The first peal on the bells of Kingston-on-Thames since they were rehung was scored on April 30th, when a peal of Double Norwich Major was rung on the back eight. Messrs. F. E. Hawthorne (captain) and W. Barrett (secretary), of the local band, rang their first peal in the method.

A peal of Stedman Triples at Netherton, Worcestershire, on April 30th, was a birthday compliment to Mrs. William Green, who was 74 on the previous day.

Her husband, who rang the tenor to the peal, is one of the oldest members of the Worcestershire Association. He rang his first peal at the neighbouring parish of Old Hill as long ago as 1886. That peal, incidentally, was the first on the bells.

The peal at Netherton was also a birthday compliment to Mr. Thomas Townsend, who rang his first peal in the method, and it was Mr. Harold Shuck's 25th peal.

Mr. Robert Sperring, of Chester, has now conducted and Mr. J. Morgan, of Pulford, has now rung peals of Kent Treble Bob from Minor to Maximus. A peal of Kent Minor at Waverton on April 26th, arranged for the purpose, completed the series.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.*ANNUAL MEETING AT RETFORD.

There was a disappointing attendance at the 51st annual meeting of the North Notts Association, held at Retford on Saturday, April 23rd. Only 38 members, out of a total of about 150, were present. Even allowing for those unable to be at the meeting owing to being at work, and for other reasons, the attendance was not nearly so good as it has been at previous 'annuals.' Nevertheless, the bells at East Retford and Ordsall were rung during the afternoon and evening, and those at West Retford, as well, after the meeting.

A short service was held at East Retford Church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. D. James), who also gave an interesting address. He referred first to the departure from religion, religious thought and ideals by many of our fellow-men, and then to the Archbishop's 'Recall.' This, he pointed out, was primarily a movement on the part of all the clergy, but there were others who played a less prominent, unseen part, and among these were the ringers up and down the country, whose call from the towers of our churches could be heard by most people if they would only listen and realise what it meant.

After tea in the Ebsworth Hall, the business meeting was held. The Vicar turned over his duties as chairman to the Rev. R. F. Wilkinson, but before doing so he expressed his pleasure in having the association at East Retford. He was glad, too, that he had a ringing curate who might some day succeed Mr. Wilkinson as the ringing parson of North Notts (laughter).—The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson thanked the Vicar for taking the service and for allowing the use of the bells and of the hall.

The secretary's report stated that one tower had seceded from membership (Collingham), and at one other the bells were rung at irregular intervals on Sundays (West Retford).

The number of peals rung in 1937 was 34, of which Mr. C. A. Vessey conducted 22. A record was created by the ringing at Barnby of 20 methods in a peal, while at Worksop the first peal of Gainsborough Little Bob Major for the association was rung. Four peals were rung for the Coronation. Five non-resident members were elected and eight ringing members. A grant of £2 2s. was made to Harthill Bell Fund, and the new peal was opened on April 27th, while on Coronation Day members from the surrounding district rang during the afternoon and evening.

The report and balance sheet were both unanimously adopted. All the officers were re-elected, as well as seven new members and four vice-presidents.

Afterwards ringing continued, and at East Retford touches of Grandsire Triples and Caters, Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Little Bob Major and Cambridge Minor were brought round. Ordsall and West Retford bells were kept going, the latter for the benefit of learner ringers.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. A. F. Martin Stewart, of Ferndown, Dorset, was installed last week as Worshipful Master of the St. Cuthberga Lodge of Freemasons (No. 622) at Wimborne. Among his ringing friends in the craft who attended were the Rev. F. L. Edwards (hon. secretary of the Salisbury Guild), the Rev. C. A. Phillips (hon. secretary of the Wimborne Branch of the Guild), Mr. J. Corbett (hon. treasurer of the Guildford Diocesan Guild) and Mr. W. A. Cave (Bristol).

A meeting of the Ely Diocesan Association is to be held at Orwell to-morrow. It should have been held at Linton a fortnight ago, but the absence of the Vicar caused an alteration in the arrangements.

The 'Seahawks,' of H.M.S. Osprey, 'made whoopee' at Wyke Regis on Wednesday week in aid of the fund to restore the local church bells. It was a rollicking concert, as one may well imagine from a company of sailors, and the Memorial Hall could not hold all who sought admission.

Mr. C. H. Jennings made the arrangements, the concert being a 'kick-off' in the campaign to raise £300 for the bells.

This restoration scheme has come on top of a heavy expenditure in the parish, which has included £7,000 for a new school, £1,600 for church renovation and £350 for the organ.

The Johnson Dinner at Birmingham is to become a fixed feast. Hitherto it has been held on the Saturday nearest February 28th in each year; now it has been decided to fix the first Saturday in March for the commemoration.

ANOTHER PEAL FOR HERTFORDSHIRE.

WELWYN GETS A RING OF SIX.

In these days, when there is so much discussion regarding 'canned' bells, it is a pleasure to record the provision of another ringing peal in Hertfordshire. Welwyn is at the moment the centre of attraction in this respect.

Until last year, the present tower contained one bell, cast in 1760 by Joseph Eayre, of St. Neots, and it bore the following inscription, typical of the Puritan feelings of that time: 'Prosperity to the Established Church of England, no encouragement to enthusiasm.'

Last year, Messrs. Mears and Stainbank hung stationary the present treble, and they have now added the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and tenor, the old bell being the 5th. The frame has been made to carry eight. The tenor weighs 8 cwt. 1 qr. 14 lb. and is in 'A.'

The old tower contained a ring of five bells in 1700, and the following entry is taken from the Parish Book, dated July 17th, 1746: 'Ordered that the bells be sold to the best bidder, in order to raise money to erect a turret or some other conveniency for the hanging up of a large bell and the Saunce Bell.' The old tower fell about 1700 and the present one was built in 1834.

On Easter Day the Bishop of St. Albans dedicated the new peal, and the opening touch was rung by the following members of the Hertfordshire Association: D. C. Mears (conductor) 1, R. H. Howard 2, C. V. Hare 3, R. T. Newman 4, L. Fidler 5, F. Gardner 6.

During the afternoon and evening many friends visited the tower and ringing ranged from rounds to Cambridge Surprise. The striking throughout the day was excellent and a great credit to the ringers. Incidentally, every touch was brought home.

The first district meeting at Welwyn was held on Saturday, April 23rd, when about 35 ringers attended from all parts.

Everyone agrees that the peal and the hanging are a great credit to Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, and the result is something of which Welwyn people should be very proud. Unfortunately, there is not a band of ringers, but arrangements are on foot for frequent combined practices to be held for the purpose of forming a local band. Details will appear from time to time in this paper. D. C. M.

SAXMUNDHAM BELLS RING AGAIN.

'OUTSIZE' TREBLE BECOMES SECOND.

On Saturday, April 30th, the Archdeacon of Suffolk rededicated the restored tower and bells of Saxmundham at a special service. There was a good muster of ringers from Essex and Suffolk, including ladies from Halstead, Dedham and Ipswich. The work includes the recasting of the old second bell into a treble and tuning the old treble into a second, owing to it being out of proportion with the rest and actually heavier than the third. The whole peal has been tuned and hung in a new oak frame for eight with all modern fittings. The work has been carried out by Mr. A. Bowell, of Ipswich. On Thursday week a trial run was given them by four of the foundry staff and two local men. The opening touch at the service was 360 Oxford Treble Bob: Fred Bowell (St. Clement's, Ipswich) 1, Ernest F. Poppy (Stoke Ash) 2, Miss Eleanor Reeve (St. Matthew's, Ipswich) 3, William J. Nevard (Great Bentley, Essex) 4, William Smith (Benhall) 5, Fred Watling (Saxmundham) 6, six towers thus being represented.

About 40 ringers were entertained to tea afterwards. At the trial run 720 Oxford Treble Bob was rung by F. Bowell 1, Alfred Bowell 2, Victor E. Waters 3, Henry G. Welham 4, William Smith (Benhall) 5, F. Watling (Saxmundham) 6. Everyone expressed satisfaction at the great improvement.

Mr. Bowell has also restored the clock, which had been silent for several years. All that is required now is the empty pits to be filled.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—18.

ERNEST MORRIS.

Few men have devoted so much time to so many phases of 'campanology,' as Mr. Ernest Morris, of Leicester. As a ringer, an author and an association secretary, he has rendered yeoman service to the art and the Exercise.

Mr. Morris was born in Leicester on July 28th, 1889, but although he has been attached to St. Margaret's all his life, he rang his first peal at St. Andrew's, Grimsby, while on a visit with his father to the Lincolnshire town in August, 1906, when he was 17 years of age. His first peal as conductor was rung at Melton Mowbray, where he called Grandsire Triples in May, 1908. His peals, including 49 on handbells, now number, 769, of which he has conducted 385.

He has rung and conducted peals on all numbers of bells from five to twelve, and he is a ringer who thinks as much of assisting in a peal of Doubles as he does a peal of Maximus. It is, indeed, in evidence in his record, which comprises 163 peals of Doubles and Minor, and 41 of Cinques and Maximus, while his eight-bell peals total 433 and ten-bell peals 132.

There are very few towers in Leicestershire that he has not visited, and he has rung peals at 120 churches in his native shire, a number which, we believe, no other ringer has reached in any one county.

He has taken part in many record lengths, including conducting the longest by the Midland Counties Association of Doubles (6,600), Minor (7,200 and 10,080), Bob Major (7,008 and 13,440), Kent Treble Bob (10,912) and Oxford Treble Bob (7,840). He also conducted the longest lengths of Bob Major by Central Northants Association, one of 7,488, and another of 9,760 with 400 singles. He called the record peals of Little Bob (6,720), Little Canterbury (6,720), Spliced Treble Bob (Tibeston arrangement, 9,120), and rang in 9,600 Kent and Oxford Spliced. He also took part in the record peals of Cambridge Major (7,008 and 12,396).

He called the quickest tower-bell peal ever rung, a 5,040 Cambridge Minor in 1 hour 50 minutes; and also the only 'Ernest' peal. He has rung peals with four sets of brothers, four fathers and sons, and five fathers and sons, while his handbell peals range from Doubles to Stedman Cinques and include the lightest and heaviest sets ever rung. His peals have been spread over 205 towers in 23 counties for 25 associations and guilds.

It is, however, not only in peal ringing that Mr. Morris has done some excellent work. He has served the Midland Counties Association as its honorary secretary since 1925 and acts as consultant for bells on the Advisory Committee for the Diocese of Leicester.

With a penchant for historical research, Mr. Morris has collected a great deal of material in connection with the church bells of Leicestershire. He is the author of a 'Chronology of British Bell Founders' and many historic articles on other subjects, but he is, of course, best known to ringers as the author of 'History and Art of Change Ringing' and 'Legends of the Bells,' two volumes of great interest and value. He transcribed all the ancient baptismal, marriage and burial registers of St. Margaret's, where he is now Parish Clerk and Clerk of the Vestry, and for this and other works was made a Fellow of the Royal Historical Society. He is also a member of the Johnsonian Society of London, and he has done much good work on behalf of ringing by giving many lectures on bells and our art in many centres.

Next week: Mr. Richard T. Hibbert.

DEATH OF WIMBLEDON RINGER.

The death occurred on Saturday, April 30th, of Mr. E. Baker after a short illness. Mr. Baker had rung off and on at Wimbledon for many years and his services to the belfry will be missed. On Sunday, May 8th, his fellow-ringers rang the bells of St. Mary's Parish Church half-muffled as a last token of respect. In the morning for service 960 Grandsire Doubles was rung: W. Arthur Taylor (conductor) 1, F. Hopgood 2, J. Tomsett 3, H. V. Lintill 4, A. Taylor 5, F. Pearmain 6, R. Rapson 7, R. Underwood (longest length) 8.

MR. ERNEST MORRIS.

A LOSS TO THE YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

DEATH OF SOUTHERN DIVISION SECRETARY.

It is with deep regret that we record the death of Mr. Fred Clark, of Doncaster, hon. secretary of the Southern Division of the Yorkshire Association, which took place suddenly at his home on Sunday, April 24th. Mr. Clark had been indisposed and unable to follow his employment since Christmas, but had recently made steady improvement and was able to attend the quarterly meeting of the association, held at Handsworth on March 19th. Unfortunately, however, he suffered a sudden and severe relapse on Easter Monday, from which he never recovered.

Mr. Clark was 53 years of age, and leaves a widow and three sons. Originating from Newthorpe, Notts, he commenced work at Watnall Colliery, and whilst there learned to ring at Greasley Parish Church. Later, removing to Doncaster, he had for the past 27 years worked at Bentley Colliery, and for the last 20 years of this period had been a Deputy. During the whole of that time he had been a member and regular Sunday service ringer at Arksey Parish Church, where he and his family also took great interest in the church work of the parish.

The funeral took place at Arksey on April 24th, the service being conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. John Pierce Price), assisted by the Rev. Canon A. Ll. Davies, Vicar of Doncaster and president of the Doncaster and District Society.

In addition to the family mourners and a large number of friends, others attending to pay a last tribute of respect to an old comrade were Messrs. S. F. Palmer (hon. treasurer of the Yorkshire Association), L. W. G. Morris (hon. general secretary), George Lewis (vice-president, Southern Division), F. Cryer (vice-president, Eastern Division), P. J. Johnson (vice-president, Western Division), F. Rayment (divisional secretary, Western Division), E. Cooper (hon. secretary, Doncaster and District Society), E. C. Stacey (Doncaster), O. Greathead (Conisborough), W. Fay and F. Vallance (Burgwallis), G. Clark (cousin), H. Woodhouse and H. Scott (Arksey). The Rev. Canon C. C. Marshall, president of the Yorkshire Association, was unavoidably unable to be present.

A course of Grandsire Triples was rung on the handbells at the graveside by G. Lewis 1-2, L. W. G. Morris 3-4, P. J. Johnson 5-6, S. F. Palmer 7-8, and immediately after the service touches were rung on the tower bells with the clappers half-muffled by members of the local company and the visiting ringers.

On coming to Doncaster in 1911, Mr. Clark joined the Yorkshire Association and eventually became one of its staunchest supporters. Although not aspiring to a large number of peals (he had rung 14), he took quite a keen interest in the affairs of the association and everything appertaining to its welfare. Consequently, when the office of Southern Division secretary became vacant in 1921, Mr. Clark was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy, and this position he held up to his death, never sparing himself and being always ready efficiently to carry out the work that demanded his service and which was so dear to him.

Thus a familiar figure and a most respected member has passed away, one who will be missed, whose devotion to duty endeared him to all with whom he came in contact, and especially his brother officers and the members of the Southern Division. S. F. P.

MEMORIAL RINGING.

The bells of Felkirk Church, Yorkshire, were rung half-muffled for matins and evensong on Sunday, May 1st, as a token of respect to the late Mr. F. Clark, secretary of the Southern Division of the Yorkshire Association, who passed away suddenly on Sunday, April 24th. For matins, 360 Plain Bob: P. Woodward 1, T. Cook 2, J. T. White 3, H. Chant 4, G. Cook 5, D. Smith (conductor) 6; also 260 Kent Treble Bob. For evensong, 360 of Arksey: R. Hill 1, J. T. White 2, M. Perry 3, H. Chant 4, G. Cook 5, D. Smith (conductor) 6; Arksey being the tower to which Mr. Clark was attached as a ringer.

HUDDERSFIELD AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

WELCOME IN HALIFAX DISTRICT.

The Huddersfield and District Association held its first meeting in the Halifax district at St. Peter's Church, Sowerby, on Saturday, April 30th, when about 25 members attended. The ringers came from a wide area, including Heptonstall, Brighouse, Elland, Rippenden, Halifax (Parish Church and All Souls'), Lindley, Marsden, Meltham, Huddersfield Parish Church and the local company. A short service was held in the afternoon, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. P. Morley) and the president of the association (the Rev. T. Mathieson), after which an excellent tea was partaken of, which was provided by the local ringers.

The business meeting took place in the tower, with the president in the chair. It was arranged to hold the next meeting at Marsden, at the kind invitation of the Marsden ringers.

The business of the day was quickly disposed of, the ringers being impatient to settle down to more important affairs, and, as the president had some local ringing business in the form of a whist drive and dance, the short meeting was to everybody's satisfaction.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar and wardens, to the organist, and the local ringers for the wonderful reception they had given.

It will please members to know that the president's whist drive and dance were a huge success.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

REVISED RULES ADOPTED.

Unpaid Subscriptions Cause Fall in Membership.

During the past year the rules of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild have been undergoing revision, and they were presented for adoption to the annual meeting held at Hillingdon on April 30th. So well had the work been done that the draft, as submitted, went through with little discussion and without alteration. In the words of the annual report, it is hoped the new rules will bring the two districts much closer together than before and give added strength to the Guild.

In the afternoon the members attended service in St. John's Church, the Vicar (the Rev. A. M. Bashford) officiating. Basing his address upon St. Luke's narrative of the appearance of Christ on the first Easter Day to the two disciples walking to Emmaus, which he had previously read as the lesson, the Vicar spoke of the hope and disappointment of these two men and their subsequent joy on realisation of the truth that Christ had really risen. What, he asked, had this to do with the company of ringers who gave up their time week after week to carry their message through the air to thousands who heard the bells ringing? He referred to the disappointments of ringers, with which he seemed to be particularly acquainted, to their hopes and to the value of their work. When, he said, they got depressed, let them remember they were doing their work for God and not only for man. Because it was God's work they need not worry about the disappointments—their work was acceptable to Him and could not fail. He appealed to the ringers to renew their zeal and loyalty to their officers, and to back them up for all they were worth, because, in backing them up, they were backing up the Master, who stood above them all, whom they served and who appreciated their difficulties while ringing, appreciated their hopes and their courage, and could give them strength to get on with the job God had given them to do in His church.

Mr. F. E. Platt, a young ringer at St. Mark's, Dalston, was at the organ, and the hymns were sung in stirring fashion.

Tea was served in the Parish Hall by Mrs. Goodfellow and other ladies, and the business meeting was afterwards presided over by the Rev. Prebendary Cole Sheane (president), who was supported by the vice-presidents (Messrs. G. W. Fletcher and J. A. Trollope), the Master (Mr. A. W. Coles), the hon. secretary (Mr. C. T. Coles), Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey (hon. secretary of the South and West District) and about 80 members.

When the minutes of the last annual meeting were read, a question was asked as to the position in regard to the bells of All Hallows', Lombard Street, upon which a resolution was passed last year.

The President said he believed the Ecclesiastical Commissioners were considering the erection of a church of very considerable size, which was to be named All Hallows', somewhere in Middlesex. He hoped provision for hanging the bells would be made in this new church, but up to about a fortnight ago, at any rate, they had not decided where it was to be placed. The site in the City had not yet been sold.

FALLING OFF IN MEMBERSHIP.

The annual report expressed regret that the attendances at district meetings had fallen much below the average of the previous year. Meetings were an outward expression of the society's work, giving opportunities of good practice for ringers of all stages of ability, and it was particularly disheartening to those responsible for arranging them when only a comparatively few members attended. It would make a great difference if every member would attend at least one meeting a year.

During the year one honorary and 48 ringing members were elected, but the addition was more than offset by losses through death, resignations and non-payment of subscriptions. It was regretted that twelve members died during 1937. Losses through non-payment of subscriptions reached an alarming figure, especially in the South and West District, and consequently the membership showed a considerable decrease, the total now being 867. The continued decrease in the membership in the South and West District, mainly through the non-payment of subscriptions, was a matter for serious concern, and it was hoped that an extra effort would be made this year to collect the arrears. The loss of income was reflected in the continually decreasing balance in the district accounts. New bands formed at Bethnal Green and Stamford Hill continued to make satisfactory progress, and before long it was hoped that a start would be made with a new band at St. Matthew's, Upper Clapton.

The year had been disappointing with regard to peal ringing. The total of 35 was the lowest since 1919. These were rung in 21 different towers, and one on handbells, while 130 members took part and seven rang their first peal.

In the record of bell restorations, the report made reference to the addition of a treble to make a peal of six at Stanwell, where the five original bells have been rehung in new bearings. The bells at St. George's-in-the-East were being rehung with new fittings in a strengthened frame; at Northaw the peal of six had been lowered to the level of the old ringing chamber, and the bells are now rung from the floor of the church, and the five bells at Shepperton have been retuned and rehung on ball bearings in a strengthened frame.

In moving the adoption of the report, the hon. secretary drew attention to the reduction of members during the year, 12 having been lost by death. Only 35 peals were rung, the lowest since 1919. The committee hoped it would be better this year, as, up to the present, the figures were proportionately better. Mr. Coles also called attention to the Central Council 'news,' which was included in the report, and thought this was very valuable publicity. He knew of only one other association—Lancashire—that gave information about the Central Council's proceedings.

The report was adopted, as was also the balance sheet, which showed receipts of £21 6s. 6d. and an excess of payments for the year of 7s. 2d. This reduced the balance in hand to £24 11s. 7d.

REVISED RULES TO UNIFY ASSOCIATION.

The adoption of the revised rules was moved by Mr. G. W. Fletcher, who reviewed the steps which had been taken leading up to the present position. The old rules, he said, were drawn up in 1897, and, now that they had been revised, they did not anticipate that any large alterations would be necessary for many years. The new rules consolidated the position of the society and its organisation, and, to his mind, finished the work which the founders started in 1897.

The Hon. Secretary, in seconding, explained what the main changes in the rule were, chief among them being that after this year the vice-presidents would be elected at the annual meeting instead of being nominated by the president; the district rules were embodied in the association rules, and, in regard to finance, the districts would pay over to the central fund their whole balance, instead of a proportion, at the end of the year. This came into operation from January 1st, 1939.

Mr. E. M. Atkins, in supporting the changes, said he did not like Mr. Fletcher's statement that the new rules finished the work which the founders had in mind. The new rules they hoped would improve the work of the association, but he hoped they would continue to improve the general outlook. He would like the committee to consider further how the rules worked and to bear in mind any further amendments that were necessary. He personally thought some improvement could be made, so that they considered the towers, rather than the individuals, as being in union with the association, much as the associations were in union with the Central Council. He also thought it was a pity they could not get some of the younger members of the association on the committee, and he suggested that the committee should consider making it obligatory upon members of the committee to retire after a certain number of years' service, so that younger members could be put on.

Mr. Fletcher said he had not wished to make it appear that the new rules finished the work; but that they completed the union of the districts contemplated by the founders. Up to the present the union had been incomplete, as they would realise if they studied the reports. With regard to putting younger members on the committee, that was a matter for the districts when they elected their representatives.

After further short discussion, the rules were adopted unanimously.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The president, having been re-elected, nominated Messrs. Fletcher and Trollope as vice-presidents. Mr. A. W. Coles was re-elected Master, and Mr. W. H. Oram was elected hon. treasurer (the office which was vacant through the death of Mr. W. H. Hollier).

Mr. C. T. Coles was re-elected hon. secretary, and Mr. E. C. S. Turner auditor.

Mrs. W. F. A. Barrett (Harrow) was elected an honorary member, and the following were elected ringing members: Messrs. T. H. Francis (Chiswick), A. Cutler (Willesden) and D. Wright (Southgate, late of Croydon). Mr. C. K. Davis (Blagdon, Somerset) was elected a compounding member, and the belfry election of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Housden (now of Leytonstone) was confirmed.

Mr. F. W. Goodfellow was unanimously elected an honorary life member in recognition of his services as secretary of the South and West District for seven years, an office which he recently resigned, and he was also elected to serve for a year as a representative on the Central Council to replace the late Mr. Hollier.

A donation of one guinea was voted to the Canon Elsee memorial, and a resolution of sympathy was passed with the Ancient Society of College Youths on the death of Mr. W. T. Cockerill.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Bishopsgate, and the meeting terminated with a comprehensive vote of thanks to the Rev. A. M. Bashford for the use of St. John's bells and for the service; the Rev. R. Home, Vicar of St. Andrew's, and the Rev. A. D. Perrot, Vicar of St. Margaret's, for the use of the bells at their churches; to Mr. F. E. Platt, the organist; the captains of the various towers visited; and to Mrs. Goodfellow and the ladies who prepared and served the tea.

Ringling was enjoyed at all three of the towers mentioned, a great variety of methods being rung.

PILGRIMAGE OF REMEMBRANCE.

A few ringers made their annual pilgrimage of remembrance to the village of East Garston, Berks, on Wednesday evening, April 27th, on approximately the fifth anniversary of the interment of the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, and visited his resting place. A 720 of Bob Minor was rung by R. T. Hibbert 1, C. J. Hibbert 2, E. Humfrey 3, S. C. Davis 4, H. W. Smith 5, W. Hibbert (conductor) 6. Stedman and Grandfire Doubles and Bob Minor were also taken part in by W. Hibbert, sen., Miss M. Field and G. Woodley. Then, some along the beautiful Lambourne Valley and others back over the Berkshire Downs, all of which 'the Reverend' loved, the ringers journeyed home, all glad to have once more paid their loving visit to his resting place.

BURTON-ON-STATHER'S NEW BELLS. ACQUISITION TO NORTH LINCOLNSHIRE.

An Opening Gathering of Ringers.

A few weeks ago the bells of Burton-on-Stather were augmented from six to eight by the addition of two trebles, and North Lincolnshire gained a valuable addition to its octaves; valuable not merely because in an area of some sixty miles by forty miles there were previously only ten rings of eight, but because these new bells have gone into a tower where there is an enthusiastic band that will make full use of them. Indeed, it has been the enthusiasm of the ringers that has brought about the augmentation, and last Saturday members of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild and visitors from outside the county gathered in force at an 'opening' meeting to congratulate Mr. Jack Bray, the leader, and the local company both upon the success of their efforts and the making of a very delightful little peal of eight. Messrs. Taylor and Co., who put in the six in 1920, have added two bells entirely in the same 'family,' and the peal is perfect in every respect. The ringing is done from the ground floor, and prior to the coming of the new trebles the long flight of rope up the ceiling made the handling of the bells no easy matter; indeed, the inexperienced often used to find themselves grabbing over their shoulders to find the sally, particularly if they rang the second. But all this has been changed by the provision of rope guides, and ringing on the eight is now a happy experience for everyone.

FORMER VICAR'S BEQUEST.

The erection of the new trebles is the outcome of a bequest by a former Vicar, Canon Francis Jarvis, who held the living for 40 years. He left £100 towards them, and the remainder of the money is being raised by public subscription. The Burton people are providing a new resty as a memorial to Canon Jarvis and his wife, so that the ringers' efforts to complete the bell fund is not an easy matter; indeed, it was said on Saturday that the parish has now three thumping good debts: the balance on a new Parish Hall, the memorial vestry and the bell fund; but the spirit that pervades the place will undoubtedly triumph.

Saturday's meeting brought together a gathering of about 90 ringers, who came by car, bus and cycle, for geographically Burton has been pushed almost off the map; it stands in the north-west corner of the county, where the Trent and the Ouse converge into the Humber. But campanologically Burton is much in evidence and promises to be more so now that it has eight bells. Ringers who were present on Saturday included Mr. R. Richardson (Master) and Mr. P. W. Stokes (hon. secretary of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild), and members from Lincoln, Scunthorpe, Grimsby, Gainsborough, Ukeby, Killingholme, Barton-on-Humber, Barrow-on-Humber, Bigby, Willingham, Lea, Upton and Surfleet, with visitors from Derby, Loughborough, Rotherham and elsewhere. It was a matter of great regret that Archdeacon Parry, president of the Northern Branch, was prevented by illness from being present, and a message of greeting and sympathy was sent to him from the meeting.

The Vicar (the Rev. M. Hadley) conducted service, and Mr. J. Bramwell, of Goxhill, sang a solo from 'The Crucifixion.' The Vicar extended a hearty welcome to the ringers and gave an exceedingly interesting description of the church, which, he said, seemed to hold the history of the village from the earliest days, and in which people had worshipped for centuries. The present building was erected in 1160, and there had been three restorations, in which each generation had brought into it their own ideas and had contributed something to the church. An earlier building of Saxon origin probably stood on the site. The registers went back to the year 1567, and the elm trees in the churchyard were planted by the churchwardens 200 years ago. There were three bells in 1553, and these 'Tudor bells' were recast and increased to six in 1920. Incidentally the Vicar mentioned that Burton had only two vicars in 100 years, Canon Jarvis and his predecessor.

'A GREAT DAY.'

After the service a substantial tea, prepared by the wives and sisters of the ringers, was served in the new parish hall, and short meetings of the Gainsborough and Grimsby districts were held.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith congratulated Burton-on-Stather upon its new bells, admirable alike in tone and go and an excellent 'sauce.' He said he looked forward to great things from the ringers in that district and hoped the enterprise they had shown in spliced Minor ringing would be extended to spliced Surprise Major ringing.

The Vicar explained the position of the bell fund. He said in addition to the £100 left by Canon Jarvis, £90 was required to complete the work. Of this about £35 had been raised and £55 had still to be obtained.

A collection amounting to 22s. was devoted to the Burton fund.

Mr. C. McGuinness proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens of Burton, to Mr. Bray and the ringers, and to the ladies for the catering, also to the organist and the soloist.

Mr. J. Bray, in replying, said that was a great day for those interested in the bells of Burton. Ever since 1920 some of them had looked forward to the time when they would have eight bells. Canon Jarvis had always wanted the additional bells, and it was a pity they were not provided before his death, so that he could have seen the consummation of his desire. They could understand the pride of the

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL MEETING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I remind association representatives and others who may be intending visiting Leeds on the occasion of the forthcoming Central Council meeting at Whitsuntide that no application can be entertained for the outing on Whit Monday, or for the tea on Whit Tuesday, unless such application is received by me not later than the first post Monday, May 23rd.

A charge of 10s. will be made to all other than association representatives for the outing on Whit Monday, and 2s. per head for tea on Tuesday to non-representatives. Early application for tickets would be greatly appreciated by

PERCY J. JOHNSON.

THE LATE MR. ARTHUR SYMONDS.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS' CONNECTION WITH BELLS.

The funeral of the late Mr. Arthur Symonds, of Lavenham, Suffolk, whose death at the age of 80 years we recently recorded, took place on Saturday, April 16th, when many ringing friends attended. The entire company of Lavenham ringers was present, four of his 'boys' acting as bearers. His favourite hymn, 'We love the place, O God,' was sung, and a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells at the graveside.

Among the many floral tributes was one 'In deepest sympathy, from his "boys," the Lavenham bellringers.'

Several short touches were rung muffled on the bells he loved so well during the afternoon and evening.

The late Mr. Symonds' first connection with bells was at the age of five, when he tolled a bell hanging in a sycamore tree for service in his native village of Preston. At 13 he learned ringing under the tuition of his father, Henry Symonds. In 1883 he moved to Lavenham, and was appointed instructor to the Lavenham ringers, which office he held for 52 years, and was never once without a band, and at one time had both a married and a single band. Every one of the 66 ringers whom he taught were a credit to him and a lasting testimony to his unlimited patience.

For more than 40 years Mr. Symonds regularly attended ringing practice at his Parish Church, and in doing this walked more than 8,000 miles. He had rung every bell in Lavenham tower (excepting the 3rd) ten times to a peal, ill-health in 1935 preventing him from scoring his 'tenth' on the 3rd. He is the only man to have rung 100 consecutive peals on his own bells at Lavenham.

For 33 years he was towerkeeper, climbing the 77 steps to the belfry five times a week, and he served as Ringing Master under six Rectors.

He was a member of the Suffolk Guild, being the pioneer of the movement, also a life member of the Norfolk Guild, the Royal Cumberland Youths, the London County Association and St. James' Society, Bury St. Edmunds, and had held office as secretary of the Sudbury Archdeaconry of the Elv Diocesan Association and the Suffolk Guild. His peals on tower and handbells totalled 274, his last peal having been the 'Symonds' peal at Stowmarket in 1935.

His ringing relatives have included grandfather, father, three sons, two daughters, two grandsons, three uncles and four cousins. Eleven of these were among his pupils. Two sons and two grandsons carry on the family tradition of well over a century.

The following is the list of Mr. Symonds' peals:—On tower bells: Kent Treble Bob Maximus 1: Bob Royal 1: Kent Treble Bob Royal 4: Grandsire Caters 2: Bob Major 52 (6,240), conducted 1: Grandsire Major 1: Yorkshire Court Bob Major 1: Double Norwich Court Major 17: Kent Treble Bob Major 58 (6,048, 7,040, 7,360), conducted 1: Oxford Treble Bob 9, conducted 2: Cambridge Surprise Major 2: Superlative Surprise Major 5: London Surprise Major 2: Bristol Surprise Major 1: Grandsire Triples 32: Stedman Triples 3: Minor in one method 2, conducted 1; in two methods 1; in three methods 7, conducted 1; in four methods 3; in five methods 1; in seven methods 3: Doubles in seven methods 1. On handbells: Kent Treble Bob Major 2: Bob Major 10: Grandsire Triples 2: Bob Triples 1: Minor in one method 38 (6,000, 7,200), conducted 4; in two methods 4; in three methods 5; in four methods 2; in five methods 1; total 274, conducted 10.

BURTON-ON-STATHER'S BELLS.

Burton ringers in having at last got the octave. He congratulated Messrs. Taylor and Co. (who were represented by Mr. Colin Harrison) upon the excellent job they had done, and thanked them for the courtesy they had shown. He welcomed the visitors and said he felt that what had been done by the Burton ringers was only a little return for the hospitality they had received in other places.

The Vicar also replied and spoke of the feeling of good friendship that always seemed to prevail at ringers' meetings.

Throughout the afternoon and evening the bells were kept going in courses and touches, and the ringing ranged from rounds to Spliced Surprise Major.

The final break up of the gathering was not brought about until after midnight with the departure of some of the Lincoln contingent. The last ringing of the day was an attempt for a touch of Spliced Minor on handbells in twelve plain methods. It didn't come round—but what could be expected at such an hour after such a day!

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

ASSOCIATION BELL FUNDS.

Many associations and guilds in these days demonstrate their practical interest in bell restorations by grants from their funds. It is often the ringers who are, in the first place, responsible for restorations and augmentations, and, but for their endeavours, many a peal of bells would remain in a dilapidated condition. It is the ringers' efforts which bring about, first, the consideration by the authorities, and then the carrying out of necessary work. Indeed, it is, and should be, part of the ringers' responsibility to see that the bells are kept in good order and, where they have gone beyond the capacity of the steeple-keeper to keep them running reasonably well, to bring their condition to the notice of the Church Council. If ringers are to carry out their duties it is unfair to expect them to use bells which require undue labour to ring, and may also be doing damage to the tower itself. On the other hand, when ringers urge a restoration there is sometimes a suspicion that they have a personal motive and, however unjust this is, occasionally there are parishes which prefer to let the bells go rather than renew the equipment 'for the benefit of the ringers.' Such objection, however, disappears when the ringers themselves through their own organisations contribute to the cost.

One of the most valuable innovations which the Exercise has made is that of raising, among members, funds for the restoration of bells. It is an earnest of their good faith when they can come forward and say, 'If you will put this scheme in hand our association will give you a contribution.' It does not matter how small that financial assistance may be, the fact that the ringers are willing to support a restoration scheme carries weight with those whose duty it is to shoulder the burden. In many cases, of course, ringers have undertaken the whole of the responsibility of a restoration or an augmentation, and that is the finest proof possible that they are not only ready to give their services to the Church, but to secure that those services shall be rendered upon efficient instruments.

Collectively, associations and guilds have been most generous contributors to bell schemes. The Oxford Diocesan Guild have a practice by which they contribute to any approved scheme a donation from the bell fund equal to that voted from the district in which the bells in question are situated. In this way they have, in the course of years, given a substantial sum to restorations. Other guilds have done similarly good work, among them the Peterborough Diocesan Guild which, out of a fund built up by collections at the services held in connection with district meetings, have given away about £220, an average of some £16 a year, and, at the end of last year, had a balance of £71 13s. 6d. in the fund, after giving away over £40 in 1937. This shows a spirit of real generosity among the members, and it is also good propaganda for the guild and for the art of change ringing. It would be interesting to know the total amount which the associations throughout the country have raised for bell restoration work in the last twenty years. It must be a very considerable sum. Peterborough has done exceptionally well, and the practice is growing among the associations. We would like to see it extended to every organisation. The amounts that can be given can often be substantial, but, however small the grant, it is a practical way of showing the ringers' real interest in promoting and maintaining the efficiency of the bells.

PEAL NOTES.

FIFTY YEARS' SERVICE.

Not long ago Mr. George Preston completed 50 years' service as a ringer at the Priory Church, Christchurch, Hants. Now one of his early colleagues, Mr. Edward Hinton, has completed a similar term, and the event was well celebrated on May 12th with a peal of Grand-sire Caters rung by an entirely local band. It was William Stone's fiftieth peal.

To commemorate the fortieth anniversary of the first peal on the bells at Wem, Shropshire, a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major was rung on May 7th by members of the Chester Diocesan Guild. There was a family connecting link between the two peals; Mr. R. D. Langford rang the tenor to the peal a fortnight ago; his father took part in the first peal. Mr. J. Ravenscroft, who also took part in the first performance, entertained the anniversary peal band after the successful conclusion of their efforts.

To enable Mr. T. J. Bartlett, of Exeter, and Mr. J. H. Godfrey, of Ottery St. Mary, Devon, to complete peals in the four 'standard' methods, a peal of Bob Major was rung at Honiton Clist on May 7th.

Surfleet celebrated the first anniversary of the Coronation of King George and Queen Elizabeth with a peal of Double Norwich Major on May 12th.

The first peal of Spliced Surprise Major in Birmingham and for St. Martin's Guild was rung at Edgbaston on May 14th. The ringers were Worcestershire men.

The first spliced peal in four Surprise Major methods in Hampshire and by the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild was also rung on Saturday at Privett. Hampshire, Sussex and Surrey supplied the band.

The composition was a new one by Mr. James Topp, and contains 2,880 of London, 800 of Bristol and 1,440 divided, as you will, between Cambridge and Superlative. Here are the figures:—

23456	M	W	H	Methods
35642	—	2		L C B L
25346	2			L B C L
43652	—	—		L C L

Four times repeated.

Superlative can be rung in place of Cambridge.

IPSWICH SUCCESSES.

The peal of 5,184 changes of Rochester Surprise Maximus rung at Ipswich on Saturday is the first of this length rung to Surprise Maximus. It was Mr. G. A. Fleming's 250th peal.

The St. Mary-le-Tower Society has now rung six different Maximus methods to peals in less than five months, viz., Kent Treble Bob, Superlative, Double Norwich, Cambridge, New Cambridge and Rochester. Their efforts have been blessed with really good fortune.

John Carter's composition of Stedman Cinques, rung at High Wycombe on May 11th, is in an unusual form, and in the 24 courses in the tittums position the sixth is 18 times in 6th's, including all the six 5-6's. The 14 courses in the handsbroke position include the six 6-5's.

Canon J. E. Paget, after being for 16 years Vicar of Bolsover, Derbyshire, has gone to Pleasley. As a farewell to him, a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung at Bolsover on May 7th.

A peal of Stedman Triples at Syston, Leicestershire, on May 7th, was made a birthday compliment to Mr. Joseph S. Carter, of Wigston Magna, by his friends.

Recently Mr. George Green completed 50 years' connection with the church at Great Baddow, Essex, and a peal of Cambridge Surprise was rung in honour of the event. On May 7th a handsome board, recording the peal, was unveiled and a peal of Superlative Surprise rung, in which Mr. Green took part. Afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Green entertained the ringers.

Not often does the Ancient Society of College Youths have a six-bell peal credited to it, but one in five methods was rung at Buckland, Surrey, by a visiting band on May 7th. It was the conductor's (Mr. A. S. Richards) 75th peal.

A peal attempt at Knutsford, Cheshire, came to an untimely end after 2 hours 40 minutes with only 360 changes left to ring. The sexton, after much banging on the door, pulled the tolling rope with obvious effect. What the ringers said is unrecorded.

The peal of Doubles at the five-bell tower of Shelfanger, Norfolk, on May 7th, was rung as a welcome to the new Rector, who welcomed the ringers at the church before the peal and afterwards kindly entertained them to a bountiful tea at the Rectory. This was only the second peal ever rung on these bells, where, in the small tower, there is a clock case of such liberal proportions that the third and fourth ringers do not see each other during the ringing.

A GREAT PERFORMANCE.

The greatest number of methods rung in a peal on handbells was achieved at Burton-on-Stather on Saturday, when Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bray and Mr. George Feirn rang 19 methods spliced into seven 720's. This record is a really great performance.

Eight Williams rang a peal of Double Norwich Major at North Lopham, Norfolk, on May 7th. The first Bills to ring a peal were eleven Cumberland Youths, who scored a peal of Grandsire Caters at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields on November 3rd, 1796. William Shipway was the conductor.

By calling a peal of Stedman Doubles at Rushall, Staffs, on May 5th, Mr. Daniel T. Matkin has now conducted Stedman from Doubles to Cinques. It was B. G. Key's 75th peal and H. Howell's 75th peal for the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford.

Giggleswick, in Yorkshire, has had a ring of six bells since 1850, and they were augmented to eight in 1930, but the first peal on them was not rung until Easter Monday, and even then, owing to dearth of ringers, only Minor could be rung. It was arranged for three local men, Messrs. W. Silverwood, J. Hodgson and A. James, who scored their first peal, and they deserve congratulations, for it consisted of three methods—Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob. Visiting ringers to that part of Yorkshire will be welcome at Giggleswick.

There was a sort of non-stop performance at Rodbourne Cheney, Wilts, on May 6th, when a peal of Bob Minor was rung. The bells were raised in peal, 'Go, Plain Bob,' was called and, at the end, 'That's all,' 'Run 'em down'—there was no break at all from the treble's first blow in rising until the final note of the tenor when 'Stop' was called. The peal was rung as a welcome home to the curate (the Rev. J. H. Williams) and his bride after their honeymoon.

A peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Leiston on May 7th was the first peal rung by Mr. J. G. Rumsey for two years. He has been out of action through a broken wrist, but he proved he has lost none of his masterly style. Mr. James Bennett, of London, whose nephew, James, junior, conducted the peal, has now circled Leiston tower in Surprise peals. Before this last peal he had only the treble left and he has now put that 'in the bag.'

Ralph Bird rang the treble to a peal in four Minor methods at Stisted, Essex, on May 1st, and thus 'completed the circle' in this tower.

A peal of Double Norwich at Thame, Oxfordshire, on May 7th, was also rung as a birthday compliment to Mr. Williams.

A peal of Minor at Lytchett Minster, Dorset, on April 30th, was the first in seven methods in the Wimborne District of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild.

The first peal of Double Norwich on the bells at Fobbing, Essex, on May 7th, was a birthday compliment to Mr. E. W. Furbank.

Mr. J. P. Hyett, of Hay, Herefordshire, has rung 225 peals for the Hereford Diocesan Guild, and he has had the singular distinction of ringing each 25th peal at Clifford Church.

The peal that was rung at White Waltham, Berks, on April 30th, was the first on the bells, although they have been in the tower for 69 years. When a new tower was built in 1868 the old five bells (a very heavy lot) stood in the barn in the village. On completion of the building the bells were sent to Messrs. Warner's foundry and a new six were cast out of the old metal, all bearing the date 1869.

They are a pleasing ring of bells, but one needs to be almost an acrobat to keep the ropes on the wheels.

It was at this church in 1935 that a tablet was unveiled to the memory of Thomas Hearne (diarist), from whom we have learned something of the early days of Oxford ringing. Just outside the tower one can see the old wooden stocks and whipping post.

Mr. Reuben Charge has been a ringer for more years now than, perhaps, he cares to remember, but it was not until April 30th that he rang his first peal of Minor. This he did at Finchley, the peal being a birthday compliment to the daughter of the conductor, Mr. F. A. Barker.

The first peal in 25 methods in Hertfordshire was called by Mr. Walter Ayre on May 2nd at Apsley End. It was the first peal in this number of methods by all the band and by the Herts County Association, and was rung at the first attempt. It was a particularly good performance by the trebleman (Mr. B. McKay), as it was his first attempt for a peal, and the methods included both Plain and Treble Bob. He was deservedly congratulated at the end of the peal.

It was Mr. Horace Waite's 50th peal and Mr. Ayre's 125th tower-bell peal as conductor.

The quarterly peal of the Western Branch of the Worcestershire Association, rung at Ombersley on April 30th, included two of the Sunday band—F. Fluck and A. H. Cheshire. It was their first attempt for a peal of Minor. Their only other peals had been two each of Grandsire Doubles.

MAJOR ON THE BACK EIGHT AT BOW.

Two ladies took part in a quarter-peal of London Surprise Major on May 8th for evening service on the back eight at St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheapside, where the tenor is 54 cwt. 12 lb.: Claude Snowden 1, Mrs. James E. Davis 2, James E. Davis 3, Miss Hilda G. Snowden 4, Francis G. Gleaves 5, Frederick Dench 6, Lewis W. Wiffen (conductor) 7, John W. Ward 8. It will be noticed that most of the band were visitors to London.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A talk in the B.B.C. National programme on Tuesday, in the series 'Made in Great Britain,' dealt with bellfounding at Loughborough. To-morrow an attempt is to be made for a half-muffled peal at St. Paul's Cathedral, in memory of the late Mr. W. T. Cockerill.

Last Friday, Mr. T. E. Denyer, one of the enthusiastic band attached to Aldershot tower, met with a motor-cycle accident. He is now confined to bed with a cracked ankle bone. He followed in the footsteps of his father and eldest brother in taking up ringing, but it is going a step too far to follow their example of having a motor-cycle spill as well.

We understand that two parishioners of St. John's, Weymouth, have lodged an objection to the application of the Parochial Council for a faculty for the installation of 'synthetic' bells in the church. A Consistory Court will probably sit at Salisbury to hear the objection.

Burton District of the Midland Counties Association is the latest area to try a mid-week meeting. There is to be an experiment at Netherseale on Wednesday, June 1st.

Walsall, a 'town of a thousand trades,' once had a bell foundry. There are, says the 'Times and South Staffordshire Advertiser,' records of a business carried on at 'the Pottle Shoppe' by Thomas Clibury, Richard Clibury and Thomas Hancor, who, in addition to being 'braziers and potters,' cast bells, among them the 'great bell' of St. Mary's, Lichfield, in 1634.

In 1636 Thomas Clibury recast some bells for St. Nicholas', Liverpool, to replace three which had been confiscated from Drogheda, Ireland, and purchased for the church by Liverpool Corporation.

At a recent ringers' meeting, before a belfry full of awe-inspired onlookers, a band of 'brass-hats' prepared to show how spiced Minor in umpteen methods was rung. They pulled off, the conductor said, 'Go, Double Bob,' and they rang Double Bob. At the end of a lead the conductor called a change of method, but some knew the method and some didn't; so they stopped. That, perhaps, was excusable.

They started again. 'Go, Plain Bob,' said the conductor, this time. They all knew this and they 'went' quite well. At the end of the first lead the anticipated change of method was not called—they had time to get a grip of things. But the conductor did not change the method at the end of the next lead either. In fact he did not call anything until 'This is all' at the end of a plain course. And so the Spiced Minor brass hats rang a perfect course of Plain Bob. And the onlookers asked in whispers among themselves, 'Are these really the super ringers we thought they were?'

Where did this happen? Well, we are not telling tales.

THE SCOUTS' PEAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I was very pleased to see the record of the performance of my brother Scouts, as mentioned in 'Peal Notes,' but I would like to point out that on Empire Day, 1930, there was rung at Over, Cheshire, by a band of Scouts and Scouters, W. Harrison's 5,008 of Bob Major, conducted by John Worth.

Although this was the first peal to be claimed as an all Scout peal, I am aware of others rung prior to this by a band comprised solely of Scouts, but who did not claim them as Scout peals.

C. KENNETH LEWIS, Rover Scout, 1st Marple Group.

WEYMOUTH'S 'SYNTHETIC' BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I recently had an opportunity of hearing the 'synthetic ringing' at St. John's Church, Weymouth, about which there has been a deal of correspondence in your columns.

As a fairly widely travelled 'free lance' ringer, of ordinary ability, who has assisted in service ringing in far more towers than I remember, I think that this question of the 'ringing by wireless' at this church has been misrepresented. In any case, I can assure you that as an indication of a call to religion, the result is much more pleasing than any single bell can be. It should be clearly appreciated that at this tower the provision of a ringing peal is out of the question as a practicable proposition—an unsuitable tower and a sandy foundation. I was very agreeably struck by the results—well-struck changes of the bells of St. Margaret's and of York Minster faithfully recorded and reproduced in quite life-like tones left little to be desired.

I admit that there are snags as far as a ringer's ideas are concerned. The worst point, to my mind, was the loss of continuity, e.g., gaps in the courses as the operator, about every two minutes, turned from one record to another.

However, after a chat with the operator—who incidentally is a keen churchworker and as a wireless and radio operator is anxious to serve the church and his religion to best advantage, but has no knowledge of ringing—and with one or two members of the Church Council, I feel satisfied that we, and the Exercise in general, should appreciate the position and do our best to ensure that the results are suitable and as far as practicable follow the tradition of ringing.

As an example, I have suggested to the operator that he should not mix, say, York Minster and St. Margaret's at two minute intervals, but should, by a double turntable, and a fading transfer, maintain a steady run of changes, say, for ten minutes or a quarter of an hour. He could use York for one service and St. Margaret's for another, and even carillon music if any is found suitable.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—19.*RICHARD T. HIBBERT.

His name always appears in the peal reports as Richard T. Hibbert, but to everyone who knows him he is 'Tom' Hibbert, and his peal ringing extends over more than 50 years. He was born at East Ilsley, Berks, on February 15th, 1869, and he was only 16 years of age when he rang his first peal at St. Michael's, Basingstoke, on December 5th, 1885. The first peal which he conducted was Grandsire Triples, at Sonning, Berks, in May, 1891, and he has called peals in all the methods he has rung.

His peals now number 362 and they have been rung in 24 counties, the towers including twelve cathedrals and the peals the first at Wells and Exeter. Incidentally Mr. Hibbert was the first ringer to score a peal on the heaviest rings of 12, 10 and 8, for he has rung the tenor at St. Paul's Cathedral, the 9th at Exeter Cathedral, before the present troubles were added, and the tenor at Sherborne Abbey, performances in themselves evidence sufficient to show that Mr. Hibbert is among the finest of 'back-enders.'

Among the interesting peals in which he has taken part were the first peals of Stedman Triples at both Sherborne and Pershore Abbeys, and the first peal of Maximus at St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheap-side. He also rang in the first ten-bell peal in Devonshire (at St. Sidwell's, Exeter), and is no stranger to long lengths. He rang in the 12,160 of Bristol Surprise Major at Knebworth, Herts, in 1912, the 21,363 Stedman Caters, in 12 hours 25 minutes, at Appleton, in April, 1922, and the ill-fated 12,675 Stedman Cinques at Southwark Cathedral in May, 1923.

He has 'completed the circle' in six eight-bell towers, one ten and two twelve, his last being St. Saviour's, Southwark, when he rang the 9th to the secretaries' peal of Stedman Cinques a few weeks ago.

Mr. Hibbert was instrumental in getting the five bells in his native village of East Ilsley increased to eight, and the ten at his own tower of St. Laurence, Reading, increased from ten to twelve, and he will tell you he was a very pleased and proud ringer when he called 'This is all' at the end of a first-class first peal on each of these two rings of bells.

Tom is 'father' of St. Laurence's tower at Reading, and he is something of a martinet. Woe-betide the man or woman who does not give of his or her best when ringing. 'Good peals' rather than a lot of peals has always been his aim, and the writer once heard him remark that 'Good ringing gives me a lump in the throat; bad ringing gives me lumps all over.'

Mr. Hibbert has served the Oxford Diocesan Guild as its general secretary since 1917, and he has represented it on the Central Council. 'Tom' is also a great College Youth, and, although he lives at Reading, frequently attends the meetings. In 1923 he was elected Master for the year, and travelled to and from London regularly to discharge his official duties both in the chair and in the junior offices leading up to it.

Next week: Mrs. E. K. Fletcher.

CORONATION COMMEMORATED.

To commemorate the Coronation and the rehangings of the bells at All Hallows' Church, Wellingborough, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung before Mass on May 8th: H. Plowman 1, *C. R. Forster 2, *G. Murdin 3, H. Pettit 4, J. C. Shatford 5, *G. E. Meeks 6, A. Plowman (first quarter-peal as conductor) 7, *W. Hedges 8. * First quarter-peal.

'COMING OF AGE' COMPLIMENT.

At St. Margaret's Church, Hemingford Abbots, on Sunday, May 15th, before matins, a quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob Minor: F. Warrington (conductor) 1, G. L. Perkins 2, H. Saunders 3, F. Nicholls 4, H. Lavender 5, J. Perkins 6. Rung as a 21st birthday compliment to Marjory, daughter of Mr. G. L. Perkins, and granddaughter of Mr. J. Perkins.

MR. R. T. HIBBERT.

GEORGE W. FLETCHER, Hon. Secretary.

DEVON GUILD.

A meeting of the Aylesbeare Deanery Branch was held at East Budleigh on Saturday, May 14th, a representative attendance of 40 members being present, with only one visitor, the general secretary of the Guild, Mr. T. Laver. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. W. Gardiner), who also gave an address from the words, 'In the Name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost.'

Tea was held in the Institute, where Mr. Pidgeon, of 'The Bakery,' provided a sumptuous repast.

The business meeting followed under the chairmanship of the Rev. E. C. Grimaldi, R.D. One new member from Lymptone was elected, and a member of the Honiton Clyst band was presented with his certificate for efficiency.

Sowton was chosen for the next meeting on September 17th, subject to the Rector's approval.

A vote of thanks was proposed by the chairman to the Vicar for having the meeting at East Budleigh and the use of the bells, also to the organist and the caterer, and this was carried by acclamation. Ringing was kept up until late in the evening under the superintendence of the Ringing Master, Mr. J. Brealy, the methods rung being Grandsire and Stedman.

STAVERTON BELLS RECAST.

Staverton, Northants, the parish in which the Rev. E. S. Powell is Vicar, formerly had in the church tower five terribly discordant and tuneless bells. These have now been recast into a beautiful ring of six, with a tenor just under 11 cwt., by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. At the same time, an Ellacombe chiming apparatus has been installed for use at those services at which a band of ringers is not available.

The dedication service took place on May 1st and was attended by about 60 ringers from seven counties, as well as by a very large general congregation from the neighbourhood. The dedication was performed by the Archdeacon of Northampton, who also gave a most inspiring address.

The collection at the service was for the Peterborough Guild Belfry Repair Fund and amounted to £3 14s. 3d., while subsequently in the tea room a generous contribution was made by the participants of £1 17s. 7d. for a clock for Staverton ringing chamber.

During the service, immediately after the dedication, an excellent plain course of Bob Minor was rung by T. Tebbutt, G. Hancock, Mrs. Powell, F. Hancock, L. Greenhow and G. R. Black. Ringing was kept up until 8.30 p.m., there being rung during the proceedings Grandsire, Stedman and St. Simon's Doubles, and Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, St. Clement's Bob and Cambridge Surprise Minor.

The first 720 on the new bells was rung for evensong on Sunday, May 8th, by H. Shrivies 1, the Rev. E. S. Powell (conductor) 2, Mrs. Powell 3, the Rev. W. P. Wright 4, W. Betley 5, J. White 6.

CLERICAL RINGING WEEK.

PARSONS ON HOLIDAY.

This year's 'Clerical Ringing Week,' to which reference has already been made in our columns, was held, as usual, during the second week after Easter, this time in Hertfordshire, with St. Albans as centre. The following were present for all or a considerable part of the time: The Revs. J. H. B. Andrews (Leeds), E. G. Benson (Burghill), H. Benson (Quinton), C. Carew Cox (Lyne Regis), E. V. Cox (Brampford Speke), to whom the members are extremely grateful for his highly successful organisation of the week, F. Ll. Edwards (Kington Magna), R. D. St. G. Edwards (Checkendon), F. S. H. Marle (Deane), E. S. and Mrs. Powell (Staverton), B. F. Sheppard (Cambridge), A. G. G. Thurlow (Wokingham), W. H. R. Trehwella (Truro), W. M. K. Warren (Binegar), C. Elliot Wigg (Cheersley), and R. F. Wilkinson (Ordsall). Others, who could only join with the party for a short time, are mentioned below.

We met on Monday at St. Leonard's, Sandridge. This is a most interesting church, where we rang methods from Grandsire to Cambridge on a nice light six (tenor 6½ cwt.). We were delighted to meet Mr. Walter Ayre, who rang with us, and we had the pleasure of seeing him often on the following days. A proud record in pencil on the wall of the tower states, 'November 7th, 1914. Best run down we ever had'—we had quite a good 'run down,' too, and the rope of the 4th broke most conveniently just at the last round of chiming. After tea at Wheathampstead, presided over by Mrs. Ayre, we enjoyed Cambridge Minor, etc., on the very fine six at Wheathampstead Church, lately rehung by Taylor (tenor 14½ cwt.). After dinner at the White Hart, St. Albans (our headquarters), we visited St. Peter's, St. Albans, where, after a kind speech of welcome by Mr. G. W. Debenham, we spent a delightful evening ringing Grandsire and Erin Caters and Bob and Kent Royal on the grand ring of ten (tenor 23 cwt.), helped by Messrs. Debenham, Mr. H. Frost and others of the local band. There were twelve bells here from 1868 to 1881.

On Tuesday morning we visited Benington, with its memories of Squire Procter and his merry men, some of whose doings are recalled by peal boards recording early peals of Superlative (in 1855), etc. We were unfortunately too late to carry out our intention of going for a peal on the eight bells (tenor 12 cwt.), so contented ourselves with touches, in some of which the Rector (the Rev. W. E. Mills) rang with us. After ringing handbells on the village green, the Rector and Mrs. Mills kindly asked us to have our picnic lunch in their drawing room, as it was wet. Later we rang his handbells (tenor 8½ inches diameter!). We next visited Ware, and, after various touches on the eight bells (tenor 22 cwt.), rang Stedman, etc., on the eight at St. Augustine's, Broxbourne (tenor 20 cwt.), where Mr. G. Radley rang with us. After dinner we much enjoyed ringing Grandsire and Stedman Cinques and Bob Maximus on the fine twelve at St. Albans Cathedral (tenor 23 cwt.), with the kind help of Mr. Goodenough and other St. Albans ringers. The evening concluded with handbells (with Walter Ayre and others) at the White Hart. The keeper of the shop next the White Hart later told me he had been interested to hear the handbells while he lay awake in bed that night, as his father had been a ringer at Boston Stump many years before.

PEAL ATTEMPTS.

An attempt for a peal of Stedman Triples at Northchurch (tenor 15 cwt.) on Wednesday morning went west after three-quarters of an hour, and, after some Bob Major, we visited Great Gaddesden, where we rang Cambridge Minor, etc., on a nice six (tenor 10 cwt.). Among other tunes written on the wall here was 'Old Laungs Syne.' After picnic lunch we called at Hemel Hempstead, a nice Norman church with a fine central tower and spire, where the Rev. and Mrs. Powell, and the Rev. R. F. R. Routh, of Beaconsfield, met us, and joined us in Stedman, Double Norwich, etc., on the eight bells (tenor 19½ cwt.). Then to St. Mary's, Redbourne, where the Rev. J. E. F. Tredennick (Romford) and Walter Ayre rang with us, the fine six (tenor 14 cwt.) going well to London, Cambridge, etc. This church has suffered from what an absent-minded cleric called 'death beech wattle'! (a little transposing clears up the mystery!). After tea we rang at St. Nicholas', Harpenden, and later had the great pleasure of singing evensong in this church. Several thought it would be well to make such a service a regular part of the week's programme in the future in addition to our usual practice of making our Communion together on one day in the week. The local ringers had very kindly raised the bells, and Bob Major and Cambridge were rung on a nice eight (tenor 15 cwt.). Later in the evening we enjoyed a visit to St. Michael's, St. Albans, a most interesting church on the site of the ancient Roman city of Verulamium, of whose bricks and stones much of the Cathedral and churches of St. Albans are built. Cambridge, London, Kent and Oxford went well on the fine six (tenor 13 cwt.) here.

On Thursday a peal attempt at North Mymms (eight bells, tenor 13½ cwt.) was lost after 1½ hours, owing to a shift, and at the same time a peal attempt at Essendon (six bells, tenor 10½ cwt.) also went west. The disappointed band at each tower went to the other tower to see how their colleagues fared; unfortunately, each went by a different route to the other, so each found the other's tower deserted. After a little confusion, all met at Essendon and did some more ringing. Picnic lunch followed by the River Lea, accompanied by rain and ices, then on to Hertford, where we had an interesting time at St. Andrew's. The eight here (tenor 16 cwt.) was the first ring cast by the famous John Briant, of Hertford. A fine old peal board records three peals, the first, rung by the Hertford College Youths, being 5,280 Oxford Treble Bob, in 3 hours 24 minutes, on May 20th, 1882. This was the first peal on the bells, and John Briant himself rang the tenor. Of course, we had to ring a touch of Oxford—and, in fairness to certain members of the party, a course of Cambridge. Our president, Canon Coleridge, rang peals here in 1884 and 1885. Mr. George Gray had kindly met us at the tower, and now accompanied us to All Saints', where we much enjoyed ringing Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Bob Royal and Double Norwich Major on the grand ring of ten (tenor 25 cwt.). Miss Constance Ditton, who rang her first peal, at St. Andrew's, at the age of 13, rang with us. John Briant's tombstone (he died February 27th, 1829) is in this churchyard, and a fine memorial tablet is in the church. After tea we returned to St. Albans for the annual business meeting of the Guild of Clerical Ringers, the doings of which have already been recorded in 'The Ringing World.' We were delighted to have our president, Canon Coleridge, in the chair. After dinner we rang in the interesting wooden tower at St. Stephen's, St. Albans, again with most welcome local help.

GREAT WYMONDLEY MIGHT HAVE CHANGED CHURCH HISTORY.

On Friday the Guild made history by ringing its first peal, Boh Major at Knebworth. This is a nice ring (tenor 12½ cwt.) in a delightful church, with many memorials to members of the Lytton family, which has owned Knebworth Manor since the days of Henry VII. Here we made friends with a film star—the donkey which, we were told, is used when required at the Denham film studios. Some members of the party rang at Flamstead (six bells, tenor 13 cwt.) while the peal was in progress. After lunch we visited Baldock, where Mr. R. T. Newman kindly had the eight bells (tenor 28 cwt.) up for us. After Stedman, Grandsire and Bob Major, we lowered the bells in peal, and went on to Hitchin, where, in spite of someone whose efforts on the organ were more remarkable for volume than for quality, we had a most enjoyable time ringing Stedman, Double Norwich, etc., on a fine eight (tenor 25 cwt.), again with help from several of the local band. We were delighted to see the Rev. R. Copeman, of Cambridge University Guild, who was unfortunately only able to be with us for a short time. Then on to St. Ippolyt's, where the Rev. G. H. and Mrs. Hewitt very kindly gave us tea at the Vicarage. A former Vicar here was the great scholar, Dr. Hort, and much of the Revised Version of the Bible was done on the old Vicarage lawn. Hippolyt was torn to death by having four horses fastened, one to each of his limbs, and then driven away in different directions. A relic of the saint became famous for its power to heal horses, which were brought into this church for the purpose. Doubles and Minor were rung during our visit, and the bells were lowered in Queen's.

Then to our last tower, Great Wymondley (six bells, tenor 12½ cwt.), where we had the pleasure of ringing with Mr. W. J. Croft, member of a once fine local band. The Lord of the Manor of this village has the right to be the first to offer wine to the King after his Coronation. Great Wymondley once had a chance, which it missed, to alter the whole history of the Church of England, for Henry VIII, while hunting fell into the River Pur here, and someone went and pulled him out!

So the week ended, and we went home full of gratitude to all the local ringers who had so nobly helped us in various ways, the vicars and their wives who gave us hospitality, and especially the Rev. E. V. Cox, who had once more organised a delightful week's ringing.

GLASGOW RINGERS AT EMPIRE EXHIBITION.

On Saturday, May 7th, members of St. Mary's Cathedral Society, Glasgow, paid a visit to the Empire Exhibition and rang handbells on the terrace of the Episcopal Church of All Hallows for evensong at 3.30 p.m. This proved a great attraction for visitors, but, although the ringing was favourably commented upon, no one came forward and offered to 'take a pair.'

The ringing consisted of two plain courses of Grandsire Caters and one of Triples, those taking part being H. Sargent, S. Lewis, T. Windermar, E. Baumphey, R. Preston, A. F. Sargent (from Kelham) and E. A. Stratford. An interested spectator was Mr. R. Mervyn Noad, architect of the church, who is to be congratulated upon the result of his labours.

After evensong some of the band proceeded to the Peace Pavilion and were kindly received by Mr. McLeod Davis. Chiming on the carillon followed. The rendering of 'Annie Laurie' and 'The Bluebells of Scotland' by Thomas Windermar deserves special merit, especially when it is remembered there are only eight bells.

The Bishop of the Diocese (Dr. Darbyshire) paid a visit to the Cathedral belfry on Sunday morning and thanked the ringers for their efforts.

A hearty invitation is extended to any ringers, who may be in Glasgow during the run of 'Empirex,' to visit St. Mary's belfry. There is service ringing at the Cathedral on Sundays, 10.30 to 11 a.m. and 6 to 6.30 p.m., and practice night is Thursday at 7.30 p.m.

On Sunday, April 10th, before evensong, the captain (Mr. W. H. Pickett) presented a pipe to Provost K. C. H. Warner, Archdeacon-elect of Lincoln, as a mark of appreciation of his interest shown in the society both in the belfry and in their social activities.

DEATH OF A GREAT YARMOUTH RINGER. A FOUNDATION MEMBER OF NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

The death occurred at his home, Campana House, St. Nicholas' Road, Great Yarmouth, on May 1st, of Mr. Dennison Cross Hayward, at the age of 81 years. He was elected a member of St. Nicholas' company in 1875, and was one of the two survivors who were present at the formation of the Norwich Diocesan Association in 1877. Mr. R. Brundle, of Ipswich, is now the only one left.

From about 1887 Mr. Hayward was secretary of the tower and Mr. Matthew Long the conductor. On the death of the latter, Mr. Hayward became tower master, and held that office until his death, although he has not rung for the last five years.

Mr. Hayward's name was put on the tenor bell when it was recast by Mears and Stainbank in 1911 by request of the Rev. Willink, Vicar at that time.

On July 19th, 1919, the St. Nicholas' company and a few friends presented Mr. Hayward with a gold hunter watch suitably inscribed in recognition of his forty odd years of services to the belfry and ringing. His one ambition and pleasure was in promoting the interests of St. Nicholas' Church, belfry and ringers. He was of a most unselfish character and thought of other people before himself. His friends were legion.

Mr. Hayward was known by the older ringers all over the Norwich Diocese, also in London and in Surrey, where he had spent several periods. His father was a ringer before him, and a peal tablet records a peal with him in 1845 at St. Nicholas' Church. For the Norwich Diocesan Association he had rung 60 peals and one peal on handbells. The total of his peals was about 85.

The funeral took place on May 7th in the St. Nicholas' Churchyard, and was attended by his four sons, daughter, daughters-in-law and grandchildren. Representing the association were Messrs. A. L. Coleman (vice-president), F. Nolan Golden (general secretary), W. J. Lee (chairman, East Norfolk Branch, and member of St. Nicholas' tower), J. G. W. Harwood (secretary, East Norfolk Branch, and St. Nicholas' company), H. Tooke (secretary of North Norfolk Branch), and other ringers from Norwich, Dereham and Beccles. A plain course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells at the graveside by Messrs. N. Golden, G. Mayers, E. Goate and F. Sayer. The tower bells were rung half-muffled, and an attempt for a peal of Grandsire Caters, which was started after the funeral, came to grief after 2 hours 25 minutes' ringing.

Muffled touches were also rung at St. Andrew's, Gorleston-on-Sea, at the time of the funeral.

NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION. A CEREMONY AT LEEK.

A meeting of the North Staffordshire Association was held at Leek on May 7th, when a company of 40 attended from Burslem, Burton-on-Trent, Draycott, Derby, Hanley, Kingsley, Lawton, Longton, Leek, Newcastle, Repton, Stoke-on-Trent, Tunstall and Uttoxeter.

During the afternoon the Rev. K. W. Milward (Vicar of Leek) unveiled a peal board to commemorate the first peal of Bob Royal by the association, which was rung there on January 28th of this year.

After the unveiling the Vicar said how glad he was to be present on such an occasion, as, before this peal, he asked the ringers when they were going to ring another peal, and the answer was, 'We have no board to put it on.' He, therefore, promised them the board when they rang the next peal. He remarked upon the happy unity which existed between the ringers and the church, and said he hoped to be present on future occasions.

After tea had been partaken of, the association was welcomed by the Vicar, to whom a vote of thanks was passed, as well as to the ringers for the hearty welcome they had given the visitors. This was proposed by Mr. Thomas Hurd and seconded by Mr. Edward Steele, the latter remarking that Leek was the cream of the meetings in North Staffordshire.

The ladies who had so kindly served tea were thanked by Mr. Henry Carnwell.

A letter of apology was received by the secretary from Mr. J. E. Wheeldon, who was unable to attend the meeting owing to the illness of his wife.—Hope was expressed for her speedy recovery.

The secretary (Mr. Andrew Thompson) has been a member of the association for five years, and he had the pleasure of saying that he had not missed a meeting. It would be a great thing if other young ringers would try to attend every meeting.

Three members were elected, viz., the Rev. K. W. Milward and Mr. Charles Herd, churchwarden of Leek, as honorary members, and Mr. D. F. Ferguson, of Repton, as a life member.

changes in the rules had materially altered the constitution of the association

Strong disapproval was expressed that such views should have been offered, in view of the fact that the rules had been freely adopted by the majority of the association's members.

A cordial vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar of Chislehurst for the use of the bells, for the service and address; to the organist and choir, and to the chairman.

This concluded the business, and the company returned to the tower for further ringing.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION. VISIT TO HISTORIC VILLAGE.

The popularity of the Tonbridge district meetings was again evidenced when the second quarterly meeting of the year was held at Haver on May 7th. Over 80 ringers and friends were present and 26 towers were represented. Ringers came from as far away as Chelmsford in Essex, Hastings in Sussex, Eythorne in Kent, and Croydon in Surrey.

Through the courtesy of Major the Hon. J. J. Astor, Haver Castle grounds were open to the ringers, and, of course, proved a great attraction. The gardens are for the most part laid out in the Italian style. Some 1,500 men were employed by Lord Astor on the vast operations for five years. The course of the Eden was diverted and a large lake of 40 acres was dug out.

The Castle itself was erected in 1453 by Sir Geoffrey Bullen, Lord Mayor of London.

Over the hall, with its fine panelling, and minstrels' gallery, is a gallery (100ft. by 14ft.) with a deeply recessed window, connected with Henry VIII's love-making.

Among the treasures in the Castle are the Papal Bull, refusing the divorce between Katharine of Aragon and Henry VIII.

The six bells in the thirteenth century church tower were kept going in the standard methods under the leadership of the Master, Mr. E. J. Ladd.

Tea was partaken of in the Henry VIII. Hotel.

The business meeting which followed was presided over by Mr. E. H. Lewis. One new member was elected, Miss Dorothy Bevan, of Shipbourne.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Rector (the Rev. F. W. Lace) for kindly conducting the service and allowing the use of the bells, to Miss Rucroft for playing the organ, to Major the Hon. J. J. Astor, to Mr. E. H. Lewis for presiding at the meeting, and to Mr. G. Edwards for making all the arrangements.

FOURTEEN NEW MEMBERS FROM NORTHFLEET.

A very enjoyable meeting of the Rochester District was held at Northfleet on Saturday, May 7th. The day was fine and a good number of members attended. Ringing was well under way shortly after 3 o'clock. Service was conducted by the Rev. F. A. Page, with the choir leading the singing. Thanks to the kindness and generosity of the Northfleet band and their friends, tea was provided in the School-room and this was very much enjoyed and appreciated.

Prior to the business meeting, touches of Stedman Triples were rung on handbells, after which Mr. Butcher's troop of young people entertained the ringers with a selection of familiar tunes from music specially written by him for handbells. His interest and enthusiasm on behalf of the young ringers will inevitably result in establishing a strong band for Northfleet in the very near future.

The business meeting, presided over by the Vicar, was of a routine character, but one item of an unusual nature was the election of 14 members from one tower, Northfleet, twelve of these (boys and girls) being under 16 years of age.

Cliffe-at-Hoo was chosen as the place for the next quarterly meeting in July.

Following the meeting the tower bells were again set in motion, and were kept going in methods to suit the tastes of the varying grades of ringers until well after 9 p.m.

WHY THE VENUE OF A DISTRICT MEETING WAS CHANGED.

The quarterly meeting of the Lewisham District was held at the Church of the Annunciation, Chislehurst, on Saturday, April 30th. Some 40 members, representative of almost every tower in the district, attended and took part in ringing all the standard methods during the afternoon and evening.

Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Canon Greaves), who gave an interesting address, refreshingly novel in subject matter and delivery.

Tea was served in St. Mary's Hall, after which the business meeting was held. Pressure of duties prevented the Vicar from presiding, and Mr. W. R. Rawlings was elected to the chair.

The elections of two members in the tower previous to peals at Crayford were ratified.

Mr. F. J. Cullum read a report of proceedings at the committee meeting held at Margate on Easter Monday. This report was adopted, with a vote of thanks to Mr. Cullum for preparing it, regret being expressed that indisposition prevented Mr. W. Smith (on whose behalf the chairman tendered apologies) from being present at either Margate or Chislehurst.

Bexley was suggested as the place of the summer meeting, to be held on Saturday, July 23rd.

Mr. Cullum reminded the members that any business for the attention of the November committee meeting must be tabled in time for consideration at the July meeting, which would also be the last opportunity to apply the new procedure sanctioned by the rules to elect district officers by tower representation or plebiscite, if so desired.

Questioned as to why this meeting was held at Chislehurst instead of at the place originally selected, the district secretary read correspondence he had received from the incumbent declining to grant the use of his bells for such a purpose, following the advice tendered by the captain of his ringers, who was of the opinion that recent

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

'CANNED' BELLS: THE COUNCIL'S OPPORTUNITY.

The Central Council is to have the opportunity, if it wishes, of considering the question of the broadcasting of records of bells from churches, at the meeting to be held on Whitsun Tuesday at Leeds. It is a matter of far-reaching importance, and the motion which has been tabled by the Rev. Herbert Drake should be welcome for the opportunity it will give of considering the subject in all its bearings—and these are many. It should be welcomed, in view of the fact that the agenda is not a long one, and that the matter is really one of some urgency if the tendency to install apparatus for broadcasting is to be resisted. The more the practice grows the more difficult will it be to make effective protest.

Ringers are, of course, whole-heartedly against the introduction of 'canned' bells, and the greatest danger which they can foresee is the threat that in future church builders will be content to provide only flimsy towers and install amplifiers, in order to save cost, instead of doing as their forefathers have done, erect towers of sufficient strength to carry a peal of bells hung for ringing as they should be. In the instance which has brought this subject specially under public notice, the use of bell records at a church in Weymouth, it has been urged that the tower could not possibly stand the strain of ringing bells, and, that being the case, it is better to reproduce by mechanical device the sounds of other bells rather than submit the public to the monotonous chiming of a single bell. Maybe there is something to be said for that point of view, but only in so far as it is a relief to the public ear, but the real fault is an earlier one, that when the builders planned the church they planned cheaply and without a full realisation of what is due to God in such an undertaking. What is needed is that those responsible for the building of churches should realise that they are planning not only for the present, but for the centuries, and that if the best cannot be provided all at once, it is better to do the work piecemeal, so that the completed structure may be worthy of the high cause for which it is brought into existence.

That is one aspect of the question, but the Rev. H. Drake's motion brings out another and no less important—the fact that the ringing of the bells is in itself an act of worship; that ringing is a personal service to the Church; and that therefore the substitution of 'synthetic' bells is a trickery to which the Church should be no party, inasmuch as it publishes a pretence to the world that men are in the church performing an act of worship. In addition, the motion points out the absurdities which may be produced by the use of records. These are grounds which church authorities should seriously take into account when considering such installations, and if the Council can do anything to influence those who are responsible for authorising these innovations they will be doing good service in the maintenance of the historic use of bells, the contribution which thousands of men and women are making Sunday by Sunday to worship and the art of ringing. The motions will allow the subject to be discussed from every angle, and it is to be hoped some effective action may be the outcome.

PEAL NOTES.

MEMORIAL PEAL AT ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL.

The Ancient Society of College Youths paid a tribute to their late hon. secretary, Mr. W. T. Cockerill, by ringing a half-muffled peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Paul's Cathedral on Saturday.

Mr. A. E. Sharman, of Dunstable, hon. secretary of the Bedfordshire Association, rang his one hundredth peal for the association and his fiftieth peal with Miss Evelyn Steel, on May 14th, at Dunstable, when he called a peal of Double Norwich Major, composed by a former well-known Bedford ringer, John W. Barker.

The Bristol Rural Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Guild has as its chairman (Mr. H. Benson) and its secretary (Mr. C. Gifford) members of Coalpit Heath tower, and this belfry also supplies this year's chairman of the Bristol United Ringing Guilds. To commemorate this 'record,' a peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung at Coalpit Heath on May 7th, in which these three ringers took part. The peal was also a wedding compliment to Mr. Benson.

To celebrate the laying of the foundation stone of the new Church of St. Mary, Gravesend, a peal of Superlative Surprise Major was rung at St. George's in this ancient Thames-side borough on May 14th. Walter H. Dobbie scored his first Surprise peal. He is the son of Mr. Stanley B. Dobbie, who was also in the peal.

We have not had long to wait for the first peal on the new bells at Staverton, Northants. It was rung on May 14th, and three clergy took part. We wonder if this is the first time that a Vicar and his wife have rung a peal together in their own tower? The Rev. E. S. and Mrs. Powell rang in this one.

Mr. Tony Price, of Feltham, Middlesex, rang his 200th peal when he called seven extents in different Minor methods at Middleton Cheney, Northants. The bells there are a six with a tenor of nearly 23 cwt. in D.

The bells of Croft, Leicestershire, were dedicated in May, 1928, and to commemorate the tenth anniversary a peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung on them on May 7th.

Mr. Pat Cannon takes a delight in hunting out towers where he can ring the first peal on the bells. He has netted two recently in Hampshire.

On Saturday, May 7th, he called the first peal on the bells at Barton Stacey, which was rung as a compliment to Mr. George Williams on his 81st birthday. Five of the bells date from 1725, the treble having been added in 1934 by Messrs. Taylor and Co.

Eling, near Southampton, has had a ring of six bells since 1775, when they were installed by Messrs. Pack and Chapman. The first peal on them was called by Mr. Cannon on May 11th.

We do not know if there is any official connection between St. Mary's, Eling, and St. Mary's, Ealing, Middlesex, but there was a connecting link in the peal, for one of the ringers was Mr. Alan Pink, of Ealing. It was Reginald Reed's 50th peal.

The half-muffled peal of Surprise Minor rung at South Kirkby, Yorks, on May 7th, in memory of the late Mr. F. Clarke, hon. secretary of the Southern Division of the Yorkshire Association, had the bells open at backstroke, so that the part-ends could be heard distinctly. It was the first peal of Surprise Minor on the bells.

Miss Hall, of Broughton Hall, Staffs, was among the debutantes presented at the first Court of the season this year at Buckingham Palace. A peal of Stedman Triples in honour of the event was rung at Broughton Church on May 14th by members of the North Staffordshire Association.

The first peal on the bells at Bishampton, Worcestershire, since they were recently rehung in a new frame by Messrs. Taylor and Co. was rung by a visiting band on May 7th. It enabled that veteran, Mr. Harry Middleton, of Norton, Evesham, to fulfil an almost life-long ambition—to ring a peal in the village where he had so many youthful associations. Previous attempts, over a long period, were always frustrated by the state of the tower and bells. Harry Middleton is now happy.

It was his first peal in seven Treble Bob methods, as, also, it was by Mr. James Hemming, who, incidentally, completed his second century.

The local ringers at Bishampton are agricultural workers and are badly in need of a set of handbells to facilitate learning change ringing. If anyone has a set to spare it would be an act of considerable kindness if they would make a gift of them to Bishampton tower. The Vicar (the Rev. Thomas Wilkinson) will be grateful to receive any correspondence on the matter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pickering, of Bishopwearmouth, Sunderland, celebrate their silver wedding this year, and on May 14th at Bishopwearmouth Church, where Mr. Pickering has been a ringer for 35 years, a peal of Bob Major was rung in honour of the event.

Derek Rugg, of Halvergate, Norfolk, has rung his first peal at the age of 13 years. He is a service ringer at his Parish Church, and he rang the treble to 42 extents of Grandsire Doubles. Mr. Henry Tooke, who called the peal, has now rung peals of Grandsire from Doubles to Cinques.

A peal in 12 Minor methods was rung at Horsham St. Faith, Norfolk, on May 12th, the first time a peal in more than three methods has been rung there.

Four members of the Vessey family—two brothers and two sisters—rang in a peal in seven Minor methods at Barnby-in-the-Willows, Notts, on May 10th. Miss Dorothy Vessey and Mr. Jack L. Millhouse rang their 25th peal together.

Mr. Dan Cooper rang the 2nd to a peal of Grandsire Caters at Beddington, Surrey, on May 14th, and thus completed circling the tower twice to peals.

This peal was Mrs. Fred Collins' first and Mr. E. J. Ladd's 75th. Mrs. Collins has learned to ring since her marriage. Her husband was formerly a bellhanger for the Croydon Foundry, but now that he has 'settled down' he has found his wife an apt pupil in the belfry.

The first peal on the ring of six at Cookham, Berks, for eight years was rung on May 14th, and it was the first peal in seven methods on the bells, two of which were cast in 1638. Two of the local band, Mr. T. J. Fowler and his son, Ronald, took part, and the remainder came from St. Peter's Society, Burnham.

Another peal of St. Clement's College Bob has been rung. It is one of the interesting plain Major methods in the Central Council's 'Collection.' This time it has been rung at Great Bardfield, and five of the band rang their first peal in the method.

The first peal of London Surprise Major at Great Waltham, Essex, was a birthday compliment to Mr. George Green.

There were 170 changes of method in the fourteen-method peal of Minor rung at Elsham, Lincs, on May 12th.

In the peal of Stedman Caters rung at St. Magnus', London Bridge, on April 16th, the number of changes should have been given as 5,031, not 5,021 as published.

BOB MINOR 'ALL THE WAY.'

Ringling Bob Minor all the way has its compensations when it is the means of giving others a 'lift.' At Shelsley Beauchamp on Saturday, May 14th, two of the Hartlebury ringers, A. W. Glazzard and W. H. Turner, jun., rang their first peal of Minor at the first attempt, and, judging by the way they acquitted themselves, it will not be long before they take another 'step up the ladder.'

Shelsley Beauchamp is a village outside active ringing circles in Worcestershire, and possesses a newly-formed 'stone' band. If wishes count for anything they will soon be members of the association, and their desire to learn 'method' ringing will then be catered for by the facilities offered. Visiting such outlying places gives ringers a change of scenery, and is often the means whereby a little missionary work is done.

Mr. R. J. Houghton has now 'circled' Tempsford tower (Bedfordshire) in peals of Minor.

Mr. George Creasey has just rung his first peal of Royal, and thus completed peals of Plain Bob from Doubles to Maximus. This last peal, rung at St. Mary's, Nottingham, on May 14th, was the first peal of Royal on the bells since they were recast and rehung by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston. The tenor is 37 cwt.

The fiftieth peal on the bells at Eastwood, Yorks, was also the quickest. It was a 5,152 of Little Bob Major and was rung in 2 hours 46 minutes on May 16th. It was a birthday compliment to Mrs. J. E. Turley, whose husband took part in the peal.

Mr. Robert Edwards, of Tenterden, Kent, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his first peal by taking part in a peal of Stedman Triples in his own tower on May 16th. The peal was also a birthday compliment to the grandson of Mr. H. S. Humphrey.

Mr. Thomas Williams, of Brierley Hill, Staffs, rang his first peal of Stedman on May 19th in celebration of his silver wedding. The peal was rung by the Worcestershire Association at his own church.

A peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Martin's, Birmingham, on May 17th, was a birthday compliment to Mr. D. T. Matkin. Mr. Bill Thomas, of Bristol, in Birmingham on business, heard part of the peal, in company with Mr. Albert Walker, from a spot not far from the church. Afterwards it transpired that it was also Bill's birthday, and the 'double event' was duly celebrated by the majority of the band.

The royal visit to Lancashire last week was marked by the ringing of church bells in many places. At Halewood a peal of Stedman Triples was rung on the Thursday. Mr. J. W. Gardner, who rang the 2nd, has now circled this tower in peals.

The peal of Kent Treble Bob Major at Hilgay, Norfolk, on April 19th, was rung for the Ely Diocesan Association.

VETERAN YORKSHIRE RINGER'S DEATH.

MEMBER OF FORMER PRIZE RINGING BAND.

A well-known personality of former prize ringing contests has passed away in the person of Mr. Sam Hemmingfield, of Ecclesfield, Yorkshire.

His father being a ringer, it was only natural that Sam should follow him, which he did, both as ringer and as host of the White Bear Inn, in front of which the feast, or fair, used to be held in the village square.

Sam also took part in various sports, amongst them the annual football match between Ecclesfield and Pitsmoor, the respective goals being the tollbars at Ecclesfield Common and Pitsmoor—a distance of about three miles. In those days the traffic question had not appeared and there was plenty of 'rough and tumble' in the game.

Mr. Hemmingfield joined the Yorkshire Association in 1885 and was a 'starred' life member. Though only taking part in four peals, he was a member of the Ecclesfield company that took part in many contests in those early days, when it took two and three days to attend a competition. Of a genial disposition, he could relate many amusing anecdotes about ringing, etc.

Unfortunately, he was stricken with partial blindness about 20 years ago, and this gradually increased until total blindness ensued, but under this terrible affliction he was patient, resigned and uncomplaining. The end came to a long life at the age of 87.

The interment took place on Saturday, May 14th, and was attended by numerous relatives and friends and there were many floral tributes.

A 720 of Oxford Treble Bob was rung in the tower with muffled bells by the following of his colleagues: D. Greaves 1, Gordon Wild 2, Oliver Coward (conductor) 3, W. Kitson 4, J. Myers 5, J. Greaves 6.

A course of Grandsire Triples on handbells by the graveside was rung by Yorkshire Association members as a last token of respect.

CHIDDINGFOLD VETERAN'S BIRTHDAY.

On Monday, May 9th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Chiddingfold, Surrey, for the 80th birthday of Mr. Thomas Attwell: A. E. Brown (first quarter-peal) 1, M. Smither 2, G. Wootton 3, G. Arrowsmith (first 'inside') 4, ex-P.S. F. C. Hagley 5, H. Mullah 6, A. J. Bartlett (conductor) 7, E. Worsdell (first quarter-peal) 8.

Mr. Attwell, although now unable to hear well enough to ring, never misses a practice despite the rather high stone steps and somewhat difficult climb to the tower.

The ringers drank 'the health of Mr. and Mrs. Attwell' at their home after the ringing, and, of course, wished the veteran many 'happy returns of the day.'

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We are glad to say that Mr. Albert Walker is making excellent recovery from his illness and has been able to join in service ringing at St. Martin's Church, Birmingham. After having demonstrated that he could ring Stedman Cinques, he was 'duly elected' a member of St. Martin's Guild—not for the first time.

'Special ringing, £1 10s. Ale for ringers, 9s.' That is not an extract from some ancient churchwarden's accounts, but an extract from a balance sheet for the year 1937, hanging in a church porch in the Midlands. There are only three bells at this church, but, perhaps, there was more than one ringing occasion.

The quarterly meeting of the Winchester District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, which was to have been held on June 11th at Ropley, has been postponed to June 25th, owing to the absence from home of the Vicar.

A NEW 'STEDMAN.'

In a few days a new 'Stedman' will be on sale in the popular Snowdon series. The original work, published in 1903, served a great purpose, but it was rather 'heavy going' for the ordinary ringer. Mr. J. A. Trollope has entirely rewritten the book, but his fluency of style and his gift of simple explanation have enabled him to reduce the size (in number of words) to about half that of the first edition. Readers will find that nothing material has been sacrificed for the saving of space—indeed, as a work of practical value, the reduction is more than justified by its clarity.

It covers all the ground from instruction for ringing and conducting the method on five bells and upwards to an explanation of the proof and composition. Numerous touches and peals are given, and Jasper Snowdon's history of the method has been edited and brought up to date.

The new book will be on sale on June 1st and may be obtained, post free, for 2s. 10d., from Miss M. E. Snowdon, Cartmel, Lancs.

THE MEMORIAL TO THE LATE MR. J. J. PARKER.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The proposed memorial to the late Mr. Joseph J. Parker is progressing. The eight bells of St. Mary's, Farnham Royal, are to be retuned, the frame strengthened and ball bearings fitted throughout. The peal of eight were completed at the Diamond Jubilee in 1893, when Mr. Parker himself was almost entirely responsible for hanging the two extra bells.

The estimated cost of the memorial is £217, but since that estimate a crack has been located in the fourth bell, which entails an extra cost of about £21 for recasting.

Up to date the amount subscribed towards the memorial is about half the required sum. This has been raised almost entirely by local subscriptions and the Easter offering, which was kindly given to us.

The local branch of the Diocesan Guild have voted a substantial sum towards the memorial, and there is a further recommendation to the General Fund.

But we need help from other guilds and associations, and from all the individual bellringers who knew Mr. Parker or appreciate the work he did. If all those who had rung in a peal composed by J. J. Parker (Oxford Bob Triples or Parker's twelve-part Grandsire Triples) would contribute one or two shillings, the money would be raised, and at the same time make the memorial a truly 'national' memorial, which we are so anxious to do.

I have already received a generous donation from the Scottish Association, which shows that Parker's name was not confined to England. I would like to thank the members of that association for their support.

I hope no bellringer or society of bellringers throughout the country will miss this opportunity of expressing their appreciation of the tremendous work the late Mr. J. J. Parker has done. If we never show our appreciation, the bond of unity and friendship will weaken, but if for a friend we make some sacrifice, the bond will be strengthened and will last for ever.

Donations towards the memorial may be sent to A. D. Barker (hon. treasurer, Oxford Diocesan Guild), 'Cambridge,' Wexham, Slough, Bucks, or to

R. A. CRAWLEY-BOEVEY

(Hon. Treasurer, J. J. Parker Memorial Fund).

Farnham Royal Rectory, Slough, Bucks.

THE MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I was sorry to see that, in reporting the annual meeting of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild, you omitted to mention my suggestion that in arranging next year's annual meeting an endeavour should be made to hold at least the service in St. Paul's Cathedral. The suggestion was made in all sincerity and in view of the fact that some of us churchmen in London do feel a sense of loyalty to the great diocese to which we belong. This is also the chief reason for the affiliation of the belfry in which I ring to the recognised Diocesan Guild. I should be glad, therefore, if you would publish this brief letter so that those members who were absent from the meeting may know the feelings of those present, who seemed to be in favour of the proposal.

E M. ATKINS.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—20.

EDITH K. FLETCHER.

Foremost among the lady members of the Exercise is Mrs. Edith Kate Fletcher, who combines with her extraordinary skill as a ringer remarkable ability as a conductor. In this latter capacity particularly she is outstanding among her sex. Ringing, with her, is an hereditary gift. Born at Crawley, Sussex, on November 12th, 1891, she is the daughter of Mr. James Parker, at that time conductor of the famous Crawley band. Mr. Parker was unable to induce either of his sons to take up the art, but he found an apt pupil in his daughter, and, in some directions, as he will be the first to admit, she has easily outstripped her parent.

Mrs. Fletcher was taught to ring at Edmonton in 1908—at a time when ladies were only just beginning to take an interest in the art, and her first peal was one of Superlative Surprise Major on May 1st, 1909, while a year later, on June 11th, 1910, she conducted her first peal—Stedman Triples from a non-observation bell. Shortly afterwards she called Superlative Surprise Major and London Surprise Major, the former at her old home, Crawley, where her father had done so much in pioneering Surprise ringing.

Before the war, Edith K. Parker, as she then was, had conducted 46 peals, including in 1912 her first peal 'in hand,' when she rang 5-6 to Grandsire Triples, and the first peal by a band of eight ladies, rung at Cubitt Town, London, also in 1912. It was this achievement that led to the formation of the Ladies' Guild later in the same year, and Miss Parker was the obvious choice for the post of secretary, an office which she has filled with unflagging zeal and, if possible, growing enthusiasm ever since.

Mrs. Fletcher has now rung 314 peals in 41 different methods, or in a method on different numbers of bells, while the number which she has conducted is 119, in seventeen different methods, ranging from Grandsire Triples to Cambridge Surprise Maximus, for seventeen associations. Before she was 21 she called a peal of Stedman Cinques at Birmingham. She has conducted six peals on handbells, including Stedman Cinques from 3-4, while for the Ladies' Guild she has called the first peals of Stedman Triples, Stedman Caters, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major and Double Norwich Court Bob Major. Among her other achievements have been to ring Lincoln Cathedral tenor (24 cwt.) to a peal of Stedman Cinques, and the 30 cwt. tenor at Wedmore, Somerset, to a peal of Stedman Triples.

Her services to ringing in other directions have been extensive. She has been a member of the Central Council as the representative of the Ladies' Guild since 1915, and has served on a number of committees. She is convener of the Analysis and Records Committee, whose task goes on week by week throughout the year, and in connection with this committee's work she is typing the details of all the early compositions. As a member of the Peals Collection Committee it has been her labour that has enabled typed volumes of all the compositions of Treble Bob to be placed in the Council's library, while since her husband, Mr. George W. Fletcher, has been hon. secretary of the Council, she has been the unofficial, but highly efficient, assistant secretary. The work which Mrs. Fletcher is doing behind the scenes for the Exercise is as prodigious as it is valuable.

Next week: Mr. Robert Matthews.

DIFFICULTIES OF BEGINNERS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Will you kindly allow me a little of your valuable space to ask a question? I have been a ringer for just over eight months now, but have great difficulty in picking up 'rope-sight.'

We have a very fine ring of eight here, tenor 20 cwt., which we are endeavouring to keep going for all services. We are a band of learners with only the one instructor. I may say in appreciation of him that we could not wish for a better, but, owing to the fact that we have unavoidably had to start on Triples the 'rope-sight' seems a thing of the far distant future. I feel sure that there must be many other beginners in the same position as myself. Is there anything that you can do for us in the way of help?

E. F. M. SAMSON.

MRS. E. K. FLETCHER.

'SYNTHETIC' BELLS.

RESOLUTIONS FOR THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.
To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In reference to Mr. Frampton's letter, it may be of interest that I have sent the accompanying resolutions to be added to the report to the Central Council of the Towers and Belfries Committee.

H. DRAKE.

RESOLUTIONS.

1. The ringing of church bells before divine service has never been considered a mere mechanical device, similar or in addition to a clock. It is an act of worship by a certain number of churchworkers, solemnly preparatory to further worship, and proportionate in value to the number of workers and to the care employed. It may be compared to the voluntary on the organ, and more than the latter requires thorough practice at least once a week.

2. Records of change ringing are useful for instruction or for broadcasting. But as they do not fulfil any of the conditions of personal ringing, they ought not to be used to commence a service of divine worship. Furthermore they publish to the world a pretence that eight men or more are in that church making an act of worship. Also they lend themselves to tricks, which to those who know something of ringing (and they are many) sound absurdly impossible. To prevent a church making itself ridiculous, records should only be manipulated by a skilled ringer. But if a man is really skilful enough to know what is possible, he will be wanting to ring a real bell elsewhere.

3. These objections do not apply to records of carillon music. Moreover, a musician sufficiently experienced to handle such records satisfactorily can often be found. Therefore, when permission is given for instruments using records to be installed, it should be stipulated that records of change ringing should never be heard from a church.

4. The above shall be sent to every diocesan bishop, archdeacon and chancellor.

THE CANON ELSEE MEMORIAL.

The quarterly meeting of the Manchester Branch of the Lancashire Association was held at Stretford on Saturday, May 21st. Service was conducted by the Rev. Canon Horrocks, assisted by the Rev. F. Bonner. Memories were awakened of the dedication of St. Matthew's bells when the ringers had in their midst the late Canon Elsee, and the members recalled his untiring devotion to the Lancashire Association.

At the tea and business meeting the chair was taken by the Rev. F. Bonner, who welcomed the ringers to Stretford.

Mr. F. Reynolds was elected as branch president, and the chairman made reference to the appeal for the late Canon Elsee's memorial. He said he was pleased to note the way in which other associations and guilds had responded. As the closing date was very close at hand, it would be most unfortunate if anyone found that they had overlooked the opportunity of playing their part. It was their privilege and they owed it to the memory of their late president.

Votes of thanks were passed to Canon Horrocks, the organist and local ringers, to the chairman, who responded on behalf of all concerned.

About 30 members kept the bells going to Cambridge, Double Norwich and all standard methods until 9.30 p.m.

WARWICKSHIRE VETERANS

DEATHS OF TWO FORMER CHILVERS COTON RINGERS.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Henry Reader, a former churchwarden, of Chilvers Coton, who was also head ringer for a number of years, and was among those instrumental in augmenting the bells from three to eight in 1908. He was 85 years of age and had taken no active part in ringing for a number of years. During the war period he taught a band of ladies to ring, the only active member now left being Mrs. D. E. Beamish, hon. secretary of the Warwickshire Guild.

The bells were rung half-muffled on the Sunday following the interment. Included in the touches was 1,008 Grandsire Triples for evening service. Prior to raising the bells, the band stood in silence for a few moments.

Only a short time after Mr. Reader's death his wife (who had been too ill to attend the funeral of her husband) also passed away.

The death of Mr. 'Ted' Moreton occurred last week after a long and painful illness. He was associated with Mr. Reader in the early struggles to raise a band at Coton. His son, Mr. J. E. Moreton, is the present head ringer at Coton. The ringers stood for a few moments in silence before raising the bells, which were again half-muffled, and as a last token of respect a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung for evening service by E. Askill 1, H. Harris 2, C. E. Rayson 3, Mrs. D. E. Beamish 4, A. H. Beamish 5, J. Gibbons 6, J. Draycott (conductor) 7, P. Yates 8.

Following the interment of Mrs. Reader on Monday, May 23rd, 1,120 changes of Cambridge Surprise Major were rung with the bells half-muffled by Mrs. M. Billington 1, *J. E. Moreton 2, *C. E. Rayson 3, Mrs. D. E. Beamish 4, J. Draycott 5, *J. Gibbons 6, *H. Harris 7, A. H. Beamish (conductor) 8. *Longest touch of Surprise.

A JOINT MEETING BY THAMES-SIDE. MIDDLESEX AND LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATIONS AT CHISWICK.

A pleasant and successful joint meeting of the South and West District of the Middlesex County Association and the Southern District of the London County Association was held at St. Nicholas' Church, Chiswick, on Saturday, May 21st. This beautiful church, by the side of the Thames, close to the famous Chiswick Mall with its associations with Thackeray and Vanity Fair, and the burial place of Hogarth and other famous people, made an ideal setting for a meeting on a beautiful May afternoon, and proved a great attraction.

About 40 members and friends were present from Barnes, Battersea (St. Mary's), Bishopsgate (St. Botolph's), Chelsea (St. Luke's), Chiswick, Duffield, Derby, Ealing (Christ Church, St. Mary's and St. Stephen's), Egham, Erdington, Birmingham, Fulmer, Heston, Hillingdon (St. John's), Hollingbourne, Isleworth, Kensington (St. Mary Abbott's), Kingston-on-Thames, Putney, Ruislip, Uxbridge, Westminster (St. Stephen's) and Twickenham. Methods rung ranged from Grandsire and Stedman Triples to Cambridge and Superlative Surprise, some good touches being brought round under the supervision of Mr. J. Herbert, Ringing Master.

A short service was held in the church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. R. Rich, M.A.), who gave an address of welcome to those present, and commented upon the improvement in the ringing and attendances at his own church, which gave him much satisfaction.

Tea was held in the Church Hall, presided over by the Vicar, supported by the vice-president (Mr. J. A. Trollope). There was no official business meeting, but during the proceedings the Vicar, who had been handed a report, upon which he made favourable comment, mentioned that he would like to give his support to the association by becoming an honorary member, and was duly elected with acclamation.

Some correspondence was read by the secretary, who also announced that the next meeting was fixed for Sunbury-on-Thames on June 25th.

A vote of sympathy with Mr. J. S. Goldsmith in his sad bereavement was passed, those present standing in silence.

A welcome to the London County Association was expressed by Mr. J. Herbert.

The usual votes of thanks to the Vicar, the local company and the ladies who had provided tea, were passed with acclamation.

Handbell ringing followed the tea, and afterwards further ringing took place at the church until 8 p.m.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

CHANGE OF PRESIDENT.

Leeds and District Amalgamated Society entered upon its jubilee year on April 30th, when the 49th annual general meeting was held at Leeds Parish Church. The start of ringing was delayed owing to the funeral of Dr. Maxwell Telling, a prominent citizen of Leeds, and time for ringing was further curtailed because of a special meeting in the Church Rooms.

The business meeting was held in the tower at 8 p.m. after ringing had ceased. The retiring president (Mr. W. H. Senior) occupied the chair, and members were present from Armley, Batley, Bradford Cathedral, Burley, Birstall, Bramley, Drighlington, Guiseley, Headingley (St. Chad's and St. Michael's), Hemingbrough, Holbeck, Idle, Pudsey, Rothwell, Sherburn, Selby, Shipley, Elland, Hunslet and the local company.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and the local company was proposed by Mr. W. Barton, seconded by Mr. H. Jones and acknowledged by Mr. H. Smith.

The balance sheet showed a net total of £20 14s. 6d. carried forward.

The report of the hon. secretary (Mr. H. Lofthouse) gave the membership as 249. Eleven ringing meetings had been held during the year and all were fairly well attended. The secretary, adapting the words of one of Yorkshire's and England's cricketers, added, 'It is harder to keep on top than it is to get on top, and as our society is one of the leading district societies, every endeavour should be made by the members to keep the society in the highest class. We are now approaching our 50th birthday, and it is our earnest desire that we make this year a year to be remembered.'

Mr. Senior, in proposing that the balance sheet and report be accepted, said the details pointing to the excellent state of their society were due to the work of the secretary during the past 14 years. Considering the small area covered by the society and that the subscription is only 6d. per member, the results showed very efficient management. Their thanks were due to the secretary for his work.—This was seconded by Mr. F. Rayment and agreed to.

On the proposal of Mr. H. Barton, and seconded by Mr. Helliwell, the following officers were elected: President, the Rev. J. H. B. Andrews, M.A.; three vice-presidents, Messrs. W. H. Senior, T. W. Strangeway and S. Barron; Ringing Master, Mr. L. Drake; secretary and treasurer, Mr. H. Lofthouse.

Mr. F. Rayment proposed a vote of thanks to the retiring president and other officers, and spoke of the good work and regular attendance at meetings of Mr. Senior during the past eight years.—Mr. Barton seconded.

A vote of thanks was also accorded to the auditors.

Methods rung during the day were Bob Major and Royal, Stedman Triples and Caters, Grandsire Caters, Double Norwich Court Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Major and Superlative Surprise.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

A SPLENDID RECORD.

The annual meeting of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild was held at Lincoln on 'Fair Saturday,' April 30th, when the twelve bells of the Cathedral and the two six-bell towers of St. Peter-at-Gowts and St. Botolph's were open for ringing during the afternoon and evening. A special service was held in the Morning Chapel of the Cathedral, conducted by the Sub-Dean (Canon H. Larken). Close on a hundred members and friends gathered at the Co-operative Hall for tea, after which the business meeting was held, the Dean of Lincoln being in the chair.

The officers were all re-elected, namely, the Very Rev. R. A. Mitchell (Dean of Lincoln), president; Mr. Rupert Richardson, Master; Mr. F. W. Stokes, hon. secretary and treasurer.

The report and balance sheet were unanimously adopted. Commenting on the report, the Master congratulated the Guild on their splendid record for the year 1937. Although slightly fewer peals had been rung than in the previous year (105 as against 115), he thought that the quality of the performances had been more than maintained. No less than 14 peals of Surprise Major had been rung, including four of London, one of Bristol, one of Superlative, four of Cambridge, one each of Yorkshire, Lincolnshire and Norfolk, and one of spliced London, Bristol, Superlative and Cambridge. The four last named were the first in each case by the Guild. Other new Major methods rung were Wymondham Bob and Spliced St. Clement's and Crayford Bob. During the year the spliced Minor record had been lost to the Chester Diocesan Guild, who rang a peal in 74 methods, but the record was regained in December by the Eastern Branch with a peal in no less than 80 methods. Seventeen ringers rang their first peal.

Mention was made by the chairman of the illness of Archdeacon Parry, president of the Northern Branch, and the secretary was asked to convey to him the sympathy of the meeting, with all good wishes for a complete recovery.

After tea the towers were again visited, the Cathedral belfry in particular being 'full up' until the bells were finally set up at nine o'clock.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

THE 'NOISE' PROBLEM AT ASHTEAD.

A good meeting was enjoyed at Ashted on Saturday, May 7th, when nearly 40, including the Master, hon. secretary and the hon. treasurer of the Guild, with other visitors from Chertsey, Guildford, Haslemere and different parts of London, and members from six district towers, assembled at what was once a favourite 'peal tower.' But times changed and complaints from new residents near the church made the bells difficult to get, until just recently, when the louvers were boarded up. This proved too effective, and complaints were then received from the older inhabitants that they could not hear the bells ringing. Now the boarding has been made adjustable, and it is hoped that everybody's wishes will be met.

The Rector (the Rev. E. J. Austin) conducted the Guild's service and gave a short talk, in which he welcomed the ringers to Ashted, saying how he loved to hear the bells, and hoped the meeting would perhaps stir up more local interest.

Tea was served at the Brewery Inn, where Miss Sayers, of an old ringing family, amply catered for the excess of notifications.

For the short business meeting the chair was taken by the Master (Major J. H. B. Hesse). A suggestion by Mr. James, that a printed circular would be of help in approaching likely honorary members, met with approval, and it was left to the officers to draft a suitable one for printing.

Apart from that there was no other important business, and the proceedings closed with a hearty vote of thanks to all who had helped to make a successful meeting, the Rector, the organist and Mr. G. Cook, who made the arrangements.

Ringing then continued until 9 o'clock, the methods ranging from Grandsire Triples to Bristol Surprise Major.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

STOCKPORT BRANCH AT MOSSLEY.

A meeting of the Stockport Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild was held at St. George's Church, Mossley, on April 30th. The bells were busily employed from early in the afternoon. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. F. Southworth), who also gave a striking address, basing his remarks on the quotation, 'A threefold cord is not easily broken.' If, he said, we were to base our lives on the three commandments of Jesus Christ, viz., to love God, to love our neighbour, and to love our enemies, we would find that this threefold cord of religion would not easily be broken.

After service some time was spent examining the church, which is a very beautiful building and well kept. Tea was served in the adjoining schools, and some 32 members and friends enjoyed an excellent meal.

The business meeting followed under the chairmanship of the Vicar, who very heartily welcomed the branch to Mossley. The business was mostly of a routine nature and was quickly disposed of, and the meeting closed with hearty votes of thanks to the Vicar, the local ringers, the ladies who prepared tea, the organist and all who had in any way assisted in making the meeting a success.—The Vicar and Mr. Garside suitably responded, and the members then adjourned to the tower for further ringing.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.*MASTER INTERPRETS M.B.W.H.

The East Berks and South Bucks Branch annual meeting was held at Slough, but some of the usual faces were absent owing to other attractions (wedding peals). Methods to suit all were rung, including the 'big four'—Superlative, Cambridge, London and Bristol.

The Deputy Master of the Guild (the Rev. O. E. Wigg) conducted the service, and the address was given by another ringer, the Rector of Beaconsfield, the Rev. R. F. R. Routh.

After tea it was discovered that the bill was settled, by 'someone.' It is remarkable in this branch how these bills are a law unto themselves. In the absence of the chairman, Sir Charles A. Bennett, the position was occupied by Mr. W. H. Fussell, vice-chairman.

Several new members were elected, including one of the N.U.T.S. (and he paid his 'sub.').

All the officers were re-elected, an especial vote being passed to re-elect the chairman, who wished to resign because he thought that he was 'not so useful now.'

A sum of seven guineas was voted towards the restoration of Farnham Royal bells, with the hope that every tower in the branch would contribute something.

Canon Coleridge, the Rev. C. E. Wigg and Mr. R. T. Hibbert all contributed towards the business. The Master, having noted certain mystic letters (M.B.W.H.) on the back of the branch secretary's report, translated them as 'Master be welcome here,' but, on noticing the time, thought of 'Master be walking home,' and straightway 'made tracks' for his taxi, followed by Tom, who was anxious to catch the same train.

Votes of thanks concluded a lengthy meeting, and, while some stayed to ring again at Slough, the majority made for Stoke Poges, where one touch came to grief through a bat in the belfry (a real one) enjoying itself dodging amongst the ropes until the light was put out to show him the door. (He went.)

The secretary was also concerned with another not too welcome visitor, but, like the bat, he was disposed of. What secretaries have to put up with might be published by the Secretaries' Association. Gae's Elegy was written in Stoke Poges Churchyard; here is a modernised version of the first stanza:—

'The curfew tolls the hour of nine p.m.,
The Lizzies (tin) fly swiftly o'er the lea,
The cyclists homeward potter after them,
And leave the bells and bats to A. D. B.'

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION AT SOUTHPORT.

The half-yearly meeting of the Lancashire Association was held at Southport on Saturday, May 7th. The bells at Christ Church were rung shortly after 2 p.m. and kept going by different hands until 4.30 p.m., when a special service, with an address of welcome, was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. L. G. Brewster). Tea was afterwards taken in the Schools at the invitation of the churchwardens, and about 70 sat down. After tea the Vicar again welcomed the ringers and friends and hoped there would be no speech-making. He set the example by being brief.

Mr. G. R. Newton expressed the thanks of all present for the way in which the visitors had been treated, then, as there was no business to transact, most of the ringers went over to Emmanuel Church to have a pull there, leaving the Parish Church short-handed. There were, however, no complaints, as Emmanuel bells, being in a residential district, are hard to get, and all, therefore, wanted to ring there. Others went to look for the sea, but the sea had gone to look for the top of Man, and was only coming back when the trains were calling the visitors home, 'stronger and more fit to render their service on the morrow, after their short service together,' as the Vicar said in his address.

NEW BELLS WELL 'SAMPLED.'*A FINE SOMERSET EIGHT.

The bells at Banwell, Somerset, which were recently augmented to eight and rehung in a new frame, were well 'sampled' on May 7th at the quarterly meeting of the Axbridge Deanery Branch of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, there being upwards of 60 ringers present, including some from Bristol, Bath and Birmingham. Mr. T. Dyke (general secretary of the association) and Mr. G. Taylor (hon. auditor) also joined the company. Service was conducted by the Rev. Powys David, the president of the branch, in the absence of the Vicar of Banwell (the Rev. Amos), who, unfortunately, was ill.

Later the tea and business meeting were held in the Old Schoolroom, the president being in the chair.

The hon. secretary (Mr. H. Minifie) announced that Shipham and Rowherrow towers wished to become members of, and affiliated to, the association, whilst Bleadon tower and members desired to be re-elected. In addition several members were admitted from Banwell and Weston-super-Mare.

It was decided that the next quarterly meeting should be held at Wedmore, Somerset, on July 30th.

Subsequently ringing was continued, the methods indulged in being mostly Cambridge, Grandsire Triples and Stedman. Banwell is fortunate in now possessing one of the finest peals in the county, and this meeting was one of the most successful ever held in the Deanery.

LINCOLN'S ANCIENT GUILD.*CLAIM TO BE THE OLDEST RINGING ASSOCIATION.

At a meeting of the Company of Ringers of Lincoln Cathedral on May 5th, the ancient origin of the society was discussed. The Dean (the Very Rev. R. A. Mitchell) congratulated the Master Ringer, Mr. J. Freeman, on entering upon his 25th year as a member of the company, and observed that the company had been in existence for 325 years. He had reason to believe that it was now the oldest association of its kind in the country. Ordinances of 'the Company of Ringers of the St. Hugh Bells in the Cathedral Church of the Blessed Virgin Mary of Lincoln,' still preserved in the muniment room of the Cathedral, were first made in the year 1612, and two years later, on September 23rd, 1614, these ordinances were confirmed and sealed by letter-patent of the Dean and Chapter. On the east wall of the Ringers' Chapel some names of the early Masters of the Company were inscribed, and the first was that of Robert Sandie, Master 1614.

'It would be interesting to know whether any other company of ringers can trace their records behind that date,' said the Dean.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.*CHANGE IN NORTH AND EAST DISTRICT SECRETARYSHIP.

A well-attended meeting of the North and East District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild took place on Saturday, May 14th, at Monken Hadley. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m., and continued, with the exception of the interval for service, tea and business meeting, under the supervision of the District Master, Mr. T. J. Lock, up to 9 p.m.

The Chairman (Mr. G. W. Fletcher), in opening the business meeting, remarked that the members would have noticed that there was a change, and he voiced the feeling of the meeting by remarking that it would not be possible to let the occasion pass without reference being made to the work that had been done for the district by the retiring hon. secretary, Mr. C. T. Coles, who had been, as they all knew, elected to the position of hon. secretary to the association, a position created under the new rules. The matter had been mentioned before, but he was sure that all present would again like to give expression to the gratitude they felt for the untiring efforts that Mr. Coles had put in for the welfare of the association during the years since taking up the work of district hon. secretary. Continuing, Mr. Fletcher said he felt sure that all present would like to give a welcome to the new secretary, Mr. G. R. Goodship, on taking up the work which naturally fell to him, having been assistant hon. secretary for several years, and to which position they had duly elected him.

These remarks of the chairman were approved with acclamation. Mr. Coles, in replying, said that he had been hon. secretary for the past 28 years, having taken up the office in 1910. He had had many weary and anxious moments during that time, but through the help and support he had received from the members, things had smoothed themselves out to the benefit and success of the association. He had taken up the work before quite a number of those present were born, and the future of the association was in their hands. He had always found that it was not what you got out of the association that counted, but what you put into it that gave satisfaction and pleasure, and it was impossible to take out more than was put in. He hoped that they would continue to give their loyal support and encouragement to the new secretary.

Mr. Goodship said he hoped that he would receive support and consideration from the members, and that Mr. Coles would have the satisfaction of seeing the district continue to flourish and expand.

It was arranged for the next meeting to be held on June 11th at Stanmore.

There being no other business, the Chairman moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. G. Richardson for conducting the service and for the use of the bells, to the organist, Miss Chambers, and to Mr. Arbin for having everything in readiness.

At the conclusion of the meeting handbells were brought into use after which the tower was again occupied.

During the afternoon the ability of all those who attended was considered, the bells being rung in rounds and in methods up to Spiced Surprise, with special facilities for the practice of Double Norwich.

BEDFORDSHIRE RINGER'S DEATH.*MR. NOEL WILES, OF KEMPSTON.

The death occurred early on Saturday, April 30th, of Mr. Emmanuel Noel Wiles, of Kempston, Bedfordshire, at the age of 54 years.

For many years Mr. Wiles was a valued and highly respected member of the Bedfordshire Association, and was, until recently, always regular in Sunday service ringing at All Saints' Church, Kempston, where he learned to ring. Being caretaker at the cemetery, he could not often attend the meetings or stand in a peal, but whenever possible he did his best for the welfare of ringing in the county and was especially good with learners.

It was with very real regret that his colleagues learned the news of his death at this comparatively early age, and he will be sadly missed.

The funeral took place in Kempston Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon (May 2nd), and was attended by many of his fellow-ringers of Kempston and Mr. Frank C. Tysoe (hon. secretary, Bedford District), Mr. H. L. Harlow, Mr. D. C. Bonnett and others. The bells of the Parish Church were rung half-muffled in the evening.

DEATH OF MRS. E. L. GOLDSMITH.*MANY RINGING FRIENDS GATHER AT FUNERAL.

After a long illness, courageously borne, the death took place on May 18th of Mrs. Emma Louise Goldsmith, wife of Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, editor of 'The Ringing World,' at their residence, Southover Cottage, Pyrford, Surrey.

In addition to the widower, a son and daughter are left in bereavement.

Although not herself a ringer, Mrs. Goldsmith was known to many ringers, for before the insidious disease from which she suffered completely incapacitated her, she had travelled the country widely and attended many meetings and other functions with her husband. She was an honorary member of the Ladies' Guild and of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, and her death causes a break in an interesting circle. In 1928 a party of ringers, all of whom had celebrated their silver wedding that year, was got together for a peal in joint celebration of the auspicious occasion, and this was rung at Ewell. Five years later the same eight ringers, who included, in one case, husband and wife, met again at Woking and rang a peal in celebration of their 30 years of married life. This year it had been hoped it would be possible to have another similar gathering, but it has been otherwise ordained—the circle has been broken, only a few short months before the celebration could take place.

The funeral took place at Pyrford on Saturday afternoon, when the little twelfth century church was filled with a congregation of friends from many places, come to pay a last tribute of respect. The service was conducted by the Rev. Canon G. F. Coleridge, an old friend of Mrs. Goldsmith, assisted by the Vicar of Pyrford (the Rev. C. A. Hamilton). The service included the hymns, 'Now the labourer's task is o'er' and 'On the resurrection morning.'

In addition to the family mourners, there were present Mr. Rupert Richardson (Master of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild) and Mrs. Richardson, Mr. James George (vice-president, St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham), Mr. G. W. Fletcher (hon. secretary of the Central Council), Mr. J. S. Hawkins (London), Mr. F. E. Dawe (Woking), Mr. S. R. Roper (Croydon), and the following representatives of the Guildford Diocesan Guild: Mr. J. Corbett (hon. treasurer) and Mrs. Corbett, Mr. G. L. Grover (hon. secretary), Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hazelden and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Pulling (Guildford), Mr. and Mrs. A. Harman (Leatherhead), Mr. F. Nye and Mrs. Welton (Bagshot), Mr. W. Denyer and Mr. C. W. Denyer (hon. secretary, Farnham District) (Aldershot), Mr. J. Brackley, Mr. D. Cole and Mr. G. Cole (Woking), Mr. R. Whittington (Cranleigh), etc.

The many beautiful floral tributes included wreaths from Guildford Diocesan Guild; Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild; St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham; Major J. H. B. Hesse (Master of Guildford Diocesan Guild); Mr. A. Paddon Smith (Birmingham); Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hughes (London); Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fletcher (Enfield); Mr. G. Dent (Harlow); Mr. and Mrs. Tom White (Guildford); Mr. and Mrs. J. Parker (Edmonton); Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Coles (Walthamstow); Mrs. C. D. P. Davies (Tewkesbury); Mr. and Mrs. R. Richardson and Enid (Surfleet); Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Savage (Melbourne, Australia); Mr. and Mrs. J. Corbett; Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Grover; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Pulling; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hazelden (Guildford); Mr. and Mrs. J. Preston (Erdington); Mr. F. E. Dawe (Woking); Mr. C. W. Denyer and Miss B. Stewart (Aldershot); Mr. and Mrs. F. Nye and Mr. and Mrs. Welton (Bagshot); Mr. L. Jenkins (Guildford); Mr. and Mrs. A. Harman (Leatherhead); Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Smith (Great Bookham); Miss I. L. Hastie; and many others.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith and family tender their sincere thanks to all who have sent them expressions of sympathy in their bereavement, and they desire to convey their deep appreciation of the many floral tributes sent.

BECKENHAM CONDUCTOR'S DEATH.*THIRTY-FIVE YEARS STEEPLEKEEPER AT ST. GEORGE'S.

A well-known member of the Lewisham District of the Kent County Association, Mr. F. Walter Smith, for 35 years steeplekeeper and conductor of St. George's Parish Church, Beckenham, passed away on May 13th after quite a short illness. Although he had been in indifferent health for some long time, Mr. Smith was in the belfry as recently as May 1st. He had been district representative on the Association Committee for many years, and held this position at the time of his death. The record of his peals is not available, but the local peal boards bear witness of his many successes as conductor.

At the funeral on Thursday of last week the following towers were represented: Bromley, Bromley Common, Chislehurst, Lewisham, Deptford (St. John's), St. Margaret's, Westminster, and Mr. Manse represented the London County Association.

The 'whole pull and stand,' together with a course of Grandsire Triples, was rung on the handbells at the graveside by T. Groombridge, sen., I. Emery, F. Groombridge and W. J. Rawlings. On the half-muffled tower bells, the 'whole pull and stand' for the deceased's age of 64 years was rung, whilst in the evening, after an unsuccessful peal attempt, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters was rung by W. J. Rawlings, P. A. Corby (conductor), J. Lyddiard, H. Hoskins, D. Sharp, F. Shorter, G. V. Murphy, G. Fogden, A. S. Richards and C. Onley.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

THE NEW 'STEDMAN.'

The publication of a new text book on ringing, particularly when it is an exhaustive treatise upon the subject dealt with, is a matter of no small interest and importance to the Exercise. Such a work has come from the Press this week, in an entirely new 'Stedman,' which is included in the Snowdon series. Jasper Snowdon, whose vigorous life was cut short in 1885, laid the foundation of a new means of study for the ordinary ringer, when he began to give the Exercise those clear and carefully planned instructional books which the test of half a century has proved to be the most helpful of their kind ever printed. At a time when the art of ringing was beginning to find a new footing and newly formed associations were endeavouring to raise the status of ringers, he seized the opportunity which the ringing journals of that time offered, to publish articles upon the practice of change ringing and the theoretical side of the art. This material he later gathered together and elaborated into books, which of their kind are still standard works. He secured the collaboration of the leading men of the day, who were devoting their attention to the elucidation of many problems which up to then had baffled solution, and upon the result of whose efforts is built a great deal of the knowledge which we have to-day. Jasper Snowdon did not live to finish the work he projected, but the value of what he had planned was so obvious that others were able to carry it forward to completion.

Through the intervening years thousands of aspiring ringers have improved their knowledge of the art through a study of the books of the Snowdon series, and have had their interest stimulated by the historical records which Jasper Snowdon collected and incorporated in his works. Those who followed Snowdon, however, had not necessarily his simple methods of exposition and the volume upon Stedman, which appeared nearly twenty years after Jasper Snowdon's death, suffered somewhat from this defect. The contributors were all able men, who spoke with authority and comprehensive knowledge of their subject, but 'Stedman,' taken as a whole, was rather 'indigestible' for the average ringer; indeed, except for the very serious student, it was both too deep, and, if possible, too comprehensive. Its contents, however, were something that needed to be put on record, for they were the outcome of the work of some of the best minds the Exercise has produced, but the demands of to-day, in the much expanded circle of the Exercise, are for the most part in the direction of something more concise and easily grasped. Ringers want the surface facts that will enable them to ring the method and to compose if they desire to do so. They are, in the case of the vast majority, not interested in the deeper reasons upon which the facts rely, and Miss Margaret Snowden, who through her father and mother has succeeded her uncle, Jasper Snowden, as the publisher of these books, has done the Exercise a service in putting on the market a new 'Stedman' that will meet the present day demand and the modern idea of what a ringing text book should be. In this she has been fortunate in securing the collaboration of Mr. J. Armiger Trollope, who has written, for the purpose, an entirely new treatise on the method. It reveals another of his many-sided gifts as a writer. The work has literary finish as well as clarity of exposition, and will, we feel sure, prove as popular among ringers of all classes as any of the books in this famous series.

Beamish 2, J. Gibbons 3, J. Draycott 4, A. H. Beamish (conductor) 5, J. E. Moreton 6.

BARKING, ESSEX.—On Sunday, March 13th, for morning service, a quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob Major (1,312 changes): C. Fenn (conductor) 1, W. Beard 2, H. Worboys 3, E. G. Cottis 4, R. Fenn 5, F. G. Newman 6, C. E. Faulkner 7, F. Freestone 8. Rung on the birthday of R. Fenn.

FIVE SURPRISE MAJOR METHODS.

Five different Surprise Major methods figure in the peal reports in this issue—and they do not include either Cambridge, Superlative or Bristol!

A peal of London Surprise Royal, rung by a band mostly associated with this method at Beddington, Surrey, is another feature of the peals recorded this week. It was rung for the Sussex Association at St. Peter's, Brighton, and, despite the rarity of the performance, there were no 'stars.'

The peal at Chatteris, Cambs, on May 14th, recorded last week, was rung in honour of the recent wedding of Mr. S. Murphy, who has been a member of the local band of ringers for 12 years.

Members of the Shropshire Association scored the first peal in ten methods in the county and by the Shropshire Association when they included four methods in one extent in a peal of Minor at Stanton-on-Hine-Heath on May 22nd.

On the heavy going ring at Colston Bassett, Notts—the tenor is 22½ cwt.—a peal of Bob Major was rung on May 21st. After the ringing the band greatly appreciated the tea kindly provided by Mrs. Creasy.

Tetsworth (Oxfordshire) ringers are to be congratulated upon scoring their first peal. It was the first peal on the bells and the first by all the band, and was rung on May 17th for the second anniversary of the dedication of the bells, a little ring of six with a tenor of less than 5 cwt.

The peal of Stedman Triples at Hawkhurst, Kent, on May 21st, was the first in the method on the bells for the Kent County Association. It was a birthday compliment to Mrs. L. W. Jarvis, wife of one of the Hawkhurst band, who, with Mr. G. Maskell, rang his first peal in the method.

Mr. Claud Woodard rang the treble to a peal of Double Norwich Major at St. Margaret's, Ipswich, on May 21st, and thus 'completed the circle' of the tower.

When the King and Queen visited Liverpool on May 19th, a peal of Grandsire Triples in honour of the event was rung at St. Peter's, Woolton. Mr. George Hislop, who is 75 years of age, took part and rang his first peal after a lapse of more than 20 years.

Members of the Sunday service band at Stowmarket, Suffolk, rang a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major on May 21st.

The first peal of Pudsey Surprise Major for the Norwich Diocesan Association was rung at Pulham on May 21st. It was also the first peal in the method by all the band.

YOUNG BAND'S GOOD PROGRESS.

The bells of Stoke Ash, Suffolk, were augmented to five in May last year. Mr. Ernest Poppy then set to work to build up a band, and so well have his pupils progressed that four of them, with their instructor, rang a peal in three methods of Doubles, the first on the bells, on May 21st. Great credit is due to them for so quickly becoming proficient and for ringing a well-struck peal. It was Mr. Poppy's first peal on five bells.

The 70th birthday of Mr. Louis Richardson, of Whickham, Co. Durham, was celebrated by a peal of Minor on May 21st. Mr. Richardson has been a ringer at Whickham Church since the augmentation of the bells from three to six 50 years ago, and is now the only member of the original band still taking an active part in ringing. Mr. Richardson and members of his family entertained the ringers to refreshments after the peal, and his hospitality was greatly appreciated.

The first peal on the six bells at King's Bromley, Staffs, was rung on May 21st.

Another first peal on the bells was that at Tregare, Monmouthshire, also a ring of five, where 5,040 in seven methods of Doubles was rung prior to evening service on May 22nd.

Tregare is the fiftieth tower in which Mr. J. P. Hyett has conducted a peal.

Miss Daisy Andrews, who is coming into prominence in peal ringing in Essex, rang her first peal of Major on May 21st at Harwich in celebration of her birthday. Horace Wright and Urban Wildney rang their 25th peal together.

A peal of Bob Royal was rung at St. Andrew's Church, Plymouth, on May 24th, in celebration of Empire Day. It was also a compliment to Mr. S. O'Shaughnessy on the occasion of his recent marriage, which took place at Charles' Church, Plymouth. Mr. Frank Varty, of Cheshire, who took part in the peal, was elected a non-resident life member of the Devon Guild.

There were six 'firsts in the method' and the first in the method as conductor in a peal of Double Norwich Major at Escrick, Yorkshire, on May 25th. The band included two ladies.

A peal of Bob Major was rung at Smethwick, Staffs, on May 25th. The last peal on the bells was rung in April, 1926. They are now a very rough going ring and badly need the attentions of the 'hanger' in all ways. The peal was arranged so that several ringers who reside in Smethwick could ring one there before it is 'too late.' 'Swindon James' had not previously rung a peal there, so he, also, added this tower to his collection.

A LINK WITH FABIAN STEDMAN.

The peal of Doubles rung at Hartest, Suffolk, on May 21st, is of special interest, inasmuch as Hartest was the parish to which the Rev. Richard Duckworth was appointed Rector in 1660.

Duckworth was an Oxford man and a keen ringer. After he went to Hartest he came into contact with Fabian Stedman at Cambridge; between them they compiled the 'Tintinnalogia,' the first book on change ringing, of which Duckworth was the author.

Mr. J. A. Trollope in his 'College Youths' (published by 'The Ringing World,' 5s. 6d. post free) gives some most interesting information on this and other similar historic matters in a chapter on 'Fabian Stedman and his contemporaries.'

The six bells at St. John the Evangelist's Church, Penge, were rehung not long ago, and the first peal on them since the restoration was carried out was rung on May 23rd. Four of the ringers, who belong to the local band and are all under 20 years of age—indeed, three of them are still at school—rang their first peal.

The 'first pealers' acquitted themselves with credit, a high standard of striking being maintained throughout. The treble man, G. W. Rogden, also learned to ring at this tower.

The encouragement which the Vicar, the Rev. B. P. Mohan, has given to the ringers since coming to the parish 18 months ago has been of great assistance, and his kindness in allowing the peal attempt to be made was much appreciated.

The first peal on the bells at Saxmundham, Suffolk, since they were rehung by Mr. A. Bowell, of Ipswich, was rung on May 23rd.

In honour of the birthday of Queen Mary and the visit to Swansea of H.R.H. the Princess Royal, a peal was rung at St. Mary's, Swansea, on May 27th.

In the past many peals in Surprise and other methods were rung at Smethwick in the days when 'Joe' Pigott and his talented sisters, Sarah and Kate, were in the news with peal ringing.

A scheme has been 'on the anvil' for having these bells recast, but money at present is required for a new Parish Hall.

The Hertfordshire band who have 'taken up the running' in ringing new Surprise methods have added two more, rung within four days—Kendal Surprise at Bushey, and Hitchin Surprise at Hitchin. Both were rung without any previous practice.

The only difference in the methods, on paper, is that, in the sections when the treble is behind, Kendal has a 6th's place, while Hitchin has a 3rd's place, but the difference 'messes up' the diagram more than a bit.

Both peals were composed and conducted by Mr. Harold Cashmore.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

The South-Eastern Division held a meeting at Boreham on Saturday, April 30th, 39 members and friends attending from Great Baddow, Boreham, Broomfield, Chelmsford, Danbury, Fryerning, Goldhanger, Maldon, Springfield, Kelvedon and Brentwood.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. E. B. Dobnee, who warmly welcomed the ringers to Boreham. The lesson was read by the Divisional Master, Mr. H. J. Mansfield, and the singing was accompanied by the organist.

Tea was served in the Parish Hall by the ladies of the local ringers, and at the business meeting the Vicar was elected an honorary member of the association, and Reginald L. Orth, of All Saints', Maldon, Patrick J. Spencer-Phillips and Lewis Castleton, of Great Baddow, were elected ringing members.

The Master, Dr. P. T. Spencer-Phillips, proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar for granting the use of the bells, conducting the service and for his address, also to the ladies for preparing and serving the tea, the organist and the organ blower.

The Vicar, in reply, reiterated his welcome and hoped the association would come again soon. He expressed his appreciation of being elected an honorary member of the association.

After a few touches on handbells, a return was made to the tower, where the bells were kept going in a variety of methods until 9 p.m., when another enjoyable meeting was brought to a close.

Before he left Netherseale, Derbyshire, on Saturday, April 30th, Canon H. E. Fitzherbert visited the belfry and wished the ringers success and said good-bye to the local band, who rang a farewell peal.

A conductor who had never previously attempted to call a 720, called a peal in five Minor methods at Hitcham, Bucks, on May 25th. This was Cyril A. Burgess, of St. Peter's Society, Burnham. He and two other members of his society, with three Hitcham ringers, made up the band.

The number of changes in the peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major, rung on handbells at Stockport for the Lancashire Association, on April 7th, was 5,056, not 5,024 as published.

Mr. Pat Cannon secured another 'first peal on the bells' when he called a 5,040 of Grandsire Doubles at Hinton Admiral, Hants, on May 17th. The bells were cast by Taylor and Co., 1884. The occasion of the peal was the tenth anniversary of the conductor's first attempt to handle a bell at St. Lawrence's, Ramsgate, and it was Mrs. F. J. Marshall's 25th peal.

Mr. Harry Hoverd, of Dartford, rang his one hundredth peal on the bells at Crayford on May 20th.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The demonstration of Mr. G. F. Woodhouse's latest ringing machine at a meeting of the Western Division of the Yorkshire Association at Giggleswick on June 18th should be a great attraction. The machine can now 'ring' Spliced Surprise Major.

In a printed notice sent out to the members, they are asked to make this meeting into an outing, 'and give a treat to those "ringers' widows" who have waited at home so patiently all the long winter.'

The attraction at another meeting—at Sharnford in the Hinckley District of the Midland Counties Association—on June 11th is the trial of a set of 'silencers' which have been acquired for the benefit of the outside public on practice nights.

DIFFICULTIES OF 'ROPE-SIGHT.'

THE ADVICE OF AN EXPERT.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The difficulty of acquiring 'rope-sight' is one that is common to all learners. The reasons are usually twofold:—

1. Altering the focus of the eyes.

2. Gazing too long at the rope one is following.

Let us take the first. The learner usually looks and sees the sally carefully into his hands, then probably to a distance for the next rope to follow. Well, his eyes will not focus quick enough for such procedure.

Keep the eyes as near as possible to a fixed focus, that of the opposite side of the circle, and flash them round as you would in crossing a busy thoroughfare. Your own rope will always come into your vision, but never focus your eyes upon it.

The second difficulty, that of gazing too long at the bell one is following:—

One has only to remember that once a bell leaves the balance, whether it is a good or a bad stroke, it cannot be altered, therefore the time that it takes in its revolution must be occupied in looking out for the next rope to follow.

There is not much difference between 'road-sight' and 'rope-sight.' Going from lead to the back or vice versa is only like crossing a busy thoroughfare. It would be fatal if one used his eyes to see his feet get firmly planted on the ground instead of observing the oncoming traffic.

A good remedy to break one of these bad habits is to write out a plain course or two, with sufficiently large enough figures to enable them to be read from the opposite side of the ringing room. Place this on the wall opposite your own bell. Then with tied clapper and a friend to check, see if you can read and mention the bell you should be following at each pull. Ring your bell in this practice at your ordinary speed. This practice will also help you in learning a method.

RINGING AT VICTORIA CATHEDRAL.

YOUNG CANADIAN RINGERS' PROGRESS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I am enclosing the following news from Victoria, B.C., which I think may be of interest to some of your readers.

On Sunday, April 24th, the ashes of the Very Rev. Dean Quainton and of his wife, Mrs. Quainton, were placed in the wall of Christ Church Cathedral after the morning service, and half-muffled ringing took place immediately afterwards, the method being Grandsire Triples.

On Friday, April 29th, at 8 p.m., the Cathedral bells were rung for one hour to welcome the Very Rev. Spencer Elliott, M.A., on his arrival from England to take up the post of Dean and Rector. Several touches of 168 Grandsire Triples and plain courses were rung and very well struck. Several of the band were young ringers who have only learned to ring since the bells were installed.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Sexton and the new Dean came up into the ringing chamber and the ringers had the pleasure of meeting them. Dean Elliott expressed great interest in the bells and the art of change ringing, and he and his three children climbed up into the belfry and watched the bells while they were being rung.

On Sunday, May 1st, the bells were specially rung before and after the service of institution and installation of the new Rector and Dean. The service was very impressive and every part of the building was filled.

The ringing consisted of touches of Grandsire Triples, the bells also being 'fired.'

Christ Church Cathedral bells are broadcast on short and long wave C.F.C.T. every Sunday evening at 7.15 p.m., and are appreciated by listeners as far as 700 miles away at Banff, in the Rocky Mountains. They were also heard in the Empire broadcast for three minutes after the Coronation procession last year.

The Victoria ringers are very proud of their bells and look forward to the time when they can tell you they have rung the first 5,040.

The scale of the bells is D flat; the tenor 29½ cwt., the actual swinging weight with stock 35 cwt.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—21.*ROBERT MATTHEWS.

For 40 years Mr. Robert Matthews has been ringing in Worcestershire, and his services to the art in and around that county have done much to build up the reputation which the Worcestershire Association holds in the Exercise.

Mr. Matthews, who was born at Wordsley, Staffs, began his ringing career at Wollaston, Worcestershire, in 1898, and for many years was attached to this six-bell tower. His first peal was one of Bob Major, rung on March 14th, 1903, at Brierley Hill, and his first as conductor was in the same method, rung at St. Thomas' Church, Stourbridge, in February, 1904.

He was the first Master of the Northern Branch of the Worcestershire Association, and held the office from 1910-12. He was Master of the association in 1924-25.

Mr. Matthews has rung more peals for the Worcestershire Association than any other member, and some of them have been notable performances. His peal total is 583, including four on handbells, of which he has conducted 369, including his first on handbells.

He has taken part in 'silent' peals of Stedman Triples, Cambridge Surprise Major and Cambridge Maximus; and conducted the record peal of 10,176 Double Oxford Bob Major at Brierley Hill in 1909, and what was, at the time, also a record, the 9,728 Superlative Surprise Major at Clent in 1910. He has also conducted, from each bell, a peal in seven Minor methods, and in Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Double Norwich, Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise Major. He has called peals of Doubles, Triples, Caters and Cinques in both Grandsire and Stedman, and rung peals on six, eight, ten and twelve bells in Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Oxford Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise, having called a peal in all of these, except Oxford Treble Bob and Plain Bob Maximus.

Mr. Matthews' peals have been rung in 77 towers in seven counties, and they have included the first Surprise peals rung in Herefordshire, Radnorshire and Brecknockshire.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.*GUILDFORD DISTRICT WELCOMES NEW SECRETARY.

A 13th century church (one of the oldest in Surrey), an ancient holy well containing water of medicinal value similar to that found at Lourdes, and a belfry with an extra long draught. These are features of interest in the comparatively isolated Surrey village of Dunsfold, and on Saturday, despite a rainy day, attracted upwards of 36, including the hon. secretary and hon. treasurer of the Guild, to the Guildford District meeting.

The Rector (the Rev. A. E. Hollins) conducted the service, and, dispensing with the orthodox address, gave an interesting discourse on the church.

An old coach house adjoining the Rectory was utilised for tea and for the business meeting which followed.

The Rector took the chair, and at the commencement of the meeting Mr. A. C. Hazelden welcomed the new district secretary (Mr. W. F. J. Cope). Referring to Mr. Cope's forthcoming marriage, he expressed good wishes for the future on behalf of the members.—The Secretary suitably replied, and said he would do his best to follow the high standard set by Mr. Grover (now Guild secretary). He hoped all members would give him their support.

The Guild secretary referred to the recent sad bereavement sustained by Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (their former secretary), and the meeting stood in silence.

Thanks were accorded to the Rector, the organist and to those who had assisted with tea.

Further ringing followed, and a number of members also set out to sample the somewhat unmelodious five bells of Hascombe Church.

MR. ROBERT MATTHEWS.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.*SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT TADCASTER.*Suggested Chain of Office for President.

A general meeting of the Yorkshire Association was held at Tadcaster on May 21st, when, by kind permission of the Rev. R. J. Hall, A.K.O. (Vicar), the splendid ring of eight bells was available. Glorious weather prevailed throughout, and upwards of 140 ringers and friends were present in the course of the afternoon and evening. This is considered very satisfactory indeed, as all the districts were well represented, and it was the first occasion that the association has met at this delightful town.

The bells were going early in a variety of methods, while many availed themselves of listening to their glorious tones on the river side.

A brief service was conducted by the Vicar and was greatly appreciated by the members. An excellent tea followed, to which over 100 sat down. As usual, many more were present than had applied.

The general meeting which followed was presided over by the president, Canon C. C. Marshall, M.A., supported by the general secretary (Mr. L. W. G. Morris), the hon. treasurer (Mr. S. F. Palmer), the peal secretary (Mr. W. Barton) and the vice-presidents (Messrs. G. Lewis, P. J. Johnson, F. Cryer and H. Gibson). Arising out of the minutes, the President pointed out that at the last meeting it was decided to hold the next at Knaresborough, but as it had been found inconvenient, it was found necessary to find another place. He was glad indeed that, by the kind courtesy of the Vicar and ringers, they were able to come to Tadcaster instead, and he was sure that if the number present was any criterion, an excellent alternative had been selected. It was gratifying that so many should be present on the first occasion that the association had met at Tadcaster.

Before proceeding with the business, the President drew attention to the great loss the association had sustained in the death of the Southern Division's secretary, Mr. Fred Clark, and, as a mark of respect, the meeting stood in silence.

The President proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens. He assured them that the association were very grateful for the kindness extended to them, and congratulated them on the praiseworthy arrangements made.

The Vicar of Tadcaster, who replied, said it was indeed a pleasure to have the association. He hoped that they would make Tadcaster the venue of another meeting, adding that they would be very welcome at any time.

A vote of thanks to the local company and to the ladies who officiated at the tea tables was proposed by Mr. P. J. Johnson, who in reminiscent mood told of his early associations with Tadcaster. (A voice, interposing: The brewery?) He also made some pointed remarks to those who did not send in their names for tea, adding that it often caused considerable embarrassment to those who were voluntarily doing their best to cater for the members' comfort.—The motion was seconded by Mr. S. F. Palmer and carried unanimously.—Mr. W. Hick, in reply, said he was very glad indeed to see so many present, and assured them that it was a pleasure to the Tadcaster ringers to have contributed to the success of the meeting.

It was unanimously agreed to try and arrange the next meeting, to be held in September, at York, or, failing that, at Beverley.

The President drew attention to a circular which had been received from the president of the Lancashire Association inviting subscriptions for the purpose of erecting a memorial stained glass window to the late Canon H. J. Elsee. It was agreed that the committee's recommendation of subscribing three guineas be endorsed.

A notice of motion to amend Rule 2 was then debated, and on the proposition of Mr. W. Barton, seconded by Mr. G. Lewis, it was decided to amend the rule in accordance with the terms embodied in the notice of motion.

Messrs. H. Jackson and G. W. Fletcher were elected out county members of the association.

The President next made a statement relative to the Central Council meeting, which is to be held in Leeds on Whitsun Tuesday. He pointed out that the sub-committee had almost completed arrangements, and extended a hearty welcome to any members who cared to avail themselves of these arrangements. An itinerary had already been published in 'The Ringing World,' giving particulars in full.

Mr. F. G. Sherwood raised a point relative to the office of president. He felt it most fitting that the president should have a chain of office.

A lively discussion ensued, and it was eventually decided that the matter be again raised at the next general meeting, on the grounds that it was not desirable to take a decision until the members had had sufficient time to fully consider the matter for themselves.

Mr. S. F. Palmer reminded the members that the next Snowdon Dinner would be held in Sheffield on October 8th, adding that they had been fortunate in obtaining excellent premises, and that the cost of the dinner would be only 4s.

This concluded the business, some visiting the tower for further ringing, others preferring to debate quietly which was best; Sam Smith's Surprise, or John Smith's Treble Bob. Bus and train time arrived all too quickly, bringing to a close a memorable and well patronised meeting.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD. FESTIVAL AT LYME REGIS.

A Successful Year.

The annual festival of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild was held at Lyme Regis, Dorset, on May 21st, and despite the fact that the venue was in an extreme corner of this large diocese, which includes almost the whole of two counties, there was an attendance of about 180, including many old members. Service was held at midday in the Parish Church, of which one of the best known clerical ringers, the Rev. C. Carew Cox, is Vicar. The Rev. F. L. Edwards, hon. secretary of the Guild, conducted the service, Canon W. Jacob, R.D., read the lesson, and in the course of the service a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by four of the Lyme Regis ringers, including the Vicar.

In his address the Vicar said one could not help feeling sorry for the parish which never heard its bells, either because they had no bells or no ringers, because bells did more than people realised to maintain the real English atmosphere of the countryside. They were a heritage of the past, and it would be a real disaster if parishes were to lose them.

A collection of £2 2s. is to be devoted towards diocesan memorials to the late Archdeacon Carpenter and the late Canon Christopher Wordsworth.

At a luncheon which followed in the Church Hall, the Rev. R. H. Gundry, Master of the Guild, who has recently recovered from a long illness, presided, and he was supported by the Mayor of Lyme Regis (Alderman W. J. Emmett), the Rev. Canon Hellins, D.D., of Marnhull, the Rev. F. L. Edwards, the Rev. C. F. Urquhart (Rector of Chideock), Messrs. H. J. Ramsbotham and C. H. Sutton (Lyme Regis churchwardens), and others. A message was received from Lord Shaftesbury, president of the Guild, regretting his inability to be present.

MAYORAL WELCOME.

The Mayor welcomed the Guild to Lyme Regis and said he was particularly pleased to be present, as he was a ringer at one time.

Lyme Regis to-day, he added, was fortunate in having one of the few clerical ringers in the diocese, in their Vicar. Under his able instruction, scientific change ringing had progressed and peals of Bob Major and Grandsire Triples had been rung by the local band.

It was a great pleasure to him last year to unveil a peal board erected in the belfry to record a peal of Stedman Triples, rung in honour of the Coronation. It was the first peal of its nature rung by a local band in Dorset.

At the annual business session, the chairman (the Rev. R. H. Gundry) was unanimously reappointed Master. Other officers were re-elected as follows: Hon. secretary and treasurer, the Rev. F. L. Edwards; hon. assistant secretary, Mr. F. Green, Devizes; hon. auditors, the Rev. R. D. G. Newman, Gillingham, and Mr. W. Hinks, Kington Magna. The committee was re-elected, with the addition of Mr. E. G. Coward. Mr. Martin Stewart (Ferndown) was added to the list of vice-presidents, and Mrs. Wooldridge (Long Burton) was made an hon. life member.

The hon. secretary, in his annual report, made mention of several notable events in the past year, foremost among them being the Coronation festivities, in which the ringers of the Salisbury diocese fulfilled their important function in the national celebrations with a good will, and the bells of the parish churches paid their loyal tribute with jubilant acclaim. Five peals were successfully accomplished on Coronation Day and four more during the three days following. To celebrate the Coronation, also, the eight bells at Poole were augmented to ten, so that Dorset now possessed two rings of ten. The year 1937 also witnessed the jubilee of the first peal ever rung in Salisbury—Holt's ten-part peal of Grandsire Triples, conducted by Thomas Blackburn at St. Martin's on September 3rd, 1887. To mark the fiftieth anniversary, a peal in the same method, conducted by F. W. Romaine, was rung in the same church on September 4th, 1937. Mr. Hewlett, of Puddletown, was congratulated on completing half a century as a ringer.

'CANNED' BELLS.

One branch of the Guild, continued the report, had unfortunately been inactive during most of the year, but the officers recently selected have made a good beginning, and it was hoped that the current year would produce gratifying results. The records of the other seven branches all tell of good, steady work, and the variety of methods rung at some of the meetings testified to a marked degree of enterprise and progress. Two meetings of the Dorchester Branch were very largely attended, and the annual meeting attained historic importance through the discussion that took place on the substitution of gramophone records for real bells. The vigorous protest of Dorset ringers against 'canned bell music' as one of the latest eccentricities of this mechanical age attracted wide attention in the public press, not only in this country, but even in America. Although in the particular instance that gave rise to the discussion the circumstances were such as to justify the use of record and amplifier, it is devoutly to be hoped that such artificial substitutes for the real thing will be severely confined to quite exceptional cases.

The peal record for 1937 showed several features of interest. The eleven rung to celebrate the Coronation included a peal of Stedman Triples at Lyme Regis, believed to be the first in Dorset by an entirely local band. A peal of Stedman Caters at Wimborne Minster was the

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

YOUNG RINGERS AT BOLTON BRANCH MEETING.

Another very successful meeting of the Bolton Branch of the Lancashire Association was held at St. Paul's, Walkden, on Saturday last.

Here there is a grand peal of bells, with a tenor of about 19 cwt., the tone and 'go' of which are all that is desired. The Vicar, the Rev. Bailey, and his daughter, together with Mr. Potter, were present to welcome visitors, and very early in the afternoon the tower was packed with ringers and remained so until 9 p.m.

Apart from representatives of many towers in the branch, there were visitors from Prestwick, Stretford, Worsley, Preston, Middleton, Wigan, Standish, Upholland, etc.

Again the younger members turned up in large numbers, and some showed a definite advancement since the last meeting held a month ago. The older members have answered the call, with the result that many benefited in the higher methods, and the striking throughout the meeting was very good.

It was decided to alter the place and date of the next meeting from Blackrod, June 25th, to Bolton on June 18th. The Ladies' Guild are holding a meeting at Bolton Parish Church on that date. It was also decided, owing to such large numbers turning up, to have two towers open for ringing.

An expression of sympathy was passed with the editor of 'The Ringing World' in his recent bereavement.

The Vicar brought a lady visitor from America. She was shown the bells working up in the bell loft and handbell ringing, and methods and bell tuning were briefly explained. She was greatly impressed and very interested in the subject.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A most successful meeting of the Eastern Division was held at Bexhill on Saturday, May 21st, when members attended from Eastbourne (St. Mary's, St. Saviour's and Christ Church), Hastings (St. Clement's, All Saints' and Christ Church, Blacklands), Waldron, Northiam, Hailsham, Brede, Battle, together with Mr. H. J. Eldred (Barnet), Mr. T. H. Taffender (Streatham) and members of the local band.

Service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. H. B. W. Dinison), who gave an interesting address. The Rector being unable to attend, the tea and business meeting which followed was presided over by Mr. T. H. Taffender. One new member, Miss Betty Rayfield, of Christ Church, Eastbourne, was elected. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector for the use of the bells and conducting the service.

Excellent practice was held both in the afternoon and evening in the standard methods, and several members rang their first touch in a fresh method. It was very gratifying to see so many young members present.

first Masonic peal in Dorset, rung as a welcome to Bishop Lovett, himself, like their president, a distinguished member of the Order. A peal of Grandsire Caters at Trowbridge was rung in honour of the Duke of Kent's visit to open the Agricultural Show, while the year's record was completed by one of Stedman Cinques at the same tower on New Year's Eve to commemorate the centenary of Sir Isaac Pitman, the inventor of the well-known shorthand system, who was a native of Trowbridge.

The band of ringers at Marnhull, after completing over 40 years of united service, had suffered their first loss by the passing of Alfred Drew. Amongst other losses inflicted by death, one had been taken from them, who was, to the best of their knowledge, the oldest member of the Guild: Canon Christopher Wordsworth had subscribed to the Guild as an honorary member for 38 years and passed away at the venerable age of 89.

The report concluded with an expression of sincere appreciation of the good work done by the officers of the Guild throughout the diocese and warmest thanks to the hon. members for their generous support.

RESTORATION GRANTS.

The balance sheet showed contributions from the branches amounting to £39 14s. 6d., subscriptions from hon. members and associates £15 9s., life members £1 10s., and £1 18s. 3d. from sale of badges and certificates. The expenditure was £60 17s. 9d., including grants of £6 6s. for bell restorations, and the balance in hand £64 7s. 4d., a reduction of £2 6s. on the year.

The balance sheet was adopted, and it was decided to make grants to the parishes of Chiseldon, Wyke Regis and Hilpertown for the renovation of their bells.

Dr. Hellins thanked the local Guild, of which Mr. J. E. Philbrick is hon. secretary, for the arrangements for the day, and the organist (Mr. Pocock) and choir for their services.

The Rev. Carew Cox said that Mr. F. Price, a local ringer, would be attaining his 50th year as a ringer soon, and he wished to offer congratulations to him.

A message of sympathy was sent to Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, editor of 'The Ringing World,' in the bereavement suffered by the death of his wife.

Subsequently the ringers visited towers at Bradpole, Bridport, Whitchurch, Canoncorum, Chideock, Burton, Bradstock, Evershot, Symondsburry, Litton Cheney, Loders, Netherbury, Hawkechurch, Uplyme, in addition to the Lyme Regis tower, and in all these places made good use of the bells.

HARTHILL AND ITS BELLS.*MEETING OF NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.

A glorious summer afternoon heralded a good meeting of the North Notts Association at Harthill, near Sheffield, on Saturday, May 21st. This village, although in a mining area, is as typically rural as any village could be; the fine church dominates the scene, and the bells are a credit to its tower. The octave, tenor 19 cwt. (approx.), was recently recast and rehung, and this was the first official meeting of the association since the rededication. About 45 ringers were present from the surrounding district, including the new band and most of those who have trained them. The bells are a little noisy from the ringing chamber, but run very well, and touches of Minor, Triples and Major in a variety of methods were brought round, although attempts at some methods had to be abandoned.

Tea in the Parish Room, hard by the church, was followed by the business meeting. The Rev. H. R. Everson took the chair and very heartily welcomed the association. His church, he said, had the best peal of bells anywhere, and the village was the finest in England. He did not know where all the ringers' homes were, but they were definitely in not such a grand place as Harthill (laughter).

Arising from the minutes of the Everton meeting, recording the appreciation by the Vicar of that village of his ringers' services, the Rev. H. R. Everson said how much he appreciated the hard work his ringers had done in becoming efficient and ringing the bells regularly.

The next meeting was arranged to be held at Gamston, near Retford, on June 11th.

All the ringers at Harthill were elected members, these numbering twelve, and the Rev. H. R. Everson and Mr. H. Garbutt were elected vice-presidents.

At the Rector's request, Mr. Garbutt, who was largely responsible for the reinstallation of the peal, made a short speech. The old bells, he said, were, without doubt, among the worst in the country; the tone was very bad and they were almost unringable. Three years ago a public meeting was held to decide whether they were to be allowed to remain in that condition or whether a new peal was to be hung. The vote was in favour of raising the necessary £600 for a ring of eight. The population of 1,000, many of whom were dependent on the coal pits for a livelihood, showed that tremendous effort would be required, but by means of pageants and donations this sum was raised to remain in that condition or whether a new peal was to be hung. He was grateful for the support by outsiders, who realised, as he did, that the ringing of bells was a very real part of church life, and he was very pleased to see so many ringers present.

Suggestions as to mitigating the noise of the bells in the ringing chamber were made by ringers who had had previous experience of similar conditions; sawdust in a false floor, felting and wool slag were some of the recommendations for the Rector to consider.

After the meeting some of the ringers returned to the tower, while others visited the Rectory garden, a grand 'old-fashioned' garden of a type now so seldom seen. More ringing until about 9 p.m. brought a very enjoyable afternoon to a close.

A TRURO FESTIVAL.

The Truro Branch of the Truro Diocesan Guild held their spring festival at Kenwyn on Saturday, May 21st, by kind permission of the Vicar, the Rev. Canon F. Thomas. Kenwyn has one of the best rings of eight in Cornwall, and is very beautifully situated, overlooking the city of Truro and the River Fal.

The ringers were welcomed by Canon Thomas at 2.30 p.m. Later he conducted a very impressive service and addressed the ringers on the important duty of service ringing. Seventy ringers were present at tea, and ringing was resumed during the evening, when the bells of the Cathedral were also available. The methods were Grandsire and Stedman, while call changes and rounds were also rung.

Those present included the Ringing Master (Mr. W. H. Southeard), the general secretary (the Rev. W. H. R. Trewheila), the peal secretary (Mr. C. Laxton), the vice-president (Mr. W. Woods) and Mr. Pick, of Kingston-on-Thames. The towers represented were the Cathedral, Kenwyn, Kea, Perranzabuloe, Gwennap, Redruth, St. Gluvias, Mabe, St. Stephen's-in-Brunnell, Gulval and Camborne.

The Ringing Master presented medals for competence in method ringing to two young members of Kea tower.

WANTAGE BELLS.*A RESTORATION SCHEME.

Wantage Parochial Church Council recently asked Mr. R. White, of Appleton, to inspect and report on the condition of the bells in the Parish Church. His report has now been received. He recommends among other things rehanging the bells on ball bearings. The cost of the repairs will be £108. The Church Council have accepted this estimate, and the work will start as soon as possible. Towards this amount the North Berks Branch at their annual meeting on Saturday, May 21st, granted £5 5s. An application will also be made to the Oxford Diocesan Guild, and the ringers are going to get busy with money-raising schemes.

A timely reminder of the urgency of the matter occurred on the following Sunday evening, when, during the service ringing, the clapper of the 7th broke off and fell to the floor. No further damage was done.

A COOL RECEPTION.*SURREY ASSOCIATION'S DISAPPOINTMENT AT CARSHALTON.

Seldom do ringers receive such a cool reception at the hands of local church authorities as that meted out to those who attended the North-Western District meeting of the Surrey Association, held at Carshalton on Saturday. The authorities at Carshalton do not believe in wasting time on bellringers, whom they regard as people apart from the essential business and purpose of a church, with the result that the local ringers receive little, if any, encouragement from the Vicar and churchwardens.

Ringings commenced at 3 o'clock and continued until 5.30 p.m., when some of those present attended solemn evensong, set to Plainsong, with full Catholic ritual. There was no address or words of welcome.

However, the deficiency of the authorities was in part compensated by the local ringers, who had made all arrangements for the catering for, and entertainment of, the visitors, and a vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Leonard Reece, the local secretary, and his helpers for their kind hospitality.

Thirty-three members and friends sat down to tea in the Parish Room, representing Banstead, Beddington, Croydon (St. John's and St. Peter's), Leatherhead, Ealing, Ruislip and London.

At the commencement of the business meeting, presided over by Mr. D. Cooper, the District Ringing Master, the members stood for a moment in silence as a tribute of respect to the memory of the late Mr. Edgar Baker, of Wimbledon, who passed away on April 30th, and who was a member of the association.

Mrs. Diserens, of Balham, was elected as a ringing member.

It was decided to hold the next mid-week meeting at Ewell, on Wednesday, June 22nd, if possible in conjunction with the Ladies' Guild.

As no further ringing could take place at Carshalton owing to illness near the church, Mr. O. H. Kippin offered the use of Beddington tower for the evening. The meeting, therefore, adjourned to Beddington, where the bells were kept going to a variety of methods till 9.15 p.m. Mr. Kippin's action was much appreciated by everybody, for it provided a happy culmination to a meeting which would otherwise have ended in disappointment. A very hearty vote of thanks was passed to him for his kindness before the members left the tower.

DEATH OF MR. GEORGE FEW.*LOSS TO ISLE OF ELY.

It is with much regret we record the death of Mr. George Few, of Sutton, Ely, Cambs, many years captain of the St. Andrew's company. 'Big-un,' as he was known to his colleagues, with Mr. Russell Knights (now at Cambridge), did much in recent years to maintain Surprise Minor practice in the district.

The interment took place on Saturday, May 28th, about 300 people being present, including Mr. A. J. Abrams, Mr. W. Seekings (Chatteris), Mr. H. Cole, Mr. Godfrey (Ely), Mr. R. Knights, Mr. W. Faux (Cambridge), Mr. H. Collins, Mr. J. Lawrance, Mr. W. Markwell, Mr. W. Thulbon (Haddenham), Mr. H. Sharp, Mr. G. Markwell, Mr. S. G. Shipp (Wilburton), Mr. F. Warrington (district secretary, Central Branch of the Ely Association) (Over), Mr. G. Howard, Mr. C. Gimbert, Mr. A. Faux and Mr. C. Thulbon, of the local company. As the coffin was lowered into the grave the bells, with muffled clappers, commenced to ring.

On Sunday, before matins, 720 of Oxford Treble Bob was rung by deceased's friends: C. Thulbon 1, J. Lawrance 2, H. Collins 3, G. Howard 4, C. Gimbert 5, F. Warrington (conductor) 6. During the service the Vicar, the Rev. Canon A. L. Woodard, made mention of the untiring devotion of George Few to the church. F. W.

DEATH OF AN ESSEX RINGER

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Amos R. Gardiner, of Saint Osyth, Essex. He passed away rather suddenly on May 23rd after a short illness. Mr. Gardiner was a 'stone' ringer for nearly 40 years, but since taking up change ringing had made good progress, and at his death was a good and a safe ringer in several methods. He will be greatly missed in the district, where he was beloved and respected by all who knew him.

The funeral took place at St. Osyth on Saturday, May 28th, and the bells were rung for a short time fully muffled. A muffled 720 Bob Minor was rung for the morning service on Sunday, May 29th, by C. Page 1, Mrs. E. Blyth 2, A. R. Andrews (conductor) 3, E. Blyth 4, — Lindoff 5, J. Mills 6.

A HALF-PEAL.

At Bere Regis, Dorset, on Saturday, May 28th, in an attempt for a peal of Minor, four 720's were rung in 1 hour and 42 minutes, viz., one extent each of Cambridge Surprise, Oxford Treble Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Plain Bob: R. Wake 1, Mrs. F. J. Marshall 2, W. C. Shute 3, E. T. Griffin 4, W. E. Cheater 5, A. P. Cannon (conductor) 6 (tenor 18½ cwt. in D, said to be the lightest 'D' bell in the country). During the fifth 720 the 5th bell became absolutely unringable, although it had been going fairly well up to then. This is the longest length on the bells, which are of excellent tone.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

THE COUNCIL'S PUBLICATIONS.

Some of the most important achievements of the Central Council have been its publications, which now cover a fairly wide field. Through these publications a vast amount of educational work has been done and the art of ringing has benefited accordingly. We doubt, however, whether ringers as a whole really appreciate fully the service which the Council has rendered to the Exercise in this direction and the very substantial contribution that has been made to the general advance of ringing. Private enterprise could never have supplied what the Council has given in the way of publications, for the Council has been backed by men who were willing to give their time and knowledge in the production of the books, and these, in turn, have been published either at cost price or below.

And yet, valuable as these publications are, they often meet with a very tardy sale. Let us quote one example. For practical ringers, with the least bit of enterprise in their make-up, there is no more interesting book than that giving the collection of Plain Major and Cater methods. It brings great variety within the scope of the average ringer, and is sold at a price within everyone's reach; but it has taken more than ten years to run through an edition of about five hundred copies. It is true that the twopenny pamphlets of 'Hints to Instructors and Beginners' has sold to the extent of something like five thousand in five years, but that is, we believe, more particularly due to the fact that in the early days of the publication it was taken up in bulk by the associations. This pamphlet is one of the bright spots among the sales, as indeed it ought to be, for it is the cheapest issue of its kind ever put on the market and one of the most valuable. It should be placed in the hands of every beginner and studied by every ringer who attempts to teach a learner. Apart from this, one of the most 'popular' of the Council's books has been the 'Collection of Doubles and Minor Methods,' the impetus to its sales being due, no doubt, to the development of method splicing to which Minor particularly lends itself. But even here it took five years to sell five hundred copies. A new and revised edition of this book will shortly be issued; and in view of the work put into it, it is to be hoped it will gain a more extensive and rapid sale than the previous copies.

One or two of the Council's smaller publications are also being re-issued, but the biggest thing of all which has been produced on behalf of the Council remains to be put into print—the 'Collection of Surprise Major Methods.' In this the Methods Committee have gone far beyond the scope of their other similar books. There are chapters on proof and history and such like matters which make the volume comprehensive, but which will add materially to the cost, and, thus, we think, restrict the sales. The cost is holding up production—for the Council's available funds are limited—and we wonder whether, with the comparatively small number of ringers who are interested in the development of Surprise ringing, there is ever going to be sufficient demand to justify printing a book of this size. The work has been splendidly done, the Methods Committee justifiably look upon it as the completest of their productions, but its very completeness, on account of its cost, may be a drawback to its sale, when the Council can afford to publish it.

PEAL NOTES.

AN ORIGINAL COMPOSITION FOR ORIGINAL.

Original Major looks simple stuff, and so it is until you try to call a peal of it. The bobs come thick and fast, and may occur only two changes apart. Usually they are made in sixth's place and affect only the three back bells, but on Sunday week a peal was rung at Walesby, in Lincolnshire, in which, for the first time in a peal, 4th's place bobs were used. It was composed and conducted by Mr. George E. Feirn, and, having seen the composition, we heartily congratulate him upon the performance. It is the first composition obtained on the plan without the use of singles, and it contains 720 bobs.

A band of Lancashire College Youths rang a peal of Stedman Triples at Tarleton, Lancashire, on May 28th, and desire to record it as a memorial peal for the late Mr. W. T. Cockerill, secretary of the Ancient Society for 46 years.

Miss Hilda Snowden rang the 14½ cwt. tenor at her home tower, Halstead, Essex, to a peal of Major on May 28th, and thus completed the circle. She has finished the job by ringing both the 7th and tenor to London Surprise.

The method on May 28th was to have been Bristol, but one of the band unfortunately met with a slight accident, and Mr. F. Ridgwell kindly deputised at the last minute.

Mr. Charles Slingsby, of Aldington, a veteran among veteran ringers in Kent, has just celebrated his 101st birthday, and a peal at St. John the Baptist's Church, Erith, on May 28th, was rung as a compliment to him, and also to Mr. W. J. Wheadon for his birthday.

The peal of London Surprise Major, rung at Bishop's Waltham, Hants, on May 28th, was only the second peal rung on the bells since they were augmented to eight by Taylor and Co. in September, 1937. It was the first Surprise peal on the bells, the previous one having been Bob Major in November last.

A peal in 15 methods in seven extents was rung at Wroxham, Norfolk, on May 28th. It was the first in this number of methods for the Norwich Diocesan Association, as well as by all the band. Is it a portent of greater things to come?

A new Vicar, the Rev. Lewis Lloyd, has been inducted at Bolsover, Derbyshire, and a peal of welcome was rung at the Parish Church after the induction service on May 28th.

A birthday peal of Bob Major was rung for Mr. C. Howard Stanley, at Edgbaston, Birmingham, on May 28th. The band included Mr. Will Viggers, who was formerly a member of the Aldershot 'circus,' an enthusiastic group of 'youth and beauty' who turned up on motor-cycles at most unexpected places when meetings were being held. Mr. Viggers recently took an appointment in Birmingham.

Mr. Aubrey L. Bennett, of Buckfast, Devon, while spending a holiday in London, took part in a peal of Grandsire Triples at Chip-ping Barnet, Hertfordshire, for the Middlesex Association.

Mr. John Worth rang his 200th peal for the Chester Diocesan Guild on May 28th, when he called a peal of Superlative at Norbury. It was the 25th peal by the Rev. Frank Bonner, and his first peal in the method. There can be few ringers who have crowded as much method variety into their first 25 peals as Mr. Bonner.

A band, all Sunday service ringers at Mickleton, Glos., rang a peal of Grandsire Doubles at Cropthorne, Worcestershire, on May 28th.

There were 150 changes of method in a peal of Spliced Minor rung at Whetstone, Leicestershire, on May 28th. It was the first peal in 14 methods by all the band and Ron. Russell's one hundredth peal.

A peal in seven Minor methods was rung at North Creak, Norfolk, for evening service on Sunday, May 29th. When the seven extents had been completed, 238 of Kent Treble Bob was coupled to the end of the peal to take the ringing up to service time.

It was only the second peal on the bells, the first having been seven extents of Bob Minor, rung on May 20th, 1914, conducted by Mr. R. W. Cooke and in which Mr. C. V. Ebberson took part. Both were in the peal on May 29th.

The Vicar of Rothwell, Yorks (the Rev. Harry Stanley Branscombe), reached the golden jubilee of his priesthood on May 27th, and among the celebrations of the event in his present parish was a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major, rung on May 28th.

The first peal on the bells at St. Peter's, Bournemouth, since their restoration by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. to commemorate the Coronation of their Majesties, was rung by a band of the Sunday service ringers on May 28th.

A MONMOUTHSHIRE JUBILEE.

The bells of Trevethin, Monmouthshire, were opened on Whit Monday, 1888. To commemorate the jubilee, a peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung by a local band—they had not enough change ringers to ring Triples—on May 28th at the request of the Vicar, whose desire was that the ringing should be done by the service ringers. It was also a compliment to Mr. Tom Jenkins, of Trevethin, who has completed 50 years as a ringer. He was, unfortunately, not well enough to take part in the peal.

When the bells were opened 50 years ago it was a red letter day for Trevethin. Thousands wended their way to the village, situated high up on the hillside, to hear the bells. The actual opening ringing was done by a band from Gloucester, who rang a peal of Grandsire Triples.

Some 22 months afterwards, on February 6th, 1890, a terrible calamity happened in the parish, 175 men and boys losing their lives in the Llanerch pit by an explosion. Alfred Thomas, a member of the band, was one of the victims. Some 60 of the victims were buried in Trevethin Churchyard, and as a mark of sympathy the Caerleon Society rang a muffled peal of Grandsire Triples on February 13th.

Mr. J. W. Jones, the hon. secretary of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association, took part in the ringing which followed the peal on the opening day, and also in the muffled peal. There are still three men alive who took part in the ringing on both occasions, but Mr. Jones is the only one who is still actively engaged in the art.

Mr. David Mayes has completed fifty years as clerk and sexton at Wickham Skeith, Suffolk, and recently celebrated his golden wedding. In honour of this double jubilee, a peal of Minor was rung on June 1st. Mr. Mayes still rings regularly for the Sunday services, but does not now take part in peals, although between 1896 and 1900 he rang six for the old Norwich Diocesan Association.

Mr. Charles Slingsby's 101st birthday was celebrated by a peal of Double Norwich Major at Northfleet on June 1st. Mr. Slingsby was an active ringer until he reached the age of 95.

The peal at Brecon on May 29th had been arranged as a farewell to Mr. W. Fussell, who has been judge at the ringing competitions of the Swansea and Brecon Guild since they started in 1927. He feels that he is now too old and his hearing is not so good as it used to be, and he has, therefore, decided not to act again in this capacity. So members of the Guild arranged this farewell peal at Brecon.

But the passing of Mr. W. Evans, who had been a ringer at this tower for about 40 years, resulted in the bells being half-muffled. Incidentally it gave three of the band an opportunity to ring a peal on Sunday, and Mr. Roderick has now rung a peal on each day of the week, although he only rang his first peal in February, 1937.

A cordial welcome was extended to Mr. Arthur Knights when he participated in one of his own compositions, called by Mr. Christopher Gudgeon at Worsley, Lancashire, on Saturday. Another visitor who stood in and was equally welcome was Mr. S. F. Palmer.

CHESTER GUILD AT BOSLEY.

The Macclesfield Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild held a meeting at Bosley on May 14th, which proved to be very successful. Over 20 members attended and the bells were made good use of during the afternoon and evening. All the ringers present had a pull, and methods from Grandsire and Stedman Doubles to Spliced Treble Bob and Surprise Minor were rung. Only one touch was lost, that of Spliced Surprise Minor, when no doubt the men concerned did not fully give their minds to their ringing following the repast served at the Queen's Arms Hotel.

A short business meeting was held after tea. The Vicar of Bosley (the Rev. J. W. A. Greenacre), who was in the chair, was elected an honorary member of the branch. He welcomed the ringers from Gawsorth, this being the first meeting there since the band re-entered the Guild at the beginning of this year. The Vicar also congratulated three of the members of the branch on commemorating 40 years' service ringing by standing in a peal of Minor on Easter Monday. The gentlemen concerned were Messrs. T. Taylor, J. W. L. Slack and J. Manifold.

On the suggestion of the Stockport branch secretary (Mr. K. Lewis), who was present, it was unanimously agreed that the next meeting at Bollington in July should be a joint one between the Stockport and Macclesfield branches.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and also for coming to the meeting and acting as chairman, concluded the business, when further use was made of the bells. Handbells were also utilised by members waiting their turn for the tower bells, whilst some showed their prowess as dart throwers in competition with the local 'champions.'

MEMORIAL DATE TOUCH.

On Wednesday, May 18th, at St. Margaret's, Leicester, with bells half-muffled, a special date touch of 1,938 Grandsire Triples was rung in 1 hour 22 minutes to the respected memory of Mrs. Parsons, mother of the Rev. K. F. Parsons, Vicar of St. Margaret's, who was interred at Werrington, near Peterborough, that day: F. Mason 1, T. Bent 2, E. Morris (composer and conductor) 3, G. Humphreys 4, A. Cattell 5, G. S. Morris 6, E. Cattell 7, R. Hill 8.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.*AN EXAMPLE OF CARE AND ATTENTION TO BELLS.

The pre-Whitsun meeting of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association was held in Darlington on Saturday, May 28th. The weather conditions were, to say the least, appalling, but it is suspected that there must have been a goodly sprinkling of gardeners in the company, because grumbling was conspicuous by its absence; everyone seemed to be pleased that the long drought had at last run its course. Despite the weather, a representative gathering assembled, and the bells of St. Cuthbert's, which were recently recast and rehung by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, and the peal of six at Holy Trinity were used to advantage. It is interesting to note in passing that the bells of Holy Trinity were supplied and hung by Warner in 1891, and have not since had the attention of the bellhanger. Considerable ringing has always been done on the bells. Upwards of forty peals have been rung, and in very few years has the number of changes rung for practice and service fallen below the one hundred thousand mark. This speaks volumes for the care and attention bestowed on the bells, and the example may well be copied by others.

Tea was served in Mason's Cafe, presided over by the president (Mr. Murray D. Oubridge, of Gosforth), who addressed a welcome to the Rev. W. C. Jordan (Vicar of Darlington) and the Rev. Dr. P. R. Brinton (Vicar of Holy Trinity). Both responded, Mr. Jordan saying how pleased he was to be with the ringers again. He said that he did not see a great deal of his own ringers, but nevertheless he was still appreciative of the services they rendered.

Dr. Brinton was in jocular mood and told a ringing story, or rather a story connected with bells, for the benefit of the younger ringers present.

A vote of thanks to the clergy for the use of the bells, and to Dr. Brinton for permitting the use of Holy Trinity choir vestry for the committee meeting, was proposed by Mr. W. N. Park.

The Rev. W. C. Jordan apologised for the unavoidable absence of the Rev. J. G. Stephens (Vicar of St. John's), who had fully intended to be present, but who had had a busy afternoon at the cemetery, and in view of the fact that he had been wet through he thought the better course was to remain indoors.

The President referred to the death of an old member of the association, who passed away early last week. Mr. J. D. Forster, of Benfield-side, had been a member since 1885, but although he had not been able to participate in ringing of late, he had always retained an interest, as witnessed by the fact that he had remained a member of the association. A wreath was sent to the funeral and a letter of condolence to the family.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.*NORTHERN BRANCH OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

The annual meeting of the Northern Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild was held at St. James', Grimsby, on Saturday, May 28th. Although the weather was bad, 47 members and friends attended. A short service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. L. Marsden), and an excellent tea was afterwards provided in the Church House. In the absence of the president (Archdeacon Parry), who is still in a nursing home, Mr. Rupert Richardson (Guild Ringing Master) took the chair at the business meeting, at which all the officers were re-elected.

After some discussion, it was resolved that no reports be issued to members in arrears with their subscriptions.

It was agreed that the half-yearly meeting be moved forward to September 24th. The continued absence of the president (the Ven. Archdeacon Parry), through illness, was much regretted, the members wishing him a speedy recovery.

The usual votes of thanks concluded the meeting. To get into the ringing chamber at St. James' one has to pass through a very small door, and one prominent member of the Guild noted for his size failed to get through the aperture. He is evidently still increasing his girth. He was consoled with a variety of methods on handbells.

OXFORD GUILD MEETING IN BERKS.

A successful meeting of the Sonning Deanery Branch was held at Sandhurst, Berks, on Saturday. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m., and a short service was held at 5 p.m., conducted by the Master of the Guild and chairman of the branch, who attended in spite of great pressure of parochial work.

Canon Coleridge, in a few homely words, stressed the great importance of the Whitsuntide festival, and in describing how a ringer in an eight-bell tower was on the look out for each of the other seven ropes, said we should be looking, especially at this time (which reminded us of our confirmation), for the sevenfold gift of the Holy Spirit. The Rev. A. G. Thurlow presided at the organ.

Tea was served in the school, the meal being ably and bountifully prepared by several ladies, who were thanked by the hon. secretary, as was also Canon Coleridge, who, though unable to stay himself, had with his usual kind thought made the ringers his guests.

Branch towers represented were Binfield, Finchampstead, Hurst, Twyford, Wokingham (All Saints'), Waltham St. Lawrence, the local band and welcome visitors from Aldershot and Basingstoke. Methods rung included Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, London, Norwich and Cambridge Surprise, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Double Bob, College Single, Oxford Bob and Plain Bob Minor; also handbell ringing in the churchyard, including a course of Grandsire Caters.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Ringers who are looking for something new in the way of gifts to friends, or who would like to adorn their homes, will find a novelty advertised this week in our columns.

The Potters' Arts Guild, Ltd., a village industry established by the widow of the late G. F. Watts, R.A., at Compton, Surrey, are marketing fruit dishes and electric reading lamps, of which the base is a model bell surmounted by the stock. These articles are both artistic and accurate in design, and many ringers, we feel sure, will be glad to possess them.

One of the candidates to be made deacon by the Bishop of London at St. Paul's Cathedral on Trinity Sunday will be Mr. Arthur S. Roberts, of Truro. For the past three years he has been at the Bishop Wilson Theological College, Isle of Man.

Before going to college, Mr. Roberts was for many years secretary of the Truro Cathedral company, and for a while he was Master of the company. He was also the Truro Branch secretary of the Diocesan Guild for ten years.

Mr. Roberts is to work as assistant curate in the parish of St. Aldhelm, Upper Edmonton, North London.

The Halifax and District Association's six-bell contest is to be held in conjunction with the annual meeting at Low Moor on June 25th. Entries close on June 18th.

Mr. H. Rowley, leader of the ringers at St. Peter's Church, Horbury, has been elected chairman of the Urban District Council. On Civic Sunday, May 15th, when the chairman, the Council and other public bodies attended church in their official capacity, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung for the service and in honour of Mr. Rowley's appointment: A. Fothergill 1, H. Pickles 2, G. W. Pickles 3, E. Pickles (conductor) 4, J. Milner 5, G. Goldstraw 6, R. Thickett 7, W. Hammond (Wakefield) 8. It was the first attempt by Mr. E. Pickles to conduct a quarter-peal.

Mr. Ernest Roberts, secretary and leader of the ringers at Uttoxeter, Staffs, met with an unfortunate accident the other day when ringing with visitors from Wistaston. The bell he was ringing went over and he was drawn up to a considerable height. Falling back on to the floor, he struck his head and was badly dazed, but happily soon recovered, although the fingers of one hand, which had become entangled in the rope, were lacerated. Mr. Roberts has been a ringer for 34 years.

On Thursday, June 2nd, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rann and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bacon celebrated their golden weddings. Both Mr. Rann and Mr. Bacon are ringers at Loughton, Essex. In honour of the occasion a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at St. John's Church in 48 minutes: A. White 1, J. Moule 2, E. A. Bacon (conductor) 3, H. W. Hayes 4, J. Rann, sen. 5, C. R. Morss 6, J. Rann, jun. 7, C. Sease 8.

PEAL BOARDS.

PROVOST OF SOUTHWELL'S REASONS FOR REFUSAL.

To the Editor.

Sir,—An encouraging feature of to-day is the number of remarkable peals that are successfully rung. The other day a splendid team rang Cambridge in 3 hours 25 minutes in the Minster tower where I am Provost.

But now I find myself requested to allow a peal board to be placed in the ringing chamber, and I feel bound to refuse.

My first reason is a legal one. In these days a peal board could not be placed in any church without a faculty from the Archdeacon after consulting his Diocesan Advisory Council, and I feel sure that no Advisory Council would admit the clumsy and inartistic boards that are so common in our towers. Therefore, ringers should recognise that fact and approach the Archdeacon with a design smaller and more artistic. It is a break with long tradition, I know, but that thought leads to another kind of objection.

In these days of cars it is possible to get a crack team from a very wide area, and consequently the names of the ringers have little or no local interest whatever. The other day only one member of our local band took part.

It used to be very different, and when a team of local men rang a peal it was suitable to give the feat real prominence in the parish church. Also it was appropriate that the names of incumbent and churchwardens should be added. But nowadays it is probable that none of those gentlemen appreciate the music or the wonderful skill and concentration required, and they certainly ought not to be asked to pay so much a letter for their names to appear. If their names were omitted it would make the tablet, or whatever form was decided upon, smaller and neater.

Let anyone should think I am against peal ringing, may I add that though I never have been an expert, and have for some time given up ringing (except when I take the treble first thing on Christmas morning!), I was a member of the band that rang the first tower peal ever accomplished by resident members of the University of Cambridge. That was 44 years ago at Sawston. And though that was a ringing event of some interest, and many of that band became distinguished ringers, I am not aware that any record of it is to be seen in Sawston Church. That was probably going too far! But the old-fashioned ringing boards go too far in the other direction. The time has come when for legal and practical reasons some new method must be found.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—22.*LEWIS W. WIFFEN.

An eminent ringer who has only in recent years figured prominently as a conductor is Mr. Lewis W. Wiffen, of Braintree, Essex. He was trained in an exceptionally good school—St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich—and if the peals which he has called have not been as numerous as those of some other ringers, it has only been because of the fact that he has usually been attached to some tower already led by an eminent conductor.

Mr. Wiffen was born at Colne Engaine, near Halstead, Essex, on August 26th, 1881, and began his ringing in his native village. Later he went to Ipswich, where he had the good fortune to become associated at St. Mary-le-Tower Church with such famous ringers as the brothers James and William Motts, William Catchpole and Robert Brundle. He rang his first peal on April 9th, 1901, at Southwold, for the Norwich Diocesan Association, a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major. His first peal as conductor was in the same method and was rung at Henley, Suffolk, on November 7th, 1908, but about three months before this he had taken part in the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus, which was rung at St. Mary-le-Tower, where he afterwards took part in peals of Superlative, Pudsey, Yorkshire and Rochester Surprise Maximus, all without previous practice.

During a brief stay at Guildford, Mr. Wiffen rang his first handbell peals under the conductorship of Mr. A. H. Pulling. He is now attached to the tower of St. Michael the Archangel's Church, Braintree, where he is acting Master, and he is now responsible for calling many peals. Altogether he has rung 537 peals and conducted 67. They have been rung in some 15 churches.

Mr. Wiffen has filled the office of District Ringing Master of the Essex Association, and is one of its representatives on the Central Council. He has been Peals Secretary for several years.

WILTSHIRE VILLAGE GETS NEW BELL.*CHISELDON NOW HAS RING OF SIX.

After several years of persistent effort, the authorities of the pleasant Wiltshire village of Chiseldon have achieved their ambition and a treble has been added to the old ring of five. The new bell was dedicated by the Very Rev. J. W. Coulter, Archdeacon of Wiltshire, on May 21st, in the presence of a large congregation.

The Archdeacon, in the course of a most inspiring address, congratulated the parishioners on providing the new bell, and paid high tribute to the bellringers generally for their self-sacrificing work for the church, at the same time reminding them of the sacredness of the office they held as churchworkers.

After the service the local band rang the first 120 of Grandsire Doubles, and the tower was then open for general ringing.

About 25 members of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild and the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association rang touches of Grandsire Doubles, Stedman Doubles and Bob Minor. One of the ringers was Mr. A. Lawrence, of Swindon, a veteran of 83 years of age, who rang at Chiseldon Church 50 years ago for a wedding.

The general opinion expressed was that the 'splice' was admirable, the tone of the new treble blending well with the old five, whilst the 'go' of the new bell is excellent. The work has been carefully carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, who are to be congratulated on a first-class job, the peal now forming a handy ring of six with tenor of 14½ cwt.

The dates and founders' names of the previous ring of five are as follows: 1, 1652, W. and T. Purdue; 2, 1610, John Wallis; 3, 1613, John Wallis; 4, undated, but believed to be pre-Reformation; 5, 1667, William Purdue.

MR. L. W. WIFFEN.

SWANSEA AND BRECON GUILD.*RINGING COMPETITION AT MORRISTON.

The fourteenth annual competition of the Swansea and Brecon Diocesan Guild was held on May 28th at Morriston, near Swansea. It was gratifying to all concerned with the arrangements to find that eight teams competed for the Dr. T. P. Thomas shield. The competition commenced at 11.30 a.m., the test consisting of raising the bells in peal, ringing 120 changes in any method, and falling the bells in peal. Three teams performed their tasks before lunch, and then between 50 and 60 ringers sat down to an excellent meal. The weather, which had been none too kind before the interval, cleared nicely for the afternoon session, when the remainder of the competitors got through the work by 4.30. Again tea was provided for all, and the Rev. N. L. James presided over the proceedings which followed. Mr. W. H. Fussell, Slough, for the last time, kindly consented to adjudicate and gave the result of what he had heard from a house in close proximity to the tower.

Below is a list of the points obtained by each team out of a maximum of 240:—

1. Cefn Coed	236	Stedman Doubles
2. Gorseinon	234	Stedman Doubles
3. Cadoxton	232	Kent Treble Bob
4. Llanelly (Carm.)	232	Grandsire Doubles
5. Brecon (St. Mary's)	224	Grandsire Doubles
6. Scratch Band	222	Grandsire Doubles
7. Talgarth	212	Grandsire Doubles
8. Brecon (St. David's)	(Cancelled)

CADOXTON'S UNFORTUNATE SLIP.

Mr. Fussell, in speaking of the competition, referred to the unfortunate slip at the last treble lead made by Cadoxton, who up to that point had rung without fault—the one slip they made cost them eight points and the shield. He said the standard of ringing of the past three or four years had been maintained, and he gave a word of encouragement to the team which had come to grief. The bells were by no means easy to handle—new ropes, a long draught and a small belfry all combined to upset even the best.

The Vicar's wife, Mrs. James, then presented the shield to the captain of the Cefn Coed team together with a certificate. A silver medal was also presented to each member of the winning team as follows: Treble, A. Hunt (capt.); 2, V. Chappell; 3, K. Gough; 4, C. Chappell; 5, E. Woosley; tenor, W. Thomas. The captains of the teams placed second and third each received a certificate.

Mr. C. Powell proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. James and his energetic band of workers for so kindly providing the meals. The arrangements throughout the day had worked smoothly and everyone had enjoyed the visit to Morriston.

In seconding the resolution, Mr. L. T. Havard coupled the name of Mr. G. M. Williams, of the local band, who had worked untriflingly throughout the day, and of Mrs. James for so graciously presenting the awards.—The vote was carried with acclamation.

The Vicar proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. W. H. Fussell for his expert services.—Mr. S. T. Rackham seconded, and said that he hoped Mr. Fussell could be prevailed upon to act again for the Guild.—The vote was carried unanimously.

Mr. Fussell, in responding, reminded the ringers that he had been coming to Wales for 14 years to adjudicate the competitions. He was not getting any younger and felt the time had come when he must decline any further invitation.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the East Norfolk Branch of the Norwich Diocesan Association was held at Ranworth on Saturday, May 21st. The bells have recently been rehung and are a fine six. A short service was held, and in his address the Vicar, the Rev. Everad, gave a very interesting account of the church and bells.

Tea was followed by a short business meeting, over which the Vicar presided. Two ringing members were elected, also the Vicar as an honorary member. Happisburgh was decided upon for the next meeting, on Saturday, August 13th. Mr. J. Harwood brought to the notice of the meeting the death of Mr. Dennison Hayward, of Yarmouth, the last but one of the foundation members of the association, and the company stood in silent tribute.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to Miss Joan Greenham, one of the local band, who undertook the arrangements for tea; also to the Vicar for the kind and interesting way he received the association, this being the first time that there has been a meeting held at Ranworth.

The company of 49 present at tea included Mr. A. L. Coleman (former general secretary), Mr. F. Nolan Golden (general secretary and treasurer), Mr. H. Tooke (North Norfolk secretary) and Mr. J. Harwood (East Norfolk secretary). Mr. W. J. Lee (East Norfolk chairman) was unable to be present owing to illness.

Ringers came from Norwich, Yarmouth, Fakenham, Barham, Wymondham, Reedham, Ranworth, Acle, Happisburgh, Norton, Buxton, Saxlingham, North Walsham, South Walsham, Garveston, Halvergate, Wroxham, etc. Various Minor methods were rung to suit all comers.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL. TUESDAY'S MEETING AT LEEDS.

The Surprise Methods Book.

There was an exceedingly good attendance at the 46th annual meeting of the Central Council at Leeds on Tuesday. A great welcome had been prepared by the Yorkshire Association, and visitors, in addition to enjoying the ringing on many peals of bells, had an extensive coach tour on Monday, which took them to Fountains Abbey, Ripon Cathedral, with lunch in the city, Middleham, and Richmond, where tea was partaken of.

The meeting on Tuesday was held in the Civil Court of Leeds Town Hall, and the members were welcomed by the Deputy Lord Mayor (Councillor Mrs. L. Hammond) and by Canon C. C. Marshall, president of the Yorkshire Association, on behalf of the Vicar of Leeds.

The following members signed the roll:—

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE COUNCIL.

The hon. secretary reported that there are now 51 societies, guilds and associations affiliated to the Council, an increase of one from last year. The new guild is the East Grinstead and District Guild, founded in June, 1927, with a present membership of 111. The usual undertaking to abide by the rules and decisions of the Council has been signed, and the affiliation fee paid, but no representative will be elected until next year. An additional representative has been elected by the Ladies' Guild, bringing this guild's representation up to three. Miss Steel, president of the Guild, is the new member.

Three societies have lost representatives by death, and of these two have elected members for the remainder of the triennial session, the Middlesex Association, Mr. F. W. Goodfellow, and the Sussex Association, Mr. F. H. Dallaway.

In the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association, Mr. T. Metcalfe, a member since 1913, has resigned, and Mr. J. C. Pollard has been elected in his stead. Mr. Pollard was a member of the Council for four years, 1932-1935.

The present representation is 23 associations entitled to four members 92, elected 90 members; 6 associations entitled to three members 18, elected 18 members; 8 associations entitled to two members 16, elected 14 members; 14 associations entitled to one member 14, elected 12 members; total 51, number of members to which entitled 140, elected 134.

The vacancies are one each in the following societies: Ancient Society of College Youths, Cambridge University, East Grinstead, North Notts, North Wales and Worcestershire.

There are 15 honorary members. All subscriptions had been paid except the following: North Wales Association, Truro Diocesan Guild. Mr. W. A. Cave (Bristol) and Mr. A. Walker (Birmingham) were re-elected hon. members, and Mr. Gilbert E. Debenham (St. Albans) was elected to one of the vacancies.

Reference was made to the loss by death of the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, Mr. W. H. Hollier, Mr. F. Smith, Mr. F. W. Thornton and Mr. W. T. Cockerill, who had all served on the Council, also to the deaths of Mr. J. J. Parker and of Mrs. J. S. Goldsmith, and the members stood in silence as a mark of respect.

Arising out of the minutes of the last meeting it was decided, with regret, to delete from the Analysis a peal of Minor rung for the Yorkshire Association in which a plain course was rung between the first and second 720's.

It was reported that the preparation of a pamphlet on double-handed handbell ringing had been begun by Mr. Chris. Woolley.

The report of the hon. librarian showed that sales of publications were down, partly owing to 'Minor Methods' being out of print, and the book on Major and Cater Methods being exhausted. It was hoped the former and the pamphlet relating to the law affecting church bells would be available shortly. The librarian recommended that the stock of 'Hints to Instructors and Beginners' should be replenished. The whole stock of Glossaries had been given away, about twelve associations having taken advantage of the Council's offer.

The sales during the year totalled £10 10s. 1d., and the various stocks on hand were valued at £138 15s. 7d. The balance of receipts over expenditure was £3 4s.

It was decided to sell off the remaining copies of 'Collections of Peals' at a uniform price of 9d. each, with a copy of the Corrigenda. It was also decided to revise the 'Model Rules for a Local Company' and issue a new edition, and also to revise the booklet on the 'Preservation of Bells.'

The general accounts of the Council showed that the balance in hand had been increased by £25 5s. to £130 16s. 7d.

The Carter Ringing Machine (in the Science Museum) had been taken out and tried over, and the trustees, in their report, recommended carrying out the suggestion of Mr. Sharman (one of the demonstrators) that the contact pins of the electric circuits, controlling the sounding of the bells, should be reset with stouter wire and readjusted. Mr. Sharman offered to do the work free if paid expenses.

The Peal Collection Committee reported that the compositions were now going through the final scrutiny as to truth and there would be nothing to delay handing them in at the next meeting.

ASSOCIATIONS TO BE ASKED FOR HELP.

The Methods Committee reported that the third edition of Doubles and Minor methods would be on sale shortly. They also reminded the Council that the manuscript of the book on Surprise Major methods was ready for publication as soon as financial considerations permit.

The report was adopted on the motion of Mr. J. A. Trollope, seconded by Mr. S. H. Wood.

The Standing Committee asked for the views of the Council upon proceeding with the publication of the Surprise Methods, the cost of which would be at least 4s. or 5s. per copy when printed.

Mr. Walter Ayre took exception to the insertion of names to methods of which peals have not already been rung, and was supported in this by Mr. J. T. Dyke and Mr. F. W. Perrens.

The heavy financial responsibility involved, which it was urged would 'sequester' the Council's funds, was the ground of opposition to present publication by Mr. P. J. Johnson and others, although it was generally agreed that the book was an excellent one which should be available to ringers.

Eventually, on the motion of Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, seconded by Mr. G. R. Newton, a resolution was carried with two dissentients that 'with a view to publishing the book on Surprise Major Methods at an early date, this Council recommend that all affiliated societies be invited to take up one half of the issue.'

On the question of printing the names of the methods in the book, Mr. Trollope referred to the confusion which occurred when the Minor methods were printed because the names were omitted, and said that no objection had been raised to the printing of the names in the Collection of Major Methods. He urged the Council to retain the principle of printing the names.

The matter cropped up again later in the day, when it was pointed out that the book could not be published for at least a year and that the question of the names could, therefore, be discussed at the next meeting.

The report of the Peals Analysis Committee, which has already appeared in 'The Ringing World,' was adopted, with a slight correction.

It was resolved that application should be made for permission to submit to His Majesty the King a list of the 259 peals rung in celebration of the Coronation.

OTHER COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The report of the Towers and Belfries Committee mentioned that since the last Council meeting members of the committee had been consulted in 27 cases and had given advice, in most cases after inspection of the towers concerned. In 22 of the towers the question was one of the rehanging or the provision of additional bells. In the other five towers advice was given in the matter of sound modification.

An effort was being made to obtain information as to competent ringers, with a knowledge of bells, on Diocesan Advisory Committees. So far, said the report, replies had been received from 24 dioceses out of 47. In 16 of these there is a member who either has a good knowledge of bells or is sufficiently interested to see that expert advice is obtained. In the other eight the position is said to be unsatisfactory. The committee desire further information with a view to taking some action in the matter.

The report was adopted on the motion of the president, who, as usual, elaborated the committee's report with some interesting details of some of the cases which had come under his notice.

The Literature, Press and Broadcasting Committee's report reviewed the publicity, through various outstanding events, given by the Press of the country to bellringing, and specially mentioned the publication of Mr. J. A. Trollope's work, 'The College Youths.'

On the broadcasting side, the report mentioned that during the past nine months a very fair standard of broadcasting before services had been maintained, although there was still need for much improvement. The president of the Council had had the opportunity of personal conferences with officials of the B.B.C., which should be productive of good results.

The statement prepared by the Rev. H. Drake (published in 'The Ringing World' on May 27th) on the subject of using mechanical devices in church towers, to broadcast bells, and which expressed the opinion that as records of change ringing 'do not fulfil any of the conditions of personal ringing, they ought not to be used to commence a service of divine worship,' came before the Council as an addenda to the Literature, Press and Broadcasting Committee's report.

After discussion, the mover withdrew the motion, it being agreed that the matter should be considered by the Standing Committee, who were given power to act.

The Peal Boards Committee had to deplore the death of their convener (Mr. W. H. Hollier). This had delayed the progress of the work, but at present copies of some two hundred peal boards, dated not later than 1825, had been received.

The report was adopted, as was also that of the Biographies Committee, who reported progress with the work, and asked members to return the forms without delay.

The officers of the Council presented a further interim report on the circulation of 'The Ringing World.' It comprised principally extracts from suggestions received from members. Several of the suggestions, said the report, might be useful in the future, but for immediate needs they invited serious consideration of a letter which suggested approaching the clergy, through the Archdeacons, to solicit the influence of every incumbent, who has bells and ringers, in putting the matter to his ringers, in the belief that a vast benefit would be created to the ringing Exercise as a body of active churchworkers by the increased circulation of 'The Ringing World.'

There was considerable discussion, and the suggestion made in the report was adopted.

Another report by the officers of the Council was on the muffling of bells. It included the report presented at the last meeting of the Council and extracts from a number of letters from ringers in different parts of the country describing local customs.

It was decided that the report should be redrafted to incorporate certain other points, and, after approval by the Standing Committee, will be sent to the Church authorities.

ADDITIONS TO PEALS OF DOUBLES.

On the motion of Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, seconded by Mr. W. G. Wilson, the following motion was agreed to: 'This Council, desiring that peals of Doubles and Minor shall be put upon a similar basis, resolves that peals of Doubles as already defined may be lengthened at the end by one true touch of less than 120 changes.'

It was decided to send the congratulations of the Council to Mr. Charles Slingsby, of Aldington, Kent, on celebrating his 101st birthday, and a gift amounting to £2, subscribed by the members, was sent to him.

A communication was received from the Midland Counties Association suggesting that the Agenda of the Council should be published a month beforehand to enable associations to consider the contents at their annual meetings.

It was pointed out that this was already covered by the rules, and it was agreed that no action was necessary.

The hon. secretary reported that 92 members had signed the roll; 20 associations were fully represented by 47 members, 22 were partly represented by 36 members, and nine were unrepresented. Nine honorary members were also present.

The meeting terminated with an omnibus vote of thanks to all who had contributed to the arrangements of the meeting, also to the president and the hon. secretary and Mrs. Fletcher for their great services.

After the meeting the members and their friends were entertained to tea by the Yorkshire Association.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

THE COUNCIL MEETING.

The Central Council paid a long-delayed return visit to Yorkshire for their meeting this year. They had been invited time and again, but in their desire to spread their visits over the country the claims of other centres had been given priority, and not for 34 years had the Council met in Yorkshire. The last occasion was at York in 1904, and once previously, in 1895, they met in Sheffield. As far as possible these annual meetings have been planned broadly on a system which, with London as the fixed meeting place under the rules for the first session of each new Council, has taken them in turn, twice to the Midlands, then north and south, then west and east. It is a scheme that works well, for it enables the Council to reach in time each part of the country and thus help to keep interest in it alive in the various centres.

Few meetings outside London have been more interesting than that at Leeds last week, and none has been more enjoyable. The attendance was well above the average, and the Yorkshire Association earned the Council's gratitude for the wonderful hospitality with which they entertained the members. They spared nothing in making the gathering a success, and those who were able to share fully in the social side of the visit will long have pleasant memories of the occasion. Those—and there are still a few—who are inclined to view the meetings of the Council as an opportunity for 'junketing' on the part of a privileged few, fail to realise both the work which is done by the Council and the valuable effect created by these opportunities of members of associations and guilds all over the country to meet and rub shoulders and to discuss informally, as they do outside the Council Chamber, the hundred and one little points that go to make up interest in ringing, and broaden their ideas, which, in the long run, must reflect its benefit on the Exercise at large.

As to the actual business transacted at last week's meeting, there was nothing exciting about it, no very spirited debates on contentious subjects, such as sometimes happen, although an interlude in the afternoon, in reverting to the subject of publishing the book on Surprise methods, threatened a small storm. That, however, was successfully sidetracked, at any rate for a year. The rest of the agenda was disposed of very placidly, but that is not to say that a good deal of useful and solid work was not done. As we have so often pointed out, it is the committees of the Council that carry the burden, but the Council must meet to implement the decisions. Its deliberations occupied in all some four and a half hours. That the business was got through

TWELVE TIMES ROUND THE TOWER.

Mr. W. C. Rumsey, of Debenham, Suffolk, has now 'circled' his own tower in peals no fewer than twelve times. He completed it on June 4th in a peal of Cambridge, when he rang the 2nd. It must be, surely, a record.

The bicentenary of John Wesley has been recently celebrated by the Methodist denomination. Wesley was born at Epworth, Lincolnshire, where his father was Vicar, and on June 4th a peal was rung at this church in association with the commemoration. It was the first peal on the bells.

Dennis Brewer, the youngest member of the Swindon Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, rang his first peal on June 1st, when 42 extents of Grandsire Doubles were rung at Lydiard Millicent, Wilts, as a welcome to the new Rector, the Rev. H. F. Shepherd. Dennis is only 13 years of age.

A GOOD WHITSUN.

Youth, with a sprinkling of age, made a good bag in Kent during Whitsun. Five peals were rung between Friday and Tuesday, although, perhaps, the two first were just in the ordinary programme, one being at Crayford and the other at Gravesend, while Crayford came in for another on the last day.

On Whit Monday it was intended to go for Double Norwich at Penshurst and Oxford Treble Bob at Speldhurst with the same band. Unfortunately, however, events proved that early rising was not the strong point of one of the ringers. When he had been 'given up as a bad job' at Penshurst, it was decided to start for Bob Major, with Mr. George Edwards, of the local band, kindly standing in and ringing his 100th peal. The delinquent turned up when the peal had been in progress about three-quarters of an hour. By the way, if you check over the names you may find who was the culprit.

It was particularly kind of Mr. Edwards to stand in, as he had hoped that Mr. Thomas Groombridge, sen., of Chislehurst, who called his 50th peal, would also call his 100th.

Other Kent ringers had a Whitsuntide trip to Suffolk, and, augmented by some well-known 'natives,' scored a trio of peals. The first was on the Saturday at Woodbridge, where Cambridge was rung and Mr. F. J. Smith scored his 200th peal.

On Whit Sunday the first peal of Stedman Triples on the bells at Kelsale was achieved. This peal was well earned, as the tenor went very badly, and, towards the end, only brute force kept it going.

Peals in almost all the 'standard' methods had previously been rung at Kelsale, as well as one or two of the unusual Surprise methods, such as Guildford and Rochester, but, although several good bands had attempted to score a peal of Stedman, this one was the first to come home.

It was Mr. F. L. Fisher's one hundredth peal, and Miss Sylvia Bowyer's first of Stedman Triples, although she has already rung three peals of Stedman Cinques.

FAMILY ACHIEVEMENTS.

Leiston, made famous in ringing history by the achievements of the Bailey brothers, who could man all the bells and still have one or two of the family to spare, produced a peal of Superlative on Whit Monday. There were four members of the family in the peal, two brothers with a son and his wife. We think this must be the first time a Mrs. Bailey has rung a peal there. The conductor was Mr. J. M. Bailey, her father-in-law, and it is a curious fact that although he has rung 270 peals of Surprise Major, it was the first he had called.

It is also interesting to note that on Whit Monday, 29 years ago, what is believed to be the longest length by any local band was rung at Leiston. It was 11,240 of Double Norwich Major, which took 6 hours 32 minutes to ring. Messrs. E. S. and J. M. Bailey, who rang in the peal last Whit Monday, were also in the performance in 1909.

Messrs. A. E. Bacon and W. Buckenham rang their 50th peal together on Whit Monday, when they took part in seven extents of Bob Minor at Gressenhall, Norfolk.

The first peal in eleven methods in Shropshire and by the Shropshire Association as well as by all the band was rung at Moreton Corbet on Whit Monday. The four extra methods were put in in the first extent. Five of the same band rang in another peal of Minor the same day at Stoke-on-Tern.

The conductor of both these peals, Mr. Arthur Pritchard, called a peal of Grandsire Caters at Coalbrookdale on the following day, when Ronald Shepherd, of Aston, Birmingham, rang his first peal at the first attempt.

John Gilbert, of Handsworth, one of Yorkshire's coming youngsters, rang his 75th peal on Whit Monday at Heptonstall. He it was who called the record junior peal at Crayford a year or two ago. The peal at Heptonstall was rung as a birthday compliment to Mr. Tom Coles, hon. secretary of the Middlesex Association, who, at the time, was coaching round Yorkshire with the Central Council.

Something 'different' in Bob Major! The composition of the peal of Bob Major rung at Earl Shilton on Saturday, May 28th, was on novel lines, having instead of the orthodox 7-8 at home, 2-3 there at every course end. Consequently the big bells were 'all over the place' and the music was like the proverbial curate's egg—good in parts. The sergeant-major would have said it was like 'neither your armhole nor your elbow,' or words to that effect! Nevertheless, it broke away from the common rut.

DEATH OF MR. G. T. DALTRY.

A VETERAN BRISTOL RINGER.

A well-known ringer of former days passed away on June 8th in the person of George Thomas Daltry, of Bristol. He had been in charge of the tower at All Saints', Bristol, for over 50 years, and the esteem in which he was held may be gauged by the fact that he was, at the time of his death, people's churchwarden, a representative on the Ruri-decanal Conference, and one of the trustees of All Saints' Lands Trust. He was a Freemason, and member of the Royal Clarence Lodge, in the Province of Bristol.

As a ringer he did much to raise the standard of ringing in Bristol. The series of peals rung at his tower, in collaboration with his colleague, the late Henry Porch, about 1896-97, roused his rivals to greater endeavours, and although his peals were termed 'non-association' (several members of the band refusing to join the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association), the writer, as one of the 'rivals' at the time, can bear witness to the excellent quality of the ringing. Through the influence of the late James Hinton, Mr. Daltry and his colleagues eventually agreed to join the association and meet together for practice at St. Mary Redcliffe, where the first peal of Stedman Cinques was rung on December 31st, 1899. Grandsire Cinques and Bob Maximus followed, all conducted by H. Porch.

The funeral of Mr. Daltry took place on Saturday, June 11th, when the church was nearly filled by representatives of the various organisations with which he was connected. The ringers present were Messrs. W. R. Paddock, C. H. Gordon, F. C. Mogford, R. Clark, H. H. Tucker, A. Pearce, G. Pearce, F. J. Porch, F. J. Jewell, F. J. Cooper, R. J. Drew, F. Gooding and W. A. Cave.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

NORTH BUCKS BRANCH CHAIRMANSHIP.

A very successful meeting of the North Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at Bletchley on Saturday, June 4th, the occasion being the branch annual festival. The weather being good, there was an excellent attendance, the following towers being represented: Buckingham, Bradwell, Loughton, Milton Keynes, Newport Pagnell, Newport Longville, Shenley, Stony Stratford and Stoke Goldington, with a number of ringing visitors, including Mr. and Mrs. J. Davies and Mr. Pye, from London. Service was conducted by the Rev. A. H. Partridge (Rector of Bletchley), and a very inspiring address was given by the Rev. Bishop, of Little Buckhill. Tea was served in the school, where about 60 sat down.

At the business meeting afterwards the secretary (Mr. W. Sear) reported that he had received the resignation of the chairman (the Rev. H. Adeane Byard, of Newport Pagnell). The Deputy Master of the Guild (the Rev. C. E. Wigg) presided, and the secretary gave a detailed account of the financial position of the branch and of the activities during the year. They had, he said, a total of £15 8s. 11d. in hand, £10 invested, with a membership of 239 from 28 towers.

The appointment of a chairman of the district was held over to a later date. Mr. W. Sear was re-elected secretary and treasurer for the 22nd year.

A sum of £5 5s. was voted for Mr. J. J. Parker's memorial fund. Mr. R. T. Hibbert, hon. secretary of the Guild, addressed the meeting and complimented the branch on its very healthy condition.

The Deputy Master proposed votes of thanks to the preacher and to the ladies for their assistance, which had helped to make the meeting so successful.

The secretary was requested to write and thank the late chairman for his help during his term of office.

Ringing during the day ranged from Grandsire and Stedman to Spliced Surprise, which was accomplished by the visitors.

AN ENQUIRY FROM JERSEY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I be allowed to enquire through your columns if any ringers are contemplating a holiday in Jersey at any time between July 8th and 18th? If so, will they please communicate with me?

C. E. LOVETT.

Heathfield Cottage, Bagatelle Lane,
St. Saviour's, Jersey, C.I.

Several members of the Central Council took part in a peal of Stedman Caters at Bradford Cathedral on June 4th as a preliminary to their visit to Yorkshire.

The peal of Kent Treble Bob Major at Lugwardine on June 4th was rung during a visit to Herefordshire of Mr. W. H. Fussell and Mr. A. P. Cannon. It was the latter's fiftieth peal as conductor, and this number has been spread over no fewer than 49 towers.

Mr. Fred Lambert, of Halesworth, Suffolk, rang his 150th peal on Whit Monday, when he called a peal of Doubles in three methods at Wissett.

Mr. G. Wilfred Slack, a brilliant mathematician who makes some of our ringing 'scientists' watch their step, and who has composed a peal of Stedman Triples in two equal parts with only two singles, is leaving Leeds for a post in Hampshire. A farewell peal of Double Norwich was rung at Drighlington on June 4th.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.*MAY MEETING AT GUISELEY.

Usually the visit of the Leeds and District Society to Guiseley is rewarded with wonderful weather, but this year they had to share similar weather to the rest of England, and continued rain throughout the day rather kept the attendance down. Members were present from Armley, Bradford Cathedral, Bramley, Burley, Drighlington, Holbeck, Headingley (St. Chad's and St. Michael's), Idle, Leeds Parish Church, Sherburn, Shipley and the local company.

The bells were kept going, except for the usual breaks, during the afternoon and evening. The business meeting was held in the tower, the president (the Rev. J. A. B. Andrews, M.A.) being in the chair. One new member, Mr. F. Terry, of Hemingbrough, was elected.

A donation of 10s. 6d. was voted to the Canon Elsee Memorial Fund. The vote of thanks to the Rector, churchwardens and the local company was proposed by Mr. P. J. Johnson and seconded by Mr. S. Helliwell.—Mr. F. Dixon acknowledged the vote and promised to pass on the society's thanks.

The next meeting will be held on June 25th at Burley.

SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

For the meeting of the Shropshire Association on June 11th, two six-bell towers were visited, conveyance by car between the churches being satisfactorily accomplished.

In the afternoon the light peal at Great Ness provided practice in handling, while in the evening it was found that the peal at Becton needed both strength and skill if good striking was to be hoped for.

Some good practice was obtained in standard six-bell methods, and the attendance of 23 ringers to tea was quite satisfactory for the district.

There was little business, as time was limited, but the meeting recorded its appreciation of the efforts of the band and conductor, Mr. A. Pritchard, who had raised the county record to eleven Minor methods in a peal.

DEATH OF MR. G. M. WYATT.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. George M. Wyatt, of Bentley, South Weald, Essex, who passed away on Ascension Day. He will be missed in the district, where he was respected by all.

The funeral took place on Monday, May 30th, when the bells were rung half-muffled for the service.

In the evening a half-muffled quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,250 changes) was rung by R. C. Heazel (conductor) 1, A. Rainbird 2, A. E. Pryke 3, G. Sewell 4, J. Sitch 5.

A YORKSHIRE WORTHY.*PASSING OF MR. ARTHUR E. WEST.

The death occurred at his home, Holly Bank, Sutton, near Hull, of Mr. Arthur E. West. Deceased, who was 54 years of age, was connected with the St. James' Church, Sutton, for 38 years. Portly in build, he was a typical yeoman and of a most lovable nature. His friends, who included ringers not only locally, but all over England, have lost a true 'pal.'

All visitors to the district received a warm welcome at Holly Bank and were always interested in his collection of clocks (incidentally there were nearly 500) and many valuable pieces of antique furniture. Then there was handbell ringing if possible, and before saying 'Good-bye,' a visit to the private sanctum for a stirrup cup which, somehow, was never failing. Mr. West made many friends wherever he went, for he travelled far in the cause of ringing. His advice about church clocks was much sought and he gave it most willingly.

Mr. West had rung 25 peals, and was one of the band that scored the first peal on the bells of his Parish Church, when in 1907 the local band rang seven extents of Treble Bob Minor.

His loss to the Yorkshire Association and especially in the East Riding will be felt in many ways. He attended a general meeting at Tadcaster only a fortnight before his death, where he caught a chill and took to his bed on the following Tuesday.

He was buried quietly in the family vault at Hull General Cemetery on Whit Monday and was carried to his rest by his brother ringers from Sutton. His keenness in the teaching of learners has been shown regularly in 'The Ringing World,' especially by his pupils at Craford and other places as the writer can testify.

J. W. H.

NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A monthly meeting of the North Staffordshire Association was held on Saturday, June 4th, at Biddulph. The attendance was smaller than usual, probably due to the Whitsun holidays, but 24 members attended from Biddulph, Kingsley, Brown Edge, Longton, Burslem, Newcastle-under-Lyme, Wolstanton, Draycott and Norton-in-the-Moors, and Lawton.

Tea was kindly provided by the Vicar, who, in welcoming the visitors, suggested that the wishes of the meeting for her speedy recovery be sent to Mrs. Cottrell, wife of the Biddulph captain.

The usual vote of thanks to the Vicar, ringers and lady helpers was followed by more ringing and the ringers' special service at 7 o'clock.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The method rung by Cadoxton at the Swansea and Brecon Guild's competition at Morrision was Cambridge Surprise and not Kent Treble Bob as reported in our last issue.

At least two members cycled to the Central Council meeting. One, a lady, pedalled her way to Leeds from Cambridge; the other pushed all the way from London. It took him 23 hours. But for a slight accident he would have cycled home again—instead the bike went back by rail and the cyclist by car.

Mr. G. F. Woodhouse's wonderful ringing machine worked overtime during the visit of the Central Council to Leeds. He had it on exhibition on two evenings and both members and visitors inspected it with the keenest interest. One of its most remarkable features lies in the fact that while ringing in one method is in progress it can be set to switch over to another at any lead head.

Leeds and District ringers are specially requested to send in their names for tea at the Burley meeting. The difficulty of catering is especially great in this district, as there are no cafes in the neighbourhood.

The long run of good fortune enjoyed by St. Mary-le-Tower Society, Ipswich, came to an end on Saturday last. A peal of Yorkshire Maximus had progressed as far as the 'middle' in the last course when one of the ringers felt faint and had to stop.

It was the intention of the society to ring twelve peals in twelve months in twelve different Maximus methods. Half that intention had already been realised. We hope the plan may yet be successfully accomplished.

RINGS OF TWELVE.

WHICH IS THE BEST PEAL?

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—On Whit Sunday morning I heard a course of London Surprise Major rung on the back eight at York Minster. It was a very good course, and except that in the first lead or so the little bells were rung rather too fast, the striking was good. It was the tenor ringing which was notable. That bell must be a masterpiece of the bellhanger's craft, but, even so, the way in which Charlie Kippin turn her in was splendid.

My impression (for what it is worth) is that York are better as an eight than they are as a twelve. It would seem that a very heavy ring of bells with modern tuning, unless they could be rung very slowly (say at the rate of five and a half hours to a peal), are musically a failure. Leaving Mancroft out of the question (for which bells I have a natural prejudice), I think the best ring of twelve I have ever heard (both inside and outside the tower) is St. Chad's, Shrewsbury. I wonder how many people agree with me?

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

UNSIGHTLY PEAL BOARDS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—With reference to the Provost of Southwell's comments on the very poor peal boards which may be seen in belfries, with a little thought and effort by the right executors it is possible to produce a peal board (or a framed notice) that is not blatant and respects the style of building in which it is to be placed. But why not a Record Book? If necessary, it could be of vellum or parchment and bound in leather, and if kept in a case would last for centuries. As a preface some historical data could be included.

The ugly boards seen coincide with the ill-designed notices, brasses and stones so prevalent in public buildings. The result is caused by handing the job to the nearest signwriter or mason at so much a letter.

Chelsfield Park, Kent.

O. CULLEN.

WYKE REGIS BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With your kind permission, may I make an appeal through 'The Ringing World' to all my fellow-ringers and church-workers on behalf of the bells of Wyke Regis (Weymouth) Church? This peal has been rung for Sunday services for 47 years, but has been silent since November, owing to the fact that after examination by the bellfounders it was stated they were unsafe to ring.

Unfortunately we have had some very heavy expenditure in our parish quite recently. We have had to purchase our Church Schools at a cost of £7,000, the cost of church restoration has amounted to £1,600, and of the organ £350. A large portion of the above has been paid, but more money is required to clear the debt on the schools, church restoration and organ. Now we require £300 to put our eight bells in order.

Many ringers come to this beautiful district for their holidays during the summer, and bands of ringers come for their outings. I feel sure they will miss the pleasure of a touch on this merry peal.

I shall be most grateful to receive any donations.

C. H. JENNINGS.

3, Sunnyside Road, Wyke Regis, Weymouth.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—23.*JOHN WORTH.

One of the conductors who has helped to make ringing history is Mr. John Worth, of Macclesfield, for he led the band that resumed the good work, begun in his own county in the early 'twenties by the Norbury company, and carried on the record-breaking exploits in Spliced Minor ringing. Under his conductorship Cheshire men built up the total to 51 methods in seven true extents, and, after their Lincolnshire rivals had carried the number by stages to 61, Mr. Worth called peals in 66 and 68 methods, and later took part in a peal in 73 methods. At the moment honours rest in Lincolnshire with the 80-method peal rung last December. But it was Mr. Worth's initiative that set the ball rolling again in 1934, little more than five years after he had rung his first peal, a peal of Grandsire Doubles at Christ Church, Macclesfield, on June 3rd, 1929, which was the first peal by all the band.

Mr. Worth was born at Macclesfield in 1910 and learned to ring at Christ Church, where the conditions, to say the least, are not easy, and among the peals which he has rung he, therefore, values particularly two at this church, a peal of Grandsire Triples by the Sunday service band and a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major.

In addition to the record peals of Minor in which Mr. Worth has taken part, he has rung peals of Plain Bob and Oxford Treble Bob from Minor to Maximus, and Grandsire from Doubles to Cinques. He conducted the first peals of Staffordshire Surprise Major, Manchester Surprise Major and Carishbrooke Delight Major, and also the first peal of Spliced Surprise Major in four methods in Cheshire.

He recently rang his two hundredth peal for the Chester Diocesan Guild, and out of the total of 233 peals in which he has taken part, he has called 161. He has rung two peals of Maximus, two of Cinques, ten of Royal and conducted six, six of Caters and conducted five, 114 of Major and conducted 85, 15 Triples and conducted 12, 80 of Minor (in one to 73 methods) and conducted 50, and four of Doubles, of which he has conducted three—and he has been peal ringing only nine years!

Mr. Worth is a Branch Ringing Master in the Chester Guild and serves on the Guild Committee.

Next week: Mr. Harold J. Poole.

ANOTHER VETERAN PASSES ON.*FORMER MEMBER OF THE OLD BURTON BAND.

The Stoke (Coventry) band lost its oldest member when Mr. William J. Smith died on June 4th at the age of 72. He joined the Stoke band in 1912. He had previously been a ringer at Burton-on-Trent for many years, and became a member of the Midland Counties Association in 1886. While at Burton he took part in 123 peals, including Cambridge, Superlative, New Cumberland and London Surprise Major, with the famous band which included the brothers Wakley, J. Griffin, J. Austin, J. Jagger, etc. Since coming to Coventry he rang a further 22 peals, adding Bristol to his list of Surprise methods. His last Surprise peal was one of London Major, rung 25 years after his previous peal in the method.

Although living more than two miles from the tower, he was most conscientious in his attendance for service ringing until, 18 months ago, a seizure prevented him taking part in any more ringing, and for more than three months before the end he had been confined to his bed.

The funeral took place at Coventry Cemetery on June 9th, the mourners including the widow, brother, three daughters, son-in-law, representatives of the Warwickshire Guild and the Stoke band. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung at the graveside by Messrs. E. Sibley, F. E. Pervin, A. Beamish and J. Taylor.

In the evening a quarter-peal of the deceased's favourite method (Stedman Triples) was rung at Stoke Church with the bells half-muffled by F. E. Pervin (conductor) 1, E. H. Johnson 2, F. Hayne 3, C. Freeman 4, D. Ellender 5, J. Taylor 6, W. T. Cox 7, F. Rouse 8.

MR. JOHN WORTH.

DEVON GUILD.*AMALGAMATION HOPED FOR.

The annual meeting of the Devonshire Guild was held at Cullompton on Whit Monday. The usual Guild service was held in St. Mary's Church, conducted by the Rev. G. W. Grubb, Vicar of Cullompton, the address being given by the Rev. Major T. H. E. Woods, Rector of East and West Woolington, who said that as a lover of bells he rejoiced at the opportunity of addressing such a large assembly of ringers. References to his varied experiences abroad greatly interested the congregation.

Luncheon was served in the Assembly Room of the Half Moon Hotel, over 150 members and friends being present. Following this the business meeting was held, the president (the Rev. E. V. Cox) being in the chair, supported by the Revs. F. Carter, H. L. Hustwayte, F. W. Moore, G. W. Grubb, Major Woods and representatives of each branch of the Guild.

In moving the adoption of the annual report and financial statement, the Chairman expressed the thanks of the committee to all the members for their loyal support, and hoped that before long the Guild and its sister—the Devon Association—might unite by eliminating the rule which at present formed a barrier to amalgamation.

Sympathy was expressed with the Rev. E. J. Barton, of Holcombe Regis, and Mr. O. Gatter, of Littleham, both in hospital.

The president and general secretary were re-elected as before, and Mr. F. C. Smale, of Okehampton, was elected general treasurer in place of Mr. T. G. Bartlett, who wished to resign. It was resolved to record on the minutes the gratitude of the meeting to the late treasurer for his 17 years of faithful service. Mr. J. C. Oke was re-elected auditor, and the general secretary and Messrs. E. W. Marsh, G. C. Woodley and F. C. Smale elected Central Council representatives.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Plymouth.

The Chairman expressed the thanks of the meeting to the Vicar of Cullompton, Major Woods, the organist, and the local band for their assistance in the arrangements.

The fine toned ring of ten in St. Mary's tower were heard throughout the day in touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Caters, a local wedding ceremony benefiting by the ringing.

THE USE OF CHURCH BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In the last issue of your journal there is an account of a quarter-peal, rung in honour of the appointment of a ringer to the chairmanship of an Urban District Council. This is only one of many occasions when church bells are rung to celebrate purely mundane events, and it is open to question whether ringing of this description is either in order or in the best of taste.

On looking through your columns of the past year I find many incongruous reasons for ringing peals. Among these are the birth of a local baby, birthdays of local people (21st and otherwise), a tribute to a long-deceased inventor of shorthand, the engagement of a local couple, a tribute to the parents of a ringer, and now, to crown all, the appointment to the Urban District Council chairmanship.

Church bells are primarily installed for the glory of God, and, secondly, to summon people to the services of the church. Apart from recognised occasions for ringing, such as weddings, commemoration of the departed, welcomes and farewells to incumbents, national occasions of rejoicing, etc., there can seldom be an occasion when a peal is rung that there is not some festival or saint's day to which the ringing could be dedicated. If no other reason could be found on any particular day, then the peal could be rung in honour of the patron saint of the church which owns the bells.

In conclusion, I would advocate that we 'render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's,' thereby keeping our ringing in the high position which it ought to occupy as one of the services of the Church.

BARNESLEY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.*A WELCOME TO WORTLEY.

The June meeting was held at Wortley, near Sheffield, on Saturday, June 11th. Members were present from Felkirk, Hoylandswaine, Penistone, Rotherham, Sandal, South Kirkby, Sheffield (St. Marie's), Shelley, Wath and the local company. Ringing commenced at about 3 p.m., and tea was served in the Wortley Arms.

At the business meeting the Vicar (the Rev. C. A. B. Brockwell), who presided, was accorded thanks for all he had done to make the meeting a success and for the cordial welcome he had given to the ringers. The thanks were even more grateful than usual, because the meeting had been previously arranged for Wentworth, but word was received from the Vicar of that church that, through the bells being in a bad condition, they had been advised to cease ringing; therefore, the meeting had to be transferred to Wortley at short notice.

The Vicar suitably replied, and assured the members that he was very pleased to attend such a gathering.

Touches were rung on handbells, and further ringing continued on the tower bells in a variety of Minor methods and touches of Plain and Treble Bob Major.

The next meeting will include the six-bell contest at Horbury on July 9th.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

WELCOME TO LEEDS.

Publications to be Revised.

When the third session of the sixteenth Council (the forty-sixth meeting) opened at Leeds on Whitsun Tuesday, there was an attendance of 92 members, and the chair was taken by the president (Mr. E. H. Lewis).

The Deputy Mayor of Leeds (Councillor Mrs. L. Hammond) welcomed the members to the city on behalf of her father, the Lord Mayor. She confessed that she knew very little about church bell ringing, except by hearing them. Sometimes they were very beautiful, but sometimes she thought they were rather a nuisance when she wanted a little rest and they started ringing (laughter). But she could say in all sincerity that, when one was in the country or in the garden and heard the bells ringing in the distance, there was no more musical sound anywhere (applause). Mrs. Hammond went on to say that in the Registrars' Room at Leeds Parish Church were four volumes bearing the title 'The Ringers' Book,' covering a period from 1746 to 1883. These volumes were in reality minute books of the records of the ringers. The first entry was in 1746, when they 'received 13s. 4d. for ringing for a day of thanksgiving for the suppression of the late Rebellion.' From the commencement of the book the wages or gratuities of the ringers were entered for each quarter, but they ceased in 1853, 'the reason the ringers' salary is not inserted as usual is in consequence of it being so irregular and small we are ashamed for future generations to see it' (laughter).

'Most of you are ringers from the love of the work,' continued the Deputy Mayor. 'I hope after your deliberations you will not have to make entries in your ringing book of such a character' (laughter). In 1854, proceeded Mrs. Hammond, another complaint was entered that the salary of the ringers used to be £60 a year, but since the rebuilding of the church they had had to depend on subscriptions from pew holders and others interested, and the sum since 1843 was only £36, which seemed gradually falling until in 1854 it was only £23, 'with every chance of it getting less.' Mrs. Hammond added that if any of those present had the opportunity of examining the book they would find it very interesting. She concluded by renewing the welcome to Leeds and expressing the hope that the Council would have a successful conference.

The President thanked the Deputy Lord Mayor for her kind and charming welcome. The Council, he said, had been a long time coming to Yorkshire, but now they had got there they felt they had got a real, good Yorkshire welcome (applause). On the preceding day they had been treated to one of the finest outings the Council members had ever had. They would like to thank the civic authorities for allowing them the use of that room for their meeting. Mr. Lewis went on to say they knew that Yorkshire was a sort of breeding ground for bishops, and if they looked up the list of bishops in Crockford, and examined their antecedents, they would find that nearly all of them were either curates or vicars of Leeds. In the same way, Yorkshire was famous for its ringers. Many of the famous ringers of old, outside London, came from Yorkshire, among them Thackrah, Snowdon and the Hattersleys, while their old friend Mr. W. T. Cockerill was also a Yorkshireman. They felt that Yorkshire was a real, live centre of bellringing. The members of the Council had had the opportunity of seeing its lovely scenery, and they would go away with very pleasant memories of their long delayed visit (applause).

Canon C. C. Marshall (president of the Yorkshire Association) expressed the sincere apologies of the Vicar of Leeds that he was unable to be present to welcome the Council on behalf of the Church in Leeds. He gave a provisional promise some time ago to be present, but now he found he had to be away from the city. The Vicar had asked him to assure the Council of his hearty welcome. He was very proud of the bells in Leeds Parish Church and of those who rang them. He realised to the full the very great work which bellringers and the Central Council were doing for the Church, and in Leeds they felt that they had in the ringers a most devoted and loyal band of workers. The Vicar asked him to give the Council a hearty welcome to Leeds and his very best wishes for the success of the conference (applause).

The President expressed thanks for the kind message conveyed by Canon Marshall and said how much the Council appreciated meeting in Leeds and having the opportunity of ringing on the various peals of bells that had been placed at their disposal. They were sorry the Vicar had not been able to be present, but they appreciated his message very much (applause).

After the report of the hon. secretary (Mr. G. W. Fletcher) as to the constitution of the Council (printed in our last issue), the following new members were presented to the president: Mr. J. C. Pollard (Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association), Mr. F. W. Goodfellow (Middlesex County Association), Miss E. Steel (Ladies' Guild), Mr. F. H. Dallaway (Sussex County Association), Mr. C. D. Potter (Barnsley and District Society) and Mr. J. P. Hyett (Hereford Diocesan Guild).

HONORARY MEMBERS.

The retiring honorary members, Messrs. W. A. Cave and A. Walker, were re-elected, on the motion of Mr. A. Paddon Smith, seconded by Mr. J. Hunt.

The Standing Committee recommended the election of Mr. Gilbert E. Debenham, of St. Albans, as an honorary member. The President said that owing to Alderman Pritchett's age he was unable to do that work for the Council on the legal side that they would sometimes like him to do, and it would be very valuable if they could have another lawyer on that Council, because legal questions sometimes cropped up, such as questions of alleged nuisance, insurance and so on. Mr. Debenham had been a solicitor since 1930. He was a son of the late Mr. E. P. Debenham, a member of the Council from 1894 to 1902, and was treasurer of the Hertford County Association.—Mr. Debenham's election was unanimously agreed to, on the proposition of Mr. P. J. Johnson, seconded by Mr. T. Groombridge.

The President said Alderman Pritchett had written suggesting that, as he was 83 years of age, he should retire from the Council, but as they still had some vacancies among the hon. members, the Standing Committee suggested the resignation be not accepted, at least for the present (applause). Alderman Pritchett would come up for re-election in the normal course next year.

LOSSES BY DEATH.

Five members or past members had died during the year, and, in accordance with custom, the names were reported to the Council.

Canon G. F. Coleridge said one of the deceased members and one of the most distinguished was the Rev. H. S. T. Richardson. He was referring to him because the president, being his brother-in-law, could not very well do so. Mr. Richardson was a member of the Council for 30 years, and in his early days at Cambridge made history with other distinguished men, who had made their mark upon ringing. Mr. Richardson had done a very great work indeed for the Council. As convener of the Peals Committee, he undertook the task of proving over a thousand peals of Treble Bob. That was a pretty big handful for any man to take on, but Mr. Richardson did it, and ringers who wished to ring the peals in that collection could be sure that they were absolutely sound. The work required great concentration and effort, and a considerable amount of time. In his later days, when he was Vicar of a busy parish in Hereford, Mr. Richardson carried on the work with the same ability, and the result was in the hands of the Council. He (Canon Coleridge) looked at the book on the previous day and it was marvellous. They had to thank Mr. Richardson and the other members of the committee for the scrupulous care and the assiduity with which they carried out the work. Mr. Richardson had long been a leading light in the Council and no one mourned his death more than he (the speaker) did.

The President referred to the other past members. Mr. W. H. Hollier had been a member of the Council from 1924 to 1937 and had attended 14 meetings. He was convener of the Peal Boards Committee, and it was a branch of work on which he spent a great deal of time and an enormous amount of trouble in the effort to collect these old records. He (the president) did not think the members, apart from those intimately connected with Mr. Hollier, realised the time and trouble he took in the matter. They would very much miss him as one of their members.

Mr. Frank Smith, of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, was a member of the Council from 1915 to 1935 and attended seven of the meetings. He was a very useful member in a quiet way.

Mr. F. W. Thornton was a member from 1891 to 1893 and from 1897 to 1900. He was a member of the Society of Trinity Youths and of the Kent County Association, and attended five meetings.

Another whom they had lost was one known to them all, their dear old friend, Mr. W. T. Cockerill, who represented the Ancient Society of College Youths on the Council for 44 years, from 1893 to 1937, and attended 23 of the meetings; in fact, he was a member of the Council almost as long as he was secretary of the Ancient Society. He (the president) had spoken on more than one occasion of Mr. Cockerill's sterling qualities, and he thought they were known to all of them. All he need say on that occasion was how much they missed him. At the same time he could not help feeling how happy his ending was. He was 78 years of age; he rang the seventh at St. Paul's Cathedral on the Sunday before his death and was in unusually good form in calling the customary three courses of Stedman Cinques. He was taken ill on the way home and only lasted two or three days afterwards. They could feel glad that he passed away, as he must have wished, in a happy time of his life and in harness right up to the end.

There were two other names, said the President, that he would like to mention, although they were not members of the Council. During the year they had lost Mr. Joseph J. Parker, who was so well known to the Exercise. He doubted if there was any ringer in that room who had not, at some time or other, rung Parker's Twelve-part peal of Grandfire Triples and other of his compositions. He thought it would be nice to mention the fact when they felt the loss of so eminent a ringer and composer. Also, recently there had passed away one who was known to many members of the Council; he referred to the release of Mrs. Goldsmith.

The members of the Council stood in silence for a few moments as a mark of respect.

A PEAL 'DISQUALIFIED.'

The minutes of the last meeting of the Council were then presented and passed.

The Standing Committee, said the President, asked for instructions with regard to a peal of Minor rung in Yorkshire that was questioned by the Analysis Committee in their report for 1936. As the result of the committee's inquiries it appeared that, in a peal in seven methods, a plain course was inserted between the first and second 720's. This was against the decisions of the Council, and the Standing Committee felt with regret that it should be deleted from the records.

The hon. secretary proposed that the Standing Committee's recommendation be confirmed.—Mr. F. W. Perrens seconded and the motion was carried.

The President said the letter explaining the occurrence admitted quite frankly that the course was put in because one of the band was a bit uncertain of the method, and this was a little bit of practice put in in the middle of the peal (laughter).

Another point arising out of the minutes was with regard to the preparation of a book on handbell ringing. The hon. secretary said this was being drafted by Mr. Chris. Woolley, who was also seeking the advice of other prominent handbell ringers.

PUBLICATIONS.

The hon. librarian (Mr. W. H. J. Hooton) presented the following report: Sales of publications are down, partly owing to the absence from the list of the book on Minor Methods and the exhaustion of the book of Major and Cater Methods. For the former I have had many inquiries, and it is hoped that this publication and the pamphlet relating to the law affecting church bells will be available shortly. The stock of 'Hints' is low and should be replenished. The Bristol sheets have gone sufficiently well to justify the printing of 500 to be sold at 2d. each. The whole stock of Glossaries has been given away, and about 12 associations have taken advantage of the Council's offer.

Books have been borrowed from the library for the purpose of a lecture on bells and for the extraction of peal records. The thanks of the Council are due to Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fletcher for the gifts of volumes of 'The Ringing World' for 1935 and 1936; also to Mrs. H. S. T. Richardson for duplicate copies of the peals of Treble Bob and for volumes of 'The Ringing World.'

In accordance with the Council's instructions the library and publications have been insured against fire with the General Assurance Corporation for a sum of £250. The annual premium is to be 8s. 9d., the first premium 9s. 3d.

The number of books sold during the year was 397 and of method sheets 106. This brought in £13 2s. 1d. Expenditure had been £9 18s. 1d., leaving a balance on the year of £3 4s. The number of books in hand was 2,680 and of method sheets 1,199, of a total value of £138 15s. 7d. Of the books in hand 1,042 are sections 1, 2 and 3 of the 'Collection of peals,' valued at £72 4s. 8d.

On the motion of Mr. Hooton, seconded by Mr. W. A. Cave, the report was adopted.

The President said the Standing Committee had considered the question of the stock of the 'Peals Collection,' and under the powers already given to them had decided that the price of all these books should be reduced to a uniform one of 9d. each, and that the Corrigenda leaflets be inserted as a matter of course and included in the price.

A suggestion being made that the Corrigenda leaflets might be gummed into the books, Mr. W. A. Cave said the safest way was for those who had a copy to make the corrections on the pages of the books straightaway, otherwise they were absolutely useless.

The President reported, as a matter of interest to the Council, that the 'Model Rules' were out of stock. There had been a certain amount of demand. The Standing Committee had come to the conclusion that the present rules were quite unsuitable for modern conditions and had appointed a committee of their own members, consisting of the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, Mr. Stephen Wood and the hon. librarian, to revise the rules and subsequently print them. With regard to the booklet on the preservation of bells, which was also practically out of stock, the committee had decided it should be reprinted, after revision by the Towers and Belfries Committee, and that would be proceeded with as soon as possible.

Replying to Mr. F. W. Rogers, the Hon. Secretary said the Standing Committee already had power to reprint 'Hints to Conductors and Beginners,' and stock would be replenished when necessary.

The statement of accounts showed the balance at Whitsun, 1937, was £105 11s. 7d. Receipts included 1936-37 affiliation fees arrears, £3 10s.; 1937-38, £33 5s.; subscriptions from hon. members, £2; interest on stock, £5; balance on sale of publications, £3 4s.; total £152 10s. 7d.

The expenses were: Printing method sheets, £1 16s.; sums voted at last meeting—Carter ringing machine fees, 10s. 6d.; Anti-Noise League donation, £1 1s.; purchase of Davis 'silencers,' £2 5s.; insurance of library and publications, 9s. 3d.; advertising, printing, stationery and postage, £11 9s. 3d.; wreaths, £3 3s.; gratuities, £1; leaving a balance of £130 16s. 7d. The investments in Conversion and Consolidated Stock have a market value of £142 1s.

The accounts were adopted on the motion of Mr. C. T. Coles (auditor), seconded by Mr. E. A. Young.

THE CARTER RINGING MACHINE.

Mr. Young presented the following report of the Trustees of the Carter ringing machine and proposed its adoption and the payment of the fees: The machine was taken out and tried over on April 23rd last by the two demonstrators, Messrs. Sharman and Driver. I was unable to be present myself, but by co-trustee, Mr. A. A. Hughes, was present, and it would appear that all three gentlemen were satisfied with the demonstration. Mr. Sharman suggests that the contact pins of the electric circuits controlling the sounding of the bells be reset, as they require adjusting and would be more reliable if reset with stouter wire. Mr. Sharman offers to do this work free if paid expenses, but it would mean the taking of the lower part of the machine to his home at Lewisham, and it would be away a month. The trustees recommend that consent be given. There are two fees of half a guinea to pay, and the petty expenses amount to 1s.

Mr. Young said Mr. Driver had mastered the machine and had set it to certain methods without the aid of the MS. book compiled by Mr. Carter, so that Mr. Carter's mantle seemed to have fallen upon a worthy successor. It was remarkable how Mr. Driver, although not a ringer, had mastered not only composition, but also the way in which change ringing was demonstrated on this machine.—Mr. F. W. Rogers seconded.

Mr. P. J. Johnson said there was some anxiety among members near him as to the petty expenses—they worked out at 4d. each (laughter).

The report was adopted, as was also the Standing Committee's recommendation that the expenses be paid and that permission be given for the removal of part of the machine for resetting.

A formal report by the Standing Committee that they had considered the agenda, and that various recommendations had been or would be laid before the Council, was adopted on the motion of the president.

CENTRAL COUNCIL'S YORKSHIRE EXCURSION.

A MEMORABLE TRIP.

One of the privileges of being a member of the Central Council is to enjoy the hospitality which the Council receives wherever it goes. All the associations are the same in this respect, but none perhaps has ever arranged an outing so successful and so enjoyable as the one on Whit Monday to North Yorkshire. All the details were well thought out, the time table was kept and the weather was everything that could be expected.

Three fully laden motor-coaches (officially known as 'charas'—but why?) left Leeds headquarters at 9 o'clock en route for Fountains Abbey. We passed through Harrogate, where the waters are good for those suffering from 'free living, combined with excess of alcohol' (vide guide book), but, as Leeds beer had not yet reduced us to that state, we did not stop.

Fountains, as everyone knows, is one of the most extensive monastic ruins in the country and is delightfully situated. But we understood a good deal more about it, and how the monks lived and so on, after we had been taken round by Dr. Moody, the organist of Ripon Cathedral, who evidently knows and loves every stone in the place and who had most kindly come to meet us and be our guide.

Then to Ripon and the Cathedral, where there is a good modern ring of ten bells. Though the party was so large and the time strictly limited, everyone who wanted to got a pull; no more than courses being rung. Some managed to make a tour of the church, where again Dr. Moody acted as guide.

Lunch at the Studley Royal Hotel and then on again to Middleham, famous in history for its castle, the stronghold of the Nevilles in the Wars of the Roses. But we did not all go there. We went to the Church of St. Aeldra, where there is a good Taylor ring of eight bells, with a tenor 18 or 19 cwt., and which go splendidly. Several plain courses were rung in different methods, including Plain Bob, Double Norwich and Cambridge; and one very decently struck touch of Spiced Surprise by a mixed band (Croydon, Beddington, Portsmouth, Edmon-ton, Ealing and Coventry).

All along the scenery had been very fine (the Croydon men were heard to remark that it was nearly as good as Surrey), but now we got among the foothills of the Pennines, and, climbing out of Wensleydale, came down Swaledale into Richmond. That was by far the most beautiful part of the journey.

At Richmond we had tea at the Bishop Blaise Hotel, an old rambling house with narrow passages and steep stairs. Outside, in the Square, there was a fair on with cokenut shies, and presently nearly all the ladies were strutting about carrying cokenuts and pretending that they had won them in fair fight. One did not like to ask what the price was at the shop.

Members of the Standing Committee of the Council had to leave at 6 o'clock, but most of them managed to get a ring first at the Parish Church. The bells are nothing to talk about. The rest of the party stayed on until 7 o'clock. It seems that many of the visitors were disappointed with Richmond. They had been told that it is one of the three most picturesque towns in England, and they'd be hanged if they could see it.

The truth was that we came into the town by the wrong way and we left it in the wrong way. We came out of Swaledale suddenly and the first thing we saw of Richmond was some ordinary modern houses. They don't seem to fit into the picture—'foul' one Central Councillor called them. I suppose he expects the Richmond people to live in ruined abbeys or roofless cottages. To see Richmond you should come from the south. How many of the visitors realised that the Castle, which most of them saw, stands on a rock with a sheer drop on three sides of over a hundred feet to the river? There was one brief glimpse of what Richmond looks like as we looked back on leaving the town; but that's not the view of Richmond you should see. J. A. T.

CAMBERWELL.—At St. Giles' Church for evening service on June 5th, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung by Miss B. Mills 1, B. R. Harris 2, T. H. Taffender (conductor) 3, J. W. Chapman (Streatham) 4, E. J. King 5, J. Grandsbury 6, A. Diserens 7, F. Hopgood (Wimbledon) 8. This touch was rung as a 50th birthday compliment to F. W. Wicks, of Wimbledon.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

THE SURPRISE MAJOR METHODS.

One of the chief concerns of the Central Council at the Leeds meeting was the publication of the Surprise Major Methods book, which has been for some time in manuscript form. Everyone who has seen it realises that the Methods Committee has put an immense amount of work into its preparation, work which covers a phase in the development of the science which had not previously been fully explored, and which has been done with patience, skill and efficiency. The bulk of it, of course, is the labour of Mr. J. A. Trollope, who has gone into the whole subject comprehensively, and except that the methods are but a selection from many thousands, the book is an exhaustive treatise on the subject.

There were two main questions before the Council. First, is publication, at present, a reasonably sound commercial proposition in view of the cost? The Council's funds are necessarily limited; it is already committed to the issue of new editions of several other of its publications, which will swallow up a considerable slice of the available cash, and if the Surprise Major book is printed, a further large sum will have to be spent, thus locking up for some long time funds which some members declare could be better spent in other directions, in view of the probable very tardy return which would be received from this new volume. Those who hold this opinion look upon the number of ringers interested in Surprise ringing and likely to purchase a book costing 4s. or 5s. as comparatively small, and must necessarily continue to be an extremely limited section of the Exercise. On the other hand the Methods Committee have sufficient confidence in their work to believe that, apart from the collection of the methods which is given, the letterpress theory, history and the like would be sufficient to create a demand that would justify printing; and in any case the book, if available, would have educational value and be an inducement leading to an increase in the number of Surprise ringers, thus making a widening circle of potential purchasers.

The Council was asked to choose between these two opinions, and eventually accepted a suggestion that the affiliated associations should be invited to come to their aid by providing half the cost, and in return receiving an equivalent number of copies of the book. This scheme, if carried through—and it would impose only a very small drain upon the funds of any association—would have several advantages. Among them it would enable a definitely valuable work to be printed without crippling the resources of the Council; it would give the associations an incentive to encourage the sale of the publication. It should also provide an inducement to them to take a more active interest in this very useful and practical side of the Council's work, as well as encouraging generally the ringing of the higher methods. It is to be hoped that the individual associations, when they have to consider the Council's invitation, will view it in its broadest light and give it the wholehearted support which we think it merits.

The other question which cropped up and upon which there is evidently a sharp division of opinion, was whether, in the published book, names should be given to the still unring methods or whether the naming should be left to those who first ring them. Even the committee is divided on this, but, as the book, in any case, cannot be printed until after the next Council meeting, an immediate decision was not called for. It is a question of policy. It has been settled once, but it is certain that it will have to be reconsidered next year.

PEAL NOTES.

LADIES' PEAL OF LONDON SURPRISE.

At last the first peal of London Surprise Major by eight ladies has been accomplished, at Harlow Common on June 18th. The men will heartily congratulate them.

There have been seven attempts in all for a ladies' peal in this method, two at Crayford, one at Ewell, two at Great Baddow, and two at Harlow Common, extending over about six or seven years. Of the original band at Crayford, only two were in the present peal, viz., Mrs. Deal and Mrs. Fletcher.

The band who scored the peal were the same as at Great Baddow, with the exception of Mrs. R. Richardson, who was prevented at the last minute from standing in the first attempt at Harlow Common, and whose place was taken by Miss Kippin.

The band wish to thank Mr. G. Green, of Great Baddow for his kindness in welcoming the band to Great Baddow on two occasions and for entertaining them, and also the Vicar, Mr. Dudley Ward (churchwarden) and the ringers of Harlow Common for their kind hospitality on the last two occasions. Thanks are also due to those members of the Guild who have stood in previous attempts.

A peal of Bob Major, which the ringers wish to associate with the late Mr. Arthur E. West, of Sutton, near Hull, was rung at Escrick, Yorks, on June 4th. We referred last week to the passing of this much respected member of the Yorkshire Association and former vice-president. He was well known for his generous and hospitable nature and will be greatly missed. A half-muffled peal of Minor was rung at Mr. West's own parish church on June 8th.

Mr. William Ayre and Mr. Walter Ayre rang the treble and tenor respectively to the peal at Escrick. Another of the band was Mr. Edward Rickitt, and it was 25 years since he and Mr. Walter Ayre had previously rung a peal together.

At Howden, Yorkshire, a half-muffled peal of Grandsire Triples was also rung on June 11th as a token of respect. Mr. West was well known in North Lincolnshire, and some of his friends from across the River Humber took part in the memorial peal.

The first peal on the bells by the Yorkshire Association at Barnby Don, near Doncaster, was rung on Whit Monday in seven Treble Bob Minor methods.

BIRMINGHAM RINGERS IN GLOUCESTERSHIRE.

The peal of Double Norwich Major rung by St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham at Ruardean, Gloucestershire, on Whit Monday, was arranged at the suggestion of Mr. E. T. Allaway, who was born at Ruardean, and by invitation of the local ringers. The first recorded peal on the original ring of six bells was rung on Whit Monday, 1836, in 3 hours 37 minutes, being 6,480 changes in the Grandsire and Old Double method. The present ring of eight was installed by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank in 1905. The bells are not unmusical, and 'go' well, but call for skilful handling.

A ninth Birmingham ringer, not unrelated to the tenorman, accompanied the party, and listened to the peal—which, incidentally, was the quickest on the bells—with some of the local band. At the end of the peal he was enthusiastic in his praise—of their home-made wine!

Mr. Charles Slingsby, of Aldington, Kent, had, among other compliments, a peal rung in honour of his 101st birthday at Downham, Norfolk, by members of the Ely Diocesan Association on May 28th.

A birthday peal for Mr. Hector Halliday, rung at Hilgay, Norfolk, by the Ely Association, on June 6th, was Mr. Jack Buckenham's fiftieth peal.

The congratulations of the band were extended to Mr. Harry Dickens, who rang in the peal at Great Budworth on May 28th. It was his first attempt for a peal and he is 67 years of age. Mr. Dickens has been a Sunday service ringer for 52 years. His performance is more praiseworthy because the band he is with ring only 'stone.'

A peal in 18 Minor methods was rung at Pebmarsh, Essex, as a wedding compliment to Mr. Harry Carter. The ringers were members of St. Andrew's Guild, Earls Colne, as well as of the Essex Association, and it was the first peal in 18 methods by them all. In the peal the method was changed 110 times and there were 76 bobs and 24 singles.

Mr. Fred Dixon, of Guiseley, Yorks, called a peal of Stedman Triples at Otley on June 11th. It was ten years since he last called a peal of Stedman Triples.

After a peal of Bob Minor at Stockton, Shropshire, the ringers were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Inston, sen., and they desire to thank them for the hospitality.

Reginald Reed, one of the young members of the North Stoneham, Hants, band, called his first peal on June 11th, when a peal of Bob Major was rung for the wedding of Miss I. F. M. Young and Mr. J. P. Burnett, who were married at North Stoneham Church just prior to the peal.

Mrs. C. H. Kippin, of Croydon, took part in this peal, while her husband was away peal hunting in the extreme north of England. Although this accomplished lady ringer has rung all sorts of Surprise methods on eight and ten bells, this was her first peal of Bob Major away from the treble—another proof that in these days ringers do not always advance by easy stages, but often have to step back a long way to 'clean up' simple stuff.

Mr. Fred Wicks, of Wimbledon, Surrey, rang his first peal on eight bells to celebrate his fiftieth birthday when he 'covered' a peal of Stedman Triples on June 11th at Twickenham.

THREE SUFFOLK RINGERS.

There are some points of more than passing interest in the peal of Minor rung at Sproughton, Suffolk, on June 11th. It was in honour of the visit of the Duke of Kent to Ipswich on June 8th, when, at a gathering of Suffolk societies at which H.R.H. was present, the Suffolk Guild was represented by Messrs. Charles Mee, Edgar Rivers and Frank Rolfe.

It was in Sproughton tower that Mr. Mee learnt to ring 60 years ago. Mr. Mee, and his brothers, had to pay two members of St. Mary-le-Tower company to teach them one night a week. In 1897, with a new treble added to make six, Mr. Mee taught Edgar Rivers and Frank Rolfe to ring.

Between the years 1900 and 1910 Mr. Mee used to walk to Menley, six miles away, two or three times a week after a day's work to ring peals with others of the band, so it is quite true, as we are reminded, that modern young men and women are not the first to suffer from peal fever.

The peal on Saturday week, by the way, was the first by a local band at this church for about five years.

The birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. H. Wain, of Leicester, was celebrated by a peal of Cambridge Surprise at Loughborough Bell Foundry on June 11th. Mr. Wain is a member of Leicester Cathedral band. In this peal Mr. Colin Harrison's young son, Geoffrey, rang his first Surprise peal 'inside.' He is barely 14 years of age.

In honour of the wedding of their colleague, Mr. James Bennett, jun., the Helmingham, Suffolk, ringers rang a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at their Parish Church immediately after the ceremony on June 11th.

Mr. Horace H. Smith, secretary of the band at St. James', Husborne Crawley, where Canon A. Rust, president of the Bedfordshire Association, is Vicar and a ringer, has 'completed the circle' in his own tower by ringing the fourth to a peal of Bob Major on June 11th.

Mr. William C. Rumsey, of Debenham, rang his 450th peal on June 11th when he called a peal of Superlative at his home tower, and started on the 'circle' for the thirteenth time. It was Mr. E. F. Poppy's 350th peal and a birthday compliment to Mr. James G. Rumsey, of Leiston, who also took part in the peal.

'Distance no object' can be truly applied to the band who rang the peal of Minor at Dinting Vale Church, Glossop, on Whit Tuesday, for over 200 miles was recorded before the conductor and car reached home again.

It is ten years since a peal was rung on these bells, and thanks are due to Mr. Richardson, the local captain, for having everything in readiness for the visitors. The band also wish to thank the Rev.

J. O. M. Dawson Bowling for the use of the bells and for his kind hospitality after the peal.

A peal of Bob Major, rung at Measham, Leicestershire, on St. Barnabas' Day (June 11th) was a birthday compliment to Mr. Barnabas G. Key, Ringing Master of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford.

St. Chad's Church, Poulton, Lancashire, where the first peal on the augmented bells was rung on June 11th, is one of the oldest churches in the Fylde. Though there is no authentic record, tradition says it gets its name from the Saxon Bishop of Mercia, whose seat was at Chester in A.D. 669. The first Vicarage was constituted in 1175, the income being ten marks, about £6, and a house. This dropped to £2 in 1322 and rose to £7 in the next century. The valuation included tithes on salt, flax and hemp, manufactured in the district. When Henry VIII. dissolved the monasteries and took possession of the churches, records mention the tower and three bells.

Believed to be the first peal on the bells for 110 years, a peal of Minor was rung at Nayland, Suffolk, on June 11th. The previous peal (as far as is known) was also Bob Minor, rung on July 12th, 1828, in which two local men, John and William Winney, took part. A more famous member of this family has been among the great figures of London ringing, although advancing years now curtail his activities. Challis Winney, of the St. Paul's Cathedral band, was born at Nayland in 1858.

Slaugham, near the northern border of the county, has one of the newest rings of eight in Sussex and a local band has been built up there. On June 8th they rang a peal of Grandsire Doubles with 4-6-8 behind, the first peal by all except two of the band.

Miss Dorothy M. Heath, daughter of Mr. A. W. Heath, was married on June 5th at St. Dyfrig's Church, Cardiff, to Mr. William T. Llewellyn. On the following day a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Pentre Rhondda in honour of the event and also to celebrate the birthday of the bride's mother. The bride's father took part in the peal and afterwards the ringers enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Heath, when opportunity was taken to extend congratulations and good wishes to the newly-married pair, and 'many happy returns' to Mrs. Heath.

Mr. Ernest Stitch, who called the peal, has now rung each bell in St. Peter's tower, Pentre, to a peal, and Mr. William Roberts, who rang the tenor, scored his first peal for 18 years.

Three clergy took part in a peal of Minor at Dalwood, Devon, on June 9th.

Mr. Sidney F. Palmer, of Sheffield, hon. treasurer of the Yorkshire Association, has rung every one of the ten bells in All Saints' Church, Rotherham, to a peal. He finished the 'circle' with a peal of Little Bob Royal on June 16th.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Four ringers, travelling by road from the Midlands to Exeter, on Saturday, pulled up for refreshment at a lonely roadside hotel at Bream Bridge, a few miles from Taunton. Hanging in the bar they noticed, to their surprise, a set of handbells. Naturally interested, they made inquiries. Both 'mine host' and his wife (Mr. and Mrs. C. Knowles) proved to be ringers, although now cut off from any convenient tower. But they are still interested—and produced to the visitors a current copy of 'The Ringing World.'

At the break-up of the gathering after the peal attempt at Exeter, the four travellers returned to spend the night at the Bream Bridge Hotel. Such is the fraternity among ringers.

A well-known Eastern Counties ringer was married at Helmingham on June 11th. Mr. James Bennett, jun., one of the service band at Helmingham and a nephew of Mr. James Bennett, of London, who has been one of the Suffolk ringers who have achieved such wonderful success in ringing new Surprise methods, was married to Miss Florence Kate Manning, also of Helmingham.

Apocryphal paragraph in this column last week concerning the two members of the Central Council who cycled to Leeds, we learn that the lady who 'biked' from Cambridge was more fortunate than the gentleman from London. While, owing to a slight sprain, he had to send his machine back by rail, the lady completed the return trip on two wheels.

The journey from Leeds to Cambridge occupied 15½ hours, two hours on Tuesday evening and 13½ on Wednesday. This enjoyable ride, she says, was a fitting close to an unforgettable week-end in Yorkshire.

The Surrey Association meeting at Bletchingley, arranged for tomorrow, has had to be postponed.

There was an excellent attendance at the annual meeting of the Sussex County Association at Horsham on Saturday, when it was decided to have two collections a year in each district for the Benevolent Fund. A report of the meeting will appear in our next issue.

The friends of Mr. Albert J. Hughes will hear with regret that he is at present in Ward 2 of Bradford Royal Infirmary. Mr. Hughes has been in indifferent health for some time past, and, acting upon medical advice, has entered the Infirmary for treatment. The latest reports are that he is making satisfactory progress.

THE USE OF CHURCH BELLS.

A SERMONETTE.

By W. H. R. TREWHELLA, VICAR OF ST. PAUL'S, TRURO.

Text, Luke xiv., 18—And they all with one consent began to make excuse.

To-day is St. John the Baptist's day. The ringers of St. Simon, Stylites, desire to attempt a peal of Stedman Triples. Permission to use St. Simon's bells has been obtained from the Vicar, but an excuse must be found for attempting a peal. It is St. John's day! No, we don't attempt a peal on all red letter saints' days, but it is an excuse.

A week later a peal is recorded in 'The Ringing World' by the local band of St. Simon, Stylites: rung in honour of the Feast of the Nativity of St. John Baptist, and (a happy afterthought) to commemorate the birth of the vice-captain's second daughter. The latter event took place some ten days before.

It is right to ring peals, but why need we 'all with one consent begin to make excuse'?

PEAL OCCASIONS.

Dear Sir,—With reference to Mr. A. R. C. Poyntz's letter on peal tributes, I agree that some peals are rung to celebrate events which are mundane, but the art of change ringing is itself mundane, and peals are rung usually to improve that art, no matter what is attached to the peal.

Furthermore, surely a peal in honour of the inventor of shorthand ranks as a national memory, seeing that Sir Isaac's invention has given employment of a national if not a universal character hitherto unknown, and without which the world of to-day would be greatly retarded.

LADY RINGER'S BEREAVEMENTS.

DEATH OF MR. W. FISHER, ALDERSHOT.

The death occurred at his residence on Friday, June 10th, at the age of 80 years, of Mr. William Fisher, who was for many years captain of the Aldershot company. He was a ringer when there were only three bells in the tower, and in 1913, after this number had been increased to six, Mr. Fisher rang his first and only peal. His two sons and his daughter became ringers, one of the sons, Mr. George Fisher, being killed in the Great War, and the other, Mr. Will Fisher, passing away suddenly in January of this year. Mr. Fisher's wife predeceased him only five weeks ago, and much sympathy is felt with Miss A. Fisher, their daughter, in her sorrow. Miss Fisher is a member of the local company and was for a number of years tower secretary. Her father had taken no active part in the ringing for some years, but he was always greatly interested in the affairs of the local tower.

The funeral took place on Wednesday, June 15th, at Aldershot Cemetery, and in the evening a half-muffled quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung by Miss B. Stewart 1, Miss E. Southby 2, Miss H. F. Mills 3, P. L. Eldridge 4, W. Denyer 5, R. J. Whitford 6, C. W. Denyer (conductor) 7, R. Jones 8.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—24.*HAROLD J. POOLE.

Among the most brilliant of the post-war products of the Exercise has been Harold Poole, of Leicester, now an Inspector in the Leicester City Police Force. Born at Lutterworth on October 21st, 1902, he began ringing at St. Martin's, Leicester (now the Cathedral), in December, 1919, under Mr. Fred Dexter, the Ringing Master. No pupil could have had a more able or more exacting tutor, and no tutor a more apt pupil. Harold Poole quickly showed great promise and his progress was almost phenomenal. In six months he rang his first peal, Stedman Triples at Stoney Stanton; twelve months later (on July 9th, 1921) he called his first peal, Cambridge Surprise Major from an 'inside' bell—also at Stoney Stanton. Encouraged by his instructor, he went rapidly ahead. In both tower and handbell ringing he proved himself a brilliant leader.

Mr. Poole joined the Leicester City Police Force in 1925, and his peal ringing opportunities were naturally very much curtailed as a consequence. From 1920 to 1925 he rang no fewer than 214 peals, but from 1926 to 1938 he has taken part in only 119. Of his total, he has rung 279 peals on tower bells and 54 on handbells, of which he has conducted 140 tower bell peals and 42 handbell peals.

Some of the more interesting performances in which he has taken part have been the first peals of Cambridge Surprise Royal, Goldsborough Surprise Royal and New Cambridge Surprise Royal for the Midland Counties Association; the 13,440 Bob Major at Loughborough Bell Foundry on April 8th, 1922, and 10,400 of 'Real Double' Superlative on the same bells on May 6th, 1922. In addition to these he conducted the first peals of Leicester Surprise Royal, Pudsey Surprise Royal, York Surprise Royal and Melton Surprise Royal for the Midland Counties Association, while Stoney Stanton was the scene of another of his memorable performances when, on April 28th, 1923, he conducted the record length of 12,896 Cambridge Surprise Major.

Mr. Poole was the first ringer to call peals of Cambridge on six, eight, ten and twelve bells. He has also conducted peals of Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques on handbells from all working pairs, and on each occasion the first peal was the first by all the band.

In August, 1931, on the occasion of the ringers' pilgrimage to the Menin Gate, he conducted a peal of Stedman Caters on handbells at Ostende—the first peal of Caters rung on the Continent. In the same week he conducted the first peal of Caters rung in France (Stedman Caters on handbells at Dunkerque). Of his 333 peals, 193 have been in Surprise methods—three of Minor, 145 Major, 38 Royal and seven Maximus.

Formerly Mr. Poole was hon. secretary of the Leicester District of the Midland Counties Association. He was one of the founders of the National Guild of Police Ringers and has been hon. secretary and treasurer of the Guild since its inception in 1931. Prior to the dedication of the new peal of twelve bells at Leicester Cathedral for the Coronation, he was elected Ringing Master of the Cathedral band, in succession to his old tutor, and is still in office.

In the police force Mr. Poole's promotion has been rapid, and he holds the rank of Inspector at an unusually early age.

Next week: Mr. Herbert Knight.

MR. HAROLD J. POOLE.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.*SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT GIGGLESWICK.

The Western Division of the Yorkshire Association was extremely fortunate in having delightful weather for the summer meeting at St. Akelda's, Giggleswick, on Saturday, June 18th, when about 100 members attended from a very wide area. As Giggleswick is situated on the extreme border of the county and in an area where meetings are not very frequent, it was thought in some quarters to be difficult to obtain an adequate attendance. However, a special effort was made to attract the members, with the result that a record attendance was secured, which only goes to show that interest in change ringing is far from dying, as some would have us to believe. Except for one rather heavy shower, the weather was ideal, and the visitors were able to take advantage of the many beautiful walks in this delightful district. During the afternoon and evening, the Vicar and churchwardens kindly conducted parties through the 'Chapel on the Hill' belonging to the Giggleswick Public School, and this, in itself, was well worth the visit. The chapel, which is built on a foundation of solid rock, is an imposing sight, but when the inside is entered, one is staggered by the amazing beauty of the interior decorations and the lavishness which has been bestowed upon it. The dome, which resembles St. Paul's (although much smaller), cannot fail to arouse admiration, as also does the beautiful stained glass window of the 'Creation.'

A short service was held in the church during the afternoon, at which the Rev. J. G. Forster, M.A., gave a most interesting address. This was followed by an excellent tea, provided by the generosity of the local company, in the Parish Room. It is interesting to note that out of 89 who sat down for tea, over 80 had sent in their names previously. This in itself is worthy of special notice, as on many previous occasions the members have been reprimanded for failing to carry out this small act of courtesy.

A most interesting feature of the day's proceedings was the demonstration by Mr. G. F. Woodhouse, of Sedburgh, of his latest ringing machine. Mr. Woodhouse explained the working of this very complicated instrument and proceeded to ring touches of numerous plain and Surprise methods, concluding with a touch of Spliced Surprise. The members were greatly interested in the wonderful invention, and the president, Canon Marshall, expressed the association's thanks to Mr. Woodhouse for his kindness in bringing and demonstrating his machine.

A CONTRAST.

At the business meeting which followed, Canon Marshall (who was in the chair) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar and wardens for kindly granting the use of the bells and for their wonderful welcome. He spoke of his early association with Giggleswick, although this was as a footballer and not a ringer. He also expressed his pleasure at the number of members present.

The Vicar, in replying, said how delighted they were at the visit of the association to Giggleswick, and he hoped the members would thoroughly enjoy themselves. He and the wardens thought a great deal of their ringers and of their bells, and he was proud to know they were members of the association.

Mr. Leslie Morris (hon. general secretary) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the local company for their splendid arrangements, and to the ladies who so kindly waited at the tea tables.—This was seconded by Mr. Helliwell and carried with enthusiasm.—Mr. Silverwood replied for the local company and voiced his appreciation of the wonderful gathering present, remarking that at the previous meeting some ten years ago only about six members turned up. As the meeting had been so successful, he hoped the association would come again in a few years and they could be sure of a hearty welcome.

Six new members were elected as follows: G. E. Turner, of Northorham; Wilfred Stead and Albert Clayden, of Tadcaster; E. A. Goddard, of Gargrave; H. Staniforth, of Skipton; and G. F. Woodhouse, of Sedburgh.

An invitation to hold the next quarterly meeting had been received from Earlsheaton, and it was unanimously decided to accept this, and to make the usual arrangements.

After the meeting members entertained the ladies with touches on the handbells, whilst others adjourned to the tower for further ringing. The bells of St. Akelda are rung from the ground floor, and though there is a rather long draught of rope, the visitors were not inconvenienced and a variety of methods were rung throughout the afternoon and evening, ranging from Plain Bob to Superlative, until finally they were lowered in peal after 9 o'clock. It was noticed that a special pew had been set aside in the church especially for the 'change ringers,' and also that the Church Magazines showed the ringers amongst the officers of the church. This latter, though only a small feature, definitely gives the ringers a 'standing' in the church for which they work.

The following towers were represented at the meeting: Armley, Bolton (Bradford), Bradford Cathedral, Bramley, Burley, East Ardsley, Gargrave, Giggleswick, Guiseley, Haworth, Headingley (St. Chad's and St. Michael's), Idle, Ilkley, Keighley, Kildwick, Leeds Parish Church, Oxenhope, Pudsey, Sedburgh, Silsden and Skipton.

DEATH OF DARTFORD'S 'CHARTER' MAYOR

A half-muffled quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung at Dartford on Friday, June 3rd, in memory of the late Alderman A. J. Penney, a respected citizen of Dartford, who was Charter Mayor of the borough in 1933.

In 1917 he had Dartford bells recast and rehung as a memorial to his parents, and it was fitting that they should ring out half-muffled on the evening of the day of his interment. The ringers were J. Wheadon 1, J. R. Lambkin 2, Mrs. J. E. Bailey 3, G. J. Butcher 4, F. F. Walker 5, N. Summerhayes 6, J. E. Bailey (conductor) 7, R. A. Jenkins 8.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

THE SURPRISE MAJOR BOOK.

Associations to be asked for Financial Help.

Mr. G. Lindoff, for the Peal Collection Committee, reported that he had now received all the compositions back from the members of the committee, but not soon enough to enable them to be presented at that meeting. They were now being got into order, and the final scrutiny as to truth, etc., would occupy some time. There was nothing to delay handing them in at the next meeting.

The report was adopted on the motion of Mr. Lindoff, seconded by Mr. G. R. Newton.

Mr. J. A. Trollope proposed and Mr. S. H. Wood seconded the following report of the Methods Committee: We beg to report that the proofs of the third edition of the Collection of Doubles and Minor Methods have been passed during the past year, and the book should be on sale shortly. We also remind the Council that the manuscript of the book on Surprise Major Methods is ready for publication as soon as financial considerations permit.

The report was adopted.

The President said the Standing Committee would like to obtain the views of the Council as to the possible demand for the Surprise method book. The position was this: The Standing Committee was authorised to print it if they considered that the time was right as regards finances. In order to give them some guidance they would like the views of the Council as to the probable demand. The book was fairly extensive and could not be printed at a cost which would enable it to be published at less than 4s. or 5s.; the amount depended on the number that could be printed, and that, in turn, depended on the demand.

SHOULD UNRUNG METHODS BE NAMED?

Mr. W. Ayre said he had seen the manuscript and there was one thing that turned him against the book. He had spoken to the hand with whom he rang new Surprise methods, and the first thing they said was they would not ring the methods in the book if they were already named. If they rang a new method they liked to give it the name they chose. He felt sure the printing of names to the methods would affect the sale.

Mr. J. T. Dyke said he was inclined to agree with Mr. Ayre. It had been his ambition to ring a method and name it, but if those in the book were already named, he would have to go outside to get his method and perhaps get an inferior one in order to gratify his ambition.

Mr. F. W. Perrens said as far as Midland ringers were concerned the same views applied. It was a big book and the expense of publishing it would be great. He doubted very much if there would be a great sale for it. He asked if it would be possible to split it up. Half of the book, or more, was letterpress connected with the history of Surprise ringing and other matters. He also wondered whether, instead of giving the methods in the form of leads, in the established way, it would not be better to give fewer methods, choosing the better ones, and giving them in diagram form only. In any event, 240 methods would make an expensive volume, and he thought the opinion of ringers would be that a fewer number would be sufficient for the time being.

'SEQUESTERING' COUNCIL'S FUNDS.

Mr. P. J. Johnson said if they went to the expense of printing this book it would lead to a sort of 'sequestration' of a considerable part of their funds. They had already decided they should reprint other and more elementary books, and while he had every sympathy with the Surprise ringers—he sometimes even did a little himself—he felt they should consider carefully which was going to be of most use. Surprise ringing was distinctly the job of the specialist in change ringing; the vast majority of ringers were not Surprise ringers. The Council ought to consider the matter from that angle and whether the money could not be more usefully employed. Then there was the question of how they should publish the methods, whether by diagram or the figures. Speaking from his own experience, he thought those who were interested looked to see what combination of music was in the method and how the bells run up, and unless they got some indication of that from the printed figures, the majority of ringers would not be sufficiently interested to take the diagram and work it out. If they were to publish the diagrams and the figures they would add enormously to the cost of production. He was of opinion that the Council should take no further action in regard to the publication of the book for the present.

Mr. F. E. Dawe said this seemed to turn on a matter of expense. He could not help thinking that if it was such a difficult matter to get out of the average ringer the amount of 3d. per week to support a ringing paper, which they could not do without, they could not expect to get a sufficient number to give four or five shillings for a book that would be used by only just a few.

Mr. F. W. Rogers said he thought it would be a good thing for future ringers if the book could be published. He suggested that the methods might be grouped in such a way that a diagram and figures for three or four methods could be got on one page. He asked if the committee had any idea of the number that would be required to publish the book at 4s. or 5s.

The Hon. Secretary said it was estimated that 500 copies would cost about £80 or £90.

WHAT THE COMMITTEE WAS ASKED TO DO.

Mr. S. H. Wood said that at the Shrewsbury meeting in 1935 the Methods Committee were instructed to prepare a book on the Surprise methods. They were not asked to make a collection of diagrams—they were asked to write a book on Surprise Major methods. It had been a big job. It required great care and a lot of time. He had spent a great many hours upon it, but for every one he had spent, Mr. Trollope had spent a hundred, and the question was whether that work was to be wasted. If the Council did not wish it to be published, why did they ask the Methods Committee to write the book? It had also been suggested that the book should be split so as to reduce the price. That was a matter for the Council to decide, but he would like to say, on behalf of the committee, that they had produced the best book they could and a balanced book. They would not like to see the book split if it could be avoided. It had been written and considered as a whole, and their feeling was certainly that it was the letterpress portion that, to a large extent, sold a book. There was one group of ringers who wanted figures or diagrams of methods, and another group who wanted the reading matter contained in the letterpress, in order to find something interesting about the methods. The committee felt that it was the letterpress portion that would sell the book.

Mr. A. D. Barker said if they were going to discuss the question of names they were going to reopen a question which had caused a lot of wasted time in the past when they had the Minor methods before them. With regard to the cost of publication, he suggested the Council should pay for space in 'The Ringing World' every week and publish a method every week.

SUGGESTED APPEAL TO ASSOCIATIONS.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith said he had had the opportunity of examining the manuscript of the book and had no hesitation in saying it was a very valuable production. The cost of printing, however, would be very heavy and would lock up a considerable amount of the Council's limited funds for a long time. To publish the book at an economic price would probably mean that it would take 20 years to run through an edition, and he did not think, in view of its other commitments, that the Council could afford to lock up its funds to this extent. He suggested that the affiliated associations should be asked to put up half the cost of the book, on some proportional basis, such as membership or representation on the Council. There were 51 affiliated associations, and it would mean an average of only £1 each, in return for which they would receive an equivalent value in copies of the book. In this way they might ensure publishing the book at an early date without entirely crippling the Council's funds, and he did not think the associations would object to providing this small amount.

Mr. Johnson supported the idea of doing something on the lines suggested by Mr. Goldsmith, or of ascertaining from the associations the number of copies they would be likely to take. That would be some sort of guarantee, but unless they had it he still felt they stood in great danger of sequestrating a large portion of their funds.

Mr. Wood also supported Mr. Goldsmith's suggestion. The average would only be £1 for an association, in return for which they would get, say, five copies of the book. He thought Mr. Johnson was unduly pessimistic. He could hardly imagine any association that did not contain five members sufficiently interested in Surprise Major ringing to buy a copy of the book.

Mr. G. R. Newton thought Mr. Goldsmith's plan was an admirable one. He felt sure he could commit his association to such a plan and say that Lancashire would be prepared to contribute £1, even if they did not get five copies of the book. It seemed to him a great pity if the labours of the committee, who had worked so hard on the Council's behalf, should be wasted, or at any rate not appreciated to the full, because they would not be appreciated unless the book was published. If the book were held over, its chances of publication would be lessened. He wholeheartedly agreed with Mr. Goldsmith's suggestion.

Mr. Johnson said for the comfort of Mr. Stephen Wood the Yorkshire Association, he thought he could say, would spend £5 (applause).

The Rev. H. Drake said on behalf of the Suffolk Guild, which was, perhaps, the worst off of any, he was prepared to undertake to support the scheme, but he thought, if the cost was 4s. and the published price 5s., the associations should have the benefit of the difference.

Mr. W. Wilson said Mr. Goldsmith's scheme was about the best constructive idea they had had on the publication of the book. He could give a very good reason why they should publish the book, even if they lost a little financially, for he was sure the Exercise as a whole would benefit sufficiently by the publication of a book like that to make up for any loss. He recalled the record of a peal of Triples at Rolvenden, Kent, rung in 1820, the average age of the band, except the tenorman, being only 19 years, the footnote stating that all were residents of the parish, 'who acquired their information on change ringing within twelve months solely by reading a book on that art.' Had such a book as the Surprise methods been available to ringers in those days, there would not have been nearly as many new methods waiting to be named now; they would all have been rung.

THE COMMITTEE'S VIEWS.

Mr. J. A. Trollope, speaking first on the question of inserting the names of the methods in the book, said the Council had already had considerable experience in this matter. They had had the experience in connection with the six-bell methods, and as far as the committee was concerned, and as far as the Council, he hoped, was concerned, they did not want to repeat that experiment. The old Methods Committee first adopted the plan of issuing methods without names, with the idea that they were to be named by those who rang them. The result was, it took 20 years or more before half or three-quarters of the names were settled, and during the whole of that time there was confusion. One result was that almost as soon as the book was published it became of no use whatever, except to a small proportion of people who wanted to ring a new method. Mr. Dyke said he had an ambition to ring a new method and name it, and there was a chance that the method he wanted to ring might be in this Surprise book and be already named so that he would not be able to ring that method and gratify his ambition. He did not suppose, however, that Mr. Dyke cared twopence about it (laughter). If they issued this book without the names, in a year or so the book would be of no good whatever to the people who had got it, because, when people rang a method and named it, there would be nothing to connect what they rang with what was in the book. When the Plain Major Methods book was issued they named every one of the methods and said nothing to anybody. From that time to the present quite a number of them had been rung, but there had not been a single complaint about them having been already named by the committee; now they were asked to believe that if they followed the same course with regard to the Surprise methods people were coming to break their front windows (laughter). The book would be valueless without the names and the grievance was not a genuine one. Some people thought they had a grievance, but they hadn't.

When they talked about the sale of the book, continued Mr. Trollope, experience showed that it was not the people who were chiefly interested in and who wanted to ring the highest Surprise methods who were likely to be the only buyers, neither was it the people who were the big ringers who could ring Stedman Cinques on their heads and nothing but Stedman Cinques. It was the young people who wanted to know something about ringing who bought books and it was those they wanted to get hold of. They could judge a book on Surprise ringing not by the number of people who were going to make up a Surprise band and ring peals, but by the number of people who wanted to get general knowledge from it which would help them in their ringing career. If they gave people what they wanted, the book would create its own demand, but they should remember it was not, except from the financial side, necessary to sell the whole edition straight out. It was far better to have a book that would last for 20 years. It would not be out of date in 20 years, and a steady sale over that period was likely to have better results than selling out the whole edition in a few months.

DIAGRAMS OUT OF THE QUESTION.

With regard to the suggestion that they should use diagrams, he had made inquiries and the cost was prohibitive and they could rule that out entirely. The book which the committee had prepared was far in advance of any of the other publications of the kind which had been issued by the Council, simply because the others were books consisting entirely of figures, but with a book of this kind, with something else besides figures, they would interest people who did not ring Surprise methods. Mr. Trollope added that he appreciated Mr. Goldsmith's suggestion, because he knew he felt that the financial responsibility on the Council was otherwise rather too great.

Replying to Mr. E. A. Young, who said it might be an advantage if the Council were told what the book contained, Mr. Trollope said there were chapters on proof and course ends, a number of methods, which ran to about 150, with the actual leads and instructions for getting about fifty or sixty more; there were the false course ends, a selection of compositions and, in addition, a complete history of the methods.

Mr. S. H. Wood (a member of the Methods Committee) said they had heard a lot about names; it was just possible some people did not quite understand what was involved. There were about 150 methods shown in the proposed book, and if the Council should decide to publish it the question arose about the naming of those that had not yet been rung. Up to the present, out of the 150, approximately 100 had been rung and the names were known. The point was whether the Methods Committee were going to make their own names for the rest and expect ringers to abide by those names, or whether they should fall in with the old tradition and let the band who first rang a method give it the name of their own choice. He disagreed with Mr. Trollope on this subject and always had done. He felt that the book should be published without the names of the methods which had not yet been rung.

Mr. Goldsmith then formally proposed the following motion: 'That, with a view to publishing the book on Surprise Major Methods at an early date, this Council recommend that all affiliated societies be invited to take up one half of the issue.'

This was seconded by Mr. G. R. Newton and carried with two dissentients.

Mr. Perrens asked if the Council were going to decide with regard to the names. If the associations agreed to the publication on the terms suggested, the Standing Committee would be getting on with his job immediately.

Mr. Trollope said that what was in the book was the responsibility of the authors, in the same way that authors were responsible for any other book. He asked the Council not to interfere on this point and certainly not to decide anything of the kind until they realised what was involved. If they were going to give an instruction to the committee to issue the book without the names, it would not be worth 4s., or even 2d. 6d. for that matter, in a very few years. He did not say that because he wanted the honour of naming the methods—it was very nice to name one or two, but to name a whole lot was a nuisance—but they had had this matter over before and they knew from the Minor Methods that to publish a book without the names was an utter failure.

Replying to a question by Mr. Perrens, Mr. Trollope said, of course, before the book was published, the names would be revised so that all the methods that had been rung would be given the names chosen by the bands who rang them. It was only the unringed ones that would be named by the committee.

COMMITTEE DIVIDED.

Later in the day the President referred again to the position with regard to the publication of the book. He read extracts from the minutes of previous meetings of the Council, showing that the actual publication of the book had been deferred by the Standing Committee with a view to ascertaining what demand there was likely to be for the book. He pointed out that the Council had now decided to approach the associations to invite them to take up one half of the issue, and said this application would be made to the societies, and if the necessary funds were forthcoming, the book, in its present state, would go forward for printing.

Mr. W. G. Wilson said printing would hardly be possible for another twelve months, because they would have to wait for the annual meetings of the associations to give their consent.

Mr. S. H. Wood said he had made it clear that morning that he had never been in agreement with the other members of the committee that the book should be published with names given to methods that had not been rung. He had suggested that as the book was being written for and published by the Council, the Council should be given the chance to decide whether or not those names should be published. As a member of the committee he was in an awkward position, and he could not allow his name to go on that book if it included something of which he did not approve. If the Council decided by a majority that it wanted these names put in and instructed the Methods Committee to put them in, then he would be very willing to co-operate in choosing the most suitable names, but he did not feel he could take the responsibility of putting the names in off his own bat.

Mr. F. Warrington proposed that the unringed methods be numbered in the book so that those who rang them for the first time could name them.

Mr. C. H. Kippin seconded.

Mr. Trollope asked the Council not to decide the question at that time in about two minutes, but to study the question, remembering what happened in regard to the six-bell methods.

Mr. A. P. Smith raised a point of order. He said they were going back to an item which had already been dealt with.

The President said he did not think they should have a long discussion, but the instructions to the officers of the Council were not clear.

Mr. Wood said he had understood for the last two years that this book was to be handed round to members of the Standing Committee and any others who were interested, before anything else was done, in order to obtain their views, and that was the reason he had not brought this rather unfortunate matter up before that morning. That morning for the first time they had heard the views of the Council.

DECISION DEFERRED.

Mr. Trollope protested against this question being sprung on the Council at the last minute; he considered it was out of order. The book could not in any case be printed before the next meeting, and he suggested that the question of naming or not naming the methods should be left until next year. In the meantime, he asked those people who talked about a grievance to look at the thing from the point of view of the Exercise generally, rather than from that of one or two people who had the idea that they would like to name a method. This book, if printed, should be a standard book for 50 years; all this question of names happened only once. He thought very few people cared what name was given to a new method which they rang as long as the name was a good one.

The President said, in view of the fact that in any case the book could not be printed before next year, he would ask the Council to defer a decision on the question of the names. In the meantime the officers of the Council would get into touch with the associations, with regard to the financial guarantee, so that they would be ready next year.

Mr. J. Hunt said they had all this discussion years ago in connection with the Minor methods, and they decided to leave the naming to the Methods Committee. He thought they should leave the naming of the methods in this book to the committee.

The President said from the rate at which new Surprise methods were being rung it was possible that all the methods in the book would be named by bands who rang them before next year. For the sake of Mr. Dyke and others who would like to name a method, he would like to say he believed there were something like forty-seven thousand other Surprise methods not in the book from which they could select one or two to call after their own name.

The discussion then dropped.

A PEAL ATTEMPT AT EXETER.*RINGERS TRAVEL OVER 4,000 MILES.

Twelve ringers travelled well over 4,000 miles between them during last week-end to attempt a peal at Exeter Cathedral. A peal at Exeter is recognised as one of the biggest jobs of its kind and attempts are few and far between. Arrangements for last Saturday's venture were made by Mr. F. E. Dawe, who, as many of our readers know, has had a lifelong ambition to ring a peal at every English cathedral. Exeter is one of the remaining two or three—apart from converted parish churches—in which he has not yet been successful. It was unfortunate, therefore, that the attempt for Stedman Cinques on Saturday should have come to grief, as it did after two and three-quarter hours' ringing. A combination of conditions necessitated Mr. Dawe setting his bell after 25 courses had been rung, by which time he was physically exhausted. It was naturally a great disappointment to all concerned, and especially to Mr. Dawe, who was calling the peal.

The ringers had been welcomed by the president of the Devon Guild (the Rev. E. V. Cox) and Mr. T. Laver (the hon. secretary). The latter had given great assistance in making the arrangements, and many thanks are due to him for his help, and also to the Dean and Chapter for permission to make the attempt.

The band had been gathered from many parts of the country, as will be seen by the following names: G. E. Fearn (Birmingham) 1, J. S. Goldsmith (Woking) 2, F. W. Perrens (Coventry) 3, J. F. Smallwood (Bath) 4, P. J. Johnson (Leeds) 5, F. E. Dawe (Woking) 6, J. H. B. Hesse (Haslemere) 7, F. H. Dexter (Leicester) 8, F. E. Pervin (Coventry) 9, R. Cousins (London) 10, J. Waugh (London) 11, E. P. Duffield (Colchester) and A. Mitchell (Heavitree) 12. The tenor weighs 72½ cwt.

Mr. Albert Walker, of Birmingham, visited Exeter to listen to the ringing, and his friends were delighted to find him in much restored health.

Mr. Dawe had one previous abortive attempt for a peal on these bells, which was lost after three hours through the exhaustion of the ringer of the eleventh (the late Mr. F. J. Davey, of Exeter).

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.*PLEASANT VILLAGE MEETING.

A successful meeting of the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild was held at Seale on Saturday, June 11th, when the members received a warm welcome to this picturesque Surrey village, which lies at the side of the famous Hog's Back. During the afternoon Mr. Hasted, District Ringing Master, was in charge of the ringing, which included Grandsire, Stedman and Bob Doubles, Bob Minor, Double Oxford, Oxford, Kent and Woodbine Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise.

A short service was held, at which the Rector (Canon R. S. Arrow-smith), who is an honorary member of the Guild, officiated. The Rector gave a brief address of welcome to all present, and thanked the ringers for the voluntary work they did for the Church of God. It was not the first time he had had the privilege of being present at a bellringers' meeting in Seale, and he hoped that they would come again soon for a similar meeting. He could assure all bellringers that they would receive a warm welcome to the village and its church.

An excellent tea had been prepared in the Jubilee Room by Mrs. New and helpers, and a company numbering 35 sat down.

Mr. P. Eldridge (Aldershot), on behalf of the company, thanked the Rector for the welcome extended to them, and said he was sure that everyone present was really having a pleasant time. He also expressed thanks to Mr. Shrimpton (the organist), Mrs. New and her helpers, and others who had helped in the arrangements for the meeting.

At the business meeting which followed the Rector presided.

The district secretary (Mr. C. W. Denyer) announced that a wreath had been sent from the Farnham District for the funeral of Mrs. J. S. Goldsmith, wife of the former general secretary of the Guildford Guild. This action was confirmed.

It was also stated that the Guild summer festival was to be held this year at Farnham Parish Church on July 9th, and it was hoped that all who could do so would support the function.

Mr. C. Hazelden (S. Nicolas', Guildford) gave a report of the meeting of the Central Council, held at Leeds on Whit Tuesday, and, on the proposition of Mr. R. Whittington (Cranleigh), he was thanked for his summary of the Council's affairs.

At the close of business, some of the company returned to the belfry, but others preferred to ramble in the lanes and fields, and listen to the music of the bells across the meadows. Among the towers represented were Ash, Farnham, Sandhurst, Basingstoke, Guildford, Aldershot, Bramley (Hants), Chertsey, Cranleigh, Bentley and Worplesdon.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

RINGERS AND DIOCESAN COMMITTEES

In presenting the report of the Towers and Belfries Committee to the Central Council, the president called attention to a subject which for some time has been giving the Council cause for concern, that of having upon the various Diocesan Advisory Boards someone with a knowledge of bells and ringing. Unfortunately, the president did not have a very happy report to make. There are still only a small proportion of these bodies upon which ringers are either directly or indirectly represented, and only a few others who even call into consultation someone with expert knowledge when faculties in connection with bells are under consideration. All the diocesan bodies were asked for information; some made no reply, others were frankly unsatisfactory. Out of forty-seven dioceses from only seventeen could it be said that a favourable reply had been received.

The attitude of some of these diocesan committees towards consulting some person with a knowledge of the subject when they are considering bell restorations, is a strange one. The committees are, in a sense, judicial bodies and should welcome all the information they can get before coming to any decision. They seem, apparently, to imagine that a bell expert is biased in his opinions, and they therefore keep him outside their counsels. They do not treat the antiquarians in the same way. They are usually well represented, and when there is no one to contest their views, assuming they are contestable, their opinions are naturally accepted. The result is often a patched-up job that ought not really to have been entertained if the real purpose of the bells was fully considered.

It is, however, not just to push the ringers' views on bell restoration that the Council is anxious that this side of the question should be heard by Advisory Committees. There are occasions when the advice of a competent bell expert, with the opportunity of arguing his case with the diocesan body, could prevent an indifferent job being done to satisfy the whim of an antiquarian, or even an architect (often the same thing), and save the local church folk from wasting money. In any case, one would think an Advisory Board would be glad to hear both sides of a question. Associations ought to take a greater interest in this subject, and in addition to approaching their Bishop to secure expert advice being available and presented to the Advisory Boards, should be ready to offer assistance wherever they hear of contemplated restoration, holding a watching brief where a satisfactory scheme is forthcoming and approaching the local Church authorities wherever their help is likely to be useful and acceptable.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY SOCIETY.

A NEW MASTER.

The annual general meeting of Oxford University Society was held in Keble College on Tuesday evening, June 14th. The business, which was mainly of a routine nature, included a motion by the secretary, the Rev. W. C. Barratt (Jesus) to change the time of the annual meeting to the beginning of the Easter term, instead of holding it at the end as at present. The motion was passed by the meeting, and will come up for confirmation at the next general meeting.

At the election of officers, the Master, Mr. J. E. Taylor (Keble) expressed a wish to retire, as he was expecting to take up residence in St. Stephen's House Theological College next year, and did not think he would be able to carry out the duties of Master. Mr. Taylor said that the committee had discussed the matter, and recommended that Mr. R. D. St. J. Smith (Jesus) be invited to succeed him, and he, therefore, made that proposal.—This was seconded by the president, the Rev. O. Elliot Wigg (Keble), and carried unanimously.

Mr. Smith, in a brief speech, explained that since he was not only a member of Jesus College, but also of Ripon Hall, it was possible that the calls of a Theological College might interfere to some extent with the carrying out of his duties; but he said that if it was the wish of the society that he should become its Master, he would do his best to fulfil that office in a manner worthy of the society.

The other officers were re-elected, the president again being elected to represent the society on the Central Council. A vacant place on the committee was filled by the election of Mr. Bryan (St. Peter's Hall).

The date of the next general meeting was fixed for October 11th. At the close of the business the new Master proposed that the society place on record its appreciation of the services rendered by Mr. Taylor during his period of office as Master.—This was seconded by the president and carried with acclamation.

LADIES' GUILD.

NORTHERN DISTRICT ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Northern District of the Ladies' Guild was held at the Parish Church, Bolton, Lancs, on Saturday, June 18th. Twenty ladies attended, and thanks must be accorded to Mrs. Cotterell and Miss Bowling for bringing other members along in their cars—distance being the biggest problem of the district.

Yorkshire was outnumbered by Lancashire, and odd bell methods predominated in the ringing. While the ladies were thus engaged, members of the Lancashire Association held their committee meeting in the Church Room.

A corporate service was then conducted by the lecturer, Mr. C. A. Chamberlain.

A very dainty tea was afterwards served, there being two sittings. Mr. C. A. Chamberlain was thanked for the use of the bells, and Mr. P. Crook and the Lancashire Association for their support. Another very hearty vote of thanks was passed to the ladies who arranged the tea.

Regret was expressed the absence of the Rev. A. Scott (president of the Lancashire Association), who was very disappointed at being unable to be present.

A 'long and energetic' meeting then took place. Two new members were elected. The financial statement showed an income of 14s. 10d. over expenditure for the year.

The vice-president (Miss L. K. Bowling), joint secretaries (Mrs. H. Kelly, Sheffield, and Miss I. B. Thompson, Nottingham) and members of the Central Committee (Miss M. Benton and Miss B. Varley) were re-elected.

Three changes were made on the District Committee, Mrs. Cotterell, Mrs. Fearnley and Miss E. Poulk being elected and Mrs. Wolstencroft re-elected.

Leeds was chosen for the next annual meeting. This being the end of the business (apart from the collection of 18s. in subscriptions), members returned to the belfry. Trinity Church bells were also rung during the evening.

The secretaries would like to take this opportunity of thanking those men of the Lancashire, Nottingham and Yorkshire Associations who have done so much in the interests of the Guild.

LAVENHAM'S RINGING ANNIVERSARY.

The 127th ringing anniversary of Lavenham Society was held on Saturday, June 18th, when some 40 ringers attended, the following places being represented: Sudbury, Grundisburgh, Ipswich, Groton, Little Waldingfield, Newton (Suffolk), Braintree, Colchester, Coggeshall, Chelmsford, Great Baddow, Little Waltham, Saffron Walden, Springfield, Broomfield, West Bergholt (Essex), Newmarket (Cams), Shipley (Yorks) and Fakenham (Norfolk), as well as, of course, Lavenham itself. Methods rung during the day were Plain, Grandsire, Stedman, Double Norwich, Kent, Oxford, Cambridge, Superlative and London.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the North Wales Association was held at Rhyl on Whit Monday, June 6th. Members attended from Llandudno, Mold, Wrexham, Llangollen and the local band, also several visitors, including Mr. R. Sperring and Mr. P. Swindley (Chester), Mr. E. Bennett (Norbury), Mr. W. Dean (Norton, Stoke-on-Trent), Mr. G. W. Fletcher (Chester), Mr. H. Miles (Oxford), Mr. A. Newell (Chester), Mr. H. Martin (Birkenhead), Mr. E. Davies (Droitwich), Mr. H. E. Wills (Croydon), etc. A service was conducted by the Rev. Brynmor Davies.

At the business meeting which followed, the president (the Rev. R. C. Jones) referred to the loss the association had sustained by the death of two of its oldest members, Mr. W. T. Pegler and Mr. J. H. Midwinter, of Bangor, and as a mark of respect the members stood in silence. Two new officers were elected, the Rev. R. H. Roberts, Rhyl, a vice-president, and Mr. F. Hartman, Mold, instructor for the Wrexham District, vice Mr. F. R. Evans.

The following new members were elected: Mr. G. Lewis (Hope), Mr. E. Rose, Mr. J. Clemmick and Mr. E. Jones (Llangollen), Miss Hilda Blower, Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. G. Bromley (Llandudno).

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Gresford. A splendid tea was partaken of by the members and their wives, kindly provided by the local ringers, for which they were accorded a vote of thanks.

Prior to and following the meeting the visitors rang several good touches in different methods on the bells, a feature of which was the excellent striking of Mr. G. Bromley, who is totally blind.

PEAL NOTES.

NEARLY A MASONIC PEAL OF CINQUES.

The peal of Grandsire Cinques at St. Mary-le-Bow, which we record this week, was to have been another Masonic 'first' peal. Mr. Stafford Green had organised the party, some of whom, like Mr. G. R. Newton, from Liverpool, and Mr. A. F. Martin Stewart from Wimborne, Dorset, had come long distances.

It was a gruelling day for Bow, but, despite a mixed band, a good peal resulted. And when it was all over—it was discovered that one of the company was not a Mason! Everyone, however, took it in good part, and, while the Kent Association reaps the reward, the Masons have got to do the job again.

No one regrets the bit of faulty 'staff work' more than the organiser, who much appreciated the support of all the band. The peal was composed and conducted by Mr. G. R. Newton, who called the composition that was rung at Melbourne, Australia, on Armistice Day, 1934.

A peal in seven Minor methods at Ashbocking, Suffolk, on June 13th, was rung on the fortieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Catchpole, of Ipswich, and for Mr. Catchpole's birthday. It was also a wedding peal for Mr. James Bennett, jun., of Helmingham.

SHEFFIELD RINGER'S JUBILEE.

Mr. John Holman, whose ringing career has been largely spent in Yorkshire, has just celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his first peal, which he rang at Colerne, in Wiltshire, on June 10th, 1888. Mr. Holman is a native of Lincoln, and it was fitting that his jubilee peal should be rung at Lincoln Cathedral.

Queen Mary's recent visit to Thorpe Hall, Essex, was celebrated by a peal of Minor at Thorpe-le-Soken. There were four extents of Oxford Treble Bob, conducted by E. E. Davey, and three 720's of Plain Bob, conducted by Urban Wildney.

This kind of performance has its merits and may be amusing, but neither of the conductors can say he called the peal.

The peal rung at Nayland, Suffolk, on June 11th, and recorded last week, was specially arranged in honour of the visit of Queen Mary to John Constable's country. Mr. L. Wright, of Dedham, was responsible for the arrangements, and it was Mrs. Wright's first attempt for a peal 'inside.'

A 'wedding' peal was rung at Broughton, Staffordshire, on June 18th, in honour of the marriage of Mr. Alan D. Steel, Eight-bell Ringing Master of the North Staffordshire Association, and Miss F. Coldrey, the bridegroom taking part in the peal. The method was Kent Treble Bob Major, and it was the fiftieth peal that Mr. C. H. Page has called for the association.

ONE BELL PRACTICE.

The peal of Grandsire Cateters rung at St. John the Baptist's Church, Cardiff, on June 23rd, was to honour Mr. and Mrs. W. Austin. Mr. Austin is verger at St. James' Church, a daughter church of St. John's. He is also a ringer, but unfortunately has not a ring of bells at his church. There is, however, one bell there properly hung for ringing, on which he gets plenty of bell practice. At the conclusion of the peal Mr. and Mrs. Austin met the ringers at the church and tendered their best thanks, and afterwards hospitably entertained the band.

The composition of Stedman Cinques called at Southwark Cathedral on June 18th contains 24 courses in the tittums position, with the sixth 18 times in 6th's, and all the 5-6's. The 14 courses in the handstroke position contain all the six 6-5's. The peal was rung as a birthday compliment to Mrs. T. J. Lock.

A peal of Bob Major at Eynsford, Kent, on June 23rd, was a compliment to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lyddiard, who have just celebrated the twelfth anniversary of their wedding. Mr. Lyddiard, who is leader of the band at St. Luke's, Bromley Common, took part in the peal, and Mrs. Lyddiard also deserves her share in the compliment, as she sat in the churchyard and listened to the peal.

It was also a birthday compliment to Mr. Derek Sharp and the conductor, Mr. P. A. Corby. Owing to the elusiveness of the key to the electric light main switch box, the peal had to be rung by candlelight. This difficulty made the performance of the ringers of the 4th and 5th, whose only previous peal was Bob Minor at Penge, the more creditable.

Miss Doris Dobbie, of Sittingbourne, scored her 25th peal and her first of Surprise when she took part in a peal of Cambridge at Selling, Kent, on June 12th.

The birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Cross, the former being Master of the society, was honoured by a peal of Cambridge Surprise rung by Royal Cumberland Youths at Dartford on June 13th. The peal also commemorated the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bailey and was a birthday compliment to the latter.

TWO MORE NEW SURPRISE METHODS.

Cranbourne Surprise Major, rung at Egham on June 16th for the first time (and without any previous practice) is a 'half-brother' to Painswick. Constructionally, it is the latter method with 7th's place omitted when the treble is behind, but the ringing of it, of course, is very different.

For three of the band who rang the peal, Cranbourne was the 25th Surprise method. Mr. Alan Pink has called a peal in every one of the 25 he has rung, while Messrs. Len Stilwell and Bill Welling's 25 have been a sort of joint affair. They have taken part together in exactly the same collection of methods. Mr. Pink's list varies from theirs in two respects.

It was fitting that a peal should have been rung at Egham at that time, for it coincided with the celebrations of the 723rd anniversary of the signing of Magna Charta. Runnymede, where King John conceded to the demands of the barons, is in Egham parish, and last Sunday copies of the banners of the guarantor peers were unveiled.

Curiously, another Surprise method was rung for the first time the same week, and another ringer rang his 25th Surprise method. It was rung for the Hertford County Association at Bushey without previous practice, and the method was named Southall.

The occasion was the marriage of Mr. F. H. E. Southall (a member of the local band) and Miss M. K. Phillips, so that the happy pair were doubly honoured.

It was Mr. Francis Kirk's 25th Surprise method, and his 50th peal with Mr. Maurice Hibbert.

In a peal in seven Minor methods at Bicker, Lincs, on June 11th, Cyril Wander rang his first 720's in four of the methods. He stood in the peal at the last moment, as the band arrived one short.

The 'stars' for first peal in the 5,040 Grandsire Doubles at Bokesbourne, Kent, on June 6th, should have been printed against the names of the ringers of treble and tenor.

The peal of Superlative Surprise Major at Crayford, Kent, on June 17th, was arranged and rung as a 'coming of age' compliment to Mr. Phil Corby, one of the enthusiastic young men, of whom there seem, happily, to be a growing number round London. The composition, by another talented youth, Edwin A. Barnett, has five pairs of bells reversed in 5-6 at course-ends and was rung for the first time.

The peal was also rung on the 79th birthday of Mr. William Martin, of Beckenham, formerly of Swanscombe. In spite of advancing years and failing health, Mr. Martin is still a model of regularity and punctuality on Sundays and practice nights at Beckenham—and he lives a threepenny bus ride from the church.

On the first anniversary of the dedication of the bells at Harston, Cambridgeshire, a peal of Bob Minor was rung in which four of the local ringers took part, three of them having learnt change ringing since the bells were augmented and rehung last year. The band in the peal was completed by Miss Kitty Willers (hon. secretary of the Ely Diocesan Association) and Mr. C. W. Cook, of Cambridge.

Mr. Barnabas G. Key, Ringing Master of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford, celebrated his birthday by calling a peal of Grandsire Doubles at Rushall, Staffs, on June 13th, four of the band being Sunday service ringers at the church.

Mr. Herbert Knight has just completed 30 years as hon. (lay) secretary of the Archdeaconry of Staffs Society, and on June 18th Mr. Key called a peal of Grandsire Triples at Pattingham for the event.

A peal of Minor at Bramford, Suffolk, on June 20th, was a welcome to the new curate, the Rev. John H. H. Griffin, who came to the parish on June 6th from Gwynfryn, Talierin, Machynlleth. It is hoped Mr. Griffin may be induced to take up ringing. His father was Rector of Henstead, Suffolk, from 1925 to 1935.

Mr. C. T. Coles, hon. secretary of the Middlesex County Association, wishes to acknowledge the birthday compliment paid to him by the peal in Yorkshire on Whit Monday. As he does not know who was responsible, he cannot write to them personally.

The time of the peal at Speldhurst on June 6th was 2 hours 50 minutes, and not 2 hours 45 minutes as published.

L. Foster (and not W. Foster) was the ringer of the third in the peal of Bob Major at Fressingfield on May 21st.

The name of the ringer of the 4th in the peal at Twickenham on June 11th was E. Ralph Mackrill and not F. D. Bishop.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Northern Division of the Essex Association took place at Stebbing and was attended by ringers from Stebbing, Dunmow, Bocking, Braintree, Halstead, Earls Colne, Springfield, Coggeshall, Melbourn and Maldon. Service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. French (priest-in-charge), who had travelled from Streatham for the purpose. General Henderson (Vicar's warden) was present, and both attended tea, served in the Church Hall, Mrs. Barnard, wife of the people's warden, and the wives of the local ringers for the catering.

A business meeting followed, the District Master (Mr. F. Ridgwell) presiding, supported by the district secretary (Miss Hilda Snowden).

Mr. John Challis, of Bocking, was elected a member of the association, and it was agreed that the next meeting on September 17th should take place at Dunmow.

The District Master extended thanks to the Rev. French, and to General Henderson for his interest. He also thanked Mrs. Barnard and her helpers and the local ringers for so kindly providing tea.

During the afternoon and evening methods ranging from Plain Bob Minor to London Surprise Minor were rung on the bells.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Congratulations to Mr. John J. L. Gilbert, of Handsworth, on being elected divisional secretary to the Southern Division of the Yorkshire Association. This, at 19 years of age, is a great tribute to his abilities for the work of a great association.

Who was the ringer who attended the Barnsley meeting and could not find the new Rectory Room, whereby he missed his tea, the business meeting, and nearly missed the church? The early bird catches 'all' the worms.

Mr. W. H. Lawrence, of Little Munden, is, we hear, resigning office as Eastern District secretary of the Hertford County Association, a post which he has filled with enthusiasm and success for 34 years. Ill-health is compelling him to take this step, and while his many friends will hear this with regret, they will wish him a speedy recovery.

The bells of Guildford Cathedral will be heard on the air on Sunday evening as a preliminary to the customary broadcast service.

A new peal of eight bells, cast by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, are to be dedicated this evening at Liss, Hants.

The time for ringing at Winchester Cathedral to-morrow, in connection with the annual meeting of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, has been changed. The bells will be open before the service only from 2.30 to 3.45 p.m.

SURPRISE METHOD NAMES.

A SUGGESTION.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I am a very unimportant member of the ringing fraternity and am never likely to ring another peal, let alone a Surprise one. I can, therefore, look at the matter with an unbiassed mind and see both sides of the question.

Here is a suggestion which may be worth considering, based, to some extent, on the naming of foxhounds and sometimes horses.

Let the committee name the methods as Mr. Trollope suggests; then these are the names for all time. Let the first ringers add to it the name of the tower in which it was rung, or, if they prefer, the name of their association. This would become the official title as published in the records, and, for all time, the method would be associated with their name, and this without confounding the issue as regards the book. For example, imagine a method to be named by the committee 'Queen's'; let this be rung for the first time at a place called 'Godington' and publish it in 'The Ringing World' as 'Godington Queen's'.

As there is only one 'Queen's' in the book there is no confusion, and the ringers still have the honour and pleasure of giving their own name. It would seem, on the face of it, that this or some such method would appeal to both sides of the argument unless they were very bigoted.

'NEMO.'

A LONDON RESTORATION.

THE BELLS OF ST. GEORGE-IN-THE-EAST.

On Trinity Sunday, the bells of the East London Church of St. George-in-the-East were rededicated by the Bishop of London.

The restoration has been carried out as a memorial to the late Rector, the Rev. C. J. Beresford, M.A., whose ambition it was to see the bells rehung before his resignation. Unfortunately, he died before anything had been done. His successor, the Rev. R. Bruce-Eadie, A.K.C., initiated the scheme which has now come to fruition.

For many years the bells had been in very bad condition, and about six years ago ringing was stopped owing to the dangerous state of some of the bearings. In tone, the bells were a very mediocre ring.

The present restoration has been carried out by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, who installed the ring in 1751 A.D. The work has entailed the recasting of the sixth and the retuning of the other seven. Iron headstocks and ball bearings have been fitted, and the massive wooden frame has been tie-bolted and strengthened. That a first-class engineering job would be done was a foregone conclusion, but the point of doubt was, could the 'old tanks' be made into a musical ring? Any doubts that existed were completely swept away when the retuned bells were heard for the first time. A glorious ring with a 28 cwt. tenor was the result of the restoration. Messrs. Mears and Stainbank are to be congratulated on another very fine achievement.

The bells have actually been in use since Easter Sunday, and the new band which has been started has made such progress that the ringing for the rededication was done without outside assistance. The band has been formed into the St. George-in-the-East Guild of Ringers, with the Rector as president. Mr. J. G. A. Prior, Northern District secretary of the London County Association, who learnt to ring at St. George's, was elected Ringing Master, and his brother, Mr. Sidney A. Prior, secretary. The Guild is about 18 strong, mainly young men and boys, and it is hoped that the same progress will be made at St. George's as has been made at the mother church of St. Dunstan, Stepney.

Readers of 'The Ringing World' will remember the appeal which appeared in these columns for financial assistance towards the restoration. There is still a large sum required before the appeal closes, and any further donations will be gratefully received. They should be sent to one of the following: Mr. J. A. Waugh, 8, Fullers Road, Woodford, E.18, or Mr. J. G. A. Prior, 81, Denbigh Street, Westminster, S.W.1.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—25.*HERBERT KNIGHT.

For nearly 50 years Mr. Herbert Knight, of Wolverhampton, has given loyal and ungrudging service to the cause of change ringing, and for just 30 years has been the hon. lay secretary of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford, which he has represented on the Central Council since 1915.

Born at Gittisham, near Honiton, Devon, on December 3rd, 1872, Mr. Knight was taught to pull a bell in 1889 at Highbridge, Somerset, where there were then five bells, and, with others, managed to learn Grandsire Doubles. St. Peter's Collegiate Church, Wolverhampton, has, however, been his real ringing 'home.' It was there that his capacity as a ringer was developed, where he rang his first peal—the treble to Grandsire Caters on December 1st, 1894. It was not until March 9th, 1901, that he rang his first peal as conductor, and then he called Thurstans' four-part peal of Stedman Triples in the same tower. In the meantime, however, he had taken part in two notable peals of Grandsire Caters, both at St. Peter's, Wolverhampton, 7,019 in 1897 and 11,563 in 1899.

Mr. Knight was the first to call a peal blindfolded. On October 12th, 1907, he conducted Thurstans' one-part peal of Stedman Triples at St. Luke's Church, Wolverhampton, with his eyes bandaged—a feat which has very seldom been emulated.

Since 1908 Mr. Knight has been captain of St. Peter's company, and among the interesting performances in which he has taken part have been the first peal of Double Oxford Bob Royal, rung at Wednesbury on January 2nd, 1909, the first peal of Erin Cinques, rung at Christ Church, West Bromwich, on September 23rd, 1911, and a strictly non-conducted peal of Stedman Triples (Thurstans' four-part) at Brewood, Staffs, in 1930. Mr. Knight has conducted peals of Stedman from Doubles to Cinques and Plain Bob from Minor to Maximus. He has also taken part in Cambridge Surprise from Minor to Maximus, and on November 25th, 1933, called a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Tettenhall, with the rest of the band made up of past and present ringing masters, to commemorate the jubilee of the Archdeaconry of Staffs Society. Among Mr. Knight's handbell peals was the first in the city of Hereford, rung in 1898.

Altogether he has rung 492 peals, of which he has conducted 144. His services to ringing are not, however, to be measured by this, but by the time and interest he devotes to further the work in his own tower and society.

Next week: Mr. Frederick W. Rogers.

DEATH OF AN OLD GUILDFORD RINGER.*FORMER BRANCH SECRETARY OF WINCHESTER GUILD.

The death took place at Guildford on Saturday after a short illness of Mr. Edward Raddon, who for some years prior to the formation of the Guildford Diocesan Guild at the end of 1927 was hon. secretary of the Guildford District of the old Winchester Diocesan Guild.

Mr. and Mrs. Raddon, who were married at Potterne, Wiltshire, in 1885, moved to Guildford in 1898, and Mr. Raddon joined S. Nicolas' company, of which he remained a member up to the time of his death except for a short period when he lived in the neighbouring village of Merrow and assisted the local band.

Failing health had prevented Mr. Raddon from taking much active part in ringing recently, for it is a long climb up to S. Nicolas' belfry, but he maintained his interest in the society.

Mr. Raddon, who was 76 years of age, leaves a widow, one son and three daughters in bereavement.

The funeral took place at Merrow on Wednesday, when the church bells were rung half-muffled and handbells were rung, as a parting tribute, over the grave.

VETERAN'S DEATH AT PRITTLEWELL.

Mr. William Dudley, of Prittlewell, Essex, one of the first to take up change ringing in that tower, passed away on June 16th. He had been a member of Prittlewell band for 51 years and had rung 100 peals, 52 of which were in his own belfry.

Only in July last year Mr. Dudley was honoured in recognition of his 50 years of service to his church, when he was presented with a suitably inscribed gold bell pendant.

On June 20th, a muffled peal in his memory was rung at Prittlewell.

MR. HERBERT KNIGHT.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.*THE BENEVOLENT FUND.*Divisional Collections to be Made.

Horsham was the place selected for the annual general meeting of the Sussex County Association, held on Saturday, June 18th. The bells of the Parish Church were made good use of during the afternoon and evening, and those of Warnham in the afternoon. Among the visitors were the Master (Mr. G. Williams) and general secretary (Mr. F. W. Rogers) of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild, and from Sussex the following towers were represented: Arundel, Balcombe, Brighton (St. Nicholas), St. Peter's and the Good Shepherd, Bolney, Heene, Hurstpierpoint, Warnham, Lower Beeding, Lymminster, Billingshurst, Eastbourne, Shoreham, Cuckfield, Lindfield, Hartfield, Crawley, West Grinstead, Twineham, Kirdford, Lewes and Horsham, those present numbering 75.

Service took place in Horsham Parish Church, the organist (Mr. S. Sutton) being supported by a large choir of men and boys. The Vicar, the Rev. R. W. D. Lee, M.A., preached an interesting sermon, taking as his theme united service to the Church by those whose 'hearts were touched.'

At the business meeting the Master, Mr. H. R. Butcher, presided, and apologies were read from the Bishop of Chichester, Mr. J. T. Rickman and Mr. F. B. Tompkins, the latter being past masters of the association. The secretary reported the invitation from the Bishop to Mr. Keith Hart to serve on the Advisory Committee on Faculties.

Three new members were elected, Miss Oakshett and Mr. B. Oakshett, of Hayes, Kent, and Mr. C. Bassett, of Portsmouth.

The Master presented the balance sheet, and pointed out that although the general account was slightly on the debit side, there having been unexpected expenses, no claims had been made on the Benevolent Fund in the past year, and, on the whole, the balance of £263 16s. 11d. was slightly above that of 1936.

The subscriptions from affiliated towers amounted to £63 19s., from unaffiliated members 16s., non-resident members £3 15s., hon. members £2 5s. The total receipts were £74 9s. 10d. The expenses amounted to £78 6s. 2d.

All the officers were re-elected, the president, the Bishop; Master, Mr. H. R. Butcher; hon. treasurer, Mr. A. D. Stone; hon. general secretary, Mr. S. E. Armstrong; hon. peal secretary, Mr. F. I. Hairs; hon. auditors, Messrs. W. C. Hart and J. T. Toms; hon. trustees, Messrs. F. Dallaway, H. R. Butcher and F. B. Tompkins.

The peal secretary's report made mention of the 66 peals which had been rung in the year, which included the first of Rutland Surprise in Sussex. The total was five more than 1936.

Mr. F. Dallaway, a representative to the Central Council meeting at Leeds, gave a short account of the proceedings, and made mention of the hospitable manner in which the Yorkshire Association had welcomed the members.

Mr. Sippetts made a proposal regarding members who left the county after having paid five consecutive annual subscriptions, recommending that they should, on application remain members without further payment while residing out of the county.—This was carried.

EARLIER ANNUAL MEETING.

A motion to affect the date of the annual general meeting was also put forward by Mr. Sippetts, and it was agreed that in future it should be held not later than April. Thus it will always be possible to instruct the Central Council delegates of the association's wishes before the Council meeting.

The general secretary made a proposition regarding dates of administrative business made necessary by the advancement of the annual meeting, and Mr. Pankhurst's amendment to this motion was carried.

Two places were proposed for the next meeting, Eastbourne receiving 20 votes and Brighton 21. In consequence, the 1939 meeting will be held at Brighton.

Mr. Pankhurst pointed out the lack of a definite rule with regard to collections for the Benevolent Fund, drawing attention to the fact that last year the Benevolent Fund was not supported at all from two of the divisions. The custom had been to leave the collections to the discretion of the divisional secretaries; the result was the present anomaly. He suggested that each division should have at least two collections during the year for this purpose, and the suggestion was accepted with a view to making a definite rule at the first opportunity.

During this discussion the Master was obliged to leave in order to catch his train, and on his invitation the chair was taken by Mr. W. C. Hart.

A particularly pleasant note was struck by the unanimous and enthusiastic decision to elect Mr. Walter Charman as an honorary life member, in recognition of his valued services to the association for 50 years. Mr. Charman has been connected throughout this time with Warnham tower, and is a member of a well-known ringing family at that place. He has rendered particularly valuable help to the association by his organisation of the monthly practice meetings at Horsham, which has become a regular institution during the winter months with ringers present from quite distant parts.

Mr. W. C. Hart closed the meeting by proposing a hearty vote of thanks to all those who had assisted with the arrangements at the service, and to the Vicars of Warnham and Horsham for the use of the bells.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

TOWERS AND BELFRIES.

Warning Against Neglect.

The report of the Peals Analysis and Records Committee, which appeared in 'The Ringing World' on May 6th, was presented by Mrs. Fletcher, who corrected one slight mistake, in which the Lancashire Association was stated to have rung 101 peals, whereas it was the Lincoln Diocesan Guild that reached this number.

CORONATION PEALS.

The report was adopted, and the President then called attention to the fact that 259 peals were rung in celebration of the Coronation of their Majesties, the King and Queen. He suggested that the officers of the Council approach the Home Secretary, either direct or through Lord Shaftesbury (who is an honorary member of the Council), and find out whether the King would accept a list of those 259 peals, which list would, presumably, ultimately find its way into the library at Windsor Castle. He did not mean that the details of the peals should be given, but just a list of the places and what was rung.

Mr. S. F. Palmer seconded and the proposition was at once carried. Replying to a question, the President said the list was not merely of peals rung on Coronation Day, but of all the peals rung for the Coronation.

THE USE OF 'SILENCERS.'

The Towers and Belfries Committee's report was presented by the president. It stated: Since the last Council meeting the members of the committee have been consulted in 27 cases, and have given advice, in most cases after inspection of the towers concerned. In 22 of these towers the question was one of rehanging or the provision of additional bells. In the other five towers advice was given in the matter of sound modification. Where the committee's advice has been followed, the reduction of sound in the neighbourhood of the church has given great satisfaction.

During the year the 'silencers' belonging to the Council have been lent for experiment to one tower, with the result that a set is being purchased for that tower. The introduction of 'silencers' at several churches has been brought to the notice of the committee. One warning is needed with regard to the use of the 'silencers.' If before their use the volume of sound in the ringing room is not excessive, it will be found difficult to hear the bells when the 'silencers' are in use. To get over this difficulty a hinged trap door should be made in the ceiling which can be easily opened when 'silencers' are in use, and closed at other times. If this provision be not made there will be a risk of bad striking.

The attention of the committee has been drawn to the desirability of handrails being provided for belfry staircases, and when the 'Preservation of bells' pamphlet is next reprinted this point can be dealt with.

Some information is available as to the members of Diocesan Advisory Committees. So far, replies have been received from 24 dioceses out of 47. In 16 of these there is a member who either has good knowledge of bells or is sufficiently interested to see that expert advice is obtained. In the other eight the position is said to be unsatisfactory. The committee would be glad to have further information with a view to taking some action in the matter.

The President, in presenting the report, said he had received a letter from Major Hesse giving the list of towers he had visited. Referring to the question of unprotected steel girders, the President said that an architect friend of his had been down, for the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, to a church in Surrey, where the bells were rehung in the early part of this century in an iron frame on mild steel girders. It had remained unpainted and it was now possible to push a finger through the web of the girders. That had come about in a matter of 31 or 32 years. The girders had completely perished. The architects had something on their side when they objected to steel frames, unless they were painted. In this case the steel was to be replaced by cast iron girders. The cast iron frame was all right; it was the mild steel that had gone. Unless they could be sure that it was going to be painted or covered with concrete there was a danger, and those who recommended oak had something in their favour, for oak was fool-proof, except for the beetle. Concrete casing for girders in small towers restricted the space and added to the difficulty of getting the ropes down in a good circle.

Mr. Lewis went on to refer to a tower which he visited where the death-watch beetle had got into the frame very badly. The architect applied a liquid for discouraging the beetle, and he applied it in a certain way. As a result the bell frame had drunk more than 60 gallons of the liquid (laughter). Small holes had been bored into the timber, and the foreman went round filling them up, through funnels, eight times a day. There were traces that the liquid had got to the ends of the frame and they were having quite good hunting and had bagged quite a number of beetles (laughter).

MOVEMENT OF TOWERS.

Proceeding, the President said 'The Times' newspaper, on Coronation Day, gave a little paragraph about the Imperial Institute and the ringing that was going to take place there, and the correspondent said that the tower swayed a foot out of the perpendicular when the bells were rung (laughter). That meant that it would move 2ft., one each way. He had looked to see if the Office of Works took up the matter, but they did not appear to do so. He had looked up some measurements he made some years ago at towers where the movement was quite noticeable. In one case the movement was only one-twentieth of an inch out of the vertical each way. That was quite noticeable to the ringers. In another one—he thought it was Northaw, before the bells were rehung in 1914—the light bracket used to sway, the handbells on the wall started to ring and the rafters and wall-plate could be heard rubbing together. The movement was measured and found to be two millimetres out of perpendicular. As there were 25 millimetres to the inch, the movement was about one-fifth of an inch, and that was very noticeable indeed. The reference to the Imperial Institute tower was just the sort of thing they got in newspapers, even newspapers like 'The Times.'

With regard to the information about the diocesan authorities, said Mr. Lewis, Winchester, Bristol, Chester, Ely, Exeter, Leicester, Portsmouth, Rochester, Chichester and Lincoln had a ringer on the Diocesan Advisory Board; in the case of Lichfield, Norwich, Oxford, Truro, Worcester and Blackburn there were members who knew quite a bit about bells, although not actually ringers themselves. In the case of certain other dioceses he had no information, and asked the Council to let him have information if possible later in the day.

The Rev. E. S. Powell said he was on the Peterborough Diocesan Board.

The President said there was no one on the Salisbury Board, but Mr. H. B. Walters was consulted. Nothing was known about Southwark; Ripon would in most cases consult someone; in St. Albans no one was called in; in Southwell there was a vacancy; Sheffield had no representative at present. Mr. Lewis added that the committee would try and take some steps to get someone appointed to each committee or have arrangements made so that someone with a knowledge of bells should be consulted when a question arose concerning bells.

DANGEROUS BELFRY STAIRS.

On the question of the desirability of having a handrail round the belfry staircase, the President said the matter had been raised in a letter from Mr. J. Jaggar, who said the point had been worrying him a good deal. He (the president) had heard of several cases of people being damaged through slipping on the stairs and Mr. Paddon Smith had told him of the case of a man being killed through falling down the staircase at the Bull Ring, Birmingham, about two years ago; so it was an important point.

Mr. E. A. Young, in moving the adoption of the report, said this question of dangerous staircases had been in his mind for some years. Some stairs were very narrow, perhaps only 2ft. wide, and very steep in order to get the head room. Therefore, the treads at the outside were sometimes only two or three inches wide. Some old towers had a rope running down the newel, and he thought the Council should advocate this on narrow stairs where there was no room for a handrail. For a descent there was nothing so reassuring as a rope running through the hand at head level, ready to take the pull if one slipped.

Mr. F. E. Dawe, in seconding, said with advancing age, he had come to know the necessity of a rope on narrow stairs.

Mr. A. Paddon Smith said a rope did not take the place of a proper iron handrail where there was room for it. Holding a rope brought a man to the narrow edge of the steps. It was better to have hold of a rail on the outside; then, if his feet slipped, he was automatically brought to the wide side of the steps. Wherever there was room they should have a handrail; where there was not room, perhaps a rope round the newel was the next best thing.

Mr. Young said a handrail on a narrow stairway was liable to catch on the hip or waist in going up or down.

The President said one member of the Council the other day was unable to get up the stairway into a tower, although there was no handrail. The stairs were too narrow (laughter).

Mr. Young: He could only get up sideways, I suppose.

The President: No, he could not even get up sideways (laughter).

Mr. Smith said when the great Samuel Lawrence went on one occasion to ring at Dudley he could not get into the tower. They, therefore, hoisted him up by a derrick and got him in through the window; so Mr. Richardson's experience was not new (laughter).

The President said the committee would see that the Council's recommendation was included in the revised handbook on the Preservation of Bells.

The report was then adopted.

THE PRESS AND BELLS.

The report of the Literature, Press and Broadcasting Committee was as follows: Two events of the past twelve months have brought bells and ringers into quite exceptional prominence in the public Press. One is the College Youths' tercentenary, the other the controversy over 'canned bells.'

The tercentenary received an outstanding degree of publicity; daily and weekly journals published full accounts of the celebration both before and after the event, as well as on the actual day, with copious illustrations, featuring in some cases well-known members of the Ancient Society. The memorial tribute to Sir Henry Tuile was recorded at length. An incident in connection with a broadcast given by the Master of the College Youths was magnified by an imaginative journalist into a 'Row at the B.B.C.,' involving Miss Dorothy Sayers. The natural effect was to give enhanced publicity to the occasion and to draw attention to the broadcast by association with the name of the famous novelist.

It may here be mentioned as a link with contemporary literature that on a subsequent date Miss Sayers visited the belfry of St. Paul's Cathedral and attended the College Youths' meeting at the Coffee Pot, where she was presented with a gift in recognition of the widespread interest in change ringing aroused by her renowned work of fiction, 'The Nine Tailors.'

The occasional use of gramophone records in towers instead of actual bells has been noted in the Press from time to time, but the subject leapt into sudden prominence when the installation of a record in a steeple at Weymouth led to a long discussion at a meeting of the Dorchester Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, and a resolution deprecating the use of such mechanical devices was passed and forwarded to the Bishop. Journalists evidently found 'good copy' in the protest of ringers against this menace to their national art: even in America the matter was taken up in the public Press.

'CANNED MUSIC.'

A leader in the 'Daily Mirror' under the heading 'Ding Dong Bell!' had the right ring about it; 'In an unsentimental age we sometimes hear protesting voices against church bells. The tinny and one-noted bell may annoy the ears, but any person who objects to a beautifully rung peal should consult a doctor about it. We sympathise with the . . . ringers in their revolt against "canned music" and loud-speakers in churches. Keep the old bells ringing! Let us be rung to church as our forefathers were.'

'Discs in the Belfry' was the heading of a whole column in a recent issue of the 'Church Times.' The following extract, from the pen of the gifted writer signing himself 'Urbanus,' may well provide food for reflection: 'There is a great deal to be said in favour of the discs. Foremost, I fancy, is the woeful fact that many bells are silent, or, at best, ill-rung. I have heard many a country parson bewail his inability to get a team of ringers together. . . . Nor is it enough that the bells should ring out in the evening. They should call the people to morning worship. But, alas! ringers, when found at all, frequently have no leisure or inclination for morning church, let alone for pulling their weight in the bell-chamber. Still,' he continues, 'I should fight against the intrusion of the gramophone into a tower where true bells hang.'

Among general references to bellringing in the London Press we find records of long service in the belfry, notably to the band of ringers at Marnhull, Dorset, who had completed 40 years of united service to the church, before the passing of Mr. A. Drew at the age of 76 created the first breach in their number, and to the ringers of Pillongley, who during the last 50 years have rung together at three Royal Jubilees and three Coronations. Amongst individual records have appeared those of Mr. Brundle, of Ipswich, Mr. Hewlett, of Puddletown, and the late Mr. W. T. Cockerill, while the Kentish newspapers gave due prominence to the one hundredth birthday celebration of Mr. C. Slingsby. By way of contrast, the Northfleet ringers have figured in the Press as the youngest band, with an average age of 13 years.

Whether by chance or by design, two articles of outstanding merit appeared in two Birmingham papers on the same date; one in the 'Post' headed 'The Ringing Isle—England's Pleasantest Epithet'; the other in the 'Mail' on 'The Art and Practice of Change Ringing.' 'The Listener' has included an interesting article on bells by Garry Hogg. In a paragraph entitled 'Skyward Music,' a London journal has called attention to the improvement effected by blocking up the louvers and throwing the sound upwards. Among many local reports of dedications of bells, those of augmentation at Poole and recasting at Bournemouth, both in the Coronation year, would appeal to a wide public. A full account of the peal rung to celebrate Alderman Pritchett's golden wedding appeared in the Birmingham Press, with a photograph of the ringers.

The publication of Mr. J. A. Trollope's work, 'The College Youths,' in the society's tercentenary year, was a literary event of great interest to the Exercise at large. The author's diligent research into obscure sources of information has brought to light many facts of historical value, while his gift of imagination and vivid style bring past ages to new life in the pages of this fascinating book, which incidentally received enthusiastic commendation from the Dean of St. Paul's at the College Youths' dinner. A new edition at a more popular price of Nicholl's 'Bells Through the Ages' and Morris' 'History and Art of Change Ringing,' both reviewed at length in the 'Church Times,' is indicative of increasing interest in the subject.

BROADCASTING.

The outstanding event of 1937 was Mr. E. H. Lewis' broadcast on the tercentenary of the College Youths, with both tower bell and hand-bell illustrations of change ringing. Transmission and reception were perfect. Other broadcasts of bells have been almost entirely introductory to religious services. Last summer two or three of these performances were far from creditable, but during the past nine months or so a very fair standard has on the average been maintained, though there is still need for much improvement. A Somerset village won well-merited praise for a really good broadcast of Stedman Doubles. On the other hand, a Dorset village with six fine-toned bells let the Exercise down by an incompetent attempt at chiming. One village band, realising that an elementary attempt at change ringing was not coming up to the mark for broadcasting, had the good sense to revert to rounds, which in their way produced a thoroughly musical effect. The monthly touch of Caters from St. Martin's-in-the-Fields continues to be rung and the reception very good, as also that from Croydon on Sunday mornings. Since the removal of Bishop Woods to Lichfield, the bells of Lichfield Cathedral have likewise been broadcast. On Coronation Day, 1937, very brief records were transmitted of the ringing at Westminster Abbey and the Imperial Institute. The announcer was misinformed in his statement that the bells of the Institute are rung 'only' on royal anniversaries.

The president of the Council has had the opportunity of personal conferences with officials of the B.B.C. which should be productive of good results.

The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, who moved the reception of the report, said the Exercise had had a very good Press during the year, not only in the sense that bellringing had been brought into considerable prominence, but also, the art of change ringing had received very favourable notice. Writers had shown intelligence and interest in the art of ringing. With regard to the reference to Mr. Charles Slingsby, who had now reached his 101st birthday, it had been suggested that the Council might send him a message of congratulation. He moved that the report be adopted and a congratulatory message sent to this grand old man of Kent.

Mr. A. P. Smith seconded and suggested that with the letter of congratulation they should also enclose a pound note. He was sure that was a kind of message that the old man would not regret receiving (applause). Mr. Smith added with regard to the two articles which appeared in Birmingham papers, that the two papers were both owned by a well-known Birmingham churchman, Sir Charles Hyde. Not only had he allowed a column in each of his very expensive papers to be devoted to the cause of bells and bellringing, but was generous enough to give £1,000 towards the cost of recasting and rehanging the bells of Birmingham Cathedral, so that the work might be done in time for the Coronation (applause).

A collection for Mr. Slingsby resulted in a sum of £2 being received.

DEATH OF MR. W. G. MANN.

LAST FOUNDER-MEMBER OF LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION.

There has recently died at Liverpool the last surviving founder-member of the Lancashire Association, Mr. W. G. Mann. He, with the late John Aspinwall and John R. Pritchard, was responsible for forming the association and held their first meeting in the year 1876 in a room in Wood Street, quite close to St. Luke's Church, Liverpool. In the same year the first important meeting of the association was held at Chorley. The first secretary was Mr. J. R. Pritchard, and Messrs. Mann and Aspinwall were elected to the committee.

At the time of his death Mr. Mann was in his 86th year and for some years had not taken any active part in ringing. In his younger days he had rung in several peals of Grandsire Triples and also a 6,048 Bob Major at Halewood. He was buried at Smithdown Road Cemetery quite near to his former old colleague, the late John Aspinwall. He leaves a daughter in bereavement, and to her sincere sympathy is extended.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

BELFRY DANGERS

Although many reforms have been introduced into the belfries of this country in the last fifty years, among them a greater cleanliness and a more fitting furnishing of the ringing chambers, there is yet one thing in very many churches that seems to have been neglected—the safety of the way to the bells. Not merely are there still in constant use narrow and dangerous stairways, potential death traps for the unwary, but perpendicular and often rickety ladders have to be climbed to reach either the ringing room or the bells above. The risks which ringers take, sometimes three or four times a week, ought not to be imposed upon them. Even in numerous cases, where reasonable access to the ringing chamber is provided, there is very often only the most primitive means of reaching the bells.

Two examples have come under our notice within the past week. In one, an old tower, the only means of reaching the bells from the ringing room is a ladder placed upon a form; in the other, a magnificent new tower, a straight iron ladder against a wall provides an unbroken climb of some twenty-five feet from the ringing floor to a trapdoor in the ceiling. In either case a slip on the part of the climber must mean, at least, serious injury. It is strange how in the first case such a clumsy method is ever permitted, and in the second, how an architect, with unlimited scope, should have left the tower without any proper stairway to the summit. It is not only the ringers who should have consideration in reaching the scenes of their activities, but church authorities should be held responsible for seeing that men do not have to risk their necks each time they have to give necessary attention to the bells themselves.

The faulty stairways so common in old towers have often been commented on and the subject was ventilated at the last meeting of the Central Council. Narrow, steep and worn steps, often in semi or total darkness, should not be tolerated by those who have to use them, without proper safeguards. The first essential is light, and the second, some kind of grip which a man may use against a slip of the foot. The least that the authorities should provide is efficient illumination and a properly adjusted rope round the newel; while, wherever it is possible, there should be a handrail. Ringers, in their own interests, should not hesitate to bring these matters before their Church Councils. We imagine that the authorities would readily recognise their responsibilities—moral if not legal—and see to it that the stairways are made as safe as circumstances allow. The Towers and Belfries Committee of the Central Council are to emphasise this important matter in the revised handbook which will be issued, but the ringers in these ill equipped towers owe it to themselves and their visitors to get an improvement effected. Indeed, associations, who are ready enough to advocate and further bell restorations, might very well give their attention to this, in many cases, pressing subject.

PEAL NOTES.

A DOUBLE EVENT.

Mr. S. Hazelden, of East Farleigh, formerly secretary of the Maidstone District of the Kent County Association, has celebrated his 80th birthday and his diamond wedding. On June 25th a peal of Double Norwich Major in honour of the double event, and also of the 'coming of age' of Miss Doris Dobbie, was rung at Sittingbourne. The peal had a narrow escape. One of the ropes 'stranded' and unravelled up through the sally. For some time before the end it was doubtful if it would last out, but the ringer and the rope 'stuck it,' so all's well that ends well.

A similar compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Hazelden was also paid to them at East Peckham, where a peal of Bob Minor was rung on Sunday, June 26th. Mr. and Mrs. Hazelden were married on June 23rd, 1878.

The East Peckham peal was, in addition, a birthday compliment to Miss Joan Medhurst.

The band at Longparish, Hants, who began their peal ringing last year with a peal in one method (Grandsire Doubles) with two conductors, have now rung a peal in two methods (Grandsire and Plain Bob) with one conductor. The peal, rung on June 23rd, is a real achievement for this country band.

The first peal on the bells at Glodwick, Lancashire, since they were rehung in April, 1937, was rung on June 25th. Two of the ringers (Messrs. J. Allison, who rang his first peal on an 'inside' bell, and E. Moores) were elected members of the Lancashire Association before starting the peal.

'Good striking throughout' is the comment on a peal of Bob Major rung at Standish, Lancs, by the Sunday service ringers at St. Wilfrid's Church, as a welcome to their new Rector, the Rev. W. S. Mellor, after morning service on Sunday, June 26th.

Another Rector welcomed to his new parish by a peal was the Rev. E. C. Corke, of Grimston, Norfolk. He was inducted on May 25th, and a peal in five Minor methods was rung on June 25th. It was Mr. Sydney Flint's fiftieth peal.

A peal of Double Norwich Major at Gresford, Denbighshire, on June 25th, was especially arranged as a birthday compliment to Mrs. Fletcher, of Chester, mother of Mr. William E. Fletcher, who rang the treble. Mrs. Fletcher was born at Gresford on June 25th, 1866, and was baptised in the Church of All Saints, where the peal was rung. She desires to express her thanks to all who took part in the peal.

A VETERAN RETIRES.

Mr. Thomas W. Mather has retired, after 46 years, from the Mastership of the Runcorn, Cheshire, ringers. Eight of his friends rang a peal in his honour at Runcorn Church on July 2nd.

The first peal of Bob Major on the bells of Wem, Shropshire, was rung half-muffled in memory of John Ravenscroft, who was a ringer at this church for 50 years. The peal was rung on June 26th.

The first peal in 14 methods by the Ely Diocesan Association was rung on Sunday, June 26th, at Leverington, Cambs.

Mr. Ralph Narborough, of Nottingham, rang his one hundredth peal on June 29th, when he called a peal of Bob Minor on handbells.

On the tiny little bells of St. Ebbe's Church, Oxford, where the tenor is only 4½ cwt., Mr. George Harwood, one of the local band, has twice completed the circle.

The first peal of Surprise Major to be rung for over 18 years by members all belonging to the South-Eastern Division of the Essex Association was successfully accomplished at Boreham on July 2nd. The band hope that this is a step towards raising a higher standard of ringing in this division. It was a 22nd birthday compliment to Miss Lily Green, sister of Mr. Percy Green, the conductor.

The peal in three Minor methods at Istock on Friday, June 24th, was rung in honour of the 84th birthday of John William Hopkins, the 'G.O.M.' of the local company, who has been ringing for more than 60 years, and, who, despite his 84 years, will still stand in to make up the band when required.

All the band who took part in the peal are service ringers at the church, and this is the first time a local company has rung a peal on the bells. One first peal, three first of Minor, and one first of Minor 'inside,' shows the advance that has been made since the conductor, Mr. A. E. Rowley, came to live in the village, as, up to that time, Grandsire Doubles was the limit obtained, but willingness to learn on the part of the old hands has made this progress possible.

The peal of Doubles at Harlaxton, Lincolnshire, on July 2nd, was the first peal on the bells and was rung by five members of the band at St. Wulfram's Church, Grantham, on the invitation of the Rector of Harlaxton, the Rev. A. S. Hope, who is a ringer and wishes to encourage method ringing at his church. It also gave a start to the three first pealers, who had learned the four methods on handbells.

'The ringers have really no excuse to offer for ringing this peal,' says a note attached to the report of a peal of Bristol Surprise Major at Claybrook Parva, Leicestershire. It is just as well to admit it; no one will think the worse of them for it. They evidently appreciate the Rev. W. H. R. Trewella's 'Sermonette.'

After the peal the ringers were very kindly met by the Vicar and invited to the Vicarage to partake of refreshments. The day was hot and so were the ringers, and the Vicar's kindly thought was much appreciated. Handbells were produced and quite a pleasant time was spent.

HUDDERSFIELD AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

JOINT PRACTICES TO BE HELD.

The monthly meeting of the Huddersfield and District Association was held at Marsden on Saturday, June 25th, when there was a moderate attendance of members from Lindley, Longwood, Almondbury, Sowerby, Heptonstall, Rippenden, Elland, Huddersfield, Lightcliffe and Marsden. This was the third invitation from Marsden. On the other occasions the first had to be transferred to Almondbury and the second had to be cancelled, owing to the death of the Bishop of the diocese.

On Saturday, however, the local ringers had ensured that everything should be done to make the meeting a huge success, and, despite the fact that the attendance was not up to the required standard, the meeting went with a swing, and the magnificent peal of bells was kept going in a variety of methods, with some remarkably good striking.

After a splendid tea, served by the ladies of the church, the ringers attended evensong, which was conducted by the Vicar, and they then returned to the belfry for the business meeting, which was presided over by Mr. F. Rhodes.

Mr. W. Hargreaves, of Lindley, made a proposition that a tower should be chosen in each district for a weekly joint practice, so that the members could gather regularly and practise a method, in order that at the general monthly meeting it could be rung by all, with a greater amount of efficiency and with consequently better striking.—This proposition was seconded by Mr. H. Smith, of Sowerby, and was passed without dissent.

The next meeting was arranged to be held at Heptonstall, upon the invitation of the ringers, and it is hoped that everyone will turn up to enjoy this glorious peal; indeed, an invitation is extended to everyone, who can be assured of a hearty welcome and a really good time.

The towers chosen for practice were Marsden Parish Church and All Souls' Church, Halifax. The practice nights are Wednesdays and the method Kent Treble Bob.

One new member was elected.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, the organist, the ladies who made tea and to the ringers was proposed by Mr. W. Dransfield, of Almondbury, who spoke of the very able manner in which the local ringers made the arrangements for the comfort and enjoyment of the members, and commented on the very high quality of the ringing throughout the day.

Mr. G. Briggs, of Sowerby, seconded, and Mr. S. Whitehead, of Marsden, replied. He said it had been a great pleasure to entertain the association, especially as it was the first meeting that had ever been held at Marsden. He hoped that it would not be the last.

The meeting closed and further good ringing was indulged in for the rest of the evening.

HANDBELL PEALS IN SUSSEX.

Sussex ringers have seldom been keen on handbell ringing. There have been a few peals rung in Brighton, but usually with outside help, and one recalls that excellent band built up at Henfield (40 years ago, was it?) that rang Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques—the only peal of Cinques ever rung for the Sussex Association, which has no twelve-bell tower in its area. But for the most part little handbell ringing has been done.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hairs, who used to do a great deal of handbell ringing in London, and who are now living at Burgess Hill, are making an effort to get handbell ringing going in their part of the county. The first result is a peal of Bob Major rung on July 1st.

Mr. Tom Myers, of St. Andrew's, Plymouth, a member of a well-known Devon ringing family, rang his first peal on twelve bells on Saturday, when, with other visitors, he took part in a peal of Kent Treble Bob Maximus at Croydon. Previously he had never heard a blow struck in Maximus.

In the report of the peal of Minor at Barnby Don, rung on June 6th, only six methods were mentioned. Sandal Treble Bob was also included.

The peal in seven Minor methods rung at Tuxford, Notts, in 2 hours 42 minutes, on July 2nd, was the quickest peal on the bells.

The first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus rung since March 15th, 1930, was accomplished at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, on July 2nd. A recent attempt was lost after 3 hours 40 minutes' ringing.

Mr. William Clarkson, a ringer at Goosnargh, Lancashire, reached the fine old age of 86 years on Sunday, July 3rd. On the previous day a peal of Treble Bob Minor was rung in his honour.

At Erith, on June 25th, Mr. F. J. Cullum, the well-known North Kent ringer, rang his 100th peal as conductor—a peal in four Spliced Surprise Major methods. When Mr. Cullum began his ringing career it was difficult to ring even Grandsire Doubles either at Erith or Crayford.

All the peals which he has conducted have been on eight bells with the exception of a peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal at Rochester, when a band unfortunately met one short for a 'Frederick' peal of Treble Ten. Out of Mr. Cullum's 'century,' 65 peals have been called on the bells of St. John-the-Baptist's, Erith, where Mr. Cullum has been a regular Sunday service ringer since 1915, with the exception of a year in H.M. Forces and 4½ years at sea.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH GUILD. RECTOR ADMONISHES NON-CHURCHGOERS.

The Rayner Tomb.

Over a hundred ringers gathered in Winchester on Saturday for the annual meeting of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild. Service took place in St. Maurice's Church, the Rector (the Rev. S. M. Watson) officiating. The Rector divided his address into three parts, the first of welcome, the second of admonition and the third of praise. If the first part was wholehearted, so was the second, for in speaking of the importance of prayer in our lives and the importance of it coming from the soul and not being a mere matter of words, he admonished very soundly the non-churchgoing ringer. He spoke, he said, as a man to men, and he left the cap to be worn by those whom it fitted. It was another of those attacks from the pulpit which ringers, who regularly attend meetings and the services held in connection with them, so frequently hear made upon them, but in this case the breezy manner of delivery relieved the tedium of repetition. The ringers were grateful for the meed of praise which came at the end.

Tea was served in St. Maurice's Hall, where the business meeting was held, over which the Master, Mr. G. Williams, presided, supported by Mr. F. W. Rogers (hon. secretary), Mr. W. Andrews (Winchester) and the Rev. F. S. Marle and Major J. Stilwell, district secretaries.

The Master extended a cordial welcome to the visitors and a vote of sympathy with Mr. H. J. Smith, of Wickham, in his illness and wishing him a speedy recovery was passed.

INCREASING FUNDS.

In the absence of the hon. treasurer, Mr. Andrews moved the adoption of the accounts, which, he said, showed a very satisfactory state of affairs. They were gradually accumulating funds and each district also showed a perfectly sound position.

The accounts were adopted. The treasurer's balance sheet showed that £54 3s. 2d. had been received from the districts, and, after transferring £20 to the general purposes fund, £95 17s. 3d. was left in hand, compared with £103 18s. 6d. at the beginning of the year. The general purposes fund had received £1 1s. 9d. in interest, £4 4s. from life members' subscriptions and £20 from the current account. Four grants, each of five guineas, had been made to bell restorations and £10 2s. 1d. had been expended in connection with the dedication of Winchester Cathedral bells. The balance in the fund was £41 18s. 2d. The aggregate balances of the districts had been increased from £87 16s. 7d. to £98 0s. 9d.

The Central Council representatives presented their reports on the meeting at Leeds, the Master referring to the great welcome and hospitality extended by the Yorkshire Association.

Mr. G. Pullinger briefly reviewed the business transacted at the meeting, and in regard to the proposal that the associations should put up half the cost of publishing the new Surprise Major book in return for the equivalent number of copies, suggested that the Guild should subscribe £2. With regard to promoting the circulation of 'The Ringing World,' Mr. Pullinger said there was considerable discussion, but no one had any very practical suggestions to make. The fact was the matter rested in the hands of the ringers themselves.

In supporting Mr. Pullinger's proposal that the Guild should contribute £2 towards the publication of the Surprise Major Methods book, Mr. Rogers said he would undertake to be responsible for a pound's worth of the books.

The suggestion was adopted, and Mr. Pullinger was thanked for his report.

A NEW TREASURER.

Mr. George Williams was re-elected Master and Mr. F. W. Rogers hon. secretary. The Rev. Evan Jones wrote resigning the office of hon. treasurer, and Mr. W. Barton, of Ventnor, was unanimously elected to succeed him.

Mr. R. A. Reed was re-elected recorder of peals, and Mr. G. Smith hon. auditor.

On the election of Central Council representatives, Mr. Pullinger said this was an honour that ought to go round, so that others might get the experience. He fully appreciated representing the Guild, but as one of the junior members he would be prepared to stand down.

The meeting, however, decided, without putting forward any other names, to re-elect the retiring representatives: Messrs. G. Williams, H. Barton, F. W. Rogers and G. Pullinger.

Mr. G. Pullinger proposed an amendment to Rule 3, to give the Central Council representatives a seat, ex-officio, on the Executive Committee, and to provide for only one district secretary from each district having a seat on the committee. The matter had arisen, he said, through the election of an assistant secretary in one district, who attended the committee meeting in addition to the district secretary, thus giving that district more than its share of representation. He wanted to limit the number of secretaries who could represent a district on the committee.—Mr. R. Brown seconded.

Mr. Andrews deprecated altering the rule for unlikely or remote contingencies, and in this the Master said he was inclined to agree with Mr. Andrews.

After further discussion Mr. Pullinger's motion was carried by 28 votes to 19.

In deciding upon the place for the next annual meeting, it was pointed out that the Guild was founded at Basingstoke in 1879 and

CLEVELAND AND NORTH YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION. SATISFACTORY RECOVERY.

The annual meeting of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association was held at Saltburn on Saturday, June 25th. There was a good attendance, which represented the majority of towers in the very wide and scattered area of the organisation. Tea was held in the Parochial Hall, presided over by the president (Mr. J. C. Pollard), supported by the Vicar of Saltburn (Canon F. B. Knight).

At the business meeting which followed, the president welcomed the Vicar to the meeting and proposed a hearty vote of thanks to him and to the churchwardens for the use of the bells and the Parochial Hall.

In reply, Canon Knight said it was a great pleasure to him to grant the ringers the use of the bells and to be present with them at tea. He extended a welcome to the association to what they, in Saltburn, considered to be the finest church and peal of bells in the North Riding of Yorkshire. He always had a great respect for bellringers, he said, except those who called others to worship, but never attended themselves. He hoped there was not any of that type present.

The secretary, in his report, noted an improvement during the year, but urged all members to make a greater effort still, as there was room for further improvement, especially in Sunday service ringing. He was pleased to say that almost all towers made a definite effort to get the bells rung for Sunday services, as this was the real object for which the bells were hung. He wished everyone success in their difficult task. He was very pleased to see such a good attendance at the first annual meeting to be held at Saltburn, and thanked them all for the way they had all sent notifications for tea. This was, indeed, very satisfactory, and he hoped they would keep it up.

The accounts showed a balance of £27 6s. 11d., which was £1 3s. less than a year ago, but it was, nevertheless, considered very satisfactory.

The secretary's report and balance sheet were accepted unanimously, as was also the president's report on the Central Council meeting at Leeds.

All the officers were re-elected.

In proposing a vote of thanks to them for their services, Mr. W. N. Park said that they owed a lot to their officers. The association had certainly shown good judgment in their selection. Great thanks were due, he thought, to the secretary (Mr. J. Reed) for his report and the work he had done since taking office. His report showed that he had given much thought and time to the work, and, whilst he was not too optimistic, he struck a cheerful note. That they should have such a successful meeting only two years after it was thought the Cleveland Association had passed out of existence was largely due to the efforts of their officers. The motion was carried with acclamation, and, in replying, Mr. Lancaster said as it was work in which they, as ringers, were all interested, it was a pleasure to do it.

Meetings were arranged to be held during the coming year as follows: September, Bedale; January, 1939, Middlesbrough; April, Carlton; annual meeting, 1939, Whitby.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP FOR EX-TREASURER.

would thus celebrate its diamond jubilee next year. Basingstoke was, therefore, proposed for the next meeting. So also were Southampton, Ryde (Isle of Wight) and Bournemouth.

The Master reminded the members of the tacit understanding that the annual meetings should be held alternately in the dioceses of Winchester and Portsmouth, and by a considerable majority, Ryde was chosen.

On behalf of Mr. H. P. James (Isle of Wight district secretary, who had had to leave), Mr. Pullinger told the meeting that in 1925 the Guild restored the tomb of William Rayner, a famous old Isle of Wight ringer, who died in 1823 and was buried at Arreton. The tomb now required cleaning and the lettering recutting. There was a good deal of inscription on the tomb relating to other members of the family, and to recut the whole of it would cost a prohibitive sum. Mr. Pullinger suggested that the tomb should be cleaned and the recutting limited to the inscription relating to William Rayner. He proposed the appointment of a sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. H. P. James, H. Barton and W. Upton, to go into the matter and report to the next meeting of the Executive Committee.—Mr. Andrews seconded and this was agreed to.

The Master referred to the retirement of the Rev. Evan Jones from the treasurership, which he had occupied for the last ten years. Previous to that he was hon. secretary of the Basingstoke District. The Master said he thought, in recognition of Mr. Jones' services, they should make him an honorary life member of the Guild.

Mr. Pullinger, who seconded, said Mr. Jones had worked really hard in the interests of the Guild and they should send him their best thanks for his services.—The motion was agreed to.

Mr. Pullinger gave notice that at the next annual meeting he would move an alteration to Rule 14, to limit the 'out of pocket expenses' paid by the Guild to their representatives on the Central Council to third class 'monthly' return fare and 10s. 'subsistence' allowance.

Thanks were accorded to the Rector of St. Maurice's, the organist and choir, on the motion of the Rev. F. S. Marle. Thanks to the Master and hon. secretary and to the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral were accorded, on the motion of Mr. Pullinger.

Ringing took place both in the afternoon and evening at the Cathedral and at St. Maurice's Church.

NO HELP FOR BELL 'CANNERS'*LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY'S REFUSAL.

The June meeting of the Leeds and District Society was held at the tower of St. Matthias', Burley, Leeds, on Saturday, June 25th. Houses are built very close on all four sides of this church, and so the society had its first experience of bell silencers. These are a Burley patent, made by one of the local ringers, and one must admire the charming result. A wedding, however, delayed the start of ringing.

The attendance was rather below the usual standard, but the members present were able to try out various methods, which they were not used to ringing. More ringers arrived after tea, and further touches were brought round until the business meeting was held in the tower.

Owing to the president's absence, the chair was occupied by Mr. S. H. Barron (vice-president). Members were present from Armley, Bradford Cathedral, Drighlington, Guiseley, Headingley (St. Chad's and St. Michael's), Hunslet, Idle, Leeds Parish Church, Shipley, Sherburn and the local company.

The usual vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. Barron and seconded by Mr. Dixon, Mr. Drake replying for the local company.

A letter from Sound Amplifiers, Ltd., with regard to making records for churches without bells, was read, and, after consideration, it was resolved to abide by the Central Council's decision, and to inform the writers that the society did not agree with this type of broadcasting.

The place of the next meeting should have been Drighlington, but as Drighlington could not accept the proposal date and the secretary had not been able to rearrange the July meeting, it was resolved to hold the meeting on July 23rd at Hunslet Parish Church, where a band of learners require all the assistance that can be given to them.

The society had been requested to change the date of the September meeting to September 17th in order to help solve a slight difficulty. This was agreed to and members are asked to bear this in mind.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.*CENTRAL BRANCH'S FIRST COURSE OF STEDMAN TRIPLES.

A pleasant and successful meeting of the Central Branch of the Ely Diocesan Association was held at Littleport on June 20th. Between 20 and 30 members and friends attended, but most of them came after tea. For the first time since the formation of this branch, consisting mostly of six-bell ringers, a course of Stedman Triples was rung by members. Not much, perhaps, to 'brass hats,' but to those in attendance it was a course in the right direction.

The Rev. H. N. Shelton kindly gave permission for ringing, and Mr. J. Atkins and friend welcomed the ringers on behalf of the Littleport company. A very happy afternoon and evening was spent.

HATFIELD BELLS*HERTFORDSHIRE RING OF TEN RESTORED.

The bells of St. Ethelreda's Church, Hatfield, Herts, have recently been thoroughly overhauled, restored, tuned and rehung on ball bearings by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. Hatfield has now one of the finest ten-bell peals in the country.

A service of rededication was held on Thursday, June 16th. The Rector, the Rev. M. P. G. Leonard (perhaps better known as 'Pat' Leonard) officiated and a large congregation attended. The lessons were read by two members of the Hatfield College Youths, Messrs. D. Ellingham and A. Lawrence.

During the singing of a hymn, a procession, consisting of the clergy, churchwardens, Mr. P. Taylor (member of bell founders' firm) and the local band of ringers, passed up the nave, through the choir vestry, climbed up the many tower steps leading to the bell chamber and finally came to a rather precarious perch on the frame where the bells hung, whilst the Rector said a few suitable prayers, which were relayed to the congregation in the church below by means of a loud speaker.

The procession then safely returned to their more comfortable seats in the church.

The Archdeacon of Bedford (the Ven. W. A. Robins) gave an interesting address. He mentioned the fact that the art of change ringing was born in England many generations since, and was still practically confined to English-speaking people. The ringers in the past, however, had sometimes acted as though their work was solely confined to the belfry, and did not feel that the tower was an integral part of the church. We now realised that music, whether in the belfry or nave, was part of the human act of worship of God, and there should always be seats for bellringers in church, just as much as for members of the choir.

After the service the bells were first rung in rounds by the junior members of the Hatfield Guild of College Youths.

A fair number of ringers (including some of the gentler sex) had gathered from various parts of the county, such as Bushey, Hertford, Leverstock Green, Little Munden, North Mymms and St. Albans, and afterwards took part in Kent Treble Bob, Grandsire Caters, Stedman Caters and Cambridge Royal.

GIRL CONDUCTS QUARTER-PEAL.

Miss C. Ditton, at the age of 15 years, conducted a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples at St. Andrew's Church, Hertford: Mrs. G. Gray (first quarter-peal of Triples) 1, J. Ladley 2, Miss C. Ditton (first as conductor) 3, R. Dore 4, G. Gray 5, C. Skidmore (first quarter-peal of Triples) 6, G. Freestone 7, G. Ditton 8.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The meeting of the Grimsby District of the Lincoln Guild, which was to have been held at Appleby on July 23rd, has been transferred to Elsham.

Mr. Malcolm Taylor sailed from England on Tuesday on his return to Hobart, Tasmania. When he arrived here about three years ago Mr. Taylor took up ringing in earnest in the Crayford district, where he was temporarily settled, but afterwards his business took him to many parts of the country and he was unable to follow it up.

He rang one peal and the knowledge which he gained should be of considerable help to the Hobart ringers when he gets back to Tasmania.

Mr. J. H. Shepherd, of Swindon, added another to his 'collection' of towers last Friday, when he was present at the opening of the new peal of eight bells at Liss, Hants. He cycled the 20 miles from Winchester, and back—and had to go home without measuring the tenor! His bag is, we believe, now somewhere in the region of 3,000 towers.

Mr. Frank E. Pervin, of Coventry, 'looked in' at Winchester on Saturday on the occasion of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild's annual festival. Unfortunately, he was too late for ringing and too early for tea, as he had to leave to rejoin his works party at Southsea. But his friends were glad to see him, if only for a few minutes.

CANON ELSEE MEMORIAL.

The following Lancashire towers have subscribed to the Canon Elsee Memorial: Blackburn Cathedral, Manchester Cathedral, Bolton Parish, Bolton Holy Trinity, Deane, Leigh, Walkden, Ambleside, Barrow, Kendal, Blackpool (St. John's), Woolton, Liverpool (St. Nicholas'), Garston, Mossley, Gorton, Worsley, Ashton Parish, Whittle-le-Woods, Hoghton, Middleton, Oldham (Parish), Todmorden (Unitarian), Helmsdale, Poolstock and Standish Churches.

The committee wish to remind the other towers they would like to close the fund on July 31st.

THE 'FIVE MINUTE' BELL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—At our tower we have an entirely new ring of bells, the only ones in the neighbourhood, consequently there is in their use no such thing as custom or precedent. The treble is used as five-minute bell after ringing ceases. I advocate ringing her at a usual pace or lowering and chiming her; the majority of the band, however, like to hear her 'rung fast,' i.e., they lower her to where she can just be touched at the hand-stroke and keep her at that point. I find this a little irritating. It may not be an important point, but perhaps a reader would express an opinion on the matter.

LONG SERVICE AS RINGER AND VERGER.

On Thursday, June 30th, at All Saints' Church, Lindfield, Sussex, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung as a compliment to Mr. Edmund Patching on his 68th birthday. He has been a ringer at Lindfield for 41 years and vergers for 39 years. All the ringers taking part are Sunday service ringers, and four of them scored their first quarter-peal. Moreover, it was their first attempt at Lindfield with all Lindfield ringers: *C. A. Wood 1, A. Tomsett (conductor) 2, A. Drew 3, E. Patching 4, E. Baines 5, *A. B. Drew 6, *A. Fulluck 7, *A. Hobden 8. *First quarter-peal. Rung with 7.6.8 behind.

A BACHELOR BAND.

It must be unusual to find a band of ten bachelors, all attached to one tower, capable of ringing a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters, but it is possible at Aston.

The bachelors, all of whom belong to Aston's Sunday band, rang their quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters on Sunday morning, June 26th: Leslie Pettigrew 1, Fred Price (conductor) 2, William Best 3, Ronald Shepherd 4, Alfred Allen 5, William Pettigrew 6, Geoffrey Pratt 7, Arthur Rainey 8, Percy R. Rainey 9, Albert Pettigrew 10.

A Stedman Cinques company, mostly from new material, has been raised at this tower, so that it is now possible to get Stedman Cinques for service ringing at two towers in Birmingham.

RINGS OF TWELVE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to Mr. Armiger Trollope's letter on the subject of rings of twelve bells, I agree that St. Chad's, Shrewsbury, is a musical peal, and, when heard from the Quarry or beyond the Severn in Kingsland, sound superb. The bells, however, are not so pleasant in the ringing chamber, especially when ringing has been in progress for some time.

In my opinion, the peal at St. Martin's, in the Bull Ring, Birmingham, is most pleasant to hear inside, but not so in the street, probably on account of the position of the church.

Southwark Cathedral twelve has a good claim to the premier position, I think.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—26.*FREDERICK W. ROGERS.

Among the men whom sheer ability has brought to the front rank as a conductor is Mr. Frederick W. Rogers, of Portsmouth. Attached to the tower of St. Mary's, Portsea, he has been largely instrumental in building up one of the most successful Surprise ringing centres in the South of England, and he has rendered, meanwhile, yeoman service to the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild.

He began his ringing career about the end of the Great War, and scored his first peal, which was Grandsire Triples, at St. Thomas' (now the Cathedral), Portsmouth, on June 14th, 1919, but it was nearly six years, namely, on February 28th, 1925, before he conducted a peal, calling Superlative Surprise at Soberton, Hants. It was not, however, until 1928 that he took conducting seriously, and he only called that one peal in his first hundred. Then opportunities arose, through the encouragement and facilities offered by Mr. Keith Hart, of Brighton, where Mr. Rogers was a frequent visitor, and he has gone on to no mean achievements since.

The total number of his peals is 443, of which he has conducted 153 on all numbers from six to twelve. They have been rung in 165 towers in 25 counties and for 22 associations. No fewer than 303 of his peals have been in Surprise methods, and of these he has conducted 112. He rang in the first peal on the old twelve bells at Winchester Cathedral, and his first peal of Maximus was Cambridge Surprise on the same bells in 1929. He conducted the first peals of Yorkshire, New Cambridge, Lincolnshire and Pudsey Surprise Major by the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild; also the first of Cambridge Minor for the Guild, and the first of Cambridge Major in the Isle of Wight.

He has taken part in a peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Paul's Cathedral, and he called the first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major by the Ancient Society of College Youths. There are few ten-bell towers in Hampshire, and most of his conducting on ten has been done at St. Peter's, Brighton, nearly 50 miles from his home, where he has rung no fewer than 56 peals. For the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild and the former Winchester Diocesan Guild he has rung 204 peals.

But he has served his parent society loyally in other ways. He was formerly Portsmouth District secretary and recorder of peals, and is now the general secretary. He has also represented the Guild on the Central Council since 1933.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

Circumstances arose which prevented the tea and business meeting of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association being held at Baglan on Saturday last as had been arranged. Nevertheless, the fine ring of six bells by Taylor were available during the afternoon until, at five o'clock, a case of illness close to the church prevented any further ringing. A move was then made for Aberavon, where a bountiful tea was found in readiness, kindly provided by the Vicar, churchwardens and ringers' wives.

At the business meeting which followed in the Schoolroom, presided over by the Vicar of Aberavon (the Rev. W. Herbert Jones), a cordial welcome was extended to the ringers.

Instructors' reports and the report of the representative to the Central Council meeting on Whitsun Tuesday were submitted.

Places for the next Glamorgan quarterly meeting were proposed, and by a majority it was decided to visit Merthyr. The next Monmouth quarterly meeting will be held at Trevethin, Pontypool.

A very cordial vote of thanks was accorded to all the churchworkers at Aberavon for their kindness. The eight fine bells were afterwards rung in various methods.

MR. FREDERICK W. ROGERS.

A NEW PEAL FOR HAMPSHIRE.*DEDICATION OF BELLS AT LISS.

A new peal of eight bells, with a tenor of 12 cwt. 2 qr. 16 lb. in F sharp, has been placed in St. Mary's Church, Liss, Hants, where a massive tower was completed a few years ago. The Bishop of Portsmouth dedicated the bells on Friday in the presence of a congregation that more than filled the seating accommodation.

The tower was designed by Mr. E. F. Maufe, the architect of Guildford's new Cathedral, and is of stone externally and brick internally. It is 20ft. square inside, and the bells, installed by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, hang in an English oak frame, with plenty of room all round it. The tower is at the western end of the church, and the ringing is done from a gallery. The bell frame is so arranged that all the ropes drop plumb from the wheels in an excellent circle, without any 'drawing.' There is no middle chamber, which would have obstructed the tall west windows, and in consequence there is a rather long draught of rope.

The oak belfry floor and the ceiling below are independent of any of the bell frame timbers or beams, thus giving a free air current all round the timbers, and between them is a lining of cabot quilting. The bells hang well below the louvres and the sound both inside and out is perfectly adjusted. Indeed, the whole arrangements, with one exception—a straight iron ladder from the ringing floor to the trap door leading to the bells—are a model of what a tower should be. Even in the lighting, every thought has been given to the convenience of the ringers, and in the ringing room there is a tell-tale red lamp to indicate when the light is on aloft.

The bells are a delightful peal, with 'full blooded' trebles. They are hung on cast iron headstocks with ball bearings, and there are ball bearing pulleys, and lubricators to the clapper joints. Messrs. Mears and Stainbank are to be congratulated upon having provided Liss with a highly satisfying peal of bells. They were the gift of an anonymous donor.

The dedication took place during evensong and created great interest in the village, to which ringers flocked from many neighbouring towers and from places as far away as Winchester and Swindon on the one hand to Guildford in Surrey and Crawley in Sussex on the other.

After the Bishop had dedicated the bells the Archdeacon of Manchester gave an address in which he referred to the occasion as a great and memorable event in the history of the parish. In these days, he said, there was some tendency to use the modern methods of science to imitate the ringing of bells. They were thankful that they had shared that day in the dedication of yet another peal of bells in England.

During the past three or four weeks a local band has been trained, and these young men rang rounds immediately after the dedication. After the service an opening touch of Stedman Triples was rung by a representative band of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, and subsequently a variety of touches, up to Spliced Surprise Major, was rung. Some of the visitors did not find the light going, combined with the long draught, entirely to their liking.

HALIFAX AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.*LIVERSEDGE WIN SIX-BELL CONTEST.

The annual meeting and six-bell prize contest of the Halifax and District Association was held at Low Moor on Saturday, June 25th.

Four teams entered the competition, in which they had to ring 600 changes, with a plain course for practice. They rang in the following order: 1 Liversedge, 2 Meltham, 3 New Mill, 4 Friezeland. Friezeland rang Woodbine and the other teams rang Oxford.

Tea was served in the school, to which about 30 sat down. The meeting was also held in the school, the president (Mr. E. Earnshaw) being in the chair.

The usual business was disposed of, and the balance sheet, which showed a small profit for the year, was presented.

Mr. W. Idle, of Earlsheaton, who had acted as judge, gave his decision as follows:—

Liversedge: 83 faults, 0 penalties, total 83.
Meltham: 130 faults, 0 penalties, total 130.
New Mill: 177 faults, 10 penalties, total 183.
Friezeland: 243 faults, 10 penalties, total 253.

Liversedge were, therefore, declared winners, and, in addition to the cup, each of the ringers was presented with an ornament of an Alsatian dog by Mrs. Boyes, who kindly presented the prizes in the absence of the Vicar, who was unable to be present.

DEVON BAND'S ACHIEVEMENT.

The only six-bell band in Devon that is ringing Cambridge Minor is at Brampford Speke, where the president of the Devon Guild (the Rev. E. V. Cox) is Vicar. For evensong on Sunday, July 4th, in the octave of the patronal festival, they rang 720 in the method: W. H. Key 1, W. J. Andrews 2, W. J. Baker 3, H. J. Corry 4, H. J. Rowe 5, the Rev. E. V. Cox (conductor) 6. This is the first time the extent has been rung on the bells by an entirely local band, all of whom are regular members of the congregation.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

THE USE OF GRAMOPHONE RECORDS.

The Rev. H. Drake had given notice of resolutions, arising out of the report of the Literature, Press and Broadcasting Committee. At the suggestion of the Standing Committee, he accepted some verbal amendments and accordingly moved that 'the Council adopt the following statement on the subject of gramophone records of bells and issue it in a suitable form to every Diocesan Bishop, Archdeacon and Chancellor':—

1. The ringing of church bells before divine service has never been considered a mere mechanical device, similar or in addition to a clock. It is an act of worship by a certain number of churchworkers, solemnly preparatory to further worship, and proportionate in value to the skill and care employed. It may be compared to the voluntary on the organ, and more than the latter requires thorough practice, at least once a week.

2. Records of change ringing are useful for instruction, or for broadcasting. But as they do not fulfil any of the conditions of personal ringing, they ought not to be used to commence a service of divine worship. Furthermore, they publish to the world a pretence that eight men or more are in that church, making an act of worship. Also they lend themselves to the production of effects, which to those who know something of ringing (and they are many) sound absurdly impossible. To prevent a church making itself ridiculous, records should only be manipulated by a person with a knowledge of change ringing, but if a man is really skilful enough to know what is possible, he will be wanting to ring a real bell elsewhere.

3. These objections do not apply to records of carillon music. Moreover, a musician sufficiently experienced to handle such records satisfactorily can often be found. Therefore, when permission is given for instruments using records to be installed, it should be stipulated that records of change ringing should never be heard from a church.

Mr. C. Mee seconded.

The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards proposed the omission of paragraph 3. He said he thought it would be a great mistake to put into the heads of Chancellors or Bishops or anyone else the very thought of installing carillon music in towers (hear, hear).

RINGING AS PART OF THE SERVICE.

The Rev. H. Drake said he thought they should draw the attention of the authorities of the Church to the position of ringing as an art which was part of the worship of the Church. Ringing of bells was considered by most clergy to be just some mechanical thing like the striking of a clock at the beginning of the service, but ringers and clergy who were ringers did not consider it in that way at all. They felt that they took an integral part in the service of the church when they rang before the service. Most people considered the organ voluntary as an integral part of the service, and ringers thought the same of ringing the bells before the service began. When they heard anyone preach to ringers, nine times out of ten they heard something about ringing the bells and going away from the service. He had thought this matter over very considerably and he could not agree with that position. When he was a boy the organist used to play for the first service, and, when that was over, close the organ and go. If there was a service after morning prayer, no one expected him to stop. If he did he would go and sit in another part of the church and be a member of the congregation. They all expected ringers to come to church, but not necessarily for the service for which they rang. It should not be a compulsory thing, whether it was convenient or not.

With regard to the third paragraph, Mr. Drake said they were told they were a Council concerned only with change ringing, and, therefore, ought not to interfere with carillon ringing or give any advice to the authorities of the Church about carillons. He was not a member of the Council at the beginning, so he had nothing to do with choosing the name of the Council. But they were not in name a Central Council of Change Ringers, but a Central Council of Church Bellringers. He had always thought they ought not to be called bellringers but change ringers, but as long as that was not in their name they could not exclude carillons from consideration. They were the only authority on carillon ringing; they might not know very much about it, but who else did? He thought they should tell the authorities of the Church about carillon music, but he was in a difficulty because since that resolution was sent in, in fact on the previous day, he was at the opening and blessing of the new Shrine in Walsingham. Many thousands of people came to the service. When they started from the old Parish Church they heard the bells ringing in the old way. When they came to the Shrine a carillon of bells was being rung and they heard the contrast. His colleague did not agree with him about the carillon business—neither did he agree with the architect and builder in regard to the tall slender campanile—but to him (the speaker) it was a thing of beauty. There being that beauty in it, they, as ringers, although they did not take any part in carillon music themselves, ought to allow carillons to be in the churches and look forward to the time when there would be a large tower with bells hung for ringing and a small slender tower with a carillon in the same church.

The President said they were a Central Council of Church Bellringers and that entirely barred out carillons, which were played or chimed, and not rung. He thought that difference was fundamental. He was not in the least against carillon music; it was very fine in its place, but he did not think the Council had anything to do with it.

Mr. T. Clark thought the Council would do better by trying to get existing bells put in order where it was necessary. If they could do that it would provide the bellfounders with enough work for years to come. The Council could not force the ecclesiastical authorities to take their views and they could assert no authority. Where there were towers which were not fit to carry or capable of carrying bells they could not get a parson to say, because he could not have real bells, he should have none of these other things.

Mr. S. H. Wood said in as far as Mr. Drake's proposal applied to churches where there was a choice between bells and a gramophone, he was entirely in agreement with him, but in other cases where there was no question of having a peal of bells and never would be, the Council would be going much too far to pass that resolution. If they did so, saying in effect that if they could not have bells, they would not have bell effects produced by gramophone records of good change ringing, it would be a mistake. There were four of these gramophones in Bristol and he had to admit that he was partly instrumental in getting one of them installed and he had no regrets about it. They were not in churches which had peals of bells. Neither of the churches had towers or any hope of having towers, and he thought it was all to the good that the inhabitants of this district should hear good Grandshire Caters before the services.

Mr. Trollope said he objected to the wording of the sentence that the ringing of church bells before divine service had never been considered a mere mechanical device. That was not true. Ringing for service was entirely a modern thing. Fifty or sixty years ago people, like Ellacombe and Wigram and the editor of 'Church Bells,' were using all their influence to stop what they considered the undesirable innovation of ringing before service. In the middle ages, before the Reformation, there was ringing before High Mass. After about 1540, until almost in the lifetime of some of those present, ringing, as they knew it, had, strictly speaking, nothing whatever to do with the services of the Church. It was used partly for social purposes and partly for parochial and national occasions. Prior to services only a single bell or two were used, to tell people exactly what service was to be held and when it was to be held. He thought they should consider their modern ringing before service in the same light as the organ voluntary. That was to be encouraged, but they should not go before the Church authorities and say that what had always been done.

MOTION WITHDRAWN.

Canon Marshall said it seemed to him that these resolutions were far too intricate and involved to be of use, and the speeches seemed to bear that out. He felt inclined to move that the matter be referred back to the Standing Committee for further and more careful consideration. He did not feel inclined to vote for the resolutions as they were, although he was in full sympathy with what he believed was behind them.

Mr. J. Hunt seconded Canon Marshall's suggestion.

Mr. J. C. Pollard said the Council in passing these resolutions would be telling the Church authorities what to do, and most of them knew that Church authorities would resent interference. Mr. Pollard instanced a case in his own district where there was a church with a small tower and no room for a peal of bells and the parish had only a tiny population. The Vicar wanted bells. They were up against the position whether they should advise the Vicar to have no bells or a carillon. He (Mr. Pollard) advised a carillon; it had been put in and was a wonderful success.

It was suggested that the Standing Committee be given power to act, and the Rev. H. Drake thereupon withdrew his motion on the understanding that the matter was not delayed until the next meeting.

ANCIENT PEAL BOARDS.

In their report, the Peal Boards Committee said: A great deal has been said and written about the loss sustained by the Exercise by the death on December 29th, 1937, of William Henry Hollier, and in this report we therefore mention only the work which Mr. Hollier did for our committee. He was our convener, but he was more than that. It was he who, at Shrewsbury in 1935, proposed that a record should be made of all peal records contained on tablets and boards in the church towers of the country prior to 1825 and that a committee be appointed to undertake the work.

The suggestion met with the full approval of the Council, and Mr. Hollier was placed in charge of the committee which was appointed. During the two and a half years since that date he spent much time and money in starting the collection of records. His health did not allow him to obtain details of peal boards personally, as he would have liked, but he took infinite trouble writing to members of the Exercise for details from their own towers.

We feel that we owe a duty to his memory to see that the work he initiated is continued until it is as complete as it is possible to make it.

An interval of some months elapsed before we were able to obtain all the committee papers that were in Mr. Hollier's possession, and this has somewhat delayed the progress of the work of copying and filing the records. We hope to be able to deal more fully in our report next year with the actual work done by the committee and with steps for completing that work as soon as possible. At present, however, copies of some 200 peal boards have been received and about half of them have been typewritten and filed.

We ask all members of the Exercise in general and of this Council in particular to assist us by sending us full details of all peal boards they know of which are dated not later than 1825.

FURTHER WORK FOR COUNCIL COMMITTEES.

Mr. W. G. Wilson, who moved the adoption of the report, said how deeply the committee regretted that Mr. Hollier was not there to perform the task. They missed him very much. They referred in the report to their loss and the desire that the work which Mr. Hollier started should be completed satisfactorily. But they could only do that if every member of the Exercise would help them, and in this it was up to every member of the Council to examine the remaining records and send copies to the committee.

The Rev. C. E. Wigg, who seconded, said it had been discovered that some of the records sent in had not been strictly accurate and did not contain all the particulars. He stressed that the committee wanted the precise wording on the boards. Another object of the committee was to have a record of the actual condition of each board, so that, if necessary, they could take steps to have them preserved.

The report was adopted.

BIOGRAPHIES.

Mr. J. S. Goldsmith moved the adoption of the following report of the Biographies Committee: The compilation of the biographies of past members is proceeding, but there are still many forms, sent out two years ago, that have not been returned. Forms have been circulated to the present members of the Council and are being slowly returned. The object of these forms is to obtain first-hand information for future use, when a representative ceases to be a member of the Council. The committee hope it will be easier to get this material before members leave the Council than it has proved to obtain particulars concerning past members. They, therefore, request that all members will complete the forms sent to them and return them without delay to the committee. It is particularly desired that photographs will be sent with the information. These, as far as they have been received, make an exceedingly interesting feature of the biographical collection.

Mr. Goldsmith emphasised the desire of the committee for photographs as well as the biographical details, and mentioned that one member, being without any photograph of himself, had sent his fingerprints, while another had sent a self-portrait, the outstanding features of which were a bald head, a large pipe and an empty tankard (laughter).

Mr. W. A. Cave seconded the report, which was adopted.

CIRCULATION OF 'THE RINGING WORLD.'

The question of what steps could be taken to increase the circulation of 'The Ringing World' had been before the Council on several occasions and the officers of the Council presented another interim report. This consisted of extracts from some 17 letters which had been received from members in response to a request for suggestions. In submitting the report, the President said the bulk of the letters went over old ground, which had been thoroughly discussed before. A number of them seemed to assume that 'The Ringing World' was in extremis. That, however, was not the case. One point that had been made in some of the earlier letters was that some people had been considering what would happen if, for any reason, Mr. Goldsmith found it necessary to give up 'The Ringing World,' and the suggestion had been made that the Central Council should take it over. He thought the members should know that if the Council were to take it over, it would be necessary to appoint an editor and to pay him, and that would probably cost not less than £150 a year. That was just by the way, to let the Council know what sort of proposition they might be up against. As far as the officers of the Council were concerned they really did not consider that there was very much that was helpful in the letters, but there was a possibility in one of them by which something useful might be done; that was a suggestion that ringers might be approached through the Church authorities, and the officers would like to have the Council's views upon it.

The suggestion made in this letter was to endeavour to reach every incumbent who has bells and ringers through a letter to each Archdeacon worded somewhat in the following manner: 'You will probably know that church bellringers to-day are a more active body of churchworkers than ever before. The Central Council, to which all diocesan guilds are affiliated, is very anxious indeed that interest in the art should be further increased. This is being achieved to a great extent by the circulation of a weekly publication called "The Ringing World," the Editor of which is a widely known ringer, but unfortunately the circulation is not large enough to keep the paper running in the way it is desired. A much larger circulation is urgently needed, and the members of the Council are much concerned as to how to effect the desired result. The matter has been under discussion at the last two meetings, but without any satisfactory solution.

'We should like to solicit the influence of every incumbent who has bells and ringers, but this would be too big a task for us, and we are, therefore, wondering whether we should be asking too much in asking each Archdeacon to help the cause by commending it to every incumbent in his Archdeaconry when opportunity occurs. If every incumbent would interest himself by putting the matter of "The Ringing World" to his ringers, it would be the greatest possible help, and we feel that a vast benefit would be created to the ringing Exercise, as a body of active churchworkers, by the increased circulation of "The Ringing World."

Several of the suggestions in the other letters, added the officers in their report, may be useful in the future, but for immediate needs they invite serious consideration to those shown in this letter, and would be glad to have the Council's views as to whether action on the lines indicated should be taken.

Mr. P. J. Johnson seconded the adoption of the report, and a lengthy discussion followed.

Mr. A. D. Barker said Mr. Goldsmith was with them to-day, but he might not be with them to-morrow (laughter). All this talk got them nowhere; the Council ought to do something. They were going to appeal to the associations to take up the Surprise Methods book, what about doing the same thing for 'The Ringing World,' which was much more important to them?

Mr. J. A. Trollope said they ought to realise there was a line they ought to draw. They ought to realise that 'The Ringing World,' which was of great importance to them, was, after all, the property of an individual. He did not think they ought to have a commission to inquire into the status and running of 'The Ringing World' unless they first found out whether Mr. Goldsmith wanted anything done. They ought to encourage the circulation of 'The Ringing World,' but they ought to do it as buyers of the paper and not as owners of the paper, which they were not and probably never would be.

A POOR REWARD.

The Hon. Secretary said the object before the Council was to work up the circulation, so that if Mr. Goldsmith had to give up, the paper would be a sufficiently good commercial proposition for someone to take over and continue it. The present circulation was a poor reward for the work that was put into 'The Ringing World,' when they remembered that there were 22,000 ringers affiliated through associations to the Council. He did not think there was any member of the Council who would honestly say the Council should take the paper over with its present circulation; it would be an enormous financial burden.

Mr. C. D. Potter said they could not expect all ringers to take the paper. Many of them in his part of the country could not even afford to pay their subscription to their associations.

Mr. J. Hunt said Mr. Goldsmith ought to be fully recompensed for the work he did, and few ringers probably realised how much work he put into it. 'The Ringing World' did not provide a fair return for that work. If the paper did not pay, the price should be raised. No doubt if this were done the circulation would drop; but better that than having no paper at all.

The Hon. Secretary said they were getting away from the subject in talking of finance and subsidies. The points in last year's interim report should be borne in mind: 'The Ringing World' is a privately owned venture and the Council has no control over it; the Editor is anxious for the continuance of the paper; at the present circulation it is improbable that anyone coming after would undertake the financial responsibility; the Editor regrets he is compelled to charge 3d. per copy, but is prepared to give the Exercise the first benefit which arises from an increased circulation, either by increasing the size of the paper or reducing the cost. The position, as far as he (the hon. secretary) saw it, was that if they could increase the circulation sufficiently they would get either a larger paper or the price would be put down to 2d.; thus by getting a larger circulation they would be helping themselves, but either course was out of the question at the present time. Mr. Goldsmith was not grumbling at what he got out of it, what was required was an effort that would secure the future of the paper after he had given up.

RINGERS' LACK OF INTEREST.

Mr. A. H. Pulling doubted if they could tell Mr. Goldsmith anything that he did not already know about increasing the circulation, seeing that he had been in the business all his life. He wondered what some of the other people in that Council would think if a lot of amateurs attempted to teach them their business. Mr. Pulling thought the circulation was more or less as high as they could expect it to reach. The majority of ringers were just Sunday service ringers, and the doings of others outside their own tower made little appeal to them. They were not sufficiently interested to want to read about it. They had no interest in the scientific side of ringing. Peal ringing was purely a hobby and peal ringers took 'The Ringing World' for the sake of their hobby.

Mr. Harris said he was not in favour of subsidies from associations, some would perhaps willingly agree, but others had not the funds. He suggested that something might be done by taking up shares, if later on it was necessary to provide financial help. Mr. Harris urged those who bought the paper not to hand it round to others, but let them buy it themselves. They would be in a sorry position in the Exercise without 'The Ringing World' and every man should buy his own copy. In his own twelve-bell tower they took 18 copies. He did not claim that as a record, but it was an example for all, and, by gum,' concluded Mr. Harris, 'some of them want some examples' (laughter).

Mr. S. F. Palmer said it was their duty to get 'The Ringing World' into the hands of every ringer, and his suggestion, this year as last, was that the Council should take it up with the affiliated associations and guilds and ask them to circularise their towers and ascertain what guarantee would be given for increased sale if the price of the paper was reduced. Ringers admitted that the paper was helpful to the Exercise, but there were a great many of the poorer ringers who would not pay 3d. per week. He thought an appeal on the lines he suggested would do good.

Mr. L. J. Williams said in Lancashire people had a different outlook. They had done their best to improve the circulation of the paper in that county, but he was afraid there was so little interest among many of the members that even if they gave them the paper they would not trouble to read it. He had brought the matter up at meetings and discussed it; and there were the two old suggestions of increasing the size and reducing the price. People wanted their cake and their penny too. The associations would be the losers if the paper was not carried on; it was a great help to them and they should finance it. What they should do was to create a new interest and get enthusiastic young ringers and get them to take it. The old ringers were too apathetic.

TRYING TO REACH RINGERS.

Mr. P. J. Johnson did not think either raising or reducing the price would have much effect on the circulation, while as for the suggestion that associations should finance the paper, did they think associations were the Bank of England? As to reaching ringers through tower secretaries, he said secretaries were only too painfully aware of the difficulty of getting their own subscriptions. The suggestion in the letter before the Council had not yet been tried, and it might be tried. They certainly would not lose anything, and it might be the means of stirring up some interest. He felt the deepest sympathy with Mr. Goldsmith in these discussions. He must feel every year in the position of having an operation performed on him (laughter).

Mr. S. H. Wood said it had been rather assumed that if the price of the paper were reduced to 2d. there would be an enormous increase in the circulation. He did not believe there would be any significant increase, neither did he believe if the price were increased to 4d. there would be any big drop. There were only a certain number of people sufficiently interested to buy the paper. At the same time that was no reason why they should not take every step in their power to increase the circulation as far as they could. He proposed that the suggestion contained in the letter be put into effect.

Mr. T. Clark seconded.

Mr. J. W. Jones said in his area he had pressed the importance of increasing the sale of 'The Ringing World' at every meeting held during the last year and had appealed to members to give it their support. The result, he was sorry to say, was that they were very much in the same position and the sale had increased very little. He agreed with what Mr. Pulling said that it was only those who were absolutely interested in ringing who took the paper. He knew the secretary of an association represented there that day who had the sauce to send up pearls for publication and did not even buy a copy of the paper himself ('Shame').

The report was adopted, and the motion, proposed by Mr. Wood, was carried.

The President said when those of the members who were secretaries went to a branch meeting they might ask those who took 'The Ringing World' to put up their hands. They would find it was rather illuminating.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.*HANDBELLS AT RINGERS' SERVICE.

A most enjoyable meeting of the Eastern Division of the Yorkshire Association was held at Market Weighton, at the invitation of the Vicar (the Rev. D. Graham-Evans) and the local ringers, on Saturday, June 25th.

Evensong, fully choral, was conducted by the Vicar, who gave the address, and after the hymn, 'Ring out, wild bells,' had been sung, a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by Messrs. A. H. Fox, F. W. Dale, D. Meadley and J. W. Hobson.

Tea was most generously provided by the local ringers, about 40 sitting down to an excellent meal.

The business meeting followed in the Church Hall, under the chairmanship of the Vicar. The secretary spoke of the lamentable death of Mr. A. E. West, of Sutton-on-Hull, a former vice-president of the association and a member of the General Committee up to the time of his death. The company stood in silence to his memory.

Five new members were elected: Mrs. C. Hill, of Goole, Messrs. J. F. Kneeshaw and H. T. Musk, of Market Weighton, F. Wilkinson, of Nunburnholme, and E. Brittain, of Burton-on-Stather, Lincolnshire.

An invitation to hold the next meeting at Sutton-on-Hull was extended to the association by Mr. L. Rodmell, on behalf of the Vicar of Sutton, and the offer was unanimously accepted.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar, organist and choir was proposed by Mr. H. S. Morley and seconded by Mr. A. H. Fox. The Vicar, in reply, welcomed the association to Market Weighton and hoped another visit would be paid there soon.

A vote of thanks to the local company was responded to by Mr. J. W. Kneeshaw.

A collection for the fund for the restoration of Market Weighton bells realised £1 6s.

MUFFLED BELLS.

As a last tribute to an old member, Mr. Edward Raddon, S. Nicolas' Society, Guildford, rang a muffled quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters (1,259 changes) on June 29th after the funeral: E. G. Heath 1, H. Mason 2, S. Radford 3, E. Etheridge 4, F. Radford 5, G. Tomsett 6, S. Breeze 7, C. Hazelden 8, S. Elton (conductor) 9, R. Radford 10.

FOUR SOCIETIES MEET AT BARNSELY.*YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION ELECTS NEW DIVISIONAL SECRETARY.

By the kind invitation of the Rev. Canon W. E. Wilkinson, Rector of Barnsley, the quarterly meeting of the Southern Division of the Yorkshire Association was held, in conjunction with the Barnsley, Sheffield and Doncaster Societies, at Barnsley on Saturday, June 18th, when members were present from Sheffield Cathedral, St. Marie's, Ranmoor, Cawthorne, Felkirk, Arksey, Wath-on-Deane, Sandal, Earlsheaton, Doncaster, Wortley, Rawmarsh and the local company.

Touches in plain and various Surprise methods were indulged in, and a short service was held, conducted by the curate of Barnsley, in the unavoidable absence of the Rector.

Tea was served in the new Rectory Room, at which Mrs. Wilkinson and other ladies kindly administered to the creature comforts of those assembled.

The business meeting of the Yorkshire Association took place in the same room immediately after tea, at which the Rector, who had by this time been able to join the assembly, presided.

Before the business actually commenced, Mr. George Lewis (vice-president) paid a tribute of respect to the memories of Mr. F. Clark, of Doncaster, late divisional secretary of the Southern Division, and Mr. Sam Hemingfield, of Ecclesfield, both of whom had passed away since the last meeting, and the members stood in silence to express their sympathy.

By the death of Mr. Clark, the Yorkshire Association had lost one of its staunchest members, whose devotion to duty, together with an earnestness of purpose in all that he did during the past 17 years as divisional secretary, earned for him the deepest respect from all the members.

Mr. Sam Hemingfield was one of the oldest members of the association, having joined in 1885. He was one of the 'old school,' in which the number of methods rung was not the principal object, but good striking was the real purpose. Unfortunately, Mr. Hemingfield had been infirm and totally blind for a number of years.

Five new members were elected, viz.: Frank Vallance, Arksey; Lewis Steel, Wath; Allan Harding, Adwick-le-Street; Benjamin Birkett, Arksey; and Thomas Cullingworth, R.A.F., Manston, Ramsgate (out county member).

Two nominations were received for the vacant office of divisional secretary, namely, Messrs. John J. L. Gilbert, of Handsworth, and W. E. Lloyd, of Doncaster, and on a show of hands, by consent, Mr. Gilbert was declared elected to that office.

As Mr. Gilbert already held a seat on the General Committee, Mr. Daniel Smith, of Felkirk, was duly elected to fill that vacancy.

By the kind invitation of the Rawmarsh company, the next meeting will take place there in September.

In responding to a hearty vote of thanks proposed by Mr. Lewis to the Rector for presiding, for the use of the bells and the Rectory Room, Canon Wilkinson said how pleased he was to welcome that joint meeting for the first time since he had been appointed Rector of Barnsley. He greatly appreciated all that ringers were doing for the service of the church, and expressed a wish that he would soon have the honour of a 'repeat' visit.

Further votes of thanks to the ladies for their kindness at the tea table, the curate for his excellent address, and to the local company for having everything in readiness, brought the business to a close.

Owing to the enforced absence of Mr. C. D. Potter, the 'G.O.M.' of Barnsley, who was sojourning at St. Anne's-on-Sea by order of his medical attendant to try to enable him to make good headway into his second period of 'three score years and ten,' the local arrangements were carried out with much credit by Mr. D. Smith, to whom all are indebted for the success of the meeting.

Although Mr. Potter was absent in the flesh, he was very much in evidence in the 'spirit,' and all wished him a speedy return in the best of health. S. F. P.

WELCOME TO IRELAND'S NEW PRIMATE.

On Sunday, June 26th, at St. George's Church, Dublin, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung to welcome the new Primate of All Ireland, Dr. Day, who was installed on the 24th inst., and who preached for evening service: *H. W. Jones 1, William Farrell 2, J. A. Atkinson 3, T. McMorran 4, F. E. Dukes 5, G. Lindoff (conductor) 6, *O. H. Jones 7, *W. Hall 8. * First quarter-peal.

LATE NOTICE.

WARWICKSHIRE GUILD.—The July quarterly meeting will be held at Monk's Kirby, near Rugby, on Saturday, July 16th. Bells (8) available during afternoon and evening. Tea at Denbigh Arms at a moderate charge, followed by business meeting.—D. E. Beamish, Gen. Hon. Sec., 21, Gipsy Lane, Nuneaton.

ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD SOCIETY.*BISHOP'S WELCOME AT LICHFIELD.

The annual meeting of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford was held at Lichfield on June 25th in very favourable weather and about 80 were present. The bells of St. Mary's and St. Michael's Churches were made good use of during the afternoon and evening, and those at the Cathedral for one hour in the evening.

A splendid tea was served in St. Mary's Parish Hall, and while this was in progress the Lord Bishop of Lichfield (Dr. Woods) and Mrs. Woods arrived. His lordship made some encouraging remarks and said how delighted he was to hear the sound of bells. Before his departure he expressed the hope that the company would spend a happy evening.

When tea was finished, the general meeting took place, with the president, the Ven. Archdeacon Hodson, in the chair. The report and balance sheet were read and confirmed and ordered to be printed.

The committee, in their report, reviewed the meetings held during the year, and said that as a result of a practice meeting at All Saints', West Bromwich, it was hoped several new members would soon be enrolled from that tower. At the practice at Penkridge there were 16 present, but it was disappointing that none of the local band attended, especially as these meetings were primarily arranged for missionary work. During the year twelve new ringing members and five life members were elected. The number of peals rung during the year was 30—three more than last year—the conducting of which was shared by 14 members. Peals in Surprise methods were conspicuous by their absence. Regret was expressed at the loss, through death, of the following members: Mr. Fred H. Troth, of Christ Church, West Bromwich; Mr. John Evans, of Beckbury; Mr. Charles Draper, of Duffield; and Mr. G. Walker, of Birmingham.

The accounts showed a deficit of 15s. on the year's working.

The hon. clerical secretary and treasurer, the Rev. C. H. Barker, L.Th.; hon. lay secretary, Mr. H. Knight; Ringing Master, Mr. B. G. Key; hon. auditor, Mr. W. H. Evans; the committee (elected according to Rule 6), Messrs. W. W. Worthington and R. Pickering; and the Central Council representatives, Messrs. B. Horton and H. Knight, were all re-elected.

The places chosen for the forthcoming meetings were Shenstone, September; Bilston, January; Cannock, April; and Lichfield for the annual meeting in June.

Messrs. B. Horton and H. Knight gave a brief outline of the business transacted at the Central Council meeting at Leeds.

A design of the projected memorial to the late Mr. George Hughes was produced. It is to be in the form of a bronze tablet, with lettering in enamel, and placed in the belfry at Wednesbury, where the deceased had rung for so many years. The unveiling ceremony will take place in October, after the belfry has been redecorated. More than sufficient money has been subscribed for this purpose, and it was agreed that the balance should be put towards the cost of a peal board recording a half-muffled peal rung to his memory.

A welcome was given by the chairman to Mr. William Treadgold, one of the original members of the society, who produced a card of membership dated June 30th, 1883. Mr. Treadgold, who until recently had been out of the district for a number of years, in reply, gave some interesting details of the origin of the society and of its founders.

A vote of thanks was moved by the Archdeacon to Mrs. Cresswell for catering, to Mr. W. H. Evans for auditing the accounts, and lastly—amidst laughter—to himself for conducting the business of the meeting. This was received with a good round of applause.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

MUFFLING OF BELLS.

The diversity of opinion as to the correct way of muffling bells, which came into prominence in ringing circles on the occasion of the death of King George V., led to the Central Council being asked to give some guidance on this subject. The question was referred to the officers of the Council, who have since been seeking information as to local customs. They have been supplied with details of existing practice in many places, and their final report is now to be drafted with a view to submitting it to Church authorities, so that, when the occasion next arises for the general muffling of bells those responsible may have something authoritative to which to turn. The real point at issue has been between half-muffling and full muffling, and, in a measure, the use of an open back stroke on the tenor when both sides of the other bells are muffled.

For ordinary occasions half-muffled bells seem to be the most usual way of signalling a death, but for the higher dignitaries of the Church and for a member of the royal family, as also, in some cases, for a humble ringer, the bells at some churches are fully muffled when rung on any occasion before the funeral. Without knowing exactly what the report to be issued to Church authorities will contain, the consensus of opinion in the Council is unquestionably that the most effective form of ringing on occasions of mourning is with the bells half-muffled at back stroke. There is good reason for not ringing fully muffled. To the public, the only effect is that the sound of the bells has been entirely reduced in volume, without the significance of the change being brought home to them. As well merely block up the louvres. If fully muffled ringing is employed immediately before a funeral service, the open back stroke of the tenor may give the necessary emphasis of mourning. Not only, however, from the ringers' standpoint, but out of consideration of the public, the monotony of this form of ringing ought never to be employed in a peal.

There are, in some places, interesting local customs that will and ought to be preserved, although it should not be forgotten that muffled ringing is a comparatively modern introduction and, in its origin, was only used upon the death of a ringer. The age-long custom for notifying death, whether of king, peer or commoner, was the tolling of a bell, and that, of course, is still observed. Muffled ringing has not displaced the traditional 'knell,' it merely supplements it; but it has become a form of expressing national or local sorrow which is now accepted throughout the country as widely as is the pealing of bells on occasions of joy and celebration.

Late of BERMONDSEY and PECKHAM.

Makes to St. Paul's Cathedral, Westminster Abbey, Imperial Institute, Canterbury, Edinburgh, St. Albans, Lincoln, Durham, Peterborough, Melbourne (Australia), Rochester, Dublin, St. Patrick's, Manchester, Durban and Worcester Cathedrals, etc., etc.

Mufflers, Ringing Mats, Matting, Flag Lines, etc., etc.

There is one point which should not be overlooked. In many places, especially in connection with the death of a ringer, it is the practice to ring the bells half-muffled for the services on the Sunday following. This custom, however well intentioned, is one that should not be encouraged. Sunday service ringing is purely associated with the activities of the Church; Sunday is a festival, and half-muffled bells are out of place, except before or after a funeral or memorial service. We think that, even on the score of 'local custom,' muffled ringing for Sunday services cannot be justified.

FINE RINGING IN SHIELD CONTEST.

The annual shield contest was held at Horbury on Saturday, July 9th, when nine bands competed. The 'test piece' was 600 changes in an 'w' method. Mr. A. Nash, of Rotherham, and Mr. W. Idle, of Earlsheaton, were the judges. The order of ringing and the result was as follows:—

	Faults	Penalties	Total
1. Shelly ... ..	79	10	89
2. Friezland ... ..	52	0	52
3. Holmfirth ... ..	43	5	48
4. Sandal ... ..	31	0	31
5. Liversedge ... ..	29	0	29
6. Wath ... ..	56	10	66
7. New Mill ... ..	47	0	47
8. Penistone ... ..	74	10	84
9. Cawthorne ... ..	57	0	57

A very high standard of ringing was reached, and Liversedge, with only 29 faults, were the winners, and Sandal, two points behind, second.

Mr. Rowley, chairman of the Urban District Council, presented the shield and six salad bowls to Liversedge team, and six cases of fruit servers to Sandal. Liversedge rang Killamarsh, Wath rang Burton, Cawthorne rang Kent and the remainder rang Oxford. It was an extremely good contest, and it was very pleasing that all the bands rang through.

Wragby was chosen for the next meeting on August 14th. After the usual business, Mr. C. D. Potter moved the best thanks to all for such a successful gathering, to which Mr. R. Thickett and Mr. H. Pickles replied. This brought to a close a very happy day.

PEAL NOTES.

AN OLD GLOUCESTER SOCIETY.

The Founders' Day celebrations at St. Mary de Crypt Church, Gloucester, were marked by a peal of Stedman Triples, rung on June 30th by members of the Ancient Society of Crypt Youths.

The Crypt Youths were a flourishing society in Gloucester in the early part of last century, and tablets in the tower record a peal of Grandsire Triples in 1810, peals of Bob Major in 1815, of New Treble Bob Major (i.e., Kent Treble Bob) in 1828 and 1829, and of other peals of Grandsire Triples in 1856. James Ingram and Thomas Handy, who rang in the 1815 peals, also took part in peals of Grandsire in 1856.

In the ringing room at St. Mary de Crypt Church is a chandelier inscribed 'God preserve the Crypt Youths.'

One more of the plain Major methods in the Central Council's collection was rung for the first time to a peal on July 6th at St. Mary's, Staines. It was Ashbourne College Bob—and no one objected to the name, which had been given to the method by the Methods Committee when they published the book.

The method has a series of three fifth's places made in the middle of the lead, and Bob Major is rung when the treble is at the other end. One wit said the diagram, when turned on its side, looked like the roof of a house with a lot of chimney pots, some with crows on.

For the 22nd birthday of Mr. E. F. Salmons, a Hereford Diocesan Guild peal of Bob Minor was rung at Staunton-on-Arrow on July 3rd.

A peal of Bob Major at Tickhill, Yorkshire, on July 2nd, was specially rung as a thanksgiving for the recovery from serious illness of Mrs. Wagstaff, wife of Mr. Harold Wagstaff, one of the ringers.

A peal of Superlative Surprise rung at Hillingdon, Middlesex, on July 2nd, was the one hundredth peal which Mr. J. A. Trollope and Mr. Ernest Turner had rung together.

A week later Mr. Turner rang his fiftieth peal with Mr. George Kilby, when he called a peal of Spliced Surprise Major in the four methods Bristol, London, Superlative and Cambridge. The composition, by Mr. J. Topp, is the first to be rung in these four methods containing more Bristol than London. Of the 5,056 changes, 2,016 were Bristol and only 1,920 London. Here are the figures, which, in their extent, run to 5,440.

23456	M	W	R	Methods
26354	—	—	2	B B C L B
36452	—	—	3	L C L B B
24653	—	—	—	L C L
65243	3	—	—	L B B C L
32546	—	3	—	L C B B L
64523	—	—	—	L C B B

Four times repeated. C=Cambridge or Superlative.

The peal is reduced to 5,056 by omitting three bobs and two leads of Bristol six times.

Mr. H. J. Tucker, who rang in the peal of London Surprise at Chichester Cathedral on July 6th, will be 80 years of age in August. He joined the College Youths 60 years ago, having been made a member in 1878.

Canon Bower, who has been Rector of Child Okeford, Dorset, for 30 years, has just retired from the ministry. As a farewell to him, a peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung on July 2nd—the first peal on the bells of the church he served so long and so faithfully.

Not many peals of Double Oxford Bob Major are rung, but a band of the Norwich Diocesan Association scored one—the first by all the company—at Alburgh, Norfolk, on July 9th.

A peal of Stedman Triples at Pinner, Middlesex, on July 9th, was a 'coming of age' compliment to Mr. F. Bedford, a ringer at St. Margaret's, Uxbridge.

Another 'birthday' peal of Stedman, on the same day, was that at Bexley, Kent. It was a compliment to Mrs. M. Cross, mother of Mr. G. H. Cross, Master of the Royal Cumberland Youths.

Mr. Donald Boreham, of High Wycombe, has 'completed the circle' in peals at Hughenden, Bucks. He rounded off the performance with a peal of Double Norwich Major on the fourth bell on July 9th.

The brothers John and William Buckenham, of Marsham, have now rung 50 peals together. They reached this total with a peal of Double Norwich Major at Swaffham, Norfolk, on July 7th.

Six of the Sunday service ringers at St. Giles', Oxford, rang a peal of Grandsire Triples on June 30th. Two rang their first peal, two their first of Grandsire and one his first of Triples. It was the first peal of Grandsire Triples on the bells.

The 22nd anniversary of the Battle of the Somme was commemorated at Handsworth, Yorkshire, by a half-muffled peal of Bob Major on July 1st.

Mr. Peter Crook, of Bolton, spending a holiday in Cornwall, called a peal of Grandsire Triples at St. Enoder on July 1st.

The Rev. Frank Bonner's birthday was celebrated at Norbury (Hazel Grove), Cheshire, on July 2nd, by a peal of London Surprise. After the peal, in which he took part, he kindly provided refreshments for the ringers.

RINGING COMPETITIONS.

DEVON GUILD'S ATTITUDE.

Question of Union With Rival Organisation.

Ringers in Devonshire have long been divided into two rival organisations. The Devon Guild has always been strongly opposed to competitive ringing, while the Devonshire Association (equally well supported by the clergy and churchpeople) has encouraged it. The president of the Devon Guild (the Rev. E. V. Cox) made a reference to this at the annual meeting at Whitsun, and expressed the hope that the Guild and the association might unite by eliminating the rule which at present formed a barrier to the amalgamation. This rule says that no member of the Devon Guild shall take part in any competitive ringing.

Presiding at a quarterly meeting of the North-East Branch of the Devon Guild at Upplowman on July 2nd, the Rev. F. Carter (chairman of the district) referred to the president's remarks. He asked the members to consider it as regards the question of encouraging good ringing and at the same time retaining the standard of good striking. The question was one which had to be borne in mind by members at their quarterly meetings.

The meeting was attended by about 50 members. The towers represented were Upplowman, Huntsham, Burliscombe, Calverley, Tiverton (St. Peter's), Washfield, Silvertown and Stoodleigh. Visitors included the Rev. J. M. Turner (Washfield), Messrs. A. W. Searle (Exeter), C. Lilley and J. E. Lilley (Newton Abbot) and F. V. Voysey (Washfield). Service was conducted by the Rev. F. Carter, in the absence of the Rector (the Rev. A. T. Law) through illness. An inspiring address was based upon the Guild's Belfry Prayer.

At the business meeting, which followed tea, the Rev. F. Carter proposed the usual comprehensive vote of thanks, and extended the sympathy of the members to the Rector, with their hope for his speedy recovery.

The chairman welcomed two new members to the Guild, Misses E. M. Dean and M. A. Lutley, from Ingleside School. They were also presented with certificates of proficiency.

The Rev. J. M. Turner was elected an honorary member.

The Chairman read a detailed account from Mr. T. Laver (general secretary of the Guild) on the meeting of the Central Council at Leeds.

A number of girl ringers from Ingleside School were present, and, in addition to showing a high degree of skill on the church bells, rang handbell tunes after the meeting.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT BOTTESFORD.

Situated amid glorious scenery of the Belvoir country, on the borders of Leicestershire and Lincolnshire, Bottesford was the venue of the quarterly meeting of the Midland Counties Association. Famous for its many monuments to past Dukes of Rutland, the magnificent Parish Church, whose chancel is like a miniature Westminster Abbey, has a fine ring of eight bells which go well and are rung from a light and airy belfry. Good use was made of the opportunity to ring here, by friends and visitors from each district of the association, viz., Burton, Chesterfield, Derby, Hinckley, Leicester, Loughborough and Nottingham, as well as several out-county members from further afield. Various touches from Grandsire to London Surprise were rung.

The committee met and carried out their usual routine work, and it was announced that two complete sets of the association's annual reports from 1882 to 1937 were now bound in volumes, also that the association handbells were now provided with a leather carrying bag and were available for use at that meeting. Grants were made from the association funds towards the memorials to the late Canon Elsee and the late Mr. J. J. Parker.

Between 30 and 40 members and friends sat down to a meat tea, following which the general business was carried through. The vice-president (Mr. John Oldham) took the chair, and was supported by Mr. W. E. White (hon. treasurer) and Mr. Ernest Morris (general secretary). The Chairman said how pleased he was to see such a good number of ringers and friends present at that somewhat out of the way village, and remarked it was specially delightful to see the celebrated 'Sergeant-Major' from Leicester—an unexpected pleasure at a quarterly meeting! He stated that he felt highly honoured to be chosen for the position of vice-president of the association and assured the members of his wholehearted interest in their work. One incident of the past quarter he regretted, and that was the passing of Mr. W. Smith, a stalwart of the Burton-on-Trent band, and a long-standing member of the association. He called upon those present to stand in silence for a moment to his memory.

A number of new members, ringing, honorary and life, were duly elected. A resolution rescinding a previous minute was passed, that the association handbells should in future be held in the general hon. secretary's keeping, and brought to every general meeting of the association. They could be loaned out by the secretary to any responsible person for use when desired.

Mr. A. J. Harris and Mr. J. H. Swinfield both gave their impressions of the Central Council meeting at Leeds on Whit Tuesday, and they were sincerely thanked by the members present. Members and friends then adjourned to the church for further tower-bell ringing, while a few stayed behind to ring handbells.

The next quarterly meeting will be held at Wirksworth in September.

GUILDFORD GUILD SUMMER FESTIVAL.

VISIT TO FARNHAM.

Blind Ringer Turns Tenor In To Cambridge.

The summer festival of the Guildford Diocesan Guild on Saturday attracted nearly a hundred ringers and their friends to the ancient town of Farnham, which for 800 years was the home of successive Bishops of Winchester. The weather was not too kindly, it was cold, with some rain, and anything but summery. Nevertheless, the event was entirely successful. There was a very hearty welcome, a variety of ringing of sorts, a stirring service with a practical address by the Vicar (Canon E. M. Girling), and after tea a 'conducted' tour to Farnham Castle, as the Bishop's home, with its Norman keep, is called. Part of it is now the official residence of the Bishop of Guildford, part is a Retreat House and the rest of the commanding pile is used for other diocesan purposes. Canon Girling was the guide, and even those who had made previous visits learned a good deal more about the history of the ancient building.

Both in the afternoon and evening the spacious belfry of Farnham Parish Church was filled with ringers, and the ringing, good, had and indifferent, ranged from rounds to Bristol Surprise.

Among those who took part were Mr. Sheppard Walwyn, of Oxford University Society. Despite the handicap of complete blindness, Mr. Sheppard Walwyn learned to ring while at Oxford, and on Saturday he took part in a number of touches. He actually rang the tenor to an attempt for Cambridge Major, and it was not his fault that the course was not completed. He rings, of course, entirely by ear and counting his places, and his remarkable achievement is a triumph over one of life's most staggering misfortunes. Farnham tenor is a man's job anyway. The bell is over a ton and sluggish, while it is rung from a narrow platform against a wall, but while the rest kept going Mr. Sheppard Walwyn seemed to have no difficulty in putting the bell in its place.

THE PROBLEM OF BLOXHAM'S BELLS.

OXFORD GUILD REVIVES INTEREST.

The annual meetings of the Banbury Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild always serve as an encouragement to those whose task it is to further the branch's work, and last Saturday's annual meeting at Deddington was no exception, even though the weather was inclement. The peal of six, tenor 17 cwt., was in good demand before service. For the latter, a revised form was used, and many favourable comments were made on the singing and chanting of this village choir. It was pleasing to see so many clergy present, especially in view of the many demands on their time in these days. The Rural Dean, who is president of the branch, shared in conducting the service with the Vicar of Deddington, and the preacher was the Rev. B. R. Buchanan, Vicar of Bloxham.

After a very ample tea, the business meeting was held, with the president in the chair, and once again the secretary's report and statement of accounts showed a favourable position, both financially and as regards progress in ringing.

The officers were all re-elected with acclamation and without hesitation, always a sure sign of the confidence placed in them. Several new members were elected, including two from Deddington, who are quite the youngest of the branch, being two out of a number of choir-boy ringers who will, it is hoped, all be elected as their progress warrants it.

The routine business having been disposed of, the Rev. C. E. Wigg, Deputy Master of the Guild, spoke of his pleasure at being present, and referred to the J. J. Parker Memorial Fund. Towards this a grant of two guineas was made.

Mr. R. T. Hibbert, general secretary, had also a word of encouragement, and then raised a matter which is often in the minds of branch members, namely, the question of Bloxham bells. Bloxham has a tall, slender spire of great architectural interest, and a noble ring of eight bells, with a tenor of between 25 and 30 cwt. Of recent years, only the front six have been rung, and these very seldom, on account of feared damage to the spire and the incorrect hanging of the two tenors. Mr. Hibbert expressed the hope that a move would one day be made to get this job done. He realised it was a big task, but, he said, Englishmen had done big tasks in the past.

In reply, Mr. Buchanan stated that he had been told the cost would be about £1,000, and he did not feel he could saddle his parishioners with the responsibility of finding such a sum.

Mr. Hibbert was quick to point out that the work could be well carried out for under half this sum, and Mr. Buchanan promised that the matter should be raised. This was encouraging, for there are only two rings of eight in the branch, and the reopening of Bloxham would be a fine addition.

Following the usual vote of thanks, the members adjourned for more ringing at Deddington, while others went on to Aynho and King's Sutton, two musical eighties in the extreme corner of the Peterborough Diocese. The methods rung during the day did not advance beyond Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Triples, and Plain Bob up to Major, but there were some well-struck touches. Many branch towers were represented, and there were a large number of visitors, including old friends and new, to all of whom the members extend a hearty invitation to come again.

CUMBERLAND YOUTHS AT READING.*SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

The Society of Royal Cumberland Youths held a very successful summer meeting at Reading on July 2nd, about 50 members and friends turning up to take part in ringing during the afternoon on the eight (tenor 15 cwt.) at St. Giles' and the twelve (tenor 24 cwt.) at St. Laurence's. Methods were rung to suit all shades of taste and ability, including 'two' leads of Treble Bob at St. Giles'.

A short service was conducted by the Rev. Arthur Keeble in St. Laurence's Church, and tea followed at the Talbot Cafe, Queen Victoria Street.

Following tea a business meeting was held, the Master (Mr. G. H. Cross) taking the chair. The secretary (Mr. N. Summerhayes) read a letter of welcome to Reading received from the hon. secretary of the Reading Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild. The letter expressed regret that both the chairman and the writer would be on holiday on the day of the meeting, but the branch hoped that arrangements made would prove satisfactory and that the society would have such a good time that they would want to come again.

The ratification of membership of L.-Cpl. P. H. Tocock prior to a peal of Bob Major at Burnham on April 8th was agreed to, and the following new members were elected: Mrs. F. W. Housden (London), Mr. Wilfred Gowing (Farnham Royal) and Mr. Leslie Samuels (Burnham).

Mr. W. H. Fussell (Slough) proposed a hearty vote of thanks to all who had assisted in making the arrangements, thanking particularly the Rev. Arthur Keeble for his welcome to the society and for conducting their service.—This was seconded by Mr. A. H. Pulling (Guildford), who made reference to the fact that they had the pleasure of the company of two members of the Ancient Society of College Youths, Messrs. R. T. Hibbert and R. Fowler, both of whom, together with the Rev. Keeble, made suitable response.

Further ringing took place during the evening on the superb eight (tenor 28 cwt.) at St. Mary's, and on the eight (tenor 15 cwt.) at Caversham, a thoroughly enjoyable meeting being brought to a close at 9 o'clock.

CONDUCTOR AT FOURTEEN.

At Anstey, Leicestershire, on Sunday, July 3rd, on the occasion of the Sunday School anniversary, for morning service, Thurstan's quarter-peal of Stedman Triples: H. B. Bowley (first quarter-peal in the method) 1, T. Isom 2, A. Disney 3, J. E. Adams 4, G. E. Bowler 5, R. F. Elkington 6, J. T. Smith (conductor) 7, R. S. W. Smith 8. It was the conductor's first attempt to call a quarter-peal. He is just 14 years of age.

WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION.*NORTHERN BRANCH ENTERTAINED AT BROMSGROVE.

The Northern Branch of the Worcestershire Association held its summer meeting at Bromsgrove on June 18th, when about 45 members and friends attended. The drop in attendance was probably due to a very heavy storm which occurred at midday.

During the afternoon and evening some useful practice was put in on the ring of ten bells in the Parish Church, methods rung including Grandsire and Stedman Caters, with courses of Plain Bob and Cambridge Surprise Royal. The bells are a peal of ten with tenor 18 cwt. in E flat. They are, however, rather a mixed lot in tone as well as age. The treble and second were cast in 1816 with the seventh by Mears, the fifth in 1701 by A. Rudhall, and the 3rd, 4th, 6th, 8th and tenor in 1773 by T. Rudhall.

The afternoon service was conducted by the Vicar of Bromsgrove, when the association's special form of service was used. The Vicar of Inkberrow, who has recently been made Rural Dean of Feckenham, gave a helpful address, in which he avoided the pitfall into which preachers at ringers' meetings usually fall—lectures on bells and bellringers' habits. He deplored the present tendency of the countries of the world towards Godless dictatorships, and urged a recall to religion as being the only way to save civilisation.

The branch was entertained to tea by the Vicar of Bromsgrove, who afterwards presided over the business meeting. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Harborne, as an invitation had been received from that tower. Mr. Harold Martin undertook to make arrangements for the quarterly peal, which would be rung at Bromsgrove, subject to a pinnacle of the tower, which had just been restored, being considered safe enough to stand three hours' ringing.

The belfry elections of two life members were ratified, Messrs. Richard Instone and Donald Marsh, this being quite a contrast with the January meeting, when about 20 new members were elected.

At the close of the meeting a very hearty vote of thanks was passed to all those who had helped to make the meeting possible, and the Vicar, in replying, hoped that the association would visit Bromsgrove again on future occasions. He recalled how the association had helped him when the Bromsgrove Guild of Change Ringers was re-formed about 17 years ago, and spoke of his early days at Kidderminster, when he made the acquaintance of old Worcestershire Association ringers, mentioning particularly James Bennett and John Woodberry.

Following the recently adopted practice, the collection for the belfry repairs fund was taken after tea, and it eventually realised 22s. 6d.

The branch secretary gave notice that he would not be offering himself for re-election in September and hoped that someone would be ready to take over the job.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

It had been hoped to reopen Farnham Royal bells, which are being restored in memory of the late Mr. J. J. Parker, before the end of this month, but it has been found necessary to postpone the ceremony, probably until September. Contributions to the fund should be sent without delay.

Mr. Gordon R. Cross has been given a commission in the Royal Navy, as Instructor-Lieutenant in the Education Department, and enters upon his duties at Greenwich after the summer vacation.

The recast peal at St. Chad's, Shrewsbury, has recently been held up as one of the most pleasing rings of twelve in the country. The original twelve were opened just 140 years ago next Monday, with a peal of Grandsire Cinques rung by College Youths.

Fifteen years ago next Thursday, the Kent Treble Bob Major record of 17,280 changes, rung in ten hours, was set up at Over, in Cheshire.

Only 29 faults were registered in the touch of 600 changes of Killamash Treble Bob, by which Liversedge band won the Barnsley and District Shield contest on Saturday. They were run very closely by Sandal, who had only two more faults.

RINGS OF TWELVE.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I think Mr. Pendragon's letter touches two points which, to me, seem to be important when judging peals of bells, viz., position and locality. We, at St. Nicholas', Liverpool, have a fine peal of 12, which are unfortunately hemmed in on three sides by huge offices and warehouses, which cause the sound of the bells, when ringing, to be beaten back against the tower, absolutely spoiling the effect. The other remaining side is open to the river, and when heard from the water they sound a magnificent peal.

I have never had the pleasure of hearing St. Chad's, Shrewsbury, but I am acquainted with the Quarry, and can quite imagine what they would sound like amongst such beautiful surroundings. Perhaps some of our famous London twelves would sound better under the same conditions.

RINGING AT THEOLOGICAL COLLEGES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Your readers may be interested to know that as a result of the appeal which appeared in your issues of February 4th and March 11th, a sum of £5 was raised on behalf of the new bands at Kelham and Lichfield Theological College.

It will be remembered that the original intention was to supply them with handbells, but as both bands had in the meantime received a set of these from generous donors, it was decided to spend the money subscribed on ringing books for the college libraries.

The following books have, therefore, been purchased and sent off to them: For general reading, 'Bells Thro' the Ages' (Nichols), 'History and Art of Change Ringing' (Morris), 'The College Youths' (Trollope). Instructional, 'Ringers' Handbook (Powell), 'Ropesight', 'Standard Methods (diagrams), Treble Bob, Grandsire, Stedman (Snowdon series).

In addition, several other books have been sent direct by individual well-wishers, and these, as well as those mentioned above, have been placed in the libraries of the two colleges. In the case of the three items marked with an asterisk, several copies of each have been supplied so that in addition to those kept in the libraries a number will always be available for the students actually learning change ringing.

In acknowledging the books, Mr. Sargent, of Kelham, and Mr. Malcolm Melville, of Lichfield, ask me to convey their thanks and those of their bands to all your readers who have shown such interest in their efforts and contributed towards the gifts. They both report good progress with the handbell ringing, and I myself spent a day recently at Kelham and can testify to the rapid advance which has been made under Mr. Sargent's energetic leadership, and to the interest and enthusiasm for ringing which is being shown by a substantial number of the students. They have been able to get their first practice on tower bells this term, and are hoping to obtain more opportunities for gaining experience in this side of the art in the future.

In adding my own thanks to those of your readers who supported my appeal so generously, I should like to conclude by stating that at both Kelham and Lichfield Theological Colleges a copy of 'The Ringing World' is placed regularly each week with the other papers in the general common room, where it comes under the eye of many of our future clergy—quite apart from those actively interested in ringing who no doubt all take their own copies!

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATED.

At All Saints' Church, Wath-on-Deane, on Saturday, June 25th, 1,728 of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung in honour of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Ashwin. Mr. Ashwin was churchwarden of this church for many years. Those taking part were: T. Nicholls 1, W. Green 2, A. Panther 3, G. Lord 4, T. Cullingworth 5, E. Brookes 6, A. Gill 7, D. Smith (conductor) 8. Longest length of Major by the ringers of 1, 4 and 6, also longest touch of Major as conductor.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—27.*GEORGE MARTIN.

There are some men who never come conspicuously into the lime-light, but yet, by their unostentatious and constant endeavour, and by ability displayed in a quiet way, earn a success of which they may be proud. George Martin, of Maidenhead, Berks, is one of these. His ringing career has been one long record of steady endeavour. If we except, perhaps, his share in the Australian tour, he has never been associated with what one may call the spectacular performances which have brought some men into prominence, but he has earned a high place among our leading conductors.

Born at Boyne Hill, in the Thames-side village of Bray, on July 7th, 1877, Mr. Martin began his ringing in Boyne Hill tower about the year 1893, and has been attached to the Sunday band at this church ever since. His first peal was rung there in 1895, and Mr. Martin is one of the comparatively few men who have called their own first peal. This was Grand-sire Triples. It is typical of him that he considers his best performances those rung among his own colleagues in his own tower, including Holt's Original, by a band of bachelors in 1899; Bob Major in 1903; Kent Treble Bob in 1905; Double Norwich later in the same year; Superlative Surprise in 1906; Cambridge in 1908; and London in 1930. All these peals were rung by a local band, all but the Original were the first in the method on the bells and all were conducted by Mr. Martin. This, indeed, is a record of solid, steady progress, marking the building up of a strong local company.

Altogether Mr. Martin has rung 521 peals in 38 counties in England, Ireland and Wales, and of these he has conducted 214.

Another group of peals of which he is naturally very proud are those rung on the Australian tour in 1934. Mr. Martin rang in the first peals of Bob Royal, Kent Treble Bob Major, Bob Major, Stedman Triples and Grand-sire Cinqs in the Commonwealth, of which he called the Treble Bob at Hobart, and the Stedman Triples at Ballarat, as well as the second peals of Kent and Stedman at Sydney. He has rung three handbell peals, two of Grand-sire Triples, which he conducted, and one of Bob Major on the Indian Ocean.

Among his other notable performances have been the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Major in Bucks, and four non-conducted peals—two of Cambridge Surprise, one of Yorkshire Surprise and one of Stedman Triples.

At one time Mr. Martin held the office of assistant secretary of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, and ever since has been a member of the General Committee. He joined the Oxford Guild when he began ringing so that he has been a member for nearly 45 years.

A GLOUCESTER RINGER'S DEATH.*MASTER OF CRYPT YOUTHS.

A well-known Gloucester ringer passed away on June 19th in the person of Mr. Jesse Gillett, a member of the band at St. Mary de Crypt Church. He had been Master of the Ancient Society of Crypt Youths since 1907, and was, of course, an old member of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association.

The funeral service at St. Mary de Crypt was conducted by the Rev. E. D. S. Comus, and the hymns, 'There is a land' and 'On the Resurrection morning,' were sung.

The interment took place at the cemetery, and a course of Grand-sire Triples was rung at the graveside by four of Mr. Gillett's old friends: Messrs. S. E. Romans, J. Austin, J. Williams and G. Condict. Other ringers present were Messrs. J. Clark (Hereford Guild), H. Newman (Barnwood), H. Daniels, A. Martin and G. Case (Gloucester).

The Crypt Youths and St. Mary de Crypt choir sent wreaths.

MR. GEORGE MARTIN.

BATH & WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.*INCREASED ACTIVITIES.*Master's Encouraging Report.

The annual meeting of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association was attended by members from all parts of the diocese, but the total number present, about 50, was disappointingly low. Wells, however, is not easy of access from many parts of the county. Ringing took place at the Cathedral and at St. Cuthbert's. The association service was held at the latter, and the Vicar of Wells, the Rev. Preb. E. B. Cook, who conducted the service, gave an unusual and helpful address. Tea was served in the Church Room, and the business meeting commenced with the Rev. W. M. K. Warren (Master) in the chair. Apologies for absence were received from the Very Rev. the Dean of Wells, from Mr. W. Prescott and Mr. W. Farley. Routine business was quickly disposed of, and the Master's report adopted.

The Master's report for the past year said the prevailing decline in the number of ringers in some parts of the country did not appear to have affected the association. There were signs of increased activity all over the diocese. While a few towers had seceded through non-payment of subscriptions, the loss had been more than made up by the advent of new towers. The three new branch secretaries had all done good work and had persuaded more towers to join the Guild. The number of peals was less than that of last year, viz., 42. There was rather a preponderance of Doubles, but it was hoped this was but a stepping stone to higher methods. Among the peals was the first by all the band at Greinton—a noteworthy feat. Mrs. G. W. Fletcher, weighing 8 stone 3 lb., rang Wedmore tenor of 30 cwt. to a peal in perfect style. This was a tribute alike to Mrs. Fletcher's determination and to the work of the bellhangers, Mears and Stainbank.

The standard of striking was very high in some branches, while others stood in need of much improvement in this respect. Some service touches at meetings had been magnificent. The broadcast by the ringers of Backwell was typical of what a good broadcast should be. The ringers attempted nothing which was in the least degree 'chancy,' but rang Stedman Doubles with almost perfect rhythm. The president of the Central Council publicly praised the ringing, and this was indeed high praise. Mr. H. W. Knight, of Wrington, deserved commendation in that he had been the honorary instructor of the band. When the two trebles, which it is understood are in the offing, are added, good eight-bell ringing over the air can be looked forward to.

The balance in the funds was slightly increased, and it was likely that the increase would be more than maintained next year. In the last twelve years £30 had been added to the deposit and £84 9s. 6d. had been expended in grants to towers and in memorials without recourse to collections and without raising the annual subscriptions.

The Master added: I hear a great deal about the difficulty of keeping up the strength of local bands. I think there is much to be said for the suggestion of passing on the elder members of the choirboys, Sunday School and confirmation candidates into the tower. Not only do they often prove apt pupils, but it is also a way of keeping these boys in touch with the Church and saves them from the prevalent drift. I am sure the clergy would be only too glad to co-operate with the captains of bands if approached.

One non-resident life member, Mr. A. J. Corrigan, of Bristol, was elected.

Mr. J. Hunt gave a short account of the Central Council meeting at Leeds, in which he emphasised the wonderful hospitality of the Yorkshire Association. Arising out of his report, he proposed that the association support the publication of the Surprise Major book to the extent of £2.—This was seconded by Mr. J. T. Dyke.

The motion was strongly opposed by Mr. F. J. Smallwood and Mr. A. Wilkerson, but Mr. Hunt's proposition was carried.

The following recommendations of the committee were then put to the meeting and agreed to: (1) That quarterly meetings be held at Wellington, Weston-super-Mare and Mells. (2) That Miss N. G. Williams, the Rev. W. M. K. Warren, J. Hunt and J. Dyke represent the association on the next Central Council. (3) That a special meeting be held immediately before the annual at Yeovil in July, 1939. Business, proposed alterations to rules.

All the officers of the association were re-elected, viz.: The Rev. W. M. K. Warren, Master; Mr. J. T. Dyke, hon. secretary and treasurer; Mr. D. G. Taylor, hon. auditor. The hon. secretary was also voted the usual honorarium.

The meeting concluded with votes of thanks to all who had made the meeting a success.

Ringings of sorts, including Stedman Caters and Cambridge Major, was accomplished during the day.

OXFORD GUILD FUNDS.*To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As a practical change ringer and a member of the Oxford Diocesan Guild for 47 years, I fail to see what advantage ringers obtain from the association. Could not the fund for bell restorations and the investments be put to a more useful purpose to encourage the art of change ringing, something in the way of instructions, or the supply of bellropes, a copy of 'The Ringing World' in the tower every week, a report of the Guild activities to each member?

I have noticed in several towers lately only four or five ringers attending where there is a peal of eight bells. 'OXFORDSHIRE.'

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

MUFFLING OF BELLS.

The question of the muffling of bells has been three times before the Council, and the matter came up this year on a report from the officers. This stated that at the last meeting of the Council a report was submitted by the president, the adoption of which was recommended by the Standing Committee. It was agreed to request all secretaries of affiliated societies to furnish particulars of local customs, and details of these if thought suitable to be included in the final report, the completed report to be considered by the Standing Committee and, after approval, to be circulated to all members, and finally to be submitted to the ecclesiastical authorities.

The completed report has not been circulated to members owing to the difficulty in obtaining particulars of local customs, and in those cases where they have been received, the lack of time available for consideration has rendered it impossible to carry out the wishes of the Council.

The officers of the Council now present the original report as passed at the last meeting, together with extracts from the various letters received, and trust that the Council will indicate which of these are worthy of inclusion.

The original report stated: 'The practice of muffled ringing for Royalty or indeed for any person is comparatively recent. As far as we can trace, ringing with bells half-muffled or fully muffled was first practised by ringers as a mark of respect to deceased ringers, and was later introduced for persons other than ringers.'

Various customs have grown up in different parts of the country, and we think it undesirable that these customs should be changed. Where there is no fixed custom we should recommend the following practice:—

1. That as a mark of respect bells should be rung half-muffled (open at handstroke).
2. That bells should not be rung muffled for a service on a Sunday or feast day unless the service is a funeral or of the nature of a memorial service.
3. That if a death of Royalty occurs, or a death in a parish where a meeting has been arranged, either the bells should not be rung or be rung muffled in a few touches with carefully chosen bands. We deprecate the holding of an ordinary practice meeting with the bells muffled.
4. That all muffled ringing should be in as slow time as possible.
5. That certain local customs are worthy of more general adoption. For example, the Cambridge custom of setting up one bell at a time, gradually reducing the number and then tolling the age on the tenor, is very effective.

The report was accompanied by extracts from letters from numerous sources giving particulars of local customs.

In one letter referring to London it was stated 'the general practice in London is "half-muffling," and I think it gives the best result. It is the practice at St. Paul's and at Westminster Abbey, and I think those two instances could very well be a good lead.'

In presenting the report, the President said the Standing Committee had considered it, and of those local customs which were recorded, he thought mention might be made of that at Westminster Abbey and at St. Paul's Cathedral more particularly. It was suggested that the completion of the report should be left to the officers, who would put in one or two more examples of local customs which they thought worthy of more general practice, and then, subject to final approval by the Standing Committee, they should send the report round to the Church authorities as was originally suggested.

This course was agreed to.

EXTENDING PEALS OF DOUBLES.

The following motion was proposed by Mr. J. S. Goldsmith: 'This Council, desiring that peals of Doubles and Minor shall be put upon a similar basis, resolves that peals of Doubles, as already defined, may be lengthened at the end by one true touch of less than 120 changes.' He said that when, last year, the Council changed the definition of a peal of Doubles they were accused of being consistent only in their inconsistency. By an amendment that was passed they struck out from the new definition a paragraph which allowed an odd length of Doubles to be added to 42 or more complete six-scores. By so doing they certainly did something further to earn the criticism of being inconsistent, for a similar permission already existed in regard to the extension of a peal of Minor. The deletion of the paragraph from last year's motion also emphasised another thing; it showed the danger of altering considered definitions by unconsidered amendments, without giving the Council time or opportunity of calculating the exact effect. Mr. Goldsmith reviewed briefly the various steps which the Council had taken in its efforts to define peals of Doubles and Minor. They made one early attempt to define a peal of Minor, but eventually had to revoke it. It was not until 1912 that a definition of a peal of Minor was finally put into the 'Rules and Decisions.' That definition included permission to add a true touch at the end of seven or more complete 720's. In 1928, at Hereford, the definition of a peal of Minor was revised, and, for the first time, a definition was laid down for a peal of Doubles. The permissive touch at the end of a peal of Minor provided in the earlier definition was retained and was also included in the definition of a peal of Doubles. Last year this permission was cut out of the Doubles definition. A lot was said at that time, in persuading the Council to amend the previous Doubles definition, about putting Doubles ringers on the same footing as Minor ringers, and yet the first thing they did was to rob Doubles ringers of one of the things they shared with Minor ringers. It was not often that odd lengths were rung either in peals of Minor or Doubles, but there was nothing to stop a band from doing it if they wished, and the Council might, therefore, just as well legalise it. At all events Doubles and Minor should undoubtedly be on the same footing, and it was for this reason and to save the Council from a further charge of inconsistency that he proposed the motion.

Mr. W. G. Wilson, who seconded the resolution, was the proposer of the motion, which last year altered the Council's definition of a peal of Doubles. He said that when, on that occasion, he accepted the amendment, striking out the permission to add a true touch at the end, he qualified his acceptance of it by saying he thought there was nothing fundamentally wrong about the odd touch, but he did accept the amendment, when perhaps he ought not to have done so. He accepted it because he did not want to do anything to prejudice his main motion and to make it necessary to bring the subject up year after year. He did not think it mattered two hoots whether they permitted these additions or not, but they must have it the same in both the Minor and Doubles. They could not permit it in one and disallow it in the other.

The Rev. H. Drake said he did not think any reason had ever been put forward for making this extraordinary addition to a peal of Minor or Doubles. If they were going to make any alteration, let them take it out altogether; they already had enough repetitions in a peal on five bells.

The motion was carried by a large majority.

In reply to a question, the President said if 42 six-scores had been rung and the ringers broke down in the additional touch, they would not be allowed to claim that they had rung a peal.

CANON ELSEE MEMORIAL.

The President said the Standing Committee required instructions about the grant made last year to the Canon Elsee Memorial. A year ago the Council voted three guineas to a memorial scheme which was to provide some additional bells at St. George's Church, Bolton. That scheme had now been abandoned, and it was proposed to erect a stained glass window. The Standing Committee wanted authority, if the donation was to be made to the new scheme. The appeal came to them signed by the Rev. Arthur Scott, president of the Lancashire Association.

Mr. T. Groombridge proposed that the three guineas be given to the revised scheme.

Mr. T. Clark seconded and the motion was agreed to.

Mr. J. Hunt said a friend of his had asked him to inquire if it were possible for the Council to publish a book on conducting.

The President: We will bear it in mind.

Mr. P. J. Johnson: May I suggest that they read Snowdon's 'Rope-sight'?

Mr. A. D. Barker said the late Mr. J. Parker had left many books and papers relating to ringing. If the Council would like to have them he believed they could be obtained.

The President said he was sure the Council would agree they would be a valuable addition to the library. There must be a great deal of original research in them. An appeal was being made for the repair of Farnham Royal bells as a memorial to Mr. Parker.

The Hon. Secretary said a letter had been received from the Midland Counties Association suggesting that the Council's notice and agenda should be published and circulated at least a month before the meeting to enable associations to discuss the various matters and instruct their representatives. Mr. Fletcher pointed out that for the last six years the agenda had been sent out six or seven weeks before Whitsun. The Standing Committee, therefore, suggested that no action should be taken on the letter.—The Council endorsed this view.

HANDBELL RINGING AT GLASGOW EXHIBITION

The President said they had received a letter from Glasgow calling attention to the fact that the ringers of St. Mary's Cathedral had been ringing handbells outside the Episcopal Church every Saturday before evensong, and asking whether something more could be done by way of demonstrating change ringing at the exhibition. The Standing Committee decided that they could do nothing further, but it was interesting to know what was being done. He suggested they might write and thank the St. Mary's Society for what they were doing.—This was agreed to.

The Secretary reported that 92 members had signed the roll at that meeting. Twenty societies were fully represented by 47 members. 22 partly represented by 36 members, nine were unrepresented, and nine honorary members were present.

VOTES OF THANKS.

The President proposed an omnibus vote of thanks to all concerned in the arrangements for the meeting; in the first place to the Mayor and Corporation of the city of Leeds for their kindness in allowing the Council the use of the room for the meeting; to the Deputy Lord Mayor (Councillor Mrs. Hammond) for coming to welcome them; to the Vicar of Leeds for his words of welcome; and to the Yorkshire Association for their wonderful hospitality (applause). It seemed to him, said the President, that they had been a long time coming to Yorkshire, but it had given the association a long time to save up (laughter). He would like to thank particularly Mr. Percy Johnson and his committee for all the arrangements they had made. The Council would agree they could not have done better (applause). They also thanked Dr. Moody, the organist of Ripon Cathedral, for the time he gave them on the previous day in conducting them round Fountains Abbey. They also thanked Mr. G. F. Woodhouse for bringing his ringing machine for their inspection and spending so much time in demonstrating it. Then they had to thank the Church authorities for the use of the various bells on which they had been ringing and the towerkeepers for having these bells in good order. Finally they had to thank Mr. Sherwood, who organised the coach trip, for the efficient way that was done.—The motion was carried by acclamation.

Canon G. F. Coleridge moved a vote of thanks to the president. Although that was the closing meeting of that session, he hoped they would find him in the chair again next year (applause). He thanked the president for the interest he took in the Council, and also Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher and the librarian for all the work they put in on behalf of the Council (applause).

This concluded the business and the Council then rose.

YORKSHIRE HOSPITALITY.

Afterwards the members and their friends were entertained to a meat tea at the Constitutional Club. A large party sat down and enjoyed a substantial meal.

Canon Marshall, in a happy speech, said they were proud to have the Council in Leeds. It was the first time the Central Council had honoured them with its presence in the city, and he hoped it would not be very many years before they came again. They had endeavoured to make the members enjoy themselves during their stay and had shown them some of the beauties of that great county (applause). One of the great difficulties in the Yorkshire Association was that they had to cover the whole of that huge county, of which the Council had seen just a wee bit on their tour the previous day. Perhaps the members of the Council would now sometimes sympathise with the officers of the association when they thought of what they had to do. They hoped the Council would take away happy memories of Yorkshire, of the broad acres and of the queer folk (laughter and applause).

Mr. P. J. Johnson added a word of welcome. They had saved up for some years to give the Council this welcome, said Mr. Johnson, amid laughter. He specially thanked Mr. Sherwood for his help, saying he did not know what he would have done without him. Neither did he know what Mrs. Sherwood had done without him (laughter). It was only their wives who knew how much time ringers spent away from home—the ringers themselves didn't (laughter). Mr. Sherwood had travelled over the county many times to fix up the outing which they had had on the previous day, and he had taken immense trouble. The committee felt more than gratified that the Council had enjoyed themselves. Leeds was the finest city in the finest county in England, and he hoped it would not be long before the Council came there again (applause).

The President said they were very grateful for all that had been done for them. They had had a marvellous time, and he thought the best way he could sum it up was in the words of one member, who wanted to propose that the meeting of the Council be held at Leeds permanently (laughter). He thanked the Yorkshire Association and the committee very sincerely for all they had done to make the meeting such a success.

After ringing at various churches in the evening, a social was held at headquarters (the Griffin Hotel), and the hours passed rapidly in friendly intercourse, music and handbell ringing. Further votes of thanks were passed in warm-hearted speeches, and the health of a number of people was drunk with musical honours. It was in the 'wee sma' coors' that the company finally broke up after one of the most successful and enjoyable meetings in the history of the Council.

During two days, Mr. G. F. Woodhouse had his wonderful ringing machine on view, and each evening demonstrated it to wondering and admiring groups of ringers. Its ingenuity staggered them, especially when, while one method was being rung, the machine was set to ring another and touches in 'spliced' methods were performed.

The Rev. F. L. Edwards, convener of the Literature, Press and Broadcasting Committee, writes: 'Until I read the report of the Central Council proceedings in "The Ringing World," a mistake in the Literature and Press Committee's report had escaped my notice. In the last paragraph on broadcasting the reference should have been to Coronation Day, 1938—not 1937—that is, to the anniversary of the Coronation. I shall be much obliged to you if you will publish this correction, with apologies for the error.'

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

AMBITIONS.

The art of ringing lends itself to a variety of ambitions, and generation after generation of men has striven to raise new standards, until in some directions there seem to be no more worlds to conquer. Yet ever, in new ways and in old, there is some phase in which individuals find an outlet for their energies, for the gratifying of ambitions beyond the reach of their neighbours. Ambitions lie in numerous and interesting and in some cases curious directions. Longer lengths, more peals, more methods, more towers, more heavy tenors, even more bad-going bells—these are some of the ways in which ringers satisfy their enthusiasm.

We record this week yet another step in raising the number of Minor methods in a peal. The Cheshire band have carried the total to eighty-four, and one begins to wonder when finality in this direction will be reached. There must be an end somewhere, imposed by the mathematical limitations of the process of adding method to method, but where this is, short of a different method for every lead, it is unsafe to prophesy. One not only marvels at the ability of men who can ring these complicated peals, but at the skill and patience of those who build them up on paper. It is the ambition of such people that has carried method ringing to the high standard which it has now reached, and which is leading ever towards new developments.

In a different field we record to-day the fulfilment of another ambition. The veteran, Mr. William Fussell, has completed the desire of a long lifetime by finishing off a peal in every county in England and Wales. His peal at Beaumaris, in the island of Anglesey, is the culmination of a long quest, and he is the first to reach the goal. Mr. Fussell is one of the most travelled of all ringers. He organised the Australian tour, he has rung in New Zealand, he has visited Scotland and Ireland and, as we have mentioned, has penetrated every county of his native land and the Principality of Wales. Ringers will congratulate him upon achieving final success, which he has reached in his 77th year. As an individual ambition it has been a meritorious and interesting one, but it is not without its value as an example to the Exercise. The wider one travels the more one gains, not only in experience and knowledge, but in friendships, and the appreciation of the good qualities of others. The man who never rings but in his own tower, who does not share the social side of ringing, which means comradeship, has but a limited vision of all that is best in connection with our art. Not everyone is able to explore the world of ringing as Mr. Fussell has done, but what he has achieved is an ambition that others might emulate with advantage to themselves and the furtherance of the cause we all have at heart.

MR. W. H. FUSSELL'S RECORD.

Mr. William H. Fussell, the doyen of ringing travellers, has just consummated one of the great ambitions of his life. He has now succeeded in ringing a peal in every county in England and Wales, an achievement which no one else has yet managed to complete.

In every other county in these two countries he had rung a peal except the island of Anglesey, where there is only one ring of eight—at Beaumaris. For years Mr. Fussell had waited for an opportunity; it came rather unexpectedly on July 9th, when a band gathered from Chester and Bangor and the record was made.

It is 25 years since the last peal was rung there, and the visitors highly appreciate the kind welcome of the Vicar (the Rev. Rummage) and the courteous attention of the tower foreman (Mr. R. Jones).

During his visit to Chester, Mr. Fussell also scored two other peals, one at St. Mary's-without-the-Walls and the other at St. Mary's-within.

The centenary of the city of Birmingham was last week celebrated by a series of important events. St. Martin's Guild, which was in existence 60 years before the incorporation of the city, fittingly marked the auspicious occasion with a peal of Stedman Cinques at the Parish Church.

The Master of the Guild (Mr. F. E. Haynes) rang the tenor and has now rung each bell in the tower to a peal of Stedman Cinques. Mr. Morris J. Morris rang his 400th peal. One hundred and eighteen out of his total have been peals of Stedman Cinques.

Manchester has also been celebrating its centenary, and at Miles Platting on July 12th a commemorative peal of Kent Treble Bob was rung. The composition which was rung, conducted by the composer, Mr. C. K. Lewis, has previously been published to Rochester Surprise. The band are indebted to Mr. Alfred Barnes, who filled a gap at the last moment.

The silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. Perkins, of Draycott, Staffs, was celebrated by a peal of Minor at their Parish Church. Afterwards the ringers were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Perkins.

A BIRMINGHAM VETERAN.

Tom Miller (he will pardon us the omission of the prefix Mr. on this occasion) has been one of the best known figures in Birmingham ringing circles for two generations. He has just celebrated his 80th birthday by ringing in a peal of Bob Major at St. Chad's R.C. Cathedral, where he rang his first peal in February, 1878—over 60 years ago.

The method was appropriate, for is it not Tom who sings a song about 'Sweet Bob Major'? But whether or no, Tom is a great raconteur, and the tales he can tell of long past days; of the days of Henry Johnson and Harry Bastable and others—when men were men and beer was beer—are worth going a long way to listen to. Many happy returns of the day, Tom!

A peal that was 'a real tough job' was rung at Brant Broughton, Lincolnshire (tenor 24 cwt.), the heaviest ring of six in the county, on July 15th. The last peal on the bells was in 1911.

The Midland Counties Association was credited, on Saturday, with its first peal of Bob Maximus. It was rung at St. Margaret's, Leicester, on the nearest available date to the Patronal Saint's Day, and not only was it the first peal of Bob Maximus by all the band, but also the first twelve-bell peal by no fewer than seven of the ringers, while for eight of them it completed the series of peals of Plain Bob on six, eight, ten and twelve bells, and Mr. Ernest Morris has now called a peal of each.

The peal of Grandsire Triples at Rock, Worcestershire, was arranged to enable Mr. Ernest Hall, of Kidderminster, to ring his first peal of Triples on the bells of his native parish, where he first learnt to ring.

The bells of Woodlesford, Yorks, have been recently rehung by Messrs. Taylor and Co., and the first peal on them since 1910 was rung on July 9th in seven Minor methods.

Four birthdays were celebrated with a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major at Folkestone on Saturday; those of Mrs. H. Baker (Fritten-den), G. Kenward, L. J. Honess and the conductor (Mr. T. E. Sone). The peal composition (Arthur Knights' No. 189) was rung for the first time.

Another of Mr. Knights' Treble Bob compositions was rung for the first time on Saturday, when he called his No. 433 at Eckington.

For over 60 years Mr. H. Crossland was a regular ringer at Cawthorne, Yorkshire, and rang in winning teams in ringing contests when he was 81 and 82 years of age. He has recently passed the 93rd milestone, and his friends rang two peals of Minor at Cawthorne in honour of the event, the first on July 2nd, the second before evensong on the following day. Except the conductor, Mr. D. Smith (of Felkirk tower), all the ringers who took part in this latter peal are regular service ringers at Cawthorne Church.

Mr. Crossland is still active and thinks he could still ring if it were not for the climb up the steps to the ringing room.

Miss Sylvia Bowyer, of Ipswich, called a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at the first attempt on Saturday at Hollesley, Suffolk.

What has been described to us as an 'old crocks' band, rang a peal at Ashted, Surrey, on Saturday. All the ringers had taken part in peals at Ashted over 30 years ago, the first peal in the tower of each individual having been as follows: A. H. Winch 1902, J. Beams 1896, A. C. Otway 1897, F. G. Woodiss 1906, G. H. Marriner 1904, C. Hazelden 1902, J. Hoyle 1898; J. H. B. Hesse 1903.

RINGING CLERIC REPLIES TO PESSIMISTS.

The Macclesfield and Stockport Branches of the Chester Diocesan Guild held a joint meeting at Bollington on Saturday week, when 36 members and friends attended. The bells of St. John's Church were kept going to various standard methods, and a ringers' service was conducted by the Rev. C. R. Ollier. Before commencing the service he apologised for the absence of the Vicar, due to holidays.

In a very interesting address, the Rev. C. R. Ollier pointed out the part played by ringers in church life, and deplored the attitude of some people who think that ringers have no part in the affairs of the Church, as though the tower and belfry were separate from the nave and chancel of the church. Bellringing, he went on to say, was essentially a British art and the sound of church bells calling them to church was as big a tradition as the 'roast beef of old England.' He said that in some quarters the pessimists would tell them that bellringing was a dead art, that young men would not learn to ring, but, looking round the gathering that afternoon and from his own experience as a ringer, it could be said that this was definitely not so.

Mr. J. H. Shepherd, of Swindon, 'dropped' in just in time for a touch of Double Norwich before tea, and, after ringing the tenor, was successful on this occasion in obtaining the measurements of the bell. It is understood his venue for Sunday was Gawsorth and Higher Sutton, making three more towers to his already large collection.

After tea, a short business meeting was held, at which the Vicar, the Rev. J. Kingdon, was elected an honorary member and the Rev. C. R. Ollier a ringing member of the Macclesfield Branch. Other business was of a routine nature.

The Stockport Branch secretary (Mr. K. Lewis) thanked the Macclesfield Branch for their kindness and hospitality, and proposed to return the hospitality by arranging a joint meeting at Disley on September 24th.

A vote of thanks to the Rev. C. R. Ollier for conducting the service and meeting concluded the business. Further use was then made of the bells until 9 p.m., on enjoyable time having been spent by all.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A MID-WEEK MEETING.

A very successful meeting of the Southern Division of the Sussex County Association was held at Henfield on Wednesday, July 6th. Members attended from twelve Sussex towers, and visitors from London, Tring, Croydon and Plymouth were present during the evening, making in all an attendance of 40.

The bells were available from 2.30, and during the course of the day ringing was heard ranging from rounds to London Surprise. A peal of handbells was also in use after tea, and the weather made it possible to hold the business meeting and the handbell ringing in the open air.

The election of Mr. J. Hobden, of Burgess Hill, was confirmed on the proposition of Mr. R. Overy, seconded by Mr. A. Brown.

In the absence of the Rector, the service was taken by the Rev. C. E. Tuppen, of Lower Beeding, who took as his text the inscription on Great Paul, 'Woe to me, if I preach not the Gospel.' The preacher pointed out that the sound of the bells was always a constant reminder that the Gospel was preached in the place where they sounded, and to those who were unable to attend service they themselves acted as the voice of the Church.

ANOTHER SURPRISE METHOD.

The Hertfordshire Surprise experts have added another new method to their rapidly growing list—Newbury—which they rang at Bushey on July 14th without any previous practice. For Messrs. Maurice Hibbert and H. G. Cashmore it was the thirtieth Surprise Major method in which they have rung a peal. The method is one of the 'Cambridge' group, but has repeating work after bobs, on the Treble Bob principle.

We are glad to see the Midland Counties 'Wednesday' band in the news again. Last week Mr. Maurice Swinfield called another new peal of Stedman Triples—Mr. Gabriel Lindoff's six-part, No. 25. It was rung at Burton-on-Trent.

A peal of Bob Major was rung on the back eight of the twelve at Great St. Mary's, Cambridge, on July 14th.

Mr. Walter Gorton has been a regular ringer at the Church of the Saviour, Bolton, for 53 years, and he has just celebrated his golden wedding and his 77th birthday. A peal in honour of these events was rung at the Saviour's Church on July 16th. It also marked the centenary of the granting of the charter of incorporation to Bolton.

The seventieth birthday of Mr. Walter Perkins, of Irthlingborough, Northants, was celebrated by a peal of Stedman Triples, which he called, on Saturday. Mr. Oliver Sippetts, of Crawley, Sussex, should have been in the peal, but weather conditions prevented him getting there.

The visit of the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester to Birmingham, the centenary of the city and the tercentenary of three of the bells at St. Edburga's Church were celebrated on Saturday with a peal of Grandsire Doubles at Yardley.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD.*ANNUAL FESTIVAL.

The annual ringing festival of the Truro Diocesan Guild was held at Callington on Saturday, July 2nd. Over 100 ringers from all parts of Cornwall were present, including Mr. W. H. Southeard (Master) and Col. C. F. Jerram (Assistant Ringing Master), the Rev. W. H. R. Trehwella (diocesan secretary), Messrs. H. Ransom and P. Williams (branch secretaries). An apology was received from Dr. J. Symons (president). Seven towers in the district were open, and the bells were rung in rounds, call-changes, Grandsire and Stedman.

Service was conducted by the Rev. R. W. Marsh (Rector). The address was given by the Archdeacon of Bodmin (Canon Williamson), who stressed the importance of the work done by ringers. The bells, he said, were rung to tell people to come to church or, if people preferred to go away for pleasure, the bells reminded them of their duty to God and they should ask God for His blessing on what they intended doing.

Tea was served in the Callington Town Hall. A vote of thanks was proposed by the Rev. W. H. R. Trehwella, seconded by Mr. H. Ransom. The Rev. W. H. Marsh, replying, said he was pleased to see several of the clergy present. He thought it was their duty to take an interest in ringers and attend their meetings.

Mr. Southeard said he hoped the time would come when ringers in Cornwall would take an interest in the Guild, not only as bands, but as individuals, as in other guilds and associations. He spoke of the work of the Central Council and pointed out that their interest was not confined to change ringers, but they looked after the interests of all ringers.

After tea the ringers returned to the towers, where the bells were kept going until late in the evening.

RINGER'S GIFT OF HANDBELLS.

Mr. Alfred Rowley, who has been a bellringer for 51 years, is a life member of the Worcestershire and Districts Association and who lives at Cranfield, Castle Road, Tipton, Staffordshire, has recently presented a set of handbells (14 in number, in the key of A) to the Parish Church of St. James, Bishampton, in the diocese of Worcester. Mr. A. Rowley's brother, who passed away seven years ago, was formerly a police officer at Bishampton and the donor often stayed in the parish.

A short service of dedication was held by the Vicar (the Rev. T. Wilkinson) during evensong on Sunday, July 26th.

Mr. Rowley commenced his bellringing at the tower of St. Peter's Church, Martley, in the diocese of Worcester, with the present Rector of the parish, the Rev. J. F. Hastings, and is well known in the various towers in the dioceses of Worcester, Lichfield and Birmingham.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.*PROPOSED FORMATION OF BENEVOLENT FUND.

The fifty-ninth annual meeting of the Essex Association was held at Chelmsford on Whit Monday and attended by ringers from all parts of the county. A service in the Cathedral was conducted by Provost Morrow, and an address was given by the Rev. Hamish Gray, of Seven Kings, formerly Precentor at the Cathedral. The lesson was read by the Master of the association, Dr. P. T. Spencer-Phillips, of Great Baddow.

At the annual meeting which followed in the Chapter House, the Master (who presided) was re-elected and thanked, as were the other officers, including the hon. secretary and treasurer (Mr. L. J. Clark, of Chelmsford) and the peal secretary (Mr. L. W. Wiffen). The Archdeacon of Southend (the Ven. E. N. Gowing) was added to the vice-presidents.

The Master's report mentioned that the number of towers in affiliation showed a decrease of one, the number now being 106. The membership had increased by eight, as follows: Honorary members 85, ringing members 766, non-resident 263, total 1,114. The district meetings had not been quite so well attended as last year, the average attendance being 36 members, against 40. The number of peals rung during the year showed an increase of 23 on the previous year, and although only 25 rang their first peals against 33 the previous year, 96 rang their first in the method against 76, and three conducted their first peal. The standard of ringing was well maintained and St. Clement's College Bob Major was rung for the first time. The conducting of these peals was shared by 34 members. A very satisfactory restoration of the peal at Great Waltham had been carried out. Mr. W. J. Nevard was setting an excellent example by having the peal of eight at Great Bentley rehung at his own expense. It was proposed to add two trebles to the existing ring at Dagenham to make a peal of eight, and this was to be carried out soon.

The financial position of the association was satisfactory and the Bell Restoration Fund had a balance in hand of £69 8s. 4d.

The formation of a Benevolent Fund was proposed by Mr. J. Chalk, of Wanstead, and, after discussion, it was decided to refer the matter to the General Committee.

Mr. E. J. Butler referred to the fact that next year the association would celebrate its diamond jubilee.—It was left to the committee to consider steps to celebrate the occasion.

Luncheon was served at the Golden Fleece Hotel.

Ringing took place during the day at the Cathedral and at eleven other churches in the district. Methods from Doubles up to Cambridge and Superlative Maximus were rung. One energetic band, having rung at all the twelve towers which were officially open, were only satisfied after having obtained permission to visit the thirteenth.

MESSRS. JOHN TAYLOR & CO.,
BELLFOUNDERS, LOUGHBOROUGH.

Dear Sirs,

HATFIELD PARISH CHURCH BELLS.

I must write to say how delighted we are at Hatfield with the result of the work done to our bells by your firm.

The go of the bells is perfect, to the great delight of all our ringers.

Thanking you on behalf of all the ringers for the good work which was put in, to make them, to our point of view, the best peal of ten in the county.

I remain, Yours sincerely,

A. LAWRENCE,

A ringer for 41 years.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

The restored bells of Tynemouth will be dedicated on Saturday at 6.30 p.m.

The Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild has had to transpose the dates of two of its meetings. The meeting on July 30th will be at Farnborough instead of Hawley.

The High Court meeting of the Ancient Order of Foresters is to be held in the Rochester District. There will be a parade service at the Cathedral on Sunday morning, July 31st. Any brethren attending the service who are ringers will be welcomed in the belfry of the Cathedral at 9.30 a.m., also in the following towers at about 5.30 p.m. for evening service ringing: Frindsbury, Chatham, Gillingham, Rochester (St. Margaret's) and Rainham.

Messrs. A. Bowell and Son, of Ipswich, are to repair the frame at Eynesbury, Hunts, and rehang and quarter-turn the bells with new gudgeons and bearings and adjust the clappers.

A lady's umbrella was left in the belfry at St. Augustine's, Kilburn, after the Ladies' Guild meeting. It will be returned to the owner if she will apply to the hon. secretary.

Two trebles have been added to make a peal of eight, two bells recast and a complete restoration carried out at Ewhurst, Surrey. The work, done by the Loughborough Foundry, was dedicated by the Bishop of Guildford on Sunday afternoon. The trebles are the gift of a parishioner, the rest of the work has been done by the Barron Trust.

Over 100 ringers and friends visited Brasted on Saturday, July 9th, and were entertained to tea by Mr. E. H. Lewis. This was the summer meeting of the Tonbridge District of the Kent County Association. A further report of the proceedings will appear next week.

VISITORS TO BOURNEMOUTH.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Many requests have been made by parties of visiting ringers to ring the newly-restored peal at Bournemouth Parish Church, and in most cases permission has been granted.

The Vicar has asked me to bring to the ringers' notice, through 'The Ringing World,' that whilst he is ready to assist the Exercise in every way possible, he may be forced to refuse some requests by reason of the situation of the tower in the centre of the town.

I would like to point out that we welcome visiting ringers to join in our practices, Thursday evenings, and also on Sundays at 9.30 a.m., 10.50 a.m. and 5.50 in the evening.

Perhaps organisers of outings who had thought of Bournemouth this year will be able to defer their visit until another season.

ARTHUR V. DAVIS, St. Peter's Tower Captain.

116, Alma Road, Bournemouth.

YOUNG RINGERS.

THE ADVANTAGES OF BEGINNING EARLY.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I was glad to see lately that somewhere ex-choirboys were being enlisted as ringers, for I was about to make the same suggestion. When their voices break and they are no more use in that way, it is a means of keeping them as churchworkers when there is a chance of their dropping off: besides, being thus kept in touch with the church, they are more likely to return to the choir when their voices are set. I noted in the issue of April 22nd that a parish council had ordered that no one under 14 should be allowed to ring, and I have a strong impression that this council was exceeding its powers, for I have always understood that the incumbent was the sole authority for any use of the bells.

My suggestion for getting recruits is that the foreman should ask the parish priest to put an article in the parish magazine, showing how anyone may become a ringer. Some such points as the following might be given, and perhaps others may add to them: It is really important to begin early, and there actually are ringers of 13 and even younger. It is not heavy work, as a rule, and boys are quite able to do it. There are no social distinctions among ringers, and the public school boy, the plough boy, the errand boy or the elementary school boy are equally welcome.

A reason for such an article is that there must be many who love bells, but have no idea how to set about ringing. I have been keenly interested in bells as long as I can remember, but it never came into my head to enter a tower. I had a sort of idea that I should be looked upon as a trespasser, and it was not until my last year at Oxford that I found out that I might be a ringer. What a difference it would have made if I had come up at least knowing how to handle a bell. Quite lately I came across a man in middle life who has now taken up ringing, and he told me that in his young days he had often asked how he might set about it, but no one could ever tell him!

It so happens that during the last few years I have had to do with a large number of young men who have begun, but the majority have dropped off when daunted by the difficulties of the early stages in change ringing: other interests have then claimed their attention and brought their ringing to an end. If they had begun earlier and got over the difficult stages before other interests began to multiply, there would have been much less chance of their being turned aside.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—28.*HAROLD G. CASHMORE.

The amazing performances of Mr. Harold G. Cashmore, of Watford, in conducting peals of Spliced Surprise Major on handbells have excited profound admiration throughout the Exercise. With his colleagues, he has raised the standard of 'double-handed' change ringing to a level undreamed of a few years ago. Their successes have been no 'flash in the pan'; they have gone on from height to height and their progress has been due largely to Mr. Cashmore's skilled conducting. They began with two methods, and have now rung peals in all numbers up to six, and each time men wonder whether the limit of mental strain has been reached.

Mr. Cashmore, who was born at Apsley End, Herts, on March 23rd, 1904, from the very first showed the promise which has since brought him into prominence as a brilliant conductor. His first peal, rung at Bushey Heath on November 26th, 1921, was Superlative Surprise, and his first as conductor was in the same method at Oxhey on March 18th, 1924, while his first peal on handbells was Superlative, which he called from 3-4 on March 17th, 1927. It has, indeed, been the quality rather than the quantity of Mr. Cashmore's peals that has made him so outstanding a figure. His total is only 155, of which he has conducted 108, but no fewer than 30 different Surprise Major methods are included in his performances, 19 of them being the 'first ever,' and he has conducted a peal in each of them. He has rung 19 peals on handbells in Surprise Major methods, and has conducted 15 of them, including the first peal of Cambridge Surprise on handbells, rung on March 22nd, 1933. Another peal which ranks high in the annals of ringing and which he conducted is the only peal of Eryri Major, rung at Bushey on November 23rd, 1935.

It is not only in the actual ringing, however, that Mr. Cashmore excels. In producing some new Surprise methods and the peal compositions to which they have been rung he has shown the greatest ingenuity, and the contributions which he has made to the art put him for all time in the front rank of this generation of ringers.

MR. HAROLD G. CASHMORE.*LADIES' AND GUILDFORD GUILDS ENTERTAINED.*A JOINT MEETING.

In conjunction with the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild, who held their nineteenth annual meeting, the Guildford District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild held an enjoyable meeting at Pirbright on Saturday. Nearly 40 members and visitors (including the general secretary of the Guild) attended, and were rewarded by a sumptuous strawberry tea, which was provided by the generosity of Mrs. Bruce, vice-president of the Ladies' Guild.

The Vicar (the Rev. H. S. Kelsey) conducted the Guild's service, and, taking as his theme the motto, 'I serve,' gave an address that was of real interest to bellringers.

At the business meeting which followed, a scheme for securing more honorary and ringing members was discussed, and it was unanimously decided that the district should participate.

A message of sympathy was sent to Mr. Walter Harrison, a vice-president of the Guild, in the bereavement suffered by the death of his daughter as the result of a motor accident.

During the afternoon and evening the bells were kept going in a variety of methods, ranging from Grandsire Doubles to an attempt at London Surprise Minor. A touch of Double Oxford appeared to be thoroughly enjoyed by all the performers, and to be especially relished by the Guild general secretary.

Mrs. Bruce presided at the business meeting of the Ladies' Guild, at which Mrs. Cope, of Guildford, was elected as an honorary member.

Mrs. Bruce was re-elected vice-president, and after much persuasion Miss H. Mills agreed to carry on as secretary. The committee and representatives to central committee were re-elected.

It was arranged to hold the next meeting at Yorktown on November 19th.

NEW MINOR RECORD.*CHESHIRE RINGERS' 84-METHOD PEAL.

Once more the record number of methods comprised in a peal of Minor in seven true extents has been raised. The Cheshire men, not to be outdone by the 80 methods of the Lincoln Guild ringers, on Saturday rang a peal in 84 methods at Disley. The first 720 included no fewer than 15 methods, 14 on the Alliance principle, completed with Bastow Little Court. The second 720 was made up of 13 plain methods. The other 720's have been rung in previous peals and are Treble Bob derivatives.

The Alliance extent was arranged by Mr. C. K. Lewis, who conducted the peal. He introduced four new methods into a 720 previously composed by Mr. A. G. Driver. The 13 plain methods extent was also Mr. Lewis' construction.

Since the Lincolnshire band entered into friendly rivalry, after the Chester Guild peal in 51 methods at Marple in 1935, the following is the progress of the record:—

Date	Place	No. of methods	Changes of method
June 13th, 1936	Algarkirk, Lincs	57	196
Aug. 3rd, 1936	Whaplode, Lincs	60	199
Aug. 8th, 1936	Freiston, Lincs	61	196
Aug. 22nd, 1936	Marple, Cheshire	66	138
Sept. 5th, 1936	Disley, Cheshire	68	138
Dec. 5th, 1936	Algarkirk, Lincs	70	173
June 12th, 1937	Buxton, Derbyshire	73	142
Dec. 4th, 1937	Algarkirk, Lincs	80	176
July 16th, 1938	Disley, Cheshire	84	178

LADIES' GUILD.*REORGANISATION OF DISTRICT AREAS.

The annual general meeting of the Ladies' Guild was held at St. Augustine's Church, Kilburn, London, on Saturday, July 9th, and was attended by 27 members. Ringing took place during the afternoon and evening and covered a variety of methods. A short service was conducted by the Rev. F. H. Moncrieff, curate.

After tea, to which 55 sat down, the business meeting was held, at which the president, Miss E. Steel, took the chair.

The accounts showed a much more satisfactory state of affairs, there being an excess of income over expenditure of £3 7s. 6d., as against 2½d. the previous year. The hon. treasurer pointed out that the balance would have been much larger had all outstanding subscriptions been paid.

The hon. secretary reported that the Guild was still progressing satisfactorily, and that the individual reports of the district secretaries would be embodied in the report to be published shortly.

Mrs. E. H. Lewis, of Brasted, was elected an honorary member, and Miss Le Beau, of Bocking, a ringing member.

Miss Steel was unanimously re-elected president, and Mrs. Fletcher hon. secretary and treasurer. The three representatives on the Central Council were also re-elected.

Mrs. Richardson reported on the Central Council meeting at Leeds. It was decided to inform the secretary of the Central Council that the Guild would be willing to fall in line with other associations, and would be prepared to purchase copies of the Surprise Major Method book to the value of £2.

The question of the division of districts was next discussed, and it was finally decided to alter and re-name some of the districts and to form one new district. The districts are now:—

1. NORTHERN DISTRICT.—To comprise the counties of Yorkshire and Lancashire and counties farther north.

2. NORTH MIDLAND DISTRICT.—To take the place of the present Lincoln District, and to comprise the counties of Lincolnshire, Nottinghamshire, Derbyshire, Staffordshire and Leicestershire.

3. SOUTH MIDLAND DISTRICT.—To take the place of the present Northants District, and to comprise the counties of Northamptonshire, Huntingdon, Cambridgeshire, Bedfordshire, Oxfordshire and Warwickshire.

4. EASTERN DISTRICT.—This to be a new district and to comprise the counties of Norfolk, Suffolk and part of Essex.

5. WESTERN DISTRICT.—As at present, but to include the counties of Worcestershire, Gloucestershire, Wiltshire, Dorset, Somerset, Devonshire and Cornwall.

6. SOUTHERN DISTRICT.—As at present, but to include the counties of Hampshire, Berkshire and parts of Surrey and Sussex.

7. LONDON DISTRICT.—To take the place of the Central District and to comprise London, Buckinghamshire, Hertfordshire, Middlesex, Kent and parts of Surrey, Sussex and Essex.

It was proposed that as a new district was being formed in the Eastern Counties, the next annual general meeting be held at Ipswich.

Hearty votes of thanks were passed to all who had helped to make the meeting such a success, and to the officers of the Guild for their work during the past year.

RINGER'S BEREAVEMENT.

On Sunday evening, June 26th, at St. Peter's, Leckhampton, Glos., a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung with the bells muffled as a last token of respect to Mrs. W. Townsend, wife of the Ringing Master, who was laid to rest on Saturday, June 25th: W. Townsend 1, F. Pratt 2, A. Hunt 3, C. W. Martin 4, W. B. Harley 5, J. F. Ballinger (conductor) 6, T. Boreham 7, C. Richings 8.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

ANNUAL FESTIVAL.

Bell Restoration Grants.

Although not so largely attended as in some previous years, the annual festival of the Oxford Diocesan Guild on Saturday at Oxford was a thoroughly enjoyable event. Representatives were present from all three of the counties that go to make up the great diocese, and they began the day with service in Christ Church Cathedral. The Master (Canon G. F. Coleridge) officiated, Bishop Allen (Archdeacon of Oxford) read the lesson, the preacher was Bishop R. G. Shedden and the Deputy Master of the Guild (the Rev. C. Elliot Wigg) also took part in the service, which was characterised by great heartiness in the singing.

Bishop Shedden took an unusual text upon which to base his address: 'And through a window in a basket was I let down by the wall' (2. Cor. 11, 33). He described the escape of Paul from the Damascenes, and, referring to the group of men who lowered the basket, said their responsibility in handling the rope was the fulfilment of the purpose of God. The contribution of ringers in this generation to the cause of Christ was, he said, through the handling of the ropes. That contribution, as was the case with the men who let down St. Paul in the basket, might be of far wider merit and greater value than they themselves had any conception of. Many of them, perhaps, were ringers principally because they belonged to bell-ringing families. Their fathers and grandfathers, perhaps, were ringers before them, so were their brothers and their uncles and cousins. He knew how strong was the family attachment to things of this sort, particularly in villages and country towns. Or it might be that the fascination of change ringing had attracted them. But subconsciously there might have been a little bit more in it, and whether they realised it themselves or not their contribution was a very important one to the cause of Jesus Christ in this land. Week by week throughout England from thousands of church towers the bells were flinging out Christ's challenge to the world. But for the ringers in their little belfry chambers handling the ropes these bells would be dumb; the challenge would no longer make itself heard so vigorously and methodically throughout the length and breadth of the land.

In many a parish only a tiny handful might assemble itself in the House of God. That might be the fault of the parson, or the fault of the people, or, more probably, the fault of both, but at least the men who handled the ropes in the belfry were doing their bit and the challenge of Christ continued to be uttered. One thought to-day of the lands in which the challenge of Christ had been effectively silenced; of Asia Minor where no single Christian bell sounded through all the land; of Russia where the challenge was being steadily and systematically stamped out; of Spain where, until the rising of General Franco, the same thing was in progress; of Germany where men who ventured to proclaim Christ were placed in concentration camps. Should such a day ever come about in England when the powers that be should attempt to silence the challenge of Christ, he believed that in every town and village the bellringers would be among the first to rally as a bodyguard around their Church to defend the freedom of its teaching, its worship and its sacraments. The clergy were grateful to the ringers for what they were doing for the Church, they appreciated the skill the ringers brought to their task and they wished them 'good luck.'

The collection at the service in aid of the bell restoration fund amounted to £2 13s. 6d.

MEMBERSHIP AND FUNDS.

The business meeting was held in the Chapter House, presided over by the Master (Canon G. F. Coleridge), supported by the Deputy Master (the Rev. C. Elliot Wigg), the hon. treasurer (Mr. A. D. Barker), the general secretary (Mr. R. T. Hibbert) and the Rev. St. George Edwards (Vicar of Checkenden). Later in the meeting Bishop Shedden and Bishop Allen joined the members, about a hundred of whom were present, representing all the branches. Among the apologies for absence was one from Lord Nuffield.

The Master, Deputy Master, secretary and hon. secretary each presented a report showing a healthy state of affairs in the Guild. The membership continued satisfactory, although it was regretted that a few towers had fallen by the wayside, 238 being now in union, compared with 258 in the previous year. Honorary and life members numbered 228, and ringing members, including 450 non-resident life subscribers, 2,436. The number of peals rung in 1937 was 83, including many Surprise methods, and a goodly number of first peals by young ringers. The general funds of the Guild amounted to £292 7s. 6d., of which £121 11s. 5d. was in the Restoration Fund. The annual reports cost £26 12s. 8d. to produce, but only £1 10s. 8d. was received from the sale of 92 copies.

The balance sheet showed receipts amounting to £118 8s. 3d., including £101 3s. 7d. from the branches. The expenses were £139 2s. 3d., leaving a balance of £96 1s. 11d. In addition the reserve fund has a balance of £74 14s. 2d.

All the officers were re-elected with thanks for their services.

Canon Coleridge, in replying, said he wanted them distinctly to understand that while he was happy to do all he could for the Guild, he was willing to give way to a younger man, one who could get about better than he could and who had more leisure.

Mr. Tom Hibbert reminded the members that that was the 21st time they had re-elected him as secretary, and said he had nearly reached the 'allotted span.' If, he added, I am re-elected 21 times more, I shall be an oldish chap (laughter). I shall be pleased to do what I can for another year (applause).

The General Committee were re-elected, as were also the representatives on the Central Council (Canon Coleridge, Messrs. A. E. Lock, A. D. Barker and R. A. Post).

The committee had recommended that the next annual festival be held at Oxford, but the 'usual' amendment that it be held at Reading was put forward. Reading, however, received only eleven votes and 'all the rest,' as the Master put it, voted for Oxford.

An appeal for the Canon Elsee memorial was received. The secretary said that while Canon Elsee was a great man in Lancashire and the Central Council, the Oxford Guild could not afford to put up stained glass windows in Lancashire. They wanted their money for their own restoration fund.

Mr. A. D. Cullum expressed the view that they should confine themselves to worthy objects in their own diocese.

It was decided to take no action on the appeal.

The question of revising the annual report was discussed and the matter was left to the officers and committee to deal with.

BELL RESTORATION ACTIVITIES.

Considerable discussion took place on the wording of the committee's recommendation regarding restoration grants: 'That all branch grants be duplicated.' Some members of the committee held that that was not the decision of the committee. The secretary, quoting from the minutes of the committee, showed that the list as recommended had been passed by the committee, and in each case the amount was the same as the sum also voted by the branches concerned, except for Farnham Royal, where the branch amount was less. Eventually, however, the sums recommended by the committee were approved, viz.: Witney £5 5s., Stanton Harcourt £3 3s., Stonesfield £5 5s., Farnham Royal £10 10s., Aston Tirrold £3 3s., Kirtlington £10 10s.

An appeal for a grant to Wantage bell restoration fund was received. The secretary said Wantage was one of the foundation towers of the Guild in 1881; they had never seceded and never been in arrears.

Bishop Shedden said the estimate for the immediately necessary work was £259, while another £60 ought to be spent if they could afford it.

It was stated that £5 5s. had been voted from branch funds, and it was decided to vote another £5 5s. from the restoration fund.

An application had also been received from Wing. The Master said he had been waiting for further details, as they did not yet know what was to be done or what the cost would be.

Mr. Vickers asked the Guild to help Wing, which was an agricultural parish that had recently had to spend £1,000 on the church roof owing to the death-watch beetle.

The Hon. Treasurer said Wing joined the Guild in 1907, but in six years every man had fallen out of the Guild and they had never belonged to it since. He did not think they should deplete their restoration fund for a place which gave no support to the Guild.

It was decided to leave the application in abeyance.

Mr. W. J. Paice said a good deal of restoration work was going on in the diocese. It was interesting to know that Sandhurst bells were being rehung. Sandhurst had been a great place for ringing until recently. It was through holding a quarterly meeting of the Guild there that they found there was trouble with the bells, and inspection showed they wanted rehanging. It was being done by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, but there was no need for an appeal to the Guild; the cost was being met by a lady of the parish (applause).

A report on the Central Council meeting was the next item on the agenda. Both Mr. T. J. Fowler and Mr. A. Cullum pointed out that this was entirely unnecessary after the full report published in 'The Ringing World,' and this view was endorsed by the meeting.

The Hon. Treasurer, however, said there was one matter arising out of the meeting that should be brought before the members, and that was with regard to the Surprise Methods book. The various guilds and associations were to be asked to shoulder some of the expense of publishing it. It did not, he said, mean paying money out of the guild funds, but that some responsible person should take up a number of copies of the book for the sale to members of the Guild. He would be prepared to buy a few copies when it was published.

The Master emphasised that this book would be an important addition to the works of that kind on ringing. The collection of methods would be a valuable one and every ringer who could afford it should have a copy on his shelf.

NEW MEMBERS.

The hon. secretary asked for the confirmation of the election of 149 members since the last meeting, and this was agreed to.

The Deputy Master reported on the drafting of the new service form for the Guild. It had, he said, been compiled, and he was trying it out at various branch meetings and getting expressions of opinion and suggestions. It was now pretty well in its completed form.

Mr. W. Birmingham, referring to the suggestion in 'The Ringing World' that ringers should be represented on Diocesan Advisory Boards, asked whether there was any representative of that Guild on the Oxford Diocesan Advisory Board to assist them in their deliberations on matters relating to bells.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.*KNUTSFORD'S OLD BELLS.

When a meeting of the Stockport and Bowdon Branch was held at Knutsford, some 45 members and friends availed themselves of the opportunity to ring on the fine peal of six bells by Rudhall. The weather was fine and warm and many spent an interesting afternoon exploring the interesting country town, which has close associations with Mrs. Gaskell, the novelist, to whom a monument has been erected in the centre of the town. For those who spent their time in the tower a variety of methods was rung, particular attention being paid to those who wished to try their hand at a new method and to the learners. In spite of the fact that the bells are hung the wrong way round, many good touches were rung.

The usual Guild form of service was employed and was conducted by the Vicar, who also contributed a very interesting address, basing his remarks on the antiquity of the metal used in the bells hung in the tower of his church. He said that they were originally a peal of four bells, and as such were mentioned in the Domesday book, but on transferring the bells to the present edifice from the old church, of which only slight traces remain, it was decided to make them into a peal of five by melting them down and recasting. This was done in the 18th century, when Rudhall, of Gloucester, was instructed to melt the old four bells down and make a peal of five. However, before the work was done, a public subscription was raised, and, as a result, a sixth bell was added to make the present peal. All down these long ages men had rung on these bells to call the people to worship, and, although we might think that at times the service of ringers was taken for granted, as it often was, he reminded them of the great privilege and duty which was theirs in calling together the people for the worship of God. He pointed out that unless the ringers themselves responded to that call, then much of its force was lost.

Tea followed, and, as the Vicar had to leave before the business meeting, a very hearty vote of thanks was accorded him for his services. The business was then transacted under the chairmanship of Mr. W. W. Wolstencroft, supported by the Rev. F. Bonner.

A report on the Guild committee meeting was presented, and it was decided to make the September meeting a joint meeting with the Macclesfield Branch. A resolution to send a letter to the Rev. Canon Calthrop, Rector of Stockport, expressing the wishes of the meeting for his happy retirement, was also passed.

The meeting concluded with a very hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar and wardens, the local ringers, the ladies who prepared tea, the organist and to all who had contributed to the success of the meeting.

Further ringing was then enjoyed until a late hour, and those who did not wish to ring were very kindly escorted by Mr. Hough to Tatton Park, where an enjoyable time was spent in wandering through this pleasant spot.

LUNCH IN CHRIST CHURCH HALL.

The Secretary said Canon Norris, who had rung bells in his time and knew a good deal about bells and ringing, was on the Board and was keenly interested to keep their end up.

Bishop Allen: He is chairman of the Advisory Committee.

A suggestion by the hon. secretary that the Deputy Master and the hon. treasurer should be allowed to claim their travelling expenses when attending branch annual meetings was referred to the next meeting of the committee after various members had supported the suggestion. The course taken was because the matter, being one of finance, must be put on the agenda, and Miss Robinson asked whether in the meantime the officials mentioned could not 'run up a little bill.'

The Master, however, frowned on this and it was not pressed.

This concluded the business, and the members adjourned to the handsome dining hall of Christ Church, where they partook of luncheon, Canon Coleridge presiding, supported by Bishop Sheddin and Bishop Allen.

The toast of 'Church and State' was drunk on the call of the Master, who then tendered the thanks of the Guild to the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral, and to the Governing Body of Christ Church for the facilities which had again been given them. He referred specially to the privilege of being allowed to use the great dining hall. There was, he said, no other Guild in the country which could hold its annual dinner in a building of that kind. Canon Coleridge also thanked Bishop Sheddin for his remarkable address, Bishop Allen for his kindness, and Dr. Armstrong, the organist.

The thanks having been endorsed with acclamation, Bishop Allen responded in a cheery speech of cordial welcome.

During the day many towers in Oxford were open for ringing, and the visitors were active throughout the afternoon and evening at the Cathedral (12), Magdalen College and New College (10), St. Giles', St. Ebbe's, All Saints' (8) and others.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.*YOUNG MEMBERS IN EVIDENCE.

The summer meeting of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association was held in Sunderland on Saturday, July 9th, when the bells of St. Michael's, Bishopwearmouth, and St. Ignatius-the-Martyr were placed at the disposal of the members.

There was no business to transact at this meeting, and the afternoon was devoted to ringing on the bells of St. Michael's.

Tea was served in St. Ignatius' Church Hall, and a representative gathering of 31 persons enjoyed an excellent meal. In the absence of the president (Mr. M. D. Oubridge), who, at the last minute, sent a telegram regretting his inability to be present and wishing the meeting every success, the chair was taken by Mr. R. L. Patterson (vice-president of the Eastern District). Mr. Patterson extended a welcome to Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, of London, and Mr. C. McGuinness, of Lincoln, and said how pleased the members were to welcome them to the North.

Mrs. Thomas and Mr. McGuinness were elected life members of the association.

A vote of thanks to the clergy concerned for the use of the bells and the church hall was proposed by Mr. C. L. Routledge, and responded to by the curate of St. Michael's.

Mr. John Anderson proposed a vote of thanks to the ladies for their kindness in serving tea.

Several touches were rung on handbells after tea, and throughout the afternoon and evening the bells of the two churches were fully employed, touches being brought round in various methods up to Surprise Major.

A most pleasing feature of the meeting was the presence of so many young ringers. It is to be hoped their interest will be maintained and that, in the future, they will become staunch members of the association. It was noted with interest that several of them are now taking part in the higher methods.

In the absence of the hon. treasurer, the Chairman drew attention to the fact that a number of subscriptions were still outstanding, and it is hoped that members will forward the amounts due (and overdue) without delay, and so relieve the officials of unnecessary work.

ANOTHER GLOUCESTER VETERAN DEAD.*MR. FRANCIS E. HART.

Gloucester has lost another old and respected ringer in Mr. Francis E. Hart, who passed to his rest on July 9th.

Mr. Hart had been a ringer at St. Mary-de-Lode Church for over 60 years and was one of the first members of St. Michael's Juniors. He was a ringer of the first water. He very rarely made a mistake in ringing; he was most punctual and reliable always—a pattern to every young ringer.

He was buried on July 12th, the first part of the service being held in St. Mary-de-Lode Church. As the cortege left the church, the bells were rung half-muffled, and after the committal at the cemetery four veterans rang a course of Grandsire Triples over the grave, their united ages being well over 300 years: S. E. Romans 1-2, J. Austin 3-4, J. Williams 5-6, G. Condict 7-8.

DEATH OF MR. ALBERT RILEY.*A LONDON TOWERKEEPER.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Albert Riley, late towerkeeper at the Church of St. John of Jerusalem, South Hackney, which occurred on Saturday last in the L.C.C. Hospital, St. Pancras, N.W.

Mr. Riley had been ill for some two years with an incurable internal complaint, which caused him almost continuous pain, and for many months had been a patient in the St. Pancras Hospital. His fortitude under great suffering was the admiration of those of his ringing friends who paid him an occasional visit. These visits, and his weekly copy of 'The Ringing World,' were his sole connection with ringing since he gave up over two years ago.

He was originally a ringer at St. James', Prebend Square, Islington, where there is a light peal of six. Later he rang at St. Mary's, Islington. He rang in a few peals, mostly Grandsire Triples, on the treble or tenor. Since the war he was towerkeeper at St. John of Jerusalem, South Hackney, where he made many efforts to form a local band, with varying degrees of success. If all towerkeepers were as keen and as hard-working as Albert Riley, there would be a different ringing outlook at many places in London.

He was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, the Middlesex County Association and the London County Association.

The funeral took place on Tuesday last at Highgate Cemetery, after a memorial service at St. James' Church, Prebend Square, Islington.

Afterwards the ringers went on to Appleton, two and a half miles away, where the bells were placed at their disposal.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION.*RESIGNATION OF MR. W. H. LAWRENCE.*Presentation After Long Service.

The Eastern District of the Hertford County Association held its summer meeting at Little Munden on Saturday, July 16th. It was probably the largest gathering of ringers ever assembled at Little Munden, and no doubt would have been larger if the weather had been more settled. Ringers came from St. Albans, Hitchin, Hertford, Great Munden, Broxbourne, London and many other districts. A service was held in the church during the afternoon, which was taken by the Rector of the parish, the Rev. J. Walmisley Dresser, the association's service paper being used. As ringers can sing as well as ring, the service was most hearty, helped by Miss Church at the organ (to whom we are most grateful), not forgetting the indispensable gentleman who did the blowing. A brief address was given by the Rector, in which he emphasised the importance of obedience in the belfry to the leader, and also to our common Master, the Lord Jesus Christ. It was a simple yet practical address, and we all felt grateful for the uplifting words. Tea was served in the Village Hall, under the supervision of Mrs. W. H. and Mrs. A. Lawrence, Miss Lawrence and other helpers, and they gave us a delightful tea and many smiles in return for a coin of the realm.

The business meeting followed, with the Rector in the chair. Owing to bodily weakness of Mr. W. H. Lawrence, at his request the minutes were read by Mr. G. W. Cartmel, the general secretary of the association.

The chief business was to receive the resignation of Mr. W. H. Lawrence, which had become imperative owing to failing health. Mr. G. W. Cartmel said Mr. Lawrence was elected district secretary for the Eastern Division on April 8th, 1901, so had put in 37 years' service. He appealed to the meeting to appoint a successor at once, as it was a real burden for Mr. Lawrence to carry on.

Mr. Ladley also spoke of his long connection with Mr. Lawrence and his work, his efficiency and the happy smiling welcome he always gave to the ringers at their meetings. One thing, he said, they all could do, and that was to pray daily for their brother in his distressing disablement, that he might be given the strength to attend some of the meetings, even though he was debarred from ringing. They were losing from the Eastern District more than a friend—a brother.

Then came a happy moment in which Mr. Albert Lawrence, a brother, announced that he would carry on until the next meeting of the district, to be held at Aspenden. This removed the tension of the meeting, and we all said a big inward 'Thank you, Brother Albert, for your brotherly action.'

Thanks were given to the Rector for his services, and in return he expressed the hope that another meeting might be held at Little Munden, and that they would accept his hospitality. To the ladies responsible for the catering a vote of thanks was also passed.

Mr. Roy Radley was elected a member of the association.

Under the item, 'Any other business,' Mr. G. W. Cartmel said that they had met that day to honour one who had done an immense service to the association, and who now, against his own wishes, was compelled to give up that work. Mr. Lawrence was one who had endeavoured always to put first things first, and had regarded bellringing as a service to God. In his efforts he had succeeded, and they honoured him for his character and the influence of his life.

Mr. Gilbert Debenham spoke most highly of Mr. Lawrence's good work, character and influence, after which Mr. G. W. Cartmel asked Mr. Lawrence to accept a cheque to the value of £21 from members of the association as a token of affection and gratitude for past services.

It is true to say that Mr. Lawrence was 'nonplussed'; at the moment he was in dreamland. The secret had been so well kept that he could not understand why so many had come to his meeting. He thanked all for their great kindness, and in doing so his heart was filled with such deep emotion that words failed to find expression from his lips.

So the meeting which had been convened under a cloud (even the heavens, black with rain, seeming in sympathy) came to an end, but the joyous notes of the bells and the service of praise and worship in the church and the helpful words from the Rector sent us away happy in the thought that our 'team work' had been successful, and that we had enjoyed the privilege of recognising the great services of a brother ringer in a tangible way.

RINGERS CONDUCT A SERVICE.*DIFFICULTIES SURMOUNTED AT OXFORD GUILD MEETING.

A meeting of the City and District Branch of the Oxford Guild on July 9th was in some respects remarkable. It had been arranged at Cumnor, but it was found on arrival that the bells were not available for ringing, nor a clergyman to conduct the service. This, however, did not prevent a programme being carried through. Mr. E. J. B. Morton, the new district secretary, being a lay reader, conducted the service and gave a short extempore address. Mr. W. Collett read the lesson, and Master Archibald Hollis, the thirteen-year-old organist at Bladon, who is hoping to become a ringer, presided at the organ.

The business meeting was held in the Parish Hall, when £1 10s. was voted to the J. J. Parker memorial.

A JOINT MEETING.

On Saturday, June 18th, Cosgrove was the venue of the first joint meeting of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild (Towcester Branch) and the Oxford Diocesan Guild (North Bucks Branch), and it proved to be very successful, both branches being well represented. The bells were at the ringers' disposal from 2 p.m. Service was conducted by the Rev. E. V. Fenn, Vicar of Lois Weedon, near Towcester, secretary of the Towcester Branch, and the address was given by the Rev. J. P. Taylor, Rector of Hanslope and an honorary member of North Bucks Branch. Tea was served at the Barley Mow and about 40 sat down. A very nice selection of tunes on handbells was given by Mr. E. C. Lambert and family, of Cosgrove, whose efforts were much appreciated.

The secretary of the North Bucks Branch addressed the meeting and expressed pleasure at the splendid response the members of both branches had made. He hoped in the near future to arrange another meeting. These gatherings, he was sure, promoted good fellowship and did quite a lot of good.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

THE LADIES' GUILD.

For the first time the Ladies' Guild has framed an organisation which is really designed to cover the whole country. Ever since its formation, now more than twenty-five years ago, the Guild has had what may be termed a national status, in that its membership has been open to lady ringers in every part of the country, but only now has its organisation been so spread that it can be said to embrace all the counties. Plans were adopted at the recent annual meeting dividing the country into seven districts, which will enable ladies everywhere to feel that they are in direct touch with their Guild, instead of being, as many of them are, isolated units, who seldom, if ever, have contact with the rest.

The defects of the past in the organisation of the Guild have not been the fault of the executive, which has long been searching for an adequate solution of the great difficulty of bringing the scattered membership into a more cohesive whole upon its limited financial resources. The Guild has grown from very small beginnings; it has had to feel its way under many handicaps, and it still labours under difficulties from which ordinary territorial associations do not suffer, at any rate to the same degree. A county or diocesan organisation with four hundred or five hundred members in a more or less compact area can achieve much; but a similar, or even smaller membership, scattered over the whole country is a very different proposition. For one thing the absence of constant personal contacts makes it extremely hard, if not impossible, to arouse any real enthusiasm, and except in certain centres, where there happens to be a little body of ladies within a small area, this is one of the drawbacks which have made the carrying on of the Ladies' Guild one of so much difficulty. That the Guild has been the success it has is a tribute to the keenness of its officers, and especially to Mrs. E. K. Fletcher, who has been at the secretarial helm from the day of the Guild's inauguration.

The mere reorganisation into more definite and expanded districts will not in itself, however, perform any miracles. There is much work to be done. Hitherto the districts have been, for the most part, very loosely defined, now the country has been divided into clear-cut areas. That they extend to half a dozen counties each may seem, at first sight, to be something in the way of 'out-size' districts to work, but financial requirements have largely dictated the scheme. Smaller districts would have left some of them without sufficient means to carry on, but there is hope that under the new organisation more members will be brought in, and a new enthusiasm for the Guild inspired. There are, we know, some of the opposite sex who think the ladies can get all the organisation they need through the existing territorial societies; but there is a place in the Exercise for the Ladies' Guild; its steady growth and the patient endeavour of its officers during more than a quarter of a century have justified it. We hope that the reorganisation will lead eventually to an increasing influx of members and the success which the Guild deserves.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

RINGING MISSIONARIES CONVERTED INTO CRICKETERS.

The July meeting of the Leeds and District Society was held at Hunslet on July 23rd (one week earlier than usual, in order to avoid Leeds 'holiday week,' which starts on Saturday). It is a number of years since the Leeds Society visited Hunslet, and on arrival the visitors found a welcome from Mr. Cole, who with a little help had been very busy making ready for the event. Unfortunately a number of weddings (actually there were seven) delayed the start of ringing.

Ringing, however, commenced soon after 4 p.m., and, except for the usual breaks, continued until 9 o'clock.

The business meeting was held in the tower, the president (the Rev. J. H. B. Andrews) occupying the chair. Members were present from Armley, Batley, Drighlington, Headingley (St. Chad's and St. Michael's), Idle, Leeds Parish Church, Rothwell and the local company. Mr. R. F. Deal, of London, was present, also Mr. Maurice Hodgson, a member of the society on leave from his work in London. Two new members, Messrs. George Smith and Allan White, of the Hunslet tower, were elected.

The vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and the local company was proposed by the president and seconded by Mr. P. J. Johnson.

The Rev. D. H. S. Mould acknowledged the vote and said he was pleased to see the visitors, but regretted that more of his own ringers were not present. They had gone out to try and interest more of the young men of the parish in ringing, but they themselves had been invited to join the church cricket team, and were at that moment finishing off a match.

The next meeting of the society is to be held at Calverley on August 27th.

PEAL NOTES.

The tenor was rung by Ernest W. Pye, son of the late Mr. William Pye, one of the greatest tenor ringers of all time.

Mr. Urban W. Wildney has now rung to peals all the bells in his local tower, Kirby-le-Soken, Essex.

Mr. F. G. Brett, of Canterbury, has completed peals of Kent Treble Bob, from Minor to Maximus. He took part in seven 720's of Minor on Saturday at Wickhambreaux, which was the first peal of Kent on the bells and by all the band.

Mr. Herbert Marsh, a member of St. Paul's Church ringers, Chippenham, obtained his first peal of Stedman on July 23rd at the ninth attempt, the last attempt being in 1934.

PEAL NOTES.

EASTERN COUNTIES' LADIES' PEAL.

The first peal in the Eastern Counties by ladies resident in the area was rung on Sunday week at Higham, Suffolk, and it was a highly creditable performance, seeing that the majority of the band have only just begun peal ringing.

The peal, which was in three methods of Minor, was arranged to celebrate the decision to form a new Eastern District that is shortly to be inaugurated in the reorganisation of the Ladies' Guild.

The conducting was jointly shared by those two enthusiastic young ladies, Miss Sylvia Bowyer, of Ipswich, and Miss Hilda Snowden, of Halstead. It is hoped this is the forerunner of many other peal performances by ladies in the Eastern Counties, and that many other members of the sex will follow the example that has been set.

The band who rang the handbell peal at Burgess Hill, Sussex, on July 1st, have not been long in following up their initial success. They have rung another peal of Bob Major with a different conductor.

The new incumbent of Hardington-Mandeville, Somerset, was welcomed on Sunday with a peal of Doubles on the bells of his Parish Church.

Mr. J. E. Bailey rang his fiftieth peal for the Kent County Association on July 2nd, when, deputising at short notice, he took part in a peal of New Cambridge at Swanscombe.

For six weeks, the Rev. L. Harold Hinricks, Rector of Grace Church, Nutley, New Jersey, U.S.A., carried out the duties of priest-in-charge at Chaddesley Corbett, Worcestershire, during the absence in America of the Rector. On July 19th, Mr. Hinricks returned to U.S.A., but two days before his departure a peal was rung at Chaddesley Corbett as a compliment and farewell to him.

At Claines, Worcestershire, a peal of Oxford Bob Triples on July 16th was a 'welcome home' to the Rev. W. E. Harley (curate) and Mrs. Harley, on their return from their honeymoon.

The Rector of Handsworth, Sheffield (the Rev. W. A. Baker) was installed as Archdeacon of Sheffield, at Sheffield Cathedral, on July 21st. Last Saturday his Sunday service ringers rang a peal of Bob Major in his honour. It also served as a birthday peal to John Gilbert, who called the peal from the tenor and thereby completed the 'circle' of the tower.

Another ringer to 'circle' a tower is Mr. Lionel Clough, who has now rung all the bells to a peal at Norbury, Cheshire, where he is a member of the band.

A peal of Grandsire Caters to commemorate the centenary of the city of Birmingham was rung at St. Philip's Cathedral on Saturday.

NORFOLK BRANCH OFFICIALS' PEAL.

At Buxton, Norfolk, where the Rev. H. W. Benson, chairman of the North Norfolk Branch of the Norwich Diocesan Association, is Vicar, a peal of Minor was rung on Saturday by five elected members of the Branch Committee and the branch secretary (Mr. H. Tooke), who called his first peal in seven methods.

The first peal in seven Treble Bob methods for the Shropshire Association was rung on July 17th at Forton. Only one member of the band, Mr. E. V. Rodenhurst, had previously rung a peal in seven Treble Bob Minor methods, either.

Mr. Herbert L. Harlow, of Bedford, rang his 250th peal on July 21st, when he took part in seven 720's of Minor at Tilsworth, Bedfordshire.

A peal of Stedman Doubles rung at Kids Grove, Staffordshire, on July 16th, for the 21st birthday of Miss Nancy Thompson, of Newcastle, Staffs, enabled Mr. R. T. Holding, of Crewe, to complete peals of Stedman from Doubles to Cinques.

Having already rung a peal of Spliced Surprise Major in four methods, Mr. Walter Tomlinson, of Lincoln Cathedral company, has just rung his first peal of London Surprise Major. This was at Harmston on July 20th.

A peal of Minor on tower bells in 2 hours 20 minutes is 'good going,' at any rate in regard to pace. This was done at Barnby-in-the-Willows, Notts, on July 19th, when the quickest peal on the bells was rung.

Peals in all the four standard methods have now been rung on the bells at Whitechurch Canoniscom, Dorset, the last being Grandsire Triples on July 19th. The chairman of the West Dorset Branch was the conductor, Mr. C. H. Lathey, the hon. secretary, and Messrs. Bishop and Powell, Ringing Masters, took part. With the exception of Messrs. Bishop and Lathey, the band was made up from Lyme Regis tower. The peal was rung as a welcome to the new Vicar.

Miss Hilda Snowden and her brother, Claude, rang in their first peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal at Prittlewell, Essex, on Saturday (incidentally there were three other 'firsts'). They have now rung peals of Cambridge from Minor to Maximus, and Mr. Fred Dench, who called the peal, has composed, rung and conducted peals of Cambridge Surprise Major, Royal and Maximus, twice over. The Minor, he says, has beaten him, but we hardly like to believe that.

The first peal on the bells at Easebourne, Sussex, was rung on July 20th. The ringers thank Mr. Jack Etherington for getting the bells ready and for his kind hospitality after the peal.

A peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor at Stoke-by-Nayland, Suffolk, on Sunday, was the quickest peal on the bells, although it took 3 hours 8 minutes. But the tenor is 26 cwt.

KIRTLINGTON BELLS RESTORED.*TREBLE RECAST BY OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

The Bicester Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild now possesses another fine ring of eight. The bells at Kirtlington were rededicated on Thursday, July 21st, after a visit to Loughborough. The treble and seventh have been recast, the treble, as recorded in the inscription, 'by the Oxford Diocesan Guild of Church Bellringers,' and the seventh by the Emma Barron Trust. The other bells have been tuned and the octave hung in new cast iron frame with new fittings. They are now a very fine eight, with 16 cwt. 1 qr. 19 lb. tenor.

The Rev. Canon A. W. Batchelor, D.C.I., Rural Dean, performed the dedication service, assisted by the Vicar, the Rev. R. W. Bennett, and other clergy.

After a very bright service and an interesting sermon by the Rural Dean, a long evening was left for ringing, which was appreciated by a goodly number of visitors. A course of Stedman Triples was rung by a representative band, consisting of officers of the Guild, with Mr. J. P. Fidler, of the Loughborough Foundry, whilst the procession of clergy and choir went back to the east end from the tower, and the local men rang call changes as the congregation dispersed.

Then Stedman and Grandsire Triples, Bob Major and Bristol Surprise, with other items, floated over the village. It is hoped that the local band will now soon become change ringers and enjoy their bells more than in days gone by.

NEW SOCIETY'S FIRST QUARTER-PEAL.

The first attempt made for a quarter-peal by the association formed in March this year in Keresley and Coundon, Warwickshire, was successful. On Whit Tuesday, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles, with ten callings, was rung at St. Thomas' Church, Keresley: S. Oughton 1, P. Stone 2, A. W. Bristow (first quarter-peal 'inside') 3, S. J. Oughton 4, W. A. Stote (conductor) 5. First quarter-peal by S. and S. J. Oughton, who have only been method ringing for four months. There are twelve ringers at the tower, all members of the Warwickshire Guild.

HORNSEY RINGERS' FIRST 720.

The ringers of Hornsey Parish Church on their annual outing celebrated the occasion by ringing 720 changes of Grandsire Doubles, in 24 minutes, on the bells of the lovely old Parish Church of Wallington, Herts: W. Blee 1, K. Robinson 2, E. G. Hibble 3, R. J. Franklin 4, J. Clowston (conductor) 5, J. Keep (Wallington) 6. For all, save the conductor and Mr. Hibble, this was a first 720.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.*A MEMORIAL FUND.

The summer festival of the Ely Diocesan Association was held at Wisbech on Saturday. Members came from Cambridge, Chatteris, Elm, Ely, Fincham, Great Shelford, Gressenhall, Harston, Hilgay, Newton, Peterborough, Pinchbeck, Pulham, Ramsey, Shouldham, Swaffham, Terrington St. Clement, Terrington St. John, Tydd St. Giles, Trumpington, Walsoken and Wisbech. Service was conducted by the Vicar, and Mrs. W. W. Cousins acted as organist.

After tea the business meeting was held in the tower, with the Rev. Canon Covey-Crump in the chair.

The summer festival in 1939 is to be at St. Neots.

It was decided to open a fund towards the memorial to the late Rev. B. H. Tyrwhitt-Drake, each district secretary to be asked to appeal to his members, to supplement the grant already voted from the funds of the association. The memorial is to take the form of a tablet in Watlington Church.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar, the Rev. H. K. Stallard, to Canon Covey Crump and to Mrs. Cousins.

Good use was made of the delightful ring of ten bells during the afternoon and evening.

'CATHEDRAL' OF VALE OF BELVOIR.*APPEAL FOR RESTORATION OF BELLS.

The bells of Langar Church, Notts, have got into a very dilapidated condition and have been silent for some years. The death-watch beetle has wrought havoc in the old timber of the frame, the bearings and fittings are dropping to pieces, and to put the bells into order again a sum of over £250 is required, while if a treble is added to make a ring of six while the other work is being carried out, another £70 will be needed.

The Rector, the Rev. J. Kyrle Chatfield, writes to 'The Ringing World' appealing for help for the scheme. He says, 'The sum required to be spent on the church bells is beyond the resources of our parish of well under 500 souls. A fund has been opened at the Nottingham Savings Bank, and about £27 there stands to our credit.'

'In one of the so-called deserted villages of Nottinghamshire we possess a magnificent church, commonly known as the Cathedral of the Vale of Belvoir. A generation ago large sums were raised for the repair of the nave roof, etc. But nothing has been done for the bells for nearly eighty years. Of course, we should like such a venerable church as ours to possess six bells, but the repair of the five existing bells brooks no delay. I appeal to all your readers to help as generously as they can. I will gladly acknowledge any sums forwarded to me to Langar Rectory, near Barnstone, Notts.'

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. Rupert Richardson wishes to thank all the ringers who so kindly supported him in his effort for the Surfleet Church Heating Fund by sharing in the opportunity of buying a bicycle. The privilege of securing the machine for a penny went to the holder of ticket No. 1,523, Mrs. J. Summerfield, The Reservoir, Surfleet. By this effort the fund was helped to the extent of £30 5s. 10d.

Hartfield in Sussex has a ring of six bells, all of them originally cast in 1782. A list of the bells, framed in the belfry, records that the tone of one of them used to vary with the changes of the weather. On examination it was found that the bell was cracked. So, probably, was the person who thought of the weather as the reason for the variation of tone.

It must be a rare occurrence for two London Surprise Major bands to be in a tower together on a practice night, but last week at St. Peter's, Brighton, one band rang a course of this method, while another sat in the tower, 'umpiring' it.

The Vicar of Erdington has appointed Mr. J. Preston as Ringing Master. Mr. G. F. Swann will act as deputy.

The 'Somerset' week, which has been enjoyed for several years by some well-known members of the Exercise, begins to-morrow, with headquarters, as usual, at Wrington. It is something of the 'go-as-you-please' order.

Other 'weeks' in the near future, devoted principally to peal ringing, are to take place in Staffordshire and Shropshire; Gloucestershire; and Cornwall.

A band from Birmingham had an unfortunate experience at Manchester on a recent Saturday. They attempted a peal of Stedman Cinques on the new bells at the Town Hall, but after three and a half hours of excellent ringing, with the end well in sight, the tenor ringer had to give up owing to exhaustion.

THE ADVANTAGES OF BEGINNING EARLY.

To the Editor.

Sir,—There seem to be many differences about the best age to begin ringing. Most ringers think that only adults should learn. I am convinced that there is something in it, but that in itself the idea is mistaken. Undoubtedly teaching children is an art, and it is one that one cannot expect ringers, as a rule, to possess. On the other hand, it is much easier for children to learn how to handle a bell when young, and if they have thoroughly mastered it then, they will never lose that much skill.

Again, what boys learn as children they often want to forget when growing up.

I have found the best way to combine these differing requirements is to let children learn to manage a bell as soon as they are able to reach the rope; on no account to press them, rather to discourage them, and certainly not to teach them to ring more changes than the four-and-twenty on four bells, till they are at least fourteen. After that age, if they take to it, they will probably become keen change ringers.

Members of P.C.C.'s usually believe, or can easily be persuaded, that children learning to ring will damage bells. It should be pointed out to them that before anyone can ring they must learn, and that if they have learned when young, the bells must necessarily be much less knocked about. In fact, that children, properly supervised, are not strong enough to do much harm to bells.

It may be that this is the difficulty, and that the P.C.C. in question only meant that children, if they learn, must be properly supervised, but have expressed themselves awkwardly. I think we all should agree that children must always be supervised, and that it is not everyone who can look after children.

HERBERT DRAKE.

A BOOK FOR CONDUCTORS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With regard to the suggestion at the Central Council meeting that a book for conductors be published, I think this is worthy of support. It would be very convenient for conductors to have such information in a small and concise book, which should also contain touches of various lengths in Minor methods, such as Treble Bob, Double Court and others, which young conductors often have difficulty in finding when various lengths are required for Sunday service ringing. I think there would be a demand for such a book.

MR. W. H. LAWRENCE'S THANKS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I desire to tender my sincere and heartfelt thanks to the many kind friends who so generously subscribed to the testimonial presented to me at the meeting at Little Munden on Saturday, July 16th. I value it more than words can express and hope to meet many of those who were unable to be present to thank them personally as opportunity presents itself.

CHARLES T. COLES.

Few ringers have done so much to further and develop the art as Mr. Charles T. Coles, hon. secretary of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild, or have spent more time and thought in the interests of the Exercise than he. Mr. Coles is one of those who takes his ringing in dead earnest, and it is that which has made his long years of service to his association so invaluable. Although he has done more peal ringing than most people, his contribution to the promotion of change ringing has been displayed with equal enthusiasm in many directions.

Born at Islington, he learned to ring a bell at St. George's-in-the-East, London, and it was there that he rang his first peal on March 30th, 1905. Since 1909, however, he has been attached to St. Mary's, Walthamstow. In 1910 he was elected joint hon. secretary of the Middlesex Association, and secretary of the North and East District. He has energetically served the association as a secretary ever since, and last April, when there was a redrafting of the rules and a rearrangement of offices, he was elected the first general hon. secretary of the association, which he has represented on the Central Council since 1921.

It was his connection with the late Mr. William Pye which built up Mr. Coles' peal ringing career, and he rang 621 peals with that great master of the art, to whose help and advice, both in ringing and conducting, Mr. Coles attributes much of his success.

Mr. Coles, who rang his first peal as conductor at St. James', Clerkenwell, on Jan. 14th, 1911, when he called a peal of Superlative Surprise Major, has now rung 959 peals (including 11 on handbells), of which he has conducted 256. These peals have included many notable performances. For instance, he was one of the company who, although not actually the first to ring Spliced Surprise Major, were pioneers in the development of this form of ringing.

Peals in all numbers of methods from three to twelve were rung by the same band, and they include the only peals in ten, eleven and twelve Surprise Major methods yet rung, and the record of 5,760 in nine methods at Willesden on December 1st, 1931.

Mr. Coles has taken part in other interesting records, among them the longest length of Cambridge Surprise Royal, 10,440 changes, at St. Mary's, Walthamstow, on December 26th, 1923, and the record length of 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Ashton-under-Lyne on August 5th, 1929, as well as in the two great performances of 7,392 of Cambridge Maximus at St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheapside, London, on December 19th, 1925, and the 5,280 in the same method at Exeter Cathedral on October 15th, 1932. Altogether Mr. Coles has taken part in 82 peals of Surprise Maximus, including the only peals of Spliced Surprise Maximus yet rung. Three times he has rung two peals of Surprise Maximus in one day, and he was one of the band who made a flying trip to Dublin and scored the only peal of Cambridge Maximus rung out of England. He has conducted peals of Cambridge Surprise from Minor to Maximus, and of Yorkshire from Major to Maximus. At Walthamstow in 1926 he conducted the first and, up till now, the only peal of Spliced Cateters in three methods—Erin, Stedman and Grandshire. His peals have been spread over 323 towers in 47 counties (46 in England and Wales and five in Ireland), and they have been rung for 32 associations and guilds.

WOKING RINGER'S DEATH.

The funeral took place on Tuesday of Mr. Fred Elliott, a member of the Guildford Diocesan Guild attached to the band at Woking. He was only 32 years of age and died from septicæmia following teeth extraction. In addition to being a ringer, he was a chorister and Sunday School teacher, and also a special constable.

Before and after the funeral, at which there was a large attendance, the bells of the Parish Church were rung half-muffled.

The deceased was shortly to have been married, and much sympathy is felt with the bereaved family and his fiancée.

MR. CHARLES T. COLES.

STEDMAN TRIPLES.

UNPROVEN PROPOSITIONS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I am once more compelled to protest against the unscientific way in which real problems connected with the scientific side of ringing are treated by certain members of the Exercise and also at the airy way in which unproven propositions are said to be obvious.

On page 135 of the new book on Stedman we are informed that it is a fact 'that a peal in the method with ordinary bobs only is not possible,' and, whilst I would agree with the author when he says it is a difficult thing to prove, I cannot agree with him when he says that it is a fact that cannot be doubted; in fact, there are certain indications that a peal without singles is within the bounds of possibility. I do not say that it is possible to compose such a peal, but I maintain that until a definite proof is put forward, one way or the other, the question should be considered as open and the issue should not be clouded by mere supposition unless that supposition be of a constructive type. It must be remembered that in the past many things have been stated by members of the Exercise to be impossible of achievement which have been successfully brought to fruition, e.g., Thurstans is stated to have declared that a peal with two singles (doubles) was impossible, and again only recently I showed that it was possible to obtain an exact two-part peal in this method with only two singles after it had been stated to be impossible.

The arguments Mr. Trollope puts forward, which are based on a resemblance between Plain Bob Q sets and those of Stedman, cannot be substantiated to any great extent, as the context of any row in the one is fixed by the position of the treble, whilst in the case of the other, the preceding and the following rows can be arrived at by several different transpositions, all of which must be considered as taking their own part in the list of Q sets of the final composition. It might seem to be absurd to consider, say, each thirds in the slow as being part of a Q set, but it is as well to remember that Shipway and W. H. Thompson both obtained peals of Original Triples (they gave them as Grandshire with fifth's place bobs) by the use of third's and fifth's place bobs only, and it is obvious that a normal peal of Stedman is little more than a peal of spliced Original and Reverse Original Triples with third and fifth place bobs, so that it would seem that it is quite pertinent to ask for a definite proof that a peal without singles is impossible.

Somewhat later in the book (page 139) we are informed that whilst in theory it is easy to compose a peal of Stedman based on B blocks, 'in practice the problem is complicated by the fact that sooner or later you . . . find that a row needed as a six-end occurs in the middle of a six. This is probably the reason (compared with a defective knowledge of Q sets) why it took John Noonan so very many hours of patient experimenting . . . and why he had to make use of as many as 22 singles.' Here again it is exceedingly difficult to agree with what is said, as it seems to me that the only rational way to compose an extent peal is to collect the material together in a suitable form (B blocks or modified P blocks) and then to proceed to join it together and not, as is implied here, to proceed with the composition in a hand to mouth manner. If the B block ends (or heads) are chosen first of all, then it is easy to see by mere inspection if the necessary shunts can be obtained, so that if not, the offending block can be replaced before the composition proper is commenced. It would seem that any procedure, involving a hit and miss method, would indicate just as defective knowledge of Q sets as it is implied Noonan had.

It might also be pointed out that even if a peal is composed from pure B blocks there is no necessity for there to be more than six consecutive calls at any point in the peal, and also there is no foundation for the general statement that 'it would be difficult to call.'

I might also point out as a matter of general interest that Edwards' peal can be put into a regular form by calling a single instead of a bob when 4-5 are behind at any place in the first half-peal and then repeating the whole. The special calls which are repeatedly deplored are not essential.

GLOUCESTER RINGERS ENTERTAINED AT WHITMINSTER

A very successful meeting of the Gloucester Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association was held at Whitminster on Saturday, when about 30 ringers and friends attended and rang on the six bells during the afternoon.

After service, tea was partaken of at Whitminster House through the kind generosity of Miss Teesdale, who heartily welcomed the members to her residence. At the business meeting which followed, two new honorary members and five performing members were elected, while a collection on behalf of the Belfry Fund realised 8s. 6d.

Ex-Sergt. Williams proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector (the Rev. R. J. Jackson) and to Miss Teesdale for providing such an excellent tea. This was seconded by Mr. J. Austin.

Both the Rector and Miss Teesdale suitably responded, the latter saying she hoped the association would pay another visit in the near future.

The handbells were then brought into use by ex-Sergt. Williams, Mr. J. Austin and other members of the company.

PEAL OF EIGHT FOR SURREY VILLAGE.

SUCCESSFUL INCORPORATION OF PRE-REFORMATION BELLS.

Ewhurst, a Surrey beauty spot, lying at the foot of Pitch Hill from which the great expanse of the Sussex Weald can be viewed, has now a peal of eight bells, two trebles having been added to the former ring of six, which have been restored by the recasting of the old trebles and the provision of an entirely new frame and fittings. The scheme has been made possible by two generous gifts. The Barron Bell Trust gave a grant to meet the cost of putting the existing bells in order and providing the new frame, while the new trebles are the gift of a parishioner, Mr. A. E. Wills, in memory of his wife.

The two heaviest bells in the tower were made by William Eldridge, of Chertsey, in 1671, but from the antiquarian standpoint the two next lighter ones are most interesting. They date from the 15th century and are among the oldest bells in Surrey. They bear the inscriptions, on one 'Sacte Johannis ora pro nobis,' on the other, 'Sancte Petre Or.' They were probably the product of a Wokingham foundry, as they bear the stamps used by Roger Landen. The two former trebles were cast at Whitechapel in 1839. The present work of restoration has been carried out by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and the skilful way in which the pre-Reformation bells have been incorporated, especially bearing in mind that one of them had had the lip entirely chipped away, is not the least notable feature of the undertaking. The restored peal mingles the ancient and the modern, but the tones of old and new have been so nicely adjusted that they form a very harmonious whole.

The Bishop of Guildford performed the dedication on Sunday week and great interest was manifested in the event. The church could not accommodate all who attended and the service was relayed to a large number who were seated in the churchyard.

The special form of service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. J. B. Dollar), the lesson being read by the Rev. W. J. Roberts (Pastor of the Congregational Church). The formal dedication took place while the Bishop, clergy, churchwardens and choir stood beneath the central tower. The Bishop first asked a blessing upon the work which had been done, and then, having 'solemnly set apart these bells from all profane and common uses,' blessed and dedicated them to the glory of God and the service of His Holy Church.

After delivering the ropes to the Rector, with the command to receive the bells as a sacred trust committed to him as the appointed minister of Christ in that church and parish, and to 'take heed that they be ever and only used to His service and for His glory,' the Bishop gave three strokes on one of the bells to signify the completion of the ceremony. After prayers had been said, the procession returned to the chancel, while the local ringers, under their captain, Mr. W. Denyer, rang the bells in rounds.

The Bishop's address was based upon Psalm 122, 'I was glad when they said unto me we will go into the House of the Lord.' He spoke of the ministry of church bells and of the gratitude that must be felt to those by whose labour and skill and forethought the restoration of the old bells had been carried through. The bells, which linked them with the ages of long ago, had now been successfully restored, and to them had been added a gift which love and remembrance had made.

During the singing of the final hymn, 'Lifted high within the tower, all our bells are set on high,' a collection was taken for the fund to defray the cost of certain necessary work to the tower in connection with the restoration of the bells.

After the service ringers from many churches in the diocese had the opportunity of ringing and were entertained to tea by the Rector and parishioners.

Responding to a vote of thanks proposed by Major J. H. B. Hesse (Master of the Guildford Diocesan Guild), the Rector expressed pride in the augmented peal of bells, and, referring to the difficulties of dealing with the pre-Reformation bells, jokingly remarked that a spot of candle grease dropped on one of them about the year 1846, and the Advisory Committee would not allow them to touch it on account of its age (laughter). So they put another close to it to keep it company in case it should be lonely (laughter). However, they managed to please everybody and they got what they wanted themselves (applause).

In the evening further ringing took place, and the effect of the bells from various points in the parish proved very pleasing.

BRISTOL TOWER CELEBRATES TENTH ANNIVERSARY.

The tenth anniversary of the installation of the peal of eight bells (by Mears and Stainbank) at St. Ambrose's, Bristol, was celebrated on July 14th.

It is very pleasing to report that these bells have been regularly rung for Sunday service both morning and evening, practically without exception, throughout this time. The Guild has lost several of its members through death and other causes, but has managed to teach sufficient new members to fill the vacancies, and to keep the band up to its usual standard, which is very gratifying in these days when one hears of so many churches with bells, but no regular ringers.

To mark the anniversary a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung for evensong on July 17th by the following members: E. J. Ridler 1, A. Knight 2, Raymond Adams (first quarter-peal 'inside') 3, Mrs. F. Skidmore 4, F. Skidmore (conductor) 5, A. C. Baker 6, G. S. Wiltshire 7, A. T. Maggs 8.

AN ANCIENT CHURCH CRAFT.

ACTON RECTOR AND BELLRINGING.

A very pleasant meeting of the South and West District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held at the Parish Church of St. Mary, Acton, on Saturday. About 40 members and friends were present from Acton, Barnes, Battersea, Chalfont St. Peter's, Chiswick, Croydon (St. Peter's), Denham, Ealing (Christ Church, St. Mary's and St. Stephen's), Hillingdon (St. Andrew's and St. John's), Kensington (St. Mary Abbot's), Kingsbury, Priddlewell, Putney, Ruiship, Twickenham, Uxbridge and Westminster (St. Margaret's).

The bells were raised soon after 3 p.m. and were kept going at intervals till about 8.30 p.m., the methods rung ranging from Grand-sire Triples to Cambridge and Superlative Surprise, some good touches being brought round under the supervision of Mr. J. Herbert, Ringing Master, and Mr. W. H. Ellingham, Deputy Ringing Master.

A short service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. Percival Gough, M.A.), the lesson being read by the vice-president (Mr. J. A. Trollope). The hymn, 'Ruiship Bells,' specially composed for the association at Ruiship, was sung.

The Rector, in an eloquent address, welcomed those present, and expressed his thanks to those members of the association who made a point of ringing his bells once a month, a service which was greatly appreciated. The Rector referred to those ancient crafts of the Church, such as building and carving, when, as in the Middle Ages, each had a social meaning and a religious symbolism, when these symbols were a living language and taught the people at a time when there was little reading and writing; and made comparison with the present day with its new buildings when all is done by mechanical means and mass production, and amid the secular noises of the present, even the sound of the bells raised objections. Let them remember, said the Rector, that the ancient craft of bellringing was now about the only real craft left to the Church; it called for all the concentration and energy of those practising it, was a real witness and a gift of nature and of God.

The Rector concluded by inviting those present to take tea with him on the Rectory lawn, an invitation which was gladly accepted.

A very pleasant time followed. A beautiful afternoon, the pretty Rectory gardens hidden amidst the industrial activity of Acton, and tea, set out on small tables, were thoroughly enjoyed. The proceedings were opened at the Rector's request by a course on the handbells, and, following tea, clock golf and other games were indulged in by some till about 7 p.m. Others having proceeded to the belfry, the sound of the bells nearby added to the enjoyment of those present.

Before the close of the proceedings, the Rector and his warden (Mr. E. Collins) again gave a welcome to the gathering and invited them to further refreshments.

The vice-president, Mr. J. A. Trollope, expressed, on behalf of the association, their warm appreciation of the generous hospitality shown and their thanks to the Rector, wardens, organist and Mr. Train, vergers, for all the arrangements made.

MEETING ON SURREY DOWNS.

SURREY ASSOCIATION AND GUILDFORD GUILD FRATERNISE AT RANMORE.

Ideal summer weather favoured the annual joint meeting of the North-Western District of the Surrey Association with the Leatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, held at Ranmore on Saturday, and ringers and their friends enjoyed themselves during the afternoon and evening at this delightful spot on the Surrey downs, either in ringing the bells, playing games on the green opposite the church, or rambling in the woods, according to inclination.

Forty-five ringers attended, representing Bagshot, Badsworth (Somerset), Banstead, Beddington, West Clandon, Chertsey, Cowfold (Sussex), Cranleigh, Croydon, Guildford, Haslemere, Heston, Kingston, Leatherhead, Merton, Reigate, Sunbury and West Grinstead. A service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. N. G. Davies), at which he welcomed the visitors to Ranmore. In his address he drew attention to the similarity between ringing and rowing (a recreation in which he was interested), for they both depended for their success upon 'rhythm,' which was fundamental in the English character. This characteristic, he said, was brought out in rowing, in a perfectly rung peal, and in the 'rhythm' of life. English people pull well together, and while they did not want to boast about it, they knew it existed, and that it had for a basis the 'rhythm' of well-balanced lives. Another thing people appreciated was beauty; the beauty of a peal of bells set in surroundings such as they had at Ranmore; in the architecture of their church; and in the appeal of the surrounding country. All these things spoke to them of beauty, of peace and of God.

The service was followed by tea at the Post Office Cafe. After tea a vote of thanks was accorded the Vicar for the use of the bells, for taking the service and for giving the address; and to Mr. Alfred Dobinson, the steeplekeeper, for making arrangements for the meeting. Members afterwards made for the tower, the meadows, or the woods, where they enjoyed themselves in their various ways until it was time to return home. The ringing ranged from rounds to London Surprise Major.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY SOCIETY. NEW MASTER'S UNIQUE DISTINCTION.

The election of Mr. Roger D. St. J. Smith as Master of the Oxford University Society is an interesting one. From 1934 to 1937 Mr. Smith was a member of Selwyn College, Cambridge, and after taking the B.A. degree at Cambridge in 1937 he migrated to Oxford to read Theology as a member of Jesus College and Ripon Hall Theological College.

From 1935 to 1937 he held the office of Master of the Cambridge University Guild, and is the first man to have held the office of Master of both the University Societies.

The new Master of the O.U.S.C.R. first learnt to ring at Yardley Hastings, Northants, in 1928, and joined the Peterborough Diocesan Guild in the following year. He rang his first peal, Grandsire Doubles, at Yardley Hastings in May, 1931, and scored his first as conductor, Bob Minor, at Mears Ashby, just over a year later. As far as peal ringing is concerned, Mr. Smith had his best year in 1935, when the eight peals he rang included his first in each of the four standard Surprise Major methods, Cambridge Royal, and first peal 'in hand.' Altogether he has rung 50 peals, the 50th being the tenor to 'silent' Cambridge Major at Buckland, with members of the Oxford Diocesan Guild early this year.

MR. R. D. ST. J. SMITH.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

CANTERBURY DISTRICT AT BROADSTAIRS.

A successful and highly enjoyable meeting of the Canterbury District of the Kent County Association was held at St. Peter's, Broadstairs, on Saturday, July 9th. Nearly 70 were present, the following towers in the district being represented: Ash, Birchington, Canterbury (four towers), Boughton, Dover, Sturry, Ospringe, Wickhambreaux, St. Lawrence (Thanet), Margate, Eythorne, Deal, with members of the local company and two visitors from Basingstoke.

Ringing was slightly curtailed in the afternoon, owing to a wedding, the happy couple having the pleasure of hearing the bells speed them on their way after the ceremony.

Service for the ringers was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. L. F. H. Hamel Smith), who also gave a very interesting and helpful address, Mr. W. E. Pitman, Mus.Bac., presiding at the organ.

Tea, to which the members were entertained by the Church authorities, was held at an adjacent hostelry, and greatly appreciated by all present. The Vicar presided, and in the company were the two churchwardens of St. Peter's, Mr. C. H. Noble and Mr. A. M. Batchen.

At the subsequent business meeting, the election of one member previous to a peal attempt was confirmed, one practising member of the local tower was elected, and the Vicar and churchwardens were elected as honorary members of the association. Their election was heartily applauded, and the Vicar, in returning thanks, remarked that he 'was glad to see that there was no hand raised in dissent.'

A proposition, put to the meeting by Mr. Trendell, that 'the officers of the district be elected by nomination and ballot,' was seconded by Mr. W. E. Pitman and carried nem con.

A hearty vote of thanks was proposed by the district secretary to the church authorities, the Vicar and to Mr. W. Fairbeard (local secretary) for all they had done to make the meeting the success that it was, was carried with applause.

The members then adjourned to the tower for further ringing, Grandsire, Stedman, Oxford Bob and Erin Triples, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Double Norwich being rung.

THE MINOR RECORD.

NEW SPLICED EXTENTS.

In the peal in 34 Minor methods that was rung at Disley on July 16th there were two new spliced extents. Fifteen methods were rung in one of these, 14 of them being Alliance methods, completed by Bastow Little Court. It was an arrangement in which Mr. C. K. Lewis introduced four fresh Alliance methods into a 720 composed by Mr. A. G. Driver. Here are the half-leads of the new methods:—

A JOINT MEETING.

HERTS AND MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATIONS AT NORTH MIMMS.

A joint meeting was held at St. Mary's Church in North Mimms Park on Saturday, when over 30 ringers found their way to this beautiful old church, which is rather off the beaten track.

A service was conducted by the curate, in the absence of the Vicar, and he gave an interesting address.

Tea was arranged at the Churchyard Cottage, where, owing to the large number attending, it was found necessary to divide the party and send half of the ringers back to the tower to ring while the other half had their tea.

The St. Albans secretary (Mr. H. V. Frost) welcomed the Middlesex ringers to the meeting, and Mr. G. W. Fletcher (vice-president of the Middlesex Association) suitably replied.

During the afternoon and evening touches were rung in methods from Grandsire Triples to Spliced Surprise Major, all tastes being catered for, under the direction of Mr. H. V. Frost. The meeting was most enjoyable and successful, thanks to the local ringers and many others concerned, whose co-operation was greatly appreciated.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

OVER A HUNDRED VISITORS AT BRASTED.

The summer meeting of the Tonbridge District was held at Brasted. The bells of Sundridge Church were also open. During the afternoon and evening the bells of both churches were kept going in various methods, from Doubles to London Surprise Minor. Service was held in Brasted Church, and a very interesting talk on the history of the fabric was given by the Rector (the Rev. H. H. L. Longuet-Higgins, M.C., O.B.E.).

The lower part of the tower is apparently the oldest portion, dating from c. 1225. Here is a buttress, set centrally at the west side of the tower and perforated by a groined doorway. The rest of the edifice was rebuilt in 1880, in Kentish ragstone. The church is dedicated to St. Martin. It is believed that there were bells at Brasted in the 16th century, probably four large ones. In 1730, Phelps, of Whitechapel, cast the five front bells, and in 1764 a sixth was added. The tower was restored and the bells recast and rehung, at a cost of about £1,400, in 1881. The work on the bells was carried out by Gillett and Bland. The present six, with a tenor of 12 cwt. 1 qr. 16 lb., in F sharp, were retuned and rehung in ball bearings in 1932 by Mears and Stainbank.

The church at Sundridge, dedication unknown, is very interesting, being in the Early English and Perpendicular styles, the stone reredos being worthy of particular notice. The tower is built of stone and rough flints, has a shingled spire and contains six bells. The front three were cast by Hodson in 1683, 1666 and 1666, and the fourth by Bartlett, in 1619. In 1737 a fifth was added, and later a sixth.

Tea was partaken of in the Parish Room, and was kindly provided by Mr. E. H. Lewis. Ringers and friends to the number of 104 sat down to do justice to a really splendid spread. Among those present were Mrs. E. H. Lewis, Mr. F. M. Mitchell (general hon. secretary), Messrs. T. Groombridge, G. H. Spice, A. G. Hill, C. H. Kippin, A. Pink, W. Latter, T. Saunders and E. J. Ladd. At least 20 towers were represented from Kent alone, and several from outside the district.

Mr. E. H. Lewis presided at the business meeting, at which five new practising members were elected, viz., Messrs. A. Matthews, W. Draper, A. Gravett, of Westerham, Mr. P. Bond, of Brasted, and Mr. G. Jenner, of Leigh. Mr. C. Parks, of Thornton Heath, was elected a non-resident life member.

The sum of £1 11s. 4d. was collected for the Benevolent Fund.

Mr. E. H. Lewis gave some very good advice on striking, stressing one point in particular, that of a slow blow in 2nds often being made when leaving the lead, even by otherwise good strikers.

The usual votes of thanks were passed, that to Mr. Lewis being accompanied by musical honours.

Both towers were again visited after the meeting, and the gardens of Moorcocks, the residence of Mr. Lewis, were kindly opened to the visitors. Those who went to the gardens either rang handbells, played bowls (at least, they said they did), or, in the case of the many gardeners present, reeled off strings of obscure names of rock plants and the like for the edification of the uninitiated. The meeting was one of the pleasantest held by the district.

NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL DINNER DIFFICULTIES.

A meeting of the North Staffordshire Association was held at Stone on Saturday, July 2nd, when a company of 34 attended from Burslem, Burton-on-Trent, Draycott, Derby, Hanley, Longton, Leek, Newcastle-under-Lyme, Repton, Stone, Stoke-on-Trent and Wellington, Salop.

A service was held, conducted by the curate. Tea was served in the Schoolroom, where the churchwarden (Mr. C. S. Bowers) welcomed the association on behalf of the Rector of Stone, who was away on holidays.

Mr. Bowers remarked how much they looked forward to what was called the ringers' festival, and hoped Stone would be made an annual meeting place. He went on to say how much he enjoyed the annual dinner of the association at Burslem, and hoped it would continue, although there had been one or two snags in it. He was sure if they were handled with care the difficulties would be overcome.

Mr. S. Churton proposed a vote of thanks to the Rector and ringers of Stone for the use of the bells, and Mr. E. Steele thanked the ladies, who attended to the needs of the party at the tea table.

Two new members were elected, viz.: F. Evans and T. Riley, both of Stone. Selections on handbells were given by J. Pagett and F. Ferguson, and Grandsire Triples were rung by Messrs. Ferguson, J. Pagett, J. H. Swinfield and E. Sharratt, and Grandsire and Stedman Doubles by the three first named.

No fewer than six cycled to the meeting from a distance, and Mr. A. Prichard rode about 30 miles each way from Wellington, Salop, in order to be present.

BRISTOL RINGERS 'NIGHT OUT'.

The ringers of the Church of the Holy Nativity, Bristol, had their outing on Saturday, June 18th, when they visited Aldershot by road and witnessed the Tattoo. Tea was had at Reading, and supper (or was it breakfast?) at a roadside cafe about eight miles on the Bristol side of Reading. For the arrangements made for these two meals the members wish to thank Mr. R. T. Hibbert and his son for their great kindness at such short notice. The party arrived home at about 5.20 a.m., and all were present to ring for service at 10.30.

RINGERS AND DIOCESAN COMMITTEES.

To the Editor.

Sir,—I was not surprised to read from your recent leader that there exists a large number of diocesan committees who are indifferent to accepting ringers to give advice on bell restorations. Having studied this question for many years, what I have heard and seen with my own eyes has convinced me that the trouble in many cases is due to the attitude of ringers themselves. A great many seem to think that the control of all belfries rests with the associations. They forget that the jurisdiction of every church and its furnishings is vested in the Vicar, wardens and Church Council—not the associations and other bodies outside the church. Let ringers get that high-minded idea out of their heads, and the responsible authorities might then respect them and be prepared to listen to their views.

Not long ago I heard of a Vicar who was indifferent to his own County Association holding meetings in his tower, but at the same time would always welcome ringers from other counties. One day I asked him the reason, and he replied, 'I've noticed that ringers from other counties always seem to appreciate the fact that they are here as a privilege, whereas those from our own county seem to think they have a right to be here, that the tower and bells belong to them.' And he went on further to say that once, when he did permit a meeting, his own captain complained bitterly to him of the attitude of one or two of the association officers trying to take his place in the belfry. This is something which I myself have noticed frequently occurs.

Another Vicar once commented to me: How often do we see ringers at the eastern as well as the western end of the church? Let them show us that their work is done as a bit of church work and not as a mere hobby and we might appreciate them. What would be said of the sidesman who walked into church just as it was time to take the plate round and walked out again, or the parson who only went to deliver his sermon? It is all rubbish for people to talk of these things being acts of worship in themselves, as ringers talk of their art. He said he was yet to know of any ringers who could concentrate on figures and be deeply in prayer at the same time. I must hold respect for this Vicar's views!

In your leader you mention the fact that diocesan committees often look upon a ringer as being biased. In one respect I am inclined to believe that they have every reason to think thus. No one in his senses thinks of putting a pony to do the same job as a cart horse, yet in their liking for the tonal qualities of heavy bells it is strange to notice how many ringers seem to think light bells not worth putting in any church tower. I have heard some varied remarks passed about the light rings at St. Ebbe's, Oxford; Tetworth, Bucks; Bosley, Cheshire, and so on. Yet the same ringers would soon have something to say if these churches installed 'canned' bells, or were prepared to rest contented with only one bell. Their attitude is that of 'the dog in a manger' and is not likely to win much support either from the diocesan committees or the antiquarians. It is my contention (as it is with the antiquarian people) that, as the suit has to be made to fit the man, so must the bells be made to fit the tower. The only point upon which I would differ is the number. Instead of one large bell, surely it is better for ringers and listeners alike to have five or six light bells (even if hung in two tiers) where a tower is not capable of a heavier peal. And if it is not capable of such a light five or six, I should hardly be inclined to call it a tower.

MR. JAMES GEORGE RINGS 2½ TONS TENOR.

RUGBY SOCIETY'S TOUR.

The annual outing of the St. Andrew's Society, Rugby, was a most enjoyable trip. The party of 18 ringers included several hon. life members, one of whom was Mr. James George, a pioneer of ringing in the new tower and now in his 85th year. The outward journey was through Warwick, Stratford-on-Avon and Alcester to Worcester, and an hour's ringing was enjoyed on the 12 bells of the Cathedral, the methods being Grandsire and Stedman. The handling of the 2½ ton tenor by Mr. George was the cause of amazement and many compliments. Lunch was taken at the Angel Hotel, and the company was pleased to entertain Mr. Johnson, the secretary of the Cathedral Society.

The journey continued in the afternoon through Evesham and Pershore to Bourton-on-the-Water, where, after being welcomed by Mr. Phillips and ringing on the peal of eight, tea was served. Calling at Southam on the way home, the bells were kept going to Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich Major, Cambridge, Superlative and Bristol Surprise. Here the party enjoyed a fleeting visit from Mr. Walter Malins, another life member, who now lives at Wimbledon. During refreshments at a nearby hotel Mr. George reminded the party that he is the oldest practising ringer in the world, and entertained the company with reminiscences of his amazing career.

Every available opportunity was taken during the day to make use of the handbells provided, as usual, by Mr. H. Webb. The officials desire to express their gratitude to incumbents and officers at various towers for their co-operation in arranging such a successful day.

A PEAL AT BEAUMARIS.*FIRST FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.

When as a child I laughed and wept, time crept.
When as a youth I dreamed and talked, time walked.
When I became a full-grown man, time ran.
And later, as I older grew, time flew.

Chester Cathedral.

A Chester company of ringers recently decided to visit the romantic town of Beaumaris in North Wales, and, having been favoured by permission to attempt a peal upon the only ring of bells on the island of Anglesey, fixed their visit for Saturday, July 9th. The outing was turned into a 'family affair'; four ladies, eight ringers and three cars as transport for them. Leaving Chester at 9 a.m., the following was the route down: Hawarden, Holywell and its famous well of St. Winifred, Bodelwyddan, with its church of marble work and its unique font, Rhyl, Colwyn Bay, Llandudno, Conway Castle and Bangor. Amongst crowded traffic, in narrow roads, of charabanc and motor-car, the journey required manœuvring skill in the rough weather experienced; the raging billows on the right hand and the mighty mountains to the left, capped by Snowdon, fit emblem of a Yorkshire ringer of 50 years ago. The newspapers kindly promised a 'heat wave' for mid-July, but March came back again with wind and rain. I began to ponder how the beach at Cronulla or the Blue Mountains of New South Wales would look under these conditions. The suspension bridge across the Menai Straits, much resembling Clifton, bore the strain of load and stress of wind, and in due course, after a drive of over 70 miles, we wheeled up in front of Beaumaris Castle and near the ancient Parish Church that was formerly a chapel to the stronghold of mediæval days. At St. Mary's we were welcomed by the Vicar (the Rev. Rummage), the foreman of the tower (Mr. R. J. Jones) and Mr. A. E. Pegler, of Bangor, making an examination of points of interest to be found and its historical contents.

THE BELLS.

The bells were cast by Dobson, of Downham, Norfolk, and were probably brought to Beaumaris by sea, as a ring of six, tenor 12 cwt., in the year 1819, and remained unique in being the only ring of bells in the whole county for 85 years. They were the gift of Lord Viscount Bulkeley, as appears by the inscription on the tenor. In 1904 two trebles, cast by Barwell, were hung by William Greenleaf.

The tower was originally a fortified structure, very broad, with stone stairs to the ringing room; the ground floor having been used as a priests' room and having its original Tudor stone fireplace in situ.

A very handsome altar tomb with two life-size figures in alabaster is almost perfect. The old font from Italy, carved from a solid piece of rare marble, has a circular bowl and octagonal sides, each with different geometrical designs, minutely carved and very deep, yet preserved without a flaw.

There are 20 stalls worthy of a Cathedral, with carved arm-rests and tip-up seats of solid oak, all grotesquely carved. In the porch is preserved a stone sarcophagus, its carved cover sadly broken, the former coffin of Joan, the last Princess of North Wales, A.D. 1237. The 'water trough' was used by cattle at a neighbouring farm for many years until the broken cover preserved in the church was found to fit it, and so revealed another bit of early British history.

Lunch was enjoyed at the White Lion, and after sightseeing, rope adjustment and the election of Mr. Richards, provisionally, as a member of the North Wales Association, the peal of Grandsire Triples was begun about 4 o'clock and well brought home, thus breaking a gap of 25 pealless years in this tower. Naturally we conveyed our hearty thanks to those fellow-churchmen who had made us welcome, and a hope expressed that Beaumaris and the North Wales Association would resume their old brotherly love. At 7.30 the return 'voyage' was begun, this time taking the road through Bethesda, Conway River Valley, Corwen, Llangollen and the River Dee, to Wrexham and Gresford, a quieter road noted for its wild scenery and mountain torrents.

The writer will ever remember with gratitude the kind invitation to the party and the surrender of a rope, as the opportunity to visit this town was quite unexpected after waiting nine years. It enabled him to complete a peal in every county in England and Wales. As to the party they may be called 'stalwarts.' I found their age averaged well over 50 years; the young tower grabbers and peal snatchers of England are not in the running with them, and I may add one is never too old to feel young—at times? Small handbills shown in Beaumaris shop windows announced July 9th as 'Rent Day,' which would be paid to the agent of the lord of the manor—at the Bulkeley Arms—a descendant of the donor of the bells. We hoped that our ringing cheered the tenants and there were no arrears. Perhaps Rent Day favoured our Peal Day and made the visit more appropriate.

Last year I gave 'The Ringing World' a few lines about 'Time' collected at East Tytherley; the lines that head this contribution are from the Chapter Clock under the organ loft of Chester Cathedral.

CROYDON RINGER'S EXPERIENCE.

Here is an amusing story of a ringer who found himself (or thought he did) the only person present at a meeting, with a parson to take the service and twenty-five or thirty teas to dispose of.

A joint meeting of the Surrey Association and the Guildford Diocesan Guild had been announced to be held at that delightful spot, Ranmore Common, on the hills above Dorking, and on Saturday week a Croydon ringer wended his way thither.

He was the only one who turned up, but he met the Vicar, who said he was going to conduct a service for bellringers. Later the ringer adjourned to the only cafe in the neighbourhood, where he learned that tea had been prepared for a party of 25 to 30 bellringers. But after a further wait and finding that no ringers appeared, the gentleman from Croydon went home puzzled.

Afterwards telephones buzzed. Secretaries nearly had heart attacks and got really desperate. They were only able to sleep at night, when they discovered that the Croydon ringer had gone to Ranmore a week too soon; that the Vicar had been uncertain about the date, and that the caterers had provided for a party 'who might be bellringers.'

The real meeting came off last Saturday.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

RESTORATIONS AND ROPES.

In various ways, in recent issues of 'The Ringing World,' there have been references to the connection, direct or indirect, which ringers have with church bell restorations. It is becoming a growing custom for ringers, through their organisations, to give grants, modest perhaps, but always acceptable, to bell restoration or augmentation schemes, and they have a growing sense of the importance of seeing that these schemes are carried out in such a way that the interests, which they specially have in bells, are not prejudiced. Sometimes these interests clash with the antiquarians, but on the whole ringers and their art have gained by the assistance and advice which they have been able to give. While church authorities are responsible for keeping their bells in order, they are encouraged in their schemes of restoration if they know that ringers, in addition to urging them, are prepared to do their share in meeting the cost, and it is gratifying to see that the contributions to restorations from association funds are growing with the years. A notable example is that of Oxford, which through the Guild and its branches has voted something like £80 in the past year.

We hope this form of contribution to the Church will not diminish. Our 'Oxfordshire' correspondent who suggested in our columns a week or two ago the diversion of these funds to other purposes is hardly likely, we think, to find much support, but there is one of his proposals to which not only the Oxford Guild, but other associations might give some consideration, and that is in helping poor churches to provide new bell ropes. Every ringer of experience has visited belfries where ropes are in a bad condition and renewal is delayed or refused for want of funds. Where the ropes are worn out purely by service ringing no church ought to refuse to buy new ones, although, even then, perhaps, it would be a charitable act and an encouragement to a band of ringers, who render their first service to the Church, to assist them with their ropes. But at places where peal ringing or frequent general practices and meetings are held, there does seem to be a case for helping with the renewal of ropes, which are a prime essential. It is the part of the equipment of bells that most quickly wears out, and we think that associations, especially those who have substantial balances in hand, might turn their attention to providing help in 'necessitous cases.' Ropes come within the definition of 'consumable stores,' and many a church, hard hit for funds in these days, finds itself unable to provide new ones. Help in such cases would, we feel sure, often be a good investment for an association.

PEAL NOTES.

MINIMUM CALLS IN A PEAL OF BRISTOL.

Mr. Maurice Hibbert, of Bushey, on July 28th, conducted a peal of Bristol Surprise Major that has only 27 calls in it. It was composed by Mr. Harold Cashmore and has a bob Before in every one of the 22 courses, with a bob Wrong in the second course, a bob Middle in the seventh course, and a bob at home in each of the eleventh, fifteenth and nineteenth courses. This is the minimum possible number of calls.

Mr. Hibbert has now conducted peals with both the minimum and the maximum number of calls. The latter was a peal of 5,760 Original Major with 825 calls.

'Teddy' Barnett, the third generation of the well-known Crayford ringing family—father, son and grandson have all borne the name of Edwin—has achieved a remarkable record. He is still only 19 years of age, but on Wednesday of last week he rang his 300th peal. This was at High Wycombe, Bucks, and was his first peal of Stedman Cinques.

Given average life, continued facilities and sustained interest, Edwin A. should go a long way towards making a record in peal ringing. His first 300 has taken him less than nine years.

Age as well as youth shared in the peal at High Wycombe, for the ages of the band ranged from 19 to 76. Tom Hibbert was among the veterans who took part, and it was his 60th peal of Stedman Cinques.

After 61 years' connection with the choir and 20 years as parish clerk of St. Andrew's, Clewer, Berks, Mr. R. A. Hammond has just retired. A complimentary peal in seven Minor methods was rung to commemorate his 70th birthday on July 23rd. It was the 50th peal that Mr. A. R. Pink has called for the Oxford Diocesan Guild.

It does not follow that the more methods you ring in a peal the more changes of method you get. The recent peal in 84 methods at Disley had 178 changes from one method to another. On July 24th a peal in only 14 spliced plain methods was rung at Belchamp St. Paul's, Essex, but in this there were no less than 270 changes of method.

This peal was rung by members of St. Andrew's Guild, Earls Colne, for the Royal Cumberland Youths, and brought in two new members, Messrs. Reg. Simmonds and A. L. Dixey.

The first peal on the bells at Stanton Harcourt, Oxfordshire, since they were rehung by Mr. R. White, of Appleton, was scored on July 23rd, when 42 six-scores in three methods of Doubles were rung. It was the first peal in three Doubles methods by all the band.

The peal of Grandsire Caters at Tynemouth on July 26th was Mr. J. E. Scott's fiftieth peal.

The Rev. J. H. B. Andrews, of Leeds, and Mr. C. H. Baker, of Gainsborough, Lincs, took part in a peal of Bob Major at Broadclyst, Devon, on July 24th. It was the former's first peal on eight bells, as well as being the first peal of Major on the bells.

The Rev. G. A. Ellison, chaplain to the Bishop of Winchester, rang his first peal on July 27th, when he took part in a 5,040 of Grandsire Doubles, the first peal on the bells, at Cheriton, Hants. Four others in the band also rang their first peal, and Leslie Tremear rang his first as conductor. All the band, except the Rev. G. A. Ellison, are from New Alresford.

Three brothers took part in a peal of Bob Minor at West Lulworth, Dorset, on July 24th. Thomas and Maurice Toccock rang their first peal, and the trio was completed by L.-Cpl. P. Toccock. By a coincidence it was rung on Maurice's 18th birthday.

The Sunday service ringers at Faringdon, Berks, have rung their first local peal of Triples. They rang Taylor's six-part peal of Grandsire on Saturday and elected C. I. J. Pearce and R. M. Pawling members of the Oxford Guild before starting.

Miss Sylvia Bowyer and Mr. G. A. Fleming rang their fiftieth peal together when they took part in a peal of London Surprise Major at Holesley, Suffolk, on Sunday.

On Sunday, at Black Notley, Essex, Reginald Simmonds and Ralph Bird rang their 25th peal together. Black Notley is a five-bell tower and this was the first peal on the bells as well as the first of Doubles by all five ringers.

After meeting short for Cambridge Surprise Major at Tarporley, Cheshire, on Saturday, a peal of Minor in five methods was rung, Mr. James Swindley kindly offering to stand out. It was the fiftieth peal by the conductor, Mr. R. G. Edwards. The peal was arranged for Mr. W. C. Rhodes, of Castle Bromwich.

Ringers sometimes complain that the ringing chamber is used to house objects not wanted elsewhere in church, but the practice proved very handy at Leiston, Suffolk, on Saturday. After about two courses, of a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major had been rung, the organist started playing, but the main electric switch being handy in the belfry, the good lady's efforts were very abruptly finished while the peal went merrily on to a satisfactory conclusion.

OCTOGENARIAN'S EXAMPLE.

On Sunday, July 24th, at Christ Church, Swindon, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples: W. W. T. Daniell 1, A. Lawrence 2, W. B. Kynaston (conductor) 3, H. W. L. Wells 4, S. Palmer 5, E. J. Berry 6, A. G. Wells 7, A. E. Smith 8. Rung prior to the annual service in the ruins of the old church and as a birthday compliment to Messrs. Daniell, Lawrence and Palmer. Mr. Lawrence is now in his 84th year and is still a model of punctual and regular attendance.

A PEAL OF BOB MINIMUS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—In sending the enclosed report of a 5,040 of Minimus a few words of explanation may perhaps be helpful.

Firstly, I do not know if Minimus is recognised by the Central Council and should be glad to know.

Secondly, a few words regarding the performers, who commenced ringing scarcely a year ago. They are very keen, as you will realise from the peal, and I am sure you will understand that I am anxious to encourage such keenness, particularly when I tell you that the band at Marple is not, so far, a change ringing one, call changes being rung for service. A few years ago Mr. Arthur Whiting made great efforts to get change ringing established, and we are now slowly collecting a band. We managed to ring a local peal of Doubles for the Coronation, but since then we have lost one of the band by removal, and Mr. Whiting's business is making increasing demands upon his time. But we are not downhearted and keep pegging away. The two brothers who rang the Minimus are aged 16 and 13, and, as often as possible, weather permitting, walk three miles to Disley for practice and back again. Both Mr. Whiting and I did the same, but we were much older than they are.

I feel sure you will gather from the above the true position, and that whilst peals of Minimus may be abhorrent to the 'purist,' I think that in certain circumstances any attempt to lift the standard of ringing at a tower should be encouraged, and as I myself, at the beginning, many times felt rather discouraged, I think a little stimulus to a beginner's early steps is not to be lightly turned down even to the extent of peals of Minimus under, as I said before, certain circumstances. Naturally in a change ringing tower the discouragements are lessened to a certain extent, but in a non-change ringing tower the difficulties can only be overcome by the constant maintenance of the enthusiasm of the 'would-be' change ringers.

Before long we hope to make further steps in the peal ringing line and that the Minimus will be the precursor of many more peals on higher numbers and in other methods in the course of time.

Perhaps I ought to say that the idea of a peal of Minimus was entirely their own and was just mentioned to me. I did not discourage it. Such enthusiasm is very heartening to all concerned.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD.

ENJOYABLE SUMMER MEETING.

The summer quarterly meeting of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held at the Parish Church, Hampton-in-Arden. This village is delightfully situated in Warwickshire country and retains many of its ancient characteristics. The weather was fine and so a very pleasant afternoon and evening was enjoyed by the thirty or so who attended.

The Vicar (the Rev. R. C. J. B. Colthurst) welcomed the ringers on their arrival and conducted the Guild service. After tea he presided at the business meeting. Apologies for absence were read from the Master (Alderman J. S. Pritchett), the Ringing Master (Mr. F. E. Haynes), Vice-Presidents A. Paddon Smith and Albert Walker, and several other members.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. T. H. Reeves) referred to the loss the Guild had sustained by the death of Mr. George Yendall, who was a regular ringer at St. Martin's Church; he asked all to stand for a minute as a last tribute of respect.

Arising out of the minutes, the secretary read letters from Mr. John Neal and Mr. Albert Walker, the former stating he was slowly improving in health, and the latter that he had now quite recovered and was on holiday at Brighton.

The following new members were elected: Messrs. W. H. Viggers and G. Chaplin, of Hall Green, as ringing members. The Vicar of Hampton-in-Arden expressed a desire to be associated with the Guild and was duly elected an honorary member.

The tower elections of Messrs. G. W. Steere (Sutton, Surrey), Charles Camm (Upton-on-Severn) and Clifford Skidmore (Brierley Hill) as life members, and A. H. S. Renny, of Erdington, as a full ringing member, were duly ratified.

It was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting on Saturday, October 1st, at the Cathedral Church of St. Philip. An invitation having been received to hold a joint meeting with the Warwickshire Guild at Knowle on Saturday, August 20th, it was agreed to substitute this for the usual bi-quarterly meeting. A vote of thanks to the Vicar concluded the business.

The bells were kept going in various methods, and in the evening some good practice for the assistance of the local ringers was put in.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING OF DORCHESTER BRANCH.

A very successful meeting of the Dorchester Branch was held at Wool on Saturday, July 23rd. No doubt the fine weather had something to do with the large gathering, to say nothing of the very warm welcome which is always given to the Guild at Wool. The six bells were available from 3 p.m., but some members found the light going of this peal very awkward. Nevertheless, good practice was obtained by the learners.

The service was very bright, and a full choir, assisted by ladies, was present. The Vicar (the Rev. E. S. Tarrant) officiated, and gave a really fine short extempore address. A large congregation was present.

The members of the Guild and friends then adjourned to the Parish Hall, where a sumptuous tea was awaiting them, over 80 being present.

In the absence of the chairman, the vice-chairman (the Rev. R. P. Farrow) presided at the business meeting. Several apologies for absence were received, including one from the chairman (the Rev. A. W. Markby). The hon. secretary reported that the next meeting would be held at Frampton in September. A warm welcome was given by the chairman and the Vicar to all present, and especially the visitors.

The Chairman proposed, and the Rev. A. F. Godley seconded, a comprehensive vote of thanks to all who had made the meeting so successful, and particularly the Vicar for conducting the service and giving such a fine, although short, address. They also thanked the donors of the tea—'The friends of Wool ringers and church'—the choir, organist and blower, and their indefatigable secretary.—The captain of the Wool ringers also joined in giving all a real welcome.—The vote was carried by acclamation.

The Chairman, as a change ringer, suggested that a special method should be practised at each meeting. He would like them to look it up beforehand.—The Deputy Ringing Master suggested that a monthly meeting for practice would help them.

Arrangements were made for some ringers to remain at Wool to help the learners and another band to go on to West Lulworth to do likewise at that tower where the bells had not been rung regularly for some time. These practices continued until late in the evening. At West Lulworth the sound of the bells brought the service ringers stationed there to visit the tower.

The methods practised were Kent and Plain Bob Minor and Grand-sire Doubles.

The following towers were represented at the meeting: Bradford Peverell, Charminster, Dorchester, Preston, Stratton, Upwey, East and West Lulworth, Wool and Wyke Regis, and welcome ringing visitors from Southwark Cathedral, Bournemouth, Lytchett Matravers and Maidenhead.

THE NEW BELLS AT LISS.

TWELVE RINGERS JOIN DIOCESAN GUILD.

A quarterly meeting of the Alton and Petersfield District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild was held at Liss on July 23rd. Those present, who numbered 32, included Mr. G. Williams (Guild Ringing Master), Mr. F. W. Rogers (hon. general secretary), the Rev. C. Minton-Senhouse (district vice-chairman), the Rev. H. W. Gooch (Rector of Liss), and ringing members from Alton, Blackmoor, Froyle, Hawkley, Liss, New Alresford, North Stoneham, Bishopstoke, Petersfield, Portsea, Ryde, Steep and Southampton, and two compounding members. Mr. O. Sippetts, of Crawley, was also present. The new ring of bells in St. Mary's Church, recently installed by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, were rung during the afternoon and evening from rounds to Spliced Surprise Major, and in the evening the six bells of St. Peter's Church were also rung. The Guild's service was conducted by the Rector. Tea was partaken of in St. Mary's Hall, where, before the business meeting, the company had the pleasure of hearing a record of spliced handbell ringing in five methods by members of the Hertford County Association. Mr. E. J. Munday, of Liss, kindly supplied the apparatus for reproducing this excellent performance.

At the business meeting, the Rev. C. Minton-Senhouse presided in the absence of the district chairman. Twelve new ringing members were elected from Liss and two from Steep.

The next quarterly meeting was fixed for October 22nd at Chawton. An evening practice meeting was arranged to take place at Steep. A letter of thanks to the anonymous donor of the new ring of eight bells at Liss was sent from the meeting, through the Rector and the Archdeacon of Manchester, who have acted on his (or her) behalf.

Votes of thanks were accorded the Rector of Liss, the organist and the caterers.

BIRTHDAYS.

In honour of the 76th birthday of the local treasurer, Mr. H. H. Peters, and of the birthday on the following day of the Master, Mr. T. H. Taffender, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung by members of the London County Association at St. Giles', Camberwell, on Sunday, July 24th: Miss B. M. Mills 1, Miss H. F. Mills 2, B. R. Harris 3, T. H. Taffender 4, E. J. King 5, T. W. Taffender (conductor) 6, P. A. Corby 7, H. H. Peters 8.

YOUTH'S GREAT ACHIEVEMENT.

EDWIN A. BARNETT'S 300 PEALS.

A remarkable record has been set up by Edwin A. Barnett, of Crayford. Three months before reaching the age of 20 he has rung 300 peals. He completed the total last week, when, at High Wycombe, he rang his first peal of Stedman Cinques. What makes his record the more extraordinary is the great variety of methods which have been included. The peals have been rung on all numbers from Doubles to Maximus and in no fewer than 37 Major methods. Many of these, of course, he has only rung once, but in more than a dozen instances he has called this single peal. Out of the 300 which he has rung, he has conducted 48, including one in every Triples method, as well as one or more in each of 28 Major methods.

EDWIN A. BARNETT.

'Teddy' has rung 124 peals in Crayford tower. His unique record of peals is worth giving in detail:—

MUFFLED BELLS.

At St. Helen's Church, Darley Dale, Derbyshire, for evening service on May 22nd, 1,344 Oxford Bob Triples was rung by the regular service ringers as a mark of respect to the late Miss C. Allsop, who had passed away on May 21st. She was an earnest churchworker and a close relative to three members of the Darley Dale band: D. Scott (aged 12) 1, R. Allsop 2, B. Allsop 3, H. W. Gregory 4, H. E. Taylor 5, Ron Allsop 6, G. H. Paulson (conductor) 7, R. Benton 8. This touch was taken from the peal of Oxford Bob by H. Johnson.

CLERGY AND RINGERS.To the Editor.*

Dear Sir,—It is with mixed feelings that one reads the current issue of 'The Ringing World.' There is an account of a pleasant meeting held at St. Mary's Church, Acton. Here the ringers were welcomed by the Rector, who spoke well of the ringers' craft and thanked them for their work. Afterwards he invited them to take tea on the Rectory lawn, where a most enjoyable time was spent and appreciated by all. (By the way, the Wellingborough Branch of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild were welcomed at Castle Ashby, on Saturday last, by the Rector, in just the same kindly manner. Fifty were entertained to tea, given by him and his good friends, and one came away encouraged for the future of the association.) Then we turn to the letter by 'Ringer and Church Official.' Here we have a Vicar indifferent to his own County Association holding meetings in his tower, but welcoming others. Another Vicar complains of ringers who never enter the east end of the church, etc.

Which of these clergymen are doing the most to raise the standard of the ringers' outlook and furthering the good work of the associations?

It seems another case of the 'poor' parson and church official running down the 'poor' ringer.

Thank goodness there are good ringers, in the true sense of the word, together with good clergy, who are a pleasure to work with.

A. BIGLEY.

Irthlingborough.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Eastern Division of the Sussex Association was held at Waldron on Saturday, July 23rd, when members attended from Eastbourne (St. Saviour's), Hastings (All Saints', Christ Church, Blacklands, and St. Clement's), Battle, Rotherfield, Mayfield, Hailsham, Uckfield, Lewes, Northiam and Brighton (St. Nicholas). Some good ringing was done during the afternoon and evening. After service, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. R. W. D. Stephenson), tea was served on the Rectory lawn.

At the business meeting which followed, the Rector occupied the chair, and the election of Mr. Norman S. Bagworth, of Fulham, was confirmed.

Mr. W. Franks proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, conducting the service and for providing such a splendid tea. This concluded the meeting and the ringers then returned to the tower.

THE OLDEST PRACTISING RINGER.

In a report of the Rugby ringers' annual outing it was stated that, in entertaining the company with reminiscences of his career, Mr. James George reminded the party that he was the oldest practising ringer in the world.

He had apparently forgotten ex-Sergt. Joseph Williams, of Newent, Gloucestershire, who writes that he is 13 months older than Mr. George and rings every week. He rang in a peal of Bob Major at Barnwood early this year when he was four months past his 85th birthday.

G. E. S. writes on the same subject: All due respect to Mr. James George's amazing performances, but he is hardly correct in saying 'that he is the oldest practising ringer in the world.' Mr. Robert H. Brundle, of Ipswich, will be 87 years old in about six weeks' time, and rings at St. Mary-le-Tower on every possible occasion, even including the tenor.

Another correspondent points out that an older ringer than Mr. James George is Mr. Coombes, of the band at All Saints' Church, Ryde, Isle of Wight, who is 94 years of age.

NORFOLK RINGERS AT ST. FAITH'S.

A very successful meeting of the North Norfolk Branch of the Norwich Diocesan Association was held at St. Faith's. About 30 members attended from Buxton, Dersingham, Gressenhall, Garveston, Hethersett, Halvergate, Norwich, North Walsham, Mulbarton, Reedham, Saxlingham, Wroxham, Wymondham and Yarmouth. A short service was held in the afternoon, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. W. E. Darbyshire-Bowles), and the association's form was used.

Tea was provided in the Church Room, where the business meeting was afterwards held, with the Rev. H. W. Benson in the chair, supported by the Rev. Darbyshire-Bowles, Mr. A. L. Coleman (vice-president), Mr. F. Nolan Golden (general secretary and treasurer), Mr. H. Tooke (branch secretary), Messrs. G. Bailey, W. C. Duffield, A. H. Holliday and G. Mayers (members of the committee). The branch secretary apologised for the absence of Mr. W. Clover. Other branches were represented by Mr. W. L. Duffield (chairman, South Norfolk), Messrs. W. J. Lee and J. G. W. Harwood (chairman and secretary, East Norfolk).

Mr. A. L. Coleman moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar of St. Faith's for the use of the bells, for conducting the service and for entertaining the ringers to tea. Mr. W. C. Duffield seconded and the vote was acknowledged by the Vicar.

The next meeting will be held at Wiveton on Saturday, September 17th. A bus can be arranged to take members to this meeting if enough names are forthcoming. The fare will be 2s. 6d.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The Rector of Culworth, Northants, has introduced the 'Peace' bell, which is now rung daily as a reminder to the villagers to offer a prayer for the peace of the world.

His many friends will much regret to learn that Mr. James George is in A7 Ward, Dudley Road Hospital, Birmingham. He was conveyed there a week ago, suffering from a septic condition of one leg and an operation was performed.

Many older ringers will be sorry to hear that Mr. Charles Wilkins underwent a serious operation in St. Peter's Hospital, Covent Garden, on Tuesday of last week, but will be pleased to hear that he is progressing satisfactorily.

Mr. Wilkins in his younger days was associated with the late George Newson and later with the late Mr. W. Pye. With the former he took part in the 13,440 of Double Norwich in 1894, and the first peal of London by the Cumberlands. He is the sole survivor of both these bands. Among many peals with Mr. Pye in which he took part were the 15,072 of Double Norwich in 1899, the first twelve-bell peal by the Middlesex Association—Kent Maximus at St. Michael's, Cornhill, in 1900—and the brothers Pye's first peal of London.

Another invalid is Mr. J. H. Cheesman, of Greenhithe. It is not long since he was out of ringing for some months owing to an accident. He has now to return to hospital for medical treatment for a different illness, and is awaiting admission to Guy's Hospital. To Mr. Cheesman, also, ringers will extend their sympathy and good wishes.

A ringing trip in Scotland begins to-morrow. In the course of the tour peals are to be attempted at Inveraray, Paisley, Alloa, two towers in Dundee and St. Cuthbert's, Edinburgh. The Treble Ten at Inveraray will be the first attempt for a peal on the bells.

NAMING METHODS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—At the late Council meeting a great deal was said about the 'traditional custom' for the ringers of a new method to have the right to name that method. Is there, or has there ever been, such a 'custom'?

I seem to remember the late Rev. Law James, at the Lincoln meeting, I think, saying that the committee had decided to introduce something entirely new, and to publish certain methods identified by numbers only, and to invite those bands who first rang them to send in a name for each such method.

If this so-called custom was introduced so lately, and on one occasion only as an experiment; and, moreover, if (as we were assured at the meeting) that experiment was a complete failure; how can it be either traditional or a custom?

What has always been the practice, in this and similar matters, is for the person responsible for introducing the thing to be also responsible for introducing the name. If we leave one to the committee to see to, ought we not also to leave the other? If they are jointly responsible for the one, let them be jointly responsible for the other.

HOW TO SET A PEAL OF EIGHT.

ISLE OF ELY RECTOR'S COLLECTION OF BELLS.

Recently the Rector of Doddington, Isle of Ely, advertised in 'The Times' newspaper: 'Will anyone give me a church bell for my thirteenth century tower?'

'The advertisement,' says 'Peterborough Citizen,' 'has been the means of putting him on the track of six bells. Three bells have been given him. One, cast of silver, came from Eltham. It was used at Sebastopol. Other bells came from Acton and Newport (Mon.). The Rector has bought another bell, which was found in a garden, and is inquiring about two other bells in a garden near the Great North Road. He wishes to complete a peal of eight bells for his church. A few months ago an advertisement in 'The Times' led an anonymous donor to present to Doddington Church an organ worth £2,500.'

We have doubts about his ability to make a successful ring of eight out of his collection.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD.

There was only a small attendance at Farnborough on Saturday, July 30th, for the meeting of the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, and everyone present had plenty of ringing on the light, rather noisy peal of six. Standard Minor and Doubles methods were thoroughly explored during the afternoon and again in the evening.

The Guild service was conducted by the Rector of Farnborough (Canon W. A. Challacombe), who gave a short, but very enlightening address. Tea was partaken of in the Railway Hotel, 23 sitting down, following which the business meeting was presided over by Mr. R. Whittington (Cranleigh). Mr. P. Dadson (Frensham) and Mr. Maull (Hawley) were elected ringing members. Apologies for non-attendance were received from Mr. and Mrs. W. Cope (Guildford), Mr. G. Gasson (Farnborough), Mr. R. Hasted (Farnham), District Ringing Master, and Mr. J. S. Goldsmith (vice-president).

Votes of thanks to all who had helped towards the arrangements of the meeting concluded the business.

Towers represented included Aldershot, Ash, Farnborough, Cranleigh, Guildford (S. Nicolas'), Hawley, Chertsey, Hurst, Kirkby Stephen (Westmoreland) and Bungay St. Mary.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—30.

CHARLES H. KIPPIN.

Among conductors who have done something to break away from the beaten track has been Mr. Charles H. Kippin, of Beddington. Under his leadership the band at that Surrey tower have set up new standards in Surprise Royal ringing and have done a good deal to show its practicability. London Surprise Royal has several times been rung, and Mr. Kippin and his band were the first to ring Bristol Royal and four Surprise Royal methods spliced into one peal.

Mr. Kippin is a native of Beddington, where he was born on August 31st, 1905. He began ringing in April, 1920, and rang his first peal on November 5th in the following year at Beddington. He has taken part in a number of noteworthy performances at this tower, practically all of which he has conducted. Among them have been a peal of Grandsire Caters by a band all under 21 years of age, the youngest band to ring a ten-bell peal. That was in October, 1924. In 1932 the first peals of Londonthorpe and Beddington Surprise Major were rung at Beddington, and then followed the development of Surprise Royal. Numerous peals of London Surprise have been rung, as well as, of course, of Cambridge. The first of Bristol Surprise Royal was accomplished in February, 1934, and the first of Superlative Royal for the Surrey Association in September, 1935. This was followed in January, 1936, with the first peal of Spliced London, Bristol, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Royal.

Mr. Kippin has called a number of peals for the first time for the Surrey Association, including the first twelve-bell peal, which was Grandsire Cinques at St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheapside, in December, 1924, and the first Spliced Surprise peal, rung in four methods, at Godstone. In addition he called the longest peal by the association, a 19406 Double Norwich Major at Christ Church, Epsom, in April, 1926.

Before he was 21, Mr. Kippin rang Bow tenor (53 cwt.) to a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major, afterwards unfortunately found to be false, and Southwark Cathedral tenor (50 cwt.) to Stedman Cinques. Altogether he has rung 325 peals, of which he has conducted 215. Ninety-three of his peals have been in Beddington tower.

Mr. Kippin served the Surrey Association as hon. secretary for ten years from 1927 to 1937, and acted for the next year as assistant hon. secretary, while he has represented the association on the Central Council from 1929 to the present time.

Mr. Kippin's father and his two sisters (Mrs. F. H. Housden and Miss Kippin) have been ringers at Beddington, although the former has not rung a peal since he rang the tenor to his son's first peal.

MR. CHARLES H. KIPPIN.

PRESENTATION TO RETIRED POLICE RINGER.

MEMBER OF MANCHESTER TOWN HALL BAND.

In the belfry at the Town Hall, Manchester, on Wednesday, July 27th, Supt. Williams, of the Manchester City Police and president of the National Guild of Police Ringers, presented to ex-Constable John Mulliner a chiming clock. It was the gift of his fellow-police ringers of Manchester Town Hall, and he is a member of the National Police Guild. Ex-Constable Mulliner has just retired from Manchester Police Force after 26 years' service.

Supt. Williams said Mr. Mulliner answered a call to fill a vacancy in the band some years ago, and since then had been very consistent in his attention to his duty as a ringer, and he hoped that when he heard the clock chiming it would bring back many happy memories. He also hoped that both he and Mrs. Mulliner would enjoy good health and listen to those chimes for many years to come.—Mr. Mulliner very suitably replied.

There was also present, apart from the Town Hall ringers, three other police pensioner ringers and a few friends.

STEDMAN TRIPLES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I am interested in Dr. Slack's letter, but his strictures leave me impenitent and I see no reason to modify the statements he criticises.

I said that it has not been proved that a peal of Stedman Triples cannot be produced by common bobs alone, but that such is the fact cannot be doubted; and I think that fairly states the case. Of course, there are some people who will doubt anything.

The law of the Q sets is a universal one which cannot be broken, though at times it appears to work in a somewhat complicated manner. Anyone who has studied the working of this law will not doubt, I think, that a peal of Stedman Triples with bobs only is not possible, but, if Dr. Slack can compose such a peal, I, for one, would be glad to admit that he was far cleverer than the rest of composers. Meanwhile, the onus of proof is with him, and he has no right to accuse me of treating in an 'airy' way a matter on which several competent men have come to a unanimous conclusion. I may, perhaps, be permitted to quote Sir Arthur Heywood, who, with Mr. W. H. Thompson and the Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, went very deeply into the matter. 'Many arguments can be advanced in support of the contention that the extent in a legitimate method cannot be obtained by bobs, but I am not concerned to say more than that since we have an absolute proof of the impossibility in regard to Grandsire and the kindred methods, we may well rest assured that the same is true of Stedman.'

In his second criticism Dr. Slack misquotes me by the very common method of taking a sentence out of its context and picking it to pieces. I was explaining that it is easy enough to set down the 5,040 rows in 84 true P blocks of Stedman Triples, and I said that in theory to join 84 P blocks together by omits and two singles is not a very difficult thing; but in practice it would be complicated by the man finding out sooner or later that a row he required as a Six end was in the interior of a Six. That exactly expresses what I meant to say. It hardly required a letter from Dr. Slack to point out that the way out of the difficulty would be for the man to choose the P blocks with the right Six ends. But the man who has done that has already solved the hardest part of his problem.

My statement that a peal composed in this way would be difficult to call and the number of bobs would make the length of dodging behind intolerable is perfectly sound.

May I say that I wrote the book for the average intelligent ringer, not for such people as Dr. Slack, and I can assure him that no one and nothing 'compels him to protest' against 'the unscientific way,' I treated 'real problems connected with the scientific side of ringing,' except his own laudable desire that other people should know his opinions.

NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

FUTURE OF ANNUAL DINNER IN BALANCE.

A meeting of the North Staffordshire Association was held at Draycott on Saturday, July 23rd, when a company of 27 attended from Burslem, Biddulph, Draycott, Kingsley, Loughton, Stoke-on-Trent, Stafford and Newcastle. Tea was held in the Schoolroom, where the association was welcomed by Mr. W. Shelley, who said he was glad to see the good number of young members present apart from their own.

Mr. T. Hurd thanked the ringers for their welcome, and Mr. J. Cottrell seconded the vote of thanks. He said he was glad to see with them the Rector-designate of Draycott. He would find the ringers of the church his best churchmen.

The Rev. A. Stanley (Rector-designate) thanked the ringers for their kind invitation to the meeting, and said he was pleased to see the goodwill and fellowship which existed amongst ringers. He was sure bellringing was an important part of the service, and he would endeavour to give every support to the ringers.

Two new members were elected, Messrs. R. Grocott and R. Hulme, both of Draycott.

A committee meeting was held after tea, when a report of the Central Council meeting was given by the secretary.

Arising out of the report was the question of the association taking up their share of payment towards the cost of the publication of the Surprise Major Methods book. This was unanimously agreed to.

One of the main subjects on the agenda was the annual dinner for 1939. There was a long discussion, and the members were very undecided whether to hold one or not, as two of the clergy had protested against it being held on licensed premises. A suggestion was made that an outing should displace the dinner, but the matter still remains to be settled.

The resignation of Mr. J. E. Wheeldon, Ringing Master for six-bell towers, owing to the illness of his wife, was read by the secretary. It was moved by Mr. A. Thompson, seconded by Mr. K. Thacker, that Mr. T. Hurd be elected as acting Ringing Master, when Mr. J. E. Wheeldon is unable to be present.—This was supported by all the committee and agreed to.

'BUSMAN'S HOLIDAYS.' HOW RINGERS SPEND THEIR OUTINGS. Long Journeys and Much Ringing.

With all the facilities that are now offered for travel, ringers get farther and farther afield when they take their annual 'busman's holiday,' tour the countryside in search of new towers in which to exercise their art, and spend the day in riding, ringing and restaurants. It is no unusual thing now for a party to travel a couple of hundred miles on their outing, and to include anything from six to a dozen towers in their itinerary. Numerous reports are coming in to us of some of these very enjoyable excursions, and below we give extracts from many of them.

MAKING A DAY OF IT.

For a really 'full' day, commend us to the 'jaunt' undertaken by the Surfleet band. They decided to visit the Empire Exhibition in Glasgow. They left home at midnight, and got back again at 5 a.m. the next day! Were they tired? Ask them!

When the ringers of St. Laurence's, Reading, have their annual outing under the chaperonage of Mr. Tom Hibbert, he sees to it with boyish spirit that they, too, 'make it a day,' with 'distance no object.' This year they went east on a real 'steeple chase,' which took them as far as Canterbury. By 8.30 in the morning they were ringing on the twelve bells of Croydon Parish Church. They also rang at St. Peter's, South Croydon, on the ten, before breakfasting on the road to Maidstone, where they were welcomed at All Saints' Church by local ringers. Having 'sampled' the bells, they went on to Leeds, of long peal fame, and the lively ten were soon showing the ringers that the bells wanted handling, several slipping wheel during touches of Stedman Caters and Bob Royal. After dinner at the George Hotel they continued the journey to Canterbury. A few short touches at St. Stephen's, Hackington, then the gem of the day. The fine twelve at the glorious Cathedral were theirs for one hour, and Stedman Cinques were rung. The trouble was to get the party away, everyone wishing to see as much of the Cathedral as possible. At last, however, a move was made and Rochester reached one hour late. Tea put new heart into some of the flagging bodies, and soon Stedman Caters were rolling from the fine ten in the Cathedral tower. Three leads of Treble Ten, well struck, finished the day's ringing, and 'Westward Ho' was the cry. Home was reached in the small hours of the morning, but everyone declared it one of the best outings ever. A very pleasant item was the presence at Rochester of Mrs. F. M. Mitchell, of Gravesend, who was once a 'Reading gal,' and who was very pleased to meet some of the 'old uns.'

BARHAM'S GRAVE VISITED.

Some Kentish towers, including Maidstone, Leeds and Rochester Cathedral, were also included in the long itinerary of the Helmingham (Suffolk) ringers, who left home at six in the morning and did not get back until after midnight. They were favoured with a perfect day and reached the hop county by crossing Tilbury ferry. They rang Surprise methods on the fine eight at Wrotham, and Treble Ten at Maidstone and Leeds. Lunch at the George in the latter village was followed by a visit to the grave of James Barham, the hero of so many ringing feats in the eighteenth century. Ringing at Chatham and Rochester followed, the party being joined at the latter place by their old friend, Mr. G. H. Cross, who had given great assistance in the making of arrangements. Ringing concluded for the day at Milton-next-Gravesend, where the party received a warm welcome from Mr. F. M. Mitchell, hon. secretary of the Kent County Association. Although Sunday had just begun before Helmingham was reached, the bells of St. Mary's Church went off into Cambridge Surprise as punctually as ever, before the morning service.

The same ferry boat that took the Helmingham men from Tilbury to Gravesend carried another party of ringers into Kent. These were the band from All Saints' Church, Maldon, accompanied by wives and friends. They rang in the morning at Gillingham and Faversham, and in the afternoon went on to Canterbury, ringing at Hackington and visiting the Cathedral. Recrossing the Thames on the way home they again found themselves in the company of their Helmingham ringing friends.

Breakfast on the road was an indication of an early start also by the St. Mary-le-Tower Society, Ipswich. Twenty-six members and friends made the excursion, and had their first meal at Bramfield, where the round tower stands a distance from the church. This village is near Halesworth, where the party were met by the 'ever-green' Mr. Fred C. Lambert, and the nice eight bells at the Parish Church told a good tale in London Surprise. At Beccles, where, again, the ten-bell tower stands away from the church, a wedding was in progress. Cambridge Royal, Grandsire and 'firing' were performed for the benefit of the happy couple. Cambridge Major and Bob Triples were rung on the newly-augmented peal at Gorleston, and then to dinner at Great Yarmouth, where at the Parish Church Yorkshire Maximus and Stedman Cinques were rung. Reaching Norwich, Bristol Major was rung at St. Giles, a curious touch of London at St. Miles', and then the majority had the pleasure of listening to a well-struck course of Superlative Major on the back eight of St. Peter Mancroft, at which tower a faultless course of Cambridge Maximus was also rung. Turning south, the journey home was interrupted by a 'pull in' at the Ram, Tivetshall, where an impromptu concert was given, showing that ringers can also be singers. Ipswich was reached by midnight, very good going for some of the 'boys,' such as 'Bob' Brundle (87) and some others over three score years and ten.

A SUNDAY TOUR.

Glorious weather favoured the Woodford (Essex) ringers and their friends when a party of 32 made a Sunday visit to some interesting churches of Hertfordshire, Northampton and Huntingdon. Hitchin was reached in time to ring for morning service. The next call was at Finedon, where ringing at St. Mary's Church was followed by a well-served dinner at the Prince of Wales Hotel, of which Mr. J. R. Hensher is the ringer-proprietor. In the afternoon St. Andrew's, Great Staughton, was visited, and then a short run brought the party to St. Mary's, St. Neots, in time to ring touches prior to evening service on the fine eight (tenor 30 cwt.) which hang in the magnificent tower. The majestic church is a fine example of a Gothic building, with outstanding oak roofs, beautifully carved, with images depicting fishes, mermaids, deer, hares and other peculiar designs. Stained glass windows adorn every wall of this striking edifice, all in keeping with the grandeur of the interior.

After a refreshing tea at the Royal Oak Hotel, Messrs. S. Webb, F. Corney, J. Crampion and C. Morss were specially thanked for arranging a most successful outing, and a reference was made to the two couples in the party, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rann, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Bacon, of Loughton, who recently celebrated their 'jubilees.' The run home was made via Caxton-Gibbett, Royston and Buntingford.

Swindon Parish Church ringers visited Hampshire and Sussex for their outing. Accompanied by a few friends, the journey to Portsmouth was made by train, from which point a motor-coach provided the means of locomotion. They first rang at Havant and then went on to Chichester for lunch, prior to having a pull on the Cathedral eight. Petworth and Petersfield were afterwards visited before returning to Portsmouth for tea. A short spell of ringing took place at St. Mary's, Portsea, and the remainder of the evening was spent in divers ways at Southsea. Swindon was reached at 12.30 a.m. after a most enjoyable day. The West Sussex scenery was much admired, being a contrast to the downs of Wiltshire. The ringing throughout the day was very good, touches in the standard methods and Cambridge Major being rung. Thanks of the Swindon ringers are extended to all who helped to make the outing a success, especially Mr. F. W. Rogers, of Portsmouth, whose advice on local matters was very much appreciated.

A RUN THROUGH SOMERSET.

The band of ringers connected with St. David's, Exeter, completed its fiftieth year at Easter, and it seems fitting that an extended tour should have been planned for the outing this year. Somerset has some of the finest towers in the land and many of the peals of bells are far famed.

The party left Exeter soon after 8.30 a.m. There was a good company of ringers and friends, including Mr. Tucker, a churchwarden of St. David's. The first stop was Wilton, Taunton, where the light tuneful peal responded to Grandsire Triples and Doubles. St. David's band ever encourages young ringers, and Mr. Gardner, the captain, helped by Mr. Searle, is always working at recruits to the Exercise.

Leaving Taunton, interest was directed to the Isle of Athelney and the great marshy stretches where the 'Welgar' grows and the impressive centres of Ling and Street. There could be but a passing glance towards the Abbot's Kitchen and what remains of the historic and glorious Glastonbury. St. Cuthbert's, Wells, was the next objective, and the party were made fully conscious of the many archaeological beauties of the sacred edifice by the Rev. Preb. Cooke, who most kindly greeted them. St. Cuthbert's octave is heavy, tenor 28 cwt., and the band contented itself with rounds and Doubles on the back six. Some would have been charmed with hearing these beautiful bells responding to a touch of well-struck Triples.

Nor was the famous Cathedral of Wells forgotten. Some of the visitors admired the magnificent west front, and a few risked a frown from the captain (two o'clock was the time for leaving Wells) by waiting until the famous 14th century clock performed at the hour. Passing through the famous gorge, a halt was called at Cheddar, where a few of the adventurous spirits climbed 'a Jacob's Ladder,' while more sober-minded Mr. Ryle, Churchwarden Tucker and a couple of others sampled Cheddar ice-creams to their satisfaction.

By way of Axbridge, Highbridge and Bridgewater, North Petherton was reached. To the disappointment of all, the bells (a heavy six) were not available, and the party had to be content with listening to the clock chimes from the very fine tower. The hostess of the Clarence served a sumptuous tea, and, in spite of the disappointment of no ringing, there was no grumble. Mr. Gardner was thanked by Mr. Tucker for all his trouble, and all the interest he took in St. David's bells. The whole party heartily agreed that the trip was a 'best ever.' By 7 p.m. the band was busy with the bells at Wellington. Doubles went very well on the front six, with six, seven and tenor beating time behind, and the younger members did quite well. Such outings, when the glorious countryside can be most admired, add a flavour to the Exercise very peculiar and appropriate to itself, and it is the sincere hope of all that Mr. Gardner will be long spared to arrange other such excursions.

AN OUTING WITHOUT RINGING.

North Shields ringers went to Knaresborough and Harrogate for their outing this year. The weather was not of the best, but they were able to enjoy the lovely walks and gardens in both these towns, finishing up at 'the pictures' as a means of passing away the time until the excursion was due to return. The ringers were greatly disappointed in not getting a ring at Knaresborough. An application was made to the Vicar for the use of the bells, but received a reply saying that as a similar request had had to be refused, they could not accede to the application of the North Shields band. This is the first outing on which the North Shields ringers have had no ringing for over 30 years (excepting the war years), and the first refusal excepting York Minster. In that case the application was not early enough, but Mr. Fearnley made arrangements for ringing at Escrick instead. The North Shields ringers would especially have enjoyed a good ring on this occasion, as their own bells had been away at a bell foundry since the week after Easter. It would have afforded a welcome practice, as half of the ringers are also choirmen and cannot visit other churches on Sunday for ringing. However, the outing was enjoyed and the ringers are grateful to the Vicar and churchwardens for defraying the expenses out of church funds.

RINGERS' OUTINGS.

Members and friends of the Daventry Branch of the Peterborough Guild enjoyed ringing at six towers when they went on their third annual outing. Southam, Kington and Claverdon were visited in the afternoon. At Claverdon an unusual colouring of sallies—black and yellow—provided an unexpected spectacle. However, they did not detract from the 'go' of the bells.

Tea at the Porridge Pot Cafe, Warwick, was followed by ringing at St. Mary's, where the ten bells would have been rung only to rounds but for the assistance of some local ringers, who enabled the visitors, principally six-bell ringers, to manage a course of Grandsire Caters.

Proceeding to Lillington, near Leamington, the party found an exceedingly well-appointed and beautifully-maintained church. The ringing chamber is somewhat cramped because it housed the organ-blower. Being on ball bearings and light (tenor 9½ cwt.), these bells proved rather difficult of handling, since they were eight in a small space. Finally Church Lawford, near Rugby, offered a light six, also on ball bearings. And so home to Daventry again about 10 p.m. The arrangements were in the capable hands of Mrs. M. Powell, who must be thanked for a most entertaining expedition. Nor must the incumbents, steeplekeepers and local ringers who allowed the use of bells and gave assistance in ringing be overlooked in expressions of gratitude.

A VISIT TO EXETER.

The ringers of St. Peter's Parish Church, Bournemouth, had a very successful excursion to Exeter for their outing. They were accompanied by the senior priest of St. Peter's, the Rev. F. A. Sanders, the Rev. C. A. Phillips, Mr. George Preston (Christchurch), Mr. F. W. Townsend (Poole) and Mr. H. Bennett (St. John's) amongst other friends, the party numbering 19.

Proceeding via Dorchester, the first halt was made at Ilminster for a ring on the Parish Church bells and light refreshment. It was a great pleasure to have Mr. D. G. Taylor standing in a short touch of Kent Major, and St. Peter's ringers have made a note of Ilminster Church and bells for another time. Exeter was reached shortly after midday, but owing to the difficulty experienced in getting through the busy city, the party was behind schedule at St. Thomas'. Among other friends waiting was the Rev. E. V. Cox, who took part in a course of Double Norwich before hurrying away to other duties. Luncheon was taken at the Globe Hotel, and, after a short inspection of the Cathedral, the return journey was started via Sidmouth for a short ring on the Parish Church bells. It was noted that the cricket team of this picturesque resort had the 'Test Match' feeling, the very satisfactory score of 236 for six wickets being on the board at 4.30.

Driving through the picturesque countryside via Axminster, Bridport was reached at 6 o'clock for the evening meal and ringing on the much admired peal of eight bells. At nine the party redemptantly made a start for home, and shortly after eleven an empty coach was making its way to the garage. The ringers had enjoyed some good striking in four different towers, the methods being Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich Major, and wish to thank the various incumbents and steeplekeepers for the use of their beautiful bells.

BEDFORDSHIRE RINGERS IN SURREY.

For their annual excursion, the Leighton Buzzard (Bedfordshire) ringers visited Surrey and enjoyed a very full day's outing. By 10.30 a.m. they had arrived at Aldershot, where the fine light ring of eight delighted everyone. They were joined by Southampton ringers, and a combined band rang a splendid course of Cambridge Major. Leaving the Southerners to keep the bells turning, the Bedfordshire men had a short journey to Farnham for the next ring. The tower is a massive piece of stonework, and the ropes are well distributed round the large belfry. After an hour's good ringing the bells were lowered with an excellent rhythm to the delight of all. Lunch was served at the Bush Hotel. The journey from Farnham to Guildford along the Hog's Back is a delight to all lovers of the countryside. Ringing at St. Nicolas' was next on the programme, and the fine-going ten were set in motion to Caters and Royal. Dorking was the next stop, and after some delay in finding the keys, the ringers climbed to the tower and were surprised to find such a small belfry. Calculating the height of the steeple compared with Leighton spire was a good test for the scouts and was revealed as 210ft., or about 25ft. higher than Leighton.

A PEAL OF ORIGINAL MAJOR.

MR. G. E. FEIRN'S COMPOSITION.

As we recorded at the time, the peal of Original Major rung at Holesby, Lincs, on May 29th, was the first in the method with 4th's place bobs. It was composed and conducted by Mr. G. E. Feirn, and here are the figures, the number of changes being 5,004:—

A very good tea was served by Mrs. Benson in the Church Hall. The next stage of the journey to Kingston-on-Thames proved, for the first part, to be at snail's pace, owing to holiday traffic. Ringing at Kingston Parish Church was, however, worth waiting for. The fine peal of ten, hung reversed, was thoroughly enjoyed. The journey home was made by way of Ealing, Barnet and St. Albans, and ended a grand day's outing. Thanks are extended to all tower secretaries, etc., who did so much to make the excursion such a success.

FALSE PEAL REPLACED.*RINGERS REVISIT SURFLEET.

A year ago a peal of Stedman Cinques was rung at Surfleet by a band collected from many places. Later on, the composition was found to be false. The company had visited the famous Lincolnshire church as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, and last Saturday as many of them as possible accepted an invitation to replace the previous performance with a true peal and to enjoy once more the generous hospitality of the 'Mayor and Mayoress.'

The vanguard arrived on Friday evening, and the remainder rolled up at odd times the next day. The last to arrive was a gentleman who, on one former occasion, had gone astray, and it seemed as if he must have missed his way again, so long did he delay his coming. But this time it really was the fault of the railway company.

Everybody was tremendously pleased to have with them again Mr. Albert Walker, of Birmingham, in completely restored health. It was his first peal attempt since his long illness. There was, however, regret that indisposition kept away Mr. John Holman, of Sheffield, and at the last minute Mr. George Ladd, from the neighbouring village of Pinchbeck, kindly stepped into the breach. Mrs. Richardson, who last year stood down to allow Mr. F. E. Haynes, of Birmingham, to ring, was in the band, but the other ten were the same as twelve months ago.

Although the peal was 'the thing,' it did not cause half as much trouble or excitement as some of the competitions which took place on Glyn Garth lawn during the week-end. A year ago tennis was the vogue, and Rupert, it was learned, had gone into training for renewed combat. But some of the rest subtly suggested that bowls would be more in keeping with their advancing years. Actually they thought Rupert could not stoop in comfort. But they were deceived. He can send down a useful 'wood' as well as throw a pretty dart, and, although he was not on the winning side, he 'won the war' when it came to 'reparations.'

On Monday a peal of Superlative Surprise Major was rung at Spalding, where, in the Vicar (Canon B. G. Nicolas), the Birmingham men met a former curate of Christ Church, West Bromwich, in the days when the late Samuel Reeves was in charge there, and a photographic group of those days recalled pleasant memories.

The break up of the happy party came all too soon, but, having been elected members of the Glyn Garth Society, they will be at liberty, subject to the payment of their subscriptions, to 'come again next year.' The thanks of everyone were given to Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, but words cannot convey the appreciation which all felt for the lavish kindness extended to them on yet one more occasion.

RECTOR REGRETS NEGLECTED BELFRY.

The cycling brigade was much in evidence at Ockley, a pretty Surrey village, when the Leatherhead District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild held its usual biennial meeting there. The fine weather helped the attendance, but the long spell of drought must have affected the 'go' of the bells, the back ones especially keeping one guessing as to whether they were going up or dropping back.

It seems a pity that there is no local change ringing band at this church, for the Rector (the Rev. H. C. Martin) is himself an hon. member of the Guild and can handle a bell and takes an interest in ringing and ringers, though not a change ringer, coming from Cornwall, where rising and falling in peal are the thing.

In his address the Rector said how sorry he felt sometimes when his end of the church—the choir, etc.—was well manned, and the other end—ringing being done on the ground floor and open to the church—was sadly neglected.

Tea was served at the King's Arms, 23 sitting down, many more than a pessimistic secretary had anticipated, and the Rector took the chair for the short business meeting which followed.

The election as a compounding member previous to a peal at Dorking of Mr. E. A. Barnett, of Crayford, Kent, was confirmed, and then followed a discussion on a circular as proposed at the Ashted meeting to stimulate a drive for hon. members. The secretary read a draft copy, which, with one amendment, was accepted, and it was decided to enlist the co-operation of the other districts.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Rector concluded the business and the tower was again visited for a short time, but owing to the long journey home many were glad to get away early and the bells were lowered in peal just before 8 o'clock.

Owing to the uncertainties of the 'going,' ringing did not reach a high standard, but methods ranged from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Minor, and ten different towers (not all in the district) were represented.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

Members of the Grimsby District of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild had a very pleasant meeting at Barrow-on-Humber recently, and there were a number of visitors from other parts of the county. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. L. S. Officer), who also presided at the meeting, in the absence of the president (Archdeacon Parry), who, he was glad to say, was progressing very favourably. The Vicar also gave the members a warm welcome to Barrow.

TWO SURPRISE METHODS.

Members of the Herts County Association have recently rung a number of new Surprise methods. Here are two of them, composed and conducted by Mr. Harold Cashmore—Kendal Surprise on May 21st at Bushey; Hitchin Surprise on May 24th at Hitchin.

HOBERT DEAN'S BIRTHDAY.

When Dean Rivers, of St. David's Cathedral, Hobart, Tasmania, celebrated his 81st birthday, the ringers of Holy Trinity Church rang the Cathedral's new bells in honour of the event. Doubles and Minor were rung, as well as some good rounds, and the bells were listened to by a large number of people, for, as it was Friday evening, there were many visitors in the city from the surrounding district, and a mail steamer from Sydney had brought many more.

After the ringing the Dean received the ringers and entertained them to supper. He was congratulated by Mr. Quarmby (Ringing Master) and thanked for his hospitality.

The Dean, in reply, expressed his gratitude to the ringers and remarked upon how beautiful the bells had sounded.

Seven members of Holy Trinity Society were present, as well as two of St. David's band and the Precentor (the Rev. M. J. May).

The Cathedral bells are very noisy in the ringing chamber, and it is hoped something may be done to reduce the effect. The volume of sound outside the tower has been modulated by blocking up the windows.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

FINANCING COUNCIL PUBLICATIONS

The problem which the Central Council has to face in publishing comparatively expensive books for the benefit of the Exercise is no easy one to solve. The Council is, at the moment, confronted with the re-issue of several of the lesser volumes which are out of print, as well as with a revised edition of the 'Collection of Minor Methods,' which should shortly be ready for sale. On the top of this is the 'Collection of Surprise Major Methods,' which was prepared by the Methods Committee at the Council's request, and is waiting for publication. At its last meeting the Council invited the associations to share in the initial expense of production up to one-half of the cost, as a sort of guarantee, and this method of putting the volume on the market has met with general approval. Indeed, some of the affiliated bodies have already promised a grant. It was not the intention that any fixed sum should be voted until some kind of proportionate amount had been arrived at, but those associations who have as yet dealt with the matter have set a fairly generous example, and if the rest of the affiliated societies do no less, the financing of this particular volume should give the Council no anxiety.

In a matter of this kind there ought to be no association or guild unprepared to shoulder the small monetary responsibility involved, because they will receive equivalent value in the number of copies of the book they will receive for sale to their own members. It should not be forgotten that, while the Council is the body which undertakes the issue of these many advisory and technical publications, it does so not for its own benefit—actually it incurs a loss on every copy sold—but for the benefit of individual ringers, the advantage of the associations, for whom it acts in a collective capacity, and the good of the Exercise as a whole.

A useful suggestion is made by the Rev. H. Drake, in a letter in another column, in regard to the Surprise Methods book. It is that it should be issued at a reduced figure to those who subscribe before publication, and that those who purchase afterwards should be charged the published price. This is often done in the case of books which have only a limited public—it was done in the case of the history of the College Youths, published by 'The Ringing World' last year. It is a means of gauging, to some extent, current demand, and it offers an inducement to keen readers and students to 'come in on the ground floor.' Up to the present the Council has been content to sell its various publications round about cost price. This, of course, is not an economic proposition, for there are not only numerous minor expenses which are not thus covered, but no allowance is made for the possibility of an edition being a drug on the market, such as the last edition of 'Glossary' and the remainder of the 'Collections of Peals' proved to be. The decision to charge a small margin over the cost of production in future is, therefore, well justified, but a concession to those who pledge themselves before publication to take a copy of this new work would only be in accordance with the policy adopted up to the present and would give the book a send-off which it might otherwise be unlikely to obtain.

Kazer 4, S. H. Hoare 5, H. G. Cashmore 6, R. G. Bell (conductor) 7, D. S. Pearson (first quarter-peal) 8. The first quarter-pealers are in their early 'teens.

PEAL NOTES.

A CLEVER HANDBELL PERFORMANCE.

There will be congratulations for the clever performance of the North Lincolnshire ringers who, on handbells, last Saturday rang a peal in six plain Major methods, all of which were spliced into every course. The methods were Original, Reverse Bob, Double Bob, Gainsborough Bob, Little Bob and Plain Bob.

Six methods spliced into a peal would be a good performance in any case, even if they were all constructed on the same basis, but the performance at Burton-on-Stather was not as simple as that. In Little Bob, of course, the treble only goes up to fourth's place. In Gainsborough it turns back on reaching 6th's, and to add spice to the mixture there were both fourth and sixth's place bobs with the treble concerned in the bob making in Original. As a handbell performance this must rank very high indeed.

The first peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal on the famous bells of St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, as well as the first in Norfolk, in which all the band have been annual subscribing members of the Norwich Diocesan Association, was rung on Bank Holiday. All but three of the ringers, also, rang their first peal of Cambridge Royal.

Not too old at more than four-score years, Mr. W. J. Nevard, who recently restored the bells at his Parish Church of Great Bentley, Essex, rang his 450th peal on Bank Holiday at Great Holland, where, at the same time, both Messrs. U. W. Wildney and A. R. Andrews completed their 'circle' of the tower.

Twenty-five years ago the bells of Boreham, Essex, were increased to eight, and last Saturday a peal of Bob Major was rung on them to commemorate the silver jubilee of the augmentation. When the two trebles were added in 1913 the present 6th and 7th were recast.

Mr. Nolan Golden rang his 350th peal for the Norwich Diocesan Association, of which he is hon. secretary, on August 4th at Long Stratton, Norfolk. It was the second peal which he and four others of the band rang that day.

The other was a peal of Doubles at Shotesham, Norfolk, the first peal on the bells. There are various opinions as to the weight of the tenor at this church. The Vicar estimates it at 19 cwt., the local ringers think it is 14 cwt., the conductor (Mr. Golden) puts it at 11 cwt.

By ringing the treble to a peal in seven methods at Thorington, Essex, on August 3rd, Mr. G. A. Andrews 'completed the circle' to peals in his Sunday service tower.

HAWKHURST AND DISTRICT GUILD'S FIRST PEAL.

A few months ago the Hastings and District Guild changed its name to the Hawkhurst and District Guild, and the first peal under the new title was rung on Saturday at East Peckham, Kent, for the wedding of Miss Dorothy Bishop, only daughter of Mr. H. Bishop, a member of the local band.

The Hawkhurst Guild is one of the minor organisations which operate on the borders of Sussex, Surrey and Kent, and do a good deal to keep alive interest in ringing in that area. The other societies are the Romney Marsh and District Guild and the East Grinstead and District Guild. The change from Hastings to Hawkhurst was made principally because of the limited number of towers within range of Hastings.

Some of the younger members of the Ancient Society of College Youths rang a peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor at Limpsfield, Surrey, on Saturday.

Mr. William Ambler, of Queensbury, Bradford, rang his one hundredth peal on August 5th, when he called a peal of Double Norwich in Holy Trinity tower, of which he is hon. secretary. Nearly all Mr. Ambler's peals, more than half of which he has called, have been rung for the Yorkshire Association.

A peal of Stedman Triples was rung at St. Peter's, Thanet, on August Bank Holiday, in which five members of the Dobbie family took part.

On the previous day the same band, or at any rate the majority of them, found by experience how difficult it is to ring a peal on a Sunday afternoon, when all Christians should be taking a siesta. They started out for a peal of Cambridge Major, but it 'went west,' because one of the band tried to get his Sunday afternoon nap in the second course.

Then they attempted Stedman Triples, and somebody else then went to sleep. So they tried Grandsire Triples, as being easier still, and, after an hour or so, apparently, they all went to sleep. Sunday afternoon was always a bad time for peal ringing, especially in warm weather.

The new band at Stoke Ash, Suffolk, are making good progress under Mr. E. F. Poppy, and four of them scored their first peal of Minor at the first attempt on August 4th at Thornham Magna, where they rang seven extents in three methods. Another recruit who took part was John Mayes, of Thornham, who rang his first peal. Years ago his father was an accomplished ringer at Thornham, but he lost his life in the Great War.

A Chester Guild band on July 30th celebrated the first birthday of the Vicar of Acton's son. They rang a peal of Grandsire Doubles and afterwards were entertained by the Vicar.

Mr. Daniel Smith, who is hon. secretary of the Barnsley and District Society, has called many peals on six bells, but it was not until last Saturday week that he conducted one on eight bells. This was a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major, rung at Penistone.

The Irish Association has rung the 'farthest west' peal in the British Isles. On August Bank Holiday, a peal of Grandsire Triples was accomplished at St. Mary's Cathedral, Limerick. It was the first attempt for a peal on the bells, which have been a ring of eight since 1673.

They have been recently overhauled by Messrs. Taylor and Co., and the peal was attempted at the special request of Mr. W. E. G. Hewson, of Castle Hewson, Limerick. Mr. Hewson is not only a ringer, but also a great benefactor to St. Mary's Cathedral tower, and the band were sorry he was not well enough to be present. The peal served as a birthday compliment to Mr. W. H. Wilson.

A peal of Grandsire Triples, rung at Ilkeston, Derbyshire, on August 2nd, was specially arranged for Mr. W. L. Rickford, of Thetford, Norfolk.

Another peal of Spliced Surprise Major by Mr. J. Topp, of Portsmouth, was rung at St. Mary's, Portsea, on August 6th, for the first time. It contains, in its full length, 5,120 changes, and can be reduced to 5,056 (in which form it was rung) by omitting three bobs and two leads of Bristol in the fourth course of any one of the five parts. Here are the figures:—

Nine methods were incorporated in the seven 720's of Minor rung at Glinton, Northants, on Bank Holiday.

Peals of Lincolnshire and Yorkshire Surprise were conducted by Mr. Harry Wingrove, of Beaconsfield, during the holiday. Four other ringers, including the Vicar of Beaconsfield, the Rev. R. F. R. Routh, rang in both peals, one of which was at Beaconsfield and the other at Thatcham. The former was a birthday compliment to Miss M. Wingrove.

Mr. Cecil W. Pipe, of Ipswich, standing in a peal at Framdsen at the last moment on Bank Holiday, owing to the indisposition of Miss Sylvia Bowyer, rang what he thinks was his first peal of London. The composition, by Mr. C. J. Sedgely, was rung for the first time.

Mr. Frank Bennett got some of the Kent men busy last week. Just a bit of holiday ringing, we suppose, but it resulted in half a dozen peals. Kent was always a happy hunting ground for Mr. Bennett, who, although he lives at Brighton and has no bit of Kent within 30 or 40 miles, must have rung peals in as many hop county towers as almost any resident.

Mr. Harry Parkes took part with Mr. Bennett in all six peals, Edwin A. Barnett was in five of them and four other ringers were in the four rung over the holiday week-end. The second peal on Monday, rung at Edenbridge, was Mr. Bennett's 1,450th. There's only one other living man in front of him—Mr. G. R. Pye.

The peal at Bexley on August 4th was rung in honour of the birthday of H.M. Queen Elizabeth. She was a subscriber to these bells.

The first peal of Norwich Surprise Minor in Bedfordshire and by the Bedfordshire Association was rung on Bank Holiday at Henlow. It was a birthday compliment to Mr. Harry Bywaters, one of the ringers at this church.

Mr. Harry Hoverd, of Dartford, Kent, although he has rung over 400 peals, rang his first peal in his native county of Oxfordshire on Bank Holiday, when he took part in a peal of Grandsire Triples at Chipping Norton.

The first peal in eight Minor methods in the city of Lincoln was rung on August 2nd at St. Botolph's Church. It was a birthday compliment to Kenneth Mayer, who rang the treble. Rung in 2 hours 32 minutes, it was the quickest peal on the bells.

Ringers from three counties, Bedfordshire, Buckinghamshire and Surrey, met at Dunstable on Saturday to ring a peal of Double Norwich Major for the Royal Cumberland Youths. The idea had been in the minds of some of them for five years or so, but it was only last week that it was acted upon, and Miss Evelyn Steel rang her first peal for the society, as also did Mr. W. J. Robinson, of Guildford.

It was the first peal by the Royal Cumberlands on the bells, but the College Youths rang a peal at Dunstable over 160 years ago. The Ancient Society rang the first peal on the bells on August 20th, 1776. It was a peal of Bob Major, conducted by Charles Purser.

Peals at Wrexham, in North Wales, are not of frequent occurrence, but a peal of Grandsire Caters was rung there on August 3rd under the dual auspices of the North Wales Association, to which four of the band were elected before starting, and Chester Diocesan Guild. It was a birthday compliment to Mrs. Mather, wife of one of the ringers.

The peal of Minor in seven methods rung at Hitcham, Bucks, for the Royal Cumberland Youths, on Saturday, was specially arranged for Corporal Tocock, of the Royal Tank Corps, who was home on leave.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

A party of five ringers returning to Lincoln after a day in the Halifax district of Yorkshire on Bank Holiday had to spend the night at a watchman's hut, for their car broke down about 10 p.m. and they found themselves stranded.

Item, 'Guessing the weight of the Vicar and churchwardens, £1 3s. 6d.' This is not an extract from an ancient parish record, but from the balance sheet of a church fete at Surfleet recently.

Guessing the weight of a pig brought in over £3, but while you can eat a pig if you win it as a prize, you can't very well eat a vicar and churchwardens.

It isn't everybody who would cycle 143 miles just to ring at two fresh towers, but Mr. F. Hopgood (Wimbledon) did this during the holiday week-end, ringing at St. Mary's, Portsea, and All Saints', Ryde, Isle of Wight. This brought him to his 250th church. Last year Mr. Hopgood cycled to South Wales and rang at four towers there. To do this he covered well over 400 miles.

There will be no immediate need for the floor of the ringing chamber at Dunstable Priory Church to be tested as to its stability. Last Saturday, in the course of a peal, a well-known ringer went up with his rope at three separate times, in order to get his bell back into its place, and came down on the floor with both feet with such effect that any defect in the joists beneath the boards must of a certainty have been discovered.

The Somerset holiday ringing week resulted in four peals being rung and four lost. Over the first week-end the party numbered 22, but they were gradually reduced as the week proceeded until only nine were left. The peals rung were Cambridge, Double Norwich, Bob Major and Stedman Triples.

THE BOOK ON SURPRISE METHODS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—May I elaborate my suggestions about the publication of this book?

First, that the subscription price be less than the published price. If the book can be produced for four shillings, let that be the price to subscribers, but on publication the price to be raised to, say, five shillings.

Next, that the associations obtain and send in, as far as they can, the names of those so subscribing.

Lastly, that the names of all those so subscribing be printed on a page at the beginning or end of the book. This would not only tell us to-day who are the people who are interested in these matters, but it would be something of historical interest to those who come after.

AN OLD PEAL.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I should like to point out that the peal of Bristol, stated to be composed by H. G. Cashmore, and published in 'The Ringing World' of August 5th, is an old peal of Treble Bob, by J. Patrick, which can be found in Snowdon's Treble Bob, Part II., page 86. The only difference is that Mr. Cashmore has started the calling at the 17th course of the original peal.

CHARLES W. ROBERTS.

Dear Sir,—Mr. C. T. Coles informs me that the composition rung at Bushey on July 28th is a transposition of a peal produced by J. Patrick many years ago.

I am not surprised, as I had doubts as to its originality, although I did not know of the earlier peal.

This is undoubtedly the minimum number of calls for a Treble Bob method, although one could go much lower by using a Double or Triple-dodging hunt.

Watford.

H. G. CASHMORE.

THE OLDEST PRACTISING RINGER.

The distinction of being the oldest practising ringer brought, last week, letters calling attention to the fact that Mr. James George has one or two seniors in this direction, but Mr. George's claim, he tells us, is to being the 'most active veteran peal ringer' in the world. His old friends, Mr. Bob Brundle, of Ipswich, and Mr. Joseph Williams, of Newent, exceed him in age, but whereas they ring only one or two peals a year, Mr. George, for instance, rang 30 peals between May, 1937, and May, 1938, while only on the 13th of last month he rang the 7th to a peal of Stedman Triples at Burton-on-Trent, where the tenor is 28½ cwt.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

At Farnham, Surrey, on Thursday, August 4th, in celebration of the 38th birthday of H.M. Queen Elizabeth, a quarter-peal of Kent Treble Bob Major (1,280 changes) was rung by A. Hardiman (first in the method) 1, C. Wells 2, J. Read 3, S. Meadows 4, H. Kemp 5, T. Upshall 6, R. Hasted (conductor) 7, G. Upshall 8. The ringer of the treble belongs to the Alton band.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—31.

WALTER F. JUDGE.

The revival of ringing in Oxford in recent years owes a great deal to the enthusiasm of Mr. Walter F. Judge. From the early days of change ringing, Oxford has, from time to time, played a part in ringing history, if not in the towers of the city itself, by the ringers it has produced or who have resided there. In the intervals Oxford ringing has relapsed into the shadows, but now it is emerging again and is, in fact, in some directions excelling anything which the city has known before. While he was Ringing Master of the Oxford Society from 1930 to 1932, Mr. Judge revived the ringing in the city from a very indifferent condition to a stage where the society was able to provide well-rung Stedman Cinques for the Cathedral services. Now, as captain of St. Martin and All Saints' band, he has organised practices at which Spliced Surprise ringing takes place regularly.

Mr. Judge was born at Kidlington on November 16th, 1895, and learned to ring at the tower of his native village, where in 1899 the much disputed record peal of Double Norwich Major, composed and conducted by that giant of the Exercise, J. W. Washbrook, of Oxford, was rung.

Mr. Judge began ringing when quite a youth, and scored his first peal (Grandsire Triples) at Kidlington on November 6th, 1912. Then came a break, and he did not ring another peal until 1919, having meanwhile served in H.M. Forces in the Great War.

His first peal as conductor was only his fourth peal in all, and in this he called a peal of Grandsire Triples at Kidlington on December 30th, 1922. Since then he has conducted peals on all numbers of bells from six to twelve, and among the peals in which he has taken part was the record 16,271 Grandsire Caters at Appleton on December 27th, 1932. Altogether Mr. Judge has rung 205 peals, of which he has conducted 120.

MR. WALTER F. JUDGE.

TYNEMOUTH BELLS RESTORED.

The bells of Tynemouth Parish Church were rededicated on Saturday, July 23rd, by the Bishop of Newcastle. The bells had been away to the foundry of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank for cleaning and tuning and they have been rehung on iron headstocks with ball bearings and new fittings. During the service there was a procession into the churchyard, the ringers following the crossbearer from the chancel to the tower, where they broke away and went up into the belfry and rang the bells for five minutes, giving the congregation time to gather at the east end of the churchyard, where the service was concluded. The service was attended by the Deputy Mayor and several councillors, and an address was given by the Bishop.

After the service the bells were well rung until 9 p.m., many visitors taking part, including Messrs. C. L. Routledge, William Storey, J.P., H. Walker, John Anderson, J. Keen, C. E. Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas. A social evening followed with refreshments at the Parish Hall.

During the week a thanksgiving collection was taken, and the Vicar (Canon Milner) sat at the church door on Saturday afternoon to receive gifts, the purpose being to clear off sundry debts upon the church and its mission churches. A total of £32 was reached. The money for the bells had been raised previously. There was general approval of the work done to the bells and satisfaction was expressed.

A DIAMOND WEDDING.

At All Saints' Church, Banstead, Surrey, for evensong on Sunday, July 24th, a quarter-peal of Bob Major (1,264 changes) was rung as a compliment to Mr. and Mrs. R. Burberry on the occasion of their diamond wedding: M. E. H. Pitstow (first quarter-peal) 1, H. Cheesman (first quarter in the method) 2, F. G. Woodiss 3, A. E. Cheesman 4, N. Hobden 5, T. Norman 6, H. N. Pitstow 7, A. J. Adams (first quarter in the method as conductor) 8.

DEATH OF MR. W. T. PATES.

RINGER AT CHELTENHAM FOR MORE THAN 60 YEARS.
Conductor of Record Peals.

At the advanced age of 85 years, Mr. William Thomas Pates has passed away at Cheltenham. He was one of the leading ringers of the country at the end of last century, and Gloucestershire ringing circles have lost a notable figure.

Increasing years caused Mr. Pates to retire from active ringing in 1936, and a tablet placed in Cheltenham Parish Church, and erected only last November, bears permanent witness to his long service. It records that from 1873 to 1936 he rang in Cheltenham tower and for 45 years was Ringing Master.

Mr. Pates had played no unimportant part in the development of ringing in Gloucestershire, and the esteem in which he was held in ringing circles was manifested when the Central Council was formed in 1891 and he was elected one of the first honorary members. Three years later, however, he resigned. He had rung a considerable number of peals, many of which he conducted. Some of them were his own compositions. He rang his first peal in 1876 at Cheltenham Parish Church and was the last survivor of that band.

His first peal as conductor was a Stedman Caters record, Henry Johnson's composition of 13,054, which was rung at Cheltenham on May 21st, 1888, in 8 hours 16 minutes. Charles Hattersley, of Sheffield, a martinet in the matter of striking, used to declare that this was the finest peal he ever rang. Among others who took part were the Revs. C. D. P. Davies and G. F. Coleridge. In April, 1889, several of the same band put up a new record in Grandsire Caters. It was 15,227, rung in 9 hours 43 minutes. Mr. Pates, when he called this peal, had never previously called a bob in Grandsire Caters. That record stood until 1932.

BELLS AT THE FUNERAL.

A large congregation, including many representatives of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, attended the funeral service, which was conducted by the Rector of Cheltenham (the Rev. J. B. Goodliffe), and Canon J. Baghot-De la Bere (Vicar of Prestbury), on Saturday.

The hymns, 'The King of Love my Shepherd is' and 'Abide with me,' were sung, and as the cortege left the church Chopin's Funeral March was played on the organ.

In the course of the service, the Rector paid tribute to the service Mr. Pates had rendered to the Church over so many years through his gift of bellringing and leadership, saying that he had well conducted his means of proclaiming the Gospel.

Ringers who had assembled in the Parish Church tower were members of Mr. Pates' old band, assisted by Mr. J. Austin and Mr. S. E. Romans, of Gloucester, and ex-Sergt. J. Williams, of Newent.

Before the service they rang muffled touches, and at the graveside handbells were rung by S. E. Romans, J. Austin, ex-Sergt. J. Williams, W. Dyer and A. Handoll.

Returning to the tower after the interment, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Caters (composed by Mr. Pates) was rung by the following: L. Williams (relieved by M. Bridgman) 1, A. Humphris 2, S. E. Romans 3, J. Austin 4, W. Brinkworth 5, W. Dyer 6, —, Harley 7, A. Handoll 8, ex-Sergt. J. Williams 9, S. Hayward (relieved by L. Williams) tenor. To conclude their tribute, the ringers stood and dropped the bells individually, the tenor being tolled 85 times, corresponding to the age of Mr. Pates.

The family mourners were Mrs. K. M. Clements and Miss Pates (daughters), Miss M. E. Pates, Mr. V. T. Pates and Miss Joan Pates (grandchildren), Miss E. Merrett (niece), Mrs. F. H. Pates (daughter-in-law), Mr. Pates and Mrs. W. Wright (cousins), Nurse Evans, Miss Southwood, Mr. A. W. Humphries, Mr. E. Treleven and Mrs. G. H. Hooper (friends), Mr. L. S. Webley (cashier, W. T. Pates and Sons).

The coffin, on which was placed a beautiful wreath in the shape of a bell, from his daughters, was borne by employees of W. T. Pates and Sons, and the cortege was headed by employees of the firm, who lined the entrance to the church.

Many representatives of Cheltenham organisations and business firms were present, and Mr. A. W. Humphris, who was among the mourners, had been a ringing friend of Mr. Pates for nearly 60 years. They first rang a peal together in 1883, and Mr. Humphris rang the tenor to the two record peals mentioned above.

Among the weaths were tributes from St. Mary's and other ringers, the Rector, churchwardens and friends of the Parish and St. Matthew's Church, and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hughes (London).

NINE DAYS TO A 'WEEK.'

A 'week's' peal ringing, organised by Mr. Frank Bennett, in Staffordshire and Shropshire, begins to-day, when the following towers will be visited. It will be noted that the week has been stretched to nine days.

Friday: Tettenhall.

Saturday: Penn and Walsall.

Sunday: Church Stretton.

Monday: Bridgnorth and Claverley.

Tuesday: Shifnal and Coalbrookdale.

Wednesday: Wombourn and Wednesbury.

Thursday: Broughton and Market Drayton.

Friday: Codall and Willenhall.

Saturday: Brewood and St. Luke's, Wolverhampton.

ON THE ROAD.

STORIES OF ENJOYABLE EXCURSIONS.

HOLBORN RINGERS VISIT LATE RECTOR'S GRAVE.

The annual outing of St. Andrew's, Holborn, Guild provided members and friends with an excursion into Surrey and Berkshire. Leaving Paddington by train, they reached Reading at 9.25 a.m. and transferred to a motor-coach, which took them on their country tour. The first call was Bagshot, where they were welcomed by Mr. J. Corbett, who had everything in readiness. Grandsire, Stedman, Double Norwich and Cambridge were rung before going on to Aldershot. Various methods were rung on these light bells before adjourning to the Imperial Hotel for lunch. Here the party found the Rector of St. Andrew's and Mr. A. A. Hughes awaiting them. After lunch the health of the Rector was proposed and duly honoured. The Rector, in reply, said how pleased he was to be with the ringers and hoped to see them more often.

After a most delightful run through beautiful country, the ringers arrived at Grayshott, and after an hour's ringing, from Grandsire Triples to Cambridge Surprise, went on to Weston Patrick, where the late Rector of St. Andrew's (the Rev. E. C. Bedford) lies buried. Here they were met by Mrs. Bedford and members of her family. Proceeding to the church, a wreath in the shape and colour of St. Andrew's cross was placed on the grave and a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by Messrs. E. G. Fenn, J. C. Truss, F. C. Shorter and A. A. Hughes. The Rector of St. Andrew's offered prayers, and the hymn, 'Abide with me,' was sung to handbell accompaniment.

Afterwards Mrs. Bedford kindly entertained the visitors to tea, which was much enjoyed. Time passed all too quickly, so, taking their farewell, the party left for Basingstoke, where they met Mr. and Mrs. W. Hibbert. After the two rings of eight had been rung in various methods, the party returned to Reading, where at The Shades they enjoyed a social hour and discussed the day's programme, everyone being unanimous that they had had a glorious excursion. Paddington was safely reached at 11 p.m. This opportunity is taken of thanking all the incumbents for granting the use of the bells, also those who had everything in readiness at the various towers.

THREE TOWERS LEFT OUT OF NINETEEN.

The Lyme Regis ringers confined their attention this year to their own home county of Dorset and its Bournemouth border and had a very pleasant trip. Departure time was 7.30 a.m., and Dorchester was made the first stop, where coffee and cakes proved very acceptable. The first ringing of the day took place at Wool, an easy going ring of six (tenor 11 cwt.), before moving on to the ancient town of Wareham, where some time was spent in examining many points of interest both within and without the church, which is now one of three still existing out of 19 (so they say) in olden days. The bells are a good ring of eight with a well-furnished ringing chamber, but the tenor (21 cwt.) needs attention from the bellhanger. Here Mr. H. W. Saunders welcomed the party, and the Rev. R. P. Farrow looked in from Lulworth and took part in one or two touches. Lychett Minster, six bells, with tenor 11 cwt., was next on the programme. The fifth has to be rung on the stairs, but that handicap did not interfere with the accomplishment of a good course of London Minor. Bournemouth was reached in time for luncheon, and after that the party dispersed for the afternoon to visit the shops and other numerous attractions, meeting again for a late tea as the prelude to sampling the choice towers on the evening programme.

The fine restored ring at St. Peter's (tenor 20 cwt.) came first, the visitors being warmly welcomed by Messrs. A. Davis, H. Mitchell, P. Whetham and others. The ringing here was much enjoyed and the tower was left reluctantly, but St. John's, Surrey Road, had to be fitted in, and, as it was, the arrival there was behind time. This musical ring of eight (tenor 17 cwt.) provided some good touches, and then the final move was made to Poole, where there is now a delightful ring of ten (tenor 18 cwt.) and a most enthusiastic band, many of whom, including Messrs. F. Townsend and J. Davis with their Rector, were waiting to welcome the party. The assistance of the local ringers in touches here was much appreciated, as it enabled the visitors to taste the joy of Caters and Royal, in which they rarely have the opportunity to participate. Home was eventually reached at midnight and concluded one of the happiest outings in the records of the Lyme Regis Guild, splendid weather favouring them the whole day.

The members who took part wish to express their truest thanks to all the incumbents who so readily granted permission to ring, and also to the ringers in the various towers for their very kind arrangements and their most sympathetic welcome and help. The methods rung during the day included London Minor, Stedman Triples and Caters, Bob Minor, Major and Royal, Kent Treble Bob Minor and Major, Cambridge Minor and Major.

A NOBLE CHURCH.

A very happy party of 26 joined in the annual outing of the ringers of St. Peter's Church, Nottingham, under the leadership of the genial Ringing Master, Mr. H. R. Cobbin. They set out for Holbeach, via Melton Mowbray, Oakham, Stamford, Market Deeping and Spalding, passing through lovely country, including the magnificent scenery of the Vale of Belvoir. Courses of Grandsire Triples and Bob Major were rung on the way, and with just a stop for a 'snack' en route, Holbeach was reached at 11 a.m. The bells at the Parish Church were found to take a little handling owing to the long draught of rope, but some good touches of Triples and courses of Major were rung.

After lunch at Surfleet, where the visitors were joined by Mr. R. Richardson, and ready sale of coupons, there was ringing at Pinchbeck, where the Ladies' Guild were holding a meeting. The return journey was begun after tea at Surfleet, the party making for Bottesford, via Donington and Grantham. On arrival they were met by the Vicar and Messrs. A. Ward and J. Kirton.

Bottesford Church is truly a magnificent structure, both internally and externally. The noble proportions of the interior and the particularly graceful octagonal pillars of the aisle arcades are chief points of its grandeur. The church contains a large number of monuments commemorating deceased members of the families of De Roos and Manners. The eight Earls of Rutland from 1543 to 1679 are represented by effigies in the varieties of armour and costumes which succeeded one another.

The tower, 87ft. high, stands out nobly from the church, and is capped by an octagonal crocketed spire rising another 123ft. There is a noble peal of eight bells, the tenor of 22 cwt. bearing the inscription:—

The fleeting hours I tell; I summon all to pray.

I toll the dead man's knell, and hail the festal day.

This peal was made full use of during the 45 minutes' stay, during which Stedman, Double Norwich and Cambridge were rung. Later a call was made at Whatton-in-the-Vale, where a convivial hour was spent in singing and handbell ringing, and the party arrived at Nottingham at 10.30, having spent a most enjoyable day.

The ringers wish to thank the incumbents at the different churches for the use of their bells, and all those gentlemen who had everything in readiness.

ESSEX RINGERS IN SURREY.

The ringers of St. Barnabas', Great Tey, visited Surrey when they had their annual outing. Accompanied by the Vicar, churchwardens and some friends, 35 in all, their first halt was made at Barking; then on to Mitcham (Surrey), where some very nice bells were set going to Treble Bob Major, three of the local band being at the church to meet them. Then they visited the bell foundry of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston at Croydon and were received by Mr. Stevenson. The inspection of the foundry and of the work in progress proved to be very interesting.

In the afternoon they were met at St. John the Baptist's Church by Mr. D. Cooper, and the very fine bells were set going to Grandsire and Treble Bob. Going on to Mersham, where they were met by three of the local company, some very nice Minor ringing was enjoyed. In the evening they visited Redhill, where they were again met by members of the local company, and then to Reigate, where the finest pull of the day was experienced. Once more there were three local men to meet them. The ringers much regretted the absence from the party of Mr. B. Webb, a member of the local company, who was in hospital awaiting an operation and therefore unable to join them. The ringers would like, through 'The Ringing World,' to thank all incumbents and steeplekeepers for the use of the bells and having all in readiness.

CHESTER GUILD AT SHREWSBURY.

What has now come to be looked upon as an annual outing by members of the Grappenhall Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild took a party of 30 ringers and friends this year to Shrewsbury. The first stop was made at Wem, where the handy ring of eight was made good use of, and at the next halt, Clive, the beautiful, heavy ring of six gave delight to everybody. After tea at Boots' Cafe, Shrewsbury, Mr. W. Bibby proposed a vote of thanks to the 'mainspring' of the party, Mr. Cecil Raddon, for his untiring enthusiasm and the able way in which he made the arrangements for the trip. This was agreed to by acclamation. The ringing concluded on the fine twelve bells at St. Chad's Church. The towers represented were Grappenhall, Frodsham, Daresbury, Runcorn, Witton, Davenham and Farnworth.

VISIT TO WEST OXFORDSHIRE.

St. Michael's, Tilehurst, ringers visited West Oxfordshire for their outing. The outward journey was made via the Berkshire Downs and Vale of the White Horse, returning through Abingdon. Ringing took place at Clanfield, Bampton, Burford and Buckland, the methods rung being Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major, with rounds for the beginners. The party consisted of 20 ringers and friends, accompanied by the Rector (the Rev. F. G. Sherwood). Tea was partaken of at Burford. A fine day and easy going bells contributed to the success of the outing. Thanks are due to the various steeplekeepers who had the bells ready, and the incumbents for the use of the bells.

A HALF-DAY IN 'ZUMMERZET.'

A party of about 50 from the churches of Mangotsfield and St. Ambrose, Bristol, combined for their annual outing. They went by motor-coach to Wells, where they rang the Cathedral bells before evensong; then on to Glastonbury for tea, after which Burnham-on-Sea was visited, where the bells were made good use of. Those not interested in ringing were treated to a real Burnham 'Sou' Wester, which nearly blew them off the Esplanade. On the homeward journey a call was made at the Ringers' Hostel at Wrington, where 'mine hostess' had prepared an excellent supper, after which the all too short time remaining was spent in playing skittles and a 'sing-song.'

IN THE 'FRUIT COUNTRY.'

Saturday, July 23rd, and the Willesborough and District Youths set sail for a cruise in the 'fruit country' on their eighth annual half-day. At Upchurch the bells were raised in peal and kept going in various methods for an hour. Then around backways and by-ways to Bobbing, where is quite a musical little six, which apparently know quite a number of methods. Another hour's good ringing and away up hill and down dale to Milton Regis with its fine old tower; up the stony way to the ringing chamber and a nice lot of bells well spread out. No fear here of knocking your elbow or poking your fist through the other fellow's rope. Forty minutes' good ringing, a peep at the bell frame and then to Teynham Vicarage Church Fete for tea. A look round the sideshows, some trying to find the hidden treasure, others having a smack at the cats, some round the dart board, etc. Afterwards to the tower to sample the little six. Boughton-Blean was the last call. The handy little bells were raised in peal and an hour's good ringing enjoyed. The Stedman, Kent and Grandsire were really good for 'a bundle of six bellers.' Seventy miles' run through delightful country, five fresh towers, bells all in good going order, nine methods, made up an enjoyable outing, which was not so bad for youths ranging from 15 to 75. They wish to thank the incumbents, the tower secretaries and all who helped to make the arrangements, especially the Vicar, Mr. Page, and the good ladies at Teynham.

ANOTHER KENTISH TRIP.

The ringers of St. Bartholomew's, Bobbing, and St. Margaret's, Rainham, combined for their annual outing, and, with their wives and friends, visited Folkestone and East Kent. The party left Rainham soon after 8 a.m. by motor-coach, and called first at Eastwell, where they were met by the Vicar. The next stop was at Cheriton, where they were received by a former ringer. After lunch in Folkestone the ringers visited the Church of SS. Mary and Eanswythe, where they found a good going peal of eight. At New Romney they were welcomed by two ringers, and afterwards went on to tea at Dymchurch. On the homeward journey a call was made at Woodchurch and Smarden, where they were greeted by Mr. F. Macey, an old friend, Rainham being reached at 11.30 p.m. after a very enjoyable day. The ringing during the day included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Minor, College Single, Canterbury Pleasure, Bob Minor and Grandsire Doubles. The ringers, through 'The Ringing World,' would like to thank all incumbents for the use of the bells, also the ringers who assisted them.

OUTING FIRES LEARNERS' ENTHUSIASM.

The St. Mary the Virgin, Putney, Society is fortunate at present in having many learners among its members, and these appeared to a man to participate in the annual outing for the first time. With a neighbouring Ringing Master, Assistant Ringing Master and a district secretary as guests, a 20-seater coach was filled, and a course set for Godstone, Surrey. The church is situated in a quiet backwater, away from the roar of the main road traffic to the seaside, and an hour's ringing enjoyed, in fact one conductor would have liked to have started for a peal then and there.

Edenbridge (Kent) was next on the list, where the visitors were met by two local stalwarts and had another hour's ringing. Then on through the beautiful Ashdown Forest they reached Uckfield (Sussex). At the Bell Hotel a hot lunch awaited the party, after which a move was made to the belfry for an hour. Whilst ringing was in progress a thunderstorm broke and caught the wives while busy shop-gazing.

Due at Burgess Hill at 4 o'clock, the excursionists were a little early, so the enthusiasts watched a cricket match on the spacious common for a time. When ringing commenced, Mrs. F. I. Hairs put in an appearance and recalled old times at Fulham tower. Even the lady's persuasion would not spur her who never attends a practice at Putney to attempt a touch of Double Norwich. After tea in the Parish Hall, at which Mrs. Hairs joined the party, the journey was resumed on the somewhat long run to the charming village of Shere, where some of the ringers found refreshment very cheap.

All the bells rung during the day were good going eight, and if the ringing was only confined to simple touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Bob Major, with plenty of rounds for the learners, the outing was worth while in that the latter had their first opportunity of ringing in strange towers, and were fired with determination to master the methods and be more useful on the next outing. The best thanks are due to the incumbents for permission to ring, and to the local ringers who met the party at the various churches.

190 MILES THROUGH SIX COUNTIES.

The outing of the Hillingdon ringers this year was their thirteenth. The superstitious may have expected the worst, but all the efforts of the Evil One resulted in but one mishap, a broken stay! Some six towers and six counties were visited, 190 miles covered, occupying nearly 15 hours of carefree enjoyment. What a blow-out at Lewes! Mrs. Muzzell knew the voracity of ringers for 'vittals' and catered accordingly. Outing secretaries might do well to remember the name—The King's Head, Southover. The Angel at Petworth, too, is another place where a man may obtain a proper satisfaction for his hunger. At least two dozen did on this particular day! The bells rung during the day were all very good, East Grinstead (8), Fairwarp (8), and what a grand view from the top of this tower, Lewes (10), Shoreham (8), Petworth (8) and Haslemere (10), and some wonderful trebles here). The weather was mixed, but no interference with the programme occurred. Altogether a very enjoyable trip, for which the travellers offered their thanks to the 'secretary bloke.' He was rewarded by being taken home to his very door. In case this sounds suspicious, it would be as well to state that his wife was with him!

A PEAL IN SIX PLAIN MAJOR METHODS.

INTERESTING COMPOSITION BY G. E. FEIRN.

On handbells at Burton-on-Stather, Lincolnshire, on Saturday, a peal was rung in six spliced plain Major methods. Every course had a lead of Original, Reverse, Double, Gainsborough, Little and Plain Bob, and the following composition, by Mr. G. E. Feirn, was used:—

23456	3	4	5	6
53624	—	—	—	—
26354	—	—	—	—
63254	—	—	—	—
32654	—	—	—	—
56234	—	—	—	—
62534	—	—	—	—
35264	—	—	—	—
52364	—	—	—	—
23564	—	—	—	—

Five times repeated, with S at 5 instead of B in 8th course of 3rd and 6th parts. Three courses must be inserted in one part, by calling S at 6 in 5th course, thus:—

63254	3	4	5	6
26453	—	—	—	—
64253	—	—	—	—
32654	—	—	—	S

The calls in Original are 6th place bobs.

A RINGER'S FAILING.

HUDDERSFIELD ASSOCIATION COMPLAINT.

The July meeting of the Huddersfield and District Association was held at Heptonstall on the last Saturday of the month. There was a fair attendance of members from Lindley, Longwood, Elland, Brighouse, Rippenden, Sowerby, Halifax (All Souls') and the local tower.

A short service was held prior to tea, conducted by the Vicar of Heptonstall. The president of the association, the Rev. T. Mathieson, read the lesson.

There was a 'gorgeous spread' for tea, and the ringers did full justice to it, but it speaks badly for the ringers when the local secretary announced that only three applications for tea were made. This state of affairs, says the secretary, really must not continue, as it makes it very difficult for the local ringers and for those who very kindly undertake to cater.

At the business meeting, with the president in the chair, the practice meetings for the ensuing month were arranged to be held at All Souls', Halifax, on Wednesdays, where the method will be Kent Treble Bob, and Lindley on Tuesdays, with Stedman.

Ringing continued throughout the evening and several good touches were brought round.

RINGER FOR SIXTY-TWO YEARS.

The death occurred on August 1st at Pirbright, Surrey, of Mr. Daniel Cheesman, who was a ringer at Pirbright Church for 62 years, and verger for over 50 years. He was 80 years of age.

The funeral took place on Thursday of last week, when the bells were rung fully muffled before and after the service. The local ringers attended, and Mr. W. Cope (hon. secretary of the Guildford District) represented the Guildford Diocesan Guild, of which Mr. Cheesman was a foundation member, having previously been a member of the old Winchester Diocesan Guild.

On Sunday evening, a 720 of Bob Minor was rung with the bells half-muffled in his memory: Miss P. Sayers 1, Miss K. Avenell 2, J. Avenell 3, J. Thompson 4, F. Cherryman (conductor) 5, H. P. Sparks 6.

COLLEGE YOUTHS ABROAD. A CORNISH HOLIDAY.

Three country members of the Ancient Society of College Youths, together with the wife of one and the parents of another, recently spent a most enjoyable week in Cornwall. The visit was not intended to be a ringing tour, but the party hoped to ring in a few towers in the evenings, and through the kind assistance of Mr. C. E. Lanxon one peal attempt was arranged. The latter failed, after 50 minutes' ringing, owing to a shift course, in which one of the visitors, who should have known better, was involved.

Nine towers in all were visited, including Truro Cathedral and St. Mary's, Penzance, where the tenor was rung by the above-mentioned ringer's wife, who had not touched a rope for four years, but who proved the soundness of her early training by the stylish way in which she rang her bell.

Sennen, the farthest west, and Landewednack, the farthest south, were among the other towers 'bagged,' and the only disappointment of the week was at St. Buryan. Permission to ring was readily granted at the Rectory, and the party were informed that there were five bells in the tower. Only four, however, were to be found in the belfry, and there were, alas, no ropes!

One experience the visitors will remember all their lives. They had the great privilege of ringing, both on hand and tower bells, with Dr. John Symons, a fellow-member of the Ancient Society, who called the first peal ever rung in the Duchy, and whose keenness and interest in all matters appertaining to the art of ringing put to shame many a younger member of the Exercise.

None of the programme could have been carried out without the kind co-operation of the members of the Truro Diocesan Guild, some of whom travelled many miles in order to make up a band. The visitors would like to take this opportunity of thanking them most heartily, and in this connection would particularly mention Miss E. Symons, Mr. P. Williams and Mr. P. J. Hitchens.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Western Division of the Sussex County Association was held at Billingshurst on Saturday, when members attended from Arundel, Brighton, Chichester, Heene, Lymminster, Lower Beeding, Rudgwick, Storrington, Shipley, Twineham, Warnham, West Grinstead and the local band. There were also three visitors from London and Surrey. Although the weather was hot, there was plenty of ringing during the afternoon and evening.

The service was conducted by the Rev. S. Fraser in the absence of the Vicar.

At the business meeting following tea, a vote of thanks was proposed to the Vicar for the use of the bells, to the organist who came three miles for the service, and to the local band for the arrangements they made to make the meeting a successful and enjoyable one.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

A WORD TO THE THOUGHTLESS.

Ringers, when they go abroad upon their annual outings, are a very privileged class, for they are given the use of bells in other churches and ring them purely for their own gratification and pleasure. In the course of a single day it is not uncommon for a company to be given entry to half a dozen or more towers, there to exercise their art. This freedom of the belfries is one of the phases of that freemasonry of the Exercise of which we are so proud and the privileges attached to it are valued, and treated accordingly by the great majority of ringers. But there appear to be exceptions and at this season, when many outings are taking place, it is not inopportune to give a word of warning to those thoughtless people who fail to exercise that respect and restraint which is demanded at any church visited in the course of their excursion.

Here are some of the things which have happened this summer, and of which we have authentic information: Parties arriving without previous arrangement and expecting to be allowed to ring; one company of unexpected visitors had actually taken possession of the tower before their presence was known to the authorities. Others have walked into the churchyard smoking; in one case non-ringing friends went into the ringing chamber with hats on and lighted cigarettes in their mouths, while some of them took a stroll round a neighbouring garden without permission. Then there have been ringers who on these occasions have made their ringing a 'practice,' without consideration of the public, to whom their visit in such a case may be anything but a pleasure. We also have information of another party of 'litter fiends' who threw the accumulated rubbish out of their coach and left it at the entrance to the church.

All these things are, to say the least, rank bad manners and hardly to be expected from ringers, who would probably be the first to resent it at their own towers. Such actions give a 'handle' to all who would find fault with ringers, and the general body of well-behaved and reverent members of the Exercise have their reputation besmirched by the careless conduct of just a few. Unimpeachable behaviour is essential in the precincts of the church at home; it is no less important when ringers are visiting other towers.

As we have said, the great majority of ringers appreciate the opportunity of ringing at other churches as a privilege and their conduct is above reproach; it is a great pity if their reputation has to suffer from the actions of the thoughtless few. The instances we have quoted may only be isolated ones, but the bad impressions created are not only among ringers, but among others who may be tempted to judge the whole by an unfortunate sample. Courtesy demands that towers should not be invaded unless proper arrangements have been made; reverence for the church and its hallowed precincts ought to be observed without any reminder, and when the privilege of ringing on such occasions is granted, the ringing itself should be only of the best within the competence of the band. The holiday spirit which characterises these excursions may bring relaxation, but it does not do away with the need for the observance of the rules of decent conduct and the respect for the conventions.

RINGERS AND THE CHURCH.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Like those ringers who think the control of all belfries rests with the associations and not the church authorities, Mr. Bigley 'puts the cart before the horse' when he asks, 'which of the two types of clergymen mentioned in his letter is doing the most to further the good work of the associations.' Rather should his question have been, 'Which of the two clergy are doing the most to further the good work of the Church?' In a recent issue of 'The Ringing World' I wrote giving what I maintain to be some of the reasons for diocesan committees being indifferent to accepting ringers' advice on bell restorations, and further commenting upon what I had said to me by one or two clergy—remarks which I notice Mr. Bigley very conveniently refrains from discussing, but simply turns aside to talk on the social side of ringing. There are two sides to ringing as to every other branch of church work—the spiritual side and the social side. The Holy Scriptures tell us (do they not?), 'Seek ye first the Kingdom of God'—then all these other things shall be added unto you. Another scriptural passage tells us, 'I am the vine, ye are the branches,' but how many ringers do we find treat the social side of their art as the vine and the spiritual side as the branches? It is no exaggeration to say that with two-thirds of ringers the only time they ever attend a divine service is at an association meeting, and many would shrink that if they could! I know of an association not a great way from where Mr. Bigley lives who, several years ago, were persuaded by a certain clergyman to hold a service prior to their meeting. They did so for a time, but it was not long before they fell back into the old way. I know of another guild who started the idea some years ago of issuing a card to every belfry, upon which was written prayers to be said by the captain before and after all ringing. That, too, was like the old saying about 'a new broom.' . . . Go round to those belfries to-day and you will find scarcely one in twenty who still possess that card, much less repeat the prayers. In my business travels I have come across numerous papers and journals where bishops and clergy alike have complained during the last year or so about the ever increasing number of people who belong to the Church simply for the organisations, with little or no desire for worship. Only a week ago I was staying in a town, and, picking up the local newspaper, read an article by a clergyman with the prominent headline, 'Church-folk who prefer to be entertained.' There the Vicar had a grumble about members of his Boys' Brigade only attending service once a month, when they were due on church parade, and yet when a social or anything of the kind was to be given, would turn out in full force. Were that clergyman to read Mr. Bigley's letter I am afraid he would have much the same impression about ringers. I suppose, upon reading this, Mr. Bigley will try to hold up to me as an example the case which has been given such wide publicity at Walgrave in his own county, where there are five bells with eleven ringers—one a churchwarden, several in the choir, several on the Church Council and so on. Will he, at the same time, state how many others there are where the ringers just simply go to ring and walk out? Were this practice to be permitted with sidesmen there would soon be an outcry, and I quite believe ringers would be among some of the people to cry 'shame' on it. To my mind, the office of a ringer is just as sacred as that of a sidesman, and the sooner ringers realise this the sooner will they win the support of the diocesan committees which they so earnestly desire. There are some customs in the Church which are good, and others which are bad and ought to be done away with—and the custom of ringers going to ring and walking out is one of them. Whatever ringers may say about feeling tired and so on is, I contend, no excuse.

Churches were not built to be treated by members of the public as 'museums' or belfries as 'places of amusement' for ringers. 'My house is a house of prayer' are we not told? The social side of all church life is very nice, but it has a tendency to be abused.

'RINGER AND CHURCH OFFICIAL.'

EARLY CHANGE RINGING RECORD.

To the Editor.

Sir,—Referring to the letter of Mr. C. K. Lewis in your issue of August 5th on the peal of Bob Minimus, I was recently shown by Mr. F. C. Lambert, of Halesworth, Suffolk, an old churchwarden's book, dated 1611, in which was written on the front page the following extent on four bells. The date beside these figures is 1621. Mr. Lambert believes they were written by one of the Brends, of Norwich, who did some repairs to the bells at that time.

This must be one of the earliest records of change ringing in existence, the novelty being the extent without a dodge.

A 'FIRST' IN WALES.

At Neath, Glamorgan, on Saturday, July 17th, after a peal of Cambridge Minor had come to grief, 720 of London Surprise Minor was rung by A. Devonald 1, J. E. Bloxham 2, T. Roderick 3, H. Boyce 4, E. Phillips 5, G. I. Lewis (conductor) 6. This was the first 720 of London on the bells and by all the band. It was also the first in Wales by a resident band.

PEAL NOTES.

NOISY BELLS.

The deafening noise from the bells in some towers makes peal ringing—indeed, any ringing—a trying and, in fact, almost a distressing job. Such a place is Great Ryburgh, Norfolk, where there the tenor is 11½ cwt. and there is only one boarded floor between the bells and the ringers, in a short round tower.

Only one peal had been rung there prior to last week, and that was 36 years ago. A Norwich Association band went there for a peal on August 11th, but took the precaution of using a set of 'silencers.' Even then the conductor had to use the full power of his lungs to make himself heard. A peal in six methods of Minor was rung. The previous peal was in one method only.

The peal of Minor at Sproughton on August 6th was rung as a compliment to Mr. R. Staines, one of the ringers, on the occasion of his wedding with Miss Josephine Phoenix, which took place the same day at Sproughton. The methods rung in the peal were St. Clement's and Plain Bob, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, and Ronald Steward rang his first 720's of both St. Clement's and Kent.

A peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at Helmingham, Suffolk, on August 8th, was Mr. T. W. Last's 300th peal. Miss Sylvia Bowyer and Mr. C. J. Sedgley, of Ipswich, rang their first peal in the method, indeed they had never before struck a blow in it. The peal was both composed and conducted by Mr. Sedgley.

The first peal on the bells at Tharston was rung on August 10th. There are five bells in the tower and three methods were rung.

Another tower in which the first peal has been rung is Hooe, an East Sussex village. There are five bells, cast originally at Whitechapel in 1789, but recast in 1899.

Originally it would seem there must have been some disagreement about the bells, for on the fourth, in addition to the founders' names, were the inscriptions, 'Peace and good neighbourhood' and 'Not to repeat what's gone and past; For the five bells are come at last.'

The two brothers Jocelyn and Ivan Gardiner, of Marple, Cheshire, who, as recorded a fortnight ago, rang on handbells 210 extents of Bob Minimus, have now, with Mr. C. Kenneth Lewis, rung a peal of 42 six-scores of Bob Doubles. It was the conductor's first peal on handbells, but only the other day on tower bells he called a peal in 84 spliced Minor methods.

The death occurred, after a short illness, of Mrs. M. Shelley, mother of one of the Draycott, Staffs, ringers, Mr. Frederick Shelley. She was laid to rest on Sunday, August 7th, and on August 11th a peal of Grandsire Doubles, with the bells half-muffled, was rung as a parting tribute of respect at Drayton Parish Church.

A peal of St. Clement's College Bob Major was rung at Fobbing, Essex, on Saturday, and the ringers are much indebted to the Rev. Gardner for allowing them the use of the bells. They desire to express their thanks to him and also to Mr. A. Ockendon for having everything in readiness.

RETURNING TO CANADA.

Mr. A. E. F. Trotman, who was one of the earliest ringers at the Cathedral at Victoria, British Columbia, when the bells were installed about a couple of years ago, and who has been in England for some time, is on the point of returning to Canada. A farewell peal was arranged for him at Long Crendon, Bucks, and he scored his first peal of Bob Major.

By a sad coincidence, both the Rector of St. Margaret's, Lowestoft (Canon H. J. Enraght) and his churchwarden (Mr. T. H. Thistle) died within a few days of each other. A half-muffled memorial peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung at St. Margaret's Church on August 9th.

It was Mr. C. F. Sayer's 100th peal and his 70th with Mr. E. R. Goate, of Beccles.

There were 45 changes of method when 12 methods were rung in a peal of Minor at Welton, Lincolnshire, on Saturday, five of the six ringers ringing their first in that number of methods, and the conductor, Mr. Jack Millhouse, calling a twelve-method peal for the first time.

Another instance of the way in which 'multi-method' peals of Minor are 'catching on' was provided on Saturday, 21 methods being included in seven extents at Pebmarsh, Essex. In this case there were no fewer than 206 changes of method, and it was the first peal in 21 methods by all. It was called by Ralph Bird, who rang his 40th peal and his 25th as conductor.

By contrast, a peal in 20 methods at Marple the same day had only 27 changes of method. It all depends, of course, how you 'mix 'em.' The Marple peal was a birthday compliment to Miss E. M. P. Fethers. Spending a holiday in Suffolk, the Misses Dorothy and Kathleen Fletcher, of Beaconsfield, Bucks, rang a peal of Superlative at Debenham and were elected members of the Suffolk Guild before starting.

The name of the ringer of the tenor in the peal at Gilmorton on July 17th was J. Leslie Willars, not Williams.

Half the band, including the conductor, in a peal of Bob Major at Edmonton on Saturday were ladies.

Fifteen ringers took part in the four peals rung during the 'Somerset week.' Peal ringing is not the primary object of the tour, but the holiday party had a really good time. The peal at Chewton Mendip, on one of the most glorious rings of eight in the country, was Miss Norah Williams' one hundredth.

ASSOCIATION GUIDE.

SECRETARIES' NAMES AND ADDRESSES.

The following are the names and addresses of the secretaries of the principal associations of ringers. The list will be useful in many ways, but its publication is chiefly in order to facilitate the scheme for keeping ringers, who remove from one area to another, in touch with ringing and bringing them into contact with the tower nearest to their new place of residence. When a ringer goes to live in the area of another association, the local secretary should forward his new address, either through his own general secretary, who will pass it on, or direct to the secretary of the association to which the member has gone, and, through him, the ringers in the town to which the member has removed will be able to hunt up the newcomer—if he needs it.

Another purpose of this list is to enable ringers to know where they may obtain information about towers in any district they propose to visit.

Any corrections to the subjoined list should be forwarded for publication:—

Ancient Society of College Youths: Mr. A. B. Peck, Branksome, 1, Eversfield Road, Reigate, Surrey.

ONE HUNDRED PEALS IN 95 TOWERS.

Mr. Pat Cannon rang his 100th peal on August 12th at Branston, Lincs. He has the exceptional record of having rung these 100 peals in no fewer than 95 towers in 18 counties. In 74 towers he has rung the tenor and 'turned in' 68 of them—the tenors, not the towers. The peals have been rung with 308 different ringers. He has conducted 52 peals out of his century.

We are informed that in the peal of Spliced Plain methods rung on handbells at Burton-on-Stather, all the bobs were made in Original, and were thus all 6th place bobs.

The report of a peal of Doubles by the Norwich Diocesan Association, rung on August 11th with the bells half-muffled for the late Rev. Maude Roxby, has been sent in without the name of the place where it was rung.

Mr. Cecil Pipe, who thought the peal of London at Framsdon on August 1st was his first in the method, rang a peal of London at North Mimms on September 6th, 1930, with the late Mr. W. Pye. The information comes from Mr. E. W. Pye.

The peal of Grandsire Triples at Ufford, Suffolk, on August 10th, was specially arranged for Mr. F. W. Corney and Mr. B. Weaver, of Woodford, and Mr. L. H. Bywaters, of Bedfordshire, who were on holiday in the district.

A CAMBRIDGESHIRE TOUR.

The Lavenham Society spent a long day in Cambridgeshire for their 16th annual outing. They travelled by motor-coach and called first at Ickleton, where Mr. Percy Webb greeted them, and they were soon busy with the ropes. At Sawston, where more courses were 'tapped off,' luncheon was taken at the Unicorn Inn, followed by handbell ringing. Proceeding to Cambridge, the party were there met at the Roman Catholic Church by Mr. R. Lathbury and Miss K. Willers. After a few courses on the fine eight, a short run brought the party to the University Church of Great St. Mary's, where Mr. Quinney gave them a hearty welcome. A few courses were rung on the back eight, and a course on the back ten. At Newmarket the party visited the eight-bell tower, and, with Reggie Sharpe, tapped off the final courses for the day, the ringers being too tired to try the peal of six a few yards away. The methods rung during the day were Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Superlative Major, and Grandsire Caters. Thanks of the party are extended to the incumbents and friends for their kind help, and especially to their genial secretary for another 'best ever.'

APPRECIATION

MESSRS. JOHN TAYLOR & CO.,
 BELLFOUNDERS, LOUGHBOROUGH.

Dear Sirs,

I am glad to report that we had a splendid day yesterday on the occasion of the special service for the ringing of the bells for the first time after restoration. We had ringers from the two Churches in Bridgnorth, as well as individual ringers from Lichfield, Worcester, Clent, Chelmarsh, Morville, etc. Their verdict was unanimous, nothing but the highest praise for your work, and I was asked to tell you so. Not only that they worked so easily but the tone was delightful.

Once more telling you how greatly pleased we are,

Yours faithfully,
 R. B. SOUTHWELL.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Messrs. Gillett and Johnston are just completing, at the Croydon Bell Foundry, a great carillon of 44 bells, which is to be dispatched shortly to San Francisco, for erection in the tower of the Golden Gate International Exhibition (1939). The carillon is subsequently to be installed at Grace Cathedral in that city.

We are pleased to say that Mr. James George is steadily improving after his recent operation. He has been discharged from hospital and is now at his home at 44, Cuckoo Road, Nechells, Birmingham.

The Bellringers' Festival, with special sermons both morning and evening, is to be held at Coalbrookdale, Salop, on August 28th. This is the way in which, once a year, the parishioners recognise the services of their ringers. The offertories throughout the day are given to the bellringers' fund.

Since the Hawkhurst and District Guild was formed out of the old Hastings and District Guild earlier in the year, 25 new members have been elected.

A notice of a meeting at Hinckley invites ringers to bring their wives and girl friends, and adds 'if they don't ring, you can "park" them at the local "wakes."' We hope this will not mean that the ringers will afterwards have to wake them in the local parks.

The meeting of the Bedford District of the Bedfordshire Association is to be held to-morrow (Saturday); not on the 26th as advertised last week.

There is one other living ringer, besides Mr. G. R. Pye, who had rung 1,450 peals before Mr. Frank Bennett, and that is Mr. George Williams, who reached the total a few months ago.

Mr. John Goodman rang his 200th peal on Saturday when he called a peal of Grandsire Caters at his own Parish Church of St. Thomas, Dudley. It was in honour of his birthday and of the 52nd anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. William Green. Mr. Green rang the 7th to the peal.

The peal was also one of farewell to Mr. Cyril B. Sheppard and his family, who are shortly returning to South Africa after a holiday in this country. Mr. Sheppard is the son of the popular hon. secretary of the Dudley and District Guild (Mr. Herbert Sheppard).

AN AMERICAN FAMILY'S INFECTION.

DOROTHY SAYERS' NOVEL CREATES INTEREST.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Through the happy accident of reading Dorothy Sayers' 'The Nine Tailors,' and finding that the neighbour we had recently moved next to was a bellringer, we first became interested in this art with a mysterious language all its own. During the past three years we have progressed by easy stages, which included watching the ringers at Groton and Watertown here in Massachusetts, to an earnest desire to learn to ring handbells. 'We' in my own family includes my father, my mother, my husband and me; and others in Bridgewater have been gathered in to a circle which met regularly all last winter.

Our neighbours, Mr. and Mrs. James Laker, have most patiently and expertly guided us to a little understanding of what it is all about, using bells sent from Mrs. Laker's father in Wickhambreaux, Canterbury. In spite of our clumsiness, I think we have all learned a little of the magic of 'The Ringing World'—in this case I do not refer to your publication!—and we hope to continue.

I would be happy to have you use the enclosed. It may be of interest as an example of how thoroughly contagious the 'ringing' infection is!

DOROTHY K. HINCKLEY.

A SIMILE.

TO MY HUSBAND.

I'll ring the changes on my love—
An easy thing for me to do,
For I have known plain hunting since
The day I saw—and hunted—you!
Ah, me! How wise the novice feels
Who learns this simple, graceful art!
He does not guess the minor part
It plays in really ringing peals!
When duties called us from the hunt
We fired the bells, and no mistake!
In spite of all our confidence,
How many peals we failed to make!
Alas! I found I was inclined
To come too quickly down to lead,
And therefore had an urgent need
To learn smooth dodging up behind!

We've added bells since those first days,
And learned to do a neater job;
We've even double-dodged at times,
When Fate has called a sudden bob!
Sometimes we even guess the sound—
The chiming, mingled harmony—
That shall be ours eternally
When, at the last, the bells come 'round.'

DOROTHY KUENZLI HINCKLEY.

CHARLES J. SEDGLEY.

Member of the band at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, where twelve-bell ringing has long maintained a high level of excellence and Maximus methods have been exploited more than anywhere else, Mr. Charles J. Sedgley has had no mean share in the successes which have come to this celebrated band in recent years. He began his ringing well over 30 years ago, but he did not take up conducting seriously until 1930. Since then he has called 48 out of the last 100 peals he has rung.

He was born at King's Lynn, Norfolk, in 1887, son of the late Mr. J. W. Sedgley, secretary of the local company of ringers, who rang many peals. It was natural, therefore, that he should take early to ringing, and he scored his first peal at Stow-Bardolph, Norfolk, on August 6th, 1906. Mr. Sedgley went to reside in Ipswich in 1909, at the time that James Motts was at the height of his career, the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus having been rung in 1908. In the St. Mary-le-Tower band Mr. Sedgley found every encouragement, but there was at that time no inducement to take up conducting. He was, however, interested in composition, and as early as 1911 Mr. Motts called one of his peals of Superlative. He has produced numerous compositions since.

Mr. Sedgley had rung 68 peals before he called one, and this was a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Henley, Suffolk, in 1921, when he rang the 4th. Indeed, practically all the peals which Mr. Sedgley has conducted have been called from a working bell. The second peal he conducted was Thurstans' Four-part peal of Stedman Triples, his third, another peal of Stedman, Carter's No. 33, the next a peal of Stedman Cinques, and the next a peal of Superlative Surprise Maximus—all from working bells. Mr. Sedgley also called the first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus ever rung. In addition he took part in the first peals of Superlative, Pudsey, New Cambridge and Rochester Surprise Maximus, in which methods he has also conducted peals, as well as calling peals of Cambridge, Double Norwich and Duffield Maximus. His peals on twelve bells number over a hundred, and include no fewer than 13 Maximus methods.

In 1934 Mr. Sedgley took part in a 'Charles' peal of Superlative Surprise Major rung at Ufford, and on November 11th called a half-muffled peal of Stedman Triples at Helmingham, rung by a band of ex-Service men, all of whom had served overseas. Altogether Mr. Sedgley has rung 242 peals, of which he has conducted 54.

On the formation of the Suffolk Guild in 1923 he was elected Ringing Master, and has held the office ever since, and he has represented the Guild on the Central Council since 1927.

GAINSBOROUGH BELLS OVERHAULED.

After a silence of nine weeks, the bells of All Saints' Church, Gainsborough, Lincs, once again rang out on Sunday, August 7th, for evening service, and for about an hour afterwards. During the interval they have been rehung with new gudgeons, ball bearings, etc. The clappers have been rebushed and fitted with screw down lubricators. The rope rollers have been replaced with new ones, running on enclosed ball bearings. The steelwork of the bell fittings, bell frame and supporting girders have been thoroughly cleaned and painted. The housings of the bearings, specially manufactured by the founders, are made so as to contain a reserve supply of lubricant which will last approximately 12 years, during which time the bearings will require no attention whatever.

The whole of the work has been carried out by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., to whom great credit is due for the efficient way in which they have completed the contract. Those who took part in the ringing expressed complete satisfaction with the way in which the bells go.

MR. CHARLES J. SEDGLEY.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

COMMITTEE ANXIOUS ABOUT MEMBERSHIP

Annual Meeting at Macclesfield.

The annual festival and meeting of the Chester Diocesan Guild was held at Macclesfield on Bank Holiday and attended by about 50 ringers and friends from all the branches of the Guild. The proceedings commenced with a service in St. Michael's Church, when the Vicar (the Rev. N. A. Vesey) delivered an inspiring address.

At the business meeting held after the service the statement of accounts and report were adopted.

The statement of accounts showed receipts amounting to £54 6s. 1d., including £4 6s. 2d. from interest on investments, £44 2s. 6d. from branch subscriptions, £1 8s. from non-resident members, £4 4s. from advertisements in the annual report, and 5s. 5d. bank interest. The expenditure was £142 2s. 9d., but of this £84 17s. was contributed to the Cathedral Bell Fund, towards the provision of the two new treble bells, and £8 11s. 4d. the expenses of the jubilee dinner. The balance in hand at the end of the year was £79 5s. 11d., while there is also invested £102 12s. 7d.

The report recalled the fact that 1937 was the jubilee of the Guild, which was fittingly celebrated. It added: We are able to report that the general work of the Guild compares most favourably with other ringing organisations. At the same time the committee feels a little anxious about the reduction in membership, and an appeal is most earnestly made to all interested in ringing to join the Guild so that the strength of the organisation can be maintained.

The care of church towers and bells is the work of specialists. We, therefore, suggest that each incumbent whose church possesses a peal might reasonably join the Guild and call upon it from time to time to examine and report on the bells of his church.

The strength of the Guild now stands at: 2 honorary life members, 38 honorary members, and 616 ringing members. We regret the decrease of 21 ringing members, due in the most part to unpaid subscriptions.

The financial statement includes this year as special items: (1) The cost, to the Guild, of the jubilee dinner. (2) The payment of £84 17s., the balance of the account for the two new bells at the Cathedral. The Guild is pleased to be able to report that it was in a position to pay such a handsome figure to so worthy an object as the bells of the mother church of the diocese.

INCREASE IN PEALS.

For the fourth year in succession we are pleased to report an increase in the number of peals rung by members of the Guild, the total being 101, the second time the century has been passed, the first time being in 1929, when 113 peals were rung. This makes a grand total of 2,011, the 2,000th peal being rung at Wistaston on November 27th, the only successful peal by the Guild on that day. Thirteen peals were rung for the Coronation and another four were rung by a touring band later in the year. One peal of interest was one of Kent Treble Bob Royal at the Cathedral on December 11th, when at least one representative of each branch was in the band. This was the second attempt, the first being doomed when the belfry was put into darkness after half an hour's ringing. There were 195 ringers taking part in the 101 peals as against 163 in 77 peals last year; 24 rang their first peal, 18 last year; there were 29 conductors; 19 last year; while 28 rang peals in new methods. The multi-method band again increased the number of methods in a peal to 73 Treble Bob methods, the greatest number possible in seven extents. Mr. K. Lewis headed the list of peal ringers with a total of 31, and Messrs. James A. Milner, J. Worth and P. Swindley with 29, 27 and 27 respectively, while J. Worth conducted 18. For the first time we record a peal of Major in four Plain methods, consisting of Double Norwich, Double Oxford, Plain Bob and Little Bob.

As already reported, the bells at the Cathedral have been augmented. The bells at Cheadle, near Stockport, have been rehung and were opened in November. No report has been received of any other restorations or improvements, although the opportunity is taken to draw the attention of those concerned to see that their bells and fittings are in order. There are one or two cases where expert examination is necessary.

There have been two cases of reproduced bells reported in the diocese. The calling of people to worship by the amplifying of gramophone records of bells is to be deplored and should not be encouraged.

The committee wish to place on record their gratitude and appreciation to Mr. J. W. Clarke for his work in connection with the augmentation at the Cathedral and also for his excellent broadcast on July 20th. The bells at the Cathedral, on this occasion, were a pleasure to hear, good striking and good reception.

In concluding, the committee take the opportunity to thank all the branch officials, the librarian and the peal recorder for their valuable assistance and co-operation, which is very much appreciated at all times, and also to all other members for their interest and encouragement to the younger ringers, and to the honorary members who, by their support, enable the affairs of the Guild to be carried on.

All the officials were re-elected, viz.: Mr. J. W. Milner, Master; the Rev. M. H. Ridgway, Vicar of Tarvin, hon. secretary and treasurer; Mr. H. Parker, hon. report secretary; Mr. J. W. Clarke, auditor; and Mr. R. W. Worrall, peal recorder. Messrs. J. Swindley (Chester) and

N.U.T.G.'s RECORD EXCURSION.*FIVE HUNDRED MILES AND FIFTY-ONE TOWERS.

Members of the N.U.T.G. (short for National Union of Tower Grabbers) spent an enjoyable week awheel in search of new 'scalps,' and rang in no fewer than 51 towers. That, indeed, should be enough to satisfy the ambition of the most enthusiastic 'grabber.' In the course of their tour they cycled through the counties of Gloucester, Monmouth, Glamorgan, Brecon, Hereford and Worcester and covered a distance of 500 miles. Here are the towers they visited, after meeting at the assembly point, Windrush, near Northleach:—

Saturday: Windrush (6), Sherborne (6), Chedworth (6), Rendcomb (6), Elkstone (5), Great Witcombe (6), Upton St. Leonard (8) and Brockworth (6).

Sunday: St. Michael's, Gloucester (10), Lydney (8), Chepstow (8), Mathon (6).

Monday: Caldicot (8), St. Woolos', Newport (10), Cardiff (10), Llandaff Cathedral (10), Cowbridge (8) and Llanwit Major (6).

Tuesday: Bridgend (8), Newton Cottage (6), Aberavon (8), Baglan (6), Neath (6), Cadoxton (6).

Wednesday: Aberdare (8), Merthyr Tydfil (8), Ebbw Vale (8), Abergavenny (8) and Llangattock (8).

Thursday: Llanarth (middle six of a peal of eight), Tregare (5), Dingestow (5), Monmouth (8), Goodrich (6), Ruardean (8) and Longhope (6).

Friday: Ross-on-Wye (8), Holme Lacy (8), All Saints', Hereford (8), Lugwardine (8), Ledbury (8), Malvern Priory (8), Malvern Link (8) and Madresfield (6).

Saturday: Powick (6), St. John's, Worcester (8), Pershore (8), Evesham (10), Badsey (8), Chipping Campden (8) and Stow-on-the-Wold (8).

The week was full of interest and incident, and the ringing took place on many grand peals of bells. At Cardiff an American gentleman went up into the tower while ringing was in progress and asked, 'Say, how do you play these instruments?' At Baglan the first course of London Minor on the bells was rung, while Ebbw Vale, with one of the finest as well as newest Taylor eights, was the 900th tower for the 'Grand Mug' and the 300th for the 'Queen of the N.U.T.G.'s.' We hear they 'pushed the boat out' that night.

Great interest was taken in the tour by the many clergy and local ringers, and the cyclists received generous hospitality at many places. Local towerkeepers had everything in readiness, and to everyone who helped in any way to make the excursion such a success the party wish to express their sincere thanks, especially to the gentleman whose organising genius made the trip such a delightful one.

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

The August meeting of the Barnsley and District Society was held at Wragby on Saturday, when members attended from Badsworth, Barnsley, Darfield, Felkirk, Rotherham, Sandal, South Kirkby, Wath, Wentworth and the local company. Ringing took place during the afternoon, and after tea the business meeting was presided over by Mr. W. Moxon (vice-president).

Ackworth was chosen as the next place of meeting, to be held on September 10th. The usual vote of thanks was passed to all who helped to make the meeting a success, and ringing was resumed in a variety of methods, with plenty of rounds for the recruits.

The church, which is a beautiful old building, stands among lovely surroundings within the grounds of Nostell Priory, but the bells are not of the best and no doubt are in need of attention by a bell founder.

MIXED.

Members of Alford and Mablethorpe (Lines) towers arranged a combined practice on Wednesday evening, August 10th, the sole object being to play joint-hosts to Mr. Fred Jeffrey, a member of the Burton-on-Stather band, who was spending a holiday at this resort.

However, arrangements went astray in that three Alford members travelled to Mablethorpe to find no one at the tower, and the Mablethorpe members, accompanied by their guest, arrived at Alford to find no one to meet them.

After the Alford members had given the practice up as a 'bad job' and were waiting for a bus to return to Alford, the Mablethorpe ringers returned, and, although the hour was late, short touches of Minor and Grandsire Doubles were rung, and helped somewhat to smooth the troubled brows of the two ringers between whom the misunderstanding arose regarding the venue.

VISIT TO CROYDON BELL FOUNDRY.

By the kind permission of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, Ltd., thirteen ringers from All Saints' Church, Isleworth, together with the curate (the Rev. C. A. De Jong) and three friends, paid a visit to Croydon Bell Foundry. A most enjoyable afternoon was spent in going through the various departments. A carillon bound for San Francisco, the forming and baking of bell moulds and cores, the mechanism for the tuning of bells, all proved to be subjects of the greatest interest. The party are very grateful to Messrs. Gillett and Johnston for allowing them to visit the foundry, and to their representative who kindly showed the party round.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.*GATESHEAD VICAR DEPLORES MECHANICAL USE OF BELLS.

A meeting of the Eastern District of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association was held at Gateshead on Saturday. Ringers were present from Fenham, Newcastle, Chester-le-Street, Sunderland, South Shields, West Hartlepool, Epsom and the local men. The bells were kept going from 2.30 to 8 p.m., the methods rung being Kent and Bob Major, Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Double Norwich. A substantial tea awaited the ringers in the Anchorage, after which a short meeting was held, Mr. R. L. Patterson, vice-president, being in the chair, supported by Canon Stephenson and his curate, the Rev. Rose.

After the loyal toast, the chairman moved a vote of condolence, passed by the meeting standing in silence, to the widow and family of Mr. Johnson, of Durham, who passed away suddenly.

The Chairman welcomed Mr. Massey and Master Massey, of Epsom, to the meeting, and said he was glad to see so many members present.

Mr. Storey moved a vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, and said the ringers owed a debt of gratitude to Canon Stephenson for his kindly interest in them.

Canon Stephenson replied in a happy little speech and said he was always pleased to see the wonderful team spirit that existed among the ringers. He went on to deplore the mechanical use of bells in some places, as ringers were very important members of the church.

Mr. May proposed a hearty vote to the ladies for the splendid tea.

This being the last district meeting before the annual, Mr. R. L. Patterson was again nominated for vice-president of the Eastern District.

Mr. Rose, the curate, who is going to Hong Kong, was wished 'God-speed' by the ringers, and he thanked them for their good wishes.

It was a very happy meeting, and all had a most enjoyable time. Mr. C. Pollard, president of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association, visited the belfry during the evening, calling there on his way to Edinburgh.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

A very pleasant meeting of the Grimsby District at Elsham brought quite a good number of members, the towers represented being Burton-on-Stather, Scunthorpe, Grimsby, Bigby, Thornton Curtis, Ulceby, Barrow, Barton and local members, with ringing friends from Lincoln and members from the Gainsborough district. The handy ring of six were made good use of during the afternoon and evening. Service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. B. Peacocke), who gave a very interesting address on the history of the bells and the chording of the octave. After the service members adjourned to the school, where an excellent tea was awaiting them, 34 sitting down, including the Vicar and Mrs. Peacocke.

Before being voted to the chair in the absence of the president (Archdeacon Parry), the Vicar of Elsham was made an honorary member.

The collection for the District Bell Fund amounted to 7s. 8d.

A discussion took place about the proposed Surprise Major books. The Ringing Master (Mr. J. Bray) explained the position with regard to the Guild and was thanked.

Included in the vote of thanks was the Vicar for the use of the bells, for conducting the service and for his excellent address; Mr. G. Elsom and the ladies for the excellent catering, and Mrs. Peacocke for her presence at tea.

The Vicar said how very glad he was to welcome the Guild to Elsham and also to become an honorary member.

Mr. G. Blanchard was asked to convey the members' best wishes to the president for a speedy return to health and to say how pleased they were to hear he had returned home.

The usual handbell ringing took place, and further ringing on the tower bells brought a very happy meeting to a close.

J. Cooke (Rock Ferry) were elected as representatives on the Central Council. Messrs. A. Crawley and H. Parker reported on the Central Council meeting held at Leeds, and, in accepting the report, it was agreed that the Guild subscribe £1 towards the cost of publishing the book on 'Surprise Major Methods' according to the C.C. conditions.

A discussion ensued on the date of the dinner, which it had been decided to hold annually. Runcorn was selected for the annual festival on Whit Saturday, 1939.

Votes of thanks were tendered to the Vicar of Macclesfield for his address and for allowing the meeting to be held at St. Michael's; to the Vicars of Christ Church and St. James', Sutton, for the use of the bells, and to the Master for his interest in the Guild and his able chairmanship.

Luncheon was served at the Angel Hotel, after which the various peals of bells were open in the afternoon and evening.

RINGERS' OUTINGS.

A RUN THROUGH SOUTH DEVON.

When the ringers of the Thiorverton Parish Church take their annual outing, 'Marshal' Ridler sees to it, with an ever youthful zest, that they 'make a day of it' without question of distance. This year the objective was Plymouth, noted for its beautiful 'belles' to run with or from, as the case may be. By 8.30 a.m. on August 6th a bus load of expectant ringers with wives, sons and daughters set out in high spirit. Mr. Laver (secretary of the Devon Guild) and Mr. Smale (treasurer) were picked up at Exeter. By 9.30 a.m. the octave at Chudleigh were going merrily in a touch of Triples. In the meantime other members of the party explored the interesting 14th century church and the Plymouth Inn, which is a remnant of the palace alienated by Bishop Vesey in 1550. The Parish Church was dedicated by Bishop Bronscombe in 1259, and the rather 'squat' Early English tower is probably all that remains of that dedication.

Thence the party headed for Plympton, and every member must have appreciated the charm of the scenery. Haldon Hills had been compelling and the valleys of the Teign and Dart were inviting, while the prospects of distant Dartmoor presented vistas not easily forgotten. Being well ahead of time, timekeeper Pook dodged the Crewys Arms, and by noon the party arrived in Plympton. Plympton was made a stannary town in 1328 and sent two members to Parliament from the time of Edward I. to 1832, Sir Christopher Wren being a member in the reign of James II.

After lunch the ringers visited Plympton St. Mary, a noble church with a fine octave, tenor 25 cwt. Many points of interest were described by the verger, Mr. F. Comer. The church was anciently the Chapel of St. Mary, and stands in the conventual cemetery of the college, founded by a Saxon King and afterwards a priory of black canons founded by Bishop Warlewast, circa 1131. The college was abolished in 1255, because the canons resisted the edict of celibacy and for 200 years previously had done so. At the time of the dissolution, 1540, the Priory in consequence of the patronage and benefactions of the Earls of Devon was the richest monastic institution in the county and its income was valued at £912 per annum.

The ringers particularly admired the bells at Plympton St. Maurice, a peal recently recast by J. Taylor and Co. This church was originally a chantry chapel of the Castle, of which the ruined keep on a high mound and the bailey remain. No bells were rung in Plymouth, rather was it a walk on the Hoe. After tea, some of the ladies tired themselves by shop-gazing, perhaps bargain-hunting, but the more sober-minded menfolk enjoyed the charm of a stroll by the sea. Towards evening, with a brilliant sun dipping to the west, the party journeyed through Tavistock to Okehampton, where a halt was called for 'fish and chips' or a glass to cheer, and at 10 p.m. a very tired, satisfied and happy company returned to Thiorverton.

'Thankfulness is the mark of a generous spirit,' and all thank Major Cory, Treasurer F. Milford, Timekeeper Pook and Marshal Ridler for a very happy day; further, appreciation must be accorded the incumbents, who allowed the use of their bells, as well as the vergers and steeplekeepers who kindly welcomed the ringers and gave valued assistance.

VISIT TO INTERESTING SUSSEX CHURCHES.

Members and friends of St. Peter's Society, Tunbridge Wells, visited West Sussex for their annual tour on August Bank Holiday. They had with them Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Housden, formerly members of the society. Mr. W. J. Ladd from East Grinstead, and Messrs. A. Ryman and V. Wood from Hartfield. The party in all numbered 26. They first visited Slaugham, a little village right off the beaten track. Here was found a splendid little ring by Gillett and Johnston, with a tenor of about 11 cwt. The bells were quickly put in use to Stedman and Grandsire Triples and Double Norwich Major, not forgetting rounds and call changes for the learners, of which they had the pleasure of taking three.

The next stop was at Billingshurst, where there is an interesting church. It is built on the site of a Roman church, and several Roman bricks are to be seen built into the buttresses. The tower is Early English with a fine shingled spire, 120ft. high. The roof is of Horsham stone, and the beautiful ceiling is of the 16th century. Roman remains, including coins, have been found at Billingshurst. The bells are a nice handy ring, tenor 13 cwt., by Mears. They were rung to Oxford Bob, Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major. After ringing, 15 minutes was allowed for refreshment. One or two of the party, however, suffered the inconvenience of being unable to tell the time, and search parties had to be organised to find and tell them. However, only 15 minutes late, the journey was resumed via Pulborough and through magnificent scenery over Bury Hill to Arundel.

There was no ringing at Arundel, but lunch, which, judging by certain indications, was equally as important. This was partaken of on the lawn at the Castle Inn. It started off in quite an orderly manner, but, apparently, the sun was too much for some of the more lively members, and they found it necessary to remove bread rolls from one part of the table to another, sometimes with a considerable amount of speed. One lady was seen loading a piece of paper with plum stones, with the same purpose in mind. Order was restored at length, and after lunch there was some handbell ringing. Then the party wandered off to see the various points of interest in which Arundel abounds, far too many to set down here. Mention must, however, be made of the Castle, the home of the Duke of Norfolk. The Saxons had a strong place here, and the first Norman Castle was built by Roger de Montgomery, soon after the Conquest. In 1580 it passed to the Howards, Dukes of Norfolk. The Castle has known the stress of siege, surrendering in 1102 to Henry I., in 1139 to Stephen, and to Waller in 1644, who reduced the south buildings to ruins. The rebuilding of these in the Early English style was completed early this century.

The Roman Catholic Church of St. Philip Neri, built by the late Duke, is striking inside and out for the delicate artistry in the Early Decorated styles. The unfinished tower, designed to have a spire reaching to a height of 280ft., is rather a blemish on the exterior view, and the state of the subsoil will probably prevent the architect's plan being realised.

The next part of the journey was started without any search parties, the heat driving the members back to their seats in the coach, which, however, were found to be almost too hot to sit upon. The route lay through the Downs by Cissbury and Chanctonbury rings (the sites of ancient earthworks) to Steyning. At the time of Alfred, Steyning was a royal city, and when Domesday was written the town was one of the largest in England.

The church is surely the gem of the West Sussex churches. There was a wooden church here in the eighth century. The present Church of St. Andrew contains traces of Early Norman work, but the greater part was built in the reign of Henry I. The large and beautiful nave, with its exceptionally high (38ft.) chancel arch, and eight columns rising to capitals of different designs, and supporting rounded arches with zig-zag mouldings, was built c. 1150. The flint and stone tower is of the 16th century and contains eight bells by Mears.

Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Major, Grandsire and Stedman Triples were nicely tapped out before a move was made for Henfield. The first thing of interest here was Cruttenden's Bakeries, where a splendid tea was found laid out on the lawn. Mr. Cruttenden is himself a ringer, and understood what might be required, which turned out to be just as well.

The Church of St. Peter is in the Early English and Perpendicular styles, and has a fine ring of bells by Taylor. These were considered to be the last word in quality of tone and go. The tenor is about 16 cwt. in E. Stedman, Grandsire, Oxford Bob Triples and Superlative Surprise Major were tapped out in full justice to the bells. Throughout the day the card index system was used to much advantage, everyone knowing what touch to ring in, and which bell to take at the various towers, saving a good deal of time.

East Grinstead was the last stop of the day, and reached via Cowfold, Bolney, Cuckfield, Balcombe and Turner's Hill. No ringing was done here, but a general wind up, with refreshment and biscuits and cheese, and the usual chatter about the happenings of the day, pronounced by one and all to be 'the best ever.'

LIVERPOOL RINGERS' EXCURSION INTO CHESHIRE.

On a recent Saturday the ringers of St. Nicholas', Liverpool, accompanied by ringing friends from Southport, Wallasey, Bootle and Huyton, had a most enjoyable trip into Cheshire. The first tower to be visited was Stretton, where a nice peal of six was made good use of and a new tower was added to the list of most of the party of twenty. Great Budworth, too, where the fine peal of eight was much enjoyed, was next visited, and it was with reluctance the party left this old-world church and village. At Northwich they enjoyed ringing on a pleasant peal of eight so much that they were able to persuade Mr. Johnson to allow them to return after tea. An excellent meal had been arranged by Mr. H. Parker, and the visitors were all indebted to him for his kindness in arranging everything so well. They were also privileged to ring at Mr. Parker's tower of Davenham before returning home, and a variety of methods were rung on this pleasing ring of six. Liverpool was reached just in time for the Southport contingent to catch their last train home, all having had a most enjoyable day. Through the medium of 'The Ringing World' they would like to thank the clergy of the various churches for granting permission to ring, and the towerkeepers who met and received them so cordially. Mr. Devonport at Stretton, Mr. H. Dickens at Great Budworth, Mr. Johnson at Northwich, and last, but not least, Mr. H. Parker, of Davenham.

FORMER DEPTFORD VICAR'S DEATH

Many ringers will regret to hear of the death of the Rev. T. Pitman, formerly Vicar of St. Nicholas', Deptford, which occurred on July 23rd. He will be remembered by many for his hospitality at ringers' meetings held at his church. He was in failing health for many years, and his indisposition ultimately led to his resignation early this year.

Half-muffled touches were rung on St. Nicholas' bells on August 3rd as a last tribute of respect by J. R. Forwood (the only member of the local band), E. J. Barrett and D. G. Brown (Penge), H. Hoskins (Greenwich), G. E. Rawlings (Deptford St. John), G. W. Foyden (Beckenham) and P. A. Corby. The very hot weather and the bad state of the bells rendered a long length impracticable.

TWO MORE SURPRISE MAJOR METHODS.

Below we give two more of the methods that have recently been rung for the first time. They were rung within two days of each other, Cranbourne Surprise at Egham, Surrey, on June 16th, for the Middlesex Association, and Southall Surprise at Bushey, Herts, on June 18th, for the Hertford County Association. The former was conducted by Mr. A. R. Pink and the latter by Mr. H. G. Cashmore, and in both cases the peal was rung without any previous practice.

WEDDING BELLS.*FEN DITTON RINGER MARRIED.

The bells of the Parish Church of St. Mary, Fen Ditton, Cambs, were rung on Saturday, August 13th, for the wedding of Mr. H. L. Martin and Miss A. Snow, the bridegroom being a member of the local band.

Among the congregation attending the ceremony were several members of the Ely Diocesan Association, who afterwards joined with the local ringers in several 120's of Grandsire, Plain Bob and Stedman Doubles.

Mr. Martin is a member of the Ely District Committee, and in the past has helped with Sunday service ringing at St. Bene't's, Cambridge.

MANCHESTER RINGERS IN NORTH WALES.

The Brookfield (Gorton) Society travelled from Manchester to North Wales and Shropshire for their annual outing. Through the Mersey Tunnel (which aroused intense interest and wonder) they went on to Mold, Ruthin and over the Horseshoe Pass to Llangollen, where everyone was ready for lunch. It was unfortunate that the view over the Horseshoe Pass was marred by poor visibility. After lunch, the ringers made their way to the tower, whilst the non-ringers visited Plas Newydd, the beautiful home of the 'Ladies of Llangollen.' A surprise awaited the ringers, as Mr. J. H. Freeborn happened to be showing a party of American ladies round the churchyard, and, on hearing the bells raised, came to help. Two courses of Stedman Triples, called by Mr. Freeborn, aroused the admiration of the visitors from the New World. The journey was continued to Ellesmere, where, before ringing, the climb was made to the top of the tower, the view from which was again marred by poor visibility. Touches of Grand-sire and Stedman were rung, after which full justice was done to tea at the Black Lion before going on to Wrexham, where, unfortunately, it was not possible to hear or ring the full ten, but good use was made of the back eight in Grandsire and Stedman.

The ringers would like to take this opportunity of thanking the incumbents for permission to ring, and leaders and ringers at towers.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

BELFRY RECORDS.

There are occasions when it seems a great pity that every tower has not got a concise history of its bells and of the important ringing that has taken place upon them. Frequently it happens that a claim is made for some first performance upon a ring of bells, only to find it promptly demolished by the discovery that the thing had already been done by an earlier band. Indeed, surmise is useless in these days. So many peals have been rung that it is almost impossible, except in the case of a comparatively new ring, to say with certainty, for instance, that this or that is the 'first on the bells.' Things move so fast in these days that the performances of only a few years ago are easily forgotten, while many of the achievements of a past generation have almost, if not quite, sunk into oblivion. In a few years there will be no living link even with the performances of four decades ago, a period when many new achievements could be claimed, and where these were not conspicuously outstanding it will be easy to overlook them. And it is not only in regard to peals that this applies. Other matters, such as customs or connections with societies, and even with famous men can so readily be lost sight of with the passing of time.

What a wealth of interesting material would be available to-day if ringers, only during the last century, had in their own towers maintained a continuous record of the important happenings. There are very few places, indeed, where any attempt of this kind has been made, and it would be difficult, if not impossible, at this stage, to recover the history of bygone generations in the vast majority of towers. It is probably only the historically minded who fully realise the loss which the absence of authentic information means, but such material, if available, would sometimes be of use even to those who live merely in the present if they could turn up the records and find whether a claim to some fresh achievement was well founded or not.

We know of one or two instances where keen ringers, who are proud of their church and their bells, are gradually compiling histories of their towers and the important ringing which has taken place in them. It means a lot of patient work and research, but we believe the effort is thoroughly worth while, and we would like to see it undertaken far more widely. There must be many ringers who have sufficient interest to add this branch of investigation to their hobby. They could search the ancient churchwardens' accounts, which often reveal quaint items of expenditure, for information concerning their bells and tower, and they could compile a list of peals rung at any rate during the last sixty or seventy years by a search through the files of the ringing papers. It would take time, but it is one of the things that need not be hurried or made too much of a labour. At the same time, it would, we are sure, provide a pursuit of great interest and be a basis for keeping a record of future happenings. And not only might this be done in connection with the bells themselves. At any rate concerning the ringers who have passed on and who were known to the present generation, a brief biography would be of intense interest to those who come after, and to whom the earlier ringers might be only so many names, or not even that. We commend the suggestion to those who have an interest in anything concerning bells beyond their own personal achievements.

'STEDMAN.'To the Editor.*

Dear Sir,—Will you allow me to point out the following errors in the new edition of 'Stedman'?:—

Page 55.—Peal of Triples, No. 14. The singles at vi. in the second half should be after 'quick' instead of after 'slow.'

Page 69.—Touch of Stedman Caters, 1,001 changes, is false. On page 94 I carefully pointed out a trap in the proof of Stedman Caters, and on page 69 I fell into it myself.

Page 65, Note.—For 'Half Turn' read 'Whole Turn.' There are one or two other small printer's errors (e.g. page 5, 'tune' for 'turn'; page 131, Snowden for Snowdon). They are very annoying to us who thought that everything that could be done in the way of proof reading had been done, but they will not deceive the ordinary reader, who probably will not notice them.

My thanks are due to Messrs. A. N. Wood and Maurice Swinfield for pointing out these errors.

ROYAL CUMBERLANDS AT DUNSTABLE.To the Editor.*

Dear Sir,—In 'The Ringing World' of August 12th is recorded a peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major, rung at the Priory Church of St. Peter, Dunstable, Bedfordshire, which is stated to be the first peal rung by the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths at that church.

On looking over my list of peals I find that we rang a peal of Double Norwich at the church on January 23rd, 1909, conducted by Mr. Frank Bennett. The late Canon Baker held the living at the time.

A. HARDY.

WEDDING BELLS AT BIDDULPH.

On Saturday, August 13th, the wedding of Mr. Elliot Cooper and Miss Annie Elizabeth Hulse took place at the Parish Church, Biddulph, Staffs. The bridegroom is one of the Sunday service ringers. On entering the church, Mr. Cooper was greeted with Cambridge Surprise from the bells. The service was conducted by the Rev. S. Myers Bridge, and the organ was played by Mr. Alec Wright (former organist).

On leaving the church, Mr. Cooper and his bride were given a good send-off by the firing of the bells and a short touch of Norwich Surprise.

Among the presents received was a case of cutlery from his brother ringers.

NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the North Staffordshire Association was held at Cheddleton on Saturday, when a company of 25 attended from Biddulph, Burslem, Brown Edge, Bucknall, Cheddleton, Draycott, Kingsley, Longton, Norton, Newcastle, Sutton and Stafford.

A short service was held, conducted by the Vicar of Cheddleton (Rev. W. G. Burgis). The association form of service was used, and the Vicar omitted the address. Although only hymns and prayers formed the service it was very interesting and suitable for a ringers' gathering.

Tea was held in the Church Hall, where the Vicar welcomed the association, and said if they found anything wrong with the bells he wished to be notified, so that he could have it seen to.

Mr. J. E. Wheeldon thanked the Vicar and ringers for the opportunity of holding another meeting at their tower, as the last meeting to be held there was in 1925.—This was supported by Mr. J. Cottrell.

The Rev. W. G. Burgis (Cheddleton) was elected an honorary member and Mr. H. Sutton (Cheddleton) a ringing member.

After the meeting the subscription for five Cheddleton ringers was paid, and they will be elected as members at the next meeting.

THE COLLECTION OF SURPRISE MAJOR METHODS.To the Editor.*

Dear Sir,—Why cannot the Publication Committee ask, through 'The Ringing World,' all those who will guarantee to take one or more copies to signify their willingness to do this to the committee by postcard? This should feel the pulse of the fraternity, and ought to be of assistance.

A. NASH.

SOUTHALL SURPRISE.To the Editor.*

Dear Sir,—The method you publish in this week's 'Ringing World' under the name of 'Southall' was discovered by Mr. George Baker, of Brighton, on June 7th, 1900, and, I believe, published in 'Bell News' shortly afterwards as 'Victoria' Surprise. I cannot give the actual date, as I have not the old papers by me.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

We regret to say that that fine old Birmingham worthy, Tom Miller, who recently took part in a peal in celebration of his 80th birthday, is seriously ill in Dudley Road Hospital (Ward A3). He is suffering from pneumonia. He will have the best wishes of everyone for his recovery.

Tom has figured in Birmingham ringing for sixty years, and has taken part in a great number of peals, both on tower and handbells.

There was a pilgrimage to Worcester on Sunday, when ringers from many places in the Midlands met to ring before evensong at the Cathedral. It was a bit late when they finally parted, but we have their autographs on a postcard, in case the police want information.

The late Mr. Hugh Ashley Longbotham, of Ordsall, Notts, a coal factor and originator of the King's Roll National Scheme, left estate valued at £91,364. Among his bequests were £500 to the Rev. R. F. Wilkinson, Rector of Ordsall, 'in admiration of the work he is doing in the parish,' and £3,000 to the governors of Queen Anne's Bounty to augment the stipends of poor clergy.

The Rev. R. F. Wilkinson is a vice-president of the North Notts Association, which he represents on the Central Council.

ASSOCIATION SECRETARIES.

There is a correction to our list published last week. The secretaryship of the Swansea and Brecon Guild changed hands last month. The hon. secretary is now Mr. D. G. Williams, Floral Bank, Tan-y-Lan Road, Morriston, Swansea.

The address of Mr. M. E. Wilson, hon. secretary of the Sheffield and District Society, is 13, St. Ronan's Road, Sheffield, 7.

CLERGY AND RINGERS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Most people agree that anonymous correspondence should be ignored. However, I hope you will allow me space for a final reply to 'Church Official.' My letter was in support of our guilds or associations, for which your correspondent seems to hold very little respect, therefore my question was quite in order for unbiased minds.

The guild to which I belong has three objects: (1) The recognition of the true position of ringers as church officials; (2) the due care and use of church bells and belfries; (3) the cultivation of the art of scientific change ringing.

To reach these objects, members and clergy must work in harmony. Like all other branches of Church life, we have members who are not putting first things first, but that is their own sin, and all well-wishers for the objects mentioned hope that through working together some good may result.

Most of our Church authorities are in support of our guilds, and they know how well we appreciate their efforts on our behalf. Like all other privileges, however, they are abused by the few.

A. BIGLEY.

Irthlingborough.

Sir,—As a ringer, I object to the columns of 'The Ringing World' being used by people who consider they have a mission to put all things right inside the Church and outside, including the Boys' Brigade.

Attempts to play off one set of Church officials against another are, in my opinion, not in good taste.

W. BIBBY.

THE OLDEST WRITTEN CHANGES.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The method given by Mr. G. E. Symonds is the 'Plain Changes' on four bells. Plain changes is the oldest form of change ringing, and consisted of moving only one bell at a time among the others, which remained stationary, except when they had to make way for the hunt and except that an 'extream' change was made when the hunt was leading and lying. There is therefore no dodging.

According to Richard Duckworth, in the "Tintinnalogia," the Sixes on three bells were invented in this way about 1610; and so, if the Halesworth figures are dated 1621, that would probably be about the time that change ringing was introduced into the Suffolk towers; and Mr. Lambert's suggestion that these figures were written by William or John Brend, the Norwich bellfounders, is an extremely likely one.

These figures at Halesworth are, I believe, the oldest written changes in existence.

J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE.

OCTOGENARIAN HONOURED.

On the 86th birthday of Mr. H. S. Hawkins, of Marlow, father of Mr. Joe Hawkins, of London, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was rung at St. Andrew's, Holborn, on Sunday evening, August 14th: J. S. Hawkins (conductor) 1, H. C. Alford 2, Robert Green 3, T. Bannister 4, A. C. Darnell 5, W. J. Norton 6, E. Brett 7, U. Wildney 8.

HERBERT E. AUDSLEY.

One of the most active and capable ringers in Kent is Mr. Herbert E. Audsley, of Crayford. He has been for some years among the foremost peal ringers in that county, and, while the total number which he has conducted stands only at a modest figure, it is not for lack of ability in this direction. Except when necessity has demanded it, Mr. Audsley has seldom sought to call a peal, but has been content to leave this part of the business to others. Mr. Audsley has rung no fewer than 709 peals, and two men, with whom he has been closely associated throughout his ringing career—the late Mr. Edwin Barnett, sen., and Mr. J. H. Cheesman—have called approximately five hundred of them.

Mr. Audsley is a native of Crayford, where he was born on January 31st, 1900, and where he first learned to ring under Mr. Barnett just before the war. He did not, however, take up ringing seriously until he returned from Germany in 1919. Then he quickly took to the art, rang his first peal, Grandshire Triples, on January 10th, 1920, and his first as conductor, Kent Treble Bob Major, on September 30th in the same year. Both were at Crayford.

Including ten handbell peals, Mr. Audsley's total is made up of two on six bells, 608 on eight bells, 47 on ten bells and 58 on twelve bells. Among them have been no fewer than thirty different first performances by the Kent County Association, and four peals non-conducted, each of them the first for the association, viz., Stedman Triples, Double Norwich, Cambridge Surprise and Superlative Surprise Major. He also took part in the first peals 'in hand' by the association of Stedman Cinques, Oxford Treble Bob Royal and Double Norwich Major, and the first peal of Stedman Cinques 'in hand' by the Royal Cumberland Youths.

Other notable performances in which he has taken part were the famous 7,392 Cambridge Surprise Maximus at St. Mary-le-Bow, in 1925, the first peal of Cambridge Maximus at Winchester Cathedral in 1929, and the first peal of Stedman Cinques by the Devon Guild at Exeter Cathedral in 1927. In 1929 he was one of the band who, at Crayford, rang the quickest peal on eight tower bells, when a peal of Stedman Triples was knocked off in 2 hours 14 minutes.

Mr. Audsley's peals have been rung in 107 towers, in fourteen counties, for fourteen associations.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT LEWISHAM.

A very successful meeting of the Southern District took place at St. Mary's, Lewisham, on Saturday, the attendance of some 40 members and friends (including visitors from Yorkshire and Lincolnshire) being gratifying in view of the holiday period. Ringing on this fine peal of eight (tenor 22½ cwt.) commenced shortly after 3 p.m., and with a short break for tea and the business meeting, continued until 8 p.m. A good standard of striking for a meeting was maintained and the ringing included Grandshire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich, Cambridge Superlative, Yorkshire and London Surprise, and a well-struck touch of Spliced Surprise Major in the usual four methods. The first touch, Grandshire Triples, was the only one lost during the day.

A private room had been reserved for tea at a nearby restaurant, and at the ensuing business meeting, with the District Master, Mr. P. A. Corby, in the chair, the following were elected members: Mrs. A. M., Miss M. I., and Mr. R. W. Rawlings, of Beckenham, Mr. G. E. Rawlings, of Deptford, and Mr. J. R. Forward, of Deptford Park. It was announced that the next meeting would be held at St. Mary's, Battersea, on October 15th.

A very hearty vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Harry Warnett for his much appreciated assistance in making the arrangements for the meeting and to the Vicar for the use of the bells.

MR. H. E. AUDSLEY.

ANOTHER GREAT CARILLON.

CROYDON FOUNDRY'S LATEST PRODUCTION FOR AMERICA.

Bells for San Francisco International Exhibition.

A great carillon of forty-four bells, which will doubtless become famous in America, since it is to be set up first in the four hundred feet high 'Tower of the Sun' at the Golden Gate International Exhibition at San Francisco next year, and will be heard not only by visitors to the exhibition but throughout the continent by wireless, stands completed at the Croydon Bell Foundry. It will be shipped to the United States in about three weeks' time.

The carillon will be one of the most important in U.S.A., being the fifth largest that has been installed in America by the Croydon Foundry—the two largest being the Rockefeller Memorial carillon at Riverside Church, New York, and the carillon at the Chapel of the University of Chicago, which are the two greatest carillons in existence. It will be the premier carillon on the West Coast of America, and, in fact, the only one of any size in the State of California.

In the 'Tower of the Sun,' which is to be located in a great square in the centre of the exhibition, to which 2,000 fully grown trees have been transplanted, the bells will be approximately 230ft. above the ground.

The donor of the carillon is Dr. Nathaniel T. Coulson, who is 84 years of age. He was brought up in Lostwithiel, Cornwall, and went at an early age to San Francisco, where he graduated at Berkeley University and subsequently practised as a dental surgeon. He has retained through life an affection for his English home town, and some years ago presented Coulson Park to Lostwithiel, adding a chalet to the Park in 1935 to commemorate King George V's Silver Jubilee. He also defrayed the cost of recasting Lostwithiel church bells in 1924, a work which was also carried out by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston.

At the close of the Golden Gate Exhibition the carillon will be transferred to its final destination, the Grace Episcopal Cathedral, San Francisco, where Dr. Coulson has already been responsible for erecting one of the new twin towers, and intends to add the other. These towers are massive structures, 150ft. high, of steel and reinforced concrete, and form part of an enlargement scheme of the Cathedral.

OVER EIGHTEEN TONS OF BELLS

The total weight of the 44 bells themselves is over 18 tons, and together with the frame, fittings and gear, the complete installation will weigh in all 34 tons. Forty-three notes represent three and a half chromatic octaves, rising by semitones from C, weighing 2½ tons, to high G, weighing 12lb. The 44th note is low G, a Bourdon bell, weighing nearly 5½ tons.

The massive steel framework, which itself weighs 10 tons, is in two sections, the lower part carrying the Bourdon alone, and the upper structure, arranged to carry the 43 bells in six tiers, is 24ft. high.

The frame is being reinforced against the risk of earthquakes, and is unique in that it has had to be designed to suit two distinct towers, at the exhibition and the Cathedral. In fact, the order has involved dual handling in every respect, for the requirements of the architect, the engineer, and the electrician have had to be satisfied for both buildings, whilst considerations of transport, erection, egress of sound from the towers, proper access to the bells, and easy manipulation of the carillon have been studied to conform with the two locations.

The whole carillon is to be played by remote control from an ivory keyboard at the organ console, when it is erected finally at Grace Cathedral. An automatic player will also operate the bells by means of music rolls travelling over a roller and perforated with any desired tunes.

The Bourdon can be utilised by the carillonneur in any bass accompaniment to the remainder of the carillon, and it is also being fitted with the firm's patent equipment for automatic swinging, a small switch setting the bell in motion or bringing it to rest by means of an electric motor.

Judge George E. Crothers, late of the California Supreme Court, has acted throughout the negotiations as 'guide, philosopher and friend' to the donor and as the representative of the Cathedral, and M. Lefevre, the famous carillonneur of Riverside Church, New York, was commissioned by the Cathedral authorities to test the bells for tone and tune before returning to New York from a holiday in his old home in Malines, Belgium, where he was formerly assistant carillonneur at St. Rombold's Cathedral. M. Lefevre has cabled to San Francisco his approval of the carillon, and that the bells are perfect in both tone and tune.

INSCRIPTIONS.

Ten of the largest bells have been named and inscribed with a special motto, whilst coins were sent from the Bishop, the Dean of the Cathedral, the donor and other interested San Franciscans, to be thrown into the molten metal. One coin was a spade guinea of George III.'s reign, whilst others were Chinese coins sent by the Rev. Dr. L. B. Ridgely, formerly a missionary in China, and now a Canon of Grace Cathedral.

THE SAN FRANCISCO CARILLON.

The names and mottoes are:—

- No. 33.—'Sympathy.' Abigail Santo ('Jesus wept').
 No. 35.—'The Golden Rule.' Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye also unto them.
 No. 36.—'Benevolence.' Let us do good unto all men.
 No. 37.—'Prayer.' Hear my prayer, O Lord.
 No. 38.—'Thanksgiving.' It is a good thing to give thanks.
 No. 39.—'Wisdom.' Prove all things: hold fast that which is good.
 No. 40.—'Joy to the world.' Let the nations be glad and sing for joy.

- No. 41.—'Loving kindness.' St. Francis of Assisi.
 No. 42.—'Isaiah.' Nation shall not lift sword against nation.
 No. 43.—'Paul.' Love never faileth.

No. 43 also records the gift in the following terms: 'Carillon of 44 bells, gift of Dr. Nathaniel Thomas Coulson, to Grace Episcopal Cathedral, of San Francisco. Edward Lambe Parsons, Bishop; J. Wilmer Gresham, Dean.'

On No. 44 is inscribed, 'Bourdon Bell of Carillon for Grace Cathedral, a Cathedral for the Community. First installed in great tower of Golden Gate International Exposition, February 18th, 1939. Gift of Dr. Nathaniel Thomas Coulson, born at Penzance, Cornwall, England, August 6th, 1853, graduated University of California, 1885.'

On Monday there was a Press view of the carillon, when the fine quality of the bells was heard and the huge construction viewed with interest. Mr. Cyril Johnston received the guests and gave a vivid explanation of all that was involved in the carrying out of the important contract, and the carillon was skilfully operated by Miss Housman.

Afterwards an inspection of other work in progress in the factory completed a very instructive afternoon for the numerous visitors. They saw the various processes of bell making, and among other things a chime of ten bells for the Metropolitan United Church at Victoria, British Columbia, and a peal of eight bells for Vanclose, Sydney, Australia, as well as the Andrew Carnegie Centenary Memorial peal for Dunfermline Abbey, various restoration jobs for English churches passing through the works, a set of bells for Loxwood, Sussex, a large bell and special gear for lighthouse equipment, and a clock with four 14ft. dials for Imperial Airways new Terminal Building at Victoria, S.W.1. The factory is also busy upon work for the Air Ministry and Admiralty.

Absence from the country on holidays prevented the American Ambassador from attending on Monday.

A NEW SPLICED MINOR EXTENT.

North Lincolnshire ringers are going ahead with Spliced Minor, and on Aug. 17th put 43 methods into a peal, with 128 changes of method. Are they after the record, since the South Lincolnshire men find themselves handicapped by removal of one or two of their band?

One of the 720's, by A. G. Driver, was rung for the first time in a peal. It has a change of method at 51 out of the sixty leads. Here is the 720:—

	23456 Double Bob	56324 Lytham
	56342 Fulbeck	43256 Wavertree
S	46235 Childwall	S 62453 Canterbury
A	24563 Double Oxford	25634 Reverse Bob
S	53246 Reverse Bob	C S 53426 Thelwall
	34562 Canterbury	45632 St. Clement's
B	46325	64253
S	62543 London Bob	S 23645 Double Bob
	35462 Wavertree	45362 Fulbeck
	24635 College	D 62534

Twice repeated, substituting Thelwall at A, Double Oxford at C, and Double Bob at D in the 2nd and 3rd parts, and Reverse Bob at B in the 3rd part only.

When learners get the 'bug' it is generally worth while to give encouragement in their efforts to get on. F. Fluck, of the Ombersley (Worcestershire) band, is a ringer who is troubled with this elusive 'microbe.' On Saturday, August 13th, a peal of Oxford Bob Minor was arranged for him at Grimley, Worcestershire, where he was successful in ringing the method to a peal.

Six towers were represented in the Devon Guild peal of Grandsire Triples rung at Littleham on August 16th.

On the following day another peal of Grandsire Triples was rung for the Guild at Ottery St. Mary. In this case all the band belongs to the local tower, except Mr. C. R. Lilley, who was the conductor in both performances.

The Ottery St. Mary peal was rung as a farewell to the Rev. L. B. Stallard. An attempt for it was made a month previously, but it came to an abrupt termination in the last 500, when the treble rope broke. Messrs. L. Hine and W. Dommett, who were in the first attempt were unable to take part in the second, and their places were taken by Messrs. C. G. Woodley and J. H. Godfrey, sen. Three ringers rang their first peal and two their first of Grandsire.

PEAL NOTES.

WHERE RECORDS WERE MADE.

The first peal of London Surprise Major on the bells of Mottram-in-Longdendale, Cheshire, was rung on Saturday. Mottram is famous for three record peals of Kent Treble Bob Major, two true and one false.

The Bethnal Green record of 15,840, set up by the College Youths in 1868, was broken by the Ashton-under-Lyne Society at Mottram in 1884, when, under the late Mr. Sam Woods' conductorship, they rang 16,608. In 1906 a 16,800 was rung at Mottram by the Chester Guild, and then, in 1922, came the unfortunate performance of 18,240 by the Lancashire Association with a composition, afterwards proved false.

The present Treble Bob Major record is 17,280, made at Over, Cheshire, in 1923.

A peal of combined Kent and Oxford Treble Bob was rung at Enderby, Leicestershire, on August 15th. Folks are still in the habit of calling this way of ringing the two methods 'spliced,' but the Central Council says they mustn't.

A welcome to the new Vicar of Twerton-on-Avon, Bath (the Rev. Herbert A. Barnett), who was inducted on August 12th, a peal of Grandsire Triples on August 18th, also celebrated the jubilee of Mr. George Temple, who rang his first peal in the tower on May 20th, 1888, and the birthday of Mr. G. H. Harding. Messrs. Temple, Sam Hector (Trowbridge) and Tom King have now rung 50 peals together.

A peal of Bob Major on August 17th, for the 21st birthday of Edwin C. Buck, of Baldock, was his first peal of Major away from the treble.

FIRST RUNG AFTER 55 YEARS.

Mr. H. Stenton, the oldest member of the band at South Anston, Yorkshire, has just reached his 80th birthday, and Yorkshire ringing friends celebrated the event by ringing a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major in his honour on Saturday.

It is interesting to notice that the peal was called by one of his oldest friends, Mr. Arthur Knights, of Chesterfield, and that the composition, also by Mr. Knights, was rung for the first time. It was a peal produced nearly 55 years ago, in December, 1883, to be exact. Fancy being 'pigeon-holed' all that time! But there, the Chesterfield wizard seems to have been turning out a lot of his old papers in the last year or two.

The College Youths' peal of Stedman Triples at Harwell was rung to commemorate the 80th birthday of Dr. Richard Rice, father of the ringers of the 6th and tenor, who has been churchwarden and choir-master at this church for about 47 years, and still carries on. It was also rung as a birthday compliment on his 70th anniversary to Mr. Walter Hitchman, who has been a ringer at Harwell for over 50 years, and for the greater part of that time foreman. He has also been parish clerk and a member of the choir for the same period.

Although he had rung a number of peals of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and taken part in two peals on the old six, Mr. Hitchman, owing to physical disability, has never been able to participate in a peal on the present ring, which, when augmented to eight six years ago, fulfilled his great ambition. The peal on Saturday also enabled five members of the band who took part in the famous 21,363 Stedman Caters at Appleton in 1922 to enjoy a good pull together once more.

Seven methods of Doubles were rung in a peal at Uffingham, Berkshire, a five-bell tower, on Friday. It was the first peal on the bells, was rung for the Oxford Diocesan Guild and called by the hon. secretary of the Norwich Diocesan Association. None of the band had previously rung a peal in seven Doubles methods, and they didn't hurry over this one, either. It took them 3 hours 20 minutes.

SUCCESSFUL TOURS.

Thirteen peals were rung during the nine days' 'week,' spent in Staffordshire and Shropshire, and which ended last Saturday. The successes included three peals of Cambridge Surprise Major, two of Superlative, two of Yorkshire, and one each of Norfolk, London and Bristol Surprise Major, Cambridge Surprise Royal, Stedman Caters and Stedman Cinques.

The first five peals were got home, and then came a bad patch in which three peals were lost, London Major, Cambridge Royal, and Norfolk Surprise Major, the last by a broken rope at Wombourne.

It was an unfortunate experience for the Rev. C. Elliot Wigg, who joined the party on Monday and rang one peal. Then he lost three in succession, and had to return to his parish. After his departure, every other attempt was successful.

The peal of Stedman Cinques was rung at Walsall, and it is interesting to note that the twelve ringers came from twelve different counties, while the composition was a peal by a ringer of yet another county.

Another successful tour was that in Scotland, which ended a week earlier. Four peals were rung, including the first peal on the new bells at Inveraray and the first peal of London Surprise in Scotland, at Alloa. Three ladies took part in the tour.

Mr. J. P. Hyett, who must surely hold the record for the number of peals of Grandsire Doubles that he has called, has now conducted a peal from each of the six bells in Almeley tower, Herefordshire, and Mr. J. T. Randle has now rung each bell there to a peal.

Mr. Oliver Sippetts rang his 350th peal as conductor when he called a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major at Crawley, Sussex, on August 17th. It was Mr. Nelson Elliott's 300th peal and Miss Florrie Wyman's 50th.

THE BELLS OF INVERARAY.

A NOTABLE SCOTTISH PEAL.

The feature of the tour in Scotland made by ringers from the South of England was the first peal on the new bells at the Church of All Saints at Inveraray. The tower was raised and the bells provided by the efforts of His Grace the Duke of Argyll, whose seat is at Inveraray Castle. The tower is a massive structure, 126ft. high, with the bells hanging 73ft. from the ground. The cost of the tower alone was something like £18,000. Its dimensions are impressive; the walls at the base 8ft. thick, and internally the tower is 22ft. 9in. square.

The bells were cast in 1920 by Messrs. Taylor and Co., but for some years had to wait for the completion of the tower, and were meanwhile hung in a temporary bell house. The Duke of Argyll himself gave the front seven bells, the eighth was given by his neighbour and vassal, Sir John Noble, of Ardkinglass, the ninth by eighty of the Duke's friends and clansmen of the Campbell name, and the tenor, which is a bell of over 41 cwt., by two Campbells.

THE NEW TOWER AT INVERARAY.

In accordance with ancient custom, each bell is dedicated to and bears the name of one of the Celtic saints, who founded parish churches, chapels or monasteries in the immediate neighbourhood. We take the following descriptions from notes on the bells compiled by the Duke of Argyll:—

'The treble bell which leads the peal is appropriately dedicated to St. Moluag or Malew, first Bishop of Argyll or Lismore, the primitive founder and patron of the very parish, within whose "Claodh" or burial place of Killmalew for at least thirteen centuries all that is mortal of the people of his parish, from sire to son, have been laid to rest.

'The second is St. Columba's, the first great Abbot of Iona (Icolm Kill).

'The third bell is St. Mund's. Patron of the Campbell Clan—to whom a chapel in Glenaray, one on Lochavich, one on Lochaw, the Island of Eilanmund in Loch Leven, and Kilmun Collegiate Church on the Holy Loch are dedicated, the last being founded by Duncan, Lord Campbell and Lord of Lochaw, August 14th, 1422, for the repose of the soul of his eldest son Celestine, and of his own first wife Marjory, daughter of Robert Duke of Albany, and for other faithful departed. St. Mund was the champion of the Celtic Easter and Tonsure at the Synod of 631, against St. Molaise.

'The fourth is St. Brendan (of Clonfert) the famous sailor saint, on whose feast and during its Octave, one of Inveraray's ancient and still kept fairs was granted by Royal Charter. He founded many old churches in Argyll and the Isles, and is patron of the little modern church at Furnace, nine miles away. His voyages were for years in quest of the Isles of the Blest, the "Tir n'an Oge" of the Gael; and his story was told all over Western Europe.

'The fifth is to St. Maelrubha, the famous Abbot of Applecross, patron of the MacLachlan Clan, primitive founder of the Parish Church of Strathlachlan, and of numerous other holy sites up and down the Highlands.

'The sixth is to St. Blaane, first Bishop of Kingarth in Bute, and founder patron of Kilblaan in Glenshira, three miles away, but his church and burial ground were destroyed in a spate in the 18th century, not far from the farm of the same name. His chief foundation was Dunblane.

'The seventh is to Our Lady as Star of the Sea. "She above whose maiden brows, seven stars make seven glows—seven stars for seven woes," as a certain poet has written.

'The eighth is to St. Murdouch; an early anchorite Bishop who founded the ancient Parish of Kilmorich at the head of Loch Fyne; formerly much of Glenshira lay in that parish. The patronage thereof was given to the abbot and monks of Inchaffray, in 1241, by the Chief of the MacNachans. Of the saint little is known, save that he led a "hermit's life by the shores of Loch Fyne."

'The ninth is to St. Brigid or Bride. Patronesses of many ancient parishes and sites, of which the nearest is Kilbride at the mouth of the Douglas Water, a disused burial ground four miles away. She was the first Abbess of Kildare, the friend of St. Patrick, and was known to the Scots as the "Mary of the Gael," and, mystically, the foster mother of Christ.

'The tenor bell is to St. Molaise, Abbot of Leithglin, in his capacity as patron and founder of Strachur alias Kilmolais, in the lordship of Cowall on the other side of Loch Fyne, which embraced the lands of Saint Catharine's where Duncan the first Lord Campbell founded a chapel for his use in 1450, in a spot described as 'a very wooded place,' just as it is to this very day. St. Molaise was the opponent of St. Mund over the Celtic Easter and Tonsure questions at the Synod of the White Plain in 631, and, as Molios, appears in the well-known cave and chapel at Lamlash and Holy Island, off the famous Island of "Arran of the Peaks."

'Each bell has an "intention," and is in memory of those who fell in the Great War or in former wars, who came from the parishes or glens where the above saints laboured, or to whom one of those parishes was dedicated, and placed under his or her invocation and protection, by the piety of after generations in the days when the Robe of Christendom was seamless and unrent.'

The first peal on the bells was rung by the visiting ringers for the Scottish Association on August 9th, Mr. C. H. Kippin calling a 5,000 of Kent Treble Bob Royal, which took 4 hours 3 minutes to ring.

'DOWN THE VALE.'

The ringers at Christ Church, Crewe, and a few friends had their annual outing on August 13th, and, after travelling by train to Wolverhampton, had a coach tour through the Vale of Evesham, which, as is well known, is remarkable for the wealth of its beauty, and is the centre of the fruit-growing and market gardening industry. On arrival at Evesham it seemed as if the party were to 'be sent empty away,' for they were informed at the Northwick Arms Hotel that there was no dinner for them; they had been booked (by mistake) for the following day. However, all's well that ends well, and a hot luncheon was served in record time. Afterwards the ringers visited the Abbey tower, where they spent a short time in ringing on the famous peal of ten bells, the tenor being 31½ cwt. The 'tower' is a structure of great beauty, facing the river Avon. The visitors were met and welcomed by the local captain (Alderman J. Hemming, J.P.), and his son, who joined in the ringing. Thence they set off for Tewkesbury, where tea was partaken of, and afterwards went on to Kidderminster, via Worcester and Droitwich, driving through the beautiful Severn Valley. At Kidderminster they visited St. Mary's Church, where some of the Crewe ringers had their first experience of ringing on twelve bells. They were welcomed by the towerkeeper, Mr. C. H. Woodbury, his father and other local ringers. The journey to Wolverhampton was completed via Bridgnorth, with a stop on the way for supper at the Nautical William, a unique place. By now the party had covered a distance of about 120 miles, and they left by train for Crewe, arriving just before midnight, tired but happy, everyone having enjoyed a marvellous outing. Mr. H. Overton, who had been responsible for all the arrangements, was most heartily thanked, while the thanks of the party are also accorded to the incumbents of Evesham and Kidderminster for the use of their bells.

LEICESTER CATHEDRAL BAND'S 'CAMBRIDGE' WEEK. MINOR TO MAXIMUS.

It had been resolved that the mad-effort ringing days of some of the Leicester 'peal snatchers' were over, but the fire has been re-kindled. The Poole company were relieved temporarily of their family responsibilities, and this coincided with two other members of the band being on holiday.

Following the usual Sunday evening ringing it was mooted, 'What about a peal in the week?' This seemed all very well, and then someone whispered, 'What about Cambridge Minor, Major, Royal and Maximus in a week?' That started the balloon flying. Within 24 hours four peals of bells had been obtained, and the bands provisionally fixed.

On the Tuesday, six of the smaller fry went to Whetstone to try conclusions with Minor. All—with one exception—were braced right up for the job. The exception had rather an embarrassing time. All went well for about half the peal, but then, as the minutes slipped by, his flannels slipped a shade further down. However, all's well that ends well. They didn't finish below the body line, and kept within the bounds of decency. How(it) happened we are still wondering.

The following night the venture was at Claybrooke, and a start was made from Leicester at six o'clock. The main concern here appeared to be, 'Shall we finish in Time?' To save the reader's suspense, we will say now that the peal came round about 9.45 p.m. The scene in the belfry prior to the peal will long be remembered. Poor Harry was whining (not Wainyng) about his blistered fingers, and had at least three of them bandaged, due, of course, to the previous evening's effort. Another of the band had consulted an expert and had brought some alum to rub on his hands, whilst all shared in the methylated spirits brought by another member. Indeed, gloves were tried—but discarded. The peal went well, and all finished up quite happy.

On the return journey we began to think we were seeing things. A black object lay in the road, over which the first car had just traversed. To our surprise it was their spare wheel. Fortunately none of the spare parts inside the car had fallen out.

It should have been the Cathedral practice on the following night, but the peal snatchers felt that they must reserve their hands for further peal-snatching efforts. In view of this, the weekly practice was cancelled.

'CORONER'S' VERDICT.

Cambridge Royal at Loughborough Foundry was the Friday evening's task, and a fair task it proved to be. We rang just over two courses and then fell over. There was no time to start again, but plenty of time for the inquest. The Coroner's Officer presided and announced a verdict of 'Accidental Conclusion,' after witnesses for the persecution and defendant had been heard.

Undaunted by the Royal failure, the Cambridge Maximus, a commitment to the Leicester stalwart, William Willson, on his 70th birthday, was successfully rung at Leicester Cathedral on the Saturday. Out came the wolves again. 'We've still time to ring the four in a week. What about the Foundry on Monday night?' With one exception, all were able 'to get,' and so, with the one alteration in the band, a start was made for the Royal again on Monday evening. On this occasion there was only one complaint; the dark man on the treble could not see the fair lady on the third. Quite a serious obstruction, but after having legal advice it is reported that no criminal proceedings are contemplated. The experience gained on the Friday and Saturday stood us in good stead, and the peal was successfully accomplished with time to spare—insufficient, of course, to satisfy the real thirst that had now developed.

In the course of the week three members of the band rang their first peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor, two their first of Major, two their first of Royal, and seven their first of Maximus. All are regular members of the Cathedral Sunday band. Five of the band rang in all the four peals. The time spent in ringing Cambridge by these five during the week was 13½ hours, including the false start for Royal and a course of Cambridge Surprise Maximus for evening service on the Sunday.

Although, thoroughly considered, a mad effort, the band should benefit greatly by the experience thus gained. The high light of the week was the performance of Harry Wayne—our novice of a short time ago—in ringing the Foundry treble to the Royal. He also rang his first peal of Cambridge Minor and Major. We extend to him our congratulations.

There is usually a regret connected with such expeditions, and the present one is no exception. We had the matches and sticks all ready to kindle Harry Broughton's fire, but unfortunately he was away on holiday and unable to return in time to take part.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

THE VALUE OF 'JOINT' MEETINGS.

Whoever it was first thought of holding joint association meetings did the Exercise a great service, for few things have done more to expand good fellowship among ringers than these largely informal social gatherings when members from neighbouring territories can inter-mix, compare notes and exchange ideas, as well as ring together. Time was when such societies as existed kept themselves very much to themselves, and the rivalry between them, in certain notable cases at any rate, not only prevented men from joining more than one society at a time, but provided penalties against them practising together. In those early days, when that spirit was introduced, these societies were merely small companies of men whose activities were confined to just a very few towers in a small area. A great change has come over the scene. These old societies had no resemblance to modern associations, which cover whole counties or dioceses and whose object is to promote, not only the art of change ringing, but friendly relations and co-operation between all ringers.

It is true that there is still an artificial barrier between the two oldest London societies, which serves no purpose but to maintain an outworn tradition and keep jealousies alive, but even the members of these two organisations more than a hundred years ago realised the irksomeness of the position and sought a way out by forming the St. James's Society. It eased the situation for London ringers and the coming of the territorial organisations to the metropolis fifty years ago gave them further opportunities of fraternising. The St. James's Society, while giving the London companies the opportunity of ringing together, without a breach of their own rules, was not a 'joint' concern, as has been suggested in some quarters; it was a new and independent society, and it did not hold 'joint' meetings on the lines of the modern innovation.

Last Saturday's gathering at Egham and Staines, in which four associations shared, was a typical example of the excellent spirit which these meetings promotes. Strictly it concerned the Guildford and Oxford Diocesan Guilds and the Middlesex and Surrey Associations, but so intermixed are members in these days that it might almost equally well have included three London societies, so far, at any rate, as the 'rank and file' were concerned. This meeting, however, was only like many others held up and down the country to foster good feeling and promote the right spirit among ringers. Is it too much to hope that in the near future the London

PEAL NOTES.

GRANDSIRE CINQUES AT MANCHESTER TOWN HALL.

Five ringers scored their first twelve-bell peal when a peal of Grand-sire Cinques was rung at Manchester Town Hall on Saturday, and Mr. John Worth called his first twelve-bell peal. The composition, a 5,082, was by ex-P.S. Peter Crook, and was rung for the first time.

23456

54326		9	0
43526		9	0
53624		0	x
63425		0	x
34625		9	0
354682		0	x

Repeat last seven courses three times, calling Bob at 1 in first course of each part, and omitting last course of all for 23456. Rounds by bobs at 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 9, 10, 11.

It will be noted with interest, particularly in Birmingham, that there were two men on the tenor for this peal. When St. Martin's Guild visited Manchester a few weeks ago the tenor ringer had to give up when the end of the peal was well in sight.

Painswick Surprise, a method like Superlative, but with the long dodging on the front cut out, deserves, we think, wider practice than it at present receives. Only a very few peals of it have been rung, since Mr. Alan Pink introduced it about five years ago. Last Saturday, at Gravesend, he called another peal of it, the first for the Kent County Association, and the first for all the rest of the ringers. It was a birthday compliment to Mr. E. Hadlow, the local steeplekeeper, who is 79.

Another birthday peal, for three out of the six ringers, was that at Deane, Hampshire, on Saturday, when three methods were rung. The ringers thus honoured were F. A. Munday, R. F. Kingham and D. W. Nash, who rang his first peal as conductor. Deane is a church at which the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies was Rector for many years.

LADY CONDUCTORS.

Miss Hilda Snowden called her first peal of Cambridge Surprise Major on Saturday, at Halstead, without any previous attempt to call a bob in the method. She rang the 14½ cwt. tenor to the peal in three minutes under three hours. The peal was a birthday compliment to Mr. Lewis W. Wiffen.

Another lady conducted a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major on Saturday—probably the first 'double' of its kind in ringing history. Miss Sylvia Bowyer, of Ipswich, called Middleton's peal from the third, at Stowmarket, the first time that a lady has conducted a peal in this parish.

Mr. Norman Park, of Darlington, rang his fiftieth peal on Friday, when he called seven Surprise Minor methods at his 'home' tower, Holy Trinity.

With several visitors in the band, a peal of Stedman Caters was rung on August 25th at Holy Trinity, Hull, the first of Stedman Caters for some years on this fine toned ring. Holy Trinity was the church where that famous Yorkshireman of a generation ago, Charles Jackson, used to ring.

Mr. W. A. J. Knight, of Gillingham, Kent, rang and conducted his first peal of Major on Saturday at Chatham, when he called Annable's 5,040 of Plain Bob. Mr. E. H. Robinson was elected a member of the Kent Association before the peal.

The peal of Cambridge Surprise Major rung at North Stoneham on August 27th was Leonard Knott's first peal in the method. It was rung after meeting one short for Cambridge Royal, and H. P. Reed kindly stood out.

LONG PEALS RECALLED.

A peal of Stedman Triples at Leckhampton, Glos, on Friday, welcomed the new Vicar, Canon H. J. Hensman. Mr. J. F. Ballinger, who is one of the Leckhampton ringers, completed his 'circle of the tower' by ringing the 6th to this peal, and brought his total up to 150.

Mr. Ballinger has taken part in some memorable performances at Painswick. He rang the eleventh to the 13,001 in 1920, and, in the efforts which were made in 1930 to regain the record on twelve bells for Painswick tower, he again rang the eleventh to the practice lengths of 9,361 on February 15th, the 12,231 on April 21st, and the ill-fated 'record' of 17,687, in 11 hours 36 minutes, on November 8th, which afterwards proved to be false.

A birthday peal for the wife of the conductor, Mrs. H. W. Howard, of Davenham, was rung in two Minor methods at Lower Peover, Cheshire, on August 20th.

Two days later, Mr. Howard and Mr. S. J. Harrison rang their 50th peal together when they took part in a peal of Bob Major at Daresbury as a farewell to the departing Vicar, the Rev. V. Dams.

Five ringers, whose average age is only 17 years, rang their first peal together at the first attempt at Limsfield Chart, Surrey, on August 25th, under the conductorship of Mr. L. A. Tidy. Seven different extents of Bob Minor were rung, and it was the quarterly peal for the Southern District of the Surrey Association.

A peal in three Minor methods was rung at Mistley, Essex, on August 21st, as a birthday compliment to Mr. Alfred Honeywood and to Miss Edith M. Caton, who rang her first peal 'inside.'

EXETER EXCURSION.

The ringers of St. Thomas', Exeter, had a delightful 'half-day' excursion to Minehead and Dunster. Calling at Timberscombe, they were welcomed by the Vicar and some of the local ringers, as well as their own advance guard. The light peal of bells was raised and Grandsire and Stedman Triples rung, as well as rounds for the recruits. After the bells had been lowered, other recruits, belles of another type, came on the scene, and wanted to exercise their strength. Eventually they were rewarded by making the treble speak, after some exciting moments, punctuated with many 'oh's' and 'oo's'.

The visitors were welcomed at Minehead by Mr. Pugsley and other local ringers in the well-kept belfry, which is fully decorated with peal boards. Rounds on the ten, with the recruits standing in, were followed by a course of Grandsire Caters, with the assistance of Mr. Pugsley. It was the first of Caters for at least two of the party. Some Stedman Triples followed and the ten bells lowered in peal almost faultlessly. After tea an hour of amusement, slightly hectic for some of them, was enjoyed, before going to Dunster, noted for its quaint old market place and castle. Touches were rung on the church bells. When the bells were lowered the tenorman unfortunately slipped from the box, happily, it is hoped, without serious effects. The run home was interrupted for refreshments and darts at the Stag's Head. Only some of the darts found the board; others ended their flight in a beam in the ceiling. The secretary, who had made the arrangements for the outing, was cordially thanked for a most enjoyable excursion, and then the road to the 'ever faithful city' was resumed, and the journey's end safely reached at 12.15 a.m. Thanks are accorded to the various incumbents, steeplekeepers and local ringers who contributed to the success of the outing.

STRENUOUS 'REST WEEK.'

Mr. Walter Ayre usually has a 'rest' week during his summer holidays, and this year, during the first five days, rang half a dozen peals in Lincolnshire, two of them being on handbells in one day.

The tower-bell peals included the first of Major at Epworth, the first of Little Bob Major at Burton-on-Stather and the first peal of Cambridge at Walesby.

Harold Judd, who took part in the peal at Walesby, had only rung one course of Cambridge previously.

The peal of Grandsire Doubles at Lyminster, Sussex, on Saturday, was arranged for Mr. F. B. Lufkin, of Prittlewell, Essex. Four of the ringers, 1, 2, 4 and 5, belong to the local band, the tenor ringer to Angmering.

Mention of the latter place is a reminder that years ago the Sussex Association had one of its strongest Minor bands at that tower, but as is the case with the great majority of towers it has had its ups and downs, and its glories in the peal ringing sense seem to have departed, at any rate for the present. Angmering was a place that mattered in Sussex ringing in the days when Charlie Hills was in his prime.

A peal, specially arranged to celebrate the jubilee of Mr. George T. Mitchinson's first peal, was rung at Perry Barr on Saturday, when Mr. Mitchinson rang the same bell in the same tower to the same method (the treble to Grandsire Triples) that he did 50 years ago. He is the only active surviving member of the band of 1888.

Saturday's peal was also a 70th birthday compliment to Mr. Morris J. Morris, of Birmingham. How time flies!

Mr. Fred Rogers, of Portsea, Hants, rang his 450th peal when he called a peal of Spliced Surprise Major in four methods at Crawley, Sussex, on Sunday.

The first peal of Bristol on the bells of Witley, Surrey, was rung on Saturday. Witley is one of those towers not altogether nice to ring in. A clock case in the centre of the ringing room, reaching from floor to ceiling, obstructs the view, although the difficulty has been partially surmounted by glass panels in the casing.

A peal of Doubles in four methods was rung on Sunday at Garway, Herefordshire, where the five bells are situated in a tower detached from the church. It was the fiftieth tower in which Mr. J. P. Hyett has called a peal for the Hereford Diocesan Guild. It was also the first time that a peal in more than one method had been rung on the bells.

The peal of Bob Major rung at Pulford, Cheshire, on August 23rd, was a birthday compliment to Mrs. A. G. Moody, sister of the conductor, Mr. Percy Swindley.

A peal of Grandsire Triples at Marden, Kent, was the 40th peal rung by Mr. A. Stevenson, of Benenden, and was a birthday compliment to his three-year-old grandson.

A farewell peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at St. Mary's, Nottingham, on Saturday, for Mr. George W. Creasey, who is leaving the district. The tenor at St. Mary's is 37 cwt., but Mr. Creasey rang it to the peal in 3 hours 10 minutes.

Mr. T. W. Last, of Helmingham, rang his fiftieth peal of Cambridge Surprise Major on Saturday week, when he called Middleton's composition.

Another peal in celebration of Mr. H. Stenton's 80th birthday was rung at Penistone, Yorkshire, on Saturday, when seven Surprise Minor methods were brought round. The peal was also in honour of the silver wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brooks, Mr. Brooks taking part in the peal.

THE SCOTTISH TOUR.

A GLORIOUS WEEK 'OVER THE BORDER.'

A most enjoyable week, amid glorious scenery, in glorious weather, and combined with friendly welcomes from new friends and old, is but a poor description, in the writer's estimation, of the recent tour in Scotland.

Early on Saturday morning the writer, with Mrs. Price, left Feltham by car for Farnham Royal to pick up 'Bill' Henley, and on to Amersham to pick up Cecil Mayne. Thence the route was along Watling Street from Dunstable, through Bletchley, Stony Stratford, Towcester, past Rugby to Lichfield, Stone and Nantwich. A short stop for a meal, and on to Warrington, Wigan, Preston, Lancaster and Kendal. Here they decided to see a bit of the Lake district, so the car turned off for Windermere, with a slow run and stops for sight-seeing through Ambleside, past Rydal, Grasmere and Thirlmere to Keswick, where it was decided to stay the night. On Sunday morning the visitors had the pleasure of meeting the Keswick ringers and of ringing on the nice handy eight at this tower.

Before leaving again for Scotland, a trip round Derwentwater was made. Clouds covered some of the peaks, in spite of the sun, but Skiddaw did lift her white cap as the car was leaving the district. Stopping at the aerodrome at Carlisle, Bill and Cecil were, with difficulty, persuaded to take their first flight in an aeroplane, an experience with which, however, they were delighted. Glasgow was reached at 5 p.m., just in time for tea and a ring on the fine ten at St. Mary's. Here Gordon and Marie Cross and J. H. Shepherd joined the party, and also Mr. and Mrs. W. Cousins, who had journeyed from Norfolk on a solo motor-cycle, and had also spent the night in Keswick, unknown to the others. A most cordial welcome was given the visitors by Mr. Pickett and the St. Mary's ringers.

Later in the evening the remaining car, containing Harry Simmons, Charlie, Jessie and Gwen Kippin, arrived, and the band was complete. Next day a good peal of Cambridge was rung at Paisley, while those not taking part paid a visit to the exhibition. Mr. Brown very kindly met the party and had the bells ready, a nice peal, restored by J. Taylor and Co.

THE FIRST PEAL AT INVERARAY.

After lunch the journey was continued by way of Renfrew Ferry to Loch Lomond, and over 'Rest and be Thankful,' to Loch Fyne and Inveraray, which was reached about six o'clock. The majestic grandeur of this run has to be seen to be realised. At Inveraray the party were met at the tower by Mr. A. Campbell, the bells pulled up and a few touches rung. The noise was certainly terrific at first, but on a suggestion from the conductor and with Mr. Campbell's help, sacks, rugs, coats, etc., were thrown over the openings in the floor, and this helped to keep things a shade quieter in the ringing room. Early the next morning Mr. Campbell kindly made boxes for the ninth and tenor, and after a few more adjustments a start was made for Treble Ten.

The speed of ringing was not quick, owing to the noise and hum, but a good peal was rung, the first on the bells, which are a fine ten by the Loughborough Foundry, cast in 1920. They hang in the tall, massive stone tower, illustrated in 'The Ringing World' last week, which stands a few hundred yards from the waters of Loch Fyne.

The Duke of Argyll was unfortunately away from Inveraray, but the most wonderful welcome had been prepared for the party, accommodation having been fixed up, and every help and assistance given.

It was hard to tear oneself away from this spot, but eventually the party left by various routes for Dundee, about 110 miles distant, through picturesque scenery, embracing mountains and lochs, islands with ruined castles, ancient clan watch towers and graveyards, all set against a pale blue sky. Also one gets the impression at 6 p.m. that it is only about two o'clock, and there is a much longer twilight.

The writer's party arrived in Dundee about 10 p.m. and had the pleasure of meeting Mr. McDougall and Mr. Cameron, of the St. Paul's Cathedral band.

At 9.30 on the following morning the tourists met at St. Paul's and a start was made for London Surprise, but this had to be abandoned owing to the seventh not going well. The bells are a nice peal by the Whitechapel Foundry, tenor 23½ cwt. in E.

After lunch and a stroll, St. Mary's Old Steeple was visited. This is a very big tower, and contains a Whitechapel eight with a one ton tenor. The interesting thing is that there are three churches all joined together here, and all have services at more or less the same time, though the bells belong only to St. Mary's. A start was again made for London, but the peal was lost mainly owing to the holiday feeling. The band were met by Mr. McGovern, who kindly had everything ready.

After tea, the tourists travelled via Perth to Kinross, where several of them indulged in a paddle in the waters of Loch Leven. Unfortunately, a farmer disapproved of the 'leap-frog' game which followed, and the party left for Alloa, where the night was spent.

On the Thursday morning at St. John's Church they were greeted by the Rev. W. S. Wilson and the steeplekeeper. London was set going on this lively Taylor eight, and a good peal brought round, but not the first in Scotland, as it was believed by the band to be when they rang it.

Travelling over the new Kincardine Bridge, the tourists reached Edinburgh at tea-time, and, after finding 'digs,' sought out the churches for the next day, and climbed to the castle, but too late to gain admission, for by this time it was closed for the night.

On Friday morning, Mr. Heathcote welcomed the band to St. Cuthbert's belfry, where is another nice eight by Taylor and Co. A peal of Double Norwich was eventually rung, marred somewhat by intruders, who were very insistent and who eventually, it is said, brought the police to try and stop the ringing. Afterwards St. Mary's Cathedral was visited and short touches rung. These must be a grand ten outside, deep, soft and mellow, with a 42½ cwt. tenor—nearly a B bell. Inside 'clapper knock' is very strong. The ringing chamber is among the finest in the world. Mr. Heathcote and one of the St. Mary's ringers joined in the ringing, the latter kindly showing the party items of interest.

Mr. Shepherd had already left the party to take part in another tour, and now it was time to say farewell to the Crosses and the Cousins, and make tracks for England.

The next day saw the two London cars reach Lye, in Worcestershire. At 5.30 p.m. the ringers were met at the church by Messrs. J. Bass and R. Matthews and the local ringers. To ring on this eight, the tenor of which is only 3½ cwt., is to experience something quite out of the ordinary and unexpected. All the bells must be rung with clappers on the wrong side of the bells, or there is little or no sound at all, and that, if any, in quite the wrong place, while a slight over-pull throws the clapper the right side, which in this case is the wrong side. A peal of Cambridge was attempted, and resulted in some excellent tapping, when a momentary slip on the writer's part threw his clapper over and ended the attempt, though he has since been informed that this could have been remedied in one pull by a deft bump. A touch of Stedman ended the proceedings, but it was definitely decided to 'have another go.' Here the party broke up, some leaving for home and some for the remainder of their holidays elsewhere.

The writer, who was privileged to organise the tour, wishes to take this opportunity of thanking all those who assisted him in making arrangements, and for giving such wonderful welcomes everywhere. In all, it was a never-to-be-forgotten trip, which covered twelve hundred miles.

OTTERY ST. MARY, DEVON.—On Saturday, August 20th, for the wedding of Miss Makey-Jones after the wedding and a birthday compliment to Mr. W. Dommatt, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples: J. H. BEQUEST FOR BELL RESTORATION.*AN OLD GUILDFORD PEAL MAY RING AGAIN.

Subject to the life interest of his sister, Mr. Frederick Albert Edmead, a house decorator, of Bury Street, Guildford, who died on November 16th and left property of the value of £7,425, with net personalty £3,152, has bequeathed £500 to the Rector and churchwardens of St. Mary's Church, Guildford, for enabling the bells to be rung.

There are six bells in St. Mary's tower, which stands over the church. They have not been rung for many years and are the most dilapidated of any in the diocese. Mr. Edmead, who was formerly a sidesman at St. Mary's, many times expressed the hope that the bells might be put into commission again.

Canon Grant, who, more than 25 years ago, was Rector of St. Mary's (which goes with Holy Trinity, now the Cathedral), would not allow the bells to be rung, as it was thought the ancient tower would not stand the vibration—and probably it wouldn't in the condition the bells are in. They have not been rung since.

Efficient rehanging would probably overcome the difficulties, and it is to be hoped that, when the bequest becomes available, a thorough restoration may be carried out.

The bells, cast at Whitechapel, were put up in 1754 and the tenor is about 14 cwt., but the ringing room is very inaccessible. To reach it one has to climb over the church ceiling. The tower is one of the most ancient buildings in Surrey, and was erected before the Norman Conquest.

A WEDNESDAY MEETING.

The second 'Wednesday' meeting this year of the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild was held at Aldershot on August 24th. There was a moderate attendance. Mr. R. Hasted, the District Master, supervised the ringing during the afternoon, and tea was served in the Parish Hall, local lady ringers being responsible for the catering. Mr. R. Jonas extended thanks to these ladies, and also to the Rev. Brian Matthews, who had come to conduct the Guild service. A touch of Stedman Triples prior to the service at 6 o'clock was very well struck. Mr. Matthews gave a short but exceedingly interesting address on life and religion as an adventure. Mr. G. Goodwin was at the organ and choirboys led the singing.

Ringings continued in the evening and the bells were lowered in peal at 8.30 p.m. Representatives attended from Aldershot, Ash, Seale, Farnham, Bagshot, Sandhurst, Twyford, Yorktown, Blackmoor, Guildford (S. Nicolas'), Worplesdon, Godalming and Hugglescote, Leicestershire.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Fresh from conquests over the Border, at least four of the ringers who recently toured Scotland were present at the joint meeting of four associations held at Egham on Saturday. Mr. Charles Kippin was there, wearing his Buchanan tartan, although he had left his kilt at home, while Mr. Bill Henley had not yet lost the Scottish accent which he had acquired.

A well-known South London ringer, fishing one day last week in the Thames at Twickenham, found himself unexpectedly in the river. Standing on his seat more effectively to cast his line, his improvised platform tipped over, and, as he dryly (or should it be wetly?) remarked to some amused ladies in a punt, 'I think I am in the River Thames.'

However, no ill befell him, and he was in his usual good spirits on Saturday, when he attended the meeting at Egham.

As Mr. K. Arthur points out in his letter elsewhere, a peal of London Surprise Major was rung in Edinburgh in 1924. Six members of the Gofton family were in the band and the peal was conducted by Joseph A. The others were William L., Richard A., James E., R. Alder, and Thomas T. George Holmes and Stephen Stratford made up the band and the peal was rung for the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association.

Bertram Prewett, who fell in the Great War, exactly 20 years ago, was a magnificent ringer and conductor. Of the many ringers of which the Exercise was robbed by the war, he was probably the greatest. He had rung 953 peals, his last having been at Wrentham, Suffolk, just before going overseas, in May, 1916.

In view of the recent tour in Scotland, with the first peal on the ten at Inveraray, it is interesting to note that the first ten-bell peal north of the Tweed was Grandsire Caters, rung at St. Mary's Cathedral, Edinburgh, on August 31st, 1886, conducted by Mr. F. E. Dawe.

Last Wednesday was also the anniversary of the longest peal ever rung on handbells, the 19,738 Stedman Caters at Guildford in 9 hours 32 minutes, conducted by Mr. A. H. Pulling, on August 31st, 1912.

A peal ringing tour in Gloucestershire opens at Cirencester tomorrow. A programme of 14 peals has been arranged, and visits to Tewkesbury and Cheltenham are included. Headquarters during the week are to be in Gloucester.

THE FIRST PEAL OF LONDON IN SCOTLAND.

To the Editor.

Sir,—May I point out that the peal of London Surprise Major rung at Alloa during the recent Scottish tour was not the first in that method to be rung in Scotland. A peal of London Surprise Major, incidentally the first Surprise peal in Scotland, was rung by the Whitley Bay band at St. Cuthbert's, Edinburgh, on Saturday, September 27th, 1924, in 3 hours 16 minutes.

Presumably this performance had been overlooked when the report of the recent peal was sent for publication.

'JAMES GREEN' ON THE ROAD.

A WARNING TO RINGERS.

A man, apparently about 56 years of age and giving the name of James Green and an address at Leominster, Herefordshire, has been calling upon ringers in Hampshire and the Isle of Wight asking for assistance to take him to Horsham, Sussex, where, he says, there is a job waiting for him in a printing works.

He has succeeded in several instances in imposing upon the charity of ringers, but, instead of going to Horsham, he has turned up in other places and repeated the operation. He seems to be fairly well acquainted with the names and addresses of well-known ringers, and in one case he obtained 5s. 6d. to enable him to get, not to Horsham, but to Christchurch.

Ringers are warned against helping this individual, and, should he seek their assistance, would do well to get him to prove his bona fides to the police.

RINGER'S GENEROSITY.

MR. W. J. NEVARD RESTORES GREAT BENTLEY BELLS.

The bells of Great Bentley, near Colchester, have been completely restored by Mr. W. J. Nevard, a veteran Essex ringer, in commemoration of his 60 years' connection with the parish. The bells were reopened by the Bishop of Chelmsford, in the presence of a large congregation, which included over a hundred ringers. The opening ringing was done by Messrs. A. Bowell, W. J. Nevard, E. J. Butler, Elliott, Clark, R. W. Stannard, Spencer Phillips (Master of the association) and E. Davey.

In addition to rehangings, the bells have been retuned and now form a beautiful little octave.

After the ceremony, upwards of 250 parishioners and ringers were provided with tea in the Golf Club House, and thanks were accorded to Mr. Nevard for his great generosity. Later he was presented by the parishioners with a silver inkstand to commemorate the event.

LEADING CONDUCTORS—34.

JOHN THOMAS.

There can be few conductors personally known to more ringers than Mr. John Thomas, whose business association with bells, as a bell-hanger, must have taken him into nearly every part of England. In peal ringing this trade connection is not always an advantage. It is true that it has given him opportunities, but it has often restricted his activities for considerable periods. Nevertheless, there can be few districts into which he has gone which have not benefited, at any rate temporarily, from his stay, for his ability as a ringer and skill as conductor are always ungrudgingly used to assist others wherever he may be. He is as happy helping a struggling village band on a practice night as he is in ringing a peal with much more highly accomplished performers, and, in this way, he has done much quiet but valuable service to the Exercise. Mr. Thomas has many claims to distinction, but perhaps his greatest is that of being one of the very few men who have rung two tower bells to a peal.

'Jack' Thomas is a Bristol man, having been born in that city on Aug. 22nd, 1882. He learned to ring a bell at St. Michael's Church under his brother, Mr. S. Thomas. He rang his first peal on Boxing Day, 1899, at St. Stephen's, Bristol. It was a peal of Stedman Triples, conducted by the late Mr. G. T. Daltry, rung for the wedding of Mr. W. A. Cave. His first peal as conductor was a peal of Bob Minor at St. Luke's, Bristol, on February 7th, 1902. He has now rung 444 peals, including 103 on handbells, and has conducted 226, of which 73 have been on handbells. They have been rung in 155 towers for 24 associations in 28 counties.

In 1901 Mr. Thomas was ringing Surprise peals with the Bristol men, his first in this category being Superlative at All Saints', Bristol, where, two years later, he rang his first peal of London—the first in the method by all the band. His first Surprise peal as conductor was Cambridge at St. Andrew's, Clifton, in January, 1909, but he also took part in the first peals of Superlative, Cambridge and London in both Dorset and Somerset, although the Superlative in Somerset was, two years later, found to have been false. He called the first Surprise peal rung in Dorset.

By a coincidence Mr. Thomas took part in the first peal rung muffled for the death of Queen Victoria, which was the first peal rung in the reign of King Edward VII., and he conducted the last peal rung in the reign of that Sovereign, Holt's Original at Long Ashton, Somerset, on May 6th, 1910. And referring to Holt's Original it is interesting to recall that in 1903 Mr. Thomas conducted this composition from every bell in ten attempts.

While still residing in the West of England, Mr. Thomas took part in the peal of Stedman Caters at Exeter Cathedral in 1903, when the late Mr. William Pye rang the 72½ cwt. tenor single-handed; he conducted his first peal of Stedman Triples at Dursley, Glos, in 1904, and his first of Stedman Caters at Wells Cathedral in 1905.

In 1911 Mr. Thomas moved from Bristol to London and joined the band at Edmonton. His peal ringing since that time has been done in many parts of the country, and among the first of the notable achievements with which he was associated was the long peal of 12,160 Bristol Surprise Major at Knebworth, Herts, on April 8th, 1912, at that time the record for the method.

He conducted the first peal rung by married couples, which was on handbells at Edmonton on December 7th, 1919, and, on November 6th in the following year, the first married couples' peal on tower bells. This was rung at Edmonton. It was in 1928 at Corston, Somerset, that Mr. Thomas manipulated two tower bells in a peal. He rang the 2nd and 3rd to Double Norwich. Only four other ringers, we believe, have succeeded in doing this, but to watch Mr. Thomas handling two at a time makes the thing look perfectly simple—until one tries.

FOUR ASSOCIATIONS MEET.

SUCCESSFUL THAMES-SIDE GATHERING.

A very successful 'joint' meeting of four associations was held on Thames-side on Saturday. It has been an annual event for some few years and grows in popularity. On this occasion the Guildford Diocesan Guild was host, and the guests were the Middlesex Association, the Oxford Diocesan Guild and the Surrey Association. Each of the organisations was well represented, and, in all, some seventy or eighty ringers were present, drawn from a wide radius. After ringing at Wraysbury (Bucks), Stanwell (Middlesex) and Egham, which comes within the diocese of Guildford and the county of Surrey, the ringers converged on the latter place for service, which, in the absence of the Vicar, was conducted by the Rev. E. H. G. Sargeant, Vicar of the neighbouring parish of Virginia Water, the lesson being read by the Rev. R. H. Gilding, of St. Peter's, Staines. Having been warned at the last minute to 'keep off' bells, the Rev. E. H. G. Sargeant gave an inspiring extempore address upon the Christian 'costume,' in which he emphasised the need in every walk of life for the 'garments' of sympathy, humility, love and patience.

Tea was served in the Church Hall, and afterwards Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, vice-president of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, extended a cordial welcome to the other associations. Such gatherings, he said, made for good feeling between them, and he particularly welcomed the Surrey Association to the Guildford territory, although they were in their own county area. Although these two organisations overlapped in parts of the county, the best of good feeling prevailed between them, and he hoped that spirit might long continue.

FUTURE 'ANNUAL FESTIVAL.'

Mr. C. K. D. Birt, Master of the Surrey Association, first acknowledged the welcome, and expressed his great pleasure at such a successful gathering.

Mr. J. Armiger Trollope, vice-president of the Middlesex Association, who next replied, referred to the changed attitude which existed in these days between the associations, compared with the feeling which prevailed in the old days, when men rang exclusively only with their own company, and were expelled if they rang with any other. Even to-day there were two societies who were mutually exclusive. Gatherings such as that joint meeting were all for the good of the Exercise, and indicated not only the friendship existing between them, but that ringers in those areas, and, indeed, throughout the country, were members of one body working with one object.

Mr. A. D. Barker (hon. treasurer of the Oxford Diocesan Guild) expressed the pleasure of his own Guild at taking part in gatherings such as that, and voiced the hope that they might be held for many years to come. He suggested that in future it should be known, not as a meeting, but as a festival.

Mr. Goldsmith then specially welcomed the visitors from a distance. These included Mr. H. S. Morley (Selby, Yorks), Mr. H. O. Over (Hugglescote, Leicestershire), Mr. W. A. Stote (Keresley, Warwickshire) and Mr. W. J. Nevard, of Great Bentley, Essex, although the last named had not been able to stay for tea. The welcome was acknowledged by Mr. Morley.

Mr. F. E. Hawthorne, hon. secretary of the Chertsey District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, thanked the Vicar of Egham and other incumbents for the use of their bells, the Rev. E. H. G. Sargeant for conducting the service and all others who had helped to make the gathering such a success.

In the evening further ringing took place at Egham and the two towers in Staines, St. Mary's and St. Peter's.

CARD INDEXED.

Mr. J. Herbert, the Ringing Master of the South and West District of the Middlesex Association, who organised the ringing in the three Middlesex towers, came with a ready-prepared card index system for tabulating results. Here is an example after it had been duly completed at the end of the day:—

Tower: Stanwell.

Time of commencement: 3.30. Had to search for keys in the village. Everyone away, apparently.

Attendance: 18-20.

Methods rung: Grandsire, Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob Doubles and Minor, Kent T.B. Minor.

Ceased ringing: 4.20.

General remarks: Striking could have been much improved. Very noisy belfry, only leather lungs could be heard.

Here are other extracts. From St. Mary's, Staines: Commenced 7.5. Mr. W. Butler had all in readiness. Attendance approximately 30. Methods rung: Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Cambridge and Spliced Surprise Major. General remarks: Bells going very well; some fair ringing, but not so good in lower methods.

Again, from St. Peter's, Staines, where Mr. W. Ellingham was in charge: Attendance 28. Methods rung: Stoney for learners, Cambridge, Grandsire, Bob Major, Stedman, Double Norwich and Kent. General remarks: Tenor rope broke in Bob Major. The Police Guild are so strong.

No such concise record was kept at the two other towers of Egham and Wraysbury, but the methods were many, and the striking, like the proverbial curate's egg, 'good in parts.'

THE NINE-DAY WEEK. SUCCESSFUL TOUR IN STAFFS AND SALOP. Thirteen Peals and a 'Bad Patch.'

The ringing tour in Staffordshire and Shropshire, which concluded on Saturday week, produced, as has already been recorded, 13 peals out of 16 attempts. The three failures were, strange to say, consecutive, and formed just one bad patch in the middle of an otherwise completely successful week, which socially was also most enjoyable. Nineteen ringers shared in the peals, about half of them putting in full time—in this case, the 'week' lasted nine days—while the rest were part-time visitors or local 'supernumeraries.' The 'old uns' took their full share in the strenuous programme, and it is notable that Mr. George Williams, in his 82nd year, was in eight of the successful attempts, including two peals on one day. The headquarters during the visit were the Molineux Hotel, Wolverhampton, and here the party were comfortably housed and excellently fed. The landlord, Mr. H. Armitage, and his family looked after the interests of his guests in every possible way and earned their full gratitude.

The first peal, one of Cambridge Surprise, was rung at Tettenhall on Friday evening, August 12th. Mr. Chris. Gudgeon, of Manchester, came along and took part, while Mr. R. Pickering was there to meet the party and see that everything was in order for a punctual start. A feature of Tettenhall Churchyard is the beautiful array of tombstones and crosses, which is frequently referred to as 'The White City.' After the peal Mr. Herbert Knight, the genial hon. secretary of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford, and others gave the visitors a most cordial welcome to Wolverhampton.

On Saturday morning the first attempt was at Penn, where, on a nice little ring of eight, a good peal of Superlative was scored.

TWELVE COUNTIES IN PEAL OF CINQUES.

On Saturday afternoon, escorted by Messrs. Knight and Pickering, the ringers visited Walsall, where they were met by Mr. T. J. Elton, who showed them through the fine old church, which stands up so conspicuously on the hilltop, and afterwards called for them a peal of Stedman Cinques, in which residents in twelve different counties took part. Three additional members of the party 'joined up' here, Messrs. Leslie Morris, Harry Parkes and J. C. E. Simpson.

On Sunday morning the visitors were cordially welcomed in the tower of St. Peter's, Wolverhampton, by Mr. H. Knight and his fellow-ringers. A course of Bob Maximus, a course of Grandsire Cinques and a course of Double Norwich on the back eight were much enjoyed on this fine peal before going on to Church Stretton, where they sought out Mr. Hughes, the towerkeeper. He had very kindly arranged for their lunch, after which they were privileged to ring what is believed to be the first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major in Shropshire. This done, without any waste of time, they then set off on a 13 miles' run to Shrewsbury. Half of the party took a wrong turn in Shrewsbury and did not arrive in time to have the benefit of the half-hour's ringing prior to service at St. Chad's. In addition to the local band, who cordially welcomed them, the visitors had the privilege of meeting and ringing with the Rev. C. Carew Cox, who was on holiday in this district. All were delighted with the beautiful tone of the bells at this notable church. After a thirty mile run back to Wolverhampton, the tourists were glad of supper and also of bed.

Breakfast was set for 7.45 each morning, and it was seldom more than one—who shall be nameless—was late. The ringers were on the road early on Monday, their first call being at Bridgnorth. This quaintly constructed town possesses a fine church, with a fine tower and bells. The visitors were greeted by Messrs. W. Overton and Elcock, who had everything ready, and they rang quite a good peal of Yorkshire Surprise, which is believed to be the first for the Shropshire Association. After the peal Mr. W. H. Fussell, who, at Church Stretton, celebrated the jubilee of his first peal in Salop, went to see that grand old Shropshire veteran, Mr. John Overton, who is now unable to get to the tower. They first met something like 55 years ago, and it must have been a mutual pleasure for these two old friends to meet together once more. The second peal on Monday was at Conover, one of Cambridge Surprise. It was conducted by Mr. George Williams, who is now 'one up' on seven other members of the Central Council, for Mr. Williams was one of the band who rang 5,472 changes of Double Norwich in 3 hours 32 minutes at this church in 1935, on the occasion of a visit of the Central Council to Shrewsbury, the composition afterwards being discovered false. The visitors were most kindly received at Conover by Mr. Wood, who helped them in every possible way.

A 'GREAT' SHIFNAL RINGER.

Prior to starting for Shifnal on Tuesday morning, the party very reluctantly had to say goodbye to their good friend, Mr. W. H. Fussell, who was leaving in order that he might fulfil an important engagement at home. Apart from any other consideration, the writer of this account was particularly sorry that Mr. Fussell should leave so early in the week. Those who have followed these ringing weeks for years past must have read with tremendous interest the delightfully descriptive reports written by 'W. H. F.' of the excursions. May this account be not entirely uninteresting to him and others.

The Deputy Master of the Oxford Guild, the Rev. C. Elliot Wigg, joined up at Conover as a part-timer, and there scored his one and only peal out of four attempts, for there came immediately afterwards the unlucky patch which produced three consecutive failures. Indeed, Mr. Wigg must have felt himself particularly unlucky. Not only did he lose three peals, but, having brought his own camping equipment, was eventually driven into the hotel by the unkindness of the weather.

The peal of London, which was attempted at Shifnal, lasted little over an hour. The ringers were met at the church by the Vicar, and both he and his wife were much interested in the tour. Quite close to the belfry door at Shifnal is the grave of Samuel Lawrence, a famous ringer in the latter years of the 18th century and the early years of the nineteenth.

He was a 'great' ringer in more than one respect. Not only did he take part in some celebrated performances in many parts of England—an unusual thing in those days—but he weighed no less than 32½ stones. It is said of him that on one occasion he got stuck in the stairway at St. Alkmund's, Shrewsbury, and that it took five of the band to get him out. His peal book recording his 72 peals rung between 1783 and 1823 is in the Reference Library at Shrewsbury. His death at the age of 62 in the year 1825 was the result of an accident. He was setting out for Birmingham in a vehicle specially made for him, but into which he could not mount without assistance. A chair which he was using broke under him and he fell, fracturing his thigh. The bone could not be properly set and 'mortification' caused his death. The inscription on the gravestone is now almost indecipherable.

While the peal attempt at Shifnal was in progress others of the party went to Tong and rang on the back five of this interesting peal of six. After lunch at Shifnal the tourists made their way to Coalbrookdale, where Mr. Saunders gave them his usual hearty welcome, but one of the greatest disappointments of the tour was experienced here. After a little more than an hour's ringing Cambridge Royal came to grief, and for the rest of the day the band were 'in sackcloth and ashes.' Mr. Saunders did his best to cheer them up and suggested they should call at Wellington on the way home. This they did and enjoyed a pull with the local band on their practice night.

On Wednesday morning the run of ill-luck continued, and for Mr. Bennett to have three unsuccessful attempts on end in one of his tours had never been known. A peal of Norfolk Surprise at Wombourn was attempted, but after 1 hour 40 minutes down came the tenor rope.

A GOOD FINISH.

The visitors were privileged to meet Mr. 'Bill' Short, the conductor of the 11,111 Stedman Cinques at Birmingham in 1901, in which two of the tourists, Messrs. Gabriel Lindoff and G. R. Pye, also took part. At Wednesbury the party were met by Messrs. W. E. Brittain, Smith, Hughes, W. Fisher and J. Barber, the last named being another of the 11,111 Stedman Cinques band. He rang the tenor in that great effort.

A good peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal was brought round at Wednesbury, and the ringers were surprised to find it was the first by the Archdeaconry of Stafford Society. A brief visit was paid to West Bromwich, where the visitors were welcomed by the veterans, Mr. John Jagger and Mr. J. Screen, who helped them to ring several touches on these bells.

On Thursday morning the party were on the road in good time, their destination being Broughton. Half of the party arrived before 10 o'clock, but the others came along half an hour later. There was a misunderstanding as to what constituted a straight road. There is only one house anywhere near the church at Broughton, and everyone thought what an ideal spot at which to ring the 22,000 of Bristol. Actually a start was made for this method (not the 22,000), but not getting off the mark quickly, it was decided to change to Superlative. It was lucky that they did. They had not gone very far before an intruder made his appearance. He motioned to the ringers to stop, but the conductor, with great presence of mind, asked him if he had the Vicar's authority to stop the ringing. That started him to think; he turned tail and the ringers saw him no more. A 'cast-iron' band could hardly have survived an intrusion of that kind if Bristol was being rung.

FINAL PEALS OF NINE DAYS' TOUR

After this experience the party made off for Market Drayton and were there joined by Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Richardson and their daughter Enid. The latter here rang in her 35th tower, and, when she begins measuring tenors, Mr. J. H. Shepherd may have a very dangerous rival. After lunch the visitors were met by Mr. W. Weatherby, who greatly prides himself on the tower and bells. From what one hears it will not be long before a peal of London Surprise is rung at Market Drayton by a local band. However, the visitors rang a peal in this method and much appreciated the opportunity of scoring the first of London on the bells.

On Friday morning, Norfolk Surprise was rung at Codsall, a lovely little village five miles from headquarters. It was the first peal of Major on this fine little ring of bells. In the afternoon Stedman Caters was successful at Willenhall, a nice handy peal of ten with a 16 cwt. tenor. A most cordial welcome was received from Messrs. Bert Horton, Chris. Wallater and A. E. Reed. Among those who afterwards met the band was the curate (the Rev. — Perry), who, it transpired, was a friend of Miss Kathleen Jutson, formerly of Peterborough, but now married and living in New Zealand. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson were very much interested when they learned this, and they recalled many pleasant memories of earlier years.

Saturday morning found the party at Brewod, a very nice spot, eight miles from Wolverhampton, where Mr. John Perry very kindly welcomed them prior to a start for Bristol Surprise. These bells are a grand peal of eight, with a 21 cwt. tenor, and a good peal was brought home. The peal programme was concluded in the afternoon at St. Luke's, Blakenhall, with Cambridge Surprise.

Sincere thanks are extended to the many ringers, only a few of whom it has been possible to mention, who met and welcomed the visitors at the various towers and showed so much interest in their activities, also to the clergy, towerkeepers and church authorities of the various churches for placing the bells at their disposal. In particular most sincere thanks are extended to Mr. Herbert Knight for his Staffordshire arrangements, and Mr. William Saunders for his Shropshire arrangements. Everything was so splendidly planned that there was no hitch of any kind throughout the week, while gratitude must be expressed to those who so willingly and skilfully conveyed the rest from place to place and tower to tower. Some of the party concluded their week by calling at Birmingham on the way home and ringing with members of St. Martin's Guild on Sunday morning at St. Martin's Church and the Cathedral.

'SOUTHALL' SURPRISE.To the Editor.*

Dear Sir,—I am obliged to my old friend, Mr. E. A. Ridgway, for pointing out that the above method was published as 'Victoria' Surprise' in 'Bell News' in June, 1900.

Another old friend, Mr. F. Bennett, of Brighton, has now supplied me with the exact date of publication in the 'Bell News'; it was on June 23rd, 1900.

Since the first peal in the method, after 38 years, has now been rung as 'Southall,' I am quite willing that the name given by the band should be retained.

GEORGE BAKER.

Brighton.

OLD NORFOLK RINGER'S DEATH.

Mr. John Pooley, of Northrepps, Norfolk, who died on August 19th, began to ring in 1880 and rang for over 40 years until sight and health failed him. Six extents of Grandsire Doubles with bells muffled were rung at Northrepps by the local company on Thursday, August 26th, as a token of respect.

DURHAM CATHEDRAL RINGER'S DEATH.

A member of Durham Cathedral band for many years, Mr. R. A. Johnson, sen., has passed away at the age of 57 years and was laid to rest on Saturday, August 13th.

Mr. Johnson, the head of a noted ringing family, had been a ringer for upwards of 40 years and was a well known and deeply respected member of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association.

The interment took place at St. Oswald's, Durham City, the following Cathedral ringers acting as bearers: Messrs. Oliver, Vasey, Metcalfe, Hopper, Allison and Smurthwaite. St. Oswald's bells were rung fully muffled as the cortege entered the church and after the service as the procession moved to the new burial ground some distance away. There was a very large attendance of sympathising friends, and the service was conducted by Canon Lillingston, Sub-Dean of Durham Cathedral.

The bells were rung by St. Oswald's band, kindly augmented by those who had taken the place of members on holiday. The ringers were Messrs. F. Robinson, Craggs, Jopling, Yorke, Shotton, H. Milner, Gillespie and Russell. Wreaths were given by the association and the Cathedral ringers. Deepest sympathy is offered to the widow and family in their great loss.

PRESENTATION TO MR. A. PRIOR.*RECOGNITION OF FIFTEEN YEARS' SERVICE.

Mr. Alfred Prior, who retired last year from the office of Master of the South-Western Division of the Essex Association, was presented at a recent meeting with a gold watch, fittingly inscribed, in recognition of his 15 years' service.

Dr. P. T. Spencer Phillips, Master of the association, made the presentation and spoke of the conscientious way Mr. Prior had carried out his duties as Divisional Master.

Mr. E. J. Butler, divisional hon. secretary, said every tower in the division had contributed to the presentation, as well as several unattached members.

The gift was feelingly acknowledged by Mr. Prior.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Eastern Branch of the Norwich Diocesan Association was held at Happpisburgh on Saturday, August 13th, but the attendance was small owing to the harvest, only 18 members being present. A short service was conducted by the Rev. C. Deane, Vicar of Happpisburgh.

At a short business meeting held after tea, kindly arranged by Mr. E. Howes, Master of the local company. Mr. G. Paston, of Yarmouth, was elected a member of the association, and the next meeting was arranged to be held at Great Yarmouth on the second Saturday in October.

The company stood in silent tribute to the late Rev. Canon J. Enraught, Rector of Lowestoft, and one of the association vice-presidents.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for presiding, also for the use of the bells. Members attended from Norwich, Wymondham, Great Yarmouth, Reedham, Wroxham, North Walsham, Norton and Lowestoft and Happpisburgh, and ringing took place during the afternoon and evening.

A DOZEN TOWERS.*LEYTONSTONE RINGERS NORFOLK VISIT.

A dozen towers were included in the itinerary of the St. John the Baptist Society, Leytonstone, when they had their customary annual two days' excursion. They visited Norfolk and made their headquarters at Wymondham, and a carefully planned programme enabled everyone to ring at each of the towers.

On the first day (having arrived overnight) they rang at Watton (6), Dereham (8) and Garveston (6) in the morning; Pulham Market, Pulham St. Mary and Redenhall (all 8's) in the afternoon; and Palgrave (8) and Diss (8) in the evening.

Sunday began with a visit to St. Peter Mancroft for service ringing in the morning. In the afternoon they rang on the eighties at Kenninghall and North Lopham, and returned to complete the day by ringing for service at Wymondham for evening service.

The ringing included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge Surprise Major, London, Cambridge, Ipswich and Beverley Surprise Minor, and Grandsire and Stedman Caters, with a final touch on the twelve at Mancroft. Practically every touch was brought home.

The excursion was a most enjoyable one, and thanks are offered to all who helped to make it such a success.

NEWCASTLE CATHEDRAL GUILD.

As a birthday compliment to Mr. J. E. Keen, the Deputy Ringing Master, and Mr. J. Anderson, hon. secretary of Newcastle Cathedral Guild, a touch of 925 Stedman Caters was rung at the Cathedral on Sunday by G. A. Pickering 1, C. L. Routledge 2, W. Story 3, W. J. Davidson 4, J. Anderson 5, E. Wallace 6, A. Deas 7, W. H. Barber (conductor) 8, J. E. Keen 9, J. Hedley 10.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.

FETE INTERFERES WITH RINGING.

The monthly meeting of the Leeds and District Society was held on Saturday, August 27th, at St. Wilfred's Church, Calverley, and, although favoured by good weather, the attendance was below expectations. No doubt the commencement of the football season had something to do with this, as well as the fact of August being a very popular holiday month. The bells were raised in peal about 3.30 p.m., and although the ringing was slightly curtailed owing to the close proximity of a garden fete, a variety of methods was enjoyed throughout the afternoon and evening.

A brief interval was necessary in the ringing whilst the local Member of Parliament indulged in the customary oratory at the fete. Whilst this was in progress some of the ringers adjourned to the park, where a cricket match was in progress. Unfortunately this was not of 'Test Match' standard, and it was a relief when ringing was permissible again.

After the tea interval, the business meeting was held in the tower, and owing to the unavoidable absence of the president, Mr. P. J. Johnson was unanimously voted to the chair.

A vote of thanks to the Vicar, wardens and local company for kindly granting the use of the bells was proposed by Mr. F. Rayment, seconded by Mr. T. Hill, but unfortunately there were no local members present to respond, as several were 'on duty' at the garden fete.

It was explained that the next meeting at Rothwell is to be brought forward a week, and will be held on September 17th. This has been arranged mutually with the Yorkshire Association, whose meeting is being fixed for the 24th. Particulars of the Rothwell meeting will be advertised on September 9th.

After the meeting further ringing was enjoyed until the bells were finally lowered in peal about 9 o'clock.

The towers represented during the day were as follows: Armley, Bramley, Bradford, Calverley, Burley, Drighlington, Headingley St. Michael's, Hunslet, Idle, Leeds Parish Church, Pudsey and Rothwell. Very welcome visitors were Mr. Charles Lawson, of Newcastle, and the Rev. E. V. Cox, president of the Devon Guild. The methods rung during the day ranged from Cambridge Minor to Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major.

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

PEAL RINGING TOURS.

For those who have the energy and enthusiasm a peal ringing tour is a very pleasant and interesting way of spending a holiday—if 'holiday' is the right term for an occupation which keeps one at work for six hours a day in a belfry. Different people, of course, have different ideas as to what constitutes a holiday; and for those whom an office stool claims for most of the waking hours of the rest of the year the activity of a peal ringing week may be the right corrective for the sedentary life. So, too, it may be the best tonic for those who, having reached the stage when life can be taken easily, find time hanging a little heavily on their hands. But be that as it may, there is, among a number of ringers, the keenest enthusiasm for the excursions which take them for a week or more from tower to tower, with nothing less in view than a peal at each. And the more peals they ring the better they enjoy it. There are some other folks who view this type of ringing as a somewhat selfish holiday, but why should they? It is certainly no more selfish than many other forms of holiday, and it sometimes has the merit of stimulating interest in the art of ringing in the area in which these tours are undertaken. When programmes are filled almost to the limit with ringing and travelling it is not possible, of course, to devote time to helping individual towers, but the general effect in a district thus visited is to stir up interest.

To-morrow a tour in Gloucestershire ends and one in Cornwall begins. This latter has been designed purposely to give a stimulus to Cornish ringers, for while the visiting band will be strong enough to undertake two peals every day on its own account, there are to be three peal attempts on three days in the middle of the week, in order that local ringers may be included in some of the bands. This is a wholly admirable idea and is a departure that might well be developed in the future. Those who go upon these extended tours are usually ringers of considerable ability, and their help and encouragement among local bands must prove, in the long run, of the utmost value. They can not only help to improve method ringing, but also set an example in the standard of striking, which in many districts in the country cannot be said to be very high. In undertaking 'missionary' work of this kind a touring band would inevitably have to come off the 'Surprise' method level in some cases, but Surprise methods should not be considered the only aim in peal ringing. A peal of Grandsire or Stedman Triples in which two or three of the local band take part can easily do more lasting good to the art than half a dozen Surprise peals rung solely by men steeped in little else. And there would be nothing lost in prestige either; indeed, such peals would gain the admiration of those who think example which it is proposed to set in Cornwall may be followed elsewhere in the future.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the South-Eastern Division of the Essex Association was held at Galleywood on Saturday, August 27th, 30 members and friends being present from Great Baddow, Boreham, Chelmsford, Ford End, Fryerning, Galleywood, Maldon, Rettendon, Springfield, Little Waltham, Writtle, Witham and Lavenham.

Ringling took place during the afternoon and evening, and the association service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. F. A. Roughton), the lesson being read by the District Master (Mr. H. Mansfield).

At the business meeting, over which the Vicar presided, Denis F. Grinham, of Boreham, and Miss Manse, of Galleywood, were elected ringing members, and W. May and G. Frost, of Rettendon, were re-elected.

It was decided, subject to permission being granted, to hold the next meeting at Springfield on October 8th. Mr. L. J. Clark invited the district to hold their annual meeting at Chelmsford on November 26th, it being 25 years since the Cathedral bells were augmented to twelve.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar and organist and to Mr. Barrett for making the arrangements for the tea.

Handbell ringing followed and then a return was made to the tower.

PEAL NOTES.

A TWO-PART PEAL OF STEDMAN TRIPLES.

Mr. G. W. Slack's equal two-part peal of Stedman Triples, with two ordinary singles only, which many composers thought was an impossibility, has been rung at Bushey, Herts, conducted by that inveterate seeker after difficult compositions, Mr. Maurice Hibbert. He has called all sorts of complicated peals in various methods, to which he has added this extraordinary two-part composition. Mr. Hibbert must have an unrivalled memory for this sort of thing.

We referred some months ago to Mr. Slack's production, which is 'like nothing on earth.' It consists mostly of bobbed sixes, in ones, twos and groups of three, four, five or six. Mr. Hibbert describes it as the 'Holt's Original' of Stedman. To us it looks only a nightmare. However, it has been rung and we offer congratulations to the composer, the conductor and the band, who rang it at the first attempt.

The peal was a birthday compliment to Mr. F. W. Brinklow, and it enabled Messrs. Harold Cashmore and J. E. Rootes to complete the 'circle' of the tower. Mr. Hibbert has rung the seventh and tenor at this church each 30 times to a peal.

Messrs. Taylor and Co. recently provided a grand ring of bells, with a tenor of 17 cwt., for Epworth, Lincolnshire, where John Wesley's father was once Vicar. The first peal of Stedman on them was rung on August 27th, when Mr. J. A. Freeman called Thurstans' Four-Part.

SISTERS RING HANDBELL PEAL.

A performance of more than usual interest was the 5,040 of Bob Major rung on handbells at Brasted on Saturday, when 1-2 and 5-6 were rung, respectively, by Miss Monica and Miss Brenda Richardson, the daughters of the late Rev. H. S. T. Richardson, who was for many years a leading member of the Central Council and a member, first, of the Cambridge University Guild and, later, of the Hereford Diocesan Guild, of which he was honorary secretary. The peal was conducted by Mr. E. H. Lewis, uncle of the young ladies. We look forward to many more peals by the same band.

The Vicar of St. Margaret's, Leicester, the Rev. Kenneth F. Parsons, has taken over the living of St. Andrew's, Roker, Sunderland. A farewell peal was rung at St. Margaret's, on the back eight, on Saturday.

Besides being a farewell to the Vicar, it was a compliment to one of the transposers of Parker's famous twelve-part, Mr. Morris J. Morris, of Birmingham, marking his 70th birthday. The peal was rung with Davis 'silencers' attached.

The peal of Double Norwich Major rung at South Wigston on August 25th added yet another to the list of that fine old ringer, Mr. John Clarke. St. Thomas' belfry has long been his ringing home, and only those who have the pleasure of ringing with him fully appreciate his quiet personality. It is interesting to note that during the past three weeks Mr. Clarke has scored peals of Stedman, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob 'combined,' and now Double Norwich. That's not too bad for three score years and ten. Incidentally the peal on August 25th was the quickest peal of Major on the bells. It was rung in 2 hours 52 minutes.

It was at South Wigston that, in 1904, the 17,104 of Double Norwich, still the record length in the method, was rung, composed and conducted by William Willson, of Leicester.

Seven methods of Doubles were included in a peal, rung at the Dorset tower of Maiden Newton on August 30th, in honour of the recent induction of Canon D. F. Slembeck.

To welcome the new Vicar (the Rev. P. E. Rock), who was inducted on August 26th, a peal of Grand sire Doubles was rung at Eardisland, Herefordshire, on the following Sunday.

A MINIATURE TOUR.

Fresh from his successful tour in Staffordshire and Shropshire, Mr. Frank Bennett partly filled in the intervening days before going on a similar excursion in Cornwall, which begins to-morrow, by a miniature tour in Dorset and Hants last week. Beginning on Wednesday, he rang a peal a day until Saturday, as well as losing another at Fordingbridge on the second day.

The peal at Wimborne Minster was the first of Surprise on the bells, the peal at Wimborne St. Giles, where the Earl of Shaftesbury is one of the local ringers, was the first of Bob Major on the bells.

The final peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal at North Stoneham was rung in honour of and immediately after the wedding of Mr. Jarratt Liversidge, of Derby, and Miss Charlotte Mary (Mollie) Brown, only daughter of Mr. Reginald Brown, a member of the North Stoneham band. It was also a silver wedding peal for Canon R. B. Jolly (Rector of St. Mary's, Southampton) and Mrs. Jolly.

The 'tour' was arranged by Mr. L. J. Lockyer, of Wimborne, and the peal at Sherfield English on Friday was made possible by the kindness of Mr. A. F. Martin Stewart, who, after the party had met short in the morning, travelled half across Hampshire by car to fetch another man to enable the peal to be rung in the afternoon. In the meantime the six 'remainders' rang a 720 of Cambridge Minor, for the sake of something to do.

A peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at Pulham, Norfolk, on Saturday, was the first in the method on the bells. It was a composition by W. E. Bason, rung for the first time, and the conductor (Mr. Nolan Golden) rang his first peal in the method.

Mr. James Martin, of Christ Church, Bootle, Lancs, has just completed 50 years' membership of the Lancashire Association. He was elected in the year 1888. On Saturday a peal of Surprise Minor in seven methods was rung in honour of the event and was the first of Surprise Minor on the bells.

A push-bike ride of 42 miles 'there and back' makes a peal of Minor well earned. Out of five ringers from Prittlewell who rang in the first peal on the bells at North Ockendon, Essex, on Saturday, two did this cycle journey. The Rector kindly provided tea.

Mr. A. S. Boar, of Milton Regis, Kent, tenders his thanks to Miss Sylvia Bowyer for kindly arranging three peals whilst he was on holiday in his native town of Ipswich. All the peals were successful, including Cambridge Maximus on Saturday. Miss Bowyer called the peal from the 2nd, the first time she had ever called a bob in Cambridge Maximus. It was a birthday compliment to Mr. H. R. Bowyer.

Yet another fresh Surprise method has been rung by the Hertfordshire band, who are vying with the Framlingham company in the number of new methods they are ringing. Sedbergh is the name given to the latest.

Sedbergh is the home of Mr. G. F. Woodhouse, an old Cambridge University Guild member and the inventor of a ringing machine, which he demonstrated at the last meeting of the Central Council at Leeds.

BARNSELY SOCIETY'S VETERAN PRESIDENT.

Mr. C. D. Potter, president of the Barnsley and District Society and a member of the Yorkshire Association for 45 years, reached his 80th birthday on September 2nd and received the good wishes and congratulations of a host of ringing friends.

On Saturday a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major was rung in his honour at Barnsley Parish Church and as a compliment to Mr. S. Panther and Miss Butterfield, who were married at the same church on September 1st. Mr. Panther is the youngest son of Mr. A. Panther, vice-president, and formerly secretary of the Barnsley and District Society. The composition of the peal, by Mr. George Lewis, was rung for the first time.

A peal of Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung at Henley, Suffolk, on August 31st. A large number of peals of Major have been rung in past years at Henley, where the Rev. W. C. Pearson is Vicar. On this occasion Superlative was attempted, but came to grief, and it was too late for one of the band to start again, owing to his distance from home. Mr. C. J. Sedgley therefore, also, kindly stood out, and seven 720's of Kent were rung, with Miss Sylvia Bowyer as conductor. Three of the band completed the series in the method, from Minor to Maximus.

Mr. James Bennett, calling a peal of Bob Major from the sixth at SS. Peter and Paul's Church, Bromley, Kent, on August 31st, 'completed the circle' to peals in this tower.

A peal in seven Surprise Minor methods was rung on August 31st with the bells half-muffled in memory of the late Bishop of Jarrow (Rt. Rev. Dr. J. G. Gordon), who was also Archdeacon of Durham. He was patron of the benefice of Holy Trinity, Darlington, and brother-in-law of the present Vicar. He was one of the patrons of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association. The peal was rung on the day of the late Bishop's interment at Durham Cathedral.

Enid Badder, of Oxford, has rung her first peal, one of Stedman Triples, at the age of 13 years.

After meeting short for Triples at Upton St. Leonards, Gloucestershire, on August 13th, a band rang a peal of ten six-scores of Grand sire and 32 of St. Dunstan's.

APATHETIC CONDUCTORS.

If peals are worth recording at all they are worth recording immediately they are rung. Primarily it should be the duty of the conductor to send a report of the peal to 'The Ringing World,' if he wishes it to appear and to be included in the Central Council statistics.

In some few cases, however, it seems to be left to association officials, who have had nothing to do with the ringing of the peal, to send the report for publication. The report of a peal rung at a Somerset church in June has just reached us through the branch secretary.

Mr. Frank Warrington, of Over, Cambs, rang his 250th peal on Friday at Hemingford Abbots, Hunts. Messrs. W. H. J. Hooton, C. W. Woolley and J. B. Woolley, who took part, were in Mr. Warrington's first peal, which Mr. Hooton conducted. Mr. Hibbins, who also rang last Friday, called Mr. Warrington's first peal of Major.

Mr. Warrington has rung 55 peals of Surprise Minor, including 36 of Cambridge, and, out of his total of 250, has called 168.

For the wedding of a Peckleton, Leicestershire, ringer, Mr. J. Cart, on Saturday, a peal of Grand sire Doubles was rung after the ceremony.

Mr. Fred G. Brett, of Canterbury, called a peal of Grand sire Doubles at Wickhambreux on Saturday and thus completed peals in the method from Doubles to Cinques.

The arrangements for the peal of Bob Major rung at Surfleet on Saturday were very kindly made for the benefit of the conductor (Mr. P. A. Corby). Double Norwich was first attempted, but was lost through a shift course after half an hour. The thanks of the band are due to Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Richardson for their hospitality.

Six of the band who took part in a peal of Stedman Caters at St. Magnus' Church, London Bridge, on Saturday, rang their first peal on ten bells.

The handbell peal of Little Bob rung at Burton-on-Stather, and recorded last week, took two hours 44 minutes, not three hours 44 minutes as printed. The error may, perhaps, be pardoned, as the peal was rung in a 'rest' week, and it was not altogether unreasonable, under the circumstances, to suppose that the ringers may have taken a nap or two 'en route.'

TWO DAYS IN HAMPSHIRE.

ST. MARTIN-IN-THE-FIELDS RINGERS' OUTING.

This year's two days' outing of the St. Martin-in-the-Fields ringers will always be remembered by those who took part for the warm welcome received at each of the places visited, and the members are grateful to all those gentlemen who contributed so much towards making their visit to Hampshire so enjoyable.

Southampton was reached in good time on Saturday, August 27th, and John Faithfull, a youthful guide, led the visitors to St. Mary's Church to sample the ten bells. Here they met Mr. G. Williams, who joined with them in a course of Cambridge Royal.

After lunch a short visit was paid to the noisy eight at St. Michael's Church before going on to Christchurch. In the evening Christchurch Priory twelve were set going to various methods and fully justified their good reputation.

The local hostelry was afterwards the scene of a very exciting 'doubles' darts match, and after a false start owing to the scorer shifting course, George and Jim were safely Steere(d) to victory.

Some of Sunday morning's service ringing was like the weather (?), but a visit to the bells and the view from the top of the tower were too good to be missed, and Mr. George Preston, to whom best thanks are due for excellent arrangements, was kept busy pointing out the places of interest.

Bournemouth did not look much like the railway station posters when the party arrived there after lunch, and rain continued to fall during almost the whole of their visit. However, this did not seem to dull anyone's spirits, and one of the party did some dodging on the front, but, being a bit slow at back, he was clipped by a wave, and wet feet were the result. Crowded restaurants because of the rain made tea a little difficult, but the party reaped a reward for their sufferings (?) when they visited St. Peter's tower to try the new peal of eight. They found a warm welcome and a 'de luxe' ringing chamber, and the splendid peal were made good use of. A very generous present in the form of a large basket of mushrooms was handed to the visitors on their departure from Bournemouth.

The homeward journey was uneventful until someone tried to open a metal capped bottle and then one or two of his immediate neighbours had a bath as well as a drink. With touches on the handbells the journey passed quickly, and London was safely reached. Mushrooms were the order for Monday's breakfast.

The methods rung during the outing were Grandsire Cinques, Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques, Bob Royal, Double Norwich, Cambridge Major and Royal, and an excellent course of Superlative on the back eight at Christchurch. Handbell ringing was restricted to Bob Major and Stedman Triples and some 'Queen's' and 'Tittums' Grandsire Triples.

A SCOTTISH RECORD.

INTERESTING CEREMONY AT GLASGOW.

An interesting ceremony, quite common in the South, but unique in Scotland, took place on Sunday morning in the belfry of St. Mary's Cathedral, Glasgow. This was the dedication of a peal tablet by the Archbishop of Capetown to record the ringing of a peal of Grandsire Caters on the occasion of the Coronation of their Majesties King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth.

Dr. Darbyshire pointed out that, as this was the first peal of Caters to be rung in Scotland by a local band, the first on the bells and the only peal rung in Scotland on that day, the occasion was one of historical interest in the annals of change ringing in Scotland.

In a simple service of dedication, prayers were included for the King and Queen and the Royal family, the Cathedral ringers and other ringers generally.

The ringers then stood to their ropes and rang a course of Caters.

Those present included the Very Rev. J. G. Murray, Provost of the Cathedral, and Mrs. Murray, Miss Darbyshire and members of the Vestry. An interested visitor was Mr. J. Murray, on holiday from Capetown. He was instructor in the tower 36 years ago, and incidentally took part in the only peal of Triples rung in South Africa some years ago.

Many of the visitors were paying their first visit to a belfry and expressed their pleasure and interest in the art of change ringing, and also at the absence of cobwebs, etc. Some of them, it is hoped, will come again. The members of the Cathedral Society are still trying to keep the handbells going at the exhibition, but last Saturday they were reduced to two plain courses of Grandsire Triples, and this with the assistance of two of the Kelham ringers, Messrs. A. Sargent and T. Brown, but the rain, says our correspondent, 'beat us to it.'

A FEW HOURS IN BRISTOL.

On Saturday a few ringers from the Newbury, Basingstoke and Reading districts paid a short visit to 'the City of Churches,' and rang at Holy Nativity, St. Ambrose's, Temple, St. Stephen's, St. Nicholas' and St. Mary Redcliffe. The methods rung were Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques, Grandsire Triples and Caters, Double Norwich Major, Kent Treble Bob Royal, and Cambridge Major and Royal. Every one of the party was delighted with the visit and the kind welcome they received. 'Old Timer' especially thanks all his 'dear old pals' for getting the towers open and rolling up to spend a few hours with him. He says the ringing was very good all the time, and if he says so—well, it was.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Under the reorganisation of the Middlesex Association this year, Mr. C. T. Coles, who is now sole general secretary, was relieved of the secretaryship of the North and East District. He has, however, quickly found himself back in his old job, for his district successor, Mr. G. R. Goodship, has had to relinquish the office on leaving the county.

The annual dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths is to be held on November 5th, and is to take place again at the Cannon Street Hotel.

Two well-known ringers from a populous London suburb spent last week-end in the country. They were awakened in the night by unusual sounds. 'What's that?' asked one, 'an owl?' 'No, you ass,' replied the other, 'that's a nightingale. Go to sleep.' Next morning they learned it was a cow in a neighbouring cowshed. They spent the later part of the day with the farmer. But we doubt if their education on rural life was improved a lot.

We are glad to say that Mr. Tom Miller, the Birmingham veteran, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is making good progress towards recovery and hopes to leave hospital in ten days or a fortnight.

The 'Six Bells' is an inn sign frequently met with, but the 'Six Ringers' must, we think, be unique. We read, however, that a copper sign, representing six ringers in the belfry of the village church, the idea of Sir Sidney Wells, Conservative M.P., has been made for the Six Ringers' Inn at Felmersham, Bedfordshire.

What is this we hear? Five Surprise method ringers, some of them Spliced Surprise men at that, last Saturday lost a peal of Grandsire Doubles. Tut, tut; how are the mighty fallen!

Although the completion of the central tower of Guildford's new Cathedral is a long way ahead, the first steps of the spiral staircase leading to the ringing chamber have been built into position, and were climbed on Sunday by some ringers who visited the building now beginning to appear on Stag Hill.

ASSOCIATION SECRETARIES.

The address of Mr. Leslie W. G. Morris, hon. secretary of the Yorkshire Association, is now 65, Lilycroft Road, Heaton, Bradford. Those who are preserving our list, published a fortnight ago, should make this amendment.

JOINT MEETINGS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I read with great interest your leading article on the value of joint meetings, and there are two points I wish to refer to. I agree with you that whoever first thought of holding such meetings did the Exercise a great service, and I believe the person who should have the credit is a well-known London ringer, Mr. William H. Hewett. There were, I think, one or two attempts before the war to popularise such meetings—I recollect at least one in Sussex—but they did not become general. In 1924, however, on the suggestion of Mr. Hewett, a joint meeting of adjoining districts of the Essex and Middlesex Associations was held at Waltham Abbey. Since then not a year has passed without a meeting between these two societies. Hertfordshire soon joined in, and during the last few years most of the societies operating in and around London have held many enjoyable joint meetings.

The other point is that a meeting has been arranged to be held on October 1st at St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, with the Royal Cumberland Youths and the Essex and Middlesex Associations participating. This will, to some extent, meet the suggestion made in your article, and personally I hope it will set an example. I regret I was unable to be present at the very successful meeting which inspired your article, but the date was that chosen by the St. Mary's, Walthamstow, Society for its annual outing.

C. T. COLES,

General Secretary, Middlesex Association.

CORNISH TOUR BEGINS TO-MORROW.

Seventeen peals have been arranged for the Cornish tour, which begins to-morrow. The object of three peals on some days is to include local ringers in some of the attempts. Headquarters are to be, first at Launceston and then at Truro. The following is the programme:—

Saturday, September 10th: Stokeclimsland (tenor 20 cwt.).

Sunday, September 11th: St. Stephen-by-Launceston (18 cwt.).

Monday, September 12th: Altarnon (St. Non) (11½ cwt.) and Cardinham (St. Menbredsus) (17 cwt.).

Tuesday, September 13th: St. Anthony (St. Antoninus) (12 cwt.), Helston (St. Michael) (12 cwt.), Kea (All Hallows) (12 cwt.).

Wednesday, September 14th: St. Mawgan (SS. Mauganus and Nicholas) (7 cwt.), Bodmin (St. Petrock) (15½ cwt.), Lanivet (St. Nyvett) (13½ cwt.).

Thursday, September 15th: Tuckingmill (All Saints) (10½ cwt.), Camborne (St. Martin) (17 cwt.), St. Enoder (St. Enodrus) (13 cwt.).

Friday, September 16th: One to be arranged, Truro Cathedral (St. Mary) (33½ cwt.).

Saturday, September 17th: Lanlivery (St. Bryveth) (16½ cwt.), Lanhydrock (St. Hydrock) (14½ cwt.).

LEADING CONDUCTORS—35.

GEORGE H. CROSS.

The present Master of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, Mr. George H. Cross, began his ringing career at a very early age, and was peal ringing before he was sixteen. He came right into the forefront of Norfolk ringing, and among a number of youthful enthusiasts put up some interesting performances.

Mr. Cross was born in Norwich on November 9th, 1893, and rang his first peal at St. John de Sepulchre's Church, in September, 1909, and his first as conductor in May, 1910, at the same church. This was a peal of Bob Major with the bells half-muffled for the funeral of King Edward VII. It was only his third peal, and he called it at a few hours' notice. He had already turned his attention to composition, and the second peal he rang was the first of his compositions to be rung. It was the first peal conducted by his late brother, Fred Cross. By the time he was seventeen George Cross called one of his own compositions for the first time, and with this peal finished the circle of the tower at St. John de Sepulchre, having rung a different bell on each occasion and having called four of the eight peals.

Another early exploit was the calling of a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major at St. Mary's, Saxlingham, in June, 1914, in which the average age of the band was only 18½ years. It was then the youngest band to ring a peal on eight bells, and all of them resided within nine miles of the church. That was in 1914, but two years before that Mr. Cross had conducted handbell peals of Bob Major and Royal, and Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major, each of them the first 'in hand' by all the band.

After the war, as Master of St. Peter Mancroft Guild, Mr. Cross got the ringing going again in this famous tower and revived some of the interest in peal ringing in the county. In 1920 he composed and conducted 7,136 Double Norwich, rung at St. Michael at Coslany, Norwich, which was then the longest peal in the method rung in the county of Norfolk. In 1921 he conducted the first peal of Stedman Caters rung by a local company at St. Peter Mancroft, and in 1923 composed and conducted a peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Royal at Aylsham, the first peal in the method by all, and rung without previous practice. This was the first peal in the method, rung in the county of Norfolk, since the peal rung on the old ten at St. Peter Mancroft in 1769, which was the first ever accomplished in the method.

After coming to London, Mr. Cross conducted the first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major by the Hertford County Association (the first in the method by all the band); the first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major rung by the Middlesex Association, which was also the first in the method rung in Essex: the first peal of Pudsey Surprise Major rung by the Middlesex Association, which was also the first in the county of Hertford; and the first peals of Yorkshire and Pudsey rung by the Royal Cumberlands. All these he also composed. He conducted the first peal of Rutland Surprise Major, and composed and conducted the first peal of Premier Surprise Major by the Kent County Association, the first in the method by all the band. He conducted the first peal of Stedman Cinques 'in hand' for the Kent County Association and by the Royal Cumberland Youths. He composed and conducted the first peal of Erith Little Bob Royal, which was rung on handbells, and the first peal of Bob Maximus 'in hand' rung by the Kent County Association by a band resident in Kent. He also composed and conducted the first peals of Double Norwich Major and Oxford Treble Bob Royal rung by the Kent County Association.

He took part in the first peals of Superlative Maximus and Cambridge Maximus rung for the Norfolk Guild, and the first peals of Cambridge Maximus for the Royal Cumberland Youths and the London County Association. He took part in three non-conducted peals, Double Norwich Major, Superlative Surprise Major and Cambridge Surprise Major, and in two 'George' peals. He has called one hundred peals of Double Norwich Major on tower bells, many of which have had qualities out of the usual. All these peals (with the exception of one which was composed by Robert Hardy at the age of 14, a ringer whom Mr. Cross assisted in teaching) he composed himself.

MR. GEORGE H. CROSS.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

WESTERN DIVISION'S BIG AREA.

The Western Division of the Yorkshire Association held a quarterly meeting at St. Peter's Church, Earlsheaton, on Saturday, and although the weather was not very promising, there was a fair attendance, about 40 members travelling from a wide area. As Earlsheaton is situated in what used to be known as 'the heavy woollen district' and is within easy access of numerous towers in that area, the support from the neighbouring towers can only be termed as disappointing. The Western Division covers a very wide area, embracing over 80 towers, so there must, of necessity, be a lapse of several years between the periodical visits of the association. The meetings are taken into each section of the division in turn, and members should consider it a matter of duty to support the meetings in their own area.

A splendid tea was provided by the local company in the Church Schools, at which over 30 members sat down. At the business meeting which followed, Mr. P. J. Johnson occupied the chair, supported by the association president (the Rev. Canon Marshall) and the Vicar of Earlsheaton (the Rev. H. M. Doidge-Harrison).

The Chairman, in proposing a vote of thanks to the Vicar and wardens for kindly granting the use of the bells, spoke of the great traditions of the Earlsheaton ringers, when they were famed throughout Yorkshire for the excellence of their striking.—This was ably supported by Canon Marshall.

The Rev. H. M. Doidge-Harrison, in replying, said it was a great privilege to welcome the association, and although he was quite bewildered and mystified by all he had seen and heard regarding change ringing, it was really a most curious but intriguing vocation. He was sure that it was part of a great tradition inherent in our English character, and it was that part of our English freedom which allowed the development of our various traditions which so mystified visitors to this country. He hoped the association would go on from strength to strength, developing this side of our English character, and that they would hand down their keenness to the new generation and endeavour to keep the spirit of comradeship alive.

Canon Marshall, in voicing the association's thanks to the local company for their splendid arrangements and to the ladies for waiting at the tea tables, said it was almost like coming home, as part of his early ministry was in the neighbouring districts. Everyone had made great efforts to entertain the association, and they were indeed very grateful for all that had been done to make the meeting so successful.—This was seconded by Mr. Traymor, of Mirfield.

Mr. Hemingway Dransfield, in acknowledging the thanks, spoke of the pleasure which they all had in entertaining the association, and said there would always be a hearty welcome at Earlsheaton for anyone interested in ringing. Although they were having a difficult time, they were doing their utmost to maintain a full company of ringers and would try and keep up the good example of those gone before. Speaking for the ladies who gave their services at the tea tables, he said that, although not actually connected with ringers, they had all enjoyed themselves and it had given them real pleasure.

Seven new members were elected as follows: Stanley H. Dobbie and Walter H. Dobbie of Sittingbourne, William Walker, of Ossett, Peter Aspinall, Philip Aspinall, Philip Moorhouse and George Kellett, of Lindley.

As it is some years since a meeting was held in the Bradford district, it was proposed to arrange the December meeting at Calverley, if possible, where there has never been a meeting of the Western Division.

A brief announcement regarding the Snowdon Dinner at Sheffield on October 8th, and a ladies' meeting at Bedale on September 17th, brought the meeting to a close.

While some of the members adjourned to the tower for further ringing, others enjoyed touches on handbells in Minor, Major and Caters methods. On the whole, a very successful meeting was enjoyed, and full use was made of the bells, which go extremely well. The towers represented during the day were as follows: Armley, Batley, Birstall, Bradford Cathedral, Brighouse, Denholme, Drighlington, Earlsheaton, Elland, Northowram, Headingley (St. Michael's and St. Chad's), Huddersfield, Keighley, Leeds, Lindley, Mirfield, Ossett, Ripponden, Rothwell, Shipley and Sowerby.

Altogether Mr. Cross has rung 540 peals, of which he has conducted 354. Among these he particularly values a peal of Double Norwich, conducted by A. G. Warnes, at Eye, in which no word was spoken other than the calls made by the conductor; a peal of Bristol Surprise Major, which Mr. Cross conducted at Framden, of which the last three-quarters of an hour was rung in darkness, and a peal of London Surprise at Helmingham, the first by all the band with the exception of himself.

Mr. Cross has served as hon. secretary of the Norwich District of the Norwich Diocesan Association, and later, under the changed title of the Norfolk Guild. Since coming to London he has been Master of St. Clement's Youths, and is now Master of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields Society. He has been a member of the Central Council since 1930, first as a representative of St. Clement's Youths and afterwards the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths.

ORIGIN OF ST. JAMES' SOCIETY.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—The St. James' Society was not founded, as so many people suppose, as a means by which the members of the two leading London societies could meet and practise together. If they had desired combined practices there was no earthly reason why they should not have held them, except the universal tradition which forbade any ringer to belong to more than one society, which in effect meant to more than one band. The definite rule of the College Youths, which forbade the members to belong specifically to the Cumberlands, and the corresponding rule of the other society, do not appear in the old codes of rules. I cannot say when they were first formally passed, but I believe it was not until long after 1850, so they have not (as is usually supposed) the sanction of long usage, although, of course, the spirit which prompted them is as old as the Exercise itself.

When the new Church of St. James, Clerkenwell, was built in 1791, a ring of eight bells was hung in the tower, and the belfry, for very many years, was the principal meeting place of the Society of Cumberland Youths. One of their leading members was John Hints, who was either the steeplekeeper or had a good deal of influence in the tower. He got together young men to teach them and to practise on nights when the regular ringers did not meet. Some of his pupils turned out good ringers, and as early as 1797 the St. James' Youths rang a peal of Grandsire Triples at Edmonton. There probably was no regular society at that time and the name was taken merely for the peal. In 1800 Hints formed a band which called itself the Westminster Youths, and rang several peals. Finally, in 1827, the St. James' Society was established as a regular company with officers, and, under the leadership of Thomas Tolladay, became the most active peal ringing band in London, though nearly all the performances were Grandsire Triples.

In all this the College Youths had neither part nor lot, but some years later, when Cox, Haley, Cooter and some other young members of both the old societies wanted to ring peals of Stedman on handbells and Double Norwich on tower bells, they found it convenient to ring them as St. James' Society peals. But neither the College Youths nor the Cumberlands recognised the St. James' Society as an equal, nor did either of them ever treat it as an opportunity for joint practice or intercourse.

'JAMES GREEN' ON THE ROAD.

'CAUGHT OUT' AT FARNHAM.

The gentleman who describes himself at James Green, coming from an address at Leominster, Herefordshire, whose methods we exposed in our last issue, had a surprise on Friday.

Earlier in the week he had succeeded in imposing on the charity of one Guildford Guild official. On Friday morning he called upon another at Farnham.

He began by saying he was from Leominster, Herefordshire, which place he left early on Thursday morning, and was making his way to Fareham, where he was getting employment in some printing works. Asked his name, his answer was 'Green, but I do not expect you would know anything about me.'

Then came the bombshell. 'Yes, I rather think I do, but not much to your credit,' was the reply, and 'Mr. Green' was then confronted with the paragraph in 'The Ringing World.' He was not, however, entirely at a loss and had the impudence to say he was not the man referred to, who must be another 'Green.'

His attention was then called to the place he said he came from and that he had the promise of employment of the same kind at Fareham instead of Horsham. However, when he still protested he was not the same man, the ringer he was interviewing told him he had had 26 years of police service and that had made him a pretty good judge of impostors. Mr. Green took his leave without even saying 'Good day.' Needless to say, he got no assistance from this source.

In case Mr. 'Green' adopts another name in other places, it may be added to his description given last week that he has got only two teeth in the front of the top jaw, both, apparently, eye teeth. These are very prominent and discoloured.

HUDDERSFIELD AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

HOPED FOR RESTORATION OF RIPPONDEN BELLS.

The monthly meeting of the Huddersfield and District Association took place at Ripponden on Saturday, August 27th, when members attended from Lindley, Halifax Parish Church, All Souls' (Halifax), Sowerby, Brighouse, Elland and Ripponden. There was only a small attendance, but the meeting proved most successful and was most enjoyable despite the very bad state of the bells.

The local ringers are making arrangements for an appeal for the restoration of the bells, and they are going to run it on the same lines as did the Lindley ringers when the latter raised that prodigious sum of over £300 almost unaided in a very short space of time.

At the business meeting, when the Rev. T. Mathieson took the chair, the practice meetings for the ensuing month were arranged. The Stedman practice, which had enjoyed a remarkable success at Lindley, was transferred to Huddersfield Parish Church, and the Treble Bob practice at All Souls', Halifax, which had to be discontinued, will be resumed at Halifax as a Stedman practice.

A SHROPSHIRE RESTORATION.

FIRST OVERHAUL FOR OVER 100 YEARS.

The bells of Chetton Church, Shropshire, have been restored by Messrs. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough Bell Foundry. The work included the recasting of the fourth as well as tuning and rehanging the rest. The money has been raised mainly through the efforts of the Rector, the Rev. Southwell, over £200 having been obtained towards the total cost of the restoration.

The dedication of the bells took place in the presence of a large congregation, and the bells were rung before service by ringers from St. Leonard's and St. Mary's, Bridgnorth.

In his address in the course of the service, the Rector gave an interesting account of the history of Chetton bells, whose records date back to 1599. Their bells, he said, had been heard that day for the first time since their return to the tower—after some years' partial and some weeks' total silence—after a complete and high-class restoration, the first, so far as they knew, for over 111 years. It had been a somewhat personal endeavour on his own part, especially as two brothers—Bishop Southwell and Lionel Southwell—were at Chetton. Each bell (the tenor weighs 13½ cwt.) bears the date 1827, a time when they were sent to Gloucester to the foundry of Rudhalls, a firm extinct over 100 years, but incorporated in a firm that still exists and was well known. There did not appear to have been any work of restoration other than that of a very minor character since 1827 until this year.

The tower was rebuilt in 1826, and the work carried out by Rudhalls was probably the recasting of six bells out of four previous ones. After quoting items from old church accounts from 1599 onward, it was obvious, continued the Rector, that inasmuch as no known work of importance had been carried out since 1827—a space of 111 years—it would naturally suggest that much of the work must have deteriorated, and an examination by experts of the belfry several years ago showed that that was the case, and a subsequent examination led to their having to stop ringing. Nothing was done, and that was why at last he decided to make an effort, and now that beautiful peal was such that all should be well for a generation to come. The work had been admirably done, and he had reason to hope they would obtain the maximum grant from the Church Building Society. The work done included the recasting of the fourth bell and retuning all, and while the framework was in excellent condition, it had been strengthened with angle-clamps and rods, and the bells now run on ball bearings. The fourth bell was cracked and had to be recast. On it, according to old custom, the names of the Rector and churchwardens for the time being are placed, and the new inscription reads: 'Praise the Lord that these bells were restored and this one recast in 1938.'

In conclusion the Rector welcomed the visiting ringers and hoped others would come in due course.

After the service, ringing took place, the ringers present including Messrs. B. Head, sen., W. Overton, J. Elcock, H. W. Overton, B. Head, jun., W. Head, J. Middleton, W. Hayward, H. Thomas, T. Tyler, S. Greatwich, J. Newsome, G. Tibbey (all of Bridgnorth), G. E. Oliver (Lichfield), W. Dudley (Chelmarsh), W. M. Jones (Chetton), W. Short (Clent), J. Bass, P. Richards and B. C. Ashford.

Following tea on the Rectory lawn, Mr. W. Jones expressed thanks to the Rector for what he had done for the Church and all that afternoon, and for entertaining the visitors.

The Rector expressed his thanks to all who had helped him in his task, and said how pleased he was at the response to his effort.

That the money had been well spent and the work carried out in excellent manner were the expressions of all the ringers present, and Chetton's parishioners have much to be grateful for and can now feel they have an excellent peal of bells—a thing which should encourage the younger generation to take up this fine art.

FAMILY JOY BELLS.

The wedding of Miss Doris Spice, only daughter of Mr. W. Spice, jun., of Tunstall, Kent, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Spice, sen., which took place on August 20th, was unique. The organist, the choir and the ringers, who took part in the ceremony, were all ringers. Touches rung for the occasion included 720 Cambridge Minor, 224 Cambridge Major, 224 Superlative Major, two courses of Double Norwich, several touches of Stedman and Grandsire Triples. A quarter-peal of Stedman was attempted, but this did not materialise. Those taking part in the ringing and singing were W. Spice, sen., W. Spice, jun., P. J. Spice, G. H. Spice, Mrs. G. Spice, J. Spice, Miss B. Spice, H. Spice, Mrs. E. H. Spice, W. J. Unwin (son-in-law) and B. Spice. The oldest and youngest members of the family were respectively 77 and 14 years of age.

SITUATION WANTED.

KEEN RINGER, 8, 10, 12 bells. Young married man seeks job, any capacity; experienced gardener, groundsman, or nursery work.—Box R., 'The Ringing World' Office, Lower Pyrford Road, Woking, Surrey.

A PRINCIPLE OF METHOD CONSTRUCTION

A SIMPLE EXPLANATION FOR BEGINNERS.

The study of change ringing is not confined to practice on the bells in the tower. A great deal can be learned by using pencil and paper. Here is a simple explanation of one of the principles of method construction written for the instruction of beginners, which those interested in the subject may find useful.

The plain hunting course can be produced on any number of bells; but for a moment let us look at it on five. With five bells, changes are produced by moving two pairs at a time. For example, first the two front pairs and then the two back pairs, which will give this sequence:—

	24153	Two back pairs
Two front pairs	42513

and so on until the bells come round after ten changes.

In addition to changing the pairs alternately, two in front, and two behind, it is also possible to change the pair in front and the pair behind, leaving the bell in the middle, or, as it is called, in 3rd's place, lying still for a whole pull, just as, when the two front pairs change, one bell remains a whole pull in 5th's place (or behind), and when the two back pairs are changed, one bell has to continue leading for a whole pull.

Methods of Doubles are constructed by the use of this 3rd's place. It changes the coursing order of the bells; that is, it alters the sequence in which they hunt up or down. Look for a moment at this:

24153
42513
45231

If, however, No. 1 makes 3rd's place, the treble, instead of going up behind, turns round and hunts back to lead.

12345
24153
41253

The 3rd's place can be made between any two rows, but here is a little problem which you may like to work out. Write out as many variations of the plain hunting course of ten changes as you can, inserting a 3rd's place between the 1st and 2nd rows (that is by producing the first change by 3rd's place), the 3rd and 4th, the 5th and 6th, the 7th and 8th, or the 9th and 10th, and also by using as many combinations as you can. Of course, you will not get rounds at the end in every case, but that does not matter.

When you have written out several of these courses and studied them carefully, you will begin to realise that there are some things which must happen. You will find that if you make 3rd's place between the first and second rows, that is, if you begin like this:—

you cannot make 3rd's place between the second and third rows, for if you do the bells will come round at once.

Similarly, if you make no place at all between the first and second rows, but do make 3rd's between the second and third rows, you cannot make 3rd's place between the third and fourth rows.

You will next notice that some of these 3rd's places are made at handstroke and some at backstroke and that when the handstroke 3rd's is made it causes the two hind bells to dodge, but that when the backstroke 3rd's is made it causes the two front bells to dodge.

Now there are two sorts of methods rung on five bells, one (like Grandsire) where the treble plain hunts continuously, and the other (like Stedman) where all the bells work alike. If you keep the treble a plain hunting bell you will find that there are only two positions where you can make a 3rd's place, one when the treble is hunting up and the other when the treble is hunting down. You can make either—

12345	or	12345
21354		21435
23145		24153
32415		42513
34251		45231
43521		54321
45312		53412
54132		35142
51423		31524
15243		13542

or you can make both places. Similarly, below the treble there are two positions where you can make 3rd's place (this time at backstroke).

There are 15 ways in which one or more of these places can be included in a lead. Write them all out and study them carefully. You will find that if you make all the four possible places, the bells will run round at the tenth change, that some of the combinations do not affect more than three of the bells, in which case a row will be produced which will repeat twice, and that some of the combinations affect four bells, in which case a row will be produced which will repeat once.

You have now got all the material out of which pure Doubles methods can be formed, and it includes both what are called plain leads and bob leads.

The plain leads are those in which the treble and one other bell are not affected by the places, and, by custom, that other bell is always the one which is coursing next after the treble (i.e., the second in the plain course). When we examine the leads we have written out we find that there are two of the 3rd's places which do not affect the treble and second—the first at handstroke when the treble is hunting up, and the other at backstroke when the treble is hunting down; so that either or both of these will give a plain lead. The first is Grandsire, the second is Reverse Grandsire and the third is Double Grandsire.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smoothes away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

'Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

LOST PEALS.

It is the uncertainty of peal ringing that adds so greatly to its fascination. If ringers could be certain of success in every peal they attempted, peal ringing would largely lose its interest and attraction. No one can compute the 'odds' upon success, for so many chances enter into ringing, chances beyond the control of the ringers, as well as the possibilities of the failure of the human element. Even the best planned efforts of the most proficient band may come to nought. If, in some kinds of sport, it can be said that a game is never lost until it is won, it is not wholly true of ringing. In most pastimes a contest may be saved even after a series of setbacks, but once a peal has gone it has gone for ever. It is the uncertainty that makes it attractive; the striving after success is more important than the success itself.

If it were possible to compile statistics it would be extremely interesting to know how many peal failures there are. We get full information of all the successes, and for more than fifty years now there are tabulated records. But of attempts, some of them more valiant and commendable than many successful achievements, we hear little or nothing. A few years ago, in the Oxford Guild, an effort was made to compile a list of lost peals, but nothing reliable ever came of it, and the attempt to collect information was abandoned. There is, it would seem, a reluctance to put failures on record, but probably this information, if it were accurately compiled, would be an even better basis upon which to judge the progress of ringing than the catalogue of peals that are rung. The causes of failure would be immensely interesting; they are so many and varied that statistics would be as informative as the analysis tables of peals which the Central Council publishes every year.

With the co-operation of all conductors, there ought to be no difficulty in every association compiling a list of lost peals and the causes thereof in which their members are concerned. Only brief particulars would be required. The date, the place, the method, the time and the cause of the breakdown are all that are needed, and it would involve only a penny postcard and the briefest amount of time. But to make the records complete it would require in addition a loyal observance on the part of all conductors. We feel sure, however, that the information could be even more useful to associations than the details of the peal successes. Associations know what peals have been rung, but they never get any comprehensive knowledge of where peals have been attempted, what bells have been used for the purpose, or how much effort their members actually put into this side of their activities. information would also be a guide to the reasons of failure and lead in some instances, perhaps, to rectifying the causes. A scheme to collect the information, however, must be carried out wholeheartedly by all concerned, if it is to be a success and serve a real purpose. It must be regarded as important to record failures as to record the successes. Treated in that way it would prove a valuable departure.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.*NORTH AND EAST DISTRICT SECRETARYSHIP.

A change in the secretaryship of the North and East District was foreshadowed when, at a meeting at Pinner on Saturday, September 3rd, the chairman (Mr. G. W. Fletcher) announced the resignation of Mr. G. R. Goodship, who had left the county and removed to Great Missenden for business reasons. Mr. Fletcher referred to the presence in the secretarial chair of Mr. C. T. Coles, who, he said, had stepped into the breach, but it would be necessary for members to do some thinking during the next few months, so that at the district annual meeting in January a new secretary could be appointed.

Mr. Goodship, he said, had sent his apology for his absence from this meeting, and had tendered his resignation, which they had no alternative but to accept with regret, and with their sincere thanks to Mr. Goodship for his many years of work as assistant secretary and latterly as hon. secretary.

Mr. Coles said that, of course, he was quite agreeable to act as district secretary until the next annual meeting, but it was essential that they should find another, and, he thought, a younger member, for this work.

Other business transacted at the meeting was the confirmation of the elections of the Rev. A. S. Roberts (Palmer's Green) and Miss E. J. C. Angwin (Truro), made prior to ringing a peal at Edmonton on August 13th.

The arrangements for the next meeting were left in the hands of the general secretary, who announced the holding of a practice meeting at St. Giles', Cripplegate, on Wednesday, September 21st, and a joint meeting with the Royal Cumberland Youths and the Essex Association at St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, on October 1st.

The usual votes of thanks were accorded to the Rev. E. Barnes for the use of the bells, and to Mr. H. Pendry for making the very necessary arrangements; in this case, said the chairman, made doubly difficult owing to the absence of any definite information as to the number attending, and the subsequent catering arrangements.—Mr. Pendry briefly acknowledged the vote of thanks.

Some 40 or more members attended during the afternoon, and a great many touches in a large number of methods from Grandsire Triples to Bristol Surprise were rung, under the guidance of Mr. T. J. Lock (District Master). A touch of Spliced Surprise in four methods, however, failed to come round properly, some of the band trying to ring Bristol, whilst others rang 'That's all.'

It was regretted that a service which was arranged had to be abandoned at the request of the Vicar, who, however, came in at tea time to offer his apologies to the secretary.

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY.*ACKWORTH BELLS NEED OVERHAULING.

The September meeting of the Barnsley and District Society was held at Ackworth on Saturday, when 16 members were present from Arksey, Barnsley, Badsworth, Earlsheaton, Felkirk, Sandal, South Kirby, Wath, Wentworth and two visitors from Leeds district. There was ringing during the afternoon, followed by tea.

At the business meeting, with Mr. W. Moxon (vice-president) in the chair, three new members were elected, and Cawthorne was chosen for the next place of meeting, to be held on Saturday, October 15th.

After the usual vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens, further ringing continued in a variety of methods, but at 8.15 p.m. everyone present had had enough. The bells are a mixed lot and are in a very bad condition. If they were examined by a competent authority they would be lucky to escape 'the condemned cell.' Nevertheless, although the bells are bad, it was a very happy gathering.

BELLS RESTORED AT SALFORD.*ROPE TROUBLE MARS OPENING RINGING.

At the Sacred Trinity Church, Salford, on Sunday evening, the Rector (the Rev. Richard L. Hussey, Hon. C.F.) rededicated the bells with a delightful service in the belfry, many ringing friends and visitors being present.

The Rector, having commended the bells to the service of God and the church, said, 'Let the sound of these bells be now heard,' and immediately local members, augmented by ringers from Manchester Cathedral, opened with rounds and Queens.

Further ringing took place after the service, and it had been hoped to put on record the first opening touch of 350 Grandsire Triples, conducted by R. Langden. Unfortunately, however, it had to be brought round owing to rope trouble. After readjustments, a second attempt was made, but before the first course was completed the rope of the 5th bell collapsed. This, however, did not damp the ringers' spirits, and touches of Bob Minor and Stedman Doubles were rung with a cover bell in each case, conducted by A. Ridyard.

During ringing the Rector escorted members of the congregation and choirboys to the belfry, many staying behind, maybe to satisfy themselves, for the Rector had made a strong appeal during his sermon for the young men of the parish to join in and help keep the band alive.

On learning of the mishap to the ropes, the Rector revisited the belfry and thanked all those who took part in the service. He regretted that mishap had happened, but gave support to the recommendation already made for a new set of ropes.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

To-day is Mr. William H. Fussell's 77th birthday. He will have the congratulations and good wishes of a host of ringing friends throughout the world. In addition to being the only man who has rung a peal in every county in England and Wales, he was, of course, the promoter of the tour to Australia four years ago, when, by the way, he spent his birthday on the Bay of Biscay.

He very nearly spent to-day at sea, and would have done so had not Slough's incorporation festivities demanded his presence, as one of the oldest inhabitants, to take part in some of the ceremonies.

Congratulations and good wishes also to Mr. Robert Brundle, of Ipswich, who will be 87 years of age on Sunday. He still rings at St. Mary-le-Tower Church.

In September issue of 'Apollo,' the well-known art journal, there appears a fine article on 'Bells and Gongs of Old Japan.' It is written by Ernest Morris, of St. Margaret's, Leicester, and beautifully illustrated by a number of excellent photographs.

St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was founded as the Society of St. Martin's Youths in 1755, and on September 16th of that year—183 years ago to-day—they rang their first peal, a 5,040 of Bob Major at St. Philip's Church, now the Cathedral.

Recent reference in this column to Mr. Charles Wilkins, who was formerly a very active ringer in London, has brought us news of another old Cumberland Youth, Mr. Albert Pittam.

In the days when Arthur Jacob and George Newson were almost invariably on the 7th and tenor in peals of Major, Albert Pittam was almost as invariably on the 6th. He rang this bell at Romford to the then record length of 13,440 Double Norwich on April 18th, 1894.

Mr. Pittam also took part in the first peal of London Surprise rung by a London band on May 18th, 1895, at St. James', Clerkenwell. Mr. Wilkins rang in both these peals.

Mr. Pittam now lives at Little Milton, near Oxford, and his old friends will extend to him their greetings and good wishes.

In the review of Mr. John Thomas' career in our article on September 2nd, an error crept in. The first tower-bell peal by married couples was rung at Epsom and not Edmonton.

FREEMASONRY.

On Tuesday, September 6th, the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, P.P.G.C., was, for the second time, installed as Worshipful Master of King's Court Masonic Lodge, Gillingham, Dorset. Among members of the ringing fraternity present at the ceremony were Wor.Bro. Rev. A. D. H. Allan, Wor.Bro. A. F. Martin Stewart, Wor.Bro. A. Prince, Bros. Rev. C. A. Phillips, W. A. Cave, A. E. Coles and S. Braddick. At the banquet following, the W.M. 'took wine' with those of his brethren who were bellringers.

WATFORD RINGER'S DEATH.

We much regret to record the death of Mr. William J. Norris, of the St. Mary's, Watford, band. Although not well known as a peal ringer, Mr. Norris had the highest sense of duty regarding Sunday service ringing and was seldom absent or late—a splendid example to the younger generation.

In addition to his ringing, he was connected with St. James' Church, Watford, where among many activities he held the office of churchwarden. His Sunday was, therefore, fully occupied, and at the conclusion of ringing he always had to hurry off to St. James'. He will be greatly missed at Watford.

It was a great disappointment to all concerned that a half-muffled peal attempt on the evening of the funeral was not successful.

DR. G. W. SLACK MARRIED.

Dr. G. W. Slack was married on July 30th at St. Osmund's Roman Catholic Church, Salisbury, to Miss R. C. Bonney (Sister Bonney), of Ulverston. Dr. Slack is the composer of the two-part peal of Stedman Triples, which, as recorded last week, has just been rung for the first time. As a compliment to him upon his marriage, a quarter-peal of Grandshire Triples was rung at St. Martin's Church, Salisbury, for evensong on July 31st. Dr. Slack was the composer and conductor, and his father, Mr. G. W. Slack, took part in the ringing, which was done by R. Lowe 1, G. W. Slack 2, J. Thompson (first quarter-peal on an 'inside' bell) 3, A. Fry 4, W. A. Romain 5, Dr. G. W. Slack 6, J. E. Figgures 7, W. Chalk 8.

COLLEGE YOUTHS ENTERTAINED BY MASTER.

The London members of the Ancient Society of College Youths spent an enjoyable Saturday afternoon recently as the guests of the Master and Mrs. Lewis at Moorcocks, Brasted, Kent. A special coach left St. Paul's Cathedral at midday, calling at Wrotham and Seale for ringing, arriving at Brasted at about 5 o'clock, where an excellent tea was in readiness. By a lucky chance the day chosen happened to be the anniversary of Mrs. Lewis' birthday, and on behalf of the visitors the secretary made a small presentation as a mark of their appreciation. On leaving for home, Miss Lewis presented each member of the party with a large bunch of flowers from the gardens.

HARRY WINGROVE.

Although he rang his first peal 22 years ago, it was not until nine years ago that Mr. Harry Wingrove, of Beaconsfield, Bucks, scored his first peal as conductor. He was born at Beaconsfield on March 12th, 1893, and learned to handle a bell in the village church in 1910. Ever since, except for the war period, he has been a regular Sunday service ringer at Beaconsfield.

The local band, as in so many other places, had to be re-formed after the war, and Mr. Wingrove has made a point of getting recruits each year. Often it has been an uphill struggle, and at times the band has been reduced to ringing call changes on six bells; but the reward is now being reaped, for Beaconsfield has a band that rings methods up to Cambridge Surprise Major for the Sunday services.

Mr. Wingrove's first attempt for a peal was in 1913, when Grandsire Triples came to grief after 2½ hours. Curiously enough he has since rung only one peal of Grandsire Triples, which was at Hughenden in 1923.

His first peal success was in his own tower at Beaconsfield in October, 1916, when he took part in a half-muffled peal of Oxford Bob Triples in memory of two of the Beaconsfield ringers who had been killed in France. His first peal as conductor was Cambridge Surprise Major, at Old Windsor in October, 1929. He has now rung 366 peals, from Minor to Maximus, in 15 counties, but more than 300 of the peals have been rung for the Oxford Diocesan Guild. The peals which he has conducted number 112, 105 of them for the Oxford Guild. He has rung peals in 17 different Surprise methods and conducted peals in all but one of them. Some of these methods have been rung for the first time, and some for the first time for the Oxford Guild.

At Tanfield he conducted the first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major for the Durham and Newcastle Association, and at Caythorpe, Lincs, the first peal of Lincolnshire Surprise Major for the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, these peals being rung, of course, while with a touring band. He has taken part in four non-conducted peals, two of Cambridge Surprise Major, one of Yorkshire Surprise Major and one of Stedman Triples, and among his other peals of interest have been one of Double Norwich, the first in the method rung at Beaconsfield by the local band; the first peal of Beaconsfield Surprise Major, rung at Beaconsfield, in which four members of the local band took part; and a peal of Newcastle Surprise Major, at Hughenden, named and rung as a compliment to the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association. All these Mr. Wingrove conducted.

Mr. Wingrove has organised peals in the district on most Saturdays for some years past, and the measure of success that has been attained has been due to the good fellowship which prevails in the band.

HEREFORDSHIRE VETERAN HONOURED.

WHITBOURNE BAND'S LONG SERVICE TOGETHER.

At Whitbourne, Herefordshire, on Wednesday, August 31st, as a birthday compliment to Mr. R. J. Caswell, who attained the age of 70 years, a quarter-peal of Doubles in three different methods (Canterbury, Plain Bob and Grandsire) was rung: J. H. Griffiths 1, S. Lewis 2, E. Jones 3, G. Jones 4, R. J. Caswell 5, W. Morris 6. G. Soley conducted the quarter-peal, but was too poorly to take a rope.

All the above, except the ringer of the 3rd, have rung at Whitbourne Parish Church together for 30 years.

Before commencing the quarter-peal, the ringers were kindly entertained to supper at the Rectory by the Rev. W. H. C. and Mrs. Stainer in honour of the occasion.

Mr. Caswell thanked the Rector and said that he would continue in the work of the church as long as he lived.

MR. HARRY WINGROVE.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD.

GAWSWORTH BACK IN MACCLESFIELD BRANCH.

The Macclesfield Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild was favoured with excellent weather for the ringing meeting at Gawsorth on Saturday last, and this factor assisted in making this one the most successful held, no less than 36 members, and friends from Crewe, Manchester and Knutsford, being present.

The fine peal of eight bells, which sound particularly sweet when one stands at the other side of the water outside the church, were set going to changes shortly after 3 p.m., and a good touch of Stedman Triples was brought round prior to the Guild service, which was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. S. Stephens.

The Rector prefaced a very interesting address by extending a hearty welcome to the ringers, and referred to the office that each and every ringer holds in church life which is apt to be overlooked in some cases. The Rector also mentioned the great number of methods and changes which could be rung, emphasising the all important point of striking a bell in its exact place. Although not a regular ringer now, the Rector went on to speak of the time when both he and his wife were Sunday service ringers at Gawsorth, and referred to service ringing as an act of worship.

After tea a short business meeting was held. The Rector had been an honorary member of the Guild for some time, but owing to shortage of ringers the Gawsorth band temporarily left the Guild and the Rector felt he ought to lapse his membership as well. However, the Gawsorth tower now has a promising band of ringers, who were back again in the Guild, and the secretary took this opportunity to propose the Rector's re-election as an honorary member of the Guild after obtaining that gentleman's consent. This was seconded by Mr. Taylor and received by the meeting with enthusiasm.

It was brought to the notice of the meeting that the Stockport Branch had given a cordial invitation to their Disley meeting on September 24th in exchange for the hospitality extended to them at Bollington in July. Attention was also drawn to the fact that the next meeting of the Macclesfield Branch will be held at Chelford on Saturday, November 12th, whilst the first annual dinner of the Guild is to take place at Crewe on Saturday, October 15th.

A vote of thanks to the Rector for presiding at the meeting and for conducting and arranging the service was proposed by Mr. Slack, seconded by Mr. Taylor, after which further use was made of the bells until 8.30 p.m., when the gathering dispersed.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD.

A VISITOR FROM CANADA.

The quarterly meeting of the Dudley and District Guild was held on Saturday, September 3rd, at All Saints' Church, Sedgley, Staffs, where the fine old peal of bells, placed at the disposal of the visitors, were kept merrily going. Service in church was attended by a good muster of members, the usual Guild form being used. The assistant priest (the Rev. — Larkin) officiated and gave a very instructive address.

A substantial tea was served in the Schoolroom, and the usual business meeting followed. The Ringing Master (Mr. Alfred Davies) occupied the chair as the Rev. Larkin had to leave to fulfil another engagement. Before his departure, however, he said how pleased he was to be with the Guild that afternoon. He wished the Guild every success.

It was proposed to hold the next quarterly meeting at Old Hill, subject to the usual consent of the Vicar and local ringers being obtained.

Mr. Thomas Cox, of Halesowen, and Mr. Albert Cope, of Coseley, were elected members of the Guild, and it was also decided to attempt the quarterly peal at Sedgley, the usual arrangements being left with the Ringing Master.

A welcome visitor to the tea and meeting was Mr. A. C. Swindell (son of the late Vicar of Sedgley, the Rev. Dr. Swindell), who had been invited to join the members by the respected towerkeeper, Mr. Ben Fullwood. Mr. Swindell gave a brief but interesting account of the ringing done in Canada, from which country he had just returned after 35 years' residence there.

The Ringing Master proposed and Mr. P. Hemmings seconded a vote of thanks to the Vicar of Sedgley (the Rev. H. Marley) for his kindness in giving permission to hold the meeting at Sedgley and for the use of the tower and bells; also to the Rev. Larkin for conducting the service and for his address in the absence of the Vicar, who is on holiday. Thanks were also accorded to Mr. Marsh for presiding at the organ, to the donors of the tea, and to the ladies for preparing and serving the meal. The Guild is always well treated at Sedgley, where Mr. and Mrs. Fullwood look after their welfare and comfort. Further ringing took place in the evening.

SITUATION WANTED.

PEAL NOTES.

THE GLOUCESTERSHIRE TOUR.

The party of twelve, who made a peal ringing tour in Gloucestershire last week scored eleven successes in their fourteen attempts. They rang one peal of Stedman Cinques, two peals of London Surprise Major, two of Bristol, two of Cambridge, one of Yorkshire, one of Superlative and two in four Spliced Surprise Major methods.

Neither of the three peals lost was the fault of the ringers. At Stroud, on the Monday morning, a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Royal had been going 2½ hours when the wire holding one of the clock hammers broke and let the hammer back on to the second.

On Wednesday morning at Prestbury the tenor rope broke, after an hour and a half of Cambridge Major; and at Tewkesbury Abbey on Friday afternoon, in another attempt for Yorkshire Royal, the tenor became unringable after an hour and a quarter. Inspection showed that the bearings were dry. Restoration work is going on on the tower, and the bells seem to have been neglected. The visitors had spent three-quarters of an hour in giving attention to the ropes before they began ringing.

Cambridge University Guild concluded on Saturday their annual week of ringing, which took place this year in the west. They scored five peals, including a handbell peal, the tower-bell peals being rung at St. Briaveis, Gloucestershire; Clifford, Herefordshire; Llanfagan, Breconshire; and Lugwardine, Herefordshire.

After the peal at Prittlewell on Saturday, the tenor man asked, rather indignantly, 'How long was that, about 7,000?' On checking the figures the conductor found that 5,184 changes had been rung, not 5,040 as had been intended. The tenor man was probably still more indignant when he found that the extra time meant his just missing a train, and finding, at 12.30 a.m., that his only means of getting home was to walk a distance of about 13 miles.

The peal of Bob Major rung at Chiddingfold, Surrey, on Saturday, was arranged as a dual wedding compliment. On the preceding Saturday the wedding had taken place at Chiddingfold of Mr. A. C. Bartlett (son of Mr. A. J. Bartlett, captain of the local band) and Miss Jean Swanton, while on Saturday Mr. Raymond Overy, now of Haywards Heath, Sussex, was married at Haslemere at the church where he learned to ring. Before starting for the peal at Chiddingfold, most of the band took part in the wedding ringing at Haslemere.

Mr. Alec R. Wardman rang his first peal on September 8th, the treble to four methods of Doubles, at Wigmore, Herefordshire. It was arranged as a compliment to him for his assistance to the local band.

A peal of Stedman Caters at Beddington on Saturday enabled Mr. F. E. Collins to complete peals on all the bells in the tower twice over.

Messrs. Roland and Norman Park, of Darlington, Co. Durham, spent a week's holiday in ringing in Notts, Staffs and Leicestershire. They rang a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Loughborough Bell Foundry on September 6th, Stedman Triples at Burton-on-Trent on the 7th, and the following day took part in a peal of Double Norwich at St. Peter's Church, Nottingham.

Mr. W. J. Nevard, of Great Bentley, Essex, took part in a peal of Minor at Great Bromley on Saturday. He first rang in that tower in January, 1882.

The birthday of Miss Ida Thompson, of Nottingham, hon. secretary of the Sherwood Youths, and a district secretary of the Ladies' Guild, was celebrated on Saturday by a peal of Grandsire Triples at Daybrook.

YOUTH AND AGE.

Youth and age participated in a peal of Minor in seven methods at Acle, Norfolk, on Saturday. Brenda Bayles, aged 14 years, rang the treble, and her brother, Denis, aged 16, rang the 9½ cwt. tenor. In the band, also, was Mr. John R. Wilkinson, aged 73. The peal was called by Denis Bayles, and for all three of the ringers mentioned it was the first extents of Double Oxford, Double Court and Oxford Treble Bob, except that Denis had previously rung the treble to the last named. Altogether it was a good performance. The peal celebrated the silver wedding of the Rector of Acle and Mrs. Williams.

To welcome the new Rector of Draycott, Staffordshire, members of the North Staffs Association rang a peal of Grandsire Doubles there on August 30th.

The keen young band at East Budleigh, Devon, achieved a well-merited success on September 6th, when, with Mr. C. R. Lilley as conductor, they scored a peal of Grandsire Doubles, which, for four of them, was their first peal. The striking was excellent and it is hoped they will now go on to Minor methods.

This peal at East Budleigh was the third peal of Grandsire Doubles called by Mr. Lilley in a week, the others being the first peal on the bells at Kenn, arranged for Mr. J. Powlesland, of Lytchett Matravers, Dorset, and a peal at Upton Pyne. A curious coincidence about these three peals was that in each case the fifth and tenor were rung by brothers belonging to the local tower.

Three members of the Hinckley District of the Midland Counties Association rang a handbell peal of Doubles in three methods on September 7th at Burbage, Leicestershire. It was a case, part of the time at any rate, of Stedman at 'Stedman,' for one of the methods was Stedman and the house in which the peal was rung is named after the method (or the man).

The peal of Grandsire Triples at Blandford, Dorset, on September 7th, was arranged for the Rev. J. E. L. Tredennick, who was staying in Bournemouth. Messrs. C. F. Turner and S. E. Andrews were brought in to complete the band, and great credit is due to them for the manner in which they rang after a lapse of many years.

To celebrate the 79th birthday of Mr. Samuel Tooke, father of Mr. Henry Tooke, of Wymondham, Norfolk, a peal of Double Norwich was rung at that church on September 5th.

Mr. Lewis Bywaters rang his 70th peal when that fine old Bedfordshire stalwart, Mr. Charles W. Clarke, called a peal in seven Minor methods at Sharnbrook on September 3rd.

Three peals in three days were rung in Breconshire, arranged for Messrs. Leslie Evans and William J. Preece, of Herefordshire, who were visiting Telgarth.

The first, rung on September 3rd, was the first peal of Bob Minor on the bells. The next, on Sunday, September 4th, was Grandsire Triples at Glasbury-on-Wye. It was Mr. H. T. Chandler's 25th peal, and celebrated the centenary of the back six bells, cast in 1838 by Jeffries and Rice, of Bristol. This firm cast bells between the years 1832 and 1854. The third peal was in two methods of Doubles at St. David's, Brecon. Quite a successful little excursion.

Mr. Walter Ayre rang his 225th peal as conductor when he called the first peal in 24 Surprise Minor methods for the Herts County Association and all the band, at Apsley End, on September 25th. There were 103 changes of method in the course of the peal and it was rung at the first attempt. It looks as if Lincolnshire and Cheshire have a serious rival in the South.

IN MEMORY OF FORMER COLLEAGUES.

Eight members of the General Committee of the Yorkshire Association paid a tribute to four of their former colleagues, who have passed away during this year, by ringing a half-muffled peal of Superlative Surprise Major at St. Chad's, Headingley, on Saturday. The four deceased members were Messrs. F. Clark, hon. secretary of the Southern Division, A. E. West and B. E. Webb, former vice-presidents, and F. Hoopwood, formerly secretary of the Western Division.

This was the first peal of Surprise by a band composed entirely of officers of the Yorkshire Association. The name of the president, Canon C. C. Marshall, should be associated with this performance, as he was the prime mover, but was prevented by illness from taking part in the peal. The band wish to thank Canon Marshall for placing his bells at their disposal and for his kind hospitality after the peal.

Mr. John Wheeldon, of North Staffs, has been a ringer for over 50 years, and a peal of Bob Major in his honour was rung at Longton, Staffs, on Saturday. Mr. Edward Steele completed the circle in this tower to peals.

A peal of Plain Bob and Grandsire Doubles on Saturday at Ticknall, Derbyshire, to celebrate the coming of age of Mr. C. A. Jenney, of Calke Abbey, was rung by a local band, except for Mr. J. Hough. Two members rang their first peal, and it was only the second peal by the conductor, Mr. F. Hulse. After the peal the ringers were entertained to tea and congratulated by Mrs. H. E. H. Mosley and Mrs. Jenney.

Mr. Maurice Swinfield, who has called so many different compositions of Stedman Triples, conducted a new one of his own, an irregular twenty-part, at Burton-on-Trent on September 7th, on the occasion of a visit of Messrs. Roland and Norman Park.

A correspondent made an error in his reference to the peal at Barnsley rung on September 3rd. It was for the wedding of Mr. S. Panther and Miss Procter (not Miss Butterfield), who were married at St. George's Church (and not St. Mary's Church), Barnsley, on September 1st.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD.

NORTHERN BRANCH AT LOUTH.

A meeting of the Grimsby District of the Northern Branch was held at Louth on Saturday, September 3rd. The weather was far from pleasant, but a fair number of ringers turned up, the following towers being represented: Burton-on-Stather, Burton-on-Humber, Bighy, Alford, Grimsby, Mablethorpe, Scunthorpe, Ulceby, Waltham and the local members, with ringing friends from Lincoln and Treeton. The grand peal of eight, with its 30 cwt. tenor, was kept going during the afternoon and evening.

The service was conducted by the Rev. John Swaby (curate), who in the course of his address welcomed the members to Louth. The Guild service was heartily sung, Mr. Macrow kindly presiding at the organ.

After service members adjourned to Hanson's Cafe for tea, 30 sitting down. In the absence of the president (Ven. Archdeacon Parry), the Rev. J. Swaby was voted to the chair.

Mr. T. Ivory, of Louth, was elected as a performing member. The Chairman referred to the presence of Mr. G. Foster, of Louth, who for many years was a ringer of the Parish Church and also a sidesman—Mr. Foster said how glad he was to be amongst them. He first joined the Guild in 1888. The steps were now too many for him to climb, so he had to content himself with staying down below.

The collection for the District Bell Fund amounted to 7s. 0½d.

Mr. J. Bray proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells; to the Rev. John Swaby for conducting the service and for his excellent address; to the organist and caterers; and Mr. A. E. Hoodless and others, who had kindly made the arrangements. The motion was seconded by Mr. E. Brittain and carried with acclamation.

The Rev. J. Swaby, in responding, said they had not at Louth many members in the Guild, but he hoped they would soon have more.

Further ringing then took place and the bells were lowered at 8.30 p.m. after another pleasant meeting.

ELEMENTARY METHOD CONSTRUCTION.*MINOR BUILDING FOR BEGINNERS.

The construction of Minor methods is more complicated than Doubles, for the reason, of course, that there are six bells instead of five, which not only multiplies the number of changes obtainable, but also extends enormously the ways in which methods can be produced.

To go extensively into this, however, would not only require much more space than is available for this article, but would take it outside the scope of an elementary explanation for beginners.

Methods of Doubles and Minor have one thing in common in their construction, as have methods on all numbers of bells—the basic rule is to change as many pairs of bells as possible each time a move is made. In Doubles, two pairs of bells can be moved at each change. In Minor there are three pairs of bells, but, while they can all be moved at one change, they cannot all be moved at the next, otherwise, of course, the previous change will be reproduced. Therefore, in Minor the basis of construction is the movement of three pairs of bells and two pairs of bells alternately, thus:—

Three pairs	123456
Two pairs	214365
Three pairs	241635
Two pairs	426153
Three pairs	462513

and so on. If this process is continued, the complete hunting course comes back to rounds in twelve changes. It will be noticed in this illustration that when two pairs only are changed, they are consistently the middle pairs, with the bell in front and the bell behind remaining in position.

But a moment's thought will show that there are other means of changing two pairs; it need not necessarily be the bell in front and the bell behind that 'lie still.' It can be first and second, or first and fourth; or third and sixth, or fifth and sixth, as well as first and sixth; and in addition there is another pair that can lie still, namely, 3rd and 4th, leaving the movement to be effected by the front and back pairs. Here in figures are the various ways in which the changes are affected by the different pairs of bells:—

124365	132465	132546
123456	123456	123456
213546	214356	213465

Without going into the possibilities of substituting the movement of two pairs only where movement of three pairs normally takes place, it will be seen that the substitution of one or other of the transpositions given above, when a two-pair move has to be made, enables a tremendous variety of methods to be produced.

The simpler methods are those which maintain the treble as a plain hunting bell throughout. This puts a certain amount of limitation upon what can be done, especially when coupled with another recognised condition of construction, that there must be a 'place' made (that is, a bell lying still) when the treble is hunting down to correspond exactly with any place made when the treble is hunting up.

If no place is made when the treble is hunting up or down, there must be a place made when the treble leads, or the bells will come round.

In the first example following we see the treble hunting up and down without a place; in the second we see a place made (in 4th's) as it hunts up and a corresponding one as it hunts down.

123456	123456
214365	214365
241635	241356
426153	423165
462513	432615
645231	346251
654321	364521
563412	635412
536142	653142
351624	561324
315264	516342
132546	153624

Now, unless a place is made in the first, when the treble completes its lead, the next change will be rounds. The second example, however, does not necessarily need a place made in order to carry it on. If bell No. 3 lies still in the first you get this:—

132546
153624

If no bell lies still in the 2nd you get

The 2nd's place in the former is really a connecting link between the successive leads which make the plain course; and while in the second example it is not imperative to have this link, it can nevertheless be inserted and the same plain course constructed with the leads in a different order. In the same way, if a bell lies still in 5th's place when the treble is behind, it forms a similar connecting link and the same changes are produced, but again in a different order.

Thus you have these facts. Different places made when the treble is hunting up or down will produce different sets of changes for a plain course; fifth's place, as an addition, when the treble is behind, or 2nd's when it is in front (or both 5th's and 2nd's), will produce the same set of changes in the plain course, but in differing orders.

DON'T SCRUB YOUR HANDS!

skin this simple way*

To many people, the problem of getting the hands really clean without harming the skin is a serious one. Grease and grime, which become deeply ingrained into the pores of the skin, are extremely difficult to remove, and ordinary washing with soap or even scrubbing will fail to remove them completely. Housewives, particularly, who complain that their hands get ruined by the nature of their work, will find the preparation called DERMAFOAM a real "godsend." DERMAFOAM just smooths away dirt and grease without effort. It gets right down into the pores and removes every particle of grime, leaving skin beautifully supple and healthy.

Men, too—when you've finished that dirty job on the car, DERMAFOAM will quickly banish all grease and oil from your hands. It acts almost magically—working under and around the nails and into every minute crease, removing all trace of dirt in a flash.

Engineers, Painters, Car Mechanics, Printers — everyone — will welcome DERMAFOAM, the modern method of cleansing and protecting the hands.

'THE COLLEGE YOUTHS'

A History of the Society
by J. ARMIGER TROLLOPE

'This is one of the very few books I have read which seem to me might, with advantage, have been considerably longer.'—The Dean of St. Paul's.

'Mr. Trollope has achieved more than his immediate purpose of writing a history of the Society of College Youths. So closely has the guild been identified with English change ringing that its history is to a very large extent an account of the ancient sport of ringing developed into an elaborate art. . . .

Throughout his book Mr. Trollope takes his readers into a strange and fascinating world whose traditions so peculiarly English deserve far more popular attention than they usually receive.'—The Guardian.

BAND BUILDING.

The struggles of those who endeavour to obtain recruits for the belfry are sometimes heartbreaking, and it is only an unquenchable love of ringing that induces many men to carry on through the years a task that seems to bring them no reward. Year in, year out, they search round for beginners, give their time to instructing them, only to see them fade away and abandon the art for something which, at the moment, may seem more attractive; or to lose them through removal to other towns or villages. Experience has shown that if one in half a dozen among recruits remains interested in the art, and one in a dozen stays to strengthen the band where he learned to ring, the instructor has been not only successful but fortunate.

It cannot be expected that all who begin ringing will stick to it; after the first novelty of handling a bell has worn off, there comes a period of what may seem drudgery, which, compared with the attractions of some other pursuits, must seem to the beginner quite tame and uninteresting, and it is at this stage that many of the recruits disappear. Whatever the instructor may do, he is bound to lose a proportion of his raw material from this cause. It is disheartening, but he knows that if he is to maintain a band he must persevere in spite of all discouragements. It is only those bands who make persistent efforts to bring in beginners, and who are prepared to make some sacrifice to instruct and interest them, that can hope to keep up their numerical strength. Unless this is done there is always a danger of even the best companies going to pieces. The inexorable claims of death or disablement, the removal of a member or two arising from their employment, and the strongest of bands can be crippled. No company, however efficient, ought to give way to the temptation to neglect bringing in learners. There may be difficulties in finding suitable material, but we believe there are very few churches where recruits cannot be obtained if the right approach is made and the assistance of the incumbent sought. But, however great the difficulty, the future of any band of service ringers can only be secured by the regular introduction of new blood. There should not only be sufficient ringers to ring the bells, the aim should be to have a reserve of members so that unexpected gaps may be filled up. Time and again there have been examples of companies who have reached the highest standards of proficiency disappearing as bands from the ringing firmament simply because, in the height of their success, they have failed to make provision for the future. It is a shortsighted policy. Often, however, these bands have been built up by an influx of 'ready made' ringers. We admire most the companies that have grown from local material and been maintained by persistent recruiting effort, even though their standard of ringing may not be quite so high nor their peal performances so brilliant. TROUBLE IN SHROPSHIRE.

VICAR PLACES EVERY MEMBER OUT OF OFFICE.

An unpleasant situation has arisen at Great Ness, Shropshire, where the Vicar (the Rev. A. W. Buckley) is at variance with his ringers.

The following notice was placed in the belfry on September 4th:—

NOTICE.

SEPTEMBER 4th, 1938.

The bad behaviour in this tower on the part of certain members necessitates a clean up.

After to-day the bells must cease to ring.

After to-day every member goes out of office.

When I am ready I shall call a meeting—the meeting will be called to submit the following rules:—

Evidently, there have been no rules, and, therefore, no law and order in this tower. From now on there will be both if the ringing is to continue.

Remember, it is not necessary for the bells to be rung at all.

The following rules must be strictly adhered to:—

'Member' means confirmed member of the Church of England.

No practising must take place in this tower without permission.

It must be understood from now that Sunday ringing is for the sole purpose of calling parishioners to divine worship; therefore, in future it necessitates members of the tower attending service at least once every Sunday.

With regard to any effort made to raise funds for the bellringers' outing, etc., sanction must be given also to the kind of poster used, and particularly to the wording. The expression, 'Keep the church bells ringing' must not appear on posters.

If it is possible for signs to be given instead of shouts when your different changes are in progress, this will aid to the proper atmosphere in which bells and bellringing ought to give.

Other rules may be added to the above as occasion demands.

A. W. B.

Mr. E. T. Embrey, M.Sc., captain of the local bellringers, said in a Press interview:—

'We are very upset about this business altogether. We have been thrown out of office without a word of personal explanation—we have nothing but scathing references from the pulpit, a passage in the magazine to which we take the greatest exception, and the final indignity of the "rules" that have been put up in the belfry. We categorically and most emphatically deny the charges of "bad behaviour"—in fact, we are at a loss to know what it means.

'There has been always a set of rules, to which the Vicar has agreed, and his reference to "calls" when we are changing peals is absurd, because anyone who knows anything about it knows they are essential. The Shropshire Association of Church Bellringers has been acquainted with the whole matter.'

In regard to ringers not attending services in the church, Mr. Embrey said: 'The real truth of that is this—three members of the team, who were in the choir, were told, with some brusqueness, that their services were no longer required at certain services. One of them had been in the choir for 19 years, and all took exception. Out of loyalty to the team they carried on with the bellringing, but as a protest did not attend the church services. They felt they had done their duty and that their bellringing was in itself some act of worship. We all have had long associations with the church, some for generations, and we can also say that our organisation is the only social organisation in the village.'

SUNDAY SERVICE TOUCHES.

PEAL NOTES.

The peal of Kent Treble Bob Major at Woolwich was rung for the wedding of Mr. R. G. Gales and Miss E. D. Gribben, both members of the local band, who were married earlier in the day at Eltham. Mr. B. W. Aldridge, who rang the fifth, has now completed the circle in the tower, and Mr. R. M. Naylor did the same at Gillingham when he rang the fifth to the Bob Major on the 17th.

The Grandsire Triples at Newcastle-under-Lyme was also a wedding peal, and was rung after Mr. G. Arnold Moore, one of the local band, had been married to Miss Doris Coomer.

The peal of Stedman Cinques rung at Winchester Cathedral on Saturday last was the first rung on the bells since recasting by Messrs. Taylor and Co. in 1937. It also coincided with the 77th birthday of Mr. W. H. Fussell. It was Mr. G. Noyce's first peal on twelve bells and first of Stedman Cinques by Messrs. Andrews and Reed. The Dean, Dr. E. G. Selwyn, met the ringers afterwards and congratulated them on their performance.

A peal of Plain Bob Minor in a twelve-bell tower is an unusual event, probably a unique event; and the performance at St. Margaret's, Leicester, on September 17th, was rung to complete the record of Minor, Major, Royal and Maximus in the same method on the bells. All the band except the conductor, Mr. Ernest Morris, belong to Hallerton, and it was the first peal by the first four of them.

The band of the Kent County Association that went to Eynsford on Sept. 15th had intended to start for Double Norwich, but the conductor missed his train. When he did eventually turn up it was decided, owing to the lateness of the hour, to ring Grandsire Triples.

The Yorkshire Surprise Major rung at Hollesley on Saturday was in honour of two vividly contrasted events—the 87th birthday of Mr. Robert H. Brundle, and the first birthday of Robert Pipe, youngest son of Cecil W. Pipe, the ringer of the seventh. Mr. Brundle has been for many years one of the best known members of the very skilful band at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, and as long ago as 1922 he took part in a veterans' peal. The list of famous peals he has rung in is a long one, not the least being the 16,608 of Oxford Treble Bob rung at Debenham in 1892.

A band of Devon members visited St. Saviour's Church, Dartmouth, on Saturday, where the bells have lately been recast and rehung by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, and rang an excellent peal of Grandsire Triples. The bells were found to be in splendid going order, and at the conclusion of the peal the band received very hearty congratulations from the Vicar of Dartmouth and others who had gathered to watch the peal in progress.

Two prominent Guildford ringers—A. H. Pulling and W. Robinson—shared in the honours of a congratulatory birthday peal at Haslemere on Saturday. There was a surprise for them when Major Hesse dispensed his usual hospitality at the conclusion of the peal in the form of a birthday cake made by the Major's youngest son, Ronnie, and decorated with two silver bells. Ronnie was heartily congratulated on his cooking.

Miss Sylvia Bowyer, of Ipswich, has far outstripped her last year's record of peals, and on September 10th at Debenham rang her fiftieth peal this year. It is an extraordinary record for a lady.

It happened that this peal also brought her total to exactly a hundred. These have been rung in 38 towers with 139 different ringers. The first peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Royal at Great Yarmouth was rung at St. Nicholas' Church on September 10th. It was the first peal of Royal in the method by seven of the band, and, by a coincidence, was A. G. King's 50th peal, Henry Tooke's 100th and William Clover's 250th.

A peal of Minor, rung at Uplyme, Devon, on September 10th, by members of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, was Cuthbert Powell's first peal in seven methods and his first as conductor.

Mr. Pat Cannon 'turned in' his seventieth tenor to a peal when he called a peal of Bob Minor at Warbleton, Sussex, on September 11th.

The peal of Bob Minor rung at Patshull, Staffordshire, on August 13th and published in our issue of August 26th, should be credited to the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford and not to the North Staffordshire Association as stated.

College Single Major, which was rung at Bolderstone on September 14th, is one of the earliest of the eight-bell methods, the first peal being rung by the College Youths as far back as 1737, but since the 18th century it has not been practised except occasionally in Yorkshire. As it has not got Bob Major lead-ends, it does not comply with modern standards, but it has some good qualities. The peal was rung as a birthday compliment to Mr. J. Buckley, of Tideswell, the father-in-law of the conductor, who is one of a family well known among Yorkshire ringers.

BELFRY STAIRS.

A NECESSARY SAFEGUARD.

To the Editor.

Sir,—After the Central Council meeting some of us continued the discussion on handrails to belfry stairs. The result was that what appeared to be the best arrangement was a handrail on the inside, twisting round the newel or centre post. This would not only be much shorter than on the outside wall, but it would help to keep those using the stairs on the wider and safer portion of the treads.

A handrail on the outside should only be fixed on such stairs as are so wide as to have handrails on both sides.

Is there any objection to this arrangement? If not, ringers may well recommend it to the authorities in every suitable tower.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

To-day is the 157th anniversary of a peal of Bob Major rung by the College Youths at Ware in Hertfordshire. Two of their best men, John Povey and William Lyford, had to be put to the second, for one of the gudgeons was broken.

In September, 1732, the City Scholars rang 10,080 changes on the old light ring of eight bells at St. Giles', Camberwell. It was the third peal of over ten thousand changes that had up till then been achieved. The City Scholars had a short but brilliant career, another of their performances being 6,012 changes of Grandsire Caters at Cripplegate in the following month, at the time the longest length in the method. The band shortly afterwards broke up, some joining the College Youths, some the Eastern Scholars, and one of them went to Oxford and rang peals there.

Very commendable keenness was shown by two Yorkshiremen lately, who between them cycled 130 miles to ring in a peal of Bob Royal at Ossett. Mr. J. E. Turley cycled from Handsworth, a distance of 30 miles each way, and Mr. G. Graham from Eckington, a distance of 35 miles each way.

We are requested to state that ringers visiting Bournemouth should note that St. John's tower, Surrey Road, has been closed by the Vicar and local ringers dismissed. The reason given for the closure of the tower is the non-attendance at church every Sunday.

We have received a report of a peal of Bob Major rung at Middleton with some of the particulars missing. Will the conductor forward a complete record?

POLICE GUILD VISIT BANBURY.

Advantage was taken of the Guild president (Supt. F. R. Williams) being on holiday at Banbury to convene a meeting in that town on September 11th.

A pleasing feature of the gathering was that the members present were able to make the acquaintance of Supt. A. Wiggins, Deputy Chief Constable of Berkshire, and Supt. W. Green, of Chipping Norton, Oxfordshire, who were previously members of the Guild.

Ringings commenced at 2.45 p.m. and included some Grandsire Caters, Stedman Caters and a course of Cambridge Surprise Major. The life of the party was undoubtedly Brother Bill, of Birmingham. He truly was a busy bee buzzing all the time. There is certainly nothing 'Dowdy' about him as was apparent from his 'Surprise Element' of conducting. An excellent tea was enjoyed at a club room at one of the local hotels. Thirty-five actually sat down to tea. Members later took part with some of the local company in ringing for the evening service.

The enthusiasm which is apparent at the National Guild meetings is really surprising. Members were present from so far afield as Weston-super-Mare, Cardiff and Manchester, apart from some of the Midlanders, who had travelled quite a considerable distance. It was announced after tea that arrangements are being made for the annual meeting to take place in London on Saturday, January 28th, 1939. It is well worth while for members to buy a new diary for the purposes of making a note of this 'red letter day.'

The thanks of the Guild are due to Mr. Impey, of the Banbury ringers, for the excellent arrangements made, which contributed very largely to the enjoyment of the afternoon, and also to the Church authority for granting permission to ring on the bells.

LADIES' GUILD AT BEDALE.

The first meeting of the newly-divided Northern District of the Ladies' Guild was held at Bedale on Saturday, September 17th, in conjunction with the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association. This meeting was arranged with the definite object of arousing greater enthusiasm amongst the ladies in the North, whether members of the Guild already or not, and it was disappointing that a larger number was not able to be present. Several apologies for absence were received, and those members who did come were made very welcome and spent a most enjoyable half-day. They took part in the ringing (some good and some not so good!) in methods ranging from Plain Bob, via Grandsire, Kent, Double Norwich and Stedman, to Superlative. An excellent tea was provided at the Royal Oak, and, at the short meeting which followed, the president of the Cleveland Association welcomed the members of the Guild very warmly and expressed the hope that there might be more such joint meetings in the future. At the business meeting of the Guild there was some discussion of the effects on the district of the recent re-division, involving the loss of about half the members, including some of the officers. In particular the meeting expressed its keen appreciation of the splendid work done by Miss I. B. Thompson, of Nottingham, as joint secretary. Mrs. Cotterell voiced the thanks of the members to the local company, to the Vicar of Bedale and the churchwardens, and to the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association, especially to Mr. Reed, the secretary, for making possible such a very pleasant meeting.

Special attention was called to the next meeting of the Northern District, to be held at Sheffield on October 8th. This has been purposely arranged for the same day as the annual Snowdon Dinner, and it is hoped that there will be a record attendance. Particulars will be given in 'The Ringing World.'

MAURICE F. R. HIBBERT.

In our issue of September 9th there is a report of a peal of Stedman Triples composed by Dr. G. W. Slack and conducted by Mr. Maurice Hibbert. It was a performance of more than usual merit, for the peal was in two equal parts with two ordinary singles only, and a very irregular arrangement of the bobs. It was only one of a number of very similar performances by Mr. Hibbert, and his title to be included in this series rests not so much on the number of peals he has called (there are only 45 of them), but on their quality and variety. The one, we fancy, he is proudest of is Law James' seven-part peal of Stedman Triples, which has 252 bobs and 210 singles arranged very irregularly, and no observation bell. It is a peal, as he himself says, which could very easily be 'cooked,' and so he had a competent umpire who made sure that every bob and every single was called in the right place.

Mr. Hibbert has never called the same composition twice, and his peals include such unusual ones as Erin Triples, Original Triples (the only one ever rung), Original Major, Erin Caters and Erin Cinques, besides three odd-bob or odd-and-even-bob peals of Stedman Triples. His other performances as conductor were Plain, Cambridge and London Minor, Grandsire Triples (including, of course, the Original), Plain, Double Norwich, Superlative, Cambridge, London, Norfolk and Bristol Major, Stedman Cinques and Treble Bob Maximus. The two last were at St. Saviour's, Southwark; in both of them Mr. Hibbert rang the tenor, and on neither occasion had he previously called a bob on eleven or twelve bells.

Maurice Hibbert was born on Feb. 29th, 1888, at Newbury, Berks, and made his first acquaintance with a belfry at St. Giles', South Mimms, where his father was sexton, but it was at Bushey in 1902 that he learnt change ringing. His father had become sexton and vergier there, and Bertram Prewett was the leader of the ringers and instructed the novice.

Mr. Hibbert's first peal was on the tenor at Bushey in December, 1903, and his fiftieth (Stedman Triples at St. Margaret's, Uxbridge, in January, 1912) was his first as conductor. During the war he was stationed at Caterick and did his utmost to arrange a khaki peal, but in those days ringers came and went and continued in no long stay, so the nearest he got was a peal of Grandsire Triples at Richmond on December 14th, 1918, with five soldiers and three civilians. He did, however, call a touch of Stedman Triples at Blackpool in 1916 with an all-khaki band.

After the war he returned to Bushey to find serious losses in the belfry, and he had to take over the conducting and was largely responsible for the renewed prosperity of the band, which now (with Harold Cashmore as the principal conductor) ranks among the foremost in the country.

In all Mr. Hibbert has scored 271 peals, not a great number, but they include, besides all the standard methods, peals of Surprise Major in no fewer than 30 methods, and Spliced Surprise in all numbers from two to six methods. Even in these days when so many methods are rung this is a very notable record.

Some time ago there were rumours that Mr. Hibbert's health was not so good as could be wished, and his many friends have noticed with pleasure the renewed appearance of his name in the peal records.

PENDLEBURY RINGERS' LOSS

After a very brief illness, Mr. Thomas Lingard, of Pendlebury, near Manchester, died on September 9th, aged 80. For over 62 years he had been a ringer at Christ Church, Pendlebury, and was conductor of the local band. As a tribute to his memory, 1,386 changes of Grandsire Triples was rung with the bells muffled on September 17th by the following local ringers: Bernard Smith 1, Alfred Lomas 2, Norman Tompkins (conductor) 3, Daniel Howard 4, William Collier 5, Albert Wallwork 6, Thomas Howard 7, Fred Jones 8. This was the longest touch conducted by Norman Tompkins, who was a grandson of the deceased.

THE GLOUCESTERSHIRE TOUR.

A SUCCESSFUL WEEK.

The annual early September tour, the seventh of this particular party, took place in Gloucestershire, and, as recorded in 'The Ringing World' last week, eleven peals were rung. After having had such a successful tour, both for ringing and the social side, at Bourton-on-the-Water last year, it was decided to go further into the same county on this occasion, and the organiser, Mr. Jack M. Cripps, was asked to arrange for 14 towers, which he did in conjunction with Mr. John Austin, of Gloucester. Headquarters for the week were at Kimbrose Hotel, Commercial Road, Gloucester.

Mr. Harry Hart's 20-seater coach, with Peter the driver, was engaged, this means of collective locomotion having proved eminently successful for the past two years in Somerset and the Cotswolds. On Saturday, September 3rd, the various members of the party, a dozen in all, were picked up, starting from Brighton and calling at Crawley, Guildford and Reading. After lunch at Reading a quick run was made via Wantage and Faringdon to Cirencester.

It had originally been arranged to have the 12 at Cirencester Parish Church for the first peal attempt on Saturday afternoon, but a few days beforehand word came that the bells were not available for a peal on that day.

However, through the kindness of Mr. Wilfred Hayward, the tower captain, the eight bells at Watermoor, about half a mile from the centre of Cirencester, were placed at our disposal. Mr. Hayward gave us a warm welcome, and we were also greeted by Mr. C. J. Gardiner, of Swindon, and Mr. John Thomas. London Surprise Major went very well indeed, and a good peal came round in 3 hours and 12 minutes, conducted by O. Sippetts, the first of Major on the bells. This church has a fine octave, with tenor 20 cwt. in E, augmented in 1901, when two trebles were added. The curate-in-charge, the Rev. G. A. Harvey, himself a ringer, greeted the band after the peal and was very pleased with the good ringing he had heard.

After partaking of refreshments with the local ringers, a move was made to headquarters at Gloucester. The road, on the site of an old Roman road, runs as straight as a die for miles to Birdlip, from whence a fine view of Gloucester was obtained. By this time, however, it was getting dusk and we did not stop. At the Kimbrose Hotel the party were greeted by Mr. John Austin and ex-Sgt. J. Williams, who extended a very hearty welcome to Gloucestershire.

PRIVILEGED VISIT TO GLOUCESTER CATHEDRAL.

Mr. Austin had arranged for service ringing at Gloucester Cathedral on Sunday morning from 9 a.m. to 10.30, a privilege which was much appreciated. All the band were waiting outside the Cathedral at 9 o'clock to be introduced to the Archdeacon of Cheltenham by Mr. Austin. It was a long climb up to the belfry, which is in the big central tower, and we fully intended to give of our best, as it is over 20 years since a visiting band of ringers have been allowed to ring at this Cathedral.

Conditions in the belfry are certainly very unusual. The inside of the tower is enormous; beams and the clock case occupy a good deal of space, and the bells hang in a circle in one corner. In a frame right by the side of the ringers hangs the 63 cwt. bell on which the clock chimes the hour, and, in its great frame, dwarfs everything near. The light is very dim and there is no artificial illumination of the ringing room. The only light comes through the holes in the louvers of the tower wall; however, it is sufficient to ring by, especially when the eyes become accustomed to the gloom. The bells, a ring of eight with tenor 26 cwt. in D, are rather noisy in the ringing chamber, but are undoubtedly a fine peal. We rang a course of Cambridge, also one of London, and stopped whilst the big bell chimed at 10 o'clock. The noise was really terrific as the ten strokes boomed out. A touch of Stedman Triples completed the ringing before the bells were lowered in peal. All the ringing had been excellent, and it is to be hoped that this ringing may have done something to get the tower opened again to visiting ringers on future occasions.

A short ring followed at St. Michael's Church by the Cross at the city centre. Here, where St. Michael's Juniors were established in 1887, there is a nice peal of ten, with tenor a ton, and a fairly long draught of rope. Ringing is done from the ground floor and the bells are rather difficult to hear. Stedman Caters and Treble Ten were rung before the bells were lowered in peal.

After an early lunch, the coach was directed to the Forest of Dean, piloted by Mr. Austin, who acted as guide throughout the week. Passing through some very beautiful country, with steep hills and valleys and dense woods, the coach zig-zagged for miles, with something fresh and interesting to be seen round each bend. We were not always sure we were going on just the right road. The Sergeant had warned us the night before that Jack Austin would get lost. However, he did get us safely to our destination, St. Briavels, to time.

St. Briavels stands on a very high hill overlooking the Wye Valley. Across the valley could be seen Monmouthshire and the Brecon hills. The Church of St. Mary has a square tower with a pleasant peal of eight, tenor 15 cwt. We were met by Mr. W. Coates, ringing captain and local policeman, who let us into the tower. The ringing chamber had been newly painted and was looking very clean, while the ropes were new. The bells were set going to Yorkshire Major, and a fine peal was completed in 3 hours and 12 minutes, conducted by O. Sippetts, the first in the method on the bells.

After a nice tea at the local inn, we departed, down into the Wye Valley across to the Monmouth side and down to Tintern Abbey. After a short stay we returned via Chepstow to Lydney, with lasting impressions of the lovely scenery of the Wye Valley. At Lydney was spent a convivial hour with some local ringers, then home to Gloucester. We were soon to discover that everywhere Jack Austin went he met friends, always pleased to see him.

CLOCK WIRE ENDS PEAL.

On Monday morning in dull weather we set off on the ten miles' run south to Stroud, where we found a particularly fine peal of ten with tenor 20 cwt. The ringing here is from the ground floor, there is a nice circle and the bells are easy to handle. Yorkshire Surprise Royal, under the conductorship of F. W. Rogers, went splendidly for 2½ hours, when suddenly there was a rumbling sound overhead and the second came right down. Walter Judge pulled it up quickly, then both the treble and second dropped and could not be moved, and, of course, the ringing stopped. This was in the eleventh course. When the local man turned up, investigation showed that one of the clock hammer wires had broken and the long piece of iron controlling the hammer had become entangled with the treble and second bells, fortunately without doing damage to the bells. This was the first failure, if failure it could be called. It was just bad luck the wire should break.

However, after a good lunch, we set off on the four miles' run to Bisley, a quiet but picturesque village. The church is approached through the school playground, and some of our party looked as if they would like to join the children at skipping, but managed to refrain. The Church of All Saints has a tall spire and is another with a ground floor ringing chamber and long draught. The bells are a nice octave, tenor 16 cwt. in F, but the trebles are difficult to hear. London Surprise Major was successful in 3 hours 4 minutes, conducted by C. E. Smith, and it was a peal well earned. The Vicar, the Rev. G. Piper, greeted the party. He said he could not provide refreshments as his wife was ill in the Vicarage. She had, however, greatly enjoyed listening to the ringing and had specially asked that the peal should proceed, for those outside would have stopped the peal had it been necessary. Fortunately, the good lady likes to hear the bells. This peal was the first of London to be rung at Bisley.

A wet dismal morning greeted us on Tuesday, but we set off on the 20-mile journey south to Wotton-under-Edge, where the church, dedicated to St. Mary-the-Virgin, has a massive square tower with a peal of eight, tenor 18½ cwt. in F. The bells were originally cast by Abel Rudhall, of Gloucester, in 1756. Three of them were recast and all hung in a steel frame by Taylors in 1902. A nice peal, but a trifle noisy in the ringing chamber (upstairs, for a change). Bristol Surprise Major went well, and an excellent peal was rung in 3 hours 21 minutes, conducted by F. W. Rogers, the first of Bristol on the bells. The peal received honourable mention from the local men, and after lunch at The Falcon we moved off to Dursley, six miles away.

Mr. E. Morgan, the local captain, was waiting at St. James' Church, situated right in the heart of the town, near the Market Place. The church has a square tower and is another with ground floor ringing chamber with long draught. The bells are a fine peal, tenor 19 cwt. 2 qr. 9 lb. in E, recast by Taylors in 1904. However, they needed careful handling, but Cambridge Surprise Major sounded well and a very good but well-earned peal was rung in 3 hours and 15 minutes, conducted by O. Sippetts, the first of Surprise on the bells.

Mr. Austin had made arrangements for the party to have a short pull at Painswick on the way home. He asked us to count the yew trees in the well-kept churchyard, but no one was keen to see if there were 99 or 100; it was taken as correct. The bells are undoubtedly a fine 12, with tenor 26 cwt. in D, they go well and the belfry is well kept. Three courses of Stedman Cinques and a course of Grandsire Cinques were rung before the bells were lowered in peal.

ENTERTAINED BY VETERANS.

Then back to headquarters and supper and a social hour. Mr. J. Austin and ex-Sergt. J. Williams gave their celebrated course of Grandsire Triples, each four-in-hand and sitting back to back. They then entertained the company to some good tune ringing, which was received with applause. These two veterans, 75 and 86 years of age respectively, and certainly hale and, definitely, very hearty, are a good example both of the benefits of ringing and to the younger generation. It was very late when the cheery party broke up.

On Wednesday morning there was a ten-mile journey to Prestbury, a suburb of Cheltenham. We found at St. Mary's Church a fair peal of eight, with tenor 14 cwt., the original six by Rudhall, 1748, and the two trebles added by Day, of Eye, Suffolk, in 1886. Cambridge Surprise was going very well indeed when, in the 12th course, the tenor rope broke after 1 hour 25 minutes—again an unlucky termination and F. W. Rogers was once more the unlucky conductor.

The afternoon's peal was at St. Mary's Parish Church, Cheltenham. We were greeted by Mr. Sid Hayward, and, with J. Austin and C. J. Gardiner (Swindon) in the band, Stedman Cinques was successful in 3 hours 51 minutes, conducted by W. F. Judge, this being the first peal on 12 bells by N. Elliott, W. T. Beeson and O. Sippetts. The peal was well rung, a good beat being found at the start and maintained throughout. If a shade slow, the ringing was good, as 'twas said outside afterwards. The bells are a very pleasant peal, with tenor 22½ cwt. in E flat, and every bell can be heard in the (upstairs) ringing chamber.

On Thursday morning there was a 20 miles' run due west to Lydney, with the Severn Estuary on our left and Forest of Dean on the right, but a misty rain was falling, and, to our regret, visibility was bad. We were greeted by the local captain, Mr. John W. Davis, who had the bells up in readiness. A service for the patronal festival (St. Mary) was in progress and a half-hour's wait was necessary, but eventually a start was made for Spliced London, Bristol, Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major, and it went like clockwork, with beautiful striking, and greatly appreciated by Mr. Davis. The peal was successful in 3 hours and 21 minutes, conducted by O. Sippetts, and was W. F. Judge's first peal of Spliced Surprise, also first of 'spliced' on the bells. The Vicar, the Rev. J. L. Jones, gave the party an excellent welcome and enjoyed the ringing, although he could not stop till the end of the peal. The band were joined by Mr. J. W. Jones and the Rev. Ivor Jones, from South Wales, who had run over by car to have a day with the party.

Lunch was partaken of at The Cross Keys, and here Mr. Davis voiced his appreciation of the peal. The late morning start had delayed matters and we were nearly an hour late in leaving for Ruardean, but Mr. Austin again succeeded in switching us all over the Forest of Dean. However, he managed to elucidate the tangle when we threatened to tell the ex-sergeant, and we safely arrived an hour late, to be greeted by Mr. W. Bishop, 'Mayor' of the little village and ringers' captain, the Rector (the Rev. G. F. Hilder) and local ringers. The Church of St. John-the-Baptist has a very tall pointed spire and overlooks the Wye Valley near Ross. It must be a good landmark and the country around is magnificent. The bells are a very good octave with tenor 14 cwt. 2 qr. 14 lb. in F. The original six were recast and a new seventh supplied and the whole peal rehung with new fittings in 1929 by Gillett and Johnston. Ringing is from the ground floor with 75ft. draught of rope. The bells were set going to Bristol, and a fine peal was completed in 3 hours and 15 minutes, conducted by C. E. Smith, the first of Surprise on the bells.

On Friday we journeyed to Leckhampton, adjoining Cheltenham. St. Peter's Church is situated on a steep hill known as the Devil's Chimney, and is approached by a splendid avenue of lime trees. The light peal of eight (tenor 9 cwt.) are in two tiers in the bell frame, and ringing takes place in the centre of the church between the altar and choir stalls, with the organ on one side. However, with a nice new set of ropes and a short draught, an excellent peal of Superlative was rung in 2 hours and 57 minutes, conducted by F. W. Rogers, the first of Surprise on the bells. The back six were originally by Rudhall, 1688; Taylors recast 5 and 6 and added two trebles in 1904, and the whole peal were rehung by Mears and Stainbank about two years ago. The ringers were greeted here by Canon Hennsman (Rector) and Mr. W. Townsend (captain) and received a hearty welcome.

(To be continued in our next issue.)

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY GUILD.*MANY TOWERS INCLUDED IN WEEK'S TOUR.

The September 'Guild Week' of the Cambridge University Guild is an institution that has been established for a great many years. This year the members were the guests of the Rev. E. G. Benson, of Hereford. They were fourteen: The Rev. A. C. Blyth (president), the Rev. E. B. James, J. H. R. Freeborn, E. M. Atkins, the Rev. B. F. Sheppard, the Rev. H. G. Benson, the Rev. E. G. Benson, J. Woolley, C. Woolley, the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow, S. H. Wood, F. E. Haynes, R. D. St. J. Smith and A. R. Pargeter.

The following towers were visited: Burghill, where a peal of Cambridge came to grief; St. Briavels (8); Ross, a very grand eight; Ludlow, which has a really magnificent eight; Presteign (8); Leominster (10); Hereford Cathedral, a very grand ten, but here one too easily finds oneself dodging with one of the pillars; Clifford, where Cambridge Surprise came round happily; Bredwardine, an excellent little six; Llanfagan, really lovely bells, with the church right up a wild gully behind Brecon, hidden in the trees. This was a most marvellous setting for listening to the peal of Double Norwich. Other towers were Lugwardine (8); Malvern Priory, also a really grand eight, but without doubt quite spoilt by the silencing. However, a course of London and other touches were rung; Malvern Link, a good eight, but extraordinarily loud outside. Here a good touch of Cambridge brought the week's ringing to a close. Four tower-bell peals, one handbell peal and many good touches were rung.

MIDLAND COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.*PLEASANT VILLAGE MEETING.

After a period of ten years, the Burton District again visited Lullington on September 17th, and the members that ventured to this picturesque Derbyshire village received a warm welcome.

As Lullington is situated on the extreme border of the county and transport being the most difficult proposition, it was thought in some quarters that it would be a difficulty to obtain an adequate attendance. Special efforts, however, were made and the result was very gratifying, as touches in twelve methods were brought round during the afternoon and evening.

During the afternoon a short service was held in the church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. L. C. Brentnall), with Mr. A. E. Rowley at the organ.

After tea at the Colville Arms, the Vicar was voted to the chair for the business meeting and welcomed the members to Lullington. He said he understood from the secretary that it was ten years since the last meeting was arranged for Lullington, when only four members turned up, so he especially voiced his appreciation of the wonderful gathering present. He spoke of the beautifully compiled prayers in the association's form of service, and in closing his remarks the Vicar hoped they would all come again soon for a similar meeting.

It was decided to change the next two meetings on the card, which will now read: Overseale, October 8th, and Tutbury, November 5th.

The meeting closed with the secretary (Mr. J. W. Cotton) thanking the Vicar for the wonderful welcome given to the members, also for presiding and for use of the bells; to Mr. A. E. Rowley for his services as organist, and to the Ringing Master, Mr. W. H. Curson, for having everything in readiness for the meeting. This was seconded by Mr. J. H. Swinfield and carried with enthusiasm.

The following district towers were represented: Burton (St. Paul's), Ashby, Measham, Overseale, Netherseale, Newhall, and welcome visitors from Hugglescote, Ibstock and Birmingham.
