'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

LATE NEWS.

Miss Margaret Fidell will remember June 6th, 1949. She rang two first peals on that day—Spliced Surprise Major in four methods and Cambridge Surprise Royal. She is the first lady to ring two Surprise peals in a day.

First instalment of the Central Council meeting at York appears in this issue. 'The Ringing World' debate will be published in a later issue. In a nutshell the decision was 16 pages weekly from January 1st, 1950. Price 4d.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Among local band achievements is the peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Ealing on May 24th, reported in last issue.

The first peal has been rung at Grafton Regis, Northants, a new tenor having been added, making a ring of five, in 1948.

Six boys of Collyer's School, Horsham, helped by local ringers, rang for the school's Founder's Day service at the Parish Church. The boys were B. Moore, J. Cherriman (Cowfold), P. Hall, J. Reed (Slinfold), A. Skinner (Wisborough Green) and C. Hone (conductor, Thakeham).

The bells of St. Andrew's, Limpsfield Chart, Surrey, have been overhauled and rehung on ball bearings by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston. The work was commenced on April 20th and finished on May 27th and were rung at the special thanksgiving service held on Whit Sunday.

Towards the £850 needed for rehanging the bells at St. Peter's, Duxford, Cambs., with a population of 760, the village by various ways and means has subscribed about £600. Mr. J. Halls, hon. treasurer of the Parochial Church Council, Kentbury, Duxford, Cambs, appeals to all bell lovers to help.

Embarrassment was caused at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild on Whit Monday, when the secretary's case containing the minute books, etc., was missing from the Cathedral. It was discovered just in time by a Central Council representative on his way to York. His relative at Peterborough where he was staying the night took the wrong case to her home by mistake.

The all local band that rang the peal of Grandsire Triples at Battersea on May 28th included a churchwarden, a sidesman, the secretary of the Parochial Church Council, two choristers and a Sunday School teacher. The last local band peal here was in 1884.

Mr. Jack Bailey has now 'circled' Ockbrook, Derbyshire, tower.

The bells of St. Stephen's, Rochester Row, Westminster, will be broadcast on Sunday, June 19th, at 7.45 p.m. in the Home Service programme before the usual evening service.

Having rung 38 peals in three eight-bell towers, D. C. Vincent has at last completed a circle by ringing the seventh at Miles Platting, Manchester.

In connection with the proposed Keith Hart memorial at St. Peter's, Brighton, we gladly give, at the request of enquirers, the address of Mr. O. Sippetts, the hon. treasurer, 10, Three Bridges Road, Crawley, Sussex.

Twenty-five years have elapsed since Mr W. P. Whitehead and Mr. E. W. Beadsmoore rang their last peal together, until they renewed acquaintance at Measham with a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major, which is believed to be the first in the method on the bells.

The peal at Wivelsfield, Sussex, created local interest. Parishioners stood and listened and clapped the ringers when they finished. The bells had not had professional attention since 1894 and had to receive the use of a spanner, etc., before a start could be made.

June 4th was a red-letter day for Whiston, Yorks. The eight bells here were installed in 1915 and at last a local band has scored a first peal on the bells. All the ringers were punils of the conductor, Mr. Norman Chaddock.

Burnham, Bucks, bells were dismantled on June 13th by Messrs. John Taylor and Co.

CENTRAL COUNCIL AT YORK

BELLS FIT IN WITH GOD'S CREATION ..... MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION RESIGNATIONS ..... HANDBELL BOOK OUTSTANDING SUCCESS ..... WORK ON CARTER RINGING MACHINE ..... LIFE MEMBERSHIP SUGGESTED ..... METHODS COMMITTEE AND 'COPYRIGHT'

BENEATH the shadow of York Minster in the historic St. William's College, the second session of the twentieth Central Council (52nd annual meeting) was held on Whitsun Tuesday. Mr. E. H. Lewis, the president of the Council, was in the chair, supported by Mr. G. W. Fletcher (hon. secretary of the Council), Mr. W. H. J. Hooton (hon. librarian) and Mrs. Fletcher.

THE DEAN'S WELCOME.

In a welcome to the Council the Dean (the Very Rev. E. Milner-White) said he simply came there to bring to them the hearty and heartfelt welcome from the Minster and the Chapter. They had enjoyed, these last two days, the ringing of their bells.

Never would he forget one electric moment when the bells of these islands rang to express the feeling of the nation when they heard the news of the Battle of Alamein.

'Let me say something of your art day by day and Sunday by Sunday. It is one of the things which no government of any type is going to deprive us. Speaking as an Englishman, of course, there is nothing like our bells or bellringing to be found anywhere else in the world. It is only a thing that people are adequately conscious of when they travel abroad. It is a popular ministry, using the word popular as meaning of the people.'

There is something in the particular sound bells make; it is an essentially clean sound. It fits in with God's creation and our landscape in an extraordinary way. It is a beautiful sound; it is a music of its own. It is pure, passionless and jubilant. It comes with a strong breath as if it was meeting one, but it comes also with the breath of Heaven. It is in these secular days a tremendous witness of the other world—that God would save us despite our unfaithfulness. I suppose your first reaction is that it is a good recreation, but when we feel that pure recreation has a real value of high importance and unique beauty, then it is a good enjoyment to have.

The President, in thanking the Dean for his welcome, said it was 45 years ago since the Central Council met in the ancient city of York and he was told that there was one member present who was at that meeting.

The Dean had spoken of the music of the bells and their unique quality. He wondered if he came across the expression used in 'The Morning Post' some years ago of 'weaving patterns of sound.' He thought that was one of the best expressions of bellringing.

In thanking the Dean for the opportunity of ringing on his glorious ring of bells, Mr. Lewis said they would enjoy them more if they were boxed up a little more so that the sound did not come down on the street. He presented the Dean with a copy of 'The History of the College Youths' as a memento of the visit.

Accepting the gift, the Dean promised to read it with care and leave a label on it bequeathing it with his other books to the Minster Library.

The Dean, at the request of the President, opened the Council with prayer.

ROLL OF THE COUNCIL.

The Secretary reported that the Council consisted of 148 representatives from 53 associations, 20 honorary members making a total of 168. The membership of the St. Martin's Guild had been increased from one to two and the Southwell Diocesan Guild from two to three.

MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION.

It was reported by the letter of the general secretary of the Middlesex Association that the four members of the Middlesex Association had resigned as representatives on the present Council. It was further reported that they had immediately sought re-election. The Standing Committee, in considering this position, found that they did not conform to the rules relating to representative members except the election of Mr. Turner, who had been elected in place of one of the resigning members. The Standing Committee were compelled reluctantly to recommend to the Council that the re-election for the remainder of the triennial period of the Council did not comply with the rules and consequently their re-election could not be recognised.

When Mr. Fletcher announced that the three members would not be permitted to take their seats, a member protested and asked for them to be reinstated and allowed to take their seats forthwith.

The Chairman: I am sorry, but it is against the rule.

Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey: Does that mean that we are not entitled to vote and speak?

The Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Lewis Cockey: Then I protest. I call it unchristian and vindictive and I propose to leave the meeting.

He then left the Council Chamber.

Sussex County.—Mr. R. G. Blackman, Mr. F. H. Dallaway, Mr. F. I. Hairs, Mr. O. Sippetts.

Swansea and Brecon Diocesan.—Mr. D. H. Bennett.

Truro Diocesan.—Mr. H. Miles.

Universities Association.—Miss M. Cross.

Winchester and Portsmouth Guild.—Rev. K. W. H. Felstead, Mr. G. Pullinger, Mr. F. W. Rogers.

Worcestershire and Districts. — Mr. B. C. Ashford.

Yorkshire Association.—Rev. C. O. Ellison, Mr. P. J. Johnson, Mr. L. W. G. Morris, Mr. S. F. Palmer.

Honorary members.—Mr. E. A. Barnett, Mr. C. Dean, Mr. G. W. Fletcher, Mr. W. H. J. Hooton, Mr. A. A. Hughes, Mr. C. F. Johnston, Mr. C. H. Kipnin, Mr. E. H. Lewis, Mr. F. Sharpe. Mr. J. F. Smallwood, Mr. A. Walker.

APOLOGIES FOR ABSENCE.

These were received from Messrs. H. J. Sanger (Bath and Wells), C. W. Cook (Ely), Miss H. G. Snowden (Essex), Messrs. A. C. Hazelden and A. Harman (Guildford), W. F. Moreton, G. J. Lewis and W. T. Poston (Hereford), A. Paddon Smith (St. Martin's Guild), G. H. Cross, F. C. W. Knight and G. W. Steere (Society of Royal Cumberland Youths), Canon G. F. Coleridge, Messrs. G. E. Debenham, T. Groombridge, Mrs. C. C. Marshall, Messrs. W. A. Osborn, E. A. Young and W. H. Viggers (hon. members), Miss B. Spice (Oxford University), Messrs. J. D. Johnson and S. T. Holt (Worcester and Districts), Rev. B. F. Sheppard (Cambridge University), Messrs. H Denman (Southwell Diocesan), H. G. Cashmore (Hertford County), T. W. Taffender and T. H. Taffender (London County), E. M. Atkins (Cambridge University), Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Roberts, Mr. F. J. Teague (Truro Diocesan), Messrs. S. G. Coles (Bath and Wells), C. H. Hawkins (St. David's Diocesan Guild), E. G. Fenn and A. B. Peck (College Youths), and V. Colclough (Dudley and District).

NEW MEMBERS.

The following new members were presented to the President: Messrs. C. W. Biffin (Devon), E. C. S. Turner (Middlesex), E. A. Barnett (hon. member), H. Chant (Barnsley and District), Miss J. Southerst (Southwell), Messrs. F. Ainsley (Durham and Newcastle), F. Precey (Salisbury) and T. G. Myers (Devon).

HON. MEMBERS.

The Hon. Secretary reported that two honorary members were due to retire—Mr. C. H. Kippin and Mr. W. Rowe. Mr. Kippin did not seek re-election. The Standing Committee recommended that Mr. Rowe (New South Wales Association) be re-elected and they submitted the name of Mr. C. W. Roberts for the vacancy.

Mr. F. Smallwood seconded.

Mr. E. C. S. Turner proposed that Mr. W. Wilson be elected an honorary member and mentioned his services as convener of the Peal Board Committee.

Mr. Kippin asked if Mr. Wilson did not resign as a member of the Council.

The Chairman replied in the affirmative, and added, 'I don't see how he could be re-elected. I am afraid on those conditions that I cannot accept the nomination.'

Mr. Rowe and Mr. Roberts were elected to the vacancies.

LOSSES THROUGH DEATH.

The President read a list of past and present members of the Council who had died since the last meeting. The Council stood in respectful memory. They were: T. Groombridge, jun., Southwell Diocesan Guild, 1946-1948; H. Chapman, Lancashire Association 1906-1915, honorary member 1924-1929; G. P. Burton, Norwich Diocesan Association, 1909-1929; R. H. Brundle, Norwich Diocesan Association, 1894-1896; G. Williams, Winchester Diocesan Guild 1891-1896, Sussex County Association 1897-1905, honorary member 1906-1917, Winchester and Portsmouth Guild 1918-1949; Rev. C. C. Marshall, Yorkshire Association, 1912-1947.

Mr. G. Pullinger, in a tribute to Mr. George Williams, said members would be interested to learn that his books and papers were to be handed to the Winchester Guild. His Association would consider a memorial to his memory at their meeting on the first Saturday in July. The committee responsible for the Bournemouth Festival had decided that it should be known as the George Williams dinner. Mr. Williams was not only a good ringer and conductor; he was a good churchman and a great friend to all.

Mr. P. J. Johnson, in a tribute to Canon Marshall, said he perhaps knew him longer than any other ringer; he knew him before he was ordained when he (Mr. Johnson) was a small boy in the East End of London and the Canon was working for the Oxford Mission. He was not a great peal ringer, but he was enthusiastic for the work, and the Yorkshire Association was a lasting tribute to the work he was so intensely interested in. No trouble was too great during his 35 years' presidency of the Association. Those who were present at the Council meeting at Leeds would remember the Canon's address. He was a man of great personality and Vicar of an important parish in Leeds.

MINUTES OF THE LAST MEETING.

The Secretary reported that the minutes had been published in 'The Ringing World.' There was one alteration to be made, the name of Mr. A. Relfe, of East Grinstead Guild, had been omitted from those present. That had been corrected in the official minute book.

He moved that the minutes be taken as read.

Mr. F. I. Hairs seconded and this course was agreed to.

REPORTS

HON. LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

Sales during the year amounted to £135 18s. 4½d. Copies sold of various publications were: Triples Methods 67; Variation and Transposition 67; Collection of Peals, Section 2 51, Section 3 39; Hints to Beginners 347; Method Sheets, Bristol 53, Stedman and Grandsire 119, Double Norwich 50, Cambridge 62; Card of Instruction 53; Report of Conference S.P.A.B. 24; Mysteries Unveiled 98; D.N.C.B. Caters 52; Preservation of Bells 443; Four Way Table 242; Handbells 593; Doubles and Minor 142.

During the year books have been lent for research purposes, and in two or three cases general information has been required for lectures on the history of bells and bellringing.

The following gifts to the library are gratefully acknowledged: Group Theory, by R. A. Rankin, from the author; Bellringing Mechanism, by B. D. Price, being the description of a machine made by Mr. L. E. A. Boum, from the author; Surprise Major Methods (A. J. Corrigan), from the author; and a number of bound volumes of 'The Ringing World,' presented by Mr. E. R. Goate. Also papers of the late Mr. J. W. Parker, from Miss M. Parker.

The stocks of Triples Methods, Cards of Instruction and Mysteries Unveiled have been exhausted, and the card is now being revised for reissue. New publication have become available during the last six months. The four-way table of Minor Methods, of which 1,000 copies were printed, is often required with the reprint of Doubles and Minor Methods. The Handbell Book has had outstanding success and more than half of the edition has gone. But though new publications account for the abnormally large sales total there has been an increase in sales of those already available, notably in sales of Hints and Method Sheets. There has been an extra source, too, in Mr. Shepherd's D.N.C.B.C., of which the Council purchased the remaining stock.

The reprinting of Carter's broadsheets is proceeding. Requests for the book of Major and Cater methods still arrive, and there have been enquiries for Royal methods.

Mr. W. H. J. Hooton proposed the adoption of the report, and Mr. F. J. Smallwood seconded. The report was adopted.

GENERAL ACCOUNTS.

The year started with a balance in hand of £286 12s. 2d. and concluded with £187 9s. 9d. Receipts were affiliation fees £39, sale of publications £124 12s. 3d., and subscriptions of hon. members 15s.

On the expenses side the main items were Library and Publications £231 13s. 9d., Biographies Committee £7 15s. 6d., Rupert Richardson Memorial Fund £3 3s., J. W. Parker Memorial Fund £3 3s.

The Secretary, in moving the adoption of the report, urged associations to send their subscriptions earlier—certainly earlier than four days before Whitsun. Calling attention to the reduced balance, he said as the Council knew it was always their intention as soon as possible to restock the library. They had still quite a lot of books they wanted to print.

Mr. A. A. Hughes seconded and the accounts were approved.

Mr. F. Rogers suggested that Guild subscriptions should be paid before Easter, otherwise the Association would not be entitled to vote.

The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards: I think it is already in the rules.

Mr. E. H. Mastin suggested that the stock in hand in productions should be shown in the accounts.

The Secretary replied that with the new set of accounts a uniform data would be introduced, and with the change the accounts would be set in another form.

JOHN CARTER RINGING MACHINE.

The machine has been thoroughly tested by Mr. Brian Price and Mr. Douglas Hughes and some minor and temporary adjustments were made, after which a course of Bristol Surprise Royal and of Stedman Cinques were rung. These were recorded on the paper roll. Various faults were mentioned in the report. The motor was very temperamental and very noisy and the committee suggested the fitting of a new motor and reduction gear, both to be as silent as possible, and also to replace the first main driven wheel of the machine. The mechanism should be completely cleaned and re-oiled, as it was very dirty. The trustees recorded their deep appreciation of the work so far carried out by Mr. Price and Mr. Hughes.

Mr. A. A. Hughes moved the adoption of the report.

Mr. Kippin asked, to the amusement of the Council, what was the Bristol Royal rung by the machine.

Mr. A. A. Walker, in seconding, said the reason for moving the machine from the Museum was that they had not facilities for repairs. He paid tribute to the work of Mr. Brian Price and Mr. Douglas Hughes. Whether the Bristol Royal was true or untrue, whatever the machine was set to do it would do. Before the machine was returned to the Museum it would be in working order and it would be able to ring any method.

Mr. Harold Poole asked if the machine would be available for the next meeting in London.

Mr. C. J. Sedgley said there was a demonstrator at the Museum.

The Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow: Can we have a more efficient demonstrator? I understand that the last time the demonstrator set it it rang Grandsire Triples backwards on the back eight.

REVISION OF RULES.

The Secretary said the draft revision of rules had been supplied with the agenda. The Standing Committee recommended that the Council discuss the draft and in the light of the discussion the sub-committee would prepare their report for the Standing Committee.

Mr. F. W. Perrens seconded.

Mr. W. H. J. Hooton proposed that the report of the sub-committee be received.

On the question of representation, the suggestion was that for a territorial society 75 over and not exceeding 150 one representative member; 150 to 300, two members; 300 to 450, three representatives; over 450, four representatives. The basis of calculation of membership for territorial societies shall be honorary and ringing members and resident life members. The representation of non-territorial affiliated societies shall be one member per society or more in the discretion of the Council. Any recognised society numbering not less than 75 members shall, upon application and subject to election by a majority of two-thirds of the members present and voting, be affiliated to the Council.

Mr. F. E. Dukes asked for the reason of the two-thirds majority. He suggested as an alternative a clear majority.

Mr. P. J. Johnson maintained that it would be a big mistake if election was not by a big majority.

Mr. E. A. Barnett suggested that membership of non-territorial bodies should be not more than one member.

Mr. H. W. Rogers asked for a firm definition of a non-territorial association and the names of existing non-territorial associations.

The Secretary: I think it is generally recognised that the non-territorial associations are the Ancient Society of College Youths, the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, the Ladies' Guild. the Oxford University Society, the Cambridge University Society and the Universities Association.

Mr. Harold J. Poole pointed out that the Police Guild proposed to make application as they now had a membership of 117.

Mr. P. J. Johnson reminded the Council that all non-territorial representation led to duplication of representation. He remembered seeing a peal rung by a body called the Guild of Servers. He did not know whether that peal was rung to add dignity to that body. They would have seriously to consider peals by such bodies. They might have a Guild of Butchers. He felt they must take care that they did not lend themselves to duplication.

Mr. R. G. Blackman said the Guild of Servers was not a bellringing service. The Guild of Servers was primarily a body of young lads, servants of the Church at the altar, and there was no disgrace, but it was great credit to them and to 'The Ringing World' that these servers of the Church were mentioned in the journal. Sunday by Sunday at Chichester Cathedral three or four of them went direct from their ringing to serve at the altar.

Mr. P. J. Johnson said he wanted to make it clear that he did not want to be misconstrued as belittling the work of the Guild of Servers to the Church. His point was that the peal was rung for a non-ringing society.

Mr. E. A. Barnett said the question of future non-territorial societies could safely be left to future Councils. At the present time these non-territorial societies were represented on a basis of membership. Take the University Associations, whose membership comprised a good many people who continued their ringing after leaving the university, but far more did not.

Miss Marie Cross: As the representative of one of these associations, I assure you that we do apply the axe.

Mr. F. B. Lufkin said they must take care that societies with a lot of 'dead wood' should not have undue representation, whereas there might be a lot of 'live wood' not represented.

The Rev. C. O. Ellison suggested that it might be that the qualifications for membership might be from 75 to 250, from 250 to 500 and so on.

Mr. A. D. Barker thought that the representation of future non-territorial associations should be one member per society.

Mr. Kippin considered that the Council could not afford to stand on sentiment.

The Secretary reminded the Council of the overlapping of certain territorial associations, quoting the case of the East Grinstead and District Guild. They would have to see there was no overlapping with new societies.

The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead supported the elimination of non-territorial associations representation to one.

A vote was taken and the majority of the members voted for a single member.

The suggested rule regarding honorary members was that retirement and election took effect as from the end of the annual meeting. Mr. E. C. S. Turner suggested that election took effect immediately and retirement at the end of the meeting.

LIFE MEMBERS.

A new rule suggested was the creation of life members consisting of (a) past and present holders of the office of president, hon. secretary or hon. librarian of the Council, and (b) those who in the opinion of the Council by reason of their services to the art of ringing merit the conferment on them of the honour of life membership. Life membership shall cease only on death or resignation.

Mr. John Freeman thought that the honour of life membership would be greater if there was a restriction on the number of the holders of the office. The holders of the office of secretary and librarian should not be qualified for life membership.

Mr. J. P. Fidler said honorary members should be elected for the work they could do for the Council. Inactive honorary members should not be retained.

Mr. P. J. Johnson spoke in support of the new rule as being a means of giving some recognition of work done.

Mr. Hooton explained that one of the reasons for the rule was that if an officer who was a representative was not re-elected he could still hold office.

COPYRIGHT.

Mr. R. S. Anderson wanted a rule that the copyright of any work done for the Council be vested in the Council. There was a mention in the report of the Methods Committee of a copyright being claimed by members of the committee.

Mr. E. C. S. Turner said he was the only surviving member of the old committee and the word copyright had never been mentioned by him.

MEETING PLACES.

Mr. Harold Rogers asked why it was proposed to amend the existing rule of one in three meetings being held in London.

The Secretary: The reason is the difficulty of a suitable room. To-day we have to cater for about 200 people, and we thought that there was more accommodation in the provinces.—The report was then carried.

PEAL COLLECTION COMMITTEE.

The collection of Major Methods compositions was ready for the printer. The committee expressed their thanks to Mr. Stephen Hoare, of Watford, for his assistance in typing the bulk of the peals.

The late Gabriel Lindoff's collection of peals of London Surprise Major had been examined with the possibility of its publication as a broadsheet. This contained 279,796 compositions, and on account of its size it was unsuitable for publication as a broadsheet. The committee recommended that the collection be not published in any form for the following reasons:—

(1) That such a large number of compositions in any one method was not required by the Exercise, in view of the number already available.

(2) That since Mr. Lindoff had (apparently) exhausted all the In and Fifths compositions having the 6th twelve courses home and two other bells only in 6ths, he had inevitably included all the compositions with these qualities which had been previously produced by other composers. It would be quite unfair to publish all these as Mr. Lindoff's compositions, and so rob other composers of the credit for their work.

The committee proposed to produce a collection of peals of Royal and Maximus, subject to the approval of the Council.

This report was proposed by Mr. G. R. Newton and seconded by Mr. C. W. Woolley.

The Secretary said the Standing Committee recommended that the views be accepted on the Lindoff Broadsheet.

Mr. Turner: I understand that there are some 20 misprints in the Lindoff broadsheet. Are the committee aware of them?

Mr. Woolley: I was not aware of that.

THE METHODS COMMITTEE.

Being a completely new committee of the Central Council, we have been 'finding our feet' during the past year.

We have decided to tackle three pieces of work which seem to be in general demand, and on two of these the advice of the Council is sought.

The uncontroversial task is the revision of the Plain Major and Cater book which is taking shape and, we hope, will be ready for publication next year.

The other two are the questions of the Surprise Major Book and Doubles Methods—both of which were mentioned at last year's meeting of the Council.

In the case of the former, two facts have to be taken into account: (a) the publication by Mr. Corrigan of a large collection of Surprise Methods: (b) that the committee has been unable to obtain the MSS. of the book prepared by the last committee because its copyright is, apparently, claimed by the members of that committee. Thus it seems that a completely new book will have to be produced, and, in the light of (a), we feel we should ask the Council if this is now thought to be necessary before commencing on this task.

The preliminary discussions on the third subject have shown different opinions as to how far the general rules of the Council may be relaxed when considering the question of Doubles Methods. At the moment chaos rules in the manner of ringing and naming these methods and we must first try to produce some semblance of order. Thus methods with identical plain courses, but using different kinds of Bobs and Singles, are named differently. At the moment the committee has not arrived at any definite conclusions except that Plain Bob lead heads will have to be deemed non-essential if any variety of methods is to be produced. To ensure this variety, other rules will probably have to be relaxed also. Which of these and how far to go is what we are thinking about at the moment. The one point we are trying to bear in mind all the time is that relaxations shall be the absolute minimum to produce a sufficient variety of Doubles Methods for all whose interest lies in that direction. Next year we hope to put before the Council our recommendations and ask for general approval so that a Doubles Methods book can be produced.

Moving the report, the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead said as to the MSS. of the old Surprise book, the word copyright had been mentioned. He supposed that technically the committee had not gone into that matter, but the position was that this committee had not been able to obtain the MSS., which seemed to suggest that the last committee claimed it as their own. If that was the case, it did not seem any different from claiming the copyright. There was no mention of that word in any communication with the last committee, but he felt fully justified in using it to explain the circumstances.

In regard to Doubles Methods, the committee were up against a very big problem. They had not been able to come to any conclusion or to put a definite recommendation before the Council.

Mr. F. Rogers seconded.

Mr. Turner said as he had been mentioned indirectly in the Methods Committee's report, he would like to place on record his attitude. He assisted the late Mr. Trollope with the book and it was finished in 1935 and presented to the Council. The Council then had not enough money to print the book, as it would cost £400. It more or less followed the pattern of the Jasper Snowdon series. If the Council was prepared to print the book as it stood, he was prepared to hand it to the committee.

The Secretary said the Standing Committee recommended that the copyright was claimed by the Council and requested Mr. Turner to hand the work over to the committee.

Mr. Anderson, in seconding, said any committee who prepared a publication for the Council must always understand that any copyright was vested in the Central Council.

Mr. Harold J. Poole said he wanted to say that no one recognised Mr. Turner's ability more than he did, and it was such a pity that this had occurred. No matter how clever a man was, if he was not going to pull with the Council as a team they were better without him. He hoped that Mr. Turner would be prepared to accede to the request that had been made and hand over the book.

Mr. Turner: I am always willing to accept the view of the majority of the Council. On the one hand this book is finished. What can the new Methods Committee do with it? If they alter it and make an entirely new book then they might start from the beginning; if, on the other hand, they are not going to, there is no need for the copy. I can deal with the officers of the Council and see the book through publication, as I am the only living member of the committee.

Mr. Poole: We are more concerned with the principle than the book, and we ought to support the Standing Committee that the book be handed over.

The Chairman: I will put the motion and ask Mr. Turner to hand the book to the hon. secretary as recommended by the Standing Committee.—The report was carried.

PEALS ANALYSIS COMMITTEE.

The summary of peals rung during 1948 showed a total of 2,364 on tower bells and 274 in hand, making a grand total of 2,638.

Mr. C. Dean, in moving the report, stated that a further analysis would be published in 'The Ringing World' later. He would like to point out that one of the peals rung last year was a peal of Grandsire Minor. Would the Council wish to have that erased from the report?

Mr. Walter Ayre, seconding, said regarding the record length peal of Double Norwich, it did not comply with the regulations governing record lengths. Secondly, as regards the peal of Bristol with two kinds of bobs, as long as they admitted a single in Cambridge Major they must accept that (hear, hear).

Mr. Leslie Morris said he noticed that the Yorkshire Association was credited with 110 peals. They had 111 peals published in their report. Was there any reason for the omission of a peal?

Mr. C. Dean: One peal was rung for the St. Martin's Guild. I will look into the matter.

Mr. P. J. Johnson raised the question of the peal of Cambridge with a single in it. In view of the Decisions of the Council, could they legitimately call that a peal of Cambridge?

The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead: That was rung last year.

Mr. E. A. Barnett: Members may recall last year a peal of Cambridge containing a single came up for discussion on this identical report and the Standing Committee recommended that the peal be not accepted. That recommendation might have gone through but for a speech by Mr. Harold Cashmore, and the matter was allowed to lie on the table for 12 months and the question of singles in Cambridge and other Treble Bob methods should now come before the Council.

The Rev. Felstead: On the other hand, Mr. Cashmore suggested that it should be thoroughly investigated. That has not been done.

Mr. P. J. Johnson: You are wasting your time discussing it until you remove that Decision of the Council. Let us put our foot down and maintain the Decision of the Council.

Mr. C. K. Lewis: Let us think, is this good for the Exercise? Are two kinds of bobs in a peal going to be any good? If so, shall we ring Stedman Cinques with 5, 7 or 9 place bobs? When you have got two kinds of bobs in a peal, what is to prevent 22? If you want a peculiar quality you can justify it by this peal of Bristol with two kinds of bobs. I have nothing against six place bobs in Bristol. I have done as much experimenting as anybody, but I have burnt the results or put them away. What are we going to ring in future years? When once you open the door you can't shut it.

Mr. Johnson, in reply to further discussion, said the Council as such had no executive authority to prevent a peal of any kind being rung, but to say that any kind of peal was a standard of the Exercise was a different matter altogether. Most of these things were looked upon as ingenious, but the time arrived when they had to codify their calls where they could get certain effects without altering the bob and single.

The Chairman: The position is that the report of the Peal Analysis Committee has been proposed for adoption, and so far there is no other motion before the Council.

Mr. Harold Rogers: I should like to propose that any peal that is rung and does not conform to the Rules and the Decisions of the Council be ruled out.

Mr. Harold Poole: I second that.

Mr. John Freeman said he could see nothing in the Decision that would prevent peals with 4th place and 6th place bobs.

Mr. Vincent maintained that they could not have two kinds of bobs to one composition.

Mr. George Feirn: I think using two bobs in Bristol is only a variation.

The resolution proposed by Mr. Rogers was carried with three dissentients (the Rev. Felstead, Messrs. Woolley and Kippin).

Mr. Woolley: Does that mean that you cannot ring Double Norwich with a fourth place bob?

The Chairman: I cannot tell you that.

Mr. J. Freeman: Will Mr. Dean tell us whether the peal of Bristol will be ruled out?

No answer was given.

WORCESTERSHIRE & DISTRICTS

INCREASED SUBSCRIPTION PASSED.

Despite very definite resolutions from all the branches in favour of holding the annual meeting on a Saturday instead of Easter Monday as in past years, the experiment at Worcester on April 30th could not be described as successful.

A mere handful of 22 was present at the service arranged in All Saints' Church at noon and a very poor attendance of less than 50 at the general business meeting held in College Hall.

The president, the Very Rev. Arthur Davies, Dean of Worcester, having left the city on his retirement the day previously, the chair was taken by the chaplain, the Rev. H. Hartley, and in his opening remarks he paid warm tributes to the work done for the Association by the late Dean. It was decided to send a message of gratitude to him with best wishes in his retirement.

Arising from the minutes, the secretary reported on considerable correspondence with the Lord Bishop, the Archdeacons and the Advisory Committee on the disposal of the now redundant ring of eight bells at St. Helen's. It was hoped that a tower could be found in the diocese where these bells could be hung for ringing.

INCREASED SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Due to the increasing costs of printing the annual reports, the general fund showed a loss on the year of £7 14s. 1d., this following a similar loss in 1947 of £10 3s. 7d. A resolution as recommended by the Central Committee—a copy of which had been circulated to all towers—was before the meeting to increase the annual subscription for performing members from 1s. 6d. to 2s. 6d. A rider to this, proposed by Mr. G. E. Large and seconded by Mr. T. Hemming, that juniors up to their 17th birthday should pay 1s. 6d., came in for discussion, and eventually it was resolved that the annual subscription be 2s. 6d. and 1s. 6d. for juniors with effect from January 1st, 1950.

Grants from the Belfry Repairs Fund, totalling £35, had been made to four towers during the year, and the balance in this fund stood at £155, with only £57 in the General Fund.

It was unanimously decided to invite the new Dean of Worcester, when appointed, to accept the office of president, and all other officers were re-elected. The arrangements for the annual peal were left to the Master, Mr. C. Skidmore, and for the next annual meeting, both Evesham and Worcester were proposed, Worcester again being selected.

Eight performing members from the new band at Elmley Lavett were elected, and the meeting closed with the usual comprehensive votes of thanks.

Bells at the Cathedral, All Saints', Claines, Hallow and St. John's were available during the afternoon and evening.

Burford (Oxford) Bells Appeal

The well-known bells of Burford Parish Church, one of the best known churches in Oxfordshire, have to be rehung as the ancient wooden frame has rotted and is endangering the structure of the tower.

The cost of rehanging in a new frame will be approximately £1,500, and of this the small Cotswold town of less than 1,000 people has contributed no less than £900 by a house-to-house collection.

Many visitors go to Burford every year, and the large church, with its superb architecture and lofty tower containing a fine ring of eight bells, forms the centre of their pilgrimage.

Burford possesses an enthusiastic team of ringers, and until the enforced break the bells were rung regularly twice each Sunday and for practice ringing in the week. The tower has also been the centre for combined practices with ringers from neighbouring towers.

It is to the many who know and love Burford and have taken part in ringing on this fine eight with its pre-Reformation tenor that this appeal for one of the greatest treasures of the Church is made.

Donations, payable to the Burford Bells Restoration Fund, will be gratefully accepted and acknowledged, and may be sent to me or direct to the Rev. R. F. Scott-Tucker, St. John's House, Burford, Oxford.—B. S. Nichols (Tower Secretary), High Street, Milton-under-Wychwood, Oxford.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

BOWDON, STOCKPORT AND MOTTRAM BRANCH.

On May 21st a meeting of this branch was held at the pleasant village of Hayfield on the edge of the well-known Kinder Scout. Good use of the recently augmented peal continued until the service in church, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. — Holehouse, who gave the branch a very warm welcome to his church.

Tea was served to 70 members and friends in the nearby cafe.

Mr. Elkins, who presided at the business, expressed the pleasure of the members at being able to visit Hayfield again, and cordially thanked the Vicar for his excellent address and his interest in the work of the Guild. The Vicar, in reply, said he had been struck by the 'family' spirit of the gathering since not only did the ringers come, but also brought their wives and families along.

The election of Denis Bolton (Burbage), W. Hardy, W. Barlow and J. Oliver, of Stockport (St. Mary's), and Donald Whitehead, of Hayfield, as members of the Guild, was carried.

A discussion as to the attitude the branch should adopt at the annual Guild festival resulted in a resolution recommending a quota system on a per capita basis for each branch with no restriction as to how it was to be raised.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

MEETING AT BIRSTALL.

Memories of the late Canon C. C. Marshall were recalled by the meeting at Birstall on May 28th. The president (Mr. T. Hill) referred to the Canon's passing and said in his early days he was a ringer at Birstall and invariably attended the society's meetings there. The members stood in silence as a tribute to his memory.

A vote of thanks to the churchwardens and local company (especially naming Mr. Britton for arranging the splendid tea) was proposed by Mr. F. Hodgson and seconded by Mr. T. Hill. Mr. Britton acknowledged the thanks, and said the society was welcome at any time that arrangements could be made, and if they had enjoyed themselves he was amply repaid for his work.

The next meeting is to be a joint meeting with the Selby and District Society at Kippax on June 25th.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

GREAT BOURDON OF NOTRE DAME

Dear Sir,—The scene is Notre Dame de Paris on Whit Sunday. In front of this magnificent cathedral, bathed in the brilliant morning sunshine, stands a group of ten or twelve men, amongst whom are four soldiers. They are volunteers all, gathered for the ringing of the Great Bourdon of Notre Dame, No. 2 bell of France.

About 9.25 a.m. the ascent to the tower—a rather breath-taking one for the writer, who is out of practice—was begun. At a height of about 150ft. the party emerged from the north-west tower, and after pausing for a rest, entered the south-west tower where hung the object of our climb.

Coats off and a little organising by the leader and soon eight of the group are in position. There are no ropes for ringing. At right angles to and at each end of the headstock is a thick plank a foot wide. Two men stand at each end of each plank.

Preliminaries consist of three groups of three blows with the clapper on the side of the bell. Then the ringing commences. First the men on one side press down with their feet on the plank, then those on the other. A see-saw action takes place, thus swinging the bell.

Higher and higher it rises until it begins to ring with a deep melodious note. Now there is something to work for, and more effort is expended until the bell is clappering both sides and swinging through an angle of about 120 degrees. The 'spare hands' can be seen moving from one group to another giving a rest to those who require it.

The ringing continues for about 5 to 10 minutes, after which the bell is allowed to ring itself down. By this time those who have stayed the full course (yours truly included) are bathed in sweat, as it is strenuous work. For my personal satisfaction I was pleased to notice, on descending, that the bell, still ringing down, was clappering the right way.

The Bourdon now weighs 13¼ tons and has existed in its present state since the beginning of the 15th century. There were originally two bells cast in the early 14th century and they were melted down to make the present one. It was called Emanuel Louis Marie-Therese after the reigning King and Queen of France. The clapper weighs approximately 10 cwt.

When nearly all the bells in France were taken from the churches during the Revolution to make cannons and money, the Bourdon was threatened with the fate. It was taken from its frame and some 50 years elapsed before it was rehung. The old frame being in a bad state of repair, a new one was made, and I think this is the one which is still in use. The system of ringing has not changed in any case, as may be ascertained from reading Victor Hugo's description of it in his novel, 'Notre Dame de Paris.'

Whether the participation in the ringing of this bell enables me to lay claim to the name of a Quasimodo I don't know, but I feel I must be one of very few Englishmen ever to take part.—Yours faithfully,

JACK R. WORRALL.

Gagny, Seine et Oise, France.

STANGROUND BELLS

Dear Sir,—Our thirteenth century church was bombed in 1942. In December last it was rehallowed by the Bishop, and the four new windows replacing the ones which had been bombed were also dedicated by the Bishop, as was also our new bell, which had been hung a few days before.

Now we have to find £700 for repairing the tower, and our six bells are dumb until the work is completed.

If any should see this, who would wish to help, will they kindly send gifts to the Treasurer, The Restoration Fund, Stanground Vicarage, Peterborough.—Yours truly, MORLEY WELLS, Vicar.

KEEPING THE ART ALIVE

Dear Sir,—Group Captain Lister is rather sweeping and not quite accurate in his remarks about peal ringers. As my yearly average of peals over a period of 28 years is only about 1½, perhaps I may be permitted to say a word on behalf of peal ringers.

Group Captain Lister's letter seems to suggest that peal ringers and service ringers are two different sets of people, while the fact is that while all service ringers are not peal ringers, all peal ringers are service ringers (at least this is my experience) and are also regular in church attendance. We find among their numbers churchwardens, church councillors, secretaries of church councils, sidesmen, choristers, as well as ringing association secretaries, district secretaries, Central Council representatives, etc.

As for being selfish, I know quite a number of these men who spend a lot of their time in visiting other towers to help beginners. If Group Capt. Lister takes the trouble to read the peal reports in 'The Ringing World' regularly he will perhaps be surprised at the number of times that well-known peal ringers' names appear in someone's first peal of Bob Minor or even Doubles. Surely this is helping to keep the art alive?—Yours faithfully,

Huntingdon. FRANK W. LACK.

THE IMAGINARY LINE

Dear Sir,—Mr. T. V. Lister's assertions are too sweeping. It is impossible to draw a straight line between peal ringers and non-peal ringers, as he tried to do in his letter of June 3rd. There are peal ringers who attend regularly on Sundays for service ringing and moreover attend the service afterwards.

In the same way there are some who do not do these things. There are also non-peal ringers who attend regularly for service ringing and service, and some who do not, and some are irregular in attendance from both sides of this imaginary line. It is the best we can expect in this uncertain world, where the four freedoms are being so manfully striven for. It is illuminating to read of peal ringers described as adornments and pinnacles, etc., nothing like breaking up the skyline, is there?—Yours faithfully, P. LAFLIN.

ALL SAINTS', BRISTOL, PEAL BOARDS

Dear Sir,—Among the records of the Peal Boards Committee of the Central Council are the details of the board recording the 'Grandsire Treebles' rung in 1791 at All Saints', Bristol, but I was unaware of its condition.

Its restoration and future care depend, of course, upon the local church authorities, but there would appear to be a chance for the Bristol University Society ringers to draw official attention to the matter.

Mr. C. T. Brown may like to know that according to the committee's information there was a board at St. Mary-le-Port, Bristol, recording a peal of Union Treble Bob rung in 1782.—Yours faithfully, WILFRID G. WILSON.

THE LADIES' GUILD

CENTRAL DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Central District was held at St. James', Clerkenwell, on May 28th, a large number of members and friends attending from a wide area.

At the business meeting which followed the service and tea, officers elected were: Vice-president, Mrs. R. F. Deal; secretary and treasurer, Miss D. E. Lidbetter; assistant secretary, Mrs. C. Matthews; committee, Mrs. T. Lock, Mrs. F. Housden, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Mitchell. After votes of thanks to the various people who had helped to make the meeting a success, the ringers adjourned to St. Giles-in-the-Fields, where further ringing was enjoyed.

Lincoln Diocesan Guild

NORTHERN BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Northern Branch was held at Gainsborough on May 28th, attended by about 58 members and friends with visitors from Derbyshire, Nottinghamshire and Birmingham.

The Vicar of Gainsborough took the service and also presided at the business meeting which followed, the president, the Ven. Archdeacon E. L. Marsden, of Grimsby, being unable to attend owing to illness.

Members stood as a mark of respect to Mr. F. S. W. Butler, of Gainsborough, who was for some time the secretary of the branch.

The following officers were elected: President, the Ven. Archdeacon E. L. Marsden; hon. treasurer, Mr. W. Bramwell; hon. secretary, Mr. F. Lord; Ringing Master, Mr. J. A. Freeman; representatives on the Guild Committee, Mr. J. Walden, Mr. G. E. Feirn; hon. auditors, Mr. G Dobbs, Mr. M. Walker.

It was agreed that the sum still required, approximately £22, to complete the Rupert Richardson Memorial Fund be subscribed out of branch funds.

A resolution from the Gainsborough District, 'That members be asked to subscribe to a simple form of stone, suitably inscribed, to be erected at the head of Mr. Butler's grave,' was approved.

Subscriptions can be sent to Mr. G. L. A. Lunn, Crow Garth, Lea, Gainsborough. A collection made at this meeting to start this fund realised £3 1s. 3d.

Owing to the increased cost of reports, etc., it was decided to raise the Northern Branch subscription to 2s. 6d. per year, starting from January 1st, 1950.

The usual votes of thanks brought a very successful meeting to a close.

DEDICATION

STROUD ST. LAWRENCE.

The Bishop of Tewkesbury rededicated the bells of Stroud St. Lawrence on May 15th following recent rehanging on ball bearings by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. Following the dedication the Bishop placed the ropes in the hands of the ringers, who rang Queens.

The ceremony took place during evensong, and previous to the dedication the Vicar (the Rev. K. E. Williams) gave a short history of the bells and their inscriptions, that of the treble being: 'In sweetest sound let each its note reveal—mine shall be first to lead the dulcet peal.'

The foundry was represented by Mr. John Thomas, who had supervised the work on the bells.

METHOD EXTENSION

By LIBRA.

PROBABLY more ink has been spilled, and more time and space wasted, over the question of method extension than over any other matter with which the Exercise has been concerned. There has lately been a recurrence of a controversy which arises periodically, regarding the extension of London Surprise from Major to Royal, and it was presumably to further the claims of one version of the Royal that a motion came before the Central Council at York. This motion was introduced by a speech of so complex a character that it is doubtful if the proposer himself was aware of its exact significance, and it is quite certain that most, if not all, of the other members present were equally in the dark. Moreover, as Dr. Hatcher was in attendance as a representative of the Kenty County Association, it would be interesting to know how the members of that body regard his appearance, at their expense, as the self-confessed mouthpiece of the Universities Association.

A certain section of the Exercise has, it would seem, been 'blinded with science' to the extent of believing that tedious argument using pseudo-mathematical jargon must inevitably possess greater accuracy than a discussion conducted in ordinary ringing terms. These people fail to realise that the experts of the past were quite capable of clear reasoning, and that they themselves have no monopoly of wisdom. All material arguments on the subject of method extension were put forward years ago, and it may safely be said that if in the past no agreement could be reached on what was the correct extension of a particular method, none is likely now. The recent series of articles added little or nothing to what was already known on the subject, except perhaps to propound the peculiar view that where the theoretically correct extension is inadmissible because it produces an irregular leadhead, the 'nearest possible' will suffice. This is obviously nonsense. Either an extension is or is not correct, and if it is not it has no claim whatever to the title of the basic method.

Luckily, in many cases no dispute arises, but it is unfortunate that London does not come in that category. Were the method a comparatively simple one, all dispute on the subject would have ended long ago, but London is so synonymous with maximum difficulty that both ringers and composers alike seem to succumb to the magic of its name. Thus peals in three different methods have quite incorrectly been published as of 'London Surprise Royal.' The Council had the courage to re-name the first of these, and it is a pity it did not insist on fresh names for the other two. However, now that we are threatened with a peal in a fourth version of the method, perhaps the Council, through the Methods Committee, will take the opportunity afforded by the motion passed in considerable haste at York to redeem some of its vacillations of the past by declaring unequivocally that London Royal as a legitimate method does not exist.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Miss Evelyn Steel, president of the Bedfordshire Association, and well known in connection with the Ladies' Guild, participated in a peal rung in her honour on the eve of her 70th birthday on June 9th. Miss Steel is very fit and is to be congratulated on this as on many other occasions in not making a trip. After the peal, by kind invitation of Miss Steel and her sister, the band adjourned to Kings Close for refreshment.

Mrs. F. J. Marshallsay, of Bournemouth, has called peals of Grandsire Triples from each pair.

First lady member of St. Andrew's, Netherton, Worcs., band to ring a peal is Miss May Smith.

With peals at Wakefield and Leeds, Mr. R. H. Dove has completed peals of Kent and Plain Bob from Minor to Maximus.

Apropos the peal at Wakefield, a reader asks, Is Mrs. Olive Rogers the first lady to ring a twelve-bell peal in Yorkshire?

The peal by servers commented on at the Central Council meeting was rung on Sept. 2nd, 1932.

Those who rang the peal at Wivelsfield, Sussex, were certainly under a misapprehension that the bells had not received professional attention since 1894. They were in the hands of the Whitechapel Foundry as recently as November, 1947, writes the Master of the Sussex County Association.

The claim submitted that Miss Margaret Fidell was the first lady to ring two Surprise peals in a day is incorrect. Miss Hilda Snowden did such a performance in 1933 or 1934, Mrs. Harold J. Poole twice in 1923, and Mrs. Sylvia Pipe on August 14th, 1948. We understand there are other ladies who have such a record.

From Kenya writes Mr. Desmond G. Mayell: 'I must say how very glad I am to receive my "Ringing Worlds" and hear of the progress being made, although it is very disappointing not being able able to ring in Nairobi. One never realises just how much ringing does mean until it cannot be had at any price.'

Mr. Arthur Firth has 'circled' Rotherham tower.

Congratulations to Mr. Peter J. Staniforth on his 100th peal. The occasion was the 100th Surprise peal for the conductor, Mr. G. Stedman Morris.

A correspondent desires to call Mr. F. Bennett's attention to another tower in Kent, Sandwich, where no peal has yet been rung. He adds that there is no likelihood of one.

A peal of Cambridge Royal was rung at Ripon Cathedral on May 19th, 1934. The claim in last week's 'Ringing World' is thus a little out of date.

Regarding the peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal rung at Christ Church, Macclesfield, on May 7th, the ringer of the 8th was Mr. Walter Allman and not Mr. C. W. Lawton as previously stated.

By ringing a peal of Kent Treble Bob Minor at Blaydon-on-Tyne, Mr. F. E. Collins, of the Surrey Association, and Mr. John Anderson, North Staffs Association, have completed the cycle of Kent Treble Bob from Minor to Maximus.

The organiser of the Exeter peal band replies to Mr. A. P. Cannon's quip in the following terms: 'Who wants to ring bad going bells to peals? Probably all Mr. Cannon succeeded in doing at Ticehurst was to leave an impression behind him that the bells did not require any attention. He gave himself a good hiding in the bargain!'

Record Lengths and Council Decisions ..... Liverpool Cathedral Bells ..... Ringers 'Fast Dying Out' Refuted ..... 'Ringing World' Debate

RECORDS COMMITTEE.

THE committee reported the following new methods and progressive lengths rung during the year:—

Tower bells. — 5,040 Longney Bob Major, Oxford Diocesan Guild; 5,088 Cheshire Surprise Major, Chester Diocesan Guild; 5,040 Spliced Oxford Bob, Grandsire, St. Clement's and Double Court Triples, Sussex County Assn.; 5,184 Withyham Surprise Major, Sussex County Association; 5,040 Prittlewell Surprise Royal, Essex Association; 5,120 Shenley Surprise Major, Hertford County Association; 5,152 Stanton Surprise Major, Leicester Diocesan Guild; 5,088 Bayswater Surprise Major, Middlesex County Association; 5,152 Stockport Surprise Major, Chester Diocesan Guild; 5,088 New London Court Bob Major, Norwich Diocesan Association; 5,152 Ramsey Surprise Major, Chester Diocesan Guild; 5,120 Ospringe Surprise Major, Kent County Association; 5,152 Edinburgh Delight Major, Leicester Diocesan Guild; 5,120 Spliced Surprise Major (22 methods), Lincoln Diocesan Guild; 5,280 Lincolnshire Surprise Maximus, St. Martin's Guild; 5,040 Rutland Surprise Royal, St. Martin's Guild.

Progressive lengths. — 5,600 Aldenham Surprise Major, Chester Diocesan Guild. Handbells: 13,664 Double Norwich C.B. Major, Hertford County Association; 10,800 Plain Bob Royal, Ely Diocesan Association.

On tower bells peals of Doubles have been rung in 30, 33 and 42 methods.

Mrs. Fletcher moved the adoption of the report and Mr. F. I. Hairs seconded.

Mr. Harold Poole: What is the position of the Double Norwich peal? Is it allowed or not?

The Chairman: It is put down as a progressive length.

Mr. Poole: We have no authority to get over the Decisions.

Mr. Anderson: Can't we get over it by the members not being aware of the rules?

Mr. Johnson: Is there anyone who will say that ignorance is accepted as a plea in law?

Mr. Woolley: Have the Standing Committee any idea of revising these rules, as they are out of date? If the committee are not doing anything I should like to propose a motion to abolish them all.

The Chairman: A sub-committee has been appointed.

Mr. Johnson: The previous handbell lengths were subject to these Decisions, and while there is nothing to prevent a band ringing a record length without those who rang the previous one being told, it means that while those Decisions are on the books we cannot swallow our words. Once you have a decision you must adhere to it.

Mr. A. H. Pulling: When we rang our handbell peal we had people walking in and out during the whole time. You have your rules and you ought to stick to them. The trouble of this Council is that it is weak in saying 'No.'

Mr. Barnett: Last year this peal was discussed and it was agreed to accept it.

The report was then adopted.

TOWERS AND BELFRIES.

The Chairman, in a verbal report, said the committee had dealt with 26 towers and had replied to enquiries by the Society for the Preservation of Ancient Buildings on the movement of towers. Last year the committee called attention to the need of sound control, and in five cases information was supplied. Mr. Osborn had called attention to the need of clappering so that all bells up to 25 cwt. could be rung up in peal with clappers on the right side. A book in original calculation of horizontal forces had been reproduced photographically. He thanked Mr. Hazelden for his work in this direction.

On the question of sound control he would like to mention two cases with which he had been connected. In one of these towers the windows were blocked up with a layer of asbestos and other material at a cost of a little over £16. In the other case the ringers were able to scrounge asbestos sheeting and felt that furniture people use and a lining of plywood. The ringers did the job themselves and the total cost was about 30s.

Two years ago Mr. Newton gave some information about Liverpool bells and the possibility of those bells being finished. Mr. Newton had let him see a letter which the Dean of Liverpool had written, and without reading any part of that letter the substance was if the labour and material were available, Mr. Newton should be able to notify his friend that in 18 months' time it would be possible to make music at Liverpool. Permission has to be got, but the Dean is hopeful.

The Secretary said at the Standing Committee Mr. Lewis' book was examined by the members of the committee, and in view of the importance of the calculations it contained it was thought desirable that copies should be presented to some of the scientific bodies and the British Museum. The Standing Committee recommended that six copies be obtained.

Mr. Harold Rogers seconded and the report was adopted.

LITERATURE, PRESS AND BROADCASTING COMMITTEE.

References to bells and the art of ringing, both in the Press and in broadcast programmes, appear to indicate a wide and increasing interest in the subject, and it is satisfactory to note a marked improvement in accuracy. The part played by ringers last November in celebrating the birth of a Prince aroused enthusiastic interest among journalists.

Local newspapers in all parts of the country devote considerable space to events connected with the belfry. A recent instance is to hand in an article on the Henry Johnson Dinner published in 'The Birmingham Gazette,' with a picture of ringers holding their ropes in St. Chad's Cathedral. Lictures given by members of St. Martin's Guild have also been reported in the local Press, thus reaching a wider audience and creating a demand for more.

While 'The Ringing World' continues to flourish and increase its circulation at home, the New South Wales Association has produced a journal of its own under the title of 'The Ringing Towers.' We wish this praiseworthy enterprise all success.

With regard to broadcasting, we are glad to present in most respects a satisfactory report. Talks on bellringing have found a place in a number of programmes: one by a young girl telling of her introduction to the art was especially pleasing. Descriptions of the making, hanging and ringing of bells have been broadcast from foundries, with demonstrations of change ringing. Handbell music has been introduced in the Children's Hour and on other occasions. Christmastide broadcasts included both church bells and handbells in various places. The eight bells of Congresbury, Somerset, have been heard on several occasions. On one or two occasions ringers have been televised, and at the Henry Johnson dinner the B.B.C. recorded the speeches and also the Stedman Cinques rung on handbells, part of which was reproduced in the Round Britain series. In Ireland the bells of Christchurch Cathedral, Dublin, were broadcast on New Year's Eve.

In the important matter of ringing before a broadcast service we are able to report some measure of progress. On Easter Day this year bells did appear in the official programme, though it was to be regretted that a Choral Eucharist was broadcast from a cathedral without any sound of bells. It is now the regular practice to allow a brief period of uninterrupted ringing, but in very many cases it is curtailed to little more than a minute. In the Midland Region a satisfactory understanding has been established between ringers and officials of the B.B.C., but in the West strong representations have been made with respect to the very short time allocated to ringing. The committee consider that two minutes without any sort of interruption is a reasonable period for broadcasting bells before a service.

The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, in moving the adoption of the report, said that as to broadcasting, some correspondence between the Devonshire Guild and the Rev. Martin Willson, of the B.B.C., had taken place, and it could be said that that correspondence had done good. In recent weeks a reasonable time had been allowed for the ringing before broadcasting programmes. The correspondents from the Devonshire Guild asked for five minutes. He was sure that was out of the question; it ought to be a good solid two minutes, and in that time it would be possible to get 40 changes and a few well-struck rounds. In recent weeks there had been some improvement and the bells had appeared in print on the radio programme.

Mr. Edwards read a paragraph from a trade publication dealing with the production of electronic church bells by a factory at Norwich commending the apparatus, as it replaced that specialist who was fast dying out, the bellringer. It was proposed to have the apparatus on view at the British Industries Fair. Mr. Edwards expressed the hope that the specialists in existence would keep a watchful eye on Norwich.

Mr. F. C. Smale said his Guild had had correspondence with the Rev. Martin Willson. In his last letter he asked for two minutes. The recent broadcast from Portsmouth was exceedingly good, but it lasted only 1 minute 15 seconds. For the present he was afraid they would have to be satisfied with one minute of uninterrupted ringing.

Mr. Fred Rogers said as one who took part in the broadcast, the Rev. Martin Willson's promise was to give one minute of uninterrupted ringing.

The Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow said the paragraph that Mr. Edwards had read out was only two true except that the specialists were dying out. He was rung up by the people concerned and they told him that they had their bells in a fit state to look at. He went to the factory and was not a little astonished to hear the most remarkable imitation of Grandsire Triples that he had heard hitherto. It was composed of eight pieces of piano wire and the electrifying device that connected with the amplifier, and one could hear the bells five miles away or just near one by turning a knob. It was not open to some of the objections because the Grandsire method required a certain human artistry to play this. He tried to smash the apparatus by playing chords. There were only one or two minor technical qualifications to be made before this instrument was capable of making precisely the same effect as a ring of bells. It seemed that the only thing they could do was to get the Chancellors of dioceses to withhold faculties. It seemed to him the most serious competition they had had to face.

Mr. Harold Poole asked if Mr. Thurlow succeeded in impressing the firm that bellringers were not dying out and did he succeed in selling one of his books? (laughter).

PEAL BOARDS COMMITTEE.

Mr. Walter Ayre said he had heard nothing from the convener of the committee and had received no report since the last meeting.

The Secretary replied that the fact was that there was nothing to report. The Standing Committee had had a letter from Mr. Wilson, who had resigned from the Council and intimated that the committee had not met since the war. The remaining members of the committee were requested to appoint a convener and to obtain the papers in the possession of Mr. Wilson. They suggested that Mr. J. W. Clarke, of the Chester Guild, would be willing to serve on the committee.

The Council agreed to co-opt Mr. Clarke on the committee.

BIOGRAPHIES COMMITTEE.

A great volume of steady work has been accomplished during the past twelve months to fill in the gaps in our knowledge of early members of the Council. This has involved many hours of searching through old volumes of 'Church Bells' and 'Bell News' for information.

The problem of an efficient storage and filing system for the records has been tackled this year, and it was decided to use a large envelope for each person's records, filing them alphabetically.

During the existence of the 1945, 1946 and 1947 Councils questionnaire forms requesting biographical information were posted to all new members. Our knowledge is fairly complete, but 35 persons did not return the forms. New members of 1948-9 vintage have not yet been circularised.

The Secretary said that in the absence of Mr. Hazelden and Mr. Viggers he moved the adoption of the report.

'RINGING WORLD' ACCOUNTS.

The accounts of 'The Ringing World' showed a net profit of £227 3s. 5d. Income was: Rolls House Publishing Company, £1,079 9s. 9d.; postal subscribers, £991 16s. 6d.; advertisements, £195 11s. 2d.; notices, £321 16s. 7d.; sale of 'History of College Youths,' £24 13s. 6d. On the expenses side there had been no charge for clerical assistance.

Presenting the accounts, the Hon. Secretary said they showed a profit of £227. That profit could be very misleading. In the first place they had 53 issues during the year and had only charged postal subscribers for 52. The second point was that they had had a considerable number of eight-page issues and obviously it did not cost so much to print them. If they had had all 12-page issues the accounts might easily have shown a loss of £250. There was another thing. If they were to pay for the work done by the Editor and his staff adequately a considerable part of the profit would disappear. He had arranged for the accounts to be audited by a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants. The Standing Committee recommended that such action be endorsed.

Mr. F. I. Hairs seconded the adoption of the accounts.

Mr. N. Park suggested that the goodwill and blocks be written down from £200 to £1.

The Secretary promised to consider the suggestion.

Mr. F. V. Gant then withdrew the motion in the name of the Essex Association and said they were prepared to support the motion of the Guildford Guild.

Mr. G. L. Grover then moved the motion on behalf of the Guildford Guild: 'That in the opinion of this Council too much of the available space of "The Ringing World" is devoted to peal recording.'

He said the motion was not intended as hostile and aggressive criticism of either the Editor or the Editorial Committee. The Guildford Guild was very proud of the fact that the Editor was one of their ringing members and they should be the last to say any word or take any step to cause him to think that his work was not appreciated to the fullest possible degree.

As for the Editorial Committee, many of the older members of their Guild were well aware and mindful of the difficulties which confronted them when they took the steps which led to the Exercise acquiring the paper and were able fully to appreciate the very deep sense of gratitude that ringers owed to them for their prompt action at the time when the discontinuance of the paper was almost an accomplished fact.

Peals had been printed in 'The Ringing World' for so long in the manner in which they now appeared that the style had become traditional, and until the committee were convinced by the vote of the Council that a large section of the readers desired a change in style there was no doubt that they would continue in that traditional style.

'This motion is not intended to demand any heads on a charger or that the Editor and his Editorial Committee should present themselves at the Minster to-night with their own ropes round their necks and the keys of office in their hands, but it is intended simply and solely to draw attention to the fact that if the feeling of the Guildford Guild is any guide to the general feeling throughout the Exercise, that although they pay their 3d. per week cheerfully, they feel at the same time that they are not getting their money's worth.'

An analysis of the space in 'The Ringing World' up to the time of the Guild's annual meeting showed that of 220 pages, 74 were for peal recording, 12 for quarter peals, 43 for news, letters, articles of a more or less general interest, 10 for technical articles, 81 for advertisements. Roughly about one-third of the paper was devoted to peal recording and about one-fifth for news, letters and articles of more or less general interest. Of the readers, he thought that probably less than 20 per cent. were regular peal ringers, which meant that one-third of the paper was devoted to recording their activities.

He was not attempting to discourage peal ringing or to suggest that peal ringers were not the very cream of the Exercise. He claimed to be in the ranks of the peal ringers, having rung quite a few, including two that week-end, and hoped to ring many more. He was certain that it was the incentive given by peal ringing which would enable the Exercise to continue as a live and vital force in the future. He left to the Editorial Committee methods by which the space allocated to peals could be cut down.

Mr. F. I. Hairs: In the absence of Mr. Hazelden, and I do not think we run any risk of it being passed, I second it.

Mr. F. E. Dukes suggested a number of methods for curtailing the space occupied by peals.

Mr. A. H. Pulling said this was not a fresh question. Years ago it arose in the time of Mr. Goldsmith. They had an editor who had been in the paper business all his life and had been trained to know what the public wanted. The main news of the day as far as ringing was concerned was peal ringing. The Editorial Committee was composed of business people and not any Tom, Dick and Harry. To run a paper was a highly financial job. He was going to vote against the motion, although it came from the Guildford Guild.

Mr. H. J. Poole: We sometimes talk about the nigger in the wood pile; can't we know what the committee have in view?

COMMITTEE'S STATEMENT.

The Secretary said he thought the answer was to be found in the words of the proposer of the motion to leave it to the Editor and the Editorial Committee to get them out of the mess. Whatever was proposed was going to put more work on somebody. If the style of the peals was altered or set up in a different form the Editor was going to spend a lot more time re-writing them. It was proposed that the two motions should be heard and then the Standing Committee would submit their recommendation.

When they took over the paper in 1942 Mr. Trollope was the Editor. Since Mr. White had been Editor the circulation had risen from 3,250 to 4,700. In the first place, what yardstick were they to apply? Surely if they had an increased circulation that was an answer. The second point was when Mr. White took over the arrangement reached was that he should work approximately two days a week. If they gave effect to the suggestions it would mean employing someone for a full week.

Would it not be better to honour the memory of the founder by retaining the style of the peals? The answer to the question was an increased paper. If they had a 16-page paper the space occupied by peals would not be disproportionate. Could those who support the motion say where they could get the extra income? The accounts next year would show a loss of from £200 to £250, and then they would not be reimbursing the editorial staff adequately.

The time had come when they must face their responsibilities. Could anyone point to a specialist publication at 3d. a week and no increase in the war years? They would not find one.

The Standing Committee discussed this the previous night and they decided in the first place that they reimburse the editorial staff for their work. They had not asked for it. Why should they live on charity?

The second point was, was 3d. a week enough and whether it would not be better to increase the charge to 4d. and maintain a 16-page paper weekly. Could anybody tell him that a ringer could not afford another 1d. a week? In the past ringers had had things done for them too cheaply. They did not realise what went on behind the scenes in the production of the paper.

On behalf of the Standing Committee, he proposed that as from January 1st next the price of the paper be increased by a penny to 4d. and that for the benefit of the postal subscribers the annual subscription be £1 instead of 17s., 10s. 6d. for the half-year and 5s. 6d. quarterly.

Mr. A. Walker seconded.

A member suggested that the space occupied by bellfounders' advertisements should be reduced.

Mr. Fletcher replied that the reduction of space of their advertisements in an eight-page issue was an act of grace. They were entitled to their space and he deprecated any alteration.

Mr. Fidler: Might I suggest that you ask the three bellfounders to withdraw their advertisements.

Mr. F. Rogers: Are the display rates increased in proportion to the increased sales?

Mr. Fletcher: How can we fix a rate with a circulation of 4,800?

Mr. Fidler: On this question of value the value of 'The Ringing World' to the three bellfounders is nothing, because everybody knows who the three founders are.

Mr. George Pullinger: I suppose it is more beneficial to have postal subscribers?

Mr. Fletcher: We want as many postal subscribers as possible. We could deal with 2,000 under our present arrangement.

Mr. Blackwood said the motion of the Standing Committee was something in which they were absolutely unanimous, and in accepting that resolution they ought to express a debt of gratitude to the Editorial Committee.

Mr. G. L. Grover: In view of the report of the Standing Committee, I should be very happy to withdraw my motion.

The recommendation of the Standing Committee was then carried unanimously.

St. David's Diocesan Guild

PRESENTATION TO THE ARCHBISHOP.

The occasion of the annual meeting of the St. David's Diocesan Guild, coinciding with a rehearsal service for Sunday's ordinations and the presence of many tourists and 'pilgrims,' resulted in the well-known Cathedral being well filled on June 11th.

The retiring Archbishop of Wales, who is president of the Guild, was present, and the service was conducted by Minor Canons J. V. Jones and E. Lewis, and lessons were read by the Dean and Canon in residence (Archdeacon of Cardigan). With the presence of so many people and the ringing of bells throughout the afternoon it was hard to realise that the location was a 'village city' and not a large centre of population.

At the business meeting His Grace was presented with a silver bell-shaped inkpot suitably inscribed as a token of appreciation of his practical interest whilst president of the Guild, and in thanking the members the recipient said he was proud to have been president of a body that was of such help to the diocese and hoped they would be successful in their efforts to increase the amount and raise the standard of ringing. In providing memorials he said that nothing better could be considered than a bell or ring of bells. He expressed the hope that very soon the Guild could have tea at his residence at Abergwili.

A discussion took place on a proposition that financial assistance should be given to persons capable of instructing to enable them to attend isolated churches needing tuition. Reference was made to the distances between such rings of bells at St. David's and Haverfordwest, Tenby and Carmarthen, and how so many people learnt how to swing a bell and then, not having proper tuition, lost interest and drifted away.

This idea of financial assistance found no support and it was referred to committee.

A suggestion was made that before the monthly practices at Carmarthen members should be notified of the method to be practised so that books could be read. This was thought to be impractical, but the Master of the Guild (Mr. H. Jenkins, Tenby) said it was important for ringers to study at home and not turn up for practice ignorant of the fundamental rules of the method.

The annual reports of the hon. secretary (Mr. C. H. Hawkins, Llanelly) and the hon. treasurer (Mr. W. P. E. Sage, Burry Port) were adopted. The officers and committee were re-elected with the addition of Miss Trehearne from the newly-formed branch at Llanstephan and the Ringing Master (Mr. W. L. Williams, of Carmarthen Branch).

The collection for the Bell Restoration Fund amounted to £1 18s.

It was decided that the next meeting would be held at Llanbadarn Fawr, where the bicentenary of the bells was to be commemorated on September 10th.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

A special general meeting of the above Association was held at St. Peter's, Croydon, on May 28th, and attended by 51 members.

Ringing in a variety of methods took place and the service was conducted by the Vicar, Canon Renshaw.

At the meeting the Master, Mr. Dan Cooper, occupied the chair, and the proposition that Rule 17 should read 'The treasurer of the district shall remit to the general treasurer 50 per cent. of all subscriptions received,' not 75 per cent. as at present, was passed.

Rule 8 was amended as follows: 'An honorary member shall pay a subscription of not less than 5s. annually, or one donation of £2 2s. to become a life member. The subscription of a ringing member resident in the county of Surrey shall be 2s. 6d. annually,' not 2s. as at present.

The meeting terminated with votes of thanks to Mr. Blow for making all the arrangements and to the Vicar of St. Peter's.

Peterborough Diocesan Guild

SILVER JUBILEE MEETING.

The jubilee of the Guild was celebrated on Whit Monday at Peterborough with the annual meeting. The Guild form of service was conducted in the Cathedral by the president, the Archdeacon of Northampton, the lesson was read by the Dean, and the address was given by the patron of the Guild, the Bishop of Peterborough. A group photograph was taken after service in the cloisters.

One hundred and fifty-eight were present at tea, most of the branches being represented, and the president took the chair for the business meeting. Others present were the Master, Mr. E. E. Whitmore; Mr. B. J. Saddington, auditor; Mr. W. Rose, Central Council representative; Mr. R. G. Black, Guild secretary and treasurer; the Rev. Morley Wells, the Rev. S. F. W. Powell, Mr. G. Hancock and Mr. G. S. Valentine, branch chairmen; Messrs. A. Bigley, E. G. Orland, E. Nobles, G. E. Watson, G. W. Jeffs, W. H. Waldron and F. W. Hancock, branch secretaries; Mrs. E. S. Powell, Miss Thursfield, Mrs. H. J. Poole and several ringers from neighbouring guilds and associations.

The officers elected were: President, the Ven. C. J. Grimes, D.D., the Archdeacon of Northampton; Master, Mr. E. E. Whitmore; auditor, Mr. B. J. Saddington; secretary and treasurer, Mr. Ronald C. Noon.

The following grants were approved from the Bell Restoration Fund: St. Giles', Northampton, £10; Kingsthorpe, £10; Long Buckby, £10; Potterspury, £10; and Raunds, £5.

The Chairman referred with some very apt remarks to the resignation of the secretary and treasurer, and asked Mr. Black to accept, with their best thanks, a small present showing appreciation of all he had done for the Guild as secretary over a period of 23 years, previous to which he was a branch secretary for four years. He then handed Mr. Black a cheque for £33 8s. 6d.

The recipient, who was completely taken by surprise, suitably thanked all the members for this present and also for their support for the many years he had held office. Mr. Black was further honoured by being elected an honorary life member of the Guild. Among the veterans present were Messrs. G. Jeffs, sen., A. Y. Tyler, W. Perkins and H. Clarke.

The bells rung during the day were St. John-the-Baptist's and St. Mary's, Peterborough; St. Andrew's and St. Mary's, Whittlesey; Oundle and Woodston.

ROYAL AIR FORCE GUILD

Some 15 past and present members of the Royal Air Force and their friends attended a meeting at All Saints', Edmonton, London, on Whit Saturday.

At the business meeting it was unanimously decided to form a 'Royal Air Force Guild of Rngers.' The following officials were elected for the coming year: Hon. Master, Pilot Officer E. A. Dench; hon. secretary, AC/1 A. Rogers (W.T. Section, R.A.F., Shepherds Grove, near Bury St. Edmunds); hon. treasurer, AC/1 R. E. Manton.

To overcome any possible financial difficulty in the future it was decided to commence with an adequate subscription, and 5s. per annum was the sum agreed upon. All those ringers who have shown interest in the formation of the Guild will be notified in due course.

The meeting ended with a vote of thanks to the Vicar of Edmonton for the use of the bells. Methods rung included Stedman Triples and Double Norwich and Cambridge Major.

CAMBRIDGE MAJOR AT MEASHAM

Dear Sir,—With reference to peals of Cambridge Major, rung at Measham on June 4th, in Belfry Gossip, it is stated that this was believed to be the first of Cambridge on the bells. Sorry to disappoint, but the first peal of this was rung on March 19th, 1921, and called by F. H. DEXTER.

Leicester.

OBITUARY

JAMES CECIL BOOTH.

Mr. J. C. Booth was one of the original band which the late Mr. Pratt Cordingley built up at Pudsey in the early years of the present century; a band which became famous throughout Yorkshire for the pioneer work it did in Surprise ringing at a time when Kent Treble Bob was the standard method in the county.

Mr. Booth was not a prolific peal ringer (he never rang a peal outside his own tower), yet his modest total of 20 peals includes London, Bristol, Pudsey, Superlative and Cambridge Surprise Major. He was an excellent striker and a reliable method ringer; one, who by his retiring disposition tended to belittle his own ringing capabilities.

He suffered a long illness which prevented him from taking any active part in ringing for the past three years, yet the end came suddenly and unexpectedly. He passed to his rest on June 10th and a muffled peal was rung to his memory on the following Wednesday evening on the bells of Pudsey Church, where all his peal ringing had been done.

Mr. Booth, who was unmarried, was a brother of Major William Booth, the Yorkshire and England cricketer, who lost his life in the Great War 1914-18.

MR. JOHN POTTER.

If John Potter, of Walkden, near Manchester, could have chosen the day for his passing he would have selected June 4th, the day the Bolton Branch were holding their monthly meeting at St. Paul's, Walkden, the church where he was brought up and rang and which he loved.

The respect in which he was held was shown by the large attendance at the interment. The church was filled by people from the township and fellow-ringers from many parts of Lancashire. Mr. W. H. Shuker attended straight from the Council meeting at York.

Last September Mr. Potter completed 60 years as a ringer, and several peals were rung in different parts of Lancashire to celebrate the event. He was one of a band which did much spadework in the county, scoring the following first peals in the method by the Association, viz., Aug. 3rd, 1899, Darlaston Bob Triples at Walkden; Feb. 22nd, 1900, Duffield Major at Walkden; May 21, 1927, Ipswich Surprise Major at Newchurch; May 17th, 1937, Little Bob Royal at St. Helens.

He also took part in a 'silent' peal of Stedman Triples at Walkden, one in which four fathers and four daughters took part, and also with five of each. In all he rang 338 peals, conducting 187 in a large variety of methods, the most in one method being Stedman Triples, 153, conducting 98. He conducted a peal in every tower in the Bolton Branch.

He joined the Lancashire Association in 1890 and was its vice-president in 1921-22, and for the past 30 years was a member of the committee. He was a very reliable conductor.

His fellow-ringers carried him from his home to the church. Other ringers rang a course of Grandsire Triples over the grave on handbells, and others rang the muffled bells in reverse order and 'whole pull and stand.' In the evening a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung with the bells fully muffled. P. C.

DEDICATION

COULSDON, SURREY.

The ring of five at Coulsdon Parish Church was rededicated on June 8th by the Ven. N. K. Anderson (Archdeacon of Kingston) after their rehanging on ball bearings, retuning and the strengthening of the wooden frame by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston.

The bells are among the oldest of the working rings in Surrey, having been cast in 1675 by an itinerant founder. Ringing takes place from the church porch.

Ringers at the dedication service were G. P. Oldham (capt.), R. Davison, H. W. Dix, J. P. Crawley, W. Martingell. The church is in need of ringers.

LETTERS

SPLICED SURPRISE MINOR PEALS

Dear Sir,—To try and clear any misunderstandings, here are the facts with regard to the peals rung for the Lincoln Diocesan Guild. A peal in 28 methods was rung at Bourne on March 28th, 1936, conducted by J. W. Lake, and one in 32 methods at Folkingham on Nov. 12th, 1938, conducted by H. M. Day.

In the 1938 Lincoln Guild report an unfortunate error showed 31 methods only in the Folkingham peal. Westminster was one of the methods rung in the first extent, not Wearmouth as printed.—Yours faithfully,

Burton-on-Stather, Scunthorpe. J. BRAY.

KEEP THE EXERCISE ON HIGH LEVEL

Dear Sir,—Surely the sentiments expressed by Mr. Cecil W. Pipe in his letter published in 'The Ringing World' of June 10th are those which have been felt by many of his fellow-ringers for some time.

The world is full enough of slandering, backbiting and mud-slinging without bellringers joining in. Let us, as Christian men and women, strive to keep our Exercise on as high a level as possible.

May I make a suggestion? It is that all ringers read, meditate and practise the exhortation of St. Peter in I. Peter, 3, verses 8-12. If we all do this, then our Exercise—and the world—will be the better for our humble efforts.—Yours sincerely,

R. HUNT.

New Lodge, Mapledurham, Reading, Berks.

RE 'BICKERING'

Dear Sir,—May I at this rather late period make a few friendly comments on Cecil W. Pipe's letter in 'The Ringing World' of June 10th? On the main points of his letter I most heartily agree. We, as ringers (both sexes), should be a happy band of brothers and sisters—a kind of freemasonry if you like. My experience when visiting provincial churches has been this—as soon as the company knew I could do a little ringing I was at once one of them.

The bickering which he refers to in London of some years ago I feel sure has greatly disappeared. I can speak from experience at two practice nights, namely, St. George-the-Martyr's, Southwark, and St. Mary Magdalene's, Holloway, supervised by Messrs. James Prior and Robert H. Begrie respectively. These are more in the nature of social evenings than ringing practices. There may at times during a 'touch' be a sharp word to a member who may be about to make a mistake, but as soon as that has passed everything is all very friendly again and no more is heard of it. The world is too full of fault finders, and you, sir, are making a splendid suggestion to find the best in a person and not the worst. —Yours faithfully, R. NEWMAN.

Holloway, N.7.

PUZZLED AND TICKLED

Dear Sir,—It is not my intention to join in any for or against peal ringing quibble, but Mr. E. M. Atkins' letter of June 3rd tickled me. The suggestion was that the question of normal v. condensed peal reports could be solved by having both types.

Mr. Atkins suggested that those who order peal cards should have present type setting, the proposed condensed setting being reserved for the remainder. If the one or two peals a year ringer could qualify for present type by ordering peal cards, suppose the 20 or 30 a year ringer also orders cards. Would he be qualified? Sophist or not, I am puzzled.

This attempt at solution suggests to me that the advert to order peal cards should be revised and read, 'Order peal cards and secure present type setting for your peals. Send remittance with report. Twelve-bell peals 5d. a bell; five-bell peals, bob a rope; others in proportion; minimum 5s. a set of 12s.'—Yours faithfully, GEORGE W. FAULKNER.

Barking, Essex.

Guild of Devonshire Ringers

ANNUAL MEETING AT TIVERTON.

'You bellringers have in your hands the power of bringing joy to the rest of us. To me at least the sound of the bells is always uplifting.' So said the Mayor of Tiverton (Councillor E. G. Pierce) in his speech of welcome to the Guild of Devonshire Ringers on Whit Monday, when 150 members and friends assembled to support their president, Preb. E. V. Cox.

At the service in St. Peter's, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. W. E. Lane), the lesson was read by Prebendary Cox, the prayers by the Rev. J. M. Turner, and the preacher was the Rev. J. H. B. Andrews, Rector of Chittlehampton.

The bells of St. Peter's, Harberton, Sampford Peverell and Silverton were rung during the day.

Luncheon, in the Memorial Hall, was followed by the business meeting. A letter from the Rev. Martin Willson, West Regional B.B.C., was read. In it he stated, 'I am glad to know that you feel that two minutes of ringing would be considered acceptable. I think we shall have to be content with the rule of a minimum of one minute, but I shall not overlook the fact that at least one minute does not exclude a longer time being given over the air to changes.'

Mr. J. E. Lilley, while agreeing that there had been improvement in the broadcast of bells since the appeal to the B.B.C., insisted that the time should be five minutes. Preb. Cox stressed the desirability of good striking in all broadcast ringing.

A resolution, 'that each ringer in a peal for the Guild shall pay a booking fee of 6d., which shall be sent by the conductor to the general secretary,' was accepted by the meeting.

Prebendary Cox was re-elected president, Mr. F. C. Smale general secretary and Mr. A. L. Bennett general treasurer. Mr. A. G. Selley was the Ringing Master for the day, and amongst those present were Mr. A. W. Searle, who joined the Guild in 1886, and Mr. T. Laver, who joined in 1900. The next annual meeting was fixed for Ottery St. Mary, and the usual votes of thanks for the excellent arrangements were passed.

The annual report showed that there are 589 members with 248 non-resident members of the Guild. It stressed the need for young ambitious ringers to be instructed in conducting peals and that periodic cleaning of bell chambers and tightening of nuts and bolts at the end of the summer should be undertaken.

NON-ASSOCIATION PEALS

Dear Sir,—At the Council meeting at York reference was made to the servers' peal, which was rung for a non-ringing society. A band can ring a peal for any society it chooses, provided all are members, or none at all, as, for instance, the peal at Grendon recorded in this week's issue.

In the particular instance cited the band had been drawn from seven counties, and it was found that not more than two of the band belonged to any one association, so that they had no power to elect the others. Of necessity, therefore, the peal was, so far as ringing societies are concerned, 'non-association.'

As the servers' peal was rung 17 years ago, are we seriously being asked to believe that the Council is only now considering an isolated non-association peal rung before many of our present-day peal ringers were born, or is it that a certain member, unable to find a red herring to which J. F. S. refers, has had to dig up one which by now must surely be not red, but in an advanced state of decomposition?—Yours faithfully, R. H. DOVE.

Leeds.

AUSTRALIA CALLING!

DURING the past three years there have been 67,000 British emigrants to Austalia, and Mr. Philip L. Cooper, of 26, North Street, Collinswood, Adelaide, S.A., writes as a member of St. Peter's Cathedral Bellringers' Society on behalf of his fellow-members that he is sure that there must be some ringers among this new population, but to their knowledge none have appeared in Australian towers.

There are about 30 towers in Australia of which about 20 are ringing, and he suggests this should be made known to the ringing public at home. 'Change ringing in Australia has made great strides in the last three years, and if some ringing emigrants were here they would be of invaluable help to us. In Adelaide there are three towers, two of which are ringing. Our tower, as you probably know, is only two years old. It has a ring of eight by John Taylor and Co., with a tenor of 41 cwt., the largest swinging bell in the Southern Hemisphere.

'Many emigrant ships pass through Adelaide, and we extend a very cordial invitation to any ringer, emigrant or tourist, who comes to Adelaide to visit us. We ring for half an hour before each of the Sunday services, which are at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Our practice night is on Tuesdays from 7.15 to 8.45 p.m. Such ringers are asked to ring or write to either myself (tel. M2793) or to our captain, Mr. P. R. Vincent, 25, Brandreth Street, Tusmore (tel. F3515).

'I am sure that all towers in Australia would give similar welcomes, especially to emigrants, who would find in their fellow-ringers of Australia staunch friends for their future living. It was mainly the British Navy personnel who were stationed at Sydney during the war that put change ringing on its feet in Australia. We hope that ringer-emigrants can carry on where they had to finish. Australia must have English ringers of experience if it wishes to progress thoroughly in its change ringing.

'We hope that through the medium of "The Ringing World" all English ringers will know that they are really welcome in Australia. There are six ringing towers in Sydney, two in Adelaide, one in Melbourne, two at Hobart, one at Christchurch, N.Z. (two more elsewhere in New Zealand). There are several other towers in N.S.W. and Victoria which are in the country areas.'

The Central Council naturally watches very closely ringing in Australia. At York this year Mr. W. Rowe, of the New South Wales Association, was re-elected an hon. member, as a tribute to the fine work he is doing at Sydney, which includes the production of 'Ringing Towers,' the monthly bulletin, which aims at developing the family spirit and at the same time providing instruction. By his office as an hon. member he is thus the Central Council's direct representative. We in England want our Australian friends to know that it is our desire to help them in every possible way. To ringers at home who are thinking of starting a new life in Australia or New Zealand, we would impress upon them the advantages of the right hand of fellowship that has been extended to them. Contacts before sailing are very helpful.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Miss Margaret Beamish, of Nuneaton, completed 50 peals four days before her 14th birthday when she rang 5,184 Grandsire Caters at Chilvers Coton on June 20th. She rang her first peal on October 12th, 1946, and has conducted two and rung six 'in hand.' Congratulations, Margaret!

Messrs. J. L. Millhouse and H. L. Pask have 'circled' St. Hugh's tower, Lincoln Cathedral. The peal on June 13th was to mark the visit of the Archbishop of Canterbury to Lincoln.

Mr. Harold Walker, of York, writes: I notice no claim was made regarding the handbell peal of Stedman Cinques rung in York on Whit Sunday. We, in York, regard it as the first peal of Stedman Cinques to be rung in the city. Personally, I am of the opinion it was the first handbell peal of Stedman Cinques to be rung in Yorkshire.

It would appear some misunderstanding has arisen regarding the claim submitted on behalf of Miss Margaret Fidell, writes Mr. Leslie W. G. Morris. It was intended to convey that Miss Fidell was the first lady ringer to score her first peals of Spliced Surprise Major in four methods and Cambridge Surprise Royal in one day—a very commendable performance.

The claim to the Cambridge Surprise Royal rung on June 6th, 1949, being the first on the bells at Ripon Cathedral is quite correct. The conductor rang the tenor to what would have been the first on the bells on May 19th, 1934, conducted by Mr. E. Jenkins (the effort referred to), but most unfortunately the composition, a 3,040 by the late Rev. H. Law James, was discovered to be false. This was pointed out in a letter to 'The Ringing World' by Mr. W. Barton, hon. peal secretary of the Yorkshire Association. It is also tabled in the list of false compositions rung by the Yorkshire Association, and which is repeated in each annual report.

Mr. H. Patrick Cannon in his reply to the organiser of the Exeter peal states: Surely in any physical effort of sustained length, i.e., boxing, athletics, tennis, swimming — those who perform 'give themselves a hiding' to achieve something out of the ordinary. The physical side of ringing is just as important as the mental side, although in these days of ball bearings, etc., it tends to be neglected.

Mrs. Rogers is not the first lady ringer to take part in a twelve-bell peal in Yorkshire, the honour going to Mrs. J. Cotterell, who rang in a peal of Stedman Cinques at Sheffield Cathedral on March 12th, 1927.

The Hertford County Association deeply regret the passing of Canon F. F. Greig, of Royston, an honorary member of the Association. Canon Greig was always interested in the Association and extended a hearty welcome to all at ringing meetings at Royston and to visiting bands. In his memory 720 Kent Treble Bob and 720 Oxford Treble Bob were rung on June 23rd by A. Gilbert 1, W. Houghton 2, A. E. Symonds 3, S. E. Roberts 4, A. Parrish 5, E. W. Roberts (cond.) 6, G. Langridge tenor.

Last January the Rev. G. D. Burroughs started a band of four boys and himself at Hammerwood, near East Grinstead, where on the five bells only two peals have been rung. The boys can now handle their bells competently, but are handicapped by lack of numbers and experienced ringers. On June 12th, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles was rung by G. D. Burroughs (first quarter) 1, Miss E. Hyman (first quarter) 2, A. F. Lewry (cond.) 3, A. Turley (first of Grandsire) 4, H. Vaughan 5. The Rev. Burroughs hopes one day to augment the ring to six or eight. The first requirement, he adds, is more ringers, and it requires some ingenuity to enveigle the youth of the district into the tower.

YORK CENTRAL COUNCIL MEETING

The following notice of motion was submitted by the Universities Association: 'That this Council undertakes to review the principles of method structure, with the purpose of adopting criteria for the recognition of the extended form of a basic method.'

Dr. Hatcher said as a new member of the Council of the 1948-9 vintage, to use the phrase of the Biographical Committee, he did not anticipate that his maiden speech would mark such an important occasion as the presentation of the motion on method extension. He did so in the name of the Universities Association following a resolution at its last general meeting which took the form of an amendment to a proposition about London Royal. But while reluctant to make a rapid decision on the precise nature of extended London, this meeting gave full support to the idea of considering the problem of extension in more general terms.

Most methods were treble dominated with plain or treble bob hunting paths. They might be simple with a principle defining duty of bells ratelative to certain, often extreme, treble positions not multiplied in frequency as the number of bells was increased (e.g., Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob), or were more complicated with a principle defining duty of bells relative to these positions, and also to other internal positions which did increase with the number of bells (e.g., Cambridge). For a method of the latter type it would be evident that the minimum number of bells involved was that which sufficed for the independence, or non-interference, of the two types of duty.

From that point of view a method which could be extended at all could be extended upwards indefinitely, each addition of two bells giving an extra internal set of positions. Thus a method principle had for its expression a minimum number of positions which was variable according to the spatial implications of the duties, but an indefinite maximum, e.g., Plain Bob from four upwards, Cambridge six upwards, Yorkshire eight upwards.

Such extensions of the basic method, however, in many cases did not conform to accepted lead-end requirements, and in the case of these methods attempts had been made to produce legitimate extension by modification of the structural ideal. Here was the real problem, and there might be a large number of such variants claiming recognition as the accepted extended form. This was exactly the position with London, in which method some 16 versions for the Royal extension had been published in the last 40 years.

It was not his intention to comment there on the respective virtues or vices of these versions of London Royal. All he would do was to emphasise the urgent need for the Council to go into the matter thoroughly and then give the Exercise guidance.

In proposing the motion he would suggest that, if adopted, those entrusted with the responsibility of making the review of method structure should present a report to be published either in book form or in a series of articles in 'The Ringing World,' before the Central Council was asked to take any decision.

The Secretary: In the absence of Miss Cross I beg formally to second. At the same time it is my duty to given you the recommendation of the Standing Committee that the motion be accepted and referred to the Methods Committee for report.

Mr. E. A. Barnett: It is merely an easy way of getting out of something the Standing Committee does not understand, and speaking for one member of the Methods Committee he does not either (laughter).

The recommendation of the Standing Committee was carried.

NEXT MEETING

The Chairman said the Gloucester and Bristol Association had invited the Council to Cheltenham and the Sussex County Association to Eastbourne. The Standing Committee recommended Eastbourne, as they understood there would be a difficulty about accommodation at Cheltenham.

Mr. C. H. Kippin proposed that the next Council meeting be held at Bournemouth. The bells of Eastbourne could not be called first-rate, and there were not many towers in the vicinity. At Bournemouth there were ideal arrangements for ringing and accommodation.

The meeting decided in favour of Eastbourne.

Mr. J. Bray mentioned that members of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild extended a hearty welcome to the Council to visit Lincoln in 1951.

Mr. Anderson pointed out that 1951 was the festival year, and bellringing could claim a place among the art. He hoped the Council would try and do something that year—say a peal in every tower. He moved a vote of thanks to the chairman and officers of the Council, which was carried unanimously.

The President, before acknowledging the vote of thanks, said in connection with the birth of Prince Charles, Mr. Elston sent three copies of 'The Ringing World,' containing peals for the royal birth, to Princess Elizabeth, who had graciously acknowledged the copies, which she had read with much interest.

He thanked Mr. Anderson for his vote of thanks, and on behalf of the Council he desired to express their thanks to the Dean and to the Yorkshire Association for the arrangements they had made and also for the hospitality, especially of Mr. George Horner, of the York company.

The Rev. Ellison, president of the Yorkshire Association, said it was a great pleasure to his Association to receive the Council.

The conference was followed by tea at the College, the members of the Council and guests being entertained by the Yorkshire Association. A social evening was afterwards held at The Windmill, where Mr. Harold J. Poole was M.C.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION

BOLTON BRANCH.

A very good meeting of the Bolton Branch was held at Blackrod on June 18th. Several learners got a real good help in Plain Bob Minor. At the business part of the meeting Miss Muriel Reay, of Westhoughton, was complimented upon her very fine achievement. It is about two years ago since she learned to ring. She rang her first peal on June 27th last year, and now has 27 peals to her credit in the following methods, viz.: Doubles (Grandsire and Stedman), 1; Grandsire Triples, 3; Stedman Triples, 2; Stedman Caters, 2; Bob Minor, 2; Bob Major, 2; Bob Royal, 1; Little Bob Major, 1; Oxford T.B. Major, 1; Kent T.B. Major, 1; Kent T.B. Royal, 1; Double Norwich C.B. Major, 5; Yorkshire Surprise Major, 1; Cambridge Surprise Major, 4. Mr. J. W. Grounds, on behalf of the Wigan Branch, and Mr. J. Blackburn, on behalf of the Preston Branch, extended their compliments.

Another feature, as far as ladies are concerned, is the appointment of Miss Annie Potter as Ringing Master at St. Paul's, Walkden. She should prove an able successor to her father, the late John Potter.

Mr. Churchwarden Jolly and his wife very kindly provided tea.

LETTERS

TRENCHANT REPLY TO LIBRA

Dear Sir,—I must say that I deplore the leading article on Method Extension in this week's 'Ringing World.' As a personal opinion, among the correspondence it would not be out of place, even if written under a nom de plume (and I suppose this is really necessary?), but to have it in the position it is, where one expects to find an unbiased attempt to deal with all sides of a question, even though some definite conclusion is reached, is most certainly out of place. It could be taken as an attempt to coerce the Methods Committee in its work—to get them to rule the matter out of hand without the conscientious consideration of all points, which I have already asked the members to try to do even though they may (and I know some do) feel very strongly about it. I trust this is not so—at any rate, the Council may be assured that the matter will be properly investigated, even though the final conclusion may be the obvious one.

Again, even in the correspondence columns I would feel the general tone of the letter to be biased to the extent of unkindness. One of the things which I have found among some C.C. members (speaking as a newcomer) is this tendency to be really unkind to those who say or do something they dislike. Of course, nobody expects (I hope) that everybody will agree with his opinion on any matter, but I think it is only common justice to expect that that opinion will be respected and not simply treated with scorn and derision. It has happened to me, both by word and in 'The Ringing World,' and I fear I can detect the same spirit in this letter concerning Dr. Hatcher. Can anyone deny that the remarks about his speech are almost insulting and certainly most unkind?

Then, too, isn't the comparison of the present and the past also both unkind and dangerous? As far as I know, no present-day expert has claimed a 'monopoly of wisdom,' neither has he decried those who have gone before. But to say that any subject has been 'worked out' (that seems to be the sense of the words) is literally dangerous. Not only in ringing but in all subjects, most important and valuable discoveries have been made because someone has investigated some of these 'worked out' ideas and found them not so 'worked out' as was thought.

Finally, without meaning to be unkind (that would never do after what I have said above!) may I be very candid? The lack of respect for someone else's opinion is, I believe, one of the surest signs of ignorance. In my experience real knowledge always brings tolerance, for real knowledge means that all sides of the question have been considered, and if that is done I am certain that it brings respect for the judgment of another who has faced the same questions but arrived at a different conclusion.—Yours sincerely,

W. H. FELSTEAD.

THE MISSING PEAL

Dear Sir,—At the York Council meeting it was pointed out that the peals analysis summary gave credit for 110 peals rung by the Yorkshire Association during 1948, whereas the Association's report showed a total of 111. I have received a copy of this report, and I find therein a peal of Minor was rung at Silsden on May 1st, but I can find no record of this in 'The Ringing World.' Will the conductor kindly send the necessary particulars to the Editor so that my committee may complete their analysis?

CHARLES DEAN.

ESSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Membership Gains in all Districts

The 70th annual meeting of the Essex Association, held at Chelmsford on Whit Monday, was attended by 150 ringers and friends, each district being well represented.

The service in the Cathedral was conducted by the Provost (the Very Rev. C. K. Waller), the address being given by the Right Rev. Hugh Gough, Bishop of Barking. During the service the names of members who had died during 1948 were read, viz., S. Blatch (North Weald), S. Jennings (Harwich), A. Mansfield (Epping Upland), J. Moule, A. Prior (Leytonstone), J. E. Philbrick (Prittlewell), F. Ringe (Brentwood), J. Turner (Earls Colne), E. Townsend (Great Bardfield), besides the names of several non-resident members.

It was the first occasion the Bishop had been privileged to speak to a large gathering of ringers, and his stirring address will long be remembered by those present.

THE CRACKED BELL.

After referring to the place of bells in Church and civic life, the Bishop said:—

Occasionally one does hear a cracked bell—one that is out of tune with the others. Ringers call men to worship, but, is your life in tune with worship? Do you take part in the service or do you slip out after ringing, as I have seen ringers do? Sometimes we do not carry out the practice we urge upon others. Are our lives in tune with the music of the bells? They give forth the music but you must do the pulling. We must place our lives in God's hands. Ringers are members of a team, and each one has a part to play. Our religion is a personal matter, but we are all one in the service of our Lord—all members of one brotherhood, and if we fail the whole witness of the Church of God is spoilt. Remember your duty to the Church—the most glorious society to which we could belong. In Psalm 96 it says, "O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness. . . ." It is not sufficient just to sing with our lips, or to ring, but we must worship with beauty of character.

The Master (Dr. T. P. Spencer-Phillips, J.P.) presided at the business meeting, held in the Chapter House, and was supported by the Bishop of Barking, the Provost, and the officers of the Association.

THE BUSINESS MEETING.

The annual report showed that the vigorous reconstruction of 1947 had been successfully continued in 1948, thanks to the untiring efforts of Mr. G. L. Joyce (deputy Master), supported by an enthusiastic committee. Membership had increased in all the districts, a gain in all of 98 ringing members. Several towers were still in need of recruits to ensure regular Sunday ringing.

Hutton (5), Great Wakering (6), Downham (6) and Thorpe Bay (8) joined the Association, whilst Nazeing (5), Chrishall (6), St. Osyth (6), Stebbing (6), Great Bromley (6), St. Leonard's, Colchester (6), Finchingfield (8), Bocking (8), Stanford-le-Hope (8) and Waltham Abbey (12) have shown revived interest. Repairs have been completed at Great Dunmow (8) and All Saints', Maldon (8). It is regretted that no ringing is done at Thorpe-le-Soken (6), Great Holland (8), Leyton (8) and West Ham (10). The latter two towers are out of action through structural defects.

The 'Crusaders' of S.W. Essex continued their monthly summer activities, with other districts increasing their practices. A healthy fellowship had been built up through these extra meetings. Mr. L. W. Wiffen (peal secretary) and Mr. F. Dench (peal committee) resigned from the committee, and both merited the thanks of the Association for their valuable services for many years. Two vice-presidents, the Rt. Rev. J. T. Inskip (Bishop of Barking) and the Very Rev. W. E. R. Morrow, M.A. (Provost of the Cathedral), retired last autumn, and the Association owed much to them for their unfailing kindnesses and ready support throughout their long ministrations in the diocese. The library, lodged in the Cathedral, under the care of Mr. H. W. Shadrack, had received interesting additions, presented by Miss A. White, Mr. M. Hodgson and Mr. G. L. Joyce. Noteworthy is an autographed copy of the original edition of 'The Nine Tailors' and some letters concerning the book from Dorothy L. Sayers.

Fifty-nine peals were rung during the year —54 on tower bells, 5 on handbells; 19 shared the conducting, 25 rang their first peal, and 74 their first peal in the method. A noteworthy performance was the 'first ever' of Prittlewell Surprise Royal at Prittlewell on April 3rd, conducted by Mr. P. A. Corby. The Bell Restoration Fund had been well supported, with a record balance of £246 3s. 4d. Grants amounting to £35 were made to Great Wakering and Thaxted. The Rev. C. Scott-Little, M.A. (now Deputy Master) had been asked to serve on the Diocesan Advisory Committee.

NEW FORM OF REPORT.

The income showed an increase of £9 4s. 9d., but the balance, as in the previous year, was reduced. This should not re-occur, as the increased subscription and the introduction of peal fees should provide an income to meet all outgoings. The lay-out of the annual report—printing, information and arrangement —was favourably commented upon by several members, including congratulations from Mr. E. C. S. Turner, of the Middlesex Association, and well worth the increased cost of production.

The auditors (Mr. H. Turner and Mr. J. H. Crampion) spoke in glowing terms of the good work of the general secretary and treasurer (Mr. R. C. Heazel) and the efficiency of the district secretaries.

Mr. Shadrack (for trustees) said that it would be useful to have a bookcase and they would be grateful if one could be obtained. Mr. J. Chalk urged for more hon. members. He commented on the marvellous response from ringers towards the Bell Restoration Fund, which enabled the appropriate committee this year already to make grants to Fyfield, Bobbingworth and South Benfleet, amounting to £65. He advised those who had bells attended to to see that the work was properly carried out.

The chief business centred round 'Standing Orders.' The committee, by a majority vote, had recommended to the A.G.M. that the Association should have its 'Standing Orders,' to be adopted or suspended according to the wishes of the meeting. After discussion, Mr. L. J. Clark proposed and Mr. L. W. Wiffen seconded, that the matter of 'Standing Orders' be referred back to the committee for further consideration. This was carried, a small number voting.

The election of officers followed. Mr. H. J. Mansfield (Maldon) and Mr. L. W. Wiffen (Braintree) were elected life vice-presidents in recognition of long service. (Mr. F. J. Pitstow, of Saffron Walden, general secretary of the Association for 13 years, was nominated by the committee for a vice-presidency, but passed away a few days prior to the meeting.) Other officers elected were: Master, Dr. T. Spencer-Phillips, J.P.; Deputy Master, Rev. C. Scott-Little, M.A.; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. R. C. Heazel; auditors, Messrs. H. Turner and J. H. Crampion; trustees, Messrs. G. Green, E. J. Runter, and H. W. Shadrack; life members, Mr. W. Chalk (St. Peter's, Colchester), Mr. F. Dench, Mr. A. E. Pitstow (Saffron Walden), Mr. W. Allen (Boreham), Mr. A. Bradley (Fryerning), Mr. G. Cornell (Galleywood), Mr. G. Parsons (Broomfield), Mr. E. J. Runter (Springfield), Mr. A. N. Brighton, Mr. G. Dawson, Mr. R. W. Stannard (Leytonstone), Mr. C. Fenn (Barking), Mr. F. J. Freestone (Hornchurch), Mr. W. Nelder, Mr. C. Petty (Wanstead); co-options, Finance and General Purposes, Miss J. M. Griffith, Mr. E. W. Croucher and Mr. G. L. Joyce; peals, Mr. R. Suckling and Mr. M. Hodgson.

'RINGING WORLD' RESOLUTION

Mr. G. Faulkner (Barking) spoke about the resolution in 'The Ringing World' of May 20th, which deprecated the policy of the Editor. He was against it being sent, and expressed a wish that it might be withdrawn by the Essex C.C. representative. He thought it was ill-advised and ill-timed, and he did not think it should have been sent in without discussion and approval of the other divisions.

Mr. G. L. Joyce (Hornchurch) replied, and pointed out that the C.C. representatives are not delegates and not governed by the Association in any shape or form. He thought 'The Ringing World' was weighted against the ordinary ringers and devoted more to the C.C. ringers.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks, proposed by Dr. Spencer-Phillips and seconded by Mr. J. Chalk, to the Bishop of Barking, the Provost of Chelmsford Cathedral and the organist (Mr. S. Vann).

Luncheon was well arranged and served at the County Hotel, the Bishop and the Provost being the chief guests.

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH GUILD

70th ANNIVERSARY MEETING.

A representative gathering assembled on June 18th to commemorate the 70th anniversary of the founding of the Guild (the former Winchester Diocesan Guild), which took place at Basingstoke on June 26th, 1879. During the day bells in and around the district were available and made good use of.

The Guild service was held in St. Michael's Church and was conducted by the Archdeacon of Basingstoke (the Ven. A. W. Chute), an hon. member of the Guild. In the course of his address he extended a hearty welcome and spoke of his great pleasure in the Guild returning to its birthplace on that occasion. He stressed the great part that the diocesan Guilds contributed to the service of the Church and referred to the Guild as a 'handmaid of the Church.' He wished them Godspeed and a very happy anniversary.

An excellent tea was partaken of in Church House, after which special references were made to the early history of the Guild through such early pioneers as Henry White (Basingstoke), John W. Whiting (Fareham), J. Hewett (Gosport) and the late Master (Mr. G. Williams), by the general secretary (Mr. F. W. Rogers) and Mr. G. Pullinger.

Mr. W. Andrews (Winchester) paid special tribute to the valuable work put in by Mr. Pullinger, who was general secretary at the time of the division of the Guild (when Portsmouth and Guildford became separate dioceses), and who showed the utmost tact and perseverance in handling the Guild's affairs.

Mr. Tucker (North Stoneham) said he first came to Basingstoke over 50 years ago. At that time there was no ringing at Southampton, his nearest towers for change ringing being either Winchester, Romsey or Basingstoke. Mr. R. Brown (Southampton) also paid a tribute to the late Mr. George Williams.

At the conclusion of the speeches a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Archdeacon of Basingstoke, the incumbents at the various towers, and Mr. J. Chesterman for making all arrangements for the programme of the day. Ringing followed until a late hour. Members were present from many of the towers in the Guild with visitors from Epsom, Byfield (Northants), Reading, Oxford and Stanwell (Middlesex).

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

HEALTHY POSITION REPORTED AT FESTIVAL.

The 41st annual report of the Chester Guild, presented at its annual festival at Crewe on June 11th to a representative gathering of 125 members and friends, including Mr. G. L. Grover, of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, drew attention to the fact that in spite of the efforts of the instructors, there were still silent towers in the Guild.

It was felt that this was due in some cases to estrangement of ringers and clergy, and it was pointed out that no vicar could be expected to look with favour on ringers who used the bells purely in pursuit of their hobby and did not take their proper place in the corporate life of the church. The standard of church service was, in general, high, but every member was urged to be aware of his responsibility to the Exercise in that respect.

The report recommended members to study the article on wastage contributed to 'The Ringing World' by one of the Guild's members, and suggested that while many may not see eye to eye with the writer, none the less it would be agreed that wastage was, in fact, serious, and that a refusal to examine its implications could only be disastrous.

A healthy state of affairs was disclosed by the report, there being a membership of 22 honorary members and 740 ringing members, and the number of young ringers in all branches was particularly noteworthy.

The social side of ringing was being well catered for, ringing trips being very popular, and in this connection the meeting decided that the time was ripe for the revival of the annual dinner and instructed the Master and general secretary to make the necessary arrangements for it to be held in Chester in the early part of October.

Peal ringing showed an increase, 126 peals having been rung, in which 28 members rang their first peal and seven conducted their first peal. Sunday service bands rang peals of Double Court Triples, Erin Triples, Superlative Surprise Major, London Surprise Major and in seven Minor methods. The average age of the band which rang the peal of Cambridge Surprise Major was 20, the youngest to record a peal in the method for the Guild.

AMONG THE FOREMOST.

The 25th anniversary of the first 35-method peal at Norbury, a milestone in ringing history, was marked by a peal in the same methods at the same church, in which two of the original band took part. Over, the scene of the 17,280 Kent Treble Bob Major on July 21st, 1923, maintained its association with long lengths by a peal of 10,080 Bristol Surprise Major on December 18th, 1948.

First peals in the following methods were rung: Cheshire Surprise Major, Stockport Surprise Major and Ramsey Surprise Major, and the Guild rang its first peals in the following methods: New Cambridge Surprise Maximus, Yorkshire Surprise Royal, seven Spliced Surprise Major, six Spliced Surprise Major, Edinburgh Surprise Major, Aldenham Surprise Major, Double Court Triples, Erin Triples and 18 Spliced Surprise Minor methods. This list compared favourably with other guilds throughout the country, and the Chester Guild was justifiably proud of its achievements, which placed it among the foremost organisations in the Exercise.

In common with all ringing societies at the present time the financial statement revealed that something must be done to bring expenditure into line with income. Discussion took place on the best ways of securing an increased income, and it was eventually decided that the most satisfactory was to increase the subscription by 6d. with effect from January 1st, 1950.

The vexed question of the peal booking fee, by which the recently inaugurated Bell Restoration and Augmentation Fund was to be financed, was very fully ventilated, and on a vote being taken the meeting decided by a majority of two that the fee be retained, the conductor of the peal to be responsible for the collection and forwarding to the branch secretary. In the event of any member failing to pay the booking fee the peal in question would not be included in the annual report of the Guild.

It was resolved to proceed with the printing of the annual report in the present form this year, but that in future it would include a list of first performances by the Guild and compositions rung for the first time by the Guild.

The meeting re-elected its officers with the exception of its general secretary and treasurer, the Rev. J. D. Pearson, who wished to resign on account of other pressing duties. The meeting expressed its gratitude for the great efforts which he, a non-ringer, had made on its behalf and congratulated him on his appointment as Rural Dean. In reply, Mr. Pearson said he had enjoyed the work and most of all the fellowship which it had brought with it. It was decided to formally place on record the Guild's appreciation of the faithful service of Mr. Pearson.

The Rev. J. Kingdon, of St. Mary's-within-the-Walls, Chester, a keen and enthusiastic ringer, was appointed his successor.

The final business of the meeting was to fix the place of the next annual festival, and in response to the invitation extended by the Northwich Branch it was decided to visit them in 1950.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar of Christ Church, Crewe, the Rev. Roberts, of Coppenhall, the local ringers for all their efforts and all who had contributed to the sucess of the meeting, which was handled in his usual dexterous manner by the Master, Mr. J. W. Clarke.

OBITUARY

MR. ELI WATERS.

On Sunday, June 12th, the death occurred of Mr. Eli Waters, who had served with the band at St. Peter's Church, Bournemouth, for 48 years. He was in his 84th year and regularly attended the belfry until October last, when the doctor advised him to discontinue ringing.

Mr. Waters was taught to handle a bell by Mr. George Preston, the present captain of Christchurch Priory band, in 1892, and rang his first peal in 1896. Unfortunately a record of his peals is not available, but he rang several in the standard methods in his earlier ringing days.

About 1900 he identified himself with St. Peter's, and subsequently joined the band he was to serve so well and faithfully. He was captain of the band from 1926, but gave up the office in 1936, as he said at the time, 'in favour of a younger man.' This was typical of Mr. Waters' nature, for he would not hold any office unless he felt he could do the job thoroughly. A lifelong friend described him as 'one of nature's gentlemen,' a tribute which explains the love and esteem accorded to him by all who came in contact with him.

The funeral service was taken by the Rev. J. Coutts (assistant priest and a ringer at St. Peter's) on June 16th in St. Peter's Church, and interment followed at Boscombe Cemetery. Many ringers attended, and the bells were rung half muffled after the service and again in the evening. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung round the grave by Mrs. F. J. Marshallsay, Messrs. F. Price, D. T. Matkin and A. V. Davis. Floral tributes included wreaths from the Vicar, churchwardens and people of St. Peter's, the local company of ringers, and the two local branches of the Salsbury and the Winchester Diocesan Guilds.

METHOD COMMITTEE'S INVESTIGATION

By A. York-Bramble.

IT is disturbing to find within the Brotherhood of the Exercise those who can resort to the despised trick of hiding within the cloak of anonymity for launching an attack. The front page article by 'Libra' in issue No. 1,994 does so, upon individuals and associations alike. This largely unreasoned and unfounded diatribe not only wastes more 'ink and space' in repeating some of what has actually been stated already, but also shows a lamentable lack of appreciation of the real point at issue. This, about to come before the Methods Committee for investigation, must not be prejudiced either by 'Libra' or anyone else. Following are some facts which are at variance with what he says or suggests :—

(1) The idea of a motion to come before the C.C. originated not within the Universities' Association, but came from an 'official' source, and for a good reason, different from that he suggests. (See 3 below.)

(2) The question of London extension is purely incidental, and has been discussed only as exemplary of the main cause.

(3) Protracted and futile discussion in the past, as to extension in general, has been due to a lack of stated principles of method structure and of their development, in unambiguous and precise terms. Present-day publication of hundreds of new methods, and the growing practice of them, demand a C.C. declaration of policy as to recognition of methods and their extensions.

(4) While most of the material arguments on method extension may have been implied years ago, they certainly have not all been stated explicitly, discussed and resolved. A system of exposition, embracing old principles part-declared and part-implied, has more recently been developed for the average rather than the mathematically-minded ringer, aiming at a clear-cut statement of conclusions to be reached.

(5) The recently published articles served mainly to indicate the need for 4 and 3 above. They did not claim that if theoretic extensions fail to produce conventional lead-rows, then the nearest 'will do.' Indeed, the late C. D. P. Davies' publication, 'Lead Ends' (1918) showed clearly that 'regular lead-ends' are not essential or necessary. But if they are to be rigidly adhered to, then, as the recent articles maintained, deviations in extension from the basic form should at least be kept to a minimum, and that the issue should be decided upon a basis of 'the Ideal, the Proximate or nothing.'

(6) The Universities' Association has merely performed a suggested service in bringing the matter before the Council, for reference to the appropriate committee; and Dr. Hatcher, the Association's general secretary, simply deputised at the last moment for the U.A. representative, whose professional duties had intervened. The veiled sneers at both are unbecoming and, by an anonymous critic, unpardonable.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Is it true that a ringer on seeing that Mr. J. Pears, the sexton of Stapleton, Leics, has had a peal rung at Kibworth on the occasion of his 80th birthday, wrote for the bells at Stapleton for a peal? Unfortunately this village has only one bell.

The average age of the band who rang the peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Loughborough, is 19½ years.

Mr. Vernon Sykes is the first ringer to complete the circle of twelve at Oldham Parish Church.

A recording of Newark Parish Church bells will be broadcast in the Midland Home Service next Sunday at 6.30 p.m. in the Anglo-American exchange programme. Method, Grandsire Caters.

Sixteen-year-old William Smith rang nine methods of Minor, including two extents spliced. He is a nephew of Mr. John P. Fidler, author of the handbook, 'Practical Hints on Method Splicing.'

One of the few occasions on which the three bells in Arundel Castle (seat of the Duke of Norfolk) are rung is for the annual Corpus Christi procession (weather permitting) from the R.C. Church of St. Philip Neri to the Castle quadrangle. The weather this year allowed Miss Enid Lonnen, enthusiastic tower secretary at Felpham, to claim 'first lady' to ring in this tiny tower.

Mr. L. J. Williams, who called the peal of Plain Bob Maximus at Ashton-under-Lyne on June 25th, has called peals from Minor to Maximus in the method. It also enabled Messrs. C. Clegg, A. Tomlinson, E. Brunton, E. J. Gower, R. Benson and P. Tocock to complete peals of Plain Bob from Minor to Maximus.

A familiar figure in the Peterborough Diocese, the Rev. J. O. Hichens, has retired after 47 years in the living of Guilsborough. In his younger days he was a keen change ringer, and up to the last war rang. His parishioners presented him with a cheque for £117, and after a farewell peal a photograph of the band and the Vicar was taken by Mr. W. Letts (captain of the local ringers).

The peal at Yelvertoft, Northants, was the first on the bells since November 6th, 1926. The five bells are by Hugh Watts, of Leicester, 1635.

Mr. C. E. S. Turner writes pointing out that it was in the Carter Broadsheet of Compositions of Stedman Caters that contained the 20 errors referred to by him at the Central Council meeting at York and not the Lindoff Collection, as reported on page 283, column 2, of 'The Ringing World.' We regret the error.

Omitted from the current report of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild is the election of the following compounding members through the Christchurch District: Messrs. F. L. Wilson and H. Ballard (Leicester), G. F. Swann (Sutton Coldfield), J. F. Harvey (Birmingham), E. J. Lindley (Epsom), A. H. Ward (Derby), Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Watson (Kettering). The hon. general secretary apologises for the omission and assures that a correction will be made in the 1949 report.

Judging by the peals rung by a number of ringers in the Leicester Diocese so far this year, a busy time lies ahead for the ringer who kindly forwarded a comprehensive typewritten list of a member's performances last year. We learn that to qualify, an average of one peal a week must be rung. Come on, Vice-president Turner!

Yorkshire Association

WESTERN DIVISION AT QUEENSBURY.

On June 18th in glorious weather the quarterly meeting of the Western Division was held at Holy Trinity Church, when about 50 ringers and friends from the following towers —Bradford Cathedral, Brighouse, Calverley, Denholme, Earlsheaton, Guiseley, Haworth, Headingley St. Michael's and St. Chad's, Huddersfield, Idle, Lightcliffe, Liversedge, Mirfield, Mytholmroyd, Pudsey, Rothwell, Sowerby, Woodlesford, with welcome visitors from Bedfordshire and Lancashire and the local company—undertook a visit to the assumed highest ringing tower, above sea-level, in the country, and were amply repaid by the magnificent view which was obtained.

From the top of the tower one can see into Lancashire, Cheshire and Derbyshire, and from the north side almost on to the Plain of York. The bells, under the care of the Ringing Master, Mr. Strangeway, were soon going to a variety of methods from Plain Bob Major to London Surprise Major. A bountiful tea was served in the schools.

Mr. P. J. Johnson expressed the thanks of the members to the Vicar and churchwardens for granting the use of the bells and schools. The Vicar, in returning thanks to the members, assured them of a hearty welcome on any future contemplated visit.

Mr. Barton expressed thanks to the local company for the hospitable way in which the visitors had been entertained, and trusted that the loyalty to the association, which was a feature of the Queensbury ringers, and the quality of the ringing which they set themselves, would be fully maintained in the years to come.

It is hoped to arrange the next meeting at Elland in September.

EASTERN DISTRICT AT ESCRICK.

About 35 ringers attended the annual meeting of the Eastern District on June 18th, when the Rector (the Rev. A. L. R. East) conducted the service with Mr. A. H. Fox (vice-president) at the organ.

Mr. Fox presided at the business meeting and gave a hearty welcome to the Rev. C. C. Ellison (president of the Association), who had to leave early. Mr. S. Steel (York) was re-elected Ringing Master, and Messrs. A. B. Cook, R. B. Smith and J. J. Taylor to the committee.

A vote of sympathy was passed with Mrs. J. Crossland, of Eastrington, on the death of her husband, a member of the Association since 1924. It is hoped to hold the next meeting at Beverley.

Salisbury Diocesan Guild

The quarterly meeting of the Dorchester branch was held at Milton Abbey on June 18th in glorious summer weather.

The eight bells of the Abbey were rung prior to the Guild service at 4 p.m., which was conducted by the Vicar, tthe Rev. C. J. Collis, assisted by the branch chairman, Canon A. Wilkinson Markby, Rector of St. Peter's, Dorchester.

Tea was served at the Dale Cafe, and the meeting which followed was presided over by Canon Markby.

Six ringing members and one hon. member were elected, and the Abbey tower was re-affiliated to the branch. Nine towers from the branch were represented, and visitors were present from Yeovil, Shaftesbury and Leicestershire.

BEVERLEY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

MEETING AT SUTTON.

Next September St. James', Sutton, celebrates its 600th anniversary, and a large incumbent figure of a knight in armour, John de Sutton, the founder of the church, is in the chancel.

This was the venue of the society for their June meeting, and early arrivals of the 40 members present had the privilege of ringing out of church a bridal party.

The Vicar (the Rev. L. Reynolds) conducted the society's own form of service, and Mr. A. Fox was the organist. Full justice was done to the splendid knife and fork tea provided.

Mr. G. F. Williams (president) was in the chair for the business meeting. Beverley Minster was selected for the annual meeting on July 9th, and the August meeting will be at Bridlington Priory on August 13th. After the usual votes of thanks ringing on both hand and tower bells was continued until 9 p.m.

'Ringing World' Price

Dear Sir,—Forty-six years ago I suggested to my old friend and pal, John S. Goldsmith, that a new paper be started and that it be named 'The Ringing World.' The Rev. F. E. Robinson said it would never be a success, and told me, 'I was young, and would learn.' How wrong he was, but there was some excuse, for J.S.G. and I talked 'new paper' every time we met during the following eight years.

As I read page 296 of the current issue I have both pleasure and regret, hence my writing you a few lines. Please accept my hearty congratulations and appreciation of your splendid work for 'The Ringing World.' When we look at prices to-day I often wonder how the paper is produced for 3d., and, while I am pleased to see the price is to be increased next January, I certainly think that the increase should be effected immediately, for 4d. is only the price of a ¼ pint of weak ale or a couple of fags.

And now for a little regret, chiefly that the Guildford Guild's representatives at the Central Council were so divided. My friend Mr. Grover seems to have been very fair in presenting his motion, a feature always present in his noble character, but I cannot agree with Mr. Pulling when he asserts that 'the main news of the day as far as ringing was concerning was peal ringing.'

I have just returned from a week in Lancashire, and during my conversations with clergy I was asked why they could get plenty of ringers to ring three hours any day during the week, yet when Sunday came not enough ringers were available. Ideal ringing can do a lot of harm to our Exercise for, quite frankly, the public do not like it, and many towers have been closed because of excessive peal ringing. Mr. Pulling, by his speech, is in a very difficult position, because he went quite opposite to the wishes of those who sent him to York to speak in support of the motion. If I was faced with such a situation I should immediately resign.

My best wishes for the future of our paper, —Yours sincerely,

WILLIAM SHEPHERD.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

MASONIC PEAL BOOK

Dear Sir,—I shall be obliged if you will publish the following account of the Masonic Peal Book that is housed in the Grand Lodge Library and Museum. I was allowed to inspect this recently and came to the conclusion that there must be quite a number of peals that have not been recorded therein.

It is quite probable that there are a number of Brethren who are not aware of the procedure to be adopted in adding to these records, and possibly some who do not even know of the book's existence.

An account was published in 'The Ringing World' when the book was started, some 25 years ago, but I feel that it would be of benefit if the information was re-issued.

The first known Masonic peal, Stedman Caters at St. Clement Dane's, was rung on December 4th, 1919, as a peace peal. Several were rung subsequently, and it was felt that some permanent record should be made of such performances, and the idea of a Masonic Peal Book was mooted.

I was deputed to get in touch with Grand Lodge to ask if the Library would be prepared to house the book and issue it as and when necessary for the writing up of peals.

The librarian replied that the regulations would not allow of him acting as a custodian and that he could only accept it as the property of Grand Lodge, and that it must remain in their possession.

I then proposed a loose-leaf book with a plentiful supply of sheets that could be issued to a writer as required, and returned to the librarian to be fixed in the book. The librarian agreed to this course, and I made an appeal, through your columns, to the Brethren, for subscriptions. The response was sufficient to cover (almost) the cost of the book and the writing of peals rung to date.

The book is a handsome volume, bound in light blue leather, with appropriate Masonic adornments, and a suitably inscribed flyleaf or frontispiece. The writing is decorative, after the style of an illuminated address, and is the work of a professional writer. The book may be inspected, upon application to the librarian, at any time that the Grand Lodge Library and Museum is open.

It is very desirable that all recordings should be made by a qualified writer in order that its high artistic standard may be maintained.

One page is accorded to each peal, and they are in much the same form as published in 'The Ringing World,' save that the names are all in one row and the name of the Association is omitted. Instead, the heading, 'United Free and Accepted Masons of England' or other appropriate title is used.

The record is not restricted to Craft Masonry. One, at least by Royal Arch Masons and one by Mark Masons, are included, and perhaps the future may provide peals by other Degrees and Orders.

Details are confined to name and rank in the Degree and the name and number of the Lodge (one only), e.g.:—

Bro. John Wm. Smith, M.M. ... Lodge No....
W.Bro. Henry Brown, P.M. ... Lodge No.... or W.M.

Grand or Provincial Rank or ranks in other degrees are not quoted. Footnotes are not given. A possible exception might be made upon an occasion of more than usual Masonic importance, such as the laying of a foundation stone with Masonic honours.

Application should be made to the Grand Librarian, Freemasons Hall, Great Queen Street, London. Three sheets should be asked for (in case of a spoiling) and an undertaking given to return all three, used or unused. All expenses would, of course, be borne by the Brethren concerned.

There should be no difficulty in obtaining the services of a professional writer, but for the information of Brethren, I may give the name of Mr. Thomas, the steward of the Constitutional Club, Calverley Road, Tunbridge Wells, who would be willing to do the work for 30s. per peal.

In conclusion, may I appeal to my ringing Brethren to see that this book does not fall into desuetude?—Yours faithfully, 142, Stephen's Road, F. WHITE.

Tunbridge Wells.

SURPRISE MINOR PEALS

Dear Sir,—The figures of the first 720 rung in the peal at Frampton on April 30th were published in 'The Ringing World' on December 27th, 1935, and another in six Surprise methods in the issue of December 12th, 1941. Both these 720's were given to Mr. Young by Mr. G. E. Feirn.

I have had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Young recently and have given him a 720 in four Surprise methods by Mr C. K. Lewis, Nos. 7, 8, 9, 10, with our best wishes that they will soon ring a peal in 37 Surprise methods.

I have some recollection that the late Mr. A. G. Driver told me that Mr. Lewis had got a 720 with five methods, Nos. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11. If this is so, it would make the number of methods 38, which, I think, must be the limit in the Surprise class.—Yours faithfully,

A. RELFE.

Tunbridge Wells, Kent.

THE SERVERS' PEAL

Dear Sir,—Re the report of the Central Council meeting at York, as one of the culprits who took part in the non-Association peals at Epsom, seventeen years ago, rung by members of the Altar Servers' Guild, I should like Mr. P. J. Johnson to understand that the ringers were drawn from many different parts of the country, and there was not a sufficiency of members of any one Association to propose the remainder of the band for membership in the accepted manner. Hence the fact of the non-Association peal.

Surely, however, the alleged offence, if so be it was an offence, is now, after seventeen years, statute barred.

But does the ringing of a non-Association peal merit or entail the censure and the 'serious consideration' of the Central Council?—Yours faithfully,

Manchester, 19. OSWALD J. HUNT.

Dear Sir,—In the 'Servants of the Sanctuary' peal, which was rung, by the way, on Saturday, August 20th, 1932, and not on September 2nd, it does seem rather ludicrous that it should have taken the Central Council 17 years before our peal was criticised for being rung for a non-ringing society. As was stated at the Central Council meeting, although servants of the sanctuary do not form a bellringing service, they probably form the highest body of churchworkers.

Not only, as Mr. Dove mentions, some of the present-day ringers were not born, but at least two of the band who stood in our peal are no longer with us.

As we rang the peal at Christ Church, Epsom, and members came from places as far as Coventry, Long Eaton (Derbyshire) and Raunds (Northants), I think we were entitled to ring it for our own Association.

Nevertheless, a good peal was rung, although conditions were 'gruelling,' it being rung on a stagnant, hot afternoon with a temperature of 95 degrees in the shade!—Yours faithfully, H. BADGER.

Thame, Oxon.

Times Peals Should Finish

Dear Sir,—It is an unwritten law with all sensible ringers that ringing for practice, meetings and peals, in fact, ringing for any occasion, should finish by 9 p.m. or soon after thus paying due consideration to those who 'will lay themselves down in peace and take their rest,' both young men and maidens, old men and children.

But when we have among us, as we apparently have in this Guild, members who consistently prolong their peal ringing in mid-week until well after 9.30, then the criticism from villagers and townspeople with whom we live and have our being comes justly and without surprise.

If mid-week peals cannot be terminated by 9 o'clock, then they should never be attempted. In my mind it is a more grievous sin to cause annoyance to our tolerant non-ringing friends than go a'pealing on a meeting day.

Let us have a right judgment in all things and not trespass beyond the bounds of consideration and common sense.—Yours faithfully, NON-RINGER'S FATHER.

Leicestershire.

THEOLOGICAL STUDENTS & RINGING

Dear Sir,—From time to time I have noticed in your columns comments of one sort and another concerning relations between ringers and the clergy, and I feel it is time I wrote to draw attention to the field which theological colleges offer for recruits to the ranks of ringers from those who are in training for the ministry.

If it were possible for experienced ringers to meet theological students and talk about the Exercise, I am sure it would help towards an establishment of real understanding. Of course, in Bristol we are specially privileged. There are problems arising from the limitations of time (as students are on short courses and, in any case, are only in Bristol during term time), but the instructors of the St. John's School of Ringing have most generously devoted one evening a week to the training of men from this College, and during the past two years 12 men have gained some knowledge of bell-control and rope-sight that bodes well for the relationship between clergy and ringers in those parts of the country to which they will be going to serve their cure. As principal, I should like to take this opportunity of expressing my gratitude to the School for the interest they are showing.—I am, sir, your obedient servant,

ROBERT J. COBB.

Clifton Theological College, Bristol.

RINGERS SHOULD BLOCK LOUVRES

Dear Sir,—As a service ringer for some 50 years, may I say how completely I am in agreement with the views expressed by Mr. Lister in your issue of June 3rd.

Surely, the least peal ringers can do when visiting a village in pursuance of their own pleasure is to provide the necessary material for blocking the louvres of the bell chamber and so save much misery for people living adjacent to the church. The Sunday following the ringing of a peal service ringers are looked upon as merely perpetuating the noise of the previous day.

Some three years ago a visiting band rang a peal at Clent Church. I happened to be passing when the bells came round. The treble man immediately hung on to his bell, and 6, 7 and 8 were still falling themselves, whilst the ringers were descending the belfry steps, clearly indicating that as another peal had been added to their collection nothing else mattered.

Bells were not installed, neither should they be maintained, for such a selfish purpose.—Yours faithfully, W. C. BOUGHTON.

Clent, Stourbridge.

RINGERS' OUTINGS

SIX-BELL CYCLE TOUR IN LEAFY BUCKS.

An enjoyable day was spent by a band consisting mainly of young ringers from West Hertfordshire, when they visited towers in Buckinghamshire on Whit Monday.

Ringing, which ranged from rounds and call changes to well-struck Spliced Cambridge and London Surprise, began in the morning at Aston Clinton and afterwards at Wendover. After a picnic lunch, the party proceeded to Great Missenden, and from thence to Little Missenden. In the evening, Amersham was visited. The day concluded by ringing at Chesham.

The thanks of the band are due to Mr. Lee, of Wendover, and to Mr. W. C. Hughes, for arranging such a satisfactory outing.

NORTON AND BALDOCK.

A tour of East Anglia on May 28th started with Thaxted, followed by All Saints', Sudbury, which was a great contrast to the quietness of the former tower. After lunch the climb up St. Gregory's required an effort by the older members. Lavenham followed (with tea), and in the evening St. Mary's, Bury St. Edmunds, and a pull on the ten in the massive Norman tower. The last official stop was All Saint's, Newmarket, which proved to be rather noisy, so on the invitation of Mr. Acres the party transferred their activities to the heavy six-bell tower to round off an enjoyable day. Mr. E. Buck organised this excellent outing.

SHEPTON BEAUCHAMP.

Joined by friends from Stoke-under-Ham and Yeovil, Shepton Beauchamp ringers had an enjoyable day in Devon. At Teignmouth non-ringers were dropped, and then to Bishopsteighton, where the single rope ends caused amusement and a little bother to some ringers. Good use was made of the excellent eight at Kingsteighton, and after lunch to Buckfast Abbey, where Mr. Aubrey Bennett had made arrangements for ringing the Abbey bells and an excellent tea. Here the majority of the party had their first 12-bell ringing. An hour's pleasant ringing at Broadclyst concluded the day. Thanks are expressed to Mr. Aubrey Bennett and the organiser, Mr. Reginald Beale.

ST. LAURENCE'S, READING.

Reading was left at 5.30 a.m. on Whit Monday, and by 8 a.m. the party was ringing Stedman Cinques at Trowbridge, where they were met by Mr. Sam Hector. At Cullompton, after a West Country lunch, the bells were going to Stedman Caters and Cambridge Royal. Then came Heavitree, with memories of a nearly perfect course of Cambridge.

At Exeter Cathedral the party was met by Messrs. Glass, E. J. Taylor and Stafford H. Green, and were not ashamed of the Stedman Cinques they rang. (If the College Youths want a tenor man we can lend them our 'Pat,' who rang Grandison like a veteran.)

Tom Setter had everything in readiness at Yeovil, where five courses of Stedman Caters and Cambridge Royal were rung. Reading was reached at 2 a.m., everyone tired but very happy after good ringing, good food, good bells and good fellowship.—W. H.

GORING-BY-SEA.

Goring-by-Sea ringers, accompanied by friends from Heene, West Tarring and Felpham, started at 6.45 a.m. on June 11th for Great Tew and Deddington in Oxfordshire.

Halts were made at Guildford and Reading en route, and lunch was partaken of at Oxford. Great Tew was reached soon after 2 p.m. and Deddington at 4.30, where an excellent tea was provided.

Mr. S. F. Haffenden was in charge and made arrangements for the outing.

FAIRFIELD, BUXTON.

A party of 28 ringers and friends for their second annual outing visited Melbourne (where they had a rousing reception), Loughborough (Mr. J. P. Fidler acting as guide to the foundry and assisted in ringing the foundry bells), Retford, Worksop and Darley Dale (a grand finish to an enjoyable day).

HURST, BERKSHIRE.

St. Nicholas', Hurst, ringers were joined by friends from Arborfield, Binfield and Twyford for their outing in Somerset. First tower visited was Twerton-on-Avon, where Mr. King, of the local band, assisted in Double Norwich. Lunch at Bath was followed by ringing on the grand eight Chewton Mendip, the heavy eight at St. Cuthbert's, Wells, and a visit to the Cathedral, the pleasant six at Dinder and Shepton Mallet, where members of the local band participated with the visitors. Home was reached at 12.30 a.m., with pleasant memories of some grand bells, massive towers and a delightful journey.

BARWELL, LEICESTERSHIRE.

Barwell took a party of 62 for their outing to Cambridge. At Finedon they met 80-year-old Mr. W. Perkins, Irthlingborough, Mr. E. E. Whitmore, Raunds, Mr. J. Main and the local captain, Mr. Basford, all of whom joined in ringing the grand eight.

Mr. H. L. Martin met the visitors at Cambridge and escorted them to the R.C. Church, where some had a few anxious moments, attributed to the long pull. The programme included a tour of the colleges and evensong at King's College. After tea, the company left for Bedford, where Mr. W. Stapleton joined in touches at St. Peter's for an hour. Barwell was reached at 11.15 p.m., all agreeing on the success of the outing.

CHESTER BRANCH.

North Wales was the objective of the Chester Branch annual outing this year. First ringing was at Llandudno for a lucky bride, then to Bangor for 1½ hours' ringing, and finally across the Menai Straits to the ancient tower of Beaumaris, where this handy eight were soon tapping along to touches of Cambridge, London, Double Norwich, as well as Grandsire, Plain Bob and rounds for learners. A tired, but happy, party reached Chester at 10.30 p.m.

PORTSMOUTH CATHEDRAL.

A company of 49 participated in the outing on June 11th. The first stop was Andover, where the fine ring of eight was appreciated, then through Savernake Forest and over the plains to Swindon, with ringing on the light eight, and lunch.

The fine old town of Circencester, with its high tower containing the oldest ring of 12 in the world, was soon reached. Faringdon for tea and ringing, and finally Wantage, with its pleasant eight, completed a happy day.

ALFORD AND MABLETHORPE.

Seven churches in the Lincoln and Grantham areas—Wragby, Harmston, Bassingham, Navenby, Grantham, Barkston and Caythorpe—were visited on the fourth annual outing.

Highspot of the day was the comparatively new ring at Grantham (tenor 32¼ cwt., the heaviest in Lincolnshire). These are a truly majestic peal, which can best be described in the words of a Boston Stump ringer: 'When they are rung they sound like a band of music.'

Here they met Mr. Henry Dunnington and Miss Christine Dunnington, recent members of the Mablethorpe Band, who are now living at St. Ives (Hunts). At tea, Mr. Ivor Smith thanked Miss Dorothy Clark on the success of the arrangements.

North Wales Association

CHANGE IN ANNUAL MEETING DATE

The 41st annual meeting of the North Wales Association was held at Buckley, Flintshire, on Whit Monday. The attendance was not high, but was fairly representative.

The business meeting, which was held first, was presided over by Mr. S. Birks, who referred to the loss the Association had sustained by the death of Mr. William Jones, late Master and a founder member of the Association, also verger and ringer at Wrexham Parish Church for over 50 years. The members stood in silence as a token of respect.

Apologies for absence were received from the president, the Rev. E. G. Wright, also from Portmadoc and Abergele.

The balance sheet showed a balance of £14 13s. 9d. and was adopted.

The hon. secretary's report showed a slight increase in membership, and included in the peals rung during the year was one of Yorkshire Surprise, which was the first peal of Surprise rung on the Island of Anglesey, and another peal was the first of Stedman Triples by a lady ringer for the Association.

All the officers were re-elected. A resolution submitted by Abergele to change the date of future annual meetings from Whit Monday to a Saturday met with general approval. It will now be held on the second Saturday after Whit Monday, and Llandudno was chosen as the venue for the next annual meeting. It was also decided to hold quarterly meetings, the first being at Rhyl in September.

A service was held immediately following the meeting and was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. W. J. Rees, who also gave a short address. An excellent tea was provided by the local ringers, and a vote of thanks to all who had helped to provide it was proposed by Mr. G. R. Randles and seconded by Mr. A. Lea. Touches in various methods were rung before and after the meeting.

OBITUARY

MR. JOSEPH CROSSLAND.

Mr. Joseph Crossland died suddenly on May 28th, aged 68 years. Born at Fairburn, near South Milford, he moved to Eastrington 50 years ago. Mrs. Crossland served during the 1914-18 war in the R.A.S.C., and was the holder of the Mons Medal and Star. He was keenly interested in the Church, being people's warden for five years. For upwards of 40 years he had been a ringer, and although he had never rung a peal he was nevertheless interested in the art of change ringing.

A peal of Bob Minor with the bells half-muffled was rung in his memory on June 4th.

LAVENHAM RINGING DAY

Many ringers attended the 138th ringing anniversary at SS. Peter and Paul's Church on June 18th. Methods rung were Grandsire, Stedman, Plain, Kent, Oxford, Double Norwich, Cambridge and Superlative.

Places represented were Acton, Bury St. Edmunds, Clare, Cotton, Hadleigh, Ipswich, Lakenheath, Long Melford, Mendlesham, Newton, Stowmarket, Stowupland, Waldingfield Parva (Suffolk), Colchester, Maldon, Sible Hedingham, East Bergholt, West Bergholt and Wickham St. Paul's (Essex), Hockwold (Norfolk), Melbourne (Cambs), Pudsey (Yorks) and Yardley Hastings (Northants).

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

A joint meeting of the Syston and Loughborough Districts was held at Birstall on June 25th, when the new ring of eight were made good use of.

The Vicar, in an inspiring address, spoke of the opposition with which ringers had to contend, but emphasised that any work done in the service of God, if that was the real purpose behind ringers' minds and methods, would flourish a hundredfold. Mr. F. Key, the Syston Guild secretary, was the organist.

WINCHESTER

ONE of the oldest of our Diocesan Associations is the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, formed at Basingstoke on June 26th, 1879. The 70th anniversary was duly honoured by a representative gathering, and this week we chronicle the annual meeting of the Guild, with the election of a new Master in the person of Mr. George Pullinger. He succeeds the late Mr. George Williams. The report fittingly pays tribute to the memory of Mr. Williams, who almost from the inception of the Guild had been connected prominently with its affairs, notably as general secretary and lastly as Master, and one of its representatives on the Central Council. As a memorial to his work the members propose to provide a bookcase for their library, in particular to take the valuable collection of ringing literature that he bequeathed to the Guild. There is also talk of a national memorial, and it was suggested that this might take the form of an augmentation of the bells of his own tower, North Stoneham.

The past year has been a good one for the Guild, and the secretary (Mr. F. W. Rogers) was able to report increased activity in all districts. The year has been noteworthy for bell restorations. There was the opening of the grand ring of 10 at St. Mary's, Southampton, and the augmentation of St. Michael's, Southampton, from 8 to 10. Another augmentation was in the New Forest town of Lyndhurst to eight. Tichborne bells have been recast, and repairs have been carried out at Shedfield. Three other schemes are under review—the six bells at Bramley are to be recast, a new frame fitted and two new trebles added; Sparsholt, where a young team is learning under Mr. Bullen, hope to have their bells overhauled; and Wolverton expect to have their bells ringing again this year, where a new frame has been fitted and the bells overhauled.

Winchester and Portsmouth was one of the first Guilds to meet the new set of circumstances arising from the war by an increase in the subscription of ringing members from 2s. to 3s. 'We do not feel we shall lack the support of the majority, if not all, of the members in this united effort to restore our financial stability again,' comments the hon. treasurer (Mr. W. Linter). Membership has shown a slight increase from the previous year. Generally the reports of the district secretaries make pleasant reading. An exception is Winchester. Mr. J. A. C. King, the district secretary, writes: 'In general, interest in this District is at present sadly lacking. Of 20 towers affiliated, there are only seven which have a weekly practice night, and of these two or three towers cancel this practice during the summer. There are many members who are content to stand by and keep the flag flying.'

Peals rung during the year totalled 72 (45 tower, 27 hand), an increase of nine. Mr. Arthur V. Davis, the peal recorder, points out that there were 15 first peals and 100 first peals in the method. Of performances, he states that Portsmouth ringers scored Spliced Major as well as the first peal of Rutland for the Guild, and a neat little tit-bit was the peal of London Surprise Minor rung on the 'Holyrood' six at St. Michael's, Southampton. His report concludes: 'One gets the impression that there may be a little hardening of public opinion against prolonged ringing in some areas, therefore we are indeed grateful to those incumbents who so readily give consent for an attempt to be made.'

'THE RINGING WORLD'

The Official Journal of the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers

EDITORIAL OFFICE: c/o Woodbridge Press, Ltd., Guildford, Surrey.

POSTAL SUBSCRIPTION RATES (prepaid): 4/3 quarterly, 8/6 half-year and 17/- yearly. Orders, with remittance, to Mrs. E. K. Fletcher, The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.

EDITORIAL COMMITTEE:
EDWIN H. LEWIS, M.A. (President of Council).
GEORGE W. FLETCHER (Hon. Secretary of Council), The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.
A. A. HUGHES, J.P. (Hon. Treasurer), 34, Whitechapel Road, E.1.
MRS. E. K. FLETCHER.
EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

SUBSCRIPTIONS ARE NOW DUE
This is the third issue of the new quarter. A number of regular readers have not received their copies through neglecting to renew their subscriptions. Remit to-day to Mrs. E. K. Fletcher, The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk, and avoid further disappointment. Subscription rates: 4/3 quarterly, 8/6 half-yearly.

In three weeks' time 'The Ringing World' will publish its 2,000th issue. We should like to hear from those ringers who have taken the journal since its inception. It is an occasion that warrants the reminiscent vein.

Congratulations to Mr. G. W. Creasey, of Sedgbrook, Grantham, and Mr. Cecil J. Mathews on their 100th peals.

Lugan, Co. Armagh, festivities on becoming a borough coincided with the arrival of the Rev. T. W. Warren Jones, former secretary of the Eastern Division of the Irish Association as curate. The peal rung on July 2nd commemorated both events.

Ringers of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild feel that they have lost a personal friend by the passing of the Rt. Rev. A. A. Markham, Bishop of Grantham. 'A great lover of bells and bellringers,' writes Mr. J. H. Musson, 'he always showed great interest in our work and would always, when visiting churches, have a talk with the ringers.'

The discrepancy between Yorkshire Association's total of peals for 1943 with those of the Central Council has been adjusted this week by the publication of the peal at Silsden. The explanation of non-publication was the question of membership of one of the band. When that was settled, the conductor hesitated about publication on account of the time lapse.

This week we record a peal at Mitcham for Mr. T. G. Miller's 76th birthday. Previous to the peal he rang for a wedding at Kingston and was taken for his first pillion ride on a motor-cycle to Mitcham, where he rang in a faultless style. Mr. Miller rang and conducted his first peal (Holt's Original) at the age of 14 at Market Drayton—something for the present generation to emulate.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Members of Cambridge University Guild rang a peal in the middle of the night at Whitwell, Isle of Wight, in the churchyard. A start was made at 11.55 p.m., and the peal was completed at 2.23 a.m. 'We were all very sleepy,' writes the conductor. 'Our only light was a bicycle lamp which blew eerie shadows on the wall.'

Mr. Leslie Evans has twice 'completed the circle' of Eardisland, Herefordshire, tower.

Messrs. P. H. J. Gray and R. W. Rex have rung Cambridge from Minor to Maximus.

Miss June Henshaw, Mr. Alan A. Potts and Mr. Edward Seed have now rung Plain Bob Minor to Maximus.

Mr. W. Read, who called a quarter of Grandsire Doubles on his 78th birthday, has been captain of the Blackmoor, Hants, band for nearly 40 years.

Mr. H. G. Cashmore writes: 'The composition of Spliced Surprise rung at Willesden on June 25th should be properly ascribed to H. L. James, as I understand that he used this particular combination of Bobs many years before I did.'

Officers of the Cambridge University Guild for 1949-50 are: President, Rev. A. C. Blyth (Selwyn); Master, B. D. Threlfall (Trinity); secretary, A. S. Watt (Pembroke); treasurer, Rev. C. F. D. Moule (Clare); Librarian, G. Dodds (Emmanuel).

Congratulations to Mr. George Daynes on his 79th birthday. On July 3rd, in honour of the event, he called a quarter from Holt's Original at St. John's, Deptford: F. Morris 1, E. S. Owen 2, F. W. Richardson 3, J. Warner, jun., 4, R. G. Long 5, F. H. Daynes (cond.) 6, J. E. Warner, sen., 7, F. Stevens 8. It may interest the younger generation to know that Mr. Daynes' grandfather called the first peal for the Kent C.A. at Frittenden.

Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild

ANNUAL MEETING AT SOUTHAMPTON.

The annual general meeting was held at Southampton on July 2nd, and was representative of all districts of the Guild.

At the business meeting the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead was elected to the chair, pending the election of a new Master to succeed the late Mr. George Williams. The accounts showed a deficit on the year's work of £29 17s. 2d., which it was hoped to meet by the increased subscription and other economies.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Master, Mr. G. Pullinger; hon. gen. secretary, Mr. F. W. Rogers; hon. gen. treasurer, Mr. W. Linter; hon. auditor, Mr. G. Smith; recorder of peals, Mr. A. V. Davis; one representative on Central Council, Mr. C. H. Kippin.

The report of the Central Council meeting held at York was presented by Mr. G. Pullinger, stressing the points of general interest discussed.

A sub-committee, consisting of the three principal officers and all district secretaries, was appointed to examine the question of the re-allocation of certain towers in districts where working had become unwieldly. The districts were also invited to adopt a rota of meetings which had been drawn up, with a view to avoiding any undue clashing of meetings in adjacent districts. This is to be introduced after the next annual district meetings.

Owing to the death of the architect of Portsmouth Cathedral and pending the appointment of a new architect, the request of the Cathedral authorities to defer any memorial scheme for the time being was agreed to.

On the question of a memorial to the late Master (Mr. G. Williams) it was agreed to provide a bookcase to house all his ringing books, which had been left to the Guild, and to examine further a proposal possibly to augment the bells at North Stoneham, at which church he was closely connected for a great number of years and for which a national appeal would be made.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Portsmouth on July 1st, 1950, a proposal to hold it on Easter Monday being defeated.

It was agreed to send congratulations to Canon Spencer Leeson (Rector of St. Mary's, Southampton) on his preferment to the See of Peterborough.

The Guild service was held in the Chantry Hall, conducted by the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead, followed by tea.

During the day the two peals of ten at St. Mary's and St. Michael's, and in the evening Netley, were available to the members.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

WESTERN DIVISION.

A wave of enthusiasm amongst a newly-formed band of young ringers might well have been the reason for the Western Division's quarterly meeting being held at Bosham. This restored Saxon church, associated with Canute, has a not too good going six. Striking was reasonable among the 40 ringers. The young members sampled hunting and the more experienced Cambridge Surprise.

Service in church, tea on the lawns of the Grange, and kindly host in Mr. F. G. Cooper, with the Rev. Bransby Jones (Vicar of Bosham) showing great interest in the proceedings throughout the day, completed a successful meeting. The ringers in their turn showed appreciation in responding to the extent of £1 7s. 6d. to a collection towards their less fortunate tower of Lyminster with its cracked tenor.

Wisborough Green was selected for the next quarterly meeting, with Stedham and Steyning as likely practice venues.

14th Birthday Peal

ROGER KEELEY, OF LYME REGIS, DORSET,

who rang in a peal of Double Norwich at Bradpole, Dorset, on his 14th birthday and brought his total of peals to eight, consisting of: Doubles in three methods, Grandsire Triples, Stedman Triples, Plain Bob Major, Double Norwich C.B. Major, Kent T.B. Major, Superlative Surprise Major, and Cambridge Surprise Major, all from a working bell.

Whilst offering our congratulations, we are wondering whether this is a record to have rung his first eight peals in different methods and all on a working bell at the age of 14.

It is, in any case, quite an outstanding achievement for a young lad in this part of the country.

BURNHAM BELL SUNDAY

RAISING MONEY FOR THE NEW BELLS.

Not for ten years has Burnham seen a procession containing so much colour and pageantry as that which wound its way through the village on Sunday, June 26th, in an effort to raise money for the restoration of the bells of Peter's Parish Church.

Heading the procession were Dr. H. Maxwell Summers (chairman of the Burnham Bells' Appeal Committee) and Mr. A. H. Packe (Vicar's warden), mounted on horseback and dressed as Crusaders. Members of Burnham Football Club and Burnham Junior bellringers provided tableaux, and Stoke Poges handbell ringers and Marlow Town Band also took part.

Among the sixty collectors along the route were members of the Burnham Parish Church bellringers, the collection amounting to £116.

An open-air service was held and the Vicar (the Rev. J. Waldman), in his address, said they would remember those who manned the Parish Church tower week by week to ring the bells and remind them of the presence of God in their midst.

'We are proud of the fact that we have a tower manned by the youngest band of bellringers in the world,' he said. 'I know nothing about bellringing, but I do know that a church such as ours can only be likened to a house from which someone much loved and much respected has been removed.

'For months now the church will be silent until the new bells ring again, and it is entirely up to you when they will ring again. We hope it will be some time about Christmas.'

The Ladies' Guild

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING AT BRISTOL.

The 30th annual general meeting of the Ladies' Guild was held at Bristol on June 25th. The weather was excellent, and the attendance accordingly was very good. Ladies from all over the country enjoyed a lovely week-end, with ringing at the following towers: St. Stephen's, All Saints', St. John's, St. Philip's, and St. Mary Redcliffe. A few were privileged to ring at Christ Church for Sunday service.

The arrangements for the meeting and tea were carried out very admirably by Miss A. Brown, and Mr. Bennett and Mr. Hancock were responsible for the ringing arrangements.

The service was held at St. Philip's Church and was conducted by the Rev. J. H. Williams.

At the business meeting the balance sheet showed a deficit of £4 5s. 2d. on the year's work, which was due to the reprinting of service forms. The balance in hand was good—£58 5s. 6½d. Mrs. Fletcher was re-elected president, and Miss Hilda Snowden hon. secretary.

Reports from district secretaries were given, viz.: Southern, Miss Oliver; Central, Miss D. Lidbetter; Midland, Miss Jill Poole; Lincolnshire, Mrs. Richardson; and Western, Miss N. Williams. All reports were favourable and showed that the Guild was flourishing in all quarters, although it was generally felt that more petrol for travelling to meetings would ease the situation. Three propositions were received for next year's meeting—Norwich, Loughborough and Lincoln. In putting these to the vote, Lincoln was carried by a large majority.

In proposing a vote of thanks to all who had helped to make the meeting a success, the president made special mention of the Bristol and Gloucester Association for their kind hospitality in providing the tea.

At the conclusion of the business meeting the president presented Miss E. Steele (the former president of the Guild) with a cheque, which was the members' gift to her for her valued services as president of the Guild for 20 years. Miss Steele, in her reply, said she was too overwhelmed for words. She had enjoyed her office as president, but thought the time had come for younger people to take over. She expressed her intentions of procuring a wristlet watch with the cheque.

Good use was made of all the towers available, and the ladies excelled themselves at St. Mary Redcliffe, where on this fine ring of twelve they rang some well-struck rounds, the tenor being rung by Miss Hilda Snowden, with Miss Jill Poole on the 11th. A half-course of Cambridge Maximus was rung also, with ten ladies taking part, Mr. Harold Poole and Mr. Peter Staniforth, of Leicester, ringing the 11th and tenor, both of whom afterwards considered they had qualified to be members of the Ladies' Guild. Note: Due consideration will be given to their request at a future date!

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION

SWINDON BRANCH.

Nearly 40 members attended the Swindon Branch meeting at Bishopstone on June 11th, and among the visitors was a young man from Surrey, whose signature tune must be, 'I shouldn't mind a peal on that one!' Methods up to Cambridge were rung on this noisy eight, and the Association form of service was conducted by the Vicar.

At the business meeting a collection was made for the Highworth bells restoration fund, and it was proposed to visit Wroughton, Lydiard Millicent and Purton during the next three months. The branch secretary gave a brief report of the Central Council meeting at York.

Dear Sir,—Mr. G. L. Joyce must have overlooked the extent of S1,2,3,4,5,6 published in 'The Ringing World' of December 27th, 1935, and also that of S18,26,43,44,45,46 published on December 12th, 1941. Both those extents have certain defects which may account for their not appearing in his collection.

There is also an extent of S7,8,9,10 arranged by myself which has not been published, but which was circulated by the late Mr. A. G. Driver to one or two interested people. I enclose a copy.

Therefore the maximum number of Surprise Minor methods which can by ordinary means be included in seven extents is 33, and if we admit the extents mentioned in paragraph one the number is increased to 37.—Yours faithfully,

C. KENNETH LEWIS.

RINGERS' NOTEBOOK & DIARY, 1950

Last year's diary was voted a great success, and many complimentary letters (including several official letters of congratulation from Guilds and Associations) were received by us. Preparation for printing the 1950 edition is already well in hand, and it is intended to make the book even more interesting and useful than the first issue.

A further 16 pages are being added which will provide room, amongst other things, for extra touches in methods already included and for the addition of diagrams and touches of Double Court, St. Clement's Minor and Major, Rutland Surprise Major and Cambridge and Yorkshire Surprise Royal. Other additions will be touches of Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Cinques and (especially for Yorkshire ringers) a ready reckoner to give the number of changes per minute for varying lengths of peal. A number of other refinements, including permanent gold-blocking of the covers and the re-grouping of methods for easier reference, are also planned.

It is hoped to have the diary available this year by early November, but to achieve this all copy must go to the printers shortly. We wish to include in the 'Diary' portion as many dates of annual general meetings, dinners and social functions as possible, and we would be glad if these could be furnished by Guild secretaries not later than by early August. Alterations to the list of Central Council members and secretaries' name and addresses should also be sent if these have not been reported in 'The Ringing World.'

A MESSAGE FOR LIBRA

Dear Sir,—May I endorse all that K. W. H. Felstead says in your issue of the 1st inst.? I would also like to tell 'Libra' that it is only by the use of precise statements such as those introduced by A. York-Bramble that progress can be made in the scientific portions of our Exercise. He will not deny, I hope, that W. H. Thompson's researches into Grandsire Triples were conducted in a scientific manner and that they involved the introduction of such specialist terms as 'Q-set,' nor that, as A. York-Bramble pointed out, certain terms in everyday use in the Exercise are indubitably imprecise.

As a beginner, and a non-peal ringer, I should like to extend my thanks to A. York-Bramble for his excellent series of articles and to those of your correspondents whose subsequent discussion has proved so enlightening to one who lacks a knowledge of and access to previous records and original sources.—Yours sincerely,

PHILIP P. CARTER.

Sowerby, Yorks.

Apropos the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead's letter re method extension last week, Mr. Ernest C. S. Turner writes: 'I should like to support Mr. Felstead's condemnation of the use of a nom de plume by 'Libra' in 'The Ringing World,' dated June 24th. In fairness to Dr. Hatcher, the author should surely have signed his own name.

GUILDFORD GUILD MOTION

Dear Sir,—Had Mr. Shepherd been present at the meeting of the Standing Committee and heard the exposition of Mr. G. W. Fletcher and other members of the Editorial Committee he would have had no hesitation in coming to the conclusion that I did not vote against the motion submitted by my Guild. When only half of a case is presented it is unwise to pass judgment.—Yours faithfully,

Guildford. A. H. PULLING.

THE REV. E. S. POWELL

Dear Sir,—It is proposed to erect here in the sanctuary of this beautiful old Parish Church, which he loved and served, a stone memorial tablet to the memory of the late Rev. Everard Slade Powell, M.A., Vicar of Staverton from 1933 to 1946.

The ringers of the parish are entrusted with the task of collecting the necessary money, which will be in the neighbourhood of £50. They have already received several requests from people outside the parish to be allowed to join in it, and it occurred to them that there may be others who, for reasons of friendship or gratitude, would welcome the opportunity of taking a share, however small. Mr. Powell's Mastership of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild is to be recorded on the memorial.

Any contributions should be sent to either of the undersigned without delay and will be acknowledged.

MAUD CLARKE (captain of the ringers).
ALICE M. HALL (Treasurer).

Staverton, near Daventry, Northants.

DEVONSHIRE GUILD OF RINGERS

A joint meeting of the Mid-Devon and South-West Branches was held at Buckfast Abbey, Buckfastleigh, on June 18th, and was largely attended.

The bells were kept going throughout the afternoon to suit all requirements, after which the company adjourned to the King's Arms Assembly Rooms for tea.

One non-resident life member, Mr. Peter Newing, of Canterbury, was elected, and it was announced that the Mid-Devon and Exeter Branches would hold a joint meeting at Dawlish on Saturday, July 16th. Votes of thanks were accorded to the Lord Abbot of Buckfast and the Vicar of Dean Prior.

Guildford Diocesan Guild

NEW PEAL TAX SUGGESTED.

There was a small attendance of members and visitors at a meeting of the Guildford District, Guildford Guild, at Albury on June 25th. The Guild's form of service was conducted by the Rector, and after tea Shere bells were available. The small attendance permitted a good deal of time being devoted to beginners, of whom there were quite a few in attendance.

At the business meeting, at which the Rector of Albury presided, the meeting discussed a suggestion put forward by the general secretary that with a view to raising funds out of which grants could be made towards restorations, augmentations and the provision of ropes, the Guild should impose a rope tax on all peal attempts and perhaps a small fee for members attending meetings. Mr. Grover explained that this suggested scheme was intended to be in substitution for any increase in the annual subscription, and he pointed out to members that the people who rang peals and attended district meetings were the interested members of the Guild, and the financing of the Guild depended on their enthusiasm and support more than on members whose only connection with the Guild was to pay their annual subscription.

After discussion, the meeting decided to allow the matter to stand over until the next district meeting.

LEEDS AND SELBY SOCIETIES

JOINT MEETING AT KIPPAX.

On a perfect summer's day the members of the two societies journeyed to Kippax, a six-bell tower situate between the two towns. The bells were raised soon after 2.30 p.m., and learners had the first pulls of rounds and Queen's. Other methods were rung until tea time, when some 40 members transferred to the Sunday Schools, where cups of tea were provided by the local company.

The business meeting followed tea. Mr. Hill (Leeds president) presided and was supported by Mr. H. Morley (Selby).

The vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and local company was proposed by Mr. Hill and seconded by Mr. H. S. Morley. The Vicar suitably responded, and the people's churchwarden, Mr. Lawn, supported and referred to the church roof, which required replacing owing to the death watch beetle having been at work for some years. As many of the ringers had expressed concern and surprise at the destruction, a collection was taken, which amounted to £1 5s.

Several new members were elected to their respective societies.

The next Leeds meeting will be held on July 31st at Sherburn. As this is the start of the Leeds holidays, members were asked to turn up in force.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

EAST NORFOLK BRANCH.

Ludham, which has the heaviest ring of five in Norfolk (tenor 22 cwt.), was selected for the East Norfolk Branch meeting on June 11th. Thirty-five members attended, and the service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. Arnsworth).

At the business meeting, Mr. G. W. Fletcher presided, supported by the president (the Rev. A. St. J. Heard), Ringing Master (Mr. N. Golden), branch secretary (Mr. J. G. W. Harwood) and acting branch Ringing Master (Mrs. Fletcher).

The chairman reported on the Central Council meeting at York. Mr. W. E. Warner (Norton Subcourse) was elected a member. A silent tribute was paid to the late Mr. F. Middleton (Mulbarton). The next meeting was fixed for September 10th at Pakefield.

RINGERS' OUTINGS

ST. LEONARD'S, STREATHAM.

Winchester and Romsey were the objectives for the fourth pilgrimage of St. Leonard's, Streatham, and Christ Church, Mitcham, bands on June 18th. On the outward journey ringing took place at Farnham.

Ringing at Winchester was confined to the six at St. Maurice's, but most of the party also visited the Cathedral. At Romsey, because of an unexpected church service, ringing was reduced to 15 minutes, but a dozen enthusiasts climbed the interminable stairs for a quick pull.

Six-bell ringers showed their prowess at King Somborne, and then to Andover where, after a bumper tea, the sight of the open spiral staircase to the belfry caused a few to 'decline with thanks.' It held no terrors for some of the lady visitors, who crowded into the belfry to watch the menfolk ring stand methods on the beautiful eight.

Greetings were sent to Mr. A. Miller, of the Mitcham band, at present in Canada, and thanks passed to Mr. S. Howard, the pilgrimage secretary.

DARLINGTON.

Ringers of St. Cuthbert's and Holy Trinity unofficially carried on the traditions of the Darlington Amalgamated Society by their outing on June 25th, organised by Mr. T. Cooke.

After a good view of Durham Cathedral, Newcastle was safely negotiated, and the first halt was at Fenham, the church containing a carillon of 17 fine-toned bells by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, eight of which are hung for ringing (tenor 14 cwt.). A most musical ring was all in readiness, thanks to Mr. J. L. Gray and the local band.

A halt was made at Morpeth for coffee and a walk by the Wansbeck and inspection of the watch tower. Then through Alnmouth to Barnburgh for lunch and a visit to its ancient church with eight bells (tenor 14½ cwt.). The tower has a square staircase, and some of the party used to the ordinary spiral found the progression of three steps and a right-angle turn somewhat novel. In the church is the memorial to Grace Darling.

Through scenery not easily surpassed, the route was via Alnwick and over the moors to Rothbury—a ring of eight (tenor 14 cwt.), where local ringers awaited the party.

The homeward run was through beautiful scenery via Scots Gap and the Roman wall to Corbridge, where a short halt was made and some handbell ringing indulged in before the last lap through Tow Law and West Auckland to Darlington. A memorable day.

FELPHAM, SUSSEX.

A tour of Hampshire and Surrey was the programme for Felpham ringers' outing. Bishop's Waltham, Stockbridge, Whitchurch, Odiham and Worplesdon were visited. Mr. Peter Wood acted as Ringing Master and Miss E. Lonnen organised the outing, which was a great success.

ROCHDALE.

For their outing into Derbyshire on June 18th, All Saints', Hamer, Rochdale, had a beautiful day. First stop was Gawsworth, where a member who learned to pull a bell gave details of the history of these bells.

After lunch the next call was Mayfield, and then Ashbourn, where friends were amused at the faces of the company with the long draught of 72ft. Expressions changed as good touches of Grandsire, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford T.B. were rung.

Next came the heavy eight at Youlgrave, and then home through Bakewell and lovely Derbyshire country. Thanks are due to Mr. James Taylor for an excellent outing.

CHICHESTER CATHEDRAL.

Ringwood, Bournemouth, and Southampton were in the itinery of Chichester Cathedral Guild for their tour on June 25th.

Mr. Sheetham had the fine ring at Ringwood ready for the party, and at St. Peter's, Bournemouth, Mr. Arthur Davies was waiting for the visitors.

After lunch and Bournemouth sea, shops and ices, we coasted to Southampton and St. Michael's ten, where we discovered the Rev. Felstead waiting for donations for his bombed parish behind a street hoarding! After sampling this fine ten, we went on to Portsmouth to see the show, 'Careless Rapture.' We all agreed that a show is excellent to complete a ringing tour.

Our gratitude to Mrs. Tamplin, who so successfully arranged the day's outing.

WHISTON, YORKS.

During this year's outing to Whitby on June 18th, Whiston ringers rang on the magnificent ten at Selby Abbey and the light eight at Norton, near Malton. A warm welcome was received at both places, and the outing proved to be most enjoyable.

MAIDSTONE DISTRICT.

Six Surrey towers were included in the District's coach tour on June 11th. A groan went up from the ladies at the sight of the vertical iron ladder at Redhill, but they cheered up after ascending it and ringing for three-quarters of an hour.

Fifteen minutes were wasted looking for the entrance to Dorking Church, but having found it no time was lost in raising the bells. An al fresco lunch at Albury was followed by a ring on the musical six.

On arriving at Guildford, a wooden box carried by one of the ladies, a cause for much speculation, was opened, and out flew a pigeon. Ringing at Holy Trinity Cathedral Church attracted a crowd, who anticipated the bride. Miss W. Oliver, secretary of the Southern District Ladies' Guild, arranged an excellent meal

The company showed their proficiency on ten at Reigate. At Godstone, the treble was discovered to be lashed, and the stay broken. This did not prevent ringing. After quenching thirsts, the party was able to relax and count blisters as the coach took them homewards.

Dr. E. St. J. Hatcher was congratulated and thanked by Mr. A. Waddington for organising the tour.

ST. AMBROSE'S, BRISTOL.

A coach tour to London was planned by St. Ambrose's, Bristol, on, June 18th. The first stop was Malborough (for breakfast) and then to Hammersmith.

Whitechapel Foundry was reached just before 1 p.m. Mr. A. A. Hughes kindly arranged lunch and showed the party over the Foundry. Ringing at All Saints', Poplar, followed.

On the homeward journey the party was met at Newbury by Mr. Curtis, where ringing was enjoyed on the ten bells. The last stop was Marlborough (for supper), where thanks were expressed to the organiser and Mr. and Mrs. Bennett congratulated on the anniversary of their wedding day and presented with a gift, as a token of the party's esteem. The outing was one of the finest St. Ambrose's Guild had arranged.

HELMINGHAM.

A distance of 230 miles in 18 hours was accomplished by the Helmingham band on their annual outing on June 25th. Towers visited were Royston, Baldock, Hitchin, Dunstable and Harpenden. Ringing ranged from Bob Major to London and Bristol Surprise.

LONDON COUNTIES ASSOCIATION.

About 40 members, some accompanied by their wives, spent an enjoyable day in Kent on June 25th.

First call was at All Saints', Birchington, and then the Waterloo tower at Quex Park, where the 12 bells were soon going to Grandsire and Stedman.

Lunch was taken at Margate, followed by ringing at St. John's. Later came the fine ring of 10 at St. Lawrence's, Ramsgate, where methods ranged from Grandsire to Cambridge. was reached at 10.45, all having enjoyed the well-arranged programme.

DARLEY DALE AND ASHOVER.

This combined outing on June 25th was into Cheshire. Ringing was enjoyed at Congleton, Sandbach, Middlewich and Macclesfield. Methods rung during the day were Grandsire Triples and Caters, Oxford Bob and Stedman Triples, also Bob Major. A number of the ringers had their first ring on 12 bells at Macclesfield.

OBITUARY
MR. E. HANCOX.

A ringer at St. Andrew's, Hillingdon West, for nearly 50 years and captain for the last 25 years, Mr. E. Hancox died on June 29th. He was one of the oldest members of the Middlesex County Association, and also a member of the Oxford, Surrey, Warwickshire and College Youths. He had rung nearly 100 peals.

The funeral was held at Hillingdon Cemetery on July 4th, attended by members of St. Andrew's and St. John's Church. In the evening a quarter-peal of Oxford Bob Triples was rung at St. Andrew's Church by: S. W. Childs 1, P. E. Jones 2, M. Kilby (first in method) 3, W. Honer 4, T. Collins 5, P. Corke (conductor), 6, H. Imfrey 7, S. Humphreys 8.

MR. CLIFTON NEWMAN.

Mr. Clifton Newman (72), of 53, Finedon Road, Irthlingborough, who has rung at the Parish Church since the bells were hung in 1893, has died. He was clerk and verger at the church for 20 years, until he retired in 1924, a Sunday School teacher and a member of the choir for many years.

At the funeral service on July 6th, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. L. V. Rogers), the following bellringers acted as bearers: Messrs. A. Tyler, J. Mawby, A. Bigley and J. Skerritt. Among those present were Messrs. W. Perkins, F. Kirk, A. Bellamy (Raunds), G. Basford and J. Main (Finedon) and J. Chambers (Stanwick). As a tribute the bells of the Parish Church were rung half-muffled from the date of his death until after the funeral.

Stafford Archdeaconry Society

ANNUAL MEETING AT LICHFIELD.

The annual meeting of the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford was held at Lichfield on July 2nd, and once again glorious weather marked the occasion.

One of the largest gatherings ever experienced by the society attended, and ringing commenced at the Cathedral at 2.30 p.m. Other towers that were made good use of were St. Mary's (8) and St. Michael's (6).

The service at the Cathedral (evensong) was attended by the majority of those present. Tea followed in the ancient Guildhall, by permission of the City Council, and was attended by the Mayor and Mayoress of Lichfield. A very fine display of civic silver was on view for the benefit of the visitors. The tea, which had been arranged by Mr. Walter J. Cope, obviously with considerable preparation, was enjoyed by the 120 present.

The general meeting was presided over by the Archdeacon of Stafford, who is well known in the Midlands for his staunch support of ringers and bellringing. Proceedings opened with a welcome to Lichfield by the Mayor.

The treasurer, in his summing up of the past year's finances, stated there had been a loss on the year of £14, contributed largely by the extra cost of printing the annual report, but it was generally agreed that it had been an otherwise very successful year.

VARIETY IN PEALS.

In his report, the secretary stated that 62 peals had been rung for the society during the year and, whilst this was not a record, the variety of methods rung was greater than ever before, and included several 'firsts' for the society in Surprise methods, including Yorkshire Surprise Royal, Belgrave Surprise Major, Ashtead Surprise Major, and Aldenham Surprise Major. Other methods appearing for the first time for a number of years were Norfolk Surprise Major, New Cambridge Surprise Major, and Erin Caters. Most of the peals reported included a good percentage of ringers who were ringing in the method for the first time.

During the year two entire bands had been affiliated—Rugeley and Alrewas—which proved that the northern side of the district was getting stronger. Membership in most areas was steadily increasing.

A notable change in the society's policy was that the quarterly meetings were being abandoned and were to be substituted by six bimonthly meetings, to be held alternately in the Northern and Southern Districts. It was also the popular opinion that the subscription should be increased to 2s. per annum, with life members paying 5s.

The only change in the society's officers was the election of Mr. Eric E. Speake as Ringing Master. Officers re-elected were Mr. Arthur V. Pearson (secretary), Rev. C. Holroyd Barker as treasurer and clerical secretary and Mr. F. Brotherton as auditor.

A very successful meeting was brought to a close with a well-struck course of Grandsire Caters on handbells by request of the Mayor and Mayoress, and further tower ringing.

HALIFAX AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting and prize contest were held at Longwood on July 2nd, and eight teams entered to ring a Plain Course practice and 360 changes for test piece, of own choice.

Some excellent ringing was heard all day, and about 80 ringers and friends sat down to tea provided by the local company.

The judges' decision was as follows: Shelley 70 faults, Meltham 27, Friezland 17, New Mill 34, Silkstone 26, Cawthorne 66, Thornhill 60 (rang out), Liversedge 20.

Friezland were declared winners, and each ringer received a razor set along with the Association's silver cup. The runner-up, Liversedge, each received a fountain pen.

RHYTHM

IT is obvious to anyone who has visited different towers and has rung with many bands of ringers that there are many different ways of ringing a method. Take, for instance, the familiar Grandsire Triples. We can be a 'blue liner,' and stick rigidly to the blue line of the diagram, thinking of the work as a pattern. Very near this is the ringer who remembers the order of the dodging and hunts until he knows a dodge or place must be made. There is the ringer who depends on the treble and knows a rule which tells him where to dodge next according to where he passes the treble. Not so different is the ringer who hears the treble hunt up and down and dodges after he hears (or sees) the treble lead.

All these ways have one thing in common—no one worries particularly over which bell to strike at any blow. Each way assumes that the ringer is competent to place his bell in the right position. There is, however, a fundamentally different way of ringing the method—by learning which bells to strike over or, what is nearly the same thing, learning the order in which the bells are passed.

This method is entirely different (these, of course, are personal opinions) in that it calls only for ropesight, and does not demand of the ringer any awareness of the 'beat' or rhythm of the striking. If the learner by this method picks up true rhythm it is by his own resources, and it does not follow from the method of tuition. That is why I think it is totally wrong to teach beginners a method by showing them repeatedly which bells to pull after. This may be necessary at a very early stage, but the emphasis should be on position. I learnt to ring handbells (whether one or two does not matter), and appreciated the rhythm of the striking and the idea of waiting for one more bell each time to change my position, so that when I came to the difficulty of making a tower bell do the same, I knew what was wanted, and I am grateful to those who taught me that I did not have the extra task of remembering orders of bells.

Ropesight and rhythm are the two essentials which co-operate to make the good striker. The tip-top ringer should be able to ring with his eyes shut (thus using rhythm only) and also with his ears plugged. The 'which-bell merchants' are the slaves of ropesight only.

Now, maybe, I have been fanatical, but I believe it is very important that we do not misguide our beginners. And a lot of it is done undoubtedly. Rather than say '4, 5 and lead,' let us say, 'Wait for two, hunt down to lead.' I believe this puts directly to the learner something which otherwise he will have to find out as best he can. You may have noticed that I said 'the familiar Grandsire Triples.' I do not despise the method, but unfortunately I get far too much of it. Why? Because I think that many of my friends are tied inexorably to their Grandsire ropesight, and the rhythm of other methods is foreign to them. Lucky are those who have the ability to break out of this rut. I believe that the ringing Exercise as a whole must recognise these differences and declare what is the best method of instruction. We have guidance on bell control, but methods of teaching change ringing still vary to a vast extent.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Ringers should listen-in to West Regional Home Service on Thursday, Aug. 4th, when there will be a special feature, 'From Tower and Steeple,' from 9.30 to 10 p.m.

Hitcham ringers have kindly given their tower once a fortnight for an all Burnham practice.

There will be no practice ringing at St. Matthew's, Upper Clapton, on the following three Wednesdays, August 3rd, 10th, 17th, or on Sundays, August 7th and 14th.

Votes of thanks to vicars and towerkeepers in respect of outings have been deleted—not in any sense on account of ingratitude, but to enable as many reports as possible to be published.

The Church of the Holy Sepulchre, Northampton, where a peal was rung on July 12th, is one of the three round churches in the country. It will celebrate its 850th anniversary next year.

Mr. George Gilbert is cheered in his quest for £2,000 for Burnham bells by an anonymous donor giving £80 to recast the treble. He hopes to have ten of his girls ringing the Campanile bells at Loughborough on July 27th, the first time that ten 'teen age girls all from one tower have manned the bells.

Mr. John Anderson writes pointing out that he was credited with being a member of the North Staffs Association in 'The Ringing World' of June 24th. He is not a member of this Association. His local Association is the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association.

Have you a story to tell in connection with the 2,000th issue of 'The Ringing World'? We are featuring reminiscences of those who have been readers since its foundation by the late Mr. J. S. Goldsmith.

Mr. W. P. Whitehead, of Barwell, offers congratulations to Mr. T. G. Miller on ringing a peal on his 76th birthday; further he mentions that a claim made by Mr. C. H. Kippin and him (Mr. Whitehead) over 25 years ago to be the youngest to call Holt's Original turns out to be 36 years too late, Mr. Miller having called the one-part 62 years ago at the age of 14.

Setting the pace this year is Mr. Daniel T. Matkin, who rang his 50th peal on July 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Matthews have now completed the Cambridge circuit from Minor to Maximus.

If a ringer holds the end of his rope in his right hand, is he a right or left-handed ringer? A query from Leicestershire.

This month's 'Ringing Towers' from Australia contains an interesting article by Mr. Duncan on 'Theory for Beginners.'

We have received letters of appreciation of the illustrated article of the Lavenham Ringing Day festival that appeared in 'Picture Post.' 'A little more of this kind of publicity should help to make our silent bells use their voices again,' writes Mr. R. Newman, Finsbury Park, N.4.

Sible Hedingham ringers had a particularly unpleasant experience on their outing on arrival at St. Neots, when they were refused permission to ring by the verger, despite a letter received previously granting their request. To make matters worse, accusations of misbehaviour were made by the verger to the Vicar's wife, which were unfounded. Writes Mr. Archie A. Fitch: 'In my 25 years of ringing I have never met such an inhospitable or ill-mannered man as that verger was to our party of 30 adults.' Happily this is an isolated instance. Reports of ringers' outings that we have received from all over the country testify to the friendliness extended towards visitors.

Blackburn Cathedral Bells

NOW A FIVE TON RING.

Work is now in progress by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, in rehanging the recast bells of Blackburn Cathedral.

The old bells, the back six of which were cast 212 years ago and the other four added in 1852, were removed from the Cathedral tower last August. They have returned a heavier and much finer ring that will compare favourably with any other bells in the North of England. The tenor is 25½ cwt. in D natural and the weight of the tenor exceeds five tons.

A new cast-iron frame has been erected on two sets of heavy rolled steel girders placed transversely on one another; bolted together and grouted into the tower wall. The wheels are of well-seasoned oak, headstocks of curved cast-iron fitted with nickel steel gudgeons and hung in self-aligning ball bearings.

Considerable alterations have been necessary in the tower. The old clock has been removed and is to be replaced by an all-electric one which is in very small compass and gives more room for the bells and also in the ringing chamber. The clock will strike the hour and chime Westminster quarters on the bells.

The louvres in the tower have been bricked up, the roof opened, and a lantern built on top. The sound will thus be thrown upwards before escaping through the lantern roof. This will be a big improvement, since the sound will be diffused and not thrown down into the churchyard and the immediate vicinity of the Cathedral as formerly.

The cost of recasting the bells, alterations to the tower and the new clock is about £3,500. It is likely that the bells will be dedicated near the end of August.

THE INSCRIPTIONS.

The six oldest bells bore Latin inscriptions which have been reproduced. A free translation of these is as follows:—

Second: I call the living, I mourn the dead, I subdue the thunder.

Third: I praise God, I call the people, I assemble the clergy, I lament the departed, I drive away the plague, I proclaim the feasts.

Fourth: I toll funerals, I subdue the thunder, I declare the Sabbath.

Fifth: I hasten the tardy, I scatter the winds, I pacify the angry.

Sixth: O name of Jesus Christ, turn thou and succour us.

Seventh: We praise thee and we pray; deliver us from sad death.

The inscriptions on the other bells are:—

Treble: In memory of W. E. Wilson, Ringer and Belfry Master 1887-1943. Also Edward Wilson (1933-1946). T. Wilson, Captain, 1949.

Eighth: This belfry was restored and the clock, with chimes, renewed in 1949. T. Stirrup, J. W. Wilson, J. L. Heppard, V. J. Abbott, Churchwardens.

Ninth: In memory of those of this congregation and diocese who gave their lives in the war 1939-45.

Tenor: This peal was recast and enlarged in 1949; while extensions to the Cathedral were being made. W. Hare, Treasurer, Cathedral Fabric Funds, from 1934, and of the Bishopric in 1926.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD

PRESENTATION TO BRANCH SECRETARY.

In appreciation of his 25 years' service as branch secretary, members of the Peterborough Branch at their meeting at Stamford All Saints' on July 2nd presented Mr. W. H. Waldron with a barometer. The presentation was made by the Master of the Guild, Mr. E. Whitmore, at the conclusion of the business meeting. Mr. Waldren suitably responded.

It was a very good meeting, ringers and friends coming from a wide area. Ringing was from 3 to 4.45 p.m. and after the business meeting in the belfry.

Quarter Peal by Six Boys

On June 27th, a quarter-peal of Plain Bob Minor was rung at Carlton-juxta-Snaith, Yorkshire, by six boys whose ages ranged from 11 to 13 years.

Carlton was chosen for the attempt as the bells are a new six by Taylor's with a tenor of 6 cwt. and are an ideal peal for youngsters.

The ringers were:— Gordon Leask (13), Thorne, 1; David Jackson (11), Hatfield, 2; Derek Smith (12), Carlton, 3; Clifford Leask (13), Thorne 4; David Thorley (12), Thorne, 5; William Jackson (13), conductor, Hatfield, 6.

The conductor had not called a bob before the previous week. Mr. James Thorley, who arranged the attempt, wonders if this is the youngest band to ring a quarter-peal.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

CANTERBURY DISTRICT.

The quarterly meeting of the Canterbury District was held at St. Peter-in-Thanet on July 9th. Favoured with fine warm weather, 75 members and friends were present representing 19 towers in the district. Service was conducted by the Rev. W. E. Edwards, who welcomed the members to St. Peter's, and gave them a few thoughts to go home with, based on the third verse of the Ringers' Hymn. A collection for the Benevolent Fund amounted to £1 17s. A feature of the service was the attendance of some members of the congregation of St. Peter's, three of whom helped to take up the collection.

Tea followed in the Church Hall, the members being royally entertained by the Parochial Church Council; even appetites sharpened by the sea air failed to clear the tables. The members were welcomed to St. Peter's by Mr. H. Noble, churchwarden, and he and the Council were warmly thanked by Mr. J. A. Russell, who later took the chair for the business meeting. Two practising members were elected. Mr. Noble and Mr. A. Hannibal, parish treasurer, were elected as honorary members. Selling was chosen as the place of the next meeting. Thanks were expressed to all who had helped to make the meeting so memorable.

A return was made to the tower and further ringing enjoyed until 8 p.m., after which some had a quick look at the sea, others to view the coast of France, clearly visible from the tower roof, or to visit the local 'Aquarium.' During the evening the district secretary, in company with the local captan, met the other churchwarden. He was promptly informed by Mr. Appleton that he was to be made an honorary member and the necessary subscription was extracted. B. J. L.

St. Martin's Guild

MEETING AT SELLY OAK.

The quarterly meeting of the St. Martin's Guild took place at Selly Oak on July 2nd. Good use was made of the handy ring of eight, and amongst the visitors was our old friend, Mr. William H. Barber, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, who recalled some of his early ringing experiences at Selly Oak. He and William Short are the only two surviving ringers of the famous peal of 11,111 Stedman Cinques.

Tea was followed by the business meeting, at which the Master (Mr. Albert Walker) presided. Two new members were elected—Mr. John D. Niblett and Mr. David Lane — and the tower elections of Mr. Charles W. Roberts and Mr. C. Kenneth Lewis were duly ratified.

It was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting at Knowle on October 8th. An invitation was received from the Nuneaton District branch of the Coventry Diocesan Guild to hold a joint meeting with them at Polesworth; and the bi-quarterly meeting, to be held in September, was thought to be suitable for the combined meeting.

A new form of service for use at the Guild's services, to supersede the one which has been in use since 1909, was presented to the meeting by Mr. W. C. Dowding and Mr. E. C. Shepherd, and after an interesting discussion it was unanimously decided to adopt the new service paper.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to Mr. W. B. Cartwright for making arrangements at very short notice, was proposed by the chairman and seconded by the secretary. G. E. F.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

STOCKPORT BRANCH.

For the meeting at Knutsford on July 2nd the branch was favoured with excellent weather and over 60 members and friends were present. The old six bells were in use from early in the afternoon until the service, which was conducted by the Rev. Harrison. A bountiful tea was enjoyed in the Parish Hall and following tea the usual business meeting was held.

The chairman, Mr. Elkins, welcomed visitors from other branches of the Guild. Five new members, Messrs. G. Blackshaw, S. Sage, N. Lomas, I. Lomas, A. Rhodes, all of Wilmslow, were elected. The meeting expressed its appreciation of the services of Mrs. D. Kidd in obtaining these new members and for arousing interest at Wilmslow.

The meeting received with regret the news that Mr. W. L. Johnson, of Rostherne, an old and respected ringer, had passed to higher service. The meeting was interested to learn that Mr. S. Hough had completed 60 years as a chorister and over 50 years as a ringer at Knutsford, and congratulated him on his record and his interest in and efforts on behalf of the Guild. Mr. Hough, in his reply, said he would try to emulate the record of a ringer whose grave is in the churchyard and who rang at Knutsford for 75 years.

The meeting closed with a cordial vote of thanks to the local ringers, the ladies who had arranged and served the tea, and to anyone who had in any way helped to make the meeting a success. Ringing was enjoyed on the six bells until a late hour, the tastes of all from expert to learner being catered for by the branch Ringing Master, Mr. T. Wilde.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD

An enjoyable afternoon was spent on June 18th at Pensnett. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Lancelot Smith), who extended a hearty welcome to the party. Tea was served on the Vicarage lawn by Mrs. Smith and her band of workers.

A meeting followed, at which six members of the local band were elected to the Guild. The next quarterly meeting in September is to be held at Old Hill, subject to permission being obtained.

Ancient Society of College Youths

SUMMER MEETING AT HENFIELD.

The summer meeting of the Society was held on July 9th at Henfield, Sussex, and was very well attended. Two of the Society's oldest and most respected members, Messrs. H. R. Newton and E. Alex. Young, accompanied the party.

On arrival at Henfield they were met by Mr. F. Cruttenden, and the bells, a very good ring of eight, were soon going to a fine touch of Stedman Triples. Double Norwich, Cambridge and London provided an opportunity for the more ambitious members to show their prowess, and the company were then entertained to high tea by Mr. Cruttenden, who is an enthusiastic College Youth, and insisted on doing the honours. He must have felt gratified if he observed the look of sublime rapture on the faces of the guests — especially the younger ones, as they enjoyed the good fare provided.

Tea over, the business meeting was held, and several new members were elected, amongst them being Mr. Harold J. Poole, of Leicester. The Master, Mr. J. A. Waugh, gracefully expressed the thanks of all to Mr. Cruttenden for his generous hospitality.

Some of the enterprising members of the party then discovered that Mr. Cruttenden possessed a fine set of handbells (some as big as buckets) and tried their hands at some Major on the largest—and sustained a few blisters for their pains. It was a great joy to see Mr. E. A. Young ringing 7-8 to a touch of Stedman Triples on a more reasonably sized set.

Train time came all too soon and everybody left Henfield with many regrets that the time had been all too short—but resolving that Henfield will be 'on the list' for future visits.

SWANSEA AND BRECON GUILD

ANNUAL FESTIVAL AT GORSEINON.

The annual festival of the Guild was held at the Church of St. Catherine, Gorseinon, on July 2nd.

The bells were well rung from 2 to 3 p.m., when the company left the tower for the service. Canon W. J. Thomas read the lesson and the Rev. H. Willis, Vicar of Townhill, Swansea, who was once a ringer at Gorseinon, gave the address. The Lord Bishop of the Diocese gave the blessing.

The company then adjourned to the Church Hall, where the good people of Gorseinon had prepared a lovely tea. The Bishop thanked the ladies who had prepared for the festival, Canon Thomas for having the Guild at Gorseinon, and the choirboys who had assisted in the service.

Canon Thomas, in reply, stated how pleased they were to have the Guild at Gorseinon and how fortunate the Guild was to have the Lord Bishop of the Diocese, who took such a keen interest in the Guild as president. The Bishop had refused an important invitation because he had stated that he had a date with the bell-ringers at Gorseinon.

At the annual meeting, at which the Lord Bishop presided, the following officers were elected: Ringing Master, Mr. W. Dobbins, Gorseinon; treasurer, Mr. Melville Howcroft; secretary, Mr. D. G. Williams; auditor, Mr. Rowlands.

After some discussion re rules for ringing competition, it was resolved that Rule 8 be deleted and the following take its place: 'The home team be handicapped 5 points and that the test piece for all competitors be 120 Grandsire Doubles or four 30's.'

The 1950 festival is to be held at Brecon on July 1st, when it is hoped that the war memorial will be ready so that the dedication service will take place on the same date.

The hon. general secretary proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Bishop for taking the chair, and also thanked the Rev. H. Willis for his inspiring address at the service.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A FINE BROADCASTING FEATURE

Dear Sir,—On Thursday, August 4th, in the West Regional Home Service, there is to be from 9.30 to 10 p.m. a broadcast feature called 'From Tower and Steeple.' The B.B.C. asked me to advise them on the technical side of this, and I believe they are going to send me the script (to correct any technical errors) before the actual day. They also want me in the studio for the broadcast, but I don't think my dulcet tones are actually to be heard.

The broadcast was planned over a year ago, and the original idea was to include recordings of two towers from each county in the West Region—Hants, Wilts, Dorset, Somerset, Devon and Cornwall — but for various reasons this proved impracticable. However, a good selection, and I hope a fairly representative one, will be available. On my first visit to the studios I spent three solid hours listening to recordings made in the region prior to broadcast church services, and it is a sad comment on the average level of striking up and down the country that not a single one of these was good enough. Not all bell broadcasts are recorded, ringers are naturally nervous on these occasions, and local captains cannot for diplomatic reasons easy to understand always have the ringers they would like, but I came away that evening rather saddened and disillusioned by what I had heard.

Nothing daunted, the B.B.C. sent their recording van to various suggested towers, and whilst no effort was spared to have the best available band, the results were not always as good as might have been hoped. However, if any bad blows come over the air on August 4th the fault will not lie with the ringers or the B.B.C., but with their technical adviser.

Not all the special recordings will be used, some will be crowded out because of the limited time available, some because the quality of the striking was a very poor advertisement for the Exercise in general and the local band in particular.

I would like to pay my tribute to the pains taken by the producer to ensure that no mistakes to which the non-ringer would naturally be prone should creep in, and to the generous way in which he has responded to my advice. I think one recording may be used which I would prefer to leave out, but I can fully appreciate the reasons why the producer wishes to include it.—Yours sincerely,

E. J. TAYLOR.

Tiverton, Devon.

P.S.—I forgot to say that the object of the broadcast is to interest the general public in bells and ringing, so if any ringers hearing it would write to the B.B.C. giving their impressions, it would perhaps be politic not to mention the fact that they are ringers.—E.J.T.

GUILDFORD GUILD MOTION

Dear Sir,—I would remind Mr. Pulling that he was elected as a Central Council representative under Rule 14, also that the motion was addressed to the Central Council, not the Standing Committee or the Editorial Committee. Two representatives attended at York, one spoke in favour of the motion, the other one against it, therefore one of the representatives is out of touch with the expressions put forward by the Guild.

In saying that 'when only half of a case is presented it is unwise to pass judgment,' surely it would have been wiser to have refrained from doing so at York.—Yours sincerely,

W. SHEPHERD.

Addlestone, Surrey.

NOTE.—Mr. G. L. Grover unhesitatingly withdrew the motion of the Guildford Guild when he heard the explanation of Mr. Fletcher. Aware of the satisfactory way the Standing Committee proposed to deal with the situation, Mr. Pulling was quite in order in taking the line he did.—Editor.

5,057 GRANDSIRE CATERS FALSE

(See Page 336)

Dear Sir,—I regret to inform you that the 5,057 Grandsire Caters, by S. H. Wood, which is published on page 336 of this week's 'Ringing World,' is false.

The handstroke change of the 4th lead-end of the turning course, which is the 33rd course of the peal, repeats with the handstroke change of the 3rd lead-end of the 48th course. Here are the figures:—

Turning course	48th course
34265978	34562879
—96384725	—86394752
98673542	—79826534
—57928463	S 25749386
52749386

False changes.

Plain lead		Single
25473968	Handstroke	25473968
52749386	Backstroke	25749386

I should like to point out that, in Grandsire Caters, very careful proof is necessary where singles are used, and all the lead-ends concerned need very careful examination to ensure that no repetition occurs at handstroke, which does not show up at backstroke. — Yours sincerely, CHARLES W. ROBERTS.

ATTACK ON VISITING PEAL RINGERS

Dear Sir,—I should like, through your columns, to tell Mr. W. C. Boughton how much I appreciate his agreement with my views. He is not the only one to have done so, though the others were verbally or by letter. It is to be regretted that his suggestion to block louvres is not practicable having regard to the great variety in size, shape and number. There is, however, a much more simple and effective remedy and that is to refuse the use of the tower for peal ringing by visiting bands unless there is some very special reason to justify the peal.

May I reply very briefly to Messrs. F. W. Lack and P. Laflin? There was no imaginary line, except in so far as it was demarked by Mr. Corby. It is true that there are some ringers filling the posts mentioned by Mr. Lack, and, having said that, we may as well admit without any humbug that it is probably true to say that 75 per cent. of ringers attend a service only at a ringing meeting and perhaps on Easter Sunday and Christmas Day. The gibe one hears only too frequently, 'Oh, ringers, yes, they are the people who put on their hats and walk off as soon as the service commences,' is true, and we know it is. A little heart searching on this question of church attendance would do the Exercise no harm, and I suggest that it might be made the subject of some letters in 'The Ringing World' in order to obtain readers' views. — Yours faithfully, T. V. LISTER.

RINGERS' OUTINGS

ST. PAUL'S, BURTON-ON-TRENT.

Members of the St. Paul's Society and several of their colleagues from St. Wystan's, Repton, toured Warwickshire, Worcestershire and Gloucestershire for their outing on July 9th. Leaving Burton early, the first call was at Holy Trinity Church, Stratford-on-Avon, and what a treat it was to ring on this lovely ring! Ringing at the Bell Tower, Evesham, followed, and then on to Tewkesbury Abbey to ring on the twelve.

Across country to Worcester for ringing at St. John's, and homeward bound via Bromsgrove (St. John's, 10), where despite the 'hectic' day, some good ringing was heard. A grand day, everyone happy, and our thanks to the incumbents and tower secretaries for making the outing so successful. W. J. L.

HORNCHURCH, ESSEX.

A well-struck course of Grandsire Triples in the lych gate of St. Andrew's at 7.30 a.m. on July 9th sent the Hornchurch ringers off to a good start on their annual outing.

Dunstable was reached at 9.30 a.m. Woburn, Bedford, Ware, Hoddesdon and Broxbourne were all reached within a few minutes of scheduled time and ringing thoroughly enjoyed at all these towers. Lunch was taken at Bedford and tea at Ware.

Strange belfries and bells brought to light imperfections in the striking of some of the younger members—and the older ones too—but some well-struck Double Norwich at Woburn and a good course of Cambridge at Ware were the highlights of a very successful day.

The day ended at Broxbourne, with some of the party, including a lady member, matching their darts skill against the locals, others reminiscing in the gardens and the more enthusiastic ringing a course of Caters on the handbells. Hornchurch was reached at 11 p.m.

EASTBOURNE.

Fifty-two ringers, wives and friends left Eastbourne in perfect weather at 8 a.m. on July 9th for their annual outing, and the first stop was Chislehurst, where the fine ring of eight at the Annunciation Church was utilised to good effect for an hour. After a good lunch in Maidstone, the ringers were taken out to West Malling for an hour's ringing.

At 4 o'clock the party set out for that delightful Kent village of Goudhurst, where, after another period of very warm ringing on the heavy and rough going ring of eight, a really excellent meat tea was provided in the Church Hall. The next stop on the tour was the small village of Iden, a few miles from Rye, where the six bells of the village church were rung until 8.45 p.m.

After a stop at Battle on the homeward journey for some light refreshment, the tired company arrived back in Eastbourne after what was without doubt a most enjoyable day's ringing outing.

STOWMARKET.

A party of ringers set out from Stowmarket on July 9th for a very pleasant day on the Cambridge district. During the morning stops for ringing were made at Willingham and Longstanton, and after an early lunch the party, reinforced by Messrs. Dennis and Martin, visited the churches of Our Lady and the English Martyrs, St. Mary-the-Great and St. Andrew.

A cup of tea and an all too brief visit to the Chapel of King's College brought the afternoon to an end and a move was made for Ickleton. This was undoubtedly the high spot of the day and it was with regret that the company left for home.

Ringing throughout the day was of a good standard, and methods brought round included Double Norwich, Cambridge, Superlative, Oxford and Kent Major, Kent Royal and Grandsire Caters. O. G. B.

GAMSTON AND DISTRICT, NOTTS.

On July 2nd, the Gamston and district ringers held their annual outing, this year visiting some of Leicestershire's towers. Accompanied by wives and friends, the party left Gamston at 8 a.m., arriving at Cotgrave (still in Notts), with its deep ring of six, at 9.20. Here they were met by the local captain and ringing was in progress until 10.30.

At Wymeswald, where difficulty was experienced in obtaining the key, the smooth six pealed merrily until 12.15, when it was time to depart for Loughborough. Here the party was met by a representative of Messrs. John Taylors and escorted over the bell foundry, terminating this interesting visit with a pull on the famous 'light ten.'

Asfordby, with its tall spire and picturesque setting, was the next call, where Mr. Cook had the bells raised in readiness. Ringing was brief, however, owing to illness near the church—a blessing in disguise, perhaps, as the long ropes and acrobatic sallies made ringing awkward, but delighted the onlookers. Mr. Cook escorted his visitors to Kirby Bellars, with its ring of five, where touches of Doubles were rung. After a stay in Melton Mowbray for tea, the tour was completed with ringing at Waltham-in-the-Wold and Harlaxton.

Methods rung included Plain Bob, Grandsire, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, Single Oxford, Single Court and Spliced Oxford and Kent Treble Bob. Conducting was shared by Messrs. H. Denman, O. Street and R. Ashford.

MARKET HARBOROUGH.

Stratford-on-Avon and the Evesham district were visited by Market Harborough District for their outing on June 25th, two motor-coaches being necessary to accommodate the party.

Mr. A. Manning was waiting for the visitors at Stratford and conducted them to the Parish Church with its beautiful ring of ten, where the tenorman had some good practice.

After lunch there was ringing at Salford Priors and Norton. Tea at Evesham was followed by a trip down the river. On the return journey, Mr. A. Manning, their excellent guide, left the party at Bidford. Kibworth was reached at 11.30 p.m. after a very good day.

WALTON-ON-THAMES.

Another party to visit Cambridge for their outing was Walton-on-Thames ringers, accompanied by the Vicar, the Rev. J. Crichton Melville. The party was met at St. Andrew's by Mr. H. Martin. After lunch at the Dorothy Cafe, ringing was indulged in at the Roman Catholic Church and also at Great St. Mary's, non-ringing friends enjoying the beauty of the fine old town.

On the return journey they were met at Hoddesdon by Mr. W. Mumford and enjoyed an hour's ringing, and also met at Broxbourne by Mr. Radley. The outing was organised by Mr. R. Lathbury.

BLEWBURY, BERKS.

Blewbury ringers, joined by friends from Farnborough (Hants), Hagbourne and Harwell, held their annual outing on July 2nd. Romsey Abbey was the first call, where the fine heavy eight were soon set going; then to Sherfield English to a light ring and into Salisbury, where a good lunch awaited the party.

The bells of S. Martin's were first objective in the afternoon, followed by a visit to the Cathedral and a look around town and tea.

On the homeward journey ringing was enjoyed at Amesbury and Andover. It was a grand day well spent, meeting good friends and bells at each tower.

Cambridge University Guild

'JUNIOR RINGING WEEK.'

From June 27th to July 4th, the Cambridge University Guild held its 'junior ringing week' in the Isle of Wight. The programme was arranged by Dr. J. B. Williamson, who joined us for some of the ringing, and the party consisted mainly of present members of the University. We had one member of the Oxford Society—Peter Robbins—who was, however, on this occasion fairly restrained about the merits of the 'other place'—apart from a certain over-eagerness to catch hold for Oxford Treble Bob.

Altogether 12 towers were visited on the island, including four eight-bell towers. They varied a good deal, ranging from the lovely ring of eight at Ryde, with its 26½ cwt. tenor, to the five at Arreton, where we seemed to be ringing on warped wheels and square bearings! This was where one of the Guild's conductors was heard to call, 'That's all—oh no! it isn't—but it's quite enough!' (We were glad to hear it is hoped they may be rehung fairly soon.)

Nine of the 16 members of the party conducted during the week, and methods rung included Hereford Bob, London, Wells and York Surprise Minor, Cambridge Major, and, after some protest and several attempts, a production of Brian D. Price's Double Erin Triples!

Our camp was at Whitwell, near Ventnor, where we found one of the several C.U.G. peal boards met with on the tour. A suggestion that we should repeat that performance was abandoned in favour of less strenuous activities, but a handbell peal was rung in the church porch—from 12 m.n. until 2.20 a.m.! Camp life was much simplified by the unfailingly perfect weather, which enabled those who wished to do so to sleep in the open, and by the kindness of the farmer's wife in cooking the joint for us! The ringing of 'J.B.'s' 'saucer' handbells, originally made from clock chimes, was a novel experience, and his set of six others, with round wooden clappers, made a deafening accompaniment to an evening meal!

All the incumbents of the churches we visited were most welcoming and helpful, and a highlight of the tour was when we were invited at Ryde to join the Ruri-decanal Conference at tea in the vicarage garden.

We are very grateful to 'J.B.' for having arranged the week so efficiently, and our thanks are also due to Michael Harford, the organiser, who took on the anxious job of catering, and did a great deal towards making the tour such an outstanding success.

OBITUARY

MRS. A. SHELTON.

The death occurred on July 7th of Mrs. Gwynedd Margaret, the beloved wife of Mr. Ambrose Shelton, of The Cottage, Oakway, Reigate. She learned to ring at Farningham, Kent, and for many years was a Sunday service ringer, also organist and choirmistress.

About 15 years ago she went to live at Reigate and joined the Reigate Parish Church band, advancing in the Exercise as far as Stedman Caters. She was always most regular at service ringing and practices.

The funeral service was on July 11th at Redhill, and as the cortege left the church four of her friends of the Reigate band rang Grandsire Triples on the handbells. G. F. H.

Dedication

LUTON PARISH CHURCH.

The service for the dedication of the new ring of ten at Luton Parish Church will be long remembered by those who were privileged to be present. The simple but dignified ceremonial, the packed church of worshippers and the beautiful rendering of the music combined to make the service a memorable one.

The old eight, cast in 1761 and 1775, were taken out last September, and have been recast and two new trebles added, to make the third ring of ten in Bedfordshire. The old oak beams supporting the wood frame were badly decayed by worm and beetle, and the new ten have been hung in a cast-iron frame supported on steel girders. The new tenor is 25 cwt. in the key of D, and the old inscriptions have been replaced on the back eight.

The service was preceded by a procession of the choir and visiting clergy and ministers, and included the Mayor and Town Clerk, the Rural Dean (the Rev. W. H. Orton), the Vicar (Canon W. Davison) and the Bishop of Bedford (the Rt. Rev. C. T. T. Wood). On entering the church the procession paused under the tower for the singing of the National Anthem. When all had reached their places the choir sang as an introit, 'I was glad,' by Parry, which was followed by Psalm 150 to Stainer's setting.

During the singing of the hymn, 'When morning gilds the sky,' the Bishop was escorted to a place under the tower for the dedication. Those who escorted him were the cross bearer, the churchwardens, the secretary of the Ringers and Bells Committee (Mr. James Wing), the Mayor and Town Clerk, the Rural Dean and the Vicar. The Vicar, handing the rope to the Bishop, requested him to dedicate the bells, and, following the dedication, the bells were heard for the first time, ringing in rounds, as the procession moved back to their places in the choir.

In his address, the Bishop spoke of the use of bells from earliest times and the part they play in our common life for great events, and in our joys and sorrows. He recalled as a boy walking with a friend along the river bank, hearing the bells of St. George's, Windsor, ring out for the relief of Mafeking. He rejoiced that, as he went about the towns and villages of Hertfordshire and Bedfordshire, he found so many towers where young people were learning the art of change ringing. He hoped the bells would continue to be rung by human hands rather than by mechanical devices.

It was a very impressive finish to the service when the recession paused under the tower whilst the choir sang the old carol, 'Ding Dong! merrily on high, in heaven the bells are ringing.' As the carol finished and the recession proceeded, the west doors were thrown open, and the bells rang out in rounds and into the first touch.

Visiting ringers climbed the tower for a touch, and groups of the congregation stood in the churchyard to listen to the bells. Their lovely tone and easy going were commented on, and Messrs. Taylors, of Loughborough, are to be congratulated on a fine job of work.

Mr. Paul Taylor and Mr. C. Harrison represented the bellfounders, and amongst others present were the architect, Mr. Romilly B. Craze (of Milner and Craze, London), the builder (Alden G. Seaward, of Seaward Bros.), and Miss E. Steele, president of the Bedfordshire Association. Mr. L. A. Goodenough, the captain, was in charge of the ringing. J. W.

THORNE, YORKS. — On June 25th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: G. Leask (first on eight bells, 13) 1, D. Thorley (12) 2, C. Leask (13) 3, T. D. Leask 4, E. Thorley 5, W. Hobson (76) 6, J. Thorley 7, C. Thorley (cond.) 8.

WESTERHAM, KENT.—On July 3rd, 1,280 Kent Treble Bob Major: Hilda Oakshett 1, Edna M. Sills 2, J. L. Morris 3, J. Q. Weller 4, G. W. Cook 5, M. F. Oakshett 6, R. L. Sills (cond.) 7, F. C. W. Knight 8. First of Treble Bob for 2, 3 and 7.

COLLABORATION

A WORD that gained a somewhat sinister meaning during the war—'Collaboration'—was taken by the Vicar of Bray (the Rev. E. C. S. Lomas) for his sermon, preached at the annual festival of the Oxford Diocesan Guild on Saturday. The true meaning of the word, he pointed out, was not only working together but holding together; not only contact but cohesion.

We do not desire to traverse his admirable argument of ringers being collaborators with the Church in its work, each in his or her respective sphere giving the best possible service, but rather to apply his thoughts on collaboration to the general day-to-day life of the Exercise.

In the past few months the Exercise has been passing through one of those periodic difficult phases that befall all organisations. It is a resurgence of an old theme—the creation of antagonism to the art of peal ringing. Indirect methods of approach have been employed, the chief among them being a neglect of Sunday service ringing on the part of peal ringers and general accusations of irreligious conduct on the part of ringers, so familiar with the Victorian idea of a ringer—a tradition that dies hard.

Typical of the campaign of disruption is the utilisation of other than the Ringing Press for soliciting the aid of the public. One of the leaders of English ringing, who this year has had the unique experience of shepherding some 170 ringers either through their first peal or first in a method, has been subjected to attacks on his peal-ringing proclivities. He is a man who has been honoured by the Church in a unique way, but he is very conscious that English ringing will not retain its pre-eminent position without the incentive of the peal.

What the Exercise has to combat is the attitude of mind that a ringer who performs regularly the same set call of 120 Grandsire Doubles on a Sunday morning and evening is doing all that is expected of him, either by his Guild or Church. The Rev. C. Elliot Wigg, Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, was a member of a band of five who last year endeavoured to widen the conception of Doubles by a series of peals in country churches where they were visiting ringers. From 21 methods they increased the number to 42 by successive stages. They set an example to towers with a low number of bells.

The gulf between the peal ringer and the non-peal ringer has to be bridged. There must be true collaboration between the two. Generally speaking there is ever available for the keen young ringer a readiness to shepherd him through his first peal. In no sense are peal ringers an exclusive body; they are the backbone of most of the Guilds and Associations and are among the legislators of English ringing on the Central Council.

LATE NEWS

Lincoln Diocesan Guild have lost their President by the death on July 20th of the Dean (the Very Rev. R. A. Mitchell). He was a good friend of all ringers.

Mr. J. Frank Smallwood writes to us from Rome telling of the beauties of St. Peter's and the Vatican.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Congratulations to Alan Jacques, the 17-years-old youth from Woodhouse, who rang in the first peal of Spliced Surprise Major for the Leicester Diocesan Guild. It was a big day for him in more than one sense, for by the time he reached home that night the distance he had cycled that day totalled 50 miles.

The brothers Henry and George Fearn have rung 300 peals together. What is the record of brothers' peals together?

After the peal at Linton, Kent, the band were hospitably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sone.

Will anonymous and other correspondents kindly note that letters cannot be considered for publication without the name and address of the sender.

Messrs. George W. Hughes and Maurice G. Turner have completed Stedman from Doubles to Cinques. The peal of Doubles was at Rushall, Staffs.

Congratulations on ringing their 100th peal to three Kent County Association members—Mr. T. Cullingworth, Mr. W. A. Oldfield and Mr. Frank C. W. Knight.

Before their end-of-term service of thanksgiving and commemoration on July 22nd, six members of Chichester High School for Boys rang the back six of the Cathedral bells (tenor 21¼ cwt.): Graham Challen (IIc) 1, Frank Lewis (IIb) 2, Colin Keen (IIIa) 3, David Braiden (IIc) 4, B. D. Price 5, John Finey (Ve) 6. As the 3rd and 4th were very heavy for their ringers, only rounds were rung. Graham and John are already veterans of the tower, and can ring changes. David Braiden hails from Westbourne; the others are regular ringers at the Cathedral.

Mr. John R. Sharman, of Northampton, writes stating there are four round churches in the country, viz.: The Temple Church, London; St. Sepulchre's, Cambridge; St. Sepulchre's, Northampton; and Little Maplestead, Essex. We and our informant thank him for his correction of last week's Belfry Gossip item.

The marriage of Mr. Geoffrey Dodds and Miss Jeanne E. Askew will take place at St. Leonard's, Heston, on Saturday, August 27th, at 11.30 a.m.

The peal at Painswick on July 16th was the 50th twelve-bell peal of G. W. Critchley and Leslie W. G. Morris, and was rung for the birthday of Mr. G. S. Goulding, the local captain.

An interesting fact about the peal of Plain Bob Major at Downham Market, Norfolk, on July 10th, was that it was exactly 40 years since Mr. Edward Barker had rung a peal of Bob Major in the tower. The last peal was conducted from the treble by Mr. F. R. Borrer.

Ringing in Dudley appears to be in a sorry state. The following is culled from the Parish Magazine: 'We would appear to have come to a full stop in the ringing of our church bells. They have been silent for the past two weeks, notably on Civic Sunday, Thanksgiving Sunday and the Sunday School Anniversary. There are not sufficient ringers in spite of several efforts made to secure recruits. Perhaps the solution is to resort to mechanical ringing, which can be done by one ringer. Kidderminster Parish Church has solved the problem in this way.' We trust that the Dudley and District Guild will take immediate steps even with visiting ringers for special occasions.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD FESTIVAL

'Non-Ringing Bob' Quoted in Sermon ..... A Progressive Year ..... Help from Bell Restoration Fund ..... 199 New Members ..... Honour for Mr. F. Sharpe

In true accord with the tradition of the past was the 68th annual festival of the Oxford Diocesan Guild held at Oxford last Saturday. The event was well supported, and the reports presented denoted a year of progress with 199 new members, activities with bell restorations and the maintenance of advance in the matter of peal ringing.

Proceedings commenced with the Guild's service held at the Cathedral. Singing was led by a choir of ringers arranged by Mr. F. Sharpe. The Master (the Rev. C. Elliot Wigg) conducted the service and the address was given by the Rev. E. C. S. Lomas (Vicar of Bray) on the subject of collaboration. In church work, he pointed out, it was not the position they occupied but how they filled that position; it was not the work they did but how they did that work in the sight of God that counted.

The particular work prominent in their minds was the ringing of bells in their churches. Every man and woman, boy or girl, who was worthy of the name of ringer had at heart the perfection of his or her work and a real endeavour for good striking. They were naturally anxious that the Exercise should be progressive and that there should bea sustained interest for all by means of change ringing. Their basic motive was a particular job of work for God, to do it faithfully and well. It was so important that they should keep in their minds the answer to the question, 'Why and for whom were they ringing?'

In his particular branch of the Guild they were always sure of a very frank criticism of their ringing at branch meetings or in attempts for a peal in the person of that well-known non-ringing member known as 'Non-Ringing Bob.' But in their regular service ringing there was One above Who knew whether they were endeavouring to do their job faithfully and well.

THE BUSINESS MEETING.

The business meeting was held in the Chapter House, the Rev. C. Elliot Wigg presiding, supported by Capt. A. R. Poyntz (Deputy Master), Mr. A. D. Barker (hon. treasurer), Mr. W. Hibbert (hon. secretary) and Miss M. R. Cross (hon. librarian).

Among the apologies were those of Mr. J. Wilkins, aged 87, of High Wycombe, and Canon G. F. Coleridge, aged 93, who was in Devonshire.

The Master's report stated that he was able to attend most of the branch annual meetings. He had inspected the bells and given advice at Ashbury, and was glad to hear that the work on these bells was shortly to be put in hand. A notable piece of augmentation was the addition of two trebles at Shrivenham, and a memorable occasion was the dedication of the recast tenor at East Ilsley, in memoriam R. T. Hibbert. The standard of ringing appeared to be have been well maintained during the year, and new records had been set up in the spheres of Spliced Surprise Major and Doubles ringing.

The secretary in his report wrote that the year had been most successful. The increase of the annual subscription to 2s. 6d. should not prove a hardship to any individual; it was a remarkably low subscription for the privileges and pleasures of Guild membership. The publication of a comprehensive report after 10 years of absence meant starting from scratch. Miss Cross had proved herself a real worker in checking branch reports and typing them to specification for the printers.

They had had a slight increase in the number of peals, and again the Guild was well to the forefront of the Exercise. It was gratifying to notice the firsts in methods and conducting. He could not help mentioning the names of W. F. Judge, A. R. Pink and G. Gilbert, but he would like to congratulate the conductor of the peal of St. Clement's Triples, which competent conductors would admit was a first-class performance.

The treasurer's report stated that the general funds of the Guild amounted to £558 19s. 4d., of which £500 12s. 2d. was in the Restoration Fund. During the year £15 3s. was contribuated to the latter fund by Parochial Church Councils.

Mr. A. D. Cullum moved, and Mr. Corderoy seconded, the adoption of the reports.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Acknowledging the fact that no other name had been put forward for the position of Master, the Rev. C. Elliot Wigg said he was always willing to make room for a worthy successor, although he had the interest of the Guild at heart.

The other officers were all re-elected, and elected to the committee were Messrs. G. Cauldwell, J. W. Wilkins, H. Sear, J. T. Fowler, R. White, W. F. Judge, G. Holifield, W. Dixon, Mrs. D. Fletcher, Messrs. C. J. Hibbert, A. R. Pink and B. S. Nicholls.

Oxford was selected for the Guild festival for 1950.

RESTORATION FUND GRANTS.

The committee recommended a grant of £30 to Hook Norton. The Rev. E. H. Nind said the work would cost at least £2,000, and within 18 months they had raised over £1,300.

A similar grant was made to Burford after hearing a report from Mr. Nicholls. He said it was found that bells three and four would have to be recast, and this work was not anticipated.

Towards Lewknor bells the branch had voted four guineas. Mr. Badger reported that the cost was £150; the band was very keen and the condition left much to be desired. The sum of £10 was voted.

Mr. C. Corderoy, reporting on Blewbury bells, towards which the branch was contributing £5, said the ringers had promised to raise £50, and the work had been started. A contribution of £10 was agreed to.

Mr. A. R. Pink moved that unless a grant from the Restoration Fund was claimed within three years of being voted, it should become void and a fresh application made if a grant was still needed. He said it was the common policy of the Diocesan Board of Finance to cancel grants if they had not been applied for after three years.

The secretary seconded, and this was agreed to.

A notice of motion was submitted by Miss Cross, asking the committee to consider redrafting a section of Rule 5 dealing with the position of resident ringing members leaving the district and subscriptions after the first complete year's subscription being considered as part payment of the life composition of a non-resident member. She said she would like to see a five years' time limit of membership imposed.

Mr. A. D. Barker seconded and the motion was agreed to.

THE LATE MR. R. T. HIBBERT.

A recommendation of the general committee was submitted by Mr. A. D. Barker that a tablet be placed in East Ilsley Church to record the recasting of the tenor bell in memory of R. T. Hibbert, any moneys remaining in the fund to be transferred to the general fund.

Mr. Barker said that the tablet which was on view was cut by Mr. Lock.

Seconding, Mr. F. Sharpe commented: 'A very worthy memorial to a very worthy man.'

A GUILD BADGE.

Mr. T. J. Fowler said at the last committee meeting he suggested that the Guild should have a badge, and he was asked to submit a design. He obtained a design from the front page of 'The Ringing World,' which had been suitably engraved. The design had been seen by the officers of the Guild and his branch and they had approved of it. He had given an order for 200, and the die was being made. The cost of a badge or brooch was 2s. plus postage. It had a silver-oxydised finish.

The secretary thanked Mr. Fowler for his work and moved that the badge be accepted.

The Rev. Shelwood urged that there should be some qualification before a ringer should be allowed to purchase a badge—some degree of proficiency.

Mr. Fowler said the same principle should apply to the issue of Guild certificates.

The Master stated that he would like to see ringers have to earn their badges and certificates. It was eventually agreed that the issue of badges should be left to the discretion of the branch secretary.

The attention of the meeting was called to the fact that Mr. O. Francis had given 15 years' service as hon. auditor. The officers were empowered to make a suitable gift to him.

GUILD SERVICE.

The Rev. C. G. Seymour-Metford raised the question of the Guild's service, and said some of them felt they would like a change in the form of service. Something should be done to get it into a more liturgical form.

Mr. Cullum supported and thought it should be left in the hands of the minister. The matter was referred to the general committee.

MR. F. SHARPE.

A resolution was submitted from the Bicester Branch 'that in appreciation of the work done for the Guild in particular and ringing in general Mr. F. Sharpe be made a vice-president of the Guild.' The resolution was carried with acclamation.

The secretary reported that the Guild had made 199 new members during the year. Their election was confirmed.

A letter from Mr. Alan Pink stated that it was proposed to make a 'Campanology Corner' in the 'Oxford Diocesan Gazette.' It was decided to ask branch secretaries to send items of interest to Mr. Pink.

APPEAL TO PAROCHIAL COUNCILS.

The Deputy Master said in 1942 an appeal was made to Church Councils to make an annual subscription of 2s. a bell in their tower to the Bell Rectoration Fund. The appeal was then very successful, but had of late decreased, only 15 parishes subscribing. The redrafting of the appeal was approved, the matter being left in the hands of Captain Poyntz.

A collection for the Bell Restoration Fund was taken and amounted to £6.

THE LUNCHEON

A company of 160 attended the luncheon in Christ Church Hall, at which the Master presided. The toast of 'The Visitors' was proposed by Mr. F. Sharpe and responded to by T. W. White, who proposed the health of 'The Oxford Diocesan Guild.' Ringing followed at various towers.

Dedication

TANWORTH-IN-ARDEN.

For many years before the late war it was known that the six bells (tenor 12 cwt.) in the tower of the Parish Church of St. Mary Magdalene, Tanworth, were in need of attention, but it was not until the return of enthusiastic young ringers from the Forces that in 1947 it was decided to call for expert advice. As a result the Whitechapel Foundry was invited to retune and rehang the bells, five of which had been cast in 1707 by Richard Sanders, of Bromsgrove, and the tenor in 1733 by Joseph Smith, of Edgbaston.

When the bells were taken from the tower in January, 1949, it was possible to check old records stating that in 1552 there were 'iiij belles a saunce bel' in the tower, for the original timber foundations of these were still in position under the later wooden framework, though much weathered and worm-eaten.

Our plans had to be modified when the foundry reported the bells were too thin to retune satisfactorily, and as the cost of the original estimate had already been found by private subscriptions a further appeal was launched, and the foundry was requested to recast all the bells and rehang them from iron headstocks on ball bearings in a new steel frame.

On the suggestion of the captain of the Stratford-on-Avon band of ringers, we also asked for two pits for additional trebles to be included in the framework so that we might eventually complete the octave. Almost immediately following upon this we were offered the new bells as memorials to two former local residents, and by these generous gifts have been able to combine future with present plans. Within five months all this work had been completed, and local ringers and friends enjoyed a trip to London to watch some of the bells recast on May 4th.

Some misgiving was felt at a break with tradition when we were advised that our ringing should be removed from the ground floor of the tower into the room above owing to the long draught making the new 4 cwt. trebles difficult to handle. However, we tackled this development in the same spirit with which we had met other problems (for example, the bricking up of the tower windows, the removal of a ceiling above the bell chamber and the lowering of the bell chamber floor, as advised in the Central Council's 'Hints'), so that, thanks to a donation from the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham, visiting ringers at the dedication service on July 9th were able to comment on the new neatly panelled walls and other furnishings of the converted junk-room, which included fluorescent lighting to give shadowless illumination of the ropes.

The eight bells are now hung in two contra-rotating lines of four swinging east and west and so roped that there is minimal thrust exerted against the tower, and we confidently feel that the whole effect gives us one of the neatest and nicest eights in Warwickshire.

At the dedication service by the Lord Bishop of Birmingham, tributes were paid to Messrs. Mears and Stainbank for the expeditious and thorough work carried out in under six months and to the captain of the local band, Mr. John H. Jones, who has been the prime mover of the efforts in Tanworth to raise the money required and to ensure that we attained all we set out to achieve.

Rounds were rung during the service by members of the local band, and the opening touch (504 Stedman Triples) after the service was rung by members of the St. Martin's Guild, to whose guidance and encouragement we owe so much. Over 60 ringers attended from Birmingham and the neighbouring dioceses, so Tanworth was regaled until after 8 o'clock with touches in all the standard methods. It is many a day since we had such a gathering in our small village, and in truth it was a day we and our friends will long remember with pleasure. J.W.J.

St. Ambrose's Guild, Bristol

21st BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS.

On Thursday, July 14th, the Guild celebrated its coming of age, and members met during the evening of that day and rang a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, conducted by Mr. A. T. Maggs, who was captain of the Guild for 17 years, and had to relinquish that office owing to moving from the district. It is interesting to note that all the captains there have been were in the band, viz.: W. Lansdown, A. T. Maggs and C. Baker.

The festivities were continued on July 16th in the form of a thanksgiving service and a memorial for the members who have passed on. The address was given by Rev. F. C. Vyvian Jones, and the service conducted by the Vicar, Rev. F. S. Lee, and was fully choral.

Tea followed in the Parish Hall, about 60 members and friends sitting down. The usual speeches followed. The present captain, Mr. A. C. Baker, said how pleased he was to see so many friends there from near and far, amongst those present being Messrs. J. T. Dyke, hon. secretary, Bath and Wells; John W. Jones and C. Greedy, Newport; W. B. Kynaston, Master, Gloucester and Bristol, and Mrs. Kynaston; Cyril Harding, hon. secretary, Gloucester and Bristol, and Mrs. Harding;; Percy C. Williams, hon. treasurer, Gloucester and Bristol; and Mr. F. Hancock, Master, Bristol City Branch, together with members from the Bristol Rural Branch, Gloucester and Bristol, to which the Guild belongs. It was also pleasing to have present Mr. William Lansdown (the first captain) and Mr. Alan Liversedge, both founder members. The absence was regretted of Mr. A. T. Maggs.

The secretary said he was pleased to report such a healthy state of the Guild, its present active membership being higher than at any time; also he said that the bells had been rung twice every Sunday since they were installed 21 years ago, with but very few exceptions, except for the period during the last war when the ban was placed on tower-bell ringing.

The Vicar thanked the Guild for their loyal support to St. Ambrose's during the past 21 years, and expressed the view that if the next 21 years passed like the first all would be well. A vote of thanks was passed to the organist and choirmaster, Mr. A. E. Clarke, for his support, which was always gladly given and much appreciated; also to the ladies for their untiring efforts to make the social functions the success they always were. Further ringing was enjoyed by all present until 8.30 p.m.

There were many happy reminiscences recalled by the older ringers present, which brought to a close (all too quickly) a very pleasant afternoon.

50 YEARS A RINGER

The congratulations of the Exercise, and in particular the Essex Association, will be extended this week to Mr. G. Dawson, of Leytonstone, who has just celebrated 50 years of active ringing with St. John's Society, Leytonstone.

Mr. Dawson learnt his ringing at Kimberley, Norfolk, but moved to London in 1895. He was elected a member of the Leytonstone Society on July 29th, 1899, and became a prominent member of that band who were making history in the ringing of Spliced Surprise.

At the last annual meeting of the Essex Association Mr. Dawson's great work for the Association was recognised by making him a life member.

We feel sure his many friends will join with us in saying, 'Well done, George, and may that infectious smile of yours welcome us to St. John's for many more years to come.'

OBITUARY

MR. ADAM DEAS.

Mr. Adam Deas, secretary of the Newcastle Cathedral Guild, a vice-president of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association, passed away on July 15th.

He commenced ringing in 1912, and except for the 1914-18 war, when he served with the Forces in France, and was badly wounded, he had always been a keen and capable ringer and a regular supporter at Sunday services.

Mr. Deas rang about 220 peals, including Minor to Maximus, and conducted six. Amongst these were many Surprise peals of Superlative, Cambridge, London, and the usual standard methods. He will be greatly missed in the north for the work which he so loved, never tiring and never failing to give of his best to further the art and create friendliness in the belfry.

After the cremation service on July 20th a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by Margaret Fidell, John Anderson, Joseph E. Keen and R. Alder Gofton. There was a large attendance of ringers from various towers around the district at the service, which was conducted by the Rev. Turnbull, Vicar of All Saints', Gosforth. Mr. Deas is survived by his wife, a daughter and a son.

MR. ALBERT H. DRAYTON.

The sudden passing of Mr. Albert H. Drayton, of Shepton Beauchamp, Somerset, on July 17th, at the age of 52, was received by his many friends with profound regret. He was ringing in church that morning.

'Bert' was regarded as the father of the local band. He had been a ringing Master at Shepton Beauchamp for nearly 30 years, but only started change ringing two years ago. With his usual perseverance he had been successful in ringing three peals of Doubles and one of Triples.

The interment took place at Shepton Beauchamp and the service at St. Michael's was attended by a large number of people. He was carried to his last resting place by six ringers, and apart from the local band paying tribue there were present J. T. Locke (secretary, Crewkerne Deanery), T. J. Hill (Kingstone), A. Bond (Darrington), Mrs. E. S. Powell and J. W. Drew (Stoke-under-Ham), H. Hooper (Puckington), F. Virgin (South Petherton), and many others.

After the interment, the bells were rung fully muffled, and in the evening, with the bells half-muffled, 1,260 Grandsire Triples by H. Cornelius 1, D. R. Best 2, R. Beale (cond.) 3, R. Welch 4, J. T. Locke 5, F. Welch 6, K. Welch 7, W. H. Marks 8, all local ringers.

AN APPRECIATION.

The sudden death of Bert Drayton leaves the belfry of St. Michael's, Shepton Beauchamp, so very much the poorer. The Exercise also has suffered a great loss, as his ever-present attendance as a Sunday service ringer and his presence in church afterwards were an example and an inspiration to all who came in contact with him. He was a regular attendant at all meetings in the district. Only the day before his passing he cycled seven miles 'to assist,' as he put it, 'someone who was as backward as himself.' He leaves a widow and a daughter to mourn his loss. May he rest in peace. R. BEALE.

MR. RICHARD J. STONE.

The death occurred recently at Plymouth of Mr. R. J. Stone, late of Portsmouth. For many years he was attached to the company of St. Mary's, Portsea, and was an active member of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild, serving for a number of years as secretary of the Portsmouth District. His work took him to Bordon and finally to Plymouth. Wherever he went he made contact with the local band and was held in high esteem. The sympathy of his friends is expressed to his widow and two sons.

RINGERS' OUTINGS

SOUTHPORT.

Christ Church, Southport, ringers had their annual outing on July 16th, when, reinforced by some of Old Joe's Saturday band, they visited Lancaster, Hornby and Morecambe.

At Lancaster Cathedral we were joined by the enthusiastic secretary of the Lancaster branch, Mr. Skeats, an old member of our gang, Miss Elizabeth Suart and Mr. Woods. This grand ring of ten was soon set going to Grandsire Caters. Short touches of Bob Royal, Kent T.B. Royal, Stedman Caters and rounds gave everyone the opportunity to try their hand.

A lovely winding country road led to the old village of Hornby. Here some time was lost looking for the belfry key, until a resourceful lady ringer ran it to earth amongst the offertory plates. The less agile feminine members of the party, after one glance at the tortuous-looking staircase, retired down the road for a cup of tea, whilst their braver sisters ascended with many heartrending groans. Yorkshire Surprise, Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob were rung after the bells had been raised in peal.

At Morecambe, after tea, we were joined by some of the Aughton ringers, and an excellent course of London was rung, followed by Stedman and Oxford T.B. Major. The gentlemen scattered in all directions when one of the tougher members of the Ladies Guild got hold of the tenor and announced her intention of turning it in to Bob Major. Most of them took refuge downstairs with the handbells.

We rejoined the coach at 8 p.m., and further excitement was caused by two ringers who were nearly left behind. Their absence was discovered just in time. The last stop was at Broughton for supper to the strains of 'Slow Boat to China' and 'In a Shady Nook' from the juke box. Southport was reached at 11.30 p.m. after a very enjoyable day.

Our thanks are due to all the tower captains of the towers we visited, to Mr. Skeats for taking so much care over the arrangements, and to his second-in-command, Mr. Woods, and to Joe and Margaret for organising another successful trip.—V.D.

BRADPOLE, DORSET.

On July 16th, the ringers of Bradpole, Dorset, had a pleasant outing. Starting at 8 a.m. with ringing and prayer, the band was soon enjoying the light ring of five at Whimple. The learners found the heavier ring at Alphington more of a task, but stuck to it manfully.

An excellent lunch at Exeter, and a short visit to the war-scarred cathedral preceded a happy afternoon at Teignmouth. Here the venturesome visited H.M.S. 'Battleaxe,' while others preferred terra firma, admiring the lovely flowers and glorious scenery.

Another touch at Dawlish and a call in at the fair at Seaton brought a happy day to a close.—M.R.V.

GREAT TEY.

Ringers of St. Barnabas', Great Tey, with friends had their outing on July 16th. Before lunch at the Victoria Hotel, Rickmansworth, there was ringing at Loughton, St. James', Bushey, and St. Mary's, Rickmansworth.

At Farnham Royal the party was met by Mr. Henley. Then followed St. John's, Windsor, and tea at Ye Olde King's Head. St. Peter's, Staines, was the last stop, where Mr. Parker was waiting for the company. Home was reached at 12.30. The excellent arrangements were made by Mr. J. W. Dyer.

WRINGTON, SOMERSET.

A party of nearly 40 left Wrington on July 14th for their annual summer outing. Swindon was the first call, where the fine ten at Christ Church were much appreciated. Then through delightful countryside to Abingdon in Berkshire and a first rate lunch at the Argyle Restaurant. While the ringing members adjourned to St. Helen's Church, the others toured the ancient borough, visiting the abbey, museum and the three churches.

Through a misunderstanding, Mr. Lock was not at the church to receive the visitors, who were apparently expected on the following Saturday, but Mrs. Lock made us all welcome while we rang rounds and Grandsire and Stedman Caters. It was but a short distance to Oxford, but owing to an unspecified 'festival,' St. Ebbe's was the only tower available. Some had cherished hopes of Magdalen, a more satisfactory ring to the heavy-bell men from Somerset, but they did quite well on the toys at St. Ebbe's, although a rope broke early in the proceedings, necessitating a splice, but the bells were soon raised again and there was some excellent striking. Tea had been booked at the Angel, where the variety of the comestibles satisfied everybody.

On the return journey a stop was made at Bampton, a really good heavy eight in a beautifully kept church; there was some well-struck Major here. The last tower was Fairford with its wonderful fifteenth century glass and a tuneful eight, rung from below the crossing, the ringers standing among the choir stalls. As it was the local practice night, the visitors were made free of the bells for the first hour, and then the locals joined with the men from Wrington in Grandsire and Stedman. Fairford Church is quite a show-place, and one ringer, who had waited years to examine the windows, was gently chided for paying more attention to the glass than to the bells.

The final stop, for refreshments, was at Tetbury, and by this time rain had developed into a steady downpour, but it had been fine and sunny throughout the day, so who cared!

E. G. C.

ST. LAWRENCE'S, SEAL CHART.

This took place on June 11th, to Ramsgate, when a team of ringers, together with the Vicar and Mrs. Harryman, and their wives and friends, spent a most enjoyable day. Stops were made at the Parish Church of Sturry, the outside roof of which was undergoing extensive repairs, also at St. Lawrence's, Thanet, on the outward journey, and at Charing Parish Church on the homeward journey.

At each of these the bells were rung to Doubles and Minor methods, under the skipper, Mr. A. Wenban. It was a most enjoyable outing, which was given an added interest by the tourists being able to visit three very beautiful old parish churches in the Canterbury diocese. The local secretary Mr. R. Chalklin, made the necessary arrangements.

PINNER, MIDDLESEX.

Some 30 ringers and friends participated in the outing held on June 18th.

A start was made about 8 a.m., and the first tower, Middleton Stoney, was reached by about 10.30 a.m. All enjoyed visiting this delightful six-bell tower. After ringing at Deddington, an excellent lunch was served at Banbury.

During the afternoon ringing took place at Adderbury and Banbury, followed by tea, and then in the evening ringing at Bicester. A grand welcome at each tower testified to the fraternity in the Exercise.

MARTOCK, SOMERSET.—On July 12th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: R. C. Beale 1, R. Beale (composer) 2, H. R. Moore 3, H. J. Gaylard 4, R. Welch 5, F. Welch 6, J. W. Drew (cond.) 7, J. T. Locke 8.

GRUNDISBURGH AND DISTRICT.

Starting from the wilds of Suffolk at 2 a.m. on July 9th and picking up on the route, we left Ipswich at 3 a.m. A 100-mile ride brought us to Northampton, where we partook breakfast, after which a further 75 miles landed us at Worcester. We were met here by Mr. Albert Walker and other famous Midland ringers. Cambridge Maximus on these noble bells was unsuccessful, due not to the bells but to ourselves. We were also met by the St. Alban's ringers, when touches of Stedman Cinques and Treble Bob were successful.

A further 25 miles took us to Birmingham, where the two parties, together with our Midland guests, enjoyed lunch. From 2.30 to 7 p.m. we were busy ringing on the three twelves and two eights at Birmingham, after which we adjourned to the Tamworth Arms for refreshments and a social evening.

Mr. C. W. Pipe thanked Mr. Albert Walker for the splendid arrangements he had made, and a presentation from the Grundisburgh and St. Alban's ringers to Mr. Walker as a token of thanks was received by Mrs. Walker amid applause. Sunday morning saw us ringing at St. Martin's, where our striking was not up to the high Birmingham standard. Alas! we are not what we used to be.

Farewells were made at 11.15 a.m., and we reached Northampton at 1 o'clock for lunch. Here we were met by Mr. William Hammonds. Ringing was greatly enjoyed on the fine 10 at St. Giles', hung on plain bearings, where Cambridge Royal, Stedman Caters and London Major were successfully rung.

At 5 o'clock we arrived at Cambridge, where we enjoyed tea, arranged by Mr. H. Martin. At Great St. Mary's Stedman Cinques, Treble Twelve and Stedman Caters were rung. A start was made for home at 6.45 p.m., reaching Ipswich at 10 p.m.

LOUGHBOROUGH DISTRICT.

At a meeting at Oaks-in-Charnwood on July 15th, with miserably wet weather, a small band of staunch supporters gathered for what turned out to be a most enjoyable afternoon and evening.

A service was conducted by the Vicar, Rev. A. C. Holden, who welcomed the members to his church, adding that this was the last time he would be privileged to do so, as he would be leaving to take charge of a parish in another part of the diocese.

At the business meeting, with Mr. H. Over in the chair, it was decided that as the next meeting was to be joint with the Leicester District, it should be held at Hugglescote, where the bells have recently been rehung. Mr. Rowley, in moving the vote of thanks, wished the Rev. Holden every success at his new parish.

Ringing ranged from rounds for the beginners to Surprise Minor for the more advanced, and of the nineteen methods successfully brought round eight were Surprise.

BARNSLEY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

The society's annual shield contest was held at Felkirk on July 9th. Five bands entered, the test piece being 600 changes in any method. The judges were Mr. J. R. Brearley, of Bolsterstone, and Mr. H. Chant, of Felkirk.

The order of the ringing and the result were as follows: 1 Shelley, 164 faults; 2 Friezland, 101 faults; 3 Silkstone, 130 faults; 4 Meltham, 195 faults; 5 Cawthorne, 428 faults.

Friezland were the winners and hold the shield for twelve months.

About 60 ringers and friends sat down to tea in the old schoolroom. The Vicar, the Rev. Donald Moxon, presented the shield to the conductor of the winning company. A pleasant afternoon was spent amidst glorious sunshine.

LETTERS

ST. JOHN'S, LEICESTER, RECORDED

Dear Sir,—Regarding the recording of St. John's bells, Leicester, I have been privileged to hear a pre-publication trial run of this record, and I can vouch for its being a grand reproduction. As is well known, St. John's bells are very fine, a delight to ring on and a pleasure to hear. The bob course of Caters given is perfectly struck and the 'fall" is excellent.

I consider this record a great acquisition to all interest in this side of our art.—Yours faithfully, ERNEST MORRIS.

Leicester.

PEAL WITHDRAWN

Dear Sir,—I am much obliged to Charles Roberts for pointing out the falsity of Stephen Wood's composition of Grandsire Caters, and I beg to withdraw the claim to have rung a peal at Wrington on May 7th last. I am sorry, particularly for those members of the band to whom the ringing represented an achievement. However, there is another day, and I can promise them that I will look thoroughly into the figures before we start, even if those figures be from Charles himself. After all, who would have thought that Stephen would have slipped?—Yours truly,

J. T. DYKE.

Chilcompton, Bath.

CENTENARY PEAL MEMORIAL

On July 10th, before the evening service, a tablet in the belfry of St. John's, Goole, commemorating the ringing of the centenary peal of Grandsire Triples on May 1st, 1948, was unveiled by Mrs. J. Taylor, one of the ringers, and dedicated by the Vicar (Canon E. H. P. Rawlins).

Those present stood in silent tribute to the memory of Mr. H. Ludkin, who conducted the centenary peal, and who passed away suddenly a few weeks later.

Other ringers in the peal were: H. Drake 1, H. S. Moreby 2, J. Waud 3, Leonard Drake 4, J. T. Taylor 5, L. M. Woodhead 6, H. Ludkin 7, Geo. Waud 8.

CHESTER GUILD & N. WALES ASSN.

The third combined meeting of the above Associations was held at St. Chad's, Farndon, Chester, on July 16th, and again demonstrated the popularity of these meetings. Thirty-five members, representing eight towers from as far afield as Bangor, Caernarvonshire, attended, and the bells were kept going merrily to the standard methods in addition to touches of London, Bristol, Yorkshire, Kent and Oxford. The learners were well provided for with rounds and cross changes. The meeting happily coincided with the local festival of 'Rush Bearing,' and thereby served the dual purpose of a meeting and a celebration.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

The ringers who attended the meeting of the North-Western District, held at Dorking on June 25th, spent a very pleasant time. Mr. Coldman met the visitors at 3.30 and also arranged for tea in the Church Hall.

At the meeting £1 6s. 6d. was collected for the Benhilton Bell Fund. Ringing continued till 8.30. A combined meeting with the Lewisham District of the Kent Association was arranged for October 1st at St. Peter's, Croydon.

COLCHESTER, ESSEX.—On July 10th, 1,272 Oxford Treble Bob Minor: G. Boyden 1, E. J. Butler 2, F. Oliver 3, H. E. Finch 4, J. Sadler 5, H. J. Millatt (cond.) 6. First in method for all except conductor. A 71st birthday compliment to Mr. E. J. Butler.

NOTICES

The charge for one insertion of a notice of a meeting is one penny per word, minimum 2s. For additional insertions with no change one-half above charge for each insertion.

Other notices one penny per word, minimum 2s. 6d.

All notices must be prepaid.

Notices must be received not later than Monday.

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement is announced between Desmond Guy, youngest son of Mrs. and the late Mr. A. Mayell, Brentwood, Essex, now on foreign service with Cable and Wireless in Nairobi, Kenya, and Mary Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hilliar, Bishopston, Bristol. 5525

DEATH OF CANON F. B. MACNUTT

On July 17th the death occurred suddenly of Canon F. B. Macnutt, former Provost of Leicester Cathedral and Archdeacon of Leicester. He was formerly Vicar of St. Martin's Church, Leicester (now the Cathedral), from 1918 to 1938. It was owing to his great enthusiasm and untiring efforts that the bells at the Cathedral were increased from a ring of ten in 1937 to the present set of 13 bells. He was buried at Canterbury, and a special memorial service was held at Leicester Cathedral on July 21st, for which the bells were rung half-muffled. Later in the evening a half-muffled peal of Stedman Cinques was rung at the Leicester Cathedral.

BIRMINGHAM ORGANIST DEAD

On July 20th, as a token of respect for the memory of Dr. Wassell, the St. Martin's Guild of Change Ringers rang at Solihull Church, with the bells half-muffled, a quarter peal of Grandsire Caters, 1,277 changes: W. Leeson 1, C. Dale 2, A. Walker 3, T. Warner 4, E. C. Shepherd (composer and conductor) 5, W. C. Dowding 6, J. Bragg 7, H. Bragg 8, G. E. Fearn 9, V. W. Rigg 10.

Dr. Richard Wassell was for many years organist at St. Martin's Church, Birmingham, and for the last six years had held that post at Solihull Parish Church. He died on July 17th.

CUBITT TOWN TENOR

With reference to Mr. Stote's recent letter, a correspondent writes that the weight of the tenor at Cubitt Town is given on a board in the tower as 12 cwt. 1 qr. 4 lb. By the size and sound of the bell this would seem to be about right, although there are many bells of twice the weight which go much better. Perhaps the heavier weight quoted by Mr. Stote is a due allowance for the extensive activities of the pigeons! Hatfield tenor, a D bell, must be more than 17½ or 18 cwt. It is usually given as 26 cwt., which is probably about right, although a recent peal report gave it as 23 cwt.

CLAINES, WORCS.—On July 17th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: H. Holman (first quarter) 1. R. G. Morris 2, E. Wilson 3, Miss C. A. Harding 4, C. J. Clarke 5, A. Morgan 6, G. E. Large (cond.) 7, F. N. Fluck 8.

THE 2,000th NUMBER

AN important milestone in the history of 'The Ringing World' has been reached this week with the publication of the 2,000th number. It is with thankfulness that we pen this editorial. Throughout this long period, despite the abnormal difficulties created by two world wars, 'The Ringing World' only twice failed to appear, due to the Government suspending the whole of the periodical press owing to the paper shortage.

Our first thoughts this week are to the founder of the journal, Mr. John S. Goldsmith, who, with initiative and courage, gave the Exercise the weekly paper it wanted. In the early days there was opposition to the paper from certain leaders on the Central Council, but he won through. At financial sacrifice to himself he maintained a high standard of publication. English ringing would never have attained the strong position it is in to-day but for his journal. It fraternised the Exercise from North to South and brought all ringers into one big family.

The death of Mr. Goldsmith in 1942 created a major crisis in the journal's history. A small committee of the Central Council acted promptly, met immediate financial difficulties, and saved 'The Ringing World.' Their action received full endorsement from the Guilds and Associations, and the paper passed from private ownership into that of the Central Council. Mr. J. Armiger Trollope, who, during the war years, had been assisting Mr. Goldsmith, became the new editor. His wealth of knowledge of all branches of ringing, and his research work as an historian, made him a happy choice. It was a period when ringing was suspended; nevertheless, from his facile pen came series of valuable articles and the interest of readers was fully maintained.

The present editor's term of office has coincided with a period of enthusiasm in our art. Change ringing since the war has made an appeal to hundreds of young men and women, and it can be truthfully asserted that except for a few black spots the bells of England are being rung by people who love bells and ringing. The directive the editor received upon taking office was to produce a family newspaper for ringers. Paper shortage has resulted in certain imperfections, but it is gratifying to know that there are many more readers of 'The Ringing World' now than at any period of its history.

Throughout this long period 'The Ringing World' has had many staunch friends. Among them are the three leading bell foundries. The continuity of their craft in this age, when there is a serious threat of mechanised substitutes for bells, depends on a constant flow of young ringers to maintain the teams in our belfries. In this respect 'The Ringing World,' in stimulating keenness, makes an indirect and valued contribution to their business. Each is dependent on the other, and we congratulate them on the many fine post-war rings that have added to the glories of English Church life. The message of the bells is very real.

Lastly, we would acknowledge our thanks to our printers and publishers, who have been unchanged throughout this long period. Men have grown old in the service of the paper. None can foresee the future, but we can take courage and view it as the King did in his broadcast in 1939:

And I said to the man who stood at the gate of the year;
'Give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown.'
And he replied, 'Go out into the darkness and put thy hand into the hand of God,
That shall be to thee better than light and safer than a known way.'

LATE NEWS.

Mr. W. Taylor, vice-president of the Lancashire Association, of 2, Cop Lane, Penwortham, Preston, is making very slow progress after his illness. He is only able to get about on crutches, and ringing is out of the question. Visitors and letters would be welcome.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. L. A. Wilson, whose services as secretary of the Calne Branch of the Salisbury Guild was recognised by the gift of a treble bell at Lyneham, has now had the pleasure of ringing 'his' bell to a peal.

There will be no practice at St. Leonard's, Streatham, S.W., during August. Sunday ringing as usual.

Congratulations to the Rev. E. G. Benson, hon. secretary of the Hereford Diocesan Guild, on ringing his 100th peal, and also to Mr. Alan A. Potts.

Mr. Nolan Golden writes regarding the peal of 5,008 Spliced Major on page 360 that the last course must be rung as 'B'—Plain, Plain, Little.

Mr. W. Wolstencroft has now left hospital and returned home for convalescence. He would like to thank all those ringing friends who have visited him in hospital, and the many who have written to him.

The band at Wood Green, Wednesbury, Staffs, are proud of 13-years-old Jane Cotterill, who has now been ringing 11 months and has called her first quarter of Stedman Triples. They enquire if this is a record.

Mr. Howard Howell has, with his 100th peal of Stedman at Codsall, Staffs, called peals of Stedman from Doubles to Cinques. Mr. Norman Chaddock has also completed the Stedman family.

On Saturday, July 27th, 1889, the first peal on Barwell bells was rung, 5,040 Bob Minor, called by the late A. R. Aldham. The next day, Sunday, the 28th, Ernest Morris, of Leicester, came to town! To mark this double 60th anniversary, 'Ernest' called 5,040 Bob Major on Barwell bells—his 1,128th peal.

From a Slough paper. 'A coachload of parishioners left Burnham last Wednesday for Loughborough Foundry to see the casting of the new bells and afterwards heard them being rung in the foundry campanile.' Taylor's quickest ever, comments G.G.

In the peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Bolsover on July 2nd the ringer of the fourth was Mr. G. Gordon Graham.

Pupils of Wyggeston Grammar School have rung their first peal 'in hand.' They have been meeting for practice for some 18 months.

The six bells at St. Mary's, Guildford, are to be rehung by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The bells were last rung in the early years of this century.

Twelve years, all but two days, have elapsed since a peal was rung at Wissett, Suffolk. Participating was Mr. W. Kerrison, who rang his first peal since his return to the belfry last November after an absence of 20 years.

After the peal at Acton to commemorate the 30th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lewis Cockey, the band, with Mrs. Cockey and Mrs. Turner, were entertained to tea in the Rectory garden by the president of the Middlesex Association, the Rev. Percival Gough, Rector of Acton.

Pilot Officer Eric A. Dench, of Edmonton, recently returned to duty from a month's embarkation leave prior to going to Singapore for the next 2½ years. Mr. Dench, who celebrated his 21st birthday last December, has rung about 180 peals, of which a large proportion have been on handbells, including several of Stedman Cinques and various other interesting performances. All will join in wishing him Godspeed and a safe return.

2,000th ISSUE OF 'THE RINGING WORLD'

Congratulatory Messages from 100 per cent. Readers

This is the 2,000th issue of 'The Ringing World' founded on March 18th, 1911, by the late Mr. John Sparkes Goldsmith. We append a selection of the many messages received to mark this notable anniversary in the life of the Journal.

CAME UP WITH THE RATIONS.

Mr. J. T. DYKE, Chilcompton, Bath.

As a reader of 'The Ringing World' from the start, I have many recollections concerning it. I remember the little corner shop in St. Paul's, Cheltenham, where for some years I bought my copy and the curiosity it aroused. You were even parodied in a college magazine. I enclose the cutting.

The paper regularly came up with the rations, during the first World War, unless we were engaged in a health resort like the Ancre Valley or Paschendaele, in which case it waited until we were relieved.

During nine months' compulsory sojourn in Mecklenburg and Holstein, I had no paper, of course, but I well remember sitting down in 1919 with about forty unread copies. It was in them, I think, that I read of the death in action of Bertram Prewett. I also read of a quarter-peal by soldiers on Ludgershall bells. It was claimed to be the first, but they had been anticipated in May, 1915, when members of the 19th and 37th divisions rang a quarter-peal together there. I can recall the names of only two of the participants—Hall of the 10th Worcesters and Watts of the 8th Gloucesters. Both were killed on July 3rd, 1916, at the taking of La Boisselle. But that's nothing to do with 'The Ringing World.' That's the worst of reminiscing.

The refence in 'The Chelt' reads:—

Campanologia.

Rung as a token of commiseration with Mr. G. Armitstead Allen, who has suffered greatly in the recent monitorial deluges.

THEN STARTED CHANGE RINGING.

Mr. W. R. MELVILLE, Kingsworthy, Winchester.

You may count me in the number who have taken 'The Ringing World' from its start.

I well remember the circumstances. We were at that time at Tring, Herts, a band of call change ringers, and we had our practices on Saturday nights. At that time Mr. G. N. Price had one of the best Surprise bands in existence, and they were ambitious to ring a peal of Bristol on our heavy ring. They came to us for a practice, and of course we adjourned to the local for a drink and chatter.

Mr. H. Eden, our district secretary, had a specimen copy of 'The Ringing World' with him, and three of us decided to take it in. I have done so ever since. That was the start of the band deciding to learn change ringing, and as none had any knowledge of the art it was uphill work. We were fortunate in having a good teacher from Tring. He stayed with us for two years, and by that time we could ring Grandsire Triples.

MR. JOHN S. GOLDSMITH.
The Founder of 'The Ringing World.'

THE TITLE.

E. H. OXENHAM, Bampton, Devon.

In your issue for July 8th, I see that my old friend Mr. W. Shepherd says he suggested to the late Mr. J. S. Goldsmith that a new paper should be named 'The Ringing World,' but in the second number of that far-famed journal (March 31st, 1911) appears a letter from the late Mr. F. E. Dawe, in which he makes the same claim, saying, 'I feel pleased that the title of "The Ringing World" is one suggested by me.' I have no doubt they are both right; great minds think alike.

In comparing the first number with the last I cannot help noticing how much 'easier on the eye' were those four or five peals to the column; not so much like straphanging in the rush hour as it is to-day. So if the old 'R.W.' comes back to the style in which it started it will be well worth the extra charge.

As I reach 'the allotted span,' the day before the 2,000th 'R.W.' appears, I think that will be good enough excuse for relapsing 'into the reminiscent vein.' The 'R.W.' has weathered some storms; may all the rest be smooth sailing.

'INTEREST NEVER WANED.'

Mr. Clem GLENN.

I have taken 'The Ringing World' regularly from its beginning, and my name appears on the roll of honour which our friend Jack Goldsmith published on, I think, the paper's 25th anniversary.

Although I was abroad between the two wars, my interest in the paper and all ringing matter never waned.

Congratulations to you on the way you are carrying on the good work.

TWO THOUSAND.

Mr. W. SHEPHERD, Addlestone, Surrey.

As one who has taken the journal from its inception, let me offer my congratulations. Thos of us who remember the period when the paper first made its appearance, and who will take a concise retrospect from 1911 to 1949, will form the conclusion that a wonderful amount of work has been done to give readers news of all kinds connected with our art.

Here in Surrey 'The Ringing World' was conceived in the spirit of enterprise, nurtured in service to the Exercise, and to-day its greatest reality is its triumph over difficulties. In the early years of the present century John S. Goldsmith, journalist for a Surrey paper, used a column for ringing news, and he would encourage local bands to greater things by practical ringing with various companies, aided by his weekly ringing column.

John Goldsmith was not enthusiastic over the idea of a 'Ringers' Day' at the Crystal Palace, for it meant a heavy expense in the early days of 'The Ringing World,' but our first editor saw great possibilities in the idea, and the wonderful day we had was the result of much hard work on his part. If space were available one could write many columns about the sterling qualities of John Goldsmith.

Mr. Armiger Trollope, who followed, was a little man with a big heart and brain, one who undertook a difficult task to keep our paper going when many weekly journals had ceased publication because of the World War. How he managed it was undoubtedly only known to himself, and in the days to come the name of Armiger Trollope will not be forgotten.

And now, Mr. Editor, you have taken the role of conductor, and one might be tempted to ask which part of the peal you are in! Anyhow, I trust the striking is good, the most musical positions are yet to come, the performers are in good condition for their work, all calls will be made in good time, and when the next part-end is in sight, may you find that no shift course will intervene.

THE OLDEST RINGER.

Mr. James GEORGE, Parkstone, Dorset.

On February 16th, 1889, at the age of 35 years, I rang my first peal at the Church of St. George, Camberwell. On November 27th, 1948, my 95th birthday, I rang my 1,281st last peal on handbells at the Nursery, Ferndown. During that period of 60 years I took 'The Bell News' each week from February, 1889, until it finished on December 15th, 1915.

I have also taken 'The Ringing World' from the commencement on March 18th, 1911, until the present time each week. From February 16th, 1889, until the end of December, 1948, I have had the pleasure of sending all these volumes free of charge to the secretary of St. Martin's Guild, Birmingham.

On March 25th, 1922, I rung a peal at Kinver, Worcestershire, of London Surprise Major. I am the oldest surviving veteran ringer to ring my first peal in this method at 68 years of age.

'SHUDDER TO THINK IF . . .'

Mr. F. W. PERRENS, Coventry.

In reply to your request in 'The Ringing World,' I write to let you know that I have taken every single copy of 'The Ringing World' that has been published, and I shudder to think what the present state of ringing in this country would be if the ringing fraternity had not had the many benefits, which are far too numerous to mention, that the paper has afforded.

MORE CONGRATULATORY MESSAGES

EARLY RINGING PAPERS.

Mr. Geo. R. NEWTON, Liverpool.

My first copy of 'The Bell News' was taken in March, 1896. Prior to that I used to look at one taken by the tower at Oxton. There were twelve of us, and the paper then cost a penny. Later on we had a paper named 'Campanology,' one of the compilers of which was W. Bedwell, of Lewisham. It did not last long, and was superseded by 'The Bellringer.' This was introduced by the late Messrs. W. Willson and Walter C. Hunt, and did not last very long.

'The Bell News' carried on for some time after 'The Ringing World' arrived, but it was very noticeable as the weeks went on that 'The Bell News' could not go on for long. Since the publication of 'The Ringing World' in 1911 I have eagerly awaited my copy each week. It amazes me to know that so many get their paper through a newsagent, instead of having it sent by post. If there is a margin of profit, let the paper have it.

Mr. Cyril F. JOHNSTON, South Croydon.

'The Ringing World' is to be congratulated on its 2,000th issue, which you are about to publish next week.

I well remember my father receiving an intimation from the late J. S. Goldsmith that he was about to start a new ringers' paper. This seemed to meet a growing need in the ringing fraternity, and I did not leave my father's office until he had consented to write by return to Jack Goldsmith asking for 'front page' space.

I think I can claim to have read and enjoyed nearly all of the 2,000 issues. Every paper, one knows, has its ups and downs, and one has admired from time to time the way in which 'The Ringing World' has served the world of ringers in the face of difficulties which must have occurred occasionally during its long career.

RANG 'UPSIDE DOWN.'

Mr. Richard D. LANGFORD, Crewe.

I was very interested to read in 'The Ringing World' of the forthcoming copy which will be the 2,000th issue. I claim to be amongst those who have taken the journal without a break since it first began life following the old 'Bell News.'

I well remember how I treasured each copy week by week, keeping them in piles in my bedroom until they reached such dimensions that something had to be done about them. Then one fatal spring-cleaning came, a clean sweep, only to start all over again!

I had the pleasure and privilege of meeting its founder on several occasions, and remember how, at a meeting at Blackpool, he startled all present by announcing that he had been successful in ringing a peal standing upside down! He was referring, of course, to his visit to Australia, which had been such a joy to him. Long live 'The Ringing World'!

RINGING PAPER FOR 50 YEARS.

Mr. Arthur J. HOLMES, Edenham, Bourne.

Good luck to the 2,000th number! I have taken 'The Ringing World' since it first circulated, and for over 50 years taken a ringing paper. At that time in 1894, we had only five bells in the tower. In 1908 we bought a treble, and it was on these bells that the late H. Law James called the first spliced seven 720's of Minor in February, 1911. We completed the octave in 1931. I am pleased to say the bells are rung every Sunday for morning and evening services by a band composed of both sexes, all taught by yours truly.

'RINGING THE BLOOMING LOT.'

Mr. S. F. MILLWARD, Northampton.

I am one who has had every issue. During the 1914-18 war it was sent to me in France for over three years, and never once did it fail to arrive.

Prior to the 1914-18 war I was a very keen ringer, and started a card index of Sunday service touches, peal compositions and the diagrams of methods published. Of course, I couldn't do this whilst on active service, and I am afraid my record lost its value.

My actual ringing now is very limited. I do manage a little now and again, but have to be very careful. I think my most vivid memory was a visit to St. Martin's-in-the-Fields whilst on holiday in London. My host (not a ringer) went with me, and upon returning our wives asked how we had got on. The reply of my host was, 'Blimey, within five minutes he had his coat off and they were ringing the blooming lot!'

Although not so active, I have always retained my great interest, and was appointed the auditor of the Peterborough Guild when that was first formed, and I helped in that way for many years.

You mention 'reminiscent vein.' I recall the Central Council meeting at Northampton and the great little George Williams, of North Stoneham, and his great kindness to the boys from Netley in 1914 and early 1915. I always feel that if I could have stayed there for a bit longer I should have made a real ringer, and would certainly have been in the Surprise class instead of the standard method class. Then there was James George, and didn't he used to shout at me for my habit of scratching my nose when peal ringing with him at St. Giles', Northampton.

FROM 1—2,000.

Mr. J. B. BUDD, Monton Green, Eccles, Manchester.

From early in 1911 the journal has been posted to me every week right up to date, and every copy received with one exception. This was last year through lapse in transit.

It will be interesting to know how many readers there are who can claim the full score, and particularly those who still possess all from 1-2,000.

WANTS A BIT OF HUMOUR.

Mr. O. W. PORTER, Shiplake, Oxon.

I have had 'The Ringing World' from its birth. Mr. Goldsmith tried to please all. I would like to see now and then a bit of humour in Belfry Gossip. Surely there are many in our fraternity who could supply this.

My four score years is on me,
My torch of life is out,
So please excuse the pencil
That this is all about.

ARTICLES THAT APPEALED.

Mr. W. C. HISCOTT, Liskeard, Cornwall.

I am proud and glad to say that I have taken 'The Ringing World' from No. 1 issue.

I well remember how pleased we ringers were to get such an improvement on the old 'Bell News.' Peals and touches were oftentimes weeks overdue in being published in 'The Bell News.' My name was in the list published several years ago as a No. 1 subscriber, and I am wondering how many names will be missing (from that list) when you get returns for the present one.

The articles which have appealed most to me were 'The History of the College Youths' and 'The Story of the Birmingham Ringers.'

'A TERRIFIC FIGHT.'

Mr. J. Frank SMALLWOOD, London.

Many happy returns of the day and congratulations on reaching No. 2,000. I have read every issue, and think this is an occasion for looking both backward and forward. I well remember the terrific fight put up by J. S. Goldsmith for recognition of the paper against the fierce opposition of Sir Arthur Heywood, who thought there was no room for it. How wrong he proved himself to be! The paper has been through many vicissitudes, but is now firmly established as the official organ of the Central Council. May the future be bright for it, and when it assumes its larger size may the efforts of the Editor and the Editorial Committee meet with the success they deserve. Good luck, and on to next 2,000!

CAPTAIN AT 83.

Mr. Frederick William TOWNSEND, who is in his 83rd year, is still captain of St. James' Church, Poole. He has taken every number of 'The Ringing World' and he also took 'The Bells News' for many years previously. He rang his first peal 56 years ago, and he has rung about 75 peals in all.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

RHYTHM

Dear Sir,—I read with much interest 'Much Perturbed's' article in this week's 'Ringing World' on Rhythm, and it should give most members of the Exercise room for thought. The learner is taught to handle a bell, and when able to do this to the satisfaction of the instructor the pupil is placed in 'rounds,' then call changes, and finally method ringing. It is obvious the learner becomes part of a combination or a team which calls for a united effort of muscle and mind in the individual and applied in unison to other minds and muscles of the members of the combination. But is this ever explained to the learner?

When methods are learned by the 'blue line' ringing is often very choppy. They cannot find their bells to strike over; they are bad strikers or slow at backstroke, or cannot hear their bells in mid-positions. Suddenly, maybe, many of their difficulties disappear, ringing proceeds smoothly, their bodies even appear to join in; they have, perhaps by accident, discovered rhythm. How often is it described as good striking. Good striking and rope-sight make for rhythm.

We often read of a football team playing with almost perfect rhythm, or a rowing 'eight' moving in perfect rhythm—evidently an art especially developed. So why not make more effort to produce the same art (if I may call it that) amongst ringers by explaining the meaning of rhythm.

I feel convinced everyone has a certain amount of this art in their make-up. 'Much Perturbed' has opened up a most interesting subject and deserves congratulations accordingly.—Yours faithfully,

R. NEWMAN.

Holloway, N.7.

PROPOSED TOWER DIRECTORY

Dear Sir,—I hope to have published in the near future the 'Directory of Towers,' about which there was correspondence in this journal some weeks ago.

My lists, drawn over the last twenty years, are, I believe, complete and accurate, and include all towers containing five bells and upwards.

It has been suggested that the addition of 'Practice Night' would add to the usefulness of the book, and I am prepared to add this information where obtainable.

Could I ask all tower secretaries who are interested in seeing that information concerning their own tower is complete, to send me a postcard stating their practice night (but only where this is regular, weekly and open to visitors). At the same time as an additional check they might add the weight of the tenor, in cwt.. qr., lb., as well as its note, but please, only indisputably correct information. Where this is contained in annual reports I would welcome the loan of these from Guild secretaries.

Details contained in the book will be town, county, dedication of church, number of bells, weight and note of tenor, and details as to whether the bells are unringable, or other relative information, and, if there is sufficient response, practice night will be stated.

It is not considered practicable to include the names and addresses of tower secretaries.

Publishing will be in the hands of Mr. William Viggers, of Aldershot, whose 'Delight' series of ringers' books and Ringers' Diary are already well known, and who hopes to have copies on sale in a few months' time. The price of the book is not yet fixed, but is unlikely to be more than 5s. a copy.

Information should be sent to the address below not later than the end of August.—Yours truly,

R. H. DOVE.

GRANDSIRE CATERS AND PLAIN BOB MINIMUS

Dear Sir,—In pointing out the falseness in Mr. Wood's 5,057 Grandsire Caters, Mr. C. W. Roberts has emphasised once again the dangers attaching to Cater compositions. Fifty or sixty years ago, when Grandsire Caters were practised more regularly than to-day, these matters were much more widely known and understood; to-day, the proof of the Major methods and the interest in advanced splicing seem to have taken attention from the need for meticulous care in proving nine-bell compositions.

Every Cater method presents its own problem, and no general principle can be laid down. In Double Norwich Caters the chief problem is the false relationship between Tittums and Handstroke Home; in Grandsire Caters there is no such false relationship, and the problem lies in what may perhaps be called the fluidity of the courses and the fact that the single does not lead direct from one lead to another, as it does in D.N. Caters.

There is one point arising out of Mr. Wood's peal that I should like to make. Although, as I have said, in Grandsire Caters the Tittums are independent of the Handstroke Home, it does not therefore follow that other placings of the back bells are free from falseness against each other. The very position used by Mr. Wood at the start of his peal, the rather beautiful 7968 position, can run false with the Tittums, as may be seen from the two courses annexed:—

— 95283647	65293847
— 68975423 A	69582734
— 47638295	68975423 A
43726589	67849352
42357968	— 34627589
	32456978

The row marked A occurs in each course.

In addition, the best-known opening courses, moving the back bells to the 7968 position, contain one Tittum row, and if the bells are subsequently turned to the Tittums, this row may appear later on. It would seem to me that the principles of proof of Grandsire Caters need stating in print.

In 1,272 Plain Bob Minimus at Kittisford on July 2nd has aroused my curiosity, and I should be pleased to learn what the composition was. My old friend Ernest Morris will doubtless recollect that some thirty years ago or more he and I had correspondence over four-bell methods, and at that time I made a collection of forty or fifty different 24's. There may, of course, be more than this.—Yours faithfully,

EDGAR C. SHEPHERD.

DEDICATION OF PEAL BOARD

THE LATE MR. CHARLES BELSEY.

In the company of relations, the local ringers and a few old ringing friends, a short service was held in the belfry of Rainham, Kent, Parish Church prior to evensong on July 17th, to dedicate a peal board recording peals rung for the golden and diamond wedding anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. C. Belsey and commemorating the late Mr. Belsey's service to the church where he had been a ringer for 50 years.

Besides the peal board, given by the ringers, the dedication also included a handsome piece of belfry furniture (hall stand), presented by the late Mr. Belsey's widow and her family, suitably inscribed.

The Vicar made pleasing reference to Mr. Belsey's long service as a ringer and churchworker at Rainham, and Mr. George Spice also paid tribute on behalf of the K.C.A.C.R.

OBITUARY

MR. W. ANDREWS.

Winchester has lost the captain of the Cathedral band for over 50 years by the death on July 22nd of Mr. Wilfred Andrews at the age of 76 years. His strength had been failing for some months, and on July 15th he was admitted to Winchester Hospital.

In his native town, Cirencester, he learnt to ring. He came to Winchester in 1892 as a doctor's dispenser, but a few years later he started in business on his own account as a mineral-water manufacturer, establishing the well-known St. Swithun's works.

Since 1898 he had been captain of the Cathedral Branch, and his membership of the Diocesan Guild is upwards of 60 years. For 40 years he served on the executive committee and had represented the Guild on the Diocesan Advisory Committee since 1921. He also acted as hon. treasurer of the Winchester District for several years. He had rung for the Guild between 20 and 30 peals. His unfailing courtesy and kindness endeared him to everyone, and he will be greatly missed at Guild meetings and by visiting ringers to the Cathedral.

The funeral service was held in the Cathedral on July 27th, and was taken by Canon Moor. The lesson was read by Rev. J. Mansel (chairman, Winchester District), the Bishop of Southampton gave the Blessing, and there was a large congregation of townspeople and friends.

The Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild was represented by Messrs. G. Pullinger (Master), W. Linter (treasurer), G. Smith (auditor), Rev. S. Gidlow (Goodworth Clatford), J. Hill and A. Mitchell (Andover), G. Chappell (Wickham), L. Tremeer (Alresford), R. Smith and W. Melville (Wonston), L. Lampard (Twyford), D. West (Sparsholt), F. Davis (Kings Somborne), J. Brazier (Micheldever), C. Kippin (Southampton), G. Noice, H. Cook, W. Goodchild, P. Bullen, R. Paine, W. Lampard, E. Lampard and A. Goulding (Winchester Cathedral).

Among the many floral tributes were wreaths from Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild. the Winchester District and Winchester Cathedral ringers.

The Cathedral bells were rung half-muffled during the evening, and as the Cathedral bells were not available a memorial peal was attempted at St. Michael's, Southampton, on Saturday.

MISS ANNIE WHITE.

We regret to announce the death of Miss Annie White on July 10th, after an illness lasting several months. She was an enthusiastic ringer, having learned to ring in 1927, and was a keen and loyal member of the All Saints', Springfield (Essex), band, where she was a regular Sunday service ringer. She also helped with the ringing at Chelmsford Cathedral on special occasions.

Miss White rang her first peal at Springfield in 1932, and had a total of 12 peals to her credit. She was a member of the Essex Association.

In honour of her memory a half-muffled quarter-peal of Cambridge Minor was rung at the All Saints', Springfield (Essex), band, funeral) by: J. Myhill 1, H. Devenish (cond.) 2, H. W. Shadrack 3, A. Edwards 4, R. Thrift 5, L. J. Clark 6.

The bells were also rung half-muffled for the following Sunday morning service.

LONDONDERRY, N. IRELAND.—At the Cathedral Church of St. Columb, on July 17th, 1,260 Plain Bob Doubles: Lily Hughes 1, W. Young 2, J. J. Fielding (first as cond.) 3, H. McIntyre 4, J. Campbell 5, D. L. Dunseith (first quarter) 6. First quarter by a local service band.

QUARTER PEALS

ARKSEY, DONCASTER.—On July 23rd, 1,440 Plain Bob Minor: D. Wheat (first quarter) 1, E. Whetton (first quarter) 2, Miss D. Smythe 3, G. Arrand 4, R. Sanderson 5, E. Cooper (cond.) 6. Also 480 Little Bob Minor and 720 Kent T.B.: D. Wheat (first in methods) 1, G. Arrand 2, Miss D. Smythe (first in methods) 3, Mrs. I. Somerville 4, E. Cooper (cond.) 5, R. Sanderson (first in methods) 6. Rung after meeting short for Grandsire Triples.

BARROW-IN-FURNESS.—On July 24th, at the Church of St. James, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: R. Wilton 1, Miss E. Suart 2, F. C. Limb 3, N. M. Newby (first quarter as cond.) 4, J. Bracewell 5, S. Usher 6, J. Bagnall 7.

BEXHILL, KENT.—On July 17th at the Church of St. Peter, 1,260 Stedman Triples: Miss B. Cowlin 1, Miss K. E. Fletcher 2, Miss A. D. Eldridge 3, F. N. Smeaton 4, E. Gower 5, Rev. P. J. Boulsover 6, F. H. Dallaway (cond.) 7, C. E. Verdon 8. First of Stedman Triples 3 and 6.

Beverley and District Society

THIRD ANNUAL MEETING.

On July 9th the above society held its third annual meeting in Beverley. Fifty members attended with welcome visitors from Eckington, Derbyshire, and Bradford.

Ringing commenced on the Minster bells at 2 p.m., and continued until 4.15 p.m. A service was held in the choir of the Minster, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. C. Collwyn Hargreaves, who in a short sermon gave some good advice on ringing and getting new members introduced into the towers. The Rev. G. Storer read the lesson.

Tea was held in the Minster Parish Room ably served by ringers' wives and friends.

The business meeting was opened by the president, who introduced the Mayor and Mayoress of Beverley (Ald. and Mrs. W. J. Marson). The Mayor, in a short speech and a few verses from Tennyson's poem, convinced the ringers that he was an appreciative listener with his own 'point of vantage' in Burton Bushes.

The president's, secretary's, Ringing Master's, the the committee's reports, and the statement of accounts were received and adopted.

At the election of officers, all officers and members of the committee, with the exception of the secretary, were re-elected for another term in office. The secretary, in resigning, thanked his president, Mr. G. F. Williams, for his hard and enthusiastic work, both in and out of the tower. He also thanked all other officers, the committee and tower secretaries for their help. He closed with high commendation for the Press, especially 'The Ringing World.' After many requests from the members to reconsider his decision, Mr. Sellar's resignation was finally accepted with regret. Mr. C. Barker, of Beverley Minster, was elected to fill the vacancy.

After some discussion the invitation from Mr. A. Hoodless to hold the monthly meeting for September at Barton-on-Humber was accepted.

Five new members were elected, four from Kirk Ella and one from Cottingham. A good show by Kirk Ella.

Mr. Fox thanked the Vicar, Rev. C. Collwyn Hargreaves, the Rev. G. Storer, the organist, Mr. John Long, F.R.C.O., and the local ringers for their services. The Vicar replied in a short, witty speech, and also invited the Mayor to read the whole of Tennyson's poem at the Minster on New Year's Eve prior to the ringing of the Old Year out and the New Year in.

The Rev. G. Storer gave a statement of progress on Hutton Cranswick bells. Two were already cast and the others were to be cast during the week. There was still a 'technical hitch' over the steel for the new frame.

After meeting, handbells were rung in the Parish Room and the tower bells were kept going in standard methods until 9 p.m.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD

PRESENTATION TO THE REV. E. V. FENN.

The Towcester Branch held a special presentation meeting at Lois Weedon on July 23rd to mark the 14 years of loyal service as secretary and treasurer of the Rev. E. V. Fenn.

After a service in the church conducted by the Rev. E. V. Fenn and the Rev. G. H. Roper (Vicar) members and friends were invited to the Vicarage to tea. The presentation of a silver teapot, which had been subscribed to by all the towers in the branch, was made by Mr. E. E. Whitmore. The Rev. E. V. Fenn suitably acknowledged the gift.

Among the visitors were Mr. R. H. Howson and Mr. F. Vickers, of the North Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild. Arrangements were made by Mr. C. Hinton, the local captain, and Mr. W. Yates, Branch Sec.

'350 SURPRISE ROYAL AND MAXIMUS METHODS'

BY NOLAN GOLDEN.

HOWEVER much we may deplore the cult of the Surprise method, especially the ringing in the past of so much Cambridge with its lack of 7-8 dodging in 1-2 and its one basic, unmusical composition, the Surprise method is more and more with us, and to most ringers is the be-all and end-all of ringing.

With the publication of this book, Mr. Andrew Corrigan, with painstaking diligence, has now provided the Exercise with more than a thousand Surprise methods from Major to Maximus. This is an achievement which deserves the highest gratitude of the Exercise, and which has, incidentally, radically changed the whole situation about Surprise methods. Instead of having about a dozen or so available to anyone who has failed to keep a file of 'The Ringing World,' and particularly instead of having to depend on exchange of methods in manuscript, anyone for a trifling sum can now have a reliable copy of any method ever published.

In the list of Royal methods, the first section deals with those in which peals have been rung—some 23, of which three are 'London' variations. The second section comprises some fifty methods extended from those included in the Surprise Major Section (Part C, published June, 1948). Some of these extensions may give rise to controversy; but, on the whole, most people will agree that most are acceptable as such. The last group of Royal methods includes a further fifty methods first published for ten bells, contributed in the main by that master of Surprise method construction, Mr. H. G. Cashmore. The grouping of Maximus methods is on the same lines. According to Mr. Corrigan, only eleven Surprise Maximus methods have been rung. In the 'extension' section six of the 'Bristol' variations are printed.

The absence of a note on the extension of methods is hardly surprising. This is a subject which will no doubt enliven the pages of 'The Ringing World' and the debates of the Central Council in the not so distant future, and Mr. Corrigan has very wisely avoided the slings and arrows of controversy. He has also omitted all the many versions of London Surprise except those already rung to a peal, and the "U.A.," which was very nearly rung to a 5,000. The fascination of London Surprise extension is one of the mysteries of the age. There is no acceptable extension, and Mr. Corrigan, very wisely, too, I think, blissfully ignores the presence of so many spurious contenders for the London title.

We have then now available, by virtue of private enterprise, a unique contribution to Surprise Royal and Maximus knowledge. It is not generally realised that a publication of this sort usually involves the unfortunate publisher in financial loss, and the modest price of this book is possible only because the collector has set the type with his own hand. For Mr. Corrigan is far better known in the typographical than in the ringing world, having contributed regularly for many years to trade papers and being the author of a number of books. The Exercise is much the richer for his interest and grateful for the bestowal of his talents on the production of a much-needed collection of Surprise methods.

JOINT MEETING AT SHEFFIELD

Fine bells, good company and the right temperature were the ingredients for the meeting of the Sheffield Society and Northern District Ladies' Guild at Rotherham on Bank Holiday Monday.

About fifty ringers were present and many ringers were pleased to meet old friends again. Methods rung included Double Norwich, Yorkshire and London Major, Stedman Caters, Little Bob, Forward and Cambridge Royal.

All requests were met by the Ringing Master, and under his careful leadership learners were gradually included throughout the meeting. Some very excellent ringing was enjoyed.

A short business meeting was presided over by the late secretary, Mr. H. Chaddock, who mentioned that the cup contest would be held at Clowne in September.

A vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar (who kindly visited the ringers during the afternoon), to Mr. Ryder (tower master), Mr. J. Turley (secretary), Mr. H. Chaddock (chairman) and to Mr. N. Chaddock, the Ringing Master.

The only disappointing part of the meeting was the small attendance of ladies.

WELCOME HOME

On July 27th, touches of Stedman Doubles, Grandsire Doubles, Plain Bob Minor, Kent Treble Bob Minor and Cambridge Surprise Minor were rung at Christ Church, Mitcham, by many friends of Mr. A. Miller, who arrived home from Canada by air late on July 26th.

Mr. Miller flew to Canada last April to visit brothers whom he had not seen for over 60 years, and had a wonderful reception in Canada and the United States. He is the captain of the Christ Church band and has been a member for well over 40 years.

WEEDON BEC, NORTHANTS. — On July 29th, 1,260 Bob Minor: S. G. Osborne 1, S. Manning (first of Minor) 2, L. W. Houghton 3, V. A. Perry 4, K. R. Holtom (first of Minor as cond.) 5, A. P. Cannon 6.

BELFRY GOSSIP

During the Exeter 'week' of the Universities' Association, Mr. A. York-Bramble is to read a paper on 'Grid Analysis,' illustrated by some two dozen lantern slides. The paper and slides he proposes to offer to the Central Council library for record and circulation throughout the Exercise.

Four members of the Dobbie family rang their first peal of Yorkshire together at Sittingbourne.

The peal of Lindsey Surprise Royal at Loughborough Bell Foundry was Ernest Morris' 111th peal on these bells. This was rung on his 60th birthday.

Regarding brothers' peal record, Messrs. G. R. and William Pye rang over 1,000 together, and Messrs. E. and W. Pye over 600, writes Mr. E. W. Pye, of Ipswich.

Mr. David Vincent has 'completed the circle' of St. Mary's, Bowdon, Cheshire, and Mr. V. A. Jarrett that of St. Mary Magdalene's, Gillingham, Kent.

Mr. G. Freebrey, Derby, would like to congratulate the ringers at Fairford, Glos., on the progress they have made during the past year and to thank them for the opportunity to ring a quarter-peal with them.

Heaviest ring in Derbyshire, St. Luke's, Derby, with a tenor 30¾ cwt., has been silent for four years owing to the 6th bell being cracked. Messrs. J. Taylor and Co. have removed the bell for recasting and the rededication is expected to take place in October.

To-day the Universities' Association assemble at Exeter for their ringing week. A company of between 35 and 40 ringers is expected, headquarters being at Thomas Hall. During the week there will be ringing at Exeter Cathedral, Buckfast Abbey and 35 other Devon towers. There will be about five peals during the week, most of the time being devoted to visiting a group of towers each day.

Culled from details supplied to members of the Yorkshire tour now in progress: 'During former tours I have discovered who the "snorers" and restless sleepers are. The foregoing list is made out to provide maximum comfort for all. When you arrive at your "digs" you will find your beds labelled with your name. Please adhere to the instructions given. Unfortunately we have only seven single beds. These are reserved for those who rob others of their sleep.'

Mr. Ron Bullen, Ely, writes: May I correct the footnote to the peal of Yorkshire Royal rung at Southampton, July 9th, 1949 ('Ringing World,' page 338). Charles H. Kippin rang his first peal of Royal in this method Saturday, November 3rd, 1928, at Beddington, according to my peal records. First in the method by all the band, says the footnote.

The peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Hugglescote was the first on the bells since they have been rehung on ball bearings, and the ringers who took part in the peal attended evening service, at which the Vicar made appropriate reference in the prayers and sermon to the reopening of the bells. They now go like tops, Messrs. John Taylor and Co. having made a very fine job of them.

Cambridge Youths, reinforced by members of the C.U.G.R., spent the Bank Holiday at Oxford. On the outward journey there was ringing at Bicester, and on the return at Leighton Buzzard. At Oxford, after an excellent lunch, Christ Church, Merton and New College were visited in turn and short touches enjoyed in spite of a threat by the proctors. After tea St. Mary's heavy six were utilised. At the tea table Mr. J. W. R. Quinney was heartily thanked for making the excellent arrangements. Members of the Oxford Guild, Messrs. Judge, P. Semmens, Moore and Bennett, were likewise thanked for obtaining the necessary permission.

SUSSEX TOURISTS IN DEVON

July 3rd—10th, 1949

EXCELLENT weather marked the start of what proved to be a highly successful ringing tour organsed by Mr. Oliver Sippetts and Miss F. Wyman. The party, consisting mainly of ringers from Sussex, left by coach from Crawley at 8 a.m. on July 3rd. After dining at Mere, the first stop for ringing was at Queen Camel, where Plain Bob, Grandsire and Cambridge were rung on the famous heavy six. Tea at Fenny Bridges was interrupted by a fire alarm, and some of the party saw a lorry ablaze on the main road.

The tourists were joined at Exeter by Mr. and Mrs. E. Stitch and Mr. and Mrs. T. Roderick, and the bells of St. Thomas', Exeter, were rung for evening service. Afterwards to Ashburton, where the Golden Lion Hotel was the headquarters for the next few days. The handbell ringing which followed the evening meal became a regular feature of the tour.

At 8.30 a.m. on Monday the party left to ring at Crediton. Unluckily the recommended route proved impossible for the coach, and Crediton could not be reached in time. However, Tiverton (8, tenor 25 cwt.), where the bells were raised in peal, and Uffculme (8) were visited in the morning. Dinner was at Cullompton, and Stedman Caters, Grandsire Caters and Cambridge Royal were rung on St. Andrew's bells. Thence to Broadclyst (8) and Heavitree (8), where the bells were much admired. After tea in Exeter ringing took place at the Cathedral. The 'Thomas Eight' were raised in peal and subsequent ringing consisted of rounds on twelve, Stedman Caters on the back ten and Cambridge Major on the 'Thomas Eight.' The ringing masters for the day were Mr. O. Sippetts and Mr. G. Cecil.

Tuesday's programme started at Bickington (6), and then Buckfast Abbey, where the party met Mr. A. Bennett. Here rounds on twelve and Stedman and Grandsire Caters were rung. Buckfast Abbey proved to be very interesting, especially as some of the wood-carving in the choir had been executed at Crawley. The ring of eight at Ugborough proved to be a tough handful. During dinner, Mr. R. Overy, who had been ringing master during the morning, handed over his 'badge of office' to Mr. L. Stilwell. Ringing followed on two good eights, Berry Pomeroy (17 cwt. tenor) and Torquay (Upton), tenor 14 cwt. After tea a drive through wonderful scenery along the sea coast brought the party to Chudleigh, and all enjoyed this pleasant ring.

On Wednesday morning the bells of St. Andrew's, Ashburton, were rung before taking leave of the town. The journey to Widecombe was very enjoyable, and the six bells were soon set going, but people purchasing souvenirs of Uncle Tom Cobley nearly upset the time table. Over Dartmoor to Tavistock (8, tenor 24 cwt.) for ringing and lunch. Thence to ring at Okehampton and Hatherleigh, both octaves. At Hatherleigh the party was met by Messrs. Myers, of Plymouth, and tea was enjoyed at the George Hotel.

A switchback ride to Barnstaple followed, and this was the headquarters for the remainder of the week. The secretary of the local Guild was at St. Peter's, Barnstaple, to meet the visitors and was able to answer many questions on West Country ringing. The ringing masters for the day were Mr. E. Stitch and Mr. A. E. Laker.

The following morning Mr. F. Hairs was ringing master. A visit was paid to Chittlehampton, an excellent ring hung in a magnificent tower. The incumbent was a ringer and rang Stedman Triples with the visitors. Chulmleigh, another ring of eight, was the next church to be visited. Lunch followed at Eggesford, and Mr. G. Cecil took over office of ringing master. South Molton's impressive 140ft. tower contains a ring of eight bells, tenor 24 cwt., and in the ringing room are many certificates to show the prowess of its ringers. The party then set off to ring at Combe Martin (8, tenor 10 cwt.), and after tea the two eights at Ilfracombe, Holy Trinity and St. James', were visited.

FINE CORNISH WELCOME.

Friday proved to be the most interesting day for the majority of the tourists. The coach left Barnstaple for Truro, and halting at Bodmin for refreshments, where a set of handbells was found hanging in the bar. At Truro the visitors were met by the president of the Truro Diocesan Guild, Miss E. Symons; vice-president, the Rev. A. S. Roberts; the Ringing Master, Mr. W. H. Southeard; the treasurer, the Rev. Canon Peeke; and Mr. H. Miles. The ten bells of Truro Cathedral, tenor 33¾ cwt., were rung to Stedman Caters, Grandsire Caters and Kent Treble Bob Royal.

The Church of St. Cainwen, Kenwyn (8, 15 cwt.), was next visited, set amid lovely scenery. The tea at Truro was by kind invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Southeard and was thoroughly enjoyed. Speeches of welcome were made by Miss Symons and Canon Peeke, and Mr. F. Hairs suitably responded. The return journey to Barnstaple was by way of Launceston, where the evening meal had been arranged. On arriving at Launceston a single bell was heard ringing and some of the party investigated the sound. It proved to be the curfew bell, but it was not possible to ring at the tower owing to the remainder of the bells still being lashed after a learners' practice. The ringing master for the day was Mr. O. Sippetts.

On Saturday the first tower to be visited was Pilton (Barnstaple), a ring of eight (tenor 25 cwt.). This was followed by a journey to Tawstock, where there is a very interesting church. Here they have a ring of eight bells, tenor 18 cwt., and a ringers' jug. Afterwards came St. Michael's, Torrington, with a good octave, 16 cwt. tenor, rung from the ground floor. Mr. R. Overy had been ringing master during the morning, and after dinner the duty fell to Mr. E. Rapley. St. Bridget's, Bridgerule (8, 10 cwt.), was the next on the list, and then to Clovelly for tea. After ringing at Stratton (8, 22 cwt.), the ring of eight at St. Mary's, Bideford, with its 17 cwt. tenor, was the last to be visited before returning to Barnstaple. At the hotel that evening a presentation was made and a vote of thanks given to both Mr. Sippetts and Miss Wyman for their work in arranging the tour. Mr. Sippetts was given a tiepin and Miss Wyman a brooch.

Sunday was the last day of the tour, and the coach set out in the morning to return to Crawley. Those friends who had joined the party at Exeter left at Bridgwater and the remainder went on to ring on the excellent octave at All Saints', Westbury, Wilts, with its 35 cwt. tenor. An alfresco tea at Pewsey was enlivened by handbell ringing, and the six bells of St. Peter's were rung for evensong.

On the coach on the last stage of the tour statistics were compiled to show the tourists had rung at 36 towers, rung 17,171 changes of the following: Stedman and Grandsire Doubles, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge and London Minor, Grandsire, Oxford Bob and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Bristol, Cambridge, London, Norfolk, Superlative and Yorkshire Major, Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Cambridge and Kent Treble Bob Royal; and they had climbed 1,208 steps to reach the belfries. The handbell ringers had rung up to Grandsire Cinques 'in hand.' When the coach reached Crawley it was noted that the total distance covered on the tour was 1,002 miles. T. G. F.

SHRIVENHAM, WILTS. — On July 29th, 1,260 Oxford Bob Triples: F. G. Wilton 1, Miss B. J. Stange 2, Miss B. M. Stange 3, A. R. A. Peake 4, J. E. Manners 5, B. Bladon 6, P. Anger (first of Triples as cond.) 7, E. Grainger 8. First of Triples for 2, 3 4. First of Oxford Bob by all the band except the conductor. A farewell to G. Collins on leaving for Australia.

2,000th Issue

Mr. E. H. Lewis, president of the Central Council, writes:—

The Editor asks for reminiscences for the 2,000th number. My personal recollections of nearly fifty years ago are that 'The Bell News' obviously was coming to an end and could not last many years even with gold infusions. What was going to happen? The Exercise could not support two papers. Other rivals to the dying 'Bell News' were themselves short-lived. Then the right man arrived in John Goldsmith. Of his perseverance and success others will no doubt write.

Now the paper has been in a sense 'nationalised,' or at least 'Exercised,' and its future lies with the Exercise, acting through its national organisation.

[The Editor acknowledges many other letters on this subject, which he hopes to refer to in due course.]

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH GUILD

PORTSMOUTH DISTRICT AT SHEDFIELD.

In expectation of a well-attended meeting in the glorious sunshine at Shedfield on July 23rd, the secretary had arranged for the six bells at Wickham to be at the disposal of the Guild, thus relieving congestion at the very small eight-bell tower.

Bells were available from 2.30 p.m. onwards, methods up to Spliced (5) Surprise Major being rung at Shedfield, and up to Cambridge Surprise Minor at Wickham.

The Guild form of service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. B. G. Crowley), after which about 60 people sat down to an excellent tea. In addition to district members, visitors were present from Chichester, Kington (Hereford), Southampton (St. Michael's and St. Mary's), Woolton Hill, Worthing and Uxbridge. The business meeting followed, the chair being taken by the Rev. B. G. Crowley. Three new ringing members were elected, and Soberton was selected for the next meeting on October 15th.

Mr. Chappell proposed and Mr. Hunt seconded that the following resolution be forwarded to the sub-committee dealing with schemes for a Guild war memorial and the memorial to the late Master (Mr. G. Williams): 'That, in view of the fact that Mr. George Williams was born and started his ringing career at Droxford, two new bells be added to the existing four, as a combined Guild war memorial and a memorial to Mr. George Williams.' This was carried unanimously.

Thanks were expressed by the district chairman (Mr. Lister), to the Vicar, the organist and the young ladies who had arranged tea.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSN.

A very warm welcome was accorded the 47 members and friends of the South and West District on July 16th at St. Mary's, Twickenham, this being the first occasion the Association has visited St. Mary's since the induction of the new Vicar (Canon Rogers). Ringing was of a high standard, ranging from rounds to London and Bristol Surprise.

A beautiful service was conducted by the Vicar, who took as his text the very appropriate words, 'He hath put a new song in my mouth.' Tea, provided by the Vicar and churchwardens, and arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Lovell, was most enjoyable.

At the business meeting, with the Vicar presiding, tribute was paid to the late Vicar and president of the Association, Preb. Cole Sheane, and Mr. J. Herbert, of Twickenham, who have passed to their rest, also Mr. E. Hancox, of St. Andrew's, Hillingdon. The meeting stood in silence. Eight new members were elected, including Canon Rogers as an hon. life member.

Thanks were accorded to Canon and Mrs. Rogers, the churchwardens, Mr. and Mrs Lovell and family, and Mr. E. Morris and his band of ringers for the truly Middlesex welcome accorded the Association. F. A. F.

OBITUARY

MR. A. A. HADLEY.

The death occurred on July 22nd of Mr. Arthur Albert Hadley, of 57, Riverholme Drive, West Ewell, Surrey. He was 78 and leaves a widow and daughter.

Starting life at Cradley, Worcs., deceased learnt ringing at the age of 16 under Mr. W. H. Fussell, and during the ensuing 25 years travelled by cycle and on foot to all the towers in the district ringing and teaching.

In 1921 he moved to Ireland, taking up the appointment of sexton and head ringer at St. Saviour's, Arklow. Here he continued to teach young ringers, and there must be many who remember his proficiency with handbells.

In 1932 he had a fall, in which he sustained a fractured right arm and dislocated shoulder and was picked up in a critical condition.

In the subsequent case at Wicklow Circuit Court, in which he was applicant under the Workman's Compensation Acts, judgment turned on his incapacity to continue his work of giving instruction in bellringing, there being no other person in Arklow capable of doing this work. After Mr. Hadley had demonstrated his inability to raise his arm above the level of his shoulder, the Judge ruled that he was no longer fit to be a bellringer and awarded him the maximum compensation.

Returning to England, he still took a very active interest in change ringing and was instrumental in starting and keeping together a band of ringers at Ewell Parish Church.

In 1944 Mr. Hadley and his family were made homeless by what is thought to have been the second flying bomb to fall on this country. His son-in-law was killed while he was injured in the head.

Mr. Hadley was a most likeable, unassuming and accomplished ringer, with a rare skill for imparting his knowledge. He has been greatly missed during his illness of the past 15 months.

Handbells were rung over the grave at Ewell and Epsom Borough Cemetery by ringers who knew him from Ewell, Epsom, Ashtead and Leatherhead.

A half-muffled quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Ewell on July 24th as a tribute to his memory: Babara Pottinger 1, Margaret Howard 2, R. F. Layton 3, A. Williams 4, J. Hill 5, H. E. Good 6, J. E. Beams (cond.) 7, A. F. Rippington 8. First 'inside' 2 and 3.

MR. E. MANSELL.

St. Martin's Guild has lost one of its oldest members by the regretted death at the age of 78 years of Mr. Ernest Mansell, of 208, Solihull Road, Sparkhill, Birmingham.

For 43 years he had been a service ringer at St. Martin's and previously was a member of the Yardley Parish Church service ringers. The exact number of his peals is not known, but he had rung 50 peals at St. Martin's, chiefly Stedman Cinques. A clever exponent on handbells, he broadcast on several occasions from the Midland Region of the B.B.C. with his own company, all of whom he had trained.

Mr. Mansell worked for many years for the Birmingham City Corporation public lighting department, and after his retirement resumed his previous calling as a gardener. He was at work a month previous to his death.

A good living man, he loved his church, his home and his family, and his lovable character endeared him to hosts of friends. A widow and grown-up family are bereaved.

The first part of the funeral service took place at St. Martin's Church. The service was conducted by the Rev. G. H. Coddrington (curate), who also officiated at the interment in the family grave at Yardley Cemetery. Mr. P. Cotterill was at the organ and accompanied the hymns.

The widow and family were present and the St. Martin's Guild was represented by Alderman A. Paddon Smith (vice-president), Messrs. A. Walker (Master), J. F. Harvey (librarian), E. C. Shepherd (Ringing Master), G. E. Fearn (secretary and treasurer), F. E. Haynes and W. C. Dowding. At the interment a course of Triples was rung on handbells at the graveside. Among the many wreaths was one from the St. Martin's Guild. A. W.

HARRY METCALFE.

The many friends of Mr. James Metcalfe, of Scorton, Lancs, will be sorry to hear of the tragic death of his son, Harry, aged 15 years, who died in the Royal Lancaster Infirmary after being hit on the head whilst playing cricket.

The funeral took place at Scorton on Aug. 3rd and was attended by ringers from Kirkby Lonsdale, Morecambe and Lancaster, in addition to the local band.

The bells were rung muffled as the cortege left the church.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CENTRAL COUNCIL DECISIONS

Dear Sir,—The sub-committee appointed by the Standing Committee to report on the 'Decisions' is now at work on the matter, and it has occurred to us that there may be many members of the Exercise who may have strong feelings on various controversial matters, and if there are any who feel disposed to write to me, I can promise that any suggestions or ideas they may put forward will be earnestly considered by the sub-committee.

It will be appreciated that the task before us is a formidable one, and we shall be glad to receive any help or guidance from those who are genuinely desirous of getting matters straightened out. We are anxious to 'feel the pulse' of the Exercise, and will do our best with what, we feel sure, will be recognised as a most difficult proposition.—Yours faithfully,

J. FRANK SMALLWOOD.

A BROADCASTING TRANSPOSITION

Dear Sir,—On the evening of August 4th there was a broadcast called 'From Tower and Steeple' in the West of England Home Service, of which I was the producer, and I should be glad if you would print this apology for a mistake which occurred during the programme. While we were on the air the recording of the bells of St. Mary's, Southampton, was put on by an unfortunate error in place of those of St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol. This I regret very much, firstly because the listeners were not given an opportunity of hearing the fine bells of St. Mary Redcliffe, and secondly because the bells and excellent ringing from St. Mary's, Southampton, were broadcast without acknowledgment.

The mistake was more unfortunate because Mr. E. J. Taylor was known to have been our technical adviser on the programme, and I should like to make it clear, especially after all the trouble he took in helping us to avoid inaccuracies, that he was in no way responsible for any mistakes during the transmission.

May I also add here how very much we have appreciated the co-operation of the many bands of ringers who helped us to make the recordings.—Yours faithfully,

BRANDON ACTON-BOND.

SIBLE HEDINGHAM AT ST. NEOTS

Dear Sir,—I am asked to state that no permission was given for ringers from Sible Hedingham to ring at St. Neots, also the mistake is theirs. Permission was granted for St. Ives bells and the bells raised ready for them. It is regrettable such a misunderstanding arose and a rush into print. One consideration should be given to the St. Neots verger; his hearing is not all that is desired.

F. WARRINGTON,
District Ringing Master,

CHILD RINGERS

Sir,—A child who takes up ringing at the age of 15 may normally expect some 50 years' enjoyment of the art. Yet there are some so jealous of fame that they will strive to add an extra half-dozen years at the beginning and so risk the health and strength that will enable them to enjoy the last twenty-five.

In the full knowledge that it will bring down on my head a storm of abuse from all proud parents, I put forward the suggestion that no peal should be recognised which includes a ringer under the age of 15. And I hurriedly put up an umbrella in defence and add, 'unless a certificate has been obtained from the school medical officer to show that the child is well enough developed to stand the strain.

To be the 'youngest ever' is a worthless record anyhow. It is a tribute to the bell-founders' rather than the bellringers' art.—Yours faithfully, WILLIAM MORLAND.

Lamberhurst, Tunbridge Wells.

RINGING AND SERVICE ATTENDANCE

Dear Sir,—Full marks to Group Captain Lister for raising this very difficult and nagging problem of ringers' attendance at Sunday services after ringing. It is, as he suggests, high time the matter was seriously considered by the Exercise in general and not least by our directors of policy, the Central Council.

There are, I think, two sides to this problem. Speaking mainly from local experience, it is evident that there is a substantial number of ringers, married and with young families, who, quite rightly, will not stay behind to attend Sunday services without their wives. Now it resolves itself to this; either the Church retains very useful members, in the belfry and not in the congregation, or it loses members altogether. There is an alternative, of course, and that is for the clergy, or those responsible, to provide 'sitters-in' for these particular ringers on occasional Sundays.

On the other side of the picture, however, we do find a section of ringers, both old and young, who are quite capable of representing their function in the body of the Church in public worship, but the shameful fact remains that ringers throughout the Exercise are noted for their absence at Sunday services.

The faults, however, do not lie entirely with the ringers. In my opinion a good proportion of the fault is with the clergy. How often do we find our Vicars and Rectors visiting us in our ringing chambers on Sundays, perhaps to join with us in a prayer, and how often are we exhorted to attend the service following? How often are the ringers given any Christian leadership or advice by their clergy, and lastly, how often do our clergy enquire into and criticise the continued absence from public worship of the ringers, which is their right? To these questions I think the unfortunate answer must, in most cases, be very very rarely.

However, I am sure of this fact, church bellringers will not be fully recognised as church officials anywhere until there is ample evidence that the ringers do not ring entirely for their own enjoyment, and that they are prepared to join regularly in public worship with the congregation they call to church by the ringing of the bells.—Yours faithfully,

PETER H. ROLLISON.

Eastbourne.

Dear Sir,—Re the query of a Leicester ringer on the above; when I was taught to handle a bell it was with the rope-end in my right hand—wrong perhaps. My much respected friend, the late John H. Cheesman, with whom I rang nearly 100 peals, and who rang over 1,000, rang the same way. He used to say we were 'kack-handed' ringers. Whether he meant right or left-handed he never said—and I never asked. Right or left, he was a ringer par excellence.—Yours faithfully, F. M. MITCHELL.

Gravesend, Kent.

AN EXAMPLE FROM BOXING

Dear Sir,—In last week's 'Belfry Gossip' there is a query from Leicestershire with regard to a ringer holding the end of his rope in his right hand. Obviously he is a right-handed ringer, as his left hand will be above his right, on the hand and back stroke.

A boxer who is right handed normally holds his left hand in front of the right, and a right-handed person hauling on a rope does exactly the same, whether the rope happens to be horizontal or vertical.

I myself ring with the end of the rope in my right hand, and have had my stance termed left handed by many friends. I don't agree.—Yours sincerely, A. L. SHEPHERD.

Truro Diocesan Guild

AN INTERESTING REVIEW.

The Truro Diocesan Guild follows a fairly set course in regard to meetings—or festivals as they are called in Cornwall—by the holding of such gatherings in each branch in spring and autumn, with an annual diocesan festival which alternates roughly to the west and east of the county. This year the Truro Branch opened the programme when Mr. George Clemens arranged for his bands and friends to meet at St. Budock, near Falmouth, in April. With a second octave at St. Gluvias, and six at Mabe, all Taylor rings on ball bearings, the ringing went merrily. Service and tea according to custom, and a welcome from the Vicar, the Rev. R. A. Williams, completed the picture. Some years ago these three rings (then two sixes and a five) rocked anti-clockwise in wooden frames. Now rigid metal holds them all.

May was a month of meetings. Two fell on one day. The Guild officers like to be present, so the Ringing Master (Mr. W. H. Southeard) went to St. Mewan (six bells)—there was ringing too at St. Stephen-in-Brannell (8)—and the diocesan secretary (the Rev. W. H. R. Trewhella) to Werrington. The former was a Mid-Cornwall Branch affair, and arranged by the secretary, the Rev. F. F. Gilbert. After an afternoon of practice, when service and tea were over, the various bands rang, not in competition, but for proficiency certificates. Elaborate arrangements had been made for a recording van to be there, and afterwards each band could buy a record of the ringing they had done. Many did so. The latter was the Launceston Branch, and there Mr. W. F. Moss had two eights and a six at Launceston available also. Mr. E. G. Caple, of Clevedon, went tower hunting on this occasion.

The Penzance Branch had its headquarters at Manaccan for service and tea. The Vicar (the Rev. H. H. Dixon) welcomed the members, but as Lt.-Col. C. F. Jerram is a churchwarden, and was once Master of the Guild, that welcome was very much augmented. Mawgan (6), St. Anthony (8) and St. Keverne (8) were on the programme, and judging by how members and visitors unite to traverse Cornish lanes at high speed to ring in all the towers, the term 'dawdle' of ringers is far too old-fashioned. Some enthusiasts are already jet-propelled. This meeting decided on St. Mary's, Penzance (8), with Gulval (8) and Madron (6) for the next meeting on Oct. 22nd.

Last, and not to be forgotten, was the South-East Branch gathering at St. Mellion (6) with Pillaton (6). Mr. H. J. Clarke is secretary and also Deputy Master of the Guild. This branch covers the beautiful Tamar Valley, and Mr. Clarke has struggled for years to keep alive the art of method ringing.

The Diocesan Festival was at Carbis Bay (8) on July 23rd, with Lelant (6), Zennor (6), Towednack (8) and Phillack (8) also. One hundred and thirty had tea after only 100 had said they were coming, but the day was too happy to issue reprimands, and members were welcomed from all over Cornwall, and visitors from Northamptonshire, Hampshire, Middlesex, Devonshire and Lancashire got caught up in more whirlwind transportation, and a man from Middlesex found himself in a car which passed a motor bike at high speed on the coastal road to Towednack. On the motor bike were two ringers from Plymouth. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. S. Roberts), and Canon C. K. Peeke (Guild treasurer) preached. A message was read from the Bishop of Truro. The president of the Guild, Miss Eileen Symons, was present. Ringing went on from 2.20 to 9 p.m. Thus, so far this year, the festivals have been well attended with numbers from 50 to 130, which is a matter of encouragement. We know in Cornwall that method ringing has yet a long way to go, but the ringers are on the march and are a living witness of church life generally.

THE LADIES' GUILD

SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

A meeting of the Southern District, held at Christ Church, Epsom, on July 30th, attracted a gathering of some 35 members and friends

Tea, arranged and provided by Mrs. Massey, of Claygate, was delectable and generous and was served alfresco in the peace of the Vicarage garden. The secretary then followed her usual custom of dismissing the gentlemen to amuse themselves whilst the ladies settled down to a business meeting, at which no less than nine ringing members and one honorary member were elected

Mrs. Lathbury expressed her pleasure at seeing so many young members coming along. Mrs. Hazelden, of Guildford, the district's vice-president, took the chair.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

A quarterly meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch was held at Higher Brixham on July 23rd, when visitors were present from London, Taunton, Newton Abbot, Paignton, Ashburton and Buckfastleigh. Ringing took place during the afternoon, this being followed by a service in church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. S. de Cerjat).

After a bountiful tea the business meeting followed, presided over by the branch chairman (Mr. J. E. Lilley). Four new members from Brixham were elected. A special meeting will be held at Highweek on August 27th, and the next quarterly meeting will be held at Dartington and Totnes on October 29th, both meetings subject to the necessary permission

Hearty votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar, to the lady organist and the local ringers and their wives. Methods rung during the afternoon and evening were Grandsire Triples, Stedman Doubles and Triples, and Plain Bob Minor. A. L. B.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

SOUTH-WESTERN DIVISION.

The quarterly meeting held at Loughton on July 23rd turned out to be a very popular fixture indeed, for 51 sat down to tea and approximately 60 members and friends enjoyed ringing on this fine eight. Apart from one or two touches, the ringing was of a high order and ran the whole gamut from rounds to London.

The most enjoyable service was taken by Canon M. N. Lake, and at the business meeting which followed 12 new members were elected.

Youth and old age were very much in evidence in the persons of little Evelyn Pryke, of Brentwood, aged 12, hunting the treble through Grandsire and Plain Bob, and the evergreen and popular 'Teddy' Bacon, of Loughton, who at 86 seems to have lost little of his vigour and none of his enthusiasm, calling a nice touch of Stedman.

VETERANS' VIEWS

THE EDITOR has been gratified with the many words of wisdom he has received with the publication of the 2,000th issue. Some of these reflections are not only of personal value to him, but also of benefit to the young ringers of to-day. The story of a young man in a remote Devonshire village being fired with ambition following a visit by the Rev. F. E. Robinson on one of his tours, and how it was accomplished, is one that could well be read by the young ringer of to-day. It was achieved by walking miles to attend practices and getting home in the small hours of the morning, 'tired, but happy, and making all sorts of excuses to the wife.'

From another part of the country comes a tale of the difficulty in getting recruits. This ringer inaugurated a vigorous campaign. The Vicar appealed from the pulpit, church organisations were written to, and all without success. Numerous good churchfolk stopped him in the street and wished him luck, and remarked that it would be such a pity for the bells to be idle. Not one of them offered. There is the old story in the Bible of the invited guests who would not attend the feast. The moral is the alternative, 'Go into the highways for your recruits, providing you have asked the Church first.'

How much are we indebted in many towers to one man—who has stuck it through thick and thin. Too often, alas, these individuals are the backbone of Sunday Service ringing. These individuals at times get their reward, and one of them mentions with a degree of pride the quarter of Grandsire Caters rung recently with excellent striking, the first for 17 years.

From another correspondent the Editor is implored to continue, through his columns, to stress the importance of good striking and good handling, as the number of good ringers is still far too small. 'One of my reasons for no longer attending meetings is that the ringing is usually so bad—unless it is Surprise.' The standard of English ringing will never be improved if those who are fit and able stand aloof. Practical example and personal explanation go a long way.

From another of the veterans comes the complaint that 'The Ringing World' 'panders too much to ignorance, self-advertisement and youth. . . . The high wages now being earned have created a sense of arrogance which persuades the possessors that they know far more than they do and that skill in ringing entitles them to air their ignorance of affairs in print.' Well, gentle reader (to use a Victorian expression), if the cap fits, wear it. There is a strange assortment in 'The Ringing World' family, but the present generation, with all its faults, like its predecessors, has good and bad. Men and women are known by their acts, words and writings. Perhaps the Editor has been too free with his discretionary powers, but he maintains, with all his faults, that human interest has been preserved even if it causes chagrin among some of the veterans.

A Cornish Ringer Marries

The marriage took place on July 29th at Camborne Parish Church, Cornwall, of Miss Joan E. Withey, of Camborne, to Mr. J. D. Niblett, of Birmingham. Miss Withey learned to ring at Camborne after the ban was lifted, and soon became an enthusiastic member of the Truro Guild, and apart from her Sunday ringing at Camborne and other duties for the church there, was always willing and ready to stand in anything that was arranged. Mr. and Mrs. Niblett's future home will be in Nottingham, where the bridegroom lectures at the University, and has also recently himself made good progress with ringing. Cornwall's loss will be Nottingham's gain.

A peal was attempted at Camborne on Saturday, July 30th, in honour of the marriage, but came to grief. The Rector (the Rev. G. F. Sandfield) readily agreed to a further attempt on August 6th, and this was successful. The band would like to associate Mr. H. C. Spencer with the peal as he was in the first attempt.

GOLDEN WEDDING

The bells of St. James' Church, Leyland, Lancs, were rung on the evening of August 2nd in honour of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Miller. Mr. Miller has been ringing at St. James' for over fifty years, and also ringing with him are a brother and a son. Mr. Miller's father was a ringer there for many years.

A large gathering in the Masonic Hall, to celebrate the event, included friends, neighbours and ringers. Mr. William Holmes, also a ringer at St. James', 83 years of age, and with 63 years' service to his credit, was present, after taking part in the ringing. He is the only surviving member of the band which rang on Mr. Miller's wedding day.

A few days later a peal of Minor was rung by members of the Preston Branch of the Lancashire Association, with Mr. Miller's son as conductor. Both Mr. and Mrs. Miller enjoy good health.

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The dedication of Blackburn Cathedral bells takes place at the 8 a.m. service on Sunday, August 21st. The dedication prayers only will be said at this service. The bells will be rung for morning service, which is at 10.30, by the Cathedral band, and the dedication completed at this service. Civic recognition will be given to the service by the attendance of the Mayor. Work on the bells, the new synchronous clock and adaptations to the tower have involved an expenditure of more than £3,500.

Mr. Frederick S. Sutton has circled Acton, Cheshire, tower.

Congratulations to Mr. W. Eric Critchley and Mr. Arthur D. Cook on their 100th peals.

Messrs. George Packer and Richard D. Langford, of the Chester Diocesan Guild, have rung Stedman from Doubles to Cinques.

We regret to learn that Mr. Charles Dean, of Croydon, convener of the Peals Analysis Committee, has been incapacitated with muscular rheumatism. He has tendered his resignation as convener of the committee. His many friends will wish him a speedy restoration to health. His illness has resulted in a delay in the publication of the committee's statistics for 1948.

Two rings of three in the Bicester Deanery Branch, Oxfordshire, are being augmented. A treble is to be added to St. Olave's, Fretwell. Here the treble and tenor were cast in 1612 and 1618 by Robert Atton, of Buckingham. A frame for six bells is being put in at the same time.

The other is at Caversfield, where two trebles are to be added. In this church there is a 13th century bell hanging in an oak frame, complete with all its fittings, in the belfry on the ground floor. The present treble was cast by Mears and Stainbank in 1927, and the second and tenor by J. Taylor and Co. in 1876 and 1874.

During a week's tour in the West Country, Mr. Walter F. Judge and his party scored peals at Ditcheat, Sherborne (where Mr. Alan R. Pink turned the 46 cwt. tenor in to Yorkshire Surprise Major), Chew Magna and Martock.

The ringer of the third in the quarter-peal at Allesley on July 17th was Miss A. Timms.

By ringing the treble at Ibstock on July 30th, Mr. J. W. Cotton (secretary of the Midland Counties Guild) has now circled this tower.

Manchester Cathedral has been closed for the whole of August to allow the contractors to repair bomb damage.

The ringer of the fourth bell in the peal of Plain Bob Major at Lowton, Cheshire, on July 16th, was Miss Margaret Flackett and not as stated.

The peal at Tunbridge Wells on August 5th was a birthday compliment to Mr. Frank H. Hicks, of Hailsham, and Mr. Ernest J. Ladd, the conductor.

A party of Leicester ringers are visiting Ireland towards the end of this month. The Irish Association meeting at Drogheda is arranged to coincide with their visit.

The Hon. Librarian regrets the delay in the execution of orders for C.C. publications. It is unlikely that he will be able to fulfil these before the first week in September owing to absence from home.

In a letter thanking all their new and old friends as the result of their week's tour, Messrs. Arthur D. Cook, Terry R. Hampton and Antony W. T. Cleaver write: Everywhere we went we were welcome and had a most enjoyable time. We were rather disappointed at the failure of Stedman Caters at Watford and very sorry that Don Mears' umpteenth attempt for Stedman Triples went the way of his others. However, our other peal attempts were all very successful in spite (?) of one conductor 'singing a song' in the middle.

MORE MESSAGES FROM FIRST ISSUE READERS

In Reminiscent Vein

We publish this week our second instalment of messages from No. 1 readers. We hope at a later date to compile a list of those who have been with us through the years.

PRACTICAL VALUE.

Rev. F. Ll. EDWARDS, Kington Magna, Dorset.

It would be remiss on the part of the convener of the Literature Committee to let the production of your 2,000th number pass without appropriate recognition. The noble achievement of the founder of 'The Ringing World,' the grand work of Mr. Trollope in a period of extreme difficulty and your own conduct of the editorial office undertaken at such brief notice and carried out with such conspicuous success all merit a tribute of the highest praise.

When the late Mr. Goldsmith asked for support in his new venture I told him that I would be one of his readers, provided that he issued his journal with the leaves properly cut! (Readers of 'Bell News' in ancient days will appreciate the point.) I have read every one of the 2,000 numbers, in whatever part of the world I have been. One experience illustrates in a remarkable way the practical value of 'The Ringing World' as a means of communication between ringers the world over.

When I held a temporary chaplaincy in Cyprus in 1926 it was forwarded to me weekly there. As I was arranging to spend a few days in Switzerland on my return journey, I gave orders for the first issue in June of that year to be posted to a Swiss address, where it was duly delivered. On perusing its contents I saw to my surprise a notice that owing to the general strike the annual meeting of the Salisbury Guild, which was to have been held in May, had been postponed till June 18th. That just enabled me on the day after arrival in England to go to Trowbridge and take my due part in the proceedings before returning to Kington Magna.

In offering you my hearty congratulations and good wishes I venture to associate with myself in those sentiments my colleagues on the Literature Committee and the members of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild.

EDITORS REMEMBERED.

Mr. Cecil EBBERSON, Snettisham, King's Lynn.

Am pleased to say that I am one of those who took No. 1 and have not missed a single copy since. It was sent out to France, 1914 war, while I was there!

We lost a dear friend in Jack Goldsmith and I lost a dear friend also in Jim Trollope; he was a real friend to me the six years I worked in London; his end was sad to me. I trust he is now R.I.P.

STUDENT DAYS RECALLED.

Mr. A. YORK-BRAMBLE, Netley Abbey, Hants.

May I add my congratulations to all concerned in the production of the quite unique 'Ringing World' and my sincere good wishes towards the attainment of the 3rd et seq. tenth centuries of issue.

As a young student (rather a long time ago!) I opened my copy of 'The Ringing World' with something of a thrill each week, and the degree of interest has in no way diminished with the passing of the years.

I believe the value of the influence of our paper in widening the interest in bellringing has yet to be fully assessed; and I've no doubt this remarkable milestone in its history will be suitably marked by peal dedications. May your circulation increase!

YOUNG ONES GET A CHANCE.

Mr. T. H. VALLANCE, Stoke Golding, Nuneaton.

Let me congratulate you on the 2,000th appearance of 'The Ringing World.' I have read every one except for a few Jerry intercepted in 1916-17-18. I admire how well you are making the cloth run out. What do I see during these years? Not a single item to the detriment of the furtherance of the art. I see much of the old trouble of competition causing ill-feeling rubbed out. Also the young ones getting a chance in a few weeks which they could not have had in years. All to the good in the long run.

As regards friction like sixths place bobs and calling London what may not be, well, many an old hen goes on the table now and is called chicken. As regards peal ringing, always a thorny subject with the haves or have nots, personally I never rang a peal which did not cause me a good deal of physical discomfort. But as my very good friend pointed out, others have had to help get yours, so stand in when you are wanted. All rules should be framed wide enough for anyone to try and make progress.

STARTED IN DEVON.

Mr. L. A. WILSON, Wootton Bassett.

I am one of those who have taken 'The Ringing World' from its first number. I took 'The Bell Ringer' and afterwards the old 'Bell News.' My first thought on a Friday is, has my paper come?

I was taught to handle a bell at Ottery St. Mary by the Godfrey boys in 1890. At that time it was a call change band and cards were put in front of the various bells. Then came a new Vicar, the Rev. Maitland Kelly, who started to teach the band. I rang my first quarter of Grandsire Triples with the bells muffled for the funeral of the president of the Devon Guild, Acland Troyte, and I remember the Vicar saying afterwards, 'Well, Louis, you are entitled to a certificate now.'

I remember the Rev. F. E. Robinson bringing a band for a peal of Stedman. I saw them go into the church and remarked to my Vicar that I hoped to ring with some of those men one day, and he replied, 'You will never be good enough for that.'

In 1897 I went to Wootton Bassett, where I made the acquaintance of Mr. E. Bishop, of Swindon. I walked the seven miles each way for practice and rang my first peal of Grandsire on the fifth at Wootton Bassett in 1898. I continued to practise at Swindon on the old eight, tenor 13 cwt., and rang standard methods up to Cambridge and Superlative Surprise.

I began my real ringing career about this time and rang peals with the Rev. F. E. Robinson, Challis Winney, the Rev. G. F. Coleridge and others in various parts of the county. My first peal of Stedman was at Chippenham St. Paul's in 2 hours 36 minutes, conducted by the Rev. F. E. Robinson. This peal was interrupted by a neighbour flinging stones through the tower window, which just missed the tenor man.

I lost a peal of Stedman at Beaminster in the last course owing to the tenor man having a fit. All eight ropes seemed to fly about and everybody was in danger of getting hung. We went back to Axminster. After dinner there was a question of beds. Everyone was fixed up except myself. I offered to sleep in the bath, which was quite all right until the morning when some of the others wanted a bath. I was in possession and stayed put until 9 o'clock.

We went for a peal of Stedman at Winsham, near Crewkerne, where the ropes fell in the chancel around a candelabra lit with oil lamps. Here I had the misfortune to get hitched up with the lamps, bringing some of them down with a crash. Mr. Winney whereupon looked at me and said, 'Young man, we are here to ring Stedman. Please try and do so.' Starting off again, we rang the peal in 2 hours 40 minutes.

We then proceeded to Crewkerne and rang the first peal of Stedman on the bells. In the peal Mr. Baker appeared to be asleep and Mr. Winney gave him such a kick telling him to wake up and strike his bell!

I also remember the first Devonshire peal in London at Putney. Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's ringers have always given me a welcome when in London, for which I thank Mr. Langdon and others.

After upwards of 60 years of teaching ringers it is a pleasure to us old ones to see so many young faces at various meetings. We of the old brigade have smoothed the path for them, making great sacrifices of time and money. Still there is something to be said for having ambitions. I think of my humble beginnings at Ottery St Mary and having the pleasure during my ringing career of ringing with most of the notable ringers and conductors on all numbers of bells from five to twelve. Just at this moment we are very excited, as Taylors, of Loughborough, have got Ottery bells for them to be rehung. I am hoping to be present when they are rededicated. It was here that my great-grandfather was a ringer and rang for Queen Victoria's Coronation.

HOURS OF PLEASURE.

Mr. Frederick S. PRICE, Beeston, Notts.

On receiving my 'Ringing World' this morning I am proud to state I join the number who have taken it in since its inception. It has given me hours of pleasure and been the means of making many valued friends.

I wish it continued success. My name was published in the previous list as a No. 1 subscriber; I feel sure there are very few of those left in this district.

I had the pleasure of ringing with Mr. Goldsmith on two or three occasions.

READ EVERY WORD.

Mr. W. W. WORTHINGTON, Lichfield, Staffs.

In reply to your request, I am one of those who have taken in 'The Ringing World' from the start. I don't ring any more, but I read every word of the paper. Best wishes.

MR. GOLDSMITH'S WORK.

Mr. Albert J. HUGHES, Bangor, N.W.

Heartiest congratulations on the 2,000th number. I have taken 'The Ringing World' from the first number, except about three years of the 1914-18 war, when I was on active service abroad. My earliest acquaintance with the late proprietor, Mr. Goldsmith, was through meeting him at the Johnson dinners. We were always struck and impressed by his attention and devotion to his invalid wife. I only rang one peal with him as far as I can recollect, which was Stedman Cinques at Winchester Cathedral. He was always hail fellow well met, and how he always managed to have a chat with everyone at ringers' functions was something to remember. Also the quality of his regular leading articles and his ideas for them left a grand memorial behind him. The continued success of 'The Ringing World' is my earnest hope and wish.

'TO THE END OF MY TIME.'

Mr. Joe HARDCASTLE, Wibsey, Bradford, Yorks.

I, for one, have taken 'The Ringing World' since its inception, and I hope to continue to the end of my time. I started with 'The Bell News' in 1887, afterwards 'The Bellringer,' and I don't think I have missed a copy of one or the other since. All the best for 'The Ringing World.'

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ROUND CHURCHES

Dear Sir,—Having had a lifelong connection with the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, Northampton, I was naturally interested in the paragraphs appearing in the Belfry Gossip column of 'The Ringing World' dated July 22nd and 29th respectively, anent the number of round churches remaining in this country.

Your first correspondent gave it as three, while Mr. John Sharman says four, presumably forgetting that the Temple Church in London was practically destroyed during the late war. That being so, it would be true to say there are now three, viz., the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, Northampton, founded by Simon de Senlis, first Norman Earl of Northampton, A.D. 1100, the Church of St. Sepulchre, Cambridge, said to have been built by Pain Peverill and consecrated in 1101, and the Church of St. John of Jerusalem, Little Maplestead, late 12th century.

W. H. ASHBY, Churchwarden,
Church of the Holy Sepulchre, Northampton.

ST. CHAD'S, SHREWSBURY

Dear Sir,—Probably I am not the first to write on the subject of round churches, but if Mr. John Sharman's list is correct in the four he gives, the total must be raised to five to include St. Chad's, Shrewsbury.

I thought it was well enough known by reason of its fine ring of twelve, but I admit the band does not distinguish itself these days as regards peals.

However, we ring twice every Sunday, Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Grandsire Cinques sometimes.—Yours sincerely,

W. A. FARMER.

MARKET WEIGHTON BELLS

Dear Sir,—The following account of the cost of restoring a ring of bells 165 years ago and the cost to-day is interesting. Market Weighton Church bells, a badly toned ring of six, with a 9½ cwt. tenor, were cast by G. Dalton, of York, in 1783, and the following is taken from old records:—

'On the 28th of Jan., 1783, a Parish meeting resolved to exchange the 3 old bells, valued at £117, for 6 new ones to cost about £206, exclusive of hanging. The sum actually paid for the bells was £92 4s. 0½d., being only a little more than the estimated difference between the value of the old bells and the cost of the new. William Clarkson and James Hopwood were paid £34 for making the bell frames and T. Gardom £1 10s. 6d. for ropes, and the carriage from York (20 miles) was £1 10s.'

As soon as a faculty can be obtained these bells are to be recast by J. Taylor and Co. and rehung in a new metal frame for eight bells at a cost of approximately £1,000, for which we now have about £800. The two other bells to complete the octave will cost a further £250, but will most likely have to be added at some future time. Any contribution towards the cost will be thankfully acknowledged by Yours faithfully, JOHN W. KNEESHAW.

Londesborough Road, Market Weighton, Yorks.

MANY THANKS TO ALL!

Mr. Geo. W. TEMBEY, Cleator, Cumberland.

Many thanks to all those, both past and present, who have helped in any way to make the 2,000th issue possible. I have enjoyed reading it for many years and would be one of its early subscribers. I used to take 'The Bell News' before that. I was introduced to 'The Ringing World' by the late Mr. Harry Chapman, who used to visit this part of the country and came into our tower (Egremont St. Mary's) on one occasion.

FOUR-BELL RINGING

Dear Sir,—I read with great interest the letter written by Mr. E. C. Shepherd, but being rather a novice in matters of composition and proof, I am confining my remarks to his last paragraph relating to the number of extents that are obtainable on four bells.

I have so far 'discovered' sixty different extents of Minimus; in addition to the eight extents each of Plain, Reverse and Double Bob and Plain, Reverse and Double Grandsire (obtained by treating each bell twice as the plain hunt bell, once leading right and once wrong), six extents are obtainable with 'Stedman' Minimus. This method is as follows:—

2134
1243
2143
2413
4213
4123
1423
4132
1432
1342 etc.

The reverse of the above method produces another six extents.

Thus it is possible to ring a quarter-peal of Minimus without repeating any extent, showing that even four-bell ringing is worthy of consideration.—Yours faithfully,

Bedford. J. M. STEPHENS.

Mr. L. J. Malings, of Rhoose, Glam., writes: I should be grateful if you could persuade Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd to publish some of the more unusual 24's for the benefit of we '4-bellers.' We rang 13 variations this evening, but would like a change.

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. Newman's letter in last week's issue, I would like to oppose his statement concerning the 'blue line' ringer. He said that ringing is often choppy and the bells to strike over cannot be found. But surely does not this apply to the ringer who does not follow the blue line? He notes where he meets the treble and so this tells him whether he is to miss his dodge or perhaps make places. This method is all right until a fault develops. The treble may be a bit slow or too quick in its position or the ringer may not see the treble coming down, and so he falters, not knowing what to do. Thus the striking becomes choppy.

If, however, the ringer knows what he is to do before he meets the treble or discovers his course bell, he can decide on the rhythm of his bell and let his bell drop with confidence knowing that he is to run through from back to front, and that he will meet the treble in 5-4.

Referring to a football team, how does Mr. Newman think they obtain that perfect rhythm? It is because they do not wait until the ball is passed to them before they run up the field, but they foresee such a move and so prepare for it by moving upfield.

It is a very unsafe policy to wait until the ringer passes the treble, and if only all ringers rang by the blue line, the standard of ringing from the point of view of striking and method ringing would greatly improve.—Yours faithfully, JOHN GOODALL.

North Finchley, N.12.

PEAL WITHDRAWN

Dear Sir,—The Grandsire Triples peal claimed to be rung at Marshfield, Gloucestershire, on November 6th, 1948, has proved to be a false effort, one part having been repeated. I therefore withdraw it from all peal records. —Yours faithfully, ARTHUR PRINCE.

LEWISHAM DISTRICT.

The ancient Parish Church of Cudham was visited by 50 ringers and friends on the occasion of the summer meeting of the Lewisham District. The light ring of ten was put to good use under the direction of Mr. F. A. Coley, Ringing Master.

Tea preceded the service, the Vicar (the Rev. R. C. P. Hunt) reading the office, acting as organist and giving an interesting address.

The business meeting followed, the Vicar presiding. Three practising members were elected and two non-resident life members' elections were ratified.

Support was promised for the combined meeting with the North-Western District of the Surrey Association arranged for October 1st at St. Peter's, Croydon. Crayford was chosen as the place for the annual district meeting.

Mr. I. Emery informed the members that reconstruction work was about to commence at SS. Peter and Paul's, Bromley. The good wishes of members were extended to Mr. H. Hoverd (Dartford), who is still ill.

Further ringing, in which welcome visitors from Bushey, Croydon and London took part, followed until 8.30 p.m.

RINGERS' OUTINGS

RODBOURNE CHENEY.

Rodbourne Cheney ringers and friends held their annual outing on August 6th and visited towers on the Berks-Oxon border. Cholsey was the first call, then on to Pangbourne, where the treble was undergoing repairs, so some Doubles methods were rung on the back five.

Over the river to Whitchurch for some very good ringing on this handy six, and back to Pangbourne, where an excellent tea was provided at the Cosy Cafe. Bradfield was made then through the lanes to Yattendon, a very pleasant and easy going six. A call was made at Newbury for refreshment, and a slight delay occurred here while 'the Bishop' did some visiting. Home was reached at 10.30 after another very good outing.

GUILDFORD AND GODALMING.

On August Bank Holiday, Miss Rosemary Brading, of Godalming, ran a very enjoyable coach trip to Southampton and Bournemouth, returning to Guildford and Godalming via Romsey. Owing to last minute disappointments the ringing company was considerably reduced, but in spite of this the available band rang at St. Mary's, Southampton; St. Peter's, Bournemouth; St. John's, Poole; and at Romsey Abbey.

The very musical ten at Southampton were particularly appreciated, and the band, feeling very doubtful of their capabilities, were considerably heartened to hear that a passer-by had commented on the beauty of the bells.

At St. Peter's, Bournemouth, the party were interested to read, on the notice board, a letter signed 'Christian Scientist,' complaining of 'those vile bells.' 'You have been cautioned before,' threatened Christian Scientist. '. . . you make no effort to stop it, people will have to take it into their own hands. . . .' The two lady ringers in the company hung on to their ropes in fear and trembling with visions of fire-eating revolutionaries bursting into the tower at any minute.

Two little boys greeted the band at Poole with joyous shouts, 'You the bellringers?' and then another incredulous enquiry of one of the ladies, 'Are you a bellringer?' One of them went on, 'Our captain's going to learn us.' Agreeing silently that this seemed more than likely, we ascended with them to the ringing room. Half-way through the ringing the captain disappeared and did not come back until we were about to ring down. He announced that the two boys had dropped the catch of the door so that he locked himself out—and we gathered that the boys' education had already begun!

The day's ringing closed with a visit to Romsey Abbey, where the perilous ascent struck awe into the hearts of the more timorous. As most ringers will know, the broad stairs at the beginning of the climb are no true prophet of what comes after, and at least one of the party expressed a fear of 'getting stuck halfway.'

On the homeward journey everyone agreed that it had, in spite of difficulties, been a very good day, and as the evening shadows fell romance bloomed on the back seat of the bus, and all the ringers confidently prophesied a new recruit to the ranks ere long.

RAINHAM, KENT.

St. Margaret's ringers, joined by others from Sittingbourne and Chatham, held their annual outing on July 23rd. Lewisham (St. Mary's) was the first call, then to Wimbledon, and Ewell, with lunch at the last-named place.

St. Martin's, Dorking, was the first objective in the afternoon, with its fine ring of eight, and all too soon a move was made to Westerham for tea. After tea the lovely eight of St. Mary's were set going in a variety of methods. Ightham was the last stop of the day with its light six. There was a final stop at the Walnut Tree for light refreshments, the highlight being the handbell specialist of the party on the roadside competing with an accordion band inside.

SOUTH NORFOLK.

On July 16th, 32 ringers and friends from Redenhall, Saxlingham, Diss and Pulham left Diss at 7 a.m. for a tour of Lincolnshire. Sutterton (8 bells) was the first call, then on to Boston, and after ringing on the ten bells an excellent lunch was served. Surfleet (12) and Pinchbeck (8) were visited.

On arrival at Spalding a meat tea was served, after which votes of thanks were passed to Mr. Cyril Barber, of Redenhall, who organised the outing, and to Mr. Cecil Thompson, who acted as guide. Ringing followed at the Parish Church. The last call was at King's Lynn on the heavy ring of ten at St. Margaret's. Diss was reached at 11.15 p.m. after a most enjoyable day.

Methods rung included Superlative, Double Norwich, Kent Major, Kent Royal, Plain Bob Major and Royal, Oxford Major and Stedman Triples. A. G. H.

GRAPPENHALL.

The annual trip of members and friends took place on July 23rd, when a tour of North Wales was made by coach. Leaving Runcorn at 8.30 a.m. to pick up en route rural members, the first stop was Farndon, where the ringing programme was opened. The following churches were visited during the tour—Wrexham, Abergele, Bodelwyddan and Bucklev. Dinner was taken at Llangollen, refreshments at Swallow Falls and tea at Abergele. The weather was ideal and one could go from bus to belfry ready for ringing.

The arrangements were made by Mr. Cecil Raddon, of Stockton Heath, who has always taken a keen interest in these annual events. A vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. Randles, of Frodsham, seconded by Mr. Allman, of Runcorn. Mr. Raddon, accepting the many thanks, replied it was a pleasure to him to know he was doing a little to further the interest in visiting towers the average bellringer would never normally meet.

ALL SAINTS', ISLEWORTH.

Members and friends of the All Saints', Isleworth, band set out on July 16th for their annual outing. The round trip covered some 130 miles and seven towers were visited.

The first call was at Rickmansworth, where the ten at St. Mary's responded to Stedman Caters. The grand ring at St. Mary's, Watford, was next visited. The ringing here was somewhat curtailed on account of a wedding, although several members would probably have been content to stay here and ring for hours. So on to St. Albans, where the first touch, Stedman Cinques on the Abbey bells, seemed to suffer from the effects of the long climb, apart from the fact that the band were not accustomed to playing 'hide and seek' with the back bells round the oak beams. Kent Treble Bob Maximus was more satisfactory, and Cambridge Royal was also rung well.

After lunch there followed a visit to the ten at St. Peter's—the result of an unexpected but greatly appreciated invitation. A wedding had been arranged here too, and the band rang for the arrival of the bride. Due to an oversight, the ceremony must have been nearly over before the signal to stop ringing was received! Broxbourne (8) was the next tower on the list, and after a variety of methods the party adjourned to the Bull Hotel for the tea.

After tea Bishop's Stortford and Saffron Walden were visited. Thanks are due to Mr. H. W. Rogers for arranging the outing, which was a great success.

MELKSHAM, WILTS.—On Aug. 7th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: S. R. Cockell 1, A. W. Angel 2, Ruby Gibbons 3, Mary Kennelly 4, A. J. West 5, H. Proutt 6, W. C. West (cond.) 7, C. Gibbons 8. An 85th birthday compliment to Mr. R. H. Legg, a ringing member of the tower for 72 years.

OBITUARY

MR. A. T. C. OSBORNE.

The death occurred on August 5th of Mr. A. T. C. Osborne, of Norton-sub-Hamdon, Somerset, after a comparatively short illness. 'Archie,' as he was known to many ringers in the district, had been a ringer for 53 years and captain of the Norton tower for the last 31 years. He was not a peal ringer, having rung only two or three peals at his own church, but in a quiet way he did an enormous amount to foster and encourage an interest in change ringing. He will be greatly missed. The burial took place on Tuesday, August 9th, at the Parish Church.

In the evening 1,260 Grandsire Doubles was rung with half-muffled clappers as a last token of respect: E. Minchington 1, W. Warr 2, H. J. Gaylard 3, T. W. Osborne 4, J. W. Drew (conductor) 5, T. Sweet 6.

THE REV. A. M. BASHFORD.

The Middlesex Association had a firm friend in the Rev. A. M. Bashford, Vicar of St. John's, Hillingdon, since 1934, whose death on July 31st is deeply regretted. He was secretary of the London Diocesan Fund. A keen cricketer, he was a member of the M.C.C. and had played for Middlesex.

The annual joint meetings with the Oxford Diocesan Guild at Hillingdon were a source of delight to him, and he was an honorary member of the Middlesex Association.

He was fearless in his criticisms, but his sincerity was without question. He was a most kindly and generous man, and his influence will be much missed in Hillingdon, not least among his ringers.

After the funeral service in the church a touch of Grandsire Triples, with half-muffled clappers, was rung as the procession left for Golders Green Crematorium.

The churchwardens have agreed that the joint meeting at Hillingdon will take place as usual this year on Saturday, September 3rd. The Vicar of Bray, the Rev. E. C. S. Lowman, will take the service.

DEDICATION

BULKINGTON, NEAR NUNEATON.

The Right Rev. Bishop Heywood, Assistant Bishop of Coventry, dedicated two trebles to complete the octave and also a war memorial tablet at a service in St. James' Church, Bulkington, near Nuneaton, on Saturday, July 16th.

Members of the Coventry Diocesan Guild turned up in good numbers with visiting ringers and friends, all pronouncing the splice to be perfect. Mr. Paul L. Taylor represented the founders. Eight members of the local band rang rounds immediately after the dedication, while after the service good use was made of the bells, all tastes being catered for.

A buffet tea in the school was followed by the Guild's business meeting, presided over by the Vicar, the Rev. J. H. Dingley. It was decided to hold the October quarterly meeting at Monks Kirby. New members elected were A. Allen and A. Elson, of Wolvey, with the ratification of the election prior to peals of J. Bramley, G. Olliffe, A. Mould and D. Carlyle.

NORTH NORFOLK BRANCH.

The meeting at Mattishall on July 23rd was attended by 22 members from Attleborough, Caston, Norwich, Mulbarton, Hethersett, Reepham, Gressenhall, Watton, Wymondham, Camborne, Cornwall, and the local band.

At the business meeting the president (the Rev A. St. J. Heard) was in the chair in the absence of the chairman, the Rev. Blyth. Miss J. E. Goodman, of Mulbarton, and Mr. H. J. Larwood were elected new members.

The Rev. Heard thanked the Vicar for the use of the bells and conducting the service, also Mr. and Mrs. Moore for arranging tea. The members stood in silence in memory of Mr. Bracey. The next meeting will be held at Salle on Saturday, October 8th.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSN.

The North and East District meeting, supported by Messrs. A. W. and W. H. Coles, active vice-presidents, held at Stanmore on August 6th, was attended by nearly sixty ringers from near and far, including friends from Hampshire and Surrey. The occasion was arranged particularly to coincide as nearly as possible to the Stanmore tower's completed fifty years' membership of the Association and, incidentally, also to recognise a similar term of membership by Mr. George A. Hughes, whose presence was appreciated.

Another long term member of the Association and a local ringer, Mr. William J. Nudds, was also present, and the meeting was reminded of a record he took part in just 40 years ago—the long peal of Stedman Caters at Loughborough.

The meeting paid silent tribute to the memory of Messrs. E. B. Hartley and F. A. Smith, Bushey. Provisional elections of R. Bird (Croydon), L. H. Bywaters (Henlow) and J. L. Millhouse (Lincoln) were ratified.

In the tower much ringing was done in the time available, and a number of 'firsts' were recorded, particularly in Erin Triples, the chosen method for the day, and plain courses in a number of Surprise methods were also brought round. The short evensong service was conducted by the Rev. E. F. Carpenter, Rector, who, together with Mr. E. J. Leversuch, is to be thanked for ensuring the success of the meeting.

STOCKPORT BRANCH.

A meeting of the branch was held at Poynton on July 23rd, and some sixty members and friends took advantage of the fine weather to visit this delightful village. The six bells were in use from early in the afternoon until service in church, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. G. Winstanley, who in an interesting address made the members welcome at his church.

After tea the usual business meeting was held under the chairmanship of the branch chairman, Mr. Elkins, who expressed the members' pleasure at being able to visit Poynton, and welcomed an old friend of the branch, Mr. W. H. Shuker, of the Lancashire Association. It was reported that several people of Knutsford had voiced their appreciation of the standard of ringing during the meeting there. Mrs. Way, of Marple, was elected an honorary member, and David Robinson, also of Marple, a ringing member. It was decided that an additional meeting be held at Mottram, if permission could be obtained, on August 27th.

The meeting concluded with votes of thanks to the Vicar, wardens, local ringers, organist and all who had contributed to the success of the meeting. Further ringing was enjoyed until a late hour, ranging from rounds to Cambridge Surprise.

SIXTHS PLACE BOBS

By BRIAN D. PRICE.

IT is generally agreed that the place made in an even-bell method when the treble leads a whole pull is part of the method. Thus Cambridge and Primrose Surprise Major differ only by this place, it being 2nds in Cambridge and 8ths in Primrose. What is not so generally agreed is whether the bob is part of the method or not, and if so whether it should be determined by rule.

The general trend has been to move the normal place two positions so that only three bells become affected by the bob. Thus the 8ths place in Double Norwich is moved to 6ths, while the 2nds place in Cambridge is moved to 4ths. The only traditional exception to this rule is in methods like Bristol and Kent, in which a wholesale alteration produces a 'lengthening lead.' This is generally done only where the first lead-head of the course is 14263857 in Major, 1426385097 in Royal, etc. In these cases a 4ths place bob is used, and with the exception of the Before (which leaves the two tenors unaffected), all the normally used calling places alter the work of the tenors so that they repeat the work just done in the last lead. The result is a desirable repetition of musical combinations. This is in contrast to the more widely used procedure of moving the 'plain place' two positions. Calling positions normally used in these cases leave the tenors unaffected, with the exception of one position which retards the work of the two tenors without parting them—the Before in Plain Bob, the bob at 5 in Double Norwich.

Thus the use of the 4ths place bob in Double Norwich, or the 6ths place bob in Cambridge to a large extent runs against tradition. There are two questions to answer: 'Is one altering the method?' and 'What is the justification for altering the normal bob?'

Opinion seems divided on the first issue. The crux of the matter seems to me to be whether the Central Council decide to define a bob clearly according to the traditional use, or whether the deviation from the method be left to choice, as long as only one deviation be used in any peal (ignoring singles).

The justification for a different bob would lie in the production of touches or peals with special properties. To quote an example, Cambridge Major with 6ths place bobs opens up a field of composition not available with the normal bob; 6,400 changes become possible, a three-part peal with 56 home at the part-ends exists; one can compose a quarter-peal of 1,248 changes with only 4 and 6 in 6ths; one can even ring 2,048 changes in one course if one wanted to! Does the extra scope justify the new departure?

If only to provide a basis for argument, I suggest the following definition for calls: 'A bob is the deviation from a method or principle whereby a place normally rung is moved an even number of positions. If it gives enough scope for composition, this must take place at a 'turning place' in the method or principle (i.e., the place moved must be a pivot place). A single must take effect at the same position as the bob, and introduce at least two extra places. Only one sort of each call may be used in any one peal.'

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The story of the Yorkshire tour of Mr. Frank Knight's party will appear in our next week's issue, together with an illustration. Ten peals were rung.

Sunday afternoon ringing at Winchester Cathedral will not be resumed until September 11th.

To 'Curious' and others. Letters cannot be inserted in 'The Ringing World' without the name and address of the sender sent to the Editor.

The peal of Glasgow Surprise at Willesden on August 11th was rung with 4ths place bobs, an old composition of Superlative by Sir A. P. Heywood in a slightly altered form being used.

The Universities Association's week at Exeter was most enjoyable. The company were kept busy from early morning until late evening every day. Readers are promised an account of the activities.

An interesting quarter was that at Hinckley on August 7th for the 82nd birthday of Mr. G. Thompson, who has rung regularly at this church for over 60 years. Ringing with him was Mr. W. Wills, of Leicester. The last time the two rang a quarter together was 1892.

The quarter-peals at Turramurra recorded in this issue will be of special interest to Messrs. Alan Pink (Oxford), A. Williams (Kent) and T. Connick (Bath), who while serving with the Forces rang on the lovely six here installed by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. in 1941.

St. Martin's-in-the-Fields Society had their annual outing on Saturday. A peal attempt at Trowbridge, Wilts, came to grief after two starts. Sunday was spent at Bath, the event being most enjoyable. One lady member was disturbed after retiring for the night by a mysterious telephone call from London. Apparently someone could not rest until he knew the result of the peal.

This year Mr. W. C. Parker, in his 84th year, will complete 50 years' service as steeplekeeper at St. Peter's, Staines; a service of devotion and care given in a spirit of love to this tower and bells, as all can testify who have visited and rung at this tower. All ringers will wish him many happy returns.

It is announced that the repairs to St. Bene't's tower, Cambridge, are now complete, and that with the aid of the Pilgrim Trust, a number of colleges in the university and many friends, the sum required for the work has been raised by the Vicar and churchwardens. As our readers mostly know, St. Bene't's is revered by all ringers on account of its association with Fabian Stedman.

From 'The Bell News,' August 24th, 1889: 'Crayford, Kent.—The Kent County Association. On Saturday, Aug. 17th, 1889, in 2 hours 47 minutes, a peal of Stedman Triples. 5,040 changes (Brook's Variation): Challis F. Winney treble, George Conyard 2, Edward E. Richards 3, Richard French 4, William Weatherstone 5, Edwin Barnett, sen. 6, Frederick G. Newman (conductor) 7, Henry Gibbs tenor. This is the first peal of Stedman Triples by the above Association and by Messrs. Conyard, Richards and Barnett, also the tenorman's first peal.'

Mr. Gibbs, now almost, if not quite, an octogenarian, is the last survivor of that band. He lives at Brede, Sussex, where he still works as a gardener and usually revisits Crayford once a year. On this occasion he took part in a quarter-peal of Stedman in honour of the 60th anniversary of the above peal. This was rung on Aug. 14th by E. Barnett 1, H. Gibbs 2, Mrs. F. I. Hairs 3, H. E. Audsley (conductor) 4, B. D. Threlfall 5, J. W. Eden 6, F. I. Hairs 7, W. E. Bond 8. A peal attempted on August 17th, the actual anniversary, like one arranged ten years previously, came to an untimely end after 100 minutes.

CYCLING AND RINGING IN FOUR COUNTIES

Society of Roving Ringers' 1949 Tour

THE Society's third annual tour took place this year during the first two weeks in August in Somerset, Gloucestershire, Wiltshire and Worcestershire. About 20 stalwart youths and three ladies from St. Albans, Reading, Axminster, Bournemouth, Welling, Guildford, Godalming, Newbury, Leicester, Hertford, Wrington, Bath and London (plus one 'granddad' aged 27!) took part under the capable leadership of Mark White. Unfortunately, due to the exigencies of Army service, the Master, Roger Fry, was only able to be with the party for a short time, but all were glad to have him with them for the first day or two.

Proceedings began on Saturday, July 30th, when the main party gathered outside Bath's lovely Abbey Church. The heavy ring of ten was soon rolling out Cambridge Royal, giving the heavy bell experts a chance to show their mettle on the 'back end' (!) before the run out to Batheaston Youth Hostel for a welcome supper and equally welcome bed.

On Sunday, the 15 miles to Bristol were traversed in pouring rain (which did not, however, succeed in quenching the high spirits of the party), and by 10.30 the bells of St. Stephen's were going to Cambridge and Plain Bob Royal and Stedman Caters before morning service. In the afternoon a visit was paid to the heavy going eight at St. Thomas', where the tenor (29 cwt.) proved almost unringable until a large supply of oil was poured into the bearings.

In the evening the Society had the privilege of ringing some good Stedman Cinques and Cambridge Royal on the glorious 12 at St. Mary Redcliffe before the run back to Batheaston.

A WET BANK HOLIDAY.

A wet Bank Holiday saw the Society at St. Michael's, Bath, bright and early, followed by a delightful little Taylor eight (tenor 9¾ cwt.) at Corston. An unfortunate accident to one of our members (his cycle chain broke) necessitated a hasty dash around to borrow a cycle for him, but everything was arranged satisfactorily. At Corston 'Au revoir' was said to Roger Fry, who had to return at the call of duty unfortunately. After a very fine lunch at the home of one of the party at Marksbury came the grand old eight at Chew Magna and the six at Winford before a hilly six-mile run to Burrington with its glorious Combe which inspired the hymn, 'Rock of Ages.' The half-hour's walk up the Combe to the Youth Hostel in pouring rain and high wind inspired some members with slightly less poetical sentiments!

The following day, with slightly better weather, came the run through Cheddar, with its heavy going eight, to Wedmore, a lovely church and fine heavy eight (tenor 30¼ cwt.). Here, after a slight 'contretemps' due to a jammed chiming hammer on the tenor, a course of Superlative and touches of Double Norwich and Plain Bob were rung. The 'piece de resistance' of the week came next, the grand heavy ten at Wells Cathedral, the heaviest ten in the country. Grandsire and Stedman Caters and Plain Bob Royal were soon rolling out across the Mendips before a three-mile climb uphill to Croscombe Y.H.

Thursday saw two peal attempts, one of Double Norwich on the glorious eight at Chewton Mendip, the other of Plain Bob on the heavy going octave at Blagdon. Both attempts were unfortunately unsuccessful, but all praise is due to the 'heavy-enders' in the Blagdon attempt! Even then the keen tower snatchers were not satisfied, but had a ring on the six at Burrington in the evening.

'SPIRITUAL HOME'

Friday took the Society to our 'spiritual home' at Wrington, where Bill Kingcott had everything in readiness. Cambridge and Yorkshire Royal and Double Norwich Major were struck well on this glorious ten before proceeding to Congresbury with its hefty octave, tenor 35 cwt. The two eights at Banwell and Winscombe were also utilised during the day. The week-end saw the departure of some of the members, much to general regret, and the arrival of sundry others. Barrow Gurney, Wraxall and Keynsham (all octaves) were used to the full, but at Long Ashton, as the three heavy bell experts were raising the tenor (31 cwt.) the rope parted above the sally, laying them flat on the floor, and that was that!

After ringing for service at Marshfield (Glos.) on Sunday morning, the majority of the party attended service and received a public welcome from the Vicar. An eight-mile ride through the rain brought the Society to Chippenham for lunch and ringing at St. Paul's, before the eleven-mile run to Malmesbury, where Grandsire, Stedman and Erin Doubles were rung on the five (tenor 14 cwt.) in the Abbey Campanile, and then on to Ashton Keynes Hostel.

TWELVE-BELL TOWER EACH DAY.

The second week passed all too quickly. A twelve-bell tower each day was on the programme and the week began with Stedman Cinques on the oldest twelve in the country, at Cirencester. The fine Taylor octave at Watermoor was much admired before the run to Cheltenham, with a call at Rendcomb en route. One member of the party will remember Rendcomb—he left his camera in the church and had an additional six-mile run to fetch it! The eight at Charlton Kings were in the last tower of the day before climbing Cleeve Hill to a welcome supper.

Bright and early on Tuesday, the twelve at Cheltenham were going to some excellent Stedman Cinques before two further peal attempts—one band attempted Cambridge at Prestbury, which inexplicably came to grief after an hour, the other (second eleven!) rang a peal of Bob Major at Hinton-on-the-Green, where all were pleased to meet Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas. Congratulations to the band and the young conductor and composer! After the inevitable tea and cakes in Evesham, Norton, a recently augmented eight, was the last tower of the day.

The detached campanile at Evesham was visited the following morning, and the music of Cambridge and Yorkshire Royal on this fine old ten brought a lady reporter from the local paper to the tower—she was given full details of the tour. Then came a 15-mile run to Worcester (during which some members 'cheated' by scrounging a lift on a lorry!). Ringing on the ten at All Saints' and lunch was followed by the long climb up the Cathedral tower to ring the glorious twelve (tenor 49¼ cwt.) by Taylor. The striking here was excellent to Stedman Cinques and Cambridge Royal and Major on the back eight (hats off to the tenormen!), but Grandsire Cinques wouldn't go! The day ended with a run to the fine Taylor octave at Malvern Link and the Malvern Y.H.

A visit to Malvern Priory opened Thursday's proceedings, where, after some delay in obtaining the tower key, Stedman and Cambridge were rung on the good eight, hung in an extraordinary type of frame. The 'awkward squad' were glad of a downhill run to Upton-on-Severn for lunch, and touches of Stedman (one by College Youths and supporters!), Double Norwich, London and Erin Triples. Group Captain Lister met the Society at Tewkesbury Abbey with its light twelve tucked in one corner of an enormous Norman tower. Stedman and Grandsire Cinques were rung, but again Cambridge Twelve wouldn't go. On the way back to the hostel a call was made at Ashchurch, where methods up to Cambridge Minor were rung.

AT GLOUCESTER.

The final day began with a nine-mile run to the ancient city of Gloucester (with the invariable halt, this time at a much recommended wayside cafe en route, for 'elevenses' at 9.45 a.m.!). We were welcomed by the Vicar at St. Mary de Crypt with its Rudhall eight (the famous foundry was in this parish), and Cambridge, London and Double Norwich were rung here before a visit to the near suburb of Barnwood, with a grand little eight (tenor 12 cwt.). Lunch and a visit to the Cathedral followed, though no ringing was possible as the bells were under repair.

The six miles to Painswick with its famous twelve were found to be very hilly, but the bells were worth it and the Stedman Cinques were worthy of the bells. And so down the hill to the last tower, the fine ten at Stroud, where ringing ended with a very musical touch of Stedman Caters, called by a well-known exponent of the method.

So the tour came to an end and members of the party with mutual regrets set off on their homeward journey. All agreed that the tour had been the 'best ever,' thanks entirely to the untiring efforts of Mark White and Bill Kingcott in making the necessary arrangements. Thanks are also due to the clergy for allowing the use of their bells, and to Mr. Rouse, of Cheltenham.

From a ringing point of view, too, the tour was highly successful. One young member, George Evenden, from Bournemouth, successfully called his own composition of Bob Major, several rang their first touches in advanced methods and on higher numbers of bells, and several their first touches on handbells. Methods rung during the fortnight ranged from Reverse Canterbury Doubles up to the four standard Surprise Major methods, plus Yorkshire, Stedman and Grandsire Caters, Cambridge and Yorkshire Royal, Stedman Cinques, Grandsire Cinques and attempts for Cambridge Maximus. Roll on next year!

DEDICATION

BURWASH, SUSSEX.

Burwash's war memorial to local men who died during the war, a ring of eight bells in St. Bartholomew's Church, was dedicated by the Bishop of Chichester (Dr. G. K. A. Bell) on August 7th in the presence of a large congregation.

Six of the bells were being rededicated after being recast; the other two were given by Mr. C. W. Parish in memory of his airman son and the 14 men of Burwash who gave their lives.

In his address, the Bishop described the bells as a means of calling people to church. Inscribed with the names of local men who fell in the recent war, they would be a lasting memorial.

After the dedication, Mrs. Parish held an 'at home' at the Institute, when Mr. Williams played back a recording of the service.

A new team of bellringers, at present being trained by Mr. F. Lambert, gave a creditable performance on handbells.

OBITUARY

MR. W. DABORN.

A ringer at Horsell Parish Church, Woking, for 51 years and captain of the local company for the past 11 years, Mr. William Daborn, died on August 11th, aged 69.

The funeral service took place in the Parish Church on August 15th, being conducted by the Rev. M. R. Newman. Representing the tower were Messrs. A. Charman, F. Uwins, C. Spiers and W. Sanders. In the evening 1,260 Plain Bob Doubles, half-muffled, was rung by A. Charman 1, T. Sibbick (first quarter) 2, R. Collins 3, G. Oliver 4, D. Sleet (cond.) 5, E. R. Warner 6.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

6,400 CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE

Dear Sir,—The 6,400 Cambridge Surprise Major published in a recent issue is the reverse of a composition I obtained in September, 1928, and which had a small circulation in the West Riding of Yorkshire at that time.

In this form its relationship to Middleton's is more readily seen. An alternative treatment of the 'reversed pair' course ends gives a 5,760, whilst from the original a 5,024 and a 5,184 are obtainable. The 5,024 was arranged early this year by Mr. C. W. Roberts and myself jointly. Using an alternative set of courses, a three-part is obtainable with 6ths place bobs, but is hardly worth ringing, as it contains only 18 course ends because of shunting effect by bobs at I and 5ths. — Yours sincerely,

G. W. SLACK.

DON'T BLAME THE RINGERS

Dear Sir,—Ringers who like to have and hear things done properly will have been somewhat shaken by the rather unfortunate close of the ringing preceding the morning service broadcast from Milton Regis on Sunday last.

Being personally interested, I may say that I also was shaken upon being told what had happened. It should have been obvious, of course, to those listening in that something had gone wrong; it had, but it was not the fault of the ringers.

A B.B.C. official was posted in the ringing chamber at a vantage point to give the ringers a signal when they came 'off the air.' The signal was duly given by a wave of the hand and 'It's all over.' Thereupon, in accordance with instructions previously given, the bells were set up as quickly as possible. Obviously the 'off the air' signal was given too early, for which the blame must rest with the B.B.C. official directing operations. G. H. SPICE.

MR. CHARLES WILLSHIRE'S CONTRIBUTION TO START OF 'R.W.'

Dear Sir,—In celebrating the 2,000th number of 'The Ringing World,' I can recall the initial talks that led to its establishment, and as it may not fall within my province at a later date to record a personal interest in its history, I should like to pay tribute to one whose influence has not been recognised or probably even suspected.

At that time I was lodging with Mr. Charles Willshire, a ringer at Holy Trinity Church, Guildford, who with each issue of 'Bell News' engaged in a crescendo of protest against the failings of that journal. His appeal to me, a newspaper man, was to start a paper that would do justice to the ringing fraternity. The costs of such a journal were estimated, but finding an editor was a greater difficulty.

At that time Mr. Goldsmith had been calling on Mr. Willshire at his residence on Thursday evenings for handbell practice. He, too, was pursued by our host. After several discussions it was decided that I should lay the scheme of a proposed new bellringers' paper before a publisher of several national and well-known magazines with whom I had had close association, but the outcome of the approach was a confirmation of what had been foreseen, i.e., the revenue would probably cover costs of production and leave a little for an editor-proprietor, but would be insufficient to support a separate financial interest.

After this Mr. Willshire's persuasive powers were used to impress Mr. Goldsmith that such a journal would not meet with competition from any of the large publishing houses, and with this conviction he sought the advice of other and distant friends, and won their support in the venture.

But to Charles Willshire, who later went to reside in Canada with his family, I would like to pay great admiration for the faith he placed in his fellow-ringers. H. T. M.

Dear Sir,—I beg to diagree with Mr. A. L. Shepherd in your issue of August 12th. Although he quotes boxing and tug-of-war, in my opinion it must be correct for a right-handed person to hold the tail end in the left hand, leaving the right free to catch the sally and vice versa for left-handers.

57, Mornington Avenue, Ipswich.

LEFT-HANDED WITHOUT A HAND!

Dear Sir,—Holding the rope end in the left or right hand seems to be a very common argument with ringers. When this question is raised I always ask the following question: Can a man without a left hand be left-handed?

Seventy-one years ago my father had the misfortune to lose his left hand. When he took up ringing a few years later he learned to handle a bell by hooking his left elbow through the rope end loop and doing all the controlling with his right hand above his left elbow. Anyone visiting Eccleston tower will see him still ringing a bell in this manner at the age of 81.

I always hold the rope end in my left hand, also when using a brush or shovel my left hand is at the top, leaving my right to do all the controlling and lifting. Perhaps being taught all these things by a man who had no left hand has made me left-handed or right-handed. I have never found out which.—Yours faithfully, S. JONES, jun.

Australian Wants Pen Friend

INTERESTS, MUSIC AND BELLRINGING.

The following letter written to the International Friendship League Correspondence Bureau has been forwarded to 'The Ringing World.' The Exercise should be able to find the pen friend Mr. Philip L. Cooper, 26, North Street, Collinswood, Adelaide, Australia, requires:—

Dear Sir,—Having recently read in the Adelaide University's paper that your bureau wishes to find Australian correspondents, I am writing to you as I would very much like to have an English pen friend.

I am 18 years old and a science student at the Adelaide University. I am mainly interested in mathematics, in which I hope to do an honours degree eventually.

My main outside interests are music and bellringing. I spent two years at the Adelaide Conservatorium studying the piano and organ. For three years I was a choirboy at St. Peter's Anglican Cathedral. Now that my choir days are over I am a bellringer. This has now become my main interest. Our bells are a ring of eight cast by John Taylor in 1946, with a tenor of 41 cwt. They were consecrated on St. Peter's Day, 1947.

I would therefore like very much to have a pen friend who is a change ringer, and who would be prepared to teach me some change ringing theory from time to time. I would especially like to have a pen friend (a ringer) who intends to visit Australia in the future, either as a migrant or tourist.

Musically, I am mostly interested in organ, orchestral and choral music. My favourite composer is Bach, but I like most classical music whoever wrote it. My mother plays the piano and violin, as does my sister, so that we are quite a musical family.

A bellringer friend and myself play concertos together. At present we are practising Grieg's A Minor, and Tschaikowsky's D Flat concertos on two pianos. I do the accompanying, not the solo work.

At the present time our tower is struggling over Plain Bob Doubles. Of course, this is nothing in England, but out here there are not the numbers of towers or ringers to enable really quick progress to be made. This is why I ask that my pen friend be one who hopes to come to Australia, because such a person could be of invaluable service to campanology over here. Surely some bellringer must be among the thousands of British migrants. They will be heartily welcomed if they come.

Hoping that I may become a suitable Australian pen friend to someone in England, I remain, yours faithfully, Philip L. Cooper.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

The Society's July meeting was held at Sherburn-in-Elmet on July 30th. This was the starting day of the Leeds holidays, but the members who were able to visit Sherburn enjoyed a good meeting, although the 'go' of the bells was not all one desired.

Ringing commenced at 3 p.m. and continued until 8 p.m., except for the tea and business meeting, which were held in the Church Room.

Mr. T. Hill (president) occupied the chair, and members were present from Armley, Bramley, Guiseley, Headingley (St. Chad's), Idle, Leeds Parish Church, Liversedge, Pudsey, Rothwell, Selby, Sherburn, Tadcaster and Woodlesford; also friends from Bawtry and Richmond (Yorks).

The vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and local company was proposed by Mr. H. S. Morley and seconded by Mr. W. Dixon. Mr. E. Bradley, in acknowledging the thanks, said he was pleased to see the Society at Sherburn and hoped their next visit would be soon.

RINGERS' OUTINGS

CHRIST CHURCH, CREWE.

The party on July 30th, which for the first time included wives and sweethearts, was accompanied by Mr. E. J. (Ted) Walker, St. Mary's, Dover, renewing his war-time associations with Crewe, and Mr. George Porter (Wistaston St. Mary's). At St. Giles' (R.C.) Church, Cheadle, we were met by Mr. Arthur Hall, leader of this lovely ring of eight. There is also a ring of six at St. Giles' (Anglican Church) across the road. After ringing, a good cup of tea and a handround were enjoyed. Mr. Hall accompanied the party onward. He said he was rather disappointed that more parties did not visit them, as they would all receive a cordial reception.

Then to beautiful Ashbourne, rightly named 'The Pride of the Peak.' Here the long draught had some of the ringers in difficulty, but with the beauty of the bells this was soon overcome to the wonderment and delight of the host of interested visitors.

Next came the Crooked Spire at Chesterfield, where the 'railwaymen' were reminded of their pioneer, George Stephenson, who viewed his railway from the spire. The bells are musical and a 'good go'; the tenor, probably 24½ cwt., like Ashbourne, is very much alive.

After dinner at Chesterfield, we journeyed on to another Derbyshire "tit-bit," Bakewell, a spire among the trees fully justifying Arthur Mee's description in his 'Derbyshire.' (Surely there is nothing nicer in England, leastways my father said not; he was a Derbyshire man and he should know.) The bells at Bakewell are quite worthy of the church and town and some good ringing was enjoyed. A sumptuous tea at the Royal Oak fortified the party for 'the heavies' at Youlgrave, where some amusement was caused, even to the experts who could not set the tenor, the clapper being on the wrong side. Mr. Toff and his colleague soon came to the rescue, after which some good ringing was enjoyed.

Unfortunately, rain came on when leaving Youlgrave, and at times almost blotted out the magnificent scenery to Buxton, over the Cat and Fiddle to Macclesfield, where the 'bearings' (human) were cooled down and oiled. W. F. S.

NAILSEA, SOMERSET.

Nailsea ringers are indebted to Mr. Jack Thomas for making arrangements for the towers and meals and to their foreman, Mr. E. J. Baker, for their outing on August 6th.

Usual Doubles methods were rung at Ashchurch three miles from Tewkesbury. After lunch at Tewkesbury amusement was caused at Twyning, where the first single in a touch of Stedman caused the clock to stop. It would not start again until the bells were lowered.

A novelty at Ripple, a mellow-toned six by John Rudhall, rehung by J. Taylor and Co. in 1922, was the wooden stairs to the belfry through the middle of the organ. After a farmhouse tea there was ringing at Bushley.

The return journey was enlivened by the permanent comedian complete with straw hat, umbrella and, last but least, a large jar of cider.

MARHAMCHURCH, CORNWALL.

Ringers of St. Marwenne's, Marhamchurch, accompanied by friends from Stratton, had their annual outing on August Bank Holiday.

Exbourne (6), Crediton (8) and Cadbury (6) were visited before lunch. Tiverton, with a ring of eight which is reputed to be the second best in the West, followed.

At Cullompton, where the fine ten was much appreciated, it was discovered the local inhabitants were warned of the approach of visiting ringers by an announcement in the Parish Church Magazine, which apologised to those living near the church for the frequent use of the bells. Broadclyst (8) and Exeter, St. Thomas' (8), were also visited.

RUSHMERE ST. ANDREW (IPSWICH).

The annual outing took the form of a tour of the Norfolk towers and Broads district. The party of 29, including 19 ringers from Rushmere, St. Matthew's and other Ipswich towers, left the garage in Ipswich at 7 a.m.

The route was via Henley, Debenham, Eye and Diss to Bunwell (6), the first stop for ringing. On the way from Diss a very heavy storm was encountered, but this soon stopped and little rain was encountered the rest of the day. At Mulbarton (6) while ringing took place the Vicar there had arranged for tea and home-made cakes. Needless to say, this was greatly appreciated by all.

Leaving for Horsham St. Faith (6), the driver kindly drove through the city of Norwich and round the Castle and the largest cattle market in England (it being market day). Horsham was reached with time for some to ring before dinner. Buxton was next stop, a good ring, but rather long draught of rope and heaviest six on trip (12½ cwt.). Then came Scottow (6), which were rehung by an Ipswich firm in steel frames with new treble added.

Tea was served at Wroxham and a trip was arranged for the non-ringers by motor launch on the Broads. The rest made use of the six bells a mile away. A short run brought the party to another well-known Broad at Ranworth. The bells, a ring of six cast in Ipswich and rehung in teak frames in 1936, were soon in use, after which the Vicar (an Ipswich man) showed all the interesting items of the church He told them he had 40,000 visitors to the church last year, and it was by collections from these he had got the bells and church so well restored.

A brief call was made at South Walsham (6), where there are two churches in one churchyard, but one has only half a tower standing. The long draught without guides caused some trouble. Among the ringers was one of 85 years and his son and grandson (14). Home was reached at 11.30 p.m., all agreeing it had been a most enjoyable day. Ringing consisted of Plain Bob, Double Court, Double Oxford, Oxford and Kent, St. Clement's Bob, Cambridge, Ipswich and Norfolk Surprise, and Plain, Grandsire, St. Simon's and Stedman Doubles. F. B.

ALL SAINTS', CHILVERS COTON.

Lovely weather again favoured the annual outing when four Shropshire towers were visited. The ten at Coalbrookdale were first on the list and on arrival were soon going to Stedman and Grandsire Caters, followed by Cambridge Royal. The design of the fine memorial stone to William Saunders was much admired. The grand situation of the tower made a great impression on the visitors and the time allotted here passed all too quickly.

The next tower was St. Chad's, Shrewsbury, with its magnificent twelve. Grandsire and Stedman Cinques were rung in masterly style with three leads of Bristol on the back eight to satisfy the heavy bell merchants. On again to Church Stretton, where the next item was lunch in the beautiful Carding Mill Valley. After an excellent meal the pleasing light eight were made good use of from Grandsire to London. A climb over the hills to enjoy the panorama of the Shropshire countryside was followed by tea.

Stokesay proved to be a musical ring of six, after which all aboard for Ludlow, where an hour was spent in various ways before leaving for home. Visitors included Messrs. A. Cattell and J. Bramley, Leicester, W. P. Whitehead, of Hinckley, and Miss Margaret Bailey, of Bulkington.

The thanks of the Society are expressed once more to all who gave their time to meet and extend a welcome at the towers and for making the necessary arrangements for permission to ring.

EAST GRINSTEAD GUILD.

On July 16th a visit was made to six Surrey towers. At Horley, the tricks of the two trebles, owing to the oscillations of the wooden tower, caused some trouble, but at Newdigate, another wooden tower, the light six ran well in methods up to Cambridge.

Round the foot of Leith Hill we went to Guildford, where ringing on the lovely octave in the red brick tower of Holy Trinity Church was over all too soon, the proceedings finishing with a good touch of Superlative, which word just about sums up this ring of bells.

The key of Merrow tower was found after a tour of the village, but this noisy six did not attract the crowd, so on we went to Leatherhead, where Mr. Marriner had everything ready, and all enjoyed this pleasant ten until tea time.

Bletchingley's rehung octave was set going at 7.20 p.m., 'and the lady will long remember that the treble has not always gone when one says so, while her husband will allow more time in future to catch his train to work.' C. A. B.

SPALDING, LINCS.

The fact that it rained all day detracted little from the pleasure of the annual outing, organised by Mr. J. T. Newington, for Spalding Parish Church ringers and friends from Deeping St. Nicholas, Moulton, Pinchbeck, Surfleet, Gosberton, Donnington and Billingborough.

A very full day included the privilege of ringing at Southwell Minster, where the eight grand bells are rung from a gallery round the inside of a massive tower, there being an 80ft. drop over the gallery railing to the nave below. From there to Mansfield, where the new bells made a great impression, to Chesterfield, where the more energetic ringers climbed up inside the crooked spire, and across lovely country vaguely seen through cloud and mist to ring at Bakewell, Darley Dale and Matlock, finishing there at 9 p.m. and arriving home 'rung out' at 12.30 a.m.! Many thanks to all who helped make the outing a success.

A BROMLEY GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Mounter, of Bromley, celebrated their golden wedding on August 15th. Mr. Mounter married Miss Mary Keirle at Pitney, Somerset, in 1899, and they lived for several years at Curry Rivell. It was at this tower that Mr. Mounter learned to ring.

On moving to Bromley some 30 years ago Mr. Mounter joined the company at the Parish Church and proved himself a good and faithful servant both in the tower and in the church he greatly loved. This lovely old building and its bells perished in an air raid in 1940. Work is shortly to be started on rebuilding, although it will probably be some years before the bells are installed.

On August 13th, Mr. Mounter took part in a commemorative peal at St. Mary's, Lewisham, a tower he has also been closely associated with. The treble ringer in this peal was Mr. Isaac Emery, leader of Bromley ringers, who has now completed the circle at Lewisham some 54 years after ringing his first peal there. Also in the peal was Mr. Jack Lyddiard, captain of Bromley Common ringers, who took part in a peal in celebration of Mr. Mounter's silver wedding.

Mr. Harry Warnett, now in his 88th year, and leader of Lewisham ringers for over half a century, listened to part of the peal and duly attended on Sunday morning to give his report on the ringing.

Readers will wish Mr. and Mrs. Mounter many more happy years together.

The Initiation

A LANCASHIRE BOY'S IMPRESSIONS.

What a grand day it was, far too good for a peal, and the beautiful May sunshine seemed to add weight to the non-ringer's criticisms. However, the good ringers present dismissed such commonsense, and, since chatting in the sunshine would not charm the neighbourhood, the band was induced to ascend the belfry stairs. The start was almost to time, which beside being a good sign, curtailed the period of nervous tension of this new recruit to voluntary imprisonment. It was worse than waiting to see the dentist, because here the victim adjusted his own rope!

The small areas of floor to be occupied were allotted, the postern was fastened, and the band was ready to ring. A short dose of rounds showed that somebody needed further rope adjustment, after which we were off in earnest. Any doubts about the ability of the band seemed unfounded, for the striking was grand. An excellent beat was achieved after a time and the work proceeded mechanically.

Such a condition allowed the mind to wander just as in any touch, though here the danger was countered by more determination and tenacity. The striking was responsible for more than one trip, setting off a chain of thought such as: 'What fine tapping now. That sounds like 6.8 behind. Very nice. Oh, where am I?' 'One more dodge, treble, then up to 7 in 6-7,' barked the conductor, correcting the wanderer.

The comically serious faces of the others of the band were diverting, though it was as well that my own face was not to be endured. The clock was right opposite, and the minutes dragged by. Two hours had passed, the arms were aching, the legs were stiff, and the eyes were feeling the strain, but that was only part of the game, which was soon forgotten as the mind was applied to this soothing principle.

How fascinating peal ringing is, once the beat has been established, and the mind settles down to trace the bell's path confidently. It is as though the band must reach its goal because of the momentum of the ringing. Yet each novice knows how fragile the system is, and recovers from a mistake with the heart in the mouth, and a deep blush of anxiety.

After three hours had passed, anticipation of a successful and glorious end was strong, increasing determination to avoid a last-minute slip. Thus it was very strange that the end was not recognised when it did come, and 'That's all' surprised me. However, the well-struck rounds which followed those words were proof, so it was impossible to conceal the smile of relief and satisfaction. There were handshakes all round after the bells fell silent, words of approval. 'Not bad,' from some of the veterans, an appreciated tea, then the journey home to tell the news while it was yet hot.

ST. PETER'S, DERBY

Dear Sir,—Reading the 'Journal of George Fox' recently, I came across an entry which may be of interest to ringers in the Midlands. After giving an account of a letter written to the 'Court at Derby,' he continues: 'Likewise to the ringers who used to ring the bells in the steeple-house, called St. Peter's, in Derby.' This entry appears under the year 1650.—Yours, etc.,

R. D. ST. JOHN SMITH.

Crawshawbooth Vicarage, Rossendale, Lancs.

CLERKENWELL, LONDON.—On Aug. 14th at St. James', 1,260 Stedman Triples: J. S. Hawkins 1, Miss M. Prockson 2, F. A. Barker 3, R. Charge 4, G. A. Parsons 5, W. Prockson 6, A. W. Coles (cond.) 7, J. Bennett 8.

CURRY RIVEL, SOMERSET. — On Aug. 17th, 1,344 Plain Bob Major: R. C. Beale (first of Major) 1, Miss M. Clarke 2, Mrs. E. S. Powell 3, R. Beale 4, R. Welch 5, J. W. Drew (cond.) 6, H. J. Gaylard 7, J. T. Locke 8.

Quarter Peals in Australia

This week we have received two quarter peals rung at Turramurra, Sydney Australia, for the N.S.W. Association.

On April 30th, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles (10 different callings): K. Stacey 1, J. Clark 2, J. Watts (cond.) 3, L. Butcher 4, W. Smith 5, J. Smith 6. A farewell to the conductor, who is leaving to take up an appointment in Fiji.

On July 29th, 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: K. Stacey 1, R. Ferris 2, J. Clark 3, G. Williamson 4, L. Butcher 5, W. Smith (cond.) 6. First of Minor on the bells and for all the band except the conductor.

Mr. W. Smith rang his previous quarter of Minor in Oxford in 1917 when a military student at St. John's College after taking part in campaigns in Gallipoli and France. In 1927 he rang in a peal at Long Clawson, Leicestershire, conducted by Mr. Ernest Morris.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION

On the occasion of its August meeting, the Preston Branch renewed its acquaintance, after a lapse of about 20 years, with the village and ringers of Chipping.

Chipping is one of Lancashire's prettier villages surrounded by beautiful country.

Of the three Timbrell brothers, probably the better known is Edwin, whose peal compositions are in considerable demand in Lancashire and elsewhere. Fred, the elder of the three, looking much younger than his 83 years, entertained those present by recounting some of his ringing outings, on foot, over many miles of the delightful local fell country.

Although the meeting was not very well attended, due, no doubt, to the infrequent bus service, and to the incidence of the Preston annual holiday, it was most enjoyable.

IMPRESSIONS OF THE YORKSHIRE TOUR

By R. H. DOVE.

ONE could not fail to be impressed by the vastness of Yorkshire with its miles of sweeping moorland, the great plain of York, the rugged grandeur of the northern hills and so forth, but the tour covered only a small part of the county. Accustomed both to the scenery and the bells, my own chief impression was the ineffectiveness of organised ringing, particularly in the North.

As the organiser of the tour, so far as the choice of routes and towers was concerned I could not fail to notice the enthusiasm with which every application I made was greeted. Out of forty applications to ring there were only two refusals—one because the bells are to be rehung and the other because steeplejacks are at work on the spire and all ringing has been stopped for six months. All too often, however, came the pathetic remark . . . 'Our bells are never rung,' or 'We have no ringers,' etc., and in some cases what ringers there are had never even heard of the Yorkshire Association, which ostensibly operates in the area.

The once flourishing Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association appears now to be moribund, with the result that apart from nominal membership of the County Association by isolated bands the area between the Cleveland Hills and Tees-side is, from the point of view of ringing, a sort of no man's land, and ringing in Yorkshire is the poorer for it.

The Eastern District, which was partially covered on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, has been more fortunate since the formation of the virile Beverley and District Society, which has done much to strengthen ringing in its area.

The position in North Yorkshire is tragic—in some cases there are enthusiastic bands struggling alone and unaided; in others there are beautiful bells rotting in idleness.

I realise that as a 'foreigner,' with only fifteen years' residential qualification, I shall be censured if for no other reason than my very audacity in criticising Yorkshire, but while I may have Yorkshire in mind in particular, the same thing probably applies to a greater or lesser degree in other large territorial associations. Personally I have long thought that the advancement of ringing depends upon smaller units in which combined practices and frequent meetings usually take precedence, rather than in large territorial associations, which tend to become more and more remote from individual towers and which all too often devote too much thought and energy to building up financial reserves against some future undefined contingency.

Yorkshire has its own peculiarities and its own special problems, some of them geographical: actually it is three and not one county, since the three Ridings are autonomous and have their own county councils and county towns. Also it contains five dioceses. Surely, on the face of it, this is too large an area to be covered by one association, and especially an Association divided only into four districts.

I see a distinct parallel between the Yorkshire and the old Midland Counties Association which I had the honour of serving as a district secretary in my youth. We vigorously opposed the breaking up of the old M.C.A. at the time, but now that it is an accomplished fact few will deny the advantages it has brought. I think a similar action in Yorkshire would do likewise. The problem of the 'depressed areas' (or should it be 'development areas'?) in Yorkshire is one which ought to be faced, and the sooner it is tackled the sooner will it be solved.

50 Years' Service in One Tower

On July 22nd, a ringer's gold medal was presented to Mr. John B. Hallifax to mark his 50 years as ringer in Fleet (Lincolnshire) tower.

Mr. Hallifax, who is 74, completed his 50 years in 1947, but it was only possible to obtain the medal this year.

One outstanding achievement is that his 50 years' ringing has been in the same tower. He is captain of the ringers and has held that office for many years, and has taught the art of ringing to clergy and laity, who are grateful to him for his fine tuition and unfailing courtesy. So keen a ringer is he that he has cycled as much as 30 miles to take part in a peal, and that in days when roads were bad, and snow made them worse, and cycle oil lamps were continually jolted out. Added to all this he is a churchwarden and devoted to the church of his youth. Truly a grand record.

BEVERLEY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

The Society held its August meeting at the Priory, Bridlington, 35 members attending with their wives and friends. Visitors from Darlington, Doncaster and London gave some valuable help in the tower.

After the ringing in the afternoon, Canon J. W. Lamb dedicated a peal board in the tower, recording a peal of Plain Bob by local ringers.

The service was held in the Priory, conducted by the Canon, who in his sermon asked the ringers to be watchful of their privileges in this country of ours known as the 'Land of Church Bells,' but where so much ignorance of the skill and art of change ringing existed. Handbells were rung during the singing of the 150th Psalm.

Tea, prepared by the local ringers and ladies, was held in the Church Institute, followed by the business meeting. Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar, the organist, the local ringers and their ladies for the use of the bells, organ and the arrangements made.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Worcester Cathedral bells, regarded by some as the finest 12 in the country, are to be silent for a season. Two pinnacles are badly eroded and other stonework also damaged by the ravages of time. Until the costly repairs are completed the Cathedral authorities have ordered the bells to be silent.

If Drake and Raleigh were with us to-day,
They would have to look to their laurels.
Their beards, no doubt, were bonny and gay,
But—Have you seen JACK WORRELL'S?
—'Eglwys Newydd.'

Congratulations to Mr. Harry G. Wayne, of the Leicester Guild, on his 100th peal.

Mr. A. Lennard Shepherd is the first Eastham, Cheshire, ringer to call a peal for over 50 years.

Not only did Mr. P. M. J. Gray and Miss J. Houldsworth ring an eve of wedding peal together, but a peal in honour of the event was rung at Manchester Cathedral.

An 'Hullo, twins' peal was rung at Darley Dale, Derbyshire. Mr. and Mrs. E. Paulson are the parents. Also ringing was Mr. Denis Scott, whose wife had presented him with a son.

After wrestling with Yorkshire tenors, Mr. A. Patrick Cannon writes that he is having a restful holiday at Bournemouth. He broke his rest, however, to ring Beaminster tenor to Double Norwich Court Bob Major.

While Redruth ringers were ringing on their outing at Upton, Devon, two sergeants of the R.A.E.C. entered the tower. The captain of the Redruth band, Mr. Percy Williams, asked if they were ringers. One said he was, and as he crossed the tower looked at one of the ringers and asked if his name was not also Williams. It turned out that these two, Sgt. Benfeild and Vivyan Williams, had met in Yorkshire in reversed circumstances some three years ago.

The golden wedding peal for Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Lidbetter at Acle was a family affair. Mr. Lidbetter participated, assisted by his two daughters, one of whom conducted. Has a daughter called a golden wedding peal before for her parents?

Mr. William Carnwell has now 'circled' Kingsley, Staffs (his home) tower.

Mrs. F. J. Marshallsay, of Bournemouth, rang her 50th peal this year on August 16th.

Isle of Wight ringers, with their customary hospitality to visitors, arranged two quarter-peals on August 21st at Newport and Ryde for Mr. F. Hodgson (Liversedge, Yorks) and Mr. Brett (Cuckfield).

Linslade, where a peal was recorded in our issue of August 12th, is in Bucks and not Bedfordshire, writes a correspondent. The peal, however, was rung for the Bedfordshire Association as stated.

Mr. Robert Warner, last of the famous family of bell founders, has died, leaving the bulk of his £20,145 estate to found a fellowship in metallurgical research as applied to bell foundry practice.

Twelve peals were scored during a Leicestershire tour between July 30th and August 5th. Eleven of the peals were rung for the Midland Counties Guild. Conducting was shared by Messrs. W. P. Whitehead, J. W. Frank Trotman, Ernest Morris, F. W. Grocott, A. Cattell and A. Mould.

To the list of School Campanological Societies must be added a very active one at the Henry Mellish Grammar School, Bulwell, Nottingham. It has ten members, six of whom are members of the Southwell Guild. Of the two leaders one has 20 peals to his credit. Tower ringing is done at different churches, and in practice for this handbell meetings are held twice a week at school.

EIGHT HUNDRED MILES IN YORKSHIRE

The Fourth 'Knight's Tour'

AS a change from East Kent, where three previous 'Knight's Tours' have been held, this year's tour was held in Yorkshire, with headquarters at Scarborough, from Aug. 6th to 13th.

The party, which finally numbered 28, was collected by Frank Knight, and the routes, ringing arrangements and towers were planned by Ronald Dove. The gathering was quite representative, including eight from Kent, six from Northants, four from Lancashire, two from Leeds, two from Salisbury, one each from Suffolk, Bedford, Norfolk, London and Surrey. Scarborough was reached by divers means, two enthusiasts 'hitch-hiking' from Kent.

COINCIDED WITH CARNIVAL.

The programme started well with a peal at Pickering, rather lumpy bells to ring, with tail end sallies, and, in addition to giving a good start to the tour, it gave a good finish to the local carnival. There is a struggling band here with no one to help them, and a band of tourists was made up to assist with the Sunday evening ringing. Five others scored the first quarter-peal on the bells at Wykeham, a musical Taylor five in a detached tower at the entrance to the churchyard, and others rang at St. Mary's, Scarborough, and at Bridlington Priory.

By next morning the last stragglers had joined the party, and the day started with an excellent peal of Double Norwich on the equally excellent bells at Norton juxta Malton, where two tenors were added about four years ago to complete the octave. While the peal was in progress two six-bell towers—Whitwell-on-the-Hill and Hovingham—were visited. Hovingham bells are apparently rung fairly often, but Whitwell had not been rung for about 20 years, and were assumed to be unringable However, the previous week an advance party from Leeds had repaired the tenor wheel and greased the bells, which went surprisingly well, but an unnecessarily bulky clock case obstructs the rope circle and causes the fifth rope to fall at an angle of 45 degrees! As a result of the tourists' visit interest has been aroused and the Vicar has asked to be put in touch with someone who could teach a band.

HELMSLEY: NO REDEEMING FEATURE.

The afternoon's attempt was at Helmsley, where there has been a ring of eight for 179 years, but there is no record of a peal on them. Helmsley bells have no redeeming feature—they are unmusical, the seventh is cracked, they are noisy both outside and inside, there is an accompaniment of rattling and banging of pulleys and shutes, and the clock pendulum case hangs in the middle of the circle. After weighing up the pros and cons, it was thought that as there had not been a peal on the bells for 179 years and probably wouldn't be another for a further 179 years unless there is some improvement in them, we might as well make the effort, and a surprisingly well-struck peal resulted.

After waiting to make sure that the peal band was in earnest, the others visited Kirby Moorside and Appleton-le-Moors—both six-bell towers, the latter bells being stayless! For the third time that day the party found ringing conditions obstructed by the clock—here for variety the weight casing is fixed in the centre of the ringing room — but sufficient boarding has been removed at about eye level to give the ringers a sight of those opposite, provided one doesn't bow the shoulders when ringing, in which case the ringer bobs out of sight! This adds interest to the proceedings, but despite the difficulty in handling very light bells (tenor 5¼ cwt.) with fairly long draught of rope, and the fear that too hard a pull would overturn one's bell, some respectable touches of Treble Bob and Cambridge Minor were brought round, and the bells raised and lowered without mishap. A call at Wykeham brought the day to a close.

GRANDEST EIGHT IN YORKSHIRE.

On Tuesday, the 'star turns' were to be a peal attempt at Bridlington in the morning and an hour's ringing on the lovely ten at St. Mary's, Beverley, in the evening. After a short pause to give the visitors a view of Bridlington Bay with Flamborough Head at the north and Spurn Head at the south, the first call was the Priory Church of Bridlington. The steeplekeeper was putting final touches to the bells, and soon this majestic eight, which the writer maintains to be the grandest eight in Yorkshire, were raised in peal. It had been intended to attempt Cambridge, but after a few leads there were 'second thoughts,' a brief pause and a second start—this time for Double Norwich. The local ringers have in recent years done much to improve the 'go' of these bells, but, even so, the tenor is a handful and came very near to proving Pat Cannon's 'Waterloo'! In fact, he said he could not recall a tenor requiring more ringing (King's Lynn included).

The second attempt of the day was Minor at Nunburnholme, a very good six in a remote village, but unfortunately instructions to oil the bells were not received until too late—the tenor ran dry and became unmanageable during the fifth 720. Passing through Driffield, we had picked up the local police sergeant (off duty), Sgt. Huddleston, through whose efforts Driffield bells are now being rung after 50 years. Our driver thereafter refused to 'step on it' for fear of possible reprisals, and we got behind schedule. The sergeant and the retired inspector from the 'Yard' were soon happily engaged in talking police lore, and had the party been on time at Pocklington theory could have been put into practice, since at that moment two runaway Borstal boys were engaged in rifling the Vicar's vestry. Fortunately the presence of the aforementioned authority gave our party sufficient respectability as to clear it of suspicion.

The delay here caused one tower—Market Weighton — to be missed, but as these are dismal bells which may soon be recast, nothing much was lost. Half an hour's ringing was allowed at Middleton-on-the-Wolds—here a crack in the tower is causing anxiety, and with a brief ring at Driffield, where the light ring of six is out of keeping with the majestic tower, a move was made for Beverley. Here the hour allowed was put to good use, and these magnificent bells were very respectably lowered in peal at the close.

NORTH YORKSHIRE MOORS.

From a scenic point of view, Wednesday was the high spot of the week, with the run across the Fylingdales Moors, unhappily still in use as a battle school, and littered with unexploded bombs, to Whitby and thence over the North Yorkshire moors to Guisborough. Finding a handy little six, permission was readily obtained for a peal attempt, which compensated for the previous day's disappointment. The eight bells at Ormesby are delightful in every respect and a good peal of Cambridge was scored on them, while the now depleted party rang at Skelton-in-Cleveland and Saltburn-by-the-Sea. Saltburn had been chosen for the afternoon peal attempt, Treble Bob, but the choice of tower proved unfortunate, and Skelton, which had been turned down in the mistaken belief that the ropes were poor, would, as it turned out, have been more suitable. Saltburn bells are very noisy in the tower, and with our depleted company and one of the peal band 'reporting sick,' it was difficult to find a band good enough for these bells.

The return journey was through Stokesley (six bells) and Carlton-in-Cleveland, where the visitors found a delightful eight, which are seldom rung, thence home over the moors via Helmsley.

[These notes have so far been written by Ronald Dove, thereafter the pen is taken up by Pat Cannon.]

On Thursday our guide, who was suffering from a rapidly worsening attack of fibrositis, and who had had to be assisted into the last two towers of the previous day, when he gave us an unintentional but realistic impression of an ancient ringer bowed with infirmity, had to return home to his own disappointment and to the regret of the company.

CHIEF PRIZE LOST.

This was the heavy day of the week, and Ronald's departure proved a bad omen. The chief prize of the week—Grandsire Caters at Beverley Minster—was lost after 2¼ hours' good ringing through a missed bob, but the band should never have let the conductor miss it, as it was the 2nd bob of '8th in and one,' which had been called regularly throughout the composition. The band had been strengthened by Mr. Fred Seager, of Leeds, ringing the 9th, and Frank Knight certainly appreciated that ringing the tenor to a peal at the Minster is an exceptional performance. He is looking forward to finishing the job at the next opportunity.

While the peal was in progress, three six-bell towers were visited. Kirk Ella, the heaviest six in the county, with a long draught, North Ferriby—the chimes presented some difficulty, and it was the writer's 1,200th tower—and Hessle, where Mr. A. H. Fox, vice-president of the Eastern District, met the party, were all enjoyed for short touches of Minor. After lunch, eight of the party left the coach at Hull and had a short ring at St. Mary's, Lowgate, before meeting Messrs. John E. Turley (Sheffield) and John G. Hobson (Hull) for the afternoon's attempt at Holy Trinity. Mr. Leonard Rodmell also met the party, and as we had eight of our own, kindly volunteered to stand out. This is one of the finest ringing chambers in the country, and with equally fine bells it was a disappointment to lose Treble Ten after 1½ hours through the inevitable trip, which should have been saved.

Meanwhile, the remainder of the party, after picking up the Beverley peal band, visited Cottingham (8), which they found very rough, and Sutton-on-Hull (6), where the farmer from Northants found, too late, that the tenor had no slider! After further ringing at Holy Trinity, Hull, in which Mr. G. F. Williams, the leading conductor in East Yorkshire, met the tourists, a pleasant drive home brought the unlucky day to an end.

DISTURBED BIRD'S NESTS.

The venue for Friday was Holderness, and after journeying through several by-ways, Rise (5, 9 cwt.) was reached at 9.15 a.m. The Vicar greeted the party, and the bells were raised for the first time for over 10 years, birds' nests being disturbed in the process. These are a nice-toned ring, but once again lack of ringers prevent them from being heard, and the village squire was contemplating putting in a chiming apparatus. One of the local ringers joined in for a pull, and it is hoped some interest has been stirred by our visit. The first peal attempt of the day was to be at Hedon, 'the Cathedral of Holderness,' and here a good peal of Double Norwich was scored on a really splendid ring of eight (tenor 17½ cwt.).

During the peal a visit was paid to Burstwick (six, 12 cwt.) and Roos (five, 13 cwt.); in each case a welcome was given by the Vicar. The afternoon peal attempt was at Patrington, another magnificent church. The dedication being St. Patrick, it was fitting that the two 'Patricks' should ring their first peal together. (Is this the first time two 'Pats' have rung a peal together?) Kent Treble Bob, with three 'firsts,' was scored, and Mr. George Newton rang well to prove he is still game for a peal. The Hedon peal band, with Mr. Leonard Rodmell, the local captain, rang a course of Superlative, and lowered the bells in peal. To get into the ringing chamber one has to go up a short spiral staircase, up the side of the transept roof, and then crawl on hands and feet in a squatting position along the length of the transept roof! But the bells are a fine light ring (tenor 10¼ cwt.) and worth the effort required to reach them.

The last call of the day was Withernsea, the most easterly tower in Yorkshire. Once again the Vicar met us and expressed pleasure at our visit. Both this tower and Burstwick resemble a typical flint East Anglian tower—unusual for this part of the country.

As this was the last day on which all the visitors would be together, the Rev. D. J. Roberts thanked Messrs. Frank Knight and Ronald Dove for their respective parts in a most enjoyable week, and presented Frank with a sum of money, and a request to George Newton to forward a similar sum to Ronald. Frank thanked the party, saying that the tours gave him great pleasure to arrange, and hoping that all were satisfied.

TWO PEALS ON LAST DAY.

The last day, Saturday, found a party depleted by eight early departures, just leaving a bare 18 for the two peal attempts. St. Mary's, Whitby, stands on a hill overlooking the town, next to the Abbey. The church has one of the most hideous interiors in the country, but the ten bells are quite pleasant and during the ringing it was difficult to imagine that they were very shortly being taken away for recasting. There must be many more deserving cases up and down the country! The remaining eight rang a good peal of Bob Major at Robin Hood's Bay, on a good going but somewhat noisy Gillett and Johnston octave. This brought the week's total 'bag' to ten peals out of 14 attempts, and visits to 37 towers in all. Before finally breaking up, Pat Cannon was presented with an appropriate toy and a ten shilling note, with thanks for arranging the peal bands to everyone's requirements.

And so, once more, a happy and instructive week came to a finish, and the writer would like to thank the visitors for good fellowship, and, on behalf of everyone, grateful thanks to Messrs. Knight and Dove for taking such trouble to organise such a splendid tour.

On the way home, Frank Knight and four of the Kent contingent received a warm welcome from Mr. Stedman Steele and the local band at York Minster, and rang Grandsire Caters and Bob Royal for morning service.

RINGERS' OUTINGS

ST. MARY-LE-TOWER, IPSWICH.

A varied programme, providing plenty of enjoyment, was arranged for the Society's annual outing on August 13th.

In the morning visits were paid to Great Tey (with its quaint Norman tower), Thaxted (with its recently rehung bells) and Saffron Walden, where the party was met by Messrs. L. Pitstow and J. Ward, and Treble Bob, etc., rung on the 12 bells.

Lunch was at Lavenham, followed by a good ring on the renowned bells. The musical six at Great Finborough preceded tea at Stowmarket. The last call was at Stonham (ten bells). Here handbells were brought to the 'local,' suitably designated 'The Ten Bells.' and Royal and Caters were rung. Ipswich was reached at 10.30 p.m.

ST. MARTIN'S, RUISLIP.

An excursion into Surrey, arranged by Mr. F. Blondell, was the programme of the annual outing on August 20th, the party being augmented by friends from Hillingdon and evergreen Frank Blondell.

At Worplesdon, Double Norwich and Cambridge were rung. An excellent tea followed at Farnham, with an hour's ringing at the Parish Church (with a beautiful ring). Later the party stopped at West Clandon, where the ringing was enjoyed.

ST. EUNY, REDRUTH.

Everybody enjoyed the scenery during the 60 miles across Cornwall on the annual outing on August 13th except the handbell enthusiasts, who whiled away the time with Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob.

Tavistock's bells (tenor 29 cwt.) were soon going to lovely music. Then away over Dartmoor to lunch at Dartmeet and the thrill of passing over the narrowest bridge in England, where from either side one looked straight down to the water 20ft. below and neither sight of bridge nor parapet to hide the trout.

At Babbacombe, Alf Newman, of Dartmouth, was a welcome visitor, and the ringing consisted of Grandsire and Stedman Triples. Fr. Harris, a former Redruth curate, was waiting for the party at St. John's, Torquay, and thoughtfully provided cups of tea besides explaining features of his church. Ringing also took place at Upton and Berry Pomeroy, Redruth being reached at 12.30 a.m.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ANOTHER SURPRISE PUBLICATION PLANNED

Dear Sir,—I must write to thank you and Mr. Golden for the handsome and I fear undeserved things you have been good enough to say about the Surprise Methods lists. While my name appears on the covers of the various issues, they have been made possible only by the willing and unstinted co-operation of many members of the Exercise, of whom Mr. Golden himself was the first and remains one of the most loyal. My earliest venture, the 100 Major Methods, was based on his collection, and he has been a tower of strength—and of encouragement too—throughout the series. He is now one of many helpers, whom I ask to forgive me for not mentioning them here by name. All are individually mentioned in the list of acknowledgments to each issue.

In the next number I propose to publish a complete list of all first peals in Surprise Methods on eight to twelve bells, and progressive lengths in at least the well-known methods. It will be closed on September 30th and issued as soon as possible after that date. However, if any important attempts are to be made between September 30th and the end of the year I shall hold the formes open for them. Will conductors and others concerned please let me know (in the strictest confidence) of any projects falling within these limits which would be worth waiting for? There will not be a second edition of the dates, I am sure, so all that are not in the first printing will remain unrecorded in my list. I should like also to hear of any peals rung in new methods which will not be published in the September issues of 'The Ringing World,' so that I shall not omit them in the event of my being able to print at the intended date.
—Yours sincerely, A. J. CORRIGAN.

Bitton, near Bristol.

ONUS ON INSTRUCTORS

Dear Sir,—I was very interested in your excellent leader in the issue of August 19th. I attend many meetings and practices and sometimes am appalled by the way some so-called ringers handle and strike their bells.

I do not blame the individuals concerned, but those who teach (?) them. I have taught, and kept, quite a number of youngsters, and have always followed the lines laid down in that excellent little Central Council publication, 'Hints to Instructors and Beginners,' a copy of which shoud be in every tower. The photographs were taken by the late Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn and the late R. T. Hibbert, beloved Master and secretary respectively of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, and the booklet was compiled by Mr. J. T. Dyke and the Rev. Canon G. F. Coleridge. What a team of experts!

We in our branch hold a combined practice in various towers and much time is given to instruction in handling and striking with good results. I have in my own tower a band of 16, mostly youngsters, the majority of whom I taught to handle a bell during the latter part of the war. We always ring eight for both services on Sundays, and at Christmas and Easter there are never less than 12 in the tower to ring for the 7 a.m. Holy Communion and all attend the service.

Last Christmas morning a beautiful wallet arrived for me by post with a card, 'Best wishes from your happy band of ringers.'

Yes; they are happy, because they are handled right and encouraged in every possible way, and I am proud of them.—Yours sincerely,

T. J. FOWLER, Ringing Master,
East Berks and South Bucks Branch,
Oxford Diocesan Guild.

ST. NEOTS' VISITORS

Dear Sir,—Sorry to say there was a mistake regarding the permit to ring at St. Neots. Anyway, we went and saw the Rector and explained our position and showed him the list of towers we had visited and almost begged of him to grant us permission to ring for only half an hour, but he would not yield.
—Yours truly,. B. W. PETTITT.

Sible Hedingham, Essex.

ROUND CHURCHES

Dear Sir,—I have been waiting for some of your correspondents to mention the round church inside the walls of Ludlow Castle, which dates from the 12th century. It is not in use, but is in as good condition as the Temple Church, London.—Yours, etc.,

EDWIN H. LEWIS.

Brasted, Kent.

Dear Sir,—Your correspondents on the subject of round churches appear to have overlooked All Saints' Church, Newcastle-on-Tyne, which is a fine example of a round building.
—Yours sincerely, F. E. COLLINS.

Thornton Heath, Surrey.

Sir,—In his anxiety to increase the rarity of the round churches in the country, the warden of the Holy Sepulchre Church, Northampton, appears to be unduly hasty in writing off the Temple Church, London.

Although the nave of the Temple Church was severely damaged by fire during an air raid, the original round part of the building suffered comparatively little and the whole church will undoubtedly be restored when conditions permit. It must, therefore, be included in any list of round churches.—Yours faithfully,

A. St. J. N. BOYACK.

South Woodford, Essex.

HOLT'S TEN-PART

Dear Sir,—With reference to the paragraph in Belfry Gossip of July 15th, please accept my apology for the mistake of Holt's Original (I did say to Mr. Barrett it was Holt's Original), but after thinking it over, Holt's Ten-part was the one I conducted nearly 63 years ago. I may add that the band were all beginners, whom my father taught. We were invited to ring the peal at a tower about 20 miles away—Market Drayton, Shropshire, and our host went to the expense of a peal board.

I may add the peal was well struck throughout and the only word spoken was by my father, who said (when we had got over the first half), 'A bob here. Tom.' I only shook my head and carried on, and I may say that all the young ringers looked at me and carried on. Six of us were about my age, 14, and one was 16 years. I think the peal was remarkable considering our ages. — I remain, Yours faithfully. T. G. MILLER.

Merton, S.W.19.

5,040 PLAIN BOB ROYAL

Dear Sir,—The peal of 5,040 Bob Royal by G. Dodds on page 406 of 'The Ringing World' is not quite correct as printed. To agree with the figures, the calling of the second part should be amended to read as follows—

24635	W	M	H
64532	6	—
24536		S
65423	5	—	—

Yours faithfully,

BRIAN D. THRELFALL.

Crayford.

THE COUNCILS' DECISIONS

By LIBRA.

THE news that the sub-committee appointed to consider revision of the Central Council's Decisions is at last getting down to business will be most welcome, especially to those who had hoped for a draft report, such as was produced by their colleagues investigating the Rules, at York this year The sub-committee has, however, made one distinct innovation, as far as memory can recall, in asking that those who hold strong views on relevant matters should communicate them to the committee. In the past, the last thing which many committees seem to have taken into consideration has been the outlook of ringers generally.

There should be no lack of material for the committee to work on —rather the opposite, in fact. To take just one point, the question of what constitutes a peal, the situation at present is virtually bordering on anarchy. This is largely because the existing Decisions are either inexplicit or were framed before many current practices originated. Not all these practices have been progressive, either. The recent introduction of two different types of bob in one peal, for example, has put the clock back more than a century, and doubtless the committee will be bearing this in mind.

Another matter to which attention might well be given concerns 'leading' and 'covering' bells. The variations by these are many. Sometimes Minor is rung with a cover: sometimes with one bell or more leading, though what method the leading bells can claim to have rung it is hard to say, and this, of course, applies where more than one covering bell is used for Doubles. Triples may be rung on seven bells, although such a performance is 'discountenanced," but not, it should be noted, banned. For Caters and Cinques, a cover is deemed essential, although not long ago certain people who might have been expected to know better chose to ring Caters without one. In this connection, a seven-bell peal in the late 1880's caused the then secretary of the College Youths to remark, 'By ringing the peal at Southgate, the band evidently adapted it to the requirements of the inmates of Colney Hatch, for which institution they are thus qualifying themselves.'

The committee can put an end to all doubt by laying down clearly that peals on even numbers with covering bells are to be disallowed; that on odd numbers one covering bell, and one only, is essential, except that it may be dispensed with for Doubles; and that leading bells will not be permitted on any numbers.

There are, of course, many other matters which could be considered. Is it logical, for instance, that any of the 'seven true and complete 720's' which are needed for a peal of Minor may be made up by splicing Alliance and Little methods, neither of which in themselves will produce a 720, whereas a band which included an extent of either in a peal would have that peal rendered null and void unless they had rung seven 720's first? The need for avoiding a peal being made up of short and easy touches can readily be seen, but the reason for excluding extents which do not reach 720 changes is not so obvious.

Again, on the subject of spliced ringing, it is well known that a course of Bob Major may be shortened by turning back the treble in 6ths place in one lead, preferably the third. Peals rung thus have been published with the impressive title of 'Spliced Plain and Gainsborough Little Bob,' which, though strictly correct, gives an entirely erroneous value to the performance, and some new title for such peals might well be found Attention might also be given to whether changes of method should be permissible only at lead-ends, which would have the effect of eliminating the peculiar versions of Treble Bob, still occasionally rung, in which irregular and assymetrical methods are introduced.

A less important matter, but one which causes occasional discussion, concerns umpires for handbell peals. It is freely admitted that the number of people qualified for the task is very small, and 'umpires' vary from the wife of one of the ringers, who probably happens to be in the house at the time, to the one who became so excited towards the end of a very difficult attempt that he shouted 'bob' at a point where none was needed. In any event, the general feeling of the Exercise seems to be that unless the peal is very exceptional, an umpire is something of an anacronism.

Clearly, then, the committee, if it so desires, can do a great deal of good, both by clearing up obscure and doubtful points and by legislating against undesirable innovations which are obviously contrary to the spirit of the Exercise. One thing is certain, that by taking a firm line the members will have the wholehearted support of the majority of ringers.

Truro Diocesan Guild

ANNUAL CARBIS BAY 'WEEK.'

This year, for the fourth annual 'week,' several regulars, with some welcome newcomers, met at Truro Cathedral on August 20th and were welcomed by Mr. W. H. Southeard, Diocesan Ringing Master. The peal attempt was for Stedman Caters, and in spite of organ opposition at the beginning, ringing seemed to have settled until a 'slow' entanglement ended the attempt after 2 hours' and 5 minutes' ringing. Mr. H. C. Spencer conducted. A move was then made to headquarters, most of the party staying at Carbis Bay Vicarage.

During the week two peals were rung—both Grandsire Triples—at Towednack and St. Austell. In all, twenty-three towers were visited either for peal attempts or for a short while, the others being Carbis Bay, St. Enoder, Crantock (where a welcome was extended by the Rev. W. H. R. Trewhella, Diocesan Secretary), Perranzabuloe, St. Agnes, St. Anthony-in-Meneage, Manaccan (with a greeting by Col. C. F. Jerram), Landewednack, Mullion, Zennor, St. Keverne, Redruth, St. Dennis, St. Stephen - in - Brannel, Probus, Ladock, St. Erme, St. Hilary, Ludgvan and Lelant. These towers comprise one ten, eleven eights and eleven sixes. The fascination of visiting these Cornish towers was added to by additional little treats, such as several glimpses of the sea, picnic luncheon each day, at such a place as on the beach at delightful Coverack, and a visit to an ancient Celtic museum at Zennor. The visitors we welcomed to Cornwall, and who we hope will come yet again, were the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow, Mr. G. E. Fearn (with Mrs. Fearn and Ruth), Messrs. T. G. and Fred Myers, Comdr. A. R. Poyntz, Miss Marie R. Cross, Miss Julia Preston, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Niblett, with the Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Roberts (who mapped matters out campanologically and domestically), Messrs. H. C. Spencer, C. E. Lanxon, R. G. Clemens, E. V. Williams and G. W. Taysom.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Rain to wet the defensive umbrella of Mr. W. Moorland, who wrote about 'Child Ringers'—William Jackson (14) and his brother David (11) took part in a peal at Campsall on August 20th without showing signs of strain and without having previously obtained a medical certificate to prove their strength!

Messrs. G. Harrison and L. G. Roden have now 'circled' the tower at St. Paul's, Burton-on-Trent.

Mr. E. Whiteley's 74th birthday, as well as Mrs. Whiteley's, was celebrated by a peal at Queensbury, Bradford, on August 25th.

Mr. Jack R. Worrall writes to say, apropos light verse in his honour in last week's Belfry Gossip, that though his name was made to rhyme, it was incorrectly spelt.

At Devizes and Chester quarter-peals were rung to honour the laying-up of the Colours of the 1st Batt. Wilts Regt. and 5th (E. of C.) Batt. Cheshire Regt. on Mons Sunday.

The peal of Cambridge at Chilvers Coton on August 22nd was rung by an all local band as a birthday compliment to their captain, Mr. J. E. S. Moreton.

Mr. P. Amos has been investigating the three bells of Little Billing, Northants, and finds that two of these are dated 1672. The other is 1853. The general impression was that the bells are modern, circa 1850.

At the dedication service in connection with the recast and rehung bells at Blackburn Cathedral on August 21st, an attractive, illustrated booklet about the bells throughout the years, specially printed, was circulated to those present.

A plaque recording the dedication has been fixed to one of the girders carrying the bells.

To commemorate the wedding of Mr. J. Vande-Walle and Miss J. Flatters, a quarter-peal of Plain Bob Major was rung at Kirton-in-Holland, Lincs. by the following band: T. Cummins 1, S. F. Bishop 2, A. Young 3, W. Wilkinson 4, R. Brown 5, J. R. Kemp 6, E. Kemp 7, J. R. Young (cond.) 8.

Mr. S. Marshall, of Gressenhall, is the first of the local band to 'circle' the tower.

Mr. R. Davies, Nutfield, Surrey, has now rung peals of Cambridge from Minor to Maximus.

The conductor of the peal at Hedon, Yorkshire, on August 12th, was Mr. A. Tomlinson and not as stated.

The peal rung at Seal Chart on August 27th is believed to be the first of Surprise on the bells.

The meeting of the Irish Association held at Drogheda is regarded as probably the most memorable in the Association's history, and everyone who attended went home greatly impressed by the handbell ringing of the Leicester tourists.

The peal of Kent Minor at Gressenhall, Norfolk, on August 19th, was an in memoriam one to the late Ringing Master, Mr. John A. Godfrey, who died on the same date two years ago.

The peal at Burton-on-Trent on August 23rd was rung half-muffled as a token of respect to Canon J. J. G. Stockley, who passed away the previous week after a vicariate at Burton of 17 years.

Mrs. G. W. Fletcher conducted a peal of Stedman Cinques at Bow Church, Cheapside, on November 19th, 1938, in honour of her parents' (Mr. and Mrs. J. Parker) golden wedding. Mr. Fletcher also took part in the peal.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON SOCIETY

Tour in Oxfordshire

At a university, four years is a lifetime—only a small minority stay longer or return again to the scenes of their youth. Among this minority are to be found a number of ringers adding Cambridge to London, or Theology to Physics, with the grim determination of the seasoned peal ringer. It is therefore interesting to note that the fourth tour of the University of London Society was in many ways similar to the first. After an orgy of private cars and luxury coaches, cycling was once again the main means of transport, and from the seclusion of a private hotel we returned to the communal ablutions of a holiday camp. The same organiser presented us with a programme of fine bells in delightful villages, set in an almost excessive amount of countryside, and disappeared (this time to play cricket), in the same company. Even the same Master was in office, and on this occasion able to accompany us.

Nevertheless, there were a number of changes, most of them improvements. No longer was a plain course of Stedman the summit of achievement, and 'the touch that comes round' a special request. The various amenities of the holiday camp provided much entertainment, though not of quite the same sort as the spectacle of record-holding ringers washing-up after kippers for breakfast at a youth hostel.

The party assembled in Oxford on July 23rd and joined in the ringing of the Oxford Guild Festival as they arrived, setting off by bus and cycle for the headquarters at Radley at about 6.30 p.m. After a Corporate Communion at Radley Church on Sunday, the party divided, some going into Oxford and the remainder to Abingdon for service ringing. In the afternoon a peal of Cambridge was rung at Dorchester, with some local help, for the Oxford Guild, the rest of the party ringing at Radley and then disporting themselves swimming and boating until it was time for evening service ringing at St. Helen's, Abingdon.

Monday was the most strenuous day of the tour. It started with an eight-mile cycle ride to ring at Yarnton. The six bells (tenor 25 cwt.) proved quite a test of strength and bell control. The eights at Woodstock and Kidlington followed, and after lunch at Kidlington, nine miles' cycling under the mid-day sun brought the party to Bicester, where the bells (and subsequent tea) were much enjoyed. On the way back to Oxford, calls were made at Middleton Stoney and Islip. The total distance travelled during the day was about fifty-five miles, and as the weather was perfect—for sun bathing—it was not surprising that everyone was somewhat hot and tired by the evening. The two motor-cyclists were certainly better off than the rest, even if one of their machines was not quite so easy to start as a push bike.

Tuesday's outing was by coach. The beauty of the church, its setting, and its bells made the first stop, at Great Tew, particularly pleasant. Ringing took place at Deddington and Adderbury before and after lunch respectively, and particular notice was taken at the latter church of a stone figure demonstrating how to enjoy handbell ringing. Stratford-on-Avon was reached in time for tea and a brief tour of inspection before ringing on the magnificent ten there. Afterwards, a visit was made to the Memorial Theatre to see a performance of 'Othello.'

Wednesday involved—amongst other exertions—two peal attempts for five people. In the morning a peal of Superlative was rung at Goring, but the afternoon attempt for Bob Major at Harwell was not successful. Those not attempting peals rang at Drayton, Steventon and East Hagbourne. In the evening we had the pleasure of entertaining some of the city ringers who paid us a visit at the camp.

Another coach trip on Thursday, to Painswick, Cirencester Fairford and Faringdon, not only proved enjoyable in itself, but also gave everyone a chance to regain their strength for another day's cycling on the morrow. On both these coach excursions we were joined by some local friends.

Cumnor was the first stop on Friday, and those whose education had been neglected soon found that bells are not the only notable feature of the place. Witney was reached in time for coffee before ringing, after a ride against strong winds, with a brief stop—but no ringing or ice-cream—at Eynsham, on the way. The visit to the lovely church, with its delightful bells, will long be remembered, not least, perhaps, for a rather unexpected course of London Surprise. After lunch, Ducklington and Standlake were visited. On leaving Standlake, a short-cut along the tow-path was recommended, but the route did not fulfil the high hopes placed in it, and the sudden disruption of a party of cyclists into a set of individuals plunging determinedly into the heart of Berkshire in search of Appleton, each depending on—even swearing by, and later at—a different map was perhaps the most startling event of the week. The organiser arrived in time for tea, but complained more bitterly than anyone else, in the hope of disarming criticism, no doubt. An excellent tea was followed by ringing (alas, not of such a uniformly high standard) at St. Lawrence's Church.

On Saturday morning, a peal of Stedman was attempted at Great Tew, but a rope came untucked, and the subsequent attempt for Bob Major was abandoned after an hour. The whole party reunited at Bloxham, whose graceful spire had to be allowed five minutes to settle down again after each ten-minute touch! Some members even watched outside so as to be able to render a graphic description of any disaster which might have occurred. Fortunately their worst hopes were not realised, and we went on to Banbury, where a peal of Bob Royal was rung.

Normal service ringing and an unsuccessful peal attempt at Kirtlington constituted Sunday's effort; and on August Bank holiday the party dispersed, everyone having thoroughly enjoyed themselves and learnt something new about ringing. Indeed, the improvement shown by those in the more elementary stages of the art was quite marked. The finale of the tour was a peal of Stedman Caters, rung at Reading on the way home.

In conclusion, the society would like to thank all those who made the tour such a success, the various incumbents for permission to ring on their bells, the Oxford City ringers for their warm welcome, Miss M. R. Cross for her assistance and for arranging (at considerable trouble) the accommodation for the last week-end, and especially Mr. P. M. J. Gray for his excellent organisation.

CHESTER.—On Aug. 28th at the Church of St. Mary-on-the-Hill, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: John Payne 1, Harry Lewis 2, John W. Best 3, George Sperring 4, Rev. J. Kingdon 5, John W. Griffiths 6, J. E. Bonney (cond.) 7, John Stockton 8. First quarter of Triples for the treble ringer. First of Triples as conductor. To commemorate the laying up of the Colours of the 5th (E. of C.) Batt, the Cheshire Regt. at Chester Cathedral on Mons Sunday (Aug. 28th).

CHOLSEY, BERKS. — On Aug. 29th, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: K. Palmer 1, J. Meney 2, T. Palmer 3, F. Smewin 4, A. Fletcher 5, R. Heath (cond.) 6, F. Wise 7. Rung half-muffled in respect of the bereavement of Mr. G. Garlick.

Blackburn Cathedral Bells

DEDICATION OF RECAST RING.

Sunday, Aug. 21st, was an important occasion in the annals of Blackburn Cathedral, when the ten bells, which have been recast recently at the Loughborough Foundry, were dedicated. A great improvement has been effected in the ring, which is now heavier than before the recasting. The tenor weighs over 25 cwt. and the weight of the whole ring is more than 5 tons.

An account of the work entailed and details of the inscriptions on the bells were given in our issue of July 22nd. Besides the attention given to the bells, alterations have been carried out in the tower. The bell chamber roof has been opened and an arched sounding board constructed, so that the bells are how heard more widely in Blackburn. The louvres have been bricked and boarded to help send the sound out through the roof. A new clock, electrically driven, has been installed, chiming the hours and the quarters. Redecoration of the belfry and bell chamber was found necessary. The work is now complete and a year after the old bells rang for the last time the new ones are ringing afresh. It is estimated that the whole of the work has cost some £3,500.

The dedication of the bells, clock and chimes was performed at the early Communion service, the officiant being the Provost, the Very Rev. W. Kay.

Under the leadership of Mr. T. Wilson, Ringing Master, the bells were rung both before and after the morning service, which was attended by the Mayor (Councillor W. Horne) and members of the Town Council.

The address was given by Rev. A. C. F. Davies, Croydon, a former Precentor of the Cathedral, who said he had taken as a pivot for their thoughts the words from the Book of Proverbs, 'have good things in possession,' and he wanted to apply them to the new ring of bells which now formed a worthy part of their Cathedral Church Now at last they possessed a grand ring of bells which would take its place beside the other fine rings of ten in the country. But they must not be content merely to possess these 'good things': they must also, as far as humanly possible, 'have them in possession.' All of them possessed many things which were of little use unless they 'had them in possession.' That was not always easy. Very often it demanded effort. concentration and self-denial and much patience. They might just as well not have any possessions if they were not making the right use of them. The 'good things' they possessed were a trust from God, and He wanted them to 'have them in possession.'

Ringing demanded competent and reliable leadership. They had been most fortunate in having such leadership over a long period of years. And it was a fitting tribute to the quality of that leadership that the name of W. E. Wilson, a ringer at their church from 1887-1943, and for part of that time Master of the belfry, should be inscribed, together with that of the present Master, on the new treble bell. The Lancashire Association would rejoice to have another good centre for its meetings. But there was a real danger that a good ring of bells would attract the 'peal grabbers,' as they were known in the Exercise. Peals for peals sake should not be allowed in the towers of cathedral churches. The very best ringing should be that which preceded corporate worship, of which the ringing was itself a part.

At the evening service the Archdeacon of Blackburn (Ven. C. H. Lambert) spoke on the subject of bells and their significance.

There is no doubt the ring will rank with some of the finest in the country, and will be fully in keeping with the dignity of the Cathedral in its finished state.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO RINGERS OF FOUR BELLS

Dear Sir,—As has been shown in previous issues of 'The Ringing World,' four-and-twenties are available both in hunt-dominated and in hunt-free methods.

Let us take the hunt-dominated methods first.

In every hunt-dominated method two four-and-twenties are available according to the nature of the whole hunt (one variation with forward and one with reverse hunting). In addition, each of the four bells may be used as the whole hunt, thus providing eight four-and-twenties for each hunt-dominated method.

Now these hunt-dominated methods are made up from only four kinds of cone work, viz.: Hunting (A), Plain Bob (B), Grandsire (C), and Grandsire Bob (D).

Now each of the above cones may be used with any of the others or itself, in the opposite cone, to produce a method; these methods are given by the appended diagram, in which

Now some of these diagrams represent vertical columns represent rear cone work and horizontal rows the front cone work:—

B	BA	BB	BC	BD
C	CA	CB	CC	CD
D	DA	DB	DC	DD

methods: AB being Plain Bob; BA, Reverse Bob; BB, Double Bob, etc.; DB thus being Reverse Bob Grandsire Bob Minimus, and DD is Double Grandsire Bob Minimus.

On inspection AA, BC, CB, CD and DC are worthless as not giving true four-and-twenties. BB, CC, DD are the three double methods; AB, AC, AD, BD are the four single methods; BA, CA, DA and DB are the four reverse methods. A total of eleven methods, giving, therefore, as explained above, 88 four-and-twenties.

Since in hunt-dominated methods the course contains 24 changes with three 'working' bells, the unit (also called a lead or grid) must have a maximum length of eight changes, so also in the hunt-free methods, with four working bells, the grid has a maximum length of six changes (or rows).

Now the only six (so far as the author knows) which when thus employed will give a true four-and-twenty is the Stedman Slow Six.

There are, therefore, only twelve different four-and-twenties obtainable (as shown by J. M. Stephens in issue 2,002, page 392 of 'The Ringing World').

SPLICED MINIMUS.

Only one hundred four-and-twenties are obtainable by the above methods, and in order to obtain a 5,000 it is necessary to resort to splicing. Using the notation given above, the following pairs of methods contain the same changes in a lead (the naming is the author's):

Reverse Grandsire (CA), Double Grandsire (CC); Reverse Bob (BA), Reverse Grandsire Bob (DA); Double Bob (BB), Reverse Bob Grandsire Bob (DB); Double Bob Grandsire Bob (DD), Bob Grandsire Bob (BD).

By inspection it is clear that each of these pairs will give six true four-and-twenties, e.g. (first pair):—

	(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)	(6)
1st lead	CC	CA	CA	CA	CC	CC
2nd lead	CA	CC	CA	CC	CA	CC
3rd lead	CA	CA	CC	CC	CC	CA

but this is only with one hunt, hunting forward, with the four bells as whole hunt in turn and employing reverse hunting there are, of course (4 x 6 x 8 = 192), 192 further four-and-twenties.

The total of four-and-twenties thus revealed is 292, but only 210 are required for the 5,040.

Omitting the hunt-free methods we have 280 four-and-twenties or 6,720 rows. Adding in the hunt-free four-and-twenties we have 7,008 changes.

I trust that ringers of Minimus will find this sufficient for their needs at present.

BLUE LINE RINGING

Sir,—There seems to be an opinion I denounced the principle of the Blue Line system of ringing a method in my letter on 'Rhythm' which appeared in 'The Ringing World' on August 5th. I did not. What I tried to emphasise was the necessity of giving learners to understand they were all ringing on the same line, but at different places, and to get the best ringing it was an advantage if rhythm could be introduced, which would prevent a number of persons ringing as individuals, but instilling in them team work. 'Blue Line Ringer,' signed by John Goodall, is completely off the track of my letter.—Yours faithfully,

R. NEWMAN.

DORSET AND SOMERSET INVADE DEVON.

On August 27th, a mixed band from Dorset and Somerset, with their wives and friends, invaded North Devon. Starting from Hazelbury Bryan at 7.40 with the first contingent the coach reached King's Stagg, where ringers and friends from Stalbridge, Sturminster Newton and Buckland Newton were added to the load.

At Yeovil the Hardington Mandeville lads and lasses were picked up and then off non-stop through lovely scenery to Bampton, dead on schedule. No one was able to meet the party, but the local captain had labelled the treble rope with a note that all was in order. After an hour's ringing on this nice six (tenor 15½ cwt.), a move was made for Okeford, where the church was found to be in vigorous state of 'spring cleaning.' This fairly light eight (tenor 12½ cwt.) caused anxiety to many owing to the longish draught and small ringing chamber, also the ropes were very hard and dry. Sandwich lunch was partaken of on the coach, the 'local,' or both alternatively!

The party then set off for Knowstone after one false start. Why cannot the Devon C.C. inform one that a road is unfit for heavy traffic instead of letting one get at least half a mile down a lane when the lane suddenly narrows to less than the width of the coach? On ringing up the six at Knowstone (tenor 12 cwt.) the bells were found to be unmanageable, as the lowest sally could only just be reached by the tallest ringer. After consultation with the Vicar, 'Bert' climbed up into the tower with two others and let the ropes down about a foot. This made ringing possible, but everyone came to the conclusion that the bearings must have been oval!

At Rose Ash we were welcomed by the local captain, a keen competition ringer, and to judge by the awards around the walls a good band it must be too. Here we found a lovely ring of six (tenor 10 cwt.), and although told that they had not been rehung for at least 40 years, the 'go' was perfect. After ringing the visitors indulged in raising and falling in Devon style. In the wall of this church is a tablet to the memory of the late Vicar, who died in 1948, the last and eighth of the same family who had held the living without a break from 1675-1948. Tea was served in Rose Ash Court, a wonderful old house converted to a modern guest house.

Up to this moment the expedition had been well up to schedule, but now trouble started. The signposts cheerfully stated 'To Mariansleigh,' which was the next tower on the list. After proceeding down two 'roads' which seemed to go on for miles, their eventual narrowness necessitating two long 'back-outs,' our very patient driver decided that it was getting a bit too late to go on looking for 'Many Ann,' and although rather disappointed, the travellers agreed with him. So off to South Molton with its glorious tower and magnificent eight (tenor 24¾ cwt.). Although early for ringing, the local captain was waiting, and the party stayed till about 8.

With a stop near Taunton for those who found their bearings getting dry and dropping off sections en route, the coach got back to base at 11.50 after a round trip of 175 miles. The weather had been kind; permission had been freely given by the local incumbents, to whom hearty thanks are due, also to the locals who met us and, last but not least, to the driver—perhaps it was a good thing for us that he is an occasional ringer. E.T.P.F.

BALCOMBE, SUSSEX.

Balcombe ringers and friends held their annual outing on August 6th, travelling by coach to New Romney. The fine ring of bells (although the ropes fall anti-clockwise) were soon going to Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Grandsire. Lunch at Canterbury was followed by a visit to the Cathedral. Mr. Unwin, of the Cathedral band, conducted the party to the belfry, and for the next hour rounds, Grandsire Triples and Plain Bob Major were rung. Tea followed in Canterbury, and then Rolvenden was visited, where Mr. Macey, from Sutton Valence, was met. Here new ropes and a long draught did not help the ringing, but it was enjoyed. Balcombe was reached a few minutes before 11 p.m. E. T. E.

BIGGLESWADE, BEDS.

The Biggleswade District ringers had excellent weather for their outing on August 20th.

The bus left Henlow at 7.30 a.m., going via St. Neots and Cambridge to Long Melford where after some delay the key was procured and the bells soon got going. The next stop was at Lavenham (8). What a climb to the ringing chamber! Before the afternoon's ringing at Bocking (8) and Braintree (8), the party enjoyed lunch at the Four Swans, Sudbury.

Dunmow was reached by 4.30. Here Mr. W. H. Smith and the other ringers had an excellent tea waiting. This was followed by an hour in the local tower. Ringing at Thaxted brought a most successful and enjoyable day to a close. Ringing had ranged from rounds to Superlative.

The party would like to offer thanks to the rectors and local ringers for arranging tea and Mr. Lewis H. Bywaters for his excellent arrangements. C. J. B.

Unveiling of War Memorial

An impressive ceremony took place at Taynton (Oxon) Parish Church on Sunday evening, August 27th, when the Chaplain to the Fleet, the Rev. L. Coulshaw, unveiled and dedicated a tablet in memory of the men of the parish, William Ernest Tyrell and Thomas Ernest Francis (a ringer at the church), who gave their lives in the second World War. The service was accompanied by musicians from the Royal Naval School of Music, Burford.

As a tribute to their memory, 1,440 Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung before the service by W. J. Dixon 1, F. Soden 2, Miss N. Honey 3, F. W. Soden 4, B. S. Nichols (cond.) 5, T. W. Timms 6. This was the first of Kent Minor on the bells and by all excepting the ringer of the 3rd.

IRISH ASSOCIATION

MEETING AT DROGHEDA.

A joint meeting of the Northern and Eastern Districts was held at St. Peter's Church, Drogheda, on August 27th, and was attended by 80 members from Londonderry, Bangor, Holywood, Arklow, Bray, Dublin (St. George's, St. John the Baptist's and Christ Church Cathedral) and Drogheda. The Leicester ringers, who were on tour, led by Mr. Harold J. Poole, and Miss Rodwell, from Oxford, were also present.

Tea was provided. At the meeting afterwards there was no business, but Mr. W. Graham, president, welcomed the visitors to Drogheda, stating that he deputised for the Rector, who was on holiday.

Mr. W. Pratt, president of the Irish Association, also greeted the English ringers, especially Mr. Poole's party, saying he had himself been born not far from Leicester.

Mr. Dukes apologised for the absence of the chairman of the Eastern District, Mr. Daniel Kennedy, who was also on holiday. He said that they were very pleased to have the Leicester ringers, under the leadership of such a very capable and popular ringer as Harold Poole.

Mr. Poole, in his reply, said that the tour had been planned two years ago, and as a memento and appreciation for all the arrangements made in Ireland for their enjoyment, he presented Mr. Dukes with a suitably inscribed silver drinking mug. Mr. Dukes, who was taken by surprise, thanked the visitors for their gift, which would always be valued and be a reminder of 'happy days.'

Votes of thanks were passed to the local company and especially to the ladies under the leadership of Mrs. Emerson.

The gathering was then entertained to ringing on handbells (change ringing, tune ringing and 'rising and falling') by the Leicester visitors.

The bells of St. Peter's Church were put to good use from early morning until late evening, when Grandsire, Stedman, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge, London and Bristol were rung.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

The Mid-Devon Branch of the Devon Guild held a special meeting at Highweek Parish Church, Newton Abbot, on Saturday, August 27th, when members and friends attended from Braintree (Essex), Hurst (Berks), Broadclyst, Exeter, Axminster, Newton Abbot, Dartmouth and Buckfastleigh.

The bells were kept going throughout the afternoon, some very good touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob Minor and Major, and Kent Treble Bob Major being rung.

A service was later held in church, conducted by the Rev. E. W. F. Deacon, assistant priest, at which a collection was taken for the repairs fund of the church. Handbells were afterwards rung over the graves of Messrs. C. R. Lilley and C. R. Walker by Messrs. J. E. Lilley, A. L. Bennett, I. Suckling and F. Wreford.

DORCHESTER BRANCH.

A successful quarterly meeting of the above branch was held at Puddletown on August 13th and was attended by about 45 members and friends.

The six bells were rung prior to service, which was conducted by the Vicar, Canon A. L Helps, assisted by the branch chairman, the Rev. Canon A. W. Markby. The address was based on two simple words from the Parable of the Talents, 'Well done,' the Vicar emphasising that this phrase was the reward of courage and faithfulness.

The business meeting was conducted by the chairman. Two applicants, Miss H. Godley and Miss I. Cordier, both of Stratton, were admitted to membership of the branch. The meeting agreed that the branch should celebrate the 80th birthday of the president of the Guild (the Earl of Shaftesbury) by ringing wherever it was possible on August 31st.

A plan devised by the Deputy Ringing Master to divide the branch into three geographical areas (north, south and west) was left for discussion at the annual general meeting.

After the meeting the bells were kept going until 9 p.m., the methods rung including Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob. Thirteen towers were represented.

REMEMBER!

By DISCIPULUS.

I REMEMBER vividly the difference between the ropes which moved quietly up and down in the hands of the ringers, and that spiteful rope which misbehaved and wouldn't do what I desired—the awe with which I heard that half a ton of bawling metal, very reluctant to obey my nervous jerk. I recall that I was scared to set it at backstroke because I feared it would pull me up to the ceiling, and how my little finger persisted in curling round the rope's end instead of round the sally.

Later on, I knew just when I should strike in rounds, but couldn't. The bell always seemed to thwart me, to drop when it should have balanced, and vice versa. Later still my mind was in such a fever trying to remember Grandsire dodges that I couldn't handle my bell properly. A lady stamped her foot at me for not double dodging. I must have been irritating! I remember the faintly disgusted look of the other five ringers with whom I tried to ring Kent Minor when I couldn't even ring Plain Bob!

I also recall more pleasant things—the first time I rang our tenor and made her throb to my gentle pull. There were amusing times, too. I had nearly rung my first course of Stedman Triples when my rope slipped wheel and refused to complete the course. 'Ah, yes!' you'll say, 'slack rope, tch tch!' But did not the bell in setting pay me a pretty compliment? It was lovely wallowing in 6-7 up for the first time in Stedman Caters, not quite sure with whom I was dodging but trying to look expert.

There was always the thrill of visiting a new tower, meeting new friends and those who were becoming old friends—a differently coloured sally, a novel feel of the balance, a strange sound, sometimes like old dustbins, sometimes incredibly musical and vivacious. Once there was a 35ft. draught without guides, while again the ceiling was so low we had to sit on the chairs provided! The thrill of the unknown is still as strong. I wonder what the bells will be like next Saturday?

I remember my first peal. The first third of it I spent in intense concentration. The second third was intolerably long, while during the last third I had given up hope of it ever ending. This is what hell is like—it just goes on and on. I felt that even if I did want to set my bell, I couldn't have done, so completely was I hypnotised.

On the other hand, I remember the delights of ringing tours, where I got the comradeship and keenness, unfettered by prejudice, that got me on rapidly.

Let us all remember the delights and difficulties of our early attempts, and, above all, let us recall that they were essential to our education. It is a joy to see our younger recruits (I say younger lest I be dubbed old) with the same enthusiasms and faults that make way for proficiency. We must be patient, and in watching their errors we must not think ourselves perfect. To admit one's own faults is the first step on the road to the improvement of the band.

Round Churches

Dear Sir,—These round churches which are being discovered need a little qualification, i.e., present use as place of worship and mediæval date. I remember, when I was a Lambeth curate in 1908, often seeing in the Blackfriars Road the Rev. Rowland Hill's round church, since used as a boxing ring. And when I went on a hiking tour through Lincolnshire in 1928 I passed through a little village near Spalding which had a round church; I think it was the parish of Moulton. The villagers seemed proud of their round church as I paused to admire it. I asked them why it was built round, but they did not know. I told them it was because the devil could not get in the corners and hurried on! Upon looking back from a considerable distance they were still gazing after me in astonishment.

Tiverton. J. M. TURNER.

Dear Sir,—May I be permitted, in answer to your correspondent, Mr. A. St. J. M. Boyack, to say how happy I am to learn that the rotunda of the Temple Church, London, suffered comparatively little as a result of the Blitz, which did so much damage to the nave, etc., and to welcome the assurance that it will, when conditions permit, be restored.

I certainly had no desire to write off this fine example from the list of round churches remaining in the country, in order to increase the rarity, as suggested.

There were, I believe, at least eight round churches erected in England in early days.

With regard to Mr. Edwin H. Lewis' contribution to this interesting correspondence, my studies have led me to conclude that the chapel of St. Mary Magdalen in the middle ward of Ludlow Castle has for very many years been in ruins, and I should be grateful to him for any information he is able to give in this connection.

Perhaps Mr. F. E. Collins would also furnish us with some details of the Church of All Saints, Newcastle-on-Tyne.—Yours sincerely, Northampton. W. H. ASHBY.

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Ernest Morris, of St. Margaret's, Leicester, just 'dropped in' on the Leicestershire tour whenever his church and vestry duties allowed. He took part in five of the peals, conducting one. In addition he rang in a handbell peal of Stedman Cinques on the Tuesday evening, and on Friday evening called a peal of Grandsire Triples at Burton Latimer, Northants (seven in all). He was also able to put in a certain amount of genealogical research.

During the tour in Suffolk and Norfolk last month not one peal attempt was lost. The story of the tour should make interesting reading.

Congratulations to Mr. A. D. Cook on ringing his 100th tower-bell peal, which he achieved shortly before his 23rd birthday

Messrs. U. W. Wildney and G. Waterman have now both 'circled' the tower at St. Nicholas', Harwich.

An advertisement in Leominster Parish Magazine states that there are situations vacant in the local bellringing team. Keenness and determination are the requirements—not muscle.

Three silver wedding peals are recorded this week, rung at Cuckfield for Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jeffery, at Walsall for Mr. and Mrs J. S. Eastwood, and at Kinver for Mr. and Mrs. Sutton.

Mr. J. Gibson, who took part in the quarter-peal rung for the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Flint, is the only living member of the band that rang for the wedding 50 years ago. Mr. Flint has been a ringer for 50 years.

The claim that the peal at Bottesford on August 4th was the first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major on the bells is refuted by a report that the method was rung there on August 22nd, 1931, conducted by the late John Flint, of Bolsover.

On June 19th, Mr. John Clark, of Heckington, Lincs, celebrated his 82nd birthday, also completing 60 years as a ringer at Heckington Church and captain of the band for 40 years. Mr. Clark still rings for services and nothing gives him more pleasure than a touch of Stedman and to turn the tenor in to Double Norwich. Mr. Clark is one of the few foundation members of the Lincoln Guild alive to-day. On August 27th a peal of Bob Major was rung in honour of this event at St. Andrew's, Heckington.

So far this year Mr. A. V. Pearson has scored 20 peals of Surprise Major, which include 12 different methods.

Mr. M. P. Moreton, conductor of the peal of Double Norwich at Great Bentley, Essex, had not previously called any touch in the method.

A ringer's silver badge of the London County Association has been found near Harrow Weald Church. The loser should apply to Mr. H. G. Hart, Woodside, Uxbridge Road, Harrow Weald, Middlesex.

Congratulations to the band at St. Oswald's Church, Bidston, Cheshire, who, although only starting to ring since the 'ban,' have already reached Surprise status, and have three budding conductors who have called peals.

Mr. A. Roberts is one of the two surviving members of the band which rang a peal of Plain Bob Minor in 1889 at St. Mary-de-Lode Church, Gloucester. This refutes the claim that the peal on August 13th was the first of Minor on the bells.

At Bourn, Cambs, on August 31st, was rung a peal of Kent Treble Bob to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the restoration of the bells and addition of the two trebles. The method, time taken and conductor were the same as 25 years ago. Messrs. Dennis and Cook also took part in the original peal.

A LEICESTERSHIRE RINGING TOUR

LEICESTERSHIRE — a land of green pastures and running waters, covering an area of 820 square miles in the heart of England.

If we run down its 20 centuries we glean a romantic tale. Its capital was the chief town of Central Britain in Roman days. Its glory passed away and the town faded into the background until the arrival of a Norman lord, who married the Earl of Leicester's sister. His name was Simon, and from this alliance sprang that Simon de Montfort who married the King's sister, but put himself on the side of Magna Carta and the barons, and founded the first Parliament in the world before he fell on the battlefield of Evesham. Then came the blood-stained Richard on his way to Bosworth, being slain there, buried in Grey Friars Church, and then thrown into the river to pollute its waters. One noble man and one ignoble man the rivers of Leicestershire have received in death—it was the Swift which carried the ashes of Wyclif to the sea and the Soar that was stained with the dust of the last Plantagenet.

So with this heritage as a background the Leicestershire tour opened. For the entire week the meeting place was in the shadow of St. Margaret's, whose tower contains the heaviest ring of bells in the diocese.

On Saturday morning the party struck off in a northerly direction via Belgrave, Birstall, Mountsorrel and Quorn, all with rings of eight, the last-named tower reminding one of the 9,000 odd changes of Treble Bob Major rung with a single in the late 1890's.

At the bell foundry at Loughborough an attempt for New Cambridge Major went well until, alas, after an hour's ringing, down came Fred Grocott's rope—a repetition of last year's tour. However, young Alan soon had another rope fixed and this splendid light eight poured out music equal to some of twice their mettle and metal. Frank Trotman called the bells into rounds under 2½ hours.

A very quick run of 30 miles S.S.W., calling at Barwell for refreshment, brought us over the border to Chilvers Coton, the home of George Eliot, the famous writer. Coton has a history all on its own, and the rebirth of the church in recent years will form a large part of its history in the future. The tower only survived complete devastation by the war and some grand work by German P.O.W.'s under the guidance of the Rev. — Murray has given back to Coton a church worthy of its tradition.

A quick peal of Stedman Caters was brought round by W. P. Whitehead, but ringing here would be a greater pleasure if the new trebles were more audible. As there was still time for another peal, it was decided to ring for three associations in one day, but as the petrol gauge of J.W.F.T.'s cab read O, and would not permit ringing in three counties, a peal of Bob Major 'in hand' at the home of Frank Trotman brought a busy day to a close.

Sunday morning found the party in their rightful place, ringing a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples at Barwell, where holidays had depleted the local band for the day. Barwell was put on the map by the first peal of Major for the old M.C.A. in 1889, in the late Arthur Aldham's day, and since the addition of two trebles in 1902 Barwell has maintained its position in the world of ringing.

After service a pleasant run through wooded country found Gilmorton nestling under tall elms. The local worthy, Mr. Broughton, met the party at the church, which is dedicated to All Saints and boasts 19 stained glass windows and a broach spire.

From the ground floor a peal of Bristol was successfully concluded, being the first in the method for the 'twins' from the Potteries. While an impromptu tea was being prepared the party indulged in handbell ringing and 'Twenty Questions.'

Monday saw the party at Sileby. Here the genial Mr. Draper, of the local band, gave every assistance before another attempt of Bristol. Back again to Mountsorrel, pleasantly situated on rising ground on the west side of the navigable River Soar; and noted for its enduring red granite. Arriving at St Peter's with its interior tower measurements of 8ft. square, Frank had the satisfaction of bringing a peal of Cambridge Major to a conclusion—the first on the bells and only the third Surprise peal on the bells in 40 years!

Syston St. Peter's had been arranged for the evening, and the local verger and ringer, Mr. Ernest Payne, was met at 6 p.m. half an hour behind schedule. So it was decided not to start for a peal and so avoid being caught in the net of late pealers.

A visit to Earl Shilton was arranged for Tuesday morning, but owing to a funeral service being held an attempt at Bob Royal 'in hand' was started. After a quarter-peal had been rung a dropped shilling caused 'curtains up.' Then followed a four-course lunch at Barwell, where Dick Belton raided hen-house, greenhouse, garden and larder in the absence of his wife. Fred had charge of the mashing and it was probably this which caused the downfall of the attempt at Earl Shilton in the afternoon after 1½ hours of Bristol.

Frank's cab was again commissioned for the evening's visit to Ratby, notable for its massive tower. The tuneful eight were set off at a brisk pace to Stedman Triples and rounds came up five minutes before curfew hour.

Wednesday morning's agenda was Belgrave St. Peter's, where the south doorway of the Norman period attracted the attention of the 'cultured.' Yorkshire was chosen, and this method was adhered to for the remainder of the tour.

Oakham, in Rutland, presented a problem of transportation. Three teen-agers got in some useful pre-Army training by hitchhiking the whole way, the remainder relied upon Frank's 'old faithful.' Mr. Higgs met the first arrivals and it was found the responsible person had gone away for the day, leaving the key locked in his own house. Thereupon Mr. Higgs, seeking permission from the Vicar, scaled the church wall so that entrance was effected from above, and he was able to take the lock from the door. High above Oakham's lovely church, with its big windows, handsome pinnacles and richly buttressed canopies, is something which can be seen wherever one goes in these old streets. It is Cock Peter watching over the town, a weathervane which must be one of the oldest in England, for it is said to have shown the way of the wind to men travelling to Agincourt. Peter crowns the graceful 14th century spire, the glory of Oakham's noble tower, which bears the figure of Christ and two saints. The name is its great pride, its arches resting on slender clustered pillars, the admiration of all who visit All Saints'. Here are figures of angels singing, a fox running off with a goose, a monkey with a heavy weight round its neck, the crowning of the Madonna, a beast playing an instrument, a man with foliage springing from his mouth, and an angel driving Adam and Eve from the Garden.

This ring of bells must be the admiration of all ringers, when rung at a 3½ hours' pace its full beauty is heard. The teen-ager from the Potteries must be congratulated on turning in this 23 cwt. tenor to Yorkshire and also conducting his first Surprise peal. The return journey was memorable for its beautiful scenery.

Thursday's venue was to Bottesford in the northernmost tip of the county, 25 miles north-east of Leicester. Here again in this rich agricultural district an excellent ring of bells with a tenor of 22 cwt. was rung to Yorkshire Major. What a grand church is here, with its Rutland family tombs giving connection with Belvoir Castle, which stands on high ground some three miles to the south-east. St. Mary's graceful spire is a landmark for miles around the vale of Belvoir. The peal was rather slow, taking 3 hours 45 minutes, forming a contrast to the usually fast speed maintained by Guild ringers.

Friday was the final day of the tour and the party confined activities to the precincts of the Bell Foundry at Loughborough. In the morning and afternoon two peals of Yorkshire were successfully concluded, but in the evening the fatigue of the hectic week was beginning to show, and owing to indifferent striking the bells were set with only several minutes to go.

OBITUARY OF THE WEEK

MRS. E. E. EDWARDS.

Many ringers, and particularly those of Portishead (Somerset) Parish Church, will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Ellen Elizabeth Edwards, aged 59, after a short illness, on August 22nd. She commenced a distinguished ringing career in 1905, being taught to ring by her father, the late Mr. W. Gillingham, captain of the Portishead ringers for 45 years.

In 1909 she became the first woman in the country to conduct a peal, and among other peals took part in 1912 in the first ladies' peal at Christ Church, Cubitt Town, London. She was a foundation member of the Ladies' Guild and hon. secretary to the Western District for many years, and took part in the first peal for the Ladies' Guild, rung in her own tower.

At the burial in the Parish Churchyard many ringers were present. A plain course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells at the graveside, followed by the 'whole pull and stand,' and change ringing on the tower bells, half-muffled.

She will be greatly missed in her own tower, and remembered with affection and respect for her loyalty and devotion to the service of the Church. She leaves one son, to whom we extend our deepest sympathy.

MR. WALTER YEEND.

After suffering indifferent health, which caused him to give up the secretaryship of the Cheltenham Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association, Mr. Walter Yeend died on August 25th, aged 61, and was buried on the following Monday at Swindon Village.

Many members of the Association were present at the interment, and short touches were rung on the five bells in the tower of which Walter had been a ringer for many years.

Mr. Yeend became secretary of the branch in February, 1923, and resigned in March, 1946. He was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, took part in several peals and once called Holt's Original at Prestbury, but his greatest pleasure was in the teaching of others, and many owe much to his ability as a tutor. An in memoriam peal was rung at Leckhampton on September 10th. C. R.

LEICESTERSHIRE TOUR—continned

So the tour ended with eleven tower-bell peals and one handbell peal scored. Six members shared the conducting, there were 12 instances of 'first in the method' and six instances of 'first in the method as conductor.' Alan Cattell must be complimented on ringing his 100th peal at the age of 18. One peal was rung for the North Staffordshire Association, one for the Coventry Guild and the remaining ten for the Midland Counties Guild.

Those taking part in the tour were Fred E. Wilshaw and Fred W. Grocott, both of the North Staffs Association, who were responsible for the outcome of the tour in the first instance; Frank Trotman, of the Coventry Guild, without whose vehicle the 'movement of troops' would not have been possible; Alfred Mould, of the Derby Association, whose 500 c.c. proved invaluable; Ernest Morris, Walter Whitehead, Alan Cattell, John Bramley and John Morris, all of the Leicester Guild.

Sincere gratitude is extended to all incumbents and local captains of the towers visited, Messrs. Taylor and Co. for the use of the foundry bells, and the hospitality of all who helped to make the tour a happy and successful one. T. C. B.

BISHOP'S STORTFORD, HERTS.—On Aug. 31st, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: Miss D. Wacev 1, P. Warboys 2, W. T. Prior 3, E. Garbett 4, F. Springham 5, H. M. White 6, F. Bird (cond.) 7, T. Camp 8. First quarter of Triples for 2 and 8. Rung half-muffled as a tribute to the late Rev. Wm. McCarthy.

MR. WILLIAM TAYLOR.

AN APPRECIATION.

Mr. William Taylor was not quite 65 when he passed away, but up to his fatal illness he had lived a full life and found time to be interested in many things. In addition to his trade as a carpenter, he was a teacher at the Harris Technical College, Preston, for many years. He was a Freemason and an active Oddfellow.

Mr. Taylor learned to ring on the old six at Penwortham under his father, the late Mr. J. R. Taylor, and joined the Lancashire Association in 1902. Being gifted with a mathematical mind, he soon made rapid strides and rang peals when they were not as common as they are to-day. The theoretical side began to attract him and he retained his interest up to his death. In passing, an amusing incident happened between him and the Rev. H. Law James. He had written a long treatise to the latter on method construction and sent it proudly to H.L.J. for his perusal and approval. A curt reply ran: 'Some of your statements are new but not true, whilst others are true but not new.' Nothing daunted by this rebuff, Taylor carried on his researches and later became a firm friend and correspondent of Mr. J. A. Trollope.

Teaching beginners was also one of his hobbies and the present-day Penwortham band contains several of his pupils. It was a great grief to him that after being elected vice-president of the Lancashire Association he could not get to meetings.

Mr. Taylor suffered from gas poisoning in World War I. and never seemed the same man physically after that. In March, 1948, he was hurrying for a bus to attend night school when he fell in the road. A broken fibula was the result, but later Parish's disease was diagnosed, and though he kept cheerful up to a month ago, he had to take to his bed in late July and rapidly worsened.

Mr. Taylor had rung just 100 peals, ranging from Plain Bob to Superlative, and will be very much missed in the Preston area of Lancashire. May he rest in peace.

THE FUNERAL.

The funeral of Mr. Taylor took place on September 5th amidst many signs of esteem.

The family mourners were the widow, Mr. C. B. Taylor (brother), Major and Mrs. Taylor, Mr. R. W. Collet (nephews and niece), Mr. and Mrs. Barlow (brother and sister-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor (cousins) and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Collet.

The service was conducted by the Vicar of Penwortham, assisted by the Rev. F. F. Rigby, president of the Lancashire Association. The Freemasons' service at the graveside was conducted by the Rev. — Goodall, of Singleton. The Lancashire Association was represented by Messrs. P. Crook and A. Tomlinson (C.C. representatives), F. G. Bradley and L. Walmsley. Many ringers were present from nearly every branch, whilst the Masonic brethren attended in very large numbers. Half-muffled ringing took place before and after the service, and a course of Grandsire Triples was rung over the open grave by Messrs. E. Cowperthwaite 1-2, E. R. Martin 3-4, P. Crook 5-6, H. Lloyd 7-8.

And so passes to his rest a very worthy member of the Exercise, one who for all his great gifts never sought any publicity and had a complete absence of 'side' or affectation.

E. R. M.

MR. W. R. MELVILLE.

Mr. William R. Melville, of Kingsworthy, near Winchester, died suddenly on September 7th following a heart attack. A ringer for 63 years, he was associated with Holy Trinity Parish Church, Guildford, for 21 years. The funeral was at Kingsworthy Parish Church on September 12th. A memoir will appear in our next issue.

MR. CHARLES PETTY.

His many friends will learn with regret of the death of Mr. Charles Petty, of Christ Church, Wanstead, Essex. Mr. Petty passed away on August 25th at the age of 67.

The funeral service took place at Christ Church, Wanstead, the bells being rung half-muffled as the cortege entered the church. Among those attending the service were Messrs. J. Chalk, W. Nelder, C. Hughes and C. Morss, representing the Essex Association. At the interment, which took place at the Old Churchyard, Wanstead, a course of Grandsire Triples was rung by G. Dawson 1-2, F. V. Gant 3-4, A. W. Brighton 5-6, G. W. Faulkner 7-8.

Mr. Charles Petty had been connected with Christ Church for about 50 years. He was a keen and ardent churchman and had taught all his family to ring—his daughter, Mrs. J. Crampion, was for many years secretary of the S.W. Division of the Essex Association.

No great peal ringer, Sunday ringing and service to the Church were the essence of Mr. Petty's life. Of a cheery disposition, he had been in failing health for the past twelve months, having never recovered from the loss of his wife a few years ago.

May they rest in peace together.

MR. HAROLD SIMS.

The death occurred on September 3rd of Mr. Harold Sims, 37, Lower Church Street, Chepstow, Mon., at the age of 58 years. Although not a peal ringer, he was at one time a regular service ringer and towerkeeper at Chepstow. He had not rung in recent years, but his son has been doing a good deal with new entrants to keep the bells going for Sunday services, which they attend.

Testimony to the high respect in which he was held was evident from the large number present at Chepstow Cemetery. The ringers present included Messrs. Hobbs and T. Lewis, S. Jones (Newport), B. Tamplyn (Tidenham), who walked to the cemetery with his own grown bunch of flowers and is in his 75th year. Among the many wreaths was one from the ringers.

The bells were rung half-muffled in the evening, when upwards of 20 ringers were present, Mr. S. Jones acting as conductor.

MR. ARTHUR HARWIN.

A ringer for over 30 years at St. Martin's, Gospel Oak, Hampstead, Mr. Arthur Harwin, of 70, Colchester Road, Burnt Oak, Edgware, Middlesex, died on September 9th, aged 79. He formerly lived at Saxlingham Nethergate, Norfolk.

MR. JAMES MORGAN.

An original member of the Chester Diocesan Guild, Mr. James Morgan, of Pulford, died on September 4th, aged 81 years. The funeral was at Pulford on September 7th. A memoir will appear in our next issue.

MR. F. W. ROGERS' 400 SURPRISE PEALS

The following is a list of Mr. Rogers' peals:—Cambridge Surprise Maximus 5; York Surprise Maximus 1; Cambridge Surprise Royal 49 (conducted 18); Yorkshire Surprise Royal 12 (6); Spliced Cambridge and Yorkshire Royal 3; New Cambridge Royal 1; Cambridge Surprise Major 71 (38); New Cambridge Surprise Major 7 (5); Superlative Surprise Major 61 (29); London Surprise Major 80 (33); Bristol Surprise Major 47 (21); Yorkshire Surprise Major 27 (16); Painswick Surprise Major 4 (4); Lincolnshire Surprise Major 4 (2); Pudsey Surprise Major 1 (1); Norfolk Surprise Major 1; Rutland Surprise Major 1 (1); Ashtead Surprise Major 1 (1); Spliced Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major 1; Spliced (4 methods) 20 (6); Cambridge Surprise Minor 3 (3); total 400 (184).

Cambridge University Guild

A SUSSEX TOUR.

Brighton was the headquarters this year for the annual tour of the Cambridge University Guild. Fifteen members took part, including Miss Benedicta Whistler, the first lady member to attend the tours. The nucleus stayed at the Central Hotel, the party being organised by B. D. Price.

On Monday, August 29th, we met at the Good Shepherd, Brighton, where there were just enough to ring the octave. After dinner, a larger party rang at Aldrington, and ten methods were rung on the pleasant six. Tuesday saw an unfruitful excursion to Cuckfield, where two attempts at Double Norwich came to grief. However, we joined the 'extras' at Bolney, and the mellow eight soon swayed to Surprise. After a good lunch at Cuckfield we hared off to ring at Hurstpierpoint, and then on the spur of the moment decided to ring at Ditchling, where the 4th is the lightest of the eight, and the 6th is lighter than the 2nd. There followed a dash into Brighton (certain members were alleged to reach 53 m.p.h. through Preston!) for tea and a successful peal attempt for Kent Royal at St. Peter's.

Wednesday started with a highly illegal dash to the beach before breakfast, and an excursion to Ringmer, where a peal of Cambridge was scored. In the afternoon we visited two eights in Eastbourne (St. Mary's and Christ Church), where we were honoured by the company of ladies of the Universities Association. Again more illegal bathing, a rush back to dinner, and we joined in the practice on the ten at St. Nicholas', Brighton.

We held our Corporate Communion at St. Peter's, Brighton, on Thursday morning, the Rev. B. F. Sheppard officiating. We owe our best thanks to the verger, who helped in making the service so beautiful, and to the lady helper who gave us tea afterwards.

After breakfast, the organiser got in the wrong train, and half the peal party saw their train sail out of the station. We met late at Chichester Cahedral, but scored a peal of Superlative Surprise. We were by now 50 minutes behind, and a certain well-known clergyman was observed running down West Street eating a meringue on the way to the station! Unfortunately we had to omit Fittleworth (Canon Simpson's bells), but soon the eight of St. Mary's, Pulborough, were tapping round, and a touch of Cambridge was brought round by a s-ngl-. Later in the day, at the annual meeting, it was decided to hold the next tour at Cambridge, it being the fifth year after the last Cambridge meet.

Friday saw some concentrated tower-snatching to the disgust of the more peal-minded. The fine eight at St. Peter's, Henfield, were soon ringing Double Norwich and Bristol, then on to Steyning and Upper Beeding. At lunch, attendance reached its maximum of 14. Shoreham made the fourth octave of the day. Here, midst electricians and water-pipe engineers, the first course by all of Double Coslany was rung (not without snapping!). In the afternoon we sampled the heavy six at Goring and the lighter six at Tarring.

On Saturday, unfortunately, we met one short at Fairwarp, but various Minor methods were rung on the fine back six. In all we rang at twenty towers, the methods rung being Cambridge, London, Bristol, Yorkshire, Superlative Surprise, Kent and Oxford, St. Clement's, Avalon Court, Double Coslany, Little Bob, Double Court, Woodbine, Plain Bob, Stedman, Grandsire. We are indeed indebted to the tower leaders and clergy for so kindly granting the facilities we enjoyed so much.

KIRBY BELLARS, LEICS.—1,260 Grandsire Doubles: J. Gibson 1, F. Littlewood 2, J. H. Cook (cond.) 3, H. Bell 4, H. Clayton 5. For the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Flint and for Mr. Flint's 71st birthday.

Midland Counties Guild

Rolleston-on-Dove, situated in the northern part of the Diocese of Lichfield, was the venue for the Guild meeting on September 3rd.

Bells were available from 3 p.m. onwards, and methods rung included Double Norwich, Spliced Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major, Little Bob, Plain Bob, Stedman, Grandsire and Oxford Bob Triples, whilst other requests were met by the Ringing Master (Mr. B. G. Key).

Through the kindness of the churchwardens and the local members, all present were entertained to an excellent tea, for which the chairman (Mr. W. H. Curson) offered appreciation, also adding thanks to the Rector — absent through illness—for use of the bells, with a wish for his speedy restoration to health. A collection for the Bell Repair Fund amounted to 16s. 6d.

Visitors were welcomed from Derby, Norton-in-the-Moors and Copt Oak, whilst members attended from Burton (St. Paul's and St. Modwen's), Ashby, Repton, Measham, Lullington, Ticknall, Overseal and Netherseale.

70th BIRTHDAY PEAL

Mr. Frederick Sheraton, of Chester-le-Street, learnt to ring at the local tower over fifty years ago and he has been associated with it throughout his ringing career, except for a break of a few years when he was working and living near Hexham. On his retirement about two years ago he returned to reside in Chester-le-Street and a recent removal has brought him to live almost on the doorstep of the belfry.

Fred is well known as a ringer in this area, as he was for many years vice-president of the Western District of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association. His first peal was on the original six at Chester-le-Street in June, 1897, with his brother as conductor. Chester-le-Street was the obvious choice for a peal to celebrate his 70th birthday, and arrangements were made to ring Stedman Triples. After this failed plans were hurriedly revised and a substitute was called up by telephone. While awaiting his arrival the band partook of refreshment it had not earned, which was generously provided by Mr. and Mrs. Sheraton The band tenders its thanks for the hospitality, the quality of which may well account for the energy with which the ringers returned to the tower to tackle Kent Major and ring what is believed to be the quickest peal on the bells.

Incidentally, Mr. William Sheraton, who conducted the 1897 peal, is still ringing regularly at Houghton-le-Spring at the age of 82. Fred Sheraton at 70 was not the 'father' of the peal band, that honour belonging to Mr. J. E. R. Keen, Ringing Master at Newcastle Cathedral.

Leaving this longevity, it may be mentioned that the youngest member of the band (Mr. Denis A. Bayles, the conductor) scored his 100th peal, which appropriately enough was in his home tower.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

BICESTER DEANERY BRANCH.

The quarterly meeting was held on September 3rd at All Saints', Middleton Stoney. This beautiful old church is ideally situated in Middleton Park.

The ringing commenced at 3 p.m. and continued until 7.30 p.m. The Guild service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. W. Sawyer) and the sermon was preached by the Rev. H. E. Jones (Rector of Fringford), who pointed out that ringers were the first 'broadcasters' and that their work was not only to call the worshippers to church, but to enable those who were unable to attend the service to join in in spirit.

The business meeting followed tea and was presided over by the Rector. There were present Mr. W. Hibbert (Guild secretary), Miss M. Cross (Guild librarian), Mr. C. Kinch (branch secretary) and 23 members and friends.

RINGING TOURS

TRADITIONAL from the days of the late Rev. F. E. Robinson has been the arranging of ringing tours. Primarily organised for the enjoyment of the participants, these ringing holidays undoubtedly serve a useful form of propaganda. In a recent issue Mr. L. A. Wilson, of Wootton Bassett, told how his ambition was fired after a visit by the Rev. F. E. Robinson. It seemed absolutely outside his grasp to reach their standard, but he won through and rang peals with the mighty. There must be many others who have received similar encouragement.

This year the number of tours has been quite equal to previous years. Some have contained elements of missionary enterprise as in Yorkshire and Ireland. The latter tour, led by Mr. Harold J. Poole, limited peal ringing to not more than one a day, the evenings being spent in social engagements, at which local ringers frequently joined the party. Knowing the gift of Leicester ringers to stage a party that will appeal to ringers, we feel sure that their visit provided an encouraging fillip to Irish ringing.

What has impressed us is the way the local press has co-operated to feature some of these tours. When the Universities Association visited Tiverton, a five-column picture appeared in the 'Devon and Somerset News.' There are critics who regard ringers as having 'one-track' minds, and to read that the visitors included 'Doctors of Science and Literature,' M.A.'s and B.A.'s and students of the arts and sciences' is indeed refreshing. The ringing family embraces all classes who love bells and ringing. Inside the belfry there is a common denominator, the ability of the individual to strike his bell true and to be the master of the method. All other honours count as nought.

Many of the tourists are young people. Perhaps a striking example of youthful enterprise is the Society of Roving Ringers, who for three years have carried out an extensive programme on cycles, spending nights at youth hostels. Their programmes were designed not for peal ringing but the privilege of adding to their list of towers. It was interesting to observe that in their second week a 12-bell tower was visited each day. The experience gained was invaluable, and there is no question that each returned to his home tower with added knowledge of the art.

Some of this year's tours have a particularly meritorious list of peals. The finest list was that of Mr. J. E. Cawser's party, who toured Suffolk and Norfolk, ringing 20 Surprise peals in a week without a futile attempt. Their Somerset tour of last year is still fresh in mind. Conducting on this tour was shared by Dr. J. C. E. Simpson, Messrs. Leslie W. G. Morris, John Worth, John E. Bibby, C. Kenneth Lewis and J. Edward Cawser. Another higher method tour was that arranged by Mr. Philip A. Corby in Devon and Cornwall with eleven Surprise peals brought home.

It has invariably been the custom on ringing tour for peals to be credited to the Association or Guild in which the peals were rung. An exception to this unwritten rule was provided by the recent Leicestershire tour, when not one peal was rung for the Leicester Diocesan Guild. While our attention has not been drawn to what might be regarded as an act of discourtesy to the Guild in question, we feel certain that others have noted this departure from what is generally regarded as a fundamental principle when ringing in a Guild's territory, unless there are exceptional circumstances. No explanation has been given for the departure, but we hope in future that those organising tours will give due acknowledgment to the area in which they ring.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The longest peal of Surprise ever rung in Leicestershire was scored at Gilmorton last Saturday—13,024 Bristol Surprise Major in 7 hours and 28 minutes, being composed and conducted by Mr. W. P. Whitehead. This 13,024 Bristol supplants the 12,896 Cambridge rung at Stoney Stanton.

Mr. William Ranford has 'completed the circle' of Upton-on-Severn tower.

The peal of Cambridge at St. Mary's Church, Burghill, was not the first of Surprise on the bells as claimed. A peal of Bristol was rung there in 1932.

Mr. G. W. Ashdown, not Watson, rang the 2nd in the peal at Robin Hood's Bay on Aug. 13th. He appears in the picture of the Yorkshire tourists in our issue of Sept. 2nd, in the third row, fifth from the left.

It was a family affair at the recent practice at South Wingfield Church, Derbyshire. Mr. J. P. Tarlton (formerly of North Wingfield), aged 87, rang with his two daughters and son-in-law (Mr. B. Wheeler) and his granddaughter, Pat Wheeler, aged 12. Mr. Tarlton only gave up Sunday ringing this last year.

Special mention should be made of Miss Shirley Bampton, who in the course of her first peal at Thrybergh, Yorks, found that her rope was unthreaded in the fifth 720. She wrapped the spare rope round her hand and finished the peal. Miss Bampton, who is 15, and Miss Cynthia Edmondson, another first pealer, have been ringing for 10 months.

Mr. R. W. Stannard was unable to take part in the peal at North Ockendon in honour of his 80th birthday owing to the after effects of a sprained ankle. He rang his first peal 63 years ago and hopes to ring a few more yet. The peal was in the nature of a tribute from youth to old age, being conducted by David W. Beard, aged 16 years. Well done, Dave!

The genial secretary of the Midland Counties Guild (Mr. Joseph W. Cotton) had the pleasure of taking part in three peals in one day. The peal of Bristol at Netherseal was the second in the method on the bells. The first was rung over 35 years ago by the famous Pye brothers and company. A footnote on a tablet recording this peal disposes of the view of a ringer some weeks ago in 'The Ringing World' that an incentive is needed for peal ringing. The tablet gives each ringer's total peals, which add up to 3,000!

Mr. R. Davies was erroneously stated as hailing from Nutfield in Belfry Gossip of Sept. 9th. He lives at West Croydon.

During his first two years of ringing, John L. Morris (13) has rung 25 peals—and, comments his mentor, Mr. Frank C. W. Knight, 'all without a medical certificate.'

Mr. T. Fowler, now in his 82nd year, has been a regular service ringer at St. Mary's, Wilby, Northants, since 1893 and is still going strong.

After the 'silver-wedding' peal at Syston for Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Payne, the company were entertained to an excellent tea. The conductor proposed the continued health of the 'happy pair' and made a small present on behalf of all the ringers. Mr. Payne's son, Bernard Stedman Payne, rang in this, his first peal.

The visit of Mr. John Thomas to Wigtoft, near Boston, for the purpose of hanging a new treble bell to the existing ring of five was made the occasion of a peal attempt at the Parish Church, Spalding. The band successfully rang a peal of Stedman Triples. This was the first peal to be rung by the Vicar of Wigtoft, the Rev. A. A. Muxlow, who is president of the Eastern Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild.

LEICESTER RINGERS' MEMORABLE IRISH TOUR

A Cordial Welcome

FOR the first time in history a party of ringers from the Midlands have toured Southern Ireland. The tour was organised by Harold Poole and the party consisted mainly of members of the service band at Leicester Cathedral. Arrangements in Ireland were made by Fred E. Dukes, secretary of the Irish Association.

This was not the generally accepted peal tour of two or three peals each day. Only one peal each day had been arranged and sufficient time allowed for meeting and spending some time socially with the local ringers.

The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Poole, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ballard, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Milner, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Morris and Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Cheney, Kathleen Tilley, Dorothy Udale, Betty Faulknall, John Smith, Frank Cheney, Joseph Carter, Harrison Carter, Percy Carter, Redvers Elkington, Herrick Bowley, Harry Wayne, Alan Jacques, Tom Francis and Fredk. Dukes.

The advance party left Leicester for North Wales on August 25th and were met at Bangor by Vincent Childs. A peal of Lincolnshire Surprise Major was rung at St. David's Church, Glanadda, on Thursday evening.

On Friday morning we travelled over the Menai Bridge to Anglesey and rang at Beaumaris. We met once again Albert Hughes and were glad to see he was making progress from his recent illness, sufficiently so to ring in courses of Bristol and London Surprise. He reminded the writer and Mrs. Poole of peals together some 24 years ago, and upon reflection we all began to realise how 'time marched on.' Vincent Childs very kindly piloted us through to Holyhead, where we met the remainder of the party (except Tom Francis) in the queue for the customs shed.

THE TOURISTS OUTSIDE CASHEL CATHEDRAL, THE CHOIR OF WHICH OFFICIATED AT THE SPECIAL SERVICE HELD THERE.

FOG STOPS PEAL.

Tunes on handbells on the deck of SS. 'Cambria' provided great interest for the passengers, and then four of the party settled down for a peal of Bob Major. Some of the passengers—uninitiated in the art—appeared to be spellbound by the ringing and one or two stood with their eyes glued on the ringers for half an hour at a time. The half-way came up in grand style and the peal appeared to be well in the bag. Alas! after 1 hour and 48 minutes' ringing an order came down from the bridge that the fog signals from land (it had turned very foggy) could not be heard and that the ringing must stop. This surely must be the first time in history that a peal in progress has had to be stopped owing to fog.

A seasick sweepstake had been arranged—first casualty the winner — but the proceeds were still intact upon arrival 'yon' side. (Any person found with fingers down his throat was liable to fine of one dollar.)

We were met by Fred Dukes at West Row Station, Dublin, and, believe it or not, all luggage for the whole party was loaded into or on to his little Ford 8 car. It was a very happy Fred Dukes who greeted us with 'Welcome to Ireland—this is the day we have been awaiting.'

Saturday morning found us all at St. Patrick's National Cathedral facing the Press photographer in the belfry. We met here Pat Murphy and other members of St. Patrick's band. St. Patrick's dates back to the 13th century. There was a ring of eight bells in the tower (by Perdue with some recast by Murphy, Dublin) since 1670. In 1897, 10 bells (45 cwt.) were presented by Lord Iveagh and the original eight bells were preserved. In 1909 Sir Richard R. Cherry, LL.D., then Attorney-General (afterwards Lord Chief Justice of Ireland) and a ringer at St. Patrick's, presented two trebles and hung the semitone for ringing. In 1923 a further treble was added—the gift of Lady Seeds-Kaye in memory of her husband, the Queen's Advocate-General. St. Patrick's, therefore, has two rings of twelve—major 45 cwt. and minor 30 cwt.

SWEATED LABOUR.

Now for the peal of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus — tenor 25 cwt., the heaviest yet tackled by the band. Sidney Cheney reported sick and was unable to ring. An application by him for the sweepstake prize was turned down. Tom Francis had not arrived by 9 20 a.m. and the substitutes, Kathleen Tilley and Mrs. H. J. Poole, had tried their ropes. 'All ready,' says Kath, when a banging on the belfry door in no uncertain manner announced the arrival of Tom Francis. His boat was 2 hours late. The peal was brought in 3 hours and 41 minutes, and as this was the first experience for several members of the band on bells over 25 cwt., some of the striking was not up to the usual Leicester standard. The tenorman had some sweated labour, but as he remarked afterwards, 'A good sweat in between two good meals hurts nobody.' Whilst this peal was in progress the remainder of the party were taken on a sight-seeing tour of the city.

On Saturday afternoon we journeyed by train to Drogheda, where a meeting of the Irish Association had been arranged. The ring of eight at St. Peter's Church is in need of urgent attention and our best wishes go out to the local ringers and others in the special effort they are making to get them done. To turn in the tenor was a herculean effort, but three of our boys did it, including the baby of the party—the youth from Wood'us. An excellent tea was provided by the local ringers and their ladies, and a great welcome to the visitors was extended on behalf of the Irish Association and the local company. Fred Dukes was presented with a silver plated tankard, suitably inscribed, by the tourists in appreciation of his efforts on their behalf.

On Sunday morning some rang at St. Patrick's Cathedral and others at Christ Church (Diocesan) Cathedral on the peal of ten—tenor 43 cwt. Stedman Caters and Cambridge Surprise Royal were rung.

In the afternoon a peal of Dublin Surprise Major was rung at St. George's Church, Dublin. These are a Mears eight, dated 1828, the gift of Francis Johnston, architect of this church (who was a practical ringer, having had a ring of bells in his own back garden), and his wife. The bells were rehung in 1928 by Taylors. After the peal the tourists were entertained to tea in the parochial hall by the local ringers. In the evening a visit to Bull Wall Dolymount, a few miles from Dublin, proved interesting, and some of the boys and girls enjoyed a swim.

FINEST SCENERY.

Monday morning found us astir early, and the five members of the party who had been licensed to drive in Ireland collected the five cars which had been hired. The whole of the party was assembled and we left Dublin in convoy with all six cars duly labelled. We travelled via Kingstown, Dalkey and Killway—'Ireland's Bay of Naples—and into Bray, where the bells of Christ Church were put to good use for about half an hour. When this church was completed the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone happened to be staying with the Earl of Neath nearby in the late 1870's and admired the tower and spire of this fine church. He expected to learn that there was a ring of bells there, and on learning to the contrary at once gave a cheque of £50 to start a fund for a ring of bells. The subscription list soon mounted up, which enabled Taylor's to put in a ring of eight bells (tenor 28 cwt.). They have been ringing ever since (1880) and dry rot has now necessitated a rehanging job for which a subscription list has been opened. The bells are expected to be taken down shortly.

The finest scenery in Ireland was passed through on leaving Bray. The six cars went by the Rocky Valley, which is situated between Sugar Loaf and Douce Mountains, both the highest in the North Wicklow hills. Passing around Sugar Loaf, we passed through Roundwood, the site of the Dublin City water reservoirs. From here the scenery became entrancing, with hills sweeping down to the valleys, forests on the hills and rivers rippling over the rocks as they made their way down to the sea. We turned at Laragh, up to Glendalough, where the remains of the seven churches, St. Kirins Kitchen, the Ancient Cross and Round Tower were seen. Leaving Glendalough, we travelled by the Vale of Laragh and Vale of Clara to the Meeting of Waters, and saw Tom Moore's Tree, under which, tradition says, this famous poet sat when he wrote the 'Meeting of the Waters.' County Wicklow has every reason to claim the title of the 'Garden of Ireland.' We arrived in Arklow on time—for lunch.

A good peal of London Surprise Major was rung at St. Saviour's Church (tenor 22 cwt.), and was Fred Duke's first peal in the method. This peal was rung for the Leicester Diocesan Guild and was the 50th anniversary of the first peal on the bells, which was rung by a band from Loughborough, Leics. The church was built by Lord Carysfort, who also presented the bells. During this peal other visitors went to the Arklow Pottery, which proved to be very interesting. In the evening the whole party paid a visit to Beatrice, Countess of Wicklow's residence to see Titania's Palace. This is a model fairy queen's palace, the furnishings being in miniature, and was built by the Countess of Wicklow's first husband, Sir Neville Wilkinson. The miniature belfry contains a ring of 12 handbells by Mears, and tunes are played mechanically on them. Fred Dukes had his handbells with him and tunes and change ringing proved of great interest to the Countess. The journey back to Arklow on the pot-hole pitted by-roads proved too much for 'Gaffer's' car. The exhaust pipe became detached and for safety had to be removed. It was in this capacity that Mechanic Wayne and Blacksmith Milner proved their worth.

HANDBELLS TO 1 A.M.

Upon returning to the Royal Hotel, Arklow, where we all stopped, we were requested by the landlord to ring the handbells. This greatly interested not only the residents, but also many who had come to the hotel from the street upon hearing the bells. All sorts of special requests were complied with and it was after 1 a.m. when the party closed down.

Tuesday morning brought a division in the party. One peal band remained at Arklow and attempted a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major. This unfortunately came to grief after about three-quarters of an hour's ringing.

The remainder of the party travelled by Aughrim Valley, Tinahely, Carnew, to Clonegal. The traditional transport of donkey and cart was much in evidence, and three calves which obviously had never seen a motor-car before provided a rodeo show before their owner was able to overtake and stop them. At Clonegal (a small hamlet) we stopped for a drink and adjoining the licensed premises was a small general store. The first visitor in the shop found nylons and a shout went up to the other ladies. To our surprise it was found that the nylons on sale were manufactured at Burbage, Leics.

Continuing the journey we travelled over very rough roads to Newtownbarry and Mysha1 (here the Parish Church is a miniature of Salisbury Cathedral), Fenagh, Bagnalstown to Kilkenny. A lunch was awaiting the visitors here arranged in the parochial hall by the local ringers, and we were also received by the Dean of Kilkenny and Dr. Seaver, the Dean's Vicar.

A peal of Bristol Surprise Major was rung on the eight (tenor 20 cwt.) at St. Canice's Cathedral, this being the first peal on the bells. Originally there were six bells here in 1670 by Perdue and Covey. Two others were added by Murphy, of Dublin. The bells were rehung by Mears in 1925. Non-ringers visited Kilkenny Castle, the seat of the Marquis of Ormonde. This dates back to the 12th century. An excellent tea was enjoyed in the same hall and after thanks of the party had been expressed and some entertainment on the handbells, we journeyed on to Waterford.

Society of College Youths

By the kind invitation of Mr. E. H. Lewis, president of the Central Council and a loyal and enthusiastic College Youth, the September meeting was held at Brasted, Kent. Ringing took place at three towers, and it was interesting to see how twelve-bell ringers shaped at six-bell ringing. The results were quite satisfactory, and good striking, well up to College Youths' standard, was achieved in various methods. The fact that Brasted bells are hung anti-clockwise proved to be no deterrent.

A goodly company of members were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis and family to a most sumptuous tea at their home at Moorcocks. It is exactly ten years since the Society visited this lovely place, owing to its occupation by the military. The Society has, however, been entertained by Mr. Lewis at Pitstone, and his invitation each year always ensures a popular and well-attended meeting.

At the business meeting, held on the lawn, several new members were elected, and the Master, Mr. J. A. Waugh, gracefully expressed the thanks of all present to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis for their kind hospitality. Mr. Lewis responded and expressed the hope that they would be able to meet in similar fashion for many more years. College Youths are certainly 'going places.' J. F. S.

A NOTABLE BIRTHDAY PEAL

When the Ancient Society of College Youths held their summer meeting at Henfield, a suggestion was made by Mr. Alan R. Macdonald that the September peal at Southwark should be rung as a birthday peal for the Earl of Shaftesbury. This was received enthusiastically, and so on September 3rd a peal of Grandsire Cinques was successfully accomplished on the Earl's birthday.

The Earl of Shaftesbury is a very highly respected member of the Ancient Society and is a practical ringer. He is also H.M. Lieutenant of Dorset, a vice-president of the Royal Choral Society, Prov. Grand Master of Dorset and president of the Shaftesbury Society. He was chairman of the Dorset County Council 1924-1946 and one time president of the English Church Union. It, therefore, was a great pleasure for those who took part in the peal to pay a compliment to this great man, and by a happy coincidence Sept. 2nd was the birthday of the conductor, and Sept. 1st the birthday of the ringer of the 6th.

MIDDLESEX AND OXFORD

JOINT MEETING AT HILLINGDON.

Ideal weather and a goodly company of 70 enjoyed this annual event on September 3rd, which was the 19th occasion the two societies had met at this beautiful Middlesex church.

A warm welcome to St. John's was accorded to the gathering by that distinguished member of the Middlesex Association, Sir Guildford Craig. Some very pretty striking was heard on the ten at St. John's, and also on the eight at St. Andrew's.

At the service, which was conducted by the Rev. E. S. C. Lowman, Vicar of Bray, the new form of service of the Middlesex Association, arranged by its president, the Rev Percival Gough, was used for the first time, Miss Gutteridge, of the Oxford Guild, being at the organ.

At the meeting, which followed tea, the Rev. Lowman presided, and the secretary drew attention to the passing of the Rev. A. M. Bashford. An appreciation of his life and work in the parish was given by Mr. F. W. Goodfellow, and the meeting observed silence.

Proceedings closed with a social held in the Church Hall, Mr. Tony Price rendering a course of Double Norwich on the piano. F.A.F.

OUTINGS

CARBIS BAY.

The Carbis Bay ringers had an outing on September 3rd, in which they were joined by the church choir and servers. The party visited Fowey, Lostwithiel and St. Austell. There was ringing on the six bells (tenor 9½ cwt.) at Lostwithiel, recast and augmented in 1924 by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston. The tower and spire of the church are unusual for Cornwall, an octagonal lantern being surmounted by an octagonal spire 110ft. high. The tourists were accompanied by Mr. F. W. Elliott, of Rickmansworth.

SS. PHILIP AND JACOB GUILD, BRISTOL.

On Saturday, August 27th, the SS. Philip and Jacob Guild set out by coach for a trip over the fine Wiltshire Downs.

The weather left nothing to be desired and the shortage of cigarettes was never apparent, being constantly produced from a seemingly inexhaustible box by Annie Brown, who, strangely enough, was never once caught having a whiff herself.

A pleasant run brought the party to Warminster and some good ringing followed on the Minster bells, to the tune of Cambridge, Yorkshire and London Surprise Major. Then followed tea on the lawn, during which the Rev. T. P. Tindall could not resist a mighty swipe at an over-indulgent wasp and upset the tea; result, a mad scramble and, of course, the escape of the wily wasp.

The next destination was Westbury, and what delight it was to ring and listen to the glorious bells at All Saints' Church. Some excellent touches of Stedman, Double Norwich and Bristol Surprise Major were rung and the party was sorry to leave.

The last port of call was Trowbridge, where the Guild was met by that ever genial friend of ringers, Sam Hector. The twelve bells were raised in peal and a very pleasant time was spent ringing Stedman Cinques and Cambridge Maximus. To cool the ringers off, Treble Ten and Grandsire Cinques were rung on handbells in the churchyard, to the enjoyment and apparent mystification of a small crowd of passers-by. The conducting was shared by Annie Brown, E. J. Brown, R. C. Seager, T. Harris, A. E. Reeves, R. G. Bryant and H. Knight. E. J. B.

SLYMBRIDGE, GLOS.

The annual outing was held on August 27th, towers in the home county and Somerset being visited. The ringers, accompanied by the Rector, church officers and friends, reached Bath at 9 a.m. and were welcomed by the Vicar of St. Mary's, Bathwick (the Rev. W. Jennings). A short service was conducted by Canon W. H. Thomas, after which the bells were rung for an hour After visits to the Abbey, Roman baths and other places of interest, the party left for Longleat, where there was a conducted tour of the mansion. Lunch was enjoyed in the beautiful grounds, after which the party left for Frome for an hour's ringing.

Shepton Mallet was the next stop, for tea, at which the Rector voiced the thanks of all to the captain and secretary of the Slymbridge tower for making the arrangements. He welcomed visitors from neighbouring towers in Gloucestershire. He regretted the absence of Mr. J. Shipp, churchwarden, through illness, and Mrs. Shipp, both of whom had looked forward to the outing. The best wishes of the party were extended to Mr. Shipp for a complete recovery. Mr. H. J. Hobbs (captain) responded. Mr. T. Price, of Stonehouse, also spoke of the pleasure it gave him to be there.

Glastonbury was the next stop, where an hour was spent at St. Benedict's Church and the Abbey ruins were visited. The journey was continued through Wells, Cheddar, to Axbridge for the last ringing of the day. Slymbridge was reached in the very late evening. H. J. H.

THE UNIVERSITIES ASSOCIATION

EXETER WEEK, AUGUST 12th-20th, 1949.

The Universities Association fifth summer ringing week was centred at Exeter (headquarters, Thomas Hall), where early on Friday afternoon the company of nearly 40 started to arrive, representatives of nine universities: Bristol, Cambridge, Edinburgh, Liverpool, London. Nottingham, Oxford, Reading and Wales. That evening we had our first taste of Devonshire bells, the fine eight at Heavitree (tenor 26 cwt.), and found it highly palatable.

Another Taylor eight of similar weight rewarded various Saturday morning exertions at St. Peter's, Tiverton, where we received a great welcome, complete with photographer and reporter. In the afternoon two peal attempts were made, successfully in three Minor methods at Ide, unsuccessfully at Alphington, where Cambridge Major was the method. Non-pealers enjoyed the recently augmented eight (tenor 18 cwt.) at Exminster and the six at Kenn.

As is our custom, on Sunday we divided into two groups for service ringing: in the city at St. David's (8), St. Thomas' (8) and Heavitree, and further afield at Alphington and Newton St. Cyres (6). Of three quarter-peal attempts, only one came round, Double Norwich at Heavitree, this being greatly enjoyed, even if slightly hurried in 49 minutes to finish by service time. Our guest at supper was Preb. E. V. Cox, president of the Devonshire Guild, and a U.A. member, and for coffee afterwards we were joined by E. J. Taylor and A. Payne, from Tiverton.

THE HARDEST DAY.

Monday proved to be the hardest and longest day of the tour, especially for the cyclists, with a choice selection of Devon hills and lanes in reaching Dunsford and Cheriton Bishop, both sixes. Crediton was reached by lunch time (sandwiches and cider), and regaled we climbed to the spacious ringing chamber of the Church of the Holy Cross for an hour on the glorious bells (tenor 27 cwt.). Two more eights followed at Thorverton and Silverton, the latter being quite musical, with a 16 cwt. tenor of noticeable richness. By 6.30 p.m., we were back at the Cathedral for the long-anticipated ring on these famous bells, tenored by 72½ cwt. 'Grandison.' The Thomas eight was rung up in peal, and when all was ready a well-struck bobbed course of Stedman Cinques was achieved, this bringing words of admiration from two members of the Cathedral band. Then followed Grandsire and Stedman Cinques, and three leads of Treble Twelve. The visitors' book duly signed, noting the names of the recent Cambridge Maximus peal band (to which, incidentally, we heard several tributes paid), we descended to the nave with a feeling of having experienced an occasion which would not quickly fade from the memory. At 9.30 p.m. we embarked on a lecture, given by Mr. A. Yorke-Bramble, on 'Grid Analysis,' illustrated with over twenty carefully-prepared lantern slides. But for the lateness of he hour, an exciting discussion would have ensued.

Tuesday, by contrast, was easy, spent southwards towards Exmouth, first call being at Topsham (6), and second at Woodbury (8). At East Budleigh (6) we were met by enthusiastic Brian Pidgeon, who rang with us a course of London Minor, and told us of his keen local band. Before tea, we rang on the eight at Littleham, afterwards on the fine octave at Withycombe Raleigh (tenor 14¼ cwt.), and to complete the day's bag on the six bells at Lympstone. In the evening the committee met, their deliberations coinciding exactly with a handbell peal tapped round in 115 minutes.

The next morning we attended a corporate Communion service at the Cathedral, and after breakfast divided up for peal attempts, Grandsire Caters being scored on the lovely ring of 10 at Cullompton (except for St. Andrew's, Plymouth, the only one still ringable in Devon) and Double Norwich at Clyst Honiton. Non-pealers were well entertained at Stoke Canon (6), where the Vicar, the Rev. H. W. Gardiner, provided refreshments, and on the beautiful bells of St. John-the-Baptist, Broadclyst, where Brigadier Penrose was equally hospitable. The afternoon towers were Clyst Hydon (6) and Braduinch (8), and, homeward bound, a call was made at St. Michael's, Pinhoe (6). Wednesday ended with a general meeting of the Association, at which it was agreed to accept an invitation to hold the 1950 week at Nottingham.

Thursday may justifiably claim to have been the peak day of the whole tour, when cars, motor bikes, tandems and cycles were forsaken, and all piled into a coach. First ring was at Chudleigh (8), then to Bovey Tracey (8), when, after a quick 'touch,' about a dozen of us were taken on to ring for the wedding of Philip Gray (London) and Joan Houldsworth (Oxford) at Wolborough Church (8), the wedding 'touch' being spliced London and Oxford. Meantime the coach had returned to transport the main party to enjoy the Gillett and Johnston octave (installed in 1929) at St. Michael's, Kingsteignton, reunion being effected outside the Courtenay Restaurant, Newton Abbot, as bride and groom left the reception to the sound of handbells.

AT BUCKFAST ABBEY.

Buckfast Abbey was the next rendezvous, and here we had the privilege of ringing on a modern twelve, tenor 41 cwt., hung and fitted out in fashion par excellence. The 7½ ton bourbon bell, with its balanced clapper, was also a great attraction. Tea had been arranged for us by Mr. A. L. Bennett, and we were sorry not to meet him in person. Then came the wild beauty of Dartmoor, first as we drove to Widecombe-in-the-Moor (where we found a lovely six), again as we went on to Moreton Hampstead (8), and it was a very happy company that sped home to Exeter. At 10 u.m. we sang Compline at the tiny mission church of St. Anthony's, Cowley (by invitation of the Rev. Blakeman Ball), this being conducted by the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow, with Wilfrid Moreton at the organ.

Friday was spent 'free lance' and relatively unorganised in the Torquay district. True, there was a ringing programme, but with St. Marychurch bells 'blitzed,' and Paignton bells under repair, the number of towers was reduced to three, Babbacombe (8), Upton (8) and Cockington (6), with Teignmouth (St. Michael's) being 'grabbed' by some.

Back at Thomas Hall, we indulged in farewell antics, a barrel of Devonshire cider having been duly installed, and the carpet rolled up for dancing It was real fun, and our only relaxation from bells the whole week through. There was one awful moment when we feared Jack Worrall was about to part company from his beard, and another much-appreciated one when 'Daisy Bell,' after being sung in traditional manner, was transposed by 'grid analysis.' Miss Margery Pairpoint, the warden, and Miss Elsie Green, the matron, joined in our merriment, and somewhere during proceedings were entranced by the eloquence of Gilbert Thurlow, who in inimitable manner expressed the high appreciation of all of us for the wonderful hospitality we had received at their hands, and presented each with a book as a lasting momento of our stay.

At Saturday's breakfast, Denis Layton, supported by Wilfrid Moreton, proposed votes of thanks to those of our own party who had done so much to make the Exeter week such a happy and successful one; to John Hatcher, its organiser and administrator; to Marie Cross for once more assuming the unenviable job of controlling the ringing; to Geoffrey Carter for being himself and for producing that barrel of cider; and to A. York-Bramble for giving us 'first hearing' of 'Grid Analysis.' To him must now be added in this printed record the thanks of the University Association to Devonshire for a really wonderful time; to the principal of University College for giving us first priority to Thomas Hall; to all the incumbents of the churches we visited; to many members of the Devonshire Guild, including its general secretary, Mr. F. C. Smale, and Central Council representative, Mr. A. L. Bennett; and to Peter Semmens, until recently Master of the Oxford University Society, who planned and arranged our visits to most of the towers.

APOLOGY TO MR. J. R. WORRALL

'Eglwys Newydd.'

Dear Sir,—I regret I erred in spelling Mr. Jack Worrall's name. Having sported his beard in public, I should be grateful if you would publish my apology as above.—Yours faithfully, F. J. BAILEY.

Cardiff.

THE LATE MR. R. T. HIBBERT

Dear Sir,—The recast tenor in memory of the above was dedicated in December last, and a very beautiful brass plate is to be dedicated (D.V.) at Ilsley Church on October 29th at 3.30 p.m.

It was suggested at the annual meeting of the Oxford Diocesan Guild that old friends and new ringers might like to forgather for the short service, ring and talk over a cup of tea of old times.

Anyone wishing to be present will be sure of tea if they notify me:—

C. J. HIBBERT.

ST. MARY'S, WHITBY

Dear Sir,—Mr. P. Cannon may be well versed in the art and science of change ringing, but in my opinion wholly incompetent to define between that which is beautiful and that which is hideous. His statement, relative to the interior of St. Mary's Parish Church, Whitby (Yorkshire tour), is, to say the least, grossly insulting, made without any regard for the architectural beauty or the historic past; certainly without feeling or respect for those devoted people who make the tedious climb up the 199 steps to worship there.

St. Mary's possesses a grandeur and beauty peculiar to itself, appreciated not only by our townspeople, but by thousands of others who visit it annually, when seeking the charm that nature has so ungrudgingly bestowed upon our district.

I would respectfully request our brother campanologist (for I, too, am a ringer, though seafaring) to refrain in future from making such unwarranted statements, and confine himself to that sphere of the Church in which his knowledge is more respected.—Yours faithfully,

GEORGE H. CORNER, Chief Steward.

OBITUARY OF THE WEEK

MR. W. R. MELVILLE.

Mr. William R. Melville, whose sudden death at Kingsworthy, near Winchester, on September 7th, at the age of 77 years, was recorded in our last issue, was one of those stalwarts who form the backbone of English ringing. The message of the bells was very real to him; it was part of his churchmanship, and he brought a strong Christian character to bear in all he undertook.

Mr. Melville started ringing at Wooburn, Bucks, at the age of 14, where his father was also a ringer. For a number of years he was a stoney ringer, and it was not until the advent of 'The Ringing World,' when he was living at Tring, Herts, that he decided, at the age of 40, to take up change ringing.

In 1916 he moved to Guildford and joined the band of Holy Trinity Church. Here, under the leadership of Mr. A. H. Pulling, and in the company of the rest of the band, he made progress and rang a number of peals, including many in Surprise methods. His longest peal was one of Guildford Surprise, 6,144 changes, on December 31st, 1930, at Holy Trinity, Guildford. In this tower he was steeplekeeper for a number of years, bestowing a loving care on the bells and the ringing chamber. He also held the office of Ringing Master for the Guildford District.

In 1937 he retired from his employment at Dennis Bros., and moved to Hampshire. Here he settled at Kingsworthy, near Winchester, and joined the band at Wonston. He rang frequently at Winchester Cathedral, and formed many new friendships, ringing more peals, many with Mr. George Williams.

The interment took place at Kingsworthy on September 12th. In addition to his wife, daughters, son-in-law and close relatives, there were a number of ringers present. These included Messrs. A. Goulding, H. T. Cook, R. Paine, G. Noice (Winchester Cathedral), R. Smith, C. Pritchard, H. Froome, B. Bowers (Holy Trinity, Wonston), R. Dolton (Micheldever), Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hazelden, A. H. Pulling, H. Hutton (Guildford), H. Newnham, L. A. Tremeer (Alresford), R. Brown (Southampton), D. Cooper (Croydon) and N. V. Andrews (Andover).

There were many floral tributes, including one from the Wonston band.

On the evening of the same day a peal of Plain Bob Minor was rung at Wonston, with the bell half-muffled, by past and present members of the band.

HIS PEALS.

Minor, 25; Grandsire Triples, 59; Stedman Triples, 61; Bob Major, 19; Kent Treble Bob Major, 13; Little St. Lawrence, 1; Double Norwich C.B. Major, 22.

Superlative Surprise Major, 10; Cambridge Surprise Major, 17; London Surprise Major, 14; Bristol Surprise Major, 6; Guildford Surprise Major, 4; Norfolk Surprise Major, 2; St. Blaize Surprise Major, 1; Surrey Surprise Major, 1; Dublin Surprise Major, 1.

Oxford Treble Bob Major, 1; Grandsire Caters, 6; Stedman Caters, 5; Bob Royal, 2; Kent Treble Bob Royal, 8; Cambridge Royal, 1. Total, 279.

MR. E. WILLIAMS.

Mr. Ernest Williams, ringer and towerkeeper at the ancient Parish Church, Porthcawl, for 40 years, died on September 9th. 'Old Ernie,' as he was known, had loved and tended his bells for longer than most of his fellow-ringers can remember, he having taught them all at some time during his long service to handle a rope. His absence from service ringing was unknown, right up to the Sunday preceding his last short illness.

He had rung only six peals of Doubles but his recruits to bellringing were many. He was in his 77th year. T. M. R.

MR. JAMES MORGAN.

Within the shadow of the tower where he first handled a bell, rang and called his first 720 of Minor and his first peal, James Morgan was laid to rest on September 7th, aged 80. In this parish of Pulford, which looks out towards the hills and mountains of Wales, he had lived all his life and had served the Eaton Estate as apprentice, joiner and later as clerk of works for well over sixty years.

He began his ringing career in the 80's when the church, but a few years rebuilt, possessed a light ring of six bells. Fired by his enthusiasm and with the encouragement and help of the schoolmaster, an energetic young band were soon ringing extents of Minor, and they scored their first peal of seven different callings of Bob Minor in December, 1887. This was followed on Christmas Day with a peal of Treble Bob.

In November, 1887, James Morgan was among those present in the Refectory of Chester Cathedral when the Diocesan Guild was formed, and he rang his first peal for the newly-formed Guild early the following year when he called 5,056 of Kent Major at St. Mary's, Handbridge. The succeeding years brought concentration on Minor ringing at Pulford, and he conducted a number of peals in a variety of methods. This was naturally followed by an interest in Major, and he regularly made the six-mile walk to Chester for practice. In later years he often spoke of these walks on pitch black nights with roads inches deep in mud, but his enthusiasm remained undaunted.

In 1903 the keenness of the Pulford ringers came to the notice of the Duke of Westminster, who showed his appreciation by presenting the church with two trebles. It was J. M. who made the frame, and it still stands as a fine piece of work for all to see. From that time onwards his peal book, kept with meticulous care, indicates the extent of his activities. Many methods from Maximus to Doubles are recorded in it, the compositions, many of which are his own, always noted. Many famous names in ringing are found in its pages, and the great variety of methods points plainly to his ability and interest. Turning over the pages the eye is caught by a footnote beneath a peal of Bob Minor rung in December, 1937: 'The calling of this peal,' he writes, 'was the same as No. 1 rung 50 years ago.' The peal was arranged by way of celebration, and one other member of the original band stood in the band, the late Mr. Walter Thomas.

MR. EDGAR WHITELEY.

The local company at Queensbury have suffered a sad loss through the sudden death, at the home of his nephew at Darlington, of their oldest member, Mr. Edger Whiteley. He was the last remaining link with the old six-bell tower.

Mr. Whiteley had been a ringer at Queensbury for well over 50 years, and joined the Yorkshire Association in 1898, and rang his 70th peal only a few days ago to mark his 74th birthday. He was a regular visitor to meetings, and ringers were always sure of warm hospitality at his residence when visiting Queensbury.

Besides ringing, other branches of church work claimed his attention, and he held the office of people's warden for a number of years. He was also day school manager, secretary C.E.M.S., and during his years of retirement he undertook the care of the garden round the church. He was also a keen amateur gardener and homing pigeon fancier. His loss will be keenly felt, but his memory will long be preserved by his many friends and more especially in the belfry he loved so well and worked for so untiringly. To his widow we extend our deepest sympathy. W. A.

MR. A. W. HUMPHRIS.

Mr. Albert William Humphris passed peacefully away at his home on September 10th, aged 84. One of Gloucestershire's oldest ringers, he learned in Swindon Village tower at 17 and then joined the Cheltenham band, with whom he rang for 64 years.

Mr. Humphris rang in many peals, including the record length of Grandsire Caters, 15,227, in 1889, and the then record of Stedman, 13,054, in 1888. It must surely have been more than a coincidence that I visited Mr. Humphris on the evening before his death to give him news of and greetings from friends, including Canon Coleridge, who had known and rung with him.

The bells at Swindon Village were rung half-muffled before and after the funeral service on Wednesday, but an attempt for a quarter of Stedman Caters at Cheltenham the next day failed. Mr. Humphris was well known also as a market gardener, and leaves one daughter, Mrs. H. S. Millard. C. R.

MR. C. W. SMITH.

The death occurred on September 13th of Mr. C. W. Smith, of Simpson, Bletchley, Bucks. 'Billy,' as he was known, was a big supporter of the North Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, and had many friends.

He was a member of the Bedfordshire Guild, and in past years had been a keen peal ringer. Simpson village church will miss a great foreman, a post he had held for the past 30 years.

A memorial service was held in St. Thomas', Simpson, last Sunday.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

WESTERN DIVISION AT ELLAND.

The quarterly meeting was held at the ancient Parish Church of St. Mary, Elland, and about 30 members were present from the following towers: Almondbury, Brighouse, Drighlington, Guiseley, Haworth, Headingley (St. Michael's and St. Chad's), Huddersfield, Lightcliffe, Lindley, Liversedge, Mirfield, Mytholmroyd, Pudsey, Queensbury, Rippondon, Rothwell, Sowerby, Woodlesford and the local company.

The bells, which were cast by Chapman, of Norfolk, do not go too well, but under the guidance of the Ringing Master, Mr. S. W. Strangeways, ringing was so arranged that the best was got out of them, and everyone had his or her particular method, which ranged from Plain Bob to Superlative Surprise with Duffield Major to finish off the evening ringing.

It was hoped that this visit would arouse enthusiasm in the district and so enable Elland ringers to emulate their predecessors of years gone by when a flourishing band operated here.

The business meeting was held under the chairmanship of the vice-president, Mr. P. J. Johnson.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSN.

CHELTENHAM BRANCH.

Thirty members and visitors attended the meeting at Badgeworth on September 17th. The service was conducted by Canon T. W. Lambert, who referred to the branch's loss of two of its oldest members, Walter Yeend and Albert Humphris. Tea was provided by Mr. W. Oakey, the local captain, and greatly enjoyed by all, especially the four young learners from Prestbury. Ringing ranged from rounds to Kent Treble Bob. C. R.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION

Twenty-one touches in 12 different methods, including the four standard Surprise methods, were rung at the meeting of the Wigan Branch at St. Peter's, Hindley, on September 3rd. Mr. Tom Marshall, the newly-appointed Ringing Master, took up his duties for the first time. One lady rang her first course of London and two others their first in a Surprise method. Tea was provided by the local band.

DEVALUATION

A WORD uppermost in the nation's mind this past fortnight has been 'devaluation.' This column is not the place to discuss the fiscal implications of the word. Devaluation arises when the credit of a country is greatly in excess of its assets, and the same word and principle might be applied to ringing or anything else.

If, peradventure, everybody can ring a particular method to a peal then its value as a performance is undermined; it is devalued in the eyes of the ringing community. The progress since the war has created new standards, and most weeks it is our pleasure to record new methods or complications of 'splicing' of a very high order that make much of the past sound commonplace. But if there has been this devaluation in the realm of performance, surely it is equally applicable in the number of peals rung. Except for one week in the very hot weather the average number of peals has been well maintained, and the facility with which some bands score peals indicates either conductorship of a very high level or particularly safe ringers.

Is there any method that can be usefully introduced to ensure that all the peals rung are of good value and true in every respect? A suggestion has been made that umpires should be appointed. We would be so bold as to assert that the number of competent umpires in the Exercise is very few, and it would be practically impossible to arrange for the whole of every peal to be checked.

The correction of 'trips' is another matter. We do not believe that the ruling of the Central Council is fully appreciated. It states that 'any shift or error in ringing be immediately corrected and that no call be made, or having been made, be altered or withdrawn, later than during the change at which a call would properly take effect.' Much depends upon the interpretation of the words 'immediate correction.' Instances have been reported to us where the process of 'correction' has taken an unconscionable time, and to those outside the belfry the sound has been very much like firing. There are conductors who pride themselves on the purity of their peals and will not hesitate to call 'stand' when such circumstances occur. Others treat the subject differently, and by their dexterity eventually sort out these tangles and regard the situation as an instance of masterly conducting.

Is there any method by which a higher standard can be introduced or any check made on such peals? The crux of the question is one of personal integrity. We met the other day a ringer who refused to record in his personal peal book any peal which had doubtful qualities. Certain of these peals had been published in 'The Ringing World' and recorded in the annals of his Guild or Association. His conscience was however not clear. What should such an individual do? Should he report the circumstances to his Guild or the appropriate committee of the Central Council? Undoubtedly this would be the correct procedure. But there would be repercussions. It would probably result in a limitation of invitations to him to stand in peals, and it would certainly not lead to harmony in his Guild. At the risk of unpleasantness we would implore the Exercise not to 'devalue' in any sense its peals. A high standard means a hard path for the beginner struggling for his 'first,' and even if there are failures it is far better to have the laurel wreath untarnished.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Eighteen-year-old Alan Cattell, son of Mr. Arthur Cattell, churchwarden of All Saints', Leicester, is the first ringer in Leicestershire to ring two tower bells double-handed to a peal. The party met short for a peal of Minor and Alan volunteered to 'have a go.' It was an excellently struck peal. At the conclusion a note was found under the belfry door for the six ringers to meet next day for a peal. The writer, Mr. W. P. Whitehead, was unaware that there were only five men ringing.

The Sussex peal tour, which started on September 10th, resulted in eight peals being scored. The eleven participants came from Ashford, Swindon, Nottingham, St. Ives, Daventry and Wendover. A report of the tour and peals will appeal next week.

Royston, Yorks, ringers have a warm spot for Dr. H. B. Pare, who was chiefly instrumental in getting the bells recast. A farewell peal on his retirement from practice was rung.

His two daughters, Rosa and Peggy, participated with Mr. Frank Lamb in the peal at Barnby Don, Yorks, in honour of his silver wedding.

When the bells at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, were rung, the weather-cock at the top of the steeple revolved. Steeplejacks have investigated and found that the spindle holding the weather-cock is moulded into the steeple and, being made of iron, has rusted, causing a crack round the top of the steeple. Bellringing will not be resumed until the repair work is finished.

Regarding the peal of Yorkshire Major at Waterford, Ireland, on August 31st, Mr. F. Bennett writes: 'The first peal in the method for the Irish Association was rung at Holywood on September 17th, 1936, by a tour arranged by the late Mr. Gabriel Lindoff and Mr. C. T. Coles, and which I had the privilege to conduct.'

National publicity has been given to the peal of Stedman Triples at Bulwell, Notts, where the first peal was rung on the bells. The regular ringers in this tower went on strike as a protest. Their action is characterised by the Rector, the Rev. G. Sprittle, as 'dog-in-the-manger.' 'Southwell Diocesan Bellringers' Association asked me if they might ring a peal on our bells and I gave them permission, thinking our ringers would be glad to co-operate.' The attitude adopted by the Bulwell ringers is: 'This is our church, not theirs.'

Mr. E. Jenkins conducted his 300th peal at Brighouse, Yorks, on Sept. 14th and his 100th peal for the Yorkshire Association at Queensbury on September 16th.

Ringing friends of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Goodfellow, both members of St. John's, Hillingdon, band, will be glad to learn that Mrs. Goodfellow has made a successful recovery from her recent operation, and has returned home from Iver Hospital.

The North Wales Association certificates were previously printed by Messrs. A. Falkner and Sons, Manchester and London. Mr. A. J. Hughes appeals to our printing friends to help him trace the firm for a renewal order and to save the expense of a new block.

Mr. T. Trollope, of Oxford, attended the Bicester Branch meeting of the Oxford Guild on September 3rd, and visited old friends in Middleton, where he had worked some years ago. He is the only survivor of a band who visited Middleton Stoney with the 'ate J. W. Washbrook in 1887.

By ringing the tenor Mr. John E. Bibby has 'completed the circle' of his own tower, Frodsham, where he has been ringing for 30 years and has scored nearly 100 peals on the bells. The band congratulate him on the capable manner he turned in this 'very odd struck' bell.

A RETURN VISIT TO DEVONSHIRE

Tourists Score Eleven Peals

IN beautiful weather, twenty-three tourists assembled on September 3rd at Buckfastleigh, Devon, for a week's ringing tour amidst some of the finest scenery Great Britain has to offer. For many of the party it was their second tour in this district. There were 15 peal ringers and eight wives, of whom two were also ringers, and a young man of nine months old.

The week's activities resulted in eleven peals in eight methods, as recorded elsewhere. In addition, peals were attempted at Uffculme, Babbacombe, Moretonhampstead, Cullompton, Chudleigh, Exminster and Buckfast Abbey. There was also ringing during the week at Buckfastleigh, Bradninch (where the 'go' of the bells left much to be desired), Chagford, Brent Tor and Ashburton.

On the first Saturday an advance party was joined at Brixham and Dartmouth by Mr. F. J. Cullum, of Erith, Kent, who was on holiday in the district. Mr. Cullum has family associations with Brixham and was very glad to call a peal of Rutland there, the first in the method for the Devon Guild.

Other 'occasional visitors' during the week were Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Collins, of Croydon, Mr. Sangwin, of Bude, and Mr. H. C. Spencer, formerly of Birmingham, and now of the back of beyond in Cornwall, who joined the party at Launceston and Tavistock. Mr. Collins rang the tenor to a peal at St. Stephen-by-Launceston and in the afternoon conducted those not in the peal at Tavistock on a very pleasant jaunt to Brent Tor, where the Church of St. Michael stands high on a rock. On Friday, Mr. C. W. Powell, of Lyme Regis, took part in the peal of Superlative at Heavitree, and Mr. E. J. Taylor and Mr. Collins were in the attempt for Stedman Cinques at Buckfast Abbey on the last day of the tour. Mr. Stafford Green came along to listen to this attempt.

A great disappointment was the withdrawal of permission for a peal attempt at Tiverton. Thanks to the good offices of Mr. E. J. Taylor, permission was, however, obtained at short notice for a peal at South Molton instead. Other local arrangements were made by Mr. A. L. Bennett, of Buckfastleigh, with his usual kindness and efficiency.

CHURCHWARDEN'S ALARM.

The Collompton attempt had to be abandoned as a result of panic-stricken banging on the belfry door by the churchwarden, who thought one of the tower pinnacles was in danger of collapse. This gentleman applied an additional method of interruption in the form of a long piece of wire waved wildly round the feet of the ringers nearest the door. It afterwards transpired that the tourists' visit was considered a very suitable opportunity to test the reaction of the tower to the bells!

Transport for the week was in the form of a coach hired locally with the addition of a hired car as necessary. There were many narrow lanes and steep hills to be negotiated, particularly on the ride over Dartmoor to Tavistock and Launceston. This run included distant glimpses of the well-known convict prison, which, even on a beautiful September day, was not without its usual shroud of mist and cloud.

A pleasing feature of the ringing was the ungrudging enthusiasm of the local round ringers for good striking. Some good peals were rung and there was good ringing in many of the abortive attempts. Some really fine rings of bells were encountered and the difficulty was to decide which were the best bells of the week. The writer doesn't know, but he thinks South Molton's want some beating and he has heard worse ringing than some of the Bristol that rolled out that day.

MR. J. G. CARTLIDGE.

The death occurred on Sept. 10th of Mr. John G. Cartlidge, vice-captain of the Cheadle, Staffs, R.C. ringers, at the age of 53 years 'Jack,' who had been in failing health for about four years, was a regular Sunday service ringer almost to the last. He died about a fortnight after his operation.

Mr. Cartlidge was a very keen ringer and good striker and in the Surprise class. He had rung about 70 peals, chiefly for the North Staffordshire Association. He was also a parish councillor and a keen exponent of chess.

The funeral took place on September 13th following Solemn Requiem Mass, after which several members of the Association rang half-muffled touches of Bob Minor and Grandsire Triples on the bells. On Sunday the bells of the Parish Church were also rung half-muffled as a token of respect.

Three Guilds Festival

The festival of the Sonning Deanery Branch of the Oxford Guild, the Basingstoke Branch of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild, and the Farnham District of the Guildford Guild was held this year at Hawley as the main centre, with Bagshot, Finchampstead, Farnborough, Yateley, Sandhurst and Yorktown available at periods during the afternoon and evening.

A company of 90 sat down to tea in the Memorial Hall, representing some 34 towers. They were welcomed to Hawley by the Rev. K. C. Davis and by Mr. C. W. Denyer (Ringing Master, Farnham District). Mr. Castle and Mr. Chesterton replied briefly for the Sonning Deanery and the Basingstoke branches respectively.

It was a very great pleasure for the meeting to be able to welcome Canon Coleridge, both to the service and later to the tea, where the Canon proved that he is able to tell a good ringing story with the best of the younger generation, although he certainly has an advantage of a lifetime of ringing to draw upon.

Full advantage was taken of the facilities for ringing at all towers, although the coach running from tower to tower always had room to spare, as many members had come by car.

The festival was voted a great success by all who attended, while the glorious weather helped to make conditions easy for travelling between the towers (in contrast to last year, when it poured in torrents.

It is hoped that, to make a change, the centre of the 1950 Festival may be either at Wokingham or at Basingstoke.

MARRIAGE OF TWO RINGERS

Following upon the recent marriage of Mr. John Quimby and Miss S. Cox, two members of St. Matthew's Society, Overseal, their colleagues presented them with an inscribed barometer on September 13th.

In opening the proceedings, Mr. J. W. Cotton expressed best wishes on behalf of the St. Matthew's members before asking the Rector of Seale (the Rev. Dr. W. J. Beale) to make the presentation.

The Rector, before asking the happy couple to accept the barometer, thanked them for their work in all church activities, especially in the tower since the lifting of the ban, and trusted that the barometer would be set at 'fair' throughout their married life.

In a very brief reply, Mr. Quimby thanked everyone for the handsome gift and spoke of the pleasure it gave them to be members of the tower.

Immediately afterwards the happy couple joined in a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples to mark the occasion: Mrs. J. Quimby 1, W. H Curson 2, Miss J. Cotton (first 'inside') 3, H. Carter 4, J. Quimby 5, W. Brooker 6, P. Grice (cond.) 7, H. Shaw 8.

LEICESTER RINGERS IN IRELAND

WE all stayed together at the Adelphi Hotel, Waterford, and Wednesday morning gave us our first experience of Irish rain. The peal team assembled at the Cathedral Church of the Blessed Trinity and rang a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major, whilst underneath the belfry four others rang a handbell peal of Grandsire Triples. It was the first handbell peal of Grandsire Triples to be rung outside Dublin.

The ring of eight in the Cathedral is by Mears, dated 1872. They were rehung in 1939 by Gillett and Johnston. The peal of Yorkshire was the first peal on them since the rehanging. We were pleased to meet Mr. Walsh and other local ringers, who had a peep at the peal ringers from the belfry balcony.

Following luncheon, the convoy moved off on schedule along the River Suir, via Carrick-on-Suir and Clonmel to Cashel, seat of the ancient Kings of Munster. We were received here by the Dean of Cashel. By now the sun had replaced the rain, and in the beautiful sunshine the Dean conducted us round the ancient buildings of St. Patrick's Rock, and gave an interesting exposition of its history.

It was at Cashel that one of the unexpected joys of the tour was experienced. Following tea, we were privileged to hold a special service at the Cathedral It was conducted by the Dean, Mrs. J. F. Milner was the organist and the choir was made up of members of the touring party. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung in the chancel during the service by Messrs. R. F. Elkington, G. S. Morris, A. Ballard and H. J. Poole. In the short address of welcome the Dean commented on the bells and said it was the first time that they had been heard in the Cathedral. The two small choir girls were accompanied by Barbara Morris, who had been invited to robe with them.

Tipperary was our next call and it was not such a long way as the song would suggest. A brief halt here for a drink and look round and then on to Limerick. We were accommodated in two hotels at Limerick. The married couples and girls in one and those with little or no responsibilities in the other.

Thursday morning commenced with attempts for two peals, which both came to grief. Cambridge Surprise Major at the Cathedral Church of St. Mary was halted by a shift course after about an hour, whilst Stedman Caters on handbells was stopped after about an hour and a half by a clapper falling out of one of the bells.

A SENSATION.

It was now 11 a.m., and the 'gaffer,' on learning the verdict of the Cambridge failure, decided we were going to ring that peal at the Cathedral then. 'Up those steps' was the order, and those taking part forfeited their lunch and made shift with some sandwiches after the peal.

This peal provided one of the sensations of the week. After about an hour the tenorman was seen to be fiddling with the tops of his flannels, which shortly afterwards descended to his feet. This effort to keep cool certainly paid dividend towards the end of the peal.

After the peal the ringers were met by Mr. J. A. Haydn, whose great interest in the Cathedral and the bells was referred to later by the Dean of Limerick. In Mr. Haydn's historical survey it is recorded that a certain John Budston, a wealthy citizen of Limerick, made a gift to the church of four brass bells. In 1670 six bells were presented by a William Yorks. The present tenor was originally cast in 1673 and recast by Taylors in 1930, four other bells were recast in 1938, when the peal was rehung on ball bearings. They are now an excellent ring and go like 'tops.'

The remainder of the party had lunch in Limerick and then journeyed on to Ardnacrusha, where the now famous electricity plant —driven by water from the Shannon River— was inspected. The pealers caught up with the party here and travelled on with them to Killaloe. In the picturesque setting of the Lakeside Hotel we were met by the Dean of Killaloe, who joined us at tea. It was here that a 'Killaloe Surprise' was introduced. Fred Dukes, who had been taken by surprise at Drogheda when presented with the tankard, revelled in the opportunity to get even in presenting—on behalf of the tourists—a wristlet watch to 'H.J.' He conveyed the thanks of everyone for the wonderful time they were having and for all that had been done in the arranging of the tour. 'H.J.' suitably replied in acknowledgment.

The Dean extended a hearty welcome to the visitors and later conducted the party to the Cathedral, where he explained in detail its ancient history. We found here a set of eight bells, but alas! they were a fixed unit. 'H.J.' soon made himself at home on the chiming apparatus with hymn and song tunes, and afterwards four of the party tapped off a course of Grandsire Triples.

AT LIMERICK.

Our next call was at Mount St. Alphonsus for a pull on the ring of ten. These bells were seen by many of the party in the Loughborough Foundry, but few thought at that time they would have the privilege of ringing on them. We were welcomed by the Rev. Father Kelly and received in the belfry by some dozen or so local ringers. A course of Stedman Caters and Cambridge Surprise Royal proved of great interest to the local people, and a message was received from the priest that we could come back after the service at 8 p.m. and ring on until 10.15 p.m. This was not possible as a social evening had been arranged with the ringers.

A meal was waiting at the local Youth Association headquarters and we were received here by the Dean of Limerick and the local ringers. A great welcome was extended by the Dean, Mr. Haydn and others, and on behalf of the tourists Harold J. Poole thanked those responsible for the hospitality.

At the social handbell ringing formed a prominent feature, to the great joy of the Limerick ringers and friends, and the tourists had lessons from their local partners in Irish dancing. It was indeed a great occasion—the like of which had seldom if ever been experienced before.

It was during the social that a feeler was put out about the possibility of ringing a peal on the grand ten at Mount St. Alphonsus. To our great delight we received the 'O.K.' to start at 9 next morning.

Prior to the start of the peal we said goodbye to Fred Dukes, who returned to Dublin en route to join Phil Corby's touring party in Devon. A first-class peal of Yorkshire Surprise Royal was rung at Mount St. Alphonsus, and Mr. L. Benson, ringer and son of the local captain, sat in the belfry throughout. We were thankful indeed he was present, because someone about half-way through the peal tried to enter the belfry, and whilst they succeeded in raising Redvers on the trap-door a few inches, they did not otherwise disturb us. Outside the monastery we received congratulations on all sides on the ringing, and then we said goodbye to our Limerick friends.

On the journey back to Dublin we called at Kildare for a look round St. Brigid's Cathedral. Our arrival at Dublin was rather late.

A GRAND FINALE.

As a grand finale we all assembled at the Green Rooster, a restaurant near the famous O'Connell Bridge, for supper. The last opportunity to supper regardless of ration restrictions. Chicken and ham was the favourite dish and two of the weaker sex tried to strengthen up a bit with repeat orders. Saturday morning was devoted to shopping. In the afternoon the first handbell peal to be rung on ten bells in Ireland was accomplished in St. George's belfry. Several were tried out for 9-10; the result, Harry Wayne retained and the others placed on the 'open to transfer' list.

We assembled on the quayside at Kingstown, and after some delay boarded the SS. 'Hibernian' for home. It was a grand crossing, starlight with the moon reflecting in the water. The parting of the ways came at Holyhead, where we said goodbye to those continuing the journey by train. The remainder stayed the night at Holyhead.

On Sunday morning we renewed acquaintance with Vincent Child and Albert Hughes at Llanfair P.G., where in the small church on the island adjoining Menai Bridge we rang a peal of Stedman Triples on handbells. This was Vincent Child's first handbell peal.

So came to an end one of the most interesting tours ever to be undertaken. History was made in several directions in regard to first peals, and the social events of the tour were such that many happy memories will be retained by the tourists and by those who received us and made us so welcome.

Our thanks are due to Fred Dukes, who made all arrangements in Ireland; to the ecclesiastical authorities for the use of the bells; to the Deans of Limerick, Kilkenny and Killaloe, and to the Rev. Father Kelly, of Mount St. Alphonsus, for their exceptional interest; to the ringers of Ireland for their wonderful welcome and hospitality; and to the Dean of Cashel for his attendance upon us and for the beautiful service at Cashel Cathedral.

ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN GUILD

QUARTERLY MEETING AT LLANBADARN FAWR.

Travelling 55, 72 and 80 miles were necessary for bands in the St. David's Guild to reach the 12th century church of St. Padarn at Llanbadarn Fawr in the suburbs of Aberystwyth for the quarterly meeting on September 10th.

The journeys were well worth while for ringers from Haverfordwest and Tenby enjoyed the trips over Prescelly mountains to Cardigan, after which they followed the undulating coast up to Aberavon, where the road was shared with ringers coming from Carmarthen, Llanelly and Swansea by way of Lampeter.

By 2.30 the eight bells were ringing to proclaim their 200th birthday. After a groping climb up the dark spiral the writer was amazed by his first impression of the size of the ringing chamber. Four shafts of light showed the heads of three dozen people and the ropes well away in the centre. How different from the little church at Sowton, Devon, with its ring of eight and all elbows touching against the walls where the writer first rang on his box.

At the service Dr. H. Islwyn Davies sketched a brief history of the bells and church and referred to the fact that owing to absence of railways and good vehicles the bells were cast in the churchyard and that such craftsmanship could be an example of the kind of skill that church service demanded. During tea ringers shared the bells' birthday cake, which was cut by Mrs. Bonsall.

Sir George Forsett Roberts acted as chairman for the business meeting, during which it was decided to hold the next meeting at Llandovery on December 10th. New members were elected and a collection made to the Guild Bell Restoration Fund amounted to £1 10s. 1d. Mr. Robert Pateman (grandfather and father of ringers) was elected an honorary member with Sir George. Llansteffan band were elected as probationary members.

After the meeting touches were attempted until group by group the visitors set off on their long journeys, leaving the young Llanbadarn ringers to round off a successful bi-centenary.

6,400 CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE

Dear Sir,—Dr. Slack has certainly surprised me by his revelation that the 6,400 of Cambridge is 'of age' now. On January 12th, 1947, I had a long train journey from Euston to Penrith. The evening before I had prepared a large number of pieces of card representing blocks of leads in 5 and 3-part assembly, and I spent the whole journey sorting these on a train table. Certain card pairs were coloured as being false with one another. Fellow travellers probably thought I was 'nuts' (not for the first time), but the journey produced five distinct five-part peals and one three-part peal (barring reverses or shunt bobs). The 6,400 came out twice, backwards and forwards, with every card used except certain coloured false ones.

Dr. Slack's 5,760 is one of the five. Incidentally I make its correct length 5,920. None of the five-part peals are shorter than 5,600. The 3-part is 5,280, and presumably the only possible one as the method was exhaustive.

I would strongly disagree with Dr. Slack that the three-part is not worth ringing. The course-ends have no special musical worth, as 78 seems to me to be quite as musical in the interior of the course as in the first and last leads. In fact the 6 is six times home and the fifth is six times in 6ths.

I give below the offending three-part, a 5,024 of my own, and a quarter-peal:—

CAMBRIDGE AND PRIMROSE SPLICED

Dear Sir,—The composition published on pages 345 (6,400 Cambridge Surprise) and 404 of 'The Ringing World' are not Cambridge. They are Cambridge and Primrose spliced, the bob leads being Primrose.—Yours truly,
Ipswich. CHARLES J. SEDGLEY.

CARE OF BELLS

Dear Sir,—I was saddened in reading the well-written article of the Yorkshire Tour (September 2nd issue) at the number of rings that were not only in very bad condition but unringable. I cannot but think that there is a little indifference here to church fittings, and bells are often more valuable from the historic point of view than the organ and squire's pew.

Parochial church councillors and incumbents should be alive to the needs of both ringers and bells. I feel that this failing is by no means confined to the county of Yorkshire.

May I commend to secretaries of Parochial Church Councils that illuminating and most instructive pamphlet on 'The Installation, Preservation and Repair of Bells,' published by the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers, price 1s., and may they read, mark, learn and, I trust, inwardly digest.—Yours truly,
F. C. CHAMPION.
Hinton Rectory, Evesham.

PEAL RINGERS AND TEACHING

Dear Sir,—In your leading article of July 29th, now to hand after the holidays, you refer to a man who 'is very conscious that English ringing will not retain its pre-eminent position without the incentive of a peal.'

As no names are mentioned, one can proceed without bias, but I most emphatically suggest that no incentive is required for peal ringing, but rather for Sunday service ringing. Most captains will agree that it is far harder to encourage a ringer to be regular in his Sunday ringing than it is for him to ask him to accept an occasional peal.

We see evidence of this every day. I myself have had occasion to visit places which, according to our journal, boast 'crack' bands, and whose towns and cities are common names in the world of ringing simply because peals are brought to the front of everything and given prominence over most activities in our towers. But only recently the tune of five bells came from a tower boasting 12, while on the same day a peal was being rung by some of the band.

In the same well-known city there is a ring of ten bells which can only boast a Grandsire Doubles band, but which is striving manfully along without any help from our household names. In another city the bells are only rung once a week, and at another Cathedral I was told that they were fortunate if they ring eight of the twelve for Sunday service.

Yet for peals no incentive is required to get a band together. What a difference there must be if more time was spent by the 'crack' bands to teach instead of ringing peals which are a foregone conclusion. And when I mean teach I mean from the beginning, with the silencer on the bell and hours of patient instruction; not taking over a man when he appears to be making good at the expense of another tower captain. I once asked a member of a city band when they were going to teach someone with a silencer on the bell, and he was shocked at the suggestion.

There must be many towers in our towns and cities who simply rely on an influx of ready-made ringers from the villages instead of rolling up their own sleeves.

I once heard a guild secretary boast that because more peals had been rung than the previous year the Guild was flourishing! How wrong this all is. Let us see in our reports beside each ringer's name not the number of peals he has rung, but the number of attendances at Sunday services throughout the year. Then we might bring to the forefront the names of the men who are really maintaining English ringing in its pre-eminent position without any incentive at all except that for which bells are hung, for the glory of God.

All this, of course, involves the type of ringer who is a pretty good chap and who rings regularly for Sunday service, but who never attends one only on special occasions. Many words have been said and written of this character, who has a unique idea that he is doing a good turn for the church to which he attaches himself by helping to ring the bells. Nothing is so far from the truth, for I have yet to hear of a church whose congregations suffer because the bells are not rung, and the sooner this type of ringer associates himself sincerely with the purpose for which he is ringing the better it will be, both for the band and for himself.

About a year ago I had the privilege of showing a man around our belfry and bells and explaining to him something of what change ringing meant. He was a well-educated man and would probably have taken to ringing quite easily in the light of the suggestions he made to me. When he asked what the qualifications were to become a ringer I replied that foremost he must be a member of the church from which source our supply came. He immediately became disinterested, having, of course, no room for our beliefs. And so he went away. 'TRAVELLER.'

A Patron Saint?

Dear Sir,—Can you or any of your readers inform me whether there is a patron saint of bellringers? The question was raised in our belfry, our Vicar was approached and ringers from several other churches have been asked, without an answer. The date could become of special importance to all ringers. — Yours sincerely, G. CARSE.
Newcastle-on-Tyne.

LADY RINGERS' 50 YEARS' SERVICE

Mrs. Reeves, of Bradfield, Berkshire, has this year accomplished 50 years as a bellringer, ringing regularly for church services each Sunday.

She has the unique record of being a member of the first band of women ringers in the country and has rung about 12 peals in various methods. Mrs. Reeves rang her last peal at Goring-on-Thames in 1935, all those taking part being members of the College Youths Society. This honour, we believe, is shared by only one other woman.

Mrs. Reeves was a member of an all woman band at Bradfield, who had learnt to ring in rounds just in time to ring in the new century. She also created another record in 1916, when on marrying Capt. Reeves, then secretary of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, conducted her own wedding touch of 720 Plain Bob. Other ringers in this touch were the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, Master of the Guild at the time, and the Rev. G. F. Coleridge.

OUTING

BURES AND DISTRICT.

A party of nearly 50, of whom half were ringers, participated in the outing on Sept. 10th. Leaving Bures at an early hour and picking up a strong Essex contingent at Colchester, the party proceeded to Gravesend, via Tilbury Ferry, where some had the novel experience of ringing handbells over 'Father Thames.'

At St. George's, Gravesend, Mr. Constant awaited the visitors, who soon tested this good eight to various methods. The single line traffic over the Medway Bridge delayed arrival at Rochester Cathedral, where ringing was consequently curtailed, but all had a pull on this fine ten (tenor 30 cwt.). They were welcomed by Mr. E. Allen, who acted as guide through the tricky ascent to the spacious belfry.

After an enjoyable lunch in Rochester, there was a short run to Chatham, where Mr. Jarrett had St. Mary's bells ready, and some good touches were had in the standard methods. At St. Michael's, Sittingbourne, the Dobbie brothers met the party, and the pleasure of ringing for two weddings was included in the programme. Then to Maidstone, with Mr. Louis Head and Mr. Wallace waiting to welcome them. The circle of ropes here is anti-clockwise; however, Grandsire Caters were quite successful. After tea, last call was at Wrotham, where they were met by Mr. and Miss Sills and Mr. F. G. Knight, and found a delightful ring of eight in a tower with a passageway through the bottom.

The homeward journey was under the Thames via Blackwall tunnel, Bures being reached about 11.30 p.m. The thanks of the party are due to Mr. Leslie Mills for organising the outing, and to Mr. A. Andrews, who was in charge of the ringing arrangements.

LITTLE THINGS

IT is the little things in life that count. The art of understanding what your friend and neighbour wants, so that you dovetail into the scheme of things, adds so much to the home and well-being of an ordered society. Most of these little things are simple, almost trivial but they make a big difference to many individuals. Probably it all devolves on your approach to life, whether centred in self or the community at large.

Editorially we are constantly meeting instances of thought for others and alas, an indifference to the general scheme of things. Take a simple matter like a quarter peal. Relatively few of our contributors to this column have grasped the concise and simplified manner in which they are written. Place name and county first, date, number of changes, method, name of ringer, then number of bell, and very brief footnote if personal. Footnotes that are commonplace and regular, such as church festivals and harvest festivals are not recorded; similarly when a quarter peal precedes a regular Sunday service of the church, it is assumed that Sunday ringing is in the service of the church.

Conductors of peals of late have shown an improvement in the presentation of copy, and many peals appear as written. On an average four peals a week omit some essential detail necessitating a postcard. Another point is writing peals on both sides of a sheet of paper or a quarter peal on the same sheet as a peal. Copy is filed and handled in different sections, i.e., peals, quarter peals, reports, notices, etc., and when mixed entails copying. It is a great advantage if the address also accompanies the name of the sender, so as to simplify communications.

Mathematics is still a weak subject with many branch secretaries in the matter of notices of meetings. The charges are clearly stated: a penny a word with a minimum of 2s., and half rate for subsequent insertions. Everything that appears is charged for. If the address of the secretary is given, then it has to be paid for. The most simple method, and one adopted by very many Guilds, is to deposit a sum with Mrs. Fletcher, and charges are automatically made and statements of the Guild's accounts can be presented when requested.

On the question of reports of meetings, we are always on the look-out for the unusual. Votes of thanks to the vicar, organist and choir are assumed. It is common courtesy, and no body of ringers would think of neglecting a word of appreciation and thanks. By omitting such sentences from reports additional space is available. Belfry Gossip items should be understandable to the ordinary reader and not to five or six ringers in the particular locality. 'Young Alf' or 'Mary' conveys nothing to the general reader, and frequently leaves the Editor gasping.

'The Ringing World' is not the work of one man. Probably in every issue more than 200 people have made contributions in one way or another to its columns. To all who write the Editor is, indeed, grateful, as it is through them that the trend of events and happenings can be followed. The journal is progressing, but we are still in a position to take new subscribers, either through the post or the newsagent. We ask Guild and district secretaries to continue their good work in making the ringers' own family paper known to newcomers and others.

BELFRY GOSSIP

There are three ladies other than Mrs. Reeves who are members of the Ancient Society of College Youths, viz., Mrs. Shurtliff, of Boston, U.S.A., Mrs. R. J. Wilkins, of Bristol, and Mrs. F. I. Hairs.

Mr. P. Swindley has recently completed Kent Treble Bob from Minor to Maximus and Stedman from Doubles to Cinques.

Mr. C. J. Sedgley has now 'circled' Grundisburgh tower, and Mr. F. Price Market Drayton, Shropshire.

The ringer of the 6th in the peal of Dublin Surprise Major at St. George's, Dublin, was John R. Smith and not J. Frederick Milner as reported.

The five bells in the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Clevedon, recently rehung with new bearings and fittings by Mr. W. A. Osborn, the Bath and Wells diocesan advisory expert, were rededicated by the Vicar (the Rev. Edmund Sheppard) on October 1st after evensong. Visiting ringers pronounced the 'go' excellent.

The peal of Belgrave Surprise Royal at the Loughborough Bell Foundry was specially arranged for Alan R. Pink, of Oxford, to enable him to turn in the tenor. He has already rung a Surprise peal on the tenors at Wells Cathedral, Sherborne Abbey and Lye, and therefore has the unique distinction of having turned in the tenors to Surprise peals on the heaviest and lightest rings of ten and the heaviest and lightest rings of eight.

The peal at Titchfield, Hants, on September 23rd, was the first peal ever attempted by Mr. F. C. Love, the local captain, who celebrated his 65th birthday three days previously. It was the second peal on the bells, the first having been rung in 1908, conducted by Mr. George Williams.

The many ringing friends of Fred Dexter will be pleased to know that he has made good progress following his recent illness and has now been discharged from the Leicester Royal Infirmary. For the time being he is convalescing with his son at Leamington.

Mr. E. J. Oliver, treasurer of the East Grinstead and District Guild, has rung peals of Treble Bob from Minor to Maximus.

Mr. W. H. Barber informs us that the first peal of Stedman Caters to be rung on handbells in Ireland was by members of St. Martin's Guild in St. Patrick's belfry, Dublin, on May 25th, 1901. The ringers were G. R. Pye 1-2, W. Pye (conductor) 3-4, W. H. Barber 5-6, Ernest Pye 7-8, W. Short 9-10. Will Leicester tourists please note?

Lincoln ringers had a successful tour in the Vale of Evesham, scoring 15 peals in the week. A number of the party also stood in a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus at St. Philip's Cathedral, Birmingham, on September 24th, conducted by Mr. John A. Freeman. Conductors of the tour were Messrs. Jack Bray, Jack L. Millhouse, John A. Freeman, John Freeman, George E. Feirn and John Thomas. There was only one tower-bell failure during the week—an attempt of Bristol at Hallow.

A serious accident befell Alan P. Cave, son of the Liverpool branch secretary, during a cycling tour in France. He collided with a car about 50 miles from the Swiss border and sustained a fracture of the right thigh. A doctor was on the scene almost immediately and rendered first aid before sending him to a private nursing home at Dôle-Jura 15 miles away. Here the bone was set and after ten days he was able to travel home. The journey involved two ambulances, a long train journey and by an Air France plane from Paris to Manchester.

A SUFFOLK AND NORFOLK TOUR

100 per cent. Peal Success

A SUCCESSFUL peal ringing tour was enjoyed this year in East Anglia, and began with headquarters at Ipswich. The party, which finally numbered 12 full-time members and two part-timers, met at the Great White Horse Hotel, Ipswich, on the Friday evening, August 26th, to begin a fairly extensive programme. Twenty peal attempts were arranged and all were successfully concluded.

On Saturday morning two parties set off in more or less opposite directions, one to Hadleigh and the other to Hollesley. The Hadleigh party of seven were met by the Vicar, who gave them a warm welcome before starting, and Mr. Frank Betts, the local leader, joined them to make the number up to eight. It soon became evident that there was to be a great deal of 'collar work' that morning, and ringers from the 4th to the tenor had to put their backs into the job of work in hand. However, a reasonably good peal of Guildford Surprise Major came round in rather faster time than had been expected. The reputed weight of the tenor, 28 cwt., had created a few doubts!

The Hollesley party, which was made up by the inclusion of Messrs. Frank and William Fisher, of Ufford, scored a good peal of Bristol, ably conducted by Mr. John E. Bibby, who, by way of a change, forsook C. H. Hattersley's composition for one of G. Lindoff's. After the peal the party was met by the Vicar, who congratulated them upon their first success of the tour.

After lunch both parties met at Ipswich in order to go 'in convoy' to Chelmsford, as an attempt at St. Mary-le-Tower had had to be cancelled owing to falling masonry. Unfortunately, by the time both parties had arrived back in Ipswich it was too late to travel the 40 miles to Chelmsford and start for a peal of Maximus, so a hurried telephone call was put through to the Vicar of St. Peter's, Henley, for permission to ring there. This request being kindly granted, a peal of London was successfully brought round on this pleasant light eight. Two or three of those not ringing in this peal went over to Grundisburgh to listen to a peal of Stedman Caters, which was being attempted by a resident Suffolk band. Unfortunately, the bells ran round after an hour and a half, but it did give those who went to listen an opportunity to ring on this remarkably grand light ring of ten.

On Sunday morning six of the tourists went off to Framsden, where apparently no morning service is held, and were met by Messrs. Leslie and William Whiteman and Leslie Brett. The brothers Whiteman made the band up to eight and a rather fast peal of London was scored on these old bells, the tenor of which still having plenty of breath left in her. The remaining tourists called at Grundisburgh to ring for morning service before going on to Helmingham, and were met by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pipe and young George. Courses of Yorkshire Royal and Rochester Major were brought round in good style. A good peal of Rochester was scored at Helmingham, part of which the Framsden party were able to hear on their way back to Ipswich for late lunch before they too set off for evensong ringing at Grundisburgh. This delightful ring of ten was greatly admired by all the tourists, who, after having rung on them, wished that these bells had been included in the week's peal ringing programme. Possibly the best ringing of the week was a 720 of Cambridge Minor on the front six before the local band arrived, after which courses of Yorkshire Royal, Grandsire Caters and a touch of Spliced Surprise Major were brought round. Messrs. Taylor and Co. are to be congratulated upon their excellent splice, retuning and rehanging of these bells.

THE MONSTROSITY.

The novelty of the week as the tourists at first thought was a peal attempt on the ten old bells at Stonham Aspel. Local legend says that only two bells actually hang in this tower, which to some extent is quite correct, for the tourists found upon close inspection that the bell frame was mounted on the top of the walls of the tower, the front eight bells being all on the outside of the frame, with the ninth and tenor hanging in the centre. To save the bells from the weather a wooden structure (well riddled with worm) has been built round and over them. To many of the older Suffolk ringers this tower is known as the 'Monstrosity,' but as the peal went on the writer had cause to think that the late Theodore Eccleston, who put the bells in during the 18th century, knew a thing or two. It was quite befitting that the tenor should be rung by a Suffolk man, and a grand job Peter made of it too. A peal of Yorkshire Royal came round in the fast time of 3 hours and 13 minutes, but it can be safely said that those listening outside were at a far better vantage point than those ringing inside.

The afternoon found the tourists divided into two parties again, one going to Debenham and the other to Stowmarket. Those fortunates who rang at Debenham enjoyed one of the finest eights in the county, the Loughborough foundry having produced a really excellent splice. Apart from doing a little maintenance with ropes, Mr. Peter Laflin enjoyed yet another peal in his home tower where he first learned to ring. The tourists were cordially welcomed by the Vicar before the peal and were exceptionally pleased with the assistance of Mr. George Flemming, who rang the treble. The Stowmarket band were equally fortunate in having the assistance of the youthful George Pipe, who rang the treble very well indeed to a good peal of Liverpool Surprise.

Tuesday proved itself to be a more tiring day than had been anticipated, for one party started off in grand style on the light eight at Henley to an excellent peal of Bristol. Here they were kindly assisted by Mr. W. J. G. Brown on the treble. The other party, again made up by young George, went out to Clare to help Mr. Simpson ring yet another tenor which had been on his waiting list for some years. London at Clare proved such hard work that it was a very tired band that met rather late at Lavenham, but once they heard the beautiful tone of Lavenham tenor they really got down to it and scored a peal of Bristol, which ended practically in darkness. Fortunately Lavenham belfry is very light, which just enabled the ringers to see each other as silhouettes. The party were pleased to meet Mr. Stedman Symonds, whose care and attention keep this famous ring of bells going so well. What a magnificent spectacle Lavenham Church makes to any visitor! Whilst the Lavenham party were enjoying listening to Miles Grey's masterpiece pouring out its beautiful rich note, Mr. John Worth and his party were having a really rough time on the heavy eight at All Saints', Sudbury, which badly require the attention of the bellhangers. However, they managed to score a respectable peal of Pudsey with the help of that grand veteran, Mr. George E. Symonds, of Ipswich.

At this juncture the tourists bade farewell to their Ipswich friends and comfortable headquarters and journeyed northwards towards Norwich, calling at Ufford, Halesworth and Beccles en route. At Ufford the party were met by Mr. Frank Fisher, who had everything in readiness for the morning attempt. Here again is an excellent Taylor splice, the front four being new bells, whilst the old back four have been retuned and rehung in special headstocks to take the cannons. Apart from one nasty trip, a good peal of Spliced Surprise was rung, conducted by Mr. C. K. Lewis from the fifth, and again young George honoured us by putting the treble where it belonged. After the peal we were sorry to lose the valuable services of Messrs. Wilf Moreton and Eric Critchley, who both returned home, but we were fortunate to find Joe Whittaker waiting for us at Beccles, having travelled all night to get there. Some of the 'back enders' welcomed Joe into their midst, for the warm, close weather had been the cause of many blisters.

A PETROL INCIDENT.

The Ufford party, although very late starting in the morning, got to Halesworth in time to hear the finish of a peal of Lincolnshire, for one of their members had failed to fill up with petrol and, of course, had to run out a long way from the nearest garage. However, whilst the owner of the car was enjoying Spliced Surprise at Ufford, those who had borrowed his car managed to buy a gallon of petrol without a coupon. What honest faces they must have! The tourists were very pleased to meet Mr. Charles F. Bailey, leader of that very famous Leiston band, who had come over to hear the peal at Halesworth and renew his acquaintance with old friends. Unavoidable delays by both parties caused a rather late start for Rochester Royal on the grand ten at Beccles, and some ringing for 20 minutes made the eventual start even later, but a good peal was brought round in 3¼ hours. After a good meal, Norwich was reached at a late hour.

For the peal attempt at Wymondham Abbey on Thursday morning volunteers were asked for, as some of the party were feeling somewhat jaded by this time. However, Joe Whittaker was automatically 'detailed' to ring the tenor and seven volunteers were soon obtained to ring with him. Fortunately a simple peal of Yorkshire had been decided upon, for ringing had only been in progress a short time when the 6th ran dry, soon to be followed by the 7th and tenor. It was not the kind of peal one would normally tackle preceding a peal of Cambridge Maximus. For their weight these bells are not quite what they should be as regards tone, and probably a drop of oil before the start would have saved a lot of unnecessarily hard work for the back-enders.

MAXIMUS A SPECIALIST'S ART.

In the afternoon a good start was made for Cambridge Maximus at St. Peter Mancroft, but after about an hour's good ringing a trip occurred which caused the band to lose the beat and they never really picked it up again throughout the peal. This proved to some of the party that Maximus ringing is more or less a specialist's art as well as being an acquired taste, and those who do not care for it are well advised to leave it alone and by doing so not in any way to upset those few who thrive on it. The tourists were happy to meet Mr. Nolan Golden at Norwich, and some expressed regret that he had not taken a rope in a peal in his district.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

SOUTH-WEST DIVISION.

One of the most successful meetings of recent years was that which was held at Waltham Abbey on September 24th, when over 90 sat down to tea.

Admirable arrangements had been made by Mrs. C. Roberts, and ringing on the twelve bells was much enjoyed by the large company present.

The Vicar, Canon Cleal, gave everybody a warm welcome, and in his address gave an interesting account of the church—a fine specimen of Norman architecture. Instead of the usual lesson, the Master, Mr. J. Chalk, read some of the verses from Tennyson's 'In Memoriam,' the bells of Waltham Abbey being the inspiration behind this poem.

Altogether, a very enjoyable meeting.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Patron Saint

Dear Sir,—Replying to query by Mr. G. Carse (page 469), it will be remembered that in the early days of Christianity in this land nearly all the missionaries carried around with them very crude handbells with which to call together the people in scattered homesteads. In later days these bells became much venerated and held with superstitious awe. Many legends and traditions attach to them and some are quoted in my book, 'Legends o' the bells,' as well as in an illustrated article I wrote for 'Apollo' on 'Ancient Bells of Celtic Saints.' The most famous example is that of St. Patrick, whose bells is still preserved in Dublin. Many of these missionaries were afterwards canonised and became saints, and their bells are to be found in museums and in private hands in Scotland, Wales and Ireland.

What I should say the most suitable for such a purpose under discussion is that of St. Anthony, among whose emblems is a bell, usually attached to his 'tan-staff,' and even to-day many ting-tangs or sanctus bells are called 'Tantony bells' I believe there was one at Lichfield Cathedral. A stained glass window at Stanford Church, Northants, has a Tau-cross, to which a bell is attached inscribed 'San Anthon.' ERNEST MORRIS.

St. Margaret's, Leicester.

ST. PAULINUS

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. Carse, I have never heard of a patron saint of bellringers, but if there is one it will probably be St. Paulinus, who when Bishop of Nola in Campana is credited with first introducing the use of bells into Christian worship.

Paulinus afterwards came to Britain, where he assisted St. Augustine for a time, after which he went north and founded the See of York and Lincoln Cathedral.

Having to flee South, later he became Bishop of Rochester, where he died in 644.—Yours faithfully, E. BARNETT.

Crayford, Kent.

ST. DUNSTAN'S CLAIM

Dear Sir,—In reply to the query in last week's 'Ringing World' as to whether there is a patron saint of bellringers, I remember reading some time ago, though where I cannot remember, that St. Dunstan is the patron saint of ringers. He was born near Glastonbury in 924 A.D., and became a monk, occupying a cell 5ft. long by 2½ft. broad, where he led a life of great devotion. He also gave a great deal of time and attention to metal work, in which he became very skilful. There is a legend belonging to this period of his life which states that when the devil appeared to him and tempted him, Dunstan seized the fiend's nose with his red-hot tongs!

J. R. Nichols, in his book, 'Bells thro' the Ages,' states that St. Dunstan was 'an artificer in metals of no mean order (including that of bell-founder),' and that he drew up rules for the ringing of bells in 977 A.D. This would be an obvious reason for his choice as patron saint.

He became Archbishop of Canterbury in 961 A.D., and died on May 19th, 988 A.D., and is commemorated on this day.—Yours sincerely,

DOROTHY R. FLETCHER.

ST. MARY'S, WHITBY

Dear Sir,—If Mr. G. H. Corner would refrain from unjustified personalities and explain why he considers the interior of St. Mary's, Whitby, so beautiful, I will explain why I still think it one of the ugliest amongst the 2,500 odd churches I have visited.

Constructive personal reasons, please, Mr. Corner, not sentimental ones.

Betchworth. A. PATRICK CANNON.

Llanfair P.G.

Dear Sir,—Surely the report of the peal rung in Anglesey should have read 'At the Church of St. Tysilis.' By the rule of mutation in the Celtic languages the initial T becomes a D in the Welsh genitive. My father-in-law was sometime Vicar of Saintedithmonkskirkbywithallsaintswithybrookandsaintjohnthebaptistcopstonmagna, Warwickshire.—Yours, etc.,

AUSTRALIAN BROADCAST

Dear Sir,—Our friends 'down under' might like to know that the transmission on the 31 metre band from Radio Australia at 10 p.m. on September 27th was well received in England. I only heard about 10 minutes of the programme, but it would be interesting to know the name of the lady who had been a ringer for 32 years, and who 'would go anywhere in Australia to ring in a peal of 5,040 changes.' Had I known this particular broadcast was coming over I would have tuned in earlier.—Yours sincerely,

C. E. JEFFRIES.

THE ANNUAL FESTIVAL.

The annual festival and dinner of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association was held at Durham on September 24th. The bells of the Cathedral were available, and the festival service was held in conjunction with the Cathedral evensong.

Dinner was served at the Three Tuns Hotel, after which the general meeting was held with Mr. W. N. Park (president) in the chair. Mr. Park, in welcoming members and friends, said that as an excellent entertainment programme had been arranged, he did not wish for any delay in the business, and asked members to be as brief as possible. In his remarks Mr. Park referred to the death of Mr. Adam Deas, who was vice-president of the Northern District, and also secretary of the Newcastle Cathedral Guild. The company stood in silence as a mark of respect.

All the officers were re-elected, Mr. K. Arthur, of Fenham, being elected to fill the vacancy in the Northern District. Mr. D. A. Bayles thanked the officers for the work they had done during the year just closed. Mr. W. N. Park suitably replied.

Entertainment provided by Mr. Lakey and party was very much appreciated by all present.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

EAST NORFOLK BRANCH.

Pakefield, three miles from Lowestoft, an old church about 50 yards from the edge of the cliff, was selected for the meeting on September 10th.

During the war the church was burnt out by enemy action, but the tower and five bells (tenor 10 cwt.) escaped damage. Restoration is going on, the roofs, which are thatched and all new oakwood, are nearly completed.

About 50 ringers were present, Canon Stather Hunt conducting the service. The company were the guests of Mr. J. Kindred, a local ringer, to tea.

Mr. G. W. Fletcher presided at the business meeting, supported by the Rev. A. St. J. Heard (president) and Mr. J. Harwood (branch sec.). Belfry elections of Miss M. Addison (Thornaby-on-Tees), Messrs. R. Woodhouse (Winterton), F Price (Hethersett) and O. Barnard (Stowmarket) were ratified, and Mr. J. W. Forder (Norton Subcourse) was elected a member. The next meeting will be at Acle on November 12th. A collection for the Restoration Fund amounted to £4 13s.

Ringers' Wedding at Oxford

On September 17th, the wedding took place at St. Aldate's Church, Oxford, of two well-known local ringers, Mr. Bernard S. Nichols and Miss Nora K. Honey.

There was a goodly gathering of friends and relatives at the church, where the ceremony was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. F. E. Lunt), assisted by the Vicar of Burford (the Rev. F. S. Tucker). The best man was Mr. G. Nichols, brother of the bridegroom, and the bride was attended by her twin sister, Miss Pamela Honey, and was given in marriage by her father. Some well-struck Grandsire Doubles greeted the happy couple as they left the church and added to the joy of a sunny morning.

The reception was held at St. Aldate's Rectory Room, where the health of the bride and bridegroom was proposed by the Vicar of Burford. He took the opportunity of thanking the bridegroom for his years of devotion to church work in Burford, both as organist and as leader in the belfry. The bride has been a member of St. Aldate's Church for a number of years, and has been a keen member of the local band of ringers. Both are well known and respected as talented peal ringers in Oxford and district.

The two peals attempted in honour of the event were both successful. On September 17th a peal of Spliced Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major was rung at Kingham, and on September 19th a peal in seven Doubles methods was successfully brought round at Sunningwell, where the bride has done much service ringing. Unfortunately, a peal could not be attempted in the bridegroom's own tower as the bells are at present under restoration.

A RINGING AFTERNOON

Seven Middlesex ringers in two cars spent an enjoyable Saturday afternoon in Oxfordshire. At Bicester, Mr. C. H. Kynch joined the party. St. Mary's, Kirtlington, was the first tower visited, where 1,600 Plain Bob Major was brought round. Then came Middleton Stoney, set amidst sylvan scenery, where a well-struck 720 Cambridge Surprise Minor was conducted by A. W. Coles.

After a sumptuous tea at Bicester, a quarter-peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major was rung at the Church by E. Thurlow 1, G. W. Kilby 2, Elsie Fulton 3, G. Hart 4, N. Genna 5, C. H. Kynch 6, W. Wenban (cond.) 7, A. W. Coles 8.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

DORCHESTER BRANCH.

The quarterly branch meeting at Fordington on September 24th was the first visit to this tower in 19 years. The Rev. G. L. O. Jessop (Vicar) conducted the Guild service, Canon A. W. Markby (branch chairman) reading the lesson.

There were 49 members at tea, and at the business meeting, presided over by Canon Markby, the Rev. G. L. O. Jessop expressed the hope that when the branch next came to Fordington the bells would have been rehung. One new member was elected and Bere Regis was selected for the next meeting on Nov. 12th.

NORTH DORSET BRANCH.

Iwerne Minster was selected for the quarterly meeting of the North Dorset Branch on September 17th. The Guild service was conducted by the secretary (the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards), and the Rev. H. J. Edmonds (Vicar) gave the address. Tea was served by ladies of the congregation.

At the meeting the vice-chairman presided and Mr. W. J. Foot (Manston) was elected a member. Invitations had been received from the Rectors of Fontwell Magna and Compton Abbas to ring in their respective churches, and after the meeting ringing took place in both towers as well as Iwerne.

National Police Guild

September 17th, 1949, goes on record as another red-letter day in annual meetings of the Guild. On this occasion Loughborough was the venue, the original choice of Derby having proved impracticable.

A goodly company met at the bell foundry, where they were conducted round the works by Mr. C. Harrison and Mr. J. Fidler in two parties. A lucid talk on the various aspects of the work was given. We saw large, small, old and new bells, some with the grime of centuries. We were privileged to see and hear the beautiful 15 ton bell destined to find a permanent home in the tower of Liverpool Cathedral. This bell is a fine example of the founder's art. Many visitors had their first experience of the light ring of ten at the foundry, and much amusement was forthcoming from the early efforts to control them.

Lunch was taken at the Bull's Head Hotel in a pleasing environment. The president, Insp. H. Poole, extended a welcome to the guests, who included Mr. O. J. B. Cole (Chief Constable of Leicester), the Ven. W. J. Lyon, Archdeacon of Loughborough, the Rev. A Hunt, of Shepshed, and Mr. Paul Taylor.

Mr. Cole replied and spoke of his long association with the Guild and of his continued interest in its progress and activities. Eighty sat down and the only critics were some of the gourmands back from the high living of the Irish tour, who appeared to have greater regard for the roast beef of Ould Ireland to that of Old England. Dyspepsia was the real cause of the moan!

After lunch a recital was given on the war memorial carillon—a novelty in bell music to most of the Guild—and was much appreciated. Ringing followed at the foundry and the Parish Church (10 bells each) and on a fine ring of eight at Shepshed.

Back for tea, when 94 partook and where the critics sought a cure for the Irish ailments.

In opening the business meeting, the president spoke of the good fellowship that had been maintained since the Guild was formed and although there was not any great activity in between, the annual meetings were looked upon in the nature of a family reunion. Reference was made to the absence of Messrs. W. J. Jones, of Newport, and F. H. Dexter, who were unable to be present through illness, the latter being in Leicester Royal Infirmary. It was decided to send telegrams wishing them speedy recovery.

Reference was also made to the death of ex-Sgt. A. Lawrence, of Hatfield, whom the president described as a most enthusiastic member and who, in conjunction with ex-President C. P. Hilton, donated the president's insignia of office. All stood in silence as a tribute to his memory.

With the exception of the substitution of R. L. Gilbert for L. Tuffrey, of Birmingham, on the committee, the whole of the officers were re-elected. On the motion of ex-Chief Inspector W. Bottrill, it was resolved that the annual subscription be increased to 2s. 6d., commencing in 1950. Insp. T. R. Butler, of Liverpool, will represent the Guild at the next Central Council meeting.

It was decided to hold the next meeting in London on September 16th, 1950. The first lady member to be proposed and accepted with great pleasure is Miss Betty Lee, of Manchester City Police. It is hoped to make the lady's acquaintance at London next year, if not earlier.

A social evening followed, which provided good fun and melody until the time came for long distance travellers to say farewell and 'Here's to the next time.' H. G. J.

LATE NOTICE

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION.—Rochester District.—Annual meeting at Rochester Cathedral on Saturday, Oct. 22nd. Usual arrangements. Names for tea by Wednesday, Oct. 19th, to B. W. May, Keithston, Keycol Hill, near Sittingbourne. 5910

Leicester Youth's Century

By conducting a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at Bottesford while on the Leicestershire tour, Alan Cattell reached, a week after his 18th birthday, his century of peals.

Coming from a ringing family who are also devoted church workers at All Saints' (Leicester's second oldest church), it was quite natural young Alan should be taught to ring by his father on the handy ring of six there. It became apparent that he would soon claim the honour of being Leicester's most brilliant young ringer, whether on tower or handbells. Credit is due to himself for his aptitude and hard study.

Alan's peals this year touch the 50 mark, 25 of which have been Surprise. His 100 peals to date are as follows:—

Doubles: Grandsire 6 (conducted 4), Plain Bob 1, five methods 1. Minor: Plain 6 (5), Cambridge 5, three methods 1 (1), four methods 3 (1), St. Clement's 1. Triples: Grandsire 4 (1 in hand), Stedman 7 (1), 5 (1), Plain Bob 1 (1). Major: Plain Bob 3, Kent 1, Double Norwich 5, Cambridge 12, New Cambridge 6, Superlative 1, Yorkshire 9 (1), Bristol 9 (including 9,344 and 10,976), Stanton 1. Caters: Erin 1, Stedman 2 (1 in hand). Royal: Cambridge 3, New Cambridge 2. Cinques: Stedman 1. Maximus: Cambridge 1, Yorkshire 1. Rung in 32 towers.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL

A quarterly meeting of the Swindon Branch was held at Ashton Keynes on September 10th. These bells are seldom rung and the tower was in a very dirty state. Spanners and oil can worked wonders with the bells, and after an argument with a chiming hammer, some good ringing was had on the five bells.

Tea was on the Vicarage lawn, and the Vicar (the Rev. R H. Wells), in welcoming the visitors, said he hoped the sound of the bells would stir up interest in the village. At the business meeting it was proposed to visit Purton, Stratton St. Margaret and Swindon during the next three months. Visitors were present from the Stroud and Cirenceser branches.

TEWKESBURY BRANCH.

The quarterly meeting of the Tewkesbury Branch was held at Chaceley on Sept. 3rd and was very well attended, nearly all the towers being represented.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Sanger Davies, and the address was given by the Rev. H. C. Vial, Vicar of Berrow, Worcs. One new member was elected and it was decided to hold the next meeting at Ashchurch.

An excellent tea was served in the schoolroom, for which the ladies responsible received a hearty vote of thanks. The Tewkesbury Branch is noted for its excellent teas, and Chaceley certainly lived up to its reputation.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

NORTHERN DISTRICT.

The Northern District held a meeting at Feering on Sept. 17th, when 47 members and friends were present from 24 different parishes and Mr. Farrant, from Martock, Somerset.

The Vicar (the Rev. T. A. Everitt) conducted the Association's service and gave an address. Tea was served at the Bell Inn and the Vicar presided at the business meeting. Four new members were elected and Great Bardfield was chosen for a meeting in November. Mr. Pratt thanked the Vicar for his address and for the use of the bells, and Mr. Newman for his assistance.

Ringing was resumed on the church bells, whilst some members went to Kelvedon to try their hand on the heavy six there.

NETHERSEALE, DERBYS.—On Sept. 18th, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: H. Hillman 1, S. S. Scattergood 2, F. Sharpe 3, G. W. Hair 4, W. F. Woodward (cond.) 5, S. T. Scattergood 6.

A Peal Tour in Sussex

On September 10th, eleven ringers from Ashford, Swindon, Nottingham, St. Ives, Daventry and Wendover met at Brighton to spend a week visiting various towers in Sussex and attempting peals in the standard Surprise methods.

With regard to peal ringing activities, the week began somewhat unfortunately. Partly due to the fact that most of the members of the band were strangers to each other, Superlative was lost at Burgess Hill after 2 hours and 20 minutes.

Enthusiasm being in no wise damped, however, the party proceeded to St. Peter's, Brighton, to attempt a peal of Cambridge Royal, stopping on the way at a six-bell tower at Keymer, where a meeting was in progress After a disappointing start, it was decided to substitute Bob Royal for Cambridge Royal, and the decision was justified when a good peal was brought round after 3 hours and 25 minutes.

On Sunday morning the band, in conjunction with the local ringers, rang for Communion service at the Church of St. Nicholas, Brighton, and in the afternoon, despite one or two anxious moments, a peal of Cambridge was scored at Withyham.

Yorkshire was inexplicably lost at Shoreham on Monday morning. Atonement was made for the morning's failure, however, by a peal of Superlative at Steyning.

Tuesday morning's ringing resulted in another failure after an hour of almost perfect ringing at Uckfield, when another attempt on Yorkshire was lost. In the afternoon the close proximity of the village school prevented an early start at Christ Church, Fairwarp, and the interval was filled by a visit to the church at Coleman's Hatch, where the handy eight were rung. The band made a determined start on Superlative at Fairwarp and a fairly decent peal was rung.

The inexplicable run of bad luck experienced in morning peals continued on Wednesday at Sinfield, where the trebles are somewhat difficult to hear inside. This time Cambridge was the unlucky method.

East Grinstead was to have been the venue for the afternoon peal, but due to the death of the verger the attempt had to be cancelled. However, the band assisted the local ringers in ringing rounds and Stedman Triples on the half-muffled bells for the funeral service. Turners Hill was, therefore, substituted for East Grinstead, and the method chosen was Yorkshire, unsuccessful up till this. A very fine peal was rung.

Thursday morning saw a complete change of luck, for a peal of Cambridge was rung at St. Peter's, Henfield, at the third attempt. Refreshed in body by an exceedingly good lunch at the restaurant of Mr. Cruttenden, a local ringer, the party returned to Brighton, but failed miserably in an attempt for Stedman Caters at St. Nicholas'.

The success of morning peals continued on Friday, when a very fine peal of Yorkshire, considered by many to be the best peal of the week, was rung at Cuckfield, and Bolney was visited after lunch and the bells utilised to ring once again the standard Surprise methods Cambridge was the method chosen for Hurstpierpoint in the afternoon, but the peal came to grief after 2 hours and 10 minutes.

Yorkshire fared no better on Saturday morning, being lost after 1 hour 40 minutes, but a peal of Bristol at Rotherfield brought the tour to a successful conclusion.

Ringers deserving special mention are Harry Parkes, the organiser, who turned the tenor in in every attempt, although his hands bore signs of severe punishment, the two conductors, Mark Lancefield and Fred Huckstepp, and Mark Marshall, the youngest ringer, who was the only one besides Harry Parkes to stand in every attempt.

REVALUATION

BY CORN. R. STONE.

THE recent leading article entitled 'Devaluation' asks if there is any means of sifting peal performances for 'clean' ones only to be recorded. This old question of 'quality' in the ringing of peals has always seemed to me to have a fairly straightforward answer, and to have needed the remedy in that answer to have been rigidly applied. After all, honesty forces us to admit that anything more than a slight trip immediately corrected brings up falsity in performance, and who would start for a peal known to be 'false'?

The practical reasoning out of the whole matter seems to run something like this:—

(1) As opposed to ringing for Divine Service, peal-ringing is, of course, a species of sport. Even peals in memoriam are, surely a sporting tribute? Like all sports, peal-ringing is subject to the 'rules of the game.' The average peal-ringer is a clean sportsman with decent principles and will want to 'play the game,' providing the rules of such games are universally understood and practised.

(2) The criterion is, as we known, not less than 5,000 true and unrepeated change-rows, beginning and ending with rounds. (Except below Triples.) No peal record may stand if the composition is false; and this holds equally good if there should be found only one misplaced or repeated change-row in the composition.

(3) Even with a true composition properly called falsity may arise through a mistake in the ringing. The question therefore turns on the simple fact of error in performance. How is this to be adjudged?

(4) Now peal-ringing is essentially team-work and every true change-row is produced by intentional effort on the part of all the ringers; and, although a bell may be struck so badly as to sound out of its place among the others, yet, providing its intended position amongst them is never lost sight of, that is, providing its correct path or position is never lost to mind by someone in the band (i.e. conductor), then custom will accord the performance as true enough for recording as a peal.

(5) In all peals except those omni-conducted ('silent), and those which may be refereed, there is one person and one only who is ultimately responsible for the integrity of the record—the conductor.

(6) So it comes to this: If in a peal attempt, based on a true composition, bells may occasionally strike not precisely in their proper places, that is to say, if there be a momentary lapse on a ringer's part, or if two bells should 'swap' paths, then, providing the correction be immediate (within the next whole pull) the true bell-paths or positions will have been kept in mind. If, on the other hand, the lapse causes others to go wrong, or if the swap-over runs on, then a series of wrong change-rows will have been brought in, rendering the performance quite false. Since, no matter how clever the 'sorting out' may ensue, the falsity is positively there, the honest conductor can only call stand, and show the offenders why this was necessary.

If this reasoning is right and fair then the standard of ringing for peal-recording should never fall below what may be summarised thus:—

(a) Trips or 'overs' spotted in ensuing change-row, and 'held right' from there, shall not be considered as having lost the performance of the true composition.

(b) Errors discovered and corrected at next lead-end, and anything requiring what is commonly known as 'sorting 'em out,' shall invalidate the attempt.

(c) For a performance put forward for record as a peal the conductor (or referee if standing) is always to be understood as guaranteeing no occurrence as in (b) above.

The expression 'held right' in (a) above may be taken to mean that the delinquent's bell-position or bell-path was properly kept in view from the moment the mistake occurred until the ringer himself is right again. In point of fact all this will be realised as merely complying with what was laid down years ago by the Central Council; but as an attempt to carry the mandate into practical rules.

Here then is the consequential suggestion: Let us, say, from the date of the New Year, having revalued our standards in peal-ringing, resolve that future peal attempts begin only on the clear understanding, by all participants, that any recording of the performance will have to be subject to a guarantee covering (b) above; and that every attempt shall reach this standard!

BELFRY GOSSIP

Six members of the Woods family composed the band which rang 1,260 Plain Bob Minor at Donington, Lincs, on September 20th, viz., Ronald Woods 1, Denis Woods (first 'inside,' age 15) 2, C. G. Woods 3, S. W. Woods 4, E. A. Woods 5, H. R. Woods (cond.) 6.

Mr. J. Chesterman has 'completed the circle' at St. Michael's, Basingstoke.

The ringer of the second bell in the peal at Heydour, Lincs, on Sept. 24th was Miss Katharine Burchnall.

The peal of Yorkshire Surprise at Cuckfield, reported in our last issue, was the 100th peal for Mr. Fredk. G. Huckstepp, Congratulations!

'The City Press,' London, recently gave a page article introducing the Ancient Society of College Youths, entitled 'The Bellringers' M.C.C.' Among the illustrations is one of the ancient shop-front of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry.

Writes 'Delight': Should any ringers visit the beach at West Wittering, near Chichester, and be so misguided as to think they can get out a set of handbells (tenor 2⅝ inches across in C) and ring some Grandsire, Bob Major or Stedman I should like to warn them—it is not allowed.

The Lincoln Diocesan Guild will hold their Jubilee dinner on the first Saturday in December. It is hoped to organise various peal attempts on Friday night and Saturday morning and a room will be reserved in a local hostelry for a Friday evening 'get together.'

It was a graceful compliment that the branch secretaries and the general secretary of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association paid to Miss Mary P. Hilliar on her coming-of-age and engagement in all standing in a peal together.

The 'Freds' peal at Milton, near Gravesend, by Men of Kent and Kentish Men, as recorded in the peal columns, was specially arranged to commemorate the birthday and 40 years' service as leader at Milton-next-Gravesend, by Mr. F. M. Mitchell. He has been an officer of the Kent Association for 33 years, 17 of which he was general secretary and treasurer, and he still holds the office of hon. treasurer. He has also served as County Representative on the Central Council for the past 20 years. The ringers came from all parts of the county, and were entertained to tea after the peal by Mrs. Mitchell.

August issue of 'Ringing Towers' from Australia records the first quarter of Triples at St. Mary's, Sydney, after a period of 30 years. Six of the band scored their first quarter of Triples.

The first prize in the competition to raise funds for Talgarth Bell Restoration Fund was won by Mrs. Ford, of Northwich. The committee express their sincere thanks to all who supported the venture.

'There really is a boom in bells' was a 'Daily Mail' feature article. Interviewed were Mr. A. B. Peck and Mr. F. C. W. Stevenson. 'Young men are turning to bell-ringing as a new hobby with plenty of interest and exercise,' was their opinion.

By ringing in the peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal at Loughborough Bell Foundry, Miss Elizabeth Faulknall, of Desford, Leics, now joins the select band of those having rung Cambridge Minor to Maximus on tower bells.

On Sunday, Oct. 2nd, Mr. W. H. L. Buckingham took part in the service ringing at St. Albans Cathedral. Readers who have climbed the 160 stairs to the ringing chamber there will agree that this is no mean feat for a man 83 years of age.

LINCOLN RINGERS IN THE VALE OF EVESHAM

THE rather misty morning of September 17th saw the beginning of the first ringing tour organised primarily on behalf of members of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild. By 8 o'clock George E. Feirn and Jack Bray had reached Lincoln from North Lincolnshire, collected their passengers, and set off down the Fosseway towards Evesham. Soon after noon most of the party had made themselves comfortable in their hotels at Evesham, and greetings were exchanged with John Thomas, who had done such valuable work in organising the towers and contacting their respective incumbents in the Evesham area.

Lunch was brought to an end rather hurriedly by the sound of the Evesham Campanile bells being raised, and some of the party went along to renew acquaintance with the St. Albans ringers, who were visiting the tower. A three o'clock start for peals at Hinton-on-the-Green and Hampton denied us the chance of a pull, and away the party went to their respective towers to score the first peals of the tour. At Hinton the band was entertained to tea by the Rector, who expressed a cordial welcome to the party.

On Sunday morning, some went to the bell-tower, while others went to Hinton to ring for morning service, and again we were made welcome — and gifts of sweet William pears were pressed upon us.

After lunch ten of the party went along to the Campanile and prepared their ropes for the day's peal attempt. At a quarter to three the treble pulled off and rounds were heard again a little after six. An outside observer of Welsh origin, believed to be resident in the district, remarked that the first hour was pretty putrid! The writer cannot deny or substantiate his claim, as he was called upon to accompany the good ladies of the party upon a river trip.

SNOOKER, THE CAT.

That evening Stan Bennett persuaded three others to go out to the Thomas residence to ring a peal 'in hand.' After a successful conclusion a short rat-tat-tat was heard. Various conjectures were made as to who had been listening. Could it be the local Rector who had shown such interest? Or some member of the party who had come out from Evesham? However, when John Thomas opened the door the band were surprised to see Snooker, the cat, walk in. Apparently he has been trained not only to knock on the door, but also to wait until the peal comes round!

From Monday onwards it was arranged that we should travel to our selected towers in a private omnibus, and at half-past eight that morning we all clambered into the vehicle bound for the Abbey Church of SS. Mary and Elburga at Pershore, with its unusual ringing room. The 'cage-like' ringing chamber was substituted for the more normal belfry as the floor of the latter had obscured the beauty of the lantern. To those who were rather afraid of heights, it was rather terrifying to find oneself seemingly suspended in mid-air. The brave ones of the party observed that though the supporting beams were much worm-eaten, they might hold out. Stan Bennett played for safety and planted himself firmly in the middle of the cage until someone suggested that there might be a trap door there, and as soon as the first touch ended abruptly with the sixth rope breaking, he disappeared down the stairs. The rope was repaired and after about half an hour's ringing the bells were lowered—and most agreed that a peal here would not have given much enjoyment to the ringers.

Upon arrival at Upton-on-Severn, we espied a figure, sitting upon the railings by the river —a figure whom we presumed to be a bargee of local origin; in fact, it turned out to be George E. Fearn, of Birmingham, who for once had found time to do a little ringing. A quick one, followed by the most excellent lunch of the week, and it was time to meet Charles Camin and proceed to the tower. A peal of London was scored here, while the remainder of the party travelled to Malvern Link to ring Stedman Triples.

The next morning brought the only tower-bell failure of the tour when Bristol was lost at Hallow, but this afforded an opportunity to all to look around Worcester Cathedral. At midday the carillon gave forth its tune—George Fearn suggesting that it was entitled 'The Whispering Pines of Nevada.' The afternoon saw us on the way to Dodderhill, where the Church of St. Augustine of Canterbury stands high upon its hill. We were all curious about the unusual shape of the church. The Rector informed us that the original church had been some 60ft. longer before its partial destruction in the 17th century. The tower was rebuilt in 1700, but not at the crossing of the nave and transept as before, but over the south transept entrance. In the tower a peal of Spliced Surprise was rung, while in the vestry there took place a 'married couples' peal of Kent Treble Bob Major.

Fortune did not favour the handbell ringers that same evening, for two peals of Caters were lost at Hinton-on-the-Green; but let it be noted that the Stedman band were disturbed by the delicious aroma of our hostess' coffee and the bells came to grief just beyond the turning course.

FEARN OR FEIRN?

While a peal of Lincolnshire was scored at Salford Priors on Wednesday, the remainder went for a pull at St. Nicholas', Alcester—a grand eight, but unfortunately right in the middle of the village and thus largely unavailable for peal ringing. The afternoon took us to Stow-in-the-Wold, where a peal of London was scored after two false starts. It was during this peal that one discovered the inadvisability of having two ringers with exactly the same name. A slight trip occurred and the conductor bellowed. 'Get down, George!' When this was repeated the seventh man enquired if he was the culprit. 'I mean George Feirn' shouted the tenorman. For the rest of the week the Fearns (or should it be Feirns?) were called by their second names, though no one was sure which was Edwin and which was Ernest.

In spite of the expert attentions of John Thomas before the start of the peal, the bells made the ringers work, and afterwards liquid refreshment was sought in a tavern hard by the church. The locals were so indignant at the ringers that pints were hastily swallowed and the band did not come to rest until they found a 'pub' which was well out of earshot of the bells.

Thursday saw visits to Hanbury and Claines, Belgrave Surprise Major and Yorkshire Surprise Royal being the peals rung. By now hands were becoming sore, and dusters for plaiting in the rope end were much in evidence at the beginning of peals. So much so that at Claines, George Large enquired whether we were used to the Yorkshire rope end sally. Meanwhile at Worcester, 'Cinema Major' was brought round by the ladies and others in time to catch the bus for Evesham; the band sat thus: Mrs. C. McGuiness, Mrs. J. Bray, Mrs. C. E. Brown, Mrs. J. Walden, Mrs. J. A. Freeman, Mrs. S. E. Bennett, Messrs. P. M. Freeman and M. Bennett.

At lunch we had welcomed Mrs. G. E. Fearn, who said that she liked to see her husband occasionally, and the best way to do this was to catch him either with rope in hand or with his nosebag on.

That same evening the more energetic rang eight methods 'in hand'—while the rest slaked their parched throats at the Woolpack, Evesham, with cider, under the able persuasion of Messrs. Charles Brown and John Walden.

Friday brought us to our last day and an early start was made for Prestbury, where Yorkshire Surprise Major was rung—by 'experts from Broadway,' said the locals. And in the afternoon we beheld the 'Cathedral of the Cotswolds,' the early 15th century Church of SS. Peter and Paul at Northleach, which undoubtedly holds its own with any in the kingdom. While the peal of London was rung here, the remainder visited Bourton-on-the-Water. An unsuccessful attempt was made for Double Norwich 'in hand,' and so the chance was taken to visit the 'model village.'

That evening the whole party gathered in the lounge of the Northwick Arms to talk over the week, to show off their blisters and to wonder where it should be next year. All agreed the week had been a great success—not only from the point of view of the number of peals scored, but even more because of the good fellowship and the happy times that had been spent outside the ringing chamber. It was fitting that all the hard work in arranging the tour should be recognised; John A. Freeman expressed the thanks of the whole party to Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, without whose thorough preparations on the spot the tour would not have been possible, and asked them to accept a gift of a cheque as a mark of our appreciation. Jack Bray then spoke on behalf of the party when he presented a dressing case to John Freeman, who had arranged the bands and peals from the Lincoln end.

On Saturday morning the tour was nearly over, and except for those who had one more peal to ring at the Cathedral Church of St. Philip, Birmingham, the party made their way home, after a happy week marred by one incident best forgotten. A certain lady member of the party was the recipient of a postcard which she failed to hide from her husband.

Thanks to the kindness of the Birmingham ringers in making the Cathedral bells available and their assistance in making up the band, Yorkshire Maximus was rung, making a fitting end to the week.

By 10.15 p.m. on Saturday, September 24th, all the party had arrived home safely with but one question needing answering—the time and place for next year's 'do.'

P. M. FREEMAN.

A KENT DEDICATION

WESTERHAM BELLS RE-OPENED.

Sunday, October 2nd, marked the occasion of a double event at Westerham, Kent—the re-opening of the fine ring of eight bells, tenor 23¾ cwt., preceded by the dedication of St. Katherine's chapel in the church. For half an hour before the service the local band manned the ropes, captained by Mr. John O. Weller.

After the service a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples was attempted, conducted by Mr. E. H. Lewis, M.A., but it came to grief after about 20 minutes' excellent ringing. This was caused by two church officials (non-ringers!) who tried to carry on official conversations with two members of the band during the ringing. However, lost honours were regained prior to evening service, when 1,260 Grandsire Triples were brought round by C. Taylor 1, Edna M. Sills 2, J. L. Morris 3, Miss M. Cosgrove (first on eight bells) 4, W. Theobald (cond.) 5, J. O. Weller 6, F. C. W. Knight 7, W. Cosgrove 8. Mr. W. Theobald, of Mears and Stainbank, is to be congratulated on his excellent workmanship in the rehanging of this grand eight.

F.C.W.K.

Mr. Howard Howell conducted his 50th peal of Stedman at Newcastle-under-Lyme on Sept. 10th.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

True Peals

'BAD RINGING DEFAMES OUR ART.'

Dear Sir,—I was much interested in your editorial in the last issue.

The accuracy and quality of peals rung must depend upon the ringers taking part, and principally upon the conductor. The only check upon bad striking and mistakes being allowed to go on too long is the possibility that some critical person may be in the neighbourhood and listening. Even so, that person might very well hesitate to confront the band as they emerged and say that the peal was false or that the ringing did not justify its being booked as a peal. It would almost certainly result in bad blood.

The last paragraph brings back to my mind one or two experiences that occurred to me in days when I was an active peal ringer.

About 40 years ago I went, with a good band, to All Saints', Hertford, for a peal of Stedman Caters. We had well over three hours of excellent striking with hardly a trip all the time, and were within a few changes of coming round. The bells were in the plain course, 8-6 behind and the 9th in 6-7 up. At the sixth end the 6th went down to 6-7, and I, on the 8th, laid the whole pull and waited for the 9th to come up to me. He, however, remained in 6-7. The conductor, Mr. G. N. Price, promptly called to him to go up, and I said, 'Come to me, Teddy.' He replied that he was making the Bob. (No Bob had been called.) We shouted again and he eventually came blundering up to me as the conductor said, 'That should have been all,' but we did not strike rounds until the following handstroke. The conductor declared it to be no peal as the bells did not come round clean.

I was bitterly disappointed as it would have been my first peal of Caters and the ringing up to then had been of such a high order, but I was convinced of the correctness of his decision, and the peal was never published. He was a ringer who demanded a very high quality of ringing and would never suffer a blunder to go on for more than a blow or two, and if too many mistakes were made he used to call 'Stand' and flay the offender. We used to lose more peals than we got, but those that we did get were worthy of record.

Some 20 years later I had a very unhappy experience in a peal of Stedman Triples. I was ringing the treble and the man on the 4th got tangled up with me in 6-7 and told me to go down first (or vice versa, I forget which). I protested, but he insisted, and as he was an experienced conductor and had conducted the peal a number of times, I gave way against my better judgment, but when I got to the front I felt sure we were wrong. I looked over at him, but he avoided my eye, and the conductor seemed satisfied and I carried on. Some time later, when we were behind together, he clashed with me and told me what to do, and again I felt sure he was telling me wrong. We went on and the bells came round all right. I challenged him when we had finished, but he held to it that he was in the right. I have never called any Stedman, so I could not argue, and the conductor, too, said that all was in order. I allowed the peal to be published, feeling that I had no alternative, but I always look at the record of it with misgivings.

In 1939, while on a tour, we had a bad mix-up at the very end of an attempt for Yorkshire Surprise. The conductor sorted it out very skilfully, but when he called 'That's all,' I, who was ringing the 7th, was in 5ths place and by no means sure what I was doing. There was some discussion as to whether or not it was a peal. I held to it that it did not come round, and was therefore no true peal, and that I would not have my name in it. This opinion was acceptable to the others and it was not booked.

This last, with the experience at Hertford, has salved my conscience over the Stedman Triples doubtful affair.

You ask, 'What should an individual do?' Your concluding remarks give the answer. Let every ringer endeavour, both by precept and example, to set and insist upon perfect integrity and a high standard of ringing and striking and resolutely set his face against anything below that standard. It is not nice to have to say, 'Don't ask me in a peal with so and so; his ringing is not up to my standard,' but it can be done tactfully. Bad ringing defames our art, and let us not forget that the public hears us and the public judges us.

I am one of the 'old faithfuls' of your paper. I had the first issue and have had it weekly ever since, except possibly for the period when I was overseas in 1915 and 1916.—Yours faithfully,

F. WHITE.

RINGERS' STRIKE AT BULWELL

Dear Sir,—The Bulwell ringers appear to have a genuine grievance and a situation has arisen which might well have been avoided.

The fault seems to lie with the organisers of the peal in not first approaching the local band to ascertain whether they, as is undoubtedly their privilege, desired to ring the first peal on the bells. If the arrangements were made officially by the Southwell Diocesan Guild, it is indeed a surprising breach of etiquette on their part; and in any case an action savouring of peal grabbing tactics.

Whatever the true facts in this instance, peal organisers would do well to ascertain the wishes of the local band before making their arrangements, and incumbents would also be well advised to consult their own ringers before consenting to peal attempts, be the application in the name of an association or otherwise. Much dissatisfaction and grousing would undoubtedly be avoided if this were done.

The first peal at Bulwell has been rung, no continuance of the strike can alter this, and the locals would do well to forget their disappointment and return to their activities.—Yours faithfully,

L. J. CLARK.

Chelmsford, Essex.

BELLRINGERS' PATRON SAINT

Dear Sir,—Why not St. Dunstan? He drew up rules for ringing bells in 977, and as a craftsman of the first order he is believed to have cast some bells.

Tradition has it he also pinched the Devil's nose with some red hot pincers when he poked his head through the workshop window in order to suggest some evil to the holy saint. His feast day is May 19th, when ringers might have a perfect orgy of ringing in honour of their patron saint.—Yours truly,

F. C. CHAMPION.

Hinton Rectory, Evesham.

Dear Sir,—In reply to query of Mr. G. Carse, I pass this on for what it is worth.

At the Curfew Tower, Windsor Castle, I was informed by the late keeper of the tower (Mr. Such) that our patron saint is St. Antony not Anthony. The St. Antony cross can be seen on top of the Curfew and is a short topped cross, which is said to have been put there by St. Antony to make his peace with God after sheep stealing, hence the removal of the top of cross.

I'm afraid he would hardly warrant a ringers' day, and the least we say about our patron saint (if this is true) the better.

GEORGE GILBERT.

The Irish Tour

Dear Sir,—May I take up a few lines of 'The Ringing World' to say, on behalf of the many Irish local ringers who met Mr. Poole and his tourists, how grateful we are for the exhibitions of perfect ringing on our tower bells, the demonstrations on handbells and for the friendships made in such a sociable atmosphere.

The visit of the Leicester ringers has done an amount of good in our country towers, where they need contacts of this sort. A greater keenness has developed to improve the standard of ringing.

I, therefore, would simply say on their behalf, 'Thank you for a wonderful show,' and also on my own behalf, 'It was a week never to be forgotten.'—Yours faithfully,

FRED E. DUKES.

Jenkinstown, Dundalk.

CLAIM 48 YEARS LATE

Dear Sir,—Another claim by the Irish tourists is incorrect. Regarding the first peal on ten handbells in Ireland, they are 48 years too late. On May 25th, 1901, a peal of Stedman Caters 'in hand' was rung in St. Patrick's Cathedral belfry, conducted by William Pye. The particulars of the performance can be found in 'Bell News,' No. 1,000, June 8th, 1901, page 69.—Yours sincerely,

JOHN G. NASH.

228, Victoria Road, Wood Green, N.22.

Dear Sir,—You have given us a fine account of this ringing holiday. Memory calls me back 50 years. Was it not Arklow where a famous ringer of all time went and trained a band of ringers, rang two tower bells, also conducted peals of Stedman Triples at the same time?

Alas, how true: a man's good deeds oft are interred with his bones, the evil lives after him.—Yours faithfully, O. W. PORTER.

Shiplake, Oxon.

Dear Sir,—May I express profound regret in regard to any claim concerning first peals during the Irish Tour which have proved incorrect. The report was based on information received from the secretary of the Irish Association, on whose behalf I also express an apology.—Yours truly,

HAROLD J. POOLE.

LEICESTERSHIRE TOUR

Dear Sir,—Your editorial of Sept. 23rd mentions that in the recent Leicestershire tour ten peals were rung in the diocese and not one of them rung for the Leicester Diocesan Guild; further, that no explanation was given for the departure.

As one who had the pleasure of being amongst the band, I agreed beforehand (not thereby strengthening my inclusion in the tour) to credit any peals to the Guild chosen.

It is often said 'coming events cast their shadows before.' Undoubtedly readers of 'The Ringing World' have been well aware of these shadows appearing over the Leicester Diocesan Guild during the last twelve months, but I myself honestly believe the members do not wish to 'air' their grievances in public.

'ROBIN HOOD.'

CLAIM WITHDRAWN

Dear Sir,—It has been pointed out to me that our claim to the first peal of Bristol on the bells at Hollesley is not correct, as that was accomplished on June 17th, 1939, conducted by Mr. Lewis W. Wiffen. We withdraw our claim, and offer our sincere apologies to Mr. Wiffen and his band.—Yours faithfully,

J. E. CAWSER.

Suffolk and Norfolk Tour

For the peal of Spliced Surprise in eight methods at Redenhall on Friday morning a select band was chosen overnight, which caused one or two of its members to stay up until a late hour studying the methods in which they were a little hazy. Although the striking was perhaps a shade slow for this fine ring of eight, a very good peal was brought round and was enjoyed by those who stood out. Three parts of this five-part peal were carefully checked by one keen listener, so perhaps the benefit of any doubts should be given about the other two parts.

TOWER DOOR LOCKED.

Arriving about 40 minutes late at Eye in the afternoon, the tourists found the tower door locked and all attempts to discover the key failed. After basking in the sunshine for about an hour, it was decided to go off for tea, and over this meal eight enthusiasts decided they would like to try the reputed rough-going eight at Stradbroke. The Vicar kindly granted the tourists permission to ring at very short notice, and several short touches were brought round. It was generally agreed that these bells were just about 'pealable,' but would be improved upon if they could be dropped to a lower level in the tower.

The party then left for the Everards Hotel, Bury St. Edmunds, where they stayed for one night only. On Saturday morning, the final day of the tour, the tourists visited the Norman tower of the Cathedral, the second detached campanile of the week, Beccles, of course, being the other one. A good peal of Lindsey Royal was rung here on this fine old ring of ten, cast by Thomas Osborne during the 18th century. A short pull on the eight at St. Mary's would have been appreciated, but probably the citizens of Bury would have thought otherwise, as the towers are only a stone's throw from each other.

The final peal of the tour was one of Cambridge Royal on the light ten at Mildenhall, two trebles having been recently installed by the Croydon foundry. Mr. L. W. G. Morris was called upon to conduct this peal, which came round in 3 hours and 27 minutes—much slower than had earlier been anticipated.

After such a tour there are many recollections—all happy ones—and in these figure Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pipe. They were most enthusiastic and helpful, and reflected in full that generous nature which we ringers like to think is our chief characteristic. Our joint thanks go to all the towerkeepers and incumbents, too, who made our visits so pleasant and easy and ('Tho' born to blush unseen') contributed so much to the success and harmony of the tour. Another memory left in our minds is of the winding Suffolk lanes—not 50 yards of straight road, we should think, and quite delightful at that.

Mr. J. E. Cawser again undertook the organising of the tour, and we offer him our sincere thanks—and congratulations, too—for the wonderful results he accomplished. This is the third tour he has organised, and as an earnest of our warm appreciation (but to his too modest embarrassment) we presented him at Norwich with a silver salver, suitably inscribed: 'J. E. Cawser, from his Ringing Friends, Suffolk, 1949.' He does indeed use his time and talent without stint, and our heartiest thanks are certainly his due. R. G. E.

C.C. COLLECTION OF PEALS

Dear Sir,—I would point out that in the C.C. Collection of Peals, Section III. (Double Norwich), peal No. 23, page 275, by the Rev. H. Earle Bulwer, the extra bob at 6 in every third part should be called in the 5th course and not in the 2nd course as stated. Also peal No. 85, page 295, by E. Wightman, there should be no bob at 4 in 3rd course as printed.

W. J. PAICE.

Dedications

STOKE-UNDER-HAM.

The Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Stoke-under-Ham, Somerset, gay with its harvest decorations, was the rendezvous of ringers from far and near on the occasion of the dedication of the bells on October 1st. A new treble of 6 cwt. 1 qr. 16 lb. has been added to the restored five in memory of the Rev. Everard Slade Powell. The bells have been tuned and rehung on ball bearings in a new frame by Messrs. John Taylor and Co.

The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. D. Ballard), and the bells were dedicated by the Ven. C. J. Grimes, D.D., Archdeacon of Northampton and president of the Peterborough Guild, whose masterly picture of the character and life work of the Rev. E. S. Powell was much appreciated. Prebendary E. V. Cox, president of the Devon Guild, the Rev. C. C. Cox, Master of the Salisbury Guild, and Prebendary G. W. Saunders, chairman of the Ilchester Deanery of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, also took part in the service. Ringers came from Staverton and Daventry in Northamptonshire, Leicester, Lyme Regis and London, with a party from Devon. Messrs. Taylor and Co. were represented by Mr. J. Fidler.

The opening rounds were rung immediately following the dedication by Mrs. E. S. Powell (donor of the new bell) 1, R. Beale 2, W. Warr 3, J. Fidler 4, V. J. Farthing 5, Jack W. Drew 6. The first touch on the bells was rung by Miss M. Clarke 1, F. Farrant 2, D. C. Birkinshaw 3, J. Glanville 4, J. Fidler 5, W. G. Gigg 6.

An excellent tea had been provided by Mrs. S. T. White and helpers on the delightful lawn which adjoins the church. Instructive and humorous speeches followed, and it is rumoured that the generosity of friends and visitors had an appropriate effect on the Vicar and that he is now 'walking on air'!

After tea a move was made to the belfry, which has been transformed, through the energy and generosity of local ringers and friends, from a rather dingy room into a bright cheerful place. Ringing followed up till nine o'clock, and ranged from Grandsire Doubles to London Surprise Minor, and the general opinion was that the bells are now excellent, and that the treble is a fitting memorial to a great gentleman, who did much to raise the general standard of change ringing. J.W.D.

NORTON, STOKE-ON-TRENT.

Two new trebles were dedicated by the Bishop of Lichfield at St. Bartholomew's, Norton, on September 18th, in memory of Prebendary J. G. Hamlett, who was Rector of the parish from 1921-1924. The cost, £760, was met by public subscription, the work being carried out by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., Loughborough. Included in the contract was a new steel girder frame to replace the old wooden one.

The original six bells at Norton were installed in 1826 and quarter turned in 1914. They were returned to the foundry again in 1931.

In preparation for the dedication the ringers had renovated the belfry and installed an electric clock, all at their own expense. Several gifts of furnishings were received, including ringing mats from Mr. and Mrs. H. Woolley, plush table cloth and linoleum by the late Mrs. W. C. Lawrence. The Bishop visited the belfry after the dedication.

Among the ringers present was Mr. J. E. Weeldon (82), who for 48 years was leader of the tower and had been a ringer there for 63 years. Under his guidance there has been for many years a successful six-bell band, with regular practice and service ringing.

WESTBURY, SALOP. — On Oct. 1st, 1 260 Grandsire Doubles: Miss B. A. Carter 1, C. A. Barron (cond.) 2, R. F. Davies 3, C. E. Overton 4, E. W. Colley 5, J. Colley 6.

OBITUARY

MR. H. C. BOND.

The death took place on September 24th of Mr. H. C. Bond, of Cirencester, who had been a ringer for about 60 years and had rung a good number of peals in the standard methods.

To his memory, 1,260 Grandsire Triples was rung at the Parish Church by J. Hope 1, F. J. Lewis, sen. (cond.) 2, F. J. Lewis, jun. 3, V. R. Williams 4, H. L. Cooke 5, E. H. Jefferies 6, W. H. Hayward 7, W. Wrigley 8. Mr. A. W. Bond, of Brighton, is a son of the deceased.

MR. R. HARRIS.

By the death of Mr. Robert Harris on Sept. 26th the Tewkesbury Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association lost its oldest member. He was 82 years of age.

Mr. Harris had been associated with the branch since its formation in July, 1924, but he had been a member of the Gloucester and Bristol Association much longer than that, having been connected with the Cheltenham Branch before the formation of the Tewkesbury Branch. For over 50 years Mr. Harris had been a member of the local band at Ashchurch and at the time of his death he was tower secretary.

The funeral service was taken by the Rev. P. N. Harvey (Vicar) on September 30th, and interment followed in the churchyard within sound of the bells that Mr. Harris loved so well.

In the evening fellow-members rang a well-struck quarter-peal of Bob Minor with the bells half-muffled. Those taking part were: J. Thomas (cond.) 1, A. Pulley 2, Mrs. J. Thomas 3, F. Nurden 4, E. T. Newbury 5, O. Attwood 6.

'BOB NOT PART OF METHOD'

Dear Sir,—I am afraid I must contradict Mr. C. J. Sedgley's statement that we rang a peal of Cambridge and Primrose spliced on the following grounds, viz.:—

(a) I called 'Go Cambridge.'

(b) None of the band has seen Primrose, let alone rung it.

(c) A bob is not part of the method—yet.

Yours faithfully,

CHARLES H. KIPPIN.

Five times repeated. Bob for Single at x in 3rd and 6th parts. When 2, 3 or 5 is in the hunt, ring Double Grandsire. When 4, 6 or 7 is in the hunt, ring Grandsire. Has all 4-6's, 6-7's and 7-4's at backstroke.

The first spliced peal in these methods. Rung at St. Mary's, Greasley, July 2nd, 1949, conducted by C. Glenn.

This is a good peal and eminently suitable for publication.

OUTINGS OF INTEREST

CHATTERIS, CAMBS.

Cambridgeshire, Bedfordshire and Huntingdonshire border towers were chosen by members of St. Peter's, Chatteris, for their day's outing on September 7th. Commencing at Gamlingay (Plain Bob and Cambridge were successful), Potton (a nice light ring), Stotfold (a handy Taylor six), on to Norton (8) before dinner at Letchworth.

Henlow, Clifton and Southill were visited; good ringing at each before tea at Bedford. Sharnbrook and Great Staughton after tea, with supper at the White Hart Hotel, Great Staughton.

It was at supper the summary of methods, good and indifferent, was announced, viz., five Surprise, five of standard, conducted chiefly by Mr. W. Seekings. Real disappointment was the absence of Mr. A. J. ('Pop') Abrams, father of the local company, who was slightly indisposed. Mr. Murphy made the arrangements. Everyone was very pleased with the outing, typical, perhaps, of many others, but this was 'ours.' F. W.

LADIES' GUILD (SOUTHERN DISTRICT).

The coach trip arranged for September 3rd by the district secretary turned out to be—at least in her opinion—chiefly remarkable for the celerity of its movement and the acceptability of its food.

Warnham, the first stop, was reached well before time and the extra quarter of an hour enabled everyone to ring. A delay at Horsham caused a late arrival at Goring-on-Sea. Ringing was followed by the half an hour ride along the coast in an anxious endeavour to get to Hove for lunch at 12 o'clock; the succeeding rush to eat all we could and the dash to Aldrington Parish Church to squeeze in some ringing between two weddings could really only truthfully be described as 'one mad scramble.'

The tempo then slowed down and one at least of the party was able to enjoy a swim before leaving for Seaford. Here Mrs. E. Osborn joined the party at tea and took them to the church for the final bout of ringing. The party arrived back in Guildford at about 9.30 and everyone seemed to have had a very nice day.

SWINDON.

Ringers of Swindon towers journeyed into Monmouthshire (or is it Gwent?) on Sept. 3rd, with the new ten at Abergavenny as the prime objective. The journey to Newport was made by train, and through the good offices of Stationmaster Nailor (a member of the branch), the party had reserved accommodation throughout. Passing Filton, a view was had of the Brabazon air liner, and Grandsire Triples and Doubles were rung passing under the Severn. Mr. J. W. Jones and a member of the Universities Association (very effectively disguised) met the party at Newport and accompanied them for the day.

Monmouth was the first call and some good ringing was had here, then on to Abergavenny for lunch and ringing on a grand ring of bells. (Are tenors of 3 and 4 tons really necessary when such music an be obtained with tenors of 25 cwt.?) Stedman Caters and Bob Royal (first of Bob Royal on the bells) were rung, and with regret the party moved on to Ebbw Vale. Another very good ring of bells and a well-appointed tower, the meter recording each revolution of the tenor being a subject of interest.

Part of the journey to Blaenavon was like travelling through No Man's Land due to open cast mining operations: it was utter desolation. The lively little eight here were much enjoyed, but time was limited and only two touches were rung. An excellent tea was provided at Newport, then it was good-bye to our Monmouthshire friends and home via Bristol.

IN RURAL OXFORDSHIRE.

With happy memories of a similar venture two years ago still fresh in their minds, a small band of enthusiasts from the Eynsham and Adderbury districts decided to repeat the performance in another part of the diocese. The chosen day, September 10th, turned out to be brilliant.

The first tower was Charlbury, where the six bells were raised in peal and rung to several Minor methods. We had expected a hard task here, as it is understood an order for rehanging will soon be placed, but perhaps the local foreman had oiled them specially, for they went fairly well. No doubt the longish draught, allied to the fact that the bells are hung right at the top of an unbuttressed 13th century tower, helps to create difficulty.

At Ascott-under-Wychwood the local foreman and the incumbent were waiting to greet us. The ring of six proved very pleasing in tone, but the tenor was thought to be loose on its stock. Some good touches were rung.

The next stop was at Shipton-under-Wychwood, where tea had been arranged. To his eternal disgrace the guide took the wrong turning and had to be led back by one with a keener sense of the good things to come.

Ringing followed on the pleasant eight at the Parish Church of St. Mary, and as this included a well-struck touch of Stedman Triples, at least one member from Eynsham was already guaranteed a perfect day. Major methods followed.

Chadlington, where we had the honour to be received by both the Vicar and the curate, has a ring of six, easy to handle, though not particularly tuneful owing to the 4th being sharp.

Our next tower, Spelsbury, only a short distance away, provided several surprises. The church is something of an architectural problem. It was formerly a Norman cruciform structure with a central tower. The nave and transepts of this church were subsequently demolished and the present church, like Topsy, 'growed'—eastward. The former central tower is now a western tower.

The first surprise was to find that the ring of six was hung in one half of the tower. So far as the bells are concerned, the tower could be cut in half without affecting them. The filthy condition of the ringing chamber should have prepared us for surprise No. 2, the shower of pigeon feathers which descended on the ringers when the bells were swung. The bells, a good ring of six, went surprisingly well, and one of our number will remember them with affection, for they provided him with his first touch of Cambridge Minor.

The time table, hitherto rigorously observed, was now out of hand, and Enstone, the last tower, was reached 20 minutes late. Everything was ready in this remarkably tidy ringing chamber, and here our Adderbury friends discovered how easy it is to ring Double Bob. A good fall in peal finished the day and brought about the parting of the ways. We were more than ever convinced that it does a lot of good to local ringing in these unfamiliar and not so popular towers to give them occasionally some well-struck change ringing.

SUFFOLK GUILD

About 25 members attended the Halesworth Branch meeting at Wissett on September 24th. The Rector (the Rev. J. L. Cornell) conducted the service and tea was generously provided by local ladies.

Three new members were elected and two ratified at the business meeting, and it was decided to hold branch meetings quarterly in future, the next being at Halesworth in December.

Ringing took place at Wissett and also with the Halesworth company at their weekly practice.

ST. JAMES' SOCIETY, PAISLEY.

As a result of the recent correspondence on Minimus ringing in 'The Ringing World,' it was decided to hold an outing to the Church of the Holy Rood, Stirling. The tower of this church, which is near the Castle, contains four bells; the treble was cast by William Chapman, of Whitechapel, in 1781; the second is pre-Reformation, circa 1500, and the third was cast by Cornelis Ouderogge in Rotterdam in 1657. The tenor has been recast a number of times and is now the work of David Burges, of Glasgow; the weight is about 8 cwt.

On making a previous inspection of the fittings, it was found that though all the bells had stays and sliders (one had an iron stay!) the wheels had no garter holes and the ropes were bolted to the rim of the wheels. The rope on the tenor was one inch in diameter.

It was also discovered that on the only other recorded occasion when changes had ever been rung, in 1836, the Press had been notified and a warning notice had appeared in a local paper. With this in mind, the Press and the Chief Constable were duly notified that on the afternoon of October 1st strange noises might be expected to emerge from the church steeple.

The morning was spent preparing the fittings, garter holes were drilled, and ropes of a reasonable thickness were fitted, and by the afternoon all was in readiness. Two of the bells slipped wheel badly, but this was finally overcome, and the treble set extremely fine at handstroke, a fault which had to be endured. The bells are quite well in tune despite the fact that the third is 1½ inches smaller in diameter than the second; unfortunately, the treble is slightly cracked.

A number of Minimus methods were rung and a most enjoyable outing was had by all.

R. C.

ST. MARY'S, PUTNEY.

On September 10th, members and friends of St. Mary's, Putney, Society journeyed into Essex, Hertford and Suffolk for their annual outing. The first tower on the list, Harlow, was reached at 11 a.m., and on entering the ringing chamber the visitors observed two grim reminders of the passing of time—on one wall a figure of 'Father Time,' complete with scythe, and on another wall a complete skeleton carved in stone.

Undeterred by the presence of these two gentlemen (although some members of the band have already reached and others are rapidly approaching the 'three score years and ten'), the bells were soon set going to Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and a perfectly struck course of Cambridge Major.

Then on to Bishop's Stortford, with its fine ring of ten; here touches of Stedman and Grandsire Caters were successfully brought round, but an attempt for a course of Cambridge Royal unfortunately came to grief.

After an excellent lunch we set off on a 30 mile trip to Clare in Suffolk. Here is a fine heavy ring of eight, but with a long draught which makes the going somewhat slow; but touches in various methods were successfully accomplished. Just inside the south door, carefully preserved in a glass case, is a relic, belonging to a past generation of ringers, in the form of a two-gallon earthenware jar, inscribed, 'Clare Ringers, 1729.'

The next objective was Thaxted, its beautiful tower and spire a landmark for miles around. Immediately on arrival we were met by Mr. Drane, who arranged an excellent tea at the Village Hall. The bells have been restored and rehung quite recently by the Croydon firm; they are indeed a lovely eight, a joy to ring and to listen to, and we heard them to full advantage in touches of Stedman and courses of Cambridge and Double Norwich.

Last, but not least, in the day's itinerary was Dunmow, with its fine ring of eight, where the day's ringing was rounded off with touches, including Stedman Triples, Cambridge Major and not forgetting a few 'rounds' in each tower for the beginners.

Memorial to Rev. F. J. O. Helmore

Representatives from several towers in the Canterbury district and Mr. G. H. Spice, general secretary of the Kent County Association, were present at Canterbury Cathedral on October 2nd, when a memorial was dedicated to the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore.

It took the form of a solid oak door leading to the belfry of the Cathedral, together with an inscription cut into the fabric over the door, which read: 'In memory of the Rev. F. J. O. Helmore, 1851-1938. He served this Cathedral for 59 years. Minor Canon 1878-1937. Precentor 1883-1926. He was Honorary Secretary, Kent County Association of Change Ringers, from 1891-1929.'

The service was conducted by the Vice-Dean (the Archdeacon of Maidstone), and a procession formed by the choir and clergy, together with the Cathedral ringers, walked from the Treasury to the South Transept, where the ceremony took place. During the procession the Ringers' Hymn was sung.

Before the dedication the Vice-Dean spoke of Canon Helmore's long association with the Cathedral, his 59 years as a Minor Canon, his 43 years as Precentor and his 38 years as hon. general secretary of the Kent County Association of Change Ringers. He thought that the new door was fitting, as through that doorway he had passed many times on his way to the belfry.

The service was attended by Miss H. Helmore (daughter) and Sir John Helmore (grandson), as well as several old choristers, who served as boys under him in the choir.

OUTING

SHEPTON BEAUCHAMP.

Shepton Beauchamp ringers for their annual outing on September 10th spent the day in Wiltshire. At Westbury they were met by P.C. Henry Gunner, their guide for the day, and the grand octave was set going to Grandsire Triples. Before lunch at Trowbridge an hour was spent on the handy six at North Bradley.

At Steeple Ashton, P.C. Gummer's home tower, the party was met by the Vicar; then came Seend, a grand little six, and Devizes, where some of the local ringers made the visitors most welcome. At tea Mr. Gummer was presented with a small token in appreciation of his services.

The long draught at Melksham made one or two people think. Trowbridge was the last tower of the day, where the inimitable Mr. Sam Hector and members of the Trowbridge and North Bradley towers awaited the party and the touch of Stedman Caters proved a great accomplishment for those of the visitors who stood in. There was a final stop at Frome for an hour's refreshment. A feature of the day was the competent way the two youngest members of the party handled strange bells. Mr. R. Beale assisted P.C. Gummer in organising the tour.

'THE BELFRY'

WE accord a warm welcome to 'The Belfry,' the Maidstone District's quarterly magazine, which made its first appearance this month. The Editor, Mr. Frank Wright, has produced an interesting first number to meet the requirements of the 31 towers in this district with about 200 members of the Kent County Association.

Canon C. B. Sampson, Rural Dean of Sutton and Vicar of Maidstone, has provided the foreword, and an extract from his message we repeat for the benefit of a wider circle. 'Church-going, we have heard this said so often, is not what it was. You can and do play a real part in witnessing to its call of God, in a special sense, to the spirit of man on Sundays. It's a grand thing that an act of service to God and man should also be a real work of art: this is really true for you. Always remember this and prize your calling very highly.'

It is the proposal of the Editor of 'The Belfry' to feature one church in each issue. The choice for No. 1 issue is St. Nicholas', Leeds, whose huge squat Norman tower has made a big contribution to the Exercise. The peal boards in the belfry tell of the famous happenings here, the most venerable being the peal of 40,320 changes of Bob Major rung on April 7th and 8th, 1761. In the churchyard is the headstone to that famous ringer, James Barham, who, according to his MS., took part in about 115 peals, of which 61 were rung at Leeds.

The ring of 10 in Leeds Parish Church is hung in a wonderfully preserved oak frame dated 1751. The oldest bell is the 20 cwt. tenor in E, cast by Joseph Hatch, of Ulcombe, in 1617. The seventh, eighth and ninth were cast in 1638 by John Wilner, of Borden, Kent, and were recast by Alfred Bowell, of Ipswich.

Two pages are devoted to methods briefly explained with diagrams. There is, however, a light touch in the journal, and for the benefit of those who like to relax we cull from one of the letters: 'Dear Editor,—My name is Bob, and being Single am in love with a young Bell(e) to whom I would like to give a Ring so that we could Run in Double harness together. Being a Minor, this is a Major problem to me, so could you Place me on the Right Course, making it as Plain as possible, so that Before long we could make a Home together. I do not wish to go the Wrong way about it, as I may be told she can "Conductor" own affairs, as is rather Set and would tell me to Stand clear at the slightest Touch and Dodge away from me. Could you therefore compose an easy Method to use, that would "Bring Her Round" and so know where I Stand. That's all.—Yours sincerely, PLAIN BOB.'

The reply to this letter is equally to the point. 'You Start Off by taking the Lead, and after making a few Calls at Home take her Places, such as Oxford and Cambridge or London as well, if you can do it. By this time you will probably have Run Out of cash, and if she has not Come Round give her a bit of Rope's-end and Call the Attempt off.'

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

LATE NEWS.

Nearly every tower in the Dunster Deanery of the Bath and Wells Association rang on the night of October 10th in honour of the golden wedding of Mr. John Pugsley, who for the past 20 years has been Ringing Master of the Deanery. Mr. Pugsley, who is now 77, has been a ringer for 61 years and is a foundation member of the Association.

BELFRY GOSSIP

When the Devizes Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild met at Westbury on October 1st, a warm welcome was accorded to Mr. Hart, a former chairman, who is now in his 89th year. Five new members were elected. Ringing included Double Norwich and Cambridge Major.

Mr. Alfred Bolland has now rung 100 peals 'in hand.'

Mr. W. J. Button has 'circled' Debenham, Suffolk, tower.

Miss Kathleen E. Fletcher, of Beaconsfield, who is now a resident of Bournemouth, has scored her first peal 'in hand.' Another recruit to Mr. D. T. Matkin's ever-growing band.

A Leicester Guild landmark.—Mr. Ernest Morris rang his 1,150th peal and 61st this year, and Mr. W. A. Riddington his 100th, at Whetstone on September 28th.

The bells (6) of St, John's, Duxford, Cambridge, have been re-installed at St. Peter's, Duxford, by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, after receiving attention at their foundry. They will be dedicated on October 28th at 7 p.m. by the Archdeacon of Ely.

The peal at Dodderhill of Spliced Surprise Major, published last week, was not the first peal of Spliced Surprise on the bells. The first of Spliced Surprise was rung by members of the Worcestershire Association on April 10th, 1948, conducted by Mr. S. T. Holt.

Mr. E. V. Rodenhurst, of Whitchurch, will remember his peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Loughborough Bell Foundry. The peal appeared to be lost when it was realised that the band started without first putting on the light. Hopes were not abandoned, and rescue came from the gas lamp on the wall of Cobden Street, which gave sufficient light to discern the ringers.

Owing to dangerous cracking of the apex of the spire of St. Matthew's, Upper Clapton, London, ringing has been ordered to cease until further notice. It is hoped to have the spire repaired as soon as possible and also attention to the bells, the fittings of which are not all than can be desired.

One of London's most promising youngsters, Michaël V. Chilcott, has recently succeeded in ringing his first peal of Stedman Cinques at Reading. It was at the third attempt, the first failing owing to a shift course, and the second owing to the eleventh clapper breaking.

The band was welcomed by the father of the College Youths, that grand veteran, Canon G. F. Coleridge, who came specially to wish them luck, and to hear the start of the peal. The newly-appointed Vicar of St. Laurence's also added his good wishes. The peal was rung as a 74th birthday compliment to William Langdon.

A company of 53 attended the quarterly meeting of the Wellingborough Branch of the Peterborough Guild at Easton Maudit on October 1st. The president (the Rev. S. F. W. Powell) announced his impending departure to Daventry, news which was received to the great regret of the members.

The bells of St. Paul's, Shadwell, London, E.1, have not been rung for some 30 years. The new Vicar, the Rev. B. E. T. Jansz, is anxious to get them in ringing order. The cost is £500 and the parish is in a poor part of London. Will ringers please help? Donations (however small) will be gratefully received either by the Rev. Jansz, St. Paul's Rectory, 298, The Highway, Shadwell, E.1, or Mr. D. Riley, 7, Ross House, Prusom Street, Wapping, E.1.

Royal Society of Cumberland Youths Dine

OPPOSITION TO BELLS—A SIGN OF CONSCIENCE PRICKING.

NINE ringing visitors from Newark-on-Trent, the former living of the Rev. L. M. Charles-Edwards, Vicar of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, were among the company at the annual dinner of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths at the Old Bell Restaurant, Holborn, on October 8th. The event was most successful, the Master (Mr. G. H. Cross) being in the chair, supported by the Rev. L. M. Charles-Edwards.

The company included Mrs. Cross, Miss J. Hollins, the Rev. Ken Davis, Mrs. Winterton, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Bevan, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hawthorne, Mr. G. W. and Miss Steere, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Deal, Mr. and Mrs. Kirkby, Mr. and Mrs. G. Radley, Mr. and Mrs. Halsey, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bowler, Mr. and Mrs. C. McGuiness.

Dr. E. L. Taylor, Dr. W. L. B. Leese, Messrs. T. Clarke, D. Bartholomew, D. Beveridge, J. Acres, J. Neller, L. Stilwell, A. Cutler, H. Burton, T. A. Ross, J. W. Raithby, E. Dodds, T. H. Francis, P. N. Bond, H. W. Brown, D. N. Layton, G. F. Carter, A. Pearmain, S. W. Brown, N. J. Diserens, Garrett and T. W. White.

Mesdames Winterton, J. E. Davies, N. Pearmain, the Misses P. Holmes, J. Pett, J. Brittain, M. E. Davis, D. Lidbetter, M. Lidbetter, P. Smee, D. Colgate, J. Askew, A. Bailey and P. Kitchen.

Mr. Geoffrey F. Carter, in proposing the toast of 'The Church,' said he had one small ambition as a ringer, and that was to be a service ringer at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields. Ringers were the custodians of the most expensive thing in the church, and the greatest gratitude they could show to the church, their mother, was in the care of those bells and ringing them in her service when required.

CHURCH'S TREMENDOUS STRUGGLE

The Rev. L. M. Charles-Edwards, who replied, said the Church did not, as the ordinary man in the street thought, consist of Bishops and clergy but of the laity. To-day they were faced with a tremendous struggle between the Christian outlook and the materialistic outlook, and he had no doubt that the clash would get stronger. That was why the role of a bellringer was so vital. When people came and attacked the Church they invariably attacked it in the belfry. During the war it was not that Hitler wanted bells for guns but because Sunday by Sunday, when the bells were rung, they extended the challenge of another form of life. Recently a man wrote to him in regard to St. Martin's bells, 'Do stop those blessed bells.' His reply was, 'Your conscience is wrong.'

Mr. J. W. Raithby, of Newark-on-Trent, proposed the toast of 'The Society of Royal Cumberland Youths.' That dinner, he said, was one of the principal functions of the ringers' calendar, and men and women from all parts of the country were bound together by their great society.

The Cumberlands were a national and not a territorial society, and their influence on the Exercise was considerable. Times were changing, and ringers must keep abreast of modern developments. One of the most important challenges was in the question of noise. However much they loved the sound of bells there were people who hated them, and ringers should give very close attention to the proper control of sound from belfries.

Another thing the Exercise must be ever watchful about was 'canned' or synthetic bells. Parsons are only human, and could one blame them if they could get their bells rung by pressing a button? It should be their first concern to see that every belfry was manned for Sunday service ringing. No society could live on past achievements; it must be constantly seeking new recruits.

Mr. Peter Bond, assistant secretary, responded and reminded the company that the Cumberlands' members extended from the North of England to Cornwall, and even in South Africa and South America. The society was in its 202nd year, and they had a lot to be proud of. During the past year they had gained a large number of members, and it was to the young members they had to look to the future.

The toast of 'The Visitors and Kindred Societies' was submitted by the Master, who had a special word of welcome for the ringers from Newark, whose visit was due to the Vicar. They also welcomed Mr. D. Layton, and congratulated him on the good work he was doing with the Universities Association.

Mr. F. E. Hawthorne, in reply, said one of the changing signs of the times was the way the Cumberlands and College Youths now rang together. They were losing that spirit of rivalry in trying to outdo one another. There was a feeling among the kindred societies that they were all one big brotherhood, and with the Central Council of Church Bellringers wielding greater force year by year, the various societies were being linked together in one great brotherhood. To-day any man could go into a strange tower and be welcomed as a brother.

The concluding toast, 'The Ringing World,' was proposed by Mr. G. W. Steere, and the Editor, in his reply, urged ringers when they elected branch chairmen to appoint men and women who were competent ringers, keen and enthusiastic for advancing the Exercise, and who did not regard Grandsire Doubles or St. Dunstan's as the limit of a ringer's capabilities.

The entertainment was presented by J. B. Potterill, a member of the Magic Circle, Mrs. Pearmain, with Mr. A. I. Pearmain at the piano.

Barnsley and District Society

SUCCESSFUL INAUGURAL DINNER.

A very happy and successful gathering was held at the King George Hotel, Peel Street, Barnsley, on October 1st, when a commemoration dinner was held to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the founding of the society. Some 76 members and friends were present, including the Mayor and Mayoress of Barnsley (Alderman and Mrs. W. Hunt).

The hon. president, Canon A. P. Morley, Rector of Barnsley, was the chairman, and kept the proceedings moving. The toast list was 'The King'; 'Church and State,' moved by the Vicar of Monk Bretton (Rev. G. Hodgshon), and responded to by the Mayor; 'Past Officers of the Society,' proposed by Mr. H. Rowley, of Horbury and replied to by Mr. J. W. Moxon, Sandal; 'The Visitors,' moved by Mr. J. R. Brearley, of Bolsterstone, and acknowledged by the Vicar of Cawthorne (the Rev. H. Meanley); 'Continued Prosperity of the Society,' by the Vicar of Felkirk (the Rev. D. Moxon), and replied to by Mr. H. Chant, Felkirk; 'The Chairman,' by Mr. N. F. Moxon (Cawthorne). The entertainment was of a high standard. Mr. E. Winn, of Barnsley, provided the comedy, and the Cawthorne ringers entertained with a quartette and an instrumental trio.

This event proved to be a success in every way, and it is the hope of the officers of the society that this is the first of many such events.

Chester Diocesan Guild

ANNUAL DINNER REVIVED.

The Chester Diocesan Guild revived its annual dinner on October 1st, the last occasion being in 1938. Over 70 sat down at the Blossoms Hotel, Chester, the Lord Bishop, as president of the Guild, and the Dean, as one of its vice-presidents, being present. After an excellent meal and the loyal toast, the Bishop proposed 'The Guild.' He emphasised the importance of ringers as officers of the Church, and mentioned a particular church where the service was always delayed for five minutes to allow the ringers to descend from the tower and take their seats for service, an example which, he suggested, might be widely followed. It was with great pleasure that he proposed the toast and wished the Guild every success in its work for the Church.

The Master (Mr. J. W. Clarke), in replying, welcomed the Bishop and the Dean. He recalled the prosperity of the Guild in pre-war days, especially in the year of its jubilee, 1937, when in celebration of the event it sponsored a scheme for the addition of two trebles at the Cathedral. In spite of the pessimists who declared that the Exercise would hardly survive the war-time ban, events had proved to the contrary, and ringing was never in a more flourishing condition. In this revival the Chester Guild had in no small measure led the way.

Mr. C. W. Lawton propsed 'The Clergy,' and made mention of the very obvious signs of renewed interest in religion, and said that he felt that the clergy who were members and officials of the Guild were doing a great deal to foster it.

The Rev. J. D. Pearson, formerly secretary of the Guild, replied and spoke of the fellowship which existed among ringers and of the great pleasure he had experienced during his period of office when he was in close association with so many of them.

In a felicitous speech, Mr. R. D. Langford, of Crewe, proposed 'Kindred Societies.'

'The Ladies' was proposed by the Rev. J. Kingdon, secretary of the Guild. With some wit he suggested that, whereas in the operatic world they would be known as prima donnas, in the belfry they might suitably be called 'bella donnas.' He also put in a word of sympathy for the wives of ringers so often kept waiting for the return of their husbands, although there might be occasions when the wives were glad that their husbands were ringers. Acknowledging the toast, Miss N. M. Bibby mentioned some of her earlier experiences in the belfry in the days when lady ringers were not so numerous as at present. She thought that Mr. Kingdon's sympathy with the wives might be somewhat misplaced, as the wives at least knew where the husbands were on such occasions!

The toasts were interspersed with some excellent handbell ringing, arranged by Mr. John Worth, fresh from his conquests in Suffolk, and by humorous items and songs by Mr. J. Nield.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSN.

A pleasant meeting was held at the exquisite little church at Cranford on September 24th, which is set amid beautiful surroundings and has a light easy-going ring of six. A warm welcome was extended to the 25 members and friends by the Rector (the Rev. Maurice Childs) and Mr. P. J. Woodgyer, of the Livery of St. Dunstan.

Learners had every opportunity at this meeting and should have benefited greatly from the forthright methods of Mr. Tony Price, whose lectures on striking and proper bell control after each touch should be taken to heart.

The Rev. John Carr took the service, and there was a short business meeting.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CENTRAL COUNCIL DECISIONS

Dear Sir,—The result of the sub-committee's call for suggestions from those holding strong views on controversial subjects has been rather disappointing.

Very few letters have been received, and we are, indeed, grateful to those who have found time to write, but there must be a large number who could render useful help by letting the sub-committee have their views.

Possibly the difficulty is that very few people possess a copy of the last summary of the 'decisions' of the Council, which is now out of print.

We are anxious to get on with this work, so that the new edition can be printed, but before that the draft has to be approved and possibly amended by the Council. It is very desirable that, in order to save time, we should get the feeling of the Exercise on the various debatable points which have arisen during the past few years, so that we may feel confident that the recommendations we may make have a fair chance of acceptance, and time be saved in debating 'knotty' points.

We would stress that our function is only to report and suggest, not to alter any of the decisions already taken, and any assistance we receive from the Exercise generally will be gratefully appreciated. Also we would appeal for guidance on matters concerning the 'decisions' only, and not (as we have already received) complaints about matters outside the scope of the work of the sub-committee.—Yours faithfully,

J. FRANK SMALLWOOD.

GREETINGS FROM DOWN UNDER

Dear Sir,—May I, on behalf of the rest of the Editorial staff and members of the N.S.W. Association of Change Ringers, offer our congratulations to you and the members of the committee of 'The Ringing World' on the achievement of your 2,000th copy, which has just come to hand.

As the established publication of bell-ringing news it is most encouraging to read of the success of the older established magazine. Your success gives us hopes that our small contribution to the Exercise will be equally successful.

Our members appreciate the interest which 'The Ringing World' has shown in all bellringing activities in Australia, and we hope that your success will be continued in the years to come.—Yours faithfully,

WILLIAM M. ROWE,
Editor of 'Ringing Towers,'
Official Organ of N.S.W.B.R.

THANKS TO THE POLICE

Dear Sir,—It was a great pleasure to myself to receive a telegram from the members of the National Police Guild on the occasion of their annual meeting at Loughborough. I was lying in bed at our Royal Infirmary looking at the ceiling and thinking of them all when a nurse said, 'Here you are, Mr. D., a telegram for you.' I expect our dear old friend, Jack Jones, had a similar feeling to what I had and was sorry that it was impossible to be with them all except in spirit. I think it was darned nice of them all to think of us, don't you, Jack? Anyway, they tell me that I am well on the uptake again. You policemen, again thanks.—Yours sincerely,

F. H. DEXTER.

LEICESTER'S BRILLIANT TRIO

Dear Sir,—In connection with the paragraph in last week's 'Ringing World' titled 'Leicester Youth's Century,' I do not think that Alan Cattell can 'claim the honour of being Leicester's most brilliant young ringer, whether on tower or handbells.' In my mind there are at least two others (of almost exactly the same age) who are more entitled to claim that honour.

One is Harry Poyner, who started ringing in February, 1948, and within two or three months was producing Surprise Major methods at the rate of two and three a week. One of these has been rung—Stanton Surprise—which created a certain amount of correspondence in 'The Ringing World' at the time. He has also composed peals in other methods, though none have yet been rung. As far as ringing is concerned he has only rung two peals on tower bells (both Cambridge Major), but it is on handbells that he has done the most brilliant work—Grandsire Triples, Caters, Cinques (all on 'inside' pair), Stedman Caters, Cinques, Plain Bob, Major and Royal.

The other person is Alan Jacques, who also has rung 50 peals this year, and all have been Surprise except one each of Stedman Caters and Cinques. They include Cambridge Major, Royal, Lindsey Royal, Maximus, Lincolnshire Major, Royal, Maximus, Belgrave Major Royal, Maximus, as well as London and Bristol Major.—Yours faithfully,

BRIAN G. WARWICK.

THE LOST BEAT

Dear Sir,—Complaints about the ringing of church bells appear to be more common. Yet in 'The Ringing World' of October 7th an open admission that a peal of Maximus on a fairly heavy 'twelve' lost the 'beat' after about an hour's duration.

What of the long-suffering, non-ringing and often disinterested public who have to live near? Are they never to be considered? It gets their 'back up.' They write to the local papers and sometimes to the London ones. Can you blame them? What is the idea—a peal at any price, whether good, bad or indifferent? What would the old masters have done on such an occasion? Their action surely would be to set their bells, exclaiming, 'A good peal or none.'

R. NEWMAN.

Holloway, N.7.

THE BULWELL PEAL

Dear Sir,—I did not intend to enter the dispute in connection with this peal which has already received wide publicity—and publicity of a nature calculated to harm the dignity of the ringer rather than enhance it. Nevertheless, Mr. L. J. Clark's references to the Southwell Guild leave me no option.

The peal was not officially arranged. My information is that it was rung at the express wish of the Rector, who issued a personal invitation to that particular band.

Mr. Clark's glib reference to peal-grabbing tactics is unwarranted and should be treated with disdain.

It is probably not generally realised in the Exercise that Bulwell bells have not recently been restored but have been eight for very many years.

The whole dispute would appear to be nothing more than a storm in a teacup. After reading the fable about the dog-in-the-manger, Bulwell ringers should go back and cease their self-pity.—Yours faithfully,

J. W. RAITHBY,
Hon. General Secretary,
Southwell Dio. Guild.

Patron Saint

Dear Sir,—Further to my note on p. 480, I am informed by the verger there is a 'Tantony bell' at Lichfield Cathedral and is still used. It is in the central tower. Also there is a small figure of St. Anthony over the belfry window at the south side of the south-west tower wherein the 10 bells hang.—Yours sincerely,

ERNEST MORRIS.

ST. GUTHLAC'S CLAIM

Dear Sir,—St. Guthlac makes his claim as the Patron Saint of Ringers as follows:—

(1) I am a true Anglo-Saxon, not a native of Campana in Italy, was born 673 A.D.
(2) I lived in Crowland, in the Lincolnshire fens.
(3) Paulinus, the bell man of Campana (which name became the Italian word for bell), came and converted Mercia, the native province of my parents.
(4) Through his influence I became a Christian, a hermit and lover of bells.
(5) I landed at Crowland 697 A.D. The Christian King of Mercia vowed to me he would build me an abbey.
(6) He fulfilled his vow in 716, just after my death, hence St. Guthlac's Church.
(7) A ring of seven bells was installed in my abbey, the first ring in England.
(8) Ingulphus, my historian, wrote of these bells: 'Nec erat tunc tanta consonantia campanarum in tota Anglia.' There was not then such harmony of bells in the whole of England.

MAYFIELD AND ST. DUNSTAN

Dear Sir,—It might interest Miss Dorothy Fletcher and others to know that St. Dunstan was, according to local history, born at Mayfield, Sussex, although brought up at Glastonbury. He is reputed to have built the first church at Mayfield, no longer surviving, and the present church which is dedicated to him.

St. Dunstan's forge is stated to have been on the site of the building of the Convent of the Holy Child, Mayfield, and according to legend it was here that he pinched the devil's nose with red-hot tongs so that the Prince of Darkness leapt right across to Tunbridge Wells to cool his nose in the spring waters at the Pantiles. A pair of blacksmith's tongs and an anvil are preserved in the convent, and it is claimed that these were used by the saint in his work.—Yours sincerely,

W. A. KITCHENSIDE.

Mayfield.

P.S.—The fine old church at Cranbrook, Kent, is also dedicated to St. Dunstan.

ST. DUNSTAN & REV. C. D. P. DAVIES

Dear Sir,—The following paragraph is taken from a guide book of the Abbey Church of St. Mary-the-Virgin, Tewkesbury, Glos:—

'We come next to a double chapel, containing altars dedicated to St. Edmund, King and Martyr, and (in recent times) to St. Dunstan. Bosses in the roof show the martyrdom by the Danes in the ninth century of the East Anglian King. St. Dunstan is the patron saint of bellringers, and his chapel was furnished in 1934 in memory of the Rev. C. D. P. Davies by the ringers of England, who also added two new bells to the ring and had the existing ten retuned. The frontal depicts, "The Voices of the Bells."'

Similar notes are found in the Eynsham Parish Magazine made by the Vicar of Eynsham recently.—Yours sincerely,

CECIL G. CALCUTT.

Yorkshire Association

SNOWDON DINNER ABANDONED FOR 1949.

The September meeting of the Association was held at Doncaster on September 17th, and was well attended by representatives of all the districts. The fine new ring of eight bells, tenor 30 cwt., was set going early to a variety of methods, and the needs of all were duly catered for.

A meeting of the committee took place at 3 p.m., followed by a brief service conducted by the Vicar, who gave the Association a very hearty welcome. Some seventy sat down to tea, as against about forty who had given notification, and it is a matter of regret that members and friends intending to be present should add to the already great difficulties of those responsible by failing to give due notice. Luckily the foresight of the Doncaster company had allowed for a substantial number of extras, or otherwise quite a few would have been disappointed.

At the business meeting the president presided. A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens and authorities for the use of the bells was ably moved by Mr. P. J. Johnson, seconded by Mr. L. W. G. Morris and carried with applause. Canon Davies, in reply, said he and the wardens at Doncaster were always pleased to have the Association at Doncaster, and wished them every success. They had a ring of bells of which they were proud, and it was a very real pleasure to have the privilege of entertaining members of the Association.

Similar sentiments were expressed by the churchwardens, who said it was a good thing to hear the bells at other than the orthodox ringing times, in that it struck more forcibly at those who quite often did not respond to their call, reminding them that in the midst of business or pleasures the Church and all it stood for was still carrying on.

A similar vote of thanks was passed to the local company for their excellent arrangements moved by Mr. E. Hudson, seconded by Mr. A. Firth. The president announced that no invitations had been received regarding the next meeting, and the committee had decided that unless any were forthcoming to endeavour to arrange it at Bradford on January 15th. Mr. P. J. Johnson moved, and H. S. Morley seconded, that the committee's recommendation be accepted. This was carried.

The general secretary reported on the effort that had been made to arrange the Snowdon Dinner. He had received a kind offer from Mr. F. A. Staveley on behalf of the Doncaster company, and in consultation with the president and vice-president, Mr. P. J. Johnso, had decided to proceed. Unfortunately subsequent difficulties arose regarding the time, when it was found that to accommodate a 5.30 p.m. dinner would mean going outside the town. It was with reluctance, therefore, that they had found it necessary, particularly in the light of last year's experience, to abandon it this year. The president moved, and Mr. P. J. Johnson seconded, that a vote of thanks be accorded to Mr. Staveley and the local company for their kind offer and assistance. This was carried.

Donald Wheat, of Bentley, was elected a member. This concluded the business meeting, and an adjournment was made to the tower, where ringing continued in methods ranging from Grandsire Triples to Yorkshire Bristol and London Surprise Major.

HALIFAX AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

The quarterly meeting and six-bell contest were held at Lightcliffe on October 1st. Five teams entered, and the result was as follows: Liversedge, 138 faults; Meltham, rang out; mixed company, 210 faults: Friezland, 113 faults; Thornhill, rang out. Friezland were therefore declared winners of the silver cup.

The Ladies' Guild

MIDLAND DISTRICT.

On September 24th a party of 30 ringers and friends left Leicester via bus for the Ladies' Guild meeting at Northampton. In pouring rain they arrived at the Holy Sepulchre Church, and an enjoyable ring was had here on the eight bells together with ringers of this tower.

At 3 p.m. the party moved on to St. Peter's Church. Here ringing ranged from rounds to Bristol Surprise Major, and a ladies' band rang a course of Grandsire Triples. A short service was conducted by the Rev. Chybnall.

At the Deaf and Dumb Institute about 70 people participated in a delightful tea arranged under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine. Before the business meeting Miss Thompson (vice-president of the Midland District) welcomed one and all to the meeting.

After the 'male folk' had left for more ringing at St. Peter's, ladies from Burton Latimer, Castle Bromwich, Desford, Isham, Leicester, Northampton, Nottingham, Rugby and Surfleet settled down to their meeting. A discussion took place with a view to recommencing the working of the Northampton district, but a final decision was arrived at to link up with the Midland district for the time being. One new member and five rejoined members were proposed.

The next meeting is to be at Kettering on November 26th.

Leaving Northampton at 7.45 p.m., the Leicester party made their way to Moulton, where they were met by Mr. T. Tebbutt. Ringing for half an hour or more took place here, and then the ringers turned homewards to Leicester after a pleasant half-day.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

WEST DORSET BRANCH.

Whitchurch Canonicorum and its stately church, with one of the finest towers in Dorset, provided the setting for the quarterly meeting of the West Dorset Branch on September 24th.

The Vicar, Canon W. H. Davidson, conducted the service, giving a brief address of welcome and advice. The chairman (Rev. C. Carew Cox) deputised at the organ.

Tea was enjoyed through the kind hospitality of Mr. Mills and the local ringers. The chairman presided at the business meeting, and Bridport was agreed upon as the centre for the annual meeting on December 3rd, and the secretary was asked to arrange for neighbouring towers to be open. Canon Davidson was unanimously elected an hon. member. Miss Gwen Dickinson and Mr. Tony Street were elected ringing members. Mr. Mills promised that the Whitchurch band would seek re-affiliation.

Warm thanks were accorded the local ringers for their hospitality and the ladies who had catered and served the tea.

First rung at Bournemouth as a 5,184 on September 12th, 1949, 'in hand,' conducted by D. T. Matkin.

St. Mary's, Ewell

Seven towers in three counties were visited by Ewell ringers on the occasion of their annual outing.

The first stop was at All Saints', Maidenhead, just before 9 a.m., where an enjoyable hour of ringing terminated in the breaking of the clapper of the 17 cwt. tenor a foot or so above the ball. It knocked a hole in the wall and fell with a noise heard throughout the church.

The sad news was carried to Marlow that practice was off until repairs had been done, and soon the bells (tenor 15 cwt.) were got going. Then came a 14 miles' run to Reading. Here ringing on St. Mary's splendid eight was was enjoyed.

On arrival at the quiet, unspoiled little village of Aldermaston, the handbells, of which there were two sets aboard, and which had enlivened the journey at intervals since 7.30 a.m., were again brought forth and a pre-prandial touch was rung in the middle of the road to the entertainment, amusement, and it is hoped edification of the few villagers and frequenters of the public bar of the Hind's Head. The party received a warm welcome from Mr. A. Randall, for many years headmaster of the local school, who described some of the many interesting features of the church. The bells (tenor 10 cwt.) are not musical, but go very well.

St. John-the-Baptist's, Padworth, was reached after a pleasant drive through narrow, hilly country lanes almost off the map. It is a small but interesting Norman building, too small even to hold a pulpit, but containing six tuneful bells, of which the third is pre-Reformation. The others bear various dates from 1597 (5th), 1654 (treble), 1660 (2nd), 1816 (4th). They were all recast in 1890, when the 7 cwt. tenor was probably added.

Leaving tiny Padworth Church to ruminate on its history and the hundreds of chickens scurrying about the adjoining farmyard, the visitors were soon passing along more winding lanes on their way to Basingstoke and a hilarious tea.

Ringing and evensong at St. Michael's (8) and an hour at All Saints' (9) brought eight o'clock and time to depart on the final forty miles' drive home. Mr. H. E. Good and Mr. C. W. Munday were in charge of the ringing throughout the day, all the other arrangements being in the hands of

IRISH NEWS

St. Comgall, Bangor, Co. Down, celebrated the 50th anniversary of the installation of its ring of eight by a visit to the tower by the Holywood and Belfast bands.

Members are progressing favourably under the guidance of Miss M. Seyers and Mr. Tom McBride and encouraged by the Rev. F. S. Ebbitt, one of the curates, who is a ringer.

Visiting ringers were hospitably entertained to tea by the local band and the select vestry. Thanks were expressed to them by Mr. J. T. Dunwoody (district secretary) and Mr. A. E. McGrath.

FINCHLEY QUARTER PEALS

SURREY ASSOCIATION

NORTH-WESTERN DISTRICT.

What is believed to be the first meeting to be held at St. John's, Old Coulsdon, took place on September 24th. Some 20 members enjoyed ringing on this good-toned and ancient ring of five bells (dating from 1675) recently rehung by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston. Several of the local ringers attended the meeting, and it is hoped to get them interested in change ringing.

CANCELLING-OUT

ONE of the joys and privileges of life is the gift of independent thought and judgment. In the political field it is one of the most treasured possessions of the Western Democracies, and we, as ringers, find satisfaction in the knowledge that we are not all moulded mentally in the same pattern, although we have one common denominator in our love of bells.

These thoughts are prompted by two letters received by the Editor within the space of a week. The first was from one of that select group whose members have more than 1,000 peals each to their credit, of which more than 50 have been rung this year, telling of the difficulties of his company. 'Last Sunday, however, we rang for service some Grandsire Caters, and all ten of us went to church.'

The other letter was prompted by 'Traveller's' letter of September 30th, and reads: 'The fact that a band was struggling without any help from our household names, as he (Traveller) observes, is what one would expect. It seems to me that the more a person gets enmeshed in peal ringing, the more selfish he is liable to become. Of course, as you have so ingeniously pointed out, someone can always be found to shepherd a newcomer through his first peal with, no doubt, an eye also to the laurels he will himself acquire; but it is a very different thing patiently to struggle with the heartbreaking task of teaching a pupil how to handle a bell and give instruction in the rudimentary theory of change ringing. Someone else can do that. . . . .

'There must be any number of villages up and down the country —I know some in this district—where the bells are rung every Sunday by a church-going band. Nothing elaborate; as often as not just Grandsire Doubles and St. Dunstan's. But why not, if the band is happy and is doing its job? I know one tower that has been doing just that for the past 40 years. The ringers' striking is perfect, but to the best of my knowledge they have never rung a peal as a band. None the less their enthusiasm has never faltered. Men like that are the backbone of ringing; they need no artificial stimulant in the form of a peal; they are self-contained and contented with simple honest ringing.'

We cannot accept the view that such bands are the backbone of English ringing. If such was the case there would be no need for the Central Council, the Guilds and Associations or 'The Ringing World,' and English ringing would be become a decaying art. It is to the peal ringers, past and present, that the Exercise is dependent not only for its progress, its organisation, the great fellowship of the ringing family, and with that 'The Ringing World.' Are peal ringers as a body unmindful of their responsibility of passing on the knowledge and skill they have acquired to others? There may be isolated cases, but in the main they supply the Exercise with its teachers. The writer can only state his personal experience. He was taught to handle a bell by a ringer with over 1,000 peals to his credit, who shepherded him through the long process of rounds to rope-sight with three other learners, all of whom rang their first peal together. In the same tower there is another band of recruits for a six-bell tower shortly to have its bells restored. Three of the tower's most enthusiastic peal ringers, who attempt a peal most Saturdays, are their instructors in teaching these men to handle bells. And there are few Sundays when the three in question do not attend a church service.

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

LATE NEWS.

Salisbury citizens were amazed when they heard the bells pealing out from the bell turret of Bishop Wordsworth's School, for they knew there was only one bell in the turret. A Salisbury radio firm had experimentally installed four loudspeakers in the turret to amplify recordings of the bells of St. Margaret's, Westminster, to call the boys to chapel.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Officers of the Oxford University Society are: Master, Mr. M. E. H. Barrow (Exeter); treasurer, Miss C. M. Trist (St. Anne's); secretaries, Miss R. M. K. How (Somerville) and Mr. R. B. Meadows (Exeter).

Mr. W. Eric Critchley has 'circled' Thorne, Yorkshire, tower, and Mr. W. Seekings has twice 'circled' Chatteris, Cambs.

Miss Jill Poole, of Leicester, comes of age to-day. May the traditional presentation of the 'key of the door' be also a key of happiness to her in the years to come.

The C. of E. Church, Royal Air Force, Abu Sueir, Middle East Air Force, is anxious to procure a set of handbells costing between £12 and £15. The Editor would be pleased to hear of any ringers who could help in this direction.

The many ringing friends of Mr. J. F. Milner, of Kirklington, will regret to hear that he is at present in Hogarth Ward at Nottingham General Hospital. He has undergone an operation and is making satisfactory progress.

Mr. Charles H. Kippin suggests that Mr. Bullen must have been dreaming about his having rung a peal of Yorkshire Royal in 1928. 'I did not learn the method until 1945,' he writes; 'in fact, the conductor of the Southampton peal thinks I haven't learned it yet.'

The peal of Spliced Oxford and Kent Minor at Copt Oak, Leicestershire, is the first performance in the Midlands. Mr. E. C. Gobey believes that it has been rung for the Chester Guild and the Kent County Association, but would like verification. The 720's were by W. H. Wilde, who gave them to Mr. Gobey in the early twenties. Previous attempts had been made by him to ring the peal but without success.

Bristol University Society is very strong this year. Last week 11 members participated in two peal attempts. The society has 17 resident change-ringing members besides many who can handle a bell and are learning our art.

Mr. John Bass, who rang the first peal on Kingswinford (Staffs) bells after rehanging, rang in the first peal on the old six and also the first peal when the bells were augmented to eight in 1923.

Mr. R. W. Stannard was in perfect fettle for his 80th birthday peal at St. Margaret's, Westminster. He rang the 6th in perfect style from start to finish, writes the conductor.

During his visit to the Leicester Festival, Mr. Edwin Jennings came out of retirement(?) to ring two peals. The handbell peal was his first in the method 'in hand' as conductor.

Two of the pupils of Mr. Terry R. Hampton, of Birmingham, have scored a handbell peal at Londonderry. His good work while in the Navy is being improved upon, new recruits are being taught method ringing and the standard of striking has improved.

In honour of the golden wedding of Mr. John Pugsley, of Minehead, a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung at Milverton, Somerset, on October 10th. Mr. Pugsley is the only surviving member of the band which rang in the opening peal on these bells on May 18th, 1893.

Mr. W. Frank Stenson, of 142, Minshull New Road, Crewe, writes suggesting an Oddfellows' peal at Montgomery. It would be a fine gesture to Mr. J. E. Tomley, C.B.E., of Montgomery, who is to address the West Central Counties Conference of Oddfellows on 'Seventy years of Oddfellowship' at an early date. Oddfellows interested might like to communicate with Mr. Stenson.

HISTORY OF THE LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD

ON Saturday, April 29th, 1899, an amalgamated meeting of the four existing associations in the Lincoln Diocese was held at the Cathedral. The Bishop of Lincoln presided over a large attendance, and said he understood that they wished to form a united society for the ringers of the whole diocese.' So runs the report of the foundation of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild in 'The Bell News' of 1899. The first year saw much hard administrative work, various meetings were held and four peals were rung, and the report on the first full year's working was given at the annual meeting in 1900, 'held in delightful weather, and after partaking of an excellent tea.' Thus were the traditions of the Guild established.

ONLY THREE MASTERS.

For fifty years the Guild has known only three Masters. Each has contributed magnificently, not only to the success, but also to the personality of the Guild—nay more, of the Exercise. Consider these names—Henry Law James, priest; Rupert Richardson; John Ashley Freeman. With James as its Master for 33 years, the Guild was not likely to lapse into oblivion. He came with a reputation and a determination to spare nothing in order to make progress wherever possible. In report after report he does not mince words on such vital subjects as striking; time and again we note that he conducts a peal in some remote village — first peal for all except the conductor. The best in the Guild reaped the benefits of his mathematical mind, ringing methods considered almost revolutionary, and culminating in 1926 in Superlative Surprise Royal. All this effort bore fruit; active bands in the Grantham and Grimsby districts rang peals regularly, and a band was formed, too, to ring 'spliced' successfully, for the recognition of which he had fought without quarter. James had won a battle greater than he knew. . . A little Lincolnshire village called Surfleet was beginning to find a place in English ringing, and from there, too, came James' successor in 1933.

RUPERT RICHARDSON.

Rupert Richardson, by his benevolence, generous hospitality and amazing interest in every member of the Guild, both young and old alike, welded the Guild into an entity. He appeared everywhere at meetings — no small feat in such a diocese. He was far-sighted enough to realise that continuous progress depended upon the younger ringer, and he encouraged them, which for Rupert was not a difficult task, being ever young in spirit himself. And, all the time, experienced bands making great advances in Spliced Minor and Surprise Major were conscious of his keen interest and support. Surfleet week-ends, when Lincolnshire men mingled with ringers from all over the country, were the beginning of friendships enjoyed by the Guild to-day.

A HAPPY CHOICE.

In 1947, the Guild was again happy in its choice of a new Master when it elected unanimously John A. Freeman to succeed Rupert Richardson. If James had been the theorist, here was the practitioner. Ever since the augmentation of the Cathedral bells to twelve in 1928, and his election as Master of the Cathedral company in 1929, his assiduous efforts to produce a band capable of the best in the Guild's first tower, where 20 years before chiming was the order of the day, began to bear fruit. He had called the Guild's first peal of London in 1928, and the higher methods became the normal thing. By his skill as a conductor, and by his influence as a man, he has set a seal on the hopes of the founders of 50 years ago.

Leeds Tenor Crashes

It usually takes five minutes or more to lower the 42 cwt. tenor at Leeds Parish Church, so that the record of the tenor man who got the bell down in one half-pull and cleared the belfry in about two strides on a recent practice night will probably stand for all time.

An accident, which might have had more serious results, proved the truth of the old proverb that . . . 'for want of a nail the battle was lost . . .' but in this case it was apparently the want of a nut on the clapper pin which resulted in the tenor at Leeds being thrown into the frame.

By a remote chance the clapper, as it was thrown from the bell, apparently became jammed endways against the frame, so that the full shock was taken by the bell and its headstock. Fortunately the bell appears to be undamaged, but its massive cast-iron headstock was snapped in half. The clapper was only slightly bent, and while the exact cause and the extent of the damage can only be found when the bell has been lifted, it seems that a lost nut from the clapper pin was the cause of this alarming accident.

For the time being ringing will be confined to the light eight or the middle ten. The accident was all the more disappointing as only that night the struggling local band had with the aid of two visitors got through a course of Grandsire Cinques.

In fairness to the bell hangers, Messrs. Taylor and Co., it should be stated that the accident implies no neglect on their part. On the contrary, it is a striking proof of the quality of their workmanship that a bell of 42 cwt. can be hurled against the frame with apparently no ill effect upon either the frame or, it is believed, the bell.

Kent County Association

MAIDSTONE DISTRICT.

Though the attendance of 50 was in no way a record, an encouraging feature of the annual district meeting, held on October 8th at All Saints', Maidstone, was that 17 different district towers were represented, in addition to six more from other parts of Kent.

Tea was served, by invitation of the Vicar, Canon C. B. Sampson, and his churchwardens, in the College Room. At the business meeting, presided over by Canon Sampson, the district secretary, in his report, commenting on the recent decision not to increase the practising membership subscription from 2s., said that of this sum 6d. was spent locally and 1s. 6d. remitted to the general treasurer. New ideas were developed by separate contributions, such as the extra 3d. for the programme card. There had been a number of lapsed memberships since 1948, but this had been offset to some extent by the affiliation of the bands at Snodland and Hunton, bringing the total to 20 towers.

Congratulations were extended to the younger peal ringers and conductors. So far this year there had been 23 peals in 16 district towers, and 11 elsewhere having a strong Maidstone district flavour. Special mention was accorded the district peal of Grandsire Caters at Leeds on October 1st, in which nine of those taking part had conducted peals.

After the presentation of a provisional balance sheet, and the re-election of Dr. E. S. J. Hatcher as district secretary, and Messrs. G. F. Cantrill and A. Waddington as district representatives, the meeting passed to a discussion of the 1950 programme of meetings. Two matters necessitated a vote; first, despite the rather poor order of the bells at Birling, it was decided to hold a meeting there for missionary purposes; second, Essex obtained a majority over Sussex for the coach tour in June.

The high spot of the day was the official welcome to the first number of the new quarterly district magazine, 'The Belfry,' which had just appeared under the editorship of Mr. Frank P. Wright.

At 6 p.m. evensong was held in the choir-stalls of All Saints' Church. Mr. G. H. Spice read the lesson, and very appropriately a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on hand-bells by E. S. J. Hatcher, F. Tomlin, A. Waddington and P. C. Wright, this sounding extremely beautiful in the silence that otherwise prevailed. E. S. J. H.

CONGRATULATIONS—100 YEARS OF AGE

Congratulations to Mrs. Liversedge, of St. George's, Bristol, on attaining the good old age of 100 on October 4th.

Mrs. Liversedge is the mother of a founder member of St. Ambrose's Guild, Bristol, Mr. Alan Liversedge, who himself is a septuagenarian. Mr. Liversedge has not taken any active part in the Guild's activities for some years, as he has an invalid wife.

The bells of St. Ambrose's rang a quarter-peal as a birthday compliment, which was also coupled as a silver wedding compliment to Mr. A. E. Clarke (organist and choirmaster of St. Ambrose's) and Mrs. Clarke, whose daughter Anne scored her first quarter on this occasion. A performance which will remain long in her memory. F. S.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SUDBURY BELLS

Dear Sir,—The report of the Suffolk peal tour hardly does justice to our peal at All Saints', Sudbury. It was unfortunate that the tempo of our recent hot summer should have been at its peak at the time of the tourists' endeavours. That, I think, coupled with a rather busy programme, gave them 'a tucking up.'

Most of the company must by reason of their many activities be more competent to judge than I. The late Alf Bowell rehung the whole of this ring in 1938, and except for his error in clappering the tenor, we say, as have many others, he may not have cast a gem, but he could make them 'go.'

The passing of Alf Bowell prevented his rectifying the error, and as hon. secretary of our company I have recently been pleased to forward to Messrs. Mears and Stainbank the cheque for their work, which has left All Saints' tenor in a satisfactory condition. —Yours respectfully, ARCHIE A. FITCH.

Sudbury, Suffolk .

Dear Sir,—In the report of the Suffolk and Norfolk peal tour you state that All Saints', Sudbury, requires the attention of the bell-hanger. I am very interested to know which one goes bad. True, they're not in an iron frame with ball bearings, but the main thing is there's music.

Put Len, David and Arthur on 6-7-8 and you have what should be the aim of us all, melodious rhythm. On hearing the tenor after her cannons were removed I felt certain that she had lost some of her beauty, this being afterwards confirmed by people who have known this bell over 40 years, but she is still quite good, no iron, tin or artificial humming, but a beautiful mellow note which one never forgets.

Ring this grand old ring at its proper pace to a good musical method and I guarantee that any ringer with reasonable experience can really enjoy himself without feeling undue strain, but don't climb the stairs if you are already overtired.—Yours fraternally,

Bures, Suffolk. LESLIE MILLS.

IRISH PEALS

Dear Sir,—In connection with the 'claims' by the Leicester ringers on the Irish tour, I regret having given Mr. Poole incorrect information.

I must confess complete ignorance regarding the Stedman Caters 'in hand.' The first intimation I ever had of this peal was when Mr. Barber's letter appeared. This peal was not rung for the Irish Association and is not in the records of the Association.

The Yorkshire Major peal was well known to me. I thought I had given particulars of all first performances for the Association and am sorry for its omission.

It would assist me and the Association if I knew what peals were rung in Ireland for other associations. I am now aware of five such peals, viz.: (1) Grandsire Triples in 1872 for Ancient Society of College Youths at Waterford; (2) ditto, in 1873; (3) Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Arklow in 1899 for Midland Counties Association; (4) Stedman Caters ('in hand'), I presume, for St. Martin's Guild in 1901 at Dublin (perhaps Mr. Barber will confirm); and (5) London Surprise for Leicester Guild at Arklow in August last.—Yours faithfully, FRED E. DUKES.

Jenkinstown, Dundalk.

WOOLTON HILL, HANTS.—On Oct. 9th, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: Mrs. J. F. Sale 1, G. H. Dodd (first of Doubles) 2, A. Brain 3, B. C. Stirlind (first 'inside' of Doubles) 4, J. W. Berry (cond.) 5, M. J. Dodd (first of Doubles) 6. For the centenary of the church.

LEICESTER GUILD'S UNFORTUNATE SHADOW

Dear Sir,—If only Mr. 'Robin Hood' (why have some people not got the courage to sign their own names?) and his friends would air their grievances, something might be done to remove the unfortunate shadow from the Leicester Diocesan Guild. All the officers are doing good work and it is a pity to see it spoilt by peal ringing (usually for another Guild) by resident Leicester Diocesan Guild members in a nearby tower to where they have arranged a meeting. It is a fine state of affairs when five resident Leicester Guild members ring a peal ('in hand') in the centre of Leicester for another Guild without any apparent reason.—Yours faithfully,

BRIAN G. WARWICK.

Leicester Cathedral.

'QUIT YE LIKE MEN'

Dear Sir, — Your correspondent, 'Robin Hood,' has effectively disillusioned me. I imputed the worthiest motives to the peals in question being credited to a Guild outside the Leicester Diocese, thinking it was to create interest and encourage a Guild seeking progress. Now it seems to have been un unworthy effort to air supposed grievances.

If there is no desire to air them in public, why the need for 'Robin Hood's' letter? 'Twere much better to bring them into the open than let them smoulder. Is it envy and petty jealousy by some who have had all the headlines, all the paragraphs and the footnotes because others come along and steal a little of the limelight? The Leicester Diocesan Guild has achieved much since it was formed and all members should be proud of it. It stands on sure foundations and will not easily decline. Let us remember and imitate some of the unassuming stalwarts who have passed on and to whom the present generation owe so much. 'Put away childish things and quit ye like men.' Let us show that Christian goodwill which should be the creed and practice of the art we should adorn. — Yours faithfully, H. G. JENNEY.

Leicester.

CAMBRIDGE OR PRIMROSE

Dear Sir,—Mr. Kippin's statement that the ringers in this peal knew nothing of Primrose matters not at all. What does matter is that all the Bob Leads of the composition in question are, in fact, Primrose.

Many methods have their split lead affinity, the one having 2nds place at Lead Head and 4th place Bob, the other taking 8ths place, and 6th place Bob. Such are Cambridge and Primrose. To call the one the other is unnecessary and misleading. That way lies confusion and chaos.—Yours faithfully, CHARLES J. SEDGLEY.

Ipswich.

LLANDYSILO CHURCH

Dear Sir,—The contributor who inserted the account of the peal rung at the Church of St. Tysilio can be pardoned for translating Llandysilio as the church of St. Dysilio. Mr. Edwin Lewis' appeal to Welsh grammar omitted the important point that the preceding noun should be feminine, otherwise the initial letter of the genitive would not mutate. The correct Welsh description of the above church should be, of course, Eglwys Tysilio Sant.

The English translation of the long Welsh name is: The church of St. Mary in a hollow of white hazel near to the rapid whirlpool—the church of St. Tysilio (near to) the red cave.—Yours, etc., VINCENT CHILD.

Bangor.

Note.—Crockford's Clerical Directory gives the dedication St. Tyssilo.—Editor.

First Peal on 10 in Ireland

Dear Sir,—To the first peal on ten bells in Ireland there hangs a story. The late J. W. Washbrook called a peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal at St. Patrick's, Dublin, which, although a false performance, was published, the reason being that he started with two bobs at Wrong and finished up with two bobs at Middle, which caused the Plain Course to be rung from the Middle to the Wrong twice, therefore making the peal false.

Later, in the tour organised by the late William Pye in 1901, a peal of Treble Bob Royal, 5,000 changes, was rung at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, conducted by William Short, on May 24th, with William Pye on the tenor. This was claimed as the first peal of Royal rung out of Great Britain, and the first peal on ten bells in Ireland. This claim has never been disputed.—Yours faithfully, E. W. PYE.

Ipswich, Suffolk.

'CARE OF BELLS'

Dear Sir, — With reference to the letter, 'Care of Bells,' in your issue of September 30th, may I suggest another side to the question? We are ringers for our own amusement and this at a very low cost. The apparatus we use is provided and maintained for us by the Church Councils at considerable expense. A set of eight new ropes costs about £20. Do we ringers contribute as much as we ought to? I know that the various Guilds and Associations do make grants, but they are a 'drop in the ocean.' My own opinion, that we should do more in this matter, is confirmed by many others and was endorsed at the annual meeting of the Tonbridge Division (Kent Association) on October 1st. What do your readers say? — Yours sincerely, ARTHUR F. WELLINGTON.

Tunbridge Wells, Kent.

NEWBURY BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Newbury Branch was held at Newbury on October 8th. About 70 members and visiting ringers were present, including the Deputy Master, Capt. A. B. Poyntz.

The Guild service was conducted by the Rev. R. R. Woodfield, curate of St. Nicolas'.

At the business meeting all branch officers were re-elected. Sixteen new members had been elected during the year, making the branch membership up to 135.

The Deputy Master exhorted members to back up their secretary and turn up in force at meetings. He did not think that the company present, which included many visitors, was representative enough, considering its membership of 135. He was afraid that the first flush of enthusiasm, noticeable after the war, was beginning to weaken, and he urged the absolute necessity of training young ringers to prevent the art from dying out.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

Eighty-three ringers, representing 24 towers and 5 Guilds, attended the Hinckley District meeting at Barwell on October 15th. The Rector conducted the service and the Rev. Holderness (a Guild member) read the lesson.

After tea, the meeting decided to hold the 1950 district dinner at Stoney Stanton on January 14th.

COMBINED MEETING

The Lewisham District of the Kent County Association and the North-Western District, Surrey Association, held their annual combined meeting at St. Peter's, Croydon, on October 1st. Canon Renshaw gave the address at the service. A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Blow for making arrangements for the meeting and tea.

Diss Ringer Married

On October 15th the wedding took place at Diss Methodist Church of Mr. W. Archie Lock, of Yaxley, and Miss Margaret Bishop.

Mr. Lock is well known in Norfolk and Suffolk, having been a regular service ringer at Diss for some years and since 1947 secretary of the Eye district of the Suffolk Guild. The bride's family is well known in farming circles and she is assistant organist at the Methodist Church.

As the happy pair drove up Mere Street to the reception the bells of the Parish Church greeted them. Unfortunately, the peal attempt which followed had to be brought round after five courses of Superlative had been rung, the bells failing to 'settle down.' A quarter peal of Spliced Plain Bob, Little Bob and Double Norwich was subsequently rung.

The honeymoon is being spent in London. Mr. and Mrs. Lock's address is now Shimpling, Diss, Norfolk. N. G.

WEST SOMERSET GOLDEN WEDDING

We briefly recorded last week the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John Pugsley, of Minehead. For 60 years Mr. Pugsley has been ringing at St. Michael's, Minehead, having been taught the rudiments of change ringing in 1888 by the Rev. J. Utten Todd, of the band then styled the Change Ringing Society of St. Michael's Tower, Minehead. Three, in addition to Mr. Pugsley, survive—Messrs. Sidney Mason, John Lyddon and William Sminey.

This band rang their first peal in 1891—Grandsire Triples, conducted by the Rev. H. A. Cockey, Ringing Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association. Mr. Pugsley called his first peal in 1893. Since 1900 he has been captain of the Minehead ringers. He is also Ringing Master of the Dunster Deanery. For 30 years Mr. Pugsley held the dual post of ringer and chorister.

After ringing on October 10th, the anniversary of the wedding, local ringers and their wives were entertained to supper by Mr. and Mrs. Pugsley.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

EASTERN DISTRICT.

The autumn meeting of the Eastern District at Beverley on October 1st was attended by 50 ringers and friends representing 18 towers. Beverley Minster's fine ring of ten was kept busy during the afternoon and evening.

Mr. A. H. Fox presided at the business meeting, and Miss Rosalie Welburn, of Bridlington Priory, was elected a member. Pontefract was chosen as the next place of meeting.

The meeting agreed to support the General Committee if they decided to increase the annual subscription to the Association. A collection for the Association's Bell Repair Fund amounted to £1 2s. 6d.

DEDICATION

After being silent for almost a year, Cradley (St. Peter's) bells were rededicated on October 6th, having been retuned and rehung on modern fittings by Messrs. John Taylor and Co.

The bells were cast by Messrs. Blews, of Smethwick, in 1873, and after being awarded a gold medal at the Vienna Exhibition, were purchased by Mrs. Aston, who died before they were installed. There is a short rhyme locally as to what the bells seem to say:—

'Mrs. Aston, dead and gone,
Bought Cradley bells and ne'er heard one.'

The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. B. W. Yaxley), and the address given by a former curate, the Rev. G. Lawrence. The opening touches were rung by the local band, which included Messrs. A. Wyre (leader), A. G. Hall (secretary) and L. R. Hall (towerkeeper). Many visiting ringers were present. Mr. Paul Taylor and Mr. J. P. Fidler represented Messrs. Taylor and Co.

OBITUARY

MR. T. MITCHELL.

Mr. Tom Mitchell, aged 64, of Cuckfield, a member of the Sussex County Association since 1914, died on October 10th as the result of a road accident. He was cycling to work when he fell underneath the wheel of a tractor and trailer while it was negotiating a sharp bend at Cuckfield.

He was held in esteem by a wide circle of friends. For the past 30 years he had been a ringer at Cuckfield, and previously rung at Slaugham. He had rung eight peals in the following methods: Grandsire Triples 4, Stedman Triples 2, Oxford Bob Triples 1, Plain Bob Major 1.

The funeral service at Cuckfield Parish Church on October 13th was conducted by the Rev. H. F. C. Kempe (Vicar). In the evening a quarter peal of Oxford Bob Triples was rung half-muffled by Miss M. Howell 1, G. W. Cecil 2, J. Lilley 3, J. Jeffery 4, G. Apps 5, H. Lilley 6, R. Overy (cond.) 7, E. J. Brett 8.

MR. JAMES ORME.

Newchurch, near Warrington, Lancashire, has lost one of its old stalwarts in Mr. James Orme. He was organist and ringer at this church for 62 years. It was he who started the then 'stoney' band to ring changes, when there was a ring of six bells. On six bells they made such progress that the usual custom was to practise a method on practice night and ring a 720 of that method for service the following Sunday. They rang all the methods they could then find. Then Jim thought they ought to have eight bells, and he put his back into it with all the zest he could, and sufficient money was raised not only for the two extra bells, but enough to have the six recast. He had good followers in the tower, with the result that the band rang Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major for the Sunday services.

He was 80 years of age and was interred at Newchurch on October 11th. A peal of Stedman was later rung to his memory.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD, BIRMINGHAM

QUARTERLY MEETING AT SHIRLEY.

The quarterly meeting of the St. Martin's Guild was held at Shirley on October 8th. The light eight bells (6¼ cwt. tenor) are a very useful ring, although somewhat noisy in the ringing chamber, due to the short draught of rope. The Vicar (the Rev. J. S. Billings) conducted the service and preached an interesting address.

At the business meeting, presided over by the Master, Mr. Albert Walker, the following new members were elected: Miss M. Westoby, Messrs. J. W. Hovey, B. D. A. Woolley, A. C. Morris and K. Taylor. The tower elections, as life members, of Messrs. G. H. Cross, A. J. House, F. E. Hawthorne and W. A. Farmer were ratified.

It was resolved that the annual meeting be held at the Tamworth Arms, Moor Street, on the first Saturday in January, and that the annual Henry Johnson dinner be arranged for March 4th.

The Master called attention to the new dustproof bookcase which has been purchased by the Guild to house the growing library of 'Ringing Worlds' and other books. A complete set of 'Bell News' from 1881 and 'The Ringing World' up to date form a valuable collection, and are in regular use by members on practice nights and other occasions, and the additional bookcase, designed to match the existing one, was essential for their proper care.

A notice of motion was given of a proposal to increase the annual subscription.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Vicar, and to Mr. Arthur Morris, whose warm welcome is always a pleasant feature of a visit to Shirley.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

CONSOLATION OF THE BELLS.

In an address to members of the Guildford Diocesan Guild on the occasion of their meeting at St. Martin's, Epsom, on October 8th, the Vicar, Canon H. C. Warner, spoke of the message of the bells, which reached into houses, factories and establishments where the voice of the preacher could never get, and though they brought forth many complaints which were loudly voiced abroad, their message of hope and comfort was seldom publicised.

That afternoon, however, said the Vicar, he had been to visit a woman parishioner in the local hospital, who had undergone a serious operation. Her doctor had just been in to see her and broke the news that she had cancer, and nothing more could be done. Left to herself, one can imagine her feelings when through the window came the sound of the bells rung for that afternoon's meeting and bringing to her a message of divine comfort.

That example of an otherwise unheard-of side of the bells' message made very real the import of the prayer for the sick used in the Guild's service, and amply repaid those responsible for the meeting, even though the time for ringing was restricted to three hours, and then the last half-course of Cambridge Royal had to be abandoned at the Vicar's request.

Ewell bells were fortunately made available, and the enthusiasts finished out the evening there.

BOURNEMOUTH.—At St. Peter's Church on Oct. 11th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: E. Booth 1, R. Peckham (first quarter) 2, Doreen Wiggins 3, Rev. R. F. R. Routh 4, Rev. J. Coutts 5, B. Rogers 6, A. Davis 7, J. Cole 8. In honour of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Chandler's golden wedding.

BELL ROPES

TO the practical ringer the state of the bell ropes on entering a ringing chamber conveys an immediate impression of the status and interest of the local band in the Exercise. Such little points as the position of sallies and of the tucking-in of back-ends tell their own story, apart from the general state of the ropes. A keen band is ever-watchful of its ropes, and the history of peal ringing records numerous occasions when the prospect of a meritorious performance has been rendered void through the snapping of a rope.

Ropes to-day are costly, and it is not always easy to convince parochial church councils of the need of replacements. Normally for a belfry with eight bells rung regularly on Sundays and a weekly practice night with occasional peal ringing a year, a new rope each year will make ample provision for wear and tear. In the writer's own tower a set of eight ropes lasts on an average ten years, with a wear approaching 18 peal attempts a year, plus ringing three times on Sundays and a weekly practice. This basis is only maintained by constant watching and splicing.

The Central Council in their handbook, which is still not so well known as it should be, give this advice: 'Like the rest of the fittings, a bell rope requires attention to keep it in good condition. It should be well rubbed with tallow or castor-oil where it works in the fillet hole of the bell wheel, and wherever else there is friction, and it should be shifted from time to time slightly up or down. Also care should be taken to see that it runs freely in its course. It will add to the life of a rope and to the comfort of the ringers if one of the company at least is able to make a really good splice when occasion demands.'

Ropes are subject to the greatest strains when the bells are being raised and lowered. A youthful ringer's pride in being able to raise or lower a bell with a few strokes should be discouraged because of the added wear on the rope at the wheel, especially by severe checking. Bells should always be rung steadily and evenly without jerking.

We feel that there is some obligation on the part of visiting ringers to small country towers for peal ringing for the care of the ropes. There are towers where ordinary service ringing is very limited, and at least half the use of the ropes is by peal ringers. The privilege of ringing the bells carries with it a corresponding obligation, and we feel that a contribution towards upkeep is a legitimate demand. One country incumbent with a very small parish makes a charge of 10s. for a peal attempt, but the practice is not general. The question has been reviewed by one Guild, who have under consideration the creation of a rope fund for churches in their area. The suggestion has been made that a levy of 6d. a rope for each peal attempt should be collected. Naturally, if any such fund was created the committee administering it would be the leading conductors, and any provision of new ropes would be in towers where the incumbents were sympathetic towards peal attempts.

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

LATE NEWS.

Mr. Charles A. Button, a well-known London ringer for over 40 years, a member of All Hallows' band, Tottenham, and later of St. Leonard's, Streatham, died on Oct. 24th, aged 77 years. He was a member of the College Youths, the Middlesex County and Surrey Associations.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Writes the conductor of the peal rung at Witney on October 22nd: 'It was not expected that Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Nichols would be asked to participate in a peal which was arranged in honour of their own wedding! The band had met one short, which gave another man cause for concern about missing an evening bus, and the conductor was on his way to contact a local ringer when he "discovered" Nora and Bernard in the town, where, apparently, they were waiting to hear the start of the peal. They were duly "roped in," and the peal was rung as published.'

We have received a correction re the peal of Superlative at St. Michael at Coslany, Norwich, on October 7th. Patrick I. Chapman rang 2nd and Bryan S. Cope 3rd.

The peal at Bunwell, Norfolk, on October 22nd, was the first of Minor to be conducted by a member of the local band for over 40 years.

The bells of Crowland Abbey, Lincs, were rung to a peal on October 20th. The last peal on the bells, it is believed, took place 22 years ago.

Mr. Wilfred Williams reminds us that the claim by the Lincoln tourists re peal of Lincolnshire at Salford Priors is not correct. The first peal of Lincolnshire Surprise was rung there by the St. Martin's Guild on June 15th, 1946, which he conducted.

Another young ringer has entered the peal columns. Christine Beale, of Shepton Beauchamp, who is only thirteen years of age, rang her first peal (Grandsire Doubles) in company with her father and brother, on October 23rd. The peal, which was rung at the first attempt, was a nineteenth wedding anniversary peal for her father and mother.

Mr. Harold Marcon, Master of St. Giles', Lincoln, is leaving Lincoln to work with Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., of Loughborough. In his farewell peal on October 22nd all the band had been taught by him to handle a bell.

The peal of Cambridge at Northowram, Halifax, was arranged for five Westhoughton, Lancs, visitors.

We are pleased to hear that Mr. Alan P. Cave, of Liverpool, who met with a serious accident in France, is making good progress and hopes to be walking again this week-end.

Mr. Frederick N. Smeaton, a Bexhill-on-Sea ringer, sailed to Adelaide, Australia, on October 20th. The band is also depleted by the departure of Miss Kathleen E. Fletcher to Bournemouth.

The 'Ringers' Handbook' has been reprinted, the fourth edition having been sold out. It is obtainable from Mrs. E. S. Powell, East Stoke Lodge, Stoke-under-Ham, Somerset.

The Wyggeston Grammar School for Boys has a flourishing ringing society, with three handbell peals to its credit. The society owes its inception to Mr. L. Greenhow, a Master of the school and a Leicester Cathedral ringer.

Ringers who are also members of Rotary will be interested to know of an exchange of greetings between the clubs of Barking, Essex, and Trinidad. These have taken the form of an exchange of recordings of sounds familiar to each place. Among the recordings from Barking was a well-struck bobbed course of Stedman Triples on the bells of St. Margaret's. Those making the recording were: C. Fenn (cond.) 1, W. Beard 2, H. Worboys 3, D. W. Beard 4, C. Wardell 5, G. W. Faulkner 6, G. Cottis 7, S. Holgate 8.

The Story of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild

THE formation of the Diocesan Guild in 1899 presupposes the existence of centres of activity in Lincolnshire before that date. The most important of these was at Lincoln itself, at the Church of St. Peter-at-Arches, which then stood in the centre of the town. Here a band practised methods up to Surprise Major in the 'nineties, names connected with it which are now of historical interest being those of Gabriel Lindoff, Arthur Craven and John Austin. About this time, the production of a long length of London Surprise occupied composers' minds, and Lindoff worked on his in Lincoln. It is worth noting that James' composition in the same method, one lead longer, was rung by a Lincolnshire band almost half a century later, and it seems fitting that this should be so in view of the work done on this method by men having connections with the county. Much of St. Peter-at-Arches Church is incorporated in the modern one of St. Giles', including the eight bells, by Rudhall, which have not been recast.

EARLY PERFORMANCES

The first recorded peal for the Diocesan Guild is one of Bob Major, rung at Heckington, near Sleaford, in November, 1899, conducted by the Rev. H. Law James. Six-bell bands were also very active, and this has always been so in a primarily rural Guild. The first recorded peal of Surprise is Cambridge Minor, conducted by John W. Lake. It is interesting, too, to note in passing that the first peal of Surprise Major was rung on handbells, the method being Superlative. This was rung for the Guild by William Keeble and his band, who not infrequently made excursions into the county from South Yorkshire. The Lincoln Guild can also claim the first peal of Spliced of any kind ever rung, being 14 Minor methods, conducted by the Rev. H. Law James. Members of that band still living are Messrs. Arthur I. Holmes and John W. Lake. That well-known figure of the day, the Rev. F. E. Robinson, also visited the Guild, usually as the guest of the Master at Surfleet. The customary peals of Stedman were rung, and no doubt the Guild's love of this method in all branches is due to that early stimulus.

BETWEEN THE WARS.

After the 1914-18 war, the Guild was not slow to recover. At first, activity centred around Surfleet, many interesting ten-bell methods being rung, but the late 'twenties saw a great revival in Lincoln itself. The first peal of London came in 1928, conducted by John A. Freeman. The twelve bells at the Cathedral have been in good use ever since their installation in 1928, and 'firsts' in all the standard methods up to Cambridge Maximus are recorded with unfailing regularity from that time. Rivalry with the Chester Diocesan Guild produced some excellent performances in the Minor field, Vernon Taylor and his band ringing up to 80 methods in 1937. This has been eclipsed in recent times by George E. Feirn and his band, who rang 104 methods on tower bells (1939), and since the war 105 methods—the maximum in seven extents—on handbells, a truly outstanding performance.

THE PRESENT DAY

Recent peal achievements by present members of the Guild are too fresh in the memory to need further elaboration. One cannot pass by, however, the peals of Spliced Surprise Major in 22 methods, and the 14,144 London Surprise Major. It is performances of this kind which place the Lincoln Diocesan Guild on the highest level, and epitomise the sterling work put in by all members throughout the length and breadth of the county. Truly will this Guild be able to look back with justifiable pride on its first fifty years when the jubilee commemoration dinner is held this coming December.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

The North-West Branch of the Guild held a very interesting meeting at Merton on October 15th, and renewed contact with a tower which was in affiliation during the years 1875 to 1881, when the Rev. J. A. Kempe did pioneer work for change ringing. Merton was one of the eleven towers in union in 1875.

The service was conducted by the Rev. W. J. G. Nelson, Rector; the Rev. W. H. Smale read the lesson, and the Rev. J. H. B. Andrews, Chittlehampton, was the preacher. Tea was provided by the lady friends of the local band, who also attended. The next meeting was fixed for February 11th at Holsworthy.

3rd.—3¼ cwt. The same inscription as on the 2nd except that Walter is spelt Waltar.

4th.—4 cwt. Benedicta sit Sancta Trinitas. Ed Hemins fecit Sept. 3rd 1739.

5th.—4¼ cwt. 1693.

Cowley's New Bells

THE ONLY MODERN RING IN OXFORD.

The Late Perpendicular tower of St. James', Cowley, one of the many parishes within the boundaries of the city of Oxford, held until recently an old mixed ring of five bells which had not been rung for upwards of 50 years. Two of the bells were cracked and the frame was decrepit.

As part of the parish war memorial, it was decided to rehang the bells in a new steel frame, to retune the sound bells and recast the cracked ones, and to add a new treble.

When the bells were in the foundry, however, it was found that the old bells would not tune satisfactorily and the parish nobly shouldered the extra burden of the recasting. The result is that the parish has now a light ring of six of which it can justly be proud, and the founders, Messrs. Mears and Stainbank are to be congratulated on an excellent job of work.

It is strange to reflect that of the twenty odd rings of bells within the city boundaries, this is the only modern example of the bell founder's art. Oxford is known as the city of lost causes, so presumably the founders have not yet lost heart!

On October 23rd, the new bells were blessed by the Lord Bishop of Dorchester. The day could not have been worse; it rained incessantly from morning till late at night, but in spite of this the church was full to overflowing. The new bells were heard for the first time during the service, while the Bishop's procession was passing from the tower to the chancel.

The Bishop, in his address, referred to the uses of bells throughout the ages. He also remarked that the devotion of bellringers to their work was one of the encouraging signs in the life of the Diocese of Oxford at the present time, and he took the opportunity of driving home the lesson of attendance at services for which they rang and the need to become communicants.

After the service the tower was open from 4 p.m. until evensong at 6.30 p.m., and all the visitors, to the number of about 25, had the opportunity of a pull. Everyone voted them a grand little ring. A false ceiling has been placed 3ft. below the bell chamber and this has had the effect of pleasantly modulating the sound in the tower, which is only about 30ft. high and lower than the roof of the nave.

An unusual feature was provided by Tony Price, of Feltham, who rang the third and fourth to the first touch of Surprise on the bells. The first 720 on the bells, Plain Bob Minor, was rung for evensong by the following: Miss M. A. Carter 1, V. J. F. Bennett 2, Miss L. R. Pimm 3, P. Walker 4, T. W. Bond 5, A. R. Pink (conductor) 6. It was P. Walker's longest length of Minor. Tea was very kindly provided free of charge for all ringers by the Parochial Church Council. This gesture was much appreciated.

The following are the weights and inscriptions on the bells:—

Treble.—3 cwt. Remember 1939-1945. May they rest in peace.

2nd.—3¼ cwt. Daniel White, Walter Day, Churchwardens. Edward Hemins fecit 1738.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TWO SCHOOLS IN LEICESTERSHIRE

Dear Sir,—Regarding young Alan Cattell's century, for some time now it must have been obvious to readers that there are two schools of ringing in Leicestershire. Surely, therefore, young Alan must belong to the wrong school to have his achievements dashed to the ground by B.G.W.'s letter published last week. I have had the pleasure of ringing nearly 40 peals with Alan and would state without hesitation that he is one of the safest ringers I have met. Whilst I appreciate that Alan Jacques has scored a fine list of peals for his age, I still fail to see why he should be rated in advance of Alan Cattell just because he belongs to the other school of ringing, and I am confident that Alan did not make the claim himself as B.G.W.'s letter leads us to believe.

Re the Leicestershire tour, surely if the tour had been given the title of Midland Counties tour, which in actual fact it was, as the counties of Warwickshire, Leicestershire and Rutland were visited, then the subsequent ill-feeling would have been avoided.

Re attempt for 17,152 Bristol. Readers will recall that a notice appeared in Belfry Gossip that an attempt was being made at Gilmorton on February 19th last which was cancelled the following week by late news stating that the attempt would be limited to 10,000. Is it not high time that we had an explanation in our columns as to why the record attempt was not made on that day? The second attempt at Nuneaton some time later was abandoned after four hours' indifferent ringing.

'ONE OF THE MERRY MEN.'

A WIRELESS QUERY

Dear Sir,—I wonder whether any other of your readers shared my experience on Saturday, October 15th, about 9 p.m.. The 'Music Hall' programme on the B.B.C. Home Service had concluded and the microphone had been switched over for Big Ben to strike 9 p.m., and in the interval before the chimes I could hear faintly what seemed to be like bells ringing.

As the set is an old one with some spreading of the stations, at first I took it to be a nearby station, but when I sought to trace it the 'bells' went off, so I am now inclined to believe that the sound came from Westminster. I listened intently at the conclusion of Big Ben's performance and fancied that I caught the sound faintly once again. Was it possible that I heard the bells of St. Margaret's, Westminster, ringing at this time?—Yours faithfully,

DENIS A. BAYLES.

Chester-le-Street, Co. Durham.

ST. MATTHEW'S, WALSALL

Dear Sir,—There will no doubt be many of our ringing friends who perused the notice which appeared in the issue of October 14th, re the suspension of ringing at St. Matthew's Church, Walsall. The restoration of the tower is part of a scheme estimated to cost at least £20,000, and work has already commenced on the tower.

Naturally, the local band are anxious that the suspension shall be as short as possible, and feel that there will be many of our friends who have had the pleasure of ringing on our splendid ring who would be glad of an opportunity to participate in helping along this restoration and so assist in reducing the silencing of the bells.

Any subscriptions donated will be gratefully acknowledged by the Vicar of Walsall, 64, Highgate Road, Walsall.—Yours sincerely,

JAMES S. EASTWOOD,
Tower Secretary.

Walsall.

THE LOST BEAT

Dear Sir,—The letter of Mr. R. Newman on 'the lost beat' is something which I have been expecting. It is time someone had the heart and was valiant enough to have expressed such an opinion. I had hoped that a better known person among the ringing fraternity than myself would have endorsed your point of view.

I have done my very best in my own locality to emphasise the importance of the beat. It was handed down to me and I have tried to instil it in my pupils, of whom I am very proud. Carry on, Mr. Newman, for we cannot shut people's eyes or stuff their ears to what you state.

Finally, whom do we serve? Firstly, the vicar; secondly, the parishioners; and should they be served with that beat which you desire, there would be less writing to the papers and the long-suffering would not only lessen itself, but create a greater friendliness towards our fraternity.—Yours faithfully,

JOSEPH BURGESS.

Greenfield, near Oldham.

IRISH ASSOCIATION'S ROLL OF HONOUR

Dear Sir, — The Irish Association decided some time ago to write the names of those members who served in Defence Forces during the last war into the Peal Book.

There may be some of the non-resident life members who served their country who would like to be included in the Roll of Honour; if so, I would be glad if they will let me have their names, together with rank and regiments, also any decorations.

It is proposed to close the list at the end of November and it may not be possible to include any names received later. — Yours sincerely, FRED E. DUKES.

Jenkinstown, Dundalk.

PEAL WITHDRAWN

Dear Sir,—I beg to withdraw the peal of Herefordshire Little Surprise rung at Burghill, Herefordshire, on September 30th, 1949. The composition is, unfortunately, false. It is, in fact, impossible to produce one with the tenors together.

I offer my sincere apologies to the band.—Yours faithfully, WILFRID F. MORETON.

Lampeter, Cards.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD MEMORIAL TO THE REV. E. S. POWELL.

The members of the Daventry Branch held their monthly meeting at the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Staverton, on October 8th, and were joined at the service by local parishioners and ringers from Birmingham, Raunds, Northampton, Rugby and Mrs. E. S. Powell, from Stoke-under-Ham, Somerset.

During the service the Ancaster stone tablet which has been placed in the sanctuary of the church in memory of the late Vicar of Staverton and Ringing Master of the Peterborough Guild, the Rev. Everard Slade Powell, was dedicated. Miss M. Clark, a local ringer, unveiled the tablet.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. C. E. G. Glascodine, the lesson was read by the Rev. T. W. Long, chairman of the Guilsborough Branch of the Peterborough Guild, and the memorial tablet was dedicated by the Rev. R. H. Palmer, of Cogenhoe, Northampton, who in his address spoke of the fine example set by the Rev. E. S. Powell, of the valuable work he had accomplished for ringing and for the Church, and of his willingness to give good advice and friendship to all who sought it.

The work of carving and fixing the tablet was ably carried out by Lawrence A. Turner, and the cost of £50 was met by subscriptions.

100 Years After

As recorded in 'The Ringing World' on March 4th, a peal of Superlative Surprise Major was rung on February 12th, 1949, to commemorate the centenary of a peal in the same method rung on February 10th, 1849, at St. Mary's, Woolwich.

The board in the tower recording the earlier peal also states: 'The same band after diligent practice and steady perseverance accomplished on October 11th in the same year (1849) 5,600 changes of London Surprise Major, which arduous task was completed in 3 hours and 27 minutes and stands unequalled by any peal on record.'

The centenary of this peal also has now been commemorated by a peal of London rung on October 15th, conducted by Mr. F. J. Cullum. It is of interest to note that the 1849 peal was the second ever rung of London Surprise Major, the first being at St. Andrew's, Norwich, on November 17th, 1835.

It is hoped that the two 1949 peals will also be recorded in the tower.

The October 15th peal was a suitable birthday compliment to Messrs. E. A. Barnett, Crayford; Mr. A. S. Richards, West Wickham (who stood in the peal), and Mr. L. W. G. Morris, Bradford, all of whose birthdays fall on this date.

ROCHDALE'S BELL ANNIVERSARY

On October 15th and 16th, All Saints' Church, Hamer, celebrated the 80th anniversary of the dedication of the church bells. On Saturday advantage was taken of the occasion to reinstitute the annual tea and social of the Rochdale Branch of Change Ringers.

Commencing with Communion at 2 p.m. for ringers and friends, followed by ringing until tea, the evening was spent in a social, which included whist, dancing and handbell ringing by the branch members from Oldham. This was greatly appreciated by over 230 people present.

On Sunday special services were held in church and were well attended. The afternoon service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. N. Wallworth, and the preacher was the Rev. R. D. St. J. Smith, who is also a keen ringer. This was followed by tea in the school, at which a huge birthday cake was cut by an old All Saints' ringer, Mr. W. Turner (78) and Master Keith Abbott (12), the youngest ringer.

In the evening the Bishop of Manchester preached on the message of the bells. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung in the chancel at both services by Mr. and Mrs. W. Crabtree, of Todmorden, and Mr. H. Barlow and Mr. V. Sykes, sen., of Oldham. J. T.

ARCHBISHOP OF YORK IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

In honour of the visit of the Archbishop of York to Victoria, B.C., on October 1st, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung on the Cathedral bells by G. White 1, Margaret Izard 2, D. Boniface 3, A. Izard 4, A. King 5, C. Millard 6, E. W. Izard (cond.) 7, E. Merritt 8.

For the occasion Mr. C. Millard motored 130 miles to ring and then returned home on the Monday morning to Courtenay, Vancouver Island. Mr. G. White, who is one of the youngest members of the Ancient Society of College Youths, is also a member of the Vancouver Flying Club, and piloted his plane from Vancouver to Victoria in order to be in time for the ringing. The bells were also specially rung by the same members on Sunday, October 2nd.

The ringers were very pleased when they received a letter of appreciation from the Archbishop, in which he specially mentioned the excellent striking.

The Worcestershire and Districts Association

Annual Dinner

The twelfth annual dinner, held at the Guildhall, Worcester, on October 1st, lost none of its popularity, a company of 96 sitting down under the chairmanship of the newly installed Dean of Worcester, the Very Rev. W. E. Beck, M.A., D.Litt.

Immediately before the admirable and well-served meal the chaplain, the Rev. H. Hartley, introduced the chairman, saying how happy they were that he had consented to accept the office of president. He came to them, as it were, fresh from the mint, for only that afternoon he had been installed and instituted as Dean of Worcester. They felt particularly honoured that his first public engagement after that service should be to preside at their dinner.

In a suitable reply, the Dean said the one disappointment was that owing to trouble with the pinnacles and battlements the cathedral bells could not be rung that day, but the Association had gone one better and rung all the bells of Worcester for him.

Supporting the chairman were Mr. C. Skidmore (Master) and Mrs. Skidmore, the Rev. H. Hartley (chaplain), Mr. J. D. Johnson (general secretary) and Mrs. Johnson, the Rev. L. J. Birch (Vicar of Beoley) and Mrs. Birch, Mr. J. R. Newman (vice-president) and Mrs. Newman, Mr. W. B. Cartwright (vice-president) and Mrs. Cartwright, M. J. Bass (vice-president), and the gathering was representative of all parts of the Diocese.

The loyal toast having been honoured on the call of the chairman, Mr. J. R. Newman proposed the toast, 'Church and State.' He could not feel at all sure that the altered conditions and outlook of the times were for the better, and to-day it was more than ever necessary for Church and State to get together. When so many day-to-day expedients were being adopted, it would be wise to try the influence of the teaching of Christianity—a spirit of brotherhood between nations. All who were churchmen should strive for that influence to be carried to the State. In coupling the name of the Rev. L. J. Birch, Mr. Newman said it was not unusual to find a parson ringer, but more unusual to find his wife a practical ringer too.

In reply, the Rev. Birch said he often heard, 'Why doesn't the Church do something?', but the truth was that all are members of the Church, and its work was done by clergy and laity working together. In this connection ringers had a particularly important part to play, for the message of the bells reached beyond the church flock, and he reminded ringers that they, too, should have a sense of obligation to worship.

Speaking as a ringer to the clergy, he was well aware that most of the clergy in the diocese did take an interest in their ringers, but where they did not he suggested the ringers should go to the parson, invite him to the belfry and teach him to handle a bell. He appealed to ringers and clergy to strive to reach these two ideals.

In proposing the toast 'The Worcestershire Association,' Mr. W. C. Dowding said it was one to which only one with a residential qualification could do justice and, although now in Birmingham, he was a Worcestershire man. He referred to early stalwarts and pioneers of the Association: W. Short, who had at one time been Ringing Master of the St. Martin's Guild and had called the 11,111 record of Stedman Cinques; the late W. Page and R. Matthews; others still active, Messrs. S. Grove, W. Ranford, S. T. Holt and C. Camm; the present Master, C. Skidmore and his inseparable companion, T. Hemming, and the general secretary, who was responsible for the arrangements that evening. He reminded the members that Rule 1 stated that their first object be 'to reorganise the true position as church officers,' and he personally never tired of hearing that ringers should be good churchmen.

Mr. D. H. Watson, one of the younger members and the newly-elected Northern Branch Ringing Master, replied. The older members, he said, had been mentioned, but the future of the Association rested on younger shoulders, and he sometimes wondered if they accepted the responsibility as they should. He felt, too, that more opportunities should be taken for publicity; in ringing matters the ignorance of the public was still appalling. He appealed to the younger members to support the Association in every possible way.

Mr. T. Hemming proposed the toast of 'Kindred Associations,' and extended a special welcome to the four young ladies from Wallasey, who were with them that evening.

Mr. V. A. Hemming, of Shirley, replied. Although Worcestershire born, that was the first of the dinners which he had attended, but he felt that the arrangements compared favourably with any in the country, and the atmosphere of informality made the welcome all the more sincere. In thanking the Association, he wished to associate the visitors with the welcome extended to the new president.

All the items on the musical side of the programme were well received. Songs were given by Mr. G. J. Hemming, with his daughter, Miss Jean Hemming as accompanist, monologues by Mrs. J. Thomas, a selection of popular tunes by the Brierley Hill handbell band (Messrs. T. Hemming, C. Skidmore and J. Lloyd), and a tittum course of Grandsire Cinques was rung on the fine Association handbells by the Hinton band: R. G. Freeman 1-2, Mrs. J. Thomas 3-4, J. D. Johnson 5-6, J. Thomas 7-8, P. Harris 9-10, Miss M. Rowland 11-12.

DISS RINGER MARRIED

On October 15th the wedding took place of Mr. W. A. Lock and Miss M. Bishop, whose family is well known in farming circles.

A well-known change ringer of Diss,
Wed a Bishop with a prefix of Miss,
Though one of a flock
Of a good farming stock,
Now Lock, stock and barrel, she's his.

(With apologies from B.A.T.S., of 'The Belfry.')

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

An attendance of 135 ringers and friends attended the annual meeting of the Canterbury District on October 15th. This was easily a record for the district, 27 towers being represented. The bells of St. Alphege's, St. Dunstan's and St. Stephen's were kept going during the afternoon until the service, which was held in St. Stephen's Church. The service was conducted by the Rector, and a collection for the Benevolent Fund realised 2 gns.

Tea was held in the Parish Room, a 'Dilnot Special' being laid on in buffet style.

The annual business meeting followed. In his report the district secretary, Mr. B. J. Luck, announced an increase in membership as well as more income and less expenditure, due to various economies effected by the Association. A total of 360 members paid up for the year, including 31 hon. members. The chairman, Mr. J. A. Russell, was re-elected, as was the secretary and Ringing Master, Mr. R. G. Port. For the two offices as representatives, there were five nominations. Messrs. C. E. Buesden and H. R. French were elected. The secretary was also re-elected. For the next by-meeting Wickhambreaux was chosen by special request to celebrate the silver wedding of one of the local ringers, Mr. S. White.

THE REALITY OF TRADITION

SITTING at the 312th anniversary dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths last Saturday, the thought that was uppermost in one's mind was the reality of tradition. The Youths assembled had travelled far to be present. From Cornwall and from the North of England they were there to honour a great institution. But it was not a gathering of the aged; there was a substantial sprinkling of youth—men who had made their mark as ringers since the war, and some just fledglings with the wide compass of ringing ahead of them.

This year's Master, Mr. J. A. Waugh, comes from the great citadel of the Ancient Society, he being a member of St. Paul's band. In 1926, at the age of 14, he became a College Youth, having learnt to handle a bell two years before at Woodford Parish Church. His first peal was rung at St. George's-in-the-Borough, and of his hundred and more peals three have been rung at St. Paul's. Until his employment necessitated his travelling considerably during the week, much of his ringing time was spent in training young bands.

The continuity of the society is jealously guarded. A reminder of the secred trust came with presentations to Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hughes. On December 30th, 1940, the Coffee Pot, the headquarters of the society, was destroyed by a bomb. Through the action of Mr. and Mrs. Hughes the society were able to hold their monthly meetings without a break at the Whitechapel Foundry, and it is still their headquarters. As a token of their gratitude for the hospitality extended, members presented Mrs. Hughes with a wrist watch, and Mr. Hughes with a silver tankard. The time of the presentation was happily chosen, as it followed after Mrs. Hughes had given a delightful exhibition on her handbells.

Research into past history has not stopped with the death of Mr. J. Armiger Trollope, the author of 'College Youths.' A friend of Mr. E. Alex Young, Mr. Rupert C. Jarvis, has been endeavouring to trace Fabian Stedman's position in London. It was generally held that Fabian accepted an appointment with the Customs and Excise, as an auditor or audit clerk. A search through the records of Excise of that period shows no mention of Stedman or his chief, John Cooke. What has been revealed was that John Cooke was the secretary to the Secretary of State, and it is the opinion of Mr. Rupert C. Jarvis that Stedman was in his department.

To the regret of the company Canon G. F. Coleridge was unable to make the journey to London, he having had a fall that morning. There were other old veterans who sent their apologies, among them being Mr. James George, who recalled his prowess with Bow tenor, and Mr. Bob Newton. Chapter 312 of the society, as reported by the hon. secretary, Mr. A. B. Peck, who is rapidly approaching the time he can join that select band of being 50 years a College Youth, made interesting reading. This, however, we will reserve for news columns in our next issue.

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

LATE NEWS

Bagshot (Surrey) Parish Church ringers called in recently the sanitary inspector to kill the millions of flies hibernating in the belfry. They made black clusters in the corners and hung in ropes. Steeplekeeper Hall carried several bucket loads of slaughtered flies down the long spiral staircase. Other towers are advised to make inspections.

BELFRY GOSSIP

With the peal at Meopham, Kent, on October 29th, Mr. Frank Bennett, now 81 years of age, has rung peals in all the 8, 10 and 12-bell towers in Kent. He has also completed the Sussex towers with the exception of the recently augmented tower at Burwash. Mr. Bennett was standing in a peal attempt there on November 5th.

Canon G. F. Coleridge celebrated his 92nd birthday yesterday. 'Good wishes from us all, Canon.'

The meeting of the Essex Association at Great Bardfield for November 19th has been postponed until November 26th owing to unforeseen circumstances.

Mr. J. F. Milner writes to thank all ringing friends for their kind messages of goodwill while in hospital. He is now home again, making rapid progress, and hopes to be 'under' a bell again soon.

It was much regretted that Mr. J. H. W. White (that grand old stalwart of ringing in the Coventry area) was unable to ring in his 71st birthday peal at Chilvers Coton on October 22nd, owing to the illness of his wife. Mrs. White, who with her husband was recently holidaying in Cornwall, has had to undergo an operation in hospital in Redruth. Their many friends will wish Mrs. White a complete recovery.

Congratulations to Mr. F. E. Dukes, hon. secretary of the Irish Association, on ringing his 100th peal. Mr. Dukes believes he is the first Irishman to reach the century. He has also rung more peals for the Irish Association than any other ringer, with 68 to his credit, against 65 by the late Mr. Gabriel Lindoff. Mr. Dukes expresses his thanks to those who arranged peals for him during his visits to England, whose help, advice and even 'shouting' is appreciated.

Unique in the annals of ringing was the Leicester ringers' trip to Birmingham on October 22nd, when 24 members of the Leicester Diocesan Guild set out for two peals of Surprise Maximus. The senior band rang a good peal of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus at the Cathedral, but the youngsters' attempt for Cambridge Maximus at Aston came to grief after two hours. The average age of the young band was round about 20 years. They hope to make another attempt before very long. No less than seventeen of the Leicester Cathedral Sunday evening service ringers were included in the two bands.

The ringer of the 4th in the peal for the University of Bristol Society at Nailsea was Ivor H. Trueman, and not as printed in our last issue.

The peal Mr. Frank Warrington called at Sharnbrook, Beds, on October 20th, was of special interest to him. It was at this church that he was confirmed while serving in H.M. Forces.

Past and present members of the Stoke Poges tower composed the band that rang in honour of two golden weddings on October 24th, at this well-known club. Those honoured were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bateman and Mr. and Mrs. F. Hartley. The peal was rung on the 218th anniversary of the first peal of Stedman Triples, rung at Norwich in 1731.

The average age of the band which rang the peal of Stedman Caters at St. Mary's, Beddington, on October 15th was 18½ years. This peal was rung on the 25th anniversary of a 5,021 Grandsire Caters, conducted by Charles H. Kippin at the same tower, when the average age of the band was just under 20. It is believed that the peal rung this year is the first ten-bell peal to be rung by such a young band.

Leicester Diocesan Festival

A COMPANY of about 120 attended the Leicester Diocesan Festival, which this year was held at Loughborough.

Good use was made of the bells at the foundry and at the Parish Church. At the appointed time the company assembled at the Bull's Head, on the nearby Shelthorpe Estate. Here an excellent dinner was enjoyed. The speeches which followed were commendably short, as was the toast list.

Following the loyal toast, the president, Mr. Harold J. Poole, gave 'The Leicester Diocesan Guild.' He said that although some doubts were expressed at the time of the formation of the Guild and the break up of the old Midland Counties Association, there was no doubt at all now that the move had been a wise one. There was a much better covering of all districts, the district meetings were frequent and were well attended, and they were happy affairs. The affairs of the Guild continued to prosper, he recalled the success of the De Montfort dinner, and said that this year already 150 peals had been rung, as against 130 for the whole of last year.

The President commented on the fellowship in the Guild, the social gatherings and the support given both by members and by visitors. He looked forward to their continued support. Success of the Guild in the future was assured if the Guild carried on with the peal ringing and with the service ringing.

Mr. Poole mentioned visits by members to other guilds and to other parts of the country. He instanced the recent Irish tour as showing that the fellowship between ringers was even more than ever. In Ireland, although there were great differences between the North and South, both being generally of a different branch of the Church and both being different politically, all this had no effect on the fellowship of the ringers. All ringers were working together.

Mr. Colin Harrison proposed the toast to 'The Visitors.' Among the visitors were Mr. T. Mark White; Mr. W. H. Kingcott, of Wrington; Mr. Andrew C. Sinfield and party from Bedfordshire (they had that day rung a peal of Yorkshire Surprise at Claybrooke); Mr. C. E. G. Banham, of Norfolk; Miss Mary Walshaw, of Manchester; Mr. Geo. Freebrey, an old stalwart of the M.C.A.; Mr. E. H. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Thompson, of Derby; Mr. Ron Noone, of Northampton; and Mr. E. Jennings, of Braintree. Mr. Harrison recalled the great work of Mr. Freebrey in the old M.C.A. days, when, in association with Alderman Chambers, he laid the foundations of what was later to be a great help to the Leicester and other Guilds when these new Guilds started their work.

Mr. R. Noone responded on behalf of the visitors.

Mr. E. C. S. Turner proposed the toast of 'The Ringing World,' and mentioned its service in keeping ringers in many countries in touch with one another. By reading of the exploits of other ringers, other bands were stirred to progress and to further efforts. 'The Ringing World' was their national newspaper wherein they could read true and concise reports of the doings of ringers in all parts of the world.

Mr. T. Mark White, replying, thanked Mr. Turner for his remarks, and said the Editor was unable to be present that day as he was attending another function.

Songs from Miss Jacqueline Jackson, tunes and changes on handbells, including the 'rise and fall,' occupied the time pleasantly until dancing, which continued until a late hour. Everyone had a real good time, it being commented that for general friendliness, a good programme and a delightful room, the 1949 festival was the 'best yet.'

DEDICATIONS

DUXFORD, CAMBS.

The village of Duxford, Cambs, has two churches, St. Peter's and St. John's, the latter being derelict. The six bells from St. John's have now, after being removed to Croydon for tuning, been rehung in a new steel frame, with ball bearings, by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston.

A large congregation attended the rededication by the Archdeacon of Ely on October 28th, the service being conducted by the Rector, the Rev. J. B. Joyce. Among those present was the one surviving member of the old team of ringers, W. Wisbey, aged 91.

In his address the Archdeacon, referring to those who dislike bells, asked for patience with such people, and said there were many different tastes in music; he himself, while being quite unable to appreciate jazz and the saxophone, was partial to the bagpipes.

Immediately after the rededication, the bells were rung in rounds by the newly-formed local band, who have been receiving instruction at the neighbouring village of Whittlesford.

The first touch on the bells was a 240 Bob Minor by a representative band consisting of some of the oldest members of the Ely Diocesan Association, conducted by Mr. P. Webb, of Ickleton, who has been a member over 50 years.

Ringers and friends were entertained to refreshments at the Rectory, while the bells were kept going, everyone getting a chance to try the rehung bells, and all being satisfied with another job well done.

The ringing concluded with the first 720 on the bells by E. G. Hibbens 1, J. Gibson 2, T. R. Dennis 3, Stewart Smith 4, C. W. Cook (cond.) 5, J. R. Quinney 6.

The writer has in his possession a copy of 'Campanalogia,' fifth edition, with the name of a Duxford ringer and the year 1838 on the flyleaf, which shows that at least some form of change ringing was practised on the bells in the past.—C. W. C.

CHRIST CHURCH, EALING

An interesting ceremony was enacted at Christ Church, Ealing, on October 25th, when the Rev. Arthur Bell, the new Vicar, assisted by the Rev. R. W. F. Cowdry, priest-in-charge during the interregnum, dedicated and Mrs. de Vere, wife of the late Vicar, unveiled a handsome peal board in memory of the late Vicar.

The inscription reads: 'In memoriam Allan Augustin de Vere, Vicar 1939-49. This tablet records a peal of 5,040 changes of Bob Major, rung in this tower, in 3 hours and 12 minutes, with clappers half-muffled, on Tuesday, Jan. 25th, 1949, in memory of Allan Augustin de Vere, priest, who died on Jan. 15th. Through his efforts these bells had recently been restored.' Then follows the names of the ringers, all of whom with one exception were Sunday service ringers at the church, the exception being Mr. T. J. Lock, who was asked to take part as representing the North and East District of the Middlesex Association.

Following the anointing of the board with holy water and the Act of Dedication, a touch of Grandsire Triples was rung by seven of the band who rang in the peal, with the addition of Mr. A. W. Coles, who executed the work in connection with the board. After the blessing the bells were rung to Cambridge, Stedman and Grandsire.

At the close Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey thanked Father Bell and the church authorities for providing such a beautiful record and for the interest taken in the ringers.

Mr. B. A. Knights writes: The claim to first peal of Forward Major at Bolsover is not correct. I called the first on January 23rd, 1909. See Midland Counties Report for that year.

OTTERY ST. MARY.

On October 29th, the Bishop of Crediton dedicated the recast ring of eight, tenor 18½ cwt., at Ottery St. Mary, Devon. This ring had been silent for four years and by a coincidence the last time it was rung was on October 29th, 1945, when a muffled touch was rung in memory of the Rev. L. B. Stallard, Vicar of Ottery for 18 years. To perpetuate his memory his name has been cast on the third bell.

The blessing ceremony took place in the south transept, where Mr. A. A. Eveleigh (chairman of the Church Governors) presented the ropes to the Bishop, who blessed them and passed them back, together with his charge, to the Governors.

The bells have been recast and rehung in a steel frame with ball bearings and fittings of the latest kind by the Loughborough Foundry, and the opinion of ringers present was that Messrs. J. Taylor and Co. had done a very good job. About 80 ringers had tea in the Town Hall, the firm being represented by Mr. J. Fidler.

CASTLE EATON, WILTS.

An unusual ceremony took place at the Thames-side village of Castle Eaton, Wiltshire, on October 30th, when six new bell ropes were dedicated by the Rector (Rev. J. A. Harrison). Until recently there has not been a band of ringers here for many years, and when ringing was resumed there was constant trouble with the old ropes. As an encouragement to the new band six new ropes were purchased, and as the local ringers are not very far advanced a band was imported to ring the dedication touch.

At the commencement of evensong the Rector and choir processed to the ringing chamber, which is on the ground floor, and the dedicatory prayers were read with appropriate responses by the congregation. The ringing was performed by: W. B. Kynaston 1, H. W. Bishop 2, A. R. Peake 3, V. Griffin 4, H. E. Brown 5, E. G. Adams 6.

MAJOR HESSE COMMEMORATION WEEK-END

A few ringers and friends journeyed to Wrington on October 22nd for the annual week-end in memory of Major Hesse. Mrs. Hesse and Mr. Rodney Hesse attended and very kindly provided the tea.

Ringers attending included Mr. A. A. Hughes, Mr. Stafford Green, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dobbie, Messrs. J. T. Dyke, Knight, Kingcott, Beck, Neaves, Derrick, Coombs and Chivers. Mr. A. H. Pulling and Mr. E. J. Taylor were unable to come this year.

Mr. A. A. Hughes, in a few well-chosen words, thanked Mrs. Hesse and Mr. Rodney Hesse for kindly providing the tea, and said how fitting it was to meet each year in memory of one of the most kindly men he ever knew.

Two peal attempts were arranged, but unfortunately both proved unsuccessful.

OBITUARY

MR. CHARLES A. BUTTON.

The death on October 24th was briefly recorded in our last issue of Mr. Charles A. Button, in his 78th year. For the last three years he had been unable to ring owing to ill-health.

For over 40 years he was a member of the All Hallows' band, Tottenham. In recent years he had lived at Streatham and joined the St. Leonard's band. Mr. Button was a member of the College Youths and the Middlesex County and the Surrey Associations.

He had rung in a number of peals of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and had called a peal of Bob Triples.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

AFFINITY OF LEAD PARTINGS

Dear Sir,—How much longer will the old fallacious arguments about method structure and method composition continue? To-day the doorway to the field of ringing 'science' (sic—i.e., factual knowledge), for all to enter, stands wide open for those who apply the processes of rational thought leading to logical analysis.

Mr. Sedgley is, of course, incorrect in saying that sixth-place bob lead-heads of a Cambridge composition are Primrose, and this may be shown without difficulty, as below. Mr. Brian Price's article in issue No. 2,003 touches this question, but leaves it unanswered as to the relation of the Bob to the Method.

The fact is that the matter was settled from almost the earliest days of change ringing; and the position was recognised by the Central Council in their 'Rules and Decisions' published nearly half a century ago. It remains one of the things that present-day review can find little to vary. There it is affirmed that a method is comprised within a 'lead,' or within a 'set' of changes in a principle (e.g., Stedman), together with the way these sets of rows are joined together to complete the Plain Course. In modern phraseology this becomes—'A method is completely defined by its Grid Pattern, plus its Plain Grid Link.' Note carefully that the Central Council's definition says nothing about Calls in defining method. How could it? These are simply devices for building up courses other than the 'plain.' In other words, Bob-Links and Single-Links are superimposed upon the method itself in variation of the method's Plain-Links, in order to effect Composition.

The two fields are thus quite distinct—on the one hand method structure limited within the plain course, and on the other hand composition, extending even to assembling together various methods, or splicing. If the bob were part of the method then we should have to define a 'splicing bob.' This, of course, borders on the ridiculous! Mr. Charles Kippin, speaking from the experienced practical standpoint, is obviously right in his contention.

Consider the example in question. The grids of Cambridge and Primrose are identical. It is only in their grid-links that they differ. In Cambridge Minor the normal bob, 4ths place from the front, happens to be made in the same position as the conventional Primrose bob, 3rds place from behind. But has anyone ever queried the ethics of this? Similarly there can be no question as to the less conventional 6ths place bob in Cambridge Major, because it happens to fall in the same position as the 3rds—from—behind Primrose Major bob. The justification of this contention lies in the fact that from Minor upwards, because of the differing pivot-place of the two methods, the bob (whether 4ths or 6ths for Cambridge) alters pairs of bells in front of the place in Cambridge and behind the place in Primrose.

So we see that the fallacious view expressed by Mr. Sedgley (and he is by no means alone in this!) arises from the superficial regard of merely the position of the pivot-place arising in the lead-head row as the result of a bob; instead of the modifying effect upon the paths of the pair or pairs of bells otherwise altered by it.—Yours very truly,

A. YORK-BRAMBLE.

Mr. W. H. J. Hooton, hon. librarian of the Central Council, we regret to state, has had to lie up for some weeks. He would appreciate if orders for publications before Christmas would be few.

PRIMROSE AND CAMBRIDGE

Dear Sir,—When Mr. Sedgley states that Cambridge has a 4ths place bob, he is making a dogmatic statement which has no foundation other than that provided by convention.

To say that 6,400 of Cambridge is spliced Primrose and Cambridge is an obvious extravagant and useless observation. The peal contains only two variations of place when the treble is leading, and to propose two more that are not there (i.e., 'Bob' leads of Cambridge and plain leads of Primrose) is contrary to the Principle of Minimum Hypothesis. It is much simpler to think of the peal as one of Cambridge.

One could make the obvious statement that a 720 of Single Court Minor is only one of Original Minor, and then overstep the mark by saying that since singles are not necessary in the Original they shouldn't be necessary in the Single Court, hence Single Court should be omitted from the Minor collection.—Yours, etc.,

BRIAN D. PRICE.

A REMINDER

Dear Sir,—I am sorry to read that my old friend Charles H. Kippin has developed such a bad memory. Will he turn up his peal book or 'The Ringing World,' 1928, page 707, and see that he rang the treble to a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Royal at Beddington and conducted by myself. It was the first peal in the method by all the band and first ever rung in the South of England.

As he still does not know the method, it makes one wonder how he rang in the peal at Southampton.—Yours truly,

W. H. HEWETT.

Note.—Does ringing the treble to a peal of Surprise constitute mastery of the method? —Editor.

LEEDS TENOR ACCIDENT

Dear Sir,—One wonders would the accident have occurred to the tenor bell at Leeds Parish Church had the nut in question been a castellated one, fitted with a split pin in accordance with modern engineering standards.

The method of preventing nuts from working loose on a ring of bells recently rehung was by sawing the free end of the bolt down the centre and bending the two halves widely apart. Has there been no progress in bellhanging?—Yours faithfully,

R. OVERY.

FIRST PEAL ON TEN IN IRELAND

Dear Sir,—The first peal on ten bells in Ireland was a peal of Stedman Caters, rung at Christ Church Cathedral, Dublin, on May 20th, 1899, conducted by W. H. Barber. Next day a peal of Plain Bob Royal was rung at the Church of SS. Augustine and John, Dublin, conducted by William Short. I don't think this peal (Kent Treble Bob Royal), rung at St. Patrick's Cathedral on May 24th, 1901, was claimed as the first peal of Royal out of Great Britain.

In answer to Mr. Dukes' appeal for information, I only know of peals for the Irish Association in which I took part. The first was Grandsire Triples on handbells in the belfry of St. Patrick's Cathedral. This was the first peal on handbells in Ireland. Other peals included were Grandsire Triples on handbells, the first peal of Stedman Triples in Ireland rung at Bray, also one at Drogheda. Grandsire Triple at St. George's, Dublin, also one at Arklow, in which J. W. Washbrook rang 3—4.—Yours sincerely,

W. H. BARBER.

Sutton Coldfield, Birmingham.

STABILITY

Dear Sir,—Having carefully read both your articles on Devaluation and Revaluation, the thought has occurred to me that if ringing is still to be considered an 'art' then we should only allow the best to count as a peal.

A 5,000 rung with little beat or compass, or with one or more of the bells often striking a little too wide or too close, is equally as bad a performance as a well-struck one containing a very short 'sort out.'

Modern transport combined with modern education is tending to produce peal bands of a different type to the stalwarts of earlier days. Ringers can be drawn and perform over a much wider area, and in consequence more peals are rung.

Let us therefore remember that good striking and true ringing should always be the first aim of all of us, and, 'counting our blessings,' strive onward to attain that standard of perfection which is still so difficult to achieve.—Yours faithfully,

A. DISERENS.

BULWELL RINGERS

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. J. W. Raithby's letter in 'The Ringing World' of October 21st, I would point out that the peal in question was at the invitation of the Rector. This had nothing to do with our trouble. Our trouble is because Mr. Clem Glenn wrote to the Rector asking for the use of the bells for an attempted peal, for which he gave permission before consulting the ringers.

We saw the Rector and told him if the peal was attempted we should resign. The peal was attempted on August 13th, and the same came to grief. We resigned on August 14th.

What Mr. Clarke states is perfectly true. The peal was on September 17th, and therefore you will notice we resigned before this date, and it is nothing to do with this peal.

SPLICED OXFORD AND KENT TREBLE BOB MINOR

Dear Sir,—With regard to Mr. E. C. Gobey's inquiry about peals of Spliced Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Minor with no bobs (seven different extents), a peal of it was rung at St. Mary's, Eastwell, Kent, by the following on November 7th, 1947: Albert J. Lancefield 1, Percy Page 2, Mark S. Lancefield 3, William A. Oldfield 4, Thomas Cullingworth 5, Frederick G. Huckstepp 6. Conducted by A. J. Lancefield, who is now in New Zealand.

I may say that we didn't get it at the first attempt. The 720's, of which Mr. Lancefield had eight, were probably those mentioned by Mr. Gobey.—Yours faithfully,

W. A. OLDFIELD.

Ashford, Kent.

ANOTHER RECORD?

Dear Sir, — Extract from the 'Daily Mirror' of September 9th, 1949:—

'When it was all over, the eight men, each clutching a copy of "The Bellringer's Diary," climbed aboard a coach for Tavistock.'

Is this the first time that a ringing publication has been mentioned in the news columns of a national daily?

'DELIGHT.'

Mr. George W. Cecil has now rung Kent from Minor to Maximus.

RINGERS' OUTINGS

ST. MARY REDCLIFFE, BRISTOL.

Portsmouth and Southampton were the objectives of St. Mary Redcliffe for their annual outing. At Portsmouth Cathedral they were welcomed by Messrs. F. W. Burnett and F. W. Rogers, and at St. Mary's, Southampton, by Mr. John S. Faithfull. The newly-augmented ten at St. Michael's, Southampton, were also visited, and here the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead (Vicar) joined in ringing his first touch of Little Bob Royal. The grand eight at Romsey Abbey provided a fitting close to an enjoyable outing.

BRISTOL CITY BRANCH.

The locale for the second annual outing of the Bristol City branch was Gloucestershire and Herefordshire. Barnwood's melodious eight bells proved a happy choice, to be followed by the grand eight at Ross-on-Wye. Herefordshire seemed at its loveliest as the party journeyed to Colwall, one of the gems of mediæval architecture. The party was welcomed by Mr. Price and ringing included a ladies' eight.

At Tewkesbury Abbey, Stedman and Grandsire Cinques and Plain Bob and Little Bob Maximus were rung. Group Capt. T. V. Lister joined the party at tea and he was thanked for his efforts on behalf of the branch. The last tower was Berkeley, with its fine ten and a greeting from Mr. W. A. Lewis.

MALMESBURY ABBEY.

An interesting journey was planned by Malmesbury Abbey Guild of Change Ringers for their first annual outing.

Ringing took place at Warminster (where they were joined by local ringers), Rode (where the Rector explained the chief points of the church), and Chewton Mendip (the first experience for some of this beautiful ring of eight, one of the finest in the West Country). Tea was enjoyed at Frome. Handbell ringing enlivened the journey.

The Malmesbury Guild are indebted to the Warminster ringers for their willing co-operation and also to Mr. Norton for the comfort that was provided for the journey.

MARLBOROUGH BRANCH.

On September 24th, a party of 32 ringers and friends set out by coach on the second annual outing of the Marlborough Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild. Heading north into Gloucestershire, the first call was made at Chalford, where the light six steel bells were an attraction. Through picturesque Cotswold country the route led to Bisley, where ringing on the fine octave is marred by inability to hear 1-2 inside the tower.

After lunch at Stroud, calls were made at Woodchester (6) and Minchinhampton (6), the latter bells being much enjoyed. The party adjourned to tea in Cirencester prior to ringing on the excellent octave at Watermoor.

Further calls were made at Siddington (6), South Cerney (6) and Ashton Keynes (5) on the homeward route.

The day ended with courses of Grandsire Triples rung 'in hand' at a local tavern. Methods rung were Grandsire, Stedman, St. Simon's and Plain Bob Doubles. Plain Bob Minor and Grandsire Triples. Thanks were expressed to Mr. T. A. Palmer (secretary) and Mr. Bob Court, who made the necessary arrangements.

Mr. J. Skeats, now of Salesbury, near Blackburn, writes expressing his thanks to the ringers of Morecambe Parish Church and St. Peter's (R.C.) Cathedral, Lancaster, for their generous gifts and kind wishes to him on the occasion of his leaving the district. He will particularly miss the Thursday and Saturday practice night ringing and the Sunday service touches, and hopes to renew friendship as opportunities arise.

HOLLOWAY, LONDON.

Reinforced by a few ringing friends, the Holloway band had an enjoyable outing in the Aldershot and Farnham district. Ringing took place at St. Peter's, Ash, St. Michael's, Aldershot, and St. Andrew's, Farnham. The thanks of the party are expressed to Mr. G. S. Joyce (Farnborough), Mr. W. H. Viggers (Aldershot) and Mr. C. W. Denyer (Farnham) for having everything ready for the party's comfort and the warm welcome they received.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

OCTOBER MEETING AT BURLEY.

The Society held another successful meeting at Burley, Leeds, where owing to the church being surrounded by houses, special silencers have been made by the local company. The members turned up in force and the bells were soon raised and the following methods rung: Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob Major, Double Norwich Court Bob Major, Stedman Triples, Little Bob Major, Superlative Major and London Surprise Major.

Thirty-four members adjourned to the Church Institute, where cups of tea were provided by the local company. The business meeting was held in the same room. The senior vice-president, Mr. F. Hutchinson, presided.

The following new members were duly elected: Mr. F. Jackson (Bawtry), the Misses E. Marsh and M. Smith (Woodlesford), and Mr. M. Johnston (St. Chad's, Headingley).

A vote of thanks to the Vicar, churchwardens, local company and ladies was proposed by Mr. H. Lofthouse and seconded by Mr. J. Gibson. In his reply, Mr. G. W. Slack appealed to all ringers to give his learners at Burley a helping hand with their practice on Monday nights.

Members were asked to watch the notice columns in 'The Ringing World' regarding the venue of the next meeting, which it is hoped will be held at Ossett on Nov. 26th.

COVENTRY DIOCESAN GUILD

Monks Kirby, near Rugby, was the venue of 30 members of the Guild on October 15th to ring on the fine octave (tenor 244 cwt.) housed in the massive tower of St. Editha's Church, a building far too large for the village which it dominates. Tea was partaken of at the Denbigh Arms, followed by the business meeting.

The next quarterly meeting was fixed for Chilvers Coton (January 14th), with a social to follow, and the annual meeting in April at Allesley, Coventry.

Ratification of elections prior to peals was made, the following being formally admitted into the Guild: Mrs. Marshallsay, Bournemouth; Messrs. F. W. Grocott, F. E. Wilshaw, Stoke; H. G. Wayne, Leicester; and G. Garner, Barwell.

A proposal that the Guild should have a badge designed and also the Guild certificates re-designed brought forth a number of speakers in agreement, and the hon. secretary was instructed to proceed with enquiries regarding both and report at the next meeting.

WAREHAM TENOR

Dear Sir,—Report of a peal rung at Wareham on October 15th gives weight of tenor as 20 cwt. If my information is correct this bell was cast by Warners about 40 years ago, and the weight is 16 cwt. 1 qr. 15 lb.

Has the bell been recast or is this another case of inflation?—Yours truly,

SLIDE-BAR.

WINSTER, DERBYS.—On Oct. 28th, 1,800 Grandsire Doubles: H. Huntingdon 1, G. H. Paulson (cond.) 2, D. Scott 3, Miss J. Dunn 4, H. E. Taylor 5. Believed to be the first change ringing done on the bells.

Twice repeated.

First rung at All Saints', Walesby, Lincolnshire, August 28th, 1949, conducted by Jack L. Millhouse.

200 YEARS AFTER

The commemoration of the peal of Grandsire Triples rung at Dartford, Kent, on October 30th, 1749, was followed by a social gathering. The local secretary, Mr. R. A. Jenkins, felt that the Bull was the most likely hostelry the band visited after the original peal. The landlord, who is quite keen on bells, co-operated enthusiastically. The Bull is a very old coaching house on the old Watling Street, with the courtyard and balcony still in existence.

CRITICISM

ONE of the gratifying features about our readers is that their critical faculties are in no sense impaired by their enthusiasm for ringing. Healthy criticism is the life-blood of a journal, and a wise editor lends a sensitive ear to such observations.

Mr. Frank E. Haynes, at the annual dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths, made three interesting points in his criticism of this journal, and it should be clearly understood that 'The Ringing World' is the collective property of every member of an affiliated Guild or Association of the Central Council. Mr. Haynes, however, like every other reader, has to share his proprietorial rights. The balance is held by the Editor, who is subject to the guidance of the Editorial Committee, elected by the Central Council and responsible to them.

The first point was that all Editorials should be written by the Editor. In the past the Editors of 'The Ringing World' have regarded this duty as their exclusive right, and with their wide knowledge of the subject have been in a position to give a lead to the Exercise. While on general grounds the present Editor does not doubt his competence, upon technical matters he recognises that he has many peers in ringing. This was made clear to the Editorial Committee on his appointment, and it was understood that this help would be forthcoming. Advantage has been taken from time to time of appropriate contributions. Another factor has been the pressure on space; this will from next year be remedied with a 'Ringing World' of 16 pages each week. So acute has been pressure in the past that news articles and comments have had to be disguised as editorials, a deception which we know has not escaped readers.

Mr. Haynes' second point was that there should be no anonymous contributors or letter writers. Anonymity has always been a features of the British Press. It does not disturb the Editor, for example, because he does not happen to know who is 'Spectator' of 'The Sunday Times' and scores of other well-known writers. Why should ringers be disturbed over the identity of Corn. R. Stone, or some of our other contributors whose names are well known to the Exercise at large? On the subject of letters to the Editor, we naturally prefer that the writer should sign his own name, and we trust that identities will generally be disclosed. The page of 'Letters to the Editor' invariably ranks high in general interest, and we trust that our correspondents will take a pride in its maintenance, but at the same time avoid the seeds of acrimony. We cannot promise to publish every letter submitted or the whole of its contents.

Lastly, Mr. Haynes was rather unhappy about the tendency 'to pander to youth.' We feel that it is the duty of 'The Ringing World' to give full encouragement to youth. While a true balance in all things has to be maintained, and older generations at times feel that youth's enthusiasm is apt to run to seed, we are conscious that each succeeding generation has a contribution to make. Youth must always remember that prodigies were not confined to one generation. Some of our elder statesmen did great things in their youth and met with the approbation of the Ringing Press of their day. Despite our faults we are pleased to state that 'The Ringing World' is progressing steadily in the matter of circulation and is now more than 50 per cent. ahead of the figure at the time the present Editor was appointed.

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

LATE NEWS

A Non-Conducted Peal of London Surprise was rung at Warburton, Cheshire, last Saturday. It was umpired by Mr. George R. Newton, who sat in the tower the whole of 3 hours and 8 minutes, and he reports that it was well and truly rung and he did not see anything occur that would contravene the laws of silent peal ringing. There was a silent peal of London rung at St. Stephen's, Westminster, on June 5th, 1901. Congratulations to all concerned.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Hanbury parish, Worcs., is fortunate in having in its new Rector and his wife two practical ringing enthusiasts. The Rev. L. J. Birch makes no bones about it that he would not accept a parish where there were no bells, and his choice of Hanbury is all the better because of a modern ring of eight there. A peal of Grandsire Triples was rung as a welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Birch on Nov. 6th.

Will Mr. W. H. Hewett please forward his address to the Editor?

Through a typographical error, the tenor of the Monks Kirby ring should read 24 cwt. and not as appeared on page 546.

Mr. Daniel T. Matkin has now rung Stedman Doubles, Triples, Caters and Cinques both on handbells and tower bells.

Mr. James George, of 118, Rossmore Road, Parkstone, Dorset, is looking forward to celebrating his 96th birthday on Sunday, Nov. 27th. He writes stating he is fairly well.

Mr. W. Bertram Kynaston has now 'circled' Stratton St. Margaret's tower, and Messrs. W. C. Hughes and W. Ayre, Apsley End; Mr. C. A. Bassett, Warbleton; Mr. A. C. Sinfield, Maulden (four times); and Mr. P. A. Corby, Erith.

Two handbell peals in a day were scored by Miss Dorothy R. Fletcher on a week-end visit to her sister. Dorothy, who has not done much handbell ringing recently, showed signs of 'wear and tear' after the Major, and had to be 'plastered' for the Triples.

By taking part in the peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Leicester Cathedral on October 29th, Mr. Peter J. Staniforth has now conducted Cambridge Surprise on six, eight, ten and twelve bells. Also by ringing in the same peal Mr. Brian G. Warwick has joined the select band of those ringing Cambridge Surprise Minor to Maximus.

In connection with the jubilee of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, the peal at Heckington in this issue is of special interest. The first peal for the Guild was rung at this church on November 2nd, 1899, being called by the Master, the Rev. H. L. James. The 50th anniversary peal was called by the present Master on the same bells, the same method and composition being fittingly employed.

Mr. W. Harry Short, who rang a quarter peal at Turramurra, N.S.W., is the son of Mr. William Short, of Birmingham.

Congratulations to the new band at St. Mark's, Oldham, on appearing in our quarter peal column. The band has been taught by Mr. A. F. Taylor, the old one having been completely dispersed by the war.

Miss N. M. Leahy's first peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major was rung at St. Mary's, Portsea, on September 14th last, and not at Portsmouth Cathedral as stated in the last issue of 'The Ringing World.'

Members of the old Midland Counties Association will regret to learn that Mr. Walter White, of Cotgrave, Notts, died on Sunday last. He was one of the stalwarts of the Association in its early days.

The first peal of Deva Surprise has been rung at Norbury (Hazel Grove), Cheshire. It is a combination of Bristol and Superlative without 7th. The method was given to Mr. C. K. Lewis some two or three years before the war by Mr. T. B. Worsley. Deva is the name of the Roman city of Chester.

Mr. Frank J. Matthews, who rang his first peal at Brentford on November 5th, is the third generation of his family to do so, his parents being Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Matthews and his grandparents the late Mr. John D. Matthews and Mr. Frank Smith, all prominent members of the Cumberlands.

312th Anniversary Dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths

Master and Need of Heavy Bell Ringers ..... Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hughes ..... Sixty-one New Members ..... Research into Fabian Stedman's Life in London

THE 312th anniversary dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths, held at Pimm's Restaurant, Bishopsgate, London, on November 5th, was one of the happiest in the long annals of the Society. There were, however, many absent friends owing to the limitation on accommodation.

The Master, Mr. J. A. Waugh, presided, and at the head of the side tables were Messrs. A. A. Hughes (treasurer), T. J. Fox (senior steward), J. F. Smallwood (junior steward), G. W. Cecil (immediate past master), G. E. Fenn and E. C. Fenn.

With the Master at the top table sat Mr. A. B. Peck (hon. secretary), the Rev. T. A. Smiley, Messrs. J. C. Mitchell, E. A. Young, E. H. Lewis, A. W. Jarvis, W. Hibbert, G. H. Cross (Master of the Royal Society of Cumberland Youths), H. Miles, E. P. Duffield, A. R. Macdonald, L. G. Pengelly, F. Sharpe, A. York-Bramble. C. W. Roberts and T. W. White.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Hairs, Messrs. W. F. Judge, E. C. Moore, H. C. Edwards, C. Rouse, C. Glenn, J. T. Dyke, W. Osborn, H. Bishop. F. Shorter, W. Hughes, D. Hughes, R. Wilson, J. Hawkins, W. C. Cook, C. Martin, J. Boreham, J. Townsend, W. B. Kynaston, D. Clift, A. H. Wilkins.

P. E. Clark, A. V. Davis, L. W. Prosser, R. Burton, C. J. Hibbert, E. J. Taylor, C. H. Godfrey, A. Appleton, G. N. Price, A. Butler, A. E. Sweetzner, E. J. Menday, A. D. Cullum, W. H. Pasmore, W. Rumley, M. Seabrook, H. Hodgetts.

J. H. Crampion, P. Woodward, J. Sansom, J. Goodall, A. Boyack, J. G. A. Prior, C. Wardell, S. Holgate, S. Holgate, jun., R. Stannard, B. W. Brighty, H. Goulter, E. J. Newbery, P. Baker, W. Williams, C. Fenn, A. W. Beard, H. Warboys, G. W. Faulkner, R. Fenn.

L. T. Groombridge, F. Groombridge, J. Willis, B. W. Aldridge, A. Laker, W. Claydon, O. Sippetts, R. Overy, F. M. Mitchell, I. Emery, C. E. Norris, T. Blow, H. Jordan, W. T. Elson, E. Exeter, K. Snelling, C. Longhurst, E. Rapley.

G. W. Cook, D. Parsons, P. Chalk, J. Dear, R. T. Newman, E. Buck, R. Webb, K. S. T. Croft, J. Freeman, A. Walker, F. W. Budgen, M. Chilcott, J. Stevenson, J. Chilcott, H. Belcher, R. F. Deal, J. Phillips, A. W. Heath, J. W. Jones, F. E. Haynes.

F. A. Munday, E. P. Austin, E. Armstrong, C. H. Kippin, D. Cooper, R. Abbott, E. Razzell, W. Rawlings, C. W. Munday, E. J. Lindley, D. Layton, J. Ward, R. Lathbury, W. Oatway, R. Davies, D. Wheeler, T. G. Myers, F. E. Collins and others.

During the meal the veterans were honoured. These were J. C. Mitchell, 64 years' membership, R. W. Stannard 59, I. Emery 58, E. Alex. Young 57, W. T. Elson 57, T. Groombridge 56, E. J. Menday 55, A. D. Cullum 54, W. H. Pasmore 54, A. Walker 53, C. Fenn 53, R. Fenn 53, G. N. Price 52, E. G. Fenn 50.

After the loyal toast had been honoured, the Master, in submitting the toast of 'The Church,' said it was very fitting that they should recognise the Society as part of the Church. In 1666 William Stewkley was the Master of the Society and he had the terrifying experience of seeing much of London razed to the ground by the Great Fire. William Stewkley knew old St. Paul's Cathedral and he probably talked with men who could remember when St. Paul's had a steeple 525ft. in height.

MR. J. A. WAUGH,
Master of the College Youths.

NEED OF RESERVES.

As they knew, they had no real resident population in the City of London and had few opportunities for training beginners. What they needed was ringers with a bit of training and a knowledge of heavy bells. About 80 years ago the Society undertook to ring for services on the heavy ring at St. Paul's Cathedral. This band was very much of a company of experts and needed a great force of reserves.

Suppose 100 young men came into the City of London to learn to ring. At the end of the teaching period they probably would have 15 left, and of that number only two or three would be fit to ring at St. Paul's. Peal ringing was needed for a Society such as theirs. Peals were necessary because they provided an invaluable training ground for young ringers, but beyond that peals kept up the reputation of the Society, and it was only by keeping up that reputation that they could retain their members. He gave a special welcome to Roland, Ernest and Caleb Fenn, who had each completed 50 years of service to the Church and to the Society.

PUPIL OF LINDOFF.

The Rev. T. Smiley, priest in charge of St. Clement Danes', responded and said he was elected a member of St. Patrick's Society, Dublin, on June 10th, 1898, at the age of 18. He was taught by Gabriel Lindoff. When he was Vicar of Christ Church, Blackfriars, he had a band of 16 ringers, all keen men who Sunday by Sunday rang those bells for half an hour before the services. Then one night during the war they lost church, bells and all.

He had learnt a lot about bellringers and one thing was 'to mind my own business.' In ringing each had his place and was dependent on each other; team work was essential. Sometimes they rang for the wedding of a King's daughter; sometimes for a peasant's daughter, but it was the same bells and the same joy.

The toast of 'The Ancient Society' was honoured on the call of Mr. J. C. Mitchell, who had been a member of the Society for 64 years and was the oldest 'C.Y.' present. He deputised for Canon G. F. Coleridge and he asked that the greetings of the company should be sent to him.

The previous evening he was reading 'The Church Times' and saw in the Answers to Correspondents 'write for information to the Society of College Youths, c/o St. Paul's Cathedral.' Recently the Society had been 'on the air' and in television in connection with the Whittington celebrations at the church where the Society first started ringing in 1637.

Mr. Mitchell mentioned that he was a past master of the Worshipful Company of Coachbuilders, which was founded in 1667. The previous speaker had mentioned the fraternity of ringing that embraced peers and labourers. He knew something of Freemasonry, but he thought that the College Youths and other societies were very much more of a fraternity than the fraternity of Freemasons.

He started ringing in 1884 with the Cathedral band of St. Albans, was made a member of the Society in 1885 and called his first peal in 1886. A peal of which he was very proud was the ringing 'in hand' of Grandsire Triples (Holt's Original) in 1887. The umpires for that peal were the respective Masters of the Ancient Society and the Cumberlands.

The thing that amazed him about ringing to-day was the ease with which peals were rung. In the days he was talking about Surprise was a terrible thing. He recalled taking part in three touches of Superlative and a touch of London, but he never rang a peal of Surprise. To-day any tyro would ring a Surprise peal and it surprised him how it was done.

NEW MEMBERS.

Mr. A. B. Peck, in reply, said the Society had made 61 new members during the year as follows: Ivor Goulter (Gloucester), E. Chivers (Chilcompton), C. E. Taylor (Bude), A. J. Hicks (Bude), W. J. Vinnicombe (Holsworthy), R. G. Pearce (Holsworthy), H. G. Summers (Allesley), E. J. Rowe (Hornsey), C. G. J. Watts (Tilehurst), A. H. Webb (E. Hagbourne), G. Bishop (W. Hagbourne), P. H. COLLEGE YOUTHS' DINNER—cont.

J. H. Kirby (Wakefield), P. Woodward (Wakefield), J. E. Kirby (Wakefield), D. S. Norris (Chatham).

Apologies for absence from Canon Coleridge, the Provost of Southwark, Dr. Perkins, Messrs. H. V. Ireson, W. H. J. Hooton, H. R. Newton, H. N. Pitstow, James George, L. W. Prosser.

Canon Coleridge sent a telegram, which read: 'Regret unable to come owing to bad fall, 3 a.m.' Mr. James George in his letter stated that he rang the 53 cwt. tenor at Bow to a peal of Treble Bob Maximus the day after he was 72 years of age and was the oldest veteran to ring a handbell peal in the world at the age of 95 years. Mr. H. R. Newton wrote that he was ill with bronchitis.

LOSSES BY DEATH.

Deaths during the year were Messrs. R. Edwards, W. Linter, F. Skevington, Canon Marshall, Messrs. F. A. Smith, E. W. Menday, W. S. Smith, J. Potter, R. L. Patterson, E. B. Hartley, W. Bidnell, R. G. Stone, W. Andrews, W. Yeend, W. R. Melville, W. Taylor, J. Morgan, C. W. Smith, S. H. Godfrey, A. H. Janes, C. A. Button, S. R. Davis, J. C. Booth and E. Hancox. Also Mr. George Williams and Mr. Ernest Pitstow, who, added Mr. Peck, 'were great ringers in my youth.'

The Society had held 13 business meetings and 51 practices. There was a successful outing to Henfield, where they were entertained by Mr. Cruttenden, and to Brasted, where Mr. Lewis entertained. Thirty-one peals were rung during the year by the Society, the finest performance being Cambridge Maximus at Exeter Cathedral. He congratulated the conductor.

Mr. Peck announced at the conclusion of his speech that he had a surprise item. To the delight of the company Mrs. Hughes played on her handbells 'Solvig's Song' and 'Land of Hope and Glory.'

PRESENTATIONS TO MR. AND MRS. HUGHES.

Then Mr. E. H. Lewis announced that he had been asked to 'call a touch.' On Dec. 30th, 1940, when the Coffee Pot was destroyed, he said, their Society was without any headquarters. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes stepped into the breach and asked the Society to meet at the Foundry. As they knew, the Society had since held its monthly meetings there. The Society was tremendously grateful. Not only did they meet there, but Mrs. Hughes provided a fair amount of hospitality in those difficult war years. The Society felt that they could not adequately repay for what she did and they felt that they would like to give Mr. and Mrs. Hughes a small token of their esteem and affection. He might mention that Mrs. Hughes was the daughter of a past Master, the daughter-in-law of a past Master, the wife of a past Master and he hoped she would be the mother of two future Masters. Mr. Lewis then presented her with a wristlet watch.

'I don't know what to say. This is wonderful,' said Mrs. Hughes in acknowledging the gift. There was really very little they could do because their accommodation was limited. It gave them great pleasure to have the Society.

Mr. Lewis followed by presenting Mr. Hughes with a silver tankard 'as some small consolation to the husband.'

Mr. Hughes, in acknowledging the gift, said it had been a real pleasure to be of some little service to the Society. Those who were able to meet there during those grim days looked back with a certain amount of pride. Meetings were often held with bombs going off. He remembered one night when they were taking some refreshments the landlord came in and said, 'Duck, boys.' 'We ducked; it went off; but we were all right. We made a lot of fun of it. I pray God it will never happen again. As long as the Society has not a home of its own you will be welcome.'

The toast of 'Kindred Societies' was proposed by Mr. Hughes, who said they had only to look through the columns of 'The Ringing World' to see the fine work they were doing. Why did the representatives of those societies travel such long distances to be present that evening—from South Wales and Devon to the North of England? One reason was the wonderful fellowship that existed between ringers all over the country and the other was to do honour to the Ancient Society, which was recently described in 'the City Press' as the M.C.C. of ringing.

Mr. Albert Walker, Master of the St. Martin's Guild, replied. He said his membership dated from 1896. He congratulated the College Youths on encouraging young ringers. At Birmingham they had three rings of 12, and last Tuesday there were 12 youngsters at St. Martin's practice, four of whom rang their first course of Grandsire Cinques.

FABIAN STEDMAN.

Mr. J. Frank Smallwood proposed the toast of 'The Visitors,' commenting that he had something in common with Fabian Stedman, who started life as a printer before coming to London and going to the Customs and Excise.

Mr. Rupert C. Jarvis, F.S.A., whose name was coupled with the toast, said he had been searching the records of Customs and Excise for particulars of Fabian Stedman. They knew that in 1677 he was still living at Cambridge and that he removed to London later and became Master of the College Youths in 1682. A Fabian Stedman was buried in the Church of St. Andrew Undershaft in 1713, and, according to this man's will at Somerset House, he left three legacies to men who were serving in the Excise. It had been said in Mr. Trollope's book that Fabian Stedman served under John Cooke in the audit of the Excise.

'I have looked through a number of records of that time. The auditor of the Excise was Sir Basil Dixwood. Mr. John Cooke was not in the Excise. After a great deal of research we found that John Cooke was secretary to the Secretary of State, and it was possible that Stedman served in that department under him. I have not given up the question.'

'The Press' was proposed by Mr. F. E. Haynes, who in a reference to 'The Ringing World' deplored the presence of anonymous letters and articles in the journal. He also felt that the leading article should be penned by the Editor. Mr. Haynes also appealed to the Editor not to give too much stress to youth.

Mr. T. W. White replied to the points raised. He said the circulation of 'The Ringing World' had increased by 50 per cent. under his editorship and they had had more than 200 new subscribers since the York Council meeting. He took no credit for it; it was in his opinion a reflection on the greater interest in ringing. Many of the new readers knew little of the great tradition of the past and it was the duty of their Society and 'The Ringing World' to educate them.

The concluding toast was to the fragrant memory of the Masters of 100, 200 and 300 years ago. Mr. E. H. Lewis, who deputised for Mr. E. Alex. Young, said they had had a letter from Mr. Turner, who had searched Mr. Trollope's papers for information. The Master in 1649 was Edmund Day, and unfortunately they knew practically nothing about him. The Master in 1749 was William Oram. He was elected a member in 1734 and seemed to be a friend of John Cundell, who was Master in 1753, for he subscribed for four copies of the broadsheet which Cundell brought out of Holt's compositions. John Merrin, who was Master in 1849, took part in 19 peals for the Society from 1825 to 1836.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

After a lapse of 19 years, members of the Marlborough Branch met at Great Bedwyn on October 22nd.

These six heavy bells did not prove easy to handle; they were not only bad going, but several were found to be odd-struck as well. At the business meeting it was decided for convenience to hold the annual meeting in November instead of January as formerly.

Kent County Association

CANTERBURY DISTRICT.

An enjoyable afternoon and evening was spent by the members of the Canterbury District at Wickhambreaux on November 5th. The meeting was specially arranged to coincide with the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley White.

Ringing in the afternoon was followed by a service in the church, conducted by the Rector, the Rev. B. B. Bell. Service was followed by a splendid tea in the Parish Room, the members being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. White. The highlight of the tea was a three-tier cake made and iced by Mrs. White from sugar saved out of their rations and South African fruit. A press photo was taken of the cake being cut, and its size may be imagined by the fact that about 140 people, ringers and local residents, failed to finish the bottom tier.

As a result of a collective subscription made throughout the district, Mrs. H. R. French was able to present the couple with a handsome cheque. In doing this she wished them well and hoped they would all be present at the golden wedding day.

Two practising members and one non-resident, as well as two honorary members, were elected. Thanks were expressed to all, especially the hosts for the day.

It being Gunpowder Day, the social that followed contained a few fireworks, not all of them exploded by the younger element, 84-year-old Mr. A. H. Sayer, a ringer at Canterbury, surpassing himself in the games and giving a good imitation of Norman Evans' 'Over the garden wall,' and being the brush salesman trying to sell a broom to a not too helpful housewife.

TONBRIDGE DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the district was held at Tonbridge on October 1st, and towers were well represented. The service was conducted by the Vicar of Tonbridge.

At the business meeting the retiring district representatives, Miss D. Colgate and Mr. E. J. Ladd, were re-elected. After some good-humoured banter, the election of Ringing Master was determined by a show of hands, the two candidates being Mr. B. W. Pankhurst (the retiring Master) and Mr. R. Collins. The latter was elected. Mr. R. A. Whitehead was re-elected secretary. Among other business it was decided to proceed with the negotiations with the Ashford District for the transfer of Benenden to that district.

HANDBELL MUSIC

Dear Sir,—Could you tell me if it is possible to obtain published sheets of music for handbells, either songs, short musical pieces or hymns?

If it is possible to obtain them, how and where should I apply for them? — Yours sincerely,

C. WALTON.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE GILMORTON INCIDENT

Dear Sir,—In your issue of November 4th, an anonymous correspondent writes concerning the attempt for 17,152 Bristol at Gilmorton, 'Is it not high time we had an explanation in our columns as to why the record attempt was not made on that day?'

As Rector of Gilmorton and the person responsible for the cancellation, may I place the facts before you?

I was not aware, until after the notice appeared in your paper, that this peal was to be anything other than the usual three-hour peal. Our head ringer mentioned it to me in the ordinary way in the first place. He was not aware of the exceptional length of the peal. Apparently full details were to be sent to him, but he did not receive them.

In these circumstances I felt compelled to cancel the peal, and I sent at once a full explanation to Mr. Whitehead saying it was essential to know beforehand full details of such a peal, and if that condition were fulfilled and plenty of notice beforehand given, I hoped they would be able to make the attempt later. Permission had also been given for another peal that week, and in fairness to all concerned that was also cancelled. I would strongly urge that for any peal likely to exceed the usual three hours' ringing that in addition to any approach which may be made to the head ringer, the organiser should make personal contact with the incumbent. This would prevent any misunderstandings.

I wish to do all I can to encourage ringing in the Leicester Diocesan Guild and hope this explanation will allay any misgivings about the matter.

C. G. RICHARDSON,
Rector of Gilmorton.

Dear Sir,—It is with reluctance that I write again to 'The Ringing World,' as I do not agree with cross correspondence, but I feel I must correct 'One of the Merry Men' whose letter appears in last week's 'Ringing World.'

In my original letter I pointed out that other people had claims to be Leicester's most brilliant young ringer and I did not dispute Alan Cattell's achievements at all. There is no doubt that he has scored a fine list of peals and I have every admiration for the work he is doing to train a band to ring at All Saints', Leicester. Good luck to them in their effort to augment their six bells to eight.

'One of the Merry Men' would like to know why the 17,152 changes of Bristol was not possible at Gilmorton. This church has a Rector who is keen on bells and readily gave permission for a peal attempt. He was not told, however, how long it would take, and when someone pointed out to him that the bells would be ringing for over ten hours he quite rightly (in my opinion) refused permission. If a band wish to ring all that time, why not go to Loughborough Bell Foundry, where the bells annoy nobody outside?—Yours faithfully,

BRIAN G. WARWICK.

Leicester Cathedral.

Note.—This correspondence must now close. —Editor.

BEATING TIME

Dear Sir,—I have been asked by a gentleman—very interested in the ringing of the bells—if it was the conductor's duty to beat time during the ringing. I said I would inquire. Would you be able to supply this information? —Yours truly, G. NOICE.

Winchester.

Note.—There is more behind this simple question than would appear at first reading. The conductor is in charge when the bells are rung and it is his duty to pay attention not only to the accuracy of the method rung, but also the beat or striking. More attention to 'the beat' would result in a great improvement in our ringing.—Editor.

LEEDS TENOR ACCIDENT

Dear Sir,—Referring to Mr. Overy's letter in last week's issue, it has been our practice to fit a castle nut with split pin to our clapper joint pins for the past 50 or 60 years, and this type of nut was provided to the tenor clapper at Leeds. This clapper had been removed locally and one can only assume that the split pin was not put in position when the clapper was replaced in the bell.

Will Mr. Overy kindly give the name of the church which he instances as possessing a ring of bells recently rehung where the method he describes is being used for preventing nuts from working loose, or the name of the firm of bellhangers responsible for this? — Yours faithfully, JOHN TAYLOR AND CO.

Loughborough.

BELL FOUNDERS NOT TO BLAME

Dear Sir,—The clapper pin had a castle nut and split pin. The accident arose through disregard of the bellhangers' instructions, so that the fixing of responsibility for the mishap is purely the domestic affair of Leeds Parish Church.

The bellhangers are accordingly exonerated from all liability and Mr. Overy's implications are, therefore, entirely without foundation.

A falling or breaking clapper is not a rare occurrence. It can and does happen to all bellhangers, but in this particular instance there is an element of real bad luck attached to the incident. The size of Leeds bells necessitated a tight job so far as space is concerned and the bells are cluttered up with every kind of encumbrance—clock hammers, carillon hammers and Ellacombe hammers, 45 hammers in all. It has now been established beyond all reasonable doubt that the heavy counterbalanced clapper became wedged against the Ellacombe hammer directly in the path of the bell, which struck the clapper with full force on the downward swing from backstroke, and was stopped dead.

The generally accepted theory is that the force of a swinging bell is ten times its dead weight, and if this is correct the bell was subjected to a shock of over 20 tons, which no headstock could be expected to withstand.

The many admirers of this grand bell will be glad to learn that she has since been raised and has been found to be unscathed.—Yours, etc., R. H. DOVE.

BELL ROPE MAINTENANCE

Dear Sir,—I fully agree with your leading article of November 4th.

When in the West Country in 1945 I suggested that we subscribe 1s. per head to the Bell Maintenance Fund of the church where a peal was rung or attempted. This was agreed to and we received letters of grateful thanks from the incumbents.

In Lincolnshire and Nottinghamshire I have also put forward this proposition, and it has now been made a rule at some of the churches visited.

At Heydour, a scattered country parish, it is difficult to maintain a band for service ringing, and the ropes have been worn far more by peals and attempts than by ringing for the church services.

The associations should, I think, sponsor this matter of upkeep. In my opinion, no ringer should object to a fee of 1s. for the privilege of the use of bells for a peal or attempt. After all, the church authorities place at our disposal, gratis, valuable instruments of music which, with their fittings, require care and maintenance, towards which peal ringers should contribute.—Yours faithfully,

C. GLENN.

Nottingham.

Conductor's iewpoint

Dear Sir,—As conductor of the peal of Yorkshire Surprise Royal at Southampton, which appears to have raised a 'mare's nest' over the claim that it was C. H. Kippin's first in that method, he definitely said at the time that it was his first of Yorkshire Royal, hence the appropriate footnote. He apparently does not share the views of other ringers that ringing the treble to a peal always constitutes having 'rung a peal in the method.' No doubt C.H.K. was in a facetious mood when he mentioned that I considered he had not yet learned the method. I leave it to my old friends, W. H. Hewett and R. H. Bullen, to conjure up this one.—Yours truly, F. W. ROGERS.

Portsmouth.

FALLACIES

Dear Sir,—According to the old traditions and recent correspondence I am expected to believe that:—

(a) 5,040 changes on five bells is recognised as a peal because it is false 41 times.

(b) A peal of the same method on nine bells is not recognised because the number of bells is odd.

(c) A person has rung a peal of Yorkshire Royal by ringing the treble, although he had no idea of the method.

(d) A band has rung April Day because the conductor called 6ths place bob to Cambridge, although none of the band knew April Day.

When I believe these fallacies, I am quite prepared to believe that, if I take a girl out for the evening, I've married her! — Yours sincerely, CHARLES H. KIPPIN.

Southampton.

BELLS—THE PARSON'S RIGHT

Dear Sir,—Without wishing to enter into the Bulwell peal dispute, might I state as one who has been confronted with more than one dispute of a similar character, that a principle is involved which Mr. Jennison seems to have overlooked. Neither the Church Councils Powers Measure nor any other ecclesiastical law contains any clause which confers powers upon any company of ringers as to who should ring the bells.

The belfry is the minister's freehold, and his is the right and power to direct who shall ring the bells. just as he has the same power over the organ, to direct how that shall be played. Is any good done by 'strikes,' personal prejudice or ringers trying to set themselves up above the clergy? Let us keep all trade unionist tactics out of ringing, unless we want to bankrupt it. P. AMOS.

Northampton.

STEDMAN CATERS YOUTH BAND

Dear Sir,—I read with much pleasure the report of a peal of Stedman Caters rung at Beddington by a band all of whom are under 21 years of age, and as one of the band who rang the Youths' peal at the same tower on October 18th, 1924, may I offer my heartiest congratulations to the band on their recent performance. I have been outside the tower on a previous occasion when they have been ringing and can vouch for the quality they produce. I hope this band may enjoy many more peals together.

But now, sir, why was this report so late in appearing in the peal columns and why did it not contain the ages of these young people? To my mind the report is incomplete.

The ages of our band were as follows: 16, 20, 20, 18, 19, 18, 19, 18, 19, 18, total 185, average age 18½ years, which seems pretty much the same as theirs. Your Belfry Gossip informant must have, himself, been misinformed.

This does not, of course, detract anything from the recent peal, and I hope I may be forgiven for trying to put things right. — Yours faithfully, FRANK E. DARBY.

Croydon, Surrey.

Debunking the Disgruntled

Dear Sir,—I fully endorse the opinion expressed in the concluding paragraph of your leader of October 28th. Had there never been peal ringers there would now be no Central Council, no Guilds or Associations, no 'Ringing World,' books of instruction, collections of methods and compositions, but few ringers and fewer bells.

Our 54 guilds and associations are computed to have 40,000 members. There are probably 6,000 towers within the Exercise. Perhaps 5,000 living ringers have rung peals. Probably 800 are to-day regular peal ringers. Therefore, 35,000 either do not wish or have not the ability to ring peals. But to say the 35,000 teach all the ringers and that they only attend services is grossly untrue. If proportionate figures were possible I have no doubt the result would be startlingly in favour of the peal ringers. The fact is 50 per cent. of the 35,000 do not attend services, ring only from personal motives to preserve their halo of religion amongst their immediate neighbours, think anything will do for Sunday so long as they only do the job. The majority lack zeal in the art.

Bigotry is the bane of the Christian Church. Too many have taken unto themselves the right to stand as sentinels at the House of God to exclude those of whom they do not approve. By what right does 'Traveller' exclude an obviously desirable and probably Christian man from admission to the Exercise?

The 6,000 rings of bells have at some time or other cost probably £3,000,000. Only a small part of this came from regular churchgoers. All sorts of people, with no interest in the church whatever, subscribe to bells because they like them. Even staunch Nonconformists have been known voluntarily to defray the whole cost of a renovation. The church takes their money with alacrity, yet if they do not go to church 'Traveller' would deny them permission to learn to ring.

Bells, although installed in churches and primarily for church use, have also secular uses: they belong actually to the whole community. Those who pay have a right to enjoy. I have myself, with full permission of my Rector, taught boys to ring, who rang regularly for church services and then went along to their chapel.

Few ringers attain peal standard in their own towers. Often progress is deliberately debarred by one or more of their own company. Naturally, the zealous go where they can progress. Towers do not rely on an influx of ready-made ringers, they help the enthusiast. Would 'Traveller' have them turned away?

It seems to me that the successful ringer, like the successful detective, finds the most obstruction within his own ranks. A peal is not an incentive; it is an achievement, which only the incompetent deride. Achievement surely is to be desired. 'Crack band' is the favourite sneer of the disgruntled or incapable. There is no such thing, although some folk think we are all 'cracked.'

He says, 'I have yet to hear of a church whose congregation suffers because the bells are not rung.' Neither would they if there was no organ, no choir, no parson, or even no building, were they true Christians. Most folk prefer good music, good singing, an earnest parson, a beautiful building, good bells and good ringing, otherwise why spend money on the church?

An opinion from one you do not know never has the same value as one from one you know is competent to speak. I have no doubt 'Traveller' is himself a 'pretty good chap.' If I knew he walked two miles each way, twice each Sunday, hail, rain, snow or blow, to ring rounds on six; or travelled long distances regularly to assist learners at practice, as I, a peal ringer, regularly do, I should say he was indeed a 'pretty good chap.'

W. BOTTRILL.

North Stafford Association

A PROGRESSIVE YEAR.

A progressive year was reported at the annual committee meeting of the North Staffordshire Association, held at Bucknall on November 5th.

Mr. W. Carnwell (hon. secretary), in his report, stated that 12 meetings had been held during the year, all of which were well attended, the average being 42 per meeting. Six resident ringing members and seven non-resident life members had been elected. Two new towers, Broughton and Swynnerton, had expressed a wish to join the Association and they extended to them a hearty welcome.

Peal ringers had been very active, a total of 26 having been rung. These included Superlative, Yorkshire and Staffordshire Surprise Major, the first time these peals having been rung by resident bands in the North Staffs Association. They congratulated C. H. Page, of Stoke, upon attaining his 200th peal and 150th for the Association. This was a record that had not been achieved before by any member of the Association.

The conducting had been shared by the following ringers: F. W. Grocott 8, N. R. Holland 6, W. Carnwell 3, A. W. Hall 2, C. H. Page 2, R. S. Anderson, H. Howell, A. Peake, A. Pritchard and W. P. Whitehead one each.

The statement of accounts showed a credit balance of £67 11s. 4d. The meeting decided to increase the annual subscription from 2s. to 2s. 6d.

Officers elected for 1950 were as follows: Chairman, Mr. R. S. Anderson; hon. secretary, Mr. W. Carnwell; assistant hon. secretary, Mr. W. Edwards; treasurer, Mr. E. Steele; auditor, Mr. A. W. Hull; Ringing Master, 10 and eight-bell towers, Mr. F. E. Wilshaw; six-bell towers, Mr. W. Hazeldene.

Meetings approved for 1950 were Draycott, Audley, Biddulph, Norton, Leek, Marchington, Stone, Brown Edge, Uttoxeter, Hanley, Bucknall and Stoke.

At the conclusion of the meeting the chairman thanked the hon. secretary and assistant hon. secretary for their work during the past year.

ART NOT FORGOTTEN AFTER 38 YEARS

Staveley, Derbyshire, ringers have had in their midst for the past few weeks Mr. John Worthington, on a visit from Witt, Illinois, U.S.A.

An old Staveley ringer, Mr. Worthington rang his first peal at the age of 16 in 1894 and his last and 15th in September, 1912, a few weeks before leaving England to live in the States.

This summer, after 38 years abroad, he returned for his first holiday in England, arriving at Liverpool on Saturday, August 20th. The next morning he was ringing the treble at Staveley confidently to Plain and Treble Bob Major, and has since been a regular service ringer in his 'home' town.

In spite of his long break in ringing, Mr. Worthington's bell control and ropesight appeared to equal many present-day ringers.

He sailed for the States on November 10th, but before leaving on November 2nd rang the treble to 1,344 Plain Bob Major as a farewell quarter. The band was J. Worthington 1, L. G. Palmer 2, W. Dickinson 3, W. Allwood 4, G. C. Briggs (cond.) 5, J. Saxton 6, A. White 7, A. B. Cooper 8.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the Society was held at St. George-the-Martyr, Southwark, on Oct. 29th, following a service conducted by the Rector. Ringing in the afternoon and evening ranged from Grandsire Triples to Cambridge and Superlative.

The following officers were elected for the session 1949-50: President, Dr. J. C. E. Simpson; Master, Mr. D. N. Layton; secretary, Mr. V. J. Benning.

Some Cornish Items

Messrs. John Taylor and Co. have recently collected seven bells from Cornwall, three from Paul, near Penzance, and four from Stithians; they are to return twelve bells. Both towers are to have a ring of six hung with completely new frames and fittings. At Stithians the bells should be in capable hands, for both Mr. R. G. Clemens (secretary, Truro Branch) and Mr. H. C. Spencer (late of Birmingham) are farming in this parish.

Early next year Messrs. Taylor are to remove the ring of eight indifferent bells at St. Columb Major; some are to be recast and the whole rehung in a modern frame with new fittings. Although St. Columb is a stronghold of 'stoney' and prize ringing has been indulged in, the treasurer of the Bells Fund and one of the churchwardens is Mr. S. J. Robinson, who has recently rung his first peal.

The five bells at Sennen, in which parish is the Lands End, are to be restored, and it is hoped augmented to six. The Penwith Deanery Magazine for November says, '. . . . we must, of course, take our turn in the queue . . . . the bell founders have all their work cut out for the next two years or more. It seems disappointing.'

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Although in Devon change ringing towers are widely scattered, enthusiasm is by no means lacking. In addition to the branch members, the quarterly meeting held at Bradninch on October 22nd was attended by visitors from the Bath and Wells Association and by Guild members from Exeter (including two from the university), Highweek, Combe Martin and Chittlehampton. Over 40 sat down to tea.

The 'go' of Bradninch bells has recently been described in 'The Ringing World' by a visiting band from 'up about' as leaving much to be desired, but it may well be argued that in these days of standardisation it is refreshing to find a ring of bells with character and individuality, the ringing of each of which, whilst not calling for any undue physical effort, does require a certain amount of skill. Some of the ringing at the meeting was good enough to earn the praise of the local call-change band, who had the previous day rung to welcome Princess Elizabeth.

The branch annual meeting will be held at Tiverton on January 7th, 1950.

AUSTRALIAN NEWS

Mr. F. A. Bennett, of 1, Marne Street, South Yarra, Melbourne, writes that the annual meeting of the St. Paul's Cathedral (Melbourne) Society of Bellringers was held on August 17th, when the following office bearers were elected: Captain, J. W. Spencer; vice-captain, W. Ford; secretary, F. A. Bennett.

The death was reported of Mr. A. A. Savage, who was a ringer at St. Paul's Cathedral for 20 years, and who will be remembered by those ringers who visited Australia for the Melbourne Centenary in 1934. An attempt was made to ring a quarter peal half-muffled in his memory on August 24th. This attempt failed, but a few short touches were rung.

Ringers leaving England to settle in Australia will be very welcome at St. Paul's Cathedral, and are invited to write to Mr. Bennett.

WICKHAMBREAUX, KENT.—On Nov. 6th, 1,260 Minor (Kent and Plain Bob): F. Ellen 1, J. Walter 2, S. G. White (cond.) 3, J. F. Laker 4, E. Wood 5, S. Walter 6. Rung on the conductor's 25th wedding anniversary. A welcome to J. F. Laker, a former member, who is home for a short holiday after 27 years' absence in U.S.A.

JEALOUSY

Love is stronger than death
And jealousy more cruel than the grave.

ADDRESSING a ringers' meeting some years ago, the Vicar of Ringmer, Sussex, in the words of 'The Ringing World' of the time, 'took the opportunity of uttering a word of warning against the intrusion into the belfry of the ogre which he described as "Old Green Eye." Such a warning is not out of place. Jealousy is to be found in the ranks of ringers no less than among other sections of the community, for ringers are only human.'

This advice might well be taken to heart by ringers in general. Many readers will have perused with regret the recent correspondence between representatives of two bands in the Midlands, and will perhaps have reflected how strange it is, considering the pacific nature of ringing and its associations with the Church, that such great passions can be aroused in its devotees, although those with experience of other sides of Church life will know this is by no means confined to ringers alone. Nevertheless, there are many stories of how, for example, the ringers from one tower of this or that town will not walk on the same pavement as those from a neighbouring church and, though in after years it is possible to look back and realise how futile such behaviour is, much bitterness can be caused at the time and much harm done to the ringers themselves.

Whatever the causes, real or imaginary, of the present differences in the Leicester Diocesan Guild, many will feel that it is mostly likely due to the inability of two very gifted conductors to work in harmony. The example of William Pye's band can be quoted to show that, even though it regularly contained not two but three or four conductors, little if any less capable than himself, no difficulties arose because all worked together for the common good.

The younger members of the Leicester Guild, instead of disputing amongst themselves which of them has achieved the most, would do well to keep that example before them. It is pleasant to know that one has, say, rung more peals in a given time than anyone else, or that a greater proportion of them have been Surprise peals—not that their value is thus in any way enhanced—but these young men should also remember that their records have greater merit when they result more from their own efforts than from the exceptional ability of well-known conductors. In ten years' time others will have superseded them as the hopes of the future, just as they have taken the place of others.

'It would be a thousand pities,' said 'The Ringing World' not long before the recent war, 'if a canker were to develop in the very district which is richer in the promise of youth than almost any other district in any Association in England, and were to lead to decay.' The Leicester Diocesan Guild can fairly claim to-day to possess just such an abundance of youthful talent which, let us hope, will meet with no such obstacle to its development as befell those to whom 'The Ringing World' referred, who sacrificed at the very least what should have been their most carefree and formative years. Let the young men of to-day, therefore, make the most of their opportunities and not fritter them away with unnecessary squabbling.

LOUGHBOROUGH

The LEADING BELL FOUNDERS

'THE RINGING WORLD'

The Official Journal of the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers

EDITORIAL OFFICE: c/o Woodbridge Press, Ltd., Guildford, Surrey.

EDITORIAL COMMITTEE:
EDWIN H. LEWIS, M.A. (President of Council).
GEORGE W. FLETCHER (Hon. Secretary of Council), The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.
A. A. HUGHES, J.P. (Hon. Treasurer), 34, Whitechapel Road, E.1.
MRS. E. K. FLETCHER.
EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

STOP PRESS.

Canon G. F. Coleridge, former president of the Central Council and former Master of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, died on Tuesday, aged 92. The funeral is at Crowthorne, Berks, on Friday at 2.30 p.m. No flowers or mourning.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Cecil W. Pipe has rung his 250th peal. 'Not being a great peal snatcher,' he writes, 'it has taken me 30 years to reach this modest total.' It was the 40th peal he had rung with his son, George.

Mr. Stephen Ll. Parry, at Ashton-under-Lyne on November 12th, completed Kent from Minor to Maximus.

A contract for a ring of ten, tenor 21 cwt., has been placed with Messrs. Mears and Stainbank for British Columbia.

An 80th birthday compliment was paid at Irthlingborough to Mr. Anderson Y. Tyler, who has been towerkeeper here for over 50 years and a ringer at St. Peter's for 56 years.

Mr. P. W. Cave, hon. secretary of the Liverpool Branch of the Lancashire Association, will be resigning his office next month on account of the transfer of his office to London.

The peal at Lullington, Derbyshire, was the 50th peal together by William H. Curson and Josepn W. Cotton, whose first together was also at Lullington on November 19th, 1927.

Mr. N. V. Andrews, of Andover, who has rung over 100 peals on six, eight, ten and twelve bells, has now rung his first quarter of Grandsire Doubles.

Friends of Mr. Harrison Smith, of Wickhambreaux, Canterbury, will be sorry to hear of the death of his wife on November 12th after almost 60 years of happy married life.

Mr. James F. Laker, through the medium of 'The Ringing World,' thanks all those good ringers who made it possible for him to do 'a little ringing' while on a short visit to the 'old country.'

The conductor of the peal of Rutland Surprise at Biddenham, Kent, on November 5th, writes correcting the time of the peal to 3 hours and 4 minutes, and not 2 hours 48 minutes as stated.

We regret to learn that Preb. E. V. Cox, president of the Devonshire Guild of Ringers, has had to undergo an operation in Ottery St. Mary Hospital. He will have the good wishes of his many ringing friends for a rapid and complete recovery.

Mr. W. E. Clarke has completed 'the circle' of Boston, Lincs, tower.

A quarter of Stedman Cinques was lost in the last three sixes at St. Laurence's, Reading, on November 13th. It was being rung in honour of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. R. Burton, who are both service ringers. Mr. R. Burton was the conductor.

We have received a progress report from Mapledurham, Oxon, where Mr. R. Hunt had trained a band of learners for service ringing, starting last Easter. The company have now scored their first quarter.

'The Northampton Chronicle and Echo' has recently given a considerable amount of its space to a number of articles upon bells written by 'Treble Bob,' who is a well-known Northampton ringer. 'The Peterborough Diocesan Leaflet' and several deanery and parish magazines contain similar articles.

The peal at St. John's, Leicester, was specially arranged as near Armistice Day as possible. The composition, now rung for the first time, had 89, 96, 68 and 978 'at hand' in every course. Prior to the peal a recording was made of the muffled bells, and will shortly be issued on gramophone records.

A long break in peal ringing by Messrs. East and Penfold was broken when both scored a peal at Chigwell Row, Essex. Mr. T. East rang his last peal on Easter Monday, 1922, when he rang two — at Blewbury and Dorchester Abbey, while Mr. Penfold's last peal was rung at Bethnal Green in 1925. It is hoped another successful run has begun.

Change Ringing in Arkansas

The University of Arkansas, at Fayetteville, has two sets of electronic bells, one English and one Flemish, given by the alumni as a memorial for the members lost in the two world wars. The workings of the electronic bells, as I understand them, are that hammers, actuated from a keyboard like an organ console in the control room, strike rods or strips of bell metal, tuned to the desired pitch, and the sounds thus arising are relayed and broadcast electrically from a speaker, situated, in our case, in the tower of University Hall.

This device is, of course, much cheaper than a ring of real bells; it can be operated from a keyboard by a single man, and it does not require a tower to house the bells. I was put off by the word 'electronic,' but when I heard them I had to confess that they sounded exactly like real bells. Furthermore, each bell is absolutely on pitch, and the whole ring has throughout a uniform pattern of harmonics. The English bells are tuned to the chromatic scale and have a range of something over two octaves.

Concerts of familiar hymns are played on the Flemish bells on Sunday afternoons. The English bells are controlled by a clockwork mechanism so as to strike the Westminster chimes through the day and at six o'clock to end the day with a hymn such as 'Lead, Kindly Light' or 'Onward, Christian Soldiers,' played alla marcia funebre from a roll like that of a player-piano. The volume of the Flemish bells can be controlled; that of the English bells cannot, and with characteristic American exuberance the men who installed the system set the English bells at the highest possible volume, so that they can be heard within a radius of some ten miles.

When I suggested that an attempt be made to ring changes on the bells I received the counter-suggestion that the attempt be made on the Flemish bells, set at a very low volume. To ring English changes on Flemish bells seemed little short of sacrilege to me, and I replied that I did not want to be held responsible if the Empire should topple, the Government fall, the pound be devalued, and Prince Charles come down with the measles. Grudging permission was accordingly given that I might try the experiment on the English bells on August 15th, the anniversary of VJ-Day, a fitting occasion for bellringing.

In preparation I pricked a plain course of Bob Doubles and practised them in the ringing room (the mechanism has a switch whereby the sound can be diverted from the speaker in the tower and heard at greatly reduced volume only in the ringing room). I found that I could not ring smoothly and evenly from a row of numbers because I had not that sort of co-ordination of hand and eye. I copied the course in musical notation, using Middle C as the tenor, and found that I could ring smoothly from notes.

At noon on August 15th I rang a plain course of Bob Doubles. I was immensely gratified to know that at the sound of it an Englishwoman teaching over here during the summer term burst into tears in the Library Quadrangle. Thus encouraged, a few days later I rang four six-scores of Bob Doubles, choosing the hour of six in the afternoon as the one when the ringing would be least likely to disturb the university community.

I rang changes for the third time at the end of August, ringing, in addition to the Bob Doubles I had previously worked out, two touches of Grandsire Doubles. This was a clear, still evening, and people living in the vicinity of the tower protested that their houses were being shaken to pieces by the loud clamour.

Until a technician to diminish the volume of the bells can be found, further ringing has been postponed. It is satisfying, at any rate, to know that changes have been rung for the first time in Arkansas.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

In accordance with the decision taken at the Central Council meeting at York, the retail price of 'The Ringing World' from January 6th, 1950, will be 4d. a copy.

The journal will be enlarged to 16 pages weekly and will include a number of special articles and features.

Concessions are to be granted to long-term postal subscribers. The new rates will be £1 per annum, 10s. 6d. for six months, and 5s. 6d. for three months. These should be sent to Mrs. Fletcher, The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.

Guild of Devonshire Ringers

A quarterly meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch was held at Dartington Parish Church on November 12th, when there was a good attendance of members and friends, including the president (Rev. Preb. E. V. Cox).

Some very good touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Minor were rung on this fine ring of six bells during the afternoon, and this was followed by a service in church, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. L. G. Ketchley), who gave an admirable address.

After an excellent tea the business meeting followed with Mr. J. E. Lilley, of Newton Abbot, in the chair.

A letter was produced from Kingsteignton regarding the future use of their bells, and the secretary's reply thereto, and after a discussion it was resolved to leave the matter in the hands of the president.

The election of two members prior to starting for peals was confirmed, whilst three associate members were also elected.

The 1950 programme was adopted as follows: February 4th, annual meeting at All Saints', Babbacombe, Torquay; April 22nd, quarterly meeting at Lustleigh; June 24th, joint meeting with the South-West Branch at South Brent; July 22nd, quarterly meeting at Dean Prior; August 26th, special meeting at Highweek; September 16th, joint meeting with the Exeter Branch at Teignmouth; October 28th, quarterly meeting at Wolborough; November 25th, extra meeting at Brixham. All are subject to the necessary permission being granted.

A query from a member on the ringing of peals and complaints arising therefrom was answered by the president, and it was unanimously resolved that the Rector of Highweek be written and thanked for the use of his bells to the branch on Wednesday evenings.

A welcome was extended to the visiting ringers, and there was ringing at Berry Pomeroy afterwards.

BLEWBURY BELLS AGAIN

The rehanging of Blewbury, Berks, bells by Messrs. R. White and Son, of Appleton, is now completed and a thanksgiving service was held on November 12th.

The church was well filled with ringers and residents, and an inspiring address was given by the Rev. J. S. Amies, Vicar of Dunsden, near Reading.

A tea, attended by 160, followed. Afterwards came an exhibition of handbell ringing by that grand old veteran, Dick White, and his band, which met with great applause.

A return was made to the tower, where ringing ranged from Grandsire to Double Norwich with reports of a good job. Visiting ringers came from Oxford, Abingdon, Beedon, Ilsley, Hagbourne, Harwell, Farnborough (Hants) and Aston.

Sunday service ringing took place on the following day, and the local company was favoured by a visit for evensong by Capt. A. R. Poyntz, Deputy Master.

Method-Structure Lecture

There was an appreciative and representative Hampshire ringers' audience at St. Michael's Parish Hall, Southampton, on November 12th, attending Mr. York-Bramble's lecture on 'Grid Analysis' (The New Look in Method Structure), illustrated with projector slides.

The Vicar, the Rev. H. W. K. Felstead, at the opening, remarked that the material for this work had been derived by its author during many years of research, and that he (the author) had come to feel that the results might well be published to the Exercise. The nature of the subject, however, called for explanatory diagrams rather too costly for present-day publication in pamphlet form, so the author had conceived the idea of putting the material in lecture form with slides made from his drawings. The Vicar thought they were fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing the lecture from the author himself before it was despatched (as he believed it was intended) on offer to the Central Council for preservation and use within the Exercise.

The lecture traced the origin and development of the science of production of changerows, through an analysis of the grid-like structure of the group of rows commonly known as a 'lead'; and showed how a method is completely contained within its plain course; and how the composition devices known as 'calls' (including the Single as a phase-reversing device) may be used to build up other courses for the composition of touches and peals.

There ensued an interval for an enjoyable tea.

Comparative diagrams of grid-patterns of all stages of various well-known methods from 'Original' to 'London' were shown, with the brief formula for producing each method on all appropriate numbers. The remarkable visual effect of grid-pattern comparison showed at once the correctness (or otherwise) of method extension or contraction.

A feature of particular appeal to the practical outlook was the brief instruction for ringing Cambridge on all numbers, given within only two short rules and exceptions.

At the conclusion the Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, Mr. George Pullinger, who presided, in expressing the general appreciation of the lecture, remarked that it had shown there was far more in the subject than might be thought; and that he considered it might well be given, perhaps, before members of the Central Council. He thought, too, that lectures from conductors to ringers would serve a useful purpose.

Proceedings closed with votes of thanks to all concerned and, as they had begun, with more ringing at St. Michael's tower.

PRESENTATION TO MR. G. A. HUGHES

After evensong on November 6th, Mr. George A. Hughes, of St. John's, Stanmore, Middlesex, was presented with a cheque for £22 as a token of appreciation of his service to the church.

Mr. Hughes, who is 73 years of age, has been a ringer at Stanmore for 56 years, during 25 of which he was in charge of the band; he was also a member of the choir for more than fifty years. Recently he retired from the choir, but still attends in the belfry very regularly when the weather is not too inclement. While never a great peal ringer, he was one of that body of faithful service ringers who are the backbone of our art.

When making the presentation, Mr. C. V. Rouse (churchwarden) expressed the thoughts of all present in wishing Mr. Hughes 'many years of happiness and good ringing in the future.'

Before evensong, Mr. Hughes took part in a quarter peal of Plain Bob Major, ringing his favourite bell, the seventh. The remainder of the band were C. Wenban 1, D. Cattell 2, F. Cattell 3, G. Cheshire 4, A. Wenban 5, W. Wenban 6, E. J. Leversuch (conductor) 8.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

AN ANNABLE STORY

Dear Sir, — The great historians sleuthing into the past have done mighty things for bells and change ringing, and their discoveries have been established on a firm basis of fact. There is no positive evidence of the occurrence of the following incident, but truth is often stranger than fiction.

One time in the belfry an egregious learner left his corner and had the enormity to approach Mr. Benjamin Annable with the request, 'Beat me, Daddy, eight to the bar.'

A startled hush descended upon the ringers present and most of them caught their breath. Big Ben's reply is said to have been one of these three:—

(a) 'Sit down, Bud.'

(b) Taking a piece of chalk used for demonstrating the figures of Annable's London and marking a cross in the exact centre of the belfry floor, 'Accelerate, Rabbit — accelerate fiercely in any direction outwards from here.'

(c) Looking furtively round with evident apprehension and making a big effort to pull himself together, 'No, no—I can't do it. Eight to the bar? It's no use asking me. Short-circuit me in one lead if I'll have anything to do with it.'

Now reply (a) might be thought much too soft for the great man, but the learner had probably been sitting in his corner already for quite a time in those days and we have all heard of Chinese torture.

Reply (b) is more in line with tradition, but considerable doubt is thrown upon it. It is believed that Mr. John Holt was standing on the exact centre of the belfry floor auctioning the last few remaining copies of his broadsheet of peals, making it impossible to indicate a point from which all ways would lead quickly and decisively to the exit.

Reply (c) is the most remarkable of all. It would require some very serious consideration to orientate such a set-up. It is well known that Annable was intensely proud of the fact that we, the members of the Exercise at large, are the true, unchallenged originators of swing. Executioners have dabbled in it by way of the gibbet and it would be difficult to say whether the bellringers or the executioners thought of it first, but the latter never thought of adapting it to music.

Annable was also wildly excited at the almost exact similarity between the sound and spelling of 'Bob' and 'Bop.' Eight to the bar is intimately connected with such following consequences as the Medium Bounce, Fairly Bright Boogie and the Off-beat Stomp, all of which are of enough importance to have kindled his eyes brightly with satisfaction, as they must actually have done.

The only reasonable excuse for Big Ben's extraordinary funk is that there were six-bell men in the room, and anything done to increase the prestige of the eight-bell men, as any demonstration of eight to the bar would have, would add to the grievances the six-bell men already had to bear to such an extent that even Ben's iron nerve quailed at the prospect. 'BELLITIS.'

London, N.W.3.

BOBS IN CAMBRIDGE

Dear Sir,—The 'convention' of a 4ths place Bob in Cambridge has over 150 years' tradition behind it. Apparently the originators considered that was the proper place for it. May I point out also that the placing of the Bob at 6ths in Major implies an 8ths place Bob in Royal, and 10ths in Maximus, which to a ringer of these is absurd. Finally, I venture the opinion that Cambridge from Minor to Maximus will continue to be rung with a 4ths place Bob when the composition in question has been consigned to the limbo of forgotten things.—Yours faithfully,

CHARLES J. SEDGLEY.

Ipswich.

WORDSWORTH SURPRISE

Dear Sir,—On page 546 you publish the figures of Wordsworth Surprise and the composition to which the first peal was rung. Corrigan's Collection of Surprise Major Methods gives the following three false courses: 24365, 32465, 43265, for this method, but in the publication only the first of these is given plus four completely different ones. Who is right?

Another point is the composition is said to be that of the late J. A. Trollope. On looking at my records I find that when Kendal Surprise was first rung some years ago the figures of the method were duly published and the composition was given as 'Composed and Conducted by Harold G. Cashmore.' It is exactly the same as the one now produced for Wordsworth! I wonder whose composition it really is?—Sincerely yours, ALAN R. PINK.

Kennington, Oxford.

A 40th ANNIVERSARY

Dear Sir,—On looking through my record of peals I find that Holt's Original peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Christ Church, West Bromwich, on Saturday, November 20th, 1909, in silence and without a conductor. The band was as follows: Joseph Timms treble, Rev. C. Carew Cox 2, Samuel Reeves 3, Rev. E. V. Cox 4, Robert Pickering 5, Alfred Rowley 6, Thomas H. Reeves 7, John C. Adams tenor. Tom Miller and W. H. Godden acted as witnesses in the ringing chamber and checked the ringing from the figures.

I believe the Rev. C. Carew Cox, the Rev. E. V. Cox and myself are all that remain of the band, with Mr. Tom Miller, now in his 92nd year, one of the witnesses.—Yours faithfully, THOMAS H. REEVES.

Sparkhill, Birmingham.

BOLSOVER CLAIM WITHDRAWN

Dear Sir,—I wish to withdraw the claim, made in the footnote to the peal of Forward Major, rung at Bolsover on October 15th, 1949, viz., 'First peal in the method on the bells.'

I also offer my apologies to Mr. Ben Knights and his band for the mistake. Unfortunately the peal book at Bolsover has been lost. — Yours sincerely,

H. T. ROOKE.

Mansfield, Notts.

IN HIS 50th YEAR

Dear Sir,—Mr. Peck's rapid approach to 50 years' membership of the College Youths reminds me that I am nearing entry to the select band. My membership commenced in September, 1900, just seven years after starting ringing. I could have applied in 1893, but I was not qualified on account of still being a schoolboy! All good wishes. — Yours sincerely, WILLIAM SHEPHERD.

Addlestone, Surrey.

SPELDHURST RINGER'S 50 YEARS

Mr. V. N. Still has completed 50 years a ringer at Speldhurst, Kent, Parish Church. Although not a peal ringer, he can be relied upon to steer one of the 'back end' through a touch of any length and is one of the many thousands who attend regularly for service ringing.

To mark the occasion, the local band rang a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples on Nov. 6th as follows: R. Manard 1, E. A. Turley (cond.) 2, Miss E. N. Hyman 3, J. Denton 4, J. Still 5, A. R. Turley 6, V. N. Still 7, W. Hyman 8. First quarter for 3, 5, 6 and 8, and first quarter by a local band for over 12 years.

After ringing Mr. Still was the recipient of a fountain pen from the rest of the band, the gift taking him completely by surprise.

Mitcham Ringers' Service

The ringers' service which was held at Christ Church, Mitcham, on November 13th, was well attended and about 35 ringers took part in the ringing and the service. Ringing commenced at 5.30 p.m., and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Kent Treble Bob Minor and Cambridge Surprise Minor were rung.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. G. S. Johnston, who thanked the local band and those who came along to help with the regular Sunday ringing. He also extended a warm welcome to all the ringers present, especially to those who used to belong to the local band in their younger days and who now ring in the parishes around London where they reside.

The address, which was much appreciated, was given by the Rev. R. Carliss, of St. John's Church, Wimbledon, who said he was guided to the church by the sound of bells, and, having found the church, ascended the steps to find the ringers on the job.

The theme of the address was 'Service to God and our fellow-creatures.'

The lessons were read by two of the ringers, and before the address four members from St. Leonard's Church, Streatham, rang a plain course of Grandsire Triples on handbells.

The Vicar hopes to hold a ringers' service each year during the month of November.

On the Wednesday evening before the ringers' service, the organ (which has recently been installed to replace one destroyed by a bomb) was completely destroyed by fire. The roof of the organ loft was severely damaged and the walls and pews blackened by smoke. The prompt action of the Mitcham and other Fire Brigades, saved the building from further damage. Many willing workers worked hard to make the church clean enough for the Sunday services to be held.

BEVERLEY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

On October 15th the Society held its meeting at All Saints', Market Weighton, 30 members attending. The Vicar, the Rev. Massingberd Munday, conducted the service. Mr. F. Wilkinson, of Barnby Moor, read the lesson and four members rang handbells.

Tea was served in the Londesborough Arms Hotel. At the business meeting the Vicar, organist and local ringers were thanked for accommodating the Society at short notice. Mr. J. W. Kneeshaw replied and thanked the ringers for their contribution to the Bell Restoration Fund.

After the meeting the ringers rang touches of Grandsire and Plain Bob on handbells, which had been requested by the management. These were appreciated and in the conversation that followed it was found that by working in the shadow of the tower the staff had learned quite a lot about bells and ringing and had become competent judges of good and bad striking.

A return was made to the tower and the bells were kept going until 8 p.m.

OBITUARY OF THE WEEK

MR. J. H. BASTOW.

The Lancashire Association has lost one of its old stalwarts by the death on October 26th of Mr. J. H. Bastow, of Middleton, aged 77 years.

He had been a member of the Association for 50 years. For some years he rang at Oldham Parish Church and lived for a time in Mexico. On his return to England he took his former place with the Middleton ringers. Mr. Bastow was a keen peal ringer with a large number of peals to his credit.

The funeral service was at Middleton Parish Church and was conducted by the Rev. G. E. Gordon (Rector). Ringers from Oldham, Rochdale, Friesland and Middleton acted as bearers. Previous to the service the bells were rung fully muffled. He was held in esteem by a wide circle of friends.

MR. T. E. SLATER

The death took place on November 15th of Mr. Theodore E. Slater, of Glemsford, Suffolk, who had been in poor health for some time and been an inmate of St. Mary's Hospital, Bury St. Edmunds. He was the son of the late Samuel Slater, who was quite a figure in his day and a great ringing historian.

Mr. T. E. Slater had rung a number of peals of Minor and Major. He learnt to ring as soon as he could hold a rope and was, like his late father, an historian with a big library of ringing matter to which many present-day writers of ringing books have been pleased to refer.

His ringing career covered well nigh 60 years. His beloved bells at Glemsford are now out of order and it is much regretted that they cannot pay a farewell tribute to one who had done so much to keep them going. A.A.F.

MR. GEORGE TATUM.

The second well-known West Suffolk personality to die during the past week was Mr. George Tatum, of Sudbury, aged 82. He had not been ringing for the past few years.

Mr. Tatum had a number of peals to his credit and was noted for his high standard of ringing and his keen ear. His life was given to the church, 70 years a chorister and 50 years a ringer, and for the past 10 years he was verger of St. Gregory's, Sudbury.

To the writer he had often said that he hoped he would die in his beloved church, and on November 10th, as he was preparing for a funeral, he had a seizure and died where he fell on the chancel steps.

A large congregation gathered at his funeral and during the evening the bells of St. Gregory's were rung muffled as a last tribute.

A. A. F.

MR. WALTER WHITE.

It is with deep regret we report the passing of Mr. Walter White, of Cotgrave, Notts. For over 60 years he was a stalwart in the Nottingham District of the Midland Counties Association, and there are no towers within that area that knew not the name of Walter White and his late brother, William E. White.

Although Cotgrave possesses but six bells, on which the deceased was an expert conductor of many methods, he was also a safe ringer on eight or ten bells, and his passing will leave a serious gap in the ringers of the district.

He had rung some 80 peals for the M.C.A. and the Framland Society on all numbers from five to ten bells, conducting many of them. He was never so happy as when arranging a peal or ringing meeting and entertaining his many friends, and it was only his activities that kept the name of Cotgrave alive in ringing annals.

At his funeral on November 16th, Nottingham and district towers were represented, including Basford and Ratcliffe, with Mr. A. H. Ward, from Derby, and Mr. John Oldham, of Loughborough Bell Foundry. The Vicar of Cotgrave, in a moving address, paid a tribute to Mr. White's sterling qualities as a man, a musician and a bellringer.

A course of Grandsire Triples was rung over the grave by A. H. Ward, Clement Glenn, F. Bradley and W. Nichols, and half-muffled touches were rung on the tower bells. Our sympathy goes out to his two sons and two daughters, and to Mrs. White, whom he so recently married. E. M.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

The Southern District held a very enjoyable meeting at Merstham on November 5th. The bells were available for ringing from 3 p.m. and various methods were rung during the afternoon and evening.

The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. J. W. Poole, and the lessons were read by Mr. D. Kenneth C. Birt, a former Master of the Association.

Tea was by the very kind invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Birt, both of whom were present and at the business meeting which followed. It was announced that the next meeting would be at St. John's, Redhill, on December 10th. The business meeting concluded with an expression of thanks to the Rector and to the organist; a very special 'thank you' was also accorded to both Mr. and Mrs. Birt for their hospitality.

A NEW LANCASHIRE RING

St. Hilda's, Bilsborrow, near Preston, has hitherto had in its fine central tower a bell obtained from a trawler in a ship-breaker's yard, in 1927.

On December 3rd, at 2.30 p.m., the Lord Bishop of Lancaster is to dedicate a ring of eight bells in F, tenor 14 cwt., which has been founded and installed in a steel frame by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The bells have been given by parishioners and friends as a thankoffering and memorial to those who gave their lives in the war, 1939-1945.

CANON G. F. COLERIDGE

There is
One great society alone on earth,
The noble Living and the noble Dead.
—WORDSWORTH.

RINGERS throughout the world will give thanks for the life of George Frederick Coleridge, priest. His vigorous personality and clear mental faculties remained unabated throughout his long life of 92 years. Those who knew him as a young man in his undergraduate days at Oxford, where he was secretary and Master of the University Society, have passed over, but there are hundreds of ringers with us who knew him in the vigour of his years, and thousands who came under his influence when for nine years, from 1921 to 1930, he was the president of the Central Council.

Canon Coleridge was indeed a giant among men. His perfect physique was accompanied by an ever-alert intellect. He loved men, and of those men he loved ringers in particular. No one knew better than he the weaknesses and foibles of the ringing fraternity, and he scolded and chided them for their failures. But above all he was their champion. The rightful place of Church bells in the service of the Church was very dear to his heart. Bells, however, required to be rung properly; there must be nothing slipshod; good striking could only be achieved by constant practice, and the greatest contribution towards this was to be found in the peal.

The Canon enjoyed a peal; the silent camaraderie while ringing save only the voice of the conductor,; the good fellowship afterwards and the joys of a ringing tour. The stories of the Canon and his humour and good fun are legion. How he enjoyed a joke! One of the happiest is told after he had rung a peal on a hot summer's day in his native county of Devonshire. After descending the belfry he received the congratulations of those who were listening. 'I bet you have a wet shirt,' commented one of the party. 'Indeed, I have not,' declared the Canon truthfully. And afterwards, as he told the story, he added, 'I didn't tell them that I took my shirt off!'

In his own diocese of Oxford he was Master of the Diocesan Guild from 1934 to 1946, and was a popular figure, attending meetings, encouraging and exhorting young bands and preaching the need of unity in tower, branch and Guild. For the service of the dedication of bells he was frequently asked to give the address or assist in the ceremony. He, however, made it a steadfast rule that he would not officiate at any such service unless the bells had been paid for. It was one of the many signs of his upright integrity that there should be no debt on anything given to the service of God.

Canon Coleridge was a member of 21 ringing Associations, Guilds or societies. Among them was the Ancient Society of College Youths, which he joined in 1879 and was the oldest living member with 70 years' membership to his credit. Mr. James George, who celebrated his 96th birthday last month, is older in years but not in membership. At the annual dinner he was an ever-welcome speaker, with his vast store of ringing anecdotes ready to entertain the company, and if necessary to point a moral.

It was at Crowthorne, the village he served so faithfully as parish priest for more than 50 years, that his funeral took place last Friday. From those present and the hundreds of friends who would have liked to attend the simple service came a prayer of thankfulness for his life and presence among us for such a long span of years. He has left with ringers the inspiration of his presence, and the art of change ringing will ever regard George Frederick Coleridge as one of the pillars upon which the Temple has been built.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. G. H. Myers has circled St. Andrew's, Plymouth, by ringing the treble to a peal of Bob Royal. Last year Mr. Myers was very unwell, but now at 78 he has returned to peal ringing, and with a remark that he preferred a big bell; no doubt his mind went back some 40 years to when he rang Exeter 11th (then the 9th) to a peal, but he may well be proud that his mantle has fallen on his son Tom, who rang the tenor and called this latest peal, whilst William and Fred were also in the band. Truly a grand ringing family.

Steeplejacks have completed taking down 12ft. from the top of the spire of St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, and ringing has been resumed.

Thanking Mr. Oldfield for his information regarding Oxford and Kent Minor, Mr. E. C. Gobey writes: 'Yes, it takes a bit of calling—about as much as Holt's Original.'

Four Silverton, Devon, ringers, with seven Somerset friends, defied the wind, rain and hail for a ringing outing on November 12th. Ringing took place at Poughill, Washford, Pyne, Shelbridge, East and West Worlington.

By conducting a peal of Stedman Triples 'in hand,' Alan Cattell has set up a record, being the youngest in the Leicester diocese to call a peal in the method from an 'inside' pair.

It was 'Wild Bells' when the Beverley and District Society met at Burstwick on November 12th in the teeth of a gale, and the Vicar (the Rev. R. W. George) concluded his sermon by quoting a few verses from Tennyson's poem. A tree blown across the road necessitated public transport making a detour with considerable delay. The party of 20 members and friends eventually got back to Hull, and, though wet, managed to get transport back to their homes.

Mr. H. R. Pink, who after the war revived the band at Fordington St. George, Dorchester, and started the fund for rehanging the bells, has moved to Swanage. Before leaving Dorchester he was presented with a 'Delight' ringers' record book, prepared by Mr. Will Viggers, in the frontispiece of which was an illuminated address recording his work for the bells of Fordington. His successor as captain is Mr. K. W. Hewitt. The presentation concluded with a service quarter, in which four ringers taught by Mr. Pink participated.

Mr. A. H. Pulling, of Guildford, has rung handbells at the funerals of the three deceased Masters of the Oxford Diocesan Guild—the Rev. F. E. Robinson, the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn and the Rev. G. F. Coleridge.

Darley Dale ringers, who rang a peal at Winster, took with them four of their ropes as on a previous visit the ropes were found to be full of knots. Splices were made as a present to the Winster belfry. The ropes in this tower hang anti-clockwise and there are two full notes between the fourth and fifth bell.

Mr. C. E. Jeffries, of Bedford, directs the attention of the Cheshire band who rang a peal of Glasgow Surprise Major at Frodsham on November 11th to 'The Ringing World,' page 402, August 26th, 1949, recording a similar performance at Willesden on August 11th.

Probably the oldest bellringer in Suffolk, Mr. James Dye, of Grundisburgh, celebrated 65 years of married life on November 25th. Mr. Dye, who is 89, joined the Norwich Diocesan Association in 1879. Mr. and Mrs. Dye were married at Falkenham. Mr. Dye retired from ringing last year. He is also the oldest Cumberland alive, which Society he joined on Nov. 28th, 1879. He called Holt's Original at Helmingham in the 1880's, being the first performance of the peal in Suffolk.

THE PASSING OF THE REV. CANON G. F. COLERIDGE

A Leader of the Exercise

WE regret to record the death on Nov. 22nd of Canon George Frederick Coleridge, M.A., at Crowthorne, Berks, aged 92 years. Canon Coleridge had great hopes of attending the dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths on November 5th, and he had expressed his willingness to propose the toast of the Society. Early that morning he had a bad fall, and this necessitated his taking to his bed.

The news was received with deep regret and the secretary was instructed to express the condolences of the Society and their wishes for his speedy recovery. It was not to be. Change ringing has lost an outstanding personality who was known and beloved in all parts of the country.

Canon Coleridge was born at Cadbury Vicarage, Devon, on November 10th, 1857. His father held this living for more than 50 years and other relatives before him. On one occasion at the College Youths' dinner the Canon Canon read extracts from a diary about 1827 which stated: 'The Rev. Dr. Coleridge read himself in to-day and provided plenty of beer for the ringers.'

He was educated at Ayshford Grammar School and learnt to handle a rope at Cadbury. He started ringing at the age of 17. Canon Coleridge decided to follow in the family tradition and went to Keble College, Oxford, and he took his B.A. degree in 1884.

While in residence as an undergraduate he came under the influence of several noted ringers and he held the office of secretary and later Master of the Oxford University Society. His first peal, Holt's ten-part of Grandsire Triples, rung at Kirtlington on June 14th, 1879, was the first peal in which the working bells were rung by university men. It was conducted by Rev. C. D. P. Davies and among the other ringers were men who were afterwards to be famous in the Exercise, viz., the Rev. F. E. Robinson, H. A. Cockey, W. S. Willett, R. E. Fiske and G. H. Phillott. The same years saw him admitted to the Ancient Society of College Youths, and this started a very long connection. There is no question that Canon Coleridge added lustre to the College Youths and his name was frequently recorded in the Society's peal book. Probably his first week's ringing tour was in Devon in August, 1883. At Sowton he rang a peal of Stedman Triples, conducted by the Rev. F. E. Robinson, and also in the same method at St. Sidwell's, Exeter.

In 1884 Canon Coleridge was ordained a deacon at Oxford and was appointed a curate at Caversham, Reading. In August that year he rang a peal of Stedman Caters at St. Laurence's, Reading, in which J. W. Washbrook and F. E. Dawe participated. This was conducted by the Rev. F. E. Robinson.

Soon after his arrival at Caversham he was appointed secretary of the Reading Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, a post he held for 10 years until his preferment to Crowthorne.

WITH THE CENTRAL COUNCIL.

When the late Sir Arthur P. Heywood, Bart., in 1891, brought about the inaugural meeting of the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers, held at the Inns of Court, London, the Rev. Coleridge was one of the 74 delegates from 33 ringing societies who attended. He had remained a member of the Council without a break. In 1921 he was elected president of the Council and he held this office with distinction for nine years, when he was succeeded by Mr. E. H. Lewis.

In his own diocese of Oxford he did a great task in furthering the work of the Diocesan Guild. From 1923-1947 he was chairman of the Sonning Deanery Branch, and upon the death of the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn, of Caversham, he was elected Master of the Guild, a post he held from 1934 to 1946, when owing to trouble with his legs and advancing years he felt that it was in the Guild's interests he should make way for a younger man.

In 1904 he was appointed Vicar of Crowthorne, a village he served with great faithfulness for 53 years. From 1912-1928 he was Rural Dean of Sonning, and in 1917 he was appointed an Honorary Canon of Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford.

HIS PEAL RECORD.

Canon Coleridge learnt to handle a rope in his native village of Cadbury, Devon, in 1874. At Oxford as a member of the University Society he made good progress, being in company with other well-known clerical ringers, including the Revs. H. A. Cockey, W. S. Willett, J. F. Hastings and C. D. P. Davies. His first peal was rung at Kirtlington, Oxfordshire, on June 9th, 1879.

In all the Canon rang 273 peals, the last being on August 9th, 1932, a peal of London Surprise at Bridgwater. His career as a peal ringer was terminated by an injury to his knee when mounting a bicycle on a dark midwinter morning.

He rang many peals with the late Rev. F. E. Robinson, among them being the first peal by eight clergymen on October 2nd, 1884, Stedman Triples at Drayton, Berks. In the same tower he participated in an unconducted peal of Stedman Triples and was also in the band when the Rev. F. E. Robinson rang his 1,000th peal, being the first ringer to achieve such a distinction. Canon Coleridge rang the treble to a peal of Stedman Caters at Warwick on October 11th, 1910, which was the first peal on ten bells by 'ten priests of the Church' and was conducted by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies. He was also in the first clerical Surprise peal, Superlative Surprise Major at Prestbury, Glos., on April 22nd, 1912.

Another interesting 'first' in which the Canon participated was the first peal on Exeter Cathedral bells—Grandsire Caters on October 6th, 1902, in 3 hours and 52 minutes, which was conducted by Mr. George Williams. The Canon was on the tenor with Mr. Ferris Shepherd strapping. He was also in the first peal on the bells at Plymouth—5,006 Stedman Caters.

Another of his heavy bell performances was at Wells Cathedral on October 4th, 1894, a peal of Grandsire Caters in 3 hours 44 minutes for the Oxford Diocesan Guild. This at the time was the heaviest peal ever rung single-handed by ten men.

He was a member of the band that rang the first Freemasons' peal, one of Grandsire Caters at St. Clement Danes' on December 4th, 1919. This peal was for the Ancient Society of College Youths. Canon Coleridge was a Past Master of the Heather Lodge No. 3131 and Past Prov. Grand Chaplain for the Province of Berkshire.

The Canon had a number of long length peals to his credit. These included 8,800 Superlative Surprise at Loughborough, 6,720 Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Caversham, 7,392 Double Norwich at Chiddingfold, 12,096 Double Norwich at Boyne Hill, 13,054 Stedman Caters at Cheltenham and 15,041 Stedman Caters at Appleton.

The last-named peal was rung on December 31st, 1888, in 9 hours and 16 minutes. This held the record for 20 years, when it was supplanted by a peal of 18,027 at Loughborough in 1909. Finally came the 21,363 at Appleton on April 22nd, 1922. In his notes the Canon wrote: 'I was too old to take part in this, youth prevailed, but I listened to it for several hours.'

His freak peal was one of Stedman Triples at St. Giles-in-the-Fields on February 7th, 1925, when all the members of the band were 6ft. or over. The Canon was the tallest, his height being returned as 6ft. 4½in. This peal was called by Mr. A. H. Pulling, and among the participants were Messrs. Cyril F. Johnston, Frederick W. Rogers and George W. Fletcher.

AT LUNDY ISLAND.

The Canon regarded his peal at St. Helena, Lundy Island, on August 23rd, 1905, as his most venturesome. In his notes he wrote: 'This peal was made possible by (a) Mr. Bowen, Parish Clerk of Ilfracombe, who chipped the rust off the bearings and saturated them with oil. (b) The generosity and hospitality of the Rev. H. G. Heaven, Lord of the Manor, owner of the island, donor of the church and bells. His wonderful array of oysters will never be forgotten. (c) The Rev. Coombes, chaplain to the Missions to Seamen, who kindly conveyed the party, who had been dubbed "madmen," to and from the island in the mission ship, 'The Irene,' on the usual monthly voyage to the many lightships in the Bristol Channel. The ship was known for its "roll," and this, together with a raging sea, made the journey somewhat unpleasant for some, but left more oysters for others.

'We recovered either from seasickness or oysters by ringing a peal of Stedman Triples at Minehead, the following day.'

The Editor would welcome letters of appreciation of Canon Coleridge's great services to ringing and memories of those who participated in his peals.

THE FUNERAL

The funeral service was held at Crowthorne Church on Friday, which was unable to accommodate the many parishioners, friends and ringers who came to pay their last respects to one so widely loved.

There were approximately 40 robed clergy with the Bishop of Reading, who waited to receive the coffin. The Vicar (the Rev. A. C. Nugee) took the service. Psalm xxiii. was chanted and the hymns included 'The day Thou gavest, Lord, is ended.' The committal sentences at the graveside were said by the Bishop of Reading, and then followed a course

The mourners included Major H. J. Cann (nephew). Among other ringers present were Mr. E. H. Lewis (president of the Central Council), Mrs. G. W. Fletcher (president of the Ladies' Guild and also representing Mr. G. W. Fletcher, secretary of the Central Council, who was indisposed), Capt. A. R. Poyntz (Deputy Master, Oxford Diocesan Guild, also representing the Master, the Rev. C. Elliot Wigg), Mr. W. Hibbert (secretary, Oxford Diocesan Guild), Mr. and Mrs. A. D. RETURN THANKS

Dear Sir,—May I, through the columns of 'The Ringing World,' thank, on behalf of his relatives, the ringers for the many messages of sympathy received by letter, telegram, telephone or personally at his funeral?

I would especially like to thank Mr. Hibbert, secretary of the Oxford Guild, for so kindly arranging the handbell ringing at his funeral, and those ringers who took part for giving such a beautiful and well-struck touch.—Yours truly, H. J. CANN, Major.

OBITUARY

MR. FRANCIS MILES.

The passing of Mr. Francis Miles, of Bredons Norton, near Tewkesbury, Glos., on November 12th, at the age of 42, was received by his many friends with deep regret. He had been a member of the local band for 28 years and a chorister for the same length of time; for the last 11 years he was also sexton.

Mr. Miles was a very capable ringer and rang about 40 peals, many of them in the little tower at Bredons Norton. He was a member of the Worcestershire and Districts Association for more than a quarter of a century and for many years he was a member of the Tewkesbury Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association.

The interment took place at Bredons Norton on November 16th, and the service, which was conducted by the Rev. Kirk Duncan, was attended by a large number of friends, many of them ringers. At the graveside 60 changes of Grandsire Doubles were rung on handbells by John Thomas, Mrs. John Thomas and J. D. Johnson.

After the interment a quarter peal of Minor in four methods was rung with the bells half-muffled by O. Attwood 1, J. D. Johnson 2, Mrs. J. Thomas 3, J. Thomas (cond.) 4, J. Attwood 5, E. T. Newbury 6; and in the evening muffled ringing also took place at Kemerton, a neighbouring village, where Mr. Miles often helped the local band.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Western Branch took place at Fakenham on November 19th, some 24 members being present. Four new members were elected. This is the seventh meeting held during the current year in this part of the diocese.

The next meeting has been fixed for February 25th at King's Lynn.

Dedication

ST. PAUL'S, WOKINGHAM.

The bells (8) of St. Paul's, Wokingham, have recently been repaired and overhauled by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. Founded by Warner and Sons, they were in the Exhibition of 1864, and then hung in that year, and have, so far as available records show, been overhauled only twice previously.

On November 12th, some 60 members of the Sonning Deanery Branch joined in a service of thanksgiving for their restoration, after a period of silence lasting some eight months. Ringing took place before the service and continued after tea till nearly 9 p.m.

All deeply regretted the accident which prevented Canon Coleridge from giving the address. Members of the tower have provided the material and labour for bricking up the north and west louvres to 2-3rd height with the aim of improving the sound of the bells in the immediate vicinity of the church.

The repairs cost £257 and St. Paul's is grateful to all who have helped the work by their generous subscriptions. There is no outstanding debt on this account.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

LEWISHAM DISTRICT.

The annual meeting of the Lewisham District, held at Christ Church, Erith, had only a sparse attendance.

Ringing during the afternoon was followed by a service, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. K. G. Homer, recently inducted to the benefice, who extended a warm welcome. Mr. E. Barnett (Crayford) read the lesson, and Mr. G. Phillips (Erith) led the singing at the organ.

After tea the business meeting was held in the Church Hall, the Vicar presiding. Two ringers were elected into the Association and the election of three peal ringers was ratified. A report of the past year's work was favourably received.

Mr. A. G. Hill was re-elected district secretary, and Messrs. A. S. Richards and G. V. Murphy were reappointed district representatives. Following custom, a new Ringing Master was elected, Mr. J. Dafters, of Lewisham, succeeding Mr. F. A. Coley (Crayford), who received cordial thanks for his services.

Woolwich was chosen as place of next meeting, to be held on Saturday, January 28th, and it was resolved to hold a social evening on a date to be arranged.

The good wishes of the meeting were extended to Mr. H. Hoverd, of Dartford, whose illness unfortunately continues.

Mr. I. Emery informed the meeting that reconstruction work had commenced at SS. Peter and Paul's, Bromley, the foundation stone of the new church having been laid by H.R.H. Princess Elizabeth, an honour of which Bromley was very proud.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSN.

BRISTOL CITY BRANCH.

The November meeting of the branch was held on November 5th at St. Stephen's, when a large number were present. Full use was made of the ten bells and the more inexperienced ringers had every opportunity of ringing the higher methods.

The service—the first held at St. Stephen's since before the war—was conducted by the Rev. Phelps in the absence of the Rector, who spoke of the team work which is necessary with a good band of ringers. This team work is now playing a vital part in the branch, and the long awaited rise in the standard of ringing in Bristol is now becoming evident.

The bells resounded to some very good ringing all through the afternoon and evening, methods ranging from rounds, etc., to Double Norwich, Cambridge Major and a very well-struck course of Cambridge Royal.

Chester Diocesan Guild

WIRRAL BRANCH AT EASTHAM.

A shocking day and the fact that at late notice the meeting had been brought forward a week did not deter members from turning out in strength to attend the meeting at St. Mary's, Eastham, on November 12th. A company of 74 members and friends attended and it is interesting to note that average attendance at 12 meetings so far held this year is 62, easily a record for the branch.

The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. Wright Davies), who gave the address. A novel feature was the substitution for the usual lesson of the reading of an article on faith with historical references ranging from early Christian times to present day.

Immediately following the company was entertained to a really sumptuous tea. The business meeting which followed proved to be rather more prolonged and verbose than is customary; nevertheless, it was good to see members taking an interest in branch affairs.

The hon. secretary (Mr. A. J. Martin) announced that over 200 tickets had been sold for the third annual social to be held at West Kirby on November 26th.

Reference was made to the valuable spade-work performed at Eastham by Mr. T. W. Wood. Responding in reminiscent vein, he mentioned that since the lifting of the ban learners at this tower had broken 65 stays (bellhanger who recommended 2 x 2 pitch-pine stays, please note!).

The meeting closed with an omnibus vote of thanks to all responsible for arrangements, and particularly to the ringers who had provided such a wonderful meal. Mr. G. Pickthall responded, pointing out that Eastham ringers were only too pleased to be able to return the hospitality extended to them by other ringers.

MR. A. D. COOK'S 100 PEALS

The following comprises Mr. Arthur D. Cook's 100 tower-bell peals:—

Grandsire Doubles: 1.

Minor: Plain Bob 2, Kent and Plain Bob 1, Kent Treble Bob 1, Oxford Treble Bob 1, Cambridge Surprise 3.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CASTELLATED NUTS

Dear Sir,—Messrs. John Taylor and Co. were not responsible for the work quoted in my letter published on November 11th. Any implication to this effect was not intended.—Yours faithfully, R. OVERY.

Haywards Heath

NO COTTER PIN

Dear Sir,—With regard to the Leeds tenor clapper, recently at Ilkeston, while ringing the bells up in peal for practice, the 4th clapper came out. This was soon put right as it was only the clapper pin that had come out. It was fitted with a castle nut, but no cotter pin. It seems strange that this nut should come off after being in for 39 years, as the clapper had never been interfered with, only a drop of oil now and again after practice night. We took the clapper out and fixed a cotter pin. I am pleased to say there was no other damage done. E. C. GOBEY.

Ilkeston.

ODDFELLOWS' PEAL

Dear Sir,—I am very much afraid I put thoughts into your head, which, though very happy ones, were certainly not intended when I wrote about the set of handbells not being used at the Parish Church, Montgomery.

I am also sure that no such compliment (though very well merited) was thought of by my dear friend Brother Tomley. The information I gave was just some of his many interests: he is very interested in most things, especially in the handbells (which he used to ring) not being used.

I do not know the amount of interest taken in ringing in Montgomery, but would like to get to know through 'The Ringing World' that it was very much alive.

Pursuing the subject of an 'Oddfellows' peal, there are some fine ringers and conductors in our West Central Counties Conference area, which embraces the Chester, Shropshire and Staffordshire Guilds, and I should be delighted to hear from some of them.—Thanking you, yours sincerely,

W. FRANK STENSON.

Crewe.

VILLAGE RINGERS

Dear Sir,—I have read with great interest the efforts of ringers in small villages who are struggling along. There are several such places in my district. These ringers are keen and the majority are grand church workers. They have to be content with ringing Grandsire Doubles, but don't you think that if this is learnt and struck properly it is a good start?

I visit five of these towers in turn to lend a hand and the enthusiasm is unbounded; there is always a happy welcome for everybody.—Sincerely yours,

JAMES H. MUSSON.

Silk Willoughby, Lincs.

36 YEARS TOO LATE

Dear Sir,—The claim that the peal at Ruskington, Lincs, was the first on the bells is 36 years too late. I rang in the first peal on the bells on September 18th, 1913, conducted by Rupert Richardson, and published in the ringing papers and the Lincoln Diocesan Guild report.—Yours faithfully, C. GLENN.

Cotgrave, Notts.

RECRUITMENT OF RINGERS

A REPLY TO MR. BOTTRILL.

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. W. Bottrill, may I say that ringers should be recruited from persons who are already members of a church, because bellringing is part of the Church's work. If people who have no interest in the Church are recruited merely because they are interested in campanology alone, then the whole purpose of their ringing becomes a farce.

If, as Mr. Bottrill suggests, people subscribe to the cost of bells for no other purpose than that of giving the ringers something to amuse themselves with, then they are very different from those with whom I have come into contact.

People give because it is part of the life of the Church, and if you took away the Church, the response would be very much different. I have organised many efforts for bells and I know that the majority of people give or support these efforts because they are, first of all, for the Church.

Mr. Bottrill should not generalise by saying that 18,000 ringers only ring to preserve their halo of religion, because I feel sure that in not one case has he individualised to prove this. After condemning this mass of ringers he goes on to blow his own trumpet by admitting he is indeed a pretty good chap since he walks two miles each Sunday to ring rounds on six. I wonder how long this has been going on, because surely if he is such a good fellow they should be able to ring some sort of method by now, unless, of course, he is one of the 18,000 who he says 'have no zeal for the art.'

I hope Mr. Bottrill will soon be able to write to our journal and tell us that his ring of six has been augmented to a ring of eight through the generosity of his fellow churchpeople who have appreciated his kindness in teaching their ringers to ring for the glory of God.—Yours faithfully,

'TRAVELLER.'

HANDBELL MUSIC

Dear Sir,—Most handbells are rung by ear, but the surest way is for the instructor to have a card with numbers and indicate the order in which the bells should be played (he must watch his knuckles too). To see whether a tune can be played, look at the printed music in the treble stave to see if all the notes lie between the highest and lowest notes if you have eight bells. If the melody needs extra half tones (flats, sharps or naturals), it cannot be rung properly.

Tunes which can be rung on eight bells are: 'First Nowell,' 'Hyfrydol,' 'Innocents,' chorus of 'Bells of St. Mary' (with an octave 'twist' on two notes), 'Drink to me only.' Useful additions are No. 9 (for 'Land of my Fathers' and 'While Shepherds Watched'), one between 2 and 3 for 'Good King Wenceslas,' one between 4 and 5 for many well-known melodies in the scale of G major. Two extra trebles for 'Way down upon the Swanee River,' etc.

The writer would be pleased to give the enquirer some assistance if he wishes.—Yours faithfully, DAVID H. BETTS.

Prescilly View, Haven Road, Haverfordwest.

A 'bazaar of the bells,' held at Birstall, Leics., on November 19th, raised over £100 for the new ring of six and restoration of the tower of Wanlip bells. Wanlip has at present only three bells, but through the efforts of the congregation most of the money has been raised for the new ring.

Wordsworth Surprise Major

Dear Sir,—In reply to Alan R. Pink's letter, page 572, re Wordsworth Surprise, the five false course-ends as published in 'The Ringing World,' November 11th, are correct. A Bob Before in each course cuts out the falseness and gives clean proof six lead courses. The composition is the in-course half of a six-part peal of Double Oxford Bob Major, composed by the late J. A. Trollope, 1894, and included in the C.C. Collection, Section II., Double Oxford Major, peal No. 22.—Yours sincerely,

G. MARRINER.

Leatherhead.

Dear Sir,—If Mr. Pink cares to spend five minutes with pencil and paper he will discover that the false course-ends for Wordsworth are as shown in 'The Ringing World.' What, however, he will find much more interesting is that, despite the apparent serious falseness of the method, if you take your plain course as one of six leads with bobs at M B W you will get a true course in the same way as you do in Rutland and (presumably) in Kendal.

As for the composition of the peal, it is given in the Central Council collection of peals (No. 22 of Double Oxford) as being by Mr. Trollope, and so can hardly claim to have been composed by Mr. Cashmore except in so far as he discovered that it was true to Kendal (by no means obvious).

As a matter of interest it is merely a peal by John Reeves applied to a course in which M B W is called. The same Q-sets at H are bobbed and the corresponding Q-sets at M and W are plained instead of bobbed. — Yours faithfully, RICHARD F. B. SPEED.

Eastbourne, Sussex.

ST. MARGARET'S PEAL

Dear Sir,—I noticed rather an unusual coincidence in 'The Ringing World,' dated Nov. 4th. Your correspondent, Mr. D. A. Bayles, queries whether he could possibly have heard the bells of St. Margaret's, Westminster, faintly in the background whilst 'Big Ben' was sounding prior to the nine o'clock news on October 15th. I myself was not tuned in to the news and I doubt whether reception here would be good enough to pick up anything which might perhaps be sounding in the background. I notice, however, that a peal was rung at St. Margaret's on October 15th, so, assuming that it was not a recording of 'Big Ben' and that the peal of Stedman Caters which was rung at St. Margaret's on that day took place in the evening, was it not possible that your correspondent heard a very short extract from this peal? — Yours sincerely, JAMES A. SMITH (Tpr.).

SHEFFIELD WEDDING

The wedding took place on November 19th of Mr. J. J. L. Gilbert, of Handsworth, and Miss Joyce Taylor. The ceremony was performed at Handsworth Parish Church, where Mr. Gilbert has been a ringer for many years, and since coming out of the Forces, having served throughout the war, he has been Ringing Master.

A Sunday service band rang a peal of Plain Bob Major for the occasion, and the happy pair eventually departed for their honeymoon in London and Bournemouth. Their new home is 56, Glencoe Road, Sheffield 2.

THE LINCOLN JUBILEE

THE thoughts of ringers throughout the country have been centred this week on Lincoln. Celebrations took place last Saturday in honour of the jubilee of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, and through our columns we desire to express the congratulations of the Exercise to the Guild on reaching its half-century.

Although not by any means the oldest of our territorial Associations or Guilds, Lincoln has always enjoyed a place in the inner Councils. The first Master, the Rev. H. Law James, contributed much as a composer, and while it was at St. Michael's, Gloucester, that he and his brother spent their youthful days, it was as Vicar of Surfleet that he did his great work for the Guild. 'Spliced' ringing was not accepted without a fight, and it was in the Rev. H. Law James that it had an outstanding champion. His mathematical mind delighted in the new intricacies that were opened by this field of ringing.

His successor came also from Surfleet in Mr. Rupert Richardson. He toured Lincolnshire in a systematic manner in the fiulfilment of his duties, and by his open-hearted generosity attracted to the village the leading ringers of the day. Rupert was emphatically a man of action. He was one of the saviours of 'The Ringing World,' upon the death of the founder-editor, Mr. J. S. Goldsmith. Posthaste he travelled from Surfleet to Pyrford upon receiving news of the paper's difficulties and doubts about its continuance. When major difficulties confronted the Exercise it was to Rupert that people turned; his shrewd business mind might be concealed beneath an exterior of benevolence, but the brain was ever active, and the advice he gave was sound. A memorial to his work is to be found among the bells of Lincoln Cathedral. As long as the Guild lasts, so the name of Rupert Richardson will remain. He was a big man in every way.

Readers of 'The Ringing World' are familiar with the assiduity with which the present Master, Mr. J. A. Freeman, has created around Lincoln Cathedral a band worthy to ring in such an historic and wonderful centre of the Christian faith. In the realm of performance the Lincoln Guild has in the past set the Exercise a number of objectives, and while comparison is invidious the diligence of the Lincoln ringers, particularly during these post-war years, is a spur to those renowned provincial bands centred at Birmingham, Leicester and in Cheshire. Mr. J. A. Freeman has also the gift of organisation and understanding.

The real strength of a Guild is not to be found in one or two crack bands who are constantly adding laurel leaves to the victor's crown, but to the conscientious small town and village companies who faithfully perform their duty Sunday by Sunday and maintain a spirit of friendliness. Last week we published a letter from a Lincolnshire ringer, Mr. James H. Musson. Simple and directly to the point, yet between the lines could be read the story of enthusiasm and keenness. It is not the headline makers or the controversialists that provide live copy to our journal, but the humbler ringers, whose solid background is the basis of country ringing in this land. To them a quarter peal is an occasion, and it is in recognition of such that we endeavour to give them a rightful place in the columns of 'The Ringing World.'

'THE RINGING WORLD'

The Official Journal of the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers

EDITORIAL OFFICE: c/o Woodbridge Press, Ltd., Guildford, Surrey.

EDITORIAL COMMITTEE:
EDWIN H. LEWIS, M.A. (President of Council).
GEORGE W. FLETCHER (Hon. Secretary of Council), The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk.
A. A. HUGHES, J.P. (Hon. Treasurer), 34, Whitechapel Road, E.1.
MRS. E. K. FLETCHER.
EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

'The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

From January, 1950, 'The Ringing World' will be enlarged to 16 pages and sold at 4d. Orders for postal copies should be sent to Mrs. Fletcher, The White House, Caister-on-Sea, Norfolk, at the following rates: 12 months £1, 6 months 10s. 6d., 3 months 5s. 6d.

BELFRY GOSSIP

His many friends will regret to hear that Mr. A. F. Martin Stewart, of Ferndown, Dorset, who was Master of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild from 1910-13 and is now one of the vice-presidents, underwent an internal operation at Wimborne Cottage Hospital. The latest report is that he is progressing very well. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Send Christmas greetings to your friends through 'The Ringing World,' price 2s. 6d.

Mr. Edward G. Davey has twice circled the tower of Kirby-le-Soken, Essex.

We regret to learn of the death of Mr. Benjamin Thorp, of St. Michael's, Ashton-under-Lyne.

Mr. Jack Clegg, of Fallowfield, has completed Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob from Minor to Maximus.

The peal at Croft, Leics., completes the 'circle' of the tower for F. Watson (verger), and Ernest Morris has now called peals from each bell in this tower.

Mr. A. H. Webb, foreman ringer at East Hagbourne, Berks, 'completed the circle' of his tower by a peal of Grandsire Triples on November 19th.

The peal of Stedman Caters at Hull on November 26th was rung to mark the 50 years of ringing in this area by Mr. Len Rodmell. The popular Master of the Beverley and District Society rang in the peal at the age of 72, and his many friends wish to see him 'among the ropes' for many more years.

The attendance at the Kirkby Mallory meeting of the Leicester Guild was affected by the inclement weather, and only six towers were represented. The next meeting was arrangd for Stoney Stanton, as it was not found possible to hold the annual dinner there. A dance in aid of the new ring of eight at Market Bosworth by the district ringers realised £30.

The jubilee celebration of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild last Saturday was most successful and a triumph of organisation. A peal of Stedman Cinques was rung on the Cathedral bells on the Friday. Guests at the dinner included the Bishop of Lincoln and the president of the Central Council, Mr. E. H. Lewis. Our next issue will contain a full report of these happy proceedings.

In memoriam peals were rung for Canon G. F. Colcridge at Abingdon, Allesley, Crayford and Loughborough.

Brethren interested in a Masonic peal at Manchester in the Spring of 1950 are asked to communicate with Mr. Peter Crook, 203, Devonshire Road, Bolton.

Recently to celebrate the 80th birthday of Mr. Harry Goodger, a well-struck 500 of Grandsire Triples was rung at St. Michael and All Angels', Tilehurst. Mr. Goodger rang the treble, the conductor being Mr. J. Marsh, which was his first as conductor. Mr. Goodger was for a very long time the much respected 'foreman' of the tower (having been taught to ring by the late Martin Routh), who also celebrated last year 60 years as a member of the choir.

Mr. James George was unable to repeat his feat of last year and participate in his birthday peal. He cannot use his artificial leg at present, as it is away at the specialist for attention, and as he had a bad cold he wisely decided not to risk coming out. 'Jimmy' says he intends to attempt the peal later on when circumstances are more favourable. Our oldest peal ringer (now 96) does not intend to rest on his laurels. Through 'The Ringing World' he wishes to thank sincerely the many friends who sent letters and telegrams of congratulation, and also those who rang peals for the occasion. It is his regret that he is unable to acknowledge these greetings individually.

Memories of Canon Coleridge

PERSONAL DISCIPLINE.

I have a very vivid memory of my first meeting with the Rev. G. F. Coleridge, as he was then, on December 6th, 1902. A small party, J. Hunt, E. Allen, S. Radford and myself, went to Yateley, and met there M. Steer and B. Hawkins, from Hawley, who, with C. Giles from Reading and the Rev. G. F. Coleridge, completed a peal party. We went for Double Norwich, and my note of the event says we had good ringing until the last three courses, when one of the ringers became ill and we had to stop.

After the ringing it was revealed that the ringer (Mr. B. Hawkins) who could not finish the peal had during the week been celebrating an important domestic event, which in due course got to the ears of the Rev. G. F. Coleridge. I remember very well he put to good use the time occupied in walking to Blackwater Railway Station with a lecture about the need and the value of personal discipline in all bodily functions when proposing an important performance in the House of God. I am now the only survivor of the little party who on that long walk in the dark heard his words of wisdom.

A GOLDEN SOVEREIGN FOR FIRST PEAL

Fifty-seven years ago the Rev. G. F. Coleridge handled the 8th bell at Exeter Cathedral in a course of Grandsire Caters, the first change ringing on the bells, and as a boy I proudly watched him reveal his skill on a heavy bell. This was in 1892, but prior to this date, during one of his visits, he promised me a golden sovereign when I scored my first peal.

In those days he was a problem when on a ringing tour, and I remember two maiden ladies coming to our home at Exeter late one evening in great distress, for the ringer they agreed to accommodate for the night had arrived, and they were certain their small single bed would not be large enough for the largest parson they had ever seen!

Two peals that stand out in my memory more than the other I rang with him are the 'Devonians' peal at Putney in 1901, and the 7,392 of Double Norwich at Chiddingfold in 1907. Yes, the Canon enjoyed ringing just as much as his other activities, and with it all, wherever he was, he was a parson and a man. Good striking was a strong point and when he gave advice it was always sound. He would say, 'Stick to it and show what you can really do; stick together with one intention and purpose to do your very best, not only in the matter of excellency of striking, but also of goodwill one to another.'

One could write columns about our beloved Canon, but space is still limited; therefore, it is best to sum up his many virtues by one simple word—true. True to himself, to others and his arts; true to each work to which he laid his hand, and, above all, he possessed that true heart, ever faithful, ever loyal, always pressing on to the high mark of his calling.

NORTH NOTTS SYMPATHY.

It is with regret I learn of the death of Canon G. F. Coleridge. Though I did not know him personally, I have followed his ringing and other duties through 'The Ringing World,' and, being in possession of 'History and Art of Change Ringing,' could see what type of a gentleman he was. Although his great work on earth has now ended, it will have not been in vain or forgotten.

On behalf of all North Notts members and myself I would like to express the deepest sympathy to those relatives left behind in their sad bereavement.

The Return of the Native

ANOTHER PEAL AT STRADBROKE.

Few ringers have to wait nearly 27 years after scoring their first peal before attempting one on the bells of their native village; such has been the misfortune of Mr. David Vincent, now of Hale, Cheshire, who from time to time has rung in most surrounding towers yet heard Stradbroke bells for the first time since boyhood days when they struck into rounds for the peal of Cambridge there on November 12th.

During these years the bells have been considered unpealable and the tower unsafe and no peal was attempted on them. However, when a party of Suffolk ringers visiting Cheshire in 1947 made a call on David and realised his disappointment they decided to explore the almost unknown on their return. The outcome is now well known, which resulted in a peal of Cambridge there in November that year when Mr. Ernest Pye so ably rang the tenor.

November was again chosen this year and permission graciously given by the Vicar, Canon K. E. Shaw, from a sick bed in the very shadow of the tower, a gesture much appreciated by all. For this attempt it was always felt the band should consist of old friends of county origin — be they Men of Suffolk or Suffolk Men. Great satisfaction was felt when the Guild secretary, Mr. Cecil W. Pipe, who had tackled the seventh in the previous peal, offered to ring the tenor, and Mr. Leslie G. Brett, the former conductor, moving round one to the seventh. What a pair were these 'back end boys' and how they worked, first for an hour on ropes and bearings, 'dispensing' enough castor oil to run a hospital, and later by the masterful manner they rang the method, bells and tower.

FULL FORCE OF GALE.

Stradbroke did not miss the gale which swept the country that day and the tall massive tower took full force. Whether this added to the existing difficulty of swaying tower is uncertain; the frame is certainly level with the louvres and often the bells did some odd unexpected tricks. Between these there were spells of fine ringing and the grand old ring could be heard at its best.

At no time did the skipper, Mr. Leslie C. Wightman, wear an anxious look (he never does), and when he finally called 'Stand,' congratulations were at once showered on 'Jim' Pipe for a magnificent job. Never once was the tenor allowed any liberty. The same, too, applies to Lester on the seventh, a bad going bell. As usual David finished up in stockinged feet and blistered hands, glasses whipped off by the rope's antics and almost on his knees, but all shared in his joy at having achieved his life's ambition in one mighty attempt.

It was a happy band that retired to a warm room and refreshments, accompanied by wives and that famous Suffolk 'Punch' and master of metal and method, Charlie Bailey, who with Mrs. Bailey had braved the elements and the long run from Leiston to meet old friends.

Monday evening saw six of the band joined by two more Suffolkers being welcomed in the belfry at Debenham by the Vicar, the Rev. Musgrave-Brown, who wished them good luck and good ringing—never was a wish better fulfilled. Superlative in all its perfection to a composition by another of Suffolk's sons — Arthur Knights.

Fog, which later became dense, did not prevent some meeting on Tuesday evening, when useful practice was put in until 'Watercress' miscalled to his own 'Surprise.' Mention of a peal of Bristol must have proved too much for David, who was missing next day and who is now known to have been back in Cheshire either licking his wounds or pruning feathers.

Mr. John Woods, of 44, Blades Street, Lancaster, is acting as secretary of the Lancaster Branch of the Lancashire Association in place of Mr. J. Skeats, who has left the district for Blackburn.

East Derbyshire & Notts

ANNUAL DINNER.

The annual dinner of the Association was held at the Miners' Welfare Institute, Silston, on November 5th, when a company of 60 ringers and friends participated in the dinner and social evening.

The bells of the Parish Church were available from 3 p.m., and ringing ranged from rounds to Cambridge and Stedman. The service was held in the old Norman church and was conducted by the Rev. Holberg, curate-in-charge.

The president, Mr. J. W. England, was in the chair at the dinner. Proposing the toast of 'The Church and Ringing Societies,' Mr. J. E. Hobbs (Watnall) gave a brief description of ringing as he knew it during his ringing career, stating that prior to the forming of guilds and associations the belfry was a part of the church that very few people except the ringers ever visited, and this room being sadly neglected, often being lighted by the light of flickering candles stuck on the walls. On the formation of this and other associations, ringers visited other churches for meetings and peal ringing, and it had been delightful to note that not only had the ringing chamber been cleaned up, but the ringer had cleaned up his habits.

He remarked on the great joy it gave him to see so many young ringers present and he hoped for the day when they would take their share in the management of the various guilds and associations.

The Rev. Holberg, who replied, said that as he was not a ringer, he felt his position very keenly. He gave the assurance that he would do all in his power to create interest in their art, as he had learned to love the sound of church bells, and mentioned that it was an early Archbishop of York who decreed that all incumbents should toll or chime a bell previous to the service commencing; therefore, the ringer's office was a holy one and should be looked on as such.

Councillor F. Cooke, J.P., proposed the toast of 'The Visitors,' and the Rev. R. H. Horton (Rector of Pinxton) replied.

Mr. William Lancaster, proposing the toast of 'The Association,' said as secretary to the Derbyshire Association he knew they had some very good friends in the East Derbyshire and Notts Association, and he hoped that this friendship would continue for many years to come. He asked the young members if they realised what the Association meant. It did not mean something whereby they could get out on a Saturday afternoon if there was not something else to do, but it meant a 'real live organisation,' and somebody had to work to keep it alive and keep it going. It also stood for clean citizenship and more so for Sunday service ringing and attending church service, not merely going to ring for service.

The President, in response, gave a brief history of bellringing.

A vote of thanks was moved by the secretary of the Association, Mr. J. W. Price, to the officials, committee and members of Silston Miners' Welfare Institute for their kindness to them, also wishing a speedy recovery to their president, Mr. C. W. Jepson. He also thanked the artistes and his daughter, Miss F. H. Price, who never failed to help him in anything for the Association.

Musical items were rendered during the evening by Mr. Skinner and Mme. Jackson.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS

OBITUARY OF THE WEEK

Mr. W. W. Worthington

LOSS TO MIDLAND COUNTIES GUILD.

We deeply regret to announce the death of William Worthington-Worthington, M.A., D.L., J.P., of Maple Hayes, Lichfield, which occurred on November 25th. He was aged 77 years.

This truly 'great' man will be sadly missed in the Midland Counties, where he did so much for bells and ringers and was president of the Midland Counties Guild. He was great in stature (being well over 6ft.), in business, in estate and in generosity.

In his younger days he took the keenest delight in ringing. Learning to ring a bell in his undergraduate days at New College, Oxford, he later at his home at Netherseale took up the art, and was never so happy as when taking a party in his car to the churches around and intertaining ringers, which he did in an elaborate style.

He took part in 50 peals, many in seven Minor methods as well as a number of Surprise on higher numbers. There are few towers around the Midlands district that have not a marblette tablet to some performance he took part in. One of his last is so recorded at Netherseale, when he got together the late brothers Pye, T. Coles, B. Prewett, I. Shade and others and rang a peal of Bristol Surprise. The tablet records each ringer's total peals thus: 50, 939, 1,065, 635, 984, 413, 332, 1,184, total 5,602. He used to say he felt like a 'sprat among the mackerel' over this peal.

Although he gave up actual peal ringing owing to business and other ties, every year he had a 'ringing day,' when he invited all his old friends from Burton-on-Trent and district, and after a tour round the neighbouring towers, a grand spread and a lively evening's entertainment were provided. The writer had the pleasure of partaking in one of the last of these 'do's.' He was also the donor of over 20 bells to many parishes, among which were Netherseale, Overseal, Burton (St. Paul's and All Saints'), Stoke Golding, Measham, Rolleston, Northlew, Thurlaston, Tutbury, Repton, Marchington and St. Albans Abbey. His greatest gifts were at Seale, where he was patron of the living. At Overseal he gave three bells to complete the octave in 1919, and at Netherseale he first gave a treble to make six, then shortly afterwards gave two more to make the octave in 1911. These were hung anti-clockwise, so in 1937 he had them all rehung the correct way, and also gave a fine oak screen to divide the tower from the nave.

It will be remembered that when 'The Ringing World' issued its 2,000th number, Mr. Worthington wrote, 'I am one of those who took "The Ringing World" from the start. I don't ring any more, but I read every word of the paper. Best wishes.'

Christ Church, Lichfield, was packed with a distinguished gathering at the memorial service on November 29th, cremation having taken place the previous day. The Dean of Lichfield (Very Rev. F. A. Iremonger) and the Vicar (Rev. G. H. Maydew) took the service, and the Cathedral choir sang the anthem. The Mayor, Deputy Mayor, the Sheriff and all the leading business men and women of Lichfield were present, and representing the ringers were Messrs. J. W. Cotton (secretary), W. H. Curson (chairman), E. W. Beadsmoore (committeeman), of the Midland Counties Guild, of which Mr. Worthington was president from its inauguration; Mr. Ernest Morris, of Leicester, and Mr. Sedgwick, of the Cathedral ringers. In the evening a half-muffled peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Netherseale.

NOW AT REST.

The Squire now is sleeping,
Around him in their vigil keeping
The darkness and the night,
Yet in the Valley of the Shadows
The Eternal Light still gleams,
Guiding all the faithful souls
The Saviour hath redeemed.
The Squire now is sleeping.
His resting place sweet bed of earth,
From whose cold bosom
God first gave Adam birth;
For as flowers spring from common clay,
Awakened by the sun's bright ray,
So shall thy Creator make all things new
On the resurrection day. F. H. S.

MR. J. D. BUCKINGHAM.

The death occurred at St. Peter's Hospital, Maldon, Essex, of Mr. John Dennis Buckingham, of Goldhanger, at the age of 75. Mr. Buckingham had lived in the village for 49 years, coming from Suffolk as gardener to the late Rev. F. T. Gardner.

A keen bellringer, he had taken part in 51 peals and founded a band of change ringers in Goldhanger. He did much good work in training young ringers in the district.

The funeral took place at Goldhanger on November 22nd. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung over the grave by H. R. Appleton, H. W. Gardner, H. J. Mansfield, A. Hubble, and afterwards 720 of Kent Treble Bob with the bells open by H. J. Mansfield, E. J. Runter, H. Seager, B. Mann (cond.), A. Hubble and T. C. Sayer. The local band also rang during the evening.

Representing the bellringers were H. J. Mansfield, A. South, A. Hubble, W. H. Chalk (Maldon), T. C. Sayer, H. Seager (Great Tothan), E. J. Runter (Springfield), G. Neville, C. Mann, B. Mann and H. Appleton (Goldhanger). There were floral tributes from Maldon and Goldhanger ringers.

MR. T. H. CAUNT.

A well-known ringing personality in the Melton Mowbray area, Mr. T. Harry Caunt, of Hose, has passed away after being in failing health for about a year.

He had been a member of the Framland Society for 48 years and was also a member of the Leicester Diocesan Guild. He was a regular service ringer at St. Michael's, Hose, and was very much respected. Mr. Caunt leaves a widow and 10 children. In 1945 Mr. and Mrs. Caunt celebrated their golden wedding.

A memorial service was held at Hose on November 27th, at which many ringers were present. The bells were rung half-muffled before the service. On November 29th his fellow-ringers rang 1,260 Doubles (comprising 480 St. Simon's, 480 Plain Bob, 300 Grandsire). They were Albert Allen (Hose) 1, Alfred Moulds (Hose) 2, Edw. Tinsley (Long Clawson) 3, Wm. Sharpe (captain, Hose ringers) 4, J. Wm. Smith (Melton, cond.) 5.

MR. JOHN HEARD.

The Guild of Devonshire Ringers has lost one of its oldest members in Mr. John Heard, who died on November 11th, aged 85. He was one of the last surviving members of the band which, under Col. C. A. W. Troyte, made ringing history at Huntsham.

He joined the Guild in 1878 at the age of 14 and rang his first peal—the 14th for the Guild—at Huntsham on September 30th, 1880, the method being Grandsire Triples. The exact number of peals he rang is not known, but for very many years he never missed a quarterly meeting of his branch, and he was a tower of strength when a practically new band was started at Huntsham after the first world war. His elder brother, Walter, with whom he rang several peals, predeceased him some years ago.

The funeral took place at Huntsham on November 15th, when the Guild was represented by Sir Gilbert Acland-Troyte, and a wreath from the Guild was placed on the grave.

The peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal at Isleworth on November 19th was the first by constitutionally elected members of the local company.

Kent County Association

MAIDSTONE DISTRICT.

The final meeting of 1949 was held at the famous ringers' church of St. Nicholas, Leeds. Being the eve of a new church year, it was appropriate that the Vicar, the Rev. F. Tyrie, should give as an Advent message, 'They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength,' interpreted in terms of our art.

Tea was served by girl members of the Youth Club in the Parish Hall, followed by handbell ringing, which included a course of Grandsire Cinques. There was no formal business, but the opportunity was taken of expressing to the Vicar the appreciation of ringers generally for being able to come so often to ring peals, and of noting with some concern the restoration work now urgently needed in the tower. In reply, the Vicar said it was difficult for the village to maintain a ten-bell band (though several young people were taking an interest), and accepted with thanks the service collection of £1 towards the tower restoration fund.

The meeting paid respect to the memory of Canon G. F. Coleridge, recalling his long and great service to the ringing Exercise, so suitably honoured by the Central Council in electing him their president.

Throughout the afternoon and evening the bells rang out in a wide variety of methods, including Little Grandsire Caters (the day's special method), Cambridge Royal and Bristol Surprise, and many of us turned homeward with a feeling of new accomplishment. E.S.J.H.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

VISIT TO WINTHORPE.

Winthorpe, a pretty village 1½ miles from Newark, was the meeting place of approximately 50 ringers on November 19th, the attraction being All Saints' Church with a light and rather nondescript ring of six bells.

The present church, which is of red brick, occupies the site of a much older building that was demolished towards the end of the 19th century.

Less than 18 months ago Winthorpe bells were seldom rung and then only by visiting bands. Then Mr. Harry Cloxton, an old M.C.A. member, took a hand and got together a young band, and within eight months had a team capable of ringing Grandsire Doubles. The newly-formed band is now grappling with Minor.

Mr. Cloxton's enthusiasm permeated the recent meeting. The number of young ringers trying something new was astonishing, and their zeal augurs well for the Southwell Guild and the Newark District in particular.

In view of the successful gathering, it is worth recalling that at the previous meeting at Winthorpe in June, 1947, only five ringers and one non-ringer attended. The magic transformation certainly spells progress.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

CREWE BRANCH.

The Crewe Branch held a very enjoyable meeting at Nantwich on November 19th. Various methods were rung from Grandsire Doubles to London, Bristol and Superlative Surprise Major. The Rector (the Rev. J. Tyler Whittle) conducted the service.

Tea, provided by the ringers' wives, was followed by a short meeting. Amongst those present were Mr. J. W. Clarke, Master of the Guild, and visitors from several counties—Mr. R. Traviss and Miss M. Holden (Messingham, Lincs), Mr. J. Boyer (Walkden, Lancs), also Chapel-en-le-Frith (Derbyshire), Stoke-on-Trent (North Staffs), Market Drayton and Hodnet (Shropshire).

Mr. Clarke gave an interesting talk about bellringing activities of the branch and Guild, which, he said, was one of the foremost in the country and a very live one too. He said the branch was noted for hospitality and he thanked all concerned.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

FALSE COURSE ENDS

Dear Sir, — The mistake in the f.c.h. of Wordsworth Surprise Major has been pointed out by more than one of my good friends, the correspondents whose co-operation has made the series of Surprise Methods possible. They did so, in fact, before the second edition was printed, but in the rush of getting that issue to press the corrections were overlooked.

So far as I know there are three Major methods with wrong f.c.h. attached. They are Knebworth, which has 25634, 53624, 65432; Kendal and Wordsworth, which both have 24365, 52643, 36524, 65243, 46532. Among the Royals, Cambridge and Lindoff 83 have 24365 as well as the two shown, while Wakefield has 54632, 65324. A complete errata list will be sent with the next issue of the series, which is to be published early in January.

It should be pointed out, however, that in no circumstances whatever should anyone embark upon the production of peal or other compositions without making his own tests for the f.c.h. of the method itself as well as for their absence from the peal. Indeed, it is hardly too much to say that the conductor as well as the composer of any peal should be capable of proving it, except perhaps in the case of spliced peals, the proof of which, like their composing, is emphatically a specialist's province.

Many correspondents have suggested that I should complete the series of methods with an issue devoted to Treble Bob methods other than Surprise. Before embarking upon the collection of material for this I should be glad to hear from ringers as to the possible usefulness of such a group. Contributors would save me a great deal of work if they sent me their methods in half-lead form, not in place notation, and if available a note of the f.c.h., first performance or progressive lengths, and the composition. I should like to have some idea of the number of methods available before the end of January.—Yours truly,

Bitton, near Bristol. A. J. CORRIGAN.

WORDSWORTH SURPRISE MAJOR

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. A. R. Pink, I should like to point out that the false course-ends of Wordsworth Surprise are as given in 'The Ringing World,' and not as in Mr. A. J. Corrigan's book, where they are incorrectly given as 24365, 43265 and 32465. Actually they are 24365, 65243, 52643, 36524 and 46532, and there seems to be very little chance of obtaining a peal in full courses. Happily, all the false course-ends affect the lead commencing 18674523, so that if a bob 'Before' is called in every course, the method can be treated as one with a clean proof scale. The composition is a half-peal of Double Oxford Bob Major, and was composed by the late Mr. J. A. Trollope in 1894. The figures will be found in the C.C. Collection of peals (Plain Bob and Double Oxford) on page 265, peal No. 22. — Yours sincerely, CHARLES W. ROBERTS.

Waltham Abbey.

Dear Sir,—Re the queries by Mr. Alan Pink in this week's 'Ringing World.' I think the composition really belongs to the late Arthur Craven; he produced several peals on the same plan for Rutland Surprise some time in the early 1920's. However, the same composition was used to a peal of St. Clement's College Bob Major (doubled by singles, of course) at Thorne, Yorkshire, on Saturday, May 1st, 1948; but as I had no means of ascertaining who was really the first to obtain it, the composition was credited to J. A. Trollope in the Yorkshire Association annual report in accordance with the peal report sent in by the conductor.

Taking priority as the standard, as is usual in crediting a composition to a certain composer, it will be very difficult to prove who is the rightful owner in the absence of actual dates.—Yours sincerely,

Pudsey. WILLIAM BARTON.

The Editor also acknowledges letters on this subject from Denis N. Layton (Banstead), J. L. Millhouse (Lincoln) and F. Dench (Great Yarmouth).

VERSES WANTED

Dear Sir,—I don't know if any of your readers possess long memories, but many years ago (about 1931) someone with a gift for piecing together nursery rhymes drew up one about tubular bells. Can any reader who still has the copy forward it to me? I can remember two lines from it ran thus:—

'Jingle, jangle, in the spire,
Bad example to the choir.'

And later came several words preceding, 'their music tells, of these tubular monstrosities called bells.' That is as far as my recollections take me. P. AMOS.

30, Inkerman Terrace, Northampton.

Dedications

SOUTH BENFLEET, ESSEX.

On November 19th, the Bishop of Chelmsford dedicated the bells and the new lych gate at St. Mary the Virgin's, South Benfleet, Essex. The five old bells, including one of the early 15th century, have been quarter turned, tuned and rehung with new bearings and the old wooden frame has been renovated and strengthened by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, of Whitechapel, who cast the new treble bell, inscribed 'A Thanksgiving for Victory, 1939-1945,' making a ring of six.

The Vicar, the Rev. R. L. Houghton, took the service, and the Archdeacon of Southend, the Ven. E. N. Gowing, and other local clergy were also present.

There was a large congregation, including Mr. A. A. Hughes from Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, members of the local Council and ringers of the Essex Association.

During the dedication service the new local band rang the first touches of rounds, and after the service a course of Grandsire Doubles was rung by the team from Rayleigh, where the local band had received their first instruction.

After tea the bells were rung under the supervision of Mr. J. Chalk (Master of the S.W. District), Mr. F. V. Gant (secretary) and Mr. F. T. Lufkin, of Prittlewell, with rounds for the beginners and changes for more advanced ringers. Among the methods were Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, and Plain Bob, Cambridge Surprise, Kent Treble Bob, Oxford Treble Bob, Double Court and St. Clement's Minor.

Owing to defects of the frame, the bells had not been rung since 1913, but there is a record of an old peal board of 1794, unfortunately no longer in existence, and the new band has therefore something to emulate.

Ringing will be at 6 p.m. on Sundays and at 7.30 p.m. on Thursdays.

ST. DONARD'S, BELFAST.

On November 26th, a ring of six bells was dedicated in St. Donard's Parish Church, Belfast, as a memorial to the late Rector, Canon Alexander Moore, B.A., Hon. C.F., by the Right Rev. W. S. Kerr, D.D., Lord Bishop of Down and Dromore.

The bells, which were cast and installed by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., are in the key of A flat. The total weight of the bells is 32 cwt. 2 qr. 11 lb., the tenor weighing 9 cwt. 1 qr. 2 lb. An Ellacombe chiming apparatus has also been installed.

Over 50 visiting ringers were present and all had at least one ring on the bells. The opening touches were rung by Mrs. N. Reid 1, F. King 2, Mrs. E. Loxton 3, R. Stewart 4, H. Anderson 5, J. Rush (cond.) 6.

After the service tea was served in the Parochial Hall. F. K.

RINGERS' NOTEBOOK & DIARY

The Ringers' Notebook and Diary for 1950 is now off the press, and the publishers, Messrs. W. H. Viggers and M. Hodgson, are to be congratulated in providing for the second year an essential requirement for the average ringer.

The publication is designed to meet those day-to-day emergencies of the average ringer, thus forming a handy pocket reference book.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the East Norfolk Branch was held at St. Edmund's Church, Acle, on St. Edmund's Eve (November 19th). Thirty-four members of the Association attended and the service was conducted by the Rev. Owen Morriss, with the Rector of Acle, the Rev. H. R. Chisnell, at the organ.

Tea was provided by the Mothers' Union and friends in the Church Room. The Rector of Acle accepted the invitation of the chairman, Mr. G. W. Fletcher, to preside at the business meeting.

A silent tribute was paid to Mr. George Clayton, who passed away on November 5th, aged 69. A member of the Association for about 35 years, he was also associated with the old St. Nicholas' company at Great Yarmouth.

The Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow, general secretary, regretted to announce that the president, the Rev. A. St. J. Heard, was unable to attend through illness.

Dennis W. Green, Ronald George Larner, and Geoffrey Edwin Larner were elected members. They are the first members from Winterton. The next meeting will be on February 25th at Gorleston-on-Sea.

THE BELLS OF SCOTLAND

FROM time to time questions are addressed to the Editor as to the prospects of ringing in Scotland. A useful and timely publication is 'Scottish Rings of Bells,' by Mr. Ranald W. H. Clouston, B.Sc. (Eng.), F.S.A. (Scot.), which gives full particulars and weights of bells. The booklet is based on the same style as those of Mr. F. Sharpe dealing with Radnorshire and Berkshire, and while of archæological interest it is essentially a book for the ringer, giving the prospects of testing the bells, and just those details which he wants to know.

To many it will come as a surprise that there are fewer rings of bells in Scotland than there are in the city of Oxford. Mr. Clouston points out that before the Reformation a few large churches had as many as five bells, as did most of the corresponding churches in England, but the later tendencies were towards the continental system of chimes of bells or sometimes carillons. This he attributes to the country's close ties with continental countries in the political field, and as there were few local bellfounders of repute who could cast chimes, most of the bells cast from 1500 to 1700 came from Belgium or Holland.

The two heaviest rings in the country are at Edinburgh Cathedral and Inveraray. Edinburgh Cathedral has ten bells with a tenor of 41 cwt. 1 qr. 15 lb., and hangs in a wooden frame with metal headstocks and ball bearings. All Saints', Inveraray, is a modern ring of ten, dated 1920, with a tenor of 41 cwt. 2 qr. 8 lb. The bells are heavy, but they go very well. They were cast at the order of the late Duke of Argyll. Both these two rings came from the Loughborough Foundry.

There are two towers in Scotland with which our readers are familiar, where the art of change ringing is maintained, and quarter peals and at times peals are rung. These are Glasgow Cathedral and St. James's, Paisley. The former ten date from 1901, and the tenor to a ring of ten weighs 32 cwt. 1 qr. These bells were rehung on ball bearings in 1937. At Paisley the eight are associated with the well-known cotton firm. Sir Peter Coats presented the bells in 1882, and his son met the cost of alterations in 1909.

The earliest English bell in Scotland is dated 1633, and came from the Whitechapel Foundry. From the same foundry were cast the bells of St. Andrew's, Edinburgh, in 1788, an eight with a tenor of 14½ cwt. Ringing, however, has been prohibited in this tower since 1903 on account of oscillation. This is a typical example of the architect having no knowledge of the mechanics associated with bellringing. The present slender spire is mounted on two pillars and the main south wall, and is so small that the bells are hung in two tiers.

Ringing, however, is possible at St. Cuthbert's, Edinburgh, a ring of eight with a 21 cwt. tenor, installed by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. Proximity to important building prevents them being rung except on national occasions. At Dundee there are two rings of eight from the Whitechapel Foundry. In the 15th century tower of St. Mary's or Old Steeple the ropes' circle is in the form of a triangle. At Dundee Cathedral the tenor weighs 23 cwt. 1 qr. 23 lb., and these bells were rehung on ball bearings as recently as 1939. To any ringer visiting Scotland this is a very handy book and should be included in Guild libraries. Copies can be obtained from the author, The Châlet, Yaxley, near Eye, Suffolk (price 2s. post free).

BELFRY GOSSIP

Dr. J. C. E. Simpson informs us that on January 31st, an attempt will be made to ring 6,496 Spliced Surprise Major in six methods for the Chester Diocesan Guild at Frodsham, starting about 2 p.m. This is a progressive length and, in accordance with the Rules and Decisions of the Central Council, notice is given.

A Christmas greetings page will appear in our next issue. Messages are inserted for 2s. 6d. for 30 words.

Mr. George Cross, Master of the Royal Cumberland Youths, has been admitted to Middlesex Hospital for a slight operation. He will probably be out in two or three weeks.

Writes Mr. Charles A. Bassett, Wadhurst: 'Although Pat Cannon spent some time during the peal at Wadhurst looking at the peal boards, he did not read them correctly, as our tenor is 13 cwt. 2 qr. 11 lb. in F sharp, and not 13 cwt. in G as stated in "The Ringing World" of December 2nd.'

One of the towers broadcasting bells on Christmas morning is that of SS. Philip and James', Holywood, Co. Down, Northern Ireland. This is the lightest ring in Ireland with a tenor 12 cwt. 16 lb. and was installed in 1891 and is still in excellent condition.

By ringing the treble in his own tower at Rotherfield to a peal of Cambridge, Mr. William Rogers has completed the circle and has in addition rung each of the eight bells to a peal in a different Surprise method—Cambridge, Superlative, Bristol, Yorkshire, Rotherfield, Ashtead, Lincolnshire and Rutland. The peal was also to have been his 100th, but owing to the hazards that attend a peal ringer attempting to bring off a double event, this idea misfired and Mr. Rogers rang his 100th the next day at Brightling.

His many friends in the Exercise will learn with joy of the golden wedding anniversary on December 11th of Mr. Alfred W. Brighton, of Forest Gate, London. Mr. Brighton is very well known throughout all the country, having rung in over one thousand towers, and we feel sure his many acquaintances will join in our congratulations.

The peal at Woodford in honour of the occasion also coincided with the 46th wedding anniversary of Mr. Charles Morss, the local tower-keeper. Mr. Morss is now again in better health, having just recovered from a serious operation in London Hospital. We wish him well.

Mr. W. H. J. Hooton, hon. librarian to the Central Council, asks for readers to refrain from ordering Central Council publications for the next three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Vincent were happy to meet so many old friends on their recent visit to Suffolk and thank all who contributed to such a successful and enjoyable time.

Our popular Christmas quiz by 'Kewsett' will appear in our next issue. A geographical test for those who get among the towers is included and there will be a conundrum or two for conductors.

Mr. George Gilbert is hoping that Burnham (Bucks) bells will be sufficiently far advanced to be rung on Christmas morning, after which the bells will remain silent until the last penny is raised. Since September he has devoted two hours a night and Saturdays collecting subscriptions, and has still a considerable way to go until the necessary funds are raised. He expresses his thanks to outside subscribers for their support. If other friends would like to be associated with this gallant effort, particulars are given in our notices column.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD'S JUBILEE DINNER

THE LINCOLNSHIRE CHARACTER ..... MEMORIES OF THE REV. H. LAW JAMES AND MR. RUPERT RICHARDSON ..... NEED OF INSTRUCTORS TO GRAPPLE WITH BAD HANDLING ..... PEAL RECORDS

THE Jubilee Festival Dinner of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild on December 3rd will rank high among the memorable gatherings of the Exercise. The spacious Assembly Room at Lincoln was an ideal venue. Speeches were reminiscent, as they should be, and witty. An excellent dinner, a good entertainment and perfect organisation provided a happy evening for a company numbering 160. The Master, Mr. J. A. Freeman, had with him distinguished visitors from the Church and ringing community. It was, indeed, a tribute to the affection with which the Guild is held.

THE COMPANY.

The Master, who presided, had with him on the top table Mrs. Freeman, the Bishop of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bray, Canon Milford, Mr. E. H. Lewis, Mrs. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Deal, Mr. P. M. Freeman (who acted as toastmaster), Miss S. Bellamy, Mr. Walter Ayre, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Feirn, Messrs. W. Clarke, B. Dalton, K. S. B. Croft, J. E. Allen and T. W. White.

Others present were Canon Burles Rev. A. Muxlow, Rev. and Mrs. V. I. Dolby, Mr. D. Cooper (Surrey Association), Mr. and Mrs. C. McGuinness, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Feirn, Mr. and Mrs. H. Walker (York), Mr. and Mrs. H. Marcon, Mrs. L. East, Mr. J. Raithby (Southwell Diocesan Guild), Mr. and Mrs. M. Billings, Mr. and Mrs. F. and Miss J. Metham, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Jeffrey, Mr. and Mrs. P. Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. White, Mr. and Mrs. W. Tomlinson, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Pask, Mr. and Mrs. H. Radley, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. A. Lunn, Mr. and Mrs. W. Croft, Mr. and Mrs G. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. F. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Thorpe, Mr. and Mrs. J. Walden, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. D. Townhill.

Messrs. J. Freeman, F. Taylor, W. Duffey, H. Lowman Howes, T. H. Charlton, C. B. Chester, B. D. Threlfall (Cambridge University), F. W. Stokes, W. S. Hills, J. Cragg, A. Mackears, J. Toyne, J. Blackbourn, J. Vessey, T. Vessey (Southwell Diocesan Guild), A. T. Lowman, P. Bond (Cumberlands), H. Squires, L. Squires, N. Chambers, J. Ellerton, C. Hearnes, P. Holmes, K. Mayer, G. Mayer, N. Hepworth, S. A. Chambers, J. L. Millhouse, A. Hodson, J. Hodson, C. E. Brown, J. Bonner, J. Raithby (Southwell Diocesan Guild), W. S. Chandler, A. E. Chilton, S. Harrison (Leicester), J. E. Freeman, G. E. Brumpton, R. Chafer, R. F. Smith, R. Clark, G. Parker, R. Parker, W. A. Crowder, M. Walker, L. P. Wilson, B. Freeman, H. Hall, H. Waltham, J. B. Halifax, A. Dixon, W. Weston, J. E. Cooke, O. Needham, E. Edmondson, J. M. Page (Hertford County Association), M. Bennett, R. Brewer, C. Wander, H. Thorpe, F. Procter, P. Barnes, W. E. Allen and D. Phillips.

Mesdames E. Wayman, C. Brown, L. East, Brewer, B. Edwards.

Misses M. Addison, L. Redhead, F. Oldershaw, M. Gann, L. Briggs, G. A. Smith, J. Blackbourn, P. Holmes (Cumberlands), W. Hind, M. Swan, D. Kirk, B. Millhouse, B. Brown, C. Lill, M. Fidell (Durham and Newcastle), M. Clark, E. Fletcher.

After the loyal toast had been honoured, Mr. K. S. B. Croft submitted 'The Diocese of Lincoln,' with a special word of welcome to the Lord Bishop of Lincoln, whose name was coupled with the toast.

Mr. Croft spoke of the Fens, chosen by the monks of olden times as a testing ground for the spirit. On a dark and wintry night in the Fens one was indeed grappling with the Devil himself.

THE LINCOLNSHIRE CHARACTER.

This background, he contended, had contributed to Lincolnshire character and there was an adjective used in Lincolnshire to describe it—'clunch.' If a man was a 'clunch' he liked to get on with his job and takes a lot of pride in it. 'Clunch' also contained independence. Law students of the history of the Middle Ages would find that more cases came from the Eastern Counties, which included Lincolnshire, than any other part of the country. Lincolnshire people were not without humour. There was Scunthorpe, 'the village of a man with a squint' (laughter).

MR. JOHN A. FREEMAN, Popular Master, Lincoln Diocesan Guild.

The Lord Bishop spoke of his pleasure at the welcome given to him and the joy of meeting again Dan Cooper, the leader of the band of ringers at Croydon Parish Church. 'I am one of Dan's disappointments,' confessed the Bishop. 'He was quite determined when I became "Pooh Bah" at Croydon—I was my own bishop, archdeacon and vicar—that I should become a ringer. With my parish of 25,000 it was a physical impossibility for me to come under the tutelage of Dan Cooper.' The Bishop spoke of the joy it gave him at Croydon to attend the annual meetings of the ringers at Dan Cooper's house.

One of his Southern friends asked him how he liked living in the backwater of Lincolnshire after the civilisation of Croydon. He replied, 'You have got it the wrong way round—I have now returned to civilisation. If I had to be a Bishop I thank my lucky stars it was Lincolnshire. It is a good model: it is the second best in England, and I say that as a Yorkshireman. In Lincolnshire you cannot go fast. It is a place of cows and level crossings. It is very refreshing.'

BLACK JACK.

He wished to congratulate the Guild on its jubilee and he had been listening with interest to their Master, because it was always interesting to listen to a man who was dead keen. He had been hearing about Black Jack and its disappearance. He was told that one of the chief qualifications of a ringer in the past was that he had to be a strong man—a man able to pull the tenor, and he invariably came from a foundry and had a mighty thirst and was indeed a 'Black Jack.'

Looking back over 50 years, there was a tremendous difference in the people who took up bellringing then and now. And he thought they had a lot to thank God for. He heard that a bellringer's idea of a holiday was to crowd as many ringers as possible into a charabanc, travel 100 miles and ring in as many towers as possible on the way. They just loved to ring the bells.

'We have now in our diocese many bands of ringers of which we are justly proud, and not the least of these is, I believe, our Cathedral band under the inspired leadership of Mr. Freeman. I thank you for the way you ring and wish you Godspeed and every success in the hundreds of years that lie before your Guild.'

'PAST MASTERS.'

A speech full of memories was delivered by the Master when he proposed the toast of 'Past Masters'—Henry Law James for 33 years and Rupert Richardson for 14 years. His first memory of Henry Law James dated back to 1896, when as a boy he was taken into the belfry at Market Deeping. There, ringing the tenor and walking half across the belfry in the process, was Law James. He was conducting a touch of Bob Minor and shouting instructions to one and all. After several attempts the band succeeded in bringing it round, and his pleasure at this success was as great as at any other time the speaker saw him.

In 1898 he became Vicar of Surfleet, and in 1899 was instrumental in amalgamating the various associations then existing in Lincolnshire into the Lincoln Diocesan Guild. He was one of the hardest workers in the promotion of change ringing in the early days of the Guild. In all parts of the county local bands rang their first peals with him as conductor, and shortly after the first war he gathered together a band to attempt peals on higher numbers of bells. Plain Royal methods were rung, followed by Cambridge Royal, and then he set his heart on ringing Shipway's Superlative Royal. Twenty-one attempts were made before a peal was scored at Ewerby. In 1928 the bells of the Cathedral were augmented to 12, and under his guidance Cambridge Maximus was rung.

In addition to being a recognised authority on change ringing in the county, his advice was much sought after on questions of bell restorations. At his own church, Surfleet, he increased the bells from five to six, and later added four new trebles to make the number up to ten. He was also mechanically minded, and it was reported that on arrival at Surfleet he found that the 400-year-old church clock was not working. He said he would make it go; he did, but with such success that one day it struck 120 times. Mr. Law James was also one of the greatest composers the Exercise had ever known, and as a member of the Central Council he played a valued part in the production of many of its publications.

RUPERT RICHARDSON KNEW EVERY BAND.

Rupert Richardson began to ring at Surfleet under the guidance of Law James and became his most loyal supporter. His great contribution to the progress of the Guild was his promotion of good fellowship among the ringers of the Guild. He rang peals in all the eight-bell towers of the Guild except one; he made himself familiar with every tower, with every band and with nearly every individual ringer. 'Everyone knew Rupert by name, and if any did not know him personally, the fault lay with the individual, for Rupert's friendship was there for the taking.

The Master recalled seeing Mr. Richardson (he then weighed some 20 stones) with Mr. Jack Bray (a stripling of some 15 or 16 stones) in a 'Dodgem' car at Sleaford Fair—an event which caused the onlookers to laugh until their sides ached.

Such a personality could not be confined within the bounds of one diocese. He travelled all over the British Isles and even as far as Australia in pursuit of ringing and was known to ringers everywhere. He was a sound practical ringer and at least once a year had a house party at his home to which at varying times came all the leading members in the Exercise. He might say that since the death of her husband Mrs. Richardson had kept on this excellent practice. Rupert Richardson by his example showed that spirit of Christian fellowship without which no Guild could flourish. The toast was drunk in silence.

The toast of 'The Lincoln Diocesan Guild' was proposed by Mr. E. H. Lewis (president of the Central Council), who prefaced his remarks in thanking the company for the opportunity of ringing the previous evening a true peal of Stedman Cinques after waiting 13 years to replace one that Charlie Roberts announced to be false.

'I had thought of saying something about the history of your Guild, but I realise that if I talked about the history of your Guild I should be like some of those parsons who start telling ringers about the history of bells, not knowing as much about the subject as the ringers do.

MR. LEWIS AND LAW JAMES.

'Perhaps as you have heard a good deal about your founders I thought I might be able to supplement one or two details. Your founder, Henry Law James, actually called my first peal in June, 1903, one of Bob Major at Great St. Andrew's, Cambridge. An old solicitor, Mr. R. A. Daniel, was ringing the seventh bell and about half-way through I looked at the Rev. Cyril Jenkyn, who was ringing the treble, and he was smiling at the seventh man. About five minutes later it happened, but he finished the peal. About a month or two later they met again, and the president congratulated him on his effort and said he hoped he would brace himself up to further efforts (laughter).

'I rang in all 19 peals with the Rev. Law James. The second was a peal of Bob Maximus "in hand," and it took a very long time. I remember very well when we were short we used to ask Mr. Law James to come to Cambridge to give a hand. He would not allow anything to interfere with his daily matins and evensong, and if he could not get a deputy he used to cycle through the night to Cambridge, and was not always fit to ring on arrival.

'The next peal was at Southwark Cathedral. We had then to ring between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. This was on Aug. 31st, and the Meteorological Office told them that it was the hottest day for 31 years. Southwark bells were rather heavy, and Cyril Jenkyn, who rang the tenor, was sitting in the garden at 11 p.m. and still calling for beer trying to quench his thirst.'

Mr. Lewis recalled other peals — one at Chester Cathedral, where the bells used to be lubricated with vaseline, in North Wales, at Charles' Church, Plymouth, which was the first of Cambridge Major to be rung in Devonshire, and at St. Sidwell's, Exeter, which was the first of Little Bob Royal ever rung on tower bells.

When Mr. James was on the Central Council they could always look forward to something amusing happening. At a meeting in Manchester he came forward with a theory that Stedman should not be rung as they rang it. His argument was going on for a long time, and Sir Arthur Heywood, in the chair, was very relieved when a Lancashire representative moved an amendment that Stedman should be rung as in Fabian Stedman's time. The amendment was quickly put and carried by a large majority.

The Rev. Law Bankes James always put his duties as parish priest in front of ringing. Mr. James sent for him to advise about Boston Stump bells because the eight were unringable. Sir Charles Nicholson was the architect, and he accepted his advice in toto and they all knew the result.

In regard to the Guild's second Master, he rang seven peals with him at places as wide apart as Truro Cathedral and Bradford Cathedral. He had a great admiration for Rupert, for his good cheer, good humour and his high Christian standard. He also felt they were extraordinarily lucky in the choice of their third and present Master. He had rung one or two peals with him and felt that he was a worthy successor.

NEED FOR COMPETENT INSTRUCTORS.

Mr. Lewis said he would like to say a little about ringing in general and its problems. Since the war there had been a tremendous increase in the number of young people who had learnt or were learning to ring, and he felt concerned about the shortage of adequate instructors. If the conditions in this diocese were like those in other dioceses, they wanted someone to instruct the elder ringers, judging by the slovenly way the younger ringers handled their ropes. He was sure they would not get good striking unless ringers were taught right from the start.

Unfortunately, it was not possible to teach ringers in the same way as people were taught rowing from the towpath. One of the reasons was that the language could not be used. There should be an unwritten law in the belfry as on the river that whatever the coach said must not be answered back else one would be left out of the crew.

'I have said that you cannot strike without properly handling your rope, and one of the things if we are to avoid complaints from the public is that we must improve the striking. I would ask all young ringers to listen for the B.B.C. interval signal.'

CLERICAL LEADERS WANTED.

'Another thing is that there is a great dearth of clerical ringers who are in a position to lead the ringing Exercise. In my early days of ringing we had some famous clerical ringers, and one of the best was that magnificent ringer, Canon Coleridge, who they laid to rest a week ago. There were others of that time, but to-day we have nobody to compare with these people in leadership among ringers. Certainly we have a few outstanding clerical ringers, one of whom has more distinction as a bookseller than a ringer! Still, he is one good ringer. I would advise you to get some of the clergy to take an interest in ringing, but try and catch them before they are ordained.'

As president of the Central Council, as representing the organised ringers of the country, he brought them their very best wishes for the continued success of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild. The Guild had done very fine work in the past. Might it continue to do good work in the future.

Mr. John Freeman, who replied, said Mr. Lewis had a set of oak chairs made from the bell frame of Grantham Parish Church. He could think of no better use of a bell frame than to give continued support to the president of the Central Council.

PEAL ACHIEVEMENTS.

In a reference to the achievements of the Guild, Mr. Freeman said the first band to make progress in Spliced Minor was that under Mr. Vernon Taylor, who rang up to 80 methods, and it was all the more creditable as the members were all young men. Just before the war there was a further advance, and Mr. George E. Feirn and his band were successful in ringing 104 methods in a peal. Since the war Mr. Feirn and Mr. and Mrs. Bray had succeeded in ringing 105 Minor methods 'in hand.'

In 1930 the band under Mr. Horace Day rang a peal of Surprise Minor in 32 methods. It was interesting to observe that that had not been surpassed, although it had been equalled.

With regard to Spliced Surprise Major, in 1937 peals in six and ten methods were rung, and it was intended to attempt one in 16 methods, but owing to the war it was not possible. Since the war peals had been rung in 16 and 22 methods. In his opinion, the achievements of these men were due to the influence of other bands. When Mr. Vernon Taylor was producing his peals there was an equally capable band in the Chester Diocesan Guild and the rivalry between the bands was an added stimulant.

He believed that it was desirable that the individuality of the guilds and associations should be retained; the rivalry between associations did spur them on. From time to time people had advocated a national association. He was averse to that.

They must not forget their prime job of service to the Church, which was to ring for Sunday service. He was proud to say that in their Guild it was not a case of peal ringers not being Sunday service ringers. He was not pretending that they were better than any other guild, but he was sure the enthusiastic peal ringers were enthusiastic Sunday service ringers. From some letters in 'The Ringing World' it seemed to imply that if a man was a peal ringer he was not a Sunday service ringer. 'I think we can look back on the first 50 years with some satisfaction. I believe if the tradition is maintained we have no fear for the future.'

THE VISITORS.

Mr. Jack Bray proposed 'The Visitors,' mentioning that they came from as far north as the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association and as far south as Croydon. They had also the president of the Central Council, who had rightly been described as the Prime Minister of the ringers. In a word of welcome to Mrs. Deal, Mr. Bray said it was his regret that he could not join one of the guilds of which she was a member. Referring to Mr. Walter Ayre, Mr. Bray said he could hardly be described as a visitor as he was a Lincolnshire man born and bred. St. Martin's Guild was represented by Mr. George Fearn, and they had received an apology from the Master of that Guild, Mr. Albert Walker.

Mrs. Deal, in reply, said as the representative of the Ladies' Guild she could assure them that they had a long waiting list of gentlemen for whom there was very little hope (laughter). They were glad to be there to honour the Lincoln Diocesan Guild. This was their year of triumph and 50 years was a fine achievement. They admired very much people who were dead keen on their ringing because by being dead keen they found they kept old friends and made new ones. They thanked them for the kindness of their welcome and they would take back with them memories of a fine week-end, a fine dinner and fine ringing.

The health of the chairman was honoured on the call of Mr. Walter Ayre, who recalled

Appreciations of Canon Coleridge

HIS LAST MESSAGE

I expect I saw the late Canon Coleridge more frequently during the last few years than most ringers, and I would like the ringers of England to know that I was with him for half an hour on the Thursday before he died, and that his conversation and wit were as keen as it ever was, but the shock of the fall on the eve of the College Youths' dinner proved too much for his heart.

He was indeed a great man and his last words to me as I left his room will ever be with me: 'Good-bye, William. Thanks for your company. Ever teach young ringers to handle their bells properly. Good striking should then follow.'

Ringing indeed will be the poorer for his passing, but the Oxford Guild particularly will miss his advice and generalship.

WILLIAM HIBBERT.

Basingstoke, Hants.

HAD NOT A MUSICAL EAR

I was born at Thorverton, Devonshire, the next village to Cadbury, where the late Canon G. F. Coleridge was born. Cadbury had a ring of six, Thorverton a ring of eight, and I can well remember the visits of this 'great' man to our tower, of which my father, Mr. J. Ridler, was for 50 years captain.

The enclosed which I am sending you was treasured by my father, who on retirement from active ringing handed it to me.—Yours faithfully, EDWIN J. RIDLER.

Bristol 5.

Note.—The enclosed is an article on Canon Coleridge that appeared in 'The Bellringer' of May 1st, 1907, which gives added information upon the Canon's life. He was taught to ring by Mr. R. Brimblecombe, a judge much sought after in Devon Prize Ringings. This worthy taught him the necessity for most accurate striking in rounds and from time to time journeyed with him to various prize ringing meetings, where raising and falling in peal took precedence of all else in the county.

'He has taken part in many ringing weeks, notably "down West," but has never rung more than nine peals in any six consecutive days. He would far sooner ring a Plain Course struck with unerring accuracy than a 5,000 in which the striking was even momentarily indifferent; his sense of time and compass is acute, but at the same time he is so unmusical that a ring of bells in or out of tune is all the same to him.'

his early associations with Mr. Freeman. Their Master had seen the restoration of the ring of eight at the Cathedral from bells that 'used to walk around the tower' and later the augmentation to twelve. As an exile from Lincolnshire for the last 28 he had watched with pride and satisfaction the progress that had been made in that Cathedral tower, especially since he took over.

The Chairman, in his acknowledgment, said whatever he had done for the Lincoln Diocesan Guild he had received 100 per cent. support.

On the call of Mr. Ayre, the only foundation member of the Guild present was honoured. He was Mr. John Cragg, of Caythorpe.

Songs were sung by Mr. J. Bonner, and Mr. S. Harrison and his Leicester company delighted with playing tunes on the handbells and the rise and fall of the bells.

In connection with the Lincoln Jubilee Festival, four peals were rung, viz.: Stedman Cinques at the Cathedral; Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Caythorpe; Yorkshire Surprise Major at Gainsborough; Minor in seven methods at Stow.

NO LIVING WITH BELLS

No doubt you will receive numerous testimonials to the splendid qualities of the late Canon Coleridge, both as a man and as a ringer. When I read in Belfry Gossip on Nov. 18th that a certain ringing clergyman 'makes no bones about it that he would not accept a parish where there were no bells,' I was at once reminded of what Canon Coleridge once remarked in the hearing of a ringing friend of mine. He stated that he could not accept a living where there was a ring of bells as he knew his heart would be in the belfry when it ought to be in church.

Those of us in the Oxford Guild who met him each July at Oxford soon learned of his devotion to his parish, and the above story typifies his sincerity and honesty of purpose. I put it on a par with that of a priest I know who will not accept a living as its acceptance would be tantamount to receiving payment for doing his duty to God.—Yours faithfully,

Slough. W. BIRMINGHAM.

LOFTY IDEALS

It is hard to realise that Canon Coleridge has gone from us. No longer available is that remarkable leadership and the wise and sober counsel so readily given. We shall miss the genial company of his burly presence, the turning up unexpectedly in unlikely places, even with physical disability, to be with his friends the ringers. There is a gap in our ranks which only time will be able to close.

In common with the parishioners of Crowthorne, we, and perhaps especially members of the Oxford Guild, share a great loss. They a parish priest of lofty ideals and a true friend, we also a friend and a faultless ringer. What a privilege it was to stand with him in a peal and note the precision of his ringing, on light treble or heavy badly going tenor. His standard never varied. Much could be said and written of his ringing exploits and achievements and of queer experiences and incidents told with rare wit and humour.

Let it suffice that the memory dwell on the qualities that made him the man we knew, respected, yes, and loved. Above all, the qualities of unswerving integrity and simple kindness. W. J. PAICE.

Kensington, W.14.

HIS FATHER A CRICKETER

I found the following among the 'Deaths during 1906' in 'Wisden' for 1907, which may be interesting if you have a bit of spare space: 'The Rev. Frederick John Coleridge died suddenly on February 20th, at Cadbury, Devon, where he had been Vicar for over 50 years. Born at Ottery St. Mary on December 4th, 1828, he was in the Eton XI., 1844-6, and subsequently in the Oxford XI., 1847 and 1850.'—Yours sincerely, E. A. BARNETT.

Crayford, Kent.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

DORCHESTER BRANCH.

A by-meeting was held on November 5th at Bere Regis. The bells were rung from 2.45 p.m. until the Guild service at 4 p.m.

The Guild service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. R. C. Herring), who gave a most interesting address about bells, their customs and uses. Tea was served in the village W.I. hut, 37 members being present. There was no business conducted at this meeting, but apologies for absence were received from the branch chairman, Canon A. W. Markby (St. Peter's, Dorchester), the vice-chairman, the Ven. J. C. Chute (Piddlehinton), and the hon. secretary, Mr. J. H. Hayne.

Mr. Precey proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and all who had helped to make the meeting a success.

The bells were rung to various methods, including 11 Minor methods, until 8.45 p.m.

LETTERS

ST. MARGARET'S PEAL

Dear Sir,—I, too, had noticed what Trooper J. A. Smith has drawn attention to in his letter, viz., that a peal of Stedman Caters at St. Margaret's, Westminster, is recorded as having been rung on October 15th, the day when I heard bells ringing just before 'Big Ben' struck nine. I had hoped that the conductor or some other member of the peal band would have written to say whether the peal was in progress at 9 p.m., for the routine peal report does not indicate the starting and finishing times.

Since my first letter to you on this subject, a ringer from Darlington has told me at a meeting that he, too, had heard the bells, and I have received a letter from Birmingham telling me of two ringers there who heard them.

Perhaps we may yet hear something from St. Margaret's, Westminster, in confirmation or otherwise.—Yours faithfully,

DENIS A. BAYLES.

Chester-le-Street.

Dear Sir, — On October 15th, I, like Mr. Bayles, heard bells ringing faintly in the background immediately before Big Ben's chimes and striking at 9 p.m., and again during the slight pause before the return to the studio. I think the method may have been Grandsire, the striking was good and, if I remember correctly, it was on eight.

Another broadcast of bells which interested me, a deliberate broadcast this time, was during the Saturday Night Theatre on Nov. 19th. On Christopher Columbus' triumphant return from the West in the late 1400's he was greeted by a well-struck touch of Grandsire Triples. Apparently Spain was at that time far in advance of us in change ringing.—Yours faithfully, P. J. L. PURSLOW.

Shrewsbury.

REMEMBER THOSE IN HOSPITAL

Dear Sir,—There may be a few ringers in London and the Home Counties who would wish to send seasonal greetings to Harry Hoverd, of Crayford (captain of Dartford band), who, as many well know, has been kept in bed since April last and who for the last two months has been at Grosvenor Sanatorium, Kennington, near Ashford, Kent (Male Ward, Bed 10). At the last time of hearing he was making good progress and had high hopes of being 'on his feet' a little for Christmas.—Yours faithfully, P. G. RAYFIELD.

Greenhithe, Kent.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

STOCKPORT BRANCH.

The last meeting of the year was held at Holy Trinity Church, Stalybridge, on Nov. 26th, when in spite of the very wet weather some 50 members and friends managed to attend

The bells were in use from early in the afternoon until the service, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. A. S. Barlow, who gave a warm welcome and apologised for the state of the church, which was undergoing extensive repairs due to dry rot.

An excellent meal was served in the schools. The business meeting followed under the chairmanship of the Vicar, and it was decided to hold meetings in 1950 as follows, subject to permission being obtained: Jan. 28th, Stockport St. George's; April 29th, Fairfield; June 24th, Rostherne; Sept. 30th, Northenden; Nov. 25th, Bredbury.

Mention was made of the leading article in the current issue of 'The Ringing World' and members were urged to consider it. The secretary was asked to write to Mr. G. R. Newton expressing the thanks of the branch for his part in the silent peal of London. Congratulations were also expressed to the band through the secretary, who took part in the peal.

YATESBURY RINGER'S WEDDING

The wedding took place on Saturday, Dec. 3rd, of Mr. J. Roberts, of Ripple, Glos., and Miss K. Preston, of Yatesbury. The ceremony was performed at Yatesbury Parish Church, where Miss Preston has been a ringer for several years. The bride's father, Mr. R. Preston (who gave her away), and the bridesmaid, Miss V. Preston, are both ringers at this church. The best man (Mr. R. Manton) and the bridegroom were both regular ringers at Yatesbury whilst stationed at the nearby R.A.F. Radio School. Amongst the guests there were sufficient local ringers to ring the five bells after the ceremony.

In the evening a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung in honour of the occasion by W. Goddard 1, Miss V. Preston (first 'inside') 2, T. Davison 3, F. Preston 4, R. E. Manton (cond.) 5. The future home of the bride and bridegroom will be at Ripple, Glos.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

A well-attended meeting of the North-Western District was held on November 19th. St. Stephen's, Clapham Park, bells were open in the afternoon. After tea, Immanuel and St. Leonard's, Streatham, were available for further ringing. A meeting was held in the ringing chamber of Immanuel, presided over by Mr. F. E. Collins. Five members of the newly-formed band joined the Association, also Mr. Houghton, a new ringer from Walton. Three new compounding members were elected.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the Vicars for use of their bells, and the local captains for their welcome to all. Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, Superlative, Cambridge, London and Yorkshire were the methods practised.

'THE LORD BE THANKIT'

THE Editor has on his desk a reproduction of an original painting by J. Lobley, of 'The Bell Ringer,' depicting a scene in the middle of the last century of an aged man tolling a bell in the treadle fashion with one foot in the loop at the back-end. It is a picture bringing out all that is beautiful in the simplicity of life. What is as striking as the picture is the accompanying verse:—

> For three score years he rang his simple praise:
> 'The Lord be thankit for His love always.'
> God grant that in these hurrying days that we > May learn to serve in his high company.

Some might regard such thoughts as inappropriate for a Christmas message. But the Prince of Peace came not to this earth in a King's Palace but in the humblest of all dwellings, the stable of an inn. His companions were the ox and the ass, and the first to honour Him were the shepherds of the field—men of lowly estate. We as ringers will be the first to proclaim Him to the waiting world to-morrow night. With measured tread we will climb the staircases to the belfries, leaving below all mundane things. Perhaps from one of the lancet windows we shall get a glimpse of the starry firmament, the wide heaven with its pin-points of light, and as we ascend there comes a consciousness of apartness from life and a mystic silence.

Christmas ringing is not a perfunctory act. While it is accompanied by great happiness it is indeed ethereal in its substance and a part of the ringer's worship. It it is an occasion that calls for the best in the individual, as near perfection as possible. The world below is listening for the beauty of the bells; in a sense it is part of the heavenly hosts that made the first proclamation to mankind of a Saviour who is Christ the King.

The first Christ came to the world in troublous days. Those difficulties are still with the world at large to-day. But despite outside conditions the peace and serenity of the village ringer quoted above is still available for those who seek. 'The Lord be thankit for His love always' is awaiting to be reborn in each heart this Christmas morning. If we approach to-morrow with that feeling of simple praise then the true happiness of Christmas will enter our hearts and whatever our circumstances a true joy will be unfolded within us.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Headlines in a local Midlands newspaper recently read, 'D'ye ken John Peel.' This was as a result of eight 'Johns' scoring a peal of Grandsire Triples at St. John's Church, Leicester, on Dec. 3rd.

Mr. George E. Feirn has 'circled' Gainsborough tower.

Mr. Frank Varty has rung Plain Bob from Minor to Maximus.

By ringing the treble to the peal of Painswick Surprise at Portsmouth Cathedral on November 26th, Mr. F. W. Burnett has twice 'completed the circle' there.

Congratulations to Mr. Albert E. Thompson, St. Andrew's Church, Derby, on ringing his first peal of London Surprise Major and Cambridge Royal.

The peal at Christ Church, St. Leonards, on Saturday, was rung on the 23rd anniversary of the wedding of Mr. S. G. Smith who entertained the ringers to tea afterwards. It was the first peal on the bells for 37 years.

The Editor and the Editorial Committee extend to all ringers their best wishes for Christmas and hope that in 1950 a better 'Ringing World' will be presented to readers.

It was fitting that the peal of Cambridge Minor for George Heley's golden wedding was rung on November 24th at Totternhoe, Beds, where he learned to ring. Although a member of the Dunstable band, he has for many years assisted the Totternhoe ringers on practice nights, one of whom is young Alan Broyd (under 14), who rang the treble (his first peal) in grand style from start to finish. Incidentally Alan rang his first 720 on January 16th this year, and since then has scored no less than 45 720's and one quarter peal, ranging from Plain Bob to Cambridge Surprise, all for Sunday services.

The Lincoln Diocesan Guild scored a peal of Spliced Surprise Minor in 33 methods by the Sunday service band at Frampton on Dec. 10th. This is a first performance. Congratulations to Mr. J. R. Young and his band on a fine achievement.

With his peal of Double Norwich at Milton Abbas on November 26th, Mr. W. C. Shute has now rung peals on all eight and ten bell towers in Dorset. The peal was a 21st birthday compliment to Miss Dorothy V. Gould, of St. John's, Bournemouth.

The peal of Plain Bob Major at Hadlow, Kent, was rung in the same tower and on the same day (the 95th anniversary) as a previous peal of Bob Major called by William B. Newman, the conductor's uncle. The peal was the same composition (Annable's three-part), and by a sheer coincidence took exactly the same time—3 hours and 1 minute. Lewis Newman is believed to be the only living relative of those who rang in the original peal, and is the cousin of F. Newman (the well-known Kentish and College Youths ringer), the son of William B. Newman.

Mr. Harry Sear (captain) has completed 50 years' service in the tower of St. Mary's, Bletchley, Bucks. It is worthy of note that the Sear family have held the position of steeplekeeper in St. Mary's tower for over 100 years without a break. Harry followed his father and grandfather in the office. For many years he was in the service of the L.M.S. Railway, retiring in 1944, having held the position of chargehand wheelwright at Wolverton. He is remarkably agile for his age and looks forward to many years of ringing amongst his beloved bells. Unfortunately a peal attempt in honour of the event came to grief, but a quarter peal of Plain Bob Major was rung.

A Christmas Quiz for Ringers

By KEWSETT

Three book prizes are offered for the answers nearest the correct solution. Closing date Jan. 10th, 1950. Envelopes to be addressed 'Christmas Quiz,' c/o the Editor, 'The Ringing World,' Woodbridge Press, Ltd., Guildford, Surrey.

1. Which church tower with 8 bells has a double spiral staircase around a single newel?
2. Which church with 10 bells has a clock which strikes 13 instead of one?
3. Which church with 8 bells is known locally as 'The Flat Iron'?
4. Which ring of bells was first tuned on the Simpson method by Canon Simpson?
5. Which English county town has only a ring of 6 bells?
6. Where is there a ring of 12 in the minor scale?
7. Which ring of bells is nearest to the Greenwich Meridian?
8. Where can the New Year be rung in first?
9. What is the greatest number of consecutive calls (ordinary bobs and singles) that can be obtained in a peal of Bob Minor?
10. They had just rung a peal and three of the ringers were discussing it.
    'That's funny,' said one. 'The numbers of our three bells add up to the same as the sum of all the rest!'
    'Yes,' said another, 'and no two of us were next to one another either.'
    If the bells were hung normally, which three bells were they ringing?
11. 'I've done it!' says George. 'I've just rung a peal with the number of changes the square of my age. I could have done it last year for the first time, but we haven't enough bells.' How old is he?
12. 'When I was sixty, we rang date touches of Cambridge Minor, Major, Royal and Maximus. And not with singles either,' he added with disdain. In which year?
13. What length of touch is it impossible to obtain in any Surprise or Treble Bob Minor method, using ordinary bobs (touches of 24 or 696 changes ruled out)?
14. 'I distinctly felt the tower shake,' said Robin after they had rung a peal in an English tower. 'No wonder,' said Chris. 'If you climbed an inch for every change we rang, you would still be a long way from the top.' Where were they?
15. Solve the following anagrams, objects likely to be of use before, during or after a peal attempt:—

    Grant skit splice
    Mile rap skin
    Glass men still Coals riot

16. Sort out the lines of the following poem into three limericks:—

    A certain young ringer of Deal
    Got her rope-end mixed up round her heel.
    There was a young lady of Peel
    Rang all day and all night with no meal.
      The hanky got fanned,
    But launched out again with great zeal.
      The conductor said 'Stand'
    There was a peal-grabber of Seale
      By a sneeze of large brand
    Went on ringing and finished the peal.
      When rounds came as planned
    Was blowing his nose in a peal.
      But the rest of the band
      He didn't say 'Stand'
    And flew up and jammed in the wheel.

CHRISTMAS BELLS

Ring out, ye bells, in merry peal
This Happy Christmas morn,
And let your sound echo around
That Christ this day is born.

Ring out, ye bells, and as your call
Goes forth from tower and spire,
Your voices raise in tuneful praise
With that celestial choir.

Ring out, ye bells, rink joyously,
Strike sadness from the heart;
That every hour may give us power
Our best to all impart.

Ring out, ye bells, in tenderness,
Strike hope where fears abound,
In tones so mild as to a child,
That peace may all surround.

Ring out, ye bells, in thankfulness,
Send near and far thy call,
That East and West may bring their best
To Him Who givest all.

Ring out, ye bells, in changeful tune,
With methods old and new,
Of that great love from Him above
Which changest not for you.

Then ring, ye bells, in happiest strain,
Repeat aloud the glad refrain.
Make plain to all who hear your call
That 'Christ the Lord is born again.'

BURGESS HILL RINGERS

A very successful function was the first dinner of the St. John's company, Burgess Hill. The company of 35, presided over by the Vicar (the Rev. E. H. Marsh), included guest ringers from Wivelsfield, Keymer, Bolney and Twineham.

During the evening a presentation was made by Mr. R. West, on behalf of the St. John's company, to Mr. and Mrs. R. Simpson for organising the supper and for their services during the past year.

Thanks were also expressed to Miss Doggett, Mrs. Walder, Miss Walder and Miss Simpson, whose efforts in preparing the meal, laying the tables and waiting on the diners were sincerely appreciated. The evening concluded with games and dancing, organised by Mr. R. West.

A 'GRIM' STORY

There was a ringer who, during his Christmas vacation, went for a holiday near a forest and decided to explore. He had not gone far when it started to rain, so he sheltered in a hollow tree. It rained more and more and the wood began to swell until at last it held him so firmly that he gave up hope of getting out.

All the time thoughts were passing through his mind of the things he had not done (including payment of his subscription of £1 to Mrs. Fletcher for his 'R.W.' for 1950). These made him feel so small that he was able to slip out of the tree.

The Non-Conducted Peal of London, 1949

On the stormy afternoon of November 12th a party of nine ringers made their way to the village of Warburton, Cheshire, close to the Manchester Ship Canal, and ascended the tower of the church. After ropes had been adjusted the bells were pulled off in rounds and Mr. G. R. Newton gave the order, 'Go, London,' and for the next half-hour all went well until a bob failed to be made. The offenders at once set their bells and after a short discussion about train times it was decided to make another attempt.

Mr. Newton again gave the word 'Go, London,' and for three hours and eight minutes nothing was heard except the sound of the bells, the swish of ropes, the rattle of the pulleys and the wind and rain beating on the windows of the tower. Mr. Newton, huddled in coats, stuck manfully to his uncomfortable task, and at the conclusion the bells ran merrily into rounds and he called 'Stand.'

The ringers who took part were:—

Treble.—Eric J. GILBERT (aged 30). He has been ringing since 1933. Rang his first peal in 1934 and called his first peal in 1949. Of his 93 peals he has conducted two. This was his first peal of London as conductor, and among his peals is the first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus for the Chester Guild, which was his first touch on twelve bells.

2nd.—Walter ALLMAN (39) comes of a ringing family with a tradition of over 300 years behind them. He started to ring in 1935 and rang his first peal in 1937 and his first as conductor in 1938. He has rung 182 peals, of which he has conducted 15. In the years 1947, 1948 and 1949 he rang 50 peals or more. This was his first peal of London as conductor.

3rd.—C. Kenneth LEWIS (36) began to ring in 1932 and rang his first peal in 1934 and his first as conductor in the following year. He has taken part in several peals in which the number of methods in seven extents of Treble Bob Minor was increased and ultimately reached the limit of 73. He has rung 309 peals, of which he has conducted 130.

4th.—John E. BIBBY (48) began to ring in 1912 and at the age of 11 rang his first 720 on handbells with the present president of the Central Council, Mr. E. H. Lewis. His first peal was in 1920 and his first as conductor in 1923. Since then he has rung 352 peals (including 11,232 Superlative), of which he has conducted 106.

5th.—John WORTH (39) started to ring in 1922 and rang and conducted his first peal in 1929. He took a leading part in the development of Spliced Minor and took part in all the peals up to the record 73 Treble Bob Minor methods peal. His peals include the first peal of Spliced Surprise Major for the Chester Guild. He has rung 487 peals, ranging from Grandsire Doubles to Yorkshire Surprise Maximus and has called 317 of them.

6th.—James C. E. SIMPSON (41) started to ring in 1920 and rang his first peal in 1926, calling his first peal the next year. He has made a speciality of calling peals of London and has called many different 5,024's of the late G. Lindoff. Of his total of 465 peals he has called 216 (including two non-conducted).

7th.—Frank VARTY (32) started to ring in 1933 and his first peal was in 1935, and later in the same year he called his first peal. His 162 peals, of which he has conducted 42, include 7,200 Surprise Minor in 10 methods. This was his first peal of London as conductor.

Tenor.—Edward JENKINS (54) was the only non-Cheshire man of the band, but one to whom the Chester Guild owes much. He started to ring in 1912, rang his first peal in 1913 and his first as conductor in 1920. His 554 peals include 11,232 Superlative, 17,824 Oxford Treble Bob Major, both of which he conducted, and 15,312 Cambridge Surprise Maximus, and he has conducted 303 of them.

OBITUARY OF THE WEEK

MR. W. M. GREENAWAY.

Rodbourne Cheney tower suffers a grave sense of loss at the passing of Mr. William Greenaway after a short illness at the age of 77. A native of Ogbourne St. Andrew, he learned to ring a bell as a young man, but did nothing more until Rodbourne Cheney bells were restored in 1931 when he joined the newly-formed band, and, despite his age, made good progress in Doubles methods and Bob Minor. He had rung 20 peals and for a number of years all the beginners at this tower received their first lessons from Mr. Greenaway. He was a member of the P.C.C. from its inception in 1921 until last year.

The funeral took place at Radbourne Cheney on December 6th, and the Swindon Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association was represented by Mr. W. H. Trueman (chairman) and Mr. W. B. Kynaston (secretary). The bells were rung half-muffled by ringers from various towers, and a half-muffled quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung by Marion Harry 1, Bernice Strange 2, Beryl Strange 3, D. Bounds 4, J. E. Manners (conductor) 5, T. I. Holborow 6. All the band were taught to handle a bell by Mr. Greenaway, proof, surely, that his labour had not been in vain. W.B.K.

MR. R. J. STEED.

The death occurred on December 2nd of Mr. Robert J. Steed, of Buxhall, Suffolk, at the early age of 37. He had been in indifferent health for several months following a serious illness in the early part of the year, but had continued with his work and his ringing activities until a day or two before his death, which came with tragic suddenness. He leaves a widow and two children.

Mr. Steed was a member of the Stowmarket company, with whom he regularly rang, besides assisting whenever required at his home tower and in neighbouring villages. He had rung about 40 peals for the Suffolk Guild.

At the funeral service on December 6th ringers were present from Buxhall, Cotton, Great Finborough, Finchingfield, Rattlesden, Stonham and Stowmarket. The Suffolk Guild was also represented, and the lesson was read by one of the deceased's fellow ringers.

A course of Grandsire Triples was rung at the graveside by L. G. Forster, F. Sterry, O. G. Barnard and E. A. Cracknell, followed by muffled ringing on the tower bells. On Saturday, December 10th, a quarter peal was rung at Stowmarket as a tribute to the memory of a valued and popular colleague.

AN APPRECIATION.

Although his name was not constantly, or even frequently, in the public eye, Jack Steed was nevertheless one of those who form the very backbone of the Exercise—a regular service ringer. Sunday by Sunday he and his companions cycled in all weathers over bleak roads the four odd miles from Buxhall to Stowmarket, as well as on practice nights and for special occasions. Jack was a safe ringer and a good striker in the standard methods on any number, and his cheerful disposition made him a welcome visitor to any tower.

He was, however, happiest when he could get a band together to ring for services at his home tower on the old-fashioned five with a cracked tenor and a badly-going second, and it is ironical that only a few days before he died Jack had assisted a colleague to carry out some repairs to the bells, little thinking that the next time they were to ring would be for his own requiem. Our hearts were heavy when, in the fading light of a grey December afternoon, we saw all that was mortal of him laid to rest in the shadow of the little village church and within the sound of the bells that in life he had loved so well. In his passing we have lost a colleague and friend whose place it will indeed be hard to fill. O.G.B.

MR. BENJAMIN THORPE.

Many friends will learn with regret of the death of Mr. Benjamin Thorpe, of Ashton-under-Lyne, on November 29th, aged 69 years.

The interment was on December 3rd, the Rev. F. F. Rigby officiating. A plain course of Grandsire Triples was rung at the graveside. Ringers present were from Manchester, Oldham, Mossley, Hyde and Ashton-under-Lyne.

After the funeral a plain course of Grandsire Cinques was rung on the tower bells of St. Michael's with the bells half-muffled.

Mr. Thorpe had been a ringer at Ashton Parish Church for over 50 years, and was also Ringing Master of the Ashton-under-Lyne Society. He had rung over 100 peals. Owing to ill-health, he had done very little ringing during the last 12 months, but maintained a great interest in it J. C.

THE LADIES' GUILD

MIDLAND DISTRICT.

On November 26th, the Midland District of the Ladies' Guild held their meeting at Kettering. The bells of the Parish Church were rung during the afternoon and evening. The bells of Burton Latimer were also available in the evening.

A most interesting service was conducted by the Rev. Holborrow, and a party of 66 ringers and friends sat down to an enjoyable tea in the Parish Hall, arranged under the direction of Messrs. Turner and Bird and the ladies of the district.

Before the business meeting, Miss Thompson (vice-president) welcomed all to the meeting and she was particularly pleased to see Miss E. Steele, of Bedford (formerly president of the Ladies' Guild) and Mrs. A. Richardson (secretary of the Lincolnshire Branch). Three new members were elected.

Miss Steele spoke for a few moments about the late Canon Coleridge; what a tremendous friend and helper the Ladies' Guild had lost. It was Canon Coleridge who assisted Mrs. Fletcher in the commencement of the Guild and he was also one of the instigators of the Guild being represented upon the Central Council. The company present stood for one minute's silence to the respect of his memory.

A LEICESTER RECORD

Dear Sir,—The two gramophone records now available at Leicester are worthy of comment.

The reproduction in the half-muffled Grandsire Triples at St. John's is really grand. As regards the striking, I do not think one could hear better. Each bell can be heard distinctly all through.

On the reverse side are the hymn tunes chimed by the writer. A system of coupling is employed at St. John's, introduced by the late William Willson, which allows several bells to be played at once. This gives a carillon effect. This recording was made on Sunday, September 4th, at 8 a.m. The singing birds can be heard mingled with the bells and as an interlude between each tune.

The tunes by the Beltonians Handbell Ringers recorded are the first two that were put over at the jubilee dinner of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild.—Yours truly,

S. HARRISON, Steeplekeeper,
St. John the Divine, Leicester.

5,184 YORKSHIRE SURPRISE MAJOR

Dear Sir,—I should like to point out that the 5,184 Yorkshire Surprise Major by W. E. Critchley, published in a recent issue, was composed by me in 1933, and was rung at Crayford on December 1st of that year, conducted by E. A. Barnett.—Yours sincerely,

CHARLES W. ROBERTS.

Waltham Abbey, Essex.

LETTERS

ST. MARGARET'S PEAL

Dear Sir,—Yes, your correspondents are quite right. It is the microphone in the clock tower of the Houses of Parliament which, when switched on to broadcast the Big Ben chimes, automatically picks up St. Margaret's bells should they at the same time be ringing. The peal finished at 9.5 p.m.

The late Rupert Richardson used to like to know when we were going for a peal so that he could listen in at the time signals (Big Ben 7 o'clock and 9 o'clock) and hear how we were going on. On practice nights we used to make it a point of ringing at 7 o'clock for his benefit. These times, of course, allude to pre-war days. W. H. HEWETT.

119, Coleman Road, S.E.5.

HEARD IN WALES

Dear Sir,—On October 15th bells were ringing before the chiming of Big Ben and all through until the news started. My wife and myself were listening to the Welsh Home Service at the time and the bells came over very plainly. (I remarked that must be St. Margaret's.) I may say they were very plain before the chimes started. They were, of course, more in the background while the chimes and the hour were striking. I am wondering if the conductor of the peal at St. Margaret's on that date would say if they were ringing at 9 p.m.—Yours faithfully,

Port Talbot, Glam. E. STITCH.

PLACES OF BOBS

Dear Sir,—Mr. Sedgley is liable to mislead in saying that a 6ths place bob in Cambridge Major implies an 8ths in Royal and a 10ths in Maximus; though he admits these would be 'absurd'!

This persistent confusion of 'place' with 'functional effect' was quite a common error at one time. It is the latter of course, and not the former, which gives rise to the factor of 'position fixity' of the bob. Otherwise Mr. Sedgley might equally well say that a Cambridge Major 4ths place bob implies a 6ths in Royal and an 8ths in Maximus; which, of course, is equally absurd!

Consider the facts: The functional effect of a bob is variation of the coursing order of a given number of bells specifically below or specifically above (and including) the bob-making position. So in Cambridge, where the bob alters things below it, the 4ths place bob varies positions 2, 3 and 4, in all stages, Minor to Maximus. And the 6ths place bob varies positions 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, in all stages, Minor to Maximus. In Primrose, where the bob alters things above it, the back-minus-two placed bob varies the order of the 3 back positions, in all stages, Minor to Maximus. It is the same in Double Norwich. The ruling applies equally in such methods as Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and Bristol, where the bob has a lengthening-lead effect.

Perhaps Mr. Sedgley will, on reflection, allow a travesty of his concluding sentence, thus: Variable-place bobs, functionally understood, will no doubt be rung consistently in compositions, when the inconsistent dicta of yesterday have been consigned to that same limbo of forgotten things.—Yours very truly,

A. YORK-BRAMBLE.

Fountains Park, Southampton.

WORDSWORTH SURPRISE

Dear Sir,—In connection with the letter from Mr. W. Barton published in 'The Ringing World' of December 9th concerning the composition of Wordsworth, I was the conductor of the peal of St. Clement's which he mentions, and I would like to add that I obtained it from the C.C. Collection, in which it is published as a peal of Double Oxford.—Yours sincerely, W. ERIC CRITCHLEY.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSN.

The Bristol Rural Branch held their second annual supper and social at the Crown Hotel, Mangotsfield, on Saturday, December 3rd. Seventy-five members and friends sat down to supper. The guests of the evening were the Rev. A. D. H. Allan and Mrs. Allan, of Cromhall.

After the loyal toast, the chairman, Mr. C. R. Harding, proposed the toast of the Church, and said he often wondered if we ever thought of what this country would be like if we had no churches. There would be no bells, and he thought it would be something like the dark days when the ban was on the bells and all the ringers would seem lost. He thought there was a great revival coming in the Church, and until that did come, this country would not make much headway. He would like to impress on the young ringers the importance of good striking and loyalty in the belfry.

The Rev. Beard, Mangotsfield, responded to the toast, and said it was only by everyone in the Church pulling together that the spirit of Christian fellowship could be maintained.

The toast of the Bristol Rural Branch was proposed by the Rev. A. D. H. Allan, who said he was often surprised at the numbers who attended the rural branch meetings. It showed that the meetings were enjoyed, and although this branch adjoined the Bristol Rural Branch, there was no barrier between the two branches, and any members from one branch were always welcomed at the other's meetings.

Mr. J. G. Jefferies responded to the toast and said he had been ringing at Mangotsfield ever since the ring of eight had been there. He was pleased to be able to say the oldest bellringer was still ringing there. He referred to Mr. Sears, who was aged 90 next birthday. During the last few years the Bristol Rural Branch had improved by leaps and bounds, and he was pleased to say that they were now the largest branch in the Association. This was due to the untiring work of the officers and loyalty of the members.

Songs were rendered by Mr. C. Harding and the Misses Pritchard and Thorne, and accordion solos by Miss Sheppard, all members of the Rural Branch, and a party of artistes from Bristol provided further entertainment.

MEMORIES OF 1949

LOOKING back on 1949, English change ringers can regard the year as one of progress. While the number of new ringers is not so large as in the years immediately following the war, there has been a steady influx of new recruits, and if the circulation of 'The Ringing World' is any indication of those who have a sustained interest in the Exercise then the number is an increase of 500.

The main thing that emerged from the Central Council meeting at York was the decision to proceed on the revision of Rules and Decisions of the Council. On all sides there was a desire to tighten conditions and to ensure that what constitutes a true peal should be clearly understood by the Exercise at large. The scheme of representation on the Council is also under review. An interesting agenda is certainly promised next Whitsuntide at Eastbourne.

The fraternal side of the Exercise has been stimulated by a number of big gatherings. At the Henry Johnson dinner, Mr. T. H. Reeves laid down the reins of office as secretary of St. Martin's Guild, a post he had held for 20 years. The Cambridge University Guild celebrated their 70th anniversary, and the Lincoln Diocesan Guild their 50th anniversary. The Ancient Society of College Youths' dinner was of particular interest in view of an account of research into Fabian Stedman's life in London as a civil servant. To the ringer's calendar is to be added another commemoration dinner, that of George Williams, the veteran Master of the Winchester Guild, whose passing is deplored. His name is to be associated with the annual gatherings at Bournemouth.

Ringing tours have more than maintained their popularity. Most prominent of these was the visit of Leicester ringers to Ireland. It not only brought about a better understanding of the principles of change ringing in Ireland, but socially was a means of cementing friendship. The Yorkshire tour of Mr. Frank Knight's party resulted in visits to some towers where the bells are rarely heard. The West Country was again popular with a number of bands. From a peal-ringing point of view the tour in Suffolk and Norfolk was most productive, with 20 peals being rung.

In the realm of performance, there has been hardly a week when we have not had to record a peal of real merit. To assess the most meritorious performance of the year is not easy, and we should like the views of readers on what they regard as the three outstanding peals of the year. Naturally we lift our hats to the peal of Cambridge Maximus at Exeter Cathedral for the Ancient Society. From Leicester there has been a continual outpouring of peals, and some of these are worthy of consideration. The Lincoln band, with their record length of Bristol, the non-conducted peal of London by the Chester Guild ringers, Spliced Surprise Minor in 32 methods at Frampton, Lincolnshire, the Oxford Guild's excursions into the humble field of Doubles, all add lustre to the picture.

Another feature has been the work of the bell founders, which has added to ringing facilities. We recall Blackburn Cathedral's new 10, the provision of a third ring of 12 for Birmingham and Evercreech, Luton, Thaxted, St. Paul's, Salisbury, Grundisburgh, and there are many others. Some of these improvements are the direct result of ringers' enthusiasm and work; a marked thing is the readiness of the public to subscribe, at a time when money is not too plentiful, for the maintenance of English bells.

The march of time has brought with it the passing of many dear ones. We think of Canon G. F. Coleridge, Canon C. C. Marshall, Messrs. Geo. Williams, F. J. Pitstow, William Taylor, Adam Deas, William Andrews, W. W. Worthington, W. R. Melville, W. Linter, C. Swain, John Potter, F. W. Middleton, Eric B. Hartley, F. A. Smith, W. A. Smith, F. S. W. Butler, C. Marshall, W. Jones, F. G. Briggs, W. B. Frith, W. Woodhead and many others. These are men honoured in their day and generation, whose love of bells and fellow-ringers is ever associated by friends in memories of 1949.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Eight members of the Leicester Diocesan Guild had a field day on Saturday, December 17th, when they took part in four peals in the one day. Superlative Surprise Major was rung at the Bell Foundry, Loughborough, London Surprise Major at Thurcaston, Bristol Surprise Major at Anstey and Cambridge Surprise Royal in the evening at the Bell Foundry. This is the first time that three peals of Surprise Major and one of Royal have been rung in a day. In offering congratulations we trust that memories are not too blurred for a full story for our readers.

Will those who have rung 40 or more peals during 1949 please send the following particulars: Number rung in tower and 'in hand,' and number of each conducted? We should also like photographs of those who completed 100 peals in 1949.

Bexhill Grammar School boys rang a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles in honour of the school speech day and commemoration service on December 12th. The boys are now seriously considering forming a ringing club in the school.

Mr. J. W. Jones, of Newport, celebrated his 84th birthday on December 5th. A peal in honour of the happy occasion at Bridgend came to grief through a miscall. On December 10th an attempt was made for a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at Aberavon. A good start was made and after about 20 minutes the light was put out at the main. Afterwards 1,632 Cambridge Surprise Major was rung by J. Evans 1, E. Stitch 2, A. Hoare 3, T. M. Roderick 4, G. I. Lewis 5, J. Lovett 6, F. Lasbury 7, A. J. Pitman (cond.) 8. This was the longest length in the method by 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5.

For longevity in ringing go to Chedzoy, Somerset. Mr. B. Jeanes is the fourth member of his family to complete 50 years as a ringer. The others were Mr. H. Chapple (85½ years of age) 59 years, the late Mr. R. Hooper 51 years, and Mr. T. Jeanes 50½ years. He now rings at Bridgwater. On December 9th, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles was rung at Chedzoy in honour of his half-century of service by W. Chiswick 1, S. Baker 2, P. Tucker 3, B. Jeanes 4, T. Chapple (cond.) 5, C. Newton 6.

The peal as Blewbury, Berks, on Dec. 3rd was the first by the local service band for 27 years.

The attempt for 6,496 Spliced Surprise Major in six methods will be made at Frodsham on December 31st and not January 31st as stated on page 606.

The band who rang Glasgow Surprise at Frodsham recently would like to offer apologies to the band who first made the 4th place bob (at Willesden on August 11th) in this method.

The peal of Stedman Caters at Trowbridge on December 10th was rung on the 40th anniversary of a peal of Grandsire Triples at Trowbridge in which Gilbert Harding, Thomas King and William Prescott took part. It was the first peal of Triples of Gilbert Harding and also of that Trowbridge stalwart, Sam Hector.

Apropos recent correspondence on Spliced Oxford and Kent Minor, Mr. A. D. Barker writes: On January 30th, 1926, a peal of Spliced Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Minor was rung at Stoke Poges consisting of seven different 720's. All 5-6's were at backstroke and without bobs. One of the band was 16, another 17 and two 18 years of age.

SOMETHING NEW FOR THE NEW YEAR

'STEADFAST.'

There are, of course, hundreds of new methods for even-bell rings, but they are nearly all Surprise methods, and, as such, appeal only to the more expert bands. Here is something rather different, which may have an appeal to the average band as offering some degree of interest in practice, and a change from the Grandsire, Stedman, Plain and Treble Bob so often constituting the manageable repertoire. Oftentimes a method, mastered in one stage, is found to have no acceptable extension to other stages; but this method, which is a principle of the Stedman type, runs true to form from Minor to Maximus, and can be rung straight away by any competent Stedman band. So it should have a two-fold appeal to those who like to have their tenor turned in.

If we apply Grid Analysis to the Stedman method we derive a specification or 'formula' for producing the principle on all numbers, both odd and even. Translated into plain terms, the formula yields this:—

Let a front-group of bells of minimum number do plain hunting to their extent, forming a 'set' of rows, then reverse the hunting from forward to backward for the next set. While the sets thus alternate, let the bells above do a treble-bob form of hunt, an exchange of two bells taking place between front and rear groups at every set-junction.

Boiled down, that becomes just this:—

'Extended treble-bob hunting on all bells above a minimum, reversing, plain hunting, front group.'

In the front bell-group it is, of course, the forward hunting which gives the quick sets and the backward hunting which gives the slow sets.

The Stedman we know so well being on odd numbers, the front group is an odd number, of minimum 3, giving sets of extents of six change rows, causing the back-group bells to do a treble-bob hunt of the double-dodging kind.

With the formula applied to even numbers, the front group becomes an even number, of minimum 4, giving sets of extents of eight change rows, causing the back-group bells to do a treble-bob hunt of the triple-dodging kind. (The dodging, being, of course, in 5-6, 7-8, 9-10, 11-12.)

And so we find, as in Stedman, Quick-work, Dodging, Slow-work and Dodging again, with bells coming to lead at hand in a Quick set and at back in a Slow set. Also the same rule applies for the 'way into' the front work from the dodging; thus:—

'When dodging in 5-6 down, if you are QUICK to strike your course bell (i.e., at start of dodging), you go in QUICK; but if you are SLOW to strike your course bell (i.e., at end of dodging), you go in SLOW.'

An even more remarkable indication of the validity of the working of Grid Analysis in these matters is that the 'blue line' of the Slow work in the method is found to be similar to that of Stedman, but 'extended' to cover the four bells therein, so that all 3rds places become 4ths, the rest being as in Stedman: First whole turn, first half turn, last half turn and last whole turn, all in their correct order. The two extra change rows in the set, however (8 instead of 6 as in Stedman) give rise to just one extra tit-bit at the entry of the Slow, and its reverse at the exit from the Slow. This is called the 'Turn IN'—4ths, lead and 3rds; and the 'Turn Out'—3rds, lead and 4th. There is no need to take up space here with a diagram. A few seconds with pencil and paper will give the blue line for the Slow work without any difficulty.

From its connection and consistency with the Stedman methods it has been named 'Steadfast.' Here are comparable stages of Doubles and Minor:—

Stedman.	Steadfast.
	2135 46
	Q 1234 56
342 51	2143 65
Q 435 21	2413 56

413 25	6123 54
Q 142 35	1632 45
	1362 54
	Q 3165 24

As Steadfast is an even-bell method rounds is the first row of a set (back-stroke), and for the treble to move straight up on 'Go', it must be a Quick set to start.

Note that the only 3rds places in Steadfast (in the Turns In and Out) come at the parting of the sets.

Calls are made exactly as in Stedman.

The method received its 'baptism' in the tower of St. Mary Magdalene, Upton, Devon, on Friday, Aug. 19th, 1949, when members of the Universities' Association, after a look at the blue line and the go-offs, rang the plain course in the Major.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

WEST DORSET BRANCH.

The annual meeting on December 10th at Bridport brought together about 50 ringers from nine towers in the branch, with visitors from Abbotsbury, Stratton, Bovingdon and Templecombe.

Canon G. C. Clare conducted the service in church, the lesson being read by the Rev. C. F. Chase. The Rev. O. L. Willmott, Vicar of Loders, gave an arresting address on the character of English bellringing and bellringers.

The business meeting was held after tea in the Church Hall, the Rev. C. Carew Cox, branch chairman, presiding. At the outset Mr. L. Hayball and the chairman paid a tribute to the late Mr. Harry Bull, of Hawkchurch, a long standing member of the Guild, and all stood in silence for a moment to his memory.

The accounts showed a satisfactory credit balance of £23 8s. 8d. All the officers were unanimously re-elected, and four new members, Messrs. C. Chard, R. Drake, J. Drake and E. Bonnell, from Loders, were welcomed.

Future meetings were provisionally arranged to be held at Burton Bradstock, Lyme Regis, Corscombe and Powerstock.

A communication from the Central Council in connection with the formation of a roll of honour of ringers who gave their lives in the last war elicited the happy fact that all who served from the towers represented at the meeting had returned safely. Members were glad to hear that Mr. A. F. Martin Stewart, of Ferndown, was making satisfactory progress after an operation in Wimborne Hospital.

A comprehensive vote of thanks was moved by the chairman to Canon Clare for his welcome, to the incumbents who had granted the use of their bells that day, to the Rev. O. L. Willmott for his excellent address, to Mr. B. Elsworth, the branch organist, and to the hon. secretary, Mr. C. H. Lathey, for his arrangements.

Ringing during the afternoon and evening included call changes, Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob Doubles and Triples, Double Norwich and Cambridge Major.

Gloucester and Bristol

SWINDON BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Swindon Branch was held at Christ Church, Swindon, on Dec. 10th, and there were visitors from Cirencester, Melksham, Chippenham and Olney, Bucks, in addition to the branch members. The usual ringing and service took place, and the company was entertained to tea.

At the business meeting sympathetic reference was made to the passing of Mr. W. M. Greenaway. The retiring chairman (Mr. W. H. Trueman) and secretary (Mr. W. B. Kynaston) were re-elected, and it was proposed that meetings be held at St. Mark's, Swindon, Malmesbury and Rodbourne Cheney during the next three months. A collection for the Association Belfry Repair Fund realised £1 10s.

CHELTENHAM BRANCH ANNUAL.

Twenty-three members and 12 visitors attended the annual meeting at Charlton Kings, the Vicar presiding. The annual report, presented by Mr. C. Rouse, stated that the branch had now reached the end of its 30th year. Of the 19 members elected at the first meeting, only two, W. Townsend and G. H. Walters, were still on their list. During the 30 years 72 meetings had been held and 62 peals rung in their area for the Association.

The dinner, revived after an interval of ten years, was a success and it would be a pity to let it drop again. There was no doubt as to the success of the branch outing, but some members felt that the experiment of allowing ladies in the party should not be repeated.

No new members had been made during the year and they had lost three by death. Paid-up membership was 69, against 85 last year. He advocated more frequent meetings as a means of stimulating interest.

Ringing for Sunday service had not been so frequent in some towers as it should be. More members were needed and every effort should be made by all to find those who were willing to learn. 'We shall have to make a very great effort if we are to retain our position as one of the strongest branches, there having been great progress made in other areas.'

Mr. T. Boreham was re-elected chairman and Mr. C. Rouse, secretary, was also re-elected after saying it would be impossible to put in so much work again. Thanks were largely due to Mrs. West, who was now seriously ill in hospital. Mr. G. Kilmister, of Badgeworth, was elected representative on the Management Committee.

A service was held and ringing ranged from rounds to Cambridge.

MIDDLESEX JOINT MEETING

The occasion of the joint meeting between the Royal Cumberland Youths and the Middlesex and London Diocesan Guild, held at St. Ann's, Highgate, and St. Stephen's, Hampstead, on December 10th, had a most successful and encouraging response. Approximately 60 ringers attended, the gathering being composed of those from all districts of London and visitors from places as far apart as Cambridge, Croydon, Hertford, Reading and Southampton.

Ringing at both towers took place with crowded ringing chambers and consequently there was little time between touches, but care was taken to see that everyone was catered for, and the methods ranged up to Cambridge Surprise, with some rounds for those as yet not far advanced.

Mr. C. J. Matthews, Past Master of the Cumberlands, welcomed the Middlesex Association, but was sorry to announce that the present Master, Mr. G. H. Cross, had just entered hospital for an operation. The meeting wished Mr. Cross an early and complete recovery. Mr. A. W. Coles, vice-president of the Middlesex Association, replied with thanks to all concerned, including Mr. T. Bevan, who had made the arrangements for use of the bells, evensong service and tea.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THOSE OUTSIDE THE PALE

Dear Sir,—I feel that I must congratulate you on the admirable sentiments expressed in the final paragraph of your leader, 'The Lincon Jubilee,' in the issue of December 9th.

The fact that it is the small town and village bands who perform their duties faithfully, who are the backbone of the ringing world, is a doctrine which I have been trying to drum into you for some time. One can only hope that your conversion to the true faith is genuine and lasting.

May I suggest a further stage in your education?

Make a point as frequently as you can to visit isolated towers—the more isolated the better—and, without disclosing your identity, try and find out how interested the band is in the Central Council, Guilds and 'The Ringing World.'

I suggest questions on these lines:—

What is the name of your Association?

Who are the Ringing Master and secretary?

How is your Guild or Association subdivided?

What are the names of your district or branch chairman and secretary?

Do you attend any ringing meetings, and how frequently do you ring away from your own tower?

What is the Central Council and what does it do?

Does anyone in your tower take in 'The Ringing World'?

Having collated your replies, I feel certain that you would be forced to the following conclusions:—

That the average village band has no interest outside about a five-mile radius.

That the disbandment of the Central Council would not even be a matter of fleeting interest.

That about 50 per cent. of ringers have a vague interest in their own Association and about 75 per cent. in their own branch or district.

That not more than 25 per cent. of known ringers are the least interested in 'The Ringing World.'

Your paragraph which I have referred to above is oddly at variance with the first sentence of the last paragraph of your leader of October 28th. The fact is that to the small town or village band it would not make the slightest difference if the Central Council was disbanded, 'The Ringing World' ceased publication, and very little difference if their local Association ceased to operate.

If and when you realise how little the Central Council, large Guilds and 'The Ringing World' count in the scheme of things, your conversion to the true faith will be complete.

—Yours faithfully,

T. V. LISTER (Group Captain).

Apperley, Glos.

[It is the sole purpose of 'The Ringing World,' working in conjunction with the Central Council and the Guilds, to advance change ringing. We agree that in 'the scheme of things' we are of little count to those uninterested in our art. So is the Church Assembly to many members of the Church of England, but it is very real to those conscious of its work and responsibilities.—Editor.]

In response to the Rector's written request, eight members of the Sheffield and District Society visited Bradfield Parish Church, in snow and ice, on December 10th to help him and his ringers in their efforts to master the art. After a useful and enjoyable afternoon's ringing on the six bells, the Rector (the Rev. A. King) and his wife kindly provided refreshment at the Rectory.

BRITISH BELLS AND AMERICAN FILMS

Dear Sir,—I was extremely interested in the letter from Mr. P. J. L. Purslow re the touch of Grandsire Triples, which I also heard in Saturday Night Theatre on November 19th. On December 10th in the same programme a play was presented called 'Our Town.' It was about a small town in America with a typical small American church. At one stage in the play there was a wedding at the church and before the ceremony I heard eight bells ringing, which sounded like Westminster Abbey bells. Surely a small town in America with a small church would not possess eight bells. Could anybody please help? Perhaps the B.B.C. have the answer.—Yours faithfully,

F. STUART WORTH.

R.N. Hospital, Plymouth.

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS GREETING

Dear Sir,—In the radio play, 'The man with a cloak full of holes,' Christopher Columbus, on his triumphant return from his voyage of discovery in 1492, was greeted by the ringing of some excellent Stedman Triples on tower bells (suspiciously like those of Westminster Abbey), which could be clearly heard in the background of the celebration din.

I have informed the B.B.C. that, quite apart from the fact that neither Spain nor Portugal has ever possessed a ringing ring of bells, Fabian Stedman, the author of the method depicted, was not born until shortly before the middle of the seventeenth century.

As a record was obviously used, it would be interesting to know whether the bells were, in fact, those of Westminster Abbey. — Yours faithfully,

T. R. BUTLER.

Liverpool 9.

THETFORD'S 37 YEARS' BLANK

Dear Sir,—I was pleased to see in 'The Ringing World' of December 16th that at last another peal has been rung at St. Peter's, Thetford. I well remember the last, a peal of Bob Major, conducted by the late Thomas Fitzjohn on December 1st, 1912. How proud I felt that day, having rung a peal in my own tower. Thirty-seven years is a long time, but these things help to take one back to one's youth.

I should also like to take this opportunity to thank all friends who have written and visited me during my long illness, and am pleased to say I hope soon to be back in harness.—Yours sincerely,

FREDERICK A. SALTER.

110, Noel Street, Nottingham.

THANKS TO NEWCASTLE

Dear Sir,—I had to be in Newcastle-on-Tyne on Wednesday, December 14th, on a distasteful but necessary piece of duty. May I say thank you to the ringers of St. Nicholas' for lightening the end of a hard morning's work? I was too much occupied to listen with any close attention, but the half-hour's ringing to which they treated me from 12.30 till one o'clock was a fine refreshment for the mind and spirit.—Yours sincerely,

A. M. HOUGHTON.

YATTON BELLS TO BE RESTORED

The Church Council of St. Mary-the-Virgin, Yatton, Somerset, have entrusted the restoration of the ring of eight (tenor 22 cwt. approximately) with Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The cost is in the region of £1,400.

Work includes the recasting of the front four bells, retuning the remainder and rehanging on a steel frame. The frame will be installed some 12ft. lower than the present frame. The 7th bell (pre-Reformation) is to be retained.

What's In a Name?

By MARGARET WOOLLEY.

There is nothing new in the idea of grouping ringers into peal bands according to their surnames; it has been done before in theory and in practice. Possibly, however, some of the following combinations have not been noticed before. All the names have appeared in 'The Ringing World' within the last two months.

(a) Lords and Commons: King, Bishop, Duke, Nobles, Lord, Barron, Knight and Squires.

(b) Bishops: Birmingham, Blackburn, Carlisle, Chester, Durham, Exeter, Salisbury and Bath-and-Wells.

(c) Ecclesiastical: Bishop, Deacon, Dean, Monk, Prior and Pope.

(d) International: Brittain, England and Holland; Fleming, Scott and Pole; French and Welch.

(e) Nautical: Fleet, Goodship, Hull, Manship, Marriner, Seaman, Shipp, Waterman, Derrick and Winch.

(f) Waterways: Beck, Brooks, Burns, Bywaters, Dyke, Poole, Rivers and Wells.

(g) Rowing (a handbell band): Cox, Rowe, Steere and Henley.

(h) Cricket: Ball, Bowler, Fielding, Gulley, Legg and Over.

Incidentally there is at least a major band of 'famous cricketers' available!

(i) A slow band: Ambler, Miles, Palmer, Pilgrim, Walker and Wander.

(j) A quick band: Dash, Fleet, Gallop, Rush, Sharp and Speed.

(k) Topographical: Cave, Fenn, Heath, Hill, Lane, Marsh, Moor and Wood.

(l) Agricultural: Farmer, Garner, Grain, Meadows, Orchard, Reeve, Root and Rye.

(a) Hunting and Shooting: Badger, Buck, Fox, Hare, Hart, Hinde, Partridge, Stag, Basset, Fowler, Hunt and Butt.

(n) Financial: Banks, Bond, Charge, Deal, Dear, Price, Purchase and Worth.

(o) Emotional: Anger, Bliss, Care and Hope; Meek, Moody, Savage and Wild. (These can be made up to a Royal band at the cost of a bad pun, with Bould and Sangwin.)

(p) Measurement: Acres, Bayles, Bushel, Measures, Miles and Peck.

(q) A Seasonal Band: Fogg, Frost, Hoare, Sleet, Midwinter and Winters.

Other possible groups which readers may care to work out for themselves could be described as culinary, legal, ornithological, mountainous and geographical. Someone may also find a fourth Conservative statesman to combine with Churchill, Eden and Chamberlain!

SUFFOLK GUILD

A most successful meeting was held at Stoke (6) and Clare (8) on December 17th. Stoke-by-Clare has a reputation for its hospitality, and the bountiful tea and roaring fire and a bottle of port given by the churchwarden were ample reward for those attending. Mrs. Leslie Mills, Master Donald Mills, aged 10, of Bures, and Miss Rosemary Seabrook (14), of Clare, were elected members. A total of 30 or more from the district and Essex and Cambs visitors much enjoyed a good variety of methods on these two well-kept rings. The annual district meeting will be held at Sudbury early in February.

Book Review

'Introduction to the Theory of Finite Groups,' by W. Ledermann. University Mathematical Texts (Oliver and Boyd), 1st Edition, 1949, 8s. 6d.

This is a welcome addition to the very few books which are of importance to the composer. The Theory of Groups is expounded in a straightforward way, which, however, will only appeal to the mathematician. Most of the fundamental ideas of part composition will be found buried in its pages. The later chapters are indigestible on a first reading, but may possibly yield fresh angles on composition.

There seems to be nothing in the book which is irrelevant. It serves to stress the chaos which exists in the naming of technical terms between mathematicians and ringers. The terms 'transposition' and 'permutation' are used in senses entirely different from those generally accepted by ringers; this, of course, does not alter the basic ideas behind the names, but it is confusing. The three basic ideas in change ringing are:—

(a) Arrangements of the figures (bells) in particular order.

(b) The way in which one particular order gives way to another may be thought of in two ways: (b1) Paying attention to the way in which the figures replace one another irrespective of which positions they happen to be in for the particular case. (b2) Paying attention to the way in which the figures change positions irrespective of which figures they are.

(a) is invariably called 'row' (change ringing), 'permutation' (some text books). (b1) is called 'permutation' in the above book, but apparently has no name for the ringer. (b2) to the ringer is transposition.' In the above book, 'transposition' is used for (b1), in which only one pair of figures change places. Above all, we have the bogey-man 'change,' which has apparently no precise meaning at all. The more I read old correspondence on this matter the more confused I get.

The preface truly says, 'Elementary expositions of the subject are not readily available in English,' then tongue-in-cheek later states 'of such an elementary character that it can be readily understood by an honours student in his second or third year.' Notwithstanding, the book brings Group Theory within the reach of all interested. The time seems ripe for us to revise our naming of the three fundamental ideas.

LOUGHBOROUGH DISTRICT.

Whitwick was the venue for the last meeting of 1949. About 30 ringers and friends gathered for what was one of the most successful meetings of the year.

Quite a number of methods were successfully brought round, including Cambridge, St. Clement's and College Major. Also by an entirely Loughborough District band a course of Yorkshire Major was rung. This is believed to be the first time it has been rung at a Loughborough District meeting by a local band. The local band rang a touch of Spliced Minor in eleven methods.

A short service was conducted by the Rev. F. G. Hogarth, who in the course of his address spoke of the spirit of service and co-operation.

Tea, provided by the local ringers and members of the Mothers' Union, was held in the school. The contribution, amounting to £2, was given to the Church Restoration Fund.

At the business meeting it was decided that the next meeting should be the annual, this to be held at Loughborough on January 28th as a joint meeting with the Ladies' Guild, Midland District.

After the meeting ringing continued until 8 p.m., ending what had been a year of real progress in the Loughborough District, not only in the methods rung, but also in the quality of the striking.

J.A.U.

Salisbury Diocesan Guild
NORTH DORSET BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the North Dorset Branch was held at Sherborne on December 10th. Towers represented were Cann, Childe Okeford, Ferndown, Gillingham, Hazelbury Bryan, Manston, Kington Magna, Sherborne, Shaftesbury, Shroton, Sturminster Newton, Stoke Trister, Stourpaine and Yetminster. There were also visitors from Buckland Newton, Ditcheat, Horsington, North and South Cadbury, Piddlehinton and Yeovil.

Ringing was followed by the Guild service. The secretary officiated, the Rev. R. M. Taylor read the lesson, and the address was given by the Vicar of Sherborne, the Rev. S. B. Wingfield Digby.

At the business meeting the secretary read the financial statement for 1949, which showed an income of £22 12s. 9d., expenditure to date of £6 14s. 4d., leaving a credit balance of £22 18s. 5d.

The Revs. R. M. Taylor, F. Ll. Edwards and Wm. Uphill were re-elected as chairman, vice-chairman and secretary and treasurer, respectively. The Rev. B. S. Wingfield Digby and Mr. J. Ralph were elected to the Branch Committee. Messrs. P. Thomas, Durweston, and T. E. Lamey, Hazelbury Bryan, were elected ringing members, and Mr. R. G. Field, Evercreech, as life member.

The name of the late W. E. Green, of Hazelbury Bryan, is to be placed on the National Ringers' War Memorial Roll of Honour. Thanks were expressed to the Vicar of Sherborne and to the Abbey organist.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS
EXETER BRANCH.

The meeting at St. David's, Exeter, was attended by a large number of branch members and visitors from other branches. The service in the Parish Church was taken by the Rev. C. M. Major, who welcomed the gathering.

About 40 took tea in the St. David's Institute. At the business meeting, which followed, Mr. A. W. Searle presided in the absence of the chairman, Mr. T. Bartlett, indisposed.

Regret was expressed at the absence of the Rev. Preb. E. V. Cox (president) in hospital and Mr. T. Bartlett through illness. A silence was observed in memory of the Rev. Canon Coleridge, the oldest member of the Devon Guild.

The officials of 1949 were re-elected: Mr. T. Bartlett (chairman), Mr. E. J. Ryall (hon. secretary and treasurer), Mr. E. W. Biffin (Ringing Master), Messrs. H. Corry, H. Pook and E. W. Biffin (Guild Committee). During the afternoon ringing was at St. David's and in the evening an enjoyable time was spent at the Cathedral belfry, by kind permission of the Dean.

A PEAL AT LISKEARD

A peal has been rung at Liskeard, Cornwall, the first for 46 years, that being one by the late Rev. F. E. Robinson and his touring band in 1903. Talk of the attempt began in the summer, and it was hoped that Mr. W. G. Hiscott, at one time a most active Plymouth ringer, now living at Liskeard, would stand in, but when the time came he felt he could not.

When the fixed date—October 22nd—came, four each from Devon and Cornwall met. Local interest was encouraging, and six ropes had been spliced, but after 1¼ hours down came the third rope. The most disappointed man was the Vicar, the Rev. J. H. Parsons, who demanded that a further attempt be made, and the same band met four weeks later to ring the kind of peal that does method ringing good in this 'stoney' area.

The Vicar and Mrs. Parsons climbed the tower immediately rounds came to offer congratulations. Liskeard tower is very fine, having been rebuilt in 1901, but the bells are a mixed lot and have for long had a 'reputation.' The tenor is by an unknown founder.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD
WIRRAL BRANCH 'AT PLAY.'

The third annual social, held this year at St. Bridget's Parish Hall, West Kirby, on Nov. 25th, was attended by over 230 ringers and friends and proved most entertaining.

The young West Kirby ringers, under the guidance of Mr. W. R. Stanley, are to be congratulated upon the decorative transformation they had wrought and the hall had a real festive atmosphere.

Almost from the word 'go' everyone was determined to enjoy themselves, and the interval with its consequent lavish refreshments soon arrived. The Rector's warden (Mr. T. Morgan) apologised for the Rector's unavoidable absence owing to a slight indisposition.

Balloons and streamers added to later jollities and, as usual, midnight arrived before the programme of dances, games and novelty items had been exhausted. A fleet of buses conveyed the party home.

From concluding speeches, applause and subsequent remarks all present voted the function a huge success. The Social Committee, Mesdames G. Webster and M. Webster and Messrs. W. R. Stanley, J. A. Webster, W. O. Wharton and A. J. Martin, are to be complimented on its excellent organisation.

DUDLEY AND DISTRICT GUILD

The quarterly meeting was held at Halesowen on December 3rd. The Rev. H. Davies, curate-in-charge of Hasbury, conducted the Guild service and presided at the meeting following, which was attended by 60 members and friends.

The election of two members was ratified. The arrangements for the annual meeting on March 18th, made by the secretary, were confirmed.

Further ringing until nine o'clock brought another successful meeting to a close.

AN 81st BIRTHDAY

The peal of Bristol, rung at St. Thomas', South Wigston, on December 7th, was a birthday compliment to Mr. John E. Clarke, who attained the age of 81 on December 5th. We are delighted to say that Mr. Clarke is still an 'ever present' Sunday service ringer at the above church and trust his 'happy returns' will be many to enable him to continue to follow the art that has meant, and still does mean, so very much to him.
