the tower on their arrival and he had raised nearly all the twelve bells in readiness for them.

Two convalescents are, we are glad to say, progressing. Mr. A. F. Martin Stewart, of Ferndown, Dorset, is making a good recovery from his illness, and Mr. Ernest Brett, of London, has left hospital after his recent serious operation. Unfortunately, Mr. James George, of Birmingham, is still in hospital and not making the rapid improvement his friends would wish.

The bad weather last week prevented the Rev. E. Bankes James from suitably celebrating the golden jubilee of his first peal, which he rang at Stroud, Gloucestershire, on December 22nd, 1888. There was to have been a peal in honour of the anniversary at North Stoneham, Hants, in which among others Mr. William Fussell, who rang in Mr. James' first peal, was to have rung, but the snow prevented the band from meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wilson, of Hobart, brother and sister-in-law of Mr. Ray Wilson, hon. secretary of Holy Trinity Association, have presented a handsome eight-day clock to the belfry of St. David's Cathedral, Hobart. 'A great need has been generously met,' says a parochial note. 'There will be no more frantic rushes up or down stairs to find out whether it is time to start or stop ringing before the service.'

Exactly 50 years ago to-morrow, the then record peal of 15,041 Stedman Caters was rung at Appleton in 9 hours 16 minutes by members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild. The record passed out of their hands later, but in 1922 it returned to Appleton, when the 'longest ever' was rung—a peal of 21,363 changes.

Another notable performance by the Oxford Diocesan Guild rung on the last day of the year was a 12,096 of Double Norwich Major in 1892.

James Barham, one of the greatest peal ringers of a hundred and fifty years ago, rang his one hundredth peal on January 1st, 1793, with a band whose ages totalled 582 years.

Among the Christmas greetings which we received was one to 'The English Ringers,' from St. Paul's Cathedral Society of Change Ringers, Melbourne, Australia, and another from Holy Trinity Association, Hobart, Tasmania.

RINGERS WHO COUNT.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I do not know anything about London ringing and I do not presume to express any opinion on it, but, speaking generally, I think that the only members of any association who should count are those who belong to a local band and ring regularly for Sunday service. The representatives on the Central Council should be calculated on that basis only. I am told that there are some societies which would lose their representation if this plan was adopted, but I do not think that that affects the argument. Those ringers who only go about from tower to tower to ring peals and practise to suit themselves are of no good either to the Church or to other ringers. All they do is to cause the associations a lot of expense to print their peals, which are not of the slightest interest to anybody except themselves.

STANLEY MERCER.

BRAY TENOR.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As one who had an active part in restoring the bells at Bray in December, 1914, and rang the tenor to the first 720 Oxford Treble Bob after restoration, I would like to say that Messrs. Warners, who carried out the contract, told us (the workmen) that the tenor, after tuning, weighed 26 cwt.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—51.

FREDERICK H. DEXTER.

One of the leading spirits in Leicester for many years has been Mr. Frederick H. Dexter. In the belfry he is a martinet, but beneath it all he is one of the most genial of individuals after the touch or peal is over. Woe to the man who blunders or strikes badly when he is ringing, but there is no ringer in or around Leicester more capable of keeping a band together than Mr. Dexter has proved himself to be. Indeed, although there are 'rival' towers in the city, including two with rings of twelve bells, there is no rivalry, unless it is of the most friendly character. The ringers in Leicester are a very happy family, and it is due in no small measure to the spirit that radiates from Mr. Dexter. He has done a great deal to raise the standard of ringing in the district, and many of the capable men in that area owe much of their progress to his help and encouragement.

Born in 1882 at Leicester, Mr. Dexter's first interest in ringing was aroused shortly after his parents went to reside at the Old Town Hall, now the Guildhall, which is immediately adjacent to St. Martin's, in 1892. The spiral staircase was at that time the great attraction to him and other boys, and while at first the ringers invariably chased them down again, ultimately they let the boys sit in the belfry to watch them chiming. There was no ringing in those days except for special services and occasions, neither was there any practice night.

Eventually these youngsters were taught how to chime and ring under the leadership of the late Mr. George Cleal, one time of Tewkesbury. Since then Mr. Dexter's ringing career has, in part, been the history of the St. Martin's Society.

His first peal was at Stanford-on-Soar, Notts, Grandsire Triples, on Jan. 19th, 1901, and was the first peal by the society. Mr. Dexter's first peal as conductor was at Lutterworth on September 19th, 1903, when he called Parker's one-part, and followed it shortly after by calling Holt's Original. Grandsire Caters was rung on the Coronation Day of King Edward VII., Stedman Caters on the centenary of Trafalgar Day. On King George V.'s Coronation Day a peal of Stedman Caters was rung, composed and conducted by Mr. Dexter. These peals were by St. Martin's ringers at St. Martin's.

His first peals of Kent Treble Bob Major and Royal, Stedman Cinques (the first by a Leicester district band and the first in the diocese), the first of Cambridge Surprise Major and Royal, Bristol and London Surprise Major by the St. Martin's Society were all called by him, and in nearly every case it was the ringers' first peals in the method. The Cambridge Royal was the first by the Midland Counties Association and all the band. He also called the first Surprise peal by a band all resident in Leicester—Bristol at St. John-the-Divine's Church. He also called the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus, in which the ringers were all Leicester and district members.

There have been seven different methods in his 49 Surprise Royal peals, all of them rung as St. Martin's Society peals. Mr. Dexter called four of them. He has also rung peals in 18 different Surprise Major methods. He composed and conducted 'Real' Superlative the first time a peal was rung in this method that went into five figures; also 7,008 Cambridge Surprise Major, the then longest length. He rang in a 13,440 of Bob Major and also the 12,896 Cambridge. This was conducted by his pupil, Harold Poole, who by this time was getting into his stride as a conductor.

When St. Martin's, now, of course, the Cathedral, increased its ring from 10 to 12 bells, which were opened on King George VI.'s Coronation Day, Mr. Dexter resigned from the office of Ringing Master in favour of Mr. Poole. The Cathedral band during the day rang a peal of Stedman Cinques, and since then another peal has been rung, so that all the members of the society, numbering 20, should have a peal of it. Cambridge Maximus has followed by a band all service

MR. F. H. DEXTER.

B.B.C. AND BELLS BEFORE SERVICES.

FURTHER REPRESENTATIONS TO BE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT.

Among those who have recently taken up with the B.B.C. the treatment given to ringers who undertake the ringing before Sunday evening broadcast services has been Mr. C. T. Coles, hon. secretary of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild. He drew the attention of the Director of Religion to the cutting down of time of the ringing at both St. Olave's, Hart Street, London, and St. Mary's, Portsea.

In regard to St. Olave's he pointed out that, to ensure the bells being rung in a manner befitting the occasion, a competent band came together, at no little inconvenience to themselves, from places as far apart as Chadwell Heath (Essex), Crayford (Kent), Sutton (Surrey), Lewisham, Ealing, etc., and, after doing their job well, it was a great disappointment to all of them afterwards to hear that for only two minutes were the bells heard on the air. Indeed, many ringing friends, added Mr. Coles, had expressed great indignation on what they consider a slight to the band and to ringing generally.

'I venture to ask you to make a time allowance for notices, etc., in future broadcasts when ringing is to take place, so that a full five minutes is allowed for the bells. I feel sure you will agree that in cases where an expert band has attended, perhaps from places a distance away, it is not an encouragement when their efforts are so little appreciated that the bells are only heard during a spare minute or two. The general public, too, would welcome a little more ringing, provided that it is being done well; this is proved by the popularity of the present-day interval signals and by all broadcasting stations. There are some 40,000 ringers affiliated to the several ringing organisations in the country, and we, therefore, do represent a large proportion of the listening public.'

To this letter the Controller (Public Relations) replied in precisely the terms of his letter to Mr. F. W. Rogers (published in 'The Ringing World' on December 2nd).

Mr. Coles sent another letter in answer to this communication, in which he said he fully appreciated that a very large number of listeners preferred to hear something of the history of the various churches, but he could not agree that bells did not make a very effective broadcast.

'At the dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths on Nov. 5th the Archdeacon of London, referring to the monthly short wave broadcast from St. Paul's Cathedral, spoke appreciatively of the bells, and the Archdeacon quoted from some of them. This coincides with our own experience and there is no reason to suppose that broadcast ringing is listened to with less appreciation by home listeners than by those far away.

'I would, too, point out that in my letter I made no suggestion that descriptive notices should be omitted, but that a time allowance should be made for them. Surely it is not too much to ask that ringers should be given five minutes, and this, I think, could be ensured by advertising the start of the service when bells are to be rung, at 7.50, as used to be done in the Midland Regional programmes.

'I regret troubling you again, but do feel that on the occasion of the St. Olave's, Hart Street, broadcast we were treated as of very little account seeing that we were actually "faded in" a few seconds before 7.57½ p.m. and faded out at 7.59 p.m., so that in the short space of five minutes there were given the announcement of the service, the descriptive notice of the church, the ringing of the bells and a very short organ voluntary.'

The Controller of Public Relations replied as follows: 'We are glad to have a further expression of your opinions, and these will be taken into account in the light of your previous letter and reply.'

'OPEN' MEMORIAL RINGING.

With the bells 'open,' in memory of Mary Horsfield, daughter of Mr. F. Horsfield, the ringer of the sixth, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples (from Holt's Original) was rung for evensong on Sunday, December 11th, at All Saints' Church, West Bromwich: Norman Hadley (first quarter-peal) 1, William D. Peart 2, William Partridge (first quarter-peal 'inside') 3, Herbert Howl 4, Maurice G. Turner 5, Frederick Horsfield 6, Albert Mills (conductor) 7, Albert Kendrick (first quarter-peal) 8. Miss Horsfield died in May, and this quarter-peal was rung on her birthday anniversary.

ringers at the Cathedral. With very few exceptions, Leicester and district ringers owe their first opportunity to call or ring their first peals in the higher methods to Mr. Dexter and to Leicester Cathedral Society in general.

He has gained the title of 'The Sergeant-Major,' but no ringer who has come under his tuition can say he has not benefited from the 'drilling' he has received. Mr. Dexter gets most of his pleasure in teaching the young blood, conducting as opposed to blindly calling bobs and trusting to luck, and in these days is always willing to stand aside if anyone cares to ring in his place, and is ready to call only if others don't want, will not or cannot do so. Altogether he has rung 390 peals and conducted 161.

THE ANTIENT SOCIETY OF ST. STEPHEN'S BRISTOL'S OLD GUILD.

The Myth of a Royal Charter.

In the year 1846 Edward John Osborn paid a visit to the West with the idea of collecting material for the history of ringing, which he intended to write. The visit was a very successful one, for he not only secured the original manuscripts once belonging to the College Youths and the Union Scholars, but he also gathered a lot of information about early ringing in Bristol.

Especially he was interested in the Antient Society of St. Stephen's Ringers, and he took back with him a copy of the rules as printed by the 'Bristol Mirror' in 1822, a broadsheet of the song the members sang at their annual feast—'The Golden Days of Good Queen Bess'—a dinner ticket (with the price £1 1s. marked on it), and as much information as he could learn of the traditions of the society.

The first are among his collections in the British Museum, together with the newspaper reports of annual dinners in several following years. The last he wrote down in his note book now in my possession: Queen Elizabeth arrived at Bristol on Sat. Aug. 14, 1574, & the St. Stephen's Bells were rung on her arrival, for which she promised the ringers a Charter which was afterwards granted by James I. bearing date 17 Novr. 1620. She was reed by John Young, the then Mayor of Bristol, afterwards Sir John Young, he resided at St. Augustine's back Bristol.

This was the tradition which was then believed, and subsequent years have added nothing to our knowledge of the matter.

The story of early ringing is full of pleasant little tales and legends about the old societies. Present-day members sometimes recognise that there may be a good deal of fancy about these tales, but they like to believe them, and they incline to the opinion that so long as they cannot be proved to be false there is no reason why they should not be considered as true.

HOW THE LEGEND GREW.

The historian has to take a different view. He knows how easily these legends grow up and how few will stand any serious testing. He is compelled to reject any which either have no contemporary corroboration or are not inherently probable. How does the St. Stephen's tradition stand this test?

Queen Elizabeth did visit Bristol in 1574. She arrived on August 14th, and during her progress and all the following days there were pageants and speeches and military display and all the pomp and ceremony that the great Queen delighted in.

And we may be quite sure that not only St. Stephen's bells, but all the bells of Bristol were rung. That was a mark of respect which was looked for as a matter of course. The omission would have been noticed and resented.

But Elizabeth was personally interested in the sound of bells. She liked to listen to them, and as she understood the art of making herself popular, it is more than likely that she did admire St. Stephen's bells as she heard them across the water at her lodging, and no doubt she expressed her admiration. But I cannot think it was to the ringers.

When anyone hears and admires bells he seldom gives a thought to the men at the ropes. They are out of sight and so out of mind. They reverse the role of the good child and are heard but never seen. When the Queen admired St. Stephen's bells we may be sure that it was her host, the Mayor, that she congratulated; but since she had passed the compliment it was not at all unnatural that the ringers should afterwards take some of the credit to themselves.

CHARTER COULD GIVE NO RIGHTS.

There is, however, the very circumstantial statement that she promised a Charter. It was the tradition of the society, it has been repeated many times, and is still believed to-day.* But I cannot think it has the slightest amount of probability about it.

The usual thing then and now and all along is that when a man wants to notice the ringers he sends them something to get a drink with. That, they can understand and appreciate. Elizabeth did not throw her money about recklessly, but on this occasion she sent 200 crowns to make a feast for the soldiers who had entertained her. Nothing is said about the ringers. They were few in number and perhaps they managed to get included with the others.

But what good would a Charter have been to them? To grant a Charter was not a way of conferring an honour. It was a royal act which created a legal corporation by which a number of men could, as a body, carry out duties, exercise rights and hold property. But the St. Stephen's ringers had no property to hold, for property meant 'real' property, that is land and its equivalent, and it did not include the few shillings which constituted their 'stock.' And no Charter could give them rights as ringers which they did not already enjoy.

In any case, no Charter was granted by the Queen, and it is impossible to believe that the promise she is supposed to have made was redeemed by her successor. James had spent the greater part of his life in Scotland, where most of the bells had been destroyed, and where there never was, and never has been, any sentiment of ringing as in England. There is not the slightest reason to think that he was in any way interested either in bells or the art.

Yet there is the very precise statement that the King did grant a Charter, that it is dated November 20th, 1620, and that it is still in existence. How did the legend arise?

That is quite easy to see. The society possesses a code of rules. These are set out on a document dated 1693, which is a copy of a document dated 1657, and that in turn was a copy of a document dated 1620. These rules state the constitution of the company and the general regulations under which it existed and worked. English words are often used rather loosely, and there is nothing strange or unusual in this code being called the society's 'Charter.' People remembered the tradition of Elizabeth's kind words and associated it with this code of rules, and there you have the explanation of the legend of the promise and the granting of a Charter.

ANCIENT GUILDS.

Of course, no Charter ever was granted, for there is no record of such a thing among the official patents and documents. We have, therefore, no direct early evidence about the society, except this code of rules, but that does not necessarily mean that we can know no more about it than is supplied by guessing and conjecture. For the society does not stand alone. It was one of dozens of similar bodies, and is unique only in having preserved a continuous corporate existence from the early years of the seventeenth century until the present day.

We must notice one or two legends, modern in their origin and based on conjecture, which are believed and often repeated.

The first is that it is much older than 1620 and was 'even then an ancient institution; the ringers had been probably a pre-Reformation guild for religious, benevolent and social purposes.'** This opinion is backed by the high authority of Toulmin Smith. 'The rules,' he says, 'have every characteristic of those guilds that can be identified as flourishing in the 14th and 15th centuries. Even the amount of the fines, as well as other internal marks, carry back the date to the same time.'

One does not differ lightly from the author of 'English Guilds,' but really the fact that the St. Stephen's rules are reminiscent of fourteenth century guilds proves nothing. The guild system had existed in England from Saxon times, and the communal life of the people was saturated with it. The social and religious guilds were suppressed in 1547 and their property confiscated, but they served as models on which later clubs were founded. It is quite certain that the early ringing societies were formed directly or indirectly on the model of the guilds, but the fact remains that they were new organisations, formed for a very definite purpose. Whoever drew up the rules of the St. Stephen's Society in 1620 could scarcely have had any option in the matter. He was bound to follow the model of the guilds.

Nor is there any reason to suppose that the society was established on a religious basis, or had inherited any particular religious traditions. Everything goes to prove that the ringing societies of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries were purely secular bodies in the same sense that the societies formed for the practice of any other sport were secular. The statement often made that there were guilds of ringers in pre-Reformation times has no foundation in fact or probability,† and in any case since the Reformation ringing had been entirely secularised. John Latimer's statement that the St. Stephen's ringers 'had been probably a pre-Reformation guild for religious, benevolent and social purposes is, of course, incapable of proof or disproof, but it is something like saying, without any evidence, of a modern cricket club that it had probably been a nineteenth century society for converting the heathen.

But these people point to rule 22, which says that 'if any of the said Company shall be so rude as to run into the Belfry before he do kneel down and pray as every Christian ought to do, he shall pay for his first offence sixpence and for the second shall be cast out of the Company.'

Surely there is nothing strange about such a rule in the second decade of the seventeenth century. A secular body is not necessarily an irreligious body, and this rule meant no more than the Grace which was usually said before meals.

A SECULAR BODY.

The Society of St. Stephen's Ringers, then, was a secular body, founded, so far as the evidence goes, in 1620, and was one of many similar societies which were formed in all parts of the country for the purposes of ringing as a sport and incidentally as social clubs. It was not a Church organisation, it owed no allegiance to the Church, and it performed no Church duties. It has been remarked that there are no references to it in the vestry minutes,§ but it would be strange if there were. Ringing for divine service is quite a modern thing and was not used in olden times either before or after the Reformation. There had been ritual ringing during processions on occasions before High Mass, and there was always a lot of ringing on royal birthdays and anniversaries, on civic occasions, and the visits of great people. This was ordered and paid for by the vestry, but it was the clerks who were responsible for the ringing. They received the orders and employed whom they would. The ringers had no recognised position in the church or parochial organisation. Even if the Society of St.

BROADMOOR'S VIEWS ON STEDMAN TRIPLES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—During my holidays I was passing Broadmoor, where, as you know, they keep criminal lunatics, and I happened to pick up a letter which evidently had been thrown over the wall of the prison. It was addressed to 'The Ringing World,' so I send it on, but unfortunately it is incomplete, the beginning and the ending being absent. This is what it says:—

'Mad! I'm not half so mad as they think, and so I'll let these people know when I get a chance. Six inches of a butcher's knife stuck into their bellies would let a little sense into the place where most of them keep it. I told the doddering old fool not to talk rubbish. He would keep on saying that the earth goes round the sun. Use your eyes, man, I said, you can see for yourself that it is the sun that moves. But he would not. So I hit him on the head, hard, with a carpenter's hammer I happened to have handy. That'll teach him not to talk rot.

But that's not what I want to say to you. What I want to say is that I am going to do the same thing to those imbeciles who say you can't get a peal of Stedman Triples with bobs only. Why can't you? There is far too much talk about you can't do this and you can't do that. You can't buy tobacco after eight at night, nor beer after ten. And all that sort of thing. But this is a free country, or was when I was a boy, and it is surprising what you can do if you only try. My answer to those idiots who say you can't get a peal of Stedman Triples with bobs only is—I have done it. When you know the trick it is as easy as telling lies. All you have to do is to call bob at. . .

Here the writing breaks off.—Yours truly,

S. MENDAX.

REV. C. C. COX'S 'CENTURY.'

The Rev. C. Carew Cox, Vicar of Lyme Regis, completed his century the other day. Among his peals has been Holt's Original rung 'silent,' and he has had the unusual experience of spreading his hundred over 20 counties and 71 towers.

BRISTOL'S OLD GUILD.

Stephen's Ringers had been in existence when Elizabeth visited the city, it would have been by no means a matter of course that they should have done the ringing.

How then, if they were a secular body with no official connection with the church, did they get free access to the belfry? It seems at first sight strange and a mystery, but actually it was quite easy and quite a natural thing. All over England, in almost every tower, there was plenty of 'pleasure' ringing done by all sorts of people. Vestries passed rules to regulate and to restrict it within certain bounds, but they never dreamt of trying to stop it. It was no unusual thing in some churches for the bells to be rung almost every night in the week, different companies taking their turns as the opportunity offered itself.

To get admission to the belfry seems to have needed no more formality than to get the keys from the clerk or sexton. It was, of course, necessary to keep on good terms with that official and it was usually done by paying him a fee. Here is the origin of the steeplesage, which is still paid in a few towers.

In the St. Stephen's Company the sexton received an entrance fee from every new member and a proportion of the fines. Whatever rights the parsons may have had of controlling the ringing of the bells were not exercised by them.

This may seem a very loose and indefensible state of affairs, but it existed from the earliest times down, in many places, to living memory.

There is more to be said about the St. Stephen's Society, but it must be left until another time.

TWO MORE SURPRISE MAJOR METHODS.

FRAMSDEN AND NEWBURY.

Two Surprise Major methods recently rung are Framsdén and Newbury. Framsdén is one of Mr. Gabriel Lindoff's productions. Newbury has twice been rung, but the first time the peal proved to be false. This was replaced by a second one rung a fortnight ago.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

JUBILEE CELEBRATION NEXT MARCH.

The Leeds and District Society visited St. Michael's, Headingley, on October 29th. The bells were rung up at 3.15 p.m., and ringing continued in a variety of methods throughout the afternoon and evening.

At the business meeting, with the president in the chair, members were present from Armley, Batley, Birstall, Bradford Cathedral, Burley, Drighlington, Guiseley, Headingley (St. Chad's), Hunslet, Idle, Leeds Parish Church, Pudsey, Ripon, Rothwell, Sherburn, Shipley and the local company.

The sub-committee for the jubilee celebrations presented a report, and the date was fixed as March 25th. Further details will be given next month.

One new member, Mr. Harvey, of Bradford Cathedral, was elected. A vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and the local company was accorded on the motion of Mr. W. Woodhead, seconded by Mr. F. Rayment.—Mr. F. G. Sherwood replied for the local company.

NORTH LINCOLNSHIRE BAND GOING AHEAD.

The North Lincolnshire band, under the talented conductorship of George Feirn, have gone another step forward in their progress towards the record number of methods in a peal of Minor. The record stands at 84, but they are creeping up.

On Saturday week at Bassingham they carried their own total to 53 in a peal that had 138 changes of method. It is noteworthy that this band includes a lady, Mrs. Jack Bray.

A handbell peal in four Doubles methods was rung on December 14th as a birthday compliment to Mr. Alfred Ballard. It was rung in his own home at Burbage, Leicestershire.

A peal of Doubles on the front six at St. Mary's, Nottingham, was the first peal on the bells by a company of regular service ringers at this church. It has been an uphill struggle to maintain a service band, but this peal seems to be a happy augury for the future. The peal was rung on December 17th.

What is believed to have been the first peal of Treble Bob on the bells was rung at Winterton, Norfolk, on December 17th, when seven 720's of Oxford were rung. Messrs. A. G. King and R. W. Barber have now rung Oxford Treble Bob from Minor to Maximus.

TURN OVER A NEW LEAF.

May we ask those responsible for sending in reports of peals to do so immediately after the peals are rung, and not to delay them, as is often done, for a week or even more? It adds to our difficulties, and is unfair to those who make a point of forwarding their reports promptly.

Also, we would request those who send reports of peals to copy the form always used in 'The Ringing World.' It will avoid the omission of essential details and consequent delay in publication.

The birthday of Mr. Joseph W. Cotton, hon. secretary of the Burton District of the Midland Counties Association, was celebrated by a peal of Minor in four methods rung at Ibstock, Leicestershire, on December 15th.

Three fathers and three sons have rung a peal of Doubles at Croft, Leicestershire, and it is noteworthy that in the case of one pair both scored their first peal.

YORKSHIRE SURPRISE FROM MAJOR TO MAXIMUS.

St. Mary-le-Tower Society has added another 'first' to their list by ringing a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Royal at St. Mary-le-Tower Church, Ipswich, on December 17th. It was the first by all the band, on the bells and by the Suffolk Guild. Miss Bowyer and Messrs. Smith, Brown, Sedgley and Pipe, who took part, have now rung Yorkshire Surprise on eight, ten and twelve bells.

The peal was rung after meeting one short for Superlative Surprise Maximus, and it was incidentally, W. J. G. Brown's 250th peal.

The first peal on the bells, a ring of six, at Westonzoyle, Somerset, was rung on December 17th. It consisted of 42 six-scores of Grandsire Doubles.

After the peal of Oxford Bob Triples at Claines on December 17th, the band, with other ringers who have an affinity with Claines tower, adjourned to the Angel Hotel, Worcester, for the annual supper, provided by Mr. E. P. Thomas. It is hardly necessary to add that the Christmas fare was tackled in 'peal-fashion'—the 'starting course' being non-conducted!

Mr. Thomas, whose hospitality many Worcestershire ringers (and visitors) have enjoyed, defrayed the cost of having one bell of the old five at Claines recast and three new bells added to make the octave some years ago. Though not a ringer, he is very enthusiastic about the art, and is present on most Sunday mornings at Claines to watch and listen to the service ringing.

In honour of H.M. the King's birthday, a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Minor was rung at Sutton, Macclesfield, on December 17th. It was the first peal in the method by all the band.

The second anniversary of the opening of the bells at Coseley fell on December 17th and was celebrated with a peal of Grandsire Triples. The peal was also a birthday compliment to the conductor, Mr. William Fisher.

The local ringers at Sutton-in-Ashfield, Notts, rang a peal in three Minor methods on December 13th to welcome the new Vicar and his wife (the Rev. W. N. Wrigley and Mrs. Wrigley) to the parish. It was Clifford Bleby's first attempt to call a peal.

Mr. Jack Bray, of Burton-on-Stather, Lincs, rang his one hundredth peal on handbells on December 6th, when a peal of Grandsire Caters, in which his wife also took part, was rung in his own home.

CONDUCTOR AT SIXTEEN.

William J. Preece, of Staunton-on-Arrow, Herefordshire, called his first peal on his 16th birthday on December 10th. His father, Mr. Jabez Preece, took part in the peal, and the ringers were afterwards entertained by the conductor's parents. Leslie Evans also celebrated his birthday by the same peal.

Another local Oxford Guild band to ring a peal is the company at Beenham, Berks, where the Sunday service ringers scored a peal in four Minor methods on December 12th.

SOME OF A BEGINNER'S DIFFICULTIES.

The following impressions of a beginner's first peal have been sent us by a correspondent and will probably interest others who have just reached the peal ringing stage:—

For my own satisfaction I have put down one or two simple impressions of ringing my first peal, an event which took place a week or two ago. They may be of interest to ringers who, like myself, have just made a start on peal ringing.

The method chosen was Kent Treble Bob Major. Although thoroughly practised in plain methods only, I thought an attempt in Treble Bob would keep my mind more alert and prevent me from lapsing into errors. I twice found that, after doing the 5-6 dodge down, I started to run straight into the lead and my 3-4 dodging bell had to jog my memory. Dodging on and off the lead with the treble also gave me a little difficulty; I always had to make a special mental note of that, when coming in and out of the slow.

There was also the strangeness of the belfry. The unfamiliar position of the ringers was a little disconcerting at first and exaggerated a difficulty which, to a certain extent, I always have in picking out the exact bells over which to strike in the 5-6 dodge down. The strange tone of the bells, too, seemed to make it impossible to pick out my own particular bell until after we had been ringing some considerable time.

On the physical side there was a period fairly early on when I found I was standing with my knees braced too tensely and my right foot had a tendency to become dead; after shifting my position and relaxing my leg muscles I had no more trouble in that quarter.

About three-quarters of the way through the peal I felt symptoms of cramp coming on in my left hand, and this worried me, lest it should become bad. However, for a time I altered the method of catching the sally and so overcame that difficulty. There were periods, when the striking was at its best, when the rhythm of the bells seemed to lull one into carelessness, but the unfamiliar method kept me from mistakes.

For about the last 20 minutes I think the mental strain must have been considerable, because I was most anxious at this stage not to be the cause of a breakdown.

On the whole, the time appeared to pass more quickly than I had expected.

DEATH OF WINCHESTER GUILD RINGER.

The death occurred recently of the Rev. A. du Bouley Hill, the founder, in 1879, of the Winchester Diocesan Guild and its first secretary. In those days he was a great enthusiast, having got most of his inspiration from his connection with Oxford University Society, of which Canon Coleridge, the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies and other well-known clergy were members.

Among his early peals was the first rung by a band of clergymen. This was a peal of Stedman Triples rung at Drayton, Berkshire, on October 2nd, 1884, conducted by the Rev. F. E. Robinson. The other ringers were the Revs. G. F. Coleridge, F. A. H. Du Boulay, A. du B. Hill, W. S. Willett, C. C. Child, C. D. P. Davies and J. H. Fish.

Another peal in which he had a share was the second one rung by Mr. George Williams. That was at Weybridge, Surrey, on January 16th, 1885, and was rung as a birthday peal for the Rev. H. A. Spyers, who had taken over the secretaryship of the Guild from Mr. Hill.

The Rev. A. du B. Hill had reached the advanced age of 88 years and had for some time been living in retirement. He was for 28 years Vicar of East Bridgeford, Notts, where he was buried.

The birthdays of three members of the Lambert family was celebrated on Horsmonden, Kent, on December 11th, when a peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor was rung. The birthdays were those of Mrs. F. J. Lambert, William Lambert and Michael Lambert. The peal was also rung on the second anniversary of the Accession of King George VI.

As we recently recorded, Mr. Charles Edwards, Master of the Hereford Diocesan Guild, has suffered bereavement by the death of his wife, and as a token of sympathy a half-muffled peal of Doubles was rung at Clifford on Sunday, December 11th.

A non-conducted peal of Superlative Surprise Major was rung at Old Windsor on December 17th. It was the first 'silent' peal in the method by all the band and for the Oxford Guild.

A new ringing gallery has been erected at the six-bell tower of Swanbourne, Bucks, and the first peal rung from it was successful on December 10th, when F. E. Alderman rang his first peal as conductor and all the rest of the band scored their first peal.

The bells of Gillingham, Dorset, were augmented to eight about 40 years ago, but it was not until Saturday, December 17th, that a peal was rung on them. The tenor is 26 cwt., and we gather that the task was no easy one. 'A wet shirt and flowing ale' is one of the comments on the performance that have reached us.

The peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major rung at St. Mary's, Portsea, on Saturday, December 17th, was a 21st birthday compliment to Tower R. Taylor, jun., son of the ringer of the 5th. It was also the first peal in the method by Fred G. Cole, of Poole, Dorset.

The bells of Ospringe, Kent, were opened just before Christmas, 1892, and to commemorate the 46th anniversary a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung on them on December 17th.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.
